Weather Stirrs Thoughts of Spring

INTO THE OPEN—With temperature climbing into the range of spring weather today Pontiac residents were quick to take advantage of the break in winter. Emily Haynes, 816 St. Clair St. (left), and Sue Karner, 711 Menominee Rd. pull down the top of a convertible to take advantage of the balmy climate.

Mercury Tops Record for Date

62 Degree Weather Melts Snow and Softens Roadbeds in County

Temperatures soared to 62 degrees by 2 p.m. today to break the all-time record for this date as springlike weather lingered in the Pontiac area.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts somewhat cooler weather, with a low of 40 to 42 degrees tonight and high of 42 to 46 Tuesday. Scattered showers and shifting winds also are expected.

The mercury climbed from a night time low of 50 degrees to reach 52 at 8 a. m. today. The previous high of 57 degrees for Feb. 15 was set in 1882.

Melting snow trickled over streets and sidewalks Sunday as the temperature reached a balmy 54 degrees after a low of 33 Saturday night.

Leon V. Belknap, engineer-manager of the Oakland County Road Commission, warned that the February thaw is softening roadbeds under county roads. He said trucks may have to carry less than usual loads unless colder weather hardens the ground.

The ice-closing season seemed near a close today as David R. Ewalt, director of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, said his staff won't try to build up ice on city rinks again this winter.

Winners were selected from a record entry of 223 newspapers. Among papers with circulation between 25,000 and 75,000 the Pontiac (Mich.) Press placed third.

The awards were presented by Dr. Albert Sutton, chairman of the Graphic Arts Department of the Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern University, which sponsors the contest for the association.

Government Plans to End Tax Blanks for 35 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews thinks the government can relieve about 35 million taxpayers from filing any individual income tax return at all next year—though they would still pay the tax.

And he plans to double the number of revenue agents, row about 8,000, by adding 1,000 new agents a year to pick up 1½ to 2 billion dollars in taxes he says the government is now missing, and check what he called a growing tide of evasion.

Andrews outlined these and other far-reaching plans during closed hearings two weeks ago before a House Appropriations subcommittee on his agency's budget. A transcript of his testimony was released today.

The commissioner said "considerable progress" has been made on a long-talked-about plan under which no tax return would be required from persons whose entire

Explorers Crawl 5 Hours, Find Huge Room in Cave

CRYSTAL CAVE, Ky. (UP)—An advance party of helmeted cave explorers set up camp today in a mile-long room in Crystal Cave after a tortuous five-hour crawl through Scotchman's Trap.

The two four-man teams that crawled through the trap, a 1,200-foot tunnel leading into the caves, were made up of guides and newsmen. Two supply teams and a communications team also were in the cave.

The explorers, members of the National Speleological Society, who hope to stay underground for eight days of scientific study, will enter Scotchman's Trap today. They were expected to reach the camp site by tonight.

Judge Delivers Charge to Jury

Picard Tells Jurors in Detroit Conspiracy Trial to Plan for Long Hours

DETROIT (U)—The four-month-old conspiracy trial of six Michigan Communists was but a step from the jury today.

Only a charge by presiding Federal Judge Frank A. Picard to the jury of seven women and five men remained for 1:30 p.m. EST. Judge Picard said his reading of the charge would consume three hours time.

Before he adjourned the last regular court session of the drawn out trial, Judge Picard told the jurors to bring "necessary clothing" for an overnight deliberation session. He said the jurors would be placed in a Detroit hotel if their deliberations were prolonged.

Government attorneys, headed by U. S. attorney Fred W. Kaess, wound up their case Friday in rebuttal of the defense summation delivered by Ernest Goodman, attorney for three of the state Communist leaders.

Goodman represents Mrs. Helen Winter, Philip Schatz and William Allan. The other defendants acting as their own counsel are Saul Wellman, Nat Ganley and Thomas De Witt Dennis Jr.

The defendants are charged with conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the United States government in violation of the Smith Act.

If convicted, the defendants would face maximum five-year prison sentences.

U. S. Bombers, Stand-by Airmen Aid in Indochina

Weyland Says 12 Craft, 250 Non-Combatants Assisting French

TOKYO (AP)—At least 12 American B26 medium bombers and 250 U. S. airmen are based at two coastal airfields in Indochina, Gen. O. P. Weyland, U. S. Far East Air Forces commander, said today.

Weyland, who returned Thursday from an inspection tour of the war-torn land, emphasized that the Americans are "non-combatants and act solely as technical advisers and expert mechanics" for planes "applied as a part of the regular military assistance program to the French forces."

He said in a written statement to the press that a dozen B26s were delivered to Indochina "on the first shipment and more departed from FEAF sources Saturday." He did not say how many more.

The technicians and mechanics for the B26s and an unspecified number of C47 military transport planes furnished the French "are not in or near a major combat area," Weyland asserted.

"They are well housed and provided for. There is little or no risk to them physically."

He added that the men were "assigned to the job in the same manner that any other Air Force assignment would be made, although some may have requested the assignment."

Weyland said he was impressed with their military leadership and their attitude of U. S. military aid.

Weyland covered the Indochina battle areas by air and conferred with officers of the U. S. military assistance advisory group there, as well as officers of the French forces.

Downtown Club Hit by Police

23 Men Charged With Loitering in Gambling Place on Saginaw

Twenty-four men paid fines totaling $1,250 Saturday after Pontiac police raided the Mohawk Club, 6½ N. Saginaw St., confiscated $412 and smashed the club's gambling equipment.

Daniel Perry, 61, of 4874 Rossiter St., Drayton Plains, charged with maintaining and operating a gambling place, told Sgt. Lonny Ashley, head of the vice bureau, and detective Raymond Meggett that the club had operated in Pontiac's business district for over 20 years.

The basement clubroom, about a block from police headquarters, also was raided last Dec. 3.

Perry was fined $100 then and paid another $100 fine Saturday.

He also paid fine of $50 apiece for 23 others arrested while playing poker. They were charged with loitering in a gambling place.

All pleaded guilty before Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan on the advice of Perry's attorney.

A Pontiac policeman "planted" in the clubroom near Saginaw and Pike streets shouted, "You're all under arrest," when police outside began smashing the front door.

Patrolmen Herbert Cooley said they were unable to break down the door barred from the inside. Perry finally opened the door for police.

Five playing tables and 30 chairs were smashed and 37 decks of playing cards were confiscated.

Nine other men strolled into the 200 by 40-foot club while police were breaking up equipment. All hurried out at seeing the police.

Police arrested 25, but one man was cleared of loitering charges. Perry told Ashley that he has been operating the club at the Saginaw address three years. He said the club was known as the Businessmen's Social Club for more than 18 years, but the name was changed recently.

Ashley said Perry was warned last December to "stop the illegal activity."

Raiding Party Arrests 38 at Cockfight Near Pontiac

A 45-man raiding party surrounded an Independence Township farm seven miles north of Pontiac early Sunday and arrested 38 persons attending a cockfight.

Joseph V. McIlrath, 43, of 6851 Clintonville Rd., the farm owner, pleaded guilty to operating the game and was fined $100 and $25 costs by Orion Township Justice Heiman Stanaback.

Led by Oakland County Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell, the raiding party pushed into a barn behind McIlrath's home shortly after the cockfights got under way.

Four dead roosters and about 40 live ones were confiscated along with equipment and spurs.

One of the loiterers, Ebbie E. Suits, 41, of 86 S. Perry St., was accused of pulling a knife on

Deputy James Rohm as Rohm and Deputy Jack Fritch were driving him and several others to the Oakland County Jail.

He was fined $50 and jailed for 5 days. Others will appear in court later.

Rohm, who was driving, said he heard one of the women gasp in the back seat and as he turned he saw a knife in Suits' up-raised hand.

"I grabbed for his hand and held him until Fritch made him drop the knife," Rohm said.

Detective Frank Mack and Undersheriff Donald O. Menzies, learned from McIlrath that this was the second cockfight held at his farm in three weeks, and that two fights were held there last year.

In the raiding party were 21 men from the Sheriff's posse and

Big 4 Nearer Agreement on Asian Peace Meeting

BERLIN (UP)—The Big Four foreign ministers met for two hours in secret session today and informed sources said they made "some slight progress" toward agreement on a Far Eastern peace conference.

It was the fourth secret session of the Big Four. They decided to hold a fifth on Wednesday morning and Western sources said there were "slightly better chances" now that they still may reach agreement.

The American, British and French delegates have proposed holding a Korean peace conference in Geneva, Switzerland, on April 15 with Communist China and other "interested parties" present.

The Geneva conference would supersede the deadlocked preliminary Korean peace talks which broke down at Panmunjom in December.

If the Geneva conference on Korea succeeded, a second conference would be held on Indochina.

U. S. Stockpile Mounts Upward to $350 Million

Sees Necessity to Slash Parity Prop of 90 to 75; Has Plan for Surplus

WASHINGTON (U P)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson today announced a cut in dairy price supports, effective April 1.

He estimated this will mean about an eight-cent a pound reduction in retail butter prices.

Benson told a news conference that government price drops on butter, cheese and dried milk will drop from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, the lowest level permitted in farm law.

He said dollars-and-cents support levels for the three dairy products will be announced later. But he said he thinks "housewives can count on about an eight-cent a pound drop in butter."

Benson announced the new dairy price supports for the year starting April 1, as more than $350,000,000 worth of dairy products piled up in government warehouses.

He noted that the Agricultural Act of 1949 requires the secretary to set dairy supports between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, at a level which he determines is "necessary in order to assure an adequate supply."

Benson said he did not discuss the dairy program "in detail" with President Eisenhower. But he said he discussed it "in a general way" two or three times at the White House.

Benson said that when he kept the support level at 90 per cent of parity last year, the department's stockpile of butter, cheese and dried milk was equivalent to about 1,440,000,000 pounds of whole milk, or about 1.2 per cent of milk production during the 1952-53 marketing year.

He said stocks now on hand represent the equivalent of more than 8,000,000,000 pounds of whole milk, or more than six per cent of production this year.

He said he chose the low level of support because production of dairy products "has been more than adequate and the outlook for this year's production is good."

Benson said he is convinced the lower support level will increase consumption of butter and other dairy products despite the fact that housewives now can buy oleomargarine for about 30 cents a pound. Butter is selling at about 79 or 80 cents a pound in Washington retail stores.

Benson said some dairy products "probably" still will be coming (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Car Tag Sales Lag as Deadline Nears

LANSING (U)—Approximately 800,000 automobile license plates are yet to be sold before the Feb. 27, deadline, Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary said today.

Cleary said plate sales are 325,000 ahead of last year, but that the sales must pick up faster if long waiting lines are to be avoided this year.

Cleary told motorists that delays would be avoided if they take their car title and prepared application blank along when applying for plates.

Commission to Consider Enactment of Ordinance to Prevent Pollution of Air

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM—The City Commissioners will take up a recommendation that the city adopt a modern air pollution ordinance at their meeting tonight.

John Walker, assistant to the city manager, favors such a move, with the responsibility of enforcement assigned to the building inspector.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert says the voluntary program of smoke reduction and education regarding better firing practices has not produced satisfactory results.

The lawmakers have been informed that the State Water Resources Commission has extended from Nov. 1, 1953, to May 1, 1954, the deadline for the city to decide whether it is going to solve the River Rouge pollution jointly with neighboring cities and townships, or separately.

Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, and Southfield Townships have been ordered by the Water Resources Commission to stop the pollution.

YFW Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting at 8 tonight at the home of its president, Mrs. Orin Clark, of Catalpa drive. Annual reports will be discussed.

Meeting at the same place, same time, will be the YFW Post 2645. Clark is commander of the post.

"Kiwianene's Valentine Party" will honor the wives of Kiwanis Club members tomorrow night. Dinner will be served at 6:30 and a program will follow at the Community House.

Regular monthly meetings will be held at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow by Circles I and II of the Congregational Church. Circle I will meet with Mrs. Kirby White on West Brown street, while Mrs. John L. Clarke will hostess Circle II at her Royal Oak home on Beverly court.

Government to Cut Use of Tax Forms save 35 million dollars a year through reduced paper work for the tax service, but add 10 million in costs to the social security administration.

He told the committee that 1955 is the target date for putting the plan into effect and "I think we can do it."

He said 1,500 new revenue agents can be added between now and June 30, 1955, without increasing appropriations, by using savings made in other fields.

Andrews said the tax service also has snatched up against an apparent increase in efforts to claim illegal deductions and deductions and get bigger tax refunds than justified. He noted that the refunds have increased from 1 1/2 billion dollars in 1950 to more than 2 1/2 billion for 1953.

The commissioner estimated there are errors in 7 per cent of individual returns for business income of between $10,000 and $30,000; errors in 60 per cent of the returns on nonbusiness individual income between $10,000 and $30,000.

For income below $10,000 he said, a recent check covering only suspicious returns showed errors in 80 out of 100.

For corporation and top-level returns, he said, the average revenue agent completed 124 examinations during 1953 and found over $260,000 in unreported taxes—a total for the whole service of over one billion dollars.

Although the number of evaders still is small in comparison with the total of all tax returns, Andrews said, "this trend may be an indication that something serious is happening to our voluntary compliance system."

County Orders Special Meeting

Will Consider April 5 Election to Decide Troy Area Annexation

Oakland County Board of Supervisors will meet Tuesday to consider moving up the date for an election on Birmingham's proposed annexation of part of Troy Township.

The special meeting, called by a petition signed by 37 board members, will start at 10 a.m. in the county office building, 1 Lafayette St.

Supervisors had set August 3 as the date for a public vote on whether Birmingham should annex the 45-acre "island" of Troy Township lying between Adams road, Columbia, Howland and Villa.

W. E. Reid Development Co. of Birmingham, which plans to build on the property, wants the date changed to April 5.

Company officials explained that unless the property is annexed to Birmingham, sewer, water and other city facilities won't be available. Even if voters approved annexation at a mid-summer election, they said, it would be too late to do much building this year.

3. The agenda or program for Geneva would not be limited to Korea and, later, to Indochina. Instead the door would be left open for extension of the conference to general Far Eastern security issues.

Western sources said the Western foreign ministers still opposed the idea of extending the Geneva talks to a general Far Eastern conference—such as Molotov has aimed at since the start of the Big Four conference here.

Informants said there was still no solid reason to assume that agreement would be reached. But, they added, the progress made this morning — slight though it was — was sufficient to justify another secret meeting.

The main problem now, informants said, was to find a formula on which the Western powers and Soviet Russia could agree without either side suffering diplomatic defeat.

Today's secret session was held at the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin.

Mother Admits She Took Baby to Burglar Jobs

MONROE (AP)—State Police said today an 18-year-old Rockwood mother admitted taking her 7-month-old baby along while serving as a lookout and get-away driver for a burglar gang that included her husband.

The mother, Mrs. Gwen Robinson, was allowed to go home overnight to look after the baby on a promise she would surrender today. She explained, police said, that she took the baby along on burglaries because it was hard to hire baby sitters.

Held for investigation of nine burglaries that have netted $1,300 in the Monroe area in the last two weeks are Mrs. Robinson's husband, Donald, also 18; John Robinson, 17, Donald's brother; Bernard Shydowski, 18, and a 16-year-old juvenile, all of Rockwood.

State Police took them into custody Sunday and said all confessed. The five were rounded up after Shydowski allegedly bragged to a friend: "I'm the best burglar in the state."

Plan Arraignment on Murder Charge

Robert L. Reed, 27, of Detroit, faces arraignment today in the Oakland County Circuit Court on a first degree murder charge.

Reed is charged with killing Miss Helen Jackson, 28, Jan. 23, in her home at 3 Grant St.

Pontiac Police quoted a witness as saying Reed fired several shots after Miss Jackson refused to leave the house with him.

Ten other persons are scheduled for arraignment before Judge H. Russell Holland today. Thirteen will be sentenced by Holland and Judges Frank L. Doty and George B. Hartwick.

Arson Warrant Names Woman

Mrs. Mabel Howe of Rose Township is Held for 6 Home Fires

Examination of Mrs. Mabel Howe, 28, of 8247 Chief Dr., Rose Township, was set for Feb. 25 when she was arraigned today before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

She is charged with setting fire to six neighborhood homes during the past 13 months.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said arrangements have been made to have Mrs. Howe examined by a psychiatrist.

Taylor said Mrs. Howe admitted setting the fires, giving jealousy as her reason.

State Police Detective Russel Kitzenger said Mrs. Howe broke down Friday when preparing to take a lie detector test in Lansing. She insisted her only motive was to get back at neighbors who talked behind her back, Kitzenger stated.

Four of the homes burned to the ground. All were in the Tippeco Lake area, 12 miles south of Holly. Police said Mrs. Howe also admitted twice setting her own home afire.

Mrs. Howe, who is held in Oakland County Jail, is accused by police of having twice burned the cottage of John Janowiak, on Jan. 25, 1953, and again last Jan. 15, plus starting a blaze at another neighbor's home Nov. 13, 1953, which also destroyed an adjoining cottage.

Latest fire, police say, was in her own home Feb. 7.

Children's Hospital to Get 'Pinafore' Profits

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Cranbrook School boys and Bloomfield Hills School girls will donate proceeds from their Feb. 27 joint performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore" to Children's Hospital in Detroit.

Previous opera fund donations to the hospital total almost $1,400. Cranbrook students already maintain a bed there in memory of the student who sang the lead in the 1948 opera, and died in an automobile accident shortly after his graduation.

U.S. Frowns On Folks Who Pay Too Much Tax

WASHINGTON (INS) — Believe it or not, the government doesn't like people who deliberately pay too much income tax.

There are such persons, as government figures show.

Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey told a house subcommittee in testimony released today that the government paid $74,400,000 interest on tax overpayments during fiscal 1953.

That's the gimmick — interest on overpayments which is 6 per cent.

Humphrey said his agents have not yet detected whether substantial overpayments were deliberately paid for investment purposes.

Valentine's Day Thoughts Obscure Utterance

BOSTON (U)—A florist reported to police yesterday that a young man bought $12 worth of flowers for his "Valentine" and paid for them with a $25 check.

The girl and the address were fictitious and the check was a phony, police said.

Backs Substitute to Bricker Bill

Dem Senator Supports George Plan as Senate Picks Up Hot Issue

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) came out today for a substitute offered by Sen. George (D-Ga.) for a proposed constitutional amendment to limit treaty powers.

Sparkman said in an interview he believes George has "put into simple words" what Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) sought to do in an amendment proposal which has been criticized vigorously by President Eisenhower.

"The George amendment will give assurance to those who actually fear that a treaty might infringe upon constitutional rights," Sparkman said.

George planned conferences today with Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, and possibly with Bricker on proposed changes in his substitute. The Senate resumes discussion of the constitutional change today, with George predicting that a showdown vote may be reached by Thursday.

As it stands now, George's substitute would nullify treaties or international agreements which conflict with the Constitution. It also would provide that an international agreement, other than a treaty, should not become effective as internal law except by act of Congress. Such agreements are not subject to Senate ratification, as are treaties.

To his second provision George proposed adding language which would exempt the President's war and diplomatic recognition powers. George studied over the weekend a memorandum from Atty. Gen. Brownell which apparently suggested alternative language to that offered by the Georgia senator.

George said that until he discusses this new counteroffer with Knowland and Bricker he won't be able to say whether it is acceptable to him.

Meanwhile, Brownell was silent on a weekend demand from Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.) that the attorney general come out against any compromise on the treaty power issue.

"There can be no compromise on this issue without compromising the Constitution itself," Hennings declared.

The Bricker proposal, now regarded as having no chance of approval in its original form, has been before the Senate for three weeks, while leaders of both parties sought a compromise which would be acceptable to at least two thirds of the Senate — the number required for passage of a proposed amendment.

ROK Army Responsible for American Withdrawal

SEOUL (U)—The 8th Army commander in Korea said today withdrawal of two American divisions "really reflected a vote of confidence in the ROK army."

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor told a news conference his forces will not be weakened by the return home of the 40th and 45th Divisions.

He said an example of increasing South Korean military strength is the activation of the 1st ROK Field Army—the first South Korea has ever had.

Taylor also told newsmen there is "no reduction in Communist strength" across the neutral zone.

Spanish Princess Makes Debut in Rome Society

ROME (U)—Rome society blazed with jewels last night at the debut of a tall, blonde granddaughter of the last King of Spain amid rumors that she is Belgian King Baudouin's intended. Reliable Belgian sources emphatically denied the betrothal reports.

The debut of 16-year-old Princess

Alessandra Torlonia DiCivittella Ceci was the first royal presentation since Italy became a republic in 1946.

The princess is the daughter of the Infante Beatrice of Spain, daughter of the late ex-King Alfonso XIII, and wealthy Italian Prince Alessandro Torlonia. The ball was held in the Palazzo Torlonia, one of the family's three Roman palaces.

The Republic of Indonesia is about 3,000 miles long.

Pentagon Ready for Sneak Attack

Underground Building Blasted From Mountain Completed

WASHINGTON (U) — The high command's atom-age "underground Pentagon," built inside a mountain 65 miles from the national capital, is ready.

A Defense Department spokesman said today in reply to a reporter's question that the project, which started three years ago to provide an alternate command post and communications center if atomic attack should threaten or destroy the Pentagon, is "100 per cent completed."

The cost of blasting out the cavern under Rock Raven Mountain, in Frederick County, Md., building housing for personnel above ground and installing communications equipment presumably reached at least the original estimate of 35 million dollars.

Available information indicates a maintenance force of military personnel now is at what the Defense Department calls its "joint supplemental communications facility."

Jurisdiction of the facility, which includes the former National Guard training site of Ft. Ritchie as well as the manmade cavern five miles from the fort, is under the Defense Department. Its use in wartime would be by all three services—Army, Navy and Air Force—for central direction of defense and counterattack; even though headquarters at Washington might be wiped out. The Pentagon itself is a peculiarly vulnerable target for air attack, easily identifiable from the air by radar because of its stone-steel construction and unique shape and its location near the Potomac River.

The underground Pentagon was financed through Army, Navy and Air Force funds, specifically approved after congressional committees had heard testimony in private session, the spokesman said.

Mopping Ignites Floor

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP) — Mrs. Henry Kirk told firemen that as she wished a mop over the kitchen floor sparks flew up and ignited the flooring. Firemen used the mop on the floor and also started a blaze. Fire officials explained that some sort of chemical or inflammable powder was used on the flooring when the dwelling was built.

Policeman Charged With Robbing Store

PHILADELPHIA (U) — A veteran Philadelphia policeman who claimed he couldn't live on his $4,500 a year salary is held without bail today—charged with committing a holdup during his lunch hour.

Gilbert R. Schaffer, 44, who had only a two-day suspension in his 10 years on the force, was arrested Saturday night after a poultry store in his district had been robbed of $45. He was identified last night by the store owner as the robber.

Detective Capt. Albert Granitz said Schaffer told him he "went haywire" and robbed the shop because he couldn't live on his salary.

Granitz said Schaffer left his police hat and jacket in his car and put a gray sweater over his uniform shirt during the holdup.

When he returned to his station, at a bridge between Philadelphia and New Jersey, he learned police had a report on the holdup and drove off.

He was traced through his license plate and chased seven blocks before his car was forced to a curb, Granitz said.

BOSTON (UP) — Records show that in 1578 no fewer than 400 European vessels were engaged in whaling and fishing along the New England coast. This was 42 years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth.

Red China Radio Says Allies Stalling on Talks

TOKYO (U) — Red China's propaganda radio today accused the Allies of stalling resumption of preliminary peace conference talks to create international tension and "cover up that America has no will to settle peacefully the Korean issues."

The Chinese-language broadcast, monitored in Tokyo, also denied the U.N. Command charge that the Communists are violating the armistice agreement by smuggling warplanes into North Korea.

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

Our Faith Stands the Test Under 'Thy Will Be Done'

Dr. William H. Marbach, pastor of First Presbyterian Church since 1931, spoke at the church Sunday morning. The following is a summary of his sermon, subject of which was "God's Sovereignty." The First Presbyterian Church is one of the oldest in Pontiac, having been organized in 1824.

DR. W. H. MARRBACH

In this mysterious and strange world in which God is Sovereign over all, some of us have been allowed a good run of health and activity, but the real test of our belief comes when we cannot do as we please or go where and when we please.

Do we then accept the sovereignty of God? Do we say, "Thy will be done?"

Some of us only believe in God when we have our shining hours in green pastures, but we become skeptics when we pass through the valley of the shadow and the suffering that usually goes along with it.

A stroke of misfortune or a tragic loss may depress and discourage us, but the man of faith is the one who, like Job, can say of God, "Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him," or with Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane, "Not my will, but Thy will be done."

Sooner or later we all have to swallow bitter pills and make the transition from one condition to another. Whether we should rest quietly or work actively may not be ours to choose, but in sunshine or shadow, in prosperity or adversity, in youth or age, we are fortunate to be able to say, "Because the Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want."

Within the framework of God's sovereignty we are not called upon to accept without question whatever may be happening. Illness, disease, accident and death itself may be God's visitation and challenge to us to go on, and to grow a soul.

It may be raw material out of which virtues and graces of the Spirit may grow. It may provide an opportunity for the adoration of the Cross and an appreciation of the companionship of God who shares life with us in our furnace of affliction.

We may say with Job, "Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him" and "When He hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold." Or better still with Jesus, "Into Thy Hand I commend my Spirit."

Even though we can never believe that God likes or wills illness and tragedy, we do know that suffering, ignorance and weakness often cause us to think and surrender ourselves completely to Him and to the better way of life.

We find ourselves saying, "It was good for me that I was afflicted." Or, "I had to get down before I could begin to come up."

Many a man has been set back on his heels or fallen flat on his face before he realized that prayer is not something reserved for church on Sunday mornings, but as vital a part of daily routine as breathing.

Many a person has discovered that "suffering the divine action" of the sovereign God may be God's appointment for them.

To catch a glimpse of God's completeness and perfection is to find a harmony and happiness which words cannot describe. Out of such experience we pray, "If Thou wilt that I be in the Light, be Thou blessed for it, and if Thou wilt that I be in the darkness, still be Thou blessed for it. Light and darkness, life and death, bless ye the Lord."

All things work together for good to them that love God. And nothing can separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord. Rom. 8:28.

Tries Luck Too Far; 3rd Shot Proves Fatal

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U)—Patrolman Al Borque told this story of Claude M. Nash, 19, who pressed the trigger three times yesterday: The first time nothing happened. The second time nothing happened. Companions shouted, "Don't do it again."

The third time the .25-caliber pistol fired a bullet into his body and he died in a few minutes.

Borque said he did not believe Nash knew the pistol was loaded.

Churchill Is Given Cane Made of Truman Wood

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UP)—A cane made of wood from the Truman family farm near Grandview, Mo., has been added to the collection of Sir Winston Churchill.

Henry P. Chiles of Independence, who made the cane, wrote the British prime minister that it was identical to one presented earlier to then-president Harry S. Truman. It was made of black walnut taken from an old building on the Truman farm.

Bizarre Auto Accident Kills Father and Son

WOOSTER, Ohio (U)—A father and his son, bound for different churches, were killed yesterday along with two other members of the family when their cars collided head on.

The dead were Charles Garrison, 34, and his wife Naomi, 33, who were in one car; his sister Faye, 14, and his father Willard, 61, who were in the other vehicle. The younger Garrison's five children were injured, three seriously.

The father and son, both farmers, lived about eight miles apart. The Bermuda land mass totals only about 21 square miles. Bridges and causeways link the six main Bermuda islands together to form a continuous road 24 miles long. At its widest point Bermuda is less than two miles across.

Two Detroit Boys Open Mainline NYC Switch

DETROIT (U)—Two boys, 10 and 11, broke into a New York Central Railroad tool shanty here and hammered open a main-line switch. But there wasn't any train wreck. The open switch set off a red warning at the signal tower. Railwaymen closed the switch. Police turned the boys over to the parents.

Guatemala's Fake Charges

Two developments serve to emphasize again the growth of Communist domination of Guatemala's government and labor movement.

One of these is the recent expulsion of two American correspondents, SYDNEY GRUSON of the N. Y. Times and MARSHALL BANELL of the National Broadcasting Co. Apparently these men were guilty of the increasingly serious crime of reporting the truth about Communism there.

The other is the frequency with which anti-Communists in Guatemala have been disappearing into jails, seeking asylum in embassies or fleeing from the country.

At first the ARBENZ government denied everything. Then it suddenly changed tactics and issued a 5,000 word white paper charging among other things, a plot by Nicaragua to invade Guatemala. Named in the white paper as supporting the plot were the U. S., Venezuela, Dominican Republic, El Salvador and the United Fruit Company.

Our State Department has branded these charges ridiculous and has linked them with the return from Russia of two Guatemalan Communists, Gutierrez and Fortuny. Officials also see in the charge a Moscow hatched attempt to disrupt the work of next month's Inter-American Conference.

Guatemala, just south of Mexico, is about the size of Tennessee and has a population of 3,283,000. The fact that only about one-third of the people can read and write has helped make the country the Western Hemisphere's Red problem child.

Unworthy of His Trust

Rep. ERNEST K. BRAMBLETT, a fourth term Republican Congressman from California's 13th District, has a fight on his hands.

He plans to carry it to the U. S. Supreme Court if necessary, after a Federal District Court jury found him guilty on seven counts of payroll padding. Maximum penalty for the offense is imprisonment for 35 years and a fine of $70,000.

BRAMBLETT is the first member of Congress to be tried under the new "false statements" law. Other members of the House have been convicted of illegal financial transactions in kickback cases.

Testimony in this case showed that Mrs. Margaret Swanson of Arlington, Va. had been on Bramblett's office payroll from September 1949 to December 1950. She testified that she did no work and that her husband returned all of her salary, a net total of $3,300 to Bramblett.

The Californian, who is free on $2,500 bail pending sentence and appeal, was acquitted at the court's direction on all other charges in an 18 count indictment.

It is always regrettable when a member of Congress gets himself in such a position. This is especially so because members of our national Legislature rarely run afoul of the law.

Regardless of the technicalities on which the appeal may be based, a Federal jury decided that Rep. BRAMBLETT has been unworthy of his public trust.

State Fair Board Shakeup

Once again the fate of a bill to effect reorganization of the State Fair Board depends on the House at Lansing. As was the case last year, the Senate approved reorganization. In fact, the bill just sent to the lower chamber is similar to that which was sidetracked there during the 1953 preadjournment rush.

Goal of the reorganization is to end the dual control of the State Fair grounds which has proved so unsatisfactory for so long. The result was that control rested with the State Board of Agriculture for 11 months of the year and with the State Fair Board for one month.

Provisions of the new bill include giving sole control to a new 23 member Fair Board. The theory behind this is that such a board could make much better arrangements for year round use of the grounds.

Senate Democrats opposed the bill for patronage reasons. It provides that 17 members of the board be appointed by County Boards of Supervisors, five by the Governor and that the agriculture director be an ex-officio member. All members of the present board are gubernatorial appointees.

Though there has been no poll of House sentiment, the prospects are good that the Republican majority will act to end the administrative anomaly of dual control.

Mrs. F. Dobson Says Lincoln Possessed Great Dignity Recognized the World Over

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Recently I listened to the Arthur Godfrey program and he said some great writer who had lived close to Abraham Lincoln had written that Lincoln did not possess great dignity.

I heartily disagree with the writer as I believe Lincoln possessed a dignity recognized by the common people the world over. Not the dignity of station, known only by those of social standing but a greater dignity few men who have lived on this earth ever possessed.

Men and women from the lowliest walks of life recognized his quality of greatness and were always touched by his understanding of their problems.

His quiet dignity and graciousness made it possible for them to understand things common men were never before known to understand.

I believe he possessed great dignity.

Reader Questions Recent Press Editorial Cartoons

Evidently our religious cartoonist has gone a little astray. At any rate the last two Saturdays have been the first time that I have read where self-righteousness was a rickety platform for the willful to stand on.

I have been under the impression that self-righteousness is an extremely narrow path through life for the Pharisees and the Sadducees to travel.

Study of Bricker, George Amendments Resolves Into a Definition of Treaties

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Many people are writing in to ask what the Bricker amendment controversy is all about. It seems they can't find out from a reading of the conflicting views and comments contained in the press dispatches because the whole thing appears to them to be a legalistic controversy and they want to know what's back of it all. Certainly it is confusing to find, for instance, so eminent an organization as the American Bar Assn. after several years of study advocating a change in the Constitution and yet to hear from individual lawyers of prominence that somebody has started a conspiracy to hamper President Eisenhower in his conduct of foreign policy.

It is, of course, a controversy over the meaning of treaties and whether by merely signing an agreement with a foreign government a President can commit the citizens of the United States to a course of action that normally would require both houses of Congress to bring about only by the passage of a law.

But back of the Bricker amendment controversy is something deeper.

Sen. George of Georgia, a Democrat, who has held the important posts of chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and who is widely regarded as an able constitutional lawyer stated the issue in its simplest form to the United States Senate the other day.

He said that he did not want "any president to make an agreement with Turkey that will preclude me from killing a cat in my back alley at night." Then he shouted:

"Neither do I want him to negotiate an agreement with India that will preclude me from butchering a cow in my own barnyard."

Aunt Het

I read that folks serve course dinners because too much in sight at once discourages appetite. But I never see any discouraged ones when I do the cooking.

These are blunt words but they certainly should dispose of the smear argument spread throughout this country and repeated by so respectable a newspaper as the London Times that the controversy over the Bricker amendment is just a piece of Republican isolationism and that it is merely a fight between Eisenhower and some "reactionary" elements in the Republican party.

It takes a two-thirds majority to get a constitutional amendment adopted by the Senate and anybody who reports the news from the national capital objectively would know that the 64 senators who showed their intention several months ago to support a change along the lines of the Bricker amendment or a substitute would not be doing so if it was just a partisan Republican affair.

Nor is it accurate to spread the fiction that this is just a fight between President Eisenhower and his party or that it somehow concerns only Eisenhower's conduct of foreign policy.

For the truth is the abuse of the treaty power has been going on for many years and if not remedied will go on long after Eisenhower ceases to be President.

Perhaps the clearest explanation of why the Bricker amendment has gotten so much momentum at the "grass roots" in both parties in the last four years was given to the Senate recently by Sen. Bricker himself. He said:

"Most of the opponents of this resolution seek to elevate treaty law above domestic constitutional law. They seek to codify all fundamental human rights—civil, political, economic, social, and cultural—in a law superior to that of sovereign nations....

"Most of the opposition to this treaty-control amendment comes from those who yearn for the domination of a supra-national government.

Some of them would surrender national sovereignty immediately; others would destroy it gradually by means of United Nations treaties and by less formal agreements. Some would organize a supra-state on a global scale while others would first establish a regional government."

In one case that treaties can upset domestic law and the effort now is to close that loophole.

There are some who call themselves "liberals" who say the Constitution is good enough as it is and shouldn't be changed. But it's been changed 23 times against the advice of the so-called "reactionaries" who always want to let things alone.

It is significant that Sen. George of Georgia has come forward with a substitute for the Bricker amendment, and it doesn't differ too much from the Bricker proposal.

If the Georgia senator in his amendment specified that treaties as well as executive agreements were not to be given the status of internal law unless sanctioned by action of Congress, the Ohio Republican and the Georgia Democrat would be rather close together.

The basic object is to prevent a future president from agreeing to some action by one of the numerous subsidiary bodies of the United Nations which would take away constitutional rights.

The average person looking on wonders what harm can come from saying in the Constitution itself that this cannot be done, even if there is little likelihood that Eisenhower would ever allow his envoys to sign such an agreement.

Anyone Who Prates About 'Resistance' Is Wrong, and Should Study 'Immunity'

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Reader asks statistics to substantiate views in regard to the practice of sending children to school when they have the cri in order to maintain the attendance record and apportionment of tax money.

Also, she says, she feels that our supercleanliness and overuse of antibiotics have lessened the resistance of children, so that when polio, measles or other epidemics come along they fall first victims.

I know of no statistics bearing upon the question of sending a child to school with an alleged cold.

The practice of spreading infection in school will probably continue as long as physicians and health authorities keep up the pretense that there is some identifiable indisposition which they call "the common cold."

No physician or healthy officer can define "the common cold." He dare not try to—not while he can

Beware of Marriage Trap Luring Young Teen-agers

Donald was trapped by a designing woman twice his age. Beware of these modern Jezebels, for there are thousands of them. And thank your editor for exposing these pitfalls of teen-agers, for they are far more numerous than many of you good folks even imagine.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case K-325: Donald G., aged 17, is a high school senior.

"Dr. Crane, I am almost crazy with worry about him," his distressed mother began.

"For he has been in love with a classmate named Dorothy for the last 3 months and insists on marrying her."

"His father forbids him to do so, but Dorothy's mother is very eager to have them drop out of school and set up housekeeping."

"Donald is begging me to give my consent so he can get the license. Should I do so, Dr. Crane?"

Thousands of high schoolers are in the same boat with Donald and Dorothy.

They fall ardently in love and then imagine that they cannot go on living unless they marry.

So let me give the tragic sequel of this actual case in order to jolt you teen-agers out of cupid's hypnotic trance.

Before Donald's mother had made up her mind to give her consent for the wedding, Dorothy's mother suddenly telephoned that Dorothy was expecting a baby, and threatened she'd put Donald behind prison bars if he did not marry Dorothy at once.

"I don't want to marry her, though," Donald then exclaimed to his mother, when he found out about the situation.

"Why didn't I have sense enough to leave her alone and date other girls for a few years," he added, as he paced up and down the living room of his home like a caged animal.

"But I thought you loved Dorothy," his mother asked in surprise.

"Oh, I thought I did for awhile," Donald replied, "but I guess I was just infatuated."

Besides, her mother pushed us into this. I can see it now as plain as the nose on my face.

"When her mother would have dates with her older men friends, she'd push Dorothy and me into her bedroom and tell us to make love there, for she wanted to have the parlor for her own sweetie."

"And she'd do the same thing with Dorothy's 15-year-old sister, Mary, who has been going with a fellow 22."

"Mary and her boy friend would be pushed into one bedroom and Dorothy and I in another, while their mother had the parlor."

"Now I wonder if that wasn't just part of her plot to force us into marriage, for she always kept urging Dorothy and me to elope."

Later information now reveals that 15-year-old Mary is likewise going to have a baby and the mother is also trying to force Mary's 22-year-old suitor into marriage under threat of jail.

In line with the standard American newspaper policy of exposing evils in politics as well as social life, I am giving you this all too common case to warn you young folks.

For I get hundreds of cases just like Donald's where designing parents will actually abet illicit sexual affairs in order to trap a young fellow of a good family.

Donald's experience also should show you how quickly your teenage infatuation may change. Today you may think you are in love, but tomorrow you may find that it was just a mad sexual infatuation and not true love at all.

Therefore, don't rush into marriage in your teens! Wait till you are at least old enough to vote, for the average lifespan is now almost 70, so you will have plenty of time ahead to spend as married folks.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamp, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Teamsters' Beck Blames Humphrey for Hard Times

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U)—The AFL Teamsters Union opened a midwinter Executive Board meeting today with President Dave Beck sounding a "hard times" warning and questioning labor peace moves.

Beck, chief of the 1,300,000-member Teamsters Union, hit at Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey's money policies and said they are responsible for the present unemployment situation.

"Our present economic situation can be traced right back to the 'hard money' policy launched by Humphrey nearly a year ago," Beck said. "This search for hard money has brought on hard times."

The Teamsters Union's International Executive Board was expected either to reject outright or throw so many conditions into accepting a proposed AFL-CIO "no raiding" agreement as to place its effectiveness in jeopardy.

AFL President George Meany, chief proponent of the AFL-CIO peace plan, left Miami Beach today ahead of the opening session of the teamsters board. Meany has been trying to persuade labor unions to agree to peaceful settlement of their rivalries.

Beck, who has called a score of lawyers to the teamsters board meeting, was expected to contend that the "no raid" pact is illegal under the Taft-Hartley Act. The agreement is designed to bar a union from one federation against trying to capture members already organized by a union in the other federation. The peace agreement would apply, however, only to unions specifically signing it. The teamsters, one of the largest unions in the country, could virtually torpedo the plan by a veto.

That Beck, who has considerable ambitions to swell teamsters membership, would refuse to go along with the plan was considered a foregone conclusion as the teamsters board meeting got under way. Some teamsters lawyers were prepared to argue that the AFL-CIO plan, by designating the areas in which each union could organize members, would deny workers the right to choose between the unions, or overthrow one union in favor of another.

This argument was seriously challenged by other attorneys familiar with the T-H law. They pointed out that the law recognizes exclusive jurisdiction of union organizing by specifying how jurisdictional disputes between rival unions may be settled.

Beck said the experiment launched by Treasury Secretary Humphrey shortly after President Eisenhower took office of issuing government bonds at higher interest rates had retarded credit, restricted business activity and spurred the present unemployment situation.

He said the auto industry was the hardest hit, being in "the worst position in 30 years." He said used car values had declined to the point where thousands of car owners are turning their autos back to finance companies for the balance due because they can buy the same type car off used car lots for less money.

Chemists Reject Curie as Red

Discoverer of Radium Refused Membership in American Society

NEW YORK (U)—A membership application from Nobel Prize-winning French chemist-physicist Mme. Irene Joliot-Curie has been rejected by the American Chemical Society on the belief she is a Communist.

Mme. Joliot-Curie said in 1948—when she came to America for a lecture tour and was detained briefly on Ellis Island—that she was sympathetic to communism "in many things" but was not a party member.

Disclosure of her application came in correspondence published by the monthly Bulletin of the Atomic Scientist, out today.

A letter dated Oct. 24 from Dr. M. Haissinsky of the Institut du Radium of Paris said she applied for membership in the American society in March 1953 in order to receive regularly the society's journal.

Haissinsky said the admissions committee rejected the application without giving a reason. She wrote the committee in September, asking the reason but received no reply, he added.

A letter of comment to the Bulletin by Alden H. Emery, executive secretary of the society, said in part:

"According to information that has been made available to the admissions committee, and which it believes to be completely reliable, Mme. Joliot-Curie is an avowed and active Communist."

Mme. Joliot-Curie was ousted by the French government from its atomic energy commission in 1951. Her husband, Frederic Joliot-Curie, had been removed as head of the body a year earlier because of Communist associations.

Pilot Fails Nonstop, Lands at Selfridge

MT. CLEMENS (UP)—A young Air Force pilot trying to set a nonstop trans-continental speed record landed his F80 jet fighter at Selfridge field Sunday when his fuel supply ran out.

The pilot, Capt. Wesley W. Brothers, was far off the record when he gave up on his attempt to fly from Long Beach, Calif. to

New York City in less than four hours. It took him three hours and 45 minutes to get from Long Beach to Selfridge.

Brothers took off for his home field at Shaw Air Force base near Sumpter, S. C., after his jet was refueled.

The pilot had hoped to cover the distance nonstop with two 230-gallon wing tanks. However, he said he failed to get the help expected from the "jet stream," an east-to-west wind that usually prevails at 35,000 feet.

Bingo by Phone Isolates Police as Lines Jam

MILWAUKEE (U)—Milwaukee police reported it was impossible to make or receive telephone calls from their downtown Safety Building headquarters between midnight and 1 a.m. yesterday.

The reason: hundreds, maybe thousands, of local residents were jamming telephone lines in a bingo-type game conducted by a local television station. The television station is on the same telephone exchange as the police station.

Kal Ross, director of operations for WCAN-TV, said that between 100,000 and 150,000 persons play the game late Saturday nights. Viewers play at home and telephone the station when they think they have won a prize by filling out a line on card.

A spokesman for the telephone company said there were so many calls and so many of the callers refused to hang up when they got a busy signal that the dial system was jammed.

Dist. Atty. William McCauley, pointing out that the game is legal in Wisconsin, deplored the fact that the police station was cut off for an hour but said he doubted if much could be done about it.

Joker Gums Up Works

CALDWELL, Idaho (U)—Postal employees would like to get their hands on the guy who sent his girl a Valentine that really gummed up the cancellation machine. The envelope contained an all-day sucker.

Chiang Asks Party to Pick New Leader

TAIPEH, Formosa (U)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in an extraordinary gesture today asked his ruling Kuomintang party to choose another man as the next president of Nationalist China. He said he felt the best interests of his nation would be served if he were not nominated.

He suggested two men for the post and offered, "if I am trusted," to serve either as head of the armed forces or as premier.

He suggested for president philosopher Hu Shi, former ambassador to Washington, or Yu Yu-jen, the aged head of the Control Yuan. Hu is not a member of the Kuomintang. Yu is, Chiang said.

the party thus could choose a non-member.

Chiang's surprise recommendation was made at the opening session of the Kuomintang's Central Committee meeting near Taipei. The party was expected to reject it.

Women Ph.D.'s Slow to Wed—and to Divorce

BRYN MAWR, Pa. (U)—A Bryn Mawr College report shows fewer women Ph.D.'s get married than their less educated neighbors but when they do they stay married a lot longer.

Dr. Eleanor A. Bliss, dean of the graduate school, said 85 per cent of the college's Ph.D.'s are still single working girls. "But the divorce rate is very low—far below the national average," Dr. Bliss said.

Urges Emergency Rations Kept Handy

FORT WORTH, Tex. (U)—Advice to housewives: gather up a few cans of preserved food and a gallon jar of water and stick it in a safe place.

It may help your family survive atomic attack or other disaster, says the nation's top woman civil defense official.

Mrs. Katherine Howard, deputy national director of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, said in a transcribed Texas radio broadcast yesterday a three-day supply of canned food and water should be kept in every household as minimum emergency rations.

Free Booklet Tells How Deaf Hear Again With Startling Clarity, Ease

CHICAGO (Special)—New hope for the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing was voiced by a noted Chicago acoustical scientist.

He reported that through the miracle of modern electronics it is now possible to overcome deafness even if the loss is severe.

He demonstrated how the deaf can hear again with a clarity and ease they never dreamed possible. According to this electronic engineer, Mr. Sam Foster of Belone, the longer a hearing loss is neglected, the harder it is to recapture certain speech sounds and understand them.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with what may be done to help the deaf hear again with miraculous clarity, full authoritative details about deafness and how to overcome it are described in an informative, new, illustrated booklet, which will be sent in a plain wrapper without any cost or obligation.

To obtain your free copy, simply send your request to: Electronic Research Director, Dept. 622A, Belone Hearing Aid Co., 2900 W. 36th St., Chicago 32, Ill. A postcard will do.

Corned Beef and Cabbage
Is Good Way to Fool Fatty

By ELMER WHEELER

Chapter 17

I'm not a dietitian, but I have listened to experts. Let me give you wives some he-man combinations that will keep Fatty full and relaxed until he gets hold of himself.

1. Corned beef (3-10th lean) and some cottage cheese, a slice of rye—and a hunk of Swiss cheese and black coffee.

2. Fillet with small baked Idaho and one pat of butter, cole slaw, any kind of vegetable, hunk of cheddar and coffee.

3. Roast beef, baked spud, some vegetables, a custard and black coffee.

4. Roast chicken, one sweet potato for a change, cole slaw or tossed green salad and lots of asparagus to fill him up.

5. Fish—with a touch of macaroni to fill his starch appetite—but bake or broil the fish. Throw in some cabbage and have a shrimp cocktail or oysters, but raw.

6. Grilled hamburgers—put on a thin slice of American cheese. Fill him up with head lettuce and vinegar dressing, pickles, olives, celery. Give him some gelatin or low-sugar pudding.

7. Chow mein him one night, but go light on the rice and make sure there is nothing rich in the sauce. This'll fill him up fast—but it won't last.

That's a good outline for seven days for Fatty. Nothing too high in calories. Nothing fried, at least. Little fat. Little starch. Just a pinch of sugar.

Give him a large bowl of light soup before every meal to fill up the empty space.

He'll never get fat eating cabbage, krait, cole slaw, pickles, tomato juice, grapefruit, lean meats! Trick the old buzzard, ladies.

Once I was an unhappy fat boy weighing in at 230. Nine weeks later I was a trim fellow of 186, proud of my "new look" for fat boys. I'm still there.

I waited three months to make sure my weight was going to stay put. When it stayed pegged to 186, then I sold all my fat boy's clothes so that I could never be tempted to try to fit back into them.

I bought an entire new outfit. I didn't want those nice fat boy's clothes to worry me in the closet; I didn't want to get to thinking about how all those fine suits were going to waste in there—and may be start going to waist again myself.

So I sold every one of them to keep temptation away.

I highly recommend this procedure.

I want to try to be fair here. I want to give both sides of the picture, so nobody can say I'm biased.

The seats are now harder on my sacroiliac. I haven't those, three inches of fat now between me and the boards.

I get cold quicker now that I haven't a 40-pound blanket of fat protecting me.

I don't need 12 hours of sleep any more, so now I have to find more things to keep me occupied during those extra four hours I'm awake.

I'm not considered jolly any more. I feel more like being jolly, but nobody will believe it. Before, when I was a fat boy, I was automatically supposed to be jolly, and didn't feel like it.

What do do about the wrinkles? I found that exercise pulled up my wrinkles. The general health of the skin pulls them up and takes in the little tufts and lines.

Bending-over exercises pull in the tummy muscles and tighten them up.

Working the head in circles tightens up the wrinkles under the chin, where that double chin once reposed.

Once you stop rigid dieting the body will begin to build back up and take up the loose folds where fat used to be.

You can go back from 1,500 to 2,500 calories, or where the Fat Boy's Slide Rule says you must be.

If I would hold my present weight for three months, I was told, then the chances of bounding back to 230 would be pretty remote—not only physically, as I explained before, but mentally.

Once you learn the fun of again being a trim boy it will be darned hard to make you willing to puff up again.

I learned from the Y directors that fat won't gather over a working muscle, so try working them. I told myself.

I toss a handful of loose matches on the floor, or playing cards—anything to make me spend the minutes bending over and picking up things.

Malenkov Toasts
Chinese Friendship

MOSCOW (U.S. — Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov, toasting the Soviet-Chinese Friendship Pact on its fourth anniversary, declared last night that world security depends upon Communist China attaining "her rightful place in international councils."

The Premier spoke at a reception at the Chinese Embassy. Among other ranking Kremlin leaders attending were Communist Party Secretary N. S. Khrushchev, Defense Minister Nikolai Bulganin and Deputy Premiers Lazar Kaganovich and A. I. Mikoyan.

The emergence of the Communist People's Republic in China, said Malenkov, has opened a new epoch in Asia, making it a bastion of peace instead of a powder keg.

Soviet newspaper editorials, commenting on the pact between the two major Communist nations, stressed the "great aid" Russia has given China and described their friendship link as "unbreakable."

Speeded as if Going

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (U.S. —) — Voy C. Ray was driving as if he was on the way to a fire when police stopped him.

He was. The fire, was at his home.

Officers took him the rest of the way in their faster moving car.

They aided him in putting out flames that were licking at his garage.

Then they gave him a speeding ticket.

Ford's New Ball-Joint Suspension gives you the Newest Ride on the Road!

This revolutionary new Ford front suspension soaks up road shock before it reaches you!
Makes all riding and handling easier!

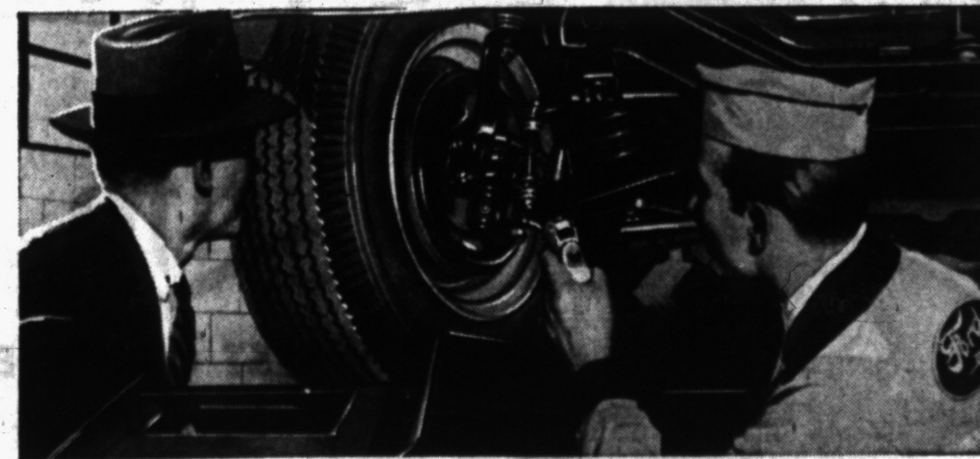

Seals out dirt. You can forget road splash because dirt and water can't get into the ball joints in Ford's new front suspension. Each of the four joints is effectively sealed by a unique rubber-and-metal shield. This means that contact surfaces of each ball and socket remain clean—wear is kept to a minimum.

Keeps that new-car feel. You'll enjoy Ford's new-car feel much longer because ball joints are spring-loaded to compensate automatically for any wear. Front wheels hold alignment far longer than with conventional systems. Ball joints can't stick or bind. Steering remains consistently easy.

The "OLD" roads won't seem the same with Ford's new Ball-Joint Suspension "paving" the way for you. You'll enjoy a softer, more level ride because Ford's new system allows greater shock absorbing movement of the front wheels. Handling is far better, too, not only on turns but on the straightaways as well. That's because conventional kingpins have been replaced by simple, sealed ball joints that won't stick or bind. No other car in Ford's field can equal this modern ride—because no other has Ball-Joint Suspension.

Agile new performance, too, is yours in a '54 Ford. Whether you choose Ford's new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 or 115-h.p. I-block Six you get the quick response and smooth, quiet operation of a modern overhead-valve, low-friction, deep-block engine. And no matter which of Ford's 28 new models you choose you enjoy recognized style leadership—with clean, modern lines . . . sparkling new colors . . . and harmonizing upholstery fabrics and trim.

Eliminates 12 wear points. Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension eliminates 12 of 16 points of wear found in conventional systems. Rubber-bushed supports at inner ends of suspension control arms not only reduce the number of wear points but also insulate chassis from road noises.

Emphasis on the 'Top Deck'

British Styles Put Accent on Curves

LONDON (INS)—Britain's spring and summer fashions are banishing the pencil-slim silhouette and bringing curves back into the limelight.

The accent, as British fashion writers pronounce it, is on the "top deck."

Hardy Amies, dressmaker to Queen Elizabeth II and one of London's "top 11" designers, put it this way:

"The battle area this season is the bust and above."

Suits, day and evening dresses and coats in London's newest collections are all designed so that the bosom is the focal point of the figure.

Amies has even imported a new model from Sweden whose measurements are far bigger than the average model and half an inch larger than the 36.5 inch bust measurement attributed recently to the "average" British woman by the Clothing Industry Development Council.

The noted designer's explanation is that he chose this model because "she looks like a woman rather than a mannequin" was featured by one fashion writer as "good news for Englishwomen who tend to be plump rather than thin."

All London's designers are stressing the full bustline, defined waist and wide shoulders.

Bands of fabric to tighten the midriff and pockets under the bust are used by Victor Stiebel to give what he called the "long-legged look."

Stiebel, who makes many dresses for Princess Margaret, gets the high-bosomed appearance by putting his models in waist-pinching "waspie" corsets and by featuring the "scooped-out" neckline.

Mattli emphasizes the bust by clever draping or full folds that taper to the shoulders.

Amies manages to get in plenty of curves, with the emphasized high bust, the rounded, wider shoulder and curved, unpadded hips.

The royal dressmaker achieves his voluminous bosom look by nipping in the waist and making bodices loose and full up top. Often he adds big stand-away pockets to make the figure look even more voluptuous.

Norman Hartnell has given his clothes a very feminine allure with accent on the bosom and waist.

John Cavanagh presented the "palm silhouette," which lifts the bodice, curves the shoulder line and fits his dresses into a neat princess line.

His very feminine suits hug the bodice snugly and feature cut-away necklines. In Cavanagh's frothy evening dresses the neckline is a deep V both front and back.

Couple Wed in Saturday Ceremony

Barbara E. Terry, Loren T. Flynn Jr. Exchange Vows

The altar of Central Methodist Church was banked with large baskets of gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms Saturday evening when Loren Thomas Flynn Jr. claimed Barbara Elaine Terry for his bride.

The bride's parents are the Robert D. Terry of East Pike street, and the Loren T. Flynn of West Walton boulevard are the bridegroom's parents.

The 8 o'clock service was performed by the Rev. Milton H. Bank before 250 guests.

Barbara chose a gown of Chantilly lace over tulle fashioned with a ruche of pleated tulle outlining the illusion neckline and long sleeves pointed at the wrists.

The full lace skirt was finished with scallops of lace falling into a chapel train. A Juliet cap of matching lace held her illusion fingertip veil, and she wore the bridegroom's gift of pearls. On a white Bible she had fastened a white orchid and hyacinths.

Betty McCully was maid of honor wearing champagne rose net over taffeta fashioned in a strapless style with a matching stole. Her flowers were garnet roses, white carnations and green ivy streamers.

In similar gowns of emerald green were bridesmaids Sharon Cervinka and the bridegroom's sister, Jane Flynn. They carried yellow feathered carnations with yellow roses and ivy streamers.

William Flynn was his brother's best man, and the bride's brother, Robert D. Terry Jr., and John Christoff seated the guests.

Receiving guests in the church parlors after the ceremony, Mrs. Terry wore a light blue dress fashioned in a waist-length with blue and silver accessories. Mrs. Flynn wore pink crepe with a lace jacket.

The bride later changed to a mint green knit dress with black accessories for the wedding trip. After a Florida honeymoon the couple will reside in Pontiac. He is a graduate of General Motors Institute of Technology.

Ike Is King of America's Best-Dressed

Women Leaders of Style Name Their Male Counterparts

NEW YORK (INS) — America's best-dressed women have picked America's best-dressed men, topping the list of 10 with the king of the homburg himself, President Eisenhower.

He, who was passed by last year by the sartorial blue-bookies, because it was "too early to pass judgment" on his grooming habits, was selected by 87 per cent of the women polled this year.

He was followed by Vladimir Horowitz, concert pianist; Stuart Symington, Democratic U. S. Senator from Missouri; John Cameron Swayze, radio-TV newscaster; Grover Whalen, former New York City official greeter; James Hart, president of Sherman-Ambassador Hotels, Chicago; Spelman Prentice, president of La Coquille, Palm Beach; Raymond Loewy, industrial designer; Cary Grant, movie star, and Stephen (Laddie) Sanford, socialite polo player.

The women who were polled for the male best-dressed included the famed female dressers Mrs. William S. Paley, Mrs. Winston Guest, Mrs. Bryan Foy, the Duchess of Windsor, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst Jr., Mme. Louis Arpels and others of their satiny ilk.

They announced that Messrs. Swayze and Whalen were not only among the best-dressed but deserved special mention for buttonholes. Women, it seems, like buttonhole flowers.

Of the women who voted, most preferred single-breasted suits on men — particularly on big boys "over 40" in age and waist size. Many of those polled said they welcomed the new casual trend in colorful sports attire — but a surprising number yearned for the return of derbies, spats and walking sticks.

AAUW Will Hear Panel Discussion

A panel discussion by five members of Pontiac Branch, AAUW, will highlight the meeting this evening at the YWCA.

Participating in the discussion on Children's Service Groups will be Lillian Davidson, moderator; Mrs. Ray Allen, Juvenile Court; Frieda Huggert, visiting teachers; Mrs. J. Thomas Peterson, Michigan Children's Aid Society; Mrs. Charles Rosengate, children's home, and Iva Jane Price, aid to dependent children. The meeting will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

Helen Patrick, Herbert Glenn Wed on Sunday

Herbert G. Glenn of South Parke street claimed Helen V. Patrick for his bride Sunday afternoon at his home.

Helen, daughter of Mrs. Ida M. Bryan of South Parke street and the late Watson H. Bryan, wore a bluish pink ballerina-length dress with white accessories and a bouquet of pink roses and white statuettes.

Her mother, as her only attendant, wore a wine-colored lace ballerina-length dress with wheat accessories and a bouquet of Johanna III roses and statuettes. Edwin H. Essex escorted his sister to the altar, and K. Kenneth Shetter acted as best man. Mrs. J. Blaine Lewis of Findlay, Ohio, played the wedding music.

A reception at the bridegroom's home followed the 1:30 o'clock service, after which the bride changed to a slate gray suit with black and white accessories and a corsage from her bouquet for the wedding trip to New Orleans.

They will reside on South Parke street. The bride is a graduate of Northwestern College in Minneapolis.

Use Sealer on Gypsum Wall Board

By HUBBARD COBB

It seems that the inside walls in lots of homes these days are covered with gypsum board which is sometimes called plaster board or dry wall or by one of several trade names.

Anyway, this material is made by taking a sheet of gypsum plaster and covering it with kraft paper. When it comes to finishing this material either with paint or paper, that paper covering can become something of a problem.

If you apply paint directly over the paper you won't get a very even coating because here will be an uneven absorption of the paint by the paper. If you apply a paste the same thing will happen.

What you need then is something to seal the paper to prevent uneven absorption and at the same time make a good bond between either paint or paper.

In the past it has been possible to use materials for this job that were designed for other purposes but now you can get a gypsum board sealer especially formulated for this sort of work.

Before finishing off a gypsum board wall you should go over it carefully to make certain that all nail heads are set slightly below the surface of the board.

If any are flush with the surface, punch them down but not far enough to break through the paper covering. Paint does not stick very well to nail heads so fill in the little depression with spackle and when it is dry, sand the surface smooth.

Slight cracks at the joints can be treated by applying several thin coats of spackle and then sanding smooth. Now apply your sealer and when this is dry, the wall is ready for painting.

Can't Resist Shortbread, Scotch Style

Simple Recipe Sent by Mrs. John Little Is Rich, Satisfying

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor
A simple rich cookie is the contribution of Mrs. John H. Little of Bloomfield Hills. She gives us a recipe for Scotch Bread.

This little cookie may be baked as a rolled cookie or put through a cookie press.

Mrs. Little's interests center mainly in her home and family. She shares her older daughter's Girl Scouting by acting as assistant leader of the troop.

Membership in PEO and working with a girls' group at her church complete Mrs. Little's activities.

SCOTCH BREAD

By Mrs. John H. Little

1/2 pound butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups sifted flour
Knead all ingredients together well. Roll out about 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick, cut into cookies. Or put through a cookie press. Bake at 250 to 350 degrees for 45 minutes to 1 hour, depending on size. These cookies do not brown.

Save Sock Tops

Don't throw away argyle socks too worn for wear. Cut off the long-ribbed tops for use in buffing shoes, or polishing and scrubbing bathroom and kitchen fixtures.

Oil Your Cuticles

Soaking fingers in warmed baby oil a few minutes each night for several days will do much to improve the condition of roughened cuticles.

Treats Are Sweeter Than Sweet

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

You can probably toss together a pan of fudge in the wink of an eye. And maybe yours is a sure-fire recipe for pulling, taffy. I've been giving the candy thermometer I got for Christmas a real workout lately—and it seems only fair to share the wealth.

My stove and I have been turning out things delectable lately.

DATE DOIN'S: Take the seeds out of a pound of dates, or one half pound of the already pitted ones. Then chop up a cupful of walnuts or pecans. Put them together through the meat grinder and roll up the mixture into bite-size balls.

Roll them in confectioner's sugar, and store them for later in a covered tin box. How much later is very soon around here!

CHOCOLATE BALLS: Grate 3 inches of bitter chocolate and cream into it one quarter cup of butter and 7 tablespoons of confectioner's sugar. Add 2 tablespoons of heavy cream, then shape it into balls. You can roll them in cocoa or "Squash" each ball between two pecan or walnut halves. Yummy.

HEAVENLY HASH: Cut a dozen marshmallows into tiny pieces, chop 1 cup of nuts fine, and cut up a dozen or so maraschino cherries. Boil water in the bottom of double boiler, turn off the heat, and melt in the top 1 pound of milk chocolate. Stir it now and then.

When it's melted, pour half the chocolate into a tray lined with waxed paper. Spread on top the marshmallow, nut, cherry mixture. Then cover with the rest of the chocolate. When it's cool you can break it in pieces.

PEANUT CLUSTERS: Put 2 cups of sugar, one half cup of milk, 2 tablespoons of butter and 1 tablespoon of cocoa into a pan and bring to a boil over a quick fire. Cook slowly without stirring for six minutes.

Then slowly stir in 1 teaspoon of vanilla and a cup of peanuts. Drop mixture by spoonful onto waxed paper and allow to cool. (If you can wait.)

TAFFY WITH PEANUTS: One cup of sugar, one third cup of molasses, one third cup of water. Stir over quick heat until dissolved, then bring to the hard ball stage (280 degrees on candy thermometer).

Add one half teaspoon vinegar and 2 tablespoons of butter. Spread chopped peanuts in a buttered pan, then pour the taffy over them. When it is cool, cut into pieces.

CANDIED APPLES: Select hard crunchy apples with red skins. Then make syrup by stirring over slow heat 2 cups of sugar, 1 cup of water, one quarter teaspoon cream of tartar or two thirds cup light corn syrup until dissolved. Then cook quickly without stirring until syrup reaches crack stage (310 degrees). Remove syrup from stove and add four drops of lemon juice and a few drops of red coloring. Put pot into cold water to check boiling, then into hot water to keep it from hardening, and start dipping apples.

Put wooden sticks into them first, of course, and put them on a well-greased surface to harden.

Leather Takes Spotlight in Many Styles, Colors

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

Leather today isn't at all satisfied to stand pat as a useful material. It's new decoration for the home in its idea-full new uses for so many types of furniture, contemporary as well as traditional, and even for floors, walls, screens, and unusual accessories.

Leathers themselves are tufted, quilted, tooled and antiqued in new ways, in both dull and glossy finishes tanned by new processes to include the microth, which has unusual resistance to soil and stains.

More than 400 leather colors are sampled in the 1934 Leather in Decoration exhibition, which begins its tour of stores all over the country this month.

Twelve room settings designed by well-known interior decorators are featured in the show. The setting sketched at the preview in Chicago, designed by Eleanor Forbes, AID shows how smoothly an expert can combine a wide variety of ideas and materials.

The furniture is teak-finished oak, bound with rawhide. Chairs fold and have removable leather sling backs and seats.

Of ancient Far East origin is the paneled Shoji screen and the scroll which hangs on a red-wood wall, but the effect of the setting is contemporary.

Mrs. J. H. P. — "Which of these three ideas is best for French doors in my kitchen: Cafe curtains in two tiers, cafe curtains at the bottom of the doors and bamboo blinds at the top, or the blinds all the way down?"

The tier curtains are attractive, but will the loose folds be in the way as the doors are opened and closed? Outside corners of the curtains might be attached to the doors.

A combination of curtains and blinds seems over-complicated for doors and serves no special purpose.

Full-length bamboo or wood slat blinds, which may be in color, are a good idea and may be most convenient because their weight makes them hang straight down.

Mrs. C. R. — "The walls and ceiling of my kitchen are bud green and the cabinets are natural finished red fir with red marbleized tile on the counter tops. What color should I choose for the floor linoleum and for curtains?"

Do you prefer a light floor or a dark one? The floor could be a shade like the wood color with touches of green and red matching the walls or slightly deeper with touches of red and black.

Black marbleized linoleum would be effective also, to set off the other, lighter color scheme shades. White curtains trimmed in red or a white background print would tie in scheme shades.

Guests Left in the Dark About Party

Arrive Informally, Meet Strangers in Evening Clothes

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "Last week a near neighbor of ours telephoned and said that if my husband and I weren't doing anything Friday evening she would like us to come over. I told her we would be there."

"These neighbors are intimate friends of ours and from her casual invitation, I thought we would spend the evening sitting alone chatting, so we didn't bother to dress. When we arrived, we found a number of people present who were strangers to us and all in evening clothes."

"When I saw this I felt very much out of place and told the host (who was standing in the hall) that we were not dressed for a party, and we left without going into the living room."

"The next day the hostess called and said that I had embarrassed her in front of her other guests and that I was very rude to have left so abruptly."

"I told her that I was very disappointed but that she was at fault for not telling us that there was to be a party. I would like to know, Mrs. Post, who was right and who was wrong?"

Answer: I have to agree that she was remiss in leading you to believe they would be alone. On the other hand, it would have been far more friendly had you gone in as you were and, explaining that you had no idea you were coming to a party, say that you were sorry not to be in evening clothes.

Or perhaps, if you and your husband can dress quickly, you could have hurried to your neighbor's house, changed your clothes and returned.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am taking a course in ballroom dancing which will be completed soon. I would like to know if it would be proper to give the dance instructor a tip at the end of the course in appreciation for his patience with me.

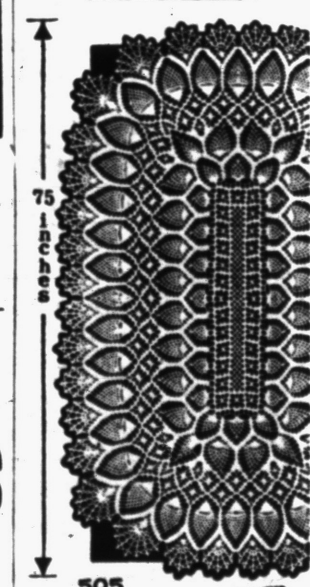

Answer: If it is customary for pupils in your particular school to tip the instructor, then yes; otherwise (and usually) no!

Dear Mrs. Post: How do I introduce my new husband to friends who do not know my married name?

Answer: Usually you introduce him merely as "my husband." If in doubt about their knowing his name you add, "His name is John Jones."

Bleach Silverware

Those ugly coffee stains on dinnerware need worry you no longer. With a plastic spoon or bottle cap (filled twice), add 1 teaspoon of bleach to the detergent you use in a regular wash cycle of your dishwasher. This solution will cause the coffee stain to vanish but will not affect your silverware. Works like magic!

Columnist Raps U. S. Custom of Exalting Movie Actresses, Heiresses

If We Want
Royalty, We Can Hire It
But We Shouldn't
Expect Perfection
From Phony Idols

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some months ago a much-married American movie star took a new husband. She was the butt of much contemptuous public criticism. For the star chose to celebrate her nuptials in a fashionable gamblers' paradise.

Now some people are outraged by the romantic optimism of an American heiress who has just taken her fifth husband. Yesterday I was asked to join my voice to the hue and cry. To my unbounded astonishment, I was asked to appear in a televised discussion of the bride's pernicious influence on American youth and the home.

Of course I do not go in for this kind of sport. For I do not consider it my business when or how movie stars and heiresses get married, so long as they obey our laws.

If we plan to continue to make their private business public business, I suggest that they be paid stipends, like royal personages.

Personally, as a citizen of this republic, I don't go for royalty, whether it's anointed by archbishops, Hollywood press agents or capital investment. I believe with Tom Paine that "exalting one person so greatly above the rest cannot be justified on the equal rights of nature nor be defended on Scriptural authority."

(And though I know our Tom is claimed by the Communists, I quote him deliberately because I permit nobody to steal my country's Revolutionary patriots from me.)

So, granting no royal exalted rank to either movie stars or heiresses, I am not morally outraged when they behave in an unroyal manner.

Remembering that I live not in a monarchy but in a republic, I find it easy to restrain my disappointed anger when these mortals, lifted to royal rank, prove themselves unworthy of the cheers, the autograph pads and the worship of their subjects.

I really must make public affairs of their private affairs let's be sensible about this exalting business like the British. Let's finish this republic — and get a royal family!

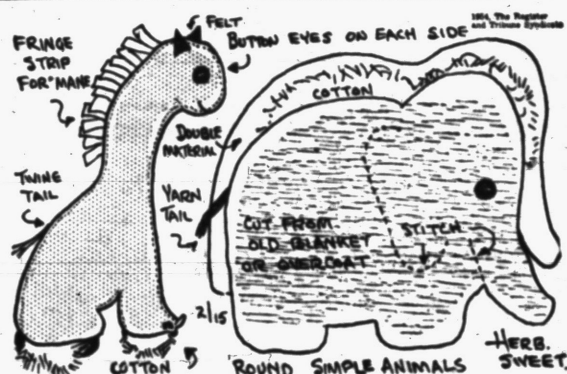

We could pick out some well-balanced folk, think of them as grander than you and I, and when they'd been trained in dignified, disciplined tasteful behavior, pay them that royal stipend in exchange for never misbehaving. Then, if they did, we'd have the right to chop off their heads — or at least their stipends.

Now we haven't. So we must stop crucifying heiresses and movie stars who fall in dignified, disciplined, tasteful behavior.

And try to remember that we have made a phony royalty out of them, not because of their moral achievements, but because they possess unearned money and photogenic facial structures.

Definitely delightful is this duo fra-toilet water, which create a velvety skin and grace confection that contains a bottle of an atmosphere of sophistication.

Try It

Sew Up Stuffedies for Tots

It has been some time since we have had anything in Try It for you to make for your younger brother or sister or even for some tiny tot in your neighborhood. Have you ever had the thrill of making something for a tiny tot? Why not see how pleased a young child is with one of these simple stuffedies?

Ask Mother if she has a worn-out blanket. She may even have an old baby blanket of yours which is gathering dust. Blankets can be used in many craft ideas, so don't throw one away, ever.

These little stuffedies made out of blankets are fine toys for they are soft and easy to wash. Look through some books and decide on what animal you want to make. Then draw a simple sketch and make a cardboard pattern from it.

Put the pattern on a double section of blanket, draw around the pattern and cut it out. Use yarn or embroidery thread to make features. Start sewing the pieces together by machine, with small, even stitches, or blanket stitches. Leave an opening for the stuffing, which can be cotton or old nylon hose; then finish the stitching. Sew on manes or tails and add button or yarn eyes. It's ready!

Consult Books on Cooking for Profit

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The big stumbling block for many women who try to make money cooking foods at home is the business of purchasing materials.

"My cakes are wonderful, and I find a ready market," a woman will tell me, "but I never seem to make any profit."

Nine times out of ten, she is figuring her expenses wrong, perhaps charging nothing for her own labor—and buying her materials unwisely.

In any business, the salesman and the production man can make and sell the product with all the skill in the world, but if the purchasing agent doesn't buy the materials wisely, the company loses money.

And your home business, even if it's just fudge you sell to neighbors and your local store, will operate the same way.

Some time back I mentioned a book called "Making Money in Your Kitchen," and it has one chapter which will help you out of this particular dilemma. It is on Buying Supplies, and the author discusses this subject thoroughly.

Another volume which you might also find helpful is called "The Practical Book of Food Shopping," by Hovey and Reynolds.

It will give you do's and don'ts which are equally applicable whether you have a huge home business or a handful of customers in your neighborhood.

Also, if you're in the thing seriously, and mean to stay with it and succeed, you might go to your library and get a real, thorough-going treatise on the whole subject of purchasing.

One of the best in the field is called "Purchasing," by Stuart F. Heintz. It covers every aspect of the purchasing field, and while quite technical, the subject is quite simply explained.

A thorough grounding in the subject will be helpful for any project you undertake, and will also give you a good foundation for careful buying the rest of your life.

So many of us women are really the purchasing agents for the family, and it is good to adopt a businesslike approach to this highly important part of everyday life.

And remember, before you consider starting any home project on which you wish to make money, give careful consideration to the buying of all materials and supplies which you will use.

If you don't, you may find yourself working your head off and losing money.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

When you walk into a roomful of acquaintances don't act a lot more pleased to see one than the rest. Unless, of course, there is an obvious reason for it—such as greeting someone who has just returned from a trip, or who has just been released from a hospital. When in a group always try to appear to be just as pleased to see one person as another.

Vacation for Ike at Palm Springs

Official Verifies Report of Presidential Flight to California

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower, just back from a week-end of quail hunting in Georgia, may travel to California this week for a brief vacation at Palm Springs.

The White House continued today to decline comment on reports about a Palm Springs visit, but a government official who asked not to be named said preliminary arrangements for such a trip by plane are just about completed.

The Los Angeles Examiner said it had learned that Eisenhower will arrive at the California resort Friday. The Los Angeles Times also said the President planned a visit of a week or 10 days. Arrangements reportedly were made for him to stay at the Smoke Tree Ranch of Paul G. Hoffman, board chairman of the Studebaker Corp.

Hoffman, former chief of the government's foreign aid program, was an adviser to Eisenhower during the presidential campaign.

The President was said to be definitely planning a visit to Hoffman's place, but the timing reportedly is uncertain.

With the Senate scheduled to start voting later in the week on various compromise versions of the controversial Bricker amendment on treaty powers, the President was pictured as uncertain whether to leave Washington until that issue has been resolved. Efforts are continuing to find a compromise he would agree to.

Eisenhower flew back to the Capital last night after a weekend of quail shooting at the plantation estate of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. The estate is located near Thomasville, Ga., close to the Florida line.

Building Burns to Ground as Russian Troops Gawk

VIENNA, Austria (U)—A film projector set a requisitioned clubhouse for Russian soldiers' afire last night, sending several score Soviet troops rushing out of the building.

Vienna firemen said the building burned to the ground because the Russians didn't call them until the blaze had been burning for half an hour.

Several Red soldiers were reportedly injured.

Officers to Weigh Marine Flier's Fate

WASHINGTON (U)—Four Marine generals and a Navy admiral tomorrow begin considering what should be done about Col. Frank H. Schwable, who signed a bacteriological warfare "confession" while a prisoner of the Communists in Korea.

The high-ranking officers constitute a court of inquiry. They will not try Schwable, against whom no charges have been filed, but they could recommend that the Marine flier be tried.

Schwable said after his release he signed the false confession after the Communists degraded and exhausted him physically and mentally in a "pre-planned pattern" to break him down and condition him for this farce.

The court of inquiry was officially instructed to take into account the "unique psychological and mental factors incident to the Communist device of physical torture accompanied by mental cruelty."

Dying Won't Help HCL; Grave Digging Up $35

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (INS)—If you're looking for a way to beat the high cost of living, dropping dead won't help.

Degratt Cemetery officials announced a boost in the price of digging graves from $40 to $75. The increase was blamed on steady rising expenses.

Two Held in Slaying of Film Talent Scout

EL RENO, Okla. (U)—Two men held in the slaying of David L. Johnston, 30-year-old Hollywood talent scout, were awaiting action by Los Angeles authorities today. It is expected they will be extradited after warrants are issued and returned to Los Angeles, where authorities will question them further about the bludgeoning slaying in Johnston's suburban Los Angeles home Wednesday.

One of the men, Ronald James Maurer, a Cleveland, Ohio, resident who is AWOL from Camp Stoneman, Calif., signed a confession Saturday night admitting he and his companion, Leo J. Densmore, beat Johnston to death then escaped in the talent scout's car. Densmore refused to talk to officers, demanding to see an attorney.

In his statement, Maurer said they killed Johnston because they were refused a loan. They also said Johnston began making improper advances.

PARIS (INS)—The newspaper Paris Presse reported today that ex-King Farouk of Egypt soon may announce his forthcoming marriage to a beautiful Naples girl.

The newspaper said the pudgey, playboy monarch may wed Caprice Minutolo, an Italian beauty who has been seen with Farouk during his present visit to the Cote D'Azur.

Bill to Legalize Bingo
Expected for Discussion
by Midweek

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Legislature rounds the quarter past this week and begins to pick up tempo. Bingo, probably, leads the list of subjects which may attract the public's interest this week.

Sponsors of a Constitutional Amendment to legalize "charity" bingo and lotteries made plans to trot their pet out on the track by midweek.

Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) said he would ask the Senate Judiciary Committee this week to release his bingo proposal and announced that upwards of 50,000 signatures will be presented to the Legislature to show public support for the measure.

The signatures are being gathered by an association of fraternal, veterans and religious groups which desire to legalize bingo for money-raising purposes.

The association seeks to place the issue on the November ballot by petition, but is willing to take the legislative short cut if that is possible.

Sen. Donald W. Gilbert (R-Saginaw) said he would make his anticipated move tonight to force his lobby regulation bill out of the Senate State Affairs Committee.

The committee has twice refused to release the bill for floor debate. Gilbert said he would move to discharge the committee from further consideration of the bill, a step which has not proven successful in the Senate since 1911.

Gilbert's bill would tighten existing laws regulating lobbying.

The House faces a vote on a bill providing for a permanent Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court to be elected by the justices themselves. Under present law, the Chief Justiceship rotates among the members annually.

Opposition was reported growing to the Graves Bill to legalize the "ownership" of one-time submerged lands along the Great Lakes. His bill would permit virtual permanent leases of the land, now held by the state in trust for the people.

The Senate will debate its first appropriation measure Tuesday, the $44 million welfare grant.

On Tuesday, also, the House has scheduled debate on a revived proposal for a convention to write a new State Constitution.

THE LATEST—Parisians are getting a glimpse of Jacques Faith's latest creation in unmentionables for the femme fatale. The outfit consists of sheer black stockings with a tiny rosebud pattern and black corset with billowing petticoat in black organdy and lace.

Southern Dem Asks FBI Reports on All

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) said today Senate Judiciary Committee members who asked for an FBI report on Chief Justice Earl Warren "thought all people—big and little—should be treated alike."

Chairman Langer (R-ND) asked the Justice Department late last week for an FBI check on the former Republican governor of California. He said committee members had indicated they wanted one before acting on Warren's nomination for the nation's highest judicial office.

No senator has announced intention of voting against confirmation.

Warren, whose nomination as chief justice was sent to the Senate by President Eisenhower on Jan. 11, already is serving on the Supreme Court under a recess appointment made last fall.

The Judiciary Committee, holding its weekly closed-door meeting today, may learn whether the Justice Department has directed the FBI to go ahead with an investigation of Warren.

The Justice Department did not have the FBI probe Warren before his appointment. It has maintained it has not been customary in the case of Supreme Court justices.

Helps Police Bring In Evidence Against Him

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Anything to oblige, said T. H. (Tab) Bluejacket to state crime bureau agents who had just raided his night club near Afton.

Agent Ray Page asked Bluejacket for the use of his truck to haul in whisky and gambling equipment seized in the raid. Bluejacket not only loaned his vehicle but drove it to the courthouse.

He pleaded innocent to charges of illegal possession of liquor and gambling devices and was released on $1,000 bond.

Roosevelt Hearing Continues Today

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—More details of James Roosevelt's complex financial affairs are to be unwound today at the resumption of a court hearing on his wife's demands for $3,500 monthly support.

But if the opening session on Feb. 5 was a criterion, there won't be a mention of the dozen women with whom Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt accused her husband of being intimate.

An attempt to question Roosevelt at that time about one of the three named as co-respondents in the separate maintenance complaint was overruled by superior Judge Kurtz Kauffman who said the actual trial is the place for that. Nine other women are listed in a letter signed by Roosevelt in 1945 and filed by his wife with her complaint.

Although there have been repeated rumors of an out-of-court settlement during the 10 days this hearing has been in adjournment, Roosevelt's attorney said no meetings are scheduled with Mrs. Roosevelt's lawyers prior to the scheduled court reopening, at 1:30 p.m. EST.

"Two Cups for a Nickel!"

Facts You Should Know About the Price of Coffee Today

A cup of COFFEE! No other beverage is so American. Coffee is as much a part of the American scene as the "hot dog" or a piece of apple pie. That is why all of us are so concerned every time the price of coffee goes up. This is not the fault of your grocer. When coffee costs him more, he has to charge you more. And when it comes down, he quickly reduces the price to you.

The price of roasted coffee is beyond our control, too! We don't like increasing coffee prices any better than you do. But the cost of green coffee is the largest single factor in setting the price at which roasted coffee can be sold. And, to keep your grocer's shelf stocked with Hills Bros. Coffee, we have no other choice but to pay the going price for the top-quality green coffees that we select for our blend.

Here is what has been causing green coffee prices to keep on going up for the past seven years.

There is no coffee grown in the continental United States. All of the green coffee beans roasted in this country have to be imported—mostly from South and Central America. The use of coffee in the United States has increased by one-third in the past ten years, and, with the constantly growing desire for more coffee in Europe since the end of World War II, the huge supplies of green coffee which used to exist in the producing countries have disappeared. Figures from all sources show that gradually but surely we have been approaching the point where the United States and other countries which do not grow any coffee are now wanting to buy more coffee than the producing countries are able to supply.

The coffee-growing countries are aware of this, and they have been very active in starting to grow more coffee. But it takes five years for a coffee tree to come into full bearing, and only a part of the millions upon millions of new trees that have been planted are beginning to produce much coffee.

In this race between supply and demand, the most recent misfortune of all was the damaging frost which hit Brazil—the largest producing country—in July, 1953, which is winter in the Southern Hemisphere. All reports indicate that the frost actually killed off or set back many of the young trees, and inflicted serious harm to older good-producing trees in some areas. Because of this damage, the crop to be harvested this year will be much smaller than hoped for. Hence, the "Coffee World" is now going through a period of "tight supply" and increasing of prices. But we look forward to the day when larger crops will bring relief . . . and coffee prices will be on the way down again.

Today nearly everybody seems to think the price of coffee is "too high." One reason it does look high right now is because for many years the price of green coffee was so low it hardly covered the cost of planting, growing, picking from the trees, and all the steps that have to be gone through in getting green coffee ready for export. That was in the days when there was more green coffee in the producing countries than the world market could use.

When you get right down to it, the real worth of any pound of coffee is something that has to be determined by individuals, and that, of course, depends to a great extent on their own ideas about coffee and how much they enjoy it.

Have you ever thought about the cost of coffee this way? When brewed at the standards of measurement recommended by the Coffee Brewing Institute, Inc. (2 level tablespoons of coffee to each 6-oz. cup of water), a pound of coffee will make 40 full-strength cups. So, even with coffee around a dollar a pound, coffee prepared at home costs only about 2½ cents a cup . . . TWO CUPS FOR A NICKEL.

Even if coffee were to cost as much as 3 cents per cup, it would still be among the least expensive of all beverages. And what else served in the American home gives so much satisfaction—to so many people—at such little cost—as a cup of good coffee!

To guarantee full enjoyment of each cup of coffee that you serve in your home, be sure to choose Hills Bros. Coffee—the brand you can rely on, pound after pound . . . day after day. Brew your coffee carefully . . . and avoid waste.

Regardless of what it may be necessary for us to pay in the world market for the kinds of green coffee which we require, it is the determined policy of our company that we will continue to maintain the traditionally high quality of Hills Bros. Coffee and sell it to your retail grocer at the lowest possible price.

ONE THEY LEFT BEHIND—Found roaming the streets in Republican-held Washington, D. C., this forlorn-looking donkey is led to the police station where he was given the facts of political life. Policeman George Andrasik holds the rope, while his partner, Robert L. Rabe, drives.

Hal Boyle Says:

Life From Birth to Death Nothing but Salesmanship

NEW YORK (AP)—"If you're living, you're excited," said John William Rollins. "And if you aren't excited, you aren't living."

Life is getting more exciting all the time for Rollins, who learned to milk a cow at the age of 4 and now, at 37, is lieutenant governor of Delaware and runs business enterprises that bring in 15 million dollars a year.

As a boy in Georgia he walked barefoot nine miles to school each day. Today he flies 250,000 miles a year in his own airplane, can buy all the shoes he wants. He controls a few automobile agencies, four radio stations, an electronics factory, and one of the nation's largest car leasing firms.

Rollins is a 6-foot-3 210-pounder who looks like a boilermaker. In fact in his jack-of-all-trades career he was a boilermaker.

"I've also been a farmer and a door-to-door vegetable peddler," he said. "And I've been a ditch digger, a road laborer, a machinist, an ordnance inspector for the government, a plant supervisor, a radio announcer, and a salesman—but I guess mostly a salesman."

"Whatever field you go into, it comes down to salesmanship. You start selling when you're born, you quit when you die. What is a baby doing with its first cry, except trying to sell somebody the idea it needs something?"

Rollins quit farming in 1935 when his entire crop for that year sold for only $20. He climbed slowly from job to job and got his real start in 1944 when he opened a car agency in Delaware with $1,000 he'd saved and $10,000 he borrowed.

Now he leases thousands of cars and trucks as a transportation specialist to firms in every state. He also leases airplanes to executives of companies who don't want to tie up their capital by buying a plane.

When he went into politics, Rollins requested the State of Delaware to give no business to any of his firms and ordered his own executives to accept no state contracts.

"Nobody ought to go into politics for personal gain," he said. "But I think every businessman who has been as fortunate as I have owes it to his town and state to participate in politics. Politics is only as good as those in it."

As to America's business future, Rollins observed: "Businessmen ate high on the hog for 10 years, and some forgot how to sell. They took too much from the customer for what they gave him, and now they'll just have to give him more for his money."

"We have to go back to selling in everything. There is nothing wrong with this country that a million good salesmen can't cure. The people still have money in the bank."

"But some businessmen got into so many bad habits, I don't know whether they can go back to being salesmen again. But all that means is a bigger chance for the young fellow who hasn't learned any bad business habits."

HOW AMERICA IS CHANGING

Omaha, Nebraska. Population 251,117

Each month we are adding an Omaha to our population

LAST YEAR, the average monthly increase of our population was 225,000—representing a city roughly the size of Dayton, Ohio; Richmond, Virginia; Omaha, Nebraska; or Long Beach, California.

This great population growth is one of many exciting changes in America during the last decade. Our whole scale of living has been changing, too. We have been building more homes, getting more education, making more money. As a result, we now have much more to protect.

And the life insurance business is keeping pace and is constantly growing more flexible to meet our new needs.

The life insurance companies are continuously making life insurance available to more people. Constant study of health and occupational hazards has shown that insurance protection can be offered to hundreds of thousands who could not have qualified under standards of some years ago. Today, 97 out of every 100 applications are accepted.

All told, there are 90 million policyholders in America. They own life insurance primarily to cover the expenses that occur at death and to provide an income for their families. Beyond that, they are using it to make sure the mortgage will be paid off, or to assure funds for the children's education, or to provide retirement income.

A suggestion: Have your needs or circumstances changed? Have you looked over your life insurance to see how it stacks up with your present way of living and the goals you and your family have set for yourselves?

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form under the name of Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

MSC Project May Produce Wilt-proof Potato

EAST LANSING (INS)—Michigan State College researchers are conducting a potato breeding project which may lead to a hybrid that is resistant to new wilt diseases.

Scientists report more than one thousand seedlings have been tested in the field and that about 50 have shown considerable resistance to the diseases.

Both diseases are carried in the seed tuber and also live from year to year in the soil. Because of this, they are immune to attack by seed treatment or spraying.

The diseases caused heavy damage last year.

Loss Unestimated in Fire That Razed Trailer Home

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Loss remained unestimated today in the fire which destroyed the 30-foot trailer home and all the belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burwell on Wixom road Saturday night.

Millford volunteer firemen were able to save a second trailer, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith, parked 10 feet away.

Mrs. Burwell, who was cooking supper when the blaze started, was nearly trapped. When flames leaped from the undercarriage of the trailer she ran outside.

Remembering the family puppy, Rags, she ran back inside and to the rear of the trailer, looking for the dog.

The heat was so intense, however, that she tried to leave through the back door. But the door was locked and burning so she ran back to the front door, which had snapped shut after she re-entered. She smashed through the door, landing on the ground outside. The dog died in the flames.

Only 4 Disloyal in U. S. Treasury

But 130 Are Fired as Security Risks in 1953, Congress Is Informed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Department has informed Congress that out of 130 "security" dismissals or forced resignations in 1953, four were found to be "disloyal persons" under standards since scrapped.

The information was given to the House Appropriations Committee, which published it today, by Elbert P. Tuttle, acting security officer for the department, which has about 77,000 employees. The committee was considering the department's budget request.

A man doesn't have to be disloyal to be classed as a security risk, Tuttle said. He might be given a "dangerous" rating if he were a "rugged individual" with a mother behind the Iron Curtain, he added.

In a separate report on the customs service, whose 5,000 employees supervise imports into the United States, it was disclosed that six persons were dismissed last year as security risks. Customs Commissioner David B. Strubinger said all six appeared to have had "contact" with Communists.

Tuttle gave the information about the Treasury Department security dismissals under repeated demands from Rep. Gary (D-Va.).

A number of Democrats in Congress have protested that Republicans have sought to give the impression that most of the 2,200 persons the administration says were dropped from the government's payroll last year under its security program were subversives. Democrats claim a big majority of the 2,200 resigned or were fired for reasons other than loyalty and that many of them simply transferred to other government agencies.

Occupants of the home, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Brooks, were not at home when the fire occurred. The building was covered by insurance, according to its owner Charles Burke.

Claims Foreigners Get Social Security

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) charged today that many people who never lived in this country are receiving checks from the U. S. government every month in social security benefits.

The congressman charged the U. S. is paying 15 million dollars a year to people living abroad.

The chairman of the House social security subcommittee stated, in a copyrighted interview with "U. S. News and World Report," that of 24 thousand beneficiaries outside the U. S., exclusive of the Philippines, "fewer than 8,000 are known to be American citizens."

He said many of them have never been in the United States. Curtis explained that under a 1950 law, a foreigner working in the U. S. COULD BEC EL FOR the maximum $85 a month social security benefits by paying as little as $81 in social security taxes.

Prep Cagers Seek Revenge

By JACK SAYLOR
Revenge will be the by-word for several Oakland County prep basketball teams Tuesday night.
Five quintets are out to beat teams they lost to the last time around, but Clarkson's bid carries the greatest importance. Wolves are pointing at Northville, the Wayne-Oakland League leader.

Clarkston dropped a tough 52-36 decision to the Mustangs last month and that is the last time the Wolves were beaten. Don Mauti has rallied his forces into a 6-game winning streak and a virtual tie for 2nd place in the W.O.

Northville won a big one from Milford Friday night and can clinch no worse than a tie for the crown by beating Clarkson. Dick Key's team has won seven straight.

Wolves must stop Glen Howarth and Ed Nash to halt Northville's title dash. Juniors figure prominently in Clarkson plans as Gordon Cascadden, Dick Johnston, Pat Thompson and Lanny Leak team with seniors Ron Sheber, Pete Thompson and Bill Dunstan.

JUNIORS GET POINTERS—Clarkston High faces its most crucial test of the prep basketball season Tuesday night at Northville. Mustangs can clinch at least a tie for the Wayne-Oakland championship by beating Clarkson. Wolves must win to keep any title hopes alive. Clarkson coach Dominic Mauti has leaned heavily on juniors in directing his club to 9 wins in 12 games. From the left are Pat Thompson, Dick Johnston, Mauti, Gordon Cascadden and Lanny Leak.

Clarkston and Holly are trying the hard way—on the enemy floor, but Waterford, Troy and Ortonville will enjoy the benefits of their home courts.

Only other loss on the Troy record was a 52-45 contest at Birmingham. Colts' 10-2 mark is one of Class B's best. Ortonville wants to avenge an early-season 38-31 loss at Oxford and Holly would like to get even with Brighton for a 48-31 licking.

Clarkston and Holly are trying the hard way—on the enemy floor, but Waterford, Troy and Ortonville will enjoy the benefits of their home courts.

Pontiac could salvage some consolation for an otherwise unproductive season by ending Ferndale's undefeated string at 11 games. Chiefs also play in their own gym. Keego also is at home to Lake Orion, while Milford travels to Clarenceville.

The schedule:

Hawks Doomed to NHL Cellar by 5-0 Defeat

Red Wings Pound Final Nail in 'Coffin' With Shutout Sunday

CHICAGO (UP) — It's official now. The Chicago Black Hawks will NOT play in the Stanley Cup series.

Detroit Red Wings pounded the final nail in Chicago's coffin Sunday night by blanking the Hawks 5-0. Loss was Chicago's 40th in 56 games and left the Hawks 14 1/2 games behind 4th-place Boston with only 14 games left to play.

First four teams in the final National Hockey League standings get into the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Detroit was held scoreless during the last two periods before exploding for five goals in the final frame. It was goalie Terry Sawchuk's 10th shutout of the season, tops in the NHL so far.

However, Sawchuk had to work for his shutout. He kicked out 17 shots during the first period alone and wound up with a total of 38 saves. Chicago's Al Rollins was credited with 32 saves.

Marcel Pronovost got the 1st Detroit goal on a 15-foot shot at 2:18 of the final period. Then, all within the next 10 minutes, teammates Johnny Wilton, Glen Skov and Gordie Howe blinked the red light. Howe got the final marker with 51 seconds left in the game.

It was Detroit's 8th win over Chicago in 11 season starts. Victory put the Wings four games in front of second-place Toronto.

Rhubarb Sidelines Pair Rivals Banished, Olson Wins U.S. Skating Title

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP)—With fists as well as blades flashing, the National Indoor Skating championships came to an interesting end last night.

Bob Olson, 20-year-old skater from Glendale, Calif., won the senior men's crown with 150 points on four firsts, a second and a third.

Baxter Shows Heels to Pros With Sub-Par 67 in Texas Test

LAREDO, Tex. (UP)—Tall Rex Baxter, Amarillo, Tex., amateur, stepped into tough senior golf competition with a bang yesterday when he whipped out a 5-under-par 67 to win the $3,000 Laredo Open with a 36-hole total of 137.

The 18-year-old showed his heels to the pros following the winter tour with a burst of sub-par shooting. He became the second amateur to finish on top in a tournament along the winter tour—Gene Littler won at San Diego then turned pro.

Rex was one of four amateurs winding up among the top eight finishers in the shortened tournament that took the place of the Tucson Open. Wesley Ellis of San Antonio tied for second place with Dick Turner, San Angelo, Tex. professional, each shooting 138.

Horace Ashenfelter Rated Threat to 3-Mile Record

NEW YORK (UP)—Horace Ashenfelter, new world indoor two-mile record holder, said today he would not try to set a three-mile mark in the national championships Saturday—but if it comes his way, well, that's fine.

"It's hard to reach the peak for a world record two weeks in a row," said Ash, who Saturday shaved two-tenths of a second off Fred Wilt's double-mile mark. Horace ran the distance in 8:56.5 in the New York AC games in Madison Square Garden.

Greg Rice holds the present three-mile record, 13:45.7, set 12 years ago. Horace already has raced the three miles in 13:47.5, just 1.8 seconds off the mark, so whenever he starts he's a threat.

Wilt, for his part, helped Horace break his own record by indicating whether his brother G-man was ahead or behind his scheduled 66-second quarters.

Josy Barthel, Luxembourg's budding gift to the Harvard Graduate School, won the Baxter mile in 4:08.5, rather slow for him. He beat out Wilt by about 15 yards.

Riharb Paces Falcon 5 to Top; Koprince Ties in All Events

Pontiac's Polish Falcons took 1st place in the team division of the Knights of Columbus state bowling tournament at Motor Inn Recreation over the weekend.

Falcons were one of three city quintets to crash the top 10. Don's Service shot 2998 for 6th place and Forster took hit 2977 for 10th. Falcons opened with a 1176 game and continued to a 2199 to overtake Royal Oak's Sullivan and Sons by 147 pins.

Chuck Riharb led the Pontiac team to the top with a 255 game and a 627 series. Other members of the leading team are Fred and Frank Wygoski and Mike and Fred Figa.

Lou Koprince, rolling on his own alleys, tied for the all events lead at 1953. Riharb moved into the 4th spot in this division with 1947. Clement and Berkley retained the doubles lead, but Koenig and Fowler of Pontiac hit a 4th place tie with 1778.

AASA Suggests Dropping Post-Season Events

Indicts 'Bad Practices' That Mar Athletics in Many Schools

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP)—Many bouquets and a few brickbats today greeted an education commission report calling on U. S. public schools to cut out the carnival aspects of their athletic programs.

The 116-page report—three years in the making—was presented here yesterday at the annual convention of the American Assn. of School Administrators (AASA).

The far-reaching report carried an eight-point indictment of the "bad practices that mar athletics in too many American schools today." Those practices include "pampering" athletes, whipping up student frenzy before games and exploiting athletic competition as "a good show to be sold to the public as vaudeville."

The Educational Policies Commission, a group of leading U. S. educators who wrote the report, did not attack athletics as such. On the contrary, they made it clear "that the experience of playing athletic games should be a part of the education of all children and youth who attend school in the United States."

It should be a part of education, but not an all-out, dominating part.

The commission fired its heaviest criticism at postseason tournaments and recommended that high schools abolish them.

Several educators and laymen were quick to turn down the recommendation.

In a discussion following the report, H. V. Porter of Chicago said there is no reason why postseason playoffs should not continue since "administrators can correct whatever may be wrong in the tournaments."

Porter is executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Assns.

Putter Carries Hanson to Win

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—Making the most of a sparkling putting game, Beverly Hanson beat Babe Zaharias on the 3rd hole of a sudden death playoff to win the 54-hole St. Petersburg women's open golf tournament.

Miss Hanson made a nifty 2nd shot and canned a 10-foot putt on the 21st hole yesterday for a birdie 3 and the victory.

When the money prizes in the $3,500 Open were presented, the Babe said, "Beb deserved to win. I never saw such a beautiful putter working as she had today."

And the Babe also had something to say about her own game. She remarked in an aside that this was the 4th tournament she had played since her operation for cancer last summer and doctors told her she might never play tournament golf again.

"I found out today I can play tournament golf," she beamed.

17th Record for Mihalo

DETROIT (UP)—Veteran walking champion Bill Mihalo took his 17th international trophy and record Sunday in the two-mile world's professional walking championship. His record time was 13 minutes, 45 seconds, breaking the old mark of 13:39 set in 1883 by J. W. Raby at Little Bridge, England.

NEW YORK—As March and spring training draw nearer, there is one factor you can bank on. Bucky Harris' Washington Senators are going to bother quite a number of ball clubs. They are going to slip a bale of trouble to the Yankees, Red Sox, Indians and White Sox. And they are going to do this with pitchers they got from the Yankees and Red Sox.

These pitchers are Bob Porterfield, Frank Shea and Maurice McDermott. This trio won 51 games last summer, working with teams far from the pennant battle.

Relay Record Falls in UM Swimming Rout

Jones Wins 2 Events as Wolverines Drown MSC, 69-24

By PRESS WIRE SERVICES
University of Michigan swimmers routed Michigan State, 69-24, at Ann Arbor Saturday night in the final home dual meet of Matt Mann's coaching career.

Wolverine tankers sped to a new national collegiate record for the 400-yard free style event as Ron Gora, Tom Benner, newcomer Jack Wardrop and Don Hill did it in 3 minutes, 21.9 seconds.

Wardrop, one of Mann's Scottish twins, replaced Burwell (Bumpy) Jones of Pontiac on the relay combination. Jones took firsts in both the 22-yard and 44-yard free style events.

Jones swam the 220 in 2:09.4 and the 440 in 4:50.7. Wolverines took 1st in every event except one—the breast stroke which John Dudeck of MSC won. Jack Wardrop barely missed a record in the individual medley (Jones' usual event) as he nipped his brother, Bert, by a half-stroke.

Jack Wardrop's time was 1:30.3.

Selvy Eyes Last of Major Collegiate Scoring Records

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (UP)—Furman's fabulous Frank Selvy isn't through yet. The terror of the Carolinas—and darling of the professional scouts—steps on the court against Wofford on his home grounds tomorrow night and if he scores 17 points, the last of the major records within his grasp will be his.

Right now, Johnny O'Brien, the ex-Seattle sharpshooter, holds the single-season scoring high of 884 points for major colleges. Frank, who poured 100 points through the hoop against Newberry Saturday, now has 883 points.

With his 100-point orgy, Selvy accomplished the following:
1. Broke the single-game record of 73 points for a major college player set by Bill Milvey of Temple in 1951.
2. Established an all-time career record for a college player with 2,197 points (in less than three years), breaking the standard of 2,154 made by Jim Lacy of Loyola of Baltimore (in four years).
3. Broke the major college record of 1,540 for two seasons set by Dick Groat of Duke.

Frank's great show also might have long-range consequences. Furman now is very much in the running for a bid to the National Invitation Tournament in Madison Square Garden next month.

Thirty-six teams will play in the NIT and NCAA competitions—24 in the NCAA and 12 in the NIT. Duquesne, Dayton and Western Kentucky already are in the NIT. Furman probably will be invited as will Bevo Francis and his Rio Grande outfit. Bevo scored "only" 58 points against Salem Saturday.

Matmen Meet in Return Bout

Perva, Mystery Man Collide in Feature of Wednesday's Show

Pittsburgh's Ted Perva and the Mystery Man will meet in a return bout to feature Wednesday night's wrestling show at the Pontiac Armory.

Mystery Man defeated Perva last week, when the Pittsburgh grappler knocked himself out on a ring turnbuckle.

Detrotter Lou Klein will meet Chris Averoff of Greece and Seymour Koenig of New York City will take on Hassan Bey of Turkey in preliminary matches. Averoff is a protégé of former champion Jim Londos, and is now called the "New Golden Greek." Londos was the original "Golden Greek."

Card is scheduled to start at 8:30 p.m.

Scoring Extremes Mark Boys' Club Loop Action

Six games, ranging from a 49-point rout to a couple of 1-point thrillers, were played Saturday in Pontiac Boys' Club leagues.

Eugene Gildumb collected 16 points to lead Hobbes to a 53-4 victory over Warriors, and Doormats trampled Jets, 55-11, in Junior play.

Don Gotz sank a basket in the final seconds to give Hot Shots a 26-24 edge over Chiefs in the Pee Wee division. Hot Rods scraped past Vikings, 23-22, in another Pee-Wee tilt. In intermediate action, Bums downed Short Shots, 49-40, and Misfits won a 27-26 triumph over St. Mary on Art Larson's last-minute basket.

Six More Winners

Third race of the 3rd period of roller events at Rolladium rink, during the weekend resulted in selection of six more winners.

Those taking top places included: Class A—Charles Roehm and Sandra Easton; Class B—Garry McDowell and Charette Titus; Class C—Jerry Alonzo and Sylvia Field.

PHS Five Faces Another Leading Power Tuesday

Unbeaten Dales Here for Non-League Game With Chiefs

Pontiac High's basketball team—playing one of the toughest schedules in the state this season—faces another undefeated Class A powerhouse Tuesday night, when Ferndale comes here for a non-league tilt.

Ferndale, boasting a perfect record in 11 starts, last week was ranked 8th in the state by the United Press. Chiefs previously have met Highland Park, rated No. 1, and Lansing Sexton, No. 2.

Sparkling of the Railplitter quintet through 11 straight victories has been captain Tom Turner, a 6-foot 2-inch forward. Turner has averaged nearly 15 points this year.

Rounding out Coach Roy Burkhardt's well-balanced lineup is Dick McKinney (5-9) at forward, John Scott (6-2) at center, and Walt Johns (5-11) and Mark Rudman (5-11) at guards.

Tuesday's varsity game, scheduled for 8 p. m., will be preceded by a jayvee contest at 6:30 p. m.

Ronald Reagan to Make Debut in Night Club

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Tonight Ronald Reagan, of all people, opens at a night club act in Las Vegas. And though he likes the look, he deplores the new Hollywood system that sends movie stars to other mediums.

I talked with him before he left for his Las Vegas date, and he is a fellow who is vocal about his opinions. One thing he decries is the way studios have pared down their star lists to a minimum. Among those who will soon be hitting the free-lance road are Clark Gable, Greer Garson, and Richard Widmark.

"I think it's a great mistake," says the onetime president of the Screen Actors Guild. "This business was built on the basis of offering the public stars they could see nowhere else. The stars of each studio became trade-marks which the movie goers recognized and admired."

"But now the studios are driving us into other mediums. Few actors are supported by the studios alone. The others have to spread themselves into radio, TV, legit theater, night clubs and wherever their services are in demand."

"The result is that there's no novelty in seeing most actors on the screen. A person will certainly think twice before paying to see a movie with a star he has seen so often in other mediums."

Reagan is unabashed about his night club debut, despite the fact that he is no singer or dancer and could scarcely qualify as a comedian. He has teamed with an act called the Continentals, and they do some knock-about comedy, soft-shoe and barbershop singing. Reagan will also give out with a monologue such as he has delivered at countless benefits.

Never afraid to tackle a controversial subject, he has led his fellow actors in a campaign against the flood of benefits that actors are besieged with.

"Mind you, I'm not against worthy causes," he remarked. "No single group in America has given more time to helping to raise money for charity than have actors. They have given unselfishly of their time."

"But I am against the 'benefit bureaucrats' who make their living—and a very good one—by lining up free talent for charity appearances. These individuals actually become producers, promising to set up shows and deliver scores of stars to appear without charge."

He added that the biggest abuse of talent is the telethon: "When you consider the hundreds of performers that appear over an 18 or 24-hour period and the size of the audience, the net return comes to something like a nickel a head. That's a pretty puny amount."

"Whatever happened to the good old American custom of simply giving for a worthy cause? Why does entertainment have to be given in return?"

18 Movie Stars to Attend Film Festival in Brazil

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Eighteen motion picture personalities will fly from here Thursday to attend the first Brazilian International Film Festival at Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo Feb. 20 to March 3.

The Hollywood delegation will include: Gilbert Adrian, Robert Cummings, Irene Dunne, Rhonda Fleming, Joan Fontaine, Janet Gaynor, June Haver, Jeffrey Hunter, Mervyn Leroy, Jeanette MacDonald, Fred MacMurray, Ann Miller, Walter Pidgeon, Jane Powell, Gene Raymond, Edward G. Robinson, Barbara Rush and Collier Young.

Early in the history of the U. S., most of the states had laws disenfranchising those in the military or naval services because of a general fear of military domination.

TRICKY SOLO—Since Conductor Leopold Stokowski appealed for a Jew's harpist to perform a tricky solo for Charles Ives' symphony, "Holiday," on Feb. 21, Tedi Thurman demonstrates her playing ability to Oliver Daniel. Miss Thurman, a Hollywood actress, has played the "harp" since she was a child in Midville, Ga., which seems to qualify the young lady for a try at the auditions which are to be held in New York on Feb. 16.

Hemingway Profile: Good Man Gone Stale

By BILLY ROSE

Today, at the risk of offending practically everybody, I would like to enter a minority report on the writer known as "Papa."

Not that I am any less fond of Ernest Hemingway than the next fellow. I was distressed when I read of the plane crash in Africa, and the next day when "Papa" turned up in El Morocco or the Stork.

Seldom does Hemingway concern himself with the time-resistant truths about unspic-tacular people and the loony culture they live in.

Had Ernest Hemingway stayed in one place as William Faulkner stayed in Mississippi, there's no telling how great a contribution he might have made to his time.

Had he made his life in a place where he had roots or could grow some, and written in a home instead of a tourist lodge, who knows?—he might have received the Nobel Prize for Literature which went to Faulkner.

Faulkner has spent his life in one state, most of it in one county which he has nicknamed "Yoknapatawpha." The geographic breadth which is Hemingway's meat and drink, Faulkner has sacrificed in favor of neighborhood depth.

As a consequence, Faulkner has written a series of books about the fantastic place he calls home, and I make so bold as to predict that these books will be bread-and-butter reading to people a century from now when Hemingway, if he is remembered at all, will be remembered as a quirky phenomenon of a quirky era.

As one of his fans from way back—and I know this is pure presumption—I would suggest that "Papa" burn his Baedeker and concentrate on seeing one square yard of earth and seeing it whole.

He has seen enough of jungles, battlefields and carnival sites—always on the run. Hemingway is darn near our most gifted word "magician," and he has no business wasting his talent on beautifully written Fitzpatrick travelogues when humanity is heart-deep in dilemmas which need changing, molding or at least explaining away.

To sum up: It's about time "Papa" stopped acting like "Junior."

(Copyright, 1954)

As I see it, Hemingway's technicolor phase is largely due to his disinterest in the nine-to-five anxieties of ordinary people. Unless a man has football shoulders and acres of hair on his chest prominently displayed, he's a "square" as far as Hemingway is concerned.

State Residents Pay Record Tax

Revenue Department Releases Levy Figures for Last Year

LANSING (U)—Michigan residents paid a record $4,283,200,000 in taxes in the fiscal year ending last June 30, the State Revenue Department estimated today.

Actually, the Department said, the State sent $6,602,600,000 to Federal, State and Local treasuries—but it computed that only 58.9 per cent of this total was actually paid by Michigan people, the rest includes Federal excise taxes paid in other states on autos, but collected in Michigan and similar factors.

Of the more than four and a quarter billion dollars paid by Michigan residents and businesses, the Department said $3,316,700,000 went to the Federal government, $562,200,000 went to the State and $409,300,000 went to local governments.

However, the Department wrung some of the impact out of those figures by adjusting them for the increase in the state's population, and the inflated dollar.

Through this process, the Department said that total State and Local taxes in 1953 amounted to $141.82 per capita in terms of the present day dollar—but only $74.60 per capita in terms of the 1940 dollar.

The Department declared that, using the 1940 dollar, Michigan residents paid $43.17 in 1953 to the State and $31.43 to local governments.

Total tax collections in Michigan—State, Federal and Local—increased $685 million from 1952 to 1953, but the increase was smaller than in each of two preceding years because of reduced Federal demands, the Department said.

Total State and Local taxes equalled $971 millions, the Department said of this, $409 million came from the property tax and $261 from the sales tax.

Romantic Pair, 72 and 84, Wed on Valentine Day

ARCADIA, Calif. (U)—Two young-in-heart Iowans observed Valentine's Day yesterday by getting married. The bride was 72 and the bridegroom 84.

Gamblers Given Away by Dice in the Sewer

KANSAS CITY (U)—Raiding a second-floor club room yesterday, police had to pass through three doors that were equipped with electrical devices and a peephole.

Inside the club the officers found 17 men sitting at tables. No gambling equipment was in the place. Peeking down an open sewer pipe in a restroom, the officers saw something. They stuck a wad of chewing gum on a pole and fished out five dice.

The 17 men were charged with frequenting and participating in a gambling game.

Father of POW, Who Turned Red, Dies, Tearfully

HAWTHORNE, Calif. (U)—Relatives have disclosed the death Friday of George J. Veneris, 63, whose son James is one of the 21 Korea prisoners who refuse to leave the Communists.

A daughter, Anastasia, said yesterday that Veneris "was broken-hearted after hospital attendants told him last month that Jimmy had chosen to stay with the Reds."

"We hadn't intended to let him know," she added, "but it leaked out."

Shortly before his death, said relatives, Veneris told them tearfully: "I wish I could see Jimmy once more."

Bob Considine Says:

Retiring A-Chief Deserves 21-Bomb Farewell Salute

NEW YORK (INS)—The least the Atomic Energy Commission should do for Carroll L. Tyler when he retires today is give him a 21-bomb send off.

Carroll Tyler is a good, tough, black-browed former Navy four-striper who since 1947 has masterfully held one of the world's toughest, tightest-lipped jobs. He was field director of the AEC's "Santa Fe Operations." It is a purposely obscure title.

Actually the man bossed a fantastic atomic empire that extended from the east coast of the U.S. to the Marshall Islands in the Far Pacific.

He supervised the selection and development of the nuclear test sites in Nevada, near Las Vegas, and the Eniwetok and Bikini atolls.

K. D. Nichols, general manager of all AEC interests, says in a letter reluctantly accepting Tyler's retirement request:

"... I wish to express to you my feeling concerning the outstanding record of performance that has been achieved in the weapons program since you first assumed your responsibilities. Your leadership and drive have contributed substantially to the successful execution of the many and urgent programs which have been undertaken and to the continuing achievement of the difficult goals which have been established in the weapons field. I am sure that you must have the self-satisfaction that you have made a major contribution to the United States."

It is not an overstatement to assert that this country remains unscathed by enemy A-bombs today chiefly because of Tyler and his host of colleagues and aids. Russia probably knows just about what the U.S. has achieved in the atomic weapons field, and caution has come in the wake.

The tests at Yucca Flat have been plentifully covered, if not well. The atomic cannon has been duly publicized, as have drops from 30,000 feet and tower shots. Somewhere in the search for more versatile atomic weapons we got one that went "psst!" and one that didn't even say that.

In short, during Tyler's period with AEC this country advanced from the 30 kiloton Hiroshima and Nagasaki bombs (the only type we had) to an arsenal of varied atomic and hydrogen weapons.

When a Churchill speaks of America's A-bomb and our ability to deliver it anywhere as the greatest deterrent to World War III he is not thinking of the cumbersome and inefficient monster that fell on Hiroshima. We now have a galaxy of A-weapons, each with its purpose.

Tyler, and men like him, kept us ahead in the quietest and tensest arms race in the history of man. Our salute and our thanks.

Medics Treat Wound, Find Steel in Head

STAMFORD, Conn. (U)—Physicians treating 53-year-old Lacy Baker for a stab wound in the head were puzzled when they found a one-inch piece of knife blade imbedded in his skull. The blade on the jack-knife used by Baker's assailant was intact.

Baker recalled that he had been the victim of a previous knife assault—in a fracas in Philadelphia 19 years before. The piece of steel never had bothered him, and he didn't know he'd been carrying it around.

Butterfly Enthusiast Prefers Gun to Net

PIACENZA, Italy (U)—When young Paolo Cavanna sets out with his hunting horn and gun, he's shooting butterflies, not elk. It's a new technique Cavanna claims as all his own. Collectors say it may make the butterfly net as obsolete as silent movies.

The bell-mouthed gun works on compressed air, and has a knock-out range of up to ten yards with a gas spray of ethyle or pentanol. That drops the butterfly to the ground undamaged but helpless for long enough to bag him.

To get the butterfly into range Cavanna uses a little horn that sounds in a B minor key and—no claims Cavanna—attracts not only butterflies but a whole swarm of insects, friendly and objectionable.

Without the horn, says Cavanna, you miss the best butterflies. They're the rare ones, usually just passing through on migration and winging it along at as much as 50 miles an hour.

Brace Funeral Home

138 West Lawrence Street
Pontiac, Michigan

Dear Friends:

Eventually our service will be recommended to nearly everyone in Pontiac.

We say this in all sincerity because it seems that our patrons frequently tell others about the fine service they received here. Again and again families tell us "A friend told us about you, and how well you served him. We want the same thing."

Boy's Headache Saves Family From Gas Death

PITTSBURGH (INS)—Samuel Irwin, 13, had his first headache last night. Police say it may have saved his life and the lives of his 5-year-old brother Bill and their mother, Mrs. Jenny Irwin.

Noticing the younger son dozing after Samuel complained of the headache, Mrs. Irwin suspected a leak from a newly installed gas heater. She called police and the gas company. Emergency crews found a 100 per cent concentration of carbon monoxide fumes.

The boys and their mother were rushed to a hospital for emergency oxygen. Several hours later they were released in good condition.

U. S. Arms for Spain Arrive at Cartagena

CARTAGENA, Spain (INS)—The first shipment of U.S. arms for Spain under the pact signed last September arrived at the Spanish port of Cartagena today.

U. S. Ambassador James C. Dunn was on hand to greet the freighter Northwestern Victory as she steamed into the harbor bearing the arms shipment.

Courtroom Test Proves Nobody Hears Speech

BRUSSELS (INS)—At one time or another virtually every lawyer gets the feeling that nobody's really listening to him as he drones through a lengthy courtroom speech.

This suspicion crept over a Brussels attorney and he put it to the test. Right in the middle of presenting his case he switched suddenly to a law book and read through 20 paragraphs.

The prosecutor noticed the switch but the judge, who had fallen asleep, had to be awakened.

A Women's Air Force lieutenant and a Women's Army Corp sergeant will be in Pontiac Wednesday to interview prospective volunteers.

M. Sgt. Paul J. Smith, Army and Air Force recruiter, said the two would be available all day at the station, 53½ W. Huron St.
