U.S. to Pitch In Right Away If NATO Forces Attacked

Students Protest Church Ban on Dancing

500 Jitterbug on Campus

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—Students at Wake Forest College jitterbugged on the campus plaza and burned in effigy the retiring president of the Baptist State Convention after the convention ruled out campus dancing.

About 500 or 600 students, mostly male, participated in the demonstration last night at the Baptist-supported school.

Hi-fi record players blasted at full volume as the laughing and cheering crowd of students danced and shouted such slogans as "Down with the Baptists."

Student leaders said about 25 per cent of the student body joined in the protest against the Baptist State Convention action in Raleigh.

The convention overwhelmingly vetoed campus dancing and apparently ended a lengthy controversy on the topic. School trustees previously had voted to allow dancing.

The students, most of whom wore dark glasses or obscured their faces with handkerchiefs, climaxed the hour-long demonstration by burning an effigy labeled "Dr. J. C. Canipe."

Canipe retired as president of the Baptist State Convention after speaking against lifting the ban imposed by the convention in 1937.

College policemen took two students, unidentified, in custody for lighting firecrackers.

The convention's action affected their seven colleges in the state.

The vote followed a request oy trustees of Wake Forest College and Meredith College for Women at Raleigh that they be allowed to regulate all forms of recreation on their campuses.

AFL, CIO Fail to Reach Merger

Unions Stalemated Here

The compulsory merger of CIO and AFL labor organizations in Oakland County might cause many affiliated unions to pull out of the new body, officials of the CIO and AFL agreed today.

This is about the only point of agreement the Oakland County CIO Council and Pontiac Oakland County Federation of Labor have reached.

EXPECTED TO FAIL

Both labor bodies are expected to fail in meeting a Dec. 5 deadline to merge, ordered two years ago by their parent AFL-CIO organizations.

"They knew when they came down to council level it would be difficult," said Fred V. Haggard, president of the CIO Council here.

Haggard said both Oakland County unions are not alone in their stalemate. Across the country there are 1,068 city, county, or state bodies still unmerged, he said.

As soon as they can, the parent AFL-CIO organization will come into Oakland County and submit the compulsory constitution to govern the "new" Oakland County joint union, Haggard and Grady B. Pinner, president of the AFL here, stated.

The ultimate result of this will be the possible walkout of affiliated unions, they said. Neither would say which unions might join in the break-off.

"I think a lot of the group will disaffiliate, if not all of them," Pinner declared.

The FOL (Federation of Labor) consists of such unions as the Teamsters, carpenters, teachers, firefighters, bricklayers, riggers and painters.

DISPUTE ON MERGER

Pinner and Haggard said no merger was reached here because of a dispute over voting powers of the proposed joint union, which was slated to be called the Pontiac Oakland County Michigan Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

The CIO wanted a roll call vote while the AFL sought a vote by delegate bodies. "If they had their way," Pinner said, "they would so far outnumber us it would be pitiful."

Haggard said: "We bent over backwards. We offered them equal representation on the board. But we weren't going to give up our autonomy."

He pointed out that only 30 mergers had taken place since the

1 Killed, 12 Hurt as Wind Lashes Chrysler Plant

Freak Storm Rips Roof From Detroit Factory, Damages Homes, Stores

DETROIT (AP) — One factory worker was killed and 12 others injured yesterday when a freak wind lashed Chrysler Corp. production facilities, toppled trees and tore the roofs from several buildings on Detroit's East Side.

Harry Michalski, 43, of suburban Hamtramck, was killed when he was struck on the head by a 200-pound slab of concrete while working at Chrysler's Detroit forge plant. His 12 injured fellow-workers were treated at the plant's first aid station.

The plant's roof was ripped off and concrete slabs and pieces of glass showered down on 75 men inside. Several trucks in the factory's transportation yard were tossed about, overturned and twisted.

Residents of the small area hit by the wind said it was accompanied by a roar and a flash of lightning. There were no reports of any tornado funnels in the area.

U. S. Weather Bureau spokesmen at the nearby Detroit City Airport said the highest velocity recorded there was 32 M.P.H. Meteorologists said the force was caused by a sudden shift in air pressure. The gusts of wind were preceded by a brief lull.

The weather station's wind gauge was located near an airplane which was lifted from its moorings and dashed against a nearby fence.

Snow Blankets Houghton

SMOTHERED IN SNOW — The Upper Michigan Copper Country town of Houghton lies buried under a heavy blanket of snow after one of the worst autumn blizzards in years struck this week. Communication and transportation are paralyzed. This picture, taken Tuesday, but delayed by the weather, shows Houghton's main street after a 10-inch fall of fresh snow within 10 hours. Latest reports say even more snow is expected.

American Units Would Be Hurt in Any Assault

Dulles Bolsters North Atlantic Countries With New 'Monroe Doctrine'

CHICAGO (INS) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles says that if a Pearl Harbor type attack should be made against North Atlantic Treaty forces in Europe, NATO troop commanders would decide "on the spot" whether to retaliate.

He also asserted that any enemy attack on NATO military forces would "almost certainly" involve an attack upon American units because of the composition of NATO armies.

Dulles made those disclosures last night at a press conference before delivering an informal address before the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations.

In his address, Dulles urged the free world to unite behind the mutual security pacts as the only means of surviving the Communist menace. He said the U.S. could neither "go it alone" nor avoid strangulation in any two-power settlement with Russia.

We must rely, he stressed, on such pacts as NATO.

Dulles said American proposals at the NATO meeting in Paris Dec. 16, to which President Eisenhower himself will go, will strengthen the western pact.

Prior to his speech, Dulles further bolstered troubled NATO by telling newsmen that an attack on any single member of NATO "almost certainly" would constitute an attack on the U.S.

The secretary said U.S. military personnel are "so intermingled" with NATO forces that it would be difficult for an aggressor to hit one nation without striking Americans, He added.

"If the attack were like Pearl Harbor and if American personnel were involved, it would almost certainly be an attack on America."

Adlai E. Stevenson, now serving as a Democratic consultant on the U.S. proposals to be made at the NATO meeting, sat on the platform with Dulles during the speech. The pair flew together from Washington yesterday.

Whether Stevenson will attend the Paris meeting was still up in the air. Dulles told newsmen the Democratic leader had not asked

Snow Flurries, Cold Tonight, Tomorrow

Snow flurries are predicted for the Pontiac area tonight. The U.S. Weather Bureau also says it will be mostly cloudy, windy and rather cold with the mercury falling to a low of 28-33 degrees tonight.

Tomorrow will again be cloudy, windy and cold with an expected high of 38-42.

The outlook for Saturday is generally cloudy with continued snow flurries and little change in temperature.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 30. The mercury which had risen to 36 at 11 a.m. had receded to 32 at 2 p.m.

Ike Ends Dixie Vacation; Attends Dinner Tonight

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower ends a week's vacation in Dixie today and flies back to Washington.

Tonight Eisenhower and the First Lady plan to attend a dinner at a private club honoring Herbert Brownell, who recently resigned as attorney general.

Associates said the President has benefited greatly from his week at the Augusta National Golf Club in advance of next month's NATO Council meeting in Paris. They described him as much refreshed.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced last night that Eisenhower will sit in at the first meeting of the new Civil Rights Commission Dec. 9 in Washington.

Indian Floods Kill 241

NEW DELHI (AP) — Recent floods in north India killed 241 persons and 2,650 head of cattle and destroyed crops valued at more than 27 million dollars, an official told parliament today.

Freighter Explodes, Sinks at Naples; 2 Known Dead

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—The 2,285-ton Italian freighter Anna Maria Ievoli sank alongside a Naples dock today soon after a violent explosion ripped through her midsection.

Two Italians were known dead and two to five workers, believed trapped underwater aboard the wreck, were presumed dead.

More than 35 persons were injured, half a dozen of them seriously.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said no American ships or Navy men were near the scene of the blast. He added that the Navy offered help but Italian officials said they had the situation under control.

The ship went down in 40 feet of water. Only part of her bow projected above the surface.

Divers from the Naples fire department were sent down to investigate. The cause of the explosion was not immediately determined.

The blast shattered windows in nearby buildings. Many of the injured were passers-by cut by flying glass.

Eighteen crewmen and 10 workers, all Italians, were aboard the ship completing a cleaning job. The vessel was to have sailed later today for Catania, Sicily.

The ship inclined quickly while firemen tried to reach the workers caught amidst the smashed, twisted superstructure. Suddenly the ship keeled over and sank.

The vessel was owned by a Naples shipper. She was built in 1920 by the Detroit Shipbuilding Co. as the Montfaucon.

Livonia Man Buried Alive

Cave-In Traps Worker at Orchard Lake Home Construction Project

A 22-year-old construction worker was buried alive this morning in a cave-in in a home construction project in Orchard Lake.

Police there said Charlie Richmond Wilson, of 19246 Brentwood, Livonia, was found dead after dirt buried him in an 8-foot sewer trench near 4350 Dow Ridge Rd., just south of Cass Lake and north of Commerce Lake road.

A fellow worker, Roy Goff, of 23440 Stuart, Royal Oak, miraculously escaped death when he jumped to safety as the dirt began to fall, police said. Both were employed with the Grolgau Bros. firm.

Sgt. Max Nevells of the Orchard Lake police said the cave-in apparently was caused by rains this morning. The accident happened sometime between 11 and 11:30.

Gein Pleads Innocent by Reason of Insanity

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP) — Edward Gein, admitted butcher-slayer of a middle-aged business woman, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity when he was arraigned today on a charge of first-degree murder. He was ordered held without bond for trial in Circuit Court.

★ ★ ★

Judge Boyd Clark after accepting the plea, found probable cause that the crime had been committed and that the 51-year-old bachelor farmer should be held for trial.

★ ★ ★

Gein is accused of the premeditated killing of Mrs. Bernice Worden, whose mutilated body was found hanging by the heels from a rafter in Gein's farm home last Saturday night. Gein also is charged with robbing her hardware store.

Gein's attorney waived preliminary hearing.

Geographic Unit Reports 49 Pct.

United Fund Drive Has 5 Days to Go Toward Goal of $612,000

As the Pontiac Area United Fund drive headed into its final five days today, the Geographic Division reported 49 per cent of its goal reached.

Contributions to date for this door-to-door collection division total $10,562 of its quota of $21,548.

The Pontiac group of the Geographic Division is headed by Mrs. Ralph T. Norvell, who reported today 53.9 per cent of the $14,728 quota.

Mrs. Donald White heads the Waterford Township group of the Geographic Division. Some $2,622, or 38.5 per cent of a $6,820 quota has been secured, Mrs. White said today.

The total goal of the UF drive is $612,000, to support some 55 health and welfare and recreational organizations.

Both Mrs. Norvell and Mrs. White urged their volunteer workers to greater efforts before the report luncheon which will end the drive Tuesday.

New Pontiac Hospital Wing Stands Empty

Pontiac Press Photo

PONTIAC'S BIG QUESTION MARK — Continuing to puzzle city and hospital officials today is Pontiac General Hospital's new addition. "Where is the money coming from?" they ask. This question will arise again when the Board of Trustees of the hospital meet tonight for their monthly meeting. The latest proposal for acquiring $969,933 "minimum" funds to finish and open the wing, is that the city borrow from 1958 and 1959 capital improvement funds. Board members say they are waiting for an answer from the city, and City Manager Walter K. Willman says he's waiting for the City Commission to answer the big question.

Turned Down Proposal

"HE WAS GOOD" — Adeline Watkins, 50, (above) said in a copyrighted interview in the Minneapolis Tribune that two years ago she turned down a proposal of marriage ("Well, a kind of a one") from Ed Gein, bachelor recluse who has admitted butchering a Plainfield woman. The Tribune said she described Gein as "good and kind and sweet" to her and that she turned down his proposal "not because there was anything wrong with him . . . I was afraid I wouldn't be able to live up to what he expected of me." Gein story on page 2.

Plant Expansion Keeps Illinois' Lead in Industry

(Ninth in a series of articles on taxes and industry)

CHICAGO (AP) — Continued expansion of existing plants rather than the luring of new industry is keeping Illinois among the leaders in the 48-state race for more industrial wealth.

New factories are coming in bet because of the state's already heavy industrialization, employe gains on a percentage basis fall below the national average.

That's the finding of a dozen University of Illinois specialists in fields ranging from natural resources and geography to business management and industrial relations.

The growing number of attractive lures dangled by less industrialized states has pulled a few catches from the Illinois industrial net.

* * *

But basically, the Prairie State's reputation for excellent transportation, established consumer and capital-goods markets, a large pool of skilled and semi-skilled labor and an abundance of raw materials has kept it in fourth place among the nation's industrial states despite hot competition.

Southern and western lines pulling industry from other sections of the nation are tightening. Illinois just hasn't felt the pinch yet.

Much of the complacency is grounded in an apparent reluctance on the part of industrialists to leave the state when the time arrives for plant expansion. As long as the state's industrialists continue in this attitude, Illinois is assured of a steady rise in its overall industrial payroll.

MORE EMPLOYED

In most cases, says Irwin Cochrun of the University's Bureau of Business Management, "modest increases in Illinois industry will employ far more people than total new industries in less industrialized states."

* * *

But the group said the state's absolute gain in new industry compares favorably with other states.

Jerome D. Fellmann and Howard G. Roepke of the University's Department of Geography found that the average rate of increase in the number of manufacturing workers in the state from 1939-53 was nearly identical with the national average.

They found, however, that the rate was slowing down and said this indicates a "potentially disadvantageous position for the state."

* * *

These experts said the increase in the number of new plants in Illinois has been below average but that the size of the average Illinois plant has increased to where it is now nearly 50 per cent above the national average.

ONE INDUSTRY DRAWS ANOTHER

A prime factor in Illinois' unsensational but steady industrial growth is industry's ability to attract industry.

* * *

A large share of the state's new plants, the experts said, pick Illinois primarily because of companion industries already established. Shipping and production costs in most instances are cut in subsequent interchange of parts and materials.

* * *

The state's tax attitude toward industry cannot be clearly listed as an attraction or a deterrent, the group concluded. A general summary, it said, would identify Illinois' industrial tax climate as "better than some, not as good as others."

State agencies such as the recently created Illinois Industrial Planning and Development Commission are given the job of selling the state to new industrialists and those seeking an area for expansion.

In addition to Illinois' labor, transportation and natural resources, business management expert Cochrun added "friendly climate" as an important attribute.

"The state wants industry in all its small towns, he said, "and the small towns in turn make industry feel wanted."

'Mother Complex' Disclosed

More Ghoulish Activities of Skull Butcher Found

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Tribune said today it had learned the previously undisclosed story told by Edward Gein, admitted slayer of two women, in which he disclosed the "strange mother complex that motivated his sadistic rampage and divulged new and more horrifying details of his ghoulish activities."

The Tribune said it obtained its latest information in the case from an investigator, who was not identified. It said:

CLOSE TO MOTHER

"Gein had been extremely close to his mother throughout his life, so close, in fact, that he apparently acquired a feminine complex.

"After the death of his father George about 20 years ago he became more attached to his mother with whom he lived, along with his older brother Henry, who died in 1944.

"After his mother's death, he brooded for a long time. From this disconsolate mood emerged the compulsion to visit cemeteries. After a few nocturnal trips to graveyards, he began digging into fresh graves.

CUT UP BODIES

"He said he took the bodies to his home and cut them up. He kept only the heads, the skin, and some other parts. He insisted he disposed of the remainder of the bodies by burning them in small pieces in his kitchen cook stove."

Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen said he planned to charge Gein with first-degree murder as soon as he received a ballistics report from the laboratory on a .22-caliber rifle found in the gunrack in the Worden store.

An unexpended cartridge was in the rifle chamber. Kileen said he expected the report within a week and then would move for a sanity hearing.

ADMITS KILLING

Charles Wilson, head of the state crime laboratory, reported that Gein had admitted the killing of Mrs. Mary Hogan, 54, at his farm near Plainfield, in central Wisconsin. Mrs. Hogan, a tavern operator at Bancroft, Wis., had been missing since Dec. 8, 1954. Earlier Gein had admitted killing and butchering Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58-year-old hardware store owner of Plainfield last Saturday.

Gein was returned to the Waushara County jail at Wautoma yesterday from Madison to await arraignment on a charge of first degree murder.

Gein was at the laboratory for a total of 10½ hours but underwent only short periods of lie detector tests. The rest of the time was spent in interviews and interrogations.

FARMER SMILES

As he left the laboratory, clean shaven and smiling, funeral services were held at Plainfield for Mrs. Worden.

Her mutilated body was discovered on Gein's farm near Plainfield Saturday night. Authorities searching the littered farmhouse found a collection of human skulls which are being scrutinized by the laboratory.

Gein declared he obtained the skulls in a series of grave robberies from 1944 to 1952.

* * *

Portage County Sheriff Herbert Wanserski has expressed doubt that Gein, who weighs about 140 pounds, was physically able to commit grave robberies.

* * *

William Belter, attorney for the 51-year-old bachelor farmer, told reporters after talking to Gein that "although there is the possibility of another charge against him in addition to the slaying of Mrs. Worden, he will plead innocent by reason of insanity."

* * *

"I don't think he has a full appreciation of what he has done," Belter said. "Although he has improved his recollection, there are things that are still hazy to him."

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Why does good vision near and over bodies of water often mean approaching rain?

As the reader knows, marine air usually contains salt haze. This reduces vision. Sailors have long known that when a distant shore suddenly looks nearer, the air is changing composition.

This is caused when unstable air moves into the area and mixes with the marine air, reducing the relative amount of salt haze. Unstable air usually means rain and a change in the weather.

When the salt haze is reduced vision improves and often better vision actually does constitute a clue to approaching weather, and a strange one, for few people would normally suspect that good clear air was an omen of approaching rain.

Flash Wind Kills 1, Injures 12 in Detroit

there had been a tornado. The wind, which came from the west at about 6 p.m., was accompanied by rain and snow flurries.

The roofs of several buildings in the area were torn off and plate glass windows were blown from a number of store fronts. Witnesses said one unidentified man was picked up and hurled a short distance while crossing an intersection.

Mrs. William E. Jordan told police she rushed to the basement with her daughters, Patricia, 5, and 7-year-old Nettie, when she heard the roar. The home's porch was blown away seconds later and a large tree in the front yard was snapped off at its base.

There also were reports of at least one car being overturned and a garage being blown away.

* * *

Among the most seriously injured of the Chrysler workers were Millard Kent, who suffered fractures of both arms, and Robert Reese who was treated for severe head injuries.

One residential block was without power after utility lines were snapped by falling trees.

The stricken forge plant is part of a cluster of small Chrysler plants, all of which suffered damage. A company spokesman said it would not be possible to estimate damages until later today.

Hunting Season Called Poorest

State Game Supervisor Sees Better Deer Kill Last Nine Days

ESCANABA (AP)—The deer hunting in Michigan can only get better in the nine days that remain in the regular season this year.

* * *

That's the opinion of David Arnold of Escanaba, district game supervisor of the Conservation Department.

With rain or snow and poor visibility every day since the season opened Nov. 15, Arnold called this the poorest season in his memory.

The unfavorable conditions of the past week may turn into a blessing for hunters out for the final shots of the season, however. Arnold figures that many hunters from now on may find real bargains.

* * *

"So far this season in the Upper Peninsula the deer haven't been moving and neither have the hunters," he said. "There haven't been many deer killed yet so they're still here."

Two fatal heart attacks yesterday boosted the 1957 Michigan deer hunting death toll to 14.

There have been four gunshot deaths and 10 due to natural causes.

Twenty-three hunters have been wounded.

The latest heart attack victims:

The secretary added, however, that he "hoped" Stevenson would help with formulating and pushing through Congress any legislation which might be necessary as a result of the Paris meeting. "But the first thing to do," Dulles added, "is to find out whether he agrees with our program."

Will Recruit Staff for World A-Agency

SANTA FE, N.M. (INS) — Former Rep. W. Sterling Cole, New York Republican, will begin work Dec. 1 recruiting a staff for the International Atomic Energy Agency.

Robert McKinney, Santa Fe publisher and IAEA chairman, made the announcement. McKinney recently returned from the agency's opening sessions in Vienna.

Cole, whose election to a four-year term as director general of the agency was unanimous, is a former chairman of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy.

McKinney described the initial meetings of the 82-nation agency a "tremendous success."

He said a constructive work program has been laid out for the first year of operation, and that he already has begun to recruit a staff for the resident U.S. commission in Vienna.

Pontiac Man's Home Damaged by Blaze

Pontiac firemen report the residence of Vernon Crowe, 68 S. Edith St., was damaged by fire totaling $900 last night.

Cause of the fire was defective wiring in the upstairs bedroom. Building damage amounted to $600 while loss on the contents in the 1½ story frame house reached $300, firemen report.

For Life on Island They Won

Pair to Flee Civilization

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—What would you do if you suddenly won a South Pacific island complete with furnished hut, outrigger canoe and a native man Friday?

Well, the Kent Shelbys, who won an island in a national limerick contest sponsored by a movie studio and travel agency, have this to say:

"We intend to bask in the sun and just fish and swim and read and let the rest of the world go by."

Shelby, 23, an aircraft worker, said yesterday that he, his wife and 15-month-old daughter plan to fly to the 4½-acre island in the Fiji group about the first of the year.

"If it's as good as it sounds we may never come back," Shelby said.

The Day in Birmingham

City Using Detroit Water; Keeps 2 Wells as Standby

BIRMINGHAM — The city has switched brands. Water, that is.

Starting yesterday, all the water piped into Birmingham comes from Detroit, not just half of it, as in the past.

* * *

This follows City Commission action Monday night when it was decided to go with the Detroit source 100 per cent.

The city's four remaining active wells were shut down immediately and valves along 14 Mile road were opened. Two of the local wells, however, will be kept ready for use in emergencies.

The water rates won't be increased, City Manager L. R. Gare said. And the Detroit water will cost less than the building of a treatment plant to mix the two incompatible types.

* * *

Detroit water is pumped in via the Oakland County Water Authority system.

Parents of the Bloomfield Hills area have been alerted by both police and School Supt. Eugene Johnson after a high school girl was approached by a molester earlier this week.

The young student had just left the bus at Long Lake and Eastways roads when the man tried to force her into his car. She ran across a field and escaped. Police said the man was driving a green Chevrolet, probably a 1955 model.

Supt. Johnson suggests to parents:

Tell children to leave buses at stop nearest home; stay in groups; avoid loitering; no youngsters should enter strange cars; if approached get description of auto and license number and notify parents, school or police at once.

Robert Girardin, recreation director, said a three-day skate exchange would be operated at the Eton rink beginning Nov. 24.

Skates will be bought and sold between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Girardin emphasized this is strictly a community service with no charges involved.

Mrs. Irene Murphy, 441 Bonnie Brier St., will be hostess to the Altrusa Club Monday, June Kyle and Mrs. Marion Fisk are planning the program which will follow the 7 p.m. supper.

The Institute is being held at the Engineering Society of Detroit at the Rackham Building today and Friday. The chairman of this conference will be Charles F. Kettering, president of the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation.

The theme of the conference will be "Science Education and the Talented: New City and State Programs."

Speakers of the Institute will be Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, superintendent of the Detroit Public Schools; Dr. Reuben G. Gustavson, director of Resources for the Future; Rear Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, USN and the Foundation Trustees; Walker L. Cisler, the Honorable Charles Edison, William Clay Ford and James W. Parker.

Roeper believes that this conference will be a guidepost for the future direction the education of the talented will take.

CATHERINE MARSHALL

TALKS TODAY — Speaker today and Friday in Birmingham's Town Hall Series is Mrs. Peter Marshall, widow of the former chaplain of the Senate. Mrs. Marshall has written a number of highly successful books, including "A Man Called Peter," "Mr. Jones, Meet the Master," and "Prayers of Peter Marshall."

Police Apprehend 2 in Church Vandalism

Two Royal Oak youths were to appear before juvenile authorities in Pontiac at 2 p.m. today after being apprehended last night at one of the three Birmingham churches where police reported vandalism caused an estimated $1,400 damage.

Windows and doors were broken and offices ransacked in the three churches, all within a three-block area, in what were believed to be robbery attempts.

The First Baptist Church, at Bates and Willits, had $1,000 damage in five offices. Others damaged were the St. James Episcopal Church, Maple and Chester, and the First Church of Christ, Scientist, at Chester and Willits. There was $300 in damage at the Episcopal church.

In all, 18 offices were ransacked. The first Baptist Church reported $36 missing and the Christian Science Church reported $15.20 taken, Birmingham Detective Lt. Merlin Holmquist said.

Windows were broken in each case to gain entry, he said.

Broomfield to Address Engineers Club Tonight

Congressman William S. Broomfield will be guest speaker tonight at the November meeting of the Oakland chapter of the National Society of Professional Engineers, at a 7 p.m. dinner in Fox & Hounds Inn, Bloomfield Hills.

Broomfield (R-Oakland County) will speak on the latest legislation as it affects engineers.

Say Criticism Won't Hinder Adlai's Advice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators Smathers (D-Fla) and Gore (D-Tenn) said today criticism from within the Eisenhower administration is not going to deflect Adlai E. Stevenson from advising Secretary of State Dulles on NATO policies.

★ ★ ★

The two Democratic senators said they regretted what they called a disparaging statement about Stevenson's abilities by Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's chief assistant.

★ ★ ★

Adams said in Chicago Monday that the American people want bipartisanship in international affairs and were getting it by Stevenson's inclusion in an advisory role in the efforts to work out a program for the North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting in Paris next month.

★ ★ ★

With obvious reference to Stevenson, twice-defeated Democratic presidential nominee, Adams added: "I'm not saying anything about the talents of the people being invited to consult with us."

Knowland Will Remain Senate Minority Chief

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) says he will keep the job of Senate minority leader during the next session of Congress despite his entry into the California gubernatorial campaign.

Knowland made the statement in an address to the El Centro Rotary Club yesterday.

The senator is seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination and is expected to face Democratic State Atty. Gen. Edmund Brown in next year's election. Incumbent Republican Gov. Goodwin Knight is seeking Knowland's Senate seat.

Chinese Red Chieftain Returns From Moscow

HONG KONG (AP)—Mao Tze-tung returned to Peiping today after an 18-day visit to Moscow.

Mao was one of the last of the foreign Communist leaders to return from the 40th anniversary celebration of the Bolshevik Revolution. The public jubilee was accompanied by top-level conferences, presumably on strengthening of Communist solidarity, but so far there has been no announcement that anything new was decided.

11 Policemen Pass Exams

3 Acting Sergeants, 14 Others on Pontiac Force Fail Test

The three-man Civil Service Commission certified last night that 11 out of 28 Pontiac policemen passed their examinations for sergeant.

At the same time, commissioners ordered that three acting sergeants, appointed by Chief Herbert W. Straley, be returned to patrolman rank, as they failed the tests.

Those who passed, in the order of their grades were: Det. James F. Bale, Det. Herbert C. Cooley, Det. James H. LaPonse, Patrolman Robert C. Gaines, Patrolman Earl Wesley Sandbeck, Det. Eugene Henderson and Det. Orville C. Johnston tied for sixth. Patrolman Joseph W. Swift, Patrolman Harold Hayden, Det. Richard G. Evans and Patrolman William G. Davis tied for ninth.

Chief Straley this morning said the "tentative vacancies" created by the failure of the three would be filled "as soon as the necessity for filling them presents itself."

He added that before the passing patrolmen may move up, vacancies for 15 patrolman to take their place must be filled.

The commission also said acting Lts. Carl P. Colando and John A. DePauw would continue in their present ranks until results of lieutenant tests were certified. This is expected around Dec. 5.

Former Pontiac Sgt. Medford E. Pittman was returned to the force upon his request, after resigning in August to go to California.

The commissioners rehired him as a beginning patrolman, but waived an examination and probationary period because of his previous experience. They also waived the fact that Pittman is a half-inch under the minimum height.

The State Civil Service Act states that in order for an officer to be reinstated without penalty he must have recorded 10 years on the force. Pittman had 8½ years.

Nat 'King' Cole to End NBC Series Dec. 17

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Singer Nat "King" Cole says he will end his current network TV series for the National Broadcasting Company on Dec. 17.

Cole said yesterday that previous commitments for personal appearances, including a tour of Australia, make it necessary for him to turn down a new series offered by NBC.

Japanese Premier Off to Cambodia for Tour

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi flew on to Cambodia today for the second stop on his tour of Southeast Asia and Pacific island nations.

Kishi paid a two-day state visit to Saigon. In a farewell joint communique with President Ngo Dinh Diem he called for the admission of South Viet Nam to the United Nations "with minimum delay."

Entire Hospital at His Service —for One Day

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — For the rest of his life, soldier James Martin will be able to look back on Wednesday, Nov. 20, as the day when he had:

His own 515-bed hospital for the cure of his broken leg,

* * *

A staff of 15 persons to serve him,

Ten physicians to treat him alone,

Ten nurses to answer his buzzer,

A detachment of military policemen to protect him,

A post exchange to serve only him,

A theater in which he and the hospital staff viewed one of the latest movies, and

His pick of beds.

* * *

But that was yesterday. Today Martin shipped to Ft. Devens Hospital.

Martin, a resident of West Roxbury, was the last patient at Murphy Army General Hospital. All the other patients had been transferred before him in advance of the hospital's closing on Dec. 31.

Martin broke his leg while on duty in Germany. He was transferred to the United States for treatment.

Discusses Law on Gravel Pits

Waterford Board Will Recommend Omission of Prohibitive Rules

At a special meeting of the Waterford Township Board last night, members decided to recommend to the zoning board the omission of an article making gravel pit operation in the township practically prohibitive.

* * *

Gravel pit operators in the area have asked the township board to revise or discard the article of the rural zoning ordinance because of its stiff regulations.

* * *

A gravel pit owner must post a $10,000 bond when applying for a permit for gravel pit operation. The permit costs $25 and must be renewed at the end of one year.

The amendment also says that the pit must be fenced in, and equipment must not create noise, vibration or dust to annoy nearby residents.

* * *

The township board will take action on the ordinance Monday night, and then refer it back to the zoning board for approval.

Doctors Placing Window in Heads of Test Monkeys

CHICAGO (INS)—A Boston physician reported today that a small window paced in the heads of monkeys has allowed doctors to "watch" anti-coaguant drugs ward off clots in brain arteries.

* * *

Participating in a panel at the 43rd annual meeting of the Radiological Society of North America in Chicago, Dr. John S. Meyer said the "peek in" technique indicates that the "recanalization" vessel theory may be incorrect.

Rather than a new canal being formed to allow the blood to flow thriugh the vessel, he said, it appears that the anti-coagulant improves "collateral circulation" supplied by small new arteries which form after the clotting of a major vessel.

* * *

Dr. Meyer said that by observing the tinted blood of the experimental monkeys, it was found that the anti-coagulant improved circulation by preventing adhesiveness of red cells, white cells and platelets (small colorless disks in the blood).

Meteor crater, west of Winslow, Arizona, is large enough to provide playing space for 20 football games at one time, and two million spectators could watch from its sloping sides.

First Steps Are Taken in Urban Renewal

With the recent mailing of Pontiac's application for Federal aid went the city's first bid for a downtown rejuvenation program. The City Commission, City Manager and the Pontiac Downtown Association are to be congratulated on taking this initial step.

The immediate aid sought is $98,000 which, if granted, would be used to draft a more comprehensive set of detailed plans. The area for the urban renewal program would take in the 155 acre parcel surrounding the City Hall.

After mailing the application City Manager Walter K. Willman said, "This community of 85,000 population has a very serious renewal program, and this project will be a major step in a program under way to improve this city."

There is no doubt that if it can be successfully conducted it will be a great thing for the city. Any program such as this that is for the advancement and face lifting of Pontiac will be a strong economic boost.

Programs such as this are not new. Many cities like Detroit, Battle Creek and Grand Rapids have either accomplished or are in the midst of such a city face lifting.

We have a long way to go, but this first step forward is heartening news for all Pontiac. Many meetings and discussions have been held and now the program is actually under way.

It will not be accomplished overnight; a good deal of careful planning is still necessary and we must receive the grant for Federal aid.

Neither of these requirements imposes insuperable obstacles to success. Pontiac's future looks bright. We are moving ahead to keep Pontiac abreast of the times.

Local Farm Methods Undergoing Changes

The encroachment of industry, intensive home building, labor conditions and modern methods have worked a revolution in farming in the Pontiac area in recent years.

Statistics show that in 1907 over 5,000 tons of sugar beets were raised in Oakland County. Fifty years later that crop is almost negligible here.

★ ★ ★

A half century ago our county was one of the leading bean producers of the nation. Today beans are a minor crop.

Buckwheat, once raised in quantities ample for the local flapjack consumption, with much for outside sale, now is almost unknown.

For many years we had a sugar beet factory at Rochester, which absorbed most of the local crop.

But our soil was found to be unsuitable for the profitable raising of beets. They also were too much of a labor crop in competition with the industrialization of the area. The farmers quit raising them and the factory closed.

Beans were found to pull too much of the fertile essentials from the soil. They also are too vital in early frosts, and there was too much variation in the price. So most farmers discarded them.

Buckwheat often did not mature on account of its tender texture and liability to being killed by an early frost.

★ ★ ★

Corn and wheat still are our area's major crops. In many cases they've gained the acreage that discontinued crops made available. Modern mechanical farm equipment reduces their labor cost, which is the main financial fight with local farmers.

★ ★ ★

On account of potatoes also being a big labor crop, their local production is threatened. The farmer cannot match union wages.

In many cases, dairying has succeeded crop production. Fruit raising also helps take up the slack.

Although often pushed back by the growth of industry, our farmers are doing a good job at keeping Oakland County near the top of the list as an agricultural area.

Local Historical Material Available for Home Shrine

Deer: What some hunters feel should be spelled "dear", when they compute the expense of it.

An extended, well composed and kindly letter drifts in from

Frank N. Elliott,

Curator of History at Michigan State University. It follows his recent visit to Pontiac in seeking historical effects for the museum at MSU. While I never have met Mr. Elliott, thanks for his many compliments.

However, I disagree with him on some major points, as it is my ambition to keep Oakland County's pioneer remembrances within its borders. Under the direction of its owners, the

Oakland County Historical Commission,

we already have a place for properly housing such things, and making them available for the inspection of the general public, which is the essence of such a project. It is the

Moses Wisner Home,

the like of which, in its historical background and otherwise, no other county in the entire state can match.

Hardly a day passes without my being apprised of at least one item worthy of such a place. I tell these people to hold them in abeyance until the commission is ready to accept them for display every day in the year. It is hoped this will not be in the too distant future. Some such material already has gone to Lansing. Let's keep these priceless things at home. We have the historical shrine which they'll make more worthy of such a name.

Some of the entrants in our postage problem contest evidently do not understand the question. The $25 prize goes for the greatest number of combinations of stamps that would cover an air mail letter, the total postage on which is twelve cents.

Caught in the traffic jam on the Mackinac Bridge Tuesday, when some trailers were overturned by the high wind,

Fred Farnsworth

of Walled Lake phones me a compliment for that new hundred million dollar structure. He says, "It was a terrific hurricane—but the bridge didn't know it."

Northville is the only city or village located both in some other county and our own Oakland. It already had a subdivision on our side of the line, and now sends word that 240 acres more were added in a special election Tuesday.

City Clerk Mary Alexander

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

"It USED to Be Impossible"

David Lawrence Says:

Troops Confirm Faubus' Policy

WASHINGTON — It has been officially announced that, although "regular Army" troops are to be withdrawn next week from Little Rock, Ark., due to "continuing stability" of the situation, the regular Army general will stay in command of the "Federalized" National Guardsmen who are to be kept on the scene.

LAWRENCE

This is but another way of saying that the administration here has not yet found a way to extricate itself from its legal dilemma.

For 60 days or more now the federal policy, ironically enough, has been a confirmation of the doctrine of Governor Faubus—that military force must be used "to prevent violence."

The Arkansas governor, of course, was berated for his stand on the ground that, in calling out the National Guard, he wasn't really trying to prevent violence, but to prevent "integration."

Motive is a hard thing to prove in court, but the issues took on a different aspect the moment the Federal government sent in the paratroopers for the same basic reason—to prevent violence arising from a court order.

The President has since publicly stated that the Federal troops were ordered into Little Rock, "not to enforce or to advance any governmental policy respecting integration, desegregation or segregation," but to enforce a court order.

What is the legal or constitutional position of these troops? Much has been said about "obeying the law of the land" and of "upholding the Constitution."

The late Justice Jackson, in an opinion concurring with a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1952, dealt with this question in connection with the ruling that President Truman violated the Constitution by unlawful seizure of the steel industry. Justice Jackson said the Constitution sets forth this policy:

"Congress, not the executive, should control utilization of the war power as an instrument of domestic policy. Congress, fulfilling that function, has authorized the President to use the Army to enforce certain civil rights." He then in a footnote cited the statute that has since been repealed, Justice Jackson added.

"On the other hand, Congress has forbidden him (the President) to use the Army for the purpose of executing general laws, except when expressly authorized by the Constitution or by act of Congress."

Justice Jackson emphasized the word "expressly" and then in a footnote he cited for his authority the "Posse Comitatus Act," originally passed in 1878. It was reenacted by Congress in the new edition of the U.S. Code in August 1956.

This act specifically forbids the use of Federal troops to act as a "posse comitatus"—that is, as emergency policemen in domestic disturbances or as sheriffs for the courts—except when Congress shall authorize such use to enforce acts of Congress.

How, then, can the legal problem at Little Rock now be resolved? There is a way. It is for the Federal government to notify the local authorities, both state and city, that on a certain date all troops will be withdrawn, and to make an appeal to the citizens to maintain order.

The U.S. marshal can deputize 1,000 or more citizens, if necessary, to aid in enforcing the district court's order, which at present specifically forbids interference with the entry of any enrolled pupils to the school.

For there are laws which empower the marshal to organize a "sheriff's posse" to enforce court orders.

The Country Parson

"I don't like to scare people into mending their ways—but I guess it's better than not getting the job done."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Drinking to Allay Misery Adds Trouble to Trouble

Most of us would unhesitatingly condemn a person who spends a substantial sum for his or her daily or weekly supply of morphine, heroin, cocaine, barbiturate, dexedrine (amphetamine sulfate), or marihuana, and especially if the cost of the narcotic meant deprivation for his dependents.

DR. BRADY

Well, alcohol is a narcotic, in any quantity or dose.

You may deceive yourself or your companions that you take a drink because you need a stimulant or a bracer or a restorative or something to warm you up after exposure or to steady your nerves for some ordeal.

Of course this is all hooey. You crave the drink for precisely the same reason the addict craves his heroin or other narcotic—because you feel miserable, rotten, incompetent, inferior in one way or another, guilty ashamed, remorseful or unhappy.

You know a drink or several drinks will make you less aware or unaware of your shortcomings, for an hour or so. That's the way a narcotic works. A stimulant would make you more aware of such feelings.

A person who has vite, that is, good nutritional condition and a good conscience, feels just fine and dandy and doesn't crave anything that dulls his awareness of his good health and fitness, even for a little while.

Discount the whoopee and make-believe and you will find that patrons of bars and nightclubs are unhappy people.

GOOD HEALTH HELPS

So it seems to me that good health and vite, more than anything else, protects young Americans from acquiring a liking for alcohol.

The purpose of this column is to build and preserve health. Symptoms, diseases and treatment should be discussed privately, at bedside or in the doctor's office. The very idea of a medical column in a newspaper is unethical.

In the pamphlet "Young Folks and Old Folks" and the booklet "The 7 Keys to Vite" (send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for both) I tell how to build your own diet on the pattern for the corrective, protective, regeneration, reduction or basic health diet (p. 42-43) and how to supplement your regular diet with the vitamins and minerals most Americans need.

Any young, middle-aged or elderly person whose vite and health is below par—what American's isn't?—will be happier and live longer with better nutritional condition.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene (not disease, diagnosis, or treatment) will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Suggests Allowing Bingo to Raise Hospital Money

It is a disgrace to leave the hospital wing as it is. Worse to board it up. Now why can't the City come up with an ordinance allowing bingo for charity? And who needs charity more than Pontiac General Hospital? It's pretty awful when you have to beg for necessities.

You know this city isn't really steeped in sin. Therefore, a few bingo nights would not make it the "worst town on the river." I've never yet seen any arms or legs twisted to get a crowd to play. I've had a number of elderly folks ask why not. Six hundred people donating a dollar seven nights a week adds up.

Another Group Defends Itself

A letter the other day stated the group building paths wasn't appointed by anyone, but without the backing of the school board and township officials their project couldn't have been started. And it isn't finished yet.

The Independent Safety Association has been misquoted for its aim is bus transportation until safe walking is provided. If this path project is such a good thing, why haven't more been started? We ask the public to see the path and decide if they would want their children to walk there.

'Why Won't Men Help With Dishes?'

Why is it that men dislike doing dishes when they will do any other household chore quite willingly? My husband baby sits, vacuums, cleans the cellar, etc., but turns thumbs down on the dishes.

Wonder Why

Two More Letters Defend Ministers

Some day Long Time Observer will meet those words. A minister should dress as well, have as nice a home, car and everything else as his members. If he doesn't, shame on his congregation. If some have made a racket of it, the good Lord will take care of them, and Long Time Observer won't have to worry about them. But he will have to give an account of himself to God. Sure hope he starts observing God instead of the preachers.

Betty Fought
144 Ruth St.

I agree with Long Time Observer that more young men and women, too, should enter the ministry. However, if you think it's a racket, you know nothing of what the ministry involves, its meaning to mankind and its purpose in connection with God's word.

In the first place, a man doesn't just enter the ministry, he is called. No man could do justice to this consecrated task unless that were so. Only in communities where dedicated men set about this task do we see the greatest gains made to overcome all the problems of human existence, such as delinquency, divorce, etc.

You are being prayed for whether you care or not, because long before Sunday ministers will be praying to God to speak the words that will alter the attitudes of Long Time Observer to that of all-time Christians.

'Should We Heed Ike's Message?'

The city is applying to our government for over a million dollars of tax money to rebuild part of the city. If the city fathers heard our President's address stating that in order to protect, secure and advance our scientific program, "all unnecessary expenditures must be eliminated," should we heed the warning or turn a deaf ear for personal benefit?

'What's to Become of This Trend?'

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Gives Tips to Spark Sunday School

Ellen is a Sunday school teacher who wants to know how to zoom attendance and make her pupils learn far more about the Bible. Study the advice below; then watch for the follow-up case tomorrow, for psychology can work wonders in every church.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-346: Ellen W., aged 16, teaches a Sunday school class of 12-year-old girls.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, I wish I were a better teacher," she began.

"My girls chatter a great deal and don't stick to the lesson as much as they should.

"So what can I do to create more interest in the class and also bring out a larger attendance?

"We average only nine girls per Sunday. I wish we could have at least 15."

'PEP UP' SUNDAY SCHOOL

We medics learned long ago that it is wise to sugar - coat our pills.

DR. CRANE

The medicines we employ may be real life preservers, but people still will shun them unless they taste good.

And so it is with Sunday school. It isn't enough to tell young folks:

"You should come to church for your spiritual well-being."

That's much like a doctor's telling a malaria patient:

"You should enjoy quinine because it will stop your malaria."

For people aren't attracted even to good things unless the latter are meanwhile "packaged" attractively.

There is thus no valid reason why religion should not use the tested laws of psychology that are constantly being employed so successfully in business and medicine.

So what do 12-year-old girls enjoy?

Ego inflation! Desire to help others! Rivalry! Praise from teacher and parents!

Use these basic principles in pepping up Sunday school. They will work like a charm.

EGO INFLATION

Ellen can thus select two girls each week who are to cooperate with her in preparing four-answer ("multiple choice") written exam over the lesson, as:

David's great friend was called — JOAB — JONATHAN — JEHU — JOEL.

David's son who led a revolt against David was — AMNON — SOLOMON — ADONIJAH — ABSALOM.

Make 10 to 20 of these four-answer questions. Then divide the class into two teams on Sunday morning with a captain over each.

Let each team pool its combined knowledge. Then see which team gets the better score.

People hesitate to compete individually on such a quiz for they fear getting a low score and thus being publicly labeled as "dumb."

So let them combine their efforts in teams of three or four classmates.

Such pencil-and-paper games are thus very popular if you let a crowd compete in a group and pool their wits, for then they don't feel so badly if they lose.

RIVALRY

Such a four-answer quiz gives the students more specific knowledge of the lesson. And if you then urge them to take home their typewritten four-answer test, you can easily get them to use it on their Daddy and Mother.

This makes Bible lessons more fun, for the pupil now becomes the teacher and can often "show up" her parents.

Besides, when you become a teacher, you learn far more! So Ellen can easily make sub-teachers out of every pupil by having her girls take their papers home to use on their parents.

And Ellen's girls should challenge a boy's class to an attendance contest, for rivalry is the yeast that leavens a whole Sunday school.

But make your contests of short duration, as four weeks, and have the pay-off quickly. Then launch a new contest immediately!

For further advice, go to your public library and read Ch. XI, in my new book "How to 'Cash-in' on Your Worries," for it contains dozens of tested methods for improving Sunday school lessons and church attendance.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Many Brilliant Minds Steered From Science

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

(4th in series)

NEW YORK (AP)— Thousands of tomorrow's potential scientists are dying on the vine.

A scientist needs an intelligent mind, special training—often years of rigorous training—and real interest. Talent in science, say leading scientists, is essentially intense interest.

But many bright young minds are being steered away from science. Educators and scientists cite numerous reasons:

Science and mathematics courses are not stressed enough in schools, including early enough and well enough.

Mathematics is a cornerstone of science, and our modern way of life. But many youngsters think of algebra as a horrid world. Arithmetic often is taught boringly.

"Cook book high school labs" blunt interest.

"Any good student is irked to death by the memorization and formulas and routineness with which science is taught these days," says Dr. R. W. Lefler, professor of physics and education at Purdue University.

We suffer a shortage of high school science teachers. Teachers' salaries generally "are a national disgrace and evidence of public indifference toward learning," declares Dr. B. D. Thomas, director of the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio.

Numerous teen-agers, a Purdue survey finds, regard scientists as wicked, as longhairs or squares, as unable or incapable of living a normal life, or of enjoying life.

Many students avoid science courses as hard, or for squares. If the science bug bites them later on in college, they find they'll have to go back, at extra time and expense, to make up what they had missed, or else turn to some other career.

Russian students in 10-year schools have taken five years of physics, six of math, three of biology, four of chemistry.

Many bright students can't afford college. Systems of scholarships are being suggested so able, interested students can go on to college—in all fields of learning, not just science.

High school and college students often avoid science because they see higher pay and rewards going to careers in selling, advertising, medicine, business, entertainment and other fields.

Some scientists make very good incomes. Some are notoriously underpaid, especially in teaching and basic research, and especially by standards of their contributions to human welfare and progress.

Half of U.S. scientists made less than $6,525 annually in 1954 and 1955, the National Science Foundation reports from a questionnaire of 50,000 men and women.

Median salaries — meaning that half made more, and half made less—were: physicists, $7,275; geologists, $7,250; mathematicians, $6,300; biolgists, $6,175; meteorologists $6,050; astronomers $5,950, and psychologists, $5,850.

Jobs in industry generally pay higher. These medians may well be higher now.

The American Chemical Society reports starting median salaries this year range from $8,100 for Ph.Ds in chemical engineering and $7,800 for Ph.Ds in chemistry to $5,500 and $5,200 for those with bachelor degrees in chemical engineering and chemistry respectively.

These averages cover both industry and teaching, but the society said that Ph.Ds going into industry averaged 38 per cent higher paychecks than those going into teaching.

Money is not the sole reward for most scientists. They would like more, of course. Their rewards include doing what they like, being creative, learning more, finding values that carry no dollar sign.

New Nitro Process Called Cheaper, Safer

STOCKHOLM — A new Swedish-developed process is said to produce nitroglycerin more cheaply and safely than conventional methods.

Termed "injector nitration," the new process employes an injector to transfer the product as a non-explosive spent-acid emulsion to a separate housing where the ester is removed by a centrifugal separator running at high speed without direct supervision.

Morocco's Monarch Is Easygoing Symbol

Sultan Successful Doing Nothing

By TOM HENSHAW

Sidi Mohammed ben Youssef became sultan of Morocco by doing nothing.

He's been achieving remarkable success by doing nothing ever since.

The French administrators of Morocco picked him for the throne in 1927 over the heads of two elder, but supposedly less tractable, brothers.

They kicked him out in 1953 when he refused to apply the royal seal to anti-nationalist decrees handed down to him by the Paris government.

And, finally, he returned in triumph as constitutional monarch of a newly independent Morocco after two years of leisurely, do-nothing exile in Corsica and Madagascar.

SULTAN BEN YOUSSEF

* * *

While the free-spending, autocratic sultan is not exactly beloved of his people, he can afford to do nothing since he is their symbol of nationalism and independence.

Ben Youssef the lukewarm nationalist dates from World War II.

Before that time he was content to let the French rule while he toyed with his hobbies: Money, fast cars (he owned 56 at one time), tennis and women (two wives and uncounted concubines).

But after the war he was to tell the French: "The protectorate regime is a suit tailored for the Morocco of 1912. In 1945 it hardly reaches the knees."

* * *

His stubborn refusal to crack down on the istiqal (independence) movement angered the French. Resident-General Alphonse Juin is reported to have told him: "Do as I ask or abdicate." Ben Youssef wouldn't do either.

The French hustled him into exile so fast he was wearing only pajamas as he boarded the plane. Two wives, 22 concubines, three daughters and five tons of baggage followed on a later plane.

If the French thought the sultan's ouster would dampen nationalist feeling they were mistaken. As an exiled martyr, Ben Youssef became a near deity to the terrorist bands that roamed Morocco in the name of independence.

* * *

The French were forced to return him to the throne and grant independence as the easy way out. And Ben Youssef had a good word for his former protectors: Independence, he said, does not mean breaking our bonds with France."

Ben Youssef is 48 and the 18th sultan of the Alaoui dynasty which has ruled Morocco, with or without help, since the 17th Century. Like the rulers of Jordan, Iraq, Yemen and Libya, the Alaouites claim direct descent from the Prophet.

The sultan is a devout Moslem but wears an odd combination of traditional Moroccan robes and Western dress. He has never taken an alcoholic drink and reads the Koran several hours daily.

His two wives (half the allowable Moslem number) and concubines live secluded, veiled lives but his four daughters (one born during the Madagascar exile) are becoming Westernized.

The oldest, Princess Lalla Aicha, is the leader of a movement for the emancipation of Moroccan women. She has even had her picture taken in a bathing suit, a shocking departure from Moslem custom.

Paper Firms Invest

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — To meet the growing demand for paper and paper producets, the American paper industry has invested more than $50 in equipment for every United States citizen.

Rear-Light Defects Lead in Car Checks

WASHINGTON — During the 1957 National Vehicle Safety-Check program one out of every five vehicles checked was found to need maintenance attention for safe driving.

For the third year in a row rear lights led the list of 10 items checked and found most frequently in need of immediate attention. Brakes, front lights, exhaust systems, and tires ranked next, in that order.

Oslo Plans for Exhibits

OSLO — The Norwegian Trade Fair is making progress on plans for a permanent exhibition center in Oslo where products of Norway's industries can be displayed.

Test Machine Strong Yet Highly Delicate

ATLANTA — A Southern aircraft plant is using a $175,000 machine that is strong enough to exert a force of 1,200,000 pounds yet delicate enough to compress an egg without crushing its shell.

It enables research engineers to make extensive strength evaluations of military cargo planes, ensuring maximum performance and greater service life for the aircraft.

Told Wilson Mentioned White House Complaints on Releasing Data

WASHINGTON (INS)—A House subcommittee probing government secrecy was told yesterday that ex-Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson mentioned "White House complaints" in cracking down on release of information on U.S. missile progress.

★ ★ ★

The testimony came from Dr. Clifford Furnas, onetime assistant defense secretary for research and development. He said Wilson on several occasions spoke of White House dissatisfaction over disclosure of classified material.

Meanwhile, the subcommittee ordered the Pentagon to produce files so it can check conflicting testimony about a reprimand by President Eisenhower to former Air Force Research Chief Trevor Gardner.

Furnas, now chancellor of the University of Buffalo, corroborated Gardner's testimony that basic research in the space weapons field tended to be relegated to a minor position while Wilson headed the Defense Department.

Furnas estimated that the U.S. is "one or two years" behind Russia in satellite development but ahead of the Soviets in over-all military preparedness. He blamed "official apathy" for Russia's scientific advantages.

★ ★ ★

The controversy over the Gardner reprimand centered on a speech made by the ex-research chief.

Enriched Rice Tried

CARACAS — A Special type of vitamin-enriched rice has been put on sale by the Venezuelan Development Corporation. The National Nutrition Bureau says each 100 grams (about 3¾ ounces) contain 50 per cent of the daily human requirements of riboflavin, niacin, iron, and calcium compared with only 8 per cent in untreated rice.

Little Red School Holding Back Kansas Progress

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — A. F. Throckmorton, Kansas superintendent of schools, says nostalgia for the little red school house is cheating 10,000 youngsters in the state of an opportunity for an adequate high school education.

★ ★ ★

"Rural people, unwilling to relinquish tangible evidence of their days in one-room schools, refuse to allow them to be consolidated," Throckmorton said. "They are doing children an injustice by the maintenance of marginal schools while better schools are available."

★ ★ ★

The superintendent pointed out there were 110 high schools in Kansas last year with 35 or fewer pupils. He said high schools with 50 or fewer pupils rarely offer courses in chemistry and physics. He estimated instruction in mathematics and science is deficient in 100 to 150 small high schools.

Kitchen Noisy Place to One Who Was Deaf

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Leldon Backes, almost totally deaf for the whole of her married life, has just had an operation to restore her hearing. And she's found her kitchen is a pretty noisy place.

"I never knew things sizzled so when I fried them," she said. "They make a terrible racket."

The San Luis Valley Railroad, 31-mile rail line in Colorado, has received I.C.C. permission to abandon all but two miles of its track. Reason: No finances to buy new motive power.

Will Go Into Prison to Question Spies

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Two convicted atomic spies will be questioned privately in prison today by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Subcommittee counsel Robert Morris said he and Sen. Butler (R-Md) will take testimony from David Greenglass of New York and Harry Gold of Philadelphia, who are serving terms in the federal penitentiary here.

Morris said the subcommittee wants to find out from Greenglass and Gold whether Julius Greenberg, executed in 1953 as an atomic spy, ever told them he gave information to Russia on space platforms.

After the questioning, Morris and Butler will go to Philadelphia to conduct a public hearing of the subcommittee. Seven witnesses are scheduled to testify on communism in the Philadelphia area.

Caro Hunter, 69, Dies Following Heart Attack

IRONWOOD (AP) — The body of Charles Trisch, 69, Caro, has been removed from the hunting camp where he died of a heart attack during Monday night's Upper Peninsula's blizzard.

A nephew, Lloyd Trisch of Caro, walked 12 hours through the snow Tuesday to summon help.

Coroner Willard Driscoll said today Trisch apparently died from excitement when snow falling from trees collapsed his tent about midnight Monday.

Africa averages about 15.1 persons per square mile.

First Lt. Robert D. Bunce, son of Mr. Robert E. Bunce of 460 N. Saginaw St., was awarded his second pair of wings, those of a navigator, at graduation exercises at James Connally Air Force Base, Waco, Texas recently.

BUNCE

Bunce, a U. S. Air Force pilot for six years, took six months of specialized navigator training to prepare as an aircraft commander of jet Strategic Air Command bomber aircraft.

This training has qualified him for the triple rating of pilot-navigator-observer. Prior to entering the service in 1950, Bunce attended the University of Michigan.

Security for You

Old Age Assistance May Go With SS

By RAY HENRY

One of the main purposes of Social Security when it was set up in 1935 is slowly being accomplished. That is, Social Security should gradually reduce the number of needy old people receiving public tax money.

A few days ago, a Social Security official told me the number collecting Old-Age Assistance has dropped more than 300,000 since 1950, the peak year. This is true even though 2½ million people over 65 have been added to the population since then.

The drop is mostly due to Social Security taking over the load which Old-Age Assistance once carried. Three out of four people reaching 65 now are entitled to Social Security.

Despite this, it'll be at least 20 to 30 years before the number on Old-Age Assistance rolls will reach rock bottom.

And, there may always be a need for some Old-Age Assistance to help people who haven't worked enough to get Social Security or who don't get enough Social Security to live on.

Right now, about one out of five of the 2½ million getting Old-Age Assistance are also receiving Social Security.

In any case, the purpose of Old-Age Assistance is to help old people to live.

So, if you're over 65 and don't have enough to live o — even though you're collecting Social Security—you may want to find out if you may draw the assistance money.

The requirements to be eligible for the payments vary from state-to-state, as do the size of the monthly payments you may draw.

To run the program, the federal government puts up part of the money and sets the broad rules of operation. The states put up the rest of the money and set the rest of the rules.

In general, whether you're eligible for Old-Age Assistance depends on whether your state considers you "needy." It decides whether you are after it looks at how much income you have without the assistance.

* * *

Then, if your state figures your present income isn't enough to live on, you're considered "needy" and it'll make up the difference between your income and what it figures you need.

Because some people have more expensive needs due to illness, etc., and because some people have more income than others, the payments even within states are seldom the same for any two people.

If you feel you qualify for Old-Age Assistance, your first step is to visit, write or phone your nearest welfare office. If you don't know the address or phone number, chances are you can get it through your local post office.

* * *

As a result of your inquiry, a welfare office worker will tell you what information you need to formally apply for payments. He'll also take your application.

Within a reasonable time, you'll receive a notice from the welfare office telling you whether or not your application has been approved. If it has, you'll be told how much you'll be getting and when your payments will start.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Clear Six Persons in Little Rock Dispute

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Six persons, arrested outside Little Rock Central High School during integration—inspired disturbances on Sept. 24, were cleared in Municipal Court yesterday.

Five men were dismissed by Judge Harry C. Robinson after a warning. The sixth case was dropped by the state. All six defendants had been booked for disturbing the peace.

* * *

Robinson told the five:

"The way I look at it, you didn't have any business out there at the school. But apparently you didn't do anything, so I'm going to pardon you with this admonition: don't go back out there."

Police testified the five were arrested after they disregarded orders to "move on."

* * *

The five were docketed as Charles Wilkerson, Arthur J. Bickle, W. T. Purdom, William Johnson and W. R. Faulk. The defendant whose case was dropped was Bill Penney. All live in or near Little Rock.

* * *

Other court cases growing out of the integration dispute here will be tried later. All defendants are charged with misdemeanors.

Move Town's Stores

SUMMIT LAKE, Wis. (AP)—It will take more than a highway bypass to sidestep Summit Lake, a determined hamlet of about 100 population. The business district is being moved, building by building, to a site two blocks away along the newly rerouted U.S. 45, which bypasses the old shopping center.

Health authorities in the U. S. now estimate there are about 60,000 opium addicts living in America.

Junior Editors Quiz on LEGENDS

QUESTION: Was there a real Johnny Appleseed?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Behind many a legend there is a bit of truth. But behind the story of Johnny Appleseed, which sounds almost like a legend, there was a very real man. Johnny, whose last name actually was Chatham, was born on a farm in Massachusetts during apple blossom time just before the Revolutionary war. Loving the woods and fields, he started to wander about the country when about 20 years old. While visiting an uncle in Olean, N.Y., he decided to become an "apple missionary." Gathering apple seeds at a cider mill, he carried them with him and planted them by the roadside wherever he thought they would thrive. Later he would return and tend his orchards. Unarmed and barefooted, accepting old clothes but little or no money for himself, he was a friend of the Indians, yet served the government as an Indian scout. He died in Indiana when 75 years old.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: You can color this picture of Johnny planting an apple tree, but better still, plan to plant an apple tree of your own next spring if possible. It's better to plant a rooted tree from a nursery, however, than to depend on a seed.

★ ★ ★

(Mail a postcard with your question to Violet Moore Higgins in care of The Pontiac Press and you may win $10 as did Byron Bush, Pinole, Calif. for today's idea.)

TOMORROW: What makes the Northern Lights shine?

Irish Bankers Seek Recruits for Training

BELFAST — Emigration has brought a shortage of bank workers to Northern Ireland, Belfast reports. Feeling the pinch for a supply of recruits, banks are sending agents to selected schools to track down suitable material.

However, there appears to be no prospect of a salary raise for junior officials, and observers wonder what incentive may be offered to them. Perhaps they will be told that provided they remain single promotion will be rapid.

This appears to be the policy of at least one leading bank. The banks know that most of their married officials are lacking in courage to uproot their families and go to foreign parts, it is said.

Not Used in Pakistan

KARACHI — Steel consumption per capita, a key indicator of economic development, is 275 times as great in the United States as in Pakistan.

Memory of Rojas Lingers On in Dollar Shortage

Colombians Don't Miss Deposed Dictator

MEDELLIN, Colombia — (NEA) — In th juke boxes in the cantinas and cafes of Medellin, wealthiest city in Colombia, the hit tune these days is a parody entitled "Arrivederce Rojas" (So Long, Rojas).

★ ★ ★

It is an apt and not particularly tender expression of the way most Colombianos feel about their erstwhile dictator-President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla. Ousted last May by the present five-man military junta, Rojas' memory lingers on in a dollar shortage that has forced a stgict austerity program.

There is no austerity, either, for Eduardo Santamaria, a Medellin businessman who is cashing in on the import of an idea.

The idea is a form of horse wagering called 5 & 6, a sort of parlay in which the horse player must pick five or six winners out of six special races run each Sunday.

$400,000,000 crop of coffee is harvested in Colombia, but the country's businessmen want more than java in their cup.

HANDICAPPER'S DREAM

The handicapper's dream was brought across the border from Venezuela, where for years it has kept the citizenry in a coma from Saturday night, when the horses have to be picked, until Sunday afternoon, when most of them run out of the money.

In Colombia the races are run in Bogota, but 5 & 6 can be played through official agencies almost everywhere in the country. Each week it lures nearly 200,000 bettors, all of whom hope to emulate a shoeshine boy and coffee shop cashier who shared one ticket for an investment of 17½ cents apiece and split winnings of $85,400.

Businessman Santamaria, however, does not bother to pick horses. After 5 & 6 came to Colombia a couple of years ago, he gave up his profitable auto parts business and latched on to the official 5 & 6 agency for the Medellin area.

GETS CUT

He gets a cut on each betting form sold plus a five per cent commission of the total volume of bets. In partnership with his brother, he grosses better than $15,000 a week.

In a sense, the Santamarias symbolize the new business attitude in Colombia. They are not pinning their future on one enterprise, since they have a comfortable sideline in a ranch outside Medellin which fattens 2,000 head of cattle a year for the beef market.

Neither 5 & 6 nor domestic beef will bring Colombia any of the dollars it needs. But the idea of diversification is there, nevertheless.

The Colombia economy is getting a healthy boost this year from a 400 million dollar coffee crop, and coffee has long been the No. 1 business in this country, the world's second largest producer.

RANKS FIFTH

Colombia, which also ranks fifth in oil reserves in the western hemisphere, is working to expand its income from black gold.

But while it copied Venezuela in the 5 & 6 horse race game, the country has no illusions about copying its neighbor's rise to riches on oil alone, any more than it expects to live off the American coffee drinker.

"Now that we've awakened to world trade," one top businessman here summed it up, "we're confident we can make Colombia a rich country. But we want our wealth to be based on everything we have, and not just on a sudden gush of oil or the American thirst for coffee."

Marine Guard Jailed for Cruelty to Sailor

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—Jose D. L. Medina, 22, of Albuquerque N. M., was placed under 30 days restriction today and fined $60 for cruelty to a U. S. sailor in the brig at Sasebo naval base.

Medina, one of 16 U. S. Marine guards being tried by the Navy for alleged maltreatment of prisoners, was convicted by summary court-martial of punching Apprentice Seaman George H. Frazier, 18, Lawndale, Calif.

The fine was spread over a three-month period. The sentence is subject to review.

The stocky Leatherneck was the last of six to be tried by summary courts and the fourth to be convicted. Eight men are to be tried by special courts-martial, which can give heavier sentences, and two by general courts, the services' most powerful tribunal.

ON THE BEACH

Based on the Best-Selling Novel by Nevil Shute

While the USS SCORPION was being readied for her cruise to the U.S., skipper Dwight Towers shopped for presents for his family in West Mystic, Conn. He brought a rod and reel for 10-year-old Dwight Jr.

For his wife Sharon, he bought a costly emerald bracelet, after hours lost in a futile search for a pogo stick for Helen, his six-year-old daughter.

He had set his heart on a pogo stick since seeing one among the childhood relics of Moira Davidson, a girl sympathetically aware of his inability to realize that his family must certainly have died in World War III.

Judge Declines Painting

WIGAN, England (AP)—Artist Jim Isherwood offered to pay a speeding fine with one of his paintings, assuring the court, "they'll be valuable in a few years." The judge decided to take the cash now—2 pounds 10 shillings ($7).

Interservice Rivalry Called Missile 'Stumbling Block'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), who contends the United States is "seriously behind" Russia in long-range missiles development, said, today interservice rivalry is partly responsible.

* * *

"One of our stumbling blocks is and has been interservice rivalry," Mahon said in an interview as his House Appropriations subcommittee moved deeper into an inquiry on the status of the U.S. missiles program.

* * *

"There should be cooperation and the 'opposition' should be the Soviet Union," he added.

Secretary of Defense McElroy, leading off the testimony yesterday told newsmen afterward the U.S. missiles program is in "good shape." He mentioned in this connection three intermediate range weapons — the Air Force's Thor, the Army's Jupiter and the Navy's Polaris.

* * *

However, Mahon disagreed sharply, saying "we have lagged behind the Russians in the intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) and we've got to come from behind and come abreast as soon as we can."

* * *

Agreeing with Mahon, Rep. Sykes (D-Fla) said he "would like to see some specific things that are being done to bring us abreast of the Russians."

However, a third member of the subcommittee, Rep. Wigglesworth (R-Mass), said, "Nobody knows what the Russians have. Most of these expressions of opinion are based on guesswork."

* * *

Mahon's statement that the United States is seriously behind the Soviet Union in developing an IRBM was challenged by William M. Holaday, the Defense Department's missiles boss. "I don't believe so," Holaday said after emerging from the hearing.

* * *

Holaday conceded that "based on what they (the Russians) said, maybe we are behind them" in developing an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

Intermediate range missiles are designed to reach targets up to 1,500 miles away. An intercontinental missile would travel 5,000 miles.

Mahon said it would be "a very helpful thing" if the missile program were taken away from the individual services and consolidated "up into the Defense Department."

* * *

Another critic of interservice rivalry is Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ), who said in Montclair, N.J., that such pulling and hauling "suggests an alarming tendency to overlook the real competitor" — Russia.

"It has become apparent that rivalry between the services, far from speeding our efforts in the missile field, has . . . tended to slow down progress," he said.

Too Busy to Take Mail

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordan's deputy premier and foreign minister, Samir el Rifai, flew to Saudi Arabia today with a special message from King Hussein to King Saud. Contents of the message were not disclosed, but an informed source said it concerned a "highly important political subject."

Adlai Working? It's Official

State Department Adds Stevenson to Payroll at $50 Per Workday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department belatedly disclosed today that Adlai Stevenson was sworn in yesterday morning as a foreign policy consultant and that he is on the payroll.

The rate is about $50 a day on days the Democratic leader works for the Republican administration.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the action was not announced at the time apparently because of some kind of mixup over how it should be announced. Normally swearings-in are ballyhooed in advance to get maximum attention.

When Stevenson arrived here to begin talks with Secretary of State Dulles on U.S. planning for next month's NATO summit meeting he was described by State Department officials as being non-titled and non-paid.

In a speech in Chicago last night, however, Dulles said Stevenson would be on the government payroll for a long, long time and went on to explain that a top level consultant—such as Dulles himself was under the Democratic Truman administration—draws about $50 a day.

It was this remark by Dulles which triggered the State Department disclosure that Stevenson actually had taken the oath yesterday as a consultant to President Eisenhower although he is technically on the payroll of the State Department.

Elizabeth, Philip Omit Attendants on Anniversary

LONDON (INS) — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip caused some eyebrow lifting today by failing to invite most of the members of their wedding party to a 10th anniversary palace party last evening.

Even Princess Margaret, principal bridesmaid at her sister's wedding in 1947, did not go to the party until after midnight, following dinner and the theater with Billy Wallace and other friends.

A palace spokesman explained "it was a private party of contemporaries and closest friends of the Queen and duke."

However, the Queen Mother was at the party and society gossips felt Margaret should have been, too.

The only other one of the eight bridesmaids to attend the wedding anniversary celebration was Lady Pamela Mountbatten.

Philip's best man, the Marquis of Milford Haven, also was missing but that was no surprise.

Milford Haven, once one of Philip's best friends, hasn't been seen in the royal circle in several years, not since he allowed some memoirs containing personal anecdotes about Philip to be published.

TERM CUT — Roger "The Terrible" Tuohy, 59-year-old ex-gangster, is a step closer to freedom today after Illinois Gov. William Stratton lopped 27 years of Tuohy's 99-year kidnaping term. Sentenced in 1934 for the kidnaping of John "Jake the Barber" Factor, Tuohy is now eligible for parole in August, 1959. Gov. Stratton described the length of Tuohy's punishment as "extremely harsh and out of proportion."

The meat cutting plant at Fort Riley, Kan., processes enough beef — 1,572,000 pounds last year — to feed every soldier there 125 pounds a year.

Japanese Teapots Shock Hazard

LANSING (AP) — The state fire marshal's division has warned that a new Japanese-made electric teapot being put on the market for Christmas buying could cause electrocution.

Arnold C. Renner, state fire marshal, said the teapot with the trade name "Rosko" is being distributed by a Philadelphia wholesaler. Some sales have been made in Lansing and presumably throughout the rest of the state, Renner said.

Both the heating unit and the open contact present a serious shock hazard, laboratory tests showed.

"It is our opinion that this unit is unsafe and a serious shock risk," said Irving H. Davis, department engineer.

The assembly is in two parts, a teapot holding about four cups and a plate base holder. The trade name can be seen on the bottom of the inside of the opened teapot.

Kavanagh Defines Constables' Rights

LANSING (AP) — Constables in Michigan are within their legal rights in making arrests without warrants for violations of the state vehicle code, an attorney general's opinion said.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, replying to a query from prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke of Genesee County, said constables are defined as peace officers under the code of criminal procedure and thus have such arrests rights. Moreover, he said, vehicle code violations need not be breaches of the peace for the constable to make the arrest.

In another opinion, Kavanagh told State Banking Commissioner Alonzo L. Wilson that a village doesn't need a name for the banking department to set up a branch bank in an unincorporated community.

But in so doing, Kavanagh added, the banking commissioner has no authority to designate the geographical limits of the community involved. Statutory tests will determine that, if a question arises on the area the bank is to serve, he said.

Overardent Guests Alarm Royal Family

LONDON — Over-ardent guests at sedate Buckingham Palace garden parties are alarming the Royal Family, London reports.

Police regulations are too strict to allow for gate crashers but there's nothing to prevent a guest from clutching a member of the Royal Family and placing him in an embarrassing situation.

One debutante from a Dominion buttonholed the Duke of Edinburgh recently and held him in conversation for several minutes.

And two American girls photographed continuously throughout the party. It is forbidden to bring cameras to the party but these girls had smuggled in small Japanese cameras.

Bullets Pepper Car; Detroit Youths Held

FLAT ROCK (AP) — A car carrying five teenage passengers was shot at last night by occupants of a car that passed them on U.S. 24 near this southeast Michigan town.

The passengers, including two girls, huddled on the floor of the car and escaped injury while rifle bullets plunked into the car. The driver, Burnell Bolick, 20, of Brownstown Township, risked the gunfire to get a description of the assailants.

Two youths were arrested two hours later walking along the highway. Albert Binkley, and Richard Johnson, both 18, of Detroit, were booked on charges of felonious assault.

State police said the youths admitted the shooting "just for some excitement."

Riding with Bolick were Jerry Muir, 18, her sister Irene, 16, of Carleton, Nancy Krueger, 17, Joseph Vitale, 16, and James Johnson, 17, of Monroe.

Midnight Fire Causes $500 Damage to Home

Waterford Township firemen battled a blaze for more than one hours at the Kevin Ritter home, 2915 Edgefield Rd., Waterford Township, at midnight last night.

Firemen said the blaze started due to a faulty fireplace in the basement and caused $500 damage to the interior of the $37,000 dwelling.

Boy on Bike Injured in Collision With Car

Robert E. Riley, 15, of 76 Green St., was treated for a fractured ankle and then released from Pontiac General Hospital after an auto collided with the bicycle he was riding yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac police reported the accident happened at Seminole avenue and W. Huron street.

Edward T. Buck, 24, of 123 Seminole Ave., was the driver of the auto.

Chimney Causes Fire; $75 Damage to Kitchen

A defective chimney was the cause of a $75 fire in the kitchen of the residence of Roy Jackson, 550 Arthur St., yesterday according to Pontiac firemen.

★ ★ ★

Firemen were called to extinguish the fire in the one story frame house about 1:30 p.m.

Albrecht Withdraws From Hospital Suit

The ranks of the six doctors seeking court action against surgical privileges at Pontiac General Hospital has apparently dwindled to five.

It was reported that Dr. Robert W. Albrecht withdrew as one of the six plaintiffs in a letter to Carl I. Flath, hospital director.

It was not immediately known for what reason Dr. Albrecht withdrew.

For the third consecutive time, the show cause hearing in the suit this morning was postponed to 9:30 on Dec. 12 at the request of William J. Beer, Pontiac attorney for the doctors.

The five—Drs. Roy V. Cooley, Douglass A. Haddock, Maolin Han, Rodman C. Jacobi, and Leonard Blackwell—are seeking an injunction to prevent the enforcement of certain rules at the hospital which they say deprive them of unrestricted privileges there.

Reregistering Starts Thursday

All Southfield Citizens Must Apply to Vote on Proposed Charters

SOUTHFIELD — The reregistering of residents here will begin on Thursday.

All Southfield citizens wishing to vote on the proposed city of Southfield and Westwood Villiage charters must register.

New residents of the townships also are invited to register.

The reregistering will take place at the township hall on Berg road, north of 10½ Mile road.

The hall is open Tuesday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.; Monday from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon.

These hours apply to residents of both the city and village areas, with the exception of those in the area bounded by 12 Mile road, Lahser, 10½ Mile and Greenfield.

The latter must register at East Southfield School, on Thursdays and Fridays from 7 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Metamora OES Plans Dec. 3 Christmas Party

METAMORA — The local OES will hold its Christmas party at a meeting Dec. 3. There will be a tree and an exchange of gifts. Mrs. Anne Joyce of Port Huron will be a guest at the party, as representative of the Grand Chapter in Grand Rapids.

An OES School of Instruction is slated to be held here Dec. 17. 6:30 p.m. potluck supper will precede the meeting.

Claims Treatment Plant Inadequate

Township Voids Contract

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—The Farmington Township Board, meeting in special session last night, terminated its contract with Thompson Brown Co. and two northend subdivisions. The contract, entered into two years ago, made the township board a continuing authority for the water and sewage treatment systems of Kendallwood and Westbrook Manor subdivisions.

Charles Brown, president, and Ross Campbell, attorney for the the board take over immediate operation of the system or void the contract. The board compiled by declaring the contract null and void.

Township Supervisor Frank J. Stephenson said the sewage treatment plant is wholly inadequate to service more than 400 families. There are now 500 homes in the two subdivisions with a projected 1,400.

"At present we would have to underwrite that sewage treatment plant $27,500 a year," Stephenson said. He added that "the plant is so poorly designed and constructed that after an average rain storm it must bypass 90 per cent off its raw sewage into the open fields."

★ ★ ★

He went on to say that he is considering the curtailment of further building permits for these subdivisions until the plant is put into condition to handle properly the amount of sewage from their present homes.

Mission Preacher Slated at Commerce

COMMERCE — The Methodist Church here will have as its guest preacher, the Rev. Jack R. Stowell, who with his wife has served as missionary in the Philippines. He will show slides Saturday evening at 7:30 in the Founders Chapel and will preach at the Sunday morning service.

★ ★ ★

The worship commission of the church has announced a Thanksgiving service, scheduled for 10 a.m. Thanksgiving Day. The new church choir, made up of the first three elementary grades and under the direction of Mrs. Perry A. Thomas, will make its debut at the holiday service.

Royal Oak

Importance of finishing school was stressed by three representatives of the recruiting offices of the Navy, Army and Air Force in a program attended by 150 high school boys, their parents and teachers at this week's PTA meeting of Dondero High School.

The servicemen pointed out that all the armed forces need trained technicians and educated personnel, and those planning to enter the forces should at least finish high school.

Utica Youth Out of Red China via India, Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Lawrence Russell Schwartz, one of the 42 American youths who visited Moscow and Red China, left Hong Kong tonight aboard the liner President Cleveland for the United States.

The 22-year-old youth from Utica arrived here by boat from Singapore via India and Burma Nov. 6.

He stayed in the Lutheran World Federation residence here. The Rev. A. S. Olson, in charge of the residence, said Schwartz, a "quiet individual," had asked him to keep his presence a secret from newsmen.

Union Service of Thanksgiving Set at Rochester

ROCHESTER—A United Thanksgiving Worship Service will be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 27 at 7:30, in St. Paul Methodist Church here.

The Nazarene, Episcopal, First Congregational and Methodist Churches are sponsoring the service. St. Paul's Chancel Choir will present the musical portion of the program.

The Rev. E. John Yuells will preach on "Thanksgiving Out of Our Abundance." Public attendance is invited.

Movie Slated Saturday at Leonard Church

LEONARD—A sound motion picture, "Silent Witness," sponsored for the public by the Young People's Class of the Methodist Sunday School, will be shown at the church Saturday at 7:30 p.m. A musical program also will be presented.

Imlay Couple to Mark Golden Anniversary

IMLAY CITY—An Open House will be held at VFW Hall Sunday afternoon, in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Delius Maison.

Southfield Club Meets

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Optimist Club of Southfield meets this evening at the Fruitridge Inn, on Southfield between 12 and 13 Mile roads. The evening's program will feature the film "The Magic Drum," described as interesting, educational and surprising. George Heil, a representative from Oil Industries Information Committee, will be on hand to demonstrate and answer questions.

Farm Is Poor Place to Find a Husband

WASHINGTON (AP)—The farm was pictured today as not a particularly good place to hunt for husbands, despite its surpflus of males.

Gladys K. Bowles, an Agriculture Department authority on population, said in a report that there are 109 males among farm residents for every 100 females.

She said evidence that the farm is not a good source of husbands is shown by the fact that in the age group 25 to 44 there are more women than men.

But farm households are more apt than nonfarm households, she said, to include both husband and wife. She said the farm widow who is able to hire help, or does not have a son old enough to carry on the operations, usually has to give up her farm. The widower is likely to remarry again if he stays on the land.

Eighty-four per cent of rural-farm households were said to include both husband and wife, compared with 75 per cent for nonfarm households.

Farmington Granted $1 Million Bond Issue

LANSING (AP) — Three separate one million dollar bond issues, two for school construction and one for water system improvements, have been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Public borrowings approved totaled $5,084,399.

The Farmington public school district won approval of issuance of one million dollars of a total four million dollar bond issue for construction and furnishing of new elementary school buildings.

Marlette Lumber Co. to Build Addition

MARLETTE — The Marlette Village Council has approved a permit for Holger Rasmussen to construction addition to the Marlette Lumber and Concrete Co. building.

Other action taken at the meeting included the approval of matching funds for a police radio to be used in civil defense.

Ithaca Okays Bonds

ITHACA (AP) — Ithaca voters have approved issuance of $110,000 in bonds for a six-room elementary school additoion. The vote was 205-53. They also voted a three-mill tax increase over a 10-year period for payment of the bonds.

$2 Million Project Culminates 4-Year Effort

Dr. Clifford Erickson of MSU to Speak

ROCHESTER — The Board of Education of the Rochester Community School District will dedicate its new two million dollar High School Sunday afternoon, Dec. 1.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Clifford Erickson, dean of the School of Education of the Michigan State University, will be the main speaker.

Following the dedication program, which begins at 3 o'clock, there will be an open house to give the public an opportunity to inspect the building.

The dedication will mark the culmination of a building program begun in 1953 following the consolidation of 15 school districts in the area. The total cost of the project, including construction, equipment, site, development and architect's fees, is slightly more than $2,000,000. The average square foot cost is $14.71.

The new gymnasium has a seating capacity for 1,800 but can be made to accommodate 3,000 for athletic contests, lecturers and concerts by taking out partitions between the boys and girls physical education class area.

Locker room facilities have been planned for 1,500 students, on the lower level. The building is located so that the locker areas are readily available for outside physical education activities.

Portions of the building have been in use the past year and several new music rooms have been added to the plan.

This week will see the final installation of equipment in the gym.

PLAN FAR AHEAD

"We have planned ahead for many years, which has been necessary to keep in step with the rapid growth in this 60 square mile area," D. C. Baldwin, Rochester School System superintendent, said.

Monte Clute, president of the High School Student Council, will be the master of ceremonies at the Sunday dedication ceremonies.

Supt. Baldwin will introduce the special guests and Dr. William Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County Schools, will handle the greetings.

The Rochester High School Band, under the direction of Ward Reid, will provide the music and the Homer Wing Post of the American Legion will present colors.

Following the acknowledgement by Principal Harlan Johnson, Dr. Erickson will deliver his feature address.

The dedication will be made by Lewis B. Arscott, president of the Board of Education.

Then the High School Choir will sing "Bless this House" and the band and choir will combine in "Alma Mater."

Invocation will be given by the Rev. Edgar Lucas, with the Rev. John Yuells giving the benediction. Music by the band concludes the ceremonies.

Mayor Donates Yearly Salary in Hazel Park

HAZEL PARK — Mayor Louis Elias yesterday handed over between $150-$200 to Boysville in Macon (Mich.), his earnings for a year as mayor here, with the wish that the job paid more.

During the four years Elias has held a city office, he has never cashed a pay check. Instead, he lets them accumulate and then gives the money away to various organizations.

He has donated to the Hazel Park Children's Christmas Party, the Eagles Midget Baseball League and the Salvation Army.

Woman's Society Sets Yule Bazaar in Rochester

ROCHESTER — The Christmas bazaar of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the St. Paul Methodist Church has been set for Dec. 5 from 2 to 9 p.m. Featured this year will be the large selection of Christmas decorations in charge of the Martha Circle, with Mrs. Ned Bowen, chairman. Co-chairmen of the bazaar are Mrs. Gordon Lees and Mrs. Walter Miller.

Joy Circle will be in charge of the tea table from 2 to 5 p.m. The snack bar, open from 6 to 9 p.m., will be in charge of the Wesleyan Service Guild, with Mrs. R. W. Bartig as chairman.

Different this year will be the "Kiddieland." In charge of the Starlight Circle, it has Mrs. Victor Zink as chairman. There will be merry-go-round rides, puppets and many fascinating things for children.

Groveland Grange Plans Installation of Officers

Groveland Grange will hold installation of officers for all Oakland County, Granges including Brandon, Holly, Davisburg, Rose and Lone Pine, on Saturday evening.

A potluck supper will start at 7 p.m. and installation will be at 8:30 in the Groveland Grange Hall, in Groveland Township.

Rochester Club Active

Aiding Crippled Children

ROCHESTER — The Oakland County Society for Crippled Children Building Fund will receive proceeds of the Rochester Junior Women's Club Thanksgiving Charity Dance at Red Run Golf Club, Saturday, Nov. 30.

★ ★ ★

Sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Lange. Since the organization of the Junior Club two years ago, the Crippled Children's School has been one of great interest.

Each week members of the Juniors drive to Pontiac to assist crippled children at their school, where they receive physiotherapy, speech work and general education.

Children from 3 to 12 years of age attend the school—many are cerebral palsy victims. Out of 530 cases in this area only 135 have received actual service, due to lack of space at their present location. The school has a long waiting list.

Last month ground was broken for the new building to house the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and school. The Rochester Juniors wish to aid this great need by donating their dance proceeds to the cause. Sixteen Rochester youngsters are serviced by the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

Chairman of the Rochester Charity Dance is Mrs. Paul Christensen and Mrs. John T. Cochran is chairman of dinner reservations at Red Run, preceding the dance.

Other committee members are: Mrs. John A. Bird, Mrs. Fred S. Case II, Mrs. Robert E. Chandler, Mrs. John K. Yount, Mrs. J. W. Eastman, Mrs. Daniel Gallagher, Mrs. Robert Hill, Mrs. Richard C. Jerome, Mrs. Richard Justice, Mrs. Ben Lindquist, Mrs. Thomas Madden, Mrs. George R. Mair, Mrs. Gordon Morseth, Mrs. William Nieman, Mrs. Robert Peterson, Mrs. Donald G. Pixley and Mrs. Richard Seitz.

Planning Party for Minnie Cow Out in Romeo

ROMEO—They're planning a big party out in Romeo Saturday, Dec. 7, with lots of dignitaries, officials and Press people invited. The party will be in the honor of Langmeadow Minnie, a registered Guernsey cow.

Minnie, who is owned by Howard Colby of Colby Dale Farms here, this month will complete a production record that will be the highest for a cow of any breed anywhere on twice-a-day milking.

The event, to take place on the Colby Farms on McKay road will start precisely at 3 p.m., and the cooperating hosts will be the farm owner and the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

3 License Plate Offices to Open in Detroit

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James M. Hare has announced that three new branch license plate offices will open for business Friday in Detroit.

The offices will be located at 8204 Woodward Ave., Nettie Cherry, manager; 3479 Mitchell Ave., Jesse Lee Smith, manager, and 3408 Michigan Ave., George Hughes, manager.

Hare said the volume of sales will be studied after the peak license period has passed in March to determine if the offices should be kept open on a year-around basis.

Officers to Be Elected Also

Vote on Charter Set Feb. 3

WESTWOOD VILLAGE — Feb. 3 is the date set for residents here to vote on the proposed village charter. Seven councilmen and a clerk will be elected at this time.

★ ★ ★

However, the charter must first be approved before village officers can take office.

Residents in the Westwood Village area have until Jan. 15 to reregister for the election.

Candidates for the village council and clerk's positions must file their nominating petitions by Jan. 16 with Hugh Allison Jr., the village charter commission secretary.

Charter commissioner, Ted Shurtleff, said today he felt the charter would be approved. He added that more than 600 residents from the proposed village area attended three public hearings during the last two weeks.

Bob Considine Says:

Moscow Law Forbids Driving Dirty Car

MOSCOW (INS) — The new 1958 cars are coming out in Moscow, just as in the streets of America. In some respects the changes are more striking than anything emerging from Detroit this year.

★ ★ ★

For example, the Russian car stylists discovered two-tone decoration this year. A real snazzy idea. One part of the body is painted, let's say, blue, and the other part cream. Makes quite a contrast to the all black or all dun-colored cars built here since production began in 1930. Hope the idea will catch on in America.

The U.S.S.R. also has a new medium price car, the Volga.

The other big change is new names for the two biggest Russian built models, the pre-war Packard design heretofore called the Zis, and the Buick design of similar vintage named Zim.

There has been no change in these basic designs in a decade. The Soviet view of carbuilding is not unlike that of Henry Ford and his Model T. Henry in the shape of ashtrays.

Both the Zis, which is reserved for Kremlin officials, marshals, admirals, high government officials and public figures, and the Zim, for the next step down, have 1940 Cadillac dashboards.

ZIS TO BE ZIL

Zis and Zim have had their names changed for 1958 to Zil and Zig. Zis stood for Zavod Imenca Stalin, the factory in the name of Stalin. Zim was the factory in the name of Molotov. Times change and so do some aspects of Russian cars. Zil, formerly Zis, means factory in the name of Likhachev, longtime manager of the Stalin plant. Zig is a contraction of the 13th factory of Gorky.

It is against the law in Moscow to drive a dirty car on the streets. Moscow motorists can also get a ticket if a policeman notices a dent in the fender. Keeping cars washed and fender dents repaired is somewhat complicated by the fact there are no carwash lots. Fender service is as easily located as a blacksmith for unicorns.

No automatic drives as yet on Russian cars. When such a system comes to Russia it will sadden a lot of chauffeurs and cab drivers who have become enormously attached to working the clutch pedal of their cars. The big cheerful drivers supplied by Intourist, the state-controlled travel and translation organization, all drive exactly alike.

PAINTS WITH TEETH — Mrs. Martin Roberts of Boston puts the finishing touches on the painting of a dog with the brush clutched between her teeth. Mrs. Roberts, 28, is 95 per cent paralyzed with polio and has only the use of her neck, throat and jaw muscles. She spends her days in a bed especially equipped with a chest respirator. Her teacher, therapist Mona Fieldman, holds the painting for her.

They start in second gear no matter how much the car bucks and coughs. Whenever they get up what they consider is sufficient speed in high gear or they see a down-grade approaching they put the car in neutral and coast.

TURN OFF KEY

Some turn off the ignition key. When the car's momentum has petered out they slip it back into high, turn on the key, let out the clutch and after a slight convulsion beneath the hood we are under power again. Saves gas but must be h-l on gears.

★ ★ ★

Gas is five cents a gallon for Intourist and other official cars, 25 cents for all others. Drivers and pedestrians wage a perpetual war of nerves that causes the average western passenger or stroller to blanch, shut his eyes, hold his fingers in his ears and wait for a splintering crash. Somehow nothing seems to happen.

A lady with a baby carriage charged right across our onrushing bumper the other day. Never looked left or right, never looked behind as we shot past inches behind her.

The foreigner who gets a driving license in Moscow must be a marvel mentally and physically. He must memorize a list of rules and regulations which cover 29 typewritten foolscap-sized sheets in English translation. He must know the city like a guide and collect such stray knowledge as 15 rules for truck drivers transporting people and the speed limit of "self-propelled mechanical and caterpiller tread machines."

Carol Cutler, wife of the Herald Trib's correspondent here, answered the colossal test except for a slight mistake in the number of meters where signs are placed before railroad tracks. She also passed the physical, got proper papers from the bank, and solved many tricky problems with toy machines. But her lone mistake of a few yards in the matter of railroad tracks stop signals caused her to be rejected.

Ex-Midland Bank Teller Accused of Embezzling

BAY CITY (AP) — A former Midland bank teller was charged yesterday with embezzling $4,120 from the bank over a seven month period this year.

Blair Jobie Workman, 25, of Shepherd, waived examination before U. S. Commissioner Clarence Pettit and was held to Federal Court arraignment next Tuesday. He was released on personal bond.

He was charged with taking the money from the Midland National bank between March 7 and Oct. 28 of this year. The bank noticed a shortage and called in FBI agents to investigate.

Claim Sheep 'Sheared' by Use of Chemical

TOOWOOMBA, Queensland — Fleece removed from Australian sheep by chemical means was recently displayed at the Agricultural Show in Toowoomba.

The wool judge said the chemical apparently hadn't harmed the wool in any way. In the process, 21 days elapse between application of the chemical and hand stripping of the wool.

Youth Achievement Firms Back in Business Again

By JACK P. GABRIEL

NEW YORK (NEA)—Now that winter's moving in again, a lot of boys and girls are back in "business."

They are the members of Junior Achievement, Inc., which is well known to students of many high schools for its opportunity to earn some money as they learn about business.

MANY PARTICIPATE

Started some years ago by Horace A. Moses, a Massachusetts businessman, it now has more than 40,000 members, all high school boys and girls.

Moses was born on a farm, but when he became wealthy he remembered that young people are often denied work because they lack experience. He began Junior Achievement to help students get some practical business knowledge while still in school.

Through it, youngsters actually operate small businesses of their own and more than 2,000 corporations are now in effect during the school year. Companies are formed numbering from 15 to 20 boys and girls. Each company is led by three advisers from local business firms, and members meet one night a week.

"Every enterprise must have a name," says Vivien Paine, a group member in Kansas City, Mo., "and the first step is to decide upon a product that will make money. Then the group decides how much working capital their firm will need to begin production."

To get the money for financing, the young people sell capital stock at 50 cents a share. Parents, friends, relatives, neighbors, even teachers are prospective purchasers, but no one can own more than five shares. Every member of a company must own at least one share, however, and the average capitalization is about $100.

In October of each year, members elect a president and other officers. Books must be kept when a bank account has been opened with which to purchase raw materials. The company applies for a J. A. charter, pays rent at an average of only three dollars a month and buys the small tools it needs. Shop machinery is leased from the Junior Achievement organization by deposit of capital in proportion to the value of the machinery used.

SOLD ON MARKET

In Chicago, Ralph Kowalski explains what his company does with its product. "We sell it on the open competitive market. The boys and girls decide on the wages to be paid to themselves, and then they determine the amount of commission on sales." All groups follow this procedure.

The average gross sales of a J. A. company is about $300.

At the end of the school year, every company is liquidated. Inventory is sold and all debts are paid. If the company has been profitable—and most of them are—stockholders get back their original investment, at well as a dividend.

In choosing a product to manufacture, careful attention must be given to the pros and cons of its saleability. An item that sells for less than $2 is usually the easiest to dispose of, although this rule does not apply to everything.

"Don't forget," adds Eldora Blodgett, of Studio City, Calif., "that business partners must agree that they have the ability to make a product that is as good as anything similar on the market."

If it can be made better, that's in the group's favor—and means more money in their pockets. The sums earned are not large, of course, but they can keep the partners in spending money without having to ask for that at home.

The time in which the product will be made is also very important because this must be done entirely on the students' own time. —after school hours.

Peanuts yield oil for salad oils, cooking, margarine and soap manufacture.

A-Fallout Called Calculated Risk

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (INS)—An atomic scientist says radioactive fallout is a calculated risk modern man has to take—like crossing a busy street.

Dr. Wright H. Langham, of the California University laboratory at Los Alamos, N. M., points out about 10 per cent of the normal incident of leukemia and bone cancer is believed to result from our natural background of radiation—cosmic rays and radium in the earth's crust.

Dr. Langham, a biochemical researcher, estimates if atmospheric contamination with nuclear weapons continues at the present rate cases of the two diseases may increase by 250 per year

When compared with the hazards of modern society like electrical appliances, bathtubs and automobile traffic, Dr. Langham said, the risk of diseases from radio-activity is not unreasonable.

Grandma Stops Cycling

SWANS ISLAND, Maine (AP)—At 81, Mrs. Mamie Torrey has had to stop motorbiking around this Maine coast island.

A spell of rheumatism bothered Mrs. Torrey so much this summer that she sold the motor scooter her grandson bought for her more than a year ago.

But she won't be content to stay off the island roads. Now, she's hoping to save enough money to buy "one of them electric cars."

Chapter 34

"Would you say that the change in the complexion of the skin had no medical significance, Doctor?" Perry Mason asked.

"I would never state that any phenomenon one may find in a cadaver in a murder case had no medical significance."

"Was there a dispute as to whether this color had any significance or not?"

Hamilton Burger was on his feet. "Your Honor, we object to that as being improper cross-examination. It calls for something which is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial. It makes no difference whether there was a dispute or not, this Court is trying this defendant not for the purpose of determining what argument someone may have had, but for the purpose of getting the ultimate facts."

OBJECTION SUSTAINED

"I will sustain the objection," Judge DeWitt said.

"Was there a dispute between you and Dr. Malone as to the significance of this slight discoloration?"

"Same objection," Hamilton Burger said.

Judge DeWitt hesitated for a long, thoughtful moment, then said, "The same ruling. I will sustain the objection."

"Isn't it a fact," Mason said, "that this slight discoloration may have been due to the fact that the body lay for some appreciable interval after death on its left side, and that the slight discoloration marked the beginning of a post mortem lividity, which remained after the body had again been moved?"

"That is, of course, a possibility."

"A distinct possibility?"

"Well, it is a possibility. I will concede that."

"Now did you ever know of a case where there had been a pronounced development of rigor mortis in the right arm and shoulder with no rigor mortis in the left shoulder unless someone had broken the rigor?"

"I know of no such case."

"Is it your opinion that the rigor in the left shoulder had been broken?"

The witness shifted his position on the witness stand, looked somewhat hopelessly at Hamilton Burger.

OBJECTION OVERRULED

"That's objected to," Hamilton Burger said, "on the ground that the question in argumentative, that it calls for a conclusion of the witness."

"The objection is overruled," Judge DeWitt said. "The witness is an expert, and is testifying as to his opinion. Answer the question."

Dr. Garfield said slowly, "It is my opinion that the rigor had been broken."

"And it is your opinion that the position of the body had been changed after death, and prior to the time you saw it there in Room 729 at the Redfern Hotel?"

* * *

There was a long period of hesitation, then Dr. Garfield said reluctantly, "That is my opinion."

"Thank you," Mason said. "That is all."

"No further questions," Elliott announced.

* * *

Hamilton Burger seemed preoccupied and worried. He bent over and whispered something to his trial deputy, and then ponderously tiptoed from the courtroom.

Elliott said, "My next witness will be Lt. Tragg."

Tragg came forward and was sworn. He testified in a leisurely manner that was hardly in keeping with Tragg's usually crisp, incisive manner on the stand.

He had, he said, attended a conference of officers on October 17th. The defendant had appeared. With him had appeared his attorney, Perry Mason.

"Did the defendant make a statement?"

"Yes."

"Was the statement free and voluntary?"

"It was."

Elliott asked him to describe what was said.

Slowly, almost tediously, Tragg repeated the conversation in detail, with Elliott glancing at his watch from time to time.

The morning recess was taken and court reconvened. Tragg's testimony was still dragging on until at eleven-thirty he was finished.

"You may cross-examine," Elliott said.

"No questions," Mason said.

Elliott bit his lip.

His next witness was the uniformed officer who had sat in on the conference in the district attorney's office. The uniformed officer was still giving his testimony about what had happened when court took its noon adjournment.

"What's happening?" Conway whispered. "They seem to be bogging down."

"They're worried," Mason whispered back. "Just keep a stiff upper lip."

'HELLO, BIG BOY!'

The jurors filed out of the courtroom. Mason walked over to where Paul Drake, Della Street and Myrtle Lamar the elevator operator, were standing talking.

Myrtle Lamar shifted her chew of gum, grinned at Mason.

"Hello, Big Boy," she said.

"How's everything?" Mason asked.

"Sort of tedious this morning," she said. "Why the subpoena? I'm supposed to be on duty tonight and I should be getting my beauty sleep."

"You don't need it," Mason told her.

"I will before I get done."

Drake put his hand on her arm. "We'll take care of you all right. Don't worry!"

"You don't know the manager up there at the Redfern Hotel. Women must have made a habit of turning him down. He loves to kick them around. He'd throw me out on my ear as easy as he'd snap a breadcrumb off the table."

"You don't snap breadcrumbs. You remove them with a little silver scoop," Drake said.

"You and your damned culture," she said.

"Come on," Mason told her. "We're going out."

"Where?"

"We're going visiting."

* * *

"My face," she said, "has bad habits. It needs to be fed."

"We'll get it fed," Mason said.

"Okay, that's a promise?"

Mason shepherded them down in the elevator into his car, drove carefully but skillfully.

"Where?" Drake asked.

Mason looked at his watch. "Not far."

Mason stopped the car in front of the apartment house, went to the room telephones, called Evangeline Farrell.

When her voice came on the line, the lawyer said, "Mrs. Farrell, I want to see you at once on a matter of considerable importance."

"I'm not dressed for company," she said.

"Put on something," Mason told her. "I have to be back in court and I'm coming up."

"Is it important?"

"Very!"

"It concerns the case?"

"Yes."

"Come on up," she told him.

Mason nodded to the others. They took the elevator.

Mrs. Farrell opened the apartment door.

Historian Uncovers Civil War Story

VICKSBURG, Miss. (AP)—Edwin C. Bearss, historian at Vicksburg National Military Park and avid researcher, has turned up another Civil War story, this one about the Confederate manpower shortage of 1864.

The story, found in a diary, tells about Gen. Jubal Early who was attending church services near Lexington, Va.

The fire-and-brimstone preacher posed this question to his congregation: "What would you do if you saw your dead come marching back by the hundreds and thousands?"

During the pause that followed, Gen. Early whispered to an aide: "Conscript every damned one of them."

Men Astound Woman by Running Into Room

CLEVELAND (INS) — Twenty-two-year-old Miss Diana Arnentrout of Cleveland woke from a sound sleep one recent night and screamed as a figure flitted by her bed and through her room.

She screamed again when a second figure flew through the room. A third running figure and Miss Arnentrout emitted a third shriek.

Investigation proved the figures to be a sneak thief and two pursuing police men. The thief was captured outside Miss Arnentrout's room.

Plans Cost Six Billion

NEW YORK — Employee welfare and pension plans in 1956 cost American companies an estimated six billion dollars. This, plus five billion dollars in Social Security payments, brought industry's welfare-and-retirement costs to 6 per cent of the total business expenditures for employees.

French Wary in North Africa

Soviet Infiltration Feared

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

French Premier Felix Gaillard has warned the western allies of Soviet attempts to outflank and "neutralize" Europe by operating through North Africa.

This is nothing new, but it is a reminder made at a time when the French are furious at the Anglo-American shipment of token arms to Tunisia.

FEAR REBELS

The French fear that the arms will get into the hands of Algerian nationalist rebels, while Washington and London feared that further stalling would force Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba to turn to the Soviet bloc for arms.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau now is in Washington trying to solve the new NATO rift in talks with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

American officials are not impressed with the argument that the small arms they have sent to Tunisia will increase the rebellion in Algeria. In fact, the Tunisians are not as well-armed as the Algerian rebels next door.

OPPOSES NASSER

Bourguiba, the architect of Tunisia's independence from France, is a moderate nationalist. He opposes the hate campaign methods of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, and he also opposes the Egyptian-Syrian reliance on Moscow in what Cairo calls "positive neutralism."

The American and British governments want to keep a man like Bourguiba on their side and are very aware that Bourguiba is under extremist pressure to help the Algerian rebels against the French.

French officials long ago said they had proof that the Reds were aiding in the Algerian war. It's no secret that arms from Egypt are smuggled to Algeria. Communist cells exist in many parts of North Africa — the area which France and other Europeans would like to see welded to western Europe in a big economic combine.

* * *

But not only the French, but also the Americans and British have yet to come up with a solution to the bitter struggle in Algeria. And, as in the squabble over arms for Tunisia, every issue touching on North Africa eventually is linked with Algeria.

The French refuse to hold any peace councils with Algerians unless the rebels halt the war. The rebels refuse to halt the war until they have a promise that any negotiations will be based on eventual absolute independence from France.

Successive French governments have believed they could wear down the rebels by sheer military power but have failed in a territory ideally suited for guerrilla warfare.

The rebels keep their military organization going by levying local tributes. But they also know they have active backing from Egypt. And the latter, of course, is getting aid from the Soviet Union, which stands to gain a great deal with little expenditure.

Says Amendments to Law Unnecessary

Gore Favors Increase of Atomic Aid to Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said today he believes European readiness to use American nuclear weapons in wartime can be achieved without amending the Atomic Energy Act.

"I generally favor increased cooperation with our allies in this field and if an amendment to the law is regarded as necessary by the administration, I would give it serious and sympathetic consideration," Gore said in an interview.

"But as of now I know of no such need and none has been indicated to the Senate-House committee."

Gore's statement reflects, in part, the kind of opposition in Congress which some think might force some compromises in the administration's announced intention to seek a freer exchange of scientific atomic information with U.S. allies.

President Eisenhower has said he will ask Congress to lift some of the secrecy provisions of the Atomic Energy Act.

The proposal has drawn a mixed, and none too favorable, reaction from Senate-House Atomic Energy committeemen, of whom Gore is one. Chairman Durham (D-NC), among others, has questioned the adequacy of security systems in nations which would get such secret information.

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles appear determined to seek some lowering of the secrecy ban. But some members of Congress obviously are beginning to see a possible way around this in Dulles' proposal to establish stockpiles of American atomic weapons in Europe.

* * *

These weapons would be earmarked for Allied use in the event of war, but would remain under technical control of the United States and thus would not violate existing law governing disposal of such weapons.

Gore said that with such stockpiles established the United States could go ahead with all of the necessary preparations for Allied use of the weapons without changing the law.

N.Y. Boys Club Gets Job Digging 3 Million Cents

MOUNT KISKO, N. Y. (AP)—The Mount Kisko Boys Club is counting its blessings in pennies.

Last spring, Readers Digest magazine mailed out 100 million pennies, two each enclosed in letters to prospective subscribers.

However, 1½ million letters came back because of wrong addresses. That meant a return of three million pennies, or $30,000.

Magazine officials blanched at the thought of opening all those returned letters and digging out the coppers. So they offered the job to the boys club on a 50-50 basis.

Thus far the club has banked $5,000.

About 85 per cent of the neckties sold are bought by women.

Gets Passport to Red China

Los Angeles Attorney Also Allowed to Travel to North Korea

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Los Angeles attorney says he is the first American to have a passport validated for travel to Communist China and North Korea.

A. L. Wirin's passport was signed yesterday by W. G. Nerren, acting director of the U. S. Passport Office in Los Angeles, after a federal judge in San Francisco ruled that Wirin had a right to gather evidence and interview witnesses behind the Bamboo Curtain.

The State Department at first had refused to permit Wirin to visit Red China and North Korea. But Judge Louis E. Goodman of San Francisco ruled last Oct. 30 that unless Wirin was allowed to go he would dismiss sedition charges against Wirin's clients, John and Sylvia Powell.

The Powells are charged with printing seditious articles in an English language newspaper they published in Shanghai. The articles accused the United States of stalling in the Korean peace negotiations, of conducting bacteriological warfare and of committing aggressive acts against Red China and North Korea.

Denying Wirin a passport, Judge Goodman held, would be violating the constitutional rights of the Powells to produce evidence and witnesses.

Wirin said he intends to interview more than 100 persons in his three-month trip, including Chou En-lai, foreign minister of China, and Kim Il Sung, prime minister of North Korea.

The only private house in England which has its own post office is Holkham Hall, home of the Countess of Leicester. One of her early ancestors was Postmaster General.

Iraq Refuses to Allow British to Use Airfield

NEW DELHI (AP)—Iraq has refused to allow British-built jet fighters being ferried to the Indian air force to refuel at her British-built military airfield at Habbaniya.

★ ★ ★

Indian Deputy Defense Minister S. S. Majithia reported the ban today. He gave no reason for the Iraqi decision.

Iraq is allied with Pakistan in the Baghdad Pact, which Indian Prime Minister Nehru has frequently criticized. Pakistan claims India is arming against her and vice versa.

Sees Business Menace

DETROIT (AP) — Otto C. Lorenz, associate editor of the American Banker, told the Michigan Consumer Finance Assn. Wednesday that over-production of automobiles could be a "serious menace to business conditions during the next eight months." He said some dealers now "are selling 1957 models at $100 to $200 below their factory costs in desperate efforts to unload outdated models." He said the 1957 carryover represented overproduction.

DOVE OF PEACE — A dove perches on the head of Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru in New Delhi as he watches a parade of several thousand school children marking his 68th birthday. Several "peace doves" were released during the parade and this one refused to be shaken off. Nehru took it home.

New Zealanders "attend the races, they attend games, they attend anything. It is a habit," he says. Junior Needs Strong Man at Helm

Time for Dad to Take Over as Head of Home

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Poor "Mom" has taken a beating these last few psychologically-probing years.

In the old days, mother was so revered that even when she burned the roast everybody would chuckle compassionately and declare devotion to beef well done unto ashes.

But no longer. Psychologists, sociologists, Philip Wylie and television have ripped into the matriarchy so savagely that by now, when one meets a little gray-haired woman on the street, one is likely to stiffen than to bow.

"If you hear of any progressive thinker who thinks well of mothers," said the editor, "Print it. That's news!"

In search of news, then, I attended a recent meeting of the New York branches, American Psychiatric Association. And there, through one probing paper on teenage crime and another on the dope addict, discovered what type of woman it is who is giving a dark reputation to motherhood, the world's most widespread institution.

"To the dope addict," said Dr. Percy Mason of New York, "the mother was always the favorite, the important parent, the 'boss' of the family."

DISAPPOINTED IN DAD

"The boy (a teenage gang member) used his gang to feel strength," explained Dr. Arthur E. Gillman, "He was disappointed by his father's meek acceptance of his mother's berating."

Dr. Gilman's psychiatric report, titled "A Gang Member's Reaction to an Unexpected Crime," was the story of months of study of a 17-year-old Puerto Rican boy. The patient had been "war councilor" of a street gang.

An argument rose between his gang and another over a particular color which each group wanted to use for its club jackets. It was decided a fight must decide the issue. During the skirmish, a boy from the other gang was stabbed to death and the "war councilor," incredulous and frightened and innocent of the murder, was quickly apprehended by police.

After a night of grilling, he told his story and was released. The emotional impact on his subconscious, however, was devastating; for months, his nights were filled with nightmares and his days with mental "blackouts." In this state, Dr. Gillman took him on as a patient. He discovered:

MOM WAS BOSS

The boy's mother was "boss" of the family. Until he was 12, the boy followed her orders, was obedient. Then behavior changed with puberty. It is at this time that a boy's identification usually switches from his mother to his father.

But this boy's father meekly accepted his wife's orders. "It intensified his rage at both of his parents," the psychiatric report read, "particularly against his mother, since she appeared a real threat to his masculinity —setting about to rob father, then son, of the dominant role in the family."

In joining a gang, "He lived what he hoped that his father might be: a sought-after warrior in battles."

Obviously this, then, is the kind of mother who least deserves the doffed hat: the little lady with the big power-madness, who drives her husband into withdrawal and her children into rebellion.

No one knows, in this growing matriarchal society, how many Mrs. Americas are ruling the home with an iron will: but it's to be hoped that husbands of the land will evaluate their homes—before the psychiatrists are forced to.

Early Skiing Slated for New Mexico

SANTA FE, N.M. — The New Mexico ski season is opening earlier than usual this year, thanks to heavy October and November snows in the Sangre de Cristo Mountains.

The Taos Ski Valley, 19 miles northeast of Taos, has announced an opening date of Nov. 16.

Ernest Blake, director of Taos Ski Valley, reported there is four feet of snow at the top of the main Taos slope and 14 to 16 inches of snow at the base of the runs.

The Santa Fe Ski Basin, 16 miles northeast of Santa Fe will open Nov. 29, the day after Thanksgiving. Buzz Bainbridge, manager of the Santa Fe Basin, said snow conditions are better at this time than they were at Christmas a year ago. Snow measures three feet deep.

Other New Mexico ski areas, near Albuquerque, Ruidoso and Clouderoft, will open after snowfalls that customarily come later in the season.

Folsom Suggests Proposals to Produce More Scientists

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
INS Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (INS) — Welfare Secretary Marion B. Folsom disclosed today that the administration—determined to overtake Russia's lead in the space age—has tentatively charted several specific programs to produce more scientists.

* * *

The dynamic, soft-spoken secretary, who will be charged with administering such a program, told this correspondent in an exclusive interview that the "current thinking" involves a matching of federal and state funds to:

—Set up a nationwide program for testing the aptitude of junior and senior high school students, give them vocational guidance and counseling, and upgrade teacher-counselors by summer refresher courses.

—Increase vocational education grants to encourage the teaching of mathematics and science in high schools.

—Construct additional chemistry and physics laboratories in high schools and builds laboratories for technical schools just above the secondary school level.

* * *

—Provide grants to graduate schools for fellowships to produce more Ph.D.'s and doctors of science.

The secretary said the administration is considering a variety of proposals for scholarship awards to promising high school graduates but has not yet settled on a specific plan for this phase of the program.

The National Education Association reported yesterday that the quality of college science teaching staffs is deteriorating because scientists are going into industry for higher salaries.

STATES SUBMIT PLANS

The secretary said states will be encouraged to submit their own plans for testing and counseling high school students. The present thinking is that if such a program is approved, the federal government would then match the states dollar for dollar, to pay for it.

Pointing out that a third of the top 25 per cent of high school graduates do not go on to college, he said the country simply cannot afford this tremendous loss of potential scientists and teachers.

Folsom said scholarships are not the whole answer to encouraging deserving youngsters to attend college, but that such a plan would certainly help. He underscored that the administration is hearing many views in order to present a practical plan that could win the wide support of Congress.

The secretary believes little difficulty would be incurred in launching the second program—the increase of vocational education grants for teaching science—since a pattern has been in existence since 1917.

* * *

Such a plan was first inaugurated during World War I to produce more mechanics and farmers. It has since been expanded to encourage the study of domestic science, home economics, engineering and practical nursing.

Folsom said the need for some of these is now less pressing, and that the federal-state matching funds could stress instead the teaching of mathematics and science.

The government is already providing some fellowships through grants to graduate schools, the National Institute of Health and the National Science Foundation.

* * *

This program, Folsom feels, could be stepped up through existing machinery to produce many more Ph.D.'s, not only in science, but in the general fields which are essential for a well-rounded college professor.

U. of M. to Ask State for Added $7 Million

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan will ask the legislature for $37,274,000 in operating expenses for the 1958-59 academic year, Vice President William E. Stirton said today.

* * *

The figure is an increase of about seven million dollars above what the university was appropriated for the current year. The university plans on an additional enrollment of 2,000 students above the present 23,000 next year, Stirton said.

A 10 per cent hike in faculty salaries also is anticipated, Stirton declared. The legislature is expected to vote on the request next spring.

Stirton said the university plans to operate on a budget of $47,667,000 with the additional funds coming from student tuition.

* * *

"The increase is needed to meet the keen competition for top-flight faculty members," said U. of M. President Harlan Hatcher.

'I Had Feeling of Impending Doom'

Soble Demoted in Spy Network

(This is the 11th of 12 articles in which confessed Soviet spy Jack Soble tells the innermost secrets of an espionage ring in the U.S. of which he was a leader for 15 years.)

By JACK SOBLE
(Written with Jack Lotto)

I had committed the unpardonable sin, by Communist standards—I made a decision and executed it without prior knowledge or approval of my superiors in Moscow.

As a result of my blunder, I was demoted in the Soviet spy apparatus, accused of being a thief who ran off with about $30,000 of Russia's money entrusted to me for espionage purposes. Finally, I was dropped like so much rubbish.

My fateful mistake came about this way:

In the summer of 1952, while I was operating in France, the U.S. State Department refused to renew my passport.

I thought it would be a simple matter to return to the States and straighten the whole thing out. It was not to be. The FBI, which had been wise to my activities for a long time because of the reports of counterspy Boris Morros, my courier, had alerted the State Department.

MORROS FINDS ME

When the Soviet Secret Police discovered I was not at my post, they sent Morros to find me in America. Soon after I had settled down in a Riverside Drive, New York, apartment, Boris came knocking at my door.

He carried a letter written in German by the commanding general of the Soviet Secret Police, Alexander Korotkov. "Alexander" informed me bluntly in the coded letter that I was no longer to consider myself in charge of my agents and demanded an accounting of the money given me. He also told me I was to take my orders thereafter from Morros.

Frightened, I wrote and pleaded for patience and understanding.

There was no response. With every waiting day my nerves stretched tauter and tauter—to the breaking point. Suddenly, my wife stopped receiving letters from her family in Russia. The terrible agony of waiting began. Then fear set in—fear for our own safety.

MOVE TO CANADA

We decided to go to Canada to start a new life. I stayed there from 1953 to 1955, selling bristles.

One day Morros visited me and told me Korotkov and "the rest of our comrades" in the Secret Service had been purged. A new group has taken over, he told me and "they want to see us both in Moscow." I told Morros I wouldn't go back because "we'd both be shot."

To my fear of Russian retaliation, a new ingredient was soon added: The FBI seizure of one of my old agents now confronted me with the threat of arrest by American law enforcement agents.

WHAT TO DO?

I was trapped. Which way could I turn? For most of my life, since the time I first joined the Communist movement at the age of 17, I had been indoctrinated with a hatred of the United States. I was afraid of the American authorities and what they might do to me.

But my long association with the hard, determined and utterly ruthless Soviet Secret Police made me fear their retribution even more. Twice I found myself on the verge of giving myself up. Twice I lacked the moral stamina to make a clean break with evil.

Steadily, I found that I was losing control of myself, suffering extreme nervous tension and deep depression as I tried to decide which way to turn. In the showdown, I turned to my Soviet masters. I poured out my heart in letters, pleading for them to help me get out of the country. I promised to perform even more spectacular feats in the future. Still nothing came.

I WRITE AGAIN

The months passed, and with them my feeling of doom increased. On Aug. 15, 1956, I wrote a last, desperate appeal, which the FBI intercepted:

"I cannot tell you how hard it is for my wife and me and even for my son. Besides that, my wife has her whole family in the motherland and has not received the slightest bit of information from them.

"She cries bitterly at night and is often having a breakdown. I cannot understand how our comrades could forget me after so many years of working together. Please, dear comrades, take the most urgent means in order to make an immediate decision of this painful question, which is full of possible hard repercussions and the possibility of catastrophe from the American authorities."

I asked that I be allowed to move to Mexico with my wife and son and then go back to Russia. I concluded my appeal:

"Please remember, my dear comrades, that this is my life and that I have given my whole life to the party work. Please check on it in a very urgent way."

SFNSED DOOM

The night of Jan. 24, 1957, I slept fitfully. I had a feeling of impending doom that even whisky could not shake off.

I looked at my wife, Myra, and wondered how she was able to sleep. It was a cold night, but I was sweating, soaking my pillow. This was one night of many others I had gone through.

I was awake when the doorbell rang at 6:30 a.m. when I heard the ring I knew I was going to my doom—and felt relieved.

Seven FBI agents stood at the door. One of them said:

"Jack Soble, you are under arrest."

My long nightmare was over.

(Next: Soble describes his feelings as a confessed and convicted spy who betrayed the country that had given him haven.)

'Tourist' Definition Being Worked Out

WASHINGTON — An attempt to define a "tourist" in terms common to statisticians of all 21 American republics is being undertaken by the Inter American Statistical Institute.

★ ★ ★

In cooperation with the Inter-American Travel Congresses, the I.A.S.I., a specialized agency of the Organization of American States, will strive to define and classify travelers so comparable figures on their habits and expenditures can be compiled on a uniform basis.

As matters now stand, a tourist may be a traveler on vacation, a salesman on business, a student, a person seeking medical attention, or an individual on a government mission.

For economic studies, present statistics on travel habits and expenditures are meaningless.

U. of M. Survey Shows Why You Travel by Car

ANN ARBOR —(INS) — A University of Michigan survey reveals most people travel by car when they decide to take a trip.

The University's Research Center also says you are in the minority of Americans if you didn't take at least one long trip by car during the last 12 months.

The nationwide survey of 4,000 adults disclosed people travel by car because:

—It's cheaper, especially for small groups;

—You can choose your own timing and route;

—It's faster and more direct;

—You can enjoy the scenery;

—You can bring your family or friends along.

Another advantage is you can have the car to use at your destination. However, the survey notes the only disadvantage is that some people find trips by car fatiguing.

Also disclosed was that "virutally all American adults" have taken at least one trip 100 miles away from home by auto sometime in their life. But among families whose incomes are less than $4,000, nearly 20 per cent have not traveled that far by car.

Declines Dance Lesson for Physical Reasons

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—"Sir, I am calling to inform you that you have been awarded a $35 dancing scholarship at (a local) dance studio," said a sweet young thing in a telephone call to Col. George S. Wallace.

"Young lady, I'm almost a hundred years old and can't walk," replied Wallace to the astonished caller.

Wallace, in his 80s and an attorney for 60 years, declined the offer.

The 46-year-old death officially was listed as suicide by coroner Harry E. Leadley who said Hart was asphyxiated by carbon monoxide fumes from the car's engine.

The vehicle was parked in a garage at the rear of his home. His body was found by his wife Mildred.

Leadley said Hart had been in ill health and was despondent.

He joined the MSU staff in September of this year. He formerly was on the faculty at West Virginia University.

Pittsburgh Priest Beats Thugs to the Punch

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Father J. McNanamy, a Roman Catholic priest, has a slight cut on his right hand today—but a couple of thugs may have some bruises.

Father McNanamy said the thugs tried to rob him while he was walking along a dark street last night. Not a man to give up his wallet easily, the priest came up with fists swinging and the thugs beat a hasty retreat.

And with his Irish grin, the good father told police he still had his wallet.

Queen's Undies Causing Stir at Charity Auction

LONDON (INS) — A pair of the late Queen Victoria's drawers and one of her monogrammed shirts are among the items to be offered at a charity auction Monday.

The thought of putting up for auction the underclothes of a woman whose name became synonomous with propriety is embarrassing even some of the theater stars who are sponsoring the charity show.

One star, wishing to remain anonymous, sent in a check for $250 saying, "I'll buy the damned things or I'll boycott the show."

Other entertainers felt, however, that one couldn't put the queen's pantaloons to a better use than to help raise money to provide a seaside home for spastic children.

Evelyn Scott Sold Securities

Accountant Tells Jury Husband Induced Wife to Convert to Cash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A prosecution witness in the murder trial of L. Ewing Scott has testified the defendant's missing wife, Evelyn, converted $222,929 worth of securities into cash during the couple's six years together.

Scott, 61-year-old investment counselor, is accused of murdering his wife and concealing her body to get control of her estate.

Thomas B. Doherty, a district attorney's accountant, told the jury yesterday that Mrs. Scott's estate, once valued at $600,000 has dwindled and that $57,000 of it is still unaccounted for.

Under questioning by Dep. Dist. Atty. J. Miller Leavy, the accountant said that Mrs. Scott's dividend income diminished from $7,516 in 1950 to zero in 1955 as a result of sale of securities, but that her tax saving amounted to only $1,028.

Previous witnesses have testified that Scott induced his wife over a period of years to get into a "cash position" against the advice of other counselors.

Mrs. Scott vanished from the couple's home here May 16, 1955. Scott maintains she is still alive and will return some day and explain her absence.

Dallas School Head Raps U.S. 'Interference'

'Hot Lead' on Slayer Is Mistaken Identity

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Police thought for a time early today they had a hot lead on Frank Edward Wetzel, the 36-year-old New York mental patient sought across the nation for the slaying of two North Carolina highway patrolmen, but the lead was false.

★ ★ ★

The FBI, the Kansas Highway Patrol and Wichita police joined in checking a report Wetzel had been seen in the Wichita area.

They said later it was a case of mistaken identity. A man resembling Wetzel had been spotted driving through Augusta, a town 20 miles east of Wichita in south-central Kansas.

Investigators located him later in Wichita after finding the car and said he had moved to Wichita recently from Kansas City. They declined to divulge his name.

Home Ordered Through Mail

Couple on Island Builds Retirement Dwelling in Texas City

AUSTIN, Tex. (INS) — Many land-locked persons dream of living on an island in the middle of an ocean, but a Texas couple forsook the "dream" on Aruba island and started building a home in Austin—by mail.

The unusual "mail-order" arrangement was started three years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gordon, who wanted a home ready for them in Texas when they retired to their native state this year.

When the Gordons got the idea, they were living on Aruba island in the Atlantic Ocean

That's 2,000 miles from Texas' capital city, but the Gordons had definite plans for their home, which they mailed to the Calcasieu Lumber Co. at Austin.

The lumber company officials entered into the spirit shown by the visionary couple and after six changes in plans for the home the deal was clinched by mail—including the purchase of a lot overlooking scenic Lake Austin.

Though the Gordons have "retired" to their mail-order home, they have not exhausted their spirit of adventure. They plan to see South Africa and Australia to add to their travels through Europe and Central and South Americas.

IN A FOWL MOOD — And why not, with Thanksgiving a week away? Reading the handwriting on the wall — or at least the calendar, seems easy enough for this oven-bound gobbler. The bird will give its all to make Thanksgiving a happy day for everyone but turkeys. Another happy note for non-tukeys comes from the Missouri Farmers Assn. which says the birds will cost less this year.

Hal Boyle Says:

Comic Borge Milking Laughs From Piano

NEW YORK (AP) — "Nobody is safe," said Victor Borge. "But there is no life except happiness."

"Understanding of life can be achieved only by being happy."

It is a pleasure to meet offstage this pleasant Dane, who milks money, music and laughter from the piano, because in his home he retains his professional atmosphere of good humor.

But on the other hand when he barks—with a smile—the girls in his joint in the Plaza Hotel (his wife and his secretary) bounce, too. Pronto—and smiling.

This is the possible dream of every American man—to be the boss, have the girls realize it, and enjoy it. They have to have fun out of it, too.

Borge is an unusual man with great talent. He is a highly conscious craftsman. His use of piano humor is mannered, adroit, warm, often repetitive, but highly effective.

He is in some ways the most successful humorist alive. One of his basic arts is to resist the impulse to bore an audience.

It is said that he received $100,000 for his first television show. It is also said that he will receive $200,000 or more for a show next Feb. 19 on CBS.

Borge came to this country as a poor immigrant with three things: his inability to speak English, his ability to disturb a piano, and his sense of humor.

Today he faces the world with the same charming defects, plus a wife and five children. He now runs a 450-acre farm in Connecticut and has become one of the nation's largest distributors of Rock Cornish hens.

This is now a million-dollar-a-year business with him, and the yearend season is at its height, but he says:

"I started with the Cadillac of the fowl business and now it is as common as the bicycle.

"I love my farm. But the cost of living is such that you have to make it worthwhile. You cannot just have land. You must do something with the land."

Although the margin of successful operation is notoriously short in the poultry field, Borge, who has earnings from the show world to plow into it, is optimistic that his efforts to popularize the Rock Cornish hen will yield him more than a mound of feathers. This is a plump-breasted bird designed to sell at 89 to 99 cents a pound.

His attitude toward life is as dry and wry in private as it is on the platform before the piano and the public. The way he talks about it, however, allows the possibility that it is more personal and perhaps less professional. He has the gift of making you feel you excite him.

He says about this world:

"It is so small, so big, you cannot live long enough in it to do the things you want to."

He was speaking about invitations to perform in South Africa and Australia.

"It's so nice to be independent," he added. "To come and go as you please—to an extent, that is.

"I don't believe in fatalism. But I do believe in cause and effect.

"You have the universe of you. But inside you are five million different dynamos, each of whom can limit your life or extend it.

"A walk across the street can change your life. Every second can change your life.

"But I do believe in goals. I don't believe anything is just blind accident.

"People's lives would be more interesting if they would just realize how they can change from moment to moment.

"There is no such thing as an uninteresting life, unless you get overwhelmed by problems and feel neglected by a higher power.

"There is no such thing as bad weather or a bad thing. What I don't like, my neighbor may.

★ ★ ★

"There are people I see in the street I make big rings around. But happiness comes, as the weather does, in waves, not in streams.

"I am a very happy man."

W. Somerset Maugham is 84 years old, but is still spry, grinning and working on a new novel.

Hagerty Planning Trip to Europe

AUGUSTA, Ga. (INS) — James Hagerty, presidential news secretary, has disclosed he is planning a brief trip to Paris within a few days. He plans to make a first-hand survey of arrangements for next month's "summit" meeting of NATO power government heads, including President Eisenhower.

Hagerty said no exact date had been set for his trip but he might go to France this weekend. He added that U.S. Secret Service men also will be going to Paris to establish security arrangements but none was as yet in the French capital.

Hollywood Headlines

Stage Star Ben Gazzara May Take Movie Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ben Gazzara is in town, and he isn't the least bit surly.

The Broadway sensation is here for a rare TV appearance on CBS' Playhouse 90 tonight. I found him to be courteous, conscientious and constructive. He even had kind things to say about Hollywood. What a disappointment!

★ ★ ★

One could expect more fireworks from Gazzara. After all, he was a prime portrayer of angry young men in stage hits ("Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," "A Hatful of Rain"). He is one of the star graduates of the Actor's Studio and has played hard to get with the film studios.

★ ★ ★

"I go where the material is," he explained. "The reason I won't sign with a studio is because I won't let myself get involved with projects I'm not enthusiastic about.

"But I realize that it pays to have certain ties to one studio. After all, you can't expect them to give you good roles if they can't count on you for something in return."

★ ★ ★

For that reason, he may finally succumb to Hollywood. His only picture so far has been "The Strange One," in which he played a strange one indeed—a sadistic cadet in a Southern military academy. Taken from the play he starred in, "End as a Man," it was filmed in Florida by independent producer Sam Spiegel. No hit here, the film is doing big business abroad, Gazzara said.

★ ★ ★

Now MGM wants him to recreate his role in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" opposite Elizabeth Taylor. He may allow himself to be had.

There had been reports that Gazzara has held out for a lot of loot from the film studios. Figures as high as $150,000 a picture have been mentioned.

"Ridiculous!" he commented. "I'm not so unrealistic to think I'm worth that. After all, I'm an unproven commodity at the box office."

The mention of $10,000 appeared to be a truer neighborhood. That's still a lot of moola for an actor who has never made a Hollywood film.

Cold Weather Prevails Across Country Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Generally cool weather prevailed across most of the country today. Precipitation was light, with snow flurries in the Great Lakes region and northern Plains.

Northerly winds continued to fan cool Canadian air through the northern Plains and spread in all directions. Temperatures were surprisingly uniform in many areas.

Readings in the 20s were the rule from the western Great Lakes region through the northern Plains and Pleateau states. They were in the 30s from the north and mid Atlantic Coast states westward through the central part of the country to Nevada.

Coldest area was in the higher Rockies, with below zero readings. It was -10 at West Yellowstone, Mont., and -6 at Fraser, Colo., and Rawlings, Wyo.

There are more geysers in Yellowstone national park than in all the rest of the world combined.

HAND OF FELLOWSHIP — Floyd Stephison, 15, of 92 Henderson St., left, and Darryl McGhee, 13, of 165 Lake St., welcome 11-year-old Lloyd Buchanan into Pontiac Boy Scout Troop 150. A Pontiac Area United Fund-supported agency, Scouting opens an entire world of adventure and fun to area youngsters.

Enter World of Adventure

Scouts Learn Valuable Outdoor Skills

When Lloyd Buchanan, 11 Exchange St., took his oath as a Boy Scout and entered Troop 150 at Crofoot School recently, he stepped into a world of adventure that only a boy can truly appreciate.

Lloyd at 11 joined 3,500 Pontiac area boys in experiencing the great American dream of life close to nature along the wilderness trails.

Under expert adult guidance Lloyd will come to follow the forest paths that once were worn smooth by silent moccasin-clad feet.

He will hear again the muffled dip-dip of the paddle as a canoe glides down historic streams.

Like the scouts of yore, he will feel the thrill of guiding parties into "uncharted" new lands.

FOLLOWS PIONEER SPIRIT

For taking its spiritual cue from the great scouts of old like Rogers' Rangers, Lewis and Clark, Daniel Boone, Davey Crockett and Father Marquette, scouting appeals to the basic urge to pioneering spirit and interest in nature that so many youngsters feel.

Lloyd has joined a troop which with 218 other units makes up the Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Supported by money from the Pontiac Area United Fund, the council is constantly at work to better the program of nature-lore, adventure, hobbies and good fun that has built the Boys Scouts' reputation as a molder of citizens.

With a variety of ranks and badges to be earned, the boys become grounded in the leadership and survival skills that have shaped Americans since the first settlers landed on the Atlantic shore.

★ ★ ★

As Edward H. Leland, Clinton Valley executive, puts it, "with community support through the United Fund, we can extend to all interested boys the adventure of Scouting that fills so vital a need in their lives."

INTERESTS AT ALL LEVELS

Scouting starts at age eight with the Cub Scouts and continues through the Boy Scouts, ages 11 through 13, and the Explorer Scouts, 14 and older.

Each segment, Leland said, is geared to the physical and mental abilities of the boys so that their interest is sustained through their teens.

With interested adults to lend guidance, and public support through UF, Leland sees an ever increasing program for America's largest youth organization in the fast-growing Pontiac area.

Wolves Whistle at Sharp Lass; Her Taxes Cut

SHEFFIELD, England (AP) — A tax valuation court has granted shapely, 31-year-old Mrs. Mildred Barker a cut of 2 pounds ($5.60) a year in her real estate tax because of wolves.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Barker said the wolves were the male employes of an engineering works a few yards from her home. She testified she drew wolf whistles "when I hang out the laundry, when I wash the steps and when I sunbathe in summer."

★ ★ ★

She argued, and the tax court agreed yesterday, that this lessened the value of the house.

Managing Editors Talk on Domestic News

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. planned to devote its annual convention today to problems of domestic news coverage.

The panel discussion listed such topics as the Billy Graham crusade, segregation and Hollywood.

Dr. Will Menninger, secretary of the Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kan., will speak on "Mental Health and the Nation's Press."

★ ★ ★

The editors began a series of discussions yesterday on the AP report after a morning session devoted entirely to freedom of information. The discussions will continue until the convention ends Saturday.

California FBI Nabs Port Huron Woman

ROSEVILLE, Calif. (UP)—Police and FBI agents arrested Mrs. Barbara Jo Ament, 25, of Port Huron, Mich., last night as a federal probation violator, saying she failed to keep in contact with her probation officer.

Special Agent Webb W. Burke, in charge of the San Francisco FBI Office, said Mrs. Ament had been convicted in the U.S. District Court in San Francisco May 24 of passing fraudulent checks and given three years' probation. Burke said she had been in Roseville about a month.

★ ★ ★

She was indicted in Washington, D. C., on check-passing charges but after being arrested in San Francisco had pleaded guilty and was tried in the San Francisco U.S. District Court.

French Press Protests Results of Pineau Parley

PARIS (UP)—All sections of the French press today expressed disappointment over the results of Pineau's visit to Washington to protest the American arms delivery of Tunisia.

★ ★ ★

Pineau went to New York last night after talks with Secretary of State Dulles.

"Slim Results of Pineau-Dulles Talks," headlined the conservative Figaro, while the extreme right Aurore talked of "the disappointing trip of Pineau to the land of Dulles."

"Pineau, after meeting Dulles, left with empty hands," commented Aurore. "The evidence is that, in Washington as in London, one must reckon on an aggravated North African situation, and one is busy making it worse."

Aurore said the work on Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd "against French interests in Africa" was "a strange preparation for the next North Atlantic Council meeting and the grave decisions which must be taken there." The summit meeting of NATO leaders begins Dec. 16 in Paris.

Student, Hurt in Hazing, Remains Unconscious

SHERMAN, Tex. (UP) — Herman E. Schiedlich, 19, an Austin College student injured in a college prank Tuesday night, remained unconscious today.

Students said the Marlin, Tex., freshman was driven six miles out of town and left to walk back. He jumped on the back of the auto and rode several hundred feet before falling off and injuring his head.

Claims Bad Checks Aided Costa Ricans

MILWAUKEE (UP) — A man held on a bad check charge has told detectives he was cashing forged checks to raise money for a Costa Rican revolutionary movement.

Albert Westgarth, 40, of Detroit was arrested Tuesday for interstate transportation of and cashing a $172 bad check in Milwaukee that was drawn on the Northern Trust Co. Bank of Chicago. He was charged in a federal warrant.

Westgarth was arrested in nearby Racine by Detectives Charles Alexander and Donald Dodge.

Alexander and Dodge yesterday quoted Westgarth as saying he has contributed more than $10,000 to the revolutionaries. He said he quit his job last winter so he could devote full time to the project.

Daniel W. Fults, the special agent in charge of the FBI office here, said Westgarth is being held for further proceedings. U.S. Court Commissioner Floyd E. Jenkins set bond at $10,000.

Westgarth told authorities he came to the United States from England in 1925 and served with the U.S. Navy for three years. It was during his Navy tour, Westgarth said, that he became interested in Central American politics.

MSU Man Wins Award

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP) — George J. Buoyoucos, Michigan State University soil specialist, was one of 16 persons selected as "Fellows of the American Society of Agronomy" at the organization's convention here yesterday. The award is one of the highest the society can bestow.

When the U. S. Navy began 182 years ago, it had eight ships carrying 110 guns.

Minister's Family Attends University

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The morning alarm clock is more than just a signal to "rise and shine" for the Rev. Leslie E. Lewis of Lincoln. It serves as a school bell for the entire Lewis family.

* * *

The Rev Mr. Lewis, his wife Laura and daughter, Allie Bett, all are students at Nebraska Wesleyan University. A second daughter, Ellen, attends grade school.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis is a retired Navy officer who felt the urge to preach while in uniform. Besides attending school, he serves as pastor of Wesley Methodist Church and aims to earn a Doctor's Degree.

* * *

Mrs. Lewis, a registered nurse, is bent on a Master's Degree in religious education.

Work Starts on Costly African Gold Mines

JOHNNESBURG — Operations have started on South Africa's biggest and most expensive gold-mining enterprise — the Western Deep Level mine, about 30 miles west of Johannesburg.

More than £20,000,000 ($56,000,000) will be spent over the next six years to bring the new 12,000-foot-deep mine to full production, and in its expected 60-year life span it should produce gold £800,000,000.

New Art Museum Open

COLOGNE, Germany — A new art museum, the Wallraf-Richartz, has just opened in Cologne. Its 2,500 paintings, valued at $8,750,000, include work of the Cologne school, Dutch paintings of the 17th and 18th Centuries, and many works by modern artists.

Nepalese Sorcerers Dance at Midnight

NEW DELHI — White-robed figures disturbed the midnight mists as they leaped and danced in diabolical fury through the streets of Darjeeling, India.

* * *

It was Nepalese sorcerers or medicine men celebrating their annual ritual in supplication of their special duties, or guru. Rituals, mysterious and specific, are held by these men and women throughout the night.

Some, more daring, pay lonely visits to cremation grounds.

Hailing traditionally from Nepal, these sorcerers have a reputation for witchcraft and are said to have the power to exorcise spirits, both good and evil.

* * *

Their closely guarded secrets are handed down from father to son.

Pensions Cover Many

CHICAGO — Some 75,000,000 workers and their dependents in the United States are covered in some measure by employe pension and welfare plans. Annual contributions made to the funds average about seven billion dollars.

Bad Drivers Infantile

BOULDER, Colo., (INS) — A Colorado University psychologist says a behavior study of chronic traffic violators shows they tend to have the same anti-social attributes as juvenile delinquents. Dr. Kenneth Hammond reports these traits include youthfulness, low intelligence, egocentricity and social irresponsibility.

Shedding Snakes Mad

ATLANTA — While shedding their skin, snakes are particularly irritable and may strike at the slightest disturbance.

Comanchero Raiders Worse Than Indians

LAS VEGAS, N. M. (INS) — Among the most feared marauders on the Old Santa Fe Trail in New Mexico during the last century were not Indians, but Comancheros.

Comancheros means "those who deal with Comanches." These raiders robbed pack trains for their goods and traded with the Indians.

Holland sold substantially more bulbs and flowers abroad in 1956, chief buyers being West Germany, America, Britain, Sweden, and France, the Hague reports.

Glib Hal Boyle Frets, Ponders and Pities Everyone

By SAUL PETT
AP Feature Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — As it must to all men, a spontaneous, unrehearsed evening on the town—a night out with the boys—comes occasionally into the life of Hal Boyle, the columnist.

* * *

Thus, on a recent evening of warm friendship, Boyle was overstaying his leave at Pat Moriarty's Chop House. The phone rang several times and each time Boyle, with the characteristic cowardice of overdue husbands, shouted to the owner:

"Pat, if that's my wife, tell her I just left."

Hours later, Boyle arrived home and learned, with a wide-eyed look of sublime innocence, that there had been dinner guests long since departed. In forceful terms, Frances Boyle delivered a lecture on thoughtless husbands. And then the phone rang.

* * *

Boyle said, "Frances, if that's Pat Moriarty, tell him I just left."

PURE BOYLE

This, of course, is classic Boyle, pure Boyle, the legendary Boyle who invaded North Africa throwing candy from his jeep to the natives and shouting, "Vote for Boyle, son of toil, Honest Hal, the Arabs pal."

There are other Boyles, most of whom creep into his daily AP column, which appears in more than 500 papers and is probably the most widely printed in America.

There is the gay, the folksy, the gregarious Boyle, the organizational Boyle who serves on committees, collects for office Christmas parties, farewell parties and funerals. The physical Boyle concerned about his 46 years, his 200 pounds, his broad, broken nose, his thinning, brown hair. The naive Boyle who thinks he will weigh 170 again, the proud Boyle who, on losing a single ounce, introduces himself as "the new tiger man."

SYNTHESIZED SUCCESS

By a mysterious, suspenseful chemistry, these separate Boyles somehow manage to coalesce every weekday into the written word. And the words, over the years, have added up to a Pulitzer prize and other awards, to columns dramatized on television and reprinted in magazines and anthologies.

Harold Vincent Boyle spends 22 hours a day, awake or asleep, thinking, worrying about his column and two hours actually writing it. Boyle at the typewriter is a horrible sight. It is the time, he says, when "you just take a cold chisel, put it to your head, and start quarrying."

Boyle at the typewriter, with 60 or 90 minutes to go, is taut, silent, stiff, intense, measuring each word carefully, writing, X-ing out, rephrasing, sweating into a shining simplicity.

* * *

He can't work without chewing murderously on his cigar, stopping compulsively to comb his hair or to take a deep breath like a pitcher nervously eying the batter and that small strike zone. Only a writer knows how small that strike zone is.

* * *

"I've got to get a few columns ahead, get a backlog," says Boyle, the optimist.

* * *

"I can only write on deadline," says Boyle, the realist. "Emily Dickinson said, 'wine is the gift of screws.' I find the deadline squeezes the best out of you in a hurry."

FRUITS OF TORTURE

A GI dead in Normandy, "at final ease stretched 'in eternal langor." . . . In South Carolina, "a tar-papered shack wearying a hill." . . . Of October, when "everything that walks the earth feels an amber thrill." . . . Of the triumph of an Irishman on St. Pat's Day, when he hears "the deep, deep music of living, the low, sad rhythms of eternity . . . the high song of the turning spheres, the dim lullaby of the worm in its cocoon . . ."

* * *

These well-ordered phrases are born every morning at a monumentally disordered desk, usually piled more than a foot high with unopened mail, papers, books, magazines, forgotten shopping lists. Boyle always has a fancy explanation for the clutter.

The Boyles live simply in a four-room Manhattan apartment overlooking the East River.

His hobbies are "brooding and watching people and trying to understand them," thinking up titles for books he'll never write, shopping for suits he won't buy until Frances sees them, counting the columns left to do before retirement, and day-dreaming.

HE'S ROLLING — The word was found, the phrase made, the path through the dark forest opens. Now it's only work.

SORROW FOR ALL

"Hates? I hate people who throw their weight around, who try to rob a man of his dignity. Will Rogers used to say, 'I never met a man I didn't like.' I can't say that.

* * *

"But I can say I never met a human being I didn't feel sorry for. I think this is a hard world and I think every human in it, at one time or another, has a hard time. The thing I admire most is people who face life with courage, loyalty and a sense of humor."

Boyle caught the writing virus relatively late. Growing up in Kansas City, he first wanted to be an engineer and "go around the world in high leather boots, building bridges and dams."

In high school, Boyle jerked sodas for a druggist. As Boyle began to eat up all the ice cream profits, the boss began searching for other fields for Boyle to conquer. It was the druggist who knew the chief copy boy at the Kansas City AP office, it was the druggist who suggested Hal might want to look him up.

STARTED AT BOTTOM

Boyle started with the AP as office boy in 1928, departed long enough to earn degrees in journalism and English at the University of Missouri, worked as reporter for AP in Kansas City, St. Louis and New York, and took off as a war correspondent in 1942.

He landed with Patton at Casablanca and Sicily, Clark at Salerno and jeeped with the First Army from Normandy to the Elbe, moved later to the Pacific war zone and returned in 1950 to combat in Korea.

It took several weeks to realize he had won a Pulitzer for his war reporting in 1944.

While he is not famed as a methodical planner, he does think a man should pick his own epitaph.

His own choice: "Safe at Home."

Admit ROKs Fled North Voluntarily

SEOUL (AP)—National police officials said privately today that North Korean's Communist government is right about many of the 337 South Korean civilians it admits are in the North—they did go there voluntarily.

The police said they are watching the absentees' families closely for any possibly subversive contacts with those in the Communist area.

The South Korean Red Cross announced Monday that it had received the list of the 337. The Communists said they went North by choice and wanted to stay there.

The South Korean government, meanwhile, maintained its official stand that the Southerners in the north were kidnaped.

Lt. Col. Schnipke Heads National Guard Division

LANSING (AP) — The National Guard has announced the appointment of Lt. Col. Clarence C. Schnipke of Grand Rapids as chief of staff for the 46th Infantry Division.

* * *

Col. Schnipke, 44, succeeds Brig. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald of Okemos, newly appointed state quartermaster general, effective Dec. 1.

The appointment was announced by Maj. Gen. Gordon A. MacDonald of Detroit, division commander.

* * *

Col. Schnipke has been assigned as executive officer of the 126th Infantry in Grand Rapids since 1947. He had a record of 27 years of National Guard and active military service and was with the 126th Infantry of the 32nd Division in the Southwest Pacific in World War II.

Harriman Asks Report on Raid

New York State Police Under Fire in Release of Gangland Leaders

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New York state police who broke up and investigated a "gangland conference" a week ago were under investigation themselves today.

Gov. Averell Harriman disclosed last night that he had ordered a number of inquiries by state agencies into the mobster meeting. One of them directs the state police superintendent to submit "a complete report on the conduct of the raid."

* * *

A spokesman said the governor wanted the report since criticism had been raised about the police action.

Troopers flushed out 60 men last Thursday from Joseph Barbara's remote country mansion in the hamlet of Apalachin in south-central New York. Many underworld luminaries were netted.

The troopers made no arrests. They said there was no charge on which to hold any of the guests. The visitors insisted they were visiting a sick friend—Barbara.

Although no arrests were made, it was the first time any police had interfered with and broken up a meeting of such magnitude.

There has been criticism of the state police in some quarters over the prompt release of the participants in the meeting. There also have been reports that top state police officials were angry over the fact that they were not consulted during the roundup and questioning.

* * *

The state police superintendent, Francis S. McGarvey, endorsed the manner in which his subordinates had acted. They did "the best they could under the circumstances," he said.

The governor's spokesman was asked whether Harriman's call for a full report meant he had overruled McGarvey. The spokesman said Harriman simply wanted the report because of the criticism raised.

The participants, however, will feel the full weight of the flood of investigations that the Apalachin meeting has sparked.

The governor ordered the state investigations commissioner, Arthur Reuter, to "look into the activities and associations of those attending the meeting."

Ex-Island Head Sick

FLEMINGTON, N.J. (AP)—Francis Burton Harrison, 83, governor general of the Philippines from 1913 to 1921, was reported in critical condition at Hunterdon Medical Center today suffering from a heart ailment.

South Africa Is Rife With Rock 'n' Roll

NEW YORK (AP)—Rock 'n' roll is taking over in South Africa, according to a Zulu disc jockey.

King Edward Masinga, 41, who conducts a daily Zulu language program in Durban, is in this country on a special State Department grant to study American drama and broadcasting.

* * *

Masinga said his program in Durban features the old folk music, but that it is losing out to rock 'n' roll. Even the natives in the back country, he said, buy rock 'n' roll records when they come to town.

Court Turns Down Troop Removal Suit

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals denied motions from both sides yesterday in a suit asking removal of U.S. troops from Central High School at Little Rock, Ark.

The motion by attorneys for Mrs. Margaret Jackson of Little Rock sought an immediate hearing on the case or the remanding of the suit to a lower court.

Government lawyers were turned down on a motion to dismiss the case on the grounds Mrs. Jackson's two daughters no longer attend the school.

* * *

The court in effect put both sides back where they started when the case was first appealed.

Mrs. Jackson's suit was dismissed in Little Rock by Judge Ronald Davies, who ordered immediate integration in the school.

Russia's Vote Hits Neutrals

West Wins Crushing Victory on Enlarging Disarmament Body

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Russia's brushoff of Western efforts to break the disarmament deadlock may have demonstrated her new ICBM-Sputnik "position of strength." But it also put a severe strain on her friendship with many so-called neutral nations.

* * *

Delegates infer this from the lineup in the smashing 60-9 U.N. Assembly endorsement of the West's plan to increase the 12-nation Disarmament Commission to 25 members. Only the Soviet bloc voted against the proposal despite Russia's warning she would boycott the talks unless half the nations at the conference table were Communist or neutral.

* * *

The West had been confident of victory on the vote. But few had expected Syria and Egypt, who receive economic and military aid from Moscow, to vote for the plan. Nor had they anticipated support from such Asian neutrals as Ceylon and Indonesia, who usually show a marked preference for Soviet ideas.

A number of usually pro-Soviet delegations were deeply disturbed by Russia's ever-increasing demands during the East-West negotiations last week on enlarging the commission.

FESTIVE PUDDINGS — Decorative fare—and good eating, too—are these holiday puddings. A boon to the busy homemaker, they call for short-cut ingredients that cuts cooking time by hours. For variety, serve the fig, plum and date-nut puddings with brandy, hard sauce or maraschino cherries sauce.

Spread Holiday Joy With Festive Puddings

To help the busy homemaker get a head start on holiday preparations here are three puddings that can be made quite easily and kept on hand for family enjoyment. They're a wonderful idea for gift-giving too, throughout the holiday season ahead. Such short-cut ingredients as ready-to-use candied fruit peel and shelled nutmeats play a big part in speeding up preparations.

An additional bonus is that these taste-tempting puddings are baked rather than steamed—cutting the cooking time from seven hours to merely two. Also, the real good flavor of these puddings is the same as any traditional ones of yesteryear.

Holiday Plum Pudding

½ cup seedless raisins
1 cup chopped prunes
1 cup apple juice
1½ cups suet
1½ cups granulated sugar
3 eggs
½ cup chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons candied lemon peel
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon salt

Combine raisins and prunes; heat apple juice to a boil; pour over fruits and let cool.

Work suet until soft; combine sugar with suet and cream together. Beat in eggs one at a time; stir in walnuts and candied lemon peel. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with the suet-sugar mixture to the fruits.

Spoon batter into a 1½ quart greased mold; place in pan and pour boiling water around the mold. Bake at 325 degrees for about 1½ hours; remove mold from pan of water and bake an additional 30 minutes to remove excess moisture. Serve with flavored Hard Sauce. Makes about 10 to 12 servings.

Date-Nut Pudding

3 eggs
1 cup sugar
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup crushed graham crackers
1 pkg. (8 ounces) chopped dates
1 cup chopped nuts

Beat eggs and gradually add sugar. Sift in dry ingredients and stir into egg mixture. Add crackers and fold in dates and nuts.

Bake in a 1 quart greased ring mold for about 50 minutes. Serve with Brandy Sauce or Rum. Makes about 6-8 servings.

★ ★ ★

Holiday Fig Pudding

1 cup butter, softened
2 cups light brown sugar
4 eggs
3 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground cloves
½ cup milk
1½ cups chopped figs
½ cup chopped walnut meats

Cream butter and sugar together until light and fluffy; stir in eggs and mix thoroughly. Sift dry ingredients and stir into butter mixture; blend in milk and fold in figs, raisins and nuts.

Spoon into 4 molds of 2-cup capacity; bake in pans of hot water at 325 degrees for about 2 hours. Take molds from pans of water and bake an additional 25 minutes or until excess moisture is removed. Serve with Maraschino Cherry Sauce. Yield: 4 individual puddings.

Sweet Sour Beans Chilled

Are you and your family tired of bland, tasteless vegetables?

With a little imagination, vegetables like green beans can be treats instead of defeats on your dinner table. Here is a simple recipe that adds a piquant, refreshing flavor to green beans.

Sweet-Sour Green Beans

4 cups canned green beans
1 large onion, thinly sliced
⅓ cup vinegar
¼ cup water
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons salad oil
Salt and pepper to taste
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate

Combine green beans and onion slices in a large bowl. Heat vinegar, water, and sugar together until mixture boils, stirring to dissolve sugar. Remove from heat, add salad oil, pour over beans and onion. Season with salt, pepper, and monosodium glutamate. Toss gently until ingredients are well mixed. Cover and chill several hours or overnight before serving. Serve on lettuce-lined salad plates for attractive appearance. Yield: six servings.

Crown Pork Steaks With Apple Rings

One tasty way to take advantage of pork is Apple-Topped Pork Steaks. Fry out pork steaks in a skillet; coat with flour and brown on both sides in hot fat. Sprinkle both sides of each steak with salt and paprika.

Core an apple but leave peeling on; cut into thick slices. Fill centers with raisins if desired. Place on meat. Sprinkle apples with brown sugar. Pour a little water around steak; cover and cook over low heat until steaks are tender, basting occasionally.

Taffy-Like Cooky Squares Delectable

A delectable bar-type cookie.

Taffy Coconut Squares

2 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup dark molasses
5 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted)
4 egg whites
1 cup (fairly lightly packed) flaked coconut

Sift together the cake flour, baking soda and salt. Beat the sugar, vanilla, molasses and melted (slightly cooled) butter together with a rotary beater (hand or electric) enough to blend. Add unbeaten egg whites and beat enough to blend. Do not overmix. Stir in coconut.

Line the bottoms of two baking pans (each 8 by 8 by 2 inches) with waxed paper; grease paper well. Turn batter into pans. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 35 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Turn out at once on cake racks and strip off paper. Turn right side up. Cool about 10 minutes; cut in 2-inch squares. When cold store in tightly covered container Makes 32 cookies.

Pork a Better Buy Than Ever Before

Pork is better today than ever before, but we Americans are spending less and less of our money to buy it. We have the word of the U. S. Department of Agriculture for that double-barreled statement.

The meat packing companies and the hog raisers have been doing their best to make pork more attractive to us consumers; with the result that it's safe to say that today we have the best pork we've ever had: it's tender, because it comes from hogs scientifically fed to grow rapidly.

Each pound of today's pork contains more lean meat and less fat, partly because hog raisers are breeding and feeding their pigs to be lean and muscular; partly because meat packers and butchers are trimming off more of the fat before the pork goes into the show case.

Pork prices have been coming down in recent weeks as farmers have sent more hogs to market, and we can expect moderate to low prices on hams, bacon, pork chops, roasts and other pork cuts for the next several months.

Keep Fudge Mix Warm

When dipping nutmeats into a fudge mixture to coat the nuts, put a little of the candy mixture into a small container to make the dipping easy. The rest of the fudge should be kept over hot water until needed.

Turkey Price Reasonable for Record 1957 Crop

Family gatherings, favorite foods and "thanks giving" are uppermost in our minds this week. No doubt these thoughts will enter your planning of the market list.

MEATS — Most families will choose the traditional turkey for the Thanksgiving meat. You will find prices very reasonable says the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, for the 1957 turkey crop breaks all previous records.

If the family gathering will be large, a turkey weighing over 20 pounds is a wise choice for the large birds have a higher percentage of meat to bone. A 25-pound tom turkey will yield 56 per cent roasted meat while a 15-pound turkey will yield about 50 per cent.

As a "rule of thumb" allow ¾ to 1 pound of ready-to-cook turkey per person if the weight is under 12 pounds. Allow ½ to ¾ pound of ready-to-cook turkey per person if the weight is over 12 pounds. If you buy a frozen stuffed turkey, allow 1½ to 2 pounds of stuffed turkey for each person.

According to MSU specialist Henry Larzelere, turkey prices will probably be no lower than at Thanksgiving. If you have freezer space, the Christmas turkey might be bought now, states Mrs. Lawyer.

In season pork will rate favorably with a number of families. Compared to other red meats in the markets, pork is an economical choice whether you choose a fresh or smoked cut.

If you choose ham, it will pay to check with the market manager concerning how to cook it. Most hams are quick cured and bear labels reading "tenderized," "ready-to-eat" or "fully cooked."

The tenderized hams are partially cooked but need roasting in a 300-degree oven for 15 to 30 minutes per pound depending upon the size. A meat thermometer inserted in the center of the meat will read 160 to 170 degrees when the tenderized ham is done.

Ready-to-eat hams are heated in a 300-degree oven until a properly inserted meat thermometer reads 130 dgrees. Fully cooked hams possess the appearance and eating qualities of fully cooked ham, but are usually heated in a 300-degree oven before serving.

Since many other meat cuts will be less in demand this week, the wise shopper will be alert to featured items.

PRODUCE — Completing the Thanksgiving food plan is made easy with the fresh, canned and frozen produce available.

Sweet and Irish potatoes, cranberries, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, apples, oranges and citrus are of major interest on the fresh produce counters.

Pumpkin, cherries and peas are timely items from the canned food shelves. If you check labels, you will notice many of the canned foods today come in the 303 size can. This means you will get approximately 2 cups of food or 3 to 4 servings. The No. 2½ size can holds 3½ cups.

Large supplies of frozen peas may mean you will want to include them in your plans more often. In most stores they are several cents less per package than most other frozen vegetables. Since there is no waste, one 10-ounce package of frozen vegetable will serve three people.

EGGS — Which will you choose? Grade A or Grade B eggs? Choose the high-quality eggs for table use. A round, upstanding, well-centered yolk surrounded by a large amount of thick white describes top quality Grade A eggs. While you choose Grade A for frying and poaching, Grade B eggs at a few cents less per dozen are very satisfactory for use in baking or mixing with other foods.

To keep quality, stores keep eggs in refrigerated cases. A quick trip to the home refrigerator is your assurance of holding the egg grade you buy.

Spuds Retain Value When Treated Right

Penny for penny, potatoes have more energy-giving value than any other vegetable relates the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

There is more food value packed beneath potato skins than we once realized. Potatoes are rich in Vitamin C if cooked with the skins on. Cooking potatoes in their jackets seals in most of the vitamins and minerals. If you peel potatoes, keep the peeling thin. Peel just before cooking. Soaking allows potatoes to lose some of their health value.

Go easy on the water when you boil potatoes. The more water you use, the more food nutrients you lose. Then save the cooking water fr use in soups, gravy and sauces. Pennies for potatoes go far when you follow the rules of good cooks.

Be sure to prick a pie shell thoroughly before baking to prevent shrinking.

SPEEDIER CHECKOUT — An invention that promises faster checkout service for food store customers has been installed in a Cincinnati, O., Kroger supermarket. The first such installation in the world, the automatic bagger fills sacks at the touch of a push button operated by the cashier. The inventors claim a time saving of one-third. Items are placed in a well, above, as they are checked, then slide neatly into sacks held open by suction cups. To finish the process, a conveyor shifts the sack to the side, all while the cashier is making change.

Meat 'n' Potatoes Together in Patty

Looking for a new way in which to use ground beef? If so, why not try combining it with grated potatoes, shaping it into patties and browning the patties as you'd do for hamburgers.

Specific ingredients include 1½ pounds ground beef, 2 cups medium grated unpeeled potatoes, 2 tablespoons grated onion, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and lard or drippings.

Combine all the ingredients except the lard. Mix well, shape into 6 patties and brown on all sides in lard or drippings. Allow 10 to 15 minutes for cooking.

PUMPKIN SOUP — Pumpkin soup adds a novel touch to the Thanksgiving dinner, and should be served with a few white kernels of corn.

Pumpkin Soup Is Novel Touch for Thanksgiving

This year let's make our Thanksgiving dinner a little different. Pumpkin, as usual but not in a pie.

Pumpkin Soup

1 (1-lb. 13-oz.) can (3 cups) pumpkin
1 (10½-oz.) can condensed tomato soup
4 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon pepper

Combine ingredients in saucepan; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thoroughly heated. Makes 8 servings.

Celery Soup With Caraway

2 cups finely diced celery
1 quart water
2 tablespoons butter
1 small onion, chopped
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
2 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon caraway seeds

Combine celery and 2 cups of the water in a saucepan; bring to a boil. Cook until celery is tender, about 30 minutes. Melt butter in top of double boiler; saute onion until tender. Remove from pan.

* * *

Pour remaining water into top of double boiler; sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder, flour, salt and caraway seeds over surface. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Add onion. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Add celery and liquid. Makes 8 servings.

Apricots Fleck Cookie Topping

When you want to serve something sweet, here's a marvelous suggestion: delicious Golden Apricot Bars. These homemade confections are a little more than cookies, but lighter than cake—just right for an afternoon gathering. You can imagine how good they are by simply reading the ingredients—lots of butter, walnuts, brandy flavoring and, of course, tangy apricots. The end result is moist and chewy, heavenly to taste, and a perfect coffee-companion.

Golden Apricot Bars

¾ cup dried apricots
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1⅔ cups sifted all purpose flour, divided
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
½ teaspoon brandy flavoring
½ cup chopped walnuts

Rinse apricots and cover with water. Boil ten minutes, then drain, cool and chop. Let butter stand at room temperature until soft. Mix with sugar and 1 cup of the flour until crumbly. Pack into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees for 25 minutes.

* * *

Sift remaining 1-3 cup flour, baking powder and salt. Beat brown sugar slowly into eggs, beating well after each addition. Stir in flour mixture, flavoring, walnuts and apricots. Spread over baked layer. Return to oven; bake 30 minutes longer. Cool in pan. Cut in bars or squares when cold.

Rich Desserts Call for Simple First Courses

VIENNA (INS) — If you are planning on a rich whipped cream dessert, take a tip from Viennese cooks and keep the rest of the meal simple.

In other words, steer clear of cream sauces for the main dish or vegetables and even from thick mayonnaise on salads. All of these, explained a housewife in Vienna, "detract from dessert—and we love our rich cakes, tortes and whipped cream."

When the dessert is the highlight of a meal in Vienna, the first course is a clear consomme, generally followed by a roast, vegetables dressed up with a bit of butter and parsley or chives.

Not every meal in this heart of Austrian culinary achievement is topped by a mouth - melting whipped cream concoction. As cooks do the world over, Viennese women vary their menus from day to day.

And, actually, they use mayonnaise—usually made in their own kitchens — as much as whipped cream. Sometimes they start with a tomato stuffed with ham salad. Then serve sliced meat in brown gravy, along with diced, cooked carrots in mayonnaise or potato salad.

HARVEST SQUASH — As the Pilgrims did on the first Thanksgiving, so modern Americans include squash in the menu. In this picture the squash is garnished with cottage cheese and cranberries and served with eggplant fingers.

Give Fall Squash Honored Place

Squash, in one form or another, is a traditional part of the Thanksgiving feast. You'll enjoy this different squash recipe; also the one for eggplant fingers.

Harvest Squash

2 medium acorn squash
2 tablespoons melted butter
Salt, pepper
4 teaspoons dark brown sugar
Cottage cheese
Whole cranberry sauce

Wash and split squash lengthwise. Scrape out seeds and stringy portion. Brush squash halves with butter and sprinkle with salt, pepper and brown sugar. Place, squash, cut side up, in a shallow baking pan. Add enough hot water to cover bottom of pan. Cover, and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 1 hour or until tender. Garnish each half with a generous spoonful of cheese and top with a spoonful of cranberry sauce. Serve immediately. Four servings.

Eggplant Fingers

1 medium eggplant
Salt, pepper
½ cup flour
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
¾ cup packaged dry bread crumbs

Pare eggplant and cut into ½-inch crosswise slices. Cut ½-inch strips from each slice to make "fingers." Season with salt and pepper and dredge in flour. Beat together egg and milk. Dip eggplant fingers into egg-milk mixture and roll in crumbs until completely covered. Deep fat fry eggplant in hot fat, 380 degrees F., about 4 minutes, or until golden brown on both sides; drain.

Turkey Dressings Vary Take Your Pick!

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Did you ever wonder what poultry seasoning has in it? It's quite a list: sage, thyme, savory, white pepper, nutmeg, ginger and allspice. It may also have cloves, marjoram and mace. Different companies have different formulas for their product, but they are more or less uniform.

At this season of the year this spice is essential. You could, of course, make your own blend. But what a job! So include poultry seasoning among your many food blessings.

All of this is just a prelude to a discussion of turkey dressings. We'll start out with our yearly warning: DON'T STUFF THE TURKEY AHEAD OF TIME. Grandma may have done it without any ill effects, but there is danger.

Get both turkey and dressing ready. Keep them chilled. Put them together just before the turkey goes in the oven.

How about an almond dressing this year? It will be a pleasant crunchy surprise.

Almond Dressing

1½ cups shelled whole almonds
3 quarts toasted bread cubes (measure after toasting cubes)
1 cup finely diced celery
½ cup instant minced onion
Chopped cooked turkey liver and gizzard
3 tablespoons dried parsley flakes
2½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
½ cup butter or margarine, melted
¾ to 1 cup giblet stock
12 to 15 pound ready-to-cook turkey

Blanch, slice and toast almonds. Combine with remaining ingredients. Toss lightly. Spoon into crop and body cavity of a 12 to 15 pound ready-to-cook turkey. Close openings with skewers and lacings. Yield: Sufficient stuffing for a 12 to 15 pound ready-to-cook turkey.

★ ★ ★

If you really want an unusual dressing, use coarsely crumbled pretzels instead of bread cubes. This will give your turkey a new "twist."

Pretzel Dressing

8 cups coarsely crumbled pretzels (about 1½ pounds)
2 large onions, chopped (2 cups)
2 cups diced celery
2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
½ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
1½ cups (¾ pound) melted butter or margarine
1 cup water

Combine pretzel crumbs, onions, celery, poultry seasoning, and pepper in large bowl. Stir in milk, butter or margarine, and water; blend lightly until well mixed. Enough for a 12-pound turkey.

Make half this recipe to stuff a 6 to 8-pound ready-to-cook turkey.

A favorite with many people is this Oyster Dressing. Just a hint of tabasco sauce is tantalizing.

Oyster Dressing

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup diced celery
¾ teaspoon tabasco
8 cups soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
2 cups drained chopped oysters or 1 can (16 ounces)

Melt butter, add onion and celery and cook until onion is yellow, but not brown. Stir in Tabasco. Add to bread crumbs with parsley, salt and poultry seasoning. Mix lightly. Add oysters. Enough for a 12-pound bird.

French Toast Muffins

Flatter your family with a breakfast treat — French toasted English muffins. Split or slice English muffins, horizontally. Dip halves into milk and egg mixture —½ cup of milk, one egg, dash of salt and 1½ teaspoons sugar. Brown muffins in hot shortening in a skillet. Serve with honey, preserves or sirup.

Finish Leftover Fowl With Old-Time Sauce

A sauce for roast turkey adapted from an old-time sauce that may well have been served to Queen Victoria, "makes a feast" of leftover turkey at the Norwalk, Connecticut home of Margaret Rudkin, president of Pepperidge Farm.

Mrs. Rudkin, who collects old cookbooks, said her version of "Poivrade Sauce" is adapted from a recipe she found in a collection of Charles Francatelli, a famous 19th century cook, who had been a pupil of Careme, cook to Queen Victoria.

"Naturally, there is no substitute for American Thanksgiving Day turkey gravy," Mrs. Rudkin said. "But the turkey usually outlasts the gravy in our house and we all look forward to finishing it up with this wonderful sauce."

Mrs. Rudkin says her sauce is an adaptation of the original because "like many old-time foods, it called for more fat than we care to use today. But the excellent flavor is still there."

Here is Mrs. Rudkin's version of the sauce. She suggests using it over turkey on steamed rice or toast.

Poivrade Sauce

1 tablespoon butter
¼ cup celery, diced
1 tablespoon onion, chopped fine
1 tablespoon parsley, minced
⅛ teaspoon thyme
¼ teaspoon whole black pepper
3 or 4 whole cloves
½ cup cooked ham, cut in ¼ inch cubes
1 10-ounce can consomme
1 tablespoon tarragon wine vinegar
1 carrot, cut in thin slices
1 tablespoon flour, if desired
1 teaspoon (approx.) bottled brown sauce

Melt butter. Add celery, onion, parsley, thyme, whole pepper, cloves and cooked ham. Saute until light brown. Add consomme, tarragon wine vinegar and carrot slices. Cook slowly until carrot slices are tender (about 15 minutes). Strain. Thicken with flour if desired. Add bottled brown sauce for additional color. Makes 6 servings.

Edam Cheese Spread

Cut the top from an Edam cheese in a thin slice. Hollow out the cheese and mix with cooking sherry, using an electric blender. Spoon the mixture back into the shell, replace the top, and wrap tightly; refrigerate for a couple of days before serving as a spread with crackers.

Broil Coffee Toast Strips

The marriage of toast and coffee is perfect in broiled coffee toast. Mix ½ teaspoon instant coffee with ¼ cup sugar. Cut slices of enriched bread into 1-inch strips and brush all sides of strips with melted butter. Roll strips in coffee-sugar mixture. Place on baking sheet and broil until lightly browned on both top and bottom sides—about 2 minutes on each side.

Pasteurizing has no effect on the nutrients for which milk is a most important source — calcium, protein and riboflavin.

BAKED LOBSTER — Popped in the oven along with the baked potatoes, South African rock lobster tails make a surprise main dish. Each tail is wrapped in aluminum foil and brought to the table that way.

Bake Lobster in Foil Packets

Some like them boiled; some like them broiled. Some like them all diced up in canapes and casseroles. But many like South African rock lobster tails baked in the oven along with the other components of a hearty menu on a chill winter night.

★ ★ ★

If you're one of these, the best method is to bake each tail in its own envelope of aluminum foil. This not only preserves all the delicate flavor of the rock lobster meat, it lets you (if that's your mind) bring a surprise package to the table for each person to unwrap. The "present," in this case, is the taste sensation of tender, succulent rock lobster meat.

Potatoes in their skins, South African rock lobster tails in their bright red shells — baked and served together, what could be easier on the cook?

Baked South African Rock Lobster

4 (6 ounce) South African rock lobster tails
¼ cup minced chives
¼ pound butter, melted
Lemon slices
Aluminum foil

Thaw South African rock lobster tails. With scissors, cut membrane on flesh side through center and at each edge to remove. Cut pieces of aluminum foil 4 inches longer than rock lobster tails. Place each tail on piece of foil, sprinkle flesh with minced chives and fold foil securely. Place on baking pan and bake in hot oven (450 degrees).

★ ★ ★

Allow 25 minutes for 3 to 8-ounce tails and 30 minutes for larger tails (9-12 ounces). Serve with or without the foil envelopes. Provide lemon slices and individual bowls of melted butter for delicious dunking. Yield: 4 servings.

Vary Sandwich to Suit Taste

It's all in the family — as these three sandwiches show. They are variations of a basic sandwich idea to suit every member of your family, and they're all made with a traditional and long-familiar sandwich spread — canned deviled ham.

★ ★ ★

Ninety years ago this little can of sandwich spread, branded with a fiery red devil, first appeared on grocery shelves. Just as today's homemakers are, our grandmothers and great-grandmothers were always on the lookout for time savers, so they started using this new and spicy deviled ham for sandwiches.

★ ★ ★

Sandwiches are still as popular, and still as necessary as they were in great - grandmother's day. There's always Junior's school lunch, Father's lunchbox, and Mother's mid-day meal. Here's where the little can of deviled ham still comes in handy. Here are three different, yet simple, red devil recipes for pleasing the whole family with deviled ham sandwiches, ways to vary the classic deviled ham on white bread sandwich.

Junior's Red Devil Dog

1 2¼ oz. can deviled ham
2 tablespoons pickle relish
Mustard

★ ★ ★

Mother's Muffin Burger

1 2¼ oz. can deviled ham
1 slice processed American chese
Mayonnaise

★ ★ ★

Father's Deviled Ham on Rye

1 2¼ ounce can deviled ham
2 slices onion
Mustard

Kitchen arithmetic: a pound of granulated sugar equals two cups.

FAMILY SANDWICHES — There's a deviled ham sandwich idea here for every member of the family. Junior can have his favorite hot dog; mother likes hers on an English muffin; and father can bite into a hearty rye sandwich.

Sweet Potatoes Star in Pie

Old-Fashioned Sweet Potato Pie will remind you of pumpkin pie; but it has a flavor goodness that's distinctly its own. This pie may rate a place on your Thanksgiving menu, if you can wait that long to give it a try:

Old-Fashioned Sweet Potato Pie

1 cup sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
2 to 3 tablespoons cold water
1¾ cups mashed sweet potatoes
3 eggs, beaten
⅔ cup sugar
⅓ cup molasses
1¼ cups milk
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together.

Turn out on floured board or pastry cloth and press dough together. Roll dough out to circle ⅛ inch thick. Fit into 9-inch pie pan. Trim and flute edge.

To prepare filling, mash potatoes to smooth paste. Add eggs and mix well. Add sugar, molasses and milk. Mix thoroughly. Add cloves and vanilla extract. Blend well. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 15 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees) for 35 to 40 minutes. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Mushrooms and Sausage Stuff Squash

Looks attractive, tastes good:

Sausage and Acorn Squash

2 medium-sized acorn squash
¼ pound bulk sausage meat
1 egg
1 can (3 ounces) chopped broiled mushrooms
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper
¼ cup finely diced celery

Cut squash in two length - wise Cut thin slice from bottom of each squash half so vegetable will stand evenly in baking pan.

Place squash, hollow side down, in greased shallow baking pan. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 45 minutes.

Meanwhile cook sausage over moderate heat in small skillet until lightly browned and crumbly—about 15 minutes. Beat egg enough to combine yolk and white; mix with mushrooms (including liquid in can), bread crumbs, salt, a dash of pepper, celery and cooked sausage including fat in skillet.

Remove squash from oven and turn hollow side up; fill with stuffing. Return to oven; bake, uncovered, until squash is tender and lightly browned — about 30 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Skillet Meal Ideal for Crisp Fall Night

Fall weather calls for substantial meals. Build a meal in a skillet suggests the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Use a cut of meat that needs moist heat cooking—chuck roast, round steak, pork chops or stewing chicken.

While the meat is braising take advantage of the steam and cook vegetables in the skillet too. While the whole meal in a skillet cooks, you are free to do other things.

If you have a flair for different flavors, try this sometime. At serving time, take the vegetables out of the skillet and add sour cream to the meat in the skillet. There is more than one meal trick in a skillet, especially when the whole meal cooks at the same time.

You Have to Like Garlic

For gourmets only: crushed garlic mixed with minced fresh basil and grated Parmesan cheese and tossed with hot drained cooked spaghetti and a little butter or olive oil.

To remove fresh peach, pear, cherry or plum stains from cottons, soak stains in cool water; then work in suds of nonalkaline detergent; rinse.

For those who want the fun of feeling good!

You've known families who have it...

boundless energy, the zip and enthusiasm that makes them "lots of fun." Heredity undoubtedly is important—so is the ability not to "worry."

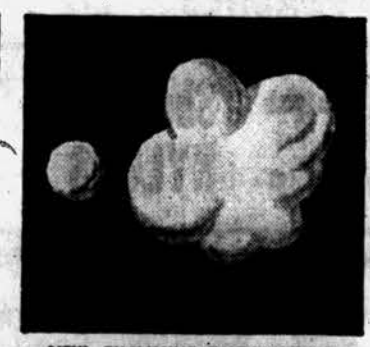
But what you eat and drink is important, too!

Science tells us that most of us would feel better, live longer, have more sparkle and pep if we had far less fat, far more protein in our daily diets. Fat puffs out waistlines—slows us down. Protein rebuilds and revitalizes tired nerves and tissues—supplies energy with "staying power."

Pet Milk Company Announces America's New Protein-Rich Sparkle and Vitality Drink

Milk protein—the high-quality kind needed for this rebuilding, revitalizing, energy-boosting job—in a drink that's completely delicious and refreshing, free of fat and unbelievably easy to mix... NEW PET Instant!

36.5% PROTEIN—and guaranteed less than 1% fat, New PET Instant is rich in the things that help give you and your family sparkle and vitality ... energy with "staying power."



NEW, EXCLUSIVE INSTANTIZING carries instant mixing a big step forward. The milk crystals are "popped" so they dissolve at the touch of water—mix almost faster than you can stir!

FLAVOR MORE REFRESHING than fresh whole milk! No clinging "fatty" aftertaste—none of the "powdery" taste of earlier dry milks—but a rich, fresh flavor your family will enjoy!

Look for it in its brand-new, bright-blue FLAVOR-SAVER PACKAGE. Foil protected—Handy pouring spout! Two sizes: 4-qt., 12-qt.

Almond Cake Similar to European Confection

What sort of cake eater are you? Do you enjoy the fluffy light-as-a-feather variety? Or do you like cakes that may even be a little on the heavy side?

If you are for cakes with substance, you'll probably enjoy this recipe. Although as American as can be — its base is ready-to-eat crisp rice cereal — it reminds us of European confections such as honey cake.

ALMOND CAKE

3 cups oven-toasted ready-to-eat rice cereal
4 eggs (separated)
1¼ cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ pound (⅛ cup) buter or margarine (melted)
½ cup light cream
¾ cup finely ground or rotary-grated blanched almonds
Fruit sauce or sweetened spiced whipped cream

Crush the rice cereal into extremely fine crumbs. With a rotary beater (hand or electric), beat the egg yolks until they begin to get thick and are lemon - colored; gradually beat in the sugar, then vanilla. Fold in slightly cooled melted butter, cream, rice cereal crumbs and almonds.

With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into crumb mixture.

Turn into buttered baking pan—an aluminum pan that is about 9 by 12 by 2 in. or a heat-resistant glass pan whose inside dimensions are 11¾ by 7½ by 1¾ inches. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 40 minutes or until edges of cake draw away from sides of pan.

Place pan on rack or cool a little; cut in squares and serve warm with fruit sauce or sweetened spiced whipped cream. Makes 12 servings. Keeps well only a couple of days.

A two-egg white pie meringue may be baked in a moderate oven about 12 minutes.

Dental Floss Ideal Thread to Sew Turkey

Here's a helpful suggestion for every housewife now facing the annual chore of preparing the turkey for Thanksgiving Day family dinner:

When you are ready to sew up the bird after the stuffing has been placed, thread your needle with dental floss instead of silk or cotton thread. If you don't have a container of the floss in your medicine cabinet, one may be obtained at any drug store.

You will find the floss is better for this purpose than ordinary sewing thread for several reasons. It is made of nylon and therefore easier to draw through the turkey's flesh. It resists heat and will not come apart while the bird is being cooked in the oven, as silk or cotton thread is apt to do.

Then, when the turkey is roasted, it is easy to draw out the dental floss stitches because they remain unbroken and strong.

Dental floss is primarily intended to be used to remove the particles of food that stick between the teeth after eating and cannot be reached by the toothbrush, but each year more and more women are using it to stitch roasting fowl, not only at holiday time, but at all other meals where it is served.

Mushroom Culture Exacting, Rewarding

Mushroom culture is the most exacting and demanding of all farm enterprises. The only fungus commonly eaten in this country, the mushroom starts as microscopic spawn in a laboratory test tube. It is then cultivated in sterilized jars, where it nurtures on grain, and then transplanted to rich beds of compost covered with topsoil. After weeks of careful attention in dark houses, where temperature and moisture are carefully controlled, mushrooms appear as the familiar snow-white food that is unique on our good eating list.

★ ★ ★

Mushrooms are picked daily and rushed quickly to market in baskets and smaller containers. A large part of the crop goes into cans, soup and other specialties, which are available everywhere.

★ ★ ★

Mushrooms are rich in flavor and high in protein and vitamin content. Fresh mushrooms, which should never be peeled, are quick and easy to cook. Try some raw, quartered and chilled, with your favorite cocktail dip. Saute them lightly and serve as a vegetable. Or put into meat loaves, stews, left-overs, sauces—almost any dish—for fine flavor.

Let Kids Fix Confection

Rainy day fun: the youngsters will enjoy putting dried apricots through the food chopper along with smoe nuts, then mixing with coconut and confectioners' sugar and rolling into balls for candies. Add a bit of orange juice if needed for molding together.

Slow Mixing's the Trick

You'll need to add 2 tablespoons of lemon juice to a quarter cup of butter for a lemon-butter sauce for fish or vegetables. The trick in preparing this, is to cream the butter and then mix in the lemon juice very slowly so the butter will gradually absorb it.

Bouncing Cranberries Are Only Good Ones

It's the bounce in cranberries that makes certain they're good. Cranberry growers used to sort their berries by bouncing them down a set of steps. The good berries would bounce to the bottom, while the soft ones would stay on the steps. The same principle is used today: The cranberries must bounce, or they're sorted out.

They're bitter, no doubt about it; in fact, "bitter berry" was one of the early names for cranberry. But it's the bitterness that makes cranberries good, and such a wonderful companion for turkey, pork or chicken.

Add a few drops of kerosene and a little bluing to warm soapy water when you are washing windows. Gives extra sparkle!

You should know THIS about baking...

It's the BALANCE of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven . . . That's the story of Clabber Girl's balanced double action . . . Better Baking everytime!

BALANCED double-action means Better Baking!

TURKEY MOLE — Pronounced "molay," this interesting sauce of Mexican origin is used to make second-day turkey a more exciting dish. Serve it with parsleyed rice, avocado salad and cornbread squares.

Mexican Mole Sauce Scrumptious on Turkey

Buy a big turkey this Thanksgiving so that there will be enough meat left for a second-day feast featuring Turkey Mole.

★ ★ ★

Mole is the noblest and most famous of all Mexican sauces. It is a fiesta and feast-day specialty that's served with cooked chicken, shrimp, eggs and pork as well as turkey. In Mexico, it is said, that everyone has two ambitions — to win the national lottery and to eat Turkey Mole on his birthday.

★ ★ ★

Among the ingredients there's chili powder, cloves, tomatoes and nuts. But, the most distinctive feature is a small amount of chocolate added to give depth, richness and highly characteristic flavor.

Turkey Mole

¼ cup blanched almonds
2 green peppers, cut and seeded
2 small onions, peeled
1 can (4 ounces) pimiento
2 cans (1 pound each) tomatoes
¼ cup salad oil
1¼ teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon chili powder
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
2 bouillon cubes
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate
3 cooked turkey slices, or 3 cups diced cooked turkey

Put almonds, peppers, onions, pimiento and tomatoes in electric blender. Blend until smooth. Heat oil in skillet. Add blended mixture, seasonings and bouillon cubes. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 30 minutes.

Uncover; stir in bread crumbs and chocolate. Heat, stirring occasionally, until chocolate is melted. Layer with turkey slices in a 2½-quart casserole, ending with sauce. Sprinkle with additional chopped almonds, if desired.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes. Serve with hot cooked parsleyed rice, avocado salad, tortillas or cornbread squares and cold beer. Eight servings.

Potatoes Are Fussy About Temperature

Some like it hot, some like it cold, but potatoes like temperatures of 34 to 40 degrees F., reminds the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

★ ★ ★

When potatoes are allowed to get below 34 degrees F., their starch turns to sugar. This gives the potatoes a different off-flavor. Keep potatoes cool; they will keep longer and taste better.

Walnut Layered Cranberry Pie Sure to Surprise

A new way to serve the brilliant cranberry:

Fesh Cranberry Surprise Pie

2 cups sugar
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
4 cups cranberries
Grated rind ½ lemon
2 tablespoons buter
½ cup chopped walnut meats
Pie pastry for 10-inch pie

Mix dry ingredients; add water and heat until sugar is dissolved. Add cranberries and cook until skins pop (about 5 minutes). Add lemon rind and butter.

Pour half the cranberry mixture into a pastry-lined 10-inch pie plate. Sprinkle with nuts and top with remaining mixture. Decorate with pastry cornucopia. Bake in hot oven (425 degree F.) 30 minutes.

To Make Cornucopia

Cut 2-inch circle from pastry. Overlap edges to form a cone. Moisten edges and press together to seal. Stuff with waxed paper or foil.

Foil Will Stop the Leaks

Bothered by leaky milk cartons? Cover the bottom with a scrap of heavy foil, such as the new quilted type, and save tedious refrigerator clean-up.

Secret of Chinese Food Lies in Quick Cooking

Centuries ago the Chinese learned how to cook vegetables with meat so that the vegetables retained their crispy goodness, and the meat its full flavor. That's the charm of Chinese cooking today, which you can duplicate in your own kitchen. Use fresh mushrooms, now at the peak of their goodness (or canned) to prepare this family-pleasing Pork with Chinese Mushrooms.

★ ★ ★

The secret of the substantial main dish is to slice the mushrooms, pork and vegetable paper-thin. Then, everything is cooked in a very brief time and retains its full-bodied flavor. Sprinkle a few pretzel crumbs instead of crisp noodles around the rice so as to give a contrasting, nutty texture to the dish.

Pork with Mushrooms Chinese

1 pound lean pork
3 tablespoons butter
Salt
Pepper
1 small onion, chopped
2 to 3 ribs celery
1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced or one 4-oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained
Pinch ginger
Pinch nutmeg
2 tablespoons cooking sherry, or sherry wine, or chicken bouillon
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1½ cups rice, cooked
½ cup coarse pretzel crumbs (optional)

Cut the pork in thin slices and then cut the slices into thin strips. Melt the butter, add the pork and cook, stirring occasionally, for ten minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Cut onion in half and slice each half into a measuring cup. Add enough shredded celery to fill the cup. Add pork. Add mushrooms, ginger and nutmeg and simmer, stirring often, twenty minutes. Add wine or chicken bouillon and soy sauce and simmer, covered, ten minutes. Serve with rice. Sprinkle pretzel crumbs around the rice. Serves 6.

Tomato Cheese Soup Colorful, Satisfying

Cream of tomato cheese soup is a wise choice for school-agers' midday meals. From the youngsters' point of view, it's colorful and fresh tasting.

★ ★ ★

To mother, it's a soup that can be prepared quickly, yet is nourishing and completely satisfying. Grated process American cheese melted into a tangy tomato juice mixture provides good protein nutrients. With it serve a tossed green salad, applesauce and milk.

Cream of Tomato Soup

Combine 2 cups tomato juice, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1½ teaspoons salt and 2 tablespoons sugar; simmer 15 minutes. In another pan, melt 3 tablespoons butter and blend in 2 tablespoons flour. Add 1 quart scalded milk gradually. Then slowly stir in the tomato juice; add 1 cup grated process American cheese and continue stirring until cheese is melted. Serves 4.

Dressed Up Peas Round Out Menu

Voted high as a favorite dinner vegetable are canned peas. Here are ways to dress up buttered peas. Add a small can of browned mushrooms, some strips of pimiento, mixed herb seasoning or grated onion.

★ ★ ★

Just the dish to round out a dinner menu for company is Peas 'n' Celery. Cook sliced celery and chopped parsley in ½ cup liquid drained from a can of peas. When the celery is tender, add the peas, butter, and salt and pepper.

★ ★ ★

Wonderful with turkey are canned peas and canned whole onions cooked in a rich cream sauce with a sprinkling of paprika. They can be prepared ahead and kept hot in the top of a double broiler until serving time.

Chop two hard-cooked eggs and add with a couple of tablespoons of minced parsley to a cup of thin hot white sauce. Serve with fish.

Ministers' Wives Plan Menus

"DO I GET ANY?" — Young Dennis Miner is just 13 months old. The son of the Reverend and Mrs. Lenworth Miner of Bloomfield street, he will have his first real Thanksgiving this year; let's hope they give him a turkey leg to gnaw on. Mrs. Miner bakes her mince pies early, wraps them in foil and stores them in the refrigerator. She is going to freeze some unbaked pies to see which way she likes them better.

PLANNING HER MENU — Mrs. Orville P. Eastman of Benson street expects to have 16 members of her family on hand for Thanksgiving dinner this year. Turkey, of course, will be the main dish; the dressing will have apples and celery in it. For dessert Mrs. Eastman is planning a layered mince and pumpkin pie.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Two years ago at Thanksgiving time we used the picture of a minister's wife for our feature story. Liking that idea, we have decided to do it again this year and in future years. Thanksgiving is our one American religious holiday that everyone can share, regardless of creed.

★ ★ ★

We talked with Mrs. Orville P. Eastman, wife of the minister at First United Missionary Church. There are three children in the Eastman family, all of whom are grown up and married.

Mrs. Eastman hopes that her sons will drive here from Grass Lake and Marysville and her daughter from Brown City. If they come with all the grandchildren, there will be 16 to sit down and "return thanks" before they eat.

Turkey, of course, is on the menu. The stuffing will have celery and apples in it. There will be mashed potatoes, sweet potatoes and a relish plate. A molded salad with pears will be light and tangy.

For dessert this year Mrs. Eastman is trying something new. She's going to serve a Pumpkin Mince pie. This will take care of people who like both but can't manage to eat two pieces of pie.

★ ★ ★

Oddly enough, a recipe for this identical pie came into the office this week. Here it is.

Pumpkin Mince Layer Pie

1 package pie crust mix
1 cup prepared mincemeat
2 slightly beaten eggs
½ cup sugar
½ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves, if desired
1 cup hot milk
1 cup canned pumpkin

Prepare pastry for one-crust pie as directed on package. Spread mincemeat evenly over pastry.

In large bowl combine eggs, sugars, flour, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger and cloves. Blend in pumpkin; mix well. Gradually add hot milk; mix well. Pour slowly over mincemeat in pastry-lined pan. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, 10 minutes, then at 350 degrees for 35 to 45 minutes until a knife inserted about half way between center and outside of filling comes out clean. Cool.

Another minister's wife who is busy with advance preparations is Mrs. Lenworth Miner of the Macedonia Baptist Church.

Mrs. Miner will have ten people at her Thanksgiving table. There are four sons in the Miner home. Guests will be Mrs. Miner's sister, her husband and two children.

She makes her mince pies ahead of time so that they will have time to "ripen" and so that she is freed for other cooking jobs on the big day.

Pineapple juice and added raisins are what make Mrs. Miner's mince pies different.

MINCE PIE

By Mrs. Lenworth Miner

1 small package dry mincemeat
1 cup pineapple juice
½ cup water
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 cup seedless raisins
¼ cup sugar

Break mincemeat into small pieces. Add pineapple juice, water, sugar, raisins and lemon juice. Bring to a boil and cook, stirring constantly, until all lumps are gone.

Line an eight-inch pie pan with pastry. Fill with mince meat. Cover with top crust. Bake 25 minutes at 425 degrees, or until pie is brown.

Maple Syrup as Good in Pie as on Pancakes

Vermont's women have perfected delicious maple recipes. These certainly prove it.

Maple-Baked Ham

One ham for baking, 1 cup maple syrup for each 5 pounds ham (dark syrup preferred).

★ ★ ★

Bake ham according to your usual method. When half done, remove half the drippings from pan. Add maple syrup to pan and continue baking, covered, until done. Remove cover a few minutes to brown if desired. You may use an uncovered pan and baste the ham with maple syrup.

Sauce

1 cup maple drippings
1 cup water
4 tablespoons flour

Blend flour into maple drippings, add water and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Serve hot in bowl or pitcher for delicious ham sauce.

Sour Cream Maple Pie

1 cup maple sugar
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon (or less)
1 teaspoon allspice (or less)
1 egg, beaten
1 cup sour cream
1 unbaked pie shell

Combine sugar, flour and spices. Add cream to beaten egg. Then stir in sugar mixture. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) until just firm. This recipe has been used for over 100 years.

Always disconnect the toaster from the electric outlet before trying to remove a piece of bread that is lodged in it.

Don't leave anything alkaline like hard water, or anything acid such as vinegar, in an electric frying pan overnight.

Pan-frying chart: use ¼ cup of oil in an 8-inch skillet, one-third cup of oil in a 10-inch skillet and ½ cup of oil in a 12-inch skillet.

If That's 'Moral Leprosy'--- You'd Better Remain Single

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I believe that I have a right to expect that the man I marry shall be as pure as myself. But how can I know? Can you advise me a way to find out definitely?

ABBY

"I value my happiness and think that single - blessedness is better by far than marriage to a "moral leper." "

SINCERELY, F. S. C.

DEAR MADAME: If you call anything short of "100 per cent purity" — "moral leprosy"—I think you should hang on to your single-blessedness.

IT'S JUST A RACKET!

"DEAR ABBY: My husband's family gives Christmas presents to each other's children and they are all better off financially than we are. We have only one child and they have four, five and six.

"We don't see these people all year. This Christmas gift business is just a racket, and I am tired of giving presents to children who get so much they don't need our gifts.

"I would rather give the gifts to some poor child. How can I get out of this Christmas gift racket without insulting my relatives? They are very touchy?"

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: There are plenty of organizations who would appreciate a donation for underprivileged children. Just send a card to your over-privileged relatives to the effect that a gift has been sent in their name to a needy child.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: In your column you wrote that a child should never be slapped in the face. I was so glad to see that in print because when my husband was 7 years old, his Aunt went to slap him in the face.

"He turned his head to avoid the slap and she slapped him hard on the ear, and he has been deaf in that ear all his life. Thank you."

A READER

SEAT OF THE MATTER

"DEAR ABBY: I read in your column where you think a child never should be slapped in the face. I am sorry to disagree with you.

"Sometimes we have to teach children a good lesson and a slap in the face does not hurt them physically, but the humiliation stings so that they remember better. I have slapped all my children in the face and you have never seen such fine children."

FOR SLAPPING

DEAR FOR SLAPPING: You slap your children where you wish . . . and I'll go to the seat of the matter.

"DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 29. I hitchhiked across the country last summer. I accepted a ride with a fellow who was towing new cars to a dealer. In the evening he showed me in his contract where he could not drive at night.

"He did not have enough money for gas and hotel so I lent him $15 which he promised to repay. When we parted I gave him my mailing address, but I have not heard from him.

"I do not have his address or the address of his employer. How can I contact him to collect what he owes me."

HITCHHIKER

DEAR H. H.: If you know what kind of cars he was "towing" and his destination, you could write to the dealer to whom he delivered the cars on or about the date you made the loan.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO BECKY: Don't mess around with the Mess Sgt. . . . unless you want to be just another tomato on his vine.

★ ★ ★

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self - addressed envelope.

Clubwomen Strengthen World Ties

Federation Lists Members From 58 Countries

By MRS. R. I. C. PROUT

Away with open flour bins and unwrapped bread! Away with unpasteurized milk delivered in unsanitary cans! No longer shall meat be sold without government inspection and grading!

Those were the words of clubwomen 50 years ago. Today the 11 million members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs still are crying out for all that is good in their material and spiritual lives.

EAGER TO PARTICIPATE

Women the world over are emerging from their shells to take an active part in community life. Wherever I have gone on my numerous trips abroad, I have found that women are eager to do their part.

The General Federation, the largest group of organized women in the world, has clubs in 58 other countries.

Just recently we have welcomed into membership the Deutsche Hausfrauen Bund with a membership of 150,000 in clubs all over Germany.

★ ★ ★

Another new club is the League for the Civic Formation of Women at Mendoza, Argentina. That makes four clubs in the Argentine

SOLIDARITY SEMINAR

Next February the General Federation will hold a "Hemispheric Solidarity Seminar" in Buenos Aires. The seminar will bring together women from all over South America to exchange ideas and discuss various problems.

★ ★ ★

The only completely effective way of knowing world problems is by travel and association with people in other parts of the world. The "person to person" exchange of ideas is the infallible method.

The members of the more than 15,000 clubs in the General Federation in the United States are keenly interested in the preservation of our American heritage, but they also know that today world problems come to the breakfast table through the press, radio and television.

★ ★ ★

While working for all that is good in American life, they also believe in helping women the world over in order to establish and maintain a lasting peace.

Brides-to-Be Take Bloomfield Spotlight

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Nanette Hammond will entertain at dinner Sunday for bride-elect Mary Patricia Flaherty who will be married Nov. 30 to Norris James McNerny of Ottawa Hills, Ohio.

Pat's sister, Kathie, will arrive home tomorrow from Duchesne Residence School in New York to attend the last week of festivities. She will be Pat's maid of honor.

Two bridesmaids will come on Wednesday, Judy Stack from Georgetown Visitation near Washington, D. C., and Florence McCaffrey from New York. Flo was Patricia's roommate last year at Manhattanville College.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. McGinnis and their daughter Maureen (another bridesmaid) will entertain at dinner Wednesday, and next Friday the prospective bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. McNerny, will give the rehearsal dinner at the Country Club, Grosse Pointe.

COUPLE HONORED

Connie Vandeveer and James Beresford, whose wedding date is Dec. 21, were honored at a dinner given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. James E. Beresford in the Beresford home on Lone Pine road. Mrs. Sanders is the bridegroom - elect's aunt and Mr. Thompson and Mr. Beresford are his uncles.

The pair will be given a dinner this Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sisman and Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Schneck in the Schneck home in Grosse Pointe.

Just for the bride-elect will be a brunch and shower at the Detroit Boat Club where hostesses will be Mrs. Frederick B. Fisk, Mrs. Percy H. Hamley and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Candler.

★ ★ ★

Marynell Anderson will be hostess at a dinner party next Friday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Anderson of Orchard Ridge road. It will be in honor of Jean MacGregor and Richard Weir whose marriage will solemnized Dec. 14.

SON WELCOMED

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clifford Goad (Clarissa Adams) of Suffield road announce the birth of a son, Douglass Clifford, Nov. 18.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Goad of Lone Pine road, and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hammond Adams of Puritan road.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Colbert will spend Thanksgiving with friends in Georgia.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Jackson will be dinner hosts Friday evening before St. Dunstan Guild's presentation of "Witness for the Prosecution."

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Breech returned home today from 10 days in New York.

RETURN TO HILLS

Also returned today were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Fife who have been staying at the Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Mrs. Fife and her sister, Mrs. Gene White, will entertain at luncheon Dec. 3.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. F. L. Thompson Jr. was chairman of the committee for the bridge luncheon and fashion show Wednesday at Oakland Hills Country Club.

Her assistants were Mrs. David E. White, Mrs. S. L. Goodale Jr. and Mrs. Chester A. Cahn.

Mary Margaret Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick A. Campbell of Country Club drive, will be married Dec. 14 to Charles G. Langdon of Detroit.

She will be honored at a luncheon tomorrow at the Detroit Golf Club where Mrs. E. R. Reinsh and Mrs. Malcolm McMillan will be hostesses.

Earlier this month Mrs. L. E. Sherwood and her daughter, Ann, gave a luncheon for Mary, and Virginia Dawson gave a luncheon in September before many of the bride-elect's friends left for college.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Klintworth and Mr. and Mrs. Glen A. Carlson are planning a buffet supper for the couple Dec. 6.

Mrs. Jon Henrikson (the former Melinda Booth) arrives Dec. 7 from her home in DeLand, Fla., to be matron of honor at the wedding. With her mother, Mrs. Henry S. Booth, Mrs. Henrikson will give a luncheon Dec. 9 at Thornlea. This is Mrs. Henrikson's first trip home since her August wedding.

The bride-elect was Mrs. Henrikson's honor maid.

Planning table settings for the dinner Friday night sponsored by the Methodist Men of Central Methodist Church are (left to right) James Bank of Franklin boulevard, David Bradley of Scott Lake road and Tom Murphy of West Iroquois road. The dinner, from 5 to 7:30, is open to the public.

Furs Adorn Dress, Hat, Even Shoes

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

On both sides of the Atlantic, people are talking about furs this fall. Fur hats, fur trimmings on dresses and suits, fur bags, belts, and even shoes perk up the seasonal fashion picture. And, as usual, new fur coats give women all over the world something to yearn for.

★ ★ ★

Since furs were the first garments worn by human beings, back in the days of the cave-men, it's little wonder that they continue to be of primary interest to fashion-conscious women today.

You might say it's a basic human trait, this emotional feeling about furs.

This year new pelts and new colors are making news. In Paris designer Jean Desses has brought back that old standby, astrakan, to high fashion. He shows a series of short and long coats in Southwest African astrakan in chestnut or black, often with contrasting fur trimming, such as mink collars.

In New York there's much excitement over a new sandy tone in mink mutations, called Tourmaline, and a new midnight gray Alaska seal called Kitivi, Brazilian otter, Somali leopard, black mink and all the foxes also are enjoying fashion favor, both in complete coats and in combination with other furs.

The prevailing silhouette is slender but easy, with coats taking on a oval look, narrower at the hemline.

New techniques make furs as light and supple as fabrics, and they are handled accordingly in the new coats, which go in for much detail such as draping, shirring, pleats and tucks.

Personal News of Area

At the Michigan Artists Exhibition held at the Detroit Institute of Arts Wednesday evening Donald E. Smith of Valencia drive won the $200 Campbell-Ewald Prize for his oil painting, "Winter Brush." Rochester's Renee K. Radell also was a $200 prize winner.

One hundred and seventy-two artists competed for prizes at the exhibition, which will continue at the institute through Dec. 22.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday evening found Mr. and Mrs. William J. DeGrace of South Edith street and the Donald McGillivarys of Birmingham in Detroit for the New York City Opera Company's opening performance of "Faust" at the Masonic Auditorium. The opera season will conclude Nov. 27 with Bizet's "Carmen."

★ ★ ★

Carol Young, Michigan State University junior, welcomed her father, Horace Young of Riviera terrace, as a weekend guest when members of Pi Beta Phi sorority presented a Dad's Day program. The two attended the MSU - Minnesota football clash and later Saturday were present at a dinner honoring the fathers, at which Carol was toastmistress.

★ ★ ★

Denison University freshman Patricia Bugas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bugas of Bloomfield Hills, has been elected Women's Recreation Association representative by the pledge class of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

★ ★ ★

Also at Denison University, senior Thomas G. Hawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Hawley of Birmingham, recently appeared as Maitland, the manservant, in the university's Studio Theater production of "The Chalk Garden" by Enid Bagnold.

★ ★ ★

To appear as Mary Cleophas in the Albion College Players' production, "Family Portrait," Dec. 6 and 7 is Charlyne Deeg, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. James W. Deeg of Lowell street. Charlyne, a senior, also will be named in the 1957-1958 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

★ ★ ★

Announcing the arrival of a son, Michael Culley, Nov. 17 are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hart of Mohawk road. Grandparents are the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly.

★ ★ ★

A son, David, was born to Mr. and Mrs. David G. Clark (nee Jo Davis) Nov. 19 at Rapid City, S. D.

Maternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Davis of Granada drive. Mr. and Mrs. Grey Clark of Azusa, Calif., are the paternal grandparents.

MRS. ARTHUR HINKLEY

Volunteer of Month Cited

For the past two years Mrs. Arthur Hinkley of Birmingham has been giving about 10 hours of her time weekly for volunteer work at Pontiac State Hospital. This summer, however, illness forced her to reduce the number of hours she donates.

Mrs. Hinkley does typing but also spends a great deal of time in the Recreational Therapy Department.

She plays cards with patients, directs games or perhaps visits with individuals. In this way the patients know someone is interested and they gain confidence in themselves.

★ ★ ★

For her work at Pontiac State Hospital as a volunteer Mrs. Hinkley has been named "Volunteer of the Month" by the Central Volunteer Bureau.

Study PTA Scholarship

Hawthorne School was the setting for a Wednesday evening meeting of scholarship chairmen from local PTAs. Lester Stanley, scholarship chairman for Pontiac Council of PTA, and his cochairman, Horton Southworth, conducted the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Ways and means of raising funds for the scholarship were discussed. Policies governing the teacher scholarship fund and qualifications required were also discussed.

GRANT, NOT LOAN

The scholarship totals $1,250 over a period of four years and is a grant not a loan. The amount of $500 is given the first year and $250 for the next three years.

★ ★ ★

In order to be eligible for the scholarship a student must have graduated from Pontiac Central or Northern High Schools with an average or better academic record and intentions of being a teacher.

The student must like children, be socially well adjusted, have a pleasing personality, initiative, etc.

This is a non-sectarian scholarship — anyone may apply. Economic status of parents or guardian will be considered.

REFERENCES ASKED

Recommendations for the student are to be made by principals of the senior high schools and senior counselors. A spiritual adviser and two other persons will be asked to give personal references.

★ ★ ★

Four future teachers are now in college on PTA scholarships. They are Charlene Deeg, who is in her senior year at Albion College; Virginia Baker, junior, Wayne State University; Marie Meyer, sophomore, University of Michigan, and Richard Lantz, freshman, U. of M.

MR. and MRS. ROY W. LOWNDS

An open house celebrating the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Lownds, who were married in Rochester on Nov. 26, 1897, will be held at their Cooley Beach drive home on Saturday. Among their five living children are Mrs. Edna M. Palm of Berkley, Mrs. Ardath L. Card of Rose City, Glenn A. Lownds of Whitehall, Alwyn R. Lownds of Kenmore, N. Y., and Ralph W. Lownds who resides with his parents. The Lownds also have 14 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Project Scheduled by Emerson PTA

Serving as chairmen for Emerson School PTA's Saturday money-making project are Mrs. Charles Hockey Jr., Mrs. Donald Heard, Mrs. Jack McKinney and Mrs. Jacob Swartz.

Others working will be Mrs. Leo Janka, Mrs. Wesley McConnell, Mrs. John Neaves, Mrs. Gerald Jenkinson, Mrs. L. D. McLauchlin and Mrs. Thomas McKeever.

Follow Regular Health, Beauty Routines

Americans Sadly Neglect Fitness

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

My hemoglobin is in the 90s, but whenever I hear anyone mention tired blood I almost fall flat on my face. When I read about the lack of physical fitness in the United States, it makes me feel the same way.

* * *

Do you realize that 50 per cent of the men called for their physical examination during the Korean war were rejected because of mental or physical defects or both? It also is estimated that more than 23 million Americans have some impairment or chronic disease.

When we think of this we realize that we will NOT be one of the fit ones unless we do something about it, and doing something about it means a consistent effort. This is true of both health and beauty.

Becoming healthy and youthful or remaining that way is a lifetime business. Physical fitness means a constant effort, but the effect it has on our happiness and appearance is well worth it.

* * *

The following thoughts are not included in a consistent effort: "I feel tired. I will have to do something about it"; "What happened to my waistline?"; "I am slumping. I must do something about my round shoulders"; "Tomorrow I will be more careful about my nutrition"; "I must exercise."

Consistency does not mean thinking these things and indulging in corrective methods for a few days and then forgetting the whole thing again.

The magic of beauty and health routines comes from regular daily investments in them.

REGULAR INVESTMENTS

I suppose some effort is better than none, but the magic of beauty and health routines comes from regular daily investments in them.

* * *

The United States is a great country for athletics. We follow our favorite games and sports and athletes avidly. Isn't it funny that so many of us are poorly nourished when the objects of our attentions are physically fit?

Studies have revealed that Americans generally are overfed but sadly deficient in many essentials of best nutrition.

It is too bad if we do not take to our daily routines all that is now known about prolonging life and, more important, prolonging the youthful portion of life!

* * *

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Watchwords of Science for Youth After 40," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 61 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Child Study Club Discusses Topic

"Quotes We Have Lived By" was the topic of the day and a group discussion when members of the Child Study Club Group Three met at the Cherokee road home of Mrs. George Petroff.

* * *

Hostesses at the Tuesday afternoon affair were Mrs. F. Milton Hathaway, Mrs. Herbert Howarth, Mrs. Robert Bego and Mrs. James Jenkins.

Retired to Small-Job Business

By BEULAH STOWE

Two years ago Eugene D. Bruce, then 66, was living with his daughter and her family in a small, neat house on the mountainside north of Los Angeles.

He had recently retired from his job as conductor of a freight train operating out of Los Angeles. He was a widower, and it seemed wise for him to live for the rest of his life with his only close relative.

He kept the yard in order and he took his youngest grandchild out for walks in the baby carriage and then, after that, he went out for walks all by himself. He tried to find other retired railroad men to talk to, but only young couples and children lived in his terraced subdivision.

Driving to Los Angeles one day, he passed a used car lot, and his eye caught a glimpse of a small red truck: $200.

He had $200. He bought it. Only after it was parked in the driveway of his daughter's home—in everyody's way — did he decide what to do with it.

Bruce painted a sign on the side of the cab that read, "The Small Company—No Job Too Small." He placed ads in the suburban and city newspapers for "Wrecking, Building, Carpentry, Cement Work."

When the small business was five months old, and Bruce had found enough work to keep him busy three or four days each week, he moved out of his daughter's house and rented an upstairs apartment in a house next door to a filling station.

He parked his truck in the station and began constructing a trailer to attach to the truck and carry his tools and an electric cement mixer, and to haul away used lumber and trash from wrecking jobs. (He soon found that he could sell the used lumber to customers who wanted him to build cheap or temporary structures.)

"A railroad man isn't used to being idle," Mr. Bruce says. "He isn't used to walking babies, or to living without a timetable. I'm glad I got out of my old man's role in my daughter's house and found my own life again."

* * *

Question—"Why do the special, published studies on retired people treat them like animals in a zoo? I am retired, but I am not a butterfly on a pin. I am happy with my lot, and I don't want to answer questions about why or how or how much money I have." —K. O. C.

Answer — Don't. People have been retiring from business with dignity and satisfaction for many years — since long before the "senior citizen" became a subject to survey. Be patient with the government and the universities and the welfare workers. Their object is to help older people, and they will. If not you, your grandchildren.

Girdles Go Gaudy With Varied Hues

Girdles are going gaudy—in colors like mink, red and aqua. The Corset and Braissiere Council reports an upsurge in colored undergarments, particularly in the beige or brown colors.

White, of course, is still the best-selling foundation garment color, but you can buy red, turquoise, aqua, mink, honey beige, mauve, hyacinth, apricot, peach, mint, tangerine, yellow, blue, pink and ever-popular black as well.

Cute Styles Appeal to the Sub-Teen Set

Why does the sub-teen girl select the type clothes she wears?

* * *

What influences her decision — her mother's criticism, opinion of girl friends or is she an individualist?

A STUDENT POLL

The revealing answers to these and other relevant questions are the result of a junior high school student poll recently conducted by a Dallas manufacturer of sub-teen fashions.

* * *

After a preview showing of the holiday collection, each girl checked her answers on a detailed questionnaire prepared by designer Dorothy Jensen. The answers should influence any mother's thinking when helping select her daughter's school and party clothes — they're illuminating.

For example, the most popular reaction to the question "What is your favorite outfit — and why?" brought out "It's comfortable — I feel that I look good in it." In answer to the same question regarding her second favorite outfit, the answer varies slightly, "I enjoy wearing it."

* * *

They prefer full skirts for parties or dates. Their reason, why — "Full skirts are cuter — and more comfortable." Of all the fashions shown them by Miss Jensen, easy-to-wear "cute" styles seemed to be a strong deciding factor. All but one chose the same party dress, a full skirt, slim top with "grownup" look.

Girls of this age group like to select their own clothes and usually go shopping in pairs or threes. But only when "I need new clothes." Although not many of them actually make a purchase at that time, they return later with their mother who buys what the girl had previously chosen.

And either she agrees with Mom — or Mom agrees with her daughter on the selection. It seems, at this age, "Mother and I like the same things."

NECKLINES IMPORTANT

When asked if they had figure or posture problems, they made it clear that necklines are important. It needs to be at just the right point, "neither too high nor too low." (One of the reasons why the same party dress was favored.)

* * *

"If you had $16 to spend, would you buy two less expensive dresses or one expensive dress?" The answer was unanimous, "One expensive dress."

"Would you rather shop downtown or in a suburban shopping center?" resulted in "Depends on where I find the dress I like."

"For what reason do you try on a dress?" In answer to this question color and style tied for first and second place. When quizzed if they preferred to wear dresses or skirts and blouses to parties, style won out again. The "pretty look" without being fussy is what they selected from the fashions shown them.

* * *

Findings of this fashion steering committee reveal these interesting facts about clothes preferences of sub-teens: Color is an individual thing. Style is paramount — they want to look grownup yet still wear easy, comfortable clothes.

USED SPARINGLY

Frills and ruffles are all right when used sparingly, and accented glitter is for party dresses only. Back interest intrigues them.

* * *

Important in their lives are versatile clothes that can be worn anywhere, anytime, particularly mix and match garments.

Full skirts take preference over slim ones: Skirts with dangling (but not gaudy) gadgets are appealing.

The fun look plays a star role. They like not-too-tight Capri pants with festive trim, tricky tops to wear with them.

* * *

Fabric is not as important as style.

In short, this young miss is growing up and wants everyone to know it.

Versatile Product

Save space and time by traveling light. Get along with fewer clothes by taking garments that can do double duty. The same goes for cosmetics. For example, a good quality witch hazel can be used as astringent, skin freshener, body massage or hair rinse.

Great for a dressy date . . . two-strand necklace, bracelet and earring set in four different pearl tones and shapes, intermingled to create a soft but lustrous effect.

Officers Named by Pillar Club at Shoup Home

Officers were elected when members of the Pillar Club met at the home of Mrs. Claude Shoup on Mohawk road Tuesday evening for a cooperative dinner.

* * *

Mrs. L. L. Dunlap was named president of the group. Others taking office are Mrs. William Knudsen, vise president; Mrs. L. F. Hire, treasurer; Beulah Phillips, secretary, and Mrs. Ross Tenny, corresponding secretary. Publicity chairman is Mrs. Fred Conner.

Also featured on the program was a tribute to the late Mrs. J. L. Van Wagoner, and a talk on amateur radio operators was presented by Mitchell Bacow.

* * *

Assisting Mrs. Shoup were Mrs. Harold Northon, Mrs. F. H. Holmes and Mrs. Paul Taylor, who was program chairman.

Speakers Heard by Bible Class

Fifty members and guests were present Tuesday evening when Fellowship Bible Class of First Baptist Church met for a cooperative dinner which was served by Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Stewart and their committee.

* * *

Minnie Bergman of New York spoke on missionary work in India and Pakistan. The Rev. and Mrs. Duane McCrum spoke on missions in Hawaii and showed slides.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brown and Mr. and Mrs. David Gee were in charge of the program.

Meeting Conducted

Wesleyan Methodist Missionary Society met Tuesday in the Auburn road home of Mrs. George Holsworth. Mrs. H. A. Johnson took part in the program of the all-day meeting. A favorite dish luncheon was served.

Teens Have Many Ideas for Future Homes

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Teenagers, too, like to build dream houses.

And, if ever they get a chance actually to build along the lines they now have in mind, some changes are going to be made in present day house planning — although not as many as you might expect.

Talking to 600 boys and girls around the country, my surveyors were a little surprised that these youngsters had given as much thought as they had to the homes they want to own when they grow up.

More than half of them actually make a practice of inspecting new homes in their neighborhoods. Quite obviously, not all of their waking moments are filled with thoughts of dates, schoolwork, rock 'n' roll and family squabbles.

"Homeowning" is the proper phrase. Although 45 per cent of America's families today live in rented quarters, the teenagers, almost to a boy and girl, believe in buying rather than renting.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, they are fairly conservative about the amount of money they expect to spend on such a project.

TWO YEARS' INCOME

A strong majority of the boys, 60 per cent, figured that two years' income would be about right. Fifteen per cent want to go no further than a year's income and only 19 per cent say three years.

★ ★ ★

The girls proved more venturesome on this point, with the largest number, 37 per cent, favoring three years' income.

Getting away from the detail of how much they want to spend, the boys are more free wheeling.

While three per cent of the girls will settle for four rooms, and the largest number, 39 per cent, favors six-room houses, a decided plurality of the boys, 47 per cent, think that no fewer than seven rooms are requisite for their dream homes.

★ ★ ★

Six per cent of both boys and girls would go for nine or more rooms! It would seem obvious that the trend towards larger families is not yet a thing of the past.

BASIC REQUIREMENTS

To be more specific, just what is it that these youngsters want in a home?

Here are their basic requirements, in the order of their importance:

1. An adequate number of spacious rooms.

Future homeowners check off good points as well as bad of this dwelling which might well be their future home.

2. Good appearance and design.
3. Good locality.
4. A recreation room.
5. Spacious kitchen.
6. Adequate closets.
7. Good construction.

★ ★ ★

Speaking generally, 88 per cent of the boys and 78 per cent of the girls approve of modern trends in building.

OBJECTIONS, TOO

But they have objections too, as indicated by these sample comments:

"Not modern enough."

They're not as attractive as they used to be years ago."

★ ★ ★

"Too classy for poor people."

"Subdivision homes are too much alike."

"Lacking individuality and originality."

"Construction often is poor."

"Built for looks rather than comfort."

"Most houses in our price level are too small."

Neither the requirement for private rooms nor for a recreation room seems surprising. The tendency of youth to want a place to be alone is well enough known, as well as their desire for good times.

MOST DESIRABLE

And the recreation room requirement ties in with the consensus of last year's Women's Congress that a family room and "mud room" are most desirable.

But while 71 per cent of the boys and 89 per cent of the girls make a point of having rooms of their own, only 41 per cent of the boys and 61 per cent of the girls have them now.

Could be that's just why they are insistent on them for their dream houses.

Only a third of the youngsters, moreover, would like to have homes of their own that approximate the ones they are living in right now.

NOT TOO IMPORTANT

Separate dining rooms aren't too important to these young people. Nearly 60 per cent of both boys and girls aren't much interested in them.

And how about the size of the lot? The boys, it would appear, want a little more room to move around in than the girls but half an acre seems about right to the greater number of both sexes.

In view of current trends, it's a gamble whether they ever will get it.

THE QUESTIONS ASKED

When you marry, would you like to live in the kind of a house you do now?

Do you like the new homes being built now?

Do you make a habit of inspecting new homes?

How many rooms do you consider necessary for the average home?

Do you have your own room in your house? Is it important that there be?

Do you consider a separate dining room necessary?

What size lot seems most suitable to you?

How much should be spent on a house?

Do you believe in buying or renting?

So becoming to young figures—collared princess dresses that look alike.

Secretary Must Eat Lunches

All Working Girls Need Right Food at Noon Hour

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

"Sally! There's a terrific sale on blouses down the street. Want to go at noon?"

"Of course! But I have to go to the bank first. Will you wait?"

This is a typical morning conversation in any office. Shopping and the bank! How much time do you suppose is left for lunch? Among career girls today, the term "lunch hour" is fast becoming a figure of speech.

Good health depends largely on proper food, eaten in a leasurely manner. And good food makes for good looks. The beauty of shining hair, bright eyes and clear skin simply cannot be maintained indefinitely without proper nourishment. Skipped breakfasts and bolted-down sandwiches for lunch will take their toll in beauty.

It's true that a balanced and nutritious noon meal, eaten in a place where the surroundings are relaxing, will take a pretty big bite out of the weekly budget. But there is a way to get around it.

★ ★ ★

Why not, at least part of each week, take your lunch from home? The initial expense would be small. All you'd need would be a plastic sandwich box, a plastic cup for beverages and one for hot dishes, a wide-mouth vacuum bottle for hot food and a standard type for liquids.

You can, this way, achieve such menu varieties as stews, ravioli, beef frankfurters and beans. And they can be alternated with sandwich and soup days.

It's wise to get vegetables and fresh fruit into the lunchbox, too. They're great aids to beauty.

You'll find that you can cut down expenses by preparing your noontime meal at home so that you can afford to eat in a pleasant restaurant when you do eat out.

You may feel that daily 12 o'clock bargain hunting has no disastrous effect on you. But try eating leisurely for a while, and you're bound to feel the difference.

The energy you save will give you a new vitality—and the improvement in your health will bring out a fresh, shining beauty that will surprise you.

Meeting Conducted

New Interests in Common Freshen Stale Marriage

Couple Should Break Dull Routine and Start Doing Things Together

By RUTH MILLETT

Nothing will freshen up a marriage that has grown stale like a few new interests that a couple can share.

A husband and wife sometimes assume they are bored with each other, when the real truth is that they are simply bored with the routine life they have been leading.

Let a couple start limiting their outside activities, and narrowing their friendships down to a few couples, and following the easy course of sitting before the TV set evening after evening, and boredom is sure to move in on them.

* * *

They can stay bored, assuming that their marriage has lost all its sparkle, or they can force themselves to break their dull routine and start going places and doing things—together.

Every new activity won't be successful, but if they will just keep moving along in search of new interests they will eventually find themselves enjoying life again.

And before they know it they will have a lot to talk about instead of nothing. Before they quite realize what has happened they will find themselves making new friends and enjoying their company because the new friends share the same interests.

* * *

It is important for any couple to add new interests to their lives as soon as they drop old ones, and to add new friends, instead of seeing their circle of friends decrease with the years.

The reason so many couples fail to do those two things is because it is so easy not to make the effort to keep life stimulating and interesting. It is so easy to make an excuse for staying a rut instead of making an effort to get out of it.

But any time a marriage begins to seem dull it ought to be a warning signal to both husband and wife that it is time to liven things up by widening their outside interests.

Outsize hips are no problem in the new tunic of the easy-fitted jacket. Avoid the jacket that encircles widest section of hips.

Full skirts are significant for cocktail dresses which cover the large hips just fine. The straight daytime silhouette also needs coverup of outsize hips and here's where the tunic turns the trick.

Nylon Heel Lifts

Those nylon heel lifts are good buys for the busy woman who hasn't time for weekly visits to the shoe repairman. They cost more but last longer.

Use Right Amount

Too much, as well as too little, detergent will give poor results when washing your laundry. Be sure to follow the manufacturers' directions as to amount, and measure the detergent each time.

Home Dry-Cleaning

Home dry-cleading is dangerous! The National Safety Council states that there is no absolutely safe dry-cleaning fluid. Dry-cleaning fluids such as gasoline, benzine and naptha vaporize rapidly; the fumes combine with the air to form a highly explosive mixture.

In your home, an open flame or pilot light or friction from rubbing can cause the solvent to ignite and result in a bad fire or explosion.

* * *

Fumes from some dry-cleaning fluids, while not inflamable, are quite toxic and cause illness when they are inhaled.

Play safe — send your garments to commercial dry cleaners.

Bachelor Feels That He's in Debt

Wishes to Return Hospitality Shown by Friends

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I don't have a wife, live in a very small apartment and don't actually keep house, and am not earning a whale of a salary. The combination does not make it easy to return the hospitality accorded me by married friends, particularly several couples who invite me frequently to family meals.

"All I've done is to take a bottle of wine or whisky now and then, and then proceed to help drink it. I'd like to have your suggestions."

Answer: For occasional hospitality, a bachelor — especially one who is known to have limited means—is not expected to make any return. That he makes an effort to be agreeable to her guests is all a hostess generally asks of him.

For repeated hospitality, there does come a time when even a bachelor might be expected to make some effort to show a little tangible appreciation. So regardless of how your particular hosts feel about this, it could not help but please them to have you, let's say, send the wife a few flowers on an anniversary, or sometimes take her a box of candy, or even take the children a few toys.

An added suggestion of what might to them be a special treat, if you can manage it once a year, would be to invite the husband and wife out to dinner, or to the theater. The point is that whatever return you do make, let it be something that will be pleasing to the hostess.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When visitors arrive unexpectedly during mealtime, should I ask them to wait in the living room while we finish dinner, or must I, to be courteous, invite them to join us?"

Answer: If they are merely acquaintances, you would have to ask them to wait a few minutes in the living room, while you hurry to finish your dinner. Of course if they are intimate friends, you would probably ask them to sit in the dining room and have a cup of coffee while you finish your meal.

Kontzes Are Heard by Woman's Club

The Rev. and Mrs. Emil Kontz of Birmingham spoke on "Hungarian Pilgrims in Our Land" when members of the Pontiac Woman's Club met in the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building. The committee of the day consisted of Mrs. Fred Waterson, Mrs. W. E. Blynn, Mrs. William Kreklow and Mrs. John Lyons.

Mrs. Thomas Seavey, Mrs. Charles Smith and Mrs. Ivan Long also served on the committee.

A longer - than - short coat suit by Hattie Carnegie stands out in its rich relish - toned tweed. Modified belt on the jacket accentuates the new silhouette effect.

Group Chooses Mrs. McCulloch

The South Pemberton drive home of Mrs. John Main was the setting for Tuesday's luncheon meeting of January-March Group of First Presbyterian Church. She was assisted by Mrs. C. H. Tompkins, Mrs. E. R. Vogel and Mrs. Max Stausser.

Mrs. H. E. McCulloch was named chairman. Serving with her will be Mrs. Avery Shearer, vice chairman; Mrs. Smith Falconer, recording secretary, and Mrs. T. C. McFetridge, treasurer.

* * *

Mrs. George K. Cram was received as a new member and Mrs. Roy C. Ashwin and Mrs. Mahlon A. Benson Jr. participated in the program.

Filmy Lace Lingerie Now Easily Ironed

Time was when frothy, lace-strewn lingerie was avoided like the plague. We'd gaze longingly, then reluctantly turn away, dreading the thought of becoming a slave to the ironing board.

But times have changed, thanks to the new easy-to-care-for drip-dry fabrics. We no longer need look and yearn, for even the most delicate of these filmy garments can be laundered in minutes. And, more important, they'll look fresh and new without ever having received more than a passing nod from your iron.

* * *

Pleats are permanent and washing won't take them out. Lace ruffles can be fingerpressed—and even jeweled nightgowns and peignors can be washed without damage.

Lingerie should be sudsed after each wearing, for light soil is easily removed by light laundering. And these lovely new nylon and arnel tricots can be laundered as frequently as is necessary with no fear of marring their beauty. It's not recommended, however, that they be machine washed. It takes only a few minutes to hand-swish them through lukewarm soap and detergent suds.

If shoulder straps are especially soiled, pretreat them by "massaging" them with fingers dipped into a thick suds later. Squeeze the garment gently through the suds, but never twist or wring it. Rinse it well in lukewarm water and hang it on a padded hanger to drip-dry.

* * *

While it is still damp, it's a good idea to gently pull pleats into shape and straighten the seams.

If you have jeweled lingerie, it can be laundered in the same way, but it's wise to wash it on the wrong side to protect the glitter.

It seems, these days, that the more ornate the garment, the easier it is to launder. That one-time tiresome chore has become a downright pleasure.

* * *

Nothing gives you a greater lift than to slip into something delicate and pretty morning or evening. The feeling of luxury is pleasant to us all.

So help yourself to glamorous leisure hours, gals. You can do it now without a thought of the ironing board.

Admit Your Error

If you find you are wrong about something, don't be ashamed to admit it. The person who refuses to admit that he can make a mistake loses in stature.

Virginia colonists imported the first cows to the New World; today's U. S. cow population has grown to 21,000,000 head.

OPEN MONDAY & FRIDAY NIGHTS TILL 9 P.M.

WE'LL MAIL YOU

50¢ CASH

Just do this: Buy a package or tin of 100 Tetley Tea bags or a package of 48 tea bags or the ½ lb. package tea. Tear off the front panel (or remove the cardboard insert from the tin) and send it to us together with your name and address. WE WILL SEND YOU 50¢ CASH! Offer limited—one per family and expires December 15, 1957. Address: Tetley Tea Co., P. O. Box 85B, Mt. Vernon 10, New York.

Why you should accept this special TETLEY TEA offer:

The first and best reason is that here's a wonderful way to become acquainted with friendly, hearty TETLEY TEA.

Tetley Tea is blended only from the tiny tea leaves that grow on the uppermost part of the tea plant. These tiny tea leaves give Tetley Tea its rich amber color, its wonderful fragrance, and its full-bodied flavor.

These tiny tea leaves can only be used in tea bags. That is why we say, "Tetley Tea is specially made for tea bags."

The second reason, naturally, is the fun of actually being paid to make this delightful taste discovery.

So today—while our get-acquainted offer lasts—get any of these: a package or tin of 100 Tetley Tea bags or a package of 48 Tetley Tea bags or the ½ lb. package tea. Remember—we'll send you 50¢ cash while this get-acquainted offer lasts.

TETLEY TEA specially made for tea bags!

U.S. Bases in Morocco More Crucial as Ballistic Missile Race Is Intensified

By STEPHEN O. HUGHES

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — One of the topics for diplomatic discussion in Washington during the visit of Sidi Mohammed ben Youssef of Morocco is likely to be the future of American bases on the former French protectorate.

* * *

With the race between Russia and the United States for the Intercontinental ballistic missile becoming more frantic every day, the network of U.S. overseas bases ringing Russia has become of crucial importance to American ability to retaliate.

The Moroccan bases are an important link in this network. The United States began building bases in Morocco following an agreement with France — which then controlled the country — in 1951. A new agreement is now being sought with the government of independent Morocco.

The biggest Air Force base is located at Nouasseur, 17 miles south of Casablanca. The base serves largely as an air depot.

* * *

Strategic Air Command bomber bases are located at Sidi Slimane, 37 miles from Port Lyautey, and at Ben Guerir, 43 miles from Marakech. A support base at Boulhaut, 30 miles east of Casablanca, has not yet been completely activated.

The Navy also has an installation in Morocco, at Port Lyautey.

The Sultan's American visit also comes as nationalists of the new Morocco voice claims that the Moroccan frontiers should be extended both to the east and south.

This claim — widely spread throughout the nation of 10 million — is coupled with the feeling that Spain should cede to Morocco the areas it holds on the mainland and off the coast.

Morocco's main sources of wealth are agriculture and her rich deposits of phosphates, manganese, iron ore, lead and zinc.

The nation's biggest mines now in operation are the phosphate works at Khouribga and Louis Gentil which produce five million tons yearly and make Morocco second in the world after the United States in phosphate production.

Two million tons of iron ore come annually from the Ait Amar Mines north of Oued Zem and Nador south of Melilla.

Lead and zinc are mined at Touissit and Bobeker near Oujda and Midladen near Mideit. Cobalt is found at Bouazzer Graara near Skoura in the Atlas Mountains and manganese at Imini near Quarzazate and at Bouarfa south of Oujda.

In the southern territories claimed by nationalists are some of the world's largest and richest iron ore deposits at Tindouf, Algeria, and Fort Gouraud, Mauretania. These, however, are not being exploited so far by France which holds these areas.

Morocco extracts about 100,000 tons of crude oil annually from the Petitjean oil fields of Oujda. The amout covers one seventh of the country's needs.

Rabat, with a population of 156,200 is the country's capital. Casablanca is the largest city with 682,390 inhabitants and the cities of Fez, Marakesh and Tangier are the most important tourist attractions.

2 of 4 Men Plead Guilty in Robbery of Melchior

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two of four men charged with the $90,000 robbery of singer Lauritz Melchior's home have pleaded guilty. They will be sentenced Dec. 16.

The other two pleaded innocent yesterday and will stand trial.

The loot, chiefly furs and jewels was recovered 48 hours after the June 18 robbery with the arrest of Richard McFall, 39, and Alfred Pope, 28. They pleaded guilty.

Art School Draws Blinds to Keep Modesty, Peace

LUTON, England (AP) — The Luton Art School hung a sheet across a studio window today to hide its nude model from steelworkers erecting a building next door.

* * *

"It wasn't so much that the model was embarrassed," said C. L. Skinner, head of the school, "but we got so many complaints from the foreman of the building."

The new building had risen steadily until it reached the level on which pretty Adele Mavis was posing in the raw. After that it rose no higher, and the workmen spent most of their time on the side next to the art school. The foreman investigated, saw Adele and appealed to Skinner.

The new building will house the College of Further Education.

Escape Wrong Time

GATESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Two youths made an untimely escape from the state reform school here. Supt. Herman Sapier was holding a barbecue for 34 law officers at the time. They pitched in and quickly rounded up the escapees.

U.S. Suburbs Growing Faster Than Cities

WASHINGTON — Census reports show that the nation's suburban population is growing six times as fast as the cities the suburbs adjoin.

Metropolitan area population grew from 83,800,000 in 1950 to 96,200,000 in 1956. In the same period the suburbs gained 29.3 per cent while the central cities rose only 4.7 per cent.

Wants Good Old Days

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Mrs. J. W. Acidas sighed for the good old days when she found a grocery bill paid by her father, E. T. Canoles, on April 3, 1903. Bacon was 15 cents, eggs 17 cents and butter 30 cents.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS

All we have to say about the closing football season is—phooey!

Michigan State takes the honor as the nation's number one team, and Ohio State finishes third and could even go lower by losing to Michigan. Yet the Buckeyes win in the Big Ten title because of an extra game and will now go to the Rose Bowl.

Best suggestion we've heard is to have OSU and MSU play in the Rose Bowl. As it stands now for the second straight year the "daddy" of bowls could again be a farce with Oregon against Ohio State.

LOOKING OVER THE SEASON

Glancing over the past year we nominate:

Pro flop of the year—The Chicago Bears.
College flop of the year—Minnesota's Gophers.
Prep flops of the year — Waterford and East Detroit.
Pro surprise of the year—Cleveland Browns.
College surprise of the year—Ohio State.
Prep surprise of the year—Southfield High.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

While in the mood for nominations, prep writers from around the state at a meeting the other day gave Pontiac somewhat of an embarrassing honor.

In discussing press box relations of top prep stadia the worst of the three poorest in the state was accorded PHS.

Lansing Sexton, Arthur Hill and Ann Arbor were termed as the best, and Bay City as the most improved.

★ ★ ★

It's a good thing the lighting wasn't brought up in the discussions, Pontiac again would be first.

★ ★ ★

Speaking of the Wisner Field lighting, a former prominent Pontiac High person asked, "Why can't the student council and the 3,000 students of PHS get behind a project for new lights?"

★ ★ ★

Basketball coaches around the Saginaw Valley say, "Pontiac is the team to beat, maybe even in the state!" Season tickets are about ready for nine top home games for nine bucks. Better get them early, they go on sale Monday.

PREP PARTICIPATION FIGURES

A national commercial publication recently released these interesting figures on nationwide high school sports participation.

Best quotes in Tiger trade: "Martin did well with Kansas City, he hit .252; hit 10 homers and batted in 39 runs." A moment later the same speaker noted: "Tuttle was a disappointment, he hit ONLY .251, hit five homers and batted in ONLY 47 runs."

Tigers Still Hope to Make More Trades

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Manager Looks Over New Faces

Tighe Makes Analysis

Jack Tighe gave a brief appraisal of the players who'll work under him for the first time in 1958:

BILLY MARTIN — "He's a pro. He's a fighter, a versatile guy who doesn't want to do anything but win and doesn't like ball players who don't have the same spirit. He'll pep some of our boys up and make better players out of them. I've always liked him. Six other clubs wanted him and I'm real glad we got him."

TIM THOMPSON — "Check his minor league record. I got real good looks at the fellow for three years. In 1951 when I was managing at Toledo, Thompson was playing for St. Paul and he hit .296. The next two years I was at Buffalo and he played for Montreal—and he hit real good (.303 and .29-)."

MAURY McDERMOTT — "Willis Hudlin, our pitching coach, says this fellow can be a big help. He's a good guy to have on your ball club. I know he wanted to come to our club a whole lot. He might be the sleeper in this whole deal."

GUS ZERNIAL — "He'll help us, especially in Boston where they have that 'short porch' in left field. Gus is powerful."

LOU SKIZAS — "He'll hit — always has been a good stick man. Maybe the guy can win a regular job with us, who knows? He's real handy to have around. If I had to go on what he showed our club last year, I'd say he'll be tremendous."

TOM MORGAN — "He's a winning pitcher and can go both ways, as a starter or in relief. He has a real good motion. He's always been particularly effective as a starter early in the season."

Tighe said Thompson, who is 33, "is actually younger physically" than House, who is 28. Thompson is faster, too, but then most everybody is faster than House.

★ ★ ★

McHale worked hard on the trade. It was in the talk stage for more than two months. He spent three days in Chicago last week with Arnold Johnson, A's president, and their general manager, Parke Carroll. McHale was in close contact with Tighe.

Frank Lane of the Indians was ready to grab off Martin. "We had to beat Lane to the punch and that's why we finally decided to give up Small," said McHale.

Pistons Battle Celtics Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — Right on the heels of their worst offensive showing in two seasons, the Detroit Pistons must take on the world champion Boston Celtics.

The two National Basketball Assn. teams meet tonight in the second half of a doubleheader that sends New York against the Minneapolis Lakers in the opener.

The Celtics, with all-star guard Bob Cousy out of the lineup part of the time, still have run up 11 straight victories. They have downed the Pistons twice, beating them in Detroit 105-94 and in St. Louis 111-105.

SLEEPER — Manager Harry Craft of Kansas City called Jim Small the "sleeper" in the trade between the Tigers and the A's. The young outfielder was with Detroit for two seasons after being signed as a bonus baby.

Deal With A's Aimed to Make Team Stronger

Detroit Sets Thoughts on Getting Vic Wertz From Cleveland

DETROIT (AP) — "They're all nice fellows and I hate to see them go. But we never did much while they were here. We're going to go places—and you can't go anyplace standing still."

Jack Tighe made that comment, discussing the 13-player deal that was announced yesterday by the Detroit Tigers and the Kansas City Athletics.

There's little room for sentiment in baseball. The Tigers have admitted they have been too cautious in the past, too hesitant to part with players, too reluctant to say frankly "we are giving up on this player." They have waited, for six and seven seasons in some cases, for players to "come through" and have "that big year."

There is no guarantee that yesterday's big trade will produce a pennant in Detroit, but it was intended to strengthen 1958 outlook. The Tigers, who haven't had a pennant-winner in 12 seasons, often have said that "this is the greatest sports town in the world and the people deserve a winner."

★ ★ ★

That is precisely what the club is trying to produce. Fifth place wasn't satisfactory for three straight seasons. Fourth place wasn't satisfactory last year. If nothing else good comes out of this transaction with the Athletics, it does away with the "era of hesitancy" and starts a new trend in player dealings.

★ ★ ★

General Manager John J. McHale says he is ready and willing to make more trades. At this point everything is speculation, but the Tigers would like to get back Vic Wertz, the heavy-hitting first baseman whom they traded to the old St. Louis Browns in 1952 along with pitchers Dick Littlefield and Martin Stewart and outfielder Don Lenhardt. In return the Tigers received pitchers Ned Garver, Dave Madison and Bud Black and outfielder Jim Delsing.

★ ★ ★

Manager Tighe admits the chances of getting Wertz from the Cleveland Indians are "pretty slim."

"He'd help us though," said the Tiger skipper. "He's a smart hitter and hits the long ball."

★ ★ ★

The Tigers lost Bill Tuttle, Frank House, Duke Maas, Jim Small and John Tsitouris and two minor league players to be named later. They received Billy Martin, Gus Zernial, Maury McDermott, Lou Skizas, Tom Morgan and Tim Thompson.

People around Detroit feel the Tigers got the better of the deal. Tighe said "we did real well." It is refreshing for the club officials to know that there is such instant approval of such a major swap.

The five Tigers named in the deal average 24½ years in age. The six players coming to Detroit have an average age of 29½. The Tigers elected not to hesitate, hope and wait two or three years for players who might become frontline Major leaguers.

GETS THE NEWS — Bill Tuttle, centerfielder traded by the Detroit Tigers, gets the news of the trade in which he was sent to Kansas City. He is shown with his daughter Becky and son Bobby in his Farmington, Ill., home.

Kansas Pilot Sees Small as Trade Sleeper

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Manager Harry Craft of the Kansas City Athletics thinks he may have fallen heir to a sleeper in the 13-player trade with the Detroit Tigers.

"Jim Small could turn out to be the big surprise in the whole deal. I like that boy," said Craft upon his return last night from a visit to Waterloo, Iowa.

Most fans and baseball men were comparing the bigger names in yesterday's swap. But Craft said he is high on Small, a lefthanded hitting outfielder only 20 years old, who was paid a $35,000 bonus by the Tigers in 1955.

"He can run and he has a strong arm. He can hit with power, too. I think the Tigers got down on him. He had some trouble running bases last year. He is young and needs experience but I'm high on him."

Irish Bench-Warmer AP Lineman of Week

SOUTH BEND, Ind (AP) — A bench warmer, constantly plagued by recurring injuries, was the role that senior center Frank Kuchta emerged from to spearhead a stunning 7-0 Notre Dame upset of Oklahoma and win The Associated Press Lineman of the Week honors.

★ ★ ★

"Sure, it was the best game I've ever played at Notre Dame," said the 6-3, 205-pound Kuchta after he was told of his selection by The Associated Press.

★ ★ ★

"But, there were six other guys in that forward wall. And, as far as I'm concerned they could have picked all seven Notre Dame starting linemen for the honor," he added.

Pace and Clark Tied With 48

Settle Point Duel Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten football championship has gone to Ohio State but major statistical titles still are to be decided in Saturday's final games.

Ohio State's Don Clark, withheld from the Iowa game last week with an injury, will face Michigan's Jim Pace for the scoring crown Saturday. The two halfbacks are tied for the lead with 48 points.

Clark, who is expected to be ready to play against Michigan, also will have a chance to clinch rushing honors. He leads Wisconsin's fast coming halfback star, Danny Lewis, 515 to 433 yards entering the final game. Pace also has a chance with 420 yards to his credit.

Lewis and Wisconsin close out against Minnesota Saturday.

Michigan's Jim Van Pelt will bid for passing honors. He is rated second to Michigan State's Jim Ninowski who ended the Big Ten campaign with 29 hits in 48 tosses for 450 yards and 4 touchdowns. Van Pelt has 25 completions out of 53 attempts for 358 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Randy Duncan of Iowa, his conference season over, has clinched total offense honors. His teammate, end Jim Gibbons, has caught 26 passes for a wide margin in that department.

Team leaders include: (average yards per game)

Total offense— Michigan State, 372.2; Ohio State 348.3; Iowa 340.7.

Rushing—Ohio State 296.2; Michigan State 259.5; Iowa 215.

Passing — Iowa 125.7; Illinois 123.1; Michigan State 112.7.

Opponents' yards gained—Michigan State 182; Iowa 220; Wisconsin 253.

Ferndale Kegler in World Event

CHICAGO (AP)—Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., heads a field of 64 women contestants named today for the World's Invitational match game bowling championship at Chicago Coliseum Dec. 4-13.

The selected men's field of 160 will be named later for the big tourney which carries more than $30,000 in prize money.

Anita Cataline of Detroit and Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia, the only women other than Mrs. Ladewig ever to win the national title, will return.

Other outstanding stars include Tess Johns of Cleveland, co-holder of the national doubles title; Jeannette Grzelak and Nellie Vella of Rockford, Ill., doubles champions of the Women's International Bowling Congress.

Also, Angela Mica, St. Louis, holder of the highest composite average in America in 1956-57; Dorothy Aldred, Ferndale, who last season totaled 1,987 for a world's record for nine-game all events for women; and Marge Merrick, Detroit, runner-up to Mrs. Ladewig in the national meet last year.

Kelly Scores at New Post

Wings Tie Leaders, 1-1

NEW YORK (AP) — The luckless Detroit Red Wings, currently riding one of their worst scoring slumps in years, put up a stubborn defense in tying the New York Rangers, 1-1, in a National Hockey League game at Madison Square Garden last night.

The deadlock was satisfactory for both teams. The Wings are glad to settle for anything that isn't a defeat these days and the Rangers boosted their league lead over the Montreal Canadians by two points.

Red Kelly, who was shifted from defense to offense earlier this week, scored the only Detroit goal. The one-time all-star defenseman slapped a rising shot into the cage after a series of feeds from Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman in the first period.

Kelly's goal came just 37 seconds after the Rangers' Larry Cahan slapped in his first marker of the season — a 35-footer past goalie Terry Sawchuk. The score was set up by Danny Lewicki and Red Sullivan.

The contest, which was watched by 12,628, was comparatively tame. Only three penalties were dealt out by referee Red Storey — all in the first period.

Detroit is in a tie for fifth place with Toronto in the NHL standings with a record of five wins, 10 losses and three ties. The Rangers now have a 10-5-4 record.

"We should have won this game. I felt we played much better than Detroit throughout," said disappointed Ranger coach Phil Watson following the contest.

Actually, the home team had the offensive edge following the two 1st period goals. Only the outstanding netminding of Sawchuk kept the Rangers from adding another win.

Terry came up with 22 saves to only 15 for Marcel Paille in the league leaders' cage.

Schedule, but No Park

Brooks List 77 at 'Home'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers, still not sure just where they're going to play in 1958, have announced a 77-game home schedule that includes 35 night games and only 3 doubleheaders.

The expectation is that the transplanted Brooklyn team will play most—if not all—of its home games at spacious Memorial Coliseum. The big bowl holds more than 100,000 people, about four times as many as the alternate playing site, Wrigley Field.

The Dodgers said in announcing the schedule yesterday that a decision on the playing site, or sites, probably will be made in two weeks or less.

★ ★ ★

The Dodgers will open the National League season in San Francisco against the Giants April 15 and will play their first home game against the same team April 18.

Parrott said advance ticket sales are the heaviest in the history of the club.

There will be no free television and the question of whether pay-as-you-see TV will be inaugurated next season has not yet been settled.

Canada Grid Playoffs Even at 1 Game Each

EDMONTON (AP) — The defending Grey Cup champion Edmonton Eskimos last night defeated the Winnipeg Blue Bombers 5-4 to tie the best of three Western Interprovincial Football Union final at one game each.

Eskimo quarterback Jackie Parker, in a tremendous defensive role, ruined two Winnipeg scoring attempts in the last minute to force a third and deciding game.

Leafs Defeat Hawks

Rangers First by 2 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pacesetting New York Rangers today hold a two point lead over Montreal in the National Hockey League race. But looks are deceiving.

★ ★ ★

The Canadiens have played three less games than New York.

"And when we get through playing Chicago Friday night it will be four games," moaned Ranger Coach Phil Watson last night after his club had battled to a 1-1 tie with the Detroit Red Wings.

"Our position is not as rosy as it looks," Watson added. "We should have won this game, but we got a point out of it and that's better than nothing.

★ ★ ★

"We will have Bill Gadsby back for Friday's game and that should help a lot," said Watson. "Ralph Keller, who we brought up from the Western League, will be sent back to Providence."

Gadsby has been sidelined for 10 days with a wrenched back.

In the night's only other action the Toronto Maple Leafs rallied for two goals in the second period to defeat the Black Hawks 2-1 and move into a fifth place tie with Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Bob Pulford and George Armstrong got the Leafs' markers after Hec Lalande had put Chicago in front in the opening period.

Gavilan Still Retains Polish

Former Welter Champ Fights Crafty Battle in Beating Byars

CHICAGO (AP)—Kid Gavilan is showing signs of rust but his fighting instinct still has plenty of polish.

The former welterweight champion, who at 31 wants to regain the title, craftily defeated Boston's Walt Byars last night in a 10 rounder televised nationally from Chicago Stadium.

Gavilan fought his stubby opponent wisely with a pressing body attack most of the time, and although many of his blows were blocked inside, enough were jammed through to pile up points.

★ ★ ★

Byars, whose best weapon is a left hook, indicated his contempt of Gavilan after the fight when he said:

"The guy isn't going anywhere. He doesn't compare with other contenders."

Cleveland Wants Kuenn

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers said today the Cleveland Indians have expressed interest in Tiger shortstop Harvey Kuenn.

Tiger gen. mgr. John McHale said he talked to Frank Lane, new general manager of the Indians, on the telephone last night.

"He told me the Indians were interested in Kuenn," McHale said. "He did not make a definite offer but promised that we'd hear from him later."

Martin Demands Payment

KANSAS CITY, Kas. (INS)—Fiery Billy Martin, newly acquired infielder of the Detroit Tigers, stood pat today on his demand that he receive cash payment from the Kansas City Athletics as part of a deal involving 13 players between the two clubs.

Martin, one-time bad boy of the New York Yankees, unleashed a verbal barrage against his former club after learning yesterday he was involved in the first major post season swap of 1957.

"I'm happy to go to Detroit," the scrappy second baseman told Kansas City newsmen, but added:

"Detroit's a great baseball town and has a good team, but they just can't throw ball players around from one club to another without them having something to say about it."

Martin maintained that he has no quarrel with the Tigers but said "my argument is with Kansas City . . . If I am a tool of this great game of baseball, then I want something out of it."

Return of Guerin, Gola Perks Up Action in NBA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The return to action of Richie Guerin and Tom Gola, two excellent backcourt men, is certain to add new life to the competition in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.

But while Guerin's comeback has apparently sparked the bedraggled New York Knickerbockers, Gola's presence in the Philadelphia lineup hasn't kept the Warriors from tumbling down the standings.

* * *

Last night, Guerin scored five points in the last 26 seconds to pace the Knicks to a 105-101 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers. Richie, who played only his second game since recovering from a thumb fracture sustained in a pre-season encounter, tossed in 22 points—high for both clubs.

Meanwhile, Gola, a three-time college All-America, made his first appearance for the Warriors since April, 1956. The former LaSalle ace is on terminal leave from the Army.

* * *

Although Gola pitched in 14 points, the Warriors dropped their fourth straight game, 99-89 to the Cincinnati Royals. Big Clyde Lovellette scored 30 points for the Royals, who overcame a seven point halftime deficit.

The results moved Cincinnati into a second place deadlock with Detroit in the Western Division and dropped Philadelphia into third place in the Eastern. New York and Minneapolis continue to occupy the divisional cellar positions.

Football Looking Up for Oklahoma State

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma's football capital is 90 miles southwest of here at Norman, but there are those who say better days are coming for Oklahoma State University.

* * *

And for many long-suffering Cowboy fans, better days already have arrived. OSU goes into Saturday's game with Hardin-Simmons sporting a 5-2-1 record and assured of its first victorious season since 1954.

Ferndale Intends to Defeat PHS

By BILL CORNWELL

A vastly improved Ferndale football team hopes to measure injury-riddled Pontiac Friday afternoon when they collide at Wisner Stadium in the final game of the 1957 season for both schools.

Coach Ted Meister's gridders have struck a few harsh tones Blessed with good speed and great desire, the Railsplitters are coming here with every intention of adding another sour note to Pontiac's discordant year. themselves this fall, but their high caliber play in recent games forces an underdog role on the Chiefs.

Pontiac's squad is really hurting. Three key performers, defensive guards George Graves and Doug Voydanoff and fullback Dick Whitner, will not see action due to injuries.

* * *

Charley Brown, ace sophomore guard, may also miss tomorrow's contest, while only limited duty is seen for halfback Larry Douglas.

Bill Davis, a 160-pound junior who has played just two minutes this year, is the probable replacement for Whitmer at fullback.

Fleet-footed Bob Manning is expected to start at left halfback and sophomore Fred Staley will handle the quarterbacking chores. Harrison Munson, a 170-pound junior, may get the call at right half, a strange position for him.

George Palaian, who was injured at Flint last Friday night, will be healthy enough to return to his left tackle spot and George Prell will hold down the other tackle post. Ends Tom O'Brien and Mike Hardiman, guards Willie Duncan and Herman Spicer, and center Duke Relyea will round out the starting line.

* * *

Ferndale is a young squad, with five juniors and one sophomore in its starting lineup. Meister believed that his club would be a sound unit once it began to "jell" and developments have borne him out.

The Railsplitters lost their first two games, then defeated Birmingham and Mt. Clemens and tied Port Huron before losing to Hazel Park and Royal Oak Dondero. The 30-6 victory over East Detroit last Friday was their top showing of the year.

Tom Morey, a talented passer, makes the Dales go and has become one of the best quarterbacks in the area. Halfbacks Roger Sutton and Luther Graham and fullback Ken Rogers give Ferndale backfield speed to burn, with Sutton the team's leading scorer and ground gainer.

Bob Phedehirt, 185-pound junior, is an aggressive senior tackle who anchors the forward wall. Tackle Chuck Molenda and guard Mike Crane along with Bob Sherwood, Ken Rogers and Graham, spearhead the defensive unit.

* * *

Kickoff hour tomorrow is 3:30 p.m., marking the first time since 1944 that the Chiefs have scheduled a daylight game on home grounds.

St. Fred in 7-Year Drought

End of Mikes' Reign?

It's been a long time since St. Frederick has conquered St. Michael on the football field — seven years, to be exact — and the victory drought rankles all southside followers.

The long-suffering Rams will attempt to break that hold Sunday afternoon when the two Suburban Catholic League rivals clash in Wisner Stadium at 2:30 p.m.

St. Fred defeated the Shamrocks by a 26-7 count in 1949. That triumph marked the end of St. Fred superiority and began the greatest monoply in the 21-year history of the city parochial series.

Seven times the Rams have tried to beat their cross-town foe and seven times they have walked off the gridiron on the short end of the score.

* * *

In 1950 the Mikes started a chain of victories which read 26-24, 19-14, 14-13, 25-0, 34-0, 26-13 and 32-7. The 34-0 triumph in 1954 is the most lopsided margin in series history.

St. Mike and St. Fred have met 22 times, with the Mikes boasting 12 wins compared to seven for the Rams. Three meetings resulted in ties.

The rivalry began in 1936 and St. Fred won the inaugural, 33-7. They met twice during the 1939 season and both, oddly enough, ended in 0-0 and 7-7 deadlocks. A scoreless tie in 1937 was the other stymie.

This year St. Fred has its finest opportunity in several seasons to snap the Shamrock reign. The Rams have already clinched at least a 50-50 season by winning four out of seven starts.

Although a winning campaign is assured, the 1st for St. Fred in many years, the luster of the comeback would be tarnished by losing to the Mikes in the eyes of Ram rooters.

St. Mike is also guaraanteed a winning season. The Shamrocks' 5-2 record is better than St. Fred's and their fomidable defense is something the Rams will have to crack if they're going to halt northside rule.

At stake will be the Steve Griffin Memorial Trophy, a traveling award donated by Miss Rose Griffin in honor of her brother. The cup is permanently held by the first school to win three games.

The Shamrocks now have two legs on the present trophy and can retire it for the 4th time by winning Sunday.

NEW LEADER — Pontiac Press' big deer contest is gathering momentum. Already the fine 188-pounder entered by Carl Paulson to start the "derby" has been displaced. The new leader is a 205-pound, 12-point buck taken by Bruce Hall, near Manistique. Buck was Hall's first in seven years, his fourth in 15 years of hunting.

Spotty Deer Hunting!

Some Area Men Get 'Em, Others Don't

By JACK PATTERSON

LEWISTON — This small town is a popular summer vacation spot. But it really comes to life during the deer season when it serves as a nerve center for a large deer-hunting area. We dropped by the hotel where we spotted Harry Mitchell and learned that he had shot an eight pointer opening day. Chatted with him a bit about the old days in Pontiac then dropped down the line to see what was going on at some of the nearby clubs.

PATTERSON

First stop was the O-O Club and presently deerless we found Tom Hruska, Doc H. A. Miller, Chuck Manz, Homer Shingledecker, Buhl Burt, Ron Smith and "Boots" Boyle. Others who had been at the club, but had left (also deerless) were Carroll Braid, Jack Livingstone, Bob Bradley and Frank and Glenn Hickson.

We entertained serious doubts that any of the party had been outdoors, but were assured that an immense amount of field work had been put in.

The O-O Club boasts two embellishments which we believe are unique in northern Michigan. One is an impressive chandelier constructed of illuminated glass steins. It's only counterpart, so far as we know, lives in the bar at the lodge at Mont Tremblant. The other, and even farther afield from its native heath, is the mounted head of gnu, handsomely fixed on the panelled wall. This is undoubtedly the only gnu one is apt to run into in the Michigan woods

★ ★ ★

Other things, yes. We know, for example, at Woodland Springs. But a gnu? No. Not far away, at the 8-10 Club, Clyde "Dad" Underwood, Ray Gorsline and Pete Russ, Jr. have yet to harvest a deer. They were expecting Floyd Holloway and Ed Van Tassel up Wednesday so maybe the situation will improve shortly.

★ ★ ★

In the same area at the Wilkins family "Hut-Sut" lashup one deer hangs on the pole, but ownership is hard to establish. We'd bet it belongs to either Fred or Bill Wilkins.

★ ★ ★

Weatherwise it was a much more normal day Wednesday. The big wind died and it's growing brother took over. The snow didn't amount to much of anything in this area, but fuzzled in fits and starts all day long. Now that a good many opening hunters have gone home decent hunting weather begins. This is such a normal situation that it scarcely deserves comment.

Northville Wins Final, 20-7, Over Clarenceville

Wayne - Oakland League champion Northville completed a clean sweep of loop opponents and finished the season with eight straight wins by defeating Clarenceville 20-7 last night. The Mustangs lost their season opener.

★ ★ ★

Surprising Clarenceville held a 7-6 1st half lead before succumbing as TD runs of 16 and 53 yards by Northville scoring ace Dick Biery broke up the game. Bill Walker of the champs and Cliff Wellman matched earlier tallies.

Auburn Best on Defense

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When you talk defense in major college football this season you pronounce it Auburn.

The Tigers, one of two remaining unbeaten, untied clubs among the major schools, simply are the best in this, the best year for defense the college game has had in quite a spell.

★ ★ ★

Auburn is tops in total defense, permitting just 131.8 yards a game and No. 1 in rushing defense, giving up only 76.4 yards a game, again in this week's statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

★ ★ ★

Only one major college team failed to gain at least 100 yards in total offense last weekend. The team that didn't make it was Georgia—held to 97 yards (74 rushing, 23 passing) as Auburn defeated the Bulldogs 6-0.

★ ★ ★

Notre Dame's upset of Oklahoma also was a highlight of the return to defense by the collegians this season. The Irish held Oklahoma to 145 yards in total offense, the lowest any Bud Wilkinson coached squad has managed and the lowest for the Sooners since Texas Christian shut them off with 100 in 1946.

★ ★ ★

Auburn also is tops in scoring defense, allowing 21 points in eight games for a 2.6 average. None of the opponents have cracked the Tiger line for a TD. If Auburn can keep that record going against Florida State and Alabama, it will be the first club to do it in the current decade.

15 'M' Seniors Bow Out Against OSU

Spartans Want to Hold Top Spot

MSU Seeks to Pad Rating

EAST LANSING (AP) — The only thing Michigan State can win in its football closeout here Saturday is one football game and some points toward the top place in the national rankings.

The seniors on the 1957 squad dreamed earlier this year of closing out their collegiate playing days in the Rose Bowl against the backdrop of the smog and mist-blued California foothills.

But the defeat by Purdue busted that bubble and Ohio State has the Rose Bowl reservation and the Big Ten championship.

State's seniors, still proud of their No. 1 rating, will make their last bow in chilly Michigan before the smallest Spartan Stadium audience of the season—estimated at around 35,000.

Comparative scores are expected to have a lot to do with voting in the AP poll week to provide one incentive. A win also will give State a most successful 8-1 season.

Kansas State, with a 3-1-5 record, faces the top defensive and offensive team in the Big Ten as well as the national leader.

This squad also has a chance to roll up the best yardage total of any outfit Daugherty's four-year tenure as head man.

The previous high for a Daugherty-coached team was 3,280 yards in total offense. MSU now has collected 3,155 yards in eight games.

Such top pro prospects as halfback Walt Kowalczyk, quarterback Jim Ninowski and center Dan Currie will have their last chance to impress the scouts before the professional drafts.

End Dave Kaiser and tackle Pat Burke already have been picked off because their original college classes have graduated.

★ ★ ★

Daugherty claimed there was no slacking off in practice this week although Kansas State is figured as easy pickings for the Spartans.

"The squad is working just as hard as if they were getting ready for a mid-season game," he said. "You'd think we had nine games left to play."

MSU CAPTAIN — Pat Burke, 200 pound senior tackle who is captain of the Michigan State football team, will play his final game for the Spartans Saturday against Kansas State. He has lettered since his sophomore year. He is from Lawrence, Mass.

Workouts Held in Secrecy at U. of M. Field

Wolverines Can Make Successful Finale by Upsetting Buckeyes

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Fifteen seniors will wear Michigan's Maize and Blue for the last time Saturday when the Wolverines clash Ohio State's Big Ten champions.

Seven of the 11 Wolverine starters will be lost via graduation.

The others making their swan songs are ends Bob Boshoven, Gordie Morrow and Dick Ketteman; tackles Dick Yeynen; guards Tom Berger and Alex Bochnowski, and center Gene Snider.

Twenty - three Wolverines who played this season are expected to return in 1958.

Michigan will be fighting against one of its poorest big ten seasons in 20 years against favored Ohio State.

But a victory over the conference kingpins will salvage some joy from a bitter season.

"Beating Ohio State always makes our season a success," goes the old Michigan adage.

This time there is added incentive in upsetting the conference champs and Rose Bowl representatives. The Wolverines have beaten the last Big Ten teams to receive the bowl bid—Michigan State and Iowa.

A defeat also would give Bennie Oosterbaan one of his poorest seasons in his 10 years as head coach. It would be the third time he has failed to win more than five games throughout a season.

Michigan won four and lost five overall in 1951. Its worst showing after four straight seasons atop the league. But all four victories were recorded in Big Ten games.

The following campaign had a 5-4 overall mark and again four victories were won against league foes. In 1953, one of the 3-3 seasons, Michigan triumphed in all three of its non-league games.

So that none of Michigan's innovations leak out before Saturday, secrecy again prevailed yesterday at practice. Even trusted alumni were ushered away by carefully instructed student monitors.

Oosterbaan refused to tell newsmen the reason behind his sudden switch in declaring the practice area out-of-bounds.

"This is the way it should be," was all he said.

Abilene Preps Shoot for 47th Consecutive Win

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Abilene, called the "Little Oklahoma" of schoolboy football, expects to equal its college counterpart's consecutive victory record tomorrow night.

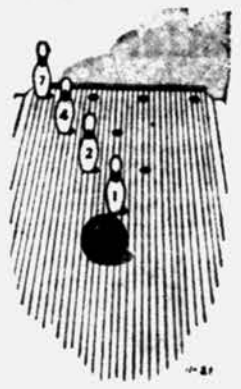
Not only that, Abilene thinks it will meet a better fate than Oklahoma did last week when the Sooners were defeated 7-0 by Notre Dame to snap college football's longest winning streak at 47 games.

The Eagles, coached by Chuck Moser, who likes tutoring high schools so much he passed up the coaching job at the University of Missouri, his alma mater, will be after their forty-seventh straight at San Angelo.



STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

Having trouble with "Clothes-lines?"

The more pins you knock down with your first ball, the easier your second shot will be. When you leave the 1-2-4-7 as we show today, you're faced with a tough spare shot. This is called the "clothesline" leave on the left and results when the first ball misses the headpin entirely.

Since this spare is on the left side, I suggest you shoot at it from the right side of the alley. Aim it into the 1-2 pocket as you see the ball rolling today. The ball knocks over the 1- and 2-pins, the 2-pin is knocked back into the 4 which is knocked back into the 7. You must set up this proper pin action if you expect to turn in this spare.

It's also possible to convert this leave by having the ball hit the headpin on the right side, but it's best to knock over as many pins with the ball as possible. That's why hitting the 1-2 pocket is recommended.

You can miss this spare easily if you don't hit the 1-2 pocket properly and get the proper pin action. So, better practice this shot during your next open-play session.

Giants Expect to Double Gate

See 1,250,000 for First Season in New 'Frisco Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The transplanted Giants expect to double their attendance in their new California baseball quarters in 1958.

Ticket manager Pete Hoffman predicted today the attendance at the former Seals Stadium—23,000 capacity — would hit 1,2500,000 by the time the ex-New Yorkers finish their first season here. This year's final season at the Polo Grounds—twice as large—drew 653,000, Hoffman said.

Although ticket prices are higher than they were in New York, Hoffman said orders are pouring in for the April 15 opener with the Los Angeles Dodgers, also transplanted this year. In fact, he said he could sell 100,000 tickets for that one.

Twenty-two of the season's first 25 games will be played at home for an extended San Francisco welcome, from the opener through May 11. The only break will be a three-game set at Los Angeles at the tag end of the season's first week.

2 Bowl 'Feelers' for Longhorn 11

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas News said today it has learned unofficial feelers from the Gator and Sugar Bowls have been extended to the University of Texas.

But, the paper said, the Longhorn's New Year's Day hopes appear to depend on the outcome of their game with Texas A&M Thanksgiving Day.

Rabbit's Foot Luck!

Charm-Carrying Hunter Downs Contest Leader

By H. GUY MOATS

No one could blame Bruce Hall, 5826 Crescent drive, Pontiac, if he has suddenly become a solid convert to the efficacy of a rabbit's foot as a good luck charm.

Bruce just returned from an Upper Peninsula deer hunting trip, with a rugged 205-pound (dressed out) buck. The big deer took over the lead in the current Pontiac Press "big deer derby," passing by one that hit 188 pounds and several 190-pounders.

The rabbit's foot entered into the situation this way:

On Saturday Bruce and his brother were hunting along the Lake Michigan shore near Manistique. They didn't see any deer, but Bruce bagged a big snowshoe rabbit. Jokingly he took the left-hind foot, remembering the old story of this kind of lucky piece. His brother Edward, of Charlotte, was given the other foot.

Next day, Edward downed an 8-pointer, and while Bruce was watching the deer, he saw his big buck with a doe nearby. He downed the deer with his 2nd shot, his first buck in seven years, his 4th in 15 years of hunting.

"Now, no one is going to get that rabbit's foot away from me," Hall declared.

Hall's buck sported a rare set of horns. The rack was heavy, with 12 points and a spread of 22½ inches. But its unusual features were two six-inch-long prongs projecting at right-angles to vertical spikes. Beams were nearly two-inches thick.

Getting the buck out was a problem, involving portaging by boat between two of three lakes, Hall said.

Top Class B Eleven Loses Makeup Game

MARSHALL (AP) — Coldwater High School scrambled the mythical state Class B football championship picture last night when it defeated previously unbeaten Marshall, 12-6, scoring the winning touchdown with just 29 seconds to play.

Marshall was ranked as the top Class B team in Michigan in final balloting by Associated Press sports writers prior to the game. East Lansing was No. 2.

Last night's game, played amid intermittent flurries of snow, was a makeup contest. The original meeting was postponed a month ago because of an outbreak of Asian flu among players.

Bears Can Stall Lions' Surge

Another Full House to See Sunday Scrap

Detroit Is Cautious Against Team Which Killed '56 Hopes

The cautious Detroit Lions find themselves face to face with the Chicago Bears, the defending Western Division champions who last year killed Motor City title hopes and who this year can do it again.

Only difference is that the Bears are out of the title race and this alleviates some of the pressure so the Chicago pros can be expected everything they can muster against their ancient rivals the Lions.

A loss would be disastrous for Detroit at this time since Baltimore and San Francisco, the other two teams tied with the Lions for the lead, meet Sunday and one is almost certain to stay on top.

Another "standing room only" crowd of upwards of 55,000 is certain for the fourth home game in Briggs Stadium for the Lions. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m.

Coach George Wilson's team has "come alive" on offense in the last three games to move into the lead in the official NFL statistics for total offense.

Detroit, on the passing of Bobby Layne and Tobin Rote, leads in passing yardage with 1555 and the running game has chipped in with 1165 for a total offense of 2720, best in the league to date. The Lions netted 416 yards against San Francisco two weeks ago, 376 against Philadelphia, and 515 in the re-match against the 49ers.

The Bears come into the game with a veteran - studded lineup, sparked by one of the most talked-about rookies in the game, Willie Galimore. Galimore got off to a sensational start this season and topped off his performances with a four-touchdown splurge against the Los Angeles Rams in the first meeting between the two clubs.

Despite all the talk about Galimore, fullback Rick Casares continues to pace the ball carriers with 456 yards on 127 tries, fourth best in the NFL.

U. of D. to Meet Another U. of D.

Titans Hope for Bowl Bid With Victory at Dayton Saturday

DAYTON — The confusing thing about the football game in Dayton, Ohio, Saturday afternoon is that it will be U. of D. facing U. of D. or otherwise University of Detroit facing University of Dayton.

Detroit, which has rolled over six of eight foes this year, will face its toughest passing foe of the year.

Dayton's three quarterbacks have completed 91 out of 206 passes for 1,263 yards. End Fred Dugan has caught 36 passes for 561 yards and three touchdowns and halfback Claude Chaney has caught 17 passes for 228 yards and three touchdowns.

Detroit has seven backs who are averaging better than five yards per carry in rushing. Primarily a running ball club, the Titans are averaging 230.1 yards per game in rushing and 72.1 yards per game in passing.

Detroit's opponents have gained an average of 126.3 yards its first five games but has won its last four. Detroit will be a candidate for the Sun and Cigar bowls if it wins from Dayton.

Tom Emerson and H. L. Buckley of Margate, N.J., formed a racing stable in 1956 and it is called the Buck 'Em Stable.

Experimental Shipments to Far North

Getting Milk in Blocks

WINNIPEG (AP) — Delivery of fresh milk in frozen quart-size blocks, to be melted at room temperature for use is believed to have solved the problem of milk delivery at a northern Canadian military base, an army spokesman says.

Experimental deliveries in this form, believed to be the first in Canada, were successful.

The spokesman said 10,000 quarts of milk, frozen in waxpaper, quart containers, were shipped 1,000 miles by railway refrigerator car from Winnipeg to Fort Churchill, Man.

★ ★ ★

He said medical authorities found the milk's quality was not seven to 10 days. They said it might even be superior in quality altered by freezing and melting and it remained good for from to fluid milk delivered nearer the source.

Previously the base had no fresh milk. Cows can not be pastured on the barren lands around the base. Slow delivery of fluid milk by rail was not feasible.

Army authorities asked a Winnipeg creamery to experiment with freezing. The creamery reduces the milk's temperature to 45 degrees below zero as soon as it is pasteurized. Then it is placed in refrigerator cars for shipment.

★ ★ ★

The cars move to Churchill on the thrice-weekly service of Canadian National Railways.

Stocks Paced to Vigorous Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, rails and nonferrous metals paced the stock market to a vigorous rise early today.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to two or more points.

The ticker tape fell behind transactions for seven minutes in the first buying rush.

The market was continuing the upsurge of late yesterday when Wall Street was buoyed by strong rumors that the Federal Reserve Board would take further credit - easing steps today.

Allied Chemical, up around two, Chrysler, ahead more than a point, and Westinghouse Electric, up about a point, were in active demand.

National Lead rose close to three after opening at 106, up two on 1,400 shares. U. S. Steel rose ½ at 54¼ on a big opening block of 10,000 shares; Bethlehem Steel was up 1¼ at 39 on 13,000 shares; and International Paper rose 2⅞ at 88 on 2,500 shares.

★ ★ ★

Atlantic Coast Line, Illinois Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Southern Railway were up about a point each as the rails continued to bounce back from severe recent declines.

Reynolds Metals was ahead around two and Aluminum Ltd. more than a point.

Douglas Aircraft gained around a point while other leaders in this group rose fractionally.

Waterford Woman Discovered in Garage

The body of Mrs. George R. Eldred, 4075 Lakewood Dr., Waterford Township, was found by a neighbor last night, in the Eldred garage.

Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac C. Prevette said the cause of death was carbon monoxide poisoning.

Tells U.S. to Wake Up

NEW YORK (INS) — Herbert Hoover warned tonight that this nation "had better wake up" to the failures of its educational system or knuckle under to "the greatest enemy of all mankind—the Communists."

3 Edison Men Win Promotions

Griswold, Kigar and Leahy, All From Area, New Vice Presidents

Three local men are among the four newly elected Detroit Edison vice presidents.

The appointments of new vice presidents, Arthur S. Griswold, Donald F. Kigar, Sylvester F. Leahy and Chester F. Ogden were announced following the board of directors meeting in Detroit on Nov. 18.

Arthur S. Griswold, 5015 Pon Valley Rd., Bloomfield Hills, was appointed vice president in charge of industry and public information.

GRISWOLD

Since 1952 he has served as industry assistant to president of Detroit Edison, Walker L. Cisler.

Joining the company in 1922, he started in the Central Heating Department and was active in electric utility industry organizations. He also served as government consultant on electric power to the Foreign Operations Administration and its predecessor agencies.

He is a graduate of Cornell University.

KIGAR

Appointed vice president in charge of union relations, Donald F. Kigar, 32786 Bingham Lane, Birmingham, joined the company in 1926.

Manager of the company's Union Relations Department since its beginning in 1953, Kigar also held posts as manager of construction and assistant manager of purchases.

He received his degree in electrical engineering from Ohio Northern University.

★ ★ ★

Sylvester F. Leahy, 500 Hupp Cross Rd., Bloomfield Township, was appointed vice president in charge of employe relations. Serving as employe relations manager since 1953, he will continue his responsibilities for the company's employe relations programs.

LEAHY

Leahy joined Edison's Overhead Lines Department in 1931 after receiving his electrical engineering degree from the University of Michigan.

Chester F. Ogden of Detroit was named vice president in charge of purchases and real estate, and Marshall Pease of Detroit was appointed manager of purchases and real estate for the company.

Grains Extend Lower Trend

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures eased slightly on the board of trade today, extending yesterday's downturn.

Corn and soybeans led the decline, reflecting a continuation of clear weather over the main producing belt and prospects for speeding up harvesting operations.

There was some hedging of corn futures against heavy overnight sales of surplus corn by the Commodity Credit Corporation for export.

Trading was mixed in early dealings with commission houses, local traders and industries on both sides of the market.

Dealings in soybeans also were mixed with a broker representing a large elevator selling January beans and a commission house with cash connections buying the same month on the way down.

Transactions in wheat were light. There was some selling of the December delivery which was regarded as speculative. A little buying took place by several traders who said they look for a tight situation to develop in free wheat in the not too distant future.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was unchanged to ¼ lower, Dec. $2.17⅛, corn ⅛ to ⅝ lower, Dec. $1.18⅝; oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, Dec. 67⅞; rye ⅝ to 1⅛ lower, Dec. $1.30¼; soybeans unchanged to ⅝ lower, Jan. $2.32⅛ and lard was 5 cents a hundred lbs. higher, Dec. 12.05.

GOP Legislator Suggests Bonds to Improve State

LANSING (AP)—A quarter of a billion dollar general obligation bond issue for capital improvements, especially in the field of education, has been suggested by a Republican legislator.

Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor), a leader of the "Young Turk" liberal Republicans, proposed the bond issue at a meeting of young Republicans here.

About 60 per cent of the money would be earmarked for higher education and the proposal could be submitted to the voters at the November 1958 general election, Sallade said.

Through this method, he said, the state could plan for a five-year program of improvements to be financed on a "time payment" basis.

Sallade also suggested as Republican legislative goals a $4,000 minimum wage for teachers, a minimum wage law of $1 an hour, legislation to control union welfare funds, enactment of an industrial safety code, state scholarships for college students, a strengthened civil rights law and reorganization of the state's administrative agencies.

Home Appliance Firms Announce Price Hikes

NEW YORK (AP)—Price increases were made yesterday by two leading home appliance makers.

General Electric Co.'s Hotpoint Co. Division said it is boosting prices of its 1958 home appliances by an average of about three per cent.

Admiral Corp. announced prices on 1958 electric ranges representing what the company called a "slight rise" over 1957.

Ask Tax Ruling on GM Stock

Attorneys Seek Figure to Determine Disposal of DuPont Holdings

CHICAGO (AP) — Attorneys are seeking a government ruling on the tax aspects of the proposed distribution of Du Pont holdings of General Motors Corp. stock.

They have prepared a motion asking Judge Walter J. La Buy in U.S. District Court to issue an order calling for a ruling by the Internal revenue Service.

They said a hearing will be held today.

The lawyers represent stockholders of General Motors and E.I. Du Pont de Memours & Co.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled last summer that Du Pont violated the antitrust laws in its ownership of 63 million shares — about 23 per cent — of General Motors stock.

The Supreme Court sent the case back to the Chicago court, where it originated, of determination of how Du Pont should dispose of its General Motors stock.

The government recently suggested that the shares be placed in trust. It recommended that some of them be transferred over a 10-year period to Du Pont stockholders and that the others be sold with the proceeds distributed to stockholders.

The attorneys figured that millions of dollars of taxes may have to be paid out by stockholders, directly or indirectly, in carrying out the government's proposed plan.

They also said stockholders of both companies may feel the impact of any "widespread selling of Du Pont or General Motors shares to raise funds for payment of taxes."

Faye Emerson, Jack Walker Divorce-it-eying

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Faye Emerson and clothier Jack Walker left by plane for Mexico together today to obtain divorces. They denied published reports of marriage plans but said they "could not predict the future."

★ ★ ★

They said they planned to spend six days in Mexico, fishing and attending bullfights as well as making the court appearances necessary for obtaining their divorces.

★ ★ ★

Miss Emerson is divorcing her third husband, band leader Skitch Henderson, after seven years of marriage. Her second marriage to Elliot Roosevelt, son of the late president also ended in divorce. Walker is divorcing the former Patricia Frye, a Rheingold beer queen of 1948. He is a partner in the theatrical clothing firm of Mannie Walker & Son.

Charges Muntz TV Is Deceiving Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) today charged Muntz TV Inc., of Chicago, with exaggerating the size of the picture tubes in its television receivers and misrepresenting that the sets are sold directly from the factory.

A commission complaint said the horizontal measurements of the viewable area of the picture tubes in the Muntz sets are not 21, 24 and 27 inches as claimed, but considerably less.

These claimed sizes, the FTC said, appear in the company's newspaper advertisements and are marked on the sets themselves.

FTC also said the sets are not sold directly to the purchaser from "factory outlets," but are sold by retailers who buy the appliances from Muntz.

The company was given 30 days to file answer.

5 Pounds of Opium Vanishes From Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police today were investigating the disappearance of five pounds of opium from the court of Superior Judge Walter Carpeneti where it was to be evidence for a trial.

The opium—worth $5,000 on the illegal market and contained in two paper bags—vanished yesterday.

It had been placed under the counsel table for safekeeping.

Declares Dividend

DETROIT (AP) — Directors of the Burroughs Corp. yesterday declared a dividend of 25 cents a share on common stock, payable Jan. 20, 1958, to stockholders of record at the close of business Dec. 27, 1957.

Wholesale Food Prices End Upward Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — Wholesale food prices shaded a bit lower this week, ending a four-week upward trend, Dun & Bradstreet reported.

At $6.28 the organization's food index compared with $6.29 a week ago and was 3 per cent higher than $6.10 in the same week last year.

Bandit Forces Clerk Into Refrigerator

A 27-year-old grocery store clerk was pushed into a walk-in refrigerator last night after an unidentified man robbed him at gun point of approximately $109.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Police report the bandit escaped on foot after robbing the Home Service store, 43 Orchard Lake Ave. about 11:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Ray Harris, the clerk, said a man, wearing a grey checked short jacket and blue jeans, shoved him into the refrigerator and escaped with the money in the cash register after walking into the store and demanding "Dish out the money".

★ ★ ★

Harris said he called police after he unlocked the door from the inside.

Until 1736, New Jersey had a separate assembly, but its chief executive was the governor of New York.

Convict 2 Men in Toy Fraud

Pair Took Mail Orders for 'World Club' Deal, Seldom Sent Goods

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn Federal Court jury has convicted two men on charges growing out of a toy-selling scheme in which parents over the country were defrauded of an estimated $385,000.

The defendants were Alastair Kyle, 25, of Manhattan, president of the defunct "Toys of the World Club," and Clinton Gardner of Armonk, N.Y., the firm's secretary-treasurer.

Kyle was convicted of using the mails to defraud and faces a maximum possible sentence of 30 years in prison and a $6,000 fine. Gardner was convicted of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud and could receive a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Asst U.S. Atty. Warren Deutsch said the two men began a business venture in 1954, under which parents were offered a plan whereby their children would receive monthly or bi-monthly toys from various foreign countries at subscription rates ranging from $7 to $22 a month.

Deutsch said the men eventually obtained subscriptions from 35,000 persons, but that few toys ever were sent and that the firm continued mailing brouchers on the plan even after it became apparent that the promises in the brochures could not be fulfilled.

The defendants are to be sentenced Dec. 12.

Mortgage Lenders Would Set Interest Rate

Administration Eyes New FHA Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is weighing a new federal housing administration program under which mortgage lenders would set the interest rate and FHA would insure only 20 per cent of the risk.

Housing administrator Albert M. Cole, announcing this today, told reporters that if the administration decides to recommend the plan and Congress adopts it, FHA would not enforce the same structural standards which now protect home buyers.

* * *

He said the plan would not change or displace the existing FHA insurance program under which the government insures 100 per cent of the lenders risk but imposes a ceiling of 5¼ per cent on the interest rate he can charge.

Cole unveiled the plan in a speech prepared for the convention of the New Jersey League of Municipalities at Atlantic City, after explaining it to reporters here.

"The program would permit low down payments and low monthly payments," he said in the speech.

AVOID EXPENSES

"One of the principal aims would be to avoid the prohibitive expenses of second-mortgage financing that is becoming increasingly—and dangerously—prevalent.

"It would greatly reduce the chances of the home owner losing his home."

Cole told newsmen that "no definite decis ion has been made," but that the plan is under "concentrated discussion" in the government.

The idea was expected to arouse quick opposition in Congress, where Democratic legislators have resisted lifting the interest ceiling. They consider this ceiling a protection for veterans and other home purchasers—even though the ceiling has been blamed for a shortage of credit available for FHA-insured mortgages.

Anticipating such objections, Cole told the Atlantic City audience that if the plan becomes part of the administration's new housing bill, the government would "take measures to see to it that interest rates are fair from the viewpoint of the home owner, and that exorbitant charges are not permitted."

"The purpose of this plan would be threatened if a small minority of lenders in using it put an unreasonable burden on the home owner," the housing chief added.

"In any government-sponsored program, the home buyer must be protected."

* * *

Cole explained the proposal this way:

On the sale of a new $10,000 house there might be a 10 per cent down payment and a $9,000 mortgage. Under the present FHA program, the government insures the whole loan, thereby assuring the bank or loan company that it will get its money if the home buyer defaults.

To protect the government and the buyer, FHA conducts an elaborate check of the credit of the home purchaser, appraises the property, makes the builder meet minimum quality standards, and inspects the completed structure.

Under the new plan, the government would insure only the last 20 per cent of the $9,000. The lender would carry the other 80 per cent of the risk, and would be obliged to do its own checking on the credit-worthiness of the home purchaser.

* * *

The plan would help eliminate the widespread practice of "discounting" mortgages, Cole said.

Socialite Discovered Dead in Bathtub

NEW YORK (AP) — A socially prominent woman was found dead last night in a partially filled bathtub in her mother's Essex House apartment on Central Park South.

* * *

The body of Mrs. Emile Graffin, 44, was discovered by her maid and the manager of the Essex House. The maid had become worried when she was unable to contact Mrs. Graffin by phone.

Beside the tub where the body was found, police said, was a box containing pills. An autopsy was scheduled for today.

* * *

The dead woman resided with her husband George at 200 E. 66th St. He told police his wife had been in ill health and worried over the health of her mother Mrs. George Leuman, who is ill in Roosevelt Hospital.

2 Jackson Escapees Nabbed in Haymow

WHITE PIGEON (AP) — Two southern Michigan prison escapees were arrested yesterday after state police found them hiding in a haymow near here.

Their captors said Warren Sweet, 27, and James McKellar, 33, were armed with a stolen shotgun but offered no resistance. The arrest took place while officers were making a routine check of a barn owned by Sweet's mother.

The two walked away from a prison farm near Jackson Saturday night and stole a car which later was found abandoned near Sturgis.

Sweet was sentenced from Three Rivers in 1954 for breaking and entering and attempted rape. McKellar was sentenced to a term for breaking and entering in Dickinson County in 1947.

Saginaw River Port Proposed

MSU Team Studying Plan That Would Bring Wealth to Area

EAST LANSING (AP) — Possibilities for building terminal port facilities for public hire at Saginaw are undergoing study by a team of researchers at Michigan State University.

* * *

The study was undertaken for a committee of civic and industrial leaders from Bay, Saginaw and Midland Counties. Preliminary surveys, the committee said, indicate port facilities on the Saginaw River might attract new industry to the area and reduce shipping charges as well.

"The study also was motivated by the desire of these communities to capitalize upon the increased waterborne trade anticipated as a result of the St. Lawrence Seaway project," said John L. O'Donnell, acting director of MSU's Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

* * *

Preliminary figures, he said, show that 45,000 tons of goods are imported into the area and 114,000 tons exported from foreign countries during each seaway season, not including trade with Canada. Most now moves by road and rails.

* * *

"These figures reveal a splendid opportunity for improving and utilizing the economic potentials of the Saginaw River," O'Donnell said. "On the average, every vessel that calls at the terminal would generate an income of about $60,000 for the local community."

* * *

The first part of the two-part survey, he said, would be completed next February.

Young Zanuck to Wed 18-Year-Old Starlet

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Dick Zanuck, only son of widely-known film producer Darryl Zanuck, is going to marry an 18-year-old screen beauty from Alabama.

* * *

The bride-to-be is Lili Gentle, who came to Hollywood a year ago. She recently played the feminine lead opposite Tommy Sands in "Sing, Boy, Sing."

The engagement was annouced at a party given last night by young Zanuck's mother. No date has been set yet. The young man is 24.

ORDINANCE NO. 1349
Adopted: November 19, 1957
Effective: November 29, 1957

An ordinance to regulate the moving, wrecking and razing of buildings, dwellings or structures: To provide for a cash deposit to protect the City of Pontiac from such moving operation on the city streets: To provide for permit fees for the various types of structures: And to provide penalties for violation of said ordinance and to repeal all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

THE CITY OF PONTIAC ORDAINS:

Section 1: Building Permit—

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to move any building or structure from one location to another or to wreck the same without first obtaining a permit therefor from the Building Department. This permit may be refused if, in the judgment of the Building Inspector or other authorized person, the building is: (1) too large to move without causing damage to property or (2) structurally unsafe or unfit for the purpose for which moved.

(b) The person, firm or corporation requesting a permit under this ordinance shall set forth in his application the streets, alleys and other public places upon and through which the proposed building will be moved and the name of the owner of the building. An application for such permit shall be accompanied by a permit fee of $25.00. All applications to move buildings into the city from another city, village or township shall be accompanied by a fee of $50.00 for necessary preliminary inspections.

(c) The applicant shall submit a schedule of the time and routes approved by the Chief of Police when said proposed building or structure shall be moved. The applicant shall also notify all utility companies, Department of Parks and Recreation, and the city Electrical Superintendent one week in advance of the proposed route, and certification shall be made from such utility companies and city Electrical Superintendent, and Department of Parks and Recreation, and filed with said application. The person moving the building shall post on such building, in a conspicuous place, the permit which shall be given by the Building Inspector after compliance with this ordinance.

(d) In the moving of said building the Director of Parks and Recreation shall issue a written approval for any trees to be cut, trimmed or removed along said proposed route and the person moving said building shall use extraordinary care to prevent any damage to shade trees or public utility installations, curbs, sidewalks, electric signal installations and private properties.

(e) The Building Inspector is hereby directed to inspect all applications for moving or wrecking buildings in the City of Pontiac for compliance with the terms and conditions contained in this ordinance and as provided herein. In the event a permit to move a building is requested the applicant shall accompany his application with a $1,000.00 cash deposit by the owner to protect the City of Pontiac against any delays, negligence in removing said building from its location, city expense incurred or in cleaning up the premises and removing rubbish or debris from its former location and conditioned further that the building will be completed at its new location within a period of six months, and conditioned further that the applicant will bring said building on its new location in compliance with the Building, Electrical and Plumbing Codes within said six months period. Said $1,000.00 cash deposit shall also be conditioned to reimburse the city for any expenses incurred by the Fire, Police, Electrical, Public Works Departments, or any other city department, in connection with such moving and such departments shall keep a record of the time allotted to such project and the city's cost shall be charged against such deposit and credited to the proper funds. In the event the applicant or owner fails or neglects to comply with any of the above stipulations and conditions the deposit provided herein shall be used by the city to bring the building into compliance with city ordinances or to place the premises where the building has been removed in a neat and level condition free from rubbish and debris. The $1,000.00 cash bond shall be held by the city until after the expiration of the above six months period and after payment of all city expenses have been made and after the premises have been restored to a safe, neat, clean and tidy condition and in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, said balance shall be returned to the owner making such deposit.

(f) Whenever a building is to be moved through the streets of the city the applicant shall, in addition to the above requirements, file with the City Clerk a Policy of Insurance insuring all utilities and the City of Pontiac against any damage by reason of the moving of said house within the city limits. Said Policy of Insurance shall be in the amount of $10,000.00 for any one person and $20,000.00 for any one accident, and $10,000.00 property damage.

(g) In the event a permit is requested to wreck a building the cash deposit shall be as provided in Section 7 of this ordinance and conditioned that the applicant—will clean up the premises where the building has been razed and leave the premises in a neat and tidy condition, level to existing grade, all to be approved by the Building Inspector.

Section 2: Taxes Paid—

Before such a permit is issued, the owner of the property shall present to the Building Inspector, for filing, sufficient evidence that the property is free of any entanglements and that all taxes and any city charges against the same are paid in full.

Section 3: Ownership—

The applicant, if other than the owner, shall present a written statement or bill of sale signed by the owner that he is entitled to move or wreck the building or structure. The statement or bill of sale will be filed with the permit in the office of the Building Inspector.

Section 4: Removing Service Connections—

Before moving or wrecking any building it shall be the duty of the mover or wrecker to see that the sewer line is plugged with a concrete stopper, and water shut off, and the meter returned to the City Water Office. The electric and gas services to be removed by the utility company.

Section 5: Code Compliance—

Permission to move a building from one location to another is contingent upon compliance with the Building Code, the Fire Zone, and the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Pontiac, and in the case of a dwelling, with the State Housing Act of Michigan. No building shall be moved over any street, alley or public place on skids.

Section 6: Public Protection—

When wrecking buildings adjacent to the streets, sidewalks or alleys, suitable fences and/or barricades must be erected to protect the public from falling materials, cave-ins and the necessary precautions taken to protect buildings, public walks, paving, etc., adjacent thereto.

Section 7: Schedule of Cash Deposits for wrecking a building in the City of Pontiac:—

A person desiring to wreck or raze any building shall deposit with the Building Inspector the following sums in accordance with the following sizes of basement areas conditioned that applicant perform the provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance:

Up to 500 sq. ft. without basement	$ 25.00
Up to 500 sq. ft. with basement	$.00.00
500 sq. ft. to 1000 sq. ft. without basement	$100.00
500 sq. ft. to 1000 sq. ft. with basement	$150.00
Larger and special buildings —conditions and deposits determined by the Building Inspector but not to exceed	$500.00

Section 8:

Permit fees shall be paid to the city for wrecking or razing a building as follows:—

For wrecking a building or structure, for each 500 sq. ft. or fraction thereof, of floor space for each floor, including the basement	$3.00

Section 9:

All ordinances inconsistent herewith, including Ordinance No. 1118 are hereby repealed.

Section 10:

Any person, firm or corporation wrecking any building, as provided, herein, or moving any building or structure upon the public streets or highways in the City of Pontiac, or moving any such building or structure from any location to another location, without complying with the terms and provisions of this ordinance, shall upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding ninety (90) days in the Oakland County Jail or Municipal Jail in the discretion of the court, provided that each day an offense continues under this ordinance the same shall be deemed a separate offense and a separate complaint and warrant may be issued therefor.

Section 11:

This ordinance shall take effect ten (10) days from and after the date of its passage by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac.

Made and passed by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac this 19th day of November A.D. 1957.

WE DO WHAT WE SAY

Put a PROPER PRICE on your home . . . that's the way to sell it quickly. Ask TOO MUCH and you frighten people away! Ask TOO LITTLE, and before you know it, it's been grabbed up by someone who resells it for a big profit. There's no SUBSTITUTE FOR EXPERIENCE in selling real estate, and WE HAVE THE EXPERIENCE! WE HAVE SOLD YOUR NEIGHBOR'S HOUSE AND WE'LL SELL YOURS.

ALL ABOARD FOR TV — Mary Martin, wearing one of her "fresh from the hills" costumes, is star of "Annie Get Your Gun," which will be seen Wednesday, Thanksgiving Eve, from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. via NBC-TV. Mary, who portrays sharp-shooting Annie Oakley in this special colorcast, heads a star-studded cast that includes John Raitt as Frank Butler and William O'Neal as Buffalo Bill. Music is by Irving Berlin, book by Herbert and Dorothy Fields. Pontiac Motor Division is co-sponsor of this two-hour musical extravaganza.

She Sees Again After 18 Years

New Electronic Device Enables Blind Woman to Differentiate Light

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—"Oh, I can see the light."

It was in these words that a woman blind for 18 years described her reaction to a new electronic device, her surgeons said.

The woman, Betty Corstorphine, 35, underwent a series of tests in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, Los Angeles, last month using a photoelectric cell connected to wires in her brain.

★ ★ ★

"I saw flashes, at one time a bright flash like an electric light bulb, and at another time a grayness as though a light had just gone out," she said.

Dr. John C. Button said the test showed that brain cells did not atrophy like unused muscle cells but could be stimulated.

Saying that the test "opens the door to the possibilities of electronic vision," he predicted that with adequate funds medical science could refine the apparatus so that within five years almost all blind people could "see" by means of electrical stimulus of the vision centers.

"Eventually," he said, "I'm sure we'll get real sight."

Miss Corstorphine expressed a cautious optimism about the experiment.

"I went out there knowing, of course, that I was not going to get my sight back," she said, "I knew it was only a test, that much more research will have to go into it. But someday—we're hoping it's soon—there may be vision aids for the blind like there are hearing aids."

Button, a 46-year-old neurologist who lives in nearby Maplewood, described the device that may eventually be developed as "something like a radarscope or television set."

Miss Corstorphine, who volunteered for the tests begun last Oct. 28, has been blind since 1939 because of the pressure of an inoperable, benign tumor on her optic nerve.

PLAYING HIMSELF — Versatile Donald Woods now has an unusual acting chore, portraying himself in CBS-TV's daytime serial, "Hotel Cosmopolitan." Woods the television character is a permanent guest in a fictional New York hotel. The show is presented Monday through Friday from 12 to 12:15 p.m.

It's Just a Job to Skilled Actor

Winds Up in TV Serial After Moving East to Tackle Broadway

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — After a long and wholesome career, playing every kind of character under the Sputnik, Donald Woods is currently employed — playing Donald Woods.

★ ★ ★

This strange bit of casting happens on CBS-TV's relatively new daytime serial, "Hotel Cosmopolitan."

The idea is that Woods is a permanent guest of this fictional New York hotel. He gets involved with some guests and the stories spring from here.

Unlike most serials, where the stories go on and on and on, these last anywhere from two to eight weeks, then new characters are introduced and a new story starts.

For Woods, this means up at 6 in the morning to get to the studio in time for a 9 o'clock rehearsal call.

This, plus the show itself and an hour's rehearsal for the next day's show, takes him until 2 in the afternoon.

EASIER BUT HARDER

"It's easier than many jobs," he says, "but it's harder than many, too."

★ ★ ★

And it is just a job to Woods, an honest individual who says, quite frankly:

"I'm a mercenary guy. I'm in this business to make a living and I'll do radio or TV or movies or summer stock or anythings that pays—as long as the part is right for me, and the vehicle is a good one."

He came to New York, after 15 solid years and 50 pictures in Hollywood, in '54. He says he deserted the West Coast because he was hungry to do a Broadway play.

★ ★ ★

He still hasn't done the play, but he's been busy constantly in New York television.

RICHEST IN BUSINESS

Woods, who surprisingly is old enough to boast a married daughter, has one equally frank ambition:

"I want to be the richest character actor in the business."

Hollywood Is Moving to Brooklyn for TV

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Looks like maybe Brooklyn swapped the Dodgers to Los Angeles for a little chunk of Hollywood.

We squandered $5 on a 14-mile cab ride out to Flatbush that'll be used more often for Hollywood-type spectaculars . . . since the successful General Motors show that cost $1,000,000.

(That doesn't even include $66 worth of garlic-loaded sandwiches. NBC Veep Manie Sacks rushed them out).

"I'm doing three of my shows from here in January, Dinah Shore announced. "Brooklyn's becoming the Burbank of New York!"

"It was my first time in Brooklyn," said a still-dazed Howard Keel. But Claudette Colbert said, "I used to play Brooklyn on the subway circuit—believe me, I rode the subway, too."

Twenty-five limousines shuttled the stars back and forth and finally to a party where everybody said the $1,000,000 was well spent.

"Very well spent!" maintained Dan Dailey. "Half of it must have gone to actors."

Douglas Fairbanks is getting a check-up in a N.Y. hospital . . . Jackie Gleason left for Europe (to take a vacation from his vacation), but'll be back on TV in Sept. '58 . . . Prediction: There'll be a big boom in '58 (Sputnik Spending) . . . After Jayne Meadows had the baby, Steve Allen said: "It was a Caesarian delivery — the doctor also delivered Sid Caesar." (Actually, Jayne had a rough time.)

The pink lady's-slipper, largest of the northern orchids, traps the honeybee in its pouch-shaped blossom to aid pollination. Spines comb pollen out of the bee's hair. As the insect struggles to get out, the plant's anthers dust fresh pollen on its back for the use of the next lady's-slipper.

A horse eats food from enough land to feed four average adult persons.

She Sees Again After 18 Years

New Electronic Device Enables Blind Woman to Differentiate Light

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—"Oh, I can see the light."

It was in these words that a woman blind for 18 years described her reaction to a new electronic device, her surgeons said.

The woman, Betty Corstorphine, 35, underwent a series of tests in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, Los Angeles, last month using a photoelectric cell connected to wires in her brain.

"I saw flashes, at one time a bright flash like an electric light bulb, and at another time a grayness as though a light had just gone out," she said.

Dr. John C. Button said the test showed that brain cells did not atrophy like unused muscle cells but could be stimulated.

Saying that the test "opens the door to the possibilities of electronic vision," he predicted that with adequate funds medical science could refine the apparatus so that within five years almost all blind people could "see" by means of electrical stimulus of the vision centers.

"Eventually," he said, "I'm sure we'll get real sight."

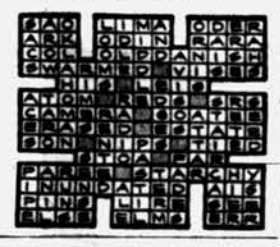
Miss Corstorphine expressed a cautious optimism about the experiment.

"I went out there knowing, of course, that I was not going to get my sight back," she said. "I knew it was only a test, that much more research will have to go into it. But someday—we're hoping it's soon—there may be vision aids for the blind like there are hearing aids."

Button, a 46-year-old neurologist who lives in nearby Maplewood, described the device that may eventually be developed as "something like a radarscope or television set."

Miss Corstorphine, who volunteered for the tests begun last Oct. 28, has been blind since 1939 because of the pressure of an inoperable, benign tumor on her optic nerve.

Answer to Previous Puzzle



PLAYING HIMSELF — Versatile Donald Woods now has an unusual acting chore, portraying himself in CBS-TV's daytime serial, "Hotel Cosmopolitan." Woods the television character is a permanent guest in a fictional New York hotel. The show is presented Monday through Friday from 12 to 12:15 p.m.

It's Just a Job to Skilled Actor

Winds Up in TV Serial After Moving East to Tackle Broadway

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — After a long and wholesome career, playing every kind of character under the Sputnik, Donald Woods is currently employed — playing Donald Woods.

★ ★ ★

This strange bit of casting happens on CBS-TV's relatively new daytime serial, "Hotel Cosmopolitan."

The idea is that Woods is a permanent guest of this fictional New York hotel. He gets involved with some guests and the stories spring from here.

Unlike most serials, where the stories go on and on and on, these last anywhere from two to eight weeks, then new characters are introduced and a new story starts.

For Woods, this means up at 6 in the morning to get to the studio in time for a 9 o'clock rehearsal call.

This, plus the show itself and an hour's rehearsal for the next day's show, takes him until 2 in the afternoon.

EASIER BUT HARDER

★ ★ ★

And it is just a job to Woods, an honest individual who says, quite frankly:

"I'm a mercenary guy. I'm in this business to make a living and I'll do radio or TV or movies or summer stock or anything that pays—as long as the part is right for me, and the vehicle is a good one."

He came to New York, after 15 solid years and 50 pictures in Hollywood, in '54. He says he deserted the West Coast because he was hungry to do a Broadway play.

★ ★ ★

He still hasn't done the play, but he's been busy constantly in New York television.

RICHEST IN BUSINESS

Woods, who surprisingly is old enough to boast a married daughter, has one equally frank ambition:

"I want to be the richest character actor in the business."

Hollywood Is Moving to Brooklyn for TV

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Looks like maybe Brooklyn swapped the Dodgers to Los Angeles for a little chunk of Hollywood.

We squandered $5 on a 14-mile cab ride out to Flatbush that'll be used more often for Hollywood-type spectaculars . . . since the successful General Motors show that cost $1,000,000.

(That doesn't even include $66 worth of garlic-loaded sandwiches. NBC Veep Manie Sacks rushed them out).

"I'm doing three of my shows from here in January, Dinah Shore announced. "Brooklyn's becoming the Burbank of New York!"

"It was my first time in Brooklyn," said a still-dazed Howard Keel. But Claudette Colbert said, "I used to play Brooklyn on the subway circuit—believe me, I rode the subway, too."

Twenty-five limousines shuttled the stars back and forth and finally to a party where everybody said the $1,000,000 was well spent.

"Very well spent!" maintained Dan Dailey. "Half of it must have gone to actors."

Douglas Fairbanks is getting a check-up in a N.Y. hospital . . . Jackie Gleason left for Europe (to take a vacation from his vacation), but'll be back on TV in Sept. '58 . . . Prediction: There'll be a big boom in '58 (Sputnik Spending) . . . After Jayne Meadows had the baby, Steve Allen said: "It was a Caesarian delivery — the doctor also delivered Sid Caesar." The pink lady's-slipper, largest of the northern orchids, traps the honeybee in its pouch-shaped blossom to aid pollination. Spines comb pollen out of the bee's hair. As the insect struggles to get but, the plant's anthers dust fresh pollen on its back for the use of the next lady's-slipper.

Schooling Compulsory in Norway Since 1860

OSLO — Since 1860 elementary education in Norway has been free and compulsory for all childrn between the ages of 7 and 14.

In exceptional cases parents are permitted to give their children individual, equivalent training. Only about 20,000 attend private primary schools compared with more than a half million in the public elementary schools.

New Propulsion Device Made for Skin Divers

ENDICOTT, N. Y. — A cigar-shaped, self-powered propulsion unit manufactured by an Endicott company enables skin divers to enjoy hour-long excursions at depths of 100 feet.

According to the manufacturer, the 43-inch device is easily steered by fingertip movements. It is powered by a 6 or 12-volt air craft battery, weighs 1½ pounds submerged and 70 pounds out of water, and has the propeller unit mounted forward.

Michigan has 11,037 inland lakes, 36,350 miles of streams and 3,121 miles of Great Lakes shoreline — four times as much water-covered area as any other state.

12 States Boost Fees for Hunting, Fishing

WASHINGTON—The legislature of 12 states passed laws this year raising hunting or fishing license fees. Increases were rejected in two states—Massachusetts and New Hampshire,— while one state, Connecticut, reduced fishing fees for persons over 65.

Nevada does not have a state income tax.

Children's Visit Ends

OSLO—One hundred Hungarian refugee children have returned to camps in Austria and West Germany after six weeks with families in southern Norway.
