U.S. Moves Fast to Push Charges Against Hoffa

Hope to Complete Case Tonight, Get Indictment on Bribery Count

WASHINGTON (INS)—The government moved at top speed today to obtain a quick grand jury indictment of Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa on bribery charges.

Government attorneys, charging Hoffa with offering a New York lawyer $18,000 to feed him secret Senate Labor Committee documents, hope to complete their case tonight at the end of the second day of hearings.

Hoffa, the heir-apparent to Teamsters President Dave Beck, was arrested in a Washington hotel Wednesday night and the FBI said committee documents were found in his possession.

They had been delivered, the government said, by committee investigator John C. Cheasty, who was reportedly working under FBI instructions.

Cheasty appeared before the grand jury yesterday but U.S. Attorney Oliver Gasch said Hoffa would not be presented except on the unexpected insistence of his attorney.

Hoffa faces a possible sentence of three years in jail and a fine of three times the bribe. He is free under $25,000 bond.

He protested innocence and vowed: "I will fight this case until I am cleared."

FISCHBACH CHARGED

Also charged with bribery was a former congressional investigator, Hyman I. Fischbach, 44, who, the government said, contacted Cheasty and directed him to Hoffa at the Teamsters' Detroit office. Fischbach, arraigned in Miami, was placed under $10,000 bond after waiving extradition to Washington. He vigorously denied the charges.

Hoffa's secretary, Mrs. Fred Dobresca, accused of maintaining the link with Cheasty, was put under $5,000 bond in Detroit as a material witness.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the rackets committee, said Hoffa was "originally scheduled as a witness but there are no plans to call him now" in view of the arrest.

The Arkansas Democrat said Hoffa "practically controls all transportation except railroads between the Atlantic Ocean and the Rocky Mountains."

Young Couple, Daughters and Babysitter in Bathtub Death

PARENTS AND SURVIVING DAUGHTER—Theodore and Mildred Tiernan, and Catherine.

PATRICIA — Drowned

BABYSITTER MADELINE ALLRED — Arrested in Jackson.

'Planned Killing for One Week,' City Girl Says

Roberta Sue Allred, 18, Held in Death of Baby, Patricia Tiernan, 2½

By PETE LOCHMILLER
The brutal details of the kidnap-slaying of a 2½-year-old Pontiac girl were contained today in the confession State Police attributed to an 18-year-old baby-sitter.

Found drowned in a bathtub at a Detroit hotel last night was Patricia Tiernan, daughter of Theodore W. Tiernan, 26, and his wife, Mildred, 23, of 36 Florence Ave.

The baby-sitter, Roberta Sue Allred, of 33 Gingell Ct. is held in Detroit Receiving Hospital for possible psychiatric examination and charges of murder.

Miss Allred, commonly known by the nickname "Madeline," was arrested yesterday afternoon for loitering outside Jackson Prison, where her brother, Frank, is an inmate.

Her seemingly unbelievable story led to the discovery of the dead child shortly after 11 p.m. ending a seven-hour, state-wide alarm concentrating in Pontiac.

The tomboyish baby-sitter, clad in blue jeans and bobbi-socks, had disappeared with the child sometime yesterday morning.

State police said the girl told them she took Patricia to Detroit and after wandering around the city, went to the hotel.

She told the manager she didn't have any money, but was tired and let her rest in a room.

DECIDES TO KILL
Police quoted her as giving this horrifying story:

"When I got to the room, I washed myself and then the baby. While I was washing her I decided to kill her."
"First I strangled her with a towel until her face turned blue. Then I held her head underwater for two hours to make sure she was dead."

The girl who obtained her job three weeks ago, added grimly: "I had been planning to kill her for about a week. I like to kill people."

The tragedy left the parents collapsed and sobbing wildly in each other's arms last night. During their long ordeal of waiting, they had learned the girl had a history of mental illness and was a habitual runaway.

Tiernan is an assembly worker at Fisher Body in Pontiac. His pretty, blonde wife is employed as a secretary at Clarke Oil Co., 659 Pershing Ave. Miss Allred had cared for Patricia and a younger child, Catherine, 11-months, five days a week.

House Committee Cuts Agency Requests

Budget Pared Half Billion

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House Appropriations Committee gave a spurt to the economy drive today by whacking more than a half billion dollars from 1958 spending plans of 18 government agencies.

The committee cut a total of $516,933,200—or almost 10 per cent—from the $5,406,201,700 President Eisenhower requested for the independent offices in the executive department.

Major victims of the lawmakers' ax were the Veterans Administration, the General Services Administration and the Civil Defense Administration. They suffered cuts totaling $462,000,000.

The bill now goes to the House, which so far has solidly backed the committee in its efforts to whittle down the President's record peace-time budget of $72,807,000,000.

The committee accused the VA of keeping some of its hospitals "too plush" and urged the agency generally to be more careful in how it administers its multi-billion-dollar benefit programs.

The agency was voted $4,682,705,300, a reduction of about 4 per cent in its requests. About three-quarters of the cut came out

Put Dems in School Posts, Williams Tells 162 Here

Gov. G. Mennen Williams this morning told a group of city and county Democrats that the future of education in Michigan hinged on the election April 1 of a six-person Democratic education slate.

"On our shoulders rides the future of a lot of young people in Michigan," Williams said in a breakfast at the Elks Temple here.

He praised the Democratic candidates for regents of the University of Michigan, Mrs. Irene E. Murphy, and Carl Brabner, superintendent of public instruction candidate Lynn M. Bartlett; Chris H. Magnusson, candidate for the State Board of Education; and Don Stevens and Jan B. Vanderploeg, running for State Board of Agriculture (governing body of Michigan State University).

Williams accused the Republicans of being "willing to forego the equitable corporation profit tax to sell our children down the river."

He said the GOP members in the Lansing Senate were fighting his recommendation that much needed supplements for education be taken from general funds. "This is the general Republican attitude on education," the Governor charged.

HERE'S A TEAM

"Here's a team to solve a very real problem," Williams said of the six, in the talk which kicked off a tour of Oakland County.

He told the gathering of 162 persons that "if it hadn't been for the Democrats the teachers wouldn't have received a $2,000 salary increase."

$300 in Pot-O-Gold Waiting for Winner

Another week without a Pot-O-Gold winner means that the puzzle appearing on page 31 is worth $300. That gives you several days to work on it, as the deadline for postmarking entries isn't until midnight Tuesday.

However, be sure your puzzle is definitely postmarked by then.

because those that arrive too late aren't even checked. No sense spending hours to solve the puzzle (even though it is a lot of fun) and then having it disqualified.

Answers for last week's puzzle appear on page 5. If you read the explanations carefully, you may get some ideas for the current Pot-O-Gold.

Judge Suggests Lovin' to Keep Traffic Movin'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Municipal Judge George N. Kiroff told a parent-teacher group at La-Grange School recently that squabbles at home cause men to become prone to traffic accidents.

On the theory that a good driver nowadays is hard to find, the judge recited a poem with a ring of plagiarism:

"Hug him every mornin',
"Kiss him every night,
"Give him plenty lovin',
"And he'll drive all right."

'Didn't Like Sitter' Is Neighbor's Report

By SYLVIA deSTEIGER
Mrs. Eileen Falls' first impression of Roberta Sue (Madeline) Allred hasn't changed.

"My impression when I first met the girl was that I did not like her," the neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Tiernan said today.

Mrs. Falls, who lives in the upstairs apartment of the Tiernan home, 36 Florence Ave., first discovered Patricia Tiernan and her teenage baby-sitter were missing yesterday.

Mrs. Falls trembled when she told that the same confessed kidnap killer had taken care of her two-and-one-half-year-old son Gary about one hour each morning for about two weeks at the same time she was taking care of the Tiernan children.

Mrs. Falls thought Madeline to be "very affectionate" with the children but she was sure the girl never fondled the children.

Her son Gary told her recently that the babysitter had spanked him for crying, and he didn't like her.

Mrs. Falls also said that Madeline replaced her regular babysitter on one occasion, and she was dissatisfied with her handling of the children.

Her children, Gary, Patty and Kathleen were all hungry and dirty when she returned, Mrs. Falls said, and apparently had lacked attention during the day.

"I guess you would call her a rattle-brain. She always acted like everything wasn't all there," Mrs. Falls commented.

Ape Is Finger-Painting Way to Matrimony

BALTIMORE (AP)—Betsy, the Baltimore Zoo's artistic chimpanzee, needs only $150 to complete her dowry.

The now-famous 7-year-old finger-painting ape has collected $500 from her art so far. When she has collected enough to purchase a boy friend, zoo director Arthur Watson said he will take Betsy to New York for a series of meetings with eligible bachelor chimps.

Severe Storms Hit Other Michigan Cities

Area Relaxes After Tornado Alert

Jittery Oakland County residents breathed easier this morning as the tornado warning was lifted for the Southeastern Michigan area and the high winds died down.

The tornado warning for the Detroit area was issued at 9:09 last night, but was canceled at 1 a.m. this morning.

The alert, however, sent county residents scurrying for home. A number of meetings adjourned hastily as members rushed from Pontiac to their homes in outlying communities.

Although no twisters developed, severe thunderstorm wracked the area and much of lower Michigan, including Bay City, Gladwin, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Jackson, Hillsdale and Ionia.

Glavin reported winds up to 70 miles an hour and Ionia had storm damage with trees and power lines blown down.

Other parts of the Midwest did report tornadoes. East central Illinois was struck and severe thunderstorms also occurred in sections of Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The turbulent winds followed an unseasonal spell of warm weather. The high yesterday was 67 in Pontiac, just one degree below the all-time local record for this date set in 1913.

A mass of cold air from the north and west caused the storms, bringing with it lower temperatures and snow.

Minnesota, Iowa, the Dakotas and Nebraska appeared the hardest hit by the late winter icy storms yesterday.

At least six deaths were attributed to blizzard conditions, four in Minnesota and two in Iowa.

The weatherman predicts dropping temperatures for Pontiac and vicinity today. It will be cloudy and windy with a high this afternoon of 36-40, and cloudy and colder tonight with a few snow flurries, low 22-26.

The winds are expected to diminish tonight.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and continued cold. A high of 29-32 degrees is forecast. Tomorrow night mostly fair and continued cold with a low 20-24.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. today was 36. At 1 p.m. the temperature was 36.

Water Proposal Brings Protests

Detroit Group Raises Objections; Hudson Is Confident of Solution

Possible passage of a bill proposed to make additional water supplies available to Oakland County was jarred slightly yesterday by objections from two Detroit representatives.

But Pontiac Rep. Leslie H. Hudson, who introduced the bill, expressed confidence that the objections can be "overcome" when the measure comes up for final reading next Tuesday.

Objections raised by the Detroit representatives, according to Hudson, were that Detroit didn't have an adequate water supply to care for its city customers.

The bill would allow a city, such as Detroit, to extend its water facilities into outlying communities and charge more than double what it charges its own water consumers.

Hudson said these charges would still be less than the total cost of water presently paid by many Oakland County consumers.

The second objection was that the representatives wanted to know what financial guarantee Detroit had if they built a supply line and pumping station to this area, and communities, like Pontiac, might switch to another supply source.

Hudson answered the second objection by saying that the negotiable contract would make the community financially responsible.

The bill would allow for more than doubling the rates, which would cover the costs for building extension of mains and pumping stations.

Hudson believes the bill is a step towards solving the dwindling water supply in Pontiac and in surrounding communities.

Committee Pares Budget Half Billion

tration—the government's house-keeping organization—was sliced from a request of $442,629,000 to $277,389,000.

The committee cut the civil defense supply program from $75,000,000 to $3,500,000.

It completely eliminated $6,300,000 asked for civil defense functions of federal agencies. Altogether the agency was voted $39,300,000 out of a request for $130,000,000.

Here is what other agencies asked and what the committee cut: Civil Service Commission, $22,924,000, $1,832,200; disaster relief, $10,000,000, nothing; Federal Communications Commission, $8,950,000, $650,000; Federal Power Commission, $5,900,000, $370,000.

Federal Trade Commission $6,250,000, $300,000; General Accounting Office, $37,000,000, $1,750,000; Housing and Home Finance Agency, $127,900,000, $8,255,000; Interstate Commerce Commission, $17,500,000, $1,000,000.

ADDITIONAL CUTS

National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, $115,284,000, $11,284,000; National Capital Housing Authority, $42,000, $2,000; National Science Foundation, $65,000,000, $25,000,000; National Security Training Commission, $750,000, $750,000.

Renegotiation Board, $3,400,000, $400,000; Securities and Exchange Commission, $7,178,000, $478,000; Selective Service System, $30,000,000, $3,000,000.

Nasser General to Govern Gaza

Egypt's Military Police Also Enter; No Action Yet From Israel

CAIRO, Egypt (U)—The might of Egypt was represented in the Gaza Strip today by a major general designated governor, 50 military policemen, 10 officers and 12 civilian officials.

Otherwise 2,600 U.N. troops still were the major military force in the disputed area following the arrival in Gaza City yesterday of the group sent by President Nasser to resume civilian control for Egypt.

There was no retaliation so far from Israel. Earlier, Premier David Ben-Gurion had served notice his government reserved its "freedom of action" if the Egyptians took back the Gaza Strip.

He said he would use "all political and security steps" to prevent the Egyptians' return.

The Israelis pulled out of Gaza last Thursday on the assumption the U.N. Emergency Force would exercise both military and civil control of the Mediterranean coastal area alongside Israel's Negab Desert.

The new Egyptian governor of Gaza, Maj. Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif, arrived last yesterday from Cairo with his 12-man escort.

U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander, already were in Gaza when the Egyptian party arrived.

The United States, meanwhile, tried to appease Israel for the failure to keep Egypt out of Gaza.

Cuban Rebels Expect Aid From South America

MEXICO CITY (INS)—An associate of Cuban rebel leader Fidel Castro says a 25,000-man army will march on Havana next month to oust President Fulgencio Batista.

Mexican security agents said the statement was made to them in a letter from Pedro Miret, a Cuban rebel who worked with Castro in Mexico before the latter returned to Cuba last December.

Miret's letter said former Cuban president Carlos Prío Socarrás is cooperating with Castro by recruiting soldiers throughout South America.

The latter claimed other forces would come from Mexico and from the Cuban people themselves.

Castro and Prío were blamed by the Batista government for the Wednesday uprising in Havana, but Miret attributed that trouble to elements of a group called Union Democratica Centro Americana.

There has been no apparent let-down in tourist activity or in Cuba's night life on an aftermath of the uprising, although the government is rounding up scores of Batista opponents.

Area Photographer Wins Global Honor

A Waterford Township photographer has been awarded one of the highest international honors accorded people in that profession.

Harold W. Sayles, 4431 Dixie Highway, was notified that his national award winning photograph will be among the 1,410 pictures accepted for display at the International Professional Photographers Convention to be held in Washington D. C., March 24-29.

The selection was made from more than 5,000 entries. Sayles' contribution to the exhibit is titled "The Girl," and is a portrait study of Jean Serravallo, 106 Augusta St., Waterford Township.

False Tranquility

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit Juvenile Judge Nathan J. Kaufman says extensive present day use of tranquilizer drugs will produce a large new group of emotionally unstable children.

Pontiac Babysitter Tells of Drowning Youngster

known, Tiernan was confused because the girl "had never" displayed anything unusual. The kids always seemed to be content with her," he said.

His wife, praying the worst would not happen, said the girl seemed to be good with the children. Mrs. Tiernan is expecting another child in July.

Miss Alfred is the daughter of Mrs. Lucille Alfred. The girl attended Baldwin Elementary School and then Lincoln Junior High School. She did not graduate.

Pontiac police confirmed she had a record as a runaway, but apparently had not been in trouble the last three years. Her statement continued this way:

After the slaying, the girl took a bus to Ann Arbor, where she met friends who drove her to Jackson.

Arrested for causing a disturbance in the prison lobby, she suddenly blurted out, "I killed a baby in Detroit today."

She continued calmly that she once had tried to kill her mother and a little boy in grade school. Later, the girl reportedly shredded the mattress of the bed in her temporary prison cell, tried to climb the bars of the door and shrieked wildly.

Police said she had spent time in California and Michigan mental institutions and had once assaulted a worker at Oakland County Children's home.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said if the girl is prosecuted, it probably will be in Detroit for murder. He added an investigation would be made to determine if a charge of kidnapping here would be possible as an alternative charge.

Patricia's body was to remain in Detroit until an autopsy is performed and then be returned to Pontiac. Funeral arrangements were pending at Grace-Smith Funeral Home.

When the horrible truth was known, the hidden motives underlying the crime continued to mystify Pontiac police. The outward series of events, however, seemed fairly well established.

They appeared like this:

At 7:30 a.m. Miss Alfred arrived as usual at her job. She was driven there by her mother, who continued on to Birmingham where she does house work.

Tiernan had already left for his 6 a.m. shift. Mrs. Tiernan said she noticed nothing unusual as she left the home and took a bus to work.

How soon afterwards the child and baby-sitter left was not immediately known.

FIRST HINT

The first hint occurred to Mrs. Eileen Falls, 28, who lives in the flat above the Tiernans.

Mrs. Fall noticed she didn't hear the customary sounds of television from downstairs. However, she was washing clothes and couldn't be sure.

At 9:30-10, Mrs. Alfred telephoned her daughter from work. There was no answer. She thought perhaps her daughter had taken the children upstairs to visit Mrs. Falls.

Mrs. Falls came downstairs to check the mail at noon. "There wasn't anything for the Tiernans," she said, "so I didn't stop in. But as I went by their door, I noticed it was quiet."

About 45 minutes later came the first realization that Miss Alfred and the little girl were gone from the house. Mrs. Falls came downstairs with her washing and knocked at the Tiernan front door.

She wanted Miss Alfred to babysit for her son, Gary, 2½, as she hung the clothes to dry.

The front door, as usual, was unlocked. Mrs. Fall found the front rooms empty. In the rear bedroom, the 11-month-old baby was playing unattended in its crib. Mrs. Falls took it upstairs.

When the baby-sitter and child had not returned by about 1:15 p.m., Mrs. Falls became worried enough to telephone Mrs. Tiernan at work.

DECIDE TO WAIT

They decided to wait awhile. There began a series of phone calls between the two women as anxiety mounted. At 3:30 Mrs. Tiernan returned home early from work.

Mrs. Falls once again had to announce there was no change. A half-hour later, the mother nervously telephoned police.

"I wasn't sure whether anything really was wrong. But I was getting very worried. My husband wasn't home and I thought I should let the police know."

Police took the call and began routine procedure. At 4:30, Tiernan drove as usual to the Clarke company to take his wife home. He was told she had already left.

About the time Tiernan arrived, the atmosphere at the police station had changed.

Dets. Robert Emery and Orville Johnston had started work on the afternoon shift and were assigned to the case.

Emery was worried. He knew

Miss Alfred and her past record. "I lived next door to the Alfreds in 1931," he said, "I remember Madeline was getting into trouble even then."

"She was 12 years old and already a habitual runaway. She was involved in some thefts, too—petty stuff, I don't know whether she has a police record for that."

"By the time she was 15-16, Madeline had a reputation for having travelled all over the country."

Giving the worried young couple assurances, Emery and Johnston began a check of all public places in Pontiac.

SEARCH CITY

Uniformed police joined in the search of restaurants, theaters, bars, stores and the Greyhound Bus Station. Greyhound city bus drivers were queried as well as taxi-cab drivers.

No leads turned up. At 7:38 the first state-wide teletype was sent out to all law enforcement agencies, giving a full description of Miss Alfred and Patricia.

As the search continued, the Tiernans could only wait at home, comforting each other as the hours dragged out.

Less than an hour before the dreaded truth was known, the young mother was sitting up in her night clothes, bravely fighting back tears.

TELLS OF HIRING

She told of hiring the girl. "She seemed alright to me. Her mother came to the interview with her. Neither of them said anything about the girl being in trouble before or being mentally disturbed."

"If they had, we wouldn't have trusted our children with her and this would never have happened," she related.

Tiernan explained his family had rented the home a little more than a month. "In a way," he said, "we were just really getting started."

Mrs. Tiernan, a native of Georgia, had been working 10 months to increase the family income. Tiernan, who originally is from Munising, has worked at Fisher Body approximately two years. He served seven years in the Navy.

They were married in Munising 3 years ago and lived at 355 S. East Blvd. when first in Pontiac.

Holding little Kathleen in her arms, Mrs. Tiernan said with tears, "All I want is Patty back home safe and sound."

Another person was bravely waiting. Mrs. Alfred tried to conceal her inner worry.

"Madeline ran away a lot of times, that's true," she admitted, "but she's never been in any real trouble. She's never suffered from amnesia or anything like that. Frankly, I just don't know what this is all about."

She defended her daughter and would not reveal many facts about the girl or her habit of running away.

"She just up and left when she wanted to—you couldn't stop her. Then when she came back she wouldn't tell much about what had happened. I guess girls nowadays are like that."

Mrs. Alfred said Madeline's father had left her shortly after the girl's birth. The mother was married a second time and now is separated.

Madeline has two older sisters, neither at home, the mother said. "I don't really want to talk about it," Mrs. Alfred said. What really worried her was the possibility both Madeline and the baby would come to harm.

"I've waited all night and there doesn't seem to be anything I can do. The best thing probably would be to go to bed and get a good night's sleep."

Her plans were interrupted when police arrived 1½ hours later to break the tragedy.

State Senate Gets Police Hours Bill

LANSING (U)—The Senate today took over a bill to let policemen initiate a public vote on putting them under a 40-hour work week.

The measure won 60-35 approval in the House yesterday over objections that it tended to usurp "home rule" rights of local governments.

Somewhat watered down from its original version, the bill would authorize policemen in cities of over 10,000 population to initiate a referendum on the 40-hour week if at least 51 per cent of department employees request a vote.

If the proposal failed to win public favor, it could not be voted on again for four years.

Dairy Farmers Threaten Strike

800 Meet in Lansing, Give State Co-op Assn. Right to Bargain

By LEE WINBORN

Threat of a possible milk strike loomed greater today as a result of action taken yesterday by some 800 dairy farmers meeting in East Lansing.

At a session called by the Dairy Farmers Cooperative Assn. of Michigan, the farmers unanimously adopted a "strike action" resolution.

In it, approval was given to the DFC to "fight for a collective bargaining contract with the dairies," as outlined by organizational Director Homer Martin.

In their demands, presented to the Borden Co., the dairy farmers co-op asked recognition as the bargaining agent for shippers.

FAVOR STATE FARMERS

The delegation further asked that, if handlers needed more milk, they not go out of state to get it, but give present shippers the opportunity to supply it first.

They further asked the company to restore the $3.35 price per hundredweight for class I drinking milk.

Farmers are getting $4.90 per hundredweight for bottled milk as a result of agreements made March 1 between the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. and the creameries. On May 1 the price will drop to $4.65 per CWT according to the present agreement.

Ground Search Ordered for Missing Bruce Cope

DETROIT (INS)—Redford Township Police Chief Christopher Nielsen today ordered complete ground search near the home of Bruce Cope, 2½, who has been missing since Tuesday.

Nielsen said he was not "entirely satisfied" that the boy drowned in the Rouge River, as first believed.

Bruce disappeared from the backyard of his home, which is located near the river. A small set of footprints were found near the river's edge and dragging operations were launched, but they have failed to uncover the body.

The Day in Birmingham

Set Weight Restrictions on 'Controlled' Streets

BIRMINGHAM—The city's customary and temporary weight restrictions are going into effect here, continuing until such time as frosts are wholly gone from the ground and the natural settling has passed.

Commissioners have approved the list of "controlled" streets prepared by the city manager's staff.

Maximum axle limits of 3,000 pounds, which in effect prohibits all truck traffic will be enforced on all, or parts, of the following streets:

Redding, Raynald, Brookwood, Kenwood, Melborne, Pine, Wintrop, Fairview, Westwood, Glenhurst, Lyonhurst, Kimberley, Chesterfield, Fairfax, Suffield, Pilgrim, Puritan, Lake Park, Westchester, Hillside, Fairway, Arden Lane, Greenlawn, Golfview.

Others are Pleasant, Northlawn, Latham, Canterbury, Norfolk, Worthington, Southlawn, Wakefield, Shephardbush, Tottenham, Abbey, Henley, Wimbledon, Putney, Warwick, Oxford, Poppleton and Twin Oaks Lane.

NO DEFINITE DATE

"We cannot give a definite closing date for these restrictions," Robert Kenning, assistant city manager, said, "because there is no way we can forecast how quickly the frost will leave the ground and the danger point pass. We will lift them just as soon as our street department considers it safe."

Birmingham Rotarians will conduct their annual street sale of Easter lilies from 8:30 a.m. until noon on Good Friday.

Commissioners approved the sale this week, proceeds of which go to the club's crippled children fund.

No date has been set for the erection of plaques in St. James and Booth parks, but preliminary plans for the ceremonies are under way.

Commissioners have suggested that special invitations be sent to persons, or families, of those influential in the establishment of the two parks. It was suggested, too, that both ceremonies be held the same day, spaced about an hour apart.

Roy Fred Rogers, 59, of 831 Wallace St. Birmingham, is in serious condition in William Beaumont

Hospital from injuries received when his car crashed into another early this morning.

According to Southfield Township Police, "John Gary Stanley, 59, of 414 Arlington St., Birmingham was driving north on Southfield Road, south of 13 Mile road, when he saw Rogers car pull out of his lane and come toward him." Stanley said he tried to avoid Rogers' car but could not.

Police say they think Rogers fell asleep at the wheel. Stanley was also taken to the hospital and later released. Police said that Stanley's car is a total wreck.

Birmingham High School student publication, "The Highlander," has received a second place award in the annual ratings of the Columbia Scholastic Press Assn. The association is sponsored by Columbia University and grades students newspapers and magazines each year on their content, makeup, headlines and other phases. The awards were announced at the association's 33rd annual convention.

Receiving a first place award in its division was "The Crane," of Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills.

No Endorsement of Fire Alarms

Waterford Firemen Say Device Sold to Homes Not City-Approved

Waterford Township Fire Chief Edward Smith said today the local fire department is not endorsing any type of home fire alarm system being sold by door-to-door salesmen.

Smith said that residents have been making inquiries and complaints about a home fire alarm company's salesmen literally swarming over the area since the last weekend's record breaking fire calls.

Some of the salesmen are dressed in uniforms similar to those worn by Waterford Township firemen, Smith said. Although so far, no resident has made a formal complaint, many calls are coming in at the three township stations daily.

Chief Smith said, "Nothing can be done about stopping these salesmen from selling their fire alarm systems. However, Waterford Township firemen are not connected in any way with promoting or selling fire equipment of any kind."

All white-collar workers are puzzled by one great mystery — how they can be so smart and yet have such stupid bosses... Many a husband who says his wife came crawling to him on her knees didn't explain that she said, "Come out from under the table, you rat!" — Earl Wilson.

Tranquilizers May Answer Problems of Modern Tensions, If Properly Used

DETROIT (U. S. — Tranquilizing drugs, says a University of Michigan psychiatrist, may be the answer to the problems of modern-day tension.

But, said Dr. James G. Miller yesterday at a meeting of the Michigan Clinical Institute, much still is unknown about the way they work.

While citing studies that showed meprobamate, one of the most widely used tranquilizers, free of adverse effect on human behavior, Dr. Miller cautioned against over-enthusiasm and indiscriminate use. He said there still was "need" for more information.

Dr. Miller said tests showed that a normal dosage of meprobamate has no effect on driving ability or on the conditioned response of animals. Other tranquilizers, however, were reported to affect behavior in these circumstances, he said.

Tranquilizers have been prescribed by doctors since mid-1954. They are designed to relieve mental tension and relax muscles without the ill-effects of narcotics. In more potent forms they are used in the treatment of mental disorders. (Miltown and equanil are two common brand names for meprobamate).

Two other members of the University of Michigan School of Medicine spoke on tranquilizers.

Dr. Raymond H. Waggoner, chairman of the Department of Psychiatry, said tests of 13 tranquilizers being used today, including chlorpromazine, reserpine and meprobamate, the three most widely used, showed only meprobamate has no reported "contra-indications." This, he said, indicated that is the only one of the leading tranquilizers that may be given in the presence of any disease or condition.

Dr. R. W. Gerard, Professor of Neurophysiology in the Department of Psychiatry, described tranquilizers of the types exemplified by chlorpromazine, reserpine, azocyclonol and hydroxyzine as most effective in the treatment of psychoses, and meprobamate of greatest value in "the larger population of neurotic and tense individuals."

Dr. Gerard said that the National Institute of Mental Health, in collaboration with the National Academy of Sciences and American Psychiatric Assn., is conducting a series of studies on the tranquilizers.

Dr. Miller said there is no evidence that tranquilizers sold for common nervousness have an adverse effect on morals or the will of a patient.

He added that "What we still don't know is whether heavy doses over a period of time will induce a laziness that is not normal."

The Michigan psychiatrist said statistics showed that last April some of every 20 Americans was taking tranquilizers. He said more than a billion tablets have been sold since they were marketed nationally 2½ years ago.

Dr. Miller said tranquilizers have no effect on persons who do not need them and they won't work for everybody.

He termed their development "one of the most important in medicine."

GOP House Support for School Aid Weak

LANSING (U. S. — Chances of a Republican push in the House for a 20-million-dollar emergency appropriation for state school aid were fading rapidly today.

And if one comes, it will be wrapped up in a single package with some "nuisance" tax proposals to raise an equivalent amount of new revenue under a caucus understanding reached yesterday.

Speaker George M. Van Pelt said after the majority caucus that agreement had been reached on the principle that any proposal advanced for supplying more school cash would be accompanied by a tax measure.

Van Pelt said no specific amount and no specific companion tax proposals were discussed in the GOP House meeting.

In response to questions, however, he said that backers of more money for schools have been considering some new form of tax on whisky, and doubling the beer tax as two possibilities.

Skipper for Ike Is Capt. Mauro

Canberra Commander
on Cruise to Bermuda
Is Fluent Linguist

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS Service

The burly, dark-browed naval officer who skips President Eisenhower to Bermuda speaks Spanish and Italian fluently—and English with an accent difficult to define.

He is Capt. Charles T. Mauro, USN, commander of the guided missile cruiser Canberra, aboard which Eisenhower sailed Thursday night from Norfolk, Va., for his conference with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Mauro is a native of Charleston, S.C., and a graduate of Charleston's schools, but his accent is not precisely southern. It stems in part from his Italian forebears, and in part it is peculiar to Charlestonians.

Now 50 years old, Mauro is the son of Charles T. and Mrs. Rosa Verdi Mauro.

He received his appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy in 1926.

Associates in the Navy are agreed that Mauro received his present choice of missile cruisers—because of the excellence of his handling of a number of administrative posts.

He missed most of the fighting in the Pacific during World War II because he was ordered back to Washington to administer continental naval ammunition depots, from mid-1943 to mid-1945. For that job, and for an earlier analysis of the accuracy of naval anti-aircraft fire, he received combination ribbons.

Mauro made good use of his knowledge of the Spanish and Italian languages as Assistant U.S. Naval Attaché in Rome from 1945 to 1950.

He received his present command late in 1955, when the Canberra was undergoing a multi-million-dollar conversion to enable it to fire 15-foot-long anti-aircraft guided missiles in defense of aircraft carriers.

Mauro still maintains a home in Charleston. His wife is the former Margaret Elizabeth White of that city. The Mauros have three children—two daughters and a son.

A Netherlands government commission has decided that scheduled helicopter service should not yet be started there, The Hague reports. "Copters are not yet sufficiently technically advanced," it was determined.

Hoffa Portrait for Orphans or Rogues Gallery?

NEW YORK (AP)—A committee of union leaders was reported today to have been "busy passing the hat" for a life-size portrait of James R. Hoffa at the time the Teamsters Union leader was arrested on charges of tampering with a Senate committee.

The New York Times told the story this way:

Last week, the committee sent letters to hundreds of leaders of labor and industry announcing that it had engaged Nicholas A. Volpe, a Hollywood artist, to do an oil painting of Hoffa, who was arrested in Washington Wednesday night.

The portrait project was an aftermath of a $100-a-plate dinner given in Hoffa's honor in Detroit last April. The dinner raised $268,625 for building a "Jimmy Hoffa children's home" in Israel.

Then some of Hoffa's right-hand men in the Central States Conference of the Teamsters Union figured it would be nice if the Israeli orphans could have a portrait of their benefactor from across the seas beaming down on them.

The Jimmy Hoffa Portrait Committee came into being, and it enlisted the sponsorship of officials of unions that depend heavily on the Teamsters for assistance in organizing.

The Hoffa men sent out an appeal for "financial help from our friends to defray the cost of this worthwhile project."

A sketch of Hoffa—"smiling benevolently, in a fluted gold frame"—was at the top of the appeal letter.

Freight Trains Do Not Observe Traffic Signals

LOS ANGELES (AP)—While George John Ward honked and honked his horn, hoping to get the motorist ahead to turn around and size up the situation, a Southern Pacific freight train bore down on Ward's truck and trailer and demolished them.

Ward told police he couldn't get off the tracks because the motorist in front of him calmly waited for a traffic signal to change. He paid no attention to Ward's horn and shouts. When the signal changed, the unidentified motorist ahead drove away as if nothing had happened.

Ward was treated for head cuts.

Hal Boyle Says:

Mitchum Voices 'Ambition' to Loaf

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Mitchum has an unusual ambition for an actor. He doesn't want to play Hamlet. He doesn't want to be a director or a producer. He doesn't want to have the world of television at his feet. He simply wants to be the laziest man on earth—if you take what he says seriously, which might be a mistake. "I just hang around the house until I go broke," he said, "and then I go to work."

He is resting up after completing a 20th Century-Fox film, "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," in which he plays a Marine stranded behind Japanese lines with a nun—Deborah Kerr. Despite his pretense of laziness, Mitchum has played in more than a hundred pictures in 15 years, including eight Hopalong Cassidy epics. Before that he had been an amateur hobo, a professional fighter, a writer, and an aircraft factory worker. He said the aircraft job left him with an allergy to metal, and the Hopalong Cassidy films an allergy to horses.

Mitchum, who has been called "the unspoiled savage" and who has never let Hollywood go either to his head or his stomach, says this is why he went into the movies: "I don't like people telling me, 'Do this or else.' This is the only business I've found where you can get by with my attitude. You can remain an individual in the movies—but the price sometimes seems high."

"I'm probably afraid of everything," he said, "but so far I haven't found time to sit down and discover it. The only thing I'm afraid of is"—he yawned—"that I'm not getting enough sleep."

"Do I exercise to keep fit? Sure. I try to breathe regularly."

But no one can say the guy isn't responsible in his own way. He's had the same wife for nearly 17 years. He's buying annuities for his three children.

"I think every kid ought to be taught in kindergarten," he said, "that it's impossible to please

Dredge Project to Begin Soon

Great Lakes Channels to Be Enlarged to Allow Any Ocean Vessel

DETROIT (AP)—Col. Peter C. Hyzer says the 136 million dollar dredging project on the Great Lakes connecting channels will get under way soon and is expected to be completed in 1962.

The district engineer of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers told the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers the project is designed to accommodate the larger, faster and more economical ore and other bulk carriers now being added to the Great Lakes fleet.

The 27-foot minimum depth to which the channels will be dredged, Col. Hyzer said, "will accommodate ocean vessels of any size entering the lakes via the St. Lawrence Seaway, and enable lake ports west of Toledo to develop fully their opportunities for expanding foreign trade."

Without the connecting channels project, the full benefits of the 27-foot seaway project could not be extended west of Lake Erie, because of navigation bottlenecks.

Col. Hyzer said channels to be deepened are the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair River, connecting Lakes Erie and Huron, and the St. Marys River, connecting Lake Huron and Superior.

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Robert Woods recently went back to his home town of Hershey, Pa., and got engaged to Audrey Stump. His fiancée's mother's name before she married was Root. Any offspring are sure to be chips off the old block.

Question Horse Repair

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Board of Education decided to look further into an expense account that read: "Recover two horse bodies, Roosevelt Junior High School, $100." It found the bill was for repairing two leather gym horses.

Do Athletes Die Sooner?

EAST LANSING (AP)—Do athletes burn themselves out and die young? Or do they live longer than non-athletes? They do neither, according to findings of a research team at Michigan State University.

Athletes live just as long and die from the same causes as non-athletes, reported Drs. Henry J. Montoye and Wayne D. Vanhuse, associate professors of health, physical education and recreation.

The researchers also reported they found no significant difference in the number of former college athletes who died from heart diseases as compared to non-athletes.

COMPARE GROUPS

The study, now in its seventh year, compared what happened to 628 lettermen in various sports after they left MSU with 563 non-athletes. All graduated before 1937.

Of those now dead, it was found that the average age of former athletes was 73.5 compared with 74.3 for the non-athletes. However, excluding accidental deaths, the average longevity of both groups was the same at 74 years.

Although primarily concerned with longevity, the researchers turned up some other pertinent facts.

MORE SMOKERS

The percentage of drinkers and smokers was found to be higher among former athletes than non-athletes.

Some 68 per cent of the former athletes were smokers compared to 60 per cent of the non-athletes. The percentage of drinkers was 77 per cent among the former athletes and 66 per cent for non-athletes.

Both favored marriage with about 97 per cent of each group taking the step.

Information for the survey was obtained from athletes, their relatives and various records. The researchers said this was a pilot study which they hope will be extended to a national project taking in some 25 colleges and universities.

Ships May Steam Into Lakes Early

DETROIT (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp. states that improving ice conditions on the lower Great Lakes may permit one of the earliest season openings in history for the steamships of its Bradley Transportation Line, operated by the Michigan Limestone Division.

C. F. Beukema, division president, estimated the first of Bradley's nine limestone carriers may clear its winter layup near Rogers City as early as next Wednesday.

Bradley fleet operations started March 21 last year. An annual meeting of senior officers of the Bradley line would up at Bay City today with an inspection of the former ore carriers.

To Open Dublin's Wing for Inspection Monday

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The new wing which has been added to Dublin school will be open to the public for inspection Monday evening. An "open house" period will begin at 7 p.m., an hour prior to the start of the regular monthly PTA program.

In issuing an invitation to interested persons, Supt. William VanderVen said the wing includes five classrooms, Arts and Crafts room, a boys' locker and shower room, a lounge for teachers, an office for the school principal, a conference room and general administrative offices.

The addition, third since 1949, was completed at a total cost of $161,337.61. It will house 180 junior high school students.

Located at 9260 Sandusky, just a few blocks from Union Lake Village, Dublin school has experienced growing pains with the ever-increasing population in White Lake Township.

There are now 825 elementary and junior high school pupils enrolled at the school. The new addition satisfies current requirements, VanderVen said.

County Deaths

ALBANY — Service for Mrs. Fred (Clara) Hart, 67, of 611 N. Main St., who died suddenly at her home last night, will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, from Muir Brothers Funeral Home in Albany.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters Mrs. Walter Striber of Rochester and Mrs. Edmond Shoff of Armada, three sons Clarence and Donald of Albany and Robert of Grand Rapids. One brother George Stamman of Imay City, six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren also survive.

CLARENCE DALGLEISH, OXFORD — Arrangements are pending at Bossard-Mabley Funeral Home, here, for Clarence Dalgleish, 3993 Lakeville Rd., Oxford, who died suddenly today in Grayling.

Mr. Dalgleish is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lulu Walton of Red Oak and Mrs. Dorothy Walton of Flint; three sons, Ellis, Clarence Jr. and Gordon, all of Oxford; 25 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Slate Town Board Date

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Because of a change in the state law during the past year, the annual township meeting will be held Saturday, March 30, at 2 p.m. in West Bloomfield Town Hall, 4460 Orchard Lake Rd. Frank Hallett, township clerk, has announced the meeting date.

EDUCATORS TO SPEAK — A panel from the Oakland County Board of Education will be guests of the Oakland County Council PTA at Farmington Jr. High School, Farmington, on Tuesday night. This group of specialists in the training of handicapped children will acquaint the audience with facts and stories concerning these children and the program that is available to them. All area PTA groups are invited to attend and bring friends. Pictured (l. to r.) are panelists Dr. Paul Thams, director special education; Mrs. John Wilson, hearing consultant, and Howard Morgan, psychologist. Frieda Huggett of Waterford Township Schools (not shown) will serve as moderator.

Virginia Slaybaugh Wed South Lyon Ceremony

SOUTH LYON — Virginia Slaybaugh became the bride of Robert W. Bennett on March 9 at an 8 p.m. Presbyterian ceremony here. Rev. Lewis E. Bender performed the candlelight service before 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Slaybaugh of Ten Mile road here and Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bennett of Joy road in Ann Arbor.

An ankle-length bridal gown was worn, and featured net over satin with a lace panel in front. Fingert sleeves and veil completed the dress. A lace cap trimmed with pearls was the headpiece. A cascade bouquet of white roses was carried by the bride.

Nelly Ann Sweet of South Lyon attended as maid of honor with Arline Budnik of South Lyon and Bonnie Jean Crumka of Detroit as bridesmaids. The flower girl was Sandra Brown and is from Farmington.

Eisenhower Chooses Lapeer Man

U. S. Marshall Nominated

Former Lapeer County Sheriff Clark W. Gregory, a veteran of the famed farmer eviction battles, was nominated by President Eisenhower yesterday to be U. S. Marshal for Eastern Michigan.

Gregory, a Republican, was named for a four-year term.

Appointed sheriff in 1952 when his predecessor declined to carry out evictions, Gregory was mauled by a group of angry farmers as he sought to evict an aged widow.

The widow and several other farmers in the area had lost their farms when they refused to pay assessments levied following the failure of the insurance firm, and its subsequent receivership.

Detroit's Clayton C. Gilliland is serving a 4½-year sentence in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson for his part in conspiring to obstruct justice in the widow eviction scuffle.

Gregory refused to run for office last year.

Group to Sponsor Legion Dinner Dance

ROCHESTER — Homer Wing Post No. 172 of the American Legion will sponsor a legion post birthday dinner dance on Saturday at the Legion hall on West Fifth street. The Blue Star Mothers plan to serve the dinner with Fred S. Galloway director of the Oakland County Veterans affairs speaking after dinner. The Wilnot Bits-O-Rhythm will furnish music for dancing. The public is invited.

The national Capitol building covers about three and one-half acres.
