Latest Flareup in Algeria Kills 40 Nationalists

Rebel Rioters Open Fire on Police and Troops in Worst Incident

ALGIERS (AP)—At least 40 persons were killed yesterday in a violent battle between Algerian nationalists and French troops in the market place of a little village near the Tunisian border.

The rebels, mixing with the market crowd, opened fire on police. They cut all telephone and telegraph wires connecting the village of Lamy with the rest of Algeria.

It was the worst single incident in months in Algeria, where assassinations and guerilla warfare have become common in the past year.

Initial reports indicated 31 Algerians were killed in the market place and nine more died when troops opened fire on a bus that refused to halt. The number of police or soldiers lost was not announced.

After the fight started, a French armored car sped to the center of the market place to quell the disorder.

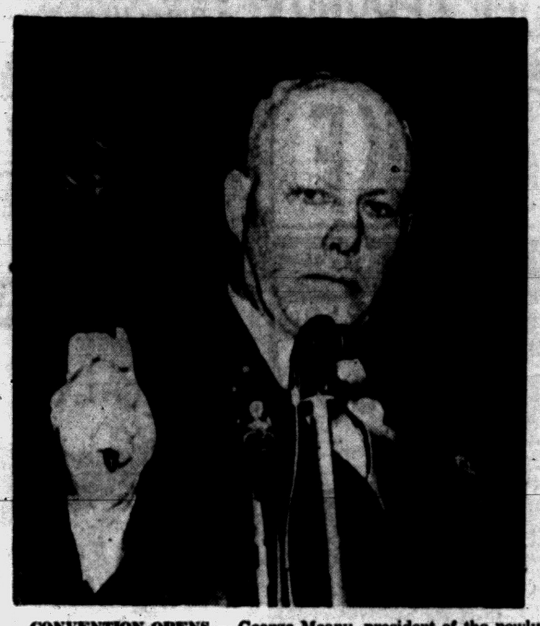

The village of Lamy is about 20 miles from the Mediterranean coast and almost beside the Tunisian frontier, in an area where the French have long been plagued by smuggling and gunrunning.

The French government took steps to continue tight security measures in Algeria despite the end of the previous "state of urgency" due to the dissolution of the French National Assembly.

The government published a decree giving broad powers to the governor general while making him accountable for their exercise to the next Assembly.

France's troubles also continued in Morocco. The once - outlawed Nationalist Istiqlal Independence party ended a three-day convention with a resolution calling for total independence. France hopes to work out a new treaty with the Moroccans under which she would retain control of the protectorate's defense and foreign relations.

Unions Meet as One

CONVENTION OPENS — George Meany, president of the newly merged AFL-CIO, called to order the giant labor organization's first convention, opened in New York City today. Former CIO President Walter P. Reuther joined Meany in pounding the gavel to launch the meeting. President Eisenhower is addressing the delegates by telephone.

Minor Officer Elections, Phone Address From Ike Highlight First Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — The founding convention of the newly merged AFL-CIO opened today in colorful and enthusiastic ceremonies at New York's 71st Regimental Armory.

Leaders of the former AFL and CIO, some long-time rivals but all now dedicated to work in a single 16-million-member federation, joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

George Meany and Walter Reuther, top men respectively in the now dissolved separate AFL and CIO, jointly called the proceedings to order by banging together an over-sized gavel on the rostrum.

The huge brightly lighted hall had a 40-foot banner featuring a new AFL-CIO insignia, the red and white stripes of the American flag and the legend "All trades, all crafts, all colors, all creeds—together!"

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, in welcoming the 1,400 delegates, said he was encouraged to see there were only a few "prophets of doom" on the merger's success.

"We should rejoice," Wagner said, "that most leaders in the industrial life of our country view with great hope what you do here today."

* * *

He said "Nervous Nellies" should read that part of the new AFL-CIO constitution which says the purpose of the merger is "achievement of ever higher living and working conditions."

Most of the morning session was set aside for election of officers for the new organization, with Meany due to be chosen as president.

Later in the day, President Eisenhower is expected to lay down Republican party policy in a growing debate among GOP leaders over organized labor's role in politics.

Eisenhower planned to speak to the first convention of the newly formed, 16-million-member AFL-CIO over a closed telephone circuit from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

The more than 1,400 delegates may hear what the President has to say on the issue of how far the powerful new union federation should go in taking political sides.

Some Republicans have said that the AFL-CIO will increase a previous union tendency of supporting the Democrats and eventually control that party.

Other Republicans have said organized labor has every right to participate in politics and the GOP should bid with the Democrats for union support.

Slippery Streets Snarl Traffic

'Mutual Affairs' to Be Discussed by 2 Leaders

President Issues Bid for Talks; Macmillan Coming, Too

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (INS) — President Eisenhower will meet with British Prime Minister Anthony Eden at the White House in Washington for high strategy talks on Jan. 30.

The announcement today by the temporary White House at Gettysburg said Eden is coming to Washington "at the invitation of the President."

No further explanation was given for the meeting between the two chiefs of State, which has been rumored for several weeks.

Presidential News Secretary James Hagerty told a news conference:

"The President of the United States has invited the British Prime Minister to spend a few days as his guest in Washington at the end of January."

"The invitation has been cordially accepted. The British foreign secretary, Harold Macmillan, will accompany the Prime Minister and they will arrive in Washington January 30."

'MUTUAL AFFAIRS'

Hagerty said the visit of the British leader will afford an opportunity for a discussion with Eisenhower of "mutual affairs."

He would not comment further on reasons for the conference when pressed by newsmen.

Hagerty said the invitation was sent by the President to Eden about a week ago and was accepted at the end of last week."

The White House aide was asked whether the Prime Minister had "Asked for the invitation" in view of news stories from London earlier reporting that Eden wanted to confer with Eisenhower.

He replied: "No. This is an invitation on behalf of the President to the Prime Minister."

The conference between the two leaders in Washington will be their first since the "meeting at the summit" in Geneva last July.

Noted Pioneer in Aviation Dies of Brain Hemorrhage

The 69-year-old founder of the Glenn L. Martin Co. was stricken by a cerebral hemorrhage yesterday morning at Glenmar, his big farm on Maryland's eastern shore. He died at University of Maryland Hospital in Baltimore.

On Aug. 1, 1909, he piloted the first airplane ever to leave the ground under its own power.

Nearly half a century later his gigantic company was picked by the government to make and launch the first man-made earth satellite.

In between, he was credited with being the first to develop a successful parachute which could be opened by the jumper at will, complete the first air mail flight, and make the first extended flight over ocean water.

His company claimed the construction of the first multipassenger airplane, twin-engine bomber, torpedo and dive bombers, supercargo ship, ground-to-air guided missile and many other innovations.

Martin built his first plane in an abandoned church at Santa Ana, Calif. It was a flimsy contraption of bamboo and wooden frame covered with sailcloth and powered by an automobile motor.

For the first few years his "factory" was a shoestring operation supported in part by prize money earned as a barnstorming pilot and famous stunt flier. He even worked as a villain in a Mary Pickford movie to get money.

In 1929 he built the Middle River plant at Baltimore, later added another at Omaha, Neb. His company announced last week still another will go up near Denver, Colo. The firm's annual payroll is now 92 million dollars.

Martin resigned as president of his company in 1949. He stepped down as board chairman three years later but remained a director and principal stockholder.

Pete Elliott Offered Nebraska Grid Post

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Pete Elliott, Oklahoma backfield coach, has been offered the head football coaching job at the University of Nebraska but will make no decision on the offer until after Oklahoma's Orange Bowl date with Maryland Jan. 2.

The disclosure came at a news conference today attended by Elliott and Nebraska Athletic Director Bill Orwig.

U.S. Launching 'Open Sky' Move

Lodge Tells U.N. Plan Will 'Set Seal Against War Itself'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States launched its fight today for U.N. Assembly endorsement of President Eisenhower's "open sky" inspection plan as a first step toward disarmament and a ban on nuclear weapons.

* * *

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U.S. delegate, told the Assembly Political Committee that the Eisenhower plan to exchange aerial inspection rights and defense blueprints between the Soviet Union and the United States would rule out surprise attacks and "may set a seal against war itself."

He challenged the Soviet Union to drop its opposition to the plan before the Assembly's scheduled end next week and join the West "in a policy of openness which would reassure the world and advance the cause of disarmament."

Lodge posed this question:

"Why, if the Soviet Union is sincere in its concern about the possibility of attack from the West, is it not willing to join in an immediate practical program to proscribe further attack by either side?"

* * *

Lodge said that if the Soviet Union now withdrew its opposition, it would not be the first time it had changed its position on new proposals. He called for acceptance of a U.S.-British-French-Canadian resolution which would give priority in new disarmament subcommittee debates to the Eisenhower plan, and to French and British suggestions for inspection and controls.

Federal School Aid Near, Delegate Schimmel Says

Pontiac's delegate to the White House Conference on Education, who returned from Washington Saturday, said today federal aid for schools is coming, "but not on a flat pork barrel basis."

Louis H. Schimmel, president of the Pontiac Board of Education, said he believed the federal money will be distributed without any attempt at federal control of schools.

"America is not going to surrender local control of the schools," he said in summing up the results as he sees them of the four-day conference which ended last Thursday.

Schimmel said the conference was "very worthwhile" and resulted in "much better understanding and more tolerance" among people with conflicting views on how the current educational problems should be solved.

Throughout the meeting Schimmel took the position that federal aid money should be extended only to poorer states that need it to bring the educational program offered children up to the level of richer states.

Michigan, he contended, does not need such assistance.

Schimmel conceded that "federal support is in the picture." But he added it was the "overwhelming sentiment" of the conference that such aid must be equalized among states on a basis of need and not distributed in flat grants.

"It was the consensus of two thirds of the conference that federal funds are needed for school construction but only about half the delegates favored such assistance for paying teacher salaries, buying textbooks and for other operating expenses.

Schimmel, however, predicted federal aid will not be limited to school building. The classroom shortage is a temporary problem but the cost of operating schools is a permanent one, he said.

Georgia Regents OK Bowl Game

Drop Segregation Ban for Out-of-State Games; Maintained at Home

ATLANTA (INS)—Georgia Tech was granted approval today to play Pittsburgh in the Sugar Bowl a New Orleans Jan. 2.

The State Board of Regents—policy - making authority for Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia—established as a matter of policy that athletic teams from the state may participate in contests outside the state "within the laws and customs of that state."

The action, after a three-day furor, left the athletic relations of Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia exactly where they were before Gov. Marvin Griffin asked for a ban on all participation where segregation was not practiced on the playing field and in the stands, with one exception.

The resolution, adopted after a brief open discussion, and a long "executive" session, establishes firmly that all athletic contests played wthin Georgia "shall be hed in conformity with the constitution, laws and customs and traditions of the state."

Guards Patrol Williams' Home

'Prankster' Tells Nancy Explosives Are Planted in Governor's Mansion

LANSING (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams' home in the state capital here has been under 24-hour guard since Nov. 26 when a telephone caller twice warned the governor's wife, Nancy, that a bomb was hidden in the building, State Police disclosed today.

Troopers failed to find a trace of explosions in two thorough searches.

Mrs. Williams said she could not tell whether the calls came from a man or a woman. The voice was muffled "as if a cloth had been put over the mouthpiece," police quoted her as saying.

The first call came at 10 a.m. (EST), Mrs. Williams told police. The caller said the device was timed to explode at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Williams said the tipster told her the bomb had been put in the house Thanksgiving Day, two days earlier, while the family was in Grosse Pointe Farms outside Detroit at the home of the governor's mother.

Mrs. Williams called State Police who took her and her three children, Nancy, Gary and Wendy, to the home of a friend.

After the fruitless search Mrs. Williams returned.

When the second call came, shortly after noon, Mrs. Williams said the caller exclaimed in an excited voice: "For God's sake get out with the children."

The governor and his family have stayed at the home every night despite the threat, police said.

Lt. Thomas H. Grant, heading the investigation, said he is not convinced the threat came from a prankster.

Grant quoted Mrs. Williams as saying the Communist Party was mentioned in her conversation with the tipster, although it was not clear whether the tipster claimed membership in the party.

Christmas Tie for Dad? Here Are Tips on Style

By JANET ODELL

It's Father who pay the bills. This year we're going to discuss his Christmas gifts first of all, instead of leaving him to the last.

Although we know one man who wants a hundred ties for Christmas, there aren't many who do. Just in case you are buying a tie for the important man in your life, you'll want to know what's in style.

According to the buyer in one man's store, small spaced patterns are as popular as they were last year. Stripes and plaids are also good. Ties are narrower than they have been in the past.

Sport shirts have come into their own — but as often for a man's leisure hours as for actual sports events. One black and red plaid shirt has the look and feel of wool, although it is washable rayon. Others are of fine cotton or wool. Continental styling, with broader collars, is high fashion for these shirts.

Warm flannel nightwear has been in use for many generations. But Grandpa never wore nightshirts with the wild patterns of today's versions. One store features night shirts, night caps, pajamas and "footies" all in the same bright pattern.

Consider the sports interests of the man for whom you're buying a gift. Even children with limited gift budgets can afford practice golf balls or a new key ring, complete with a rabbit's foot set in gilt mesh.

If he's a traveling man, he'll like a travel alarm clock in a leather case. Another handy gadget for the traveler is a clothes brush with a leather top that zips open. Inside there's a comb, a shoe horn, nail clippers, nail file and tweezers.

Report Says Police Force Above Average

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

NEW YORK — Recent concern over the rise in crime and juvenile delinquency has caused a sharper look to be taken at the degree of police protection provided in the cities of the nation, including Pontiac.

Statistics on the subject, covering over 1,000 cities in the United Stated with population above 10,000, have been presented by the International City Managers Association.

In Pontiac, the data shows, there is a larger police force, in proportion to population, than is found in most of the cities. As of the beginning of this year there were on the city payroll 123 full time police department employes, of which 13 were civilian workers.

This was equivalent to 1.58 employes for every 1,000 residents. It was more than was found in most of the other cities, the median being 1.46 per 1,000.

But Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley today said that 15 of the 123 employes now are civilian workers.

He pointed out that Pontiac, being a highly industrialized city, needs more police protection than the average city. "We should have 1.7 policemen for every 1,000 citizens," he said adding:

"On the basis of this proportion, I called for 18 more uniformed policemen in the new budget."

He declared that in addition to Pontiac residents, the department is charged with protection of many thousands of non-residents, who spend up to 18 hours a day in the city, working, doing business, shopping and seeking amusement.

Including these people, about 110,000 persons are protected by Pontiac Police every day, he estimated.

He called attention to a comparison also made in the survey as to the cost of policing.

In Pontiac it is considerably less than in most cities. It amounted, in 1954, to $574,000, equal to a per capita outlay for each resident of the city of $7.00. The national median was $9.15 per capita. Among cities of its size it was $7.42.

The cost figures include new equipment and all other expenditures except payments by cities into pension or retirement funds or payments to retired employes.

"Citizens of Pontiac are getting more protection for their money, and I think we can be proud of this," Straley stated.

Police departments generally, states the report, have come to recognize that foot patrol is their principal crime prevention arm. In a number of cities the effectiveness of patrol has been increased by more complete motorization and by the use of two-way radio communication.

Although not disagreeing, the City Managers Association notes that more police does not always mean more protection. In various communities, it states, there are special traffic or other local conditions that require larger staffs.

Detroit Papers Remain Closed

Negotiation Talks Today May Bring End to Five Day Stereotyper Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Negotiators were to make a new attempt today to end an AFL stereotypers strike which has kept Detroit's three metropolitan daily newspapers closed down since last Thursday.

* * *

Striking Stereotypers Local 9 and the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Assn. were to renew negotiations at 2 p.m. EST broken off Saturday after a third post-strike bargaining session.

The city's newspaper famine continued, except as relieved by the Detroit Reporter, a daily started Saturday by the Detroit Newspaper Guild and printing craft unions. It ran an 8-page edition of 100,000 copies Sunday; the same size today.

James H. Sampson, international vice president of the stereotypers union, was scheduled to sit in on today's bargaining session.

COSTS SKY HIGH

George Robinson, Local 9 president, declared "we are no closer together than when the strike began," and took issue with a publishers' statement that "the stereotypers, in effect, are demanding prohibitive production costs be added to costs which already are sky high."

Stereotypers walked out at the morning Free Press and afternoon News and Times at 4:30 a.m. Thursday, following expiration of their contract at midnight Wednesday.

Other craft unions refused to cross picket lines, shutting down the dailies which employ around 4,500 and have a circulation of about 1,400,000 daily. There are 116 stereotypers.

* * *

One of the union's new contract demands is that members be paid overtime for work done in advance on future editions and that color work be done at overtime rates by stereotypers called in especially to handle the job.

25-Car Crash Hurts 13 on Jersey Pike

SWEDESBORO, N. J. (AP) — Twenty-five cars piled up end to end last night on the New Jersey Turnpike, causing minor injuries to 13 persons, after one car stopped without pulling off the southbound lane.

State police said the driver of the first car was not hit and drove on. Twenty of the other cars had to be towed away.

Troopers said the pileup occurred near here when a car braked to avoid hitting the stopped vehicle. Traffic was backed up for four miles before the road could be cleared.

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. plans to send an opera company on a tour next fall to major cities in the United States and eastern Canada. David Sarnoff, board chairman of NBC, said experience with televised operas showed such demand for opera that the touring NBC company was organized.

Hal Boyle Says:

Charles Boyer Despises His 'Lover' Tag

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Boyer doesn't mind what you call him—just so you don't call him "The last of the continental lovers."

"I never liked that reputation," he said, then added with a wry smile:

"And now I can't live up to it. Age has taken care of that.

* * *

"Actually, I really have done only a few highly romantic roles, but the lover tag stuck to me for some reason. I've been plagued by it, not flattered by it. It is silly to be labeled a 'continental lover,' and I never accepted the label."

* * *

In private life the veteran actor, surprisingly youthful looking after more than a quarter century on stage and screen, lives an intercontinental romance. He is married to Pat Patterson, a British actress.

Like many another Hollywood star, Boyer has responded to the golden call of television. He now produces 10 dramas a year for "Four Star Playhouse," a CBS network program.

The new medium has been demanding. He made some 60 films in 25 years in Hollywood, but turned out 33 shows in his first four years in television.

* * *

"Finding the material is the big headache," he said. "They are making some 6,000 TV films a year, and it is getting more and more difficult to find good stories.

* * *

"The public is wise to all the old plots. They can guess the ending before it happens. The public likes to be surprised, but it is very hard to surprise anymore. The public has become more sophisticated.

"The thing I like best about TV work is the freedom. We are more on our own. While it is troublesome to find something new and good, at least we don't have to do what we don't like."

Boyer, who returned recently from shooting some exterior scenes in Paris, hopes to bring to Broadway next fall a new French play called "Ornifle," a title which he said "doesn't mean anything. It's just a name."

The actor retains a kind of ageless charm which seems largely to spring from a perfect sense of courtesy to others. He has what, for lack of a better word, we used to describe back in Missouri as—"politesse." It is with him a visible quality and shows in his every movement. He is a man whose perfect manners are a pleasure to watch. He is always poised and pleasant.

I asked him if he had any secret of youth to pass on to the rest of us tired, middle-aged lovers. He laughed, pointed at a tray containing two big red apples, and said:

* * *

Boyer, who became a naturalized citizen during the last war, has never lost a feeling of gratitude toward his adopted land. Most movie stars like to grouse "off the record" about how the income tax laws are murdering them. Boyer doesn't.

* * *

An acquaintance tells this story about Boyer. He made a picture for which he received $205,000, but the income taxes came to $134,000. A co-star told Boyer it was a shame and an outrage that Uncle Sam would let him keep only $71,000 of his $205,000.

"I can remember when I was a little boy in my native France we often had only one rabbit a week to eat," Boyer replied, "and $71,000 will buy me a lot of rabbits."

He Won't Forget

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP)—There's one dog that Patrolman Herman J. Kuhn won't forget to include in his report on the city's canine population. Kuhn was out taking the annual census the other day when a stray bulldog bit him on the right arm and ripped a gash in the coat of his uniform.

Last year, over 9,000 patients passed by Cashier Elizabeth Porter's window to pay their bills before leaving the hospital. Says Mrs. Porter: "Here at our hospital, most patients have Blue Cross—and of these, Blue Cross covers the entire bill for about five out of every seven!"

... says Mrs. Elizabeth Porter, Statistician and Chief Cashier, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Detroit

"About seven out of every ten patients who, on their way home, stop at this window to ask for their hospital bills, have Blue Cross - Blue Shield.

"To at least five out of every seven of these Blue Cross patients I have the pleasure of saying: 'No bill. Blue Cross covers it all.'

"I wish you could see the faces of some of these people when they hear the words: 'No bill.' Particularly those who have been in the hospital a long time and are worried.

"A few Blue Cross patients use services not covered by their contracts and have to pay something out of their pockets. But it seldom amounts to very much."

Christmas Parade a Huge Success

Inclement weather put a partial damper on Pontiac's Christmas Parade Saturday morning. Even with intermittent showers, spectators turned out in the neighborhood of 30 thousand, which proves that the spirit of Christmas lives regardless of weather conditions.

Parade Marshal John A. Riley expressed appreciation and thanks to everyone that did such a magnificent job in spite of adverse weather conditions. Mr. Riley said, "The parade this year is one of the best we have ever had."

The parade that Pontiac sponsors with complete participation from schools, civic organizations, business organizations and churches certainly deserves praise.

Not only the grown-ups that actively participated in making the floats but also the children that took part as characters in depicting the Christmas scenes deserve appreciation from all Oakland County.

The turnout for Pontiac's Christmas parade indicates that the true spirit of Christmas is not forgotten.

Christmas will continue.

Parades will continue.

★ ★ ★

Locally sponsored parades celebrating the birthday of CHRIST point up an intelligent and spiritual approach to the coming holiday.

Death Toll 2,000

Michigan State Police reports indicate that two thousand lives will be lost in traffic accidents in Michigan during 1955.

This is a terrible price to pay for recklessness, carelessness, excessive speed, and all the other factors that go into accidents on our highways.

One fact must be kept in mind when figures for successive years are compared. Every year more people are using our roads. Our own population is increasing. Our tourist traffic from outside the State likewise is increasing.

Thus in the first nine months this year mileage traveled hit 22.1 billion miles, up nearly nine per cent above the same period last year. The death rate of 6.4 deaths per hundred million miles of travel was up only two per cent.

However, the increasing number of cars is only another reason for using increasing caution. These figures from the State Police should make every driver more careful.

Two hundred and four persons were killed in traffic accidents during October. This was thirty-seven more than died in the same month last year. The total for the first nine months stands at 1,614.

State traffic deaths have topped 2,000 in three previous years. They totaled 2,175 in 1937, and 2,133 in 1941. Only a remarkable record during the holiday season can keep us below the 2,000 mark this year.

Junior College

Suggestion of the Rev. Father S. A. GOUVELLIS that Pontiac should have a junior college merits consideration by the members of the Board of Education.

Such an institution would make it possible for those high school graduates who so desired to secure their first two years of college education while still living at home. This would mean a decided financial saving, as well as greater convenience. It would also, undoubtedly, provide additional cultural opportunities to the entire community.

Pontiac school officials in the past have felt that there was not sufficient demand for a junior college to make one financially feasible. Large universities are available in Detroit, Ann Arbor and East Lansing. Many students prefer to go away to college.

However, it may well be that with the tremendous growth in population, more young people now would be interested in such a program.

One of the problems would be financial. Teachers and supervisors would have to be paid.

Another would be housing. Possibly this could be handled in existing public school buildings, although here again rapid growth in population has made it increasingly difficult for the Board of Education to provide increased facilities as rapidly as they are required.

Would such a program be economically sound?

The Man About Town

Christmas Trees

Traffic in Them Also Is Making an Early Start

Fool: What no woman can make of a man—unless she has his help.

Also taking an extra early start on the holiday season this year is the Christmas tree traffic through Oakland County. While many of the trees now used here are raised in our own county, most of those for Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and several other large cities come from the upper part of the lower peninsula of Michigan, and are hauled through here. Truckloads, each bearing from 100 to 1,000 or more trees, now are passing at the rate of about one every five minutes.

Seedlings planted on land in the Pontiac area 15 to 20 years ago now are being cut for Christmas trees. Since they were set out on a systematic checkerboard fashion, they have grown in a symmetrical manner, and make much more beautiful trees than the limbs from large trees or the one-sided pine saplings cut in northern Michigan undergrowth.

There is yet considerable rough, uncultivated land in Oakland County that is yielding little revenue to its owners. Tree experts tell me that Christmas trees thrive on such soil, need practically no attention, and grow into a paying crop in a few years.

In His Own Backyard

David Lawrence Says:

Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights Might Well Investigate These Allegations

WASHINGTON—The Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights has just closed its public hearings after giving most of its time to the discussion of the problems of the pinks and subversives, the security risks and the Communists and those who have been wrongfully accused of associating with Communist-front organizations. Almost all other constitutional rights and their abuses were ignored.

* * *

No time was given to violations of constitutional rights suffered by loyal citizens kept from working by labor-union monopolies. I am in receipt of a letter written by a Protestant minister of the New York metropolitan area. It tells how the "closed shop" monopoly touched his early life. It is a viewpoint which Congressional committees are afraid to seek out but which fortunately, under a free press, can be published.

The letter reads as follows:

"When I was a young man of twenty years, I had finished my first year at college. I was looking for a job for the summer. I applied at the office of a big newspaper in my home town and was told that I could not get a job with the paper unless I 'joined the union' and also that I 'couldn't join the union just then because the rolls were full and there was a waiting list.'

"The same man told me that even the son of the owner or of one of the high officers of the newspaper could not get a job on the paper any other way. Now I had sold this particular newspaper as a newsboy when I was small and I knew some of the men who were on the payroll when I made my application but none of that was of any avail.

TOO MANY IN FIELD

"Second, a few years ago I was a patient in a veterans' hospital. A young man came and showed us 16-mm movies by way of entertainment. He was assigned there by the U. S. O. by way of union headquarters.

"Casually I asked him how I could get one of those jobs when I got out of the hospital. He said I couldn't. I asked why. He said that I would have to be an experienced movie operator and belong to the union. I said I would be willing to learn and I asked him where I could learn. He said I couldn't get to learn because the union was not allowing any more men to learn because there were too many in the field already.

"That was too much. Of course I knew that he had overstepped the bounds of all reason. As soon as I was out of the hospital I learned how to operate a movie projector and bought a machine for my church groups and have shown many a picture to 'my kids' and have kept them busy and out of mischief. I really had no intention of learning how to operate a machine with the idea of doing it to make a living as such, but the thought that a man like that could tell me what I could not do really made me upset. My forebears came to this country in colonial times and fought to obtain certain 'inalienable rights.' Now men of this type tell us that we 'can't do it.'

IS THAT FREEDOM?

"Third a few years before World War II being then a chaplain in the U. S. Army Reserve Corps I was on the committee on arrangements for the national convention of our chaplains association which was to meet in New York. The Salvation Army offered to furnish the band music free of charge if we could get permission from the hotel to play there. The hotel company was willing if we could get permission from the musicians union. Did we get it? We did not.

"Now I ask you is that freedom? It would not have deprived any musicians of a job because without free music we could not have any at all because our budget did not provide for band music at any price. The Salvation Army was willing to serve free of charge out of gratitude for the help we have as clergymen and as chaplains always given to the Army. No, the union had to be paid for standbys while the 'free' music was being played. Is that freedom?

"Illustrations of this sort could be carried on ad infinitum, as you well know. I do not wish to be misunderstood. I am for the working man, anyone who wants to work.

"I favor the organization of working men to obtain certain unalienable rights. The right to bargain is certainly one of them, but the right to exclude any man from earning an honest living for himself and his family is certainly against American principles.

* * *

"The subject is such a large one that it cannot be gone into very far here, but I am sure that I have millions of fellow Americans with me in these thoughts."

Smiles

Another season for taking down screens, putting up storm windows and cleaning house. And dad's the fall guy!

Jail rioters in a Kentucky town used musical instruments as weapons. Their idea was to blow.

Conversation among women would probably be cut in half if they said only things of importance.

Forgetfulness is a virtue only when you forget the grievances you have against other people.

Another thing healthy about breathing through the nose is that it makes you keep your mouth shut.

Older Persons May Plan Fine Future of Full Activity

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

So you're on your second 40-year lap? There are older folks, or younger ones, to worry about? Or have you only yourself, that wretched one who rattles about the place after the young ones fly off?

However, it may be you owe it to yourself and your loved ones to take stock, now. How will it be, from here on in?

You probably had some help or advice when you learned how to prepare for your job, whether it was housekeeping or engineering. You accepted, be it grudgingly, some advice in raising your children.

Would a bit of outside help in planning for your later years be amiss? They're long years, could be wonderful years. Why not take a peek from here?

A useful aid in this process is a fine book written well by Edward Stieglitz, M. D. Find it at the public library or order it from the bookseller. But read it.

Perhaps your youngsters haven't fled the nest and you're tied up with plans for hteir futures? Watch out. Perhaps your business or professional cares are so great that you haven't a moment to notice where you are in your life span?

Shortly the aging process will begin to manifest itself. There is a way to prevent the panic that aging often brings even to those who least expect it.

It's like the way the Britons learned to meet the bombings. Each citizen had his duties outlined, so that in emergency he acted, and in the performance of his planned outline, he achieved self-protection and maintained his equilibrium.

Remember, in 1940, only 17 per cent of Americans were over 45 years old. Today over 30 per cent are over 45. In 1980, over 40 per cent will be. Will that 40 per cent be useful and fit? Read Dr. Stieglitz!

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Infers Ulterior Motives in Giving Savings Stamps

I see where some "patriotic" merchants are giving away savings stamps with food purchases to encourage the building of a strong America. How nice.

Just whom do they think they're kidding? Why don't they come right out and say, "We're giving away saving stamps to encourage the public to come in and spend more money at our place of business."

Take it from me, before you get out of some of these "give-away" places, your "gift" will come rather expensive. And they're congratulated by the masters and congressmen, yet.

Newsprint Price Raises Threaten Small Papers

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Survival sometimes motivates corporate mergers and consolidations.

* * *

In integration, which brings all steps from raw materials to finished product under one corporate roof, the incentive is assurance of the flow of essential supplies.

This is dramatized in the current newsprint situation. Canadian mills, having been through an extraordinarily prosperous period of high earnings, have marked up the price again, and this price policy constitutes a threat to the institution of a free press, particularly among marginal publications near the break even point.

Uninterrupted publication is not possible without a continuous flow of the product from the mills. Only a few publishers have had money and foresight to protect their supply source with mill ownership.

Several pioneer mills have been erected in the South and the outlook is for further investment in domestic newsprint mills to produce newsprint from slash pine trees, instead of from traditional spruce.

THE BALANCE LENDERS

During the depression, financial institutions — life insurance companies and savings banks — took over properties from their owners in wholesale quantities through foreclosure. Too frequently there was too little sympathetic understanding of the temporary plight of owners.

Then, having foreclosed, the institutions were under pressure from the regulatory authorities to end their equity, or ownership position through the sale of the property to new owners, who would in turn assume mortgage obligations.

The record shows that of balance lenders, who were icy cold to the original borrowers, were unduly lenient toward new owners.

In many instances, the equity was acquired for a nominal amount, and in addition, fixed charges were sometimes scaled down. This new generosity made many favored ones rich through windfall arrangements.

WINDFALL GIFT

In addition, under the New Deal, when the Reconstruction Finance Corporation stepped in with fresh capital for financial institutions whose capital had been impaired, it took preferred stock for the contribution of taxpayers' funds, leaving the equity, or common, shares, in the hands of the original owners, whose capital had really been wiped out.

This was another windfall gift, for it left the old common stockowners with a contingent claim on recoveries on temporarily impaired assets and earnings in excess of the new capital supplied by the governmental agency. Then in due course, the preferred stock was called for redemption, and the former owners were enriched through the cooperation of the taxpayers.

Obviously, there had been a problem, it would have been destructive to our concept of a private enterprise system to have kept the RFC as a permanent investor in bank and insurance company shares.

But since the new capital alone kept impaired institutions alive and solvent, the supplier of the new money was entitled to a substantial share of the resultant benefits. If recognition of this required giving equity, or common, stock to the RFC, arrangements could have been made to put a time limit on the period during which the shares could have been held.

* * *

Provision could have been made for forcing the RFC to liquidate its holdings to private investors according to a predetermined time schedule. But this was not done, and the very political "radicals," who purported to be champions of the "common man," were in fact enriching special interests.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Beware of Using Slang; It Encourages Lazy Thinking, Is Cousin to Vulgarity

Louise wants to know why men object to their girl friends' use of slang. So study the answer very carefully. And use Mr. Archibald's example in your English classes. For your words are the apparel of your mind. So never permit your thoughts to parade in shoddy or improper attire. Clothe them with precision and good taste.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, what's wrong with using slang?" she asked directly, after I had addressed her high school assembly.

"For example, I notice in your 'Test for the Girl Friend' that slang is listed as a demerit.

"So why do you consider it as a fault?"

BEWARE SLANG

Well, I simply reported the findings of about 1,100 engaged young men when I compiled that "Test for the Girl Friend."

And the men vetoed the excessive use of slang by the girls they were planning to marry.

* * *

Although I didn't ask them their reasons at the time we conducted that specific survey to develop the "Test for the Girl Friend," I had polled many young people previously regarding slang.

And one of the main reasons why men object to excessive slang on the lips of their sweethearts, is the fact that slang is usually rough language and hence is masculinizing in its effect.

Excessive slang is thus a first cousin to profanity, vulgarity, smoking and the use of alcohol.

But we psychologists can give you another excellent reason why the undue use of slang is unwise. It encourages lazy thinking. It stunts precise thought.

For you may employ a slang word in a dozen different settings to avoid the keen analysis required to state your idea perfectly.

WORDS ARE TOOLS

Words are tools for exact thinking, so be sure you use the proper term to express your real meaning.

Karl Archibald was recently visiting our country from his home in London, and said that Americans thus employ the word "fix" in far too many places.

"My host asks me how I'd like my drink fixed," Mr. Archibald began, "when he really meant 'mixed'.

"Then my hostess urges us to hurry to the table because dinner is all fixed, but she really means 'prepared.'

"Later, my host tells me he must get a flat tire fixed, when he means 'repaired.'

"A guest adds that he is on a fixed income, when he means a steady or unchanging salary.

"Others say they want to fix something to the wall, when they mean 'attach.'

"In anger, a man may also say he is going to fix his enemy, when he intended to say 'get revenge.'

MENTAL APPAREL

Since the words that tumble from your lips are really the apparel of your mind, be sure your thoughts do not parade before the public in shoddy or improper attire.

And don't attempt to clothe your thoughts in the same meager fashion as the person who uses "fix" for a dozen different meanings. That's like employing a bathing suit for church, as well as an office secretarial job, etc.

Since slang encourages half-way thinking, avoid it for the most part. Oh, you may employ "Darn!" as a safety valve to vent emotion, but don't stifle precise thinking by an excessive use of slang.

And send for the "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit), to learn what the opposite sex really thinks of you.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

We Pause Now for —a Crashing Auto

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Moss learned it's not even safe to spend a Saturday night at home watching television.

While the Mosses sat looking at the TV screen an automobile crashed into their living room. The car, out of control, passed between the surprised couple who were sitting on opposite sides of the room. The uninvited guest swept a large divan, a chair and stove along with it before coming to rest at the other end of the living room.

Neither the driver nor the Mosses were hurt. Damage was estimated at $500. The car had caromed into the Moss home after sideswiping another auto outside.

One-fifth of all U. S. trucks were exported in 1954.

Boy Burns to Death in Game of Cowboys

PHILADELPHI A (AP)—Lawrence Booth, 14, was burned to death accidentally yesterday by four companions with whom he was playing cowboys in suburban Drexel Hill, police said.

Booth, playing the part of the "bad man," had barricaded himself in a wooden shack when a posse came after him.

The others decided to "smoke him out," and lighted some straw mattress stuffing at several points around the shack, said Detective Sgt. Chester Souders.

The boy was not able to get out of the shack, which was swiftly enveloped in flames, and his companions were unable to help him.

Santa and the Dumdiddy

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

AP Newsfeatures

Chapter One
THE BIG FUSS

Once upon a time there lived a little boy called Beanie. He had a sister named Betsy. Beanie and Betsy fought all the time.

When they got up in the morning they started arguing right away over who would read the paper first. At breakfast they argued over who could eat the most pancakes. After breakfast, they fought over whose turn it was to take the dog for a walk.

And so it went. Fussing and arguing all day long.

* * *

Now, it was very near Christmas and the children's mother was worn out with hearing this awful fighting in the house day after day. So she said, "If you children don't stop this terrible fussing there's just not going to be any Christmas at this house."

This worried little Betsy because she loved Christmas better than anything in the whole world. So she said, "I'll stop fighting, mother. In fact, I'm going to shut myself in my room right now and work on my Christmas presents."

But Beanie wasn't worried. He said, "Aw, who cares about Christmas? I sure don't."

"Why, Beanie!" exclaimed his mother. "Whatever do you mean by saying such a thing?"

"I mean I don't like all that giving and stuff," said Beanie. "I like birthdays much better. Then I don't have to give away anything."

"But, Beanie, Christmas is a time for giving—not for getting. It's fun to give things to your cousins and your friends. And it's fun for them to give to you."

* * *

"Well, no one ever give me as good as I give," retorted Beanie. "And even Christmas dinner, when I think I'm going to have plenty of turkey and pie just for once, why, we always gotta have company and I never have thirds on anything!"

"You're a pig," said Betsy.

"Your're a pinhead!" shouted Beanie.

"Children!" cried the mother. She was beginning to be very angry.

Betsy ran away to work on Christmas gifts but Beanie threw himself on the sofa and put his feet up on the wall.

"Beanie, put your feet down at once!" ordered his mother.

"There you go," said Beanie. "Always picking on me. Nothing I do is right."

He stomped out of the room. He went upstairs and leaned down to look through the keyhole into his sister's room.

"Look at the little angel making Christmas presents!" he scoffed. "She thinks she's Santa's little helper!"

"Mother!" Betsy threw open the door. "He's bothering me!"

Mother came up the stairs. There were tears in her eyes. "Really," she said to Beanie. "You are ruining Christmas for all of us. I don't know what is the matter with you. Go in your room."

* * *

Beanie went in his room. He lay on his bed. He thought about how he was always in trouble and that everything always was blamed on him—or so it seemed to him.

That's why his birthday was the best day in the year—much better than Christmas—because then no one fussed at him and everything was for him alone and did not have to be shared with anyone.

Suddenly Beanie sat up. He thought:

"I'll run away! I'll run away until all this Christmas stuff is over!"

He ran into Betsy's room to get his hat from under the bed where it had been thrown during a fight. Betsy was sitting on the floor making something out of clay.

The figure had a fat round body and a teeny head stuck on top and no neck at all. One arm was longer than the other and the legs had little bumps on them for feet.

"That's a big fat mess!" snorted Beanie.

"Is not!" cried Betsy. A dreamy look came into her eyes and she said softly, "It's a Dumdiddy and I'm giving it to Santa for Christmas!"

(Next: Running Away)

"I READ IT FIRST!"—Beanie and Betsy fought all the time. When they got up in the morning they started arguing over who would read the paper first. And so it went—fussing and arguing all day long.

Germans Cheer Ersatz Coffee as Tasty Bargain

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The ersatz coffee of wartime is a big seller now in Germany.

Some people prefer its taste to the real thing, but its biggest appeal is the price, less than a tenth that of real coffee. The latter, imported from South and Central America, costs $2.40-$4.75 a pound, depending on the grade.

During World War II, the substitute coffee was made from roasted barley or oats, mixed with sugar beets or sweet turnips.

Barley is still the principal ingredient but manufacturers have improved the flavor. Ersatz also has been made available in "instant" form. Many users believe it is healthier than coffee.

Ethiopian Leader to Receive Yacht as Gift From Tito

BELGRADE (AP)—President Tito is en route to Ethiopia to repay a visit from Emperor Haile Selassie. He will deliver a gift made when the emperor visited Yugoslavia more than a year ago. It is a 100-foot steel yacht launched this summer and named Brioni after Tito's secluded island in the northern adriatic.

Tito is traveling in his flagship Galeb, forming with the gift yacht a two-ship convoy for the journey through the Suez Canal and down into the Red Sea.

The gift yacht can make 20 knots. Three apartments will accommodate 10 persons. The vessel is furnished with Yugoslav rugs and is air conditioned. Sitting rooms have radio sets, phonographs and tape recorders. Radar, sounding equipment and powerful radio transmitters are part of the most modern devices available for safe sailing on the craft.

Infra-red broilers will roast the meat. Storage space for 6,600 pounds of food is part of the galley.

Goes on Rabbit Hunt; Brings Home Alligator

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (INS)—Nicholas Lozipone of Syracuse went rabbit hunting but had no luck. On the way home a friend offered him a two-foot alligator which Lozipone thought might help him "save face" and provide a family pet.

The alligator had other ideas. He refused to stay in a washtub and kept snapping its jaws at the children while prowling the cellar. As a result, the municipal zoo got a new attraction — the alligator brought home from the rabbit hunt.

Razor-Wielding Chicagoan Held

Police Arrest Shipping Clerk Who Terrorized Saloon Patrons

CHICAGO (AP)—Five saloon patrons—"too scared" to resist—were taken on a wild ride west of Chicago by a young man who brandished a razor.

Before abducting the three men and two women in a stolen taxicab early yesterday, Pat Dillon, 25, terrorized a South Side saloon and slashed two men who tried to quiet him, police said.

* * *

N OFORMAL CHARGE

Authorities held Dillon, a native of Colorado Springs, Colo., without formal charge. They said he admitted the escapade.

Police Lt. James Keeley gave this version:

Dillon started to get quarrelsome in the saloon and the owner, Anthony Miskinis, 44, and a patron, John Doran, 28, tried to quiet him.

* * *

Afterwards he went outside, commandeered at razor-point the taxicab of Mont Anderson, 48, and ordered Mrs. Shirley Naddy, 26; Riley Menier, 21; Robert Nelson, 37, Nelson's wife Marion, 33, and Anderson, to accompany him.

Anderson escaped near Warrensville, 25 miles west of Chicago. Dillon later released the Nelsons and Menier. Keeley said Mrs. Naddy was freed near Elgin, Ill.

Dillon works in the shipping department of a Chicago appliance company. He was arrested at the home of a girl friend.

Mrs. Molly Higgins, of Dublin, cheery of smile and trim of appearance, won the title of Ireland's most glamorous grandmother, at a County Meath vacation camp. She won from 20 rivals and will go to Brighton, England, to compete for a challenge cup.

PLAYING STORE — In tune with mid-century's high prices, this equipment includes play money with a bundle of $1,000 bills and denominations up to $25,000. This model boasts spring type drawer.

Sportscaster Speaks at Lions Club Fete

The part sports play in fostering the freedoms of assembly, speech, religion and opportunity was pointed out recently by sportscaster Paul "Dizzy" Trout speaking before the Pontiac Lions Club in the Hotel Waldron.

Trout stressed the importance of participation in sports as the best way to combat delinquency and emphasized the need for more adult support and encouragement.

At the meeting, the club passed a resolution pledging support of the mounting campaign for better highway safety.

Train-Auto Crash Kills 6 Persons; Tot Lives

GREENVILLE, S.C., (AP)—A train moving 75 m.p.h. smashed into a car at a grade crossing yesterday, killing six persons.

The only survivor in the car was a 10-month-old baby. None of the passengers aboard the Southern Railway's Crescent, headed for New York, was injured.

Fabulous Aquatic Heaven Is Florida's New Wonder

SARASOTA, Fla. (INS) — The doors swung open this past weekend on Florida's latest "miracle," a four-million dollar aquatic paradise officially dubbed "Sunshine Springs and Gardens."

The new tourist attraction is located some six miles southeast of the west coast city of Sarasota and features 20 acres of exotic tropical gardens, a huge man-made lake and a 900-foot long "water stage," where four aquatic shows will be conducted daily.

The project is the brainchild of Leonard W. Tanner, a 29-year-old millionaire who made his money in real estate ventures stretching from Maine to Florida.

MIRACLE SPEED

Some 2,000 persons are expected for the opening, which falls exactly 246 days after the cattle were chased from the former ranch site and the first spade of dirt turned. The speed with which the undertaking was completed won the "miracle" label from local builders, long accustomed to the construction wonders that have marked Florida's growth.

The water stage—part of the man-made, spring-fed lake which will eventually cover some 400 acres—is walled in on three sides by a gigantic crescent-shaped amphitheatre capable of seating 10,000 persons.

Sitting in the grass-carpeted "theatre," the visitor will be treated to a 40 minute water show, featuring 13 acts and including a ballet on water skis and daredevil stunts in speed boats.

For those with less exuberant tastes, there are trips through the gardens in electric "swan" boats and footpaths where visitors can mill along the 500 different types of flowers, trees and shrubs.

5 Teenagers Ram Truck Going 95 M.P.H., All Die

SHAFTER, Calif. (AP)—Five teenagers met instant death when an automobile which police said was traveling from 90 to 95 miles an hour plowed into a heavy truck and trailer Saturday night.

State highway patrolmen said the top of the auto was sheared off as it rammed under the rear of the truck's trailer, loaded with cotton.

Bob Considine Says:

Though Blind—General Maas Sees Duties

WASHINGTON (INS) — A man came home from the great Navy Hospital at nearby Bethesda today. A real man. I refer to Maj. Gen. Mel Maas, U.S. Marine Corps Reserve.

Maas is chairman of the President's committee on employment of the physically handicapped. He is chairman of the works or very active in the adminstration of about a dozen other organizations, including Disabled American Veterans, world veterans federations and so forth, none of which pay him a quarter.

THE GENERAL IS BLIND

Another general expressed some concern as well as bewilderment that Maas had to pull into drydock for a couple of weeks. The other general wrote him a note last week from Gettysburg saying that it was hardly believable that Maas was in a hospital but the other general urged Maas to pay attention to what the croakers had to say. The other general went on to say that he had learned to do that himself only lately.

"I told the President once that he embarrassed me," Gen. Maas said as he lowered himself into his hospital room's easy chair and lighted a fierce cigar. "Whenever I'd stay behind after a meeting in his office, he'd get up, come over to me, lead me to a chair near his desk, and when it was over he'd lead me to the door. I finally told him he shouldn't bother doing things like that for a fellow like myself.

"He laughed and recalled something that happened years ago when I had just come to Congress from Minnesota. He was a major then with a desk in an office outside the offices of General MacArthur, who was chief of staff, and Hanford McNider, who was assistant secretary of war. Well, he went on, a lot of congressmen who came to see the big fellows treated him like a receptionist or butler.

"Some of them would hand him their hats and coats. He said what he liked about me was that I took care of my own hat and coat and seemed to get a kick out of talking to him.

"He's as fine and warm a man as I've ever met," Maas said, after a pause. "I've just got a hunch he'll run again. After all, why shouldn't he? I've seen what people can do . . . people who suffer from this or that. Nobody would beat him if he ran. He's the most popular President since George Washington."

Maas was a fighting Marine in both world wars and in Korea, during which trauchoma robbed him of his sight. His daughter is a Marine captain. He has just about every decoration on the list, including the Silver Star for personally taking up a B25 and straffing hell out of a Jap airfield—after making an unsuccessful plea for more air support for Marines in the line.

"I'm too dam' busy to feel sorry for myself," he said, in the briefest possible mention of his condition. "I'm able to do a lot of extra things in public service because of that insurance you talk about on the air. It's surprising how busy a day can be when you're blind.

"I'll bet I've listened to 400 books on those wonderful Library of Congress records of books since I've been blind. I read Reader's Digest each month, cover to cover. I read more now than I did when I had my eyes. I'm learning to touch-type, too, for letters, and I've picked up braille.

"I make notes on my braille typewriter before I appear before a congressional committee. Sure confuses some of those chairmen when they ask that our written statements be handed over."

The general has travelled all over the world in behalf of the halt, the lame and the blind and has spoken to millions about them, and their ability to put in a good day's work. He has fought like the tough Marine he is against the prejudice and ignorance which keeps so many of them out of jobs.

"What's there to be sensitive about, where an infliction is concerned?" he asked me, flicking his ashes unerringly in a tray. "I'm writing a book which I'm going to call 'Soup With a Fork.' It's about and for people who have newly lost their sight. Some of the happiest vets I've known are blind.

"I'm going to tell stories like one of the first times my boy saw me try to eat after this thing set in. I raised my fork to my mouth seven times and there wasn't anything on it. Then I tried again and the kid said, 'Steady, Dad, you hit the jackpot!'."

Let us have no more complaints about headaches. Period.

Workers Continue Efforts on Sylvan Water System

Workers were continuing today to prepare for the opening of Sylvan Lake's new $275,000 water system which is scheduled for operation by next week.

According to City Manager Ernest L. Ethier, 58 residents had applied for connection to the system as of Friday noon. A contractor has started to connect these homes to the system.

"Some residents seem to forget that they have to pay certain fees, depending on the size of the water main to be used, before they can be connected to the system," Ethier said.

"We hope the number of applicants increases to 200 to 300 by next week so that many can derive the benefits from the project that we have been seeking for years," he said.

Approval of the system has been obtained from Oakland County Sanitation Engineer Russell Coltson, acting for the State Health Department, Ethier said.

The system will be financed by a $125,000 special assessment—general obligation bond issue and a $100,000 issue financed by general obligation. Both issues were approved by Sylvan Lake voters June 25, 1954.

Ethier said the city's bond attorney was preparing another $50,000 revenue bond issue to present to the City Council to cover the cost of the wells, mains, two pump houses and footings for a $150,000 pressure storage tank.

Congressman Picks His Favorite Poem

U. S. Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Royal Oak) has selected "Elegy—Written in a Country Church-Yard" as his favorite poem to be published in an anthology containing selections by members of the 83rd and 84th Congress.

The poem, by Thomas Gray, was also selected by Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, of Wyoming.

Dondero said, "the anthology grew out of discussions in the Prayer Breakfast Group of the House which meets for prayer and discussion each Thursday morning when Congress is in session."

Red H-Bomb May Budge Atom Stalemate

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The Soviet Union's latest hydrogen bomb explosion does not alter the balance of power or break the atomic stalemate.

* * *

The United States already has exploded bombs of equal and greater size and can still therefore rely on what they call their "great deterent" against possible Soviet aggression.

But the explosion of which Soviet party boss Nikita Khruschev boasted has led to renewed demands in Britain that the major powers try to call a halt or reach some sort of agreement on limiting the tests.

Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden told Laborite questioners in the House of Commons that he was ready always to talk disarmament, but he in effect rejected some Laborite suggestions that he approach the United States on the matter.

FINAL SOLUTION

Laborite demands were based on a Moscow radio commentator's broadcast to North America—not a Soviet announcement — proposing that the major powers discuss a halt in atomic tests.

Sir Anthony said that "a comprehensive disarmament agreement is the only final solution" to the atomic arms race between East and West.

The prime minister also took a jibe at Moscow when he said radio Moscow's comment would have "appeared in a better light if it had been made before the recent Soviet explosion of which Khruschev has spoken in such enthusiastic terms."

TIMING IS MOTIVE

Motives for the Soviet explosion, especially its timing, could be interpreted as being more political than military.

Exploding the new bomb after the vain big Big Four foreign ministers' talks at Geneva and during the Soviet leaders' trip to India had its effect on world public opinion and Asians being wooed by the Soviets.

Khruschev told Indians in Bangalore in first announcing the blast how "peace-loving" were the Soviets. "If they," he said, meaning the Western allies, "start a war they will receive the proper answer."

Nevertheless, the Soviet explosion naturally is of great military impact. America's quick decision to hold new tests next spring was not counter-propaganda but based on realistic assessment of the power struggle and Soviet nuclear advances.

* * *

Without adequate enforcement controls for disarmament and with Soviet rejection of President Eisenhower's aerial watchdog scheme the arms stalemate is here to stay. Until, of course, one side discovers some new horror weapon of knockout proportions or one to prevent effective atomic retaliation.

Teachers to Confer With GM Officials

About 30 educators from 12 Pontiac area high schools will meet with GMC Truck and Coach Division officials Dec. 6 to study GMC's Apprentice Training Program for qualified high school graduates.

The session will acquaint principals, vocational teachers and student counselors with GMC's four-year apprentice program which gives boys between the ages of 18 and 20 an opportunity to learn a skilled industrial trade while being full-time, paid employes.

The educators will be told that minimum qualifications for applicants are a high school diploma, two semesters each of algebra and geometry, eight semesters of drawing and shop, and a mechanical aptitude.

Apprentices get 40 hours of practical shop experience each week plus four hours of classroom work. After completing their training, they receive a journeyman status in the skilled trade they selected and are integrated into GMC's industrial organization.

Alaska-Chilean Jeep Escapade Enters Last Lap

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Frank and Helen Schreider have checked into Santiago on a 20,000-mile run by amphibious jeep from Alaska to South America's lower tip.

In high spirits despite hardships in crossing rivers, jungles and swamps, the Schreiders of Valley Center, Calif., soon will start out on their final 3,000 miles to Tierra Del Fuego.

Before reaching their goal they must cross the generally rough waters of Magellan Straits—"and we are going to cross it, and not on the ferry," said Helen, 29.

Frank, 31, and his wife saved for eight years to buy and fit their jeep and finance their dream trip which started from Circle City, Alaska, in July, 1954.

Since then the Schreiders—and their German shepherd dog Dinah—have crossed some 125 rivers, navigated 600 miles in the Pacific Ocean, hacked their way through jungles and scooted ahead of sharks.

"The Turtle," as they call their jeep, has a specially built cabin with a bed and an electrical system. They said their equipment and expenses will cost them about $10,000.

Don't Surrender to Old Age Until You've Made This Test

WHAT IS CLIMACTERIC?
Medical dictionaries tell us "climacteric" is the time of life when the body undergoes a radical change. The first change, when boys become men and girls become women, is usually between the ages of 12-17. . . another change again occurs usually between 40 and 50.

WHO DOES IT AFFECT?
Both men and women. In women it is called "menopause" or "Change of life" in men, doctors call it "male climacteric."

WHAT ARE THE COMMON SYMPTOMS?
Because the body and blood are undergoing important changes during climacteric, the entire system may become upset and symptoms are varied. Men are usually extremely nervous, tire easily, become irritable, feel weak in arms, legs and back and often are very "crabby." Often there are "hot flashes" accompanied by that "what's the use" feeling. And very often a special supplementary source of certain vitamins and minerals is needed such as you find in this important discovery called AFTER 40 CAPSULES.

WHAT CAN BE DONE?
Medical science has discovered many medicines that can tide you over the difficult "change of life" period. Today try the new capsule called "AFTER 40" that supplies the body with an unusual combination of vitamins and minerals so often needed during this period. Full month's supply only $5.00 . . . be absolutely delighted with results or cheerful, unquestioned refund.

Texas Surgeon Issues Threats

Doctor Warns In-Laws Child May Be Hurt if Kidnap Charge Stands

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—A Texas surgeon who fled into hiding with his small son of his third marriage and the daughter of his fourth wife telephoned a threat from New Mexico, Sheriff Noble Crawford said yesterday.

* * *

Police pickup orders were issued in Texas and New Mexico for Dr. Frank Sainburg. He disappeared with the boy, Philip Sainburg II, 4, and the girl, Mary Jean Nance, also 4.

Sheriff Crawford said Sainburg told his father-in-law, Longview Atty. Neal Smith, that Smith would never see Mary Jean again if kidnap charges against the doctor aren't dropped. The phone call came from Hobbs, N. M.

* * *

Sainburg is charged at Ithaca, N.Y., with kidnaping his son from the apartment of the boy's mother Jan. 19, 1954. She lives at Ithaca under her maiden name of Mrs. Doris Blanchard. She got a divorce May 21, 1954.

His current wife left Mary Jean, a daughter by a former marriage, with Sainburg at Big Spring, Tex., while she visited her parents at Longview. Sainburg was a surgeon at the Big Spring veterans hospital.

Sheriff Crawford said the doctor told his father-in-law in the call Saturday night that Phillip was with him but that Mary Jean was somewhere else. The sheriff said Sainburg also demanded that his wife be at the home of their Big Spring pastor at 1 p.m. yesterday. Mrs. Sainburg remained at Longview.

* * *

Sainburg was ordered to appear last Friday in court in Longview to show why he should not be held in contempt for refusing to give the boy to his mother. He failed to appear and was held in contempt.

Father Spurns TV, Dies at Auto Radio

MALLETTS BAY, Vt. (AP)—Edward J. LaFlam, 32, didn't like the programs on television, his wife said, so he went into the garage and turned on the car radio.

Mrs. LaFlam said she called her husband about 11:15 p.m. and he said he would come into the house soon.

She went to bed and in the morning sent her 8-year-old daughter to the garage.

The child found her father dead of what State's Atty. Allan Bruce said was carbon monoxide poisoning.

Port Huron Man Picked to Serve on State Group

PORT HURON (AP)—J. F. Gibbs, city manager of Port Huron, has accepted an invitation from Gov. G. Mennen Williams to serve on a committee for Michigan water, sewage and drainage needs.

The governor's invitation followed a meeting on this subject Gibbs attended in Lansing Nov. 7. The governor said he wanted Gibbs to serve on the committee because of his interest in and knowledge of this Michigan problem.

The committee is headed by Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh.

That's a Man for You

DALLAS (AP)—A 45-year-old man seized Gertrude Sercy, 47, as she walked along a street last night and knifed her in the back and leg.

She was described as in fair condition.

Texas Trial Set in In-Law Death

Murder With Auto Bomb Count to Be Given Jury Selected This Week

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Harry L. Washburn goes to trial today in the murder of his former mother-in-law by an auto bomb the state charges was planted to kill her husband.

* * *

Dist. Atty. Tom Moore Jr. said he expected a jury to be picked in two days and the trial to last two weeks.

It is the third attempt to try the 38-year-old Houston man accused of killing wealthy 51-year-old Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver at San Angelo, Tex., last Jan. 19.

The case was sent to Waco last September after efforts to select an unbiased jury at San Angelo failed. The first trial was postponed because of a missing witness and the illness of San Angelo Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes.

* * *

In questioning prospective jurors at San Angelo, prosecutors indicated they will rely on circumstantial evidence and offer no eyewitnesses.

Washburn has been held without bond since his arrest last Jan. 29. He said he was 400 miles away when the 10 sticks of dynamite blasted out the ranchwoman's life as she pressed the starter of the family car at her mother's home.

* * *

The state contends that Washburn wanted to kill Mrs. Weaver's husband Harry because he would not let her give Washburn money. Weaver, who is 60, also said money was the motive.

* * *

First President's Portrait Bought by U.S. Dealer

NEW YORK (AP)—A new portrait of George Washington has been brought back to the United States after an absence of a half a century, it was revealed yesterday.

* * *

The portrait was done in water colors by Archibald Robertson, a young Scot, in December 1791 and January 1792, when Washington was almost 60.

The likeness is a miniature on ivory. Robertson also did a companion piece of Washington's wife Martha.

* * *

Fleming said the portrait of Washington is the best known of him when he had begun "to wane and had lost his teeth."

Washington died in 1799 at the age of 67.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Norris were honored at a farewell dinner given Saturday evening by the Wesleyan Class of First Methodist Church.

First president of the class, organized in 1940 by Mr. Norris, was Mrs. John Drybread of Clawson, who arrived for the occasion.

Mrs. Drybread and Mrs. Gerald Blaylock were two of the charter members attending.

Toastmaster for the evening was Glenn Brookbank. Mrs. Russell Blackett presented the Norrises with a gift, and the Rev. Paul Havens, minister of the church, paid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Norris for their efforts in behalf of the church throughout their years of service.

Mrs. Dudley Colby, teacher and sponsor of the class was also honored on the occasion of her birthday.

Mrs. Ralph Williams had charge of dining room arrangements.

Married Saturday evening in All Saints Episcopal Church were Sandra Sue Strassburg and Frank Robert Hutchins. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernor Strassburg of Lincolnshire drive. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hutchins of Pickering road.

MRS. FRANK ROBERT HUTCHINS

Sandra Sue Strassburg Weds Frank R. Hutchins

Sandra Sue Strassburg became the bride of Frank Robert Hutchins Saturday evening in All Saints Episcopal Church.

The Rev. C. George Widdifield performed the 8 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 300 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernor Strassburg of Lincolnshire drive, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hutchins of Pickering road.

As the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, she was wearing a white crystallette gown fashioned in princess lines.

The scalloped neckline of the empire bodice was accented by delicate embroidery and seed pearls. The embroidery was repeated at the points of the long sleeves that fall over the wrists.

A tiara of crystalette trimmed with seed pearls secured her finger-tip veil of silk illusion. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and roses.

Kay Meyers was the bride's honor attendant. Her floor-length gown of Capusan crystalette was fashioned in princess lines. She wore a matching Juliet cap and carried an arrangement of turquoise colored carnations.

Sharon Strassburg, sister of the bride, and Linda Chambers of Farmington, were the bride's other attendants. They wore turquoise colored crystalette gowns fashioned identical to the honor attendants, with matching Juliet caps. Their cascade arrangements were of carnations in an apricot color.

For their duties as flower girls, Susan Strassburg, another sister of the bride, and Cheryl Billek, a cousin, wore gowns in an identical shade and style as the bridesmaids.

Clifford Johnson served as best man. Seating the guests were Avery Findlay and Peter Traicoff.

A gown of navy blue velvet with which she wore matching accessories was chosen by Mrs. Hutchins. She also wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Gadget Changes Bottle Into Lamp

There is a new gadget on sale in Paris for do-it-yourself purposes. It is a contraption made of a bulb-socket plus wire and attached to it are three spring metal feet. This gadget can be placed in any vase, bottle or even candleholder to transform it into a lamp.

The three spring feet keep the socket in place and a ring, to be screwed on under the bulb, takes the shade.

In case one wishes to use a candleholder, the three feet have to be trimmed down to an inch length and stuck into the opening in place of a candle. Magnum bottles or straw-sheathed Chianti bottles are particularly popular transformed into modern lamps.

Keep Them Away

It's only natural, as baby's mouth is his first approach to experiencing this world. Keep small, bite-size objects picked up. Keep ALL pills, medicines under lock and key.

Put on Top Shelf

Poisonous items, if they must be in the medicine chest, should be in a locked box on the very top shelf.

A good light in the bathroom is necessary so markings on packages can be easily read. After using, make sure to put the top back tightly so the drug will last longer.

Describes Role of 'Moses' in 'Ten Commandments'

Coming to the First Presbyterian Church as an additional pastor is the Rev. Galen E. Hershey. He is photographed with Mrs. Hershey and their three sons (left to right) Stephen, Michael and John. Fed Up With Rumor He's Going 'round Playing God

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Charlton Heston is fed up with the rumor that he's going around playing God.

"Just because I play Moses in 'The Ten Commandements,'" Heston said, "is no reason to suppose that in real life I'm the type who says, 'Look, my halo is really sticking!'"

The actor, who just flew out from New York to finish some highly important dubbing on the $10,000,000 De Mille epic, admitted however that the characterization of Moses had left a "deep impression."

"You cannot spend two years in intimate association with a man of Moses' stature and still be the same," he confessed.

"I never have played a role that so gripped me by the heart. Moses, of course, had more dimensions than any man who ever lived but one of his most unique aspects was the fact that he was a man—not a divinity."

Before attempting the role, Heston read 29 books and references on the great Biblical character.

"I read everything," he said. "From the Bible to Sigmund Freud's 'Moses and Monotheism' and concluced that the extent of this man's influence cannot be measured."

When he was actually on the set and wearing the long, flowing garments of Moses and the flowing Moses beard, Heston made a conscientious effort—the true actor's effort—to sustain the role he was playing.

Although he was criticized by some, the majority of those who worked with him and even those who dropped in on the set, understood why he refused to stand around cracking jokes and slurping coffee from a paper cup.

Neither did he take telephone calls or dine in the studio commissary where all and sundry could gaze at Moses scooping up peas.

A similar situation occurred when H. B. Warner played Jesus in "The King of Kings." There was a "mutual agreement" between Warner and C. B. DeMille that he would stay apart from the crowd.

But, as one bystander pointed out, Heston was very much himself when he was out of costume.

"He was just as normal as anyone else," the observer said. "However, there's no doubt that the role of Moses had an enormous impact on the man and he can never be the same, but he certainly can't be compared to the guy who played Lincoln: "'He won't be satisfied until he's shot!'"

Asked what he's going to do next, Heston said:

"The 'Ten Commandments' is tough script to follow. After that everything else seems kind of lousy!"

New Lampshade Trend Reveals Silky Appearance

"The more elegant look in upholstery is reflected in lamps and in lamp shade fabrics," she said.

As for colors, turquoise and gold are the high spots, and all the earthtones will be popular.

Mrs. Hill thinks that pleated lamp shades will be high fashion in the new lines, with striped effects achieved without destroying the blending possibilities of the color. Lamps with little embroidered touches on their shades will have stylish appeal.

When it comes to size and shape, the expert says: "I think today the trend is toward deeper, bigger shades, but every size will be popular. Styles have become more varied than in earlier years.

"Lamps and shades should be more conservative than other home furnishings because they must be easy to use in a room. And much depends on the lamp base—shades shouldn't be extreme, they should harmonize."

Camp Fire Council Slates Open House

The Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls announces the second annual Christmas Open House. The offices at the National Building on West Huron street will be decorated with the Christmas motif and refreshments will be served.

Open House will be held Thursday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Colored slides taken of Camp Fire activities in Pontiac will be shown as a special feature of the two day affair.

Special Yule Cards Feature New Look

Beyond the physical aspects of the new Christmas Cards, there is truly a "new look" in the designs and verses. More than ever before, it is now possible to find just the right card for just the right person.

Greeting card editors say that the constant increase in the "special cards" such as greetings for the Milkman, the Newsboy, the Doctor, the Nurse and even a card addressed "From Our Cat to Your Cat," stems directly from public demand and there seems to be a never-ending series of requests for these "specials."

A new taste is given to liver if it's soaked in a favorite barbecue sauce for 30 minutes before panfrying or broiling.

Boy Balks at Doing Routine Chore

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Eleven-year-old Roger has one Saturday morning chore. He's supposed to collect the week's supply of deposit bottles, put them in a carton—and place it in the car.

* * *

Always he has to be reminded. Always he postpones it to the last minute. Between his resistance to this chore and his father's increasing impatience with him, Saturday morning has become a time for much family tension.

So his mother asks, "Would I be encouraging bad disciple if I could get my husband to release the child from this job?"

In most cases, the value of an action is the value of the feeling behind it. So the question isn't persuading Roger's father to excuse him from this chore — but changing his irritation to understanding.

* * *

Let's see if we can win some understanding for Roger.

DRAB CHORES

Maybe we might begin by reminding his dad that children's chores don't offer them the satisfaction they used to. Time was when youngsters milked cows, chopped wood, churned butter, spun wool, carried water and gathered harvests—chores directly connected with their families' survival, so their importance was unmistakable.

* * *

The boy whittling quietly before the hearth knew his labor had produced the fire that was keeping his family warm. The boy was disciplined to his chores by his own respect for their value.

Today, this is seldom the case. When Roger carries out our deposit bottles to the car, he knows that's contributing, not to his family's survival, but to its taste for soft drinks.

Behind him is no pressure of survival need—no respect for the moves only out of respect for our wish that he move.

* * *

Which is why we've had to push, push, push at him.

And it's why it is never very bright to limit a child's chores to superficial routine. Certainly bottles have to be put in cars. Certainly rooms must be dusted, lawns mowed, cellars cleaned, dishes dried. But so also do pies have to be made, garages painted, flowers arranged, cars washed and polished.

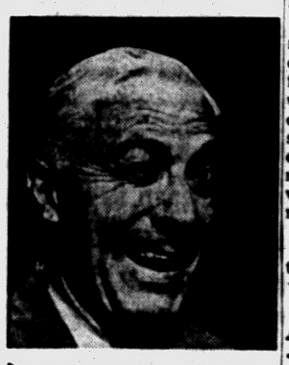

PROUD FEELING

And though these tasks are not survival ones, they do make possible a feeling of pride in the work accomplished, without which getting children to do chores is the biggest chore parents face.

So perhaps the answer for Roger's father is sharing his own pride-producing Saturday morning chore of cleaning the car. Perhaps it is helping his son carry the burden of boredom by helping him collect and organize those deposit bottles.

Whatever the answer is, it will reveal itself the moment wrath over Roger's resistance to work becomes realization of his right of pride in the work he has to do.

"Smart gal, my Susie!"

A lot of wives complain about housework, but not my Susie. She uses her head instead of her muscles. For example, some women spend a whole day just scrubbing and waxing wood floors. My Susie cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. It takes only half the time and a lot less work. Yet our beautiful wood floors are the envy of her friends. My hat's off to Susie and her Bruce Cleaning Wax for making a tough job so easy. And I can't help but feel proud of both of them.

Leather Articles Present Wide Choice for Yule Gifts

A pocket "secretary" in calf, pig or morocco leather — these come with built-in memo pad and little gold pencils, and have plenty of room for all his papers and whatever little money he'll have left after Christmas.

Lambskin shearling-lined slippers for the man who dreads the morning ordeal of putting his bare feet down on the cold, cold floor. The shearling will keep him as warm as the traditional toast, since it's lambs wool on the natural leather backing.

Or, maybe, he'd like an extra-long but very slim cigarette case and matching lighter in various leathers. Perhaps a leather belt or leather gloves—lined with wool or fur, or unlined.

Whether he's the briefcase or attache case type, any man who works in an office will welcome one of the many varieties of business cases in rugged, good-looking cowhide.

If he likes a neat desk at the office or in his den, a leather desk set will help bring order out of chaos. The usual set includes a blotter-holder with an expanse of smooth gleaming leather, a leather-covered memo pad, leather . based ash tray, leather-handled letter opener and more. And even if his desk remains untidy, the leather will give it a look of rich, luxurious disorder.

Other gifts for the office include: A gold-tooled file tray for his important papers, with a matching leathen cover to keep then from flying away.

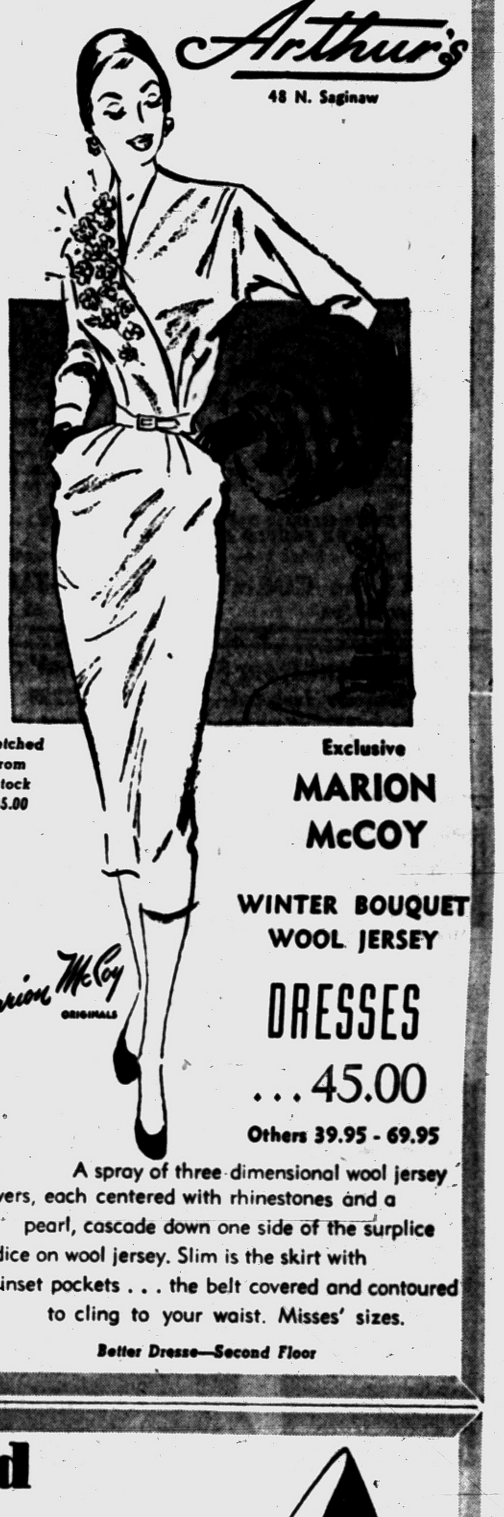

Embroidered wool is just right for a dress for daytime, and with an accessory change, for after-five wear. The soft, but full silhouette has a high round neck, short sleeves and narrow leather belt. The dress, by Arkay, is in brown or navy.

Get Hobby First, Then Find Time

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I would like to take up a hobby," a young mother writes, "because I know I need some interest besides housekeeping.

* * *

"But I have three youngsters and a seven-room house, plus all the cooking and entertaining for my husband, and just don't seem to have time for other things.

PRECIOUS HOURS.

"I have one afternoon a week to myself, but I'm usually so tired I just sleep away those precious hours when the children are in the hands of the sitter. However, I don't think just once a week would be enough time, anyway.

"I'm writing to ask if you can tell me how to organize my household schedule so that I don't leave any important things undone and still manage to work in an hour a day or so for myself."

This is a typical complaint, yet I feel that this woman is not going about it in the right way.

If we start out with the desire to arrange our schedule so that we snatch a precious hour for ourselves, it never seems to work. Things go wrong, the shiny new schedule evaporates and we're back where we started.

The reason is that starting with the schedule is really an attempt to put the cart before the horse. What you really have to do is to get the interest first.

Then you become so enthused, you breeze through the day and find you can make time for your exciting new interest.

My suggestion for this woman would be to begin spending her free afternoons in an activity that really interests her; for example, trying new recipes, window shopping for antiques or reading up on color psychology.

Gradually, she'll be less tired and will become more interested in her one-day-a-week hobby. After that, she'll begin to be so absorbed in it that she will race through the routine household jobs and find plenty of time for her hobby.

That way, the desire comes first and the mechanics, so to speak, automatically.

* * * *

If you are in the market for a new interest, perhaps my housewife's career guide would help you find it. You may have one by sending me six cents postage, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Grapenuts Add Crunch to Pudding

Mrs. Philp Serves a Caramel Sauce on Jellied Dessert

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

From Mrs. L. M. Philp of Walled Lake comes an interesting recipe for a holiday dessert, Jellied Fruit Pudding. This one recipe will serve 10 people so it may be considered an economical one.

Mrs. Philp is one of the busiest women we know. Her interests are centered on whatever civic project most needs help. She has been in Girl Scouting for many years, is a board member and troop leader at present. She is also president of the Walled Lake Civic Club.

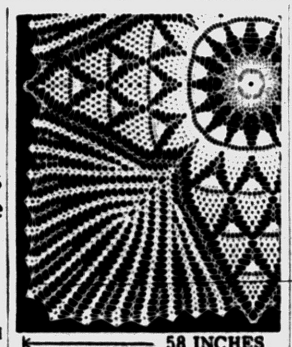

JELLIED FRUIT PUDDING
By Mrs. L. M. Philp

1 package lemon gelatine
2 cups boiling water
1 cup grapenuts
½ cup sugar
4 ounces (or more) mixed candied fruit
½ cup nuts
½ cup white raisins
½ cup seedless raisins
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon allspice

Dissolve gelatine in boiling water and add other ingredients immediately. Chill until set. Serve at room temperature with a warm caramel sauce and a dab of whipped cream. Serves 10.

Removable Furs

A smart idea to dress up a Persian lamb coat is to have removable trimmings of different furs. One suggestion is a large natural fox collar to be fastened by press-buttons for a more sporty look. Removable mink or ermine shirt-cuffs, peeping out of three-quarter sleeves are another idea.

Give Your Pals Practical Gifts

NEW YORK (INS)—People really like to get practical Christmas presents.

* * *

That's the report of a recent survey that asked the question "What would you really like this Christmas?" Men show a special preference, when receiving practical gifts, for those with a "do-it-yourself" angle—not so much for reasons of economy, but because they like the "I did it with my own two hands" feeling.

Even homemakers like practical presents, says Seymour Milstein, president of the large resilient tile flooring firm that made the survey.

According to Milstein the average American housewife would rather have a time-saving appliance than an elaborate lounging outfit that spends most of the year dust-collecting in the closet.

Chesterfield Coat Dictates Hat Style

The Chesterfield overcoat, simple, distinctive, yet practical garment is one which will suit almost any man, in every respect. They come in a wide range of woolen fabrics, light-to-heavy weight, in a variety of patterns and shades from plain charcoals through herringbone tweeds and bird's-eye checks—mostly highlighted by a velvet half-collar.

A-Line—Fur Like

In coats, there's a new silhouette (the "A-Line",) there's a new fabric (fur like) and there are details and a variety of coatings and colors to stimulate interest.

Color has established itself—there's no fear of pastels this winter; bright shades are plentiful, and new fleeces, tweeds and plush offer individuality in all size ranges.

Big Medicine Supply Can Become Useless

When you buy medicinal supplies, don't get the large, economy size unless you're expecting a disaster.

Large bottles of medicine, sitting in the cabinet for a long time, can lose their strength and become useless. Or they become dangerously over-concentrated, as in the case of iodine which may become strong enough to burn the skin.

IF petite size—

"More hat" look is a continued certainty for spring. Bulkier, broader or bloused look will mark the Easter hat of 1956. But until you shed your fur coat, and for dressy holiday wear, the smaller hat gives silhouette better proportion.

"THE WARMTH OF THEIR THANKS IS UNMISTAKABLE"

Each Christmas for quite some years now I've sent my friends books. The first time I did it I felt that I was being rather unconventional in not sending one or another of the more conventional gifts, but since that first time I've never had the slightest doubt. They like to get books. They like the subtle suggestion that they are interested in something that is not trivial and transient. The notes of appreciation I receive from them make it quite clear that books are the most acceptable gift I could possibly send. No gifts are so varied as books and hence, no gifts are so well designed to the peculiar needs of the person who must give to so many different kinds of people. I know. I know the thanks I get each year. I can give a single volume or a whole library. I can by the proper selection, make a gift of books arrive sedately or wink flirtatiously. And if I couldn't I know my bookseller could.

Either Grin 'n' Bear It or Call Off the Party

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

A woman has a perfect right to change her mind, you say! After she's slept on it. it is quite natural that she should come up with an entirely different point of view!

* * *

The trouble comes when she tries to take back what she had done before she decided she'd rather do something else. Then life gets complicated.

Take invitations to a party, for instance. A girl can't invite a boy to come, then think better of it and tell him not to dare to show up that night. Her only out is to call off the whole party.

And that's something this girl doesn't want to do. But here's the story of the pickle she finds herself in, all because she changed her mind.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I went with Bill all summer and up until recently, when I met Jack. A few weeks ago I sent out invitations to my Sweet Sixteen party, and because I had dated Jack a few times, I invited Bill as my escort.

"I like Jack much more than Bill, and since this will be a real moment of remembrance in my life, I'd rather be with him on this occasion. There's still time to invite Jack. But what can I do about Bill?

"How can I ask him not to come without hurting him? And yet, if he does come, how can I have a good time when I'm not with the boy I want to be with?"

Answer: Things have obviously come to a head in your felings about Jack since you issued the invitations for your party. But, quite frankly, you can't take back any of those invitations without taking them all back. And you won't want to do that.

A devious and bothersome way out is to change the party to a night when you know Bill will be out of town. But you risk having your party fall apart if you try it.

The easiest thing, since your emotions have become so involved, is to invite Jack, and ask another girl to partner up with Bill. You'll have jack on the premises for your big evening, and Bill won't assume problem proportions.

But don't get your heart set on having a whooperdoo of a time at your party. The hostess usually doesn't. Though it's to celebarate your 16th birthday, you'll be the center of the stage for only a short time.

You have work to do. It's a job to see that the evening is fun for all your guests. It's a job to keep things hopping, keep people mixed and mingled, to keep everybody happy.

You won't have too much time to spend with Jack—or with Bill. The other boys will deserve your attention, too.

So make up your mind to be equally nice to Jack and Bill—and don't change it in the middle of the party.

U.S. Cards 80 Years Old This Year

Louis Prang Gave Nation First Yule Greetings Industry

Just eighty years ago, in 1875, Louis Prang, who is known as the grand-daddy of the American greeting card industry, introduced the first line of American Christmas cards to the public.

While the Prang cards were quite different from today's Christmas greetings, they had their own individuality and appeal. Embellished with silk fringe borders and reproduced in 12 to 17 colors, their designs and formats were typical of the elegant Eighties and the colorful chromos of that period.

By way of celebrating the 80th Anniversary of the American Christmas card, it is quite apparent that the tremendous variety of yuletide greetings for this year offers a wider selection than ever before and introduces many innovations that were unheard of in the world of Christmas cards a few years ago.

Close inspection of the 1955 Christmas greetings reveals what might be termed a minor revolution in Christmas car shapes and sizes.

Cards of the long slim variety vie for attention with square formats. Some cards are even produced in attractive angular forms and there certainly is a definite trend away from the traditional sizes and shapes to which Christmas card senders are accustomed.

Other innovations include wide use of genuine parchment paper, introduction of new, sparkling glitter effects and a noticeable increase in the artistic value of the designs and the introduction of short simple sentiments and verses.

Album With Pockets Holds Holiday Cards

A new desk album with pockets to hold greeting cards for future use is now available.

It is bound in leatherette and contains a card pocket for each month and four additional pockets for special card occasions.

For business, pleasure or travel, the man wearing this handsome Chesterfield overcoat will be really well dressed. In brown and white bird's eye check wool tweed, the half-collar is of brown velvet. Note the fly front closing and small flap ticket pocket.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Denham, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Maloney and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neinstedt.

Girl Wants to Introduce Her Fiance

Mother May Invite Relatives to Party for Both of Them

By EMILY POST

A young woman writes me as follows: "I am going to receive my engagement ring Christmas Day. None of my relatives know my fiance since he is from out of town.

"However, he will be spending the Christmas holidays here with us and mother would like to give an 'at home' during this time so that our relatives may meet him. Would this be proper, and if so, how should the invitations be worded? I would appreciate your help on this matter."

Answer: A party for a man alone would not be suitable. However, your mother could give a party for both of you. The invitations would read: "Do come in on such a day from 3 to 5 to have a cup of tea with Mary and her John."

"Dear Mrs. Post: For the past six months I have been corresponding with a young soldier in Korea whom I have never met but whose name I received from a 'pen pal' club.

"Since he will be spending Christmas in Korea away from his family, I thought it would help cheer him if I sent him a present. Would this be proper, or would you advise against it? Please let me hear from you soon."

Answer: An impersonal present such as a gift package of food would surely be welcomed and very thoughtful.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have run into the following situation several times lately and have been at a loss as to what to say. When told by friends that they are expecting a new addition to their family, is it correct to offer congratulations?

"If congratulations are not in order, what does one say upon hearing the good news."

Answer: Congratulations are entirely in order — or you might say, "I'm so happy for you" or "I'm so glad to hear the good news."

It is entirely possible that some of the imported cheese was deported.

Wednesday Evening

YW to Hold 'Hanging of the Greens'

"Hanging of the Greens," one of the oldest traditions of the YWCA, will be observed by the Pontiac Branch Wednesday evening. Members and friends have been invited to decorate the three Christmas trees, make wreaths, twine ropes of greenery down the stairway balustrade, and exercise their ingenuity in ways to beautify the house. Decorating starts at 7:30 p.m.

The A Cappella choir from St. George Greek Orthodox Church, under the direction of Mrs. Nicholas Samouris, will give a program of Christmas music at 8:30 p.m.

Holiday refreshments will be served, according to Mrs. Michael Costello and Mildred Burns, chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of the Christmas party. The evening will close with the reading of "The Seventh Christmas" by Mrs. Fred Haushalter, and general carol singing.

Another Wednesday event will be the cooperative luncheon which will mark the close of the fall term of classes by the Ladies Day Out. In lieu of a program they will work on the house decorations, while having an informal exhibit of their handiwork in the sewing, knitting and crafts classes.

Thursday noon, the third and final meeting in the members series, sponsored by Mrs. Myron L. Buck, membership chairman, will be a demonstration of Christmas wrappings. Members were asked to bring sandwiches, with dessert and coffee being served.

The December meeting of the YWCA Board of Directors will be combined with a covered dish supper party next Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Harold Euler of Ottawa drive.

The party will honor Mrs. William Panchuck, executive assistant at the YWCA for several years. Mrs. Panchuck is retiring this month. Mrs. Buck and Mrs. R. A. Armstrong are in charge of arrangements.

City Parades in Wet Splendor to Open Yule Season

Watchers cheer as hardy float escort and marchers move through steady drizzle along Saginaw Street

The rumble of drums and the spirited plaudits of hardy watchers belied the swishing sound of tires on rainy streets Saturday as 30,000 city-area residents lined thoroughfares to view the annual Christmas Parade.

The official opening event of Pontiac's holiday season dampened streets, hats, floats and coats, but observers agree it failed to have the same effect on the enthusiasm of either the crowds who lined the curbs or the thousands who paraded by.

Nearly 60 displays, the result of weeks of preparation by more than 35 local organizations, moved through Pontiac's downtown section with as much aplomb as if the sun were shining.

Nine school bands and orchestras provided the music and rhythm that kept wheels turning and soggy feet marching. More than 30 floats, each portraying a Thanksgiving or Christmas scenes, told the story of the year's foremost holidays.

Early-morning fears that the drizzle might discourage some of the float entrants proved unfounded — not one was withdrawn from the procession.

The enthusiasm moved Parade Marshal John A. Riley to remark after the floats, bands and marching units had made their way to storage places that "it was a magnificent job . . . one of the best ever done."

Equally appreciative of the "job" were 30,000 soggy viewers who, folding protecting newspapers and bags, walked back to cars to await next year's Christmas Parade . . . and better weather in which to watch the community at its holiday best.

World's Largest Labor Union Begins New Life Today

George Meany Takes Top Post

AFL President Named to General Federation's Supreme Command

* * *

That is big, bluff, cigar-chewing George Meany speaking characteristically. He believes all labor men want the same thing. He likes to quote Sam Gompers as describing that thing:

"More."

But unlike succinct Sam, Meany spells it out a little:

"We seek an ever-rising standard of living . . . if by a better standard of living we mean not only more money but more leisure and a richer cultural life, the answer remains, 'more.' "

Although he left school and started as a plumber's apprentice at 16, Meany is not as oblivious to ideas as the above-mentioned quote would seem to indicate. He was the driving force behind the AFL's successful campaign to establish and support an anti-Communist International Confederation of Free Trade Unions in Europe.

IT'S A MENACE

Communism is one ideology which Meany doesn't describe as bunk. He regards it as an undiluted menace to be fought with every means at hand, including the good old capitalistic dollars — the AFL poured a potentate's fortune into the battle of Europe and held the Red union tide at bay.

Friends describe him as "a decent guy" who keeps promises and fights squarely. He grew up in a Bronx Irish parish in New York, son of old Mike, the plumber. Nine years after he quit school to fit pipe and wipe joints, George was elected business agent of Local No. 2 of the plumbers union.

The building trades were a fertile field for a young fellow with a flair for settling jurisdictional rows. Soon Meany was traveling to Albany to fight for labor legislation. By 1934 he was president of the New York AFL and as such made a record of impartiality by working effectively with Democratic Gov. Herbert Lehman and Republican Majority Leader Irving Ives.

HIS OWN HONESTY

There are those who say that he played poker with Joe Fay, who went to prison for labor racketeering in the building trades. But none has ever said this weakened his faith in Meany's own honesty.

By 1939 Meany was secretary-treasurer of the national AFL. By 1945 he was able to take over the big job of fighting international communism almost by default from the aging AFL President William Green. Meany became the fourth president of the federation at 58.

With the physique of an old-time professional baseball player who shoots golf in the low 80's, Meany seems at the peak of his influence. His manner before a congressional committee is described as "like a fullback hitting the line."

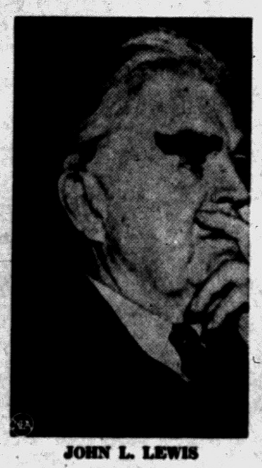

* * *

He now hits a new line—prosperity, automation and high prices —with the heaviest punch of his career.

SYMBOL OF UNITY — Seal, pictured above, is the symbol proposed for adoption by the AFL-CIO merged groups. Design was executed by John Baer.

As president of the United Mine Workers, Lewis created the historic split that is only now being healed. He led his and other industrial unions out of the AFL in 1935 to form the CIO. Later he deserted the CIO and after brief independence rejoined the AFL. Later still he shucked off the AFL a second time.

* * *

It is no surprise then to find him in rebellion once more. Lewis predicts the merger most union men are hailing will "part like the rope of sand that it is."

UAW Votes Approval to Strike Ann Arbor Plant

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Local union 38 of the CIO United Auto Workers has voted "overwhelming approval" to give its officers power to call a strike against the Hoover Ball and Bearing Co., of Ann Arbor.

The union vote yesterday stemmed from grivances arising "from conditions caused by the installation of high-powered, high-efficiency machines which has resulted in a reduction in the weekly pay of some employes."

The firm employs 125.

Corn Belt States Lead in Swine Production

CHICAGO — Nine Corn Belt states account for 71 per cent of United States hog production. They are Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio, Nebraska, Wisconsin and South Dakota.

Six Southern states produce 12 per cent of the total and the remaining 17 per cent comes from the other 33 states.

GOP-Dem Senators Argue on Union Role

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Republican and a Democratic Senator were at odds today over organized labor's role in the 1956 election campaign.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), chairman of the GOP Senate Campaign Committee, charged that George Meany, who will head the new AFL-CIO combined federation, and CIO leader Walter Reuther are "power hungry labor leaders."

The Republican said the labor organization has "no right" to endorse a presidential candidate and charged that Meany and Reuther are trying to take over the Democratic Party.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), probable presidential candidate, called these charges "pure hogwash."

* * *

He added: "Even if labor so desired, it couldn't hold a stick to the lobbying power, the corruptive influence and the capacity for intrigue that has been demonstrated by the giants of big business whose agents have been permitted to infiltrate the present administration from the White House down."

Marriage Set for 'Jungle Girl'

Ex-Moslem Child Wife, Dutch Girl Announce 2nd Wedding Plans

BERGEN-OP-ZOOM, Holland (AP) —"Jungle Girl" Bertha Hertogh, now 18, became formally engaged today to a Dutch cabinet maker. Annulment of her Moslem child marriage four years ago touched off a wave of riots in Singapore.

Bertha's parents were taken prisoner by the Japanese invaders of the Netherlands East Indies 13 years ago. The child's Malay nurse smuggled her into the jungle and raised her as her own.

In 1954 the Hertoghs were freed and began the search for Bertha. They found her in 1949, near Singapore, married at 13 to a young Malay teacher, Mansoor Adabi. When the British court annulled the marriage and returned the girl to her mother, Moslem rioters spread death and destruction through the colony.

After her return to the Netherlands, Bertha attended a Roman Catholic convent school. Today her neighbors in this little Dutch town went to the local Catholic church to witness the posting of banns.

Walter Reuther, Vice President

CIO Leader Assumes Supervision of Industry Relations Functions

Walter Reuther is never happier than when he has floodlights beating on his intellectual brow and an open microphone in front of his fluent lips.

* * *

The man who led the CIO into union with the AFL has a sense of history. He sees himself as destiny's child. Victory will come —if not today, tomorrow.

He is imbued with the dream of a perfect man in a perfect state, of poverty and evil banished by the ultimate social organism — in short, the well-ordered Utopia of the Fabian socialists.

But Reuther walked away from the Socialist Party years ago. Essentially his background is one of solid German Lutheran virtues. Yet he still has the socialist dream of a super-efficient, do-all state. His approach has been described as that of an engineer seeking to iron out kinks in society, rather than that of a rebel who would overthrow it.

SOUNDS LIKE REBEL

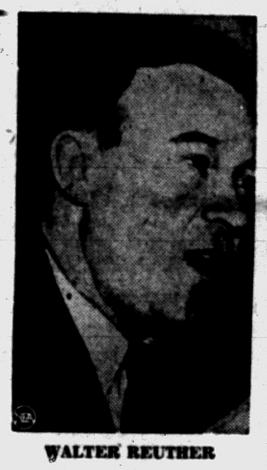

Yet when Reuther gets to that microphone he almost invariably makes noises like a rebel. Having captured the presidency of the CIO at Atlantic City in 1952, he almost talked himself out of his following with a 2-hour oration.

* * *

"Our enemies have been watching this convention from the cocktail bars of the Union League clubs and the millionaires clubs all over America," he shouted. "I say to the men who sit in the plush cushions in the Union League clubs, I say this for you who are delegates and I say it for the millions of members back home, the fat men on the plush cushions are wrong."

STARTLES MANY

At a meeting of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions in London in 1949 he startled delegates by thundering that the peoples of the world wanted "neither Stalin nor Standard Oil."

WALTER REUTHER

Some delegates—recent refugees from behind the Iron Curtain—were unaware that this was the choice. One listener was heard to mutter: "I'd settle for Standard Oil right now."

Reuther has a clean record of anti-communism. He began to establish it with his nice sense of timing just when opposition to the Reds became very, very popular.

HIS SOCIAL DREAM

Until 1938 he was close to the Socialist Party. He broke with it upon the urging of Sidney Hillman and John L. Lewis.

Reuther today says he has no interest in state ownership of the tools of production. He outlined his own social dream in 1946— a national planning board consisting of representatives of industry, labor, agriculture and consumers to chart a perfect economic policy for all.

Reuther came up through the United Auto Workers and has shown himself to be as jealous of the automobile industry's health as any Detroit mogul.

* * *

When Reuther took the CIO presidency a labor leader said: "Walter is in the big league now. I wonder can he play in it?" So far Reuther is still playing — but the league has grown a great deal bigger.

New Sports Car Kit Contains Repair Unit

Wheeled toys range from the extra-large model Thunderbirds down to sports car kits that are often just a few inches long.

These autos are built. Then they can be repaired.

Youngsters with a flair for mechanics will enjoy the new auto repair kits. One auto-wrecker set contains a coupe with a bent fender and all the tools necessary for repairing and installation.

Item Can Eliminate Auto Carburetors

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The American Bosche Arms Corp. says it has developed an automobile gasoline injection system which will eliminate the need for a carbureter.

President Charles W. Perelle of American Bosche said in a statement last night that the system "will increase the horsepower output of a modern automobile engine as well as improve acceleration and provide better fuel economy."

The company indicated however, that automobile manufacturers have no immediate plans for adopting the system.

Key Men Comment on Marriage: 'We Hope It Works Out'

NEW YORK (NEA) — Here's how key men in labor, business and government see the merger of the AFL and CIO:

"Organized labor at last will be able to present a united front. It will become a stronger and more effective instrumentality in every field of action."

JAMES P. MITCHELL, Secretary of Labor:

"The merger of the two great labor organizations of this country is a good thing both for the workers they represent and for the nation. . . . I am confident that organized labor will continue to grow in maturity and responsibility."

SEN. IRVING IVES, New York Republican long rated a friend of labor:

"I approve of the merger. But I would warn against any effort by the combined AFL-CIO to control a political party. It might incite the rest of the country to gang up on labor."

HENRY G. RITER 3D, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, conceded the merger may eliminate costly jurisdictional strikes arising between rival groups, but viewed the combine as a "dangerous monopoly" which, like business monopolies, "should be outlawed" as costly to the public.

Benson Flooded With Aid Letters

Citizens Answer Plea From Secretary to Help Solve Farm Woes

WASHINGTON (INS) — More than 2,300 Americans have taken pen in hand in response to Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson's invitation for them to tell him to solve the farm problem.

* * *

The Agriculture Department has made available some of the mountainous stack of replies received since the Secretary made his proposal in a speech before the national grange on Nov. 23.

Of the 2,335 letters received up to the close of business Thursday, a department spokesman said that 117 expressed strong personal support of the secretary or the GOP farm program.

Seventy-one correspondents leveled sharp criticism at the secretary or the Republican administration and 79 demanded that Benson resign.

MOST OFFER IDEAS

Nineteen of the letter writers said they would like to set up an inferview with the cabinet member and come to Washington to talk over the farm problem with him personally.

More than half of the letters received so far—1,450 to be exact —offered concrete ideas for curing agriculture's ills.

A hasty examination of the correspondence indicated that the great mass of farmers and their families blame the huge accumulation of surpluses in government hands for the pressing farm prices.

Many thought the surpluses should be disposed of quickly even if they must be given away at a total loss to the government.

One Oregon woman suggested: "Taxes! Taxes! Taxes! Instead of paying the farmer for his surplus accept it as payment on his income tax, then use it in welfare work over the country to relieve the tax burden of the people."

KNOWS HIS MIND

The writer described himself as "an old-line America-first, Taft - McCarthy, Nationalistic, Laissez-Faire, Conservative Republican." He added: "I am one of those who feel that Socialism is only slow-motion Communism."

An Oklahoma farmer told the cabinet member tersely: "I just want to tell you that your farm program has put the small farmer in a terrible mess."

Christmas Carol Is Among Oldest Forms of Music

Christmas carols are among the oldest known forms of music. St. Francis of Assisi is generally credited with having started the custom of singing and dancing around a crib. But his exact song seems to have been lost in antiquity.

* * *

Historians say that dancing in the churches was outlawed in 589 A. D., and persisted some places until the Council of Avignon in 1209. But the singing of carols lived on.

Although these songs are called carols in English, they are the same as the "noels" of France and the "Wiegenlieder" of Germany. Originally composed for dance tunes to be sung around the crib, as some of the famous Latin Christmas hymns, they have more recently been dedicated to members of the composer's family.

* * *

"Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" was originally "Hark, How All the Welkin Rings," composed by Charles Wesley in the 18th Century.

Senator Doubts Passage of Major Labor Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ives (R-NY) said today he doubts there will be any major labor legislation passed in the next session of Congress.

* * *

Ives, a veteran member of the Senate Labor Committee, said in an interview he expects President Eisenhower to propose again in his State of the Union message some amendments aimed at "liberalizing" the Taft-Hartley Act.

* * *

"But when the committee gets around to working on them, someone is certain to propose an amendment making job discrimination on a racial basis an unfair labor practice and the Southern Democrats just won't let anything like that get past them," Ives said.

* * *

The New York senator added that he believes consideration of Taft-Hartley amendments also would provoke a move from conservatives to take away some of the federal government's authority in this field and turn it back to the states.

* * *

"With the situation as it is, I just don't see how we can pass any major labor legislation," he said.

Pact to Cut Expenses on U.S. World Mails

WASHINGTON (INS)—Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield said today that U.S. international mails will be handled more efficiently "and with considerable savings in costs" from now on.

* * *

He said this is expected to result from the recent congress of the member countries of the postal union of the Americas and Spain held in Bogota, Colombia.

* * *

Summerfield's announcement said that under the operational changes permitted by the congress at the suggestion of the U.S. is the elimination of expensive time consuming procedures in the handling of international parcel post.

* * *

Under the new agreement effective next March 1, the U.S. will be able to modify its procedures so as to eliminate cumbersome costly handling methods and records keeping considered unnecessary in the U.S. system but required previously under existing international agreements.

AFL-CIO Merger Creates Potential Political Power

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — Merger of the nation's two great labor federations, the AFL and CIO, today lifts organized labor to new heights of power in both the economic and political realms. But with that power will come fresh problems to test the giant combine's strength and leadership.

Federation leaders and labor experts agree that a unified organization of 15,400,000 members will exert greater influence than two separate units of 10,200,000 (AFL) and 5,200,000 (CIO). Furthermore, the merger will end their own destructive rivalry.

In the experts' view, this increased power and prestige can make itself felt in these ways:

Organized labor may speak in stronger, more assured tones in its general dealings with the business community on major economic affairs. Presenting a single front, potentially better financed, it should have deeper impact on international labor circles.

* * * * * *

Its unified strength may enable it to cast greater weight in the making of government policy, especially as it affects workingmen and the economy. Freed of duplicating effort, the new combine may function more effectively in direct political action.

Federation leaders profess no third party ambitions, nor even a desire to take over any existing party. Their stated goal is to elect more friendly lawmakers at every level of government. The new organization can encourage mergers among some of its affiliated unions, with the aim of making them stronger at the bargaining table.

Unification may induce some or all of the many independent unions (57 of national stature) to throw in with the amalgamated organization. The latter is expected to revive lagging efforts to draw millions of new workers into the organized movement. Right now less than 25 per cent of the nation's 65-million-man labor force is unionized. The new federation plans to establish a big organizing fund.

Labor leaders themselves declare the merger affords them a better chance to promote continuously higher living standards for the American workingman.

1. Some leaders of affiliated unions appear more concerned with their individual power than with the general labor movement. They may yield slowly if at all to the pressure from the top.

* * *

2. Though long range financial prospects should be better, the immediate outlook is said to be for a deficit of around $3,500,000 yearly, partly because of the large combined staff retained.

* * *

3. Business, though itself in the midst of one of the greatest merger waves in history, views the new federation warily, fearing it might lead to "dangerous monopoly." Its resistance could not be lightly dismissed.

* * *

4. Some politicians, and presumably voters, are on guard against any effort by Big Labor to seize too much political power. Labor was roundly rebuffed in the 1950 re-election of the late Senator Taft, indicating there are possible limits to the role the public would have unions play in politics.

5. The non-union field will not be easy to crack. Unorganized workers, employed steadily at good wages, are showing no tendency to join up in a rush. Large areas like the South have long resisted union incursions. Many states have what are widely regarded as restrictive labor laws discouraging unionization.

So labor has discarded its two lightly-powered smaller cars for a powerful new vehicle. But it still has a bumpy road to travel.

A Union Leader Gives His Views

Meany Describes Aims of Labor Organization in Future Actions

Comment, speculation, praise, diatribe and just plain talk have filled the ears of Americans for the past few days about the merger of the AFL and CIO.

* * *

The new federation of labor unions is seen as a boon to America, by some; and, as a great political calamity—a beginning of a new political party, by others.

George Meany, who assumed the leadership of the combined labor organization, writing in a special article for the INS, gave his opinion on the future of unionism and its role in American life. Excerpts from his article are:

ON UNITY: "Organized labor will become a stronger and more effective instrumentality in every field of action. The accent will be on constructive unity rather than on destructive rivalry."

ON POLITICS: "Our major object is to elect strong, liberal majorities in Congress. Thus we can reverse the trend which has resulted in union-busting legislation as the Taft-Hartley Act and the mis-named "Right to Work" laws."

COMMUNITY SERVICE: "Labor can do a better job united for improving conditions in our cities and towns."

IN GENERAL: "Our purpose is to make our full contribution to the National Defense, to expose the hypocrisy of aggressive Communism and to work tirelessly with the International Confederation of Free Trade unions to prevent the spread of Communism among workers."

"The most good the AFL-CIO can do for American labor is to work for the public good."

Did You Get Daddy Just What He Needs?

Has the old man got everything —just everything. You can beat the gift problem for him by giving him something for his office, den, or inside pocket.

* * *

Start with the ash tray category. It should be extra-big because he's not going to clean it himself. These ash-trays are available in pottery, glass or metal. For the added touch, get him one that sits in a hand-tooled leather base.

Now then, on to the paperclip and pencil department. Small, easy-to-get-at desk trays are yours for the shopping. So, too, are pen stands and containers that hold pencils for easy reach.

Can he use a file? A folder holder? A decorative desk pad? A desk lamp? These are as expensive as you want them to be.

Now, how about his inside pockets. There are new leather wallets, passport cases and billfolds that will keep him working hard to keep them filled.

* * *

How about a new key holder? How about a pocket-sized picture album? Or a pen-and-pencil case to keep the smudge off his shirt or jacket lining?

The Saar—Cradle of Nazi Revival?

'Silent Terror' Threatening Free Thought

The Saar is only a small area on the map between France and Germany. But, rich in coal and steel, it has long been a trouble spot of Europe. The Saar might again set off a new Franco-German dispute—the seeds of a new Nazism is being nurtured there. Pierre J. Huss, INS foreign analyst, last week completed an on-the-spot survey there. This is the first of four articles.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(Copyright 1955 by INS)

SARRBRUECKEN, Saar (INS)—Twenty years ago this month a swastika-bedecked Saar gave Nazi Fuehrer Adolph Hitler the right by a 90 per cent vote, to annex this rich coal and steel basin of nearly 1,000,000 Saarlanders.

* * *

This pocket-sized Pittsburgh was then a witches' cauldron. Nazi goon squads were everywhere. The Horst Wessel song and "Deutschland Ueber Alles" blared incessantly. The Hitler slogan of "Heim Ins Reich!" (Home to Germany) was seen everywhere.

Today, before the crucial parliament elections Dec. 18, the clock has turned back to 1935. The swastika and parading goon squads are publicly absent. But, the spirit has been whipped up again to the cry, "Zurueck in Die Heimat!" (Back to the Fatherland).

This Saarland is orderly and calm. Underneath, there is the predominant call of German blood to German blood. It is safe to predict that the election will give the Saar back to Germany.

VELVET-GLOVED TERROR

Although the dreaded Gestapo "midnight knock at the door" is not visably operating, there is, however, a velvet-gloved terror and intimidation campaign generated by a hard core Nazi group which engineered the defeat of the proposed European Statute for the Saar in October.

The unseen terror is directed against some 200,000 voters who cast in favor of an independent European Saar. Those in the Saar council, in radio, in professional services are suddenly fired, driven out of town, boycotted. The small storekeeper and the large manufacturer who voted for the European statute are squeezed out of business and their children shunned in school as "treason children." Thus, votes are piling up fast in favor of a pro-German parliament.

What is happening in the Saar occurs despite the free democracy of Western Germany. There exists an ugly union of Communists and the hard core Nazis. Both groups think they are exploiting each other, with the idea of a double-cross when the day comes. The Communists actively shouted and agitated against the European statute and kept a "working truce" with the Nazi core.

NAZI TESTING GROUND

The Communists, for dark motives of their own, are pushing for incorporation of the Saar with West Germany—to give a stunning blow to France. Riots of Oct. 23 were sparked by Communist goons imported from West Germany and France.

A safe prediction is that this wooded and undulating area of 900 square miles is the testing ground for a showdown bid the hard core Nazis will some day try in the heart of Germany. In the Saar, there is the embryo of that sleeping giant which spouted Hitler. It is unlikely that this hard core will be able to again raise the swastika, but, if Germany is not reunified within a reasonable time, this Nazi danger could erupt in the heart of Europe.

Hard core Nazis realize their only hope of forging back into responsible roles lies in an appeal to German emotionalism — the fierce love of the Fatherland.

Who, then, are the ones who comprise this Nazi hard core?

First and foremost, the Saar hard core of Nazis is an active leadership of three pro-German political parties combined now under the title of "Der Heimatbund" which now fights for a 75 per cent majority grip of parliament in the Dec. 18 elections. If they score 38 out of 50 seats in the Landtag, they can demand a constitutional revision as a first step to return the Saar to West Germany.

The summit man is undoubtedly 48-year-old Heinrich Schneider, a lawyer who also heads the vociferous "German Democratic Party" and concurrently rules as the recognized "Lieter."

Schneider, sly of face but modestly handsome with dark brown hair and an easy manner that appeals to women, avoids the bombastic and dramtic platform antics of Hitler.

Educated at Heidelberg and Kassel, Schneider studiously shuns the "Heil Hitler" type of salute and "Mein Kampf" as his guiding principles. He was actively Nazi from 1930 to 1937 when he was "ousted" for defending people accused of party disloyalty. He emphasizes this expulsion from the Nazi Party.

But, not known to his henchmen or bruited about is the existence of authenticated proof that he not only remained a Nazi at heart but sought reinstatement in 1940. Lately he has published in his own newspaper photographs of himself in Nazi uniform standing behind Hitler or taking the loyalty oath to Hitler.

* * *

Schneider ignored legal barriers to pro-German parties and three months ago secretly organized the "Democratic Party of the Saar."

(Tomorrow: Meet the dreaded "Blutrichter of Prague" who today is second deputy chairman of the pro-German "Christian Democratic Party" in the Saarland.)

County Grocer to Try It Again

Greenback Party Picks Storekeeper to Run in '56 Presidential Race

EDMONDS, Wash. (AP)—The mantle of presidential nominee rested easily today on the unassuming shoulders of a country grocer. He tried it on in 1952 with the same results he expects next year.

Actually, Fred C. Proehl (pronounced Prayle) is more concerned with what he considers the sad state of this nation's monetary affairs than he is about being a serious presidential threat.

* * *

The 75-year-old nominee of the Greenback party was tapped for the honor without flurry or fuss. He was named in a quiet mail referendum conducted by the party and announced by John Zahnd, party chairman, at Indianapolis.

* * *

The party—and Proehl—believes in greenbacks. Lots of them, as substitutes for interest-bearing bonds used in financing such things as government power projects.

"We want to issue money to pay for the services of government," he explains. "The amount to be issued should be limited to what actually is needed. If money gets too cheap, we would stop printing it."

Proehl doesn't plan to do much campaigning, particularly around his little rural store a dozen miles north of Seattle.

"Those people around here are all Democrats or Republicans, and if I start talking my politics in the store they'd shoot me."

Farmington Water Development Group Calls Public Meet

Hold Final Gathering to Bring Board Action

FARMINGTON — The Township Water Development Committee, at the suggestion of numerous residents unable to attend the last meeting, has called another public gathering to be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Junior High School auditorium.

Dr. Joseph Gadbaw, chairman of the committee, stated that this is the final step in the committee's long - sustained effort to bring about direct action by the Township Board, and the speed with which it is accomplished depends directly on the number of persons participating.

Persons wishing to sign the petitions at the meeting must know the name of the subdivision in which their property lies and the number of the lot.

Petitions are now being circulated to form a special assessment district in six of the 37 subdivisions included in the proposed district, and additional volunteers will be needed to complete the task.

The Farmington Township Board met in executive session last week at the Town Hall. They conferred with Donald Pierce, sanitation engineer of the State Water Resources Commission and Russell Colson of the Oakland County Health Department, to discuss further organization of a township water and sewer authority.

Specific attention was given to the water and sewage disposal systems in Kendallwood subdivision. The township agreed to take over and operate the systems with Thompson-Brown, developers of the subdivision, paying all costs of operation to January, 1957.

Pierce said that the state wants clarification of what the board has approved, and pointed out that a full-time operator approved by the state must be employed by the township. He then submitted to the board a list of state approved operators of class B systems.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP

The board also discussed with Judge Arthur E. Moore, of Pontiac, and Archie Leonard, township attorney, the possible consideration of a charter township form of government. Judge Moore believes that the township might derive greater benefits from a charter. Ernest Blanchard, township supervisor said that if the township is going to change its form of government, it might be well to consider becoming a city.

* * *

James Tennant, city manager, has announced the appointment of Harvey Blough as superintendent of the newly created Department of Public Utilities, set up in accordance with the recently adopted water and sewer ordinance.

Community Hospital Fund to Collect $6,000 Locally

MARLETTE — About $6,000 remains to be collected locally for the current expansion and remodeling of the Marlette Community Hospital after Federal Government officials announced Thursday that its grant would be increased by $13,622.

* * *

Jack Cross, hospital administrator, said that local pledges need not be paid in full until April 1, but the money is being sought by Dec. 31.

With the increased grant available, alterations in the present hospital building can be done as the new wing is being constructed.

The job is expected to be finished by April 1. The new wing and alterations will cost $160,400. Of this the federal government is contributing $78,596, including a contingency fund, and approximately $81,804 must come from local sources.

The new wing will add 20 beds to the hospital size, bringing the actual number of beds up to 50. When finished and equipped the total value of the hospital will be approximately half a million dollars.

Retired De Gaulle Writes Memoirs of Leadership

PARIS (NEA) — Almost 10 years ago Gen. Charles de Gaulle abandoned his job as head of the French Government to retire to his estate at Colombey-les-deux-Eglises, 200 miles east of Paris.

* * *

He quit because he had not been able to bring about the reform of the Constitution and the institution of separate executive and legislative powers.

His contention that there was something basically wrong with France's political system has since then been amply justified. In the last nine years 15 premiers have formed 20 Cabinets. Two hundred deputies have become ministers of state. Even his Reassemblement du Peuple Francais (French People's Rally), a movement which he headed after he left the Government and with which he hoped to gain a majority in Parliament, has been dissolved.

Although at one time it represented the strongest single group in the National Assembly, RPF subsequently split up into two factions (neither of which de Gaulle recognized) on the question of whether its leaders should acept Cabinet posts. This was the beginning of the end of the RPF. Then France lost Indo-China and right now the authority of the French Union is menaced in North Africa.

SOLDIER DE GAULLE came out of retirement last year to honor France's unknown soldier.

PUBLISHED MEMOIRS

But retirement does not mean inaction for the man who during four long years was the very symbol of the Resistance Movement to compatriots in occupied France and heralded as a savior when she was liberated. He has never failed to follow national and international events with the greatest vigilance.

Last year he published the first volume of his memoirs. He is now busy putting the finishing touches to the second volume, "l'Unite," which is to appear in March 1956, and covers the years 1942-1944. The third volume will go from 1944 to the end of his premiership in 1946.

Until the English translation of the first volume, "Call to Honor," few people abroad knew that de-Gaulle is probably the most distinguished political writer France has produced during the Third and Fourth Republics.

* * *

Contrary to most autobiographers, de Gaulle never took a note during the four years he spent in England or when he was at the head of the Government. His memoirs, which cover the history of France from before her downfall right on through to 1946, are written from memory, supported by an enormous mass of letters memos and telegrams.

LIVES LIKE HERMIT

DeGaulle is a methodical worker and writes three drafts of each chapter — by hand. The final one is then typed out by his daughter, Elizabeth.

He and his wife live very much like hermits at Colombey, and almost as frugally. The house is a large rambling manor full of souvenirs of the war, surrounded by a vast park and encircled by a forest. Visitors are rare. Only his son Philippe and daughter Elizabeth, with their three children, plus a handful of close relatives penetrate beyond the wall of their private life.

Madame de Gaulle is invariably at the general's side. She has never left it. She accompanies him to Paris on his weekly vists to his old headquarters in the Rue de Solferino, a stone's throw from the National Assembly. Here a half-score of devoted Gaullists attend to the general's business, keeping him posted on all things of interest to him.

WILL HE RETURN

At Colombey, de Gaulle usually spends his mornings at his desk. After lunch he and his wife are usually driven to the nearby forest where they take a long walk. When time presses, he walks in the vast park where a gigantic cross of Lorraine grows in flowers. Often his steps will lead him through the little village up to the cemetery where his favorite daughter, Anne lies buried.

Will de Gaulle ever return to power? Recently the ex-president of the Rally of the French People is reported to have told a visitor: "France will go through more ups and downs, but the fact remains that our country, since the beginning of the century, is on the downgrade. She had an excellent chance, at Liberation to stem the tide. It was here I failed. I could not force the hand of the people."

The magic current which once ran between de Gaulle and his beloved France is interrupted. He is aware of this as he is of the fact that only the thunder of tremendous events can bring him back to the pilot's helm.

* * *

So the greatest lover France ever had waits for the messenger who will come — if and when the hour of another drama should strike again. Only then will he abandon the pen for the sword.

SENSITIVE MAN

De Gaulle is said to have few intimate friends, mainly due to his extreme reserve which so many people judge as lack of sensitivity. Deep down he is a most sensitive man, but cannot find the voice to express his feelings even when most profoundly moved.

There was the day when Rennes was liberated and a great clamor rose from the crowd who had waited to see the man who had helped to maintain their courage during so many years. Deathly pale, his voice choked with emotion, all he could do was intone, offkey, the Marseillaise.

His enemies have often in the past and even now charged him with dictatorial ambitions. General de Gaulle invariably retorts that he had several opportunities to become a dictator after France was liberated and refused them.

* * *

When he abandoned politics he quit without being any richer, without rank or position. People close to him say their leader's greatest nostalgia is that of no longer being able directly to serve his country.

Fatal Religion Hassle Probed

Police Report Youth, 19, Shot Himself Trying to 'Prove a Point'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— The fatal shooting of a 19-year-old youth which ended an early morning argument on religion with two friends from prominent families is being investigated by the district attorney and city police.

* * *

The victim was Bruce McPherson, son of a retired railroad man. The coroner and police said he shot himself.

He had left a party of young people and going with Robert Devlin to the home of Thomas Hughes about 2 a.m. yesterday.

As the argument progressed in an upstairs bedroom, police said, Hughes took a revolver from a dressed drawer, loaded it, set it on safety, gave it to McPherson and said:

* * *

"McPherson was believed by Hughes and Devlin to be somewhat of an atheist and a controversy resulted between the three of them over religion," said the police report. The police said Hughes gave McPherson the gun "in trying to prove a point." They said Hughes is an Episcopalian and Devlin a Catholic.

* * *

Hughes was released to the custody of an uncle, Gerald Johnson, a prominent attorney. Devlin was released to his father, Arthur Devlin, also a attorney.

Cool, Low Down Dance and Party —in the Sewer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The pledges of a University of Southern California fraternity went to the depths for a site for their big costume party.

* * *

They tossed a sewer shin-dig in a huge underground storm drain after convincing city and county authorities that they wouldn't endanger their guests.

Twelve pledges of Sigma Phi Epsilon spent a week cleaning and decorating the tunnel, and USC engineering students built a four-foot dam to protect the area from run-off waters during the course of the dance.

* * *

Their more than 100 guests agreed the party Saturday night was cool and lowdown. One coed paid the supreme compliment. Said she:

"I've never seen a cleaner sewer."

Circus Still Working

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The circus season has ended for the big top but performers and animals start right in today rehearsing for a big television show. Missing Boy's Body Found in a Thicket

CRANE, Ind. (AP) — Three boys tramping through a thicket yesterday stumbled on the body of Ronnie Weitkamp, 54 days after the 3-year-old boy's disappearance sent 2,500 servicemen and civilians combing the huge Crane Naval Ammunition Depot for 30 hours.

The body of the tow-headed youngster was found 50 yards north of the depot, where the child's father Lawrence Weitkamp works as an ammunition inspector.

Capt. Robert Dillon, chief state police investigator, said a preliminary check brought out no reason to suppose foul play. He said it appeared the boy died of "starvation and exposure," but emphasized the investigation would have to be completed before more positive conclusions could be drawn.

Snatches 4,000 Bricks

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Tenants of two homes said a man told them he had been hired by the landlord to tear down their chimneys. They said he carefully dismantled one chimney and half of another and hauled away 4,000 bricks in a pick-up truck. The landlord, Sam L. Campise, asked police to find the thief. He said he hadn't hired him.

Doctor Cautions Hormones' Use

Certain Rare Diseases Now Common Because of Epidemic Dosage

CHICAGO (INS) — A University of Illinois physician warned today that certain rare diseases — "once confined solely to text books" — are becoming increasingly common due to widespread use of hormone treatments.

* * *

He urged a meeting of physicians in Chicago to "have an understanding of all actions before embarking on hormone therapy."

Dr. Samuel G. Taylor, an endocrinologist and clinical associate professor of medicine at Illinois, made it clear he was not opposed to the use of hormones to control fatal diseases. But he recommended caution in using hormones for treating skin conditions, itches and other relatively minor ailments.

Hormones are chemical extracts from the various glands in the body's endocrine system, which includes the thyroid, adrenal, pituitary and sex glands.

Such hormones as cortisone, estrogen, androgen and thyroid extract have been used to treat a wide range of disetses, including arthritis, allergies, rheumatic fever and forms of cancer.

RECENT 'EPIDEMIC'

Dr. Taylor, speaking before the 14th annual meeting of the American Academy of Dermatology, declared diseases of the endocrine system have become "epidemic" in the past few years.

"Such rare diseases as Cushing's syndrome, adrenal diabetes, virilism and endometrial hyperplasia of the aged have become common," he said.

Dr. Taylor also warned the removal of certain endocrine glands to control the spread of disease was contributing to the increase in glandular disorders and body imbalance.

Dr. Taylor said many of the so-called "side reactions" to cortisone treatments are really direct physiological actions of the hormone due to big dosage. He urged the specialized doctor to work with endocrinologists familar with the actions of hormones.

As an example of the kind of difficulty encountered, Dr. Taylor described the case of a 19-year-old girl choir singer who complained of hoarseness and hypertension.

It turned out she had been given an overdose of male hormones. The condition was corrected but Dr. Taylor added:

Business School Student Invents New Word Game

WEST ORANGE, N. J. (INS) —Words are worth a lot of money these days — not writing them, making up games about them.

* * *

It all started at National Guard camp.

"Another fellow and I were playing around with the idea for a game and came up with this," is Peter's explanation.

The game itself is a lot like the "Hangman" game children play —only this game is played with a board and a special deck of cards and has a touch of "Twenty Questions" thrown in.

The basic idea is to guess the hidden word, and players may ask "animal, vegetable, or mineral" questions about it or guess at the total word, as well as guess at individual letters.

* * *

WANTED EXPERIENCE

"I wanted to try it out to get the business experience," he said. His friend eventually dropped out because he "didn't like businss."

So he made up a sample batch of games and distributed them. Then he went around to everyone who had the game, on a door-to-door basis, and asked them for suggestions about rules, colors for the design, etc., and came up with a finished product.

"My mother's my secretary," he explained. "She works for me and really puts 'n a full week. She gets paid quite a bit, but that depends on how business goes. She's definitely subject to depression."

The citizens of Tiburon on the San Francisco Bay did just that.

* * *

Tiburon's waterfront Main street with its 15 falsefront stores, dating from the old sailing ship days, have been completely painted, redecorated, landscaped and generally restored by a group of some 200 volunteers from the town. It was even done to music.

The Twelfth Naval District Band played during the Saturday morning and part of the afternoon, while the townspeople worked and other entertainment was presented, and there was more music in the evening.

The painting and other work went on into late Saturday night under arc lights, continued into Sunday and ended Sunday evening with a big celebration.

The idea was to give the little Main Street the full treatment of co-ordinated color, including outdoor murals by some of the best artists in the West and other decorative touches, while retaining its old character and charm.

* * *

Traffic was roped off for the big redecorating event and the volunteers were split up into 15 crews. Paints were carefully chosen and mixed in advance and each crew worked under a paint captain with his color scheme on hand to point out just where the colors were to go.

BEVY OF WORKERS

Volunteer paint crews included: Teenagers from the villages of Belvedere Island and Tiburon; Boy Scouts; retired Norwegian sailors from the Norwegian Sailors Home in San Francisco, the Cove Players, a local theatrical group; the Penmen, local authors; the Reed School Teachers; the fire department; Belvedere City Officials; Tiburon Net Base Seamen; the Peninsula Coordinating Council, and a number of volunteer groups from Belvedere Island which abuts Tiburon known as the East Siders, the Islanders, and Paradise Drive and the Lynford Cove Volunteers.

The seven nationally known artists who live in the area and who did the murals on the outside of the buildings were John Falter, Don Sternloff, Robert O. Bach, Willard Roswell Cox, Herb Heidinger, and the team of Jeanne Gerhardt and Jack Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. Hurt.

The project was made possible by unusual cooperation among labor leaders, contractors, civic-minded citizens, the Navy—Tiburon Net Base, far-sighted businessmen and local merchants.

Everything was donated, paint, scaffolding and trees.

Picnic lunches and dinner were served to the volunteers on Main Street by ladies from the nearby area and the landscaping was done by the Boy Scouts.

The purpose was not to impose anything on the old Main Street that was out of character.

The planners realized that their town was a waterfront town and they wanted to keep it that way but to restore in coordinated color and design the color of the old days.

People talk about "painting the town"—Tiburon did it!

Mrs. America, 90 Citizens Tour East Berlin Area

BERLIN (INS) — Mrs. America of 1956 and 90 other Americans took an Army-conducted tour of East Berlin yesterday, thus emphasizing the American right to free movement in the Red area.

Mrs. Ramona Deitmeyer, 35-year-old mother of five children and Mrs. America of 1956, was the star of the bus tour which was conducted by Lt. James T. McQueen of Mullins, S.C.

Lt. McQueen was detained with two U.S. Congressmen by East Berlin police a week ago. Mrs. Deitmeyer, whose home is in Lincoln, Neb., said she was not worried by the trip to the Communist sector.

She spent a half hour at the Soviet war memorial in East Berlin where McQueen and his party were arrested.

McQueen said the bus tours have been going to East Berlin without interruption despite the detention a week ago.

List $40,000 Fire Loss

RAVENNA, Mich. (AP) — A main street fire today destroyed a building housing a service station, tire storage and radio store. Damage was unofficially estimated at $40,000. Origin of the blaze, which lasted for two hours in a high wind, was undetermined.

Intruder Captured in 2-Minute Breakin

The "break" lasted two minutes. Revell called police and Peter J. Donachiue was arrested two blocks away on a storehouse breaking charge.

Revell said he had no intention of following through on his promise. But he had to use his head, he said, what with the hands in the pockets.

4 Jap Women Studying U.S. Delinquency Fight

CHICAGO (INS) — Four Japanese women leaders have a date in Chicago's Family Court today to see how a large American city approaches the juvenile delinquency problem.

The four — Mrs. Chie Akiyama, 38, Isoko Hatano, 49, Hideko Ohama, 54, and Kazuko Kubayashi, 40 — are guests of the Institute of International Education.

Deacon Sports Bosses Resign

Athletic Director and Coach Quit in Wake Forest Shakeup

WAKE FOREST, N.C. (AP) — The big questions at Wake Forest today were: "Are we going to de-emphasize football?" and "Who will be the new football coach and athletic director?"

In a surprise shakeup, the resignations of Head Football Coach Tom Rogers and Athletic Director Paddison (Pat) Preston were announced by the college Saturday.

The announcement came while most sports fans were wondering if North Carolina Coach George Barclay is about to get the ax and perhaps be succeeded by Jim Tatum of Maryland.

* * *

None of the principals involved in the Wake Forest shakeup spoke for publication.

Dr. Harold Tribble, president of Wake Forest for the past five years, read a letter to the athletic council from Preston in which Preston requested that he be relieved of his duties.

At the same time the council announced it had been notified by Rogers, whose team won 5, lost 4 and tied 1 game this season, that he "will not be available" for renewal of his three-year contract which expires at the end of this month.

The man holding the key to the entire picture is Dr. Tribble, who has stated he favors athletics but nevertheless has wielded a strong hand over the school's athletic policy.

With the school due to move to its new campus at Winston-Salem next year, there has been speculation that Dr. Tribble would prefer to put renewed emphasis on academics instead of athletics.

Perforated 'Prissy'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—"Prissy," pet parakeet of Dr. and Mrs. Orin McMillan, pecked too hard at its breast feathers and preforated its craw. A doctor sewed it up several times but Prissy reopened it every time. So Mrs. MacMillan sewed Prissy a vest out of a nylon scrap, fitted it around the bird's neck and beneath the wings. The wound healed.

THE SEA CUCUMBER'S SECRET WEAPON

A marine animal with a long scientific name and an odd secret weapon is known as a sea cucumber because of its shape and appearance.

There are some 500 species of sea cucumbers and it is found in most parts of the world. The ones off the New England are small. On the reefs of Florida they reach a length of 15 inches or more.

Soft in body but with a leathery skin, the sea cucumber lies buried in sand during the day. Around its mouth are fine plant-like tentacles which set as a net to capture the cucumber's food and are its secret weapon.

This picture shows a model of a sea cucumber in a museum exhibit. It is larger than life size so that it can be studied more easily.

You can become more familiar with the sea cucumber by pasting this picture on thin cardboard and coloring it with crayons. If you fasten it to a thin pasteboard box you can set it up on edge so that it will look like a museum exhibit.

Make the sea cucumber the first in your own museum today.

Olson Expects Sugar Ray to Try for KO

CHICAGO (AP) — Middleweight champion Bobo Olson, who has sampled Sugar Ray Robinson's punches twice before, thinks he can handle any blitz tactics the former king might try in seeking an early KO victory in their title scrap Friday night.

* * *

"I was a green kid and Robinson was a great fighter back in 1950 when he got me in the 12th round," said Olson as he entered the final week of drills for defense of his crown in Chicago Stadium.

* * *

"But even then my style bothered him for 10 rounds. And when we met two years later I really gave him trouble before he took a split 15-round decision. We both know each others styles and what to expect in this third fight.

"I look for Ray to try to knock me out early. Although reports are that he is in wonderful condition, the man still is 35 and must realize that he can't stand up under the pressure I'll give him through 15 rounds.

"I only hope that he tries to blitz me from the start. If he comes in to me, that will suit me fine. I know I'll go after him."

Olson shrugs off his third-round knockout by light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in last June's title bout as "a thing of the past—and something I'd just as soon forget."

* * *

"I was just wrong to think I could hold my own with a good big man," he said. "I was lucky I couldn't get up after he floored me. That way I didn't get hurt."

Red Wings Split Weekend Tilts; Lose 7-3 to NY

Detroit Wins Shutout Over Bruins, Then Is Drubbed by Rangers

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit's rookie goalie, Glen Hall, was alternately good and bad over the weekend and so were his Red Wing teammates in splitting a pair of National Hockey League games.

With a five-goal, 3rd period outburst the New York Rangers trounced the Red Wings 7-3 last night. Saturday night Hall shut out the Boston Bruins, 5-0.

With the score deadlocked at 2-2 and with Detroit's Ted Lindsay off for hooking, Murphy whacked in a 10-foot backhander at 2:01 of the final period.

And before Lindsay got out of the penalty box, New York had upped its lead to 4-2 on Dave Creighton's 2nd goal of the night at 2:52.

A minute later, Dean Prentice slammed another goal past Hall. Coupled with mid-period goals by Danny Lewicki and Andy Nebenton, the Ranger rampage equaled the largest scoring output of the season for New York.

Gordie Howe got the Red Wings, who won their 7th consecutive NHL championship and 2nd straight Stanley Cup series in 1954, off to a 1-0 lead. Howe batted in his own rebound 26 seconds after the opening face-off.

Lindsay smashed an angle shot past goalie Lorne Worsley in the second period to draw Detroit even with New York tallies registered by Creighton and Andy Bathgate.

AAU Sets Out to Clean House

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — National Amateur Athletic Union, troubled by reports of repeated infractions of its simon-pure code, set out today to clean house.

A study was ordered yesterday at the close of the AAU's 68th annual convention to see if drastic measures are necessary to end the practices of overpaying amateur athletes.

Accepting blame for letting the athletes shoulder full responsibility in the past, the AAU said it will set up penalties for promoters and for its own officials, too, if that is the cure.

Labrador Wins Retriever Title at Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A 100-pound Labrador got every duck and pheasant assigned to him yesterday to win the National Retriever Championship Stake.

The black male, named Cork of Oakwood Lane, is owned by Dr. and Mrs. A. Harold Mork of Anoka, Minn. His handler was Tony Berger, Anoka.

Thirty-six dogs entered the four-day competition.

Welsh National Passing Champ

Completes 94 Aerials in 150 Attempts for 1,319 Net Yards

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Although overshadowed by Army's fierce running attack in the final game, Navy's diminutive George Welsh became the pass-throwing champion of major college football in 1955.

The five-ten, 164-pound midshipman from Coaldale, Pa., completed 18 of 29 passes in the 14-6 loss to Army to shade Columbia's Claude Benham, who completed his season a week earlier.

Welsh finished with a total of 94 completions in 150 attempts in nine games for a total of 1,319 yards and eight touchdowns. The championship is determined on completions.

Benham, who played on a losing team, completed 89 of 188 for 999 yards and seven touchdowns.

The year's ace receiver was Hank Burnine of Missouri, who caught 44 passes for 594 yards and two touchdowns in ten games.

Earl Morrall of Michigan State set an all-time record of 13.8 yards per attempt for 50 or more passes thrown. The former mark was 13.5 set by Eddie Crowder of Oklahoma in 1952.

Morrall and Ronnie Knox of UCLA were 2nd to Welsh in completion percentage for those who threw 50 or more passes.

Big 10 Cage Teams Given Early Trouble

Ohio State Is Led by Freeman's 24 Points; Beats Butler

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes, bolstered by the return of Robin Freeman, shoot for their 2nd straight basketball triumph tonight while two beaten Big Ten teams get another chance for an initial victory.

Ohio State will take on Vanderbilt after having vanquished Butler Saturday night, 73-51, behind a 24-point spurt by Freeman.

One of the Big Ten's leading scorers last season, Freeman was forced to the sidelines because of illness before the campaign was over. As a result the Buckeyes took an immediate nosedive and finished in the cellar.

With Freeman back, OSU figures to be rough.

Northwestern and Wisconsin try again tonight. Northwestern beaten by Western Michigan, 72-67, is at Kansas and Wisconsin, whipped by Butler, 67-63, invades Notre Dame.

The Irish are also seeking victory No. 1 after losing to Detroit, 77-71, last week.

Michigan also suffered defeat, bowing before Pitt, 75-66, Saturday.

Minnesota was hard pressed but came up with an 82-78 decision over DePaul.

Among Midwest independents, Loyola downed Ripon, 85-53, and Bradley swept by Rollins, 97-61.

Illinois opens its season tomorrow night at home against Butler but Michigan State does not venture on the courts until Dec. 13.

Oakland Grid Stars to Dine

Terry Brennan Guest at Banquet Honoring All-County Teams

Members of the all-Oakland County football team will be honored tonight in the first annual banquet to be held at the Elks Temple.

An offensive and defensive unit, made up of 11 players each, along with numerous coaches from the county will attend the affair which is being co-sponsored by the Civitan Club and station WPON.

Guest of honor and main speaker will be Terry Brennan, popular young football coach from Notre Dame University.

The all-star teams comprising players from all classes of high schools were selected by the vote of the coaches in the county.

Topflight Bout Schedule Set for TV Fans

Encounters in Three Divisions Set For Television

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boxing fans have a ball this week with some of the game's outstanding fighters in action.

Heading the star-studded lineup is the middlweight title scrap between champion Carl (Bobo) Olson and Sugar Ray Robinson in Chicago Friday night. Close behind comes the heavyweight elimination collision between two hulking contenders, Cuba's Nino Valdes and Pittsburgh's Bob Baker in Cleveland Wednesday night.

Both of the fights will be broadcast and telecast across the nation.

The 27-year-old Olson, from San Francisco, is rated about a 3-1 choice to beat back the challenge of the "unretired," 35-year-old Sugar Ray in a 15-rounder in the Chicago stadium (NBC-TV and radio, 10 p.m. EST).

The third network television scrap matches a pair of hardhitting middlweights tonight at New York's St. Nicholas arena. Germany's Peter Mueller, back for another invasion, faces rugged Ray Drake of New York in a 10-rounder (Dumont-TV, 10 p.m., EST).

Souchak Fires 15 Under Par in Havana Meet

Former Duke Gridder Ahead of Oliver by Two Strokes

HAVANA (AP)—Mike Souchak, who chose golf over a pro football career after starring on the gridiron at Duke University, was $2,000 richer today after winning the $15,000 Havana Invitational Tournament.

The husky pro from Grossinger, N.Y., put together a 72-hole card of 273, 15 strokes under par, to win the event by two strokes over Ed (Porky) Oliver of Newark, Del. Souchak wound up with a 69 yesterday while Oliver turned in a 68 after blowing a chance to make it closer with a double bogey on the par 4 18th.

Oliver's second place was worth $1,400. Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City finished third with 278, good for $1,000 while Ted Kroll of Bethesda, Md., and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., tied for fourth with 279s. They split $1,550.

Scott Frost 1955's Top Money Winner

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Harness racing's leading money winner in 1955 was Scott Frost, sophomore trotter from Shafter, Calif. He set an all-time single season pankroll record of $186,101, officials of the United States Trotting Assn. announced today.

The 3-year-old colt, owned by Saul Camp, had an income almost double that of runner-up Adios Harry who collected $97,400. Third place Quick Chief earned $95,397.

Ferris Makes Awards

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—A total of 23 major varsity football awards and 14 service awards will be made Nov. 29 at the Ferris Institute awards assembly. Sam Ketchman, football coach and director of athletics, said the major varsity awards for football would be accepted by the 1955 team of one senior, two juniors, three sophomores and 17 freshmen.

Lane Swings 1st Purchase as Cardinals Buy Kinder

CHICAGO (AP)—As expected, General Manager Frank Lane of the St. Louis Cardinals swung the first player deal of the major league meetings, purchasing veteran relief pitcher Ellis Kinder yesterday from the Boston Red Sox for "a trifle over the $10,000 waiver price."

The element of surprise, however, sprang from the admission of the former Chicago White Sox trading whiz that he had to go back to his old stand to finally consummate his first transaction as a National Leaguer.

"I've talked with every club in our league," Lane explained his reason for falling back on his American League buddies, "and absolutely nothing has come of all the talks. We have another discussion scheduled with Roy Hamey and Mayo Smith of the Phillies later today and I hope we can come to some agreement but I'm not optimistic."

The Cards and Phils have had several sessions concerning players of important stature but have refused to reveal the players' identity. It is reported the Cards have offered second base star Red Schoendienst and several other players to the Phils for outfielder Del Ennis and first baseman-catcher Stan Lopata.

Lane expressed happiness over the acquisition of the 41-year-old Kinder, who spent 10 years in the American League, the last seven at Boston. Used strictly as a reliefer last season, he appeared in 43 games and did well until September, then pooped out. He wound up with a 5-5 record.

"I know Kinder will be 42 next July," said Lane, "but I'd take him if he was going on 92. All I know is the White Sox were after him and are disappointed in not getting him."

Nail Voted Champion Colt by Thoroughbred Experts

Practically an unknown during the early part of the season, Nail surprised everyone by winning the $125,125 Belmont Futurity in October, and followed up by taking the $95,600 Remsen Stakes at Jamaica and the $79,350 Pimlico Futurity.

Owned by Mrs. Anson A. Bigelow of Palm Beach, Fla., the little grey galloper picked up $67,980 in the Pimlico Futurity and headed for Florida with $239,930—tops for the year in the 2-year-old division.

Nail earned high rating in calculations for the 1956 Kentucky Derby and other 3-year-old classics, and is expected to be pointed for two $100,000 races here—the Flamingo at Hialeah and the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park.

The son of Nirgal, former French champion, and No Strings, polled 21 of the possible 40 votes from the selection board, made up of racing secretaries at the TRA tracks. Others in the running were the D&H Stable's Needles, C. V. Whitney's Career Boy, and E. Guy Drake's Swoon's Son. The TRA opened its 14th annual meeting here today.

MVC Cage Co-Favorites Face Tests; Titans Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Houston and St. Louis go on the road this week for their first chances to show why they're rated title co-favorites in the Missouri Valley, one of the nation's toughest college basketball leagues.

St. Louis (1-0) makes its annual trip to Madison Square Garden in New York Saturday. The Billikens this time play the heavyweight St. John's Redmen. The top three St. John's players range from 6-5 to 6-7.

Houston (1-0), powered by 7-foot Don Boidebuck, enters the Birmingham classic, facing Valparaiso Friday in the first round. The Cougars are expected to win this one, but have to tackle the winner of the Alabama-TCU game Saturday.

St. Louis, 98-81 victor over Louisiana Tech, plays host to Centenary Wednesday in another warm-up. The same night at Houston, the Cougars, 77-55 winners over Sam Houston State, will tune up against Texas A & I.

The valley lost only twice in nine games last week and its members figure to win at least 2 of the 16 games on this week's schedule.

Only two games didn't follow the form chart last week. Detroit upset Notre Dame, 77-71, their first ever against the fighting Irish in 25 meetings starting in 1911. Oklahoma A & M. was tripped at home by Texas, 56-59.

Utah blasted Wichita, 73-51, for the other valley setback, but that was expected. The wheatshockers unveiled a 10,000-seat, 1½-million-dollar fieldhouse which they'll dedicate against favored Kansas Wednesday.

Bill Ebben led Detroit against Notre Dame with 32 points, added 25 as the Titans whipped Western Ontario, 77-58.

Dommeyer Hits 25 to Lead Gopher Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Jed Dommeyer, a service returnee at Minnesota, took the opening week scoring lead in the Big Ten basketball race.

Dommeyer popped in 25 points against DePaul Saturday night in leading Minnesota to an 82-78 triumph.

Tied behind Dommeyer at 24 points each were Ohio State's Robin Freeman and Northwestern Captain Dick Mast.

Only other Big Ten players to hit the 20 mark in opening games were sophomore Archie Dees of Indiana with 21 and Ron Jecha of Purdue with 20.

Druggist Bags 4 Deer—With Car

MIDDLEVILLE (INS) — A Middleville, Mich., druggist has had uncommon luck bagging deer—with his car.

V. V. Taylor, who killed two deer with his car on separate occasions, recently smacked down two of the animals at one crack.

Defeat Steelers to Win Crown; Rams Still Lead

Los Angeles Leading in Western Division by Half Game

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Jubilant Paul Brown said today the big factor in the Cleveland Browns snaring their sixth straight Eastern Conference title of the National Football League was the return of veteran quarterback Otto Graham.

"But I don't plan to ask him back again," said the coach of the defending NFL champion Browns. "He certainly went overboard to come back in a tight situation and I'm grateful.

* * *

"Graham was a big factor in our winning the championship. He's one of the finest football players I've ever coached. I'm sure Otto is retiring after this season and permanently.

"If somebody told me last August we could do it again, I would have never have believed them. But Otto's return gave us the big lift we needed."

Graham told the Browns after last season he was quitting pro football. But after a poor exhibition season Coach Brown persuaded the veteran quarterback to come back at least for one more season.

* * *

Following the game, Graham insisted he is hanging up his spikes for good after the championship game. He said:

"I came back this fall because I felt I owed a loyalty to Coach Brown and the Cleveland fans but I'm getting too old and now I owe a debt to my wife and family."

The Browns clinched their sixth straight divisional title yesterday by whipping the hapless Pittsburgh Steelers 30-7 at Forbes Field. It was their eighth triumph in 11 games with 1 tie. The Browns haven't been beaten for the Eastern title since they came into the National Football League.

"We started the season poorly," said Brown. "I was never sure we could do it until we did it. It is a real satisfying thing and I'm grateful."

Brown said the acquisition of fullback Ed (Big Mo) Modzelewski from the Steelers also was a big help in the championship drive.

* * *

He also praised the work of halfbacks Ray Renfro and Fred Morrison and the stellar line play of Charles Noll, Bob Gain and Abe Gibron.

"Everybody on the team gave their best," added Brown, "and that's why we won. It was all team work. Our defense was a big factor."

Brown said the New York Giants were the toughest team the Browns played this season. The Giants last week tied the Browns 35-35, and yesterday clipped Washington 27-20 to ease the Browns into the title.

"The biggest surprise, commented Brown, "was the Washington Redskins. They seemed to be the team of destiny. As they clung to us you wondered.

* * *

"I'm glad we won. Don't forget we have another game next week and we'll be out to win that one too and also the championship game."

The Browns opponent in the title game will be either the Western Conference leading Los Angeles Rams or the second-place Chicago Bears. The Western division title will be decided next Sunday.

Bears Edge Detroit, 21-20

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Lions have lost more National Football League games in 1955 than they did in the three previous seasons combined.

They dropped their 8th of the year, 21-20, to the Chicago Bears in Chicago yesterday.

The Lions, western division champions three straight years and league champions in 1952 and 1953, lost a combined total of seven regular season games over the span. They dropped three in 1952 and two in each 1953 and 1954.

This year the Lions are a cinch to finish on the bottom or next to it in the western division. It could be their worst year since 1948, when they won 2; lost 10. Their current NFL mark of 3-8 is matched by San Francisco.

Lions end the season at home against the New York Giants next Sunday, while the 49ers take on the Baltimore Colts at Frisco.

Margin of Chicago's Sunday triumph was a point-after conversion missed by the usually reliable Doak Walker after Detroit's 2nd touchdown.

Lions roared back 52 yards after Chicago's final touchdown, only to see their chances go glimmering as Walker's attempted field goal from the 36 soared wide of the posts with 35 seconds of play remaining.

Bears' winning touchdown came on a 20-yard pass from Ed Brown to Harlon Hill — only aerial he caught all day — in the final five minutes. George Blanda's conversion, which turned out to be the winning margin, was his 141st without a miss.

* * *

Marching 77 and 72 yards on a total of only 16 plays, Detroit ran up a 13-0 margin in the 2nd period, but tackle George Connor picked up a fumble by Layne and ran 48 yards for a touchdown in the final minute of the 1st half, which ended 13-7.

It was a jarring tackle by Doug Atkins that knocked Layne loose from the ball and also put him out of action for the 2nd half.

An 82-yard scoring drive led by rookie Bob Watkins of Ohio State, gave the Bears a 14-13 edge in the 3rd period, but the Lions clawed back 57 yards in eight plays to make it 20-14.

* * *

Hart lumbered 27 yards to touch off Detroit's final successful drive. Then Gilmer hit Lew Carpenter with a 20-yard pass. Carpenter finally drilled across from the 2.

Duquesne Bids for National Ranking in Opener Tonight as First Heavy Week Gets Under Way

The Associated Press

The collegians hop off on their first six-day week of the basketball season tonight with NCAA champion San Francisco, Kentucky, Iowa and North Carolina State already setting the pace and a surprising number of past giants seemingly headed for long, cold winters.

* * *

Duquesne, the NIT champ, makes its bid to join the front-runners this week, opening against Carnegie Tech tonight and then joining Pitt, Geneva and Westminster (Pa.) in the Steel Bowl Tournament at Pittsburgh Friday. The big question for Coach Dudey Moore's club is whether Jumpin' Si Green can carry a double load now that All America Dick Ricketts has graduated.

San Francisco still has its All America, big Bill Russell, and as expected the Dons have had no trouble with their first two foes. They've whipped little Chico State 70-39 and big-time Southern California 58-42 for 28 straight victories.

* * *

Col. Adolph Rupp's Kentuckians were pressed a bit, but kept control to win their Saturday debut against Louisiana State 62-52. Iowa, again the team to beat in the Big Ten, also was up to snuff in defeating Nebraska 60-51.

North Carolina State, meanwhile, has waltzed through two games, running its winning string to 14 games by beating Penn State 78-42 Saturday.

None of the four were extended in getting the 1955-56 schedule under way. But others of last year's top teams have discovered this is another season.

* * *

Arkansas hasn't won yet, losing first to Southeastern Oklahoma, then to Tulsa 53-45 Saturday. Texas Christian, even with high-scoring Dick O'Neal netting 67 points, is only 1-1 for two games, losing to Texas Tech 76-64 Saturday.

UCLA had two cracks at Brigham Young, and missed on both, losing 75-58 and 67-65.

The week doesn't hold much of a threat for the Big Four, but it may bring the over-all picture into sharper focus.

* * *

San Francisco has just one game, against San Francisco State tomorrow; Kentucky puts the test to Temple, marked a comer in the East, Saturday; Iowa meets Southern Methodist Friday; and North Carolina State plays Wake Forest in an Atlantic Coast Conference game tomorrow and Eastern Kentucky Saturday.

Unbeaten SMU may have the toughest road, moving on to Minnesota and Wisconsin after invading Iowa.

* * *

LaSalle and TCU get a chance to revise their prospects. The Explorers meet Albright tomorrow and Saturday play Niagara, which dumped Fordham 72-70 Saturday on Tom Hemans' 40 points. TCU plays Oklahoma City tonight, then moves on to the weekend Birmingham (Ala.) Classic with Alabama, rated right behind Kentucky in the Southeastern Conference, Houston and Valparaiso (Ind.).

Waterford Cage League Starts

Waterford's Recreation Basketball League gets started for the season with two games on tap tonight and a pair tomorrow.

Games are being played each Monday and Tuesday nights at Isaac E. Crary junior high school, Cass Lake road. There are eight teams in the league.

Tonight Beattie Motor meets Johnson & Anderson at 7:15 p.m. and Clarkston Merchants plays Manny's at 8:30 p.m.

Louis to Marry Again

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis and Miss Rose Morgan, New York cosmetics manufacturer and beauty shop operator, will be married in New York Christmas Day.

Jacksonville State Refrigerator Champ

Alternate fullbacks Chester Skate and Billy Hicks plunged third and fourth period touchdowns to gain the Southerners a 12 to 10 victory over Rhode Island University yesterday at Evansville.

Rhode Island held a 10-6 lead going into the last period on a 21-yard field goal by Jack Jerue and a 5-yard touchdown pass from Bob Sammartino to Eddie Disimone. But Jacksonville end Bill Clark intercepted a Rhode Island pitchout on the New Englanders' 9-yard-line in the 4th period and the Alabama team converted it into the winning score.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

LENGTHENING STRIDE—When average bowlers, especially women, find themselves in a slump, the last fault they are likely to blame is footwork. Yet footwork is the foundation of bowling—and the root of trouble.

Too often the stride is shortened. This speeds the steps and throws the entire motion out of kilter. The ball doesn't catch up with the body. The armswing is hurried.

If you feel cramped at the foul line, add a foot or so to your stride and, doing so, concentrate on starting with a slow, short, shuffle step, timed with the push-away of the ball. The step and push-away must be coordinated.

To finish the delivery in perfect timing with the stride, ride the left leg to the foul line (see sketch) in a sliding finish, with a swinging, natural follow-through. No rush at any tme. Think of letting the ball swing after the push-away. Be relaxed, so that you feel the weight of the ball throughout. Remember, when your stride gets jerky and your swing is rushed, add to your stride—until the swinging ball passes your left, sliding leg smoothly at the foul line.

Wolverines Open New Season With 75 - 66 Loss to Pitt

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan, gan, which wound up the Big Ten football season on a dismal note, started its basketball season on the same note, dropping a 75-66 decision to the hosting Pittsburgh Panthers Saturday night.

John Riser, a 6-foot-4 forward, led the Pitt attack with 18 points as five Panther players hit for double figures.

Ron Kramer, who made all-Big Ten end for the Wolverine football squad in the just-ended season, paced Michigan with 16 points. Tom Jorgenson and Henry Williams each posted 10 markers for the Wolverines.

Pitt, showing balance and poise, took a 39-31 lead at halftime and never was headed thereafter. The Panthers could have run up a greater margin if their foul shooting had been more accurate. They sank only 13 of 28 free shots to 18 of 21 for Michigan.

Overturned Auto Becomes Scene of Child's Birth

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — When a five-car smashup checked her husband's dash to a hospital, Mrs. Thelma Kremple gave birth to her fifth child in an overturned auto yesterday. Both mother and son are reported in "satisfactory" condition.

Seven persons, including Mrs. Kremple, suffered minor injuries in the crash, which occurred on her 26th birthday.

Anthony Kremple, 34, the father, said it was his first accident in years of driving. He accompanied his wife and newly born son to St. Francis Hospital, where he was treated for a bump on his head.

An unidentified physician crawled into the tipped-over Kremple car to assist Mrs. Kremple. Police had to lift the car partly off the ground so a door would open.

Chicago Doctor Held for Murder

Complaint Claims Wife Died Through a Beating Given by Husband

CHICAGO (AP)—Police yesterday charged a doctor with murdering his wife after, they said, he admitted giving her sedatives and beating her unconscious.

The murder complaint against Dr. Hobart H. Todd, 43, charged his wife Hazel, 45, met her death "through a beating" administered by her husband. The complaint was filed by suburban Skokie authorities, where Todd has a home.

Police said Todd admitted after several hours questioning that he administered two sedative injections to his wife, beat her, and then summoned aid four hours later.

By that time, police quoted Todd as saying, her "body was cold."

Firemen told of arriving at Todd's $50,000 home in Skokie at 8:20 Saturday night and finding Mrs. Todd on the bedroom floor clad in a nightgown. The doctor, wearing pajamas, sat on a nearby bed.

William Griffin, Skokie police chief, said Todd was incoherent and lapsed into a coma. After spending the night in a hospital under police guard, he was questioned by authorities.

Dr. Jerry Kearns, Cook County coroner's pathologist, said an autopsy failed to show cause of death. He said a microscopic examination of the body organs will be required and that will take about two weeks.

Griffin said Todd was dismissed two weeks ago from a position as a staff physician with a medical center in the well-to-do suburb.

Scranton Bus Lines End 8-Month Strike

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—The Scranton Transit Co.'s 266 striking employes began returning to work today, ending an eight-month walkout that left this city of 125,000 without mass public transportation.

The employes voted last night at a special membership meeting of the AFL transit workers to accept a revenue-sharing plan offered by the company Saturday.

The State Public Utilities Commission authorized three other bus lines to begin temporary and limited service in the city last Friday. This was believed the motivating factor for the sudden end to the strike.

Ousted Malenkov Named 'First Deputy Premier'

LONDON (AP) — Deposed Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov was described in a Moscow radio broadcast today as "first deputy chairman of the U.S.S.R. Council of Ministers." That would make him a first deputy premier, the council being the Soviet equivalent of a government cabinet.

It was not clear whether Malenkov is again moving up the ladder of power in the Soviet Union. Since he was forced out of the Soviet premiership last February, he had been described merely as a deputy chairman—without the "first."

Actress Julie Harris slipped and fell during the second act of "The Lark," hitting her lip on the floor and cutting it so severely that the curtain was hauled down. Dr. Ben Gilbert was called. Thus she missed getting a midnight TV award for "Wind From The South."

Two New Movie Faces to Star in 'Johnny Salvo'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Leigh Snowden's plans to spend Christmas and the holidays in Tennessee on a P.A. tour plugging "All That Heaven Allows" have been changed by her studio.

U-I wants her for the lead opposite Ray Danton in "Johnny Salvo"—the most important break Leigh has had. This is in keeping with the new policy (not only at this studio but most of the studios) to boost new talent and new faces. Leigh's face is certainly one of the prettiest.

I can't see her breaking down and weeping about losing the Tennessee jaunt because this means she'll stay home close to Dick Contino. These two say they've called off marriage plans, but I never see one without the other, that's how much in love they are.

That fine British actor, Leo Genn, bowed out of "Run for the Sun," the Russfield picture, because he said the script had been changed and was not as originally written.

Insteadd, he'll co-star with Donna Reed and Aldo Ray in "Beyond Mombassa." Leo is delighted because Donna's picture will take him back to his native England for Christmas. They all go to Africa after the first of the year.

Donna and Tony Owen will take their two children with them to London and enter them in school there because they expect to be busy until April.

Today is the day that William Dozier takes over as vice-president in charge of production at RKO, and you'll see things humming on that lot.

The first on Bill's program is a remake of the old Ginger Rogers picture, "The First Traveling Saleslady," and within a matter of days other pictures will be started. Its good for the whole industry to have RKO in action again.

I'm told one of Dozier's plans is to bring Ginger Rogers back to the studio. RKO is where she started and rose to stardom, and she looks almost as young now as she did when she was dancing with Fred Astaire.

Snapshots of Hollywood: Ann Blyth has been told by her doctor to get ready to go into the hospital to have her baby as early as this week; so she'll be home with her Christmas gift for the holiday.

Bob Hope Going to Iceland GIs

Will Entertain Military for 5th Straight Yule at Keflavik Air Base

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The Air Force has announced that Comedian Bob Hope, perennial favorite of American troops, will entertain military personnel in Iceland this Christmas Eve.

It will be the fifth straight Christmas season that Hope has spent bringing the yuletide spirit to overseas troops. He will spend this Christmas Eve at Keflavik Air Force Base in Iceland.

Hope was invited to the base by Lt. Gen. Joseph Smith, commander of the Military Air Transport Service, and Col. S. E. Manzo, commander of the Iceland Air Defense Force.

He will be accompanied by his television troupe, and portions of the show will be filmed and flown back to this country to be used on his regular program on Dec. 27.

The comedian is scheduled to go to Europe next month to make a motion picture and has applied trying to revive gold mining ac- for permission to go from there to Russia to film material for his TV show.

'Missing' Hitchcock Delayed in Thailand

Hitchcock, master of the suspense thriller, was due here Saturday but failed to arrive. The Mystery was cleared up today when Paul Yue, manager for Paramount Films of Malaya, Inc., said he had received a telegram from Hitchcock saying his plane had been held up in Thailand.

Yue said Hitchcock cabled he would cancel his Singapore stop here and fly direct to Hong Kong.

British Jetliner Flies 11,440 Miles in 1 Day

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Britain's new contender for commercial aviation honors, the Comet III jetliner, has made the 11,440-mile flight from Hatfield, England, to Sydney in just 24 hours 23 minutes flying time. It left England Friday morning and landed at Kingsford-Smith Airport here yesterday after stops at Cairo, Bombay, Singapore and Darwin. Propeller-driven British airliners normally make the flight in three days.

Earlier models of the Comet were taken out of service after several disastrous crashes. Group Capt. John Cunningham, chief test pilot for the De Havilland Co. and skipper of the plane, said the new plane's initial shortcomings "have been completely overcome."

Indictment Data Just Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Justice Department spokesman says information that led to indictments against Matthew J. Connelly and Theron Lamar Caudle, former Truman administration officials, was received "only recently."

The two men were accused Thursday by a federal grand jury at St. Louis of conspiring to defraud the government by improper use of influence in a tax case against Irving Sachs, St. Louis shoe manufacturer.

Connelly and Caudle have attributed the indictments to "politics" and have denied wrongdoing. Connelly, now a New York public relations man, was White House appointments secretary during the Truman administration. Caudle, a Wadesboro, N.C., lawyer, was an assistant attorney general.

New Mexico has more than 500,000 acres under irrigated cultivation.

Corn Takes Lead in Grains Surge

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains turned firm and trading became more active on the Board of Trade today. Corn led the upturn, racing ahead nearly two cents in some contracts at one time.

A combination of wintry weather, light receipts of cash grain, potentially large exports and a firming trend in cash prices combined to inspire fairly aggressive buying of futures. New crop wheat futures eased on moisture in the Southwest.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ lower to 1 cent higher, December $2.04⅝; corn ⅞ to 1⅛ higher, December $1.26⅜; oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, December 62⅞; rye ¾ to 1¼ higher, December $1.12; soybeans 1 to 1¼ higher, January $2.37; and lard 3 cents lower to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $10.60.

2 Automotive Firms Report Merger Plans

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—Directors of American Bantam Car Co. announced today approval of a proposed merger with a corporation newly organized to acquire the assets of Pressed Metals of America, Inc.

Bantam shareholders will be asked to approve the merger Feb. 10.

The assets of Pressed Metals, which operates plants in Port Huron and Detroit, are being acquired this month by a group of industrialists and businessmen headed by Frederick W. Richmond of New York.

The new corporation will be merged into American Bantam and will be called Pressed Metals of America, Inc. The surviving corporation will retain listing on the American Stock Exchange.

American Bantam in the past had been doing general sub-contracting work primarily on government contracts. It has been inactive for the last six months.

Stockholders of Pressed Metals, an automotive parts manufacturing and distributing firm, voted approval of the sale of the company's assets last August. The contract calls for a purchase price of approximately six million dollars, subject to certain adjustments.

Predicts New Rises in 1955 Car Prices

DETROIT (AP)—A Cleveland industrialist says a "gray market" in Nickel will add 64 million dollars to the cost of automobiles made in Detroit by the end of 1955.

John Palik Jr., president of the National Assn of Metal Finishers, made the statement yesterday before the Detroit Chapter of the American Electroplaters' Society.

The price of nickel through "legitimate" trade channels is 92 cents per pounds, Palik said, but "gray market" dealers are getting $2.50 to $3 per pound. (A "gray market" is one in which goods that are in short supply are sold above prices on the open market, but not in violation of the law.)

Palik estimated that auto manufacturers are paying an average of $8 above the "legitimate" price for nickel used in each car made. Multiplied by the eight million cars expected to be produced in 1955, he said, the total will be about 64 million dollars.

Son of Countess Cited in Swindle

Schlesinger Will Return From Canada to Face 8 Counts of Larceny

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert M. Schlesinger, 37, son of wealthy countess Mona Bismarck, is expected to return here today to face a sixx-month-old swindling charge involving $330,000.

* * *

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced yesterday that Schlesinger had been traced through eight countries since he disappeared last June and finally had been located in Canada.

Schlesinger's mother, who married Count Albert Edward Bismarck, last January, had inherited about 100 million dollars from her third husband, utilities magnate Harrison Williams, when he died in 1953. The son is from her first marriage to Milwaukee Industrialist Henry Schelsinger.

Schlesinger, under indictment on eight counts of grand larceny, is accused of using his mother's name to swindle two retired Milwaukee department store owners and a Los Angeles auto dealer in an oil deal.

He allegedly used one victim's check, on which payment was later stopped, to obtain jewelry worth $132,000 to give to actress Linda Christian, former wife of actor Tyrone Power. She later returned them.

Schlesinger is accused of swindling Richard and John M. Herzfeld, owners of the Boston Department Store in Milwaukee, and Robert B. McCulloch of Los Angeles.

The Herzfelds allegedly lost $30,000 each and McCulloch, $120,000. McCulloch also gave Schlesinger a second check for $150,000, Hogan said, but then stopped payment after he became suspicious.

Two Polio Clinics Giving Inoculations Tuesdays

Two Pontiac clinics are administrating free Salk polio inoculations to children age 1 to 14 inclusive, and pregnant women, during clinic hours of 3 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays and 9 to 11:30 a.m. Fridays. Last Friday, 164 shots were given.

One clinic is located at the Oakland County Health Department, 15 W. Huron. The other, which opened last week, is at the Pontiac City Hall, 35 S. Parke St. It includes plenty of free parking space for those who drive.

Dr. John D. Monroe, city and county health director, has urged that parents bring their children in to either clinic immediately for the Salk shots, or take them to a private physician, so that they may be adequately protected before the next polio season. A series of three inoculations are given.

Dr. Monroe also pointed out that Salk vaccine is now available at all physicians' offices for those in the eligible group. A nominal fee to cover cost of administering the vaccine is being charged by the physicians.

Salk inoculations outside the city of Pontiac are also being give without charge at the Royal Oak Health Center, 4th and Stephenson Hwy., from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Mondays and 3 to 4:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Clinics will continue to operate at the specified times and places until they are no longer needed, Dr. Monroe said. Further clincis in outlying areas will be scheduled after Jan. 1 if the demand warrants them, he added.

French Give Roger Ikor Top Literary Award

Ten of France's most famous writers pick the winner annually. The prize carries a purse of only 5,000 francs—$14—but it brings the winner an estimated 50 million francs in royalties. Generally some 200,000 issues of the chosen book are sold within a few weeks after the award selection.

Howdy, Pinky Snowed Under

Parents Praise Show but Object to Big Dose of Commercials

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The comeback star of the year is a 27-year-old onetime has-been named Mickey Mouse.

The sky rodent has captured a new generation, this time as host of the weekday ABC TV hour, the Mickey Mouse Club.

* * *

Mickey never had it so good. His outsize ears are popping up on the heads of kids all over the land; they're buying the mouse hats (29 to 98 cents) at the rate of 24,000 a day. (Whatever happened to coonskins?) Two hundred other pieces of merchandise connected with the club are being sold, and more are added daily.

The mouse has captured daytime rating honors, snowing under his major opponents, veterans Howdy Doody and Pinky Lee. A recent survey gave the club a 76 per cent advantage over the opposition in the East.

1. They are delighted to have a show that doesn't insult their children's intelligence;

2. They are appalled by the amount of commercials.

As one of the captive audience—our TV set is monopolized from 5 to 6 each weekday—I agree. The show is both entertaining and enlightening, done with as much taste and care as any adult program.

* * *

But the commercials! They're enough to drive you nuts. Not only are there three in every 15 minutes. The station also sneaks in three more every 15 minutes at the station break.

The Disney people are just as upset as the public. Walt apparently didn't foresee the excesses of the network; he vows that next year he'll have some control over such matters.

ABC has bragged that Mickey Mouse has brought in 15 millions from sponsors. The figures haven't been released, but it's rumored that Disney gets little more than a tenth of this to produce the films.

3 Dem Leaders May Seek 'Moderation' in Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Senate Democratic leaders may seek next week a policy of "moderation" in political criticism of the Eisenhower administrations foreign and defense programs.

* * *

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the majority leader, has arranged to confer in Atlanta with Georgia Democratic Senators George and Russell, chairmen of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees respectively.

There are strong indications that George and Russell agree with Johnson that the times call for "moderation"—despite what some Democratic presidential hopefuls are saying.

HIT ADLAI'S PLAN

Governors Averell Harriman of New York and G. Mennen Williams of Michigan have criticized that approach, suggested by Adlai E. Stevenson.

The three senators wield strong influence on the form of legislation which the Democratic-controlled Congress may pass in the election year session. They will have much to say about the kind of record on which the Democratic presidential candidate will have to run.

* * *

George indicated in a telephone interview from his Georgia home that he can't go along with some of the recent remarks of both Stevenson and Harriman on foreign affairs.

Although he has approved criticism of "inept" Republican actions in the foreign field, he has cautioned against involving the "fundamental principles" of bipartisan foreign policy in the political campaign.

POSITION 'PERILOUS'

Stevenson, who again wants to head the Democratic ticket as he did in 1952, said recently that the free world's position now is "more perilous than it has been since Korea." Harriman, a receptive candidate for the nomination, said the Geneva conference enabled the Russians to achieve a "major political breakthrough."

George said that while the world situation is "not too stable, I do not think we are any worse off.'

"There are some conditions that are not too happy and there has been lack of progress, of course, but I have the feeling there isn't anything that is materially worse from our standpoint," he said.

Police Safety Plan Chief Cited in Traffic Mishap

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The police department had a very red face.

Capt. Haskeell Welch was in a minor traffic accident. He was cited only after Chief Charles P. Thomas ordered it, the next day.

Candy, Gum Sales Up

NEW YORK—Candy and chewing gum are funneling through chain food stores at a rate of more than $300,000,000 a year. Such stores represent about 15½ per cent of the two billion-dollar-a-year gum-and-candy market. National consumption of gum and candy dropped last year from 17.1 pounds per capita to 16½, but food chains' sales of these items showed a 7.7 per cent increase.

India Rail Orders Up

NEW DELHI—India's railways have placed orders for more than $161,000,000 worth of rolling stock, including 70 locomotives, 33,500 freight cars, and 430 passenger coaches. Manufacturers in India got $79,800,000 worth of the orders, a record for one year and all they could handle.

U. S. Prepares Loan for Argentine Steel

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The United States is preparing to give Argentina's drooping economy a shot in the arm—a 60-million-dollar loan to launch this country's steel industry.

* * *

The loan was announced Saturday by Dr. Raul Prebisch, economic adviser to provisional President Pedro Aramburu's government, after three-day talks here with Henry F. Holland, U.S. assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs. Prebisch said final details of the loan were ironed out with the help of Samuel C. Waugh, president of the U.S. Export-Import Bank.

* * *

Presbisch noted the loan originally was requested by the Peron regime but was granted to anti-Peronistas who ousted the dictator. He said the formal papers will be signed soon.

Red Doings in Afghanistan Arouse American Notice

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials are watching Afghanistan with some apprehension that it might fall like a overripe plum on the Communist side of the Iron Curtain.

* * *

They see no definite signs that this is bound to happen. But they view it as a conceivable result of Afghanistan's recent inclination toward Moscow amid the quickening Soviet interest in the Middle East.

There is no plan of direct U. S. action to keep it from happening. Rather, officials said U. S. policies of friendship and economic aid continue while U. S. diplomacy works indirectly to patch up Afghanistan's border dispute with Pakistan which started the whole trend.

TWINS TO MAKE VISIT

In the meantime, two old hands at shaking international political plum trees, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, will be in the Afghanistan capital of Kapul in a couple of weeks after visiting India and Burma.

What is it that makes Afghanistan, a nation of 12 million in an area the size of Texas, so important? Aside from the East-West struggle for the loyalty of those 12 million people, there is little at stake so far as Afghanistan's resources go.

Little but fruits and wools are produced on its 270,000 square miles of rocks and windswept plains. Its world trade is a mere drop in the bucket.

But Afganistan's geographical location makes it highly important. The Khyber Pass is there. Conquerors shooting for the Indian subcontinent ever since Alexander the Great have swept through the Khyber Pass in an end run around the towering Himalayas.

If Afghanistan were to become a Soviet satellite—an event officials see as unlikely — it would mean:

1. Russia would be 500 miles closer to the Arabian Sea. Long before the Communists came, Russia coveted the Middle East's warm waters and year-round ports.

2. A wedge would be driven into the northern tier of Middle East nations friendly to the West.

Chicken Pox Cases Increase in Area

A sharp increase in chicken pox and a corresponding drop in measles cases was reported during the past week by Dr. John D. Monroe, city and county health director.

In Pontiac and Oakland County there were 53 cases of chicken pox, as compared to 18 the previous week. Measles was cut in half, with 41 cases as against 87 the week before.

Mumps cases in the city totaled 19, with none reported in the county. No whooping cough cases were reported.

Following is a breakdown of the city and county reports:

"Life With Father" ran for more than 3,200 performances on Broadway, setting a record, up to that time. "Tobacco Road" was second with about 3,150.

Have a Merry Christmas — Care Will Make It Sure

Don't let Christmas in your home be saddened by an accident which could have been prevented by a little caution and foresight.

A warning came today from the National Safety Council that the Christmas-New Year holiday season is the most hazardous single period of the year.

Causes of the extra traffic dangers are heavier travel and the festive spirit of the season plus the usual winter hazards of bad weather, slippery roads and more hours of darkness, the safety council points out.

Three suggestions for safer driving are advanced:

1. Don't drive after drinking—and don't ride with a drinking driver.

2. When driving be extra cautious on wet or icy roads.

3. If planning a long trip, start early and arrive before darkness reduces visibility.

Turning to the fire danger, the council states, "The Christmas tree is one of the most combustible objects known. It can burn so quickly it is almost impossible to extinguish the flames by ordinary methods."

The following precautions are advised:

1. Buy a fresh tree and keep it in a cold place—perhaps an unheated garage—until ready to set it up.

2. Before setting up the tree, saw off diagonally at least an inch of trunk and place the base in a water-containing holder.

3. Locate your tree well away from fireplaces, radiators, televi-

Explosions Rock Woodward Area as Sewers Erupt

DETROIT (AP)—It looked on Detroit's Woodward Avenue as if an enemy was attacking from underground.

Explosions rattled this shopping main stem over a six mile stretch. Manhole covers were blown into the air, some as high as 20 feet, and roaring flames flashed from the uncovered manhole mouths.

One manhole cover hit a passing car underneath and another narrowly missed a streetcar, but no one was injured.

Police said the explosions were caused by an accumulation of gas in sewers and conduits set off by a short circuit in an underground electric feeder line for Woodward Avenue's streetcars.

SNOW CLOSED HOLES

Recent rains and snow freezing in manhole cover vent holes were believed to have hastened the gas accumulation from underground leaks.

Police department telephone lines to three stations were burned out in Woodward conduits and the normally busy, wide thoroughfare was closed from the Detroit River to Six Mile road. Traffic was rerouted for hours.

The first manhole covers let go at Woodward and Alexandrine, then the explosions raced in both directions along Woodward.

Teenager Admits Sending Williams Call About Bomb

LANSING (AP)—State police said today that a 14-year-old schoolboy has admitted causing the bomb scare at the home of Gov. Williams.

Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said the boy was taken into custody by state police detectives on the basis of a tip from another schoolboy who had heard the bomb threat discussed before it became public knowledge.

The boy's name was withheld by state police pending the taking of a formal statement at state police headquarters.

State police have been maintaining a 24-hour guard over the Governor's home since Mrs. Williams reported receiving a telephone call Nov. 26 that a bomb had been placed in the home.

Mrs. Williams said she was told the bomb was hidden in the house and set to go off that afternoon. She said she was informed the bomb was hidden two days earlier while the family was out of the city.

GM Lengthens Retailing Pacts

Company Agreements With Dealers Will Run 5 Years Instead of 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Harlow H. Curtice announced today that General Motors is immediately extending its sales agreements with its retail dealers from one year to five.

The president of the nation's largest manufacturing corporation announced this major policy change as a Senate Judiciary Anti-trust and Monopoly subcommittee resumed public hearings on GM operations. The committee is making what it calls a case study of the huge industrial firm.

Curtice said the 17,000 GM retail dealers throughout the nation were receiving telegrams announcing the policy change.

The one-year dealership agreements previously had been sharply criticized as one-sided by former and present GM dealers in testimony at the hearings.

Curtice said "the public has been grossly misinformed by widespread publicity given to the misleading statements made by witnesses, including the few complaining dealers who have appeared before this committee."

The GM president said the longer sales agreements were decided upon because of this misunderstanding "and the possible damage to General Motors good will."

Christmas-Shopping Deer Accompanied by Terrier

Just 6 months old, the little buck is so gentle he is led by a rolled silk scarf leash. Sandy usually is accompanied by Penny, a toy fox terrier and his constant playmate.

The Millers acquired the deer from a laborer who found it when it was a newborn fawn.

City Board of Education Plans Convertible Units

Four separate classroom units, which could be converted when no longer needed for school purposes and sold as homes, are planned at the present Bailey School site on Florence avenue by the Pontiac Board of Education.

Preliminary plans for the "residence-type classrooms" were approved yesterday by the board as drawn by architect Paul Moffett, of Birmingham.

The units will cost an estimated $67,200 and be completed by next September. Plans call for tearing down the old Bailey Elementary School which is obsolete.

Decision to replace the present building was reached after Building Coordinator Dr. Otto C. Hufzinger reported cost of repairing the structure would be more than $30,000 and it still would not serve educational and community needs as well as new classrooms.

Residence-type classrooms have been built with success in other cities, including Flint, said Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer.

The four units are being constructed on an experimental basis with an eye to planning more in the future if they prove adequate, he explained.

Four rooms in a single building would cost about $15,000 more, he stated.

Besides costing less, the units can be put up in 120 days, Whitmer said, to quickly take care of school-space problems in a fast-growing area where many elementary-age children live.

Children will have only a short distance to travel to school and parents are apt to feel more free to visit, he added.

If the time comes when the units are no longer needed, they can be sold and part of the original cost regained. However, it is expected the four Bailey units will be permanent.

State Employment Highest in October

DETROIT (AP) — Employment in Michigan mounted to 2,339,000 in mid-October to set a new high for 1955, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported today.

The agency said wage and salaried employment was about 40,000 above the September figure. This was attributed to higher output in manufacturing industries and strong seasonal expansion in non-manufacturing firms.

Unemployment in the state dropped to 92,000 in mid-October. This was a reduction of 46,000 from mid-September. The MESC said statewide unemployment represented 3.3 per cent of the total labor force. In Detroit the ratio was 3 per cent.

It was under 3 per cent at Battle Creek, Bay City, Grand Rapids, and Jackson, and less than 2 per cent in Benton Harbor, Kalamazoo and Saginaw.

The volume of unemployment insurance claims fell from a 1955 high of 111,500 in the week of Sept. 22 to 44,800 in the week ending Nov. 10.

Ex-Pontiac Man Held for Murder

Warrant Is Issued for Sam Trimble in Death of Mrs. Willie Bass

A first degree murder warrant has been issued in Miami, Fla. charging a former 27-year-old Pontiac man with the murder of the 20-year-old wife of a friend of his.

Charged with the murder of Mrs. Clara Jean Bass, who along with her husband Willie, were employed in Pontiac last month, is Sam Trimble. Local addresses for the three could not be obtained.

T. A. Buchanan, Chief Investigator for the Criminal Bureau of Investigation of the Dade County Sheriff's Department, said today that Trimble is being held without bond on the murder charge.

He said that an inquest and a hearing on the case will be held within a week to 10 days.

Trimble, father of two children, has told investigators he drove the pretty woman to a lonely road where her body was found Saturday night.

"I didn't kill her," he said, "I was driving down the road; I tried to miss it (the body). I don't know if I hit it."

Willie Bass, 23, husband of the dead woman, said "I think he lured her out of the house on the pretext that I was running around with another girl, and then killed her when she resisted his advances."

John Tyler, head of the Dade County Criminal Bureau of Investigation, said yesterday the autopsy report showed she had not been violated sexually.

Trimble and Bass were friends in Paducah, Ky., and in Pontiac. The two families moved here several weeks ago and both men were employed by the same landscaping firm. The Basses had one child and were expecting another.

Ike, Top Aides Discussing Military, Financial Needs

They were accompanied by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and W. J. McNeil, Pentagon comptroller.

Wilson indicated the 1956-1957 defense budget is about in final shape but told newsmen when they asked if this was the final meeting on the subject:

"I can't ever be sure of that."

Top officials have said the new defense budget will run about the same as the present spending rate — about 34½ billion dollars a year. Wilson has said price increases may force it a little higher.

Details, in terms of divisions, air wings and the like as worked out in a succession of top-level meetings, still are subject to the President's approval.

TIED WITH POLICY

The spending program for defense is tied in with the administration's global policy.

Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden will further explore cold war strategy in Washington next month. Eden, accompained by Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, will arrive Jan. 30.

They undoubtedly will give top priority to arranging better cooperation in the critical Middle East.

Western relations with Russia in the wake of visits by top Russian leaders to India, Burma and Afghanistan, and in advance of their projected visit to Britain next spring, also are due for sweeping review.

But joint British-American moves to avert war between Israel and its Arab forces promised to get primary attention.

Eden, coming here at Eisenhower's invitation, has offered to serve as mediator in the Middle East quarrel, calling on both sides to agree to permanent boundaries. He proposed that the 1947 United Nations partition plan be used as a starting point for talks.

Pontiac Schools Getting $160,515

Additional State Aid to Increase Salaries OKed by Legislature

The Pontiac school system will receive $160,515 in supplemental state aid for distribution this year as added salary for employes, the Board of Education learned yesterday.

The extra money was approved by the State Legislature at a recent emergency session.

Pontiac will get $9 for each of the 17,835 pupils enrolled as of last Sept. 30. The distribution must be made by July 1, 1956. All employes can participate, including teachers, administrators, secretaries and maintenance workers.

Several distribution plans were suggested by Superintendent Dr. Dana P. Whitmer. Board President Louis H. Schimmel said members would study the proposals before deciding on a formula.

In other action, the board approved preliminary plans for an activity center to be constructed at Willis School for use beginning next September.

Owen R. Moser Faces Lie Test in Three Deaths

Chicago Police Awaiting Answers to Questions About Crime

Michigan State Police took Owen Robert Moser, 23, of Fenton to Detroit for a lie-detector test today in an effort to determine how much he knows about the triple slaying Oct. 16 of three Chicago boys.

Detectives in Chicago, who planned to fly here today to question Moser, later wired State Police a list of questions to ask him. If the questions indicate a suspicious knowledge of details of the crime, they say, they will investigate further in person.

Moser, who was arrested Saturday night in Holly for a traffic violation, was questioned for more than 30 hours by arresting officer Montgomery Dickey.

Dickey said during the questioning Moser admitted:

He had been in the Chicago area during the period of the triple slaying.

He owned an unregistered .32 revolver.

He had given a ride to "two or three" young hitchhiking boys on an unspecified date in the Chicago area.

Dickey said Moser, who appeared highly unstable, broke down at one point after some 27 hours of questioning and answered "yes" to two questions:

"Do you feel responsible for the deaths of these three boys?"

"Do you realize this is a confession you are making?"

At this point, Dickey said, he contacted Chicago police and Michigan State Police.

State police detectives Charles Leif and Melvin Kaufman, who questioned Moser briefly last night, said he told them he had made the "confession" because he was "all mixed up inside."

He specifically denied the murders.

Police, who still plan to examine floor mats in Moser's 1946 Ford to see if their pattern checks with imprints found on the three bodies, concluded there is "no evidence" linking Moser with the slayings.

Holly Police Chief James Parker today said, "We think he knows more than he is telling, but that's all he's said."

Cancer Society Pulls Out of UF

Oakland Group to Stay in Fund Despite State Withdrawal

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The executive committee of the American Cancer Society's Michigan Division last night announced county units may no longer participate in community United Fund drives.

The stand was reported by Waldo I. Stoddard, division president, as a reaffirmation of a decision made, but not publicized, at the committee's June meeting.

It affects 13 counties of 80 comprising the Michigan Division.

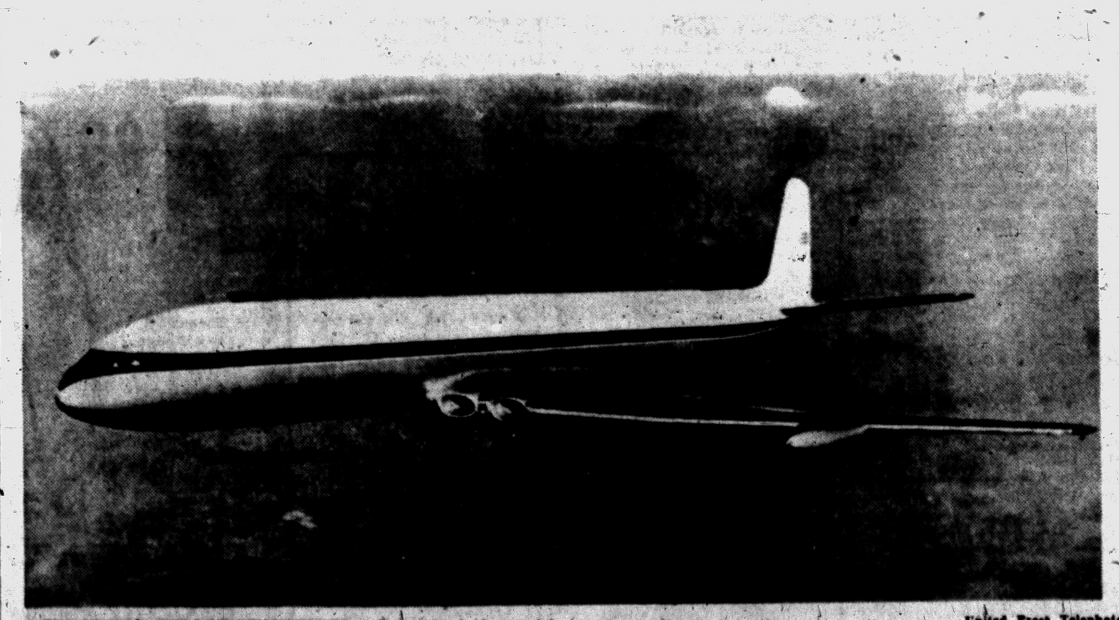

Executive secretary for the North Oakland County unit, Miss Barbara Amundson, said today that the area group is not pulling out of the local United Fund campaign.

The society's Michigan Division includes all the state, except Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties which are grouped in a separate Southeastern Michigan Division.

Spokesmen for the Southeastern Michigan Division said it was a member of the United Foundation community fund-raising group and that it would so remain, inasmuch as the National Society criteria is being met.

The committee also announced a forthcoming campaign against "cancer quackery," so-called cancer cures that fail to help the patient. Members were told too many persons trust to "magic dirt," herbs, mysterious waters or elaborate machines that purportedly cure cancer.

Glacier Readies for Polar Thrust

Lead Antarctic Breaker Arrives in New Zealand After Trying Ocean Trip

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP)—The icebreaker Glacier, lead ship of the U. S. Antarctica expedition, today reached its first port in more than three weeks—with 372 men hungry for the sight of anything solid and motionless.

* * *

They can be expected to make the most of it, since this is their first landfall in more than 6,000 rough miles and will be the last point of civilization touched before they sail Saturday on the final leg of their voyage to the bottom of the world.

For 10 days of the trip from Panama, the 8,500-ton vessel ploughed through heavy gales. Winds blew up to 55 m.ph. and waves rose as high as 30 feet.

The storms were so great that the ship's speed frequently slowed to less than half a knot and the craft listed as much as 45 degrees.

MAL DE MER

As bad as it was aboard the Glacier, it was worse for the 24 officers and men aboard a tiny oil tanker she was towing.

According to the tanker's skipper, Lt. J. L. Blades of Baltimore, "the first day out of Panama most of us got sick and manned the rail.

"Although we were only 1,200 feet behind, the swells were so high we frequently lost sight completely of the Glacier."

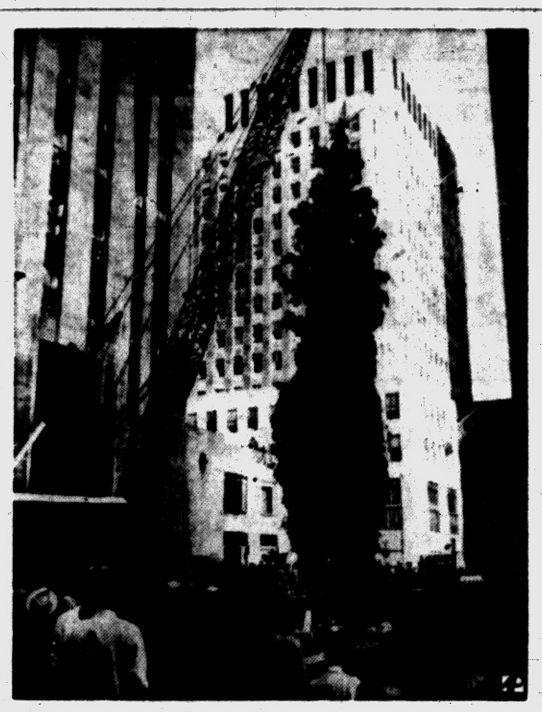

* * *

Three times the storm snapped the towing chain and in each case four or five hours of perilous work on seesawing decks were required to fix it.

Also, the tanker crew had the scare of their lives when a short circuit started a fire. It was put out in a few minutes — none too soon for the men aboard the 1,200-ton ship carrying more than 2,250,000 gallons of aviation gasoline.

* * *

In all, the Glacier has towed the tanker more than 10,000 miles since leaving Boston. Glacier skipper Cmdr. Eugene Maher of Ogden, Utah, said he believes this is the longest tow in the Navy's history.

Area Polio Chapter Gets $11,350 Check

A "stopgap" check for $11,350 has been received by the Oakland County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to supply the county's acute need for funds to care for polio patients, it was reported today by Carl W. Donelson, chapter chairman.

The money, sent from the March of Dimes headquarters in New York, will help meet "overdue back bills for providing treatment and equipment for 250 polio patients in our county," Donelson said.

It was pointed out that Oakland County was among 1,200 chapters which would receive help from headquarters because the March of Dimes funds available to them has been exhausted. Relief funds are supplied from chapters which have been operating in the black and have surplus money, as an advance against collections from the 1956 campaign next January.

Jim McDonald Found Safe in Florida Swamp

MIAMI (AP) — A small private plane carrying Jim McDonald, a professional baseball player, and a friend was reported safe today after the Coast Guard began a search for it.

* * *

The plane landed at a camp in the Everglades and a flat tire prevented its return to Miami last night as scheduled, McDonald told his wife here by telephone.

"Nothing is wrong. He'll fly home in a few hours — as soon as we repair the tire."

McDonald and Nick Klein of Miami made the flight to the camp near Clewiston. The baseball player said he sent a message out by swamp buggy last night that he had arrived safely, but through a mixup it wasn't delivered. He telephoned today.

* * *

When the plane failed to return to Miami last night, it was reported missing.

McDonald pitched the first half of last baseball season for the Baltimore Orioles, then was traded to the New York Yankees and finished the season with the Yankees' Denver American Association team.

* * *

The main Wing Lake contract went to Detroit Contract and Engineering Corp. at $112,000, while Lloyd Thornton, company's $41,000 bid won mechanical contract and C. and L. Electrical Company's $8,829 won the electrical contract.

On Westview, general contractor will be Nielson and Company of Royal Oak who bid under $163,500, mechanical will be United Heat Engineering Company's $62,300, Electrical, C and L at $18,635, well drilling, $638. All are Detroit area firms.

Work is to start immediately for the contractors, recommended by each project's architects O'Dell, Hewett and Luckenbach, for Wing Lake and Linn Smith for Westview and approved by the board.

5. Don't burn tree lights continuously or operate electrical toys which may throw sparks under a tree. Dispose of Christmas gift wrappings at once.

7. When the needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it. Burn it only in fire-safe areas outdoors—because Christmas trees burn with almost explosive violence.

'Millions Helped by Fluoridation'

Dental Official Derides Nonusers for Failing in Job to the Public

NEW YORK (AP) — The president of the American Dental Assn., says that cities which have not adopted fluoridation of water to fight tooth decay "are simply failing in their responsibility to the public."

* * *

Dr. Bernard C. Kingsbury of San Francisco, the association president, made his declaration in an address to a New York dental meeting last night.

He termed fluoridation a simple, inexpensive and successful health aid.

"Except for some unusual case, there is no reason for a child to face the once-routine prospect of losing five teeth from decay by the time he is 21, nor a mouth badly crippled with dental disease by the time he reaches middle age," Dr. Kingsbury said.

Fluoridation was described by Dr. Kingsbury as the "most thoroughly tested" health procedure in history, and he said 22 million persons drink fluoride-treated water every day.

* * *

He proposed the fluoridation of water supplies be made routine in every city in the country.

A lifetime resident of Oakland County, Mr. Dernberger was born July 31, 1876. His parents were Joseph and Fanny Gibbs Dernberger. He was married to the former Mable Rowley. The Dernberger home was at 9 Oriole Rd.

Weekend Breakins of Area Being Probed by Police

Area police have reported a wave of 26 breakins within the county area over a four day period.

Three breakins were reported in Waterford Township, six more in Bloomfield Township and 17 were reported by the Pontiac Police.

Police in both townships believe the breakins were all made on Friday and Saturday nights, although some were not reported until yesterday. Similar burglary styles have led police to believe all 15 may be the work of the same men.

They theorize the burglars began with three homes in Waterford Township's Silver Lake neighborhood Friday night, moving directly into the north side of Pontiac to ransack six more. The Bloomfield Township robberies, they add, probably took place Saturday night.

In all house breakins, police say, the burglars have picked unoccupied houses. In most cases they have entered through windows or back doors.

According to Inspector Clark M. Wheaton of the Pontiac Police, the number of breakins in the city does not indicate an alarming increase over past years.

"About this time last year we had 27 dwelling breakins over an identical three-day period," he said.

"The thieves know that the people are away shopping for Christmas and take advantage of this," Wheaton said. "The department suggests that all residents when they leave their homes leave a night light burning until they return."

Bloomfield Township Police Chief Clark Green, warning residents to notify police when planning to be away from home, said, "We'll be only too glad to check vacant homes. It's part of our job.

"We've stepped up our patrols, and we're checking very closely."

The Day in Birmingham

Improvement of 16 Mile Road Decided Last Night

BIRMINGHAM — Improvement of bumpy 16 Mile Road (Quarton) from Woodward to Telegraph has been promised, City Commissioners learned at last night's meeting.

"We feel Quarton is important to the city," said assistant City Manager Dana Whitman, "because it at present is gravel, unsurfaced and full of holes—so rough that most people just aren't going to drive it.

"With it developed, we feel it should take some of the through traffic from the west heading north, rather than have drivers cutting through residential streets like Pilgrim and Puritan. It will ease traffic on Maple as well, which is increasing in volume by about 20 per cent each year," Whitman said.

The Recreation Director, though he is appointed by and responsible to the Recreation Board, under both Board of Education and City Commission, will be paid by the city. He is eligible to retirement and vacation plans this way, not possible on school payrolls unless he had a teaching certificate, commissioners decided.

After an hour's discussion on revision of group insurance for city staff, commissioners tabled it for two weeks. They approved the office classification being added to the zoning ordinance providing a gradual break from residential to business areas in town development.

His car was stolen from city parking lot between 2 and 6:40 p.m. Monday, John Emery, 159 Pierce, reported to police. It had not yet been recovered this morning.

Stores reported a 23 per cent increase in "Men's Night" business over last year's receipts, Charles Mortenson of the Chamber of Commerce revealed after Monday night's figures were tabulated.

With men doing Christmas shopping without women present, the town was decked in evergreen and Christmas lights for the first time this year. Stores will begin staying open evenings next Monday, and will continue until Christmas eve.

Collection for blind children's Christmas toys will be taken up when the ladies auxiliary of the Metropolitan Club of America, Inc., No. 9, has its annual Yule party at Devon Gables tomorrow at 6:30 p.m.

Funds will go toward toys for children at Peurickton Nursery for the Blind in Taylor township, which received funds earned in the auxiliary's recent rummage and candy sales.

Named recently, the group includes two former board presidents, Mrs. Howard Liverance and Paul Averill, and four presidents of groups meeting at the Community House, Mrs. Robert Watt of Garden Club; Mrs. Howard Green, AAUW, Robert Gougeon of the Lions; and Victor Peck, Rotary. Mrs. William Burlingame, active in several organizations, completes the group.

Funds go to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children. Matthew Cammareri will lead the 40 "newsboys" for the sale, which is hoped will earn over $1,500.

Detroit Paper Strike Enters Its Sixth Day

DETROIT (INS) —The issues in Detroit's newspaper strike were being reviewed today by both union and management.

Meetings between the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association, representing the Times, News and Free Press, and the striking AFL-stereotypers were adjourned last night until 3 p.m. today.

The strike entered its sixth day today.

"Both sides agreed to meet at 3 p.m. Tuesday and in the meantime review their positions. If possible, at 3 p.m., each side will have counter-proposals on the entire situation.

"Since both sides have agreed to review one another's position, there is the chance of progress toward a settlement."

Meanwhile, the Publishers Association was to meet at 10 a.m. with a bargaining team of the Detroit Typographical Union - AFL, Local 18.

Summerfield, Adams Face Subpoenas on Dixon-Yates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Langer (R-ND) said today he will press his demand for a public investigation to show whether backers of the now-repudiated Dixon-Yates contract contributed to President Eisenhowers 1952 campaign fund.

In a surprise move yesterday Langer demanded that a Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee on which he serves subpoena Postmaster General Summerfield, who was Republican national chairman in 1952; Sherman Adams, top White House aide; Stephen A. Mitchell, the 1952 Democratic national chairman, and others.

CRIMINAL SIDE

His request was in the form of a handful of resolutions filed with the subcommittee at a public hearing. It is investigating what Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) termed "a criminal side" of the contract negotiations.

Kefauver said Langer's resolutions might be considered by the three-member subcommittee today but probably any decision would have to be passed on by the full Antimonopoly subcommittee.

CONTRACT CANCELED

He said that Dec. 16 had been tentatively set for a resumption of his group's public hearings.

At issue is a contract negotiated at Eisenhower's orders and under which a utility firm headed by Edgar H. Dixon and Eugene A. Yates would have sold electric power to the Atomic Energy Commission for the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace TVA current consumed at atomic installations.

The 107-million-dollar contract between AEC and the Dixon-Yates group was canceled after the city of Memphis, Tenn., one of TVA's big customers, announced it would build its own power plant.

Then last month the AEC repudiated the contract entirely on a legal opinion that "there is a substantial question as to whether there were material violations of law and public policy."

IN ALL FAIRNESS

Langer proposed that Summerfield be asked about any utility contributions to the 1952 Republican campaign fund made with "the Dixon-Yates contract in mind."

Adams should be asked, he said, about any Dixon-Yates contributions to his earlier campaign for governor of New Hampshire, and "in all fairness," Mitchell should be asked about possible Dixon-Yates contributions to the 1952 campaign of Adlai E. Stevenson for president.

He proposed also that all officials of the First Boston Corp., a New York financial firm which arranged financing for the Dixon-Yates contract, be called to tell "of the part played by them, if any, in the last Republican and Democratic election."

Tax Payments Begin Monday

January 19 Deadline Followed by Penalty of Four Per Cent

Pontiac taxpayers may begin submitting their 1955 county taxes Monday at the treasurer's office at the City Hall according to an announcement by City Treasurer Walter A. Giddings.

The deadline for these taxes is Jan. 19, 1956 after which a collection of four per cent will be tacked on to all unpaid taxes.

On March 1 of next year, all unpaid county taxes as well as unpaid city and school taxes which were due in August, plus special assesments still due, will be returned to the Oakland County Treasurer's office for collection, according to Giddings.

He reported that 97 per cent of city and school taxes have been paid to date.

County tax payments must be postmarked not later than Jan. 19, 1956 to avoid penalty, Giddings said.

Dad Wants Children in Negro Schools

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A white college professor and his wife have asked U. S. District Court to order two Negro public schools here to enroll their son and daughter as pupils.

* * *

Robert W. Rempfer, an associate mathematics professor at predominately Negro Fisk University, and his wife filed an amendment yesterday to an integration suit before Federal Judge Elmer D. Davis.

The couple sought admission for their son, Richard Fleming, to Washington Junior High and for their daughter, Jean Trudy, to Pearl Elementary.

The amendment was to a suit filed Sept. 23 by relatives of 21 Negro children, seeking admission for them to attend White Elementary, Junior and Senior High Schools.

Defendants were listed as the City School Board and principals of the schools involved. They have until Dec. 19 to file answers to the amendment.

Morocco's Bekkai Gets Rival's OK on Cabinet

RABAT, French Morocco (AP)—Premier-designate Mohammed Bekkai was reported today to have won rival nationalist factions' agreement to a coalition Cabinet lineup giving almost half the seats to the once-outlawed Istiqlal (Independence) party.

The Istiqlal, Morocco's largest and most powerful nationalist faction, reportedly will have 9 of the 21 posts in the new Cabinet, considered the first representative government in the North African country's long history.

Cadillac

Strangers—with a Mutual Friend!

For it is not at all unusual for Cadillac owners to salute one another as they pass on the highway . . . or to exchange approving nods as they wait for the traffic light to change.

Cadillac owners, you see, know that they have at least one mutual friend . . . in the Cadillac car.

And the chances are that if these two motorists were to meet, they would find they had a great deal more in common than just their affection for the "car of cars."

For Cadillac owners, taking them by and large, are people who share a keen appreciation for the finer things in life.

And, generally speaking, they are people of unusual practical wisdom . . . who have found in Cadillac the most economical means to the finest end in motordom.

They have learned, for instance, how reasonable a Cadillac can be insofar as original cost is concerned—actually within a few dollars of many "medium-priced" cars.

They have seen for themselves how economical a Cadillac is to operate through the miles . . . and how wonderfully dependable it is through the months and through the years.

And they have savored that final reward for choosing the "car of cars"—Cadillac's extraordinary resale value.

Perhaps, in view of these remarkable facts, the time has come for you to meet this wonderful friend of America's most demanding motorists.

We'll be delighted to introduce you at any time you find convenient—and to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

Girl Escapees Face Murder Indictment

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Over the objections of a weeping stepmother, Juvenile Court Judge Russell W. Thomas yesterday bound five teenage girls to the grand jury in the strangulation of a matron at the Summit County Detention Home.

* * *

The woman was the stepmother of 15-year-old Miri Cain, one of the five girls charged with first-degree murder by Prosecutor Alva J. Russell. Court attaches said Judge Thomas had her removed from his court after she became hysterical.

Sending the case to the grand jury means the girls will be tried as adults and could be sentenced to death if convicted unless a jury recommends mercy.

Judge Thomas' alternative was to hear the case in Juvenile Court, which can try only a general delinquency charge.

Block Teamsters on Moving Fully Into Union Group

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Brotherhood of Teamsters has been blocked from moving in full strength into the Industrial Union Department of the newly merged AFL-CIO.

* * *

The IUD was set up within the new labor organization to embrace former CIO unions, which are industrially organized, and to promote the interests of unions of that type.

Teamster President Dave Beck, who heads the largest of the former AFL unions, had announced he intended to get his union into the IUD. He demanded that the full teamster membership of 1,300,000 be admitted "or none at all."

The AFL-CIO Executive Council decided yesterday that only those teamsters who are covered by industrial union contracts can be admitted to the IUD. This backs up the position taken earlier by former CIO President Walter Reuther, who is slated to head the IUD.

State Police Opening School for Recruits

LANSING (AP)—The State Police opened a training school today for 38 trooper recruits and rushed preparations for additional schools for 200 men recently authorized by the Legislature.

The 38 student officers include 19 remaining from 57 authorized by the Legislature last spring plus men to fill vacancies due to resignations, retirements and deaths.

Civil service examinations will be given Dec. 17 at 14 locations to nearly 3,100 applicants who sought enlistment in the recent campaign to recruit 200 more troopers for highway patrol duty.

Elect Monroe City Official

MONROE (AP)—Milton J. H. Knabusch, a city commissioner for the past two years, was elected to a two-year term as mayor of Monroe yesterday in non-partisan balloting.

He succeeds Mayor Leslie H. Gruber, who declined to run for re-election for business reasons.

State Department's Reorganization Lags

Latest word from Washington is that our State Department still is far from its self-imposed March 1, 1956, reorganization goal.

Aim of the plan, which was adopted in 1954, is to expand the Foreign Service Officer Corps to 3,900. As of last September 30, the corps numbered 2,146. This means that an additional 1,754 members will have to be found within five months.

Under the plan the Department set out to integrate into the Foreign Service Officer Corps many of the foreign policy experts who work for the Department in Washington and abroad. By October 31, 388 had accepted integration but 226 had refused. Among them were many highly qualified specialists whose services the Department can ill afford to lose.

As of June last recruiting prospects appeared better with 4,500 applications for entrance examinations, compared to 1,261 in September 1954. Of the 4,500, however, only 3,334 actually took the exam and only 653 passed. Of these 391 currently are eligible. The others still attend college or are in military service. Officials recognize that many of the 391 eligibles may be washed out by stiffer oral examination and security checks.

★ ★ ★

The inescapable conclusion is that the State Department is unlikely to reach its March 1 objective even with examinations for a new group of 5,000 scheduled for December 9.

Ice on County Lakes Unsafe for Children

Sheriff FRANK IRONS has sounded a needed warning to children and their parents against the danger of thin ice on the County's lakes.

While some of the smaller ones already have frozen over completely, the ice still isn't strong enough to bear a child's weight. Several days of intense cold are required to eliminate the danger of a sudden plunge into icy water or even drowning.

As the Sheriff points out, nearly every Winter deputies have to pull someone out after the ice has given way under him. Such accidents or possible tragedies can be avoided if parents and teachers alike warn the children against the danger lurking in every one of Oakland County's 400 lakes.

1956 Plant Expansion to Exceed 1955 Total

If you are inclined toward economic pessimism, there is some good medicine for you in the result of a McGRAW-HILL survey of plant expansion planned for 1956.

The survey reveals that American businessmen are planning to spend 13 per cent more on plant and equipment in 1956 than they did this year. The total is additionally impressive in view of the high rate of such spending in recent years. It amounts to an increase of $4 billion to an all time high of $33.4 billion.

News from the manufacturing front is equally encouraging. It shows that industries are planning to spend 30 per cent more on plant expansion next year than in 1955.

★ ★ ★

It is argued in some quarters that these expansion plans are sufficient to provide a cushion against a possible letdown in any one segment of the economy. An additional encouraging factor is the Federal Reserve's recent increase in the discount rates. It suggests that the Federal Reserve System is more afraid of inflation than a downturn.

Inventories Moderate

Some good news has come from the Department of Commerce.

It reports that despite the brisk demand for goods, inventory accumulation has not been excessive. That very demand, in fact, is credited with having held down manufacturers' and retailers' inventories.

The Commerce Department's statement is especially encouraging because the 1953-1954 downturn largely was the result of too rapid increase in stockpiling of goods.

The tendency in times of prosperity is for the amount of goods on hand to increase. If that should happen and if retailers should start withholding orders, a slowdown in business tempo could be expected.

Nearing 106th Birthday; Recollects Civil War Days

Philosopher: A person who always knows what to do—until it happens to him.

Oakland County's oldest resident,

Mrs. Eliza Beaumont Taylor of Highland, celebrates her 106th birthday in a few days. Born only a couple of miles from her present home, on Dec. 16, 1849, she always has lived in Oakland County. She was in her teens in Civil War days and plainly recollects the events of that time. She was married to James Taylor when 19 years of age. He died in 1937 at the age of 90. Of their four children, with whom she lives, is the only survivor. We wonder if there is any other person in the state or nation, who at Mrs. Keller's age of 86, still has their mother with them.

Mrs. F. S. Keller,

With the event still over a month away,

Verne C. Hampton,

Chairman of the dinner to be given in honor of on Jan. 18, tells me that the tickets, limited to 300, are rapidly being picked up. Mr. Adams assumes his duties as Oakland County's fourth Circuit Judge on Jan. 2.

Freedom's Might

Birth of the 'Big Union' Reflects Victory for the CIO in Battle for Worker Control

WASHINGTON — The crusade for "one big union" in America — fostered decades ago by the industrial workers of the world—has come a long way in the merger of the AFL and CIO. The "IWWs" sought to bring craft workers into all-plant unions under one big top layer of governing officials.

* * *

The new merger will not be examined by any investigating committee of Congress. It's a monopoly that will not be touched by the Department of Justice under the anti-trust laws. For the power of political reprisal by the "one big union" is so threatening that no administration in America today dares to challenge it and enforce the basic principle of anti-monopoly.

Big business is rightfully policed to prevent mergers that lessen competition, but not the AFL and CIO when, having found competition to be hurtful to their respective groups, they now agree to abolish "raiding." This is the name when a new union seeks to unionize workers in plants already organized by another union. So, when labor leaders find competition irksome, they just make a merger and the common-law principle of monopoly is brushed aside, even though price-fixing is the direct result of wage-fixing in union contracts.

But there is a more dangerous development in the merger. It is that the AFL, the craft unions, is accepting the CIO concept that all workers must belong to the same union and be represented by a single bargaining committee. Employers usually like it — it saves dickering. So the crafts may no longer have autonomy.

CIO IS THE VICTOR

This means a leveling-out of wages, and the craft worker will find himself at a disadvantage. It is a sort of communizing process in which an entire plant is put into one union, with one set of officers who look to the votes of the lower-paid unskilled workers — the vast majority—instead of to each minority of craft workers when making wage scales.

Already there are signs of rebellion in the ranks of the craft unions, but they are helpless, having been sold down the river at the top. There are, to be sure, more AFL men in the top council of the merged union at present than CIO leaders, but it's only a question of time when this will be reversed. What really has happened is that the CIO, which broke away from the AFL twenty years ago, has finally come out victorious.

Politically, the merger means that an effort will be made to put the "one big union" into the Democratic Party councils. The big union will furnish much of the money and many of the precinct workers. There's much at stake for the one big union — control of the decisions of the National Labor Relations Board through appointment of pro-union members.

CONTROL OF EMPLOYMENT

There will be, moreover, a new slogan in politics: "What's good for the CIO-AFL is good for the country."

While the Republican Party will have to depend on some defections of local unions for support and will be busy persuading housewives that the big union will halt the salary rises of the skilled worker, the vast majority of the 16,000,000 members of the big merged union will be forced to line up on the Democratic side under penalty of losing their jobs. Control of employment is in many industries today exercised by unions.

The Republicans will have to look to the white-collar employes and to more farm votes for help at the polls. Already there are farm organizations crying out that the labor-union monopolies are forcing up the prices of farm equipment and other things the farmer has to buy. The merger will not mean a separate labor party, but it can mear a more powerful bloc of labor votes than ever before.

POLITICAL CONTROL

President Eisenhower's message to the newly merged organization is significant. He warns against any disregard of the "rights of minorities" and plainly challenges the concept that the members of a big organization of this kind will think alike on political or social problems. It is, of course, a bit of wishful thinking—what the Republicans hope will happen. But job control means political control.

* * *

The "merger" marks a turning point in the history of American politics—or rather, it will be a turning point if the rank and the file really go along with the merger instead of asserting at the polls their independence as individuals still believing in freedom from enslavement by any monopoly.

Middle-Aged Parents Face Three Major Obligations

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

You are in your second forty-year period and also, whether you like it or not, in your involution period. (Curious? Good, see Webster, Funk and Wagnall, Century, or your pet dictionary.) Curiosity is a quality consonant with youth.

On your mature shoulders rest three obligations: Support and guidance of your children; care of your aging parents; planning for your old age.

For the first time you realize acutely that you are growing old. The prospect may (1) frighten you into turning your face away while you whistle in the dark (2) summon forth your intelligent and sensible attention.

Let's work with the sensible middle-aged.

As much as the customary tribulations of parenthood may have burdened you—and of course yours were unusual—you would not relinquish them if you could.

You wonder how your childless friends occupy their leisure, what could possibly support and stimulate them. But look, you are on the brink of losing your own children to their independence!

WHAT NOW?

What will now stimulate and support you? This is what your aging parents have been suffering. The emptiness, the loss of previous motives for working and planning.

American culture as it now stands has presented the middle-aged and the young with a massive problem: The Senior Citizen, their parents and grandparents who are without occupation, without support, without care.

But the middle-aged and the young are tomorrow's old folks. What we do about it may determine the kind of America we have tomorrow.

It could be that in the planning for and caring for our old folks, lies the salvation of America's culture.

For while we plan for their needs, we discover our own. What we do for them is our heritage.

If you are middle-aged and sometimes feel older don't breathe a word of it to anybody. Just send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks.

Follow instructions therein, and if you don't feel years younger within a month, return the pamphlet and I'll refund the full purchase price.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

'Experience' Advocates Spraying Roadside Brush

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

If I recall right, a short while ago someone wrote they thought it terrible that the brush along the roadsides had been sprayed brown. They thought something ought to be done to stop it.

I am in disagreement with that suggestion. I wish that more of the roads were sprayed. Wild brush grows and in time gets out of bounds. On these narrow roads it closes in (wild thorn plum and wild thorn apple) until one has to tear off the paint in order to pass.

If one had to stop the car on the side of the road and step in them, they would tear his clothes. They are so tall at corners you can hardly see cars coming on the other roads and are liable to cause an accident.

I love trees and shrubs and song birds as much as anyone, so I plant them in my yard. A few evergreen trees draws song birds. Also, if one doesn't like the brown that the spray leaves, one might offer to cut them instead. I'm afraid a little of that would go a long way.

Woe Unto Us if Science Repeals Law of Gravity

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato: Can you recall, as a child, how you liked to stretch out on a small grassy hill, and then roll down it?

Can you remember how, when you reached the bottom, mind reeling, you had a strange feeling of terror that you were about to fly off into space — and how you dug small hands into the sweet-smelling earth and hugged it hard to keep this from happening?

I have this same feeling on reading that the U.S. government is sponsoring research to find a way to counteract gravity.

In this battle of science versus gravity I am pretty much on the side of gravity.

* * *

Gravity is one of man's oldest and best friends. It may set him down hard occasionally, but at least he knews where it will set him down. But science? I don't know. If science takes over gravity, it is hard to figure where we'll all be set down eventually.

DEPENDABLE GRAVITY

Over the centuries gravity has shown a steady and dependable sense of responsibility. You know what it will do. But who can tell what science will do next? It is as unpredictable as a flea at a dog show.

* * *

Gravity was a fact of life long before, as legend has it, an apple dropped on Sir Isaac Newton's noggin. All Newton did was to get up and single-handed pass the Law of Gravity.

This law has been more influential than any statute ever passed by Congress.

It has kept the sun and moon and earth in a whirling balance for a time beyond the memory of man. It causes the acorn to drop and be covered by falling trees and thus start a fresh forest.

* * *

It holds Clark Gable's ears in place, and is a big factor in keeping Marilyn Monroe in her present pleasant shape. It pulls down the rain and the snow to water the world. It turns mountain rivulets into rivers that swell the mighty sea.

It gives a man confidence that when he stretches out a foot it will come again to ground, and when he lies down at night he will rest upon his bed instead of floating up and banging his forehead against the ceiling.

* * *

That's the big virtue of gravity. You can count on it. If a barber or a symphony conductor stands too long in one position, gravity may give him varicose veins or fallen arches over the years. But name me any blessing in this world that doesn't have its faults if it isn't used wisely.

The repeal of gravity promises certain advantages to commercial aviation and space explorers.

But if science does come up with a new anti-gravity force or substance I hope they keep it under laboratory control and won't sell it like cotton candy at a circus.

* * *

If they do, I predict choas. The skies above our streets will be full of lunatic jaywalkers dropping chewed-up apple cores on the heads of us old-fashioned innocenf pedestrians.

Dastardly peeping Toms will be leering in the 12th story windows of apartment buildings. Frantic mothers will be bawling up into the air, "Junior, you come down off that cloud right now, and fly to the grocery store for me. I'm sorry I ever bought you those anti-gravity shoes."

* * *

Frankly speaking, do you feel the human race is ready to do away with gravity? The thing we need to do most in our troubled era it to keep both feet solidly on the ground, and in this gravity is a big help.

Smiles

Because of their sense of rhythm violinists are said to make good aviators. But they shouldn't start fiddling around in the air.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Try 'Deep Breathing' Method to Aid Heart During Attacks, Reduce Fear

Claude is living in constant terror, as if he were sitting under the famous sword of Damocles. But his worry is largely unnecessary. If you have anybody in your family who fears heart attacks, clip this case record and send it on at once. For the "deep breathing" technique not only aids the heart directly but lessens your fear and nervous tension.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-314: Claude R., aged 55, has a heart complex.

"Dr. Crane, I live in constant apprehension lest I be struck down by another heart attack," he confessed miserably.

* * *

"Last year I had one attack which was pretty bad, though I didn't lose consciousness.

"My family physician said it was angina of the heart, and that the tiny muscles around my coronary arteries went into spasm.

"But ever since then I am petrified with fear every time I feel a dull ache over my breast bone.

"Can you offer me any help so that I can get over my slavery to heart fears?"

HEART FEARS

Yes, and here's a special bit of advice for all of you folks who have a heart complex.

The pain from your heart attack is thought to be a result of oxygen hunger of the muscle in the heart wall.

So when we medics take you to the hospital, we often prescribe a richer oxygen mixture in the air you breathe. That means we may place you in an oxygen tent or let you breathe from an oxygen bottle.

But long before you reach the hospital, you can give your heart a bigger dose of oxygen and help relieve the pain by simply deep, rapid breathing.

Grit your teeth, if need be, and start filling your chest with deep breaths of fresh air.

Exhale and breathe again and again, just as if you were trying to pile up a surplus of oxygen in your bloodstream the way a diver does.

RESCUE YOUR HEART

"But when I had my last heart attack," Claude protested, "I was afraid to breathe. The pain was like a knife inside my chest."

That's true. Most heart attack patients are half paralyzed with fright, plus pain.

* * *

But just remember forced deep breathing will NOT injure your heart but will help it, so grit your teeth and breathe both deeply and rapidly despite your pain.

After a dozen or more deep breaths the pain will often begin to dissolve. For the heart muscle will then begin to absorb the extra supply of oxygen which is coursing through your coronary arteries.

If you will thus realize that you can aid your heart by this deep breathing technique, it will free you from a lot of undue fear and apprehension.

For, as long as your attack doesn't produce unconsciousness, your deep breathing strategy simply serves as a quick form of natural resuscitation for the heart.

Remember, you can do it even though you are all alone when an attack occurs!

FACTS DISPEL FEAR

Always lie down, too, when you wish to rest your heart, for this immediately reduces the work of the heart.

* * *

For it is much easier to pump your 5 or 6 quarts of blood in the horizontal plane, than to pump that blood up the full 6 feet of your vertical height.

As a result of lying down, your blood pressure falls and your heart slows down a beat or two per minute.

So when you think you have heart pain, lie down, breathe deeply, and relax, for if you are still conscious and can breathe deeply, it isn't so likely that you will succumb to that heart attack, even if it is a real one.

Long beforehand, however, you should shed your excess weight, for every extra pound makes more work for your heart.

And by all means, quit tobacco, for tobacco is probably the greatest single cause of heart and blood vessel ailments.

Send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 Days," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c. Heart patients need to stay slender!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Employes Get Salary Boosts

Schools Office Workers Will Gain $200-260 Beginning January 1

Salary increases ranging from $200 to $260 annually for professional and clerical employes at the Oakland County Superintendent of Schools office will begin Jan. 1, it was announced today by county schools head Dr. William J. Emerson. Included in the increment raises will be 19 special teachers, clinicians and consultants, three department heads, two auditors and office personnel.

Annual salary hikes of $500 for Superintendent of Schools Emerson, Deputy Superintendent Kenneth Brown and Assistant Superintendent Claude Elmore also were approved by the county Board of Education. The increases will bring Emerson's salary to $12,750, Brown's to $9,500 and Elmore's to $7,500.

The across-the-board wage hikes already have been provided for in the 1956 budget.

"Jan. 1 is the time when all county employes have their salaries adjusted," Emerson said. "The approximate $200 figure was arrived at to 'meet the market' on teachers salaries, most of which will be adjusted upward by that figure this school year."

Emerson pointed out that all 45 school districts in Oakland County will be considering $200 salary increases for teachers this month, in line with an allotment of $9 per membership child approved by the Michigan Legislature Nov. 4 for the purpose of increasing teachers salaries.

Texas Jury Hears Auto Bomb Story

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A jury starts hearing today the courtroom story of the auto bomb murder of a wealthy Texas ranchwoman in what may be the nation's first televised murder trial.

The state contends that the bomb trap was set for Mrs. Weaver's husband Harry because he had prevented her from giving money to Washburn, who is divorced from their daughter.

Mitchell Exhorts Merged Unions

Labor Secretary Tells Leaders to Adopt Voice in American Politics

By NORMAN WALKER

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell said today organized labor has both a duty and responsibility to speak out with a "loud and clear" voice in politics.

Mitchell's remarks prepared for the convention of the merged AFL-CIO indicated, however, that he expects labor support to be given to Republican party policies rather than to those of Democrats.

His speech, like one delivered by President Eisenhower yesterday to convention delegates via a hower's Gettysburg headquarters, long-distance hookup from Eisen- said labor unions have a right to deal in political issues.

* * *

Eisenhower said that in such expression the rights of minorities in unions having "differing social, economic and political views must be scrupulously protected and their views accurately reflected."

The President and his labor Cabinet officer appeared to be answering, in part at least, the expressed fears of some Republicans that unions are taking too active a political role. The speeches also signaled an administration effort to vie actively with the Democrats for the labor vote in the 1956 campaign.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year, said in another speech prepared for the convention today that "we need more, not less, participation by working men and women in American political affairs."

* * *

Harriman saw "a glorious opportunity" to increase national production by 50 per cent in the next decade and thereby improve living conditions. But "to get this expansion, we must have wise and progressive policies," he said.

"It is up to labor to make its voice heard to be sure we have those policies," he added.

Mitchell said AFL-CIO leaders have denied they will "try to control the votes of union members" but will keep members informed on political issues. Nobody, he said, can object to that kind of political activity.

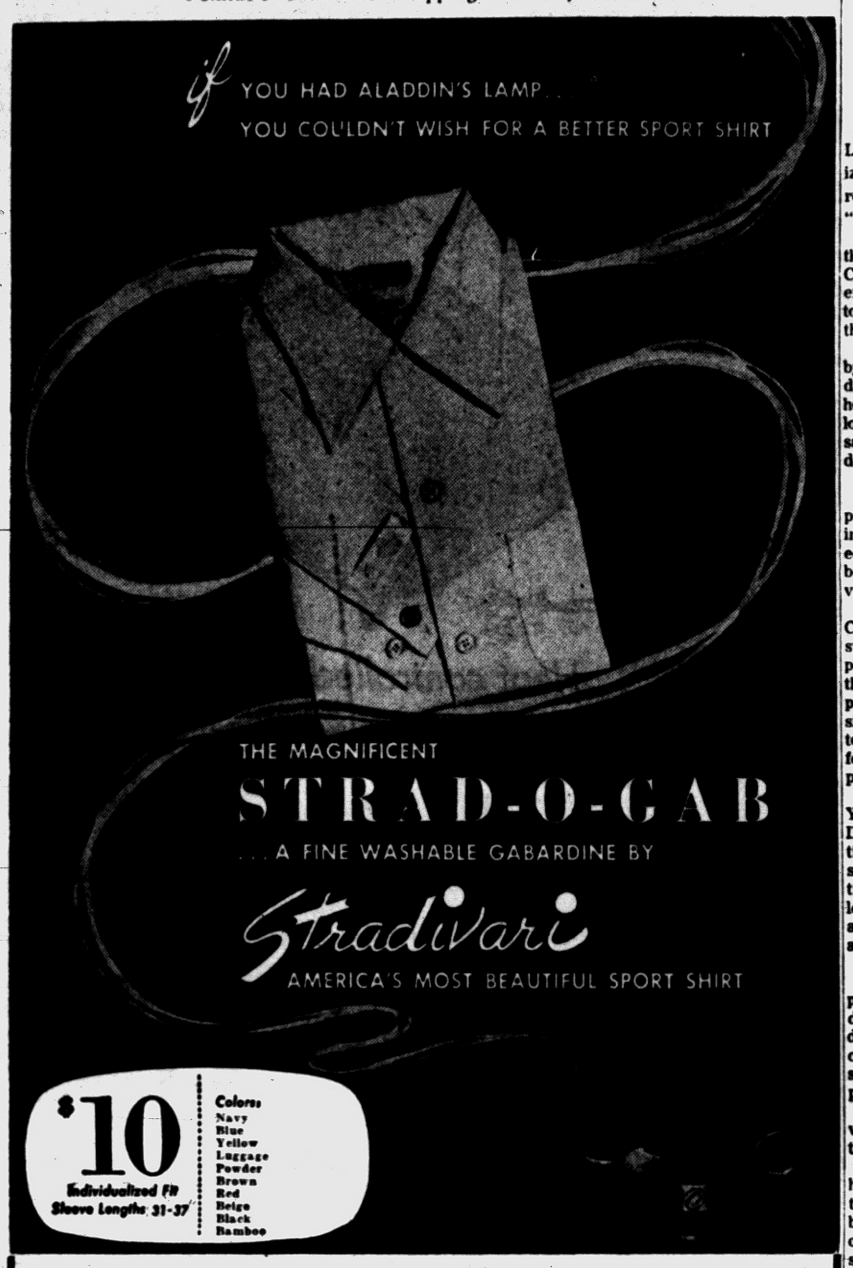

Killed on Telegraph

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Frances Siegel, 50, of Trenton was killed yesterday in an automobile collision on U.S. 24 outside Detroit. Police said her car apparently skidded on ice into the path of an oncoming automobile.

DOOR'S THERE BUT IT "ISN'T" — When a chain grocery recently opened a new branch in Dillonvale, Cincinnati suburb, it didn't just open the doors — it took them away entirely. The weather outside was blustery, wet and getting colder, yet somehow the storm didn't come into the store. The secret is a revolutionary "air curtain" — an invisible partition projected by blowers across the entrance. As seen above, it lets the customers enter and leave without a ruffle, but turns back weather as sternly as any door of steel or glass. But it's not effective against burglars, so after hours, the air current is switched off and a steel and glass night door is bolted in place. The "air door" is a Swiss invention, getting its first American tryout.

The Saar—Cradle of Nazi Revival?

Meet Nine Protagonists of Fascist Rebirth

This is the second of four articles reporting the results of an on-the-spot survey of the Saar territory, by Pierre J. Huss, INS Foreign Analyst.

By PIERRE J. HUSS

(World Copyright, 1955, by INS)

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar — A sinister figure from the Nazi terror regime of Adolf Hitler is operating openly and boldly today in the Saar.

He is the dreaded "Blutrichter of Prague"—"bloody Judge"—Erwin Albrecht.

* * *

This 55-year-old jurist is deputy-chairman of the pro-German "Christian Democratic Party." Albrecht was a special judge of the "Volksgericht"—people's court—during the torture and death rule of SS "Butcher" Hendrich in Czechoslovakia.

Albrecht made Saarbruecken his hideout when the tide turned against Hitler. Czechs demanded his extradition on grounds he was a top war criminal. The Communist coup in Prague saved him.

Albrecht is described as one of the most hated and feared men in the campaign against Europeanization of the Saar. He is not the only ex-Hitler stalwart in the Saar.

THE HITLER YOUTH

A rising young man in the pro-German "Socialist" party is Alvin Kulawig, optician by trade yet seasoned in Hitler traditions and methods from his years of rigid "Hitler Youth" training.

Kulawig was assigned to the "Adolph Hitler Schule" for youths destined to be possible successors to the Fuehrer. Kulawig became Hauptsturmfuhrer SS before collapse of the Nazi Reich ended his dreams under the Swastika.

Last Oct. 22, he volunteered to lead outbreaks against French authority in the Saar modeled on the anti-Communist East Berlin riots of June 1953. He is one of the top three candidates of the pro-German Socialist party.

THE BRAIN WASHER

Old hand at the Goebbels game of propaganda, running shoulder to shoulder with Kulawig as head of "Socialist" party candidates, is Dr. Hans Peter Will. A former editorial writer of the Nazi Voelkischer Beobachter, he was a "brain washer" and roving speechmaker of the propaganda ministry. He fled the Saar in 1945.

A key man in Schneider's party, also with extensive Nazi background, is 43-year-old Paul Simonis. He's the party's alternate chairman who took the limelight in the anti-European statute campaign as a vociferous and table-pounding deputy for Schneider himself.

In 1936 he was Nazi head of the Saar social security office, served in the army and was captured in Russia. He has lost none of the rabble-rousing qualities taught him by former Nazi masters.

THE TACTICIAN

Ludwig Bruch, editor of "Deutche Saar" was drafted for his vast experience and "know how" in Nazi tactics during the Saar plebiscite of 1935. He was then a member of the pro-German Saar front and wrote inflammatory pieces berating anyone who failed to look for the return of the Saar to Hitler's Germany.

A very active and "coming" young man in the union of three pro-German parties is Manfred Schaefer, editor of the Saarbruecken Neuste Nachrichten, an organ of the Christian Democratic Party. Schaefer doubles as vice president for Dr. Hurbert Ney.

This lad learned marching and heel-clicking in the Hitler youth and has remained a convinced Nazi. He carries about him the air of one who will snap to attention if surprised and give the Heil Hitler greeting, which seems always to be on his mind.

In the Socialist ranks is vice-chairman Friedel Regitz, a one-time vigorous member of the Nazi NSDAP party. His face carries the look of the ironclad Nazi; his type is not to be overlooked in future events.

One of the foremost haters of everything French or French authority in the Saar is publicist Andreas Mallaender who joined the NSDAP on Mayday, 1933 and the brownstorm SA two years later. He was a district educational leader in Saarbruecken who rose to the rank of Sturmfuehrer in the SA.

Two other names bear special mention, although neither have specific Nazi background.

They are Dr. Hubert Ney and Kurt Conrad. The former is the one-armed chairman of the Saar Christian Democratic Party—one of the three pro-German parties who was permitted to practice law before the Nazi supreme court.

Conrad is an old trade union leader who managed to keep his fingers clean of direct Nazi contacts. As head of the "Socialist" Party of the Saar he recently allied his party with the West-German Socialist Party.

Thus, all in all, the Saar is being prepared for an election where those seeking seats in the Parliament are acting in the spirit of Hitler—except that none of the swastika trappings or Nazi philosophy are permitted to show openly.

Optometrist Lists Hints to Prevent TV Eye Strains

CHICAGO (INS)—Television, as such, is not harmful to the eyes. But it can be if viewers do not exercise a few common sense precautions.

Dr. Manos gave these five suggestions for TV viewing:

1—Sit in an upright position within a 30 degree angle of the screen.

2—Sit at least eight feet from the set.

3—Do not view TV in a dark room. Dr. Manos said illumination should be almost normal but no lamps should be shining in the face of the picture tube—they should be at the side or reflected upward.

Kefauver Group to Probe Pittsburgh's Youth Crime

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency, headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.,) opens hearings Wednesday in Pittsburgh, Pa.

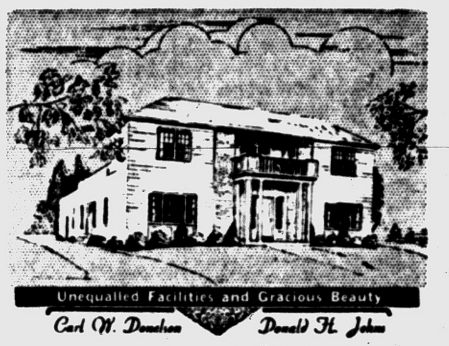

Kefauver said that Gov. George Leader and Mayor David Lawrence have been invited to testify, along with other municipal officials, educational authorities, religious and civil leaders, social agency directors and representatives of private and fraternal organizations interested in the problems of youth.

The car says "GO"

and the price won't stop you!

That long and lovely creation shown in action above—glamorous and smartly distinctive car-of-the-future styling, and packed with all the terrific "go" suggested by its fleet and flowing lines—is actually a member of Pontiac's lowest-priced series, the value-setting 860 line. And here's what this information means to you!

Whatever your new-car plans for '56—even if you're shopping at the bottom of the price scale—this big and beautiful mile-shrinker can be yours!

You can now look forward to luxuriating in the gracious comfort and solid roadability made possible by a man-sized 122" wheelbase—just about as long as they come!

You can now expect to enjoy the finest, smoothest performance that ever set pulses racing—blazing Strato-Streak performance from the most modern and efficient V-8 engine that ever powered a car.

For instance, your favorite body style in the 860 series carries a price within a whisper of the cost of the smaller, lighter-powered lowest-priced cars! And that's just the start.

We're trading right now to set an all-time record for December. And so when you've heard our deal you may very well discover that there's virtually no difference in price at all!

Bob Considine Says:

Half-Statements Keep the GOP in Turmoil

NEW YORK (INS)— Lord Beaverbrook on the subject of Britain's newly opened commercial television network:

"It's just nothing like television in America, so far as being an advertising medium. The sponsor has no control over a British program. He spends his money simply to have his product shouted about or shown on screen at a certain hour.

"He doesn't know what will be featured on the screen at the time. It's altogether possible that during the showing of a film about the king's funeral a dreadful mention of somebody's gin will be happily bellowed."

We're living in the reborn age of the half-stated statement. The man in the public eye squares his shoulders, rears back and lets fly . . . with half a punch. How moderate, for example, is Adlai Stevenson's theme of "moderation."

"I shall do everything in my power next year to help you report the record (the GOP's) accurately and fully to the country," says the President. Republicans start to throw their hats in the air, then hold on to them and read the statement all over again. It doesn't help.

Big top wheels go in to see the President, come out saying that he'll run again. Then you read beyond the second paragraph of the story and you learn that they are speaking wholly on their own, that Eisenhower never brought up the subject nor did they.

The party is reliving the perplexity caused a generation ago when Cal Coolidge bewildered it with the Yankee verb "choose," as in "I do not choose to run for President in 1928."

RUDE REFUSAL

Seems to me the New York Port Authority was rude refusing to permit the Comet III to land at any New York area airport in the course of its 'round-the-world flight.

"The public will not accept an aircraft if it cannot operate without excessive noise," loudly said Austin J. Tobin, the authority's authority.

The public, we are convinced, will accept anything that is connected with progress and the way-of-life-to-be. One is inclined to ask Tobin for the credentials he indicates he possesses as spokesman for "the public."

If Boeing's 707 had been permitted to land here on its recent cross-country record flight, the only trouble Tobin would have had from the public would have been that it might have trampled him in its effort to see and touch this incredible new means of flight.

This country's aviation industry and the New York Port Authority owe a great debt to the British. For the basic reasons that there was a man named Whittle, who made the first jet, and that Comet I flew, flourished, and then fell, our own jets will succeed.

Our companies have learned a lot from the trial and error of the first Comet. It cost the British 99 lives and millions of dollars in research. But the door of the jet age was consequently opened.

STRONGER PLANE

The Comet III is an immeasurably stronger and abler plane than the Comet I. It is the forerunner of the Comet IV, with which Britain hopes to catch up in a race she once led by many months and miles.

The very least we could do is offer the hospitality of our long, broad landing strips to BOAC's oncoming beauty.

It is not the birthday of a fine old man with a beard and a red nose named Santa, nor the birthday of winsome dogs, kittens and dancing belles, or of front doors, holly wreaths, colored glass balls (probably made by slave Slav labor) and snow-covered farm houses being approached by sled.

It is, rather, the birthday of One about Whom a great man named Gilbert Chesterton wrote, ". . . The Lad you'll all be asking for at the end."

Santa Accepted as Tradesman

Unemployment Bureau of Canada Classifies St. Nick's Position

TORONTO (AP) — No need to fidget the next time a little hand clutches your sleeve and a small voice asks:

"Is there really a Santa Claus?"

The Canadian National Unemployment Service says yes.

Not only does it confirm Santa's existence, but it declares his position as a recognized tradesman. He's unskilled.

After years of gnawing doubt in the minds of children and nimble verbal side-stepping by parents, it turns out that the service has had Santa numbered and classified in its list and occupational titles for a long time.

UNMENTIONED QUALIFICATIONS

Santa is No. 2-40.94. Alphabetically listed in the big black book, he falls between a sanitary tub maker and a sapphire stylus grinder.

His duties are listed as playing with and amusing kiddies and distributing gifts. No mention is made of qualifications, but service workers give this rundown of what it takes to be a successful Santa:

He must be good natured. Patient, preferably long-suffering. Must like children — and for more than a few minutes at a stretch.

"But he does not necessarily have to be fat," one official said. A genuinely fat Santa might disqualify himself. The determining factor in selecting the man is whether he fits the Santa suit. Any deficit can be padded.

Of the 4,800 or so men the service places in jobs in Toronto each year, about three are Santas. Most companies and groups take Santa from their own ranks.

It's not always easy to find one. The pay is low. The position is seasonable and temporary. It's also tough.

There have been no calls for Santa this year. There are some applications.

As far as service officials are concerned "Santa Claus is just another man looking for a job."

The Duke of Edinburgh Realizes One Ambition

LONDON (INS)—It was a brightly-lighted "pub" in London's Regent's Park district and the sight of it touched a private ambition in the heart of the Duke of Edinburgh.

* * *

The husband of England's Queen strode through the door of the sovereign pub which was near a housing development he had been inspecting. He went behind the bar and gave a determined pull at one of the big, chromium-topped beer handles.

"I've always wanted to do that," said his Royal Highness with satisfaction.

Major Adrain Eden, who retired from the British Royal Artillery to enter the Church, is nearing completion of his ministerial training at St. George's Windsor.

It's one of Chevrolet's New "ONE-FIFTY" series...the lowest priced of all the high-priced-looking Chevrolet series for '56. But you'd never know it to look at that speedline chrome treatment or to feel that new power ranging up to 205 H.P.

There's so much fresh new styling in the "One-Fifty" it's hard to believe the car costs so little. It has new chrome—including both windshield and back window reveals—and its own distinctive two-toning. It stretches long and clean from grille to taillights (the left one hides the gas cap). It offers new power, V8 or 6, steering and handling ease few cars can match, plus all of Chevrolet's great performance and safety features. Krupp Associates Organize Campaign to Return Cannon King to Industries

By HANNS NEUERBOURG

ESSEN, Germany (AP) — Close associates of Alfried Krupp have launched a drive to get Germany's onetime cannon king back into coal and steel production.

* * *

To do so, the 48-year-old Krupp must first win permission from the Western allies. The former arms maker has made clear that he does not want to return to producing the weapons of war.

Under a 1953 agreement with the Allies, Krupp is pledged to sell, within five years, the vast coal, steel and iron holdings which had been the backbone of the family dynasty for nearly a century.

With more than half of this period already elapsed. Krupp still owns most of the holdings although he cannot exercise direct control over them. They are administered by trustees.

MEHLEM TREATY

Actually, only one coal mine and 60 per cent of Krupp's iron ore mines in the Siegerland and Lahn districts are no longer his property. The expected sale of Constantin Der Grosse, a big colliery at Bochum, to the Italian state railways collapsed this year because payment was delayed by currency complications.

Since then, Krupp's leading advisers had decided to halt all further sales in the hope of an Allied revision of the 1953 agreement, known as the "Mehlem Treaty."

The driving force behind this new company campaign is Berthold Beitz, youthful, energetic general manager who was hired by Krupp two years ago.

RECONCENTRATION ON

In Bonn, a United States Embassy spokesman said the Allies have not yet been approached on the subject, but Beitz seems confident that the Allied treaty eventually will be changed or rescinded.

Bound by his personal pledge, Krupp refrains from commenting on the issue. But his associates are free to campaign for a "reconcentration" of the industrial empire.

In various interviews, they try to drive home their point to the public that Krupp's postwar recovery — influencing the whole national economy — stands on shaky ground as long as it is not backed up by coal and steel holdings.

* * *

For the first time since the war, Krupp's remaining 61 enterprises — with a manufacturing program ranging from false teeth to oil tankers — operated at a profit in 1954. Total turnover was close to one billion marks (238 million dollars) but official caution that only reconcentration could really protect Krupp operations from falling back into the red.

* * *

They argue that reconcentration would lower production costs and assure prewar quality for Krupp products that have to be made today with steel from outside firms. They also point out that three major industrial combines split up by the Allies after the war are either already reunited or about to be so. One of them, Hoesch, was broken up on March 4, 1953 — the same day the "Mehlem Treaty" was signed.

Labor Leader Denies Mishandling Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Chicago labor union leader told Senate investigators yesterday there's nothing irregular about his handling of union welfare funds, placed with an insurance firm which he heads.

* * *

Angelo Inciso, president of Local 286 of the AFL United Auto Workers, testified before a Senate Labor subcommittee which had cited him for contempt for not responding to two earlier subpoenas.

Inciso said employers contribute about $200,000 a year to the union's insurance fund, managed by the American Continental Insurance Co. Under questioning, he said he runs American Continental as its board chairman.

* * *

Inciso conceded the local union does not keep books on its finances. Funds are handled through a voucher system, he said, with vouchers being made out when money is received or spent. An annual accounting is made, he said.

Wilson Foundry Auction Begins

Machinery, Equipment Valued at $15 Million Scheduled for Sale

A four-day public auction of machinery and equipment formerly used by the Wilson Foundry & Machine Co. was launched today at the 74 W. Wilson Ave. site of the onetime Willys Motors subsidiary.

Value of the property is estimated at over $15 million by officials of Samuel L. Winternitz & Co., auctioneers. Items up for sale include foundry, tool room, material handling, business and medical equipment.

The auction will begin at 10 a. m. each day through December 9.

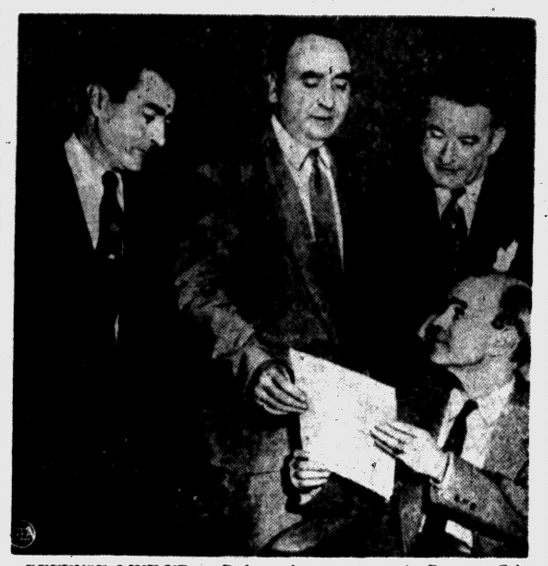

The foundry, which closed down operations in November of 1954, is presently owned by the Indianhead Co., a partnership of Flint and Chicago businessmen organized in 1954 to purchase the factory.

Sanders A. Goodstein, partner and spokesman for the firm, declined to comment yesterday on Indianhead's plans for using or disposing of the land and buildings. The former foundry occupies about 500,000 square feet of floor space and is situated on 21 acres of ground.

Goodstein said the company will maintain a small administrative staff at the site until the interior equipment sale is completed and disposal of real property determined.

Founded during World War I, by Charles E. and David R. Wilson, the foundry employed more than 1,200 workers before Willys transferred operations to Toledo last year.

Son Passes Dead Dad on Highway to Home

DURANT, Okla. (UP)—Thomas Culvahouse of Fort Worth, Tex., drove home to see his parents yesterday, but paid no attention to a pickup truck parked near the side of the road.

He drove on to the home and was greeted by his mother. He asked for his father and learned he had left more than three hours ago. The mother was concerned.

Culvahouse drove back down the rode and found his father, John McAllen Culvahouse, 60, dead behind the steering wheel of the pickup. Authorities told the son his father ran off the side of the road two miles north of here, apparently stricken with a heart attack.

NIIGATA, Japan (UP) — A leading Japanese scientist said today he believes after analyzing fall-out particles that the Soviet Union exploded a test bomb of natural uranium last month. The scientist, Prof. Seitaro Koyama of Niigata University, said this is the most powerful type of nuclear weapon yet devised.

Use of automobiles by women shows 24 per cent of trips driving to work, 28 per cent for shopping and about 48 per cent for miscellaneous purposes.

Carver School Teacher Brings Suit Claiming Her Dismissal Was Illegal

Another dispute stemming from the tangled affairs of the George Washington Carver School in Oakdale Gardens is slated for an early hearing in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Miss Dorothy Posey, a teacher at the school, has filed suit claiming the school board has proceeded illegally in taking steps toward firing her.

She claims the state Teacher's Tenure Act was violated by the board when it did not wait until 60 days before end of the current semester to notify her of charges pending against her.

Allied with her in the suit is Otis C. Eaton, chairman of the Citizens Improvement Committee of Ferndale, who says he originally filed the charges against her last July 26.

Eaton says he learned the charges were not based on fact and told the board he wished to withdraw them. He claims the board has continued action against the teacher.

Judge George B. Hartrick yesterday directed the board not to discharge Miss Posey or stop paying her until the facts in the case can be heard and a decision reached. He said an early trial date will be set.

The attorney for the school board said the charges are of a "moral" nature. Miss Posey's counsel denied this.

The judge said in his opinion the board is justified in continuing investigating the charges against the teacher even though they were withdrawn by Eaton.

The main issue, he stated, is whether the violations of "public morals" charged against Miss Posey by the board can be substantiated.

If the charge is serious, said Judge Hartrick, he would not construe the Teacher's Tenure Act as preventing the board from taking immediate action. But if she is charged only with incompetence, the judge added, then the board should follow the tenure act procedure.

The board's attorney said he would file a cross bill specifically stating the charges. "It, unquestionably is a morals charge," he stated.

Sumptuous Ball Gowns Reflect the Holiday Spirit

Glimmerings of the splendid age of the Renaissance in the sumptuous spirit of the holiday season are recreated by Oleg Cassini in this ruby-hued velvet ball gown. The black silk satin midriff is crossed with white satin cords.

Sleek and slinky is this gold evening sheath of pure silk satin designed for the holidays by Ceil Chapman. Folds spiral across the strapless bodice and there is dancing ease in the swaying fan-tail panel.

Straight from a treasure chest and perfect for a gala holiday season is this short dance dress by Sylvan Rich of Montini. Panels of jeweled embroidery outline the princess silhouette, from strapless bodice to the tip of the hemline. The gown comes in beige silk organdy with a casually draped organdy stole tossed around the shoulders and caught in back with an oversized rose.

Shopping 'Job' Makes Yule Gay

By ANNE HEYWOOD

One day, the superintendent of the apartment house into which I moved recently told me about a tenant who has an interesting Christmas hobby.

* * *

Her name is Mrs. B. A. Widow in her mid-60s, she had a comfortable income, but nothing special to occupy her time.

Her married life had been a long and happy one. She and her husband could not have children, so she became one of the early career-wives.

They were together a great deal and had many hobbies and interests in common. But then, during the year she retired from her job, she lost her husband, after a short and tragic illness.

* * *

"I had enough to live on comfortably," Mrs. B. said, "but nothing to live for—or at least so it seemed to me.

"I did some volunteer work through the church and the Red Cross and little by little life became tolerable again. But the holidays were more than I could face.

WORKING COUPLES

"Then one year, I noticed the young working couples in the building at Christmastime. They seemed so rushed and harassed.

* * *

"I'd hear them talking in the elevator about not having time to get wrappings or last-minute gifts and what a nightmare it made of the holidays when both members of the family had jobs.

"I offered to help one young couple whom I had come to know. They gave me a list of things they needed, everything from cards and wrapping paper to tree ornaments and bottles of cologne. I had a picnic handling their shopping for them.

"The following year, I put a sign up in the lobby to the effect that I would attend to last-minute Christmas shopping for busy young couples.

"I charge no fee, because it's a kind of volunteer work and I enjoy it immensely. I had more than I could handle that year, so from then on. I've arranged to begin early in November so that I can handle them all.

"It makes the holidays such fun. I feel important and receive more invitations for holiday parties and Christmas dinner than I could accept, which for a widow with no family is a godsend.

* * *

"Of course my 'children' give me lovely presents in return for my services, but the real return is in the fun I have and the feeling of being needed!"

Westacres Club Depicts Foreign Holiday Customs

For the fourth consecutive year the Westacres Child Study Club presented a portrayal of Christmas in the manner of some foreign country, to entertain children of club members.

* * *

Sixty-two children and 25 mothers gathered Monday evening to take part in a progressive party featuring Czechoslovakian and German Christmas customs and food. Mrs. James Blaine of Henry drive and Mrs. John Ashby of North Elder road opened their homes for the occasion.

At the Blaine home the guests saw first the large, brightly colored letters "G, M and B" fastened to the front door. These represent the names of the three wise men, Gaspar, Melchior and Balthasar.

* * *

Mrs. Wendell Strait and her sons, Douglas and Richard, and Mrs. Gordon Saunders and her sons, Gary and Henry, presided at the candlelighting ceremony before refreshments were served. All were in costume.

Many of the ceremonial customs are reminiscent of those followed on Halloween and are full of superstitions.

TRADITIONAL TREATS

Kolachy and Braunkuken (bear cookies, made with honey) were served to the guests, after the small boys had sung carols.

* * *

Mrs. Robert Shores and Mrs. Fred Freytag were hostesses at the Ashby home for the German part of the party. They told the stories of the origin of the Christmas tree and of Kris Kringle.

They explained also that the giving of toys to children was a German custom of long standing.

An Advent wreath was lighted, a wreath made following directions printed recently in the Pontiac Press. All the children joined in saying the prayers printed in the same article.

Springerle and Pfeffernuesse, typical German Christmas cookies, were served at the conclusion of the program. Mrs. David N. Eicher was coordinator of the evening's events.

Quit Plugging So Hard for Early Marriage

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: When we first met, over two years ago, we knew we were meant for each other. We're very serious now and would like to get married, but my parents are so much against it.

"He's 19 and I'm 17 and still in school. His parents say we'd be better off married—it would stop our arguments, which are very silly at times.

"My big problem is that for about a month now he has been acting sort of strange and unloving toward me, though I give him all my attention. Maybe it's because he works nights now, and has taken to hanging around with the fellows at work.

"They're all married and have children. He never used to drink, but he does now with those fellows. And I have to take care of my six brothers and sisters. So we can only be together week ends.

"I try to do the right thing, but it always turns out to be wrong. And we argue so much—maybe it's from drifting apart. Please, Miss Woodward, help me. I love him and don't want to lose the best guy I've ever had!"

Answer: Perhaps your parents see your situation a whole lot more clearly than you do. Perhaps they understand both of you young people better than you think. And perhaps their attitude against your immediate marriage is more sensible than it looks to any of the rest of you.

For it sounds very much as though you both are having growing pains. You're just beginning to mature, and you aren't (either of you) ready to settle down.

Witness the arguments you have. Mature grownups in a very close relationship give, take and compromise with each other. They don't bicker constantly. Not if they want to get along peaceably together.

Granted there is awkwardness and strain between two young people who are close, but not close enough. But it takes two to make an argument. It's a sign of basic differences in personality and attitudes. And marriage wouldn't stop it.

Witness, too, the change in your boy friend since he's been working at night. He's feeling his oats as he associates with older men. He's conscious of his age and taking steps that you don't like in order to overcome his lack of maturity.

You haven't lost him yet. Your mutual enthusiasm for getting married at once is just wearing thin. So, ease up the pressure on you both. Act with him as though you'd just met him and just fallen in love.

Try being a brand-new best girl to him. See if it won't make you easier to get along with while you wait for a better time to get serious with him.

Gift Always Demands Thank-You

Bread and Butter Present Should Be Acknowledged

By EMILY POST

A letter explains: "During the Thanksgiving holiday we had as our houseguests two of my daughter's girl friends from boarding school. After they returned home I received a bread and butter letter along with a present from them.

"I did not acknowledge this gift as it seemed superfluous to me to say 'thank you' for 'thank you.' However, I was very much embarrassed when my daughter received a note from one of the girls asking her if I had received the present.

"My daughter thinks I was remiss in not immediately writing a thank-you note to the girls. Since the gift in itself was a thank-you to me for hospitality shown them was a note necessary? I would very much like to have your opinion."

Answer: Very definitely a thank-you note should have been written. One must always say thank you for a present received.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Several of my girl friends are planning to buy their boy friends either shirts or sweaters for Christmas. I have always thought it very improper for a girl to buy wearing apparel for a boy. Will you please tell me if such gifts are proper?"

Answer: Sweaters, ties, socks (especially if they are handmade) and handkerchiefs are entirely suitable to give a man you know well, but a shirt, unless it is an outdoor sport shirt, would not be proper.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a dinner is given the night before the wedding for the bridal party, should the wives and husbands of the married attendants be invited?"

Answer: Unless there are definite reasons why they can't be invited—such as expense or lack of space—the wives and husbands of the married attendants should be invited.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to tip a messenger who delivers a telegram?"

Answer: It is not considered necessary but it is a general practice among the generous.

Girl's Best Friend

A girl's best friend is very often her deodorant, especially if she chooses one that rolls on to protect her from odor for 24 hours. An anti-perspirant too, it is guaranteed not to injure even the most delicate of fabrics.

Mrs. Hansen Uses Recipe From Abroad

Pontiac Press Home Editor

We always like to get recipes from young homemakers, those who haven't been cooking very long. It is interesting to see what unusual ideas they have in the food line. Mrs. Alfred J. Hansen is today's cook with her version of her Danish mother-in-law's prize dessert, Danish Apple Dessert.

Mrs. Hansen is another of the many homemakers with an outside job. She is a member of the Auxiliary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Whenever she has a spare moment, she likes to sew.

DANISH APPLE DESSERT
By Mrs. Alfred J. Hansen

8 double graham crackers
1 can applesauce
¼ cup butter or margarine
Whipped cream

Crush graham crackers to make fine crumbs. Brown crumbs in butter. Put alternate layers of cracker crumbs and applesauce in a bowl. Begin and end with crumbs. Make the day before you want to serve this dessert. Garnish with whipped cream. Serves 4.

Give Youngsters Foolproof Test to Decide Toys

CHICAGO (INS) — You want to be sure that your child gets the playthings he really wants for Christmas?

And, at Christmas time, she takes her favorite youngsters shopping with her. They don't know it but they're picking out their own Christmas gifts.

"I take two or three youngsters through a toy department and notice what really stops them. At the end of the day, I buy them some little inexpensive gadget so they don't realize I've been looking for bigger things for them.

"A day or two later I'll ask the children what they remembered most about the visit to the toy department and what they recall is what they really want."

Wear Suitable Hat With a Chesterfield

Don't wear just any old hat with a Chesterfield. If the fabric is a dark, smooth, more formal-looking one, such as a charcoal wool herringbone, the homburg is the ideal choice. This is especially true for the more mature man.

If the fabric has a "shaggier" appearance, and a less formal pattern, the narrow brimmed single-crease hat will be your best bet. In either case, this hat (sometimes called the Belmont dent) is a good choice.

Churchill Returns Blasts by Khrushchev, Bulganin

LONDON (AP)—The British-Russian word war over speeches by Nikita S. Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin in the Far East continued unabated today.

Former Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill was the latest to sound off.

Addressing a rally of Young Conservatives at Woodford, England, his parliamentary constituency, the 81-year-old Churchill said he thought the British government should "seriously consider" canceling the projected visit of Khrushchev and Bulganin to Britain in April. He qualified this by saying Britain should not "take any violently rapid decision" on the question.

Referring to anti-British remarks by the two top Russian leaders, Churchill termed their current Asian tour an "exhibition — there is no other word."

"It certainly has been a surprising spectacle and one which Her Majesty's government will no doubt study carefully before they allow it, with suitable variants, to be repeated here," he said.

Prime Minister Eden extended an invitation to Khrushchev and Bulganin at the summit conference in Geneva last July. No specific date has been set.

Churchill cautioned his audience that the behavior of the Soviet leaders "must not lead us to suppose that Russian power and capacity are not growing in many other directions."

In their swing across India and Burma, the Russian leaders have made numerous attacks on the British, who formerly ruled those two countries. On one occasion Khrushchev said the British sat "on the necks" of the Burmese before Burma got independence.

On another occasion he said:

"They (the British) made profits while you starved. As representatives of a European nation, we are ashamed about what those other Europeans did before."

Georgia Regent Upsets Governor

Angry Griffin Attacks Decision to Permit Tech Play in Sugar Bowl

ATLANTA (AP)—The governor of Georgia and the president of Georgia Tech were at odds today after a decision by Georgia's Board of Regents to permit Tech to play Pittsburgh in the Sugar Bowl.

Pitt has a Negro player on its squad.

* * *

The office of Gov. Marvin Griffin charged President Blake Van Leer of Tech failed to consult the governor before accepting the Sugar Bowl bid for Jan. 2.

Ben Wiggins, executive secretary to Griffin, also said the governor felt Van Leer failed "properly" to handle students who staged a riot early Saturday in protest against Griffin's request that Tech be pulled from the Sugar Bowl.

Van Leer replied that he had informed Griffin Nov. 26 that Tech intended to accept a Sugar Bowl invitation if it was offered. He declared the governor said that was "fine."

* * *

Concerning the student demonstration, Van Leer said: "I suppose I get paid for being the goat on things like that."

* * *

Santa and the Dumdiddy

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

AP Newsfeatures

SYNOPSIS: Two children, Beanie and Betsy, fuss all the time. Beanie hates Christmas because he doesn't like to give. Betsy makes a clay man as a gift for Santa. She calls it a Dumdiddy. Beanie makes fun of it. He decides to run away, because he thinks all the fights at home are blamed on him.

Chapter Two

RUNNING AWAY

Beanie was in a hurry to run away. But when he saw Betsy's clay man he threw himself on the floor and laughed until the tears rolled down his cheeks.

"Oh, you stupid!" he screamed at his sister. "Oh, you nut!"

His sister sat there holding the little figure she had made. For a long moment she stared at Beanie without saying a word. Then she opened her mouth and screamed.

"Moooother!"

As soon as she had screamed, she burst into tears.

The children's mother ran up the stairs. "Now what?" she cried. She was angry because, as usual, the children had been fighting all day long and the mother was very tired of it.

"I made this for Santa for Christmas," sobbed Betsy. She held up the clay man. "Beanie says it's a mess and I'm a nut!"

"It's a Dumdiddy."

"Whoever heard of a Dumdiddy?" roared Beanie. "There isn't even any such thing. And how can you give something to Santa Claus? Did you ever see him, huh? How can you be so dumb?"

* * *

His mother stamped her foot.

"Be quiet, Beanie. It's a darling thing no matter what you call it, Betsy, and you are a sweet child to make something for Santa.

"As for you, Beanie, I've had all I can take of your trouble making. There will be no dessert for you tonight."

"That does it!" shouted Beanie. "As usual I'm the one to get punished when I haven't done a thing—not a thing!" And it really seemed to him that he was a model of good behavior and that the whole world was against him.

He stamped down the stairs and put on his coat and mittens. His mother had been making a fruit cake for Christmas and the kitchen table was covered with good things to eat. Beanie filled his pockets with nuts and raisins and figs.

"They'll be sorry when I'm gone," he told himself furiously. "Oh, they'll be sorry!"

He was about to slam out the back door when he heard his mother and sister go up to the attic. He knew they were going to get out the Christmas tree decorations.

"Christmas, Christmas! That's all you hear around here!" thought Beanie. "And now it's presents for Santa Claus, no less. How silly can you get!"

Suddenly he shut the door and came back into the kitchen. He sneaked upstairs into his sister's room. There was the little clay figure sitting on Betsy's desk.

"Dumdiddy!" snorted Beanie.

* * *

He snatched up the figure and fled down the stairs and out of the house. "Boy, will she bowl now!" he thought happily. He slipped the Dumdiddy into his pocket and set out down the street.

Now Beanie lived in a very small town and when he ran away he ran so fast that in hardly any time he was out of the town and walking down a lonesome road.

He had no idea where the road led and didn't really care but he was lonesome. So he was glad when he saw a fat little man ahead of him.

Beanie ran after the man and called out, "Hey! My name is Beanie. May I walk with you"

The fat man had been scribbling in a notebook. He put the notebook away and said, "Why certainly. But where are you going?"

"Oh, I don't know," said Beanie as they walked along together. It really doesn't matter because you see I am running away."

"WHAT'S THE MATTER NOW?" — The children's mother heard Betsy's scream and ran up the stairs to see what was the trouble. She found Betsy sitting on the floor crying. Beanie was roaring with laughter.

"Goodness!" exclaimed the stranger. "What a time for a boy to run away—just before Christmas!"

"That's why I'm running away. I hate Christmas."

The fat man was so astonished he stopped still and his mouth fell open and his spectacles fell down his nose and his whiskers stood straight out from his face.

"Oh," he said. "Oh, oh, oh!"

And he stared at Beanie as if he could not, he simply could not, believe his ears.

Russian Violinist Slates Gotham Stint

NEW YORK (AP)—Russian violinist David Oistrakh will play a new Shostakovich concerto at three concerts over the New Year's weekend, the New York Philharmonic Symphony has announced.

The concerto, written especially for Oistrakh, has been performed only twice before, at two concerts in Leningrad.

A Philharmonic spokesman said Oistrakh had agreed to extend his current American tour in order to play the three concerts with the Philharmonic Dec. 29 and 30 and Jan. 1. The New Year's Day performance is to be broadcast by CBS radio during the Philharmonic's regular Sunday afternoon program.

President's Lucky Horseshoe to Stay at Fitzsimons

DENVER (INS)—A lucky horseshoe will be placed permanently over the bed occupied by President Eisenhower during his seven-week stay in Fitzsimons Army Hospital in Denver after suffering a heart attack Sept. 24.

* * *

Maj. Gen. Martin E. Griffin, Fitzsimons commander, said of the shoe which Eisenhower gave to the hospital:

"The President considered it to be lucky, and we hope some of the Eisenhower luck will be transferred to every patient who will occupy the bed he used.

"It will hang there for all time."

Fisher Body to Cite Employes for Service

Thirty-seven Pontiac employes of the Fisher Body Division will be honored by the company December 14 when they will be awarded engraved watches in recognition of their completion of 25 years of service.

The ceremony will be one of 19 which will be conducted in various cities throughout the U.S., according to Fisher spokesmen. A total of 606 employes will receive watches.

The veterans have between them spent 15,150 years in the firm's employ. Since the inception of the awards program in 1950, a total of 466 employes of the local plant have received recognition.

More Authorities to Discuss Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House Economic subcommittee called in more experts today to talk about tax policy.

Six experts on yesterday's panel agreed generally that they would not advocate insistence upon a balanced budget every year. A balance in the national economy is more important, they indicated.

* * *

Dexter Keezer, vice president and director of the Economics Department of the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. of New York, and Gerhard Colm, chief economist of the National Planning Assn., said that under present economic conditions they saw no need at this time for an over-all reduction in taxes next year.

Very Versatile Girl, 19, Given Movie Contract

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A 19-year-old girl who can fly a plane, assemble an automobile and has been a model is officially launched today on a contract movie career.

Janet Lake, as a minor, had a contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio approved in Superior Court yesterday. She starts at $200 a week and the contract has options over a seven-year period which would increase her salary to $1,000 a week.

British Press Hails Eden's Visit to Ike

LONDON (AP)—The British press today warmly welcomed the announcement of Prime Minister Eden's visit next month to President Eisenhower.

"It is good news because it shows the extent of the President's recovery," the Conservative Daily Mail wrote. "It is big news because it means the two chief partners of the Western alliance intend to reshape their policy to meet the new cold war."

* * *

The Times expressed the belief that "never was there a greater need for two heads of government to plan ahead."

"The military stalemate which has been painfully achieved between the two great camps marks only the end of a stage," the influential, independent Times said, "and a new stage requiring longer-term planning, no less effort and greater patience is opening."

'The Thing' Appears on California Beach

VENICE, Calif. (AP) — A marine "whatsit" washed ashore yesterday. It is 16 feet long, has a head resembling a snake's, a fin tail, and, when it was alive, perhaps a week ago, must have weighed about 800 pounds.

Old-time mariners and lifeguards say they think it is a sea serpent.

City Attorney to Report on Ousted Police Officer

City Attorney William A. Ewart will submit a progress report on the case of James L. Ockerman, once suspended Pontiac patrolman, at tonight's City Commission meeting.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland ruled Nov. 30 that Ockerman, suspended by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley Oct. 14, be reinstated to the force and given back pay until a decision in his case is reached by the City Commission.

Also scheduled on the 14-point agenda is a report from the city clerk of a petition of intention to circulate a referendum petition on the $600,000 municipal parking program ordinance that was adopted by the commission last month.

Earlier this month a group of residents and parking operators started circulating petitions in opposition to the proposed program because of its financial "magnitude."

City Manager Walter K. Willman is also slated to present a report on the appointment of Leon Hubbard to the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

The commissioners are scheduled to hear a request for a package beer and wine license from Frank H. Millard and Wilson J. Vallie at 62 Jackson St.

Attorney Edson Hallock is slated to present a communication to the lawmakers protesting the relocation of a jitney stand at Lawrence and Saginaw streets.

Public hearings are slated on intention to construct the following with confirmation on the projects to be deferred:

Special assessment roll for curb, gutter and drainage and related work on Pearsall, Franklin to Motor.

Special assessment roll for water main in South Boulevard from Bradford to Meadow; Tex avenue from South Boulevard to end of existing main, and Meadow avenue from South Boulevard to Michigan Airline Railroad.

For pavement and related work on alley north of Huron Street from Telegraph to Ogemaw.

For pavement and related work on East Boulevard from existing widened pavement north of Mt. Clemens to existing widened pavement south of North Perry.

North America Seeing 'Attack'

U.S., Canuck Air Units Rally Against 'Enemy' Craft to Test Defenses

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States and Canadian air units and volunteer civilian ground observers were rallying today to repel mock "enemy" planes probing for chinks in North America's air defense armor.

* * *

A surprise alert—dubbed Operation Crackerjack — sounded late yesterday. The drill was expected to continue three or four days.

Joining in the exercise were units of the U. S. Air Force, Reserve, National Guard, Navy and Marines, plus Canadian forces and some 400,000 members of the Ground Observer Corps.

The test was being run under a blanket of virtual secrecy, but fragmentary information indicated that interceptor jets on the East and West coasts scrambled skyward minutes after the mock attackers—planes of the U. S. Strategic Air Command — were detected heading their way.

Officers said the main purpose of the drill is to check on the effectiveness of radar tracking and interceptor defenses under winter conditions.

* * *

The Air Defense Command said there will be no disclosure of specific numbers of men and planes involved.

In New York, a spokesman for the Eastern Defense Command at Stewart Air Force Base said mythical enemy attackers swept "in force" from over the Atlantic. He said the first wave of "attackers" was met by personnel who normally man the all-weather jets based along the Eastern Seaboard.

In Washington state, an operations officer with the 25th Air Division at McChord Air Force Base said interceptors throughout the area were "real fast" in getting into the air.

From O'Hare Field near Chicago came word that the alert—which was sprung with only long-range and general advance warning—caught "virtually no pilots . . . unaware."

* * *

The volunteer ground watchers—whose job it is to scan the skies for planes that might get by the radar undetected—apparently were responding with varying degrees of effectiveness.

THE SUBMARINE NAUTILUS

Submarines are warships that travel under the water. They were first used with great success by the Germans during World War I. During World War II the Germans used them again. Also they helped the United States win the war in the Pacific. Unseen beneath the waves, they shoot torpedoes at other ships.

Now the eyes of the world are on a new kind of submarine — powered by atomic energy. Atomic power enables it to travel at high speed and for long distances without stopping. The first such ship is the U.S.S. Nautilus, named for a curious shell fish of great beauty, pictured at the upper right.

Predict Record Christmas Sales

U.S. in 'Buying Mood,' Prosperity High, Says Reserve Bank

A national "buying mood" is expected to send Christmas sales in 1955 soaring to record heights, according to officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

Consumers are better off financially than ever before and appear to be in a buying mood, according to the bank. In addition, three million more people are currently at work than were employed a year ago.

What's more, paychecks are fatter—reflecting widespread gains in wages rates in recent months. Also, substantial increases in overtime have helped boost take home pay. Average weekly earnings in manufacturing during October amounted to $78.69, up 9 per cent from a year ago. Total personal income has increased 7 per cent in the same period.

Retail sales all across the nation have been scoring strong gains over autumn 1954. Over-all retail volume in September and October, the bank says, topped a year ago by 10 per cent, reaching a 1955 seasonally adjusted peak.

Among the major Midwest centers, department store gains over a year ago in the four weeks ending November 12, ranged from 16 per cent in Detroit to 7 per cent in Milwaukee and Indianapolis.

UCLA Is Billed for Givina Blues to USC's Band

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The University of Southern California has sent a bill for $583 to its crosstown rival UCLA for damage caused when someone dumped blue paint on USC bandsmen during the schools' annual football game last month.

The paint was dumped from atop a Coliseum tunnel as the band passed below. Said UCLA Dean of Students Byron Atkinson yesterday:

"The only clue that UCLA had anything to do with the halftime prank is a Bruin rooters cap."

Grandma Bags Deer —First in 12 Years

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Mrs. Howard Calhoun, a 66-year-old grandmother from nearby Delmar told her son and son-in-law last night she might go deer hunting again "so I can shoot one for each of you and register them in your names."

Grandma Calhoun nailed an 8-point, 110 pound specimen at 50 yards yesterday.

Her son, Claude E. Calhoun, of Delmar, and her son-in-law, Charles E. Rounds, of Salisbury, still have their first deer to get this season.

Mrs. Calhoun has been hunting for about 12 years. She took it up, she said, on the recommendation of a doctor who prescribed hunting as a way of relaxing nervous tensions.

This was her first deer.

BY WAY OF EXPLANATION

These are the rhymes from forty years
Of service on a thousand fields.
Rhymes gathered in from fame and tears,
From broken dreams and roaring cheers,
From flaming swords and shattered shields.

These are the lines that come to one
From blood and roses—dreams and pain;
From hammered bodies in the sun
To winners storming wind and rain.
A medley from the bugle call
And moonlight on the garden wall.

These are the rhymes for friends I've known,
Through shine and shadow—up and down.
For those who knew time's gilded throne
To derelicts, from farm and town.
But where they move along Time's chart
The final port is still the heart.

The War on International Dope Peddlers

Red China—Source of Harmful Narcotics

(By the most conservative estimate dope is costing Americans something like 350 million dollars a year. But that does not include the deadly tally in shattered twisted lives, in crime associated with the craving for drugs. Here's the story behind plans for a congressional probe of the whole problem, first in a series of three stories.)

By ROGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agents were puzzled. They had reason to suspect that Pon Wai, smiling, 64-year-old operator of the Fragrant Flower Garden Shop in San Francisco's Chinatown, was peddling the white death called heroin.

But how?

* * *

Day after day, U. S. Treasury agents watched Pon Wai delicately moving among his flowers. Customers were few. None were known addicts. None was of a type to arouse suspicion.

SMILED BLANDLY

Pon Wai knew he was being watched. He nodded and smiled blandly at the agents as they passed his shop. Occasionally, in plain view of the T-men, he wrapped an expensive orchid corsage or a dozen roses and summoned a commercial messenger boy to deliver the package.

Agents stopped the messengers and searched them. Nothing. They examined the packages. Nothing.

One morning, as fog swirled through Chinatown, the agents again went through the routine of intercepting a messenger and examining the box of flowers.

RED CHINA SOURCE

Tiny flecks of white powder had spilled down the stem of one of the roses. Cunningly attached to the stem was a thin green capsule. The T-man wet his finger, touched it to the powder, tasted it and grimaced.

* * *

"Heroin—pure heroin. Let's go!"

Thus, through long surveillance, federal operatives found the evidence needed to arrest Pon Wai and eight confederates in a multi-million-dollar narcotics ring that had been smuggling heroin into the United States from Red China.

Locked in a constant battle of wits with international dope smugglers, agents of the Federal Narcotics Bureau and the U. S. Customs Service share the almost impossible task of trying to keep illicit drugs—opium, heroin, cocaine, morphine and marijuana—out of this country.

ZOMBIE-LIKE VICTIMS

Drug addiction is a blight that the government estimates costs 350 million dollars a year, while twisting and wrecking the lives of thousands of the victims it has "hooked."

Harry J. Anslinger, chief of the Federal Narcotics Bureau, calls the habit "murder on the installment plan." It ravages body and soul, reducing its victims to a zombie-like existence of living death. That's the human side.

* * *

Financially, it is a devastating drain on the nation's economy. Here's why: The narcotics bureau estimates that the country has 60,000 addicts—a figure that other sources say is far too low. Even using the government's figure, this still adds up to a whopping 330 million dollars a year just to buy drugs.

That's because federal authorities say it costs an addict $15 to $60 a day to satisfy his craving, or a minimum of around $5,500 a year. But this isn't the whole story.

SO HE STEALS

The average addict can't hold a job, particularly one that pays that kind of money. So he steals. And since a thief seldom gets more than a quarter of the value of stolen goods when he sells it, it means that the theft bill tops 1¼ billion dollars every year.

Profits of such immensity have a terrific attraction for mob overlords like Charles (Lucky) Luciano, who was deported several years ago, or the late Waxey Gordon, who exploited dope to build up criminal empires.

For dope is cheap—to start with. U. S. Customs Commissioner Ralph Kelly says an ounce of 100 per cent pure heroin, the most habit-forming of all drugs, can be purchased in Hong Kong for $60. One ounce contains 437½ grains. But by the time it reaches the addict, it may have been cut to 5 per cent purity, or one twentieth it's original strength. For one grain of this diluted heroin, the addict pays $1 in Washington, D.C. As Kelly says:

* * *

"That means the original ounce of heroin, costing $60 in Hong Kong, will be sold to addicts in Washington for $8,750—a tidy profit of 14,600 per cent."

POLICE FIGHTING

The vastly inflated price of dope is a tribute to the job the narcotics bureau, and police in big cities, are doing to hold down smuggling and peddling. But no authority has any illusions about enforcing an air-tight defense.

Officials say they sometimes lie awake nights thinking what might happen if international traffickers could find a major breach and exploit it long enough to flood the country with dope from Red China.

* * *

In pre-Communist days, China executed 1,000 dope peddlers a year in efforts to stamp out opium addiction. But only recently, Communist China offered to sell 500 tons — a million pounds — of heroin on the open market.

Anslinger says he is convinced th. Reds are trying to unload vast quantities of the poison in this country in return for American dollars needed to strengthen the wobbly Peiping regime.

Anslinger's agents concentrate on breaking up dope rings inside this country. The Customs Service has the responsibility of stopping smuggling, and it's an enormous task.

* * *

Federal agents not long ago broke up an international syndicate which induced innocent Americans to go abroad on expense-paid trips complete with automobiles provided by the mob. While the happy travelers roamed Europe, members of the gang slipped narcotics into secret panels in the automobiles, and others surreptitiously recovered the contraband when the travelers returned to this country.

* * *

Alarmed by the threat and scope of the illicit drug traffic, Congress will take a close look at the problem when legislators return to the capital in January. There is unanimous agreement that something must be done to stop the cancer from spreading, particularly among juveniles.

50,000 Rabbits Bombed

Majors Scuttle Minors' Request to Curb TV

CHICAGO (INS) — Baseball's major league owners, "blacked out" in their efforts to work out a suitable new formula on radio and television, may wind up their winter meetings a day early today with legislation on matters and problems of less importance.

Originally, the joint meeting was booked for Wednesday, but the magnates indicated they have just about concluded their necessary discussions and are ready to act on the measures.

This includes a vote on whether or not to retain the present controversial bonus rule, a number of resolutions, players' requests and legislation passed by a minor at their convention last week.

That the majors will "do nothing" on TV and once again turn down the minors-passed resolution calling for curbs on radio and television broadcasts into minor league territory was strongly indicated yesterday by Frick, himself.

The Commissioners said the justice department thwarted a bid by baseball to bring about a test case in the supreme court on broadcasting restrictions. Frick said the majors want a decision or "a set of ground rules."

"They (the justice department) tell you what you can't do, but they won't tell you what you can do," the commissioner complained.

Among the TV items up for discussion before the owners was the proposal of Brooklyn Dodger president Walter O'Malley for pay-as-you-see television. This is one of those legal "hot potatoes" the owners have been trying to avoid.

A survey released by Frick last night showed that approximately 40 per cent of the fans questioned wouldn't mind a reasonable charge for watching baseball on TV.

Present bonus rule—which requires a club to keep bonus players on its roster for two years—is likely to stand. The minors turned down three proposals to change the rule.

Apparently headed for defeat are proposals for "free trade" days in July and August and one which would permit the scheduling of exhibition games the day before and the day after the all-star game.

Top player demand—raising the minimum wage from $6,000 to $7,200—isn't figured to be okayed and the players are also expected to be turned down in their request for the lifting of all restrictions on winter league ball.

Hank Greenberg's proposal for inter-league games which would count in the standings and the minors-adopted measure which would make it necessary to count returning service men on the roster after 30 days, also appeared to have no chance of approval.

There was general agreement on one matter, though. At their session yesterday, American League owners discussed ways and means of speeding up games next season. Owners went over a report which showed that games last season averaged two hours and 31 minutes, three more minutes than in 1954.

Most important of all appointments and elections made by the leagues yesterday was the elevation of Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox to the post of American League vice president, succeeding the late Clark Griffith.

Jewelers, Coachers Win City Basketball Openers

Shaw's Jewelers rolled to an easy victory and General Motors' quintet was forced to come from behind for a narrow triumph as Class A city basketball action got under way Monday night at the Pontiac High School gymnasium.

Shaw's boasted three performers in double-figured scoring in last night's 1955-56 season-opener. Bob McManus hung up 19 points, Ken Titherage tallied 18, and Tom Spencer posted 17 to lead the jewelers to a one-sided 78-56 victory over Sun Life.

The winners jumped off to a commanding 28-9 1st-quarter advantage and coasted the rest of the way. The losers' Mel Taylor took scoring honors for the contest with 21 points and teammate Hal Trotts contributed 19.

GMC was down, 15-9, at the close of the 1st period, and was able to whittle only one point off the deficit, 30-25, at halftime. But the Coachers outpointed Keego 15-8 and 12-11, in the last two quarters to gain the verdict.

Ron Woodhull placed GMC with 16 points and teammate Jim Wagner added 13. Bob Hobson and Mike Hanes led the Merchants with 15 and 14 points respectively.

National loop Class B cage play begins tonight at Jefferson Junior High. Phil's Inn faces the Trojans in the opener at 7 o'clock and Louie's Tavern meets the Independents at 8:30.

608 Hear Irish Mentor at All-County Banquet

By H. GUY MOATS

Highlighting the 1st annual Oakland County all-county prep football team party last night in the big new Elks Lodge banquet room, handsome, witty Notre Dame head coach Terry Brennan "blueprinted" what he said was "the making of a college football player."

The easy-speaking Brennan listed four prime requirements that go toward making a college gridder. He listed them in this order: Intelligence, a desire to play the game—a desire to win, temperament and ability.

A total of 608 persons attended the function, at which some 22 fine young gridiron performers from Oakland County teams were honored. Each received a trophy. The list was announced last week.

Another bit of prime news in connection with the all-county selections, was the announcement that Carl Lemle, Birmingham's head mentor, had been voted "Oakland County Coach of the Year." Lemel's team went right down to the final game without a loss, then bowing to Royal Oak in the annual Thanksgiving clash, 27-20.

Tom Gillotte was a happy selection as master of ceremonies. Others taking part included Rev. Fred Tiffany, Organist Bill Terry, Civitan Club prexy Ted Wiersema, Larry Payne, WPON manager, Rev. Maurice Veryser of St. Vincent de Paul Church, and Gib Shanley, WPON, who made the awards. Max Selle, ex-PHS athlete, was general chairman.

The former Notre Dame star who in 1947, against Army, ran the opening kickoff back 97 yards for a TD, has been the Irish head coach for two years.

He mentioned this year's mark (8-2) as being "not so good as records go."

And he mentioned team spirit as being perhaps the best description of what his squad possessed. "We didn't have too many players," he pointed out. And he added that "we pushed the scales down a bit, I guess, to make our average around 200 pounds." He said the 1955 eleven was the smallest in 15 years for the Irish.

Terry also said "We beat some teams we had no right to beat," but didn't name them.

BLARNEY!—Witty, and serious, Terry Brennan (above), Notre Dame football coach, displayed the blarney attached to all good Irishmen, when he spoke before the All-County prep football banquet at Elks Lodge No. 810, last night. His talk was one highlight of an affair attended by some 608 persons.

Ellis Kinder, Vows His Best for St. Louis

Ex-Red Sox Hurler Tells Cards He Will Fulfill Obligation

NEEDHAM, Mass. (AP)—Ellis Kinder, the 41-year-old relief pitcher purchased by St. Louis from the Boston Red Sox, today vowed to do "my best for the Cardinals."

"I wish Mike Higgins (Sox manager) all the success in the world," Kinder said. "Next to Joe McCarthy, he's the best manager I played for in all my years of baseball."

The ageless fireman who owns up to 41 years added:

"I've fulfilled my obligations to the Red Sox and you can be sure I'll be doing my best for the Cardinals".

Kinder became an institution in Boston's Fenway Park after coming from the old St. Louis Browns in 1948. As a starter, he won 23 games and lost six in 1949. In 1953, converted to the bullpen, he set an American League record of 69 relief appearances.

State Can Fill Only Two-Third Ticket Request

Biggie Munn Announces Demand 8,000 Over the Rose Bowl Allotment

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University said today it can supply only about two-thirds of the demand for Rose Bowl tickets.

Biggie Munn, athletic director, said applications for more than 23,000 tickets had been received as of the deadline last Friday. Only about 15,000 tickets are available.

Munn gave this summary of the ticket situation: MSU was allocated 16,783 tickets. Of this number, 1,500 went to the nine other conference schools. That left 15,283 tickets for State's own use. Of these, 4,452 went to students, leaving 10,831 tickets to fill the demands of the general public for more than 18,000.

This means, Munn says, that applications for some 7,500 tickets will have to be denied.

"We regret deeply that we can't take care of everyone," Munn said. "The method of allocating tickets is as fair a one as we could devise."

Munn said a lottery system will be used to fill the requests of the general public. Applicants are limited to two tickets apiece.

Nashua Elected Three-Year-Old Champion Horse

Thoroughbred Racing Board Picks Colt by Overwhelming Margin

MIAMI (AP) — Not that it was any great surprise, but mighty Nashua was chosen 3-year-old champion race horse today by the Thoroughbred Racing Assn.'s board of selectors with an overwhelming vote.

The big bay colt from the Belair Stud of the late William Woodward Jr., who lost the Kentucky Derby in an upset to California's Swaps, but turned the tables later in their great match race, received 37 of a possible 40 first-place ballots. Swaps, owned by Rex Ellsworth, got the other three.

Nashua was not only the horse who came back to avenge defeat, but was the turf's No. 1 television hero. The strapping son of Nasrullah climaxed his great season at Washington Park in Chicago Aug. 31 when with Eddie Arcaro up, he defeated Swaps by 6½ lengths in their memorable $100,000 winner-take-all match race.

* * *

No horse in history won seven $100,000 races during a single year, and Nashua banked $752,550 in 1955 making him the biggest one season money winner in history. Citation held the old record, $709,470 in 1948. Nashua, who earned $192,865 as a 2-year-old, thus shot his total to $945,415, giving him second place among the world's greatest money winners. Citation leads with $1,085,760.

Nashua was a repeater on the TRA list of titleholders, having been voted 2-year-old champ a year ago.

Chandnois in Hospital

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Lynn Chandnois, former Michigan State football great, was scheduled to undergo surgery today for a torn knee cartilage at Mercy Hospital.

Robinson Sees Olson Hurt by Domestic Woes

Expects Psychological Advantage in Title Bout Friday

CHICAGO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, the 35-year-old challenger, may be the underdog, but he has some psychological advantage in his middleweight title bout with champion Carl (Bobo) Olson Friday night.

Youth prevails for Olson, who has an eight-year age edge at 27, a factor making him a 3-1 favorite.

Olson has been training for his fourth title defense with his wife seeking a divorce, certainly a disturbing circumstance although the stoical Bobo doesn't know it. Robinson is here with his wife and 6-year-old son.

Furthermore, Olson still has to convince a lot of expxerts that Archie Moore didn't hurt more than his jaw with a third-round knockout in Olson's abortive attempt to capture the 175-pound crown.

Olson has had two 10-round victories over a pair of journeymen pros, Jimmy Martinez and Joey Giambra, since that blasting by Moore. Bobo looked anything but impressive against Giambra, taking a close decision.

Olson's loss to Moore at New York last June 22 was only the second time in his career he has been knocked out. The other time was by Sugar Ray, who halted Bobo in the 12th round of their first meeting at Philadelphia Oct. 26, 1950.

Trade Winds in Majors Blowing Hot With Deals

CHICAGO (AP)—Trade winds blew hot at the opening of major league baseball meetings Monday with at least five clubs bartering over the services of some 25 players.

No deals were made but possibilities were strong that once one deal was consummated, others would follow.

* * *

The Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles were "close" to a deal which, if made, would also involve the Cleveland Indians.

The main target of the White Sox was pitching and such names as Jim Wilson, Baltimore pitcher, and Art Houtteman, Cleveland righthander, were tossed around.

* * *

* * *

Cleveland was rumored to be interested in first baseman Dropo and outfielder Nieman to supplant power they sacrificed when they swapped outfielder Larry Doby for shortstop Chico Carrasquel.

One White Sox official said their proposition to Baltimore was favorable but Paul Richards of the Orioles wanted to sleep on it.

Talks on a possible 15-man deal between New York and Washington were rescheduled for today. However, none of the Yankee regulars are involved.

Still another possible trade was reported by Detroit Manager Bucky Harris. Harris said "I think we'll make one tomorrow. No big names, but it'll enable us to plug a few holes."

* * *

By BILL CORNWELL

St. Frederick's basketball forces swing into action Wednesday night, opening their 1955-56 campaign with a Suburban Catholic League contest at Center Line against St. Clement.

Tomorrow night's game was originally scheduled this Friday, but was changed because St. Clement's gymnasium would be unavailable at that time.

Coach Gene Wright, serving his 1st year as mentor of Ram athletic teams, has only three lettermen returning to the St. Frederick camp, two of them regulars last season.

The returning starters are forwards Dick Doyon and John Bradley while the 3rd letter winner is guard Larry Morrow. The only other cager on hand with any experience is guard Martin Koenig, who won a Junior Varsity letter last year.

Others slated for varsity action are Bob Ashby, Mike Carry, Mike Malloy, Ed Kast, Dave Jones, and Wally Quarles. Glenn Palmer and Dick Kast, transfer students, will not be eligible for duty until the 2nd semester.

Drayton Hunter Final Hopeful in Deer Contest

A Drayton Plains man holds the distinction of being the last hunter to enter a buck in The Pontiac Press' annual deer contest. The 1955 "derby" closed Saturday at 12 noon with a total of 27 entries.

Alexander Warnock, 2621 Lansdowne, registered the final entrant Friday afternoon. Warnock's buck, a "rack" entry, bore eight points and weighed 190 pounds.

Hunting in a party of six, Warnock bagged the deer on Thanksgiving Day at McMillen near Newberry in the Upper Peninsula. He used a .32 Winchester Special.

Competition wound up with 22 entries in the "rack" division, four "head" hopefuls, and a single "weight" contestant. Winners will be announced shortly.

Mueller Beats Drake Handily

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter Mueller may not win any titles in this country but the veteran German middleweight is on his way to earning another load of greenbacks.

The ring-scarred, 28-year-old Teuton opened his second tour of the United States Monday night with a decisive victory over Ray Drake of New York at St. Nicholas Arena and clinched a money match for Milwaukee, Dec. 29.

Mueller, a big card in the Wisconsin city populated by many people of German descent, will meet hard-hitting Vince Martinez, Paterson, N.J., welterweight contender in a 10-rounder.

By staying on top of Drake, the Cologne Clown gave Drake no punching room for his powerful left hooks. It also enabled the short, stocky invader to give the 25-year-old Drake a good, going over with a chopping right to the head.

San Francisco Takes Early Lead in First Basketball Poll of Season; Kentucky Next

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Free-wheeling San Francisco, bidding for a second-straight NCAA basketball championship after soaring out of virtual obscurity a year ago, gained an overwhelming vote of confidence today from the nation's sports writers and broadcasters who voted the Dons the No. 1 club in The Associated Press "preseason" poll.

* * *

While many of the nation's major colleges opened their 1955-56 seasons last weekend, this is the first full week of the schedule and the Dons, already have won two to stretch their winning streak to 28 games, are off and flying.

* * *

San Francisco picked up 63 first-place votes from the 110 ballots, gaining almost a 200-point edge over second place Kentucky and virtually doubling the point total of third-place North Carolina State. Only Wisconsin Wins as Big 10 Cage Teams Fall

CHICAGO (AP) — Wisconsin's previously beaten Badgers, vowing to gain stature in the Big Ten basketball race this year, won their first game of the season last night by beating Notre Dame, 70-66, but two other conference teams were defeated.

Northwestern suffered its second straight loss, bowing before Kansas, 91-70, and Ohio State was beaten by Vanderbilt, 76-67, despite a 40-point spree by All-America Robin Freeman.

Center Lloyd Aubrey tossed in 35 points for Notre Dame and tied the Irish individual scoring mark but couldn't offset the scoring power presented by Wisconsin's Dick Miller, John Parker and Curt Mueller.

Miller had 25 points, Parker 15 and Mueler 10.

Freeman scored more points than the rest of his teammates but was no match for the Vanderbilt squad which had four men count in double figures.

It was Ohio State's first loss of the year after an opening victory over Butler.

Northwestern took an early lead over Kansas and battled the Jayhawkers point-for-point until Kansas took a 44-32 halftime lead. Dick Mast again led Northwestern with 20 points while Glen Lose counted 18.

The two losses and one victory gave the Big Ten a 6-5 advantage over non-conference foes in early season play.

Illinois is expected to improve on the mark when it opens its practice season against Butler tonight at Champaign. The Illini, along with Iowa, are ranked top contenders for the Western Conference title.

Rolladium Lists Contest Winners

Fall skating contests at Rolladium are rolling right along. During the last few days Suzanne Danner and John Matejic won the 3rd dance in a series of open events. First period finals take place next Saturday.

Other winners included:

Cecelia Darimont and Gerry Hamlin in "The Southland Swing," 4th dance in a closed series event. Both are from Rolladium. Fifth eliminations of the 1st period race were won by: Class A, Andy Marchewska and Sharon Hills; Class B, Skipper Darimont and Judy Capel; Class C, Roger Jackson and Sugar Kidd. "Diaper" event went to Fabyn White.

Checkup for Layne

DETROIT (AP)—Quarterback Bobby Layne underwent a checkup at a hospital Monday to determine the extent of a shoulder injury suffered in the Detroit Lions pro football game with the Bears in Chicago Sunday. Layne reinjured a shoulder that has bothered him all year.

Beliveau Still Ahead in NHL

MONTREAL (AP)—Jean Beliveau continued to head the National Hockey League scoring parade today, but even a mild slump by the graceful center of the Montreal Canadiens could drop him as far down as seventh place.

This is the way the race shapes up: Beliveau has 16 goals—most in the league—and 13 assists for 29 points. Ted Lindsay of Detroit is down in the No. 7 slot with 23.

* * *

In between there's Gordie Howe of the Red Wings with 27 points, Bert Olmstead of Montreal with 26 and Andy Bathgate and Dave Creighton of the New York Rangers and Maurice Richard of the Canadiens with 25 each. Olmstead leads in assists with 21.

Lindsay remains the loop's badman with 89 minutes in the penalty coop. Jacques Plante, agile goalie for the pace-setting Canadiens, has allowed an average of only 1.81 goals a game for the best mark in that department.

Birmingham at Royal Oak

Prep Action Tonight Abbreviated as Cagers Warmup for League Play

This is the calm befope the storm for many area basketball teams. Tonight's abbreviated schedule, listing a few more season openers, has a majority of teams getting ready for league action which gets under way Friday.

Coach Ed Campbell begins his first season as cage mentor at Royal Oak, taking over a team which had a non-impressive 6-10 mark last year.

Six letter winners return to the fold for the Acorns, but only one, senior captain Bill Braeuninger, was a regular last season. The other experienced hands are Art Bromley, Jim Eilertson, Gene Filippis, and football star Darrell Harper. Guard Dave Richey, a promising newcomer, may win a starting assignment.

A game of interest is at Clarkston where coach Don Beedle's Waterford quintet will go after victory number two. The Skippers edged Milford 52-51 in the opener while the Wolves were upended by Ortonville 45-43.

Clarkston will have to stop 6-4 Chuck Gillis who pushed through 18 points from the pivot spot against Milford.

Capac will be in the underdog's role at Imlay City, and Lapeer will lift the lid as hosts to Flint Beecher. Under coach Burt Jackson, Lapeer has a strong nucleous of seven lettermen returning including center Tom Wilson and guard Roger Flanigan the team's high scorers.

Called the Greatest Baseball Officials at Meetings Laud Honus

CHICAGO (AP)—Baseball officials at the major league meetings unanimously echoed "he was the greatest" when informed of Honus Wagner's death early today.

Wagner, generally regarded as one of baseball's greatest shortstops, died at his Carnegie, Pa., home today. He was 81.

Will Harridge, president of the American League, said:

"Wagner was one of baseball's great figures for more than half a century. He was a credit to the game and made friends for baseball everywhere he went."

John Quinn, general manager of Milwaukee, had never seen the Pittsburgh star perform, but his father had. Said Quinn:

"I've heard my dad (the late Bob Quinn) say in his lifetime he never saw anyone better as an all time shortstop."

Chuck Comiskey, vice president of the Chicago White Sox.

"The Sox deeply regret the passing of Honus Wagner, one of baseball's all-time stars. We know his contribution to the game will be perpetuated by baseball players and fans."

Bill DeWitt, assistant general manager of the New York Yankees:

Frank Lane, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals:

Baylor Names Boyd to Post

Succeeds Sauer as Football Coach of Alma Mater

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Sam Boyd, who said "I'm the luckiest son-of-a-gun that ever lived to get this job," took over as head football coach of Baylor University, his alma mater, today.

* * *

He succeeded George Sauer, who retired from coaching but will continue as athletic director. Boyd was given a three-year contract at an undisclosed salary.

In a move so sudden it left Boyd virtually speechless except to say that he would take the job, the athletic committee of the university yesterday voted unanimously to elevate Boyd from end coach to head coach and to meet Sauer's request that he be relieved of part of his dual job as coach and athletic director.

* * *

Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor, said Sauer made the request prior to the football game with Southern Methodist Nov. 19. But it had been a well-guarded secret.

Hartack Jolted With Suspension

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The glitter was gone from Tropical Park today as Willie Hartack began an enforced vacation that may last into the new year.

The performance sent Hartack's total winners for the year to 404 and made him the second rider in American turf history to crack the 400 mark. Willie Shoemaker did it in 1953 with 495.

Tropical Park stewards jolted Hartack with a 10-day suspension, effective today, for allowing his mount to drift wide during the sixth race Friday. The young rider—he will be 23 Friday—said it is uncertain when he will return to the saddle.

'Mr. Shortstop' Passes Away

PITTSBURGH (AP) — John Honus Wagner, 81, all-time great shortstop who became a legend in his lifetime, died in his sleep today.

Members of the family were at the bedside when he passed away at his suburban Carnegie home, only a few miles from Forbes Field, where he achieved lasting fame with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"He just slept away," a member of the family said.

Wagner had been in poor health several years. Two months ago he slipped and fell in his home. He had been bedfast since and went into a coma about 10 days ago. The family said his death was the result of complications from the infirmities of old age.

Wagner, sometimes called the greatest player in baseball history, was a bandy-legged barrel-chested Dutchman. He finished a 21-year major league career in 1917 with a lifetime batting average of .329. His final public appearance was last April 30 at Schenley Park, outside Forbes Field, for the unveiling of a bronze statue in his memory. All he could say, as he wiped a tear from his cheek, was:

"How about that!"

* * *

That was a typical remark. Honus would brush aside praise for his records. And those records are legendary. They go like this:

He played more games than any other major leaguer in history — 2,785. He had the most times at bat — 10,427. He made the most total hits — 3,430. He made the most one-base hits — 2,431, the most doubles — 648, the most triples — 250. He batted .300 or better for 17 consecutive years and led the National League in hitting for eight years.

* * *

He stole six bases in a World Series — another record.

He was a coal miner at 12 and later he joined an older brother in the barbering business.

He began his baseball career when another brother, Al Wagner, got him an offer of $35 monthly to play for a Steubenville, Ohio, ball club.

* * *

Wagner's agility in the field and sharp batting eye soon became known throughout the baseball world. He was with a Paterson, N.J., club in 1897 when Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Louisville (Ky.) Colonels purchased his contract for $2,200. Three years later Dreyfuss moved his National franchise to Pittsburgh and Wagner went with him.

After his retirement as a player, Wagner operated a sporting goods store in Pittsburgh for several years. In the '30s he returned to the Pirates as a coach and served until the club put him on pension in the winter of 1951.

WAITING HIS TURN — Honus Wagner, famed baseball shortstop who died early today, is shown on a practice field prior to the 1914 season as he waited a turn at bat.

The team was selected by a panel of 22 high school writers from 19 newspapers who used more than 200 ballots from the state's coaches as a guide.

Rose Bowl Bid Has $700 Bill

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — It cost Michigan State University $700 when students stampeded after the MSU-Marquette football game two weeks ago and clebrated their second Rose Bowl bid.

MSU officials said this was the bill for eplacing goal posts and yard line markers ripped out by more than 1,000 jubilant students. No other damage was reported.

Kohler Labor Dispute Case Reports Progress

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP)—Progress is reported in informal efforts to speed up National Labor Relations Board hearings on charges that the Kohler Co. engaged in unfair labor practices.

The hearing, which has piled up 80 days of proceedings, closed last Friday for the weekend. It was scheduled to reopen today.

The charges against the firm were filed by the NLRB counsel upon the complaint of Local 833, which has been on strike against the plumbingware firm since April 5, 1954.

Hollywood Headlines:

Coca Is Doing Just Fine Since Splitting With NBC

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Have you ever done something in your life for which you can give no good reason?"

This was Imogene Coca's comment on the fact that she gave up a TV contract which would have guaranteed her $100,000 annually for the next nine years.

* * *

It happened a couple of months ago, and the wispy Imogene is still not quite sure why she did it.

"Everything in my life has been calculated," she observed. "This is the one thing I did that was not reasoned out.

"But I think it must have been right or somebody would have protested. I told my lawyer and my agents my decision and all they said was, 'Shouldn't you think it over?' I told them I had thought it over and I wanted out.

"Then they told NBC and the network people said, 'Shouldn't she think it over?' They said I had thought it over, and that was all there was. The contract was dissolved."

She has had no regrets. Her earning power will no doubt exceed what NBC would have paid her. She has returned to night clubs, having played the Sahara in Las Vegas and now appearing at the Beverly Hilton. In February she'll do a satire on TV in a spectacular for her old Show of Shows boss Max Liebman. She's being sought for her dramatic debut on TV by the Steel Hour and Producer's Showcase.

So don't fret about our Imo; she's doing fine.

That wasn't true of her last adventure in TV. When she, Liebman and Sid Caesar split up their Saturday night show, she went to a half-hour format. It died.

"The show didn't work out," Imogene admitted. "There are good reasons why it didn't. In many respects, a 90-minute show is easier than a half-hour one. On Show of Shows, I would be on five times, doing a different thing each time. If people didn't like a domestic comedy, perhaps they'd like the next thing I did. There was more to choose from.

"But it's almost impossible to fit a revue-type performer into a 22-minute show. You don't have time to work up to anything or to give a variety of performances."

Audience Awards to Be Given Tonight

Ballot boxes were placed in theater lobbies throughout the country from Nov. 17 to 27 for the fans to vote their choices for best actor and actress, most promising new male and female performers and the best picture released between Oct. 1954, and Oct. 1955.

Statuettes will be presented to the winners by such film luminaries as Grace Kelly, Alec Guiness, William Holden, Bette Davis and Walt Disney. George Murphy will be the master of ceremonies at the affair at the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

On Casualty List

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Add to TV's growing casualty list: broken kneecap for Patricia Bright, comedie on CBS' It's Always Jan. She broke it in a fall on a wet sidewalk. The show's producers say she can do her role sitting down the next four to six weeks.

492 Foot Dam Begins Operation in Japan

SAKUMA VILLAGE, Japan (AP)—The 492-foot-high Sakuma Dam—ranking among the 10 biggest in the world—started taking water from the Tenryu River into its 320-million-ton capacity reservoir.

The dam was constructed largely with the American machinery which built the Pine Flat Dam in California.

The construction — often called Japan's TVA project—required 20 billion yen (55 million dollars) and three million Japanese man days of work in 31 months. Eighty-five Japanese workers were killed during construction.

GIs to Glimpse at Shrouded Life of Japan's Royalty

TOKYO (INS) — Two members of Japan's family will make an unprecedented move this week by lifting the "Chrysanthemum Curtain" to depict for Americans the day-to-day life of the Japanese imperial household.

Princess Teru, eldest daughter of Emperor Hirohito, and her husband Prince Higashikuni, will appear at a U. S. officers' open mess in Tokyo Wednesday evening to explain ancient traditions of the royal family — hitherto unknown even to most Japanese.

The Japanese people had been taught that the Imperial Family directly descended from the sun goddess Amaterasu, dating back a little over 2,600 years.

Until V-J day severe punishment or even death was the penalty for anyone daring to cast eyes on the "divine" emperor or members of his family. Hirohito, however, denied his "divinity" in 1946 under the American occupation.

The Far East Command, sponsor of Wednesday's event, said the royal couple will wear Japanese court kimonos depicting various events and customs of the Imperial Family through the ages.

SOCKO STYLE — Something special for the teen-aged set is this new heavy-knit bobby sock with a pocket on each cuff. Combs, keys, change and lipstick can be kept in them. Cotton sock has a thick-ribbed top that can be rolled either to expose the pocket or cover it.

Comedian Keaton in Critical Condition

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Buster Keaton, 60, the comedian with the deadpan expression, lay in critical condition today in a veterans' hospital, suffering from a gastro-intestinal ailment.

He has been hospitalized since last Saturday. A hospital official said a hemorrhage had been stopped but Keaton has been in a coma part of the time.

Born in Piqua, Kan., the comedian went into vaudeville and came to Hollywood in 1917, rising to stardom in the silent movies. In recent years he has been a guest star on many television shows.

Kalamazoo Tells Honest Citizen His Debt Is Paid

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The Kalamazoo City Commission voted last night to "notify this citizen that his debt is paid in full."

"This citizen" is 9-year-old Patrick McKerring, and the action followed reading of his letter to the Commission. It said:

"I broke a window in the Potter Street voting place with a snowball. I am sorry. I was aiming at the sign. I will gladly pay for it if you will tell me how much I owe or call my mother."

Below the letter, Patrick had scrawled a layout showing the sign, the window, his position, how he aimed and how he missed.

Whistling Swans Get Off Course, Visit California

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—A flock of whistling swans, blown off course en route to the South Atlantic for the winter, landed for a rest and food on Lake Sherwood in the Santa Monica Mountains.

* * *

Once seen over most of North America, the big swans now breed chiefly in northwest Canada and Alaska. They migrate to the Southern coastal states in winter. Their route ordinarily is far north of here.

* * *

Negroes Enforce Boycott in South

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A boycott which cut Negro patronage of city buses by about 85 per cent yesterday was in force again today and showed signs of continuing even longer.

* * *

Police investigated a report by Manager J. H. Bagley of the Montgomery city bus lines that a small-caliber rifle bullet struck the rear of a bus last night in a Negro district.

A hymn-singing Negro throng estimated by police at 5,000 shouted approval last night when spokesmen urged them to continue the boycott in protest to segregated transportation facilities.

* * *

The issue was brought to a head by the arrest Thursday of Mrs. Rosa Parks, 42, who refused to move to the rear of a bus. She was fined $14 yesterday for violating a state law requiring Negroes to sit in the rear of buses. Later she was released in $100 bond after announcing she would appeal the fine.

Dies as Train Hits Car

MONROE (AP)—Carl F. Straubel, 72, of Carleton, was killed last night in the collision of his automobile and a train at a Chesapeake & Ohio crossing a mile and a half north of Monroe. The car was knocked 150 feet against a signal post and toppled into a ditch. Straubel was alone.

Area Employment High, James H. Dudley Reports

Pontiac area employment reached a new high in mid-November according to James H. Dudley, branch manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

From mid-October to mid-November, employment incrased by 1800 with the major gain, 1600, occurring in the motor vehicle plants, Dudley said.

Because of the increase in the labor demand, the Pontiac office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission placed 655 workers in jobs. This was the highest number of placements since 1945.

The MESC also revealed that non-farm employment of 82,400 is 600 more than the previous high set in July, 1953.

Compared with July, 1953, statistics show that manufacturing employment is 1400 less but non-manufacturing employment is increased by 2000.

Unemployment at mid-November was estimated at 2000 compared with 2500 in October, 2700 in September and 3200 a year ago.

New Homeowners Should Plan Extra Bath

CHICAGO (INS)—Newly married couples planning to build their own home should include provisions for a second bathroom. So says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

"When young homeowners build a new home and leave the second floor unfinished for future improvement," the bureau says, "the original plans should always include the installation or properly located fixture outlets or branches for the drainage and the water supply for a future bathroom."

Grains Advance in Slower Mart

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains advanced on the Board of Trade again today but activity fell off considerably from the previous session. It appeared buyers were a little more reluctant to reach for cereals.

At the start the best upturn was scored in new crop wheat futures, which had lagged in yesterday's market. There were no reports of moisture in most of the Southwest overnight and the five-day forecast was for only negligible amounts.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅜ to 1 cent higher.

Stocks Maintain Sales Balance

Gains extended to between 1 and 2 points while the great majority of losses were fractional. There was an almost even balance numerically.

The steels, motors and oils were higher while aircrafts were mixed and railroads were fairly steady. Chemicals were unchanged to higher.

Kaiser Aluminum, yesterday's second most active issue up 1⅝, added a tiny fraction today.

McCarthy Foe Says Reds Thought He Was 'Exiled'

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Leroy Gore, former weekly newspaper publisher and long-time foe of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), says his unsuccessful attempts to visit Russia during a European trip were frustrating—"but they had their lighter moments."

* * *

"Many of the Russians I met felt sorry for me," he said in a telephone interview yesterday from his home in Sauk City, Wis.

"They thought that Joe McCarthy had me exiled from the United States, and I couldn't go back."

Gore founded the "Joe Must Go Club" in Wisconsin which in 1954 campaigned to force a recall election of Wisconsin's junior Republican senator. The recall campaign failed to gain the required number of signatures on petitions.

Gore said he decided on trying to visit Russia while touring the Midwest with the Soviet farm delegation this summer. He applied for a visa July 28.

* * *

"I had a little passport trouble," he said. "The State Department didn't want to give me one until I had my visa. But Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) straightened that out."

Gore, a Republican who says he's now thinking about running for Congress himself but won't decide for a month or so, said officials at the Soviet Embassy in Washington suggested he pick up his visa in Europe to save time.

* * *

"It wasn't at Amsterdam," he said, "so I went on to Copenhagen. I waited there a month and American consular officials broke some sort of precedent by sending a bluntly worded query to Moscow asking for information on my visa. The Russians didn't give me any reasons. They just didn't say anything."

"All the Russians I met, 50 or so, seemed very disappointed that I couldn't get to visit their country. But apparently it was one of those cases where I learned more about the country from not being able to visit it than I would have on a tour."

* * *

Gore said he gained the impression that the Soviet hierarchy is made up of "queer, very frightened people."

"It seems to me obvious that they are afraid of getting too many Americans in their country, talking to their people."

What about the Soviet opinion of Sen. McCarthy, as told to a widely known anti-McCarthy newsmen?

"They looked at me and smiled kind of shyly," Gore said, "and told me that they couldn't really hate a man who's spent so much time telling the world how big and strong and smart they are."

Paving to Continue if Weather Permits

Weather permitting, work will be resumed this week on the paving of Kennett Road, Wilson Avenue and Portland and Paddock Streets, City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn reported.

Paving has been delayed for about two weeks due to poor weather conditions, he said.

"It should be up to 40 degrees for the most suitable temperature but if you cover, heat the material and add a two percent chloride solution the work can be done with the temperature around 30 degrees," Wrenn declared.

Another delay has been the necessary wait of 14 days between completing one side of the street and beginning on the other, he said.

Trend Offers Answer to Backers of Pay-See Video Shows

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The trend of television programing in 1956 now appears fairly well defined. It will be a year when the program of 90 minutes and longer is commonplace.

* * *

This, it seems to me, is a healthy development for both the industry and the viewing public. As far as the industry is concerned big programs—in concept as well as length—are a strong answer to the proponents of pay-see TV. A public that already has a variety of feature-length entertainment on its TV screens is not likely to enjoy the prospect of paying to see unknown quality feature-length entertainment on the same set.

Some observers believe that the network's bitter opposition to pay-see TV has inspired the trend to bigger programs. The motive is unimportant. What matters is that the public is benefiting with a variety of more imaginative programs than it saw a year and more ago.

* * *

Within the 90-minute format television has demonstrated it can hold both the lazy or I-only-want-to-be-amused audience and the alert or let-me-think-about-this audience. It's demonstrating its holding power weekly with a variety of 90-minute programs that would have been amazing a few years ago.

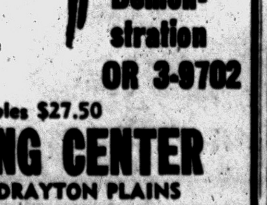

Ford Star Jubilee (CBS-TV), in presenting Noel Coward and Mary Martin as the only performers in a 90-minute period, uncovered a huge audience eager to be amused. Edward R. Murrow's See It Now pulls a big audience that wants to think about it. NBC-TV holds these diverse audiences in equally diverse 90-minute formats.

* * *

Now Robert E. Kintner, president of ABC, has placed his network on record as following the trend begun by NBC and CBS. "It is my guess," he says, "that next season will see many one-and-a-half and two-hour programs in the daytime and nighttime on a regular basis . . . There is nothing sacred about the half-hour and hour timing of programing."

* * *

Great length or size is not necessarily a virtue in any branch of the arts or entertainment. But greater time means greater freedom for experimentation to many of television's first-rate artists. The fact the viewing public has clearly demonstrated it likes and wants more big-size TV programs is a challenge to the industry and its best talents.

Immunity in Security Trial Awaits High Court Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court hears arguments today on the constitutionality of a law aimed at compelling witnesses to testify in national security cases under a grant of immunity from prosecution.

This first challenge to the validity of the 1954 immunity law was raised by William Ludwig Ullman, a former Air Force major and one-time Treasury employe who has figured in congressional investigations of alleged Communist spy activity in the government.

GRANTED IMMUNITY

Ullman, 47, was convicted of contempt of court and given a six-month jail term last March after he twice had refused to testify before a New York federal grand jury. U. S. Dist. Judge Edward Weinfeld had granted him immunity from prosecution in connection with anything he might tell the grand jury, which was looking into wartime espionage in Washington.

Ullman appealed and in April the U. S. Court of Appeals in New York unanimously upheld the constitutionality of the immunity law. The court also affirmed Ullman's jail sentence, but he has remained free in $5,000 bond pending the outcome of his appeal to the Supreme Court.

The immunity law applies to witnesses before grand juries, the courts and congressional committees. It provides that when a witness is reluctant to testify for fear of self-incrimination he may be directed to speak with assurance he would be immune from prosecution as a result of anything he might say. Continued refusal to testify then is grounds under the law for contempt proceedings.

* * *

In refusing to answer questions before the grand jury, Ullman contended the government was invoking the immunity law as a device to entrap him into a perjury charge.

Austrian Importer Admits Killing Wife

Marcus Kammermann, 66, was held without charge after the admission in German to Detective Frank Bychowski.

Kammermann's wife Malwina, 55, died in American Hospital after police broke down the door to their apartment and found her crumpled on the floor with Kammermann standing over her. Police had been summoned by neighbors.

Sugar Producer to Get 55 Pct. of Consumption

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—The executive secretary of the National Beet Growers' Federation told that group's 10th annual meeting that the federation's proposed program calls for the domestic sugar producer to get a 55 per cent share of increased U.S. sugar consumption beginning in 1956.

Under present law Cuba gets 96 per cent of any increase in sugar consumption beyond a basic total of 8,350,000 short tons. The rest is alloted to other foreign suppliers.

Richard W. Blake, Greeley, Colo., told the federation yesterday that the proposed change is at the top of the agenda of the Senate Finance Committee when Congress opens in January.

Representatives of 19 growers federations and associations in 10 states were present for the opening of the two day meeting.

Deadlock in U.N. Creating Crisis

Philippines - Yugoslavia Ballot Stalemate Poises Security Council Snarl

* * *

After a record 21 ballots, the Philippines voiced confidence it had picked up enough additional support to win the necessary two-thirds majority.

ANOTHER STANDOFF

Supporters of Yugoslavia predicted another standoff.

The United States reaffirmed its support for its Asian ally, but for the first time it made no victory predictions. Britain and the Soviet bloc are backing Yugoslavia.

* * *

The 11-nation council must have a full membership to function. U. N. legal experts said the only solution, in case of a continuing standoff, would be for the Assembly to recess and reconvene after Jan. 1 to resume balloting until a decision is reached.

Flint Seeking Bids for Old City Hall Site

The site is being abandoned because new municipal buildings estimated to cost more than six million dollars are being started on another site.

The old site occupies about three fourths of a block in the middle of Flint's central business district. It has a frontage of 154 feet on Saginaw St., the main business thoroughfare.

Besides putting advertisements in newspapers in various financial centers, the city is making direct contact with 35 to 50 insurance companies and large hotel chains for bids on the site. Occupancy is being offered by Jan. 1, 1957. The old site contains the city hall, police station and two parking lots.

Chicks Cackle Joyously Over Glowing Ciggies

LONDON (INS)—The cancer research office of Glasgow has told about four chain-smoking chickens who cackle "joyously" when given lighted cigarettes.

* * *

The chickens are being used in experiments seeking to determine if there is any connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

The research office said that when the experiment started smoke had to be forced down the chickens' windpipes.

But in a short time it was necessary only to toss lighted cigarettes into their cages and the birds made a rush for them.

* * *

RICE, SUNNY SIDE UP — Saizo Goto of Tokyo, Japan, tastes the rice he cooked in his solar energy cooker atop the RCA Building in New York City. Made of 32 different sized mirrors, a pot and a glass bowl, the sun-powered cooker boils three pounds of rice in an hour. Goto, president of the Goto Optical Manufacturing Company in Tokyo, will display his 250-pound, four-foot-wide device at New York's Japan Trade Center, Dec. 15-31.

—This Is Justice? Jail and Fine, Too

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Goldie Shuldt of Oklahoma City asked Common Pleas Judge Carl Traub last week if his sentence for liquor possession could be deferred a week, "I'm about to become a father," he told the judge.

* * *

Shuldt reported to the court yesterday with cigars for all. "Everything's fine," he told the judge. "It's a girl."

* * *
