TERRY JO DUPERRAULT

'I Think She'll Make It'

Youngster Alive After 3½ Days on Raft

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Julian Harvey, captain of the ketch Blue Belle which sank in the Atlantic Ocean Sunday with the apparent loss of five lives, killed himself in a motel room here today.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Pretty, flaxen-haired Terry Jo Dupperrault, who drifted for 3½ days aboard a life raft in the Atlantic, was in critical condition today but her physician said "I think she will make it."

A spokesman at Mercy Hospital said Terry Jo, 11, was drowsy and there had been little change in her condition since the Green Bay, Wis., child was brought in by Coast Guard helicopter Thursday.

She had clung to a white cork raft, riding a sea made choppy by 16-mile-an-hour winds, since Sunday night. Her feet were shriveled from long exposure to the salt water and her skin was colored a deep pink from the sun. Her lips appeared to have been painted.

She wore pink corduroy slacks and a white blouse with three-quarter length sleeves.

Terry Jo previously had been reported lost with four others, including her parents and a brother, when a chartered ketch, the Blue Belle, went down in a sudden squall 50 miles northwest of Nassau, Bahamas.

But at 11:17 a.m. Thursday a message came from a merchant ship, the Captain Theo, saying a child had been picked up from a life raft. The skipper, named Couthodontis, requested medical advice from the Coast Guard.

The child was given a small amount of water and orange juice and was put to bed while a Coast Guard helicopter flew to meet the freighter 285 miles off Miami. The Captain Theo is en route to Texas ports.

The copter was unable to land on the freighter and lifted the child in a basket. She awoke briefly.

"She went right back to sleep when we put her inside the copter and didn't say a thing," said Lt. Cmdr. Robert Pope, the pilot.

Dr. Franklyn Verdon said Terry Jo was suffering from exposure, loss of fluid, a heart beating too fast because of shock, and the threat of pneumonia.

JFK, Johnson Honorary Pallbearers

Mourners View Mr. Sam

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Hundreds paid their respects to House Speaker Sam Rayburn today, filing through the library named for him where his body lies in state.

Rayburn died of cancer yesterday at 7:20 a.m. (Pontiac time) in modest Risser Hospital here.

The speaker was dressed today in a dark blue suit. His loss of weight from the ravages of the disease was evident.

Among the honorary pallbearers will be President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon Johnson, both of whom will attend the funeral set for 2:30 p.m. (Pontiac time) Saturday.

The service will be in Bonham's First Baptist Church.

McCORMACK ARRIVES

Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., the man most likely to succeed Rayburn as speaker, arrived in Dallas Thursday night and was due here today.

He has designated 105 members of Congress who will fly to Bonham for the funeral of "Mr. Democrat." They include all members of the Texas delegation and the senior members, Republican and Democrat, from each state.

"Mr. Sam is gone," the banner headline in the Bonham Favorite read. "Goodbye, Mr. Sam," said the Herald in neighboring Denison, "Farewell to a great American."

And so it was all over the Fourth Congressional District of Texas, which Rayburn represented just short of a half century, and over the nation.

The funeral service will be heard by about 1,000 people in the 700-seat brick and stained glass church. Rayburn's top administrative assistant, John Holton, said room would be provided for the extra 300 persons.

JOHNSONS ARRIVE—Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson walk away from a helicopter that has just set them down in a field next to the Sam Rayburn home in Bonham, Tex., Thursday. Johnson was one of the first government officials to arrive for the Saturday funeral and to pay respects to the family of the House speaker who died of cancer in a Bonham hospital.

U.S. to Be Firm but Take Part in Negotiations

JFK in Seattle Speech Says He Can't Preach War OR Surrender

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — President Kennedy says the United States must be willing to negotiate Cold War issues from a position of strength.

To preach either war or surrender, he says, does a disservice to the nation.

As the Western Allies, including West Germany, renew efforts to unify their stand toward the Soviet Union, Kennedy Thursday made clear these views:

To encourage "appeasement or war, suicide or surrender" will divide the nation, create uncertainty among Allies and inspire doubt in the Communist bloc of the West's readiness to defend its rights.

"The United States cannot impose its will on others," he said. "There cannot be an American solution for every world problem."

MUST TAKE PART

The United States will never negotiate merely for the sake of negotiation, nor will it ever subject freedom to negotiation. But so long as vital interests and goals are clear, "we have nothing to fear from negotiations at the appropriate time and nothing to gain by refusing to play a part in them."

Talking out East-West disputes will succeed only if each side can find success in the result. In ef-

REPORT ON CONGO—Maj. Gen. Sean McKeown (left), commander of the United Nations Congo force, and Conor Cruise O'Brien, chief U.N. representative in Katanga, walk from a plane at Idlewild Airport on their arrival in New York Thursday to report to the U.N. on the Congo crisis. They reported to acting Secretary General U Thant.

U Thant Calls In Advisers on Adding to Congo Force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary General U Thant summoned his top Congo advisers into private session today to hear recommendations from the U.N. military commander in the Congo that his forces be strengthened to cope with mounting violence.

U Thant conferred with his Congo advisory committee amid anger at U.N. headquarters over the brutal slaying of 13 Italian airmen of the U.N. Command by mutinous Congolese soldiers in Kivu Province.

Present were Maj. Gen. Sean McKeown, commander of the U.N. Congo force, and Conor Cruise O'Brien, chief U.N. representative in Katanga. They were ordered here to brief U Thant on the grave situation.

The advisory committee is made up of countries which have contributed men to the U.N. force. Presumably they would be the first to be asked for additional reinforcements.

McKeown said on arrival Thursday the U.N. needs more men and equipment to deal with the mounting crisis. He added that those responsible for the slayings would have to be apprehended but that this would be difficult since Congolese officers have little control over their troops.

Will Attempt to Quell Gizenga-Incited Mutiny

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations sped Malayan troops to Kindu today to pen up Congolese army butchers of 13 Italian U.N. airmen for punishment.

Planeloads of blue-helmeted Malayans were flown to the Lualaba River port in Kivu province with orders to encircle and disarm the killers and others in a force of 1,000 reportedly incited to mutiny by the Congo's Lumumbist vice premiere, Antoine Gizenga.

About 80 of the drunken and undisciplined soldiery — undeterred by a 200-man Malayan contingent on duty at the Kindu Airfield — shot and cut up the Italians near the town prison Saturday.

Cries of "They are Flemish Belgians" accompanied the massacre. Parts of the bodies were tossed to excited spectators.

DEMAND ARREST

The U.N. organization in the Congo, headed by Sture Linner of Sweden, demanded immediate arrest of the Congolese commander at Kindu (who disavowed responsibility by declaring "you know how soldiers are") and establishment of a U.N.-Congolese commission to seek out "the remaining culprits."

In a report to New York, Linner said all resources of the U.N. Congo command would be used to disarm the Congolese, seal off the Kindu area and round up all suspects.

"Pieces of the bodies were distributed to the large crowd that gathered to watch the massacre," Linner said, "and some parts of the bodies were also flung at non-Congolese who were present.

"Two mutilated bodies were dragged through the main streets of Kindu and exhibited. All the remains of the bodies were then thrown into the river."

U.N. spokesman George Ivan Smith said the U.N. handed a letter to Premier Cyrille Adoula insisting on punitive action.

Italian Chamber in Uproar Over Killings in Congo

ROME (AP) — Communist deputies angrily stalked out of a stormy Chamber of Deputies session today after hearing world Communism blamed for the slaying of 13 Italian airmen assigned to U.N. forces in the Congo.

Hot words were exchanged by Communist, Christian Democrat and Italian Social Movement (Fascist) deputies. The Communists stood up and screamed. Ushers stepped into the center of the chamber to prevent fisticuffs.

The outbreak came after Carlo Russo, foreign undersecretary, announced that the Italian government has asked the United Nations to punish Congo soldiers responsible for the slayings in Kivu Province last Saturday.

He said Italy also had demanded guarantees for the safety of Italians still in the Congo.

Area Home Hit by Blast, Blaze

Fire Officials Estimate $20,000 in Damages at Bloomfield Twp. House

Hainline is general director of public relations and advertising for General Motors' Fisher Body Division.

The fire was discovered in the connecting car garage about 4:30 a.m. by Hainline when he woke up and smelled something burning, according to firemen.

Shortly after Hainline detected the fire and removed his wife and their two daughters from danger, the gas tank in his car exploded bursting a natural gas main.

Fed by the gas, the fire caused considerable damage to a kitchen, dining room and the attic before Bloomfield Township and Troy firemen were able to control it.

Damage was estimated by firemen at $15,000 to the $50,000 home and $5,000 to the contents.

Echo to Pass Twice

A real treat is in store for gasbag buffs tonight. The Echo I balloon will do a double take. At 5:15 it will float high across the northern sky heading northeast. Then at 7:18 it will be moving southeast, also in the north.

Leaders Hear Plans for Boosting Sales

Downtown Pontiac businessmen, city commissioners and administrators were shown last night how they could increase downtown retail sales by $10 million per year by 1980.

Consultants and developers of the Central Business District Redevelopment Plan outlined a "progress report" before civic leaders at the Waldron Hotel.

The $40,000 plan, for which the city and merchants group each paid $20,000, should be completed on paper in two or three months, said Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

In essence, the CBD plan takes traffic movement recommendations, urban renewal, and Clinton River improvement, puts them all together and adds one new factor—land use.

One feature which seems destined to be recommended in the final plan is an "interior loop road" inside the proposed perimeter highway.

OPPOSITE CIRCULATION

Traffic on the perimeter road would travel counterclockwise. Vehicles would travel clockwise on this interior loop.

It would act as an "interior circulator for downtown traffic only," explained Michael Powills, representing Barton-Aschman Associates, who produced the Barton Traffic Study for Pontiac.

This could be formed by Perry Street on the east, Pike on the south, Wayne Street (extended to Pike) on the west and Lafayette (extended east to Perry) on the north.

Drop Into 20s Will Be Quick Trip This Time

A few snow flurries may hit the Pontiac area tonight with the low near 28, but the weatherman says rising temperatures will warm our bones Saturday through Monday or Tuesday.

For the next five days high temperatures will range in the upper 40s and the low will be near 32 to 35. Tuesday or Wednesday temperatures will drop again.

Morning northwesterly winds will become west to northwesterly at 15 to 25 m.p.h. late today and diminish a little tonight.

Thirty-six was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 37.

White Lake Man Suing Officer

Asks $150,000; Lost Eye Following Scuffle With Patrolman

A $150,000 lawsuit has been started in Oakland County Circuit Court against a Ferndale patrolman who has admitted striking a White Lake Township man being arrested for drunken driving.

The left eye of Robert H. Hickey, 22, of 9245 Half Acre Road, was removed last Saturday as a result, Hickey alleges.

The attorney for Hickey, Benjamin B. Tower, filed the preliminary legal papers at the courthouse and a notice was issued for Patrolman Patrick T. Sullivan, 27.

No declaration listing the specific grievances against Sullivan was filed. Tower has 15 days in which to file.

William R. Beasley, Ferndale city attorney, said he had learned that a second suit possibly will be filed against the city.

Hickey, a construction worker discharged from the Army in June, is still in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital under observation.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor conducted an investigation of the Nov. 5 incident in the Ferndale police station and concluded it when Hickey refused to make a statement on advice of Tower.

Sullivan, a five-year veteran on the force, told Taylor he struck Hickey in the face about four times after Hickey first struck him. The scuffle took place, Sullivan said, when Hickey refused to surrender his wallet when he was being booked at the station on a charge of drunken driving.

INTERNATIONAL VIEWS — Russia's Valerian Zorin (left), Adlai Stevenson of the United States (center) and the Congo's Justin Bomkoko speak on the Congolese crisis during Thursday's U.N. Security Council session. Speeches followed the denouncement by acting Secretary General U. Thant of the slaying of 13 Italian airmen by Congolese soldiers.

Pravda in Moscow Prints Taboo Speech

MOSCOW (AP)—An attack on the Chinese Communists by Palmiro Togliatti, leader of the Italian Communist party, and his sympathetic words toward Yugoslavia have been reprinted in Pravda, the Communist party paper.

Criticism of the Chinese leaders almost never gets into print here because of the Kremlin's desire to avoid disclosing to Russians that there is divided opinion in the Communist camp.

Togliatti, in an address to a party meeting in Italy, discussed Premier Khrushchev's accusations at the recent Soviet party congress that Albania's Communist leaders were Stalinist.

Thursday's edition of Pravda quoted Togliatti as saying Albania "should be forgiven neither the violation of standards of democratic centralism nor relations with the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries. We consider erroneous and incorrect what is being done by the Albanian Communists who are partly supported by the Chinese."

He also said "it would be erroneous to treat Yugoslavia and its regime as if they were enemies."

Further developments may show whether the Soviet Union is now going to range itself in some measure alongside Yugoslavia's President Tito, long accused of being a revisionist.

Soviet and Yugoslav leaders have something in common in that the Chinese criticism of Soviet policies is exceeded only by unrelenting attacks on Yugoslavia.

Gusts Force Ships to Anchor

Level of Detroit River Drops 3 Feet Before 50-M.P.H. Winds

By The Associated Press

Colder weather blew into Michigan today on strong winds in some areas.

Gusts of up to 50 miles an hour caused a three-foot drop in the water levels of the Detroit River, forcing four Great Lakes freighters to anchor. The water was blown into Lake Erie.

Snow fell in the Upper Peninsula, including six inches at Iron Mountain. The Weather Bureau reported four inches at Marquette Airport; and three inches at Kincheloe Air Force Base.

NATION LASHED

The first heavy snowstorm of the season which hit the Midwest region Thursday moved northeastward and was centered over the Georgian Bay area of Lake Huron.

Snows tapered off in most western and Midwest areas but it was cold in most sections. Snow falls also measured about six inches in Minnesota, and four inches in Iowa and Wisconsin. Damaging rains preceded the snow in some areas.

Temperatures dropped to zero and lower in some sections of Wyoming this morning.

U Thant denounced the slaying of the 13 airmen as an outrageous crime and ordered the U.N. Congo command to make sure all responsible get the punishment they deserve.

WAVE OF REVULSION

The murder sent a wave of revulsion through U.N. headquarters as details were disclosed in a report from Sture Linner, chief U.N. officer in the Congo.

Linner said the Italians were beaten and shot, then cut to pieces and parts of their dismembered bodies distributed to a crowd in the Kivu Province town of Kindu.

There were expressions of outrage from the United States, Britain, France and other members of the Security Council which met to discuss the mounting crisis in the breakaway province of Katanga.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the council the "revolting murder" pointed up the need for U.N. action against the ominous force of about 1,000 believed led by leftist leader Antoine Gizenga.

Test Wins New Post for School Worker

Lewis Horner, a veteran boiler engineer at Wisner School, has won promotion after leading in the civil service test he didn't want to take.

Horner was named assistant engineer at Northern High, according to Supt. Dana P. Whitmer, who had contended Horner and a fireman were so close in qualifications that the tests were needed.

Local 719 of Public Employes Council 77 had argued the tests would be in violation of a district policy stating "seniority shall be applied" in promotions of qualified employes.

The school board had ruled in favor of the tests.

Workers Find Two Skeletons Near Woodward

The skeletons of two persons were uncovered by Detroit Edison workers installing a new traffic light at the Quarton Road-Woodward Avenue intersection on the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills border line, Pontiac state police reported today.

Pathologist Dr. Richard Olsen of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital said the bones found Wednesday are over 196 years old and apparently are those of a young American Indian couple.

The work crew was digging to reach cables under the parkway separating north and southbound traffic lanes when the discovery was made.

12-Towns Drain Clogged Again

Ecorse Co. Sues to Halt $1.3 Million Contract to Detroit Competitor

The 12-Towns storm drain is back in court again.

This time an Ecorse construction firm has sued to try to stop a competing Detroit construction company from being awarded a $1.3 million contract for a section of the drain.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer has set a hearing for Nov. 27. He refused to issue a temporary restraining order, asked by the Ecorse firm, when the suit was filed in Circuit Court yesterday.

The Mole Construction Co., Inc., and its president, Lou DeMarco, allege that the three-member drainage board was wrong in awarding a $1,372,401 contract to the Greenfield Construction Co. on Nov. 1 because Greenfield's bid did not conform with the specifications submitted prior to bidding on the project.

Their bid did not include construction of a manhole, the suit said.

The drainage board erred further, the suit said, by allowing Greenfield to submit a supplemental $2,000 bid to include the missing item.

Because Greenfield omitted costs for constructing the manhole in its initial bid on Sept. 26, the Mole Construction Co. should have been declared the low bidder and awarded the contract, the company said.

LOWER ANYWAY

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry said Greenfield's total bid was still $17,594 lower than Mole's. He said Greenfield "inadvertently" left out the manhole item.

Greenfield received four contracts, including the protested one, totaling $7,261,410 to construct part of the $39 million drain in Southern Oakland County.

Attorneys for the Mole company will ask Judge Beer to set aside the contract to Greenfield and decree Mole the low bidder.

Snarled for years in the Circuit and the State Supreme Courts over the legality of assessments, drain officials thought they were on their way to taking bids on Dec. 6 for bonds to finance the long-awaited storm drain.

Barry didn't care to speculate on what effect the latest legal action might have on the project, due for construction in February.

Cutter Towing Yacht to Buffalo

Four Spend Night Adrift in Lake Erie Storm; All Reported Safe

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A Coast Guard cutter took a disabled yacht in tow today and headed toward Buffalo after the two men and two women aboard the yacht had spent the night adrift in a Lake Erie gale.

The crew of a Canadian freighter, the Portadoc, which had been standing by, told the Associated Press by telephone that all aboard the yacht Rowdy were safe.

The 110-foot cutter Ojibwa was expected to reach Buffalo with the yacht around noon.

The names of those aboard the yacht and the vessel's registry were not determined.

In another report by radio telephone, Capt. Homer Ditzel of Bay Village, Ohio, who was aboard the American Ship Manafa told the Associated Press the Rowdy's owner had said she was in "hulk shape."

"He said she had water up over the floor boards and was adrift," the captain reported.

"We've got west-southwest winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour now and the waves still are 25 feet high," Ditzel said.

U.S. Restricts Troop Flights

McNamara Issues Order in Wake of Air Crash Killing 74 Recruits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara ordered today that all supplemental airlines must obtain an okay from the Military Air Transport Service before they may be used to fly troops around the country.

McNamara acted in the wake of the Nov. 8 crash in which 74 Army recruits were killed when an Imperial Airlines Constellation crashed near Richmond, Va. Imperial is a supplemental airline.

The requirement that the Military Air Transport Service must approve nonscheduled airlines used for troop movements previously applied only to overseas flights.

At a wide-ranging news conference, McNamara also said the question of a NATO nuclear force would be discussed with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer when he visits Washington next week.

He said deliveries of military equipment to South Viet Nam have been accelerated recently because of the "ruthless campaign" North Vietnamese guerrillas are waging there.

PLEDGES U.S. EFFORTS—Academically robed in the crimson and black colors of Harvard, President Kennedy pledged the United States Thursday to a determined effort to keep other nations from slipping into neutrality or communism in the long struggle ahead for peace with freedom in a speech delivered at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Although the French and others may see weakness in taking the initiative in bargaining with Moscow, "this nation can not abdicate to its adversaries," the setting and conditions of negotiations.

Kennedy, accused by some of failing to marshal public support for Western aims, set forth these warnings and objectives at the outset of a Western tour.

Dressed in an academic robe, he addressed 11,000 faculty members, students and guests at the University of Washington's 100th anniversary convocation.

Earlier, Kennedy received a hearty welcome from thousands on the streets of Seattle, major city in a state which went for ex-Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 election. Later, he was applauded lustily by some 3,000 Democrats who spread over four hotel ballrooms and into a restaurant across the street for a $100-a-plate dinner honoring Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash. Magnuson has completed 25 years in Congress.

BIG WELCOME

The Seattle reception was larger and louder than Kennedy received as a candidate last year. It encouraged his effort to bolster Magnuson's bid for re-election in 1962.

In a switch of plans, Kennedy will forgo a Navy-Marine exercise at San Diego Saturday and attend the funeral of House Speaker Sam Rayburn at Bonham, Tex. That night he addresses a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Los Angeles.

The Day in Birmingham

Library Village Contract Awaits Formal Signing

BIRMINGHAM — Beverly Hills officials are expected to sign a contract next week with the Baldwin Public Library that would provide village residents with the same services furnished Birmingham residents.

The contract already has been approved by village officials and members of the library board. It needs only to be signed.

Agreement has been reached that a flat charge of $4,753 would be paid by the village for the period Dec. 1 to July 1, 1962, when the first fiscal year under the contract begins.

Each year thereafter the library would take counts of circulation and reference use of the library by Beverly Hills residents to determine the "percentage of use."

The figure would then be applied to the library's current annual operating cost in calculating the annual payment.

1ST APPROACHED

Beverly Hills is the first area community to be approached by the library in hopes of establishing a community library, thus eventually terminating nonresident fees.

The library board already has announced it will abolish the fee system for nonresidents by July 1964.

Virgil Fox, one of the country's most noted concert organists, will present the second recital of the St. James Concert Series at 8:15 p.m. Nov. 28 at the Episcopal church here.

Retiring in 1941, he was director of the Matthews Co., a firm which compiled and provided data to the dairy industry. He was instrumental in initiating legislation for the purification of dairy products in many states.

He was a charter member of the American Society of Bacteriology and the American Public Health Association, besides being a member of the American Dairy Science Association and a Fellow of the Royal Institute of Health in England.

A Mason for 60 years, he belonged to the Henry S. Baird Lodge 211 F&AM, Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

Surviving are his wife, Jessica; a son, Gordon; three daughters, Mrs. Helen Holscher, Mrs. Esther Patrick and Mrs. Ruth Kasdorf; a stepson, Trevor W. Hay; and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Rodney Lockwood.

Mrs. John L. Tracy

Service for Mrs. John L. (Mildred) Tracy, 64, of 359 Merrill St., will be 3:30 p.m. Monday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

A resident of Birmingham for 45 years, Mrs. Tracy died yesterday at the Detroit Osteopathic Hospital after a short illness.

Minute of Silence at Con-Con Pays Rayburn Tribute

Constitutional Convention delegates stood in silence for a minute yesterday in tribute to the late Sam Rayburn, veteran speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives who died yesterday of cancer.

Layman Reports After Foreign Tour

'Church Dissension Distorts U.S. Image'

By JULES LOH

NEW YORK (AP) — Dissension among religious groups in the United States has given many foreign churchmen a distorted picture of our country, a prominent American layman reports after a two-month tour abroad.

Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will report his findings in detail Monday at the NCCJ annual meeting in Washington.

"Misunderstanding of the U.S. conception of the separation of church and state was widespread among European church leaders," Dr. Jones said. His NCCJ mission was largely to help correct these impressions, for two main reasons.

Statements and actions of religious leaders in Europe, he said, sometimes unwittingly contribute to religious conflicts here in America.

CONCERNS RELATIONS

These mostly concern church-state relations and, while easily understood by a European audience, can be just as easily misunderstood by Americans whose view of proper church-state relations is different. Thus European church leaders often are unaware that a statement could have unfortunate results among followers of their faith in America, he said.

His second reason for explaining the American attitude toward church and state was simply "to seek better understanding between nations."

He said some of the churchmen in Europe are "far ahead of us in interfaith dialogue—particularly those in West Germany and the Low countries.

'ONLY BY COMMUNICATION'

Dr. Jones said mutual understanding—and its resulting good—can come about only if communication lines are opened internationally in the same way his organization strives to promote interfaith discussions in America.

Some of the churchmen with whom Dr. Jones conversed included Augustin Cardinal Bea, Vatican secretary for Christian unity; The Rev. William Simpson of the British Council of Christians and Jews; Israel's Chief Rabbi Yitzhak Nissim; Dr. Vissert 't Hooft of the World Council of Churches; Orthodox Bishop Emilianos Timiadis of Geneva, and others.

The Nebraska-born Episcopalian also has served widely as a labor mediator and as a consultant for various government agencies and civic associations, and knows from experience the value of face-to-face negotiation.

Dr. Jones, 61, formerly was president of Rutgers University, of Bennington College in Vermont, and of the University of Arkansas.

Adenauer to Call On De Gaulle Nov. 30

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will go to Paris Nov. 30 to meet with President De Gaulle on the Berlin crisis, the west German government announced Thursday.

The meeting will be a follow-up to Adenauer's discussions with President Kennedy in Washington next week.

The announcement did not say whether Adenauer would also see Prime Minister MacMillan.

The chancellor reportedly plans to exchange opinions with all the leaders of West Germany's principal Allies prior to the beginning of negotiations on Berlin with the Soviet Union.

2 Charged With Theft Bound Over to Court

STANTON (AP) — Two Lansing men, David Schaffer, 21, and James Quinn, 19, were bound over to Montcalm County Circuit Court Thursday after waiving examination on charges of breaking and entering in the night.

They were charged with taking some $700 from a Carson City store. State police said statements from both indicated they were linked to a series of break-ins in Montcalm, Mecosta and Isabella counties.

Mitch Miller Based Success on 'America's Need'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Mitch Miller, along with whom millions of Americans sing, must be one of the richest men in the land today. He could afford to gild his goatee. Mitch could. But of course that might destroy his image as the friendly fella behind the mildly Mephistopholean face.

With his jolly singalongers, Mitch not only is big in TV ratings and record sales, he also sells things.

For some obscure reason, when his gang sounds off with some rollicking cornball lyrics — in the tempo of Guy Lombardo to the tune of "That Old Gang of Mine" — he could sell sleek new 1962 cars.

I don't understand it, but I'm glad, because Mitch is a genuinely nice man. Even if he is clever.

He, himself, understands it.

He predicted his current success some time ago when we were discussing rock and roll, which Mitch has always publicly insisted falls considerably short of Bach, Beethoven and even Sousa in the aesthetic noise department.

"I don't say rock and roll will be eliminated," Mitch told me, "because the kids aged 8 to 14 represent 8 per cent of the population. I think rock and roll will occupy about 8 per cent of the play on disc jockey shows.

"But these are quote troubled times unquote, and everyone is beginning to assess old values. To remember the good old days. I don't mean the good old days of the 1930s or even the 20s, necessarily. They're too close. You remember the flaws in the too-close past . . .

"I'm talking about the good old days of your father, when the whole family sang 'Let Me Call You Sweetheart.' Those days are remembered fondly — incorruptibly.

"You didn't have to talk about togetherness then. You had it. And you had good, simple, singable music.

"You know, basically America is a singing nation because of our tradition. We immigrated from Europe and Scandinavia. Today we are two generations removed from the days of the big immigration quotas.

REGAINED RESPECT

"The first generation removed didn't want to remember their parents who couldn't read or write English, and who had to work hard.

"But the second generation has finally come to realize that these were the people who made America great.

"Now we admire their hard work, because our life is too complexly easy. Now we revere their simplicity and principles, because we sense we have lost our integrity."

Mitch summed up the reason why we like to sing the old songs —why the old songs sell new products:

"We yearn for life to be simple and clean again. That's all."

Court Hearing Set in Wayne Bus Row

DETROIT (AP) — A hearing will be held Tuesday on a petition by the State Public Service Commission that seeks to force Intertown Suburban Lines to resume bus service in Western Wayne County.

Wayne County Circuit Judge Miles N. Culehan set the date Thursday after declining to order the bus line to restore service immediately. However, Culehan told Intertown not to dispose of any of its property or equipment until granted permission to do so by him.

Some 30,000 persons have been without daily bus service since Intertown operations were halted by a strike Aug. 1.

Porter Critical of Civil Service

Blissfield Man Reports Faults About System to Con-Con

LANSING (AP) — Blunt-spoken Sen. Elmer R. Porter, R-Blissfield, says Michigan's Civil Service system costs too much and makes it too easy for employes to "thumb their noses" at their bosses.

"I'm not against a Civil Service system; I was here when we had the spoils system," he told the constitutional convention's committee studying the executive branch of government Thursday.

However, the veteran chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee asserted there are a number of faults in the Civil Service operation.

BUDGET HIGH

The budget for the Civil Service Commission — one per cent of the total payroll for Civil Service workers — is the highest per employe in the nation this year at $1,775,000, he said. State employes, he added, are among the highest paid in the nation.

Asked whether good pay might go hand in hand with good employes, Porter replied: "I'm in no position to say whether our employes are any better than those in other states."

Because Civil Service regulations "make it awful hard to expel a man or woman who's no good on the job," employes are able to "thumb their noses" at agency heads, he said.

Similarly, he said, agency and department administrators who move under Civil Service protection from exempt positions are able to treat legislators in the same manner.

By 1965 it is estimated there will be 108 million automobile drivers licensed in the United States.

Sam Rayburn

Mister SAM is gone. But his image of strength, goodness, the rightness of America will long remain.

Sam Rayburn was a little bigger than Texas, his home state. This square-faced man with squinty eyes had one of the longest and most powerful careers in the history of Washington. There was something about his character that made it this way.

When he assumed command he was a leader and led his assault forces like a general. The story is told that ROBERT E. LEE fascinated him and actually it was this image that he followed. He was not awed by WILSON with whom he began his career, nor ROOSEVELT with whom SAM rose to great power.

For many years it was not known that tenderness and concern for his country and fellow workers were the true inner feelings of this crotchety old Texan.

Mr. Sam was only married for a few months in his youth. Instead he expanded his paternal love on the House of Representatives. It was his home. Once when he was asked to define his philosophy he said, "Well, a little applied Christianity wouldn't hurt."

He was as solid as a rock and there was never a doubt in anyone's mind concerning his leadership of the Democrats. Northern liberals referred to him as a Southern conservative and conservatives called him a liberal.

Actually neither was right. He went according to his feelings and sense of duty. For the most part, he appeared as a gruff old bachelor and went according to his rules. When he took a position on a piece of legislation all stops were out until he rammed it through.

As a parliamentarian he had no peer. At Democratic national conventions it was Mr. Sam, the master manipulator. Our own Joe Haas tells of the incident at the 1956 Democratic convention in Chicago when Rayburn told a joke which brought laughter to the floor delegates to the point of drowning the pleas of a state requesting a roll call vote.

Over the years he mellowed and there was no party line dividing his friends. It is not likely that the speaker's chair he occupied for twice as long as anyone else, will ever again see a man quite like Mr. SAM.

In departing from this world Mr. SAM leaves our political system poorer, but his name will long echo throughout the halls of the House of Representatives.

Interest Is Increasing in Foreign Languages

Advices from New York schools say that languages came in for another upswing this fall. This is all to the good.

When today's oldsters were students, languages were just one of many possibilities to explore — casually. Today language is absolutely a "must."

The world grows smaller.

Yes, it's still shrinking.

The modern airplane and modern communication bring about an international "togetherness" that we never knew before. Traveling westward, the change of the clock lets you have lunch in Europe and dinner here.

It happens every day.

With the Western Hemisphere more conscious of its mutual problems, Spanish becomes a very important language. Communication, travel and trade between North, Central and South America increase steadily and will step up in the years ahead. We are recognizing a community of interests.

Across the Atlantic, French is probably the most helpful language. Once it was the tongue of international communication and while it has been superseded by English, it ranks next. Russian is having a huge increase. All young people today should take one foreign language and learn to speak, comprehend and read it fluently.

The world's that tiny.

Christmas Trees

Already Being Hauled to City from North Michigan

Marriage: What's as good as a college education, if you listen to all the lectures.

Starting much earlier than usual, the Christmas tree trek through Oakland County already is under way. My old friend, of West Branch, sends word that he is hauling 400 trees per day to Detroit, to be used mostly by that city's stores for their pre-holiday decorations.

Franklin Carmody

When the regular retail market on trees opens, he expects the prices will be about the same as they were last year. The Michigan State Conservation Department is making every effort to curtail the usual overcutting of trees, and the consequent thousands of left overs.

Pontiac business places will generally use home grown Christmas trees for their early holiday decorations. They are more symmetrical, cone shaped, and not one-sided, as are most of the northern grown trees, which generally are "thinners," taken out to give other trees a better opportunity to grow.

It is quite probable that Christmas trees, grown from planted seedlings in Oakland and neighboring counties, will supply a major part of the Pontiac area retail market.

A galloping deer on the Dixie Highway pavement put two cars into the ditch early Thursday morning near the home of about 12 miles northwest of Pontiac, when they tried to dodge hitting it. Nobody was injured, the damage to the cars was slight—and the deer escaped.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Hempwood,

A forsythia bush in the yard of

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bellaird

of Pontiac Lake has been spreading yellow glory in its November blossoming fully as grand as what it did last spring.

of Rochester. It measured 65 inches round, and was "almost as solid as a rock," according to Mrs. Len.

A large warty toad that has hibernated for several years under the back porch of

of Rochester has transferred its winter's quarters to their warm garage, under an old blanket.

of Commerce, who wonders if any of "those new fangled varieties" can beat that.

A cock pheasant and his harem who got chummy with the chickens of of Lake Orion during the open season on birds, now refuse to leave, and are quite belligerent, hogging the feed, and fighting with the chickens. The cock quickly wins a fight with a rooster.

"Ours Is Stronger—Their Half Is Just Held Together With String"

David Lawrence Warns:

Dems Have Well-Oiled Machine

WASHINGTON — The public might as well get used to the idea, for a while anyway, as the Kennedy administration develops one of the best-oiled political machines in American history—possibly exceeding in power the national organization which Mark Hanna of McKinley days operated at the turn of the century.

LAWRENCE

There is a certain ruthlessness in the way things are done, as evidenced by the manner in which Postmaster General J. Edward Day was pulled out at the last minute as the principal speaker at the White House Regional Conference in Philadelphia this week.

These meetings are supposed to be nonpolitical and nonpartisan and for the benefit of all citizens, because they are paid for by the funds of all taxpayers.

It is, of course, well-known to anyone familiar with politics that the party organization in Philadelphia is important to the Democrats in Pennsylvania, and that the city has a substantial number of Negroes, whose votes mean much in every election nowadays.

Perhaps the best way to tell what happened is to reproduce here a news story read by the people of Philadelphia — Republicans as well as Democrats. It was printed in the "Evening Bulletin" there on Wednesday of this week. It reads as follows:

"Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy will replace Postmaster General J. Edward Day as the main speaker in a White House Regional Conference in the Sheraton Hotel here tomorrow night.

"The announcement of the substitution of the President's younger brother for Day was made by the city representative's office today.

"Sources in Washington said Robert Kennedy was brought in because Pennsylvania Democratic leaders — among them Mayor Dilworth, Governor Lawrence and U.S. Sen. Joseph Clark — were disappointed because they felt Day wouldn't be a big drawing card for the conference.

"The postmaster general was to have shared the platform here tomorrow night with Robert C. Weaver, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency."

Weaver is the most important Negro in the Kennedy administration, and it seems hardly likely that he would have objected to sharing the platform with Day.

It is difficult to understand why politics should enter into the selection of any speaker representing the government of the United States when the White House regional conferences were set up to deal with matters pertaining to "full employment and economic growth, opportunities for youth, opportunities for senior citizens, and opportunities for our cities."

NONPOLITICAL!

The stated purpose of the meetings, which are being held in 14 cities throughout the country, is to "inform citizens of recent legislative and administrative developments and accomplishments, with particular emphasis upon the impact of legislation upon the region in which the conference is held."

If Day is not qualified to speak in Philadelphia for the post office department, because of an earlier event when he offended the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, perhaps it soon will be argued that he is disqualified also from running the mail service for the entire country.

But if he has to be sacrificed for politics—though he happens to be one of the ablest men ever chosen to head the Post Office Department—the country will have to accept this also as the inevitable result of partisan manipulation of governmental functions by Democratic party politicians today.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Kill Kidney Infections to Prevent Damage

Q — Could you tell me the ingredients of burdock oil and just how it should be used and in what proportions?

A — Burdock oil is prepared from the dried first-year root of lappa, also called clotbur or bardana.

It was formerly used in northern Europe and Asia as a local application to inflammations of the skin. Its principal ingredient is tannin, related to the tannic acid of tea. It is a useless product.

Q — My 7-year-old daughter has had several attacks of kidney infection in the past few years. Twice she was so sick we had to put her in the hospital.

Even though she has been taking eight pills every day to prevent re-infection, she is now having another attack. Isn't it possible to do something more to prevent these attacks than just giving pills?

A — There may well be. Many of these attacks of pyelitis in female children are due to disturbances that can only be detected by passing an electrically lighted instrument into the bladder (cystoscopy).

Through the cystoscope, the specialist is able to see and some times correct abnormalities of the bladder that interfere with the passage of urine and invite infection of the pooled fluid. He can also pass thin hollow tubes (catheters) into the long, narrow channels (ureters) through which urine flows to the bladder from the basin (pelvis) of each kidney.

In this way, he can determine which kidney pelvis is infected and perhaps discover and correct whatever it is that leads to the infection.

Although these examinations (cystoscopy with catheterization of ureters and X-ray visualization or urography) are painful, even in the hands of the most skilful urologist, they may not only put a stop to these recurrent attacks but, what is equally important, they may prevent permanent damage to the kidneys (nephritis).

As you have found out for yourself, so-called urinary antiseptics are of very limited value. You can no longer rely on them to "cure" your daughter's attacks of pyelitis or to keep her from suffering serious impairment of kidney function later in life, especially during pregnancy.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

Voice of the People:

The Press Receives Letter From Attorney General

I have read with interest your story on syndicated crime. I am very appreciative of the fact that you and your newspaper took the time and effort to call to the attention of your readers the tremendous problem that illegal profits from gambling create.

KENNEDY

The question of legalized gambling is a most difficult one because of the requirement for action in 50 states. Many states have, of course, legalized some form of gambling. Federal policy is necessarily affected by the laws of the various local jurisdictions and the question of legalized gambling is basically one for each state to decide taking into account the conditions in that state.

Again, I appreciate your efforts in bringing to the attention of your readers this pressing problem.

'What if Radar Fails to Give Warning?'

I am in favor of fallout shelters and in every possible military deterrent, but could it be possible that our feeble efforts are but another "Maginot Line"? Not that I wouldn't have been for the Maginot Line. The French considered it effective until it was proved otherwise. We believe our radar system will work perfectly, will warn us and only those who refused to build shelters will be affected, or those who could not reach shelters.

Could it be that the enemy plans to explode a megaton bomb in the atmosphere strong enough to jam radar and at the same time drop megaton bombs from manned satellites? If so, would there be sufficient warning for effective retaliatory measures?

Just Wondering

'Walker's Services Would Be Valuable'

The report of Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker's resignation sounds the alarm to awaken America. Few men have served their country so well.

Gen. Walker knew that an effective fighting force must understand the enemy and love its own country. He wanted to teach his soldiers about the Communist conspiracy. The General was intelligent and courageous; like many of those who expose the evils of communism, he was smeared. He was even "accused" of reading all the material he could get on world communism.

Such a person is excellent material for political office. Both political parties would do well to solicit his services.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

But what God foretold by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ should suffer, he thus fulfilled. — Acts 3:18.

In this awfully stupendous manner, at which Reason stands aghast, and Faith herself is half confounded, was the grace of God to man at length manifested.—Richard Hurd.

'Local Home Rule Needs Attention'

A pressing problem which concon faces is local home rule, particularly as it applies to taxation. Because our present constitution denies the right of local governments to tax land fully we turn to the state for aid. This issue is not political and failure to give local government this important right precipitates most of the economic problems Michigan is experiencing.

A prosperous and free economy will result if our new constitution abolishes the 15 mill limit and allows us to separate the tax on the land from the improvement; and then allows local government to place the bulk of the tax on the land and to reduce taxes on labor and capital. There are few rights more basic to free enterprising and to local home rule than the right to tax as we see fit for our own needs.

A thought for the day: Samuel Clemens, better known as Mark Twain, said: "Soap and education are not as sudden as a massacre, but they are more deadly in the long run."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Belief in Superstitions Is Juvenile

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-453: Opal T., aged 34, is an attractive school teacher.

"Dr. Crane, do you think civilization is really advancing?" she asked in a discouraged voice.

"Sometime ago I read that two men were killed in Mexico because their fellow townsmen accused them of witchcraft.

DR. CRANE

"They were charged with casting spells over their neighbors and making them ill.

"I thought this went out of style with the Salem witch burning. Why is it such a difficult task to free ourselves from fears and superstitions?"

FEAR VS. LOVE

Love is actually stronger than fear. And education is far superior to ignorance.

But fear and ignorance get a long head start in our childhood. Stories of goblins and ghosts make goose pimples rise on our skin when we are youngsters.

We are so little, in contrast to the giant adults who surround us in childhood, that we seldom feel very brave.

Cowardice is inborn. Courage must be acquired. Even adults often get throwbacks to their childhood outlook and may quake in fear.

Strong, brave men may also have dreams at night wherein they are back again in their boyhood surroundings, so they feel frightened.

After waking they become reassured. But often we adults must actually "sell" ourselves on being brave by talking ourselves into it.

"Act your age!" we may thus be compelled to say to ourselves. "You are a grown man (or woman), so behave like one. Stop shivering with fear. That's kid stuff."

If you have ever seen the play "The Emperor Jones," you may recall how a powerful man was reduced to abject terror in one night.

SUPERSTITION TEST

If you wish to measure your real adulthood, take this "Superstition Test."

Do you continue a chain letter after you receive one? Do you believe flying saucers have landed on this earth?

Do you go back to touch a certain post or picket in a fence which you have missed as you walked along trying to strike each one you pass?

Are you afraid to sit at a table where there will be exactly 13 diners?

Will you refuse to take Room 13 or be billeted on the 13th floor of a hotel?

Or do you try to favor the number seven or get a room numbered 711?

Do you knock on wood? Or carry a four-leaf clover? Or a rabbit's foot?

Many professional ball players are unusually superstitious. They may carry a pair of their baby's shoes all season just because when they made their first base hit or homerun, they had such shoes in their pocket.

Do you consult fortune tellers? Do you read the "Horoscope" in the newspaper?

Do you believe in the possibility of being jinxed? Or that a person who killed those two men in Mexico for alleged witchcraft.

If you are a parent, by all means act like an adult and never instill such superstition in your children. God dislikes superstition, too.

or opposing athletic team has the "Indian sign" on you?

Do you dread Friday the 13th of the month? Are you disturbed over the threat of bad luck from a broken mirror or from walking under a ladder?

If you answer "Yes" even to just one of the above, then you are still emotionally juvenile and to that degree are a cousin to the mob

Tough Times Forecast in House; Sam's Gone

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indications point to tougher sledding for President Kennedy's legislative program in the House next year, now that Speaker Sam Rayburn is dead.

Things may go somewhat harder for the President with the expected ascension of John McCormack of Massachusetts to the speaker's chair in January.

The main reason for this is that Rayburn, a Texan and Southerner himself, had gathered immense personal prestige and a great reservoir of respect and friendship during his long years of stewardship.

Rayburn was able to cash this coin of respect and affection when necessary to put over key proposals of the Kennedy administration, drawing enough Southern conservative votes with him to make the difference.

THREE DIVIDENDS

He did this at least three times during this year's session, before cancer forced him to go home to Bonham. He won the bitter fight to liberalize the bottleneck rules committee by adding three new members, and his margin of victory was just five votes. He also put his personal prestige on the line for the housing bill and raising the minimum wage.

It is doubtful that McCormack, a very different sort of man, can command that kind of personal power to influence voting on controversial issues that will be coming up—and certainly not among the Southerners who listened to Mr. Sam with respectful attention and often went along with him.

Since the conservative-liberal split in the House is so razor close, as was shown by vote after vote in the past year when Southern Democrats teamed up with Republicans, this could make a vital difference to how Kennedy bills make out in the coming year.

There is no expectation that McCormack will be any less faithful in pushing the Kennedy program than Rayburn was, in spite of past differences with the President growing out of Massachusetts politics.

But McCormack is a party man. It is felt that he has deep respect for the historic powers of the speakership and that he would not let petty differences interfere with his new office.

Rayburn's method of running the House was as polished as the marble entrance hall on the new east front of the capitol, a project very dear to his heart. McCormack's may be somewhat rougher.

When Congress quit for the year in September, McCormack incensed the Senate by adjourning the House before the other body was ready. This left the Senate with no choice but to accept a last catchall appropriations bill which contained some things many senators didn't like. There was much wee-hours oratory about high-handed methods and lack of courtesy before the senators swallowed the bitter bill McCormack handed them.

McCormack pooh-poohed the fuss later. Of course it is his relations with his House colleagues that will count, not with the Senate. But McCormack does not as yet have the great fund of personal devotion to draw on that Rayburn did.

FAMOUS THE WORLD OVER

Wall Splits JFK, Adenauer

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer appeared today to be in sharp disagreement over how hard the Western powers should press a demand on the Soviet Union for removal of the Berlin wall.

The issue of the Communist-built wall sealing off East Berlin from West Berlin now seems to become a major topic of discussion in the meeting between Adenauer and Kennedy.

TO ARRIVE SUNDAY

The West German chancellor is due to arrive Sunday for talks with the President on policies the Western powers should follow in any negotiations with the Soviet Union for settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Meanwhile some further statement of the U.S. position on this and other Berlin policy questions may be forthcoming for this afternoon when Secretary of State Dean Rusk holds a news conference.

Rusk also has opportunity at the news conference to spell out current U.S. policy on assistance to the hard pressed government of South Viet Nam. There have been reports during the past several days from Saigon that American military assistance is being substantially increased.

DEFINES PROBLEM

The problem of what the West should do about the wall dividing Berlin was sharply defined by Adenauer in Bonn Thursday when he spoke with a group of American newsmen about his meeting with Kennedy.

Asked by newsmen to list points he considered non-negotiable in any discussions with the Soviets on the status of the city, Adenauer said: "First of all, the wall must go. The non-negotiable elements are: The freedom of Berlin must be preserved, the wall must go and the communications with Berlin and West Germany must remain secure because without them Berlin cannot live."

As far as the Berlin wall is concerned, the United States, it is said, agrees that the Western powers cannot do less than insist on the wall's destruction and the restoration of freer movement of people between East and West Berlin. But in official quarters here there is no real hope that the Soviets will accept such a proposition.

* * *

From the U.S. point of view it does not appear, moreover, to be an absolute necessity for an East-West agreement on the future of West Berlin.

Arrest Porumbeanu in '60 Benedict Case

NEW YORK (AP) — Andrei Porumbeanu, husband of heiress Gamble Benedict, who is expecting a second child in May, was jailed for 30 days today on a contempt charge.

Appearing stunned, Porumbeau was arrested and handcuffed on appearing before Magistrate Pete M. Horn and was led to a detention cell in Felony Court across the street.

His attorney, Louis J. Brecher, began efforts to free him in bail.

Porumbeanu had been charged with contempt for failing to comply with an order issued by Horn in February, 1960, requiring him to stay away from Miss Benedict, then a minor.

He and Miss Benedict eloped and were married in North Carolina in April of that year.

Blindness among American adults increased by 14 per cent in the 10 years from 1940 to 1950, 150 pounds.

DETROIT (AP) — Bishop Charles Harrison Mason, founder of the Church of God in Christ, died today at Harper Hospital. He was 98.

Bishop Mason of Memphis Tenn., entered the hospital Nov. 11. At that time his illness was described as "old age" by Bishop L. C. Patrick of Detroit.

Workers OK Pay Cut to Get Plants Back

ELKHART, Ind. (AP) — Workers for C. G. Conn Corp. of Elkhart, musical instrument manufacturer, have voted to accept pay cuts to help the firm bring back two plants it moved away from Indiana several years ago.

A company spokesman said the clarinet factory will be returned from New Berlin, N. Y., and the saxophone factory from Nogales, Ariz. He said the moves would add 100 to 150 jobs here.

Some GOP Leaders Again 'Mad' at Nixon

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Republican politicoes are cocking an eyebrow at the announcement that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has appointed Robert Haldeman as his gubernatorial campaign manager.

Haldeman, a youthful Madison Avenue huckster, directed field operations for the Nixon-for-President campaign, and in so doing managed to excite the wrath of practically every top GOP senator and state chairman.

It is not news that the political pros were furious with Dick Nixon during the closing weeks of last fall's campaign. Such long-time Nixon supporters as Sen. Styles Bridges and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield were heatedly complaining that they could not even get through to the candidate.

Haldeman drew a large share of the blame. One prominent state chairman put it this way: "That last campaign was the most stupid I have ever seen. Haldeman sent in droves of young kids to schedule meetings all around me, without even informing me of it. They stripped the party leaders of all dignity and prestige. I was so humiliated and embarrassed that I almost lost my self-respect." Sometime after President Kennedy's inauguration, this GOP state chairman wrote a letter to Nixon stating that he expected to be in Los Angeles on a given date. To his surprise he received a warm reply, saying that Nixon would like to see him.

On arriving in Los Angeles he telephoned Nixon's office, expecting to get the runaround to which he had become accustomed during the campaign. Instead, Nixon's long-time girl Friday, Rose Woods, told him he was expected, and please to come right over.

In reminiscing about the incident, the politico confessed: "I put the phone down and said to myself: 'I've got my self-respect back, so to H— with it.' I didn't show up for the appointment."

Such bitterness is fairly widespread in the party. The cut is so deep with the top professionals that there is little likelihood of Nixon being given the nod for the presidential nomination in 1964.

WON'T HELP HIM

Certainly the news that Haldeman has taken over the top spot formerly held by Bob Finch will not help him with GOP out-of-state leaders.

One great asset that Nixon had during last year's campaign is now lacking. At that time, and for the previous seven years — he was only one heartbeat removed from the presidency.

Senators and state leaders, mindful that President Eisenhower had suffered a heart attack and two other serious illnesses in office, dared not openly cross the vice president, for fear that he might suddenly succeed to the vast powers of the White House.

The old pros are perhaps taking out on Nixon old sores that would have healed, had they not had to lick them so long in silence.

Assistant GOP Chairman Clare B. Williams this week released some interesting figures which indicate that although the majority of the women of America vote Republican, Nixon won 10 per cent less of their vote than did Eisenhower.

Mrs. Williams did not give the source for her figures. She announced however, that of the votes cast by all women, both Republican and Democratic, 61 per cent went to Ike in 1956, whereas only 51.5 per cent preferred Nixon four years later.

The feminine vote is an increasingly important factor for both parties to reckon with, since eligible women voters now outnumber the men by nearly four million.

Candidate Nixon would do well to keep this in mind during his upcoming California campaign. It might also be a good idea for him to tell Haldeman, he is "available," when friendly Republican leaders want to give him a little advice.

Governor's Aide 'Needs Work'

T. John Lesinski Tells Group State Official's Time Not Utilized

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski believes Michigan should make better use of its lieutenant governor — by giving him more to do.

"We should continue the functions of the office as they are now, but with additional duties," Lesinski told the Central Michigan chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society, Thursday night.

Lesinski said his ideas have been forwarded to a constitutional convention committee which requested them.

Tied in with the expanded functions of the office, Lesinski said, would be an enlarged staff and a better salary and expenses. The job now pays about $10,000.

Lesinski feel the lieutenant governor — whose principal job is to preside over the Senate and take part in administrative board meetings — should be allowed to participate in preliminary debate on the floor.

"This would provide a chance for the executive office views to be expressed," he said.

Lesinski supported the view expressed earlier this week by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams that the governor and lieutenant governor should be elected as a team, as are the president and vice president.

But where Williams suggested they be nominated at party conventions, Lesinski said he felt the state's two top executives should be elected in open primaries.

Police Seek Clues in Lansing Murder

LANSING (AP) — Lansing Police checked out suspects and combed through evidence today in a search for the strangler-assaulter of a 71-year old widow.

The body of Mrs. Lucy Norris, a former matron at the Lewis C. Cass State Office Building, was found lying in a rubbish-strewn back yard in Lansing's west side early Thursday.

Coroner Dorwin Hoffmeyer said she had been strangled and sexually assaulted. The assailant, the coroner said, was strong enough to break her larynx.

Robert Kennedy Plans to 'Wait' for Shelter

At a news conference Thursday night, he said he plans no shelter until a federal policy is established leading toward shelters for everyone.

"Until then," he said, "I'm going to wait."

Few Words Spoken

Rayburn's Office Lonesome

WASHINGTON (AP) — The death of Sam Rayburn touched off a flood of laudatory messages across the nation, but there was one saddened place where words were few—in the speaker's office.

In the outer room of the two-room suite which Rayburn occupied longer than any other man, members of his staff went about their tasks wordlessly or with the low murmurs of the bereaved.

The silence Thursday was complete in the inner room, dominated by an ornate crystal chandelier strangely out of keeping with the character of the blunt, plain-speaking Texan who labored there for 17 years.

A bolt of black cloth was draped over his high-backed leather chair after word was received that he had died in Texas. A heap of huge yellow chrysanthemums covered his glass top desk. For the rest, the room was much the same as when Rayburn used it.

Despite his long stay there Rayburn had added little in the way of personal touches. A favorite portrait of him hung on a wall. On the mantle behind the desk, propped against a mirror, was a framed photograph of the Rayburn Library in Bonham, Tex.

Across the hall in the big chamber where Rayburn wore out many a gavel trying to keep his house colleagues in order — more silence and another spray of flowers, this one on the speaker's desk, the chair behind it also draped in black.

Members of his staff mostly sat staring into space or pacing idly, looking into their memories of the man whose human side they probably saw more clearly than most politicians.

Finally one broke the silence. Stopping in front of a window and looking at the rain streaming down from leaden skies he said, to no one in particular: "This is a lonesome day."

Officers Ready for Space After Simulated Flight

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A make-believe space trip, in which they spent 17 days in a steel tank breathing virtually pure oxygen, whetted their appetite for real space travel, two Air Force officers said Thursday.

Doctors pronounced Capts. George M. Dooley of Lynchburg, Va., and James P. Sweeney of Mancelona, Mich., in fine shape when they emerged from the simulated space cabin at Brooks Air Force Base Thursday.

Dooley, 33, and Sweeney, 25, were rushed to laboratories for examinations aimed at determining the test's effects on their breathing systems.

The atmosphere inside the 8-by-12-foot cabin contained more than 90 per cent oxygen, kept at a pressure equal to that at 3,500 feet above sea level.

Daily Car Output Climbs to 21,800 for Top Count

DETROIT (AP)—A record 21,800 domestic autos per day were sold during the first 10 days of November.

Total sales of 196,200 topped the previous record of 19,996 per day for the period, set in the first 10 days of November last year.

Chrysler alone among the five automakers reported lower sales.

General Motors dealers sold 53.9 per cent of all the cars sold, up from 49.7 in the same period last year. Ford slipped from 29.7 last year to 28.7 this year but total sales were up because of the over-all increase in volume.

Chrysler dropped from 13.5 per cent in 1960 to 10 per cent this year. American Motors rose from 5.8 per cent to 6 per cent and Studebaker rose from 1.3 per cent to 1.4 per cent.

GM sales totaled 105,780; Ford 56,203, Chrysler 19,621, American Motors 11,725 and Studebaker-Packard 2,871.

Consider Ballot on School Tax

Waterford Twp. Board Airs Possibility of Vote on 5-Mill Increase

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night considered calling a special election sometime in March to ask voter approval of a five-mill tax increase for school operation during the next seven years.

A report presented by the finance committee stated the reason for the tax increase is that the cost of operation is steadily rising. This was due primarily to the increase in teacher's salaries.

The report also stated the percentage of operating income received from the state has been decreasing annually. Therefore, the percentage of local support is necessarily increasing.

Further, there are too many unknown quantities in the state financial situation to predict accurately what would be required two years hence the report said.

The committee thus was uncertain as to whether this proposal would assure for a period of over two years the quality of school program it felt the community wants.

There was no definite action on the proposed special election. A special school board meeting has been set for 8 p.m. Nov. 27 to consider all angles and make final plans for the election.

Student-Teacher Project to Be Tried Out in Area

A new experimental teacher-training program sponsored in part by the Ford Foundation will be put into effect in the Waterford Township School system beginning next semester.

It was decided by the Board of Education at last night's meeting to hire a maximum of four student teachers from Central Michigan College, to work in three levels.

Two toddlers from Lake Orion are undergoing a painful series of rabies shots after being bitten by a stray cat Oct. 30.

The cat was found to be rabid in tests by the State Health Department reported yesterday to the County Health Department.

Central's Ready for Husky Clash

By WADE WILKISON

Tonight is the second annual clash between Pontiac Central Chiefs and Pontiac Northern Huskies. Winning the first football game Pontiac Central High School is back for more of the same.

Today a Pep assembly was held to bolster the already high spirits of the Central students. The assembly roared with cheers.

A hilarious skit was given in which three Northern cheerleaders played by Tom Hanz, Chris Lauchner, and Mark Foster, along with six Northern football players portrayed by Pat Wilkinson, Ruth Hoffman, Sue Putnam, Micki King, Linda Brooks, and Sue Constantino, are chased by two Pontiac Central "dogcatchers" played by Barrie Coram and Wade Willdson, into the Huron Street "doghouse."

Slogans galore have been making their way around Pontiac Central as game time approaches. "Pontiac Central Chiefs see red, Huskies see stars;" "Chiefs out to make 'um Rival dogfood;" "Huskies all bark, no bite;" "North, South, East, West, Central's team is the best;" and "housebreak the Huskies", are just a few of the high spirited sayings among the Central students.

YELLS READY

A yell section comprising Central students who really want to show their school spirit is now ready to participate at all games. It is sponsored by the Pep Club. Planning committee is composed of the two yell leaders, Mark Berg and Ed Bradley, Pat Wilkinson, Leslie Seiss, Pat Hodges, and Donna Knicely.

Our Lady of the Lakes Anxious

Class Ring Ceremony Set

By LAURA FREVILLE

Junior Class members of Our Lady of the Lakes will receive their class rings Sunday during the 9:45 High Mass. Pastor, Father Delaney, will bless and distribute the rings to the 35 members.

The class ring blessing is offered to a growing response as a symbol of an educational achievement. Since the very purpose of education is to Know God, it seems fitting that the class ring should be blessed.

It is hoped that those who wear such rings will be constantly reminded of the spiritual significance of education, and the obligation to lead exemplary lives as a result of that education.

DEEPENS SIGNIFICANCE

This class ring blessing procedure is respectfully presented to Catholic students with the hope that it will help to spiritualize the meaning graduation from school.

Sunday morning the students will proceed in procession from the High School to the Church. They will proceed, two abreast, up the center aisle, and place their rings in the communion railing, where they will be blessed by Father Delaney. At an appointed time during the Mass, Father will place each ring on the finger of each junior.

The ceremony will be brief but the meaning long lasting as each junior receives the sacred symbol of the school and his education.

After the Sacrifice of the Mass and the Blessing of the Rings, sophomores will entertain the juniors at a breakfast in their honor. This event will be held in the recreation room at the Rectory.

After the meal, John Zwack, president of the junior class, will tell the meaning and significance of the class ring. Other speeches by Bill Sweeney, president of the senior class, and Dave Plautz, master of ceremonies, close with a few pertinent remarks by Father Delaney.

This year Our Lady of the Lakes has its first Student Council.

Last spring there was a vigorous campaign for the positions of Student Council officers.

All-School Enthusiasm Sparks PN's Projects

By PAM MORRIS

Thirty-seven Thanksgiving baskets collected from homerooms and club will be distributed to needy families throughout the city.

The baskets are accumulated on a volunteer basis. Each student who wishes to contribute makes his gift of either money or a food item.

Collecting Thanksgiving baskets has become an annual holiday project among students.

SPIRITED HUSKIES

Another kind of spirit is being aroused among Husky students — school spirit!

A "farewell to football" pep assembly was given to the student body this afternoon. Cheerleaders and the Husky band provided cheers and pep music for the occasion.

Musical spirit is also in the air. The Northern choir is industriously rehearsing for their upcoming production of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" Dec. 13-16.

The story concerns a peasant woman and her crippled son, Amahl, on the night of Christ's birth.

Senior Class Takes to Acting

Clarkston High Stages Comedy

By JANET TISCH

"Meet Me In St. Louis," Clarkston High School's Senior Class Play, will be presented tonight in the High School "Little Theater."

Concluding a first performance last night and continuing through tomorrow evening, the play offers a gay and colorful excursion back to the bygone days of the gaslight, trolley car, and band concert in the park. For it was in this period in history that St. Louis was the site of the 1904 World's Fair.

Smith, father of the three scheming daughters, is suddenly transferred to New York. Expecting his wife, son and daughters to accompany him, he soon discovers that they have woven an intricate plot to prevent their journey from the now exciting place of St. Louis.

Sandy Podger, Sue Jackson, Alice Olafsson, and Carolyn Ruggles portray the scheming Smith sisters; Roger Richley and Joan Payne are cast as their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith; and Neal Norgrove plays their brother, who considers himself one of the unfortunates for being plagued with three sisters.

JOIN GAIETY

Others who participate in the gaiety of the play are Craig Smith as Grandpa; Shirley Bauer as Lucille; Floy Kuklaw as Ida Booth-by; Rocky Bullard as John Sheppard; Melvin Smith as Mr. Dodge; Mike Applegate as Mr. Duffy; Diane Rounding as the maid Katy; Suzzanne Valentine as Lily Waughop; Jim Woodward as Fred Gregory; and Ron Hetherington as the conductor.

Assistant to the director is Michaelene Kritbers and stage manager is Jim Woodward. Miss Lorna Wildon, head of the dramatics department directs the play, adapted from a play by Sally Benson. "Meet Me in St. Louis" has been remembered and acclaimed as an outstanding movie which starred Judy Garland.

Curtain time for this evening's performance will be at 8 o'clock. Tickets will be on sale at the door at one dollar for adults and 50 cents, students.

Early Deadline Must

School Page corespondents are reminded that the deadline for all school copy to be submitted next week (Nov. 20-24) will be noon Tuesday rather than noon Wednesday, due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Tickets will be sold at the door for $.75 stag and $1.25 drag.

Doctor Claims Results Real

Says Witchcraft Works

DETROIT (AP) — "I've seen a woman point at a man and say, 'You'll die before sunset,' and he went home and died," a physician from South Africa said Thursday.

After investigating scores of sudden deaths among the Bantu in South Africa, Dr. R. J. W. Burrell said, he is convinced that the results of belief in witchcraft are real.

Dr. Burrell, who is with the Bantu Cancer Registry, Cape Province, South Africa, addressed a symposium on the causes of heart attacks at Henry Ford Hospital.

Heart disease is virtually nonexistent among the Bantu because of their diet, which is almost wholly carbohydrates, the physician reported.

"But I have seen sudden, inexplicable, wishful death, for which an autopsy showed no cause, and chemists could find no evidence of poison," he added.

"They (the Bantu) die at will," Dr. Burrell stated. "They just lie down in their huts, perfectly well, and don't wake up again."

Con-Con Hears Home Rule Plan

Measure Would Require County Vote on Charter and Amendments

LANSING (AP)— Permissive home rule for counties, elimination of legislative and governmental conflicts of interest and higher age limits for lawmakers were urged today in proposals filed with the constitutional convention.

The latest batch brings to 280 the number of proposals filed with the convention.

The home rule suggestion was submitted by Charles L. Follo, D-Escanaba, and provides that "no county charter shall be adopted or amended until approved by a majority vote of county electors voting on the question.

Under other proposals, no member of the legislature or any state or local governmental official would be allowed to engage actively in private business pursuits or professional occupation during his term of office.

The proposals, filed by Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, would apply to all lawmakers and all persons appointed or elected to a full time office of state or local government.

Republican delegate Don G. Batchelor of Grand Blanc submitted a proposal which would raise the age limit for state senators to 30 and for representatives to 25. Present constitutional law sets the age limit at 21 years.

Plan to Rescue 11 Men on Floe in Arctic Ocean

POINT BARROW, Alaska (UPI) — Eleven men were to be airlifted off an Arctic Ocean ice floe today where they were stranded late Wednesday when their R4D Navy transport plane made an emergency landing.

An Air Force spokesman said no one was injured and the plane was intact.

The ill-fated aircraft was on a flight here from Arlis II, an ice island research station located about 300 miles north of Russian-owned Wrangell Island, when it plopped down on the ice floe because of fouled fuel lines.

The surfaces of planes flying at twice the speed of sound will heat to 300 degrees Fahrenheit even in the fairly thin atmosphere at 30,000 feet.

Robbery Is Foiled at Home in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A gunman pretended he was a bank messenger in order to get into the home of society matron Mrs. Standish Backus Thursday night but fled empty handed when police were summoned.

Vera Stepzynski, 29, a maid, said she let the man in when he told her he had some bank papers for Mrs. Backus to sign. She said she went upstairs to inform Mrs. Backus while the man waited in a vestibule. She said that when she returned the man pulled a club and a gun from his pockets and they began to struggle.

The main was struck on the head and knocked to the floor and the gunman forced his way up into Mrs. Backus' room. The maid recovered, ran next door and summoned police.

An average American eats about 100 pounds more food than he did in the late 1930s but because of regulated diets the calorie intake is about the same.

MUST BE LOVE — It couldn't be a desire for money that led Marjorie Steele, former wife of American millionaire George Huntington Hartford II, to marry British actor Dudley Sutton Thursday. She lost about $60,000 a year in alimony by remarrying. "Honestly, money was an embarrassment," she said after the civil ceremony in London's Kensington Register Office.

MSUO Receives Federal Grant

Michigan State University Oakland, which has been the headquarters of a national effort to improve college mathematics courses, today received a federal grant to raise the undergraduate level of scientific literacy.

The grant of $28,630 has been given to MSUO to develop a new kind of science course for both scientist and non-scientist students.

The grant was made by the National Science Foundation.

"This grant is the first of its kind," said Dr. Harry C. Kelly, deputy director of the NSF. "It has three main purposes:

"1—To find some solutions to the problem of integrating and developing unity in the teaching of sciences.

"2—To help find the role of science in the liberal arts education.

"3—To give the NSF some policy guidance in deciding what activities it should develop in the future."

The grant will enable MSUO to bring some of the leading scientists and persons in science education to the campus for a three-day conference, May 23-27, 1962.

The grant grew out of MSUO's request for help in seeking out the best ideas for creating a two-semester science-mathematics sequence.

Couple Claims Delay in Naming Viscount Costly

LONDON (AP)—A British couple complained today that Princess Margaret's delay in naming her baby is costing them money.

Tony Large and his wife Margaret Rose not only have the same first names as the princess and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones, now Lord Snowdon, the Larges also have a new son, born on the same day as the royal baby.

CAN'T COLLECT

The Larges naturally want to name their son after young Viscount Linley, the title the princess' baby acquired at birth. But the princess has given no indication of when she'll reveal the full name her son will be given. And until the Larges register their baby by its full name, they can't collect $2.45 a week in government family allowances.

Only 15 Ships With U.S. Flag Using Seaway

DETROIT (AP) — Only 15 ships flying the American flag, "a disgustingly small number," are using the St. Lawrence Seaway, a federal official said Thursday.

Joseph H. McCann, deputy administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., appeared before the World Trade Club of Detroit to discuss future prospects for the seaway.

He said a "rash of optimism" prevailed when the seaway opened in 1959, but after the first year, several American lines discontinued seaway operations.

Hunting Season Lists 1st Gunshot Victim

By The Associated Press

Michigan recorded the first gunshot victim of its 15-day deer hunting season Thursday.

The season began Wednesday.

Donald Koehouse, 26, of Grand Rapids, was shot and killed in Reading Township, Clare County. A bullet struck him in the back. State police said they were investigating and that no one was held in the shooting.

Man Most Likely to Succeed Rayburn

McCormack Is 'Old Pro' in House Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. McCormack, the man most likely to succeed Sam Rayburn as speaker of the House, is a rough and tough politician from the "wrong" side of the Boston railroad tracks.

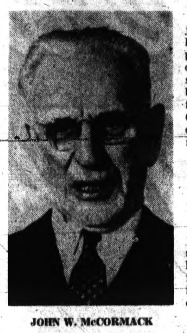
An "old pro" in the field of politics, McCormack is now House Democratic leader. He has been in public life more than 50 years and has included among his temporary antagonists from time to time his fellow Bostonian—from the "right" side of the tracks — President John F. Kennedy.

McCormack will be 70 Dec. 21, but his looks and actions belie his age. He is hale, hearty and apparently in the best of health. By political standards he is a "clean" liver. His admitted vices are incessant cigar smoking and rough, but never obscene, talk.



JOHN W. McCORMACK

His family life has long been a model. In all the 41 years of his married life he cleaims he never has missed having evening dinner with his wife, the former Harriet Joyce, of South Boston. They have no children.

He may find it difficult to adjust quickly from the brass knuckles job of floor leader to the post of speaker, where kid gloves often are needed. But he has had some experience. When Sam Rayburn left Washington last August for his final trip to Texas, McCormack was elected acting speaker and served in that capacity almost one month.

As floor leader he won a reputation as a "needler." Sharp of tongue, witty and fast on his feet, he loved a good debate and he took on all comers.

After three years of Army service in World Ward I, he served seven years in the Massachusetts legislature, two of them as senate floor leader. He came to Congress in 1928 and has been in the House ever since.

McCormack's differences with President Kennedy and the Kennedy political organization in Massachusetts date far back but reached a peak in 1956 when Kennedy failed to support Foster Furcolo, the Democratic nominee for the Senate, who was backed by McCormack.

But in his expected new role as speaker, McCormack, always a team man, is expected to go all-out for his President.

In 1940, he became Democratic leader of the House following Rayburn's elevation to the speakership, and with the reported backing of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

McCormack calls himself a "conservative liberal." His ability as a compromiser won him the post of chairman of the platform committee of several Democratic national conventions.

* * *

Court Her, Abby Says

Loses Wife Not 'Weight'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife has been very much overweight for the past five years. In spite of my efforts she has refused to do anything about it. Several months ago my mother suggested I give her a hard time, call her "baby elephant" and pay a lot of attention to women with nice figures. I did this for about six months without results.

ABBY

Finally, my wife packed up and left. Now she tells me she wants a divorce so she can marry a man who LIKES fat women. I love her very much and would take her back if she weighed 300. How do I get her back?

BACKFIRED

DEAR BACK: Court her with flowers, telegrams, phone calls and promises. If this doesn't work — ask your mother.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and want to know something. This has happened twice to me with two different boys and I am not sure what to do about it. When a boy takes you out and says he has had a great time and promises to call you on a certain day at a certain time and then doesn't call, what should you say to him the next time you see him?

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Don't mention his broken promise. He obviously "forgot," didn't care or his immaturity is showing. In any case, he's not worth worrying about.

DEAR ABBY: How can I keep my husband's family from begging practically everything I own? For example, my mother-in-law will say, "I'll be glad when you get a new living room suite so I can have your old one." (I had not mentioned getting a new one.)

Also a sister-in-law announced, "When you get through with that purse, don't throw it away. I want it."

I made new drapes for my living room and stored the old ones in a box in my attic, thinking I might use them later for something else. My mother-in-law and two of her daughters jumped on me to get the old drapes. I felt guilty saying I was "keeping them," so I finally gave them up. All the relatives who beg things from me are better off financially than I am. How can I keep them off my back?

He later was transferred to Hawaii where he led Redeemer Lutheran Church of Honolulu in the building of a new church and school. In 1956 Rev. Hope Chest Should Be Returned

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: About a month ago I broke my engagement and returned the ring to my fiance. This past week I received a letter from his mother asking that I return the hope chest he had given me for my birthday and also that I return the presents given me by friends at a party which followed the engagement.

I do not feel that I am required to return any of these. In fact, some of the more personal gifts have already been used. I feel pretty certain that I have every right to say "no" to her, but I would appreciate reassurance from you.

A: I think very definitely that the hope chest should be returned to your ex-fiance and other gifts intended for your future home returned to those who gave them to you. Personal items which have been put into use can not be returned, of course.

Q: For the past year I have gone to the same beauty salon and have had the same operator do my hair. I always gave him a substantial tip. Just recently this man opened his own beauty salon and I will be going there from now on to have my hair done. I would like to know if I should continue to give him a tip?

A: The owner of a beauty salon is not given a tip but in this special case I think you should offer him a tip as usual the first time you go there if he himself does your hair, and correctly he should not accept it. If he does and you notice others are tipping him, then it is evident he expects to be tipped.

Q: A very dear friend of mine has just announced her engagement. However, she will not be married until spring. Will you please tell me the proper time to give her a shower? Should it be given now or just before the wedding?

A: You should give the shower shortly before the wedding.

Exercises Reduce Thighs

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(Question Box)

Q. "How long does it take to see some difference in one's figure after beginning figure molding exercises? Also, when is the best time to exercise, in the morning or at night?"

A. The length of time it takes before seeing improvement depends on how regularly and efficiently you do the exercises and also on the measurement. Some measurements respond more quickly than others. Usually, the waistline is first to decrease in size. The abdomen is next, while the hips and thighs are usually more stubborn.

Your exercises will be equally valuable whether taken at night or in the morning. Do them when it is most convenient and pleasant for you, the only exception being when digestion is at its height.

Q. "Can you please tell me what kind of a doctor to consult about my leg? One is shorter than the other."

A. See an orthopedic physician.

Q. "I am 4 feet, 11 inches tall and weigh 121 pounds. I am 40 years old. I was always thin, but now have gained some weight. Everyone thinks I look good. Should I lose some weight?"

A. The pounds you gain finally, after trying for years to do so, can be heagy as well as hippy. If you have a small frame, you are a little overweight. If you have a medium to large frame, your weight is satisfactory.

Q. "Will creams and lotions cause hair to grow on the face?"

A. No.

Q. "I am only 21 years old but I am faced with a very distracting problem. I have bags under my eyes. What causes them and how can I get rid of them?"

A. There are many causes. Perhaps you should see your doctor for a checkup. Loss of sleep, too much smoking and too little exercise, malnutrition and allergies, can cause these, as well as some physical disorders.

Q. "I would like to know if I should weigh more. I am 5 feet, 6 inches tall and weigh 122 pounds. Tell me about my measurements, too, please. My bust measures 34 inches, waist 25 and hips 36½. I have a medium frame."

A. Since you have a medium build, you should gain about 10 pounds. Your weight is just about right for a small frame — concentrate on hip-slimming exercises for a loss of an inch-and-a-half.

Army Tests Indicate Red Draws the Men

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A lieutenant colonel who is something of an expert on color and its effect on human beings recently gave a strictly feminine audience a few hot tips on what red could do for them that blue couldn't.

According to the officer, when a group of bachelors were tested to find out how susceptible they were to the charms of a pretty girl wearing first one color and then another — the color of the girl's dress made a whale of a difference.

The bachelors' breathing and blood pressure remained the same when they looked through a two-way mirror at a pretty girl dressed in white. Ditto when they gazed at a pretty girl dressed in yellow. Worse than ditto when they beheld a sweet little Alice blue gown.

But when the girl appeared in red — the graphs went crazy as the bachelors' blood pressure soared.

Maybe we women ought to pay more attention to the colonel's blood pressure charts — and not so much to the fashion magazines and saleswomen who tell us what colors are "good" this season.

If red makes men's pulses quicken, then red ought to be good every season and why should we be spending money on clothes of "deliciously dirty green" (as one decorator calls one of the newer shades) or beige or gray or yellow).

Maybe wives shouldn't even listen to what colors their husbands say they like them to wear. For as the colonel pointed out to the ladies, "Your husband may like you to wear blue but that won't stop him from whistling at a girl in red." Maybe husband's like for their wives to wear blue just so nobody will whistle at them!

Here's some good reading for husbands: "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just Send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, care of The Pontiac Press.

This Joe College Goes to a Don Juan's Paradise

By LEO SOROKA

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Music student Charles Schmitt wishes he had more time for dates.

Schmitt is the only male student.

Schmitt, who plays guitar, clarinet and piano, wanted to study art and music at a Catholic college. The only Catholic college in St. Louis which offered the courses he wanted was Webster. He applied and was admitted.

Sister Marie Francis, dean at Webster, said Schmitt is a "guinea pig." If he works out, Webster hopes to admit more male students next year.

SOME TROUBLE

Schmitt had a little trouble explaining it to his draft board. Some of his friends teased him. And a few of his Webster College classmates pinned the nickname "Charlene" on him. But most of the girls "made me feel at ease," he said.

His friends still joke about Schmitt's choice of a college. his mother, Mrs. Marie Schmidtt, said, but "They know who to ask when they need to find a date."

Trouble is, with all those classes at two schools and Schmitt's two jobs, there just isn't enough time for dating. He helps his father give guitar lessons and he plays in a dance band evenings.

Still, he admits he has dated "two, or maybe three" of his Webster classmates.

Schmitt has made quite an impression on several of his classmates.

Jeannette Stoughton, 18, a green-eyed blonde, said it will be all right if Webster goes coed if all the males admitted are "like Chuck."

Campus Newsletter

By SHARON WARREN

University of Michigan students can now look back at midterm examinations, perhaps with a few misgivings, and turn their thoughts to the future which holds final exams, and to many a second chance.

Before those finals, there are weeks filled with studying and countless papers to write, but never let it be said that University of Michigan students are concerned only with books. Most of them find that the extra-curricular activities enrich their campus experience.

Marcia Kempf of Birmingham was one of 17 University of Michigan women to be appointed to positions in the Woman's League, the university coed activities center. She is a member of the house committee.

This committee carries out social functions and extra curricular events for the league. Marcia is a junior in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts.

A senior in the School of Education, Lynn Lopata, was initiated into Scroll, the senior - affiliated women's honorary society. Lynn who also lives in Birmingham, is a member of the Delta Gamma sorority.

Forty-one University of Michigan Navy ROTC students have been appointed regular midshipmen in the U.S. Navy Reserves.

Selected on the basis of nationwide competitive tests, the regulars will accept commissions in the U.S. Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation.

Thomas K. Boughner of Birmingham was one of those named. He is a freshman in the School of Engineering.

David Cullen of Bloomfield Hills was one of 21 top-ranking men and women students enrolled in the freshman class of the University of Michigan Medical School who will enter the school's Special Studies Program. The university has begun an extensive extracurricular program, launched last year, as an incentive to superior students, joining the sophomores and juniors who started the program in 1960.

Council of Churches Discussed by Women

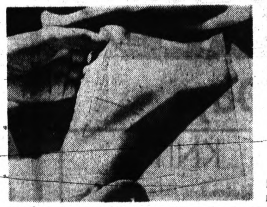
New Patterns Do Away With Much Work

AT LEFT — The new press-on patterns are simple to use. Just place and pin the pieces on your fabric's reverse side. With a warm iron press firmly along the pattern markings.

BELOW — Directions for darts, pleats, seams and other details are transferred instantly onto the fabric. The ink doesn't blot and comes out when your garment is washed or dry cleaned.

Sew It!



NEW YORK — A new press-on dress pattern introduced this year looks like an ordinary pattern, but it is the most unusual one ever developed.

This new pattern, called Easy-Mark, eliminates the tedious process of marking, tracing, and making tailor tacks to mark darts and seams to be sewn.

It is simple to use. All you do is place the pattern pieces on the reverse side of your fabric and affix with straight pins.

Using a warm iron, gently but firmly press along the pattern markings, going over them twice for good measure.

Instantly, all the directions for making darts, pleats, seams and details are transferred onto the fabric. The patented Easy-Mark ink will not run or blot. It comes out in washing or dry cleaning. At this point, all you need to do is cut out the pattern and you're ready for sewing.

Thus far, McCall's Patterns, developers of the new process, have made three Easy-Mark fashion styles available. First is a slim classic dress, with round, easy neck, molded bodice and slightly gathered waist.

The press-on pattern can be used twice. When the ink is used up, the pattern can be used in the conventional way. Prices are in the same range as other patterns.

Other press-on fashions released this year include a tailored two-piece walking suit and a mother-and-daughter ensemble.

Cards Swamp Caroline, Little John

WASHINGTON (AP) — The birthdays of little John Jr. and Caroline Kennedy are still more than a week off, but Americans are remembering them with early birthday cards and gifts.

The cards have been coming in at the rate of 75-a-day since about Nov. 9, the White House reported. And they are sent in about equal numbers by adults and children.

About a fourth are from children who have the same birthdays—Nov. 25 for little John, who will be just 1 year old, and Nov. 27 for Caroline, who is turning 4.

A sampling of the gay greeting cards—featuring mostly animals and toys—are being shown Caroline every day, a White House spokesman said.

Rail Crossing Crash Injures Sixty-Two

The train was traveling about 80 miles an hour some 20 miles southeast of Des Moines when the accident occurred. All three diesel locomotive units and nine of the 11 coaches left the tracks.

Swift approval to provide Civil Defense radios to all Pontiac public schools was given by the Board of Education at its meeting last night.

Cost for 23 battery-operated radios will be about $750. Eleven schools already have the radios.

The radios were recommended by the civil defense committee of the Pontiac Administrators Association which recently held its first meeting. The committee is making a detailed study of the civil defense needs of the school district, according to its chairman, Asst. Supt. Otto C. Hufziger.

Why Chrysler hasn't fooled around with "in-betweens" and "baby brothers"

An encouraging word to you who may be slightly confused and faintly unhappy about the wide variety of cars in the market today

If all the baby brothers, junior editions, and in-between sizes of cars you've known and liked for years have you slightly confused and faintly unhappy, we hope you'll take a long, hard look at the cars from Chrysler Corporation.

Although our 1962 models are probably the most truly modern cars on the road, they are designed and engineered with the old-fashioned notion that a Chrysler is a Chrysler, a Dodge is a Dodge, and a Plymouth is a Plymouth.

You'll know where you're at with a 1962 car from Chrysler Corporation, and we think you'll find it a good place to be.

To begin with, there are some things our cars do have in common.

There's no fat or dead weight. Each car has a trim, racy look. They're nimble in traffic, far easier to handle and park. And they do what a lot of automotive engineers thought was impossible. They give you a lot more action on a lot less gas. Acceleration is up as much as 10%; gas mileage, which was already outstanding, is up as much as 7%.

These are the cars that we have to offer:

IMPERIAL

This is the most luxurious car we make, and nobody in the country makes one plushier. Leather hides, for example, are finished by hand. Upholstery is shrink-fitted to seats with live steam. It is truly America's most carefully built car. Prices start at $4,920*.

CHRYSLER

This is the big car that first made Chrysler engineering famous. This year the Chrysler 300, the car our engineers use to show how much performance can be put into an automobile, is available in a new series priced just above the Chrysler Newport. Previously there was only an expensive limited edition. Chrysler Newport prices start at $2,964*.

DODGE

Now priced with Ford and Chevrolet, Dodge has always been known for dependability. This year we've added a dash of daring to give you quality without bulk. There's still plenty of head and legroom, but reducing the car to road-hugging live weight gives you more zip in a car that gets more miles out of every gallon. Prices start at $2,241*.

PLYMOUTH

LANCER

This is the compact that can cruise along at turnpike speeds without pressing, but it uses regular gasoline sparingly, as a compact car should. Exclusive Torsion-Aire Ride, used in our most expensive cars, gives the Lancer an unusually comfortable ride. Prices start at $1,951*.

VALIANT

This is the compact frequently mistaken for an expensive foreign make, although it's priced like a compact. With its advanced Slant-Six Engine, it combines the economy of a compact with passing power you expect to find only in larger engines. Prices start at $1,930*.

Six cars, no confusion. Each designed to offer you something extra in its price class. Before you decide on your next new car, drive one of these.

Recovery Pilots Shrug Off Feat

Discoverer's Captors Felt They Could Succeed in Thursday Test

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP)— A handful of men in the workhorse program of American space efforts modestly shrugged off the latest recovery of a "laboratory" from outer space.

"We're confident we can do it," said the skipper of the huge four-engine C130 Hercules that snagged Discoverer 35's gold-plate nosecone on the fly near Hawaii on Thursday.

2ND TO SPOT

Capt. James F. McCullough, 33, of Wyncote, Pa., was the second pilot to spot the glistening capsule descending by parachute 500 miles northwest of Honolulu.

McCullough said Capt. Jack Wilson, flying another C130, first sighted the capsule but there was some miscalculation and McCullough got his big chance. Ordinarily, the first pilot to spot the capsule gets first crack at it.

"I feel real good," he said on his return to Hickam Air Force Base.

It was the seventh Discoverer nosecone caught in the air by recovery aircraft of the 6953rd Test Squadron. Three other capsules have been fished from the sea.

Killed in Auto Smash-Up

YPSILANTI (AP) — John V. Antila, 38, of Ypsilanti died Thursday night when his car struck a metal barricade at the end of Stoney Creek Road at Textile Road in Ypsilanti Township. State Police said Antilla apparently did not heed a stop sign at the intersection.

U.S. Going Slow on Easing Trade for Latin Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has changed its mind about easing economic sanctions on the Dominican Republic after hearing that two of Rafael Trujillo's brothers had returned to the island.

U.S. officials were not certain what the return of the late dictator's brothers, Hector and Arismendi, might imply, but expressed fear it could mean reversal of recent trends towards liberalizing the Dominican Republic's political system.

The new stand was announced Thursday by the State Department. Assistant Secretary of State Robert F. Woodward asked that action be suspended indefinitely on a proposal he made three days ago before the Organization of American States.

Parents Seized Trying to Follow Sons to West

BERLIN (UPI) — Two tearful young brothers who escaped Thursday night from barricaded East Berlin told West Berlin police the Communists captured their parents when they tried to follow.

The brothers, aged 10 and 12, crawled through Red-strung barbed wire into the Spandau District of West Berlin. The fate of their parents was unknown.

Alleges Race Bias at Michigan State

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Negro student at Michigan State University says the university is apathetic and unaware of some racial problems existing at the school.

Joe S. Syfax, a Detroit political science sophomore and president of the campus chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asked at a special meeting of the chapter Thursday for the university to look into racial discrimination on the campus.

He told the group that the university's philosophy of opposing racial discrimination does not coincide with what certain departments at the university practice. Syfax said:

"Students are discriminated against in housing and employment. It is our duty to see that the university serves all the students."

Khrushchev Says: Everything in Its Time

Is Ulbricht of East Germany Next Idol to Tumble?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Before Aug. 13, you could drive through the Brandenburg Gate dividing East and West Berlin, proceed along the Unter Den Linden and in a few minute reach broad Stalinallee.

In another minute or so, before reaching the great concrete pile which is the Soviet embassy, you would pass a huge statue of Stalin.

It remained as a tribute to the memory of the former dictator five years after Nikita Khrushchev first denounced him at the 20th party congress in 1956.

Stalinallee was a Communist "show" street. Along it, for those favored by the party, they erected huge, Moscow - style apartment buildings from whose cream-colored exteriors the tiles now are falling.

The fact that the statue remained and the street retained its name was symbolic, for all the Soviet satellites with the exception of Albania, East Germany continued to adhere most closely to the old Stalinist line.

IN DEAD OF NIGHT

But this week, in the dead of night, the Communists ripped down the statue, tore out its base and returned to a part of Stalinallee its old name, Frankfurterallee.

With de-Stalinization at last come to East Germany, there is speculation that the man Stalin placed in East Germany as his puppet might also be about to fall.

He is 67-year-old Walter Ulbricht, a man noted as much for unpopularity among his own kind as for his durability in top Communist leadership.

Ulbricht has been compared to a machine, a man without compassion or other human emotion.

HE'S BEEN 'SMART'

He has held his position because 22 Russian divisions backed him up and because he has been able to test accurately the winds that blow from Moscow.

The son of a Leipzig tailor, Ulbricht became a Communist soon after World War I. With the advent of the Nazis to power in Germany, he fled to Moscow in 1937 and became a Soviet citizen, a fact not overlooked in either East or West Germany.

His reward was his triumphal return to Germany on May 2, 1945, as the No. 1 Communist for Germany.

The East Berlin revolt which exploded on June 17, 1953, nearly toppled him but he held on by pointing out to Moscow that to remove him would be to admit defeat and thus encourage further uprisings.

GAVE LIP SERVICE

He gained further disfavor with Moscow by giving lip service only to the Khrushchev-de-Stalinization program in 1956.

Then, a since deposed East German party leader was reported to have demanded of Khrushchev: "You have gotten rid of your Stalin. Now how about ours (Ulbricht)."

To which came the cryptic reply: "Everything in its time."

Ulbricht's removal would aid relations between the two Germanys. But once more he may have saved himself. It is Ulbricht who is supposed to have convinced Khrushchev that the Western Allies would do nothing against erection on Aug. 13 of the wall across Berlin.

Suggest Bombs Weren't 'Dirty'

British, Japanese Data Reveals Scarcity of U237 in Fallout Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Foreign dispatches suggest that the Russian superbombs may have had comparatively little radioactive fallout.

This possibility is inferred from the reported absence or scarcity of uranium-237 in Soviet fallout analyzed in Great Britain and Japan. U237 is a short-lived artificial radioactive substance, the telltale trademark of one kind of dirty bomb.

But American scientists say it is impossible to tell from the meager published reports whether the 25-megaton Soviet bomb tested Oct. 23 and the 55-60 megaton bomb exploded Oct. 30 were clean or dirty.

This may not become known to the public until the bulk of the Russian fallout starts coming down from the high atmosphere next spring and is reported by Public Health Service monitors.

Seeping Gas Kills Couple at Okemos

OKEMOS (AP)—Gas seeping from a converted furnace caused the death of a state labor mediator and his wife in their Okemos home, state police pathologist Charles E. Black said today.

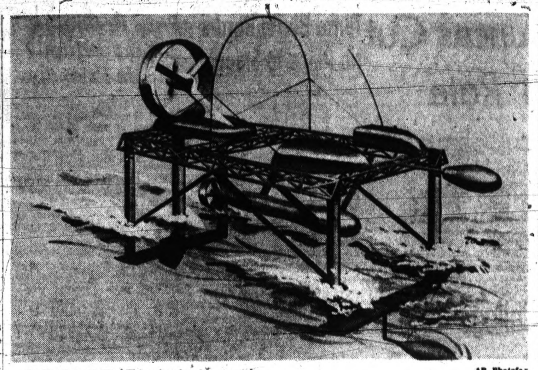
Police at first were puzzled by the deaths when they found the bodies of the husband and wife, both in night clothes, in their rural, ranch-type home Thursday.

Poisoning or food poisoning were advanced as first theories.

Black said cause of death was carbon monoxide poisoning. The furnace recently had been converted from oil to gas, he said. Police were rechecking today to pinpoint the leak.



TORPEDO SLED—This sketch of a torpedo-carrying sea sled appeared Nov. 15 in Data Magazine. It is designed to travel at speeds up to 80 miles an hour and would be controlled by a mother ship in its swift search for submarines.

Inmates Donate $160 to Woman, Seven Children

MICHINGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—A $160 gift from the meager wages of 250 prisoners in the Indiana State Prison has been sent to an inmate's destitute wife and seven children.

Warden Ward Lane said Thursday the prisoners raised the money.

Many of the donations were around 25 cents, but one was for $15. Prison wages in several shops in the prison average 10 cents a day.

Trenton Local Rejects UAW-Chrysler Contract

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers Local 372 voted Thursday to reject the union's three-year contract with Chrysler Corp.

James Martin, president of the local at Chrysler's Trenton engine plant, said the 2,800 members rejected the pact by a 2½ to 1 margin.

WSU Crowd Hears Alleged Communist

DETROIT (AP)—An overflow crowd jammed a Wayne State University lecture hall Thursday to hear Herbert Aptheker speak despite protests against his appearance.

Some 200 persons, including students, teachers, reporters, photographers, FBI men, state police, Detroit police and observers from such organizations as the Daughters of the American Revolution, heard Aptheker discuss "The Negro in the American Civil War." Aptheker, 46, is a recognized expert on the subject.

Aptheker, who has been called a Communist by the House Un-American Activities Committee, was invited to speak by Wayne's independent socialist club.

His appearance was protested by certain groups which felt he should not be allowed to appear.

'Sullen Hulks' Fill Schools, Charges Ex-College Head

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Too many schools are filled with students who have no interest in capacity for self-advancement, says a former president of Fordham University.

Immigration Restriction Put on Commonwealth

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons approved a bill Thursday night limiting Commonwealth immigration to Britain. The Labor party protested that it was a shameful, shabby measure rooted in racial discrimination.

AMC Announces Cut in Dividend Rate

DETROIT (AP)—Lower earnings and a 10-cent cut in the dividend rate were announced by American Motors Corp. Thursday.

AMC President George Romney said net earnings for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30 were $23,578,894, equal to $1.31 a share, compared with $48,243,361 in fiscal 1960 and $60,045,760 in fiscal 1959.

Romney said the quarterly dividend was being cut from 30 cents to 20 cents but that an extra two per cent stock dividend was declared.

He said total cash dividend payments for the calendar year will run $1.10 plus the stock equivalent of 37.5 cents. Dividends last year totaled $1.05.

The earnings came on net sales of $875,723,788, compared with sales of $1,057,716,147 in the previous year.

He said car production in the current quarter would run to about 129,000 units, a bit higher than in the same quarter a year ago, while January-March schedules call for "substantially higher" auto output.

Romney said some of the factors accounting for the lower earnings were a drop in general business activity early in the year; closer competitive pricing; greater outlays for tooling; accelerated writeoffs of recent investments in production facilities; more liberal owner warranty terms, and increased cost of sales stimulation.

College 'Bridge' Passes Test

Northern High Program Leads Students Into Guiding Own Study

A "bridge" from high school to college has been tested and found satisfactory at Pontiac Northern High School.

The bridge is a pilot program in which college prep seniors are gradually guided to direct their own studying efforts.

"In the first year of college, a student usually takes a nose-dive, because he suddenly is left to himself to study," one of the teachers in the program said in a report to the Pontiac Board of Education last night.

Two other teachers also in the project this year are: Peter Evarts, English, and John Maturo, social studies.

The three, who teach 80 students, were joined in their report by Northern principal Philip J. Wargelin.

The program is now in its second year. In the first year, four teachers had 120 students.

Students in the pilot program have been found to make more gains in learning than students in a "control group" who did not participate in the project, according to tests given them in September 1960 and again in June 1961.

Miss Murphy pointed out, the tests give more of a "probable" than a definite picture. However, she felt that "real gains had been made."

Maturo, reporting on interviews with a small number of former pilot program students now at University of Michigan, also agreed that the program had been helpful to the students.

Tense Berlin Border No Place to Stagger

BERLIN (AP)—Seven East Berliners escaped during the night, West Berlin police reported, but East Berlin police almost captured one recent refugee who was drunk at the wrong place.

The man, who fled recently from East Berlin, reeled up to the Friedrichstrasse crossing and stepped a few inches over the line. An East policeman seized his arm. Three West Berlin customs inspectors and a West Berlin policeman grabbed the man and pulled him back.

Park Returning to Korea Happy U.S. Is Friendly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Chung Hee Park said today he is returning to South Korea greatly encouraged that "the United States stands squarely behind us."

The 44-year-old chief of South Korea's military junta stated that view as he sent out for New York after three days of talks with President Kennedy and U.S. Cabinet officials.

"We have informed them fully of our actions of the present and plans for the future," Park said. "They have displayed keen insight into recent Korean developments and appreciation of the various tasks undertaken by our revolutionary government."

Sec. McNamara Regrets Loss of Gen. Walker

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara expressed a measure of regret today that Maj. Gen. Edward A. Walker resigned from the Army after a controversy over his troop indoctrination program.

"I hate to see an able combat officer resign from the Army," McNamara told a news conference.

Walker resigned after he was relieved of his 24th Infantry command in Germany and admonished on charges he sought to influence votes of his troops and had made derogatory remarks about former President Harry S. Truman and other prominent Americans.

Strike Votes Set by UAW in Canada

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — George Burt, Canadian director of the United Auto Workers Union, announced that strike votes will probably be taken Nov. 26 at General Motors locals in Oshawa, St. Catharines, Windsor, Toronto and London.

Burt said a recommendation to this affect was made by the General Motors Intra-Corporation Council.

A conciliation board, ordered by the Ontario Department of Labor, will meet Nov. 28 in Toronto on the GM dispute. Seven days after the board reports, the union will be free to strike.

Burt blamed the strike votes on a lack of satisfactory progress at both the master and local bargaining tables.

School Board Hesitant to 'Loan' Stadium to Team

The Pontiac Board of Education last night gave a lukewarm reception to a request by the Detroit Redskins for use of Wisner Stadium in 1962.

However, board members agreed to ask a representative of the professional football team to present his case.

The board was reacting to a letter received by Supt. Dana P. Whitmer and to Whitmer's information that previous commitments to local schools had already been made.

In the letter, Redskins Manager D. J. Molinaro had expressed interest in using the stadium Saturday nights for "five or six home games" in the 1962 season.

Whitmer pointed out that the stadium is already being used by Pontiac public schools and three parochial schools.

In the present school year, he said, the playing schedule at Wisner shows use of seven Fridays, eight Saturdays and seven Sundays.

Whitmer questioned whether there would be enough Saturdays open in the fall of 1962 to satisfy the Redskins.

Member William H. Anderson suggested the team might be asked if it were interested in a week night.

Whitmer also said that Athletics Director Hollie L. Lepley had counseled against use of the field "more than once a day or three times a weekend."

Board member Monroe M. Osmun commented: "We can't let such a request interfere with our existing program. We are duty-bound to give time not only to our public schools but also to the two Catholic and the Emmanuel Christian schools."

The Rev. J. Allen Parker asked: "Don't you feel it would be a courteous thing to invite him (General Manager Molinaro) in? Off-hand I don't know, but there might be some justification to make a sacrifice."

Red China's Problems Will Give U.S. Breathing Spell

BY JOHN STROHM

HONG KONG (NEA) — Red China's grave food shortages, industrial stagnation and sick and sullen people probably will give the U.S. a 10-year breathing spell without big trouble, Peiping's bosses will need that long to work their way out of the mess they're in, acording to close observers.

If China's two-JOHN STROHM bit gets worse, as it could very easily, the U.S. may expect something such as a diversionary war in rich-rich Southeast Asia.

If China explodes an atomic device in the next two years, it may conceivably prompt her to trigger World War III.

Whatever she does, internal weakness—not strength—will determine her course of action.

For the mainland is shown by my interviews with refugees to be in deep trouble. It is badly in need of a new rallying cry for her people. The Communist movement—warmly welcomed by the vast majority of the population when Red troops ousted Chiang Kai-shek in 1948-49—has lost its momentum.

"I believe almost 100 per cent of those who welcomed the Communists as true liberators would now escape from the mainland if they thought they could," a refugee ex-member of a government cadre told me.

The people are worn physically, from dawn-to-dusk labor on meager rations and mentally, from constant Communist exhortation.

"What will the Communists do when they run out of campaigns and enemies to march against?" I half-jokingly asked a British diplomat in Peiping in 1958. I had seen the Communists keep the people off balance with anti-American rallies . . . crusades against pests . . . the incredible backyard steel campaign . . . the precipitous formation of the communes.

GRIM REPLY

An invasion of South Viet Nam, similar to the Red Chinese "volunteer" mission of Korea, might help divert the people from their troubles and rally the people against foreign imperialism.

Why Viet Nam? For one thing, Communist boasts to liberate Formosa are getting a little stale. And rice-rich countries must look inviting.

China also is smarting under the realization that she has lost face among the underdeveloped nations of Asia and Africa who were openly intrigued with the supposed Chinese accomplishments.

Mao would have a more deadly alternative if and when he gets the Bomb which foreign scientists believe will be in the next year or two. Here might be Mao's reasoning.

"Now that I have the Bomb I can threaten to start a war unless I get loans and technical help. Threats seem to have paid off for Tito.

"If I don't get help, then I'm sure I can always find an excuse to really start an atomic war. World War III would be a great leveler. It would cause great destruction in China—but far more to the factories and peoples of America, Europe and Russia. After the war, we would all start even—except we could have by far the most people. We might lose 300 million people but China would be the only nation with 300 million left. The Chinese would have a good chance of inheriting the earth."

There's evidence the Soviet Union is concerned about this monster on her flank. A large apartment building housing Russian technicians in Shanghai suddenly went dark in May, 1960, a graphic sign that all technicians were yanked out.

Early in the 50s, Russia agreed to finance and build 292 industrial projects in China. She has completed or partially completely 150. The rest are at a standstill because China is $300 million behind in payment.

Help from other Iron Curtain partners has been drying up of late. Peiping, for lack of money or credit, recently canceled orders for complete factories that were being turned out in Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Red China's first problem is to feed her people enough to keep them reasonably happy and healthy enough to get some work done. But the food facts are brutal:

Red China has 200 million more mouths to feed than she had in 1943-49—more than the entire U.S. population. And she has less acres of cultivated land. Just to feed her population increase each year will take an additional 120 million bushels of wheat.

LAND SHORTAGE

China has only .38 of an acre of arable land per capita. The U.S. has 2.7 acres—more than six times as much.

Even with the help of six million tons of imported grain in 1961 (plus that much more in 1962), Red China rations are 1,800 calories per person. This is less than the 2,200 to 2,300 calories that the Chinese had before World War II.

Even if Red China could feed her people, she needs capital to develop industry. There is no private wealth. Rich landlords were murdered and stripped of their possessions. Private business has been completely taken over.

Although her people are hungry and ragged, China gets some capital by exporting a long line of food products and textiles abroad, but with the Great Step Backward and open admission that agriculture must come first, light industry second, and heavy industry third," the opportunity to squeeze any extra out of agriculture to finance industrialization is more remote.

I believe China has the land resources to feed her people, if certain things were done.

Incentive must be restored to the people. Reluctant Communist bosses have already made—for them—considerable concessions by giving the peasant the right to raise a pig and chickens, have a private garden plot and to sell the produce on the black market.

Private ownership of more land would increase China's food production. But the more incentives given the peasants, the hard-er it will be for the government to get its hands on the food.

NEED FERTILIZER

More chemical fertilizer must be used. Red China currently uses about 1.7 pounds of fertilizer nutrients per capita—whereas the U.S. uses 73 pounds.

Jonathan Garst, fertilizer specialist, estimates a $3 billion investment in fertilizer plants in India would be the equivalent of adding 100 million acres of good farm land for India.

This would be roughly true in China. China is building some fertilizer plants but in 1958, she produced only 800,000 tons, while importing 2 million tons.

Resources must be better managed. Complete irrigation overhaul would produce more food from the same land. As long as 85 per cent of the people are needed in agriculture, Red China can never have a high standard of living.

All Communist countries I've visited around the world—East Germany, Poland, Russia and Red China—have found agriculture the hardest nut to crack.

Perhaps the best the U.S. can hope for is that the Communist system will be compromised and eroded by necessity until we can live with its government and influence her towards our way of life.

NO CHANCE OF REVOLT

The possibility of revolt, such as in Hungary, is not likely. There's no evidence that the Communist party or the army in China is unhappy.

"We were treated better and always got more rations than the workers," an ex-army man told me at Macao. Party members get bigger rations.

Can Chiang Kai-shek return to the mainland?

Every refugee I talked with who had escaped from the Communists doubted it. Only a handful of the refugees want to go to Taiwan to join the Nationalists.

Of course, these refugees have heard only Peiping's version of conditions on Chiang's island stronghold.

Editors Warned of Needed Study

AP Men Told Papers Must Adapt to Change in Reading Habits

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A researcher told newspaper editors today that studies must be conducted to learn how people read a newspaper.

Dr. Chilton Bush of Stanford University said "we need to develop a body of knowledge that explains news reading behavior."

MUST CHANGE

He said the knowledge is needed "because the newspaper has to adapt to change. The main change is in the higher education of the audience.

"Another change is in the development of new media that present news and entertainment."

Dr. Bush and Lisle Baker Jr., vice president and general manager of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, took part in a panel discussion on newspapers at a meeting of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association. The panel was moderated by Howard Cleavinger of the Spokane Chronicle, chairman of the APME journalism research committee.

In a speech prepared for the meeting, Dr. Bush suggested the "establishment of a clearing house to report and interpret research in a regular newsletter to editors and publishers."

* * *

Cleavinger also called for "a clearing house for dissemination of results" of research. He said his research committee can not undertake major projects itself but it "should spark journalism schools and others to undertake major projects which newspaper folk think are necessary."

Official Repeats OK of Diggs' Merger

LANSING (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford has refused to reverse his approval of a merger between a Detroit insurance firm and one from Kentucky.

The Detroit firm is owned by Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., D-Mich. and his father, both of Detroit. The elder Diggs is a former state senator.

Both Blackford and the Kentucky insurance commissioner had approved the merger between the Detroit Metropolitan Assurance Co. and the Mammoth Life and Accident Insurance Co. of Louisville, Ky.

After two days of hearings, Blackford said no new evidence or no new testimony was produced.

K's Son-in-Law En Route to 10-Day U.S. Visit

PARIS (AP) —Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the Moscow newspaper Izvestia and son-in-law of Soviet Premier Khrushchev, was in Paris Thursday night en route to the United States.

He told reporters: "I will stay in the United States about 10 days to do a series of stories and especially to interview President Kennedy. My ambition is to work for the better understanding of our two peoples who should know each other better."

Stage Set for PNH vs. PCH

By CHUCK ABAIR

The stage is set for the long-awaited, 2nd football meeting between Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central.

Kickoff time will be 8 p.m. tonight at Wisner Stadium.

Head coaches Ed Heikkinen of PNH and Paul Dellerba of PCH completed workouts for the "game of the year" with light sessions yesterday. Now it's up to the boys.

The contest shapes up as a much better battle than last year's 54-14 romp by the Chiefs although Central is favored to repeat the victory.

Northern has the better season records in most departments but it must be remembered that all of the PCH games have been in the rugged Saginaw Valley League.

The Huskies, tonight's host, have a 6-2 over-all record and finished 3rd in the Inter-Lakes race by dropping a pair of close verdicts. The "visitors" wound up 5th in the nine-team SVC and also dropped some tight ones.

Heikkinen's charges have a 162-61 scoring record with a high of 40 and low of 6. The Dellerbamen are 72-112 with a high of 26 while being shutout twice. Each has played good defensive ball, most of the season.

Both have been predominantly running teams. Chris Payne, Dave Shields and Rick Fisher have led the Huskies to a 1,607-yard rushing total. They have gained 230 passing on 17-for-38 and have one aerial touchdown—that a flip by sub Jim Kimmel. The best rushing total was 394 against Lake Orion and lowest 10 at Walled Lake. Top passing yardage was 77 at Berkley and lowest none vs Walled Lake.

The Chiefs have rushed for 1,453 yards as compared to 276 in passing on 20 completions in 67 attempts. Bob Pomeroy has thrown for two scores. A 281 total against Saginaw and 109 mark vs Midland were the best team games for running and passing, respectively. Roy Couser, Charles Humphrey, Elbert Hall, Jesse Hodge and the departed Andy Roach piled up most of the rushing total.

Dick Richards, Wayne Lee and Tom Eichhorn head the PCH forward wall.

The favorites will have a big weight edge and also an advantage of experience.

Both teams will go into the battle in top physical condition which will be good news to fans of both sides. Each squad has had injury problems during the fall.

It will be the climax of another big prep grid year around the Oakland County area.

Northwestern Has 2

MSU Fears Sophs

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State, which saw a lot of Stephens three weeks ago in a 13-0 loss to the Gophers, may be seeing his double here Saturday.

"He looks a lot like Stephens, said MSU assistant coach Gordie Seer. "He runs a lot and can toss the football pretty well, too."

The 6-feet-3, 197 pound quarterback has completed 13 of 31 passes for 196 yards. He has sped for another 209 yards in 41 carries.

When not running or passing himself, O'Grady prefers to hand off to another sophomore, fullback Bill Swingle. The 193-pounder from Grand Haven has carried 54 times for 250 yards, a 4.6 average.

Northwestern — led by these two soph standouts — has compiled a 4-3 record, better than anyone expected before the campaign started. Nevertheless, the Spartans are one touchdown favorites to snap a two-game losing streak.

Injuries and rain kept MSU indoors yesterday. Coach Duffy Daugherty said he didn't want to take any more chances "after that debacle at Purdue last week."

Thirteen Spartans were injured in the 7-6 defeat in what Daugherty termed the "roughest defensive game I ever saw."

Only four of the disabled, however, are question marks against Northwestern. They are offensive starting guards Ed Budde and George Azar, center Dave Behrman and fullback Roger Lopes. Budde, Azar and Lopes suffered ankle sprains against the Boilermakers while Behrman has a wrenched back.

"They'll probably play against Northwestern," Daugherty said, "but I don't know how effective they'll be or whether or not we'll start them."

Tomorrow's meeting will be the sixth between the two schools, with Northwestern holding a 3-2 edge. The Spartans have won the past two years, 15-10 and 21-18.

Bump Works Gridders Hard for Hawkeyes

Wins Over Iowa, OSU Would Give Wolverines 7-2 Mark for Season

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — With a chance for the best Michigan football record since 1956, Wolverine coach Bump Elliott isn't wasting any time.

Thursday, he sent the Wolverines through a lengthy workout in the rain in preparation for Iowa's invasion tomorrow.

Elliott said the workout wasn't "an unqualified success" but added he was pleased with the return of defensive fullback Ken Tureaud, perhaps the Big Ten's finest cornerman.

The 198-pound senior said he "felt much better" yesterday as he went through his paces in the defensive backfield against a simulated Hawkeye attack. Tureaud, who missed the last two games with a pinched leg nerve, was heavily used from hip-to-ankle but said he was running at full speed "without any pain."

Elliott said right tackle Jon Schopf, also idled the past two Saturdays, might be back. The rugged, two-way star has been hampered by a shoulder injury but may be able to test it against the Hawkeyes.

Iowa will be making its first appearance here since 1958 when the Hawkeyes, under ex-Wolverine Forrest Evashevski, jolted his alma mater, 37-14. The coaching situation this season is appropriate with another ex-Michigan star, Jerry Burns, at the Iowa helm.

Burns, who took over for Evashevski this season when the latter decided to become full-time athletic director, has had a rough baptism.

His club was rated the nation's best at the outset but injuries to two key backfield men—quarterback Wilburn Hollis and halfback Larry Ferguson—were too much and the Hawkeyes slumped to their current 4-3 mark—the defeats coming on the past three Saturdays.

However, Elliott considers Iowa "still a tough club with latest power ready to break loose anytime."

Only Ohio State defeated the Hawkeyes decisively, 29-13. The other defeats were administered by Purdue, 9-0, and by Minnesota last week, 16-9.

Last Saturday's win over Illinois, 38-6, gave the Wolverines an over-all mark of 5-2 and 2-2 in the Big Ten. Their only losses have been to Michigan State, 28-0, and to Minnesota, 23-20. Vicotoris over Iowa and Ohio State, Nov. 25, would equal the 7-2 mark posted by the 1956 Wolverines.

Thum Sights Buck, Pin Won't Fire

City Hunter Foiled by Faulty Gun

By DON VOGEL
Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

GRAYLING — Many stories come out of deer camps each season, and the one told by Tom Thum of Pontiac should be near the top for 1961.

Hunting at Ken Templeton's Lodge 15 miles east of this Crawford County community, Thum had this unfortunate experience:

"Early opening day a buck with a large rack walked up to within 40 feet of me. I took careful aim and pulled the trigger. Nothing happened.

"I jacked in another cartridge and the same thing happened. The buck finally got out of there. When I checked the rifle, I found the firing pin had been torn off just enough to fall short of the primer."

Dick Wolfe, Pontiac, backed up his hunting companion's story. "We thought he was telling us a tall one," he explained, "but we put 15 cartridges through that rifle and none would fire."

Thum's experience was the closest any hunter at this location has come to bagging a buck.

This wasn't the case at the "Double-O" ranch, eight miles south of Lewiston where the Pontiac Optimists convened Thursday for their annual north woods meeting. Maynard Holmes and Robert Bradley Jr., both Pontiac, each downed a deer Wednesday morning.

He was on his first hunting trip and an hour after he took his stand a spikehorn fell to his rifle.

Bradley, who has been hunting off and on for the last 10 years, downed his first deer, a nice four-pointer, an hour later. One shot fired, as the deer bounded into heavy cover, stopped the buck.

Hal Newhouser, former Detroit Tiger pitching ace, was hunting with Holmes, Bradley, Dr. James Hruska of Union Lake, Charles Crane of Birmingham and Ed Manley of Pontiac. Manley knocked down a buck Thursday morning but was unable to locate it. The hunters planned to search again late in the afternoon.

"If the weather had been halfway decent," said Newhouser, "we would have added two more bucks to the game pole." He left for Pontiac after the Optimists' meeting to participate that evening in a table tennis exhibition.

Rain started falling before dawn Thursday and continued until dark. A brisk northwest wind earlier in the day did not add to the hunters' comfort. Many called it quits after a few hours of getting wet and headed home or back to camps.

Tom Hruska, presiding member of the "Double-O" ranch, reported 50 dinners were served at the Optimists session. The club members and guests were entertained for the third straight year by the Coon Skinner German Band from Almont. Aaron Fox and Manley Young, of Pontiac, were among those at the meeting.

The Almont hunters were trying their luck at Bob Bowman's Bow-Tou Ranch north of Lewiston. Don Hart reported the kill down from last season when all six hunters failed the first two days. Ed D'Arcy was the lone successful nimrod, tagging a spikehorn.

At the 8-10 club south of Lewiston, hunters were still looking for a buck. Among those from Pontiac staying at this location are Ray Gorsline, Floyd Smith, "Spec" Hoskins and Floyd Schoonover.

Another group of Pontiac hunters are at the Hi-Lair Club near M72 between Luzerne and Grayling. Arlo Jerome has the only deer downed, a six pointer.

Hunting out of this camp are Gray Herrington, Ben Jerome, and Steve Tzineff.

Hank Gotham, Pontiac, told of seeing no bucks but "plenty of big browns over 20 inches" spawning in the Au Sable River. He has a cabin near Stephans Bridge.

'World' Preview Won by Strampe

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Strampe of Minneapolis and his team were the scoring leaders Thursday night in the special parade of stars, a preview to Friday's opening of the fifth annual World's Invitational Bowling Tournament.

On the second squad of competition, Strampe shot 501 on games of 243 and 258.

Strampe and his three teammates totaled 1,747 in two games to gain the $200 first prize available to second squad teams. Others on the team were Jack Biondolillo of Dallas, Don Toronski of Cleveland and Dale Seavoy of Detroit.

The best individual score in the first squad was 500, shot by Ronnie Diamond of Dallas, who had games of 255 and 245.

Sanders, Marr and 'Bum' Tied for Cajun Lead

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Ken Still, a 26-year-old self-styled "golf bum" and an unknown on the touring professional circuit, went into the second round of the $15,000 Cajun Classic today tied for the lead with staccato swinging Doug Sanders and Dave Marr.

Still blistered the soggy, 6,534-yard Oakbourne Country Club course with a 4-under-par 33-34—67 Thursday and set the gallery buzzing: "Who's he?"

Improved Bruins Upset Montreal

By The Associated Press

Boston's steadily improving Bruins, whose rookie-dominated squad was the object of hoots and derision early in the National Hockey League season, suddenly are within shooting distance of fourth place.

The Bruins, who managed only one tie in their first eight games, now have won four and tied one in their last seven. The latest was Thursday night's 3-2 surprise of leading Montreal.

The victory pulled Boston to within two points of Detroit and Chicago, both idle Thursday. They are tied for fourth with 13 points. It was the second loss in as any nights for Montreal, whose only bright spot was Claude Provost. Provost scored once—his 14th goal of the season—and assisted on Henri Richard's marker to regain the scoring lead from New York's Andy Bathgate. Provost now has 25 points to 24 for Bathgate.

Steady Don McKenney got the winner for Boston after rookie Terry Gray had blazed in a pair of 25-foot slaps in a 34-second span of the second period.

There is no league action scheduled until Saturday, when Montreal is at New York and Detroit at Toronto.

Clubhouse Aide's TD Play Brings More to Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—Last Sunday the New York Giants used a special play suggested by their clubhouse attendant against the Philadelphia Eagles and it worked for a 62-yard gain and a touchdown.

Since then, coach Allie Sherman of the National Football League club said today, fans have mailed more than 40 play suggestions to him.

"Most of them say 'inasmuch as you're lending an ear to everybody these days, you might as well try this play,'" Sherman grinned.

Asked if he was planning to incorporate any of them into his attack for the Giants' game with Pittsburgh this Sunday, Sherman said:

U-D at Arizona State

Sunshine Lures Titans

The University of Detroit football team headed for Tempe, Ariz. today to meet strong independent Arizona State in a Saturday night contest.

Under head coach Frank Kush, the southwestern juggernaught has won six of eight starts, losing a two-point decision to Utah, 28-26, and to San Jose State, a perennial jinx for the Devils, by a 32-26 count. Their victims include Wichita (21-7), Colorado State U. (14-6), West Texas State (28-11), Oregon State (24-23), Hardin-Simmons (47-0) and Texas Western last Saturday (48-28).

Kush's bone-crushing offense is led by three Pennsylvania imports and an ex-patriot Michigan lad, Roger Locke of Muskegon. Right halfback Charlie Taylor, third in Sun Devil rushing with 280 yards, leads the team in scoring with 50 points on eight TDs and a running conversion. John McFalls, a 5-11, 170-pound speedster from Lancaster, Pa., alternates with Taylor at right half and leads the club in rushing with 308 yards and a 6.0 yard per carry average. A third Keystoner, quarterback Joe Zuger is Kush's top passer with 86 completions of 110 attempts for 813 yards and eight six-pointers.

The Titans, now 5-2, best independent record in the midwest, will be out to avenge a 27-6 setback at the hands of the Sun Devils back in 1958 in the only previous meeting between the two schools.

The Villanova victory, which Miller described as "one of the biggest in my three years here," not only catapulted Detroit back into bowl consideration but also averted a nosedive which could have followed the morale shattering loss of Jerry Gross.

Quarterback Ron Bishop, in his first varsity start was shaky at the outset but called the big play when he needed it. And end John Lower, spelling both starters Larry Vargo and Steve Stonebreaker on offense and defense, turned in a scintillating performance with his two TD grabs.

3 Muskegon Players to Get Jury Trial

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Three Muskegon players pleaded innocent to charges of assault yesterday, following a stick-swinging battle with a police officer during an International Hockey League game.

After considerable debate, Attorney Joseph J. Dudley asked for a jury trial for the players. This put the case on the Dec. 28 call of the calendar, at which time a trial date will be set.

The row broke out Wednesday night when Bryan McLay was sent to the penalty box during the game with St. Paul. An altercation developed between McLay and St. Paul policeman James Mahoney.

Mahoney suffered a gashed head, requiring seven stitches, and detective Joseph Sherin received a skate bruise on the leg.

Charged were McLay, Ron Stephenson, 22, and Lawrence Lund, 21. They posted $100 bail. Half a dozen uniformed officers and several plainclothesmen took part before the brawl was quieted.

Hoppman Leader in Total Offense

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave (Hoppy) Hoppmann, Iowa State tailback, is the new major college football leader in total offense and rushing, NCAA Service Bureau figures showed Tuesday.

The junior from Madison, Wis., has gained 1,530 yards—871 by rushing. Hoppmann, with two more games to play, is nearly 300 yards ahead of his closest, still-active competitor, Chon Gallegos of San Jose State.

Jerry Gross of Detroit actually is runner-up to Hoppman, but the fine little quarterback is out for the rest of the season with a broken ankle. Gallegos, with 1,246 yards to Gross' 1,250, has one more game to play.

Jim Pilot of New Mexico State is second to Hoppmann in rushing yardage with 845 followed by Pete Pedro of West Texas State with 796.

Gallegos still leads the passers with 107 completions in 175 attempts for 1,324 yards, 13 touchdowns and a completion percentage of .611.

Hank Lesesne, Vanderbilt's triple threat halfback, climbed to the top among the punters. He has averaged 41.8 yards on 39 kicks.

EVERYBODY'S BOWLING

BALANCE

By DICK HOOVER

Youngest All-Star Champion

There are no hard and fast rules to tell you where to hold the ball at the stance, but I notice most high average bowlers prefer a waist-high position, with the ball centered on the body.

The weight of the ball should be evenly distributed on the hands. Control and balance for the entire swing depend on this. Should you let one hand or the other support the ball you will find control difficult as you start the pushaway.

Alabama Leading Nation in Defensive Records

NEW YORK (AP) — No one laughed last September when Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama said he wasn't worried about his team's defense this year. And for good reason.

The undefeated, untied Crimson Tide rank as the nation's top defensive team, in overall stinginess, and is second in defense against opponents rushing attacks, according to statistics released Wednesday by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Bryant has mowed down eight opponents with his rock-ribbed defense, which has permitted only 22 points.

The Tide has allowed only 1,010 yards for an average of 126.3, third best eight-game figure in the past 14 years. Alabama's 47.4 average against rushing is topped only by Utah State's 41.7 for nine games. The Aggies, with only a tie to mar its record, are second in overall defense with a 135.3 mark.

Penn, winner of only two games leads in pass defense. The Quakers have given only 51.7 yards per game to seven opponents. Iowa State is second at 55 yards in eight games.

Badger Steals Statistic Show

The Badger co-captain, spending most of his career in the shadow of aerialist Ron Miller, had his greatest day last Saturday in Wisconsin's 29-10 defeat of Northwestern.

★ ★ ★ ★

He booted a record 47-yard field goal, erasing the Big Ten mark of 42 by Illinois' Mel Brewer in 1939. He punted 89 yards dead on the Wildcat 3, seven yards shy of the record by another Badger, George O'Brien, in 1952. In all, he averaged 48.3 yards in six punts, boosting his Big Ten-leading average to 41.0 in 26 punts for the season.

His nearest rival in the department is Michigan's Scott Maentz with 39.8 in 19 punts. Bakken won the crown last year with a 41.5 average on 28 kicks.

Other individual leaders:

Rushing — Bob Ferguson, Ohio State, 519 yards in 99 carries, 5.2 average; Passing—Matt Szykowny, Iowa, 59 completions in 104 attempts for 749 yards and 5 touchdowns, with 11 interceptions.

Total offense—Sandy Stephens, Minnesota, 278 rushing, 537 passing, 805 total, 5.8 average a play; scoring—Ferguson and George Saimes of Michigan State, each 30 points.

Team leaders (average a game)

Net yards gained—Ohio State 341.4. Rushing — Ohio State 272.8. Passing — Iowa 160.4. Opposition rushing—Minnesota 110.8. Opposition passing—Wisconsin 76.8. Yards a play—Ohio State 4.9.

DICK DUNKEL

DUNKEL COLLEGE FOOTBALL RATINGS

EXPLANATION — A dunkel is a comparative strength rating based on the season's record to date. It reflects average scoring margin relative to rating of opposition. Example: a 30.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team against opposition of relatively equal rating. The system has been continuous since its origination in 1929 by Dick Dunkel.

DEADLOCK — These two bowlers wanted to take the honor of being the first entries in The Press Bowlerama, but they had to settle for a tie. Cliff Inman (left) and Gary Page, both of Pontiac, got their entries right off the press and were the first two to enter the tournament. Inman was an entry last year but failed to qualify. This is Page's first attempt to win a prize in the Bowlerama which has its first deadline only 10 days away, November 29th.

Collegiate Bowl Fever Nearing Epidemic Stage

By The Associated Press

Bowl Fever, an annual malady that afflicts most of the nation's top college football teams, is on the rampage again this weekend, testing the strong and striking down the weak.

Georgia Tech and Colorado were victims last week, and while they're not dead yet, the weekend schedule is such that it could cause further trouble to them and some of the hopefuls.

Texas, the nation's top-ranked team, second-ranked Alabama and fifth-ranked Minnesota seem to be in the greatest danger, while oncoming Syracuse, ranked 10th, is by no means safe.

The Longhorns, gunning for the host spot New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl, can clinch at least a tie for the Southwest Conference title if they beat Texas Christian, a nemesis who has no respect for record or reputation.

The Longhorns, 8-0 over-all and 5-0 in the SWC, must not be caught looking to Thanksgiving Day's traditional battle against Texas A&M. TCU, facing the nation's second best offense, led by halfback Jimmy Saxton, is 2-4-1 over-all.

Alabama, unbeaten in its last 15 games, meets Georgia Tech, which has "revenge" fever, in addition to the bowl malady. The Crimson Tide is casting a fervent eye on the Rose Bowl, while also holding on to the Southeastern Conference's lead with a 5-0 mark. 'Bama, 8-0 over-all, is also being coveted by the Sugar Bowl.

Minnesota, winner of six in a row after an opening game loss, pits its Big Ten lead against seventh-ranked Purdue, also on the move after a shaky start. The Gophers, tied with Ohio State for the conference lead with a 5-0 mark, have beaten Michigan, Michigan State and Iowa on successive weeks.

Purdue, 5-2, has beaten Iowa and Michigan State but is saddled with a mile-long injury list. A loss would leave third-ranked Ohio State atop the Big Ten. The Buckeyes play non-conference foe Oregon, and along with Minnesota, have not indicated a desire to go a-bowling.

Syracuse, back on the track after a rash of injuries, faces Notre Dame, which shook a three-game losing streak last week. The Orange, eyed most of all by the Gotham Bowl but uncommitted so far, have Ernie Davis only 110 yards away from Jimmy Brown's all-time school ground-gaining mark.

Fourth-ranked Louisiana State, 7-1 overall and 4-0 in the SEC, plays Mississippi State. Its bowl plans will be better known if it wins, after kayoing thoughts of the Sugar Bowl earlier this week. Mississippi (No. 6), set to go to the Cotton Bowl when it receives the invitation, takes on Tennessee upset-victor over Georgia Tech last week.

Michigan State, ranked ninth, meets Northwestern in a Big Ten game that will have no relation to a bowl, while eighth-ranked Colorado still holds the Big Eight lead, and hopes for an Orange Bowl bid, as it faces conference foe Nebraska.

Rutgers, the nation's other major unbeaten at 7-0, plays Colgate.

George Washington and Virginia Tech meet in a meaningless Southern Conference game this afternoon while Tulane and Vanderbilt play a similar SEC contest tonight.

A few conference titles are up for grabs Saturday. Columbia (5-1) can clinch at least a share of the Ivy League title against Penn while runnerup Princeton and Harvard, both 4-1 play Yale and Brown, respectively.

Duke (4-1) plays North Carolina (3-1) in an Atlantic Coast Conference game that will decide the title, and also will be regionally televised. Utah State, 4-0-1 in the Skyline loop and also eyeing post-season play, can wind up the season tied with Wyoming for the lead with a victory over Utah. Wyoming finished last week.

Elsewhere, Arkansas, 4-1 in the SWC, still hopes for a tie and a bowl if Texas loses, and it defeats SMU, while UCLA, the Big Five leader with 2-0 plays Washington 1-1-1, Southern Cal, 2-0-1, is outside against Pitt.

Other Saturday games:

Boston Seeks Part of 1st in AFL's Eastern Loop

By The Associated Press

Boston goes after a virtual tie for the lead in the Eastern Division of the American Football League Friday night when it hosts lowly Oakland.

The Patriots, whose winning streak was snapped at three games when they fell before Houston's mightily resurging Oilers 27-15 Sunday, will be after their sixth victory of the campaign.

If Boston wins, which it is expected to do, it will have a 6-4-1 record. Houston is 5-3-1.

This can be changed Sunday, however, because Houston plays New York at Houston. The Oilers can move out front or New York, which is in a tie for second place with Boston, can remain deadlocked with Boston, but for the lead.

Meanwhile there will be a couple of games in the Western Division where San Diego is the unbeaten leader and champion. The Chargers sewed up the title last Sunday when they edged Denver 19-16 for their tenth straight victory.

San Diego plays Dallas at home while Buffalo will be at Denver. Neither game means anything. San Diego has four games to play and could lose them all and still be Western Division champion and in the playoff against the Eastern Division winner.

Boston, piloted by the aging Butch Songin and Babe Parilli, appears much too much for Oakland, which not only is last in the league but last in both offense and defense.

The Houston-New York game matches two of the league's tighter defenses but the Oilers have it all over the Titans on offense.

Featuring the passing of George Blanda and Jack Lee, Houston tops the circuit on offense with 429.2 yards per game, most of it through the air.

Dallas and San Diego appear about equal if only the statistics are considered, the Texans averaging 320.1 yards per outing compared to 324 for San Diego. But defensively it's another matter. San Diego, with the toughest defense against passes in the league's history, is the stingiest club of all in total defense, permitting only 238.5 yards per game. Dallas has surrendered 315.9.

Two-Year-Old Crown Rides With Pimlico

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ballots for racing's top 2-year-olds currently are being accepted but most votes won't be cast until after Saturday's 39th running of the Pimlico Futurity.

Seven juveniles, all carrying 122 pounds, tentatively were scheduled to go in the mile-and-a-sixteenth test.

Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan, winner of the $300,000 Garden State Stakes, is expected to be the odds-favorite in the Futurity and go on to the juvenile championship.

Brown Appears Headed for 5th Rushing Title

The Browns' fullback, now second among the all-time NFL rushers, came up with his fourth straight game in which he's gained more than 100 yards Sunday in Cleveland's 17-6 conquest of the Washington Redskins.

The performance, his best of the campaign with 133 yards, increased his 1961 rushing total to 853 yards on 191 carries or 72 yards more than runner-up Jim Taylor of Green Bay, the NFL's weekly statistics showed today.

Brown now has collected 5,908 yards rushing during his 5-year NFL career. Only Baltimore's Joe Perry has more yards—7,748—in 12 seasons.

Bart Starr of Green Bay, the Western Conference leader, zoomed into the lead in passing with his effort in the Packers' 31-28 squeeze by the Chicago Bears and stepped ahead of Sonny Jurgensen of the Philadelphia Eagles, who fell into a first place Eastern Conference tie with New York by bowing to the Giants 38-21.

Starr has completed 110 of 190 passes and Jurgensen 144 of 257.

New York's Del Shofner regained the top spot among pass receivers with 46 receptions after grabbing eight against Philadelphia. Johnny Sample of Pittsburgh continued to lead the interception artists with eight.

Likewise, there was no change in the remaining four individual statistical departments. Green Bay's Paul Hornung, who was inducted into the Army Tuesday, got 19 of the Packers' 31 points against the Bears and increased his scoring total to 130 points, 52 more than Baltimore's Lenny Moore, the runner-up.

Yale Lary of Detroit leads the punters with a 47.9-yard average; Willie Wood of Green Bay, punt returns with a 20-yard average per return, and Pat Studstill of Detroit, kickoff returns, with a 34-yard average.

Lions at Minnesota Sunday

Detroit Hopes Road Success Will Continue

Lions Try to Protect 2nd Place in Contest With Vikings

Aiming to continue their unbeaten streak on the road, the Detroit Lions tangle with the Minnesota Vikings Sunday at Metropolitan Stadium. Kickoff is 2:35 p.m. EST.

Coach George Wilson's club moved into second place in the Western Division race with a 5-3-1 record last Sunday with a smashing 45-14 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Louis. To date, Detroit has racked up four victories and a tie in five road appearances, while the team lost three of four in an October homestand.

At the same time, the young and spirited Vikings showed they are "coming of age" with a neat 28-20 triumph over the Baltimore Colts last week. It was these same Colts who administered the Lions' last defeat in Detroit, Oct. 22, 17-14, on a 45-yard field goal in the final seconds. This fact certainly won't go unnoticed by Wilson and his staff as they prepare their charges for their fourth straight road game.

Veteran Lion players will find four former Detroiters well entrenched in the Viking lineup. End Dave Middleton, flanker Jerry Reichow and lineman Grady Alderman and Mike Rabold, all starters, formerly played for the Lions. Reichow leads Minnesota in receiving with 27 catches for 457 yards and Middleton proved he still can deliver by scoring on a 57-yard touchdown play in last Sunday's game against the Colts.

The Lions move into the game with a "hot streak" going on offense. Quarterback Jim Ninowski has sparked the offense to 409, 402, and 372 yards from scrimmage in the last three weeks and the scoring output has jumped correspondingly. The 45 points against the Cardinals was the highest score rolled up by a Lion team since 1959. Ninowski has gained 250, 290 and 197 yards passing, personally scored three touchdowns, and passed for two others in the recent surge.

Not to be overlooked is the fine job still being turned in by the Lions' defensive stalwarts. In the past five games, opponents have scored a total of only six touchdowns attributable to the defense. Two others were recorded, one on a 105 kickoff return, the other on an 80-yard punt return.

Wilson has indicated that "all hands" should be ready for the Vikings. Fullback Nick Pietrosante, who suffered an ankle injury against the Cardinals is slated for full duty. Glenn Davis, the Olympic hurdle ace who missed the St. Louis game, also is expected back. Davis had caught eight passes in two games prior to being injured in the first quarter of the San Francisco, 20-20, tie game.

Temple, Chiti Trade Suits in Tribe-Oriole Exchange

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland second baseman John Temple, the only player ever selected for the All-Star starting lineup in both the National and American leagues, was traded to the Baltimore Orioles Thursday.

Baltimore gave up Harry Chiti, a catcher in the minors last season, and two players to be named by Dec. 15 to get Temple, who is expected to solve one of the Orioles' problems for the coming season.

Indians' general manager Gabe Paul, the only man ever to fire Jimmie Dykes as manager twice —at Cincinnati and Cleveland— also became the only man to trade Temple twice.

Paul was general manager of the Cincinnati Reds two years ago when Temple, 32, and from Lexington, N.C., came to the Indians from the Reds in exchange for pitcher Cal McLish and infielders Billy Martin and Gordon Coleman.

While at Cincinnati, Temple earned National League all-star recognition for fours years—1956 through 1959. He was named the American League All-Star second baseman last season.

He had a .268 batting average in his first season with the Indians and hit .276 last season, compared with his 10-year major league average of .288.

Chiti, 29, has seen major league service with the Chicago Cubs, Kansas City Athletics and Detroit Tigers. He batted .201 in 95 games with Detroit in 1960. His over-all major league average is .241.

He spent last season with Denver of the American Association and Rochester of the International League.

In Baltimore, a spokesman for the Orioles said the two players to be sent to the Indians had not been selected, but added, "They will not be front line pitchers, nor players who were regulars last season.

Ron Hansen, the Orioles' regular shortstop, has been called back into the Army and Brooks Robinson, the Baltimore third baseman, is subject to an Army call. Jerry Adair is expected to be the shortstop in 1962. This would leave Temple to take over Adair's second base duties, which he shared with Marv Breeding last season.

The Indians' two highest paid players of 1961 have been removed from the current roster with Temple's departure and the trade that sent centerfielder Jim Piersall to the Washington Senators. Each was reported to have earned $30,000 to $35,000 last season.

Boston Doesn't Need Auerbach

By The Associated Press

With coach Red Auerbach at the helm, the Boston Celtics have won three straight National Basketball Association titles. Without coach Red Auerbach around, the Celts keep on winning anyway.

Auerbach, in the midst of a three-game suspension for pushing an official, was in the Boston locker room listening to the game on radio last night as the Celtics rolled over Cincinnati 127-121.

It was their second straight under acting coach Bob Cousy. Auerbach has another game to go, but will be in command again when the Celtics return home Sunday.

The Royals' Jack Twyman popped in 29 points in the Cincinnati defeat, breaking into the 10,000 circle. Twyman's 10,000th point of his NBA career came on the last field goal of the first quarter and the game was held up while he received congratulations.

He is only the 13th player in the league's history to go into five figures. Dolph Schayes of Syracuse is the all-time leader with 17,879. Others still active are Cousy, Paul Arizin of Philadelphia, Bob Pettit of St. Louis, Larry Foust of Los Angeles, Carl Braun of Boston and Clyde Lovellette of St. Louis.

49ers' TV Complaint Dismissed by Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers' complaint against the National Broadcasting Co., for televising National Football League games through a Sacramento station was dismissed Thursday in U. S. District Court.

NBC had been televising games of the Baltimore Colts and Pittsburgh Steelers through Sacramento Station KCRA. The 49ers said the NFL constitution prohibits the telecast of any league games into any NFL team's territory on days it played at home.

U. S. Dist. Judge George B. Harris dismissed the suit on motion of 49er Atty. Lemuel Matthews who said he had received assurance from NBC that no more Steeler or Colt games will be broadcast if objected to.

Dutch Leads Tourney, Chick Shoots an Ace

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)— San Francisco's Dutch Harrison is still leading the way in the Senior Open Golf Championship as the field goes into the final 18 holes.

Harrison shot par 72 Thursday over the Eldorado Country Club course and posted a 54-hole total of 205.

The veteran Chick Evans of Chicago came up with a hole-in-one at the 165-yard second at Eldorado, but he isn't among the top 10.

Hooks, Slices Not Fault of Golfer — Really

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A golfer cannot be expected to confrol the flight of a golf ball, says the Georgia Court of Appeals.

Judge Homer C. Eberhardt, in writing the court's opinion on a damage suit, said Thursday that anyone playing golf assumes the risk of being hit by a ball.

The $25,000 damage suit was filed by J. K. Thomas against R. W. Shaw in Albany.

The judge wrote: "Even so-called experts hook and slice occasionally. To hold that a golf player was negligent merely because the ball did not travel in a straight line, as intended by him, would be imposing upon him a greater duty of care than the Creator endowed him with the faculties to carry out."

'Mean' Dean Collects Kansas Grid Buttons

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Nearly 3,000 lapel buttons offered for sale for the Kansas-Missouri football game have been confiscated by Laurence C. Woodruff, dean of students at K.U.

Dean Woodruff said he will destroy the buttons.

"These buttons have become a symbol of poor sportsmanship on the part of both K. U. and M. U.," he said. "I told the students that if they didn't turn in the buttons I'd have no alternative but to expel them."

A student involved in selling the buttons said the students have lost $408 through the seizure. Only 50 of the 3,000 had been sold.

'Get to Work on the Final Reports'

LANSING (UPI) — Delegates to the constitutional convention have headed home for another long weekend, their ears ringing with a warning of hard work and longer sessions close at hand.

'BRING IN REPORTS'

Convention President Stephen S. Nisbet told the delegates at Thursday's brief session that he had requested committee chairmen to start reporting actual constitutional language to the whole convention by next month.

"This will mean sessions on Fridays, and possibly long sessions," Nisbet said. He later told newsmen that the time had come to get down to work on actual sections of the constitution.

The delegates stood for a minute of silence Thursday in honor of U.S. House Speaker Sam Rayburn, dead of cancer at 79 after serving longer as speaker than any man in history.

The convention received an armload of delegate proposals and approved an expenditure of $300 to allow the judiciary committee to hold a meeting in Detroit at a later date.

FR TWIST

Outside the main work of the convention there was a surprise twist in the battle over public information committee assistants.

Edward Walsh resigned his $600-a-month post with a letter to Nisbet explaining that he felt his appointment was being "used as a guise to discredit the convention."

Charles Ferry, another assistant of the information committee, has been under heavy fire from Democrats because he formerly was a public relations man for the Oakland County Republican organization. Walsh's name had been mentioned in several debates over Ferry and Ferry's salary, but Walsh had not been under attack.

Walsh served as a self-appointed campaign manager for delegate Rockwell T. Gust Jr., Grosse Pointe Farms Republican, during the campaign for convention seats. He had no previous public relations experience.

Woman Is Bound Over on Embezzling Charge

MONROE (AP) — Mrs. Hugh Leemon, 59, of Petersburg, Thursday was bound over for examination Nov. 30 on a charge of embezzling $531 from the Summerfield School District.

Municipal Judge Forest D. Luce accepted a plea of not guilty from Mrs. Leemon. He set bond at $1,000.

Mrs. Leemon is alleged to have converted the money for her own use during the period of September 1960 to May 1961.

'The Glamour Trap' Lacked LIVE Bait

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Scratch the word "fulfillment" from the language and NBC-TV would have to scratch its "Special for Women" series from its schedule.

The daytime series, obsessed with the search for fulfillment in such areas as living rooms, bedrooms, offices, nurseries and kitchens, Thursday turned to another domestic institution—beauty.

Producer-writer George Lefferts applied a somewhat molsturized cleansing tissue to "The Glamour Trap." His examination of the fetish which makes beauty the prerequisite to fulfillment — there's that word again —in love and marriage was a gentle, understanding and soft massage. It was done with a powderpuff instead of the calloused hand.

Pauline Frederick, hostess-narrator, advised us that millions of women spend $5 billion a year in beauty parlors.

After the dramatization, a glamour school operator and a psychiatrist, females, discussed the subject and arrived at inconclusive and conventional summaries about beauty, its care, cost and contradictions.

Much was made of magazine ads and their influence on the American fetish for youth and beauty, nothing about TV's influence. The dialogue offered no new insights and, worse still, supplied no inspiration. It simply shrugged and said, "That's the way the face powder crumbles, girls, and it's going to get worse."

A male viewpoint, perhaps a confrontation of some cosmetic industry leaders and their more vociferous critics, could have made the hour more pertinent and stimulating. Sorry, girls.

DIALING AND FILING

"Mister Sam," CBS-TV's special half-hour tribute to the late speaker of the House, was a healthy program. That is, it didn't wallow in sentimentality as it captured the essence of the man and his role in American history. An excellent interview highlighted the tribute. Paul Niven's questions and Sam Rayburn's answers were voiced, last January, as though the men assumed the interview would be replayed on just such an occasion.

"My Three Sons" had some fun with the learn-while-sleeping language record gimmick Thursday night. They took a simple idea and showed admirable restraint in fooling around with it.

First rule for the wise investor

If you're planning to give your money a chance to grow by investing in stock, you may be in a mood to welcome a hot tip. And you probably won't have to wait long.

It may come from a well-meaning friend, or from a stranger who may or may not be well-meaning.

Here's a timely warning about tips: The hotter they are the worse a hasty investor can get burned.

Whenever you're thinking of investing, drop in at a nearby Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange and let them help you get facts you'll want before you invest a penny. You'll find a broker there who has qualified as a Registered Representative by meeting the Exchange's requirements for knowledge of investing. He has no key to the future—nobody has. But he'll be glad to put his training and the experience of his firm at your disposal.

If you have funds over and above your needs for living expenses and emergencies you may be ready to become a shareowner. How you invest depends upon your goals. Some companies have been paying liberal dividends for a considerable time. Others have been paying smaller dividends—or none at all—in order to use profits for expansion and growth. Bonds normally offer greater safety of principal. Your Member Firm broker can help you decide which securities seem to have the best possibilities of meeting your needs.

Not every company prospers, of course. Some fail to make a profit and may not pay dividends or interest. But many have flourished in the past and will continue to thrive in the future.

You'll find a lot of valuable information in our free booklet, "INVESTMENT FACTS." It gives you the records of some 400 stocks that have paid a cash dividend every three months for 20 years or more. It contains much other helpful information. And it tells about the Monthly Investment Plan through which you can acquire stock in famous companies by investing with as little as $40 every three months, or as much as $1,000 a month.

Man Is Charged in Wife's Death

Woman Is Fatally Shot While Visiting Mother in Manistee County

MANISTEE (AP) — A 19-year-old mother of two children was shot fatally Thursday night while visiting at her mother's home. Her husband was held on a murder charge by state police.

Joyce Bailey was struck in the neck by a high-powered rifle bullet that crashed through a window of the house and passed through the arm of her brother.

She died en route to a doctor's office.

The husband, Gerald, 25, was arrested at the scene. Police quoted him as saying the shooting was an accident.

The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Richard Guenthardt, about 55, in the Manistee County village of Wellston, about 20 miles inland from this Lake Michigan city.

State Police theorized that the victim and her husband, who lived in a wooded area east of Wellston on M55, had quarreled before Mrs. Bailey went to her mother's home.

The President's trip will take him to Phoenix, Ariz., today. He speaks tonight at a dinner for Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., dean of the Senate. Hayden, 84, also is up for re-election next year.

At the $100-a-plate dinner attended by nearly 3,000 persons, Kennedy smiled as he described Magnuson as a man who speaks in the Senate so quietly few can hear him.

"He comes into the Senate late in the afternoon," the President grinned. "He is very hesitant about interrupting other members of the Senate.

'NOTHING IMPORTANT'

"When he rises to speak, most members of the Senate have left. He looks down at his desk and says it is nothing important. And Grand Coulee Dam is built!"

Health Service Reports Decline in Polio Cases

ATLANTA (AP)—Reports of polio in the United States are continuing to decline from the mid-September peak, the U. S. Public Health Service reported today.

The service's communicable disease center said 29 cases were reported last week, compared to 36 the previous week. Twenty-two of the new cases were paralytic.

In the six-week period since late September, the center has received reports of 279 cases, 184 of them paralytic. This compares with 672 cases in the same period last year and more than 1,500 in the same period in 1958 and '59.

Seeking New Trial in Rape Conviction

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A former University of Michigan student now serving a prison term for the rape of a blind girl and the robbery of her escort is seeking a new trial.

The request for a new trial for Jerald L. Whigeart, 20, of Niles, was filed Thursday by defense attorney Richard W. Ryan.

Trading Labeled Modest

Mart Continues Consolidations

NEW YORK (AP) — Consolidation of recent gains continued in the stock market early this afternoon. Prices were mixed in moderate trading.

Gains and losses of pivotal stocks were kept generally within a point, with most changes fractional.

A couple of prime utilities responded to special news with substantial gains, lifting the average for that group. The major steels were down moderately. Leading chemicals also took losses, depressing the industrial average.

The pattern was mixed for aircrafts, rails, drugs and airlines.

The list was irregular from the start. A few of the higher-priced or more speculative issues made gains of 2 or more points.

Consolidated Edison of New York was bought heavily at the start on news of a $10.5 million rate boost, jumping about 2 points, then halving the gain in later dealings.

3 POINT SPURT

Southern California Edison spurted 3 points then clipped a fraction from the rise following word of a 3-for-1 stock split proposal.

Gillette was more than 5 points higher following shareholder approval of a 3-for-1 stock split and a forecast of considerably higher earnings this year. Texas Instruments picked up a couple of points.

The news background for the market continued good. Industrial production for October was reported back at the record level of August. An increase in new orders received by manufacturers of durable goods was also reported. Most stock market analysts continued confident that the yearend rally would continue once the current digestive phase was over.

Bond Trading Starts Slow

Late Thursday prices firmed and the market closed mixed to end a five-day slide.

Among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange rails were the most active group and they were a bit higher; Utilities tended to dip while industrials were mixed.

Lackawanna Railroad 5s added 1⅛ at 54½ at one time. Ohio Edison 3s gained 1 at 86 and New York Connecting Railroad 2⅞s fell 1 at 55.

For That College Degree

Plan to Stay . . . but to Stay You Must Plan

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED.D.
Professor of Education, University of Southern California

DR. NASON

It will cost you money, as well as time and effort. But you aren't the only one who is paying. Added to your cash investment is the help from the college itself. Your tuition doesn't begin to cover the cost.

Endowments, alumni contributions, grants from industry, aid from both state and federal governments all are added to your tuition to make a college education available to you.

There are even scholarships available to help you pay your share. In some cases the federal government will loan you money at low interest rates in order to help you get to college.

What will you get from this great investment? The statisticians estimate that a college-trained person may make $100,000 more in his lifetime than the average man without such training.

The investment buys even more something that inflation, fire or flood will not destroy. Our country can count its educated men and women as its greatest and most indestructible asset. That is why so many are willing to invest, along with you, in your future.

So you say: "It's a good deal. I'll buy it!" All you are really buying is the privilege of educating yourself. True, you can sit in the classes of good teachers — sometimes of great scholars.

You have the opportunity to use a great library freely. You will be associating with others who, like yourself, are struggling to gain an education. You can help them and they will help you. This association will be a part of your education. The laboratories, the equipment, the social events, the lectures, all are provided for your use.

But you not only have to do the job, you have to boss the job as well. No longer will your teachers outline each step you are to follow, then check up to make sure that you are following their detailed instructions. No longer can you depend on your parents to remind you of the theme that will soon be due, or that you haven't been getting enough rest. Suddenly, you are going to have to take full charge.

GIVE YOUR BEST

This is precisely where many college freshmen get off on the wrong track. Football games, fraternities and sororities, parties, rushing — all a part of college, but not the most important part. Just let six weeks roll by and your mind centered on these things and suddenly there are tests.

"They were all scheduled the same week," you complain. "Someone should have told me!"

Well, I'm warning you now, eight or nine months before you enter. Remember, you plan to stay —and to stay you must plan.

Begin by giving each task your best effort.

In general, you must apply for scholarships. If you are hoping to get one, get busy now and look after it.

Keep your eyes and ears open for information about being a successful college student. Practice being that kind of student now, in these remaining high school days. Take the responsibility for getting the subject matter learned and the work in on time.

Begin disciplining yourself now so that you can survive the shock of being placed on your own suddenly.

Jackie Takes Off for Weekend at Virginia Estate

The First Lady attended funeral services for the late ambassador to Spain, Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, this afternoon, and then the White House announced she was driving to Middleburg.

She went alone, but Caroline and young John Jr. will be driven up after their naps on Saturday afternoon to join their mother, the White House said.

The President is away on a four-day western trip and is not due back until Monday morning.

Kentucky Cardinal Displays Inteligence

GEORGETOWN, Ky. (AP)— The Kentucky cardinal, the state's official bird, has a mind of his own, a Georgetown doctor says.

As Dr. C. R. Lewis was about to enter the emergency room at a Georgetown hospital, he discovered a cardinal, looking wan, in front of the door.

Lewis took the bird inside and he and a nurse diagnosed the cardinal's illness as a virus. After being treated, the bird has shown marked improvement, Lewis said.

Voters in Milford Twp. Facing Reregistration

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — Voters who registered here prior to 1958 will have to reregister as a result of irregularities discovered in a recent inspection of the rolls by the State Elections Commission.

Township Clerk Elizabeth S. Hubbell said notices of reregistrations will be sent to some 1,500 residents early next month.

About a third of the voters in the township will be affected.

The reregistrations are necessary, according to the Elections Commission, because a rubber stamp with the name of the former clerk was used rather than her handwritten signature as required by state law.

Mrs. Hubbell said that about 1,300 of the registrations were rubber stamped, while another 200 lacked the necessary information to make them valid.

Milford Township is not unique because the error as found in the statewide check by the Elections Commission, but because the former clerk is dead and cannot rectify the registrations by signing her name.

ANOTHER INSTANCE

Had she been alive, all that would be necessary would be for her to write her signature, as in the case of neighboring Commerce Township where the former clerk is now going through that process. In his instance he had typed in his name, invalidating the registrations.

Cost of reregistering voters in Milford Township will be about $250 for materials alone, according to Mrs. Hubbell, who said she will visit the homes of those who cannot return to the township hall to reregister.

"Until they reregister they will be unable to vote," the clerk said. The next regular township election is in August.

Milford Village also expects to have a number of voters who will have to reregister since the deceased clerk served in the same capacity for the village.

A thorough check of the rolls in the village has not yet been made, however, since the village clerk has been ill for several weeks. A review of the voting rolls will be made when she returns.

The State Elections Commission initiated its investigation of registration rolls following charges of voting irregularities in Detroit after the national election.

More serious was the inspection of rolls in Warren where 50,000 registrations were found in error, affecting about 75 per cent of the city voters.

Attorney General Rules Sheriffs Hold One Job

LANSING (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adam said today county sheriffs may not hold the position of county civil defense director because it is a public office.

In an opinion issued at the request of acting state civil defense director Robert S. D'Amelio, Adams said state law prohibits sheriffs from holding any other office.

Romeo to Hike Water Rates

Sewage Service Boost Is Effective Jan. 1 to Finance Disposal Plant

ROMEO—Water and sewer rates will go up early next year to finance construction of a new sewage disposal plant here, village officials announced today.

A $245,000 revenue bond issue has been authorized by the village council to cover the cost of the building project.

Hikes in water and sewage service rates will go into effect Jan. 1 and will be billed to customers in April.

Water service charges will begin with a minimum quarterly cost of $6.25 for the first 10,000 gallons. Present service charge for this amount is $5.

OTHER HIKES MADE

Other increases are from 30 cents to 38 cents per thousand gallons over the first 10,000 and up to 25,000 gallons per quarter.

Over 25,000 gallons, the rate will be raised from 20 cents to 25 cents for each thousand beyond 25,000 gallons in a quarter.

New sewer rates will be computed as 60 per cent of the customer's water bill. The two bills will be charged together as a unit utility rate.

BASIS FOR RATES

Sewer rates will be based on the average water use in the two winter quarters, not computed in the summer when residents will use additional water for sprinkling.

For residents using 10,000 gallons of water or less, the sewer charges will be reduced by 50 cents. The minimum utility bill then will be $9.50, village officials said.

The new trickling filter type sewage disposal plant will be built on the same site as the present facility, three-quarters of a mile east of Romeo on 32 Mile Road.

Construction will begin next spring and completion is expected by the end of the year. Designer of the plant is the firm of McNamee, Porter and Seeley, Ann Arbor.

300 to Make Entries

4-H Exposition Dec. 5-6-7

AREA NEWS

The charmed circle of the grand champion . . . that's the goal of more than 300 Michigan 4-H clubbers who will make entries in the annual Detroit Junior Livestock Show next month.

The 4-H members will bring nearly $100,000 in prize lambs, hogs and steers to the 32nd annual exposition to be held in the state fairgrounds arena Dec. 5, 6 and 7.

The junior show which attracts exhibitors from more than 30 Michigan counties is jointly sponsored by the 4-H Club department of Michigan State University and the Detroit Junior Livestock Society.

The society offers more than $2,000 in prizes and provides the 4-Hers with the "red carpet" treatment when they arrive in Michigan's largest metropolis. The society is headed by a group of public-spirited businessmen in the Detroit area who are interested both in helping youth and promoting the livestock industry.

Animals arrive on Tuesday, the show follows on Wednesday and on the final day all entries including champions will go under the auctioneer's hammer to the highest bidder.

Russ Mawby, director of the state 4-H Club program, believes the junior show has contributed greatly to 4-H livestock interests.

"It provides an educational experience for all who participate and enables our many friends to see the accomplishments of some of the 70,000 boys and girls enrolled in hundreds of clubs throught the state," Mawby said.

HOURS OF WORK

But it isn't all glory for the 4-H livestock exhibitor. The young stockmen put in countless hours of effort in feeding and grooming animals for the show. Then follow seemingly endless times of waiting, parading, showing and posing animals for the close scrutiny of a judge.

When the dust of the show ring has cleared, the show will have named another grand champion market hog, lamb and steer. Detroit area buyers, always staunch supporters of the sale, will be on hand to offer their bids in the show's final event.

In a special lamb carcass class, exhibitors will see their animals judged on foot and then compare notes with the judges when carcasses are placed at a Detroit packing plant. MSU 4-H leaders believe this is one of the show's most educational features.

All exhibitors will be guests of the Livestock Society at the annual Wednesday banquet in the Sheraton - Cadillac Hotel, headquarters for the three-day event. Special awards include showmanship trophies and a four-year scholarship to Michigan State awarded to an outstanding exhibitor and presented by the Independent Slaughterers of Detroit.

Minuteman Test From Silo OK

Missile Scores Success in Second Underground Launching Attempt

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —With a swirl of fire and smoke, an intercontinental-range Minuteman missile scored its first underground launching success today.

The rocket vaulted from a 90-foot pit and raced to a target area about 3,000 miles away.

The success, announced by the Air Force, advanced the day when hundreds of Minutemen will be planted in underground silos capable of surviving nuclear attack.

A rush of fire and smoke erupted from the steel and concrete hole as the missile's powerful engines ignited.

The 58-foot projectile cleared the pit in two seconds, quickly darted through the smoke clouds and pitched toward the southeast.

The second and third stages fired as planned and propelled the nose cone into a broad bull's-eye area in the Atlantic. Pinpoint accuracy was not a goal on this first successful silo firing.

The Air Force needed a successful flight to make up for time lost when a Minuteman exploded seconds after the missile's first silo launching on Aug. 30.

MARINES REHEARSE—Despite the cancellation of President Kennedy's plans to view Navy and Marine maneuvers Saturday, a full-scale rehearsal of Marine unit landings was staged as scheduled at Camp Pendleton, Calif. This simulated nuclear explosion was one of the more spectacular demonstrations. Note the Marines crouched in the foreground. Kennedy, who is going to Texas for the funeral of Speaker Sam Rayburn, may watch the Navy and Marines in action Sunday.

Ithaca May Get Free Bus Rides

N.Y. City 'Asks Grant From U.S. to Finance Experimental System

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—The Ithaca Common Council hopes that by next year everyone will be riding the buses here for free.

The payless rides hinge on federal willingness to grant $130,000 to run what might be the country's first such system.

The council voted, 13-0, with one member missing, Wednesday night to seek the funds from the Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA).

Federal Urban Transportation Administrator John C. Kohl said in Washington he told Ithaca officials he would be happy to discuss the proposal with them Monday.

WOULD START SOON

Arthur Stallman, head of the Ithaca Transit Committee, said he has been in contact with the HHFA and there was every indication the grant would be approved. If it is, he said, the free bus experiment would begin Jan. 1.

Ithaca, a city of 30,000 in New York's Finger Lakes region, has two main transportation difficulties to solve.

One, according to Stallman, is the need for 300- to 500 parking spaces which would cost $2,000 a year, or nearly $1 million, to acquire.

Under the proposed plan, the city would buy four new buses with $31,000 of its own money and operate them with the federal funds.

"You just get on the bus and ride," he said.

Condition Satisfactory

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger, D-Ore., was reported in satisfactory condition today after an operation for removal of what doctors said was a slow-spreading cancerous growth.

Unemployment on Way Down?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department reported signs today that this month may bring the long awaited downturn in the unemployment rate.

Analysis of the October figures on job holders and job hunters shows that nonfarm payrolls and the monthly earnings of factory workers both hit all-time highs in October, the department announced, and the factory work week lengthened.

The rise in industrial payrolls to 55.3 million was better than seasonal. Coupled with the October pickup in retail sales, industrial production and housing starts, this suggested that unemployment at last may be about to dip below the recession rate of 6.8 per cent, a department spokesman said.

"We are hopeful that the rate will start moving down this month," said labor manpower expert Seymour Wolfbein.

U.N. Unit Still Unable to Solve Financial Crisis

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — A special study committee reported today that it had been unable to find a formula to pay for peacekeeping operations which have plunged the United Nations into a grave financial crisis.

The 13-nation group was established by the General Assembly last April after it seemed the huge costs of the Congo operation and the U.N. Middle East force would bankrupt the United Nations unless urgent action was taken.

Many countries, including the Soviet bloc and France, flatly refused to pay any share of the Congo costs. Others protested that the system of assessments placed unfair burdens on small countries. The costs are now being met by borrowing and by voluntary contributions from the United States and others.

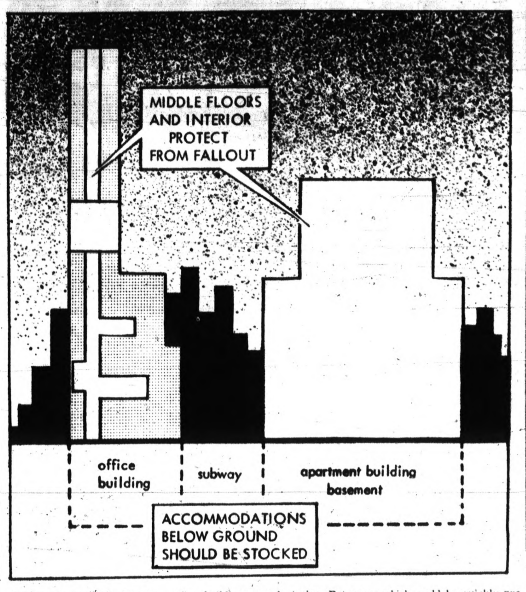
You Can Survive Atomic Attack—No. 10

Public Shelters in Building Basements Could Be Big Lifesaver in Emergency



(Editors Note. A Nobel prize winner who is America's best known authority on fallout and radiation has written for The Pontiac Press 15 vital articles on what you can do if nuclear war strikes. The series is not intended to approve or oppose fallout shelters but to relate how the nuclear threat has become a part of your life. This is the tenth installment.)

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

Big cities probably are prime targets of nuclear attack.

Any city could be hit, with an aiming error of perhaps only a few miles keeping a rocket warhead from the heart of a metropolis.

The aiming errors, defense actions such as interceptor missiles, and other variables could keep the center of a city from being hit, with a suburb taking the full brunt. This is unpredictable.

With proper defense, most city dwellers and workers could be saved. Our cities are vulnerable right now because shamefully little has been done.

City dwellers should be demanding action quickly, and taking individual steps to protect themselves.

Some cities have designated public shelters in basements or other areas of large public and office buildings, or factories. But few if any are yet stocked with necessary provisions to sit out the period of intense fallout.

Indeed, surveys to locate the best shelter areas are still being planned, rather than long ago accomplished.

MUCH CAN BE DONE

A few firms or companies have taken the initiative, and shown what is possible. For example, one company with 3,500 employes has prepared shelters in its building and stocked them at a cost of about $3.50 per employe.

At the University of California at Los Angeles, in two days we mapped the campus for basement areas capable of accommodating about 25,000 persons, enough room for the students and faculty and personnel.

We estimate we can stock it with all necessary supplies, including a basic powdered multipurpose food which needs only addition of water, for $1 per person.

Many city buildings, factories and apartments have basement areas which could be quickly prepared to care for residents, workers and visitors.

Apartment dwellers, on their own or with aid of the landlord, can set up fallout shelters within their buildings.

Subways offer huge shelter areas for many thousands of persons, particularly in New York. Storm drains, and any tunnels, are other possibilities.

Some countries, notably Sweden and Denmark, have been developing efficient fallouts and antiblast protection shelters for some time.

In Sweden, H-bomb shelters are required in the center of every city over 50,000 population, according to reports to the House Committee on Government Operations. In Denmark, some undergrotund garages are prepared as shelter areas.

EVACUATION NOT ANSWER

City residents in many blocks could band together to build and supply buried community shelters, such as were described in the previous article.

Would tall buildings and skyscrapers come tumbling down, perhaps trapping people in basement shelters? Yes, under a direct hit, or possibly for some distances beyond.

But reinforced concrete buildings such as these are strong, and many could withstand blast effects. In Hiroshima a concrete building directly underneath the A-bomb withstood the blast and was essentially intact, while frame buildings were blown down over great distances.

For fallout protection alone, tall buildings offer excellent protection in middle floors, and interior areas or corridors. There, the radiation from fallout would be blocked by the concrete structures above and below.

Evacuating a big city is not the answer, unless there was advance warning of a couple of days. Colossal traffic jams otherwise could lead to serious problems or loss of life.

Planning for apartment dwellers has lagged as badly as planning and preparation of shelters in schools. Tenants could take the lead in insisting on shelter provision, and might even contribute toward community shelters. The costs run about $100 per person with fifty or more people per shelter.

Some apartments have inner corridors or spaces offering some protection due to distance and intervening walls from the exterior walls or roof. Staying there for 48 hours could reduce the exposure somewhat but such shelter is very seldom adequate.

Otherwise there seems little choice for many except closets, or improvised shelters with "walls" of books of any available material. Going to shelters in offices or public buildings might be the wiser course.

Bird Will Cost Less This Year at Thanksgiving

WASHINGTON (AP) — Papa, who carves — and pays for — the Thanksgiving turkey has an extra reason for being thankful this year. But not the farmer who raised the turkey.

The Agriculture Department said Thursday this year's turkey day dinner will cost less than at any time in the past decade — about 80 cents less for a family of four than last year.

It said turkey prices are much lower than they have been for many years. Prices were said to be inadequate to repay the grower for his costs, let alone pay him for his labor.

A nationwide survey of prices indicated, the department said, that the total cost of an average Thanksgiving dinner for four this year will be about $5.42. The cost last year was $6.22. In 1951, the cost was figured at $8.63.

Tommy, Nancy Living Over Delicatessen

By EARL WILSON

WILSON

"Which way is Bloomingdale's?" Nancy and Tommy asked the other day—and headed there to buy furnishings for their modest apartment.

"Oh, we have to wait a couple of weeks now, until everything about opening the account clears," Nancy reported a couple of hours later.

Tommy, 24 now, good-looking, courteous, neat, wants to make it on his own. He's done three pictures this year; he and Nancy have done the Perry Como show, though they don't want to be a team.

Nancy'll be making visits to Grandmother Sinatra in Weehawken, N.J., said to have been the first woman who ever attended a prize fight. It's family legend that 50 or more years ago, when her husband was making an appearance in the ring, she was determined to see him fight, and—because there was a rule against women attending—she got in disguised as a boy.

"Is Nancy going to do much cooking?" I asked Tommy.
"Living over a delicatessen!" he exclaimed.

Veteran Speaker of the House Passes Away in Sleep in Texas

City May Hike Property Taxes to Meet Budget

Commissioners Fight to Keep Expenditures at Minimum in '62

By DICK SAUNDERS

Pontiac residents may find a tax rate increase in 1962 of at least 26 cents per $1,000 of assessed property value — and maybe more.

City commissioners and administrators are fighting to keep the 1962 budget at a figure that can be financed by less than a 14-mill tax rate—or $14 per every $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The present rate is 13.60 mills on a total assessed valuation of $290-million. Administrators believe that a revised budget, to be placed before the commission Nov. 28, will require at least a 13.86-mill tax rate.

Some $300,000 has already been trimmed from original budget requests and still more trimming will be needed.

There are several reasons for the dilemma now facing city commissioners and administrators, according to Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

REASONS FOR DILEMMA

1. Higher basic operating costs.
2. Forecasts of a possible drop in the city's total assessed valuation.
3. Increasing payroll and fringe benefit demands for city employes.

Administrators explain that operating costs rise somewhat each year as material costs go up, but the largest increase comes from a need for more services.

As a city such as Pontiac grows, and new subdivisions spring up, there is a corresponding increase in the need for sewage and water services, drainage, snow removal and other related services.

With a corresponding increase in property value, the city usually breaks even. But this is a year of great upheaval downtown, administrators and city assessors point out.

'It Was Very Easy Death for a Great Man,' Doctor

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Sam Rayburn, who served longer as House speaker than any man, died today in the home town he loved.

Cancer and its complications caused his death. He would have been 80 on Jan. 6.

The White House was notified immediately. So was Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader of the House.

MrCormack was the man Rayburn chose to serve temporarily as speaker when "Mr. Sam" had to leave Congress before it closed because of what he called lumbago.

But even then, his doctor believes, he knew he had cancer. The physician, Dr. Joe A. Risser, and members of the speaker's family and staff stood by the bedside in Risser Hospital as Rayburn faded away. "It was a very easy death for a very great man," Dr. Risser told reporters.

Asked about the immediate cause of death, Risser said simply that: "He just quit breathing."

Then, in more formal language, he put it this way:

"At 6:20 this morning Mr. Sam passed away. He died quietly. His respirations stopped.

"The heart continued to beat for four minutes after the cessation of respiration. He showed no evidence of pain lines in the face. He seemed to be as one in sleep."

Dr. Risser added that death was "an apparent result of diminished function of the respiratory center of the brain, which controls the respiration of the individual."

Rayburn had been unconscious for about 36 hours before his death. The doctor and family had spent two near-sleepless nights at the hospital.

LOST 50 POUNDS

Rayburn had lost nearly 50 pounds in the months that cancer had ravaged his body. His normal weight was 176. Dr. Risser said he had dropped to about 120.

No immediate arrangements for services were announced. Mr. Sam was taken to the Wise Funeral Home in Bonham shortly after the family left the hospital in the dawn of a windy, gray day.

The burial will be in the family plot perhaps three-quarters of a mile from the center of this northern Texas town of 7,000, where Rayburn was the outstanding citizen.

A large, simple granite marker inscribed "Rayburn" stands at the family plot. Smaller stones are at the heads of the graves of eight other Rayburns who preceded the speaker in death.

President Kennedy is expected

President Leads Nation in Mourning

By United Press International

President Kennedy led the nation today in mourning for Speaker Sam Rayburn. He said the United States has lost "a devoted servant and the citizens of this country an unflinching friend."

Political rivalries were cast aside as Republicans and Democrats alike paid tribute to Rayburn who died of cancer at his home in Bonham, Tex.

In a statement issued by the White House, Kennedy said Rayburn was "a strong defender of constitutional responsibilities of the Congress."

He had "an instinctive understanding of the American system and was a loyal counsellor and friend of presidents of both parties on the great matters which affected our national interest and security," Kennedy said.

The President said he and Mrs. Kennedy joined the nation in mourning Rayburn's death.

"His public service stretched from the administration of Woodrow Wilson to the present day," said Kennedy. "But it was the quality of that service more than its length that was so distinctive."

The White House received the President's statement by radio telephone from Kennedy's presidential jet while he was en route to Seattle, Wash. The President was notified of Rayburn's death early this morning.

PRAISE FLOWS IN

Statements poured in from Americans of high and low degree, from Republicans and Democrats.

House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack, apparent successor as speaker, said: "In the death of Sam Rayburn, the country stops in sorrow . . . he was one of the great Americans of all times."

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, R-Mass., who twice interrupted Rayburn's tenure as speaker when the Republicans held control of the House, paid high tribute to an old friend.

"In the death of Sam Rayburn," Martin said, "this country lost one of its greatest statesmen. For over 40 years he dedicated his life for the services of his party and his country . . . he was a man of high integrity, broad vision and one who had but one purpose and that was to serve his country well."

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Rayburn's political protege who worked closely with Rayburn in pushing Democratic programs through Congress, canceled plans to fly to the West Coast with Kennedy. He arranged instead to go to Texas.

Johnson said: "The capital is a lonely place without him and the good people of the world have lost a companion and an ally. He was always there when he was needed.

"His voice and his judgment were heard and respected. In the end, it all added up to one thing—he did what was right."

Calls Rights Meeting

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Swainson today summoned all state agency directors and chairmen of state boards and commissions to a meeting Nov. 27 on civil rights.

'Disaster Alert' Calls 'Em

CD Workers on the Job

Many city employes who have finished a course in civil defense rescue training got their first shot at practical experience Wednesday.

A "disaster" took place at East Boulevard and Featherstone Road at 8:45 a.m.

It was a surprise civil defense exercise set up by city administrators under the direction of David S. Teel, administrative assistant.

Not everything went smoothly. In fact, there were several small "disasters" within the big one.

A SLIGHT PROBLEM

There was a "slight communications problem" for a short time. Someone had the morgue mixed up with the emergency medical aid area.

The administrators expected a few mixups.

"We're almost glad they happened. The whole purpose was to find out what would go wrong. We found out and can keep it from happening next time," said Teel.

DISASTER ALERT

The whole thing was triggered by a patrol car calling in a disaster alert. Immediately, firemen, city department heads, police and sheriff's deputies were ordered to the area.

All over the city, nearly 100 employes dropped whatever they were doing and went to the area.

Police arrived first and blocked off the area to traffic. Then firemen from Station No. 1 arrived. A big stack of fuel-soaked debris was already blazing.

Firemen couldn't use hydrants. They were off limits. Administrators figure that in a real disaster, water lines might well be ruptured.

The firemen worked fast. In less than 15 minutes from the first alarm, they had a hose run from the fire several thousand feet to the creek.

However, water was low and they couldn't get enough pressure to pump uphill to the fire.

A Midwest ambulance arrived moments later. Then the Pontiac Police Department's mobile communications unit rolled in, trailed by a civil defense rescue unit.

The parks and recreation and public works departments furnished two rescue teams each. Other teams were made up of employes in the water and cemetery departments.

The entire exercise was completed by about 10:30. The city will plan similar tests from time to time, hoping that each one will work a little smoother than the last.

Young Deer Play It Cagey

Few Spike Horns Taken by Hunters During 1st Day of Season

By DON VOGEL
Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

WEST BRANCH — There should be plenty of bucks left for hunters waiting until the weekend before heading toward deer country.

Unfortunately for those nimrods who passed up the opener the majority of large buck harvested each season may already be hanging from meat poles.

Very few spike horns were taken during Wednesday's opening. Most of the bucks tagged carried good racks and were 2½ to 4 years old. The shortage of young bucks from one and a half to two and a half years is puzzling conservation men.

"I can't quite figure it," said Louis Ruch, conservation game specialist. "Most of these young bucks would have been half-grown deer last season with the mild winter and plenty of food available. Since then, more should be turning up."

Ean Greenhoe, 7097 Banks St., Union Lake, was one of two successful Oakland County hunters to connect the first day. He downed a four-pointer weighing 112 pounds in the Rifle River area northeast of here.

'NEEDED 3 SHOTS'

"I missed one before finally connecting," said the veteran hunter. "The one I got needed three shots before he would stay down."

Greenhoe was hunting with his wife Genevieve. This was the third straight year he has succeeded in the same place.

John Moir of Royal Oak dropped a four-point buck that dressed out at 122 pounds Wednesday morning while hunting the Lupton Hills in Ogemaw County. He and Rene Hall, Clawson, reported four "large buck" taken from the same area and several other deer sighted.

Other Oakland County hunters in the Rifle River area were not as fortunate. In fact, few even saw deer.

W. F. Wilkie and his wife Ella Mae, 63 N. Johnson St., Pontiac, said they heard one crashing through the underbrush. John Olson, 573 Raskob, Pontiac, and his brother Floyd Olson, 5644 Harrel, Drayton Plains, failed to see or hear a deer.

Larry Shelmach, John D. Disch and John J. Disch, all of Clarkston, spotted several does. Ed Farro and Bob Matheson, both of East Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills, saw no deer while hunting the Boyer property near Rose City.

Temperature Dip Will Turn Rain to Snow Tonight

More than half an inch in showers fell on the Pontiac downtown area early this morning.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said temperatures will turn colder late this afternoon with rain becoming mixed briefly with snow by evening and then changing to snow flurries tonight.

Temperatures are expected to plunge to a freezing 28 tonight and rise to a high of 35 Friday. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy but Saturday will find skies clearing and temperatures a little warmer.

Morning winds easterly at 10 miles per hour will shift to south to west to northwest tonight.

Forty-four was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 1 p.m. was 53.

Halt U.S. Unit on Autobahn

Reds Haggle a While, Then Tell Convoy to Continue Trip

BERLIN (UPI) — Soviet border guards today delayed a U.S. Army convoy traveling from West Berlin to West Germany along the autobahn in an apparent hassle over travel documents, but finally permitted it to continue, an American spokesman said.

The U.S. Army spokesman reported that the vanguard of the convoy of seven jeeps and 10 trucks with an infantry company of 200 men ran into a "minor delay" at the Soviet highway checkpoint opposite Helmstedt, on the East-West German border 110 miles from the divided city.

He said the Army attached no importance to the temporary delay.

"The important thing is that it was cleared to enter West Germany," the spokesman said. "Such minor delays often take place. There probably was a hassle about the convoy's travel documents. Sometimes there is a dispute about a misplaced comma."

The company, which is engaging in a training exercise, was expected to return to Berlin Sunday.

The troops, commanded by Capt. Roy Atkins of Fort Worth, Tex., will train for two days in platoon and squad tactics near Hildesheim in the British sector of West Germany.

LOWERING 'VICTIM' — An unidentified member of one of Pontiac's civil defense rescue crews lowers Thomas Courville, a public works employe, from the roof of the parks and recreation service building during an exercise yesterday. Volunteer "victim" Courville had been given first aid on the roof before the stretcher-pulley rescue operation began.

Pontiac Press Photo

QUICK RETURN — The first deer reported as an entry in The Press Big Deer Derby was Russell Piucci's 8-pointer which he shot yesterday at 10 a.m. in Ogemaw County near St. Helen. He was hunting alone and brought it down with his first shot. The deer unofficially weighed close to 200 pounds. Piucci was on his way home and as yet did not have the dressed weight of the deer which must be done to have it officially entered.

U.N. Presenting Proposals for Action

13 Italian Airmen Slain by Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—The United Nations today announced that insurgent Congolese troops had "brutally murdered" 13 Italian U.N. airmen at the Kivu Province town of Kindu.

A U.N. spokesman said the unarmed fliers were shot by unruly troops shortly after their arrest last Saturday afternoon.

Some of their bodies were dismembered and hurled into the Lualaba River, the spokesman added, by soldiers who apparently suspected them of being Belgian paratroopers.

The U.N. spokesman, George Ivan Smith, said the U.N. command was presenting "specific proposals" to the central Congo government for forceful action to investigate and punish those responsible for the murder and to prevent a repetition.

U.N. READY TO ACT

If the government response seems insufficient, Smith said, the U.N. is prepared to act immediately on its own. He added that Malayan troops prepared for any necessary action, already are being flown to reinforce the 200-man Malayan U.N. garrison in Kindu.

The U.N. already had threatened military action if the rebellious soldiers—part of a disorderly command of more than 2,000 claiming allegiance to leftist Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga—failed to give up the Italians.

U.N. headquarters here was in teletype consultation with Acting Secretary-General U. Thant in New York throughout the night to decide on the next steps to be taken by the world body.

The murder of the Italians was announced after word that Congolese Gen. Victor Lundula had returned to Kindu for another attempt to secure the Italians' release and to quell what was described as an open mutiny against the authority of the central government. Diplomats in Leopoldville said Gizenga himself was responsible for the mutiny.

ATTACKED IN MESS

The 13 Italian airmen had flown into Kindu in two C119 transports on a routine mission Saturday. Congolese troops attacked the airmen in the U.N. Malayan officers' mess, manhandled and beat them and took them off to the town prison.

Eyewitness reports to the U.N. said the men were shot before a crowd. When U.N. officials later confronted the local Congolese commander, he pleaded ignorance of the events and intimated his men were beyond his control.

"You know how soldiers are," he reportedly told the U.N. officials.

3 New Satellites Hints 'Dividends'

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Three gleaming new satellites whizzing around earth today indicated that within a year America may receive the first practical benefits from the billions of dollars it has invested in space exploration.

The moonlets, hurled into orbit within a two-hour period Wednesday, heralded a day when man will navigate by artificial "radio stars," communicate through switchboards in space and warn himself of missile attacks with the help of "spy-in-the-sky" satellites.

The most immediate practical pay-off probably will come from a 200-pound atom-powered satellite named Transit 4B, which the Navy and Air Force put into orbit with a complicated "piggy-back" passenger named TRAAC aboard a single rocket from Cape Canaveral.

Capt. William T. O'Bryant of the Bureau of Naval Weapons said that, if Transit 4B does its job well, it will become a part of mankind's first operational space network next year—a four-satellite system to provide an all-weather method for global navigation.

Previously, the Navy had planned to orbit four brand-new satellites weighing about 100 pounds each as the operational system.

The 200-pound TRAAC, although basically an experiment, also may have a note of practicality about it. The satellite will "grow" to a length of about 100 feet within a couple of weeks to try out a new method for keeping one face of a moonlet pointed toward earth at all times.

Slender, 32-year-old Robert E. Fischell of Johns Hopkins University's applied physics laboratory, who invented TRAAC, said that if his idea works it could reduce the weight of power systems for planned communications satellites by 100 times.

An 1,800-pound Discoverer satellite also rode into orbit Wednesday from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. It carried experiments for America's top-secret Midas and Samos—a pair of satellite programs designed to warn of missile launchings and do reconnaissance photo work in space.

Pupils Demonstrate at French Embassy

MOSCOW (AP) —About 2,000 foreign students attacked the French Embassy today, breaking windows and throwing banners into the front hallway. They were demonstrating against the imprisonment of Mohammed Ben Bella and other Algerian nationalist leaders.

The students marched from Friendship University and other student centers carrying banners saying "Liberate the internees" down with the grave diggers—De Gaulle to the gallows." Some of the students were Algerians.

They planted an Algerian national flag on the flagpole of the French Embassy and fought off police efforts to tear it down.

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — The Inland Lakes High School at Indian River and the Wolverine Community School at Wolverine were closed Wednesday. Teachers and students wanted to spend opening day of the deer season hunting.

Walkout In Second Day

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—A walkout of 57 Milwaukee Journal mail room employes went into its second day today but officials of the newspaper said the strike had no immediate effect on production and distribution.

generally to attend the services. He will have to shuffle arrangements for a four-day Western trip to do so.

ASKED FOR NEWS

This was by long-standing prearrangement. The President had asked that he be kept in touch with Rayburn's condition and told immediately when the speaker was gone.

It was the end of August when Rayburn left Washington and came back home to be cared for by his doctor. He had lost weight previously and had been feeling bad for weeks.

Risser had warned him of the possibility of a tumor early in July.

Rayburn was in pain then although he called it a backache. Yet he continued to preside over the House.

Twice, Risser said, he nearly blacked out on the rostrum and had to be helped away to rest.

Central Business District Plan to Be Unveiled

The long awaited Central Business District Plan will be unveiled today at a 5 p.m. meeting in the Waldron Hotel.

Consultants will present the plan in outline form to city commissioners, administrators and downtown businessmen.

The plan, which promises to change the face of Pontiac's downtown area, has been under study for many months. Cost of the studies has been split by the city and downtown businessmen and property owners.

Property Tax Hike Possible for '62

rolls. It may lower the total tax base and certainly won't increase it, say assessors.

Five years from now, this urban renewal area will be a better tax producer than it has been in many years. This will ease the situation then, but 1962 is now.

ASKING PAY HIKE

To keep pace with step increases, employes are asking for a 2½ per cent pay hike. This, plus such fringe benefits as Blue Cross-Blue Shield and longevity (a new item), totals out to well over $200,000.

That's nearly $100,000 more than it is estimated the 1962 budget can shoulder, even at a 13.86-mill tax rate.

If pay hikes are forgotten this year, Pontiac will be four per cent behind other cities next fall, necessitating a bigger outlay in 1963.

Operating expenses have already been cut to a bare minimum and it is feared that already some departments may be cut too thin.

Administrators also warn that if the city's total assessed valuation drops, this may necessitate a blanket increase in assessed value of residential properties.

Some experts fear the valuation may drop as much as $5-million.

They also point out that only 11 per cent of Pontiac's total tax burden is carried by residential assessments. This is considerably less than the residential tax burden of any other Michigan city of comparable size.

Bitter Winds, Second Storm Hit Southwest

By The Associated Press

Bitter winds blew across miles of snow-covered countryside today behind the second storm to buffet New Mexico and Texas in three days. The new storm also hit Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas.

As much as three feet of snow blanketed storm areas, which counted eight deaths from the wintry weather since Monday.

Blizzard conditions lingered on the Eastern Colorado plains, closing U.S. Highway 160 west of Springfield and U.S. 40 between Kit Carson and Cheyenne Wells.

New snow thickened the icy coverlet in extreme northeast New Mexico and parts of the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, and spread eastward into Kansas.

Skies cleared early today in the Texas and New Mexico areas. Snow continued in Oklahoma, where it blocked roads west of Boise City in the state's western most county.

Use of Stadium Before Board

Detroit Redskins Would Like Wisner for 5 or 6 Games in 1962

A letter expressing interest in the use of Wisner Stadium for five or six home games of the Detroit Redskins Professional Football team in the 1962 season will be read tonight to the Pontiac Board of Education at its 7:30 meeting at 40 Patterson St.

A pilot program, which adjusts class size to the item under discussion also will be among reports to be heard by the board.

AFFECTS 90 SENIORS

Routine adjustment of 10 principals' salaries is also on the agenda of the meeting.

The changes are requested to adjust tentative salaries set at budget- approval time in spring to by each principal, based on actual the number of students cared for enrollment.

If approved, seven of the principals will make gains, three will lose. The changes in each case are less than $100, except in one care where there is $161 decrease.

The Day in Birmingham

School Bond Proposal, Extra Mill Tax on Ballot

BIRMINGHAM — School district voters here Monday will decide a $4,915,000 bond proposal and an 11-mill operating tax question.

The bond issue would be used to finance the construction of a junior high school, an elementary school, an additional service building, and additions to the Barnum Junior High and the Pembroke, Harlan, Franklin and Bloomfield Village elementary schools.

Remaining funds would be used to make improvements to existing schools and sites and to acquire future school sites and additions to school sites.

The proposed new facilities would be constructed over a 5-year period.

ONLY 5 EXTRA MILLS

The millage proposal is actually only seeking five additional mills over the current tax rate. The other six mills requested would be a continuation of taxes already being levied but expiring at the end of this year.

School officials point out that it will not be necessary to even levy the five mills. They intend to transfer 3.4 mills from the school system debt retirement service to the operating budget.

This would mean an actual tax increase of $2.60 for each $1,000 of state equalized property valuation, they said.

In effect then, the school system is seeking only a 2.6 millage hike, but because of a state law it is necessary to state on the ballot the full amount of millage needed for operations.

The bond proposal will not require a tax increase, according to school officials, since increasing property valuations will provide the necessary funds to meet the new financial obligations.

The district's more than 30,000 registered voters can decide the millage request but only property owners are permitted to vote on the bond issue.

Voting precincts will be open Monday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Absentee ballots can be obtained until 2 p.m. Saturday in Room 202 at the Baldwin Elementary School.

The Village Players of Birmingham will present the stage adaptation of Rod Serling's television play "Patterns" tomorrow and Saturday night and again Nov. 24 and 25.

Performances of the adaptation by James Roach will be staged at the group's Playhouse on Chestnut Street. Tickets are on sale at Grinnell's in Birmingham.

The principal roles are held by Lawton Tabor, Robert Miller, Dale Drew, Mrs. Robert Wyatt and Mrs. Robert Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Kegel are directing the play, which is concerned with the maneuvering and despair at the executive level of big business.

Florida Places Ban on Alligator Hunting

TALLAHASSE, Fla. (AP) — Alligator hunting is no longer permitted in Florida, except by special permit from the state game commission. The permits are issued only for scientific, education or propagation purposes.

Hunters formerly were allowed to take alligators more than six feet long in certain areas of the state. But the alligator population was thinning out too rapidly. The no 'gator hunting order became effective Sept. 2.

Irate Husbands Veto Nudity Plan to Halt Eviction

LONDON (UPI) — Three irate husbands turned thumbs down today on a plan by their wives to strip off their clothes to prevent housing officials from evicting them from their homes.

"This is fantastic," said Brinley Howell, 40, in utter amazement, "I wouldn't dream of letting my wife, Anne, do this — especially in this weather."

Mrs. Howell, 25, and two other women, Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, 30, and Mrs. Mary Walsh, 26, had threatened to be in the nude in the event that bailiffs tried to enter their apartments to evict them.

Speaking of their plan, Mrs. Walsh had said earlier: "We are desperate. We won't even wear a fig leaf, if the bailiffs dare to enter our home while we are in the nude, we hope they die of shame."

Early, Thorough Care of Acne in Teens Urged

Early and thorough care of acne in teen-agers was urged yesterday by a skin specialist speaking at the sixth annual Clinic Day at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

Dr. Robert R. Kierland spoke to an audience of doctors from the county and surrounding areas of various common skin diseases and their treatment.

"Early treatment of acne," he said, "can prevent scars and benefit almost every patient with rare exceptions."

Dr. Kierland is presently associated with Mayo Clinic, Minnesota, and the graduate school of the University of Minnesota as professor of dermatology.

Noting that some form of acne affects most children at puberty, he said, that, aside from controlling acne itself, medical aid can often help keep down psychological effects such as an inferiority complex.

TAKE IT SERIOUSLY

Many young boys will take a case of acne so seriously that they'll refuse to go to dances or participate in other social activities," he said. "At the same time they neglect going to a doctor for help."

"While treatment of acne cannot prevent every pimple, it can keep it under control, prevent scarring, keep down the incidence of blackheads and ease emotional problems arising from acne."

Acne is the result, he said, of internal glandular changes at a certain age which in turn results in more oily skin, leading to black heads, pimples, and, if not treated, to scars or deep lumps.

Treatment depends on the individual doctor, he said. However there are ways in which the patient can help. He can wash his face frequently to remove oil and also shampoo the head.

MAY BE PRESCRIBED

An acne lotion may be prescribed by the doctor, according to the case. Whether or not there is a diet advisable, Dr. Kierland said, depends on a patient's experience and the doctor's decision.

"In certain types," he said, the doctor may also decide to use hot packs, antibiotics or local incisions and drainage."

Two other addresses were also heard by the assembled doctors. One, in the afternoon at the Nurses' Home Auditorium, was delivered by Dr. John Stirling Meyer, chief of Detroit Receiving Hospital's neurology department on "Practical Treatment of All Types of Strokes."

The other, entitled "Degenerative Arthritis of the Hip," was delivered at an evening session at Birmingham Country Club by Dr. Mark B. Coventry, professor of orthopedic surgery at the University of Minnesota and Mayo Clinic.

$5 Million for Primary Highways

County Lays Out 1962 Road Work

The Oakland County Road Commission will undertake a record high — costing nearly $5 million — primary road improvement program next year, the Board of County Road Commissioners announced today.

More than double the size of the usual annual road reconstruction program, the extra projects will be made possible from the first $2 million of a $6-million bond issue approved by the board of supervisors Nov. 7.

The accelerated program will provide local motorists with better roads four years ahead of schedule, said Hiland M. Thatcher, chairman of the board.

In the past, the projects had to be financed entirely from gas and weight tax receipts paid to the county by the state. This last year limited the commission to spending $1,918,000, while the 1962 program will total $4,932,000, of which the commission will pay $4,073,000.

FROM BOND SALES

More than $2 million of the county's share will be paid from the sale of the bonds and the rest from gas and weight tax receipts.

Several cities benefiting from the program, and Macomb and and Wayne Counties, into which certain projects overlap, will pay the $859,000 difference between the county share and the cost of the entire program.

All of the 47 miles of primary roads to be improved next year are included in the three-year, $11-million construction program the commission will undergo to tie in the county roads to the State Highway Department's freeway construction in Oakland County.

One such project will be to widen Southfield Road to five lanes from one-quarter mile north of Northwestern Highway to 13 Mile Road. This $956,000 — the largest, so far as costs, in the 1962 program — will be the extension into Oakland County of the Southfield Expressway under construction now by the State Highway Department.

NEIL B. WARD

Pontiac North Kiwanians Elect Officers

Neil B. Ward of 85 Willard St., Pontiac, has been elected president of the Kiwanis Club of Pontiac North for 1962.

Two vice presidents: Clifford C. Huntoon of 5630 Pontiac Lake Road, Waterford Township, and Andrew D. Stimer of 1947 Woodland, West Bloomfield Township; secretary, James Templeton of 31 Spokane, Pontiac Township; treasurer, William S. Dunseith of 1124 Crooks Road, Avon Township.

Installation wil be at 6:30 p.m., Dec. 6 at the Edgewood Country Club.

Elected to the board of directors for a two-year term were: Lester R. Stanley of 2290 Rosewood, Waterford Township; Dr. Harold L. Bienenfeld of 173 Oneida Road, Pontiac, and James F. Davis of 2369 Walnut, Pontiac Township.

Several of the 1962 projects, including the Southfield job, still need approval from the cities as they will pay 25 per cent of the costs.

All of Scott Lake Road in Waterford Township from Elizabeth Lake Road north to Dixie Highway (U.S. 10) will be rebuilt to two lanes of concrete. The county will pay the entire cost of this $425,000 project.

ANDERSONVILLE ROAD

A carry over from this year's program will be the black topping of 6.3 miles of Andersonville Road from White Lake Road to Davisburg in Springfield Township.

Traffic volumes and conditions of roads determine which are selected, Van Roekel said.

To link up with the new I-75 freeway in the county, Big Beaver Road from Adams to the freeway will be provided with a new $400,000 two-lane concrete surface. This is in Troy.

Baldwin Road, north of the Pontiac city limits, and Clintonville Road north from Mann Road to I-75 in Independence Township, will also be paved to make for two more smoother links to the new highway.

Federal aid will pay for the big part of widening and repaving two three-mile sections of West Eight Mile Road in the 1962 program.

None of the county's $1,650 miles of local or unpaved back roads are included in the future program. For such work to be undertaken communities must petition the commission and be able to pay half the cost on a 50-50 matching basis.

More money is made available for work on 675 miles of primary roads from the quarterly gas and weight tax funds as 75 per cent is allocated for these roads and the balance for local roads, Thatcher said.

CONGO TROUBLE SPOTS—Underlined are today's trouble spots in the Congo. At Kindu, Kivu provincial town north of secessionist Katanga province, more than 2,000 Congo government troops were reported by the U.N. command to have revolted against central government authority Wednesday. At Albertville, in Northern Katanga, the U.N. said, nearly 100 Congolese soldiers entered the city Tuesday where they arrested Europeans and Africans, looted houses, erected a roadblock and tried to extort money from passers-by.

Tree Shortage Labeled Acute

Forest Expert Urges Immediate Measures to Safeguard State Timber

HOUGHTON (AP) — The shortage of forest land in Michigan is so acute, that "immediate steps must be taken to insure that our children will have enough to meet their needs," says Leland W. Hooker, forester of the Michigan Tech Forest Products Research Division.

Michigan is among the first states in the nation to feel the pressure, Hooker said, adding that in less than 40 years the state population is expected to reach 12 million while forest acreage steadily decreases.

Presently, Michigan has a population of eight million and some 19,322,000 acres of forest land.

Hooker pointed to the recent controversy over a proposal to create a national park in Northern Michigan's Sleeping Bear Dunes area.

The parks proposal is supported, Hooker said, by those concerned with preserving areas of historic and scenic interest through a program of greater campground development.

It is opposed, Hooker said, by commercial forest operators who maintain the purchase of land by state and federal governments intensifies their problem of supplying forest products for an increasing population on a decreasing amount of available timber lands.

Adding to the conflict, Hooker said, is the fact that land suitable for parks lies mostly in areas where the local governments of surrounding towns depend on taxes provided by forest-based industries.

These towns oppose removal of considerable amounts of this land from their tax rolls, Hooker said.

Hooker's solution to the conflict lies in multiple use of the land — capitalizing on the fact that a forest can yield more than one benefit at a time, he said.

Vatican Rules on Validity of Televised Mass

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Does a Roman Catholic television technician have to attend a second Sunday Mass after helping televise one?

The Vatican's Sacred Congregation of the Council ruled Wednesday that the first Mass is sufficient, provided the TV technician works inside or just outside the church, that he intends to fulfill the obligation of attending mass and that he is spiritually united in that intention with the celebrant.

* * *

But the validity of a televised Mass does not extend to viewers. Earlier rulings have made it clear that Catholics have an obligation to go to church for Sunday Mass.

Nixon Hits Softness Toward Red Chinese

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The United States needs "to put a lot more fire and a lot more backbone" into its effort to keep Communist China out of the United Nations, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Wednesday.

Nixon told a news conference he was not ready to advocate United States withdrawal from the United Nations if Red China is admitted, but warned that American public opinion might demand withdrawal or a drastic cut in U.S. funds for the body.

* * *

He said President Kennedy's public statements against Red China's bid for United Nations membership have been emphatic, but "what concerns me is that at the second levels in our administration, a defeatist attitude has been expressed."

Five Captured Selling Cutout Paper Money

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Five young men sold cutout dollars printed in newspapers. After deceiving a number of people they were caught, said the Zagreb weekly magazine Arena Wednesday.

The magazine said they got millions of dinars out of the operation.

The group bought large numbers of Globus, another Zagreb weekly magazine, in which a story about forgeries was published along with specimens of $500 and $1,000 bills.

Rat Traps Housewife

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Robert R. Osborne, police dispatcher, sent a prowl car to the aid of a housewife in distress Wednesday with this postscript: "If the lady doesn't answer your knock on the door, she says it will be because the rat is between her and the door."

Dogs Won't Bite the Hand That Feeds Them

Mailman Uses Handouts to Keep Safe on Route

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fifteen years ago it occurred to a mailman named Theodore Wilson that a dog won't bite the hand that feeds him.

So Wilson, who has the usual mailman's aversion to bared fangs, invested in a box of dog biscuits as insurance.

Over the years, Wilson's daily trek through a suburban Suitland, Md., residential district has become an occasion for rejoicing for little children, dozens of dogs and a pigeon named Sam.

Stuffed in with the letters and packages in his pouch is lavays a sackful of lollipops for the kids, biscuits for the dogs and birdseed for Sam.

JOINS THE CROWD

As a result, Wilson has been bitten only once. That was six years ago, when a new dog in the neighborhood who thought he was fair game nipped him. But then the pooch learned the situation and quickly joined the group which waits for Wilson every day.

Wilson averages three boxes of dog biscuits and three boxes of candy each week, and lately has added bird seed for the pigeon.

Admittedly, the dog biscuits were designed to protect his angles, Wilson said, but he has been handing out the candy from the start "just for fun."

"I get just as big a kick out of it as the kids do," he said.

Wilson reported that his practice has not spread to other mail carriers.

Fellow postmen carry something in their packs for dogs, Wilson said, but it's more likely to be something to beat them off rather than to win their good will.

Other postmen have tried his dog biscuit method from time to time, he said, "but they haven't gone into it as deeply as I have."

Wilson said he could not begin to estimate the number of dogs who wait for his handouts each day. "It varies according to who's in the neighborhood," he said. There's one indoor dog, however, who gets its biscuit every day through the mail slot together with the day's letters.

Wilson goes from block to block, surrounded by children and animals. He usually leaves one group at the end of a block and picks up another group waiting for him on the next corner, although some of the dogs follow him farther.

The mailman said his unique little stratagem costs him about $1.50 to $2 per week. He has never asked for government remuneration or suggested that the post office provide his safety materials.

The repayment comes, said Wilson, when he sees the kids, the dogs and the pigeon waiting for him each day.

House Arrest Ordered for Swainson's Dog

LANSING (AP) — A house arrest for 10 days has been ordered for Rebel, black and white dog pet of the Gov. Swainson family after a gas meter reader complained he was nipped.

State police ordered the confinement, to determine if the dog has rabies. The complaint was made by Alvin Hoover, meter reader for Consumers Power Co., who said he was bitten at the governor's home Tuesday.

Rebel is of mixed breed, a female and a gift to the Swainson family from a friend.

Hoople Gets Assist From Nephew Leander

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Father of the Belly Series

Egad, friends, I have a treat for you this week.

Early in September, my nephew Leander offered his services to the Hoople Football Forecasting Forum.

And in the true Hoople tradition he has confined himself to the more difficult selections.

Go on with the predictions:

To be sure, Leander's system is a crude one, but the lad came up with some interesting predictions.

More Keglers Share in Prizes at Lakewood

Proprietor Bill Kupkilinski of Lakewood Lanes is being kept busy these days keeping up a supply of prizes for his bowlers who have been "burning up" the alleys at 3121 West Huron.

He has certain awards set aside for various high scores and the keglers have been taking advantage of the generosity.

Bill Bull, an instructor there, recently took home a watch for topping 265 by two pins in a 681 series. Bob Willis, who sponsors his own team in the Baldwin Rubber loop, also won a timepiece for hitting 273.

Ivy League kegler Bob Brown earned a pen and pencil set for topping 240 in a 685. He did it twice with 245-247.

Bowling Loop Loses Omaha

Officials Don't Think New NBL Will Disband as a Result

b 50 yyrwyyfczzc BC15

DALLAS Tex. (AP) — Commissioner Dick Charles and founder Curtis Sanford of the National Bowling League said Wednesday they did not think their organization would fold because of the withdrawal of Omaha.

Owner Bill Russell of Omaha turned his franchise back to the league Monday.

Charles said the league was letting everyone in free for the next two days to see if the people of Omaha want a team.

"If they don't we'll decide this weekend what to do with the franchise," Charles said.

At least one city is known to be wanting the Omaha franchise. Oklahoma City will be represented at the league's meeting in Chicago this weekend.

"Attendance was building at Omaha," said Charles. "It was just a matter of money with Russell. He ran out of funds. It came as a jolt to the rest of the league but we're still convinced that we have a good thing."

The Dallas Times Herald said even if the Omaha problem is solved, the league may soon run into trouble. Another franchise owner is reportedly reaching the bottom of the cash box.

Red Arrow Division Adds Gordy to List

FORT LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — John Gordy, offensive guard for the Detroit Lions, is the latest addition to the Red Arrow Division's collection of professional football players.

Gordy arrived Tuesday night to be assigned as an officer. Lt. Gordy began his Army life yesterday as the Wisconsin National Guard contingent marked its first month in active service.

Other football players who came in as reserves and were assigned to the 32nd Red Arrow Infantry Division are Ray Nitschke and Boyd Dowler, linebacker and end for the Green Bay Packers, and fullback Doug Mayberry of the Minnesota Vikings.

An Army spokesman said it was doubtful if Gordy, Nitschke and Dowler will be able to join their teams for the Thanksgiving Day game between Detroit and Green Bay. The training schedule is expected to keep them busy until late in the previous afternoon.

Pontiac Hockey Team in Ontario Scrimmage

Dixie Tool & Machine Hockey Club is made up mostly of players from the Pontiac area and played under the name of Hornets last year in the same league and tied for second place. The team is coached by Al Quesnell of Rochester.

Women's Match Game Tourney Starts

CHICAGO (AP) — A field of 128 men and 64 women will warm up tonight in a "Parade of Champions" for the fifth annual World's Invitational Match Game Bowling Championship.

The 10-day tourney, with a distribution of $48,240 in prize money, starts Friday morning with the entry list representing 25 states and Canada and Mexico.

The meet, for the first time, will be held on 16 alleys built in the north unit of the main exhibition floor at McCormick Place, Chicago's $34 million exposition center on the Michigan lakefront. It previously has been in Chicago's Coliseum.

A record attendance is expected for the 20 tournament sessions and a special grandstand seating 2,600 has been installed. The preview in tonight's special competition for $3,000 in prizes will be followed by day and evening sessions for nine days and a climactic single daytime session on Sunday, Nov. 26.

After the first four days, the fields will be sliced to 48 men and 32 women, a double round Tuesday, Nov. 21, will send 15 men and 15 women into the match-play finals along with defending champions Don Carter of St. Louis and Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Among top challengers are Dick Weber of St. Louis and Shirley Garms of Chicago, both 1960-61 "bowlers of the year."

The field includes winners of every tournament on the 1961 tour of the Professional Bowlers Association of America and the 49 top stars from the 10 teams of the new National Bowling League, which has suspended play for a week in deference to the world meet.

PICKING ONE OFF — Detroit's Gene Shue grabs a rebound between two St. Louis players in the 1st half at a Piston home game last night. Piston Bailey Howell (18) and Hawks John McCarthy (15) and Cliff Hagen (16) are also shown. Detroit won.

Pistons Add to Strife of Clipped Hawks, 127-122

DETROIT (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks, five times Western Division champions of the National Basketball Association, are showing signs of strife in a season that has been filled with nothing but frustration.

The Hawks, whose entire team was on and off the trading market in less than 12 hours, slipped into fourth place of the five-team Western Division last night, bowing to Detroit 127-122.

It was the Hawks' fifth loss in six games. They now stand 5-9 for the season.

"I'm here to trade," he said in Detroit. "I'm not talking about my 10th man. I'd trade any of our top players. They tell me I've got three of the best players in the world. Well, I'm ready."

That position, however, was quickly reversed by owner Ben Kerner in St. Louis.

"Let's just say they are no longer on the market," Kerner snapped. "No Hawk players are on this market until they are put there by this office."

DETROIT (AP) — Forty-nine of the United Auto Workers Union's 88 bargaining units in Chrysler Corp. plants have ratified the new labor contract, the UAW said Wednesday.

Profit Taking Responsible

Stocks Lower in Active Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit taking on the fall market rally grew sharper early today as the stock market moved generally lower in active trading.

Losses of most key stocks were small, some going to a point or so.

Chrysler was subjected to some heavy selling. It fell 1½ to 49 on an opening block of 8,000 shares and extended the loss later. Sales of three Chrysler models were reported "dragging" by a nationally circulated publication.

Ford and American Motors held fractional gains but General Motors was off slightly.

The market rise ran into resistance Wednesday after 11 straight sessions of more advances than declines. Today's action looked like a logical follow through to correct the vigorous rise.

Most of the major steels, oils, coppers, chemicals and rubbers took moderate losses.

Texas Instruments picked up about 3 points.

Opening blocks included Benguet, unchanged at 1¼ on 8,000 shares; San Diego Imperial, up ½ at 18½ on 7,500; American Motors, up ⅝ at 19½ on 5,000; and Westinghouse Electric, off ⅛ at 40¼ on 5,000.

Wednesday the Associated Press Average of 60 stocks rose .30 to 268.80, a new high.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Gainers included Mead Johnson, Loral Electronics and General Plywood. Among losers were Aerojet-General, Tampa Electric and Creole Petroleum.

Agriculture Dept. May Economize on Air Travel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department soom may direct its thousands of employes to make more use of coach or tourist-class service when they ride commercial airlines on government business.

The department currently pays commercial airlines about $4 million a year to haul employes on official business.

Officials cannot provide any exact estimates of how much this travel currently is by coach, which generally costs about 25 per cent less than first-class tickets.

Ike Admired the Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sam Rayburn could be as partisan as the next one, but he counted many friends in both parties. A leading Republican admirer was former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Five Executives See Good 1962

Industrialist Predicting Moderate Growth but Without Any Boom

DETROIT (AP)—Five of the nation's top industrial executives predicted today that 1962, in effect, will be a year of moderate growth without a boom.

The forecasts came at the 47th meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board in Detroit.

The consensus of the five experts was expressed in a speech prepared for delivery by H. Glenn Bixby, president of Ex-Cello-O Corp. of Detroit, who said his machinery industry would parallel the economy in a continuing though gradual recovery from recession levels of two years ago.

"The outlook for most segments of the machinery industry is favorable," Bixby said, "but too many factors remain in doubt to predict any sharp increase in machinery sales."

Ross D. Siragusa, chairman and president of Admiral Corp., said "while the business pickup for the television appliance industry now is keeping pace with the rest of the economy, it will pick up in 1962."

John F. Smith Jr., president of Inland Steel Co., predicted a good year for steel but said he could not be "equally encouraging about the outlook for profits."

James R. Kerr, president of Avco Corp., said that "the present convulsive condition of this planet is now just a traditional emergency but will continue through our lifetime and the lifetime of our children."

Bernard A. Monaghan, president of Vulcan Materials Co., said in his prepared speech that "the overall construction industry in 1962 should operate at even higher levels than in 1961."

School Bond, Tax Vote Monday in Farmington

FARMINGTON — A $2.1-million bond proposal and an extension of operating taxes will be decided in a special election Monday by voters in the Farmington School District.

Supt. Gerald V. Harrison said that it has been estimated that there will be no need for a millage hike if the bond issue is approved.

Approval of the millage request would provide a continuation of three mills voted in 1957 which expires the end of this year.

Extension of the three mills for five years would keep the total school tax levy at 29.11 mills for each $1,000 of assessed valuation, with possible lower rates as valuation increases in the school district, according to Harrison.

TO BUILD NEW SCHOOL

Funds from the sale of the bond issue would be used to finance the construction of a junior high school and a 20-room elementary facility or addition. Remaining funds would be used to purchase future school sites.

The junior high school, which would have a capacity enrollment of 650 students, would be, built on a 23-acre site east of Middle Belt and between 10 and 11 Mile Roads. The property already is owned by the school system.

A decision has not been made as to where the proposed elementary school will be constructed or whether the new classrooms will be added to an existing school. About $600,000 would be used for this project.

Future site purchases would be used for another junior high school and two elementary schools, Harrison added.

Enrollment projections show that a new junior high school and a new elementary school will be needed by the fall of 1963, he said.

And to assure completion of the buildings on schedule, it will be necessary to have the funds early next year since it takes 18 months to two years from the time the bonds are sold until the schools are ready for occupancy.

It is almost exactly two years since the last bond proposal and millage request were placed before voters in the school district.

On Nov. 23, 1959, a $3 million bond issue and a two mill tax hike were approved by voters by a margin of 12 votes.

Only property owners will be permitted to vote on the bonding proposal but all voters will be allowed to decide the proposed millage question.

Board May Pick Architect Firm

Farmington Twp. Hopes to Name Designer for New Hall Tomorrow

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Selection of an architectural firm to design a new township hall here may be made tomorrow night, according to Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall.

Hall said that the township board might possibly make a decision after interviewing representatives of three firms at 7 p.m. in the township hall.

Prospective candidates for the job, narrowed down from a field of 11, are Strickfaden and Strickfaden, Associates, and Charles Hannan, both of Farmington; and Crane, Kiehler and Kellogg, Detroit.

Tentative plans indicate that an adequate building to house the township offices could be built for less than $100,000, said the supervisor.

ALREADY HAVE MONEY

"It can be constructed without any increase in taxes. The township already has the money, a surplus from the general fund over a period of years," he explained.

The site for proposed building has been purchased for $18,000 on the southwest corner of Orchard Lake and 11 Mile roads. Funds to purchase the site also have been set aside during the last several years.

No date has been set for start of construction.

The township's present quarters are in an old building at 23715 Grand River Ave. in Farmington City.

Hall said the building, constructed about 1872, has served as the township hall since 1944.

WSU Governors Hear Protest Against Speaker

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne State University Board of Governors took no official action Wednesday on a protest against the appearance on campus of Herbert Aptheker, historian and editor of the magazine "Political Affairs."

A group, headed by Ann Byerlein, 33, appeared before the board to protest Aptheker's appearance today. He was to speak on "The Negro in the American Civil War" and was invited to do so by the Wayne Independent Socialists Club.

Miss Byerlein told the board, "We don't want tax dollars spent for Communist subversion. If Aptheker appears on campus, we have no other recourse . . . we're going to the legislature."

Leonard Woodcock, board chairman, told the woman he did not share her "worries about the republic."

Record Per-Acre Yield Seen for State Potatoes

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's fall potato crop is headed for a record per-acre yield, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service says. The indicated yield of 18,500 pounds per acre is 10 per cent above the record set in 1958, the service reported.

The state production is expected to hit 7.8-5 million pounds — 6 per cent above the Oct. 1 prediction, and 16 per cent above average.

"OH NO, NOT THAT!"—"When I'm lookin' for a woman, she buys me a dog," groans Wormy, played by Jim Schank, in Brandon High School's production of "Bernadine." His mother, played by Carmen Miller, likes the idea and so does Vernon, played by Barry Young, who is obviously pleased about Wormy's new pooch. Performances of Mary Chase's comedy will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday.

'Bernadine' on Friday, Saturday

Brandon High Play Set

ORTONVILLE — "Bernadine," the first of two all-school plays to be staged at Brandon High School this year, will be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday nights in the school auditorium.

Director is Lee Moore, dramatics coach.

Written by Mary Chase, author of "Harvey," the play concerns a group of self-styled dead end kids. Beaumont, played by Arlen Pettit, leads them into the imaginary world of "Sneaky Falls, Idaho."

When the sham hoodlums are bored or discouraged, Beaumont reminds them that things are different in Sneaky Falls, where the word 'no' is never spoken and mothers and sons aren't even in the same families.

The main attraction of Sneaky Falls, however, is Bernadine, the Ideal Female.

ONLY UNHAPPY MEMBER

The only unhappy member of the crowd is Wormy who can't succeed at being either the wheel or conquering male that he wants to be. His mother needles him constantly and he can't get any dates.

The solution? Bernadine.

Other players are Linda Metzger, Mary Atkins, Kathie Borst, Kathleen Hutchings, Marilyn Denton, Kathy Bryant, Gwen Hamilton, Judy Broecker, Nan Duman, Nancy Mills, Barbara Romeo and Ann Weeks.

Tickets are available at the door.

Tentative Plans Okayed for Disco Junior High

UTICA — Tentative plans for a proposed $1,185,600 Disco Junior High School, to house some 900 students, have been approved by the Utica Board of Education.

According to Neal Smith, board architect, the 98,000 - square - foot building will cost about $12 per square foot. Fees for site development and built-in equipment will be an additional $157,000, he said.

The school will be built on the site behind the present Disco Elementary School on Van Dyke, just north of 23-Mile Road.

The school's gymnasium will be built below the level of the rest of the school, allowing for a higher ceiling. A cafeteria partition will make lectures and combined classes possible without disturbing those at lunch.

ROOM WITH LIBRARY

A room would be built with the library which could be used as conference rooms or as a classroom in conjunction with library facilities.

The general plans follow those of the Sterling Junior High School, school officials said.

The possibility of installing air conditioning for use in summer school adult education sessions also is under consideration by the board.

Funds for the new school, third in the board's current building program, were approved in a $3.98-million bond election last Dec. 5.

Schools Supt. Fred M. Atkinson said that completion of the school is due by September 1963.

Subpoena Wife of Union Official

Mrs. McMaster Called Into Case Involving Her Teamster Husband

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Elaine M. McMaster appeared before a U.S. District Court grand jury Wednesday in a case involving her husband, Rolland B. McMaster, secretary treasurer of Teamsters Union Local 299.

Mrs. McMaster appeared after U.S. District Judge Thomas P. Thornton refused a motion that she should not appear on grounds a wife should not be forced to testify against her husband.

McMaster was indicted last month on 32 counts. They charged he received money from an employer whose workers include members of the Teamsters.

They contend McMaster allegedly got $8,823 from William Wolff Sr., president and main stockholder of the Youngstown, Ohio, Cartage Co., between Dec. 8, 1956 and July 17, 1959.

Mrs. McMaster had been subpoenaed to bring all the records of the Southern Michigan Lease Co. from Jan. 1, 1956, to Aug. 31, 1961. The Southfield firm is owned by Mrs. McMaster. It leases bulldozers and tractors.

Physician Hits Aid Linked to Social Security

DETROIT (AP) — The King-Anderson bill, which would finance health care for senior citizens through Social Security, is "the foot-in-the-door' approach that would lead to a full blown nationalization of the medical profession," says a prominent Michigan physician.

Dr. Don W. McLean, president of the Wayne County Medical Society, was only one of several physicians, politicians and public officials who debated the issue of health care for senior citizens here Wednesday.

McLean's remarks were made to a panel discussing better health and welfare opportunities for senior citizens at final sessions of a two-day White House regional conference.

The health care plan also was a major issue in a rally Wednesday of nearly 7,000 auto plant retirees who voted to join a national drive to push for adoption by Congress of the King-Anderson bill.

Under the King-Anderson bill, the cost of financing the health care for retirees on Social Security would be raised through increasing the employer's and the employee's contribution to Social Security by one-quarter of 1 per cent each, and by increasing the base on which the Social Security contribution is paid from the first $4,800 of earnings per year to $5,200.

AVON TOWNSHIP — The township board today will submit an estimate of $1,500 for its 1962-63 civil defense budget to the state office in order to qualify for matching federal funds.

Girl, 11, Survives 3½ Days on Raft

MIAMI, Fla., (AP) — Pretty, flaxen-haired Terry Jo Duperrault, who drifted for 3½ days aboard a life raft in the Atlantic, was in critical condition today but her physician said "I think she will make it."

A spokesman at Mercy Hospital said Terry Jo, 11, was drowsy and there had been little change in her condition since the Green Bay, Wis., child was brought in by Coast Guard helicopter Thursday.

She had clung to a white cork raft, riding a sea made choppy by 16-mile-an-hour winds, since Sunday night.

TERRY JO DUPERRAULT

Her feet were shriveled from long exposure to the salt water and her skin was colored a deep pink from the sun. Her lips appeared to have been painted.

Terry Joe previously had been reported lost with four others, including her parents and a brother, when a chartered ketch, the Blue Belle, went down in a sudden squall 50 miles northwest of Nassau, Bahamas.

But at 11:17 a.m. Thursday a message came from a merchant ship, the Captain Theo, saying a child had been picked up from a life raft. The skipper, named Couthodontis, requested medical advice from the Coast Guard.

The child was given a small amount of water and orange juice and was put to bed while a Coast Guard helicopter flew to meet the freighter 285 miles off Miami. The Captain Theo is en route to Texas ports.

The 'copter was unable to land on the freighter and lifted the child in a basket. She awoke briefly.

"She went right back to sleep when we put her inside the 'copter and didn't say a thing," said Lt. Cmdr. Robert Pope, the pilot.

Dr. Franklyn Verdon said Terry Jo was suffering from exposure, loss of fluid, a heart beating too fast because of shock, and the threat of pneumonia.

"But I think she will make it. I think she will live," he said.

U.S. to Be Firm but Take Part in Negotiations

JFK in Seattle Speech Says He Can't Preach War OR Surrender

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — President Kennedy says the United States must be willing to negotiate Cold War issues from a position of strength.

To preach either war or surrender, he says, does a disservice to the nation.

As the Western Allies, including West Germany, renew efforts to unify their stand toward the Soviet Union, Kennedy Thursday made clear these views:

To encourage "appeasement or war, suicide or surrender" will divide the nation, create uncertainty among Allies and inspire doubt in the Communist bloc of the West's readiness to defend its rights.

"The United States cannot impose its will on others," he said. "There cannot be an American solution for every world problem."

MUST TAKE PART

The United States will never negotiate merely for the sake of negotiation, nor will it ever subject freedom to negotiation. But so long as vital interests and goals are clear, "we have nothing to fear from negotiations at the appropriate time and nothing to gain by refusing to play a part in them."

Talking out East-West disputes will succeed only if each side can find success in the result. In ef-

Drop Into 20s Will Be Quick Trip This Time

A few snow flurries may hit the Pontiac area tonight with the low near 28, but the weatherman says rising temperatures will warm our bones Saturday through Monday or Tuesday.

For the next five days high temperatures will range in the upper 40s and the low will be near 32 to 35. Tuesday or Wednesday temperatures will drop again.

Morning northwesterly winds will become west to northwesterly at 15 to 25 m.p.h. late today and diminish a little tonight.

Thirty-six was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 37.

Leaders Hear Plans for Boosting Sales

Downtown Pontiac businessmen, city commissioners and administrators were shown last night how they could increase downtown retail sales by $10 million per year by 1980.

Consultants and developers of the Central Business District Redevelopment Plan outlined a "progress report" before civic leaders at the Waldron Hotel.

The $40,000 plan, for which the city and merchants group each paid $20,000, should be completed on paper in two or three months, said Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

In essence, the CBD plan takes traffic movement recommendations, urban renewal, and Clinton River improvement, puts them all together and adds one new factor—land use.

One feature which seems destined to be recommended in the final plan is an "interior loop road" inside the proposed perimeter highway.

OPPOSITE CIRCULATION

Traffic on the perimeter road would travel counterclockwise. Vehicles would travel clockwise on this interior loop.

It would act as an "interior circulator for downtown traffic only," explained Michael Powills, representing Barton-Aschman Associates, who produced the Barton Traffic Study for Pontiac.

This could be formed by Perry Street on the east, Pike on the south, Wayne Street (extended to Pike) on the west and Lafayette (extended east to erry) on the north.

Richard Steinberg, senior associate with Larry Smith & Co., doing economic and market studies for the plan, estimated that there would be 152-million retail sales dollars spent per year by some 460,000 people in the Pontiac retail area by 1980.

This area is largely north and west Oakland County. In 1958 some $87 million was available in this area.

"With redevelopment and revitalization, downtown Pontiac could increase retail sales by an estimated $10 million by then," he said.

No definite land use plans were offered, but William Johnson and

Asks $150,000; Lost Eye Following Scuffle With Patrolman

A $150,000 lawsuit has been started in Oakland County Circuit Court against a Ferndale patrolman who has admitted striking a White Lake Township man being arrested for drunken driving.

The attorney for Hickey, Benjamin B. Tower, filed the preliminary legal papers at the courthouse and a notice was issued for Patrolman Patrick T. Sullivan, 27.

No declaration listing the specific grievances against Sullivan was filed. Tower has 15 days in which to file.

William R. Beasley, Ferndale city attorney, said he had learned that a second suit possibly will be filed against the city.

Hickey, a construction worker discharged from the Army in June, is still in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital under observation.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor conducted an investigation of the Nov. 5 incident in the Ferndale police station and concluded it when Hickey refused to make a statement on advice of Tower.

Sullivan, a five-year veteran on the force, told Taylor he struck Hickey in the face about four times after Hickey first struck him. The scuffle took place, Sullivan said, when Hickey refused to surrender his wallet when he was being booked at the station on a charge of drunken driving.

REPORT ON CONGO—Maj. Gen. Sean McKeown (left), commander of the United Nations Congo force, and Conor Cruise O'Brien, chief U.N. representative in Katanga, walk from a plane at Idlewild Airport on their arrival in New York Thursday to report to the U.N. on the Congo crisis. They reported to acting Secretary General U Thant.

U Thant May Dispatch More Troops to Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary General U Thant today considered rushing more U.N. troops to the Congo to deal with the new crisis as anger mounted over the slaying of 13 Italian airmen by mutinous Congolese soldiers.

U Thant discussed the situation with Maj. Gen. Sean McKeown, commander of the U.N. Congo force, and Conor Cruise O'Brien, chief U.N. representative in Katanga, who were ordered home to brief him on the grave turn of events.

McKeown said on arrival Thursday the U.N. needs more men and equipment to deal with the mounting crisis. He added that those responsible for the slayings would have to be apprehended but that this would be difficult since Congolese officers have little control over their troops.

The U.N. Congo force once numbered more than 22,000 men but is down to 15,940 since the withdrawal of contingents from Ghana, Guinea, Mali, Morocco, Tunisia and the United Arab Republic. It is expected to lose the Nigerian contingent of 1,711 within a few weeks.

U Thant denounced the slaying of the 13 airmen as an outrageous crime and ordered the U.N. Congo command to make sure all responsible get the punishment they deserve.

WAVE OF REVULSION

The murder sent a wave of revulsion through U.N. headquarters as details were disclosed in a report from Sture Linner, chief U.N. officer in the Congo.

Linner said the Italians were beaten and shot, then cut to pieces and parts of their dismembered bodies distributed to a crowd in the Kivu Province town of Kindu.

There were expressions of outrage from the United States, Bri-

Malayans Sent After Killers of 13 Airmen

Force Also Will Try to Put Down Mutiny Incited by Gizenga

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The United Nations sped Malayan troops to Kindu today to pen up Congolese army butchers of 13 Italian U.N. airmen for punishment.

Planeloads of blue-helmeted Malayans were flown to the Lualaba River port in Kivu province with orders to encircle and disarm the killers and others in a force of 1,000 reportedly incited to mutiny by the Congo's Lumumbist vice premiere, Antoine Gizenga.

About 80 of the drunken and undisciplined soldiery — undeterred by a 200-man Malayan contingent on duty at the Kindu Airfield—shot and cut up the Italians near the town prison Saturday.

Cries of "They are Flemish Belgians" accompanied the massacre. Parts of the bodies were tossed to excited spectators.

DEMAND ARREST

The U.N. organization in the Congo, headed by Sture Linner of Sweden, demanded immediate arrest of the Congolese commander at Kindu (who disavowed responsibility by declaring "you know how soldiers are") and establishment of a U.N.-Congolese commission to seek out "the remaining culprits."

In a report to New York, Linner said all resources of the U.N. Congo command would be used to disarm the Congolese, seal off the Kindu area and round up all suspects.

"Pieces of the bodies were distributed to the large crowd that gathered to watch the massacre," Linner said, "and some parts of the bodies were also flung at non-Congolese who were present.

"Two mutilated bodies were dragged through the main streets of Kindu and exhibited. All the remains of the bodies were then thrown into the river."

Official reports from Kindu residents said hands and feet chopped from the airmen were handed around as trophies. A severed hand was tossed on the desk of a World Health Organization physician as a gesture of contempt.

U.N. spokesman George Ivan Smith said the U.N. handed a letter to Premier Cyrille Adoula insisting on punitive action. Though it was left open, for Adoula's regime to assume responsibility, the U.N. indicated it intends to carry out the punishment itself.

"We have to create a set of conditions in which we can take any action required," Smith told newsmen.

Italian Chamber in Uproar Over Killings in Congo

ROME (AP) — Communist deputies angrily stalked out of a stormy Chamber of Deputies session today after hearing world Communism blamed for the slaying of 13 Italian airmen assigned to U.N. forces in the Congo.

Hot words were exchanged by Communist, Christian Democrat and Italian Social Movement (Fascist) deputies. The Communists stood up and screamed. Ushers stepped into the center of the chamber to prevent fisticuffs.

The outbreak came after Carlo Russo, foreign undersecretary, announced that the Italian government has asked the United Nations to punish Congo soldiers responsible for the slayings in Kivu Province last Saturday.

He said Italy also had demanded guarantees for the safety of Italians still in the Congo.

Tighten Flights of Military Men

McNamara Says Rules to Increase Safety in Transportation to Bases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara today ordered new safety rules into effect for the use of both scheduled and nonscheduled airlines to transport military personnel.

McNamara acted in the wake of the Nov. 8 crash in which 74 servicemen were killed at Richmond, Va., aboard a Constellation airplane operated by Imperial Airlines, a supplemental or non-scheduled air carrier.

In a wide-ranging news conference, McNamara also said the question of a NATO nuclear force would be discussed with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who shortly will visit Washington.

He said deliveries of military equipment to South Viet Nam recently have been accelerated as a result of the "ruthless campaign" waged by North Vietnamese Communist guerrillas.

McNamara's order on air transportation said that only certificated supplemental air carriers could be used by the defense department for domestic charter operations.

OTHER APPROVAL

It said the carriers also would have to be approved by the Military Air Transport Service or certificated scheduled air lines.

Previously the Military Air Transport Service has had to approve supplemental carriers used in overseas military transportation, but not for domestic flights.

"This action effective immediately is to further assure that the department is providing air transportation for its personnel which affords maximum safety and reliability of service," the secretary said.

He ordered that military personnel would use only certificated scheduled air carriers when traveling "on an individually ticketed basis."

Kennedy, Johnson Head List

Mourners Go to Bonham

BONHAM, Tex (AP) — The high and the humble began gathering in this little north Texas town today to say farewell to Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House.

He died of cancer and its complications in the modest Risser Hospital here at 6:20 a.m. Thursday.

"It was the damndest thing that ever got ahold of me," the 79-year-old Rayburn had said only several days ago. But Rayburn died peacefully — "as if one asleep," said his physician, Dr. Joe Risser.

President John F. Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, a long-time friend and protege of Rayburn, headed the list of government officials who will attend the funeral Saturday.

The service will be in Bonham's First Baptist Church.

McCORMACK ARRIVES

Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., the man most likely to succeed Rayburn as speaker, arrived in Dallas Thursday night and was due here today.

He has designated 105 members of Congress who will fly to Bonham for the funeral of "Mr. Democrat." They include all members of the Texas delegation and the senior members, Republican and Democrat, from each state.

"Mr. Sam is gone," the banner headline in the Bonham Favorite read. "Goodbye, Mr. Sam," said the Herald in neighboring Denison, "Farewell to a great American."

And so it was all over the Fourth Congressional District of Texas, which Rayburn represented just short of a half century, and over the nation.

The funeral service will be heard by about 1,000 people in the 700-seat brick and stained glass church. Rayburn's top administrative assistant, John Holton, said room would be provided for the extra 300 persons.

JOHNSONS ARRIVE—Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson walk away from a helicopter that has just set them down in a field next to the Sam Rayburn home in Bonham, Tex., Thursday. INTERNATIONAL VIEWS — Russia's Valerian Zorin (left), Adlai Stevenson of the United States (center) and the Congo's Justin Bomkoko speak on the Congolese crisis during Thursday's U.N. Pravda in Moscow Prints Taboo Speech

MOSCOW (AP)—An attack on the Chinese Communists by Palmiro Togliatti, leader of the Italian Communist party, and his sympathetic words toward Yugoslavia have been reprinted in Pravda, the Communist party paper.

Criticism of the Chinese leaders almost never gets into print here because of the Kremlin's desire to avoid disclosing to Russians that there is divided opinion in the Communist camp.

Togliatti, in an address to a party meeting in Italy, discussed Premier Khrushchev's accusations at the recent Soviet party congress that Albania's Communist leaders were Stalinist.

Thursday's edition of Pravda quoted Togliatti as saying Albania "should be forgiven neither the violation of standards of democratic centralism nor relations with the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries. We consider erroneous and incorrect what is being done by the Albanian Communists who are partly supported by the Chinese."

* * *

He also said "it would be erroneous to treat Yugoslavia and its regime as if they were enemies."

Further developments may show whether the Soviet Union is now going to range itself in some measure alongside Yugoslavia's President Tito, long accused of being a revisionist.

Soviet and Yugoslav leaders have something in common in that the Chinese criticism of Soviet policies is exceeded only by unrelenting attacks on Yugoslavia.

Gusts Force Ships to Anchor

Level of Detroit River Drops 3 Feet Before 50-M.P.H. Winds

By The Associated Press

Colder weather blew into Michigan today on strong winds in some areas.

Gusts of up to 50 miles an hour caused a three-foot drop in the water levels of the Detroit River, forcing four Great Lakes freighters to anchor. The water was blown into Lake Erie.

Snow fell in the Upper Peninsula, including six inches at Iron Mountain. The Weather Bureau reported four inches at Marquette Airport; and three inches at Kincheloe Air Force Base.

NATION LASHED

The first heavy snowstorm of the season which hit the Midwest region Thursday moved northeastward and was centered over the Georgian Bay area of Lake Huron.

Snows tapered off in most western and Midwest areas but it was cold in most sections. Snow falls also measured about six inches in Minnesota, and four inches in Iowa and Wisconsin. Damaging rains preceded the snow in some areas.

Temperatures dropped to zero and lower in some sections of Wyoming this morning.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the council the "revolting murder" pointed up the need for U.N. action against the mutinous force of about 1,000 believed led by leftist leader Antoine Gizenga.

He proposed that the U.N. make available to the central regime "a small but effective air force" to deal with secessions in both Oriental and Katanga provinces.

Stevenson said the United States would present a resolution to the Council to give U Thant authority to deal with the entire Congo problem.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin joined in the expressions of regret over the deaths of the Italian airmen but accused Stevenson of trying to divert attention from Katanga by bringing up activities of the Gizenga forces in the eastern Congo.

Ithaca May Get Free Bus Rides

N.Y. City Asks Grant From U.S. to Finance Experimental System

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—The Ithaca Common Council hopes that by next year everyone will be riding the buses here for free.

The payless rides hinge on federal willingness to grant $120,000 to run what might be the country's first such system.

The council voted, 13-0, with one member missing, Wednesday night to seek the funds from the Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA).

Federal Urban Transportation Administrator John C. Kohl said in Washington he told Ithaca officials he would be happy to discuss the proposal with them Monday.

WOULD START SOON

Arthur Stallman, head of the Ithaca Transit Committee, said he has been in contact with the HHFA and there was every indication the grant would be approved. If it is, he said, the free bus experiment would begin Jan. 1.

Ithaca, a city of 30,000 in New York's Finger Lakes region, has two main transportation difficulties to solve.

One, according to Stallman, is the need for 300 to 500 parking spaces which would cost $2,000 a year, or nearly $1 million, to acquire.

The other is a money-losing public transit system with antiquated rolling stock.

Under the proposed plan, the city would buy four new buses with $31,000 of its own money and operate them with the federal funds.

The city hoped the free bus system would induce motorists to leave their cars home, eliminating the parking problem.

Stallman said bus tickets would be dispensed with, and drivers might be equipped with counters to keep track of the number of passengers.

* * *

12-Towns Drain Clogged Again

Ecorse Co. Sues to Halt $1.3 Million Contract to Detroit Competitor

The 12-Towns storm drain is back in court again.

This time an Ecorse construction firm has sued to try to stop a competing Detroit construction company from being awarded a $1.3 million contract for a section of the drain.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer has set a hearing for Nov. 27. He refused to issue a temporary restraining order, asked by the Ecorse firm, when the suit was filed in Circuit Court yesterday.

The Mole Construction Co., Inc., and its president, Lou DeMarco, allege that the three-member drainage board was wrong in awarding a $1,372,401 contract to the Greenfield Construction Co. on Nov. 1 because Greenfield's bid did not conform with the specifications submitted prior to bidding on the project.

Their bid did not include construction of a manhole, the suit said.

The drainage board erred further, the suit said, by allowing Greenfield to submit a supplemental $3,000 bid to include the missing item.

Because Greenfield omitted costs for constructing the manhole in its initial bid on Sept. 26, the Mole Construction Co. should have been declared the low bidder and awarded the contract, the company said.

LOWER ANYWAY

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry said Greenfield's total bid was still $17,594 lower than Mole's. He said Greenfield "inadvertently" left out the manhole item.

Greenfield received four contracts, including the protested one, totaling $7,261,410 to construct part of the $39 million drain in Southern Oakland County.

Attorneys for the Mole company will ask Judge Beer to set aside the contract to Greenfield and decree Mole the low bidder.

Snarled for years in the Circuit and the State Supreme Courts over the legality of assessments, drain officials thought they were on their way to taking bids on Dec. 6 for bonds to finance the long-awaited storm drain.

* * *

Barry didn't care to speculate on what effect the latest legal action might have on the project, due for construction in February.

Cutter Towing Yacht to Buffalo

Four Spend Night Adrift in Lake Erie Storm; All Reported Safe

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A Coast Guard cutter took a disabled yacht in tow today and headed toward Buffalo after the two men and two women aboard the yacht had spent the night adrift in a Lake Erie gale.

The crew of a Canadian freighter, the Portadoc, which had been standing by, told the Associated Press by telephone that all aboard the yacht Rowdy were safe.

The 110-foot cutter Ojibwa was expected to reach Buffalo with the yacht around noon.

The names of those aboard the yacht and the vessel's registry were not determined.

In another report by radio telephone, Capt. Homer Ditzel of Bay Village, Ohio, who was aboard the American Ship Matafa told the Associated Press the Rowdy's owner had said she was in "bad shape."

"He said she had water up over the floor boards and was adrift," the captain reported.

"We've got west-southwest winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour now and the waves still are 25 feet high, Ditzel said.

Cites Fast Growth of GOP in South

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said today his party's gains in the South are evidence of growing dissatisfaction with the domestic spending policies of the Democratic party.

"The fastest grass-roots movement in American politics today is the dramatic growth of the Republican party in the South," Miller said in remarks prepared for the opening of a two-day conference of Southern Republicans.

PLEDGES U.S. EFFORTS—Academically robed in the crimson and black colors of Harvard, President Kennedy pledged the United States Thursday to a determined effort to keep other nations from slipping into neutrality or communism in the long struggle ahead for peace with freedom in a speech delivered at the University of Washington in Seattle.

'Must Negotiate' — JFK

fect, neither side can expect total victory.

Although the French and others may see weakness in taking the initiative in bargaining with Moscow, "this nation can not abdicate to its adversaries," the setting and conditions of negotiations.

Dressed in an academic robe, he addressed 11,000 faculty members, students and guests at the University of Washington's 100th anniversary convocation.

Earlier, Kennedy received a hearty welcome from thousands on the streets of Seattle, major city in a state which went for ex-Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 election. Later, he was applauded lustily by some 3,000 Democrats who spread over four hotel ballrooms and into a restaurant across the street for a $100-a-plate dinner honoring Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash. Magnuson has completed 25 years in Congress.

BIG WELCOME

The Seattle recepion was larger and louder than Kennedy received as a candidate last year. It encouraged his effort to bolster Magnuson's bid for re-election in 1962.

In a switch of plans, Kennedy will forgo a Navy-Marie exercise at San Diego Saturday and attend the funeral of House Speaker Sam Rayburn at Bonham, Tex. That night he addresses a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Los Angeles.

Kennedy deleted one passage in his prepared text for the audience that crowded the university's spacious field house.

"We are determined to prevent certain nations from adopting neutrality, and to prevent certain others from abandoning it," he said in the text.

In delivery, he softened that declaration in favor of: "We find some who call themselves neutrals who are our friends and sympathetic to us and others who call themselves neutral who are unremittingly hostile to us."

* * *

Aides said Kennedy chose to stick by the latter passage. They maintained the original represented no change in U.S. designs to keep Allies from turning neutral or neutrals from succumbing to the Communist bloc.

'Devil's Hole' Yields Buck to 2 Firemen

Two Shelby Township firemen bagged an eight point buck about a half mile from the firehouse this morning.

Officers Al Hagerman and Malen Hobday said they "jumped" the deer about 7:45 in the "Devil's Hole" woods just ¼ mile north of 22 Mile Road off Van Dyke.

Planes for Yugoslavia to Go Despite Picketing

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Coast Guard cutters escorted a Yugoslav freighter to its berth in San Diego harbor before dawn today past a picket line of yachts.

The freighter Gundulic is to load four Navy jet trainer planes. An organization called "Patriots Unlimited" is protesting sale of the planes to Yugoslavia by the United States.

Library Village Contract Awaits Formal Signing

BIRMINGHAM — Beverly Hills officials are expected to sign a contract next week with the Baldwin Public Library that would provide village residents with the same services furnished Birmingham residents.

The contract already has been approved by village officials and members of the library board. It needs only to be signed.

Agreement has been reached that a flat charge of $4,753 would be paid by the village for the period Dec. 1 to July 1, 1962, when the first fiscal year under the contract begins.

Each year thereafter the library would take counts of circulation and reference use of the library by Beverly Hills residents to determine the "percentage of use."

The figure would then be applied to the library's current annual operating cost in calculating the annual payment.

1ST APPROACHED

Beverly Hills is the first area community to be approached by the library in hopes of establishing a community library, thus eventually terminating nonresident fees.

The library board already has announced it will abolish the fee system for nonresidents by July 1964.

FAMOUS THE WORLD OVER

Wall Splits JFK, Adenauer

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer appeared today to be in sharp disagreement over how hard the Western powers should press a demand on the Soviet Union for removal of the Berlin wall.

The issue of the Communist-built wall sealing off East Berlin from West Berlin now seems to become a major topic of discussion in the meeting between Adenauer and Kennedy.

TO ARRIVE SUNDAY

The West German chancellor is due to arrive Sunday for talks with the President on policies the Western powers should follow in any negotiations with the Soviet Union for settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Meanwhile some further statement of the U.S. position on this and other Berlin policy questions may be forthcoming for this afternoon when Secretary of State Dean Rusk holds a news conference.

Rusk also has opportunity at the news conference to spell out current U.S. policy on assistance to the hard pressed government of South Viet Nam. There have been reports during the past several days from Saigon that American military assistance is being substantially increased.

DEFINES PROBLEM

The problem of what the West should do about the wall dividing Berlin was sharply defined by Adenauer in Bonn Thursday when he spoke with a group of American newsmen about his meeting with Kennedy.

Asked by newsmen to list points he considered non-negotiable in any discussions with the Soviets on the status of the city, Adenauer said: "First of all, the wall must go. The non-negotiable elements are: The freedom of Berlin must be preserved, the wall must go and the communications with Berlin and West Germany must remain secure because without them Berlin cannot live."

As far as the Berlin wall is concerned, the United States, it is said, agrees that the Western powers cannot do less than insist on the wall's destruction and the restoration of freer movement of people between East and West Berlin. But in official quarters here there is no real hope that the Soviets will accept such a proposition.

* * *

From the U.S. point of view it does not appear, moreover, to be an absolute necessity for an East-West agreement on the future of West Berlin.

Man Most Likely to Succeed Rayburn

McCormack Is 'Old Pro' in House Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. McCormack, the man most likely to succeed Sam Rayburn as speaker of the House, is a rough and tough politician from the "wrong" side of the Boston railroad tracks.

An "old pro" in the field of politics, McCormack is now House Democratic leader. He has been in public life more than 50 years and has included among his temporary antagonists from time to time his fellow Bostonian—from the "right" side of the tracks — President John F. Kennedy.

McCormack will be 70 Dec. 21, but his looks and actions belie his age. He is hale, hearty and apparently in the best of health. By political standards he is a "clean" liver. His admitted vices are incessant cigar smoking and rough, but never obscene, talk.

JOHN W. McCORMACK

His family life has long been a model. In all the 41 years of his married life he claims he never has missed having evening dinner with his wife, the former Harriet Joyce, of South Boston. They have no children.

He may find it difficult to adjust quickly from the brass knuckles job of floor leader to the post of speaker, where kid gloves often are needed. But he has had some experience. When Sam Rayburn left Washington last August for his final trip to Texas, McCormack was elected acting speaker and served in that capacity almost one month.

As floor leader he won a reputation as a "needler." Sharp of tongue, witty and fast on his feet, he loved a good debate and he took on all comers.

After three years of Army service in World War I, he served seven years in the Massachusetts legislature, two of them as senate floor leader. He came to Congress in 1928 and has been in the House ever since.

McCormack's differences with President Kennedy and the Kennedy political organization in Massachusetts date far back but reached a peak in 1954 when Kennedy failed to support Foster Furcolo, the Democratic nominee for the Senate, who was backed by McCormack.

But in his expected new role as speaker, McCormack, always a team man, is expected to go all-out for his President.

In 1940, he became Democratic leader of the House following Rayburn's elevation to the speakership, and with the reported backing of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

McCormack calls himself a "conservative liberal." His ability as a compromiser won him the post of chairman of the platform committee of several Democratic national conventions.

Court Her, Abby Says

Loses Wife Not 'Weight'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife has been very much overweight for the past five years. In spite of my efforts she has refused to do anything about it. Several months ago my mother suggested I give her a hard time, call her "baby elephant" and pay a lot of attention to women with nice figures. I did this for about six months without results.

ABBY

Finally, my wife packed up and left. Now she tells me she wants a divorce so she can marry a man who LIKES fat women. I love her very much and would take her back if she weighed 300. How do I get her back?

BACKFIRED

DEAR BACK: Court her with flowers, telegrams, phone calls and promises. If this doesn't work — ask your mother.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and want to know something. This has happened twice to me with two different boys and I am not sure what to do about it. When a boy takes you out and says he has had a great time and promises to call you on a certain day at a certain time and then doesn't call, what should you say to him the next time you see him?

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Don't mention his broken promise. He obviously "forgot," didn't care or his immaturity is showing. In any case, he's not worth worrying about.

DEAR ABBY: How can I keep my husband's family from begging practically everything I own? For example, my mother-in-law will say, "I'll be glad when you get a new living room suite so I can have your old one." (I had not mentioned getting a new one.)

Also a sister-in-law announced, "When you get through with that purse, don't throw it away. I want it."

I made new drapes for my living room and stored the old ones in a box in my attic, thinking I might use them later for something else. My mother-in-law and two of her daughters jumped on me to get the old drapes. I felt guilty saying I was "keeping them," so I finally gave them up. All the relatives who beg things from me are better off financially than I am. How can I keep them off my back?

CALL ME SELFISH

DEAR SELFISH: It is your privilege to "store" things if you wish. You need the courage to speak your mind. When you are asked for something, reply, "I'll let you know when I am ready to discard it." And don't feel guilty.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hope Chest Should Be Returned

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: About a month ago I broke my engagement and returned the ring to my fiance. This past week I received a letter from his mother asking that I return the hope chest he had given me for my birthday and also that I return the presents given me by friends at a party which followed the engagement.

I do not feel that I am required to return any of these. In fact, some of the more personal gifts have already been used. I feel pretty certain that I have every right to say "no" to her, but I would appreciate reassurance from you.

A: I think very definitely that the hope chest should be returned to your ex-fiance and other gifts intended for your future home returned to those who gave them to you. Personal items which have been put into use can not be returned, of course.

Q: For the past year I have gone to the same beauty salon and have had the same operator do my hair. I always gave him a substantial tip. Just recently this man opened his own beauty salon and I will be going there from now on to have my hair done. I would like to know if I should continue to give him a tip?

A: The owner of a beauty salon is not given a tip but in this special case I think you should offer him a tip as usual the first time you go there if he himself does your hair, and correctly he should not accept it. If he does and you notice others are tipping him, then it is evident he expects to be tipped.

Q: A very dear friend of mine has just announced her engagement. However, she will not be married until spring. Will you please tell me the proper time to give her a shower? Should it be given now or just before the wedding?

A: You should give the shower shortly before the wedding.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(Question Box)

Q. "How long does it take to see some difference in one's figure after beginning figure molding exercises? Also, when is the best time to exercise, in the morning or at night?"

A. The length of time it takes before seeing improvement depends on how regularly and efficiently you do the exercises and also on the measurement. Some measurements respond more quickly than others. Usually, the waistline is first to decrease in size. The abdomen is next, while the hips and thighs are usually more stubborn.

Your exercises will be equally valuable whether taken at night or in the morning. Do them when it is most convenient and pleasant for you, the only exception being when digestion is at its height.

Q: "Can you please tell me what kind of a doctor to consult about my leg? One is shorter than the other."

A. See an orthopedic physician.

Q. "I am 4 feet, 11 inches tall and weigh 121 pounds. I am 40 years old. I was always thin, but now have gained some weight. Everyone thinks I look good. Should I lose some weight?"

A. The pounds you gain finally, after trying for years to do so, can be heady as well as hippy. If you have a small frame, you are a little overweight. If you have a medium to large frame, your weight is satisfactory.

Q. "Will creams and lotions cause hair to grow on the face?"

A. No.

Q. "I am only 21 years old but I am faced with a very distracting problem. I have bags under my eyes. What causes them and how can I get rid of them?"

A. There are many causes. Perhaps you should see your doctor for a checkup. Loss of sleep, too much smoking and too little exercise, malnutrition and allergies, can cause these, as well as some physical disorders.

Q. "I would like to know if I should weigh more. I am 5 feet, 6 inches tall and weigh 122 pounds Tell me about my measurements, too, please. My bust measures 34 inches, waist 25 and hips 36½. I have a medium frame."

A. Since you have a medium build, you should gain about 10 pounds. Your weight is just about right for a small frame — concentrate on hip-slimming exercises for a loss of an inch-and-a-half.

Army Tests Indicate Red Draws the Men

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A lieutenant colonel who is something of an expert on color and its effect on human beings recently gave a strictly feminine audience a few hot tips on what red could do for them that blue couldn't.

According to the officer, when a group of bachelors were tested to find out how susceptible they were to the charms of a pretty girl wearing first one color and then another — the color of the girl's dress made a whale of a difference.

The bachelors' breathing and blood pressure remained the same when they looked through a two-way mirror at a pretty girl dressed in white. Ditto when they gazed at a pretty girl dressed in yellow. Worse than ditto when they beheld a sweet little Alice blue gown.

But when the girl appeared in red — the graphs went crazy as the bachelors' blood pressure soared.

Maybe we women ought to pay more attention to the colonel's blood pressure charts — and not so much to the fashion magazines and saleswomen who tell us what colors are "good" this season.

If red makes men's pulses quicken, then red ought to be good every season and why should we be spending money on clothes of "deliciously dirty green" (as one decorator calls one of the newer shades) or beige or gray or yellow).

Maybe wives shouldn't even listen to what colors their husbands say they like them to wear. For as the colonel pointed out to the ladies, "Your husband may like you to wear blue but that won't stop him from whistling at a girl in red." Maybe husband's like for their wives to wear blue just so nobody will whistle at them!

Here's some good reading for husbands: "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just Send 35 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, care of The Pontiac Press.

Sorority Plans to Aid Children

Xi Beta Beta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, plans to contribute to the Retarded Children's Group of Pontiac as part of this year's service project.

At a meeting Tuesday in Hotel Waldron Mrs. Francis Collom, the group's project chairman, announced a check has been issued to help purchase teaching supplies for the children.

Mrs. Clarence Ball participated in the evening's program with a talk "How to Be a Real Person." Mrs. Walter Hiller also spoke to the 14 members present on the subject, "What We Want.'

Sorority Planning Christmas Party

Mrs. Elmer Lea of Union Lake was hostess to Omega Mu Sigma Sorority Tuesday. Mrs. Alex Godany and Mrs. Joseph McCarthy were cohostesses.

Plans were discussed for a Christmas party for which final arrangements will be made at a special meeting Nov. 21 in the Cherokee Road home of Mrs. Merrill Petrie.

The sorority's annual dinner will be Nov. 28 at the Pagoda Restaurant. Mrs. Gladys Cates may be contacted for reservations.

Increasing use is being made of asphalt shingles that have extra-wide 18-inch tabs.

VFW Auxiliary Sets District Meeting

The Fifth District, Veterans of Foreign Wars Women's Auxiliary will attend a meeting Dec. 3 at the Oscar A. Andreas Post No. 1794 in Mount Clemens.

Instructions on chairmen's notebooks will be given by Clarissa Loeding, past department president.

The program will begin at 9:30 a.m. Members of Auxiliary 1794 will be hostesses.

'Man of a Thousand Voices' Thanks God He's Alive Today

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I know it is a miracle that I am still alive. That's why I thank God every day for His help."

A serious Mel Blanc — "man of a thousand voices" — was talking about the car crash that by all rights should have taken his life. His car was struck head-on by another car on Sunset Boulevard last January.

THOMAS

One of the firemen who cut Mel out of the wreckage said later: "We should have just put him in a sack."

Nearing recovery at his Pacific Palisades home, Mel said, "When I asked my doctor what bones I had broken, he told me: 'If someone tells you he broke a bone, you can say you broke the same one —unless it's a left arm.'"

Blanc pointed to his right leg, still in a plaster cast: "This is the one that's slow to heal — 21 breaks from the knee to the feet. One of them was compound, and that's what slowed me down.

"The knee cap was torn off my left leg, but somehow it was sewn back on. The other breaks included most of my ribs, six vertebrae, both sides of the pelvis and three skull fractures."

Mel remembers nothing from the time he saw the oncoming car until he regained consciousness 21 days later. What did he think about first?

"My voice," he said. "I realized my mouth and throat were undamaged and I could talk. I thanked God for that."

Mel's voice is his fortune; without it he would have been lost. His son rigged up a recording studio so Mel could make scratch tracks — preliminary recording to aid animators — for the two cartoon shows he does on TV. He is the voice of Bugs Bunny and plays Barney Rubble on "The Flintstones."

USES WHEELCHAIR

Now he is able to get around in a wheelchair and has made some recordings in the studios. Next week he'll make his grand return to Jack Benny's show, taping the Christmas Eve telecast.

"Jack has been just wonderful," Mel remarked. "He has been out to see me at least every 10 days.

"Everybody has been wonderful, in fact. On the night I was hurt, 18 of my son's fraternity brothers at UCLA came to the hospital to offer blood.

"I have received 15,000 cards and letters, mostly from people I don't even know. They offered me their prayers, and they were Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, Mohammedan and even Buddhist. I am sure their prayers helped."

Bishops Still Oppose Federal School Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Roman Catholic bishops have declared they remain unanimously opposed to "any form of general federal aid to education that discriminates against children attending non-public schools."

This declaration of Thursday was described as a reaffirmation of the bishops' stand last March which was a major factor in the failure of the Kennedy administration's school aid bills to reach the House floor for debate in the last session.

In March, the bishops announced they favored federal help for parochial and other private schools as part of the general school aid program.

FEATHERED INVASION—Thousands of wild geese that have overwhelmed the George Opp farm near Rock Port, Mo., dot the sky and rest on the lake at right. Opp said there are between 100,000 and 125,000 of the birds and "at night you can't sleep." They're eating an estimated $1,600 worth of corn daily out of nearby cornfields. Opp says he doesn't mind the geese but the sightseers give him trouble. Hunting is prohibited.

Army to Attempt to Give 'Many' Christmas Leave

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says it will give Christmas leave to as many troops as possible, including reservists and guardsmen recently called to duty.

The policy will also cover the 16,000 draftees ordered to report for processing within the first 15 days of December.

"This action," said the Army Thursday, "will permit a maximum number of trainees to go on leave during the period Dec. 23, 1961 through Jan. 2, 1962."

Dies in Calhoun Cash

HOMER (AP) — Virgil Hewitt, 35, of Homer was killed Thursday night when his car ran off M60 near this Calhoun County community and crashed into a culvert. State police said Hewitt apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Eyes A-Control by NATO Men

Adenauer Would Scrap Present Setup in Which Only JFK Can Decide

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer says the North Atlantic Treaty Organization must be given authority to order retaliation with U.S. nuclear weapons assigned to its members —a power now held solely by President Kennedy.

Adenauer told a news conference Thursday the West must enter into any negotiations with the Soviet Union from the strongest of bargaining positions. That, he said, called for strengthening of NATO military forces to permit them to wage nuclear warfare without White House clearance.

"I base this on an expert opinion by Gen. (Adolph) Heusinger who said that one hour may decide our fate and that the President may not be reachable to make a decision," Adenauer said. Heusinger, former chief of staff of West German armed forces, became chairman of the permanent NATO military committee last April.

MUST CHANGE LAW

At present, NATO has nuclear weapons on the European continent, but they are under exclusive U.S. control. Changes would be required in the U.S. Atomic Energy Act before the custody of the nuclear warheads could be shared with other nations.

Adenauer said that U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, NATO supreme commander, "submitted a plan in September, 1960, to the previous administration but because of the elections it was not acted upon."

"As far as I know that plan now is before Kennedy," he added.

Prime Utilities Advance

Stocks Mixed in Early Trading

NEW YORK (A)—Gains by a couple of prime utilities featured a mixed stock market early today. Trading was active.

Advances and declines of most key stocks were fractional. The market was still undergoing a consolidation of recent gains and was also working under the usual dampener of pre-weekend caution.

Southern California Edison responded to a 3-for-1 stock split proposal as it rose 1¾ to 101¾ on an opener of 3,500 shares, then built up the gain to nearly 3 points later. The stock was up 1⅞ Thursday.

Aside from a 3-point rise by relatively high-priced Gillette and gains of a point or so by Douglas Aircraft and Motor there was little in the way of sharp moves.

Losses of about a point were shown by Union Carbide and Eastman Kodak while Allied Chemical dropped something more than a point.

Steels and motors were narrowly mixed. Oils edged off. Tobaccos tended to go higher. Aircrafts were mixed. Most chemicals were down.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Aerojet-General rose about a point. Other gainers included Edo Corp. "A," New England Typephoto, Technicolor and New Jersey Zinc. Creole Petroleum and Insurance Co. of North America were among the losers.

Scholrs believe the Kingdom of Ethiopia was established when Athens was still in infancy.

Bond Trading Starts Slow

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities said they posted no early price changes from Thursday's close. Late Thursday prices firmed and the market closed mixed to end a five-day slide.

Among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange rails were the most active group and they were a bit higher. Utilities tended to dip while industrials were steady.

Lackawanna Railroad 5s added 1½ at 54½ at one time. Ohio Edison 3s gained 1 at 86 and New York Connecting Railroad 2⅝s fell 1 at 55.

SHIP FOR SUPPER — Among the novel sights along the waterfront in the Northwest Italian resort port of Viareggio is this old brigantine moored at a pier. It's not a set for a movie but the latest in fashionable restaurants on the Ligurian Sea.

Bombay Has Short History, Congested, Uncertain Fate

BOMBAY (UPI) — Less than three centuries ago, Bombay was part of the dowry when a Portuguese princess married a British king, but he found it so barren and unprofitable he gave it away.

Today, Bombay is the "Crossroads to the East," a congested seaport city of businessmen, bootleggers and people whose only homes are the pavement on which they sleep.

It is a city without much of a past. Hardly anything within its municipal limits is more than 300 years old. Even most of its real estate was not there 200 years ago. Modern Bombay consists of hundreds of acres reclaimed from the Arabian Sea.

While other Asian cities are proud of their temples, walls and stone Buddhas reputedly thousands of years old, and to the west thing in Bombay is a crumbling Portuguese fort erected just 350 years ago.

When the wide-ranging Portuguese colonists arrived here in the 16th century, Bombay was a settlement of rock, swamps and jungles, consisting of seven small islands occupied by a dozen small fishing villages.

'EXPLODING' CITY

In the last half century, Bombay has exploded into a city of 3.2 million. Its population has trebled in the last 20 years alone, and today the city has 700,000 dirt-poor pavement dwellers who live and sleep on the streets. There is nothing anyone can do about them.

The city's growth has been unplanned and erratic. The municipality counts 144 slum areas within its limits. Before the government could act, 3,500 factories sprang up. The order barring any more new industries in the city was unnecessary; there is no more room.

Situated on a narrow, two-mile broad tongue of land pointing south from the Indian mainland into the Arabian Sea, Bombay's growth has been longitudinal.

From end, to end, post-war growth has stretched it an incredible 31 miles. The pressure on space is so intense, there are hardly a dozen parks in the city. Its bustling business center is entirely in the southernmost tip, where rents are astronomically high.

The central Indian government has its eye on Bombay as the most vigorous and fastest growing city in the country.

One of its suburbs, called Trombay, has two modern oil refineries, a modern naval base for the Indian navy, an atomic energy plant with two reactors and a projected naval ordinance depot to manufacture torpedoes and naval shells.

All this makes Bombay the most strategic single spot in the whole country. Finding oil nearby has added to its importance.

Due to the enormous need for living space, no building is demolished intentionally, however old it may be.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FRANK R. Stradford who passed away Nov. 17, 1951.
Days, weary days, and lonely nights when I am blue
