Marine Patrol Is Hit by Cong; 2 Yanks Killed

South Korean Troops Battle Communists; Viet Truce Jolted

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong jolted the lunar new year cease-fire today by attacking a U. S. Marine patrol near Da Nang and engaging South Korean marines in a two-hour close quarter battle near the central coast.

Two Americans and 46 Communists were reported killed.

Two U.S. Marine sergeants were killed when the guerrillas caught a Leatherneck platoon on security patrol in a crossfire near Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Americans poured artillery fire into the enemy positions.

One wounded Viet Cong was captured and six suspects were detained.

49 VIOLATIONS

By nightfall of the second day of the holiday truce, the U.S. military command reported a total of 49 violations by the Communists, but most were regarded as minor brushes.

In Saigon, some overanxious Koreans began shooting when they heard the sound of firecrackers as the Vietnamese greeted the Year of the Horse on the lunar calendar.

Thirty-four of the Communist attacks were reported against U.S., Korean, Australian and New Zealand troops.

This raised questions among military observers whether the Communists really intended to include South Viet Nam's allies in the four-day Viet Cong cease-fire.

When the underground Liberation Front radio broadcast the truce terms three weeks ago, it did not specifically include allied soldiers but said it hoped they would respect the Vietnamese New Year celebration.

The other 15 attacks, all characterized as minor, were against government forces.

The Koreans reported 400 Viet

Sees Increase in Conflict at Holiday's End

Secretary's Outlook Indicates Resumption of N. Viet Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today there is every indication that the Communist side in Viet Nam will intensify its activity after the current lunar new year holiday period ends Sunday.

Rusk told a news conference that President Johnson's peace offensive had failed to get any positive and encouraging response from the Vietnamese Communists.

Otherwise he said it had drawn an overwhelmingly favorable response thoughout the world.

His words indicated that the peace drive and the pause in bombing North Viet Nam have come to the end of a phase, but he avoided saying so directly.

★ ★ ★

He refused to say whether or when the United States will resume bombing the North.

WAR OUTLOOK

Asked about the war outlook, however, he said:

"There is every sign that the other side is going to intensify its activity after the Tet (lunar new year) period."

Concurrently with Rusk's report, the White House said instructions given American troops in Viet Nam to fire only when fired upon, cover the period of the current cease-fire.

That was press secretary Bill D. Moyer's response when asked how long American forces will continue their strictly defensive stance.

MIGHT SPREAD

Asked whether the war might spread into other areas, Rusk said "there is always a danger when an aggressor sets out to impose his will by force and the other side is determined to keep its commitments."

On the central question of resuming bombing of North Viet Nam — the pause is now in its 29th day — Rusk said

K. T. KELLER

Ex-Chrysler Chief Dies in London

DETROIT (AP)—K. T. Keller, who started in the auto business as a 20-cents - an - hour worker and rose to be president and board chairman of Chrysler Corp. before his retirement in 1956, died today in London. He was 80.

The noted industrialist maintained an active interest in the auto business during his retirement and was a special adviser to the Defense Department.

Chrysler spokesmen announced his death at midmorning.

They said he had been abroad with several Chrysler officials and that he died at the Dorchester Hotel. They had no other details immediately.

★ ★ ★

Born Kaufman Thuma Keller at Mount Joy, Pa., on Nov. 27, 1885, Keller got his first job as a drill press operator at 13 while he was attending school.

JOINED GM

He joined General Motors in 1911 as general master mechanic of Buick of which Walter P. Chrysler was then president.

The Keller-Chrysler association became one of the closest in the auto business.

When Walter Chrysler formed his own company, one of his first acts was to get K. T., as he was known, to become vice president of the new firm.

★ ★ ★

The two men guided Chrysler Corp. from its infancy to its present status as the third largest auto company in the United States.

CHRYSLER PRESIDENT

Keller became president of Chrysler Corp. in 1935 and in 1940, on the death of Walter Chrysler, Keller took over the additional duties of chief executive officer.

Keller held the dual role until Nov. 3, 1950, when he was named board chairman and L. L. Colbert was named president.

Keller then began three years work on the nation's missile program. He was given the title of Director of Guided Missiles by the late Gen. George C. Marshall, then Secretary of Defense.

★ ★ ★

Keller, whose wife, Adelaide, died in 1961, lived in the Palmer Woods area of Detroit, and spent his winters at his Fort Lauderdale, Fla. home. Survivors included two sons, Robert and Richard.

Couple Sought in Boy's Death

MONROE (UPI)—Police were conducting a nationwide search today for a missing Toledo, Ohio, couple in the death of a 2-year-old boy whose body was found stuffed under a privy seat on an abandoned farm near here.

The boy, known as "Little Boy Blue" since his body was discovered six days ago clad in a blue ski jacket, was identified yesterday as Eddie Montalvo, the son of Carolina Montalvo, 20.

A first degree murder warrant was issued today against Alberto Sanchez, 22, who had been living with the boy's mother in Toledo.

Detective Sergeant Patrick Lyons of the Michigan State Police said an investigation disclosed the child was severely beaten by Sanchez last year in Toledo.

He said police believed the boy was murdered in Toledo and the body disposed of in the outhouse on the abandoned farm at Summerfield Township.

IDENTIFY BOY

Acquaintances of the couple in Toledo identified the boy at Mercy Hospital in Monroe.

Monroe County Sheriff Charles Herrington said he received a tip yesterday from "persons acquainted with the missing couple." He said two persons were interviewed and they said Sanchez and Mrs. Montalvo visited the Monroe area occasionally.

Several hours after the first tip, the boy's grandmother, Mrs. Martha Montalvo, of Adrian, contacted Lenawee County Sher-

To See Kitchen at Cook School

More Prizes Listed for The Press Event

Women who attend The Pontiac Press cooking school starting on Monday will see a complete kitchen on stage.

The cabinet display was built by Ross Homes, Inc.

Prizes not previously announced include two range hoods and a medicine cabinet from Marcell Construction Co.

Other prizes, besides the food prepared daily on stage, bags of groceries and cartons of soft drinks, will be Westinghouse Electric can openers from World Wide Home Furnishings, Inc., trading stamps and a 9x12 Armstrong linoleum rug from The Floor Shop.

★ ★ ★

Parking facilities have been arranged in the parking lot behind the First Church of the Nazarene on State Street. A ticket for the cooking school will allow you to enter the lot.

Doors on the east end of Pontiac Central High School open at 7 p.m. for the evening sessions and 12:30 p.m. for the afternoon sessions.

There are still some tickets available for the six sessions.

OU Is Given $33,000 by 14 Citizens

"Oakland University is $33,000 better off through unexpected year-end gifts from 14 local citizens," said Chancellor D. B. Varner today to The Press.

"We were all very pleasantly surprised," he declared, "as unsolicited assistance came in through the mails. The bulk of the money will go toward scholarships, but some of it can be used for needed campus improvements.

"When the Michigan Legislature cut short our expected funds a year ago, we were in a precarious situation, and these gifts will help ease some of the worst of the pressure.

"Our growth in the next five years suggests a tremendous building campaign out here, and it is difficult to see just where all the money will come from.

"If any other area residents want to help the general cause of education, we will be happy to meet them and outline the needs. The current donors have our profound thanks."

Takes Case to State

Group Hits School Districting

A group of citizens from White Lake Township, objecting vigorously to a proposed school district boundary change, hope they can persuade the State Reorganization Committee (SRC) today as successfully as they did the Waterford Township Board of Education last night.

The SRC is scheduled to decide whether to accept the Dublin-Walled Lake merger as recommended last Dec. 22 by the Oakland County School District Reorganization Committee.

Last night, the residents gained the full-fledged support of the board of education, which had previously taken a "neutral" attitude in the matter.

Twenty-nine children from several of the 38 families living in White Lake Township's southeastern corner would be affected by the proposed move.

They will be forced to transfer from the Waterford Township School District to Walled Lake if the merger, as proposed, is given the green light by the SRC and is approved by voters in a June election.

★ ★ ★

The 400-acre area, consisting of property west of Williams Lake Road and south of Elizabeth Lake Road, was included in the package presented by the county to the state.

VALUATION HIGH

The total assessed property valuation in the area is high, thanks to a shopping center located there.

Board members previously had asserted they would neither oppose the boundary change, nor initiate any action.

However, last night, board members and Supt. Dr. Don O. Tatroe each issued a letter stating their opposition to the boundary change.

★ ★ ★

The letters were to have been hand-carried to Lansing today by Mrs. Earl D. Lundquist, a spokesman for the citizens' group. The Greater Waterford Community Council also sent a letter to the state body, objecting to the boundary change.

INVOLVES WATERFORD

Tatroe said the issue should involve only Dublin and Walled Lake. However, the annexation as proposed, would also involve

County Jail Is 'Pinched' for Space

By DAVID J. COOK

When the Oakland County Jail was built in 1921, no one was quite sure how the county would ever fully utilize a cell house built to hold 259 persons.

Woodward Avenue was a two-lane road and a good percentage of the county's law problems were caused by chicken thieves and the like.

Since that time, however, the automobile industry and the suburban exodus have boosted population of the Pontiac area tenfold — to some 800,000 persons.

The county jail today faces a situation where mass arrests in a vice raid, for example, could literally put prisoners in the hallways.

★ ★ ★

And, according to Sheriff Frank W. Irons, space limitations in the 45-year-old structure would present serious security risks in the event of a disturbance or riot among inmates.

236 PRISONERS

"At one point last summer," Irons said, "we had 236 prisoners behind bars.

"I was standing here holding my breath."

The jail population, while fluctuating sharply over short periods of time, has climbed steadily in the last 15 years.

★ ★ ★

Records show the average daily number of inmates in 1950 was between 70 and 75. This figure doubled by 1960 and has climbed significantly since then.

WENT UNUSED

"Half of our fourth-floor cell block went unused in the 'fifties,' " Irons recalled.

"Now we've got facilities for 80 inmates up there and, most of the time, they're in full use."

And the figures can be misleading.

While the jail has yet to be jammed to capacity, the original design figure of 259 inmates, by modern standards, is obsolete.

"Even with our present subcapacity load," noted Sheriff's Capt. Leo R. Hazen, "the jail doesn't give us the security we'd like."

"Most penal experts nowadays say six to eight prisoners in a cell is a maximum," Hazen said.

"That way, if you've got a couple troublemakers, or even more, you can spread them out over a number of cells and avoid trouble.

"Here we're forced to put as many as 32 men into our 'bullpen' upstairs where they're kept for most of the day, including meals.

'UGLY SITUATION'

"If anything should break out in there, we'd have a real ugly situation on our hands."

In spite of the growing space restrictions, the Oakland County Jail has been continuously certified for detention of federal prisoners since its construction.

The jail is designated for initial imprisonment of all persons charged with felonies in the county.

Felony sentences of one year or less are served in the jail, as are misdemeanor convictions from throughout the county.

★ ★ ★

Sentences of more than one year are served in the Southern Michigan State Prison at Jackson.

ROYAL OAK JAIL

The load of misdemeanor convictions is eased somewhat by the Royal Oak city jail, which handles an average of eight to ten prisoners each day.

Use of the city of Pontiac's empty lockup would also help

The Oakland County Jail: Getting Crowded

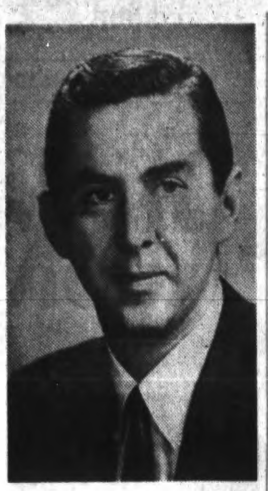
Area May Get Snow Tonight and Tomorrow

There's a chance of fresh, light snow blanketing the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow.

The weatherman predicts temperatures will fall to 15 to 22 tonight and climb into the high 20s tomorrow.

Colder and cloudy with snow flurries is the outlook for Sunday.

A low of 20 was the thermometer reading prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The 2 p.m. reading was 28.



JOHN Z. DeLOREAN

New Head for GM City Unit Named

John Z. DeLorean, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division and a vice president of General Motors Corp. has been appointed chairman of the GM Pontiac Plant City Committee for 1966 by GM President James M. Roche.

DeLorean succeeds Thomas F. Wiethorn, Fisher Body Pontiac plant manager, as chairman of the committee responsible for guiding and coordinating GM's community relations activities in the area.

The Pontiac committee is one of 60 such committees across the nation in cities where GM has facilities.

Other members of the Pontiac Plant City Committee are:

From Pontiac Motor Division: Theodore B. Bloom, personnel director; Wright C. Cotton, divisional comptroller; and Robert W. Emerick, director of public relations.

From the Pontiac Fisher Body Plant: Alger V. Conner, plant director of industrial relations; and Karl F. Davies, resident comptroller.

From GMC Truck & Coach Division: John A. Castle, director of public relations: Earl A. Maxwell, personnel director; John D. Mintline, divisional comptroller; Calvin J. Werner, a vice president of GM and general manager of the division; and Thomas E. Wilson, manufacturing manager.

Hoffa Says Strikes at an All-Time Low

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa said today strikes by his union were at an all-time low and could be reduced further except for "pathetic" lack of communication among labor leaders.

Hoffa told officials in his union, the nation's largest, to consult fully with their colleagues and his office before calling a "go it alone" walkout.

Group to Study Hospital Plan

Will Probe Expansion for Pontiac General

A five-member committee was authorized last night to study plans to expand Pontiac General Hospital.

The hospital's board of trustees approved appointment of the study committee to be made up of three trustees, the hospital administrator and the city manager.

The committee is to study the construction of additional hospital facilities and report back to trustees.

Specifically, the committee will plan expanded emergency and mental health facilities.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac General has a long-standing report, prepared by United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit, recommending expanded rehabilitation and mental health programs.

REPORT GIVEN

The UCS report was submitted Aug. 20, 1964.

In related action, the board heard a long-term recommendation from its planning committee that the hospital should look forward to eventually acquiring all of the property bounded by West Huron, South Johnson, Seminole and Menominee.

★ ★ ★

The recommendation said "considered thought" should be given to the property acquisition when the parcels are for sale.

GTW Enjoined on Service Cut

U.S. District Judge Thomas P. Thornton today issued a temporary restraining order which will keep Grand Trunk Western Railroad from discontinuing two passenger trains next week.

The action came shortly after a suit was filed this morning by Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, asking the federal court in Detroit to set aside an Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) order which would have permitted discontinuance of trains 22 and 57 Monday.

Judge Thornton scheduled a hearing on the suit for Jan. 31 at 11 a.m.

One train (22) runs between Durand and Detroit, while train 57 provides overnight train service between Detroit and its northern suburbs, including Pontiac, and Chicago.

★ ★ ★

The ICC had ordered the trains to be discontinued Monday.

Board Okays OU Leaves, Grant

A $64,250 grant to Oakland University from the Office of Education and five OU sabbatical leaves were approved by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees at yesterday's meeting.

The grant will be used for research on the teaching of reading and related language skills in grades two and three.

It will be administered by Harry T. Hahn, professor of education.

Hahn initiated the research while he was director of instruction for the Oakland Schools, the position he held prior to joining the Oakland University faculty.

His leave will be in force from September 1966 through April 1967.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

Congressman Will Speak at GOP Banquet

Congressman William S. Broomfield will be the principal speaker at the annual Lincoln Republican Club banquet in Pontiac next month.

The banquet will be held Feb. 9 at 6:30 p.m. in the Elk's Temple, 114 Orchard Lake, and is open to the public, according to club President Robert L. Templin.

Broomfield, who recently returned from an extended trip to Viet Nam and the Far East, will discuss some of the problems encountered in these troubled areas.

The 18th Congressional District representative is the ranking Republican member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and serves on the Asia, Africa and national security subcommittees.

★ ★ ★

As in past years, the banquet program will feature songs of the Lincoln era and presentation of awards to the winners of the Lincoln Essay Contest annually sponsored by the club.

Tickets for the event can be obtained by contacting Bloomfield Township Treasurer Arno Hulet at the Township Hall, or from directors or members of the club.

School District Lines Appealed

Waterford Township residents in the June election.

"A boundary change would only encumber the election," said Tatroe. "We think it unwise to try to change the boundary."

Mrs. Lundquist and others at last night's meeting remarked that the county committee had recommended approval of the merger without boundary alterations Dec. 9, only to change its mind two weeks later.

They said that a notice published prior to the Dec. 22 public hearing made no mention of the boundary change as was eventually included in the amendment, passed by a 12-2 vote.

This and Waterford Township's inclusion in an election dealing with the issue posed a question of its legality.

Asked why they objected to joining the Walled Lake system, residents cited the following reasons:

- They feel their children receive a better education in the Waterford Township School District.
- The state law, which requires all school districts to have a complete kindergarten-through-12th grade program, does not affect them.
- They are being treated like pawns by Walled Lake school officials.

In a former study, planners and a citizens' committee had recommended that the sector be annexed to Dublin in accordance with a master plan for schools.

NO MAIN ROAD

Essentially, the goal is for no elementary school pupil to have to walk across a main thoroughfare.

★ ★ ★

The pupils, in question, cross Williams Lake Road to reach school.

It is expected that word will be received next week on the state committee's action.

Man Critical After Crash

A 22-year-old Ortonville man is in critical condition today in Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car crash last night in Independence Township.

Hospital officials said James D. Hutchings, 191 South, sustained a crushed chest.

The collision occurred on Dixie Highway near M15, according to State Police.

Hutchings reportedly was pulling onto the highway from the parking lot at Howe's Lanes, 6696 Dixie, when his car was struck by a vehicle driven by 27-year-old Maxine M. Rogers of Berkley.

She was treated and released from the hospital.

Germond said Carolina Montalvo was originally from Adrian. He said she lived with her mother "off and on." Sanchez was also from Adrian but he left with the young woman and her son in July.

Eddie Montalvo was born Oct. 29, 1963, in Adrian. No name for the boy's father was listed on hospital records.

The child's partially frozen body was found Saturday by a hunter who followed a rabbit into the privy.

Police since then checked out hundreds of tips, most of them from divorcees who feared their ex-mates may have killed their child, or from worried grandparents.

Junior Miss Competition Is Nearing

Members of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce are putting final touches this week to preparations for Michigan's Junior Miss Pageant, slated to begin next Thursday in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Chairman of the event is Richard L. Jorgensen of 2215 Avondale, Avon Township.

The pageant, at Pontiac Northern High School culminates Jan. 29 with selection of the state's teen-age "leading lady," following a reception Thursday and preliminary competition Friday night.

"Our Junior Miss will be more than just a pretty girl," Jorgensen said.

★ ★ ★

"Our winner will be determined on the basis of scholastic achievement, character, youth fitness, poise, personality and creative abilities."

★ ★ ★

Local representatives among the 32 entries will be Patricia Grisham, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Grisham, 862 South Blvd., Avon Township; and Gayanne Mansfield, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mansfield of 5186 Durham, Waterford Township.

To Stand Trial in 2 Slayings

Ionia Notifies County Woman Due Release

An Addison Township woman, committed to Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane less than four months ago, will be returned to Oakland County to stand trial for first-degree murder in the slaying of her former husband and his wife.

Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn signed an order yesterday afternoon for the release of Mrs. Jane Kendall, 45, of 1480 Noble.

The order followed a notice from A. A. Birzgalis, medical superintendent at Ionia, that Mrs. Kendall has been restored to sanity and was ready for discharge.

Mrs. Kendall was sent to Ionia following an emergency sanity hearing held seven days after being charged with the Oct. 2 fatal shooting of her ex-husband Glen, 45, and his wife, Lucille, 46, of Detroit. The shootings occurred in front of Mrs. Kendall's home.

★ ★ ★

SANITY HEARING

Her conduct while being held in the Oakland County Jail prompted her attorney, Malcolm Sutherland of Detroit, to petition for the sanity hearing.

Two Birmingham psychiatrists, Dr. Edward M. Wisniewski and Dr. Jay Van Zoeren, testified at the hearing before Thorburn that Mrs. Kendall was suffering from acute paranoia.

They said that their examination disclosed that Mrs. Kendall was having delusions that she was a victim of some organized Communist plot.

Mrs. Kendall is expected to be returned to the Oakland County Jail next week by the Sheriff's Department.

Marine Patrol Is Hit by Cong

Cong attacked a platoon of their marines shortly after midnight 10 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa, a coastal town 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

A Korean military spokesman said the marines beat off the attack and killed 46 of the Communists.

EARLIER REPORT

One earlier report had said the Viet Cong used old men, women and children as a shield as they advanced, but the spokesman said the Viet Cong had put local guerrillas in front. He said there were no civilian casualties.

Two U.S. Air Force Fighter-bombers buzzed the area but were unable to unload their explosives, apparently because of the close nature of the fighting.

The Koreans and Viet Cong at times grappled hand to hand, a spokesman said.

Prize-Winning Church to Be Dedicated Sunday

BIRMINGHAM — The award-winning edifice constructed for Our Shepherd Lutheran Church will be dedicated in two services Sunday.

Ceremonies are scheduled for 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the church, 2225 E. 14 Mile.

Designed by Glen Paulsen and Associates of Bloomfield Hills, the structure earned an award of merit for "excellence in religious architecture" from the American Society for Church Architecture.

The architects for the church also designed the American Embassy Building in Brussels and the Shapero Hall of Pharmacy at Wayne State University.

★ ★ ★

The sanctuary portion of the building has a 70-foot-high wall from which the roof slopes sharply down to a long, low adjacent wing.

ORGAN DESIGN

A 36-rank organ built by Casavant Freres Ltd. of St. Hyancynthe, Que., was designed to fit the sloping form of the ceiling in the sanctuary.

Contractor for the building was William Demske and Son of Detroit.

Speaker for the 10 a.m. service Sunday will be Dr. E. T. Bernthal, mission director of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Paul Streufart, third vice president of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, will speak at the 4 p.m. service.

WILL OFFICIATE

Officiating at both services will be Rev. Howard G. Allwardt, pastor of Our Shepherd congregation since it was formed in 1949, and Rev. Frank Kauth, assistant pastor.

Director of Music E. O. Bredehoeft plans special festival music for both services.

The congregation has more than 1,200 members and 600 Sunday school children.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Cranbrook Institute of Science tomorrow will begin a new course to teach junior high school pupils about amphibians and reptiles.

Emphasizing animals found in Michigan, the course will include nine sessions at Cranbrook and one field trip.

The 9-11 a.m. class will be taught by herpetologist James A. Fowler.

The city, however, has given no indication of appropriating funds for operation of the cell block at the police department.

In addition, relief provided by housing Pontiac prisoners in the city jail would probably not be significant enough to forestall what Irons feels will be an eventual need for a modernized county facility.

CALLED OBSOLETE

"This is a well-built structure," he said, "but everything's obsolete."

"The facilities need constant repair and, with our limited cell capacity, we've got to watch our prisoners every minute they're here."

Maximum security for jail prisoners and a judicious allowance for continued growth in the county population, as Irons sees it, call for a jail built to house about 500 inmates.

★ ★ ★

"If they build one, it should be out around the county center," the sheriff said. "This would save us man-hours every day which we need to transport prisoners from the jail to court appearances."

NO MONOPOLY

Inmates have no monopoly on the space shortage which plagues the jail.

Almost everyone in the department works in cramped conditions, despite transfer of the civil division and driver-licensing facilities to the old county courthouse.

Undersheriff Donald M. Francis, who processes from 20 to 50 official complaints each day, now works in the same small room with a clerk, a bulky copying machine and two rows of filing cabinets.

Deputies, the uniformed men who form the county's front line of law enforcement, are housed in a shed-size garage at the rear of the jail.

TINY CUBICLES

Detectives in the criminal division question suspects and make out investigative reports in tiny cubicles with temporary walls.

But they're all one up on liquor inspector John A. Davis.

Davis doesn't have a desk of his own and is frequently forced to do paperwork on the top of a filing cabinet.

Peace Efforts Sinking---Rusk

he would not disclose future military developments.

"Our commitment is deep," he said, "we will do what is necessary to achieve our elementary objective."

This was the first news conference by Rusk since the peace offensive started three days after Christmas.

Rusk returned two days ago from a trip to Asia and reported yesterday to President Johnson, along with roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

"There's been an overwhelmingly favorable response to these peace-seeking efforts," Rusk said, "except for those who could sit down and make peace."

The tone of his report suggested that the peace drive has come to an end in failure, yet Rusk refrained from any such summary description.

Indeed, he spoke of continuing a quest of peaceful settlement in Viet Nam "with patience and persistence."

Reserve, Guard May Avoid Call-Up

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration's blueprint for strengthening the armed forces contains two strong indications that it intends to avoid calling Reservists or National Guardsmen to active duty.

One is Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement to Congress that more support-type units must be provided for the regular Army, "inasmuch as it appears desirable to be in a position to deploy additional forces without calling up Reservists."

★ ★ ★

The other indication lies in the decision to create a new 18,000-man division for the regular Marine Corps.

Last summer, when the administration decided to commit largescale U.S. ground forces to the Viet Nam war, it was determined that there was time to build up over-all American armed strength over the long haul, relying on higher draft quotas and voluntary enlistments.

SPECULATIONS

Since then, the continuing escalation of the U.S. troop commitment in Viet Nam — and prospects that that commitment may reach Korean War proportions — have caused speculation that the Pentagon will have to turn to the National Guard and Reserves.

But the shape of plans for the newest boost in armed manpower by another 113,000 men suggests that the no-call-up policy still holds.

★ ★ ★

Sources said this could be changed, if there was a sudden deterioration in the situation in Viet Nam requiring a swift infusion of major reinforcements.

The 45,599 men to be added to the Army under the new request mainly would be assigned to types of units which the regular forces have lacked and which the Army Reserve forces had been designed to provide in emergencies.

OUTFITS VARY

These units, about 140 different kinds, include such outfits as dump truck companies, postal units, well-drilling organizations, military police platoons, maintenance, bridge construction and petroleum elements.

As for the Marines, the decision to organize a new regular division evidently means that the 48,000-man Marine Reserve division and air wing will be retained in civilian life.

With two of its three regular divisions committed in Viet Nam and the Pacific, the corps has been left with a single regular division in the United States, reducing the flexibility of the Marines and the availability of major fighting elements for crises elsewhere.

Marine Manpower Boost Includes New Division

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strengthening of the Marine Corps by nearly 55,000 more men will raise the corps to its highest manpower level since World War II.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has proposed boosting the Marine ceiling to 278,184 officers and men and to create a fourth Marine division.

Even at its peak in the Korean War, the Marine Corps did not reach the strength now planned for it. In September 1953, there were 261,343 Marines on duty.

The Marines already have more men in Viet Nam than they had in Korea at their highest point.

NEW ADDITIONS

Counting recent reinforcements landed in Viet Nam, the Marine contingent there totals about 41,000 men. At its topmost point in the Korean War, the corps had 35,306 men in that embattled country.

Creation of a fourth Marine Division in the regular structure will give the corps more flexibility.

One full Marine division, the 3rd, and a major part of the 1st Marine Division are already in Viet Nam and other elements of the 1st Marine Division are spread through the Pacific area, either on Okinawa, afloat or in Hawaii.

Thus, the corps has only one full division in the United States and uncommitted. This is the 2nd Marine Division on the U.S. East Coast—an outfit which was involved in the Dominican Republic crisis last spring.

OFFICIAL WORD

There was no official word on where the new Marine division will be organized, but the likelihood points to Camp Pendleton, Calif. Departure of the 1st Marine Division from that camp has left room which could be used to form and train the new unit.

A Marine division numbers some 18,000 men.

Law Wants His Guest

LONDON, Ky. (AP) — Dean Ramsey, a local restaurateur, stopped for gasoline en route home. A man at the service station was asking for free gas, saying he was out of money.

Ramsey invited the man to his restaurant for a free meal. The man accepted, ate and left. left.

Watching television later, Ramsey saw the man's picture. He called the State Police and asked about his former guest—and was told he had helped Kentucky's fifth most-wanted fugitive, Conrad Combs, 39, wanted for shooting and wounding with intent to kill.

'Staggering' Evidence

To Film Drunk Drivers

By PAT McCARTY

FARMINGTON — Got stars in your eyes?

Want top billing in your very own movie?

Then just have "a few too many" and try driving through Farmington.

Uniformed "talent scouts" will be waiting for you.

They'll take you to a "set" at police headquarters and let you do your stuff in front of a movie camera.

Use of a motion picture camera is part of what Farmington police hope will be a crackdown on drunken drivers, that group of offenders notoriously difficult to convict.

Police Chief Maurice D. Foltz says he thinks his is the first department in Michigan to try the technique.

OLD METHOD

Farmington officers no longer will merely observe the actions of a tipsy driver and later describe them in court.

They will be able to present to a jury filmed evidence of the motorist's movements — his reactions, balance and coordination, or lack of same.

Probably the subject will not know his behavior is being recorded on celluloid.

★ ★ ★

The camera will be concealed and no floodlights will be used.

Police believe the "Lights! Camera! Action!" routine would put the subject at a disadvantage — that he might get stage fright or over-react to an unnatural setting.

Until now, the best means of obtaining evidence has been a test to determine the amount of alcohol in the blood stream, but the suspect has to agree to the test.

Of the 120 persons charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor in Farmington last year, only 18 submitted to the blood test.

★ ★ ★

Since many of the cases still are under appeal, Foltz has no idea how many will result in conviction, but "the percentage — particularly before a jury — is very low."

IDEA BACKED

So Foltz talked the City Council into backing the motion-picture idea on an experimental basis and received an initial allocation of $325 for the project.

The equipment arrived Wednesday.

Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson also has given support to the movie makers, offering the opinion that the films would be admissible as evidence in court.

He also commended the department for its ingenuity and industry.

★ ★ ★

Police have not yet had occasion to put their new equipment to work.

If you're thinking of auditioning, the script is simple.

Just touch your nose with your finger, pick some coins up from the floor and — for a finale — walk a straight line.

Pontiac Press Photo

YOU OUGHTA BE IN PICTURES—Detective Sgt. William Garden of the Farmington Police Department poses as a drunken driving suspect, allowing Sgt. Robert Deadman to demonstrate his picture-taking technique. Garden is picking a coin up from the floor in one of the tests given to motorists whom police suspect are inebriated. In an experiment believed to be the first in the state, Farmington officers will record the action of such drivers on film.

Clarkston Voters Must Register by Monday for March Election

CLARKSTON—Monday is the final day for voters to register for the March 14 village election, Clerk Artemus Pappas announced today.

Pappas, who will run uncontested in the election, said voters can register at his home, 55 W. Washington, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday.

Persons of voting age who have lived in the village for at least 30 days are eligible to vote, according to Pappas.

Besides Pappas, Assessor Ralph Thayer and Pappas' wife, Mary Ann, the village treasurer, will be unopposed on the ballot.

The chief contests will be for village president and one-year-term trustee post.

Jack Hagen of 42 N. Holcomb will challenge incumbent Keith Hallman for the trustee job, while newcomer L. Richard Weiss of 42 N. Main will run against Trustee Robert Wertman for the presidential post.

Current President James Huttenlocher does not intend to run.

FIRST PARTY

Hagen and Weiss are members of the Clarkston First party, while the other candidates belong to the Citizens' party.

Three two-year trustee posts also will be at stake. Newcomer A. E. Butters of 37 E. Church and incumbents Harold Goyette and Donald Cooper have announced their candidacies.

Pappas said 283 voters are registered, but he expects only 50 to 60 to cast ballots March 14. The village population is about 900.

★ ★ ★

Trustees receive $5 and the president $10 for a regular monthly meeting, according to Pappas.

The clerk is paid $500 annually, while the treasurer receives $400 and the assessor $300.

Road Paving OK'd in Avon

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has approved the paving of Tienken Road from the North Hill Plaza Shopping Center west to the New York Central Railroad tracks.

The cost of the project, about $35,000, will be shared by the township and the Oakland County Road Commission.

The work is scheduled for completion next spring after the basic roadwork is finished.

Girls' Group to Hold Bake Sale Tomorrow

CLARKSTON — Job's Daughters will hold a bake sale from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. tomorrow at the S. S. Kresge Co. store at the Drayton Plains Shopping Center.

Sponsored by Clarkston Cedar Lodge No. 60 Masonic Order, the unit consists of girls ages 12-20.

Talks at Troy Tea

Lenore: Get Active

TROY — "Get involved" was Mrs. George Romney's advice to members and prospective members of the Birmingham-Troy Republican Women's Club at a membership tea yesterday.

At the tea, held at the home of Sen. and Mrs. Robert J. Huber, Mrs. Romney decried the breakdown of morality and integrity in the country and told the women that they can remedy this by "helping others" and "getting involved."

She admonished them to get out in the next election and work to get Republican legislators back in office.

"We have an enormous opportunity in the next election to get together and get our people elected," she said.

"The fate of our society will be decided by the lawmakers. Our morality is no greater than the people for whom we vote," Mrs. Romney noted.

Car Kills Pedestrians

MELVINDALE (AP) — Mrs. Victoria Machinsky, 59, of Melvindale died Thursday when she was struck by a car near her home.

School Group Plans 'Titanic' Nose Count

MILFORD — Members of the Huron Valley Citizens School Study Committee and other volunteers are going to become census takers.

They plan to count preschool noses to update figures supplied by the 1965 school census.

Once accumulated, the information will be used to give the committee a clearer picture of future school needs in the district.

The 39-member citizens committee was appointed by the board of education in December to formulate a building bond proposition for the June ballot.

Working with the committee are Dr. Ray Kehoe and Dr. Daniel Cooper of the University of Michigan's Bureau of School Services.

'TITANIC TASK'

School officials have labeled the census updating a "titanic" undertaking in the 100-square-mile district.

First step in the project will be a telephone campaign, in which volunteers will contact parents whose names appeared on the last census and whose telephone numbers are listed.

Then they will conduct a door-to-door campaign to interview persons who could not be reached by telephone.

Carrying identification cards, they will ask for the names of parents, names and birth dates of preschool youngsters and their addresses.

DRIVERS NEEDED

Schools Supt. Dr. Truman Owens noted that persons with automobiles still are needed for the door-to-door phase of the survey.

Interested persons can contact the board of education office.

Hospital Goals Are Outlined

The major goals of the Huron Valley Community Hospital Association in 1966 will be acquisition of a new site for the proposed facility and of federal funds to help construct it.

Dr. Norman Kreiger, chairman of the association's board of directors, outlined the tasks ahead of the board as well as accomplishments for 1965 in his report at the association's annual meeting last night.

AREA NEWS

The board now is investigating the possibility of obtaining a new site in the Union Lake-White Lake Township area.

Providing impetus for the move is the refusal of the Greater Detroit Hospitals Council to consider the present site fronting Mont Eagle and Atlantic in Milford.

Now in its fourth year, the association is attempting to obtain federal funds to augment local contributions toward a $4-million goal.

GRANT ASKED

The board has applied for a Hill-Burton grant which requires the approval of the Greater Detroit Hospitals Council.

The council would not accept the 15-acre site in Milford as the proper location for the proposed unit, Dr. Kreiger said last night.

Population projections indicate the concentration of people in the hospital's service area will be closer to Union Lake.

The board now is seeking a site which would be more acceptable to the council in terms of population, accessibility and size.

Some 45 persons attended the annual meeting at Milford High School.

They elected one new board member and reelected seven others.

New at-large member of the board is Jack H. Park, 730 Friar, Milford, who will fill the vacancy created when Rev. Lawrence Edwards moved from the community.

Fewer but Bigger Farms Predicted

LANSING (UPI) — The trend toward fewer but larger farms will continue in Michigan this year, the Michigan Crop Reporting Service predicted this week.

The service estimated that 98,000 farms will be in operation throughout the state this year, compared to 101,000 last year. This is 49 per cent fewer farms than were operated in Michigan in 1933, the service said.

The average farm size was estimated at 141 acres, compared to 82 acres in 1933, and the total land being farmed was placed at 13.8 million acres this year, a drop of 25 per cent from the 1933 figure of 18.3 million acres.

Yanks Learn That Bugs, Mud, Heat, Thorns Are Also Enemy

By TOM TIEDE

BIEN HOA, Viet Nam — (NEA) — War in the jungle. Sickening suspense. Beyond each root a risk. The continuing curtain of thorns and saw-tooth vines which lay open a man's flesh, tear the cloth from his back.

And silence.

"How much more we got to go?" whispers a weary soldier.

"I dunno, kid," says his sergeant, "but it can't be too far now."

This is the Viet Cong's bailiwick. The troopers from the 173rd Airborne Division are awkward intruders, heavy-footed, white-skinned, noisy and slow, fighting the enemy's war on the enemy's terms.

That is, if the enemy chooses.

For where is the enemy? Visibility is zero. A man in front can be shot and no one be certain of it until they stumble over him.

"If you can hear anybody," says Sgt. Ray Krivack of Brenham, Tex., "then they're our people. The VC, they don't make noise."

The columns of men hack away at the bewildering growth and inch on. Movement forward is punctuated by the muffled cursing and heavy breathing on insect-slapping GIs.

DAMN LEECHES

"Damn leeches," somebody says. "They're all over me."

"Pull 'em off," the sergeant orders. "The big ones are hell if they get to an artery."

A voice in the rear says, "It's the mosquitos that get me. I keep breathing them up my nose."

"How do they smell?" chuckles the radio man.

"All right, you people," the sergeant growls, "knock it off."

SLIP AND SLIDE

They slip and slide for a few yards, then stop and listen as blood swells under their helmets. Finally, forward again, the salt from their sweat burning the scratches on their faces

Late morning turns to noon and then early evening. A man looks at his watch a hundred times an hour and curses its sloth.

Ants an inch long hook on his trousers' legs and search for openings to his skin. His cigarettes crumble and will not light.

★ ★ ★

And then a shot . . .

The soldiers stiffen and fall. Another shot. Two more.

"Where are they?" somebody squeaks.

PRIVATE WORLDS

Each man lays in his own world of seizure, damning the rushing sound in his ears that blots out everything else. Each wishing he could pull his helmet down to his ankles.

"Pass it back," a man in front says huskily. "Call up the chaplain."

"Pass it back. Call up the chaplain!"

"Did somebody get hit?"

"How do I know? Just pass it back."

★ ★ ★

And then silence again. Everyone alone, wondering, thinking personal thoughts, thankful that the spot he landed on wasn't booby-trapped, retrieving his rifle from the muck of the jungle floor.

Moments pass. Apparently it's no ambush. At length each man rises from the dirt, adjusts his pack and begins, once again, to feel his way ahead.

★ ★ ★

The heat begins anew, the insects return and the body starts to ache as it did before.

★ ★ ★

"How much more we got to go?" whispers a weary soldier.

"I dunno, kid," says his sergeant, "but it can't be too far now."

India Entrusts Fate to Feminine Guidance

In a precedent-smashing action, India's ruling political party (Congress Party) elected a woman as prime minister of the 500 million-population nation — second largest in the world.

MRS. GANDHI

Mrs. INDIRA GANDHI, 48, daughter of the late Prime Minister JAWAHARLAL NEHRU, takes over the reins of government from GULZARILAL NANDA, named interim prime minister on the sudden death of Prime Minister BAHADUR SHASTRI nine days ago.

★ ★ ★

The election of Mrs. Gandhi (no relation to Mohandas, father of India's independence) marks the first time in modern history that a woman has been chosen ruler of a nation of India's magnitude, though a woman, defeated for reelection in 1965, served tiny Ceylon in that capacity.

To many it will seem paradoxical that a country in which women have traditionally played a subservient role should choose one of their sex as its leader.

But Mrs. GANDHI is no "ordinary woman." Educated in English universities, now a widow with two college-age sons, she shared the political and governmental interests of her distinguished father, and has long been active in the political affairs of her homeland. She attained prominence when in 1959 she was chosen president of the National Congress, succeeding her father.

Although immensely wealthy in a land whose population is 75 per cent destitute and illiterate, the new prime minister leads a simple, ascetic life. Her political stance is expected to be much the same as her father's—one of moderation on the domestic front while steering a middle course through the conflicting currents of international relations.

With woman's role in government everywhere on the rise, Mrs. Gandhi's administration will be thoughtfully watched by the eyes of the world. Perhaps her "breakthrough" foreshadows the evolution of a higher state of amity among the community of nations. Let's hope so.

Autos, Phones Given 'Special' Tax Status

"Indian Giver," long a common expression of scorn for those who give and take back, has been given official personification by President JOHNSON.

Qualifying him for the dubious distinction is his proposal to Congress to nullify the excise tax cuts on automobiles and telephone service that went into effect January 1.

★ ★ ★

Both taxes (10 per cent) were imposed during the Korean conflict as "temporary" levies and should have rightly been repealed at the end of hostilities.

After renewing them from year to year for 15 years Congress, on the President's recommendation, enacted legislation last year that would have progressively reduced the automobile tax to a permanent 1 per cent by 1969 and eliminated entirely the telephone tax a year earlier.

Accordingly, the tax on automobiles was cut last May from 10 to 7 per cent and reduced to 6 per cent for 1966, while the new year saw the tax bite on telephones cut from 10 to 3 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Johnson now asks Congress to restore both 1966 tax cuts as a source of additional revenue, estimated at $4.8 billion, to keep our Viet Nam frustration fueled.

The President's proposals are a plain breach of faith with the American people. To single out two industries as the goats in scraping up more warfare dollars is discriminatory in every sense of the word.

Assuredly more money must be raised to support our military establishment while our forces are engaged in Southeast Asia, but it should be raised on an impartial, over-all tax basis.

★ ★ ★

But even better, if the Administration would fry a little fat out of its mushrooming bureaucracy and eliminate or trim a few frills out of some of its Cloud-9 social experiments, the $5 billion at issue could be come by without recourse to new or juggled taxation.

THE price of bacon has risen 45 per cent in the past 12 months, the price of eggs, 33 per cent, and both are still rising. Many are beginning to fear that before long they may have to skip breakfast.

"MAN is fast becoming obsolete," says a scientist. If so, it's a pity that it isn't possible to retool for a new model.

Court Decision to Be Dissected

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—Like a frog in a high school biology lab, a decision announced Wednesday by the Supreme Court will be thoroughly dissected.

The probing will be done by judges, law officers and thousands of men behind bars yearning for freedom. What they will be searching for is a clue—a clue to how the court eventually will spell out its 1964 Escobedo ruling.

Those who would not have that momentous decision declared retroactive will find signs pointing their way. But so, too, could those who would have the high court make the ruling apply to convictions obtained before 1964.

All will find in Justice Potter Stewart's opinion further evidence that the court is faced with a difficult problem.

★ ★ ★

Crystal clear is this: A historic verdict handed down by the court last April cannot be used to open jail doors for thousands convicted earlier.

NOT RETROACTIVE

What the court did Wednesday — over the objection of Justices Hugo L. Black and William O. Douglas — was to bar retroactive application of last April's decision prohibiting state courts from allowing the judge or prosecutor to remind the jury that the defendant did not take the stand.

What the court will do about the possible retroactive application of the Escobedo ruling will remain a question until the justices rule on several cases that touch on this point later this term.

The Escobedo decision, issued in 1964, for the first time extended the right to counsel to suspects in a police station. Danny Escobedo's conviction in Illinois of murdering his brother-in-law was thrown out because police did not let him see his lawyer before confessing.

If the ruling is made retroactive, Chief Justice Joseph Weintraub of the New Jersey Supreme Court has warned, it could "open the gates of prisons to thousands of convicts."

TOO BUSY WITH CASES

"We can't even try today's criminals, we're so busy trying old ones," Weintraub has complained.

Implicit in several appeals based on the Escobedo ruling is the view that interrogation in a police station without a lawyer to advise the suspect of his rights facilitates such confessions.

With its continuing concern in the matter, the court may find it diffcult to turn its back on convictions that were reached before Escobedo.

Orphans Of The Storm!

David Lawrence Says:

'Off-Year Election' Is Important

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, in a formal message to congress, has recommended a basic change in the Constitution. But it is a step in the wrong direction — away from the fundamentals of democracy and toward the doctrines of autocracy in government.

There's nothing wrong with that part of his proposal for a Constitutional amendment which would permit four-year terms for members of the House of Representatives, but it's the elimination of any congressional election in the interim which is dangerous.

LAWRENCE

For this would deprive the American people of their most important check against an arbitrary or misguided set of policies adopted either by Congress or by a president who has managed to get control of the legislative body and make it a rubber-stamp machine.

The argument made by Mr. Johnson that Congress deals with "increasingly complex problems that generate this flood of legislation, requiring members to be familiar with an immense range of fact and opinion" or that there are increased costs in campaigning is a superficial one. National legislation has always been "complex."

★ ★ ★

As for the time spent by those members who frequently go back to their districts to appear before their constituents, this is not as relevant today as it used to be. The airplane makes it possible for members of Congress to spend weekends in their own districts and yet not miss any sessions in Washington.

NOT PERSUASIVE

Nor is it persuasive to belittle, as Mr. Johnson seeks to do, the value of "off-year elections" just because they sometimes attract "as much as 15 per cent fewer voters than presidential elections."

It might be noted that in presidential-election years the ballots are so confusing that the actual number of votes cast for members of Congress is usually below what the totals are for presidential and vice presidential nominees.

In 1964, for example, 6.5 per cent of those who voted for a presidential candidate didn't vote for members of the House of Representatives.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson overlooks the most important influence of "off-year elections."

CONSTANT REMINDER

The fact that a majority in both houses of Congress can be elected from the opposite party during a presidential term is a constant reminder to every chief executive that he cannot assume dictatorial powers for long and ignore the true wishes of the people.

The American people need more and not less power to express their will promptly and effectively, with respect not merely to both houses of Congress but to the presidency itself.

Some day real liberals and progressives will emerge who will persuade the voters of the United States to adopt a constitutional amendment to make not only both houses of Congress but also the president immediately responsive to the wishes of the people.

★ ★ ★

Four years is much too long to wait, especially when any subservient Congress and any spendthrift president can be joined together while the people remain helpless to remove from office anyone in either the executive or the legislative branch of the government.

Bob Considine Says:

Phoenix, Ariz., May Be Your Place in the Sun

PHOENIX — Five hundred years ago a sophisticated Indian tribe named the Hohokams, known for their agricultural improvisations and multistoried buildings, moved out of here.

Nobody knows where they went. The only clue as to why they blew may be today's proliferation of real estate salesmen.

CONSIDINE

If you're looking for instant sun, this would seem to be your dish of tea. Obviously, a lot of people are looking for just that.

The place was a hay supply camp to supply Cavalry troops at Fort McDowell when a settler named John Y. T. Smith (obviously an affectation to separate himself from other John Smiths) decided it might become a city.

★ ★ ★

Fellow named Darrel Duppa, called "Lord," gave it its name. Casting an eye over the ruins of the Hohokam civilization he suggested Phoenix — for the mythical bird that was consumed by fire every 500 years and rose gloriously from its own embers.

70 YEARS LATER

Seventy years later, in 1940, the city could boast (but seldom did) of a population of 65,000.

Today it's edging toward 600,000 and the metropolitan area is creeping along toward one-million.

About 600 families a month are moving here. The sun, the mountains, the friendly people, merge into a powerful magnet. First thing you know, Iowans streaming toward Southern California in a traditional exodus, like lemmings reaching for the sea, will make a left turn and stream down into the Southwest.

★ ★ ★

Phoenix, Scottsdale, Paradise Valley and other places out here have an average temperature of 69.4 degrees, get 86 per cent of the maximum possible sunshine each year, average 210 clear days a year (as opposed to Miami's 106 and Los Angeles' 182), get doused with only 7½ inches of rain a year.

ONCE BARREN

The area raises every fifth leaf of lettuce you eat, probably grew the cotton in your shirt or nightgown. Its once-barren land, not unlike the surface of the moon, yields torrents of oranges, grapefruit, lemons, broccoli, cabbage and melons. Flowers bloom around the year.

The state has an interesting little erosion, too, named Grand Canyon.

'All Members of Team Work Hard for Success'

I am a member of the Pontiac Northern basketball team. There are no harder-working players on the Northern team than the so-called second string subs. When they were picked to be on the team, the coach had a reason—whether it was because of ability, willingness to learn, or plain, hard-nosed desire. Every boy on the team had a specific job to perform.

★ ★ ★

Although it may appear that there is a second string at Northern, there isn't. The team is composed of 12 players working together to bring success to the Red and White of Pontiac Northern. Anyone not associated with or who does not participate in the Northern basketball program has no right to accuse the second stringers of not putting out.

'Loan Sharks Bleed Hard-Pressed Victims'

Underworld elements have been using money obtained from narcotics, gambling and other illegal practices to finance their usurious money-lending. Today, loan-sharking, operating through an invisible structure staffed by underworld leaders, has mushroomed into a $1 billion-a-year business. Lending money at interest rates of 260 per cent a year and sometimes as high as 2,000 per cent, loan sharks are corrupting legitimate companies and bleeding hapless borrowers white. Many hard-pressed wage earners are caught in the vise, unable to meet the loan shark's outrageous interest rates and cowed by his threats of violence.

A top racketeer will turn over to trusted lieutenants a large sum of money, requiring "vigorish" or 1 per cent a week. These men place money in the hands of retailers, at 2 per cent weekly. This third echelon lends the money to borrowers at "vigorish" of not less than 5 per cent a week. Thus, one million dollars produces $50,000 a week, or $2,600,000 a year. Loan sharks are not primarily interested in principal. They are content with indefinite weekly "vigorish" payments. If the borrower fails to make payments on time, the interest is compounded. One man who borrowed $5,000 eventually owed $90,000 in principal and interest.

★ ★ ★

Debt-ridden consumers can avoid victimization by knowing something about the lender. The borrower should check with the local Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce. Anyone who has fallen into the clutches of a loan shark should report his experience to the District Attorney or Attorney General and to the Better Business Bureau.

'Indian Justice Wiped Out by White Man'

Chief Pontiac XIII says "Indian justice" should prevail in the case of the lady who shot her husband and his lover upstairs in his girlfriend's house. He says Indian justice would free her in a few minutes. Chief Pontiac must remember "Indian justice" was wiped out completely by white man's superior justice. The guilty lady will stand full trial and face her "day (or days) in court."

'Parents Could Help End Teen-Age Crime'

We say it is terrible to read of the teen-age crimes, thefts and killings. If we parents had the love of God in our homes and took our children to church on Sunday instead of visiting the bars on Saturday night, these things could end.

JUST TRYING TO HELP

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

War Is a Reality!

The San Diego Union

Historians studying the war in Viet Nam will be as puzzled about manifestations of the United States policy as the American people are today. Faced with a ruthless enemy that gives no quarter, fails to live up to its word and is unyielding in its military purpose, the U. S. has again resorted to unilateral and self-imposed rules of gamemanship which ties military hands.

★ ★ ★

The theory is that if we show our good faith in pursuing peace, the pressure of world opinion will force the Viet Cong to stop their so-called "war of liberation." There are two major flaws in the reasoning. Our consistent displays of good faith have produced no visible results. The second is that the Viet Cong have no good faith.

★ ★ ★

Our good faith has been demonstrated in a previous two-week moratorium in bombing of North Viet Nam, in countless offers by the President for "unconditional" talks and by response to some degree to the pleas of the world community of peace-loving nations. Lack of good faith by the Viet Cong is evident by its distortions, terrorism, aggression and in its failure to live up to its word in such things as the Christmas truce in hostilities, which it suggested.

★ ★ ★

In spite of the Viet Cong violation of the holiday ceasefire, the United States called off air strikes in the north while the ground war raged unabated in the south. The high-level decisions pose great dangers. A lull in the bombing at a time when we should be increasing military pressure on the Viet Cong gives the enemy time to regroup, repair damage to missile sites and gain new strength.

★ ★ ★

Additionally the South Vietnamese officials already have indicated they oppose unilateral U. S. diplomacy and oppose unconditional peace talks. The most recent U. S. action undermines their position. Peace certainly is our goal in Viet Nam, but an honorable peace. Any mitigation of this goal is a betrayal of those who have lost their lives.

Viet Nam is a war, not an exercise in diplomatic research. Military leaders will testify that the way to win a war is to pursue it to the utmost and the peace will eventually come and be stronger as a result.

Disgraceful Conduct

The Washington Post

For two and a half years, Congressman Adam Clayton Powell has ducked and dodged and slithered away from the settlement of a defamation judgment against him awarded to a New York woman whom he mistakenly characterized as a "bag woman" or graft collector.

★ ★ ★

He has been accused of having fraudulently transferred ownership of property to avoid paying the judgment. All in all, the litigation in this case has involved no fewer than eight courts and more than 70 different judges, from the criminal court in New York City to the United States Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

One New York Supreme Court justice called Mr. Powell's conduct "so flagrantly contemptuous of the authority and dignity of this court as to promote a tragic disrespect for the judicial process as a whole." And just a day or two ago another state Supreme Court justice said: "To my knowledge, this man has used every trick and device in the book to flout the law and to avoid the orders of the court. He is not to be believed or trusted."

★ ★ ★

The presence of such a man in the House of Representatives can hardly be said to enhance its prestige.

Michigan Briefs

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

WASHINGTON — A former teacher at University of Michigan, Jack Wood Vaughn, succeeds Sargent Shriver as director of the Peace Corps. This man, who was previously assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, once reigned as Golden Gloves featherweight champion of Michigan. It's rumored that his appointment is merely "a holding operation" for Bill Moyers who dislikes being the President's press secretary and loved his old connection with the Peace Corps.

Defense Secretary McNamara's worry: four hearings in the House and one in the Senate dealing with shortages in ammunition, military equipment and supplies plus mismanagement within the Department of Defense.

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall announces that Michigan qualifies for outdoor recreation acquisition and development grants. Michigan's apportionment: $2,773,264. Plans call for sharing fund benefits between states and local levels of government on a 50-50 basis.

Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., says it isn't "just dream stuff" to suggest that weather control might be an answer to the pollution and water level problems in the Great Lakes. Might even be cheaper than diverting water from the far north. Involved are years of scientific research.

Michigan will receive $11,531,494 in federal funds in fiscal 1966 for basic support of the federal-state program of vocational rehabilitation through which persons with physical and mental disabilities receive service to reduce or eliminate the disability, learn a job and secure employment. Mary Switzer, vocational rehabilitation commissioner, reports also that state funds total $5,700,267.

Hospital Trustees OK Bid for U.S. Aid

Pontiac General Hospital trustees last night approved making preliminary application for federal funds to construct projected intern housing units.

The application to the Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA) would be for funds to purchase 12.8 acres of land on the grounds of Pontiac State Hospital.

The board of trustees discussed two problems that complicate the projected land purchase and housing construction.

First, the HHFA funds could be used only for that land actually devoted to the projected 30-35 housing units. This would be an estimated four acres.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, the state, which is selling the land for an estimated $140,800, requires that the entire 12.8 acres be bought.

EIGHT ACRES

Thus, Pontiac General would have to put up funds to buy the remaining property: about eight acres.

One alternative discussed last night was to have the city, county or school district pick up the leftover acreage for some "public purpose," required by the state.

Pontiac General has three years in which to make use of the land, located east of the entrance road to Pontiac State and extending along Elizabeth Lake Road to a point just north of the Johnson-State intersection.

If the hospital fails to make use of the land within the three-year period, the land must be sold back to the state.

According to state regulations, the city is the purchasing agency for the hospital.

Gambling Revenue Tops $300 Million

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Gov. Grant Sawyer says Nevada Gaming Commission preliminary reports indicate gross gambling revenue in 1965 went over the $300 million mark for the first time.

He said in a speech that taxes and fees paid to the state rose from $14.9 million to $15.7 million during the same period.

Voting booth for electric water heaters

If you're not satisfied, you get your money back!

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED BY DETROIT EDISON

An electric water heater is for the man who doesn't like to run out of hot water. We're so sure you'll like one, we guarantee your satisfaction—for a whole year! What do we mean by satisfaction? Simply this: If you don't get all the hot water you want, when you want it, you get all your money back, including any you may have spent on installation. And it doesn't matter where you bought your electric water heater. So long as you are an Edison customer the guarantee still applies. No strings attached. Fair enough?

EDISON

P.S. Average-size families with electric water heaters pay only $3.88 a month—a standard rate—for their hot water. How much are you paying?

Jaycees' Show Set for March

The Waterford Township Jaycees announced today that their 12th annual North Oakland County Home and Sport Show will be held March 25-27 at the Community Activities Inc. building, 5640 Williams Lake.

It is expected that at least 65 separate displays will be featured by merchants and manufacturers.

Included will be the latest in appliances, home accessories and materials, sporting and camping equipment.

A large display of travel trailers and pickup campers will be shown, according to the Jaycees.

Last year's show attracted 8,500 persons for three days.

For further information, Richard Womack, booth sales chairman, should be contacted at his home, 181 Airport, Waterford Township, or at Channing Co., Inc., 805 Pontiac State Bank Building.

Starvation Stalks India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's food crisis has thrown more than 12 million people into "dire distress" and threat of starvation, the Indian government reported today.

★ ★ ★

A food ministry spokesman said a survey of drought areas showed at least 100 million of the nation's 480 million people will be severely affected before the crisis is past.

★ ★ ★

People in "dire distress" will have to be moved into relief camps or fed almost entirely by relief supplies now being rushed to many parts of the nations, the spokesman said. Relief camps are being set up in Rajasthan and Gujarat States in western India, the area hardest hit.

The government also has started emergency shipments of drinking water and cattle fodder to many areas.

★ ★ ★

American grain shipments under the food for peace program have been averaging 600,000 tons a month and are expected to climb to more than a million tons per month.

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Stefan Kierpacz, 18, a gypsy, has been sentenced to 12 months in jail for abducting gypsy songstress Bronislawa Korsun, known as "Randia."

Kierpacz, married and father of a child, hired a taxi last September, kidnaped Randia in daylight in a street of Legnica (Liegnitz), western Poland, and drove her to Kamienna Gora, 30 miles away.

Kierpacz told the court in Legnica he kidnaped the beautiful singer because of his deep love for her.

PARIS (AP) — A further strain in relations between France and Morocco is threatened by issuance of French international arrest orders for Moroccan Interior Minister Mohammed Oufkir.

Oufkir is among those believed involved in the political kidnaping of Mehdi Ben Barka, a leader of the leftist opposition in Morocco. The warrant also named Maj. Ahmed Dlimi, director of the Moroccan Internal Security Service, and a man identified as Lardi Chtouki.

Presumably the warrant would make them subject to arrest in countries having extradition agreements with France. But the French government may also take retaliatory action against its former North African protectorate if the Moroccan government does not hand the men over.

Oufkir has acknowledged that he was in Paris Oct. 29 when Ben Barka, a leftist Moroccan exile, was kidnaped. Ben Barka is believed to have been murdered.

Earlier this week the French government began a sweeping shakeup in its secret service after it was established that agents of the service assisted in the abduction.

Condemned Man Is 'Not Afraid to Die'

By MICHAEL J. DONNELLY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — "I'm innocent," the condemned man said, looking around the room and then staring directly into my eyes, "but I'm not afraid to die."

Cleo Vernon Keaton of Dayton, a resident of the Ohio Penitentiary's death row since Nov. 9, told me about his philosophical outlook on his date with the electric chair in an interview inside the prison's stark gray walls.

He appeared calm. I was nervous. Walking into a grim, fortress-like penitentiary is an unforgettable experience — even when you know you are free to leave at will.

Keaton was sentenced to go to the chair April 22 for a slaying during a robbery. But his case is being appealed and the execution date is indefinite.

★ ★ ★

"Time goes by slowly in death row," Keaton told me. We talked in the interview room of a prison office. It was the first time he has spoken to a newsman since his arrest.

CONSTANT WATCH

Keaton lives under the constant watch of security guards in a 7-by-7 cell equipped with a bunk, basin and toilet.

He is one of 12 prisoners awaiting execution but, aside from an occasional game of chess or cards, he has little to do with the others.

He may leave the I-block once a day—for exercise in the prison courtyard, but he doesn't. "I don't care to leave my cell much," he said. "I've been to the courtyard only three times."

★ ★ ★

Twice a week, he is allowed to shower and a prison barber shaves him with a safety razor on Wednesdays and Fridays, leaving him with a heavy black stubble most of the time.

SPECIAL UNIFORM

He wears the special uniform of red stripes down the legs of his blue dungarees and on the lapels of his blue denim jacket and a white shirt instead of the usual prison blue work shirts.

As a condemned man, Keaton does have some privileges. He may have coffee whenever he wants it and is given 24-hour access to a radio.

"I have a set of earphones in my cell and I like to listen at night to the radio," he said.

★ ★ ★

"I've become adjusted to life here and time slowly moves on. There really aren't any days here," he said. "I don't believe in writing notes to prison officials and asking for favors. I mind my own business and keep away from the others."

MEDIUM BUILD

Keaton is 28, shorter than average with a medium build and a thick crop of carefully parted black, wavy hair.

He left home when he was 15 and has been married twice, the first time when he was 16. He had two children with each wife. His second wife, Harriet, and their children live with his parents now.

Keaton was calm and quiet-spoken during our two-hour talk. At first, he was reticent but slowly he began to talk more freely about his trial and his life on death row. He smoked three cigarettes.

★ ★ ★

"I've accepted the fact I may die and am willing to do just as the others have done before me," he said.

WAS CONVICTED

Keaton was convicted in Pickaway County Court of Common Pleas Nov. 5 of first degree murder in the shooting of Maurice L. Francis, 27, of Williamsport during a robbery last March 23 in a rural area near Williamsport.

Dayton police also charged Keaton, a one-time inmate of the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield, with slaying Karl Bartee, 42, of New Carlisle and Ruth Sherman, 43, a Dayton waitress, during a holdup at a bar March 15.

Keaton insists he is innocent of the Francis murder and contends he was denied a fair trial because of political manipulations by the judge and prosecutor.

★ ★ ★

His attorney, Emmanuel Nadlin, has taken this appeal to the Fourth District Court of Pickaway County.

But Keaton says he is not bitter.

"I have nothing against the Ohio penal system," he told me. And, he said, the prison officials watching over him "are just doing their job."

Michigan's Birth and Death Rates Both Declining

LANSING (AP)— Michigan's birth rate and death rate both are gradually declining, reports the State Health Department.

★ ★ ★

The department's health statistics and evaluation center said the state birth rate hit a high of 24.1 per thousand in 1915. A gradual decline set in until a low of 16.8 was recorded in 1964.

After a gradual increase, another decline was recorded. The number of live births decreased in the last eight years to 21.6 per thousand population in the 1930s.

★ ★ ★

The statistics show a drop of 4.4 per thousand population in the death rate between 1900 and 1964. The 1964 death rate was 8.9 per thousand after a high of 14.1 in 1910.

Yanks Patrol Santo Domingo

Dominicans Hurl Rocks, Insults at GIs

By JAMES A. BOURDIER

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — He's been spat upon. People have thrown garbage at him. Rocks have bounced off his heavy military helmet.

And this is the first time in his 24 years of life he hasn't seen snow at this time of the year.

★ ★ ★

It's been a warm winter for Sgt. Spring.

Sgt. William Spring of the U.S. 82nd Airborne, a native of Philadelphia, is typical of the American GIs who patrol the sometimes quiet, sometimes turbulent streets of Santo Domingo.

CAREER MAN

A U.S. army career man who has a son he's seen only once since beginning duty in the Dominican Republic last May, Spring commands a squad of five other airborne infantrymen and two Jeeps, part of the inter-American peace force.

Their duty is to patrol the streets in an area known as Ciudad Nueva but more commonly referred to as the old "rebel area."

Headquarters and billets are almost squarely in the center of this area — on Avenue Mella — one of the hot spots of sniper fire during last year's short revolution.

Each of Spring's two Jeeps carries three men and an M60 machine gun, plus shotguns loaded with birdshot, and a bazooka. Each soldier carries his own personal arms. Spring rides the right-hand seat of the lead Jeep with a shotgun across his lap, constantly on the alert for any sign of trouble.

100 MILES DAILY

The men average 100 miles a day in patrols. A ride through the area takes almost two hours. Then Spring orders a rest break. Then more patrol.

Throwing of rocks and garbage has grown less frequent but many Dominicans hurl verbal insults at the olive-clad men in Jeeps. "We don't feel the day is complete," Spring jokes," if we don't collect a few 'Yankee, go homes'."

★ ★ ★

As Spring's Jeeps weave through traffic, the men swivel their heads, checking first the street in their immediate area, then up at the two and three-story buildings, packed close together at the sidewalk's edge. At any sign of trouble or street disturbance it is their duty to make a report and investigate — and when so ordered, take action.

Quietly, the tall, lean veteran of more than 70 parachute jumps recalls being under fire in this island soon after the revolution broke out, when the sniper fire "was hot and heavy."

SYMPATHY

Spring feels a sympathy toward the Dominican people.

"The average Dominican I know is usually quiet and cooperative, unless he is prodded along by someone. He won't go out of his way to interfere with us. But let some rabble-rouser organize a mob, and this same man, egged on, will join in and throw stones at you," Spring says.

★ ★ ★

"A lot of Dominicans, too, would like to be friendly with American troops, but are afraid because of threats from certain elements of the population."

Days off are few for Spring and his men. Their chief source of relaxation is swimming at Red Beach and stretching out under the Caribbean sun.

'GOOD SOLDIER'

Spring takes his orders from Lt. William Jones of Littlefield, Tex., his platoon commander. Jones terms his squad leader "a good professional soldier."

While the politicians of the country maneuver behind closed doors, the outside routine for Spring and men like him goes on — seemingly endless patrols through narrow streets. A rest period. More patrols.

★ ★ ★

Spring looks forward to July when his tour of duty will end and he'll return to his wife, Violet, and son, Wayne, at the 82nd's home base — Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Maybe next winter he'll see snow again.

In the 136 coal seams in West Virginia, there are about 103 billion tons of bituminous coal, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Children's Play Set by Kettering Group

By JAMIE SCHUTT

Play production class at Waterford Kettering High School will present the first Childrens' Theater of the year, this Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

★ ★ ★

"Land of the Dragon", is a children's Chinese play with a double cast list.

Main roles are shared by Penelope Cycan and Patricia Greer, Jade Pure; Ann Hall and Diane Voss, Precious Harp; and Roger Miller and Greg Summer, 24th cousin.

Other roles are filled by Terry Schmidt and Cy Tilton, Road Wanderer; Nicholas Villarreal and Philip DeNapole as Covet Spring; and Jane Tiefinbach and Sharon Jenkins as the dragon.

★ ★ ★

Also in the play are Lynn Hammond, property girl; Carol Cascone, stage manager; and Cheryl Hankins, Sherry Priest, Nadine Howell, Kim Maxwell, and Barbara Wess, the sisters.

TOUR SCHOOLS

The group will tour local elementary schools.

New parking lot rules are going to be put into effect at Waterford Kettering.

Because of vandalism in the lot, all entrances, except the Bender Street entrance will be chained at 7:45 in the morning, and opened at 2:20 in the afternoon.

★ ★ ★

All cars in the parking lot must have a sticker on the passenger side, and must be registered in the office.

★ ★ ★

Stickers are different colors, representing staff, student, and early dismissal.

MUSICAL ASSEMBLIES

The band, under the direction of George Fetter, presented musical assemblies last week.

Members of the Co-op Club recently attended the Michigan State Co-op Club convention in Battle Creek.

Linda Fields, Ruth Coffee, and Linda Mattingly participated in the over-night rally with representatives from other Michigan clubs. Highlighting the convention, was the election of statewide Co-op officers.

★ ★ ★

Junior varsity debaters emerged in second place from the Inter-Lakes Debate League's final tournament last week.

★ ★ ★

Winning team members were Peter Teewissen and Jon Grambeau, and Judith Beilfuss and Penelope Young.

★ ★ ★

Varsity debaters will travel to University of Michigan for the district contests Thursday.

PCH Seniors Plan Boat Trip

By HELEN COLLIAS

Seniors at Pontiac Central High School are planning senior trip. After much discussion, it has been decided that they will take a weekend boat trip to Mackinac Island.

★ ★ ★

Approximately 180 have signed up.

Royal Oak Dondero High School will also take part in this trip.

A talent show on board will be one of the highlights of the trip. Each school will be responsible for providing a show.

★ ★ ★

Students who have some particular talent are urged to perfect their routines in preparation for the tryouts.

★ ★ ★

Various game rooms will be available and continuous music will be provided by two bands for those who love to dance. The preliminaries are already completed as students made their first down payment and chose roommates.

★ ★ ★

Besides planning for the trip this week, seniors also had to order graduation announcements.

Northern Wins Clothing Drive

Tallies 7,670 Pounds; Eastern in 2nd Place

By ALICE TURNER

Pontiac Northern placed first in the recent Pontiac Schools Annual Community Clothing Drive.

Northern collected a total of 7,670 pounds compared to 2,600 pounds last year.

Taking second place was Eastern Junior High with 6,200 pounds.

Other schools in order were: Washington Junior High, Central, Lincoln and Kennedy Junior Highs.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Theodore Wiersema's homeroom came in first place at PN with a total of 2,168½ pounds.

OTHER WINNERS

Next five places were held by homerooms of Christine Gary, Janice Noonan, Judy Sellgren, Raymond Hull and Stanley Rogell.

Letters of commendation and tickets entitling each student to free ice cream were issued the winners.

Students at PN are awaiting the ALSAC Dance which will be held tomorrow night at the Pontiac Boys' Club.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the dance entitled "Paris By Moonlight" are slated for St. Jude's Research Hospital to aid leukemia-stricken children.

DANCE CHAIRMAN

Chairman of the dance is PN senior George Wren. His assistants include Ted Lemanski, Ralph Bartles, Lynn Gooch, Carmilla Rosseli and Sue Bailey, all from Northern.

Others are: Janice Manning, Lana Sparks, Earl Myers, Nancy Blevins, Patty Guy, Mary DeClute and Cathy Norberg.

The dance will be from 8-1 a.m. Saturday at the Boys' Club, 530 East Pike. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

★ ★ ★

'Sadie Hawkins' Returns Again

LADY'S CHOICE—Gretchen Platz of 205 Exmoore has a finger and eye on her "Abner," Robert Slating of 110 Ascot, for Waterford Township High School's annual Sadie Hawkins Day and Dance. Both live in Waterford Township. Robert, junior class vice president; and Sharon Murphy, class secretary; are coordinating the affair which will be held Wednesday.

By JEAN PRIESTLEY

Juniors at Waterford Township High School are preparing for their annual Sadie Hawkins Day and Dance, scheduled for Wednesday.

Sharon Murphy, class secretary, and Robert Slating, junior vice president, will act as coordinators.

WTHS "Daisy Maes" will pursue their "Abners" throughout the day, walking them to classes, opening doors and carrying their books.

Chairman for the day's activities is Pam Hill.

★ ★ ★

Mary Poole and Ray Felice, cochairmen for the decorations committee, are striving to create a miniature "Dog Patch."

WISHING WELL

They have plans for a wishing well and an "outhouse" where happy young couples will leave their initials "carved" in magic-marker.

A "hitching post" will highlight the area, complete with rings, marriage licenses and a justice of the peace for successful aggressors and their victims.

The Starfires, featured entertainment for the evening, were hired by Gretchen Platz, entertainment chairman.

★ ★ ★

Tickets, handled by Marilyn Meacham, will be available at the door.

CAPTURE TITLES

Seniors Ruthe Burrell and Howard Owen won the titles of "Mr. and Miss Junior Achievement of Pontiac" at the semi-finals held last week at J. A. headquarters in Detroit.

They will compete at the finals tomorrow evening for Mr. and Miss Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan.

Howard and Art Kilmer, also a senior, attended the Economic Club of Detroit luncheon this week with eight other Achievers from Pontiac Junior Achievement Center.

★ ★ ★

Guest speaker at the luncheon was Walter P. Reuther, who talked on "Building the Great Society."

PRODUCING FILM

Ann Hobart's play production class is currently producing a film for a class project.

Their most recent problem —how to complete an outdoor scene begun before the snow fell. Miss Hobart plans to show the film for students and faculty.

The speech department has announced the spring forensics competition to be held next month.

Categories for the contest are original oratory, interpretive reading, humorous reading, extemporaneous speaking and radio news commentary.

★ ★ ★

Gilbert Bergsrud, speech instructor, said the last category is new this year and that five-minute commentaries taken from a newswire report will be given with only one hour of preparation.

Items of Interest From 10 Area Schools

St. Mike's

By MICHAEL THORNBERRY

Pictures of various groups and organizations for publication in the yearbook "Michaelite" were taken this week at St. Michael's.

Groups represented were Future Teachers, Future Nurses, Sodality, C.C.D. workers, Senior Government Seminar, Varsity Club, altar boys and the National Honor Society.

★ ★ ★

Athletic and classroom activity photographs have been completed.

The Junior class is sponsoring a dance tomorrow from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. in the parish hall.

Emmanuel

By LINDA WRIGHT

Things are quiet for the students of Emmanuel Christian High School this week.

Students are preparing for final exams Tuesday and Wednesday.

The journalism class is now selling old yearbooks for the benefit of new students or students who did not receive them in past years.

Money received will be used to pay for an added feature to this year's "Conqueror."

Bloomfield Hills

By VIRGINIA WAYLETT

Under the direction of Glenn Wooster, speech and drama instructor at Bloomfield Hills High School, grade school children will be entertained with two plays, Jan. 27-29.

Drama Clubs from high school and elementary schools will join forces to present "Popcorn Pete Goes to the Moon" and "Cinderblossom."

"Popcorn Pete" is the story of a clown who, with his friend Gertrude, the little witch, goes to the moon to help Star get back into the solar system.

Trouble with the outer space patrol and the older witch keep the three in a turmoil.

"Cinderblossom" is the Chinese version of "Cinderella."

Brandon

By ROSE THERIOT

Highlighting Brandon's agenda is a Hootenanny sponsored by the Senior Trip Club. It will be held Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Proceeds will go toward the senior trip in June.

Rochester

By KATHY MORGAN

Try-outs for the senior play, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," were held this week at Rochester High School.

Written by George Kaufman and Moss Hart, the three-act comedy is one of America's best modern plays. It appeared on Broadway and was produced as a movie.

The play reading committee, headed by Debbie McDonald, chose the play from a wide field. "Erasmus With Freckles" was second choice.

Lady of Lakes

By CECELIA PARKER

Once again, seniors at Our Lady of the Lakes High School are in the spotlight.

★ ★ ★

Scores of those who took the Michigan competitive scholarship exam have been received.

★ ★ ★

Senior applicants qualifying for further consideration are Suzanne Livingston, Sandra Schroff, Storm Slavin, John Shaughnessy, Sandra Smith, Randy Wise and Jane Zelnis.

Dominican Academy

By DEBBIE VAN NATTER

Dominican Academy students and faculty have been busy planning and preparing future events.

★ ★ ★

A Valentine Hop is scheduled Feb. 12 at St. Joseph's Hall, Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

A variety show will replace the annual school play April 23. Title of the variety show will be "Voices of Spring."

Holly

By LINDA LONGSTRETH

The Future Teachers of America Club at Holly High School will sponsor a dance Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Refreshments will be served. The dance will be a welcome form of entertainment after exams on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Oxford

By ANN ASHLEY

Newly inducted members of the Oxford Area Community High School Freda Quayle Chapter, National Honor Society, are seniors David Gensley and Ellen Pearson.

Juniors are Jim McGraw, Cathy Oberg, Mickey Cummings, Roylene Hardgrove, Chris Parenti, Alice Torrey, Betty Redman, Betsy Gardner, Ann Bromley, Linda Jones, Greta Hedburg, Gretchen Dahl and Phil Looney.

"Moldie Oldies" will be presented tomorrow night by the junior class of OHS at 8 p.m.

The dance will be held in the student center, featuring past hit songs.

★ ★ ★

Serving as chairman of the dance committee is Rick Rowley.

★ ★ ★

Gretchen Dahl is chairman of the decorations committee, Bill Offer in charge of publicity.

Lake Orion

By NADINE WILLIAMS

Four boys, chosen from the junior class to represent Lake Orion High School last year at Boys' State, will speak to the Lion's Club on the benefits they received from the experience.

★ ★ ★

Bicounty Band Honors to 13

By RICHARD WIXOM

Thirteen members of the Milford High School Band gained positions in the Wayne - Oakland County League Band following tryouts Jan. 11.

John Addis, Michael Arthur, Linda Welch and Richard Wixom captured first chair assignments.

Other MHS students in the band are John Austin, Wendy Giegler, Terrye Hord and Jo-Anna Morgan.

Still others include Melvin Nick, Martha O'Conner, Virginia Osborn, James Posante and Robert Priestap.

★ ★ ★

Two evening concerts are scheduled for 8 p.m. Feb. 3 at Brighton and Feb. 10 at Bloomfield Hills.

The band will play daytime assemblies at Milford and Holly Feb. 9.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Marion Beam, director, has selected 16 members of her choir to represent MHS in the WOCL Choir.

Chaperones are faculty members, Roger Thompson, Ski Club sponsor; and William Mackson.

30 on Weekend Trip

Clarkston Skiers Go North

By CATHY RICHARDSON

Thirty members of Clarkston High School's Ski Club will leave late this afternoon for a ski trip to the northern Lower Peninsula.

Chaperones for the trip will include Roger Thompson, Ski Club sponsor and business teacher, and William Mackson, science teacher.

Over the weekend, the students will lodge at Wolverine Sports Camp in Wolverine, Michigan.

They will ski at Thunder Mountain and Boyne Highland's Ski Resort, planning to return by bus late Sunday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

In honor of the ski trip, the sophomore class has entitled its dance "Sophomore Chalet."

It will be held in the high school cafeteria after the home game this evening.

Ski clothes will be the accepted apparel for the dance.

Gary Fuller, Pam Gillis, Neal Mansfield, and Dan Williams have been chosen to be the first-chair leaders for their respective instrumental sections in the 1966 Wayne-Oakland County League Band.

Others who succeeded in the tryouts, held at Holly High School, were Mark Cowen, Jack Frost, Cindy Glavach, Terry Klein, Patti Mulcrone, Brenda Shaw, Russ Simonson, John White and Eric Wooley.

Class of 1969 will sponsor a party in the gym from 7 to 9 p.m. on Jan. 27. It will be open to freshmen only.

New Exchange Students Arrive at Walled Lake

By RON MOORHEAD

This month Walled Lake High School welcomes three new exchange students, bringing the number of exchange students to eight this year.

Tony Olivero and Gilbert Barbosa are from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Tony is the guest of the W. M. Duckwitzes and Gilbert is living with the A. W. Stecklings, both families are from Orchard Lake.

Walled Lake's newest exchange student is Geja Barens. Geja, from Amsterdam, Holland, arrived in Walled Lake Monday.

Gilbert and Tony have been to Detroit to shop for warm clothing. When they left home, the temperature was 102 degrees, so they weren't prepared for such cold weather.

St. Frederick Students in Cleanup Role

By ERNESTINE MOORE

Students and teachers at St. Frederick's High School took today's assembly time to organize materials and records so that the second semester would find everything in order.

No one realized upon cleaning out desks that they had acquired so many articles not belonging to them.

The teacher, trying to get records brought up to date, soon had no work space for students considered her desk the perfect place for a lost and found depot.

So now, the 'usually neat' desk in front of the room is the eyesore of the class.

With the first semester gradually slipping into history, students and teachers delved into work.

Family electrical use raised a kilowatt or two as the midnight oil, not the television, burned.

Even the atmosphere around school changed. Study halls were now STUDY halls.

As teachers reviewed first semester work, considerable notes were hurriedly taken by students.

Students are somewhat blessed this year as teachers have a choice of giving semester exams either this week or next.

Business Hurt by Alcoholism

Costs $1 Billion Per Year, Affects Millions

By SCIENCE SERVICE

NEW YORK — Alcoholism costs American business more than a billion dollars yearly by affecting at least two million workers.

★ ★ ★

A three-day New York Academy of Sciences meeting on alcoholism and obesity heard this from Dr. Luther A. Cloud of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, New York.

Rehabilitation is simpler and more effective in an industrial setting, than outside, said Dr. Cloud.

Stricken employes will often have stable lives, except for the drinking. They have maintained their marriages, raised children, attended church and kept the respect of the community.

★ ★ ★

Because it can see the problem not as one of isolated individuals but as a larger condition, industry can and must play a more important role in the prevention of deviant drinking, he said.

CLINICAL STUDY

An unusual clinical study in which alcoholics were allowed to drink as much as they could earn was reported by Drs. Jack H. Mendelson and Nancy K. Mellow of the Massachusetts General Hospital and Harvard Medical School, Boston.

The alcoholics drank for 12 to 20 days, maintaining a constant high blood alcohol level but showing only moderate intoxication.

At first, they worked for their drink during the day and early evening. As the experiment progressed, they began working around the clock and sleeping intermittently for only one or two hours at a time.

★ ★ ★

Drinking stopped abruptly and voluntarily. Seldom was cessation related to illness or severe inebriation. No alcoholic slacked off slowly to avoid withdrawal symptoms.

★ ★ ★

Excessive drinking and eating are related to American values of overconsumption, said Jean E. Markham, Southern Connecticut State College, New Haven.

'Streamlining' Drive Is Begun

LANSING (AP) — Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, has launched a campaign to "bring the Michigan Legislature into the 20th Century."

He announced Thursday creation of a special Task Force on Legislative Reform "to produce recommendations for streamlining the procedure and organizational structure of the Legislature."

The House, meanwhile, debated the question of whether or not lawmaking is a full or parttime job.

The debate came up when the House passed a resolution extending its work schedule from April into early June. The timetable then calls for a recess rather than final adjournment.

ROMNEY BLOCK

Some House Democrats have admitted the recess is intended to prevent Republican Gov. George Romney from calling lawmakers back into a special session.

"Let's get our work done and get out of here," said Minority Leader Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe. Waldron said the Legislature by tradition is a parttime body made up of laymen who take time off from their daily pursuits to set the laws of the state.

Many lawmakers of both parties have been working around the calendar for years, objected Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit.

Kowalski said in announcing the task force that "the ultimate goal will be to make the Legislature a more effective and responsive instrument of the people....to give the people the best possible Legislature at the least possible cost.

"State legislatures will play their proper constructive roles as fully participating partners in the federal-state system only when the legislatures equip themselves with 20th Century tools to deal with 20th Century problems."

It is essential, he said, that the Legislature move as quickly as possible to enact reforms that are "years overdue. But it is equally essential we begin planning for the 1970s and 1980s..."

HENRY HALLER

White House Has New Chef

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Swiss-born chef who knows the culinary route from pate to pastrami is stepping into the White House shoes of the Frenchman whose continental dishes palled on the presidential palate.

Henry Haller, 43, will take over the White House kitchen Feb. 1, leaving his present post as executive chef of New York's Sheraton-East Hotel.

Haller succeeds Rene Verdon, who quit Jan. 1 in a dispute over gastronomical tastes at the White House. The crowning blow was a suggestion he use cookbook recipes.

The White House said Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and her staff were delighted to find that Haller has had wide experience in whipping up not only continental fare but American favorites as well.

Haller's duties will be confined to preparing meals for state dinners and other large formal occasions. The day-to-day menu at the White House is handled by the Johnson family cook, Zephyr Wright.

HOPING FOR RAISE

In New York, Haller said his $10,000-a-year White House salary would be about what he is making now, but that he was hoping for a raise in Washington.

"Glory is not enough," Haller said. "I have four children to feed."

Haller of Altdorf, Switzerland, said he did not expect to have any trouble satisfying the President's preference for simpler American fare.

"I'm here in this country longer than the President's previous chef and I've learned to be flexible."

Lid Clamped on Spending

LANSING (AP)—Reacting at least partly to criticism of its insurance committee, the Senate clamped a $10,000 lid Thursday on annual expenditures by each of its committees except one.

The $10,000 limit was reached at a one-hour, closed-door session of the Senate Business Committee, then approved on the floor. Some senators wanted to set the figure lower, at least for some committees, but the final uniform ceiling decision was to avoid a floor argument over whose committee should get how much.

No ceiling was put on the Appropriations Committee, biggest and busiest of the Senate's 18 standing committees.

Last year no ceilings were set.

DREW BLAST

Insurance Committee Chairman Sen. Bernard O'Brien, D-Detroit, was criticized last year by Republican leader Emil Lockwood of St. Louis for hiring a $45 a day investigator in April and working the man almost continuously through the rest of 1965. The committee approved the hiring some months after he went to work.

Based on 50 weeks of five-day-a-week service, a $45 daily wage would equal an annual salary of $11,250.

TB Cases Expose Loopholes

DETROIT (AP) — An outbreak of tuberculosis at a suburban day nursery has uncovered a number of loopholes in laws designed to prevent epidemics according to a survey taken by the Detroit Free Press.

Dealing primarily with requirements that some persons connected with children be examined periodically, the paper's survey said many others in similar work are excluded from such requirements.

The survey was prompted by the discovery of 14 cases of TB among children at the Hansel & Gretel Day Nursery in suburban Garden City.

Thirteen of the children have been admitted to the Maybury Sanatorium near Northville. The other is an outpatient.

The Free Press said there is no state law which requires public school teachers to have periodic physical examinations.

Further, the paper said, most school systems in Michigan do not have such requirements.

In the Detroit public schools hundreds of student assistants and volunteers are not required to have examinations, it said, although the city's public school teachers must be examined prior to being hired.

Volunteers working with children in Detroit's Total Action Against Poverty program, according to the Free Press, are expected to have physical examinations and chest X rays. But Phillip Rutledge, TAP director, told the paper enforcement is lax or nonexistent in many cases.

A 1944 state law requires annual chest X rays for all adults involved in nonpublic day care centers or nurseries. The statute does not include programs conducted by city or county governments, public schools, colleges or universities, the paper said.

Meanwhile, the Wayne County board of supervisors praised the Detroit and county health departments Thursday for an "excellent job in preventing what could have been a major epidemic."

Board Chairman Jack McDonald, author of the statement, said health authorities had been directed to investigate the private medical handling of a nursery employe thought to have infected the children.

"This employe had an X ray by a private agency last August and it was determined that no tuberculosis lesions were present," McDonald said.

"Yet these children were infected within a two - month period," he added. McDonald said the investigation would determine if mistakes were made by the woman's physician.

Careful Work Key to Success

Algebra Student Must Be Accurate, Neat

By LESLIE J. NASON

Dear Dr. Nason: Our 10th-grade son is at the point of failing algebra. He says that he understands the teacher when the methods are explained in class, but that when it comes to tests he makes too many simple mistakes. His homework papers that I have seen are so messy they are disgraceful.

DR. NASON

Mrs. W. D., Alimetos
Peninsula, Calif.

Algebra depends heavily on the relative placement of numerals and letters as well as the accurate use of signs and symbols. A slight change in a sign or the placement of the numeral can change the entire meaning of an algebraic expression.

Carelessly written work is not only difficult to read, but leads to errors both in method and simple arithmetic as well. Teachers should insist upon homework that is carefully prepared.

Have your son practice writing numerals until he automatically writes them neatly and accurately. Then even though his teacher does not, you insist that his homework be written neatly and correctly. You should get results within two weeks.

Dear Dr. Nason: Much to our surprise, our daughter is having great difficulty with Spanish this year. She was given A grades in Spanish in the 7th and 8th grades; now in the 9th she is barely passing. Her major difficulty seems to be in translating from English to Spanish.

We are at a loss to understand the sudden deterioration since, in other subjects, our daughter's work is maintained at the same high standard she has always held. Can you give us a suggestion?

Mrs. N. C., Anaheim, Calif.

Your daughter's 9th grade Spanish teacher apparently is using the traditional grammar translation approach to the subject. In the 7th and 8th grades, the audio-lingual approach was properly used. Under this method, pupils gained some fluency in speaking and hearing the language. Many. high school teachers have not as yet worked out a satisfactory transition.

They assume, incorrectly, that since the pupils have some background they are ready to start a very formal study of the language. Consequently, in the first few weeks they attack the most difficult problem of all — the translation from written English to written Spanish.

I suggest you discuss the matter with your local school superintendent. In the meantime, perhaps your daughter will be more successful if she attempts the translation phrase by phrase rather than word by word.

Dear Dr. Nason: When educators talk about the transfer of learning, do they mean that "mathematics teaches you to think" and then you can use it in all other fields.

N.A., Washington, D.C.

It is not the subject matter connected with learning that is transferable, but the skills gained in studying the subject. It is not mathematics that teaches them to think, but the training they get in the proper way to approach and analyze problems while studying mathematics.

However, problem-solving cannot be taught in a vacuum. A student should be taught these skills while learning arithmetic or algebra. Only then can he apply the same skills to another subject where they are applicable.

(You can write to Prof. Nason in care of The Pontiac Press.

Ways to Handle Business, Labor

LBJ Seeking Inflation-Curb Ideas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration is looking for some padded gloves to avoid future donnybrooks over inflationary price and wage increases.

Government officials are convinced that more knock-down, drag-out fights with business, and possibly labor too, are likely unless some new way can be found to check the inflationary trends of the economy.

The trouble with the present system, they say, is that it is inconsistent and strains administration relations with businessmen, who feel it infringes on their right to set prices and that is enforced against business more than against labor.

A Federal Reserve System source called the present approach "a blindfold game" because it is difficult to tell where the government will weigh in an where it will not.

★ ★ ★

There also is a feeling that the President cannot afford to risk his prestige so often.

Proposed solutions to the dilemma range from requiring consultation between the government and business before price hikes can be put into effect to reducing government spending and raising taxes.

All these proposals have shortcomings, and Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler indicated the government, for the moment at least, intends to stay with the present system. He said the administration will "blow the whistle impartially" on both labor and management.

But the administration is taking a hard look at a wide range of proposals in hopes of coming up with a composite that would improve the situation.

One idea now making the rounds is to ask companies and unions in key industries to come in and talk over proposed price and wage increases with the President's Council of Economic Advisers before they try to put them into effect.

Since these conversations would be private, they would give each side a chance to say its piece without laying its prestige on the line publicly. If the administration felt the proposed increase was inflationary but was unable to dissuade the company or union, it still could mount whatever kind of attack — behind the scenes or in open — it wanted.

The idea is that this method would at least reduce the number of pitched battles waged in full view of the public with all their unhappy side effects.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., takes a different approach. He has introduced a bill that would require the House-Senate joint economic committee to hold public hearings on any price or wage increase the Council of Economic Advisers deemed inflationary.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of the hearings would be to "bring informed public opinion to bear on wage and price increases which threaten economic growth and stability." The committee would make recommendations but could not force a company to rescind a price increase.

The committee also would pass annually on the administration's wage-price guideposts, which Johnson and his advisers have been wielding in their recent price encounters with big business.

The guideposts say that wages and prices should rise no faster than the long-run increase in productivity, currently calculated at 3.2 per cent per year.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., has gone a step farther. He wants legislation to require companies "in basic industries" to wait 60 days before putting into effect an announced price increase. This would give the government a chance to study the proposal and decide whether it would hurt the economy.

After the 60-day waiting period, the company could put the increases into effect.

Objection have been raised to all three proposals. A Treasury official doubted that many companies would be willing to come in and tell the administration about their price plans as required in the first proposal.

A Capitol Hill supporter of the Ruess approach said that private negotiations between the administration and a company could lead to "all kinds of hanky-panky."

"If the government's going to be in it at all, the public's got to know what's going on," he said.

A private economist formerly with the government questioned whether the Ruess scheme would work. He said the council often can work more effectively if it isn't forced to lay all its data out in the open as it would be in hearings before a congressional committee.

Columnist Refuses to 'Boyle' as He Nears His 55th Birthday

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — No, it couldn't happen to a younger fellow.

I am about to be 55 years old.

Actually my birthday isn't until next month, but since anticipation is better than realization, I am celebrating it now.

To some, this milestone may not loom as a very important event. But I feel like climbing atop a sunny mountain and shouting through a megaphone:

"Hello, world! Guess who's 55 years old. Me! Most of the billions of people who have inhabited earth never reached that age. But I have! Exult! Enjoy!"

To some people another birthday is like another millstone around their neck.

I don't feel that way. I think that total despair is plumbed on one's 40th birthday, and every birthday after that is a great victory. Right now, if I had the money, I'd erect a great bronze statue of myself in Central Park — with one hand thumbing my nose at time, and the other outthrust full of bird seed and nuts for pigeons and squirrels.

There are pessimists who may question what is the possible pleasure of being 55. As a matter of fact, it is a rather comfortable age. You are too young to be a dirty old man, and too elderly to be called "a promising talent."

NO FEAR

You are beyond the tyranny of desire but still available to the challenge of the mind. The pursuit of wisdom is a joy. You can burn your draft card without fear, if you want to. But you don't want to. You desperately wish to serve your country in any manner — except, possibly, by the payment of more taxes.

To be 55 in 1966 is something of an achievement and commands respect.

At 55 a fellow probably survived chicken pox, measles, the mumps and a tonsillectomy. He has weathered a couple of depressions and several wars, learned to recognize his wife across a breakfast table, maybe raised a kid or two or three, and almost paid up a mortgage.

If he is lucky, he has probably also stayed out of jail. He is so well known that he can get a new box of paper clips from the supply clerk without formally signing a requisition.

Where I live he can even sign a check to pay for his groceries at the neighborhood supermarket — and what more can anyone ask of life than that? It is nice to be trusted.

At 55 one is content to coach the office baseball team rather than knock the necessary home run. But you still aren't a dodderer. In a pinch you can still beat an old lady to a bus seat.

At 55 a new sharpness comes to the eye. Commonplace things have a fresh wonder: the flight of gulls, the sound of a child's laughter, the reach of an opening leaf in spring — these are edged with a fresh wonder.

You know so much about people that no one you meet is really quite a total stranger. The only total stranger left is death.

Personally, I don't want to meet him until the hour of sunrise on New Year's Day in the year of 2,000. Every human heart probably has as a goal the seeing of the dawn of a new century.

U.S. Struck by Punch of Winter

By The Associated Press

Winter's hefty one-two punch, snow and cold, again pounded wide areas in the north central region, the Rockies and southern Plains today.

★ ★ ★

The snow and subzero cold hit sections in at least 10 states. North Dakota and Montana had the lowest temperatures. But snow and below zero readings also were reported in parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Kansas.

The mercury dropped to 30 below zero early today at Dickinson, N.D. Temperatures were below zero Thursday in most of the Dakotas, including high readings of —11 at Devils Lake, N.D., and —8 at Lemmon, S.D.

★ ★ ★

Snow fell throughout most of the cold belt and heavy snow covered many areas. Snow extended into the plains of New Mexico and Texas and the Weather Bureau said four to six inches appeared likely from Eastern New Mexico to western Oklahoma and northwestern Texas.

NORTH WINDS

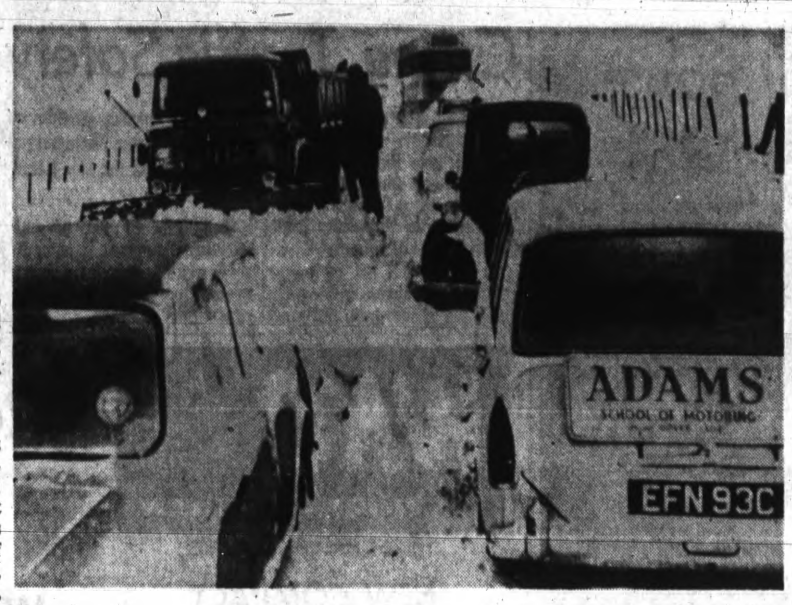
Stiff northerly winds fanned the cold air across the north central region southward and there was drifting of snow in some areas.

In Wisconsin, with heavy snow across many sections, temperatures were below zero for the eighth straight night in some cities as the fresh surge of arctic air moved into the northwestern part of the state.

★ ★ ★

Snow measured six inches at Goodland, in northwestern Kansas, and it was one below zero. Four inches of snow covered Dodge City, in the southwest part of the state.

Snow amounts in Oklahoma ranged from 3 to 6 inches, with heavy amounts indicated today and tonight. Agriculture experts described the moisture as a "million dollar snow" to many areas because of the lack of rain and snow in recent months.



AP Photofax

A BAD SHOW — Traffic was at a complete standstill on the Deal Road near Dover, England, yesterday after a heavy snowfall Wednesday. A snowplow works to free the vehicles stuck overnight and open the road to traffic.

European Cold Wave Cripples Britain

LONDON (AP) — Europe's cold wave crippled British industry today, packed the hospitals and threatened major embarrassment for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government.

Cuts in gas supplies disrupted the English Midlands, the hub of British industry. Thousands of workers were laid off for the rest of the week, and assembly lines halted in automobile and engineering plants.

★ ★ ★

Hospitals reported hundreds of fracture cases brought in from the icy streets. Some set up special wards for old people with hypothermia, a dangerous drop in body temperature. One London hospital reported 212 casualties from falls Thursday night, most of them broken wrists. Brighton, on the south coast, had 160.

In Norway, the intense cold seemed to be lifting slightly and the temperature reached 14 degrees fahrenheit. The Weather Bureau said the last three months have been the coldest Oslo has known since official records started 132 years ago.

COLDEST WINTER

Sweden, enduring its coldest winter since 1881, reported 43 ships icebound in the northern Baltic. Inland temperatures ranged from -4 to -38 fahrenheit. By these standards Britain, with temperatures only a few degrees below freezing, was enjoying a heat wave but the consequences were considerable.

Cuts by the government gas and electrical industries gave the Conservative opposition a springboard for attack on Wilson's Labor government, which has a majority of only two votes in the House of Commons.

★ ★ ★

Conservatives said the attack will start as soon as Parliament returns Tuesday from the Christmas recess. It will culminate Thursday in an attempt to bring the government down by forcing a vote of censure.

One issue the opposition will raise is what happened to the winter emergency committee set up by the government after similar power cuts last November.

The government's answer is that it is concerned only with long-term solutions. The main cause of the current trouble is failures in two major gas plants in the Midlands.

Thief Beats Police Back to the Station

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A careless thief made things easy for police. He dropped his wallet at a construction site where $200 worth of screen doors were stolen.

Police said the suspect beat them to the arrest. The owner of the wallet, Caludius Walls, 43, was already in jail, on a traffic charge.

Dies in Farm Accident

NOVEL AIRSHIP—Airship developments include construction of this three-hulled craft in Trenton, N. J. by a group including three who served with Navy airships. It carries a two-man crew and has been under construction for more than four years. Designer John Fitzpatrick is shown climbing into the cockpit.

Era of the Airship Is Fondly Recalled

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP) — "They were never given a chance," the admiral said as he looked across the expanse of sparkling, sunlit water.

Leaning against his high-backed chair, in the manner of a ship's captain on his bridge, the admiral paused for a moment. The reflected light from the water rippled across the wooden ceiling.

★ ★ ★

"They are all gone."

The admiral was speaking of airships, the proud monarchs which roamed across around the world more than 30 years ago.

He gazed thoughtfully across the Toms River, which takes a sharp bend in front of the Spanish-style home he purchased when he retired from nearby Lakehurst Naval Air Station in 1946.

WAS OBSERVER

Adm. Charles E. Rosendahl was the official American observer aboard the German Graf Zeppelin on its round-the-world flight in 1929; commanded two of this country's four rigid airships; was in command at Lakehurst when the hydrogen-filled Hindenburg burned in 1937; and returned to Lakehurst after World War II to command the Navy's airship research and development program.

Today the airships are gone.

★ ★ ★

The Navy, which operated a fleet of 130 of them during World War II, deflated its last one in 1962. What couldn't be sold was later cut up for scrap.

Rosendahl, 73, finds few listeners for his arguments supporting a new airship program and few readers for his pro-airship books in this country.

NAME STREET

But the Germans, who developed commercial transoceanic airship routes, recently named a street after him in the town of Zeppelinheim — Zeppelin Home — near Frankfurt.

Officially, the American airship program is dead.

★ ★ ★

But three new rigid airships — supported by metal frameworks — have been privately designed in this country.

One is now under construction and the other two are awaiting government or private financial backing.

GOING BACK?

"Someday they are going to reinvent the airship," James M. Punderson said as he looked out at Hangar No. 1 at Lakehurst, where this country's first rigid airship was built in 1923.

★ ★ ★

Punderson, now a civilian employe of the air station, occupies the same office he had 20 years ago, when, as a Navy lieutenant, he served as a pilot for the airship research and development program.

Punderson, an aeronautical engineer, says airships "were never given the attention they should have received because they weren't fast enough.

"But when you have an aircraft that costs you nothing to keep in the air—" his voice trailed off as he watched a helicopter being taken out of a hangar.

HEAVY LOADS

"I read the other day where the Marines are experimenting with new ways of moving heavy loads by air. They lift the load with a helium-filled balloon and then tow it by helicopter — who knows?" he asked.

Airship developments include:

Construction of a three-hulled airship in Trenton, less than 30 miles from Lakehurst, by a group including three who served with Navy airships. Privately financed, the ship has been under construction for more than four years. Its builders say it is the smallest airship which can be built for testing purposes. It carries a two-man crew.

A nuclear-propelled airship, which its developers say could carry 90 tons of cargo or 400 passengers and a crew of 100, including passenger service personnel, has been designed by a professor of aerospace engineering at the Boston University College of Engineering.

A diesel powered airship, which its designers say could carry 150 tons of cargo or 220 first-class passengers, has been designed by Henry Erwin & Associates of Bartlesville, Okla.

RECENT ARTICLES

Recent articles in the Soviet press have discussed the feasability of developing and operating a fleet of airships to transport bulky or overweight freight, such as electric generators.

The Germans maintain one hydrogen-filled airship for advertising purposes and recently have made inquiries in this country and Canada about acquiring fireproof helium to replace the hydrogen.

★ ★ ★

The designers of both the Boston and Bartlesville airships say they plan to take their proposals to private industry if government agencies now studying them turn down the ideas. Both ships would cruise at between 75 and 100 miles an hour. Both would be able to carry freight; or first-class passengers in the comfort associated with luxury liners at comparable fares, their designers say. The Hindenburg had semiprivate state rooms, a dining room, bar, smoking lounge and even carried a piano.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which has received several proposals for airships to carry rocket boosters from California, where they are built, to Cape Kennedy, Fla., says it has no plans to use dirigibles.

Crime, Traffic Safety Worry State Residents---Survey

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan residents believe crime and traffic safety are the most important problems facing the state, according to a report by the Michigan State University Highway Traffic Safety Center.

Crime led the list of major problems of seven percentage points, the report said, but most metropolitan areas outside of southeastern lower Michigan put traffic safety as the No. 1 trouble spot.

Two-thirds of the persons questioned favored a compulsory written test for drivers every three years when they renew their licenses.

Three-quarters favored raising the minimum driving age from 16 to 17 and nearly all those questioned preferred that all beginning drivers, regardless of age, take driver training.

On the issue of compulsory annual vehicle inspection nearly 90 per cent voted yes—provided no fee is charged. Only 80 per cent would want it if a $2 fee were charged.

The survey, which has been presented to state legislators, was prepared by the MSU Communications Department in cooperation with the traffic safety center.

Dr. Verling C. Troldahl, MSU professor who directed the survey, said a surprising 80 per cent of those questioned were in favor of having police officers decide whether to administer a sobriety test to suspected drunk drivers.

Such permission has been sought unsuccessfully in proposed "implied consent" legislation.

WOMEN'S SECTION

He's Grasping and Materialistic

This One Takes Prize

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law died over a year ago, and since then my husband insists on staying nights with his father — even on weekends.

ABBY

I know the old man isn't afraid to stay alone because I've heard him tell my husband he didn't need to stay. But my husband says we shouldn't leave the old man alone because his loneliness might lead to a second marriage, which might complicate legal settlements later.

Abby, is this fair to me and the children? I have tried to be a good sport, but I find myself harboring resentments. Should I not complain, and at the same time look forward to the time when his father dies (he is 67 and in good health) so we can be a family again?

WIDOW WITH A HUSBAND

DEAR WIDOW: Of all the grasping, scheming, materialistic characters that have been brought to my attention, your husband takes the prize. Not only is he cheating you and the children, but he is cheating his father as well.

If the gentleman (and he is NOT old at 67) has any interest in female companionship, he should be encouraged in it. Tell your husband to get on home where he belongs and to quit playing self-appointed guardian of his father's estate.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy, 14, and my parents and I don't see eye to eye on my clothes. I have a long waist, and when they buy my pants, they can get my waist size, but they can't get my leg size in the same pair of pants.

When I get a new pair of pants I look like a midshipman from the War of 1812. I ask my mother to peg them for me, but my father says, "No. Boys look like girls in pegged pants!" Can you help me?

DISTRESSED

DEAR DISTRESSED: You are helpless, but I have a few words for your mother: "Peg the kid's pants! Most boys look like girls today anyway."

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HOW COME?" IN WORTHINGTON: I don't know the answer to that one, either. But take my word for it, neglect and poor examples never helped to build strong character.

★ ★ ★

The children turned out well IN SPITE of their parents not BECAUSE of them.

Club Meets to Welcome Guests, Dine

Better Home and Garden Club members gathered for their annual guest day and cooperative luncheon Thursday at the YWCA.

Mrs. Walter DeNio was hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Campbell.

Speaker was Mrs. Lucinda Wyckoff of Brown Brothers, West Huron Street, on the subject "Demonstration of Furniture Refinishing." She said that antiquing is the present trend.

Also participating in the program were Mrs. Orrie Adams and Mrs. Harry Armstrong.

The latter related the history of the poinsettia plant which originated in Mexico.

EXPERT'S ADVICE

Mrs. Armstrong said that Roger Maedke, caretaker of flowers at Belle Isle, suggests keeping the plants in complete darkness at night and sunshine during the day to aid in re-blooming. He also cautions against overwatering.

Mrs. Ray Linabury was a guest. Welcomed to membership were Mrs. Donald Barker and Mrs. Edward Mann.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John Cowe was chairman of the day's committee made up of Mrs. James H. George, Mrs. Richard Betzing and Mrs. Emery Kaid.

One-Man Show at Cranbrook

Laurence Barker, head of the graphics department of Cranbrook Academy of Art will have a one-man exhibition in the galleries from Jan. 28 through Feb. 20.

Included in the show will be two woodcuts "Fiat Nox No. 2" and "Russell's Sequence," which received a purchase prize and an award respectively in the 1965 Michigan Artists' Exhibition.

★ ★ ★

Gallery hours are Tuesdays through Fridays from 2-5 p.m. and from 1-5 p.m. weekends. There is an admission charge.

Coping With Disaster Requires Training and Skill in Self-Help

By MARGARET BROWN

How would you go about eating an elephant?

"Just one bite at a time," explained Less Bolwah, coordinator of Michigan State University's Rural Defense Program, speaking to area MSU Cooperative Extension Service leaders Wednesday at The Pontiac Mall.

"So must we proceed just one step at a time in the broad area of preparing to cope with disasters," said Mr. Bollwah, lecturing on the subject "Understanding Emergencies."

★ ★ ★

Suggesting that knowledge of meeting crises could ". . . turn disaster into an inconvenience," the extension specialist pointed up three basic needs: medical or first aid training, learning how to escape from a disaster (such as fire or tornado) and knowing the characteristics of an emergency to counteract its effects.

Mr. Bollwah distinguished between first aid and Medical Self-Help:

"First aid is what you can do until the doctor arrives; Medical Self-Help, endorsed by the American Medical Association, teaches what one can do for the injured if no doctor is available."

Combatting fires, tornadoes and nuclear radiation seemed to be of chief concern to the group.

Opening a lively question and answer period regarding these three emergencies Mr. Bollwah said smiling, "Let me ask, how many of you looked about to see if there was another way out of this room when you came in? And how about fire exits in your own home?"

Advising households to plan together for emergency preparedness, he stressed the need for family emergency drills.

"Drills tend to condition us," he said. "If we're trained to meet a crisis, emotions won't tend to take over."

Contrary to popular belief, Mr. Bollwah did not concur that the southwest corner of a basement is the safest place to be during a tornado.

"What, for example, is in the southwest corner of your basement?" he queried. "If the furnace, washer or water heater is there, find another place for shelter, say under a heavy work table or outer wall stairway."

Dispelling fears regarding sterility following radiation exposure, Mr. Bollwah told of attending an Atomic Energy Commission conference at Oak Ridge, Tenn. where livestock heavily exposed to radiation continued to calve normally.

When sterility did occur, it was only temporary, he added.

Among numerous subjects covered in the extension service's "Developing Protective Skills" study are: accidents (home, auto, etc.), isolation (snow, ice, flood, etc.), explosion, flood, tornado, fire and loss of communication.

Goals of the course are that: each Michigan family develop an emergency plan for disasters, each family have at least one member trained in protective and recovery skills and each family be aware of its civic role in awareness of community disaster plans.

Further details concerning self-help in emergencies classes and Medical Self-Help may be learned from the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service, Oakland County Civil Defense or the Oakland County Health Department.

New Hotel, Site of Insurance Women Confab

The Insurance Women of Pontiac discussed the forthcoming conference of the National Association of Insurance Women at a dinner meeting, Wednesday, in the Waldron Hotel.

★ ★ ★

The Pontchartrain Hotel in Detroit will be the setting for the regional district meet, March 25-27.

★ ★ ★

Larry McEvers, insurance consultant of Royal Oak, explained endowment and 20-year pay life policies, also the conversion of a level term policy to a whole life policy to also provide a living benefit.

★ ★ ★

This is the first program concerning insurance to be presented to the group since its inception.

Some 30 members attended the meeting.

Yule Gifts From Boss Is Subject

By The Emily Post Institute

Gifts from a firm to its employes are usually in the form of a bonus or a proportion of one's salary. At Christmas a man may give his personal secretary a present. Candy is conventional, although when she has been with him for some time, he might choose something he thinks she would rather have.

It is hardly necessary to add that wearing apparel is not suitable. A private secretary known well to a man's wife is sometimes, but not usually, remembered by the wife at Christmas. Occasionally employes give presents to their employers, but it is not common.

★ ★ ★

There are exceptions: If there is a wedding in the employer's family, or if a baby is born, then the employes may all contribute and send a gift. They also, as a group, may send flowers to the funeral.

A committee usually collects contributions and makes an appropriate selection.

Gift-giving to one's fellow workers who are also personal friends should always be arranged for out-of office hours.

BRIDE'S MOTHER'S WRAP

Q: Is it true, as I have been told, that the mother of the bride should not wear a wrap when walking up the aisle?

A: As a rule, the mother of the bride leaves her wrap in the vestibule with those of the bridesmaids. If, however, the church is cool and she has an attractive fur piece, she may wear it.

Otherwise, someone can put a light wrap in the pew for her just before she herself comes up the aisle. In other words, the bride's mother should not wear or carry anything that might spoil the effect of her dress.

The event chaired by Mrs. Roy W. Wilton, will take place Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Birmingham Masonic Temple.

Following the dinner at 6:15 p.m., Mrs. LeRoy Hecox and Wallace Morgan will open the meeting. Members of the Grand Chapter will exemplify the degrees.

Mrs. Josephine Hoskins and Mrs. Earl Brunson with their committees are arranging the dinner.

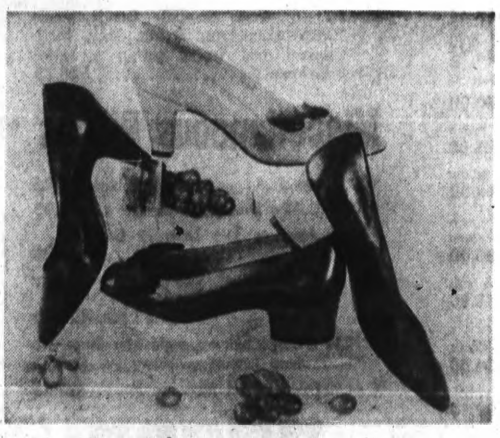
Hostesses will include Mrs. Olive May, Mrs. Wallace Morgan, Mrs. Daisy Barbor and Mrs. Elizabeth Milligan.

★ ★ ★

Among the 225 guests expected are Mrs. Harold Vollink, worthy grand matron, and John J. Kaatz, worthy grand patron, with grand officers and committees throughout the state.

Spring openings—in front or on the side—from Herbert Levine for the returning look of open pumps for spring 1966. Heels are in graduated lower heights.

Designed by Margaret Jerrold is a white patent pump with black patent Op Art overlay. First, left, is a chalky white sling back on a square heel with teardrop vamp cut-outs; second, black double strap patent pump on a white heel, both by Golo. To the right is a halter strap "T" with deeply carved sides set on a newsy, broader 2-inch heel by Rinaldi; last, a strappy party goer with a lizard toe in white by Julianelli.



The heels of spring 1966—four new degrees of lowering from Herbert Levine. Each of the heights is characteristic of the collection's emphasis on stability combined with femininity in numerous lowered heel lasts.

Need Extra Care

Knit goods made of synthetic fibers may take more care in the washing. Unlike wool, some synthetics cannot be blocked back to size once they have shrunk.

Ideal Placemats

Closely woven dishcloths make fine placemats for small children. They wash easily, don't need ironing and give the appearance of the real thing to encourage good table manners.

Churchwomen Set Monday Party

The Daughters of Isabella's card party will be under the general chairmansip of Mrs. Robert Adams.

Assisting at the 8 p.m. event Monday in the Knights of Columbus Hall will be Mrs. Albert Schoeneman, Mrs. Theodore Boga, Mrs. Rudy Stingle, Mrs. Lawrence Sevegney, Mrs. Louis Koprince and Mrs. Richard Ashton.

The gala is open to the public.

Dominican Experiment

Democracy Uncertain

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Four years ago this month, Dominicans launched their first experiment in democracy after 31 years of dictatorship.

Three governments later, they are still experimenting. The shadows of doubt are beginning to lengthen on the latest effort: a provisional government overburdened with unsolved and half-solved problems and indecisive leadership.

★ ★ ★

Rafael Leonidas Trujillo's dynasty came crashing down Jan. 17, 1962, when its caretaker, Dr. Joaquin Balaguer, was deposed. He was removed by Gen. Rafael Rodriguez Echievarria, a politically ambitious office, once Balaguer's champion, who installed a civilian- military junta that lasted one day.

★ ★ ★

A new Council of State, finally freed of the last vestiges of Trujillo's yoke, took over under the leadership of Rafael Bonnelly on Jan. 19.

Today's provisional regime, created by the Organization of American States five months ago, is a direct result of the trials and errors in government that have plagued the country.

TOO ABRUPT

Looking back, Dominican historians seem convinced the transition from dictatorship to democracy in 1962 was too abrupt, that only a breathing spell of more than a year could have tempered the spasms of antagonism.

These historians are no less convinced now that the 9-month life dictated for the provisional government was a product of an equally hasty undervaluation of the forces in contention—and that the results may be the same.

★ ★ ★

The feeling is increasing among many Dominicans and foreigners that the complex nature of the basic Dominican problem and the bleak prospects for even an interim settlement have sharply reduced the chances of promised elections in June.

★ ★ ★

There also are doubts the government can survive an intensification of the continuing crisis, such as took place this month when the army defied a presidential order, arousing minor but potentially explosive violence among a segment of the population. It has been learned that President Hector Garcia-Godoy was on the verge of giving it all up during this blow-up.

IDENTICAL CONDITIONS

To some Dominicans, conditions now are identical, if not worse, to those that spawned the April revolution: rising unemployment, increasing political instability and deep-rooted fears of an extreme right-wing dictatorship backed by the army.

The nearly $100 million injected into the local economy since April 25 by the Alliance for Progress has hardly made a dent in the jobless ranks. This is because no less than $77 million went into salaries and back wages. Few job-giving public works projects are under way. Sugar mills soon will go into their seasonal period of inactivity, throwing more people out of work.

★ ★ ★

The consensus is that removal of top Dominican army officers will not solve a fundamental problem. The Military establishment is not expected to accept the results of the June elections if that means the restoration of Juan Bosch or his Dominican Revolutionary party to power.

The army contends that this may open the door to Cuban-style extremism. On the other hand, left-wing extremists and nationalists are not expected to take lightly to the defeat of the party.

MORE CRITICISM

Failure of the inter-American peace force to act more vigorously against the army's seizure of a government radio station at one stage this month aroused much criticism in the city. This has given rise to a feeling, particularly among left-wing moderates, that the peace force would act cautiously and reluctantly, if at all, against the Dominican military, if that became necessary in the future.

★ ★ ★

The politically adverse reaction this would produce among other Latin-American armed forces seems to be a heavy factor.

The worst damage to the country as a whole as a result of the strife, economists believe, is the frightening away, perhaps for many years, of local and foreign investors.

"Anyone thinking in terms of investing in this country on other than quick-profit, short-range schemes has a hole in his head," said a banker.

Freeway Exit Danger Cited

WASHINGTON—Don't be too ready to breathe a sigh of relief as you are about to leave a traffic-congested freeway. There is a higher accident rate on the off-ramps than on the on-ramps, a study has now shown.

After counting crack-ups for three years on 722 freeway ramps, investigators from the highway division of the California Department of Public Works found that there were over 6 per cent more accidents going off than were coming on.

About two billion cars had 1,643 accidents on the ramps during the three years, reported Richard A. Lundy and Helen Adachi to a meeting of the Highway Research Board here.

The off-ramp rate was 0.95 accidents per million vehicles, compared with only 0.59 accidents per million cars entering the freeways.

Guard rails, sign supports, lamp posts and other miscellaneous freeway accessories suffered in 28 per cent of the accidents, both on and off. About two-thirds of all such objects are clustered around the ramp areas.

Single-car crack-ups rather than multicar collisions account for most of the rate difference between entering and exiting traffic.

Samarkand Remains City of Fabled Lore

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In the fabled land of Genghis Khan and Tamerlane lies the ancient city of Samarkand, now deep behind the Iron Curtain and seldom visited by tourists. The following description of the city is written by a UPI correspondent who visited there after covering the India-Pakistan meeting at Tashkent.)

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press International

SAMARKAND, Soviet Central Asia — The Soviets are doing their best to see that Samarkand stays a fairy tale.

Authorities are trying to preserve the neglected palaces and mosques of this fabled city.

Scaffoldings surround mosques where workers apply cement on new tiles to match the old mosaics that have been flaking off the minarets.

Uzbeks in blue work coveralls plunge shovels into tombs amidst clouds of ancient dust, and archeologists carefully unearth ancient walls.

★ ★ ★

To a traveler, the ruins of Samarkand and Bukhara are a rare sight. Relatively few foreigners have viewed the beauties of the cities once ruled by Alexander the Great, Genghis Khan and Tamerlane.

LONE TOURISTS

Recently, a half-dozen western correspondents who had been covering the Indo-Pakistan Tashkent conference were the only foreign tourists in all of eastern Uzbekistan.

The Soviet Union realizes the attractiveness of the ruins and the need to preserve them for posterity.

The government has allotted Bukhara and Khiva, smaller and older cities to the east, a yearly grant of $231,000 in an effort to save the old mosques almost completely shorn of their tiles because of centuries of neglect.

★ ★ ★

INDEFFERENCE

But some experts assert the new tiles do not compare with the old and that Tamerlane's green marble tomb has been repaired indifferently.

Workers are attacking with shovels the floor of one of the numerous crypts in the Sha Iz Inda mausoleum, or "Mausoleum of Living Kings," to search for tombs.

The sher dor (meaning decorated with lions) section of the block-square 17th century Moslem religious school was restored partially in 1955-56, and work is continuing.

★ ★ ★

Recently, one minaret that was bending dangerously was straightened by yanking it back into place with ropes.

SEVERE LISTS

Other minarets in the complex of buildings where Moslem religious leaders once were trained are still listing precariously.

Most of the tile-covered palaces and mosques were built by the conqueror Tamerlane (Timur the Lame) in the 14th century. He wanted to make Samarkand the capital of Asia and imported 91 elephants from India to bring stones to this desert oasis.

In Tourist (the Soviet travel office) guides say efforts will be made soon to restore the palace of Tamerlane's wife, Bibi Hanum, a Chinese princess.

★ ★ ★

The palace, surrounded now by modern buildings, even in ruins is an awesome sight with its crumbling columns, glittering with incredibly blue mosaics.

YOUNG MONUMENTS

The monuments of central Asia are young, as monuments go, but have fallen into ruins because of long neglect and also because they were not constructed well in the first place.

As the Soviet government has a policy of atheism, they are being restored as works of art, to serve as museums, not to support the Moslem religion, just as some of the old Russian Orthodox churches are being preserved.

In Bukhara, Lenin's picture draped with red flags decorates the entrance of one old unused mosque. The big Muslim school under restoration in Samarkand no longer is used.

★ ★ ★

There is only one school in the Uzbek Republic to train religious leaders, and that is a small institute in Bukhara with 18 pupils.

SINGLE MOSQUE

Bukhara (population 95,000) has one mosque used for religious services. Samarkand (220,000) also has only one mosque in use.

The old city wall of Bukhara, where camel caravans once plodded through a huge wooden gate, is used for a Soviet message. The old prison inside the gate has wax figures in the cells to illustrate the cruelty of the old emirs (local rulers).

A nearby museum exhibits the emir's rich robes next to tattered rags worn by the common people of pre-Bolshevik times to illustrate the better condition of the Soviet man.

★ ★ ★

These ancient cities are exciting to a tourist, not just for the ruins, but also because of their oriental air.

'Astronauts Will Talk Through Their Hats'

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Future spacemen will be talking through their hats, says an electric firm. Tiny communications systems, developed by Westinghouse will be built into astronaut's helmets.

The two-way radio units, called transceivers, will be self-contained and allow astronauts to move about freely in the spacecraft without any connecting wires. The system also contains an audio control center which would relay messages from astronauts outside the spacecraft.

Red Wings Climb Into First Place in NHL

Howe, Ullman Spark Detroit Past Montreal

Gordie, Norm Score Twice in 5-2 Win; Chicago Dumped

DETROIT (AP) — "That's just the way we worked it out in our noon meeting," defenseman Bill Gadsby said after the Red Wings trimmed Montreal, 5-2 Thursday night.

Gadsby didn't know it at the time but the victory, coupled with Boston's upset 4-3 triumph over Chicago put the defending regular season champion Red Wings in first place in the National Hockey League.

★ ★ ★

Gadsby was referring to the fact that Detroit has gone 13 straight games without losing to Montreal on Detroit ice.

Norm Ullman and Gordie Howe each scored a pair of goals and Alex Delvecchio got the other as the Red Wings extended their current unbeaten string to seven games.

DECIDING GOAL

Ron Stewart's goal with less than two minutes remaining, with the Bruins at a two-man advantage, decided the wild, bruising game at Boston.

The Red Wings lead Chicago and Montreal by one point. The Canadiens have played one less game.

★ ★ ★

Ullman's two markers gave him nine in the last five games. He and Paul Henderson appeared to swipe at the puck at the same time on the first goal, but Ullman got the stick on the puck first.

Henderson carried the puck almost the length of the ice to set up Ullman's second goal.

POWER PLAYS

Both of Montreal's tallies came on power plays with Yvan Cournoyer getting his 14th goal —13 on power plays — in the second period and Gilles Tremblay scoring in the third.

Howe got his first goal and Delvecchio scored before Tremblay's goal narrowed the gap to 4-2.

Detroit rookie defenseman Bert Marshall picked up three assists and Gadsby turned in the defensive gems of the night, twice stopping point-blank shots early in the third period.

Later, he broke up a three-man Montreal rush by intercepting a pass deep in Detroit territory, then skated down with Howe to draw an assist on the latter's first goal.

★ ★ ★

Bobby Hull scored his 37th goal of the season and teammates Doug Mohns and Ken Wharram got the others in the Black Hawks' loss to Boston.

Tom Williams and ex-Red Wing Pit Martin scored for Boston in the first period with John McKenzie getting the other to tie the score at 3-3, setting the stage for Stewart's game-winner.

HIGH STICKING

Chicago's Pat Stapelton and Forbes Kennedy of the Bruins got into a fight after they were called for high-sticking midway through the final period.

Kennedy, blood streaming down his face from a deep cut on the forehead, kept chasing Stapleton and at one point accidentally hit linesman Brian Sopp.

The Red Wings play the Canadiens in Montreal — where they haven't won in three tries this season — Saturday night. New York is at Boston for an afternoon game and Chicago at Toronto in Saturday's other games.

Montreal in Olympic Bidding

CHICAGO (AP) — The bidding deadline for the 1972 Olympics was reached Thursday with Detroit, Munich, Montreal and Madrid in competition for the Summer Games and Salt Lake City, Calgary, Alta., and Sapparo, Japan, seeking the Winter Games.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the International Olympic Committee, said he was notified by IOC headquarters at Lausanne, Switzerland, that Amsterdam had dropped out as a Summer Games candidate.

★ ★ ★

Sites of the 1968 Olympics already have been designated. The Summer Games were awarded to Mexico City and the Winter Games to Grenoble, France.

Hosts of the 1972 games will be determined by the IOC during a meeting in Rome, Italy, about April 25, Brundage said.

Last Saturday Detroit was certified as the United States candidate for the 1972 Summer Games at a meeting here of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

SECOND PLACE

Detroit, which was second to Mexico City in the IOC voting on the 1968 games, won out over Los Angeles, St. Louis, Chicago and Philadelphia for a try at the 1972 Olympiad.

Salt Lake City got the call over Lake Placid, N.Y., and Anchorage, Alaska, as candidate for the 1972 Winter Games.

★ ★ ★

Brundage said Munich and Montreal submitted bids to him for the 1972 Olympiad and that he understood Madrid will "make a great try."

The 74-year-old IOC boss said he lacked information on rumored bids by Amsterdam, where the 1928 Olympiad was held, or Vienna.

Last year's regular IOC meeting was held in Madrid and Brundage said that "Spain has come to life" as an Olympic candidate. Yachting phases of the Olympics in Spain would be held at Barcelona.

CIVIC PROTEST

Brundage said he was recently visited by Mayor Jean Drapeau of Montreal, who said a program of civic improvement for a pending world exposition would leave the Canadian City in position to conduct the 1972 games.

Brundage declined comment on the chances of any city in the bidding for the 1972 games, but stressed that "pressure" lobbying tactics have been outlawed since the 1963 IOC meeting which awarded the 1968 games to Mexico City.

★ ★ ★

At that session, charges were exchanged that party-giving and gifts were used to influence IOC voting at Baden-Baden, Germany.

Mexico City won out over Detroit, 30 votes to 14, for the 1968 Olympics, with Lyon, France, running third with 12 votes.

Earlier, Vienna notified the IOC at Lausanne of withdrawal of its bid to stage the Summer Games.

The notice was received several hours before the deadline for applications.

PCH Entertains Handy

Central on Home Floor; PNH Travels

Pontiac Central will entertain the home fans tonight, while Pontiac Northern moves out of town for an important league assignment.

The Chiefs of PCH will play host to Bay City Handy, but chances are that the squad will be thinking of Saginaw, a team they'll play Tuesday on the Trojans' floor.

Northern, meanwhile, will visit Farmington needing a victory to remain undefeated in Inter-Lakes League play.

PCH has nothing to gain and much to lose in tangling with Handy.

Handy is winless in seven starts, while PCH has chalked up a 7-0 record and is ranked second in the state Class A poll.

SHARE LEAD

The Chiefs share first place with Saginaw in the Saginaw Valley Conference with 5-0 records, and they'll take over first alone if they get past Handy, since the Trojans entertain Flint Northwestern in a nonconference outing.

Regardless of the outcome between the Chiefs and Handy, the stage is set for the showdown between PCH and Saginaw, a meeting which should decide the SVC title and the mythical state championship.

Another Inter-Lakes contest on tonight's slate finds Waterford visiting Walled Lake.

In the Wayne-Oakland, Northville is at Holly, West Bloomfield at Bloomfield Hills, Brighton at Clarkston and Milford at Clarenceville.

★ ★ ★

In the Southeastern Michigan Association, Ferndale visits Southfield, Berkley is at Royal Oak Kimball and Birmingham Seaholm entertains Hazel Park.

GROVES UNBEATEN

In the Northwest Surburban, Wayne John Glenn visits unbeaten Birmingham Groves, North Farmington is at Oak Park and Detroit Thurston plays host to Livonia Franklin.

In the Southern Thumb, Almont visits Dryden, Capac is at Memphis, Armada at Anchor Bay and Brown City at New Haven.

2-Day Confab Set by MFL

Strengthening of present clubs and expansion are the top items on the agenda for members of the Midwestern Football League who'll open a weekend of talks tomorrow afternoon in Pontiac.

Huddling with representatives from the five clubs will be Pontiac's John Abel, who was elected commissioner of the league Jan. 6.

Discussions at tomorrow's session at VFW Post 1380, S. Saginaw Street, will be aimed at improving the financial and personnel status of each club in the loop.

On Sunday, the league will turn to the expansion proposal.

Members of the MFL are Pontiac, Flint, Milan, Lansing and Dayton.

SEEK FRANCHISES

Several cities have indicated an interest in gaining a franchise in the MFL and officials from those cities are expected to be on hand Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Among those seeking membership in the MFL are Saginaw, Jackson, Grand Rapids and Monroe from Michigan, along with Columbus and Toledo in Ohio.

A move approved by the league earlier was the transfer of the Milan franchise to Ypsilanti for the 1966 season.

Milan was one of the teams in the league troubled by a sag at the gate and officials feel the move to Ypsilanti will solve the attendance problem.

★ ★ ★

Although in the league only one season, Pontiac had the most successful season — on the field and in the stands.

WON TITLE

The Arrows won the MFL title and defeated a league All-Star squad. In seven home games, the Arrows attracted nearly 20,000 fans to Wisner Stadium and the Pontiac Football Company wound up its first year in the black.

PCH Matmen Lose 23-17 to Flint Foe

Pontiac Central's wrestling squad, a victim this season of close decisions, suffered another last night in dropping a 23-17 verdict to Flint Northern in a Saginaw Valley Conference match.

★ ★ ★

Earlier in the season, PC dropped two matches by scores of 23-20 and 22-21. Last night's loss leaves the team with a 2-2 mark in the SVC and a 4-4 record over-all.

★ ★ ★

The winners held an 18-17 edge going into the final match last night, and Jerry McDermaid pinned PCH's Charles Mason to sew up the victory.

Kettering '5' After Eighth in a Row

Surprising Kettering journeys to Mount Clemens tonight where it will risk its unbeaten record against L'Anse Creuse (4-5) in a TriCounty League scrap.

Kettering, with only sophomores and juniors on the squad, was supposed to spend much of the 1965-66 season rebuilding.

That hasn't happened.

Instead, the Captains have turned back seven foes in a row and lead the league with a 3-0 mark.

★ ★ ★

The latest outing for coach Joe Duby and the Captains was a 77-58 romp over Romeo.

FEW SQUEAKERS

The Captains had a few squeakers early in the campaign when they started their seven-game winning streak, but they have gained confidence with each victory and at present look like the best the Tri-County has to offer.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere in the Tri-County, Lapeer (4-4) visits Romeo (3-5), and Oxford (3-6) has a nonconference date at Cranbrook (2-7).

In the Oakland A, Rochester's Falcons (5-3) will have an opportunity to get back into the league race when they entertain unbeaten Warren Cousino (10-0).

Other O-A games find Avondale (4-4) at Troy (3-5), Clawson (6-3) at Madison (2-6) and Lake Orion (1-7) at Warren Fitzgerald (5-3).

In the Macomb Catholic League, St. Michael (8-1) has three big games remaining in its bid for the title.

The Mikemen entertain Richmond St. Augustine (4-4) at Kennedy Junior High tonight. Next Friday they take on Waterford Our Lady (6-2) and wind up the loop campaign against St. Frederick (8-2) Feb. 4.

Tonight, St. Fred entertains Marine City Holy Cross (3-6), Waterford OLL plays host to New Baltimore St. Mary (0-10) while Detroit St. Rose (3-7) is idle.

Pebble Beach Has Golf Jam

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Billy Casper made their bid for the second round lead in the $104,500 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament today playing the course which produced the low scores for the first 18 holes.

All three were in position to move in front as they toured the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course where Al Geiberger shot a 68 on Thursday to grab the lead.

★ ★ ★

Four others had 69s but moved today to rugged Pebble Beach.

Palmer and Lema fashioned a two-under-par 70s over the Cypress Point course, generally figured a couple of strokes tougher than Monterey Peninsula, and Casper had a 71.

In runner up spots going into the second round were Californians Ken Towns of San Jose, Paul Bondeson of Palm Springs and Lee Raymond of Redwood City plus Ernie Vossler of Oklahoma City.

Geiberger isn't awed by Pebble Beach. In 1964, when he finished fourth in the Crosby, he shot a 73 on a windy, final day after opening the tournament with an 80. He followed with a 68 and 67.

"The wind helped some this time because it was from the right direction," the 28-year-old former University of Southern California amateur said. "Last year I had a 69 to start at Cypress Point and then blew my chances with a 75 at the Country Club when the wind was from the other direction."

Walker Cup amateur Dale Morey of High Point, N.C., playing with a handicap of five strokes, helped his partner Gay Brewer by 14 as they carded a best ball 60 to lead the pro-amateur division. Brewer shot a 74, but on the five holes where he had handicap strokes, Morey recorded a natural birdie and four pars which went down on the score card as an eagle and four birds because of the handicap strokes.

Among five teams tied for second at 62 were Al Besselink and Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale. Left-hander Sandy Koufax of the world baseball champions helped his partner, Ken Still, with eight strokes for a 63.

Brilliant sunshine greeted the Crosby and brought out a gallery of 25,000, largest ever for an opening day.

Jack Nicklaus, despite going over par on two of the final three holes, hit a 73 at Cypress Point in his first competitive outing of this year.

Bill Ogden had mixed emotions. He sank a hole-in-one on the 155-yard third hole at Monterey and seemed headed for a great score until the final three holes. On those the veteran pro from Tucson, Ariz., lost four strokes to par and finished at 72.

Two Cagers in Tight Duel for County Scoring Crown

The battle for Oakland County's 1965-66 basketball scoring title has turned into a two-player race.

Far ahead of the pack are Dan Fife of Clarkston and John Canine of Hazel Park.

Fife is setting the pace with an average of 30.8 through seven games, while Canine is breezing along at a 28.4 pace in the same number of games.

Well back of those two are Rick Ziem of Waterford at 23.2 and Roger Peltz of Royal Oak Kimball with a mark of 23.0.

Bill Abbey of Bay City Handy, who'll be in the visitors' lineup when they take on Pontiac Central tonight, is leading the way in the Saginaw Valley Conference race with an average of 24.0.

PCH's Jessie Evans ranks third in the SVC with a mark of 17.5 through seven outings.

Baseball Figure Dies

TOKYO (AP) — Leslie M. O'Connor, former president of baseball's Pacific Coast League, died Thursday of a heart attack, Tokyo's Hibiya Hospital said today.

Williams Gives Views for 'Baseball Stardom'

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, the 103rd member of Baseball's Hall of Fame, claims that the game requires more practice and concentration than any other sport.

Williams, a noted fisherman and a parttime golfer in recent years, emphasized the rigors on the road to baseball stardom Thursday after his landslide election to the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

"Baseball takes more hours of practice and concentration than any other sport," the former Boston Red Sox slugger said. "No other sport requires as much practice. There are no short cuts in baseball."

Williams believes his natural ability "has been overrated and overstressed."

"Baseball is a lot more than natural ability," he said. "I had baseball sense, but you need guidance to know what to do and how to develop your ability. And you're got to work. Stan Musial understood the meaning of practice and he developed himself into a great hitter."

521 HOMERS

Williams, who retired in 1960 with a .344 lifetime average and 521 homers in 19 seasons with the Red Sox, polled a record 282 votes, 93.8 per cent of the total, in balloting by 10-year members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Williams, in good humor but as outspoken at the age of 47 as he was in his younger days, also pleaded that rules by left alone to give hitters a break.

"Anytime you take away anything from the hitters you are taking away from the game," he said.

★ ★ ★

Williams believes that many of his disputes with writers had been "blown out of proportion." He said that "the great, great majority always have been with me," adding that "a small minority has given me the treatment."

Criticized and fined $5,000 on one occasion for contemptuous actions on the field, Williams said he never meant anything personal.

"I don't think I'd do anything differently if I had to do it over again," he said. "I never put on an act. I never did anything with premeditation. I acted spontaneously."

Williams, who will be inducted into the Hall of Fame July 25, is looking forward to his position as vice president of the Red Sox. His appointment was announced Thursday.

Tourney Enters 3rd Weekend

Pontiac Pair Share Second in Singles

The third weekend of the 9th annual Pontiac Lodge No. 810 Ladies National Invitational Bowling Tournament will begin at 3 p.m. Saturday.

There will be two team squads Saturday and four singles and doubles squads Sunday, beginning at 9 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Last weekend, very little change except in the handicap singles event was noticed. The lead remained the same in four of the five categories.

Kalamazoo's Charlotte Schupsan, though, made a big bid in the singles and grabbed first place with a 653 total.

Also last weekend, Pat Donner and Marie French — both from Pontiac — tied for second place in the singles with 631 totals.

The local doubles team of Mary Jane Bailey and Marie Gormley posted the second best total in that handicap class, a 1239. In the handicap team event, Lake Orion's Royal squad moved into fourth place with 2845.

Once into the heart of the season, a bowling writer's desk soon becomes overflowing with press releases and other publications that contain sometimes interesting bits of trivia.

Since space and time don't always permit writing separate articles on each, the writer stuffs them in a corner until desperate for column material some cloudy day.

Yesterday wasn't very sunny, so . . . .

Today is the deadline for Women's International Bowling Congress teams desiring to enter this year's tournament in April at New Orleans, La. The WIBC Queens Tourney lineup is already filled.

Pontiac Women's Bowling Association members have until midnight Sunday to enter their annual city tournament.

Meanwhile, the closing date for American Bowling Congress entries is Feb. 17th, less than four weeks away. The winners of the regular team division once again will be eligible for a good-will trip outside the United States.

★ ★ ★

Local men interested in trying the ABC Classic division are reminded that this year the prize money won't be based on solely the 12-game all events as was done last year.

There will be separate entry and prize fees for each Classic division. The ABC Tournament this spring will be in Rochester, N.Y.

Congratulations go to J. Neil (Buck) Jerzy who was named last weekend Executive Director of the Bowling Proprietors' Associations of Greater of Detroit and Michigan.

He will replace the retiring W. W. (Eddie) Edgar who will step down March 1 after 23 years in the position.

ALL-STAR

Don Carter has won the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America National All-Star meet four times. Dick Weber has won three of the last four and is right now bidding to tie Carter for the most titles at this year's All-Star in Lansing.

A significant sidelight to this indicates how bowling as a professional sport has grown recently. Weber's All - Star money winnings total $60,545.

Carter, who won most of his money before Weber's recent surge, has totaled just $26,890 in the prestige - packed national tournaments.

As of late December, the top sanctioned women's actual scores this season were a 769 series, three 300 games, and 1126 and 3077 team efforts.

An 816 series, a 1221 team game and 3480 team series, plus numerous 300 games lead the men's results. None of the scores was posted by a Michigan bowler or team.

Detroiter Hersch Begley's 1665 is good for first place in the $445,104 annual Petersen Classic. "Skip" Seavoy of Bloomfield Hills stands third with 1642. Begley could win $32,000 and Seavoy $8,000 if their scores hold through mid-July.

Entries close Tuesday for the annual Greater Detroit Bowling Association city tourney. Play began locally this week in the 10th March of Dimes handicap competition and runs until Jan. 29.

PERFECT GAME — Don Johnson, 35, of Kokomo, Ind., rolled a 300 game in the BPAA All-Star tournament at Lansing. It was the 17th perfect game in the 25 year history of the tournament and Johnson's 4th sanctioned 300 in his career.

Strampe Retains Lead

LANSING (AP) — Bob Strample of Detroit retained his lead in the 25th annual National All-Star Bowling Tournament Thursday night but his margin was cut to 48 pins by young Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis.

Burton hammered out a 1,096 score to take over second place.

★ ★ ★

The St. Louis bowler fired games of 189, 172, 248, 241, 246 as the field of 432 men completed two-thirds of the 15-game preliminary.

After Friday's third round, the 216 men who survive the first cut will roll another 15 games, with 72 advancing to the semifinals.

★ ★ ★

Strampe, who won the All-Star title in 1964 at Dallas, shot 1,057 Thursday for a 2,272 total after 10 games. The slender Detroiter hit 242, 187, 211, 225 and 192.

Billy Welu of St. Louis, who won the tourney in 1959, jumped all the way from 42nd place to third place on the strength of an 1,166 series.

Welu fired games of 201, 257, 265, 236 and 207 to put him at 2,221 pins for 10 games.

An 1,127 series lifted Bob Materasso from 16th place to fourth. The New Yorker put together games of 223, 223, 211, 269 and 201 for a two-day total of 2,219.

Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla., dropped from second to fifth place. He had a 1,064 series Thursday.

1. Bob Strampe, Detroit	2,272
2. Nelson Burton, St. Louis	2,224
3. Billy Welu, St. Louis	2,221

BOWLING

A 684 series and 266 game were the top individual efforts Monday night in the West Side Lanes Classic League.

Bob Murphy rolled 246—226 in the top series effort; while Pablo Rodriguez hit the best game while firing a 676. Another good combination was Lloyd Pearsall's 254—657.

Colonial Lounge and Gorman Gulf Company are tied for the second half lead with 14 points each. Following the regular league action, North Hill Lanes and Huron Bowl rolled off their tie for the first half title and Huron emerged victorious.

Montcalm Bowling Centre's outstanding performance to date in the March of Dimes handicap tournament is John Willwert's 736. He did it with an actual effort of 276—670 in Monday's Trio League. The 276 qualified him for a Century Patch award.

Willwert had 15 straight strikes during the series. Another loop member Jim Wheatley had a 238.

Pistons Lose to St. Louis

Hawks Control Boards in 103-92 Win

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) —The St. Louis Hawks jumped to a 15-0 lead and went on to defeat the Detroit Pistons 103-92 in a National Basketball Association game Thursday night.

The Hawks grabbed their 15-0 lead in the first period with 7:52 remaining as Player-coach Richie Guerin scored eight points to pace St. Louis at the outset.

★ ★ ★

St. Louis boosted its lead to 29-8 with two minutes left in the quarter.

The Pistons came back strong in the second period, led by Player-coach Dave DeBusschere and Tom Van Arsdale, to outscore the Hawks 29-20 and narrow the deficit to 55-41 at the half.

Rebounding was the difference as St. Louis center Zelmo Beaty controlled the boards during the first half.

In the third period, the Pistons used a balanced scoring effort and pulled to within seven points, 66-59, with 4:45 remaining. Guerin, Jim Washington and Beaty led the Hawks to a 77-64 lead at the end of three periods.

Forfeit Win Keeps City Five Unbeaten

Booth Homes kept its record unblemished last night in city recreation basketball action by gaining a forfeit decision over Unbeatables No. 2.

The game was one of four inter-league scraps on the schedule. The win upped Booth's record to 8-0.

In the other inter-league action, U.A.W. 653-1 (National League) handed the Packers (American) a 77-66 setback; Highland Lakes Campus (National) routed Auburn Hills (American), 66-34; and the All-Stars (American) turned back Tasty Bakery (National), 92-45.

Ray Sturdivant paced a balanced U.A.W. (4-3) attack with 16 points, while teammates Andy Roach and Duane Rollins added 13 apiece. Edward Quick led the Packers (2-5) with 23 markers.

Larry Hojna (22) and Gary Ross (19) were the big guns for Highland Lakes (5-2). Bryan Boss picked up 10 for Auburn Hills (3-4).

Five players wound up in double figures as the All-Stars (4-4) breezed to victory. Carl Arnold and John Hooper led the way with 16 apiece, followed by Carlos Russell (14), Frank Williams (13) and Willie Ratliff (13). Jerry Hill led the Bakery (0-7) five with 14.

In Waterford Township action, three teams share the Class C lead after two games.

Last night, Ryerson's Market (2-0) downed Wayne's Service (0-2), 66-43; Buckner Finance (2-0) trimmed Bundy Built (0-2), 71-57; and Yapo's Five (2-0) routed Zilka Heating (0-2), 90-46.

Mike Duff tossed in 17 points and Gary Metz added 16 for Ryerson's. Dave Goff led Wayne with 19.

Buckner broke a 27-27 halftime tie in stopping Bundy Built. Jerry Paul led the winners with 26 points and Randy Parsons collected 18 for the losers.

Jim Spadafore tossed in 24 points and Mike Reed picked up 22 in Yapo's easy victory. Gene Riabucha had 21 in a losing effort.

Large Crowd at Elks Event

Top Sports Celebrities in Attendance

Nearly 800 people jammed the banquet room of the Elks Temple 810 on Orchard Lake last night for the annual Father-Son banquet.

Master of Ceremonies Al Ackerman, Detroit TV sportscaster, introduced the many sports celebrities, calling on former Detroit Lions' quarterback Earl Morrall, now with the Giants; Bob Swift Tigers' coach and Ron Kramer to make short talks to the audience.

Terry Barr, who announced his retirement after 9 years of pro football with the Lions, was main speaker, calling on the boys in the audience to let athletics help them on their way to a good education, rather than let education be secondary to their athletic dreams.

Morrall noted "The trade to the Giants was the best thing for me and I am very happy playing for New York."

Jim Hanes was chairman of the 1966 event.

When there is competitive bidding you don't expect all tables to produce the same result.

East and West held most of the high cards, North and South had the spade suit and better distribution.

JACOBY

North and South have no trouble making three spades, but no way to make more. East and West can make three diamonds only. Most North-South pairs in the trials bid four spades and usually were doubled. In any event they went down one trick.

★ ★ ★

There were fireworks at one table. The bidding went as shown in the box. For awhile East was in five diamonds doubled and would have gone down two tricks for a big loss in match points. Then North came to East's rescue and ran to five spades.

★ ★ ★

The only consolation for poor South was that he was able to remark, "Why should we set them when we can be set ourselves?"

The bidding is worth of considerable comment. South's jump to three spades was intended to crowd the bidding and West decided that if South wanted to crowd the bidding he would go right along with him. West did not really think that his partner would make five diamonds but he was pretty certain that North and South would take the hook and bid five spades.

West was mighty disappointed when North passed. He was downright unhappy when South doubled but then the sun came out for him. North did not stand for the double.

★ ★ ★

North's five-spade bid was terrible. The only excuse for taking your partner's high-level double out is that you expect to make your own contract. North did not expect to make five spades and should have trusted his partner's judgment.

♥♣CARD Sense♦♠

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South

Pass	3 ♥	Pass	4 N.T.
Pass	5 ♥	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 2 ♥ A K 8 7 ♦ K Q 10 4 ♣ A Q J 8
What do you do now?

A—Bid five no-trump to check for kings.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid five no-trump and your partner bids six diamonds to show one king. What do you do now?

LANSING (AP)—A Macomb County legislator wants to acknowledge the role of former Gov. G. Mennen Williams in building the five-mile Mackinac Bridge.

Rep. Victor Steeh, D-Mount Clemens, introduced a bill Thursday to rename the structure "The G. Mennen Williams Bridge."

★ ★ ★

State attempts to get the federal government to take over the nearly 8-year-old structure and its $99.8 million debt have failed. The Legislature has under consideration a bill to refinance the bridge at a lower interest rate, generally regarded as unrealistic by bonding experts.

1,500 in State Get Measles Inoculations

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—More than 1,500 youngsters aged 1 through 8 were inoculated Thursday as health authorities worked to halt an outbreak of "hard" measles.

The outbreak, first noticed in December, mushroomed into 77 cases of record, said Kent Gray, health educator for the tricounty Central Michigan District Health Department. He described the disease as Rubeola measles, also known as "hard" or "nine-day" measles.

The epidemic has been confined to Isabella County and outlying areas, he said.

Dr. E. J. Brenner, the health director for the tricounty area of Isabella, Mecosta and Osceola counties, conducted an informal survey among doctors and estimated some 500 cases of measles.

U.S. health officials say 300 to 400 persons die from the disease annually in this country, Gray said. Brain damage, caused by high fevers, is often an aftermath of the disease if it is not promptly treated, he added.

Pilot on Solo Flight Rams House Roof

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A student pilot crashed into the roof of a house Thursday while landing after his first solo flight.

The flier, Leo J. Heinz, 34, a hotel bellman, was in serious condition at a hospital here after the accident near Seattle's Boeing Field.

Rosalie Fernandez, 10, was alone in the one-story wooden house watching television. She was not hurt when the plane hit about 20 feet from her.

Minnesota Senator Seeks Probe of CIA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., wants the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to investigate the supersecret Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

McCarthy said yesterday he was planning to introduce a resolution for the inquiry.

The Senate committee, of which he is a member, has taken no action on the agency and has nothing planned at present.

Past attempts to investigate the CIA's activities have invariably run into administration opposition.

A subcommittee made up of senior senators meets in secret to oversee CIA appropriations of several hundred million dollars each year.

Oscar Award Fails to Help Lila Kedrova's Film Career

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — In a shrine-like setting in Lila Kedrova's Paris home sits her Oscar, surrounded by roses.

The position of honor gives evidence of Miss Kedrova's gratitude for the Academy Award, which she won last year for her flamboyant performance as the aging doxy in "Zorba the Greek." The honor made the Parisian actress a worldwide celebrity.

THOMAS

★ ★ ★

Curiously, Oscar failed to bestow his famed golden touch careerwise.

"Movie offers? I have had none," said Miss Kedrova. "None from America, none from Europe. Until now."

CAME TO HOLLYWOOD

She had come to Hollywood for a brief but costarring role with Julie Andrews and Paul Newman in "Torn Curtain," with Alfred Hitchcock. She plays a displaced Polish countess in East Berlin who is trying to find a sponsor for entrance to the United States.

Miss Kedrova said that she had received offers to appear on the Paris stage. But she had to refuse them because she was committed to a New York production of "The Cherry Orchard" for Michael Cacoyannis, who selected her for Zorba's Madame Hortense.

"I had given Cacoyannis my word, and I could not go back on my word," said the loyal actress. "But when the play was postponed, I nearly went crazy with waiting. I became so nervous I had to go to my little place in the country, outside Paris."

The Hitchcock offer broke her long wait, and now Cacoyannis wants her immediately for "The Cherry Orchard," which he is presenting off-Broadway. At last Miss Kedrova may be able to reap the rewards that Oscar usually brings.

She was born 46 years ago in Leningrad, where her parents were noted singers. When she was 6, her father arranged a concert in Berlin and took his wife and three children along. They never returned.

Friends urged Cacoyannis to meet Lila when he was searching for a Madame Hortense. The Greek director was unimpressed; besides, 20th Century-Fox wanted a big name, and Simone Signoret was selected.

CALLED FOR LILA

After a week of shooting on Crete, Signoret decided she was wrong for the part and withdrew. Cacoyannis sent a hurry call for Lila Kedrova. She arrived with one handicap. She knew no English.

"I arrived at 7 in the evening and at 11 I was doing a test," she recalled. "Cacoyannis read each line in English and I repeated it after him."

She was deemed perfect for the role and played it with astonishing vigor. Her performance was hailed everywhere.

Quiz of Liz Has Six Days Left

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Studio attorneys have less than a week to complete oral questioning of actress Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, actor Richard Burton, before the couple leaves for engagements in Europe.

Federal Judge Thurmond Clarke Thursday ordered attorneys for 20th Century-Fox to conclude the questioning by next Wednesday on four cases before the court involving the actress and studio over the motion picture "Cleopatra."

★ ★ ★

The motion picture company claims that Miss Taylor's "illicit conduct" with Burton during filming in Rome cost the studio millions of dollars.

Miss Taylor's attorney, Milton Rudin, said she had already undergone 12 days of questioning, and that she and Burton had professional commitments to keep.

BACK FROM VIET NAM—Comedienne Martha Raye, returning home in a camouflage suit and Special Forces green beret, told newsmen in Los Angeles yesterday that troops called her "Maggie of the Boondocks" when she entertained in South Viet Nam outposts. She returned yesterday from 3½ months in the war-torn nation.

'Boondock Maggie' Home From S. Viet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedienne Martha Raye says she missed being trapped in a bloody Viet Cong battle at a remote South Viet Nam outpost by only 29 minutes.

"Our helicopter took off from Plei Me just 29 minutes before they attacked," said Martha on her return Thursday from 3½ months of entertaining troops.

★ ★ ★

The siege last fall lasted eight days and resulted in many Viet Cong and allied dead.

Still dressed in combat boots, Special Forces green beret and camouflage "tiger" suit, she arrived home 12 pounds lighter.

SPECIAL NAME

"They got to calling me 'Maggie of the Boondocks,'" said Martha, 49, who put on 400 performances for GI's in the treacherous jungles and rice paddies.

It was the comedienne's second tour in a year in Viet Nam, and her third war. World War II and Korea came before.

★ ★ ★

"They were all great guys," said Martha.

"But those boys over in Viet Nam — they know what they're fighting about a little more than the others did. If they don't, they learn in the first 24 hours."

MEDICAL HELP

"What really gets you is what they do besides fighting," said Martha. "They've got a medical program going for the villagers in the tiniest towns."

Martha sang and told jokes at some of the smallest outposts — sometimes manned by only two GIs.

At first she was accompanied by bass player Ollie Harris and guitarist Earl Colbert but they had to return to the United States. Then the Army gave her three GIs who could play bass and guitars.

Only one thing really bothered the GIs she met, said Martha. That was the antiwar demonstrators at home.

"The guys told me to try to put some sense into those kooks when I got here," she said.

Auschwitz Exhibit a Grim Reminder

BERLIN (AP) — Thousands of West Berliners come each day to the picture of the old Jewish woman dressed in black and wearing a "star of David. Above her head is the word "Auschwitz."

The picture is on posters at the entrance to an exhibit on the World War II Nazi concentration camp at Auschwitz, Poland.

Bigger than life black and white photographs, documents, prison uniforms and cans of poison gas used in the camp's gas chambers depict the inner workings at the Nazi death mill. A movie on the camp is shown three times a day.

The exhibit, sponsored jointly by the city government, political parties, youth groups and labor unions, is in its third week. It was scheduled to close Jan. 30 but has been extended a month.

DAILY CROWDS

Some 20,000 West Berliners have seen it since Jan. 2. "Currently, about 2,000 people see the display daily," said a spokesman, Hans Kirshner.

The exhibition is at the Gallery of the 20th Century on a side street near the main railway station.

Interest is high because West Berlin has never had such an exhibit, Kirshner said, "but the crowds here are no bigger than those that went to see it in West Germany."

The exhibit was put together during the 20-month trial of 20 of the camp's functionaries that ended in Frankfurt last August.

YOUNG PEOPLE

School and youth groups are encouraged to come and a large percentage of those who do are young people. An attendant said most people look in absolute silence.

Five youths, 17 to 19 years old, told a newsman Thursday they came "because we are discussing Auschwitz at school." A 17-year-old said neither the German people nor his generation were to blame for Auschwitz.

"Those who did it and were there are to blame," he said. "Why should my generation have to pay?"

Two 18-year-old girls said both the film and the exhibit made a vivid impression. "I find it impossible to believe," one added.

SATISFACTION

A man, 51, said: "I came to satisfy my own curiosity. I was a soldier for six years and knew little of what happened behind the front at the time."

"Yes," he added, "we Germans are guilty. We did not do enough to hinder what happened."

Junior Editors Quiz on THE AMERICAS

QUESTION: Who really discovered America?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Recently, some exciting discoveries have given us new knowledge about the first voyages to this continent. The Icelandic sages, or stories, tell of the voyage of Lief Ericson, in 1000 A.D., to a country he named "Vinland" which lay to the west.

This had always been believed to be America, but no proof of the Viking visit had been found.

However, in 1963, the remains of a Norse settlement were found in northern Newfoundland, where the large arrow points in our map.

An ancient map has also been found, drawn about 1440, which shows Vinland lying southwest from Greenland. It is now believed by many that Leif Ericson was the first white man to set foot on America.

Our map compares Leif's voyage with those of Columbus and Vespucci.

No doubt Columbus' trip was the most important, since he drew the civilized world's attention to the new countries.

Vespucci's trip was also extremely important since, he, alone of the three, realized that the lands to the west were new continents, which was why his name Amerigo became attached to them, first to South and then North America.

Many historians now feel we should credit all three of these voyagers with the discovery of our wonderful land.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Study our map carefully. Our artist has drawn continents and routes correctly, but added mythical touches like the imaginery sea monster at lower left. Have fun-drawing your own conception of such a "horrible peril of ye unknown seas."

Ex-Brookdale Exec Due Trial

DETROIT (AP) — Former Brookdale Cemetery manager Sydney List Thursday was bound over for trial on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

A second charge that List fraudulently secured signatures to a contract for a grave plot was dismissed.

No trial date was set by Common Pleas Judge David. C. Vokes, who sat on the hearing.

William Long, an assistant Wayne County prosecutor, said the second charge was dismissed for lack of evidence.

★ ★ ★

The charge stems from the complaint of Howard L. Dowdy of Detroit. He testified his brother, Robert L., was buried in Brookdale in 1963 and later was moved to a lot adjacent to six other lots which Dowdy purchased for his family.

Dowdy had his brother's grave opened Nov. 18, but the body was not found.

Illness Claims Brother of Comic George Burns

LOS ANGELES (AP) — William Burns, writer and business manager for his comedian-brother George Burns, died Thursday night of pneumonia, friends reported. He was 63.

Burns, the youngest of 12 brothers and sisters, toured the vaudeville circuit with the George Burns and Gracie Allen act.

Trading Fairly Active

Stock Market Moves Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks moved lower today amid pressure on blue chips and some recently popular defense and electronics issues. Trading was fairly active.

Buying and selling of low-priced stocks continued heavy. But price changes among the more active of these stocks were narrow.

★ ★ ★

Rails were weak. New York Central and Pennsylvania both dropped about 2 points. The Interstate Commerce Commission indicated a ruling on their proposed merger is still some weeks away.

Motors were mixed, with General Motors off more than a point. Steels were irregularly lower.

LOST GROUND

Electronics issues lost ground. Zenith was down more than 2 points. RCA and actively traded Sperry Rand lost fractions.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 3.23 at noon to 984.57.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon eased 1.3 to 366.7, with industrials off 2.0, rails down 1.3 and utilities up .1.

Boeing was down about 2 points. The Civil Aeronautics Board indicated structural design and some materials in the 727 airliner may have contributed to some deaths in an air crash last November.

Stocks on the American Exchange moved higher in heavy trading. O'Okiep Copper spurted about 5 points. Syntex gained more than a point. Technical Operations was about 2 points higher.

Bond prices were mostly unchanged in light trading.

Labor Leader's Killer Is Sought

Unionist Shot in Front of His Nevada Home

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Nine teams of detectives today sought the assassin who fatally blasted Ralph Alsup Sr., 54, a prominent labor leader, with a shotgun outside his home.

Shot from ambush as he opened the gate of his home in the exclusive Paradise Valley Wednesday night, Alsup's right arm was shattered and 21 pellets perforated his heart and lungs, according to Lt. Glenn Simmons, head of detectives for the Clark County Sheriffs' office.

Alsup's wife, Bernice, son, Ralph Jr., and daughter-in-law were in the house of the five-acre property and heard the shot.

"We ran out, but there wasn't anything we could do," said the son. "Dad was dead."

★ ★ ★

Simmons said, "Alsup had made many enemies during the past years. It was common knowledge."

WAITED FOR HIM

"It was an out and out assassination," the lieutenant added. "Somebody stalked Alsup, waited for him to come home and blasted him from a 20-foot range when he opened the gate to his home."

Cigarette butts and footprints in the area near the Alsup home appeared to be the only clues detectives had to work with in trying to solve the case. The footprints led to a housing tract nearly a mile from the death site.

"The possibility exists that it is a hired killing, but I do not think it was done by a professional," Simmons said.

★ ★ ★

Alsup, who once served a prison sentence for wounding Ray Folsom, a fellow unionist, was a business agent for the Plumbers and Pipefitters Union, Local 525, and a former state vice president of the American Federation of Labor.

STORE IS DESTROYED—A two-alarm fire near Harrison destroyed the Guiette's Do-It-Yourself Store on old U. S. 27 last night. The blaze was out of control four hours and burned for 11 hours. Damage to store and contents was estimated at $80,000.

Fire Causes Damage of $2,000 to Truck

A short circuit in wiring set afire a large tractor-truck early this morning on Auburn, causing an estimated $2,000 damage.

The driver of the truck was James Rouse of Detroit, according to Pontiac fire fighters. It is owned by Ryder Truck Co. of Detroit.

British Clamp Lid on Rhodesia Chrome

LONDON (AP) — The British government Thursday night outlawed chrome exports from Rhodesia in another economic attempt to undermine the rebellious white minority regime.

Financial sources said the action to tighten the economic sueeze was aimed at American importers who they said are continuing to buy most of Rhodesia's annual $5.6 million chrome output.

Blame Radio for Home Fire

A $450 house fire yesterday morning at 102 Gladstone was attributed to a short circuit in a radio.

★ ★ ★

The defective radio set fire to a mattress, according to Pontiac firemen, who estimated damages at $250 to the building and $200 to the contents.

Near Air Crash Site in Spain

Missing A-Weapon Hunt Intensifies

PALOMARES, Spain (UPI) — American authorities today stepped up Operation Broken Arrow — the search for an atomic weapon missing in the crash of a U. S. nuclear bomber.

"Broken Arrow" is the code name for a special technique used by the U. S. Strategic Air Command (SAC) to deal with accidents involving nuclear arms.

U. S. Air Force authorities have given assurances that there is no danger of a nuclear blast or radiation contamination as a result of the crash.

But the massive search in this rocky, arid region went into its fourth day and appeared to be intensified.

★ ★ ★

Official Air Force spokesmen admitted yesterday the B52 SAC bomber which crashed Monday after colliding with a tanker plane was carrying nuclear arms.

NO CONFIRMATION

They refused to confirm or deny that a nuclear device was missing in the wake of the crash, but it was reported here the B52 had been carrying several nuclear bombs and that all but one had been recovered. The plane was on a training mission when the crash occurred.

A joint statement issued by the U. S. embassy at Madrid and the U. S. Air Force base at Torrejon said:

"The SAC bomber which was engaged in a refueling operation off the coast of Spain and suffered an accident with a KC-135 was carrying unarmed nuclear armament.

★ ★ ★

"Radiological surveys have established that there is no danger to public health or safety as a result of this accident."

FOUR SAVED

The crash killed seven airmen. But four flyers aboard the B52 managed to parachute from the damaged aircraft and were pulled out of the Mediterranean near here by fishing boats.

Despite the official assurances, many villagers along this southeastern coastal area became frightened when they heard about the crash despite a partial Spanish news blackout.

The Spanish government has not announced that the downed plane was a nuclear bomber, apparently to forestall the possibility of panic.

Observers also said the incident could result in anti-American demonstrations at a time when U.S. relations with Spain were at their best.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco permits the United States to maintain three air bases and one naval base in Spain. In addition, he recently expressed full support for the U. S. position in Viet Nam.

But word that something was wrong spread quickly when hundreds of American airmen could be seen plodding across the fields and rugged mountains yesterday in search for scattered parts of the plane. Some of the airmen carried geiger counters.

"We are looking for anything," said one officer leading a group of 150 airmen clad in fatigues. The operation appeared to be growing.

Air police and Spanish civil guards surrounded a field Wednesday and an air policeman tried to tell farmers they were working in a contaminated area. The farmers refused to leave at that time, but no one worked in those fields yesterday.

Palomares is a tiny unincorporated village about 95 miles east of Granada. In the summer the beaches near the village are crowded with tourists.

Yesterday an FA16 amphibious search plane continuously circled over an area between six square miles and eight square miles in size. From time to time, it swooped down near the ground.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane was involved in preliminary work for "the most difficult task we have left."

Dominicans Tighten Security After Castro Intervention Threat

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Fidel Castro's threat to intervene in the Dominican Republic has caused the Dominican armed forces to intensify security precautions along the northwest coast.

The armed forces minister, Commodore Franciso J. Rivera Caminero, declined Thursday night to go into details of the coastal watch. But he said naval patrols were concentrating on nearly 100 miles of coastline between Monte Cristi and Puerto Plata. Cuba's eastern tip is 160 miles northeast of Monte Cristi.

★ ★ ★

The minister also revealed that the Dominican navy recently acquired "several" new high speed, heavily armed patrol craft from the United States. It was learned, however, that the small boats arrived some time before the new threat from Havana.

The commodore said the reason for the increased vigilance could be found in the words of Castro and the Dominican delegates at the Havana conference of revolutionaries from Latin America, Asia and Africa, which ended Sunday.

In his closing remarks to the conference, Castro declared the Dominican people "should not confront Yankee imperialism alone" and threatened open intervention by international communism in the Dominican Republic.

Earlier in the conference, one of the eight Dominican delegates, Cayetano Rodriguez del Prado of the Dominican Popular Movement, said his country in the future would become the "Viet Nam of the Caribbean."

★ ★ ★

Provisional President Hector Garcia-Godoy barred the reentry of the eight Havana delegates, who also included Euclides Gutierrez Felix, vice minister of the interior in the rebel government Col. Francisco Caamano Deno set up in downtown Santo Domingo after the April revolution.

Another Dominican delegate, Guido Gil, said the group would defy the president's ban and "enter Santo Domingo and fight."

★ ★ ★

Criticism of the presidential ban has come from two political figures, Ramon Gonzalez Hardy of the Conservative National Civic Union and Hector Aristy, presidential minister in the rebel regime.

School Board OKs Property Purchase

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night authorized purchase of a 4½-acre addition to Stringham Elementary School for $9,300.

Since the land is designed for recreational purposes, the school system is eligible to receive 50 per cent federal assistance toward its cost under terms of the open space Land Grant Act.

The school is located at 4350 Elizabeth Lake.

The board also granted the administration permission to apply for open space land grants toward purchase of recreational sites at nine other elementary schools:

★ ★ ★

West Bloomfield, Crescent Lake, Waterford Village, Manley, Williams Lake, Grayson, Monteith, Covert and McVittie.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The recommendations were submitted by the system's building and site committee.

William Saxon, a Detroit attorney, was hired last night to negotiate legal contracts with school employe groups.

An attorney was deemed necessary because of recent board action which officially recognized three school employe groups as sole bargaining agents.

★ ★ ★

The decision was in compliance with a new state law which allows for collective bargaining for public employes.

COMPLETES REPORT

In other business, Supt. Dr. Don O. Tatroe completed his two-part curriculum report on "Developing a Significant School System."

Tatroe listed the goals, accomplishments and needs for six areas — staff, program, improvement, resources, involvement and teamwork.

He termed his outlined presentation "Spirit."

★ ★ ★

Eldon Rosegart was named to represent the board on the newly-formed county vocational education study committee, headed by Dr. William Early, superintendent of Rochester Schools.

REPRESENTATIVE

Early has requested that each of the county's 30 school boards select a representative.

A report and recommendation for future action on vocational education needs in the county will be forthcoming in March.

Second semester teaching contracts were approved for four elementary, one secondary and one special education instructor.

★ ★ ★

Board members decided not to take a stand on the proposed athletic field development for the system's two high schools until after next Tuesday night when the citizens' advisory committee is expected to make a recommendation.

Under consideration are upgrading athletic facilities at each high school and development of a common field for both.

DELOS HAMLIN

Group Elects County Official

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, was elected first vice president of the Michigan Association of County Supervisors at the organization's convention which ended yesterday.

Stepping up from his position as second vice president last year, Hamlin is in line for the presidency when elections are held next January.

★ ★ ★

Al VanderLaan of Caledonia is the organization's new president.

Some 800 county supervisors and department heads, including 62 from Oakland County, attended the four-day convention in Lansing.

Brief Illness Claims Rabbi

Helped to Organize City Congregation

Rabbi Lazarus Hershovitz, one of the organizers of Jewish congregations in Pontiac, died last night after a brief illness. He was 98.

Service was to be this afternoon from the Ira Kaufman Funeral Home, Southfield.

A graduate of Oxford University in England, Rabbi Hershovitz came to the United States in the early part of the century.

He came to Pontiac with his wife in 1916. As one of the founders of Temple Beth Jacob, he served the congregation as rabbi for 18 years.

★ ★ ★

Later, he helped organize Congregation B'nai Israel and for four years, served as president. From the time of its founding until his death, Rabbi Hershovitz served as cantor.

FOUR DAUGHTERS

Surviving besides his wife, Gertrude, are four daughters, Mrs. Marian Baill of Pontiac, Mrs. Helen Leibeskind of Detroit, and Mrs. Richael Ross and Mrs. Isaac Blumenthal, both of New York City.

★ ★ ★

Also surviving are two sons, Elliott of Pontiac and Morrishersh of Detroit; six grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren and a brother.

Board Lifts Moratorium on Doctors

A nearly year-old moratorium on adding doctors to the staff of Pontiac General Hospital was lifted last night by the board of trustees.

Recommended by the medical staff, the moratorium was lifted because doctors seeking staff privileges were not the type to bring in more patients.

The moratorium was imposed in March last year to help relieve overcrowding of the hospital facilities.

Dr. Clifford T. Ekelund said last night that these doctors seeking admission did not increase the patient load because of the areas of their speciality.

★ ★ ★

The moratorium applied only to doctors outside the City of Pontiac. Despite the edict, doctors were admitted in speciality groups when the need demanded.

7 ADDED TO STAFF

Seven doctors were added to the staff last night by board action.

The trustees also modified the boundary lines for doctors seeking staff privileges. The line was changed from south of 14 Mile Road to Square Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

However, Dr. Ekelund said that again if a certain specialist was needed there would be an exception made.

Special Clinics Set for Dog Licensing

Dog owners were reminded today by the county's chief veterinarian that the deadline for licensing pets is Feb. 28.

After that date, said Dr. Frank Bates, director of the Animal Welfare Division, the normal $1 and $2 fees for male and female dogs will be increased to $5 and $7.50.

As a public service, special clinics have been scheduled throughout the county where dogs can be inoculated against rabies and licenses obtained.

Bates said that there were 970 violations of the dog licensing regulation in 1965 and that they resulted in fines of from $5 to 30 days in jail.

★ ★ ★

All dogs over 4 months old must have a license, warned Bates.

SPECIAL CLINICS

The following is a list of the special clinics and the dates they will be held:

Jan. 30, Animal Shelter, 1200 N. Telegraph; Feb. 5, Wixom Municipal Building, 49045 Pontiac Trail, and the Avon-Rochester Precinct Hall, 276 W. Auburn; Feb. 6, White Lake Township Community Hall, M59 and Porter; Feb. 12, Highland Township Fire Hall; and Feb. 13, the Animal Shelter.

Others are Feb. 19, Holly Township Fire Hall and Farmington Township Fire Hall, 21420 Wheeler; Feb. 20, Brandon-Ortonville Fire Hall; Feb. 26, Oakland Township, 4325 Territorial, and Novi Township Hall, 25850 Novi; and Feb. 27, Animal Shelter.

To File Appeals in Draft Cases

U-M Students' Board Keeps Them at 1-A

ROYAL OAK (AP)—Attorneys for two University of Michigan students who were denied appeals to reinstate their college draft deferments said Thursday they would file appeals to the State Selective Service Board "and to the courts if necessary."

The students, Ronald Miller and Robert Sklar, both 19, and from neighboring Huntington Woods, received notice from Local Board No. 323 Thursday that their appeals for reinstatement had been denied.

★ ★ ★

The youths were convicted of trespass after an anti-Viet Nam war sit-in at the Ann Arbor draft board Oct. 15. Their college deferments were changed from deferred status to 1-A, or immediately available, shortly afterward.

"We are terribly disappointed but not surprised," said Ernest Mazey, director of the Michigan American Civil Liberties Union, which provided legal counsel to the students at their appeals.

WENT AHEAD

"Although the board invited legal briefs to be submitted on behalf of the students, they nevertheless proceeded to reclassify without the briefs being filed."

Mazey said both cases would be appealed to the Michigan Selective Service Appeals Board. If that fails, he added, appeals would be filed in civil courts.

★ ★ ★

A total of 13 of more than 50 U-M students involved in the sit-in have been reclassified by their local boards. Miller and Sklar also appealed their convictions on the trespass charge.

Selective Service officials have argued that the students who took part in the Ann Arbor sit-in violated a section of the Universal Military Service and Training Act which bars interference with the operations of draft boards.

Card of Thanks 1

OUR HEARTFELT THANKS AND appreciation to so many people, friends, relatives and neighbors for their acts of kindness, messages of smypathy, beautiful floral offerings and special masses giving our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved daughters and sisters. We especially thank Reverend Ellis, Reverend Burke, Alton Black's Funeral Parlor and wife, the staff of the Pontiac General Hospital, St. Vincent DePaul priests, the pall-bearers, faculty, teachers, bus drivers, and students of Walled Lake St. Patrick Schools. May God Bless you all. The Marvin Wilson family.

THE FAMILY OF MRS. HOWARD Clark, wish to thank their friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy during their recent bereavement. Special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Creech, Rev. F. William Palmer and the Harold R. Davis Funeral Home. Howard Clark.

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR DEEPest and sincerest thanks to all of our relatives, friends and neighbors for their kind deeds and thoughtfulness during the recent passing of our beloved mother. Special thanks to Rev. Lenworth Miner of Macedonia Church and the William F. Davis Funeral Home. The family of Mrs. Texie Williams.

15 Fellowships Are Available

Elvin J. Ryan, director of job development, education and youth incentives for the Pontiac Urban League, has announced the availability of 15 fellowships to be given selected applicants for graduate study in 1966-1967.

Financed by a $300,000 grant by the Carnegie Corp., New York, the scholarships will be available over a three-year period, and the National Urban League will make the selections.

Depending on the need of the applicant, up to $3,000 a year, will be available to first year students in social work if their academic record shows justification.

The funds will be given during the sophomore term.

★ ★ ★

At the end of their training each recipient will be expected to serve on the staff of the League for at least a year.

SPECIAL EFFORT

The special effort is being made to induce students to make careers with the Urban League in such fields as human relations, economics, labor and industrial relations, research and various other fields.

The fellowships are chiefly for those who envision working professionally in the area of Civil Rights in the Urban League.

Those interested in the program may obtain additional information from Ryan at the local offices, Community Services Building, 132 Franklin.

Coeds Return to Reservation

Indians Invite VISTA Pair to Come Back

RED CLIFF, Wis. (AP) — Two coeds in the Domestic Peace Corps are coming back this weekend to the snow-besieged Indian reservation where their first efforts triggered tribal feuding.

Officials of Volunteers in Service to America said Thursday night they were reassigning Judy Rothman, 20, University City, Mo., and Jill Hunt, 22, Kewanee, Ill., to the Red Cliff Reservation at the invitation of tribal officials.

★ ★ ★

"We're very happy to go back," said Miss Rothman. "We feel there is a job to be done and we want to try to do it."

Henry Daley, a factory worker who is tribal chairman, said he welcomed their returned and predicted no future trouble. But Mrs. Alex Gokee, who had charged the coeds refused to cooperate last fall with tribe programs, said the Indians remained split on the issue.

"How these two girls are going to solve anything, I just don't know," she said.

★ ★ ★

The tribal council voted 5-2 in December to bar the VISTA volunteers two months after they arrived. Two council members accused the girls of disrupting the community. The council rejected the charges and asked that VISTA return on a 5-2 vote Jan. 3.

Now in Washington to confer with VISTA officials, Miss Rothman said the two sociology students expected to arrive at Red Cliff Saturday or Sunday. Miss Rothman attended Washington University in St. Louis, and Miss Hunt, Illinois Wesleyan.

NEW YORK — Jackie Kennedy, like her late husband JFK, has become a serious devotee of physical fitness, and before taking off on her winter trip to Switzerland, became a private $40-an-hour student at the Nicholas Kounovsky gym on W. 57th St. where she was primarily occupied in developing her "skiing muscles" . . .

Secret Stuff: J. Fearless Forecast: There'll be a stock market drop of 50 points or more within 5 to 8 weeks (nothing to get nervous about) affecting most everything but the blue chips.

Woody Allen, who gets mixed up in people's minds with Steve Allen, Marty Allen, Allen Funt and Woody Herman, had a vastly successful opening at the Hotel Americana Royal Box — he's of course the gifted humorist of "What's New Pussycat?" who scratches his head right down to the bone and chews the microphone cord. Congress OK Is Expected on Viet Fund Hike

Sen. Russell Predicts Approval for Most of Request by President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell predicted today that Congress will approve "practically all" of the $12.76 billion in supplemental funds requested by President Johnson to help pay for the Viet Nam war.

The Georgia Democrat commented as Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara prepared to resume testimony on the request to combined sessions of the Senate's Armed Services Committee and Defense Appropriations subcommittee. Russell is chairman of both.

In testimony yesterday, McNamara disclosed plans for "massive application of firepower in Viet Nam and said, "We must be prepared to deploy even more forces" if the Reds expand their operations.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk plans a news conference today as the administration weighs which way to turn next in its drive for settlement of the war.

President Johnson was reported assessing the results of his month-old peace campaign to decide, among other things, whether to resume the bombing of targets in Communist North Viet Nam.

The President is expected to continue U.S. diplomatic efforts. But he spoke somberly yesterday after hearing from Rusk and Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, just returned from extensive foreign travels in behalf of Johnson's offer of unconditional discussions to end the war.

2 Americans, 46 Guerrillas Die in Battles

S. Korean Marines Fight Attacking VC Troops for Two Hours

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong jolted the lunar new year cease-fire today by attacking a U.S. Marine patrol near Da Nang and engaging South Korean marines in a two-hour close quarter battle near the central coast.

Two Americans and 46 Communists were reported killed.

Two U.S. Marine sergeants were killed when the guerrillas caught a Leatherneck platoon on security patrol in a crossfire near Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Americans poured artillery fire into the enemy positions.

★ ★ ★

One wounded Viet Cong was captured and six suspects were detained.

49 VIOLATIONS

By nightfall of the second day of the holiday truce, the U.S. military command reported a total of 49 violations by the Communists, but most were regarded as minor brushes.

In Saigon, some overanxious Koreans began shooting when they heard the sound of firecrackers as the Vietnamese greeted the Year of the Horse on the lunar calendar.

Thirty-four of the Communist attacks were reported against U.S., Korean, Australian and New Zealand troops.

★ ★ ★

TRUCE TERMS

When the underground Liberation Front radio broadcast the truce terms three weeks ago, it did not specifically include allied soldiers but said it hoped they would respect the Vietnamese New Year celebration.

The other 15 attacks, all characterized as minor, were against government forces.

The Koreans reported 400 Viet Cong attacked a platoon of their marines shortly after midnight 10 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa, a coastal town 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

A Korean military spokesman said the marines beat off the

More Prizes Listed for The Press Event

Women who attend The Pontiac Press cooking school starting on Monday will see a complete kitchen on stage.

The cabinet display was built by Ross Homes, Inc.

Prizes not previously announced include two range hoods and a medicine cabinet from Marcell Construction Co.

Other prizes, besides the food prepared daily on stage, bags of groceries and cartons of soft drinks, will be Westinghouse Electric can openers from World Wide Home Furnishings, Inc., trading stamps and a 9x12 Armstrong linoleum rug from The Floor Shop.

Parking facilities have been arranged in the parking lot behind the First Church of the Nazarene on State Street. A ticket for the cooking school will allow you to enter the lot.

OPENING TIMES

Doors on the east end of Pontiac Central High School open at 7 p.m. for the evening sessions and 12:30 p.m. for the afternoon sessions.

There are still some tickets available for the six sessions.

Area Group Appeals School Districting

A group of citizens from White Lake Township, objecting vigorously to a proposed school district boundary change, hope they can persuade the State Reorganization Committee (SRC) today as successfully as they did the Waterford Township Board of Education last night.

The SRC is scheduled to decide whether to accept the Dublin-Walled Lake merger as recommended last Dec. 22 by the Oakland County School District Reorganization Committee.

Last night, the residents gained the full-fledged support of the board of education, which had previously taken a "neutral" attitude in the matter.

Twenty-nine children from several of the 38 families living in White Lake Township's southeastern corner would be affected by the proposed move.

They will be forced to transfer from the Waterford Township School District to Walled Lake if the merger, as proposed, is given the green light by the SRC and is approved by voters in a June election.

★ ★ ★

The 400-acre area, consisting of property west of Williams Lake Road and south of Elizabeth Lake Road, was included in the package presented by the county to the state.

VALUATION HIGH

The total assessed property valuation in the area is high, thanks to a shopping center located there.

Board members previously had asserted they would neither oppose the boundary change, nor initiate any action.

However, last night, board members and Supt. Dr. Don O. Tatroe each issued a letter stating their opposition to the boundary change.

★ ★ ★

The letters were to have been hand-carried to Lansing today by Mrs. Earl D. Lundquist, a spokesman for the citizens'

Sought in Boy's Death

Search for Toledo Pair

MONROE (UPI)—Police were conducting a nationwide search today for a missing Toledo, Ohio, couple in the death of a 2-year-old boy whose body was found stuffed under a privy seat on an abandoned farm near here.

The boy, known as "Little Boy Blue" since his body was discovered six days ago clad in a blue ski jacket, was identified yesterday as Eddie Montalvo, the son of Carolina Montalvo, 20.

A first degree murder warrant was issued today against Alberto Sanchez, 22, who had been living with the boy's mother in Toledo.

Detective Sergeant Patrick Lyons of the Michigan State Police said an investigation disclosed the child was severely beaten by Sanchez last year in Toledo.

He said police believed the boy was murdered in Toledo and the body disposed of in the outhouse on the abandoned farm at Summerfield Township.

IDENTIFY BOY

Acquaintances of the couple in Toledo identified the boy at Mercy Hospital in Monroe.

Monroe County Sheriff Charles Herrington said he received a tip yesterday from "persons acquainted with the missing couple." He said two persons were interviewed and they said Sanchez and Mrs. Montalvo visited the Monroe area occasionally.

Several hours after the first tip, the boy's grandmother, Mrs. Martha Montalvo, of Adrian, contacted Lenawee County Sheriff Richard Germond and told him she thought the boy might be her grandson from the description she had read in newspapers.

★ ★ ★

Germond said Carolina Montalvo was originally from Adrian. He said she lived with her mother "off and on." Sanchez was also from Adrian but he left with the young woman and her son in July.

BORN IN ADRIAN

Eddie Montalvo was born Oct. 29, 1963, in Adrian. No name for the boy's father was listed on hospital records.

The child's partially frozen body was found Saturday by a hunter who followed a rabbit into the privy.

Police since then checked out hundreds of tips, most of them from divorcees who feared their ex-mates may have killed their child, or from worried grandparents.

★ ★ ★

Scores of persons have offered money or clothes for the boy's burial, or space in family graveyard plots. One man, police said, wanted to adopt the dead boy to give him a name and a burial.

Police said they have information the missing couple may be in Texas and an intensive search was being carried out there.

County Jail Feels the 'Pinch'

By DAVID J. COOK

When the Oakland County Jail was built in 1921, no one was quite sure how the county would ever fully utilize a cell house built to hold 259 persons.

Woodward Avenue was a two-lane road and a good percentage of the county's law problems were caused by chicken thieves and the like.

Since that time, however, the automobile industry and the suburban exodus have boosted population of the Pontiac area tenfold — to some 800,000 persons.

The county jail today faces a situation where mass arrests in a vice raid, for example, could literally put prisoners in the hallways.

★ ★ ★

And, according to Sheriff Frank W. Irons, space limitations in the 45-year-old structure would present serious security risks in the event of a disturbance or riot among inmates.

236 PRISONERS

"At one point last summer," Irons said, "we had 236 prisoners behind bars.

"I was standing here holding my breath."

The jail population, while fluctuating sharply over short periods of time, has climbed steadily in the last 15 years.

★ ★ ★

Records show the average daily number of inmates in 1950 was between 70 and 75. This figure doubled by 1960 and has climbed significantly since then.

WENT UNUSED

"Half of our fourth-floor cell block went unused in the 'fifties,' " Irons recalled.

"Now we've got facilities for 80 inmates up there and, most of the time, they're in full use."

And the figures can be misleading.

While the jail has yet to be jammed to capacity, the original design figure of 259 inmates, by modern standards, is obsolete.

"Even with our present subcapacity load," noted Sheriff's Capt. Leo R. Hazen, "the jail doesn't give us the security we'd like."

"Most penal experts nowadays say six to eight prison-

The Oakland County Jail: Getting Crowded

OU Is Given $33,000 by 14 Citizens

"Oakland University is $33,000 better off through unexpected year-end gifts from 14 local citizens," said Chancellor D. B. Varner today to The Press.

"We were all very pleasantly surprised," he declared, "as unsolicited assistance came in through the mails. The bulk of the money will go toward scholarships, but some of it can be used for needed campus improvements.

"When the Michigan Legislature cut short our expected funds a year ago, we were in a precarious situation, and these gifts will help ease some of the worst of the pressure.

"Our growth in the next five years suggests a tremendous building campaign out here, and it is difficult to see just where all the money will come from.

★ ★ ★

"If any other area residents want to help the general cause of education, we will be happy to meet them and outline the needs. The current donors have our profound thanks."

Area May Get Snow Tonight and Tomorrow

There's a chance of fresh, light snow blanketing the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow.

The weatherman predicts temperatures will fall to 15 to 22 tonight and climb into the high 20s tomorrow.

Colder and cloudy with snow flurries is the outlook for Sunday.

Today's light variable winds under 12 miles per hour will become generally from the northeast to east.

A low of 20 was the thermometer reading prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The 1 p.m. reading was 25.

JOHN Z. DeLOREAN

New Head for GM City Unit Named

John Z. DeLorean, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division and a vice president of General Motors Corp. has been appointed chairman of the GM Pontiac Plant City Committee for 1966 by GM President James M. Roche.

DeLorean succeeds Thomas F. Wiethorn, Fisher Body Pontiac plant manager, as chairman of the committee responsible for guiding and coordinating GM's community relations activities in the area.

The Pontiac committee is one of 60 such committees across the nation in cities where GM has facilities.

Other members of the Pontiac Plant City Committee are:

From Pontiac Motor Division: Theodore B. Bloom, personnel director; Wright C. Cotton, divisional comptroller; and Robert W. Emerick, director of public relations.

From the Pontiac Fisher Body Plant: Alger V. Conner, plant director of industrial relations; and Karl F. Davies, resident comptroller.

From GMC Truck & Coach Division: John A. Castle, director of public relations: Earl A. Maxwell, personnel director; John D. Mintline, divisional comptroller; Calvin J. Werner, a vice president of GM and general manager of the division; and Thomas E. Wilson, manufacturing manager.

Hoffa Says Strikes at an All-Time Low

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa said today strikes by his union were at an all-time low and could be reduced further except for "pathetic" lack of communication among labor leaders.

Hoffa told officials in his union, the nation's largest, to consult fully with their colleagues and his office before calling a "go it alone" walkout.

Group to Study Hospital Plan

Will Probe Expansion for Pontiac General

A five-member committee was authorized last night to study plans to expand Pontiac General Hospital.

The hospital's board of trustees approved appointment of the study committee to be made up of three trustees, the hospital administrator and the city manager.

The committee is to study the construction of additional hospital facilities and report back to trustees.

Specifically, the committee will plan expanded emergency and mental health facilities.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac General has a long-standing report, prepared by United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit, recommending expanded rehabilitation and mental health programs.

REPORT GIVEN

The UCS report was submitted Aug. 20, 1964.

In related action, the board heard a long-term recommendation from its planning committee that the hospital should look forward to eventually acquiring all of the property bounded by West Huron, South Johnson, Seminole and Menominee.

★ ★ ★

The recommendation said "considered thought" should be given to the property acquisition when the parcels are for sale.

Goes to Court on Train Issue

Atty. Gen. Frank S. Kelley today asked the U.S. District Court in Detroit to set aside an Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) order which would permit discontinuance next week of two passenger trains.

Kelley has asked for a restraining order to halt discontinuance of Grand Trunk Western Railroad commuter trains 22 and 57.

★ ★ ★

One train (22) runs between Durand and Detroit, while train 57 provides overnight train service between Detroit and its northern suburbs, including Pontiac, and Chicago.

★ ★ ★

The ICC had ordered the trains to be discontinued Monday.

Board Okays OU Leaves, Grant

A $64,250 grant to Oakland University from the Office of Education and five OU sabbatical leaves were approved by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees at yesterday's meeting.

The grant will be used for research on the teaching of reading and related language skills in grades two and three.

It will be administered by Harry T. Hahn, professor of education.

Hahn initiated the research while he was director of instruction for the Oakland Schools, the position he held prior to joining the Oakland University faculty.

★ ★ ★

Taking leave from September 1966 to April 1967 to study in London is John C. Galloway, professor and chairman of the art department. He lives at 3440 Featherstone, Pontiac Township.

TO STUDY IN U.S.

Gertrude M. White of 25860 W. 14 Mile, Franklin, associate professor of English will study in this country. Her leave will be from September to December 1966.

Associate professor of history, Melvin Cherno of 2979 Heidelberg, Avon Township, will study in Germany from September 1966 through Dec. 1966.

Mrs. Helen Kovach of 1257 Dufrain, associate professor of Russian, will be on leave from January 1967 through April 1967 to study in Yugoslavia.

Studying in Rome and Greece will be Howard W. Clarke of 3985 Detroit, West Bloomfield Township, associate professor and acting chairman of the classics department.

★ ★ ★

His leave will be in force from September 1966 through April 1967.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

Congressman Will Speak at GOP Banquet

Congressman William S. Broomfield will be the principal speaker at the annual Lincoln Republican Club banquet in Pontiac next month.

The banquet will be held Feb. 9 at 6:30 p.m. in the Elk's Temple, 114 Orchard Lake, and is open to the public, according to club President Robert L. Templin.

Broomfield, who recently returned from an extended trip to Viet Nam and the Far East, will discuss some of the problems encountered in these troubled areas.

The 18th Congressional District representative is the ranking Republican member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and serves on the Asia, Africa and national security subcommittees.

★ ★ ★

As in past years, the banquet program will feature songs of the Lincoln era and presentation of awards to the winners of the Lincoln Essay Contest annually sponsored by the club.

Tickets for the event can be obtained by contacting Bloomfield Township Treasurer Arno Hulet at the Township Hall, or from directors or members of the club.

School District Lines Appealed

group. The Greater Waterford Community Council also sent a letter to the state body, objecting to the boundary change.

INVOLVES WATERFORD

Tatroe said the issue should involve only Dublin and Walled Lake. However, the annexation as proposed, would also involve Waterford Township residents in the June election.

"A boundary change would only encumber the election," said Tatroe. "We think it unwise to try to change the boundary."

Mrs. Lundquist and others at last night's meeting remarked that the county committee had recommended approval of the merger without boundary alterations Dec. 9, only to change its mind two weeks later.

★ ★ ★

They said that a notice published prior to the Dec. 22 public hearing made no mention of the boundary change as was eventually included in the amendment, passed by a 12-2 vote.

LEGALITY QUESTIONED

This and Waterford Township's inclusion in an election dealing with the issue posed a question of its legality.

Asked why they objected to joining the Walled Lake system, residents cited the following reasons:

- They felt their children receive a better education in the Waterford Township School District.
- The state law, which requires all school districts to have a complete kindergarten-through-12th grade program, does not affect them.
- They are being treated like pawns by Walled Lake school officials.

★ ★ ★

In a former study, planners and a citizens' committee had recommended that the sector be annexed to Dublin in accordance with a master plan for schools.

NO MAIN ROAD

Essentially, the goal is for no elementary school pupil to have to walk across a main thoroughfare.

★ ★ ★

The pupils, in question, cross Williams Lake Road to reach school.

It is expected that word will be received next week on the state committee's action.

Man Critical After Crash

A 22-year-old Ortonville man is in critical condition today in Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car crash last night in Independence Township.

Hospital officials said James D. Hutchings, 191 South, sustained a crushed chest.

The collision occurred on Dixie Highway near M15, according to State Police.

Hutchings reportedly was pulling onto the highway from the parking lot at Howe's Lanes, 6696 Dixie, when his car was struck by a vehicle driven by 27-year-old Maxine M. Rogers of Berkley.

She was treated and released from the hospital.

Junior Miss Competition Is Nearing

Members of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce are putting final touches this week to preparations for Michigan's Junior Miss Pageant, slated to begin next Thursday in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Chairman of the event is Richard L. Jorgenson of 2215 Avondale, Avon Township.

The pageant, at Pontiac Northern High School culminates Jan. 29 with selection of the state's teen-age "leading lady," following a reception Thursday and preliminary competition Friday night.

"Our Junior Miss will be more than just a pretty girl," Jorgenson said.

★ ★ ★

"Our winner will be determined on the basis of scholastic achievement, character, youth fitness, poise, personality and creative abilities."

★ ★ ★

Local representatives among the 32 entries will be Patricia Grisham, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Grisham, 862 South Blvd., Avon Township; and Gayanne Mansfield, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mansfield of 5186 Durham, Waterford Township.

To Stand Trial in 2 Slayings

Ionia Notifies County Woman Due Release

An Addison Township woman, committed to Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane less than four months ago, will be returned to Oakland County to stand trial for first-degree murder in the slaying of her former husband and his wife.

Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn signed an order yesterday afternoon for the release of Mrs. Jane Kendall, 45, of 1480 Noble.

The order followed a notice from A. A. Birzgalis, medical superintendent at Ionia, that Mrs. Kendall has been restored to sanity and was ready for discharge.

Mrs. Kendall was sent to Ionia following an emergency sanity hearing held seven days after being charged with the Oct. 2 fatal shooting of her ex-husband Glen, 45, and his wife, Lucille, 46, of Detroit. The shootings occurred in front of Mrs. Kendall's home.

★ ★ ★

She told sheriff deputies that she shot the Kendalls when they attempted to break into her home to get her daughter, Laurie, 13.

SANITY HEARING

Her conduct while being held in the Oakland County Jail prompted her attorney, Malcolm Sutherland of Detroit, to petition for the sanity hearing.

Two Birmingham psychiatrists, Dr. Edward M. Wisniewski and Dr. Jay Van Zoeren, testified at the hearing before Thorburn that Mrs. Kendall was suffering from acute paranoia.

They said that their examination disclosed that Mrs. Kendall was having delusions that she was a victim of some organized Communist plot.

Mrs. Kendall is expected to be returned to the Oakland County Jail next week by the Sheriff's Department.

attack and killed 46 of the Communists.

EARLIER REPORT

One earlier report had said the Viet Cong used old men, women and children as a shield as they advanced, but the spokesmen said the Viet Cong had put local guerrillas in front. He said there were no civilian casualties.

Two U.S. Air Force Fighter-bombers buzzed the area but were unable to unload their explosives, apparently because of the close nature of the fighting.

The Koreans and Viet Cong at times grappled hand to hand, a spokesman said.

From Hanoi came warnings of harder Communist attacks after the Tet celebration ends Sunday.

Hanoi Radio broadcast a New Year's message from the Viet Cong saying: "Let our people march forward to continually strike deadly blows at the U.S. aggressors and disintegrate many puppet troops and win greater victories."

Prize-Winning Church to Be Dedicated Sunday

BIRMINGHAM — The award-winning edifice constructed for Our Shepherd Lutheran Church will be dedicated in two services Sunday.

Ceremonies are scheduled for 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the church, 2225 E. 14 Mile.

Designed by Glen Paulsen and Associates of Bloomfield Hills, the structure earned an award of merit for "excellence in religious architecture" from the American Society for Church Architecture.

The architects for the church also designed the American Embassy Building in Brussels and the Shapero Hall of Pharmacy at Wayne State University.

★ ★ ★

The sanctuary portion of the building has a 70-foot-high wall from which the roof slopes sharply down to a long, low adjacent wing.

ORGAN DESIGN

A 36-rank organ built by Casavant Freres Ltd. of St. Hyancynthe, Que., was designed to fit the sloping form of the ceiling in the sanctuary.

Contractor for the building was William Demske and Son of Detroit.

Speaker for the 10 a.m. service Sunday will be Dr. E. T. Bernthal, mission director of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Paul Streufart, third vice president of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, will speak at the 4 p.m. service.

WILL OFFICIATE

Officiating at both services will be Rev. Howard G. Allwardt, pastor of Our Shepherd congregation since it was formed in 1949, and Rev. Frank Kauth, assistant pastor.

Director of Music E. O. Bredehoeft plans special festival music for both services.

The congregation has more than 1,200 members and 600 Sunday school children.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Cranbrook Institute of Science tomorrow will begin a new course to teach junior high school pupils about amphibians and reptiles.

Emphasizing animals found in Michigan, the course will include nine sessions at Cranbrook and one field trip.

The 9-11 a.m. class will be taught by herpteologist James A. Fowler.

12-Finger Dilemma Is Solved by Police

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Burglary suspect Willaim A. Jenkins, 19, of suburban Bonita, posed a unique problem yesterday for police, he has 12 fingers.

Police fingerprint cards have 10 squares for 10 fingerprints. Officers solved the dilemma by stapling two small pieces of paper to the fingerprint card.

County Jail Feels the 'Pinch'

ers in a cell is a maximum," Hazen said.

"That way, if you've got a couple troublemakers, or even more, you can spread them out over a number of cells and avoid trouble.

★ ★ ★

"Here we're forced to put as many as 32 men into our 'bullpen' upstairs where they're kept for most of the day, including meals.

'UGLY SITUATION'

"If anything should break out in there, we'd have a real ugly situation on our hands."

In spite of the growing space restrictions, the Oakland County Jail has been continuously certified for detention of federal prisoners since its construction.

The jail is designated for initial imprisonment of all persons charged with felonies in the county.

Felony sentences of one year or less are served in the jail, as are misdemeanor convictions from throughout the county.

★ ★ ★

Sentences of more than one year are served in the Southern Michigan State Prison at Jackson.

ROYAL OAK JAIL

The load of misdemeanor con-

The load of misdemeanor convictions is eased somewhat by the Royal Oak city jail, which handles an average of eight to ten prisoners each day.

Use of the city of Pontiac's empty lockup would also help releive the burden on the county jail.

The city, however, has given no indication of appropriating funds for operation of the cell block at the police department.

★ ★ ★

In addition, relief provided by housing Pontiac prisoners in the city jail would probably not be significant enough to forestall what Irons feels will be an eventual need for a modernized county facility.

CALLED OBSOLETE

"This is a well-built structure," he said, "but everything's obsolete."

"The facilities need constant repair and, with our limited cell capacity, we've got to watch our prisoners every minute they're here."

Maximum security for jail prisoners and a judicious allowance for continued growth in the county population, as Irons sees it, call for a jail built to house about 500 inmates.

★ ★ ★

"If they build one, it should be out around the county center," the sheriff said. "This would save us man-hours every day which we need to transport prisoners from the jail to court appearances."

NO MONOPOLY

Inmates have no monopoly on the space shortage which plagues the jail.

Almost everyone in the department works in cramped conditions, despite transfer of the civil division and driver-licensing facilities to the old county courthouse.

Undersheriff Donald M. Francis, who processes from 20 to 50 official complaints each day, now works in the same small room with a clerk, a bulky copying machine and two rows of filing cabinets.

Deputies, the uniformed men who form the county's front line of law enforcement, are housed in a shed-size garage at the rear of the jail.

TINY CUBICLES

Detectives in the criminal division question suspects and make out investigative reports in tiny cubicles with temporary walls.

But they're all one up on liquor inspector John A. Davis.

Davis doesn't have a desk of his own and is frequently forced to do paperwork on the top of a filing cabinet.

Clarkston Skiers Go North

By CATHY RICHARDSON

Thirty members of Clarkston High School's Ski Club will leave late this afternoon for a ski trip to the northern Lower Peninsula.

Chaperones for the trip will include Roger Thompson, Ski Club sponsor and business teacher, and William Mackson, science teacher.

Over the weekend, the students will lodge at Wolverine Sports Camp in Wolverine, Michigan.

They will ski at Thunder Mountain and Boyne Highland's Ski Resort, planning to return by bus late Sunday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

In honor of the ski trip, the sophomore class has entitled its dance "Sophomore Chalet."

It will be held in the high school cafeteria after the home game this evening.

Ski clothes will be the accepted apparel for the dance.

Gary Fuller, Pam Gillis, Neal Mansfield, and Dan Williams have been chosen to be the first-chair leaders for their respective instrumental sections in the 1966 Wayne-Oakland County League Band.

Others who succeeded in the tryouts, held at Holly High School, were Mark Cowen, Jack Frost, Cindy Glavach, Terry Klein, Patti Mulcrone, Brenda Shaw, Russ Simonson, John White and Eric Wooley.

Class of 1969 will sponsor a party in the gym from 7 to 9 p.m. on Jan. 27. It will be open to freshmen only.

New Exchange Students Arrive at Walled Lake

By RON MOORHEAD

This month Walled Lake High School welcomes three new exchange students, bringing the number of exchange students to eight this year.

Tony Olivero and Gilbert Barbosa are from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Tony is the guest of the W. M. Duckwitzes and Gilbert is living with the A. W. Steckllings, both families are from Orchard Lake.

Walled Lake's newest exchange student is Geja Barens. Geja, from Amsterdam, Holland, arrived in Walled Lake Monday.

Gilbert and Tony have been to Detroit to shop for warm clothing. When they left home, the temperature was 102 degrees, so they weren't prepared for such cold weather.

St. Frederick Students in Cleanup Role

By ERNESTINE MOORE

Students and teachers at St. Frederick's High School took today's assembly time to organize materials and records so that the second semester would find everything in order.

No one realized upon cleaning out desks that they had acquired so many articles not belonging to them.

The teacher, trying to get records brought up to date, soon had no work space for students considered her desk the perfect place for a lost and found depot.

So now, the 'usually neat' desk in front of the room is the eyesore of the class.

With the first semester gradually slipping into history, students and teachers delved into work.

Family electrical use raised a kilowatt or two as the midnight oil, not the television, burned.

Even the atmosphere around school changed. Study halls were now STUDY halls.

As teachers reviewed first semester work, considerable notes were hurriedly taken by students.

Students are somewhat blessed this year as teachers have a choice of giving semester exams either this week or next.

Dominican Experiment

Democracy Uncertain

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Four years ago this month, Dominicans launched their first experiment in democracy after 31 years of dictatorship.

Three governments later, they are still experimenting. The shadows of doubt are beginning to lengthen on the latest effort: a provisional government overburdened with unsolved and half-solved problems and indecisive leadership.

★ ★ ★

Rafael Leonidas Trujillo's dynasty came crashing down Jan. 17, 1962, when its caretaker, Dr. Joaquin Balaguer, was deposed. He was removed by Gen. Rafael Rodriguez Echievarria, a politically ambitious office, once Balaguer's champion, who installed a civilian- military junta that lasted one day.

★ ★ ★

A new Council of State, finally freed of the last vestiges of Trujillo's yoke, took over under the leadership of Rafael Bonnelly on Jan. 19.

Today's provisional regime, created by the Organization of American States five months ago, is a direct result of the trials and errors in government that have plagued the country.

TOO ABRUPT

Looking back, Dominican historians seem convinced the transition from dictatorship to democracy in 1962 was too abrupt, that only a breathing spell of more than a year could have tempered the spasms of antagonism.

These historians are no less convinced now that the 9-month life dictated for the provisional government was a product of an equally hasty undervaluation of the forces in contention—and that the results may be the same.

★ ★ ★

The feeling is increasing among many Dominicans and foreigners that the complex nature of the basic Dominican problem and the bleak prospects for even an interim settlement have sharply reduced the chances of promised elections in June.

★ ★ ★

There also are doubts the government can survive an intensification of the continuing crisis, such as took place this month when the army defied a presidential order, arousing minor but potentially explosive violence among a segment of the population. It has been learned that President Hector Garcia-Godoy was on the verge of giving it all up during this blow-up.

IDENTICAL CONDITIONS

To some Dominicans, conditions now are identical, if not worse, to those that spawned the April revolution: rising unemployment, increasing political instability and deep-rooted fears of an extreme right-wing dictatorship backed by the army.

The nearly $100 million injected into the local economy since April 25 by the Alliance for Progress has hardly made a dent in the jobless ranks. This is because no less than $77 million went into salaries and back wages. Few job-giving public works projects are under way. Sugar mills soon will go into their seasonal period of inactivity, throwing more people out of work.

★ ★ ★

The consensus is that removal of top Dominican army officers will not solve a fundamental problem. The Military establishment is not expected to accept the results of the June elections if that means the restoration of Juan Bosch or his Dominican Revolutionary party to power.

The army contends that this may open the door to Cuban-style extremism. On the other hand, left-wing extremists and nationalists are not expected to take lightly to the defeat of the party.

MORE CRITICISM

Failure of the inter-American peace force to act more vigorously against the army's seizure of a government radio station at one stage this month aroused much criticism in the city. This has given rise to a feeling, particularly among left-wing moderates, that the peace force would act cautiously and reluctantly, if at all, against the Dominican military, if that became necessary in the future.

★ ★ ★

The politically adverse reaction this would produce among other Latin-American armed forces seems to be a heavy factor.

The worst damage to the country as a whole as a result of the strife, economists believe, is the frightening away, perhaps for many years, of local and foreign investors.

"Anyone thinking in terms of investing in this country on other than quick-profit, short-range schemes has a hole in his head," said a banker.

'Astronauts Will Talk Through Their Hats'

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Future spacemen will be talking through their hats, says an electric firm. Tiny communications systems, developed by Westinghouse will be built into astronaut's helmets.

The two-way radio units, called transceivers, will be self-contained and allow astronauts to move about freely in the spacecraft without any connecting wires. The system also contains an audio control center which would relay messages from astronauts outside the spacecraft.

Freeway Exit Danger Cited

WASHINGTON—Don't be too ready to breathe a sigh of relief as you are about to leave a traffic-congested freeway. There is a higher accident rate on the off-ramps than on the on-ramps, a study has now shown.

After counting crack-ups for three years on 722 freeway ramps, investigators from the highway division of the California Department of Public Works found that there were over 6 per cent more accidents going off than were coming on.

About two billion cars had 1,643 accidents on the ramps during the three years, reported Richard A. Lundy and Helen Adachi to a meeting of the Highway Research Board here.

The off-ramp rate was 0.95 accidents per million vehicles, compared with only 0.59 accidents per million cars entering the freeways.

Guard rails, sign supports, lamp posts and other miscellaneous freeway accessories suffered in 28 per cent of the accidents, both on and off. About two-thirds of all such objects are clustered around the ramp areas.

Single-car crack-ups rather than multicar collisions account for most of the rate difference between entering and exiting traffic.

Samarkand Remains City of Fabled Lore

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In the fabled land of Genghis Khan and Tamerlane lies the ancient city of Samarkand, now deep behind the Iron Curtain and seldom visited by tourists. The following description of the city is written by a UPI correspondent who visited there after covering the India-Pakistan meeting at Tashkent.)

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press International

SAMARKAND, Soviet Central Asia — The Soviets are doing their best to see that Samarkand stays a fairy tale.

Authorities are trying to preserve the neglected palaces and mosques of this fabled city.

Scaffoldings surround mosques where workers apply cement on new tiles to match the old mosaics that have been flaking off the minarets.

Uzbeks in blue work coveralls plunge shovels into tombs amidst clouds of ancient dust, and archeologists carefully unearth ancient walls.

★ ★ ★

To a traveler, the ruins of Samarkand and Bukhara are a rare sight. Relatively few foreigners have viewed the beauties of the cities once ruled by Alexander the Great, Genghis Khan and Tamerlane.

LONE TOURISTS

Recently, a half-dozen western correspondents who had been covering the Indo-Pakistan Tashkent conference were the only foreign tourists in all of eastern Uzbekistan.

The Soviet Union realizes the attractiveness of the ruins and the need to preserve them for posterity.

The government has allotted Bukhara and Khiva, smaller and older cities to the east, a yearly grant of $231,000 in an effort to save the old mosques almost completely shorn of their tiles because of centuries of neglect.

★ ★ ★

INDEFFERENCE

But some experts assert the new tiles do not compare with the old and that Tamerlane's green marble tomb has been repaired indifferently.

Workers are attacking with shovels the floor of one of the numerous crypts in the Sha Iz Inda mausoleum, or "Mausoleum of Living Kings," to search for tombs.

The sher dor (meaning decorated with lions) section of the block-square 17th century Moslem religious school was restored partially in 1955-56, and work is continuing.

★ ★ ★

Recently, one minaret that was bending dangerously was straightened by yanking it back into place with ropes.

SEVERE LISTS

Other minarets in the complex of buildings where Moslem religious leaders once were trained are still listing precariously.

Most of the tile-covered palaces and mosques were built by the conqueror Tamerlane (Timur the Lame) in the 14th century. He wanted to make Samarkand the capital of Asia and imported 91 elephants from India to bring stones to this desert oasis.

In Tourist (the Soviet travel office) guides say efforts will be made soon to restore the palace of Tamerlane's wife, Bibi Hanum, a Chinese princess.

★ ★ ★

The palace, surrounded now by modern buildings, even in ruins is an awesome sight with its crumbling columns, glittering with incredibly blue mosaics.

YOUNG MONUMENTS

The monuments of central Asia are young, as monuments go, but have fallen into ruins because of long neglect and also because they were not constructed well in the first place.

As the Soviet government has a policy of atheism, they are being restored as works of art, to serve as museums, not to support the Moslem religion, just as some of the old Russian Orthodox churches are being preserved.

In Bukhara, Lenin's picture draped with red flags decorates the entrance of one old unused mosque. The big Muslim school under restoration in Samarkand no longer is used.

★ ★ ★

There is only one school in the Uzbek Republic to train religious leaders, and that is a small institute in Bukhara with 18 pupils.

SINGLE MOSQUE

Bukhara (population 95,000) has one mosque used for religious services. Samarkand (220,000) also has only one mosque in use.

The old city wall of Bukhara, where camel caravans once plodded through a huge wooden gate, is used for a Soviet message. The old prison inside the gate has wax figures in the cells to illustrate the cruelty of the old emirs (local rulers).

A nearby museum exhibits the emir's rich robes next to tattered rags worn by the common people of pre-Bolshevik times to illustrate the better condition of the Soviet man.

★ ★ ★

These ancient cities are exciting to a tourist, not just for the ruins, but also because of their oriental air.
