Atom Pool Plan May Get Priority on U. N. Agenda

U. S. Pushes Program, Hopes to Have It on List for Next Week

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States put a priority tag on the Eisenhower atom-for-peace plan today as the U. N. General Assembly met to add the question to its work program.

An American source said the U. S. delegation would ask the Assembly's 60-Nation Political Committee early next week to make the plan its first order of business.

The source described it as a natural to open the committee debates, beginning probably the middle of next week.

Discussion of the plan got a surprising assist yesterday from the Soviet. Russia's Andrei Vishinsky not only insisted in the Steering Committee that the atom item go on the Assembly agenda, but called for a unanimous vote in recommending its consideration.

Vishinsky denied U. S. statements that the Soviet Union had rejected the atom pool plan, proposed by President Eisenhower last December in a speech to the U. N. Vishinsky said the Kremlin wished to resume talks on the idea.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles presented a further four-point study and training plan to the Assembly Thursday, which emphasized atomic power techniques and methods of fighting cancer. He said the United States and other countries would develop the program even if Russia refused to cooperate.

Vishinsky, hinting at a tack he may take in committee debates, said the atom pool idea would not solve the question of atomic weapons.

He called again for a ban on the use of mass destructive weapons but gave no indication whether the Soviet Union would insist on such a ban as a prior condition to joining the U. S.-sponsored pool.

Today's Assembly session was called to approve the 67-item agenda so the seven committees can begin organizing and get to work.

Tragedy Hits Again in Hartley Family

WASHINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Three-year-old Shirley Ann Hartley, sister of the two-headed boy whose birth last December created a worldwide sensation, suffered fatal burns in a bonfire at her parents' home yesterday.

The little girl suffered third-degree burns over most of her body at the family home at Petersburg. She died in Davies County Memorial Hospital here, the hospital in which the two-headed boy was born.

Delaware Town Awaits Race Solution on Monday

MILFORD, Del. (AP)—Mayor Edward C. Evans hoped for continued peace in this tense town today—but with his "fingers crossed"—as the issue of racial integration in the local high school awaited settlement.

This southeastern Delaware community of 5,700 appeared quiet on the surface. But everywhere the conversation eventually turned to the biggest question posed here in more than a half century: Shall eleven Negro pupils be allowed to continue their studies at the previously all-white high school when classes resume Monday?

And the question provoked many answers, with the town folk taking sides in a battle, at least for the present, of words.

Mayor Evans said he's got his "fingers crossed" that it will stay peaceful. I certainly hope that everyone will think about the situation and consider the fact that violence will solve nothing.

Evans' statement followed a strongly worded stand by Gov. J. Caleb Boggs who yesterday called on Milford residents to obey the law, as set down in a U. S. Supreme Court decision declaring segregation in schools unconstitutional, and to allow the Negro children to attend the school.

There were reports last night that a mass meeting was planned to announce opposition to the integration plan. The meeting failed to develop although it was understood some leaders of the anti-integration movement had conducted a private law.

Time 'Decision Confuses Airline

CONFUSION TIME—Northeast Airlines Steward, Jean Vinal has reason to look perplexed at a route map of New England. Starting tonight, most of the area is going to be out of step with the rest of the country on what time of day it is. Most of New England, with the exception of Connecticut, is staying on daylight time for another month. The question mark represents Vermont which is still trying to untangle itself with different sections on different times.

Battle Continues Despite Storm

Near-Typhoon Winds Churn Formosa Strait During Gun Duels

TAIPEH (INS)—Winds of near-typhoon force interrupted the Formosa Strait warfare Friday night after a day of fresh air strikes in which the Nationalists claimed they sank five Red gunboats and crippled two others.

Big guns on the Nationalist outpost island of Quemoy, eight miles off the Communist mainland coast, continued their roaring duels with Red artillery on nearby Amoy and other islands as the windstorm churned the 100-mile-wide strait.

In the Nationalist capital of Taipei, meanwhile, free China's chief military spokesman, Lt. Gen. Chang Yi-Ting, scoffed at renewed threats by Red Premier Chou En-Lai to "liberate" Formosa Island and "drive off" the U. S. Seventh Fleet.

Chang branded Chou's warlike statement, broadcast by Peiping, "foolish propaganda and the same old stuff."

Chang's remarks were followed by another Peiping broadcast quoting Red China's acting general staff chief, Nieh Jung-Chen, as saying the Communist "liberation army" will seize Formosa and "wipe out the group of Chiang Kai-Shek traitors."

In the 22nd day of China's miniature civil war, Nationalist planes dealt new blows to Red shipping and shore installations along the mainland coast Friday night.

A Taipei air force communique said F-47 thunderbolt fighter-bombers unleashed three attacks on a Communist naval formation off Fusan, 40 miles southwest of Quemoy.

Union and Square D Firm in Marathon Talk Session

DETROIT (INS)—Union and company negotiators in the 102-day-old Square D strike remained locked early today in a marathon bargaining session that began at 10 a.m. yesterday.

While the talks were in progress, the International CIO-United Auto Workers entered the dispute officially for the first time with a four-point proposal aimed at hastening settlement of the walkout.

Censure Report Held in Secrecy

Sen. Watkins Guards Verdict on McCarthy Until Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special Senate investigating committee took elaborate precautions today to guard the secrecy of its 60,000-word verdict on censure charges against Sen. McCarthy.

A few details about the general makeup of the report came to light, but the key question was still under wraps: Do the unanimous findings declare for or against the controversial Wisconsin Republican?

Senate leaders yesterday unveiled plans for a politically explosive pre-election Senate session on the censure move. They agreed, instead to hold off the start of the session until Nov. 5, the week after the Nov. 3 nationwide congressional elections.

The date was fixed as the investigating committee, headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), completed what Watkins announced was a unanimous report of findings on a censure resolution by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) and 46 supporting charges.

The charges were filed at McCarthy by Flanders and Sens. McCarthy (D-Ark.) and Morse (Ind-Ore). They accused him of misconduct including contempt of the Senate, slurring fellow senators, abusing an Army general, and illegal use and solicitation of secret government documents.

Watkins and his five fellow committee members ordered the verdict made public Monday, but took extraordinary precautions meanwhile against any "leak" as to its contents.

Watkins said no committee member has retained a copy of the report. No copy has been given to McCarthy or anyone else, and that he feels "very certain" no member would give even a hint in advance to anyone about the nature of the finding.

Wouldn't Los Angeles Like Pontiac Weather?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles citizens faced another smoggy time today after an attack of the eye-irritating stuff yesterday was termed the worst of the year.

One superior judge adjourned his court in the Civic Center yesterday because of the discomfort, and citizens were coughing and wiping their eyes most of the day. The smog clouds rolled in early and then spread to foothill communities.

Smog and fog cut visibility at the Los Angeles International Airport and no planes were allowed to land until 11 a.m.

U. S. Asks $26 Pay

WASHINGTON (INS)—The U. S. formally demanded today that Soviet Russia pay damages of $1,620,295 for the shooting down of an American B29 bomber off Hokkaido, Japan, on Oct. 7, 1952. The U. S. note was delivered at the Soviet foreign office in Moscow by Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen.

GOP Campaign Planned Early, Say Ike's Aides

To Start Easy, Increase to Climax; Stevenson in Indianapolis Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Aides to President Eisenhower say the step-up in Eisenhower's personal campaign for a Republican Congress was planned long ago and it doesn't mean that GOP concern about the Nov. 2 election has increased.

At the summer White House in Denver, aides said Eisenhower's most forceful pronouncement of the burgeoning campaign Thursday night at Los Angeles was dictated by a plan to start GOP vote-seeking at an easy pace, gradually bringing it to a climax.

Democrat Adlai Stevenson took note last night of Eisenhower's larger role in the campaign and contended the President is pleading for a Republican Congress "to save the Republican party."

Stevenson, who'll address a Democratic rally at Minneapolis tonight, told an Evansville, Ind., audience that Eisenhower is saying, in effect, "give me a Republican Congress to do what we couldn't do with a Republican Congress."

"The nation can't be saved that way," Stevenson said.

For the GOP, House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts was in Pueblo, Colo., last night. He said voters must decide whether they want Eisenhower's legislative program "sabotaged and ripped to shreds" by a Democratic Congress.

Vice President Nixon will return to the fray Tuesday for a second major speaking tour that will take him into five northeastern states.

Stevenson spoke last night in behalf of Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) who is opposed for reelection by Republican Joseph T. Meek.

The 1953 Democratic presidential candidate said it is hard to know what Meek "stands for except day by day expediency. Expediency is the policy of the Republican party."

Stevenson said the GOP-controlled 83rd Congress "stood for disorder, incompetence and impotence."

Accident Injuries Fatal to Girl, 14

Beverly Western Dies After Two Car Crash in Southfield Township

Beverly Western, 14, of 30000 Southfield Rd., Royal Oak Township, died last night at 9:50 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital of injuries which she suffered about four hours earlier in an auto collision at Evergreen and 12 Mile Rds. in Southfield Township.

Miss Western was the driver of a car traveling north on Evergreen road which collided with a southbound car on 12 Mile road driven by Arthur R. Schumaker, 17, of 18610 San Quentin, Birmingham. No one else was injured.

Michigan State Police of the Redford Post said Richard Brahm, 16, of 25550 Farmbrook, Birmingham, was ticketed for allowing Miss Western, an unlicensed driver, to operate an auto. Brahm was in the car, owned by his father, at the time of the crash.

Statements will be taken today at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office to determine the accident's cause, according to police, who said there was a stop sign at Evergreen road.

Auto Crashes Into Residence

Driver Flees After Car Rans Home on Cherry Court Today

A wildly-driven auto, later reported stolen from Detroit, crashed into a home at 37 Cherry Ct. early this morning after it had rammed another car at Auburn Ave. and Saginaw St.

Pontiac Police said the house is owned by Stanley Slabinski, who could not estimate the damage.

Patrolman Howard Lenigan said neighbors, awakened by the loud crash, saw three youths run from the car after it hit the house.

None of the sleeping occupants were injured but police said the impact damaged the front of the home and caved in the walls, knocking down plaster.

Police quoted the hit-run victim, Ronald Johnson, 20, of 176 W. Yale Ave., as saying the car sped away after the collision.

Johnson said the car's license plate bore the number 1E58-47, reported stolen at 7 a.m. by Detroit police.

Lenigan said the occupants of the stolen car may have been from Detroit originally and may attempt to steal another car to return there.

Road Repair Job Would Take 10 Years, Cost $100 Million, Says Leon Belknap

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

"It would take $100,000,000 in the next ten years to put roads maintained by Oakland County in shape to meet every traffic need, county road commission engineer-manager Leon V. Belknap said today.

"This figure does not include sums which might be spent by the state on trunk lines in the county, he explained.

"At present we have about $1,000,000 yearly for new construction, Belknap added.

"New construction is an optimistic term at best. Shortage of funds has almost entirely restricted the county program during the past several years to resurfacing old roads threatening to wear out.

Widening from 18 to 22 feet of concrete highways being resurfaced plus some widening projects in cooperation with cities is about all that can be called new construction.

Says Complaints on Construction Were Ignored

Further Probe Looms as Capehart Scores Area Housing Chief

The Senate Banking Committee moved its Federal Housing Investigation to New York today after Chairman Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) roundly criticized Wendell O. Edwards, FHA director of Eastern Michigan, for failing to take action on a complaint by John Hobby, a Walled Lake housepainter.

Hobby volunteered his testimony to the committee yesterday when it wound up its Detroit hearings.

Hobby told the committee that he bought a prefabricated home at 2148 Hoeft in a Walled Lake subdivision which was erected by the Colwell Homes Inc., of Birmingham.

Hobby said that after he moved into the house he discovered that there were several gaps in the walls and that the septic tank was not working properly.

Complaints to the FHA office in Detroit were to no avail, Hobby said, and added that he couldn't even get a list of specifications on the house to see if it were properly constructed.

The housepainter also said that other residents on his street had the same complaints. The smell of sewage was so bad he said, the people referred to the street as "Toilet Road."

When Edwards took the stand, Sen. Capehart told him that his investigators had looked into Hobby's complaint and that everything he said was true.

Edwards said that it was the first time he had heard of it. "You ought to have a more effective complaint system," Capehart told Edwards. "We are going to get to the bottom of this. We are going to call anyone who approved those homes and find out why." Capehart did not say when future hearings would be held.

In other actions in Detroit yesterday, the committee spotlighted a million dollar "windfall" profit on housing projects built with government-backed loans.

Builder-sportsman Saul Silberman of Baltimore, Md., testified during the two-day hearings that he got a million dollars more in FHA guaranteed loans than it cost him to build four housing projects.

It is the excess loan money over actual construction cost the committee has labeled "windfall profits."

The Day in Birmingham

Holznagel Property Bought by First Methodist Church

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM—With the rapid growth of its church school already indicating the need for expansion at the First Methodist Church, the board of trustees has announced the purchase of the former Holznagel property, a 1½-acre site immediately east of the church building.

The residence on the land will receive an interior face-lifting and for the present, will make room for an additional 125 children at each of the two Sunday morning church school sessions.

John Martz, secretary of the board, said that, equally as important, the added facilities will allow for construction of another driveway, running directly south from Maple to the parking area.

Currently the only access is off Pleasant street. Eventual plans call for the addition of a wing which would replace the Holznagel residence, Martz said.

The new church on Maple and Pleasant was completed two years ago. It replaced the old building (built in 1873) at Maple and Henrietta which, with its stately spire, had long been a landmark in the community.

Aptly enough, the Altrusa Club will hold its next meeting at Kingswood School tomorrow at 4 p.m. Guest of honor is to be Mrs. Erma Christie of Muncie, Indiana.

Besides being president-elect of Altrusa International, Mrs. Christie is supervisor in the Muncie public schools, and has developed many character-building projects for youth.

A buffet supper will follow the meeting, to which Altrusa Clubs of Michigan and Ohio have been invited.

Current events headlined the table topic speeches at this week's meeting of the Toastmasters Club. Discussed were: the effects of the new Mackinac Straits bridge on the future of Michigan; what the outcome of the Square D strike will be; and what action should be taken now that EDC is dead.

The four major speakers included Edwin Kirby, who spoke on "Sacrifice Above Self"—a sketch of civic contributions being made by local resident Ernest Seahorn, who, among other things, serves as president of the Birmingham Board of Education.

Pat Murphy spoke on "Management Development" and Robert Dean Uyle pointed out safety precautions to be taken while hunting, in his talk entitled, "Safety in Fun."

Final speaker was George Motzenbecker, who compared big business with small in his speech, "Basic Decision."

Rev. Harold Towne, minister at St. James Episcopal Church, has announced that the Oakland Convocation of the Woman's Auxiliary will begin with Holy Communion at 10:30 a.m. Monday at St. Andrew's Mission, Drayton Plains.

The Planning Board will recommend to the City Commission that Planning Director Robert S. Boatman be allowed to work on a consulting basis for the rest of the fiscal year. Boatman has requested the change in order to be able to assist Scott Bagby, planning consultant in Grand Rapids.

Boatman would attend all board meetings while Bagby, who has worked before for the city, would attend at least six.

A special shoot for hunters will be held at the Birmingham Gun Club on Richardson road, Comm.

West Germany Asks Sovereignty

Adenauer Informs Eight Nations of His Demand for End of Occupation

FRANKFURT (INS)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has informed the eight other Western nations which will attend next week's London conference that West Germany wants full sovereignty and a "final end" to occupation of its country.

He added that if no agreement on the German demands is reached at the conference, "security, peace and freedom will have to be established by other means."

Adenauer spelled out West Germany's position at the forthcoming conference in a memorandum delivered Thursday to the United States, Britain, Canada, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Although details of the memorandum were not disclosed officially, it was learned that its purpose was to inform the Western powers of Germany's position prior to the nine-nation meeting.

The Chancellor further outlined his position in a political talk yesterday to 10,000 workers in the Frankfurt suburb of Offenbach.

In his speech, Adenauer insisted that occupation of West Germany should end regardless of whether a solution to rearmament is reached at the London conference, opening next Tuesday.

Astor Is Trying to Free Frozen Assets in Court

NEW YORK (U)—John Jacob Astor III worth an estimated 70 millions, has taken legal action to free his New York assets tied up recently by a former wife, Mrs. Gertrude Greisch Astor.

Astor appeared in State Supreme Court yesterday and, in an affidavit, said Gertrude had no reason to fear he would liquidate his assets in this state.

He said her attachment device was intended to "force" him to "make a substantial financial settlement."

Astor obtained a Mexican divorce from Gertrude, his second wife, and since has married the former Dolores Margaret Fullman.

The second Mrs. Astor claims the multimillionaire's divorce is invalid and is seeking a separation of her own.

The court set a hearing on Astor's plea for next week.

Dilemma Over Dates

DEEP RIVER, Conn. (UP)—The 4-H Club and the Baptist Church were dismayed to learn they had scheduled food sales for the same day, time and place. They agreed to re-schedule, "to avoid conflict." Result: same day, time and place again.

DISCUSS CLASSES—Final plans for the Pontiac School of Religion which opens at the Bethany Baptist Church Oct. 4 are being discussed above by (left to right) the Rev. James W. Deeg, Mrs. William Isaacson and Harold Brown. The school will consist of six classes and will be held every Monday night through Nov. 8.

Birmingham Resident Hits Proposed Parking Project

BIRMINGHAM—In a statement to the Pontiac Press today, Birmingham resident Young C. Smith spoke out against the proposed parking lot in the block bounded by Brown, Pierce, Woodward and Merrill streets, and also the financing of the project.

"A great deal of interest has arisen in the city and many citizens are signing petitions of protest against the project, and asking that parking projects in the city not be overdone to the detriment of the attractive appearance of the city," Smith said.

Citing an Aug. 7 report from traffic engineers to City Manager Donald C. Egbert, Smith states that the report, based on meter revenues around the block concerned, reveals that only a limited number of spaces in the lot should be provided for shoppers, and that the revenue produced by these short time spaces will be relatively low.

Smith quotes the report as stating that the 57 short term spaces will produce revenue of $25 a year each.

The remaining 166 spaces in the proposed lot, for all day parkers, if used at 80 per cent capacity, at $5.00 per month, are expected to bring total gross revenue up to $9,393, for the year, with all charges of depreciation, lighting, care of meters to come out of this.

"It appears that to insure that such projects shall be planned with ordinary business prudence, there should be inserted in the ordinances or in the charter of the city a provision that such projects shall be self-liquidating," Smith continued.

"In other neighboring communities parking projects are financed by revenue bonds, which in turn benefit from revenue from parking lots and also from street meters," he said.

The city commission, by recent action, established the necessity of the lot, which is to be financed by special assessment to the property owners in the area benefiting. The city would also bear a share of the cost, estimated at $27,000.

Commenting in an interview on Red Premier Chou En-Lai's latest call yesterday for liberation of Formosa, Koo declared it should not be dismissed as mere propaganda. Chou's speech calling Formosa sacred territory was broadcast by Peiping Radio.

"It is something the Communists feel very strongly," Koo said. "Just as the Nationalists feel equally strongly that they must return to the mainland."

Whether the Communists start an all-out assault on Formosa and the Pescadores "will depend a great deal on how much supplies Russia will give them in arms, aircraft, guns and ships," the veteran diplomat said, adding:

"However, the Communists very likely will make a serious attempt to take the offshore islands. They serve as stepping stones to Formosa and the Pescadores."

Legal Dignitaries Gather at College

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (U)—Legal dignitaries from as far away as England—gathered here today to pay homage to three great law scholars and mark the 175th anniversary of the William and Mary Law School—oldest in the nation.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, the honor guest, was scheduled to deliver the main address.

But it was the presence of Warren, former California governor named to the Supreme Court by President Eisenhower, that apparently was keeping two of the states top elected officials away.

Gov. Thomas E. Stanley and Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond declined invitations to the Marshall-Wythe—Blackstone commemorative exercises because of "other business."

Several Congressmen also stayed away.

The coolness of state officials was a protest against the Supreme Court's May 17 decision which outlawed segregation in the public schools. Warren authored the decision.

Two Breakins Reported in City by Police

An undetermined amount of money and $15 worth of tools were stolen from the Pontiac Farm and Industrial Tractor Co. office, 825 Woodward Ave., last night, Pontiac Police reported today.

A restaurant next to the company, the Snack House, 819 S. Woodward Ave., also was entered through a rear window by thieves who looted three vending machines of an estimated $12.

Denies Slowing H-Bomb Work

Official of AEC Claims Magazine Stories Are 'Malicious and False'

LOS ALAMOS (INS)—Dr. Norris Bradbury, director of the Atomic Energy Commission laboratory at Los Alamos, has termed "malicious and false" magazine excerpts from a book charging that he and other installation personnel slowed up development of the hydrogen bomb.

Bradbury denied at a press conference yesterday every accusation made in a 29-page summary in the current issue of U. S. News and World Report of the book, "The Hydrogen Bomb: How The U. S. Almost Lost It."

The book, written by Washington newsmen James R. Shipp and Clay Blair Jr., criticizes Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, recently denied security clearance by the AEC, and the entire Los Alamos unit.

Bradbury refused to elaborate on certain points in the summary because of the "classified nature" of the material but he said:

"Some portions of the article were not classified and were equally malicious and equally false."

"Blacktop is easier to maintain than gravel and less hard on cars. With today's heavy use, gravel roads are obsolete. You can grade one today and it will be broken up again tomorrow."

Traffic counts taken by the road commission in the past two years reflect the frightening increase in highway use.

Counts taken at three points on 12 Mile road showed 81 cars passing hourly at a point near Evergreen road in 1953 and 261 vehicles a year later. A point near Telegraph road jumped from 92 to 156 and another near Northwestern highway from 68 to 145.

Unless relieved by a road widening and building program, such an increase will have crippling effects.

Delaware Awaits Solution Monday

There is a company of National Guard troops headquartered here which could be called for duty if an emergency arose, but Mayor Evans said "no arrangements have been made up to date for calling out anyone. We hope this is going to stay peaceful."

The administering of the school district since the mass resignation of the local school board Thursday night has fallen on the shoulders of the state board of education.

Mayor Evans said he expected to formulate his final plans for handling any possible developments on Monday after a conference Sunday with a representative of the State Board or State Education Commissioner George R. Miller Jr.

Wife, 28, Enters Plea of Innocent in Mate's Death

LAWRENCE, Mass. (INS)—Mrs. Lorraine Clark, stood arrow-straight yesterday in Essex Superior Court and pleaded innocent to a charge that she murdered her husband last Palm Sunday.

The pretty 28-year-old mother of three small children fought off collapse during the drama-packed arraignment to enter the plea herself.

A 10-day continuance was granted for special pleadings by Judge Charles Fairhurst who ordered that she be held without bail. No trial date was set, pending a report of state attorneys who will examine her under state law.

Mrs. Clark is accused of shooting, stabbing and strangling her husband, Melvin, 29, in their Amesbury home on April 10 and throwing the weighted body into the Merrimack River. It was found June 2, washed ashore in a marsh.

One major-sized atomic blast, set off in Nevada Nov. 1, 1951, resulted in 268 damage claims, which were settled for $27,929.

Eleven of the claims were for plate glass windows more than 100 miles away.

The AEC is anxious to avoid such incidents, but its advisory to stockmen and miners indicates that it again anticipates some difficulties at least with the radioactive aspects of the new series.

County Road Repairs Would Take 10 Years

"We had the money," said road commission Chairman Robert O. Felt. "We have about 100 miles of old concrete to resurface under the present program. This will take at least two years."

"I don't think we could gather the men and equipment to do all the work that could be done in one year if funds were available. We'd like to see all 705.87 miles of county primary roads blacktopped, not to mention the 1,856.89 miles of township and subdivision roads."

"Blacktop is easier to maintain than gravel and less hard on cars. With today's heavy use, gravel roads are obsolete. You can grade one today and it will be broken up again tomorrow."

Traffic counts taken by the road commission in the past two years reflect the frightening increase in highway use.

Counts taken at three points on 12 Mile road showed 81 cars passing hourly at a point near Evergreen road in 1953 and 261 vehicles a year later. A point near Telegraph road jumped from 92 to 156 and another near Northwestern highway from 68 to 145.

Unless relieved by a road widening and building program, such an increase will have crippling effects.

Small A-Arms Tests Forecast

Believe Battlefield-Type Weapons Will Be Next in Nevada Tryouts

WASHINGTON (INS)—Reliable sources predicted today that new, small-type warheads for guided missiles will be tested during the fifth series of atomic explosions in Nevada early next year.

These sources said the U. S. appears ready to concentrate on the development of new battlefield-type weapons after working for 15 months on hydrogen super-bombs in the Pacific.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced yesterday that the Nevada tests will begin about mid-February, 1955, and will "conform generally" to those conducted in 1951-52-53.

Resumption of the blasts was taken to mean that the AEC is prepared to explode atomic warheads. This activity was indicated when the first nuclear artillery shell proved successful on May 25, 1953.

At that time, the AEC said that "several very profitable avenues to new and improved weapons" had been opened up by the discovery that atomic warheads could be made small enough to be fired from an 11-inch gun muzzle.

The AEC announcement said that all persons in southern Nevada and southwestern Utah have been alerted to the new tests.

The AEC has previously made clear that hydrogen bombs and the larger type of A-bombs, including A-bombs large enough to trigger the H-bombs, will not be exploded in Nevada.

One major-sized atomic blast, set off in Nevada Nov. 1, 1951, resulted in 268 damage claims, which were settled for $27,929.

Eleven of the claims were for plate glass windows more than 100 miles away.

The AEC is anxious to avoid such incidents, but its advisory to stockmen and miners indicates that it again anticipates some difficulties at least with the radioactive aspects of the new series.

Two Persons Injured in Three-Car Crash

Two persons were injured yesterday in a three-car collision on Telegraph Rd. about a quarter-mile south of Dixie highway, when one motorist struck the rear of a southbound auto-drawn trailer and then side-swiped a northbound car.

Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post said Joseph C. Osburn, 77, of Owosso, struck the trailer as the driver, Walter M. Klawunder, 61, of Detroit, waited to make a left turn. Osburn's car continued on to collide with an auto driven by Otto Herzog, 23, of 1436 S. Dixie Hwy., Holly.

Osburn is reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured collarbone. Herzog suffered forehead cuts and bruises, police said.

Surviving are his wife, Mary, and a daughter, Mrs. J. D. Hoffmeister, at home; three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Sub-contractors who actually furnished the materials and did the work got $85,000 and Cozy got $20,500 or 10 per cent of the amount which salesmen induced home owners to borrow from the FHA for improvements, auditors testified.

Capehart called this a "par scheme" whereby a salesman's commission was all he could get above the actual cost of the job and 10 per cent for his company—cost and 10 per cent being "par."

Glamour and Excitement Are Rarely Included in Earning a Living

Mishap Was Simply an Accident

Husband's Opinion Correct That There's No Blame

By EMILY POST
A wife tells me: "The other evening my husband and I drove a friend home from a party. In getting out of the car she ripped her stocking on the edge of the door which is quite rough, and in doing this exclaimed, 'There goes my new stockings.' I feel that I should buy her a new pair of stockings. My husband thinks that the tearing of her stockings was purely and simply an accident and it is not our responsibility to buy her new ones. Will you please tell me what, if anything, I should do about this?"

I agree with your husband.
Dear Mrs. Post: I would like your opinion on the following: The other day an acquaintance offered me a cigarette. I refused, saying, "No thank you, I don't smoke." I have been told that this last was unnecessary and that the person to whom I said it considered the remark insulting and showed disapproval of her smoking. What do you think?

"No, thank you" is enough. But saying, "I don't smoke" doesn't necessarily mean that you were showing your disapproval. It depends on how you say it—to say it casually is quite all right, but to say it in a disapproving tone would be discourteous.

Dear Mrs. Post: (a) Are the children in a wedding party—the flower girls and the ring bearer—supposed to be given presents for taking part in the wedding the way the older attendants are? If so, what is usually given them? (b) Also, if there is a rehearsal dinner, is it necessary that the children be included at this?

No, to both questions.
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it improper to send a wedding present as long as four months after the wedding date? My employer just received such an announcement of the daughter of a business associate and he wondered about sending a gift.

It is entirely proper to send a present if he would like to. On the other hand, this passage of time and the fact that it was only an announcement cancels any obligation.

One bad thing about liquor is that it often makes a man go straight when the road curves.

New Style Demands the Covered Modest Look

Everybody is succumbing to the new look of covered-up modesty, including Cecil Chapman whose famous décolleté ball gowns have been the joy and treasure of every glamour girl in the country. The youthful innocence of today's dress represents a new departure in design for Mrs. Chapman.

But don't let the quiet understatement fool you. Mrs. Chapman still knows how to shape a bosom and her bodice seaming does the trick. The cuffed hip pockets extend slightly around to the back as do the side seams of the skirt, a manipulation that gives an enormously slenderizing effect.

Make it in sheer wool and trim it with lace as it was in the original, or in crepe, tulle or linen. Gleaming white satin as accent is a particularly smart note this season.

Girl Should Teach Boy a Lesson

Let Him Know Others Are Around, Take Him Back Too

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD
"Dear Miss Woodward: Ted and I have gone together off and on all through high school—we're both seniors now. During that time we've gone steady several times—seven times to be exact. I still can't figure him out—or his intentions either.

We'll go steady for maybe three weeks then he suddenly stops calling and practically ignores me. But as soon as I seem to be getting back in circulation he calls for a date and before long he's asking me to go steady again.

"I went away during the summer and when I returned home I had a flurry of dates with several different boys. I had a wonderful time, though I often thought of Ted and wished I were going with him only again.

He called me the other day and asked me for a date but I refused. (One of his friends told me Ted said he could get me back any time he wanted, so I thought I'd show him.) He has called since, but I wasn't home.

"Now—should I keep on refusing dates with him or not? If I go out with him again, I may lose the chances other boys are giving me. I've dropped them so often to go out with Ted! I'm really over a barrel. Can you help me at all?"

Cats have nine lives—and here you are about to start on your eighth round of going with Ted. Cause you'll go with him again, you know you will. Though it may take the ninth whirl for Ted to make up his mind not to let you slip away from him ever again!

This eighth life together can be a memorable one. The round that began to clarify intentions for both of you. Different from the other times because you're going into it with your eyes wide open, and a mighty unwillingness to have any more pulled.

This is the round when you can go with Ted, without going steady with him—a bit of juggling that can be widely publicized among your other boy friends.

Accept his next date invitation. Go out with him and have a wonderful time. But make that date the evening before you have a date with somebody else. That will scotch, abruptly, any notion that you're dropping everybody in his behalf.

The next time he's over at the house, arrange a very convenient phone call for him to overhear. (No names or details, just let him get a vague impression that you're talking to some other boy.) He'll soon realize he isn't the only boy you date—and it may force his hand.

When he starts talking steady stuff again, put the soft pedal on it. Remind him of the past and the number of times you've agreed, only to have him default. Jokingly tell him you adore him, but you're leery of entangling alliances with him. He'll have to prove a bit of constancy before you'll listen to any more talk on the subject.

Ted obviously likes you, or he wouldn't keep popping up. And he may start sticking around. But if your "no steady with anybody" publicity is working well, you'll still have your other boy friends. To any questions they may ask about Ted, you can be blithe, unconcerned and very noncommittal, but firm that you aren't going steady with him.

This procedure will get you off the barrel of indecision, and put you on a seasaw for a change. But it's a maneuver that may make Ted wonder how he can make you settle down. And that will be for your ninth life together!

The food chopper won't slip if you put a piece of sandpaper between the clamps and the underside of the table.

It's money in the bank when a lady under five-feet-five can buy this afternoon frock with no fear of high alteration charges. A brief size is in gold sag-nor-jersey with graceful tie collar, set buttons and belt and a very full skirt.

Little Alterations Make Bathroom Look Glamorous

Rather than dreaming about a bathroom that's the last word in luxury and glamor, you can take steps to make yours more inviting.

There's nothing more relaxing than a bubble bath of lukewarm water in comfortable and pretty surroundings.

A little carefully planned remodeling can bring about alterations that make for convenience and beauty.

For instance, what about adding a vanity top counter, one that will extend on either side of the basin. This counter can hold all your face creams, makeup, cologne, hair brushes, nail files, and all the other accessories that make good grooming a pleasant ritual.

You'll make your housekeeping easier, too, because wiping off a marble, plastic or tile counter is quicker than digging into the corners of otherwise necessary accessory shelves.

A bathtub set at an angle makes for more glamor and also more shelf room. So, if your bathroom architecture permits it, you can have your old tub shifted to an angle.

Then, you can put your bath preparations on the newly created shelf ends.

Be Sensible in Picking a Part-Time Job Field

By ANNE HEYWOOD
So many women who are practical and sensible as wives, mothers and homemakers, go hog-wild when it comes to planning a part time job.

They throw all their good sense out the window, and dream up some perfectly ridiculous scheme from which they will never in a million years make a red cent.

But you cannot convince them of this in advance, because they have a stubborn conviction that "with me it will work."

It has been my experience that this happens most often in two fields—personal shopping, and the travel agency. Every week, women write me that they intend to set up a small business on a part time basis, in one or another of these fields. And it's all my life is worth to change their minds.

Because the past few weeks have brought in more than the usual number of such letters, let me reiterate the facts in the hope of dissuading a few of you from these fabled propositions.

First, the personal shopping service. The fact that you just love to buy things for people does not mean that you can get them to pay you for doing it. Friends will let you shop for them forever, as long as it's free, but when you mention charging a fee, they disappear.

Also, it is one thing to buy things for friends with similar tastes—and quite another thing to buy things for strangers whose tastes you think are ghastly.

Second, the travel agency. If you have had no experience in the field, you cannot hope to open an office, no matter how many rich and traveling friends you have. You simply won't know the ropes.

Moreover, even if you get a job in someone else's agency, you will soon learn that the travel field is not full of romance, excitement and interesting people—at least, not for the beginner.

It is full of facts, figures, long division, time tables and schedules. So if you think the travel field would be simply divine, do please think again!

Confession?—Ask The Man Who Goes There!

Catholics go to Confession to a priest for one reason only: to obtain divine forgiveness for their sins.

But why, you ask, go to a priest? Why not confess our sins directly to God? Ask the man who goes to Confession and here's what he will tell you: Sin is an offense against God. It is God, not man, who determines how forgiveness must be obtained. Christ plainly pointed this out when He empowered His Apostles and their successors to forgive sins or to refuse forgiveness.

"Whose sins you shall forgive," Christ said, "they are forgiven them; whose sins you shall retain, they are retained." (John 20:21-23). Thus Christ authorized the Apostles, and their successors, to pardon or to deny pardon as they judged the sinner worthy or unworthy. To do this they had to know what they were forgiving...the secret dispositions of the sinner...his sorrow and willingness to repair the wrong done to his neighbor by his sins. Who could make this known but the sinner himself—and what is this but Confession?

But Confession—the Sacrament of Penance—is only one of the seven Sacraments Christ left in His Church. Yes, seven—no more and no less! Christ's religion is not merely a message to be accepted, but a life to be lived—from the cradle to the grave. Christ's seven Sacraments are the answer to man's seven basic needs.

Man is born, but he needs to be reborn a Christian in the Sacrament of Baptism. He is nourished, but he needs Christian nourishment in Holy Communion, the Sacrament of the Eucharist. He grows, but he needs to grow and be strengthened in Christian life by the Sacrament of Confirmation. He is cured of disease, but he needs a remedy for sin, so destructive of Christian life, and this he finds in the Sacrament of Penance.

Man lives in society which needs officials to promote the common good—and for his life in the Church, he finds officials provided by the Sacrament of Orders. He perpetuates the human race in marriage, which Christ made the Sacrament of Matrimony. And at death, he needs consolation and strength for the last dread hour which he finds in the Last Anointing—the Sacrament of Extreme Unction.

Would you like to know more about each of the seven Sacraments? How they can help you to meet the seven basic needs of your life? Then write today for a free pamphlet which gives important information concerning them. Ask for Pamphlet No. 5-N.

Ministers Eligible for Social Security

Under the recently revised Social Security Act, ministers desiring may now come under the provisions of that law.

Ministers electing to come under the program do so as self-employed persons, according to Rex A. C. Atwood, district manager for the Social Security Administration here.

As self-employed persons, the ministers contribute three per cent of net earnings to the Social Security fund. The churches contribute nothing.

(Persons employed by others contribute two per cent and their employers two per cent, for a total of four per cent.)

Atwood pointed out that once a minister decides to come into the program he must continue in it.

Presbyterians Have Rally Day

Will Make Dedication of Children's Window at Sunday Service

The Rally Day Service at the First Presbyterian Church will include the dedication of the "Children's Window" in the Sanctuary at 9:45 a.m. Sunday.

The window will be presented by Mrs. Henry Wissinger, chairman of the committee, and will be accepted by Richard Fisher, president of the Board of Trustees.

The central panel of the window features Christ the Good Shepherd carrying a lamb in His bosom. To the right, is a medallion of a child at prayer. Another medallion, showing the lad of long ago who gave his lunch to Jesus at the time of the feeding of the five thousand.

Promotion certificates will be presented and awards given to 21 persons who have maintained a perfect attendance in the Church School during the past year.

Rosh Hashono Observance Starts at Sunset Monday

In synagogues throughout the world, the Jewish religious New Year will be ushered in at sunset, Monday.

Rosh-Hashono, which means the beginning of the year, inaugurates a ten-day period of spiritual self-analysis and prayer which is climaxed by Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement. This begins at nightfall Wednesday.

The ritual for the High Holy Days is highlighted by the sounds of the Shofar of ram's horn, the ancient instrument which once called men to warfare and now calls for combat against wrong doing and shortcomings. Special prayers and melodies voiced in the worship services stress the themes of repentance and divine mercy.

Rosh-Hashono is observed two days by traditional Jews; one, by Reform Jews.

Temple Beth Jacob will hold Rosh Hashono services for the Jewish New Year in its new building at 79 Elizabeth Lake Rd. Although the formal dedication will be later in the year, the building will be completed in time for the High Holy Days and will be in full use for Friday evening services, the Religious School and the many functions of its affiliated groups.

Services for the evening of Rosh Hashono will begin at 8:15 p.m. Monday and at 10 a.m. Tuesday. A children's service will take place Tuesday afternoon, at 2 p.m. Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein will speak on "Doom or Destiny," at the morning service and "Three Hundred Years and Three Questions," will be the title of the evening sermon.

The final Friday Evening Service in the old building was held last night.

Congregation B'nai Israel will hold Rosh Hashono services at the synagogue Monday at 6:15 p.m. "What Am I," will be the subject of the sermon Tuesday morning at 8:30. Other services will be at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, at the same hours.

Emulation will be at the Wednesday morning service. Rabbi Henry Hoschander will conduct all of the meetings. The liturgical portions of the service will be conducted by Cantor Jay Karzen of the Hebrew Theological Seminary of Chicago, assisted by Cantor Lazarus Hershovitz of Pontiac.

FREDERICK L. MARRIOTT

Cathedral Choir Will Present Musicales

Frederick L. Marriott, organist and choirmaster of the Kirk in the Hills, announces the appointment of four soloists to the Cathedral Choir.

Norma Heyde, soprano, received her Masters Degree from the University of Michigan. She has appeared with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, singing the Magnificat by Bach. For four summers she was instructor in music and soloist at the Transylvania Music Camp in Brevard, N. Carolina. At present, she is musical director of the weekly broadcast "Hymns of Faith" and instructor in voice at the University of Michigan School of Music.

Arelene Sollenberger, contralto, also received her Master's Degree in Voice and Music Education at the University of Michigan. She has appeared with leading orchestras and choral groups and made appearances on radio and television. She is now a member of the University of Michigan School of Music.

Graduating from the Union Theological Seminary in New York, Harold Haugh, was ordained to the ministry in 1929. He was soloist in several large New York churches. Moving to Ohio, he became a member of the faculty at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music. In 1948, he became associate professor in the voice department at the University of Michigan. In 1953, he was tenor soloist in Bach's B minor Mass in Carnegie Hall, with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

During the fall and winter season, the Cathedral Choir will present Musical Programs on Sunday afternoons.
