Hospital Bond Issue Rejected by Wide Margin in Balloting

Where Twister Pulled Homes Apart

HOUSES BECOME KINDLING — Rows of splintered houses show the force of last night's tornado in Ruskin Heights, a Kansas City suburb. Many of the houses have only foundations remaining.

35 Die as Tornado Belts Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The year's deadliest tornado thus far slashed across Kansas City's southern outskirts at sundown yesterday, leaving 35 dead and more than 200 injured in its 80-mile path.

Injured were still being dug out of wreckage today. Search for additional possible victims continued. Martial law was declared in the Ruskin Heights-Hickman Mills area to expedite relief work, stop looting and keep out the curious.

The death toll included 29 in the Kansas City suburbs, 4 at Spring Hill, Kan., and 2 at Ottawa, Kan., where the storm began its hop-skip scourge.

Greatest loss of life apparently was in a new shopping center at the mushrooming Ruskin Heights subdivision. Many of the commuters and their families were doing their customary shopping in the center's 16 shops when the twister struck it full blast.

The center serves several other communities.

STORM VEERS NORTH

After smashing its way through this area, the storm veered northeast around the eastern extremities of Kansas City and dissipated itself in the vicinity of Liberty, an historic county seat about 20 miles northeast of Kansas City. It skipped past Independence, home of former President Harry S. Truman.

Although the loss of life made this the most deadly storm the nation has experienced since 22 were killed at Silverton, Tex., on May 15, the casualty lists were kept low by the advance warnings given repeatedly by radio and television that a severe blow was to be expected.

An initial survey showed 50 to 60 houses destroyed in Ruskin Heights, along with a 15-store shopping center and the new two-million dollar high school.

Tornadoes, Floods Batter at Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Tornadoes and flash floods brought more weather trouble to flood-plagued Oklahoma last night.

While no personal injuries were reported twisters damaged property at Broken Arrow, near Prague and near Nowata.

Flash flooding was reported at Stillwater in north central Oklahoma following rains which measured up to 7.25 inches in about seven hours. It was still raining early this morning.

Stillwater Police Chief Homer Boughton said "several hundred" persons were being evacuated from their homes after a dam on a small private lake broke. Boomer Creek was reported overflowing.

Boughton said pumps were being used in flooded basements at Oklahoma A&M College northwest of the city.

The line of thunderstorms which moved into the state after two days of clear weather also posed a potential flash flood threat at Guthrie with heavy rains reported in the Cottonwood Creek basin north of the city.

★ ★ ★

The Weather Bureau said possible heavy rains would endanger residents along Deep Fork Creek in the north part of Oklahoma City.

The National Guard was sent to Stillwater to assist in the evacuation of flood victims in the city of some 31,000 persons, including more than 11,000 students.

State Police were called to assist motorists trapped in cars on roads near Stillwater.

Yale, a community east of Stillwater, was caught in the flood and inundated.

The Cimarron River rose out of its banks at nearby Perkins, Okla., and water was reported six inches over a bridge.

Thunderstorms and possible tornadoes were predicted throughout the night.

Don't Plan Picnic —Rain's on Way

Picnic-frustrated Pontiac residents can prepare for another blast from the weather man. Showers and scattered thunderstorms are expected late this afternoon and continuing tonight, low 52 to 56.

Tomorrow will be slightly warmer, high 60 to 64, and mostly cloudy with scattered showers.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 45. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 51.

Anxious Bear Dies of Stroke as Cubs Prowl

ABC Issues Apology

NEW YORK (INS) — The American Broadcasting Co. early today apologized for "any personal distress" resulting from the Mike Wallace interview Sunday night with hoodlum Mickey Cohen.

Plea of Innocent Entered by Hoffa in Wiretapping

Charge He Conspired to Rig Detroit Office for Eavesdropping

NEW YORK (AP) — James R. Hoffa, ninth vice president of the Teamsters Union, pleaded innocent in Federal District Court today to a charge of conspiring to tap illegally the telephones in the Detroit office of the union.

Two codefendants, Owen Bernard Brennan, president of Teamsters Local 337, and Bernard Bates Spindel, a professional wiretapper, also pleaded innocent.

Judge Lawrence E. Walsh set bail at $2,500, each, and scheduled June 11 for the setting of a trial date.

If convicted, each defendant could receive a one-year sentence and be fined $1,000.

The government contends wiretap apparatus was installed to enable the defendants to eavesdrop on subordinates who might have been called to testify at congressional and grand jury investigations of union affairs in the Detroit area.

Hoffa is scheduled to go on trial in Washington June 17 on a charge of attempting to bribe John Cye Cheasty, a New York attorney.

ASKED CHEASTY?

He allegedly asked Cheasty to get a job with the Senate Select Committee on improper activities in the labor or management field and to obtain secret information for Hoffa about its investigation involving the Teamsters Union.

In Chicago, the Tribune today quoted a top ranking Teamsters Union official as saying that the action of the AFL-CIO Executive Council in removing Dave Beck as an AFL-CIO officer, also "seals his (Beck's) doom as president of the Teamster's Union."

Teachers Assemble for B-I-E Day

IN PHS AUDITORIUM — Teachers assembled in Pontiac High School auditorium this morning for a brief program before they split into smaller groups to visit industries and business places in the city, as part of the annual Business-Industrial and Education Day.

City Teachers Tour Business, Industry

Pontiac school children are enjoying a day off today because it's BIE Day, the day that Pontiac teachers go to school. Beginning at 9 a.m. this morning and until about 3:30 the teachers will be at work, while the children rest.

This is the day industry and education lock horns and join hands, with 32 of the city's businesses and industries acting as hosts.

Approximately 803 teachers are expected to participate. In most cases the major portion will consist of guided tours, but with the smaller establishments more time will be devoted to extensive examination of business procedures.

Following this period of "instruction" the teachers will be given their chance. They will be encouraged to ask questions and even possibly offer criticism.

The educators of Pontiac are given the opportunity to see the inside of a wide variety of Pontiac firms and thus learn more about the city.

★ ★ ★

The vast field to be covered includes the automotive industry, banks, the city's utilities, the City Hall, local insurance firms, The Pontiac Press, retail sales outlets, and area hospitals.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, occasionally the educators may come up with questions that pave the way for suggestions. It is this give and take from which many establishments may profit. The suggestions often lead to improvements in business procedure.

Therefore, BIE Day is not just a "getting acquainted" day, but one which is designed to further the knowledge of and progress of the many businesses and industries of Pontiac.

Group Battles Switch Yard

9 Residents File Suit as Commission Readies Final Approval

A group of nine Pontiac residents yesterday began an eleventh-hour battle against locating the proposed $700,000 Grand Trunk Western Railroad Co. switch yard near their homes.

They brought suit in Circuit Court against the railroad and the city of Pontiac, claiming the proposed yard would be in violation of zoning.

Meanwhile, the City Commission has scheduled final acceptance of an agreement with the railroad for tonight's regular meeting.

The agreement calls for certain restrictions by the railroad in the vicinity of West Walton boulevard and Baldwin avenue, where the new yard would be located, in order to minimize neighborhood nuisance.

SET HEARING DATE

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick yesterday set May 27 as the date of a hearing at which the railroad and city must show cause why a temporary injunction blocking the yard should not be issued.

The residents asked that the city be refrained from issuing a building permit.

Their representative, Pontiac attorney Robert Hodge, claimed property values in the area had dropped $1 million as the result of the proposal to build the yard there.

He said the yard represented a nuisance to the neighborhood and a danger to hundreds of school children attending schools in the area.

Also on the agenda were 13 items in the 1957 public improvement program. Public hearings on five road and sidewalk special assessment projects were scheduled.

Utica Firm Awarded $1 Million Contract

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Air Materiel Command at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base announced today it has awarded a $1,000,000 contract to Utica Bend Corp., Utica, Mich., for facilities used in production of J57 engine components.

Voters Record Decisive 'No' on 6 Proposals

By PETE LOCHBILER

By an overwhelming majority, Pontiac voters yesterday refused a public bond issue to complete and equip the 200-bed addition to Pontiac General Hospital.

In an apparent rebellion against higher taxes, voters turned thumbs down on all six propositions of the special election ballot, including three general obligation bond issues totalling $4,550,000 and a $1 tax increase to finance them.

Of the unofficial total of 7,261 who cast ballots, 6,734 were property owners, who soundly defeated the three bond issues by two-to-one majorities.

Besides the $1,500,000 hospital question, a $355,000 bond issue for a hospital parking lot and a $2,700,000 issue for enlargement of the sewage plant system also went down in defeat.

Although the city has 37,000 registered voters, the voting was considered heavy for a special election and compared favorably with the April primary total.

STUN OFFICIALS

City and hospital officials were left stunned by the hospital vote.

There were fears the wing must remain an unused shell for at least two years, unless some other method of finnacing is found.

This was because the tax increase was in the form of a City Charter amendment, and defeated amendments can only be resubmitted to popular vote after a two-year interval.

The tax increase and two other minor issues also were trounced by the two-to-one majority.

Property owners, who would bear the first brunt of any tax increase, obviously controlled the voting. Only property owners were allowed by law to ballot on the three bond issues.

Only 527 registered voters not property owners turned out to ballot on the other three questions, unofficial tallies showed.

The results were heard at City Hall last night in an atmosphere of gloom.

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams served notice last night that he will veto a bill to charge admission to state parks unless the Legislature comes up with some more money for park development and land acquisition.

Hospital Board Members Hope to Complete Wing

Four senior members of the city's hospital board were shaken but unbowed today in the wake of yesterday's hospital bond issue defeat.

Board chairman William P. Babcock credited the refusal of voters to okay a $1,500,000 bond issue to a general revolt against higher taxes and not to criticism of the present board's building record.

Harold B. Euler, Harold S. Goldberg and Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the board's building committee, all agreed.

None of the long-time board members had any immediate substitute method to finance completion and equipping of the new 200-bed hospital wing.

Completion of the wing to bring much needed additional hospital facilities to Pontiac, remained uppermost in the board members' minds, however.

TAKES PRECEDENCE

It took precedence over any thought of resignation in the face of the biggest upset yet in the stormy, three-year history of the all-but-completed wing.

"My only desire is to see that Pontiac gets a new hospital," said Babcock. "Whoever has criticisms of the board's management should come forward now.

"But I think the present board is best equipped to carry on because of its long experience in building the addition."

★ ★ ★

Brewer hoped to call an emergency session of the building committee before Thursday night's regular board meeting.

A proponent of cutting spiraling costs while the new wing costs that have spiraled as the new wing has taken shape, Brewer believed his committee should tackle its new problems immediately.

The probability that the issue cannot legally be returned to a public vote for two years, indicated

President Asks $3.8 Billion for Foreign Aid

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for a $3,865,000,000 foreign aid appropriation and warned that it would be "supreme folly" to halt or cripple the program.

Eisenhower sent his foreign aid message to Capitol Hill in advance of a nationwide television-radio address at 7:30 p.m. (Pontiac time) to explain the importance of the program to the American people.

Sen. Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader and a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the manner in which Eisenhower presents his program, both to GOP leaders and in his formal message to Congress, may influence its reception.

"I hope the President can get foreign aid down to a salable basis," Mansfield said in an interview. "As it stands about 85 per cent of the program has been for military assistance and defense support."

"Economic aid actually is in terms of several hundreds of millions of dollars instead of the several billions usually referred to when we talk of foreign aid," he said, adding:

"If this were made clear and the program's relationship to our own security were emphasized, I think the American people would understand it and willingly shoulder the burden."

★ ★ ★

Taking note of the economy drive in Congress to slash foreign aid spending, the President told the legislators that "it would be supreme folly to stop these efforts or to cripple them through an overwhelming zeal to scrimp at their expense."

ALREADY, CUT

He noted that his request for new funds for the 1958 fiscal year has been cut 535 million dollars below his January budget estimate. His original request was for $4,400,000,000.

Eisenhower warned that, while everyone wants taxes reduced, there should be no tax cuts at the expense of the foreign aid program.

He said:

"There is only one sound way for us to achieve a substantial tax reduction. That way is to succeed in waging peace, thereby permitting a substantial cut in our heavy military expenditures. A substantial cut in these expenditures, in the face of present world conditions, would be foolhardy.

In his appropriations request, the President asked $2,800,000,000 for defense assistance programs — including $1,900,000,000 for military equipment — plus $900,000,000 for defense support and $152,000,000 for technical assistance.

He recommended that future economic aid should be made in the form of loans instead of outright grants. He proposed establishment of a development loan fund to be administered by the International Cooperation Administration.

For this new loan fund, Eisenhower requested a separate appropriation of $500,000,000 for the first year and $750,000,000 for each of the following two years.

Chop Arms Fund 2.5 Billion

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House Appropriations Committee today cut two billion, 586 million dollars from President Eisenhower's 1958 military programs, voting 33½ billion to meet what it called a "somewhat abated" Russian threat.

The committee slapped at many phases of the administration's military policies but warned that defense costs must stay at a high level "so long as present world conditions prevail."

Anticipating possible criticism of the size of the cut, Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of the subcommittee that prepared the money bill, told newsmen: "We've dealt in a most temperate way with the military budget."

Mahon also pointed out that the appropriations cut does not necessarily mean military spending will be reduced in the coming fiscal year.

He noted that the Pentagon has several billions of previously-appropriated funds still unspent. Much of the money in the bill will be spent in future fiscal years.

INCLUDES A-CARRIER

The measure provides funds to buy 2,735 new airplanes, including 101 long-range B-52 jet bombers, and 23 new ships, including a 300 million dollar nuclear-propelled high-speed aircraft carrier capable of launching supersonic jet fighters.

The committee cut 354 millions from the Air Force buying plans, but told it not to reduce the B-52 or the ballistics missile programs.

At the same time, the lawmakers said that some non-ballistics missiles—specifically the "Rascal"—seem "of doubtful value." The Rascal is a jet-propelled missile carried by a bomber and released to travel some 50 to 100 miles to a target.

★ ★ ★

The congressmen expressed concern over "the apparent lack of timely, effective and decisive action" by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson in coordinating the guided missile program and said there is evidence some programs have been continued even after scientific advances made them obsolete.

REDS 'CLOSING GAP'

The House group, while agreeing that the nature and extent of a military threat against the U. S. and its allies appears to have abated somewhat, also warned that the Soviets are steadily "closing the gap" in military capability.

The committee said America is ahead in a "nip and tuck" race to develop guided missiles but that Russia's army is three times the size of ours, she has 1,650 warships to our 983, and her jet fighter inventory is "probably" ahead of the U. S.

Nevertheless, the committee said, intelligence information "reveals a somewhat lesser immediate capability or desire of the U.S.S.R. to start what may well turn out to be a nuclear war."

This is what the committee voted to give the three services, and the amount of a reduction it represents in the President's request:

Army $7,239,425,000, a cut of $1,225,575,000; Navy $9,801,355,000, a cut of $685,645,000; Air Force $15,801,720,000, a cut of $669,280,000.

In addition, the Defense Secretary was voted $16,350,000 to operate the Defense Department superstructure and $682,375,000 was granted for interservice activities, such as retirement pay.

The cuts for the Army and Navy are not as deep as appear, as the committee took $500,000,000 of previously - appropriated but unspent funds earmarked for housekeeping purchases and gave them to the two services. The Army got $400,000,000 and the Navy $190,000,000.

Another $516,000,000 of the reduction comes out of Army procurement fund requests and has already been proposed by the President himself. Mahon agreed this was a "paper cut" since the money probably will have to be voted in later years.

REBUKES AF

The committee rebuked the Air Force for allowing what it called "junketing" by officers in obsolete aircraft in the name of "proficiency flying." It ordered a cut of 500,000 hours in the projected flying program.

The group also charged that service rivalry is increasing and "is becoming so serious as to jeopardize and delay the rate of buildup of our military power." The report said it has resulted in "added expense and waste" and is getting completely out of control.

"A sincere and self-sacrificing effort," the committee said, "must be made by all concerned to substitute real unification for the present loose federation."

Hospital Bond Issue Defeated in Balloting

disappointed the turnout had not been greater on matters they considered vital to the city.

Particularly disappointing was the hospital vote.

Officials had campaigned for the bond issue on the basis that the present hospital is far overcrowded and the new facilities would stand idle unless the extra funds were voted.

As the returns against bond issue mounted after polls closed last night, several substitute methods of making the needed facilities available were disconsolately mentioned.

★ ★ ★

All had been previously rejected before the election as costing taxpayers too much money.

There was gloom, too, for the defeated sewage plant bond issue.

In the face of an order by the Michigan Water Resources Commission to curb pollution of the Clinton River, the city had pinned its hopes on the bond issue to finance most of a proposed $3,091,000 expansion program.

DEFRAY COST

The money would have gone to defray the cost of a new plant at Opdyke and Auburn roads and to improve the present plant. The balance of the total cost would have been made up in revenue bonds on which voters do not have to pass.

Whether the hospital vote and other defeated proposals would become the major questions for discussion at tonight's City Commission meeting was not immediately known.

Of the six defeated proposals, number 3 was given the most favor by voters.

Allowing the city to save money through more flexible scheduling of interest payments on the bond issues, if they had passed, the third proposal was defeated by an unofficial 2,545 to 4,343 votes.

The other minor proposition, number 2, would have allowed the city to issue the bonds through resolutions instead of the present city ordinance method.

The biggest shellacking was given to the parking lot issue. It was defeated 1,914 to 4,671.

The tax increase, proposition 1, was also defeated by all voters, 2,390 to 4,871. It would have provided a maximum of 35 cents for every $1,000 assessed valuation for the hospital and parking lot, and 65 cents for the sewage system enlargement.

City officials had indicated that if the tax and bond issues had passed, an additional half mill would have been levied to support the projects. This half mill represents the unlevied portion of the full mill approved by voters with the 1954 hospital bond issue.

Interpretations of the vote varied, but most opinions held that it reflected the same rebellion against higher taxes noted in the defeat of most of the bond issues proposed in Michigan communities since the first of the year.

Others argued that the hospital vote also reflected an unwillingness of voters to spend more on the new addition than the original $3,000,000 approved in 1954.

Existing funds, including a $500,000 grant from the city last summer, have brought the exterior of the six-story wing near completion.

But hospital officials have warned that the interior of the building cannot be completed without more money, because of design complications and the rising cost of building materials.

The top two floors, where wards are planned, will probably have to stand idle, they figure, although basic requirements, such as heating and laundry facilities should be completed in the lower floors.

But only a relatively small number of additional beds can be put into use without more money, they say.

It Never Rains but It Pours— Waterford Knows

There is an $1,800 leak in the Waterford Township Hall and unless it is stopped, officials will not have a roof over their heads.

★ ★ ★

The all-time low dip in the treasury department on the main floor is nothing compared to the slow drip oozing out of the ceiling on the top floor.

Supervisor, Elmer Johnson first spotted the leak, and called in an expert to check the cost.

Investigation proved that due to loose flashing, the whole town hall roof will have to be replaced. It was fixed temporarily last fall.

"When I took office," Johnson said, "I knew things would be a little rough at first but I thought at least I would have a roof over my head."

Bids for the reroofing job will be asked in the near future — especially if it continues to rain, Johnson said.

Weather to Decide if A-Tests Go Off

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—Observers awaited another weather report today to determine whether the much postponed first shot of the summer atomic test series will finally be set off tomorrow.

The blast was called off for the sixth straight day yesterday because of 150-mile-an-hour jet stream winds in the upper atmosphere. Officials of the Nevada Test Organization said the winds would cause "a questionable situation with regard to blast effects in the area embracing Indian Springs Air Force Base, Las Vegas and Boulder City."

Chief Counters Attack by Cohen

Police Boss Parker of LA Fights Accusations Made on TV

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Police Chief William Parker of Los Angeles wheeled out three big legal guns today to counter the verbal attack on him by former gambler Mickey Cohen on a nationally televised show.

★ ★ ★

Parker assigned two members of the Intelligence Squad to go before the Los Angeles grand jury today with a tape recording of the show to seek an indictment of Cohen for criminal libel because of the abuse heaped on the chief in the TV program.

He also instructed Capt. James Hamilton, head of the intelligence unit, to file a complaint with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C., against the "Mike Wallace Interviews" show which afred Cohen's vituperation.

Hamilton is in the East on what Parker has described as a "vacation." The chief denied he sent the officer to New York to shadow Cohen, who was interviewed on the Mike Wallace show Sunday night over American Broadcasting Company's TV network.

The tape recording of the program, in which Cohen described Parker in terms which cannot be printed, will be played back for the criminal complaints of the Los Angeles grand jury today. It would then be up to the committee to decide whether the full jury should hear it.

Hapless Driver Runs Into Tree, Thief Gets Wallet

A White Lake Township man, Kenneth Mayhew, 35, of 9240 Hutchings Rd., was a victim early this morning of what could be called "adding insult to injury."

Mayhew had a dizzy spell while driving home from work at about 2:40 a.m. and lost control of his car, hitting a tree near Union Lake and Hutchings roads, said police. He was treated and released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for minor chest injuries.

Mayhew also informed Oakland County deputies that someone had taken his billfold and $189 from his car at the scene of the accident.

Broomfield Due to Talk to Group

He'll Give Testimony on Clinton Flood Control to House Members

Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) today was to testify before a House appropriations subcommittee in Washington, D. C. in behalf of a $60,000 budget addition to study flood control on the Clinton River.

The study, Broomfield said, is necessary to help control flooding in the rapidly expanding southern Oakland County area.

It would survey the Macomb County portion of the river, into which many Oakland streams flow, Broomfield said.

Authorization for the survey is contained in an over-all water projects bill. But a specific appropriation is necessary before Army engineers can undertake it.

★ ★ ★

Bus Tax Relief Bill to Get Roll Call Vote

LANSING (AP) — Legislation to provide state tax relief for beleaguered local bus companies encountered more resistance in the Senate last night but was advanced for a passage roll call.

Under a bill previously approved by the House, state gasoline and weight taxes paid by bus lines would be abated to the extent that operating profits fell below 6½ per cent of revenues received.

Sen. Donald E. Smith (R-Owosso) said he couldn't see "spending money unlimited" to bail out bus firms.

Smith complained that there was no "yardstick on operating expenses — this lets them write their own ticket."

Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) questioned the constitutionality of the proposal, saying that if buses are going to be subsidized by the state so should car owners.

Deny New Trial in Little Slaying

Convicted Killer of Lake Orion Tot, 3, to Petition State Supreme Court

Howard Wayne Moore, convicted of the slaying last summer of three-year-old Martha Little, daughter of his Lake Orion neighbor, yesterday was denied a new Circuit Court trial.

Moore's new attorney, Milton Henry of Pontiac, indicated he will petition the State Supreme Court for permission to appeal the case.

Moore, 25, was found guilty of beating the girl to death last July 27. A jury convicted him of first-degree murder and Moore was sentenced to a life term at State Prison of Southern Michigan.

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick yesterday ruled that introduction of lie detector test results as evidence were not prejudicial to his trial. Henry claimed it was.

Judge Hartrick pointed out the test was introduced in Moore's defense to bolster an insanity plea, and not by the prosecution to prove his guilt.

During the trial, it was testified that Moore himself requested the test, and then failed five key questions in which he denied involvement in the crime.

Tot Leaves Bed, Heads for Hills at 4 in Morning

Tommy Overbaugh, 3½, of 116 W. Fairmount St., took off for the mountains early today about 4 a.m.

Of course, he didn't tell his parents about it. They searched for him about an hour.

Adventurous Tommy was missing from his bed about an hour. His parents combed the neighborhood until 5 a.m. when they returned to call the police.

Things weren't completely in order. Tommy was missing the bottom of his pajamas. They were found covered with mud in the utility room of the home.

Here Dad found Tommy's footprints on the "mountains" Tommy had sought to climb. The mountains were a hilly region in the neighborhood the "big kids" always talked about.

Hospital Board Eyes Completion of Wing to board members that piecemeal completion of the addition was a possibility to be aimed at.

How additional funds could be raised, however, remained the big question mark.

Babcock said there is $500,000 still on hand that could be used to help bring the facilities of the existing hospital up to the standard of those proposed for the addition.

He saw price increases as the big stumbling block in whatever future building progress the board is able to make.

"Some purchase orders already have gone up 20 per cent in cost since we made them. If these must be canceled now and later re-ordered, they will represent a big loss," Babcock said.

Funds on hand probably are sufficient to complete the exterior of the addition, but not the interior, Babcock added.

★ ★ ★

He said he would recommend a thorough analysis of the situation, beginning at Thursday's meeting.

★ ★ ★

"If anything can be done, we'll try to find it and do it. We'll probably have to cut back all our plans, but the important thing is that the addition is completed," he said.

Police Hold Two Men in Handling Stolen Goods

Pontiac police are holding two men for investigation of receiving stolen lawnmowers from two employes of a local department store.

Warrants will be sought today against Charles E. Freeman, 59, of 276 Chandler St., and Louis M. Graham, 45, of 329 W. Wilson Ave.

Detectives Robert Wachal and Thomas Mitchell said the two men had admitted they had purchased six power lawnmowers from two men who were employed at Waite's department store.

Robert L. Beeney, 20, and Marvin McIntosh, 17, both of 6225 Orchard Lake Rd., and Thomas D. Taylor, 19, of 27640 Orchard Lake, Rd., were all fined $25 each.

The Day in Birmingham

Heavy Program Awaited by Board for June 10th

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham City Commissioners are fairly sure of a rather heavy program on June 10.

At last night's meeting, public hearings on the street oiling program assessment rolls were scheduled for that date. A special item arising from this is the reclassification of Shepherdbush Lane, originally scheduled for oil mat and seal. It has been changed to light oil treatment necessitating the establishment of an independent assessment roll and district.

Also scheduled at last night's meeting for a June 10 hearing is the necessity of an access drive on Woodward avenue to accommodate tenants of a store to be erected there. The request was made by Charles Van Horn Inc.

No action was taken on the proposed closing of Buckingham road between the railroad tracks and Eton road. It was referred back to the city manager for his study and report. Also referred to the city manager was the request of Clarence W. Blenman to permit a triangular section of Eton Park to be used by him for driveway purposes.

Damages totaled $800 in a chain collision on W. Maple avenue yesterday. While officer LaMar Gilchrist was writing a ticket in the police car, the vehicle was struck from the rear by one driven by Catherine Zabriskie of 1760 Pine Rd.

Miss Zabriskie told police she was having trouble with her windshield wiper and saw neither the vehicle nor its flashing red signal. When she applied her brakes, the car slid forward on the wet pavement. Officer Gilchrist suffered a severely strained neck. Damages were $450, $250 to the Zabriskie car and $50 to the stopped motorist.

The Altrusa Club will meet for a dessert-coffee at the home of Marion Goodale, Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, on Monday at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Opal Cunningham, former governor of Fifth District, Altrusa International, Inc., will come from Detroit to conduct workshops for committee members and officers-elect.

★ ★ ★

Regular meeting will be held at 8 p.m. today in the Community House of Pythian Sisters, Temple 94. Among those Birmingham members of Sigma Gamma Assn. who will help demonstrate a muscle testing machine developed by the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic will be Blenda Isbey, Mrs. Robert Brandon, Mrs. Maxwell E. Fead, Mrs. George Russell II, Mrs. Clement Penrose Jr., Mrs. Don A. Cargill, Mrs. Malcolm Lovell and Mrs. Richard Kern. The demonstration will be one of the features in the clinic booth at the southern Oakland County Health Fair at Northland Center beginning Thursday.

Kansas-Missouri Tornado Kills 34

Heights shopping center as if it had been bulldozed.

★ ★ ★

J. M. Kaesner, one of the first to reach it, said:

"The place was filled with people who were moaning and crying. It was just as bad as if a bomb had hit out there."

SEIZED HER HAIR

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Angotti hurried their five children toward a hardware store as the storm came up.

"I had to hold Jennifer's hair to keep her from being blown out of my arms," Angotti said.

★ ★ ★

Police called for all available ambulances, nurses and doctors. Collection stations were set up for the injured and they were relayed to hospitals in Kansas City, Independence, Mo., and the Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base at Grandview.

Police also appealed for mobile generators and portable flood lights to facilitate rescue work. The storm wiped out power service.

The storm struck first at Ottawa, Kan., 60 miles southwest of Kansas City. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. March, in their 70s, were killed. A motel and restaurant were destroyed, five big transport trucks were upended and several houses were wrecked. The Kansas Highway Patrol reported 22 houses destroyed or heavily damaged at Rantoul, just east of Ottawa.

At Spring Hill, Kan., half way to Kansas City, the tornado smashed the new home of Isham Davis and killed Davis, his wife and two daughters, 7 and 5.

It crossed into Missouri 14½ miles south of downtown Kansas City, smashed the eight-block business district of Martin City into rubble and killed Lowell Atkinson, a storekeeper.

VEERS OFF COURSE

The black funnel veered slightly off its northeast course as it approached Kansas City, dipping across Grandview, Hickman Mills and Ruskin Heights about 7:45 p. m.

★ ★ ★

Kansas City radio and television stations had relayed repeated warnings from the Weather Bureau, advising residents to take shelter in basements.

Arthur Buchanan, his wife and four children were among those who headed for the home of Bill Beaver in Ruskin Heights because it has a basement.

"At least 50 of us were in the basement, laying on top of one another three or four deep," Buchanan said.

The roof of the Beaver home was blown away but those in the basement were not hurt.

U. S. 71 between Hickman Mills and Kansas City soon was blocked by a monstrous traffic jam—residents trying to flee the storm, emergency vehicles trying to reach the destruction and sightseers.

DISASTER CENTER

The Red Cross set up disaster headquarters.

Senate Retains Tax Exemption

Proposed Property Act Would Benefit Persons Over 65 in State

LANSING (AP) — The Senate voted last night to kill a proposed property tax exemption for persons over 65, but then had a change of heart and revived it.

★ ★ ★

The proposal, which would require an amendment to the State Constitution, would go on the November 1958 ballot if it receives a two-thirds favorable majority of both Senate and House.

Under the resolution, the exemption would apply only to properties of aged persons assessed at $5,000 or less.

Sen. Philip Rahoi (D-Iron Mountain), a supporter of the proposal, said it wouldn't help the "poorest of the poor," namely old age pensioners.

★ ★ ★

Any savings resulting in property taxes, he said, would be deducted by the Social Welfare Department from the size of their pension checks, since pensions by statute are figured on the basis of need.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) and other opponents said there was no sound basis for singling out persons over 65 for property exemption aid.

Some don't need it, they said, whereas in some cases "struggling young couples with six or seven children" do need it and would not benefit.

On a show of hands, a motion to kill the resolution carried 14 to 11. A little while later, a roll call resulted in a vote of 14 for killing it, and 20 against.

Bill Would Stop Sale of Soda Pop to State Minors

LANSING (AP)—Michigan legislators huddled today over a bill which as approved would make it a crime to sell soda pop to minors.

The "bonehead" bill was recalled to the state House of Representatives at the suggestion of Rep. Allison Green of Kingston, Republican majority leader, who said that some people had become "excited" about its possible effects.

The bill was on its way to be printed for presentation to Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Green said yesterday he had been informed that under the bill as approved "even a vanilla milk shake, even your soda pop" might come under prohibitions intended originally to apply to sale of near beer to minors.

★ ★ ★

The bill would make it a misdemeanor for anyone to furnish a beverage "containing any alcohol" to a minor.

W. F. Doyle, legislative representative for the state carbonated beverages manufacturers, said it was all a mistake.

"Why this would cover milk shakes if there was any vanilla flavoring added," Doyle said, "vanilla syrup, citrus flavoring — almost any flavoring — contains a trace of alcohol."

Legislators today sought to determine if the bill's original intent could be salvaged.

Fishing Blasted Good

PORT HURON (AP) — Larry Yarach dipped his minnow net in the St. Clair River here last night and came up with 26 sticks of dynamite, some with detonating caps attached. Police were seeking the owners of the explosives today.

Flu Epidemic in Manila

MANILA (INS) — President Carlos P. Garcia called a meeting of his cabinet and national and city health officials today to discuss means of checking a flu epidemic which already has affected 60,000 persons in Manila alone.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Why is it that one seldom hears insects on the lawn, such as crickets, in most states, in the winter? Where are they?

Warm weather brings various insects, like crickets, out of hibernation and they buzz and chirp away in the warmer months. But experts have reported that colder weather definitely halts the conversations of insects.

When the temperature reaches forty degrees, Fahrenheit, all insects are quiet. So, in winter, in most parts of the country, there will be days and nights when you hear no insects. When you do hear them, the temperature is above 40 degrees.

Many weather experts believe that, by counting the chirps of the black field cricket, one can actually determine the exact temperature. Try it yourself, and if you live in a warmer climate, perhaps this will provide a year-round "extra" thermometer. But if it's hotter than 105 degrees, don't depend on the cricket. He's supposedly silent above that temperature.

Celebrities, Bowery Types Mingle

Mixed Crowd Hears Billy

They come from all levels, the mighty and the meek, the obscure and the famous, the rich, poor, Negro, white, old and young.

★ ★ ★

They poured out of subways, wandered in off the street and stepped out of taxicabs and limousines last night, 16,000 of them, in sleek finery and drab cast-offs.

Prominent folk like actress Greer Garson, movie mogul Adolph Zukor and singer Pearl Bailey have shown up at the huge gatherings at Madison Square Garden, but there are some that look as if they came off the Bowery.

As of last night, attendance at the crusade in six days totaled 100,000. If the pace continues, the figures will come near three quarters of a million in the six weeks of the drive.

So far, 3,946 have responded to Graham's plea to "accept Christ."

"I want you to walk a new road, live a new life and be a new creation in Jesus Christ," he appealed last night. "Jesus can change your life in a moment." He smacked his hands.

"Get up out of that seat and come and stand and say I give myself without reservation to Jesus Christ."

They came, as they have every night, about 370 of them this time, some with strained faces and tight lips, others with quizzical looks, others with bland expressions.

Graham's sermon text was John 5:1-9, which describes Jesus at work among the blind, halt, withered and lying around a pool in Jerusalem.

U. S. Risks Prestige in Middle East by Supporting Three Arab Kingdoms

PARIS (INS)—The United States is taking a calculated risk in backing the governments of Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Jordan in the Middle East.

The governments of the three kingdoms have not won the hearts of the peoples. President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt has.

Some diplomatic experts go so far as to claim that U.S. prestige and influence in the Arab world ride with young King Hussein of Jordan.

"American prestige in the whole area," one diplomat said, "now is based on the fate of Hussein. If he loses control or even if he is assassinated like his grandfather, Abdullah, U. S. prestige will go with him.

"Now that the U. S. has entered the fray, the people it backs must succeed."

U. S. officials admit the danger. But one said:

"Progress had been made. It's not over yet, by a longshot. The danger remains, but things are not as bad as they were."

The thinking is that a number of factors have gone into the "improvement process.

First was the Baghdad Pact which linked Iraq, a member of the Arab League, to the West and against the Russians. With Egypt and Syria, leaders of the drive for pan-Arab nationalism, moving ever closer to the Soviet orbit with the Iraqi adhesion to the regional defense pact was healthy from the western viewpoint.

Israelis claim their blitz victory over Egypt in the Sinai last fall was the most important element in reversing the trend among the Arabs. They claim that without their victory Saudi Arabia and Jordan would not dared to have balked at Egyptian leadership.

Americans put the Eisenhower doctrine and the mission of its salesman, James Richards, high on the list. They say this gives the Arab states a place to turn and eventually may prove attractive to Arab peoples, too.

INTERESTS DIVIDED

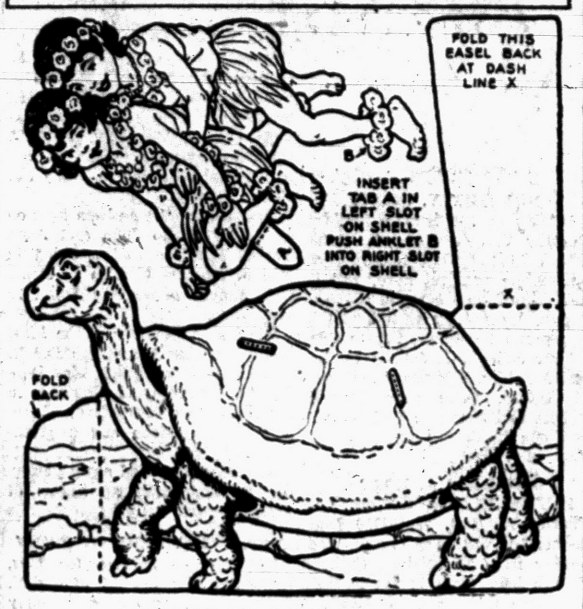

Then there is a natural division of interests between the oil-producing countries, like Saudi Arabia and Iraq, and the non-producers, like Egypt. Nasser has written that the oil of Arabia should be used as a weapon against the western "imperialists." Iraq wants its oil revenues to build up its country and improve living standards. King Saud wants his oil revenues to run his government and keep up with the enormous expense of financing his huge family.

Whether the new offensive to break Nasser's influence in the three Arab states will succeed is a question for the future.

Nasser is well dug-in. Educated people in Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Jordan shy away from the teaching profession, for instance. There are better jobs, both in pay and social position, to be had for the educated.

But Egypt has more educated people. Many of them are sent to take teaching jobs in the other Arab states. Among other things, they teach the children the great Nasser vision of an Arab empire, the Nasser hatred of the old colonial powers and the Nasser dream of power through control of the crossroads beteen Europe and Asia.

JUNIOR EDITORS
ANIMAL QUIZ

QUESTION: How long does a turtle live?

ANSWER: Turtles have been waddling around on this earth longer than any other animal with a backbone.

Their family tree can be traced back 175 million years. During that time, dinosaurs, mastodons and other enormous beasts have come and gone.

For a fellow without teeth, slow afoot and constantly in danger of ending up as a bowl of soup, turtles show amazing ability to live to a ripe old age. Some varieties, especially the mammoth-sized sea rovers, live for hundreds of years. A great tortoise on the island of St. Helena is said to have been romping around when Napoleon was a prisoner there. Water turtles are more active than their smaller, clumsier land cousins and reach a length of seven to eight feet and a weight of 1,500 pounds.

Turtles, even the snapping kind, usually mind their own business and attack with beak-like jaws only when provoked. Maybe this is why they live so long. They are too slow to be used as beasts of burden but on tropical islands in the Indian Ocean, children sometimes climb aboard for the ride. They coax the lumbering animal forward by dangling a banana just out of reach of his mouth.

Budget-Minded Voters Reject City Bond Issues

Pontiac electors decided Monday that they do not choose to complete the General Hospital at this time.

They were emphatic.

The "no" vote ran about two to one.

★ ★ ★

The sewage matter was regarded similarly. However, higher authorities can take this into their own hands and order the City to go ahead, anyway. With a stake in all sanitation, the State of Michigan has the right to compel local communities to "clean up." This authority for general health protection is wise.

★ ★ ★

But no one can summarily order the hospital completed, even though we need it so badly. The hollow shell must stand idle and useless until some new step is taken. Few people or few causes really fold up and quit in the light of defeat.

They fight on and on.

Man is built that way.

Often a good cause loses in an election; or a poor cause carries. Those that fight against progress win a surprising number of times.

This newspaper feels that basic and fundamental causes underlie the defeat.

First, we think the voters of the United States arose in a united protest against the 71.8 billion dollar Federal budget. Rarely has The Press heard as much stout opposition to any proposal. No Federal budgetary suggestion has ever provoked as much criticism. As a corollary, people simply made up their minds to vote against all taxing matters. The merits really weren't weighed. Ahead of everything was a firm determination to tell those in office that we have reached the end of increased spending.

We think the hospital issue suffered directly because of this resentment.

Also, local employment and local business aren't at peak levels and that means all citizens become more cautious, even though the caution isn't always justified.

Then, throughout the campaign a definite resentment appeared against the manner in which the hospital addition was handled. We refer to the original request and the failure to live within the amount first asked and granted.

Of course, some people must have voted "no" simply because they didn't want any more hospital facilities, even though this position might be difficult to defend.

★ ★ ★

Anyway, this is a Republic and a Democracy. The people were asked what to do

The hospital belongs to them.

They said: "Stop work."

And there we stand — for now.

We hope the opponents of finishing the hospital have some constructive suggestions and ideas for the immediate future.

Home is where a man will be able to do as he pleases if his wife goes on vacation alone this year.

Wilson Backs American G.I. in Tokyo Incident

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has made the right decision in reversing the order of the Far East Command in regards to an American soldier.

★ ★ ★

The decision the Defense Secretary made to the command in Tokyo was to keep in American custody the American soldier charged with accidental killing of a Japanese woman until there is a complete review of the matter.

★ ★ ★

The original decision by the Far East Command to turn the American soldier over to the Japanese courts for trial under the status of forces treaty, was a serious blunder and also yielding to publicity pressure in Japan.

★ ★ ★

The record shows that the American soldier was on duty on an American firing range at the time. A warning signal had been fired to alert Japanese women who were on the range collecting scrap metal for their own use. An empty shell case accidentally killed one of the women.

Quite obviously this is not a situation in which a Japanese court should have jurisdiction.

The status of forces treaty was not made to cover cases of this type. It was not designed to put a terrific hazard in the way of American troops performing their duty on foreign soil. To rule in favor of Japanese would completely upset the morale of our soldiers.

★ ★ ★

We would certainly like to hope that when this case does have its complete review the Japanese will realize that such a low blow should not be struck at friendly troops who are in their country for the primary purpose of helping the Japanese.

A Word From the Sponsor

David Lawrence Says:

Budget Issue Causing Rift in GOP

WASHINGTON — A hysteria of "budget cutting" is sweeping the country. It is alienating the so-called "conservatives" in the Republican Party from the party leader — President Eisenhower. The net result may be not only a substantial increase in the Democratic majority in both houses of Congress in the 1958 election but a landslide for the Democrats in electing a president in 1960. Then the second New Deal, with some real spending, will begin.

LAWRENCE

The Frankenstein now being built up by the Republican "conservatives" will, unless challenged promptly by President Eisenhower himself, split the Republican Party precisely as happened in Congress in 1910 and in the presidency in 1912, when the Democrats were handed their victory on a platter as a result of dissension in the Republican ranks.

The political "mess" in the Republican Party has been brought on by mistaken tactics of both the "Modern Republicans" and the so-called "conservatives."

THOUGHT HOSTILE

For some strange reason, an administration that has been uniformly friendly to business now is considered hostile by these "conservatives" because it hasn't cut the budget and reduced taxes this year, as it did before.

But while many Republicans outside Washington are swallowing the propaganda that the administration has "gone new dealish," Congress is quietly preparing to cut the defense and mutual security programs, yet at the same time voting even larger appropriations than before to advance the "welfare state."

Thus, up to last Friday Congress, amid a fanfare of publicity, had reduced appropriations for fiscal year 1958 by $1.4 billion from the amounts requested by the President. But the recent action of the House of Representatives in passing the Housing Act of 1957 has increased the new "obligatorial authority" by $1.6 billion over and above the amounts requested by the administration. This completely wipes out the $1.4 billion cut in appropriations and leaves a net increase of $200,000,000.

FUTURE OUTLAYS

While budget spending may not be noticeably affected in the year 1958 as a result of this action, future outlays will certainly be augmented. This is only a sample of what's going on. Appropriation "cuts" will be made now and "deficiency" bills passed later on, and the public will be fooled.

The budget is too vital to be made a football of politics but evidently the impression is being conveyed throughout the country that Congress is slashing the budget as well as the spending. Actually, it is slashing appropriations for many important services hitherto considered essential by businessmen and is not cutting down the "welfare stuff," as many of the so-called "conservative" voters have been advocating.

In the end, virtually all of whatever is saved on the budget will go toward reduction of taxes in lower income brackets. To prevent this, businessmen will raise a hue and cry about applying the savings on the budget to debt retirement. But it will be too late. Businessmen will be lucky then not to get an increase in corporation taxes. There is already a drive on to help "small business" at the expense of companies earning over $25,000 a year.

GENERATE MOVEMENT

For there's a movement being generated now and a cycle being begun that will mark a fateful turn in American economic history. If the leadership of President Eisenhower is forsaken by an influential bloc in his party, the "Modern Republicans" will have no place to go in 1960 but with the Democrats. They will prefer a "Modern Democrat" to a Republican who deserted Eisenhower's leadership.

A middle-of-the-road leader always gets hit from both sides, as he pursues a truly delicate and difficult course in public affairs. President Eisenhower has achieved great things on the international side and has averted a major war, but he is struggling now with tides of dissent within his own ranks on domestic issues that could hurt his international policies, too.

The Democrats are, of course, the beneficiaries of this confusion. They are supplying the votes in congressional committees to help reduce the defense program, though a few months ago they were shouting loudly that Russia was ahead of us in planes and that the Republican administration was neglecting armament needs.

★ ★ ★

The Democrats still have the solid support of their own conservatives, who vote with the "Modern Democrats" of the North in order to put the Republicans at a political disadvantage.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Temperance Is Second Key to 'Vite'—Abundant Health

Many inveterate tooth brushers and their 19th-Century dentists are beginning to realize that clean teeth are as subject to decay as are teeth that are seldom if ever brushed. For my small part in teaching people the value of good teeth, I have gained the ill will of many dentists and their toothbrushing patrons.

DR. BRADY

But this doesn't disturb my equanimity. I worry only when I learn that I can no longer teach people in this or that community how to keep well.

Now, let us neglect teeth and harp on another key—Temperance. If your library has The Pocket Cyclopedia of Health (23 volumettes, $7.50), you'll find on p. 59 of XVI, titled "The 7 Keys to Vite," that the first key is "Save Your Teeth" and the second is "Temperance."

Temperance means moderation in, or abstinence from the use of intoxicants, according to Webster. To my narrow mind, temperance means total abstinence from alcoholic beverages.

Last autumn, I asked parents of minor children or grandparents or uncles or aunts or big sisters or big brothers to send me confidentially their answers to six questions:

About the same time, I asked readers who might know of instances to tell me, confidentially, of course, whether pastors or spiritual leaders anywhere urge young people to take the pledge.

I'd be too disheartened to carry on if I hadn't already known that materialism goes before morality in Yankeeland. I'm still trying to tell myself that people just didn't believe I'd keep such communications confidential and so they were afraid to answer the questions.

The pastor doesn't want to lose his pulpit. The merchant doesn't want to drive away his best customers. The eminent physician doesn't want to irk his wealthiest patients.

This health column conductor NOW realizes that it may be better to teach a great many persons a little than it is to teach a few persons a lot about health.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 150 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Man Questions Employing Seven Senior High Coaches

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I read the Pontiac School Board has hired another football coach to the staff at PHS. We need seven coaches like we need seven plagues. The college I attended was much larger and they always did all right without seven coaches. No wonder the Board is dipping into next year's funds. It isn't because of the "generous" raise the teachers got.

Also, most surrounding schools have Friday of Memorial week off. Not Pontiac. It seems rather silly since factories will be closed and many people plan a small trip. I happen to know that teachers of other schools must teach a minimum of 180 days. Our teachers always go over this, closer to 190. I hope something can be done.

'Ex-Republican' Receives Reply

Praise which "Ex-Republican" heaped upon our Governor clearly indicates he believes everything the UAW and the Democratic Party want him to believe.

If the Governor's pet project, corporate income tax, becomes law, lots of us will be unemployed. General Motors would never stay in Michigan and be subject to such a ruthless, ruinous tax. "Ex-Republican" would have Governor Williams to thank for that.

If the Governor becomes President in 1960, perhaps "Ex-Republican" could land a government job. If "President" Williams has his way, the government will be our only employer.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Bullying Hides Inferior Feelings

Harry has been a chronic bully. His harassed teacher wonders if he is a born sadist who relishes inflicting cruelty on other children. But dig into his background. Scrapbook this case or send it to your friends who live in regions where this clinical column on applied psychology doesn't reach the laymen.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"He picks on the other children and continues to tease or abuse them till he makes them cry.

CRANE

"That is the only thing that seems to make him stop his bullying, for he has almost an obsession to make other boys shed tears.

"I've had trouble with him this term and so have all the previous teachers who have had him in the classes.

"Although I have sent him to the principal's office several times and although his parents have punished him repeatedly, he still can't resist the desire to bully his playmates.

"Is he just naturally a sadist who likes to indulge in cruelty?"

The French police have a motto "Cherchez la femme," which means, literally, "Look for the woman (motive)" in trying to solve a crime.

Since Harry has a compulsive desire to make other youngsters cry, why do you suppose he has this obsession?

It seems to be chronic, too, for his previous teachers report similar evidence of sadistic behavior on his part.

Well, let me shorten your analysis by reminding you that all of us are tattooed at birth with this motto on our chests:

"I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT!"

If Harry is driven on by a constant urge to make others cry and thus advertise the fact that they are babies, infantile and inferior, could it mean that Harry has long had a secret fear that he himself, was babyish?

WHY A BULLY?

Harry is big for his age and has a good I.Q., so he is no dummy. Then what secret aspect of his personality would make him feel inferior to smaller classmates?

Does he suffer from socially inferiority because of a broken home or a father who is known to be in prison? No, those facts didn't apply to his case.

Was he a 'fraidy cat about the dark or of thunder of lightning or of snakes and other creatures of the night? No.

From long experience in hearing children's confessions, I knew that a bully is often a child who is a victim of enuresis.

Though his family may cover up that fact, such a victim feels low in his own morale.

"I'm still a baby," he vaguely realizes, "but I want to feel important."

Then he wonders how he can gain that lofty goal of importance.

"If I tease other kids until I make them cry in public, their tears will advertise the fact that they are still babies.

"But I don't cry in public, so I shall appear superior. Thus, I will bully them until they cry, for this will be solace for my wounded ego."

Obviously, youngsters don't use those exact words in analyzing their own difficulty and then hitting upon a solution.

But they subconsciously sense the problem and realize that bullystate, will help make them feel big by contrast.

★ ★ ★

So analyze the chronic bully. Dig up the underlying motive which drives him steadily into his abnormal social behavior.

Then show him better ways to solve his craving for social acclaim. And help him banish such widespread slavery to nuisance habits like enuresis, by sending for the booklet "The N-Ureclast," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It offers several solutions to bed wetting, included among which is the method for constructing an electrical shock machine, as described yesterday.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Projects Launched in 8 Cities, 2 States

Grant $1 Million for TV Teaching

NEW YORK (INS)—Nearly one million dollars was made available today by the fund for the advancement of Education to launch television teaching projects in eight cities and two states.

Grants totaling $968,000 are going to Atlanta, Cincinnati, Detroit, Miami, Norfolk, Oklahoma City, Philadelphia and Wichita and to the states of Nebraska and Oklahoma.

START TV LESSONS

All will initiate regular instruction over television in sample elementary and high school classes next September. The cities will use their own teachers in live telecasts to one or more classes in given subjects. In the state projects, filmed instruction in physics will be telecast mainly to rural area schools.

The fund, which was set up in 1951 by the Ford Foundation for work in the field of formal education, announced the grants under its national program in the use of television in the public schools. The program is a follow-up of experimental TV instruction projects carried out during the past two years in such cities as St. Louis Pittsburgh, Hagerstown, Md., and Chicago.

Dr. Alvin E. Eurich, vice president and director of the fund, said the earlier experiments "have already shown that a topnotch teacher can extend his services through the use of television, that pupils learn at least as much in television classes as with conventional instruction (and) that television saves a great deal of time and thus permits teachers to give pupils more individual attention."

SAME CLASSES

A fund spokesman said in all likelihood the same classes would be taught with television through the entire school year, rather than skipping from class to class. Only part of any day would be devoted to TV instruction, with the students receiving conventional classroom instruction in other than the television subjects.

Dr. Eurich said the fund hopes the project will provide information on four points:

1. The feasibility of teaching large classes by televisision and the kind and amount of other services needed to set up the best conditions for learning.

2. Scheduling and school building problems in teaching a large number of classes over television.

3. Financial implications of savings in teacher time, building space and equipment.

4. How best to develop teacher talent, both for television and conventional classroom instruction.

Army Assumes Control of Haiti

Chief of Staff Proclaims Military Regime Until Elections Are Held

Brig. Gen. Leon Cantave, the army chief of staff in this turbulent Negro republic, signed a proclamation declaring the army would enforce military rule, until a provisional president is elected who can guarantee "free and honest elections."

Cantave defied an order from the seven-man Executive Council yesterday ousting him as chief of staff.

Not a shot was fired as the army rebelled against the Council, which had been ruling by dictatorial decree pending presidential elections set for June 16.

Defiance of the Council spread outside Port au Prince. A "Commitete for Public Safety" at Cap Haitien declared it would rule all northern Haiti until a new president is elected. The committee was believed linked with a similar rebel group at St. Marc.

Port au Prince appeared quiet but tension was high.

The newspaper Le Jour predicted the urgent conference of army leaders would result in an announcement that the military was taking over the government.

The army has 2,500 men on active duty and reserves of 3,000 in this country of 4 million persons.

Haiti has been in near-chaos repeatedly since December, when strikes and demonstrations whipped up by leading presidential candidates forced out President Paul Magloire when he tried to prolong his time as chief of state unconstitutionally. Two succeeding provisional presidents were brought down by feuding among the candidates.

Charge Two Employes Stole Power Mowers

Two department store employes demanded examination yesterday when they were arraigned before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum, charged with stealing at least 12 uncrated power lawnmowers from the store.

Edward Dale Smith, 21, of 2449 Pauline St., Drayton Plains, who worked in Waite's warehouse, and Ronald E. Runyon, 17, of 796 Crittendon St., a delivery boy, were freed on $200 bonds and ordered to appear for examination May 29.

The two were arrested by Pontiac Police Detectives Thomas Mitchell and Robert Wachal Saturday. They are accused of stealing the mowers and then selling them for half price.

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new lavative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

NEW YORK (INS) — With heaven knows how many hundreds of thousands of Americans going to Europe for the first time this year I predict exclusively that the best selling book Over There will be "New Horizons — U.S.A., Pan American's complete guide to travel in the United States."

It is published by Simon and Schuster and should be in every suitcase that is headed overseas. There will be hours, if not days, when the new visitor to the Continent, tired of bucking a strange and generally disinterested world, will pine for this reverse-English travel book.

After a wrestle with Swiss customs, a Madrid night club, a bill at a French night club, and an English telephone operator who cannot speak American, it should be comforting to those newly in the alien corn to read:

"Bridgeport (Conn.) is primarily an industrial city. People are busy. There is work to be done, but there is always time to be friendly." . . .

"Philadelphia has local specialties which should be sampled: pepper pot (a spicy soup), scrapple (similar to ground sausage meat), Lancaster smoked hams and Philadelphia ice cream (softer and more custardy than ordinary ice cream). Conservative clothing is worn in Philadelphia."

"Idaho is called the Gem State, Montana the Treasure State, Oregon the Sunset State, Washington the Evergreen State, and Wyoming the Equality State . . .

Los Angeles is in southwestern California, about 15 miles inland from the Pacific Ocean, 400 mile south of San Francisco. The original name was 'El Pueblo de Nuestra Senora la Reina de los Angeles de Porciuncula.'" (Ed. Note: It was shorted for marquee purposes.)

The lonely traveler to Europe, sitting in his hotel room without a friend, unable (A) to get the phone operator and (B) unable to explain that he wants some ice when he does get her, can snuggle up with such additional, heart-warming facts as these:

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

The bus time from Los Angeles to Norfolk is 74 hours . . . North Dakota the Flickertail State is famed for its eroded sandstone . . . In Cleveland, men wear jackets and ties to business even during the summer . . . In Tacoma, Wash., the nearest consulates are in Seattle . . . The prevailing wind (in Miami) is from the southeast and ranges from eight to 15 miles per hour . . . in Peoria, you can stay at the Pere Marquette from $7.50 a day . . . Mexican influences has given the town of San Antonio "a casual, warm and easygoing way of life." And so on.

Let me say that there will be days when this little book will be like a balm on a wound.

There will be days in Venice when the Grand Canal is upwind instead of down, days when you can't get into the Shoulder of Mutton in Brussels, days when you must say to the French taxi driver "Hotel Ritz" at least a dozen exasperating times before he turns and replies, "Ah, Hotel Ritz!"

And days when all you need to sustain life are such homely but unobtainable bits of Americana as a newspaper, a news broadcast, a hamburger, ham and eggs, a decent cup of coffee.

★ ★ ★

These will be the days when you want to know, and you can know, thanks to the Pan-Am book, that you can get a single at the Leamington in Oakland, Calif., from $5.50.

In Proposed Military Spending

Mahon to Defend Cuts

By International News Service

A boyish-looking Texan who deals in billions takes the center of the stage this week in the battle of the budget.

Rep. George H. Mahon, who despite his youthful appearance is a Democratic congressional veteran, will take charge of the defense spending bill when it is cleared by the House Appropriations Committee for floor debate.

Reportedly, the military appropriations subcommittee which Mahon heads has already whittled two and a half billion dollars from the more than 39 billions requested by President Eisenhower.

The President has made it plain that he thinks any deep cut in his military budget request would be unwise. Mahon has asserted in a softspoken drawl that the cuts imposed under his supervision are sound and he is ready to defend them.

ABLE SPOKESMAN

At 56, the Texan is recognized in the House as one of the ablest spokesmen on military matters in Congress. At the Pentagon, he is regarded by all three services as a staunch friend of adequate preparedness and a skillful advocate of their causes.

He speaks seldom on the House floor but when he does, he speaks with the vigor of a young prosecuting attorney which he once was in Mitchell County, Texas.

Mahon was born on a Louisiana farm in 1900 and became a Texan at the age of eight. He attended a rural school, took a degree from Simmons University at Ike's hometown of Abilene, then attended the University of Minnesota.

★ ★ ★

After a brilliant career as a district attorney, Mahon won election to Congress in 1934 and has served there ever since.

He is recognized as one of the congressional youngsters who were personally given legislative tutelage by House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas).

Mahon similarly enjoys the respect of House armed services chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), and appropriations chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.)

Jazz Keeps New Orleans Bouncing

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — After many months of loud and dreary oppression from Presley, a person's ears can find exuberant relief by tuning in on New Orleans jazz.

★ ★ ★

Nowhere is there noise so endlessly loud and gay. To walk down Bourbon street at midnight is to be shot with a hypodermic full of concentrated vitamins and joy juice.

"It ain't what it was," the old folks say. But New Orleans jazz is still better and more boisterous than you get served and verved up to you anywhere else. And to retire to bed is madness. This is music that seeps through windows and bounces on pillows.

"I tell you the truth, it started back in North Rampart street long 'bout Abraham Lincoln time," says the drummer who's going to give out the straight story on New Orleans' birth of the small, rocking ensemble.

★ ★ ★

This may or may not be the truth because there are more personalized histories of New Orleans jazz circulating in these parts than there are tourists to listen to them. However, it's the story of "The Basin Street Six," who started on North Rampart street, and it sounds as logical as any.

LABELED 'GUMBO'

"The Negroes always played jazz," he goes on, "it's just rhythm with sounds thrown in, but these Frenchmen 'round here just call it 'gumbo'—meaning mixed up. When the Negroes start putting words to jazz, the French they call it 'ya-ya.' They say 'don't play it public.' "

That was in pre-Civil War days. And even after Lincoln emancipated the Negro, in New Orleans he was unable to sing or play in public for more than a decade.

Then the carpetbaggers came to town. They were hated by the local French whites, but loved by the local jazz players because they kind of "went for" the music.

Up and down the Mississippi River, in the loud voices of the carpetbaggers, spread the word that the Negro music was the greatest.

★ ★ ★

For their private dances, these officious white men finally selected six of the best musicians in town, bought them good musical instruments to replace the homemade instruments they'd been using, and dressed them in tuxedoes, patent leather shoes and real French perfume.

DRIVEN FROM TOWN

Everything has to end, and so came the demise of the carpetbaggers. On a muggy afternoon in 1874, the citizens of New Orleans rose against them and forced them from town.

★ ★ ★

"Things look bad for jazz now," says the historian, gleefully building up suspense. "But then they get an idea and go over to Basin street. In those ol' beat tu'sedoes they stand on the levee at night and sing for hand-outs. Ol' Sharpeye—he plays the snare drum—catches pennies. Never missed one."

The "Basin Street Six"—original and one-and-only, if this story is even half true—consisted of a short, fat cornet player named "Alley Boy;" a snaky-fingered saxhorn man named "Shorty;" a banjoist with an oversized noggin called "Big Head;" a tall, skinny Negro with great flat feet called "Te-Jo;" a French horn player with super-sized mouth named "Andy," and the man with the snare drum and 20-20 vision, "Sharpeye."

As time passed this everlastingly blasting sextet sat on the banks of the Carondelet Canal and got "famouser and bigger." Until finally, just like in the movie scripts, along came a businessman from out of New York City and signed them to a contract.

He took Big Head, Alley Boy, Te-Jo, Andy, Shorty and Sharpeye to the big city. The great music critics heard them. The previously sedate public heard them.

"And nothing ain't been the same since," concludes the raconteur, rising to return to his Bourbon Street Six, "neither here or there."

Urge Tourists Make Friends for America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans going abroad this summer were urged Monday to try to make friends for the United States.

Two officials of President Eisenhower's "people - to - people" program had a date at the White House to kick off a drive to persuaded American tourists to act as "ambassadors of good will."

★ ★ ★

Arranging to give President Eisenhower a poster on this theme were John W. Hanes of New York and Ed Lipscomb of Memphis, Tenn., chairmen, respectively, of the transportation industries and public relations committees of the privately run program.

Posters and more than a million leaflets have been printed urging Americans to "make a friend this trip for yourself, your business, your country."

The posters will be placed at airports and ship docks so Americans can see them before they embark.

An announcement said no government funds will be spent on the project. It said major passenger carriers are underwriting the cost.

READ THIS STARTLING FACT

5 out of 10 Smaller Cars wear a Pontiac Price Tag —yet none gives you Any of Pontiac's Advantages

Part of Harold Branson's job as an accountant at Standard Oil is to help prepare our annual report. He is shown here reviewing figures with an associate, Miss Blanche Poljak.

Will you do us a favor?

ALMOST anywhere you go you can get into a lively and interesting discussion by bringing up business and profits. Try it some time. Then listen to the variety of opinions—and so often, the absence of facts.

Most people are naturally interested in business, what business does with the money it takes in, how much of that money is profit, and what happens to the profit.

We want you to know the facts about our company. That's why we publish this report each year for the information of our customers, our friends and neighbors in Midwest and Rocky Mountain states. It tells you exactly what happened to the money that Standard Oil and its subsidiary companies took in last year.

You can do us a favor by reading it...and by passing along some of the information you read here the next time a discussion starts about business and profits.

You are welcome to a copy of our 1956 Annual Report as long as the supply lasts. Just write to Standard Oil Company; 910 S. Michigan Ave.; Chicago 80, Illinois.

1. Things we bought and used...58.7%

Most of the money went for things we had to buy, such as crude oil, materials and services, plus charges made for wear and tear. Our company is one of America's largest buyers of goods and services from other companies. We buy everything from paper clips to structural steel from more than 32,000 independent companies in hundreds of American communities.

2. Wages, salaries, benefits...16.0%

Then there were wages, salaries and benefits for our 52,000 employees. Standard Oil employees enjoy one of the broadest, most progressive employee benefit programs in any industry. More than 94% of our eligible employees are participating in savings plans to which the company contributes.

3. Taxes paid...18.6%

The tax collector got his share, too. We paid national, state and local governments $89,130,000 in 1956. In addition, there were the many "hidden" taxes everyone pays, and the direct taxes placed on gasoline. These total direct taxes which we collected from customers and paid to government agencies amounted to $326,779,000.

4. Profits paid to owners...2.5%

After all operating expenses and taxes were paid, 6.7% was left. This is called profit. A part of this, or 2.5% of our total income, went as dividends to our 143,200 shareholder-owners. Dividends paid in 1956, including the market value on the date of distribution of the special fourth-quarter dividend in Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) stock, amounted to $2.31 per share. And our company has paid dividends every year for 63 years.

5. Profits used for improvement...4.2%

To serve you better, all the rest of our profits, or 4.2% of our total income, was plowed back into new facilities such as oil wells, refineries, research laboratories, transportation equipment and service stations. Since the end of World War II, we have spent about $2,300,000,000 to help meet the growth in demand and to bring you new and constantly improved products.

6. You're the boss

All the money we took in has been accounted for. At our service stations, our plans and our investments face the final test...for our millions of customers are the bosses. To make high quality petroleum products more easily available to our customers, last year alone we spent more than $37 million on bulk plants, warehouses, service stations.

What makes a company a good citizen?

Well, one quality of good citizenship is frankness—with employees, stockholders, customers, the public. Because we, at Standard Oil, believe that frankness prevents misunderstandings, we publish reports to our neighbors in advertisements like this so that you will know how we work, something about our Standard Oil family, and the part we play in the economic well-being of the communities in which we live and work.

NO CAR AT ANY PRICE PERFORMS LIKE A PONTIAC... SMALLER CARS AREN'T EVEN IN THE RUNNING!

If it's proof you want, your Pontiac dealer is loaded with it—point-by-point engineering comparisons and on-the-record facts and figures. No smaller car is designed or powered to come close to Pontiac's eye-opening performance . . . alert, reflex-action response ... and its smooth, effortless mastery of every driving demand. Check the facts and then put them to a test. Try a demonstration drive over your own route—in downtown traffic or out on the highways and byways. Let America's Number One Road Car show you what it can do—and you'll leave the little league behind for good!

WITH 4 TO 7 EXTRA INCHES OF WHEELBASE, PONTIAC OUTCLASSES THE SMALLER CARS IN RIDE AND ROADABILITY!

Pontiac's length is built in—not hung on! Smaller cars extend bumpers and fenders to look big, but Pontiac doesn't need camouflage... it is big! Its man-sized 122-inch wheelbase strides over the bumps instead of riding on them. This extra length, plus a carload of new suspension ideas, results in Pontiac's exclusive Level-Line Ride that no car at any price can surpass! Sample a few miles—and you'll never re-enlist in the small-car army again!

YOUR MONEY ACTUALLY BUYS UP TO 8.9% MORE SOLID CAR PER DOLLAR IN A PONTIAC!

The so-called "low-price" cars fall far short of Pontiac in actual, measurable car—and your Pontiac dealer has official specification comparisons to prove it! No smaller car comes even close to Pontiac's rock-solid construction . . . from its rugged X-member frame through every inch of its heavy-duty running gear Pontiac is muscle all the way! This extra heft means Pontiac holds the road like no smaller car you've ever driven . . . gives you a ride remarkably free of bounce, shake and noise! Army Supply Sergeants Shop for Companies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Army supply sergeants now go shopping for their companies just like a housewife goes to the supermarket — pushcart and all.

Robert D. King, deputy assistant secretary of the Army, told a House appropriations subcommittee the system was tried out first at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and Ft. Lee, Va. It worked so well, he said, that by June 30 the Army expects to have it in operation at 47 posts and to inaugurate it at 83 more during the following year.

Ex-Reporter Organizes Billy Graham's Crusades

NEW YORK (INS)—If the force behind evangelist Billy Graham is religion, the man ahead of him is a former newspaper reporter and advertising executive, the Rev. Gerald F. Beavan.

Graham does the talking; Beavan does the organizing.

MADE GRAHAM KNOWN

And perhaps more than anyone besides Graham himself, Beavan has made Graham the best-known evangelical preacher of the day.

One year ago, Beavan stepped off a train in New York City, rented an office, hired a secretary, purchased "a desk and a chair" and went to work.

The result of his labor in New York—as it has been throughout the U. S., England, on the continent of Europe and in India — is one of the best publicized, best advertised and best run evangelical campaigns in history.

★ ★ ★

Beavan is lanky—six foot three, 185 pounds—dark-haired and likes to be called "Jerry." Speaking rapidly in an interview, he explained how he became Graham's right-hand man.

Beavan's father, now retired, was in the automobile business.

"I was practically born in the parts department of a Ford dealer in Oneonta, New York," he said.

PLAYED BASEBALL

Young Beavan played baseball and basketball, and went to Alfred University in Western, N. Y. "Then," he said, "in 1939 I was at a Bible conference in Montour Falls, N. Y., and I decided the Lord wanted me in the ministry. So I dropped my studies and went to Hartwick College, Oneonta, and majored in psychology.

"I got a job on the Oneonta morning newspaper, and slept after work on the newsprint rolls in the basement." At Hartwick he met the girl he married in 1943. They have three children and now live in Bethesda, Md.

"She was a Presbyterian," Beavan said of his wife. "Now she is a Southern Baptist. I had a little more luck with her than Billy had with Mrs. Graham." He grinned. Graham's wife is still a Presbyterian although he is a Baptist.

STUDIED THEOLOGY

"When I was working on my doctorate at Dallas," he said, "I got a job in an advertising agency. I had three pretty big accounts, and I was doing very well. But I felt it was wrong. I heard of the Waldo Larger parish in Maine."

The group sends out ministers to small churches scattered through Maine. Beavan said: "I went up there. In 1946, I got paid $23 a week, and I was married, and I had to pay my own automobile expenses to get around my four churches, two Baptist and two Congregational."

OFFERED POSITION

When working there, he received a letter asking him to become a professor of Hebrew and psychology at Northwestern Schools, a 55-year-old Bible, theological and liberal arts college at Minneapolis, Minn.

He was there when, in December, 1947, the president of the college's Board of Trustees died. The president had been 85. The board, searching for a young and vigorous man, asked the Rev. William Franklin Graham to take the position.

At the time Graham was a leading young preacher of the "Youth for Christ" movement in the Midwest.

HANDLED PUBLIC RELATIONS

Soon Beavan was handling his public relations, and soon evangelist Billy Graham was becoming even better known that the "youth" movement of which he was a part.

In 1950, Beavan set up the "Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, Inc.," and became its executive secretary. The young minister combined organizational ability, advertising and newspaper knowledge to become the man — administratively — in front of Graham.

From 1952-56, Beavan lived 37 of 48 months in Europe, organizing and directing successful crusades for Graham; in 1954 he was home 43 days, in 1955, 35 days and in 1956, 28 days.

FORCED TO RESIGN

Finally, this February, the pressures of wide responsibility forced him to resign as executive secretary of the evangelistic association. Well-trained assistants took over Beavan's many posts. Graham rehired him, Beavan said, "as executive secretary for him." That means handling all of Graham's advertising and promotion, representing Graham and making administrative decisions for him. It's a big job, and Beavan said:

"In 1955, when we were in Scotland, Billy said to me, 'The one thing you and I don't do together is play golf. If I buy you a set of clubs, will you seriously learn to play?'

"Billy bought me the finest set you can buy. But I still score over a hundred. I haven't had much time recently to practice. . . "

Libraries Seek to Draw Pupils

Encourage Youngsters to Use Their Facilities During Summer

A drive to make Pontiac's 11,000 elementary school children aware of the world of books around them has been launched by the city library and the Elementary library dept. of the Pontiac public schools.

Primary target of the campaign is to encourage the youngsters to make use of books and other library materials during the summer.

The two library units have prepared an annotated summer reading list for all elementary age levels and will distribute them before school closes.

Each child will receive a list, according to Mrs. Janet Gauthier, head of the school libraries, and extra lists will be available at the Board of Education, 40 Patterson St.

★ ★ ★

Parents of pre-school youngsters can also take advantage of the summer reading program, said Phyllis Pope, head city librarian, through the assistance of staff members or by obtaining a special list for pre-schoolers from the Elementary Library Dept. at the Board of Education.

Deer Smash Windows, Townspeople Give Chase

WEST READING, Pa. (AP) — Three deer wandered into town and butted store windows, jumped through glass doors and sailed over backyard fences before townspeople killed one and chased the other two out of town.

★ ★ ★

The buck leader of the trio was shot by Patrolman Foster Griffith after it appeared the animal had been badly wounded. The other two, both does, outran police patrol cars, sprinters and boys on bicycles, escaping into the woods.

Former Pontiac Man to Head Residence Hall

E. James Kitson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kitson, of 13 Parkhurst St., has been named manager of the Charles McKenny residence hall at Eastern Michigan College. The appointment was recently approved by the state Board of Education. Kitson was formerly assistant manager of the hall.

Japanese View Cruiser

SHIMODA, Japan (AP) — The U. S. cruiser Worcester and the attack cargo ship Tulare held open house here on the 104th anniversary of Commodore Perry's arrival in Japan. The Worcester's commander, Capt. Russell C. William, had an honor position in a parade celebrating the occasion.

Quel Malheureux —Inflation Price for French Wine!

PARIS (AP) — Red wine — without which a Frenchman could hardly eat a meal — goes up in price tomorrow. The boost is one reflection of the serious inflationary crisis in France.

The wholesale price will go up one or two francs a liter, depending on alcoholic content. That is roughly a fourth to a half a cent on approximately a quart. Retailers will pass the boost along to customers.

★ ★ ★

Ordinary red wine now sells from about 25 cents a liter up, depending on the vintage year, the vineyard, bottling circumstances and other factors which make a difference only to the connaisseur.

★ ★ ★

The price increase will be felt all across the social scale. Wine — sometimes as much as three and four liters a day — is considered a "staple" item by many Frenchmen in the laboring class.

"I like those extras you get in an Olds!"

HE: You mean the advanced styling, I suppose. The Accent Stripe and . . .

SHE: Oh, there's more to it than that. For example, the "park" position on the Hydra-Matic Drive* makes it safer and easier to start, even on hills.

HE: Well, Olds has a reputation for paying attention to details. That's one reason the value lasts.

SHE: You can tell that someone took a lot of patience in planning and building it right. Even the two ash trays are lighted.

HE: I'll bet the Oldsmobile engineers would love that, but I wonder how they'd feel about you not mentioning the Rocket Engine? Now there's a power plant. There's still nothing quite like a Rocket!

SHE: That's for me too, but I look for lots of other things—like upholstery . . . and that glove box. It's big enough for an umbrella, I wish . . .

Enjoy Your Ride . . . Drive Safely!

Your Partner In Safety!

You can readily appreciate that the truck driver—who's what you might call a professional driver—drives many more miles per year, on the average, than the private motorist.

If anyone is interested in driving carefully, in achieving long-time safety records, it's the truck driver. For driving's his business, his bread and butter. If, through an accident, he's kept off the road, his earnings stop and his job may be jeopardized. He simply can't afford to be anything but a safe, careful, courteous driver—and the records show that's what most truck drivers are.

Here, from your partner in safety—the truck driver—are some friendly suggestions for furthering safe driving on our highways. If everybody cooperates, we'll all enjoy happier, safer driving.

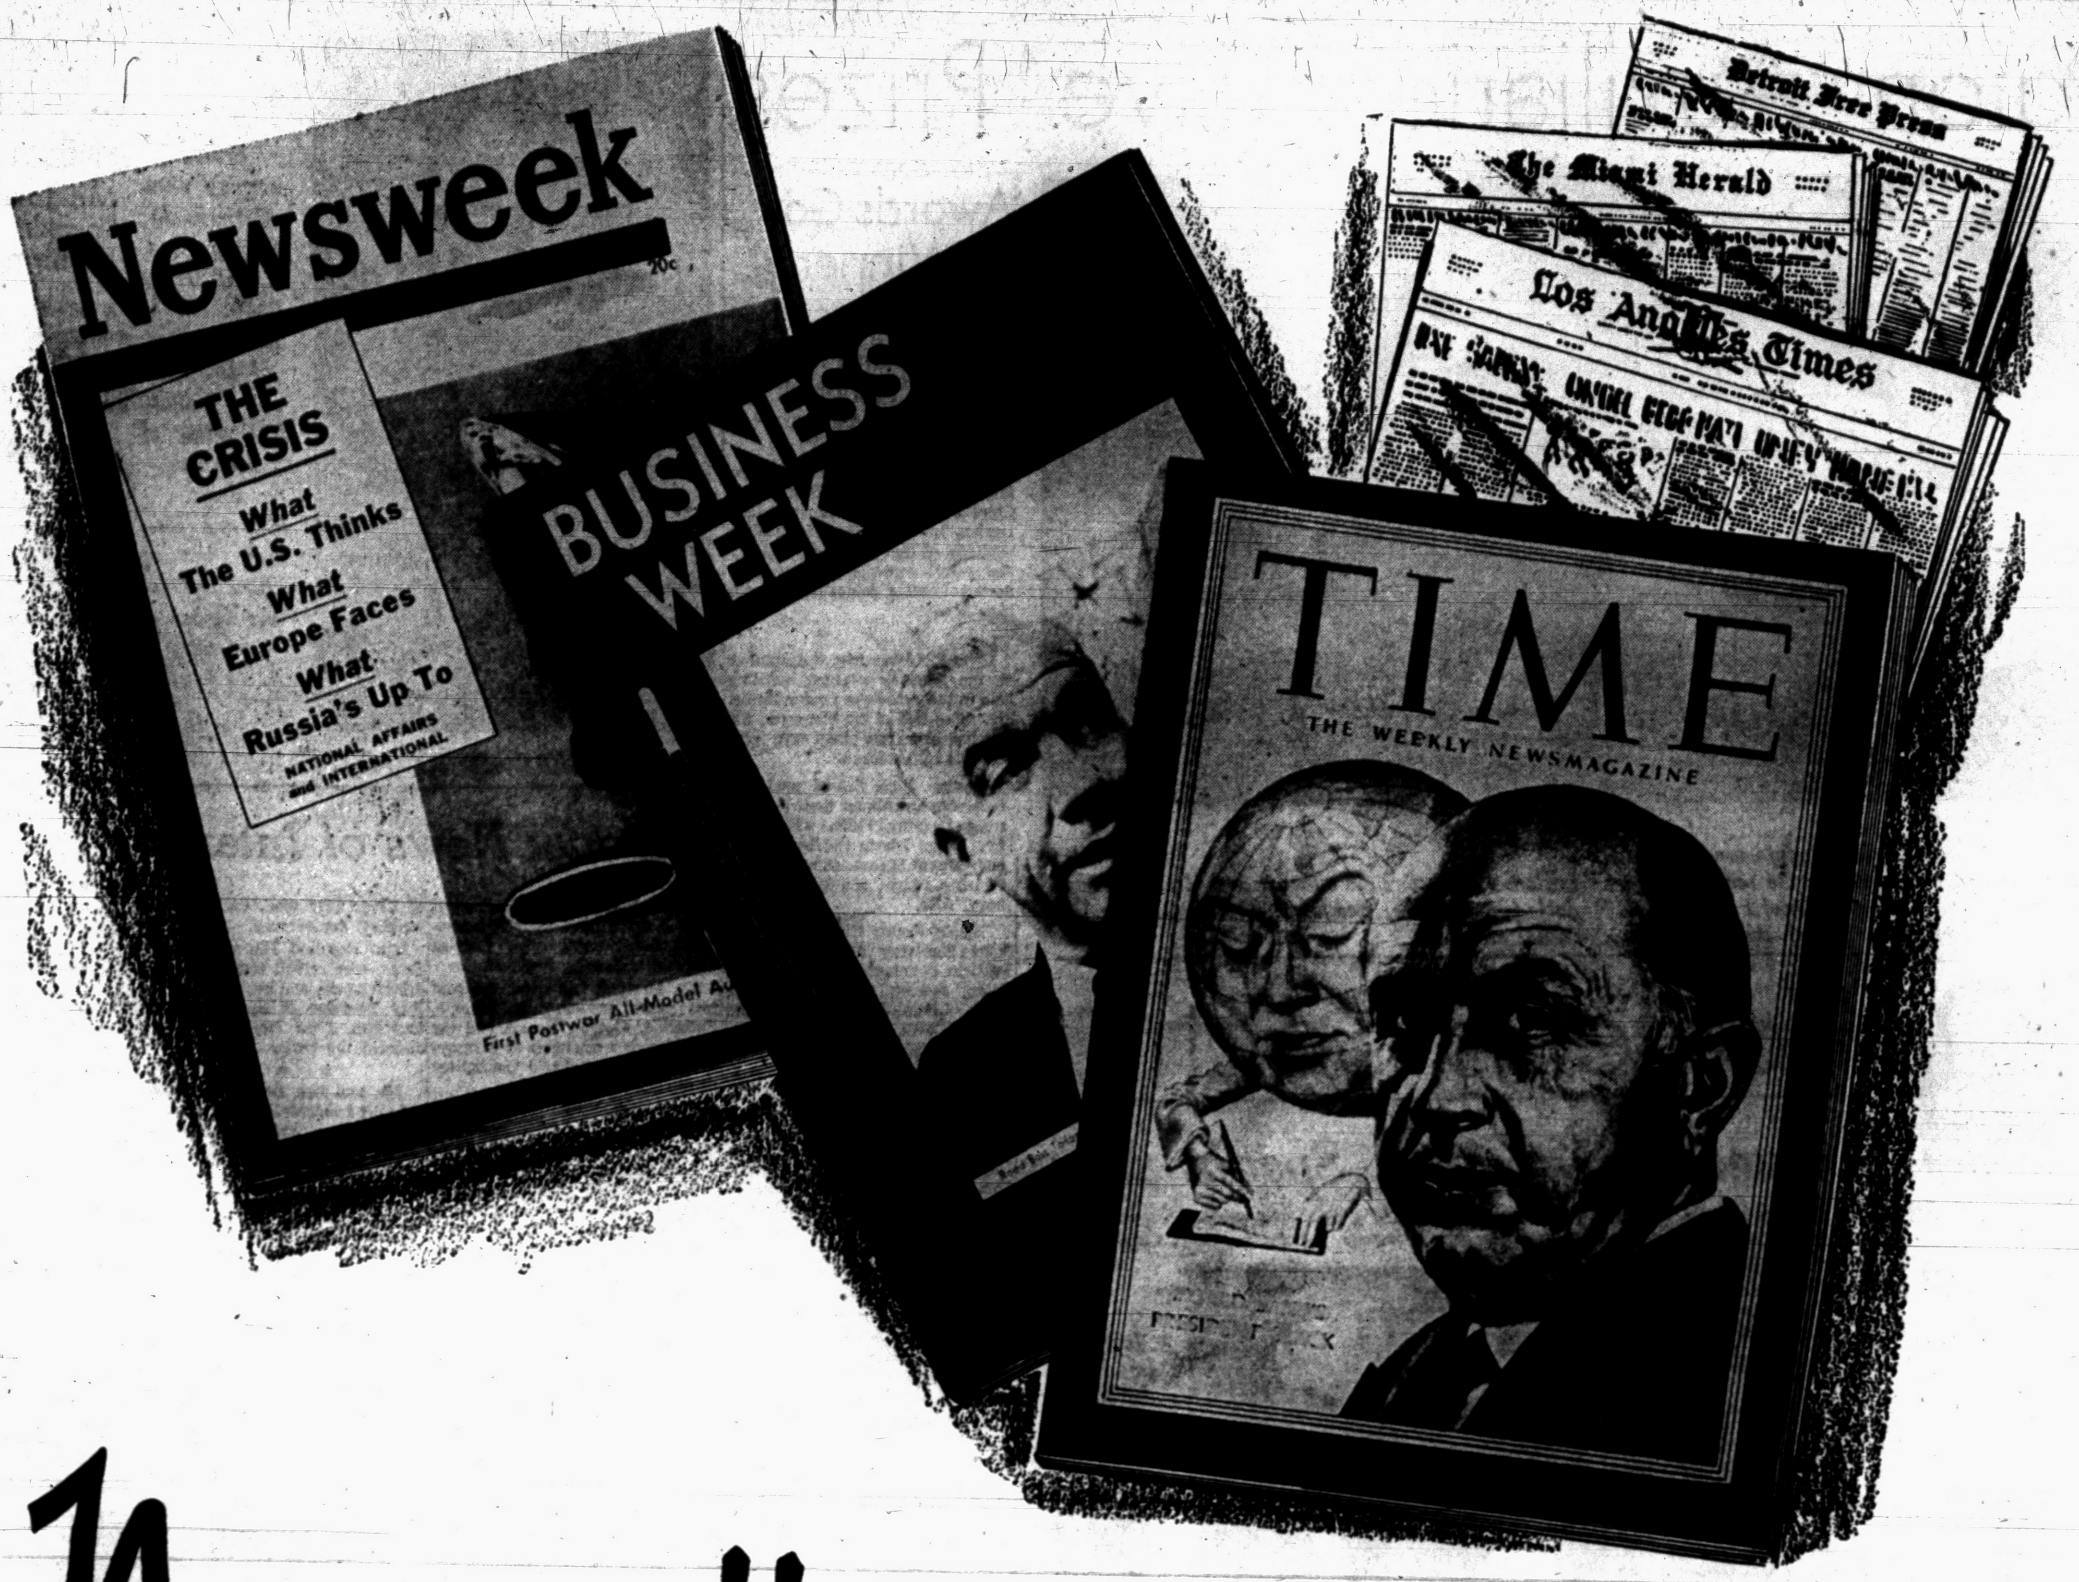

1. Be sure your car is in good operating condition at all times. Have it checked periodically by a competent mechanic.
2. Obey all traffic laws. They were formulated to protect you and everyone who uses our highways.
3. In planning a trip, don't schedule more miles per day than you can comfortably and safely drive. Figure an average speed of 30 miles per hour and limit your driving time to 10 hours at most.
4. On long drives, stop now and then to rest and relax. Pull off the road to a safe parking position, get out and stretch. Don't drive if you're sleepy.
5. Never pass on a hill. It should be obvious to everyone who drives that to do so is about as lacking in common sense as anything one might do.
6. Courtesy and patience are two very necessary ingredients of safe driving. Respect the rights of others and don't let a slow-moving motorist or some other obstacle in your path up your blood pressure. Impatience can lead to taking chances and taking chances is something a good driver just doesn't do.
7. Don't follow too closely the car ahead of you. The safe distance between moving vehicles varies according to the speed they are traveling but you must always allow for the fact that the fellow ahead may suddenly stop without warning.
8. Accident statistics continue to rate speed as the number one cause of automobile accidents—and speed is directly related to the seriousness of accidents when they occur.

Truck drivers are carefully picked and thoroughly trained for their profession. They are tremendously concerned with promoting safety on our highways. They want to work with you as your partners in safety!

Faces Usual Chores Without Conveniences

Mom Can't Rest on Camping Trip

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A camping trip for the entire family, including small children, is something well worth-while doing once in a while, but do not delude yourself that it is a rest cure for the woman in the home.

Usually she is responsible for the same duties she has at home all year long, without the conveniences of home. Often she must constantly be alert as to the safety of her small fry to see that they do not tumble over a cliff, drown in nearby water or get lost in the woods, to say nothing of stubbed toes, skinned knees and snake bites.

Just the preparation and "get off" are calculated to give her a nervous fit. Then she must prepare three meals a day with makeshift equipment for cooking and cleaning up, and must usually put up a running fight against insects and sunburn.

After a couple of weeks of this, even though she may not say so, getting back home to modern conveniences, a comfortable bed, a fenced-in backyard, a baby-sitter and routine will seem like a vacation. Maybe men allow that the little woman will better appreciate what she has if she is taken periodically on a nice long camping trip.

★ ★ ★

The camping trip is a family institution and I do not recommend that it be discontinued. I am only suggesting that it be valued for its family relations, for the adventure it brings children, for the outdoor life it provides, for fishing for father, not as a rest for mother.

SPORADIC HELP

Of course there are some instances in which this picture would be overdrawn. Some men take over the cooking and some children wash the dishes and pots and pans, but this is usually sporadic. In most cases the main responsibility is the woman's.

★ ★ ★

It seems only fair to "take turns" in the type vacation you have. It would be cruel to deprive children of childhood memories of camping and traveling with their parents. These are so vivid and last a lifetime.

However, it is important that all members of the family be considered. What is a pleasurable rest for the man may not be for the woman and vice versa. Therefore it does seem that the sort of vacation the family takes should vary from year to year.

In case this is your year for a camping trip perhaps my leaflet No. 69 "Tricks in Camping" would be helpful. If you would like to have it send a stamped, self-quest to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Jaycee Teenage Road-E-O to Be Held Here Sunday

Ask anyone—men, women and children—about driving safety and they'll tell you it pays off—in both money and lives saved. However, driving safety and ability will pay off in money won for some young driver of 14 to 19 years at the Teenage Road-E-O Sunday.

This year's Road-E-O, sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held in the Tel-Huron parking lot and contestants are to be there by 1 p.m.

The contest is set up to test the teenagers' ability at the wheel through various obstacle courses, and also his general knowledge of the road and traffic laws.

Judging will be done by members of the State Police, Oakland County Sheriff's Department and the Pontiac Police Department.

Contestants, either girls or boys, must have a driver's permit or license, and their parents' consent. Entry blanks may be obtained at all public and parochial junior and senior high schools.

Local firms also carrying entry blanks are: Wallpaper Outlet, 105 N. Saginaw St.; Georges-Newports, 74 N. Saginaw St.; C. W. Haskill Studio, 1 Mt. Clemens St.; Connolly's Jewelers, 16 W. Huron St., and Diem's Shoes, 87 N. Saginaw St.

★ ★ ★

The winner will receive a U.S. Savings Bond, a trip to a forthcoming Detroit Tiger baseball game, a trip to Bob-Lo, and will go to the State Road-E-O in Detroit June 14 to 15, with overnight accommodations at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

Should the local winner also win the state contest, he or she will be sent to the National Road-E-O, the site of which has not yet been announced. Second and third place winners will receive plaques.

French Release Soviet Proposal

Take Dim View of Bid for Arms Talk, Warning Against U.S. Bases

PARIS (AP) — French officials view Soviet Premier Bulganin's latest note to the West as a bumbling effort to disrupt solidarity of the free world.

Officials declined public comment yesterday as the government released Bulganin's 4,000-word letter to Premier Guy Mollet proposing French-Soviet talks as a preliminary to new big power disarmament negotiations. But privately they indicated it rubbed the French government the wrong way.

★ ★ ★

The letter, delivered in Paris Saturday, followed similar communications to Britain, Denmark, Norway and West Germany. It warned that any nation permitting U. S. atomic bases on its soil risked nuclear retaliation.

This caution irritated French authorities who feel establishment of American atom bases on French territory is France's business and part of her duty under the North Atlantic Treaty.

★ ★ ★

Still more irritating was Bulganin's call for a settlement of the Algerian rebellion which would take into account Algerians' "national rights." The French have been convinced that local communists under Kremlin command abetted the nationalist revolt in Algeria. The French insist Algeria is an integral part of European France.

★ ★ ★

Bulganin suggested that French and Russian representatives meet either in Paris or Moscow, apparently to supplement the London talks of the U. N. disarmament Big Four and Canada.

★ ★ ★

Amid warnings of the havoc an H-bomb war would wreck, Bulganin proposed working out a Soviet-French agreement on the exchange of atomic information for peaceful purposes. He also suggested that U. S., British and French forces based in other NATO countries be reduced in exchange for similar cuts in Soviet forces in Warsaw pact nations.

'I Wasn't Driving, Judge —the Car Drove Me'

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Marie Hagen, 24, standing trial on a misdemeanor drunk driving charge, testified that the car started rolling when her husband got out and that she put her foot down immediately — on the gas pedal.

★ ★ ★

An officer said Mrs. Hagen was behind the wheel when the car hit three parked autos and bowled over a sign and a tree.

Our Dollars Return Via Exports

Coffee Beans Perk U. S. Salaries

NEW YORK (NEA) — There's more to a coffee break than time out from work. Your cup holds jobs for Americans. Over 375,000 workers from Maine to California are paid annually with coffee bean money, according to a new report.

The 14 Latin American coffee exporting countries spend over $2,700,000,000 a year for American products. Forty-two per cent, or $1,134,000,000 of it is from coffee sales to the United States. Most of that sum gets stuffed into American pay envelopes.

These figures come from an economic survey, just completed, made for the Pan American Coffee Bureau of New York. This 20-year-old organization represents 11 countries which supply 97 per cent of the United States coffee imports from Latin America. Members are Brazil, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico and Venezuela.

The survey was based on 1955 figures, the latest completely available, plus official government data and confidential trade reports from 1,058 American companies who sell to those countries.

WE'RE DREAM-BOATS

Americans are dream-boats to the coffee planter. Coffee is drunk in 97 out of every 100 homes, in all eating places and in most institutions. In 1955, the survey reveals, we imported 2,599,223,000 pounds, 88 per cent of it from Latin America.

But our Latin American neighbors, where everyone is either directly or indirectly dependent on coffee, have returned the compliment.

Coffee growers, together with other exporters in those countries, spent 630 million dollars for our heavy machines, 517 million for American motor vehicles, trains, ships and airplanes, and another 400 million for our farm products — grain, fruits and vegetables, dairy products, meat and meat products.

Their money tangos to over a thousand big and little communities — into small manufacturing towns of Vermont, to the great wheat raising states like Kansas and Minnesota, to the copper mines of Colorado and the forests and orchards of the Pacific Northwest.

Nearly every state profits from these cha-cha greenbacks. In little Rhode Island, for example, manufacturers paid $8,400,000 of it in wages to 2,275 textile, metal and chemical workers. Lumber, paper, fruit exporters in the state of Washington used 20 million dollars of it for wages to 3,950 workers. Idaho, wiser about potatoes than the rhumba, paid out $2,200,000 of it to keep 425 of its farmers in household funds.

The larger states got their cupful of coffee pot money, to. Ohio sold $245,824,000 worth of machines, metal, rubber, chemicals and glass to Latin America. Of that sum, $162,700,000 was spent in wages to American workers.

COFFEE DOLLARS

Illinois workers and farmers got 131,700,000 coffee dollars and in New York, 37,200 men and women earned $167,200,000.

Our 14 Latin American neighbors like what our workers produce. On a population basis, these countries, taken together, are our best customers, except for Canada, and prove that this two-way trade builds a sound basis for inter-American prosperity.

In 1955, their per capita spending for American goods was $20. The figure for the United Kingdom was only $18, for West Germany $12, France $8 and Japan $7.

★ ★ ★

"The population in these countries is increasing faster than in any other area of the world. It is now 140 million. By 1975 it will probably be 200 million," Sa explained. "Also, there is a steady growth of industrialization, as the nature of their imports from the United States shows."

But he stressed that how much these countries can buy from the United States depends mainly on the value of what we buy from them.

★ ★ ★

"In 1937, for example, when they sold only 408 million dollars worth of coffee and other exports to you, their purchases in your country amounted to only 12 per cent of your total foreign exports," he pointed out. "However, in 1955, when you bought $2,900,000,000 worth of their products, their purchases in the United States jumped to 20 per cent of your total exports."

COFFEE GREENBACKS — The coffee beans the Colombian worker (lower circle) is drying help pay the wages of the New England textile worker (top) by providing money for imports.

Ouster of Beck to Get Support, Says McClellan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman McClellan of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, informed today of the ouster of Teamster Union Dave Beck by the AFL-CIO Executive Council, said "All good union people will heartily approve. So will all good citizens everywhere."

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a committee member, said he hopes the AFL-CIO "will now follow through by helping us enact legislation to prevent the recurrence of this type of situation."

Mundt said he was thinking particularly of legislation to "restore democratic government to the members" of labor unions.

Urge Graham Crusade in South for Integration

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—An organization of Negro ministers of Durham and Raleigh has appealed to evangelist Billy Graham to launch a crusade in North Carolina against segregation.

★ ★ ★

A message drafted yesterday by the Durham and Raleigh interdenominational Ministerial Alliance said: "Mr. Graham, North Carolina needs you, as well as New York, to carry on a preaching mission, to bring about a change in the ethical and moral attitudes of our people.

★ ★ ★

"We welcome you back to our state to tear down . . . every vestige of segregation and discrimination born of our prejudices."

Graham is conducting a revival in New York.

Uses Son as 'Club' During Family Brawl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police say Ruben Ortiz, 20, used his 10-month-old son as a club to swing at a relative during a family brawl. They booked him on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

Officers reported Ortiz seized the baby by the head and struck at Joan Maestaes, a sister-in-law of his wife, Gloria Ortiz, 18. The child escaped serious injury.

Benny to Leave Oxygen Tent

Youngster Better, Tells His Version of Ordeal at Well-Bottom

"The doctors will remove the tent sometime today if his temperature stays down," said a hospital spokesman.

The 7-year-old boy was reported in good condition at Bayview General Hospital in nearby Mastic Beach. His temperature was normal.

★ ★ ★

A minor lung inflammation has cleared up. He still has slight inflammations of the bronchial tubes and sinuses.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Benny told in his own words of his 23½ hour entrapment in the bottom of a well last week. The blond, blue-eyed youngster fell into the 24-foot pit in his backyard here Thursday evening. Rescuers dug him out the next evening.

The plucky boy said he was mad but not scared during the ordeal. He admitted he cried now and then.

He gave this account:

★ ★ ★

"The dirt was pressing against me. I tried to wiggle loose. I wasn't scared.

★ ★ ★

"It was dark. My coat was over my head. I could breathe swell. There was cold air all around me.

"I was mad. I was swearing. It was cold and my feet were wet. I could feel sand between my teeth. It made me mad.

"I called 'mommy, mommy,' but I couldn't hear anything."

Benny said he did not know efforts were being made to rescue him.

★ ★ ★

"I went to sleep and I woke up lots of times," he said. "The last time I went to sleep I woke up in bed."

Girl Falls to Death From 11th Floor

NEW YORK (AP) — A teen-age schoolgirl from the Virgin Islands plunged to her death last night from an 11th-floor hotel ledge. A crowd of 2,000 watched the death leap.

Police said the girl, Olga Cassanova, 14, had quarreled with an aunt who lives in the Hotel Walton on Manhattan's upper West Side. They said the aunt punished her for coming home late from school.

★ ★ ★

For 20 minutes policemen pleaded with the girl not to leave her two-foot wide perch on the top floor of the hotel.

★ ★ ★

One patrolman was lowered from the roof by a rope. As he neared the girl she grasped the ledge and slid over.

She held on for a moment. Then she lost her grip and fell screaming.

The victim came here from the Virgin Islands in September 1955 to stay with the aunt, Marie Monell, a laboratory technician.

No Plans to Divorce Ingrid

Rossellini Rips Reports of New Romance in India

BOMBAY (AP)—Roberto Rossellini says reports he has been living with a beautiful Indian script writer and plans to divorce Ingrid Bergman are "fantastic nonsense."

★ ★ ★

"They said something like that when I came to India to make films. What can you do about such things?"

★ ★ ★

He added that Ingrid knew of the reports and that there was no misunderstanding between them. The Swedish actress said in Paris yesterday that "there is no truth at all" in the report.

Rossellini laughed when told a New York Daily News story reported he wanted to divorce Miss Bergman because she is "too Nordic."

★ ★ ★

"Are not the Nords supposedly extra beautiful?" he asked.

★ ★ ★

He confirmed that the Indian woman, Mrs. Sonali Das Gupta, has left her husband and lives on the same floor in his hotel that he does.

"It is a sad thing she has left her home but my conscience is clear, for I have done nothing wrong," Rossellini said.

★ ★ ★

By telephone, Sonali said she was ill with influenza and claimed her relationship with Rossellini is purely a business partnership. Her husband, an Indian film director, was reported in Calcutta and not available for comment.

★ ★ ★

"It is extremely embarrassing for me to talk about it," said Sonali, who has been described as dark-eyed and classic featured. "You will excuse me if I confine myself to my relations with Rosellini for whom I work. Everybody knows that."

"I have my own reasons for leaving home," she added, "and believe me, they are powerful ones."

★ ★ ★

Two Minors Charged With Possessing Beer

Two Orion Township minors were freed on $100 bonds yesterday after they pleaded innocent to the charge of possessing beer.

Arrested about 11:30 p.m. Saturday, Wesley Theodore Johnstone, 19, of 4960 Estes Dr., and Clarence Jackie Coker, 20, of 4095 Morgan Rd., appeared before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum. They will face trial Thursday.

U. S. homes at the end of 1956 had 18.4 million automatic heating units, an increase of 8 per cent over 1955.

JOB WITH A FUTURE — After more than a decade as a teacher and scholar, Charles S. Wehrer, 42, above, resigned as superintendent of schools in Shandon, Calif., to become an apprentice truck driver. Wehrer, who admits he is not yet a good warehouseman or truck driver, said his $6,600 per year teaching salary left him in debt and that his new career, with drivers earning up to $15,000 annually, offered more of a future.

Ike's Aid Chief Expected to Quit

Departure of Hollister Will Reduce Influence of Taft Followers

★ ★ ★

Hollister's expected early exit, along with the forthcoming departure from the Cabinet of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, will reduce to the vanishing point the influence of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's followers in the Eisenhower administration's high counsels.

Hollister, once Taft's law partner, was said to be preparing to step out after he formally presents the administration's $3,880,000,000 foreign aid program to Congress.

Hollister himself was not available for comment.

★ ★ ★

He goes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Thursday, following up tomorrow's appearance before that group by Secretary of State Dulles.

There has been no clear indication of President Eisenhower's choice of a successor to Hollister as head of the International Cooperation Administration.

Some Democrats in Congress in sympathy with the foreign aid program have suggested to Dulles and others they would like to see Eric Johnston be given an important role in any new aid setup.

Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, serves as chairman of the International Development Advisory Board. His group recommended the kind of assistance to underdeveloped countries envisioned in Dulles' proposal for an international development fund.

2 Seattle Boys Nabbed on Way to Disneyland

SEATTLE (AP)—Two little boys who ran away from their Seattle homes for Disneyland and Mexico with thousands of dollars in cash and jewelry are home again.

Eddie Zelasky, 12, and Richard Daly, 13, were met at the Seattle-Tacoma Airport last night by their parents, police and juvenile officers. The boys were picked up early yesterday in Los Angeles when they stepped off a San Francisco bus.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles juvenile officers put the boys aboard a Western Air Lines plane which arrived in Seattle late last night. Officials at the lines had custody of more than $3,000 in cash, 14 diamond rings, a bracelet of $20 gold pieces, and a gold watch the Los Angeles officers found stuffed in the pockets of the motorcycle jackets the boys wore.

★ ★ ★

The cash and jewelry were held by the Seattle police for release later to the owners.

Eddie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Selasky, and Richard's father, Peter Louie Daly, were at the airport. Police turned the boys over to the parents. Then police counted the money and checked the jewelry while the boys and their parents watched.

★ ★ ★

In Los Angeles the boys said they had planned their trip for a month. Eddie said that Friday, after his father had left for the night shift in an aircraft plant and before his mother returned from the day shift, the boys broke a chest from which Eddie had seen his mother take money.

★ ★ ★

Said Eddie: "We got more than we expected."

The boys went by bus to San Francisco, armed with plastic pistols in shoulder holsters. In San Francisco they outfitted themselves with clothes, walked the streets all night and left for Los Angeles.

Plead Guilty to Loitering in Illegal Liquor Place

Three of the four men arrested Sunday at a Bagley street home during a Pontiac Police vice squad raid pleaded guilty yesterday to the charge of loitering in an illegal liquor place.

Charles Scaggs, 36, of 269 Howard McNeil St. and James Wesley Atkins, 37, of 331½ Rockwell St., paid $25 fines each when they appeared before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum. Robert Atkins, 25, of 24 Lull St., was ordered committed to the Oakland County Jail for five days after he failed to pay the $25 fine.

Owner of the building, LeRoy Pumphrey, 51, of 117 Bagley St., accused of maintaining and operating an illegal liquor place, pleaded innocent and was freed on a $300 bond until trial Thursday.

May Make One Film a Year

Ava Just Isn't Interested After 'Treatment' at MGM

By BOB THOMAS

MEXICO CITY (AP)—"Maybe if I had been treated better, I might be more interested in my career. As it is, I can't say that I really care much about it."

This was Ava Gardner speaking frankly. Her comments about her studio, MGM, gave some indication of why she has absented herself from Hollywood for more than two years.

★ ★ ★

"MGM was never the right studio for me," she said. "They never bought a property for me; they never knew what to do with me. Most of the time they loaned me out."

★ ★ ★

Ava was signed by the studio 16 years ago. She happened to do some modeling in New York and her pictures happened to be seen by studio executives.

"I never was movie-struck," she remarked. "I never sought an acting career, so I wasn't enthusiastic about it. Perhaps it would have been different if the studio had done more for me."

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"The first picture I ever did was a loanout to Monogram," she said with a trace of bitterness. "It was called 'Ghosts on the Loose' and it starred the Dead End Kids!"

She returned to do a few bit parts at MGM and some starring roles on loanouts. Her first big break was in Mark Hellinger's "The Killers," which also made a star of Burt Lancaster.

★ ★ ★

Even after her stardom, the studio failed to use her properly, she said. The only picture she recalled with favor was "Mogambo," which she made in Africa with Clark Gable and Grace Kelly. It drew Ava an Academy nomination.

★ ★ ★

Ava commented that the pictures she has made overseas have been "not so good." The most ambitious of these was "The Barefoot Contessa" — "It was a great script, but somehow it didn't turn out the way it was written."

She said she will be free from her MGM contract a year from November.

★ ★ ★

"I guess I'd better start looking for scripts for myself," she said. "But I don't intend to work very hard—maybe one picture a year."

★ ★ ★

"No, I'm not lazy — not really," she said. "I just don't care much about acting."

You can't dig education out of the earth. There's only one place where business and industry can get the educated men and women so vitally needed for future progress. That's from our colleges and universities.
Today these institutions are doing their best to meet the need. But they face a crisis. The demand for brains is increasing fast, and so is the pressure of college applications.
More money must be raised each year to expand facilities—bring faculty salaries up to an adequate standard—provide a sound education for the young people who need and deserve it.
As a practical business measure, help the colleges or universities of your choice—now! The returns will be greater than you think.
If you want to know what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

Taking a whirl around the sports world we find the Big Ten in a heated battle over the conference's financial aid program. Conference athletic leaders meeting in Evanston through Wednesday also have the drafting of 1961-1962 football schedules on the agenda, that is, if the fire simmers down enough on the financial aid issue.

Four schools, Northwestern, Iowa, Minnesota and Indiana are up in arms about the large scale talent raids in Big Ten territory by outside schools because of the program.

However, there seems to be little chance for the program to be junked. Now that it is law it must have a 6-4 vote for repeal.

Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State made no secret he opposes the program, but faculty representative Dr. Harold Tukey and athletic director Biggie Munn aren't likely to change their vote.

Michigan, Purdue and Minnesota are for the plan, which means Iowa and Ohio State must change their votes.

NFL TO EXPAND BY 1958

It appears almost certain that another team will be added to each division of the National Football League in time for the 1958 season.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Southfield's former athletic director Bob Hall is now the school's principal and word has it that basketball coach Bob Watts and football coach Monte Charles are the leading candidates for the vacancy.

Charles, however, is taking a trip north this weekend to visit Northern Michigan College where he will talk to Paul White about the assistant coaching job.

★ ★ ★

A funny note came out of the Pittsburgh Pirate clubhouse recently. It seems that Bobby Bragan has been changing the lineup around so much, that every time Bragan posted the sheet with the starting lineup on the bulletin board there was a mad dash to inspect it.

One of the Pirate players, looking at the anxiety on his teammates' faces one day, laughed and commented, "Looks like a mob scene at the unemployment agency with everyone after a job."

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Michigan is a slight favorite to repeat for the Big Ten tennis championship in the conference meet starting Thursday.

Indiana, 1956 runnerup, Iowa and Illinois are expected to put plenty of pressure on the Wolverines before the title is decided Saturday.

Michigan is led by the Big Ten singles champion, Barry Mackay, a member of the United States Davis Cup squad. He and two other seniors, Capt. Dick Potter and Mark Jaffee, have helped Michigan register 31 straight victories in the last three years.

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Dodge, sensational sprinter trying a comeback, appeared to be scaring off both competition and money as the feature attraction today in the opening of a 35-day spring meeting at Suffolk Downs.

Forest Lake Pro Leads 42 Rivals at Lakepointe

Rochester's Max Evans 1 Stroke Back; Briggs, Johnson Also Qualify

GAJDA

Bob Gajda, Forest Lake Country Club's veteran professional golfer, topped a field of 42 other pros Monday in the PGA sectional qualifying round at Lakepointe Country Club.

The 40-year-old swatter fashioned a two-over-par 142 over the rain - soaked, wind-swept layout to shade Max Evans of Rochester Golf and Country Club by one stroke.

Gajda's rounds of 72-70 led all qualifiers for the national PGA tournament, which will be held July 17-21 at the Miami Valley Country Club in Dayton, Ohio.

Evans, off the tournament circuit for a year because of illness, started out with a shaky 75, but came home with a sparkling 68 to take 2nd place honors.

Eldon Briggs, ex-Lansing pro now unattached, led at the halfway mark with a sizzling three-under-par 67. He zoomed to a 78 on the back nine, however, and finished with 145.

Briggs wound up in a tie with John Dalrymple for the other two qualifying berths. Dalrymple shot 71-74—145.

Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills and Meadowbrook's Chick Harbert, two of Michigan's best threats for the national PGA title, were exempt from qualifying. Both are former champions.

Tommy Shannon of Orchard Lake Country Club and Joe Thacker of Knollwood won alternate berths. Other alternates are Horton Smith, Ernie Fortner and Leo Bishop.

Tighe Looks for 'Slugfest'

Tigers Lose, 2-1 on Pinch Hit

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Jack Tighe looked today for "an old fashioned slugfest" to shake his Detroit Tiger batters loose from their rise and fall with the fortunes of their pitchers.

★ ★ ★

"All I can figure out," Tighe said, "is that what we need is to get into an old fashioned slugfest and win it.

"One of those 11-10 affairs," he said, "maybe that's what our team needs to shake it out of the idea that we can't win unless we get the real great pitching."

Whatever it is Tighe hopes will work wasn't in evidence last night as Frank Lary dropped his 5th decision 2-1 to the heretofore demoralized Washington Senators at Griffith Stadium.

★ ★ ★

Pete Ramos, 22-year-old Cuban righthander, held the Tigers to four hits and snapped their four-game winning streak as Ed Fitz Gerald's bases loaded pinch single with one out in the ninth scored Pete Runnels with the winning run.

The defeat, however, failed to dislodge Detroit from 4th place in the American League standings as the Boston Red Sox who trail by half a game — 5½ behind the Chicago White Sox — were idle.

In 16 victories this season, Detroit has outscored its opponents 77-19, better than 4 to 1. But in 15 defeats, the Tigers have been outscored 91-58.

★ ★ ★

Among the triumphs Detroit pitchers can count six shutouts, six one-run games, one two-run game, two three-run games, but only one five-run game.

And in 11 of their 15 defeats, Tiger batters have not been able to hit their way to victory once their opponent had scored more than threee times.

Lary, who was the American League's leading pitcher last season with 21 victories, gave up six hits before he was yanked with one out in the ninth in favor of Al Aber.

Ramos, who won his 3rd decision against two losses this year, yielded Detroit's only run in the first inning when Harvey Kuenn doubled and Ray Boone singled.

Detroit's only hit off the young Cuban in the last 7 2-3 innings was Lary's pop fly single to left in the fifth inning. Bill Tuttle's second inning single accounted for the other Detroit hit.

Jim Bunning, with a 2-1 record for the season, faces veteran Ray Moore, who has won one and lost two, when the Tigers meet the Baltimore Orioles tonight.

Frank Lary Is Late Starter Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

He was wondering about Frank Lary, 26. Was the righthander simply a late starter or was he a one-year wonder?

★ ★ ★

Tighe, of course, hoped it was the former and there was plenty of evidence to support his hope. In Lary's first full season with the Tigers, back in 1955, he was able to win only two of his first six decisions. He wound up with a respectable 14-15 record with a fifth place club.

★ ★ ★

It was the same story last year. The strapping 5-11 Alabaman won only two of his first seven decisions and as late as July 1 his record was a lacklustre 4-10. But he came on strong in the second half of the season, winning 17 of his last 20 starts, including his last eight in succession to finish as the American League's biggest winner with a 21-13 record.

★ ★ ★

In the only other game played in the American League, Baltimore downed Kansas City 2-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Connie Johnson to climb within percentage points of the sixth place Athletics. Rain forced the postponement of the scheduled games between Cleveland and the Yankees at New York and Chicago against the Red Sox at Boston.

★ ★ ★

In the only scheduled National League game, Brooklyn whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 10-4 behind the three-homer barrage by Duke Snider, Sandy Amoros and Carl Furillo.

Don Drysdale, 20, unbeaten so far, picked up his third victory as Brooklyn swept the two-game series from St. Louis.

The victory was Brooklyn's fourth in succession and boosted the third place Dodgers to within a half game of Milwaukee, 2 1-3 behind the pace-setting Cincinnati Redlegs.

Johnson was superb for Baltimore as he faced only 29 batters and set the Athletics down in order in eight of the nine innings. One of the three men to reach base against him was erased on an attempted steal.

The tall, gangling righthander walked one and struck our four in posting his second victory against four defeats. Harry Simpson, who singled in the second, and Billy Hunter, who doubled in the sixth, were the only A's to hit safely against him.

★ ★ ★

The Orioles tagged loser Ned Garver and Virgil Trucks for eight hits. They broke a scoreless deadlock in the sixth when Bob Nieman cracked a two-out double and scored on a single by Gus Triandos. The other Baltimore run came in the eighth when Trucks walked Bob Boyd, who advanced on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Tito Francona.

Asphalt Surface Assured Pontiac Speedway Track

It's official now. The Pontiac Speedway will operate again this year and the quarter-mile track will be given an asphalt surface.

Any speculation that the M-59 oval would remain closed for the season was removed at last night's meeting of the Pontiac Speedway Board of Directors.

The fly in the ointment—an asphalt track—has been promised by the 11-man board of stockholders before the Speedway opens its doors for a new year of racing.

"We are definitely going to pave the track," Joe Chevrier, president of the board, said today. "If all goes well, the track will be ready for racing by Memorial Day," he added.

According to Chevrier, the bid submitted by a local asphalt paving company will probably be accepted for the job, providing the company meets the board's specifications for a base for the track.

"Their price is reasonable if they give us the type of roadbed we want," he said.

"It is the feeling of the board that blacktop alone will not stand up under he heavy punishment it is required to take," Chevrier said. According to the M-59 president, the board wants a crushed stone base instead of gravel.

Dick Dewey, manager and promoter of the track, requested the asphalt surface at last week's meeting of the board. The request was tabled at that time for further study.

It was Dewey's contention that the Speedway could not attract the top drivers with a flat dirt track. Dewey's hopes for an asphalt track will now be fulfilled.

A new retaining wall will also be installed in the backstretch prior to the planned Decoration Day opening, Chevrier announced.

British Soccer Stars Appear in Windsor Game

Soccer fans of this area will have opportunity Wednesday night at Windsor, Ont. Stadium to see one of the finest British teams in action. Tottenham Hotspurs, English first division club, arrives today in Windsor after beating the Glasgow, Scotland club 4-3 in New York Sunday.

Britishers are just starting on an 8-game tour. They boast in Bobbie Smith, center forward, one of the best in England. He scored three of Sunday's goals, assisted on the fourth.

Day I Remember Most

Another in a series of articles written especially for the Associated Press and the Press by Detroit Tiger players.

By AL ABER

DETROIT (AP) — My biggest thrill in baseball is unique, because it came in a game that I lost.

But it was a thrilling game, and despite the fact that I lost it, I'll never forget it. Jack Harshman of Chicago and I went 16 innings before the White Sox beat me 1-0. I think each of us gave up eight hits.

It was August 13, 1954 — Friday the 13th, to be exact. I couldn't forget that part of it.

The Sox finally won the game when Nellie Fox, who was on first base with two outs, scored on a hit down the right field line by Minnie Minoso. An usher touched the ball and Al Kaline had to battle him to get it, but the umpires never saw it.

It was a good hit, though, and despite the fact that I lost, it was the best game I ever pitched and one that'll stick in my memory for as long as I live.

Tennis Tips by Rosewall

Good Equipment a Must

AP Newsfeatures

By KEN ROSEWALL

To become a tennis player you need a tennis racket, a good pair of tennis shoes and the desire to practice tennis.

★ ★ ★

I use my own autographed racket which is made by an Australian firm. It's a trifle smaller than the American-make rackets, but the idea still is to hit the ball with the center of the racket. My racket is 14½ ounces with what we call a half-ounce drop to the handle.

My racket is medium-sized and I believe best suited for my 5-feet-7 and 145 pounds. It has carried me a long way, not only in the Nationals at Forest Hills last year but also in the Davis Cup matches held in Australia last December.

You don't have to be a big person to play tennis. Although competition like Pancho Gonzales has given me since I turned pro is strenuous, my weight remains the same as it was four years ago.

★ ★ ★

When I was younger I practiced hitting a tennis ball against a wall before and after school. My dad, Bob Rosewall, helped me a lot and the fact that he owned tennis courts right near Sydney helped me get in additional practice. I started tournament tennis at 10, and at 17 made my first overseas trip for the Wimbledon championships.

Undergrad Meet at Flint Concludes Chiefs' Year

After today's Valley undergraduate track meet at Flint Central, Pontiac's state champions will wrap up their gear and sit back to bask in the "sunshine" of their third straight title.

The Flint meet is the PHS finale, and once more arch-rival Northern is the biggest obstacle to a windup victory. Despite Chiefs' win at East lansing, Vikings are favored, largely because of their dual, CMC and Valley, wins over Pontiac this spring.

Wilson will take a full squad to Central this afternoon. It does not include the seniors. The team includes:

* * *

U. S., IBC Get Set for New Clash

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Boxing Club and the U.S. government retired to realign their forces today in preparation for another head-on clash.

The IBC already has been found guilty of a monopoly in the promotion of championship fights. Now Federal District Judge Sylvester J. Ryan is hearing arguments from both sides before deciding what penalties to inflict on the IBC.

* * *

The government decreed in yesterday's opening session that the only solution was "dissolution and divorcement," meaning that the IBC must be broken up entirely.

William J. Elkins, the Department of Justice trial attorney, who was handling the government case, added that any other remedy would only allow the defendants to "retain and continue to enjoy the benefits obtained through the illegal activities of the conspiracy to monopolize the boxing industry."

* * *

The IBC, on the other hand, apparently has not decided just what to do. Rather it is threatening — but not promising — to get out of the boxing business entirely rather than submit to a proposed trusteeship of its capital stock, a proposal of Judge Ryan.

Both sides were groping in the wind for signs of friendliness to their respective cases by Judge Ryan. The defendants appeared to get the best of it in the opening skirmish.

* * *

1. The government proposed that the IBC officers holding stock in Madison Square Garden be forced to dispose of their holdings within six months.

Commented Judge Ryan:

"Frankly, I don't look with favor upon any decree compelling (them) to throw their stock on the open market because not only they might be penalized, but it is also possible that others, not involved in this case, would suffer substantial losses."

IBC attorney Kenneth C. Royall, former secretary of the Army followed through by declaring that if the government suggestion is adopted, the Garden would be eliminated as a site of championship fights. He further declared that IBC bigwigs Jim Norris and Arthur Wirtz would get out of boxing rather than risk their $2,000,000 investment in the Garden Corp.

2. At another point, the government was proposing that the Wednesday night TV fights be promoted by a Midwest group and the Friday bouts by an Eastern group.

Judge Ryan interjected:

Judge Ryan's trusteeship proposal would be put into effect if Norris and Wirtz stayed in the fight promoting business. They of course, would surrender their voting powers or hold office in the corporation.

Two Votes Prevent Bruins' Expulsion

UCLA Still Holds a Membership in PCC

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — UCLA was still a member of the Pacific Coast Conference today because its own vote, plus one, balked its expulsion.

* * *

Oregon, Washington State, Stanford and Idaho voted yesterday to toss UCLA out of the nine-member conference. Oregon State, California, Washington, Southern California—and UCLA—voted to keep the Bruins in the fold. Six votes are needed to toss a member out of the conference.

* * *

This was the highlight of the opening day of the spring meeting, which is to continue through Thursday. UCLA was not alone on the anxious seat, but it was the only one of four schools which failed to receive a unanimous vote of confidence.

The action was the culmination of an order issued last August by the presidents of the member schools. UCLA, Southern California, Washington and California had been placed on probation for unauthorized aid to athletes.

* * *

The presidents ordered the four to get their athletic houses in order and report back at this spring meeting. If they were unable to satisfy the conference the penalty was to be expulsion as of Aug. 1, 1957. The reports were made orally yesterday and Washington, California and Southern California passed 100 per cent.

* * *

The vote merely gave the four errant institutions a renewed lease on life in the conference. The probations still stand. California completes its "sentence" July 1. Southern California and Washington remain on probation for another year; UCLA for two more years. The latter three are banned from playing in the Rose Bowl football game until the probations end.

* * *

The four schools which voted against UCLA all gave the same explanation: They did not feel the Los Angeles university had complied in full with the presidential order. A Stanford representative said that, while his school cast a "no" vote, he was relieved that decision favored the Bruins.

'Kiddie Corps' Aids Bums

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Brooklyn's "Kiddie Corps" of pitchers is giving Manager Walter Alston that look of fat-cat contentedness.

In pre-season picking, Milwaukee's Braves with Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl, were generally acknowledged to have the best moundsmen in the league.

* * *

But not by Alston. For as he said last night as the Dodgers humbled the St. Louis Cardinals 10-4 he had a pre-spring inkling that he owned some pretty fair hurlers of his own.

And it's the young twirlers, Don Drysdale, Johnny Podres and Sandy Koufax, who are shining.

Lions Meet Eagles in Toledo Exhibition

TOLEDO (AP) — The Detroit Lions will meet the Philadelphia Eagles in a pre-season game in Toledo's Glass Bowl on Friday night, Aug. 23.

Lion's general manager Nick Kerbawy finalized plans at a meeting last night with the game's sponsors here. It is the third pre-season date announced by the Lions, who have already arranged to meet the Washington Redskins Aug. 31 in Birmingham, Ala., and the Cleveland Browns in Cleveland on Sept. 14.

Lions will play six pre-season games.

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Expansion of Bing Crosby's annual golf clambake here into a four-day $40,000 affair, a change long in the rumor stage, was a fact today.

* * *

Of the total prize money, $10,000 will be distributed in the pro-amateur with $30,000 to be split up in the 72-hole event.

Cranes Complete Net Sweep, 'A' Unsettled

The Cranbrook tennis doubles team of Pete King and Barry Smith made the Crane Class B regional championship official yesterday by defeating teammates Bruce McCaul and Ozzie Jacobsen in the all-Cranbrook final.

Class A honors are still unsettled with Mt. Clemens and Birmingham attempting to make plans for their deciding doubles match sometime this week.

Mt. Clemens had a slight scoring edge when play was halted because of rain last Saturday at Cranbrook. The Maple finalists are Jeff Crawford and Tom Watson.

Andersonville and New Hope in Church Wins

Andersonville Church and New Hope Bible Church were easy victors as the Independence Township All-Church baseball league opened play last night.

Lloyd Miller hurled Andersonville to a 13-7 conquest of Clarkston Baptist, while New Hope walloped Dixie Baptist by 17-6 behind Elden Mudje Jr. Bill Powell of Clarkston and Roy Cummings of New Hope socked home runs.

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Baseball's immortal Ty Cobb sees the art of base stealing emerging from the game's discard pile with Willie Mays the prime mover.

Noting the New York Giants' speedster swiped four bases Saturday, the No. 1 man of baseball's Hall of Fame commented today:

★ ★ ★

With a glint, Ty recalled the fidgets he and others of his era gave opposing pitchers.

"The stolen base is a great mental hazard against the pitcher. You can use it to get into scoring position. Even if you don't make the try, you can often bluff him into throwing a couple of wide ones and put himself in a hole.

"Only a few games are won by a runner stealing home, but a man on first with two outs can steal second and be in position to score on a single. And if you get way ahead, you can cut loose and steal bases just to give them the jitters for the next day's game."

"I never did say present day players couldn't steal bases," Ty asserted. "They have the ability, but base stealing declined simply from un-use.

"Mays, Minnie Minoso and others can do a lot with it, but there are many fast fellows who don't even try to steal.

"In the thirties, the forties and the early fifties hardly anybody did much base stealing. I recall one year when Joe Dimaggio, Stan Musial, Ted Williams and Ralph Kiner were the high paid stars. You know how many bases they stole between them in a season? Just seven."

Mays stole 40 bases last season and has 14 this year. Cobb said he thinks Mays can collect even more and other players can learn the art.

"It takes practice, sliding and watching how to take your lead. You have to watch the pitcher's foot and knee. When he's going to throw toward the plate his foot shows it. Then you have the jump on him.

"Take Sam Crawford. He was a big man and not too fast, but I think he stole 42 bases back there one year."

Cobb, who owns a lifetime batting average of .367 and 12 times led the American League in batting, recalled that he once stole 96 bases during a season. But he declared present day players "are just as good and can run just as fast as we did."

The old time star concedes that with the lively ball and slugging emphasis of today, players probably won't ever steal as much as they did in his era.

In 1955 Michigan State scored 85 points in third quarters while yielding only 7 points to the opposition

THE PURE OIL COMPANY ANNOUNCES

ANOTHER BIG OCTANE BOOST

PURE-PREMIUM IS SUPER PREMIUM NOW!

Another great improvement for the gasoline that already holds over 240 different performance records. Now higher in octane than ever before!

Starting this morning, your Pure Oil dealer has a stepped-up PURE-PREMIUM gasoline in his pumps. It has been boosted right into the SUPER class to give your car even better performance.

Even before it was improved, PURE-PREMIUM held more certified performance records than any other gasoline, according to NASCAR (National Association for Stock Cars). It has proved its record performance again and again in over 240 events for acceleration, power, mileage, and performance . . . in 38 makes and models of cars . . . in all kinds of weather . . . over all kinds of roads . . . with 123 different drivers.

And now it's even better! In fact, PURE-PREMIUM now has such a high road-octane rating (actual performance on the road) that we've been tempted to drop the word "octane" altogether and call it "Roadtane."

Here's what it means to your car. With even more anti-knock power and super quality, this clean-burning gasoline has the perfectly balanced blend to give your car record performance. What's more, it's tailored to your climate, locality, and season.

Next time you need gasoline, drive into your nearest Pure Oil station and fill up with power-boosted PURE-PREMIUM.

Even more power when you use High HP Purelube

You get a special octane bonus in knock-free power (the equivalent of 4 to 7 extra octane numbers above and beyond the already boosted antiknock power of PURE-PREMIUM) when you use High HP Purelube multigrade motor oil with PURE-PREMIUM gasoline. For record performance that speaks louder than words, try these two great PURE products that are made to go together.

Does U. S. Have ICBM?

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The general responsible for producing the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile says the United States doesn't have it yet but is ahead of Russia in developing it.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever who heads the Western Development Division of the Air Research and Development Command, gave that analysis Sunday while visiting with Sen. Symington (D-Mo).

★ ★ ★

"When we have the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, and we will," he said, "no enemy can hit us without expecting to be hit in return."

General Schriever said no new inventions are required to make the weapon a reality. The only requirements are integration of the technical knowledge now at hand and a military force to operate and maintain it.

He said such a weapon might keep the peace because it is a "deterrent weapon" and most likely will not be used.

"Thoretically," he said, "they can be defended against but the problems of doing it successfully are several orders of magnitude more difficult than defending against known weapons."

Schriever declined to say anything of the results of recent ICBM tests in Florida or even which of the two ICBM missiles, the Atlas or the Titan, was tested.

Less than six million pounds of organic chemicals were obtained from petroleum in 1925. By 1950 the total had increased to about 15 billion pounds.

Rain Causes Grains to Ease

CHICAGO (AP) — Rain again had a dominant influence on grain futures at the Chicago board of trade today.

Most contracts opened close to Monday's closes, but prices eased back despite reports of heavy overnight rains in the winter wheat-growing areas. There was also rain in the corn and soybean regions where planting has been delayed.

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ⅞ lower to ⅛ higher, May $2.18; new style wheat was unchanged to ¼ lower, July $2.09⅝; corn was ⅛ to ½ higher, May $1.31⅜; oats were ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower, May 69⅞; rye was ¼ to ½ lower, May $1.18¾; soybeans were unchanged to ⅝ higher, May $2.39¾, and lard was unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.52.

Forecasts of more rain over the growing areas and continued uncertainty as to the effects of the heavy rains of the past month or so were counteracting factors in wheat trade.

Drive Falters in Mixed Deals

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's upward drive faltered as prices were mixed in early trading today.

Leading issues showed a hodgepodge of small plus and minus signs. Many pivotal stocks were unchanged.

The opening was fairly active but once the initial blocks were disposed of the trading pace quieted.

Some Wall Street analysts said the market's strong advance has shown technical signs of "topping out" recently after establishing a string of new 1957 highs over the past week and a half. It was time for the market to "stop, look and listen," remarked another.

A rise in the U. S. Treasury's short-term borrowing costs, stopping the downtrend of the past four weeks, was one background item. There was little in the way of major news to change investor outlook.

Chrysler to Pay for Vacation Time

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. will start paying its 102,000 hourly rated workers $19,600,000 tomorrow in lieu of vacations.

Chrysler's contract with the United Auto Workers union requires cash instead of time off for vacations. Production workers will get vacation pay along with their weekly paychecks for the time off they are entitled to. The contract is worded to provide for this because of the layoffs during periods of model changeover.

Maximum payment will be for 120 hours for employes of at least 15 years seniority. Minimum is 40 hours for employes of at least one year.

'Drop Rim' Inventor Fights Speed Demon

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Six different times, speeding motorists have missed the sharp turn, hurled across the "Ashcroft" lawn, into barns, sign posts, fences and trees. Some have been lucky, and others have been hurt.

On a foggy night this week, six teenagers driving approximately 65 miles an hour, missed the sharp curve, jumped off the road, plowed up 73 feet of lawn, tore open the Ash living room and smashed through a steel-supported tool shed.

Two were hurt, and one of the young people will be in the hospital for a long time with multiple fractures of the right leg.

Ash, a highway construction engineer, claims that there are three very dangerous 90-degree curves on the Wixom road. People unfamiliar with the smooth blacktopped road, get the urge to "step on the gas," and when they come to the turns, are unable to keep their speeding cars under control.

Residents at the intersections of Wixom and Charms roads and Wixom and Burns roads, agree with Ash that there have been many unnecessary accidents at these locations, due to inadequate warning signs.

The first few times after the Ashes' had unwelcome visitors miss the curve, Charlie hauled several huge stones into his front yard for protection.

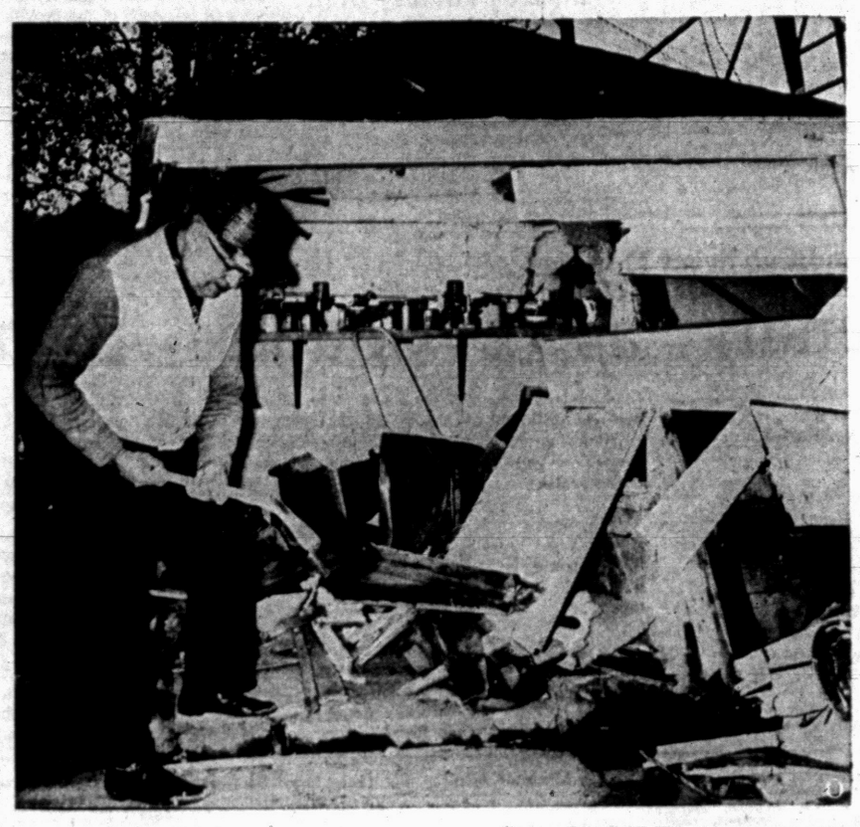

Then, the more he thought about it, the more he realized that "someone might get hurt, " . . . so he hauled them all awa again.

Years ago, when people were having trouble pulling flat tires off rims after they had been removed from the wheel, Charlie designed the solid wheel—eliminating the extra rim on tires. This contribution to the world has made Ash "a part of every car on the road today."

Ash has some 200 patents covering axles, wheel differentials, ramp loader, four-wheel drive tractor, steering and lifting devices and agricultural and industrial implements.

Charlie's most recent 'Brainchild' is the new powerbilt brake, which is past the blue print stage and ready for production. He said, "The brake equipment is not strong enough for these powerful machines that they are building today."

"We can, and will, build stronger brakes," he continued, "but the speed-demons will continue to burn up the roads. All I want, is for them to leave the Ashes' alone," he concluded.

RUBBLE IN "ASHES" — It looks like Charlie Ash will have to find another ax to grind, after six teenagers side-swiped his living room and crashed into his tool shed. Charlie has started a one-man 'ax-grinding' campaign with the Oakland County road commission to protect residents on the three 90-degree angle curves on Wixom road.

A-Scientists Turn Gadgeteers At Nevada Nuclear Testing Site

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—Atomic scientists have created a gadgeteers' paradise among the cacti and rocks of the Nevada desert. But ordinary, home-grown gadgeteers never will get a chance to delight over it.

Behind their impenetrable security barrier, the men who try out the nation's atomic weapons have laid out an almost unbelievably intricate network of gadgets and gimmicks for measuring and testing everything connected with a nuclear blast.

Each of the 18 or 20 atomic detonations to be triggered during "Operation Plumbbob" will involve five or more "key experiments" and perhaps as many as 75 or 80 other experiments.

STREAK CAMERA

The atomic energy commission has released information on some of its equipment, however, including an electronic "streak" camera that can measure and record things happening within 10 billionths of a second.

In this fantastic extension of the box camera, a light image is received by an electronic device that translates it into intensified electrical impulses.

These are then beamed on a phosphorescent screen in the back of the camera and recorded on stationary film. Each individual image is recorded in a different position on the film by means of a scanning device, thus placing a "streak" of consecutive pictures on the film.

With still another intricate new camera, an attempt will be made to photograph a-bomb shock waves as they are reflected from objects and from people.

Comparatively weak shock waves will be photographed as they are reflected from persons observing detonations from a safe distance away as a study of blast effects on humans.

Reflected shock waves cause visible distortions of light similar to those caused by a mirage of hot air, and special methods have been developed for photographing them.

MEASURES RADIATION

An improved high-speed cathode ray oscilloscope for measuring gamma radiation — the radiation most dangerous to humans — in the early stages of a detonation will be used for the first time in "Operation Pumbbob."

This instrument can record reactions within the range of less than a 10 billionth of a second.

These devices furnish extremely fast information on precisely where and in what amounts there may be radioactive fallout from any particular explosion under weather conditions forecast for "shot" time.

Roads Go to Pot in Subdivision

200 Residents Must Pay for Maintenance Near Williams Lake

Officials of the Ideal Country Club Association do not think their subdivision is so ideal after meeting with the Waterford Township board last night.

The 200 property owners, located on the west side of Williams Lake, have run into a snag regarding the upkeep of their privately owned roads. The group claims it has been four years since any work has been done in the subdivision.

They were told the township cannot legally spend any money on township road improvements, and the county will not take care of the roads because they are not up to present specifications.

Board members told representatives of the association that a truck would scrape their roads in preparation for oil and tarvia which has to be paid for by the property owners.

DEBATE CEMETERIES

Other business included discussion regarding the landscaping and maintenance of the four township-owned cemeteries. A plan to set up contracts for residents to pay for lots on an installment basis is being studied.

The township board has authorized the Oakland County Road Commission to accept bids for the remaining portion of Crescent Lake Road for blacktopping.

Merchants in City Can Ship by Air

A new Surf-Air plan instituted by Slick Airways and 75 of the nation's motor freight carriers now makes it possible for Pontiac merchants, industries and shippers to ship cargo by air to 5,000 nationwide destinations.

Two Pontiac carriers, Norwalk Truck Line and Blair Transit Co. will pick up merchandise and deliver it to the nearest airport served by Slick.

Under the plan, a shipper receives only one bill, even though two trucking companies and the airline may render service. All the local merchant has to do is call the trucking company which in turn completes all other arrangements.

GMC Truck Official Gets Special Training

Robert A. Bailey, of GMC Truck & Coach in Pontiac, is one of the special General Motors personnel who is undergoing an intensive 10-week training program in industrial uses of radioactive isotopes.

A two-week course in fundamentals was started last Monday at the GM Institute in Flint. The trainees will attend a course of lectures and experiments at GM's Technical Center in Warren, following the initial two weeks.

The course is planned to give the men a wellrounded background in radio isotope uses so their divisions can evaluate proposed application of radioactive materials to manufacturing and processing problems. Five other divisional engineers join Bailey in the course.

Key Witnesses Clam Up in Acid-Blinding Trial

★ ★ ★

A potential witness who clammed up yesterday was given a five-year contempt sentence. The government hoped the action would loosen the tongues of other witnesses.

U. S. Atty. Paul Williams said his key witnesses against Dio "have been threatened and advised not to testify." Without them, he said, he has no case.

Gondolfo (Shiekie) Miranti, 57, already serving a minimum 13½ years in the attack on the newspaperman, bluntly told a federal grand jury he'd do five more rather than testify against Dio.

Federal Judge William B. Herlands promptly obliged. He added five years to Miranti's term.

★ ★ ★

Dio, 42, allegedly masterminded the attack that blinded Riesel April 5, 1956. Dio was, to have gone on trial yesterday with three others — Charles Tuso, Teddy (Skinny) Rij, and Charles (Wop-py) Garlino.

★ ★ ★

The government's chief potential witnesses against Dio and the others are Miranti, Domenico (Nik) Bando, 47, and Leo Telvi, 24. Bando is to appear before the grand jury today.

★ ★ ★

Damage Is $10,000 in Troy Factory Blaze

TROY — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed one building and its contents at the Tourn-a-grip Co., 4114 Crooks Rd., about 4:30 this morning.

Company spokesmen said damages would run about $10,000. The firm, a manufacturer of fishing rods, would suffer in delayed production, he added.

Cub Pack 22 Hears Talk on Fire Prevention

★ ★ ★

Since the theme for May was "Cub Scout Firemen," Weiler spoke on forest fire prevention and how to build a campfire.

★ ★ ★

Recover Miner's Body to End 82-Hour Effort

★ ★ ★

The body of the father of three children was discovered by one of eight teams of five men each that had worked since the victim was trapped by a coal slide early Friday. Snyder was working the mine with his brother, LeRoy, and Mark Sponic, 65. The three owned the diggings together.

Dr. Samuel E. Herrold of Lykens, a deputy coroner, and one of the five rescuers who came upon the body, said death was caused by suffocation.

★ ★ ★

The body was discovered in a water-filled pit in the west gangway, a new tunnel off the main shaft. Herrold said Snyder apparently suffocated and then toppled into the drainage pit. The body was removed to a funeral home.

The victim had not been heard from since five hours after the slide.

At that time mine inspectors heard tappings and believed them to be from Snyder banging a hammer. A rumble in the mine a few hours later indicated a second slide had occurred. Rescue workers believe the second slide trapped Snyder in a section in which his air finally gave out.

★ ★ ★

A crowd, including Snyder's five brothers, stood about the mine entrance on the rugged mountainside when the body was brought out. One of these was LeRoy, who had worked more than three days in the futile effort to save his brother.

★ ★ ★

At the Snyder home, the victim's wife and three children waited hopefully. Mrs. Snyder, who lost a brother, Al Sedesse, in a similar mine disaster less than 150 yards from the spot her husband was buried, was under the care of a physician. The children, Carol Ann, 9; Michael, 8, and Linda, 5, were cared for by neighbors.

The end of the search made Snyder South Mountain's eighth victim in 23 years of mining.

Love Ripened at PTA and Cub Scout Meetings

All's Friendly as 2 Couples Swap Mates

RENO (AP) — Two couples, who changed their affections during two years of suburban activities such as Parent-Teacher Assn. meetings, swapped mates yesterday and fled from the public.

★ ★ ★

Both couples, residents of a San Francisco suburb, were divorced by the same Reno judge on the customary Nevada grounds: "extreme cruelty."

After Judge Grant Bowen had pronounced their marriages finished, Mrs. Betty Jean Schwartz, 33, and Martin Brooks, 35, slipped off to Carson City and were married by Justice of the Peace Dan Murphy.

Mrs. Betty Brooks, 35, and Dr. Frank E. Schwartz, 38, led cameramen on a chase through Reno and then doubled back and were married here by Justice of the Peace William Beemer.

★ ★ ★

The couples from Millbrae, 16 miles south of San Francisco, met at a dance in 1955, and continued meeting at Cub Scout sessions, PTA meetings and at Millbrae Community Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Schwartz, an eye specialist, and his wife had two children. Brooks, a garden store owner, and his wife had four.

As time went on they found that Brooks and Mrs. Schwartz were sports fans, while Dr. Schwartz and Mrs. Brooks liked color photography and painting.

In April, the husbands said they would change houses, the women and children staying where they were.

Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. Brooks came to Reno six weeks ago, stayed at the same motel, hired the same lawyer and continued their friendship while putting in the time necessary to gain legal status as Nevada residents.

Dr. Schwartz said the children "already" are "like brothers and sisters." He said the swap would mean that "they're just getting an extra father and mother."

2,600 Bicycles Get Licenses

2-Week Program Ends; Vehicles Not Registered Can Be Impounded

A total of 2,642 bicycle licenses were issued to students of 27 Pontiac elementary and junior high schools during a two week bicycle inspection and licensing program, according to Capt. Joseph Koren, of the Pontiac police traffic and safety bureau.

Licenses were issued to 2,345 students in the elementary schools and 297 in the four junior high schools.

The annual bicycle safety check program was sponsored by the Traffic and Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce with the co-operation of police and school officials. Chairman of the 1957 drive was Harold E. Brady.

The program was conducted in the elementary schools May 6-10 and in the junior high schools from May 13-17.

★ ★ ★

Bicycles now found by police without a license or with defective equipment could be impounded and parents of the child owning the bike could be fined, according to Lt. Clayton Randolph, traffic and safety bureau.

Public Invited to Tour Pontiac State Police Post

Sgt. Charles Mulick, commander of the Michigan State Police Pontiac Post, 2905 Dixie Highway, to the public to visit the post during the observance of Michigan Week, May 19-25.

★ ★ ★

According to Mulick, the best hours will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. The planned tours are directed at showing the public how the post operates and what fields of law enforcement it covers.

"Many people believe the State Police are strictly a highway patrol," said Mulick, "when actually we do general law enforcement. Much of our time is spend on criminal investigations and other matters not having anything to do with he highways."

★ ★ ★

Open house such as this will be held at every other state police post during the week.

3 County Youths Win Scholarships to MSU

Three Oakland County youths have won tuition scholarships to Michigan State University on the basis of their 4-H work and academic standings in high school.

Four-year scholarships, if they keep their college grades up, went to Edward Braid of Lake Orion and Kenneth Smith of South Lyons.

Bill Middleton of Lake Orion won a two-term short course scholarship.

Dispute Flares as TV Contestant Wins $73,500

NEW YORK (AP)—Medical expert Hank Bloomgarden broke a television quiz show deadlock with artist Jim Snodgrass last night and won $73,500. But his triumph was disputed.

Bloomgarden was declared champion on NBC-TV's "Twenty One" after he had tied with Snodgrass six times. That brought the 28-year-old medical research consultant's total winnings on the show to $126,000.

★ ★ ★

Snodgrass was asked to name the five groups of bones in the backbone. He was ruled out when he gave "sacrum" for the "sacral" group. The others are lumbar, thoracic, cervical and coccyx or coccygeal.

★ ★ ★

The producers of the show said they will decide later on whether Snodgrass was right or wrong.

Bloomgarden has two weeks to decide whether to try for more money or settle for the $126,000.

Probers Recall CAB Attorney

Witness Claims That He Was 'Trapped' in Earlier Appearance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators probing a government information "leak" today recalled Raymond Sawyer, a Civil Aeronautics Board lawyer who complained he was "trapped" in a previous appearance.

★ ★ ★

The investigations subcommittee is trying to determine who in CAB leaked the word after the board had voted secretly last Aug. 2 to let Northeast Airlines fly the lucrative New York-Miami route.

CAB Chairman James R. Durfee also was asked to testify about the possible need to tighten laws to prohibit leaks.

★ ★ ★

Sawyer has denied passing out the information which set off a burst of trading on the stock market Aug. 3 that sent Northeast prices soaring. The CAB decision was not announced until Aug. 10.

★ ★ ★

When he appeared before the subcommittee yesterday, Sawyer accused the group of having "trapped" him at the May 2 hearing. He said that at that time, the subcommittee barred him from the room during the testimony of Laurance Henderson, Washington representative for Fairchild Engine and Aircraft Co.

★ ★ ★

Sawyer said the subcommittee then allowed him to waive counsel without telling him of "evidence against me" from Henderson.

"At that moment I was being trapped, and I think unfairly," Sawyer said.

★ ★ ★

Subcommittee Chairman Jackson (D-Wash) replied that the record of the hearings will show whether there was any unfair trapping.

Last August, Sawyer was CAB's executive director. He now is associate director of the board's Bureau of Air Operations.

Career, Family Please Actress

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Greater love hath no TV star than to name her child after her show. And the fact that Gale Storm's 5-month-old daughter is named Susanna Bonell proves, first, that Gale likes her new show and, second, that she's married to a man named Bonell.

★ ★ ★

They're both successful, mind you, only with the public — the critics liked neither, but that didn't seem to stop the people from tuning in.

"I was never too successful in movies," she readily admits. "I spent six years with Monogram, doing musicals, comedy, heavy drama, everything.

"But I never went too far. I think — to be honest — that was because I never had great scripts."

THINKING BACK

★ ★ ★

"I'd almost forgotten about all this, but I got to a point where I was very discouraged. I wanted to quit. I had my family and I felt there was no point in getting upset about a career.

"But I relaved and stopped pushing and things worked out. Like the old saying, 'Let go and let God.' As soon as I let go, things worked out. 'Margie' came along.

"I know they were scraping the bottom of the barrel when they offered me the job—they'd offered the part to actresses who were hotter. But I took it.

★ ★ ★

Waterford Residents to Plan for Church

A meeting of Waterford Township residents interested in the new United Presbyterian church for the Jayno Adams School area will be held in the Jayno Adams School at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The purpose of the meeting is to make plans for the near future setting up a schedule of activities and other preliminary items, according to Rev. Donald Andrews, pastor.

Rev. Andrews has been appointed missionary-pastor, and a parsonage has been purchased on Clintonville and Lake Angelus roads.

The project is sponsored by the Community United Presbyterian Church of Drayton Plains and other United Presbyterian churches of Detroit Presbytery.

Sailors Get Psychology

OSLO (AP) — Norwegian merchant marine officers now must take a course in how to get along with their sailors. Ship owners hope short courses in psychology will help cut down the huge turnover of crews on Norwegian vessels.

Hal Boyle Says:

Belle of African Bush Somewhat of a Tomboy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—You might call Minrella Rocco, the belle of the African bush, something of a tomboy.

"I killed my first wild pig with a spear when I was 8, and didn't wear shoes until I was 11," said the white huntress. "But it wasn't until I was 15 that I bagged an elephant.

★ ★ ★

"It was the only one I shot, and the only one I ever want to.

"I was with my younger brother. I fired and hit this elephant, and a wounded elephant is a terrible thing.

"He turned and saw us, let out an ear-piercing scream and charged. He looked like a battleship. I shot him again, and he still kept coming.

"At 10 feet my brother and I both put bullets into him, and he collapsed only five feet from us, breaking his big ivory tusks as he fell. Each tusk weighed 90 pounds.

"I made a bracelet out of the hair from his tail. You always do that with your first elephant. The natives say it brings you good luck."

At 25 Miss Rocco has acted as cameraman, guide and hunter on more than 15 safaris, bagged herself three lions, two leopards, three buffalo and "an endless amount" of antelope.

★ ★ ★

"They won't license me as a professional hunter because I am a woman," she said with a slight note of annoyance.

A woman, yes, but as the French say, "quelle femme!" With an all-around Gal like Mirella on the Dark Continent, Tarzan must have been dumber than his ape buddies to waste his time on a pale weakling like Jane.

Mirella, daughter of an Italian rancher, is tall, bronzed, pretty. She has lion-colored eyes and a dark tangled of hair blonded on the tips by long hours in the sun.

★ ★ ★

She speaks English, Italian, French, German and three African tribal languages.

She has worked on safaris with half a dozen movie companies, and recently acted as stand-in for Donna Reed in the Columbia Pictures film, "Beyond Mombasa."

★ ★ ★

"The problem is to keep the car just ahead of the rhino," she said. "This one came to within a foot, and I could have reached out and patted him on his horn.

What would happen if the car stalled?

"The rhino would roll right over you and the car, and smash you up together," said Miss Rocco matter-of-factly.

"You wouldn't have time to shoot him. I never have wanted to shoot rhinos — they are so big, dumb, ugly and silly."

Mirella lives on a 3,500-acre ranch 75 miles from Nairobi in Kenya on the shores of Lake Nivasha. They have 1,000 acres in corn and alfalfa and 600 cattle.

"One of our problems is that there are 600 hippos in the lake," she said, "and at night they come out and eat our crops. One hippo can ruin an acre of alfalfa in a single evening, and we have to have night patrols to fire at them and drive them back into the lake."

★ ★ ★

During the Mau Mau peril Mirella said she sleptwith a pistol under her pillow for three years. Some of the 150 natives on their ranch joined the tribal upring, including one man who had been with her father for 25 years.

"We couldn't understand it," she recalled, "for my brother, sister and I had been raised with his children. One night he led an attack on our house, and I had to fire at him.

"He escaped. I believe I wounded him. But I was glad I hadn't killed him. I'd hate to kill a man."

The problem facing Mirella's parents is how are they going to keep her down on the farm—now that she's seen Paree, London, and New York. She says she doesn't want to settle down and marry a white hunter or an African rancher.

"I don't have any targets for the moment," she said frankly. "Id like to have a lot of kids, but not until I get the safaris out of my blood."

Security for You

Rich Men Also May Qualify for SS

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

Comedian Eddie Cantor and his wife, Ida, collected their first Social Security checks last month and hundreds of people have asked the Social Security offices: "How come?"

"After all," they say, "isn't Cantor fairly well off? Didn't he get paid $20,000 for a television broadcast in January? Does he need Social Security to live on?"

★ ★ ★

The misunderstanding is natural. Social Security has become extremely complex since it was started in 1937. And, understanding it then was no pushover.

Eddie and Ida Cantor's eligibility to payments involves two of the complexities: 1. The purpose of the Social Security program and, 2, how much a person can earn and still claim monthly checks.

PROVIDES CASH

The purpose of Social Security is to provide cash payments to people who meet certain eligibility requirements. They're never paid to a person just because he might need them to live on.

In general, eligibility to the payments involves a person's age, the length of time he or a close relative has been covered by the Social Security program and his earnings.

Thus, even a millionaire can collect the payments as long as he meets the requirements. And, so can Eddie and Ida Cantor.

The Social Security retirement age for men is 65. For women it's 62. Eddie was 65 in January. Ida is 64. Thus, they meet the age requirement.

Eddie must have worked under Social Security for at least 2½ years for him and Ida to be eligible for retirement payments. He's been working under the program—and paying Social Security taxes—since 1937. So, he meets this requirement.

How about the earnings requirement?

SPECIAL MEANING

First of all, "earnings" for Social Security purposes have a special meaning. "Earnings" are money received for work and not money received from investments, interest, pensions, annuities or similar payments.

And, there are four separate rules covering such "earnings" of a person who has reached Social Security retirement age:

1. A person may earn $1,200 or less for a full year and receive 12 monthly checks. However, for each $80 or fraction of $80 beyond $1,200 a person earns, he loses one monthly check.

2. Even if a person earns more than $1,200 in a year, he's entitled to a check for any month in which he doesn't earn more than $80. This is the rule covering Cantor's situation. He earned more than $80 in January, but during February and March he didn't earn $80 and is eligible for payments during those months.

3. Even if a person who works for himself makes more than $1,200 a year, he's eligible for a check for any month in which he didn't perform substantial services in his trade or business.

4. A person 72 or over has no limit on his earnings.

These rules are separate from each other and the Social Security people decide which to apply in each person's case so that the person will get the most payments.

Incidentally, the Cantors are donating their Social Security money to the Surprise Lake (Boys) Camp, Cold Spring, N. Y., where Cantor sang his first song 53 years ago.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

30 Years Ago Today 'Lucky Lindy' Landed in France

Lindbergh, a boyish 25-year-old, hadn't slept for two days. There are those who say Paris didn't sleep for a week after his 3,600-

The GIs who liberated Paris in 1944 have some idea of a wild celebration. But there were thousands of soldiers in 1944, and only one Lindbergh in 1927.

The crowds clamored for personal mementos of the epic flight and succeeded in hacking two large chunks out of his plane before the French mounted a round-the-clock guard at Le Bourget.

PARIS CROWDS JAM

In Paris, 10 miles away, thousands had jammed the Place de l'Opera for hours watching flickering lights spell out the news of Lindbergh's flight over Ireland, over England, and finally, over France.

Then shortly after 10:30, came the announcement, first in French then in English:

"Lindbergh arrived Le Bourget 10:19. Landed 10:23. Official. We confirm it. We confirm it. We confirm it.

There was a brief and dramatic silence. Then a roar went up that spread across Paris.

At Le Bourget, some newsmen had been waiting up to six hours and the only phone available was held down by AP Correspondent Sam Walder.

Out of luck for a phone, Henry Wales, Chicago Tribune correspondent, decided to stick close to the plane when it landed. He saw the tousled young pilot blinking at the crowd through the glass shield of the cockpit. Eager hands reached up and Lindbergh jumped out.

He was driven to the Paris residence of U.S. Ambassador Myron T. Herrick.

"I'm not sleepy at all," he said. "We could have gone 1,000 miles more, or at least 500," he said.

"What do you mean 'we'?" the reporters asked. "You were alone, weren't you?"

"Well, you know, the 'ship' was with me," Lindbergh replied. "I couldn't have gotten very far without it."
