Russians Urging U.N. Arms Ban to Mideast

Three in Family Die Within Year

DAVID GIDLEY

TOMMY GIDLEY

KENNETH GIDLEY

Follows Brothers in Death

Disease Claims 3rd Boy

An incurable disease took the third son of a Milford couple yesterday, decimating a once happy family of five growing boys to two surviving sons.

Eleven-year-old Kenneth Gidley died en route to a hospital. He was a victim of cystic fibrosis of the pancreas, which claimed his brother Tommy, 6, two weeks ago, and brother David, 8, last June.

When David died, parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Gidley, were more or less prepared. He had been in and out of Children's Hospital in Detroit for the previous year. All types of new experiments failed to stop the malady.

Although Kenneth a 6th grader, had to be taken out of school six weeks ago because of his weakened condition, both the parents and attending physician, Dr. Mary McDermott were shocked at the suddenness of his death yesterday.

As late as Wednesday, Kenneth had undergone a complete physical check-up and his heart, lungs and general health was good, according to Dr. McDermott. However, late yesterday he had an attack and an ambulance was called. Kenneth died while they were transferring him to the ambulance.

Gidley is employed five days a week at Pontiac Motor company but due to the heavy hospital and doctor bills, the family is pinched financially. The expense of X-rays, special medicine and transportation accommodations has drained what little had been saved.

Two older boys, Merle John, 14 and Stanford 13, have not contracted the disease, according to examining doctors.

Although heavy doses of antibiotics were used on the boys to retard the spread of the ailment, leading doctors say there is no cure for the dread disease. Tests and research is going on constantly, but until something definite is found, doctors say those afflicted very seldom reach maturity.

Funeral service for Kenneth will be held at the Richardson-Bird Fugeral Parlors at 1 p.m. Monday. Burial will be at Wixom.

Kids on Safari Find Skeleton, Tracks

Panther Toll Rises Near Leonard

The mysterious panther of Oakland County is getting more substantial by the minute.

Leonard school seventh and eighth graders on a "safari" yesterday afternoon found a stripped calf carcass on a farm near the dense swamp where the shadowy black beast is said to dwell, and three men last night found a deer skeleton in the woods.

Plaster casts of cat tracks will be examined by conservation officers this week. The tracks were found by the school children beside the calf skeleton.

According to Mrs. Margaret Stoddard, Leonard school principal, the tracks measured three inches across, were characteristically round, and looked like pictures of panther tracks.

Carl Keuchenmeister, Leonard barber who found the deer carcass, says the tracks he saw nearby were larger than three inches.

"Carl thinks there's more than one panther here," Mrs. Stoddard said today. "The animal I saw several months ago wasn't huge, but it was in a valley and I saw only its back and tail.

"While I was watching, it pounced on something. It was real black and shiny."

Others in the area have reported they heard what sounded like a woman's screams. Mountain lions or panthers traditionally scream like women in distress.

Nixon Will Run; GOP '56 Ticket All Wrapped Up

President Delighted at Revelation by Mate; Dems Not Surprised

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans' 1956 ticket was all but wrapped up today. Vice President Nixon said he would run again. President Eisenhower said he was "delighted."

Democrats, expressing no surprise at Nixon's decision, indicated they will direct plenty of fire at him. Many of them have bitterly criticized his campaign tactics in the past.

He seemed likely to shoulder a major portion of the GOP campaigning this year.

Barring some health setback for Eisenhower, Nixon's announcement yesterday seemed to leave only formalities for the GOP's August convention in San Francisco.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, said even the drafting of a platform ought not to present much of a problem. "It will be based on the Eisenhower administration record," he said.

Nixon's decision was announced after a White House conference with Eisenhower, who relayed his reaction through an aide. Nixon said he relied on his own and associates' judgment of what was best for "the success of the President in his campaign for the continued success of the President's administration in Washington."

WEIGHS ALL FACTORS

He said he delayed announcing a decision because he had to "weigh all the factors involved and reach a decision that would put the primary goal first."

Nixon's decision was not unexpected, although there had been speculation that he might delay an announcement until summer.

Fire Hits Orchard Lake Landmark

BATTLE SMOKE — Volunteers of the West Bloomfield Township Fire Department battled thick smoke and flames for over 6½ hours before extinguishing a fire at the 100-year-old home of Mrs. Mattie Wahlburn in Orchard Lake yesterday afternoon. Chief Ben Moshier has delayed estimate of the damages until the value of lost contents can be determined.

Soviets Seeking End of Curbs on World Trade

Communist Heads Say Prime Minister Eden to Visit U.S.S.R.

LONDON (INS)—Russia declared today it would "welcome" a U. N. ban on arms shipments to the Middle East and said the time has come to junk cold war restrictions.

The statements were made by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev at an unprecedented hour-and-20-minute news conference that ended their 10-day visit to Britain.

Khrushchev asserted that so long as other nations are selling arms to the Middle East "we would answer wrongly if we were to say we would not sell arms to states which urge us to do so."

Khrushchev added, though, that "we could welcome" a ban on such shipments and "would be prepared to take part in such undertakings as would help to bring about peaceful conditions in the troubled areas of the world."

In an attack on restrictions hindering free Anglo-Soviet trade, Bulganin declared "such restrictions are a product of the cold war. Times are changing and the time has come to throw on the rubbish heap such restrictions."

The Soviet leaders also said:

1. Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden had accepted their invitation to visit Moscow but no date had been set.
2. They regretted U. S.-Soviet relations were not better and appealed to Britian to help improve them.
3. They desired to visit the U. S. but had not been invited.
4. Russia is prepared to examine simultaneously the question of reducing conventional armaments and the prohibition of nuclear weapons in an effort to break the disarmament deadlock.

Bulganin and Khrushchev entrained for Portsmouth immediately after the news conference. They sailed for home in early afternoon aboard the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze on which they had come to Britain on April 18.

The Russian leaders mixed offers of friendship with the U. S. with barbed asides aimed at Anglo-American policies in a first class news conference performance that won deserved applause when it was over.

County Democrats Elect Delegates to State Parley

Fifty-five elected Oakland County Democratic delegates and about 90 more party faithfuls met last night at the county convention to fill 86 delegate votes at the party's state convention June 1 and 2 in Grand Rapids.

Keynoting the convention, Michigan's Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, told the delegates:

"Ours is the party motivated by hope, not by fear. We try things because we hope they'll work; they don't try things because they're afraid they won't work.

"The Democratic party always manages to figure out a bigger objective than the other guy."

Hart repeatedly slammed the Republican-dominated state legislature, criticizing inactivity which, he said, ranged "from the spectacular to the absurd."

On the national level, Hart charged GOP foreign policy has "miscalculated," and U. S. diplomats now are "fighting rear-guard actions."

He touched on the subject of President Eisenhower's health, claiming the president's job is "a 24-hour-a-day, Johnny-on-the-spot business."

"What we need is a full-time, aggressive leadership," Hart

Board Petitions Due by May 12

June 11 School Vote for One Position on 7-Member Group

Deadline for entering nominating petitions in the June 11 election of one member to the seven-man Board of Education of the Pontiac School District is 4 p.m. May 12.

The contest is for the seat now held by Pontiac funeral director Glenn Griffin, who has announced he will seek re-election.

Besides all registered voters in the city of Pontiac, others who live outside the city limits but who are within the school district may cast ballots in the election.

These areas are located in Pontiac Township to the east and north of the city; in south Orion Township; in the Dixie Highway area of Waterford Township, and in the Sylvan Lake region of W. Bloomfield Township.

Teacher's Killer Attempts Suicide

Ex-Convict Cuts Arm With Glass, but Isn't in Serious Condition

MARQUETTE (INS) — The confessed slayer of a pretty Grand Marais school teacher tried to commit suicide today by slashing his left arm with a piece of glass.

Ex-convict Leonard H. Lundberg, 36, admitted killer of 21-year-old Patricia Burdick, was found in his Schoolcraft County Jail cell in a semiconscious condition.

He was rushed to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital in Marquette, where doctors said he had lost about two quarts of blood and was suffering from shock.

However, they said he was not in serious condition.

Lundberg was paroled from Marquette Prison last September after serving 9 years of a 15 to 22½-year sentence for burglary. He has spent all but five years of his adult life in prisons.

He confessed to State Police yesterday that he gave the young teacher a lift Sunday night as she was hitchhiking along M77 near Grand Marais.

Lundberg said he beat Miss Burdick over the head with a wrench after she fought off his advances during the ride.

Capital Boosted by Local Bank

Pontiac State to Issue 10,000 More Shares; Sets Price at $30

A proposal to increase the common capital stock of the Pontiac State Bank by 10,000 shares was approved by shareholders at a special meeting in the bank's lobby yesterday afternoon.

Price of the stock was set at $30 a share with stockholders having the right to purchase one share for each four held. The shares have a par value of $10.

The move boosted the bank's common capital stock from $400,000 to $500,000, according to President Milo J. Cross. The subsequent increase also raises the total capital structure by $300,000 to $1,400,000, Cross said.

The bank's year-end report at the close of operations in 1955 showed deposits of $23,847,998 and total resources exceeding $25 million.

Tornado Warning

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Grand Rapids Weather Bureau said at noon today severe thunderstorms with tornadoes are expected in an area in Michigan from Grand Haven east to Ionia, south to the Indiana border and west to Lake Michigan from 3 p. m. until 11 p. m. today.

Meteorologist Paul E. Johnson said Grand Rapids is "right in line with the route of the twister forecast."

Gardener Rescues Woman in Blaze at Orchard Lake

Quick thinking by her gardener saved the life of Mrs. Mattie Wahlburn when fire severely damaged a 100-year-old house at Orchard Lake yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Wahlburn escaped with a slightly burned face and singed hair, and her housekeeper, Mrs. Josephine Lipinski, had singed hair and a leg injury.

Fire Chief Ben Moshier of the West Bloomfield Township Fire Department has not yet made an estimate of the damages, due to the undetermined value of the contents.

He said the blaze apparently started in the staircase at the center of the house and was caused by faulty wiring in the walls.

Gardener Charles Ayers of Walled Lake carried Mrs. Wahlburn to safety by crawling down the stairs from the second floor with her on his back. He told firemen he believed she would have died from smoke if she had stayed in the house a few minutes longer.

Ayers said he saw smoke coming from the building on his return from lunch and immediately began searching for Mrs. Wahlburn, remembering she usually took naps in the afternoon.

Flames prevented his going up the front stairs but he made it up the back way and told her to keep calling to him so he could find her in the thick smoke.

Mrs. Lipinski, who discovered the fire, hurt her leg when she

Report 10 Dead in Virginia Blast

Apartment House Hit by Gas Explosion; Four Survivors Hospitalized

PULASKI, Va. (AP) — A restaurant owner lit a match to a gas heater and touched off an explosion and fire today that leveled a three-story brick building with the possible loss of 10 lives.

The blast rocked the old business section of this manufacturing town of 9,000 and in a matter of minutes the building was a giant torch. It housed a restaurant, two shops and a Salvation Army transient home on the ground level. Seven families lived in upper-floor apartments.

Four survivors of the 15 or 16 believed in the building were hospitalized and one unidentified body was recovered. Police Lt. G. E. Bouldin said he believed 10 to 12 bodies were in the smouldering ruins. Only the back wall and a small section of the side wall were still standing when firemen finally put down the flames.

W. J. Mahaffey, the restaurant operator, said he was met with a roaring explosion when he struck a match to the gas heater at about 6 a.m.

Rocky Marciano, Unbeaten Champ, Bows Out of Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — Rocky Marciano, never beaten in his 49 professional fights, retired today as heavyweight champion of the world.

The stocky, amiable boxer made public his decision at a hastily called news conference here.

In fighting trim Marciano weighed 188. Now he has bulged to 210. Always careful with his money, and a devoted family man, Marciano is comfortably well off. His professional purses were approximately $1,700,000.

His wife, Barbara, played an important factor in persuading Rocky to retire.

Marciano, who will be 33 on Sept. 21, won the championship from Jersey Joe Walcott in 13 rounds at Philadelphia Sept. 23, 1952, and defended it six times.

Security for You—

How long must a worker pay into social security to become eligible for a pension?

Who is not covered by federal social security?

These are typical of questions covered in a new series on social security retirement and pension, starting Tuesday, May 1. The articles, by an Associated Press writer, will appear three times a week.

Watch for them in The Pontiac Press, under the title:

Security for You

Crash a Grim Warning, Judge Tells Two Youths

The tragic lesson of the auto accident Wednesday night which claimed the lives of four youths after an alleged night of drinking was hammered home this morning as two Pontiac youths were arraigned in Municipal Court.

They were charged with possessing beer in their car.

Pleading guilty were Dennis G. Rivard, 19, of 95 Glenwood Ave., who said the car was his, and William L. Lampert, 20, of 108 Prall St.

"You're just plain lucky," Judge Cecil McCallum told the pair.

"The other boys are dead, dead as a result of what we've been trying hard to stop.

"Minors drinking and then driving is one of the most dangerous combinations there is. You're alive today, but it's not your fault."

McCallum sentenced the pair to spend five days in Oakland County Jail, placed them on probation three months and picked up their driver's licenses for the duration of the probation.

He allowed the youths to serve the sentences one day a week in order that they could keep their jobs.

"We've been cracking down hard on minors drinking and the tragedy Wednesday night makes me think we should crack down even harder," McCallum said. "When boys drink they create serious problems for the community, their parents, themselves and their girl friends."

The pair admitted they had eight bottles of beer in the car when arrested last night on W. Huron street, Pontiac police said.

House to Vote on Highway Bill

No Strong Opposition Seen Against $2 Billion Road-Building Plan

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House votes a history-making $2 billion dollar road-building program today along with higher taxes on gasoline, tires, trucks and buses to help pay for it.

Speaker Sam Rayburn ordered the House into session two hours early and said the lawmakers would not adjourn until the bill is passed.

Despite the politically dangerous tax provisions, House passage was not in doubt. Leaders of both parties freely predicted the administration-endorsed bill will go to the Senate by an overwhelming margin before nightfall.

No organized opposition has formed against the main provisions of the bill. Besides the tax section, these authorize construction of a 40,000-mile superhighway system and continuation of federal aid to states on a gradually-increasing basis.

Cloudy, Showers Predicted for Area

The weatherman predicts cloudy with showers tonight for the Pontiac area. It will be windy tonight, with a low of 48-52.

Saturday will be colder with a high of 52-56. Cloudy with showers is the forecast for tomorrow and Sunday. A cold front is expected to move in tomorrow night.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 43 degrees. The thermometer rose to 56 at 2 p.m.

Willman Details City Water Plan

Tells Research Group of Future Price Boost Anticipated by 1960

Pontiac City Manager W. K. Willman told a six-county water research committee yesterday that proposed plans to boost the city's water supply would more than double the cost of water by 1960.

Speaking before 150 members of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee at the General Motors Technical Center, the manager outlined preliminary plans for a proposed five-project program.

All five projects resulted from a study made last year by a Toledo engineering firm in an attempt to find a solution to diminishing water supplies in Pontiac.

Willman pointed out that in 1929 Pontiac's water table was 57 feet below the surface while last year it was at 129 feet, indicating a drop of more than four feet a year.

"We are presently selling water at 11.6 cents per thousand gallons," Willman told the group. "Due to the tremendous piping distance under several proposed plans, Pontiac would have to sell water at 25.3 cents in 1960."

Under the recommended five possible sources in which to draw water for the city, Willman said three would bring it from Lake Huron while the last two involve Lake St. Clair.

Woman Is Rescued in Orchard Lake Fire jumped to safety from a slanted porch roof.

Mrs. Evie Adele Dow, Mrs Wahlburn's secretary, was downstairs when the fire broke out and escaped uninjured.

The home was formerly the Leroy Pelletier estate and was originally owned by Peter Dow. It was one of the oldest in Orchard Lake. Mrs. Pelletier now lives in Detroit. She had given Mrs. Wahlburn and Mrs. Dow a life-time lease to live at the house located at 4955 Commerce Rd.

Pelletier had raised prize Shetland ponies at the site. He died several years ago and is now buried in the backyard of the home.

Very little could be salvaged from the building with the fire and smoke damage extremely heavy throughout. Some of the outstanding antiques destroyed or charred were a carved William Tell statue from Switzerland, oriental rugs, chimes, and a Steinway piano.

Planetarium Set for Thursdays at Cranbrook

The McMath Planetarium at Cranbrook Institute will be open each Thursday evening in May with a different guest demonstrator each week, Science Director Dr. Robert T. Hatt said today. The programs will be held at 8.

Dr. Keith Pierce, associate professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, will be the first demonstrator on May 3. Miss Ruth Hedeman, solar research assistant at the McMath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus, will conduct the May 10 session. Both will demonstrate the skies of early summer.

They will stress the configuration of the planets as well as how the sky looks to people in various parts of the earth.

Dr. Pierce is also active at the Lake Angelus Observatory and participated in important atomic energy work during the war.

School's Out, Kids!

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—Teachers will ride school buses and the pupils will get a holiday today on Cheboygan County's conservation field trip day. Teachers will be taken on a guided tour of conservation points of interest and attend an institute on conservation problems.

Pontiac Fire Department Praised for Its Record

Pontiac finished high up among the nation's largest cities in fire prevention and control last year, a survey by the National Fire Protection Association showed today. Data was collected from 650 cities with over 20,000 population in the U. S. and Canada in the survey.

Pontiac's high finish in national ratings was made possible by a sharp decline in fire damages from 1954. Damage in 1955 amounted to $182,770 as compared with $508,133 in the previous year.

Fire Chief John F. Schroeder credited his fire marshal division with doing a fine job in helping bring the total losses down, but explained that the "element of human carelessness" must always be considered in discussing fire loss.

On a population basis, the property loss in Pontiac was equivalent to $2.26 per capita, which was well below the average reported for other cities in the country and Canada.

The National Assn. praised the city department for its prompt action in bringing fires under control and keeping losses to a minimum. The loss per fire here averaged $416, as against $931 for all other cities.

One out of every 14 calls were false alarms, according to the survey. Pontiac finished 1955 with a total of 117.

Democrats of County Pick State Delegates said. "Tell that to the voters. If they don't throw you out in the first two minutes, you'll see the results when the ballots are counted."

The 55 elected delegates attending filled a number of the seats of the 159 absent delegates elected by precinct caucuses. The same method was used to nominate the 86 delegates to the state convention, whose names appear on page 13 of today's Pontiac Press.

Delegates adopted the unit rule on their state convention voting by an impressive majority. Under the rule, the entire delegation will vote as a unit after a majority preference has been determined.

A resolution urging the state and national conventions to "repudiate in the strongest possible language" all Democrats opposed to the Supreme Court ruling on segregation was passed over one dissenting vote.

Delegates also voted to condemn any legislation to remove the office of state superintendent of education from the ballot. Delegate Steven Kolar of Waterford Township pleaded for stronger wording in the resolution, but was told the convention already had approved the earlier measure.

Mrs. Cynthia Nelsey of Royal Oak, chairman of the Finance Committee, reported to delegates that $1,301.05 in proceeds from benefit teas has been sent to state party headquarters. On hand, she said, is $106 to be used for county candidates.

Preliminary plans were announced for a "government day" in Oakland County, during which Governor Williams and several state officers will visit county municipalities and answer questions at a "town hall meeting" in Pontiac.

Four Receive Injuries in Telegraph Crash

Heavy rain was partially blamed for a truck-car collision in which three people were hospitalized and another hurt today. The crash took place at Telegraph and Quarton Roads, Bloomfield Township, at 10 a.m.

The car's motor stalled when it hit a puddle of water, resulting in the auto being struck from behind, police stated.

Patricia Mills, 17, and Cherone Dedrich, 18, both of Flint, were the more serious of the injured. St. Joseph Mercy Hospital reported the girls were x-rayed and admitted with possible head injuries.

The teenagers were passengers in a car driven by Everett Allie, 22, also of Flint. Allie received multiple contusions and abrasions in the accident. Truck driver Russell Edwards, 32, of 199 Raeburn St., was treated and released by the hospital for lacerations of the left hand.

Edwards, who was operating a semi-trailer, told the investigators he saw the stalled car too late to avoid collision.

Stockholders Hear of Progress, Plans

Past progress and future plans of the Consumers Power Co. were topics of discussion at the firm's stockholders meeting held in Birmingham last night.

President Dan E. Karn told the 190 present that the firm has spent about $500,000,000 since the end of World War II in expanding and improving its service. He predicted an equal amount will be spent between 1956-60.

Karn said Consumers is an active participant in the program to build a nuclear power reactor near Monroe, and has pledged $2,500,000 to the project.

Firm Wins Citation for Plans of School

A special citation for general excellence in the design of Royal Oak's Clarence M. Kimball High School was recently awarded to the architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham.

The company was 1 of 8 which received honorable mention certificates in national school design competition conducted by The School Executive, professional magazine for educators.

Architectural work at the school, still under construction, was headed by partner Thomas H. Hewlett.

Formal presentation of the award will take place May 2 at a University of Chicago luncheon.

A "Vocational Guidance Bureau" will help students in Bihar, India, in making their choice about technical and non-technical higher education.

ANPA Settles Antitrust Suit

Federal Charge Against Advertising Policy Is Straightened Out

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal antitrust civil suit against the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. over advertising policies has been settled by agreement and with court approval.

* * *

The Justice Department filed suit last May against the ANPA and five other advertising and publishing associations, charging them with violations of the Sherman Antitrust Act in the developing, placing and servicing of national advertising.

All six defendants denied the accusations.

About two hours after the ANPA concluded its three-day, 70th annual convention here yesterday, Federal Judge John M. Cashin entered a consent decree and termed the agreement "very salutary."

Cranston Williams, ANPA general manager, said the decree preserves for ANPA members their right to conduct their newspapers in the exercise of their independent judgment, adding:

DECREE SATISFYING

"We do not think we have engaged in any such practices; we have no intention of doing so, and so stated to the court in our answer."

The court order enjoined the ANPA from doing, as an association, anything to accomplish the following:

Fix agency commissions; prevent agencies from rebating or splitting commissions; deny or limit credit or commissions to any agency; set up qualifications for recognizing or doing business with any agency; fix advertising rates to be charged to advertisers not employing an agency; cause sellers of space advertising to adhere to published advertising rates or rate cards; prevent sellers of national space advertising from recognizing or doing business with any agency.

However, members of the ANPA were allowed to engage in any of these activities individually.

Asks Examination on Murder Charge

Cecil Edgil, 31, of Royal Oak, charged with the first-degree murder April 14 of a Royal Oak barber shop porter, demanded examination yesterday before Royal Oak Municipal Judge Fletcher R. Renton.

Judge Renton set examination date for May 4, and returned Edgil to Oakland County Jail without bond.

Edgil allegedly killed Lenver Norris, 51, of Royal Oak, who died Wednesday morning in William Beaumont Hospital 11 days after his skull was fractured with a baseball bat.

Edgil told police April 14 he had hit Norris with the bat in self-defense after Norris threatened him with a knife.

Dr. LaCore to Receive Fellowship Award

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent at Pontiac State Hospital, will receive an annual fellowship award from the American Psychiatric Assn. Monday night.

The honorary citation is based upon outstanding achievement in the field of psychiatry and is awarded to only a few members of the association each year. The presentation will be made at a meeting of the organization in Chicago.

Blame Northern Lights for Global Blackouts

NEW YORK (AP) — High-frequency radio and cable communications have been blacked out in many areas of the world since last night.

The Weather Bureau said it has received numerous reports that northern lights or aurora borealis are interfering with communication relay waves.

The Sargasso Sea, a stretch of floating seaweed, is about 350 miles from the Florida coast.

Letter Blasts UM Recruiting

Ohio Man Says Rich Alumnus Contributed to 'M' Player Fund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Journal today carried contents of a letter it said had been written by the secretary of Ohio State University Alumni Assn., Jack Fullen, to the alumni advisory board, dated last Dec. 14.

In it, Fullen recounted a conversation he said took place in OSU athletic director Richard Larkins' hotel suite in Cleveland.

The Fullen letter went on:

"Ernie (Godfrey) turned to the man to tell him how dirty Michigan State was in its recruiting and the former professor said, in effect, that they had to be alert to keep up with Michigan. He said, 'we have names, dates and places and the dope on Michigan. They have 100 wealthy men now who contribute $1,000 a year either directly to the players or through the university . . .

"'If 100 men at $1,000 a year aren't producing the results, maybe now they will have 200 men at $2,000 a year. This will raise the market price of athletes even in Ohio and when it gets tough enough that we can no longer stay competitive, or the other. Big Ten universities can no longer stay competitive, they will start to yell out loud instead of protecting one another as they do now. Whereupon we shall have the damnedest scandal in intercollegiate football."

Prayers were said at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Pursley Funeral Home for Ronny and Donny Hardin, twin sons of James and Lavada Wyke Hardin of 7259 Howell St. Burial was in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery. Dr. Tom Malone of the Emmanuel Baptist Church officiated.

The babies are survived by their parents and a brother, Michael, at home.

Ronny and Donny were born Tuesday in Pontiac General Hospital and lived two hours.

Lonnie Stone

Lonnie Stone, 21, of 3590 Elizabeth Lake Rd., was taken from the Brace-Smith Funeral Home this morning to Harrisburg, Ill., where service and burial will be held. He was killed in an automobile accident on Pontiac Lake road yesterday morning.

Born in Dixon, Ky., Aug. 1, 1934, he was the son of Will and Georgie Stone. He came to Pontiac from Harrisburg eight years ago and was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Surviving besides his mother are six sisters, Mrs. Edith Thaxton, Mrs. Flossie Flemings and Mrs. Inez Risinger, all of Pontiac; Shirley Dale Stone of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Loretta Hill and Mrs. Ollie Thompson, both of Harrisburg; four brothers, Finis Stone of Pontiac, J. C. Stone of Elrado, Ill., Donald and Willie Stone, both of Harrisburg.

Mr. Stone was discharged from the Army Air Force Tuesday.

House Dems Switch; Join Ike's Farm Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democrats, in a fast change of pace, today switched their affections from short-lived new farm subsidy proposals to a two-billion-dollar farm bill patterned after President Eisenhower's suggestions.

Less than 24 hours after proposing it, Democratic farm leaders in the House last night dumped plans to press for "compensatory payments" to farmers in the form of cash subsidies intended to bring farm prices to the level of 90 per cent of parity.

In its stead, they put forward plans to present a compromise farm bill containing Eisenhower's soil bank program and other noncontroversial provisions of the catch-all measure vetoed two weeks ago by the President.

The switch, latest in a series of confused maneuvers, came after Republican farm belt members and many Democratic House members turned a cold shoulder on cash subsidy payments to farmers.

To Quiz Survivor of Fatal Smashup

A statement was to be taken this morning from the sole survivor of the auto accident Wednesday night in Waterford Township which claimed the lives of four township youths after an alleged drinking spree.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, will question Wayne Cunningham, 23, of 280 N. Saginaw St.

Cunningham is listed in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital, where he is being treated for severe cuts and bruises. The other youths were dead when township police arrived at the scene.

The accident reportedly climaxed a night of beer drinking during which five youths in a car bearing the same license plate allegedly smashed car windows, fought with a motorist and threatened a housewife.

JAMES RUSSELL

Missing Boy's Body Is Found in River

LYONS (AP)—The body of 8-year-old James Russell was recovered today from the Grand River, ending a widespread search.

The boy disappeared last Tuesday.

His body was found at a bend in the river near the north city limits after the water level had been dropped by closing off Consumers Power Co. dams along the stream.

Roads Booklet Still Available at Plan Office

Over 1,200 copies of "Wagon Roads to Expressways," the Oakland County Plan Commission's booklet on area roads, already have been distributed, co-author Robert E. Larson said yesterday.

Larson said over 800 copies still are available without charge at the Commission's office, 1 Lafayette St.

The booklet traces the historical growth of road systems in the area and discusses proposed solutions to current problems.

Three Persons Injured in Two Car Collision

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Three persons were taken to Beaumont Hospital following a two-car collision at the Woodward and North Hunter intersection at 3 p.m. yesterday.

One driver, William J. Lewis of Berkley, was unhurt, but the other, Charles H. Messer, 65, of Clarkston, received a fractured left knee. He is still in Beaumont. His wife, Elsie, 58, and mother, Margaret, 87, of Erie, Mich., were treated and released.

Private Rites Slated for Edward Arnold

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Private funeral services for actor Edward Arnold will be conducted tomorrow at a North Hollywood mortuary, with interment in San Fernando Mission Cemetery.

The star of stage and screen died yesterday at his Encino home of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 66.

Merritt in Hospital

Oakland County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt is a patient in William Beaumont Hospital with a mild heart attack.

$750 Dog to Die for Biting Child, 3

BIRMINGHAM — A dog valued at $750 has been sentenced to die by a justice of the peace.

The dog, owned by the Early Yankee family, 2115 West Lincoln, was the dog which six times bit the three-year-old Edward J. Rodgers several weeks ago. Justice of the Peace John J. Gafill decided Wednesday. He also agreed with Chief of Police Ralph W. Moxley's contention that the dog was vicious and should be destroyed.

Dogbites about the child's head required several weeks hospital treatment.

A ten-day wait will be allowed before the dog is killed, Moxley said, in order to allow the Yankee family to appeal the case if they desire.

The dog, an Irish setter, is a show dog. He was identified by Mrs. Edward Rodgers as the one she saw biting her son on the Rodgers lawn at 2201 W. Lincoln.

The Yankee family has agreed to pay expenses for the lad's hospitalization, Moxley reported.

Record School Aid Bill OK'd by Williams

LANSING (AP)—A new law calling for distribution of a record high 220 million dollars in state aid for local school operations in the year starting July 1 was spread on the books today.

* * *

Passed by the Legislature April 7, the bill was signed Thursday by Gov. Williams, who said it contained "significant improvements" but "leaves much to be desired."

The new law will mean increased financial help to every school district in the state, and considerably more for some.

* * *

It pegs equalization at $190—that is, commits the state to see that at least this amount is available for schooling of each public elementary grade and high school pupil in the state.

The Day in Birmingham

New Stores Starting Up; Include Community Bank

BIRMINGHAM—New businesses in the Birmingham area include a dress shop, a bank branch and a car wash.

Soon to join the burgeoning shopping area on West Long Lake in Bloomfield Hills is a branch of the Community National Bank.

The modern, brick building will be fifth location of the Pontiac firm's offices. Its neighbors are Minor's party store which opened earlier this year, and the remodeled building where several small businesses are starting operations beneath the art department offices of McManus, John and Adams.

On Pierce street in Birmingham, Colonial decor is being carried out in fronts of three new stores. All are in a building being built by the Samaly Co. of Detroit.

The Suzette Shop, open for several weeks, at 241 Pierce, is carrying all types of women's wear except hats and shoes. Owned by the Morris Goldbergs of Detroit, it is being operated by Mrs. Goldberg while her husband runs their other store, Petite Fashions, on 7 Mile near Greenfield in Detroit.

Modern lighting, pastel colors, and blonde wood compromise with the Early American sign and doorway for decor.

Expected next door is a Doubleday-Doran Bookstore, and a "collegiate" shop with teenage boys' wear. Completion of the locations is foreseen soon now that the builder is back from Arizona.

At Hunter and Forest, ground is broken for Jax Car Wash, to be run by the firm owning a Jax operation at Meyers and Six Mile. Building permit, issued last week, estimates the cost at $50,000, for the colonial brick structure.

* * *

Mayor James Allen has proclaimed May 6 through 13 as Burglary Week. Attention is called to leaving homes prone to burglars by not notifying delivery men or leaving all lights out when residents travel.

* * *

A rummage sale at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church today is benefiting the building fund.

* * *

Past Chiefs of Pythian Sisters will bring fruit for infirmary patients to their 8 p.m. meeting tonight at Mrs. John Brown's home, 588 Cherry.

* * *

The spring concert of Embury Methodist Church is at 8:15 tonight, with a quartet and trio joining in the sacred and secular music presentations.

* * *

Tag Day today is benefiting the MOMS unit No. 3, and their efforts for hospitalized veterans and families.

Montgomery Negroes Continue Bus Boycott

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (INS) — Montgomery's Negroes, vowing "we will never go back to Jim Crow buses," today continued their mass bus boycott which already has lasted four and a half months.

* * *

At an emotion-charged meeting at the Trinity Baptist Church last night, more than 2,500 Negroes stood up, shouted and waved their arms in unanimously approving a resolution "to keep the boycott" unless city officials end segregation on the buses.

* * *

The Montgomery City Lines, Inc. itself, has issued a desegregation order on its buses, but city officials have threatened to arrest anyone who violates municipal segregation ordinances.

Zhukov Seeks Prestige for Red Armed Forces

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Georgi Zhukov has demanded that the Communist party increase the prestige of Russia's armed forces and commanding officers.

* * *

The defense minister told a special meeting of the armed forces' commanding political officers yesterday that this task should be the basis of party propaganda among the troops.

The speech was aimed in effect at the methods of army control that prevailed under Stalin. It was reported in Red Star, the army newspaper.

Driving Teachers Meet

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Driver education instructors from Michigan will meet at the University of Michigan today and tomorrow for the fourth annual conference of teachers in driver education and the Michigan Driver and Safety Assn.

Prep Goes to UM

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Some 1,500 Michigan high school students will get a taste of college life Saturday at the University of Michigan. It is part of the annual university day program in which the campus opens its doors to high school students, including "mock" lectures.

Seventeen Girls Entered in Amvets Beauty Contest

Seventeen area girls will vie for top honors in the Amvets Post 16 Beauty Contest to be held Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the Roosevelt Hotel Ballroom, with the winner to represent Pontiac at the state convention contest in Grand Rapids.

Entertainment and dancing will be included in the Saturday program with the public invited to attend. Variations in dancing will be displayed by six members of a local dance school and a local amateur artist will perform in pantomine.

A rehearsal of contest routine was conducted at the Roosevelt last night in order to aid the girls in becoming more familiar with the procedure.

Chairman Keith Morgan said contestants would be judged in bathing suits and informal dress. The winners will be chosen by a group of Mayor William Donaldson, Sheriff Frank Irons, Prosecutor, Fred Ziem, Judith L. Clemence, Society Editor, The Pontiac Press, and Robert Hanger, of radio station WPON.

Miss Amvet Post 16 will receive an expense-paid trip to Grand Rapids and be presented a formal gown to wear in the state event. The Michigan winner will later compete for national honors. The contest is open to all single girls between 17 and 23.

The intensity of sound is measured in decibels.

Postman's Attempt Fails as Woman Dies of Burns

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—An alert postman smothered flames covering Mrs. Clara H. Stiebling's dress but the 70-year-old woman died of burns several hours later.

* * *

William A. Eaton said he heard faint cries from the home of Mrs. Stiebling while he was delivering mail. He found her in the kitchen with her dress in flames. He put them out with a blanket before police arrived.

Mrs. Stiebling told hospital attendants her dress caught fire from some papers on the kitchen stove.

Small Heart Patient in Fair Condition

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Little 3-year-old Eddie Bekins of Grand Haven, Mich., continued in "fair condition" today following a delicate heart operation Tuesday in which physicians gave him 3 chances in 10 to survive.

Eddie spent 3½ hours in surgery at University of Minnesota Hospital Tuesday, then was wheeled to a recovery room from which all visitors are barred.

The child had a hole the size of a silver dollar between the chambers of his heart and a block in the pulmonary artery inside the heart.

Eddie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bekins, still are awaiting anxiously a chance to visit the boy. They got a glimpse of him Wednesday, but that was all.

Arrested as a peeping tom, Daniel Makhone, 25, got five months in jail for looking through the window of a girls' hostel in Vereeniging, South Africa.

India Tightens Lid on Religious Visas

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—During a four-month period in January the Indian government rejected every third application of foreign Christian missionaries to work in this country.

A spokesman told questioners in Parliament that in the period 101 missionaries, including 66 from the United States, were granted visas to enter India and 60—35 of them Americans—were refused.

In compliance with a program of strict control of missionaries, permission to work here generally went to persons with special health and educational qualifications or to missionaries who had been residents previously for five years or more, the spokesman said.

Wardens Keep Busy

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Department reported 31 persons convicted of conservation violations during the past week paid $310 in fines and $219 in court costs. Two violators were sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Fire in Press Room Delays Free Press

DETROIT (AP)—The first edition of today's Detroit Free Press was delayed 75 minutes last night by a pressroom fire.

Leslie Crebassa, pressroom superintendent, said the damage, however, was minor.

Pat Partridge, 48, a paperhandler, was overcome in fighting the blaze, which started in an intake ventilator and spread to the paper web of a press.

Partridge and others extinguished the blaze on the press. Firemen put out the fire in the ventilator.

Ventilators had been cleaned earlier in the day by workmen.

The Detroit Club, which joins and utilizes a portion of the Free Press Building, said the walls and ceiling of its ladies' lobby were smoke damaged.

A "Save Rosslare" committee has been formed in Eire to save that town from the effects of erosion.

Comic Book Explains Social Security Tale

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Social Security Administration has put out comic book type of literature to spread its story.

A spokesman said today a million copies of a four-color, 16-page booklet entitled "John's First Job" have been printed and are available at district offices.

"They haven't been out long enough yet for us to evaluate them, but we think a lot of people will read the pictorial story presented that would not read through an unillustrated book in black and white," he said.

Famed Shelby Inn Destroyed

Picturesque Landmark Was Once Pioneer Mart for Early Motorists

SHELBY (AP) — Back in the 1920s, when a roadside stand was something different, Charles T. Schmieding was doing business in a big way.

* * *

It was in 1922 when he built his roadside stand a mile north of this Oceana County community on U.S. 131. But it's all over now. The stand, which blossomed into the Pioneer Inn in 1926, was destroyed by fire last Saturday, ending one of this area's most colorful landmarks.

The idea took form in 1919 when Schmieding ignored his friends' laughter to his idea of building a roadside stand.

"I felt there was a need for such a market," said Schmieding, "because I often had heard tourists and motorists say they wished they could buy some of the fruit and vegetables they saw in the fields around here."

When the stand first was completed, Schmieding sold nearly everything grown on his 110-acre farm through it. A year later he built a cold storage for apples and potatoes, which he sold the year around.

PICTURESQUE MARKET

In 1924 a gas station went up to begin servicing the cars which by that time were becoming more popular all the time. When the actual inn was built in 1926, Schmeiding had a fruit store, service station, tourist rooms, a free camping ground and a parking lot.

The picturesque market, built from stones in Schmieding's fields, was empty when the blaze of undetermined origin left only part of the stone walls standing.

Schmieding said it would cost at least $15,000 to replace the structure and that the cherry wood walls, solid oak floors and hand painted outdoor scenes on the walls probably never would be the same.

* * *

Schmieding has been retired since 1936, but the inn still was in competition with the fanciest of new roadside stands—until last Saturday.

Slate Catholic Chapels at 3 Michigan Colleges

LANSING (AP)—Plans for a fund to provide for Catholic chapels and recreation centers at Michigan State University, Kalamazoo College and Western Michigan College were announced here.

The Most Rev. Joseph H. Albers, bishop of Lansing, said there are between 3,200 and 3,600 Catholic students at Michigan State University and 1,100 Catholic students at Kalamazoo College and Western Michigan College.

Tentative plans are for Michigan State to receive $400,000 from the fund and Kalamazoo and Western Michigan to receive $125,000.

Lady Eden and Soviets Swap Personal Gifts

LONDON (AP)—Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev have given Lady Eden a sable stole similar to the one they presented to Queen Elizabeth II.

Prime Minister Eden and his wife exchanged personal gifts with the visiting Russians, who are returning home today. The British government gave Bulganin and Khrushchev a silver and gold box containing a picture of the interior of the House of Commons.

New Homes to Cost: Bricklayers Given Hike

DETROIT (AP)—New homes in the Detroit area are going to cost more soon, following a rise in construction costs.

A new contract providing a 15-cent hourly pay boost for the bricklayers' union goes into effect Tuesday. The same day automatic wage increases of 10 to 11 cents will come to six other construction trades unions under a two-year contract.

UM Professor Says Assistants Are Old Device

"The old adage that 'History repeats itself' is true in one case," says Claude A. Eggerston, professor of education at the University of Michigan.

The assistant teacher system now being employed to relieve acute teacher shortage was employed in the first part of the 19th century in the United States, says the educator.

"The use of assistants," he continued," may well prove to be a first and necessary stage in the trend toward proper recognition and payment of teachers."

Professor Eggertsen's researches into the history of the movement in England and the United States have established him as one of the country's foremost authorities.

Anglers Eagerly Await Trout Season Opening

For unnumbered thousands of anglers Saturday, April 28, stands out as one of the year's most important dates, the opening of Michigan's 1956 trout season.

Spring's reluctance to do anything about Winter's persistent effort to stage a comeback may cut down the opening day crowds. Like that skilled veteran, Oliver (Red) Lemeaux, many may decide that the fishing will be better two weeks or so later when the water and weather are warmer.

Despite these unfavorable conditions, however, every lake or stream where brook, brown or rainbow trout are likely to lurk will be visited by eager sportsmen. Beginners who don't know the difference between a well tied fly and a June bug as well as experts who know even more about fishing than Ike Walton, will be on hand for the big day.

Because Michigan and Oakland County are so blessed with beautiful trout waters, our Jack Patterson has compiled a list of most likely spots to aid the fisherman. For his State list see Wednesday's Press, page 30. The County list is on page 29.

★ ★ ★

To make sure that nothing will mar the pleasure of your outing, don't forget your fishing license and the trout stamp if you want to catch brook, brown or rainbows. Remember, too, that safety first is important.

Don't take any reckless chances.

U.N. Chief's Efforts Ease Mideast Tension

Although U. N. Secretary General Hammarskjold's Middle East peace mission isn't completed, it already has brought tension-easing results.

While new border incidents complicate his task, they can't hide the importance of his achievements so far. Certainly, he deserves credit for obtaining cease fire pledges from Egypt, Israel and Syria. Lebanon has agreed to co-operate in easing tensions and a similar pledge is expected from Jordan.

Perhaps he was helped by Russia's offer to participate in a Middle East settlement. Nonetheless the preliminary work in obtaining agreement to respect the demarcation line was Mr. Hammarskjold's.

★ ★ ★

As past experience shows, however, a cease fire doesn't mean real peace. It must be followed by more substantial and effective measures. Several obstacles to peace remain unresolved. Among these are Egypt's Suez blockade of Israel's shipping, Cairo radio's appeal to violence and the Arabs' plan for vengeance against Israel. Another is the desperate plight of Arab refugees in Jordan and the Gaza strip.

★ ★ ★

Observers point out that neither side is in a position to make the concessions necessary in the existing situation. But the U. N. can suggest terms that both sides ultimately may be persuaded to accept—if Russia really wants to help achieve peace and its price isn't too high.

There now should be an effort by all interested countries through the U.N. to suggest a permanent settlement. This, of course, should include necessary border revisions, resettlement of refugees and economic aid programs.

Interfaith Amity

Congregation B'Nai Israel was the scene of what we believe was one of the most heartening meetings recently held in Pontiac.

Purpose of the gathering, arranged by Morris Kampner, was a panel discussion of the topic "Youth and the Community," in which civic leaders and young people participated. The program was moderated by Rabbi Hoschander. It wasn't what was said that impressed us most, but where it was said and who said it.

★ ★ ★

Gathered in the synagogue not only were members of that faith, but Catholics and Protestants. Among the speakers were Mayor Donaldson, William Coulacos of the Boys Club and the Rev. C. George Widdifield of All Saints Episcopal Church. Others who spoke were Dr. James McHugh of the State Hospital and Paul Sullivan, school psychologist.

★ ★ ★

The six teen-age panelists were Thomas Lufkin, St. Frederick High junior; Charles Williams, David Cartier and Leah Berg, Pontiac High juniors and Vickie Everett and Kren Beam, Pontiac seniors.

In our view this helpful program will benefit everyone who was present and promote greater interfaith understanding and amity. We hope there will be many more such meetings.

"Don't start off the day unpleasantly," advises a psychologist. We shall follow this advice as soon as we figure out a way to start off the day without getting up.

A Risky Business

David Lawrence Says:

The Extension of Federal Police Power Becoming Evident in State Procedures

WASHINGTON—The day is not far off when the federal government will take over some of the important functions of maintaining law and order which hitherto have been considered by the courts to be solely the responsibility of states, counties and cities. An extension of the federal police power is under way.

The latest move whereby the House is being asked by its judiciary committee to pass legislation permitting the attorney general to bring civil suits to enforce civil rights—if confirmed as constitutional by the Supreme Court in a future case—would mean that Congress could provide criminal penalties, too.

In fact, Chairman Cellar of the House Judiciary Committee recently sponsored exactly such a provision which, for reasons of political expediency, was temporarily dropped from the committee's bill on civil rights in favor of one being pressed by the administration.

FEDERAL INTERPRETATION

Historically the Constitution has been interpreted as meaning that no state can pass a law abridging the right to vote or the freedom of the press or any of the "privileges and immunities of citizens." But up to now this has been construed by the Department of Justice in administration after administration and by the Supreme Court in decision after decision to mean that, unless it can be shown that state enforcement machinery has actually broken down, the federal police power cannot be lawfully interposed.

Only last Monday, however, the Supreme Court reached into the procedures of the state of Illinois in a case which didn't involve a federal crime at all—indeed, it was a local case of robbery—and ruled that the state court hadn't complied with a technicality in procedure. Who is to decide, for instance, whether a stenographic copy of the testimony shall be given free or charged for when a petition for appeal is filed? Up to now the Supreme Court of the state of Illinois has thought it could handle such a question as a state matter.

The Supreme Court by a 5-to-4 vote this week said the Illinois court was wrong. Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court, in a minority opinion, said:

"As I view this case, it contains none of the elements hitherto regarded as essential to justify action by this court under the Fourteenth Amendment. In truth what we have here is but the failure of Illinois to adopt as promptly as other states a desirable reform in its criminal procedure . . . I think it is beyond the province of this court to tell Illinois that it must provide such procedures."

PUNISHMENT LACKING

The Constitution now, in other words, is what the Department of Justice and the Supreme Court together may say it is. The Constitution heretofore has been construed by the Supreme Court to mean that no state can make any law abridging the right to vote on account of race or color and that no state may fail to guarantee the right of the citizen to "life, liberty and property." But up to now the Department of Justice has not intervened to punish murder on the picket line or in racial troubles unless there was evidence of a breakdown of the enforcement machinery of the state itself.

Recently—in 1953—the labor unions closed down several newspapers in New York City. The unions acted in concert and some of them ignored their contract obligations to work. They accomplished together by conspiracy the denial of a constitutional right. They abridged freedom of the press.

But the Department of Justice held this was a state matter. Likewise, in case after case of violence at the factory gate the Department of Justice has not intervened even though unions do act in concert and carry on their activities as organizations sanctioned by federal law.

* * *

With the new proposals that look into "economic pressure," on the other hand, the attorney general would be given the power to enforce civil rights instead of leaving it to aggrieved citizens to bring suits. It would be a short step then to federal intervention and the enactment of criminal penalties.

Iodin Ration Grows Hair, Women Reveal in Letters

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

"Formerly," writes a Pennsylvania lady, "my hands and feet were like ice most of the time and I always felt chilled to the bone.

"I don't have that trouble any more. In fact, except on occasions, I don't wear a slip.

"Also my hair was a dirty dishwater color when clipped, and the ends always broke off before a desirable length was reached. So I didn't have it cut any more, because it never seemed to grow.

"Now my hair has a light brown color, never breaks off, looks a lot thicker, and I get it cut every three months.

"I have been eating Iodin Ration tablets for the past two years." (Mrs. C. J. A.)

One of the manifestations of iodin deficiency, described in this column Feb. 21 and Monday, April 9, is lusterless, falling, breaking at the ends, prematurely gray. In many instances the eyebrows, too, are noticeably thin, especially the outer thirds.

A Massachusetts lady writes:

"Have been taking the Iodin Ration for two years, and I want to tell that my hair, which used to be brown has turned nearly black. I always had wavy hair, but now it is curly, so curly that everyone thinks I have a permanent." (Mrs. R. N. G.)

A September—I mean a New Jersey lady writes:

"I started taking the Iodin Ration last September and here are my findings: Vitality considerably improved . . . Skin looks healthier and clearer . . . Menstruation which was entirely gone for 14 months occurred after three months on Iodin Ration and has been regular and painless since — which hadn't happened before since 1848." (Mrs. S.H.C)

Colorado lady writes:

". . . Within three months after starting Iodin Ration almost every ailment had vanished. Hip joints no longer painful, sore on foot gone, no more daily headaches, menstruate regularly with no trouble, vitiligo spots I had since my first baby 12 years ago were much smaller or had gone, helped my husband paint house and redecorated the interior myself, feel just wonderful . . . (Mrs. B. F.)

For instructions send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet The Iodin Ration. And please understand—

1. This is not medicine. It is nutrition.

2. It can do no harm. Whether it will do any good is for you to decide after a reasonable test—of not less than three months.

3. Many persons declare it has restored the natural color to their graying hair, neither deny nor affirm. I'm just glad they feel and look younger.

4. No competent physician or nutrition authority will deny that an iodin ration—that is, a certain quantity of iodin in one form or another taken daily or regularly — is as necessary for good nutrition, functional efficiency and vite as a protein, calcium or vitamin B ration.

5. Let no reader infer that I recommend or approve taking iodin or iodide in medicinal doses—in any circumstance that is a question to submit to a doctor, not to a health column.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Clarkston Reader Urges Voters to Back Siler Bill

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am wondering if the church people of Pontiac are aware that there is now in committee in Washington a bill which would outlaw all liquor advertising in media crossing state lines.

The United States Brewers Foundation has warned its members that they fear that if the bill comes up for vote, it will pass. They are, therefore, striving to kill it in committee.

All interested parties should write to The Honorable George A. Dondero, House Office Building, Washington, D. C., urging his help in bringing the Siler Bill, H. R. 4627 out of committee and onto the floor for open debate and discussion.

As a mother of five fine young people who never see any sign of drink in their own home, I resent having this advertising pushed at them on radio, television and magazines. If you are interested in stopping this, take a minute and write a short letter.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me. — Romans 7:20.

* * *

God made sin possible just as he made all lying wonders possible, but he never made it a fact, never set anything in his plan to harmonize with it. Therefore it enters the world as a forbidden fact against everything that God has ordained.—Bushnell.

Who Really Rules Soviet? It Looks Like Khrushchev

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Who rules Russia?

A five-year-old British boy asked Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin if he were Santa Claus.

* * *

This must have pleased the silver-haired, goateed man. It is practically the only attention he has received since he went on tour in Britain.

As usual, Nikita Khrushchev, the Communist Party boss, has attracted most of the attention. Bulganin utters a few words; Khrushchev explodes.

Khrushchev, who celebrated his 62nd anniversary while bobbing across the North Sea last week, exploded in various ways when he got the chill treatment, plus a few pertinent questions.

* * *

Without being asked, he said that the Soviets are working on a guided missile with a hydrogen-bomb warhead that can be dropped anywhere in the world.

He added that the Soviet Union is far ahead of the United States in the sense that a hydrogen bomb had been exploded from an airplane.

QUERIES SNUBBED

Khrushchev, perhaps forgetting his own theme in wooing Socialists for a "popular front," brushed off British Laborite questions about what happened to all the "Socialists" which the Reds claim to be.

* * *

There are more than 200 prominent Russian and East European Stalinist are which Khrushchev and of these people probably are in unmarked graves—victims of the Stalinist ear which Khrushchev and Bulganin are now trying to correct.

Bulganin, the red-faced jovial man who might be mistaken for Santa Claus, has the ability of coming out on top in a nominal job—thus far. At the age of 25 he was a secret police agent, doing the dirty work in prison cellars.

Khrushchev, the coal miner's son who can truly claim to be of working class origin in the Bolshevist setup, headed the Stalinists against the Trotskyites and Bukharinites in the days leading up to the purge.

* * *

He has led a lot of the talk about deglamorizing his former boss, Stalin. He has taken a lead in lots of matters, foreign and domestic, to such an extent that he is regarded as the No. 1 man in Russia, despite the theme of "collective leadership."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Psychologist Suggests 'Fear Parties' as Way of Easing Children's Anxieties

"Fear Parties" are one of the most wholesome innovations in the schools. They help reassure timid youngsters who otherwise feel they are abnormal in being afraid of dogs or lightning or the dark, etc. Vaccinate your children in this manner and you'll soon notice how much more relaxed and happy they become.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-341: Jimmy W., aged 11, has a defeatism complex.

"Dr. Crane, he thinks he is a coward," his teacher informed me after I had addressed her state teachers' convention.

"He says he is afraid of the dark. And his father ridicules him for it.

"So he feels that he is a disgrace to his father who is a successful business leader in the community.

"Dr. Crane, what should we teachers do to help such children?"

FEAR PARTIES

First, schedule a "Fear Party" in your classroom. The teacher should tactfully start out by confessing some of her own fears when she was back at the age of the present group of students.

This "Fear Party" idea works admirably in Sunday school, too.

Then, after the teacher has told about her own terrors, casually ask the class what things they are afraid of.

As a prelude to this request, announce that almost everybody has some dread or complex regardless of his age.

Many grown men are still afraid of the dark or of closed places or of high places or of cats or broken mirrors, ladders and other superstitions.

So hold a group confessional. Many teachers have reported phenomenal results thereafter.

"Dr. Crane, after I confessed to a childhood fear of lightning," one such teacher recently informed me, "several of my pupils eagerly told of their present fears and soon the entire class began to confide all sorts of terrors and anxiety.

"And when we had finished, their tension seemed relieved and several of the youngsters came up after class to tell me how glad they were that we had held our 'Fear Party,' since they had been ashamed to think they alone were afraid.

"Now that they realize their classmates also had fears, they were much relieved. For they no longer felt abnormal."

PANEL DISCUSSION

A second excellent plan is for the school principal or president of the PTA to invite all the fathers to the next PTA meeting.

Then have a panel discussion. Pick out in advance perhaps three alert children of different grades who are to sit on the panel with three parents.

Don't place the parents of these same three youngsters on the panel, however, for the children will speak more freely otherwise.

Then let a father on the panel read the items on the "Test for Mothers" mentioned below. Let him ask the three children for their comments and criticisms.

For variation, let one of the mothers on the panel then read items from the "Test for Fathers" and again let the children carry on from there.

The chairman of the meeting can previously announce that confidence is a habit which builds up over the years. So many assured, dominant fathers were really timid, shy youngsters, but they have tactfully forgotten their own childhood fears.

For variation, you can schedule a "Grandparents Panel" as I'll describe more fully tomorrow.

But by all means have the "Fear Party" each term, for it will do much to relieve apprehensive youngsters and may actually save them from sanitariums and shock treatment later on in life.

Good parents and teachers thus vaccinate children against mental ill health.

* * *

So send for the 200-point "Tests for Good Parents" enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Use them at home or in PTA discussions. And let your older children rate you parents, thereon, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Lebanon Pledge Sought by Dag

U.N. Leader Beginning Parley for Cease-Fire Order in Peace Task

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—U. N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold began talks here today expected to produce a cease-fire pledge by Lebanon and advance his Middle East peace mission still another step.

Bolstered by cease-fire agreements from Egypt and Jordan and a tentative promise from Syria, the secretary general appeared on the verge of setting up a new ring of peace pledges between Israel and all her Arab neighbors.

Hammarskjold was to confer with Lebanon's president Camille Chamoun and Foreign Minister Salim Lahoud.

He is expected to go back to Cairo tomorrow for final talks with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser. Then he will return to Israel for further conferences with Premier David Ben-Gurion.

FIVE-POINT PLAN

Sources in Cairo said the secretary general has laid down a five-point plan to keep peace on the Israeli-Egyptian frontier. It reportedly calls for:

1. Withdrawal of forces from each side of the line.
2. Roving U.N. patrols along the demarcation lines.
3. Observation posts at critical points.
4. More U.N. observers.
5. Full freedom of movement for U.N. personnel.

One hurdle Hammarskjold must clear is agreement by Israel to suspend plans to divert the waters of the river Jordan. Israel has threatened to go on with the project despite Arab opposition.

Lebanon, Syria and Jordan have all made clear that peace will hinge on whether Israel intends to continue the river project in the demilitarized zone between Lake Huleh and the Sea of Galilee.

Soviet Journal Defends Some of Stalin's Ideas

MOSCOW (AP)—The authoritative magazine Kommunist today called Stalin "one of the strongest Marxist" and said it is wrong to consider recent criticism as a rejection of all his works.

"All that is of value must be taken from Stalin's works, examining with a critical eye the wrong concepts there are in them," said the magazine of world communism.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

A FUNNY NAME FOR A FLOWER
"Quaker Lady"

This dainty little flower has a demure charm, and is also known by a host of other nick-names such as Quaker bonnets, Nuns, Innocence, Bluets, Eyebrights and Little Washerwomen.

Flowering from April until July, "Quaker Lady" is found all through the Eastern part of North America, south as far as Georgia and in the north in Nova Scotia and Quebec.

It is a grass-like plant, three to seven inches tall, growing in thick clumps or tufts in open grassy places, pasture land, and on wet rocks. The flowers are pale blue with white centers touched with gold in the middle.

In the background is a little Quaker girl in her gray gown with white cape-collar, white cuffs and white bonnet facing. She carries a yellow basket with a red napkin over it and is walking down a yellow path between borders of green grass.

This is another picture to color for a wild flower series in your scrapbook.

(This idea comes from Sue Mason, Lawton, Okla. If you have an idea that Junior Editors can use, send it in care of this newspaper and it may win a $10 award. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

FALLS CITY, Neb. (INS) — A block-long walk by a 13-year-old boy in Falls City cost his parents $20. That was the damage estimate set by the Southeast Nebraska Construction Company after the boy walked a full block over freshly poured concrete paving. He added his initials for good measure.

Britain to Meet Inflation With Government Lottery

LONDON (AP)—In a little back room in Whitehall, a group of sober-suited economists are working out the final details of Britain's latest get-rich-quick scheme—a state-run lottery.

* * *

It is a modest enough affair. You buy a one-pound ($2.80) government bond — which holds its face value for all time but doesn't earn interest — and once a year you get a chance to win $2,800 in a draw made by an electronic computer. There will be a draw every three months with a quarter of the bonds being put into the sweep each time.

Small stuff indeed, compared to the vast sums, up to $210,000, won every week for 7 cents staked in the soccer pools. But it is almost a revolution in Britain.

INFLATIONARY MOVE

State lotteries with sky-high prizes have been run for years in other countries, but successive British governments have fought shy of them on moral grounds. Now Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold Macmillan has seized on the lottery plan as an anti-inflationary measure to siphon off some of Britain's surplus spending power into government savings.

* * *

Macmillan fends off the "gambling" issue with this argument: there is no wager on his bonds, since there can be no losers, and the money is there any time you want to cash in the bond. Still, some churchmen and legislators protest the scheme is catering to the wrong instincts.

* * *

Harold Wilson, a former Labor Cabinet minister, criticized Macmillan during recent debate for basing Britain's solvency "on the proceeds of a squalid raffle." The Anglican Bishop of Willesden, the Rt. Rev. George Ingle, said the gambling motive is to be "deprecated," and Methodist leader Donald Soper said it is "indefensible" morally.

LITTLE OPPOSITION

Generally, opposition to the scheme has been small.

To the average Englishman, morals don't come into the matter at all. And there is but one question — Is it a better paying proposition than the football pools or the horses?

The new bonds go on sale at the end of the year, with individual holdings limited to 250. The government will set aside for prizes 4 per cent interest on all money invested and will pay all the administrative expenses. Thus, if 10 million bonds are sold, there will be 400 prizes of $2,800 each—and all tax free.

* * *

Treasury officials decline to estimate how much in new savings they hope to attract, but financial writers hinted at a possible 56 million dollars a year—or about the same amount pulled in by normal interest-earning savings certificates.

Gov. Williams Signs Compensation Bill

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has signed a measure raising workmen's compensation rates but complained that the rates are still not high enough.

While approving the law Thursday, Williams took the opportunity for another blast at the Republican-controlled legislature.

"This bill represents some improvement in the workmen's compensatioin benefits, but still falls far short of what we need and what I recommended," Williams said.

The governor said the bill gives an average increase in benefits of $4.71 on the basis of an average weekly wage of $90.

He said the average compensation for injured workers would be $40.34 a week compared to his recommendation for $65 a week.

"The bill totally fails to measure up to the accepted standard of workmen's compensation—that an injured worker should receive approximately two-thirds of his weekly wage," Williams said.

Hoosier GOP Relies on Ike to Put Brakes on Dem Bid

INDIANAPOLIS (INS)—Whether President Eisenhower's bid for a second White House term can stop a pronounced Democratic trend in Indiana is the leading topic among the politicos today.

Hoosier Republicans were a gloomy crew before the President made his big announcement and they had good reason for their sadness.

The GOP had suffered its worst defeat in the nation in the election last November and was plagued with a farm vote defection and bitter factional fights within the party.

Lt. Gov. Harold W. Handley, one of the two leading candidates for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, outlined the debacle of his party at the polls graphically in a recent statement urging the Republicans to go to work.

POINTS OUT DROP

Handley pointed out that in 1952 the GOP elected 69 per cent of the township trustees and only 51 per cent in 1954, when the party also lost one congressional seat.

The most crushing blow was suffered in the municipal elections last fall. The number of Republican mayors elected dropped from 70 per cent in 1951 to 30 per cent last November, which Handley said "was probably the worst Republican defeat in the entire nation."

There are now almost twice as many Democratic as GOP announced candidates for governor, the totals being nine and five.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart has told newspapermen frankly that he is "running scared" this year. He seems sure of renomination, but re-election is another matter.

The only announced Democratic candidate for senator is former Agriculture Secretary Claude R. Wickard, and he also is probably certain of nomination. Wickard is speaking almost daily all over the state and is capitalizing on slipping farm prices.

FACTIONAL DISPUTES

The factional issue has arisen because of constant battles between Sen. William E. Jenner and Gov. George N. Craig for the past four years over control of the GOP state organization.

Jenner did nothing for the Republican mayoralty nominees last fall and has sat on his hands so far this year. He has told friends that the GOP state organization, now controlled by Craig, has not asked him to participate.

* * *

Craig also has antagonized other veteran party leaders and has been assailed often because of high salaries and performance bonds and insurance awarded to high politicos in connection with the $288 million northern Indiana toll road, which will be the last link in a Chicago-to-New York pay thoroughfare.

KEFAUVER UNOPPOSED

Craig entered Eisenhower's name in the presidential primary May 8. His only competition will come from Lar Daly, a Chicago manufacturer who has campaigned in the state wearing a striped, red-white-and-blue Uncle Sam suit.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is the only name listed on the Democratic ballot, and such is a sure winner since write-in votes are not permitted.

Under state law, the state's 26-vote delegation must support Kefauver on the first ballot at the Chicago convention. After that, they may vote as they choose and since the state party organization is friendly to Adlai E. Stevenson, he is expected to pick up most of the 26 votes.

Many polls have shown that Eisenhower has retained his popularity in Indiana and the Republican leaders are banking on this situation to bring their state, senatorial, and congressional tickets to victory.

Indiana now has nine GOP and two Democratic congressmen. Indications are that the Democrats will retain their two congressmen and perhaps add others.

Of the Republican districts, the following appear to be in danger: Third (South Bend area), fifth (Kokomo-Marion), sixth (Terre Haute), ninth (Bedford) and eleventh (Indianapolis).

Edison Rips Charge on A Project Blast

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Edison Co. today lashed back at charges that it and other power companies were trying ot slough off half the cost of atomic power reactors on the government by asking that the cost be a tax deduction.

The charges were leveled by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), who argued that development of atomic power ought to be taken over again by the U.S. government. The government in 1954 agreed to let private companies develop such plants.

* * *

Edison also contradicted Gore's claim that development of the power project was not going forward rapidly enough.

No Honor Among—

DALLAS (AP)—A 65-year-old man reported to police that he was robbed of $10 and officers had little trouble in arresting the suspect. Both men were in the county jail when the robbery occurred.

Hal Boyle Says:

Softhearted Dad Evades Firm Discipline

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the most important duties a parent faces is the infliction of discipline on one's offspring.

* * *

All my life I have been a rebel against the idea of conformity. I have never wanted to be like anyone else. I have always wanted to be only myself—and after many years I'm not sure I've found the goal. I know, better than any critic, that I have yet to become the one I'd like to be.

SO CONFUSED

Well, late in life but young in heart, my wife and I went to a department store to buy a gargle and a toothbrush, and—you know how those department store people get confused.

* * *

Instead of what we really ordered, they sent a crying baby, wearing a pure mink diaper, to our address. Rather than say Macy's was wrong, rather than criticize Gimbel's, we took the girl. We named her Tracy Ann, and she is still the only thing after more than 18 years of marriage that a department store delivered which my wife has taken without checking on the exchange possibilities.

Our only investment in her has been love, and we feel no need of a refund.

* * *

The other evening, worn out by a hard day of adventure with other children, she ran a slight temperature, and her mother, hovering over her, heard her consoling murmers to herself:

"Mommy loves Tracy. Daddy loves Tracy, Everybody loves Tracy."

AND IT'S TRUE

This, so far as I know, is true. Neighborhood mothers like to have their children play with Tracy. The neighborhood children like to play with her.

* * *

But what about family discipline?

It is only when she is alone with her parents that the real devil succeeds, the angel in Tracy. She won't be three until late June. It is usually only to us alone that she shows her temper.

* * *

Any real criticism brings her to tears, and it is so unfair to a child that I do not have the heart to use if often.

LOVES FREEDOM

I love the idea of freedom so much that I truly hate to scratch at a flea, realizing, as I do, each living thing is entitled to its empire.

The only time I ever swat Tracy hard is when she climbs into the window area—we live on the 8th floor—or when she starts into the street without holding my hand.

She has been told not to do these things. She has been told the reason why. To climb into the window area and lean out too far, or to adventure into the street by herself, might cause us to lose her, and that without her life could never be the same again for her father and mother.

* * *

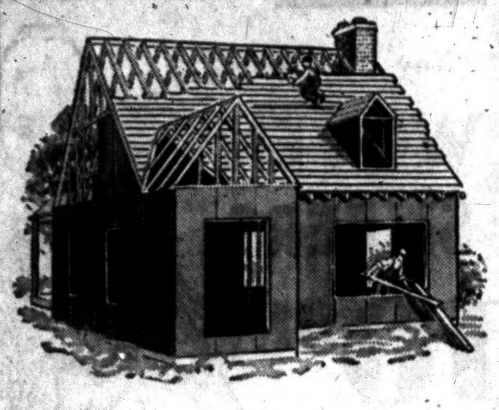

The odd thing I have found is that when I pummel her behind real hard out of blind panic because she has violated the laws of her personal safety she will weep but little, and come and cling to the palm swung against her. She knows why.

BABY TIGRESS

But if, jokingly, I raise my hand threateningly over a minor infraction of our family rules she will stand there, a baby tigress at bay, and say, "You can't spank me!" Sure enough I can't.

Generally speaking, I have found that in dealing with a daughter almost three — particularly in solving such topics as, "Don't make your poor old mother pick up all those toys, or, "If you really don't want this breakfast, please let me scrape it off your face" — it is better to abstain from a firm palm and hope for the best from a heart-to-heart talk.

At least when a woman is approaching the age of three she'll hear you through.

LEROY W. McENTEE

McEntee Joins Staff of County Prosecutor

Leroy W. McEntee of Royal Oak yesterday replaced Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Ralph Moore, returning to private practice after two months as assistant prosecutor, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem announced.

A graduate of the University of Miami and Detroit College of Law, McEntee was admitted to the bar in 1952, Ziem said. He is married and has four children.

Ziem said yesterday he regrets Moore's departure from his office, and praised his work as "excellent."

Ike, H.S.T., Hoover Portrait Suggested

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower has been urged to have his picture taken with former Presidents Herbert Hoover and Harry S. Truman.

* * *

Sen. Henry Jackson (D-Wash) said the idea came from a constituent, Ralph Therriault of Warden, Wash., and that he passed it along to the White House.

* * *

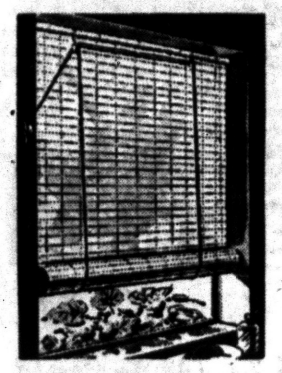

Jackson quoted Therriault as saying such a picture would be "worthwhile for historical reasons." The senator asked the President to let him know what he thinks of it.

* * *

'Home and Builders Show' Scheduled at Rochester

Opening May 25 at Halbach Field

3-Day Event to Have 64 Exhibition Booths, Huge Outdoor Display

ROCHESTER — Rochester's Home and Builders Show will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 25, 26 and 27, it was announced today by co-chairmen Frank Firnschild and Fred Maynard.

The show is again sponsored by the Rochester Lions Club which last year inaugurated the village's first show of this nature, an event which drew thousands during its three-day exhibition.

Housing will again consist of a mammoth tent to be erected on Halbach Field in Rochester. There will be 64 exhibition booths inside the tent, and space outside for display of the latest products of the automobile dealers.

Exhibition booth space has been going fast. Those who still desire space can call sales chairman Clinton Smith at OL 1-5111. A list of exhibitors will be released shortly.

Prizes totaling over $1,000 in cash and merchandise will be given away during the show, according to the sponsors.

WHICH ARE THE REAL CUBS?—"All three," say Oxford Cub Scouts Greg Roberts (left) and Earl Delano (right) as they line up on either side of a life-sized display advertising their Cub Scout Fair. Even the "dummy" Cub is doing an active job of publicizing the festival which the Oxford Cub Pack 32 will present from 4 to 8 p. m. Saturday at Daniel Axford School. Proceeds from the fair will go for handicraft supplies and pack administration, thus providing better scouting for Oxford boys. Eight dens with 76 Cub members will take part.

National Scout Round-Up Plans

Highland Area Readied for 5,600 Campers in June-July

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The spotlight fell on Waterford Village PTA last night as members heard Sherman Worrell, conservation head for the Highland Recreation Area, describe the preparations for the National Girl Scout Round-up to be held here this summer. The event is scheduled for June 29 to July 11, inclusive.

The area to be used for this first nation-wide project is bounded by Highland, Ford, Teeple Lake and Duck Lake roads. These grounds have all been staked out and visitors and campers are being temporarily excluded.

The actual camping site will comprise 640 acres. 5200 senior Girl Scouts and 400 counselors will have their tents pitched there. Some five miles of pipeline are now being laid for the water supply. Shower buildings are being erected. These will be only wooden structures on the grounds, aside from the present Haven Hill buildings which, incidently, will house headquarters for national Girl Scout officials.

The U. S. Army is involved in the project and Worrell told of their help in the preparations. Besides the water system and sewage disposals, the Army will be installing the communications system. During the encampment, they will furnish buses, trucks, ambulances, a field hospital manned by 146 hospital corpsmen and engineering personnel. MPs will be guarding the interior grounds and state police will be bivouacked outside the grounds for exterior patrol.

Visitors will be allowed at the Round-up from 10 a.m. to sundown and several special events have been planned for the natural arena there.

Will Vie in K. of P. State Meet

Waterford Student Wins District Speech Contest

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Karl Mantyla a 17-year-old Waterford Township High School senior, won the Pontiac district speech contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias at Oxford last night.

Karl placed first in a field of five contestants, finalists in recent school contests. He was coached by Patty Looman, speech instructor at the Waterford school.

Another Waterford High School student, Beth Rose, a junior, placed second. Topic for the speeches was "Threats to Freedom and How to Meet Them."

A $25 U. S. Savings bond was Karl's award as first place winner. He is now qualified to enter the state K. of P. contest at Detroit May 19. Winner of that meet will go to the Midwest Regional competition for 10 states, and that winner may go on to the national contest which carries a $1,500 scholarship.

Other three students who took part in the district competition are Jim Reid of Oxford and Lloyd Dixon and Jackie Kosky, both of Waterford.

Waterford High School students of Miss Looman have an exceptionally high record of firsts in state and national speech competitions.

A Waterford student has just won the Hearst oratorical contest for the state. Last year a Waterford student went to the state contest on the K. of P. competition and in the Hearst contest a Waterford boy reached the national competition. Four years ago a Waterford girl placed second in the K. of P. nationals.

School Board Signs Up in Special Session for Lights, Fence

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Last night the Board of Education here met in special session to sign contracts for the fencing and lighting of the high school football field.

Low bidder for the electrical work was Transformer Inspection Co., with a base bid of $17,630. and the fencing project went to Cyclone Fence Co. whose base bid was $5,025.

Students had planned on having the project completed in time for graduation services June 13 but for a time it looked as though the project would be held up by legal procedures. The school board has now obtained verbal approval from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

Construction will begin as soon as materials are secured, company officials said.

Wolverine to Move Village Offices May 1

WOLVERINE LAKE — George Belprez, new president of Wolverine Lake village, announced today that village offices will be moved from 2535 Woodlawn to 297 Glengary by May 1.

The moving process will be carried out with a minimum of delay in the transaction of business.

John C. Finlayson, village cerk, will be on full time duty, as usual, in the new location.

Come as You Are Breakfast Set for Stiles Club

ROCHESTER—Stiles Branch of the National Farm and Garden Club will be entertained Monday morning at the Livernois road home of Mrs. Joseph Janoschka.

The event will be a "Come as you are breakfast."

Monthly board meeting of the club will be held Tuesday, May 1, at 1 p.m., in the home of Mrs. James Cleland of Alida.

Engineers Get Plan for Sewer

Waterford Board Asks New Cost Estimate on Donelson Park Project

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Donelson Park sewer proposal was referred to township consulting engineers Johnson and Anderson for tests and a re-estimate of cost, following a public hearing on the project early this week.

Another public hearing will be set as soon as the engineers have completed their report, township Supervisor Lloyd Anderson announced.

Three plats recently given temporary approval by the township board are Lake Oakland Hills on Walton at Lake Oakland; first section of Highland Estates at Airport and Pontiac Lake roads; and Doyal subdivision off Hospital road.

A public hearing has been scheduled for May 9 to determine whether special assessment district for street lighting shall be set up in the following areas: Watkins-Pontiac, Indianwoods, Venice of the Lakes, Venice of the Lakes No. 1, Newton-Ely, Orchard Bluff and Scott Lake Heights.

Dr. John D. Monroe has been appointed medical officer of the township. Emil Grischaw will continue as township health officer.

"No Parking" signs soon will be installed on Myrtle from Telegraph to Tilden, and on Tilden from Elizabeth Lake road to Navarra. Bids on two police cars will be opened May 7 at 8 p.m.

The township will share the cost of road chloriding again this year on a basis of one-third of cost of three applications. The township's share amounts to between $7,000 and $8,000 per year, Anderson estimated.

Firms Purchase Bonds of White Lake District

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — First of Michigan Corporation headed a group of firms which has purchased $150,000 in bonds issued by the White Lake Township School District Seven. The money is to be used in building additions to the present school building, located in White Lake Township west of Pontiac.

Purchasers included H. V. Sattley and Co.; Kenower, MacArthur and Co.; and McDonald, Moore and Co.

The bonds, maturing in from one to 25 years, are being reoffered to yield from 2.5 to 3.9 per cent.

Beacon Club Supper

WATERFORD—The Beacon Club of the Waterford Community Church will meet at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the church for a potluck supper.

ANNABELLE BOWERS

Mr. and Mrs. Norm Bowers of 54200 Pontiac trail have announced the engagement of their daughter, Annabelle, to Frank Dolsen of Wayne. A June 20 wedding is planned.

Cubs Plan Fair at Oxford

OXFORD—The all-purpose room of the Daniel Axford School will assume a carnival atmosphere from 4 to 8 p.m. tomorrow when the Oxford Cub Pack 32 presents its third annual Cub Scout Fair.

The entire gymnasium will be transformed into a giant midway of concessions, games, displays and sales booths of new and used articles to please the bargain hunters.

Featured in this year's fair will be a mammoth rummage sale of items donated by the townspeople and people in the Metamora area. Home baked pastries and candy will be sold at gaily decorated booths, and many toys and novelties will be offered at low prices.

Young folks wil again have a chance to line up to try their luck at the fish pond and the dart game. A new game will test the youngsters' skill this year. A table will be piled high with comic books to be sold for pennies.

Eight dens in the pack's membership of 76 boys will show individual displays of handicraft and activities. A bird house contest will be judged during the day.

Climax of the day's activities will be an auction sale of merchandise donated by Oxford business men and the court of awards wherein the cubs receive their advancement in scouting.

Paul White and Elsworth Sage are serving as co-chairmen of the event, with Cubmaster Ted Pearson Jr. in charge of general arrangements. The Oxford Fire Department, sponsors of the pack, will assist.

Everyone is invited to attend the fair and browse at leisure, officials say. There is no admission charge. Every sale helps to provide better scouting for boys in Oxford.

Set Tax Rate at Holly; Take Off Treasurer's Fee

HOLLY — The village tax rate has been set at 16 mills by the common council, an increase of one mill over what it has been during the past few years. The treasurer's collection fee of one per cent, which has been in effect a great many years, will be eliminated.

The assessed valuation of both real and personal property in the village has been set at $3,192,500, an increase of approximately $210,000 over last year. Village taxes are collected during the summer.

Drayton Youths Slate Car Wash Benefit Saturday

DRAYTON PLAINS—The youth groups of the Community United Presbyterian Church will be sponsoring a "Car Wash," beginning at 9:00 a.m. Saturday. The cars will be washed in the church parking lot, 4269 Monroe street, just off Sashabaw road.

Proceeds will be sent to the United Presbyterian National Youth Project.

Bible Contest Winners Plan Area Competition

DRAYTON PLAINS—Winners of the annual Bible reading contest of the Community United Presbyterian Church are busy making preparations for the area contest to be held May 13 at the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church in Pontiac.

Scouts to Fete Dads

MARLETTE — Boy Scouts of Troop 28 will be hosts to their dads and guests for a Court of Honor tonight. A potluck supper will begin at 7 p.m. Awards earned by the boys will be presented to them by Scoutmaster Lee Moyer.

WOODROW CRAFT

Safety Captain Wins Trip to Washington

WATERFORD— Woodrow Craft, 4967 Dixie Hwy., a sixth grade student at Waterford Village School, is one of 135 Michigan School safety patrol captains to be honored by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

The boys have been invited by the organization to be guests at the 1956 National School Safety Patrol Assembly to be held in Washington, D. C., May 4 and 5.

Woodrow was selected to take this free all-expense tour to the nation's capital because his school rated one of the highest in school safety patrol activity.

County Deaths

Mrs. Emma Seelye

NORTH BRANCH—Service for Mrs. Emma Seelye, 71, of 4238 Mill Street, will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Methodist Church here, with burial in Westlawn Cemetery, North Branch. She died early Thursday in Lapeer County General Hospital.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Hollis (Edith) DeGrow of North Branch; three sons, Howard of North Branch; Lester of Silverwood and Albert of Lapeer; a brother, William Nutter of Phoenix, Ariz.; 18 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

6 Oxford Students Win Scholarships to Interlochen

OXFORD — Six local students were awarded music scholarships at the Oxford High School chorus concert held this week.

The students are Nina French, Bob Harrison, Marilyn Unger, Judy Morrison, Don Geisler and Harold Carter.

* * *

The Oxford Music Club, Rotary Club, and High School chorus, each presented two scholarships which consist of half of the fee for a student at the All-State Choir two-week session at National Music Camp at Interlochen.

Mayor of Lapeer Buys Turrill School

METAMORA—The old Turrill Schoolhouse on M24 between Lapeer and Metamora has been purchased by Lapeer Mayor W. E. Rowden, who was high bidder. Rowden gets the building for $255 for moving it and cleaning up the site. The only other bid was for $75.

The land will revert to the heirs of the former donors, being the present Churchill Farms.

Mayor Rowden plans moving the building to his property on Baldwin road and remodeling it into a dwelling.

Schedule Science Film at Waterford Church

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A Moody Bible Institute science film in color and with sound entitled "The Mystery of the Three Clocks," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Calvary Baptist Church now meeting at the Waterford Township High School.

During the showing of the film a photograph of the audience will be taken.

Colgate Grants Headed for 4 Michigan Colleges

NEW YORK (AP)—Four Michigan colleges have received grants from a $500,000 Colgate-Palmolive Co. fund in connection with the company's 150th anniversary.

The company made 156 unrestricted grants, four of them going to Albion College, Calvin College, Hope College and the University of Detroit.

Rummage Sale

ROCHESTER—To raise funds for the St. Andrew School building, the League of Catholic Women are holding a two-day rummage sale in St. Andrew Church, today and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Event of Year Saturday

Andersonville Fair Due

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The annual Andersonville School Fair will be held Saturday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the school.

The "Midway" will include pony rides, movies and a fun house for the children.

Also to be found at the fair will be booths containing baked goods, plants and fancy work.

There will be white elephant sales, a cake walk, silhouette cutting, and concession and refreshment stands.

The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will show their handicrafts.

Mrs. Lorraine Studebaker is the general chairman of the fair.

Marlette Students Attend Redford in Exchange Plan

MARLETTE—The seventh grade students from the Marlette Community school and the Lee M. Thurston High school, Redford Union Township, are participating in an exchange-student program this week.

The purpose is to give students a living experience in communities different from their own. There are five students from each school, placed with families, and will attend the school they are visiting.

Concert Series Campaign Near

Waterford Music Assn. Plans Kick-Off Monday on Membership Drive

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Opening with headquarters in the CAI Building on Williams Lake road, the Waterford Township Civic Music Association this week is completing preparations for its membership campaign. The one-week drive is slated for April 30 to May 5, inclusive.

No single admission tickets are sold for these concerts which last year included dancers Goya and Matteo, the Vienna Boys Choir, pianists Luboshutz and Nemenoff, and bass-baritone Carl Palangi.

Some 200 music enthusiasts will be working on the campaign, which begins with a kick-off dinner to be held at 6:30 p. m. Monday, in the high school cafeteria. There will be a program of entertainment and Miss Marth Smith, New York representative of Civic Concert Service, will be on hand to instruct workers.

Mrs. William A. Shunck, Mrs. John Naz and Mrs. David Eicher head the organization committee which is securing the workers.

Mrs. Fred Tiffany and Mrs. James DenHerder are co-chairmen of the prospect committee. Mrs. Donald Redmond and Mrs. George Dean are in charge of arrangements for the kick-off dinner.

Tulips Are Growing

HOLLAND (AP) — A few tulips are reported blooming in the southern part of the city. A prolonged cold spell has retarded early blooms. Officials for the Tulip Time Festival are hoping warmer weather will bring out the flowers for the Festival May 16-19.

State VFW Head Hits Gen. Bradley Proposals

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars has termed the Bradley report on veterans pensions and compensation as "objectionable" and said it would fight several proposals in the report.

General Omar Bradley this week submitted recommendations to President Eisenhower concerning veteran pension revisions, especially non-service connected disabilities.

Don H. Draher of Royal Oak, state VFW commander, said the group opposed the commission's opinion that service connection of a disability on a presumptive basis be based on diagnosis alone.

jected to the suggestion that agencies other than the Veterans Administration be asked to judge and revise rating schedules for disabled veterans.

"The Veterans Administration, which has worked with veterans on rating problems," Draher said, "is better qualified to determine disabilities than a group of government advisers such as doctors, lawyers and others, as the Bradley report recommended.

Draher said the VFW also was opposed to the philosophy that there should be no line of distinction between veterans and non-veterans.

Draher said national policy was always based on special consideration for services rendered the country and that the VFW would oppose any and all efforts to "lump" the vetreans pension program in with old age survivors insurance.

East Orion 4-H Business Team Wins Contest

LAKE ORION—The East Orion 4-H Club won the district championship for their model business team, despite stiff competition.

The meeting, held at the West Bloomfield Township Hall, represented Lenawee, Oakland, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties.

The East Orion team, whose leader is Mrs. John Lessiter, has as its members Kathleen Abbey, Edward Braid, Margaret Braid, Malcolm Brown, Walter Cudnohufsky, Frank Lessiter, Larry Middleton, Carol Schultz, Joyce Schultz, and Howard Storm. Club president Bill Middleton, who is recuperating from rhuematic fever was unable to participate.

The North Side Kiwanis Club of Pontiac presented each member of the winning team with a bronze medal.

Trailer Camp to Face Contempt Charges

MADISON HEIGHTS—Owners of a Madison Heights trailer camp will be back in court Monday to face contempt charges for failing to correct park conditions as stipulated by court order.

The Oakland County Circuit Court last April 3 ordered the owners of the Victory Trailer Park (on Ten Mile Rd. near Dequindre) to meet fire, health and safety laws. Violations of the laws were uncovered after a child suffocated in a fire.

An inspection by city officials this week disclosed that only about 12 of the 29 violations had been corrected.

Wolverine Council Works on Road Improvement

WOLVERINE LAKE—The common council here is "working on" a proposed amendment to the Village charter which will permit the levying of special assessments to pave primary roads within the village.

It is the council's intention to pursue a road improvement program, according to George Belprez, village president.

Red Cross Gets Booster Fund

West Bloomfield Chest Turns Over Collection for Emergency Relief

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Emergency money was turned over to the Red Cross by the West Bloomfield Community Chest at the Thursday meeting.

Because of the tremendous amount of flood relief needed in the New England, Eastern and Western states, it was necessary to make a plea to all Community Chest organizations throughout the nation, for a special assessment to carry on Red Cross work throughout the fiscal year, officials said.

Reports were also made of assistance given local emergency cases due to accidents or fires, through emergency welfare.

Discussion was held on the 1956-57 budget, and it was found necessary to raise the budget 10 per cent over that of last year.

The following officers were re-elected for another year: Emmett DeConick, chairman; Clifford Metty first vice president; N. D. Alix, second vice president; A. J. Stilwell, secretary; and Mrs. Arnold Thomas, treasurer.

The number of representatives to the Oakland County Township's United Fund Board was increased to three—Kenneth Sanderson, Clifford Metty and N. D. Alix.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 13 in the West Bloomfield Township Hall, and the public is invited to attend.

Two Clubs Benefit

NORTH BRANCH—A joint benefit performance for the Band Boosters Club and the Math Club, held at North Branch School this week, brought $21.00 each to the school groups.

Beside a movie of Labrador, a period of entertainment on the Hawaiian guitar was given by Leon Justin of Marlette. A box social followed.

George Opposes Funds to Egypt

Says It Will Be Unwise to Help Belligerent in an Area of Possible War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today he opposes U.S. participation in financing of the proposed Aswan Dam in Egypt.

He is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and chief spokesman on foreign policy in the Democratic-controlled Congress.

* * *

He said in an interview he thinks it would be "very unwise to help one of the belligerents in an area of possible conflict while there is no guarantee of stable peace there," and he continued:

"I am against making commitments for the Aswan Dam. The situation is bad in the Middle East and I think it would be one of the worst things we could do now. I don't know how we could justify it all."

DEADLINE: JUNE 30

The United States has joined with Britain in offering Egypt 70 million dollars for a start on the dam. The 56-million-dollar U.S. portion of this offer is available in foreign aid funds due to revert to the Treasury unless committed before June 30.

* * *

Later financing would come largely from the World Bank, which has announced substantial agreement with Egypt. Talks are continuing, however, on some thorny side issues.

The Aswan Dam has become something of a bargaining point in Middle East negotiations since Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser indicated he still may consider Russian offers of aid to build the project.

* * *

Projected as the greatest single structure in the world, the dam would cost an estimated $1,300,000,000 and require from 10 to 15 years to construct.

Time, Weather Mess Economy

New Daylight Hours, Delayed Crop Planting Affecting Markets

NEW YORK (AP)—Time and the weather are messing up some parts of the economy.

Large and economically important sectors are having a cold and wet spring. This delays crop planting, affects commodity markets, shrinks sales of such warm weather items as autos and spring suits — and benefits fuel dealers.

Time—or, rather, man's tinkering wih nature—will spread confusion in some industries next Sunday when many industrial and financial centers go on daylight saving time.

Transportation services will have to decide where and how much to alter schedules between places that do and places that don't change over for the summer.

News services will also be reporting some things—like the New York Stock Market—an hour earlier for papers in standard time cities, and other things—like sport events in old time regions—an hour later for papers going to press on new time.

EVEN TV AFFECTED

Television and radio programs will have to be arranged, as best as possible, for a mixed audience.

In some states where they have a sort of local option on daylight time — some industrial centers switching over and other parts of the state leaving the clocks alone—things can get really confused.

Daylight saving is supposed to let commuters get home in time to take care of their lawns and gardens. But in many a suburb this doesn't mean much these days. Cold and rain, and occasional snow, have made these outdoor chores a mockery.

For the farmers it's nothing to laugh about. Delayed crop planting can be serious. And if the Weather Bureau's long-range forecast is to be believed more rain can be expected at least until mid-May.

Commodity markets have been reflecting this possible threat to crops perhaps as much as they have been influenced by the ups and downs of arm legislation in the Congress. Crops can still be planted, but late crops run more risks, either of running into hot weather too early in their growth stage or of suffering from early frosts before matured.

Experts Confer With Planners

Professors, Consultant Meet With County Unit on Land Use

Fundamentals of county planning was the topic at a session of Oakland County planners in which three University of Michigan and Michigan State University professors and a Birmingham planning consultant participated.

Under specific discussion was land use.

Oakland County Plan Commissioners and their guests discussed purposes of gathering such material, ways in which it can be used and its value to planners.

Visiting professors were Myles Boylan and Raleigh Barlowe, from Michigan State University, and John Hyde of the University of Michigan. David S. Geer, Birmingham planning consultant, and Julian Whittlesey, partner in a New York firm which designed a new city for a Canadian firm, also attended.

Director George N. Scrubb described the meeting as the fourth in a series devoted to gathering a better grounding for commissioners in the fundamentals of planning.

A $1,000 anonymous contribution was accepted by the Commission to defray costs of its recently-published booklet, "Waggon Roads to Expressways," a survey of area road history and problems.

Commissioners will meet next jointly with the plan commissions of Livingston and Washtenaw counties. The meeting has been tentatively scheduled for the last week in May.

Exports of scrap iron from the United States during 1955 approximated 4,875,000 net tons, 14 per cent of the scrap purchased by domestic users.

Beef Capital Champions Rare Meat

Don't Ask for Well-Done Steaks in Omaha

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

OMAHA, Neb. (INS)—Nowhere in the country is a better grade of poison produced than in Omaha, Neb.

* * *

The poison is pumped out, after a long simmering process, from the eyes of hosts, hostesses, waiters and waitresses to whom it is suggested that a guest would like a stead "well done."

"Well done it is burnt," says a waiter, tugging his ear in anguish. "You want that?"

Yes, you say, you want just that. And that by George is what you get—a burnt steak.

* * *

The whole miserable business is the result of an inherent pride in the local beef, a civic-minded cattle attitude everybody here has adopted. After 102 years of striving to be the first and foremost state in the output of tenderloin, T-bone, sirloin and hamburger, last year they succeeded.

SHE'S FEARLESS

("You print that, and you'll be banned in Chicago," they warned. But I am fearless.)

* * *

For years Omaha has claimed to be the "Butter Capital" of the nation, but while that was a distinction of sorts, it was not the same as being best-in-beef.

Now, as No. 1 livestock producer of the land, they feel they can afford to burn an occasional sirloin as an object lesson to silly people.

Rare is the way a self-respecting Nebraskan eats steak and prime ribs. Medium is for squeamish, blood-fearing women. Well done is for the pigs.

Probably less than half the citizens of America know how the town in which they live got its name. Almost everybody in Nebraska does.

PRESS SURVEY

The Omaha World-Herald conducted a long, detailed survey to discover the history of Nebraska's 534 urbanized areas, from a population of 15 up.

It was discovered that the majority of towns are named for the founders, who probably believed that by endowing a town with their own names they would immortalize both themselves and it.

A smaller percentage of hamlets have been named after the founders' wives (Abie, Elsie, Alma); for their home towns back East before they came out in covered wagons (Ithaca, Ohiowa, Salem), or for exotic sites that the settlers had heard about (Cairo, Waterloo.)

As in many states, Nebraskans commemorated some of the Indians they had smoked out of their happy hunting ground—Omaha, Indianaola, and so on.

But there was a lot of rather foolish name-dropping going on, and cities today are stuck with such appellations as Wynot (the founder was a wise guy who said "why not name it Wynot?"), and Tamora (the four first settlers agreed, at a naming sessioin, that if they couldn't decide they might decide "Tamora.").

The little township of "Surprise" was named when pioneers in the 1890s found, to their surprise, that trees could grow in the soil; and "Weeping Water" was a battle scene where dozens of Indians were killed, leaving their squaws to weep beside the local stream.

Many Nebraska town names have been changed as the state grows up. The most confusing steady-switch spot is Pickleville.

As new blood entered the town, its title became Medicine Creek, and later, under mysterious circumstances, it was changed to Scratch Pot. Finally, the Union Pacific Railroad forged through and officials insisted on dignity.

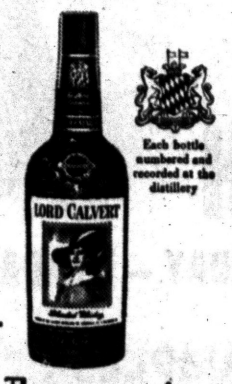

It is now listed on the Union Pacific time schedule as Cambridge, but to the home folks it's still the same old Scratch Pot.

Bob Considine Says:

Russian Jets Set the Western World Agog

LONDON (INS)—Russia put on a disarming, even alarming, show of commercial airpower at London's magnificent Heathrow Airport.

* * *

Two more big twin jet T104s slanted down through the overcast, dropped their enormous four-wheel clusters of main landing gears and with a high-pitched purr rolled over to where a third T104 had rested overnight.

It was an impressive trio at this dawn of pure jet air travel, and served to indicate that the Reds are clearly ahead of the U. S. in at least the so-called medium-sized jet liner field.

The first jet-engined liner we will have is Lockheed's turboprop, slightly larger than the popular British Viscount, but Lockheed's entry is slower than the T104 and will not be ready until next year.

* * *

Our pure jets, the Boeing 707 and Douglas DC8, each larger than the T104 but apparently no faster, will not be in production until 1958 and 1959.

JUST ONE FLYING

As of now we have only one such craft able to fly, Boeing's prototype 707, and it is not fixed up remotely as well inside as the luxuriously appointed Russian planes I saw.

* * *

The Russians aren't saying too much about the T104, but unquestionably they are paying much attention to the guesses of Western aeronautical engineers who were taken by surprise when the first of these ships brought secret police boss Ivan Serov to London on March 22 to set up security for Bulganin and Khrushchev.

The consensus is that this is a passenger version of the Red air force's equivalent to our B47. The sharp, bullet-proof plate glass nose of that Red bomber, which we call the Badger, has been retained. The wings droop five degrees. The tail is a huge rakish cleaver.

But the thing that strikes the eye of an average aviation buff is the length of the two jet engines slung close to the fuselage, and the huge red-lined intake ducts.

There have been reasoned estimates that each of these jets develops as much as 20,000 pounds thrust, which is twice the power of the J57 which squirts our top bomber, the B52, through the air and which will be used in the first editions of the Boeing 707 and Douglas DC8.

POWER GUESSES

There is no way to check accurately on the power of these Russian engines, but British and American experts who have watched take-offs say they hurl that slick mass off the ground halfway down the runway and throttle back beautifully for landing.

* * *

Similarly mysterious to some was the serial number on the three planes. They were marked, respectively, No. 25, 27 and 29.

Did it mean that the Reds have that many and more, or was this just a Russian trick? There were scores of guesses along that line while the Russian secret police and London airport guards kept the curious at a distance.

The swept wings of this Russian plane measure 125 feet, the body, 130 feet, and not unlike the body of the Super G Constellation. There are 16 old-style Constellation windows along each side.

The nose wheel is the twin-tired type. The plane would seem able to seat at least 60 first-class passengers and 80 under tourist arrangement.

* * *

It seems to have as much radio and radar equipment as our newest planes, but pressurization may still be uncertain. Each seat is equipped with an oxygen mask.

"FLEW BEAUTIFULLY"

RAF Squadron Leader John Deverill, assistant air attache at the British Embassy in Moscow, made the 1,500-mile trip from the Russian capital to London, and said not without awe, "It flew beautifully."

* * *

That particular flight was made at about 500 miles an hour but at the uneconomically low altitude of only about 30,000 feet. This is about 50 miles an hour faster than the first Comet, Britain's ill-starred four-jetter now grounded. Airport officials say these Russian jets take on enough fuel to fly 4,000 miles.

No red star was emblazoned on the jets. They were from "Aeroflot," the Soviet Union's nationalized airline. The insignia is something like the old Luftwaffe wings, plus a hammer and sickle. The tail is marked by a partly unfurled Russian flag.

One British expert who accompanied me shook his head as he stared at the striking scene.

"They differ in one respect from the jet airliners you and we are are attempting to build," he said. "These you see here could be converted into bombers in a jiffy—capable of carrying six or seven tons of atomic bombs. That I would say is the basic difference in our air travel philosophies."

Spain has put a use tax on cigarette lighters, flints and matches.

Hoosier Farmer Owns Rare Guarnerius Violin

CHICAGO (INS) — A Richmond, Ind., farmer has been revealed as the owner of a rare 18th century violin worth from $20,000 to $30,000.

According to Carl Becker Sr., a Chicago violin expert, the instrument, made by Joseph Del Guarnerius of Cremona, Italy, is presently owned by George Klemperer, 35 - year - old Richmond farmer.

Klemperer said he acquired the violin in 1930 through a broker in Berlin. A Guarnerius violin ranges in price from $15,000 to $75,000.

Ah, Man, We Lived!

DETROIT (AP) — It was a short spree but a happy one for 17 hoboes who made themselves at home in a pullman club car in the New York Central railroad yards. Inspectors found the group lolling in the car with their shoes off, enjoying the luxury accommodations. They were carted off to face vagrancy charges.

Beta Sigma Phi Council Celebrates 25th Year

Mrs. R. D. Terry Assumes Council President Duties

Five Chapter Directors Are Introduced at Gala Affair Held at Devon Gables

By JOAN RITTER

One hundred members and guests of seven chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority attended the 25th anniversary dinner held Wednesday evening at Devon Gables. Mrs. George Pudduck, retiring city council president, presided.

* * *

Mrs. T. E. Wiersema gave the invocation and a welcome was given Beta Sigma Phi members and guests by Mrs. Pudduck.

Mrs. Pudduck introduced chapter directors Myrtle Shore of Alpha Omega, Mrs. Wiersema of Gamma Psi, Mrs. M. A. Calbi of Epsilon Rho, Mrs. Mable Rost of Beta Eta and Mrs. Robert Terry of Zeta Lambda The directors oversee business meetings of each chapter, aid on social programs and committees and in general serve as advisors.

New chapter presidents also introduced were Mrs. Constance Benson, Alpha Omega, Mrs. Edward Amann, Epsilon Rho; Mrs. Lucille Menzel of Zeta Eta and Mrs. Dallas Nelson of Zeta Lambda.

Mrs. Pudduck presented Mrs. Robert Terry, incoming city council president and her slate of officers which include Mrs. Knight, vice president; Doris Ball, recording secretary; Mrs. Pudduck, corresponding secretary and Miss Bryan, treasurer.

Centerpieces of yellow chrysanthemums and snapdragons with white daisies and stephanotis decorated the tables. Groups of white tapers flanked silver placards with the number 25. Focal point was the ice float with the initials BSP below a large 25 decorated with silver and air moss. Yellow floodlights spotlighted the piece.

Guest speaker, Mrs. Robert Boggs, of the Pontiac Story League entertained with two stories, "Whip It Up" and "Anniversary of a Romance." Doris Ball read the poem, "Proudly We Stand" and a message from Walter Ross, founder of Beta Sigma Phi, was given by Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth.

* * *

The climax was the drawing for the jeweled pin, the sorority pin in full jewels won by Mrs. C. L. Leedy.

Mrs. Donald Boggs (right), a member of the Pontiac Story League was guest speaker Wednesday. She is chatting with Mrs. Park Buchner of Chippewa road.

McAuley School Sponsors Dance Tonight

"Pastel Melody" is the theme of the first annual spring dance of McAuley School of Nursing at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The formal dance, this evening at the school, will be to an out-of-town orchestra from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

* * *

The dance is open to students and alumnae of the school with Gail Hollenback as general chairman.

Handling the spring decorations of flowers and trellises in the auditorium are Dorothy Seidl, Barbara Mosely and Marlene Duvall. Refreshments are under the direction of Marlene Duvall with Darlene Arsenault, and Joan Panetta.

Elizabeth Loftus made arrangements for the program and tickets and Clair Schowalter and Frances Viera comprise the clean-up committee.

Dance proceeds will be used for the school activities' fund.

Church Music Will Be Presented

A program of great interest to music lovers will be presented Sunday evening, when the choir of Lutheran High School of Detroit appears in concert at St. Trinity Lutheran Church at 7:30 p.m.

* * *

Included among the numbers to be sung by the group are "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," "O Sacred Head Now Wounded," and "Praise To The Lord." The program is designed to present the music of the church, with emphasis on the Lenten music, Christmas music and the general music of the church year.

The choir is composed of 70 members of grades 11 and 12 of Lutheran High School and is considered one of the outstanding musical groups in the area. This is the sixth annual tour for the group under the direction of Lavern Franzen, conductor.

2 Represent Local Zontas at Sun Valley

Mrs. Fotis Takis, president of the Zonta Club of Pontiac and Mrs. Gordon Wyrick will represent the local group at the International conference of Zonta International June 5 through 8 in Sun Valley, Idaho.

* * *

The announcement was made at the Thursday meeting of the group held at Hotel Waldron. Letters also were read from Mrs. Florence Doty and Clara Nusbaumer who are vacationing in England.

Speaker for the day was Julia Peruchi who discussed the value of good reference books. She pointed out the important things to look for in selecting these books including the importance of good material, up-to-date resource people and variety of material.

The next meeting will be the annual mother and daughter meeting.

Two New Members Welcomed by Club

Mrs. Russell Ashworth and Mrs. Warren Dick were received as new members of Newcomers Club when the group met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Morton Bacon on Chippewa road. Mrs. Joseph Galardi and Mrs. Howard Droeser assisted the hostess.

A review of the book, "Merry Hall" by Beverly Nichols, was given by Mrs. Eugene Cleland during the program portion of the meeting.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Stanley Girard and Mrs. Harry Hahn.

Imports in Washer!

Handbags are big and handsome this season and come in many leather textures and all colors. Kid gloves often are delicately embroidered and look like the most delicate French imports, yet can be tossed in the washing machine and come up smiling.

Needlework Guild Meets Thursday

Queen Mary Section of the Needlework Guilds of America met Thursday afternoon at the Lakeview drive home of Mrs. Alex Joss.

Mrs. Charles Clarke, president, conducted the business meeting at which time Mrs. Harvie Little turned in 14 hand made dresses for the Ingathering. Several other completed garments were received.

Mrs. Henry Milligan will entertain the group at their May 10 meeting in her home on Belmont street.

Fellowship Hall Scene of Meeting

Mrs. Percy Blynn, Mrs. Joseph Schledorn and Mrs. Elmer Stockwell were hostesses at luncheon to 17 members of the Ladies Aid Society of Oakland Avenue United Presbyetrian Church. The group met in Fellowship Hall at the church Thursday.

"The Resurrected Life" was the topic for devotions presented by Mrs. William Bradley. Following the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Guy Caswell, members spent the afternoon sewing for the American Cancer Society.

"Moon Over Miami" is the theme of the dance planned for this evening by Circle 479, Our Lady of the Lakes, Daughters of Isabella. The dance, at Knights of Columbus Hall begins at 8 p.m. with dancing to a local orchestra. These members of committees were snapped Thursday as they gathered to decorate the hall. They are (left to right) Mrs. Roy Artley of Milford, Mrs. Robert Beauchamp of Chippewa road, Mrs. William Donahue of Lewis street, Mrs. Louis Koprince of East Howard street and Mrs. Nuella Moore of East Rundell street. Mrs. Donahue and Mrs. Koprince are sitting in a soon to be flower decorated arbor.

Extension Group Elects New Officers

Mrs. George Quine of Merry road entertained members of Interlake Extension group at dessert luncheon Wednesday. Mrs. Quine gave the project lesson on "Shrubs and Small Trees." She told how to choose and plan the landscape of a home.

Mrs. William Hurlburt was elected chairman with Mrs. Maurice Baldwin, vice chairman; Mrs. Quine, secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Frank Hickson, corresponding secretary.

Committee heads are Mrs. Percy Rose, new representative; Mrs. L. W. Pilcher, committee chairman; Mrs. Carl Weber, recreation; Mrs. Robert Scharf, project leader; Mrs. Joseph Trietsch, assistant leader; Mrs. Charles Allen, historian and Mrs. William Vann, sunshine.

Plans were made to attend the home demonstration achievement day at Congregational Church May 3 and Open House at Pontiac State Hosptial April 30.

H. Delos Nicholie showed slides of "Deer and Aspen" and told how several hunter's lodges in northern Michigan cut aspen, using logs for pulp and reforesting the land. He told of other instances where these clubs work in cooperation with the conservation department.

'Quilting Bee' Is Scheduled

Members of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout organization are preparing for the "Quilting Bee" which is being sponsored May 1-6 at Will-O-Way Theater.

Girl Scouts will prepare a quilt for the Americana exhibit tent for the Senior Roundup which will be held June 29 through July 11.

Each troop will contribute 100 or more squares representing one phase of life in Northern Oakland County or the history of the county. These squares will be put together and quilted by Intermediate, and senior scouts.

All troops and their leaders are invited to join the "Bee" which will be from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. each day.

'Music in Spring' Theme of Pontiac Educators' Banquet

Cold drinks frost sterling containers, and drinks stay cold to the last drop.

Pontiac Press Photos

"Music In Spring" was the theme of the annual Spring Banquet of the Pontiac Education Association held at Devon Gables Thursday evening. Caught by the photographer as they chatted briefly before dinner were (left to right) Dr. Conrad Posz, assistant professor of communication skills, Michigan State University, speaker for the affair; Grace McLaughlin, general chairman and Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Schools.

Dr. Conrad Posz Addresses 200 Members of Group

By MARGARET COLE

"Music In Spring" was the theme of the spring banquet of the Pontiac Education Association held Thursday evening in the Hillside Room of Devon Gables. Floating blossoms, colorful programs and musical scales arranged on the banquet tables completed the atmosphere of spring that greeted the more than 200 guests.

Burtella Green presented the Invocation followed by the greetings of Caius Gordon, president of the Association.

In keeping with the theme of the evening, appropriate dinner music was provided on the organ by Henry Elling and Dr. Robert Jones. Faith Cook, Jean McFarland and Margaret Snyder delighted their audience with their harmonious presentations of "Chasing Rainbows," "I Can Dream, Can't I" and "Once in Awhile."

Soloist on the program was Joyce Schmidt who sang, "Romance" from Desert Song by Sigmund Romberg.

Mel Staebler, toastmaster, presented Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Schools and members of the school board and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Osmun, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Griffin.

Others introduced were Richard Adams, Michigan Education Association field representative and Pauline Logsden, who represented the Future Teachers Club of Pontiac.

HOW TO LIVE WITH SELF

Discussing, "How To Live With Yourself," Dr. Conrad Posz, assistant professor of communication skills of Michigan State University told his audience three good reasons we should be able to live with ourselves are that we know ourselves better than anyone else, we spend more time with ourselves than anyone else and we are much more critical with ourselves than anyone else.

"The ability one has to solve the problems met everyday evidence the common sense the individual possesses.

"When faced with a problem our biggest difficulty is our failure to define the problem, we do not list the causes of the problem and we permit cultural and social blocks to stand in the way of the solution to the problem."

Some of the common escapes used solely to avoid problems are sleep, cards and listening to the television, Dr. Posz stated. We should recognize our problems in their subtler forms and do something about them.

For the worrying person Dr. Posz advised his audience to act rather than sit back and permit a morbid picture to run through the mind.

How one gets along with others, remembers names, takes ideas from another and fails to give the proper credit are evidence of the amount of tact one possesses, he said.

In closing Dr. Posz spoke of our relationships with other people and suggested we ask ourselves if we don't often misjudge people and regret it later.

Charles Beyette was introduced as the new president of Pontiac Education Association for the coming year. Committees serving on the annual affair under the chairmanship of Grace McLaughlin were Ted Prueter, decorations; Mary Parrish, tickets; Mrs. Rose McDonald, invitations; Margaret Snyder, music and Mrs. Mildred Porritt, program.

Julie Vernan Feted at Shower

Rickie Gallardo of Thorpe street entertained at a bridal shower for Julie Vernan Wednesday evening.

The table was decorated with a doll bridal party flanked by red tapers.

Guests attending were Mrs. Julia Vernan, Betty Vernan, Mrs. Olga Roemensky, Mrs. Shirley Lane, Mrs. Fred Haring, Mrs. Lillian Auch, Mrs. Gerald Kasten, Majorie Kasten, Mrs. Charles Young, Mrs. Genevieve Oesch, Verna Kosiba and Lorraine Scarborough.

Others were Mrs. Annetta Lekas, Mrs. Jack Farms, Mrs. Eileen Killinger, Mrs. Florence Bailey, Mrs. Arleen Reising, Carolsue Evanoff, Florence Woods, Mrs. Ralph Burt, Mrs. Ida Underhill, Mrs. Helen Baker, Verlyn Dawson and Mrs. Dorothy Bryant.

Making a last minute check on the program presented at the Pontiac Education's Banquet are Mel Staebler, toastmaster; Mildred Porritt, program chairman and Ted Prueter, chairman of decorations. "Music In Spring" was the theme for the annual banquet held Thursday evening at Devon Gables.

'One Woman Show' Slated

SYD SKOLSKY

Syd Skolsky, comedienne, pianist and interpreter of songs will present her "One Woman Show" Saturday at 8:30 p. m. in Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake Rd.

The program will consist of humorous sketches, song interpretations, dramatizations, piano escapades and audience participation.

Music, humorous dramatizations and song styling have been Miss Skolsky's absorbing interest since early childhood. She compieted her musical studies at the Juilliard School of Music after which she presented many concerts.

Producers and agents asked her to include humor with her serious music and the "One Woman Show" is the result. Miss Skolsky is also the author of several books.

This will be the last in the series of cultural programs sponsored by the Jewish Welfare Federation and Council.

To combine a functional item with high fashion is unusual, but a jewelry company has started a vogue that may sweep the country. It's a new jeweled bobby pin that enables you to set your hair and still remain glamorous.

Give Water Heaters Monthly Once Over

Water heaters should be drained monthly to remove dirt and rust which may stain your plumbing fixtures.

To clean the heater, open the drain cock and let the water run until it is clear. Such precaution rust and help keep fuel bills at a minimum.

JANET FAIRBANKS

Mrs. Orval Fairbanks of Niagara road announces the engagement of her daughter, Janet, to Russell F. Manney Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell F. Manney of Birmingham. Janet attends Central Michigan College, and Russell will be graduated from the University of Detroit in June. A June 9 wedding is planned.

Personal News of Interest

Several Leave for Hawaii

A brief stop at San Francisco Airport will allow time for "freshening up" before departing on the last lap of the flight, for the party of Pontiac area folk who left this morning for Honolulu, where they will vacation for two weeks at Hotel Reef on the beach of Waikiki.

Members of the party are looking forward to the luau (native feast) they will attend one evening of their stay on the island.

Among the places they plan to visit are the Buddhist and Shinto Temples and the Royal Mausoleum with its tabu sticks standing before the tombs of royalty. They will travel down into the valley past the "Blow Hole" and will visit the Mormon Temple and Samoan Village at Laie.

Boarding the plane this morning were Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kimball of Lahser road and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Winn of South Pemberton road, Birmingham; Mrs. Winn's sister, Mrs. P. F. Hoops of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas of Hayes avenue, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Waters of Clarkston, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Whitfield of Orchard Lake avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. Owen of Spokane drive.

Others in the party include Patricia L. Phelps, Aileen Baerwolf, Bette Reid, Mrs. Mayme Rinker Mrs. Charlotte Hill, Mrs. Clara Bell McNeal, Mrs. Christine Short, Mrs. Madge Potts, Mrs. Nell Frye, LeRoy H. Murphy, Phyllis Thomas, Ruth Murdock, Mrs. Gloria Supernant, Mrs. Patricia Kucera, Marlene Cook, Mrs. Ella Powers, Cora Burke and Marilyn Main.

Cadet Richard L. Leone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Leone of Auburn avenue, has been cited for academic achievement for the second grading period of the second semester at Wentworth Military Academy. Richard's grades qualified him for a place on the Dean's honor roll for the period.

Cadets earning academic honors are accorded special privileges and are authorized to wear the Scholastic Honor Bar.

Leah Mae MacNutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Omar F. MacNutt of Neome drive is appearing in "Broadway in the Swim" being staged in the pool at Albion College tonight.

"Broadway in the Swim" is the theme of this year's synchronized swim show and Miss MacNutt will swim in "Easter Parade" and "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Dr. William H. Marbach of Neome drive will travel to Lake Mohonk, N. Y., over the weekend where he will meet with church leaders from 16 countries.

The group is meeting in the United States to consult with the Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church of which Dr. Marbach has been a member for the past nine years.

Mrs. Ralph Norvell of Wenonah drive and Mrs. Gordon Woolcock of Mohawk road have returned to their homes after attending the annual convention of Michigan Federation of Music Clubs held at Hotel Durant in Flint. The two were official delegates of the Pontiac club.

Mrs. William Maybury of east Iroquois road, State chairman of the Past President's Assembly presided at an afternoon tea during the convention. Also participating were Mrs. John Nicols, Mrs. Woolcott, Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks and Mrs. Fred Stimpert who sang the invocation before the banquet, Wednesday evening, accompanied by Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer at the piano.

The unbroken lines of this cuff length suit jacket, with a collar that elongates, is excellent for the short, square figure.

9-Day Reducing Diet

Slow Down When Losing Lots of Weight

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

As most of my readers know this is 9-Day Reducing Diet time. For this reason this Friday I am going to give my question box over to questions I am being asked about this diet.

* * *

Q. "Can I repeat this diet over and over again?"

A. This is a well-balanced diet but if you have lots of weight to lose you should reduce more slowly. The flabbiness which sometimes follows weight reduction is often due to a too rapid loss of a great many pounds. The skin does not have time to shrink tto its new proportions.

If you have a long reducing stretch ahead of you use 9-Day Diet for nine days and then let it be a pattern for planning future meals and count your calories. Keep your daily intake between 1,200 and 1,400 calories a day.

One of my pupils lost 100 pounds in a year's time. She had no flabbiness and no lines. She was faithful about skin lubrication and the use of a body lotion and did facial exercises and general exercises during that year.

Q. "I like very few vegetables but I do like carrots and turnip greens. Can I substitute these for the other similar vegetables?"

A. Yes. It is fortunate that you like two such healthful vegetables.

* * *

Q. "Can I have any cocktails or highballs at all during this nine days?"

A. These are high in calorie count and have no place on a rapid reducing diet. You need the items which are included in this diet for health. I cannot guarantee you a loss of from 5 to 10 pounds unless you cut out all alcoholic beverages for nine days.

Q. "I do not like skim milk. Can I substitute buttermilk?"

A. Yes. They have the same calorie count.

If you have a long reducing stretch ahead of you use the 9-Day Diet for nine days and then let it be a pattern for planning future meals.

Q. "After I lose 5 to 10 pounds on 9-Day Diet how many calories shall I allow myself in order to remain at that weight?"

A. That is somewhat an individual matter, depending on your height and your activities, etc. Add 300 calories daily and watch the scales. If you continue to lose add 200 more. You can discover for yourself what your daily calorie need is.

Menus for tomorrow.

Ortonville Mother Tries Many Ways to Balance Diet

By JANET ODELL

Today's recipe is going to be a little different. We had such an interesting letter from one of our readers that we want to pass along some of her food hints.

Mrs. Joseph Aulph lives up near Ortonville. She has a family of four small children. "Occasionally, she says "they lean toward mashed potatoes, lunch meats and desserts."

Being a wise mama, Mrs. Aulph doesn't push the unwanted foods. Instead she mashes turnips or rutabagas and cheese with the potatoes. She liquidizes raw vegetables and combines the resulting juice with flavored gelatin.

She uses beet juice for liquid in cakes instead of the more prosaic milk or water. Most of her pies are made with fruit to keep the family's vitamin intake high.

Another of her more interesting suggestions is to combine coconut with blackberries for a pie.

We liked your letter, Mrs. Aulph and hope that our readers will get some new ideas from you.

Ruth Circle Meets With Mrs. Hubner

Ruth Circle of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church met with Mrs. Walter Hubner of Third avenue Thursday afternoon. Devotions were given by Mrs. Harry Lunsford.

The fourteen members gathering for the afternoon meeting sewed for the American Cancer Society. Mrs. Frances Oak invited the group to meet at her home on Lake Angeles road for their May meeting.

WCTU Plans Future Projects at Session

Emor L. Calkins chapter of WCTU met Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Eleah Patten of Augusta avenue for luncheon and a business meeting. Devotions were led by Mrs. L. H. Rubey with the topic, "What Have You In Your Hand?"

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Patten reported on the proceedings of a county WCTU Institute held at Hillsdale and a family night banquet held in Royal Oak. Mrs. Patten also told of speaking on Home Economics at a recent meeting at Michigan State Normal College which honored her graduating class, the first to graduate in home economics.

Plans for future temperance work were presented and discussed. Mrs. Frank Hardenburg, president, announced the May 1st breakfast at Central Methodist Church. Mrs. L. G. Rowley will be speaker on that occasion.

Antique Show Set May 5-8 in Detroit

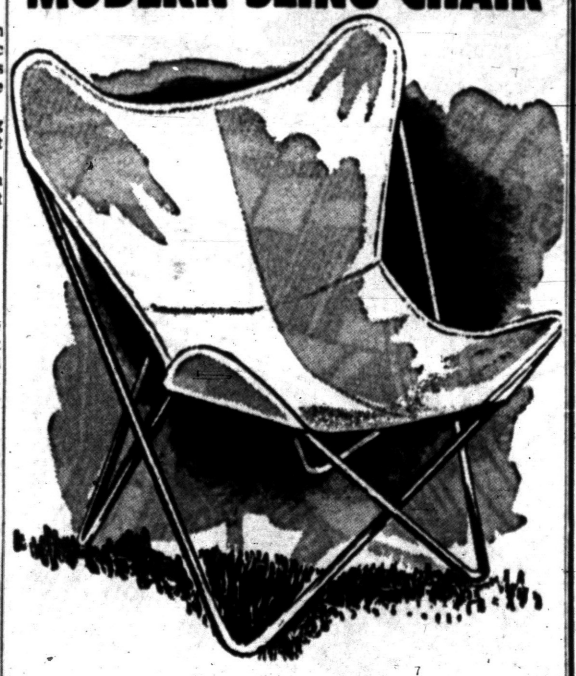

The Great Lakes Antique Show will be held May 5-8 in the Fountain Room of the Masonic Temple, Detroit, with the exhibition open from noon until 10:30 p.m. daily. Fifty-five exhibitors from Washington, D. C., New York, Georgia and Kentucky, as well as Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin, will be present.

Displays will include glass, china, furniture, firearms, jewelry and mechanical banks, plus an exhibit of clothing styles from "grandmother's day."

Michigan Tech Prof to Head Island Project

HOUGHTON (AP)—Verno York, associate professor of electrical engineering at Michigan Tech, will direct the installation of a power system on Isle Royale starting this summer.

York has been appointed project supervisor in the national park service, but will remain at Tech. The Isle Royale work can be carried out only in the summer. It probably will take two summers.

NEWBERRY (AP) — Victor Miller of Seney is $15 richer because a coyote wandered out on a dam and got caught in his beaver trap. Miller turned the coyote into the Conservation Department for the $15 bonus payment.

Kefauver Sees Bright Outlook

Tennessean Says He's Well Ahead of '52 Drive for Dem Nomination

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver says he is well ahead of the pace he set four years ago in his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In an appearance at the Pittsburgh Press Club yesterday — somewhat of a lull during a busy day of handshaking—Kefauver declared his campaign organization is functioning more smoothly than it did in 1952.

The Tennessee senator, who departed by plane last night to campaign in the state of Washington, said that Adlai Stevenson is running a little ahead of him in California's forthcoming presidential preference primary but added:

GAINING STRENGTH

"My organization is working and we will do very well. We are picking up strength."

As for the Florida primaries, Kefauver said:

"We are coming up fast."

The Florida primary is May 28 with the California June 5.

Learning that Vice President Nixon has decided to seek reelection, Kefauver told a news conference that the team of President Eisenhower and Nixon "is as strong as the Republicans could put up but I feel certain the Democrats will win in November."

He said the administration had lost the initiative in world affairs to Russia and that profits of big business have gone up under the Eisenhower administration while the income of small business is going down. "Little has been done to help small business and stop a trend toward mergers," Kefauver said.

Signs of—What?

CORTLAND, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Claude Buck said today she had seen a flight of wild geese—heading south. Apparently, they, too, have given up hope of a northern spring this year.

Walda Winchell Given Decree From Hotelman

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The brief marriage of Walda Winchell, 28, and hotelman Hyatt von Dehn, 41, has ended on a friendly note.

Miss Winchell, daughter of columnist Walter Winchell, and Von Dehn each sued for divorce last Dec. 1. Von Dehn dropped his complaint, and his wife got a decree yesterday.

She charged her husband used abusive language in informing her she did not maintain a good home. She said he stayed out late without explanation and sometimes told her she was not a good wife. They were married in July 1955 and separated three months later.

She will receive $400 a month alimony for the next 2½ years.

Von Dehn helped her don her coat, lighted her cigarette and chatted amicably with her after the decree was granted.

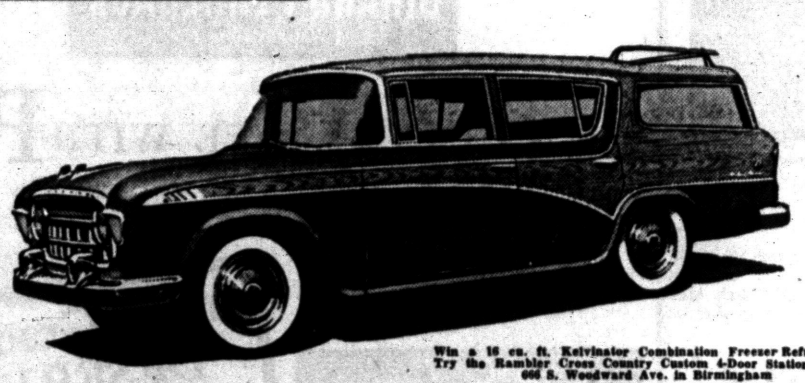

France has nearly full employment.

When It Rains—

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Ed Bauer is one pheasant hunter who'll be out for blood next hunting season. A low flying pheasant lunged through Bauer's living room window, smashing it and a storm window. The startled Bauer let the pheasant out the door, then went to buy glass. He bumped one pane on the porch and shattered it. The other broke as he eased it into the frame. Bauer had to drive six miles to find another hardware store.

"OUR TOWN"—Perched on ladders in a scene from the play to be presented by St. Frederick seniors are Paul Grosse and Nancy Morey. Urging them down are Mary Ann Saghy and Mike Carry. The popular play "Our Town" is performed with no scenery and almost no props, with chairs, tables and step ladders the exceptions. Natalie Sayers is directing.

St. Fred Seniors to Present 'Our Town'

By ANN SCHACHERN

"Our Town" the senior play was the center of interest at St. Frederick High this week. This afternoon, a dress rehearsal was attended by our grade school pupils.

Tomorrow afternoon, the play will be witnessed by the Sisters in the area. Public performances will be tomorrow and Sunday nights at 8:15 p.m. Thornton Wilder's play contains no scenery and is almost devoid of props—except for tables, chairs, trellises and stepladders.

* * *

The Stage Manager is played by Mike Carry. The parts of George Gibbs and Emily Webb are played by Paul Grosse and Nancy Morey. Dr. and Mrs. Gibbs are played by Joe Derocher and Sally Crake and Editor and Mrs. Webb are played by Bob Ashby and Sharon Donley. Other cast members include Mary Ann Saghy, John Zelesnik, Bob Houck, Charlie Phipps, Kay Smith, John Powe, Donna Shell, Dave Rabaut, Jim Duren and Mike Morrissey.

* * *

Completing the list are Mary Bieri, Sandra LaBarge, Carol Eiden, Irene Zoulek, Dave Jones, Ann Schachern and Gloria Ramirez. Natalie Sayers will direct.

St. Frederick had two distinguished visitors recently. Father Vincent Harkan was here last Friday. Monday, Sister M. Juliana visited St. Fred's on her rounds of the I. H. M. schools in the area.

Dominic Kline is working hard at readying the choral for the Spring Concert to be held the last weekend in May.

Senior Review Tests will be given next week.

Seniors were measured for their caps and gowns last Tuesday. Traditioned garb will arrive here on May 31, when the Seniors will wear them in a May procession in honor of Our Blessed Mother.

Name Honor Students in Almont Ceremony

Nine new members were inducted in the Almont Chapter of the National Honor Society at a banquet.

Magazine Drive Holds Interest as Salesmen Try for $13,000

By VICKY MICU

The magazine drive assumed the spotlight at Pontiac High School this week as the student body is striving to top the $13,000 goal set by the Student Council.

* * *

Thursday a special talent assembly was held for all students selling $3 or more in magazines. A fine array of prizes for the high salesmen are on display.

The annual all school vocal concert, "Say It With Music" is much in the news. Dates for the affair are May 8, 10, and 11.

Area Seniors to Take Trips

The long awaited for month of May is close at last, bringing senior trips, graduation plans, the last big dance of the year and many memories to last a lifetime.

AT LAPEER

A cruise on the Great Lakes is in store for Lapeer seniors May 15-18 for their annual trip.

The cruise will take them to Chicago for a regular sight seeing tour, then to Mackinac Island to explore the famous fort, to Detroit and home again.

AT IMLAY CITY

Forty-six members of Imlay City High will leave for New York Monday for their senior trip. This journey by train will land them in the "big city" Tuesday morning where they will see all the famous sights of Manhattan Island.

AT CLARKSTON

The Journalism Class has planned to go to Ann Arbor, Tuesday, to visit Edwards Brothers, Inc. They will see how a yearbook is processed and other printing techniques.

To date the "Wolves" have played three games, winning two non-league and losing one league game to Milford 10-2.

AT WEST BLOOMFIELD

C&J Club members and their sponsor attended the MIPA convention in Ann Arbor last week. Members of the club making the trip were Linda William Sandy Lawyer, Janet Halsema, Ann Thompson, Barbara Boch and Patty White.

Juniors and Seniors are planning the Prom slated from 8:30 until midnight May 26. "One Heavenly Night" will be theme of the annual dance. General co-chairmen are Sandy Gidcumb and Kay Loveland.

AT WALLED LAKE

The Varieties of '56 will go to press in a few days. The yearbook supplement, annually written and edited by the journalism staff contains names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the entire senior class, the class will, prophecy, history, mock election results and snapshots.

Kay Dunne participated in the regional forensic contests held at Southfield today. Kay won the district original oratory contest at Farmington in March.

AT LAKE ORION

Plans are in a flurry for the "big event of the year" . . . the Junior - Senior prom. Committees are working to make it "the best ever."

The theme is "Out of this World". The dance, by invitation only, is slated for next Friday from 9:30 to 12:30 in the high school gymnasium..

AT NORTH BRANCH

The North Branch High School graduating class of 1956 will break an all-time numerical record when a class of 91 will receive diplomas at the annual commencement event to be on Thursday evening, May 31.

AT AVONDALE

The annual band concert is scheduled for Thursday night under the direction of John Nextek. Nearly 1,000 are expected to attend the concert which will also include a selection by the junior high band under the direction of Gerald O'Connor.

* * *

PTSA Spring festival is coming up in May, Committees to plan the festival include five teachers, five parents and five students. The students are Jim Brewer, Bill Wilson, Carl Mazurek, Paula Barton and Nancy Lowery.

Finals in the ping pong tournament will be held next week with Al Alcron playing Don Carpenter for the singles championship.

200 Go to Washington

Washington trips and song festivals are on junior high school agendas this week.

* * *

Avondale has great plans for a vocal concert next Wednesday at 8 p.m. "Songs of Our Nation" is theme and Jean Woodworth is directing.

AT MADISON

Fifty-one students left on their annual trip to Washington D. C. early Wednesday morning. They will return Sunday morning.

New Student Council officers for the next year were elected this week. They include, Charlene Dortch, president; John Friedly, vice president; and Jo-Ann Dembinski, secretary-treasurer.

AT WASHINGTON

Washington ninth graders joined Madison in the Washington trip.

* * *

Two Washington students were chosen by a committee to receive free trips. The two, Harrison Munsen, 57 Chapan, president of the council and Catherine Johnston, 11 N. Johnson were given trips financed by the Student Council through special projects.

* * *

The choice was based on financial need, citizenship, contribution to school affairs and scholastic achievement.

AT EASTERN

The Student Council's money-making project is the selling of beanies and pennants. The sale will begin as soon as the order arrives.

The ninth grade homemaking classes are busy preparing for a Luncheon-Fashion Show to be given for the ladies on the faculty during the first week in May.

* * *

Fifty-five students are eagerly awaiting May 20. This is Camp Week! Edwin Rydell has charge of the group which will go to Sleeper State Park.

AT LINCOLN

The Lincoln Junior High School Student Council is composed of one student from each home room and has spent an active and full school year.

* * *

Some of the projects they have carried through are: sponsoring the Korean war orphan, Chom Chom Duk, two clothing drives, a magazine campaign, school spirit improvement drives.

* * *

They are now working on Student Activities Cards, revising the constitution of the school, planning the nominating convention which will be held in three weeks.

Hi-Y Serves School

Lincoln Junior High HI-Y renders many services to the school such as awarding a free trip to Washington D. C. to a boy and girl, sponsoring a soft ball tournament and directing traffic in parking lots at evening affairs. The annual picnic is being planned by the group now.

Athletics Rule at SMH

BY JANET ENGLISH

The athletic scene has secured headlines in the news at Saint Michael's this week. The annual athletic banquet, which is being held May 8 at 6:30 in the parish hall is the focal point of the picture.

The principal speaker at the affair will be Burt Smith line coach at Michigan State University. Smith plans to show movies of last year's Michigan State-Notre Dame football game. Ed Hayes of the Detroit Times sport department will be toastmaster.

One of the evening's highlights will be the awarding of Steve Griffen Memorial Trophies to the outstanding boy and girl athletes.

The outstanding boy and girl athlete, chosen by the high school student body, from the senior class are John Kellar and Margaret Bateman.

John is varsity basketball captain and was named this year as one of the outstanding scorers in Oakland County and also the Suburban Catholic League. Marge is a three year member of the varsity cheerleading squad.

With the arrival of invitations and name cards, seniors are beginning to realize just how soon graduation will take place.

Also impressing on them this realization were the senior reviews—tests that were taken this week.

Football Lights and Play Top News at Waterford High

By JEAN LIIMATTA

A most satisfying and active week was spent at Waterford Township High School as the "go" signal was given for planning construction of the football lights and seniors prepared for the year's highlighting events.

Discovering last Friday that the football cash fund was $4000 short to begin planning construction, ardent administration, faculty, and students immediately set out to collect the needed cash. Two thousand dollars was collected over the weekend.

A $1000 loan was then given by both the junior trip club and the faculty tennis court fund, making the necessary amount to begin planning the setup.

"Where's Harvey?" was the cry of the Dramatics Club this past week as they rehearsed for next Friday and Saturday's "Harvey." Under the direction of Patty Looman, this story of an imaginary six-foot rabbit will be staged in the school auditorium at 8 p.m.

The grand senior prom set for May 12 becomes more of a reality each day as decorations begin to take form. A four-senior panel visited each senior English class Monday to discuss the prom. Barbara Graham, James Wager, Sylvia Clark, and Bob Coonfield made up the panel.

Winning the Hearst District Oratory Contest last Friday and victorious Tuesday in competition with seven district winners, Sheldon Smith, senior, has risen to great prominence during the last week. On May 7 Sheldon will compete for the Detroit City Championship at the Veterans' Memorial Building. Directed also by Patty Looman, Myles Watkins, '55 grad, took second in the nationals last year.

Bring Beauty, Efficiency to Your Vegetable Garden

A vegetable garden can be beautiful. Professional gardeners, who devote their lives to maintaining the beauty of private estates, take pride in their vegetable plantings.

The beauty of a vegetable plot lies in its order, with crops growing in straight parallel rows, plants properly thinned to give them room, rows squared with plot boundaries, and not a weed to be seen.

Not only beauty, but efficiency is gained by such a layout. One quick trip with a wheel hoe down the straight aisle between two rows will destroy hundreds of weed sprouts, in a fraction of the time required to cultivate a disorderly garden.

Rows should be spaced with varying distances between them, depending on two factors: The needs of the crop, and the convenience of cultivation. In rich soil vegetables may be spaced more closely than in poor; but when spaced too close together, it is difficult to cultivate between the rows.

Crops growing twelve inches tall or less may be spaced 10 inches to a foot apart if cultivated with hand tools. For a wheel hoe, eighteen inches is likely to be a minimum distance to avoid disturbing the roots of the vegetables.

Taller vegetables, and those that make vines, large bushes, or have a sprawling habit, must be given more distance between rows. In small gardens, 4 feet will usually be the maximum distance, given only for such crops as bush squash and cucumbers.

After you know where the rows are to be, a line should be stretched to mark the first row.

Some gardeners use a straight, narrow board as a ruler to mark the row. A heavy cord wound on an iron reel is handy, but any strong cord stretched between two stakes will do.

Using the corner of a hoe, draw in the soft soil a shallow trench with this line as a guide. This is known as a drill. Some prefer to use the end of the hoe handle and for very small seeds the corner of a stick pressed into the soil is adequate.. Others have small hoes which they like; but it is more a matter of touch than the tool.

For small seeds such as radishes, onions, carrots, lettuce, and endive, a drill half an inch deep is enough.

Irish immigrants are credited with introducing white potatoes into New England.

Natural gas was used 3,000 years ago by the Chinese.

BROWNIES AT WORK — Brownies sponsored by the Oakland Park Methodist Church are hard at work planting seeds and cleaning up the yard of the church as one of their spring projects. Here left to right tending the garden are Rhoda Merwin, 467 Omar; Sandy Ettinger, 145 Oliver and Carmella Roselli, 657 Raskob. Standing is Eve Palaian, 635 Joslyn. Approximately 15 Brownies are working on the project.

Sweet peas, very attractive to plant lice, should be sprayed regularly from the time they are a good height.

Know Species of Mushrooms Before You Eat

ANN ARBOR—Want to collect some succluent mushrooms to decorate a sizzling steak?

* * *

Chances are you can locate just what you want since Michigan can boast over a thousand different kinds of mushrooms growing wild in the woods, fields and bogs, says Alexander H. Smith, University of Michigan professor of botany.

"A word of warning. Always learn to know the species before you eat any of it. Never—but never—rely on any rule of thumb such as whether the cap peels or whether the gills are pink," the botanist warns. "All such rules are dangerous."

"You should learn to recognize both the edible and poisonous kinds," Professor Smith says. "Best way to do this is to obtain a book or pamphlet on the subject and acquaint yourself thoroughly with the general characters of the plants, and the terms used to describe them. Then apply this information to the specimens you collect." In this region (southeastern Michigan) your best chances of finding morels are from about the 15th of May to June 25.

New Spraying Unit Lightweight, Durable

Durable, lightweight construction of a new garden sprayer saves time and energy for home gardeners.

* * *

A one-gallon tank for the sprayer is molder of Bakelite polyethylene to conserve weight, reduce refilling trips and to preserve it from rust, breaking and denting.

Working parts of this virtually indestructible sprayer include a brass drywel stirrup handle for carrying, leather plunger and patented check valve.

* * *

A flexible hose, also made of polyethylene connects the tank to an all brass nozzle and extension. Ten or more light pump strokes start the spraying action. It's light enough for a young garden helper to carry.

Beginners Should Watch Overplanting

By JOE HAAS

A check with gardeners who last year got into the soil tilling job for the first time brings out some interesting facts, which should be digested by those who this year are getting their first urge in that direction.

* * *

In most every case they agreed that they "bit off more than they could chew" or their family digest. The catalog and seed package color pictures had made them too ambitious—at the start.

While it is an old axiom that no man should plant a garden larger than his wife can weed, there's a lot more to it than that. It is quite easy to plant a garden that the whole family cannot weed.

Summing the thing up, it is found that for a family of four, a 25-foot row of radishes is ample and they should be planted at two week intervals so their fresh use can be extended. That will keep them snappy—not woody.

The same size planting is true of lettuce, beets, peas, turnips and string beans. Two rows of green corn of the same length will be sufficient. It also is a good plan to stagger the planting of that. You can string it out for several weeks.

If you have anything less than a half acre, you'd better keep out of the potato game, except for a few hills of the early variety. They are quite a labor crop, and usually can be purchased cheaper than raised by you. The potato bug will find them, and he's hungry and hard to kill.

A 25-foot row of tomatoes should yield all that you need, unless the housewife goes in for canning them or their juice. The whole gardening system depends a lot on whether or not you have a deep freeze or want to do some canning. No matter how you do it, your grocery bills are less.

DEPENDS ON DESIRE

When it comes to cabbage, which like tomatoes can best be started by buying the plants instead of the seed, a lot depends on the family desire. Some people like it every day; others only occasionally. And you can buy sauer kraut year round at the grocery at a price that might eliminate the home made kraut, which does not require much effort, nevertheless.

In raising cauliflower, eggplant, spinach, salsify and a few other garden vegetables, it is wise to discount much of the "easy production" dope that the seed producers put out. Learning to raise them may cost you far more than they bring at the market.

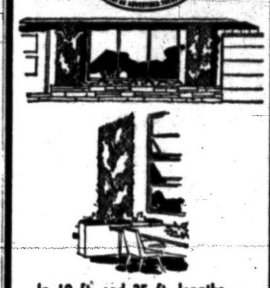

You'll be amazed at how the fertilizer helps the weeds as much as it does what you have planted. A Waterford Township gardener says the weeds grab at it first. The more fertilizer he uses, the bigger the weeds.

There is no excuse for any small gardener being bothered by dry weather. It is quite amazing how this can be overcome with a few gallons of water applied at the right time of day. The response will surprise you.

Some views expressed by these new gardeners are quite amusing. All felt that the bug, worm and beetle world had an advance tip on their individual project and aimed all guns at it—they were surprised that there were any pests left for any other garden.

Others lamented the lame backs, stiff joints, dirty hands and excess perspiration. But there wasn't a single one who regretted it, nor one who is not going back into the game this spring—but on a lesser scale.

Millions of Tulips Bloom for Annual Festival in Holland

"Softwoods" generally is the term given to the conifers or cone-bearing trees, according to the National Arborist Association.

FESTIVAL TO OPEN — Holland's (Mich.) annual tulip time festival will open May 16 for four days. Here are typical Dutch costumes worn by the children during the yearly event. The Children's Parade will be on Thursday. The whole festival draws some half million visitors every year.

May 16-19 Dates Set for Event

Town Plans Parades to Entertain 500,000 Expected Visitors

Tulips galore will be in bloom for the 27th annual Tulip Time Festival in Holland (Mich). Plans are complete, wooden shoes removed from storage and the street washing begun in preparation for the half million visitors expected.

May 16-19 are the dates set for this year's four-day festival and a variety of music and Dutch costumes will prevail.

The streets of Holland are lined with millions of tulips beginning to bloom now.

Three parades will take place. The Volk parade including bands, floats and Klompen dances will take place the first day. The Children's Parade will be held on Thursday. Thousands of youngsters will participate, depicting typical Dutch provinces as they march down the parade route.

The final parade will be the parade of bands with over 30 high school bands joined by costumed units and floats providing an hour long exhibition.

The annual flower show, staged by the Tulip City Garden Club, is one of the most noted amateur flower shows in the country. It presents artistic displays of flower arrangements. Experts will judge classes of exhibits and award prizes.

Special attractions will include the third annual Michigan Intercollegiate Choral Festival with choirs from eight state colleges participating.

The Michigan State University Bell Ringers and varsity quartets also will appear.

Many other events are planned for this festival to entertain the many who will visit Holland during Tulip Time.

Researchers Test New Zoysia Grass

EAST LANSING (AP)—New grass varieties that have raised hopes for arm chair lawn maintenance are unsuitable for conditions in Michigan, state researchers have concluded.

The weather isn't hot enough for the meyer zoysia and the new emerald zoysia, turf grass strains requiring little watering or mowing, except for brief periods in midsummer.

Over most of the state, they can't be expected to green up until May 15 or June 1, Tyson reported, and they will turn brown again with the first frost, usually sometime in September.

Tyson said that farther south where temperatures rise to about 90 early in the season, and where the humidity often is between 85 and 95 per cent, the zoysias are everthing claimed for them.

Tyson counselled Michigan lawn tenders to stick to Merion and Kentucky bluegrass, red fescuse and bent grasses for best results.

Gladiolus Can Grow Easily

Flower Adapts Well; Has Great Range of Color

The gladiolus has long been one of the most popular flowers and, with comparatively little work, can be one of the simplest to grow. Its adaptability, range of color and almost unlimited opportunities for use, make its cultivation extremely rewarding.

Simple instructions on gladiolus raising for amateur gardeners are offered by the Palmetto (Fla.) Chamber of Commerce. Palmetto is the birthplace of commercial glad production in Florida, where more than 10,000 acres of glad fields yield 144,000,000 blooms annually, according to E. H. Price, Jr., president of the Florida Gladiolus Growers Association.

The gladiolus, a hardy flower, thrives in any well-drained soil. The proper depth to plant the bulbs varies, states the Palmetto Chamber of Commerce information, according to the type of soil.

If sandy soil is enountered, bulbs soould be set six inches deep, while in heavy earth only three to four inch planting is required. An advantage of the deeper planting is that the earth tends to hold gladioli stalks firmly and they are less likely to need staking.

In the north, glad bulbs may be planted any time between late April and mid-July.

Surface soil should be kept mulched or cultivated during the growing season and must be watered thoroughly during dry periods.

Bulbs should be planted separately at 3 to 4 inch intervals in rows 2 to 3 feet apart if the gladioli are to be grown primarily for use as cut flowers. However, in a perennial bed bulbs may be planted in groups of fifteen or twenty, spacing the corms six inches apart.

Time Now to Plant Vegetables in Garden

Vegetable gardeners better get busy because it's time now to plant several of the family favorites.

Swiss chard, chives, early cabbage, early carrots, collards, parsley, peas at latest May 15, rhubarb and spinach.

Cucumbers should be planted in the house now and transplanted outside when warmer.

500 Seeds to Pound?

Seeds from cone bearing trees range from 500 to 500,000 to the pound says the National Arborist Association. White pine seed averages 27,000 to the pound, red pine 52,000; black spruce, 400,000; Atlantic white cedar, 460,000. the Torrey pie averages about 500

Recommends Fireblight Spray

Fireblight on apples and pears was very severe in many parts of the state last year, especially on Jonathan apples, reports John K. Bray, assistant county agricultural agent.

With the right combination of weather conditions, fireblight could be serious again this year, Bray said.

Ed Klos, extension plant pathologist at Michigan State University recommends a Bordeaux spray mixture for fireblight control this year, Bray continued.

Antibiotic, streptomycin can also be used in a spray but is recommended on a trial basis only. More research is being carried on.

* * *

Bray said the Bordeaux mixture should be of two pounds copper sulfate and six pounds lime to 100 gallons of water. Use the first spray at 25 per cent bloom and the second at 100 per cent bloom. If the bloom period is prolonged and wet, put on one or two extra sprays.

If fireblight was severe last year, Bray suggests reducing or eliminating nitrogen fertilizer applications this year. Also cut out cankers.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—When should a Hall's Japanese honeysuckle vine be trimmed.

A—At any time—removing all dead canes and one-third of the oldest canes, too. You can cut this vine severely as it withstands much abuse.

Q—Is it possible to use some type of chemical to kill chickweed in a strawberry patch without injury to plants?

A—The answer to chickweed in the strawberry patch is: (1) hand pulling, (2) using Crag Herbicide No. 1 according to directions, (3) a fairly heavy straw mulch between the rows about the plants.

Q—Being close to nearby fields and woods makes my garden attractive to rabbits. What poison can I set out to destroy them?

A—It is against the law to poison rabbits. Only trapping is permitted, and you must secure a trap permission from your local county game warden, who takes the trapped rabbits out to the country. The answer to rabbits is a 24-30" chicken wire fence around the garden, with the bottom an inch or more underground to prevent burrowing under.

Q—Please tell me if Merion blue grass turns brown as do other grasses in mid-summer.

A—Important among Merion blue grass' many qualities is its ability to withstand drought and lack of water and remain as green in mid-summer as it is in spring and winter.

Q—Tell me when one should prune rhododendrons. I have some very large ones which I would like to cut back so that they will not be so tall.

A—Ordinarily rhododendrons need no pruning other than the removal of an occasional straggly branch. It is possible, however, to cut them back quite hard and have them renew themselves from the lower parts of the stems and thus make straggly plants low and bushy. The cutting back should be done this month and should be followed by mulching the ground with a very rotted manure, good compost or peat moss.

Wear Rubber Treated Gloves for Hand Care

To protect the hands, wear treated rubber gloves until they are uncomfortably warm, and then switch to the new lightweight leather ones which fit the fingers well enough to permit delicate work.

And while you're at it, try a pair of rubber foam knee pads which look rather odd but make gardening much less painful.

Treeless towns are also usually lifeless, says the National Arborist Association.

NEW SCARECROW—This rectangle of Bakelite rigid vinyl decorated with an owl motif is the newest thing to ward off the birds who eat your carefully tended fruits and vegetables. The owl device can also be used to keep birds away from washlines, utility poles and ooutdoor furniture. The slightest breeze causes the lightweight plastic to move and the motion scares the birds.

Germans Now Ride Cheap Midget Cars

FRANKFURT—Because German workers have a motorcar taste but a motorcycle income, new cheap-to-run midgets of many kinds are emerging on German highways.

Latest is the Delta, made by the aircraft firm of Dornier. English observers say it is shaped like a Gladstone bag on wheels and carries four adults sitting in pairs back to back.

It does 52 miles an hour and costs around $700. Its back and front open upwards on hinges and seats can be made into a double bed.

Then there is Willy Messerschmidt's $630 aeroplane cockpit on wheels. Some 16,000 have been sold. Once derided as a toy it recently broke 25 world records.

President to Depend Heavily on TV in '56 Campaign

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's campaign plans can now be revealed for the first time.

* * *

Beginning approximately two weeks after the GOP convention in San Francisco Aug. 20, Ike will fly to "five or six" gigantic Republican rallies in each geographical section of the country. He will average approximately one campaign trip every 10 days during the remaining eight weeks of the rough-and-tumble campaign.

The President will make "absolutely no" trips by campaign train, even through the populous, closely settled northeast. Only in the event of bad flying weather will a train be substituted for a plane, and in that event, no barnstorming whistle-stops will be scheduled along the way.

This is the word from Republican national chairman Leonard Hall, who told this correspondent in an exclusive interview:

"All of the President's addresses to party rallies will be carried by nationwide television hook-up to the American people. In this way, he can reach the maximum number of listeners without resorting to the barnstorming that he dislikes."

CONFINED CAMPAIGN

Hall said Ike will probably vacation for "approximately two weeks" after the convention. Then, except for "the usual addresses to universities and the like," he will confine his campaigning to giant mass meetings in strategically located areas where the going may be roughest.

But the Republicans have a few more aces up their sleeves. The party has already contracted for $2,200,000 worth of radio-television time, most of which will be use for five-minute TV "spots" following big-name television shows.

These brief productions, some of which have already been filmed, will be carefully staged to carry the maximum political impact.

Eisenhower himself will star in some of the "spots," but most of them will feature cabinet members and prominent Republican senators.

One 30-minute production, now in the planning stage, will present the combined cabinet in a discussion of the big issues of our time. The show will be filmed in such a way that parts of it can be lopped off and played separately as five-minute fillers.

DULLES, WILSON EXCEPTED

All members of the cabinet except Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson will campaign directly on the party stump.

The convention itself, according to Hall, will be held to "a maximum of four days." For the first time, it will be used as a "direct kickoff" for the campaign, and every speech from the televised platform will be designed to promote the Republican ticket.

Chairman Hall will take to the rules committee a set of suggestions designed to eliminate the tedious polling of individual states which four years ago wasted so much valuable television time.

* * *

Hall anticipates no trouble in re-nominating Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the no. 2 spot. Of Ike's controversal running mate, Hall declared: "I think Nixon is a very popular man and a great asset to the party. I think he will help the ticket." Then, with a chuckle, he amended happily: "As if it needed any help. What a ticket!"

'BRING 'EM-ON'

The Democratic decision to make Ike the direct target of political attack leaves the big (six-feet-two, 235 pounds) easy going Republican chairman undisturbed.

"Bring 'em on," he grins happily.

* * *

Republican strategists are nursing a pleasant surprise for party faithful at the convention. Because there are never enough seats for all who want to attend, a huge circus tent will be erected next door to the San Francisco Cow Palace to accommodate the overflow.

A closed television circuit will carry the entire proceedings to the hot dog-munching party stalwarts under the big tent.

Hall, who serves without pay as national chairman, exudes confidence about the outcome of this year's election. Even the farm discontent fails to ruffle his massive calm.

Hall says the agriculture situation is "spotty," that Republicans did well in the dairy farming areas in the Wisconsin primary, and that hog prices have gone up nearly $6 per hundredweight recently.

* * *

"The Democrats know in their hearts that they can't win this year," he mused contentedly. "I'm surprised that Lyndon (Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson) would torture and twist the facts the way he did in his televised farm speech this week. It just isn't like Lyndon. But let 'em whistle in the dark. We don't mind."

Snakes Alive! —and All Over the Backyard

HUDSON (AP) — A Hudson grandmother who's "scared to death of snakes," has killed 55 of them in the back yard of her residence here in the last two weeks. All were blue racers, ranging in length from a foot to two and a half feet.

"I've never liked snakes and am scared to death of them," Mrs. Clarence Segraves admitted. "But, when they're all over the yard, there's not much else to do with them."

The snakes apparently have been hibernating in an abandoned well near the Segraves residence. Warmer weather has brought them out of the stones which line the sides. "I opened the basement door this morning and there was one right outside on the sidewalk. I was so mad I stomped him to death," she said.

Mrs. Segraves discovered the first two snakes while raking the lawn Friday, April 13. They were hiding in the shrubs around the house. She killed them with the rake.

"The more I killed the more seemed to come out," she said. "My husband had an old ice fishing spear in the garage so I got that out and keep it near the back door. One day I walked out in back and was surrounded by them. They were all over the yard. I grabbed the spear and started stabbing. I killed 23 in ten minutes."

* * *

Mrs. Segraves is planning on flushing out the wall with a hose in an evvort to get rid of the rest.

Siamese Twins Born

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—Siamese twin girls were born yesterday to a 27-year-old mother. They were joined from chest to abdomen. Doctors reported the infants in satisfactory condition and said they were studying the case for the possibility of separating them. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Neubauer.

Billy Wilder Set to Direct 'Witness for Prosecution'

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Billy Wilder is the most negligent director I know about returning telephone calls — but whether he does or he doesn't — I know he's set to direct the dramatic thriller of the year, "Witness for the Prosecution," a big hit both in London and on Broadway.

Also, despite Billy's clamming up for the only woman's role in as far apart as the poles, Vivien Leigh and Marlene Dietrich, are up for the only woman's role in the Agatha Christie thriller.

Just now finishing "Spirit of St. Louis" with Jimmy Stewart, Billy goes to England to do "Ariane" with Audrey Hepburn, followed by "Prosecution" which will also be made in London for UA release.

With Ann Sothern and Jack Chertok making no secret of their battles over the popular TV show "Private Secretary" — it may or may not mean anything that producer Chertok has signed Jan Sterling, a comedienne not unlike Ann, for still another TV series, "Publicity Girl."

If Ann carries out her threat of several months ago to walk out, Chertok has an ace-in-the-hole in Jan. The first chapter on "Publicity Girl" rolls May 3 and was written by Jerry Davis, Marilyn Maxwell's husband.

The series revolves around a free-lance press agent in Hollywood whose efforts in behalf of her clients bring on all sorts of complications. Remind you a bit of "Private Secretary?"

SAD SITUATION

To me it was very sad that Anne Baxter sued John Hodiak's parents for their $14,000 house for her daughter. It was always uppermost in John's mind to take of his parents, to whom he was devoted. Anne has been doing so very well in her career.

When Anne was in Phoenix making "The Maverick" she went to visit the nearby home of her famous grandfather, Frank Lloyd Wright, only to find he had taken off for New York.

Ohio State Placed on Probation by Big Ten

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Buffeted by the biggest prestige blow in its history—a one-year probation by the Big 10 for violations of the sports code—Ohio State University started today to put its athletic house in order.

* * *

Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Western Conference commissioner, announced the penalty yesterday in Chicago following a long and intensive probe.

The edict eliminated the Bucks from all chance at next season's Rose Bowl bid, should they win an unprecedented third straight conference football crown; ordered Coach Woody Hayes to comply with the rules regarding financial aid to athletes; insisted that the university supervise the work program of athletes diligently, and declared some 20 gridders temporarily and theoretically ineligible. The players involved were not named.

Michigan State is the only other school ever placed on probation in the Big 10. That was in 1953, when a one-year probation was ordered after a probe of the "Sparta Foundation," a booster fund not administered by the school. The probation was lifted in about nine months, just before the Rose Bowl selection was made. The Spartans were picked for the bowl game.

* * *

University officials, while deploring the severity of the penalty, did not plead innocent to the charges.

* * *

Athletic Director Dick Larkins said, "We have had a long and thorough investigation by the Big 10. We have no appeal. We do not deny technical guilt and we have been penalized."

* * *

President Howard Bevis observed, "We will accept the judgement of the commissioner and abide by it. Any violations of the rules of which we have been guilty will be stopped. We mean to live within the rules."

Dr. Wendell Postle, faculty representative to the conference, said "We feel the penalty is rather severe, but we are accepting it and we have already begun to put our house in order . . . later, when we are satisfied that all matters pertaining to our probation have been corrected, we may appeal to have the period of probation shortened."

Coach Hayes was more vehement, declaring that "Commissioner Wilson's decision comes as a terrible shock to all of us. All my life I have been taught to respect properly delegated authority, and for this reason I do not believe we should appeal the decision. This, however, does not infer that I agree with the severity of the penalty, nor the manner in which the investigation was made."

* * *

Hayes was the principal target of Wilson's statement. The commissioner said:

"Football Coach Woodrow Hayes has acknowledged assistance to unnamed members of the Ohio State football squads from his personal funds in amounts which are said to total approximately $400 annually over a period of five years."

The statement also said Hayes had refused to name the beneficiaries of the assistance. Wilson states his investigation is continuing because of "Mr. Hayes refusal to provide an accounting of this assistance."

* * *

The probe was launched following a story in a national magazine (Sports Illustrated) that Hayes had given or lent small sums to some of his players.

Of that angle, Wilson said:

"It is represented by him (Hayes) to have been an unsystematic and unrecorded aid of a purely personal nature as a result of individuals' appeals based on need and hardship, and that, where granted, the help was usually understood to be a loan."

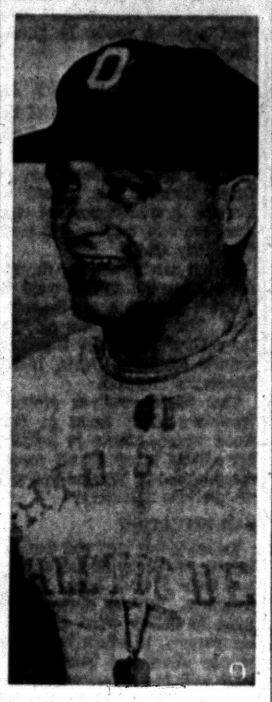

It was what Wilson termed a "serious irregularity in the off-campus work program for certain football players" which had a big bearing on the severity of the penalty and led to the questionable eligibility status of some 20 squad members.

* * *

Wilson said his investigation disclosed that some of the players were holding off-campus jobs under the program administered by the football staff and with an agreement with certain Columbus employers. These players, Wilson said, "were being advanced monthly wages for either two or three months with no enforceable liability to repay in kind or in services."

* * *

"None of the athletes who were beneficiaries of the irregularities in the work program which permitted them to draw pay in advance of performing work therefore shall be presented for eligibility until I have approved satisfactory evidence they have actually repaid fully in services the wages received," the commissioner ruled.

AP Wirephoto

MUST COMPLY—Woody Hayes, above, coach of football at Ohio State University, has been ordered to comply with all rules of the Big Ten regarding financial assistance to athletes. Order was included among conditions as Big Ten Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson announced in Chicago yesterday that Ohio State was on probation for one year.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The tide has turned for two of the most powerful organizations in the country.

Up to now the International Boxing Club and the Amateur Athletic Union have enjoyed sitting back and dishing it out.

The brooms of Jim Norris of the IBC and Dan Ferris of the AAU have been busily cleaning everyone else's home.

But now a musty odor has leaked out of the vacuum of the AAU and IBC, and a house cleaning of the chambermaids may be in the offing.

★ ★ ★ ★

Ferris is screaming denials to the charges of former amateur track star John Fulton that he arranged a trip for Fulton in excess of AAU expense rules.

Four other old time track stars, Roscoe Brown, Joe Nowicki, Elmore Harris and Jim Herbert have now admitted they accepted payoffs, and know of AAU officials who, when they were competing, did likewise.

In the other camp, the need for house cleaning is long overdue.

Boxing has long lost the confidence of the honest sports fan.

★ ★ ★ ★

There are good fighters in the game. There are honest fights being given to the public, but recent events will by no means help the future of boxing.

The New York cleanup, the California investigations and now the Federal government inquiry into the alleged shakedowns of the IBC involving many of the top fights in each case, can only make even the ardent fight fan wonder about the legitimacy of any match he sees.

Control by individuals such as exercised by Norris and Ferris is bad for any sport. But now the broom is in another closet and we hope for the good of athletics whether amateur or professional.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Sorry to hear that the Lions obtained Dick Modzelewski from Pittsburgh to use him only as trade bait. Of course my regret may be sentimental because Dick hails from my hometown in Pennsylvania.

"Little Mo," as he is called, performed well for the Steelers last year, but there was speculation around Pittsburgh that he wasn't happy with the team after "Big Mo" was traded to Cleveland.

Everyone knows it was Ed Modzelewski who was a big gun for the Browns championship run last year and Paul Brown is first to admit this.

★ ★ ★ ★

So maybe the change for "Little Mo" could have been as profitable for the Lions as the change for "Big Mo" was for Cleveland.

But after being a Lion for a day, "Little Mo" was sent to New York yesterday for tackle Ray Krouse, another ex-Maryland gridder.

It will be interesting to see how Krouse and Modzelewski do with their respective clubs.

★ ★ ★ ★

Here's one for athletes in the various sports to argue. A recent poll of some sort claims the prettiest wives in sports belong to baseball players and pro golfers.

Larson Fires Four-Hit Win Against Hills

Holds Upstate Club to One Run as PHS Gets 8-1 Victory

SAGINAW—Pontiac High's baseball Chiefs ran their Valley string to two in a row, yesterday afternoon over Arthur Hill, 8-1.

LARSON

Arnold Larson was the chucker, and he did all right, giving up four blows and striking out five Lumberjacks.

Jim Jones threw a no-hit one-run job at the 'Jacks on Wisner Field Monday, for a 10-1 victory. Chiefs now have won four straight, two in the Valley.

Ed Heikkinen's club sewed the game up in the 2nd frame. Clay Williams scored a 1st-inning run on an error. Four counters went over the rubber in the big 2nd.

Hillites had tied it up with an opening frame run by Rae, helped by an error and Draves' single.

Charley Johnson, Larson and Art Poe loaded the bags in the 2nd, on errors and a walk. Chuck McIlrath singled Johnson and Larson home. Bud Hayward singled in Poe and McIlrath.

Chiefs collected two more in the 5th and another in the 6th.

Victory was Larson's 2nd. He beat Port Huron in one section of the recent twin bill at Port Huron.

MSU, OSU Out

Rose Battle in 3rd Place

CHICAGO (AP) — A third place team could wind up as the Big Ten's representative in the Rose Bowl football game next New Year's day.

Ohio State, Big Ten champion the last two years, is ineligible for the Rose Bowl trip after being placed on probation by Commissioner K. L. Wilson.

Michigan State is ineligible to return under the Big Ten rule prohibiting successive appearances.

MSU went last New Year's day. Ohio State, the titlist, was ineligible since it had gone the year before.

Ohio State and Michigan State are among the favorites to win the 1956 Big Ten football crown.

TIGERS MEET CLEVELAND TODAY

Draft Beckons Harvey Kuenn

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers today waited apprehensively for the answers to two vital questions—will the draft board grab Havey Kuenn and will Al Kaline start hitting?

* * *

The "K" boys, a pair of bonus players, have put lots of fire into the Tigers' youth program and have been important cogs in Detroit's drive back to contention in the American League after finishing last in 1952.

Kuenn was the rookie of the year in 1953 and the sophomore of the year in 1954. In three Major League seasons he has hit .308, .306 and .306.

Yesterday his Milwaukee draft board notified him to report May 11, presumably for a phyiscal examination. He twice has been classified 4-F because of a football knee injury in high school.

Kaline won the American League batting championship last season with a .340 average, tops in both leagues. This spring his average is a puny .143 and he's extremely concerned.

The young rightfielder proved he's doing plenty of worrying by taking a couple of extra turns in the batting cage yesterday as the Tigers prepared for the weekend invasion of the Cleveland Indians.

"I don't know what it is," said Kaline. "I feel fine. The weather has been lousy, but it shouldn't bother me any more than the rest of the boys."

His coaches say he is swinging at bad pitches and lunging at the ball. He has only four hits—two of them home runs—in 28 at-bats.

Kaline faced four difference pitchers in batting drills yesterday. The workout lasted an hour for most of the regulars. But not Kaline. The others were showered and dressed when he finally walked through the tunnel and into the clubhouse.

"All he needs is a couple of good days," said one of the coaches.

No one questions that there is terrific pressure on the youngster who hit 27 home runs and drove in 102 runs last season.

* * *

There was little of the usual chatter when Kaline took his cuts. The former bonus player took them seriously, muttering to himself when he didn't smash the ball the way he thought he should. He was talking off and on all during his batting practice and obviously was mad at himself. But mad or not, he sent several of the offerings flying out over the Briggs Stadium fences.

Kuenn, too, has been in a batting slump this spring. His average is .185, only slightly better than Kaline's.

The former University of Wisconsin star is 25 years old. He was married last October and he and his wife are expecting a baby in August.

In the opening game against Cleveland today, Harris called on righthander Frank Lary to oppose big Mike Garcia. It will be Lary's 2nd start of the young season, and he has yet to win a game.

He finished the opener against Kansas City, but lost 2-1 when Gus Zernial smacked a two-run double after Lary's home run had put the Tigers ahead. Then against Cleveland last weekend, Lary had control trouble and failed to finish.

Ned Garver was scheduled to start today's contest, but pulled a tendon attachment in his elbow while workout out in the cold in Kansas City and will miss the series. Trainer Jack Homel said the injury is not serious.

For Saturday's afternoon game, it will be Bud Black opposing the Indians' Bob Lemon, who beat the Tigers in their recent series. It's a big test for Black, who showed almost nothing in spring training then came up with a good relief stint in Cleveland to win another look-see.

Skippers Take Triangular Meet

Compiling 68 points in a three-way track meet yesterday afternoon at Orchard Lake, Waterford High's thinclads turned in a well-balanced performance, to win the event.

St. Mary's was the runnerup with 40½ and Southfield had 21½ in 3rd place.

A number of school records were broken in the meet.

Skippers walked off with six firsts and tied for another. Eaglet athletes had five winners, tied for one, while Southfield took a single first, Mike Larson's 55.3 win in the 440.

Eaglets had two double winners in Stan Majewski and Jerry Leszcziksi. Stan won the 180 low hurdles in 22.2 and the broad jump at 19 feet 10 inches. Jerry took the century in 10.6 and the 220 in 24.4. Stan also was 2nd in the high hurdles and ran with the winning 880 relay team. Jerry also was 4th in the shot. Stan compiled 13 points, Jerry 11.

Gary Meeker for Waterford also had 11 points, with 1st in the vault, tie in high jump at 5-8 and 3rd in the high sticks.

Jerry Ostrowski shared a new OL 880 mark with his 2:04 effort along with Gale Wigner of Waterford. This race was a thriller all the way.

Bill Cole (W) won the high hurdles at 16.1. The Waterford medley team won this event, 2:38.9; Bob O'Neill (W) the mile at 4:49.8 (school record); Meeker won vault at 10-6; Waterford won the 880 relay, time 1:37, and Bob Mawhinney and Meeker tied at 5-8 in the high jump.

Among other Eaglet winners was Joe Waluk in the shot, 44-7.

Heavy Smelt Runs at Mackinaw City

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — Heavy smelt runs were reported today in all streams at the top of the Lower Peninsula.

F. A. Roueche, a Mackinaw City Chamber of Commerce representative, said the run was so heavy in the Carp River last night that it was possible to dip two bushels in as little as three minutes.

Rouesche said the runs were expected to continue over the weekend.

COLLEGIATE VAULTER EYES OLYMPICS — Bob Gutowski, a junior at Occidental college of Los Angeles, displays the pole vaulting form that has carried him over the bar at 15 feet ¼ inch and given him a good chance to make the U. S. Olympic team. Only three other pole vaulters have gone over 15 feet while still in college. Gutowski has his sights set on Cornelius Warmerdam's world record of 15 feet 7⅝ inches.

Pontiac Thinclads Go After 15th Win

By H. GUY MOATS

One of the most remarkable prep track records in Michigan is due for another extension.

Pontiac's sensational thinclads head for Mt. Pleasant at the crack of dawn, Saturday, for the Central Michigan College Relays. Coach Wally Schloerke's squad is the defending champion.

After last Saturday's brilliant victory in the famed Mansfield (Ohio) Relays, and because Chiefs compiled a record winning total in last year's meet they are once more rated "the team to beat." A staggering 101, 1-5 total was compiled in 1955.

Same team is still rolling this spring. It was PHS' 1st try at this event a year ago.

Chiefs have rolled up 14 straight meet victories in 2 years.

The entire Pontiac squad will make the trip by highway bus. Preliminary events get under way at 9:30 a.m.

C. J. Mefort, meet director, reports the biggest entry in the event's history, with 159 (154 in '55) schools already listed, in the 4-class meet. Of this total 18 are Class A schools, with Saginaw and Arthur Hill posting biggest squads (45-40). Chiefs will number 35.

Chiefs will again be led by the sensational Hayes Jones. Hayes collected 15 points a year ago, as top man. He has averaged that figure all this season. He has improved upon his times in the hurdles and extended his broad jump by wide margins over last year and could hang up new marks in all three at Mt. Pleasant.

He will be hard to beat in the 120 highs, the 180 low sticks and in the broad jump. His 14.3 dual mark, the 19.4 record equalling (at Mansfield) time, and the 22 foot 11 and ¼ inch broad jump are his best this year.

Pontiac took 7 firsts, 7 seconds, and two third places in the 1955 meet.

Individual entries listed for Pontiac, Schloerke says, include:

180 low hurdles—Jones, Jimmy Taylor
120 high hurdles—Jones, Taylor
100 yard dash—Freeman Watkins, Marv Cagle
Mile run—Perry Williams, Gene Crejcal
High jump—Hudson Ray, Alex Barge
Broad jump—Jones, Douglas
Shot—Mike Hardiman, Clayton Cocking
440 relay—Archie Brooks, Dave Payne, Alex Barge, Joe Hill
880 relay—Watkins, Charley Robinson, Charles Spann, Jim Shorter.
Mile relay—Alex Boykins, Monte Humphrey, Dave Phlegm, Charles Seyler.
2-mile relay—Hersell, Pete Cox, Charley Barge, Rod Treals.
Shuttle—Hurdle relay—(120 yards)—Taylor, Robinson, Jim Keller, Jones.
Middle distance relay — Rog Coats (880), Shorter (440), Larry Beemer (880), Bill Douglas (880).
Cent. relay—Joe Hill (220), Payne (110), Cagle (110), M. Hardiman (220).
Spring medley—Spann (440), Watkins (220), Robinson (220), Brooks (440).

Pinch-Hitter Wins Extra-Frame Battle

Tied up 1-1 at end of regulation time, Royal Oak Junior Varsity baseball club went on to the ninth, Thursday afternoon.

Omaccov's single scored Dernberger with the winner.

Pontiac got its run in the 2nd on a double by Ken McLintock and Don Dyner's double that scored Ken. Acorn juniors got a run in the 5th. Little Chiefs had bases jammed, one out, in the 5th, but couldn't score.

Charles Honchell went most of the way for PHS, Joe Tinson going inin the 9th. PHS got eight hits, Royal Oak five.

DOWN AND OUT — Don Cockell, British heavyweight champion, is down and almost outside the ring after a second-round knockout at the hands of Kitione Lave of Tonga in the South Seas. The fight was staged in London this week. Cockel, who has taken punches from Rocky Marciano, said Lave hit him harder than any man he had ever met. The leg without a body on the right belongs to Lave.

MSU Meets Buckeye Champs

Big Ten Nines Begin Loop Play

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten baseball pennant drive starts today with a full round of five single games followed tomorrow by five doubleheaders.

Defending champion Ohio State opens at Michigan State before moving to Michigan for a pair of contests. The Buckeye series is regarded the toughest opening weekend assignment of the lot for both the Spartans and Wolverines are contenders.

The other openers today, Northwestern is at Iowa, Purdue at Illinois, Indiana at Michigan and Wisconsin at Minnesota.

Other doubleheader attractions tomorrow involve Northwestern at Minnesota, Purdue at Illinois, Indiana at Michigan State and Wisconsin at Iowa.

The Buckeyes had a 9-4 pre-season record with catcher John Purvis posting a .387 batting mark and outfielder Howard Cassady .367.

Michigan starts with a 10-3 spring record and Ray Fisher, dean of conference baseball coaches, has 13 lettermen on hand. Steve Boros, sophomore third baseman, is hitting .448.

Michigan has won 15 titles under Fisher, five of them in the last eight years.

Michigan State, 7-5, has a veteran outfield and mound staff but an inexperienced infield.

Illinois climbed from the cellar to 4th place last season and hopes to continue up the ladder after winning eight of 15 games and tying one. But two regulars are sidelined with injuries. Outfielder Vic Petreshene and shortstop Dick Gunn.

Eight lettermen, including three first string pitchers, make Minnesota dangerous and the Gophers could field their best team in nine years. They compiled 11-5 this spring.

Sophomores will carry the load at Northwestern. One of them is Chuck Lindstrom, a fine catcher prospect and son of coach Fred Lindstrom.

Wisconsin turned in a 9-3 practice game mark and looks for improvement along with Iowa, Indiana and Purdue. Iowa has a 6-8 preconference record, Indiana 7-9 and Purdue a sparkling 8-1.

Secrets of Better Golf

By Patty Berg

In using an 8-iron, when the clubhead reaches the ball you will have the sensation of a much crisper shot than with your longer clubs.

The swing with a shorter iron is one of hitting down and through the ball with little body action. The hands and wrists send the clubhead through the ball with a sharp descending blow.

Do not hasten the action. Let the hands firmly control the club so that the natural loft of the clubhead will punch the ball into the air.

In hitting a short iron, the clubhead contacts the ball first and turf afterwards. This gives your shot authority and enables the ball to be sent accurately on its way to the objective.

Some beginners try to scoop the ball up when using a short iron. This action will only result in lessening the length of your shot. Also, the ball will lack the necessary "bite" to stop it on the green. Let the clubhead loft the ball naturally, and hit the ball a sharp descending blow.

At the time of contact, the left hand guides the clubhead into the ball and the right hand straightens so the palm is facing the objective.

Although there is little body action or pivoting, at the time of contact the right side is more relaxed and the left leg acts somewhat as a brace. The right side bends or curves slightly in toward the left, and the left side balances the weight for the impact.

If you have executed an accurate shot, you will hear a familiar "click" when the clubhead contacts the ball. This means you have contacted the ball squarely — so listen for it.

LISTEN FOR "CLICK" OF 8-IRON HITTING

The ball is hit down and through with the hands and wrists in an 8-iron shot. The right hand straightens so the palm faces the objective and the left guides the clubhead. The right side is more relaxed than the left.

Lions Complete 4-Way Trade

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions today completed their third player deal in three days by trading newly-acquired tackle Dick Modzelewski to the New York Giants for tackle Ray Krouse.

* * *

Three different clubs were involved in the swaps with the Lions, and when it was all over, Lion general manager Nick Kerbawy said "everyone is real happy."

The Lions, who fell to the Western Division cellar in 1955 after a series of successes, had Modzelewski only one day. They got him from the Pittsburgh Steelers in exchange for defensive halfback Dick Alban.

Alban had come to Detroit a day earlier in a deal with the Washington Redskins for tackle Dick Stanfel.

* * *

When Detroit finally landed the 29-year-old Krouse, a perennial all-pro choice, Kerbawy said "we finally got the guy we were after all the time." Asked if that ended the trading, he said "that does it—for right now, anyway."

It is known that the Detroit club—determined to go to almost any lengths to rebuild and reclaim the National Football League title—is in the market for more help in the backfield. Coach Buddy Parker and Kerbawy have been talking with at lest two clubs about backfield deals.

Krouse is a veteran of five years in the NFL. A standout at Maryland, he is 6-3 and weighs about 260. Kerbawy calls him "one of the biggest and fastest tackles in pro football."

* * *

Acquisition of Krouse, the giants number two draft pick in 1951, will enable the Lions to put Lou Creegmur back at an offensive tackle post. Creekmur, who filled in capably at middle guard most of last season, is better on offense and the Lions want to use him there exclusively.

"The whole thing is a great tribute to the four coaches involved—our own Buddy Parker, Walt Kiesling of Pittsburgh, Jim Lee Howell of New York and Joe Kuharich of Washington," said Kerbawy.

"Pittsburgh had to have a defensive halfback to go with this new kid (Gary Glick, the Steelers' top choice from Colorado A & M), and Alban wound up there. Washington wanted Stanfel and the Giants wanted Modzelewski. And we're real happy that we got Krouse."

Many High Scores Seen

Littler Leads in Champions' Meet

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The picture was about the same as one year ago as 22 select players headed into the second round of the $37,500 Tournament of Champions today, with Gene Littler the most prominent in the golfing scene.

The 25-year-old California star held a two-stroke lead over the field and, as the betting favorite in this betting town, seemed a hard man to beat.

A year ago Gene and two others, Chick Harbert and Ed Furgol, were tied going into the second round and held a bare one-stroke lead over their nearest challengers. Then Littler began to draw away and was never seriously threatened in his drive for the $10,000 winner's prize.

* * *

In many respects, for a Tournament of Champions, the situation was out of focus. Every player had to be the winner of a major open during the past year to qualify for the Las Vegas affair, now in its fourth year.

But a blustering wind that sometimes reached 40 m.p.h. and the Desert Inn Country Club course, 7,102 yards of man-fashioned golfing country with a par of 36-36—72—took their toll.

Three former National Open champions felt the blow. Cary Middlecoff, who seldom shoots over 75, took 79 yesterday to get around the place. The current U.S. Open champion, Jack Fleck, was high man with a fat 82.

Lloyd Mangrum, after a threatening 35 on the front side, took a 40, a 75 and a back seat for the day.

* * *

Tommy Bolt may blow hot and cold, but Bolt rarely ventures into the 80's. He had an 81 yesterday. This was understandable in view of the fact that the day before he attended the funeral of his father in Shreveport, La. He spent the night flying here. Two successive sevens, on the ninth and 10th, killed him.

* * *

On the ninth, Tommy's ball landed behind a tree. He had to lose a stroke to get out to the fairway. Then he shanked the approach and missed the green completely. Tommy just doesn't shoot that kind of golf, even in his angriest moment.

Hoping to move in on Littler today were such professionals as Doug Ford, Ted Kroll and Shelley Mayfield, who were only two shots back of Littler.

Three blows away was Henry Ransom, a veteran of many years, and at 74 were Chandler Harper, Arnold Palmer, Frank Stranahan and young Mike Fetchik.

Norris Trophy Goes to Harvey

Canadien Defenseman Gets Runaway Vote of Sports Scribes

MONTREAL (AP) — Rugged Doug Harvey of the Montreal Canadiens is the top defenseman in the National Hockey League.

That was confirmed today with the announcement ahat the 31-year-old star has been awarded the James Norris Memorial Trophy for the second straight year.

The voting was a runaway in favor of the Canadiens' versatile rearguard. The hockey writers, broadcasters and telecasters gave him 156 points.

Bill Gadsby of the New York Rangers was second with 59 and Red Kelly of the Detroit Red Wings third with 44.

* * *

The 180-pounder, who stands just under six feet will get a check for $1,000 from the NHL for his latest honor.

Only other Detroit player mentioned in the voting was Bob Goldham, who received three points. Kelly won the Norris Trophy for the 1953-54 season, the first year it was awarded.

Other defensemen who received points in the voting were: Tom Johnson, Montreal, 21; Fern Flaman, Boston, 11; Harry Howell, New York, 8; Frank Martin, Chicago, 7; Allan Stanley, Chicago, 5; Hugh Bolton, Toronto, Dollard St. Laurent, Montreal, and Goldham, 3 each; Jimmy Morrison, and Lee Fogolin, Chicago, 2 each.

Former Major League Catcher Is Dead at 76

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Clifford Douglas Blankenship, 76, whose broken finger led to the signing of pitcher Walter Johnson, died yesterday.

Blankenship, a catcher with the Washington Senators in 1907, was left in St. Louis with a broken finger. There he heard tales of a pitcher in Weiser, Idaho, who had a blazing fast ball. So, manager Joe Cantillion sent Blankenship to scout this pitcher. One look and Johnson was signed, starting one of the great baseball careers.

Blankenship also played for Cincinnati, for Seattle in the Pacific Coast League and managed Salt Lake in 1915.

Milford Golfers Win

A four-stroke margin gave Milford High's golf team a victory over Northville yesterday afternoon, at the Highland course. Milford scored 186, Northville 190.

Allen Cockings of Northville was medalist with 38. Ed Tokarsky led Milford with 40.

Entry List of 1,300 Seen for OCKC's May 20 Show

Arrangements have been completed for the 21st annual all-breed dog show, May 20, sponsored by the Oakland County Kennel Club. This big benched show, for which officials expect an entry list of around 1,300, is set for the Detroit Artillery Armory at 15,000 West Eight Mile road.

This is the exhibition at which a "hero dog" is named each year, and candidates for the honor are now being studied. An obedience trial is another feature.

Entries close at noon May 8, at the Bow Dog Show Org., 4461 West Jefferson avenue, Detroit.

Michigan Brittany Club and Midwest Collie Club consider the classes in this show as their specialties for 1956. Entries will also be supported by Michigan Pointer Club, Doberman Pinscher Club of Michigan, German Shepherd Club of Michigan, Boston Terrier Club of Detroit and North Star Bulldog Club.

More than 450 trophies and prizes will be offered, besides a considerable total of cash awards.

Judging staff has been set up, with Maurice Baker of Minneapolis judging best in show.

New Yorker Faces Smith at Motor City

DETROIT (INS)— Ninth-ranking middleweight contender Artie Towne of New York City faces Eddie Smith of Detroit in a 10-round bout tomorrow night at the Motor City Arena in Detroit.

Towne has won 12 straight bouts and is unbeaten since 1952. One of his victories was a sensational 43-second knockout of John L. Sullivan and another was a 10-round decision over 2nd-ranking Milo Savage.

Smith has been equally impressive in winning 12 out of 13 fights. His only defeat was a very close decision to Bobby Boyd in Chicago which drew the wrath of the fans.

In winning the 1955 American League pennant, the Yankees shutout their foes 19 times while being blanked themselves only five.

The Cincinnati Redlegs finished fifth in the National League in 1955 but their pitchers led the loop in shutouts with 12.

Babe Zaharias Still Grins in Cancer Fight

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Babe Didrikson Zaharias, weary and 30 pounds lighter from her fight against cancer, grinned and did an animated little jig yesterday to show newsmen she is still taking life in her stride.

She left the hospital a short while yesterday afternoon to visit for the first time an apartment her husband, former wrestler George Zaharias, has taken nearby. There she had a reunion with her sister, Mrs. O. B. Grimes of Beaumont.

Georgia Junior Grabs Spotlight

Jack Howard in N-S Semis, With Patton, Hyndman, Robbins

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Jake Howard Jr., unheralded 20-year-old junior from the University of Georgia, and three established players of national reputation, Billy Joe Patton, Billy Hyndman and Hillman Robbins, held the semi-final spotlight today in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

Howard and Hyndman, 40-year-old Abington, Pa., insurance man, met in the day's first 18-hole match. The winner will face the Patton-Robbins victor over 36 holes for the title tomorrow.

Howard, a two-handicap player whose biggest week in golf previously came in last year's National Amateur, where he gained the fifth round, was ignored in pre-tournament speculation.

He qualified with a five-over-par 77 and in his first-round test had to go 20 holes to win from Lawrence Cook, Wrightsville Beach, N.C., policeman, a one-handicap player. In the next round he ousted one-handicapper, Larry Dana of Bradford, Pa., 3 and 2. He began to win respect when he followed up by whipping scratch player Jim Tom Blair of Jefferson City, Mo., 5 and 3.

Indians Rout Athletics, 14-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If poor old Early Wynn can manage to remain miserable through September who knows, he may never lose a game this year.

It seems the worse Wynn feels the better he pitches. At least that's the way it's been in his first two starts this season.

* * *

A week ago Wynn picked up a paper and read a report that Cleveland was considering trading him to Chicago. That saddened the 36-year-old righthander.

* * *

"It's an awful thing to pitch for a team which you feel no longer wants you," he said gloomily.

Early was so depressed he went out and held Detroit to five hits in the Indians' 3-1 victory.

Wynn refused to be consoled despite denials by Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg.

"Where there's smoke, there's fire," he said bitterly. "There's been so much talk of trading me I feel there must be something to it."

* * *

So it was with a heavy heart that Wynn took the mound against Kansas City yesterday. The Indian ace kept his thoughts to himself but judging from his performance, he must have felt bad because he turned in a four-hitter, pitching Cleveland to a 14-2 rout of the Athletics.

* * *

The Indians picked up a full game on the defending champion New York Yankees who were beaten by the Orioles 7-5 in Baltimore. The rest of the American League schedule as well as the entire National League card was wiped out because of rain and cold weather.

Wynn had to share the spotlight with a teammate, Chico Carrasquel. The Venezuelan shortstop enjoyed a banner afternoon at the plate, driving in seven runs with a home run and double. His four-bagger came in the third inning with the bases full.

* * *

Chico's double also came with the bases jammed, in the fifth. The first blow was hit off Lou Kretlow, the starter and loser. The second blast was hit off Jack Crimian.

* * *

The Orioles overcame a 4-0 lead piled up by the Yankees in the first inning. They pecked away at Tommy Byrne for single runs in the first and second, knocking out the veteran southpaw in the second. After the Yankees had boosted their lead to 5-2 in the top of the sixth, the Orioles really teed off on relievers Tom Morgan and Bob Grim driving the two right-handers off the mound with a five-run explosion.

* * *

There was no more scoring thanks to an effective relief job by George Zuverink. The right-hander relieved starter Jim Wilson in the top of the seventh and retired the Yankees in order except for Bill Skowron, who reached base in the eighth on an error by Fred Marsh. Wison, who was tagged for eight hits and all the Yankee runs, was credited with his second victory in as many starts. Morgan was charged with the loss.

* * *

Gus Triandos and Billy Gardner hit home runs for Baltimore. Gardner was playing only his second game since he was bought from the New York Giants. He also doubled. The biggest Yankee hit was a triple by Joe Collins. It came with the bases loaded in the first inning. Collins also had a two-bagger and scored twice. Jerry Lumpe, the Yankees' rookie shortstop committed an error, his seventh in nine games.

Boland Grabs 4 Wins in Row at N.Y. Track

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Boland, 23-year-old Corpus Christi, Tex., jockey, had one of his best days in the saddle yesterday when he booted home four straight winners at Jamacia.

Starting with Notforfree at $10.30 in the second race, he compiled his string with Blue Guy at $7.30 in the third, Equableu at $7.70 in the fourth and Amuse at $51.50 in the fourth.

A $2 parlay on the four would have been worth $3,720.44.

Filly Is Favorite for Colonial 'Cap'

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Garden State Park opens its 15th season tomorrow with Sometime Thing, an Alfred Vanderbilt filly, favored in the featured $25,000 Colonial Handicap a 6-furlong test for fillies and mares.

The 25-day spring season will be highlighted by nine stakes fixtures totalling $210,000 in added money. The biggest of these races is the $50,000 added Jersey Stakes for 3-year-olds, to be run May 26.

An opening day crowd of 35,000 is expected to see Somtime Thing, winner in Bowie's Barbara Frietchie and four other of her eight starts this year, get her stiffest competition from Maine Chance Farm's Myrtle's Jet and Mrs. Ethel D. Jacob's Searching.

Del Crandall hit three grand slams for the Braves in one month in 1955.

Out of Shape

Kluszewski Rides Bench

CINCINNATI (AP)—Muscular Ted Kluszewski, who has hit 40 or more home runs and batted in more than 100 tallies in each of the last three seasons, is due to be just another bench warmer tonight when his Cincinnati Redlegs open a long home stand against the Chicago Cubs.

* * *

Redleg Manager Birdie Tebbetts, striving to pull his team out of a dismal season-opening slump, said last night he would bench Kluszewski because the big slugger "has permitted himself to get out of shape."

Tebbetts said Kluszewski, at 248, is 8 to 10 pounds over his best playing weight. He said George Crowe, obtained recently from the Milwaukee Braves, would take Klu's place in the Redleg lineup.

* * *

The Cincinnati manager did not indicate how long he would keep Kluszewski on the bench. He ordered Kluszewski to go on a diet.

Kluszewski didn't quite go along with the "out of shape" verdict. He didn't have much to say about the benching but declared he believed some warm weather would solve his problem of ineffective hitting and fielding.

Grand Rapids Junior College Names Coach

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Gordy Hunsberger, football coach at Ottawa High School for the past year, today was named head grid coach at Grand Rapids Junior College.

Hunsberger replaces veteran coach Harold O. Steele, who has retired from coaching to assume Athletic director duties at the College.

Steele has been doubling up in both jobs for the past two years.

The Dodgers' longest losing streak in the 1955 season was three games.

Peach Blossom Gets Under Way

Patty Berg, Betsy Rawls Set Pace With Record Breaking 4-Under

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) — A home town pro and the nation's leading woman money winner this year both had a four-stroke advantage over the rest of the field as the second round of the Peach Blossom-Betsy Rawls Open Invitational Golf Tournament got underway today.

Setting the pace yesterday with record-breaking four-under-par 67's were Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., and Miss Rawls.

The old record was 68, set in the 1953 by Louise Suggs, of Sea Island, Ga. considered one of the favorites before the tourney began, Miss Suggs shot a 76 in the opening round.

Four strokes behind Miss Rawls and Miss Berg was Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, with a 71.

Bunched in fourth place with 73s were Bonnie Randolph of Lynworth, Ohio; Beverly Hanson of Apple Valley, Calif.; Marlene Bauer Hagge of Asheville, N.C.; Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis.; Marilynn Smith of Bloomfield, Mich., and Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex.

Acorns Defeat Skipper Links Team 2nd Time

Royal Oak High School's golf team made it two in a row over Waterford's Skippers yesterday afternoon at Sylvan Glen course, 331-345. In the first meeting of the teams Acorns won by a bare margin of three strokes.

Acorns' White was medalist yesterday, with 80. Del Wheeler's 81 paced Waterford.

Other scores: Waterford — Jack Reynolds, 85, John Wettlaufer 91, Bill Cumberworth 88. Royal Oak—Keith Fox 84, Bill Richey 82 and Dick Callahan 85.

Skippers now have a 4-3 overall mark, meet Walled Lake at Pontiac Country Club Monday in a league match.

Players Are Welcomed

The Pontiac Mets, a class D team, welcome any players who may be interested in trying out for the team. Practice sessions will be held next Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 5:00 p.m. for newcomers. Information is available from Ray Newton at FE 5-1023.

Housewife After Trip With U. S. Gymnasts

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — A young Indiana housewife who had her second child only 5½ months ago is counting on 19 years of gymnastic training to earn her a trip to Australia with the U.S. Olympic team this fall.

"I'd be the happiest girl in town if I could qualify for the trip with the women's gymnastic team," said Mrs. Sandra M. Ruddick, 23, wife of an Indianapolis insurance executive, as she prepared to compete today in the joint National AAU championships and Olympic tryouts.

* * *

Mrs. Ruddick arrived at the campus of Pennsylvania State University Monday to get ready for the two-day competition for both men and women.

Although she's been back in training only three months since the birth of her daughter, Mrs. Ruddick is rated an excellent chance not only to qualify for the U.S. squad but even to win the all-around title and the team's first-place spot that goes with such a victory.

* * *

One of her chief rivals for the national title, defending champion, Ernestine Russell of Windsor, Ontario, is out of the running. Miss Russell, Canada's No. 1 Olympian, arrived yesterday with a dislocated elbow and will be unable to compete.

* * *

Altogether 175 competitors are on hand for the 69th annual AAU tourney. Olympic team berths go to the top six men and top six women in the all-around competition that includes six events for men and four for women.

California Probe Ends 9 Months of Hearings

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—There are "lots of rotten people in boxing and no public supervision to speak of" in California, Investigating Attorney James Cox said today after the close of public hearings in a nine-month probe.

"I think the criminal element could be put out of boxing," he said, "if you bring regulations up to normal California standards in state government."

* * *

Cox said the investigating committee hopes to make its report and recommendations to Gov. Goodwin J. Knight by June 1.

"I am personally convinced Gov. Knight will follow through to correct and rectify the situation," Cox said, although "some of the people who got hit the hardest are among the people closest to the governor."

He referred to Mr. and Mrs. Cal Eaton of the Los Angeles Olympic Auditorium, parents of the governor's son-in-law.

Eaton and his matchmaker, Babe McCoy, are expected to be among those whom investigators recommend lose their licenses.

Next move in the investigation is a Los Angeles court action to obtain books of "Eaton's TV outfit," Ring Talent, Inc., which Eaton failed to produce when subpoenaed.

Cox expressed no concern about legal action threatened by Attorney Howard C. Ellis of San Francisco to enjoin the committee from reporting to the governor on grounds that private documents were improperly made public.

The investigation began last July and included 17 days of public hearings in Los Angeles and Oakland.

* * *

Witnesses told of fixed fights, ex-convicts licensed in the boxing business, referees convicted of felonies, influence of gamblers and criminals, undercover pay-offs which Cox called "stealing from the boxers," self-appointed local czars who at times "called the tune" for state athletic commissioners, and open violations of boxing regulations.

Next to Take Stand

NEW YORK (INS) — National Boxing Association Commissioner Abe J. Greene will be the government's 7th witness today when hearings are resumed into its anti-trust suit against the International Boxing Club.

Ted Kluszewski led 1955 hitters with 25 intentional walks.

Prep Nines Display Comedy of Errors

High school baseball action provided a comedy of errors around the area diamonds yesterday.

Oxford suffered its third loss in four starts by falling to unbeaten Imlay City, 10-3, with the Wildcats committing 11 errors in the game.

Imlay City collected six runs in the 4th inning without getting a hit. All of the runs in the inning were the result of five Oxford errors and two walks.

Shortstop Fred Ginzel had himself a bad day as he accounted for five of Oxford's 11 miscues.

* * *

Oxford got one run in the first and two in 6th on three singles. Winning hurler was Duane Maison and loser Don Atwood.

Defending Eastern Michigan League champion Birmingham and Hazel Park combined for eight miscues as the Maples fell 5-1, yesterday.

The Maples could manage only two hits off Nick Kamenoff while the Parkers were collecting seven off loser Larry Hower and reliefer Dick Cloonan.

* * *

Birmingham's lone run came in the 7th inning with Arnauld Issette stealing home with two outs.

St. Freds of Pontiac lost its third straight in as many starts by the score of 8-1 to St. Benedicts.

Bob Croasdell led St. Fred hitting by getting three singles, with Dave Phillian collecting three of St. Benedict's 13 hits. Each team committed three errors.

* * *

A one-hit-shutout victory (8-0) was turned in at Clarkston for what appears to have been the day's best pitching job in the area.

Clarenceville's Labrecque was master of the situation all the way. He gave up his only hit to Clarkston in the 5th frame, Eddie Roberts getting that one through 2nd base for a single.

Backing up the superlative mound job was the steady hitting of Clarenceville's batting order. Paolucci was tops at the plate with a triple and single in four trips, good for 3 RBI's.

Dave Gaddis went five innings for Clarkston, gave up 6 runs and 6 hits. Jerry Nelson finished with one run and one hit.

Victory was Clarenceville's 3rd in W-O play. Clarkston has a 1-2 mark.

Milford boosted its W-O baseball mark to 2-1 yesterday, on a 7-6 victory over Brighton on the latter's diamond. A late rally including a home run by Ralph Stowe produced the win. Dan Lancaster also had a four-bagger for Milford.

Terry Hoy did a good pitching job in the last three innings, holding Brighton to one hit, no runs as the winner.

Logart, Miceli 10-Rounder

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba's Isaac Logart, who has punched and danced his way to third ranking among welterweights, is rated a 2-1 favorite over Joe Miceli in their scheduled 10-round fight tonight.

* * *

Both Logart and the ninth-ranked Miceli are expected to weigh about 147 pounds for the nationally broadcast and telecast (10 p.m., EST, NBC) scrap in County War Memorial Auditorium.

Logart, who comes from Kid Gavilan's home town of Camaguay and patterns his style after The Keed, will be after his seventh straight victory. Logart is rated a better boxer and his trainer, Mundito Medina, says he punches faster and harder than Gavilan.

Miceli, a converted southpaw from Brooklyn, counts heavily on his left, which has scored 23 knockouts in a record of 28 victories, 24 losses and seven draws.

Santee Sets Sights on 4-Minute Mile

LEXINGTON, Ky. (INS) — Wes Santee, former Kansas University star who is fighting his suspension by the AAU, is in top condition for his special mile at the University of Kentucky relays May 4.

According to Ken Kuhn, Kentucky publicity director, Santee plans to use fellow U. S. Marine Corps runners as competition. Kuhn said Santee reported that he is in top condition and "definitely is going to try for the four-minute mile at the meet."

Santee holds the American mile mark of 4:00.5.

'Spoilers' Muddle Picture for May 5 Race of Roses

LEKINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Toby B. took his place today in a parade of spoilers who contribute to the most muddled Kentucky Derby picture in the memory of many old timers.

* * *

Going into the final few days of training for the May 5 Derby, dopesters had to figure that:

1. Toby B., a non-eligible, yesterday took the measure of Career Boy, second choice in the Derby Winter Book.

2. Needles, the favorite after two sprakling triumphs in Florida early in the year, remains inactive and therefore an unconfirmed standout.

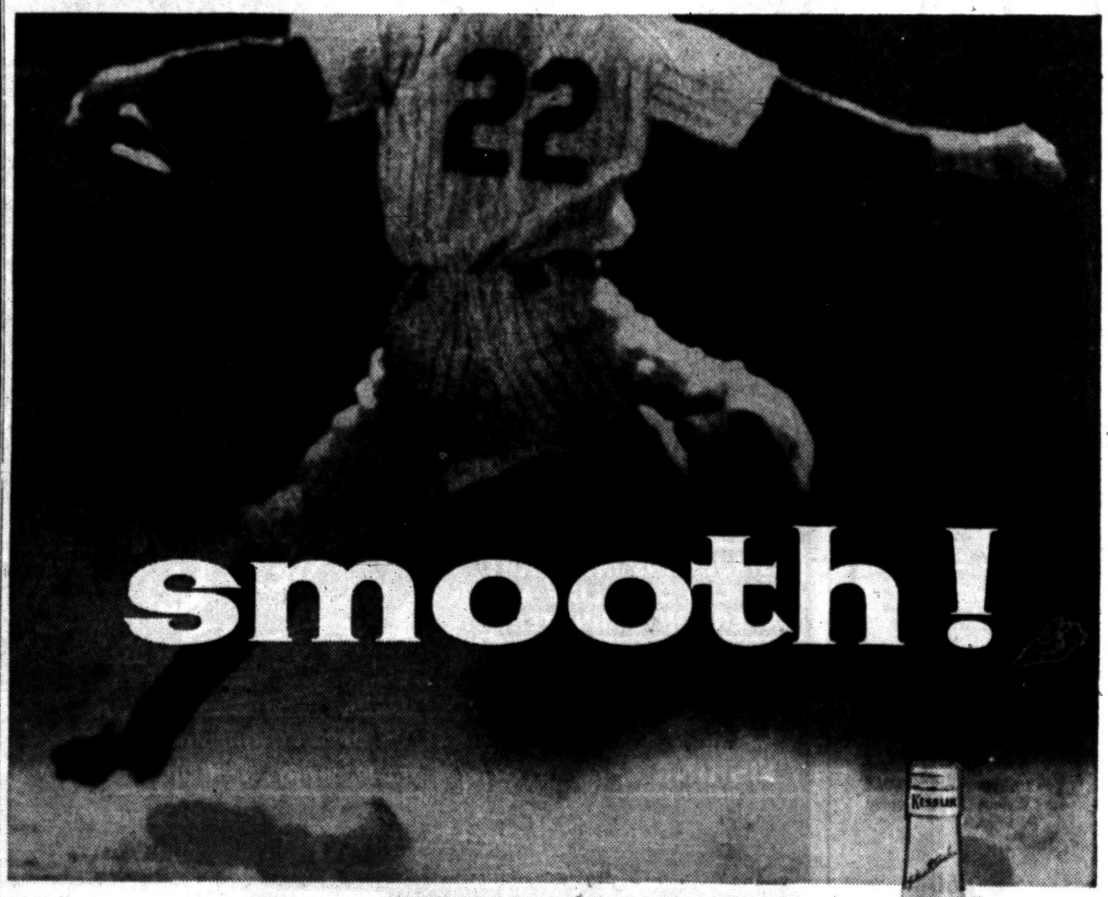

Toby B.'s victory in the $33,900 Blue Grass Stakes made him the third thoroughbred to tame prided nominees for the rich Rose Romp in so-called warmups for the big race.

* * *

Members of the supposedly powerful C. V. Whitney Stable were victims of non-eligibles in each case.

* * *

Head Man's supporters collected on their bets last Saturday in the Wood Memorial, but only after Golf Ace was disqualified for running wide. Golf Ace actually finished 2½ lengths on top.

Market Makes Real Progress

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made some real progress today with excellent gains well distributed throughout the list in the early afternoon.

* * *

Gains amounted to 1 to 3 points in many cases while losses usually were held to fractions.

* * *

Trading was fast at the opening, and the tape lagged briefly in reporting on the progress of business. It slowed later, but the pace still was around the three million mark for the day. Yesterday's total in a higher market was 2,630,000 shares, well above recent days.

* * *

The oils, rails and steels were in demand at higher prices. Motors were just about steady and active. Other higher groups included the aircrafts, chemicals, airlines, rubbers, nonferrous metals, utilities and electrical equipments.

* * *

Bethlehem Steel, which declared a $2 dividend after the close yesterday, was up around a point today and active early in the session.

Pulaski Club Plans Sunday Program

The General Pulaski Club Lodge 2776 of Pontiac will hold a Sunday program to honor a coming Polish National Holiday at St. Joseph Church Hall, South Boulevard, at 4 p. m.

Members and their friends and other area residents of Polish descent have been invited to attend.

Lodge 2776, an affiliate of the Polish National Lions, will celebrate the anniversary of the commemoration of the Polish Constitution of 1771 with a program of music and talks in Polish and English.

The actual date of the constitution was May 3 but the local group planned its program earlier in order to give more members an opportunity to participate. The club hopes to make it an annual affair.

Anthony Walovender will give the main address in celebration of the holiday. Club President Carl Staszkiewicz is program chairman. Coffee and sandwiches will be served following the completion of activities.

Old Soybeans Shoot Upward

CHICAGO (AP)—Old crop soybean futures shot ahead for gains extending to more than six cents at one time on the Board of Trade today.

The big upturn was made within a few minutes after the market opened. With beans in new seasonal high ground, heavy profit-taking entered the pit and prices slipped back from their best levels.

New crop soybeans firmed a couple of cents. Wheat was mixed at the start and then developed an easier tone. Feed grains were weak. Dealings were fairly active in most pits and very active in soybeans.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅝ lower, May $2.37¼; corn ½ to 1¼ lower, May $1.50; oats ⅜ to ⅝ lower, May 66; rye ¼ to ½ higher, May $1.30⅝; soybeans ¾ to 3½ higher, May $3.13¾, and lard 10 to 12 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.72.

Set Monday Deadline to File Business Tax

LANSING (AP)—The State Revenue Department reminded businessmen today that quarterly returns for the business activities tax are due before April 30.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy commissioner, said that some businessmen have apparently forgotten the deadline for the first quarterly return because the deadline for the 1955 annual return had been extended from April 15 to April 30.

Lock said no extension will be granted for the quarterly returns.

HAZEN S. ATKINS

Pontiac Fisher Man Is Given New Post

Appointment of Hazen S. Atkins as senior staff assistant, industrial relations section of Fisher Body Divison was announced today by R. A. Boehne, general director of industrial relations for the division.

Atkins has been plant industrial relations director at the Pontiac Fisher plant since 1942.

W. G. Clifford, who has been industrial relations director at Fisher Body's Norwood, Ohio, assembly plant, replaces him here.

Atkins first joined Fisher Body in 1935 as an employment clerk in Pontiac.

Clifford joined Fisher Body in 1937 as a clerk in the body department in Flint, and became plant supervisor of labor relations and assistant industrial relations director before transferring to Norwood.

Workers at Burroughs to Receive Pay Boosts

DETROIT (INS)—Pay raises will go in effect next Monday for 11,000 Burroughs Corp. workers in the Detroit area.

Production workers will receive six cents an hour while skilled tool and die workers will get eight-cent hikes. Similar adjustments will be made for salaried employes.

Business Notes

DETROIT (INS) — Roger A. Yoder, formerly secretary-treasurer, has been named a vice president of Detroit Steel Corp.

John A. Hartman, Natham H. Siegel and George A. Longeway were promoted to treasurer, secretary and controller, respectively.

The promotion of Francis H. Lewis to works manager of the Nuclear Energy Products Division of ACF Industries Inc. was announced recently by officials of the Buffalo, N. Y., company.

Lewis, who formerly lived at 3212 Middlebelt Rd., was manager of operations at the American Forging & Socket Co. until September of last year.

News in Brief

Two Detroit youths began sentences in Oakland County Jail yesterday for having beer in their possession. James O'Hara and John Ley, both 17, pleaded guilty before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle. O'Hara was committed for 60 days and Ley 90 days when they did not pay fines and costs.

Pleading guilty to a charge of soliciting an act of prostitution, Ann Wilson, 20, of 21025 Glenlarch St., Ferndale, today was fined $100 or 10 days in jail by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum. Pontiac Vice Squad officers brought the charge.

Pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving, Gordon M. Auten, 19, of Battle Creek, paid a $55 fine and costs of $15 at an arraignment before Justice Alva J. Richardson of Bloomfield Hills.

GI Home Owners Voice Complaints

Complaints of GI mortgaged home owners were aired Wednesday night in a special meeting at Amvets Post 16. Several subdivision projects were represented at the session which was called "very successful" by Amvet officials.

The complaints are based on the alleged failure of builders to live up to contracts much of the time, a spokesman said today.

Veterans Affairs heads from the state and county and two members of the city commission answered veterans' questions during the meeting.

They advise others living in similar GI projects to contact people who attended the recent meeting in order to become familiar with future plans.

Chicago Firm to Build State Fiberboard Plant

L'ANSE, Mich. (AP)—The Celotex Corp. of Chicago plans to build a $6,100,000 fiberboard plant at L'Anse to utilize timber from 242,000 acres of Upper Peninsula land and timber it agreed yesterday to purchase from the Ford Motor Co. and the Ford Motor Co. Fund.

The plant is scheduled to be completed within two years. Initial employment is expected to be 300 to 350, plus an additional 400 working in the woods.

Serves 2-Day Sentence

George L. Bullock, 21, of Clarkston, completed a two-day sentence in Oakland County Jail this morning. He was jailed after pleading guilty to driving with a revoked license in a hearing held by Justice William Stamp of Independence Township.

Teen Groups Begin Smooching at Noon

KALAMAZOO (INS)—Students at Central High School here are singing "A Penny a Kiss, A Penny a Hug."

* * *

City commissioners say they are "seriously considering" the problem of students parking at a free lot across from the school for some lunch-time smooching.

Grocer Raymond Skidgell said the lot has been nicknamed "A Passion Pit" because of the noon-time activities. Other businessmen complained because the "extracurricular activities" eliminated parking spaces for customers.

* * *

Commissioners say they may put parking meters in the lot to discourage student parking. They also were urged to put "pressure" on the board of education to provide parking space for students who drive.

Frankie Squires Peggy but Ava's in Spain, Too

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—My wife just had a thrilling interview in Madrid with Frank Sinatra and Hollywood singer Peggy Connoly, who's visiting him . . . although Ava Gardner's also in Spain.

★ ★ ★ ★

When asked: "Is this a new romance?"

Frank said: "Just a friend. She's here for a couple weeks' vacation."

But Peggy implied she'll stay on while Frank films "The Pride and the Passion." She spoke proudly of knowing Frank's children.

Then Frankie was asked about Ava, as follows:

"Are your relations friendly?" . . . "They've always been" . . . "Did you call her?" . . . "She doesn't have a phone."

FRANK and PEGGY

Ava's told Hollywood friends she and Frank did meet. Anyway, Frank saw the reporter was about to pin him down and hustled Peggy away to keep another date.

Jazz Fan Doris Duke will launch a record company headed by her beau, Joe Castro . . . A source within Arthur Godfrey's organization tells us two big sponsors are pulling out, a third is severely slashing its spending . . . Phil Silvers—commenting about all the TV firings—says, "I hope CBS doesn't decide next year it has 'No Time for Sergeants'."

There's a bust of Napoleon in Grace Kelly's palace—and just before the honeymoon she wrapped an arm around it and said, "Hi, Marlon!"

Ike told a favorite story to the editors in Washington—of the old Army officer who'd had too much barleycorning and woke up with a headache mumbling, "I'm just like a mountain goat—always going from jag to jag" . . . For brevity's sake, London headlines refer to Bulganin and Khrushchev as "B & K." Flippant U. S. reporters seized this as an excuse to nickname the Russian team "Balaban & Katz."

Ever wonder what the pretty airline stewardesses do with their spare time? Joan Sweeney, attractive blonde with Pan-American, is TV star Bud Collyer's secretary between flights. Se has a beau in Germany who hops to Paris to see her when she flies over three times a month.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Ernest Hemingway had 90 pounds of beef shipped to him in Peru from a Miami Beach restaurant, where he dined before the shoveoff.

Marisa Pavan (Mrs. Jean Pierre Aumont) visited a local grocery where Marlon Brando shops, and gave the manager a note: "Marlon sent me" . . . George Gobel, at the Copa, asked Eileen Barton shyly, "Gee, could you introduce me to Dick Shawn?" . . . Winston Churchill and Eartha Kitt laid a cornerstone together in London.

Cyd Charisse came to N. Y. to attend Tony Martin's opening . . . Producer Bob Joseph phoned Phyllis Kirk in L. A. and talked for 2½ hours . . . Marion Marlowe's now a corporation named "Pukmar."

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

There are three kinds of people—the few who make things happen, the many who watch things happen, and the majority, who have no idea what has happened.—Quote.

Funeral Service Set for Holly Educator

HOLLY — Private funeral service for Cleve R. Bradshaw, 63, of 9845 Milford Rd., will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at his home, with cremation in White Chapel Memorial Park, Birmingham. The Rev. Harry Parker of Holly Baptist Church will officiate.

* * *

Dr. Bradshaw, the owner and director of Hillendale School here and at Indian Rock Beach, Fla., died of a heart ailment Wednesday night at his home. His body will be at the Bendle Funeral Home until 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

* * *

Dr. Bradshaw was a former principal of Lincoln High School, Ferndale, and also of North Intermediate School, Saginaw. From 1937 to 1942 he served as director of the National Youth Administrators for Michigan. He had been a resident of Holly for several years.

He leaves his wife, Gwen, and one sister, Mrs. Lavonia Avery of Pontiac.

Falling Stone Crushes Teenage Girl to Death

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A 19-year-old girl was crushed to death last night by a large stone knocked by lightning from the top of an 11-story building.

* * *

The stone from the First National Bank Building crashed through the top of an automobile driven by F. A. Stivers. He escaped injury, but his daughter Sandra was pinned to the seat and killed.

Sid's '3rd Wife' Describes Boss

Successor to Nanette Acted With Comedian Once Before

NEW YORK (INS)—"A genius with talent" — that's how Janet Blair, who will be Sid Caesar's third TV wife next fall, describes her new boss.

"And that's a rare combination," the dimple-chinned redhead told us over the phone from the RKO lot in Hollywood, where she is making a movie with Red Skelton.

"There are a number of geniuses floating around, but few of them have the practical spark it takes to put their ideas into action."

Janet, who started her career as a band vocalist, reveals that she has worked with Sid before.

"It was back in the '40s in a picture called 'Tars and Spars.' Alfred Drake and I were the stars, and Sid had a secondary part. Both Alfred and I had Sid tabbed as a guy who couldn't miss making good. Funny, but we almost feel as if we've discovered him."

Janet says the exact details of her contract are hush-hush for the time being, but it is understood she has signed for 30 weeks beginning sometime after Sept. 15, when "Caesar's Hour" returns from his summer hiatus.

10TH ANNIVERSARY

"Meet the Press" celebrates its 10th anniversary with an out-sized shindig in Washington this weekend which will be attended by 31 senators, 17 ambassadors and as many TV celebrities, who can strap-hang in the special train that leaves Penn Station Saturday afternoon for the festivities.

Robert Q. Lewis is far from being out of a job. He'll sign for another daily show shortly. Meanwhile, he's shooting the budget on his present afternoon stanza before calling it quits.

Julius LaRose guests on Martha Raye's NBC show Tuesday, his first appearance since his recent marriage to Rory Meyer.

Dave Friedkin and Mort Fine, creators of the "Frontier" series, have been assigned to write an ABC spectacular titled "Frankie and Johnny." The network would like Cyd Charisse to star.

"Grand Ole Opry" returns to TV Saturday night on ABC.

OFF FOR EUROPE

Jane Pickens left for Europe today in the capacity of NBC "human interest" reporter. She'll tape man-in-the-boulevard interviews for NBC's "Weekday" and "Monitor."

The latest survey says the average family goes steady with the TV set for 5 hours and 31 minutes daily (who counts?).

Farley Granger and Janice Rule star in "The Carefree Tree" on Monday's NBC Matinee Theater.

Disorderly Prisoner Talks Way Into Jail

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — It was out of the frying pan and into the fire for this Cook.

The judge told William E. Cook that he could serve out a 10-day sentence, for disorderly conduct, on weekends and so keep his job.

The judge went on to say the penalty could have been $100 and 50 days in jail.

"Well, why don't you do it then," said Cook.

To Dredge Rogue River

GRANT (AP)—A $40,000 emergency project to dredge about 5½ miles of the Rouge River to prevent muckland floods in Kent and Newago Counties will begin in about three weeks. The plan was adopted at a meeting of farmers of the Grant area who suffered thousands of dollars losses in crops when their lands were covered by floodwaters last spring.

Dixie Minister Admits Killing

South Carolina Cleric Tells Police of Crime Against Nagging Wife

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—A 41-year-old Church of God minister has admitted, police say, that he killed his wife by putting rat poison in her food.

The Rev. Coke Cooper, 41, signed a statement yesterday before Deputy Sheriff George Loumos and County Investigator Paul Batson in which he admitted that he mixed rat poison in a plate of beef stew he served his wife Eleanor, 40, last Oct. 24.

"I guess the Devil got into me and I couldn't shake it off until I killed her," he said in a statement.

"She would continually nag me about my work and accuse me of running around," he said. "I could not bear it."

Cooper was arrested after weeks of investigation by sheriff's officers. Loumos said the investigation began after he received information in February. Cooper was held without bond.

Mrs. Cooper was ill for three days before her death, which was not investigated at the time.

* * *

The Coopers' son, 19-year-old Maxie, quoted his father as saying from the pulpit the Sunday before his mother was taken ill that "someone in the church now . . . would not ever be in the church again." Mrs. Cooper was taken ill the next day.

Ground Breaking Starts
