Too Much, Too Fast

RAINS FLOOD CINCINNATI — More than three and one-half inches of rain fell in greater Cincinnati within 24 hours, resulting in flood scenes like this at Knowlton's Corner on the city's near north side. The water level was approximately five feet.

14 Killed, 10,000 Homeless as Flash Floods Sweep Ohio

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

COLUMBUS, Ohio—The grim toll of flash floods which hit Ohio yesterday rose to 14 today, with police reporting a number of persons missing and up to 10,000 homeless.

A cold wave stopped the record rainfall which dumped up to 5 inches of rain on the state, but the snow and icy pavements made cleaning up operations difficult.

The homeless were sheltered in schools, lodge halls, churches and private homes. Hundreds of schools and factories were closed.

The worst tragedy was in Lake County in Northern Ohio where five persons drowned when a boat overturned in the Chagrin River near Willoughby Hills. The victims were three members of one family and two of the three persons who sought to rescue them.

Mount Vernon, a Central Ohio community of 16,000 persons, was hit hardest. At least 3,300 persons were evacuated there when the Kokosing River cracked a dike built after the disastrous 1913 Ohio floods.

The crisis in Mount Vernon ended early this morning as the Kokosing River receded.

Mayor Phillip Mauger eased restrictions he had imposed Wednesday when the river burst through a dike and drove about 3,000 persons from their homes. The evacuees may be permitted to return today, the mayor said.

Flood damage ran into the millions. The Montgomery County engineer at Dayton said, "Every road in our county is damaged."

At least 1,500 persons were evacuated in Dayton, 1,000 in Columbus, and 800 in Cleveland. A flotilla of motor boats was used to rescue 100 families in Hamilton. Dozens of other communities, including Lima, Youngstown, Akron, Vermilion, Wapakoneta, Kenton and Bucyrus, reported families moved from danger areas.

Cincinnati, in the southwest corner of the state, was flooded in some sections by the runover from Mill Creek.

Torrential rains caused evacuation in some Cleveland suburbs, and the Cleveland Zoo was damaged badly.

The water flooded the house for monkeys at the zoo and shorted out the electrical heating equipment. Scores of monkeys were drowned or electrocuted. It was believed that 167 reptiles in the snake house drowned.

In Columbus some of the small streams quickly overflowed, creating ponds several blocks wide in some places. Most major thoroughfares were barricaded. More than a thousand were fed and sheltered in emergency Red Cross stations.

In Newark, a Central Ohio community, the Licking River overflowed and made hundreds homeless. Several persons were stranded.

Urges Hospital Build Reserve

Euler Would Withhold $400,000, Then Pay Construction Costs

Pontiac General Hospital should build up reserves before paying for extra construction costs, Hospital Director Harold B. Euler said today.

Euler said he would submit to the Board of Trustees a request from the city that the hospital reimburse it for costs of replacing defective electrical, plumbing and heating installations in the east wing.

"Before paying back construction costs, however, the hospital should first build up a reserve of at least $400,000," Euler said. This figure represents the hospital's average monthly operating expenses, he explained.

"Although the city's proposal is certainly worthy of consideration, it is of primary importance to us to secure the hospital's financial position," he said.

The hospital's reserves were eaten up during its financial crisis in the latter part of last year, and only now is the institution beginning to show a monthly profit.

OUTLOOK GOOD

However, once the east wing is remodeled into a 114-bed patient area, the hospital expects to make financial gains, Euler has said.

Replacement of the faulty installations must necessarily take place before the remodeling, the city has decided, and that's how the present setback in the expansion program developed.

The city had no construction funds budgeted for replacements when the defective systems were first brought to light last fall. Since then, construction has been halted while officials considered finances.

Euler thought there was "a favorable chance" that the Detroit Area Hospital Council would give the city the $300,000 grant requested last year to help cover the repair costs.

'Alfalfa' Switzer Shot to Death

'Our Gang' Actor Killed

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—Carl (Alfalfa) Switzer, 31, the freckled-face child actor in the old "Our Gang" movies, was shot and killed last night in a wild battle over a $50 debt.

His former business partner was booked on suspicion of murder today.

Switzer, known to his friends as Alfalfa, the character he played in the old series currently being rerun across the nation on television as "The Little Rascals," was shot in the stomach by M. S. (Bud) Stiltz, 38, police reported.

Stiltz, a welder, said the former juvenile star, who in recent years was down on his luck and had several run-ins with the law, was threatening him with a knife when he shot him.

Stiltz, badly beaten, said Switzer and a friend, Jack Piott, 37, came to the home of Mrs. Rita Corrigan, 38, former wife of stunt man Crash Corrigan, where he was staying.

"I want that 50 bucks you owe me now, and I mean now," Switzer said to Stiltz, his former partner in a bear hunting scheme.

The two men got into a violent argument over the debt and the fatal shooting followed.

County GOP Against State Income Levy

Delegates to Oppose Tax

Oakland County Republicans will head into next month's State Convention opposed to a state personal income tax.

There were but a scattering of delegates left at last night's county convention in Pontiac when Resolutions Committee Chairman Frank Finney of Royal Oak, read off seven resolutions which were approved by a show of hands.

One urged the Legislature "to oppose a tax structure which would contain a graduated income tax."

This tax, the resolution read, would place "unfair burden on the middle income groups." Republicans also opposed "pressure emanating from the Democratic Party for the adoption of such an inequitable tax."

County Republicans apparently wished to stay out of a fight brewing between Lawrence B. Lindemer, GOP state chairman, and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, who is reportedly seeking to regain the reins of the party from the younger Lindemer.

How Oakland Republicans fit into this rumored squabble might be made known Jan. 31 when Lindemer addresses a new "Plan of Action" political organization to be conducted by local Republicans.

No resolution either favoring or opposing Lindemer was introduced last night.

Missing also was any drive on the part of delegates to put forth a "local son" candidate for any of the 14 state offices to be voted on in the April 6 election.

"If all we wanted was a name we could get plenty," declared Chad M. Ritchie, former county committee chairman and now the committee's treasurer. "But we'll continue to hold back until we have a top-flight man or woman to meet the needs of the job."

Ritchie, former mayor of Birmingham and now a resident of Bloomfield Township, did admit however, that party leaders were

63 Fatalities Linked to Winter Marauder

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

Floods, snow, sleet, rain, tornadic winds and bitter cold hit the nation today with its worst onslaught of the winter.

Deaths attributed to weather conditions mounted hourly.

A count showed at least 63 fatalities, including 14 in Ohio, nine each in Illinois and Indiana, seven in Michigan, six in New York, four each in Iowa, Wisconsin and Kentucky, three in Missouri, two in New Mexico, and one each in Kansas and Oklahoma.

At Buffalo, N.Y., a grain boat was ripped from its moorings by gale force winds and flood currents and sent crashing into the main span of an important bridge. The bridge was a complete loss.

Three workmen were on the bridge at the time and two were hurt while dashing to safety.

Flash flooding in the Buffalo area was described as one of the worst in the section's history. Combined flood and wind damage around Buffalo was expected to run close to 10 million dollars.

In the New York City area, two ferry boats brushed each other in fog on the Hudson River. No one was injured.

Flash floods harassed a dozen upstate New York communities, forcing many families to evacuate their homes. Damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

States of emergency were declared in at least two New York communities.

A state of emergency also was declared at Hannibal, Mo., where more than a foot of snow covered the ground.

CHILDREN ESCAPE

At Madison, Ind., late yesterday, a group of school children waded to safety through the rushing waters of a flooded stream when their bus stalled on a bridge. Minutes after the children had reached safety, the bridge buckled.

High Communist Official Flees, Reports 60,000 in Mammoth Ring

BONN, Germany (AP)—A high official of the Communist East German spy network who fled to the West said today 60,000 Red spies are operating in West Germany.

Lt. Col. Siegried Dombrowski, 43, deputy chief of the East German army's espionage organization, defected 10 days ago. His defection was announced Wednesday but his identity was withheld until his family also reached asylum.

Dombrowski told a news conference his old organization, known as the Administration for Coordination, and two others in East Berlin constitute "one of the world's greatest spy centers."

Dombrowski gave as the goal of the organization the collection of military information in West Germany, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway, Italy and Spain.

Bare Facts: A Sick Man Chases Thief

DETROIT (AP)—An icy rain fell outside—but Hubert Gibson didn't feel it as he pursued the gunman who took his money.

Gibson, 49, was naked from head to frozen foot. But he continued the chase, shooting it out with the holdup man, splashing through slush and snow.

Gibson was feeling a bit under the weather yesterday.

When the bell to his apartment rang, he automatically pushed the buzzer. Gibson thought it was the doctor.

"Give me all your money or I'll kill you," said an armed intruder.

The gunman ransacked the room. He made off with $414 in cash and a $125 check. He left.

"I grabbed my gun and took after him," said Gibson.

He didn't even wait to wrap a bed sheet around his birthday suit.

Gibson chased the thief a full block, firing as he splashed barefoot through the slush.

Shots came back at Gibson. Pedestrians fled to safety. No one was hit and the robber vanished.

Gibson's feet suddenly felt cold. He realized his bare predicament and returned home. He dressed and called police.

Havana Begins 600 War Trials

Over 500,000 Cheer Fidel Castro as Mass Reprisals Start

From Our News Wires

HAVANA — The "war crimes" trials of 600 defeated foes of Fidel Castro, endorsed by the cheers of more than 500,000 Cubans at yesterday's vast mass meeting here, begin today in Havana's 15,000-seat Sports Palace stadium.

In six provincial cities, firing squads awaited 42 already-condemned men in a nationwide campaign which Castro says will mean death for about 400 supporters of ousted ex-President Fulgencio Batista.

Castro, after repeatedly denouncing the U.S. congressmen and newsmen who had criticized Cuba's mass executions, told yesterday's meeting that the number of "war criminals" his men expect to kill amount to only about one for every 1,000 persons killed by American A-bombs in Japan.

The remark drew a wild ovation from the crowd.

The author of dictator Fulgencio Batista's downfall appears today before hundreds of foreign newsmen at a news conference.

Batista denies reports he is preparing an invasion of his country. He was interviewed Wednesday at his headquarters in exile in the Dominican Republic.

Winter Tightens Grip on City

Pontiac residents continued to slip, slide and shiver today as the worst weather of the winter held its grip on the city.

And the bone-chilling cold will stay around tomorrow and the next day, according to the Weather Bureau.

More light snow over the Pontiac area was forecast. Roads throughout the area were snow-covered and slippery.

Gone, however, was much of the ice-coating that made highways all but impassable much of Wednesday in the wake of a sleet and freezing rain storm of Tuesday night. Above freezing temperatures in mid-day melted it, but a snapback into the 20s glazed left-over puddles and slush.

A high of 20 was predicted today, with the temperature expected to dip to 2 above tonight. The expected high tomorrow is 20.

Overnight snowfall in the state ranged from something above a trace in this area to 14½ inches at Houghton Lake.

Several schools in the Pontiac area remained closed today because of icy side roads left by freezing temperatures overnight. Schools were shut in Romeo, Imlay City, Lapeer, Dryden, North Branch, Rochester, Troy and Metamora.

Our Lady of the Lakes School in Waterford was also closed.

Romeo School Superintendent T. C. Filppula said, "We hope to have examinations in junior and senior high schools tomorrow if possible."

All school buses were on the road and classes were meeting in Lake Orion and Armada schools today, after being closed yesterday.

Elementary school students in Oxford were in class, but high school students are still out. Although Avondale schools were open this morning, bus drivers were instructed to use only the main roads in picking up children.

Ortonville schools were operating on a normal schedule this morning. Clarkston school bus drivers were told to stay off hazardous roads. No classes were held in the Huron Valley and Lyon Township school districts. Holly schools remained shut because of the weather.

Junior and senior high students in Walled Lake were writing examinations today, but elementary school students stayed home. West Bloomfield schools are open, and high school examinations being given today as not enough students turned out to take them yesterday.

A tree and wires were down in the Lake Orion area today, but police reported no complaints of power failure.

One Detroit motorist narrowly escaped death when an ice-crusted high tension wire fell on his car yesterday. Herbert R. Leighton sat in his car 15 minutes at 10 Mile road near Woodward avenue in Huntington Woods while Detroit Edison crews worked to cut a wire free. He drove off unharmed.

Six deaths were blamed on the bad weather, four persons suffering heart attacks while shoveling snow.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 15 degrees. The mercury dropped to 9 at 2 p.m.

Alyea Cross-Examined as Trial Goes Into 9th Day

The first-degree murder trial of Raymond L. Alyea stretched into its ninth day today as Assistant Prosecutor William E. Lang continued to cross-examine the 35-year-old defendant from Detroit.

Yesterday Alyea refused to answer Lang's question about "why he had lied" to police about his implications in the July 31 murder of Anthony Jasinski, a 51-year-old Southfield nursery caretaker.

Earlier Alyea had accused detectives of "brain-washing" him in trying to get a confession. "But I never did tell them I killed the man," Alyea declared from the witness stand.

He specifically accused Lt. Howard A. Whaley, of the Redford State Police Post, of stamping on his bare foot and kicking him in the shins. Whaley will be called as a witness, Lang said, to answer these charges of what Alyea termed "muscle stuff."

During some four hours of direct examination by his court-appointed attorney, William R. Beasley, Alyea claimed he did not call the police when he found Jasinski's body at the nursery because he feared he might be implicated and returned to prison as a parole violator.

He said he found no hedge clippers or scissors in the body, as the prosecutor contends, when he stopped by the Ilgenfritz Nurseries, Inc., 22951 Northwestern Highway, after a night of drinking beer and searching for partners for a poker game.

"Just as I got to the drafting room (in the nursery) I stopped and saw Tiny (Jasinski) lying there in a pool of blood. It reminded me of a person who got hit by a hand grenade," exclaimed the combat Marine Corps veteran.

Death Toll Climbs as Storm Continues

which swept out of the Great Plains and dumped up to a foot of snow across the midlands, curtailed normal activities in hundreds of communities.

The biting, stiff winds which swirled the snow into big drifts paralyzed travel in many areas. Air and rail travel also was seriously affected by the stormy weather.

Schools were closed. Business slackened. Industry felt the bite of the two-edged winter onslaught, snow and cold, with a sharp reduction in manpower. The same was true in some of the flooded areas.

Zero weather followed the snow into the storm-battered Midwest. It was from zero to 10 below in the upper Mississippi Valley and northern plains.

Strong west to northwesterly winds fanned the cold air into the Ohio Valley and to the Gulf, ending a brief period of spring-like temperatures.

Wind gusts up to 100 m.p.h. lashed sections of western North Carolina during the night as the cold front moved across the state. Torrential rains pounded Asheville.

Tornadic winds dealt death and destruction in Kentucky. Twisters skipped across farming communities in Grayson County, 75 miles southwest of Louisville killing two persons.

A woman was killed and three other persons were injured in Lexington when a television tower toppled and crashed into the studio. Strong winds buffeted areas in central and western Kentucky.

The flood threat in southeastern Kentucky appeared easing as rain changed to sleet and snow. Steady rainfall and a backlog of water sent the Cumberland River over its banks near Harlan.

Rain-swollen and ice-choked rivers and creeks swirled out of their banks in many sections of western Pennsylvania today.

The most serious situation was in the western section north of Pittsburgh, extending 175 miles to the New York State border.

The Allegheny River caused the most trouble, particularly because of huge ice jams.

At Pittsburgh, where the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers form the Ohio, a crest of 30 to 31 feet was predicted late tonight and some flooding was feared in low-lying sections. Flood stage is 25 feet.

Downstream from Pittsburgh the Ohio River is expected to go as much as 10 feet above flood stage tomorrow and damage is feared at such places as Wheeling, W. Va., and possibly Steubenville and East Liverpool, Ohio.

Kittanning, a community of some 10,000 about 45 miles north of Pittsburgh, was cut off for several hours as an ice jam from the Allegheny spilled five feet of water over 30 blocks. Several hundred persons were evacuated.

Strong southerly winds along the Eastern seaboard intensified the cold front which advanced into the western section of the Atlantic Coast states. Violent thunderstorms which hit the region Wednesday diminished. However showers and thundershowers were general from Georgia northward into Maine.

In areas not hit by the cold front, temperatures ranged from the 70s in Florida to the 60s from Georgia into the Carolinas, in the 50s through New York.

Decision Slated in Police Case

Local Officer, 2 Others Await Feb. 3 Ruling on Bribery Examination

Whether Pontiac police officer Jess W. Quick and two others accused of bribery and conspiracy to obstruct justice are to stand trial in Oakland County Circuit Court will be decided Feb. 3 by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Final arguments in the preliminary examination of Quick, 43, of 502 E. Beverly St.; Charles B. Johnson, 57, of 26 W. Kennett Rd.; and Lealon S. Karnes, 63, of 822½ Baldwin Ave., were presented yesterday.

Quick is under suspension pending the outcome of the case.

He is accused of turning over $122 in payoff money to patrolman Gerald Navarre in exchange for advance information about vice squad raids on a gambling game allegedly run by Johnson.

Arguing for dismissal defense attorneys Lawrence E. Maloney and Leon W. Hubbard said Quick should have been arrested as soon as bribe money was offered.

Instead, they charged, the Pontiac Police Department assisted and encouraged the commission of a crime. Navarre testified he received bribe money in several payments over a four-month period as part of a police trap.

Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry said Quick was not arrested sooner because "evidence in a conspiracy case is not gathered overnight."

Karnes was named a co-defendant in the case after refusing to testify against Quick and Johnson.

Irons Replies to Charges by Royal Oak Twp. Police

In answer to statements by Royal Oak Township police officials yesterday claiming that they had been stripped of power by refusal of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department to re-deputize them Jan. 1, Sheriff Frank W. Irons lashed out with a rebuttal this morning.

"The entire situation has been greatly exaggerated by the township policemen, since I have not unconditionally refused to deputize them."

"The fact of the matter is that they have indicated they have no desire to be deputized."

In accordance with a state law enacted in 1948, all township police departments in Michigan must be deputized by their county sheriff in order to have the power to enforce state laws.

Without deputization, they can enforce only local ordinances.

"Their terms ran out at midnight Dec. 31, as did all the other township police departments throughout Oakland County," Irons said.

"Each man must be bonded, and have not been deputized yet due to a hold-up in the red tape procedure of bonding.

"The difference is that the other few are merely waiting for their bonds to go through, while the Royal Oak Township force has balked at deputizing completely."

As for reports of vice and corruption in the township and department, Irons had this to day:

"If one of my sergeants were questioned or accused by a citizen, I would call him in and give him a fair chance to clear himself by accounting for his actions during a given period.

"I have merely given the Royal Oak Township authorities the same opportunity in answer to several complaints received by our department concerning law enforcement there.

"My request for a report on vice activities in the township and the activities of law enforcers has been refused by police officials.

"If a sergeant in my department refused a request he'd be dropped from the force. I have been more understanding in this case since I've only delayed deputizing until a report is filed," Irons said.

Rhimes Convicted on Charge of Arson

A Pontiac Township man, whom police said had a "grudge" against the owner of a home he set afire, yesterday was convicted of arson by a Circuit Court jury of seven women and five men.

Scheduled to be sentenced Feb. 2 by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty is Charles Rhimes, 34, of 1676 Taylor Rd.

Rhimes was arrested on a tip from a man who told police he had just driven Rhimes to the Pontiac home of Jack Marsh located at 1265 Cherrylawn Dr. Rhimes later pleaded innocent to setting a fire which Nov. 8 caused $2,500 damages.

He had admitted going to the home before the fire, but denied that he was responsible for setting the blaze which was confined to the rear shed and kitchen.

U.N. Makes Demand

PANMUNJOM, Korea — (AP) — The U.N. Command today demanded an accounting of 2,147 Allied prisoners still missing from the Korean War.

County Republicans Oppose Income Tax

having difficulty "convincing" people to run.

But they haven't had trouble encouraging "Republicans" to seek non-partisan positions on the Oakland Circuit Court bench. Appearing and speaking briefly last evening were eight "Republicans" bidding for five judgeships in the spring election.

They were incumbent Judge H. Russel Holland, Frederick C. Ziem, Milton F. Cooney, Ralph Finley, Verne C. Hampton, Theodore F. Hughes, Wendell Brown and Stanton G. Dondero.

Arthur G. Elliott Jr., committee chairman, introduced the eight not as Republicans, but rather as men "who had given indication of supporting policies of the Republican Party."

Elliott said he wasn't reluctant to put a political twist on the non-partisan election since "there has been evidence in the last two weeks that political philosophy has been injected in decisions of the Supreme Court."

Few Republicans expressed open disappointment to the turnout last night although only 42 elected delegates answered a roll call from among 187 chosen at the August primary.

Objective of the convention was to pick 140 of these delegates to attend the Feb. 13-14 State Convention in Detroit. This was done, but required the Nominations Committee to work past midnight to scrape together enough delegates to fill the quota, the second largest in the state.

Heading this delegation will be Robert D. Harvey, a 39-year-old Ford Motor Co. engineering supervisor from Huntington Woods. Of the 42 delegates who answered roll call all but one voted for Harvey, for six years a precinct delegate. The one said he didn't know Harvey.

Elected vice chairman was Miss Alice L. Schoenholtz, of Royal Oak. Miss Irene Giacobbi of Clawson, was chosen secretary, while last fall's delegation chairman, Dr. John P. Wood of Bloomfield Hills, was picked as parliamentarian.

Party leaders blamed the weather for the poor turnout and promised a much better result for the Jan. 31 meeting at the Bloomfield Hills High School.

Last night's convention got off to a fast political start when the Rev. Paul Anderson of Keego Harbor, criticised UAW president and GOP foe Walter E. Reuther during the invocation.

Helping to keep the convention doings alive was a five-piece high school band playing from the balcony of the Supervisors Room of the County Office Building.

Besides the resolution opposing the income tax, others were approved lauding Paul D. Bagwell, gubernatorial candidate, "for the courageous and forthright campaign" in the Nov. 4 election.

All county officers, Republican lawmakers in Lansing and Washington, Donald A. Brown, Bagwell's running mate as lieutenant governor, plus county committee workers, were praised in other resolutions.

The Day in Birmingham

Recommend Authority for Van Horn Parking

BIRMINGHAM — City planners last night decided to recommend to the city commission that a parking authority be established to look into a municipal-type parking lot to serve buildings on the Charles Van Horn development on N. Woodward avenue.

Several residents of Brookside drive claim that Van Horn is infringing on city-owned property and the River Rouge channel right-of-way to provide ample parking.

A title search by the city's legal council of Howlett, Hartman and Beier has proved conclusively that Van Horn, representing the Chicago Investment Corp., holds title to the westerly half of the property involved and where the work has been done. There is still some question as to the ownership of the easterly half title of which is being traced further.

A 35-year-old Birmingham man, Dr. Donald N. Frey won the Detroit Junior Board of Commerce Distinguished Service award for 1959 last night.

Frey, executive engineer of the Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. founded the company's Metallurgical Research Department shortly after joining the firm in 1951.

A veteran of World War I, he received the award for his accomplishments and contributions in the engineering field and the publication of technical papers.

He holds a Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Michigan. In 1958 he was named young engineer of the year by the Engineering Society of Detroit. And in 1956 he was awarded the Russell Springer prize by the Society of Automotive Engineers for technical writing.

Frey, with his wife and five children, lives at 586 Fairfax Rd. in Birmingham.

The Senior Men's Club will hear a talk on narcotics by State Police Lt. Carl W. Robinson of the Detroit Post when they meet at the Community House tomorrow.

The Discussion Group has chosen "State Rights" for their topic.

The Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its annual carnival from 5 to 10 p.m. tomorrow at the church.

Proceeds are used to finance a trip for members which this year will be to Philadelphia. A program of games and prizes plus a sale of baked and canned goods will be featured.

Mrs. Pearle Lamb Hill

Service for Mrs. Pearle Lamb Hill, 74, of 2183 E. Maple Ave., will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Hill died Wednesday at her home following a brief illness.

Million Scream Approval of Castro

Havana Is Excited Over Trials

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba and its colorful capital of Havana seethed with excitement today over the start of the "war crime" trials of more than 600 Batistianos in Havana's Cabana prison fortress across the bay from old Havana.

Any doubt the populace was solidly behind the "revolutionary justice" of Fidel Castro almost vanished yesterday afternoon when a crowd of nearly one million persons screamed their approval and cheered wildly at everything Castro said.

The Havana trials will be conducted in the full glare of global publicity and almost 400 newsmen from 22 countries were in Havana to see them start and to hear personally from Castro as he answers world wide criticism as a news conference today.

The influx of newsmen representing newspapers, magazines, television, radio and newsreels was spotlighting the trials and executions in an unparalleled manner. The wraps were off — there is no longer censorship and newsmen are free to write anything they like.

Havana meanwhile was slowly recovering some of its traditional gaiety. An indication was yesterday's mass meeting at the presidential palace when the enormous crowd waved banners, sang the national anthem and shouted "Viva Fidel" at top of their lungs.

They fought for a close-up view of Castro in a spectacular demonstration of hero worship. They cheered madly as he arrived at the palace in an army helicopter and began speaking to them at 5 p.m.

His remarks dealing with a free and democratic Cuba of the future were punctuated with thunderous applause. Scores of women and men fainted in the above 90 degree heat as they milled about in front of the palace.

The streets for blocks around were jammed with struggling throngs, and Castro's speech was projected great distances through loud speakers.

The six-foot, black-bearded Castro smiled and waved to the crowds as he came before a rostrum erected on the balcony of the palace. He was pale and wan but he looked physically fit after his arduous campaign which resulted in the overthrow of the Batista government.

All business houses and schools were closed during the day. A work stoppage organized by the revolutionary movement began at 6 o'clock in the morning and continued late into the night.

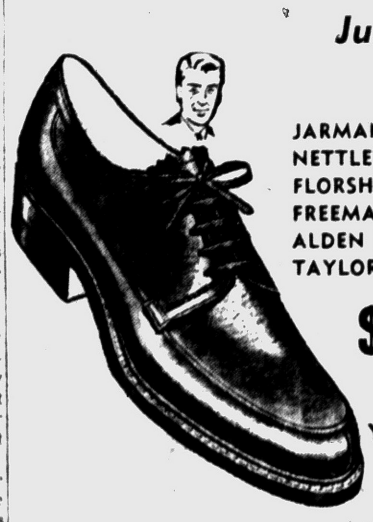

Voice Out by a Snake

AUBURN, N.Y. (UPI) — The Cayuga County Sheriff's Department lost its "voice" for five hours one night when a six-foot snake short-circuited the county's radio transmitter.

The roasted reptile was removed by a repairman.

University Professor Dies in Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—John C. Hoekje, a member of the faculty of Western Michigan University for 39 years, died last night at Bronson Hospital.

Hoekje, who was 73, retired from Western Michigan in 1955.

He had joined the faculty in 1916 as a teacher of psychology and education. Five years later, he became registrar at Western Michigan and in 1945 he was named dean of administration.

Paper Has Blank Page for Lack of Business

Flattery Gets Results, Even With Policeman

ALTUS, Okla. (UPI) — A Killeen, Tex., boy knows how to get what he wants even from a policeman.

Requesting an arm patch from the police force here to add to his collection, Skip Hall addressed the letter to "the nicest patrolman on the force." He got the patch.

Designer Offers Fighting Words to Housewives

CHICAGO (UPI) — Housewives are no better able to furnish their own homes properly than they are to perform a do-it-yourself appendectomy, a New York interior decorator said.

Michael Gree, president of the National Society of Interior Designers, made the criticism of amateur interior decorators at a home furnishings conference held recently in conjunction with the annual January International Home Furnishings Show.

"Some homemakers believe they are capable of producing well designed rooms when actually the untrained amateur is usually capable of producing only chaos," he said. He conceded there is no definition of "good taste," but he suggested that the average housewife hasn't got it

"Having limited taste is no crime," he said. "Good taste is one of the commodities which interior designers sell."

Greer predicted the professionals will use more bright, cheerful colors this year than in the past, with gold appearing even on iron furniture. Polished and antique steel furniture also will be put to new use in the home, he said.

'Ooops, I'm Sorry,' Says Man to Judge

PIERRE, S. D. (UPI)—Circuit Judge Harry Mundt asked the man who had pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated for his license number.

The man said he didn't remember but the car was just outside. He looked out the window and began reading off a number as Judge Mundt took it dwn.

Suddenly Judge Mundt reared back, stared at what he'd written and declared, "Why, that's my number."

The man apologized and the judge said he was certain it was an honest mistake.

What Do You Know of Birds and Borers?

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Entomologist E. L. Chambers surveyed damage done by European corn borers and found that blackbirds did more damage than the borers.

In some fields the birds and borers combined to do damage. Chambers said the blackbirds often clustered in such large groups they broke off the cornstalks weakened by the borers.

Fire in Closet Makes Real Housewarming

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI) — It was a real housewarming for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graham, when they moved into the Oklahoma State University apartments for married students.

There were plenty of guests, mostly uninvited.

A fire broke out in a closet and firemen and hundreds of students rushed to the aid of the Grahams.

CALAIS, Vt. (UPI)—George Lawson was surprised that he escaped injury after his car ran off the road, rolled over three times and came to a halt upside down. He had good reason to be surprised. There were six cases of dynamite in the auto.

Fire Loss Tops Billion

NEW YORK—Fire losses in the United States during 1957 exceeded the billion-dollar mark for the first time in history. They totaled $1,023,190,000, an increase of $33,000,000 over the figure in 1956, when losses reached a record $989,290,000.

Krupp's Steel Empire Expanding by Merger

Word of industrial expansion by the KRUPP steel interests in Germany is disturbing to those who remember that organization's close identification with the military aggressions of Kaiser WILHELM and ADOLF HITLER.

With the merger of Bochumer Verein, a special steel products industry, and Krupp's Rheinhausen A. G., Krupp will be the the biggest steel producer in West Germany. It also would seem to end the Allied effort to break up the munitions empire of Alfried Krupp von Bolen and to force him to dispose of his mines, mills, foundries and machine tool plants.

Information from Washington is that the United States is not objecting to the merger although bound by a treaty opposing concentration of German industry. It was this concentration in the hands of a few which made it easy for HITLER to take over the German economy.

Reasons for our willingness to go along are interesting, says the Milwaukee Journal. It is pointed out that Bochumer Verein previously was not part of the KRUPP holdings, so that its acquisition is not "reconcentration," and that Rheinhausen, although owned by KRUPP, is being operated by trustees appointed by the Allied occupation.

Although Chancellor Adenauer has warned against industrial concentration in the electrical, chemical and banking fields, no effective curbs have been imposed. But the matter of German rearmament is working against a breakup of the Krupp interests.

The European Coal and Steel community has approved the merger. It is to be hoped that the member countries, neighbors of Germany, will see that Baron VON KRUPP serves the best interests of all Europe.

U. S. Naval Construction Revolutionized Industry

Eloquent testimony to vast changes in ship building is contained in the latest edition of Jane's Fighting Ships, authoritative naval annual published in England

It declares that America's atomic submarines have touched off a revolution in which "admiralties and navy departments of the world have been shaken out of" their static orbits.

Adm. RICKOVER and his aides have launched seven attack submarines, seven more are on the ways and four others have been authorized. Six atomic powered missile subs are under construction, with eight more authorized. Largest submarine yet built, the radar escort Triton, was launched in August. The smallest, a hunter-killer sub, the Tullibee, will soon be ready for the sea.

The 85,000-ton carrier, Enterprise, heads the list of nuclear capital ships. Four times the size of its World War II namesake, the new Enterprise, whose keel was laid a year ago, will have four reactors. A total of six such carriers is planned for service by 1966. The Long Beach, a nuclear guided missile cruiser is under construction and a reactor is being designed for a new class of large destroyers.

Spurred by the Navy's dramatic use of nuclear energy, commercial shipping is answering the challenge. Financed by the Maritime Commission and the AEC, the $40 million passenger-cargo ship Savannah is being built. Funds also have been allotted for development of a reactor to power a giant oil tanker.

While rather anxiously watching and deploring our slow progress in satellite launching, many of us perhaps may be failing to appreciate our growing strength in atomic powered subs and surface ships.

"HAVANA Gambling Joints Wrecked."—Headline. As a rule, proprietors of gambling joints don't gamble, but those who put up swank joints in Cuba during Batista's regime unwittingly gambled in doing so, and they lost (their joints, at least), much to their (and nobody else's) sorrow.

Local Tract Never Taken Up From the Government

Life's problems: What should hit us when we are 18 and know everything.

Orson Rockman,

who has made a survey of property titles in Oakland County. He writes: "You may be surprised to learn that a tract of 100 acres or more in your county has never been taken up from the government. You have the second largest among Michigan's 83 counties in population, wealth and in many other features. But this tract is still owned by Uncle Sam.

"It has no trees, hills or swamps, is well watered, and should be good land. All that it needs is ditching. It is in the middle of Cass Lake."

Harry D. Ruhl,

sends me word that a survey made by his men on 300 farms, scattered over this part of the state, shows that four out of five farmers will allow hunting on their premises, if permission is first secured, and no fences or other property destroyed. However he says that good old rule,

"Ask the Farmer First," still should be carefully observed, and the best time to cultivate his friendship is BETWEEN hunting seasons.

My ever watchful Flint correspondent,

Jason Millerwise

writes: "Don't kid the present day women about dyeing their hair. In my great-great-grandmother's effects, handed down from colonial days, is her favorite recipe for that purpose—powdered charcoal and lard."

After a statewide survey, head of resource development at Michigan State University, reports that he cannot find even one merchant in the entire state who was put out of business because a new highway by-passed his location. In most cases it gives towns a big boost. Such is the case in the Pontiac area.

I like the enterprise of Numbered among the station wagon class, I know a couple with eight children, ranging from 4 to 14 years. They say it is the ideal form of family transportation, as

"We lock 'em in and let 'em fight."

"From Missions to Miracles."

Admitting that the smog is a fright, a letter from

Gene Harmody,

now in Los Angeles, says it is getting better because it couldn't get any worse.

David Lawrence Says:

Outcome of '60 Election Up to Ike

WASHINGTON—The Republican National Committee's meeting in Des Moines this week focuses attention on two questions — why did the Republicans lose the last election? What do they intend to do about the 1960 election?

LAWRENCE

As of this writing and assuming no substantial change for the better in the economic situation, the Republicans are doomed to defeat again no matter whether they nominate Nixon or Rockefeller.

The man who holds the key to 1960 is President Eisenhower. If his record in the next 18 months is outstanding and business is booming, the Republican nominee can win—either Nixon or Rockefeller.

At the moment Nixon is a part of the Eisenhower administration and will naturally defend it vigorously if he is nominated. Rockefeller was reported last autumn to have maneuvered away from the Eisenhower administration and actually to have won some Democratic votes that way during his campaign for governor of New York State.

Sometime between now and the Republican National Convention in 1960, Rockefeller will have to demonstrate that he is strongly behind the Eisenhower administration and that he is willing to defend it wholeheartedly.

Unless he does, he cannot win conservative support for the nomination, and it so happens that conservatives do play a very influential part in the Republican Party.

As of today, moreover, Adlai Stevenson is the most likely Democratic presidential nominee. He is stronger with the rank and file of the Democratic state organizations than anyone else—and they do the nominating. The argument that "Stevenson can't win, because he has been beaten twice" doesn't mean much in a year when the party of the incumbent administration has just suffered an overwhelming defeat.

Opportunistic leadership in Congress cannot long retain for the Democrats the confidence of the country. The voters in the northern states are more anti-Republican today than they are pro-Democratic.

This means that, if the Republicans operate as an effective minority party in the next 18 months in Congress and if the economic situation improves, the Republican chances of winning the presidency may improve, too.

To speak of the Republican nominees for 1960 in terms of personality as a decisive factor is to ignore the lessons of political history. When the tide is running against an administration in power for eight years, the candidate of its party—unless there's a war or a business boom—has only a slim chance, no matter who he is.

So whether either Nixon or Rockefeller will be elected, if nominated in 1960, depends on what Dwight Eisenhower does in the next year and a half.

If the record is good and employment is high, either nominee can win. If the record isn't good, neither can win. For the voters will cast their ballots for or against the Eisenhower administration and for a continuance or discontinuance of its programs and policies.

No man saw the building of the New Jerusalem, the workmen crowded together; the unfinished walls and unpaved streets; no man heard the clink of trowel and pickaxe; it descended out of heaven from God.—John Seeley.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Takes Mouthful to Explain 'Capillary Endothelium'

In a piece about the functions of calcium, I quoted from Wright's "Applied Physiology," an authoritative textbook, the following

(2) Calcium regulates excitability of nerve fibers and nerve centers.

(5) Calcium diminishes permeability of capillary endothelium."

DR. BRADY

I said I'd try to explain No. 5 in a talk to follow.

Everyone knows what permeability means. Cloth is generally permeable to rain; rubber or plastic material is not.

Endothelium is the smooth membrane which lines the heart, blood vessels, peritoneal and pleural cavities, joint cavities and cavities of the body which do not communicate with the outside world. This lining membrane, called serous, is composed of a single layer of endothelial cells, resembling, under the microscope, the tiled floor or wall of bathroom or fountain pool.

Mucous membrane, on the other hand, lines cavities or passages which communicate with the outer world — nasal passages, sinuses, throat, bronchi, eyelids, stomach, intestine, kidney, bladder, urethra, uterous, vagina. Mucous membrane is composed of numerous layers of epithelial cells, cemented together and built on a foundation of strong fibrous tissue.

"Permeability of capillary endothelium" sounds pretty darned scientific. Therefore I beg to repeat that no one has demonstrated a capillary microscopically.

Some old timer, who probably never studied histology, conjured up the funny notion that the blood, having passed through the finest artery one can see with naked eye or microscope, continues to flow through imaginary "capillaries."

The simple truth is, as any so-and-so would realize if he were not befuddled by what purports to be medical science, that the arterial blood, having passed through the ultimate arteriole (smallest artery visible under microscope), permeates the tissue — that is to say, it oozes, through the tissue of gland, organ or other structure, precisely as water oozes through the soil.

Thus the freshly oxygenated and victualed blood bathes every cell and fiber of the tissue, gland or organ, delivering oxygen and nutritional elements and taking on a load of carbon dioxide and products of metabolism to carry back to liver, kidney and lungs for disposal.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Age Increases Wedding Jitters

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Della is Hamlet's modern twin. And she has a lot of folks in the same boat with her. Under the age of 21, many girls jump into marriages without enough caution and foresight, but after 25, many of them become slaves of the "manana" complex. Beware of both dangers. Pass this case along where it may do some good.

Case A-434: Della Q., aged 28, just finished a long telephone talk with me.

CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I am due to be married in three days," she had said, "but I think maybe I ought to postpone the wedding.

"However, the announcements have been made and many of my friends have held showers in my honor, so I hesitate to back out.

"But I feel jittery. Marriage is a serious thing and I wonder if I shouldn't wait a while longer."

BUCK FEVER

When amateur hunters draw a bead on their first deer; they often get a similar attack of jitters, popularly called "buck fever."

Another name for this is stage fright. It is the terror we all tend to feel when we tackle a new and very important task for the first time.

Girls of 17 or 18 rush into weddings with little forethought. They elope with unfit suitors and soon may rue their stupidity.

But when they are in the late 20s, like Della, they often fall victim to the dangerous habit which the Spanish call "manana," or "tomorrow." That's the tendency to procrastinate.

The longer a man or woman goes before marrying, the greater is the tendency to debate and analyze and then postpone a decision till later.

And after the age of 30 to 35, it is extremely difficult for an old bachelor to make up his mind.

Della was engaged to a fine fellow, of the same background, religion and social outlook as her own.

Her family and friends knew they would make an ideal marriage. And Della admitted she loved him and would be heartbroken if she should ever lose him, yet she still debated!

MODERN HAMLET

You Shakespearean scholars well remember Hamlet's futile debate "to be or not to be."

Well, thousands of bachelors and spinsters of Della's age and upward also go through a similar debate over the question "to be or not to be . . . married!"

This is typical buck fever, especially when family and friends know the couple are well suited and they both love each other.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," Della had protested on the phone, "I know I love Don with all my heart. But I just feel we ought to wait six months longer."

Did you ever analyze the action of people at a swimming pool? The younger folks, such as the group that rush into marriage via elopment, will run and plunge in, without even checking on the water's temperature.

But the older group, like Della, will diffidently stick their big toe down into the water to test its temperature.

Then they may shiver and delay and procrastinate half the afternoon, trying to work up their courage to take a swim. Unless somebody gives them a push, they may even fritter away the whole day on the sand.

Yet as soon as they do take the plunge, they are usually delighted and have a jolly time in the water.

So it is with diffident folks past the age of 25 when they contemplate marriage. They either show buck fever or else get so eager to have a wedding ring that they take undue chances.

Voice of the People

Williams' Budget Proposal Arouses Several Readers

Well, the gate is open, the horse is gone and so little can be done about it now. But I wonder if people of Michigan even realize what's happened to their State. Those I know who voted for him are still making excuses and trying to place the blame on others.

Why don't they stop trying to defend their pride and face up to their union leaders and union newspaper editors and others who coerced them into voting for Williams? Complete lack of responsibility and interest in the State's and country's future has been demonstrated again and again by these leaders, and their followers, like sheep, are led to slaughter. Except in this situation the sheep are making excuses for, and condoning, their own execution.

Why wake them up? It's too late. Williams has finally been forced to face up to what his give-away program has led us to — bankruptcy. He has done this to a State that just a few short years ago was rich enough to set aside $50 million for veterans without feeling a pinch, and the taxes were nowhere near as high then.

Michigan Citizen

Soapy, the lovable boy who never grew up, who made up in charm what he lacked in ability, is in real trouble. The thing we can be thankful for is that foolish people didn't elect him President.

The last three Presidents have the country over a barrel; the war FDR started, the clod-blooded murders in Hiroshima by Truman, and Ike's sickness, even though he has a good deal of ability, and he's also hampered by a Congress that doesn't see eye to eye, putting it mildly.

The State had money to burn when Soapy took over and he proceeded to burn it. He hasn't made many enemies; he's too good natured. And Pa (the State) is rich and nobody cares. I can like Soapy, but I wouldn't trust him with my bank account. He might charm me out of it.

Andrea Rohr

Could it be that Henry never received help from the Veterans Trust Fund? Could it be he's not even a veteran? Should the State take over $50 million, it would gain less than $43 million. That's more than 14 per cent interest the taxpayer will have to pay, and any tenth grader could tell you that isn't good business. If I wanted to charge that much interest, I'd probably go to jail for usury.

But Henry's right saying Williams knows what he's doing. He's following the recommendation of AMA, NMA and other organizations trying to strip vets of all benefits. Michigan Veterans will remember this in the next election.

I hope you don't believe that we'll get the money back. And it's easier to keep something we have than to regain a loss. You may not need aid from the fund and I don't but hundreds have been helped in the past and many will need help in the future.

'Common Courtesy Dictates Treatment'

I'm surprised to hear otherwise civilized people saying we should have given Mikoyan a bum's rush. Nations must operate with common courtesy the same as individuals, and only the most vulgar person would mistreat a guest in his own home. When someone comes to your house, whether you like him or not, so long as he behaves himself, you treat him with respect and courtesy, and that's all Mikoyan's treatment amounted to. Just because a barbarian is in our midst is no reason for all of us to become barbarians.

'Ignored Proposal Has Cost Lives'

Regarding protection against gas explosions, in 1938 I suggested at a State fireman's meeting that mercury switches should be installed at all building entrances, that mercury switches should be compulsory in all firemen's flash lights, all switches should be oil or mercury in all buildings where combustibles are used, such as garages, paint manufacturing, bowling alleys, etc. Also inductive motors should be compulsory wherever gases are liable to accumulate. A lot of lives could have been saved if these suggestions had been carried out.

If all alimony cases in Oakland County that are behind in alimony are sent to jail, they'll sure have to build a new jail. Some of these men have paid when they were working, but how are they going to pay when their unemployment runs out?

I didn't know a man could be sent to jail without a trial of hearing both sides. If all men who are paying alimony in the county will send a protest to your representative or Gov. Williams, I'm sure we can do something about this political racket, and men will pay according to their ability and earnings.

Plans to Reopen Schools 'Too Late'

Little Rock Pupils Resigned

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Most Little Rock high school students and their parents apparently are resigned to finishing this year without public schools, despite recent court moves to reopen the facilities immediately.

"It's too late to do any good this year," said one mother. "My Billy is settled at a private school, and he'll probably stay there because we couldn't be sure the public schools would stay open if they are reopened."

The speaker was representative of thousands of parents who first looked on school closing as a temporary measure but who now are prepared to extend emergency educational provisions indefinitely, certainly through this school year.

Caught in a massive battle between federal and state governments on the school integration question, 2,000 Little Rock students this week finished first semester work in schools in other communities. Some 1,100 more are nearing midterm at newly organized private schools here.

About 700 students, including 450 Negroes, remain out of classes altogether.

Community sentiment is divided on the school issue. Many prefer that the schools remain closed if integration is the only alternative.

FEDERAL DEPT. STORES JUST SAY "Charge It"

Bob Considine Reports:

'Trials Fair,' Says Congressman in Havana

HAVANA — Havana had a new kind of holiday today, one that had nothing to do with the arrival of a festive boatload of tourists brandishing Yankee dollars.

This was a holiday built around a tall black-eyed young rebel chieftain with a fierce looking, scraggly beard and a determination to put to death all who persecuted Cuban people under Batista.

Fidel Castro asked Cuba to endorse his past and impending trials of "war criminals" and accept as just the many death verdicts which are expected to follow in the wake of brief court actions.

To help swell the crowd in front of the presidential palace, from whose balcony he and his bearded disciples spoke, Castro invited to the capital "on the cuff" all who cared to make the journey. He closed schools so that the children might attend this tacit "thumbs down" vote on hundreds of prisoners now awaiting trial. Shops and factories also shut down, freeing all employes.

There was no need to close Havana's banks. They've been locked tight since Castro's tanks rolled into the city on the first of the year.

Adam Clayton Powell, the U.S. congressman from Harlem, told the Cuban people by television today why Castro is getting a bad press in the States.

"There's lots of Batista money being spent now in Washington by his agent," Powell declared, puffing on a long cigar. "He's buying public opposition against Castro."

The Negro congressman's interviewer did not press the point.

Asked his opinion of the war trials, Powell replied, "From everything I've observed here, and from talks with Jules du Bois of the Chicago Tribune and Frank Kelley of the New York Herald Tribune, I'm convinced that there has been no shooting in the streets and that the trials to date have been fair."

'TRIALS FAIR'

Some of the defendants have been acquitted, some have been sent to prison, some have been executed. It has been unusually fair and just considering the 20 years of terror imposed on Cuba."

Returning to his original theme, Powell said "It is time now for Castro to set up a lobby in Washington, retain a good public relations and get good legal counsel in the states. For every day he fails to do this, he loses a month in gaining proper respect in the United States. The American people buy what they're sold. It's time to sell Castro."

We asked Castro: "When do you sleep?"

He scratched his beard, made even scraggier by the loss of locks of it to admirers. "Sleep?" he asked, sleepily. "What's that?"

The stern discipline which was Castro's rule in the hills has been almost miraculously maintained amid the fleshpots of Havana. His bearded veterans don't drink, loot, rape, carouse.

They have no money, are too proud to accept the handouts that nervous Havanans would seek to shower on them. A thousand conquering armies of the past would find this one hard to believe.

Strike Won't Halt This Railroad

Rahway to Keep Running

KENILWORTH, N.J. (UPI) — The entire track-maintenance labor force of the Rahway Valley Railway was on strike and picketing the main line trackage today, but President George Clark said he figured he could keep the line running without them.

The striking workmen comprise one fifth of the total employes of the road. Three men are on strike. Counting the president, the line hires 15 men. Its main line runs 7.2 miles. A branch runs three miles. Counting all the sidings, the total trackage is 15.2 miles.

"Being here practically all my life, and having learned railroading from my daddy when I was in knee britches, and knowing my tracks are in good shape, I figure we can keep operating," Clark said. "We never operate more than one train at a time and we never operate faster than 15 miles an hour. Anything goes wrong with the track, supervisory employes — including me — can pitch in and fix it."

Would Make Some Exceptions

Wants to Ban Man-Woman Distinction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House judiciary committee, is in with a proposal to outlaw distinctions between men and women. He does make some exceptions.

Differences in "physical structure, biological or social function" would continue legal, although Celler does not say specifically whether this kind of thing would be encouraged.

So you can see that the 86th Congress, organized at last after some false starts, is not ready for business a moment too soon. Urgent legislation is piled up to the windows.

Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss) has a constitutional amendment to leave to the states regulation of health, morals and domestic relations. Also certain other matters, like elections and schools.

Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) has a bill to give medals of honor to persons performing heroic acts in preventing highway accidents. No doubt he means people who stay home on Labor Day weekend.

Another attractive safety measure has been dropped in the hopper by Rep Abraham J. Multer (D-NY). It would make it illegal to drive any automobile that hasn't been roadtested for 100 miles. Hmm.

Multer incidentally may be bucking for some kind of record. He introduced 96 bills on opening day. Something for everybody — widows, orphans, businessmen, the blind. Well, almost everybody. The last farmer left Multer's district, in Brooklyn, some time ago.

LICK STAMPS TOO

Rep. Harley O. Staggers (D-W Va), obviously a broadminded type, has introduced bills to (1) make daylight saving time illegal and (2) make it mandatory everywhere whenever Congress says so.

Rep. Hamer Budget (R-Idaho) proposes to abolish free congressional mail and make his colleagues lick stamps like the rest of us.

The mailing of matter "tending to incite crimes of violence" would be barred under a bill by freshman Rep. Seymour Halpern (R-NY). He left one problem unsolved. How would the Internal Revenue Service handle its mailings under that law?

Rep. Joel T. Broyhill (R-Va) is back with his plan to make us all sing the Star Spangled Banner the same way. This task proved too much for the 85th Congress. Rep. Katharine St. George (R-NY) wants to make it illegal to play the national anthem to stop public disturbances.

Also crying for action is a bill by Rep. Harlan Hagen (D-Calif) to make misspelling not only less likely but illegal. His bill would establish a National Grammar Commission, to set up an official and simplified system of—uh—fonetic speling.

Rep. Isidor Dollinger (D-NY) wants to define the word "mother" and limit us all to one each. Seems reasonable.

Sen. William Langer (R-ND) proposes to give women government workers 60 days of paid maternity leave. But not oftener than once a year, Langer's bill specifies.

Claims Tuition Charges to State Students Illegal

LANSING (UPI) — It is illegal for the University of Michigan and Michigan State University to charge tuition to state students, Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr. (R-Clare) said today.

Strange, a graduate of Central Michigan College, intends to make it legal.

Strange discovered wording in the law that says state students "shall have the privileges of the institution without the payment of tuition."

He will introduce legislation to strike the wording.

Goldwater OK'd for GOP Post

Senators Accept Him as 1959-60 Campaign Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican senators accepted Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) as their 1959-60 campaign chairman Wednesday after opposition from self-styled liberals among them had wilted.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (Mass), chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, said the group had given unanimous ratification to his appointment of Goldwater to head the campaign committee.

That action was taken after the conference rejected a proposed change in the method of selecting the chairman.

Saltonstall also named these other members:

Sens. Alexander Wiley (Wis), Homer E. Capehart (Ind), Frank Carlson (Kan), Wallace F. Bennett (Utah), Prescott Bush (Conn), J. Glenn Beal (Md), and Norris Cotton (NH).

Sen. John Sherman Cooper (Ky) had led the opposition to Goldwater. He had contended publicly that selection of the Arizonan might invite Democratic allegations that Republicans are anti-labor. Goldwater says he is not antilabor at all.

The liberals never did announce support of any candidate of their own for the chairmanship.

Advice to Ike—Treat Congress Like a Wife

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower must learn to treat Congress like a wife, or the "ship of state is in for a voyage of rock 'n' roll."

This unasked but folksy advice for the chief executive came today from the pen of Sen. Norris Cotton (R-NH). He included it in a news letter to his constituents.

Predicting rough treatment for President Eisenhower's budget proposals by the enlarged Democratic majorities in Congress, Cotton said:

"The President has never seemed to realize that Congress is much like a wife. Given plenty of attention made a full partner but trusted with inflexible firmness when it comes to running up bills, Congress can be a powerful helpmate.

"Neglected, it can wreck any administration, especially in the field of finance."

Grand Rapids Foundation Gets $5 Million Bequest

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Financier Curtis M. Wyhe left $5,040,000, one of the largest bequests of its kind in Michigan history, to the Grand Rapids Foundation. An inventory of his estate filed in Probate Court was completed yesterday.

The Grand Rapids Foundation was formed in 1922. Since 1930, it has contributed $305,000 to charitable agencies.

Wyhe died last March at 67.

New Head Sees Issue Quickly

Gen. Picher Gets It Done!

WASHINGTON (NEA)—If, as Lt. Gen. Oliver S. Picher claims, he is nothing more than an "office manager," the Pentagon will soon be inhabited by some of the highest-ranking "clerks" in its history.

LT. GEN. OLIVER S. PICHER —He told the generals, "Keep your pants on."

For Gen. Picher is the first Director of the Joint Staff, a new post authorized by the last Congress, and of his eventual staff of 360, few will be below the rank of lieutenant-colonel or commander. A good many will be brigadier and major generals and rear admirals.

Titles aside, Picher's job under the Defense reorganization plan is to see that what the Joint Chiefs want done—is done.

For example, if the President decided that U. S. troops would have to be rushed to some trouble spot, he'd issue an order to the Defense Secretary who in turn would pass the order on to the Joint Chiefs. The joints chiefs would tell Picher "Do it." And Picher does it.

The quiet, 53 year old Picher already is one of the least publicized of the Air Forces top-ranking officers, but from conversations with men who have served with him it's possible to tell something about what kind of a man holds down this key post.

He's a stickler for precise English and for short reports. He's been known to cross off everything after the first page.

He doesn't like "iron pants" officers, men who go strictly by the rules.

What does he do in an emergency?

Says an air force officer who worked with him on organizing the Berlin airlift:

"When everyone was getting excited, Ollie just sat back calmly and told the generals above him 'Keep your pants on;' things will work out.' And he sat down and wrote the orders for the airlift as though it were just another day's work."

An officer who worked with him many years ago has this to say:

"He's somewhat intolerant of people who don't grasp things quickly . . . intolerant of details, anxious to get things going. When someone talks to him, he expects them to know all about what they're talking about. He is always pleasant, but inclined to make subtle or satirical remarks. He himself has the knack of getting to the heart of a matter very quickly. In a shop he runs, nothing is ever held up by the inability of the boss to make a decision."

The problems Picher and his staff struggle with are no ordinary problems. The Joint Chiefs, for example, will throw the general a problem like "What services should fire what missiles?"

Or they'll ask "What missiles should be dropped and what ones kept?"

The answers to these and other questions decide in essence the future roles of the Army, Air Force, Navy and Marines. They also determine whether we are prepared or only partially prepared in an emergency.

General Picher's staff must try to come up with answers or the Joint Chiefs to consider. His job is to see that these suggested solutions—each written by a team of Army, Navy and Air Force officers—are done well, on time and "to the point."

In a national emergency it will be up to General Picher to get the Joint Chiefs together, to get things going, and to hold down the national fort until they arrive.

A man in a spot like this has to get along well with all the Joint Chiefs. While not much is known about Picher's personal relationships with the individual service chiefs, he should have no problems with the chairman.

Some years ago, 1st Lt. Nathan F. Twining was best man at the marriage of 2nd Lt. Oliver S. Picher.

LANSING (AP)—A Lansing police car sped through the predawn darkness yesterday.

More Appealing Than Rag Rugs

STAFFORD SPRINGS, Conn. (AP)—Barbershop harmony beats English, math and rug-hooking combined in this Connecticut village.

The Stafford Teachers' Assn. Wednesday night opened registration for 10 adult education classes.

Nobody signed up for the liberal arts or rug-hooking, so nine of the classes were canceled.

Boaster About Health Dies at Age of 107

School Issue Splits Cabinet

Divided on Including Segregation Plank in Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower's cabinet was reported split today over a proposal to include a school integration plank in the administration's forthcoming civil rights bill.

Informed sources said Attorney General William P. Rogers was pressing the proposal with the help of cabinet "Liberals," while "Old Guard" elements lined up against him.

Rogers plan was said to permit the Justice Department to bring lawsuits to end school segregation in cases where a wholesale flaunting of the rights of Negro students was shown.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson has introduced a four-point civil rights bill in the Senate. But Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) said today he and Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) would propose a more far-reaching civil rights measure next week.

The Republican version is expected shortly.

Opponents of Rogers' plan argue that the rest of the administration's overall legislative program might founder if Congress became embroiled in a bitter battle over civil rights.

Southerners bitterly oppose civil rights legislation, but it was considered probable they would accept Johnson's relatively moderate approach with only token resistance.

President Eisenhower's position on civil rights legislation is not clear at this time. He urged only last week that voting rights should be guaranteed, but said caution should be exercised on any legislation dealing directly with school integration.

Job Done, Atlas Dies Fiery Death

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's Atlas talking satellite is dead.

The Defense Department said the 4½-ton Atlas with its 150 pounds of instruments probably plunged back into the atmosphere and burned up over the Pacific sometime before 10 a.m. yesterday after circling the earth more than 500 times.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory at Cambridge, Mass., said a fiery object was seen in the skies at 9:08 a.m. by the U.S. Naval Base at Guam and by the cruiser Rochester halfway between Hawaii and Japan.

When the Atlas, the heaviest satellite ever launched, was blasted into orbit from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Dec. 18, scientists predicted it would stay aloft 20 days. It actually circled the globe 35 days.

Detroit Firm Accused by FTC

Discrimination in Prices on Appliances Laid to American Motors

WASHINGTON (UP) — American Motors Corp., Detroit, today was charged with giving some retail customers an illegal price advantage over their competitors in the electrical appliance field.

The Federal Trade Commission complaint also named American Motors' subsidiary, American Motors Sales Corp., which sells the company's Kelvinator and Leonard lines of appliances from zone offices across the country.

FTC said some retailers were charged about 5 per cent less than other retail customers of American Motors. The price preference went to B. F. Goodrich Co., Akron; Consumers Power Co., Jackson, Michigan., and Alabama Power Co., Birmingham, the complaint stated.

Holding that the effect of the price discrimination was to reduce competition between the favored and nonfavored retailers, FTC directed the company to be represented at a hearing March 17 in Detroit.

For Men of Distinction

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The County Board of Supervisors voted yesterday to use restraint in issuing scrolls to distinguished citizens after Supervisor Burton Chance explained that "it's becoming more of an honor not to have received one."

Life Sentence Imposed for Holdup-Murder

DETROIT (UP)—Robert W. Jones, 32, was sentenced Wednesday to life imprisonment for first-degree murder in the Sept. 20 holdup-slaying of Fred Dunn, 47, Detroit wholesaler grocer.

Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Groat in passing sentence described Jones as a "wanton and vicious killer with utter disregard for human beings."

Police to Get Helmets

RICHMOND, Va. (UP)— Virgina state police are being equipped with military-type steel helmets and riot sticks. Col. C. W. Woodson, superintendent, says it is the result of a periodic check of equipment which may be desired.

Disappearance Is Taken for Granted in Village

KVENANGEN, Norway (UPI)—Village Council Chairman Hedley Kristiansen has disappeared without a trace, but no one is worried.

Kristiansen, 60, disappeared for three months last year. That time he turned up in Curacao in the Merchant Marine. Friends think he went to Paris this time. He always comes home.

The Columbia river, a natural boundary between Washington and Oregon, carries more water by volume than all of the other Pacific coast rivers in the U.S. combined.

Boy Finds Call to Police Can't Solve Everything

CHELMSFORD, England (UPI)—Six-year-old Keith Syrett's mother told him he should call the police whenever he needed help.

Keith dialed the emergency police number yesterday and explained that he had just gotten a bad mark on some schoolwork.

"The matter was out of our jurisdiction," an officer explained.

New Hampshire Manual Holds a Big Surprise

CONCORD, N. H. (UP) — The United States' two living ex-presidents will be mighty surprised if they take a look at the latest New Hampshire legislative manual.

Herbert Hoover is listed as a Democrat and Harry S. Truman as a Republican.

Measure Extinguished

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—A bill was introduced in the New York State Legislature this year to require all fire department vehicles in New York City to carry fire extinguishers, but the measure failed to pass.

Not Even a Cold War

LIVERMORE FALLS, Maine — (UPI)—Ernest Mollicone, 55, almost dropped his pipe when he saw who had joined his two kittens in eating catfood out of a dish on his porch. It was a gray mouse.

Epidemic Hits Family—Rush Appendectomies

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—In a period of three months, Sharon McWilliams, 10, her sister, Diana, 11, and brother, Alan, 8, each had to be hustled to a hospital for an emergency appendectomy.

The Roy O. McWilliams family has no explanation for the once-a-month surgery since none of the children had any previous history of appendicitis.

Ike's Choice for Cuba Post

Dictators Don't Frighten Him

spanning two decades, Bonsal has held posts at the State Department, in Madrid, Paris, Geneva, and with the U.S. delegation to the United Nations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Philip Bonsal, nominated today as ambassador to Cuba, is a tall, thin career diplomat with a quick smile, a steel-trap mind and a knack for getting along with people who like democracy.

Bonsal once found himself in a row with Colombia's longtime dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla. The dictator picked the fight.

What stirred Rojas Pinilla's wrath was Bonsal's attendance at a dinner of persons opposed to the dictatorship. Some of the things said at the dinner angered the dictator.

Some Colombians say Rojas Pinilla's quarrel with Bonsal may have been an important factor in the dictator's overthrow in May 1957. About a month earlier, the State Department pointedly had withdrawn Bonsal from Bogota, perhaps to show Rojas Pinilla it upheld Bonsal's conduct.

In any event, Bonsal — a diplomat since 1928 — went on to new diplomatic successes as ambassador to Bolivia where he currently is stationed.

Rojas Pinilla now is awaiting trial in Colombia on charges of misconduct while president of that country.

If confirmed, the 55-year-old Bonsal will step into a ticklish situation that may require all his diplomatic resourcefulness.

U.S. relations with the revolutionary Cuban government of Fidel Castro are on the touchy side because of heavy criticism in the U.S. Congress and press of summary executions of followers of the ousted Batista regime.

President Eisenhower picked Bonsal to succeed Earl E. T. Smith, who resigned as ambassador to Havana on Jan. 10. The Castro government didn't like Smith, contending he had been sympathetic with the Batista government. The State Department disputed that.

State Department officials obviously have confidence Bonsal can handle the difficult job of repairing U.S.-Cuban relations. They have wanted his kind of ambassador there all along — a career man who knows his way around.

At the department, officials and stenographers alike refer to Bonsal as "a real nice guy."

In assuming the Havana post Bonsal would be returning to the site of his first job in the U.S. diplomatic service. He went to the Cuban capital in April 1938 as a vice consul.

Before that, he served in Cuba, Spain and Chile from 1926-1935 as an executive for subsidiaries of the International Telephone and Telegraph Co. The following two years he worked for the Federal Communications Commission.

During his diplomatic career Born on May 22, 1903, in New York City, Bonsal married Margaret Lockett of Knoxville, Tenn., after studying in the Philippines and Switzerland, and was awarded a Pulitzer prize.

No Hope for Boy, 3, in Ozark Mountains

LEBANON, Mo. (AP)—Authorities have given up hope of finding Willard Jones Jr. 3, alive.

The boy has been lost in this Ozark Mountain area since Saturday. Searchers, numbering some 5,000 at one time, haven't found a trace of him.

Temperatures in the area have been freezing or below since he wandered away from his farm home 10 miles south of Lebanon. Snow blanketed the area Tuesday night.

Iron is said to comprise about four per cent of the earth's crust.

Messy Starlings Invade Oregon, Plague People

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Parts of Oregon are plagued by an invasion of starlings.

R. M. Bodley, whose Portland holly orchard was ruined, said the birds literally blot out the sun.

He said their droppings fall like torrential rain on his greenhouse —and on unwary pedestrians for half a block around.

Knowing residents, he said, park their cars elsewhere.

Bodley said the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service showed an interest in his problem, but hadn't solved it yet.

Rackets Committee Retains Its Authority

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rackets investigating committee got continued authority Wednesday to look at income tax returns and other confidential government documents.

President Eisenhower signed an order extending for two years a previous authorization that was expiring.

Besides income tax returns, the authority covers documents dealing with excess profits, capital stock, estates and gifts.

Library Card Reveals Likely Key to Success

ATLANTA (AP) — When the Southern Bell Telephone Co. recently cleaned out its library, one of the books discarded was a 925-page tome entitled "The American Technical Society Telephony."

The library card in the back showed it had been taken out just once, 27 years ago by a young college trainee named Ben S. Gilmer.

Gilmer now is president of Southern Bell.

Most of the silver dollars now in circulation were minted between 1921 and 1927. The minting of silver dollars was suspended in 1945, making the coins something of a curiosity.

Attack by Sub Would Be Deadly

Could Spread Germs on Coast City

By ROGER GREENE

WASHINGTON (AP)—An enemy submarine, masked by fog or darkness a few miles offshore, could blanket almost any American coastal city with deadly germs spreading over thousands of square miles.

Fantastic? It already has been done—by U.S. Navy ships using harmless materials.

Dr. LeRoy D. Fothergill, scientific adviser at the Army's Germ Warfare Research Center at Ft. Detrick, Md., recently gave the American Medical Assn. an inkling of what might happen.

Fothergill said a U.S. Navy craft, traveling two miles offshore in moderate fog, sent up a spray of biological aerosol containing a nonpoisonous organism. The mock attack lasted 29 minutes, using 130 gallons of spray. The germs were detected as far as 23 miles away and covered 100 square miles.

Later, a ship cruising 10 miles offshore disseminated 450 rounds of an inert substance along a 156-mile course. The wind-borne substance was detected 450 miles inland. It blanketed a region covering 34,000 square miles.

What is being done to cope with the possibility of such an enemy attack, using live germs or deadly chemical gas? The Defense Department is wary about answering such questions.

The Army announced several years ago it had developed an aerosoloscope to give instant warning of a germ warfare attack. The device can count germs, dust and moisture particles as small as a micron—one forty-millionth of an inch—1,000 times faster than a microscope.

The Army Chemical Corps has developed an infrared device—known as "Lopair" (long-path infrared)—which flashes a warning light and sounds a horn upon detecting even a tiny amount of colorless, invisible contamination in the air. It has a range of a quarter mile.

This question was submitted to the Pentagon: "How many automatic nerve-gas detecting devices are now in use? Where?"

After 25 days of deliberation, the Pentagon came up with this answer: "Many of these automatic devices are in use throughout the Department of Defense. The exact number of locations of the devices is classified (secret)."

Less hidebound by secrecy, the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization says that by 1967 it expects to have 1½ million monitors trained to defend against chemical, biological and radiological warfare.

Leo A. Hoegh, OCDM chief, says the agency this year has installed radiation detection kits—modified geiger counters—in 15,000 high schools and 900 weather stations and airports from coast to coast.

In addition, 3,471 Public Health Service employes and 3,045 others have been trained to guard against animal and crop contamination.

So far, so good, but—

The OCDM admits that if an enemy should strike today with germ or chemical warfare, the American public would be unable to buy or obtain either gas masks or antigas protective clothing.

The agency has stockpiled 5½ million doses of atropine, with the kits costing $1.55 for a four-dose package including hypodermic needle.

Maj. Gen. William M. Creasy (ret.), former Army Chemical Corps chief told a House subcommittee:

"If you get there fast enough, you can save the man's life with atropine, if he doesn't have too much of a massive overdose. It is a matter of getting there awfully fast, though."

How fast?

"Thirty seconds," said Cready.

Night Courses Set to Open in Waterford

An extensive adult education program will begin Tuesday evening at Waterford Township High School, Byron Merritt, director, announced.

Courses offered will include beginning and advanced typing, office practice, beginning and advanced bookkeeping, mathematics, painting, ceramics, photography, woodworking and sewing.

Registrations will be accepted at the opening class session, Merritt said. A $6 fee for each course will be payable at this time.

About 325 persons participated in the program last year, Merritt said. This is the fifth year it is being offered.

Watchdog So Faithful Firemen Can't Enter

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—This watchdog almost did too good a job. Firemen who answered a call at a residence here not only found a stubborn blaze awaiting them but a stubborn Doberman Pinscher.

They had to fight a bedroom fire through a window until a neighbor was able to call the dog away from where he was barring firemen from entering.

Arkansas Lad Expects to Fight Yankee Cousin

DELIGHT, Ark. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Witt told their seven-year-old son John that a young cousin from New Jersey, whom he had never seen, was coming for a visit.

Pasternak May Consider Lecture Tour of U. S.

LONDON (AP) — Boris Pasternak, the Russian author called a traitor by Soviet authorities after winning the Nobel Prize for Literature, reportedly is willing now to make a six-week lecture tour of the United States and Britain.

Jose Vilallonga, noted Spanish author, and Prof. Philip Hallie of Vanderbilt University are seeking to arrange the tour.

Vilallonga, who lives in Paris, said Wednesday night he had assurances "through diplomatic channels that Pasternak would be willing to come."

The Soviet government warned Pasternak last November that if he left the Soviet Union to accept the Nobel prize, he would not be allowed to return. The 69-year-old writer renounced the prize and said he could not "imagine my fate apart from Russia and outside her. . . . To go beyond the frontier of my motherland is to me equal to death."

Vilallonga said he, his British wife, and Hallie had applied for visas to visit Moscow to discuss the projected tour with Pasternak. Hallie is a Russian-speaking professor of philosophy at Vanderbilt in Nashville, Tenn., now doing research in London.

Vilallonga pointed out that the Soviet government was willing last fall to let Pasternak go abroad. He did not indicate, however, whether he knew of any change in the Kremlin's attitude toward his return.

Pasternak was designated last October for the Nobel prize primarily because of his novel "Doctor Zhivago," which paints a grim picture of Russian life under communism. The Kremlin retaliated by unleashing severe criticism of the writer and his novel, which has been published in 13 languages abroad but is banned in the Soviet Union.

Phillips Fired After Storm of Protest Over Coldwater

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) has fired Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) as chairman of a house committee which investigated Michigan's mental hospital system.

Pears gave Phillips the air yesterday after a delegation of Coldwater citizens complained about the committee's methods in investigating the death of two men patients at Coldwater State Home and Training School.

Phillips' seven-man committee actually went out of business Dec. 31, but he has drafted a resolution calling for its revival.

Meanwhile, Gov. Williams appointed a "Blue Ribbon" citizens committee of eight to review treatment and administrative practices in the mental hospital system.

The governor said an impartial citizen probe was needed to restore confidence in care given the mentally ill, shaken by the Coldwater investigations and another at Traverse City State Hospital.

To head the group, the governor appointed Dr. Robert J. Mowitz, Wayne State University professor and an authority on health and hospital administration.

Pears, who appoints members of all house committees, listened for half an hour yesterday while the Coldwater group listed their protests against Phillips' investigating procedures. They were armed with letters from civic groups, city officials and individuals in the Coldwater area and in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, all backing the institution's administrators and employes.

"They represent a true community expression," said Coldwater Alderman Dale A. Dean, chairman of the 12-member delegation.

Pears said he thought the dispute stemmed "more from a clash of personalities than anything else." He said he spoke from five years experience as a former state welfare agent in Berrien County.

Questioned by newsmen afterward, he said:

"House members may very well vote in favor of the (Phillips) resolution. But in view of the unfavorable light cast upon the investigation at Coldwater, I don't intend to reappoint the committee chairman or members."

Phillips, told of the situation, said:

"Whether I am renamed or not doesn't matter. The important thing is to keep the committee going. I think we accomplished a great deal, not only at Coldwater, but at other mental institutions we visited."

Talking to Pears, Arthur G. Lyon president of the Branch County Bar Assn., complained Phillips had "maligned and misrepresented the community" in charging brutality and patients abuses.

The Rev. Keith Avery, Methodist minister, said the investigators "made a quick jab at the thing and then ran away."

Carl Vinton, Coldwater contractor, said they served as "judge, prosecutor and jury." He pointed out that later investigations by State Police, the Mental Health Commission and other uncovered no evidence of criminal acts.

Police Break Up Stolen Tire Ring

5 Are Held, Expect to Apprehend 20 More in Thefts of $750,000

DETROIT (AP) — Police have cracked a stolen tire ring that they say netted $750,000 between last July and December.

Five men were arrested yesterday on charges of conspiracy to commit larceny and dispose of stolen goods. Assistant Prosecutor John W. Coury said at least 20 more arrests are expected.

Coury said the tires were stolen from the Great Lakes Sugar and Warehousing Co. of Detroit. Four of the men worked for the company. Police said the fifth man sold the tires in a Dearborn service station he operates.

Arrested were James Thomas, 30, William F. Stone, 37, and James Revoir, 30, all of Detroit; Elliott L. Sullivan, 36, of Dearborn; and Harry R. Fowler, 26, Hazel Park.

The five were arraigned in recorder's court. Pleas of innocent were entered for all after they stood mute and waived examination. Judge W. McKay Skillman released them on $500 bond each.

Coury said Detroit police first were tipped on the ring's activities by the FBI, which learned of tire thefts while on another investigation.

Life Expectancy Tables Issued

Some Gains Shown in Insurance Firms' First New Chart Since 1941

NEW YORK (AP)—If you are 50, you'll live to 73; if you're 40 you'll make it to 72; your infant child should live to 68.

That's what insurance companies find a new mortality table, the first in 18 years.

In those 18 years Americans have gained a few years of life. The life expectancy of the 50 year old went up 2 years, of the 40 year old 3 years, and of the infant 6 years.

Nearly 100 years ago the average life expectancy of infants was only 41, 94 27 years less than now.

The table, based on figures supplied by 15 large insurance companies for 1950-54, replaces one drawn up in 1941 and covering the previous 10 years.

Women have an edge on men, living as much as three years longer, an adjunct to the table shows.

	1868	1941	1958
Birth	41.5	62.3	68.3
10	48.7	55.5	59.6
20	42.2	46.5	50.4
30	35.3	37.7	41.3
40	28.2	29.3	32.2
50	20.9	21.4	23.6
60	14.1	14.5	16.1
70	8.5	9.0	10.1
80	4.4	5.1	5.9

Girl Scout Plunges Into Creek to Save 2

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Girl Scout Diane Ailer of suburban Affton has done her good deed and it should take care of some days to come.

Diane, 12, dived into the frigid waters of a creek and saved her younger sister, Cynthia, and a seven-year-old neighbor, Russell Berryman. The two plunged into the water when ice gave way while they were riding on a sled. Neither Cynthia nor Russell can swim.

Proportion of U.S. residents over age 65 has more than doubled since 1900 and amounts to about 10 per cent of the total population.

Church Bells Annoying Sensitive Army Men

BICESTER, England (UPI) — Brigadier Bernard Lambert has supported one of his oficers, Charles Gash, in a complaint to the local vicar about the church bells here.

Gash said the bells, located 50 yardds from his army quarters, rang on one occasion for seven hours straight.

"Enough to send anyone crackers," remarked Lambert.

The 3,000 miles of unguarded border between the U. S. and Canada are something that no two nations have ever enjoyed before, says the Stanstead, Quebec, Journal. The Journal assigns such peaceful results to "mutual understanding and trust."

Economy Grows as Budget Rises

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower's federal spending budget for the coming fiscal year is almost twice as big as the federal budget of 10 years ago.

That's if you measure spending strictly in terms of dollars.

But if you view federal spending as a proportion of the nation's total output of goods and services, the new budget is approximately the same size as the fiscal 1950 budget.

The explanation of this apparent paradox is that the U. S. economy has been growing at roughly the same rate as the budget.

In fiscal 1950, the gross national product was $263,800,000,000. The $39,617,000,000 spent by the federal government that year was a 15 per cent slice of the total pie.

The new budget calls for a federal outlay of $77,030,000,000 in the 1960 fiscal year which begins next July 1. If the national economy continues its recovery at the expected rate, the gross national product during fiscal 1960 will be in the neighborhood of $490,000,000,000. The projected budget constitutes 15.8 per cent of that total.

The growth rates of the budget and the economy have not been precisely uniform over the past 10 years, of course. At the midpoint—in fiscal 1955—the budget was $64,570,000,000 and the gross national product was $377,000,000,000. Uncle Sam's share of the pie that year was 17 per cent.

Another way of measuring the size of the federal budget is in relation to the U. S. population, which also has been growing.

On Jan. 1, 1950—the middle of the 1950 fiscal year—the population was 150,400,000. Federal spending for that year figured out to $264 per capita.

On Jan. 1, 1955, the population was 163,800,000. Dividing that into federal spending gives a per capita figure of $387.

The Census Bureau projects a population of 179,000,000 by next Jan. 1, midway in the 1960 fiscal year. On the basis of the President's new budget, federal spending will amount to $497 per capita.

Again, however, these figures tell only part of the story. Per capita income figures also have risen markedly in the same period—from $1,421 in fiscal 1950 to $1,694 in fiscal 1955 to an estimated level of around $1,800 in fiscal 1960.

There is still a third way of measuring government spending. It is used by economists to determine how big a share of the national output is being consumed by governments at all levels—federal, state and local.

This method is highly complicated in its arithmetic, but essentially it involves comparing actual government purchases of goods and services with the total national output of goods and services.

The following paragraphs give this comparison on a calendar year basis.

In 1958, governments at all levels purchased $91,200,000,000 worth of goods and services, or 21 per cent of the nation's gross product.

In 1955, government consumption of goods and services was $75,600,000,000, or 19 per cent.

In 1950, it was $59,000,000,000, or 13.7 per cent.

In 1944, the year of peak spending in World War II, government purchases absorbed 45 per cent of the gross national product.

But in prewar 1939, the figure was about the same as 1950—14 per cent.

Way, way back in 1929, government purchases totaled $8,400,000,000, which was 8 per cent of the national output.

Yemen, a tiny nation on the southwest border of Saudi Arabia, has skyscrapers although the buildings are only a few stories high. But, each building is atop mountain ridges about two miles high.

Education Day Planned by Nursing Schools

"Practical Nurse Education Day" is being held in Detroit today at the Shapero School of Nursing.

The program is being sponsored by the McCauley School of Practical Nursing in Pontiac, St. Joseph Hospital School of Practical Nursing in Mount Clemens, the Detroit Practical Nursing Center and the Shapero School of Nursing.

Group meetings on medical-surgical nursing, obstetrical nursing, pediatric nursing and long-term illness will be included in the discussion.

Two Crawl to Safety

DETROIT (UP)—Mrs. Betty Parker, 36, and her son, Alexander, 7, crawled to safety Wednesday seconds after an explosion flattened their home in St. Clair Shores. The blast, believed caused by gas, tore the roof off the one-story cinder block home. Mrs. Parker and her son suffered minor burns.

Election Law Threatening Dem Candidates in County

A new election law is being put to the test in Oakland County much to the dismay of some Democratic township candidates who find themselves out of the spring election.

The law, passed after the spring 1957 election, requires a political party not on the last preceding township election ballot or which failed to get two per cent of the vote for supervisor to file petitions with the township clerk in order to qualify.

Affected by the law are five Democratic hopefuls in Lyon Township who have been ruled off the Feb. 16 ballot by County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr.

Murphy, a Republican, yesterday answered a letter from Democratic precinct delegate and candidate for clerk, Daniel F. Foley Jr., of New Hudson, in which Murphy said the new law would be complied with.

Besides, Murphy said in his letter, the Democratic Party, which was not on the ballot two years ago in Addison, Holly, and Milford Townships, was cognizant of the law and complied with it to qualify this year.

Foley said in his letter to Murphy that the law "stinks" and should be changed.

It now requires new parties to file petitions with the township clerk 49 days prior to the election containing signatures of not less than two per cent of the total voter registration at the last November election.

Or if a member of this party received not less than two per cent of the total vote cast for the office of supervisor in that township at the last election, the party can gain a spot on the ballot, the law says.

Some Democratic candidates in Groveland Township, where no Democrats ran in 1957, are checking to see if they are eligible for the Feb. 16 ballot, Murphy said.

"This is not politics," he emphasized, "but merely strict compliance with the law passed by the Legislature."

At the same time, Murphy announced that Brandon, Groveland, Highland, Lyon, Oakland, Rose and Southfield Townships will not require primary balloting for township offices as there are no contests. Oakland and Rose Townships will hold caucuses.

Love for Fellow Man Is No. 1 Business Asset

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The more you like your fellow man the easier it is for you to hold your job. The biggest single reason for dismissals in the business world is this: "He couldn't get along with other people."

If you're looking for the perfect weekend guest for your country place, don't overlook Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He tells friends that washing dishes on vacation is his idea of "sheer recreation."

Speaking of vacations, someone overheard this remark: "The major trouble with this world is that the average woman wants a little more out of life than the average man can afford."

We brag about our cleanliness, but it is estimated there are still 8,500,000 U.S. homes without private bath or shower.

Remember when nearly every city man dreamed of retiring to the country and making an independent living off five acres? It's more of a nightmare today. The cost of farm land has risen 50 per cent since 1950—and in some areas it has tripled in the last 15 years.

While in Hollywood, says Lisa Kirk, she overheard a 10-year-old boy tell his girl friend: "I really love you. When we grow up, I want you to be my first wife!"

Today's Texas joke: Robert Q. Lewis tells of the Texan whose car went out of control, and he hit a dozen other autos before he could stop. Luckily, it happened in his own garage.

At Walled Lake Senior High School

Accelerated Math Course Being Offered

By ELEANOR G. DUCKWITZ

WALLED LAKE—Those critics of schools who complain that the gifted child is neglected haven't taken a close look at the courses offered in the Walled Lake Senior High School.

With the beginning of the second semester, the third accelerated course is being added for sophomores. It is in the field of mathematics. Others are in English and biology.

Prior to a decision to offer the accelerated math course all teachers of plane geometry surveyed the eight sections in the school to determine which students, who were doing well in the subject, planned to pursue math during the balance of their high school courses. From records of tests revealing aptitudes, and from previous grades a list of students who might profit from an accelerated course was selected.

These students were individually interviewed concerning the proposed course and their feelings toward it.

Parents were also informed of its aims and asked to give their permission to have their children enrolled if they considered the course desirable. As a result approximately 30 students will begin the special course next week.

According to V. M. Makowsky, who will teach the course, plans call for finishing plane geometry as rapidly as possible, then introducing solid and some analytical geometry during the balance of the semester.

Under no circumstances, however, will the plane geometry phase of study be slighted, Makowsky said. "All work must be done well and with complete understanding as the result."

In their junior year the group will cover algebra II and some college algebra, while as seniors they will study trigonometry and get an introduction to calculus, according to the plan.

Makowsky holds a B.A. degree with majors in math and science from Hope College and an M.A. from the University of Michigan. Last summer he was the recipient of an Alfred E. Sloan Foundation Fellowship at the University of Michigan where he did advanced research in chemistry.

He has been a member of the Walled Lake faculty since 1952, having previously taught in Brethren.

The decision to offer the course imposed upon E. V. Ayres, principal and Oliver Rose, assistant, involved some scheduling problems since it will be offered only one hour of the six in the school day.

The difficulties arose because some of the students enrolling are already members of the accelerated English course which has 90 sophomores; others are in the advanced biology section, while additional ones are in such courses as band or French which are given only one hour daily.

However, Ayres and Rose are confident suitable adjustments can be made.

Oxford High School Dedication Is Sunday

OXFORD — The new $872,000 Oxford Area Community High School will be dedicated at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in ceremonies to be held in the school auditorium.

The announcement was made today by High School Principal H. B. Johnson, who is chairman of the dedication program.

Principal speaker of the afternoon will be Edgar L. Grim, deputy superintendent of the State Department of Public Instruction.

The program will open with "The Star-Spangled Banner," to be played by the high school band led by Gordon Mathie, band director.

Following the invocation, to be given by the Rev. Fred Clark of the Oxford Methodist Church, the band will be featured again playing the show tune "Oklahoma."

Next on the program will be the dedication address entitled "New Goals," to be delivered by R. A. Ambrose, superintendent of schools.

The official presentation of this modern, new high school building to the district will be made by Harry Harman of the architectural firm of Wyeth and Harman, Inc., Port Huron. The building will be accepted by Carl Buechler, president of the Oxford Board of Education.

The senior group from the high school choir will sing "The Builder's Creed," led by Mrs. Dorothy Jean Valentine, director of vocal music at the high school.

The bond issue for one and a half million dollars which covered the cost of building and equipping the new high school plus construction of needed elementary school units in the district was passed Mar. 15, 1957.

Construction of the high school was started Nov. 10, 1957 and was completed Dec. 1, 1958.

Architectural drawings and photographs of the new high school have been accepted by a panel of judges for exhibition at the Assn. of School Administrators' convention in Atlantic City next month.

Southfield Xway Proposal Gains Tentative OK

SOUTHFIELD — Tentative approval of a master thoroughfare plan for Southfield has been given by the city council, City Clerk Patrick Flannery announced yesterday.

The plan drawn up by Albe Munson, calls for major expressways through Northwestern Highway, 14 Mile road and part of Southfield road.

A proposed 150-foot boulevard starting at 9-Mile road onto Evergreen road, then to 12-Mile road and onto Beech road will form a square around the middle of the 26-square mile city. It would have two traffic lanes with a parkway in the center.

Flannery said the 14 Mile expressway is Southfield's alternate plan to the state's proposed east west expressway at 11½ Mile road which the city does not favor. Southfield road would be an expressway from 8 Mile to 9 Mile road.

The proposed boulevard is intended to serve as a buffer against any expressways cutting into the residential section of the city.

A public hearing will be held by the planning commission before the plan is adopted.

The three men will serve a six-month probationary period and will receive a salary of $4,880 per year.

Prank Sets off Phone Threats, Judge Gets Tough

School Bomb Starts Fireworks

HUNTINGTON, W.Va., (AP) — How can a comumnity best cope with the near-hysteria that can accompany a rash of school bombings — real or threatened?

This Ohio Valley city of some 90,000 tangled with that problem firsthand last week.

A homemade bomb, the handiwork of three ninth grade pranksters, exploded in a rest room at their school, Beverly Hills Junior High.

The bomb was a potent mixture of potassium nitrate and powdered sugar. The explosive could have injured anyone in the room. No one was. It blew a paper towel container off the wall, having more smoke than firepower.

That was last Tuesday. Classes just about to begin, went on as scheduled. Racial integration, running smoothly in other Cabell County schools, was not involved. No Negroes live in the Beverly Hills district.

The incident might have been written off — calmly but sternly. However, while police were rounding up the culprits, others got into the act.

Two days later, in early morning, an anonymous telephone caller told a janitor at the high school in nearby Milton that two bombs had been planted in the building. The janitor said the caller appeared to be a boy trying to sound like a man. Classes were dismissed for the day. No bomb was found.

At the noon hour that same day, a man called the principal at Huntington East High School and said, "A bomb is going off right now — we're not fooling." None did. A search produced nothing. Classes continued.

County School Supt. Olin G. Nutter said lost classroom time probably would have to be made up by shortening the Easter holiday or extendmg the term next May.

Meanwhile, two of the Beverly Hills trio, arrested first, were arraigned before Juvenile Court Judge W. W. Roberts.

The judge took two unusual steps: He issued an order to make public the names of the accused juveniles, 14 and 15 years old; and he set their bonds at $10,000, abnormally high. He overruled an attorney's motion to reduce bail.

"The law will be enforced to the fullest," the judge said. ". . . No juvenile wil be permitted to upset the general order of the community . . ."

"The Huntington Herald-Dispatch and The Advertiser, which had editorially found the bombing "not very funny" and called for quick, stern, exemplary punishment, sought to temper the reaction.

"This is no time for unthinking public hysteria," the Herald-Dispatch said. ". . . Public opinion . . . could well go beyond the bounds of reason."

The Advertiser said:

"These boys (the Beverly Hills trio) have made a serious mistake but they are not monsters . . . let's all keep our heads."

Next day, with the arrest of the third boy and the release of the trio pending a Jan. 28 hearing, city detectives marked the case "solved."

There have been no "scare" calls since.

Girl's Fine Suspended

DENVER (AP)—The lowest fine on record at the Denver police court was levied by Judge William H. Burnett—50 cents against a barmaid accused of serving liquor to a minor. Burnett then suspended the fine when told it was the girl's first day on the job.

Degree With Trimming

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Richard Auerbach will graduate from Ohio State University here with all the trimmings. Or rather, because of all the trimmings. He paid for his college education by working as a cake decorator at a local restaurant.

Advice on Social Security

Some Retirement Pay Taxed

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three columns on the federal income tax breaks given to people who've reached 65.)

The income you receive in retirement after you reach 65 is treated in a variety of ways under the federal income tax law. Some is taxable. Some is tax free. It depends on the type of retirement payments you're getting.

There are four rules which complete the picture. You should keep them in mind when you file your income tax return between now and April 15.

Rule 1—If you received Social Security, railroad retirement or veteran's pension or compensation in 1958, you don't have to pay any tax on them. They're tax free and you don't even have to enter them on your tax return.

Rule 2—If your 1958 income—excluding the government payments above—from private pensions, Civil Service retirement or other sources was less than $1,200, you don't have to pay any federal income tax or file a return.

(A man and wife who've both reached 65 and had a combined income of less than $2,400 in 1958 don't have to pay any tax. But, if either had an income of more than $1,200, a return must be filed.)

Rule 3—If you received income from a private annuity or pension—such as a company pension—you have to report the entire amount as income if you didn't contribute to the fund from which the pension or annuity was paid.

Rule 4—If you received a private pension or annuity based on contributions made by both you and your employer, part of the payment is taxable and part isn't.

There are two rules on this:

The first rules applies to a pension or annuity from which you'll receive in payments, within three years after you retired, an amount equal to what you contributed.

Under this rule, none of the payments you receive are taxable—thus, you don't have to report them on your tax return—until you've been paid an amount equal to what you put into the pension or annuity. After that, you must report the payments on your return and pay any required tax on them.

For example: Suppose you're now getting a pension from your company of $125 and your total contributions while you worked were $3,000. At the $125 a month rate, you'll receive a total of $4,560 in payments during the first three years of retirement. The first $3,000 — your contributions—of this total is tax free. But, any money you receive after that is taxable.

This rule usually applies to persons who retire and receive federal Civil Service retirement payments.

The second rules applies to a pension or annuity from which you'll not receive in payments during the first three years of retirement an amount equal to what you've contributed to the pension or annuity.

Under this rule, as long as you receive payments, parts of each year's payments will be taxable and part won't. The way in which the tax is figured depends on such things as your life expectancy, total expected payments, etc.

If your payments are covered by this rule, you should consult the nearest Internal Revenue Service office.

Give Son's Bride Your Love—Abby

Even This Mixed-Up Romance Could Have a Happy Ending

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: You've got to help us before we lose our minds. Our son told us that he's getting married next Sunday in the Parson's study to a girl we've never met. She lives out of town where he was stationed with the Army. We asked him what the rush was and just as we suspected she is having a baby, but, Abby, the baby is not HIS. He said she was in that condition when he met her but he loves her and wants to marry her anyway.

ABBY

"His father is still in bed with a fever. She's coming in town with her older sister (she has no parents) and we want to know how to treat her? Our boy is 23, college educated, self supporting and clean-cut. He says she is refined, honest and the "nicest" girl he has ever known. Does this make sense?" ABOUT CRAZY

DEAR ABOUT: Many "nice" girls get into trouble. Your son must love her very much to marry her under the circumstances. Treat her like a human being, which is what she is. Even this story could have a happy ending. Good luck!

"DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary to a wonderful man who is very successful in business but he never got through the fifth grade. When he dictates a letter to me he says, "I seen" and "you was" and naturally I am not going to send a business letter out with these glaring errors, so I correct them.

"When he asks me to read it back to him, and he notices I have corrected his grammar, he gets very resentful. Should I send his letters out just as he dictates them or should I continue to correct his errors?"

A-1 SECRETARY

DEAR A-1: Quietly (and tactfully) make the necessary corrections.

"DEAR ABBY: When engaged couples are invited out and are in the presence of strangers, is it wrong for them to kiss and hug with amorous embraces. I am 29 and my sweetheart is 22. We went to a housewarming party and were sitting on the porch. We were told later by our parents that our behavior was disgraceful. I told them we act that way because we are in love. Were we wrong? I don't think so."

DEAR WILLIAM: Even when kisses are sweeter than wine, it is poor judgment to taste them in the presence of others.

"DEAR ABBY: I would like you to settle an argument that's been going on between me and my husband for as long as I can remember. My home state is Tennessee and my mother is buried there. We don't live in that state anymore but when I die I want to be buried next to my mother in Tennessee. My husband wants me to be buried near him right here. I say if he wants to be buried near me he should give in and get buried in Tennessee near me and my mother. He says it is my duty to get buried next to him. Who is right?" MRS. B. G.

DEAR MRS. B. G.: The cord between you and your mother was severed years ago. Your husband is your "family" now. If he wants you near him in the next life, feel flattered and agree to his wishes.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SHADY LADY:" Shake a limb and turn over a new leaf.

Mother Can Pay Sitter Fee

By EMILY POST

"When mother has guests in for cards, which is often, and one of them can't get a baby sitter for her children, mother usually says, 'I'll ask Jane to go over and sit with them.' I don't mind doing this, but mother thinks that I should not accept any payment for this because the people I'm sitting for are not only her guests but personal friends as well.

"I don't see that this has anything to do with it. I think I should be allowed to accept money if offered to me. What is your opinion?"

Answer: Your mother is right, but I do think that if this baby sitting becomes onerous to you she herself might give you some compensation.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and will have a rather large reception in a private room of one of the big hotels in this city. As the guests will be wearing heavy wraps at this season of the year I wondered what to do about checking them. There will, of course, be a checking place, but are we supposed to pay for this, or do the guests take care of this themselves?"

Answer: You make an arrangement with the hat check personnel to pay them for their services and have them refuse any tips that may be offered them by your guests.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Friends of ours sometimes bring to our house friends of theirs whom we met on only one occasion some years ago. Who should introduce their friends to other people present whom our friends know as well as we do?"

Answer: The visitor who has brought in his own friends should introduce them to those whom he knows. The reason for this is that nothing could be more awkward than for a hostess not to know the name of somebody in her house.

Columbia Physicist Is Nobel Prize Winner

Chinese Mother a Real Brain

NEW YORK (UPI)—To one Chinese mother a complicated calculus formula is easier to read than a recipe.

Dr. Chien-shiung Wu's laboratory is a jumble of wires electric tubes, machines and flashing lights. Signs warn, "Danger Radioactive Materials."

To the uninitiated, it resembles a room full of giant adding machines and TV sets turned inside out. But to Dr. Wu, it's "much nicer than a kitchen."

WINS AWARD

As a professor at Columbia University, she teaches and does research in nuclear physics. A pioneer in the field, Dr. Wu this week won the 1958 Research Corporation annual award for her part in disproving the law of parity conservation. She is the first woman among 23 recipients to get the award.

The law of parity she explained, stated that objects which are mirror images of each other must behave the same way. But scientists found that some behavior of atomic particles did not follow the law.

Then two fellow physicists, Dr. Tsung Dao Lee of Columbia and Dr. Chen Ning Yang of the Institute of Advanced Study at Princeton, decided the law was wrong. Dr. Wu conducted an experiment which proved their theory, and the two men won a Nobel prize in 1957.

That method was not working backward, Dr. Wu said. In the Chinese tradition, scientists make a bold assumption, then make a painstaking proof.

The shy modest physicist began her scientific studies as a child in her native China. The daughter of a school principal in Shanghai, she received her Bachelor of Science degree from the National Central University in Nanking in 1936.

CAME TO UNITED STATES

That year she came to the United States and obtained a Ph.D. under Dr. Ernest Lawrence at the University of California. Later she worked on the Manhattan Project.

She also writes articles, contributes to books and was a speaker at the recent Atoms for Peace Conference in Geneva, Switzerland.

Dr. Wu was surprised to find herself one of few women in her field.

"I teach mostly men, yet in China, more women study science and engineering. We need to release the woman power in the United States" she said.

References to "beta decay" and "screw senses of particles" stud her speech, but Dr. Wu (in private life, Mrs. Luke Chia-liu Yuan) is very feminine. She is petite and youthful-looking, has a warm smile and shy giggle. Under a white lab coat, she wore a chic black Chinese dress and jewelry.

Pots of plants and vases of bright flowers stood among heavy black notebooks with such labels as "nuclear data sheets" and "circular polarization."

"It's always very exciting in the lab," she said. "My lab was in a movie about the atom bomb because the cameraman looked in and thought it was impressive."

Two Films Viewed by AAUW

Mrs. S. M. Velkoff reported on the Citizens Conference for Studying Michigan Schools held in Ann Arbor Saturday. Education programs, the teaching staff, financing education, and higher education were topics discussed.

'Dash's' No Way

A dash of this and a pinch of that may be a bold way of measuring. But in baking it pays to be conservative. Use level measurements, experts say, in standard measuring cups and spoons. Too much or too little of something like baking powder spoils the results.

Calls for All-Woman World Peace Parley

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) —Agnes E. Meyer today called for an all-woman international peace conference in Geneva to demand of "primitive and predatory males" that the billions the energy and brains now spent on nuclear weapons be turned to "life-enhancing programs."

The noted author and lecturer said that with the very continuity of life "threatened as never before" women should drop their "timidity."

With the "ferocity of a tigress protecting her cubs," she said, they should issue a "cry for universal brotherhood and peace among men (that) would echo around the globe."

'WOMEN, UNITE'

The slogan, she said, should be "Women of the world unite —The lives of your children are threatened."

Mrs. Meyer made her plea in an address before the Radcliffe Club of Boston which also carried harsh words for today's "lady of leisure"—living an "artificial life" with nothing to do except to "amuse herself" as best she can.

Describing marriage as a "part-time career," she said the country no longer can afford to support "vast numbers of female drones."

She labeled "tragic" the present-day "overemphasis on sex as woman's greatest asset." She said it has resulted in young girls going to college only to "find a husband as early as possible"; and in vulgar, tawdry and lewd contemporary literature that treats sex "as if it were America's favorite indoor sport."

Referring to her proposed peace crusade conferene, she said it "might well be the most powerful answer to Communist aggression."

And, she added "It might be the only appeal that would persuade the primitive and predatory males to do likewise."

UNDERESTIMATE POWER

Mrs. Meyer, wife of the chairman of the board of the Washington Post and Times Herald, said that contrary to the popular notion, "women underestimate their power."

Too many, she said are "still caught in a sense of inferiority to the male that has been drummed into them throughout the ages." This timidity, she claimed "has no relevance in a society which has supplanted the advantages of mere physical strength by the importance of intelligence, courage and determination."

Mrs. Meyer suggested the International Association of University Women sponsor the all-woman conference and that women of Communist nations attend as well as others.

She said each delegation would "go home to declare that their male political leaders have failed them and their families" unless they insist that the billions, the energy and the brains now spent for instruments of death be applied to life enhancing programs."

She suggested strengthening the United Nations and other "constructive international organizations; furthering health and education "everywhere" and development of peaceful uses of atomic energy.

What the world needs most, "now that the future of civilization is at stake" she said, is the "wisdom of mothers."

If your muffins have a tough crumb the chances are you are overmixing the batter.

It's Relaxing

Put Stretch Into Your Exercises

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The stretch of an exercise is most important. Too many women do their exercises rapidly and jerkily, not allowing time for the stretch. The latter is relaxing and is also reducing.

A protruding abdomen is one of the most usual feminine figure faults. This turns youthful figures into matronly looking ones more than any other one silhouette defect.

Two factors create this unlovely picture. First the abdominal muscles have become lax. Then fatty deposits have accumulated over the lazy muscles. The stretch of an exercise is corrective to the fatty deposits and the contraction will tone up the muscles.

From this position she lifts her hands from the floor and rocks forward. This is a good stretching exercise for abdominal fat.

Exercises which are taken lying down on one's back (raising trunk and legs etc.) are the firming exercises. Even when you do these you should stretch out on the floor, making yourself as long as possible in between motions. Today I want to give you two stretching exercises for any abdominal fat you may have.

1. Lie on the floor on your abdomen. Place one hand on the floor on each side of your bust. The fingers should turn in slightly. Straighten your elbows and arch your back, head back.

Keep your back arched and your knees stiff as you lift your hands from the floor and rock forward. Replace your hands on the floor, and again straighten the elbows and push up. This should be a smooth, rocking motion (back and forth).

2. Stand with your back to a doorjamb. Reach back and up and hold onto the doorjamb with your hands. Your feet should be touching the doorjamb or close to it. Arch your back, pushing your hips forward. Hold while you count to 10 slowly. Relax and repeat 10 times.

If you would like to have my tested abdominal-slimming exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

What Young People Think

Parents Want Curfew; Teens Prefer Code

BY EUGENE GILBERT
Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Many American parents think there should be a law to help them control their teenage youngsters. Sixty-five per cent told us in a recent survey that they favored a legal curfew.

A curfew would tend to eliminate family disputes, they said, on coming-home hours.

But actually, far from eliminating conflict, this sets one up.

The teenagers themselves indicated in another poll last spring that they favor codes of behavior —on condition that they be allowed to help write the codes.

Most of them felt that parents are too strict and too old-fashioned to draw up a workable code on hours and general behavior.

A legal curfew, of course, might be more enforceable than a voluntary code, but it isn't likely that officials would consult teeners on determining curfew hours.

The parents expressed the thought in this turn-about survey that the teenagers would accept a legal curfew because it would tie in with their desire to be like the rest of the crowd.

This very desire was mentioned repeatedly by the teenagers themselves as a good reason for having a community code.

However, some of the parents' comments indicate that they and their teenage sons and daughters might not agree on the proper hour for a legal curfew.

"Children can see and hear all that is good for them by 10 o'clock," wrote Joe H. Davidson, father of one child in Coatesville, Ind.

TAKE INDIVIDUAL STAND

The one-third who opposed legal curfews for teenagers felt teeners and parents should make their own family rules to fit individual circumstances.

As Louis Trajedian of Miami, Fla., put it: "You can't regulate all youngsters under the same standards. Some are as mature or more so than their elders; yet others are emotional babies and should be treated as such."

Parents split three-to-two on the question of whether teenagers are worse than their parents used to be.

Sixty per cent of the parents maintained that there is more crime and delinquency in their children's schools than there was when the parents were teenagers.

Oddly enough, fathers took a much more dismal view of their children than the mothers did. Sixty-six per cent of the fathers said there is more crime now than when pop was a boy. Only 55 per cent of the mothers agreed.

FAVOR CURFEW

Yet more mothers favored a legal curfew than fathers. Mothers voted 66 per cent for the curfew, while only 64 per cent of the fathers backed the idea.

More mothers than fathers also opposed a curfew—34 per cent of the mothers against only 30 per cent of the fathers. This was because six per cent of the fathers declined to give any opinion while all the mothers had something to say.

The parents who felt there is more crime and delinquency among today's teeners mostly blamed themselves—or at least other adults.

A Boston mother wrote that in her youth "children were brought up stricter and with more respect for older people."

Lucille Hopkins of Eugene, Ore., declared: "It isn't the fault of the teenagers. Parents and educators are more anxious to whine about juvenile delinquency than work at solving the problem."

Parents who defended today's teeners generally felt that there may be more publicity, but not much more badness.

"There are always some troublesome children in any generation," said a Providence, R. I., mother.

In any case, almost all parents (88 per cent) are pleased with the neighborhoods where their own teenagers are growing up.

A typical answer came from Mrs. Almer Ordal, who has three children growing up in Fergus Falls, Minn.

"All the neighbors are fine people," she said.

Trading Stamp Value Offsets Higher Prices

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A survey shows that customers pay more for food at supermarkets which give trading stamps but the added cost is more than offset by the value of the stamps.

The Agriculture Department reporting this today said its checks in 20 cities showed that food prices in stamp-giving stores averaged six-tenths of one per cent more than those in non-stamp supermarkets.

But the value of the stamps amounted to about 2 per cent of the money spent at stores giving stamps, the studies showed.

The survey covered the period from November 1958 to March 1957. In a report on the study, the department said: The use of stamps apparently has not significantly affected consumer good to the farmer. But it noted the potential gain for purchasers.

"If the consumer pays six-tenths of one per cent more for food in the stamp-giving store but receives his stamps at the rate of 2 per cent, he benefits by the extent of the difference. That is, if you don't count the time and trouble it takes to save and redeem these stamps."

The survey was made because of widespread use of stamps and because of legal and other controversies surrounding them.

The department estimated that in 1956 retailers spent 370 million dollars on stamps. It said about 168 billion stamps were distributed by these retailers on sales totaling about 40 billion dollars.

Army Team Develops New Tube

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP)—The Army says it has developed a tube that may last longer than any radio or TV sets the tube serves.

The tube was fashioned jointly by the Signal Research and Development Laboratory here and Pyng Sol Electric Inc., Bloomfield, N.J.

The Army said in an official statement Wednesday that the development is the first major breakthrough in basic tube design in more than 30 years.

The new tube is cold, the Army said, in contrast with the hot cathode tube. It consists of a tiny nickel cylinder coated with dried milk of magnesia and glows blue instead of red. It uses less than a tenth the power of a standard hot tube.

Unlike an ordinary tube, it needs no warm-up period after being turned on.

We Meet an Arctic Circle Cook

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Carl Hoard's parents run a restaurant; his grandmother was a florist. From his early days he was pulled two ways in his choice of a career.

The Army sent him to bakery school where he learned to turn out pies, cakes, cookies and bread in large quantities. After his discharge he decided to make use of his training and experience. He took off for Alaska via the Alcan Highway.

Now, two and a half years later, he has turned his back on the food business and is working with his other choice of career—flowers. As we talked with him last week, Carl was busy wiring carnations for an arrangement in a local flower shop.

Up in Alaska Carl worked on the Dew Line. We had to ask what that meant, having forgotten. It means Distant Early Warning and is the northernmost air raid warning base on this continent. At first he was with an airline doing a survey. His kitchen then was a quonset type hut; his stove a gasoline one; the oven a reflector type. That was rough going.

Later Carl transferred to a permanent base where the kitchen was in a regular building. Here he had everything with which to work, all in stainless steel. There were grills and waffle irons, two walk-in coolers, electric ice cream freezers, and huge coffee makers.

As head cook Carl did all the baking, turning out such goodies as French pastries and breakfast rolls. He made big batches of bread and froze what wasn't needed immediately. He tried to keep the cookie jar full and always had a roll of icebox cookie dough in the refrigerator. He had a second cook and a kitchen flunky.

On the Dew Line the coffee break runs 24 hours a day. When men have to go out into temperatures as low as 70 below zero, a cup of coffee is a pleasant thing to anticipate on their return.

In his first job there were only seven people to feed. At the Dew Line base there were always 25 and sometimes as many as 75. If an airplane were forced down by bad weather the crew and passengers trooped in for meals.

FOOD FLOWN IN

All food was flown in from Fairbanks. A catering firm made up the menus. Whenever the men didn't like some of the food included (like poached fish for breakfast), this was noted on the menus for future reference.

Dew Line workers eat well. Carl said they had every kind of fresh fruit and vegetable, as well as a great variety of meat. In addition they always kept frozen fruit and vegetables on hand. Milk was canned, but not evaporated.

Seafood was a favorite on the menu, but most fish was received with something less than enthusiasm. Occasionally the Eskimos would bring in fish and Carl would cook some of it. But the pack of Husky dogs living around the base got more of this fish than the men did. Carl said he had tasted caribou and seal liver while up north. They were "pretty good."

In the summer temperatures rose as high as 50 or 60 degrees. Then the Arctic ocean outside the base's door would thaw and the men would go boating. In the winter they skied out several miles on the ice. Above the Arctic Circle there are no trees and very little vegetation of any kind. It's a bleak land.

In a couple of weeks Carl Hoard is going home to Ithaca, Michigan to get married. At that time he says he will turn over all his cookbooks to his wife.

We suggest that Mrs. Hoard read the Pontiac Press for family-size recipes. We think that recipes for 50 will tax her cooking facilities. The Hoards plan to start housekeeping in a trailer.

IT'S FLOWERS NOW — Last year at this time Carl Hoard was chief cook on the Dew Line in Alaska. Now he is a floral designer at a local flower shop.

Changes in Supply, Price Will Affect Food Buying

Do changes in supply, quality and price influence your decisions at the food store? If so, the Marketing Information Agent relates current trends which may help when you make this week's market list.

Large seasonal pork supplies are priced to encourage greater consumer use. Although wholesale beef costs remain at a high level, some stores are featuring beef at attractive retail prices. Fryers at wholesale levels are 2½ to 3 cents a pound higher and this is reflected in the retail prices.

Cold weather in the south is related to scarcity, poorer quality and a few cents more for some fresh vegetables. A variety of canned and frozen items are specially marked again this week.

MEAT IN THE MENU

Most families spend about 25 cents of each food dollar for beef, pork, lamb and veal. Since red meat takes the big share of the food budget, a close check of price per serving as well as quality will help you make more satisfactory decisions.

Price per pound is divided by number of servings you can expect from a pound. You will find these cuts at 25 cents or less this week: Pork—Boston butt, fresh ham, picnic, loin roasts, steaks, some spareribs; Beef—ground beef, some blade chuck and round steak; Lamb—shoulder, some leg; Poultry—stewers, roasters, large turkeys; Fish—smelt, some frozen fish and fish sticks, perch fillets. Other meats that fit into this list are frankfurters, liver and several other variety meats.

Since some round steak and sirloin are the same price per pound this week, which will you choose? Sirloin will serve 2½ 4-ounce portions from each pound. Round will serve 3 to 3½. But there is more to your decision. True, the money spent for round will buy more meat, but how do you intend to prepare it?

Even when the grade is the same, round steak is not as tender as sirloin. If the round is U.S. Choice or Prime grade, the top section may be tender enough to broil, but the bottom section needs a moist cooking method. You might use the bottom of the round steak for Swiss steak or pot roast, or grind it for other uses.

A U.S. Choice or Prime grade sirloin is a cut to broil. If you wish to serve lower grade sirloin as a steak, brown it first. Add a small amount of liquid. Then finish in a pan with the lid on.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Scattered frosts and rains in the south have influenced appearance and quality, supplies and price of some of the more tender vegetables—especially cucumbers, corn, peppers, carrots and green beans.

Large supplies of potatoes are being sold at prices below those of a year ago. The 50 pound bag can be found for as little as 2 cents a pound, but who can say the large size is a good value for you unless you have a place to store it properly.

Since potatoes are from several states, from different farmers or suppliers, and in different size bags, the smart shopper will look them over carefully. Potatoes with a green color have been damaged by light, will be quite bitter and harmful to eat unless deeply trimmed.

Selecting citrus fruits? Outside appearance does not affect inside flavor. Russetting on grapefruit or variation in color of the skin of oranges is not nearly as important as picking firm fruit that is heavy for its size.

Nice Vegetable Dish With Tuna Loaf

Creamed Peas With Mushrooms

1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas
Boiling water
Salt
1½ tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup milk
1 can (3 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms (drained)
⅛ teaspoon white pepper

Cook peas according to package directions, using the amount of water and salt called for; drain. Meanwhile melt butter over low heat in saucepan; stir in flour; add milk and cook and stir constantly until thickened; continue to cook and stir a few minutes.

Add drained peas and mushrooms, ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper. Reheat stirring a few times. Makes 4 servings.

To Brighten Salads

Brighten salads on dark days with new, crunchy apple dressing, using the tangy, fragrant Winesaps. Grate a fresh tart unpeeled apple into 1 cup of mayonnaise and mix slightly. Serve on any fruit salad — or as a spread on whole wheat toast!

Zippy Tomato Aspic Novel Meat Relish

Tomato aspic with the added nip of chili sauce is an interesting relish salad to serve with meat.

To make, sprinkle an envelope of unflavored gelatine on ½ cup cold tomato juice in saucepan. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatine is dissolved.

Remove from heat; add additional ¾ cup tomato juice, ½ cup chili sauce, 2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, and ¼ teaspoon each salt and Tabasco. Pour into 4 individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold at serving time. Yield: 4 servings.

SUPPER PARTY PIES — Surprise your guests with hearty wedges of meat pie. Under the flaky crust is a juicy, savory filling. Apple sauce helps to keep it moist and adds an elusive flavor. There's also a hint of herbs in the filling. If your guests don't eat up all you've prepared, be glad; these pies taste just as good reheated.

Meat Filling Kept Moist With Canned Apple Sauce

It's always fun to serve these pies. They're such a gay surprise for guests . . . look like fruit pies but are really meat pies, and husky ones at that.

There the pies stand, savory and rich, waiting to be cut into big, smoking hot wedges. The chopped meat filling, brown and crumbly, is pungent with onions and herbs. And tangy canned apple sauce is mixed through for a dash of the unusual. The apple sauce also helps keep the meat deliciously moist.

One whiff of that savory filling, one look, and guests fall to with frank gusto. Especially the men! You know with what enjoyment they greet simple, hearty, uncomplicated dishes. So these meat pies with their flaky crusts win their vote every time.

The pies could easily become your very own hostess specialty for buffet suppers, for informal dinners, for luncheons. Once baked, they are easily kept hot in the oven (turned to very low) to be brought out as needed.

Bake two, bake four . . . people will pass back for more, that's sure. And, if by chance, there is pie left, next day reheat it . . . it's still good eating.

Supper Party Meat Pies

2 large onions thinly sliced
¼ cup butter
2 lbs. ground chuck
3 eggs
1 cup dry bread crumbs
2 cups canned apple sauce
2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
½ teaspoon thyme
1½ teaspoons salt
½ cup ketchup
1 4-oz. jar pimiento, diced
Rich pastry

Saute onions in butter until soft. Slightly heat ground beef in another skillet, mashing lightly with fork, to separate beef into small pieces. Drain off excess fat.

Beat eggs; add bread crumbs, apple sauce, poultry seasoning, thyme, salt, ketchup and pimiento. Add onions and meat; mix well.

Line two 9-inch pie plates with pastry; place ½ hamburger mixture into each pie plate. Cover tops with pastry; seal edges together. Trim off excess pastry; make fancy edge. Make slits in tops to allow steam to escape.

Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, 35-40 minutes, or until delicate brown. Serve hot.

Cookies That Travel Need Special Touch

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Last week we had a letter from an 82-year-old grandmother who wants to bake cookies to send to her grandson overseas. Written in a beautiful flowing hand, the letter says in part:

"I am ready to bake some (cookies) to send to our grandson in the Air Force overseas. I can't remember the kind that keep well . . . so I am coming to you for the advice."

We think there are others in the Pontiac area who might be sending goodies to sons, husbands and grandsons overseas. We've hunted up some new recipes for them to use as well as for Mrs. Bessie Gallagher, our correspondent.

Wrap each cookie separately in aluminum foil or plastic wrap; in the case of thin cookies put two together, back to back before wrapping. Cushion the bottom of the box with crushed paper or unbuttered popcorn. Fill in all cracks and cover the top with the same.

If your cookies are going overseas, it is better to pack them in metal containers. Coffee cans do well. You can seal the edges with adhesive or plastic tape.

Brownies probably take first place as the universally favorite cookie. Just be careful not to overbake them. You want them to stay moist until they reach their destination.

If you want to vary your regular Brownie recipe, add four teaspoons of instant coffee with the sugar to make Mocha Brownies. Three-quarters of a cup of finely chopped coconut may be substituted for the half cup of nuts usually called for in a Brownie recipe.

Simple drop cookies pack well and keep their good flavor while traveling. These sour cream drops have oatmeal in them.

Sour Cream Drop Cookies

1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup soft butter
1 egg
½ cup sour cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups sifted flour
1 cup uncooked rolled oats
1 cup raisins or walnuts, chopped

Add sugar to butter, creaming until fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Add sour cream and vanilla. Sift dry ingredients together; stir into first mixture. Add raisins or nuts.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto buttered baking sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, for 12-15 minutes or until done. Cool on rack. Makes 2 dozen.

Filled cookies keep moist for some time. This recipe uses apple butter for the filling.

Apple Butter Bars

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
2½ cups quick cooking oats, uncooked
1½ cups sugar
1 cup butter or margarine, melted
1½ cups apple butter

In a bowl, sift flour, baking soda and salt together. Stir in oats and sugar; mix thoroughly. Add melted butter or margarine; blend well.

Press half of mixture very firmly into a greased 12"x8"x2" baking pan. Spread with the apple butter. Cover with the remaining oat mixture; pat lightly.

Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, 45 to 55 minutes, or until lightly browned and done. Cool in pan. Cut into bars.

Thin rolled cookies are apt to arrive in a dozen pieces. But these pinwheel slices should pack nicely. You may use them as icebox cookies at home.

Wheat Pinwheels

1 cup shortening
2 cups sifted brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs, unbeaten
½ cup wheat germ
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup chopped nuts
1 square melted chocolate

Cream shortening with sugar, salt and vanilla. Stir in eggs, wheat germ and flour sifted with baking powder. Mix well. Divide cookie dough into equal parts. To one half add the chopped nuts; to the other half add the melted chocolate. Chill dough.

Then roll each part ⅛ inch thick. Place chocolate layer on top of light layer and roll together. Cut in thin slices. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 10 minutes. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

Cold Weather Drink

These are wintry days when steaming hot drinks come into their own. For one such, we suggest a toddy made of 2 cups of brewed tea, 2 cups apple juice, 1 tablespoon sugar and 6 whole cloves all heated together, then strained and served with lemon slices. This makes enough for 4 servings.

Bake Fragrant English Muffins

Bake tender English muffins and serve them temptingly fresh and fragrant with coffee in the morning or at afternoon tea. You'll find these yeast-raised delicacies a welcome change from the usual sweets that are served. Since one batch of dough makes some 2 dozen muffins there'll be plenty to use as a base for a nippy rarebit or in place of rolls at the evening meal as well.

English Muffins

1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
1 cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
6 cups sifted enriched flour
Cornmeal

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture.

Add about half the flour; beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush with shortening. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; divide dough in half. On a board heavily sprinkled with cornmeal, roll out each half to a thickness of ¼-inch. Cut into rounds with a 3-inch cookie cutter. Cover. Let rest on board about 30 minutes.

Place on slightly greased, medium hot griddle, cornmeal coated side down. Bake until bottom is well browned, about 15 minutes; turn and bake about 15 minutes longer.

New Way to Use Leftover Pork Roast

Flavorful way to use leftover roast pork.

Skillet Pork and Cabbage

2 tablespoons margarine
1½ cups diced cooked pork
2½ cups coarsely shredded green cabbage
½ teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons tabasco soy sauce

Melt butter in 10-inch skillet over low heat; add pork and brown lightly. Add cabbage; sprinkle with sugar and soy sauce; add soy sauce 1 teaspoon at a time because amount needed will depend on its strength; the dish should be lightly flavored.

* * *

Cover tightly; cook over very low heat, stirring a few times, just until cabbage is slightly wilted but still crisp. Serve at once. Makes 3 servings.

Don't Skip Breakfast

Ever thought about why nutritionists tell you to eat a good breakfast? The average person spends about 12 to 13 hours without hearty food between the dinner meal and breakfast, remind extension home economists at Michigan State University. Those "breakfastless" folks stretch this to 18 hours to the lunch period — then wonder why the "midmorning slump."

Nutty Fingers of Bread Good Breakfast Treat

Brazil nut cinnamon sticks are delicious hot breads for breakfast. To make them, cut six 1-inch slices from a loaf of unsliced bread. Remove crust and cut each slice into 3 finger-length strips. Dip strips into ⅔ cup evaporated milk; brush with 4 tablespoons melted butter.

Then combine 2 tablespoons cinnamon, 6 tablespoons sugar and 6 tablespoons finely chopped Brazil nuts. Roll bread strips in nut mixture. Place strips on rack in shallow baking pan and bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for 20 minutes. Yield: 18 strips or 6 servings.

Lobster Enriches Appetizing Stew

Soups, chowders and stews made from shellfish are among the most appetizing of all winter foods. The aromas and steaming goodness of these savory soups make them welcome for luncheon, dinner or late supper, no matter whether you're serving a crowd or just feeding your family. Oyster stews and clam chowders have been popular for years, but here's a new one—lobster stew, adapted by the National Fisheries Institute from the one served by the Lobster Restaurant, New York's famous seafood restaurant in the theatrical district.

Lobster Stew

½ pound butter or margarine
¾ teaspoon salt (a little less if using bottled clam juice, which is salted)
½ teaspoon paprika
1 pint clam broth (or bottled clam juice)
2½ cups lobster meat (the meat from about 2 lobsters)
1 quart milk
1 cup cream
1½ teaspoons celery salt

Melt butter or margarine in very hot kettle or pot (preferably heavy cast aluminun). Add salt, paprika, celery salt, clam broth and bring to a boil. Then add lobster meat, milk, cream. Bring quickly to the boiling point again, removing from fire before it actually begins to boil.

Serve in warmed individual soup bowls as quickly as possible, topping each portion with a generous pat of butter and a sprinkling of extra paprika. Makes 6 to 8 generous servings.

Cheese Topped French Toast Unusual, Good

For those who are fond of French toast this new version is interesting. It could be served with fruit salad for a luncheon dish.

Cheese French Toast

3 eggs
2½ cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
12 slices day-old bread
6 tablespoons butter
1¼ cups shredded American cheese

Beat eggs slightly; add milk and salt and blend thoroughly. Dip bread slices in mixture.

Melt butter in a skillet; place soaked bread slices in skillet and cook until a delicate brown on one side. Turn, sprinkle shredded cheese over top of each slice and cook until underside is a delicate brown and cheese is melted.

Serve hot, with butter and syrup, if desired. Crisp bacon or sausage make good accompaniments for luncheon or supper. Makes 6 servings.

Cheese Sandwich to Have Fruit Touch

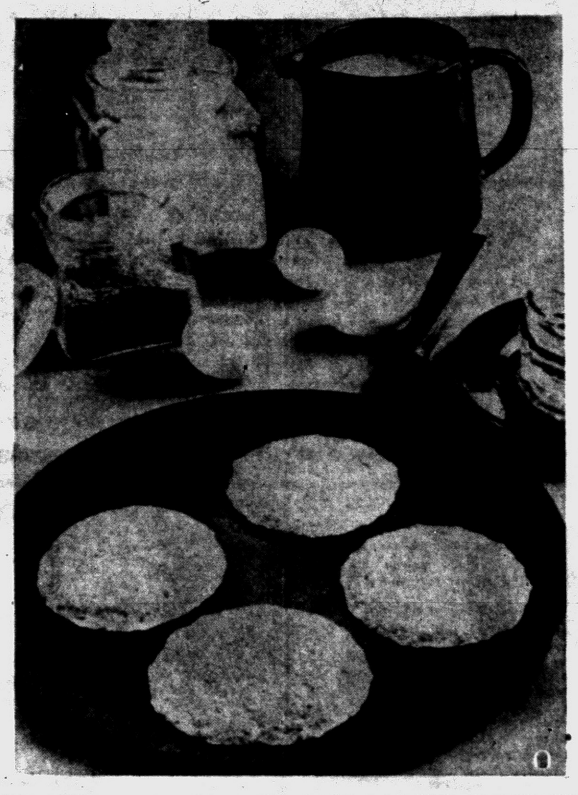

Make a bubbling hot cheese sandwich for a cold winter's evening snack.

Apple — place slice of apple on buttered slice of enriched yeast-raised bread. Cover with a slice of sharp Cheddar cheese. Broil till cheese is bubbly.

Apricot — spread 2 slices toasted enriched yeast-raised bread with butter, then apricot jam.

Beat 1 egg yolk. Add a pinch of salt and a dash of Worcestershire and pepper. Add 2 tablespoons grated American cheese. Fold in 1 beaten egg white; spoon over jam.

Bake at 350 degrees 15 to 20 minutes.

WHEAT GERM PANCAKES — These wheat germ griddle cakes have real old-fashioned appeal with their full whole wheat flavor. They are tender, light-textured and nutrition-rich.

Pack Pancakes With Goodness

A good beginning with a good breakfast is half the battle when a hard day's work is to be done. And, one of the best inducements to taking the time for a good breakfast is a menu which features old-fashioned griddle cakes topped with melting butter, doused with warm syrup and accompanied with sizzling, fragrantly spiced sausage.

Although food historians tell us that the preparation of griddle cake goes back to the first dishes prepared by man (when a mixture of meal and water was baked on a hot stone), there's something very new about the following recipe. The batter is made with twice as much wheat germ as flour. The result is a griddle cake with wonderful whole wheat flavor reminiscent of time-taking, yeast-raised buckwheat cakes.

Wheat Germ Griddle Cakes

3 eggs
1½ cups milk
¼ cup melted butter
1 cup wheat germ
½ cup flour
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Beat eggs. Add milk and melted butter. Combine wheat germ, flour, sugar and salt; mix well. Add the egg mixture to the wheat germ mixture all at once and stir lightly and only until blended. Use batter immediately or, if more convenient, batter may be kept in refrigerator for several hours or overnight.

Pour batter (about one-fourth cup) to form three or four-inch griddle cakes onto a hot seasoned griddle. If necessary to prevent sticking, grease griddle lightly with an unsalted fat like corn oil. When bubbles appear evenly across the cakes but before they break, turn to brown the other side. Makes 10 to 12 griddle cakes.

Watch Those Herbs

Delicate herbs such as parsley and savory are always added at the end of cooking, so the delicate flavor is not lost. Strong herbs such as sage, basil, marjoram and oregano are added during cooking.

Cold Wrap Your Wine

To chill a bottle of wine quickly, wrap the bottle in a piece of flannel that has been dipped in ice water and not wrung out. This trick will bring the wine below room temperature in jig time.

Marinated Fish Broiled With Tomato Slices

Broiled Swordfish and Tomatoes

2 steaks (about 1 pound each) swordfish
2 teaspoons peanut oil
2 tablespoons American-type soy sauce
2 teaspoons sugar
2 to 3 tomatoes
Parsley

Wipe fish with damp cloth. Stir together the peanut oil, soy sauce and sugar; pour over fish, reserving a few teaspoons of the mixture. Allow fish to stand in marinade 30 minutes, turning once.

Cut stem ends from tomatoes and cut into crosswise halves; dribble reserved soy mixture over cut surfaces. Drain fish steaks, reserving marinade. Arrange fish on foil; broil about 4 inches from high heat until fish flakes easily — about 15 minutes — brushing with reserved marinade a few times; do not turn.

About 10 minutes before fish is done, place tomatoes under broiler to get hot through and brown lightly. Garnish fish and tomatoes with parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cocktail Olives

Green olives take on quite a different flavor if they are drained, then covered with Spanish olive oil which has been flavored with a dash of hickory-smoked salt and about a quarter-teaspoon of crushed dill seed. To serve as cocktail appetizers, remove olives from the olive oil, drain on paper towel.

When you make your own dry bread crumbs, be sure to sift them; put the fine crumbs in one container, the coarse crumbs in another. Then both sorts will be ready as needed.

Shrimp is America's favorite shellfish.

Candied Apple Wedges Put Glaze on Pancakes

This unusual dessert recipe comes from a woman who lived many years in South America. She says it is Argentinian but has no idea who originated it. It's a bit tricky to do, but well worth the effort.

Glazed Apple Pancake

½ cup flour
Pinch of salt
¼ cup milk
2 eggs
1 tablespoon melted butter
2 large tart apples
Butter
Sugar
Light rum (optional)

Peel and core apples; cut into wedges.

Beat eggs and milk, stir in flour and salt; mix until smooth and free of lumps. Add melted butter.

In a medium-sized pancake pan, melt a large lump of butter, cover pan completely with apples and cook until nearly done but still firm. Pour on enough batter to cover the apples. Loosen edges as pancake sets.

When cooked on one side, turn onto a buttered plate the size of the pan. Melt another large lump of butter in the pan, cover with granulated sugar — about ⅛ inch deep, and put pancake back, uncooked side down. Over a brisk fire shake pan while sugar caramelizes.

Loosen with a spatula, turn over with a plate, glazed side up. The top should be brown like a candied apple. Pour a little rum on top and serve.

This recipe will make 4 medium sized pancakes.

Cheese, Tomato Top Tuna Fish Sandwich

Good and pretty open sandwiches.

Combination Tuna Sandwiches

1 can (7 ounces) tuna
½ cup finely diced celery
2 whole canned pimientos (drained) and diced
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Salt, pepper
Sliced bread
Butter or margarine
Sliced cheddar cheese
Sliced tomatoes

Flake and mix tuna (including oil in can) with celery, pimientos, mayonnaise, lemon juice and salt and pepper to taste. Spread on sliced buttered light toast.

Top with sliced cheese, making sure edges of bread are covered (or they will burn); top with tomato slices; sprinkle tomato with salt. Broil until heated through. Makes 6 to 8 sandwich slices.

Skin Is Valuable

A recent discovery reported in a British scientific journal, finds that apple skin, not the pulp, contains an amino acid, one of the so-called "protein-building blocks," which may be another reason for eating bright yellow or red apple skin besides its crunchiness.

Supplies of Eggs and Poultry Will Increase in '59

Supplies of all poultry products will be abundant next year, promising some real savings for American consumers in 1959. Forecasts of more eggs, broilers and turkeys in 1959, compared to 1958, have just been released by the Poultry Industry Survey Committee composed of outstanding college economists representing each region of the country.

EGGS: Egg production is now running about 7 per cent more than a year ago. Based on the number of hens now on farms, eggs will continue to be plentiful during the first six months of 1959. In fact, current estimates indicate that more eggs will be available for each man, woman and child in the United States from now through September, compared to a year earlier.

BROILERS: Broilers will be in plentiful supply during the first six months of 1959. About 15 per cent more broilers will be marketed during the January through March period than during the same period of 1958.

Supplies of broilers during April through June will also exceed the supplies that were available in the corresponding period a year earlier—but by a smaller percentage increase than that anticipated for the first three months of the year.

TURKEYS: A record supply of turkeys is expected in 1959. Current estimates indicate an increase of 5 to 8 per cent, compared with 1958.

President Favors Repeal of 22nd Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — This nation has tinkered with its 170-year-old Constitution so rarely you'd think any repair job it tried would be a good one.

Yet here was President Eisenhower saying today the 22nd amendment should be repealed.

Ironically, or maybe appropriately, Eisenhower has a special right to speak.

He is its first victim.

For the 22nd, or newest, amendment to the Constitution says no person shall be elected president more than twice. And Dwight D. Eisenhower became the first to whom it applies.

Now Eisenhower, who will be 70 by the time our next president is elected, never has shown any hankering for a third term. But he has said several times he thinks a president should be allowed to stay on as long as the people want him.

Wednesday, in reply to a question, he said he still feels that way.

Probably he put it best at another news conference, on Oct. 5, 1956, when he said:

"By and large, the United States ought to be able to choose for its president anybody it wants, regardless of the number of terms he has served . . . some people have said, 'you let him get enough power, and this will lead to a one-party government.'

"That I don't believe. I have got the utmost faith in the long-term common sense of the American people."

Most of us, struggling with our daily chores, trying to pay our bills, doubtless will find No. 22 the most unburning issue of our times. Who cares, for heaven's sake?

Well, aside from Eisenhower, a number of historians and political scientists care. They think that when the amendment was adopted —Nevada became the 36th state to ratify it, on Feb. 26, 1951 — a real blow was delivered at a president's powers.

A couple of years ago Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D) of Tucson, Ariz., questioned experts about the 22nd. Should it stay, or should it go as did the 18th amendment on prohibition?

Here's a sample of professorial thinking:

Clinton Rossiter of Cornell University — "Although it is still too early to make this point with certainty, it very probably has weakened the office of the presidency permanently.

Everything in our history tells us that a president who does not or cannot seek re-election loses much of his grip in his last couple of years, and we no longer can afford presidents who lose their grip."

Rossiter's viewpoint: The amendment was put in "as an undisguised insult to the memory of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

But the verdict wasn't unanimous.

Arthur Link of Northwestern University said he thought the amendment should stay.

"We will be a very poor democracy, indeed," Link said, "if we ever reach the stage where any single man is indispensable beyond two terms of the presidency."

Olivier Willing to Change With Times, Accepts TV

By BOB THOMAS
(Last of Three Articles)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — At 51 and at the top of his profession, Sir Laurence Olivier is still willing to learn.

He has won every conceivable honor on the stage and screen. Now he's dipping into television.

★ ★ ★ ★

"You can't deny it's television is here to stay," he comments. "If you want to stay in the acting profession, you have to change with the times."

Before leaving England, he did Ibsen's "John Gabriel Borkman" for TV. In New York he went into the grind of turning out a 90-minute version of Maugham's "The Moon and Sixpence" on color tape.

The first act required 15 hours of steady work, the second 17 hours. When he finished the third act, he had been awake for 24 hours. Then he stepped on a plane and arrived here to begin work for "Spartacus" feeling like a zombie.

"Television is fascinating," he observed. "But it really isn't an actor's medium. You get two or three weeks' rehearsal, the equivalent of playing stock in the provinces. You don't have the time to perfect, as you do in the theater."

Last season on Broadway, many eyebrows were raised when Olivier appeared in a play called "The Entertainer." It was a bitter story about a small-time music hall performer written by John Osborne, one of England's so-called angry young men.

"Actually, the title doesn't fit Osborne, who is anything but angry," said Olivier. "The only trouble with him is that when he is interviewed, he becomes a different man and says the most outrageous things. His press relations are more catastrophic than mine."

Why did he do "The Entertainer"? "Because I thought it was a good play—not a great one, but an interesting play. I think the angry young men have contributed some real vigor to English writing."

He may do it as a movie—if a way can be found to overcome the public's resistance. But first he'll play at Stratford-on-Avon this summer. Even if he can't do Shakespeare on film again, he'll remain true to the bard on the stage.

Commercial airlines in the U.S. operate about 1,500 planes. By contrast about 22,000 are used by businessmen plus another 10,000 operated by ranchers and farmers.

PTA Groups to Meet Tonight in Waterford

Two Waterford Township Parent-Teacher Associations will meet tonight.

A "Hobby Show" will be featured at 8 p.m. at Donelson School. Members will show wood carvings, oil paintings, photography collections and other hobby items. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Clifford Simonson and Mrs. Carl Bird.

The William Beaumont School will have Dr. Milton Worster as guest at its meeting at 8 p.m.

He will present colored films taken during his recent safari in South Africa. Several rare animals and birds are featured in the film.

Heart Peril Increasing

CHICAGO — Heart and circulatory diseases accounted for 24 per cent of all deaths in the United States in 1905. Now they make up over 54 per cent, with more than 800,000 deaths annually attributed to them.

Supervised Even Smallest Detail Himself

With DeMille the Story Was All

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A giant has gone.

The heart of Cecil B. De Mille stopped Wednesday morning, erasing the most colorful movie maker from the Hollywood scene he had dominated for 45 years. De Mille always invited superlatives: his films were the biggest, made the most money, were seen by more people throughout the world.

Superlatives aside, what kind of a man was he? The answer is best told in his own words.

Despite his outward assurance, he said he faced his job with trepidation.

"I have never made a picture without being frightened," he said. Of what? Of my own ability. Of whether I squeezed the most out of my material. Of whether I created something that would wring the public's heart."

He prepared his scripts with infinite pains. "A good story is everything. If you have that, the director and the stars do not make much difference. They can help a picture a little or hurt it a little. But they can't make a good script into a bad picture, or a bad script into a good picture."

He supervised even the smallest details in his films. "What did the people wear and eat in those Biblical times? Did they eat roast beef or lamb chops or what? It would be as bad to show them eating the wrong thing as it would be to show them dressed in tails and top hat."

He made pictures for the public alone, though the disdain of the intellectuals stung him. "I have often wondered why critics are hostile. If the people are entertained, that should be enough. Every time I make a picture, critics' estimation of the public drops 10 per cent."

He demanded loyalty from his ever-present retinue but denied the legend that he hired only yes-men. "I pay pretty generously, so why should I pay a man more than 20 dollars if all I wanted him to say is 'Yes'? On the other hand, I don't want an aide who continually 'noses' me. He'd be just as worthless. I want assistants (and I have them) who can give me good reasons for disagreeing."

He was a stern taskmaster and could wither an extra at a hundred paces. "I have been called a tyrant, a despot and a martinet because I lose my temper when I see someone playing checkers on a set that cost $40,000 a day when he should be paying attention to his job. It's the same with alibis. I don't have enough time on this earth to listen to alibis."

He had faith that the movie business would continue despite its ills. "They've been saying the theater is doomed for 6,000 years. My belief is that if our material is good, we won't have to worry."

He wanted to die in the saddle. 'I don't suppose I will ever quit unless I am forced to. If you are a good story teller—and Mrs. De Mille and I believe that I am — I think you should stick to your trade as long as you are able."

He had been planning two more productions on a schedule that would have taken him to the age of 85 — "and then they'll have to come and wheel me away." But after returning from a strenuous tour for his last picture, his heart wore out before he could conclude his work.

Earl Adds Husbands to Kindness Crusade

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Our "Be Kind to People Week" is being carried into a "Be Kind to Husbands Week"—the first hero to be cited being Husband Harvey Stone, who, alas, is also a comedian.

WILSON

Harvey told the Friars this a.m. that he was such a poor boy, that "they tore down our house to put up a slum." He added, while facing the mob, that before coming to Broadway he'd worked smaller cities and wasn't used to crowds. "I've looked into more empty seats," he announced, "than a tailor."

Vacationing Jack Paar was set to visit Cuba but told me, "I don't look good in a blindfold." (If he switches to Sunday TV, his $2700 salary'll treble) . . . Inger Stevens' troubles increased: phlebitis and pneumonia . . . From his E. 57th St. hideout, Errol Flynn and gal, Barbara Woods, sent Castro congratulations on his tactful handling of everything.

Palm Beach is snickering over the rumor Castro'll hold Rubirosa as hostage in a demand for return of Batista . . . Gypsy Rose Lee scored such a hit at a recent dinner (telling her Chicago burlesque days) that Organist Ethel Smith, called on to follow her, said, "Any woman who tries to follow Gypsy Rose Lee ought to have her head examined . . . and any man who tries to follow her ought to have plenty of pocket money."

Herb Shriner—in Miami, along with Red Skelton and Jan Murray—says "A friend of mine got a nice color down here—and it was blue" . . . James Caesar Petrillo—who's so scared of germs that he shakes fingertips instead of hands—had a call here from a Chicago friend who said he had a heavy cold. Petrillo shouted "What do you mean calling me on the phone when you've got a bad cold?" —and hung up.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Genevieve is becoming a U.S. citizen . . . Morton Downey Jr., suffered serious back injuries in the Connecticut auto crash . . . Jerry Lewis is flying back to L.A. after deciding a Broadway musical'd be impractical.

Esther Williams' 1958 take from her swimming pool company was a fat $360,000 . . . Cyd Charisse gave Tony Martin four gold buttons, and a $300 cashmere jacket to sew 'em on . . . Lena Horne's son Teddy is dating dancer Sally Neal of his mother's show, "Jamaica" . . . Danny Thomas bought a radio station in Bakersfield, Calif.

Shirley Temple says she'd return to movie-making if she could find a good "bad" role.

14 Fire Cars Get Radios in Waterford

Fire Chief Edward Smith has announced that Waterford Township firemen have installed 14 additional mobile radio receivers, making a total of 30 township firefighters' cars with this equipment.

The radios are set on a fixed frequency and receive five calls only. The calls are broadcast from the two Fire Department base station units.

Association president Everett Draker said the additional radios were purchased by the Township Volunteer Firefighters Association at a total cost of $1,800.

Along with 50 home-receiving units, four two-way mobile car units, six fire trucks with three-way radio equipment, this makes the Waterford Township fire department one of the most completely radio equipped departments in the country, Smith said.

Nonbeats Beat School Beatnik Day

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI)—Beatnik Day flopped at Evanston Township High School recently.

Word got out that senior girls would show up for classes in black leotards and minus lipstick or hairpins. This is supposed to be the way really beat girls dress up in the more Bohemian circles.

But most of the girls looked as pretty and well-groomed as ever. A school official said the project was probably beat from the start because the boys wouldn't go along with it.

"This was all an outgrowth of slop day," the spokesman added cryptically.

Lost Ship Still at Dock

HONOLULU (AP) — A cabin cruiser reported stolen from its mooring turned out to have moved in just one direction — down.

GOP in Move to Control House

Offers State Democrats Minor Committee and Patronage Posts

LANSING (AP)—Republicans, skating on thin ice, moved today to retain firm control of the evenly-divided House and at the same time pacify any Democratic talk of revolt.

To do it, they offered Democrats as many patronage jobs and committee assignments as they felt possible without endangering their position of command.

Democrats scheduled a caucus today to decide whether to say yes or no.

ecause of the illness of Rep. Joseph D. Hunsinger (D-Detroit), when the lower chamber organized last week, Republicans took control 55-54.

Realizing that they'll need backing from at least one Democrat to win a majority vote on any bill, the GOP agreed in caucus yesterday to:

1/8. Cut Republicans majorities to one on all but the important Ways and Means Committee, the "purse string" group, where the GOP will hold firm control.

2. Leave a Democratic majority on 14 minor committees.

3. Give Democrats 40 per cent (16) of the patronage jobs in the House, including secretaries, page boys and assistant sergeants-at-arms.

4. Name Republicans chairmen of all committees.

"That is our final offer," said House Speaker Don R. Pears. "Under the circumstances we think it's a fair one."

It was far more to the advantage of Democrats than the organization plan put into effect in the Senate, where Republicans hold a 22-12 majority, one less than last term.

Slightest Change Will Throw Balance Off

Budget Plans Based on Thin Hope

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's two mains theme this week—keep down spending and avoid inflation — are both based on the thin foundation of hope. It's thin, indeed.

The budget he sent Congress Monday—ironically, it's the biggest of all peacetime budgets but still not big enough to please everyone—called for spending 77 billion dollars in the next fiscal year.

Along with it Eisenhower dangled before the Country the prospect that if spending can be kept down to 77 billion, the government will take in just a little more than that in revenue and thus balance the budget.

This is a nice thought, even though it calls for razor-thin figuring. But it's strictly a hope, for two things can go wrong and knock the arithmetic through the roof:

1. The revenue may not turn out to be as high as he hopes. That would throw the budget out of balance and mean red ink even if Congress keeps spending down to 77 billion.

2. Congress may decide his spending figure is much too modest to meet national needs, up the spending, and throw everything out of balance, even if revenue turns out to be 77 billion.

Then in his Economic Report to Congress Tuesday Eisenhower, holding out the vision of a surging and prosperous year, said that inflation could spoil the rosy outlook.

So he called for self-discipline and restraint by business in raising prices, and labor in demanding higher wages. He seemed to imply that both groups had better use their heads or else.

But he was less specific wednesday at his news conference.

"If the deired results cannot be achieved under our arrangements for determining wages and prices, the alternatives are either inflation, which would damage our economy and work hardship on millions of Americans, or controls, which are alien to our traditional way of life. . . ."

That was Tuesday in his Economic Report. At his Wednesday news conference he was asked what controls he had in mind.

"No, I don't have controls in mind . . . because I despise them," he replied. "And I believe it is not truly a free economy if we are going to have federally imposed controls, and I want to try every single thing that is possible.

"But I do say if you get mounting inflation and we will not discipline ourselves, then something will have to be done."

He didn't say what that something might be.

But even as he talked, the AFL-CIO was getting ready to reject his call for holding the wage line. The big labor organization is expected to say soon that workers don't earn enough now in relation to the rest of the economy.

Across the country labor unions were reaching out for good-sized wage boosts in aircraft, chemicals, rubber, steel, aluminum, electrical manufacturing, maritime and railroad industries.

Labor agreements covering around three million workers run out this year. With business improving, as Eisenhower noted, unions are apt to set their sight higher. If wages go up, it's a pretty safe guess prices will, too.

Plane Lands Safely With 2 Engines Lost

HONOLULU (AP)—An Air Force Superconstallation lost both of its port engines, but the pilot landed it safely an hour and 80 miles later, using only the two starboard engines.

Nineteen airmen were aboard the C121 radar plane which was on a reconnaissance flight.

Maj. Earl W. Bierer, the pilot, said the No. 2 engine dropped off, damaging the propeller of No. 1. His co-pilot was Maj. Mervin G. Getty.

They are based at McClellan AFB, Sacramento, Calif., but were on temporary duty at Hickam Afb, here.

The discontinuance of mid-year graduation exercises can't come soon enough for Pontiac Central basketball coach Art Van Ryzin.

In his 14 years as head basketball coach, Van Ryzin can remember only one year that he hadn't lost a key player due to graduation in mid-season.

"That was two years ago," said Van Ryzin, "and I want you to note that it was the season we won the Saginaw Valley title with a 10-0 record and finished with the best overall season since I've been here."

"Losing that key player half way through the season is bound to hurt a team, especially in depth," said Van Ryzin.

The 1947-48 season was a good example. The Chiefs had won six of their first eight games. At mid-term, Dan Searle and Jim Engleman both completed their prep careers.

Searle was the team's leading scorer at the time and was the co-captain with Frank Wilson.

In the last seven regular season games, Pontiac won just once.

Many other of Van Ryzin's leading players got their diplomas in January, including such names as Guy Sparrow, John Swanson, Alan Barklay and Dave Miller. This week it will be Charley Barge.

Next January it will be Bill Hayward, present regular forward, who puts on his commencement robe. After that, however, diplomas will be awarded only in June and the Pontiac Central basketball team won't have to worry about a January jinx.

The absence of Barge after Friday night's game against Saginaw could be one of the most serious mid-season losses for Pontiac Central.

The team is unbeaten, sitting on top of the Saginaw Valley and for the first time, holding the laurel as the top team in Michigan.

Being the master-molder that he is, however, Van Ryzin isn't taking a dim view of what lies ahead.

"We can't expect to win them all, but we can try. It would be silly to say that losing Barge isn't going to hurt us, but we'll take one game at a time and I think with a couple of the reserves we have, we might be able to pick up some of the scoring slack when he leaves," said the Chief coach.

"Right now let's think about Saginaw, because that ball club is going to be tough," he finished.

Amen, so we will.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

A pair of Oakland County golf deans will be in Dunedin, Fla., next week for the 20th anniversary PGA Seniors' Championship.

Frank Syron, accompanied by Mrs. Syron, will be there as spectators. Al Watrous will be there shooting for his 4th title.

"Don't think Al hasn't been warming up for it either," said Syron, "he has been hitting red-marked balls off the mat near his pro shop right out into the snow."

Lions Delighted With Players Acquired in Draft

Pro Players Meet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — National Football League owners and representatives of the players association meet face-to-face today in the warmest issue between the two groups — player pensions.

The players, led by Bill Howton of Green Bay, have asserted that if the association accomplishes nothing else it will fight for pensions for pro football players.

Advised by atty. Creighton Miller and with the help of such insurance executives as former pro football star Bill Dudley, the association is prepared to show the owners that a plan is feasible.

On the other side of the fence, Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL has said flatly the owners cannot afford a pension. He says such a plan for pro football "just isn't feasible."

Bell insists the slightly over 4-year career of an average pro footballer is too short to warrant a pension. He winds up his oration on the subject with the perfinent question: "Who is going to pay for it?"

The commissioner says the clubs can't pay for it, pointing out that in 1958, the best year attendance wise in the league's history, one team lost money and two others were on the border line.

Howton and Miller claim to have the answer. They asked Bell and the owners to take time out from their annual winter meeting to talk things over. The commissioner obliged. The meeting was scheduled for 11 a.m. today. Bell said all 12 owners have signified their intention to be present for what could be a showdown on the subject.

Carl Rose Buys Driving Range

Bill Brode, owner of Brode's driving range on Dixie Highway for the past nine years, has sold the range to Carl Rose and is establishing residence in Palm Springs, California, where he plans a similar operation.

Rose, Pontiac business man, made final the purchase this week and hopes for an early opening at the first break of the weather in March.

Rose said he plans to improve the range and the parking facilities, and will also promote classes for women.

COLT CHOICE — John Herrnstein, Michigan fullback, who was sidelined most of last season with a leg injury, was chosen in the 21st round by the Baltimore Colts in yesterday's NFL draft.

West Virginia Tackle Is 1st to Be Picked

U. of D. Halfback Lone Gridder From Michigan in Detroit Choices

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Lions' coach George Wilson said today he was delighted with the players acquired in the National Football League's 13-hour-long draft session.

Wilson and his aides picked a host of offensive linemen and a number of players they hope to work into their defensive backfield next season.

The Lions picked only one player from a Michigan school yesterday, Bruce Maher, the flashy young University of Detroit halfback.

But Maher, a junior, won't be able to play for another year. He was eligible for the draft, however, because his class graduates in June.

Wilson said he considers Maher a "fine prospect. We are impressed by his speed and hard running."

The Lions picked Maher in the 15th round of the 26-round session. He carried the ball 127 times for a gain of 526 yards for the Titans last fall.

Dick Guesman, an offensive tackle from West Virginia, was the Lions' first choice yesterday. It was actually the sixth round of the draft.

The first four rounds were run off last Dec. 1 and Detroit did not have a choice in the fifth round.

Picked yesterday in addition to Guesman and Maher were: center Ben Donnell, Vanderbilt; tackle John Linden, Oregon; back Carl Smith, Tennessee; back Jack Laraway, Purdue; guard Harry Jacobs, Bradley; tackle Ron Stehouwer, Colorado State; back James Steffen, UCLA; center James Baldwin, McMurray; tackle George McGee, Southern A. & M.; end Jack Rudloph, Georgia Tech; tackle Dave Holden, Los Angeles State; tackle Rufus Granderson, Prairie View; center Dan McGreg, Purdue; back William Davis, Richmond; tackle Lebron Shields, Tennessee; tackle Sal Cesario, Denver.

The most notable of the eight Michigan players selected by other NFL teams were two University of Michigan stars — fullback and captain John Herrnstein and quarterback Bob Ptacek.

Ptacek was picked by the Cleveland Browns in the eighth round and will likely become a defensive specialist for the Browns. In the draft last month, Cleveland picked Michigan State tackle Francis O'Brien and Michigan end Gary Prahst.

Herrnstein, sidelined much of last season with a knee injury was selected by the Baltimore Colts. The NFL champion Colts also selected Michigan State tackle Palmer Pyle.

One of Pyle's teammates, Ellison Kelly, a guard, was taken by the New York Giants in the fifth round. Back Robert Bercich, another Spartan, was also selected by the Giants.

The Washington Redskins selected Michigan guard Gerald Merchiniak and the Chicago Bears picked Willie Smith, a Wolverine tackle. Detroit tackle John Dingens was chosen by the Chicago Cardinals.

The Los Angeles Rams selected two Michigan State gridders, back Blanche Martin and tackle Larry Cundiff.

PCH Must Be Careful With Saginaw

Trojan Quintet Top Offensive Unit in League

Bob Parker Now Holds Overall Scoring Lead Among SVC Cagers

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Caution is the watchword for Pontiac Central this week. The Chiefs face a high scoring Saginaw High quintet Friday night and the slightest letdown could burst the PCH bubble.

The Trojans toyed with Bay City Handy, 80-61, Tuesday night with senior forward Bob Parker scoring 38 points. This outburst gave Parker the overall lead among Saginaw Valley players with a total of 161 points in seven games for a 23 point average.

Charley Barge is still the top scorer in four league games with 80 points and a 20 point average. His average is 21.5 overall.

Saginaw is also now the top offensive team among SVC schools with 434 points in seven games. The Trojans are 2-2 in conference play and 3-4 for the season, but five of the seven games played have been on the road.

Besides Parker, Saginaw has guard Jim Gronski as the other half of its 1-2 scoring punch.

Gronski has amassed 140 points for a 20 point average, and he is Saginaw's leading floor man.

Sophomore forward Jerry Tillman, Louis Economou and R. A. Stephens complete the starting lineup for Saginaw. Tillman is the team's third best scorer. He carries a 10 point average.

The Chiefs will go with the regular lineup of John Bandy, Bill Hayward, Harrison Munson and Phil Rabaja along with Barge, but coach Art Van Ryzin is expected to give couple of his reserves some grooming so as to find an adequate replacement for the graduating Barge.

Henry Robertson, a 5-11 guard who can get up high off the floor is presently Barge's understudy. George Fed, who did an outstanding job rebounding last week against Flint Northern and Amos Bailey with a potent one hand shot are the others on whom Van Ryzin will be depending.

The Chiefs will need the victory to pad their SVC lead and hold the top position in the rankings. After another home game against Arthur Hill next week, PCH will have to go on the road for three of their last four league contests.

Indianwood CC Names Yankee

Veteran Pro Selected to Succeed Dietz at Lake Orion

Indianwood Country Club has named Ralph Yankee, veteran Detroit pro, as successor to Mike Dietz who resigned following the 1958 golf season.

Yankee, a resident of Birmingham, had been at the Country Club of Detroit from 1953 to 1955 and at the Detroit Yacht Club since 1955.

A pro since 1942, he is a native of Independence, Missouri, where his dad was the pro at Independence CC.

After he turned pro, Yankee was the head man at the Western Golf Club in Los Angeles from 1945 to 1952, following service with the Army Air Force in China during WWII.

Yankee is married and has three children. He said he is presently considering an assistant.

Let's Celebrate, Wings Beat Black Hawks, 3-2

CHICAGO (AP)—It may have cost the Detroit Red Wings a party with all the trimmings. But they don't care.

Last night they won a hockey game. They beat the Chicago Black Hawks 3-2. It was their first victory in 10 games, first of 1959, second in 16 games. And they did it with Bob Perreault subbing for goalie Terry Sawchuk.

The rare victory kept the Wings out of last place in the National Hockey League. They remained a point above the tail-end Toronto Maple Leafs, who beat the first place Montreal Canadiens 3-1.

The party idea was coach Sid Abel's. He remembered a 13-game winless streak by the Wings when he was team captain and star center in 1946. General manager Jack Adams tossed a party complete with steaks, wine and music.

Adams's plan worked. It relaxed the Wings and they broke the streak in their next game.

"Perhaps a party is what this club needs," said Abel before his players skated out on Chicago Stadium ice last night.

Rookie Charlie Burns was the hero who ended Detroit's victory drought.

Burns, with assists from Pete Goegan and Nick Mickoski, poked in the goal that broke a 2-2 deadlock at 5:5 of the final period.

Johnny Wilson had gotten the Wings off ahead with his 10th tally early in the second period. Ron Murphy tied the game for Chicago and then Norm Johnson put the Hawks ahead. But Jack McIntyre's goal squared the score before the middle stanza ended.

Wilson's and McIntyre's markers were scored on power plays.

Perreault, pressed into service when Sawchuk came up with an ailing shoulder, stopped 21 shots, one more than Chicago's Glenn Hall. Perreault was on loan from Hershey of the American Hockey League.

Sawchuk is due back Saturday when Detroit returns home against Chicago. The Wings are home again Sunday against the Canadiens.

Red Kelly returned to the lineup after missing several games with a bruised foot.

Robertson 1st in Point Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, like most of the nation's other college basketball players, took the week off for mid-term examinations.

But he was given a passing grade today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau for his first semester work on the hardwoods through games of Saturday, Jan. 17.

Robertson, last year's scoring champ, topped all scorers with his 32.5 points per game average. A 40-point splurge against Drake last Saturday beefed up the average.

The big Indianapolis, Ind. native has 390 points in 12 games to show a better than three point lead over Marshall's Leo Byrd and Mississippi State's Bailey Howell, each with a 29.2 average.

Expansion Talk in Detroit Sessions

NBA in 'Momentus' Confab

DETROIT (UPI) — The National Basketball Association, hurting at the gate in five of its eight cities today was expected to take action on the question of expansion.

The most persistent requests for franchises have come from Los Angeles and San Francisco and said others are on file from Chicago, Houston and Portland, Ore.

Podoloff and the owners of the eight clubs were scheduled to meet this afternoon with the NBA annual East-West all-star game coming up at the Olympia tomorrow night.

Podoloff said today's meeting could be "one of the most momentous in NBA history."

Other top items on the agenda are Minneapolis Laker president Bob Short's requests for a re-play of last Friday's game against the Cincinnati Royals in Charleston, W. Va., the playing of league games in non-league cities and officiating.

Laker Star Elgin Baylor refused to play in the Charleston game which Minneapolis lost, after he and two Negro teammates were refused rooms in a Charleston motel.

The possibility is slim, according to one club official, of bringing in any new teams for the 1959-60 season. He said, however, there is a good chance franchises will be awarded for the 1960-61 season to allow new owners more time to iron out arrangements.

Podoloff said all the present owners told him "they intend to stay where they are." He added that in the event one West Coast city is added another would also come in as in the case of San Francisco and Los Angeles in baseball.

The only teams making money now are Boston and St. Louis, the eastern and western division leaders, and New York. Attendance has picked up in Minneapolis due to Baylor, but elsewhere there is red ink and the teams who don't draw at home don't get a percentage of the gate when they play in the cities where the sport is success.

Two clubs are banking on next year—Philadelphia and Cincinnati. Both hope to sign home-town stars. The Warriors have the rights to big Wilt (the Stilt) Chamberlain and Cincinnati has the right to Oscar Robertson, high-scoring star at the University of Cincinnati.

The NBA's executive committee, headed by Detroit Piston owner Fred Zollner, already has prepared a formula to stock new franchises with personnel. Each club would put a specified number of players into a pool and the new teams then could buy one from each club. Certain draft concessions also would be made.

Kerbawy Dispels Rumor

'Pistons Here to Stay'

DETROIT (AP) —The Detroit Pistons are not for sale, coach Red Rocha's job is safe and the club will stay in Detroit for many more seasons.

Those are the points general manager W. Nick Kerbawy made yesterday.

The former general manager of the Detroit Lions took time out from all-star game preparation to do what he called "dispel all these unfounded rumors."

"I've never been accustomed to instant success," he said, "and I don't think it's impossible to sell something overnight in sports. We're patient and we intend to stay in Detroit and watch basketball grow."

"Sure," said Kerbawy, "a championship team would answer all the questions at the box office."

He recalled his early days with the Lions "when all we had was empty seats."

"It took three straight championships to set up the Lions on a sound, financial basis," he added. "When I came with the pro football club in 1948, there were about 1,800 season ticket holders.

"Basketball must grow the same way. The public will come to know and understand the game. After all, the National Basketball Assn. is less than half as old as the National Football League, and there was an ill-fated professional football venture in Detroit before the Lions succeeded.

Santa Anita Entry Tomy Lee Upset

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — The 1959 Santa Anita Derby picture was a blurry one today.

Tomy Lee, the pride of the West and unbegten in six previous California races, was decisively whipped yesterday.

A razor-sharp colt named Ole Fols, like Tomy Lee sired in England by Tudor Minstrel, administered the upset. Ole Fols' stablemate in the Neil S. McCarthy string, Finnegan, was a fast closing third.

Ailing Olmedo Makes Australia Semifinals

ADELAIDE, (AP) — Playing with a heavily taped midsection Alex Olmedo, U.S. Davis Cup hero, rallied from the brink of defeat today to enter the semifinals of the Australian National Tennis Championships.

The Peruvian from the University of Southern California, who had been forced to withdraw from the doubles yesterday because of a strained stomach muscle, vanquished Ulf Schmidt of Sweden in a five set struggle 6-4, 9-7, 3-6, 3-6, 3-6, 7-5.

Also entering the round of four were top-seeded Neale Fraser who beat his fellow Australian Don Candy 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4 and Aussie Bob Mark who upset Spain's Andres Gimeno 6-4, 3-6, 7-5, 6-4. The other scheduled quarter-final between Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, and Aussie Roy Emerson was postponed until tomorrow.

Ex-Giant Pitcher Dies

LONG BEACH, N.Y. (AP) — George (Hooks) Wiltse, ace southpaw pitcher for the New York Giants in the early part of the century, died Wednesday night. He was 78.

Gator Bowl Boss Prefers Atlantic Teams

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — An Atlantic Coast Conference football team is to be preferred over one from the Southeastern Conference in selections for the next Gator Bowl game, says George Olsen, Gator Bowl Assn. general manager.

This is his personal opinion, not a Gator Bowl policy, Olsen said in an interview yesterday. But he said he will recommend it to the selection committee when the new president, John Piombo, names a committee.

Olsen expressed dissatisfaction with the recent change in Southeastern Conference regulations on splitting bowl game money.

Yardley Up, Pistons Down

FALLSINGTON, Pa. (AP)—George Yardley can't be blamed for the Detroit Pistons' downfall any more.

The 1958 National Basketball Assn. scoring leader is back on the beam. But the sagging Pistons continue to lose. Last night, in the high school gym of this Trenton, N.J., suburb, the Philadelphia Warriors beat them 112-105.

It was the Piston's fourth straight loss.

Yardley got 33 points. Over the weekend he had 20 and 22-point outputs back-to-back. His scoring slump seems over.

The balding jumpshot artist's failure to repeat last season's production had brought him criticism. Some observers claimed he was at the root of the Pistons' troubles.

The Warriors jumped off to a 15-point lead in the first quarter last night. They boosted it to 59-36 at halftime when Detroit managed to score only 13 points in the second period.

Yardley paced a Piston comeback that reduced the Philadelphia lead to 92-87 with 8:20 left. But a Warrior counter-attack tucked the game away. Yardley scored 25 of his points in the second half.

Paul Arizin, the NBA's second leading scorer, tallied 35 points for Philadelphia.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, the United States' No. 1 amateur player, served as a pilot in the Air Force during World War II with the rank of first lieutenant.

St. Louis—Mickey Mantle failed to hit a homer in Baltimore in 1956 but he came through with three in 1957.

Holly at Keego, Dragons vs Avon

Holly's visit to West Bloomfield and a Lake Orion-Avondale clash feature a full slate of prep activity for Class B and C hoop teams in this sector tonight.

The Broncos have been rolling along close on the heels of unbeaten Brighton in the Wayne-Oakland race but every game is a "must" one from here in.

They will find no easy task at Keego Harbor unless they can bottle up John Lucadam pretty well. The same is true of Brighton which will be at home against a fast-improving Clarenceville five.

Clarkston, even more so than Holly, needs to keep winning from now on to remain a threat. The defending champions will host a Bloomfield Hills quintet which has failed to hit the form expected of the Barons earlier. Milford seeks its 2nd victory against Northville.

Avondale and Orion are currently locked in a tie behind Troy and Fitzgerald in the Oakland B chase with 2-2 records. Both have been unpredictable from week to week with the Dragons appearing the more steady over-all.

Fitzgerald and Troy hook up in a big battle while Clawson meets Madison rounding out the slate.

Unbeaten Rochester seeks more state prestige and its 8th successive win at home against Lapeer in its 2nd Tri-County outing. The Falcons and tomorrow visitors each have 1-0 marks thus far. Romeo meets L'Anse Creuse in the other loop tilt.

Millington at Ortonville and North Branch at Oxford make up the South Central slate with 1st place occupant Imlay City idle.

A full Southern Thumb schedule will be highlighted by a battle between two of the three teams deadlocked for the league lead. That game will have New Haven at Almont. Anchor Bay, the other frontrunner, will visit Armada. Dryden goes to Brown City and Memphis vs Capac in others.

Other games in the area will have Royal Oak Shrine at St. Theresa, Utica at Lakeview, South Lyon involved in a 1st place duel with Boysville in the League of the Lakes, and Oak Park at Lamphere.

Says "People Come to the Ball Park"

Mays Likes New Home With 'Frisco Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that Willie Mays is the richest man on 168th street he can't live in peace. People keep calling him up in the middle of the night (say 11 a.m.), asking to talk and take pictures.

"Where's all that dough?" a visitor asked of the man who signed with the San Francisco Giants for a reported $80,000 salary. "I thought you'd have the floor paved with $100 bills."

Willie smiled. "Uncle Sam gets most of that," he said. "It's all right as long as you can keep a little."

Mays owns a four-story apartment house off Broadway, a block off the subway. It juts up from the street like a San Francisco hill. About 30 steps and you are there.

The late movie and the late late movie keep Willie glued to the television set, until the wee small hours. Consequently he sleeps late. A little basketball at the "Y" and a few games of pool in the finished basement help pass the time.

Willie's wife left for San Francisco earlier in the week. The Giants' center fielder will follow after the Feb. 1 dinner of the baseball writers.

After a year in California, it seemed the time to ask Mays for his reactions to his new summer home.

"It's all right," he said. "People come to the ball park. That's what I like."

How about the people who booed last spring?

"The people out there treated me real well," he said. "Those that booed, I think, were people who never had been at a game before. You know, they didn't know what to expect.

"Now I think the people realize they really have big league ball. A year has gone by. They are getting used to the idea of the Giants, not the Seals (San Francisco's old minor league team). I think it will be different."

And the ball club. Can the Giants do better than third?

"I hope we finish higher," he said. "The main factor is the pitching. We score a lot of runs. We had a lot of new boys last year, like (Orlando) Cepeda, (Jim) Davenport, (Willie) Kirkland and (Leon) Wagner. They should play better ball.

Six Bengals in Fold Now; Allen Park Pair Join Farm System

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers have signed six players to 1959 contracts.

The latest in the fold were Ozzie Virgil and Steve Demeter, rivals for a third base job with the Tigers. Both returned their signed contracts yesterday.

Virgil batted .244 last year after being called up from Charleston. He was the first Negro ever to play with the Tigers. Virgil has been playing in a winter league in the Dominican Republic.

Demeter hit 18 home runs, drove in 88 runs and had a .309 batting average with Birmingham last season.

The Tigers also announced that two Allen Park boys, southpaw hurler James Fekete, 18, and catcher Gerald R. Thome, 19, have signed contracts with clubs in the Tiger farm system.

Smith Believes Hillsdale Can Win Santa Anita

DETROIT (AP)—C.W. Smith's Hillsdale, the new darling of racing fans everywhere, goes after $187,000 top money next weekend in the Santa Anita maturity.

Smith believes his horse can win it. The Detroit Engineering executive, who makes money on engineering and racing and loses it promoting fights, is thinking positively about the big race.

Smith said he expects a field of 15 or 16 horses entered in the $200,000 race, which will be run over a mile and a quarter distance.

Hillsdale, the surprise champion Smith secured for $25,000, probably will carry top weight.

Skippers vs Walled Lake Friday

By CHUCK ABAIR

A pair of up-and-down local basketball teams throw all past records out the window tomorrow series.

The game will be Walled Lake at Waterford — the first of two season meetings between the Inter-Lakes League rivals.

Future I-L entry Pontiac Northern resumes play after a 10-day break playing at Cranbrook, while Farmington visits unbeaten Berkley and Southfield meets Van Dyke in other loop games.

Birmingham is host to Mt. Clemens, Ferndale, unbeaten in the league, is at Royal Oak Kimball and East Detroit visits Hazel Park in the Eastern Michigan completing the area Class A slate.

The Skipper-Viking tussle shapes up as another rugged duel with Walled Lake rated a very slight favorite on its better league record. Another factor is that the Vikings beat Van Dyke which nipped the Skippers last week.

John Shadford's quintet has lost two straight after winning two for a .500 loop record while Waterford is 1-3—losing by one point twice and by three the other time.

Each lost to Southfield by one. Waterford bowed to Berkley by three and the Vikings lost to the Bears by 19. Yet, Walled Lake rolled over Farmington by 16 and Waterford turned the trick by just one.

Waterford's attack has been built around center Barry Campbell with the rebounding and scoring of Dale Mahrle supplying considerable spark.

Kirk Evans and Bill Smith have combined to handle most of the Viking scoring thus far.

Pontiac Northern will be trying to find its winning ways again following a battering by Waterford.

The Huskies will take a 2-4 record to Cranbrook. The Cranes bowed Tuesday snapping a four-game victory streak and are now 4-2.

Northern skipper Dick Hall has been trying to come up with more scoring help for sharp-shooter Mike Fedynik and Bruce Norton. Cranbrook has shown its best scoring power in several years.

Farmington has won three straight following a slow start and is currently deadlocked with Walled Lake and Southfield at 2-2. Defending champion Berkley can boost its state rating higher by winning No. 9. Southfield is still smarting from an upset by Farmington a week ago and may have its hands full with Van Dyke.

Lew Parry has been having its problems at Birmingham. His record now stands at 2-4 overall and 1-3 in the league. The loop setbacks have come in succession in close contests. Merv Gallup's big scoring nights had made the Maples a strong threat before he cooled of at Ferndale.

Ferndale will be heavily favored for its 5th straight against hard-luck Kimball. East Detroit goes after its 4th triumph in five starts.

Yanks, Russians Win in World Hoop Tourney

SANTIAGO, Chile, (AP) — The United States and Russia still were favored to battle it out for the World Amateur Basketball Championship today after chalking up opening round victories in the round robin tournament matching teams from seven countries.

The U.S. represented by hand picked personnel from the Air Force, edged Bulgaria 63-58 last night and Russia, after a shaky start, downed Puerto Rico 84-55.

In handing the Bulgarians their first defeat after they had won three in the preliminary rounds to qualify for the final round robin, the U.S. pulled away late in the second half. The Americans also won all three of their games to qualify for the final competition, which started Tuesday night with Chile beating Nationalist China 86-85 in overtime.

Tonight's games send Brazil, another unbeaten team in the prelims, against Nationalist China and Chile against Puerto Rico.

The Russians and Bulgarians went into action after indicating they might withdraw if Nationalist China was permitted to compete. They claimed that Nationalist China is non-existent country.

For the time being, however, they were satisfied when the draw called for Russia and Bulgaria to meet the Chinese in their final games on Jan. 30 and 31, respectively.

The Americans led the Bulgarians by only 27-26 at the half and trailed during the early part of the second period. But they finally tied the score at 47, and traded the lead several times until it was knotted again at 53.

Dick Welsh, former Southern Californi star, and Jerry Vayda, ex-North Carolina Stater then took charge as the Americans put on an all-court press. Welsh ended up as the leading scorer with 20 points, one more than Vayda.

Friday's SCL Contests End League Round Robin

Suburban Catholic Basketball League this weekend will have completed its "round robin" swing, and next week heads for the final roundup.

The parochials' top squads, with one exception, have met every other loop school. St. Frederick, one of three clubs possessing a record marred by only one loss, travels to St. Rita Friday night to complete its cycle. Pontiacs's other SCL club, St. Michael, will go against St. James at Ferndale, while St. Clement is at Royal Oak St. Mary.

Orchard Lake St. Mary and St. Benedict are idle until next Tuesday. Ravens spoiled the Eaglets' clean record, Tuesday, in a wild battle at Highland Park.

Orchard Lake mentors said that mid-term examinations are being held this weekend and the club welcomed the respite. Eaglets go to RO St. Mary for their 2nd meeting with the Irish.

Rams are favored to join OLSM and Ravens in a triple knot going into the final three games. Rams defeated St. Benedict in overtime, 26-24, meet them again on Feb. 6 in PCH. St. Mary faces Ravens only once.

In the meantime, during the final round, St. Michael will play the role of spoiler for Eaglets and Rams, playing them three days apart, on Jan. 30 and Jan. 27, respectively.

League title is based on results of the full 10-game SCL schedule. St. Benedict is defending champion. Eaglets were second in 1958.

Al Manley with 18 for Jefferson and Dave Plourde and Dick Delano with 12 each were the other top scorers in the Jefferson-Northern game.

30 Elks Teams in State Meet Saturday

Lady Bowlers Resume Action in National Here

State Men's, Eagles' Other Tournaments Are Going Strong

Another big weekend is on tap for the men and women bowlers of the Pontiac Elks Club as play resumes in two big tournaments.

A total of 30 men's teams will be traveling to Ann Arbor over Saturday and Sunday in an invasion of the Michigan Elks tourney on the 2nd weekend of the annual affair.

Also in the 2nd round will be the Ladies National Invitational being held here at the Lodge 810 alleys with participants from five states taking part.

The men will be out to do something about an almost complete sweep of 1st places made by Ferndale keglers last weekend. A small local group failed to place among the leaders.

There will be 58 doubles teams and 116 singles entries from the Pontiac lodge battling for some of $14,722 in prize money during he two days.

Except for team standings, Pontiac people were pretty well left out of the running as the women's tourney started last week.

Thirteen teams, 13 doubles duoas and 26 singles contestants will be representing Pontiac this weekend in the Invitational against topnotch performers from St. Louis, Missouri, Royal Oak, Port Huron, Ann Arbor, Kalamazoo, Monroe and Muskegon.

Also entering their 2nd weekend of activity will be the state men's tournament for all men at Detroit and the Eagles' state meet at Adrian.

Most people spend a lifetime trying to bowl a 300 game but Pontiac's Bob Gormong has accomplished the feat twice in as many months here.

His latest perfect game was Monday night in the West Side Classic. It helped Stroh's pick up three points in one of the city's top leagues.

It was his first sanctioned 300 since the December effort had been during open bowling at Motor Inn where he competes in a house league. Bob has already received a $50 gift from West Side proprietor Sam Perna and plans are in the making to present him a huge trophy. He also will be honored by ABC.

It was the first perfect performance in 13 years of league bowling for the employe of a local distributing firm. The score enabled Gormong to also hit his 1st loop 700 series. His other totals were 170 and 228 for 708.

"I was plenty nervous and thinking of it all the way. The other boys helped me a lot by talking it up so I couldn't notice my knees shaking," said the happy veteran who carries a 192 average.

Another West Sider to top 700 for the 1st time recently was Al Papazian who totaled 720 featuring a 257 game. He is among this sector's most improved keg stars with only four years league experience.

Both Gormong and Papazian are added candidates for the Pontiac 700 Chapter Clark Balch is trying to form. Another meeting is set for Sunday.

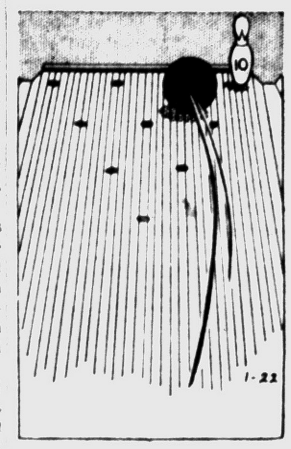

HERE AND THERE

Julie Wiginton and Violet Rowden, both of Shaw's, have rolled the only all-spare games in the Ladies All Star league . . . Many area keg fans were rooting for Joe Joseph in the big tourney at Buffalo. He has made a lot of friends here as an instructor at Huron Bowl . . . Frank Mitzel, secretary of the Greater Detroit Bowling Association, has 11 grandchildren.

Add top scores: D. Johnson 245 and M. Collins 649 in Lake Orion Men's A; Lois Arms 232 and R. Peterson 620 in Lakewood One O'Clock; C. Mason 257 and 661 in Elks House.

Also, C. Wooley 237 in Cooley Junior House; C. Nelson 266 in Multi-Lakes at Maple Lanes; M. Dwire 238 and E. Beanblossom 602 in Ladies Huron House; and M. Smith 234 in Elks Ladies' Monday loop . . . 15 Huron Classic members averaging 200 or better.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

Missing the 10-pin on the left, as shown in today's drawing, is a common fault of bowlers with a big, wide-breaking hook. It can also bother a bowler with a short hook when he faces the alleys that make his ball hook more than normal.

A smart bowler will learn when and how to adjust if he misses the 10-pin. He'll make a mental note to adjust a bit when he has the same shot again. Perhaps he will increase the speed of his ball a bit to cut down on its hooking action. That's the touch of a real expert. Or maybe he'll just reduce his finger lift or wrist turn a bit to get the same results—less hook.

The point I'm making is that the smart bowler will know when and how to make any adjustments.

Fazio Starts Lakewood Series

'Beat the Pro' Saturday

Nationally famous bowling star Buzz Fazio will launch the "Beat the Pro" series at Lakewood Lanes Saturday night when he competes against four area keglers who have survived an elimination series.

Coming here fresh from an impressive showing in the big All-Star event at Buffalo, the diminutive former captain of the three-time national champion Strohs team of Detroit will also be at Lakewood in the afternoon for an instruction session.

A long list of prizes has been set up to cover the monthly program. Top awards will go to anyone beating a pro or to those coming the closest in score to the guest.

There will also be awards for high series, high game and others. All prizes are donated by area merchants and the sponsoring "house."

A red-hot elimination duel is planned for Saturday in order to determine Fazio's opponents. Two will come from league participants and two will be open bowlers.

Lakewood proprietor Bill Kuklinski has been listing the top series rolled by keglers in both groups for several weeks. The 1st 16 on each list by Saturday will enter the eliminations. Open hopefuls will start at noon followed by the league members at 1 p.m.

Fazio will arrive here direct from a Detroit event. The former ABC Masters champion now captains the national champion St. Louis Falstaffs. He made the All-America team four straight years and twice shared national doubles titles and has one of the few 300s ever rolled in the annual B.P.A.A. All-Star.

HERE SATURDAY — Former ABC Masters champion Buzz Fazio will be the 1st guest star as Lakewood Lanes begins its "Beat the Pro" series Saturday night. He will give instructions during the afternoon.

Boom to Continue, Says Boat Industry

Judging by manufacturers' plans for the 1959 Chicago National Boat Show Feb. 6-15 in the International Amphitheater, the boating industry expects the boating boom to continue, according to executive director Guy W. Hughes.

An audit of the sold-out exposition, said Hughes, shows that most major exhibitors have increased their space orders over last year. As a result, he said, it seems likely that the show fleet in 1959 will be even larger than in 1958, when 827 craft were on display.

The outboard boat segment will again make up the largest part of the fleet, Hughes said. He attributed this "to the fact that outboard-powered boats represent the big majority, about 76 per cent, of the 7,330,000 recreational craft in use on U.S. waters."

4th Annual UP Skate Saturday

ESCANABA (UPI) — Defending Class A women's champion Patty Rose Murphy of Escanaba will lead a field of about 40 skaters in the 4th annual Upper Peninsula amateur freestyle figure skating meet here Saturday.

The meet, which will be held in the indoor rink at the Upper Peninsula state fairgrounds, has drawn entries from Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Norway, Gladstone, Escanaba and Stambaugh plus the Wisconsin border cities of Marinette, Peshtigo, Niagara.

Titles will be decided in Class A, B, C and D for men, women, boys and girls.

WHAT'S THIS? — It isn't realy a double exposure as it may appear. This gathering of femininity was snapped by The Press photographer as they sat inside the lodge at Mt. Christie after an afternoon of skiing. The shrubs and cars are the reflections on the window as the photo was taken quickly from the outside. In the picture are Mrs. Hugh Martin and Mrs. Hugh Loud of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. W. Tambke, Mrs. John Kerr and Mrs. George Lowden of Birmingham, Mary Ann Pultorak, Carol Brader and Joan Dunn all of Madison Heights. The girls gave the photographer big photogenic smiles.

Winter Sports Grow in County

9 Skiing Areas Now Available Around Pontiac

Enthusiasm for Winter Sports Grows as More Ski Clubs Are Added

Oakland County, a summer recreation haven for golf and water sports with its 432 lakes, is rapidly growing into a paradise for winter enthusiasts as well.

County residents needn't go hundreds of miles north or west for winter recreation any more.

Ski clubs and slopes, toboggan runs, skating area have popped up all over the county in the past few years.

Skiing is available at seven locations inside Oakland County plus two places just outside county lines.

Extensive facilities can be found at the Mt. Holly, Mt. Christie, Grampian Mt. ski clubs. Recreation areas at Teeple Hill on M-59, Kensington Park, Pontiac Lake (operated by the Kandahar Ski Club for members) and Bald Mountain have slopes for experienced and beginner skiers.

WORD FROM A PRO — If you want to learn to ski the first bit of good advice is to go to the pro or instructor at your favorite ski club. At Mt. Christie, 27-year-old Michel Turcotte (in foreground), a professional from Quebec holds classes in the afternoon and evening for beginners.

Skiing Also Has Its Own Terms to Be Learned

In golf it's "fore," but in skiing it's "track" when the signal is given to look out ahead.

On the golf course it's called the "divot" and it should be replaced, but in skiing it's "sitzmark" and its a hole in the snow made by a fall and it should be refilled.

Here are some ski terms to learn.

Christie—Fast swing turn with skis remaining parallel.

CHAPTER XXXIII

Struggling, the Admiral sat up and was helped to his feet by Ferdy and Angus. "Perfectly all right. Nothing to worry about."

The words were steady, but it was clear to the others that he was badly shaken. Leaning on Ferdy's broad shoulder, supported on his other side by Lord Lorrimer, he began a slow ascent of the bank. The others fell in behind, and the melancholy procession made its way back to the coach.

Angus let them go. He wanted a moment to himself. He wanted to be alone, to think—and to look. The Admiral had seen something up there among the trees. Somebody had been creeping away. Creeping away from what?

It was not long before he found out. It was a crude enough trap—a hastily arranged, loose arrangement of hanging branches looped in such a way that, if unseen by somebody coming towards it, it would trip him and send him into the river below.

It was not a long drop; it would not be a dangerous fall; a stumble, a wetting and perhaps some minor injuries.

The Admiral had seen it—and he had seen somebody creeping away from it. He had given chase, but he had found that his speed and strength were not what they had once been. He had fallen, and now he was on his way to the coach between the twin supports of Ferdy and Lord Lorrimer, his arm sprained, or worse, and his whole frame severly shaken.

Angus tore the branches of the clumsy trap apart, and prepared to follow the others. At his feet he could see signs of the struggle that had taken place when the Admiral had so nearly caught his man.

A stronger hold, a firmer grasp, and he would have had him. But the hold had slipped, and the man had got away.

And then he saw on the ground something else.

HIS HANDS SHOOK

He stared incredulously at it for some moments, and then stooped and picked it up. He held the tiny scrap of material in his hand, and as he gazed at it, anger, black and sticking, blurred his sight and made his hands shake.

He thrust the piece of cloth into his pocket, and after waiting a moment to regain control of himself, walked swiftly after the others. Angela turned and waited for him, and as he drew near, came to meet him and stared in surprise at his expression.

"Angus, what's the matter?"

"Nothing."

"You're . . . you look terribly white."

"I'm all right. We'll . . . we'll talk about it later."

She walked by his side, saying nothing, and he was grateful to her; he needed a little time to force himself back to coolness. He brought his mind, with an effort, back to the Admiral, and fell into step beside Mrs. Denby-Warre.

"We'll go on to Salamanca," he told her quietly. "It's only a matter of forty miles. They'll get us a doctor, and we'll be able to make the Admiral comfortable in his own room."

She nodded. She was the picture of composure, and he began to feel a new respect for her.

"Why did he shout and begin to run?" she asked.

"I daresay he'll tell us when he's feeling a little better."

They made the Admiral comfortable in the two seats vacated by the Zollers. He lay back on one, the other, turned about, made a support for his legs. Ferdy drove at speed, but with a skill that roused Angus' admiration. The Admiral said little, but he said it with force.

"Not going to be left behind in this Salamanca place," he told Angus. "Don't you think it for a moment."

They reached Salamanca, and Angus remembered that he had stayed, not so long ago, in a large room in a house situated in a street that led off the famous Plaza Mayor.

It had been a noisy room, for the few hours he had spent in it each night, he had been unable to sleep—but his days had been filled with interest; he had seen everything that was to be seen inside famous buildings, and then he had wandered through the streets of the city, falling hour by hour more deeply under the spell of its beauty. Salamanca, with its gold in stones . . .

And he was here once more, but there was nothing more in his mind than anxiety about one man, and a longing to get his hands on another and reduce, once and for all, his nuisance value.

Gloom filled him as he remembered that he had considered himself, on the whole, a fairly good judge of men. He had believed himself capable of making a reasonable good estimate of character—but in this case he had been, he acknowledged, miles off the mark. He had been fooled.

Worse, he had been treated like a backward boy, and he had fallen an easy victim to smooth talk. Perhaps it was salutary to learn that he could be as big a fool as anyone else.

Ferdy brought the coach to a stop before a beautiful building decorated with an ancient coat of arms. The Green Empress staff, dark, serious, polite, showed genuine concern for the Admiral's mishap. He was helped upstairs to his room and made comfortable, and a doctor was sent for.

"How long do we stay here?" the Admiral wanted to know.

"Only one night, sir. We leave in the morning."

"And I leave with you," stated the Admiral flatly.

"Of course, my dear," said his sister soothingly. "Did anybody suggest you stay behind?"

"They'd better not," grunted the Admiral.

The doctor, arriving with commendable speed, proved to be a tall, grave, middle-aged man who said little, but handled the patient with expert gentleness. Angus was present as interpreter, and Mrs. Denby-Warre stood quietly by, ready to assist if necessary.

"Don't know what he's diagnosed," said the Admiral at the end of the examination, "but you can tell him from me that I'm all right and that I'm going on to Lisbon in the morning." He glared at the doctor and addressed him in a loud, clear tone, enunciating each syllable with emphasis. "Arm all right," he informed him. "Arm O.K. Speak French? Bras bong; rien the matter with it whatsoever."

The doctor bowed, and in a rapid Spanish informed Angus that the arm was sprained, but not badly.

The gentleman should, in his opinion, rest for twenty-four hours, at his age, and with his build, it was not wise to ignore the effect of shock. But, if, as was to be seen, it proved too difficult to persuade him to go to bed, no great harm would be done if he insisted upon continuing the journey.

"What's he say?" demanded the Admiral suspiciously.

"He says that if you feel equal to going on, you can do so, sir."

"Said that all along," stated the Admiral. "Got sense this chap, not like some foreigners. Tell him I said so, and thank him and get rid of him."

With the departure, some time later, of the doctor, Angus prepared to withdraw. The injured arm was in a sling, and the Admiral's sister had cleaned him up and restored him to something like his normal neatness. He thanked her gruffly and grinned up at Angus.

Mrs. Denby-Warre smiled at him.

"It wasn't altogether a surprise to me," she reminded him. "I knew. I felt inside here"—she indicated, with the utmost delicacy, her bosom—"I felt that something was going to happen to you. And my dream, if we may call it a dream, came true."

Leaders Predict Business Will Continue to Get Better

NEW YORK (AP)—Business will keep on getting better in 1959 but there are some troublesome "if's" on the economic horizon. That's the consensus of business leaders in talks prepared for a meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board (NICB) today.

"All together, the outlook for the railroad industry is better than a year ago but not as bright as we would wish," said William White, president of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad Co.

Freight traffic, the financial lifeblood of the railroads, should increase about 10 per cent over 1958, he said, but the burden of passenger deficits will grow heavier.

More optimistic was T. F. Patton, president of Republic Steel Corp., who declared: "We are not anticipating a record year, but it should be one of the best years in our history." Steel production should total 110 million tons vs. 85 million last year, he said.

Roy C. Ingersoll, chairman of Borg-Warner Corp., a major supplier of automotive parts, said growing popularity of small foreign cars will affect sales of U. S. autos.

"This year's car production has been forecast all the way from 5½ million units up to 1957's production of 6,120,000," he asserted. ". . . my own forecast is somewhat on the low side—that is, between 5,000,000 and 5,200,000."

Joseph A. Grazier, president of American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp., the nation's biggest supplier of plumbing and heating equipment, forecast a continued high level of home building—if Congress and the federal government cooperate.

If Congress votes additional funds to keep the various federal housing agencies functioning and if interest rates are favorable, he said, "we can expect that the volume of new home building in 1959 will amount to about 1,170,000 to 1,200,000 units—virtually the same as in 1958."

Ralph Lazarus, president of Federated Department Stores, said big store sales will hit a new peak in the first six months this year—up 4 or 5 per cent over the first half of 1958.

FTC Files Complaint on Benrus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Benrus Watch Co. Inc., New York City, today was accused by the Federal Trade Commission of fictitiously pricing its watches and misrepresenting their quality.

The complaint also named a Benrus affiliate, Belforte Watch Co. Inc., also of New York.

According to the complaint, purported retail prices advertised by Benrus and Belforte and printed on tickets attached to the watches are fictitiously high.

Because of this, it charges, advertised trade-in allowances on old watches will not produce a savings for the purchaser.

The complaint challenged the companies' guarantees as deceptive.

The FTC said advertisements stating that low-priced models are available at the company's retail outlets are false. The commission alleges that these claims are made merely to lure purchasers into the stores so they may be induced to buy more expensive watches.

Benrus and Belforte have 30 days in which to answer the complaint. Hearing is scheduled for March 16 before a FTC examiner in Washington.

Union to Drive for Pay Boosts

AFL-CIO Spurns Ike's Plea to Curb Increase in Wages

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders, spurning President Eisenhower's renewed plea to curb wage increases, meet today to chart a new drive for pay boosts.

Al G. Hayes, president of the Machinists Union, said in advance of a meeting of the AFL-CIO Economic Policy Committee he does not agree with the President's wage-price policies.

Saying prices and overly high profits are to blame for inflation, Hayes added that "I don't agree with the implication that decent wage rates are responsible.

Hayes is a member of the AFL-CIO policy group headed by United Auto Workers chief Walter Reuther. Its position has been that wages are too low in relation to costs and profits.

The President's annual economic message to Congress Tuesday said most indicators are pointing upward but renewed inflation could retard recovery prospects.

Eisenhower urged business to keep down prices and labor to confine wage increases to improved output.

Similar Eisenhower pleas for moderation have fallen on deaf ears in the past. Both consumer prices and wages are now at record highs by the government's measurements.

Detroit Area Steel Mills at 96.1 Pct. of Capacity

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit area steel mills have scheduled operations at 96.1 per cent of capacity and expect to produce 144,870 tons of steel this week.

Iron Age, the national metalworking magazine, said the figures compare with actual production last week of 144,700 tons or 95.5 per cent of capacity.

In the same week a year ago production had fallen to 51 per cent of capacity, resulting in production of 66,300 tons, the magazine said.

Man-Eating Sharks Both Smell, Hear

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Sharks can smell and sharks can hear, says a scientist who observed them from a submarine cage.

Conrad Limbaugh of the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography also reported that the so-called man eaters could be kept away by a repellent color or odor.

He said they hunt mostly by smell, by swimming up current. They responded to pounding on the metal side of the cage, by swimming to investigate it.

Experience Teaches

ORISKANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Fire Chief Carl Smith said "I don't know if the experience was worth it" after he got a chance, for the first time in 28 years, to drive the village fire truck. The fire was at his own home and it caused an estimated $1,500 damage.

Business and Finance

Grain Futures Show Activity

CHICAGO (AP) — Small gains were numerous today in light early grain futures transactions on the Board of Trade.

The possibility of small export business in wheat, corn and soybeans helped steady the market but none of the sales was expected to be large. Pakisan was reported to be in the market for wheat, Greece for corn, and Moracco for soybeans.

Brokers said in a report that the Commodity Credit Corp. sold upwards of 200,000 bushels of soybeans at Iowa points yesterday. The beans were loan-defaulted stocks, and dealers were of the opinion the sales may be only the first of many that will take place during the next few months.

Wheat was ⅛ to ¼ cent a bushel higher near the end of the first hour, March $1.97¾; corn ¼ to ½ higher, March old type contract $1.15; oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, March 67¼; rye ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, March $1.36⅜; soybeans unchanged to ⅜ higher, March $2.20⅛.

Hibernation Out for GOP Elephant

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — President Eisenhower told the Republican National Committee Wednesday that the GOP must not become a "hibernating elephant" that awakes only at election time.

In a message to National Chairman Meade Alcorn, the President called for a sustained year-around program of Republican campaigning which would imprint the image of "progressive leadership" on the party.

This was in harmony with Alcorn's own recommendations to the National Committee in its initial meeting of a two-day session that the party "preach and practice an enlightened Republicanism 365 days a year."

Saluting Alcorn's proposal for formation of a year-around campaign staff, Eisenhower said the session here should become 'the first step in a continuous work program of the Republican party that will never cease."

"I deeply regret that some people look upon our party as a kind of hibernating elephant who wakes with a mighty trumpet blast at election time and then rests calmly until the next campaign," Eisenhower said.

"Political activity must be a matter of unremitting effort. It must go on 365 days a year if we are to maintain the vitality that has made our nation great. Only 658 days remain until the next national election. We must make each of them count. Every day we lose is one we can never get back."

Eisenhower called for action to induce a "clear understanding of our long-range objectives." Only in this way, he said, "can we lift creative Republicanism to new heights of national achievement."

Newspaper Ads Hike Car Sales

American Motors Cited by ANPA Group for 1958 Campaign

CHICAGO (AP)—American Motors Corp. has been cited for consistent and imaginative newspaper advertising which contributed to an 80 per cent increase in sales in 1958.

The citation was handed to George Romney, American Motors president, by Charles Lipscomb, president of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. Romney was guest speaker Tuesday before members of the Newspaper Advertising Executive Assn. meeting in Chicago.

Romney received the first copy of a brochure prepared by the Bureau of Advertising describing American's emphasis on newspaper advertising in 1958, the year American sales increased 80 per cent while other major producers of automobiles suffered sales declines.

American devoted more than half its advertising budget to newspapers. The brochure quoted Roy Abernathy, American vice president in charge of automobile distribution and marketing, as saying American plans an even heavier newspaper advertising campaign in 1959.

Earnings after taxes and before dividends totaled $608,609.96, he said.

R. C. Cummings, another board member, was reappointed president. Six other officers were reappointed.

Oils and Airlines Lead Market Up

Gains of leading issues went from fractions to about a point. A number of key stocks was unchanged. Fractional losers peppered the list.

Royal Dutch, which paced the market yesterday, added more than a point. Texas Co. and Gulf Oil rose fractionally. Superior Oil of California was about unchanged after breaking through the 2,000 mark yesterday when it rose 85 points.

American Airlines was about the best of its group as it gained around a point. United Air Lines and Eastern Airlines were fractionally higher. Pan American World Airways eased following yesterday's upside splurge.

His Nice Watchdog Was Thief's Friend

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Wilton Wahl was fed up with the thief who was stealing archery equipment from his car. He planned an ambush.

First he put some bows and arrows in the front seat. Then he put his watchdog in the back seat. He then climbed to the roof of his house to get a clear view of the scene. Several hours passed but Wahl could see no burglar. He climbed down and found: His bows and arrows gone, his dog resting comfortably.

Williams Busy on His Budget

Long-Range Plan Won't Be Ready This Week as Expected

LANSING (UPI) — The Legislature marked time in red ink today while Gov. G. Mennen Williams polished a budget that probably won't be introduced until next week.

Three bills which would ease the immediate cash crisis by mortgaging the Veterans' Trust Fund were ready for introduction today even though an attorney general's ruling on legality of the plan has yet to be made.

But Williams' aides indicated his long-range budget plan, expected to top 400 million dollars, won't be ready this week as expected.

Meanwhile, there were other money matters among the top capitol developments.

—Williams, who held tax huddles yesterday with industralists, bankers and municipal officials, scheduled more tax conferences.

—Senate Majority Leader Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) urged Williams and the Legislature to "restrict state spending to the bare minimum necessary to support only the most essential state services."

—State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown said the state general fund was down to 12 million dollars, which is the amount needed to meet payments to local governments Feb. 1. But he emphasized the situation was "fluid."

Introduction of the Veterans' Trust Fund bills would give the Legislature its first chance to grapple directly with the state's mounting fiscal emergency.

Missile Made by Chrysler

Jupiter Test Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Army says it has hit the target on the 13th launching of its Jupiter intermediate-range ballistic missile.

The first tactical model of the 60-foot war rocket soared 1,700 miles over the Atlantic Wednesday night on another sucessful space test, the Army said.

This was the first Chrysler Corp. Jupiter flown. The previous ones were fabricated at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

The new Jupiter was very similar to the operation version that will be assigned to NATO forces in Europe in the near future.

It was the first Army launch since Dec. 13 when another Jupiter carried a small monkey named "Gordo" on a 1,500-mile trip. Although the firing was termed successful the monkey was not found.

At Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., launching of the first satellite there has been postponed for technical reasons.

The launching, scheduled for Wednesday, was set back more than 24 hours, but the Advanced Research Projects Agency gave no further details.

Pickle Packers Push Picnics With Pickles

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Pickle packers presume the public prefers pickles on picnics. What's more, the National Pickle Packers Assn. convinced Gov. Ernest McFarland.

He proclaimed a 10-day National Pickle Week in Arizona urging Arizonans to picnic with pickles and to pick up litter at picnics.

Own Coffee Grown by Wisconsin Youth

STURGEON BAY, Wis. (AP) — The most exotic tree in Door County is a full-size coffee tree grown by Lonnie Kopitzke, Ellison Bay high school youth.

The tree bore its first crop last spring and recently produced its second crop, several hundred beans.

Lonnie's father, editor of the weekly Door Reminder, plans to serve his son's own brand of coffee to the local Lions Club.

The tree was started nine years ago when Lonnie plated six seeds sent him by the president of a coffee company in reply to the boy's letter asking for information about raising the South American tre.

Chevrolet Parts Namer Has 48,000 Items in His Catalog

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry provides a number of unusual jobs—squeak and rattle engineers, meteorologoists, promotion planners, scientists, metallurgical experts and scores of others.

One of the strange assignments is given to the man who thinks up names for all the new or redesigned parts that go into the automobile.

The latest count shows there are more than 13,500 parts in an automobile. But each maker boasts parts can be supplied for many older models. Robert D. Pursley, who handles this job for Chevrolet, says the list of items requiring part names, runs up to 48,000.

Pursley says he found names for about one-third of that total. In addition to the names he also supplied parts numbers for them. A name has to be supplied for every new part or every time a part is redesigned.

The names have to describe the function of the unit as nearly as possible. That's why, says Pursley, a part may be called "car heater and evaporator air distribution duct valve rod and tube assembly," instead of something shorter.

The specific identification, he explains is necessary, too, to make the most effective use of the space assigned to storage of the parts, maintain uniform means of identification throughout company operations and aid in communication.

Records of part numbers and names are kept on a cass of cross-indexed file cards that total close to a quarter million.

Pursley has had 20 years of experience in records procedures at various General Motors divisions. He says that hitting on the right name for a specific part often is tough.

"Sometimes a name may come to me at the dinner table and I start chuckling. My wife has become used to this."

Pursley's job, incidentally, is identified as that of "part number assignment and nomenclature man of the records and specifications department."

His job is matched by all the other major car makers as is one of the newer assignments—the pasting of price labels on new car side windows. This is required by federal law and it involves a huge amount of detail.

The price label is made up from the initial car order. The order, with all the minute detail of power steering and power brakes, automatic transmission, tire size and options, and dozens of other extra-cost items, moves from the dealer to zone office to assembly plant.

The specifications sheet follows the car down the assembly line. The price label is based on the specifications sheet. The label goes on the side of the newly assembled vehicle after it moves off the assembly line. In the case of cars shipped by rail the label is affixed at the loading dock. For those shipped by haulaway truck it is placed on at the driveout gate.

The meteorologist has an assignment at the car makers' proving grounds. His job is to keep the testing departments advised of weather prospects so that certain types of experimental runs may be made in the desired weather.

The squeak and rattle engineers, of course, are the men who spot chronic noises and make recommendations for correction.

Frondizi Meets With Ike Today

Argentine Chief Slated to Outline Economic Plans at Session

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON—Argentine President Arturo Frondizi was expected to outline his country's economic plans today in a call on President Eisenhower.

Frondizi's White House call was the only "business" session he has scheduled with Eisenhower during his current four-day state visit to Washington.

Argentina last month received 329 million dollars in credits from this country and the International Monetary Fund. Frondizi was to tell the President the role the credits play in stabilizing the Argentine economy.

Frondizi also may lay the groundwork for future long range economic cooperation from the United States in the form of development loans and an increased flow of private capital.

He also will confer today with Eugene Black, president of the World Bank. Argentina is interested in obtaining credits for power development.

Printers leaders of 62 unions voted in a secret meeting to send their members back to work today. It was believed holdouts, mostly industrial workers, would return to their jobs in droves.

Even though unsuccessful, the strike brought sabotage acts, bomb explosions and scuffles which left some workers and troops wounded. It cost some 200 million dollars.

Consumers to Improve City Electrical Service

More than $250,000 will be invested in electrical improvements in Pontiac under a $16-million expansion program announced for this year by Consumers Power Co.

Division Manager David H. Gerhard said most of the money will be spent on natural gas service in areas surrounding Detroit.

Pontiac projects include installation of facilities to serve additional new electric customers, Gerhard said, plus construction of an addition to the Bartlett substation to increase the amounts of power available in the area it serves.

Also in downtown Pontiac, improvements will be made in the underground electric service system to help assure continuity of service in the business district, he said.

Other projects include construction of two new 24-inch transmission lines and extension of 325 miles of new gas mains to serve about 23,000 customers the company expects to add during the year in the metropolitan area.

One of the lines is to run 21 miles from the Northville natural gas field to Clarkston lines of the Michigan Gas Storage Co. The other will be 10 miles long, from Royal Oak to 11-Mile road and Mound road.

Consumers expects to have 100,000,000 cubic feet a day more gas available at the end of the year, and the gas lines expansion is designed to accommodate this, Gerhard explained.

$269,868 in Taxes Owed by Wade

But Charity Rackets Parolee Is Broke, So Can't Pay It

Morrison T. Wade, parolee from a charity rackets sentence, owes the U.S. government $269,868 in income taxes and interest, a federal judge ruled today.

But the Oakland County man's lawyer, Anne P. Davidow, said the government has little chance of collecting. She said Wade, 57, is broke.

Wade operated the now defunct Society of Good Neighbors in Detroit. He was paroled recently from Southern Michigan Prison after serving three years of a sentence of 4 to 10 years. He was convicted after a 102-day trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the public.

He was found guilty of having accepted charitable donations of clothing and furniture, which he later sold to enrich himself.

The tax deficiencies ruled on today were for the years 1943-47. The tax and interest assessment was set by U.S. District Judge Ralph M. Freeman. Wade has 60 days to appeal if he desires.

His attorney said Wade now lives in Keego Harbor and does clerical work in Pontiac.

Warns of Deadline in West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The deadline for voters to register for the Feb. 2 school district election is 5 p.m. tomorrow, School Superintendent Dr. Clef Hougen announced today.

Residents of the district will be able to register in the Sylvan Lake City Hall, the Keego Harbor City Hall and the West Bloomfield Township Hall, depending on where they live.

The election will decide on a proposed $400,000 school district bond issue and a school tax increase of 3½ mills which would raise the tax to a total of six mills.

The bond issue has earmarked "not less than $250,000 for the Roosevelt School," Dr. Hougen said.

"If both issues are approved by voters, the Board of Education intends to reduce the school debt millage to 2½ mills. This will mean a total increase of approximately 1¾ mills," he added.

Wholesale Gas Prices Cut 1½ Cents in Area

Major firms have cut the wholesale price of gasoline in the Pontiac and Detroit areas by nearly 1½ cents, John W. Nerlinger Jr., executive secretary of the Retail Gasoline Dealers Assn. of Michigan, announced today.

The cut was initiated Saturday by Sinclair Refining Co., he said. It has resulted in most large companies selling regular grades at 28.9 cents a gallon and premium grades at 32.9 cents, said Nerlinger.

Wants to Boost Social Security Earnings Ceiling

Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) today introduced a bill to boost the maximum amount a person could earn and still qualify for social security benefits.

Broomfield said the new bill, if enacted into law, would permit persons receiving benefits to make up to $3,000 yearly in outside jobs, compared to the present limit of $1,200.

The change is needed, said Broomfield, to "give our senior citizens a chance to make ends meet."

"The present unrealistic regulation on outside earnings is keeping many of these people in a perpetual state of want," he said.

"They can't take outside jobs because they will lose their monthly social security checks. But they can't make ends meet on present social security payments and the small amount of outside work which they are permitted under the existing law."

The bill, similar to the one Broomfield introduced last year but which never got out of committee, was referred to the House of Representatives' Ways and Means Committee.

The proposed new legislation would "put an end to exploitation of many of our retired persons," the congressman said.

Voters Defy Snow

PLAINWELL (UPI)—Voters in this Allegan County community braved the year's worst snow storm yesterday to go to the polls and approve a $1,300,000 school bond issue by a 629-318 vote.

Waterford Family Feels Its Neighbors Are Best

Leon Adams and his family, whose Waterford Township home was gutted by fire last November, believe they have the "best neighbors in the world."

That fateful day when he and his family returned from a short automobile ride and found nothing but the blackened walls of their house standing seems like a bad dream now.

Aided by neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kline of 1165 Coshocton St., a small house was found and the three little Adams' girls, Cinty, six-months, Delorus, 2, and Wanda, 3, were fed and clothed.

Furniture began to pile up in the barren donated home, along with more food and money.

Then neighbors organized a building bee. Remains of the old charred structure were torn down, debris hauled away, and building materials began to appear, as if by magic.

Windows arrived fom the Benson Lumber Company, roofing boards and studding from Roth Lumber, and Burmeister's supplied all the roofing shingles.

Adams and his brother, Donald, were out of work, so together they began to build a new house on the foundation of the old one. Today, there is an almost completed shell at the site.

To complete the building project, folks in the Chetolah Shores Civic Association want to get the house in condition for immediate occupancy. This means plumbing and some insulation will be needed.

The group is sponsoring a benefit dance for the Adams family Saturday at the Community Activities Center.

The Hoe-down-Aires band will play for square and round dancing from 8:30 p.m. until midnight. All proceeds will go into the Adams' building fund.

Reservations must be made as the CAI dance floor has a limited capacity. They may be made by calling or writing to the Klines.

Woman Slain in Apartment

Detroiter, 73, Beaten, Strangled, Assaulted by Sadistic Killer

DETROIT (AP) — The savagely beaten body of a 75-year-old woman was found in her downtown Detroit apartment last night.

Homicide detectives said the woman, Mrs. Helen Van Riper, appeared to be the victim of a sadistic killer. She had been strangled, beaten about the face and head, and apparently raped.

"This is the work of a vicious, sadistic killer," said Inspector Richard Miller. "We are looking for a man who, after he kills, appears to find fiendish glee in mutilating the bodies of his victims."

The Wayne County medical examiner, Dr. Edward S. Zawadzki, said Mrs. Van Riper had suffered several broken ribs. In addition, he said, a tremendous force had been applied to her neck which crushed the vertebrae.

Dr. Zawadzki said he believed the killer pressed a rung from a broken chair down on her throat after strangling her.

Time of the attack was placed at about 9 p.m. Tuesday. But it wasn't until the manager of the apartment checked the source of a water leak last night that the body was found.

Area Slaying Suspect Arrested in Chicago

A transient railroad worker sought for questioning on a robbery-slaying in Royal Oak was arrested by Chicago Police yesterday in a skid-row tavern and turned over to the FBI.

Held in Chicago on $20,000 bond is John U. Graddy, 27. He is charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for robbery.

FBI agents said Graddy has admitted striking George Scholar, also a transient, with a pick-axe during an argument and taking $55 from the victim's wallet. Scholar was living in Royal Oak at the time.

He was attacked on Aug. 16, 1958 and died as the result of the attack two months later. Royal Oak authorities then filed murder charges.

A hearing is scheduled in Chicago for Monday, pending the arrival of papers on the case from Royal Oak.

6 Crewmen Perish as AF Plane Falls

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — A four-engine Air Force refueling plane crashed and burned early today shortly after takeoff on a routine training mission. England Air Force Base said all six crew members died in the flaming crash.

The plane, a converted B50 bomber, took off with six other planes on an early morning refueling mission. The England control tower said the pilot radioed just after he took off that the plane was in trouble and he was returning to the field.

BUSY! BUSY! — A Clarkston High School graduate-to-be, Mrs. David Land, finds life a little complicated raising two babies while studying assignments. She and her husband quit school when they were in the 11th grade, in 1955. However, she enrolled in September, and has acquired enough credits to graduate with high honors, Friday.

Mother of Two Will Graduate at Clarkston High Tomorrow

CLARKSTON — Determined to complete her high school education, a Clarkston mother of two small children will be honored as the "number one" graduate tomorrow.

In fact, Mrs. Gerald Land (Carol Traylor) will be the only mid-semester high school pupil to graduate at this time. She is now a trained secretary with an "A" average, after being away from school for more than 3½ years.

In 1955, the 17-year old school girl fell in love with a classmate, Gerald. They were in their junior year when they felt that love could not wait' — and despite parental pleadings, the two quit school and were married.

Two years later little Debbie was born, and then came David, 13 months later. Gerald went to work in a factory, but was laid off last January and hasn't worked since that time.

The young family went to live with Carol's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Traylor. It was through her mother's urging and Carol's driving ambition to have a worthwhile education, that the girl decided to re-enroll in high school last September.

She needed only 1½ credits in order to graduate, but this time Carol had gone back to school to really learn something. She took every course that was offered in office work, including comptometer, filing, bookeeping, typing and advanced shorthand.

Carol's teachers say that she has maintained an "A" average ever since her enrollment, and now at the age of 21 Carol believes that she is a much wiser person than when she quit the 11th grade.

Carol plans on taking Debbie and leaving her parents' home Sunday on a bus headed for Florida. Her husband, Gerald has been there since October and has a promise of a good job.

"Young people who quit school to get married, just don't have any idea of what they're getting into," Carol said.

Governor Egan Showing Some Improvement

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — William A. Egan, Alaska's young Democratic governor who has been hospitalized since his inauguration, was reported resting comfortably.

Dr. Henry Bosshard, resident surgeon at the hospital where Egan underwent an emergency operation Tuesday, said he looked in on the governor late in the evening and found him still holding his own.

Egan, given only a 50-50 chance to recover when he was operated on for a bowel obstruction and paralysis of the abdomen, showed some improvement Wednesday afternoon.

To Vote on Bond Issue March 3 in Waterford

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night set March 3 as the date for a special election for the approval of a $5 million school bond issue and a 5-mill tax increase for operating expenses.

The bond issue would provide funds for the construction and equipping of a new senior high school, five elementary schools, five additions to present buildings and for purchase of future school sites.

Supt. William Shunck had been instructed by the board to present official resolutions for the special election as compiled by Detroit bonding attorney Claud Stevens.

A compilation of existing Board of Education policy statements was presented to the board by Shunck. Members will study the report this month for action at the next meeting.

Anticipating the opening of the new Thomas M. Cooley Elementary School in early February, the board has approved several changes in staff personel.

The present principal of Waterford Village School, Mrs. Ruth Ermel, has been named new principal of the Cooley School. Senior high teacher, Donald Arsen will replace Mrs. Ermel.

Assistant principal of Isaac Crary Junior High School, George Madden will become assistant principal at the senior high school and Paul Ripley, a high school teacher, will replace Madden at Crary.

Board members discussed dedication plans for the new John D. Pierce Junior High School and decided to set the date for sometime in April.

City Teenagers to Hold March of Dimes Drive

Teenagers throughout the city who are members of the Teens Against Polio will conduct a drive at main intersections and shopping areas Friday and Saturday, selling miniature lapel tags in the form of blue crutches.

John C. Cowe, Pontiac campaign director of the 1959 March of Dimes, announced that this year, the tags will identify donors to the expanded National Foundation program which will now include research in arthritis and birth defects as well as polio.

Musical Show Set for Friday

Special Hour Comedy Features Diana Dors and Sidney Chaplin

Phil Silvers and Sgt. Bilko will meet for the first time in an original, hour-long musical comedy, "The Phil Silvers Pontiac Special," Friday on Channel 3 (9:00-10:00 p.m.).

The quartet of writers for Phil Silvers' regular weekly program, plus Broadway composer-lyricist Ronnie Graham, have put to music a hilarious escapade in which Silvers' famed Sgt. Bilko, in order to make a success of the camp show which he is staging, connives to have assigned to his outfit a top male star, Chaplin, who is returning to military service.

On discovering the plot and the fantastic personality of Bilko, Chaplin persuades the double-talking sergeant that his life story should be made into an Army musical. Bilko agrees—until he learns that Cary Grant is unavailable for the title role and that the lead will be offered to Hollywood star Phil Silvers. Bilko goes to Hollywood to meet Silvers, who is at the moment preoccupied with Miss Dors, and the result is uproarious lunacy.

The program, live from New York, will mark the comedy star's second departure from his famed Sgt. Bilko role in his own Phil Silvers Show since this award-winning comedy series began in 1955. Last May Silvers starred in his first hour-long special, also sponsored by the Pontiac Division of General Motors Corporation.

BIG CHIEF SILVERS—In character for his special Pontiac show Friday night is Phil Silvers, starring with Sidney Chaplin and Diana Dors. The hour long musical comedy has Bilko meeting Silvers in Hollywood.

Gene Tierney Returns to Mental Institution

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Gene Tierney has withdrawn from a comeback movie role and returned to a mental institution, her studio says.

The 20th Century Fox Studio said Wednesday Miss Tierney has re-entered the Menninger Clinic at Topeka, Kas. She withdrew from the movie "Holiday For Lovers," which begins shooting in 30 days.

Miss Tierney, 37, spent eight months in the institution before being discharged last September. She had spent 18 months earlier in a private institution in Hartford, Conn.

$210 Cow Is Victim of Space Age

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP)—A government experiment may cost $210 additional because of what it did to a curious cow.

Farmer A. L. Starkey sent a bill for that amount to Weather Bureau officials who, in turn, forwarded the message of the cow's death to Washington.

Weatahermen sent balloon to the earth's outer atmosphere. It burst and then settled back to earth—in a pasture occupied by Bessie, a 3-year-old polled Hereford.

She munched on the equipment and despite efforts of a veterinarian, she died.

"You can call Bessie a victim of the space age if you want to," said Starkey. "But she was worth $210—maybe more."

Decorum Means More Than Decor to Official

SCARBOROUGH, England (UPI) —The low couches in the mayor's meeting room have been replaced at the request of Deputy Mayor Ida Hardcastle.

"It was difficult to keep one's decorum when sitting on them," Mrs. Hardcastle explained. "It was like trying to get into a sports car without showing your underwear."

Assessment Rate for Drain Clarified

SOUTHFIELD—Oakland County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry today clarified the assessment rate estimated for the proposed Eight Mile storm drain district.

The rate for the average homeowner would be about $460, which could be paid (with interest) over a 30-year period, he said.

Monday, The Pontiac Press erroneously described the rate as $460 a year over a 30-year period.

There are five times more men who are alcoholics than women. A typical victim is 35-45 years old, a skilled worker, married, owns his home, and has two or three children.

Zsa Zsa Gabor Plans to Wed in Three Months

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor finally has set the approximate date for her marriage to wealthy contractor Hal B. Hayes.

"We will be married in about three months," she said Wednesday night as they arrived by plane from Albuquerque, where she had accompanied Hayes on a business trip.

Both she and Hayes denied their marriage plans had been held up by a dispute over whose house they would live in after the wedding. Each has a beautiful home.

"We're going to build a new house," said Zsa Zsa.

Convention Vote Changes Asked

Says Those Voting on State Constitution Meet Should Decide

LANSING (AP) — A cut in the number of voters needed to authorize a convention for rewriting the state constitution was proposed today by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton).

Conlin said he wanted to amend the constitution so that the majority of those voting in the convention proposition could put it across. Currently, it takes a majority of those voting in the election, and many do not bother to vote on the proposal.

Twice in the last 11 years convention proposals have failed even though they got favorable votes. In 1948, 855,000 voted yes and 799,000 no. Last year 821,000 voted yes, 608,000 no. In both instances, they lacked a majority of the total vote in the election.

"The proposals failed because of the apathy or ignorance of people who don't vote on the question," said Conlin. "I don't believe these people should have the controlling vote on such an important issue."

Conlin's resolution needs a two-thirds favorable vote in both the House and Senate to go on the April ballot.

Flint Grandmother 'Just Starting'

Earns B. A. Degree at 70

FLINT (AP)—Mrs. Bessie M. French, who has 14 grandchildren, will receive her bachelor of arts degree at University of Michigan commencement exercises in Ann Arbor Saturday.

She earned the degree at the university's Flint College.

At 70, Mrs. French said she is looking forward to a new career. She calls it "reading for fun." She majored in English but she says her studying days are not over. She plans to take a non-credit course in French.

"I want to be able to read in French as well as English and German," she said.

Mrs. French is a registered nurse who has retired three times. She received her training at the South Chicago Hospital in Chicago, graduating in 1913.

School Issue Spotlighted on 'Lost Class of '59'

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Any comment on the subject matter of last night's CBS-TV special, "The Lost Class of '59," would be outside my domain. However, I think some points can be made safely:

—A show of substance is always welcome in the prime time swampland.

—"The Lost Class of '59," an Ed Murrow-Fred Friendly offering, was a show of substance about the controversy over school integration in Norfolk, Va. Although the show added little that was new, it performed a quite valuable service: It dropped into focus both sides of the battle for viewers in a neat one hour package.

—The show was constructed along the brilliant lines of the old "See It Now" shows. One typical Murrow-Friendly technique was used to good effect last night — cross cutting between speeches made by partisans of both sides.

SHORT SHOTS: CBS-TV's Armstrong Circle Theater begat a moderately interesting critter last night in "The Man With a Thousand Names." It was a true drama about a newsman who turned writer and made $300,000. Unfortunately, he made it all by writing bad checks and was jugged during his literary spree by a hard working cop, Larry Gates and Milton Selzer as jugger and juggee turned in commendable jobs.

Now that Ed Wynn's dreary NBC TV situation comedy has folded, it's heartening to see him back in harness as a clown. Wynn's appearance on the NBC-TV Milton Berle show last night was a salutary addition to the schedule.

THE CHANNEL SWIM. There's a strong possibility that Frank Sinatra will return to ABC-TV next season in a series of one hour specials for a cigarette firm. . . . "Your Hit Parade" will close its season on CBS-TV on April 24.

Playhouse 90 will return to CBS-TV next season, but the series may be sliced from 39 to 26 shows . . . Sid Caesar, Art Carney and Audrey Meadows will tape a special one hour variety show on Feb. 14 which will be seen on NBC-TV May 3—it replaces "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," originally scheduled for NBC-TV on that date.

NBC-TV's Tic Tac Dough is looking for Lt. Jim Astrue, a 26-year-old Air Force officer, who was incorrectly judged wrong on a quiz answer this past Monday—Astrue had won $65,600 when he was knocked off . . . Leo Durocher is bowing out of the emcee job on NBC-TV's Jackpot Bowling starting this Friday—he'll be replaced by Mel Allen.

Bing Crosby Enterprises is preparing a series about a lawyer for ABC-TV—it stars James Whitmore and is called "Lincoln Jones" . . .

Carnegie Fund Rewards Few

Committee Must Sort Out Those Deserving Gifts for Heroism

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — "John Morris, 60, gate tender, died saving an unknown woman from being run over by a train, Hartford, Conn., May 19, 1906."

"Seeing that the woman was about to be struck by a fast approaching train, Morris left his post of duty, ran in front of the train and pushed the woman from the track, but in doing so was struck and instantly killed."

So reads the official account of one of the first of 4,197 acts of heroism which the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission has rewarded during its more than 51 years of paying tribute to what is perhaps the rarest of all human achievements: Complete selflessness.

Andrew Carnegie set up the fund in 1904 after an explosion at the Harwick Collieries took 178 lives.

But it wasn't the direct human toll alone that moved the steel magnate. "I can't get the women and children of that mine disaster out of my mind," he confided to a friend.

Carnegie decided "to place those following peaceful vocations, who have been injured in an heroic effort to save human life" — and the survivors of those who die in such attempts — "in somewhat better position pecuniarily than before."

The Scots-born industrialist transferred five million dollars to the commission and designated the United States, Canada, Newfoundland, "and the waters thereof" as the area "embraced by the fund."

Since then, the commission has made payments totaling $8,497,183 to heroes and their survivors. It awards gold, silver and bronze medals. In 1957 alone, it paid out $115,104 to 180 persons in the form of monthly pensions.

Each year, according to David B. Oliver, manager of the Hero Fund Commission, "we receive from 300 to 400 applications" for hero awards. "Most of them reach us through the mail. A newspaperman in Chicago or a housewife in Los Angeles may know of an heroic deed and write us about it."

Then, he continued, "the applications are investigated and qualified through our office staff and if the deed passes the initial tests, a field worker is sent to the scene.

He talks to witnesses, get the exact circumstances of the incident and writes a complex report which often runs into several typewritten pages."

Oliver explained that the case is next submitted to the fund's executive committee and then to the full 19-member commission for final approval and determination of what sort of award is called for. Fewer than 100 cases get that far.

Snow Removal Expert Won't Work at Home

LANSING (AP) — W. C. Wadelich, dispatcher for the city's snow removal crews, worked through the night sending out plows and trucks and handling hundreds of telephone calls.

Then his wife called up to report: "The car is stuck in the driveway, Honey."

23 Dalmatian Puppies Want to Be Mascots
