Judge Weighs Wallace Case

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (P)—Federal Dist. Judge Seymour H. Lynne withheld today an immediate ruling on the Justice Department's request for an injunction barring Gov. George Wallace from interfering with enrollment of Negroes at the University of Alabama next Monday.

"I expect to prepare a written memorandum," Lynne said after a 20-minute hearing on the Justice Department's petition. "I hope to have the memorandum not later than 9 a.m. Wednesday."

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (P)—University of Alabama officials said today they have accepted a third Negro for enrollment June 10.

Montreal Police Director J. Adrien Robert announced the arrests—first in the campaign against the front—at a news conference Sunday night.

He refused to give further details, but provincial police director Joseph Brunet said a Belgian national was among those picked up.

Earlier reports said the Belgian, about 32, had been trained in Cuba to handle explosives and was the leader of the terrorist groups. The Montreal Gazette said "police now have proof that the terrorist movement has been Communist."

For the past three months, the front has staged a wave of bombings in the Montreal area to focus attention on its campaign to separate the predominantly French-speaking Quebec from Canada. Federal buildings and installations have been the chief target.

RECEIVES DEGREES — Presentation of honorary degrees to Michigan's first lady Mrs. George Romney and publisher E. C. (Ted) Hayhow of the Hillsdale Daily News were highlights of commencement at Hillsdale College yesterday. Mrs. Romney was honored for her participation in public affairs. Hayhow, former city editor of The Pontiac Press and president of the Michigan Associated Press Editorial Association, received an honorary degree in journalism.

National Highway Deaths Set New Holiday Record

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

A total of 525 traffic fatalities over the long Memorial Day holiday set a record for highway deaths over a summer-season holiday.

Final United Press International tabulations for the 102-hour holiday showed traffic toll had surpassed the 462 of 1961's Memorial Day weekend, the previous record for this holiday, and the 509 for the July 4 weekend of 1961, which had stood as the record for a summer season holiday.

The UPI death count between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight yesterday showed a total of 785 fatalities, including a total of 121 drownings and 15 persons killed in boating mishaps.

The UPI death count between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight yesterday showed a total of 784 fatalities, including a toll of 121 drownings and 15 persons killed in boating mishaps.

The breakdown:
Train 224
Drowning 121
Miscellaneous 104
Total 735
Only Rhode Island and South Dakota escaped without a single holiday traffic or accidental death.

California led the traffic death count with 63. There were 42 in New York State, 28 in Texas, 24 in Pennsylvania, 23 in Ohio, 22 in Indiana, 19 in Michigan and 15 in Tennessee.

Spiritual Head Expires at 81

VATICAN CITY (P)—The Vatican press office announced today Pope John XXIII is dead.

The Pope's stout heart gave up after a long and dramatic duel with death in which his resistance confounded all medical expectations.

The 81-year-old pontiff, called "Pope of Unity and Peace," had described himself as serenely ready, "going sweetly toward the end."

The final illness was caused by a stomach tumor, which brought persistent hemorrhaging and was complicated near the end by peritonitis, an inflammation of the lining of the abdominal cavity.

The Supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church succumbed at 7:49 p.m. (1:49 p.m. EST) the announcement said.

Death came to the 261st Supreme Pontiff of the world's Roman Catholics only nine minutes after echoes of an extraordinary outdoor sunset mass in St. Peter's Square died away.

There at least 20,000 of all faiths and nationalities had joined in prayer for the dying Pope.

An announcer on Vatican Radio broadcast the news to the world, first in Italian, in a calm but sorrowful voice.

The Pope was stricken a year ago with a stomach tumor that caused hemorrhaging, but he continued his heavy tasks virtually to the end.

A grave relapse occurred two weeks ago and he suffered a final crisis last Friday when peritonitis set in.

The Pope's death automatically terminates the major undertaking of his reign — the second Vatican Ecumenical Council. One of his successor's first major decisions will be whether to continue the council. It has been in recess since Dec. 8, and was scheduled to resume Sept. 8.

His death also leaves up in the air recent Vatican contacts with the Communist regimes of Hungary and Poland.

It came just before President Kennedy, the first Roman Catholic chief executive of the United States, had planned to call on the pontiff.

Pope John — born Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli — had been spiritual ruler of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics for four years and seven months.

In his comparatively short reign, his warm simplicity, his great concern for his fellow men of all faiths and his outspoken dedication to peace, Christian unity and a social justice made him one of the most beloved popes in the long history of the Church.

SUFFERED LAST DAYS
His last days were spent in suffering relieved only when he felt into coma. Crisis had followed crisis and still his astonishing heart pumped life through his veins.

His fever rose and so did his pulse rate. He was in what the Vatican called "atrocious pain," but he clung to a crucifix on his breast and suffered with fortitude. When he could, he concentrated on prayer.

Embassies and legations of the 50 nations which have diplomatic relations with the Vatican immediately were notified of the Pope's death.

So were cardinals throughout the world who must come to Rome for the conclave to elect a new church ruler.

The conclave must start in 15 days. It could be sooner because of the speed of modern transportation.

But it can not begin before a 10-day waiting period, including nine days of mourning.

INTERREGNUM
The cardinals in Rome will gather as quickly as possible to elect a new pope.

JFK, Dems Confer on Civil Rights Issues

WASHINGTON (P)—President Kennedy conferred with Democratic congressional leaders today on civil rights amid indications that a message proposing new legislation may be sent to Congress shortly.

The White House was silent on whether there would be a message and those attending the conference said little more, but Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., acting Senate majority leader, said new civil rights proposals "will be presented by the administration later this week."

There appeared to be a strong effort under way to develop something before Wednesday. That is the day Kennedy flies west for a four-day trip.

His brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, is to testify on civil rights before a House committee this week.

The attorney general sat in today on the White House meeting. Press secretary Pierre Salinger said the meeting lasted about an hour and a quarter.

Humphrey said most of the date a year ago was 521.

Humphrey said there also was a general discussion of the over-all legislative program at the session.

Humphrey headed the Senate group in the absence in Montana of Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the Senate majority leader.

The Mirror Cracked

Christie Mystery Starts Today

In this fascinating mystery, Agatha Christie again intrigues her readers with an array of colorful, highly individualized characters and possible suspects. The murder clues are the tactics babbling of a woman when she meets beautiful stage and screen star Marina Gregg. The frozen look on Marina's face, like Tennessee's Lady of Shalott, as she stares at a picture of The Laughing Madonna. A spilled drink and Marina's gracious offer of her untouched glass, which contains a lethal dose.

Miss Marple knew exactly what she wanted done, and when she wanted it done, and instructed him duly. Old Laycock then displayed his particular genius, which was that of enthusiastic agreement and subsequent lack of performance.

That's right, Missus. We'll have them mecoosapies there at the Canterbury along the wall and, as you say, it ought to be got on with first thing next week.

REASONABLE EXCUSES
Laycock's excuses were always reasonable, and strongly resembled those of Capt. George in "Three Men in a Boat" for avoiding going to sea.

In the captain's base the wind was always wrong, either blowing off shore or in shore, or coming from the unreliable west, or the even more treacherous east.

Laycock's was the weather. Too dry—too wet—water-logged—a nip of frost in the air. Or else something of great importance had to come first (usually to do with cabbagees or Brussels sprouts, of which he liked to grow inordinate quantities).

Laycock's own principles of gardening were simple, and not employed, however knowledgeable, could wean him from them. (continued on p. 8, col. 1)

Mrs. James G. Aldrich of 55 "Mohawke" volunteers to head the parade of indignant residents who choose the dictionary and society of reasonably educated people to that of Neolithic spelling. "It sounds as though we hadn't ever been to that little red school house," says she. "I doubt whether many use 'Mohawke' anyway, but we want to be legal."

Petitions will be presented to the commission, which is probably as ashamed of this blunder as we victims are. There's a Mohawke River, a Mohawke Valley and a Mohawke tribe of Indians, but only in Pontiac, which might be presumed, to know something about Indian lore, is there a grotesque 'Mohawke'.

Mrs. Aldrich is a worthy heir of the literary torch. During a stint at The Press she was our accredited grammarian. Today she's a housewife, the mother of a 2-year-old girl and is currently preparing for another visit from the stork. "I want my next youngster to be registered as a resident of Mohawke Road," says she. "Who wants to be born into an untutored 'Mohawke'?"

Districting Possible

all south Oakland cities east of Southfield.
Each of the two new county districts would have a population less than the "ideal" of 411,000 per district, the amount each of the state's 19 districts would have if the state's population were divided equally.

The new 19th would deviate from the "ideal" more than any other district in the plan except the controversial Upper Peninsula district, which would be a separate district some 26 per cent below the "ideal" in population.

The county's population is currently estimated at 725,000. According to the 1960 census, the county had 690,000 then.

Republicans originally planned to keep all reshaped districts within 15 or 20 per cent of the "ideal," but claim the Upper Peninsula district is justified geographically.

Gov. George Romney has indicated support for the reapportionment plan, which came after many weeks of study and negotiation and after many previous proposals were drawn, considered and discarded.

"If Republicans fail to muster the votes needed to pass their plan this week, it may come up again in the special fall session Romney plans to call for fiscal reform and legislation implementing the new constitution."

When the legislature and former Gov. John B. Swainson, a Democrat, were unable to agree on a plan last year, the 19th district seat was filled by a statewide at-large election won by Democrat Neil Staebler.

Meanwhile, potential Republican candidates from the new 19th district are awaiting the final action.

The county's present Republican congressman, William S. Bloomfield, has said he will not decide which of the two new districts he will pick for his re-election bid in 1964 until the new district boundaries become final.

Most potential GOP candidates indicate they would not pick the same one Bloomfield picks.

Democrats say they, too, are waiting for the final setting of new boundaries before talking about potential candidates.

The splitting of Oakland County in the plan now before the legislature is similar to a proposal by county Democrats.

crashed and burned on a flight from Amritsar to Srinagar, capital of the Himalayan state of Kashmir.

The U.S. Embassy in New Delhi said passports found in the wreckage as well as the passenger list identified five of the passengers as the family of associate professor James Clarence Lavery of Champaign, Illinois.

The U.S. Embassy said another passenger was an American tourist identified only as Miss P. Hardman.

She had stayed yesterday at Amritsar, a city famed for its golden roofed temple of the Sikh religion. She was en route to Srinagar, now at the height of the season for vacationers fleeing the heat of the Indian plains to the coolness of the Himalayas.

A telephone report from Amritsar to the airline's headquarters here said 17 of the passengers had names which could be North American or European.

Also aboard was a couple named Mitchell and their four children; one infant, who they were believed to be Canadians or Australians.

A Mrs. Popplewell traveling with the Mitchells was believed to be their married daughter.

Another listing was a Mrs. C. of Poland, with three children.

"Preliminary reports suggest little likelihood of there being any survivors," the spokesman said.

A team of airline officials flew immediately to Pathankot to investigate.

HIGH AND DRY — George Spragg of West Haven, Conn., found his cabin cruiser on a jetty yesterday when he went looking for it. Spragg loaned the boat to friends Saturday and they got hung up in New Haven Harbor during high tide. The steel-hulled craft was scarcely damaged.

Action Lessens in S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Military activity by South Viet Nam's army reached a new low in the past 10 days, American military sources report.

Communist guerrillas, however, are continuing their attacks on government patrols and isolated outposts. Eight were reported over the weekend.

Americans attribute the slowdown in government military activity to the advent of the monsoon rains, which are drenching the parched Mekong Delta.

'Expect Active Tension Between U. S., Russia'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A high possible area of renewed conflict between East and West.

Speaking of Soviet leaders, he said: "They haven't been active in foreign policy in recent months, but I should think it was a mistake on our part to draw from that a conclusion that this would continue indefinitely. I think we have to be prepared for a renewal of active tension between the East and the West."

Nitze said he would be "surprised" if the Soviet Union resumed atmospheric nuclear testing this year, but he added, "One can't be certain of that."

The defense official also said he would be surprised if the Russians and Chinese Communists "could make a real accommodation" between their two points of view.

"They have been so basically apart in the past that to suddenly work out all these differences of interest, differences in ideological approach, this would surprise me very much indeed," he said.

Nitze was asked about reports that the Soviet Union was building a submarine base in Cuba.

"You can't prove it is impossible," he replied, "but we certainly have no evidence that would lead us to believe that they are so doing and we don't believe that they are."

He predicted the Russians eventually will withdraw all of their troops from Cuba but declined to speculate when this would happen.

Nitze said the United States led the Soviet Union in the missile race.

3 Vie for School Board

Pontiac voters will decide a three-way race for the board of education Monday, June 10 in the annual school election.

In addition, local electors will vote on three county-wide propositions to set up a proposed Oakland County community college.

The Pontiac school board race features two incumbents and a lone challenger.

Seeking re-election are Monroe M. Osmun, a downtown merchant, and the Rev. J. Allen Parker, minister of the Newman A.M.E. Church on Auburn Road.

The challenger is Russell L. Brown of 483 Lynch, teacher in Bloomfield Hills Schools and unsuccessful candidate in 1961.

Osmun, 100 Ogemaw, is a veteran school board member. He was first elected to the board in 1946 and seeks his sixth term.

Rev. Parker seeks his third term on the seven-member board. He and Osmun topped a six-way race in 1959.

Eight Educators Retire After Years of Service

BIRMINGHAM — A total of 259 years of teaching experience will be climaxed this year with the retirement of seven teachers and an administrator from the Birmingham school system.

The eight educators have served a combined total of 167 years in Birmingham.

Heading the longevity list is Mrs. Dena Tyson, 601 Ann, who has been teaching for 43 years.

Mrs. Tyson began her career at the Bloomfield No. 4 School. She has been a kindergarten teacher in the Birmingham school system for 39 years, finishing her service at Pembroke Elementary School.

With 42 years of teaching, of which 37 have been in Birmingham, is Myrlene Smiley, 17124 Birwood.

Smiley has been teaching industrial arts at Barium Junior High School since 1926.

Lillian Clawson of Berkley is retiring from Barium after 20 years in Birmingham. She began teaching in 1943 in Grand Traverse County and has specialized in art since 1943.

Retiring with 36 years in the educational field is Marden Wilson, 3641 Bradford. Wilson, who has worked in Birmingham for 17 years, has been principal of Bloomfield Village Elementary School since 1943.

Mrs. Ruth Murray, 388 Tilbury, is retiring from Quanton Elementary School after 34 years of teaching — 17 in Birmingham.

Two teachers are retiring with 24 years of service. Mrs. Ruth Boltz of 97 Preston, Pontiac, has been in the system for 12 years, all of which have been as a fifth grade teacher at Adams Elementary School.

Mrs. Marjorie Rainey, 1047 Henrietta, has been in Birmingham for nine years. She has been teaching at Beverly Elementary School.

Retiring with 21 years of experience is Gladys Holloway, 523 Merrill. Miss Holloway, a commercial teacher at Ernest Snelholm High School, has been in Birmingham for 16 years.

The Supper Club of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its annual Bar-B-Q Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair DuVal, 15920 Lauderdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Burns of 1256 Henrietta will be in charge of the 6:45 p.m. dinner. Couples have been asked to take their own table service and lawn chairs.

Reservations, which must be in by Thursday, can be made by calling the church office, 338 N. Woodward.

take up the "interregnum," the period until a new pontiff is elected.

During the interregnum the cardinals in Rome meet daily to handle church affairs. The office of secretary of state — normally the highest Vatican post under the Pope — will be filled by the secretary of the College of Cardinals. He is a 58-year-old Sicilian, Archbishop Francesco Cossini.

The cardinal chamberlain — 83-year-old Italian-born Benedetto Aloisi Masella — became the central figure in the college on the Pope's death.

During the interim period, he is sort of an administrator, "first among equals" in the College of Cardinals.

The positions of other high church officials lapsed. Even Angelo Cardinal Cicognani ceased to be secretary of state on the Pope's death.

It was Cardinal Aloisi Masella then took possession of the apostolic palace and sent emissaries to take possession of other papal properties around Rome, including the Basilica of St. John Lateran and the papal summer residence at Castel Gandolfo south of Rome.

FOLLOWED PROCEDURE But Cardinal Aloisi Masella did not move into the papal apartment. Following a procedure established by Pope Pius XII, the cardinal ordered the papal apartment sealed, to be left empty until a new Pope moves in.

Pope John's three brothers and sister were with him when he died. Just minutes before the death announcement came, the Vatican press office had said they and the Pope's confessor, the Rt. Rev. Alfredo Cavagna, and Cardinal Cicognani, had been in the apartment where they followed the mass in St. Peter's Square.

Thousands were in the square for an extraordinary mass, celebrated on an improvised altar placed outside the basilica under the balcony from which Pope John had given his first blessing the evening he was elected Pope, Oct. 28, 1958.

The Vatican press office said those in the Pope's apartment overlooking the square, followed the mass and "united themselves spiritually with the people in the square."

RECITE ROSARY "Those around the Pope—his relatives, his confessor, his secretary of state—recited the rosary. The 40-minute mass was broadcast by Vatican Radio and carried by Italian television.

At 7:40 p.m., when the mass was over, Vatican Radio gave a bulletin on the Pope's condition.

"The situation remains grave and unchanged. It is having trouble breathing."

Then ten minutes later came the death announcement.

Cardinal Aloisi Masella then took possession of the apostolic palace and sent emissaries to take possession of other papal properties around Rome, including the Basilica of St. John Lateran and the papal summer residence at Castel Gandolfo south of Rome.

Dismiss Charge Against Henry

A contempt of court citation against Pontiac City Commissioner Milton R. Henry, issued last March, was dismissed in Genesee County Circuit Court today.

Circuit Court Judge Louis D. McGregor discontinued the contempt of court case, saying that he felt Henry had "purged" himself.

The Pontiac city commissioner told the judge he was sorry about the whole affair and promised it wouldn't happen again.

He was cited for appearing 105 minutes late for the March 14 trial of Harold Liston of Flint, whom he was representing in an appeal from Flint Municipal Court on an assault and battery conviction.

In April Henry was cleared of a contempt charge before a Flint municipal judge. The charge was dismissed.

U.S. Backs Arizona on Water Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today, with major modifications, to a special master's recommendation siding with Arizona in its 40-year controversy with California over water rights in the Colorado River.

The high court agreed with the master's opinion that California is entitled to 4.4 million acre feet annually of main stem Colorado River water.

Arizona, 2.8 million, and Nevada 3 million. An acre foot is the amount of water needed to cover an acre one foot deep, or about 325,850 gallons.

Most Western delegates believe Khrushchev will send an ambiguous reply leaving the door open for talks at a later date.

All indications pointed to a continued Soviet reluctance to tackle the test-nation question until after the Communist party plenum in Moscow June 18 and the ideological talks with Communist China opening in Moscow July 5.

The test-tanks are stalled due to a Western demand for at least seven annual on-site inspections and the Soviet refusal to accept more than two or three.

The West also wants to settle details of how the inspections will be carried out before deciding the number. The Soviets reject this.

West Is Ready to Go All Over for N-Talks

GENEVA (UPI)—Western negotiators at the 17-nation disarmament conference were reported today to go anywhere their governments send them in an effort to reach a nuclear test-ban accord with the Soviet Union.

Informed sources said they expressed their willingness to move "any time" following a new appeal last Friday by President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

It is believed the Western leaders suggested the talks be moved to Moscow, or Washington in an effort to break the long deadlock over the number and type of test-ban inspections.

There has been no Soviet answer so far.

Freeway Crash Takes 6 Lives and Injures 4

By The Associated Press
Three cars collided, killing five unidentified persons from Chicago and injuring four Kalamazoo residents last night on I-94 at the Kalamazoo city limits. A sixth person later died of injuries.

The collision was the worst during a weekend in which the Michigan highway death toll mounted to 18. All 18 lost their lives during a period covered by an Associated Press tabulation from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight last night.

The five dead, all Negroes, included a man and four women, the Kalamazoo County Sheriff's Department said.

Two were injured in one of the other cars. The driver, Ladlow Bailey, 20, died of injuries at Borgess Hospital in Kalamazoo.

Typhoon Polly Moving Toward Two Jima Isles

TOKYO (UPI)—Typhoon Polly was reported about 600 miles west southwest of the island of Iwo Jima today, moving in the general direction of the island at about 10 miles per hour.

The typhoon has center winds of 92 miles per hour.

No Help From Reds

U.N. Finance Prospects Good

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Prospects are good that the U.N. General Assembly will adopt resolutions to continue financing the world organization's peacekeeping operations. But no assembly action is expected to draw such funds from the Soviet bloc.

Secretary General U Thant got a weekend progress report on the negotiations on the finance proposals from Chief S. O. Adebore of Nigeria, chairman of the assembly's 21-nation working group on finances.

Adebore would give no details of the talk. But other diplomats said the negotiators have drafted four resolutions—one to finance the Congo operation for the second half of 1963, another to finance the Middle East operation for the same period, a third to collect assessments owed for the two operations and a fourth to lay down general principles for financing future peacekeeping operations.

The resolutions, with wide sponsorship, probably will be submitted Wednesday or Thursday and come to a vote next week. Some of the negotiating diplomats believe that only the 11-nation Soviet bloc will vote against the proposals.

The four resolutions are the result of compromises made in the negotiating body by five industrialized nations—the United States, Britain, Canada, the Netherlands, and Sweden—and five underdeveloped members—Argentina, Brazil, India, Nigeria and Pakistan.

The resolutions call for part of the Congo and Middle East costs for the second half of the year to be raised according to the scale of assessments for the regular U.N. budget and part according to a special scale allocating reduced assessments to underdeveloped countries. The reduction would be made up by voluntary contributions from industrialized nations.

Costs for the rest of the year are expected to total $42.5 million. One draft resolution lays down the principle that expenses of peacekeeping operations are the collective responsibility of all U.N. members. Its adoption is expected to help get some of the back assessments owed the Congo account by about 65 nations and the Middle East account by about 55.

Nobody expects that anything the assembly does will get the Soviet bloc to pay the arrears it owes the Congo and Middle East operations.

Of the total arrears of more than $106 million, the Soviet bloc owes more than $63.5 million.

Teamster to Present His Defense

NEWARK, N. J. — The defense opens its case today in the extortion trial of Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano.

The federal government completed its presentation Saturday. It accuses Provenzano, president of Teamsters Local 560 of Union City and an international vice president of the teamsters, of extorting $17,100 from Dorn Transportation Inc. of Rensselaer, N.Y.

The government has attempted to prove that the money was extorted through the trucking firm's former terminal in Secaucus to insure labor peace between 1952 and 1959.

Michael G. Comunale of Jersey City was the final government witness. Comunale, a former assistant Hudson County prosecutor, testified that he received $15,000 of the disputed $17,100 from the firm as a legal fee and did not give the money to Provenzano.

Government attorneys claimed the money was paid to Comunale through an arrangement Provenzano had with Walter A. Dorn, president of the transportation company. The arrangement, they said, included the payment of $1,500 in cash to Provenzano, on a slip of paper. He added he thought the payments were necessary for the operation of his business.

POPE JOHN XXIII

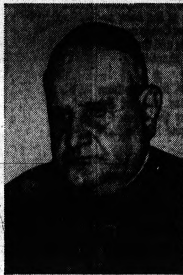

One of first photos, taken while he was a student priest in Rome, 1901.

As medical service sergeant, chaplain in Italian Army in 1915, during World War I.

On December 10, 1934, the man who was to become Pope John XXIII, was a Bishop.

October 29, 1953, at Castel Gandolfo, Italy, when he was elevated to rank of Cardinal.

Pope John XXIII, 251st Supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, proved to be a man of action whose dynamism seemed to stem from his robust peasant background. During his tenure as Pope he shattered tradition many times in his efforts to modernize the Church.

When Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli, one of 12 children of a poor Italian sharecropper, was elected Pope in 1958, he was almost 78 years old.

It was predicted that he would be an interim Pope until a younger and more energetic man came along. But this proved not to be the case. A precedent-breaker, the 251st Supreme Pontiff left his imprint on every phase of Papal activity.

Perhaps his foremost accomplishment was the calling of the 1962 Ecumenical Council, the first since 1870 and 21st in nearly 2,000 years of Christian history.

There were many departures from the traditions established by his predecessors.

Less than a day after being elected he made a radio address to the world—a plea for peace.

In less than three weeks he broke a 372-year tradition by increasing the size of the College of Cardinals to more than 70.

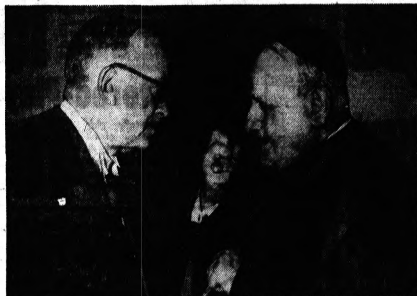

He later raised that number even higher.

Among the newly appointed Cardinals were the first Negro (from Africa), the first Filipino and the first Japanese, his way of underscoring the universality of the Church.

In a break with the idea that the Papacy is a self imposed imprisonment, he went by train to pray at Shrines in Italy. Italians soon became used to seeing him out in the city visiting a jail, hospital or reform school.

His long tenure in the Vatican Foreign Service gave him knowledge of seven languages. In addition to Italian and Latin, he was fluent in Turkish, Greek, Bulgarian and French and had a knowledge of Russian. In order to communicate directly with visitors who could speak none of these, he took up English.

Pope John XXIII was anything but an interim Pope. His achievements will be felt in the Christian world for years to come.

French President Vincent Auriol listens to Monsignor Roncalli, then Papal Nuncio in Paris, during 1949 diplomatic reception.

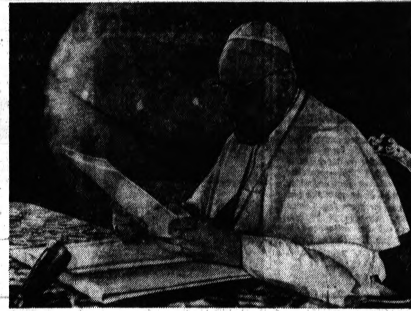

Pope blesses crowd from portable throne as he's carried across square to St. Peter's basilica to open 21st Ecumenical Council.

Pope John XXIII signs Papal bull in the Vatican, December 25, 1961, calling for a general Ecumenical Council to be held in 1962. Vatican pro-prefect Enrico Dante assists.

Cardinal Roncalli arrives at the Vatican, Oct. 23, 1958, for conclave of Cardinals which named him Pope.

Pope John broadcast a world-wide appeal for peace less than a day after his election. He spoke frequently for radio and TV.

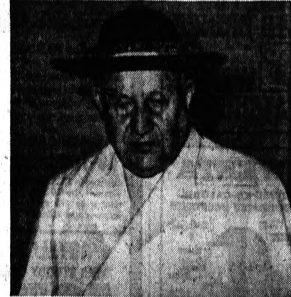

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the president, stands with Pope during visit March 11, 1962.

British Queen Elizabeth II and her husband Prince Philip, in background, walk with Pope John in Vatican hall during their 1961 visit.

President Dwight Eisenhower, visiting Pope while on tour in 1959, praised his English pronunciation.

Pope appears saddened by death of his nearest aide, Cardinal Tardini, in 1961.

Eichmann Widow Back in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The widow of Adolf Eichmann returned to Argentina Sunday to live, she said, "in the small house he built with his own hands."

Vera Eichmann, 55, and her son Hansi, 7, came home a year and two days after Israel executed her husband, convicted of playing a major role in the mass killing of Jews in World War II. Her son Dieter, 25, greeted her at the airport. Mrs. Eichmann had been visiting her mother in Heilbronn, Germany.

Food packers spent about $400,000 for sweaters in 1962 and are expected to spend that much or more in 1963.

'Syrians Fired at Us,' Three Israelis Report

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—An Israeli tractor driver and two Israeli fishermen were fired on from Syrian positions across the border in two separate incidents in Galilee reported by the Israelis Sunday.

No one was hit and the Israelis said the fire was not returned, but they lodged complaints with the U.N. Armistice Commission.

Red China Claims Defector Rewarded

TOKYO (AP)—A Nationalist Chinese pilot has been rewarded with 2,500 ounces of gold for defecting to Red China with an American-made P-60 fighter, the New China News Agency said Sunday.

A Peking broadcast monitored here said the pilot would be given the rank of major in the Red Chinese air force. He was identified as Capt. Hsu Ting-tse. The Chinese Nationalists have said only that one of their pilots disappeared in a storm.

Surveys show that in heavy traffic during rush hours a driver may be required to make as many as 300 decisions for each mile he drives.

Norway General Takes U. N. Truce Team Post

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—Gen. Odd Bull of Norway arrived in Jerusalem yesterday to take over his duties as chief of the United Nations truce team supervising the uneasy Israeli-Arab borders. Bull replaced Gen. Carl Von Horn of Sweden. Von Horn left here last Friday to oversee the withdrawal of United Arab Republic troops from Yemen.

Red Chinese Find Freighter Hit Rock

TOKYO (AP)—Red China said Sunday it has proved that its elite freighter Leap Forward hit a rock before it sank May 1.

Peking radio said in a broadcast monitored here that Chinese investigators had found the Leap Forward at the bottom of the east China Sea. Crewmen of the sunken vessel had insisted earlier that the freighter was torpedoed, but the Peking regime never endorsed this view officially.

Deserves Thought....

Many, many words and phrases of Super wisdom have been originated by WINSTON CHURCHILL, but the following deserves to rank with his finest:

"If you will not fight for the right when you can without bloodshed, if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not too costly, you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a precarious chance of survival. There may even be a worse case. You may have to fight when there is no chance of victory because it is better to perish than to live as slaves."

You can reflect upon the wisdom in this for hours on end. Mr. CHURCHILL even outdid himself when he uttered this cogent and compelling philippic.

Read it again.

It deserves a second try.

And in Conclusion....

David Lawrence Says:

Public Will Tire of Racial Dispute

WASHINGTON — History often repeats itself. It may take five or ten years more to reach a climax in the constitutional controversy now sweeping the country. But a climax is inevitable.

It is usually brought on, not by the opponents but by the proponents of what LAWRENCE seems to them a worthy cause.

The nation today is apprehensive about the Negro-White conflicts reported in every part of the country. Many people are anxiously wondering what the outcome will be.

But there is a significant lesson in the experience which the country has already had with the 18th Amendment to the Constitution, which prohibited the manufacture, sale and transportation of alcoholic beverages.

Those of us who supported this amendment in 1919 and for many years afterward discovered to our dismay that prohibition itself wasn't the basic issue.

After 14 years of controversy, the repeal of the Prohibition Amendment was ratified by state conventions.

Within ten months after its approval by Congress, the country was so sick and tired of the controversy and its disruption of American life that people disregarded the merits of the prohibition question itself and decided to turn the problem back to the states, where it had been before Federal intervention and compulsion was undertaken.

Now, there was no debate in those days over any decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, nor was there any quibble about the right of Congress to regulate commerce among the states.

By explicit words in the Constitution and in Federal law, the manufacture, sale and transportation of liquor was prohibited.

"Bootlegging" in commerce, however, flourished, and the Federal government could not recruit agents and marshals fast enough to arrest all the millions of violators.

LEGAL DISPUTES What bearing has the constitutional controversy? First, there are today plenty of legal and constitutional disputes over what is "the law of the land."

The 14th Amendment itself, for instance — the alleged source of Federal power today — was fraudulently "adopted" in 1868.

The Constitution was deliberately violated after the War Between the States was over in 1865, when a radical majority in Congress took away the seats of the Southern states in both Houses, and troops were sent to compel their "reconstructed" legislatures to "ratify" the 14th Amendment. There is nothing in the Constitution, of course, which authorizes Congress at any time to force a state to ratify any proposed amendment to the Constitution.

Bitter feeling has remained in the South over the excesses of those "Reconstruction" days.

There are people in the North who say that all this now doesn't matter anyhow, since the 14th Amendment has been widely accepted as being in the Constitution, and since many cases have been decided by the Supreme Court on the "assumption" that the amendment is legal.

Bob Considine Says:

News Watch at Vatican Difficult and Macabre Job

VATICAN CITY—It is a melancholy if not macabre business to keep a vigil on a dying man, particularly when that man is a Pope.

But many were busy at that grim job this week in Rome, whose tiny little corps of correspondents has been swollen to a hundredfold by the arrival of CONSIDINE, newsmen, camera people, radio and TV commentators from all over the world.

It is not an easy assignment. There is no "official Vatican source" for news unless it is the unofficial Vatican daily L'Osservatore Romano, and that sometimes reads as if written by the puzzle editor.

There's just nobody to go to see or check on a report, nobody to call on the phone. Wires go unanswered.

The tendency on the part of the Italian press is just to print what it hears. Two Roman dailies announced the death of Pius XII a full day before he actually expired.

Radio Rome's man at Castel Gandolfo sent out a touching play-by-play description of how the death was silently announced at the Pope's summer palace.

A servant came to the window of Pius' bedroom, pulled in his papal flag which extended from it on a pole, and replaced it with a black pennant, he said.

It never happened.

CONFUSION OF '58 There was much confusion over the color of the smoke rising from the burning of ballots during the three-day, 12-vote conclave of 1958.

On three occasions, false flashes of "Pope chosen" shot around the world—one of them actually inspired by a monsignor assigned to the press to keep it from going off half-cocked on smoke signals.

And almost until the moment John XXIII appeared on the loggia to give his first blessing as Pontiff, Radio Vatican was insisting that no Pope had yet been chosen.

As difficult as accurate news on a dying Pope's condition is to obtain, reliable information on the progress of the conclave that selects a new Pope is all but impossible.

Over the centuries, the sacred college has instituted measures that make a news "leak" all but unthinkable.

Whole sections of the Vatican are walled off. There is no contact between the cardinals and the outside world as they go about their balloting.

Such windows as face the world are whitewashed and curtained. They have their own chief imprisoned with them, two or three doctors and even a pharmacist, none of whom can leave until the conclave ends and the new Pope gives them permission to depart.

Any cardinal who later reveals information about the balloting is excommunicated and only the Pope himself has the power to lift such a sentence.

It's a bit easier around city hall.

Year-Around Education The Los Angeles Times

Year-around operation of the University of California has been proposed by President Clark Kerr.

Facts and figures would seem to make 12-month use of the university plan inevitable. Under the four-quarter or trimester programs, university facilities could accommodate 25 per cent more students.

Students on a four-quarter schedule could complete the four-year undergraduate course in three years. Important long-range economies would be made possible by full use of the university plant.

The change to full-year operation would necessitate review of

Press Establishes Ruling on Letters About 'Trial'

The Press hereby acknowledges many letters on the subject of Milton Henry's plea for a change of venue in the Greene murder case.

Some were written a day or so before Judge Beer ruled on the matter. Some were dated the same day and we have received several since. All of them united strongly in protesting against the change and invariably they brought out the fact that the murdered man had no voice in a "change of location" or anything to say about his brutal slaying.

The Press also wishes to recognize a rumor. The victim was stabbed a number of times but there were no additional mutilations. Since the Judge ruled promptly on the matter of venue, there is no need to print this long list of letters protesting against something already settled.

Any nation as rich as the U.S. is bound to inspire the dislike of weaker countries.

And a growing uneasiness in Latin America about U.S. intentions in the hemisphere has been augmented due to the vacillation in dealing with the Communist bridgehead in Cuba. The countries of Latin America feel that the U.S. is loath to eradicate the Red cancer that threatens to destroy the entire hemisphere.

Until American policy becomes an instrument of action against and not reaction to a monstrous threat, lack of confidence will increase. Brazil, which is rapidly being subverted from within, is ripe for a Communist takeover. She has been the largest recipient of foreign aid in the hemisphere. Billions have been poured in to bolster an economy but it is eroded by deliberately uncontrolled, runaway inflation.

Escapees

The Ann Arbor News

The capture of Richard E. Mauch, Robert L. Gipson and Elmer J. Grady in Madison, Wis., provides a renewed basis for the trust which the general public places in its police officials. Alertness on the part of Missouri state troopers similarly contributed to the re-capture of their partner, James J. Hall, on May 7.

But the story of their escape and capture still has some disturbing aspects.

State Police assumed the escapees had made elaborate plans for traveling before they ever left their cells. After hearing their story, it is obvious that the men probably would have been captured before they got out of Jackson if this assumption had not been made by the police.

The escapees had no detailed plan for disappearing. From the Tuesday morning when they escaped until the following Saturday night, they were in the old Jackson County Infirmary, six miles from the prison.

In a sense, it is also understandable how police searching in the Jackson area immediately after the escape managed to overlook the old infirmary.

It just is not a very good hiding place. Too easy to get in and out of, and still being visited by workmen moving out furniture. Anyone applying common sense and reasonable logic would have had something better in mind, particularly after going through the careful,

Praises Four Men on Tax Board

The citizens of Oakland County can be thankful they have four men on the tax allocation board who are forcing fiscal responsibility on the Board of Supervisors. About 20 of the supervisors are elected and the rest of the 75 are appointed and responsible to no one. Their budgets have been padded year after year.

schedules in the secondary schools, to "match" graduation dates with new enrollment dates in the university. This would be easier under the four-term than the three-term plan.

President Kerr also notes that there would be initial extra costs in putting a year-around plan into effect. More labor forces and larger faculties would be required.

However, the first costs of adopting a 12-month schedule could be compared to investment in plant modernization in industry. The gain in productivity is worth the cost. It pays for itself. Our present school year is geared to the ancient agrarian economy in which children were needed to help in harvest. The present school calendar is wasteful and inefficient.

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were two social secretaries on duty at the White House today for the official visit of the president of India.

It was the last day on the job for Letitia Baldrige of Washington, who is leaving after two years of planning social events and schedules for First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy.

It was the beginning for Nancy Tuckerman, former New York travel agent and onetime boarding school roommate of Mrs. Kennedy, who succeeds Miss Baldrige.

Miss Tuckerman, who has been in and out of the White House in the past few months for conferences, started working full-time last week, joining Miss Baldrige in the planning for the visit of Indian President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan.

VIENNA (AP) — The new headquarters for Vienna's Annual Arts Festival is the historic Theater an der Wien.

The building, in which Beethoven's "Fidelio" premiered, was saved from scheduled demolition in 1960 by the city government which has since spent $4 million on renovations.

For four months each year the theater is to hold festival events. Another four months will be reserved for repertory drama and opera groups, and the balance of time it is to be available for appearances by artists from abroad.

Problems Hit Red Sub Fleet

Some Towed Home Behind Trawlers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Previously secret congressional testimony has disclosed that the Russian submarine fleet is having so many mechanical difficulties that some subs have had to be towed home on the surface by trawlers.

Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., said there have been at least six instances of this, including one off the coast of Alaska and another in the Caribbean during the Cuban missile crisis. He said they could not go back down under the water.

The information came from U.S. Navy witnesses before the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee. They testified that they did not know whether the Russians have lost any submarines for this reason but "perhaps they have."

The Soviet fleet has been built hastily into the world's largest since the end of World War II. It is believed to number between 400 and 500.

Legislature to Resume Apportionment Question

LANSING (AP) — A 38-day armed truce on the issue of congressional reapportionment will end tomorrow when the Michigan Legislature returns for a scheduled three-day session and final adjournment.

The apportionment question is the most volatile of 12 matters awaiting attention before the gavel falls for good on the 1963 regular session.

Gov. George Romney has predicted the plan he supports for redistricting the state and carving out a new 19th District will have even more Republican support than on April 27, when it stood on the verge of passage only to be halted by a technical error.

The final form of the bill, which the governor's office helped to draft, was approved in conference and passed by the Senate with 22 votes, including two Upper Peninsula Democrats.

It appeared to have enough support in the House but the proceeding was stalled by the discovery of a technical fault that had West Bloomfield Township, of Oakland County, listed in both the 18th and the new 19th districts.

Romney and other GOP leaders were forced to agree that the bill could not be passed with a technical fault, which Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit, said would make Michigan "the laughing stock of the nation."

Three other errors since have been discovered in the bill and corrected.

In addition to putting West Bloomfield Township into two districts, the bill omitted the cities of Sylvan Lake and Dearborn Heights and had all of Northville — a city which straddles the Wayne-Oakland County line — in a single district.

"The bill is now perfect," declared an aide to Romney.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — U.S. Under Secretary of State Averell Harriman warned tonight that Communist China presents the main threat to peace in the Pacific.

Pushinka Expecting Offspring

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pushinka, the dog Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev gave to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, is expecting again.

The fluffy, white 2-year-old offspring of the Russian space dog, Strelka, is expected to deliver a litter in two or three weeks, it was learned today.

The White House declined to confirm or deny that Pushinka was showing signs of motherhood. The pet was pregnant last December but suffered a miscarriage.

Five-year-old Caroline Kennedy's Welsh terrier "Charlie" is believed to be the father.

Pushinka was sent to the First Lady as a gift in June 1961 after the Kennedys and Khrushchev had met in Vienna.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®. In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug corners.

Hold Detroit Youth in Stabbing Death

DETROIT (UPI) — Police today were holding a Detroit teenager for investigation in connection with the stabbing death of another youth during an argument over a poker game Saturday night.

Held was Ralph Danielak, 17, who was being questioned in the death of Joseph Cassar, 21, during the game at Danielak's home.

Witnesses said Cassar jokingly accused Danielak of taking the money and that Danielak turned swiftly—and stabbed him in the chest.

Detectives said Danielak admitted the stabbing, but said that he didn't mean to hurt Cassar.

Area Gardens in Bloom

Overlooking Bloomfield Hills Country Club golf course are the spacious gardens of the Lester A. Colmans, to be featured in the annual Detroit Garden Center Pilgrimage Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Colman

The Robert Shockley unusual volcanic rock garden steeply terraced away from the house on Oakland Drive overlooks Oakland Hills Country Club fairways. Mrs. Stanley Craft (left), Rock Creek Drive, Southfield, is one of the hostesses for the tour, and Mrs. Robert Holbrook, Windywood Road, is publicity chairman.

Birmingham and Bloomfield area gardens will be featured Saturday and Sunday in the annual Detroit Garden Center Pilgrimage.

Representatives of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association area branches will be hostesses at the gardens during the tour hours from 1 to 6 p.m. each day.

A small free-form pool and cabana highlight the William Bader garden in Birmingham.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Harold Ricketts and Mrs. Frank Kussey, Wing Lake Shores branch.

Overlooking Quorton Lake in Birmingham is the Henry P. Whiting garden which sets a Cape Cod mood on two city lots.

Hostesses will be Birmingham Branch members Mrs. Ralph Scheel, Mrs. Fred Harley, Mrs. S. J. Skaisis and Mrs. Alvin H. Knorr.

A Metasequoia (Dawn Redwood) tree highlights Dr. and Mrs. James E. Croushore's large urban lawn in Bloomfield.

Receiving visitors will be Mrs. Philip Copeland, Mrs. Arthur Morrow, Mrs. Richard Ladue and Mrs. Harry Butts, Bloomfield Village Branch.

The Robert Shockley ranch home on Oakland Drive features ledge rock steps leading to a yew hedge, with rhododendron and arbutus plantings.

Members of Cranbrook Village tour guests will be Mrs. Marvin Kline, Mrs. Robert Swearingen, Mrs. James Lickly and Mrs. Stanley Craft.

Mrs. Robert Koch and Mrs. Thomas Stacey, Wing Lake Shores Branch, will direct visitors through the Lester Coleman gardens, Bloomfield Hills.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Lightward, North Harsdale Road, have named their four-acre estate "Magnolia Terrace."

Refreshments will be served in this garden both days by Mrs. Carl Larson, Mrs. George Goodwin, Mrs. Leonard Wineman, Mrs. Robert Sadler and Mrs. A. H. Meyer, Bloomfield Hills Branch. Mrs. Paul Wilson and Mrs. W. H. Ruggles, Oakland Branch will assist.

At Dr. and Mrs. Warren W. Woodwin's two-level home, a new garden area of border plants and shrubs has been reconstructed changing a rustic rock pile to an interesting waterfall and pond.

Franklin and Westchester branch members will be hostesses.

A scenic four-acre surrounds the William Shaw's Old English Manor house overlooking Endicott Lake near Woodward Avenue.

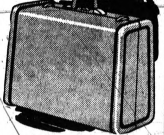

Cranbrook Branch hostesses will be Mrs. Dale Douglas, Mrs. Joan Riccardi, Mrs. Raymond Cragin, Mrs. Henry Sandrock and Mrs. W. H. Pettibone.

Mrs. Harold I. Tanner is general chairman; Mrs. George Glover, cochairman; Mrs. Arthur Hyde, adviser; Mrs. Ernest Scherer, hostess chairman; Mrs. Henry Botsford, flags and arrows; and Mrs. Laurence Herman, refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Creighton W. Runnette entertained for a brunch on Sunday, honoring their friends Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heydt, who are moving from Birmingham to Mt. Clair, N.J.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schuler, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoban, Mr. and Mrs. James Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bross, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman.

On Friday, Dr. and Mrs. Burdell of Burton honored Mrs. Burdell's sister, Dr. Helena Mathiasen of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., who was spending a few days with them.

Grandson Bill Burdell from New Paltz, N.Y., is also spending some time with the Burdells.

And, isn't it a small world? Mary Spaulding, who recently returned from a six-weeks trip by ship which started in Casa Blanca, Algeria, tells that when she came out of the Grand Bretagne hotel in downtown Athens, she heard a friendly voice say "Merry Christmas!"

Who should it be but Lois Place, her former neighbor on Valley View Lane in Birmingham. Mrs. Place was island hopping in Greece and Miss Spaulding was headed for Italy.

Mrs. Alfred Grann leaves June 11 for Copenhagen, then to the Salzburg Music Festival and to Nice to visit with a friend, Madame Bander.

From June 25-28, she will be attending the International Union of Child Welfare and also the Centennial Celebration of the Red Cross.

On June 30th, she will be in Denmark, where the Queen Ingrid home for Save the Children Federation is located.

On the 4th of July she will view a big celebration on this American holiday, titled Nations official Dr. Ralph Bunche will be the principal speaker.

Thirty members of the Danish Women Volunteer Service organization will visit the Knudsen home for Save the Children Federation located at an American park in Denmark.

A. You evidently have very honest physicians in your community. They realize that it is ridiculous to think a person can have heart trouble one day, kidney trouble the next, then migraine the following day, and so on. You are understandably worried and sympathetic. It might be well to remember that a person can be physically fit but quite sincere in believing he is ill. Will Head UF Campaign

The appointment of Mrs. William J. Freyermuth as Pontiac chairman of the 1963 United Fund residential campaign has been announced by Mrs. William E. Brace, women's campaign committee chairman.

In her new capacity, Mrs.

MRS. WM. FREYERMUTH

Freyermuth will head a city-wide committee of four area and 44 district chairmen. They will assist her in obtaining some 600 volunteer solicitors for next fall's campaign.

The women will also call on small businesses in residential and downtown areas.

Last year, Pontiac women raised 104 per cent of the $18,428 goal for funds on behalf of the 54 agencies affiliated with the Pontiac Area United Fund.

A graduate of Northwestern University and member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, Mrs. Freyermuth is a former teacher in Ann Arbor, Los Alamos, N.M., and Waterford Township elementary schools. She has served as district chairman with the Pontiac Area women's campaign.

The new residential campaign chairman is a member and past president of Pontiac Panchellenic Association, president of the Waterford Child Study Club and a board member of Pontiac General Hospital Auxiliary.

She is also a board member and Pontiac ticket chairman of the Community Arts Council of Oakland University.

In addition, she belongs to the Tuesday Musicals, Webster PTA, Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs and Central Methodist Church. Mrs. Freyermuth lives with her husband and three children on Mohawk.

Club Plans Year's Last Luncheon

The Christian Women's Club will hold its final luncheon of the season at Devon Gables June 12. A demonstration on costume care and makeup will highlight the program.

Dr. Donald Brown of Orchard Lake will be guest speaker at the 12:30 p.m. affair.

Dr. Brown is the chairman of the board of directors of the Detroit Bible College and a member of the financial board of directors of the Voice of Christian Youth.

He was formerly attached to the Korean Military Advisory Group.

Reservations may be placed with Mrs. Eugene Thomas on Hickory Grove.

Guest soloist will be soprano Joann Berquist, a senior at North Park College in Chicago, Ill.

President Goes First - Always!

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I would very much like to have your opinion on a matter that has been bothering me for some time. I have noticed in news-pictures of President and Mrs. Kennedy that he always precedes her in and out of planes, cars, etc., and this seeming discourtesy never fails to annoy me.

I have always understood that a lady precedes a gentleman except if the way is dangerous or uncertain. Isn't this a breach of good manners on the part of the President?

A: No, the President is quite correct in preceding his wife. Ordinarily, a lady does precede a gentleman, but in the case of good manners on the part of the President?

Q: I received an invitation to the wedding of a neighbor's daughter and also to the reception which is to be held in the church auditorium.

While I have known the family for many years, I've never considered them personal friends. Am I obliged to send a gift whether I go or don't go?

A: If you go to the reception you really should send a gift. Otherwise, there is no obligation to do so. You may send one or not as you choose.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like the booklet entitled, "Manners in Public," send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Wing Lake Home Set for Garden Club Affair

The Wing Lake home and gardens of Mrs. George S. Dixon will be opened to members and friends of the Birmingham branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, June 10 for the fund-raising picnic.

Proceeds from the affair will provide two scholarships. Current scholarship recipients are Gayle Robinson, a sophomore at Michigan State University, and Thomas Smoke, also of MSU. Both have accepted invitations to the picnic so that members and guests may get to know them.

In case of rain, the picnic will be postponed until the next day.

Next year's officers will also be on hand. They include Mrs. Dixon, president; Mrs. Marvin Katke, first vice president; and Mrs. Norman Berry, second vice president.

Others are Mrs. R. A. Taggart, recording secretary, Mrs. John F. Rosier, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Charles Mason, treasurer.

Tips on What Gifts to Give Newlyweds

By MADELEINE DOEREN
Human nature being what it is, when a bride-to-be mentions her preferences in wedding presents to one person, it stands to reason she will receive no less than three of the same item.

The average couple, according to Modern Bride Magazine receives $1,003 worth of gifts. They will receive as gifts or will buy from gift money one out of every three electric kettles, blenders, coffee makers and clock radios.

They are responsible for the sales of more than four out of ten electric mixers, toasters, waffle irons and bedspreaders.

Beginning a marriage with basic china, crystal, linens, sterling silver or stainless steel is indeed preferable to having a hodgepodge of unrelated items.

Most brides avail themselves of a registry service provided by many gift, jewelry and specialty shops, and department stores, to list their choices of patterns.

As gifts arrive, the brides notify the store which in turn, informs potential gift buyers of any needed items.

Gift - buying falls into three categories, the "musts for living," the "nice for livability" and "wish we could afford" articles. The couple's place of residence, whether a small apartment or a house, should also be considered.

Half a million homes will be bought by newlyweds this year, according to a recent survey. Nearly one - fifth will be new homes and some eight per cent will have been occupied previously.

WHAT'S NEEDED

These couples could undoubtedly use patio furniture, lawn chairs, umbrella table, post lantern, snow shovel, garden hose, sprinklers and tools, picnic table, outdoor barbecue grill, insect - repellent lamps, lightweight extension ladder, a growing tree or shrub and a garden encyclopedia.

Among the "musts for living" for any couple are basic furniture, lamps, floor coverings, tableware, linens, cooking equipment and cleaning paraphernalia.

Adding greatly to pleasant livability are portable electric fans and room air - conditioners, card table and chairs, a steel tote-table that folds flat, small fire extinguisher, ironing board, pad and cover, bathroom pole-shelves for storage, closet organizers, and a folding screen or room divider.

Accessories, as important as the signature to a letter, could include a group of prints or a painting for a "gallery wall" in the living-room, candlesticks, planters, a deep wicker kitchen storage basket (for potatoes, onions, etc.) or a group of trivets, or a clock.

UNUSUAL GIFTS

More unusual gifts would be a princess telephone, barometer, pastel summer blankets, bed pillows, his 'n' her brushes (overcoat, lint remover, hat brush), magazine subscriptions, records, dictionary, permanent desk calendar and waste baskets.

Taking this ink out of work in the bride's kitchen could be a pressure cooker, electric knife sharpener, portable rotisserie, filled spice rack, cutting board, electric can-opener, food chopper, and fitted picnic basket.

Serving aids include sets of hot dish protectors, hot trays, electric tureen or chafing-dish and lazy Susans.

If the couple has a fireplace, why not buy a wood basket, a Cape Cod fire-lighter, screen, andirons or a hearth broom with a set of those long, long matches tucked in?

THREE-PIECE SET—A companion to the tea set shown in the background is a covered sugar bowl and creamer with serving tray. The set is crafted of stainless steel which will not tarnish. The creamer features a gracefully curved spout for easy, nondrip pouring. The tray can double as a serving tray for hors d'oeuvres or fruit. Retail for $8.95 by Revere Ware.

Diet Questions Answered

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "Which has the most calories butter or margarine?"

A. They are approximately the same.

Q. "When counting calories in soda crackers do you count the large square with four small sections as one cracker or four?"

A. You are an optimist and I hate to disillusion you but each small section is counted as a cracker.

Q. "When exercising, (bending and touching the fingers to the floor) is one hundred times too much at one time? My heart is very good and so is my blood pressure."

A. It all depends on how you feel afterwards. Do not exercise to the point of fatigue. What would be very strenuous for one woman may be easy for another, depending on her physical condition.

I would think that you might want to take one or two little breathers to break the hundred bends. Your exercises are just as valuable and effective when you do this.

WRONG PLACES

Q. "Some of us older gals find that when we diet we lose in the wrong places, for instance, in the face rather than in the abdomen and the hips. Can we do anything about this?"

A. Yes! Do not lose too rapidly and take hip and abdominal reducing exercises along with your calorie counting.

Q. "Please answer my letter in the paper since my husband is at home when the mail arrives. How many months of exercise will it take to add two to four inches to my bust? I have practically none and I am desperate. This is ruining my marriage because I am so self-conscious."

A. In order to increase the bust measurement, one must build up the chest muscles. This takes time, probably at least two to three months to see a difference. Your self-consciousness will damage your marriage much more than a small bust ever could.

Here is an exercise which you can do at your leisure which will help you add to your bust measurements. Clasp the hands together.

Tipping Tips for Newlyweds

NEW YORK UP—Tipping tips for the honeymooners:

—In the United States and Canada, the bell boy expects 25 cents per suitcase, even 50 cents in expensive hotels. He also gets 25 cents for delivering ice, telegram, or when performing any minor errand.

—For individual meals, tipping the waiter 15 per cent of the check is the accepted rule. Add more if exceptional service is given or called for and received.

—For overnight stays, no tip is necessary for the chambermaid; otherwise, leave $1 per week.

er in front of the chest with the elbows bent.

Push hard against the other Can you feel the muscles of the chest contract? Hold it a few seconds. Relax. Push again. Continue.

Q. "Please let me know if you have ever heard of using Epsom salts in a bath for reducing?"

A. Yes I have heard of it but it is not reducing. At the most it could only effect the water in the tissues, not fat.

Clarkston Is Location of Wilson-Bauer Rites

Rev. William J. Richards officiated at the candlelight nuptials of Shirley Louise Bauer to Roland Garfield Wilson Saturday in the First Methodist Church, Clarkston.

White silk organza with bodice and skirt panel of Alencon lace fashioned the chapel-length gown for the daughter of the Harold J. Bauers, Clarkston. A silk illusion veil held by a pearlized caplet and a cascade of white roses, carnations and Stephanotis completed her ensemble.

Wearing floor-length Nile green organza were maid of honor Ruth L. Holcomb and bridesmaids Mrs. Joseph Gardiner, Mrs. Edwin J. Glenie and Mrs. Jack McCall. They carried yellow Shasta daisies and carnations.

Jody and Michael Gardiner were flower girl and ring bearer.

The bridegroom, son of the William E. Wilsons, Clarkston, had James Hennig for best man. Ushers were Joseph Gardiner, Richard Wilson, Thomas and James Kregger and Jack McCall.

MRS. R. G. WILSON

Rev. Wilbert Cunningham officiated at the candlelight vows of Josephine Joyce Perkowicz, Sylvan Lake, to Alfred LaVern Storm, Saturday in Central Christian Church.

White peau de soie with Alencon lace applique for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Perkowicz of Silverwood was styled with chapel train. She wore an illusion veil with lace-pilbox and carried white roses, Stephanotis and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. William Gallow of Alma, her sister's honor matron, and bridesmaids Carol Storm, Mrs. Leon H. Storm and Fayanne Badgero wore apricot rose brocade. Apricot and white carnations comprised their heart bouquets.

ON ESQUIRE SIDE

The bridegroom, son of the Jack D. Storms, Clarkston, had his cousin Leon H. Storm for best man. Larry Christiansen, seated guests with Joseph and John Perkowicz. Melissa Ann and Mark Perkowicz of Dearborn were flower girl and ring-bearer.

After greeting some 200 guests in the First Federal Savings of Oakland club rooms, the couple left for Niagara Falls, and later will reside in the Pontiac area.

Storage Set for Ironing

out, a built-in plug and storage space for an iron, cord, and cord holder.

ICE CRUSHER—This new electric ice crusher is giffpack with a gaily striped portable cooler. Crush the ice into frosty chips, then tote it along to picnics or patio, where it keeps un-melted and handy. The ice crusher is turquoise, on a white tray that serves as a catch-bucket for the crushed ice. Cubes are fed in quickly and neatly through the top, and the machine will never "stall" in grinding—even with melting ice. The Oster "Sawflake" ice crusher, complete with tote bag cooler is approximately $24.95 (Model 550-02) Made by the John Oster Manufacturing Co.

Tipping Tips for Newlyweds

NEW YORK UP—Tipping tips for the honeymooners:

—In the United States and Canada, the bell boy expects 25 cents per suitcase, even 50 cents in expensive hotels. He also gets 25 cents for delivering ice, telegram, or when performing any minor errand.

—For individual meals, tipping the waiter 15 per cent of the check is the accepted rule. Add more if exceptional service is given or called for and received.

—For overnight stays, no tip is necessary for the chambermaid; otherwise, leave $1 per week.

Attention, all summer brides!
If you are planning to have your wedding story in The Pontiac Press, it is time to come in for a wedding question-naire.

This should be returned to the Women's Department at least one week BEFORE the wedding.

Pre-bridal pictures may be brought in with the wedding form. Deadline for pictures taken at weekend weddings is 8 a.m. the following Monday.

Pictures brought in after Monday deadline will appear with the story on Tuesday, if space permits. Out-of-state weddings and pictures will be accepted within a week after the ceremony.

We will be unable to give detailed descriptions if the story arrives more than three days after a local wedding. Please call The Pontiac Press Women's Department if you have any questions.

FESTIVE PERCOLATORS — Two new porcelain-on-steel percolators, styled to meet today's demand for a modern flair in coffee-making and decorated to lend eye appeal to the kitchen or dining area, include a free-flowing spout and tapered metal handle. The percolators are also equipped with a new pro-fax coffee basket, which assures uniform blending, as well as a profax cover. The gleaming non-porous surface stays bright without polishing. Approximately $5.95 for the two-cup, and $7.65 for the four-cup, model. By United States Stamping Company.

Perfectly Normal

Husband Hates to Get Up

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a six-foot, 46-year-old comfort creature. When the alarm rings, you shut it off, puts his head under the covers, and goes back to sleep.

Our arrangement is that when the alarm goes off he is supposed to shut it off, get up and put the coffee on, and then I get up and fix breakfast. Well, as I said, he shuts off the alarm and crawls back in bed again. If I try to get him up, he says, "Oh my back," or "I didn't sleep a wink last night."

What makes me angry is that, when he is going fishing, he can get up at 4:30 a.m. without any trouble, fix his own breakfast, and take off with no help from me. What do you think?

PLAIN MAD

DEAR PLAIN: Your husband is a healthy, normal, six-foot, 46-year-old comfort creature. When the alarm rings, you shut it off and fix the coffee. And bring a nice steaming cup to his bedside. If the aroma doesn't arouse him, one teeny-weeny drop on his nose will.

DEAR ABBY: When I had my last baby, I swore off having any more children. I am 27 years old, Abby, and I have EIGHT boys (no twins).

Is it possible that there is something about the combination of my husband and me that can't produce anything but boys? Whose fault is this, anyway?

My husband says it must be me because his first wife had two girls.

LONG ON BOYS
DEAR LONG: You're short on facts. The sex of the children is determined by the HUSBAND.

DEAR ABBY: You mention that some of the wires a father should pull to get his son into a good college were TV, hi-fi and telephone.

I couldn't agree more heartily. I am 18 years old and have been glued to the "nutty box" almost since its invention. I don't know how I ever tore myself away to go to school.

For some fantastic reason I got grades that were good enough to admit me to an Ivy League university. Considering the stiff competition, it was a miracle.

I will never let the TV or any other distraction control the lives of any children I may have.

JUST LUCKY I GUESS

CONFIDENTIAL TO ESTHER: When a man says, "I'm sure of my wife," he means that he is sure of his wife. When a woman says, "I am sure of my husband," she means she is sure of herself.

For a personal, unpublished answer to your letter, write to ABBY, in care of the Pontiac Press.

Speak Vows at Ceremony in Pontiac

Rev. James W. Deeg officiated at the Saturday evening vows of Rose Margaret Cizmadia of Third Avenue and John William Murphy of Stirling Avenue in the Oakland Park Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Steve Cizmadia. Her husband's parents are the Roy Murphys of South Marshall.

Her floor-length gown of white Rochelle lace over taffeta was fashioned with sequined scoop neckline and wrist - point sleeves. She wore short tulle veil with a pearl coronet and held a cascade of white roses, carnations and ivy.

Wearing Nile green sheer over taffeta were Mrs. Darell DeLongchamp, matron of honor, and bridesmaid Mrs. Norman Crabb.

Their bouquets were yellow carnations.

Darell DeLongchamp was best man. Norman Crabb and Owen Martin ushered.

The newlyweds left for a trailer tour of the Upper Peninsula after a reception in the UAW Hall. They will reside in Pontiac.

Parents Host Reception

The Peter Panofis, Pontiac Lake Road, were hosts at a reception in the Italian-American Club following the Saturday vows of their daughter Valerie Lynn to Jesse Ray Wilson of East Huron.

Rev. Alfred G. Lowe performed the double-ring candlelight ceremony in the Pike Street Church of God.

Sequined white Chantilly lace for the bride featured an Empire bodice and festoons of lace roses on her tiered skirt of silk organza, which tapered to a chapel train. Her illusion veil fell from a jeweled tiara and she held white orchids and Stephanotis.

Wearing turquoise Skinner's satin with darker overskirts and organza pillowcases were bridesmaids Mrs. Theodore Thompson and Cheryl Allison. They carried white carnations tipped in aquamarine.

Yellow roses added to her bouquet designated the honor matron, Mrs. W. J. McAlis.

ter. Carol Landon was flower girl. Nathan Wilson assisted his brother as best man. Robert Landon Jr. and James Gaylock were groomsmen. Jerry Risinger and James Roehl ushered.

SALLY ANDERSON

August vows are planned by Sally R. Anderson, daughter of the Harold F. Andersons, Dearborn, and Richard J. Grebata, son of the Joseph Grebata of Elsinore. The bride-elect will graduate from Henry Ford Community College this month.

Extra Seating Pieces Are Handy

Most young couples greatly enjoy planning their first home and shopping for the furnishings to go in it. However, their selections are usually limited to the major pieces that are considered essential for daily living.

The extra seating pieces that add a special note of comfort and luxury are seldom on the bridal shopping list and therefore make excellent gifts.

One item sure to be appreciated is a chaise. They now are being shown in a wide variety of period and contemporary styles ranging from a handsomely designed chaise longue for the living room to an elongated Madame Racamier number for giving the bedroom an air of the femme fatale.

The majority of the 1963 versions are upholstered in buoyant latex foam that is often combined with down or dacron for period pieces requiring "puffy" cushioning. Modern pieces have the clean rubber brought to furniture design.

TOPPING BENCHES

Trim latex foam cushions are also topping benches — another extra seating piece in high favor with newlyweds.

IDEAL GIFT—This cozy new accent piece is an ideal gift for the summer bride. The handsome foam rubber tub-and-a-half chair and matching ottoman is at home in the living room, recreation room or bedroom. And it is roomy enough for two who like holding hands while they watch TV. Available in a variety of fabrics for approximately $278.00 retail price. (By Sell)

Polly's Pointers

Pleats Will Stay Put

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — My hint is a way to make a sharp looking kick pleat that stays put.

After a skirt hem is in, press the pleat in place and then stitch through the hem and seam (the back and underneath fold of the pleat) and press again.—Mrs. D.

DEAR POLLY — Possibly the girls with short hair will find this helpful. For those difficult-to-set curls at the nape of the neck, use ordinary pipe cleaners.

They simplify the setting and the curls last longer.

DEAR POLLY — Do you hate buttery fingers or the waste involved using wax paper or a paper towel when a recipe calls for a buttered casserole dish?

Before you assemble the ingredients to prepare the casserole, turn the oven to low heat and place the empty casserole dish inside.

When you are ready to use it, the dish will be hot and a pat of butter on the tip of a knife will swizzle all around the dish in no time at all with no waste and no messy fingers.—Betty

DEAR POLLY — I have finally found comfortable blouses that always stay tucked in and, at the same time, have done away with the need for wearing a half slip under my skirt.

My suit is dark green with kick pleats all around the skirt. My new blouse and slip combinations are jersey shifts.

I own several different prints with the same dark green in them as is in my suit. My blouse is always tucked in because it reaches my knees and it serves as a slip, too.—MRS. J. C.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

The majority of the long low benches are of contemporary design and can be used as living room accent pieces to hold decorative objects, plants in red clay pots, magazines, or even a portable TV set. When company comes the removable bench cushions can be placed on the floor for additional seating.

Padded stools are also thoughtful gifts for young party lovers. They can be tucked under coffee tables or the dining table for use when needed. Some of these are graceful Italian reproductions with tufted foam rubber cushioning upholstered in rich fabric.

Others are slim Scandinavian cubes that have removable cushions covered with a rough-weave fabric resembling homespun. A set of two or four stools would come in mighty handy in stretching seating space on entertainment evenings.

GEOMETRICAL

One of the most interesting developments are the nests of stools in geometrical shapes that can be used to form a seating island in a living room.

One version, called the Pagoda stool, is a hexagon with cushioned top and trim walnut legs. It looks as attractive in a chaise as it does separately.

Oversize Frog Good Catch-All

Shaped like an oversized frog, a calico catch-all makes a lively utility piece for the wall or closet door of a pre-teen's room.

Bride Will Like Canister Tree

Here's a real first in housewares: an elegant dry staple storage unit consisting of six handy, handsome canisters plus a plated steel wire stand.

The idea behind BeautyWare's canister tree is to provide a practical, yet decorative accessory for six commonly used staples, leftover or surplus foods.

BeautyWare is also providing 20 free interchangeable name tapes for the following staples (to place on the six canisters): Noodles, coffee, tea, oats, rice, lentils, raisins, prunes, peas, barley, pasta, farina, cereal, cake mix, flour, sugar, coconut, dried fruit, beans and candy.

Aside from these, there are scores of other snacks, staples and necessities which can be stored in this unit.

The very nature of a staple in the kitchen is that its job is to be around all the time. So it has to be handy. The Canister Tree makes this possible.

It consists of six 1- or 2-lb. capacity canisters that stack on the metal tree in practically no room at all. It may be placed on a counter or hung from a wall or inside a cabinet (eliminating storage of staples on the counter completely).

Each steel canister has a (enamel) lids and $9.98 its contents, and each canister fits neatly into its tilt-proof wire holder. The entire unit has a portable carrying handle.

The canisters are available in all enamel colors (white, yellow or turquoise) with contrasting enamel or chrome lids. They retail for $7.98 (enamel lids) and $9.98 (chrome lids).

CHLOE ANN LOGAN

September vows are planned by Chloe Ann Logan, daughter of the Robert Logans, Menominee Road, and Theodore B. Purdy Jr., son of the T. Boice Purdys, Linden Road. She attends Carnegie Medical Institute, Detroit, and her fiancé is a sophomore at Highland Park Junior College.

Pressons to Live at Area Lake

The William Dewayne Pressons, who were wed Saturday in the Ascension Lutheran Church, will occupy their new home at Lake Oakland following a honeymoon at Niagara Falls.

Rev. Mires Stine performed the ceremony, followed by a church reception.

The former Deborah Ann Dick is the daughter of the Perry C. Dicks, Eason. Her husband's parents are the William A. Pressons, Omira.

Imported Swiss embroidery accented the bride's gown of white bouquet taffeta styled with square neckline, fitted bodice and court train. A demicap of Alcon lace held her bouffant veil. She carried gardenias and Stephanotis.

Talisman roses and tangerine carnations complemented maize yellow organza over taffeta sheaths for honor matron Mrs. John Craven and a bridesmaids Lynde Hartman and Mrs. Gene LaBarge.

Erica Dick attended her sister as flower girl, and David Vincent carried the rings.

Larry Presson assisted his brother as best man. Seating guests were Michael Dick and Gene LaBarge.

Select Gifts for Moderns Thoughtfully

A wedding anniversary gift of wax flowers under glass may have wrung a pleased and sentimental tear out of our great-grandmothers. Modern married couples, whether they're newlyweds grandparents or in between, are more apt to view a bracelet with a dim enthusiasm as compared with thoughtfully chosen gifts that are adapted to the changing cycles of American Family Life.

This official list, revised and brought up to date by the Jewelry Industry Council, has gift suggestions that are a happy combination of practicality and beauty, without sacrifice to the deep sentiment of the occasion.

This official list, which appears in the World Almanac and other reference books, has suggestions which are as pleasing to all because the price tags are as varied as the gifts themselves.

The first nine years are devoted to wedding anniversary gifts for the home—clocks, silverware, china, crystal, glass, electric appliances—because these are the years during which the husband and wife are building their homes and centering their attention on young and growing children.

The next five years, the 10th through the 15th anniversaries, include such gifts as furs, textiles, jewelry and watches. Those are the years in which children are sufficiently grown up to permit parents to go out or to travel parents to take a young couple to the first ten years of married life.

The cycle returns to gifts for the home for four years—16th through 19th anniversaries—when the youngsters begin to take a new interest in their homes.

The remaining years, from the 20th to the 60th anniversaries, are the years which call for gifts for personal use and adornment. These are the years, for most families, when children are grown up and parents can pay more attention to themselves.

Use Silver Differently

If your wedding gifts include a number of silver pieces and your first home isn't geared to this much silver, use it in unusual ways. Be unconventional.

Candlesticks — elaborately wrought or simple — can double as dressing table lamps with the simple acquisition of candle-foot light bulb sockets and simple parchment lampshades.

The wire extends from the bulb fixture, which fits right in where the candle would, so the candlestick need never be marred. Comes a special dinner — just pick out the two bulb sockets, put in candles and have a lovely time.

TOAST RACK

That little toast rack which seemed so fanciful and impractical a gift from your old school chum, will be a boon on your desk. It is just right for organizing letters and bills into "paid and unpaid." The unlikely small silver jigger will hold paper clips.

The small silver card tray is ideal for organizing all the odds and ends of a working desk — clips, elastic, the ink. A tiny silver vase will hold pencils as well as flowers. They add up to the best looking desk in town.

Gifted with silver cocktail cups but no candlesticks? The answer is to let the glassware hold the cocktails, and the silver cups, (or silver jiggers) hold the candles.

The artful bride can get stubby candles to fit (or make her own), or stand slender tapers in the base and fill the rest of the cup with short flowers for a gay table setting.

WALL DECORATION

Did the silver harvest bring half a dozen spoons which match nothing else? Then get a simple spoon rack and hang them up as a wall decoration. Spoon racks are available in ten-cent stores or can be made of do-it-yourself antique kits.

Was the wedding return short on vases and long on tea pots? Use the pot as a vase. It is charming and the arrangement will win you applause on cleverness.

Was a 'big gift' a silver coffee pot? Use it after dinner, even when you two are alone. Silver keeps coffee hot and makes every evening festive.

When miscellaneous small dishes and trays show up, use one or two to organize a cigarette cup (possibly a silver jigger) and that silver lighter will stay put, can be carried out to be washed easily and add a decorator touch.

LIKE VIOLETS

Other ideas will bloom like violets in spring, once the bride starts thinking of living with her silver. Among them may be the use of those silver napkin rings for chignon tinders in the hair.

The silver meat platter is just as useful for one-dish meals and turns even pot-luck into posh good luck for the drop-in guests.

The extra silver vegetable dishes will double as low vases for centerpieces on the table or in a hall.

The secret of living with silver is loving it and using it.

Newest Color, Black China

A new dining color concept is served up with an all-black china service plates and saucers, from Danish designer, Bjørn Winblad.

TABLE FOR TWO — Set with mathematical precision, this table for two features tall pewter candlesticks on opposite sides each with a prim little bowl of flowers at its base and sprigs of the same flowers tucked around the sockets of its candles. Their light falls upon a pale blue linen cloth and pewter-rimmed plates with ceramic centers decorated in pale blue flanked by delicately sparkling "One Rose" stainless steel flatware. It's a new pattern by Reed & Barton, creators also of the plates and candlesticks.

WENONAH J. NICHOLS

The Chester H. Nichols of Kettering announce the engagement of their daughter Wenonah Jean to Douglas Richard Eley. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Eley of Lanette.

Bridal Gift Linens

When shopping for wedding gifts, keep in mind that bed, bath, and table linens are popular choices with many brides. In fact, engaged girls often list with bridal gift registries their specific preferences as to color, brand, and easy-to-keep.

So make sure to choose only gift "linens" which can take repeated machine washing and drying.

Washable 'Gold'

For the bride who has everything else: a "gold" lace tablecloth. The gold may be merely simulated, but the lace behaves as "good as gold" in either soap or detergent suds!

SHARON M. FRANKLIN

The Raymond Franklins, Voorhees, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Marie, to William Dale Rice, son of Mrs. Opal Rice of Russell. Fall vows are planned.

Slips Feature Wide Straps

Designed for off the shoulder gowns and low cut ones as well as the American version of the French camisole slip.

The six-panel, princess shaped slip has a lace bodice that extends into wide straps at the shoulder edges. The skirt is also bordered with lace.

Hand-Me-Down Shoes Unwise

Handing down outgrown shoes to younger children is an unwise practice, say clothing specialists. A good leather shoe conforms to a child's foot, but once molded it will not change.

A gift for the newlyweds' home could be this attractive console table — or the hand-me-down mirror above it. The design was adapted from an Empire clock case. Gold leaf accents the pedestals; the top is French walnut veneer.

AF Investigates Atlas Wreckage After Explosion

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — Air Force investigators probed the wreckage of a $12-million Atlas intercontinental missile silo today.

A tremendous explosion Saturday ripped two 38-ton doors off the hinges and tossed them about 75 feet from the silo.

The five-man crew escaped without injury. The crew was shielded from the blast area by heavy steel doors and walls of concrete several feet thick.

The Atlas F missile caught fire and was destroyed, the Air Force said. It did not explode.

Philip Bruises Shoulder in Fall From Polo Pony

Philip was thrown to the ground while a crowd of nearly 10,000 spectators watched. Queen Elizabeth left the grounds five minutes before the accident occurred.

Watches Birds Like Hawk; but There's the Rub

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (U-P) — Martin Schweig now has hawks—not bird eagles.

The Missouri Conservation Commission gave Schweig the birds to be raised after they were found May 5 near Ft. Leonard Wood. They were thought to be baby bald-eagles.

Schweig, a St. Louis photographer and expert on birds, now says the birds are red-tailed hawks.

He said the birds have nearly tripled their weight and now are on a diet of horse meat, rats and mice. He had been feeding them cod liver oil and fish.

Beer Barrel Pokey

DOVER, England (UPI) — Choppo waters yesterday prevented bank teller Robert Platten, 38, from trying to cross the English Channel in an outboard motor-powered beer barrel.

Waterford to Vote on Schools

MEETING ON MILLAGE—Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC) president Millard James and Mrs. Edmund Winderle check over data on the Waterford Township Schools' millage proposals up for vote June 10. The GWCC will sponsor an open meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Pierce Junior High School on the election issues.

June 10 School Election Issues Discussed

Some of the more frequently asked questions pertaining to the bond issue and two millage proposals in the June 10 Waterford Township school election were directed toward Supt. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe.

The questions and Dr. Tatroe's answers are as follows.

Q. What would be the millage increase of the bond issue, the building program proposal and the staff salary increase proposal?

A. Three and a half mills the first year and six mills after five years. An approximate one-mill tax increase for the bond issue and 2.5 mills for the staff improvement proposal would be effective immediately. None of the 2.5 mills for building new facilities will be levied during 1963-64 and only a portion will be levied the following year.

Q. What would be the monetary cost to the average taxpayer if the three proposals are approved?

A. A taxpayer with a $2,500 annual assessment would pay $1.50 per month more the first year and $2.75 a month more the sixth year.

Q. Why should teachers receive a raise?

A: First of all, they deserve a raise. The Waterford Schools are producing a good program for kids, and at the same time the Waterford teacher receives less than most of their neighbors in the county.

Without an increase in the Waterford schedule our position drops (from 16th among the 29 districts to 25th for a beginning teacher with a bachelors degree). Even with the proposed increase, Waterford staff would only be at about the county average salary of $4,000 though it would move ahead by $100 during each of the next two years.

The beginning chemist or engineer with the same training, on the other hand starts at about $6,000 at General Motors.

Q. What is the Citizens' Advisory Committee?

A. The Waterford Board of Education invited all community service clubs, PTAs, extension clubs, home owner groups, etc., to send its own representatives to form the advisory committee. About 150 lay persons took part in the study to formulate the recommendations which were submitted to the board.

Q. How did the Citizens' Advisory Committee determine the need for the building program?

A. The committee examined the growth of the district during the past five year period, consulted with the township planner with respect to lands now held by developers, examined census data and existing enrollments and projected the student population for five years ahead.

By only looking at the next school year the members discovered the schools would be over capacity—six schools with triple kindergarten shifts; Pierce Junior High School with 200 over students than capacity.

Q. Will another construction program be needed after this one is completed?

A. Yes. So long as Waterford Township remains as attractive as it has in the past for people looking for new homes and until the children who are preschool and in early grades complete their educations (one-half of the anticipated growth for the next five years comes from the families who are already here and whose children are about to start or are in early grades already).

Q. Will pay increases for non-teaching personnel be financed by the proposed millage boost?

A. We did not seek endorsements from any group. But we are getting help (and endorsements) from many places and it's coming without a direct request. Service clubs are helping with our public information program; PTAs and neighborhood groups are promoting a good turnout on election day; we are receiving newspaper and radio assistance (such as the space for this article).

Q. Is there any organized opposition at this time?

A. No, but the election can be lost without it. With any public issue of this type there is a pretty solid block of "no" votes. And apathy on the part of those who know the value of a good school program and those whose own children are affected can also contribute to a defeat.

Q. Voters have displayed a growing reluctance of late to approve school proposals. Why is this?

A. I hadn't realized it was "growing." I then voters have always been reluctant to approve additional taxes unless they're convinced of the need and feel confident that their money will be spent wisely.

The Detroit defeat was complicated by another set of problems. Rochester, on the other hand, approved an election for improving staff salaries just two weeks ago. So—local issue seems to determine how people will vote, and not just a "yes" or "no" consideration of schools.

Voting on school issues is one of the few remaining practices for people to vote on taxes, too.

With 75 per cent of tax money collected by the federal government and another 12 per cent by state government people can only express their feelings about taxes by denying or approving questions of the local level.

Q. Does the administration and school board feel the proposals will pass?

A. We are hopeful. We have one has accepted, his full share.

ard Laehmann, 3611 Percy King; and Donald Porter, 3736 Mariner.

Their backgrounds will be discussed in future articles.

Tax increases related to the added millage would hinge on property values.

Based on an average assessed valuation of about $2,500 in the school system, the average state equalized valuation would amount to $5,500 when multiplied by the 2.2 equalizing factor applicable to the district.

One mill equals one dollar in taxes per $1,000 of state equalized valuation. So, the average taxpayer would pay $5.50 on an equalized valuation of $5,500.

If the six-mill local package were approved, the average taxpayer would be assessed an additional 63¢ annually. If the community college one-mill proposal were also approved, the tax boost would amount to $3.50.

The school system, with a total valuation of just under $113 million, has a valuation of $7,251 per pupil.

Average cost of educating a Waterford Township youngster is $365 per year, $22 under the county average of $387. The proposed six-mill boost would finance three separate local issues.

● A one-mill expenditure spread over 30 years for a bond issue on a five-year school building program.

● A 2.5 mill levy to operate the new buildings and building additions.

● A 2.5-mill levy to finance proposed staff salary increases.

Elected also will vote on three separate proposals relating to a community college.

These include the establishment of such a facility, approval of one mill for its financing and the selection of a six-member board of trustees from a field of 27 candidates.

Finally, voters will select two, four-year term board of education members from three candidates.

Vying for the posts will be incumbent Mrs. Dorothy Bingham, 2546 W. Huron; Richard Laehmann, 3611 Percy King; and Donald Porter, 3736 Mariner.

proposed six-mill boost would finance three separate local issues.

● A one-mill expenditure spread over 30 years for a bond issue on a five-year school building program.

● A 2.5 mill levy to operate the new buildings and building additions.

● A 2.5-mill levy to finance proposed staff salary increases.

Elected also will vote on three separate proposals relating to a community college.

These include the establishment of such a facility, approval of one mill for its financing and the selection of a six-member board of trustees from a field of 27 candidates.

Finally, voters will select two, four-year term board of education members from three candidates.

Vying for the posts will be incumbent Mrs. Dorothy Bingham, 2546 W. Huron; Richard Laehmann, 3611 Percy King; and Donald Porter, 3736 Mariner.

Their backgrounds will be discussed in future articles.

Tax increases related to the added millage would hinge on property values.

Based on an average assessed valuation of about $2,500 in the school system, the average state equalized valuation would amount to $5,500 when multiplied by the 2.2 equalizing factor applicable to the district.

One mill equals one dollar in taxes per $1,000 of state equalized valuation. So, the average taxpayer would pay $5.50 on an equalized valuation of $5,500.

If the six-mill local package were approved, the average taxpayer would be assessed an additional 63¢ annually. If the community college one-mill proposal were also approved, the tax boost would amount to $3.50.

The school system, with a total valuation of just under $113 million, has a valuation of $7,251 per pupil.

Average cost of educating a Waterford Township youngster is $365 per year, $22 under the county average of $387. The proposed six-mill boost would finance three separate local issues.

Clarkston Groups Push Mills

Voters Decide Issue at June 10 Election

CLARKSTON — Various local organizations including the Clarkston Junior Chamber of Commerce, Firefighters Association, Rotary Club and PTA groups are advocating passage of the operation millage proposal on the June 10 ballot.

A proposed five-mill increase would yield approximately $120,000 in additional tax revenue which would be used to improve the school staff salary schedule.

Schools Supt. Dr. L. F. Greene calls passage of the proposal necessary if the school system is to remain competitive with other area districts in the acquisition of good teachers.

Clarkston presently ranks near the bottom in the county-wide average of teacher pay rates, according to Dr. Greene. Its 11.43 mill operating rate is the lowest of the county's 29 school systems.

If the millage issue passes, beginning teachers with bachelor's degrees will receive $4,800, $200 more than their present annual salary. New teachers with masters degrees will be boosted from their present $4,800 rate to $5,016.

A recently compiled county average on announced 1963-64 teacher salary schedules lists a figure of $4,842 for new teachers with four years' training and $5,111 for a beginning teacher with a master's degree.

Since this average was prepared, improved salary schedules were announced in the Pontiac and Rochester school systems.

The proposed Clarkston teacher schedule for 1963-64 specifies annual increments over an 11-year period in all teacher categories until maximum rates have been attained.

Top pay for a teacher with a bachelor's degree would be $7,454 under the proposed schedule and the maximum rate for a masters degree holder would be $7,790. Both are slightly below the 1963-64 county average.

At present, the school system allocates 13 mills for debt service in addition to the operating millage, for a total of 24.32 mills.

The school system, which includes four elementary schools, and a junior and senior high school, employs 154 teachers.

Patrolmen Help Mother Give Birth in Home

WYOMING (AP) — The population of this Grand Rapids suburb increased by one yesterday, thanks to quick action on the part of two policemen who doubled as obstetricians.

Patrolmen Charles Regan and Donald Boyd received a call at 6:08 a.m. yesterday and raced to the home of Mrs. Barbara Melin, 21. Seven minutes later, Mrs. Melin became the mother of a daughter.

Wed in Rochester

Honeymoon in South

TROY — Honeymooning in Florida are newly wed Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. James who exchanged vows Friday evening in Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Rochester.

The bride is the former Patricia J. Harned, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Harned, 2100 Harned. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ross James, 500 Le High, Avon Township.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over tulle with a scalloped neckline and bell skirt.

A crown of pearls held her shoulder-length veil. She carried a spray of Stephanotis and lily centered with a white orchid.

Mary Ellen Harned was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Ruth Ann James, sister of the bridegroom, and Diane Willett of Adrian.

Flower girl was Kim Cromie and Chris Cromie carried the rings.

"ADOPTED" MISSIONARIES — St. Paul's Methodist Church, Rochester, has assumed support of this educational missionary couple in northeast India. Rev. and Mrs. George E. Somers will work in Bihar, India, after he completes a course of language training. Natives of Michigan, the Somers have four sons.

'Agricultural Grads Much in Demand'

Demand for graduates of agricultural colleges this year continues to be strong, an official of Michigan State University said today.

This is especially indicated by the fact that 33 per cent of the job opportunities in the home states of the schools reporting are in sales and management in agricultural businesses and industries.

More than 10 per cent of the job offers are for high school vocational agriculture teachers.

As a whole, there are substantially more opportunities than graduates to fill them, according to Dr. R. M. Swenson, dean of resident instruction in MSU's college of Agriculture.

The annual survey was conducted by the College of Agriculture at Iowa State University.

Participating universities in addition to MSU were Illinois, Purdue, Iowa State, Kansas State, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota State, Ohio State, South Dakota State and Wisconsin.

Starting salaries for 1963 graduates with the B. S. degree average $469 and with the Ph.D. degree $584. Comparable figures for 1962 were $450 and $654.

At present, the school system allocates 13 mills for debt service in addition to the operating millage, for a total of 24.32 mills.

Alert Father Saves Home

Rescues Son From Burning Bed

AVON TOWNSHIP — One more person was almost added today to the list of those who have died as a result of careless smoking habits — a 19-year-old Avon Township youth.

Robert Barker, who lives with his parents at 60 Montmorency, was pulled from his burning bed by his father, Hershel, shortly before 4 a.m. today.

Avondale Fire Chief Victor B. Camp said that if the boy's father hadn't heard his coughing and awakened, the youth would have either burned to death or died of asphyxiation.

"We could have lost our new house, too," commented Mrs. Barker. "The family has been in the brick ranch-type home four months. Robert's 41-year-old father dragged his son outside and returned to sleep the bed."

"When we arrived I could only stand it in the bedroom for a few minutes," Camp commented.

"We'd warned Robert before about smoking in the bedroom," Mrs. Barker said today.

"Fortunately," Camp added, "there was only minor damage and it was confined to the bedroom."

"You know, just last year 57 people died through careless use of cigarettes," he said.

CAROLANN JUDSON

Install Queen at Ceremony

WALLED LAKE — Carolann Judson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Judson of 2488 Oakview, has been installed as honored queen of Job's Daughters Bethel No. 28.

The ceremony was held Saturday night at Walled Lake Elementary School.

Among the other officers installed were Gloria Nogge, senior princess; Carolyn Conrad, junior princess; Marilyn Conrad, guide; and Dorothy Dickson, marshal.

Official Makes Ionia Appeal

IONIA (AP) — A Michigan State Employees Union official yesterday appealed to Gov. George Romney and Civil Service Commission Chairman John Seaman to intervene in a labor dispute at Ionia State Hospital.

Robert Grosvener, director of Local 428 of the Michigan State Employees Union, made the plea in special-delivery letters.

It was the second time Grosvener had appealed to Romney to intervene in the dispute over the suspension of two employees for alleged violation of regulations involving supplemental employment.

In the letter to the Civil Service Commission chairman, Grosvener asked that action be initiated to abolish a civil service rule concerning political activities of state employees and to rescind civil service authority letters dealing with supplemental employment.

The union is protesting the dismissal of Richard Spanna and Walter McCabe and asks that they be reinstated with full back pay. The union is not on strike. State law forbids strikes by public employees.

CHERYL WALKER

CAROL WOOLLEY

Walled Lake Names 2 Girls Top Students

WALLED LAKE — Heading the Walled Lake Senior-High graduating class this year are Cheryl Walker, valedictorian, and Carol Woolley, salutatorian.

In addition to outstanding achievements in scholarship, both girls have been active in school groups.

Cheryl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Walker of 1345 Leon, plays a clarinet in the high school band, is president of the Spanish Club, and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Her membership in Future Nurses indicates her career decision. Cheryl will pursue her nursing studies at Michigan State University, where she has been awarded a scholarship.

Carol, who is treasurer of her class, also plays a clarinet in the band.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woolley, of 7409 Sutherland, West Bloomfield Township, she is a member of National Honor Society and is vice president of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Carol has received a presidential citation from Michigan State University, where she will attend school next fall.

At Redford Presbyterian

Takes Bride in Ceremony

AUBURN HEIGHTS — William James A. Graham, 3057 York, claimed Paula M. Annuta as his bride Friday evening in Redford Presbyterian Church, Detroit.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd P. Annuta, of Detroit, the bride chose a classically styled gown of crystal white coronation tulle accented with Alencon lace for her wedding.

Roberta Annuta was maid of honor for her sister. Another sister, Odette Annuta, and Lynda Paterson were bridesmaids.

On the espouse side, Hugh Graham served his brother as best man. Ushers were Don Filion, cousin of the bridegroom, and Fred Annuta, brother of the bride.

A reception was held in the church's Fellowship Hall after the ceremony. The newweds will honeymoon in Europe and the Middle East during the summer.

MRS. WILLIAM H. GRAHAM

Armada Boy, 16, Drowns While Swimming in Pond

ARMADA — A 16-year-old Armada High School sophomore drowned yesterday while swimming with friends in a pond behind the home of a local veterinarian.

Robert Vanpoelvoorde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vanpoelvoorde, 14042 Hough, had swum across the pond and was swimming back when he went down.

According to Romeo state police, the youth must have suffered a spasm or cramp because he did not struggle or yell for help before sinking out of sight.

His body was recovered in about 10 feet of muddy water shortly after the accident. Efforts by the Armada Fire Department to revive the victim failed.

The conservation wildlife pond is on Dr. Orville C. Krause's property behind his hospital. He said it is posted with a sign warning swimmers that they use the pond at their own risk.

Dr. Krause and his family were away when the accident happened about 3:20 p.m. He said the victim was a member of a high school group from the area that was having a picnic there.

When Robert went down, several of his companions tried to bring him to the surface but their efforts were hampered by the muddy water, police said.

Ex-Flint Mayor Set for Assault Trial

FLINT (AP) — Former Flint Mayor Robert Egan is scheduled to go on trial in Flint Justice Court next Monday on assault and battery charges.

Egan, 41, is accused of attacking his wife, Christine, and their daughter Tina, 19.

Egan, who is now a tavern owner, has pleaded innocent to the charges and is free on $100 bond.

Mrs. Egan said the attack stemmed from the daughter's taking Egan's car without permission.

Miss Gauvin Is Married

AVON TOWNSHIP — Announcement is made of the recent marriage of Dianna Eleanor Gauvin to Don Elton Robertson, son of Truman C. Robertson, 449 S. Adams.

The new Mrs. Robertson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Devereaux of Warren.

Setting for the nuptials was the First Methodist Church, Warren.

Will Discuss Space Data of U.S., Russ

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Details of the U.S. and Soviet attempts to probe Venus and Mars may be exchanged at the 10-day Space Science Symposium of COSPAR, the International Committee on Space Research, starting today.

More than 100 Americans are registered. They brought data gathered by 19 manned and unmanned American satellites launched in 1962 and findings on such matters as life on other planets, problems of space navigation and cosmic particles.

The Soviet delegation is headed by Anatoly Blagonravov, chief of the Soviet Institute of Applied Science. He reportedly agreed in March that the Mars and Venus probes would be discussed here.

Dr. Richard W. Porter of the General Electric Corp. and the U.S. National Academy of Sciences heads the American delegation.

Aussie in Viet Nam War Kills Self by Accident

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The first Australian casualty in the Vietnamese war killed himself accidentally with his own carbine, American military sources say.

The Australian military adviser, a sergeant, was accompanying a Vietnamese battalion 40 miles west of here Saturday when he stumbled and dropped his gun. It went off, shooting him in the head, the informants said.

TV Cameras Used in Search

Renew Thresher Hunt After Disappointment

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (UPI)—The Navy today lowered underwater camera, circuit television cameras to the bottom of the North Atlantic in a renewed search for the nuclear submarine Thresher.

A court of inquiry investigating the disaster met behind closed doors again to draw up a three-part report on the sinking of the $45-million sub.

The sea search began anew following the disappointing disclosure that underwater photographs first believed to be the doomed sub actually showed only parts of the camera and equipment used in obtaining the pictures.

Thresher vanished April 10 during a test dive after it was overhauled at the Portsmouth Naval shipyard.

RETURNED

The ship Gilliss, equipped with special closed-circuit television "specially developed for deep submarine operations," returned to the search scene yesterday.

The Navy in Washington said close examination of the photos taken Thursday by the research ship Conrad showed that none "could be definitely identified as showing the Thresher" or any other submarine.

Dr. J. Lamar Worzel, chief scientist aboard the Conrad, said one of the pictures at first thought to be the Thresher's hull turned out to be a weight on the bottom of the camera.

Plans to have the deep-diving bathyscaphe Trieste towed to the search scene yesterday to obtain close-up photos of the wreckage were postponed.

So geological engineers plan to put a harmless dye into the streams flowing into the mill cave — and if the dyed water appears at Sequatchie Spring, the old timers' belief will be affirmed.

River's Color Could Solve Current Riddle

PIKEVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—If the Sequatchie River turns a greenish yellow, it will mean a geological riddle has been solved.

Old timers in the Sequatchie Valley contend the southeast Tennessee river originates at Mill Cave in Cumberland County.

Streams from that area flow into the cave and disappear, and many believe the waters seep under the Cumberland Mountains and emerge at a big spring at the visible beginning of the Sequatchie.

So geological engineers plan to put a harmless dye into the streams flowing into the mill cave — and if the dyed water appears at Sequatchie Spring, the old timers' belief will be affirmed.

Band Leader Dies of Attack

Skinney Ennis, 56, Stricken While Dining

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Band leader Skinney Ennis, 56, who rose to fame as a singer with comedian Bob Hope, died late Sunday night after suffering an attack in a restaurant.

Doctors at the Beverly Hills first aid station pronounced him dead on arrival at 11:10 p.m. Ennis, whose almost forgotten real name was Edgar C. Ennis, was stricken while dining in a restaurant.

HEART MESSAGE
Officer T. M. McCarthy, flagged down by a parking lot attendant, found Ennis lying on the floor. He applied external heart massage until an ambulance arrived. Ennis and his orchestra had been playing at the Statler Hilton in downtown Los Angeles the past five years. His band had performed in every major dance palace in the nation.

A native of Salisbury, N.C., Ennis got his start in the student business while a student at the University of North Carolina, playing with Hal Kemp's band as a drummer and singer.

Later he joined Bob Hope's radio troupe, then formed his own band in 1938.

MISSPELLED
Ennis, whose nickname originally was "Skinny," changed it to "Skinney" after it was misspelled that way on the label of a record early in his career. He is survived by his wife Carmine, a former singer, and a son, Christopher, 11.

'How Movies Are Made' Premieres

At Last! Attraction for Hollywood Tourists

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—"Action!" says the director, and the two cokes begin a furniture-breaking, knockdown slugfest.

"Cut! Print it!" says the director as the movie scene ends.

It was just like the filming of a western salon brawl with one difference: There was no film in the camera.

That will be the picture tonight when Hollywood notables attend the premier performance of "How Movies Are Made," which aims to show tourists exactly that.

The enterprise might fill a delicate need. For several decades tourists have been tramping to Hollywood eager to drink in its glamour and see the making of a movie.

Alas, Hollywood itself offers little to dazzle the eye, even with its recent face lifting. As for getting on a movie set, the average citizen would have as much chance dropping in for tea with the Kennedys.

ACCURATE SIMULATION
Now visitors will be able to see—for $1.55-$2.65—an accurate simulation of film techniques. I dropped in for a preview and found a movie crew hard at work with their make-believe make-believe.

The location is convenient: Sunset Boulevard and Vine Street. The company has taken over Studio A of the old NBC radio studios, where I used to watch Bing Crosby, Al Jolson, Fibber McGee and Molly do their stuff for the unseen medium.

Major domo of "How Movies Are Made" is Lee Sholem, veteran film director—"Tarzan and the Slave Girl" who is ideally cast for the role.

"I'm as hammy as they come," admits the director. "I'm having the time of my life."

Sholem explained the sequence of the four-times-daily show. Each guest will be greeted by Francis X. Bushman, the senior citizens' pinup boy. After the audience is seated in the 355-capacity studio, Bushman will introduce Sholem, who will direct the proceedings.

"GREAT SHOW"
"We'll give them a great show," said the director, "using breakaway bottles and furniture. Then we'll have the actors repeat the action, showing how they swing wide to fake the action."

"We'll have a transparency behind a couple of actors in a car interior, showing how we can simulate a moving car by flashing a highway on the screen behind them."

Sholem took time out to direct the actual filming of a science-fiction scene, complete with mad scientist and gorilla. The audience will see the actors do the scene, then the prefilmed duplicate will be shown on a screen.

"The same gimmick was used

'Mule Train' Is Trade for Harpsichord

HOPEWELL, N. J. (AP)—Christopher Bannister's favorite music as a high school student was the singing of Frankie Laine.

A chance encounter with a recording by Wanda Landowska, famed harpsichordist, changed his taste and his life.

Bannister, now 25, not only learned to play the harpsichord but today is one of the eight manufacturers of the instrument in this country.

The harpsichord, forerunner of the piano, is enjoying a resurgence of popularity.

Bannister is turning out a series of small harpsichords made to sell for less than $1,000. He says a full scale harpsichord sells for as much as $6,000.

at the Chicago World's Fair in 1933," said Sholem. "Only then the gorilla ripped off the girl's blouse and she was nude. We won't do that here."

Junior Editors Quiz on MAPLE TREES

QUESTION: How is maple syrup made?

ANSWER: To the early settlers in the northeastern United States, the sugar maple was a very important tree because, together with honey from beehives, it gave them the only sweetening they could use the way we use sugar.

When the sap began to run in the early spring, farmers drilled holes in the trees and put in hollow wooden spouts. As the sap ran out of these, it was collected in little buckets which hung below the spouts.

A huge iron kettle was hauled out and a fire built around it. The sap was collected, dumped in the kettle and as the water boiled away it left maple syrup behind.

This was called "sugaring off" and was a gay occasion; everyone would turn out to help, even the smallest children. A great treat for the children was to take plates of snow and pour the syrup on it. It would harden into delicious candy.

The lower picture shows sugaring off in our own time-and you can see that the process is just about the same now as in earlier days.

Making maple syrup and maple sugar is still an important business in Vermont, northern New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Maryland and — on larger scale — in Canada.

FOR YOU TO DO: As a change from other kinds of candy, try the ones made of maple sugar. They are delicious and are frequently molded into the shape of a maple leaf.

For Social Success

Polish Up Your Double Talk

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The class in double talk will please come to order.

Double talk is a sure way to social success in a world where oral honesty is not only suspect — it's downright unwelcome.

As a reminder of double talk in action here are a few everyday examples — plus their literal translations!

"I certainly agree with you that Marcel Proest was one of the most introspective minds of the 20th century." He puts me to sleep, too.

"Oh, it was just an accident — I don't believe you spilled more than a drop or two on me. Forget it, please." I wonder if everyone in your family was born with 10 thumbs.

"I'm sorry, I didn't realize you were trying to park your car in this space, too." Whew — you almost beat me to it! Better luck next time, pal.

"Don't be so impatient, dear. I told you I'd be dressed in five more minutes." And in an hour and five more minutes, I may be.

"Congratulations, Jack. It's a well-earned promotion — and it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy." If I pull out my handkerchief and start bawling, this jerk will know how envious I really am.

"The last time I played golf, I made it around in — let me think now — 86, as I recall." Or could that have been my last bowling score?

BABY, TOO?
"Why, what a darling baby, Jim. He's the exact spitting image of you." Now take him away, and let him grow tall on someone else.

"What a screaming coincidence, Effie. We're wearing the same dress." You copy-cat, you! I could claw your eyes out, right here and now.

"I'm always glad to talk things over with you fellows from the Internal Revenue Service." You're so understanding." I wonder how much he's found out.

"I wouldn't marry him if he were the last man on earth." Anyway, he's never asked me to.

"I'm sorry, sir, but all the tables by the windows are reserved." The last time you were here, chump, you only left a 15-cent tip.

"No, Mrs. Jones, Willie didn't give me any trouble at all. He was a perfect little gentleman."

"I'll never baby-sit that brat again until I learn judo."

"I swear, John, it wasn't me who put the scratch on that fender." No, it wasn't me — it was the garage door.

"I could sit and hear you talk on this subject for hours — it's so interesting." Babble on blabbermouth, who's listening?

"I take it as a real compliment, Arnold, that a man with brains like you would want to play chess with a dumb bunny like me." But if you ever try to get me to play a game after we're married, I'll bust the set over your little round skull.

Families Get $195,000

In Death Compensation

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — The families of 22 Israelis killed when Bulgarian fighter planes shot down an El Al airliner in 1955 have been paid $195,000 in compensation, the government announced yesterday.

All 51 passengers and seven crewmen were killed in the crash. Bulgarian authorities said the plane went off course and entered the territory. Israel denied it.

Victim of Accident Called Satisfactory

Janis Fox, 67, Buffalo, Clarkston, is in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital after suffering back injuries when the car in which she was a passenger rolled over in Waterford Township yesterday at 1 a.m.

Nyla Kirby, 34, of 6300 Eastlawn, Independence Township, driver of the car, told police that her southbound auto went off Scott Lake Road near Lacota as she swerved to avoid hitting a car being towed by a wrecker.

Mrs. Kirby was treated at the hospital and released.

Woman Found Hanged in Basement of Home

Mrs. Beatrice L. Wick, 45, of 6712 Mark, Bloomfield Township, was found hanged by a rope in the basement of her home early Sunday morning, according to township police.

Mrs. Wick's body was discovered about 2:30 a.m., police said. Members of the family told them the woman had been despondent.

Epitome of Miniaturization

Bonsai (Dwarfing Trees) Is Japanese Art

WASHINGTON—The Japanese achieve the epitome of miniaturization in the subtle art of bonsai. A bonsai is a dwarfed tree so perfectly controlled that it may grow just 2 feet in 300 years. Some bonsai are supposedly 500 years old, the National Geographic Society says.

Though bonsai are raised in shallow earthen pots, they are not merely potted plants. The best bonsai actually evoke landscapes. A tree hardly two feet tall, for example, could suggest a gnarled grove of pines seen on a distant windswept cliff.

Cultivation of the Lilliputian trees, the Japanese believe, develops patience and soothes frayed nerves. A BONSAI often requires 50 years of daily watering, trimming, and pruning to reach perfection.

Bonsai are becoming popular in the United States. Gardeners find them challenging, interior decorators find them attractive, and dealers find them profitable.

Choice bonsai sell for as much as $7,000. When a prize dwarfed tree was stolen from the Brooklyn Botanic Garden, bonsai lovers knew their trees had arrived. THINKING SMALL.

The Japanese, who have developed thinking small into a fine art, began dwarfing trees about 800 years ago. In a famous play, a hospitable samurai burns his favorite bonsai to warm a guest on a cold night. The guests turn out to be a shogun traveling incognito. Happy ending.

The first bonsai were naturally dwarfed by poor soil on windy cliffs or mountains. Collectors risked their necks — and still do — to reach tempting specimens.

Sedentary bonsai fanciers start their trees from seeds or seedlings. They rigorously prune roots and, extraneous branches, and pinch off shoots to limit growth. Branches and trunk are carefully bent and held with copper wire to direct their form.

"A bonsai needs to be tended with the affection that a mother shows for her child," a Japanese bonsai authority said. Watering and fertilizing, in particular, must be rigidly controlled. Special syringes simulate natural rainfall.

One grower makes his own fertilizer by pulverizing dried fish and soaking the meal in water for a year.

Pines are favored for bonsai, but many other trees can be dwarfed, including maple, elm, cherry, cedar, cypress, and even the billowing weeping willow. Deciduous trees are considered more elegant than evergreens because they show seasonal changes.

GNARLED TREES

A century ago, gnarled trees, trained into fantastic shapes, were popular. This tako-zukuri, or octopus, cultivation has given way to an emphasis on symmetry and fidelity to nature.

French Go for Scotch Straight

ELGIN, Scotland (UPI) — France, a nation of cognac drinkers, has begun to discover what Americans find so fascinating about "le Scotch."

But the Scotch the French are rediscovering is the higher-proof straight scotch, the only kind made before 1850 at the time blending became the fashion—and still preferred by the men who know Scotch best, the distillers themselves.

One distiller thinks the growing vogue for "light" Scotch may be due to the way in which the straight Scotch should be taken — well diluted with water, stepped as though it were the rare old cognac which it resembles in flavor and smoothness.

Scotch when first distilled is as clear as water. Its color comes from aging in wooden casks and blending with grain spirits.

Occasionally burnt sugar is added to give it the exact color desired. Whether scotch is light or dark, the proof remains the same.

About two-thirds of the four billion asphalt shingles required by U.S. homeowners this year will be used for reroofing.

Not satisfied with a perfect two-foot miniature of a 100-foot tree, the Japanese have gone on to name-bonsai, or baby bonsai. These midgets are only two or three inches tall.

A Tokyo gardener limited a black pine to 3 1/4 inches of growth in 30 years. The tiniest specimens, cultivated in pots no bigger than a chestnut, are called shito-bonsai, fingertip bonsai.

Dwarfed trees are often displayed as house plants, but they grow best outdoors. This raises a danger for baby bonsai — strong winds may blow them away.

Rules for Parking on Hill

CHICAGO (UPI) — For safety's sake, motorists should remember the three basic rules for parking on hills, says the Chicago Motor Club.

To park on a downgrade, crank the front wheels sharply toward the curb on an upgrade, turn the front wheels sharply away from the curb; with no curb, always turn the front wheels toward the edge of the road.

Sales taxes, described as the largest revenue source in 30 states, topped the $5 billion mark for the first time in history in the fiscal year ending June 30. Income taxes provided the most revenue in 14 other states, while five depended on gasoline levies as major money sources, the Commerce Clearing House has reported.

Tough Old Days of Collecting Gone Forever

MONTREAL (AP) — "We don't turn a fellow upside down any more and then pick up the money," says K. D. Coulthard of Montreal's Allied Collection Agency. While the "tough old days" of collecting overdue accounts is past, collection agencies still don't always have an easy time of it, Coulthard says.

His advice for those caught in debt: get in touch with the creditor and tell him how much can be paid per week. Many will accept payment that way.

Nine of the 50 states now issue registration plates with reflective backgrounds or numerals that glow.

Negroes Taught Technique of Nonviolence

By JOHN HALL
JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — About

25 Negro high school and college students sat in a semicircle in a corner of a large auditorium, intensely watching a "white lunch counter"—two small tables and two chairs.

David Dennis, of Jackson, 22, a field worker for the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), conducted a class on nonviolence for the youths, training to take the places of other Negroes arrested at lunch counters downtown.

James Wooten, 16, a Jackson Negro high school student, asked for a cup of coffee. The "waitress," Willie Robinson, 20, of Taylorville, Miss., gruffly replied: "Sorry, but we don't serve niggers in here."

Jordan Gets $2 Million in U. S. Aid Program

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—Jordan has received $2 million from the United States as part of its aid program for 1963-64, the finance ministry here said yesterday.

A spokesman said U. S. budgetary aid to Jordan has averaged $7 million a year since 1956.

took a seat by Raymond. This time the "white agitator" was white, Steve Rutledge, 22, of Croton, N.Y., student body president at predominantly Negro Tougaloo College of Jackson.

Dennis told his class "The white agitator will try to provoke the male into violence by attacking the girl, but he's going to see how you sacrifice yourself for another individual."

Raymond leaped up, his hands behind him. "My white brother, my white brother" he told Rutledge, diverting and absorbing the mock attack on Miss Preston.

The class moved to lessons on how to picket and participate in mass marches.

Dennis working with Raymond and Tougaloo student Betty

Poole, said 100-150 youths were trained last week.

The numbers were heartening, he said, "but if they don't think they can be nonviolent, we don't let them take part in demonstrations. They flunk the course."

Experienced person, business background in banking, education or insurance work, to serve in executive capacity with new state program. Age, no limit. Bachelor's degree required. Retired executive will be considered. Please give education and business experience when applying. Forward credentials to Box 31, The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Berserk Inmate Shot in Attack

JACKSON (UPI) — A berserk inmate of Southern Michigan Prison was shot three times Saturday when he attacked two guards with a shovel.

The prisoner, Naymon Parks, was being taken from the prison ward to the mental clinic when the attack occurred. He was treated for gunshot wounds of the arm and thigh at Foote Hospital here and later transferred to University Hospital, Ann Arbor, where doctors said he was in fair condition.

Prison officials said Parks, 23, caused a disturbance in the prison dining room. Two guards, Sgts. Edward Peterson and Edward Travis, tried to take him to the clinic and Parks grabbed a shovel and threatened them.

Charles Treefy, who was stationed in an elevated guard tower, saw the incident and ordered Parks to drop the shovel. But the convict swung it and hit Peterson on the left side of the head, officials said.

Treefy fired two warning shots and the prisoner swung the shovel again and hit Peterson on the arm, hitting Parks in the shoulder.

The slugs did not knock Parks down and he advanced on Travis with the shovel cocked menacingly. Treefy fired again and hit Parks in the thigh.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —

Widowed Mrs. Olga Bausman, 70, was found dead yesterday in the living room of her home in the older northwest section of Grand Rapids, a victim of strangulation.

Police said her body also bore knife puncture wounds.

Detective Dennis Booker said the body was discovered about 3 p.m. by Mrs. Jean Barr, a daughter, who became alarmed after having telephoned her mother without answer.

An autopsy disclosed strangulation as the cause of death.

Booker said the body was found in the living room where rugs were rumpled and furniture was disarranged, indicating signs of a struggle.

Police believed robbery was the motive since Mrs. Bausman's purse was found opened and its contents strewn on the floor.

The woman lived alone in the downstairs portion of her home and rented the upper section to Mrs. Janet Schram. The tenant, who lived in the upper section with her daughter, was away for the weekend and unable to shed any light on the death, Booker said.

"Look man, what if this agitator has a knife?" a student asked.

"Well, if he has a knife, there's very little you can do. You can try to run," Dennis said.

"When you fight the individual you're not touching his sin. This is something that has grown up in him since he was a little boy. He's been told to say 'nigger, nigger' all his life."

"You, there, what good can violence do at this time? Why is it so important to use nonviolence?" the Negro teacher demanded of an inattentive youth.

"Well, we can't gain anything by violence," was the answer.

A hand in the back shot up. "Mainly because we're trying to play on his (the white man's) conscience," a young Negro said.

Of Postal Costs

Strikes Back at Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General J. Edward Day fired back today at his fiercest critics, charging they lack "an even rudimentary knowledge of how postal expenditures are financed."

What ignited Day's ire was editorial criticism of his stand that more drastic cuts voted by the House in the Post Office budget were restored he would have to cut back services.

"The curious thing about the editorial attacks was that not one of the newspapers which seemed so light-hearted about all the budget-cutting showed a willingness to give up a single postal service," Day told the Federal Government Accountants Association in a speech.

"Not one editorial contained a concrete suggestion of how we could provide the same service with less money. A few even urged that we bring back after-noon delivery."

The House originally slashed the Post Office's total appropriation request by $92 million—the largest cut ever imposed on the department. The Senate voted to recommend a cut of $36 million, and Senate and House conferees finally agreed on a $52 million cut.

This will require some limited service curtailments, Day said, and "will hamper us from providing the top-flight postal operation which the people of this country are entitled to expect."

"I completely agree that now that postal rates have been raised the public has a right to steadily improved service," Day said. "But what many of the editorial writers apparently failed to understand is that while all our revenues go into the postal fund we can only spend the amount fixed by Congress in the annual appropriation act."

Buzzing Toothbrush Causes Bomb Scare

MIAMI (UPI) — Apprehensive authorities roped off an area at Miami International Airport Saturday to keep people away from an overnight bag that was buzzing alarmingly.

The apprehension subsided when the bag's owner opened it and turned off his batter-operated toothbrush.

Wants Natives of Islands to Get His Goats

CLIVIS, N. M. (UPI)—Ben F. Pritchett claims that this, his home town, has "got his goat" as 45 of his goats.

The former Marine, who feels the Wallis Islands, a French territory in the South Pacific, should get his goats. The problem is: How can he and his 45 goats get to Wallis?

Pritchett, who spent some time among the natives of Wallis Islands during World War II, has scientifically bred a herd of 45 goats since returning to Clivis after the war.

He wants to send the goats to the islands as a People-to-People project to enrich the deficient diet of the natives there.

But financially Pritchett is unable to do so. He is still looking for someone to help him get his goats — all 45 of them — to the South Pacific islands.

'Dumb Women Main Problem of American Male'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The trouble with American men, said actress Gloria Swanson, is that they like their women on the dumb side.

"American men are terrified of a bright woman," said the stage and screen star while here for a fashion show.

Miss Swanson, whose beauty has been charming men since silent screen days, said European men prize the beauty of a woman's mind.

The glamorous grandmother (of seven) blames a ridiculously distorted ego for the attitude of the American male.

"They want us to be respected to man's club about the club and the children," she said.

Questioning Aids Recovery of Auto Parts

Waterford Township police officer Ray Wilhelm's routine questioning of four youths in a parked car early Sunday morning led to the recovery of $85 in stolen auto accessories.

As Wilhelm inquired why the youths were parked in a shopping center lot at 2 a.m., he spotted four hubcaps and a tachometer in the car.

The four were taken in, and later Arthur Ryle, 3155 Fern Road, reported the theft of the items from his car.

Arrested for investigation of larceny from an auto and held in the Oakland County jail are Patrick Tyrer, 17, of 2715 North Lake and Jonathan Retzloff, 18, of 8515 Graham.

Two juveniles in the car, Craig Skilling, 1, 5922 deers; and Gary Harris, 14, of 5802 Sutherland; are both released to their parents.

Warrants will be sought against Tyrer and Retzloff from the prosecutor's office today.

The juveniles, who face the same charge, will be handled by Detective Arthur Holmes, Waterford Township juvenile officer.

Three juveniles in the car, Craig Skilling, 1, 5922 deers; and Gary Harris, 14, of 5802 Sutherland; are both released to their parents.

Warrants will be sought against Tyrer and Retzloff from the prosecutor's office today.

The juveniles, who face the same charge, will be handled by Detective Arthur Holmes, Waterford Township juvenile officer.

Two of three men who fled a minimum-security prison camp in White Lake Township last week have been taken into custody by police in two counties.

John Brethour, 20, of Port Huron, was seized there last night by St. Clair County sheriff's deputies and Port Huron police.

Norman Royer, 21, of 7171 DeTonde, Avon Township, turned himself over to the state police at the Romeo post yesterday afternoon.

Still at large is Charles Byas, 22, of Detroit.

The trio walked away from Camp Pontiac shortly before 9 p.m. Thursday.

DENIES CHARGE
Five hours later the armed robbery of a Waterford Township man in his home was attributed to the escapees, Royer, however, has denied taking part in the robbery.

Royer walked into the Romeo state police post about 3:40 p.m. yesterday. He was accompanied by his parents.

They talked him into returning to prison because that is where he should be to "get help," his parents told police.

Brethour was captured in a Port Huron parking lot after his mother tipped off authorities that he was in town, police said.

Brethour is serving a five to 15 year term for breaking and entering.

Royer was sentenced to one to two years for violation of the check law.

They talked him into returning to prison because that is where he should be to "get help," his parents told police.

Brethour was captured in a Port Huron parking lot after his mother tipped off authorities that he was in town, police said.

Brethour is serving a five to 15 year term for breaking and entering.

CLOSED INDEFINITELY — Mr. and Mrs. Ray De Young are shown at the entrance to their private picnic grounds, the Alward Lake resort in Dewitt, which they closed after about 50 white and Negro demonstrators protested what they termed "Jim Crow" tactics.

The driver of the car, Gary L. Hart, 22, of 654 E. Madison, was arrested for reckless driving and was to be arraigned on the charge this morning in Municipal Court.

The chase began on Woodward at 10:30 p.m. when patrolman Robert Brown saw Hart's car traveling at high speeds and cutting in and out of traffic.

Police said Hart turned east on South Boulevard and then north on East Boulevard, where speeds of near 120 miles an hour were reached.

On East Boulevard between Wilson and Riverside, Hart lost control of his car on a curve. The car rolled over on its roof and skidded 100 feet before coming to a stop at the entrance of the sewage treatment plant.

Passengers treated at Pontiac General and released were William Kath, 21, of 658 E. Beverly; Arne J. Santti, 21, 2508 Coral Gables, Southfield; and Roger Williams, 21, of 805 Emerson.

Hart was held overnight for observation at the hospital.

Use Paper Bag to Clean Artificial Flowers, Fruit

The paper bag has many uses around the house. It makes a good container, for example, when you want to clean your artificial flowers and fruit.

Put either a half cup salt, sugar or sand in a bag with the items to be cleaned. Hold the flowers in the bag upside down, grasp the top of the bag tightly and shake well.

Seeks Commission in Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee was urged today by Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., to incorporate in the foreign aid authorization bill the provisions of a bill Meader recently introduced to create a commission on foreign economic development.

This bipartisan, 12-man commission, Meader said, would recommend to the President and the Congress specific programs and reforms calculated to render more effective programs of foreign assistance.

Meader told the committee he first made his recommendation April 23, 1961, and has been pushing without success for it since.

Stating that members of the committee might feel uneasy about the study is unnecessary in view of the one recently made by the committee headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Meader said the Clay committee inquiry was excellent as far as it went, but fell far short of being a penetrating study of foreign aid with specific recommendations.

The commission he is proposing, Meader said, could make specific recommendations aimed at speeding private capital for economic development overseas with the idea of gradually diminishing the need for U.S. government funds.

"To the extent we can transfer the task of economic development to private capital rather than government, we not only relieve the tax burden, but at the same time, through the creation of wealth through economic development, broaden the tax base," Meader said.

Plan Giant July 4 Rally to Get Goldwater to Run

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Draft Goldwater Committee today announced plans for a mammoth July 4 rally in the nation's capital aimed at convincing Sen. Barry Goldwater to run for president.

The committee said groups from almost every state had announced they would attend the rally on behalf of the Arizona Republican and it would be "a truly national declaration of popular sentiment."

Sens. John G. Tower, R-Tex.; Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio; and Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona were listed as speakers for the affair, which will be held in the National Guard Armory.

Actors Warren Brennan, "Chill" Wilson, and "The Rat Patrol" rem Zimbalist Jr. will provide entertainment, according to Peter O'Donnell Jr., chairman of the committee.

"The purpose of the rally is to demonstrate growing public support for the nomination of Sen. Goldwater as Republican candidate for president in 1964," the committee said.

"The rally will also serve as a formal kick-off for the committee's campaign to secure millions of signatures, petitioning Sen. Goldwater to seek the Republican nomination."

O'Donnell predicted that such "tangible expressions of support" would convince Goldwater to seek his party's nomination.

"Sen. Goldwater's nomination represents the Republican opportunity to win in 1964," the committee said.

"Not only is Sen. Goldwater the overwhelming choice of rank and file members of the Republican party across the nation, but the committee's mail already indicates that large numbers of Democrats in Southern and border states will change their party affiliation if Sen. Goldwater is the Republican nominee in 1964."

"As the Republican presidential candidate, Sen. Goldwater would sweep the Southern states, the dependable Republican states of the Midwest, the Rocky Mountain and New England, and thus assuring him of more than enough electoral votes needed to win."

In another development in the presidential sweepstakes, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said he hoped to see Gov. William Scrabble of Pennsylvania would accept the call if he were asked to run for president or vice president.

Scott, appearing on a bimonthly television program with Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., described himself as "one of the ablest Republicans we have."

Iron Workers Agree to Terms

33-Day Strike Ends; 2-Year Pact Signed

A 33-day-old strike which halted some 300 construction projects in 32 Michigan counties, including several in Oakland County, ended yesterday.

Under pressure from the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) the Detroit Iron Workers Local 25 voted to accept a two-year contract with the steel contractors and return to work today.

Local 25 Business Agent Henry Cooper declined to reveal vote totals or terms in the new contract.

However, William Stewart, secretary of the Detroit chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America, priced the total package at 48 cents higher than the previous contract.

The contract, he said, calls for a 38-cent wage increase over two years, plus improvements in pension, vacation, health and welfare provisions.

The return-to-work vote was called hurriedly after NLRB Regional Director Thomas Roumell ordered the strike terminated Friday.

He termed it illegal because of the union's failure to give the steel contractors the required notice to end an automatically renewable contract.

The contractors had contended from the start that Local 25 was one day late in its demand for new contract negotiation.

Out to Steal JFK'S Thunder

GOP Plans Integration Law of Own

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty House Republicans plan to steal a march on the Kennedy administration today by calling for legislation to eliminate segregation in all public accommodations.

One by one they will take the floor and urge support for their measure and for a companion bill to give the attorney general broad legal authority in all areas of civil rights.

In a statement Sunday, the GOP group accused the Democratic administration of "footdragging" on civil rights. "To do so, the Republicans said, is "irreconcilable with the times which demand immediate action."

The administration is known to be preparing its own two-bill civil rights package for introduction later this week or next. One measure would forbid restaurants, theaters, hotels and the like to bar Negroes if the business operates in interstate commerce. The other would authorize federal authorities to set up court-approved desegregation schedules for school districts which refuse to act on their own.

ON JUDICIARY

The 20 Republicans massing under the civil rights banner include four members of the House Judiciary committee—Reps. John F. Lindsay of New York, William T. Cahill of New Jersey, Clark MacGregor of Minnesota and Charles M. Mathias of Maryland.

Although the committee has been holding hearings since early last month, "not one leading administrative official has appeared to press for the enactment of legislation," the Republicans complained.

On the Senate side, the Republicans plan to get the civil rights bill rolling Wednesday at a conference called by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, N.Y.

The conference of GOP senators, Javits said in a recorded television program, is the most important of its kind since Reconstruction days.

Democrats are divided on civil rights, he said, giving the Republicans an opportunity to act.

PRaises BOBBY

In a recorded radio-television interview, Keating praised Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for using the telephone in efforts to bring about voluntary desegregation of business establishments.

But, Keating continued: "There is one phone call, however, which neither the President nor the attorney general has made which is vitally important. It's a call to the leadership in both House and Senate to get behind urgently needed civil rights legislation."

The attorney general spoke about civil rights Sunday at commencement exercises of Trinity College here. The problem is "intensely human," he said, and its "ultimate solution will rest in the hands of the people."

Road Fatalities Hit All-Time High

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL.

A total of 524 traffic fatalities over the long Memorial Day holiday set a record for highway death over a summer-season holiday.

Final United Press International tabulations for the 102-hour holiday showed the traffic toll had surpassed the 462 of 1961's Memorial Day weekend, the previous record for this holiday, and the 509 for the July 4 weekend of 1961, which had stood as the record for a summer season holiday.

The UPI death count between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight yesterday showed a total of 784 fatalities, including a total of 121 drownings and 15 persons killed in boating mishaps.

The breakdown:

Traffic	524
Drowning	121
Boating	15
Miscellaneous	144
Total	764

Only Rhode Island and South Dakota escaped without a single holiday traffic or accidental death.

California led the traffic death count with 63. There were 42 in New York State, 28 in Texas, 24 in Pennsylvania, 23 in Ohio, 22 in Indiana, 19 in Michigan and 15 in Tennessee.

The National Safety Council, which has estimated between 450 and 550 holiday traffic deaths for the holiday, said there were more cars on the highways over the weekend than it had expected.

"A lot of those men who had to work Friday took off Wednesday, went to the country for a one-day holiday, went to the city, worked Friday, and then drove out again for the weekend," a spokesman said.

The worst accident happened at the start of the holiday when seven persons died in a flaming crash near Cornwall, Conn., after a sports car ran out of control and collided with another car.

Court Hears Wallace Case

No Longer in Pain Pontiff Continues to Weaken

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII sank into deepening stupor today and his sturdy heart. The pontiff's blood pressure dropped drastically, and sources at the Vatican said this could indicate weakening of the heart, whose resistance to death has confounded all medical expectations.

Cardinal Aloisi Masella has the duty of certifying the death of a pope and becomes a sort of interim administrator during the interregnum between popes.

Archbishop Carpio would take over the duties of Vatican secretary of state, an office that lapses on a pope's death.

VISIT POPE

A Vatican source said Cardinal Aloisi Masella and the other prelates went to the Pope's apartment.

The 81-year-old pontiff survived another crisis Sunday night and yet another early today. Since Friday his doctors have said each day would probably be his last.

The first medical bulletin of the day reported that the Pope's pulse beat had eased from a high of 140 beats early this morning to a steady 130. His hold on life was (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Congressional Districting Can Pass if GOP Unites

By JIM DYGERT

The 18th Congressional District—otherwise known as Oakland County—will be divided into two districts by the State Legislature this week if enough "right" Republicans show up for the last few days of the legislature's regular session.

A "right" Republican, in this case, is one who will go along with the GOP leadership in favor of a congressional reapportionment bill destined to appear for a vote after the legislature reconvenes tomorrow night.

Main source of GOP concern is that many lawmakers may stay home during a session like this week's — a kind of "clean-up loose-ends" meeting before final adjournment Friday.

Since Republicans have only a 58 to 52 margin over Democrats in the House, since one of the 58 is ill, and some House

News Analysis

GOP members have opposed the reapportionment bill along with some Republican congressmen, GOP leaders will be carefully counting the "right" GOP votes.

They are expected to do the counting tomorrow night, with a vote on the bill coming up Wednesday if enough favorable votes are lined up.

GOP leaders had enough votes before the April 27 recess, but a last-minute discovery of a typographical error in the bill by a House Democrat upset the applecart.

IN BOTH DISTRICTS

Bloomfield Township was listed in both districts that Oakland County would get under the bill— a smaller 18th and the new 19th received by Michigan as a result of the 1960 census.

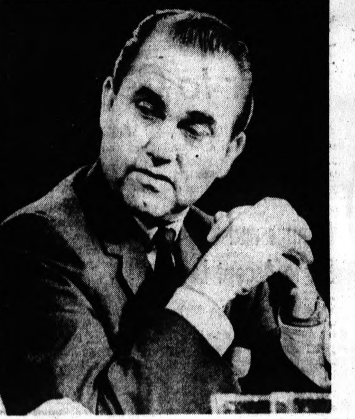

The House decided it could not approve the bill until it was corrected and could not correct it without the Senate's approval.

Since the Senate already had rejected, there was nothing to do but wait until this week.

The final bill was put together in a joint Senate-House conference. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Segregationist Probably Plans Not to Appear

Set to Bar Negroes From U. of Alabama Despite Federal Order

AIRS VIEWS — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace declares he still hopes to block enrollment of two Negro students at the University of Alabama next week.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The case of the federal government vs. Alabama comes up today in U.S. District Court. There were indications that come what may, Wallace will go through with his plan to try to keep Negroes out of white University of Alabama.

No one expected the fiery segregationist governor to be present for the legal proceedings. He said on a national television program Sunday that he would send counsel to present his defense of his stand-in-the-door policy against integration.

The Justice Department asked U.S. District Judge Seymour H. Lynne for an injunction barring Wallace from interfering with an earlier court order directing the university system to enroll two Negroes.

Repeating his vow to stand in the university doors to keep Negroes out, Wallace told interviewers that his defiance would "test in the courts the validity of this order involving our school system."

The issue, he said, is whether Alabama may run its schools as it has or must submit to federal government operation of the schools.

He said repeatedly that violence would not be tolerated at the university, but said it remains to be seen whether federal troops will be needed to get two Negroes into the university system next week.

The governor said he has appealed to the citizens of Alabama to stay away from the campus. "Absolute law will prevail," he said. "We will not tolerate mob action."

While Wallace talked, hundreds of white and Negro pickets marched outside. Many chanted "Wallace must go" and "Down with the segregationists."

Campus, Community Ready to Accept Law

By REIMAN MORIN

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Foster Auditorium, a shiny brick building with white facings on the University of Alabama campus, is the focal point today in a critical move toward peaceful desegregation in the South.

On June 10, one week from today, Vivian Malone, a Negro student will be brought to the portals of the auditorium.

Waiting there to bar her from entering — so he has vowed — will be Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

But if a secret, carefully detailed plan works with precision, Miss Malone will pass into the building and enroll as a student in the School of Commerce, the second of her race to be admitted to the university since it was founded in 1831.

What then?

"We are not going to have another Oxford," they tell you in Tuscaloosa, a reference to the riots that brought two deaths and many injuries at the University of Mississippi last September when James H. Meredith was enrolled.

Pontiac Cars Hit New Mark

For the second month in succession, Pontiac Motor Division has broken its all-time monthly production mark.

E. M. Estes, General Motors vice president and general manager at Pontiac, reported that 46,161 Pontiacs and Tempests were assembled last month.

This figure is nearly 4,000 higher than the previous record of 60,269 set in April.

Also for the second month in succession and only the second time in the division's history, vehicle production topped the 60,000 mark.

In announcing the new monthly record, Estes predicted that the division would break its annual production mark established in 1955 if the current demand for new Pontiacs continues.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today, with major modifications, to a special master's recommendation siding with Arizona in its 40-year controversy with California over water rights in the Colorado River.

Nab 8, Seize Dynamite in Quebec

MONTREAL (AP) — Police seeking terrorist bombers of the Quebec Liberation Front have arrested eight men for questioning and seized a mass of dynamite, fuses and timing mechanisms. More arrests are expected.

Montreal Police Director J. Adrien Robert announced the arrests — first in the campaign against the front — at a news conference Sunday night.

He refused to give further details, but provincial police director Joseph Brunet said a Belgian national was among those picked up.

Earlier reports said the Belgian, about 22, had been trained in Cuba to handle explosives and was the leader of the terrorist groups. The Montreal Gazette said "police now have proof that the terrorist movement has been Communist."

For the past three months, the front has staged a wave of bombings in the Montreal area to focus attention on its campaign to separate predominantly French-speaking Quebec from Canada. Federal buildings and installations have been the chief target.

It proclaimed itself responsible for the day of terror May 17 in the English-speaking suburb of Westmont, when 15 mail boxes were blown up. One bomb exploded in the face of an army engineer. He is in critical condition.

The Vatican radio also reported Beneditto Cardinal Aloisi Masella, the cardinal chamberlain, had gone to the Vatican along with Archbishop Francisco Carpio, secretary of the College of Cardinals, and other prelates.

The Mirror Cracked

Christie Mystery Starts Today

(In this fascinating mystery, Agatha Christie again intrigues her readers with an array of colorful, highly individualized characters and possible suspects. The murder clues are the tactics babbling of a woman, when she meets beautiful stage and screen star Marina Gregg. The frozen look on Marina's face, like Tennessee's Lady of Shalott, as she stares at a picture of The Laughing Madonna. A spilled drink and Marina's gracious offer of her untouched glass, which contains a lethal dose.)

By AGATHA CHRISTIE

Installment 1

Miss Jane Marple was sitting by her window. The window looked over her garden, once a source of pride to her. That was no longer so.

Nobody's she looked out of the window and winced. Active gardening had been forbidden her for some time now.

No stooping, no digging, no planting.

Old Laycock, who came three times a week, did his best, no doubt. But his best, such as it was (which was not much), was the best only according to his likes, and not according to those of his employer.

Miss Marple knew exactly what she wanted done, and when she wanted it done, and instructed him duly.

Old Laycock then displayed his particular genius, which was that of enthusiastic agreement and subsequent lack of performance.

"That's right, Missus. We'll have them mecosapies there and the Canterbury along the wall and, as you say, it ought to be got on with first thing next week."

REASONABLE EXCUSES

Laycock's excuses were always reasonable, and strongly resembled those of Capt. George in "Three Men in a Boat" for avoiding going to sea.

In the captain's base the wind was always wrong, either blowing off shore or in shore, or coming from the unreliable west, or the even more treacherous east.

Laycock's was the weather. Too dry — too wet — water-logged — a map of frost in the air. Or else something of great importance had to come first, usually to do with cabbages or Brussels sprouts, of which he liked to grow inordinate quantities.

Laycock's own principles of gardening were simple, and no employer, however knowledgeable, could wean him from them. (continued on p. 8, col. 1)

Objects to 'Mohawke'

"Mohawke" may be on the way to the dump and the nameless limbo of forgotten things, a public-spirited benefactor swoops across the darkened horizon and picks up the torch.

Mrs. James G. Aldrich of 55 "Mohawke" Drive volunteers to head the parade of indignant residents who choose the dictionary and society of reasonably educated people for that of Neolithic spelling. "It sounds as though we hadn't ever been to that little red school house," says she. "I doubt whether many use 'Mohawke' anyway, but we want to be legal."

"Petitions will be presented to the commission, which is probably as ashamed of this blunder as we victims are. There's a Mohawk River, a Mohawk Valley and a Mohawk tribe of Indians, but only in Pontiac might be presumed to know something about Indian lore, is there a grotesque 'Mohawke'?"

Mrs. Aldrich is a worthy bearer of the literacy torch. During a stint at The Press she was our accredited grammarian. Today she's a housewife, the mother of a 2-year-old girl and is currently preparing for another visit from the stork. "I want my next youngster to be registered as a resident of Mohawk Road," says she. "Who wants to be born into an untutored 'Mohawke'?"

No 'E' Would Make Her Smile

Clarkston Groups Push Mills

Voters Decide Issue at June 10 Election

CLARKSTON — Various local organizations including the Clarkston Junior Chamber of Commerce, Firefighters Association, Rotary Club and PTA groups are advocating passage of the operation millage proposal on the June 10 ballot.

A proposed five-mill increase would yield approximately $120,000 in additional tax revenue which would be used to improve the school staff salary schedule.

Schools Supt. Dr. L. F. Greene calls passage of the proposal necessary if the school system is to remain competitive with other area districts in the acquisition of good teachers.

Clarkston presently ranks near the bottom in the countywide average of teacher pay rates, according to Dr. Greene. Its 11.45 mill operating rate is the lowest of the county's 29 school systems.

If the millage issue passes, beginning teachers with bachelor's degrees will receive $4,500, $200 more than their present annual salary. New teachers with masters degrees will be boosted from their present $4,900 rate to $5,010.

A recently compiled county average announced 1962-63 teacher salary schedules lists a figure of $4,942 for new teachers with four years' training and $5,111 for a beginning teacher with a masters degree.

Since this average was prepared, improved salary schedules were announced in the Pontiac and Rochester school systems.

The proposed Clarkston teacher schedule for 1963-64 specifies annual increments over a 11-year period in all teacher categories until maximum rates have been attained.

Top pay for a teacher with a masters degree would be $7,454 under the proposed schedule and the maximum rate for a masters degree holder would be $7,790. Both are slightly below the 1963-64 county average.

At present, the school system allocates 13 mills for debt service in addition to the operating millage, for a total of 24.32 mills.

The school system, which includes four elementary schools, and a junior and senior high school, employs 154 teachers.

Patrolmen Help Mother Give Birth in Home

WYOMING (AP) — The population of Grand Rapids suburb increased by one yesterday, thanks to quick action on the part of two policemen who doubled as obstetricians.

Patrolmen Charles Regan and Donald Boyd received a call at 6:08 a.m. yesterday and raced to the home of Mrs. Barbara Melinn, 21. Seven minutes later, Mrs. Melinn became the mother of a daughter.

Wed in Rochester

Honeymoon in South

TROY — Honeymooning in Florida are newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. James who exchanged vows Friday evening in Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Rochester.

The bride is the former Patricia J. Harned, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Harned, 2100 Harned. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ross James, 500 Le High, Avon Township.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over tulle with a delicate necklace and bell skirt.

A crown of pearls held her shoulder-length veil. She carried a spray of Stephanotis and Ivy centered with a white orchid.

Mary Ellen Harned was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Ruth Ann James, sister of the bridegroom, and Diane Willett of Adrian.

Flower girl was Kim Cromie and Chris Cromie carried the rings.

"ADOPTED" MISSIONARIES — St. Paul's Methodist Church, Rochester, has assumed support of this educational missionary couple in northeast India. Rev. and Mrs. George E. Somers will work in Bihar, India, after he completes a course of language training. Natives of Michigan, the Somers have four sons.

'Agricultural Grads Much in Demand'

Demand for graduates of agricultural colleges this year continues to be strong, an official of Michigan State University said today.

This is especially indicated by the fact that 33 per cent of the job opportunities in the home states of the schools reporting are in sales and management in agricultural businesses and industries.

More than 10 per cent of the job offers are for high school vocational agriculture teachers.

As a whole, there are substantially more opportunities than graduates to fill them, according to Dr. R. M. Swenson, dean of instruction in MSU's college of Agriculture.

The annual survey was conducted by the College of Agriculture at Iowa State University.

Participating universities in addition to MSU were Illinois, Purdue, Iowa State, Kansas State, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota State, Ohio State, South Dakota State and Wisconsin.

Starting salaries for 1963 graduates with the B. S. degree average $466 and with the Ph.D. degree $684. Comparable figures for 1962 were $450 and $654.

SLIGHTLY BETTER — Placement officers at the schools described '63 employment opportunities as slightly better than last year.

In 1962, the 12 schools graduated 2,129 agricultural students at the bachelor's level. Considering only the 11 schools reporting for both years, there was an increase from 1,818 advanced degrees in 1961 to 1,873 in 1962.

Of the students graduating with

David James assisted his brother as best man. The guests were seated by Donald and Bruce Harned, brothers of the bride.

A reception at the church followed the rites. The couple will reside in Rochester.

Alert Father Saves Home

Rescues Son From Burning Bed

AVON TOWNSHIP — One more person was almost added today to the list of those who have died as a result of careless smoking habits—a 19-year-old Avon Township youth.

Robert Barker, who lives with his parents at 60 Montmorency, was pulled from his burning bed by his father, Hershel, shortly before 4 a.m. today.

Avondale Fire Chief Victor B. Camp said that if the boy's father hadn't heard his coughing and awakened, the youth would have either burned to death or died of asphyxiation.

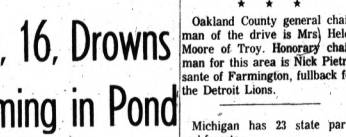

"We could have lost our new house, too," commented Mrs. Barker, 38. The family has been in the brick ranch-type home four months. Robert's 41-year-old father dragged his son outside and returned to strip the bed.

"When we arrived I could only stand in the bedroom for a few minutes," Camp commented.

"We'd warned Robert before about smoking in the bedroom," Mrs. Barker said today.

"Fortunately," Camp added, "there was only minor damage, and it was confined to the bedroom."

"You know, just last year 57 people died through careless use of cigarettes," he said.

ARMADA — A 16-year-old Armada High School sophomore drowned yesterday while swimming with friends in a pond behind the home of a local veterinarian.

Robert Vanpoelvoorde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vanpoelvoorde, 14642 Hough, had swum once across the pond and was swimming back when he went down.

According to Romeo state police, the youth must have suffered a spasm or cramp because he did not struggle or yell for help before sinking out of sight.

His body was recovered in about 10 feet of muddy water shortly after the accident. Efforts by the Armada Fire Department to revive the victim failed.

The conservation wildlife pond is on Dr. Orville C. Krause's property behind his hospital. He said it is posted with a sign warning swimmers that they use the pond at their own risk.

Dr. Krause and his family were away when the accident happened about 3:20 p.m. He said the victim was a member of a high school group from the area that was having a picnic there.

When Robert went down, several of his companions tried to bring him to the surface but their efforts were hampered by the muddy water, police said.

Ex-Flint Mayor Set for Assault Trial

FLINT (UPI) — Former Flint Mayor Robert Egan is scheduled to go on trial in Flint Justice Court next Monday on assault and battery charges.

Egan, 41, is accused of attacking his wife Christine and their daughter Tina, 19.

Egan, who is now a tavern owner, has pleaded innocent to the charges and is free on $100 bond.

Mrs. Egan said the attack stemmed from the daughter's taking Egan's car without permission.

Miss Gauvin Is Married

AVON TOWNSHIP — Announcement is made of the recent marriage of Dianna Eleanor Gauvin to Don Elton Robertson, son of Truman C. Robertson, 449 S. Adams.

The new Mrs. Robertson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Devereaux of Warren.

Setting for the nuptials was the First Methodist Church, Warren. A reception at the Elks Lodge, Rochester, followed the ceremony.

Official Makes Ionia Appeal

IONIA (AP) — A Michigan State Employees Union official yesterday appealed to Gov. George Romney and Civil Service Commission Chairman John Seaman to intervene in a labor dispute at Ionia State Hospital.

Robert Grosvenor, director of Local 420 of the Michigan State Employees Union, made the plea in a special-delivery letter.

In the second time Grosvenor had appealed to Romney to intervene in the dispute over the suspension of two employees for alleged violation of regulations involving supplemental employment.

In the letter to the Civil Service Commission chairman, Grosvenor asked that action be initiated to abolish a civil service rule concerning political activities of state employees and to rescind civil service authority letters dealing with supplemental employment.

The union is protesting the dismissal of Richard Spans and Walter McCabe and asks that they be reinstated with full back pay. The union is not on strike. State law forbids strikes by public employees.

Takes Bride in Ceremony

AUBURN HEIGHTS — William James A. Graham, 3057 York, claimed Paula M. Anutta as his bride Friday evening in Redford Presbyterian Church, Detroit.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd P. Anutta, of Detroit, the bride chose a classically styled gown of crystal white coronation tulle accented with Alencon lace for her wedding.

Roberta Anutta was maid of honor for her sister. Another sister, Odette Anutta, and Lynda Paterson were bridesmaids.

On the esquire side, High Graham served his brother as best man. Users were Don Filion, cousin of the bridegroom, and Fred Anutta, brother of the bride.

A reception was held in the church's Fellowship Hall after the ceremony. The newlyweds will honeymoon in Europe and the Middle East during the summer.

Walled Lake Names 2 Girls Top Students

WALLED LAKE — Heading the Walled Lake Senior High graduating class this year are Cheryl Walker, valedictorian, and Carol Woolley, salutatorian.

In addition to outstanding achievements in scholarship, both girls have been active in school groups.

Cheryl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Walker of 1345 Leon, plays a clarinet in the high school band, is president of the Spanish Club, and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Her membership in Future Nurses indicates her career decision. Cheryl will pursue her nursing studies at Michigan State University, where she has been awarded a scholarship.

Carol, who is treasurer of her class, also plays a clarinet in the band.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woolley, of 7409 Sweetbriar, West Bloomfield Township, she is a member of National Honor Society and is vice president of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Carol has received a presidential citation from Michigan State University, where she will attend school next fall.

Jackie's Girl Friday Ends Tour of Duty Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were two social secretaries on duty at the White House today for the official visit of the president of India.

It was the last day on the job for Letitia Baldrige of Washington, who is leaving after two years of planning social events and schedules for First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy.

It was the beginning for Nancy Tuckerman, former New York travel agent and onetime boarding school roommate of Mrs. Kennedy, who succeeds Miss Baldrige.

Miss Tuckerman, who has been in and out of the White House in the past few months for conferences, started working fulltime last week, joining Miss Baldrige in the planning for the visit of Indian President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan.

LONGTIME FRIEND

The First Lady's new social secretary is a longtime personal friend. They first met when attending Miss Chapin's school in New York as youngsters and went on together to be roommates at Miss Porter's School in Farmington, Conn., Miss Tuckerman's home town.

GOP Worker Hot in '80s Still Is Going

BROKEN ARROW, Okla. (AP) — W. N. (Newt) Williams started working for Republican candidates in the 1880s when Benjamin Harrison and William McKinley were the party's standard-bearers. Now, at 97, he's still at it.

"Nobody has done more for the Republican party than Mr. Williams has," says Howard Fisher, chairman of the local GOP committee.

And, although his work in politics has spanned 76 years and a variety of jobs, Williams still heads the finance committee of the party organization here.

But Williams has held elective office only once, when he was mayor here in the 1930s.

He served as postmaster here during four presidencies, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Refrigerator Kills Man

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Lou Labourie, 55, Gardnerville, Nev., was killed by a refrigerator on U.S. Highway 395 Sunday.

The highway patrol said Labourie was riding in the bed of a pickup truck with the refrigerator. The driver drove rapidly up a steep grade.

Labourie tried to keep the refrigerator from sliding out of the truck. He fell out and the refrigerator landed on top of Labourie, killing him.

Tips on What Gifts to Give Newlyweds

By MADELEINE DOEREN
Human nature being what it is, when a bride-to-be mentions her preferences in wedding presents to one person, it stands to reason she will receive no less than three of the same item.

The average couple, according to Modern Bride

Magazine receives $1,003 worth of gifts. They will receive as gifts or will buy from gift money one out of every three electric skillets, blenders, coffee makers and clock radios.

They are responsible for the sales of more than four out of ten electric mixers, toasters, waffle irons and bedspreads.

Beginning a marriage with basic china, crystal, linens, sterling silver or stainless steel is indeed preferable to having a hodgepodge of unrelated items.

Most brides avail themselves of a registry service provided by many gift, jewelry and specialty shops, and department stores, to list their choices of patterns.

As gifts arrive, the brides notify the store which in turn, informs potential gift buyers of any needed items.

Gift - buying falls into three categories, the "musts for living," the "nice for livability" and "wish we could afford" articles. The couple's place of residence, whether a small apartment or a house, should also be considered.

Half a million homes will be bought by newlyweds this year, according to a recent survey. Nearly one-fifth will be new homes and some eight per cent will have been occupied previously.

WHAT'S NEEDED

These couples could undoubtedly use patio furniture, lawn chairs, umbrella table, lantern, snow shovel, garden hose, sprinklers and tools, picnic table, outdoor barbecue grill, insect repellent lamps, lightweight extension ladder, a growing tree or shrub and a garden encyclopedia.

Among the "musts for living" for any couple are basic furniture, lamps, floor coverings, tableware, linens, cooking equipment and cleaning paraphernalia.

Adding greatly to pleasant livability are portable electric fans and room air conditioners, card table and chairs, a steel tote-table that folds flat, small fire extinguisher, ironing board, pad and cover, bathroom pole-shelves for storage, closet organizers, and a folding screen or room dividers.

Accessories, as important as the signature to a letter, could include a group of prints or a painting for a "gallery wall" in the living room, candlesticks, planters, a deep wicker kitchen storage basket (for potatoes, onions, etc.) or a group of trivets, or a clock.

UNUSUAL GIFTS

More unusual gifts would be a princess telephone, barometer, pastel summer blankets, bed pillows, his 'n' her brushes (overcoat, lint remover, hat brush), magazine subscriptions, records, dictionary, permanent desk calendar and waste baskets.

Taking the ink out of work in the bride's kitchen could be a pressure cooker, electric knife sharpener, portable roaster, filled spice rack, cutting board, electric can-opener, food chopper, and fitted picnic basket.

Serving aids include sets of hot dish protectors, hot trays, electric tureen or chafing-dish and lazy Susans.

If the couple has a fireplace, why not buy a wood basket, a Cape Cod fire-lighter, screen, andirons or a hearth broom with a set of those long, long matches tucked in?

THREE-PIECE SET—A companion to the tea pot shown in the background is a covered sugar bowl and creamer with serving tray. The set is crafted of stainless steel which will not tarnish. The creamer features a gracefully curved spout for easy, nondrip pouring. The tray can double as a serving tray for hors d'oeuvres or fruit. Retail for $3.95 by Revere Ware.

Wed by Candlelight

Rev. Wilbert Cunningham officiated at the candlelight vows of Josephine Joyce Perkowicz, Sylvan Lake, to Alfred LaVern Storm, Saturday in Central Christian Church.

White peau de soie with Alencon lace applique for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alen Perkowicz of Silverwood was styled with chapel train. She wore an illusion veil with lace pillow and carried white roses, Stephanotis and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. William Gillow of Alma, her sister's honor matron, and bridesmaids Carol Storm, Mrs. Leon H. Storm and Fayanne Badgero wore apricot rose brocade. Apricot and white carnations comprised their heart bouquets.

ON ESQUIRE SIDE

The bridegroom, son of the Jack D. Storms, Clarkston, had his cousin Leon H. Storm for best man. Larry Christiansen, seated guests with Joseph and John Perkowicz.

Melissa Ann and Mark Perkowicz of Dearborn were flower girl and ring-bearer.

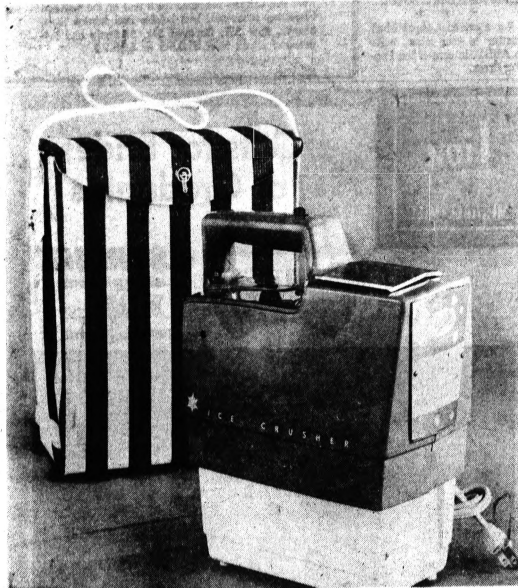

After greeting some 200 guests in the Oakland club rooms, the couple left for Niagara Falls, and later will reside in the Pontiac area.

MRS. ALFRED L. STORM

Storage Set for Ironing

Newly introduced is a mobile hide-away ironing center containing a board that flips out, a built-in plug and storage space for an iron, cord, and cord holder.

ICE CRUSHER — This new electric ice crusher is giffpack with a gaily striped portable cooler. Crush the ice into frosty chips, then tote it along to picnics or patio, where it keeps —unmelted and handy. The ice crusher is turquoise, on a white tray that serves as a catch-bucket for the crushed ice. Cubes are fed in quickly and neatly through the top, and the machine will never "stall" in grinding — even with melting ice. The Oster "Snoflake" ice crusher, complete with tote bag cooler is approximately $24.95 (Model 550-02) Made by the John Oster Manufacturing Co.

Clarkston Is Location of Wilson-Bauer Rites

Rev. William J. Richards officiated at the candlelight nuptials of Shirley Louise Bauer to Roland Garfield Wilson Saturday in the First Methodist Church, Clarkston.

White silk organza with bodice and skirt panel of Alencon lace fashioned the chapel-length gown for the daughter of the Harold J. Bauers, Clarkston. A silk illusion veil held by a pearlized caplet and a cascade of white roses, carnations and Stephanotis completed her ensemble.

Wearing floor-length Nile green organza were maid of honor Ruth L. Holcomb and bridesmaids Mrs. Joseph Gardner, Mrs. Edwin J. Glenie and Mrs. Jack McCall. They carried yellow Shasta daisies and carnations.

Jody and Michael Gardner were flower girl and ring bearer.

The bridegroom, son of the William E. Wilsons, Clarkston, had James Hennig for best man. Ushers were Joseph Gardiner, Richard Wilson, Thomas and James Krieger and Jack McCall.

Tipping Tips for Newlyweds

NEW YORK UP—Tipping tips for the honeymooners:—In the United States and Canada, the bell boy expects 25 cents per suitcase, even 50 cents in expensive hotels. He also gets 25 cents for delivering ice, telegram, or when performing any minor errand.

—For individual meals, tipping the waiter 15 per cent of the check is the accepted rule. Add more if exceptional service is given or called for and received.

—For overnight stays, no tip is necessary for the chambermaid; otherwise, leave $1 per week.

On cruises, tip cabin and dining stewards about $1 per person per day. At the half-way mark, however, give half of the total tip for the voyage to stewards so they can have the money for shore leave.

Wedding Present

It looks like Mother still knows best — at least as to shopping for the new bride. Linens and domestic departments buyers report that it is invariably Mother who insists on quality products, who looks for new features such as fitted corners on sheets, and who ferrets out the latest fashions in color and pattern. The bride can also depend on Mother's voice of experience to remind her of such important practical features as machine-washability.

'Cut Glass' Gifts

Newest among the plastic housewares is 3-dimensional "cut glass," in both old-fashioned and modern patterns. Even the sparkle is there. These lightweight, fragile-looking pieces include trays, bowls, and cake plates. There are no worries about putting this kind of "cut glass" into a dishpan of hot soap or detergent suds, for what is more serviceable than plastic?

Attention, all summer brides!
If you are planning to have your wedding story in The Pontiac Press, it is time to come in for a wedding questionnaire.

This should be returned to the Women's Department at least one week BEFORE the wedding.

Pre-bridal pictures may be brought in with the wedding form. Deadline for pictures taken at weekend weddings is 8 a.m. the following Monday.

Pictures brought in after Monday deadline will appear with the story on Tuesday, if space permits.

Out-of-state weddings and pictures will be accepted within a week after the ceremony.

We will be unable to give detailed descriptions if the story arrives more than three days after a local wedding. Please call The Pontiac Press Women's Department if you have any questions.

SALLY ANDERSON
August vows are planned by Sally R. Anderson, daughter of the Harold F. Andersons, Dearborn, and Richard J. Grebets, son of the Joseph Grebets of Elsinore. The bride-elect will graduate from Henry Ford Community College this month.

Extra Seating Pieces Are Handy

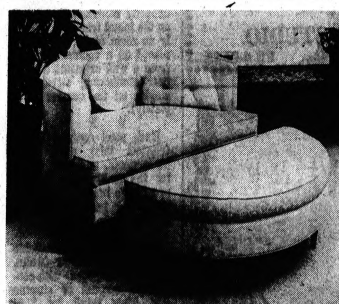

Most young couples greatly enjoy planning their first home and shopping for the furnishings to go in it. However, their selections are usually limited to the major pieces that are considered essential for daily living.

The extra seating pieces that add a special note of comfort and luxury are seldom on the bridal shopping list and therefore make excellent gifts.

One item sure to be appreciated is a chaise. They now are being shown in a wide variety of period and contemporary styles ranging from a handsomely designed chaise longue for the living room to an elongated Madame Racamier number for giving the bedroom an air of the femme fatale.

The majority of the 1963 versions are upholstered in buoyant latex foam that is often combined with down or dacron for period pieces requiring "puffy" cushioning. Modern pieces have the clean line-tailored look that foam rubber brought to furniture design.

TOPPING BENCHES
Trim latex foam cushions are also topping benches — another extra seating piece in high favor with newlyweds.

IDEAL GIFT—This cozy new accent piece is an ideal gift for the summer bride. The handsome foam rubber tub-and-a-half chair and matching ottoman is at home in the living room, recreation room or bedroom. And it is roomy enough for two who like holding hands while they watch TV. Available in a variety of fabrics for approximately $278.00 retail price. (By Selig)

The majority of the long low benches are of contemporary design and can be used as living room accent pieces to hold decorative objects, plants in red clay pots, magazines, or even a portable TV set. When company comes the removable bench cushions can be placed on the floor for additional seating.

Padded stools are also thoughtful gifts for young party lovers. They can be tucked under coffee tables or the dining table for use when needed. Some of these are graceful Italian reproductions with tufted foam rubber cushioning upholstered in rich fabric.

Others are slim Scandinavian cubes that have removable cushions covered with a rough-weave fabric resembling homespun. A set of two or four stools would come in mighty handy in stretching seating space on entertainment evenings.

GEOMETRICAL
One of the most interesting developments are the nests of stools in geometrical shapes that can be used to form a seating island in a living room.

One version, called the Pagoda stool, is a hexagon with cushioned top and trim walnut legs. It looks as attractive in a cluster as it does separately.

Oversize Frog Good Catch-All

Polly's Pointers

Pleats Will Stay Put

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY — My hint is a way to make a sharp looking kick pleat that stays put.

After a skirt hem is in, press the pleat in place and then stitch through the hem and seam (the back and underneath fold of the pleat) and press again.—Mrs. D.

DEAR POLLY — Possibly the girls with short hair will find this helpful. For those difficult-to-set curls at the nape of the neck, use ordinary pipe cleaners.

They simplify the setting and the curls last longer.

DEAR POLLY — Do you hate buttery fingers or the waste involved using wax paper or a paper towel when a recipe calls for a buttered casserole dish?

Before you assemble the ingredients to prepare the casserole, turn the oven to low heat and place the empty casserole dish inside.

When you are ready to use it, the dish will be hot and a pat of butter on the tip of a knife will swizzle all around the dish in no time at all with no waste and no messy fingers.—Betty

DEAR POLLY — I have finally found comfortable blouses that always stay tucked in and, at the same time, have done away with the need for wearing a half slip under my skirt.

My suit is dark green with kick pleats all around the skirt. My new blouse and slip combinations are jersey shifts.

I own several different prints with the same dark green in them as is in my suit. My blouse is always tucked in because it reaches my knees and it serves as a slip, too.—MRS. J. C.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas... send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

Use Silver Differently

If your wedding gifts include a number of silver pieces and your first home isn't geared to this much silver, use it in unusual ways. Be unconventional.

Candlesticks — elaborately wrought or simple — can double as dressing table lamps with the simple acquisition of candle-foot light bulb sockets and simple parchment lampshades.

The wire extends from the bulb fixture, which fits right in where the candle would, so the candlestick need never be marred. Comes a special dinner — just pick out the two bulb sockets, put in candles and have a lovely time.

TOAST RACK

That little toast rack which seemed so fanciful and impractical a gift from your old school chum, will be a boon on your desk. It is just right for organizing letters and bills into "paid and unpaid." The unlikely small silver jigger will hold paper clips.

The small silver card tray is ideal for organizing all the odds and ends of a working desk — clips, elastic, the ink. A tiny silver vase will hold pencils as well as flowers. They add up to the best looking desk in town.

Gifted with silver cocktail cups but no candlesticks? The answer is to let the glassware hold the cocktails, and the silver cups, (or silver jiggers) hold the candles.

The artful bride can get stubby candles to fit (or make her own), or stand slender tapers in the base and fill the rest of the cup with short flowers for a gay table setting.

WALL DECORATION

Did the silver harvest bring half a dozen spoons which match nothing else? Then get a simple spoon rack and hang them up as a wall decoration. Spoon racks are available in ten-cent stores or can be made of do-it-yourself antique kits.

Was the wedding return short on vases and long on tea pots? Use the pot as a vase. It is charming and the arrangement will win you applause on cleverness.

Was a 'big gift' a silver coffee pot? Use it after dinner, even when you two are alone. Silver keeps coffee hot and makes every evening festive.

When miscellaneous small dishes and trays show up,

use one or two to organize a cigarette cup (possibly a silver jigger) and that silver lighter will stay put, can be carried out to be washed easily and add a decorator touch.

LIKE VIOLETS

Other ideas will bloom like violets in spring, once the bride starts thinking of living with her silver. Among them may be the use of those silver napkin rings for chignon tilters in the hair.

The silver meat platter is just as useful for one-dish meals and turns even pot-luck into pooh good luck for the drop-in guests. The extra silver vegetable dishes will double as low vases for centerpieces on the table or in a hall. The secret of living with silver is loving it and using it.

Newest Color, Black China

A new dining color concept is served up with an all-black china, service plates and saucers from Danish designer Bjorn Winblad.

TABLE FOR TWO — Set with mathematical precision, this table for two features tall taper candlesticks on opposite sides each with a prim little bowl of flowers at its base and sprigs of the same flowers tucked around the sockets of the candles. Their light falls upon a pale blue linen cloth and pewter-rimmed plates with ceramic centers decorated in pale blue flanked by delicately sparkling "One Rose" stainless steel flatware. It's a new pattern by Reed & Barton, creators also of the plates and candlesticks.

Slips Feature Wide Straps

Designed for off the shoulder gowns and low cut ones as well as the American version of the French camisole slip.

The six-panel, princess shaped slip has a lace bodice that extends into wide straps at the shoulder edges. The skirt is also bordered with lace.

Hand-Me-Down Shoes Unwise

Handing down outgrown shoes to younger children is an unwise practice, say clothing specialists. A good leather shoe conforms to a child's foot, but once molded it will not change.

A gift for the newlyweds' home could be this attractive console table — or the handsome mirror above it. The design was adapted from an Empire clock case. Gold leaf accents the pedestals; the top is French walnut veneer.

WENONAH J. NICHOLS

The Chester H. Nichols of Kettering announce the engagement of their daughter Wenonah Jean to Douglas Richard Ebey. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ebey of Lanette.

Bridal Gift Linens

When shopping for wedding gifts, keep in mind that bed, bath, and table linens are popular choices with many brides. In fact, engaged girls often list with bridal gift registries their specific preferences as to color, brand, and easy upkeep.

So make sure to choose only gift "linens" which can take repeated machine washing and drying.

Washable 'Gold'

For the bride who has everything else: a "gold" lace tablecloth. The gold may be merely simulated, but the lace behaves as "good as gold" in either soap or detergent suds!

SHARON M. FRANKLIN

Will Discuss Space Data of U.S., Russ

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Details of the U.S. and Soviet attempts to probe Venus and Mars may be exchanged at the 10-day Space Science Symposium of COSPAR, the International Committee on Space Research, starting today.

More than 100 Americans are registered. They brought data gathered by 19 manned and unmanned American satellites launched in 1962 and findings on such matters as life on other planets, problems of space navigation and cosmic particles.

The Soviet delegation is headed by Anatoly Blagonravov, chief of the Soviet Institute of Applied Science. He reportedly agreed in March that the Mars and Venus probes would be discussed here.

Dr. Richard W. Porter of the General Electric Corp. and the U.S. National Academy of Sciences heads the American delegation.

Aussie in Viet Nam War Kills Self by Accident

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The first Australian casualty in the Vietnamese war killed himself accidentally with his own carbine, American military sources say.

The Australian military adviser, a sergeant, was accompanying a Vietnamese battalion 40 miles west of here Saturday when he stumbled and dropped his gun. It went off, shooting him in the head, the informants said.

Ex-GOP Worker Dies
 Manhasset, N.Y. (AP)—Floyd E. McCaffree, 57, former director of the research division of the Republican National Committee, died Saturday of a heart ailment. He served with the GOP committee in Washington from 1945 to 1961 when he became professor of political science and director of the research division at C. W. Post College on Long Island. He was born in Canova, N.Y., and died Saturday of a heart ailment.

Of Postal Costs

Strikes Back at Critics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General J. Edward Day fired back today at his press critics, charging they lack "an even rudimentary knowledge of how postal expenditures are financed."

What ignited Day's ire was editorial criticism of his stand that unless drastic cuts voted by the House in the Post Office budget were restored he would have to cut back services.

"The curious thing about the editorial attacks was that not one of the newspapers which seemed so light-hearted about all the budget-cutting showed a willingness to give up a single postal service," Day told the Federal Government Accountants Association in a speech.

"Not one editorial contained a concrete suggestion of how we could provide the same service with less money. A few even urged that we bring back afternoon delivery."

The House originally slashed the Post Office's total appropriation request by $22 million—the largest cut ever imposed on the department. The Senate voted to recommend a cut of $36 million and Senate and House conferees finally agreed on a $52 million cut.

This will require some limited service curtailments, Day said, and "will hamper us from providing the top-flight postal operation which the people of this country are entitled to expect."

"I completely agree that now that postal rates have been raised the public has a right to steadily improved service," Day said. "But what many of the editorial writers apparently failed to understand is that while all our revenues go into the postal fund

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—Jordan has received $2 million from the United States as part of its aid program for 1963-64, the finance ministry here said yesterday.

A spokesman said U.S. budgetary aid to Jordan has averaged $37 million a year since 1958.

MIAMI (UPI)—Apprehensive authorities roped off an area at Miami International Airport Saturday to keep people away from an overnight bag that was buzzing alarmingly.

The apprehension subsided when the bag's owner opened it and turned off his batter-operated toothbrush.
