U.S. Marines Land in Lebanon at Ike's Order

Maintains 22 Questions on His Business Deals Are Not Relevant

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Millionaire Bernard Goldfine, in the face of an almost certain contempt charge, today stuck by his refusal to answer questions of House investigators about his tangled financial dealings.

The gift-giving friend of Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams said the House influence inquiry should be halted while a federal judge decides if the questions are relevant to the probe. His suggestion was rejected.

Goldfine was called to face a showdown on his refusal to answer 22 questions by the subcommittee members. He said again today that they were not relevant.

The textile tycoon read into the record a statement originally offered by his Boston attorney, Samuel P. Sears. The lawyer had been prevented from delivering the full statement and Goldfine was allowed to read it after he swore that he spent two hours to help prepare the document.

Sears said he had reviewed Goldfine's refusal to answer despite orders from Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) and had concluded again that the inquiries were not pertinent or relevant.

The attorney charged that the subcommittee's questions were aimed solely at "embarrassing and exposing alleged derelictions of Mr. Goldfine" and at laying groundwork for a contempt proceedings against him.

SEEKS ADJOURNMENT

Sears proposed the public hearings be adjourned immediately while he files a petition in Federal District Court for a declaratory judgment to "decide the present controversy as to the relevancy of the questions asked by the committee or its counsel."

Harris shut Sears off before he was well into his five-page statement on grounds the lawyer was present to advise Goldfine of his constitutional rights and not to "argue a legal point."

The chairman shrugged off Sears' proposal, saying that to suggest the subcommittee "abdicate its responsibilities . . . doesn't seem to me to be a reasonable request."

SEARS MUST WAIT

Harris said the subcommittee would meet behind closed doors this afternoon and Sears would have an opportunity then to argue legal points.

As Goldfine went before the subcommittee for his sixth day of questioning, it was learned that a new investigation of his income tax returns is in progress.

Sputnik to Be Visible Over State Tomorrow

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Russian Satellite Sputnik III should be visible over Eastern Michigan tomorrow night, the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said today.

The sphere is expected to pass over eastern Lake Ontario after moving through western New York between 8:25 p.m. and 10:10 p.m.

Sputnik III now is circling the globe every 104 minutes, the observatory said.

Wants to Plead Guilty to Escape County Jail Food

The cuisine at the Oakland County Jail prompted a 21-year-old Pontiac Township man yesterday to plead guilty to burglary so that he "could get up to Jackson Prison and get some good food."

But Norman K. Smith, of 1698 Taylor Rd., will have to wait it out at the jail — food and all — until next Monday.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams ordered him back there to reconsider his request to change a plea of innocent to guilty for breaking into the Union Lake Lumber Co., 7234 Cooley Lake Rd., last month.

Smith, who stood mute July 7, said the only reason he wanted to plead guilty was that he was "starving to death" at the County Jail.

"I realize the food is not comparable to that in our better restaurants," replied the judge, "but before I'll accept any change of plea it must have no relationship with the condition of the food at the jail."

Town Battles Its Worst Flood

Streator, Ill., Stricken; Fire, Explosion Leave 4 Dead, 10 Injured

STREATOR, Ill. (UPI) — This community of 17,000 battled its worst flood in history today in the wake of fire and explosion that destroyed a four-story hardware building, killing at least four persons and injuring 10.

Residents braced for even greater flood damage as authorities warned a giant crest was surging down the Vermillion River toward the city.

Torrential rains ranging up to six inches yesterday triggered the floodwaters which threatened to knock out the city's water and sewage disposal plants. About 500 persons were evacuated from their flooded homes last night.

The floods also were blamed for a sewer gas explosion and fire yesterday that ripped apart the Williams Hardware Co. building in the business district.

Firemen poured water on the smoldering building throughout the night and planned to enter the burned-out shell today to recover at least three bodies believed pinned in the debris.

The double-barrelled flood and fire disasters attracted thousands of persons, first to watch the spectacular blaze and then to watch and lend a hand to flood victims.

About 2,500 volunteers sandbagged a levee around the sewage disposal plant, barely keeping ahead of the fast-rising water.

★ ★ ★

The river climbed to about four feet above the 49.4-foot flood stage early today and Mayor Ray Eutsey predicted it would rise another three or four feet before receding. The stage was more than a foot over the high point of 1951, the worst previous flood here.

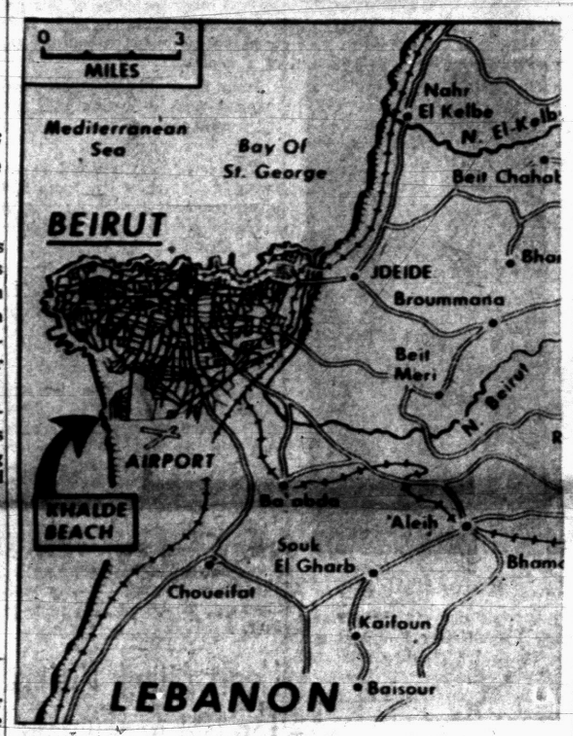

Moose in Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) — Moscow was invaded today for the first time since Napoleon turned the trick — by a herd of wild moose. They left their nearby forests, swam across the city's northern river and lay down to dry out in a park as surprised Muscovites looked on.

U.S. Sixth Fleet Marines Land in Lebanon

RIDE TANKS ASHORE — Rifle-bearing Marines of the U.S. Sixth Fleet ride sides of tank as it splashes into surf from landing craft at recent maneuvers at Dikili, Turkey. Today, the White House announced that the Marines have landed in Lebanon. Map locates Khalde beach, south of Beirut, where the Marines went ashore.

Cuban Rebels May Release U.S. Servicemen Today

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP) — Cuban rebels still held 29 U.S. sailors and Marines today but there was some hope the scheduled start of their release yesterday had only been delayed by rain.

Helicopters were scheduled to take off from the U.S. Navy base on Guantanamo Bay today for the assembly point in the east Cuban mountains to which the rebels were supposed to bring the servicemen they kidnaped nearly three weeks ago.

U. S. Consul Park Wollam, who has been negotiating with the rebels for release of the men, sent word he was confident some would be freed today and possibly all would be back at their base by tomorrow.

Fidel Castro's men had promised Wollam the men would start coming out yesterday afternoon. A Navy helicopter waited several hours at the delivery area but none of the prisoners showed up.

A Navy spokesman said bad weather apparently prevented the rebels from assembling the captives from the mountain camps in which they are scattered.

Other Navy sources were less optimistic. Pilots of the helicopter and Navy search planes which escorted it said while there was heavy rain and mist in the mountains, there was no evidence that the Castro forces had made any effort to ready the captives for evacuation.

The servicemen are the last held by the rebels. Previously 20 U. S. and Canadian civilians and one Navy airman abducted by the rebels were released.

All were seized in a Castro bid to win recognition from the U. S. government as genuine belligerents instead of unorganized revolutionaries. The bid has failed.

A rebel radio broadcast heard on Puerto Rico apologized to the families of the 50 kidnaped men and assured that all would be freed soon.

Bit Cooler Tonight With Low of 62°

The weatherman promises slightly cooler temperatures tonight and tomorrow. Tonight's low will be near 62 degrees.

Partly cloudy and cooler is the forecast for Wednesday with the high reaching about 78 and the low tomorrow night around 60.

Thursday and Friday will be warm again, but "a little cooler" is the prediction for weekend. Light showers are possible Thursday and Friday night.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 68 degrees. The reading was 82 at 2 p.m.

President Responds to Chamoun's Appeal

Action Follows on Heels of Pro-Nasser Coup in Strife-Torn Iraq

The vanguard of 5,000 U.S. Leathernecks ordered here by President Eisenhower landed today from the 6th Fleet, little more than 24 hours after a pro-Nasser revolt had overthrown the government of Iraq.

The United States informed the U.N. Security Council formally today that U.S. forces have landed in Lebanon to protect American citizens. It said they will be withdrawn "as soon as the United Nations can take over."

It was the first landing of U.S. troops in such force and circumstances since the Korean War and it came amid new war fears unprecedented since Korea and the dying days of the war in Indochina.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge startled the Council with a disclosure that Fadhil Al-Jamali, a diplomat familiar in the U.N. for the past decade, had been murdered in yesterday's insurrection and his body dragged through the streets of Baghdad. He said he had received the news just before entering the Council.

President Eisenhower was understood to be anxious to avoid any independent military action outside the United Nations framework.

But he was reported ready to face up to a decision that such action might be necessary if the U. N. did not act effectively or if new coups threatened to overturn neighboring pro-Western nations.

The move drew immediate backing from top Democrats at the Capitol.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, said that in the judgment of the President the action was "necessary to preserve freedom in the Middle East."

"Americans will certainly unite when the security of the free world is imperiled," Johnson added.

Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, House Democratic leader, said that "under the circumstances there was no other course he (Eisenhower) could take. There was no other road but that of appeasement."

Marines From 2nd Battalion

An entire battalion was landed. By 3:15 p.m., Lebanon time, the landing was completed. Noncommissioned officers reported that the airport had been occupied.

Asked where his unit had come from, he grinned and pointed to the ships in the harbor.

"From out there," he said.

He said he had no instructions regarding liaison with the Lebanese army.

A Lebanese civil aviation authority representative walked across the sands to Hadd and explained that all traffic had been stopped at the Beirut airport.

He asked when the airlines could resume operations. Hadd replied he would have to seek instructions from higher authority.

Around 2 p.m., three carrier-based aircraft were seen flying toward the airfield. Two reconnaissance planes flew high overhead.

After all these troops were ashore and deployed in the direction of the airport, landing craft continued to bring equipment ashore.

Later the Marines began clearing the beach of civilians.

41 Tickets, 350 Warnings So Far

Lake Patrols Keep Busy

Oakland County's force of 25 special deputies for lake patrol have been busy for half the summer now, handing out violation tickets, warning over-enthusiastic boaters and aiding many persons in distress on area lakes.

Thus far a total of 41 violation tickets have been issued to careless boaters and at least 350 warnings have been handed out to would-be violators.

Most tickets have been either for reckless operation of a motor boat or for not having the boat properly registered.

Of the 350 persons warned, at least half could have been ticketed legally.

Records show 16 reckless operation tickets, 15 tickets for having no registration number, and one for using a false registration number.

The remaining tickets are for violations such as illegal or dangerous water skiing and excessive exhaust noise.

Pontiac Lake has contributed the largest number of violators with eight. Cass Lake is next with six, Union Lake four, and the remaining tickets have been issued to violators on Pine, Middle Straits, Commerce, Lakeville, Maceday, Lotus, and Oxbow Lakes.

Records also show many warnings to swimmers who have strayed from protected swimming areas.

This includes warnings to skin divers who have failed to properly mark their presence on a lake by the use of anchored flags or buoys.

At least 15 incidents have been recorded where deputies came to the aid of accident victims.

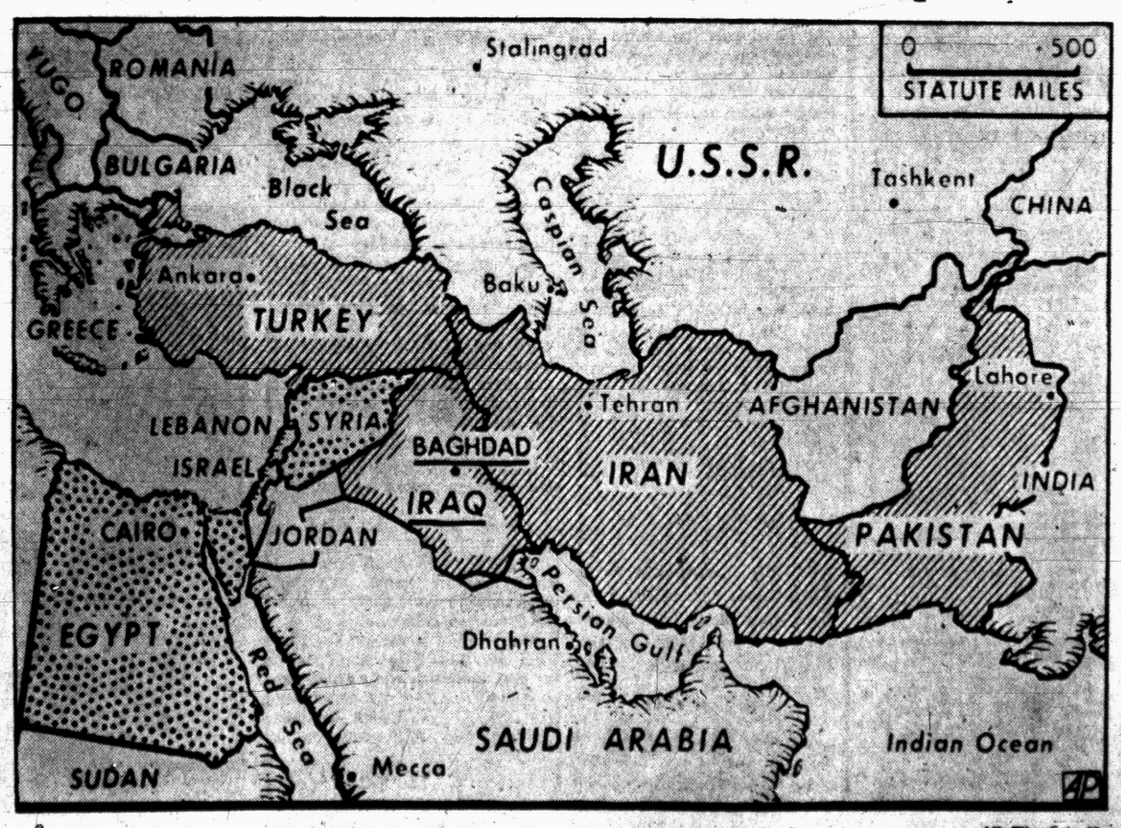

All these victims were in real trouble, most of them floundering

LINEUP SHIFTING — Overthrow of pro-West monarchy in Iraq could lead to Iraq deserting the Baghdad pact nations (horizontal shading) that include Britain, Turkey, Iran and Pakistan. Possibility was seen of Iraq aligning itself with the United Arab Republic (dotted area) which includes Egypt, Syria and Yemen (latter not shown).

Iraq's Pro-Western Strong Man Reported Alive

By WILTON WYNN

BEIRUT (AP)—Nuri Said, pro-Western strong man of Iraq, escaped from rebel forces which overthrew Iraq's government and was hunted today with a price on his head.

The rebel-controlled Baghdad radio announced Nuri's escape. It was the first indication that the military leaders who wrenched Iraq from the Western camp into President Nasser's Soviet-approved neutral bloc yesterday might still have obstacles in their path.

★ ★ ★

The West hoped fervently that Iraqi resistance to the rebels would rally around the 70-year-old soldier-statesman, the dominant force in his country for years and one of the West's best friends in the Middle East.

★ ★ ★

In New York, the United States called the U.N. Security Council into emergency session today to seek a check to the new turbulence in the Middle East. Both the U.S. and British governments alerted forces for possible intervention in the area, but the Eisenhower administration was hoping the U.N. could successfully bolster the forces opposed to the spread of Nasserism.

★ ★ ★

However, the threat of the Soviet veto made any decisive U. N. action unlikely. Pro-Western sources in Beirut said failure of the West to intervene to protect Jordan and Lebanon would mean the end of Western influence in the Middle East.

The rebel-held Baghdad radio claimed that the situation in Iraq has finally been stabilized and the British-trained Iraqi army of 60,000 had rallied to the new republic headed by Brig. Gen. Abdel Karim Kassem as premier.

Hours later came the announcement of Nuri's escape, with no word on how he did it. But it appeared unlikely a man of his age could have gotten away without help, and this roused hope in London that resistance forces were gathering. The commander of the rebel forces offered a reward of 10,000 dinars—$28,000—for his capture.

Some diplomats experienced in the Middle East cautioned that the escape announcement might be a ruse. They said the rebels might be trying to absolve themselves of any responsibility for his death by laying the groundwork for an announcement that Nuri had been shot during the manhunt.

Nuri was first reported killed by mobs which hanged Crown Prince Abdul Ilah, the uncle and chief palace adviser of young King Faisal II and a leading British ally. The Baghdad mob also sacked and burned the British Embassy, symbol of Britain's long dominance of the country.

There still was no word on King Faisal's fate. But his cousin in the Hashemite family, 23-year-old King Hussein of Jordan, proclaimed himself chief of state of the Iraqi-Jordan federation the two neighbors had organized in opposition to President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

Baghdad radio's broadcasts remained the chief source of information on the situation in Iraq. Commercial communication channels were shut down. Airports were closed to traffic, and the frontiers closed to foreigners.

Nasser sent his greetings to the Iraqi rebels, which had announced they would follow his "liberated Arab policy." The U.A.R. chief cut short his visit to Yugoslav President Tito and sailed for home one day early. Cairo radio said the U.A.R. would recognize the republic of Iraq. Jubilant crowds in Cairo and Damascus hailed Nasser's triumph.

The United States held off a decision on direct military intervention to protect shaky, pro-Western Jordan and Lebanon from the threats of similar coups. Washington banked heavily on swift U.N. action but did not rule out acting with Britain outside the world organization.

The possibility of landing the 3,600 Marines with the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean was under consideration, one senator reported after President Eisenhower met with congressional leaders. The 6th Fleet commander Rear Adm. Charles E. Brown, cut short a Bastille Day visit to the French Riviera and sailed for the eastern Mediterranean with the 85,000-ton aircraft carrier Saratoga and three other ships.

Huge Air Force transport planes at Charleston, S.C., took off for Europe, where they would be available to fly U.S. troops from Germany to the Middle East if necessary.

★ ★ ★

After the longest meeting of the British Cabinet since World War II, Prime Minister Macmillan alerted 6,000 British troops for possible speedy movement to the Middle East. Another 650 men were already standing by. One possibility was the immediate reinforcement of British garrisons at the Red Sea base of Aden and in the Persian Gulf Sheikdom of Kuwait both within striking distance of Iraq.

★ ★ ★

Britain has about 6,000 citizens in Iraq, many of them engaged in producing a large part of the oil which Britain vitally needs. The controller of the British Embassy was killed by a stray bullet during the attack in Baghdad but the rest of the Britons were reported safe. There were no reports of the smaller number of Americans there being endangered.

The French sent two aircraft carriers, six destroyers and other ships speeding east, reportedly to join a French flotilla now in the eastern Mediterranean.

The other three Asian members of the Baghdad Pact — Turkey, Iran and Pakistan—met in Ankara without Iraq. There was no official word that Iraq would pull out of the anti-Soviet alliance but that appeared only a matter of time because of Nasser's violent opposition to it.

Authoritative sources said leaders of the other three countries considered that Iraq's withdrawal would not mean an end to the pact. One source pointed out that the three nations still form a solid geographic link along the southern borders of the Soviet Union.

President Gives Reasons for Dispatching Marines

★ ★ ★

Yesterday morning, I received from President Chamoun of Lebanon an urgent plea that some United States forces be stationed in Lebanon to help maintain security and to evidence the concern of the United States for the integrity and independence of Lebanon. President Chamoun's appeal was made with the concurrence of all of the members of the Lebanese Cabinet.

President Chamoun made clear that he considered an immediate United States response imperative if Lebanon's independence, already menaced from without, were to be preserved in the face of the grave developments which occurred yesterday in Baghdad whereby the lawful government was violently overthrown and many of its members martyred.

In response to this appeal from the government of Lebanon, the United States has dispatched a contingent of United States forces to Lebanon to protect American lives and by their presence there to encourage the Lebanese government in defense of Lebanese sovereignty and integrity.

These forces have not been sent as any act of war. They will demonstrate the concern of the United States for the independence and integrity of Lebanon, which we deem vital to the national interest and world peace. Our concern will also be shown by economic assistance. We shall act in accordance with these legitimate concerns.

The United States, this morning, will report its action to an emergency meeting of the United Nations Security Council. As the United Nations Charter recognizes, there is an inherent right of collective self-defense. In conformity with the spirit of the Charter, the United States is reporting the measures taken by it to the Security Council of the United Nations, making clear that these measures will be terminated as soon as the Security Council has itself taken the measures necessary to maintain international peace and security.

The United States believes that the United Nations can and should take measures which are adequate to preserve the independence and integrity of Lebanon.

It is apparent, however, that in the face of the tragic and shocking events that are occurring nearby, more will be required than the team of United Nations observers now in Lebanon.

Therefore, the United States will support in the United Nations measures which seem to be adequate to meet the new situation and which will enable the United States forces promptly to be withdrawn.

Lebanon is a small peace-loving state with which the United States has traditionally had the most friendly relations. There are in Lebanon about 2500 Americans and we cannot, consistent with our historic relations and with the principles of the United Nations, stand idly by when Lebanon appeals itself for evidence of our concern and when Lebanon may not be able to preserve internal order and to defend itself against indirect aggression.

Marines Sent to Lebanon

President Eisenhower said Marines were sent at the request of Lebanese President Camille Chamoun to guard American lives and protect Lebanon against indirect aggression.

The first Marines landed from 12 landing craft at Khalde Beach just south of this revolt-torn capital. They came ashore from seven small warships which appeared offshore.

The Marines marched off to Beirut's airport, which had been closed a few hours earlier, perhaps for the landing of troop carriers.

U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock urged the 2,500 Americans in Lebanon to leave the country.

Pan American World Airways in London had a report that the U. S. Embassy in Baghdad was surrounded by rebels. The British Embassy there was sacked and burned by the rebels yesterday.

The Baghdad radio reported again today that 70-year-old Premier Nuri Said had been beaten to death by a mob. Earlier the radio had admitted its claims of his death yesterday were not true and that he had escaped. These broadcasts had offered a price for his capture.

★ ★ ★

"The dog of imperialism was killed by the people and his body taken to the Palace of Justice in Baghdad," the one broadcast declared.

Baghdad said yesterday that Crown Prince Abdul Ilah had been hanged on display in front of the same palace.

The offer of a reward for Nuri Said had raised speculation that he was among friendly tribesmen and was stirring up resistance. His friends in Beirut claimed fighting was still going on in Baghdad.

Strong British and American naval forces were moving into the eastern Mediterranean.

Fifteen ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet, including the 33,100-ton carrier Wasp, had left Naples on sudden orders, and 11 others hauled in their sailors from shore leaves on the French Riviera and sailed. Other units had suddenly turned about from the Greek naval base at Phaleron Bay.

British naval units were off Cyprus in the eastern Mediterranean and others steamed out of Malta. These included the carrier Eagle.

Britain had alerted 6,000 troops at their bases in Britain for possible movement.

President Chamoun, who has been fighting off a pro-Nasser rebellion here for 67 days, asked for Western intervention after the revolt in Iraq tossed out the pro-Western monarchy and premier.

The new pro-Nasser regime of Premier Brig. Gen. Abeel Karim Kassem claimed all was calm in Iraq, but some developments indicated all was not smooth sailing following the revolt.

The Baghdad radio broadcast orders to Iraqi troops in Jordan to return home. But reports from the Jordan capital, Amman, said all Iraqi troops in Jordan had remained loyal to Jordan King Hussein.

Jordan officials said only a few hired elements from the army backed by a "foreign Arab state" had carried out the coup and did not yet have the situation under full control.

Beirut itself was quiet as it has been for days. There was no sign of gunfire or explosions from the Rebel-held area of the city but Lebanese Army patrols moved through the light noon-time traffic.

The Lebanese radio played music.

Cairo and Damascus radios had been broadcasting 24 hours a day to celebrate the coup in Iraq and a national holiday was announced today in the United Arab Republic.

Lake Patrols Issue 41 Tickets So Far

According to Deputy Bill Jackson, department skin-diving expert, "We know of four mishaps which definitely would have produced drownings had there not been a deputy on hand to rescue the parties in distress."

He added that "there have been several other incidents of this nature in which drowning might have been the end result without the aid of a deputy."

Aside from this, deputies have assisted over 30 boaters with motor trouble, towing them safely to shore.

They have also assisted in recovering lost or stolen boats and given residents advice on how to properly set up buoys for swimming areas.

According to Deputy Donald Kratt, lake patrol coordinator, "So far the men have done a wonderful job. We've had a steadily decreasing number of complaints by lake residents."

"In almost every case the new deputies are being treated with respect. Actually, they're interested only in seeing that people know the new laws and follow them. The men aren't there just to hand out tickets," he added.

Local authorities are looking for a smaller number of drowning victims this year and a much smaller number of boating mishaps with the newly deputized lake force in operation.

Heart Attack Claims Top GM Accountant

Kenneth K. Kjolhede, 38, chief accountant for the General Motors Engineering Staff, GM Technical Center, died yesterday of a heart attack while at work.

An Air Force veteran, Mr. Kjolhede served during World War II in the South Pacific. He was discharged with the rank of captain.

Surviving are his wife, Marie; a daughter, Freda, 8; and sons, Brent, 5, and Karl, 2. He also leaves his mother Mrs. Axel Kjolhede of Muskegon, a brother and three sisters.

Service will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at St. Peter's Danish Evangelical Lutheran Church, 19900 Greenfield Ave., Detroit. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

The body is at the C. F. Schnaidt Funeral Home in Royal Oak. The family said contributions may be made to the St. Peter's Memorial Fund.

The Day in Birmingham

Contracts for $95,275 Approved by Commission

BIRMINGHAM — Contracts for paving, street surfacing, traffic signs and police cars in the amount of $95,275.97 were approved by the Birmingham City Commission last night.

They include the Cadillac Asphalt Co. of Detroit whose bid of $69,730.07 was low for the asphaltic concrete surfacing and Edward R. White of Berkley for the cement concrete paving. His bid was $21,447.11.

Traffic signs will be purchased from Paul H. Callendar of Charlotte at a cost of $1,819.90. The new police cars will be purchased from the Shalla Chevrolet Co., Inc., at a total cost of $2,278.26.

The Cole avenue sewer, water main and paving and the Commerce street paving special assessment districts also were approved.

City commissioners violated an unwritten rule of holding only three rezoning hearings a year because they were unable to included them in their July schedule. They have set a hearing Aug. 18 for the Commiskey property, the Chiera property and the property owned by Dr. J. Clark Moloney.

Liquor license transfers received no objections from commissioners. They included the transfer of the license of John and Viola Zis to Robert J. Niemeyer and Carl H. Pubanz and the transfer from Mark B. Bearss to Wabeek Pharmacy and Prescription Center, Inc.

Commissioners upheld the suggestion of City Manager L. R. Gare who advised them against the purchase of property in the River Rouge area from Raymond H. Smith, of 1091 N. Woodward Ave.

Gare said he had explained to Smith that since the land is already dedicated for use as a flood plain area along the river, purchase is unnecessary.

One of the "sweetest" houses in Birmingham is that of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Pearson, 951 Mohegan Ave.

Although they did not know it until a few days ago, their home has been turned into a bee hive.

Mrs. Pearson said they had recently noticed a peculiar noise in the hall and on investigation found that a multitude of bees had taken up residence there between the walls.

She said their mailman saw the bees entering the outside wall a year ago but thinking the family was aware of them, he had not mentioned it.

Al Sundell, Birmingham's versatile dog warden, plans to visit the Pearson home tonight after what he hopes is the bees' bedtime and run a line from the exhaust pipe of his car to their place of entry.

Mrs. Pearson said she hopes the honey will solidify and become part of the insulation.

Firemen said children had turned on an electric heater in the bathroom which set fire to a vanity bench. Damages were estimated at less than $25.

Bloomfield Hills city commissioners have approved eight members of the election board to serve at the Aug. 5 primary.

The Young Adults of the Birmingham YMCA will meet at the "Y" offices, 400 E. Lincoln Ave., at 12:30 p.m. Sunday to attend a group picnic at Metropolitan Beach. There will be swimming, golf, followed by dancing in the evening.

All single men and women between 20 and 40 are invited to join the group. Additional information may be obtained by calling the "Y" office.

Motorist Drowns at Soo

Car Dives Off Ferry Dock

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — A motorist hurtled to his death when his car plummeted from a ferryboat dock ramp below the American Soo locks last night.

The motorist, whose body was recovered from the 27 feet of water in the St. Marys River, was identified as Keith Carpenter, 59, of Libertyville, Ill.

Carpenter's body was recovered by crewmen of the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Tamarack. The car and truck also were recovered.

Miss Eva McEvoy, ticket agent at the ferry booth, said Carpenter had driven past the booth and had been called back to get his ticket. He backed up, bumping the front fender of a car behind him, she said.

Suddenly, Mrs. McEvoy said, Carpenter's car "took off like a jet," spinning its wheels, and raced down the slight incline of the ramp toward the water.

The car smashed into the truck and both toppled into the river.

Ferryboat traffic was tied up for two hours during recovery of the body and vehicles.

Rainy Weather Persists in Wide Sections of East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rainy weather persisted in wide sections in the Eastern third of the country today in the wake of violent storms and heavy rain in the past 24 hours.

Tornadoes skipped across areas in Iowa and New Jersey yesterday. Tornado winds lashed sections of Wisconsin, Missouri and Illinois. No injuries were reported in the storm belt.

The heaviest rain belt stretched from the southern Great Lakes region westward into southern Iowa and northern Missouri. The storms and showers erupted near the leading edge of a cool air mass moving southeastward from Canada.

A tornado struck rural areas in southwest Iowa, causing extensive damage to at least 10 farms in Adams and Taylor counties. Numerous funnel clouds also were reported in the area as well as in other sections of the state. Heaviest rain was an unofficial 7 inches in southeast Iowa.

The storm was expected to hit the east coast of the Nationalist Chinese island tonight, lose some of its fury in the eastern mountains and then rake across the fertile western plain and Taipei before crossing the Formosa Strait to Red China.

Cape Canaveral Workers Strike

Transport Union Walks Out Over Pay Dispute, Death of Mechanic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —About 1,000 members of the Transport Workers Union went on strike against Pan American Airways at the Air Force Missile Test Center today.

The walkout, which started at midnight, concerned a dispute over wages and the death of a mechanic who fell from an Atlas missile service tower.

Local 525 set up pickets about four miles from the entrance to the world's largest missile center.

Pan American is the prime contractor for maintaining the missile center and the 6,000-mile test range that stretches across the south Atlantic.

The Transport Workers threatened last Tuesday to strike unless Pan American met six demands connected with the death of mechanic Fred D. Adams.

The union asked for the immediate dismissal of Dr. L. B. LaRoche, head of the medical department at the cape, and Glen Rutter, the dead man's supervisor.

Richard Mitchell, Pan American vice president in charge of operations, said the company had no intention of discharging the two men.

The company said in a statement that the accident is being investigated by airline and the Air Force. Any changes in equipment, personnel and staffing recommended by the investigators will be made, officials said.

Details of the contract negotiations, including wage data, were not immediately disclosed.

Pickets now on duty were instructed not to bar entry to the test center. About 15,000 workers are employed on the cape and at nearby Patrick Air Force Base.

It was not known whether the strike would interfere with missile launchings.

By STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American officials obviously were caught by surprise by the sudden action in Iraq.

There has been continued and vocal opposition within the country to King Faisal's continued pro-Western stand, which has been emphasized by his declared intention to remain firmly within the American-supported Baghdad pact.

NO INDICATIONS

However, officials said there had been no indications from Iraq in the past few days that the opponents of the king and his government were preparing to take drastic action.

American officials were very cautious at this point at speculating on the possibility of outside motivation for the coup.

They said they would want considerably more information than they have now before attempting to decide whether it was a spontaneous internal revolt or had been assisted from outside the country.

At this time, officials would not attempt to draw any inferences concerning the possibility that President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic might have had a hand in the coup. They said it would be necessary to gather and evaluate more information.

An immediate question arising in diplomatic quarters was whether the ouster of Faisal's government might call for action under the so-called Eisenhower Mideast doctrine by which Congress early in 1957 gave the President authority to intervene militarily to preserve the independence of any Mideast country.

The doctrine originally was interpreted to mean that a country's independence must be threatened by forces controlled by international Communism.

However, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at a news conference last month broadened the interpretation of the doctrine.

He said it also gave the President authority to intervene in any case where the independence and integrity of a friendly state were in danger because such a situation was detrimental to the national interests of the United States.

This admittedly was a broad interpretation and the secretary has never clarified the exact circumstances in which he believes the doctrine applies.

U. S. RESERVES RIGHT

At the time he made his statement he was engaged in staking out room to maneuver in the Lebanon crisis, where President Camille Chamoun's government still is battling an armed revolt.

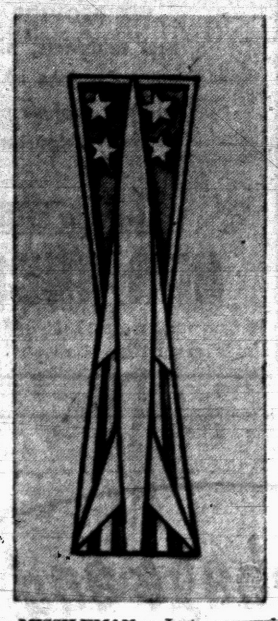

Dulles and Eisenhower both have made it clear that the United States reserves the right to take military action to help established government if the United Nations is unable to act by virtue of a Soviet veto or other developments.

Officials could not, at this time, establish any definite links between the continuing Lebanese crisis and the reported coup in Iraq.

Nor did they have any information on possible developments in Jordan today.

But the continuing ferment in the Middle East, rallying around the cause of Pan-Arabism, has focused its allegiance on Nasser. It was certain that American officials, in trying to evaluate the latest developments in the area, would be searching for any evidence of outside interference and direction in the Iraqi coup.

MISSILEMAN — Just approved by the Air Force is this distinctive new insignia for the men who will man its growing missile squadrons. The emblem, a small silver badge which will be worn on the left breast pocket, depicts a missile rising vertically to penetrate a cluster of four small stars. The Air Force expects to begin distributing the insignia to qualifying missile members by Aug. 1.

Streptomycin Finder Retires at Rutgers

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) —Dr. Selman A. Waksman, co-discoverer of the wonder drug streptomycin, is retiring as director of the Rutgers University Institute of Microbiology.

In announcing Waksman's retirement yesterday, the Rutgers Board of Governors said he will be succeeded Sept. 1 by Dr. J. Oliver Lampen. Lampen is currently director of the Division of Biochemical Research at the Squibb Institute for Medical Research here.

Streptomycin was discovered in Waksman's laboratories at the university in 1942 after some 20 years of research. The Rutgers Institute of Microbiology was built largely with royalties from the drug, and Waksman has been director since it was established in May 1949.

The drug is one of the most effective known in fighting tuberculosis. In 1952, Waksman received the Nobel Prize in physiology and medicine

The university said Waksman will remain active, traveling to sceintific meetings throughout the world. Such activity has been restricted by his job as director here.

Polish Seaman Fails in Attempt to Flee Reds

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — A Polish seaman was dragged back aboard a Communist fishing vessel four miles off the Scottish coast yesterday after he tried to swim to freedom.

Three Scot fishermen said the Pole fought desperately to reach their ship.

The seaman jumped overboard as his ship swept close by the little British fishing boat Rosemary. He struck out strongly but the Red trawler slewed around to cut him off.

The Rosemary, dragging heavy nets and almost unmaneuverable, could not go to his aid. He was caught only 80 yards from the Rosemary, hauled aboard with boathooks and hustled him below decks.

On June 26, an Estonian fisherman stole a motorboat from a Soviet trawler and landed in Britain's Shetland Islands, north of Scotland. Thirty men came ashore and chased him across the moors but he escaped and asked political asylum. Britain protested to Moscow against the pursuit invasion.

WHY SHOULD BUSINESS HELP COLLEGES AND STUDENTS?

College educations cost more today, too! In fact, for many young men and women —and for their parents—the increasing cost of a college education has become a major problem. And small, privately-financed colleges also have found themselves threatened by rising costs. Yet it is vitally important to America's future that our young people be well educated.

To help promising students and small colleges, we and other American companies have taken steps to give financial aid. Standard Oil, for example, has made funds available which provide for 34 graduate fellowships and undergraduate scholarships in science and engineering. Four-year scholarships awarded through the National Merit Scholarship Corporation also are included in this program. Thirteen students now are attending school on these scholarships. Supplementary grants are made to schools chosen by the Merit Scholarship winners.

In addition, Standard Oil has made funds available from which $175,000 is paid yearly to aid privately-financed liberal arts colleges in the Midwest and Rocky Mountain states.

At Standard Oil, where so much of our planning concerns the future, we believe there are few things more vital to the survival of our democratic, free-enterprise system than a well-educated public. That's why we provide for substantial financial aid to both colleges and students.

Dr. Russell J. Humbert, president, De Pauw University, Greencastle, Indiana: "If it were not for financial help from business organizations, many capable students would be denied a college education. The far-sighted companies giving this aid are helping to conserve one of our most valuable natural resources."

Charles Rieck of Chicago, National Merit Scholarship winner, and physics major at Notre Dame: "Business is helping to make it possible for many people to continue their education. Its concern for students and colleges shows a real long-range interest in national welfare."

What makes a company a good citizen?

One way of judging a company's citizenship is by its concern for the future—not for itself alone, but for the country as a whole. With business and colleges working together to build a stronger, more secure America through education, a brighter future is assured for us all.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

Half Million Living in Terror While Death Lurks in Beirut

BEIRUT (AP)—You walk, ride, shop, work and play in the shadow of death every minute in this Lebanese capital of half a million inhabitants.

A stray bullet hit a woman in the shoulder while she was walking to church one Sunday morning. There was no fighting in her area.

Bombs have dealt sudden death and injury to many housewives shopping in vegetable and fruit bazaars.

A shopkeeper daring to open doors despite the rebel-called strike can expect a dynamite bomb any time. He frequently keeps his shutter halfway down.

Dynamite bombs have blasted the butcher shop.

The hardware store has not opened since the rebellion began.

The barber gives a quick shave. The shop is closed most of the time.

The grocer opens mornings if there is no fighting.

The laundry and the goldsmith never open.

The dairy proprietor comments, "Normally I take 40 to 50 Lebanese pounds daily. Now, if I make 10 pounds ($3.20) I'm the happiest man in the street.

★ ★ ★

Pushcart peddlers seem to be doing good business. Housewives prefer to wait for them rather than risk going through the streets.

The curfew has forced a shutdown of movies, night clubs and restaurants.

Beirut is still brightly lighted at night but there is hardly a stir on the streets. Security guards patrol. Shots rattle out periodically. Armored car searchlights scan rooftops.

Asking to Buy Fire Hall Site

City Manager Seeks Pike Street Property for New Building

City Commissioners will be asked tonight to complete purchase of property on which a new central fire hall is planned.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he will recommend acceptance of a $19,000 option on a parcel that lies at the eastern edge of the site, located directly across E. Pike street from the Public Safety Building in the Civic Center.

Three other lots in the site have already been purchased for a total of $54,000.

Commissioners, in other action, will be asked by Willman to set aside $200,000 this year to begin a fund for construction of a new main library.

They have tentatively given the library project priority over a new fire hall.

Five public hearings are scheduled, two to initiate sidewalk projects and two on vacating public streets.

To be constructed are sidewalks on the north side of Baltimore, Stirling to Melrose, and both sides of Robinwood avenue, Perry to Baltimore. Being vacated are Duke and York, two small streets extending north of E. South boulevard in GMC Truck & Coach property.

The fifth hearing is on intention to construct a combined sewer on the east side of Stanley avenue, from Yale about 100 feet south.

Three assessment rolls on neighborhood projects are up for confirmation. Property owners on E. Longfellow avenue have submitted a petition for blacktopping their street from University to the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railroad property.

Teamsters Cross Pickets of Detroit Carpenters

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters Union truck drivers began to cross Carpenter Union picket lines around 120 lumberyards in the Detroit area today.

No difficulties were reported by a Teamsters spokesman.

Vice President Bert Brennan of Teamsters International, said members of Teamster Local 458 decided to cross the picket lines to avoid the possibility of a lawsuit by the Detroit Lumbermen's Assn.

Pontiac Man Pleads Guilty in Burglaries

Johnny Rhodes Jr., who Pontiac Police say is responsible for eight burglaries in Pontiac and several in surrounding communities, pleaded guilty yesterday when arraigned before Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Rhodes, 29, of 66, Gillespie St., heard the judge set sentencing for July 28. Rhodes, a parolee, was remanded to the County Jail after he failed to make a bond lowered by the judge from $5,000 to $3,000.

The confessed burglar is the Michigan AAU light-heavyweight weightlifting champion. He was arrested June 30 after escaping from Bloomfield Township and Keego Harbor Police.

Board Studies Hospital Plan

City Wants Waterford to Pay for Emergency Service Cases

Waterford Township today had under study a proposal that it reimburse Pontiac General Hospital whenever township residents fail to pay emergency service bills.

The township board, which received the proposal last night, turned it over to attorney Paul Mandel. He was asked to consult with the hospital Board of Trustees about legal details.

The proposal, agreed upon by the hospital and City Commission; was submitted in letter form by City Manager Walter K. Willman.

He said that from July to December last year, township residents failed to pay $3,954 in emergency room bills. Willman asked the board to agree to pay such unpaid bills on an annual basis, beginning next year.

The same proposal is being sent to all Oakland County communities whose residents use emergency facilities in the city-owned hospital, Willman said.

During the same six-months period, Willman said, the hospital lost $48,754 in unpaid emergency service bills.

Several questions about the proposal were brought up last night. One was whether, if the obligation were assumed, residents might be encouraged to default in paying the bills themselves.

Another was whether the proposal was fair in view of the 15 per cent surcharge already charged non-Pontiac residents who use the hospital.

Pontiac Lions Bringing Circus Here July 24

All general admission tickets at the door will cost $1.50. Proceeds will go to the various Lions Club projects for Oakland County Children.

Many blocks of tickets already paid for by various local concerns are being distributed by the club to such organizations as the Oakland County Children's Home, Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, and the Pontiac State Hospital Children's Ward.

For Two Weeks at Fort Knox

Local Reserve Unit in Training

By JOE SINGLETON

FORT KNOX, Ky. — Pontiac's 703rd Army Reserve Tank Battalion arrived at this huge Army post early Sunday afternoon, unpacked, and started the first day of their busy two weeks training schedule at 5 yesterday morning.

This U.S. Army center, known as the home of armor is almost a city in itself, comprising approximately 110,000 acres and is located 35 miles south of Louisville. The post is famous for the much publized United States gold depository.

Under the command of its new Battalion Commander Maj. Charles D. Clement, 1725 Rustic Lane, Keego Harbor, a purchasing agent for Universal Gear and Machine Co. of Detroit, the 703rd will have the use of the latest armored equipment.

The most promising features of this year's training program are the added equipment and facilities available and the independence which the battalion has this year over its training. This means that the battalion will use its own men in all phases of training for tank maintenance to the operation of its own mess hall.

"This will really give us a chance to accurately evaluate our men's efficiency on the jobs which they have trained for back home in the armory," stated Clement.

Training during this year's camp period will be concentrated on tank operation, maintenance, driving, firing and communication. The tankers will also be tested on the firing of small arms including the 45 caliber pistol, the carbine and 50 caliber machine gun.

The two-night bivouac which is the usual highlight of the battalion's training program will take place Wednesday and Thursday nights. During bivouac the men will put into practice all the skills they have learned and will operate under simulated combat conditions. The troops will train until July 26.

Talks Help Canadian Relations

As expected the three day visit of President EISENHOWER and Secretary DULLES to Ottawa and their talks with Prime Minister DIEFENBAKER and Finance Minister FLEMING have done much to clear the air between the two nations.

In addressing the Canadian Parliament, where he was enthusiastically received, President Eisenhower spoke frankly, even bluntly in defending American policies and analyzing Canada's trade deficit. He pointed out that American investment in Canada contributed much to that country's development and he explained our wheat disposal program and the reasons for tariffs and quotas.

★ ★ ★

Apparently Canada does have what it feels are legitimate complaints against the United States. Some of these concern the division of water power on the Columbia and Yukon Rivers, restrictions on the importation of oil in our Northwest where a pipeline has been built from the Alberta oil fields specifically to service that area and, of course, our wheat selling to former Canadian markets at cut prices for local currencies.

★ ★ ★

It was agreed at the conference that a joint cabinet committee for continental defense be created and that the two governments work on plans for safeguards, in collaboration with other free nations, against surprise attack across the Arctic.

★ ★ ★

The matter of trade in non-strategic goods between Canadian subsidiaries of American companies and Communist China came up for discussion because of the Ford Co. of Canada's refusal to sell 1,000 trucks to Red China. Canadians feel that this constituted American interference in their national policy and their right to ship non-strategic goods to Iron Curtain countries.

An agreement was announced that American controlled Canadian subsidiaries are subject to Canadian law alone and that law would prevail over American-controlled corporations carrying on business in Canada.

This high level airing of U.S.-Canadian views and irritations should clear up misunderstandings and make for more amicable relations on both sides of the border.

"A POWER lawn mower with headlights has been placed on the market."—Press report. No doubt this was done to meet the demand of misanthropic so-and-sos who have been itching to wake up their neighbors even sooner than early dawn.

BADLY needed is a tranquilizing drug for children that would keep them from driving their parents to the ragged edge of running fits when they are taken on a trip by car for several hundred miles.

Travel Boom Continues in Spite of Recession

According to all reports, Americans are in the midst of setting another record for vacation travel this year. Recession or no recession, bookings appear to be running at near capacity or better.

The American Automobile Association reports that European travel for late summer and fall is already more than 50 per cent higher than last year's. The U.S. Passport Office reports a 21 per cent increase in the first four months of this year.

Foreign travel in general is showing a marked increase. Canada is up almost eight per cent; Latin America seven per cent. Mexico, always popular, has already raked in 290 million in Yanqui dollars.

The AAA predicts that this year will equal or top 1957, when 80 million took vacation trips by automobile. Figures show that 85 per cent of all vacation trips in the United States are highway treks.

★ ★ ★

This should be good news to all of us in this area, which is in the heart of the automobile industry. The more people who vacation by car, the more jobs they will provide for our automobile workers.

The Man About Town

Invest ½ Billion

Pontiac Area Young Man Is Member of State Trio

Engagement: A period for the girl to see if she can do better.

My ever watchful Lansing correspondent spends word that an Oakland County man is one of the three men who determine the investment of over $500,000,000 of the state's funds. This is the receipts from bond issues (mostly highway), to be placed at interest until it is actually checked out for the purposes for which the bonds were floated.

These three men are

Sanford A. Brown

State Treasurer; his Deputy,

Charles (Chuck) Lentz

of Holly, and

of Grand Rapids, their investment counselor. The interest which the state gets on these investments (mostly in U. S. Bonds) runs around $9,000,000 a year.

The task on which they now are figuring is the investing of the $100,000,000 received for road bonds recently sold by State Highway Commissioner some of which is earmarked for work in Oakland County, already mentioned in these columns.

John C. Mackie,

Lentz has been with Brown since the latter took office on Jan. 1, 1955, after having considerable financial experience in Detroit investment houses. A few years ago Chuck's home was only a couple of houses from my own, and I knew then that he had it in him.

My nomination for the second oldest person in Pontiac is

But the Acting Is Weak

David Lawrence Says:

Soviets Instigating Revolt in Iraq

WASHINGTON — The Soviet strategists have made a bold move in the "Cold War." They have instigated a revolution in Iraq.

LAWRENCE

They have increased Nasser's power. They have also intensified their threat to take over the whole Middle East through their stooge, Nasser of Egypt.

This means a crisis in Western policy which resembles what happened in the 1930s when Hitler and his stooge, Mussolini, used to take step after step in their campaign of gradual absorption of weaker states. As Winston Churchill lamented afterward in his memoirs, there were many occasions when the Allies could have taken a firm stand and stopped the onward march of totalitarianism. Instead, the Western governments vacillated and were finally forced into war after many opportunities to checkmate the enemy had already been passed by.

★ ★ ★

Will history repeat itself? Will the Security Council of the United Nations, where action can be blocked by a Soviet veto, prove as futile as was the League of Nations in its day?

PURSUE PLOTS

Will the West then let the dictators in Moscow and Cairo, who are jointly engaged in aggression, pursue their plots and take over all the Middle East, when it may be too late effectively to intervene without a big war?

The main question here now is: What can the Western powers do? The Eisenhower Doctrine could, of course, be interpreted as meaning that the circumstances justify a military intervention. The new government in Iraq itself naturally will not request intervention.

Some other government in the Middle East, like Jordan, could invite the Western Allies to send in troops to take protective steps to repel the aggression that is threatened. But it is doubtful whether public opinion either in Britain or America is as yet ready for a war that might ensue. It wasn't ready in the 1930s, either.

BUILD RESISTANCE

So the only logical policy at the moment is to begin to build a resistance within the Middle East by strengthening Turkey, Iran, Jordan and Pakistan in a military way and by supplying the sinews of defense to the members of the Baghdad Alliance. Significantly, the revolution in Iraq was timed to coincide with a meeting of the representatives of the Baghdad Pact to be held this week in Turkey.

Another move might be the cutting off by the Western powers of diplomatic relations with the Communist government in Moscow. This would serve notice on the Kremlin that the West is well aware of the subversive tactics of the Communists and is ready to apply an international "quarantine."

This was the proposal for dealing with "world lawlessness" made by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who suggested it in a public speech in Chicago in 1937. It was recognized then as a means of applying the moral force of the world. To heed the advice about a "quarantine" meant a trade embargo as a sequel. This would have prevented Hitler's building up his war machine. But, unhappily, materialism then blocked the way, and less than two years later a global war began that cost millions of casualties.

It will not be of any avail to be legalistic and assume that the whole situation in Iraq is internal and that the uprising is merely a clash between local factions. The pronouncements of the rebel leaders are plainly written in the phrases of Soviet propaganda.

The immediate proclamation of adherence to Nasser's so-called "republic," for instance, gives the game away. The revolution was started from the outside and is plainly a part of the scheme of aggression and conquest which Nasser, encouraged by Moscow, has been carrying on for some time.

The Western powers will have to make up their minds that they are not dealing with the customary form of rebellion within a country.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Add Few Drops of Iodine to Purify Dubious Water

There is little after-vacation typhoid fever nowadays. Not only are municipal water supplies kept chlorinated so that tap water is perfectly safe to drink everywhere, but a considerable portion of the population is immunized against typhoid, para-typhoid alpha and paratyphoid beta.

DR. BRADY

When it comes to the question of slaking thirst with a drink of water from an isolated spring, well, brook, pond, lake or attractive pool, play it safe: Shake up a quart of the water with four or five drops of mild tincture of iodine — the same iodine universally employed as first aid disinfectant of minor wounds — and let stand for half an hour, when it will be safe to drink.

Of course water, milk or any other liquid may be disinfected by boiling for one minute.

Although tap water everywhere is safe to drink, a person traveling, touring, visiting or spending vacation in the country should regard all milk with suspicion. Especially milk kept or served in open container such as pitcher, jar, bottle with broken seal or drinking glass.

One should remember that even though the cow or herd from which the milk comes may be free from disease, the milk may be contaminated by milker, dairy worker, cook, waiter or other handler who happens to be coming down with or be a carrier of a communicable disease.

Ordinarily milk in an unopened bottle is safe to drink if it is labeled PASTEURIZED. That means the milk has been parboiled, let us say, heated up to 145 degrees F. and kept at that temperature for 30 minutes. That's pretty hot, but short of scalding. It is hot enough to kill any disease germs that might be in the milk.

Simplest way to make milk of unknown purity safe to drink is scalding — that is, heating to boiling point for a few seconds, and then allowing it to cool enough to drink.

From the standpoint of health and nutrition I denounce every kind of pop — colored, flavored, carbonated sugar water — as beverage for growing children.

But I must record here the creditable fact that pop is always safe to drink, wherever you find it, and you find it wherever you go in the five continents — you just don't go behind the iron curtain, do you?

If heat and humidity get you down or if you seek refreshment after unaccustomed physical activity and excessive sweating, it is well to remember that in such circumstances not only water but also salt must be restored to the tissues, and therefore every drink of water, fruit juice drink, tea, or whatever beverage you take should be accompanied by a good pinch, say five grains, of salt. This will refresh you more than any amount of water or other beverage without salt.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long perjaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Wants Mandatory License for Motor Boat Operators

Oakland County should stop tolerating the recklessness, discourtesy and sheer stupidity that goes on by some motor boat drivers on our inland lakes. Drivers licenses are revoked and suspended for any number of reasons, yet our law says these same drivers don't need a license to operate a motor boat.

★ ★ ★

With our beaches crowded and a great majority of them children, what chances have they when these potential killers come buzzing close to the shoreline? Before one of them plows into a group of children, killing some and drowning others in the backwash, let's avert it before it happens.

★ ★ ★

I suggest The Pontiac Press get the ball rolling to put into effect a law making it mandatory to have a driver's license to operate a motor boat. If you're a menace on the roads you're a menace on the lakes.

Reader Disputes I.C.C. Ruling

In January you printed an article on the Interstate Commerce Commission rule against the "hot cargo" clause. It stated the I.C.C. has done the public a service in ruling that common carrier truck lines cannot refuse to transport hot cargo in union disputes.

★ ★ ★

This ruling will in the end cause an increase in the cost of goods to the public. I can't understand how contributing to a higher cost of living based on this ruling by the I.C.C. has been of service in any way, shape or form.

★ ★ ★

By this time the ruling has made a scapegoat of a driver employed by common carriers and who belongs to the union and who is engaged in transportation and delivery of goods across state lines. It will cause undue hardships to such drivers.

★ ★ ★

The I.C.C. has also an obligation to the public and to labor. After all, the I.C.C. people's wages are paid by the public and labor, who are taxpayers. How about a check into this situation.

Warns Readers of 'Good Deal'

This is a word of warning. A friend asked me to let a name brand vacuum cleaner salesman demonstrate. Like a fool, I signed a contract and was to get my friends to let him demonstrate so I could get mine free.

Better Business Bureau said they had no way of enforcing refunds or adjustments. So don't be a stupid fool like me. Your friends and neighbors will all hate you, and I don't blame them.

U.S. Middle East Policy Threatens to Collapse

By CHARLES M. McCANN
UPI Foreign News Analyst

It threatens to cripple the Middle East treaty organization — the Baghdad Pact — which the United States sponsored as part of its long chain of alliances against Russian Communist aggression.

It seriously weakens any real meaning which the Eisenhower Doctrine, planned to strengthen the pro-Western governments of the Middle East, might have had.

It is a victory for President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the New United Arab Republic, who aspires to make himself the head man of the entire Arab world.

In that it adds to the general turmoil in the Middle East, it is a victory for Soviet Russia's policy of penetration and subversion in the Arab states.

Finally, the revolt came just one day before the four Moslem members of the Baghdad Pact—Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan—were to meet in Istanbul, Turkey.

It seems not too much to suggest that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles must now face the necessity for a really agonizing review of American policy.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Men Fib About Reading Crane

Why does Harry fib to his wife about this column? She says he tells her he never reads it and further condemns psychology as "all the bunk." Yet he clips every column that bears on any of her faults and keeps a full set of the booklets at his office! Can you explain this rather common reaction of older men?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Y-362: Harry W., aged 48, works in a Pittsburgh steel mill.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I have a strange problem," his wife greeted me as we shook hands following one of my speeches in Pittsburgh.

"Harry, my husband, says psychology is all the bunk! He professes he never reads your column.

"Yet everytime you happen to tread on my toes, Harry has your column torn out of our paper and lying at the breakfast table.

"So how can he invariably pick out your cases that fit my personality when he says he doesn't even look at your column?

"Well, I have learned that he fibs, for I know he reads the 'Worry Clinic' faithfully.

"He also has sent for many of your booklets, but he had them mailed to him at the steel mill where he works.

"For one of my neighbors told me my husband keeps a complete file in his office. So why does he tell me psychology is the bunk but root for your column at the office?"

Well, that's a common report. In fact, on the usual newspaper polls of reader interest, women outnumber men almost 2 to 1 as regards faithful followers of this column.

But that is because the men are usually interviewed in their homes where they often fib to protect their male ego.

For men past 40 often started out on their honeymoon with outmoded notions which modern medicine and psychology now realize were false.

But when these young bridegrooms began their married life, they didn't know that many of their ideas were wrong.

In this column I reveal the latest scientific facts from both medicine and psychology.

These data often "show up" the notions of middle aged husbands. So those older men hate to admit they have been wrong.

As a result, they often berate this column and say psychology is all the bunk!

They deny to their wives that they EVER read it, yet several times per month they may tear out my column and lay it beside their wife's plate at the table.

As a result, we know positively that their public denial of interest in this feature is a camouflage. For tens of thousands of wives report the very same experience with their husbands which Harry's wife narrates today.

MEN'S FALSE SEX NOTIONS

In the last generation we have learned when human conception takes place in the female menstrual month.

That fact wasn't known even to medical scientists in 1930, so men who were married prior to that date naturally held wrong notions.

Many husbands, too, never knew that the female, though relatively frigid as measured by the normal masculine standard, nevertheless does require occasional erotic satisfaction.

Other husbands grew up in an age when it was thought that glandular output had a fixed supply, determined at our birth.

Such husbands often grew platonic as they feared they were reaching the bottom of the barrel, so to speak.

These and other false sexual notions are exploded in my medico-psychological booklet "Sex Differences Between Men & Women," so send a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents for your copy.

It can often remove unnecessary tension from your marriage and prevent divorce.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Housing Decline Starts

WASHINGTON — Private non-farm housing starts totaled 991,000 in 1957, the first time they have fallen below 1,000,000 since 1949. They compared with 1,094,000 starts in 1956 and with the 1950 record of 1,352,000.

Premier De Gaulle Ruling France Much in Style of Reigning Monarch

By GODFREY ANDERSON

PARIS (AP)—Nights are calm at the French Premier's Matignon mansion now. The Matignon shuts its doors firmly at 8 p.m. and the secretaries go home.

Twenty-four postwar premiers of France lived their most critical hours at night. Harassed by incessant telephone calls at all hours, they could seldom think more than five minutes consecutively on any of their overwhelming problems.

The 25th Premier, Charles de Gaulle, has changed all that.

There is no telephone and few dossiers on the desk of his second-floor office. High state officials, accustomed to call the head of government on a direct line and throw him their problems in a familiar manner, now must pass through the minister heading their branch of government.

They do not get to talk to the boss unless he calls them.

First the official had better make sure his watch is right. The general expects him to be on time.

Admitted to the general's presence, the caller cannot just drop into a chair and start to chat. He stands until invited to take a chair. He may not smoke and must not interrupt when the general speaks.

Most interviews have only two parts. The caller gives his opinions and the Premier gives his. That marks the end of the meeting.

De Gaulle sits facing the door, between white busts of the Roman Emperors Julius Caesar and Nero. A huge tapestry showing Moses being saved from the waters at the Red Sea hangs behind him. Before his Empire-style desk stand a semicircle of visitors' chairs.

The new Premier has little patience with many of the minor questions his predecessors always handled. He particularly objects to people who address themselves directly to him to gain a decision or a favor.

Nor has he time for the voluminous dossiers which in France have a way of ending on a premier's desk. De Gaulle calls for short digests which he studies attentively and often memorizes.

Most of his mail — about 400 letters a day, many from abroad —is handled by his private secretaries. Much of it gets switched to Cabinet ministers who should have received it in the first place. Relatively few letters are answered by the Premier himself.

De Gaulle starts his working day at 8 a.m., when the newspapers are carried to his small private office on an upper floor where he has a residential apartment. He studies the French press carefully and reads a daily review of foreign press comment.

After coffee, he descends to his main office about 9. At 1:15 sharp the Premier stops for lunch, a meal he sometimes takes with close members of his staff. From 3 to 8:15 he works again. Then business is through for the day.

★ ★ ★

After dining with his wife, he may stroll with her in the Matignon private gardens. Or he may retire to his upstairs study to work alone.

No telephone calls are accepted during the night except in a case of grave emergency. The Matignon mansion sleeps.

Sells Herd of Buffalo for Campaign Expenses

A 2-year-old bull, five cows and a heifer were sold by Jackson on the Wichita livestock market to a commission firm.

Jackson, of El Dorado, said he sold the herd because "I'm going into politics and will use the money to defray campaign expenses." He didn't say which office he plans to seek. He got about $900 for the herd.

Western Union Asks to Up Press Rates

NEW YORK (AP)—The Western Union Telegraph Co. announced today plans to increase its press telegraph rates an average of 7 per cent next month.

A spokesman said the rate schedule would be filed today with the Federal Communications Commission. The new rates become effective in 30 days unless the FCC intervenes.

The telegraph company filed for a similar 7 per cent increase in public rates July 1—to become effective Aug. 1.

The spokesman said the new press rate schedule was prepared in consultation with the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

Comment from the association was not immediately available.

Many large lumber and paper companies in the United States put their timber resources under a program to yield a continuous growth of trees for harvest purposes.

Forest Fires Less Deadly

By DION HENDERSON
AP Staff Writer

On a bright day in June 1905, a man climbed to a 3,200 foot high perch atop a lookout tower which in turn was atop Squaw Mountain which is practically atop the state of Maine, and solemnly noted in a log book: "Clear. South wind."

This may seem as anticlimactic as Cortez pausing upon a peak in Darien to note that his feet were sore, but it isn't. It is the first recorded history of a stirring chronicle, and unlike most of them it started off happily.

The tower that was a forerunner of 6,000 more in ensuing decades, and the spiritual ancestor of today's scramble crews, smoke jumpers and other intrepid foresters who in 40 years knocked fire well off the top of the list of timber enemies.

If it's any joy to those who expect the worst, the innocuous log entries didn't continue. The first lookout was William Hilton and he recalls, "Beginning on August 22, I spotted and reported first at the ten thousand acre tract, northeast Carry, Russel stream, Jackman, Churchill stream, Sebec Lake and Lobster Lake."

At the end of the month, the rains came and the daily climb to the tower ended its first season September 12.

Hilton, now vice president of the Great Northern Paper Co. at Bangor, will be among the forestry pioneers honored July 26 when establishment of the nation's first continuously operated lookout tower is commemorated at Great Works, Me.

Louis Oakes, the Greenville fire warden who took the telephoned lookout reports at his headquarters, will unveil a bronze tablet commemorating the Squaw Mountain project.

Recalling the tower days of 1905, Hilton remembers that the view was fine—as long as there wasn't any smoke in it. He looked down upon hundreds of square miles of timberland and on Moosehead Lake, largest natural body of water in the eastern United States.

"Many people ask me to compare the over-all view of 1905 to that of today," Hilton says. "One big difference is the increased amount of timber visible. A sizeable area has been reclaimed (for trees) due to the abandonment of farms. The area seen from the lookout is just as truly a wilderness today, after decades of timber harvesting, as it was the June day back in 1905."

Hilton remembers that forest fires generally were larger in those days because they got a good start before crews could get to them. Sometimes the crews were picked up in the big cities and brought in by train. Not even back pumps were known until a decade later.

Nowadays, of course, a careless motorist tosses his cigarette out of a car window and a complicated chain reaction sets in with radios, aerial observers, motorized ground units and maybe a unit of parachuting firemen arriving just about the time the cigarette hits the ground.

If they're lucky, that is. Fighting forest fires, you still have to be just a little lucky, or you'll see the years go up in smoke before your eyes.

PUSH A NUMBER — The phrase "dial a number" may not be long for the language if this pushbutton telephone, under study by Bell Telephone Laboratories, is placed in general service. The pushbutton system is made possible by the use of transistor circuits, which reduce the amount of current necessary to power the set and result in faster and more convenient service for the user. Also in this model, the familiar ringing bell is replaced by a soft tone sound.

Lebanese Capital Is Center of Near East Commerce

WASHINGTON — The crisis in Lebanon puts the spotlight of world concern on a tiny country that is part Christian, part Moslem, that combines East and West, ancient and modern.

Nestled against the eastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea, Lebanon is 125 miles long and from 20 to 45 miles wide, the National Geographic Society says. On land Lebanon is almost completely surrounded by Syria, a partner with Egypt in the anti-Western United Arab Republic.

★ ★ ★

It is the 185-mile border with Syria that Lebanon's pro-Western chief of state has asked the United Nations to help defend.

At its southern extremity Lebanon shares a short frontier with Israel. As Lebanon sided with Arab states in the bitter conflicts of 1948-49, an air of tension has also pervaded this border.

LIVES BY TRADE

In normal times Lebanon is a highly prosperous nation with a shrewd business sense. Having few natural resources, it lives by trade.

A third of Lebanon's 1,500,000 people live in Beirut, the bustling capital that serves as a commercial center for the entire Near East. Signs advertise in English, French, Arabic and Armenian.

Ties with the West are strong. It is said that few families in Lebanon are without at least one member in the United States or South America. The American University of Beirut, founded in 1866, has 3,000 students representing 44 countries and 30 religious groups.

In normal times Lebanon also serves as an incomparable playground for the eastern Mediterranean. Visitors approaching Beirut by sea might easily mistake its skyline for that of Miami Beach. In a few hours visitors may drive into the Lebanon Mountains for skiing.

ROUTE OF CONQUEST

North of Beirut a narrow valley cuts through hills that parallel the shore, making a natural corridor for Lebanon's succession of conquerors. Rameses II marched by 13 centuries before the birth of Christ. Through the pass also came Babylonians, Assyrians, Greeks, Romans, Ottoman Turks, British and French soldiers.

Lebanon passed from Turkish to French mandatory rule after World War I, was proclaimed a republic by the Free French in the second World War, and achieved full independence on January 1, 1944.

UAW to Hold Picnic

DETROIT (AP) — Retired auto workers will be guests of the United Auto Workers at a day-long picnic Wednesday at Belle Isle Park. This is the seventh year in a row for the event, which drew a turnout of 13,000 last year. Guest speakers will include Gov. Williams, Lt. Gov. Philip Hart, UAW President Walter Reuther and Detroit city officials.

Censuses to Explore Aspects of U.S. Life

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Census Bureau announced today it will begin a series of six censuses next January to gather new statistics on virtually all aspects of American life.

★ ★ ★

Aside from 30,000 part-time field workers who will make the farm survey, all the censuses will be conducted by mail by the bureau's regular staff.

A spokesman for the bureau also estimated that 130,000 persons will be employed on a part-time basis to help in the 10-year population survey in 1960.

Claims Men Have No Dining Imagination

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Picture this, mother . . . a sparkling white kitchen, 65 floors above the smog of New York City, a dishwasher overlooking the Hudson River, an oven poised o'er lovely Central Park, and your luncheon guest? Cary Grant today, the Duke of Windsor tomorrow, the president of this and that (including the United States) on Thursday.

You like?

You crazy, maybe.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hilda Howard, a grandmother four times over, is crazy too. She presides over this alleged dream kitchen, adjacent to the world-famous "Rainbow Room" in Rockefeller Plaza, and claims she enjoys the job. Except for one aspect:

"Ten years ago, men were imaginative in their love of foods. Now they're calorie conscious. They want everything boiled and broiled. For dessert, the 6-to-1 favorite is stewed fruit. It's—frustrating."

After 17 years of keeping the most famous male stomachs happy, Mrs. Howard has come to realize what the majority of housewives around America know: That cooking for men is a boring and expensive proposition.

Either they're calorie-counting, which means they want steak. Or they're unimaginative and narrow-minded, which means they want steak.

The difference between Mrs. H. and Mrs. Average is that the former has to plan a daily menu for 1,000 men, members of the Rockefeller Center Luncheon Club. Her guests have included Ike, Truman and Hoover, more than 100 congressmen and diplomats, the Shah of Iran, a great many movie stars, and a few ex-kings including Peter of Yugoslavia.

With all this experience, she suggests a few rules to housewives who must plan daily meals for men.

1. Don't be fancy.
2. Be simple.
3. If your man falls in the category of "most men," stick to lamb and beef stews, chicken pie, chopped steak, unchopped steak, roast beef and roast beef hash.
4. Don't repeat the same dish within four weeks.
5. Keep a record of menus, to be certain you don't repeat the same dish within four weeks.
6. Make the salads interesting. Try aspics and unusual dressings. Men like salads better than you think.
7. Watch the calories.

Of course, Mrs. Howard has 57 chefs under her direction, which tends to make her job easier. Some call her "boss," and some call her "mama." This leads to suggestion number 8: Encourage the men in the family to call you "boss." It gives the chef a sense of confidence, and confidence is the key to a good meal.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Howard's office is unchintzy and businesslike. Only one picture hangs on the wall. It is a photograph of Jimmy Durante, upon which is scrawled, "To Mrs. Howard — the world's greatest chef."

This is perhaps the highest culinary compliment of all time. Mrs. Howard's contribution to the well being of Mr. Durante: an exquisitely-simmered bowl of farina.

Coup d'Etat Hardly Noticeable

U.S. Airliner Leaves Iraq

CAIRO (AP)—An American airline pilot who was grounded for 15 hours in Iraq during the revolt there said "everything was very quiet" in Basra.

Capt. John Hulburd of Upper Black Eddy, Pa., landed his Trans World Airline Constellation in Cairo early today after revolutionary forces which seized the Basra airport allowed him to continue. The plane was carrying 25 passengers and a crew of 10 from Manila to New York.

★ ★ ★

Hulburd landed at Basra, Iraq's Persian Gulf oil port 280 miles southeast of Baghdad, picked up two Iraq citizens and was about to take off when told to wait.

"About 40 Iraqi soldiers took over the airport in a very smooth manner," Hulburd said. "They placed three machine guns around our aircraft."

But the soldiers took off their helmets and began chatting with the passengers, who went swimming and generally enjoyed the wait, the pilot said. "There was nothing to fear and nobody got panicky or worried," Hulburd reported.

"The airport was very peaceful and nobody could think there was a coup d'etat in the country," he said. "We heard there were pro-government demonstrations in Basra but so far as I know the demonstrators were cheering the new regime."

Before the plane was given permission to leave, the two Iraqis were ordered off and returned home. "I understand no Iraqi is allowed to leave the country for the time being," the pilot said.

★ ★ ★

One of the passengers was Morris Rush of Santa Maria, Calif., an oil worker for the Arabian American Oil Co. who boarded the plane at Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. Rush said he heard nothing to indicate any trouble in Basra.

They Resemble Flying Saucers

New Space Objects Made of Thin Plastic Unveiled in Films

Shiny, hollow spheres 12 feet in diameter. Smaller ones 2½ feet across. And a saucer-shaped affair 30 feet in diameter is on the drawing boards. Some of various shapes as large as 100 feet in diameter have been proposed.

These are satellites of the very near future. Some of them have been suggested for use as interplanetary craft and for voyages to the moon.

★ ★ ★

Those already completed belong to the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, a government agency. Motion pictures of the first ones to be tested aground were shown yesterday for the first time at the triennial inspection of Ames Aeronautical Laboratory, an NACA installation.

Made of thin, tough plastic and covered with aluminum foil, these objects are featherweights. The 12-footer weighs only nine pounds. The 2½-foot sphere weighs 11 ounces.

When they are shot into space by rockets they will be folded into packs no larger than a woman's handbag or a small suitcase.

Once at the desired altitude they will be inflated by a small cartridge containing nitrogen.

As space vehicles these creations will carry instruments for measuring the magnetic and gravitational fields of the earth, giving scientists new information on the shape of the globe and its internal makeup. They will supply new weather information. Some of them may act as reflectors of radar and television waves, greatly increasing the range of those facilities.

★ ★ ★

Others, the NACA said, will be designed as collectors of solar energy, constituting experimental power plants in the sky to run their own instruments.

Hannah Troy Heeds Male Cry

Strictly Feminine Fashions —Will Please 'His Majesty'

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the year for the men, says globe-trotting designer Hannah Troy, presenting a collection of strictly feminine fall fashions for the nation's fashion press.

★ ★ ★

The new clothes for fall shown by Mrs. Troy and most other New York couture designers prove that women do dress to please men, after all.

The loud cries of male anguish which greeted this summer's sack dresses, which made most women look like an unmade bed, have been heeded by the gals who set the pace for American fashions.

★ ★ ★

So there are no more shapeless chemises in view, no more of the grotesque silhouettes which suggested national mass pregnancy.

STYLES VARY

Instead, designers have shaped and modified the unfitted silhouette into such a variety of styles that any woman should be able to find a flattering wearable outfit for fall.

Most popular with Mrs. Troy and others slated to preview fall collections this week is the high-waisted Empire line.

★ ★ ★

LEG INTEREST

"Now that women are showing their legs again," says Mrs. Troy, "interest shifts to the hemline—and, can you imagine anything more intriguing than a moving, fluttering fringe of ostrich about a pair of beautiful American legs?"

Male designers also go along with the more feminine, graceful look for fall, including Paul Parnes, who shows a series of new-looking and wearable costumes combining fur-collared tweed jackets with slim Empire dresses.

JACKETS UNFITTED

In the suit collections jackets are short and unfitted, with wide draped collars, big bows and other neckline accents. Sometimes fabric bands are used belt-wise on jackets to accent the high-waisted line.

★ ★ ★

There are many short evening gowns with dome or bell shaped skirts, many with a huge bow and sash at the bust, front and center, with trapeze drape falling from shoulders to hem in back.

This very new looking suit from the collection of Monte-Sano and Pruzan has a "stack" collar. Cut on the bias, it is of plaid wool jersey in deep green and blue. A black ribbed jersey knit blouse is designed to go along.

Let Bride Know of Mistake

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine was married recently and I sent her a very beautiful silver tray. I received a thank-you note from her this morning thanking me for the "lovely cigarette box" I sent her. I made a special effort to send her an especially nice present because of the many favors she has done for me. Evidently the cards were mixed in some way.

"Since I strained my budget to buy her such an expensive present I would like her at least to know about it and not have someone else get the credit for it. Would it be proper for me to write the bride and tell her what I sent or should I just let it go?"

Answer: Write and tell her that evidently the cards on her presents must have gotten mixed in some way, as it was not a cigarette box but a silver tray that you sent her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you settle a dispute on the subject of whether we may speak to men and women with whom we come in contact each day on our way to and from work? Many of us take the same buses, for example, and little by little we have come to know each other by sight. Before making friends, is an introduction always necessary?"

Answer: Do whatever is the simple and unself-conscious thing. Seeing the same person day after day, one would be more than likely to say "Good Morning." This is not a rule. It is one of those things that one does spontaneously.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What do you think of people who don't answer the doorbell when visitors call? Isn't it rude—especially when the visitors know that someone is in the house?"

Answer: There may be many reasons why they can't receive people at that particular time, and the only thing they can do is not to answer the doorbell.

Dear Abby

Don't Accuse Divorcee

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A divorcee who works for my husband has been on my mind lately. She is supporting her aged mother and teenaged son supposedly on the salary my husband pays her. I sat down and figured it all out and I doubt very much if she can pay her rent, drive a car and dress the way she does on what he pays her.

ABBY

To be blunt I think either my husband is paying her more than he says he is or else he is helping her out with extra money. Should I go to her and ask for an accounting? Every time I see this clothes horse I do a slow burn. Thank you.

SUSPICIOUS WITH CAUSE

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: Better to do a slow burn than to accuse an innocent woman and make an ash of yourself. You can air your suspicions to your husband but leave her strictly alone.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: We are asking your advice on how to keep the good will of the customers and keep clean merchandise after teenagers try on everything in the store just for the fun of it.

DISGUSTED CLERKS

DEAR CLERKS: Teenagers are NOT the only ones who "try on everything in the store" just for the fun of it. Many adults who have no intention of buying (and should know better) do the same thing. That's just one of the costs of doing business. A successful sales person must have the patience of Job and also be a good actor.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, 53, and am interested in remarrying. Different friends of mine have said to me, "You should meet Charlie!"

I would love to meet Charlie because everyone says we are just right for each other, but I have never met him.

Different people have told me that they have told Charlie about me and he says he'd like to meet me, too, but so far nobody has gotten us together. I am sick of hearing about Charlie and not meeting him. Have you any suggestions?

WANTING TO MEET CHARLIE

DEAR WANTING: The next time you see one of those "You ought to meet Charlie" characters, tell them you are ready and furnish the coin for the phone call. He who hesitates is lost.

DEAR ABBY: To begin with, please don't tell me to see my clergyman because I don't have any. I am 29 years old and have nothing to live for. Everything has gone wrong for me and I'd take my life if I had the nerve. My troubles would fill this whole page but a man is not supposed to cry. That is for women and weaklings. I am in good health, but what good is a healthy body when you are looking forward to the peace that comes only with death?

PRAYING FOR THE END

DEAR PRAYING: Twenty-nine—a healthy body and NOTHING to live for? Unfortunately your mind is not as healthy as your body. The very fact that you wrote me a letter proves that you want to be mentally healthy. Go to a psychiatrist at once; if you can't afford one, call your local Mental Health Association or wire me in care of this newspaper. Good luck.

The Stronger Sex

Women Want Their Men Manly

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If you have any doubt that today's women like their men masculine, just read the following letter. This and other comments came as a result of my query about what women like and do not like in men.

"Many men are losing their masculinity and strength. Sure, a man should help his wife at times, but I have seen a husband hanging out the laundry on Sunday for his overburdened (?) wife who has one child and is at home all week. I should think any intelligent wife would plan her week so that she can have some leisure time all the family can enjoy together on weekends.

Too many young men are dominated by their wives and do too many wifely chores. On the whole, though, I think men are pretty nice people and a happy complement to women."

I know that this last paragraph I have quoted is a 'hot potato' and that there are two sides. In my opinion, if the man and woman both work, the household chores should be shared 50-50. Also, if there are a number of children and the wife has no help a man can (without injuring health or ego) pitch in and give a hand.

However, I myself have noted that in many young marriages it appears that the husband is supposed to go out and make the living and also do much of the housework. The attitude on the woman's part, of having home restful when her husband returns seems to have almost disappeared from the modern scene. I believe this is because of the war when so many young folks married early and the wife helped put her husband through college.

COMMENTS

Here are more comments from readers:

"I do not like a man who lets a girl tell him what to do. A girl doesn't admire a man she can use as a doormat."

"I admire a man who is always in control of the situation, whether it is ordering dinner or protecting his date from a ruffian."

To be brief, what I want in a man is strength so unquestioned that he can afford to be gentle and kind. I hate the cave-man type WHO IS basically unsure of his masculinity."

There you are, boys!

Tomorrow: "Mister, Maybe You'll Find Yourself Here."

Package Biscuits Turn Into Hot Sweet Rolls

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When you need sweet rolls in a hurry, here's the perfect answer. You dress up packaged buttermilk biscuits with sugar and spice and nuts. These rolls reheat well too, says Mrs. Lawrence Bridgman of Milford.

★ ★ ★

Music is an important part of the Bridgman family life. Mrs. Bridgman plays both the piano and organ and is delighted that her teenage son does so well on the organ too. The family likes to travel.

QUICK SWEET ROLLS
By Mrs. Lawrence Bridgman

1 package prepared buttermilk biscuits
⅓ cup melted butter or margarine
¾ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Butter small ring mold well. Place pecans in bottom of mold and pour corn syrup over them.

Combine butter or margarine, brown sugar and cinnamon. Dip each biscuit in this mixture, completely covering each one. Stand biscuits on edge on top of syrup and pecans in ring mold. Bake at 415 degrees for 10-15 minutes. Turn out while hot.

Lots of Soap, Warm Water Best for Hands

In washing your hands, never use water hotter than you can comfortably bear. Avoid cold water, too, as either extreme of temperature is likely to redden the hands.

Instead, rely on plenty of soap, lukewarm water, and a hand brush to keep them clean. Be sure to dry your hands carefully every time they are washed.

Trujillo's Yacht Given Hurried Coat of Paint

★ ★ ★

Crewmen slapped the paint on in a hurry yesterday to cover up the words, "Zsa Zsa Slept Here," which someone lettered in red paint on the sleek hull of the luxurious craft.

The sign painter apparently worked from a small boat that slipped in unnoticed. First inkling Trujillo had of the prank was when a boatload of news photographers drew alongside to take pictures.

In Hollywood, actress Zsa Zsa Gabor, assuming, as did everyone else that the sign referred to her, said she had never slept aboard the yacht.

Given Drink of Poison Instead of Lemonade

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Glen Parker, a bus driver thirsty upon ending his run, ordered a glass of lemonade at a grill and was served a poisonous ammonia mixture by mistake.

★ ★ ★

Parker, 30, became ill after two swallows and was taken to City Hospital, where his condition was listed as serious.

★ ★ ★

Hal Boyle Says:

'Expert' Sees 3-to-1 Martinis Winning Out

NEW YORK (AP) — A happy oenologist sees a return to sanity in at least one pattern of American life.

"I believe there will be a swing away from the present 9-to-1 martini and back toward the normal 3-to-1 ratio," said Dr. Frank Gallizio.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Gallizio, 55, Turin-born, and as volatile as the products he studies, has been an oenologist, or professional student of wines and liquors, for 35 years. He says it is a very rewarding profession, and each year has been more golden than the one before.

For more than two decades he has been an authority on the martini, a drink which he regards as one of the finest.

"Martini drinking is a wild forest, full of different individualists," he observed.

"The reason I believe there will be a return to the normal 3-to-1 martini is that they are being drunk in the home now as much as in bars.

"Certainly a man in his own home would hardly make his wife a 9-to-1 drink. It is far too strong."

It could be, of course, that Dr. Gallizio overrates the chivalry of the American husband, or underrates the capacity of the average wife—or both.

★ ★ ★

"Most people think they get a drier martini by increasing the quantity of gin or vodka," he said. "But this isn't necessarily so. Sometimes they stir the ice so long it becomes too watered."

Here is his recipe for the perfect 3-to-1 martini:

"Put many ice cubes in the mixer. Pour in the vermouth and gin or vodka, and let it filter down slowly through the ice. Then stir once or twice quickly, and pour.

"The martini will be dry—and have a minimum of water."

Dr. Gallizio is firmly set personally against the addition of an olive (it gives an oily flavor) or lemon peel ("it changes the entire character of the drink.")

"I prefer a small pearl onion—but only one—in the martini," he said, judiciously. "But even better is a tiny green pepper preserved in wine vinegar. In my opinion that is best of all.

"I am not against the olive for everyone, mind you—only in my own martini. Heaven forbid, you might get an olive in which the oil had become a bit rancid."

One would think that after 35 years of thoughtful sipping, an oenologist might have a few enlightening secrets about the common hangover. But no.

"I bet in all my life I did not have more than three or four times a hangover—a severe one," said Dr. Gallizio. "I have never made a profound study of it.

Who Equips Iraqi Army?

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. military aid to Iraq has been on a relatively small scale, totaling less than 50 million dollars in the last 3½ years.

Historically, the British have organized, trained, and equipped the military forces there. But late in 1954, an agreement among Iraq, Britain and the United States, brought American military aid into the picture.

The United States agreed to concentrate its aid on improving Iraq's ground forces.

3 Workers Die in 2 Cave-Ins

Foreman Meets Hero's Death Trying to Save Pair in Arkansas

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—One wall of a deep sewer excavation here crumbled yesterday and killed two laborers. Their foreman died under another fall of earth as he struggled to reach the trapped pair.

Hours later, toiling rescuers dug up the bodies of Charles Kegley, 40, Jonesboro, the foreman; Cloia J. Rose, 40, also of Jonesboro; and Johnnie Barnhill, 22, Harrisburg, Ark.

Kegley met a hero's death in trying to save his men. He was standing on a lip of the ditch, which was 3 feet wide and 18 feet deep, when the first cave-in occurred.

The foreman yelled for 10 men working in the excavation to run. All except Rose and Barnhill got away.

Willie Brown, 32-year-old Negro member of the work crew, said later: "Mr. Kegley grabbed a shovel and jumped in. We had practically gotten Barnhill dug out when the second cave-in happened. Mr. Kegley was completely covered."

The second cave-in caught Brown too, burying him up to the neck. He was dragged out unharmed and insisted on taking a shovel to help dig for the three entombed men.

Kegley's wife and 18-year-old daughter stood weeping and praying at the edge of the 100-foot ditch as rescue workers tore at the mounds of clay which were soaked from recent rains.

Veteran Board Member Replaced in Big Upset

Brandon Township School District voters rejected a 5 mill operating tax increase proposal and replaced a 9-year member of the Board of Education in the biggest upset in five Oakland County school district elections yesterday.

A similar tax proposal was approved by the slim margin of 90 votes in the Farmington School District. Other districts holding annual school elections were Lake Orion, Oxford and Clarkston.

BRANDON

Harold Webb defeated R. D. Boschma, Brandon Township Board treasurer, 282 votes to 147. Boschma, owner of the Boschma Construction Co., also had served as president and secretary during his nine years on the Board.

Webb, 37, who is employed at the Baldwin Rubber Co. plant in Pontiac, is a newcomer to local politics. He was elected to a 3-year term.

Brandon's millage increase proposal was rejected by a vote of 274 to 166. The total vote was 445, considered a large turnout.

FARMINGTON

Farmington district voters, in a special election, authorized an additional operating tax levy of 5 mills, or $5 per each $1,000 of assessed property valuation for five years.

The proposal was adopted by a vote of 1,207 to 1,117.

In order to lower the tax burden, the debt service rate will be reduced $3.50 per each $1,000 of assessed valuation for the next three years, Supt. G. V. Harrison said. This was made possible because of the increase in property valuation in the district, he said.

LAKE ORION

Total vote was 326.

OXFORD

Incumbents Wayne McMeans and Robert McWilliams were swept back into office in a heavy turnout in precinct 2, which includes the Leonard-Lakeville area.

McMeans polled 499 votes and McWilliams, 379, in defeating John Salswedel, 306, and Howard Thatcher, 104. They were elected to 3-year terms.

CLARKSTON

Voters in the Clarkston Community School District re-elected Walton T. Robbins and Keith L. Leak to 3-year terms on the Board of Education.

Robbins received 173 votes and Leak, 167, to the 138 for Lester J. Smith; 81 for Thomas Doremus; 56 for George Stewart; and 43 for William Henry.

Waterford OKs 84-Lot Plat

As Soon as Changes Made in Specifications for Water System

Waterford Township Board members last night approved the 84-lot plat of the Pleasant Lake Woods Subdivision, after changes had been made in water system specifications.

Approval was given to the Pleasant Lake Developing Co. and the Blue Lake Development Co., subject to a separate agreement regarding five-foot high cyclone fence installation around the water pumping station.

The Board, in other business, discussed blacktopping Frembes street from Dixie highway to Walton boulevard. The project was formally approved and a report on it was presented by the township's engineering consultants.

The 20-foot wide road will have standard open-ditching on both sides. Its approximate cost is $21,000, with the township paying one half and the county the other. The county has set July 28 as the date to open construction bids.

A township water and safety advisory council was appointed. Named were Police Chief Millard Pender, Justices of the Peace Donald E. Adams and Patrick Daley, Fire Chief Edward Smith, Thomas Peterson and James Fry, Waterford Township High School principal.

The new council is to make recommendations for safety in schools, on highways, in the water and in fire prevention.

Board members approved a request from several businessmen and the Tull Improvement Assn. for a traffic survey for a signal light at the corner of M59 and Williams Lake roads.

Three bids were submitted for the printing of 35,000 tax statements and the Business Forms Service Co. of Detroit was awarded a contract on the basis of their low bid of $720.

Clerk James Seeterlin and Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson were reappointed to the township recreation board.

Bids will be opened at 8 p.m. Aug. 4 for construction of a water line extending 3,600 feet south on Cass Lake road from Lincolnshire avenue to Venice of the Lakes Subdivision.

The resignation of Donald E. Smith as township assessor was accepted by the board. Smith said he was retiring because of ill health. No successor has been named as yet.

Following the regular meeting, Supervisor Elmer Johnson, Seeterlin and Mrs. Olson approved the appointment of 90 election workers for the Aug. 5 primary.

Lakes, Streams Hit Low Levels

LANSING (UPI) — Stream and lake levels in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula reached their lowest point since 1936 during June, the U. S. Geological Survey Surface Water Branch reported today.

Lakes in the southern Lower Peninsula were below median levels for the fifth consecutive month. Northern Lower Peninsula lakes were below normal with new minimum levels set in three lakes, including Otsego Lake near Gaylord.

Stream discharge in the northern half was below 25 per cent of the years during which records have been kept.

3 Beer-Drinking Boys Sentenced to Jail Here

Three teenage boys were fined $25 and sentenced to three days in Oakland County Jail yesterday by Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Patrick Daly, for having beer in their possession while driving a motorboat.

Admitting the charges were Karl D. Klemmer, 19, and Richard A. Newman, 17, both of Detroit, and George C. Sweet, 18, of Ferndale.

Lions Offering Civic Center

Council in Rochester Tentatively OKs Plan Presented Last Night

ROCHESTER — Clinton Smith of 715 Wilcox St., representing the Rochester Lions Club, appeared before the Village Council at last night's regular meeting to present a drawing and plan of a 53 by 29-foot rustic heated shelter building, to be used as a Rochester Civic Center.

The shelter plan, tentatively accepted by the council, would contain a fireplace, rest rooms and space for various youth activities. The Lions Club has offered to construct the building.

Councilmen gave their tentative approval of the plan but said that all buildings for the civic center should tie in with an over all plan for a recreation center.

President Sydney Q. Ennis authorized Village Manager Paul York to set a date for an interview with architects within the next two weeks.

York said that funds were set up in the 1958-59 budget to cover the over all plan of the center located at Sixth and Pine Streets.

Mrs. Nelda Carmichael was granted permission to use two parking spaces at 112 W. Fifth St. for a taxi stand.

Troy Boy, 2, Struck by Neighbor's Truck

TROY—A two-year-old Troy boy was in critical condition this morning with severe head injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after being hit by a neighbor's truck in front of his home yesterday afternoon.

Robert W. Travani, 31, of 217 Hurst St., told police he did not know his truck had struck Jeffery Ferguson until he saw the child lying in the road. He said he saw the boy's mother, Mrs. D. P. Ferguson, 223 Hurst St., mowing the lawn in front of her home and then noticed a flash in front of his truck. He thought it was a dog but said he had felt no jolt or thud.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ferguson told police she did not see the youngster run out of the driveway but thought he might have recognized the truck and run out to greet the neighbor.

Mrs. VanWagner Heads Lake Orion School Board

According to the Board of Education's yearly report presented at the annual public meeting in the Lake Orion Community High School, $802,221.87 was spent last year from the general fund; $191,198.83 from the building and sites fund and $60,325.50 from the debt retirement fund.

Expressing concern for the schools' financial situation, Supt. A. A. Reed said:

"Although we have not had to borrow money to meet our payrolls, as has been done by many other districts, the outlook is not good."

He pointed out that the general fund which on July 1, 1957 had a balance of $83,702.88 is down now to $62,688.59. "This 'cushion' has enabled our board to meet bills on time despite delayed checks from the state during this school year," he said. "Unless additional funds are forthcoming, it will be necessary to increase class loads and further reduce school services."

Reed told the gathering that the Lake Orion District's share from the Oakland County Allocation Board, based on present property evaluation in the district, amounts to $16,000 loss over last year's allocation.

"Since the greater portion of school operating funds comes from sales tax, it is obvious that in time of economic recession schools are in financial trouble," Reed said. "I feel the problem will be solved and the Lake Orion Community School will continue to grow and provide an even better educational program for the children of the community.

"The building of two additional rooms at Webber School has made it possible to expand our special education program to include one room at the elementary level and one at the junior high level. This program is financed by the County Board of Education.

"When funds are available it would be desirable to improve the junior high curriculum by extending home economics, shop, art, and vocal music programs. The elementary curriculum should include vocal music and art in all schools of the district.

"Transportation aid to our district was reduced by $8,073.99 in the past year. The state now pays for transportation of students who live 1½ miles or more from the school. We pick up 43 within the mile range and 600 within the 1½ mile area now."

Mrs. Bernease Petty, who is in charge of the cafeteria, said it may become necessary to increase the price of hot lunches next year in the high school to 30 cents for pupils and 40 cents for adults. This was the first year all schools in the district had a hot lunch program, she said.

In other business, the Board approved the bid of Floyd Patten of Pontiac for grading of the High School athletic field. Patten's low bid was $6,937.50.

This includes grading, putting in the top soil, fine seeding of the football field and the seeding of rye grass in the surrounding area.

Halt to Picketing at Tile Firm Sought

An injunction has been asked by a White Lake Township tile company to stop union picketing of the shop at 8192 Cooley Lake Rd.

The suit, seeking the permanent restraining order, was filed Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court by Burnell B. Fraser and his wife, Marian F., owners of the A-1 Tile Co.

Ordered to show cause July 18 why the order should not be granted was Local 2265 (floor layers) of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, AFL-CIO.

The Frasers say sign-carrying pickets of the union have prevented them from conducting normal business since they began picketing two weeks ago. The owners say they know of no reason for the picketing.

Rae Jean Huffman Weds in Caro

MRS. KENNETH L. JOHNSON

CLARKSTON—Evangelical United Brethren Church in Caro was the scene Saturday evening of the marriage of Rae Jean Huffman of Caro to Kenneth L. Johnson Jr. of Clarkston. The double-ring rite was performed by the Rev. Donald Thomson before an altar decorated with white gladioli and snapdragons.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray G. Huffman of Caro. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Johnson of 44 E. Church St., Clarkston, are the bridegroom's parents.

For her wedding, the new Mrs. Johnson chose a floor-length gown of blossom white imported organdy frosted with embroidery of rose sprays. The basque bodice was designed with petal scalloped decolletage and brief sleeves. It was fitted to a pointed waistline. Her fingertip veil was secured by a pearl-embroidered crown, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Best man was William Cobb of Clarkston, the bridegroom's uncle. Michael Dunn of Detroit, John Clothier of Clifford and Stanley Terry of Dearborn were ushers.

Mrs. Johnson is a graduate of Central Michigan College where she was a member of Theta Sigma Upsilon sorority. Her husband is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Ike's Brother to Discuss Aid to Panama

President Eisenhower's brother said he would discuss economic aid with De La Guardia, including long- and short-term credits to Panama which Milton might recommend when he gets home.

The fishing party was to last overnight, with Eisenhower landing tomorrow morning to fly to Tegucigalpa, Honduras, the next stop on his fact-finding central American tour as a special U. S. ambassador.

Eisenhower's fishing trip left behind some unhappy university students. They asked to meet on their campus with the visitor, who is president of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, but he suggested the U. S. Embassy. The students, who openly oppose de la Guardia and want a greater show of Panamanian sovereignty over the Panama Canal, refused to enter the embassy, and about 65 of them picketed it for nearly an hour yesterday while Eisenhower himself was away touring the canal zone.

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

After his smashing victory in the $50,000 Pepsi Championship at Pine Hollow on Long Island, the playing professionals unanimously elected Arnold Palmer as the young golfer most likely to succeed.

They went farther than that. They called the 28-year-old Palmer the strongest player since Sam Snead first came around in the mid-1930's.

"Four years ago at the Masters," recalled Jay Hebert, now official spokesman of the pros. "Gene Sarazen called Palmer the strongest player he had ever seen."

When Hebert finished five strokes behind Palmer's 273, 11 under par, in the Pepsi, the handsome man from the Louisiana bayous told Arnold in congratulating him: "You were so far ahead that the rest of us were playing in our own tournament, and I was fortunate enough to win that one."

'Palmer is just plain long period," said Herbert. "He's a tremendous driver and hits a fairway wood as long as Snead. He hits the ball 230 yards with a No. 1 iron and, boy, that's strong. In addition to his length, he's a wonderful short iron player, goes for the eight-foot circle, not the green. He's a bold putter."

Palmer, who perhaps came into his own winning this year's Masters, plays what might be called a lashing game. He has unlimited physical endurance and desire. He will hit 500 practice shots a day.

★ ★ ★

Palmer gives you anything but the impression of a stylish shotmaker with a compact swing which enables him to always be in control of the ball.

★ ★ ★

He has the strength to overcome a weakness, if any, so he simply swats the ball as hard as he can, goes for everything. Yet he hits the ball squarely, which is all that matters, and his swing is not unpretty.

★ ★ ★

With his bulging biceps, Palmer in some way reminds this ancient observer of Pepper Martin, who covered center field like a tarpaulin and played third base with his chest for the St. Louis Cardinals in the 1930's.

When young Palmer won the United States Amateur at Detroit in 1954, there were those who considered him as little more than a kid with bull strength and no real class.

Contract Ruled Illegal, So O'Malley Will Appeal

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California District Court of Appeal looks like the setting for the next chapter in the bewildering, bittersweet adventures of Walter O'Malley and his storied athletic troupe.

A superior court judge pointed O'Malley in that direction yesterday by ruling that his contract for a stadium site in Chavez Ravine is as illegal as a spitball.

O'Malley immediately announced he will appeal, first to the district court and then, if necessary, to the state supreme court. The suits challenging the contracts were brought by taxpayers.

The voided contract would have given the Dodgers a stadium site on land now partly owned by the city in Chavez Ravine—a mile from the civic center—in return for Dodger-owned Wrigley Field and other considerations.

The deal was approved by the city council last fall and by the voters in the June municipal election, but Judge Arnold Praeger found it legally lacking on four counts.

For one thing, he said, "There is nothing in the city charter that in any way indicates that the city has the power to use public funds for the purchase of any property for the purpose of selling it to a private person or private corporation for the operation of a private business. . . .

"If the city can use public funds to acquire property for the purpose of conveying it to a ball club . . . then it may use public funds to acquire property for the purpose of selling it for use as a private bowling alley, a private golf course, or steel mill, or hotel . . ."

Praeger was referring to a contract provision under which the city would transfer some 180 acres it already owns in the ravine, and then try to buy some more to make a package of about 300 acres.

Another thing the city can't do, the judge ruled, is "agree in advance to vacate public streets regardless of public convenience and necessity, as part of a contract with a private corporation to do so."

Also illegal, he said, is a provision promising that the city would spend up to two million dollars to get the property in proper shape to be transferred—"the manner in which such money will be spent . . . to be designated by the ball club."

"The manner of expenditure of public money is in the nature of a public trust," the judge said, "and cannot be delegated to others."

The council also erred, Praeger found, when it agreed to turn over half the mineral revenue that might accrue from the land to the Dodgers for use in their youth program. O'Malley waived all mineral rights after the contract was approved but the judge decided to consider the contract as it appeared in the ordinance adopted by the council.

City Net Clinic Will Have Two Groups

Due to the great interest shown in a tennis clinic part of a summer program being sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, net clinics will be split into two groups the rest of the season, it was announced today by program director Arthur VanRyzin.

The clinics, being conducted by Virginia MacLeay, will be held Wednesdays from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. for novices and 7:30 to 8:30 for the novies. People from either group can take part in a Thursday session from 7 to 8 p.m.

Groups must relinquish the courts every hour on the hour under a new ruling which was made to enable more people an opportunity to play. Considerable interest is also being shown in weight lifting classes being held by Al Thomas Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Lumber 9 Easy Class B Winner

Talbott Lumber piled up an 8-1 lead after three innings and just breezed to an easy 11-5 conquest of Kuhlman Elyectric in a Class B City League baseball game Monday at Jaycee Park.

Gary Thomas, Frank Johnson and Mary Holler each clubbed two safeties to pace Talbott's 10-hit attack off pitchers Alex Comparoni and Clyde Conner. Comparoni was the starter and loser.

Walt Talbott started on the hill for the winners and received credit for the victory, even though he needed relief help from Bill LaRose. Kuhlman's made eight hits, two apiece by Earl Bakre and Alex Comparoni.

In American League play, Nonne's Drive-In scored seven times in the 4th inning and breezed to an 8-4 conquest of Drayton Drug A. Harry Dearborn batted in two runs in the big inning. Jerry Walsh made two hits and Arlo Flesher hurled the route for Nonne's.

Jerry Caldwell pitched shutout ball as Lakeland Pharmacy handed Roger's Electric a 16-0 licking in Junior League action and Pankey's Hangar Grill chalked up an 8-4 win over Johnson & Anderson in a Little League game.

They're Only 2½ Games Away from NL Lead

Surprising Cubs Occupy 3rd

By The Associated Press

You couldn't hear the snickers for the laughs when Manager Bob Scheffing allowed as how his Chicago Cubs could be shooting for the National League pennant. But who was it who chilled the Philadelphia Phillies? The Cubs. And who's that sittin' in third place, just 2½ games shy of first? The Cubs.

This is the sort of race in which a club can win three in a row and jump two positions in the standings. And the Cubs have done just that, moving up from fifth with a sweep of the last three in a four-game set with the Phils, who had won 11 of their previous 14 and hadn't lost three straight in a month.

The Cubs, who have finished in seventh or eighth place long enough to pay off a mortgage, gained their first extra-inning victory since last September 8 yesterday with an 11-10 decision over the Phils in 11 innings. That pushed Chicago free of a third place tie with idle St. Louis while Milwaukee was regaining first place from San Francisco by drubbing the Giants 12-3.

Last place Los Angeles—only 6½ games from the top—hammered Cincinnati 8-5 in the only other NL game.

The Cubs, who were sixth after July 4, now have won seven of their last nine. And they beat the Phils the hard way—hammering relief ace Dick Farrell in a four-run ninth that tied it 9-all, and then beating Ray Semproch (11-6), the winningest pitcher in the league, on Walt Moryn's two-run double.

Moryn, Lee Walls and Johnny Goryl homered for the Cubs, who trailed 9-3 at one point against starter Don Cardwell, Walls, whose consecutive hit streak stopped, drove in four runs, two with his 20th homer. He had hit only 19 in his three previous major league seasons.

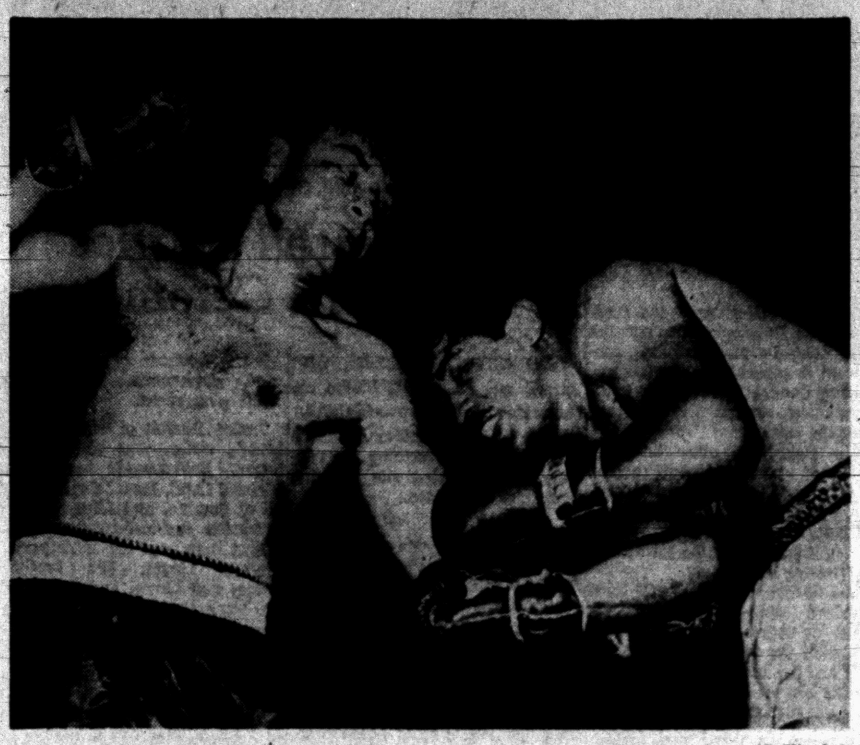

Dale Long's two-out single scored the tying run in the ninth after Goryl, Walls and Ernie Banks had hit successive doubles off Farrell. Rookie Glen Hobbie won it, gaining a 7-6 record as the sixth Cub pitcher after the Phils had scored an unearned run in the 11th.

Wes Covington was 4-for-4 and drove in three runs, one on his 13th homer, and Johnny Logan ripped a two-run homer as the Braves counted 16 hits off loser Al Worthington (8-5) and three relievers. Rookie Leon Wagner homered for one of the five hits the Giants managed off Lew Burdette (8-7), now 9-0 against 'em since Sept. 16, 1954. It was the first time the lanky right-hander has pitched consecutive complete games since his hero role in the '57 World Series.

★ ★ ★

The Dodgers counted all their runs on homers—and, in fact, have homered for their last 16 runs, all in the four-game sweep of the Reds. Don Zimmer, out a week with injuries, hit a pair, good for four runs; Charlie Neal counted three runs with his 17th, third of the series; and stout Steve Bilko belted his seventh, second against his ex-mates. Southpaw Johnny Podres (9-8) won it with relief help, while 10-game winner Bob Purkey lost his sixth.

Whitey Ford Eyes 20 Wins

By The Associated Press

Is this the year Whitey Ford, the New York Yankees' stubby southpaw, finally wins 20. He seldom has looked better since coming up in 1950 and supplying the push Manager Casey Stengel needed for the second of his eight American League pennants.

The blond kid who was called up from Kansas City (then in the American Assn.) and won nine of 10 decisions as the Yankees clipped Detroit for the '50 pennant, then won the clincher in the World Series sweep over Philadelphia, now is a veteran of 29, with 102 victories.

Yet he never has won 20 in one year. In 1956 he won 19 (the Yankees were shut out 1-0 by Baltimore's Chuck Beamon in his last shot at No. 20), and arm trouble held him to an 11-5 record last year.

Ford is 11-4 now, tying teammate Bob Turley for the AL shutout lead with four by blanking the Chicago White Sox 5-0 last night on three hits. He won his 11th only one day later in 1956, but he should have an easier time getting another nine with this current Yankee wrecking crew.

The runaway Yankees pushed 13 games ahead, their longest bulge of the season, as Boston reclaimed second place with a 4-3 decision over Cleveland in 10 innings and Detroit slipped to third with a 2-1 defeat at Baltimore. Jack Urban, a onetime Yankee farm hand, shut out Washington 4-0 on four hits as the Kansas City A's ended their losing streak at six.

★ ★ ★

Hank Bauer's ninth homer, a leadoff shot, and Mickey Mantle's 23rd, a "wrong" field, 410-foot smash to left, helped Ford. But he wasn't just coasting. He struck out two, didn't walk a man and faced but 30 batters, three over the minimum. He retired all but one—Sherm Lollar, who doubled with two out in the seventh—of the last 20.

Early Wynn (8-8) was the loser, giving up seven of the Yankees' nine hits for his second consecutive defeat since winning the All-Star Game.

★ ★ ★

The Red Sox, who scored two in the third for a 2-1 lead with the help of a wild pitch and two passed balls, wrapped it up as reliever Don Mossi walked one to load the bases, then walked pinch-hitter Ted Lepcio on a 3-2 pitch that forced in the winner. Murray Wall (4-7) won it, relieving Dave Sisler who gave way to a stomach ailment in the fifth. Jim "Mudcat" Grant (6-8) lost it.

★ ★ ★

Urban, never beaten by the Senators, gained a 7-5 record with his first major league shut out and fourth victory over Washington since breaking in last season. The A's hit loser Pete Ramos (7-7) for three runs in the first on Preston Ward's two-run double and an RBI single by Harry Simpson.

Wide Margins Mark Avondale Loop Play

In all three games played Monday in the Avondale Church Softball League the victors' margins were unusually wide. A 4th scheduled game was forfeited by Pontiac RLDS 7-0, to Parkdale Nazarenes when the Pontiac team lacked enough players.

Stone Baptists defeated Lake Orion RLDS 10-2, nailing the win in the first with a four-run blast. Nike took a 24-2 win from Avondale Baptists with Joe Macurek homering for the winners. United Presbyterians, led by Bob Stocker and Dick Fitzgerald's homers, swamped Elmwood ME 22-2.

Presbyterians top the league by 3 games, but there are four tied for 2nd (5-4) and two tied at 4-5. Presbyterians' only loss in 9 starts was an early season defeat by Elmwood.

Pontiac 'Latinos' Win Weekend Games

One Arm No Handicap

9-Year-Old Pitcher Chalks Up No-Hitter

DETROIT (AP)— Nine-year-old Jackie Gagnon has made two starts as a pitcher in the city's school baseball league. His second effort was a no-hitter — a real achievement for a boy with only one arm.

Handicapped since birth, Jackie has developed a special technique that enables him to keep up with his teammates.

★ ★ ★

Jackie is a southpaw. His right arm extends only to the elbow. He holds his glove under his right shoulder and just as soon as he has let fly with a pitch he slips the glove onto his left hand in plenty of time to make the return catch or field a bunt.

He balances the bat against his right arm and must depend solely on his left arm for power.

"I don't know what my average is but I haven't been getting too many hits," Jackie said.

Jackie got his interest in baseball from his father, a Detroit Tiger batboy in the 1930s who now is dead. This is Jackie's first year in organized baseball.

Baseball, however, isn't the only sport Jackie participates in. He likes football and is the mascot for a Detroit high school team. He also bowls, averaging 106 in his first year of league competition this past winter.

"He has learned to get along wonderfully well," said Jackie's mother, Mrs. Clifton Gagnon. "There isn't anything that seems to give him trouble. He even ties his own shoe laces, although I don't know how he does it."

AP Wirephoto

ONE-ARMER WOWS 'EM — Nine-year-old Jackie Gagnon was born with only one arm, but he's the star pitcher on a school league baseball team. A southpaw, Jackie pitched a no-hitter last week and does a neat fielding job, too. Upper pictures, he shows his pitching form as he delivers one, and lower photos, he lays down a bunt by balancing bat against his right arm. When not pitching, he plays right field and is one of his league's best fielders.

Bengals Invade New York Lair for 3-Game Set

Homer by Boyd Gives Orioles a 2-1 Triumph in Finale at Baltimore

NEW YORK (AP)—Yankee Stadium is the scene again and the American League waits to see what remarkable events might now ensue from a Detroit Tigers' visit.

The Tigers, only team in the league which has been capable of making the Yankees knuckle under, opened a three-game series here today.

Recent history, including the Tigers' four-game sweep on their last visit, made it an interesting situation, considering the improbables that have happened. Detroit stands 8-4 over New York for the season.

Detroit now is running an even split in the eastern invasion at 3-3 as a result of a 2-to-1 defeat from the Baltimore Orioles at Baltimore yesterday. The loss forced Detroit to yield second place after holding it for one day.

A pitcher's duel went against Herb Moford in his first start for Detroit when Oriole first baseman Bob Boyd homered in the last of the eighth for the winning run.

Boyd got two of the six hits permitted by Moford, and his first also led to a run. He doubled in the first inning and came home on a single.

On the general record, as well as the final score, Hal Brown, the Oriole pitcher, had the edge. He held the Tigers to seven hits while striking out eight men and walking none.

Baltimore, winning its eighth game in 13 with Detroit, was stopped by three double plays by a tight Tiger defense, but Moford's teammates could do little for him at the plate.

Moford, 29-year-old contribution from Charleston of the American Assn. where he had a 6-0 record, had pitched only in relief for Detroit until yesterday. He had been charged with one less.

The only time the Tigers helped him at bat was in the first inning. Frank Bolling led off with a single, stole second base, and came home on a single by Gail Harris. After that, the Tigers could do nothing with Brown.

In the Baltimore first, Boyd led off with a double and was singled home by Gene Woodling.

With both sides blanked into the eighth, Boyd then did his worst damage to the Tigers. With one out and the bases empty, he lined the ball 380 feet into the right field stands. It was his fifth homer of the year. He hit a homer off Moford in Detroit June 26.

Bolling got two of the Tigers' seven hits. Both were singles. Harvey Kuenn and Billy Martin each got a double, but both were wasted.

U.S. Net Squad Sweeps Series

MacKay, Douglas Take Final Matches for 5 to 0 Zone Cup Win

TORONTO (AP) — Barry MacKay and Jack Douglas won the final two singles matches Monday to complete a 5-0 sweep for the United States over Canada in the North American Zone Davis Cup competition.

MacKay, towering star from Dayton, Ohio, defeated Paul Willey, 6-8, 6-2, 12-10, 7-5, and Douglas, former Stanford University quarterback, bested Don Fontana, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

The Yanks had clinched the best-of-five series earlier by winning the first two singles and the doubles without the loss of a set.

Amateur Tourney Is Criticized

DETROIT (AP) — Despite its tremendous prestige and importance, the Men's State Amateur golf tournament suffers from a lack of organization and even some of the top golfers are downright disgusted with the way the event is handled.

The 47th state championship, just concluded at Belvedere Golf Club in Charlevoix, showed at least one improvement over the previous year's event, however. There was a presentation ceremony for the winner and the runner-up.

The year before, when champion Lloyd Syron and runner-up John Kurach finished their championship match, not an official could be found to make the awards presentation. They were out playing golf on the Belvedere course! Syron and Kurach finally picked up their trophies and went home.

The big confusion this year was over the rules. Many in the starting field of 229 cleaned their golf balls on the fairways and on the greens. This practice is not permitted, except when local rules are placed into effect.

But many of the competitors said they were told at the first tee to "use your own judgment."

Most, however, adhered strictly to United States Golf Assn. rules which forbid cleaning except after the completion of a hole.

"I never saw the like," said veteran Ralph Ellstrom of Dearborn. "Why, the guys stood right there in front of the clubhouse on the ninth green and wiped them. No one seemed to know just what rules to follow."

Glenn Johnson, the eventual champion, agreed with Ellstrom. "We were told to follow U.S.G.A. rules — and that means no cleaning. But some of the guys told us they did as they pleased."

The deadline for entries was June 21, but that carried little or no meaning. Several players got in far past the deadline — some as late as two days before the tournament began.

Apparently there is no effort to weed out unqualified players. The rules state that the tournament is open only to players with handicaps of about 5 or 6 or lower.

Veteran Leo Miller of Jackson said "I saw a lot of players out here who wouldn't have broken 100 — if they had counted all their strokes."

Under any circumstances, it would be impossible to supervise all the action, but the committee that runs the tournament is undermanner and the result is a haphazard operation. Some scores were not turned in, others were turned in as much as an hour after the completion of the round and some cards were not properly signed — all without penalty.

During Sunday's final match, spectators were permitted to run their cars up and down the sides of the fairways, following the hole-by-hole action, and uncomprehending camera bugs hovered around the greens during the decisive match, their cameras grinding away while two golfers putted for the biggest prize in state amateur golf.

The entry fee was hiked from $12 to $15 and the golfers noted no improvement in the prizes.

Mrs. Campsie Qualifying Medalist

DETROIT (AP) — A happy marriage of solid, straight driving and precision putting is the cornerstone of Mrs. Frank Campsie's bid to win her first Women's Michigan Amateur Golf Championship.

Mrs. Campsie's brilliant 40-39—79 was the only card below 80 on the 6,347-yard Plum Hollow Golf Club links. Winning medalist honors for the first time since she took up golf nine years ago, Mrs. Campsie's drives were long and true to the fairway. Her putts were accurate and she needed only 29 of them to play 18 holes on the rain-soaked par 38-38—76 course.

"I had eight one-putt greens and one three-putt," said Mrs. Campsie, whose former prowess as a softball slugger helps her long game.

Right behind Mrs. Campsie was 1956 champion Sally Sharp. The blonde Michigan State senior from Birmingham fired a 40-40—80. Mrs. Jack Scripsema of Grand Rapids qualified with 40-41—81 and Mrs. Keith LeClair of Ann Arbor had a 40-42—82.

Mrs. Campsie toured the course with three birdies and nine pars. Four bogeys and two double-bogeys prevented her from shattering par.

Miss Sharp hit par a dozen times and had a birdie on the par-3 ninth hole that measures 177 yards.

Mrs. Don Weiss of Flint, who is in quest of an unprecedented sixth state title, shot an 88 in a practice round. As defending champion, she qualified automatically.

Mrs. Campsie meets 1953 champion Mrs. H. G. Marquardt of Mount Clemens today in the start of match play. The tournament continues through tomorrow and Thursday. The two survivors will battle over 36 holes Friday for the crown.

Miss Sharp comes to grips with Margaret Watkins of Detroit, who qualified with a 43-43—86. Mrs. Scripsema faces Mrs. John LaBoskey of Flint who had a 43-43—86 yesterday.

Mrs. Weiss' opening rival is Mrs. W. L. Mosher of Orchard Lake. Mrs. Mosher qualified with a 42-42—84. Mrs. LeClair plays Mrs. D. D. MacFarlane of Detroit, who qualified with a 40-46—86.

Other first-round matches pit Mrs. Ruth Stricker of Detroit against Helen Grinnell of Detroit, Mrs. Bruce Hilkene of Birmingham against Mrs. Frank L. Thompson Jr. of Birmingham and Mrs. S. E. Gawne of Bloomfield against Mrs. T. H. Guething of Orchard Lake.

Mrs. Guething survived a three-hole sudden-death playoff in advancing to match play. She was tied at 88 with Mrs. Richard Babcock of Spring Lake, Mrs. R. G. Martell of Detroit and Mrs. L. W. Smead of Oakland Hills.

A qualifying-round highlight was a hole-in-one by Mrs. H. R. Haeussler of Birmingham. She scored her ace on the 155-yard No. 12 hole with a four wood. The ball took two bounces and dropped into the cup. But Mrs. Haeussler had 92 other strokes and failed to advance.

Notable among the non-qualifiers was Mrs. E. O. Reynolds, the 1954 champion from Lansing. Her 89 was one stroke too much to make the playoff for the final berth.

IT'S OK FOR DUCKS — Heavy rains which fell Monday are good for the Llanerch Country Club's pet ducks (foreground), but rough on competitors trying to practice for the National PGA golf tournament which starts Thursday at Havertown, Pa. Joseph Diega (right) and Jim McDonald, both of Geneseo, N. Y., were some of the few golfers who braved the elements on the opening warmup day.

Awaits Arrival of MacKay

CHICAGO (AP)—Of all the persons awaiting the arrival of Barry MacKay at the 48th annual National Clay Court tennis tournament, 15-year-old Bobby Siska of San Francisco is the most anxious.

Former University of Michigan star MacKay and Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode, No. 1 women's seed, were enroute from other tournaments yesterday as the suburban River Forest competition opened with four netters breezing past second-round opponents.

Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., seeded third behind MacKay and Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of Dallas, whipped Gordon Fleming of Flint, Mich., 6-0, 8-6. Sammy Giammalva of Houston, No. 7 seed, blanked Robert Burnham of Michigan City, Ind., 6-0, 6-0. Grant Tolden of Chicago and Mike Green of Miami Beach, No. 5 and 6 seeds, defeated Robert Sorenson of Chicago, 6-1, 6-2, and Juan Devjoe of Brussels, Belgium, 6-1, 7-5, respectively.

Siska, who like MacKay, drew a first-round bye and said he couldn't wait to face the top-seeded slugger from Dayton, Ohio.

Bobby said he had wanted to draw MacKay as an opponent more than anyone else because, "he plays the kind of slugging tennis I'm accustomed to on the West Coast hard courts."

He recalled that MacKay is fresh from reaching the quarter-finals on fast Wimbledon, England, courts and should be ready for a free-swinging match.

Baptists Reach Top With 4 to 3 Victory

A 4-3 victory over Church of the Brethren last night put First Baptists in top spot in the city Church Softball League. Winners were paced by Chuck Gavette's two runs and his 6th-inning hit that drove in the winning tally.

A two-run homer by Harry Sawter won a 10-9 tilt for Salvation Army against Liberty Baptists, and Central Christian defeated First Presbyterians 4-2 in an upset on Howard Batten's two-hitter.

St. John's Lutheran defeated Trinity Baptist 8-6, and Bethany Baptists won from Oakland Avenue United Presbyterians, 7-2, in other loop games.

Error Brings Win for Grill

Loop-Leading Jewelers 'Thrown' for 2-1 Loss in City 'A' Baseball

Last Thursday an infield error resulted in an 8-7 setback for Griff's Grill in the Class A City Baseball League. Yesterday the Grill team was a one-run winner via the same method.

Two 7th-inning errors by shortstop John Flesser sandwiched around Jerry Vallad's single produced the all-important run as Griff's handed league-leading Shaw's Jewelers a 2-1 defeat at Wisner Field.

DeWayne Sheffer got a life on Flesser's 1st miscue, moved to 3rd base on Vallad's safety and tallied the winning run when Flesser threw wildly to home plate after fielding pitcher Marshall McGuire's grounder.

The fatal miscues broke up a dazzling mound battle between McGuire and Shaw's Don Picman. Each pitcher allowed only five hits with Picman striking out 10 batters and McGuire fanning five. Both issued two walks.

Griff's opened the scoring in the bottom of the 4th inning when Jim Berg got the 1st of his two doubles and dashed home on a followup double by Russ Lothery. Hal Trott's two-bagger scored Bob Swindell from 1st in the 6th stanza with the tying run for the Jewelers.

4 County Youths Succeed in USGA Golf Qualifiers

Tommy Grace of Lathrup Village and Pete Green of Birmingham finished 1-2 yesterday at Detroit Golf Club in 18-hole sectional qualifiers for the U.S.G.A. National Junior Amateur golf tournament, scheduled July 30-Aug. 2 at the University of Minnesota course.

Grace fired par 71 over his home layout and Green rifled 72 to set the pace for 59 other teenage golfers trying their luck on the DGC links.

A total of six boys qualified for the national tourney, four from Oakland County. Completing the list of qualifiers are Bud Badger of Bloomfield Hills, pint-sized Gary Mouw of Birmingham, Dennis Golbesky of Dearborn and Bob Panasiuk of Windsor.

Badger finished 3rd in yesterday's trials with 75 while the remaining three youths each shot 76. Grace and Green wound up in reverse order last week in the state Jaycee tournament at Ann Arbor where both earned a trip to the national JC event Aug. 18-24 at Tucson, Ariz.

Hurlers Steal Softball Show

Mazur Spins 1-Hitter, Grant Almost as Stingy in Shutout Efforts

Jake Mazur of Shaw's Jewelers and Lynus Grant of Elks No. 810 were the mound heroes with Mazur getting slightly the better of it.

Mazur allowed only one hit, a 2nd-inning single by Jim Fink, and struck out 11 while blanking the VFW, 5-0, on the Beaudette diamond. Shaw's Al Hayward belted a solo home run in the 5th inning.

Grant whitewashed Stadium Inn on just two safeties, both singles, as the Elks triumphed by the same 5-0 score at North Side. Mazur and Grant each faced only 23 men.

In the opening game on the North Side field, the American Legion tallied seven runs in the 1st inning on just two hits and coasted to a 9-4 victory over the Post Office. Blue Star Drive-In rallied with four runs in the last of the 6th inning for a 5-4 exhibition win over the CIO at Beaudette.

Diamond Dust

By CHUCK ABAIR

Several communities around Oakland County have done outstanding jobs in recent years in the development of summer baseball leagues youngsters. One of these towns where the folk have gone all out for the kids is Milford.

A total of 17 teams are playing there at present led by the Junior Legion entry in the District league. At an average of 15 players to a team, that's a total of 255 boys playing ball in Milford alone.

All the teams outside of the Legion nine play in town loops. There are 12 in Little League divided in half for Majors and Minors and four Babe Ruth contingents.

It takes three fields to keep them all going. One had to be added this year to take care of the increasing demand for a place to play. Committees started working on plans for summer ball way back in February.

Milford High School's athletic director and football coach Dick Yeager is among the busiest fathers around the area. He has boys competing four different nights on different teams. The youngest, Ricky, is a regular 2nd baseman in LL at the ripe old age of 7. He broke in last spring while only six.

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—An Army missile team successfully fired a Nike-Hercules ground to air missile yesterday. It remained in view about 45 seconds as it headed out over the Gulf of Mexico. The Nike-Hercules has an unofficial estimated range of 70 miles and a speed of 2,300 m.p.h.

Hollywood Headlines

Marilyn Monroe Is Back! She's the Real Article

By BOB THOMAS

The Hollywood press corps didn't realize how much they missed Double-M until she came back after a two-year absence. They realized anew that this is the real article.

Oh, there have been others who have tried. Jayne Mansfield? You've got to give her A for effort, but she lacks subtlety. Sophia Loren? Not enough imagination. Kim Novak? She comes close, but still lacks a certain flair. Zsa Zsa Gabor? Are you kidding?

Marilyn has everything it takes, and I don't just mean the physical aspects. She still has that wonderful, wide-eyed response to interviewers' questions. And her responses are not just accidental or vague.

Such as when she was asked whether she favored the sack dress. No, she replied, it's not organic.

Watching her operate at her first press reception on her return, I tried to analyze the Monroe magic. It is unique. She exudes the impression of being the dumb blonde. But she knows all the angles, including the camera ones. She chided a photographer for trying to get a shot that would show more than she wanted.

And she keeps the reporters happy. She reminds each one of when they met last, which builds morale. And she always answers queries. Though her reply might skirt the question, she is always quotable.

Las Vegas, notes. . . . It's TV time on the strip. Among the stars playing at the top hotels are Ed Sullivan, Jack Benny, Gisele MacKenzie, George Gobel, Eddie Fisher, Milton Berle, Rosemary Clooney, etc. Reason: TV stars want to pick up that Las Vegas loot as soon as they start their summer vacations. . . .

★ ★ ★

The Clooney gal is appearing twice nightly at the Sands though five months pregnant with her fourth child. But with today's crazy styles, it's scarcely noticeable. . . . Benny got off to a slow start in his Flamingo debut, but picked up when his Yermo, Nev., fan club came onstage. They were eight middle-aged ladies who formed a rousing swing band.

C'est la Vie—Tricolor Misses Cue in France

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The city fathers, going all out to honor France's Independence Day, decided to fly the French Tricolor not only on Bastille Day, but for three days prior as well.

The red, white and blue flag was raised atop City Hall Friday. There it flew, that day, Saturday and Sunday.

Air Safety Bill Sent to House

Would Set Up Federal Agency With Complete Policing Authority

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) said today he is hopeful the House will accept a bill aimed at making it safer to travel the nation's airways.

Monroney is chief sponsor of the legislation, which the Senate passed by voice vote late yesterday. The House Commerce Committee has already held hearings on the bill.

The measure would set up an independent federal agency headed by a powerful administrator who could make and enforce safety rules for commercial, private and military planes.

He would have full authority to control the use of air space by all planes and to develop and operate a common system of air navigation facilities. The legislation was spurred by a series of plane collisions.

As originally written, the disputed provision would have required advance approval by the administrator of the location of any new military air base or missile site.

But this was changed to provide that the Defense Department notify the aviation agency head of the proposed location of such facilities.

★ ★ ★

If the administrator and armed forces disagreed about a site, the issue could be taken to the President.

It's Gary Crosby Dating Showgirl Now—He's 25

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Gary Crosby's been holding hands with a showgirl!

★ ★ ★

Felicia, 23, also works at the Tropicana.

Batista's Candidate Favored

Four Beating the Bushes to Woo Voters in Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Four men who want to be president of Cuba are starting to beat the bushes for votes in the elections scheduled Nov. 3.

This means press, radio and television are heavily censored. Police can raid homes, arrest Cubans without a warrant, toss them into jail indefinitely and never say why.

Public assemblies are barred. The government has virtually unlimited authority to take whatever action it deems necessary to maintain order and crush "subversive movements."

But the government is determined that nothing will stop the elections.

The Supreme Electoral Council, established to arrange the November voting, is permitting candidates to address public assemblies whenever such authorization is requested.

Former Premier Andres Rivero Aguero, 53-year-old lawyer and historian, has the personal support of President Batista and four parties backing Batista's government.

Carlos Marquez Sterling, backed by the Free People's party, is a shrewd, 58-year-old lawyer who served as president of Cuba's Constituent Assembly in 1940.

Alberto Salas Amaro, 43, is a long-time journalist and nominee of the Union Cubana party.

Outside of the Cubans actively working in the parties, little interest has been demonstrated. Probably most Cubans think the election already is in the bag for Rivero Aguero, Batista's candidate.

Batista has promised the elections will be fair and honest. Cubans who try to be impartial say Rivero Aguero is virtually certain to be elected president because his opposition is divided.

All four candidates are plugging the general theme of work, peace and progress.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF
THE JADE MONKEY
Eighth of a series

By DONALD J. SOBOL

"The Staffords were known to be in reduced circumstances. Owed everybody," said Henderson, the insurance investigator. "The $10,000 they'll collect on the shattered art treasure will save their scalps."

"Then it's your conviction the jade monkey was deliberately broken?" asked Haledjian.

"A few moments before the alleged 'accident,' Mrs. Endicott received a box containing a mink coat. It was her first fur, and since it was a warm August day, she went directly upstairs to unpack and hang it in the storage closet.

"The window next to the storage closet," continued the insurance man, "is the only one in her house which has a view into the Staffords' bedroom. After hanging the coat, Mrs. Endicott heard Mrs. Stafofrd scream and saw her neighbor stumble into the jade monkey. It sailed through the open bedroom window and shattered on the patio below.

"The fur company's driver noted the Endicott delivery was made at 3:30 p.m. About a min later, he heard Mrs. Stafford scream. Rushing from the truck, he saw the fragments of the jade monkey, and both women at their windows."

"As it was a warm August day," interrupted Haledjian, "why wasn't there a screen on the Stafford window?"

"It was being repaired. That was the first angle I investigated. About the only thing I've got to go on is the hunch Mrs. Endicott is lying for her friend."

"I should take the matter to court before paying," agreed Haledjian. "And make sure you have several women on the jury."

WHAT DID HALEDJIAN MEAN BY THE LAST REMARK?

No woman receiving her first mink would ever put it directly into storage. She would try it on and purr over it.

Mrs. Endicott's presence at the only window where she could substantiate Mrs. Stafford's claim was obviously part of a plot to collect the insurance money. Haledjian realized other women would instantly see through it.

Proposals Studied by Rackets Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Rackets Committee staff is already at work on legislative proposals to correct conditions exposed by its current underworld hearings, it was disclosed today.

★ ★ ★

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) has ordered suggestions prepared for committee study within the next one to three weeks.

He said the proposals might be ready by Friday when the committee expects to complete its inquiry into alleged gangster infiltration of labor and management groups in the Chicago restaurant business.

If not, he said, they probably will be made public two weeks later after hearings involving reputed criminal elements in the Detroit area.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy conceded there is no chance for action on new labor proposals at this session of congress. The Senate last month approved a labor reform bill based on the committee's findings last year but it is still bogged down in the House.

BOARDING HOUSE

Citizen Suing Hazel Park

He Hopes to Represent Same Community in State House

A Democratic candidate for state representative yesterday filed suit against a fellow Democratic candidate and the city he hopes too represent in the Legislature.

John C. Hitchcock, Hazel Park insurance man vying for the District 6 nomination with four others, asked Oakland County Circuit Court for an injunction to stop the City of Hozel Park from condemning a $11,000 quonset hut addition to his office.

Hitchcock, of 438 E. Jarvis St., Hazel Park, claims the city has ordered that the addition, at 22208 John R. Ave., be demolished or that the city would do it at Hitchcock's expense. He said this is being done without a hearing and "without due process of law."

Named in the suit, besides the city, as defendants were Zigmund J. Niparko, Democratic candidate for Congress and Hazel Park councilman, and Mayor Louis Elias, brother of Fred Elias, Democratic candidate for state senator. Three other councilmen were also named.

Niparko voted against a May 12, 1958 resolution condemning the addition, while Elias and the other three favored it, the suit shows. No explanation was given in the resolution for the action.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams ordered a show cause hearing July 25 when the city must show why an injunction shouldn't be granted.

Ex-City Man Sentenced for Violating Probation

For violating a three-year probation term, Leland Hart, 20, formerly of Pontiac, was sentenced yesterday to 1½ to 5 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Hart, late of Iron Mountain, told Judge Adams he didn't believe he deserved mercy. Hart's record in the Probation Dept. showed 10 violations in Dickinson County and four in Wisconsin since he was placed on probation here for grand larceny Jan. 14, 1957.

World Events Push Grains Up

CHICAGO (AP) — The landing of U.S. Marines in Beirut brought out the most lively flurry of grain futures dealings in many months on the board of trade today and prices were bid substantially higher in a broad short-covering movement.

Wheat had the strongest support and the December contract was up as much as 5¼ cents a bushel on opening transactions while some other grains went ahead around 3 cents.

Offerings were scant at first but within a few minutes they became a bit more liberal at the higher figures and prices leveled off somewhat. Within the first half hour, December wheat was selling at a gain of 2 cents.

Trading was at a much slower pace near the end of the first hour with wheat 1⅛ to 2⅛ cents a bushel higher, July $1.90⅜. Corn was ⅝ to 1¼ higher, July $1.31⅜; oats ¼ to ⅜ higher, July 65.

Minnesota Mining Sales Booming

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Louis E. Weyand, executive vice president and director of sales for Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co., said today preliminary figures indicate June sales showed the second largest monthly volume in the firm's history.

"As a result of our excellent showing in May and June," he said, "we expect our second quarter volume to exceed 90 million dollars compared with 92 million a year ago.

"This will bring 3M's first half total to something better than 176 million dollars, only three per cent below last year's six months total of 181 million."

At the end of the first quarter sales were down five per cent from the same period of 1957.

Weyand said sales of abrasives, generally regarded as a barometer of general business activity, are improving and that sales of roofing granules which reflect activities in one building industry had a remarkable upturn in recent weeks.

Township police said the thieves, who gained entrance through a window, also stole 322 cartons of cigarettes, 150 pounds of roast beef, 33 quarts of wine, 16 quarts of champagne, 10 cases of beer, and five cases of soup, among other things.

Oils Fall Again on Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — International oils again were hit hard in heavy selling as the stock market declined early today.

News that U.S. marines had landed in Lebanon reached Wall Street just before the market opened. On the heels of yesterday's pro-Nasser coup in Iraq, this latest news prompted another rush to unload stocks with Middle East oil resources.

Oils fell from 1 to 3 points. Declines among other issues went from fractions to about a point.

The ticker tape was as much as 2 minutes behind floor transactions as a succession of big opening blocks was traded. After the first rush of trading, prices steadied a bit. Then the ticker tape fell behind again temporarily with prices stil lfirm.

Gulf Oil, which dropped 4¾ yesterday, was off about 3. Its loss was the worst of the oils.

Losses of more than a point were shown by Standard Oil (New Jersey), Texas Co., Royal Dutch, Jersey), Texas Co., Royal Dutch, Standard Oil of California and Socony-Mobil.

Opening blocks included: Royal Dutch off 1½ at 41½ on 15,000 shares; Standard Oil (New Jersey) off ⅞ at 52⅛ on 8,000; Getty off ⅜ at 24⅜ on 6,700; Shell Transport & Trading off ⅜ at 18⅞ on 5,000; Gulf Oil off 1¾ at 112 on 5,000; and Bethlehem Steel off ¼ at 41⅜ on 5,000.

The new "Dow-Badische Chemical Corp.," which will have headquarters in Texas, has a capital stock of 60 million dollars. BASF and Dow will each control 50 per cent, BASF said.

The plant is to produce chemical products on the basis of acetylene supplied by Dow. High-pressure processing methods have been developed by BASF.

2,800 Algerians Freed

ALGIERS (UPI) — French army headquarters announced last night that clemency had been granted to nearly 2,800 Moslem nationalists in keeping with Gen. Charles de Gaulle's wishes for "French unity." About 175 of the nationalists had been serving prison sentences. The others were under various forms of house arrest.

$2,500 Stolen at Drug Store

Perry Pharmacy Hit Second Time Within Past Two Months

Several burglaries were reported to Pontiac Police Monday, with one place of business reporting its second major loss from break-ins in the past two months.

Jack Robinson, owner of the Perry Pharmacy, 689 N. East Blvd., told police that over $2,500 had been taken from the store.

Police investigators reported $200 missing from a cash drawer, $232 from two cash registers, and between $2,000 and $2,500 stolen from a safe.

The thief or thieves entered through a ventilator in the roof, said police. The drug store was broken into by the same method on May 24.

An attempted break-in was reported at the Glenwood Bar, 734 Glenwood St. Entry was gained through a rear door, said police, and an attempt was made to enter the liquor storage room. Nothing else was disturbed.

2 Get 30-Days for Taking Trees From Area Park

Indignant Conservation Department officials today obtained convictions against two men they accused of uprooting and stealing six trees from the Proud Lake Recreation Area last night.

Beginning 30-day jail terms in Oakland County Jail in lieu of paying $100 fines were William W. Gray, 24, of 8144 Sanford St., Garden City and Roy E. England, 19, of 19313 Glastonbury Ave., Detroit.

Park rangers apprehended the two men in an auto about two miles south of park headquarters on Wixom road shortly after 7 p.m., said Alfred Masini, area conservation manager.

They had the six trees in a trailer, Misini said. The tree were dead because their roots had been chopped away to allow their removal, he said.

"We in conservation consider this senseless killing of living, beautiful trees as a kind of wanton murder," Masini said angrily at today's arraignment.

Liquor Bosses Demand Dignity for Wine Names

LANSING (AP)—The State Liquor Control Commission has decided that dignity cannot be sacrificed for catchiness in its new classification of aperitif wines.

Such names as "Mother Goldstein's Flaming Jaguar," "Hi Fi," and "Flaming Jet" are out.

Ford Rouge Local Takes Strike Vote

UAW Resumes Talks With Big 3

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers' big local at Ford's River Rouge plant begins voting today on whether it is willing to authorize strike action if necessary in the union's labor contract talks.

Hints of strike action came from UAW leaders as bargaining talks were resumed with the Big Three car makers after a 12-day recess.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock, who heads the union bargaining team at GM, said no progress has been made in negotiations that started late in March.

"Obviously we are not going to drift along without a deadline forever," Woodcock said. He said, however, the union had no definite date in mind.

Ken Bannon, the union's chief negotiator with Ford, hinted the union was getting ready for a strike if necessary when the companies start production of new models in August or September.

Bannon reported that Ford workers so far have voted 97 per cent in favor of authorizing strike action. The balloting at the Rouge Plant virtually will complete the strike poll among Ford workers.

The UAW reported that the strike vote so far among General Motors workers has been 92 per cent in favor and among Chrysler workers 95 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Referring to UAW demands, Denis said, "They're still up in a mountain and show no disposition to come down."

The companies gave no indication when they would make new offers. They originally proposed extension for two years of the wage formula of the 1955 contracts which expired Memorial Day weekend.

General Motors said yesterday that Local 87 of the United Rubber Workers Union has agreed to a two-year extension of the 1955 contract. The local represents 3,000 hourly rated workers at GM's Inland Manufacturing Division in Dayton, Ohio.

The rubber workers will get an increase of 16 cents an hour spread over two years. The UAW rejected this as inadequate.

GM said the agreement with the rubber workers provides for an income security plan instead of the supplemental unemployment plan. GM will contribute 5 cents an hour to the income security fund for each hour worked by Inland employes. The contributions will be credited to each employe's personal account from which money may be drawn during layoffs.

General Motors proposed the income security plan as an alternative to the layoff pay plan which first was negotiated by the UAW in 1955 and later adopted by some other unions.

The union's layoff pay plan has been inoperative in Ohio and several other states where state regulations prevent integration of state jobless benefits with company-financed layoff pay.

GM described its income security plan as the only one of its kind now in effect in the auto industry.

GM reported it has reached agreement with 12 other bargaining units affiliated with seven different unions on two-year extensions of the 1955 contracts.

Lamas Held in Tibet

CALCUTTA, (UPI) — The Chinese communists have refused exit permits to Tibetan Lamas who have been trying to flee to India in large numbers. The Lamas reportedly face a new wave of persecution in eastern Tibet where their monasteries have been seized by the communists and their traditional rights and privileges withdrawn.

Even With Wet Pants, Column Comes First

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS — I'm sitting in 110-degree heat beside the swimming pool—and my problem, Mr. Anthony, is, can I write a column while my bathing pants are dripping?

WILSON

Gosh, these pants are wet in the back! Over there on a beach chair are Harold Lloyd and his son Duke, the singer, and their pants aren't wet. Of course they haven't been in. Robert Q. Lewis, who, speaking of pants, is panting to do remakes of Harold Lloyd's great films, was with Lloyd here a couple days ago when a middle-aged woman fan came up to him, and, looking right at Lewis, "Mr. Lloyd, I saw your pictures years ago and you haven't changed a hit." So Robert Q. looks more like Harold Lloyd now than he does.

★ ★ ★

These pants are still wet in the rear. Over there on another beach chair is Mrs. John Bromfield, pretty blonde wife of TV's Sheriff of Cochise. He went to St. Louis to see his new sponsor, Augie Busch.

She's in a two-piece job, and speaking of pants, Mrs. Bromfield—her professional name is Larri Thomas—exclaimed to me about how great these new foam rubber fanny falsies must be for the girls who need them to look good in sack dresses and bathing suits.

"They must be wonderful at ball games!" she said. "You carry your own cushion right with you."

Still speaking of pants, Mrs. Bromfield doesn't require fanny falsies, nor does Marilyn Maxwell, whom I saw whereabouts. Marilyn is going into a show shortly—and was in town auditioning hairdressers. "I always carry my hairdresser with me, but she can't make this trip, so I've got to get a special one," she said. Marilyn carries her hairdressers with her—and George Jessel carries his hairpiece (s) with him.

Appropriations to Decide

Fight for New Channels in Lakes Nearing Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's fight for speeded construction of the Great Lakes connecting channels reaches its crucial and probably toughest stage this week.

A Senate-House conference committee on public works appropriations will decide how much to appropriate for this fiscal year—the 23½ million dollars approved by the House or the Senate figure of 27½ million.

"It will be a fight," predicted Rep. Louis C. Rabaut (D-Mich), a supporter of the higher figure and a member of the conference committee.

Rabaut tried unsuccessfully last month to push the higher figure through the House Appropriations Committee. He said at that time House members of the conference committee probably would resist any Senate action raising the appropriation.

Midwestern members of Congress have contended that speedy action on the 141 million dollar connecting channels project is needed for the midwest to take full advantage of the St. Lawrence Seaway, scheduled to open next year.

The conference committee also will consider another seaway-connected project, a new look at the eastern end of Lake Superior near Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., proposed by Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich).

The Senate approved $350,000 in planning money to get the $38,700,000 project under way. It was left out of the House version in accordance with President Eisenhower's edict against new construction starts.

Rabaut declined comment on the Soo lock project. He said Potter had not discussed the project with him.

Potter, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, today stressed the need for speed on both the connecting channel and Soo lock projects.

He contended the connecting channels project will not be completed until 1964 under the appropriation included in Eisenhower's budget and approved by the House. He said it could be finished by 1962 if an additional 4 million dollars are approved.

The President originally asked for an 18 million dollar connecting channel appropriation but later boosted it to 23½ million.

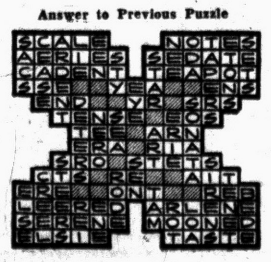

Unwelcome Visitor

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH, N.C. (AP)—Owners of a tavern here are hoping a woman will return for a live six-foot chicken snake she left on the counter in a jug after saying she'd be right back. They're asking her to please pick it up at the "Wit's End" tavern.

Runaway Newlyweds Return to Face Music

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) —Dominic Elwes and Tessa Kennedy, who defied English law to run away and get married, came back voluntarily to Britain today to face the music.

There has been a high court order out to commit the 26-year-old Elwes to prison since he eloped to Scotland with the 18-year-old shipping heiress last December against her parents' wishes.

Tessa, weeping openly, came ashore an hour later with other passengers. She was accompanied by Elwes' father, portrait painter Simon Elwes who lives in New York.

It was the first time the couple had been separated since the elopement.

★ ★ ★

Tessa's parents had had her made an infant ward of the high court to block the match. The law caught up with the runaways in Scotland and a Scottish court also forbade them to marry. They went to Cuba and were wed in a civil ceremony in January, later going through another ceremony before a Supreme Court judge in New York.

★ ★ ★

Two weeks ago the couple's attorneys announced they were coming back to Britain "to submit to the jurisdiction of a British court." Other passengers aboard the Liberte said they looked very happy on the crossing and spent most of the evenings dancing.

DAVE KEEPS BUSY — There's rarely a dull moment for versatile Dave Garroway, who is seen and heard on three NBC network series. He is emcee of "Today," host-narrator of "Wide Wide World" on NBC-TV and is a communicator on NBC Radio's "Monitor" series. Garroway feels the increasing presence of jazz music on television today mirrors our culture.

'Mirror Lives We're Leading'

Says Swing Music Is Now More Socially Acceptable

By DAVE GARROWAY

NEW YORK (AP)—There's a growing trend on television this season to pay more attention to jazz. Do a little probing, and I think you'll find the reason why.

Jazz looms so big on TV because it reflects the kind of culture in which we live—its growing tensions, anxieties, pace. As a music form, it is coming of age because it reflects reality.

Too, the lunatic fringe is dropping off, and jazz is becoming socially acceptable. The Newport concerts in jazz have helped that tremendously. Today, you see quite erudite articles on jazz in dignified national magazines.

Jazz is on the upswing. In the past deacde, it has come a long way. Proof is the growth of jazz festivals, album sales, concerts, and hi-fi sales, as well as the night clubs specializing in jazz, and jazz becoming respectable.

The growing trend toward jazz on TV was boosted last fall when "Seven Lively Arts" presented a superb 90-minute special called "The Sound of Jazz." There have been several other good ones since. For instance, on April 9, NBC-TV paid tribute to jazz with "Swing Into Spring," a musical show starring Benny Goodman, Ella Fitzgerald and Harry James.

Despite its growing popularity on TV, jazz, the fabulous infant, to coin a cliche, has a long way to go. America's ear isn't yet turned to jazz—completely.

Blame, if you must, the fact that many people don't really know what jazz is. Some think it's interchangeable with rock 'n' roll, not having heard it. They don't understand it, and so they're afraid of it, because it's only natural to fear something you don't understand.

★ ★ ★

In TV, perhaps, lies a great hope of swinging America around to hearing good jazz. TV will undoubtedly wield more power as time goes on.

TV is a great method of knowing people. If a viewer gets interested in the musician playing jazz—even if he simply likes the way he looks —he will begin to like jazz a little more.

Argentine Quintuplets Meet for 15th Birthday

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The world's only surviving quintuplets turned 15 today and Papa Franco Diligenti is letting them have one of their rare reunions in honor of the occasion.

The three Diligenti girls and two boys were due home today from their separate English boarding schools. Their birthday party will be a huge fiesta Saturday at the family's suburban estate, with relatives flocking to Buenos Aires from as far away as Italy and Canada.

The wealthy, strong-willed father has firm ideas about rearing the quints. Six years ago he sent them off to five different schools. Since then they have seen each other only during holidays.

"They ganged up on us," he explained. "Their squad behavior meant they defied discipline and any corrective influence from outside."

★ ★ ★

All speak fluent Italian, their parents' native tongue; Spanish; English; and a smattering of French. Some say they want to go to English colleges but one of the boys indicates he would like to attend a U.S. university.

By name they are Franco, Carlos Alberto, Maria Esther, Maria Cristina and Maria Fernanda.

Diligenti came to Argentina from Italy as a penniless 27-year-old immigrant. Now a wealthy, retired industrialist, he has been able to ignore the hundreds of commercial offers which brought the Dionne quintuplets fortune and life in a goldfish bowl.

Crime Surges to New High

More Bank Robberies Than Ever Recorded Before, FBI Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today that more bank robberies occurred during the last 12 months than in any other similar period since accurate records have been kept.

★ ★ ★

In a 1958 fiscal report to Atty. Gen. Rogers, Hoover said that for the year ending June 30, there were 631 violations of the federal bank robbery statute.

"Not since the gangster era of the 1930s, when in 1932 there were 606 violations against banks, has there been such a tremendous wave of this type of crime," the report said.

"These 631 violations occurring during the past 12 months included 373 robberies, 198 burglaries and 60 larcenies, a total of 188 more violations of this statute than in the preceding 12 months. During January 1958 alone 66 violations occurred, an all-time high monthly figure. Solutions in bank robbery violations correspondingly increased."

Convictions in various kinds of FBI cases in fiscal 1958 rose to 11,457, or 96.8 per cent of the cases brought to trial.

The report showed FBI recovery of 16,504 stolen motor vehicles compared with 15,215 recoveries the year before. The 1958 figure was a new high, and Hoover said the 5,157 convictions of car thieves was also a record.

Reds Protest to Italy

ROME (UPI)—Communist press reports said today Bulgaria has sent a note to the Italian government protesting against possible installation of American missile launching ramps on Italian soil. Italy shrugged off as "unacceptable" and "inadmissible" a similar complaint from Albania yesterday.

Lost Girl, 5, Found Alive in Montana

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—Searchers found Mary Gay Bent fast asleep at the head of a Sage Creek area canyon yesterday. Mary, who was 5 yesterday, was lost in the rugged mountain area for 23 hours.

★ ★ ★

Dave Lehman, a volunteer searcher, woke her and handed her two halves of an orange. Then she was hoisted onto a horse and taken back to the camp where her tearful parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace G. Bent of Billings, waited.

★ ★ ★

Sammy Davis Jr. Held at U.S. Border

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Singer Sammy Davis Jr. was taken to the police station yesterday to explain why he crossed the border at nearby Tijuana, Mexico, with a .22 caliber pistol.

At the station, Davis produced credentials and explained he had a right to possess a gun because he was a special Los Angeles County Deputy Sheriff.

The singer said Lansfield was carrying the pistol because it was uncomfortable to carry in his tailored slacks.

★ ★ ★

Davis, now appearing in Hollywood, said he had been suffering from laryngitis and went to Tijuana for a rest.

Which Suspect Killed 2 Girls?

St. Louis Police Seek to Eliminate One of Two Confessed Slayers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Who killed two girls in a St. Louis tavern? Two weeks ago, it was a routine murder case. Today, it is a mystery compounded by one suspect too many.

On July 2, Salvatore (Sam) Ciluffo, a 27-year-old illiterate produce clerk, confessed to the slayings. He told police he spent $75 in Bonnie Tavern buying drinks for Virginia (Patsy) Haney, 29, and Jo Ann Bates, 22. But neither of them would date him, said Ciluffo, so he shot them both June 9.

Ciluffo was indicted on two murder charges and that, it appeared, was that.

But last Saturday, police picked up transient Robert W. Sauer, 34. Sauer had two pistols. A ballistics test revealed one of them was the gun which killed the girls.

Sauer promptly confessed. He told officers that Mrs. Haney and Mrs. Bates threatened to tell police about his plans for a holdup. Ciluffo repudiated his confession.

There were only two witnesses to the shooting, barmaid Ernestine Yandell and Raynie Navin, a customer. Both had identified Ciluffo as the gunman.

Mrs. Yandell, however, changed her mind and said Sauer was the slayer. This time, she said, she was really sure. There is a slight resemblance between the two men.

Navin was returned to St. Louis yesterday from his home in Fitchburg, Mass. First, he failed to pick out Sauer from a lineup. Brought face to face with Sauer, he said, "I never saw this man in my life."

Ciluffo, said Navin, was the man he saw shoot the two women.

Asst. Circuit Atty. Henry J. Fredericks has pointed out that Sauer's possession of the gun is not evidence that he had it on June 9, even if he claims he did.

So both men are being held, and Ciluffo still is charged with the slayings.

Waterford Children Enjoy Summer Fun

As summer playground activities get into full swing in Waterford Township, some 400 children are participating in organized swimming trips to Pontiac Lake Beach this week, according to Recreation Director Tom Belton.

Last week was devoted to touring the Pontiac Municipal Airport, where children were briefed on principles of flight, procedures for landing and take-offs and patterns for use of runways.

★ ★ ★

Learning how to make useful items out of reed, is the next arts and crafts project to be undertaken by the children. Future activities scheduled before school opens, are the Junior Olympics, Carnivals and inter-playground tournaments.

★ ★ ★

There are approximately 4,000 Waterford Township youngsters engaged in the summer recreation programs, which include day-camp, swimming, playground, Junior League and Little League baseball games.

Uses Another's Credit, Gets 1½ to 14 Years

Sentenced yesterday to 1½ to 14 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson for using another man's credit card to charge $292 worth of gas and tires, was Maron C. Haynes, 23, of 2110 E. Larchwood St., Royal Oak.

Haynes, who nearly collapsed when Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams passed sentence, pleaded guilty to uttering and publishing June 30.

Red Skelton in Korea to Entertain Troops

Skelton's wife, who remained in Tokyo, said her husband decided to make the Korea trip "because we felt that was what Richard would have wanted." The 9-year-old boy died after a long battle with leukemia.

Pontiac Driver Gets 30-Day Jail Term

A 25-year-old Pontiac man, described by the judge as having a "simply amazing" traffic record, will spend the next 30 days in the Oakland County Jail as part of a one-year probation sentence and $100 court costs for this record.

Merwin P. Holsworth, of 19 Hovey St., pleaded guilty June 30 to violating the financial responsibility act. His record showed 20 violations since 1954, including seven in Pontiac between January 1954 and November 1955.

"You seem to feel that the rules of the road were made for everybody else but yourself," said Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams in sentencing Holsworth yesterday.

Last of Pro-Western Hashemites in Power

Hussein May Not Rule in Jordan for Long

BEIRUT (AP) — The Baghdad coup has dealt a hard blow to the Hashemite family who have sat on four different Arab thrones since World War I.

Until yesterday, the family had only two thrones left, occupied by 23-year-old cousins. There was Faisal II in Iraq and Hussein in Jordan. If the rebel army leaders in Iraq can make their blow stick, Hussein may not have his seat long and the Hashemites once more will be unemployed.

Since World War I there have been eight Hashemite kings, reigning in the Moslem holy city of Mecca as well as in Damascus, Amman and Baghdad.

Faisal's great-grandfather Hussein, a white-bearded camel-riding patriarch, led the 1916 revolt against the Ottoman Empire and reigned in Hejaz, eastern Arabia, with his capital in Mecca. He once claimed to be king of all the Arabs but couldn't make his claim stick.

His son Ali succeeded him in Hejaz until the fierce Bedouin hordes of Ibn Saud threw him out in 1925.

Ali's two brothers, Abdullah and Faisal I, moved out of Arabia to thrones farther north which the British gave them.

Abdullah moved in a camel caravan to Jordan and pitched his black Bedouin tents on the site of the future capital, Amman. Abdullah was assassinated while praying in a mosque in Jerusalem in 1951.

He was succeeded on the Jordan throne by his mentally ailing son, Talal. Talal was deposed in 1952 after doctors judged him insane.

Young Hussein, Talal's son, assumed the throne the next year, when he reached the age of 18. He has narrowly escaped assassination more than once but has managed to hang on so far.

Abdullah's brother Faisal I claimed the throne of Syria immediately after World War I. The French army drove him out after a short reign in Damascus.

At the time the British sought to give Iraq a measure of independence and put Faisal on the throne in Baghdad in 1921. He died a natural death and was succeeded by his son Ghazi. Ghazi was killed in an auto accident in 1939 and was folloewd by his son, Faisal II, then only 4.

King Abdullah was accused of conniving with Israel in the partition of Palestine. He was assassinated by embittered Palestine Arab refugees.
