Turley Opposes Warren Spahn

New York, Milwaukee Aces Start on Mound in All-Star Game

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Warren Spahn, the Braves' southpaw who has won 10 games, opposed bullet Bob Turley, a 12-game winner for the Yankees, in the Silver anniversary All-Star game under cloudy skies today.

Spahn faced an American League batting order packed with eight right-handed hitters. But manager Fred Haney of the National League All-Star squad decided to defy the law of averages because "Spahn seems to get right-handed hitters out better than he does left-handed hitters."

Turley, who throws about as hard as any pitcher in baseball, had three left-handed hitters to contend with in the National League starting batting order.

"This is an assignment I've been hoping for and I'm ready," Turley exclaimed as he took batting practice. "I had a hunch all along that the skipper would start me and I'm grateful for the chance."

It marked Turley's first appearance in the game although he has been on two previous All-Star teams.

Spahn was shooting for his second All-Star victory, having received credit for the National League's 1953 victory at Cincinnati. Spahn has been on nine previous All-Star squads.

No More Showers Until Tomorrow Night

Showers are over for a short time in the Pontiac area, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau. Tonight will be fair and a little cooler, with a low of 64 degrees.

Tomorrow's outlook is partly cloudy and a little warmer with a high of 80-84, but tomorrow night a few showers are likely. It will be partly cloudy with a low of 64.

Thursday will be partly cloudy, with a chance of showers. The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 62. The reading at 1 p.m. was 77.

'Big 3' Praises Law Requiring Car Price Tags

President Signs Bill Designed to Eliminate 'Packing' by Dealers

DETROIT (UPI) — Auto industry representatives said today they hoped a new law requiring factory-suggested price labeling of new cars might give sales a shot in the arm by boosting buyer confidence.

President Eisenhower signed the bill into law yesterday.

It required auto makers to label new cars with their suggested retail price, including cost of accessories and transportation.

Spokesmen for the auto industry's "big three" were unanimously in favor of it. They said their companies had favored the bill even before it became law.

The law was aimed at auto price "packing" — hiking the manufacturer's suggested list price to mislead the purchaser into believing he received an exceptionally large discount or used car trade-in allowance.

The law, sponsored by Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) after a study of auto pricing practices, would require auto makers to show make, model and serial number, the final assembly point, delivery data to the dealer and the form of transportation, including whether the cars have been towed.

The price of each accessory would have to be included along with the charges to the dealer for transportation.

It also was designed, through its requirements for listing of transportation data, to let the buyer know if he was buying from the original dealer or if the car had been "bootlegged" from one dealer to another.

It provided a $1,000 fine for failure to label new cars properly or (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

U.S. Claiming Reds Shot Down Our Plane June 27

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force said today two Soviet jet fighters shot down the American transport plane which crashed landed in Soviet Armenia June 27.

The Air Force said the Red fighters made another firing at the crippled transport as it was heading in for its landing. The nine men were released by Soviet authorities to American officials yesterday, returning to their home station at Teheran. (See story page 2.)

Today's 2-Minute Mystery

Fits Natty Nat to a 'T'

By DONALD J. SOBEL

"I'm sorry to bother you with this one, doctor," said Inspector Winters. "But unless we nab this Natty Nat character soon, the newspapers will take us for a sleigh ride."

"You're satisfied it was Natty Nat's work?" asked Haledjian, using the nickname bestowed by reporters on the nattily dressed gunman who specialized in tailor shop holdups. In the past month he'd victimized a dozen.

"The description tallies with those given by the other victims," replied the inspector. "It's as if he's thumbing his nose at the whole police department."

"Mind if I question Brownski?" inquired Haledjian.

He ordered me to lean my forehead against the wall.

At Inspector Winters' nod, Brownski, the little tailor, recounted this latest holdup.

"I had just finished on the telephone in the shop when I heard the front door open. As I stepped into the showroom I saw this man with the stickpin facing me. Immediately he drew a gun and ordered me to lean my forehead against the wall. I heard him

ARRIVING AT OTTAWA — President Eisenhower wears a broad smile as Mrs. Eisenhower shakes hands with Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker on arrival in Ottawa this morning. Between them is Gov. Rebel Demands Snag Release

Castro's Forces Hint They'll Free Last Four Kidnaped U.S. Civilians

HAVANA (UPI) — New Cuban rebel demands apparently snagged the release of 30 American servicemen today but the Castro forces indicated they would free the last four kidnaped civilians before tonight.

There was no indication whether the rebel demands included some assurances against renewed Cuban government warfare in mountainous Oriente Province or some sort of U.S. "recognition" of the Fidel Castro movement.

But apparently the rebels wanted some "high level negotiator" to talk with them before the marines and sailors won their freedom. Earlier, the rebels had asked unsuccessfully to dicke personally with U.S. Ambassador Earl Smith.

Three more American civilians were flown out of the rebel mountain stronghold in Oriente Province yesterday, bringing to 16 the total freed.

They said the last four civilians, three Americans and one Canadian, probably would be freed today while the 30 U.S. marines and sailors probably would be freed "in the next two or three days."

However, reports from the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo indicated that the return of the servicemen may be a prolonged affair.

Rear Adm. Robert B. Ellis, commander of the naval base, after conferring with the newly-released hostages yesterday, disclosed that the servicemen had been split into groups of three and four men.

He said this had made it difficult to communicate with the scattered rebel bands holding the men, he said, thus delaying their release.

Later, Ellis announced that a ham radio broadcast was picked (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Asks Ruling by Board

Sullenberger Wants Charges Clarified

By PETE LOCHBILER

Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger complained last night that he is being charged with instances of professional misconduct.

The 42-year-old surgeon, entering the fourth session of a hearing to determine whether he will be allowed to practice again at Pontiac General Hospital, asked the Board of Trustees for a ruling.

"I have to know what kind of charge I'm facing in order to defend myself," said the surgeon, temporarily suspended from the hospital sight months ago. He said that the hospital's medical staff, which is seeking his permanent ouster, had gone on record as charging personal misconduct only.

The staff has also gone on record saying it would have to limit the charges because the Board of Trustees appeal hearing, which Dr. Sullenberger requested, does not offer witnesses courtroom immunity.

But Dr. Sullenberger complained that several charges touched on professional misconduct, especially one involving an operation that has resulted in a $100,000 malpractice suit being filed against him.

Although City Attorney William A. Ewart observed that this charge was "not of personal misconduct," the attorney for the medical staff, Glenn C. Gillespie, maintained "there has been no testimony of professional misconduct."

"I'll fly upside down if that's the case," retorted Dr. Sullenberger. Later, Gillespie admitted Dr. Sullenberger was right about the charge.

The medical staff has said its 14 charges against the surgeon involve conduct "detrimental to the efficient operation of the hospital."

It also said that it was avoiding reference "to any incident which would involve an evaluation of Dr. Sullenberger's competence and skill as a surgeon."

"But one of these charges accuses me of leaving a sponge with (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

County Prosecutor to Crack Down

Warns Beer-Drinking Minors

The state law forbidding possession of beer by minors will be enforced "to the hilt," warned Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem today.

The warning from Ziem and his Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long followed reports from officials of parks in the county of frequent violations of the law. "We will not tolerate people coming into our many parks and ruining the fun for others," Ziem said.

There have been several 90-day jail sentences passed out to minors who have been caught drinking beer in the county parks, he added.

Ziem reminded teenagers and parents alike that the state law is more specific than just prohibiting drinking by minors in parks.

He cited the law, which reads in part: "No person under the age of 21 years of age shall purchase, or knowingly possess, transport or have under his control in any motor vehicle" any beer or alcoholic beverages.

Adults furnishing minors with beer or spirits "will be severely dealt with," Ziem pointed out also.

President Visits Canada Capital

Large Crowds Cheer Ike's Arrival in Ottawa to Repair Relations

OTTAWA, Ont. (UPI) — President Eisenhower came here today for a three-day visit and a round of fence-mending talks with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

The President's plane, Columbine III, touched down at nearby Uplands Airport at 9:55 a.m. EST. Governor-General Vincent Massey, Diefenbaker and other government and military officials greeted the President.

Eisenhower was accompanied by his wife and Secretary of State and Mrs. John Foster Dulles.

A large crowd of spectators waving flags of both countries stood underneath overcast skies to greet the visiting President.

Eisenhower, making his first visit to Canada since 1953, inspected the guard of honor after the band had played the American National Anthem.

The two heads of state open their talks today against a background of the most elaborate documentary preparations ever made in this capital for a visiting head of state.

The visit was being made for discussion primarily of economic differences with Canada that have developed in the past year or so. However Dulles said world problems as they affect the two countries jointly also would be brought up.

The main economic differences include U.S. disposal of surplus wheat overseas for foreign currencies, pressures within the United States to increase tariffs on lead and zinc and restrict their imports, and joint water resources in the northwest United States and southwest Canada.

Others were restrictions on U.S. imports of Canadian oil, failure of U.S. companies to use Canadians extensively in management of their subsidiaries in Canada and Canada's so-called "unfavorable balance of trade" with this country of about one billion dollars a year.

School Aid Delayed

LANSING (UPI) — A shortage of money will force a delay in payment of about 27 million dollars in state aid for schools due Aug. 15, State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown revealed today.

But We Expect Cooperation, Harris Warns

Hard-Pressed Tycoon to Testify Tomorrow Before House Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Harris subcommittee granted Bernard Goldfine a one-day postponement in testimony today but warned, "We are going to expect cooperation."

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), chairman of the subcommittee investigating the gift-giving Goldfine's relations with federal officials, gave this reply to a request from Goldfine's attorneys for a postponement.

Attorney Roger Robb said his Boston millionaire client came to Washington Sunday to prepare to answer committee interrogators again but had gone into a state of physical and mental exhaustion after a chain of spectacular events yesterday.

Robb told the subcommittee at 10 a.m. — when Goldfine himself was supposed to have returned to the witness stand — that the discovery of a hidden microphone near a hotel suite occupied by Goldfine aides and theft of some of Goldfine's papers yesterday had left Goldfine with little sleep and given him no time to bone up on committee questioning.

"He has every expectation that he will be able to appear before the committee tomorrow and answer these questions," Robb said.

INVESTIGATOR FIRED

In the aftermath of the microphone incident, the subcommittee fired its chief investigator, Baron I. Shacklette, who had rigged electronic recording equipment in a room next door to the Goldfine aides.

Shacklette denied any connection with the reported removal of Goldfine papers.

When agreeing to a postponement of Goldfine's testimony, Harris gave Robb and Goldfine's other attorneys a lecture.

"I can see that unless there is a change in attitude," Harris said, "there's going to be a clash, and if there is, the committee will be prepared to meet it."

"We are going to expect cooperation and compliance."

The committee chairman acknowledged that Goldfine may have had very little sleep because of practically round-the-clock incidents yesterday.

But he said he himself had received telephone calls at midnight and still came to work yesterday and today.

RECOUNTS DIFFICULTIES

Then Harris recounted difficulties he has had with Goldfine since the House group first started checking whether Goldfine has received favored federal treatment because of his friendship with Sher-

Accident Proves Fatal for Boy, 15

Succumbs to Injuries Suffered Yesterday in Mishap on U.S. 10

A 15-year-old Saginaw boy, Robert Pritchard, died at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday afternoon from injuries received in an accident earlier in the morning, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Pritchard, of 2635 N. Washington St., was fatally injured when a car in which he was riding skidded off U.S. 10 just south of Tripp Rd., Groveland Township, and struck a tree. The driver, Lawrence J. Wicker, 19, of 1341 Farwell St., Saginaw, was uninjured. Two other passengers, George Jones, 17, and his brother David, 16, both of Saginaw, were admitted to the hospital and reported in satisfactory condition today.

Pritchard died at 2:50 p.m. according to a hospital spokesman. Wicker told deputies the north-bound car started skidding. As he tried to straighten it out he lost control and struck a tree sideways.

Ike Signs Alaska Bill;
Almost Forgetting Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Statehood for Alaska now is up to the Alaskans themselves. And President Eisenhower almost forgot it.

He signed the Alaskan statehood bill yesterday and commented: "Okay, now that's 49 states."

But he quickly corrected himself and said, "No, maybe we don't do that until the plebiscite."

That was a reference to a provision in the bill requiring all Alaskans to vote whether they accept immediate statehood and terms of the bill itself.

Voting on acceptance, plus election of national and state officers, are the last remaining steps before issuance of a presidential proclamation formally admitting Alaska to the union.

Alaskan Gov. Mike Stepovich predicted the territory would endorse statehood by a margin of as much as 10 to 1. The election will be held either Dec. 1 or 15, he indicated.

The President said he personally believed Hawaii "has qualified for statehood equally with Alaska. The thousands of loyal, patriotic Americans in Hawaii who suffered the ravages of World War II with us and who experienced the first disastrous attack upon Pearl Harbor must not be forgotten."

Reveal Arson
Cause of Fire

A $7,000 fire which swept through a Pontiac photography studio Sunday evening was the result of arson, it was announced yesterday by the fire marshal's office.

Assistant Fire Marshal Allen Tunney filed a complaint with the Pontiac Police Department stating that an investigation of the fire at Kendales Photographers, N. S. Saginaw St., had shown the blaze to be an act of arson.

Inspectors said that their findings were based on the fact that "there was no other way for the fire to start."

The building was vacant at the time of the fire and the electrical wiring is all overhead. Inspectors reported that the fire's point of origination was on the floor.

The fire which took more than an hour to extinguish caused an estimated $6,000 damages to the building and $1,000 damage to the contents.

Children to Run
Wild on 'Dream'
Playground

CLEVELAND (AP)—Here's a fun playground where children can live it up:

No swings, gym bars or sand boxes. Instead, it will have a 16-foot sewer pipe, a section of railroad track, a flower garden without an off-limits sign, a play street with traffic signals.

Plans for the experimental playground to be built in suburban Lyndhurst Park by a Kiwanis Club, were presented last night to Lyndhurst City Council, which granted permission to use a 150-foot-square area in the park.

Work will begin in the fall and be completed by next summer.

School Board
Elects Officers
at Annual Dinner

At its annual re-organization meeting held last night, the Pontiac Board of Education re-elected Glenn H. Griffin to his second year as president of the board.

Re-elected during the dinner meeting at the Rotunda Inn to the post of vice president for 1958-59 was Monroe M. Osmun. Dr. Walter L. Godsell was elected secretary, and Vernon L. Schiller, treasurer.

After the election of officers, the board adopted a resolution of appreciation for Mrs. Lola B. King, past board secretary and a member of the board for 16 years before her retirement last night.

The board's newest member, Mrs. Elsie Mihalek, took her seat on the board for the first time during the annual meeting.

Renamed as depositories for school funds were the Community National and Pontiac State Banks.

Part of Civil Defense Test

Hunt Radioactivity in Pontiac

A civil defense team began tracking down a source of radioactivity in Pontiac today, as part of a field exercise in radiological monitoring.

The source was brought here from Detroit in a protective lead container and hidden somewhere on Pontiac's east side, said assistant city manager Robert A. Stier, who is also deputy civil defense director.

"It will be up to the team to find the source and measure it, just as would have to be done in the event of a nuclear attack," explained Stier.

He added that the source was so slight as to be "in no way dangerous."

The hunt began after the 15 city employees, trained in monitoring a year ago, assembled at City Hall at 10 a.m. They were issued survey meters and dosimeters from the city's stock of civil defense equipment.

"The survey meters (like Geiger counters) indicate where the radioactivity is located and how strong it is, while the dosimeters measure how much radiological exposure there is over a period of time," Stier said.

Isolation of contaminated areas and an accurate forecast of how long the contamination will last would be important steps for the city's civil defense team to take in the event of an attack, Stier said.

"That's why it's important for our monitor-trained personnel to maintain their proficiency with the measuring instruments," he said. Today's refresher course, Stier said, is under the direction of Charles Cohen, city sanitarian and Fred McDermott, state sanitary engineer.

Although the 15 civil defense workers are acting as a team today, under actual conditions they would operate individually with the city departments they are attached to.

Three of the monitors are from the health department, four from the fire department, three from the police department, two from public works, and one each from engineering, parks and recreation and the water department.

Hits West German Arms Plans

Red Boss in East Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived today for a visit to East Berlin and called for a harder fight against plans of West Germany to equip its army with nuclear and rocket weapons.

With a grim, brooding look, the Soviet Premier stood bareheaded before the East German railroad station at a welcoming ceremony. He declared Communist East Germany must take the lead in the battle against atom and rocket weapons arming by West Germany.

East Germany, he said, was steadily gaining in international prestige.

Khrushchev heads a six-man delegation from Moscow to the East German Communist Party congress. It opens Thursday and continues to July 16.

He received a cool welcome. East German officials, and organized delegations were on hand to cheer. But there was only scattered handclapping from others in the crowd.

During his stay here he is expected to give the East German party bosses the latest Kremlin line.

Khrushchev probably also will unleash a new attack on Yugoslav President Tito for Tito's refusal to accept Moscow's dictation.

The East German regime in turn was reported looking to Khrushchev for advice on facing the international flurry whipped up by the prolonged imprisonment of nine U.S. Army men who strayed behind the Iron Curtain in a helicopter June 7.

Otto Winzer, deputy foreign minister for the satellite state, admitted Saturday that Soviet advice had been sought.

The East Germans have been demanding that the United States cover the prisoners. Washington refuses, contending this would imply a formal agreement to regular diplomatic recognition of a regime which it considers unrepresentative of the people.

Bus, Truck Collide;
2 Killed, 13 Injured

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two men were killed and 13 persons hurt when a bus and a truck collided yesterday. The bus smashed into a house after the collision.

Killed were Greyhound driver Anthony Piazza, 44-year-old winner of 13 annual safety awards, and a bystander, George Orman, 40, of suburban Lemay, where the crash occurred.

All the injured were passengers on the bus. Truck driver Angelo A. MacNuglio told police he was about to make a left turn when the bus struck the rear of his truck. The Memphis-bound bus then brushed a parked car, knocked down a tree and careened into the house.

Branch Office
Ground Broken

Federal Savings, Loan Association to Build in Drayton Plains

Ground was broken in Waterford Township today for a $100,000 branch office of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The site, located next to the Drayton Plains post office on Dixie Highway, was purchased in early April. Bids for construction of the building were immediately awarded, according to James Clarkson, executive vice president of the association.

The building will be centered on approximately one-half acre of ground. Ample parking space will be available across the alley to the rear of the building.

A kitchen and lounge for employees will be featured in the basement section. The main office on the ground floor will be of the same design as the other two branch offices and main building, Clarkson said.

The Ernest Hull Construction Co. will be general contractor, with other contracts awarded to the Sylvan Plumbing Co., A. Ebling & Sons, and Paul's Electric.

Opening date for the new branch office will be sometime in the middle of November, Clarkson said.

man Adams. President Eisenhower's top aide.

Goldfine himself is testifying voluntarily, but there has been a long subpoena battle over his records.

Harris said every step of the way has been contested as to what the committee should have. He indicated he feels Goldfine has gone in for propaganda through the public.

Robb was advised the committee would expect Goldfine at 10 a.m. EDT tomorrow.

Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich) questioned Robb at length as to whether the committee would get account book entries and similar information in explanation of the $776,000 worth of bank treasurer's and cashier's checks which have figured in the case.

There has been testimony that some of these checks, purchased by various Goldfine companies years ago, remain uncashed. Several committee members have demanded explanations of what these checks were used for.

Robb replied that it is "Mr. Goldfine's intention to account so far as he is able to do so for all these checks... and demonstrate beyond doubt they were not used for any purpose that would come within the scope of this committee's investigation."

TO CHECK THOROUGHLY

"We won't let the committee just rummage through Mr. Goldfine's books," he said.

Robb also said he had read some implications that committee investigator Shacklette contended he had been trapped into his edversdropping. The hotel room in which Shacklette was found with his listening equipment had been rented by Jack Anderson, an associate of columnist Drew Pearson.

up at the base quoting rebel leader Fidel Castro as asking the Guantanamo base commander to send a helicopter to bring a personal representative to "negotiate" with his brother Raul and U.S. Consul Park Wollam on the release of the remaining hostages.

A helicopter left the Guantanamo base yesterday afternoon but returned without any additional passengers. It was not immediately clear whether the helicopter was sent out in response to the broadcast or in hopes of flying out hostages.

The U.S. Embassy in Havana announced that acting political counselor Eugene Gilmore had been dispatched to the Guantanamo base to "form a more effective liaison between the base and the embassy."

An embassy spokesman refused to reply to questions on whether Gilmore's mission was related to reports of new Castro demands. One of the freed American captives suggested that the main aim of the rebels was to secure "some form of recognition" from the United States.

However, observers here speculated that the rebels may be holding out to "buy time" against the Cuban government forces. Raul Castro was quoted as saying that the hostages were good insurance against air attack.

The Cuban army has suspended all air and ground operations in the area since Wollam trekked into the mountains to begin negotiations for the release of the kidnapped men.

The Day in Birmingham

Street Paving Approved
Over Strong Objections

BIRMINGHAM — Once again protesting residents saw their arguments fall flat as Birmingham city commissioners overrode objections and approved the necessity of street paving.

About 12 Graefield subdivision property owners last night told the commission "we like the ruts" on Graefield road. They claimed the ruts discourage traffic and keep the cars that do use the road from speeding.

Commissioners countered the "rough road is a safe road theory" by citing incidents in which cars went out of control on bumpy, rutted street surfaces.

The cost of the Graefield paving project, from Derby road south to the subdivision line, will be approximately $6,300. It will be shared by about 60 taxpayers.

Commissioners also approved removal of the right turn on the flashing red arrow at the Willis-Woodward intersection. T. M. Vanderstemple, traffic engineer, said the volume of southbound traffic on Woodward avenue makes this right turn an extremely dangerous practice.

The first step toward the permanent improvement and beautification of Shain Park in Birmingham has made the area look as though it had been struck by a tornado.

The Lake Paving Co., Birmingham, was awarded a $2,662 contract for work at the Selfridge Air Base, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers District office in Detroit announced today. The contract was one of 11 awarded to Michigan firms for construction work totaling more than three million dollars.

Grows from the city forestry department are removing trees and shrubs in preparing for cleaning out all greenery which cannot be incorporated into the final plans for the park.

The second step in the program will be the removal of the flagstone walks which now bisect the park from corner to corner.

Edwin Kirbert was seated as president of the Birmingham Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting Monday in the Community House. Serving with him for the year will be William Restrick, vice president; Forbes Hascall, secretary and James F. Moore, treasurer.

Directors are Richard A. Fischer, Charles Moenens, Otis Thompson, Bertram Campbell and Walter R. Forbes.

Plans were announced for the annual inter-club golf tournament to be held July 23 at Sunnybrook Golf Club. The Rotarians, under the direction of Dr. George Martin, will host the current tournament.

The teeter board pattern continued in building within the city of Birmingham as the year reached the half-way mark. Permits ranged from a low of 15 (January) to a high of 64 (May) with 42 issued last month. Estimated costs went from $34,550 (February) to $753,318 (May). The June estimate was $443,130.

Comparison of the first six months of the current and past year shows a total of 221 in 1958 to 255 a year ago. Construction costs for the same period are $2,059,298 so far in 1958, compared to $2,274, 537 last year.

The Birmingham Area Humane Society is conducting a drive for funds to construct a cement block kennel to house its growing family of lost or injured animals.

Organized two and a half years ago, the group has expanded to serve all communities in the Birmingham area, according to Mrs. Karl Kocher, secretary.

The society is now boarding about 22 dogs, 13 kittens, 7 cats and a number of parakeets, she said.

Donations may be sent to Mrs. Kocher, 275 E. Maple, Birmingham, or to Mrs. Gladys Carl, president, 619 W. Frank St., Birmingham.

Sullenberger Wants
Ruling on Charges

in a patient and another makes allegations about how many home calls I made," said Dr. Sullenberger.

"If we take the medical staff at its word, I don't see how these charges are germane to the case."

No ruling was made last night, but Ewart and one of the board members said privately that he expected the board would eliminate those charges about which there has been no testimony before undertaking to reach a decision.

Dr. Sullenberger also complained that he was having difficulty in getting witnesses to appear in his behalf.

"Some just laugh at the city's subpoenas," he said.

Others who are employed at the hospital, he said, hesitated to testify at a hearing at which medical staff members were present in the audience.

"They might be jeopardizing their bread and butter," he said. Producing only one witness last night, Dr. Sullenberger repeatedly declined to name others who he maintained refused to appear.

After a heated discussion, the surgeon agreed to serve his subpoenas again, then furnish the board with a list of his witnesses.

Board Chairman Willis Brewer promised to enlist the help of the city to take action if any witness does not show up.

Ewart said the hospital derives its powers to subpoena from the City Commission. "You might also obtain a criminal warrant against a reluctant witness," he told the surgeon.

Dr. Sullenberger said he plans to serve "a number of witnesses" to appear when the hearing resumes Wednesday night.

Last night's witness was a former City Commissioner, Dr. Roy V. Cooley Jr., a member of the medical staff, who also is involved in a fight with the hospital. He claims hospital by-laws violate his rights and is suing for full surgical privileges.

Dr. Cooley testified that Dr. Sullenberger had performed surgery on many of his patients. He said that Dr. Sullenberger was "very prompt" for his operations, "especially in emergencies."

Dr. Cooley recalled two instances in which two other Pontiac General physicians refused to operate on his patients, although one was the surgeon on call, he said, and the other had been involved in the case earlier that day.

Dr. Sullenberger came to his aid in one of the cases, Dr. Cooley said.

The testimony was aimed at refuting charges that Dr. Sullenberger disrupted normal operating room procedures by temper tantrums and failure to show up for his scheduled operations.

9 Released Airmen
Suffering Exhaustion

WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI)—The nine American airmen released from captivity in Soviet Armenia yesterday are suffering "extreme fatigue and exhaustion" and will be hospitalized when they arrive here, the Air Force announced today.

An Air Force spokesman said the men's condition after spending ten days in captivity when their unarmed DC-8 transport plane was forced down by Soviet MIG jets made a change in plans necessary for their reception here.

The Air Force said the airmen were now expected in Wiesbaden from the Soviet-Iranian border around 4 p.m. (1 p.m. EST) and that they will be met by their families as originally planned. Earlier today the Air Force indicated the families would have to wait until the men report on their experiences.

A news conference scheduled to take place immediately after their arrival was postponed until tomorrow afternoon. However reporters were not barred from today's arrival ceremony. No questions were permitted.

Wiesbaden is headquarters of the U. S. Air Forces in Europe. The nine men had left West Germany June 27 for Pakistan with non-military supplies. They had touched down in Cyprus only a few hours before they blundered across the border 100 miles into Soviet territory.

The nine men appeared to be in good health. They were clean-shaven and neatly dressed in their green flying suits. All appeared to be in good spirits but they would not talk with newsmen "until we have reported in at Wiesbaden."

Lock Gates Replace Historic Town Sites

With the opening of the lock gates at Iroquois, Ont., the familiar canal which paralleled No. 2 Highway from Cornwall west for seven miles and in places was more than 100 feet away, is no more. Exchange of greetings between motorists and crews is a thing of the nostalgic past.

Beautiful and historic town sites, farms, cemeteries and homes under 90 feet of water. The scenic Long Sault Rapids are bypassed over and the ship canal is on the American side utilizing the Eisenhower and Snell Locks and the 10 mile long Wiley-Dondero Channel.

For those of us who may be a little hazy on the St. Lawrence route, and who isn't a bit confused, we learn that coming up river westbound from Montreal a vessel is lifted 69 feet above sea level at the first lock around the Lachine Rapids, into Lake St. Louis. Across that lake are two more locks at Beauharnois, Que., which raise the ship into Lake St. Francis 153 feet above sea level.

Now the boat crosses to the American side and the Snell Lock, then the Wiley-Dondero channel, thence through the Eisenhower Lock and lifted 242 feet above sea level into the new 28 mile long "power pool" tentatively named Lake St. Lawrence. Next the Iroquois Lock raises the vessel 246 feet above sea level into Lake Ontario, then through the Thousand Isles, where Sec. DULLES has a summer home, to the Welland Canal connecting Lakes Ontario and Erie.

On the Canadian built 129 year old canal eight locks are needed to lift the ship into Lake Erie, bypassing Niagara Falls. These are the last locks in the Seaway chain and may have to be enlarged to meet expected increased traffic. Much is still to be done in deepening interlake channels and harbors. By 1959 the entire project will be open for ships up to 27 foot draft, instead of the present 14.

In the meantime a huge power development athwart the international border is being built by the State of New York and Province of Ontario and will be shared equally. On July 1 the New York side started delivering hydroelectric power to Massena where numerous industries have been drawn by the prospect of limitless power.

The whole vast project is a good example of the best kind of international co-operation. The United States and Canada have worked together for mutual benefit.

Senators in Congress Working Full Speed

The U.S. Senate is often pictured as a sort of leisurely club where lawmakers talk a lot and don't do much.

The present session of the 85th Congress doesn't fit into this frame at all. For instance, since January the Senate has studied and passed 29 bills on the domestic economy, 14 on foreign affairs and 21 dealing with miscellaneous problems. On 23 matters of major legislation, says

Congressional Quarterly, the Senate has completed work on 15 and has all but two ready for final passage.

Senate Majority Leader LYNDON JOHNSON is the driving force behind these accomplishments. The Senate is in session nights and Saturdays and Senatorial leaves are being refused, thus keeping Senators from political rallies all over the country.

By mid-August, Sen. Johnson told his colleagues, they could get back home for campaigning if they passed a housing bill, a public works measure, re-organized the defense department and extended the reciprocal trade program. Otherwise, they'd be kept that much longer in Washington.

Why the sense of urgency? Perhaps the explanation lies in an interview with the Milwaukee Journal. Said Sen. JOHNSON:

"Since the last Congress adjourned, a Russian spunk began circling overhead, a business recession set in and jobs began to fold. The country is in great peril. We must work as though no other Congress would ever have an opportunity to meet this challenge, for, in fact, none will have an opportunity comparable."

The Man About Town Our Newest State Local Items About What Has Been Doing Up There

Failure: What comes when we work too little or too many.

An air mail letter from that former Pontiac man,

Harley Brearson, whom I visited at Skagway, says: "We surely tore this ghost town loose when the good news came the other night. Even the ghost of Dan McGrew walked, and the weeds in main street perked up." Harley has been there since the Klondike rush, married an Eskimo woman, and is a real sourdough—and brags about it.

A salient fact about Alaska comes from a speech in Congress on July 1 by our

William S. Broomfield: "Already found there are 31 of the 33 metals necessary for our nation's defense—and only two per cent of Alaska has been surveyed."

I distinctly remember the remark of our Harry J. Klingler when he visited Alaska four years ago: "It should be our 49th state."

Publisher of the Ketchikan Daily Chronicle,

William L. Baker, got out a 100-page issue, with a 49-star full-page flag in colors, boosting the statehood movement four years ago, that was the biggest newspaper effort I ever saw in such a humble plant.

After two trips to Alaska, on both of which I interviewed

William Prescott Allen, publisher of its capital city (Juneau) Daily Empire, I can appreciate their joy and enthusiasm in becoming our 49th state.

It is quite appropriate and highly fitting that the big canal recently opened in the St. Lawrence Waterways Development be called

The Wiley-Dondero Canal, as these two men had much to do with making the whole project possible. This is especially true of our own

George A. Dondero who worked days and dreamed nights about it, both during and since his service in Congress.

In connection with the Board of Supervisors recognizing his two-thirds of a century of civic service, in connection with the celebration of his ninetieth birthday,

George J. Scott has only one comment: "Why all the fuss. I only endeavored to do the right thing."

David Lawrence Says: Adams Probe Smears Congress

WASHINGTON — The "mess in Congress" continues. Now it turns out that a chief investigator for a congressional committee arranged for a hidden microphone in the hotel room of a witness. He was promptly fired, but will the committee use the information unlawfully gathered for nearly a week? Also, a portion of the witness' papers was stolen from his locked room over the weekend. Responsibility for the theft has not yet been fixed by the Washington police or by the FBI.

This is a sequel to many other strange happenings which indicate that a committee of Congress has allowed itself to be used to carry on a personal vendetta between businessmen.

What the country is told is that this is somehow all germane to an investigation of independent commissions and boards and the way persons seek to influence them.

SMEAR OF CONGRESS
Actually it is developing into a smear of Congress itself, as well as of men in public office. To imply, in effect, that men in Washington, both in the executive and legislative branches, are crooked because they take gifts from someone who does business with the government is to besmirch officialdom as a whole. For the emphasis now is on suspicion and not on evidence of wrongdoing.

The Supreme Court of the United States again and again has frowned on what it terms "fishing expeditions" by congressional committees. There is no authority under the Constitution to require a witness to disclose in public his private business affairs unless it can be proved that some particular piece of information is germane to the hearing.

But the technique used is to leak something out to a hostile press representative who is also engaged in a smear job. Then, unless the witness reveals all the details of his business, no matter how irrelevant it may be to the inquiry itself, he is held up in the headlines as having suppressed something. The end result is to force him to testify on unrelated matters concerning his methods of fighting business competitors.

PROBES IMPORTANT
Congressional investigations are important to the conduct of government. They have been of inestimable value in exposing weaknesses in the governmental structure. But the inquiries have been most successful when the committees have kept their eyes fixed on those weaknesses, rather than allowing their inquiries to be used as a vehicle of mudslinging.

With this thought rattling around in my cranium I'd want my daughter to substitute plain wheat for refined white flour in her everyday diet. Wheat, cracked or ground every morning or at least two or three times a week, supplies some of the nutritional essentials which are required to maintain good nutrition. In women good nutrition promotes femininity and fertility.

Whether the value of wheat in your daughter's diet is referable to the vitamin B complex, the vitamin A or the vitamin E content, I don't know. I know only that plain wheat is the best source of B complex and E and a good source of A.

Vitamin E in concentrated form (wheat germ oil) has been peddled as a kind of magic cure for what have you. But the fact remains that a good chew of plain wheat—if you can chew anything so crude—gives you all of these vitamins in the most potent form. So does anything made of freshly cracked or ground wheat. If you want further suggestions, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet "Wheat to Eat."

Principle reason for consulting the gynecologist is that such a specialist would be the better judge whether sex hormone would promote normal development.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Today the revelation that Sherman Adams accepted gifts from a businessman who happened to be his close friend has been exaggerated into a widely spread charge that something unlawful was done. Actually no such evidence has been produced.

Even the businessman who showed his gifts, including vicuña coats, on governors of states as well as employees in the federal government has not been found to have exerted any improper influence on any governmental agency. His inquiries were lawfully made.

But the congressional committee has not been content to confine itself to pertinent evidence. It has delved into the realm of tax deductions and tax returns as if to imply that because the businessman made an inaccurate computation on some expenses involving negligible amounts of taxes, this constitutes proof of his intent to exert an improper influence on a governmental commission through the medium of a friend.

There have been excesses in congressional hearings before, but never has a committee allowed itself to be used in this way as a vehicle for the venting of spleen by one businessman against another. Nor have committee investigators before engaged in such high-handed tactics as now are being revealed.

The quicker the "mess in Congress" is cleaned up by the Democratic Party's current leadership, the sooner the country will begin to think better of its legislators. For the old principle of Anglo-Saxon law that a man is presumed innocent until proved guilty is a principle which should be kept in mind by all who are concerned with the integrity of our government.

Some students of the question believe infertility or low fertility is inherited. To the best of my knowledge, this belief is untenable in respect to human beings, though it may apply to animals.

In view of the mannish figures of the aunts, if I were in your place, I'd want my daughter to consult a gynecologist, that is, a physician who limits his or her practice to diseases of women. Your family physician will refer her to a good one.

Being what you might regard as hipped on the subject of nutrition—I believe most everyday ailments are manifestations of nutritional deficiency—I am more impressed by the view of those students who think infertility or low fertility in human beings is a consequence of faulty nutrition, not just till payday but in adequate diet the year around.

Nothing but a Woman clearly represents what the Bible defines as the carnal mind which is not subject to the Law of God. The Word came not by will of man but by the will of God. To be carnal minded is death, but to be spiritual minded is life and peace.

As for women wearing men's dress, it helps to rob them of the finer qualities which are due her, and supplants them with the coarser. Where women are required to do men's work, while on duty, for safety's sake, it's best to be done in overalls.

Voice of the People Readers Answer Letter by 'Nothing but a Woman'

Three cheers for Nothing but a Woman. I, too, am getting tired of this debate about women's clothing. Biblical men wore robes, which are, after all, shirts. If men then felt shirts were proper attire for both men and women, that invalidates the claim pants are improper for women simply because men wear them.

As for the Bible, in the past, men who believed the Bible was the only arbitrator of ethics have committed unspeakable crimes. In the name of God and Bible, some who considered themselves prophets in Biblical times would wind up in prison today, and justifiably.

Those ancient moral codes were founded on needs of a savage, primitive people and many of their rules can't apply today. Only the Ten Commandments are ageless and even these can be, and are, interpreted in many ways. We don't really know what God is, but for me one thing is sure: He would disown the Bible if He could.

Replies Come in About Alcoholics

Alcoholics aren't developed by sales of a mild beverage on one day of the week, in one small city, as a recent letter implied. Alcoholics are a problem as are polio, TB, cancer, etc., and the letter asks why we don't make an effort to save these people. The answer is in education, logical argument and common sense, not rules and regulations. Don't, I pray, bring back prohibition. That's what made a beer drinker out of me.

Plan Opening New Hospital

Tentative Date Set
Oct. 1 for Community
Hospital Near Romeo

ROMEO — A tentative date, Oct. 1, has been set for the opening of the new 32-bed Community Hospital on Van Dyke road, between Romeo and Almont, a hospital spokesman announced today.

Meanwhile, plans are being made to move the hospital offices now located on S. Main street in Romeo into the hospital within the next two weeks. Hospital director Miss Lauretta Paul said she and her staff will make the transfer as soon as the new office furniture is received and installed.

In addition to interviewing personnel to staff the hospital, Miss Paul is working with the Board of Directors on plans for the dedication scheduled for early in September.

Special ceremonies will mark the event which also will feature an open house for residents of the 12 communities to be served by the new medical facility.

Although the closing date of the current hospital fund drive was set originally for July 1, contributions are still being received which will be credited to the campaign. The total now exceeds $100,000 with workers' reports still being turned in to area captains.

The drive will continue until all contacts have been made at which time a final tally will be taken. Harold L. Prescott, drive chairman, said today.

Roseville Signs Up Lathrup's Manager

LATHRUP VILLAGE — Leonard Watchowski, city manager of the City of Lathrup Village since 1954, has been appointed village manager at Roseville.

Watchowski's resignation was accepted last night by the Lathrup City Council. He will take over his new position July 14.

A new city manager is expected to be appointed by Lathrup at the council's July 21 meeting, Watchowski said today.

A special meeting will be held Monday to complete last night's regular meeting agenda.

DRESS REHEARSAL — Director Dianne Chapman (left) works with Lucy Oakley and Norman Powell in the first of three dress rehearsals of the 3-act comedy, "Gabriel, Blow Your Horn," being presented this week at the Clarkston High School auditorium by the Clarkston Summer Stock Theater. The play, being produced and enacted by students of the high school, will be presented Thursday and Saturday evenings.

Clarkston High Students to Present 3-Act Play

CLARKSTON — Curtain time is nearing for the first performance of "Gabriel, Blow Your Horn," a 3-act Broadway comedy by William Ellis Jones, which will be presented this week by a group of Clarkston High School students.

The first dress rehearsal was held last night in the high school auditorium where the play will be given at 8 p.m. Thursday and Saturday. Two more workouts and the show will be ready for the "boards," say student directors Mary Inman, Pat Hart and Dianne Chapman.

James Beckers Honeymooning Through South

LAKE ORION — Honeymooning through the South following their marriage at the First Social Brethren Church in Pontiac are Mr. and Mrs. James E. Becker.

The bride is the former Elsie Marie Soule, daughter of Mrs. Genevieve Soule of 971 McClellan St., Lake Orion, and Mr. Stanley Soule of Mt. Vernon. The Rev. and Mrs. Frank Becker of Naylor, Mo., are the bridegroom's parents.

The new Mrs. Becker wore a gown of white nylon net over white satin with a white lace bodice studded with sequins and pearls. She carried a white testament and a bouquet of white carnations.

The couple was married by the Rev. Edward Darnell of Marion, Ind., on June 28.

Mrs. Ruby Darnell of Marion, a sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor, and Patricia Lietke of Pontiac and Lorena Motdock of Clarkston were bridesmaids.

Judy Darnell of Marion, niece of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid, and the flower girls were Marcia Shaw, Cindy Barger, Karen Paddubny, Marcia Case, Denise Martin and Malinda Berger.

Best man was Fred Barger of Pontiac. Ushers were Dick and Mike Sanford, both of Drayton Plains, and Cameron Soule and Alvey Shaw, both of Rochester. David Soule, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

The reception was held in the church basement.

The couple will return to Ann Arbor where they will reside following their trip.

Sinus Trouble, Fever Plagues Queen Elizabeth

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II came down with sinus trouble accompanied by fever last night. She canceled the final appearance of her current tour and started back to London by train.

She became ill aboard the royal train last night after a busy day of official engagements in the Renfrewshire area of Scotland. She has been touring with her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

The Queen, 32, has had a series of severe colds in recent months.

He Pleads Guilty to Shooting Wife

LAPEER — Gerald E. Chapman, 32, of 3712 Peters Rd., Columbia, pleaded guilty yesterday in Lapeer before Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn to a reduced charge of felonious assault in the shooting of his wife, Iris, 30.

Sentencing was set for July 31. Chapman originally had been charged with assault with intent to murder. He was accused of wounding his wife with a shotgun on April 12 after she failed to return home on time from a drinking party at the home of her friend, Mrs. Joyce Shurman, in Columbia.

Mrs. Chapman had been in the Lapeer County General Hospital for several weeks. The blast struck her in the abdomen and elbow.

FLOAT IN UTICA PARADE—Not only has the Romeo Lions Club put together one of the outstanding floats in the area, but it has had the good fortune of having it adorned with three charming young ladies. Here, on the Peach Festival float which made its 1958 debut in the Fourth of July parade in Utica, are Peach Queen Jill Trask of Washington and her two attendants, Mona Wheaton (left) and Norma Kegler, both of Romeo.

Miss Romeo Reigns Busily Prior to Gay Peach Festival

ROMEO — Miss Romeo's busy round of activities which precede the annual Peach Festival celebration over the Labor Day weekend is now well under way with a full schedule of appearances planned during the next few weeks.

Jill Trask of Washington, the reigning Miss Romeo of 1958, made her initial appearance riding on the festival publicity float in Utica on the Fourth of July. Accompanying her were her two attendants, Norma Kegler and Mona Wheaton.

The float was judged the most beautiful in the Utica Lions 12th annual Independence Day parade, and its sponsors expect it to win other prizes before completing its round of appearances during July and August.

The float, which features a large gold crown with a throne for Miss Romeo in front of it, was made by a committee of Romeo Lions Club members who spent many hours assembling it in a local shop.

Heading the group was Robert C. Inwood, float chairman. His aides were festival chairman Edward Battani, R. Eugene Inwood, Norman Engle, J. Arthur Farrell, Al Falk, Dr. Sherman C. Harding, Jewell West, Herbert A. Miller and Philip A. Berthiaume.

The float was an outstanding entry in the traditional Pickering Festival Parade in Algonac Sunday, judges said.

The trio of pretty girls is looking forward to another big weekend with parade appearances scheduled in St. Clair Saturday morning and in Roseville on Sunday. The next parade they will enter will be in Fraser, July 20.

Also scheduled are parades in Armada and Disco and others through the middle of August.

Jill, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Trask, 56731 Lind St., will be Romeo's candidate for the Peach Queen title Aug. 1. Other title holders who will compete for the coveted honor include Patsy Carr, Miss Utica of 1958, and Dianne Bennett, the reigning hot house rhubarb queen.

4-H Youths Meet at MSU

Thirty Oakland County 4-H Club members are at Michigan State University today attending the 40th annual 4-H Club Week.

The boys and girls participating in the four day program were selected because of their outstanding 4-H Club work during the past year, according to Jane Hoerath, Oakland County 4-H agent.

More than 1,000 teenagers from the 68 counties in lower Michigan are attending the event which will offer 25 classes in "career exploration."

Oakland County teenagers at the meeting are Janet Long, Judy Crawford, Betty Jan Short, Donneal Finch, Cordree Heard, all of Milford; Sharon Brodie, Jeanne Mott, Lynn Thompson, John Rick Rice, all of Birmingham, and Stanley Owens of Holly.

Others are Katherine Gargett, Rose and Walter Cuduhovsky and Allen Taylor, all of Lake Orion; Sandy Rickard and Robert Sherwood, both of Walled Lake; Jane Booth of Rochester; Donna Ruggles and Richard Foster, both of Clarkston; Carolyn Smith of South

Slayer Returned to State Hospital

Escaped Mental Patient Murdered Man Who Wanted to Turn Him In

LAPEER — The confessed slayer of Pearl Snover, 71, wealthy Metamora farmer, Monday was returned to Northville State Hospital. Paul Sims, 23, escaped mental patient who last week confessed shooting Snover to death April 25 in his Metamora home, will be transferred to Ionia State Hospital which has maximum security facilities for the criminally insane, according to Lapeer County Sheriff William J. Porter.

State law permits the transfer of patients who commit murder to other institutions on the petition of the superintendent of the hospital at which they are confined, Porter said.

Sims said he killed Snover because he wanted to send him back to the hospital. The two became acquainted while working together several years ago at a Girl Scout camp near Metamora.

6 Seek 2 Posts on School Board at Clarkston

CLARKSTON — Six candidates will vie for two vacancies on the Clarkston Board of Education in the annual school election Monday.

They include Walton T. Robbins, who is seeking a fifth term, and Keith L. Leak, running for a fourth term.

Other candidates are Thomas O. Doremus, Lester J. Smith, William Henry and George H. Stewart.

Polls will be at the Clarkston Elementary School.

According to Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent, electors do not have to register to vote. He said the only requirement is that the voter reside in the school district for 30 days prior to election.

Marries Off Mother

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—J.C. Brian, 18, and his mother showed up at the county clerk's office yesterday to sign a marriage certificate.

Not Brian's, however. He's a recently ordained Baptist minister who said he performed his first wedding ceremony Thursday.

He came down to sign the certificate and make sure everything was in order.

County Clerk Mel Faulk said Brian is legally entitled to perform marriage ceremonies.

Forest Pinkerton, 19, of Carroll Air Force Base, and Betty George, 18, Fort Worth, were married by Brian.

Making Memory Donation

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: A business friend of mine died recently. His widow requested that no flowers be sent but that donations be sent to the Heart Association instead. I would like to send a check in his memory but am not sure to whom this should be sent. Should it be sent to the widow or direct to the Heart Association? If the latter is correct, how is the widow informed of this?"

Answer: You make your check payable to the Heart Association and enclose with it the name of the deceased and the address of the bereaved family. You also send your name and address.

A printed card is later sent out by the Heart Association stating that a donation has been received in memory of . . . and the name of the donor. Another card is sent to you acknowledging receipt of the donation and stating that notification has been sent to the bereaved family.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it permissible for a wife to buy her husband a wedding ring after five years of marriage? Our anniversary is next month and I can think of no other present I would rather give. If it is all right to give him this ring, will you please tell me what date I should have put in it, the date of our marriage or the present date?"

Answer: If he himself would like to wear a wedding ring, by all means give it to him; otherwise another kind of ring would be more suitable at this late date. Your wedding date would be best if your gift is to be a wedding ring.

Dear Abby . . .

Maybe He's Tone Deaf! Better Test Hearing

DEAR ABBY: Every night my father comes home and turns on the Hi-Fi. You can hear it all over the house and it is so loud it goes right through me. It is driving my mother and me crazy. He says it is supposed to be loud like that or there is no sense in having Hi-Fi. We can't ask him to turn it down or he gets mad. Have you any solution?

VICTIMS OF HI-FI

DEAR VICTIMS: If a Hi-Fi is working properly it is not supposed to be loud enough to drive anybody crazy. Suggest that he have the Hi-Fi people check his equipment, then suggest that your father have his own hearing tested.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with the most wonderful boy in the world. He is in the reformatory now, but I know he couldn't have done what they said he did. He is 16 and I am 14 and my problem is my mother won't let me write to him and she says if any letters come from him she will tear them up as soon as she sees them. Don't you think my mother is very narrow-minded? Please help me convince her that my boyfriend is innocent and if he knows I believe in him it will help him to live a better life when he gets out.

A WOMAN IN LOVE

DEAR "WOMAN": At fourteen years old, you are hardly experienced enough to be mature in your judgment. You'd be wise to listen to your mother. When your boyfriend gets out—give him lots of time in which to prove that he can lead a better life. In the meantime, watch from the sidelines.

DEAR ABBY: I am eleven years old and in the sixth grade and my problem is a terrible one. I still wet the bed and everybody knows it and makes fun of me. I have had pills and needles and don't drink anything after three o'clock in the afternoon but nothing helps. I can't stay over to anybody's house and no camp will take me. I wish I could die. Just sign this "UNHAPPY" and please answer in the paper real soon, if you have help for me. UNHAPPY

DEAR UNHAPPY: Continue working with your doctor. This is a VERY common problem and eventually you will overcome it. In the meantime, it's nobody's business. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a middle-aged woman who comes to dance in a taxicab and has the taxicab call for her again just before the dance is over? She does not give her name, address or telephone number to anyone she dances with. She says she doesn't care to carry on the friendship after the dance. Don't you think if she is so selfish as all that she should not be asked to dance? SOL

DEAR SOL: It is plain that the only reason she comes to the dance hall is to dance. That's her privilege. Dancing cheek-to-cheek does not always lead to seeing eye-to-eye. Give her credit for being honest.

DEAR ABBY: Every year I give a birthday party for my two daughters whose birthdays fall in the same week. I invite the relatives and make a big supper. They all come and bring gifts except this one old-maid cousin. She works and makes good money, but she comes to the party empty-handed, stuffs herself to the brim, wraps food to take home and thinks nothing of it. Should I leave her out next time or what? — ANGRY

DEAR ANGRY: Don't leave her out or she might get the idea that the only reason you invite these people is for the presents.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BASEBALL WIDOW: Don't let him throw you a curve—give it to him right off the bat.

MOMS to Hold Picnic at Belle Isle

The Michigan State Board, MOMS of America, Inc. met Monday at the home of Mrs. Frank Polasek of Auburn Heights at which time plans were made for the state picnic to be held Aug. 7 at Belle Isle. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Harry Anderson of Royal Oak, national president and Mrs. Malcolm Scantland of Auburn Heights, past national president.

VIRGINIA PASUGNOD

The engagement of Virginia Pasugnod to Michael Yapo is announced by her parents, Steve Pasugnod of Ferry avenue and Mrs. Robert Hinojosa of Raeburn street. Her fiancé's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Yapo of Wall street. A Sept. 13 wedding is planned.

Give Hands the Glove Treatment

To give your hands a wonderful beauty treatment while you garden, paint or do housework, make ample use of your gloves and hand lotion.

Before you indulge in such do-it-yourself activities, lave hand lotion generously over the hands and fingers and don a pair of cotton or rubber gloves.

While you work, the beautifying lotion will soften and smooth the skin, and the gloves will protect your hands and nails from dirt, oils and friction.

Reserve your worn gloves for this purpose and wear rubber gloves when you are washing or scrubbing. Your hands will retain the pampered look of skin beauty that is so feminine and becoming.

John Wright II Feted on Birthday

John Wright II was honored Monday on his 11th birthday at a party given by his mother, Mrs. John Wright at their home on Durand street. Cohostesses were Mrs. Nora Grappin and Mrs. Roberta Buckmaster. Attending were Alan Scribner, Steven and Gail Sheriff, Arthur and Bobby Ashlund, Tommy, Terry and Skippy Upcott and Suzie Grappin.

Visiting her aunt Mrs. George K. Cram of Littleell street for the summer is Rannetta Malkow of Kansas City (center). She is holding two-month-old Elizabeth Marie Cram. Joining

Texas; Elsie A. Pinner of Brown road; Emery H. Pinner of Munford, Tenn., and Lester W. Pinner of East Longfellow avenue.

Congress, a giddy match-maker, has paired "Case" and the "Keef" for a legislative encounter which staggers the mind.

"Keef," of course, is Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), slow-spoken chairman of the senate anti-monopoly subcommittee. The subcommittee is considering bills to exempt professional team sports from anti-trust laws.

"Case" is Casey Stengel, double-talking manager of the New York Yankees. He has been invited to testify tomorrow on the exemption bills.

Their meeting promises to steal the show from other baseball royalty invited to appear for the subcommittee's hearings—stars like Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, Mickey Mantle of Case's Yankees and Stan (the Man) Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals.

It isn't that Case is untutored in the world of interstate commerce. He is, after all, a Glendale, Calif., banker, who is interested in oil properties.

Nor is Keef a misfit in sports. He played tackle for the University of Tennessee back there in the early 1920's—even if he wasn't drafted by the pros.

But Keef, whose speech is often slower than the Boston marathon, has been known to urge a crowd to vote for another senator—and then call him by the wrong name. And Case's rambling comments on "this feller" and "that other feller" lack the exactness of complicated anti-monopoly legislation.

"Well now, Mr. Steinway," Keef might well say, "what do you think of the, uh, special reserve clause?"

"Senator," Case could well reply, "if that clause is junked which is so necessary why this game supporting these fellas might just as well go back to those guys on the reservations."

Kefauver, announcing hearings the morning after baseball's All-Star game in nearby Baltimore, said Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies, National League player representative, and Eddie Yost of the ball-playing Washington Senators have also been invited to testify. Yost is American League player representative.

Kefauver said interested government officials and the commissioners of baseball, football, basketball and hockey will be among witnesses called to testify later on the exemption measure recently passed by the House, and on a companion bill sponsored by Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo).

Hennings disclosed that 25 other senators have asked to co-sponsor his bill. He called it "a clean-cut approach to preserving professional league sports in their present form" and said it will give the other sports the same exemptions now enjoyed by baseball under Supreme Court rulings.

CIO Takes All Except Game

Grill Baseball Winner, 6-4

Something wasn't quite right in Monday's Class A City League baseball game at Warner Field. Griff's Grill employed 13 players, including three pitchers. CIO Local 554 used just the regulation nine men and Jim Wagner hurled the seven-inning distance. Griff's was out, 9 to 8. Six Union batters walked while Wagner passed only one.

Toney Lothery led off the 2nd inning with a home run for Griff's in the cockeyed contest and the Grill club was ahead the rest of the way.

Timely hitting and four Union errors made the difference as the winners tallied twice in the 2nd stanza and three more times in the 3rd. The CIO scored three runs in the 4th and one in the 6th, then Griff's pushed across a 7th-inning insurance marker.

Marshall McGuire started on the hill for Griff's and received credit for the win, even though he gave way to Jerry Kruskie after four innings. Jim Hoy came in to pitch the final inning.

Ex-Cocher Fires
Ace at Morey's

Corky Foster, former Ferndale St. James football coach, fired a hole-in-one yesterday at Morey's Golf and Country Club. Accompanied by his wife Barbara, Foster aced the Red Nine's 135-yard 7th hole with a 7-iron and he carded 35 for the round.

Witnessing the hole-in-one were Mrs. Eleanor Pritchard and her son Peter of Wixom Road near Milford, who were putting on the green when the ball rolled into the cup.

RIVALS AGAIN—Managers Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves (top photo) and Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees were baseball rivals again today when National and American League All-Star teams met in the annual classic at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium. Casey is piloting the American League team while Haney guides the National loop All-Stars. Haney drew first blood in the managerial rivalry last fall when his Braves defeated the Yankees in the World Series.

City Golfers Fight for Life in Publinx

Andonian, Smith Have Woes

Special to The Pontiac Press
CHICAGO — If flaxen-haired Randy Petri, a lanky Texan from Austin, stays in the groove, he could become the youngest player ever to win the National Public Links golf crown.

stereotyper, is a corner. Although he has been playing golf only four years, he won the Texas State High School title in 1957 and was runnerup this year.

The Stephen F. Austin High School student fired a 39-34-73 to match par over the 6,866 yardage of the gently rolling Silver Lake course yesterday to be grouped among the first qualifying round leaders.

The field of 150 "pay-as-you-play" golfers finish their qualifying test today with the 64 low scorers entering match play tomorrow.

Smith of Pontiac were in trouble at the end of the first 18 holes of the 36-hole qualifying test in the 33rd annual USGA tournament.

Andonian was in the top 64 with a 76, while Smith, who confessed to a nine, was far back with an 80.

Andonian holed a neat 20-footer on the final hole to give him a 40-36, while Smith had a 44-36. On the 3rd hole, Smith, who already was one over par, ran into real trouble.

He put his 1st drive out of bounds, then grounded two more before hitting into a trap. It took him two to get out and he settled for a nine. Smith played the next 15 holes in two-over-regulation figures.

The top Michigan golfer was Sam Lima of East Detroit with a 37-35-73, even par at Silver Lake.

The youngest player ever to win the Publinx title was Les Bolstad, now golf coach at the University of Minnesota. He was 15 years and 3 months old when he took it in 1926.

SPORTS

NL Seriously Considers 10 Teams

BALTIMORE (AP)—The National League is going to devote "serious, good sensible thinking" to the idea of expanding from eight to 10 baseball teams, promises Lou Perini, owner of the Milwaukee Braves.

You can take that as gospel since he's been one of the most ardent exponents of increasing the membership. And he has shown the National League, at least, that a change is profitable.

Perini moved the Braves from Boston to Milwaukee six years ago. It was the first time a National League team lifted stakes since 1900. The Braves held the league attendance record last year to 2,215,404 and won the World Series. This year, the Dodgers and Giants were transplanted from New York to California and the scanning of new horizons in baseball resembles the race to shoot rockets to the moon.

Perini is all for it. "The country is ready for expansion, the question is whether baseball is" in Perini's opinion.

He endorsed, naturally, action of the National League yesterday in authorizing President Warren Giles to name a committee of three to study feasibility of the expansion.

The resolution was prompted by the appearance before the league of Mayor Robert Wagner of New York City and the chairman of his committee to replace the void left by the Dodgers and Giants.

They assured the league that if it would provide a franchise, the city would come up with 12 million dollars to build a stadium seating 52,000.

Giles agreed that the city's proposed charge to the National League baseball user was one that anyone would consider fair. "I feel definitely we have to get a franchise back in New York City, if only because it's the nerve center of the world," agreed Perini.

A 10th team would have to be added to avoid complex schedules and leaving one team idle daily if only New York was returned.

Perini said he is heartily in favor of a suggestion that a Canadian location be added, preferably Toronto over Montreal.

Perini visualized major league baseball in Canada as "fantastic, it would be terrific."

Boys' Club Nine
Unbeaten on Trip

Members of the Pontiac Boys' Club Mighty Mite baseball team made a holiday weekend trip to Cheboygan, returned with two fine victories over a Cheboygan club.

Dave Tinkins won the first test, 5-4 when Walter Logan tripled in the deciding tally in the final frame. Dennis Luskin blanked the All-Stars 5-0 after retiring the last 14 batters in a row, 8 on strikeouts.

Fourteen boys, members of the club's city league midget division entry, made the trip along with club directors Mike Forillo, Joe Chevalier and Dick Goldsworthy, team coach.

Yes, This Story Is True

Billy's a One-Man Gang

CINCINNATI (AP)—First of all, this is all true.

They have a Knothole Baseball League here, with boys through 11 years of age playing in Class C, the youngest group. That's plausible.

Well, Saturday, the Plumbers were playing the Sky's for first place, with Billy Steinau pitching for the Plumbers. Here we go.

Billy walked in the first inning, stole second, stole third and scored on an infield out. That was the only run Billy had going into the fifth and final inning. He had given up just two hits, but trailed 4-1.

In the fifth, Billy's catcher was hit by a pitched ball and was out of the game. Since the Plumbers had used all their reserves, the Sky's manager said, okay, Billy can run for the hit batter.

Billy stole second, then stole third. The next two batters walked and, with the bases loaded, it was Billy's turn to bat.

"Okay," said the Sky's manager you gotta like this guy's sportsmanship, "Billy can bat and somebody can take his place on third."

Billy hit a double, clearing the bases and tying the score.

Then he stole third.

Then he stole home with the lead run.

Then he struck out the side in the bottom of the fifth and won the game 5-4.

No. He didn't catch his own pitches. Some other kid filled in for the injured catcher.

Record Baltimore Crowd of 49,000 Is Predicted for Baseball Classic

BALTIMORE (AP)—A record big league Baltimore crowd of more than 49,000 was expected to jam-pack Memorial Stadium today for its first look at the underdog National Leaguers in the 25th annual All-Star Game.

Although the Nationals appeared to boast the stronger starting line-up, the Americans ruled a 14 to 10 favorite to win their second straight and their 15th since the spectacle originated in 1933. There was no game in 1945. The odds-makers based their claim on the American's stouter pitching and a better bench, led by Ted Williams and Yogi Berra.

The only disinterested person appeared to be the weatherman who forecast showers late in the afternoon. Since the game was scheduled to start at 12 noon, EST, it was hoped the rain would hold off long enough to get it in. If it should rain sooner, they'll try to play it at 7 p.m., or tomorrow, either at 9:30 a.m., or in the afternoon.

An added feature was the resumption of the rivalry between last October's World Series managers, Fred Haney of Milwaukee and Casey Stengel of New York. Both wasted no time expressing their determination to pull out all stops in an effort to win.

Haney hurled a couple of early surprises naming Warren Spahn, his own left-handed ace, to open on the mound for the National League, and

Michigan's Idle Rolls Shrink 7,000 in June

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's unemployment rolls shrank 7,000 in the month ended June 15, the Michigan Employment Security Commission estimated today.

An MESOC spokesman predicted an unemployment upturn for both July and August as the automotive industry shuts down for changeovers to 1959 models. He emphasized the May 15-June 15 estimate was based on preliminary figures.

Despite the drop in the number of unemployed, MESOC estimated 455,000 were without jobs June 15. This number is 15.5 per cent of the state's labor force.

Detroit had 275,000 unemployed, an even 18 per cent of its labor force, on June 15. But Detroit reported a drop of 5,000 in the number of unemployed between May 15 and mid-June.

In the state as a whole 2,315,000 were reported employed on June 15. Detroit's employment totaled 1,240,000.

For the week ended June 26, MESOC reported total claims for unemployment compensation numbered 272,880. It estimated 25,000 unemployed exhausted claims in June.

June unemployment compensation payments were estimated at $38,070,000, leaving a trust fund balance of $149,403,019.

Grain Futures Dealings Light

CHICAGO (AP)—Decisive influences were lacking today in grain futures trading and early dealings on the Board of Trade were unusually light with prices narrowly changed from previous closes.

Dealers said commercial demand was very scant and the wheat buying by flour millers which imparted firmness to wheat yesterday appeared to have dried up again. Trading was almost at a standstill near the end of the first hour with wheat 1/4 cent a bushel higher to 1/4 lower, July $1.82 1/2; corn 1/4 lower, July $1.31 1/2; oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, July 64 1/2; rye 1/4 higher to 1/4 lower, July $1.25 1/2; soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 lower, July $2.24 1/2; hard 3 cents a hundred higher to 8 cents lower, July $12.45.

The Department of Agriculture accepted export subsidy bids on more than 2 1/2 million bushels of corn but rejected all bids on oats and rye.

Hal Boyle Says:

Now's Time to Dust Off Good 3-Act Play

NEW YORK (AP)—If you have a good three-act play collecting dust in your trunk, now is the time to take it out and storm Broadway.

But it has to be good. "The theater today is wide open," said Audrey Wood, one of the nation's top theatrical agents. "There's a tremendous need for new talent. If you have any kind of talent at all, it sticks out—it cries out to be helped."

"But a play has to be good to succeed now. There is room only for quality now."

Miss Wood, who looks like a perky, blue-eyed, auburn-haired visiting schoolteacher, is little known to the playgoing public. But she is a real power in the theater. She has helped put between 80 and 100 plays on the boards here, including some of the most famous of the last generation.

For 17 years Miss Wood and her husband, Bill Liebling, ran their own theatrical talent agency. Four years ago they sold out to the Music Corp. of America, which promptly found out it needed Miss Wood to handle the talent it had acquired.

Broadway gossip is that MCA paid half a million dollars for the Liebling agency, and still pays Miss Wood about $1,000 a week for her services.

She represents such playwrights as Tennessee Williams, William Inge, Robert Anderson, Carson McCullers, Garson Kanin, and Dorothy and Dubose Hayward.

Among other theater celebrities she serves as agent are Shirley Booth, Leslie Caron, Slobban McKenna, Michael Redgrave and Ben Gazzara.

Her greatest joy is to take a young unknown playwright and help guide him to the maturity of his powers, as she did with Williams.

"The relation between a writer and his representative is as intimate as marriage," she remarked. "Each must believe completely in the other's honesty, endeavor and integrity. It is a day-by-day devotional work that is impossible without mutual respect and trust."

Miss Wood said that the chief art of her job consists in getting "the right play to the right producers at the right moment."

"Very often a writer doesn't come in with a play. He comes in with two-thirds of a play. You have to have valid critical ability, and he has to be willing to listen to your suggestions," she says.

"If an established playwright comes to me, I still have to tell him, 'I've got to be able to talk to you as if you were just a new boy from Dubuque.'"

Miss Wood has been notably successful in creating personal loyalty to her among some of the world's most temperamental types.

"The ideal way to handle a writer is to be there when he needs you—and not be there when he doesn't need you," she said.

"Most of the playwrights are men. They have pride, and must feel they are standing on their own two feet, making most of their own decisions. It is very important, particularly when they are young, that they get a personal adulation they can only earn themselves. They must feel they whipped that big world all by themselves."

"And yet," she smiled, "you must be that still small voice they listen to when they need to. A good agent should be faceless." One of the great needs of the theater today, she believes, is some way to endow talented young playwrights—to keep them afloat during the struggling period when they are mastering their craft.

"A real writer isn't ruined by help," she said firmly. "In all my years in the theater I've never seen any young writer given that much money."
