Police Take Harry Hebard, 16, to Jail

Teen Slays Family

Arraign Killer of Five

GREEN BAY, Wis. (U) — A four counts of first-degree murder charged today a 16-year-old boy who wiped out all five members of his immediate family in a well-planned 15-minute series of executions was arraigned today on charges. Harry (Butch) Hebard, arrested yesterday a few hours after the bodies of his father, stepmother and her three children were found in their blood-drenched home, answered "yes" in a subdued voice to County Judge James Byers' four questions as to whether he understood the charges.

Dist. Atty. Robert Warren said that a fifth murder charge dealing with the death of 15-year-old John Rudell, Harry's oldest stepbrother, would be "held in abeyance pending outcome of trial" on the other four counts.

Warren said that young Hebard, described by his minister as "a good quiet boy who was real active in the church," had finally expressed remorse at the slaying of his father, but not in the killing of the other four.

The court appointed former Dist. Atty. Robert Parins to defend Harry, and continued the arraignment until tomorrow. Judge Byers ordered Hebard held without bond.

Earlier, Warren said that Harry had completed his statement detailing the killings, and told how he had arranged earlier in the day for a friend to pick him up near his home Monday night.

An automatic pistol, wrapped in the clothing Harry wore at the time of the shooting, was recovered beside a town road late yesterday.

FIND SECOND GUN
A second gun used in the lethal fusillade was found in the house.

Harry, a high school junior, surrendered meekly Tuesday after six hours after the bodies were found in the family home.

Killed by shots from an automatic pistol and rifle were the boy's stepmother, Joyce, 35; her three children by a previous marriage, John Rudell, 15, and Judy and Janice, 11-year-old twins; and Harry's three-married father, Jack Hebard, 38, a part-time automobile thrill driver and stunt man.

The father, an airline freight foreman, used the professional name "Lucky O'Hara" and was well-known on the Midwest fair circuit.

He indicated that might be the direction in which Pontiac is building.

"However, studies estimate Pontiac's population will stand at about 120,000 by the year 2000, and serving our residents will always come first."

He said the city's current bonded indebtedness, standing at about $6 million, is relatively small. The limit for cities of Pontiac's size is $22 million.

In spite of the city's construction program, he saw no signs of an increase in what he described as Pontiac's relatively low residential tax load.

Currently, about 78 per cent of the tax load is paid by business and industry; 22 per cent by residential taxes.

Stierer pointed to the city's new sewage treatment plant and the water supply from Detroit as two major accomplishments of 1963.

"The contract with Detroit will give Pontiac an unlimited supply of water of about 100 parts of hardness per million parts water, compared to our present 435 parts hardness per million."

He looked to the Clinton River drain, perimeter road and an interior loop road downtown as major projects beginning this year.

Government Still Stable — Betancourt

Venezuela President Optimistic Despite Red Subversive Activity

WASHINGTON (U) — President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela declared today his government is stable despite aggressive Communist subversion directed through Havana from Moscow and Peking.

He said in a speech prepared for delivery at the National Press Club that groups of Red terrorists, by making off with five paintings from a French art exhibition in Caracas and hijacking the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui, had gained "excessive international publicity" that gives a distorted picture of the situation in his country.

"These acts of terrorism are commando operations carried out by small groups that have absolutely no help or support from the people of Venezuela," he said.

Betancourt said the Communists had failed to influence organized labor and farm workers, and that among students there was a "lessening of receptivity to their slogans."

"If they have launched themselves on the extreme and desperate path of terrorist acts, it is because they realize they have no popular support and aid," he said.

"The aid and support of the people of Venezuela, their determination and will to live in democracy and freedom, have given real stability to the government that I represent. But it also has had and continues to have the loyalty and support of the armed forces."

GIVES REASONS
Betancourt explained that the Communist offensive was aimed at Venezuela because, for one reason, it is the principal supplier of oil to the United States.

Tuesday's northwesterly winds driving snow at 15 to 25 miles per hour will continue tonight and tomorrow.

Twenty-four was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had dropped to 21 at 2 p.m.

Freighter Gets to Port at Last

Pirates Surrender to Brazilian Officials

MACAPA, Brazil (UPI) — The eight-day saga of the Communist-hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui was ended peacefully today in this remote Amazon River port.

The Communist "pirates" who seized the 5,000-ton freighter shortly after it sailed from La Guaira, Venezuela, en route to Houston, Tex., a week ago Tuesday formally surrendered to Brazilian authorities last night.

Promised political asylum by Brazil, the Communist conspirators eluded pursuing Venezuelan destroyers and sailed into Brazilian territorial waters Sunday night.

Then they moved along the northeast Brazilian coast until they worked the vessel into the mouth of the vast Amazon River and moved to a remote mining company loading area.

Then, under direction of Brazilian officials who had boarded earlier, the Anzoategui anchored at Santana, 12 miles downriver from Macapa, at 10:20 last night.

Five minutes later, a group of Brazilian marines boarded the vessel from an outboard motorboat without incident as newsmen watched from the shore.

City Trio Rests Up After 50-Mile Hike

Three young Pontiac men today were feeling great — but resting — after hiking 50 miles in under 13 hours yesterday.

A fourth became a casualty about two-thirds of the way.

"It started out as a dare but it went so well that I might just try it again," said George A. Robinson, 27, the leader of the group.

An orderly at Pontiac General Hospital for 7½ years, Robinson, 216 Liberty St., said he talked about the hiking fad so much several doctors suggested he try it.

The hikers made two trips to the Union Lake area from Robinson's home, clocking 51 miles in 12 hours and 45 minutes.

The trio, Robinson, Charles Howell, 18, of 216 Liberty and Joseph Noell, 21, of 278 State St., were driven home by Robinson's parents after marching to the black top. It can be murder on your feet."

Robinson lost 6 pounds off his 180-pound frame. The others did not lose any weight.

"We are all feeling fine today, but last night when we got home we had trouble with our leg muscles," Robinson said.

None of the four raised a blister.

Robinson took an extra precaution by wrapping his feet with elastic bandage. He wore tennis sneakers.

"I highly recommend walking," said Robinson who's been getting into shape the last couple weeks, walking to work because his car broke down.

"If anyone is thinking of trying it, just remember to stay off the black top. It can be murder on your feet."

Most Cautious With Optimism Over Pull-Out

Promised Removal of Soviet Troops Brings Skepticism

WASHINGTON (U) — A Cuban exile leader said today he had hard evidence that there may be as many as 30,000 to 35,000 Russian troops in Cuba today, not 17,000 as the Kennedy administration says.

From Our News Wires
MOSCOW — Western diplomats speculated today that the Kremlin's pledge to withdraw some Russian troops from Cuba might be intended to avoid another Soviet-American showdown in the Caribbean.

But the diplomats greeted the promise with as much caution as optimism.

They pointed out that the true significance of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's move depended upon "how many and what kind."

According to reports from Washington yesterday, Khrushchev promised to remove "several thousand" Russian soldiers from Cuba by mid-March.

Russia has an estimated 17,000 soldiers and technicians on Pre-

There was no official announcement here that Khrushchev had communicated with Washington and no word of the details.

Khrushchev's promise left a number of unanswered questions today to plague the Kennedy administration.

It was obvious that the Russian offer, couched in general terms, would not lessen appreciably the congressional pressure on the issue at this time.

The Soviet note, which came through normal diplomatic channels, gave no hint as to the actual number to be pulled out or the type of personnel to be withdrawn.

IN A BIND
The Administration apparently found itself in something of a bind on the matter. The White House and the State Department without official comment or public acknowledgment of the offer lest premature declarations embarrass Khrushchev and make it

'62 Surplus Is $202,542 for County

The Oakland County Board of Auditors yesterday announced that the county ended up with a $202,542 surplus for 1962.

From this amount, $155,579 will be applied to this year's budget by prior agreement of the County Board of Supervisors.

This leaves $46,963 to go into the contingent fund to meet any unexpected expenses this year.

The county's 1961 budget surplus amounted to $162,710.

The money at that time was spent, along with another $200,000 from the capital improvement fund to acquire Allen Airport and surrounding property in Orion Township.

Robert Lilly, secretary of the board of auditors, said "The county ended up in the black last year only because the governmental program was cut accordingly at budget time and receipts amounted to a little more than was estimated."

The board of auditors is expecting to close the books on 1962 expenditures next week, at which time it will be known how much the county spent last year. The figure is expected to run over $12.4 million.

City Engrossed in 'Busy Year'

$22.3 Million Being Spent on Construction

With some $22.3 million in public improvement projects under construction, 1963 will be a "busy year," City Manager Robert A. Stierer said yesterday.

The understatement came during Stierer's "state of the city" report before a luncheon meeting of the Downtown Pontiac Kiwanis Club.

Stierer said that "the possibility of Pontiac becoming a core city is under active study by the City Commission."

He indicated that might be the direction in which Pontiac is building.

"However, studies estimate Pontiac's population will stand at about 120,000 by the year 2000, and serving our residents will always come first."

He said the city's current bonded indebtedness, standing at about $6 million, is relatively small. The limit for cities of Pontiac's size is $22 million.

Haiti Unrest Boils Toward Explosion

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
The lid may blow off this spring in the confused Caribbean Negro Republic of Haiti.

If an explosion comes, say reliable sources, U.S. military action may be needed to prevent a Castro-like regime from popping up on the Island of Hispaniola, only 50 miles across the strategic Windward Passage from Cuba.

Haiti, a turbulent dictatorship, shares Hispaniola with the Dominican Republic, itself freed recently from the Trujillo dictatorship.

Now he may spect disaster. A general student strike against the regime is in the offing. Duvalier's secret police and militia are reported cracking down with a wave of arrests.

Reliable informants said two students were shot dead in Port au Prince's streets Friday and that the capital is being flooded with anti-Duvalier handbills.

The situation is described as extremely tense. Haitians in exile all around the hemisphere are reported on the alert for an upheaval.

In 1961, during a legislative election, Duvalier faked a plebiscite and had himself declared re-elected for another full six-year term, two years before his first term was to run out. That first term expires in May.

Duvalier's foes say he is distrustful of his army, fearful of assassination and suspicious of an international move against him.

Informants said that if Dr. Duvalier decides to leave, he probably will turn the government over to his current interior minister, Luc F. Francois.

Duvalier is a physician turned politician, known to Haitians as "Papa Doc." He has survived a dozen plots since taking office in 1957 after an election denounced by his foes as fraudulent.

Glenn Children Named Craft

Astronaut Marks First Anniversary of Flight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. related today that his children selected the name "Friendship 7" for the space capsule in which he orbited the earth three times exactly one year ago.

Speaking briefly at a ceremony in which the capsule, his space suit and other equipment were presented to the Smithsonian Institution, Glenn said he hoped that the name would prove an inspiration for the continued peaceful use of space.

Glenn recalled that in the early days of the space program the National Aeronautics and Space Administration left strictly to the astronauts themselves the naming of their space capsules.

Glenn said all seven astronauts got together all the names that could possibly be considered appropriate and boiled them down to the last few.

"We knew there would be a lot of international publicity on flights and that they might serve the national interest," he said.

Looking at his children, David 17, and Lynn 15, seated in the front row, Glenn said he decided to leave the final choice to them. Glenn said he considered it interesting that the youngsters selected the name Friendship for their country and the number seven for the astronauts.

Two Women Hurt When Cars Collide

Two south Oakland County women were injured yesterday in a two-car collision in Avon Township.

The driver of one of the cars, Lynne M. Derocher, 24, of 10390 Kenwood St., Oak Park, and one of her three passengers, Betty Wilkinson, 22, of 4013 Griffin St., Berkley, were in good condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital this morning.

The accident occurred shortly before noon on Auburn Road, a half mile west of John R Road. Sheriff deputies said Miss Derocher failed to yield the right of way when backing out of a private driveway.

Her car was struck by another driven by Bernard Oswald, 22, 9676 Gerald St., Rochester.

Seek Oakland Republican Against New Constitution

A newly formed Oakland County organization which opposes the proposed new state constitution would like to find a Republican candidate to oppose the document to give it a nonpartisan flavor.

"That's according to the group's chairman, Earl C. Kelley, who apparently is unaware that its charter membership already includes a "Republican."

"We would like our group to be nonpartisan," says Kelley, head of the new Citizens' Committee to Oppose the Proposed Constitution.

Kelley, of 172 George St., Birmingham, is an education professor at Wayne State University.

His 26 votes on the Democratic ballot were not enough to win them.

Committee chairman Kelley described himself as "an independent who votes for the best man, who usually turns out to be a Democrat."

A number of Oakland University and other WSU professors are among the group's charter members.

"We're not against the proposed constitution just because the Democrats are against it," Kelley says. "Our group is open to anyone regardless of party affiliation."

With 16 Communities

City Backs Airline Petition

Representatives from Pontiac and 16 other Michigan communities yesterday agreed on a plan for unified opposition to proposed cuts in airline service.

They will petition the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to split a widespread list of airline recommendations into three separate investigations.

The Pontiac delegation, while going along with the petition, felt it would be better to split the airline proposals into two investigations.

"If all recommendations are included in one investigation, we'd be waiting almost two years for a decision," said Max Adams, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

"However, a three-way split could leave us in a position where we would be fighting the battle alone."

Pontiac is primarily interested in opposing the loss of North Central Airlines' service at Pontiac Municipal Airport through failure to meet the CAB's use-it-or-lose-it passenger quota.

The petition will be presented at a CAB conference hearing in Washington, D.C., March 15. The hearing was postponed from Feb. 26 because Michigan cities wanted more time to prepare their case.

Absenteeism on Rise Due to Asian Flu

By The Associated Press

Asian flu and other respiratory ailments sweeping across much of the nation are taking an increasing toll in absenteeism, particularly among school children.

Many schools report large numbers of pupils absent because of flu. Several have closed as a result.

Chicago Hospital Jammed, Page A-10

Health safety precaution and others are considering suspending classes.

No estimate is available of man hours lost in business and industry because of respiratory illnesses.

Hundreds of deaths have been reported.

Although new outbreaks of Asian flu have occurred, a health official expressed hope Tuesday that the wave of influenza-like infection will begin to wane with the approach of spring.

Flu of the Asian variety now has been reported in Michigan and Minnesota, and authorities say the outbreak which hit hard in West Virginia probably is Asian flu.

In Lansing, the Michigan State Health Department reports an increase in the number of cases of Asian flu confirmed by laboratory tests.

The department said there have been two cases confirmed in Ann Arbor, two in Lansing and a number of cases in Detroit.

Absenteeism in Detroit was reported to be significantly higher than usual. The Asian flu has not reached epidemic proportions in any section of the state, the report said.

Talk of Stadium for Olympics

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Gov. George Romney discussed the problem of financing the construction of an Olympic Games stadium with 10 Republican legislative leaders today, and later told reporters that progress was being made.

Several alternate programs for handling the necessary bonding are being considered, including a suggested increase in the state's tax on pari-mutuel horse race betting, Romney disclosed.

"We still have things to work out," Romney said at a news conference, "but we're making progress. It will take the right program and bipartisan support to get the needed action."

A resolution to create a legislative Olympics committee was to be considered in the House today, and very well could get as quick action as it did in the Senate.

The Senate yesterday adopted a resolution introduced the night before to create the committee and help the efforts to protect Detroit's interest in the 1968 Olympic Games.

him in the Organization of American States.

His foes say the moment his 1967 mandate expires he will be in the presidency illegally and that Venezuela and the Dominican Republic are prepared to withdraw diplomatic recognition. Other nations would be expected to follow, isolating Duvalier.

Almost certainly there would be violence.

Moderates among Duvalier's foes are not united. The extreme leftist element, however small, is organized, informant report. Communists are among the student groups attempting to touch off violence and seize the leadership.

Duvalier's sudden departure could leave the poverty-stricken nation, 90 per cent of whose people cannot read or write, on the edge of civil war.

The army, distrustful by Duvalier, is poor in weapons. The army is in the hands of Duvalier's militia, a semimilitary organization the president uses to suppress internal opposition.

A struggle for power involving the army and the militia would leave the country vulnerable to operations from outside.

Sets Condition on Compromise

Russ Must Agree to Foolproof Inspection

GENEVA (AP) — The United States indicated today it would settle for fewer than eight on-site inspections a year within the Soviet Union if the Russians accepted a completely foolproof inspection procedure.

Chief U.S. delegate William C. Foster presented the idea in a meeting of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

He stressed that any American willingness to compromise would depend, among other things, on a satisfactory number of inspectors, the areas where they could operate and the criteria under which they could be dispatched.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov ignored Foster's suggestion. He tried to move the debate away from the test ban and into a discussion of an East-West nonaggression pact.

The Russians have advanced the pact idea frequently, but the West wants it considered only in the general framework of disarmament treaty.

The talk in the corridors around the conference was that the United States and Britain ultimately might compromise on five or six on-site inspections per year on Soviet territory to check on suspicious air tremors indicative of underground nuclear explosions.

Such a concession never has been spelled out to newsmen by members of the U.S. delegation, however.

The negotiations have been deadlocked for weeks between the Soviet maximum offer of two or three inspections and the Western minimum demand for eight.

Foster released only extracts from his speech in the closed conference session. These included an oblique reference to American readiness to go below the minimum of eight inspections.

Unrelated to the discussion of a test ban, the proposal for a nonaggression treaty between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Warsaw Pact powers calls for the two groups of nations to "solemnly refrain from attack, the threat or use of force, in any manner inconsistent with purposes and principles of the United Nations charter, against one another or in their international relations in general."

John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was reported to have told the House Foreign Affairs Committee Tuesday that several empty Soviet merchant ships were off their way to Cuba.

While urging the administration to press for the withdrawal of all Soviet forces from Cuba, he called for the two groups of nations to "solemnly refrain from attack, the threat or use of force, in any manner inconsistent with purposes and principles of the United Nations charter, against one another or in their international relations in general."

Dequindre Bill Passes House

LANSING — A Senate bill to allow sale of Dequindre sewer construction bonds in Oakland County cleared the House yesterday, and is now awaiting the governor's signature.

The bill requires that the State Municipal Finance Commission either approve or disapprove the issuance of such bonds.

The sale of $5.6 million in bonds toward construction of the sewer in southeastern Oakland County was held up when the commission refused to act in December.

The commission said that state law didn't require its decision. Without a favorable decision, the interest costs would have been prohibitive, according to Claude Stevens, Oakland County's bonding attorney.

Award Will Go to Head of State Hospital Service

BIRMINGHAM — William S. McNary, president of the Michigan Hospital Service, will be awarded the American Hospital Association's 1963 Justin Ford Kimball award.

McNary, who lives at 1431 Fairway St., was chosen because of his "outstanding encouragement given to the concept of prepaid voluntary health care plans."

The announcement was made at a Denver celebration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Colorado Hospital Service, which McNary helped organize.

He began his career in hospital administration as business manager for the School of Medicine at the University of Colorado in 1929.

In 1929 he was appointed executive director of the Colorado Blue Cross Plan.

Currently, he is chairman of the board and president of Health Service, Inc., and a member of the Blue Cross board of governors.

City recreation department skating activities will be timed by the annual Skaters Holiday Ice Show Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

The ice show will feature more than 150 skaters ranging in age from 6 on up.

The theme for this year's event, which is to be held at the Elton Park municipal skating rink, is Fantasy Land.

The department also announced that the municipal rink will close for the season March 1.

Registration for children's classes is scheduled for the week of March 4. Classes will begin March 18 at Derby, Seaholm and Barmun pools.

A family swimming program has been arranged for each Monday from 7:30 to 10 p.m. at Seaholm High School and each Thursday from 7:15 to 8:45 p.m. at Derby Junior High School.

Department officials warned that all children under 18 must be accompanied in the water by an adult.

Adult swimming classes are conducted at Seaholm High School from 7 to 7:30 p.m. each Monday.

Adjourn to End Partisan Debate

Long Hassle Knots Up House Action

LANSING (AP) — An hour and a half of oratory and argument bogged down the legislative machinery of the House of Representatives yesterday.

Members finally adjourned to shut off partisan debate.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, started the hassle when he charged that Detroit newspapers did not give enough publicity to the Democratic alternative proposal to adoption of the new state constitution.

O'Brien spoke on personal privilege and insisted his remarks—including a long transcript of a letter to an editor be printed in the House journal.

Republicans objected: "A lot of people are angry because they were not constitutional convention delegates," observed Rep. Robert Waldrin, R-Grosse Pointe. "If they had been, they never would be finished."

Rep. Russell Strange Jr., R-Clare, termed it "a real Democratic filibuster" and made a motion that the remarks not be printed.

"This is not a forum for political speeches," he said.

The House argued the issue until final form of the vote asked to be approved printing the O'Brien speech in the Journal.

An adjournment motion passed after O'Brien said he was going to vote against printing his talk so he could speak again to explain his "no" vote.

Also passed by the House and sent back to the Senate for enrollment, printing and presentation to the governor was a Senate bill specifying that county sewer bond issues may be approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission. It carries the provision that bonds previously issued without this approval will still be valid.

It was the first bill this session to clear both houses for relay to the governor.

Following a Republican caucus, Rep. Arnold Engstrom, R-Traverse City, reported there was no caucus decision on approval of the bill to bring Michigan under the federal plan for Aid to Dependent Children (ADC-U).

Gov. George Romney has asked passage of the bill to save the counties money currently spent for welfare funds.

Engstrom said the caucus wanted firmer figures on how many additional welfare cases might be expected if the plan is adopted.

Will Be Stationed in Philippines

To Equip Floating Armories for Trouble

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States plans to station "floating armories" in the Philippines and keep them ready to steam on short notice to potential Asian trouble spots.

Sources said Monday the U.S. Navy's huge Subic Bay base has been chosen as anchorage for three specially modified Victory ships, to be loaded with U.S. Army combat equipment and kept on the alert to move wherever Red threats develop.

Equipment for several battalions will be stored near the scenes of possible action, ready for use by troops who would be rushed by jet aircraft from America in a matter of hours.

Experts, noting that quick reaction is of the essence when the cold war starts to turn hot, estimated that 45 to 60 days loading and transit time could be saved in some situations by using the "floating armories."

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, Army Chief of Staff, recently gave Congress details of the "forward floating base" plan. But the published version of their testimony did not show where the ships would be harbored or how many were involved.

LOAD SHIP NOW

The first of the World War II Victory ships, the U.S. Navy ship Phoenix, now is being loaded at Norfolk, Va., Navy base with everything from tanks to battle-field ration.

Two more of the ready-to-go armories, USNS Provo and USNS Cheyenne, are to follow.

Fitted out by the Military Sea Transportation Service, the ships are to have civilian crews and Army caretakers to keep the weapons and equipment in ready condition.

Seaborn "prepositioning" of war material is similar to the administration tactic in the 1961 Berlin crisis of sending more than 150,000 tons of equipment to Europe.

The equipment still is in Europe, making it possible for the Army to send two divisions quickly by air any time a crisis requires such an addition to the five divisions already on the continent.

Wheeler told Congress smaller stocks were stored on Okinawa. He said the floating armories, now to be tested, would "provide for rapid deployment and equipping of troops to meet contingencies in the most likely areas where Communist activities can be anticipated."

The test is on a smaller scale and comes much later than one was planned. At the NATO ministers meeting in Athens last May, unidentified but presumably American sources gave some newsmen to understand that ships already had been converted and were being stationed off Southeast Asia.

PLAN TOO AMBITIOUS

McNamara told Congress some days ago, however, that last year's plan was too ambitious. A fleet was to be kept in ready-to-go condition "in some secure harbor in the Far East," he said. But it turned out that equipment shortages forestalled the move.

So a limited effort now will be made, McNamara said, with a possibility of "wider application in the future."

To the Navy, the concept has seemed of dubious value. Experts in that service believe it will be difficult to keep complex military equipment stored in ships for months, maybe years, and have it always ready for immediate use.

Wheeler acknowledged the problems, but said he thought the gains were worth the effort.

Polynesian natives of Wallis and Futuna, two small islands northeast of the Fiji and west of Samoa in the Pacific, voted in 1959 to join the French Community of nations.

'Papers Play Role in Plans for Roads'

LANSHING (AP)—The location and circulation of daily and weekly newspapers play a role in the development of plans for new highways, reports the State Highway Department.

Commissioner John Mackie said statistics on the newspapers are studied by highway planners along with population, wholesale and retail statistics, bank deposit information and traffic volumes.

"A community that supports a daily newspaper signifies a place of considerable importance—one that qualifies for statewide highway service," Mackie said.

"The extent of daily newspaper service also is an index of the area served by a trade center." The location of a weekly newspaper, he said, indicates that the place of publication is a complete market center.

Troy, W. Bloomfield Tagged

Pinpoint Growth Potential

The advancing line of suburban development is heavily into Troy, Madison Heights and West Bloomfield Township before the end of the year, an analyst for the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission predicted today.

Silla G. Tomasi based his prediction on the pattern in suburban development in Oakland County last year.

During 1962, Southfield, Bloomfield Township and the Farmington area received the major share of a 28.7 per cent increase in housing starts in the county.

They will continue to undergo heavy home development this year, but for the same reasons suburban will march strongly into the other three areas, Tomasi said.

Fast roads and good utilities are the two major reasons why Troy, Madison Heights and West Bloomfield Township are now ripe for suburban spread, according to the analyst.

"Commuters will be able to drive to jobs in Detroit within the time they seem willing to spend en route, and they will find good water, drainage and sewage disposal for their new homes," he said.

These are the same factors that now favor Southfield, Bloomfield Township and the Farmington area, Tomasi added.

STATUS FACTOR
He sees another important factor in the case of West Bloomfield Township, and that is its proximity to Bloomfield Township.

Some of Bloomfield's appeal to higher income families is already rubbing off on its neighbor to the west, Tomasi said.

Troy also is trying to gain a better status because of its proximity to Bloomfield Township on the east.

If the effort succeeds, with higher-priced homes becoming prevalent in Troy, then the lower or average income suburbia will extend east into Macomb County instead, Tomasi predicted.

He expects a surge of average-income homes in still largely undeveloped Madison Heights. Rapid transit into Detroit will be provided Troy and Madison Heights residents by I-75.

PONTIAC-ORIENTED
But Tomasi feels a lack of utilities will prevent Avon Township from also benefiting by the new freeway.

The continued development of Avon, Waterford and Pontiac townships, will probably depend on an inner growth of the population, and they will remain oriented to Pontiac as a core city, he said.

Otherwise the outward spread of suburbia can be attributed to families leaving Detroit, he added, estimating some 42,000 persons have moved out of the city since 1960 alone.

Some of these have left the area entirely, he admitted, but the vast majority have relocated in suburban settings around the city.

Tomasi predicts that this trend will continue beyond the immediate future, with the result that White Lake and Commerce townships will eventually be swallowed by suburbia.

These are likely to become bedroom communities for downtown Detroit in the years ahead with the extension of Northwestern Highway as planned, according to Tomasi.

The continued development of suburban Southfield saw 778 new homes built last year. Bloomfield Township ranked second in the county with 476 new homes started, followed by Farmington Township with 284; Farmington, 244 and Waterford Township, 239.

While 235 new homes were built in Pontiac last year, with urban renewal demolitions it represents a net gain of only 78 homes in the city.

What motivates people to move into certain previously rural or semirural areas over others will be the subject of an intensive survey this year by the Oakland County Planning Commission.

Director George Skrubbs said this is a type of study never before undertaken in the Midwest.

He expects it will take about nine months to complete. The study, once completed, will tend to further indicate where suburban development in the county might be anticipated, based on more specific data.

Also speaking will be Wesley Allen, an agent for National Life Insurance Co., on insurance; Miss Joan Jackson, representing the Detroit District Dental Hygienist Society, dental health and education; and Harold K. Truitt of the Michigan Employment and Securities Commission, on opportunities in the civil service.

Following the presentations and summary, each representative will be available to answer questions and conduct interviews.

2 Amendments, Library Levy to Be on Walled Lake Ballot

WALLED LAKE — Local voters will be asked in the April election to approve two charter amendments designed to iron out difficulties in selecting the city's top officials.

Also on the ballot will be a proposition requesting the levy of a one-half mill to maintain and support the Walled Lake Public Library.

The City Council last night voted unanimously to place these issues on the spring election ballot.

The first amendment will seek permission to place the election of mayor in the hands of the voters. It also will ask that the councilmen receiving the highest number of votes in the council race be named mayor pro tem.

Amendment number two deals with the assumption of the duties of city manager by the mayor if a vacancy exists.

City attorney Howard Bond presented the council with two choices on the library proposition.

One made it clear that the council could appropriate the money to support the library, in accordance with its statutory rights, whether or not the public supported the millage measure.

The second choice left the fate of the library up to the people, saying the council would abide by voters' wishes if they turned down the millage.

APPROVE LATTER

The council unanimously approved the latter, noting that this does not prevent a future council from reversing the April 1 verdict.

Chairman of the Library Board Charles Duff, who had requested the levy, noted that during January some 516 people used the library's facilities. Of this total, he said, 82 per cent were residents of Walled Lake.

In other action, the council voted to appoint master planning board to perform all work previously done by Ernest Campion — recently fired building inspector — on a 60-per cent-of-the-basis.

This discussion which preceded the vote on the temporary assignment of duties previously held by the building inspector, Councilman Wendell Kellogg demanded that a qualified inspector be hired immediately as required by the city statutes.

Both Kellogg and Councilman Douglas Meredith said they felt a deadline should be set up, before which an inspector should be hired.

Councilman William Staman replied, "When the time comes that the city manager is overworked, he will hold."

City Manager E. V. Mercer noted that he has not hired anybody, but when it becomes necessary, he will.

"It doesn't seem to me there's any rush about it," he said. "The vote on this motion, which, in effect, allows the city manager to hire an assistant when he feels it necessary, was 4-3 in favor. Mayor Louis James and Councilmen Kellogg and Meredith voted against it."

Former Councilman Marshall E. Taylor announced his resignation from the City Election Commission and at the same time announced his candidacy for a seat on the council.

Joseph Wiltse, 575 W. Walled Lake Drive, was appointed.

Voters League Official to Discuss Constitution

Mrs. Forch will offer a brief history of the league's constitutional studies, beginning in 1928 and give reasons why the league feels a new constitution is needed.

Arguments for and against the proposed new document will be discussed as well as the "misinformation and distortions of fact" that she believes have been used against it.

In addition to her work for a new state constitution, Mrs. Forch has for the past two years directed preparation of a all league publications on civil service, fair employment practices, apportionment, taxation, children's services and constitutional revisions.

She also has filled many league offices at state and local levels. This is a public, nonpartisan meeting. The school is at 1101 W. First Street.

Here's Spelled-Out Treatment for Gal Friday

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—The Small Business Administration has published a guide for male employers who have women working under their supervision.

Among its recommendations:

Do not give women rush assignments. "It offends their sense of order. Women feel they cannot pay enough attention to details in rush work."

Do not give women overtime work unless absolutely necessary. Women do not like long working hours to interfere with their home or social lives.

Be fair, honest, patient, open-minded to her point of view and willing to listen to her problems. Why? Because that's the way women workers like their bosses.

Be sure to admit your mistakes as you make them. Why? Same reason.

Any questions—Boss?

Our friendly neighborhood butcher (we only call him "robber" in fun) claims that it's not his fault if meat prices are high.

It's the fault of the American woman.

As he sees her, she is spoiled and extravagant, because she refuses to buy anything but the choicest cuts of meat.

"If a cut costs less than 79 cents a pound, she won't have it. Thinks it's not good enough for her."

She refuses, he claims, to buy a modestly-priced chop or roast and, when he suggests it, she is personally offended.

"She thinks I'm implying her husband doesn't have a good job."

The result of this housewifely status psychology is that butchers are "stuck with" their boiling and stewing cuts, and their so-called "variety meats."

Since they cannot sell certain portions of a cow, for example, they must raise the prices on the sections they can sell.

If women would only buy hearts, livers and kidneys of animals—which often have higher nutritional value than their "fan-cier" cuts—prices would lower. I quite understand this reasoning so I ordered a pair of sweetbreads.

Sweetbreads are the intestines of lamb, which doesn't sound very fancy to me, but the butcher said that would be $2.79.

I asked why and he said something about sweetbreads being something of a status symbol these days and if I wanted to get a really good buy, why didn't I order pork liver?

I said "forget it, give me a sirloin steak." It was cheaper than lamb's stomach.

He said "you women sure have a funny way of looking at things."

It's a good thing for our dispositions that we do . . .

Most men love to associate with perfumed (or at least cologned) women. This is proven by the fact that 60 to 65 per cent of all perfume in the U.S. is sold to men as gifts for women.

Yet surveys by the fragrance foundation have shown that only one-half of one per cent of American women use a fragrance every day.

Since more than $150-million worth of fragrances are sold each year, where is it all going? You can't drink it. You can't take it with you.

Ah yes, of course. You can cherish it as a luxury. You can keep it on the dressing table instead of behind the ears . . . Think of the millions of dollars literally evaporating in America!

Diem Units Make Inroads in Vital Viet Cong Area

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—For the first time in their four-year war against the Communist Viet Cong, President Ngo Dinh Diem's troops appear to have made real inroads into the Communist area known as "D Zone."

In the past week Ranger companies operating close to Viet Cong bases in the jungle area north of Saigon have wrecked Communist installations, destroyed ammunition and supplies and forced the guerrillas to keep moving.

Although contact with the guerrillas has been light, the government claims more than 30 of the enemy died in the operation. The government claims its troops have turned up a large electric generator, an arsenal of heavy weapons and tons of ammunition and an evacuated 200-bed enemy field hospital.

EXPECT MORE CLASHES

Several thousand Rangers are operating in the 50-mile-long jungle tracts. More clashes are expected.

Penetration of D Zone is an important psychological step for Saigon's forces. The area is shown on Communist maps as a "liberated zone" in which Viet Cong forces can operate with complete safety.

Roads through the zone, including an important arterial route, have been subject to a bloody series of Communist ambushes.

The main center of Viet Cong strength and its coordinating headquarters are believed to be somewhere in D Zone. Several of the radio propaganda transmitters the Viet Cong call "liberation radio" also are understood to beam programs from the zone.

Must Not Allow Cuba to Subvert Venezuela

We hope the current visit of Venezuelan President ROMULO BETANCOURT with President KENNEDY bears fruit.

Betancourt and Venezuela are exceedingly important since it appears quite obvious that Castro is aiming in that direction.

For some little time, BETANCOURT has been under fire. Every time he survives another crisis it is fashionable to say that "the air has been cleared." This can't continue indefinitely, and as one cynic remarked recently, "If the air is cleared much more, we will all suffocate on tear gas."

Most Latin American countries are trouble spots with one crisis after another. In Venezuela, Betancourt has come through attempted assassination, sabotage and virtually every other tactic of violence.

During his first year and a half of office after the free and apparently honest election of December 1958, the principal threats were right-wing plots, particularly among the military. Now the conservatives appear to have become reconciled to, if not enamored of, their non-Communist president.

The power behind the overthrow of Betancourt now is Castro. Only last month, one of Havana's old-line Communists, Blas Roca, told a visiting Venezuelan delegation that after the overthrow of Betancourt:

"We will then cease to be a solitary nation in the Caribbean to stand facing the Yankee imperialists, and we will have a nation united with us on the continent of South America."

Castroism and communism have gone far enough. We should work with the Venezuelan government to head off the possibility of a second Cuba.

Have You Neglected Buying Car License?

Branch manager of the Secretary of State's office, WILLIS M. BREWER, points out that the sale of 1963 license plate tabs is running far behind normal.

Just why so many citizens keep putting off until the last minute to buy their tabs is hard to understand.

Our only explanation for the lack of motivation is that probably most people would rather spend their money for something a little more tangible.

Actually, what could be more important than the license permitting you to drive your own car? If you wait too long, you could well be grounded for a day or so.

The unfortunate folks who continue to delay will find themselves cooling their heels (or maybe trying to warm them) in one of the long, last-minute lines.

Save yourself this inconvenience by buying your '63 tabs now.

Spending Tax Money on Mass Confusion?

A case of the right hand not knowing what the left is doing is brought to light by Sen. CLIFFORD CASE of New Jersey.

It seems that some place in northern New Jersey there is a large tract of land known as the Great Swamp. At the moment, the following plans are in progress for this large open area:

- The Interior Department has been buying it up as a wildlife refuge, intending to leave it largely as it is.

- The Federal Aviation Agency has been working on a plan to pave it and turn it into a fourth major airport for the city of New York.

- The Army Engineers hope to drain it so that people and industry can move in.

Any one of these ideas sounds reasonable and might well serve a useful purpose, but according to Sen. CASE, there isn't the slightest evidence that the various Federal departments involved have even spoken to each other about their conflicting plans.

Apparently all are going ahead with vigor, pursuing their own aims. It just happens that any surveys, research or development plans for these rival projects are being paid for with tax money. And, furthermore, it is quite obvious that at least two of the agencies are wasting money.

What's money. Just something we all fork over when Uncle Sam says pay.

The Man About Town

They Blow Snow Our Florida Sunners Hail Lot Luck With Potluck

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND
From her St. Petersburg, Fla., headquarters come a miles-bringing note from Mrs. Harley Bowers about the Pontiac-Florida Club which holds annual get-togethers for those unfortunate Pontiac residents who find themselves abandoned in Florida about this time of year.

The 1963 reunion will be a March 5 noon potluck at Royal Garden Estates, Bradenton, on Cortez Road (Hwy. 884) at 71st St. All Pontiac visitors, as well as former local residents now living in the South are invited. Only requirement for club membership is that a dish of food to be passed accompany each member.

Telephone numbers for any additional information are Bradenton 746-5332 and St. Petersburg HE 5-0025.

A P. S. that says "We enjoy The Pontiac Press so much" convinces the MAT that this North-South organization, of which the writer is secretary-treasurer, has a most astute and capable dual officer.

The column's best wishes for a most enjoyable and successful event, with the hope that the attendees will offer a few moments' silent commiseration for their winter-plagued fellow citizens hereabouts.

Oh, shoot! I could just sit down and have a good cry!

Last Thursday, inspired by an Imlay City lady well-wisher who wanted the background and accomplishments of Carey E. Terry to shine forth from the shade of modesty where they had been cast by some incidental personal comment of his that had appeared here, the MAT had attempted to shed the requested light.

Well! It seems that fate in the guise of the gremlins that lurk in newspaper office typewriters had decreed that Mr. T. was to have no more than questionable "emergence" from his enshrouding shyness.

For when the "Carey" was fed into my typewriter, it came out "Frank" — and so it ran in the column.

A red-faced and penitent columnist makes humble apology to all concerned, and hopes that any doubts about the identity of the embodiment of the attributes alluded to is hereby conclusively dispelled.

Fifty Mile Hikers Are Pikers

David Lawrence Says:

Nik's Cuban Crumbs Not Enough

WASHINGTON — Premier Khrushchev has thrown President Kennedy and his critics a crumb — a promised withdrawal of a "few thousand" Soviet troops from Cuba.

This is an unsatisfactory answer to the request of the United States that all Russian troops should leave the island and that the Soviets should give up their military base in Cuba.

Leading Democrats as well as Republicans in Congress have LAWRENCE voiced their dissatisfaction over the inadequacy of the Soviet action.

It is doubtful whether either the President or his critics will let the matter rest with a partial withdrawal of Soviet troops. For there is no way of knowing how many more Russian "civilians" or "technicians" will enter Cuba in the next few weeks to replace those who will have departed.

The Congressional criticism has had its effect, however, and will continue. It is unfortunate that Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and some of the administration spokesmen in Congress recently chose to regard any criticism as "partisan" and called for "bipartisanship."

Actually, there has been bipartisanship among the critics. Much of what has been said in Congress in disapproval of the Cuban policy has come from Democrats.

There are currently, also some partisans among the critics. These Republicans seem to have learned a lesson from the Democrats, who managed to make Cuba an issue in the 1960 Presidential campaign.

Mr. Kennedy, for example, had this to say in a speech at Johnstown, Pa., on Oct. 15, 1960:

"For the transformation of Cuba into a Communist base of operations a few minutes from our coast — by jet plane, missile, or submarine — is as incredibly dangerous as development to have been permitted by our Republican policy makers."

"This wouldn't have happened under Franklin Roosevelt, who warned the Nazis in 1940 to stay out of our hemisphere; this wouldn't have happened under Harry Truman, who warned the Communists in 1947 to stay out of Greece and Turkey."

Even the Senate Foreign Relations committee, whose chairman was Sen. Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, issued a report on June 28, 1960, criticizing President Eisenhower for having used the U2 surveillance planes.

The committee claimed it didn't have all the information it needed, but then said anyway:

"The development, publication, examination, and discussion of information such as this, it seems to the committee, is essential to the democratic process. When carried on responsibly, it can only produce beneficial results, even at critical moments in our foreign affairs."

"Only through a public airing of the facts can a representative government be held to proper account and its mistakes, if any, identified and corrected."

Many Republicans who in recent weeks have re-examined that paragraph in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee report took it to heart and tried to "air the facts" so as to "produce beneficial results."

But Senator Fulbright nevertheless has just denounced the Republicans as partisan. The truth is that in the Democratic party several of the critics have been more severe in their casting of the Kennedy administration's foreign policy than the Republicans have been.

Maybe if the bipartisan critics keep up their "airing of the facts," they will persuade Premier Khrushchev that American public opinion isn't satisfied with the continuance of a Soviet military base in Cuba and is demanding that it be abolished without further delay.

Son's Task Is Staggering as Winnie's Biographer

NEW YORK — Randolph Churchill has embarked upon a writing task that would bring a blush to Shakespeare's cheek. He has been asked by his father to do the Churchill biography, to be culled from the greatest mound of papers, letters, writings, bibliography and memos ever assembled by any man of our times.

There is enough material already gathered to gnaw away at for the rest of Randolph's life, and at 51, he has a life expectancy of another 18 years if he behaves himself.

But being a man who sometimes is prompted to go to extremes is prompted to go to extremes. As a correspondent, he has compounded his labor.

He has asked the world at large to send him whatever it has in the way of Churchilliana: anecdotes, letters, forgotten writings (though that's most improbable) and personal memories.

If the world is listening, that should yield another mountain of source material.

(When Shepherd was burned in Cairo not too many years ago it was said that one of the items that went up in smoke was a suitcase which had been checked there by Churchill en route to the Boer War as a young correspondent. He must have left other bundles elsewhere.)

LIVES IN SHADOW
I've always felt a bit sorry for Randolph Churchill. If he had been born a Randolph Zilch he would surely have been recognized as one of the top reporters of our time.

At the Overseas Press Club in New York the other night Doc Quigg of UPI and Hal Boyle of AP were reminiscing about Randolph's days in Korea.

He was badly wounded one day in a foray across the Nakdong River but insisted on sending his dispatch to his British paper.

He paced up and down the press headquarters in a schoolhouse in Taegu for hours, ignoring his bloody leg, while he dictated a long story to Boyle.

But he was born the son of the most gifted politician and ablest speaker (and perhaps ablest writer) of our time.

It was inevitable that he would be measured by his father's feats.

The British view and the American, for that matter, was cruel: he didn't measure up to his father, and thus much of his good work was passed off as beneath notice.

The Dilemma
El Mundo (San Juan)

The answer by President Kennedy to a question from Chief of El Mundo's Washington Bureau, clarifies Puerto Rico's political perspective. If Puerto Rico seeks the right to vote for President, the question of Statehood will inevitably crop up. Statehood is the only political formula that recognizes the right to vote. This sets Puerto Rico's status in its true perspective.

The President's statement grows the possibility of the growth of the Commonwealth on the basis of voting for President. This eliminates the principal perspective of so-called sovereignty. It will be impossible for the Commonwealth to equate itself, in any manner, with Statehood or with independence should the announced plebiscite be held. Or, to put it in blunter terms, the plans of the ruling party to have the Commonwealth compete with the real sovereign formulas have gone up in smoke. This eliminates the holding of a real and legitimate plebiscite.

A spurious plebiscite could be held to "force" the victory of the Commonwealth under the protection of the governmental machinery. And we do not want to lose the hope that the ruling party will also admit the great risks involved. Puerto Rico would never accept such a plebiscite. It is for this reason that we may expect that the ruling party will abandon any idea of a plebiscite on the basis of transitory formulas.

Voice of the People:

Tax Reduction Unjustified Says Frank W. Steere

The President said a good deal in explanation of his reasons for his big tax cut.

What is the difference between a tax cut and pump priming that we heard so much about during the dark days of depression in the '30s? In both, the money made available to the people is supposed to furnish the necessary purchasing power to stimulate business and get the economy "off dead center." Now we know that none of the devices had any effect on the depression in the '30s. It was World War II that cured it.

Suppose the tax cut became effective at the time steel or the automobile industry decided to strike? The money would soon be consumed. Endless examples could be given indicating that neither the tax cut nor the pump would be effective unless the expenditures by the public were controlled. That is the last thing we want.

What are we heading into? Until shown otherwise it is my opinion that tax cutting at this time would be reckless and unjustified. We are smart enough to find a more sane solution.

Failed to Bargain

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin

The panel of jurists that looked into the printers' strike that has deprived New York City of newspapers since Dec. 8, discovered a shocking abuse of the collective bargaining principle.

In all this time and in spite of all the damage done, the jurists found there had been no real bargaining. Instead of using its right to strike as a last resort, the International Typographical union used it, the jurists found, "as a preliminary to bargaining — bargaining was intended to be postponed for a long period until the strike had taken its toll."

Thus the walk-out was a ployer play that deliberately falsified the collective bargaining process with total disregard of the consequences to the community. It is a serious charge to level against any responsible union and raises anew the problem of how to control concentration of power so that it isn't recklessly used.

4 Plead Guilty to Burglaries

Accused of More Than 12 Area Break-Ins

Two brothers and two other youths accused of more than a dozen burglaries in the Auburn Heights area pleaded guilty Monday in Circuit Court to breaking and entering in the night time.

Sentencing was set for March 5 for Robert McIntock, 24, 3198 Auburn Road, and Roger McIntock, 22, 2482 Auburn Road, both of Auburn Heights; Troy Scott Jr., 18, 3418 Devondale St., and Wanda Townsend, 18, 2781 Leach Road, both of Avon Township.

Appearing before Circuit Judge Stanton C. Dundero, Robert McIntock pleaded guilty to the Nov. 7 burglary of the American Legion Hall, 96 Churchill Road, Auburn Heights.

Roger McIntock was charged with breaking into the Village Market, 2342 Auburn Road, Auburn Heights, on Aug. 5.

Scott and Townsend pleaded guilty to breaking and entering Feb. 8 at Crumps Electric, Inc., 2465 Auburn Road, Auburn Heights.

The four also admitted several other burglaries when they were arrested Feb. 7, according to state police.

Most of the burglaries were committed in the last three months and netted the quartet less than $1,000 in cash, police said. Some of the victimized stores were broken into more than once.

Jump in Calls for Service

There were some 445 more service requests and complaints processed through the Citizens' Service Bureau at City Hall last year than in 1961.

The bureau reported 8,480 requests and complaints processed last year. The 1961 total was 8,044.

Water complaints showed a substantial decrease going from 1,974 in 1961 to 850 last year. Sewer complaints increased from 871 in 1961 to 1,129 last year.

Both years the largest number of requests was for turning on or shutting off water service. They numbered 3,750 last year, compared to 3,323 the year before.

Some 1,170 complaints and requests were processed in March for the highest monthly total. January was low with 541.

Brothers Ask Exam of Break-In Charge

Two brothers charged with breaking and entering a Pontiac school demanded an examination at their arraignment Monday in Municipal Court.

Charles and Clarence Douglas, 20 and 19 years old, of 77 1/2 Jackson St., are accused of burglarizing the Jefferson Elementary School early Monday morning.

Judge Cecil McCallum scheduled the hearing for Feb. 27. The pair was returned to jail after failing to furnish $500 bond each.

Businessmen Take to Air for Fast Moves

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen are flying millions of miles yearly in company-owned planes to save time and money.

SPECIAL REPORT OF THE NEWS

The growth of corporation flying since World War II has been phenomenal.

Some big companies have fleets that exceed those of commercial feeder airlines. Smaller companies often depend upon a single aircraft.

"I get the speed I need," says James Derderian, president of the 32-employee Merrimack Wood Products Co. of Lowell, Mass., who pilots his own plane on company business. "And when I call on a buyer or supplier I've already made a favorable impression for my company by pulling up in an airplane."

At the other end of the scale, giant General Motors Corp. operates 20 planes.

FERRY TO TRIAL

"Our fleet serves a number of purposes," says a GM spokesman. "Among other jobs, it currently is ferrying lawyers and executives to the West Coast for the anti-trust trial there. It can and often does save time and money as well as serve as a convenience."

After World War II the availability of surplus military aircraft, the return to civilian life of many trained pilots, and the expansion of companies into new geographical areas, helped spark the air age in business.

It is estimated that 34,500 planes are owned by more than 18,000 firms with about 22,000 used primarily for business.

Six companies making private planes—Aero Commander, Beech, Cessna, Champion, Mooney and Piper—reported selling 6,778 business and utility aircraft at a total cost of $130 million in 1962.

With almost 7,000 airports in the United States available to the business aircraft fleet as compared with 900 airports served by air carriers, the business aircraft owner is given an aerial entree to 10 times the communities at five times the speed of ground travel.

Lisbon Proves Different for Interested Tourists

LISBON (UPI)—Where in the world, and when, can we go to avoid all those American tourists? ask the tourists. For the answer, try Lisbon, anytime.

Here is a city both modern and romantically old at the same time. It has been visited, not always happily, by the Phoenicians, the Carthaginians, the Romans and the Moors. Later came the Europeans.

But only about 60,000 Americans visited Portugal last year.

It is surprising that the increasingly sophisticated tourists from the United States seemingly never have found Lisbon in their search for something new. It was the first continental city served by the Clippers back in the relative Stone Age of aviation.

Now it is regularly served from New York, and jet service from Miami.

Lisbon is a city of mixture—traditional and modern Latin architecture set off by the brilliant glazed tile fronts of so many buildings.

Full-skirted women, baskets of silver fish upon their heads, still call their products out walking streets along which the latest model cars drive.

This is a sunwashed, mild climate (the year-round) city, possessed of so many enchantments as to bewilder the tourist who allows it only hours instead of days.

Possibly the best move of any first visitor is up the narrow Old World streets climbing to the heights on which St. George Castle sits. Its brick, stone and mortar inner and outer walls guard a view of hilly Lisbon that is unequalled.

Guides like to point out that some of the fortifications go back to 250 B.C., but officially the castle is dated at about the 9th to 11th Centuries.

As an aside, it is a city of remarkable shopping bargains—basketware, gold and silver filigree, embroidery and sterling silver. Additionally, for the budget-minded with Europe on the brain, it is one of the least expensive of continental cities for hotels and meals.

says the National Business Aircraft Association.

The DeKalb Airport at Atlanta, Ga., serves about 150 planes owned by private firms. Manager H. F. Mangel Jr. reports private plane flights there doubled in the past four years and the field now has about 7,000 landings and take-offs yearly.

Seven airports in the Detroit area accommodate about 590 company-owned planes.

Some smaller communities are building airports in an effort to attract industries by making their areas accessible to flying business men.

Transportation of personnel is the prime function of business planes but they help earn their keep by rushing parts to repair machinery breakdowns and merchandise to meet urgent need.

MULTIENGINE CRAFT

The most recent trend has been to multiengine aircraft flown by professional pilots. Some of these big aircraft are actually airborne executive suites with seats grouped about a desk so officials can work and confer while aloft.

The NBAA reports that in 1960 professional pilots were employed to man 7,100 aircraft flown primarily in business transportation by corporations.

However, there have been tragedies which have caused corporations to question the advisability of executive flying.

In 1960, a Continental Can Co. plane crashed in Ohio, killing eight executives and two pilots. In 1966, eight Crane Co. employees, including six top officials, perished when their plane went down near Louisville, Ky.

Accidents such as these prompted some corporations to set up rules about how many executives could fly together.

INSURANCE NO PROBLEM

Insurance coverage for persons flying in company planes no longer seems to be much of a problem. The New York Institute of Life Insurance reports that about 63 per cent of the insurance companies will issue policies to passengers in nonscheduled planes at standard rates. Normally, company group insurance also covers employees riding in a business plane if they are not pilots.

Oil companies are among the biggest users of business planes. Standard Oil Co. of California owns 34 planes and 13 helicopters. Socony Mobil has 26 planes, the newest a Lockheed Jetstar which carries eight passengers and a crew of two.

Aerojet-General Corp., whose headquarters are near Los Angeles and whose plants are 400 miles north near Sacramento, solves its transportation problems by operating what is virtually an airline of its own. Each of its three 40-passenger Martin 404s makes two and sometimes three trips a day. Last year Aerojet carried 41,470 passengers.

Sets Spring Spirits Sale months, pub owner Ken Richards will hold a half-price "spring sale" of wines and liquors for faithful during the bitter winter one week.

TV Films Pull Hollywood Out of Economic Doldrums

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Television is the new king of the mountain in Hollywood.

It is keeping Hollywood going. The brash new medium which has all but destroyed motion pictures paradoxically accounts for more movies being filmed than ever before.

The answer, of course, lies in the fact that almost 80 per cent of all prime time television shows are on film.

That television has moved from live drama and comedy originating in New York City to filmed shows has saved thousands of Hollywood workers from unemployment.

Men and women once employed by studios and independent producers now act, direct, build sets and write words for "The Dick Powell Show," "The Beverly Hillbillies" and "Gunsmoke."

So television is both executioner and savior of the film colony.

Many Hollywoodians believe movie moguls hastened their own demise by selling recent pictures to the networks.

40 PER CENT RETURNS
Producer Melvin Shavelson says, "We are being driven out of business by studios who are selling pictures to TV that are only a couple of years old. If you count all the independent stations around the country, about 40 per cent of television time is devoted to old movies. So how can you expect people to look at the new ones?"

"The answer is simple. A major movie industry cannot be supported unless all the pictures are excellent. But that's impossible. So movies will become a new kind of Broadway — only a few will be made, and they will be something extra special."

Just as each decade of the movies provided new personalities in show business.

ies, among the stars with different sets of values, so has television created its own galaxy of super-stars.

Four-Star, for instance — to develop new series for the increasing demands of network programming.

A major question asked today is: How can television film succeed where movies fail financially?

A major half-hour television show can be produced for $60,000 a segment and break even in a prime time slot on the air. Profit is slow on subsequent reruns.

But a movie rarely is made for less than $1 million, the average being closer to $4 million.

Economically, television has another appeal for the public.

The cost of attending a first-run movie can run as high as six or seven dollars. Consider admission price of $2, parking, bad weather and perhaps a long auto drive, or other transportation.

By staying home the same couple can see a two-year-old movie or switch the dial around to any number of westerns, dramas and comedies starring the biggest names in show business.

The result is that a star such as Perry Como is seen by as many as 30 million viewers in a single night, more than ever saw a Valentino picture when the cheek was in his salad days.

Curiously, television has followed the pattern of movies in other respects, compressing into a decade the 40-year evolution of motion pictures.

In the beginning, the three networks (ABC, NBC, CBS) possessed unique power over a stable of stars and life-or-death sentences for programs similar to that held by the studios during the 30s and 40s.

Now, as was the case with the studios, the stars are producing their own shows. Danny Thomas, Lucille Ball, Jack Benny) with advertising agencies and sponsors moving in to claim prime time.

Unlike the movies, however, a powerful watchdog regulates and guides the fortunes of the new medium — the Federal Communications Commission — which may spare it the pitfalls the movies encountered.

Even the studios have joined the act. Warner Bros. long has been an important producer of video films. Columbia's screen gems subsidiary has kept the studio in the black.

MGM has gained ground with "Dr. Kildare" and others, while Universal-Revue cranks out numerous series.

And public reaction to its new coaxial idols is vastly different from the old idolatry of screen stars who were worshiped from afar.

Video's heroes and heroines come right into the viewers' homes, breeding a new kind of familiarity.

"It sure is different from staring in pictures," says Robert Taylor, whose career has spanned both mediums.

"You're sort of public property when you work in a television series. People walk up to you on the street or in other public places and slap you on the back as if you'd gone to school with them. Years ago they just stood and gawked from a distance."

Television's major stars cannot compare incomes with, say, Elizabeth Taylor, Marion Brando, or even Elvis Presley.

But they make up for it eventually with residual payments from reruns.

Children Ailing With Mild Flu Jam Huge Hospital in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A record number of children suffering from a mild type of influenza has jammed the huge Cook County Hospital and an official says there appears no sign of an immediate letup.

Dr. Karl A. Meyer, medical superintendent, said 825 babies and children were treated for respiratory ailments at the hospital on Monday, the largest number of children ever admitted to the 2,800-bed hospital on a single day. About 800 children were treated Tuesday.

"It is for the most part a mild flu type infection but definitely not of the Asian flu variety," Dr. Meyer said.

Dr. Meyer explained the main factors for the sharp increase in the number of patients, both children and adults, at the near West Side hospital. Most of them, he said, are migrants from the South, live in congested areas and come in close contact with each other and spread germs rapidly. He said they are not prepared for living in a metropolitan area. He urged parents to keep children away from flu symptoms as regarded as much as possible.

FACILITIES TAXED
The heavy influx of patients has taxed the facilities and personnel at the eight-story hospital, one of the nation's largest public general hospitals.

Doctors, nurses and attendants from other departments were called in to help treat the large number of children.

"All the doctors worked around the clock and are exhausted," Dr. Meyer said.

He said some children were "very sick, but none desperately ill."

The normal number of examinations this winter has been from 400 to 500 children a day, Dr. Meyer said. The hospital reported that the number has been rising above the average for the last two weeks. The adult patient load also has been rising, officials said.

A survey of several private hospitals disclosed only a slight increase of patients suffering from respiratory and virus infections. But one hospital official said many persons suffering from flu are treated at home by physicians.

Can of Cherries and Cake Mix Make Dessert

Whether purchased in a box, tube, sack, or jar, prepared mixes delight many efficient housewives. And red sour-pitted cherries make an easy and tasty addition.

Chop well-drained cherries and fold them into cake, muffin or pancake batters. Use the cherry juice in frosting for cakes, or thicken the cherry juice, add a few whole red cherries and use as a sauce for pancakes.

Or use red sour-pitted cherries in this delightful cake idea...

Cherry Upside Down Cake
Drain 1 No. 2 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) of canned cherries. Mix cherries with 1/4 cups sugar, and a dash of cinnamon and salt. Spread in a greased 9x2-inch pan and pour in your favorite cake mix batter.

Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes, or until cake is done as directed, and remove it from the pan at once to cool.

Note: A No. 2 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) of frozen cherries (thawed and drained) may be used instead of the canned cherries.

CHERRY TREE—This lovely cherry topiary tree to celebrate Washington's birthday, is made entirely of ruby-red maraschino cherries. Pluck the cherries with a cocktail pick and swirl in the chocolate dipping sauce.

Cherries From Tree Dipped in Chocolate

Here is a cherry tree such as did not grow in George Washington's day. If it had, he would have wanted to eat it, not chop it down. For this cherry tree is a beautiful, glowing tree made entirely of ruby-red maraschino cherries. These cherries are to be plucked from the tree and plunged into a warm chocolate dipping sauce.

Chocolate dipped cherries have always been considered a luxurious delicacy requiring a definite labor of love to prepare.

To make the topiary tree on which to hang your cherries, insert a dowel (not more than one inch in diameter and eight inches high) in a 4-inch flower pot. Fill with pebbles, marbles, putty or any substance that will hold the dowel in place. Spray white, green or gold.

Place a styrofoam ball five to six inches in diameter atop the dowel. If you do not have a styrofoam ball, crumple aluminum foil into shape of a sphere and use instead. Cover sphere with foil.

Using whole toothpicks, attach drained cherries to sphere. You will need about two 1-lb. jars red maraschino cherries. The tree can be made well in advance of serving time and kept in the refrigerator until ready for use.

Chocolate Dipping Sauce
1 package (12 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 cherry filled topiary tree
Melt chocolate over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat and serve. Keep warm over very low heat, if desired. Remove cherries from cherry topiary tree, and dip in melted chocolate, swirling to coat. Each immediately. Or, place on wax paper and refrigerate.

Hatchet Cookies Small Fry's Treat

If cherries are a must in your family, come Feb. 22 and George Washington's birthday, make some of these Cherry Hatchet Cookies. Serve them to small fry with glasses of milk as a special patriotic snack.

Cherry Hatchet Cookies
3 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1 cup butter or margarine
2 1/2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1/2 cup finely shredded coconut
1/2 cup well-drained chopped maraschino cherries
5 egg yolks (slightly beaten), 2 tablespoons milk (sliced)
Extra maraschino cherries

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar; cut in butter with pastry blender or 2 knives until mixture resembles fine crumbs. Add orange rind, coconut and cherries; toss lightly until ingredients are well mixed.

Combine egg yolks and milk; add to cherry mixture and mix well. Roll dough out on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth to 1/4-inch thickness.

Cut into hatchet shapes and place on greased baking sheets about an inch apart. Decorate with extra cherry slices, if desired. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 12 to 15 minutes, or until lightly browned. Makes about 7 dozen cookies.

Meat Loaf Fillers

You can vary the texture and flavor of meat loaves several different ways. Toasted or plain bread (white, whole wheat or rye), cracker crumbs, rolled oats, rice and other cereals are some ideas. Vegetables and fruits such as grated potatoes or carrots, peas and grated apple can be added, too. Remember to keep the amount of these foods relatively small so that you taste the good meat flavor.

Golden Agers Entertained by Tuesday Musicales Tunes

"Hard times" was the theme Tuesday when two groups of Golden Agers gathered at the YWCA for their monthly get-together. Entering into the spirit of things were Mrs. Mary Todd of Norton Street (left), almost 94 years young, and Mrs. Viola Chapel of Monroe Street, 10 years her junior.

The girls from "Annie's Music Emporium" entertained the Golden Agers. Actually, they're Tuesday Musicales members who've donned turn-of-the-century costumes to sing barbershop tunes. Seated at the piano is Mrs. Richard Stuckmeyer of Menominee Road. Behind her (from left) are Mrs. Fred Stimpert of Finley Street, Mrs. O. L. Smith of Acorn Road, and Mrs. J. K. Helvey of West Iroquois Road.

Ask Parents of Groom to Wedding

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Our son is marrying a girl from another city. We met her once when she spent a weekend here at our house. We have never met her parents.

The invitations to their wedding have been sent out but we did not receive one.

A: I think we should have received an invitation from the bride's parents especially since they are strangers. Our son tells us that our presence is taken for granted and no invitation is necessary. I feel that we are not welcome at the wedding.

A: Correctly, an invitation is sent to the bridegroom's parents because they are naturally interested in seeing them.

But the fact that you did not receive one certainly does not mean that you are not invited to your own son's wedding, and as he himself has said, the bride's family are undoubtedly taking your presence for granted.

Q: I am going to have my wedding marked and been told by the engraver that the initials should be placed so that they appear right side up to the user.

I always thought it was the other way around. Is this something new in marking table silver?

A: Knives, forks and spoons are properly marked so that when they are set on the table, the initials appear right side up to the person seated on the opposite side.

Q: Is it wrong for me, a divorcee, to continue wearing my engagement and wedding rings if I want to?

My friends tell me it is wrong because according to law I'm no longer married. I have no children if that makes a difference.

A: If it doesn't make you unhappy to wear them, there is certainly no reason why you may not do so. Usually, a divorcee discards her wedding ring because it is a reminder of an unhappy marriage and replaces it with another ring that looks like a wedding ring and wears it on her right hand to show that she has been married.

How and when to introduce people seems to puzzle many. The new Emily Post Institute booklet, entitled, "Introductions," gives helpful information on this subject. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Wife Saw Red

He Couldn't Slip It Over

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been fighting about this ever since Christmas and I'd like it settled.

The employees at his office exchanged names and each one put down what he (or she) wanted for Christmas.

The girl whose name my husband drew put down she wanted a red silk slip! I told my husband that over my dead body he'd buy another woman a red silk slip.

He said I was "narrow-minded and a poor sport, but I held my ground and he finally bought her a nice bottle of cognac instead.

He still throws it up to me that I was a poor sport. Is it proper for a man to buy intimate apparel for someone other than his wife, or was I a poor sport?

JEN
DEAR JEN: Tell your husband that you are frankly jealous and admit to being a poor sport when it comes to his buying lingerie for other women. He'll love you for it. And I'll bet he shuts up.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for telling that woman not to complain because her husband never said "I love you," that talk was cheap, and if he supported her and behaved himself, she should be satisfied.

I left my husband some years ago because all he said was "I love you"—but before we had been married a year, he had broken every rule in the book.

And while his "I love you's" were still ringing in my ears, he was bouncing me off every wall in the house.

SICK OF "I LOVE YOU"

DEAR ABBY: If you go to a prom with a very nice, but very shy boy and at intermission he invites another couple to go for a ride with you, and the other couple is very mushy and they are sitting in the back seat necking like there is no tomorrow and the boy who is necking yells to your date that he had better hurry up and kiss you and he will show him how, what are you supposed to do?

(That's not a very good sentence but that is what happened to me and it was very embarrassing.)

SOPHOMORE

DEAR SOPHOMORE: You are supposed to pretend you are deaf. And if your date gets flustered, turn up the radio and drown out the cheering action.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY for Abby's new booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Presidents Honored by WCTU

Past and current presidents of the federation and all local units of the Women's Christian Temperance Union were honored during a fellowship dinner Tuesday evening at the Church of the Brethren.

The affair was sponsored by Frances Willard Unit of the WCTU.

State President Mrs. L. G. Rowley, publisher of the WCTU Michigan Union, welcomed the honored guests including incoming president Mrs. William Bradley.

Special recognition was given the following local presidents for their work: Mrs. Leroy Shafer, Frances Willard Unit; Mrs. Frank Deaver, Anna Gordon Unit; Mrs. Anna Thompson, Mary Morton Unit; Mrs. Ray Fleming, Pontiac Unit; and Mrs. Frank Hardenburg, Emory Calkins Unit. Tribute was also given Mrs. John Little for her promotion work.

Rev. Leroy Shafer led devotions.

Mrs. Eleah Patten, organizer and first president of the federation, was mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Rowley and Mrs. George Perkins both spoke, stressing the responsibility to youth on alcohol prevention.

Also on the program were the members of the Perkins family, the church quartet and soloists Mrs. Elton Milton and Mrs. Steven Vandes. Mrs. Ford Reed accompanied them.

Group Fetes Bride-Elect

April bride-elect Gail Lynne Glover was honored by Mrs. Harold L. Toner of Bloomfield Hills at a luncheon Saturday in the Village Woman's Club.

The 30 guests brought electrical appliances, and kitchen gadgets were tucked in the three floral arrangements which centered the luncheon table.

Daughter of the George H. Glovers of North Cranbrook Road, Miss Glover will wed Claes Troselson of Charlottesville, Denmark, in Christ Church Cranbrook.

In charge of arrangements is Mrs. Herbert Fisher of Brady Lane.

Hide Nail Heads

In nailing down a floor, drive the nails diagonally through the tongue of the boards to keep nail heads from showing.

William Bradley, Ellwood Street, pinning the flowers on outgoing president Mrs. Nellie Monroe, Mt. Clemens Street; and Mrs. L. G. Rowley, Williams Lake Road, state president.

Clean Cars Last Longer

When a new car moves into your garage, set up a regular routine for washing the finish often with suds and water. This is the most important way to protect and maintain that shiny new finish—because washing retards fading, scratching, and corrosion almost indefinitely.

Keep Savings, Try Home Improvement Plan

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband is in his late 20s, and earns $7,200 a year. We have three small children. Our problem is our house, which needs remodeling and repairs. It is very old and attractive on the outside, structurally sound and big enough for our growing family.

We feel it was a great bargain at $10,000. We have $3,000 equity and 12 years more on our mortgage. Monthly payments are $86.

The house needs about $3,000 in remodeling expenses and we can't afford much in extra payments if we expect to save anything.

We have $1,000 cash which we had hoped to keep as a nest egg. We have an FHA loan.

Can we refinance, extend our mortgage or in any way get the money we need without making another high payment?

Mrs. R. H. Berlin, Conn.

Dear Mrs. H.: Under the 203B section of FHA, you can refinance your present mortgage to include the $3,000 home improvement plan.

If you are now including taxes of $32, which you do not mention, in your monthly payments of $86, and paying $64 a month on the principle and interest, you can refinance your present mortgage by obtaining a twenty-year loan costing approximately $102 a month.

A twenty-five year loan would cost $96 a month.

Remember, too, there is an estimated closing cost for refinancing the loan, which is usually from three to five per cent of the total mortgage, depending on the community you live in. These costs include mortgage service fee.

Your local banker will be able to give you more specific information on the principle types of home improvement loans available. There is very little difference in interest rates.

FHA has a Title I plan which permits a bank to advance up to $3,000 for home improvement. Maximum repayment term is five years.

But this would materially increase your monthly payments, so the other arrangement might be easier to live with.

I say leave your savings alone. Your growing family may well need that emergency fund. Since your family and your home fit together so happily, you'll have plenty of satisfaction in living where you want to live—even though it will take you and your husband longer to complete payment.

But at your ages, there's lots of time ahead.

Dear Mary Feeley: I'm planning a two-month vacation trip to Europe, and expect to be driving around part of the time. Since there is always the possibility of an accident, my brother-in-law has offered me a loan of $2,500 at five and one-half per cent to use as an emergency fund. Don't you think this would be a good idea?

H. A. C., Pittsburgh

Dear H. A. C.: A better one might be to say "thank you" to your brother-in-law and buy yourself an insurance policy instead.

Talk to an insurance expert, and let him advise you on just what type of policy, or policies, you should have to cover this trip.

There are a lot of angles to consider—accidents to your own or somebody else's car, personal liability, medical expenses, protection for personal effects, etc. That $2,500 might be just small change—under certain circumstances. And certainly a loan you'd have to pay back is no substitute for the kind of protection insurance would provide.

Mary Feeley will try to answer your money question. Write her in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Newlyweds Honeymoon in Florida

Lt. Frederick A. Picchioni and his bride, the former Sharon Weil, left for a honeymoon in Miami, Fla., following their wedding breakfast reception Saturday in Old Mill Tavern.

Rev. Frederick J. Delaney officiated at their nuptial ceremony in Our Lady of the Lakes Church.

Daughter of the Ralph F. Wells of Warringham Drive, the bride chose floor-length white Chantilly lace for her wedding. A fingertip veil of French illusion caught by a lace pillow and a semicircular train of white roses and carnations completed her ensemble.

Yellow roses and white carnations complemented street-length green brocade for Margaret Borys, maid of honor.

Ronald Kuhny of Chicago was best man for the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Picchioni of Rockford, Ill.

The couple will live at Valdosta, Ga., where Lt. Picchioni is stationed with the Air Force. He is a graduate of Notre Dame University.

Mrs. Weil wore copper taffeta for the wedding and the bridegroom's mother chose pale blue lace over taffeta.

No wonder so many women complain that their husbands come home "too tired out to step out!" The churning tensions millions of men face on their jobs constantly drain them of the energy and vitality they might otherwise have.

That's why many doctors recommend supplementing the daily diet with Kretschmer Wheat Germ, nature's great "bounce-back" food. Made from the germinating heart of the wheat kernel, wheat germ is the most healthful food known, according to official U.S. Department of Agriculture studies of the nutritive values of foods.

Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually provides a total of 30 natural valley balanced nutrients essential to good health, vigor and stamina! In addition, it acts like a spark plug to help the body use other high-energy foods more fully.

• Serve your husband this remarkable natural food every day for breakfast and see for yourself how much more zip and vitality he has!

• Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereals, or add to pancakes and scrambled eggs.

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

WHEAT GERM

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: Is it necessary to shrink belting before covering it for a belt?

Mrs. F. P. Dear Mrs. F. P.: Ordinarily I would say it isn't necessary, however cotton belting will shrink so if you are planning to launder your belt, it would be best to preshrink it. This is done by clipping in fairly hot water and then allowing to dry naturally before pressing.

Dear Eunice: Please tell us how to adjust a pattern when a person is long waisted in back? The problem is getting the side seams to come out even.

Mrs. M. L.

Dear Mrs. M. L.: Often if a woman isn't large in the bust, it is possible that she may be longer waisted in back (I am assuming you aren't speaking of being round-shouldered).

Add whatever is necessary for the extra length in back, then, to make the side seams come out even, you will have to make the dart at the side of the bust in front smaller.

This will drop the front of the bodice down at the side seams and they should come out even.

SKIRT SAVER

"I am 12 years old and became interested in sewing last summer. I discovered that I can make use of my 'too short' last year's plaid skirts by sewing a row of wool fringe down the edge of a side front pleat and wearing them with knee socks as kilts. I even made a wool crop top in one of the colors in the plaid and used the fringe around the bottom of it to co-ordinate the outfit. Now I can wear my skirts an extra year!" Young seamstress Kathleen Steffan, Ferguson, Mo., wins a Tailor Trix pressing board for this fine suggestion.

Dear Eunice Farmer: I cut out a coat from corduroy and one part of the front and one part of the back is much lighter than the other two parts. Would dyeing the coat help any?

Mrs. A. M. Dear Mrs. A. M.: I don't think dyeing this corduroy will help much, you have cut two of the pieces of your coat on the opposite grain (corduroy must all be cut in one direction), the direction of the nap is what changes the density of color. I'm afraid you will have to "chalk" this up to experience. I'm sure you'll never do it again.

Play Clothes Ideas

Summer calls for play clothes. Many interesting and unique casual garments can be made from "Feed bags." I will award three Tailor Trix Pressing Boards to the 3 most original and wearable garments made from these feed bags. Please send your ideas with simple sketches, to Sew Simple, in care of this newspaper.

Dear Eunice: My husband has been trying to get me to sew for years and I finally did and now, of course, I wish I hadn't waited so long. He gets a kick out of your column and wants to thank you for the encouragement you have given me, to say nothing of the confidence.

I am tackling a spring coat now and everyone tells me to get a size smaller pattern than I use for dresses. Is this right?

Mrs. O. K. J.

Dear Mrs. O. K. J.: Hooray for your husband, he must be like most men who "deep down inside" are happy when their wives sew. Guess it makes us seem more feminine, don't you think?

As to the size of pattern used for a coat, you will usually use the same size pattern that you do for a dress. The patterns have all been scaled accordingly.

Occasionally a very high fashion coat (which might be cut extremely full) would be in better proportion for you if you used one size smaller.

Carefully check the lines of the coat and if you see there doesn't seem to be any excess fullness, get the size you have always used.

Also during the business meeting, the City Federation International Tea was announced and a fashion show slated for March.

Radar Bolsters Missiles Guarding Formosa Area

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The effectiveness of the Nike-Hercules missiles guarding Taipei and other parts of North Formosa from air attack has been strengthened by the installation of two new high-power radars, said the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group announced yesterday.

The Americans said the radars, known as HIPAR, increase the effective range of the missile system and reduce the effect of enemy jamming.

Besides Danish modern furniture, Copenhagen glass, porcelain and silver exemplify the same clean concept of design.

WHAT DO DOCTORS RECOMMEND the Most For TENSE, NERVOUS HEADACHES?

ANACIN® contains the pain reliever doctors recommend most for headaches. In minutes—pain goes, so does its tension, mental fatigue and depression.

New York, N.Y. Medical reports confirm that tense, nervous headaches are by far the most common kind. They are caused by tension that presses on the nerves. But fortunately, one can get remarkable relief in minutes with this special tablet—Anacin.

Anacin not only relieves the pain, but also relaxes its tension and releases painful pressure on nerves—bringing you fast "all-over" relief.

Anacin Tablets are so effective because they are like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of ingredients. Anacin contains the pain reliever doctors recommend the most plus an extra ingredient not found in leading aspirins or buffered aspirins. And Anacin has such a gentle action. Doesn't leave you depressed or "let down".

This big difference in Anacin makes the big difference in the way you feel. Always take Anacin for fast "all-over" pain relief.

Junior Editors Quiz on MONEY

QUESTION: What does the phrase "not worth a Continental" mean?

ANSWER: The American Revolution presented a difficult financial problem to our founding fathers. War costs money, yet there was very little coin to be had. So, paper money such as we show in the illustration, was issued by the Continental Congress.

It served the purpose for awhile. But there was hardly any reserve of gold or silver to back it up and as more paper money was printed, people like the shopkeeper we show became suspicious of it.

The printed currency dropped so low in value that the saying arose "It's not worth a Continental," meaning a piece of printed Continental money.

In 1792, the first stable money system was adopted, called "bimetalism," it was based on both gold and silver dollars.

Printed paper money was not issued again by the government until the time of the Civil War.

FOR YOU TO DO: Now that we're thinking about the history of our currency, find out how the word "greenback" came to be used. (A hint: it followed closely after the end of the story we have told.)

Model Claims Actor Burned Her Ankles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A model says actor Gary Merrill burned her ankles with a cigar nine days ago.

Shannon Wolf, 23, sued Merrill, ex-husband of actress Bette Davis for $30,000 and said the under-table attack on her ankles Feb. 11 was enacted in a "manner in which only savage and sadistic human beings had acted during the history of mankind."

Miss Wolf said she was chatting with friends at 3 a.m. in Mike's Pool Hall, a Bohemian night spot in San Francisco's North Beach area when the actor, whom she hadn't seen before, touched an ankle with a cigar and then repeatedly jabbed both ankles with the burning stogie despite her screams.

Belly Dancer Keeps Cabbie on the String

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Belly dancer Gaby Noble, dressed in brief skirt, black stockings and low-cut neckline, got out of a cab from San Francisco. "Wait here," she said as she walked into municipal court. Three hours later the cabbie walked into Judge Charles Becker's courtroom and asked about his fare. "Oh, her," said the bailiff. "She got 30 days for contempt and they took her away in the paddy wagon."

There are 1,891 communities with council-manager form of government in the United States and Canada.

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

When history teacher Jay Myers made a proposal to the Birmingham Board of Education in 1948 to include swimming in the high school's athletic program it was the beginning of one of the most successful eras of prep sports in the county.

A total of 20 boys answered Myers' first call in what was then called Barnum high school in class B competition.

Last week when coach Corey Van Fleet counted heads, there were 20 Maples who have already qualified for the state swimming championships to be held in East Lansing, March 15-16.

Van Fleet is a coach who could be called a "cautious" optimist. He thinks Birmingham Seaholm can win the title outright for the first time in history, but shudders when observers tell him the Maples should win with the highest point total ever recorded in a state meet.

The Maples' best showing in the state meet was last year when they had to share the championship with Grosse Pointe. Each had 32 points. The Pointers were the only team to defeat the Maples in regular season dual competition in 1962.

In 1960, Seaholm was runnerup to Grosse Pointe, 47-43, having lost the state title by only one-tenth of a second in the final event, the freestyle team relay.

As a B school, Birmingham was runnerup in 1952 to East Grand Rapids by the slim margin of one point, 43-42.

MYERS' RECORD

In his 12 years as the first coach at Birmingham, Myers had records of 122 wins, 22 losses and one tie. The first nine years saw his teams lose only three dual meets, to Pontiac Central, Ypsilanti and Plymouth.

He then suffered losses only to Battle Creek, Ann Arbor, Grosse Pointe, Plymouth and Royal Oak Kimball, in his last three years as coach.

Van Fleet, a former Wayne State swimmer, took over the team in 1960 and since then the Maples have won 41 and lost two.

With only Jackson remaining on the schedule, the Maples are one meet and the state meet shy of their first "perfect" season in 15 years of swimming, this including the Battle Creek relays and Royal Oak Relays' titles.

Seaholm may not walk off with too many first places in the state meet, but the Maples, who started the season with 46 swimmers and six divers on the varsity team, could pile up a score to surpass the 50 points tallied by Battle Creek in 1958.

According to the best times of the season in class A ranks, Seaholm doesn't have a single swimmer leading any individual event, but depth is where the payoff comes on the scoreboard.

HAS A PROBLEM

Van Fleet wants everyone to believe he does have a problem and it may be so. He can't figure out where to put his top three versatile swimmers, Bob Wolf, Don Spencer and Tom Fritz, any one of which could finish among the top six in any event.

Wolf, the county's outstanding swimmer of 1962, has taken part in eight different events and has won at least once in each. Spencer, the state butterfly champion, has taken part in seven different events and Fritz has been in nine.

What Van Fleet is worrying about is where such top state swimmers as Ken Wiebeck of Thurston, Rick Skarbo of Detroit Western, Mike Royster of Ann Arbor among others will be used.

"There are too many good swimmers in the state to take anything for granted," said Van Fleet, "and if we want that title we'll have to swim our best."

After a 15-year history of swimming at Seaholm, with a fantastic record of 163 wins, 24 losses and a tie, the Maples are ready to go for broke—the outright state championship.

Tiger 'Jury' Withholds Verdict on Freehan

Bonus Rookie Works to Win Acceptance

Royal Oak Receiver Must Improve Hitting to Satisfy Scheffing

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers' brass is sure Bill Freehan will become a major league star, one worth every penny of his $100,000 bonus.

The question is, when will the giant rookie catcher from Royal Oak start paying off with the biggest bonus investment the club ever made?

Freehan, himself believes he first must convince his teammates.

"Being accepted and having those guys get confidence in you, that's the most important thing right now," said Freehan who was a football and baseball star for one season at the University of Michigan before signing in 1961.

"I've got to learn about our pitchers and they've got to get used to me."

ONE MORE YEAR

The original target date for the 21-year-old Freehan to take over the Tigers' regular catching duties was 1963. It now is likely Manager Bob Scheffing will push the date back a year.

"I can't say now if I'm ready," Freehan said at the Tigers' early camp. "I won't be able to know until after the big camp starts and I can compare myself with the other catchers."

Freehan's teammates, the ones he feels will be his severest critics en route to possible stardom, are willing to accept him.

"But we can't until we know he can help us with the pennant," said one of the Tigers' veteran pitchers. "Nine out of 10 of us don't think he is ready."

SEE RAWNESS

"This will be an important spring training for him and maybe he'll change our minds by the end of it. But right now we can see the rawness in him."

The 6-foot-3 catcher has only 1½ seasons of professional experience. Last season he batted .283 in the American Association with Denver.

Scheffing was a bit disappointed with Freehan's hitting.

"We're trying to get him to straighten up his stance," Scheffing said. "I think he does okay behind the plate."

Rather than keep Freehan idle on the bench this season, it's probable the Tigers will farm him to Syracuse to catch every day.

The acquisition of catcher Gus Triandos supports this. And former catcher Scheffing points out that very few backstops have taken over regular major league jobs at the inexperienced age of 21.

SPORTS

'Best of Season' for Ortonville 5

By JERE CRAIG

It was "best of the season" at Ortonville last night as the Black Hawks pinned a 77-63 loss on Oxford.

In a loosely played, fast moving basketball game the home team recorded its highest point total of the season (77) and its best quarter on offense (31).

Forward Bob Kilbourn had his best game with 25 points, the second time he has registered 20 or better against Oxford.

The 63 points by Oxford was its best output this season, and seven-foot center Dana Marlowe had the best game of his three-year varsity career matching Kilbourn's 25 markers.

As a prelude of what was to come, the Black Hawks junior varsity five was also at its best in defeating the Wildcats' reserves, 82-76.

BIG ERUPTION

The varsity game was close for one quarter until the Brandon High School quintet erupted for its 31 second-quarter tallies to command a 45-31 halftime advantage.

Oxford trailed only 14-13 after one period; but their hosts opened the second stanza by pouring in 14 points in the first 2-40 of play while Marlowe contributed a field goal and foul shot for the Wildcats only points in that same time period.

Kilbourn had eight of the 14 scores for his team. All told the second period eruption, the spectacular forward tallied 12 points, including 10 for 10 from the free throw line.

Oxford, which lost its 10th in 12 starts, never came closer than five points the rest of the game. That deficit was reached at the start of the last quarter when the Wildcats counted the first seven tallies in that session to trail, 58-53.

Blackhawk center Gary Sutton then hit a three-point play and the winners stayed comfortably ahead to register win No. seven against eight losses this year.

Despite the presence of the seven-foot Oxford middle man, the Ortonville school held a substantial rebound margin, 51-29. This figure included 17 offensive rebounds in the second quarter.

The game was a non-league

Errant Young Returns Home

DETROIT (AP)—Howie Young, the Detroit Red Wings' wandering problem child, returned home last night and was scheduled to report to practice today after vanishing for the second time this season.

Young missed practice Tuesday and Red Wing officials were unable to locate him until they called his home again last night and were told by his wife that he had returned.

The 25-year-old defenseman's return came a few hours before National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell announced in Montreal that he wanted to hear Young's version of the fireworks in last Sunday's game with Montreal before taking any action against him.

Young drew a total of 27 minutes in penalties, setting an NHL record of 210 penalty minutes in a season.

The outburst netted him three separate automatic fines totaling $100 and made his case subject to review by Campbell, who could fine him further or suspend him.

Red Wing officials refused to comment on Young's latest disappearing act, nor would they say what action, if any, would be taken.

CFL Alouettes Land Trimble as New Coach

MONTREAL (AP)—Jim Trimble, once coach of the year in the National Football League, is the new head coach of the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian League.

Trimble was named Tuesday to the job left vacant by Perry Moss' resignation three weeks ago. While terms were not disclosed, it was reported the 44-year-old Pennsylvanian got a long-term contract.

Trimble resigned as head coach of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the CFT to accept the Montreal job. He had led the Tiger-Cats to five titles in the Dixie International Eastern Conference championship Teams Tournament, sporting a ships in the last seven years, star-studded field, were ordered winning the Grey Cup title (the outright today to make up for Canadian pro championships) in Tuesday's first round postponement.

SKULL-DUGGERY—Ed Giroux (10) of the Brandon Black Hawks at Ortonville seems in a trance and Oxford's Buzz Cork (15) appears fascinated by Giroux's fancy head work in this first half action last night. While this scene was desecrating due to the camera angle, there was no deception about the final score: the Black Hawks 77, Oxford 63. On the floor is Oxford's Jim Bates.

Eagles, Maples Win in Loop

Ferndale showed Eastern Michigan in a losing cause with 16. Johnigan League rival, Royal Oak Slater hit 11 for the Maples.

Kimball 'how' last night, 68-39.

The unbeaten Eagles, rated fourth in the weekly AP prep college poll, chalked up their 12th consecutive season victory in the process.

In a full EML state Birmingham Seaholm edged a spirited Hazel Park quintet, 48-44. Mt. Clemens bombed East Detroit 81-54 and Roseville took it on the chin from Port Huron, 82-51.

The setback at the hands of the league leading Ferndale put Kimball into a three-way tie for third with Port Huron and Mt. Clemens all with 6-6 records.

Seaholm is in second at 8-4 and Hazel Park has the dubious honor of being tied with Roseville in last place, 4-8.

HIT 28 POINTS

Ferndale's big gun Bruce Rodman hit 28 points to bolster a 26-15 Eagle margin at the half.

Truman McNeal scored 15 in a losing cause.

Seaholm fell behind after a slow first quarter, 10-5, but gained momentum under an 18-point second period to hold a 23-20 edge at the half.

With three minutes to go Seaholm had expanded its lead to 40-20 and started a stall.

The Parkers' eagerness caused them to commit several fouls in the final minutes and Birmingham capitalized on the mistakes to barely stay in front.

Only John Rutherford, the 24-year-old Texas sprint champ making his first race in a late model stock car, came near the Johnson-Spencer marks. Rutherford turned one lap in his Chevrolet at 162.572, far short of the track record of 166.112 he set Monday.

Rutherford already is being tabbed as a top prospect to win this fifth running of the Daytona 500. He is driving a car owned by Smokey Yunick, who prepared the last two Daytona winners—Marvin Panch and Glenn Fireball Roberts.

Tells of '62 Pressures

Sanford at 'War' With Giants

By The Associated Press
Burly Jack Sanford, 24-game winner for the National League champion San Francisco Giants, revealed today that he had pitched the final week of the 1962 baseball season with a 2-inch cut in his heel from an operation to remove an abscess.

Currently involved in a contract cold war with the Giants, Sanford put a couple of hot coals into the dispute Tuesday when he told the San Francisco Chronicle of his operation and implied that the Giants' pitching pattern was being used as a weapon against a hefty raise.

"Few people know this," said Sanford from his Duxbury, Mass., home, "but just before I beat St. Louis 4-2 in the final week I had an operation on my heel to remove an abscess. A 2-inch long cut. It hurt. Toward the end I also worked with a cold, that drained me. Yet I worked something like three games in six days."

The fastballing right-hander, who won 16 consecutive games at one stretch as the Giants made their run at the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers, then fired this verbal broadside:

"Club Giant vice president Chuck Feeney mentioned I didn't complete many games last year. Thirteen. But that was the ordered pattern. Pitch as hard as I can as long as I can and then let the bullpen clean up."

Sanford's asking price for the 1963 campaign is believed to be in the neighborhood of $35,000, a boost of about $10,000. Sanford says he and the Giants are "far apart," which is taken to mean about $5,000.

"I want to sign," said Sanford. But I had a good year and they just haven't offered me what I think I deserve. I worked hard and I want to work hard again. I think I deserve a better shake than I'm getting."

While Sanford was jolting the Giants, the Cincinnati Reds, who finished third last year, received a shock from a different direction when they were notified that outfielder Vada Pinson had undergone an appendix operation and would miss the spring training period.

RETURN CONTRACTS
Several players, meanwhile, signed Tuesday. Catcher Elston Howard and pitcher Bill Stafford came to terms with the Yankees, pitcher Billy O'Dell with the Giants and pitcher Lew Burdette with Milwaukee.

Howard, who also plays in the outfield and at first base as needed, reportedly signed for $45,000 and Stafford for an estimated $22,000. No figure was given for O'Dell, but the 36-year-old Burdette, who slumped to a 10-9 mark with the Braves last year, agreed to terms reportedly calling for $40,000.

Other signings included: Baltimore, pitcher Steve Barber; Detroit, pitcher Bob Dostal; Yankees, infielder Phil Linz; Mets, outfielder Gene Woodling; St. Louis, pitchers, Ray Sadecki and Alan Brice and catcher Tim McCarver; and Giants, utility outfielder Carl Boles.

Memphis Quintet 4th to Sign for Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—The field for the 26th National Invitation Basketball Tournament was one-third filled today with the naming of Memphis State as the fourth entry.

The Tigers, runner-up in the annual New York post-season tournament in 1957, have a 16-5 record this season. Previously named for the 12-team tournament were Miami of Florida, Providence and Canisius.

The NIT will be played March 14, 16, 19, 21 and 23 at Madison Square Garden, Dayton. The 1962 champion, is on NCAA probation and ineligible to defend its title.

Forester Gets Award

Fred Haskins, Conservation Department district forester at Traverse City for nearly 17 years, has been presented the 1963 distinguished service award of the Wisconsin-Michigan section of the Society of American Foresters. Haskins was cited for his long record in advancing sound management practices, including leadership in the development of mechanized tree-planting.

The club team has climbed from sixth place into third within the last three weeks of play. Last Thursday it handed a 4-2 loss to runnerup Dorris Realty, dropping that squad seven games behind Capitol Barber Shop.

The haircutters, boosted by the presence of eight-year-old Billy Lefner, took defending champion Seaman Manufacturing, 5-1. The youngsters, playing with a plus handicap, upset his singles opponent for the second straight week.

He, also teamed with Carol Wolverson to win the mixed doubles. In the city March of Dimes table tennis tournament last weekend, he was the runnerup port.

North Branch Too Much for Bridgeport Cagers

Bridgeport succumbed to North Branch last night, 73-66, despite a sizzling 21-point final quarter.

North Branch held a slim 42-38 lead at the half and then proceeded to hold their visitors to a seven-point third period while doubling that figure for themselves.

Lynn DeGrow and Bob Butterfield combined for 40 points in a winning cause and Ron Schaubman countered with 17 for Bridgeport.

CORKY BALDWIN
Eyes Professional Career

Birmingham Youth Eyes Pro Hockey

By DICK POINTON

Corky Baldwin wants to be a professional hockey player. This is quite an ambition for any 13-year-old to have but the Birmingham lad has more than the average "here today gone tomorrow" determination frequently encountered in the teen set.

Part of Corky's motivation to take part in a sport that provides some of the fastest and roughest competition in athletics can be attributed to his two older brothers, both excellent athletes.

Tim, the oldest, and Pat both spent their prep years at St. Michael in Toronto. Both played hockey for the Canadian school and latter attended Michigan State on athletic scholarships.

Tim graduated from MSU in 1960 after playing four years on the Spartans golf squad. His senior year he was captain and at present he lives in Farmington across from the Red Run golf course.

tinues to stay in shape by refereeing local hockey games.

Pat is a senior at State and Corky manages to get up to the East Lansing campus to watch his brother skate with the Spartan varsity quite frequently.

TWO EXAMPLES
With his two brothers setting the example Corky is busy gaining a reputation of his own.

At present he is a seventh grader at Holy Name. Last fall he divided his time between the gridiron and the ice at Olympia.

Corky is playing in the Bantam Hockey league at Olympia and plans to enter St. Michael of Toronto in the fall.

Corky is well acquainted with several of the Red Wing players and has submitted his name in hopes of becoming the Wings' stick boy.

A left wing for his team, Corky has a total of 16 goals to his credit for the season.

Hockey is Corky's favorite activity but he doesn't contain all his energies to the sport.

He also plays basketball for

Irish Accept NCAA Invite

Notre Dame's Record Wins At-Large Berth

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame with a 15-6 record, became the ninth team named to an at-large berth in the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball championships today.

The NCAA Service Bureau said the Irish would play their first round game against the still to be determined Mid-American Conference champion in the opener of a Midwest regional doubleheader at Evanston, Ill., on March 11. Pairings for each of the regions were announced as well, including designation of third-ranked Chicago Loyola to play the Ohio Valley Conference champion in the nightcap of the Evanston doubleheader.

Monday, the NCAA had named Chicago Loyola, New York University, Texas Western, Colorado State U., Oklahoma City U., Utah State, Seattle and Oregon State to at-large berths.

TWO MORE

With nine at-large berths filled, the NCAA needs two more teams to complete its 25-team championship field. One of the at-large berths will go to the Ivy League champion. The other reportedly is reserved for the winner of the Pitt-Penn State game Saturday.

The 14 other spots in the NCAA field go automatically to the champions of the major conferences across the country.

Lively Pins Up Scoring in Nation's Keg Houses

UP BASEBALL? The souped-up base ball? The tippler golf ball?

Now, they're pinpointing the livelier bowling pin.

More bowling alleys have been installing pins whose manufacturers boast of their liveliness. The livelier a pin is, the more readily it flies through the air to knock down the other pins and boost scores for the average bowler.

Most bowling alley proprietors hope the controversial pins will score a ten strike in perking up interest in the sport. Some have been complaining of declining revenue because of increasing competition from other bowling centers.

A survey by the Wall Street Journal disclosed.

Says a spokesman for American Machine and Foundry Co., a leading pin producer: "If you can make it easier for somebody to get a better score, you're going to improve your business. Out and out rugging is unethical, but it's the philosophy of manufacturers that it doesn't hurt to improve the game so more can play, or play a little better."

INCREASED SCORES

The Bowling Center of Riverside, Calif., reports that since it installed AMF tournament grade pins last August its monthly revenues have been running about $2,000 above the year before. AMF advertises these pins as "livelier for higher scores."

Vulcan Corp. of Cincinnati says its Nyl-Tuf pins "fly briskly about the pin decks on hits—to delight bowlers with increased scores."

Ripley Bowling Pin Co. of St. Louis claims its Dura-Marks "when hit don't just tangle—they take off because we built the bounce when we built up the strength."

However, S. P. Jacobson, a vice-president of Brunswick Corp., says, "It's not true that equipment changes are attempts at making bowling easier. The game is being watched by the American Bowling Congress and you can be assured it's not being tampered with."

Whether or not there are livelier pins, there's no doubt that the average bowler is looking for a higher score—with plenty to spare.

On the 1-5-9-8 leave, it looks as though the bowler had rolled not one, but two bad balls—one on each side.

To make this monstrosity, take the strike position and roll for the 1-3 pocket, slightly more to the left than for a strike. The ball takes the 5 and 9. The 5 takes the 8. Sometimes it works the other way, the ball driving through to

ELIMINATIONS BEGIN

Eliminations for both tournament's amateur berths have begun.

In the Pro-Am eliminations, both men and women are eligible this year. The qualifying 24 will be one qualifier for every 10 men entered and one for 10 on the distaff side.

Local eliminations are taking place at 300 Bowl and also at Howe's Lanes. Eliminations will be run in every major city in the state on the same basis.

All qualifiers for the Pro-Am will bowl with a pro klinger as a team on April 10.

TEAM LEADER

Byrn's Sporting Goods of Auburn, N.Y., took first place with 2,946 on games of 1,034, 911 and 1,001 in the regular team division.

George Bender, 22, a bowling establishment mechanic, led the team with 639 as he competed in his first ABC.

Car-Lea of Rochester, N.Y., moved into second place with 2,931.

Regular division five-man teams:

1. Byrn's Sporting Goods of Auburn, N.Y.
2. Car-Lea of Rochester, N.Y.
3. Miller, Hildebrand, Libron, Kish, Battle Creek, Mich.
4. A.A.A. Club of Chicago

BOWLING

Word has been received by The Press that any local teams entered in the 1963 annual Shammy Bowl Memorial Tournament at Toledo, Ohio, should check with the sponsors regarding changes in this year's affair.

A fire destroyed the Toledo Sports Center approximately 10 days ago which was the original site of the tournament.

More than 300 teams will be scheduled to meet the new starting date of March 23. New site of the competition will be Hagerly's New Bowling Center in Toledo and entrants are asked to return their official notification card to that establishment for a new date and time.

Entry deadline is March 19.

Lavorante in Coma Going on 5th Month

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Just a day less than five months have passed since Alejandro Lavorante was knocked out by Johnny Riggs, and the Argentine heavyweight still is in a coma.

Lavorante, 28, has been able to feed himself for some time and can walk the length of parallel bars without help. But he still hasn't opened his eyes.

Dr. J. DeWitt Fox, a neurosurgeon, said last month that Lavorante's brain stem was damaged and this caused tiny veins to hemorrhage. The hemorrhaging has put pressure on nerves running from the spinal cord to the brain, and the pressure is interrupting the flow of nerve impulses to and from the brain.

Fox said the odds were 50-50 the hemorrhages would disappear.

Sound New Deer Alarm for Southern Michigan

Deer vs. Cars on State Roads

Say 4,146 Whitetails in Accidents

EAST LANSING (AP) — One of every six accidents investigated by state police in the Upper Peninsula last year involved a collision between a motor vehicle and a deer, state police report in a special study.

Of 2,436 accidents reported north of the Straits, 394 involved deer. In three state police posts areas, hitting deer accounted for nearly one out of four accidents and in one post area the ratio was nearly one out of three.

The State Conservation Department meanwhile, said there are many more such vehicle-deer collisions than are reported to police agencies.

Contrary to what might be expected, the department said, there are more such accidents below the Bay City-Muskegon line, where there are far fewer deer, than in other sections of the state.

This is because 90 per cent of the cars registered in the state are in this area and drivers in this populous region do not expect to see deer, the department said.

The Conservation Department said of 4,146 deer accidents reports it received, 966 were in the Upper Peninsula, 1,537 in the northern Lower Peninsula and 1,643 in the southern part of the state.

Not Geared to Creative Student

Rigid School Programs Dealt Criticism

By G. K. HODENFIELD
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — What American schools really need, says Prof. Roland H. Nelson, are some nonconforming programs for nonconforming students.

"Since many creative individuals refuse to fit an established pattern, and since this refusal to fit may be the essence of their creativity," Nelson said, "it does not seem that schools can be organized to promote, teach, or encourage creativity."

Nelson, assistant dean of the University of Louisville, made these suggestions in a paper presented at the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

Make it possible for individuals to skip certain grades or courses, not because of outstanding achievement but because of poor or no achievement.

Allow students to become more one-sided than the present school and college requirements allow.

Provide for more leaving and returning to school by individuals, without requiring that they go back to that rung of the educational ladder where they were when they left it.

WOULD BE COSTLY

Because public schools are organized to provide for large groups of students, Nelson said, the creative student who does not conform to traditional patterns will continue to be placed in the category of the "educationally inept."

He acknowledged that his suggestions would be costly and time-consuming.

"We would never be quite certain at any time whether or not we were providing a haven for intellectual nonconformists, anti-intellectual bums, or just bums," he said.

"But we do have to recognize that the more effectively we organize to educate the intellectual conformist, the more effectively we organize to eliminate his opposite."

Frances A. J. Ianni of the U.S. Office of Education told the same panel session: "There are both conformists and nonconformists in all classrooms, but a carefully controlled situation."

"In society today we must have a special program for the creative student. I don't mean a free-for-all classroom, but a carefully controlled situation."

View Hiking With Reserve

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — The Nevada Assembly approved a motion by Chet Christensen, Democrat, to recess for 10 minutes "to walk briskly around the block."

Sunday. But the vote was close—17 to 13—and Assemblyman Jim Bailey, Republican, drew a round of applause with a denunciation of the hiking fad.

"It is a very irresponsible way to approach physical conditioning," said Bailey, a former coach. The Assembly shouted down a motion by Chet Christensen, Democrat, to recess for 10 minutes "to walk briskly around the block."

Add New Stretches of 'Frost-Free' Road

Thirty-five miles of I-75 free-way from Pontiac to a point near Flint and 3 1/2 miles of M59 from Pontiac to Auburn Heights are among 557 miles added recently to Michigan's "frost-free" highways.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said there are now 7,455 miles of all-season highways in the state which have no reduced load restrictions during spring months.

Nearly 85 per cent of the state's 9,200 highway miles can carry normal legal truck loads all year, Mackie said.

Prior to introduction of the all-weather highway system in 1958, Mackie explained, an arbitrary 25 per cent reduction in load limits went into effect each spring.

Fifty-seven miles from Utica north to M46 in Macomb, Lapeer and Sanilac counties also was added to the "frost-free" system.

Government Stable, Declares Betancourt

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela declared today his government is stable despite aggressive Communist subversion directed through Havana from Moscow and Peking.

He said in a speech prepared for delivery at the National Press Club that groups of Red terrorists, by making off with five paintings from a French art exhibition in Caracas and hijacking the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui, had gained "excessive international publicity" that gives a distorted picture of the situation in his country.

"These acts of terrorism are commando operations carried out by small groups that have absolutely no help or support from the people of Venezuela," he said.

Betancourt said the Communists had failed to influence organized labor and farm workers, and that among students there was a "lessening of receptivity to their slogans."

"If they have launched themselves on the extreme and desperate path of terrorist acts, it is because they realize they have no popular support and aid," he said.

"The aid and support of the people of Venezuela, their determination and will to live in democracy and freedom, have given real stability to the government that I represent. But it also has had and continues to have the loyalty and support of the armed forces."

GIVES REASONS
Betancourt explained that the Communist offensive was aimed at Venezuela because, for one reason, it is the principal supplier of petroleum to the United States and the rest of the Western world. Another reason, he said, is that his government has taken an unequivocal stand against the Fidel Castro regime in Havana and against international communism.

At the White House dinner Tuesday honoring Betancourt, President Kennedy said in a toast, "We wish the United States to be identified with leaders like you, liberal progressive leaders who believe that the problems of this hemisphere can be solved in cooperation under a system of freedom."

"You," Kennedy added, "have been selected as target No. 1, not only for the dictators in the last two years, but also by the Communists."

He indicated that might be the direction in which Pontiac is building.

"However, studies estimate Pontiac's population will stand at about 120,000 by the year 2000, and serving our residents will always come first."

He said the city's current bonded indebtedness, standing at about $6 million, is relatively small. The limit for cities of Pontiac's size is $22 million.

In spite of the city's construction program, he saw no signs

Teen Guns Down 5

Admits Killing Family

From Our News Wires

GREEN BAY, Wis. — A high school youth whose broodings, over his place in the family circle exploded into a burst of gunfire, has told authorities how he shot and killed his father and stepmother and her three children.

Harry Hebard, 16, described by his minister as "a good, quiet boy who was real active in the church," apparently had planned the slayings for some time, according to Dist. Atty. Robert Warren.

The boy was scheduled for arraignment today on first-degree murder charges. Warren said he will seek a psychiatric examination for him.

Harry, a high school junior, surrendered meekly Tuesday about six hours after the bodies were found in the family home.

Killed by shots from an automatic pistol and rifle were the boy's stepmother, Joyce, 35; her three children by a previous marriage, John Russell, 15, and Judy and Janice, 11-year-old twins; and Harry's three-year-old brother, Jack Hebard, 38, a part-time automobile thrill rider and stunt man.

The father, an airline freight foreman, used the professional name "Lucky O'Hara" and was well-known on the Midwest fair circuit.

The boy told the district attorney he "had a general feeling of being left out of the family circle."

He declined to see his minister, the Rev. David Thompson, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson said he was "aware of trouble" involving the boy and his family. A spokesman at the high school Harry attended said he had always been moody.

ADMITS KILLING

The youth told police the killings were premeditated. He said he found his father asleep on the couch Monday evening and shot him with the pistol.

Then, he said, he ran to the kitchen and shot John and Judy. Out of bullets, he picked up a rifle and killed his other stepmother. He shot his stepmother when she returned from the grocery.

Harry said that after the shooting he called a friend, Norbert Hansen, 19, Pulaski, and asked to be picked up about a half mile from the Hebard home.

Hansen told police he thought Harry was running away—something Hebard had spoken of recently.

Going to Smithsonian

To Get Glenn Relics

WASHINGTON (AP)—One year ago, John H. Glenn Jr. carried the American flag on a triumphant ride through space.

Today the souvenirs of that flight take their place with other symbols of the nation's history as astronaut Glenn formally presents to the Smithsonian Institution the Friendship 7 spacecraft, his silvered space suit and the little flag.

It will be a day of memories for the Marine lieutenant colonel.

On this first anniversary of the United States' first manned orbital flight, Glenn and his family once again will see the scorched capsule that carried him three times around the earth.

The Friendship 7, which Glenn named in honor of the seven astronauts, has been on display without fanfare for two months, awaiting the formal presentation ceremony.

It has toured the principal cities of the world and has been inspected by millions.

A small ceremony was planned to mark the presentation at the Smithsonian's air museum. Then a motorcade will carry the group to a downtown hotel for a luncheon.

Among those taking part will be Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chairman of the Senate Space Committee, members of Congress and officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

West Guesses Red Vow Is to Halt Showdown

But Real Significance of Move Depends on Troop Movement

From Our News Wires

MOSCOW — Western diplomats speculated today that the Kremlin's pledge to withdraw some Russian troops from Cuba might be intended to avoid another Soviet-American showdown in the Caribbean.

But the diplomats greeted the promise with as much caution as optimism.

They pointed out that the true significance of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's move depended upon "how many and what kind."

According to reports from Washington yesterday, Khrushchev promised to remove "several thousand" Russian soldiers from Cuba by mid-March.

Russia has an estimated 17,000 soldiers and technicians on Premier Fidel Castro's Caribbean island, 5,000 of them combat troops.

There was no official announcement here that Khrushchev had communicated with Washington and no word of the details.

Khrushchev's promise left a number of unanswered questions today to plague the Kennedy administration.

It was obvious that the Russian offer, couched in general terms, would not lessen appreciably the congressional pressure on the issue at this time.

The Soviet note, which came through normal diplomatic channels, gave no hint as to the actual number to be pulled out or the type of personnel to be withdrawn.

Freighter Gets to Port at Last

Pirates Surrender to Brazilian Officials

MACAPA, Brazil (UPI) — The eight-day saga of the Communist-hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui was ended peacefully today in this remote Amazon River port.

The Communist "pirates" who seized the 5,000-ton freighter shortly after it sailed from La Guaira, Venezuela, en route to Houston, Tex., a week ago Tuesday formally surrendered to Brazilian authorities last night.

Promised political asylum by Brazil, the Communist conspirators eluded pursuing Venezuelan destroyers and sailed into Brazilian territorial waters Sunday night.

Then they moved along the northeast Brazilian coast until they worked the vessel into the mouth of the vast Amazon River and moved to a remote mining company loading area.

Then, under direction of Brazilian officials who had boarded earlier, the Anzoategui anchored at Santarém, 12 miles downriver from Macapa, at 10:30 last night. Five minutes later, a group of Brazilian marines boarded the vessel from an onboard motorboat without incident as newsmen watched from the shore.

Thames A. Netter, Tex. reporter, prepared by Bureau N. P. 2-6067, report over.

FOOTLOOSE — The hiking had hit Pontiac yesterday when four young men began a 50-mile hike. Shown here midway in their journey are George Robinson (right) and Richard Noell. Noell twisted his ankle and was unable to complete the hike.

City Trio Rests Up After 50-Mile Hike

Three young Pontiac men today were feeling great — but resting — after hiking 50 plus miles in under 13 hours yesterday.

A fourth became a casualty about two-thirds of the way.

"It started out as a dare but it went so well that I might just try it again," said George A. Robinson, 27, the leader of the group.

An orderly at Pontiac General Hospital for 7½ years, Robinson, of 216 Liberty St., said he talked about the hiking to so much several doctors suggested he try it. The hikers made two trips to the Union Lake area from Robinson's home, clocking 51 miles in 12 hours and 45 minutes.

The trio, Robinson, Charles Howell, 18, of 216 Liberty and Joseph Noell, 21, of 274 State St., were driven home by Robinson's parents after marching to the lake area the second time.

Noell's brother Richard, 18, twisted his ankle on the return trip from Union Lake and had to be satisfied with completing 34 miles.

Robinson lost 6 pounds off his 160-pound frame. The others did not lose any weight.

"We are all feeling fine today, but last night when we got home we had trouble with our leg muscles," Robinson said.

Robinson took an extra precaution by wrapping his feet with elastic bandage. He wore tennis sneakers.

"I highly recommend walking," said Robinson who's been getting into shape the last couple weeks, walking to work because his car broke down.

"If anyone is thinking of trying it, just remember to stay off the black top. It can be murder on the lake area the second time."

FOOT EXAM — George A. Robinson, 27, of 216 Liberty St., checks his foot after he and two friends hiked 50 miles yesterday. Robinson, an orderly at Pontiac General Hospital, undertook the long walk on a dare.

More Talk Due by McNamara To End Testimony on Nation's Defenses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara returns to the Senate Armed Services Committee today to complete his testimony on the state of the nation's defenses.

Yesterday McNamara was questioned critically on such matters as the cancellation of the Skybolt missile and the phasing out of manned bombers.

"I'm extremely apprehensive about all the eggs in the missile basket... the nose cone basket," Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said.

He called the reliance on missiles "an invitation to disaster," and said the nation is "on a very dangerous path if we rely on some of the strategic plans that obviously have been made."

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Preparedness Subcommittee, told newsmen that McNamara's testimony left him unconvinced as to the wisdom of cancelling the Skybolt airborne missile, which had been designed to extend the life of manned bombers.

Stennis said the Skybolt issue and gradual replacement of manned bombers with missiles dominated questioning of the secretary.

"I have favored the Skybolt, and I am not convinced yet... that we should abandon it, Stennis added. "I'm not satisfied yet that we should let the bombers go as fast as we apparently will."

Howling Storm Sprays Foot of Snow on East

By United Press International A turbulent gale-force storm left up to a foot of wet snow in New England today. Thousands of families were without power, traffic was paralyzed and schools were closed.

The storm, spawned over Dixie yesterday, swept swiftly up the East Coast, causing tornadoes and damaging winds in Florida and dumping up to 10 inches of snow in Virginia and 5 inches in Tennessee.

Damage ran into thousands of dollars and at least four deaths were attributed to the storm.

Seek Oakland Republican Against New Constitution

A newly formed Oakland County organization which opposes the proposed new state constitution would like to find a Republican candidate to oppose the document to give it a nonpartisan flavor.

That's according to the group's chairman, Earl C. Kelley, who apparently is unaware that its charter membership already includes a "Republican."

"We would like our group to be nonpartisan," says Kelley, head of the new Citizens' Committee to Oppose the Proposed Constitution.

Kelley, of 172 George St., Birmingham, is an education professor at Wayne State University.

Some of the new group's members are Democrats. It also has the approval of James M. McNeely, executive assistant to County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin.

"We're glad to see it," says McNeely, adding that the Democratic party had nothing to do with formation of the committee.

The "Republican" charter member, Hazel Park Mayor Carl Thom, is one of 26 county residents including Pontiac Mayor Robert Landry who are scheduled to meet at 8 p.m. today at Birmingham House Motel to start the new group rolling.

Thom's Republicanism is not exactly bona fide, however. Though in fact a Democrat, he is a Republican precinct delegate.

Thom was waging a write-in campaign for Democratic precinct delegate in the primary last August when a few Republicans apparently helped his campaign efforts more than his party affiliation.

His 26 votes on the Democratic ballot were not enough to win there.

But his four write-in votes on the Republican ballot made him a GOP precinct delegate since there was no other candidate for the post.

Committee chairman Kelley described himself as "an independent who votes for the best man, who usually turns out to be a Democrat."

A number of Oakland University and other WSU professors are among the group's charter members.

"We're not against the proposed constitution just because the Democrats are against it," Kelley says. "Our group is open to anyone regardless of party affiliation."

House Reviews Olympics Plan

LANSING (UPI) — A resolution to create a legislative Olympic committee was to be considered in the House today, and very likely would get quick action as it did in the Senate.

The Senate yesterday adopted a resolution introduced the week before to create the committee and help the efforts to protect Detroit's interest in the 1968 Olympic Games.

The resolution was hurried through the Senate Business Committee and passed in the chamber without dissent.

The resolution called for the creation of a 10-man committee "to assist and cooperate with public and private groups in securing for Detroit the right to invite the International Olympic Committee to hold the 1968 Olympics in Detroit."

All members of the Senate and Lt. Gov. T. John Leinski were listed as sponsors of the proposal to show the depth of backing Detroit has in its effort to gain the right to bid for the 1968 games.

City Backs Airline Petition

Representatives from Pontiac and 16 other Michigan communities yesterday agreed on a plan for unified opposition to proposed cuts in airline service.

They will petition the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to split a widespread list of airline recommendations into three separate investigations.

The Pontiac delegation, while going along with the petition, felt it would be better to split the airline proposals into two investigations.

"However, a three-way split could leave us in a position where we would be fighting the battle alone."

Pontiac is primarily interested in opposing the loss of North Central Airlines' service at Pontiac Municipal Airport through failure to meet the CAB's use-it-or-lose-it passenger quota.

The petition will be presented at a CAB conference hearing in Washington, D.C., March 13. The hearing was postponed from Feb. 26 because Michigan cities wanted more time to prepare their case.

Because of complexity and variety of problems involved, the CAB will be asked to conduct separate investigations on the following items.

1. North Central's proposal to halt service to Cadillac — Reed City, Pontiac and Port Huron and a Gaylord application for a new air service.

2. The North Central proposal that United Airlines discontinue service to Flint, Saginaw, Lansing and Muskegon.

3. The CAB study of a proposal to create five area airports in Michigan. These would serve Battle Creek-Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids-Muskegon, St. Joseph-Benton Harbor-South Bend, Jackson-Lansing and Flint-Saginaw-Bay City-Midland.

No estimate is available of man hours lost in business and industry because of respiratory illnesses.

Hundreds of deaths have been reported.

Although new outbreaks of Asian flu have occurred, a health official expressed hope Tuesday that the wave of influenza-like infection will begin to wane with the approach of spring.

Flu of the Asian variety now has been reported in Michigan and Minnesota, and authorities say the outbreak which hit hard in West Virginia probably is Asian flu.

In Lansing, the Michigan State Health Department reports an increase in the number of cases of Asian flu confirmed by laboratory tests.

The department said there have been two cases confirmed in Ann Arbor, two in Lansing "and a number of cases in Detroit."

Absenteeism in Detroit was reported to be significantly higher than usual. The Asian flu has not reached epidemic proportions in any section of the state, the report said.

His foes say the moment his 1967 mandate expires he will be in the presidency illegally and that Venezuela and the Dominican Republic are prepared to withdraw diplomatic recognition.

Other nations would be expected to follow, isolating Duvalier. Almost certainly there would be violence.

Moderates among Duvalier's foes are not united. The extreme leftist element, however small, is organized, informants report. Communists are among the student groups attempting to touch off violence and seize the leadership.

Duvalier's sudden departure could leave the poverty-stricken nation, 80 per cent of whose people cannot read or write, on the edge of civil war.

The army, distrustful by Duvalier, is poor in weapons. The army is in the hands of Duvalier's militia, a semimilitary organization the president uses to suppress internal opposition.

A struggle for power involving the army had been going on since Duvalier's overthrow last year. The army would have the country vulnerable to operations from outside.

Sets Condition on Compromise Russ Must Agree to Foolproof Inspection

GENEVA (U) — The United States indicated today it would settle for fewer than eight on-site inspections a year within the Soviet Union if the Russians accepted a completely foolproof inspection procedure.

Chief U.S. delegate William C. Foster presented the idea in a meeting of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

He stressed that any American willingness to compromise would depend, among other things, on a satisfactory number of inspectors, the areas where they could operate and the criteria under which they could be dispatched.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov ignored Foster's suggestion. He tried to move the debate away from the test ban and into a discussion of an East-West nonproliferation pact.

The Russians have advanced the pact idea frequently, but the West wants it considered only in the general framework of disarmament treaty.

The talk in the corridors around the conference was that the United States and Britain ultimately might compromise on five or six on-site inspections per year on Soviet territory to check on suspicious earth tremors indicative of underground nuclear explosions.

Such a concession never has been spelled out to newsmen by members of the U.S. delegation, however.

The negotiations have been deadlocked for weeks between the Soviet maximum offer of two or three inspections and the Western minimum demand for eight.

Foster released only extracts from his speech in the United Nations Security Council on the subject.

Unrelated to the discussion of a test ban, the proposal for a nonaggression treaty between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Warsaw Pact powers calls for the two groups of nations to "solemnly refrain from attack, the threat or use of force, in any manner inconsistent with purposes and principles of the United Nations charter, against one another or in their international relations in general."

Dequindre Bill Passes House

LANSING — A Senate bill to allow sale of Dequindre sewer construction bonds in Oakland County cleared the House yesterday, and is now awaiting the governor's signature.

The bill requires that the State Municipal Finance Commission either approve or disapprove the issuance of such bonds.

The sale of $5.6 million in bonds toward construction of the sewer in southeastern Oakland County was held up when the commission refused to act in December.

The commission said that state law didn't require its decision. Without a favorable decision, the interest costs would have been prohibitive, according to Claude Stevens, Oakland County's bonding attorney.

Two companion bills would extend the time for profit and non-profit corporations to file for renewal of their charters until Jan. 1, 1965. The other permits transfer of a block of land held by

Birmingham Area News Award Will Go to Head of State Hospital Service

BIRMINGHAM — William S. McNary, president of the Michigan Hospital Service, will be awarded the American Hospital Association's 1963 Justin Ford Kimball award.

McNary, who lives at 1831 Fairway St., was chosen because of his "outstanding encouragement given to the concept of prepaid voluntary health care plans."

The announcement was made at a Denver celebration of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Colorado Hospital Service, which McNary helped organize.

He began his career in hospital administration as business manager for the School of Medicine at the University of Colorado in 1929.

In 1938 he was appointed executive director of the Colorado Blue Cross Plan.

Currently, he is chairman of the board and president of Health Service, Inc., and a member of the Blue Cross board of governors.

City recreation department skating activities will be tapered by the annual Skaters Holiday Show Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

The ice show will feature more than 150 skaters ranging in age from 6 on up.

The theme for this year's event, which is to be held at the Elton Park municipal skating rink, is Fantasy Land.

The department also announced that the municipal rink will close for the season March 1.

SWIMMING CLASSES Swimming classes for all ages are a part of the department's spring program.

Registration for children's classes is scheduled for the week of March 4. Classes will begin March 18 at Derby, Seaholm and Barnum pools.

A family swimming program has been scheduled for each Monday from 7:30 to 10 p.m. at Seaholm High School and each Thursday from 7:15 to 9:45 p.m. at Derby Junior High School.

Department officials warned that all children under 18 must be accompanied in the water by an adult.

Adult swimming classes are conducted at Seaholm High School from 7 to 7:30 p.m. each Monday.

An admission charge of $1 is charged for the sessions. This charge is waived for participants in admission to the family swimming which follows.

Russ Vow to Avoid Showdown on Cuba

At the same time, however, Kennedy's aides had to be reassured by the move as sufficiently encouraging to warrant a reduction in the noise level in Congress.

But Democrats and Republicans said the Kennedy administration must continue to press with all of the force at its command for complete evacuation of Soviet military men from the island.

John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was reported to have told the House Foreign Affairs Committee Tuesday that several empty Soviet merchant ships were on their way to Cuba.

While urging the administration to press for the withdrawal of all Soviet forces from Cuba, members of Congress also forwarded with any concrete proposals as to how this could be accomplished short of force — a policy Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said he is convinced the Democratic administration shares.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said that while the Soviet pledge to withdraw some troops is encouraging, "we cannot be complacent about it until all the Russian troops and technicians manning any weapons are removed."

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., senior GOP member of the Armed Services group, urged a separate interview that this country "keep up the pressure" to get all the Russians out.

No More 50 Milers

WASHINGTON (U) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Tuesday his feet are rested after his 50-mile physical fitness hike 10 days ago.

Asked if he still approved of 50-mile hikes, Kennedy told reporters: "For others."

Adjourn to End Partisan Debate

LANSING (U) — An hour and a half of oratory and argument bogged down the legislative machinery of the House of Representatives yesterday.

Members finally adjourned to shut off partisan debate. Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, started the hassle when he charged that Detroit newspapers did not give enough publicity to the Democratic alternative proposal to adoption of the new state constitution.

O'Brien spoke on personal privilege and insisted his remarks—including a long transcript of a letter to an editor —be printed in the House journal.

Republicans objected: "A lot of people are angry because they were not constitutional convention delegates," observed Rep. Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe. "If they had been, they never would be finished."

Rep. Russell Strange Jr., R-Clare, termed it "a real Democratic filibuster" and made a motion that the remarks not be printed.

"This is not a forum for political speeches," he said.

The House argued the issue until final form of the vote asked was to approve printing the O'Brien speech in the Journal.

An adjournment motion passed after O'Brien said he was going to vote against printing his talk. He could appear again to explain his "no" vote.

Four minor bills were passed and sent to the Senate.

Two companion bills would extend the time for profit and non-profit corporations to file for renewal of their charters until Jan. 1, 1965. The other permits transfer of a block of land held by the Traverse City State Hospital to the conservation department.

Also passed by the House and sent back to the Senate for enrollment, printing and presentation to the governor was a Senate bill specifying that county sewer bond issues must be approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission. It carries the provision that bonds payable issued without this approval will still be valid.

It was the first bill this session to clear both houses for relay to the governor.

Following a Republican caucus, Rep. Arthur Engstrom, R-Traverse City, reported there was a caucus decision on approval of the bill to bring Michigan under the federal plan for Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC-U).

Gov. George Romney has asked passage of the bill to save the counties money currently spent for welfare funds.

Engstrom said the caucus wanted firmer figures on how many additional welfare cases might be expected if the plan is adopted.

Discuss Hours in News Strike

Publishers, Printers Confer in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Publishers of New York's nine closed newspapers and leaders of eight non-striking newspaper unions confer today on the subject of shorter hours.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner called the meeting. The publishers and leaders of the striking printers' union have not since talks broke down nine days ago.

The contract dispute between the union and the publishers has left New Yorkers without their regular newspapers for 2 1/2 months.

The AFL-CIO International Typographical Union struck four of the papers 75 days ago. The other five dailies shut down at the same time.

In Cleveland, Ohio, strikes by five unions have closed that city's two dailies, the Plain Dealer and the Press & News—for 12 weeks.

The New York printers will not attend talks on the length of the work week because "their position is well known," Wagner said. The printers want their work week cut from 36 1/2 to 35 hours.

Wagner conferred for nearly four hours Tuesday with union negotiators headed by Bertram A. Powers, president of the printers' local.

There was no indication when both sides will be brought together again for face-to-face discussions.

When Powers called his 3,000 printers out on strike Dec. 8, nearly 17,000 other newspaper people were idle.

In Cleveland, one of the five striking unions—the AFL-CIO Cleveland Newspaper Guild—of a studying undisclosed terms of a peace pact offered by publishers. The guild has given tentative approval of the new contract.

Four other Cleveland newspaper unions remain on strike. They are the AFL-CIO printers, mailers and machinists unions, and the independent International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Wirtz Raps Bargaining in News Strike

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said yesterday the New York newspaper strike, now in its 75th day, was becoming "increasingly intolerable."

Wirtz told a news conference while attending the mid-winter meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council that the New York strike was "extremely unfortunate."

He said the New York and Cleveland newspaper strikes have "serious, serious blows" at collective bargaining. "Collective bargaining itself is in trial," Wirtz said.

AFL-CIO President George Meany disagreed with Wirtz's statement. "I don't think one incident indicates that collective bargaining is losing its effectiveness," said Meany.

Wirtz said he was "not at all" in favor of the strikes. "I am not at all in favor of the strikes," he said.

Steel Orders to Keep Rising

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel industry orders—and presumably production—will rise 10 per cent in March and 10 per cent in April, the Iron Age predicted today.

Production already has gained nearly 10 per cent so far this month.

The metalworking weekly said the big build-up will be powered not only by inventory accumulation but by a general improvement in demand from wide areas of industry as well.

Major steel users have started anxiously eyeing stockpiles late last year, in the event of possible steel labor trouble.

The Iron Age said disclosure by General Motors Corp. that it plans to lay in an extra one million tons of reserve steel by the end of July will have wide repercussions.

"It will force the hands of many steel users who have been hesitant about inventory plans," the magazine said.

Auto industry suppliers now know what is expected of them. Nonautomotive steel users also know the score. They will be forced to go along as a protective device to assure their positions on mill books if any steel labor crisis develops.

Auto mill order books reflect little inventory buildup, the magazine said, and "most of the recent gains appear to be based on solid demand."

Iron Age estimated first quarter shipments of steel conservatively at 8.5 million tons.

Execs to Tour for Series of GM Talks

A series of nationwide dealer and organization meetings to appraise the business outlook and discuss sales and product plans for the coming months will be held during the next 60 days by GM Truck & Coach Division.

The meetings will be conducted in GMC Truck's 15 sales zones by a group of traveling executives, headed by Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division, and Richard C. Werner, general truck sales manager.

Meetings will get under way Feb. 25 in Cincinnati, to be followed by Charlotte, Feb. 26; Atlanta, Feb. 27; Memphis, Feb. 28; and St. Louis, March 1.

Other meetings will be held in Washington, D.C., New York, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Dallas, San Antonio, Denver, St. Paul, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Whirlpool Corp. Hikes Quarterly Dividend

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—The board of directors of Whirlpool Corp. yesterday raised the quarterly dividend rate to 40 cents per share from 35 cents.

The company said the increase, compared with a 35 cents per share that has been paid quarterly since Oct. 28, 1959.

Upjohn Co. Earnings Up

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Net earnings of $23,255,000 for 1962 were reported yesterday by the Upjohn Co. This was an increase of 2.2 per cent over the previous year.

The formal proposals will be drafted at a policy meeting in Chicago March 20-22, Beirne said.

Beirne told a reporter: "The average actual pension being received by our 60,000 retirees in 1962 was $15.95 a month."

Air Force Launches Mystery Satellite

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. — A mystery satellite was launched by a solid-fuel Blue Scout rocket yesterday. The Air Force refused to give any other details.

Launching from this West Coast missile facility indicated the satellite was aimed at polar orbit — the path of past discoverers, Midas and Samos satellites.

Discoverers test secret gear for Samos photographic and Midas missile-detection satellites. All three employ boosters more powerful than the Blue Scout. The Air Force indicated a light-weight payload.

LISTEN TO HOFFA — Philadelphia truck drivers listen to some emphatic words delivered by International Teamster President James R. Hoffa early this week. Hoffa was in Philadelphia to warn long-haul trucking companies that if they don't accept his proposed area collective bargaining contract he will crack down on their parent companies throughout the nation.

How Far Can Jack Hike Down Bobby's Long Pike?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Some of us were talking about Bobby Kennedy hiking 50 miles, and a very inquisitive party asked, "Does President Kennedy walk 50 miles a day?" Broadway Producer Arthur Cantor, who was with JFK at Harvard in the class of '40, now referred to as "Jack's Class," fired back, "No, Jack rocks 50 miles a day!"

The gossipers report Lauren Bacall and Jason Robards Jr. finish but we'll bet even money "isn't and won't be true." Wasn't Judy Garland's collapse due to her stringent diet which made her look 18-years-old thin? She'd been very nervous lately — one recent TV taping session, she didn't feel like making it all 4 a.m. — Ava Gardner, hale straight back, wearing little makeup, and very beautiful, emerged from seclusion to watch Lina Horne at the Waldorf and Peter Dinklage at the St. Regis — with her sister and brother-in-law ... and no bean of her own.

Pan Mail: At last, a defense for Liz Taylor! "Dear Mr. Wilson: I wonder if there will ever be an end to the subject of Elizabeth Taylor... to the obscene or insinuating references to her conduct. Miss Taylor hasn't had a chance from the moment she entered the world. Had she been born with less physical appeal her life would have been different. The whole world stands aghast in sanctimonious horror while secretly relishing her behavior. Red Skelton seldom opens his program without some mention of her. He will never win an award for purity of thought. I'm sorry for Miss Taylor, her children, her parents and the people who are so lacking in integrity that they laugh at another's deficiencies." Mrs. Rhoda L. Ainsley, Portsmouth, Va.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

The days of your belting their women around have returned to the movies. Tony Perkins clobbers Sophia Loren — who's bigger than he is — in "Five Miles to Midnight." Jackie Gleason (once billed as "A Ton of Fun" and still going) signed the new CBS TV contract which provides that he continue his show through the 1963-64 season. They say it's for whopping cash — and that Frank Fontaine's salary will rise again... Beatrice Lillie complains that since she signed to do a book (for $100,000) for Double-D, she can't go out nights without hearing people say, "She should be home writing her book!"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: As comic Rip Taylor tells it, "The Internal Revenue's idea is that your money is only given to you to hold for them."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A very good idea for making sure that crime doesn't pay would be to let the government run it." — Uncle Vex Zink, Farm Journal.

EARL'S PEARLS: Church sign: "Life Is Fragile. Handle with Prayer."

A farmer in New Jersey was annoyed by fast drivers who speeded past his place, endangering his children and chickens. After his "slow" sign failed, he put up another one which showed them dead immediately. The sign: "Nudeist Camp Crossing."

That's early, brother.

McCone Receives 'Picture Cap' Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP) — An interview he has detected a pattern in the testimony of administration witnesses so far.

Gross, longtime critic of foreign asking more millions for the Alliance spending, said the pattern is "ance for Progress," Gross said.

Informed sources said McCone was pinned down on the issue Tuesday, but because of security considerations the sources would give no further details. The Central Intelligence Agency director briefed the House Foreign Affairs Committee behind closed doors and answered questions for more than three hours.

The "picture gap" is a blank stretch from last Sept. 5 to Oct. 15 in the aerial photographs made public two weeks ago in an extraordinary two-hour television briefing by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and an intelligence aide.

NONE IN 'GAP' In all the 90-odd photographs flashed on the screen, none fell in the "picture gap," a critical time period at the end of which the Soviets were discovered actually to have readied intermediate range missiles that could reach deep into United States territory.

McNamara was asked about the gap by newsmen in the question and answer session that followed. He answered that aerial photos had been taken on a number of days within the Sept. 5-Oct. 15 period, but that because of lack of time a selection had to be made of which photos to show on television.

That explanation has not satisfied some observers in Congress and elsewhere, including some generally friendly to the administration.

RESUME HEARING A Foreign Affairs subcommittee today resumes hearings on Cuban-inspired subversion in other Latin American countries. One of the committee's newest and most outspoken Republicans, Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa, said in

2nd Inauguration Set for Governor in UP

LANSING UP — The old will blend with the new when the Upper Peninsula states its own version of the inauguration of Gov. George Romney this weekend in Escanaba.

Bygone days will be revived when Governor and Mrs. Romney ride in a horse-drawn sleigh Saturday during a preinaugural luncheon to the state office building for the inaugural ceremonies.

The 18th century-type parade will feature a German band which played during one of Romney's campaign visits to the Upper Peninsula.

A flyover by jet aircraft from the K. I. Sawyer Air Base and a 19-gun salute will bring the ceremony into the 20th century just before the governor's second oath of office is administered by State Supreme Court Justice Michael O'Hara of Marquette.

Romney told newsmen it has not been decided whether to prepare a new inaugural address or deliver the same speech that was presented at the official inauguration in Lansing Jan. 1.

The second inauguration is being conducted in fulfillment of a promise by Romney during the campaign that he would return for a special ceremony for the supporters unable to attend the Lansing event.

Governor and Mrs. Romney will again lead the grand march at another inaugural ball to be held from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Romney and his wife will fly to Escanaba Saturday morning after he speaks to the Young Republican Convention in Grand Rapids.

Jail Demonstrators at Baltimore Theater

BALTIMORE (AP) — More than 200 persons, most of them Negro college students, are being held in Baltimore jails as demonstrators continue at a segregated movie theater here.

Police charged 120 persons with disorderly conduct after a demonstration last night at the Northwest Theater.

Some of the demonstrators also were charged with trespassing. Hearings were set for today in Municipal Court.

A total of 338 persons have been jailed since picketing began last week. Only four who were ill have posted bond.

Court Test Set for Real Estate Curb in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's ordinance which forbids real estate brokers from displaying "sold" signs on residential property will be given a court test.

The city's commission on community relations filed a complaint in Traffic Court yesterday against Frank & Grossman, Inc., and two of its officers, Allan Grossman and Julian Frank.

They were charged with placing "sold" signs on four pieces of property. The ordinance, approved by the common council last November, was intended to stop panic selling in rapidly changing neighborhoods. It applies throughout Detroit even where there is no racial problem.

Judge John D. Watts, who will hear the case March 8, had suggested an early court test of the ordinance.

Substitute Judge Rules on Long Overdue Case

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (AP) — Richard Heffe, Fergus Falls attorney charged with Municipal Judge Elliott Bee, who on vacation, disposed of some old business.

Police gave Heffe a ticket last April for allegedly running a stop sign. He pleaded innocent. The case had been dormant ever since. Tuesday, Heffe changed his plea to guilty and fined himself $10.

U. S. Ambassador Will Leave India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith announced today he will resign in the summer or early autumn to resume teaching at Harvard University next fall.

Galbraith was professor of economics at Harvard before President Kennedy appointed him ambassador to India. He will have been here two years in April. He declined to comment on a report published here that former ambassador to India Chester Bowles might succeed him.

The report, quoting the Herald Tribune News Service, appeared in the Indian press. India's largest newspaper chain.
