U.S., Britain Agree to Shift Test Ban Talks

Governor Outlines Program

Calls 14 Points Framework for State Future

Tells Lawmakers and Con-Con What Each Can Do to Help

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson laid down an ambitious 14-point program to spur Michigan's economic growth today.

He called on both the legislature and the constitutional convention to join in putting it through.

The governor sent special messages to lawmakers and convention delegates telling them what they can do to speed up expansion of industry and business.

"Working together we can provide the framework for a brilliant future," he declared. "Delay cannot be tolerated."

Swainson said the legislature can do much to strengthen existing business, diversify the state's industrial base and attract new industry to provide the minimum 80,000 new jobs a year economists say is needed to support a fast-growing population.

He urged the constitutional convention to include in its proposed new charter a provision allowing the state to extend credit to aid nonprofit public benefit corporations and finance industrial and municipal development projects.

REJECTED IN 1961

A constitutional amendment to clear the way for such a program was rejected by voters last year.

★ ★ ★

HIS PROGRAM

His legislative program, some of it a revival of a blueprint rejected by the legislature last year, includes:

1. Repeal of the use tax on government contracts. This, he said, now forces Michigan contractors to add the tax cost when computing bids on federal contracts and influences federal decisions on construction and location of federal facilities.

2. Elimination of partial assessments on construction in progress. Industrial buildings under construction, both new buildings and those being expanded, would be exempted from taxation up to two years — if the project represents more than 25 per cent of the original floor space. It would deduct nothing from the present tax base, only delaying the effective date of taxation, Swainson said.

3. Full employment act — The act would establish a nonpartisan council of economic advisers to

Gizenga Loses Government Post

18 Missionaries Killed in Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP)—Eighteen Roman Catholic missionaries were killed by Congolese soldiers at Kongolo in north Katanga on Jan. 1, church authorities reported today.

Meanwhile, central Congolese Premier Cyrille Adoula announced that pro-Communist Antoine Gizenga has been stripped of his post in the Congolese government.

Legal proceedings will be started against Gizenga as leader of the Stanleyville rebellion.

Adoula told newsmen the renegade deputy premier will be held "under protection" until the courts decide what should be done with him.

A dispatch from an Associated Press correspondent at Bukavu, a Kivu Province town 225 miles northeast of Kongolo, said missionaries who escaped the massacre reported the violence to the bishop at Bakavu.

The identity and nationality of the victims were not given, but they were reported to be members of the Congregation of the Holy Ghost Fathers. Belgian and Dutch priests were believed to be among the victims.

The bodies of the 18 were recovered, the dispatch said. Another missionary was taken away and has not been heard from since.

The report to the bishop said troops of the Congo central government attacked missionaries living near Kongolo, beat them and then killed them with automatic weapons.

★ ★ ★

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga reported on Jan. 1 that his forces had abandoned Kongolo and that the invaders were killing hundreds of civilians and burning villages as they advanced on the town.

UNDER GIZENGA

Tshombe claimed that the invading troops were under the orders of the Central Congo government in Leopoldville, but reports since have indicated that they were loyal to pro-Communist Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga, who was put under virtual house arrest in Stanleyville Sunday by central government troops.

Gizenga has been accused of dispatching troops into north Katanga in an effort to establish his own state in the northeast Congo.

Units of Gizenga's Stanleyville force were blamed for the murder of 13 Italian U.N. airmen in Kivu Province in November.

The troops in north Katanga and adjoining Kivu Province constitute the bulk of the Stanleyville army which took orders from Gizenga and Gen. Victor Lundula when it took orders from anyone.

CONTEST FINALIST— Attractive Susan Hunt, 16, of 553 Bagley Drive, Lake Orion, is one of 16 finalists in the Miss Junior Achievement of 1962 Contest for Southeastern Michigan. The young businesswomen will vie for the title in Detroit Jan. 26, and the winner will reign over the weeklong Junior Achievement Week activities Jan. 29-Feb. 3. She also will serve as official hostess at JA's Industrial Trade Fair to be held Jan. 29-30 at 20½ E. Pike Street.

Europe and U.S. to Cut Tariffs

Common Market Pact Must Be Submitted to Council and Congress

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—The United States and the European Common Market have reached agreement on a mutual 20 per cent reduction of tariffs on their industrial products and on some agricultural products, a common market spokesman announced tonight.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—An agreement was reached today for broad tariff reductions between the European Common Market and the United States, it was officially announced.

★ ★ ★

Howard Peterson, President Kennedy's special assistant for trade matters, and W. Walton Butterworth, U.S. ambassador to the European Economic Community, emerged from the office of Jean Rey, member of the common market executive commission, after a 20-minute meeting and announced the agreement.

★ ★ ★

The agreement will have to be submitted to the General Agreement for Tariff and Trade, the Common Market's council of ministers, and the U.S. Congress.

★ ★ ★

Details on the agreement were not released. A communique giving the terms was scheduled for later today at Common Market headquarters.

★ ★ ★

The initialed document is not expected to be submitted to the Common Market's council before February.

★ ★ ★

Well-informed sources said it includes reductions of 20 per cent on most industrial goods exchanged between the Common Market and the United States.

Pontiac Sales in 10 Days Ride to 10,479

Retail deliveries of new Pontiacs and Tempests during the first 10-day sales period of January totaled 10,479, a 30 per cent increase over the same period a year ago when sales were 8,079, it was announced today by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

★ ★ ★

"These outstanding early January sales, despite the bad weather in many sections of the country, have enabled us to achieve the best first 10-day sales period in seven years," Bridge pointed out.

★ ★ ★

"The record pace we have been able to maintain since the introduction of our 1962 models is definite evidence of the public's acceptance of the new Pontiacs," Bridge added.

Swainson Urges Aid to Legislature

Asks Romney Leadership

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson says George M. Romney should use his leadership during the 1962 legislature to help the state meet its most pressing needs.

★ ★ ★

Romney, who may be Swainson's Republican opponent this year, could be influential with legislators trying to solve education, mental health and other problems, Swainson said at a news conference Monday.

★ ★ ★

Swainson commented in reply to Romney's weekend statement that he had no intention of urging the legislature to adopt the tax reform program of Citizens for Michigan, a nonpartisan organization which he heads.

★ ★ ★

Romney, American Motors Corp. president and a vice president of the constitutional convention, said he is too deeply involved with the convention to push for adoption of a tax program in the legislature.

Romney's assertion that he will win if he decides to run for governor brought a sharp rejoinder from Swainson.

★ ★ ★

"Every candidate that has ever been against me has said that," he declared.

Swainson is undefeated in political campaigns. He was twice elected to the State Senate from the 18th District and once elected lieutenant governor before his successful bid for governor in 1960.

The governor denied a published report that he had called on Romney to take a stand on the Citizens for Michigan tax program.

"No such statement was made by the governor during his press conference Monday," said Ted Ogar, Swainson's press secretary.

Romney dumped Michigan's problems back in Swainson's lap today.

He should not be said, be asked to "involve myself in the current legislative consideration at a time when I am exerting every energy and all my available time to fulfill my duties as a constitutional convention delegate."

Tanks in Berlin Leaving Gate

Now to Be Stationed at Tempelhof Airfield to Expedite Training

BERLIN (AP)—U.S. tanks began withdrawing Monday from the area of "Checkpoint Charlie" where they faced Russian armor during a tense weekend nearly three months ago.

The tanks had been bivouacked in bombed-out lots about 400 yards from the actual crossing point into East Berlin.

They will now be stationed about a mile and a half farther away, at Tempelhof Airfield.

★ ★ ★

"The purpose of this change is to improve the dispositions of the U.S. forces in the American sector," the Army said today in a statement.

★ ★ ★

There was no official elaboration. An Army officer pointed out that training and maintenance programs must be kept going.

Reporters saw about 10 Pattons in the area recently.

★ ★ ★

About 1,500 yards to the north, in East Berlin, Soviet tanks have been encamped in the bombed-out ruins of the palace of Kaiser Wilhelm I. There was no immediate report of their moving.

Exciting Prizes Each Day Ready at Cooking School

Pontiac area women who attend the Pontiac Press Cooking School Jan. 23-26 will have many opportunities to win exciting prizes each day.

The two grand prizes to be given away Friday are a Kelvinator electric range from Federal Department Store and a Roper Gold Star 36-inch gas range from RCA Whirlpool (installation by Consumers Power).

You need not be present to win either of the ranges or any of the other prizes.

Other grand prizes include a set of stainless steel tables are from Pauli Jewelers; a table radio from Hampton Electric; dinnerware service for four from Connolly's Jewelers; Corning ware from Wolfe's Department Store and a car wash and lubrication job from Oliver Motors.

Each day there will be food baskets from United Food Markets (L. S. Supermarket of Lake Orion, Village Super Market of Auburn Heights; Felice Quality Market of Pontiac; Gingellville Supermarket of Gingellville and Tenuta Supermarket of Drayton Plains.)

In addition, there will be daily food certificates from Kroger Stores and 2,000 Gold Bell Gift Stamps per day from Foodtown Markets and People's Food-O-Mat.

Murray's Beauty Academy will give three permanent waves. Fox Dry Cleaners is offering a $3 cleaning certificate.

★ ★ ★

Everyone attending will receive a free jar of Mario's Olives. There will also be free Coca Cola for everyone, plus cartons of "Coke" as prizes — these from the Coca Cola Bottling Company of Pontiac.

The "Galaxy of Foods" starts next Tuesday, 2 p.m. at Pontiac Central High School. Admission is by ticket only with all unfilled seats at performance time taken by those in line without tickets.

Signs Point to Trouble for Nikita

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev is apparently facing considerable difficulties at home, say U.S. specialists in Soviet affairs.

But they add that the United States and its Allies have no reason to rejoice.

This is the specialists' evaluation of such Kremlin riddles as the strange story of V. M. Molotov, the rift between Moscow and Peiping with tiny Albania in the middle and also the whereabouts of Khrushchev himself.

These and other signs, say the observers, point to a struggle between Khrushchev and a strong Stalinist group in his party's Central Committee and possibly also in the secretariat, the inner sanctum of the party bureaucracy.

Khrushchev in a speech published today sharply criticized the farmers of Byelorussia for letting 15 per cent of their hogs die last year.

"This is the result of a lack of fodder and bad treatment of livestock," the premier said.

Khrushchev told the farmers he had not come "to read Pushkin's poems to you. You will read poems without me. I came here to expose shortcomings."

Khrushchev delivered his speech at Minsk last Friday. The Soviet news agency Tass then described it as a big speech to 1,300 agricultural workers from all over Byelorussia, but did not report anything he said. His speech was published today in Pravda, the Communist party paper.

The Stalinist elements, the belief is here, do not form an organized group, but their number may be large and they exercise power both in the hierarchy and in the lower level of the party apparatus.

But this interpretation of Soviet goings-on does not particularly please Western observers. Though it is expected that Khrushchev will ultimately overcome any Stalinist opposition, he might be forced to take into account its views or return to Stalinist terror and eliminate the opposition.

It is questionable, however, that he could choose this second course.

Khrushchev, it is now believed here by many officials, does not exercise such a personal control over formation of policy as Stalin did.

Referring to the reports of troubles in Moscow, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said Monday that "obviously, something is going on in the Kremlin. The great lack of information indicates some major policy decision may be in the works."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was cautious, however. He said he would not want "to jump to hasty conclusions."

Wants Oldsters to Work

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev, a busy 67-year-old, wants old age pensioners to work at night clerical jobs rather than idle their time away.

In a speech at Minsk reported today by Moscow radio, the Soviet leader said that keeping the elderly busy in this way would make them happier and would free younger people for work in fields and factories.

Khrushchev reminded his listeners: "I am myself of pensionable age, and I think it must be a very unpleasant feeling and experience when you have nothing to do — when you feel that you are not doing your bit for society as you used to do."

"This is the hardest thing for a man to bear," he said.

Reds Demand Issue Be Under Disarmament

West Yields to Squeeze; 18-Nation Committee to Meet in March

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Britain today yielded to long-standing pressure from the Soviet Union and agreed to abandon the three-power nuclear test ban talks and refer the issue to disarmament negotiations.

These negotiations are expected to open in Geneva in March.

Charles C. Stelle of the United States and Britain's Sir Michael Wright announced their governments' agreement to the Soviet demand at the 330th session of the nuclear conference which resumed here after a Christmas recess.

Western conference sources said the two negotiators offered the transfer of the test ban talks in view of the Soviet Union's adamant refusal even to discuss a Western draft test ban treaty providing international controls.

The two powers, however, rejected the Soviet plan for an uncontrolled moratorium on nuclear weapons testing, submitted two months ago.

ONLY ALTERNATIVE

The Western delegates then told Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin that in view of the situation the only alternative was to adjourn the conference while the question of an appropriately controlled nuclear test ban is considered within the 18-nation disarmament committee.

"The Western delegations," a joint British-American statement issued after the two-hour session said, "made it clear that they would agree to examine the nuclear test ban issue in the context of disarmament negotiations only because the Soviet government has insisted that it will only discuss international controls in this context.

"Once disarmament negotiations have resumed, the United States and Britain will work for the conclusion of a nuclear test ban treaty as a matter of highest priority."

Western conference sources said Tsarapkin told the Western delegates he would submit the British-American proposal to his government.

He made no preliminary reply. The next meeting was then set for Friday. The Western negotiators were hoping to have Moscow's formal answer by then, but Tsarapkin cautioned it might take longer.

Tsarapkin declined any public comment, beyond telling newsmen: "We are getting close to the breakoff of the conference."

Boy Suspected in School Fire

Chicago Paper Claims Youth Admits Setting Blaze in 1958

CHICAGO (UPI) — The chief investigator of a parochial school fire which took 95 lives three years ago said today a 13-year-old "firebug" is the "best suspect so far" in the tragedy.

The boy had been a fifth grader at the Roman Catholic Our Lady of the Angels School, which was destroyed Dec. 1, 1958, killing 92 children and three nuns. Police said the boy had confessed starting a number of other fires.

His identity was withheld by authorities, acting under state law.

But it was learned the boy now lives with his parents in suburban Cicero, about eight miles west of his former school.

Sgt. Drew Brown of the Chicago police bomb and arson squad said Cicero police had given him information about the boy. Brown headed the investigative teams which tried to determine what caused the fire. He has talked to many persons who had been considered possible suspects.

Brown said the Cicero boy is the "best suspect so far."

The Chicago Tribune, in a copyrighted story, said the boy had confessed setting the school fire. The Tribune said the confession came during an examination by John E. Reid, a lie detector expert.

JFK Regrets Absence of Nuclear Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says failure to reach agreement with the Soviet Union on a nuclear test ban was the biggest disappointment of his first year in the White House.

★ ★ ★

"This," he said, could have been "a very important step in easing tensions."

The most heartening development, he believes, was a "great surge for unity" among the Western Allies and in Latin America.

In his first news conference of the year—five days before the first anniversary of his inauguration—Kennedy touched on nearly a subject a minute Monday, roaming from the farm problem at home to Laos and Berlin abroad.

HOPE FOR STEEL PEACE

Steel — He hopes for a quick agreement between industry and the union to avert a strike and the hasty stockpiling of steel that might impede the nation's economic recovery. Contracts expire in June.

Laos — The risk of war is the alternative to the risk of Communist control of coalition governments in Southeast Asia, he said. "We are taking a chance in all of Southeast Asia. We are taking a chance in other areas also." In his judgment "it is in the best interest of our country to work for a neutral and independent Laos."

Farm—Kennedy set a goal of reasonable balance between farm output and demand to insure that the farm income will not be broken by surpluses, as it was to a substantial extent in the '20s." In his State of the Union message, he promised to present Congress a new farm program geared to the times.

Civil rights—Kennedy said he would issue an order against racial discrimination in federally-aided housing when he believes it will serve the public interest and advance the cause of civil rights. He claimed more progress in the field during the last 12 months than the previous eight years and said his record may be judged properly at the end of this year "and at the end of our term."

Foreign trade — "When the educational job is done," Kennedy declared, the country will support his request for broad authority to negotiate tariff cuts. He said figures are being prepared in an effort to persuade Congress members that his program would be "most helpful to the United States."

Berlin — Despite reports that U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson has made little progress in talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Kennedy said the discussions would continue in an effort to find a solution for the Berlin crisis. A more precise judgment will be made after the talks have gone on "for a reasonable period."

Re-Elect Girard at Bank Meeting

Stockholders Keep All Directors, Officers at Community National

At the annual shareholders meeting of Community National Bank of Pontiac held this morning, A. C. Girard was re-elected bank president and chairman of the bank's board of directors.

★ ★ ★

All eight directors were re-elected and all bank officers re-appointed.

Girard, in his annual report to shareholders, noted an increase in total assets and deposits for the bank during 1961.

Total assets increased about $4,388,000 last year and deposits were up $4 million, according to Girard.

He said that total assets increased from $111,400,000 in 1960 to $115,788,000 in 1961 and deposits increased from $101,200,000 in 1960 to $105,200,000 last year.

Earnings for 1961, however, were down about $78,000 from the previous year. Girard said earnings for 1961 were $1,068,000 or $3.68 per share.

Earnings in 1960 were $1,146,000.

Britain Reports Curb of Smallpox Cases

LONDON (AP)—The smallpox outbreak in England's industrial north is under control, health officer John Douglas of Bradford said today.

★ ★ ★

Douglas, whose Yorkshire textile town is the center of the scare, said 100,000 people living in the area have been vaccinated. More vaccine was hurried to Bradford as a precaution.

★ ★ ★

The disease was brought into Britain last month by immigrants from Pakistan, where an epidemic is raging. Five deaths have been attributed to smallpox in Britain and a sixth may have been due to the disease. A number of suspected cases are under observation in isolated hospitals.

FRIENDS TO THE LAST — Former Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, who died last Thursday, was accompanied from the First Presbyterian Church in Pontiac by six of his closest friends yesterday. On the left (top to bottom) are Monte Scott, hunting companion of the judge, Robert D. Long, chief assistant prosecutor, and C. Richard Smith, assignment clerk for the circuit courts for 10 years before he resigned in 1959. On the right are Robert P. Allen, assistant corporation counsel, Charles A. Davis, first assistant corporation counsel, and Prosecutor George F. Taylor. Taylor, Davis, Allen and Long had served as Judge Doty's court clerks. Friends of the judge's, civic and government leaders, and nearly 300 attorneys attended yesterday's funeral service conducted by Rev. Galen E. Hershey.

Vandals, Residents Have Taste for Salt

Why isn't there more salt on side streets? Officials at the Pontiac Department of Public Works say the whole problem doesn't lie in supply and manpower.

★ ★ ★

"Naturally, our first concern is salting the major thoroughfares," says Morley Cameron, in charge of the operation, "but some of the fault for slippery side streets lies with vandals and inconsiderate residents."

Each year the city places salt barrels at neighborhood trouble spots. Each year much of the salt and some of the barrels are stolen.

"We lost at least six barrels in the recent cold snap alone," Cameron said.

If residents of a particular area request a salt barrel, and DPW employes agree one is needed, it is placed there. These spots are usually on dangerous hills or steep grades that are impossible to get up in icy weather.

"We put barrels there so that people can use the salt-sand mixture if they get stuck, and for crews that check these spots daily.

"It's for use in the street, but many residents steal it for use on their driveways."

EXAMPLES

Cameron, of 51 S. Astor St., had plenty of examples.

"One morning last week a full barrel was placed on a steep slope in my neighborhood on Rosewood Street," he said. "When I got home that night, not only the salt but the entire barrel had been taken.

"In answer to many requests we put a barrel at Edison and Kemp streets a few weeks ago. It was stolen in a week."

Cameron says barrels are chained down where possible.

"We fished one out of the river at the East Pike Street bridge a half dozen times and finally had to chain it to the bridge," he recalls.

"We'd like to do more," he said, "but you can't do much with an empty barrel."

Harsh Measures to Meet Violence

Overnight Death Toll Reaches 20 in Oran; Terror Mounts

ALGIERS (AP)—French authorities studied new and harsher measures today to cope with the tide of violence in Algeria's clandestine war.

Three killings in Oran boosted the overnight death toll to 20. Half a dozen persons were wounded in combat between European and Moslem terrorist organizations.

Louis Joxe, French minister for Algerian affairs, met with the territory's top officials at the new seaside administrative center of Rocher Noir, 30 miles from Algiers.

They were reported to be discussing the possible proclamation of a state of siege, which would clamp tighter restrictions on Algeria's already closely regulated civil life.

DAYLIGHT HOLDUP

The day's events included a daylight holdup of an Algerian bank by five Europeans. They escaped in a motor car with the equivalent of $18,000. This may have been nothing more than an ordinary crime, but in the tense atmosphere of Algiers it was immediately assumed the Europeans were robbing the bank on behalf of the right-wing French Secret Army Organization.

In Oran, three Europeans were slain and another wounded in a series of attacks attributed to Moslems on the rebel National Liberation Front.

In Algiers, two Moslems were wounded by bullets fired by European terrorists. In Bone, a young Moslem was injured by the explosion of a plastic bomb. In Montagnanem, near Oran, two Moslems working for the French were wounded by gunfire.

Grant Hospital Funds for Wing

To Speed Construction on $1.3 Million Addition at Pontiac Osteopathic

To meet a heavy demand for more patient space, the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Board of Control has granted additional funds to speed construction of the hospital's new wing.

Harry H. Whitlow, administrator, revealed late yesterday that the third level of the $1.3-million addition will be opened in April, five months ahead of schedule.

"The board has granted $66,000 to pay workers for overtime, working weekends and to pay for the added materials," Whitlow said.

"We expect to open the floor by April 10."

The floor is devoted mainly to patients' rooms. It will give the hospital about 110 additional beds.

The move also means that Pontiac Osteopathic will begin hiring about 100 additional employes in the near future.

"We had to do something. We've been operating constantly at 10 to 12 per cent over capacity," Whitlow said.

The hospital currently has 150 beds. Occupancy has consistently ranged from 160 to 175 each day and there are always 50 to 60 people on the waiting list.

★ ★ ★

Police Seek Looters of Area Warehouse

Police in Southfield are still looking for the driver of a truck which backed into the Holden Red Stamp Warehouse, 21545 Telegraph Road, sometime over the weekend and made off with 5,000 bedsheets and 1,000 pillow cases.

Police say the robber or robbers broke through a side door and unlocked an overhead garage door between 5 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. yesterday. Total loot was valued at $9,200, police said.

Expert Predicts Russia to Steal Glenn's Glory

NEW YORK (UPI) — Space expert Walker M. Mahurin believes the Soviet Union might try to take some of the luster away from the forthcoming orbital flight of Lt. Col. John Glenn by sending two men around the earth in a Vostok rocket.

★ ★ ★

Mahurin, assistant director for advance programs development at North American Aviation's space and information division in Downey, Calif., made the prediction Monday during a panel discussion at an American Rocket Society lunch.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission OKs Contract for Urban Plan Study

BIRMINGHAM — The triparty contract necessary to allow Birmingham to move ahead with the 701 urban planning study was approved last night by the City Commission.

The city's share of the $30,000-two-year study is about $8,500. The federal government will pay the remainder.

City Manager L. E. Gare said that the city's portion of the project was set up in last year's budget and no appropriation is necessary at this time.

City Commissioners Carl F. Ingraham and Ralph A. Main voted against the 701 contract. Both have been opposed to the plan since it was recommended.

★ ★ ★

The contract had to be signed by the city, the state, which is the agent of the Federal government for the grant, and the city's planning consultants for the study, Villican-Leman & Associates of Southfield.

The commission received the contract at the last meeting but postponed approval until studying its provisions.

WAIVER DELAYED

An answer to Birmingham Community House's request for a license waiver for its proposed ballet school was delayed by the commission until further information is obtained from the city manager.

In order to grant the waiver it would be necessary to amend a city ordinance which governs the issuance of such licenses.

The dancing school would be part of the youth program being held in conjunction with the adult education classes conducted at the Community House.

The commission approved the recording of a proposed charter amendment that will be decided in the April election.

The amendment would allow the city to post the codification of ordinances in a public place rather than having them published in a local newspaper.

The proposed revision was accepted by the commission last week but City Attorney Dean Beier was directed to rewrite it.

Originally, it had been proposed that a charter amendment be placed before voters that would allow the city to either publish or post all ordinances.

The new proposal, if approved, would only affect the codification of city ordinances. All other single ordinances would be published like they have been in the past.

Mrs. Charles V. Gardner

Service for Mrs. Charles V. (Marguerite M.) Gardner of 1345 Washington Blvd. will be at 4 p.m. Thursday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be Friday in the Greenwood Cemetery, Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Gardner died yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

She was a past president of the Grand Rapids Woman's Club and had attended the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham.

Surviving is a daughter, Phyllis Jean Gardner, of Birmingham.

Auditors' Board to Work on Next Year's Budget

The Oakland County Board of Auditors will begin work on the 1963 tentative county budget Feb. 5, according to a schedule released yesterday through the corporation counsel's office.

Auditors that day will open hearings with the personnel and budgeting divisions of county government.

Hearings will continue through March 2, with the board expecting to present its recommendations to the salaries committee of the Board of Supervisors March 5.

Following review by the ways and means committee, the tentative budget for next year will be presented to the Board of Supervisors April 10 for allocation purposes, according to the schedule.

A final budget for 1963 will be recommended to the board Sept. 10.

Wants 2 Major Changes in Sleeping Bear Bill

LANSING (UP) — A Republican state senator said today that he is drafting a resolution proposing two major changes in the controversial Sleeping Bear Dunes bill sponsored by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

★ ★ ★

Sen. William G. Milliken of Traverse City said the dunes proposal should be limited to properties which are "primarily undeveloped."

Snow Drifts High, Temperatures Low

New State Storm Leaves 6 Dead

From Our News Wires

Below zero temperatures invaded Michigan today on the heels of a winter storm that left at least six dead.

★ ★ ★

More than a foot of new snow was on the ground in areas around Muskegon, Grand Rapids and Saginaw. Most main roads throughout the state remained open, although slippery in spots.

★ ★ ★

Secondary roads throughout the Lower Peninsula were closed in some areas as heavy drifting accompanied the storm.

Coldest spot in the state early today was Marquette with a reading of one below zero. Bay City had 6 above zero and other temperatures ranged upward to 21 above at Detroit and Muskegon.

Weather-connected deaths included two in fires Sunday, two heart attack deaths at Kalamazoo Monday and two traffic fatalities.

One of the traffic deaths involved a boy who wandered into the path of a truck when blinded by snow thrown by a passing plow.

The weather bureau said the two-day storm is well out of the state and only a few sporadic flurries were reported.

OVER THE MIDWEST

Another blast of frigid air spread across snow-covered sections from Montana into Indiana, a repeat of last week's severe cold in the Midwest.

Temperatures dropped sharply as the icy air, in the wake of the year's second major snow storm fanned out from the mountain valleys in southwestern Montana.

The mercury dipped to more than 20 degrees below in the Montana region, touching -25 in Bozeman and -24 in Drummond. Minnesota got a full blast of the arctic air, with readings of -16 in International Falls, -13 in Duluth and 11 in Minneapolis.

★ ★ ★

Below zero marks also were reported in the Dakotas and sections of Wisconsin, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. Chicago had a fresh snowfall of seven inches in zero weather. It was -8 in nearby Joliet, Ill.

★ ★ ★

Some of the cold air extended deep in the South. Temperatures were as much as 30 degrees lower than Monday morning's marks southward into southern Louisiana.

Fairly mild winter weather prevailed in most of the East. It was below freezing in Atlanta, Meridian, Miss., Memphis and Chattanooga, Tenn., and Little Rock, Ark. Mild readings were reported in most of southern Florida, with 66 in Miami.

NATIONAL WEATHER—It will be generally fair throughout the nation Tuesday night except for light snow and snow flurries in the Lakes region, the upper Mississippi Valley, the northern Rockies and the Cascades along with occasional rain on the north Pacific coast. It will be cooler in the states north of Florida on the Atlantic coast; warmer in the southern Rockies.

All 1963 Autos to Sport Amber Turn Signals

DETROIT (UP) — All 1963 model cars will come equipped with amber lights for front turn signals, the Automobile Manufacturers Association announced today.

The amber lights will replace the white lights which have been standard since turn signals were first introduced.

The AMA said research indicated amber signals can be seen more readily than white against glaring reflections and also provide greater contrast against headlamps at night.

Twenty-five states have had laws prohibiting amber lights but the AMA said all of those have now been amended, making the universal change possible in 1963.

Firemen Revive Man Overcome by Smoke

Robert Dennis, 35, was in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after being overcome by smoke in a fire at 93 Union St. early today.

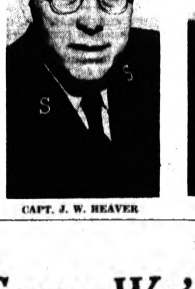

Dennis was revived with an inhalator and rushed to the hospital by firemen shortly after midnight.

Pontiac police said a lighted cigarette set fire to a mattress in Dennis' bedroom. There was no damage to the building.

City Salvation Army Head Promoted to Chicago Post

The announcement of the promotion of the Salvation Army's Pontiac Citadel Corps Commander Capt. J. William Heaver to a Chicago post was made at the annual advisory board dinner meeting last night at Greenfield Restaurant in Birmingham.

Capt. Heaver will leave here Jan. 30 to assume his new duties as divisional youth secretary of Chicago Metropolitan Division.

CAPT. J. W. HEAVER

MRS. J. W. HEAVER

Mrs. Heaver has been promoted to divisional guard and sunbeam director.

Replacing Capt. Heaver, who has served here 3½ years, will be Lt. Gary Crowell, transferring from Ecorse.

Some 75 attending the dinner heard a report by Capt. Heaver on work during 1961 here. Milton F. Cooney, chairman of the board, presided.

★ ★ ★

Officers re-elected were Milton F. Cooney, chairman, Milo J. Cross, vice chairman, Albany C. Kirby, secretary, and Elmer H. Reynolds, treasurer. Harry J. Reed, managing editor of The Pontiac Press, was installed as a new member of the advisory board.

Lt. Col. T. Raymond Gabrielson, newly appointed divisional commander of the Salvation Army's Eastern Michigan Division was a guest.

Brigadier Ira Fitzpatrick, manager of the Edwin Denby Children's Home in Detroit spoke briefly.

Brigadier R. McMahon, manager of the 14-story Eventide Home in downtown Detroit discussed his work with the aging.

Citizens Organize First Club

Macomb Group Says: We're for Romney

DETROIT (UPI) — George Romney's "unofficial" campaign for governor gained added impetus Monday night when an unsolicited grass roots organization was launched in suburban St. Clair Shores by Macomb County Republicans and independents.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of the organization, to be called Citizens for Romney, is to persuade the automotive industrialist to seek the GOP gubernatorial nomination and "then to insure his election."

Romney has remained somewhat silent on his political ambitions although he has already declared that if he runs for governor he'll defeat John B. Swainson, first term incumbent Democrat.

★ ★ ★

William McLaughlin, publicity director for the Michigan Federation of Young Republicans and a founder of the Citizens group, said about 25 Macomb County residents "interested in Romney's candidacy" attended the meeting Monday night.

TO SET UP OFFICES

McLaughlin said headquarters would be set up next week in St. Clair Shores "in an effort to show Romney that there are people who want him to run and who will help him in his campaign.

"This is the first citizens group in the state for Romney and it is our hope that it will help spark other such clubs across Michigan," McLaughlin said.

A meeting has been scheduled for this weekend between McLaughlin and David Wells, chairman of the St. Clair Shores Republican Club, with two of Romney's most ardent supporters, Richard C. Van Dusen and Arthur G. Elliott Jr., Oakland County delegates to the constitutional convention.

Although Elliott said he hadn't been notified of any such meeting, he voiced wholehearted approval of the formation of the organization.

"I think it's great," said the former Oakland County GOP chairman. He said its creation was "spontaneous."

McLaughlin said the idea behind the Citizens group is based on similar clubs which operated throughout the nation in 1952 for Dwight D. Eisenhower, then Republican candidate for president.

"We think we can do the same thing for Romney and get him elected if he'll run," McLaughlin said.

Wife Tells What It's Like to Be a Human Alarm Clock

By JOY STILLEY
for Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Women are always getting credit for being chauffeurs, nurses, cooks, housekeepers and laundresses.

Well, I can add another job to that list. I serve as an alarm clock too.

Not just the ordinary kind of clock that buzzes, rings, tinkles or flashes a light, either.

I pat, poke, prod, shake, whistle, groan, grumble, threaten, command and bring orange juice.

No store-bought alarm clock ever worked as long or hard to get a man up as I do, and I don't get paid overtime for it. In fact, no electrically powered clock has ever yet managed to get my husband out of bed in the morning. He wakes up just long enough to turn the thing off and that's the extent of his dealings with the timepiece.

From then on it's my job to get my sleepyhead off to his job and I'm quite convinced he doesn't work half as hard at the office as I do getting him there.

Every morning I start off hopefully with a gentle pat and murmur softly in his ear. "Honey, it's time to get up."

★ ★ ★

If this brings any response at all — which it seldom does — it comes in the form of a cross between a snarl and a growl.

Bravely ignoring the rebuff, I try a different approach. "Are you awake, honey?" This usually elicits a rather strong reply, the last word of which is "No!"

Sleepy as I am myself, long years of practice bring on the next stage automatically. I dig down under the blanket, with which he has covered his head as a defense against lights, sounds and an unsympathetic wife, and get hold of enough shoulder to shake.

This maneuver causes one eye to open wide enough to look accusingly at his attacker—but only momentarily.

By this time I have managed to get myself sufficiently conscious, so I stumble to the kitchen for a glass of orange juice. This I am often tempted to pour upon my husband, but instead I put it on his night table, inform him that time, tide and the bus wait for no man, and stalk out.

Five minutes later I make a return trip to the bedroom, expecting to find the family provider dressed, wide-awake and full of enthusiasm for the challenges of the new day.

Instead I find him snoring happily in the exact position in which I left him.

Incensed, I remove my kid gloves and attack the problem—and my husband—with vigor and a firm hand. After finally capturing his attention I direct his reluctant gaze to the bedroom clock, which shows that he should have been out of the house 20 minutes before.

The realization that he lives in an unfeeling world where alarm clocks and time clocks combine to make life miserable finally jolts him out of bed and into his clothes.

Meanwhile—back in the living room—I station myself, glass of milk and vitamin pill in outstretched hands, between the bedroom and the front door. He grabs the milk and pill from me on his way out, gulps them down and mutters grumpily, "I'm going to be awfully late. Why didn't you wake me sooner?"

Don't tell him he'd be later still if I didn't keep the bedroom clock set 15 minutes fast!

Conference Scheduled

LANSING (AP) — Judges, tavern owners, police authorities and representatives of a variety of other groups will tackle the problem of the drinking driver at a conference here Jan. 31.

They will come up with recommendations for legislation to improve the situation posed by drivers who don't necessarily consume enough alcohol to be intoxicated but whose driving is impaired.

Haul 5,600 Troops by Plane to Germany

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP)—A show of U.S. armed forces mobility began Monday when a stream of transport planes began hauling 5,600 troops from Ft. Lewis to Germany.

Jet and propeller-driven transports moving elements of the 4th Infantry Division to Germany as part of NATO exercises in northern Europe Jan. 18-Feb. 12, are leaving nearby McChord Air Force Base every hour.

The last of the 87 planes used in the operation is due in Germany about 7 a.m. Monday.

Senator Miron's Widow to Get His 1962 Salary

LANSING (AP)—The Senate Monday night received a bill providing for payment to his widow of the 1962 Senate salary of the late Sen. William E. Miron, D-Escanaba. Miron died Jan. 3.

The measure providing for the $5,000 payment was referred to the appropriations committee. Passage is traditionally automatic.

Seat for Woman on Committee Breaks Precedent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats planned to break precedent today by assigning Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich., to the House Ways and Means Committee.

Although the 25-member panel has jurisdiction over most of the big pocketbook issues, no woman has ever served on it.

★ ★ ★

House Democrats in a closed door caucus today were expected to name Mrs. Griffiths and Rep. Clark Thompson, D-Tex., to fill party vacancies on the committee.

Asking for Daily Report on State's Cash Figure

LANSING (AP)—Sen. John P. Smeekens, R-Coldwater, has asked the State Treasury to give the Senate a daily report on the condition of state fund balances.

Smeekens said the report is needed to help the legislature keep track of the state deficit and plan appropriations. The Treasury made similar daily reports during the session last year.

Kennedy Asks Debt Limit Hike

Sen. Byrd Announces Fiscal Probe in Wake of $10-Billion Request

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said today President Kennedy is requesting a $10-billion increase in the national debt limit.

Byrd announced a sweeping inquiry into the nation's financial condition.

The Virginia senator said in an interview he will ask the Senate Finance Committee, which he heads, to go into all aspects of federal spending and taxation before it acts on a proposed boost of the limit from $298 billion to a record-breaking $308 billion.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said in a memorandum to Byrd and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, that such an increase is necessary if the Treasury is to meet its future bills.

OTHER REQUESTS

Dillon asked for a boost of $2 billion before March 1 and $8 billion for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. He said this would cover an estimated peak debt of $304.5 billion next Dec. 16 and give the Treasury about the $3 billion elbow room it needs to operate under the ceiling.

Byrd said he is willing to go along with the temporary increase to $300 billion because "the President told me personally that otherwise the government couldn't pay its bills."

"But before we make any further increases, I think the country should be told exactly where we stand financially," he said. "We have gone along the road of reckless spending and debt increases as far as we can go."

Girl, 7, Dies of Burns After Stove Mishap

Seven-year-old Karen Krafft yesterday lost her battle for life in William Beaumont Hospital after being burned over 80 per cent of her body in her Pleasant Ridge home Friday.

Karen, 21 Oakdale Blvd., had been left home alone with her two brothers, 11 and 5, Friday morning while her mother, Mrs. Ronald C. Krafft was driving her husband to a railroad station.

When Karen bent over a lighted stove to reach into a cupboard, her night clothing caught fire. She was taken to the Royal Oak hospital by Ferndale Fire Department ambulance.

President Says He 'Got Message' of Women Pickets

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says the women who braved a rainstorm to picket the White House on behalf of disarmament got their message through.

Between 1,800 and 2,000 women —most of them from New York City and Philadelphia—paraded in front of the White House Monday in a "women's strike for peace." They carried homemade signs and balloons with the message "Peace or Perish."

Kennedy was asked at his late afternoon conference if such demonstrations have any effect on him or other world leaders.

"Well, I think these women are extremely earnest," he replied: "I recognized why they were there. There were a great number of them. It was in the rain. I understood what they were attempting to say, and, therefore, I considered that their message was received."

Friendships Grow Stronger

Boy Writes to Cassidy in Heaven

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — "Hi, Cassidy in Heaven," began a letter received recently at the headquarters of the Maryknoll Fathers, the hard-working missionary body whose earthly home base is at Maryknoll, N. Y.

The letter was from Richard Kuhns, a boy confined to the Rosary Hill Home in Hawthorne, N. Y. Richard is crippled and has cancer. A large facial tumor blocks much of his vision.

Cassidy was Fr. Joseph H. Cassidy, hospital chaplain for a long time before his death last June from cancer. There was and remains a strong link between the white-haired missioner and the boy.

Marriages, it is said, are made in Heaven but Richard feels that friendships begin on earth and continue into Heaven.

So he wrote to his old friend, who once gave him the exclusive privilege of calling him plain "Cassidy."

HIS LETTER

"Hope you are feeling much better, Cassidy. Did you have pain before you went to Heaven? Were you very sick? No more pain now, in Heaven.

"When I get bigger and sicker, I am going up to Heaven too. I will see you then. I will have two bright brown eyes up there that will stay open by themselves. My leg will be good, too. No braces in Heaven.

"Do you have sugar and toast in Heaven? Jelly and jam, too? Mmmmm. Will you have some for me when I come?

"You see Blessed Lord now Cassidy. You love Blessed Lord. I Love Blessed Lord and I love you, Cassidy, too.

* * *

"When I go to Heaven I will be polite and have good manners. Will not scream or yell or stamp my feet.

* * *

"Did you see Mother Mary? I said long rosaries for you, Cassidy.

"Be sure to see God in Heaven first. Then when you start flying around, see all the angels and saints and all our men from Rosary Hill.

"Be careful, Cassidy, and don't fall out of Heaven.

"Your good boy — Richard Kuhns."

State Highway Costs Hit 2-Year Low Late in '61

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's highway construction price index hit a two-year low during the last three months of 1961, the State Highway Department reports.

The index shows that the comparative cost of materials and labor, It stood at 166.1 at the end of 1961 compared to 183.8 in the second quarter of 1961.

Large volumes of work and increased competition among contractors are responsible for the drop, the department said. The index is based on a norm of 100 points in 1940.

Ties Cobo Hall Woe to Mismanagement

DETROIT (AP)—A newly appointed member of Detroit's Civic Center Commission said Monday that mismanagement had been responsible for Cobo Hall's alleged lack of success.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Moore, Detroit hotelman, recommended an administrative overhaul of the Civic Center and use of city employes instead of private contractors to solve Cobo Hall's labor problems.

His recommendations were included in a 10-page report to Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

★ ★ ★

Moore devoted more than five pages to the $34-million structure's labor troubles and a plan for eliminating them.

Truman Clears Up Con-Con Squabble

LANSING (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman apparently has written the closing chapter in a squabble over his scheduled appearance before Michigan's constitutional convention.

In a letter received Monday by convention President Stephen S. Nisbet, Truman explained that he would be unable to address the delegates because of a crowded schedule and "personal circumstances."

Truman's letter appeared to have ended the furore which raged last week over his denial that he had made an oral commitment to give the convention his views on constitutional issues.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower spoke to the delegates last month. But he appeared with the understanding that Truman also would speak on an "equal time" basis.

Truman was accused by George Romney, a convention vice president and potential Republican candidate for governor, of taking part in a "cheap political trick" to embarrass Romney, who had announced to the delegates earlier that Truman would appear.

Romney's accusation touched off a series of charges and counter-charges between him and Democratic National Committeeman Neil Staebler and State Chairman John J. (Joe) Collins.

They accused Romney of being "inept" in his handling of the whole affair.

Truman's letter to Nisbet, dated Jan. 12, declared:

"It is unfortunate that so much confusion and misunderstanding should have arisen with regard to my hoped for appearance at . . . the Michigan constitutional convention.

"My normally crowded schedule became even more complicated, by reason of some personal circumstances, and I have had to beg off of some firm commitments that I had previously made and to decline all tentative commitments.

Nixon to Fight Back if Integrity Attacked

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he will hit back very hard if "political assassins" try to attack his integrity in the coming California race for governor.

Nixon also indicated it would be a free swinging campaign in all respects in an interview with Neil Morgan in Esquire Magazine.

The ex-vice president will be opposed in the GOP primary by former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, among others, and the Democratic opponent in the general election likely will be Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, who has not as yet announced his candidacy.

Area's Frigid Weather Is Also Harvest Time

Strange as it may sound, the warmer seasons have no monopoly on harvest time.

The heart of a hard winter can also have that distinction.

The golden grain is harvested in summer.

But there's another golden harvest in winter.

★ ★ ★

For several days the Pontiac area has been rather cold.

But some of its cash registers have been rather hot.

We refer to those at our various winter recreational resorts.

Regardless of classy rhetoric and phony claims from other sections, the Pontiac area now is drawing larger crowds to its ski slopes than any other part of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

They have created traffic jams on extra lane highways leading to them.

No other area in the entire Nation has such facilities adjacent to such a large population.

Yes, there's a winter harvest time.

Plan to Retrain Jobless Requires Investigation

The present session of Congress will be working on some new type of bill to provide Federal retraining to teach some of the unemployed new trades or skills.

Of course, the advantages of such a program are not clear and the cost so far is an unknown factor. The price tag mentioned around Washington runs to $90 million or so.

A careful look seems advisable since one experiment now going on leaves much to be desired. Huntington, W.Va., in a two county area with 7,000 unemployed is running a program, but to date only 750 of the jobless have shown interest in the program.

★ ★ ★

This seems odd since while the trainees study they could receive subsistence pay of $23 a week. Of the 750, only 200 have been certified to begin classwork.

Just why, we don't know. The courses offered include small appliance repair, automatic transmission repair, typing, salesmanship and nursing.

During the interviews the Huntington employment office workers discovered these three reasons against the program:

1. Just not interested.
2. I expect to be called back to work soon.
3. I'm too old to be starting all over again.

★ ★ ★

The employment office started with nine in the office and quickly cut back to four because of the lack of interest.

This pilot study is only costing the taxpayers $15,000 which is money well-spent if Washington learned a lesson from it. Since no money has actually been appropriated, it is not too late to shelve any grandiose ideas if the unemployed are not interested meeting expenses. They estimate another 1,000 persons a week would put them on a sound basis.

★ ★ ★

Need More Passengers to Keep Bus Line Sound

One of life's frustrations is needing something which has been discarded because it wasn't needed.

★ ★ ★

When the previous bus line in the City ended its service, the need for such service was felt immediately. Eventually, the new firm, Pontiac Transit Corporation came along and restored the buses.

Even with carrying more than 830,000 passengers in the last twelve months, the bus company is just

Presidential Tax Power a Bad Idea

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — With all the advisers, experts, economists and politicians, as well as veteran officials supposed to be familiar with tax problems available around the White House, it is surprising to find President Kennedy quite casually recommending that Congress give up its constitutional power to fix tax rates and let the Chief Executive do it.

Before any proposal as far-reaching as this could find its way into the State of the Union Message of the President, it would seem that such a drastic change in tax policies and procedures would be thought through and given to the public only after a most thorough study of all its ramifications.

But the idea here seems to be to toss into the hopper as many ideas as possible to give the impression that the administration isn't standing still.

To transmit a President overnight to reduce or raise taxes would be something of an innovation to Americans, though the idea of a flexible tax was proposed long ago by Lord Keynes, the British economist whose theories since have been severely criticized.

In Britain sudden tax changes can be made by the government in power, but this is because they have the parliamentary system.

The people, however, can immediately throw out the cabinet ministry that taxed them unwisely. No such remedy is today available to the American people.

Apart from the wisdom or unwisdom of sudden tax changes from a political viewpoint—for certainly there would be little protest when taxes went down and a big fund if they went up—there are some practical barriers.

Supposedly the tax changes are to be made when business conditions would seem to the theorists to require such a shift.

Where is the expert to be found who is wise enough, upon waking up some morning, to decide that taxes should be reduced to stimulate consumer spending or raised to stop inflation as he rushes to the White House to persuade the President to sign the appropriate executive order?

Nobody seems to have thought about the problem of how to change suddenly all the tax forms and how to provide a procedure for taxpayers to revise in the middle of a tax year the estimates they have already submitted and on which they may have made payments.

The mere task of checking returns in a year when an abrupt change in tax rates has taken place would be a colossal job.

But, even though the administrative difficulties could be surmounted by paying out a few millions of dollars for extra clerks and revised forms, the remedy could prove worse than the disease. There is no certainty, for instance, that a sudden stimulus to consumer spending would come at the right time.

It has been argued that Congress could always nullify a tax change it didn't like because it would have 30 or 60 days in which one house could exercise a veto of the President's action.

This might occur just before an election, and the uncertainty produced between the time the President made his proposal and the time it was rejected or took effect could bring on such chaotic conditions as to defeat the ends sought.

It would not cause so much of a fuss if taxes were always being reduced, as everybody likes a tax reduction. But if the President asked for a change in the basic rate, what about the clamor of the people in the other tax brackets for additional reductions?

A quick tax cut could result in a bigger deficit than expected. Also, there are some paradoxes to complicate the whole problem.

Today, for example, the country is supposed to be in the midst of a business boom, but the budget is unbalanced and unemployment is 6.1 per cent of the labor force. Should taxes be cut, raised, or left unchanged?

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcohol Isn't Any Good Any Time for Anything

If you know an individual uses morphine, heroin or opium would you take some for what ails you on his advice, even if he were a doctor? Assuming your intelligence is a cut above moron level, you would probably not take such advice or follow such suggestion.

A person under the influence of a narcotic is hardly capable of good judgment about such matters.

If any reasoning is sound so far, in respect to the narcotics mentioned, it should apply as well to any other narcotic, shouldn't it? Alcohol, for instance. Oh, yes, alcohol is a narcotic, there's no evading the fact.

DR. BRADY

Recently, some articles set forth the views of doctors, one of whom conducted his research under a grant by the wine industry, approving the use of alcoholic beverage or liquor at tranquilizer, restorative, sedative, bracer, cheerer-upper or quiet-downer — or, say, whenever you need a drink.

This is not news. An authoritative textbook of therapeutics, published 57 years ago, says, "Alcohol is indicated" (medicalese meaning good for) "cardia" ($1.80 term for heart) "failure due to shock, poisons, etc., fainting, snake-bite, surgical shock, typhoid fever, pneumonia or exhaustion."

The screaming inconsistency of the author of the textbook strikes you dead when you read on the next page his straight-faced statement that "alcohol never acts as a true stimulant . . . on the contrary, its dominant influence is depressant."

Persons who are fond of alcoholic beverage or liquor, for occasional, regular or habitual indulgence, are quite likely to resent the teaching that alcohol is a narcotic.

★ ★ ★

As a physician, I have seen too much of the heartache and heartbreak of wives, husbands, and children, brothers, sisters, mothers and fathers of alcohol addicts to have any patience with alcoholics who use every means suggested by the beer, wine and liquor people to persuade young persons of weak character to take up the habit.

In recent symposium on "Alcohol and Civilization" at University of California Medical Center, a New York professor of medicine said:

"Alcohol, unlike other tranquilizers and sedatives, has almost no undesirable side effect, and rarely leads to addiction when prescribed in managing diseases."

The professor added that alcohol "in small doses is a superb tranquilizer; in larger doses a good sedative; and even larger doses, an effective anesthetic."

This irked me more than somewhat.

It would have been nearer the truth if the professor had said alcohol is rarely prescribed in managing diseases. At any rate, not in good faith.

In a recent address, Jenkin Lloyd Jones, Tulsa editor, said among other significant observations:

"We are at the end of the third decade of national insanity known as 'progressive education.' This was the education where everybody passes, where the report cards were non-committal lest the failure be faced with the fact of his failure, where all moved at a small pace like a transatlantic convoy so that the slowest need not be left behind, and all proceeded toward adulthood in the lock-step of 'togetherness.' The competition that breeds excellence was sacrificed for the benefit of something called 'life adjustment.'

"Relief is becoming an honorable career. It is a pretty fair life, if you have neither conscience nor pride. The politicians weep over you. The state will give a mother a bonus for her illegitimate children, and if she neglects them sufficiently she can save enough out of her ADC payments to keep herself and her boy friend in wine and gin. Nothing is your fault anymore."

Parents, students, teachers, school officials and law enforcement groups should give special attention.

'Should Tell Canada U.S. Disapproves'

Why is it that Canada, our "friend and ally" is finding it easy to forget her conscience for the sake of a full purse? Her increasing amount of trade with Red China is revolting to any freedom-loving individual.

Mao's Communists are vowed to destroy the West by any means.

Although this open trade with an enemy as dangerous as Hitler is Canada's own affair, citizens of the free world should be concerned. When China gains the power she seeks, the whole world will have much to fear. We cannot force the discontinuance of Canada's trade with Red China, but our government ought to officially express disapproval.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Heed Advice When Buying Home

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE 1,-408: Phillip, aged 29, is our oldest son, who is in graduate school at Indiana University.

He and Arlene lived for a year in a compact little student apartment, but when their first baby was due, they decided they needed an extra bedroom.

DR. CRANE

"Dad," he began, "we are debating what to do. We can get a larger student apartment for about $125 per month.

"Or we might start buying a house in Bloomington. We've looked at a couple of old homes that need some renovation.

"They'd require a down payment of about $5,000. Maybe we could rent out a couple of rooms to students to help pay for the heat and light bills.

"But lately we have hit on another plan. We can buy a 50-foot mobile home with two bedrooms for a total cash payment of less than $3,000.

"It will be all modern, too. We can locate the mobile home in a very convenient Trailer Park for $20 per month rent.

"That $20 pays for water and the sewer connection. So what do you think we should do?"

★ ★ ★

Well, I asked him how much his oil bill for the oil furnace would run per year, plus his electricity and bottled gas for his kitchen stove.

Philip figured they would average not more than $30 per month, which meant his rent and other necessary expenses of the mobile home would total about $40 per month.

Meanwhile, he would be paying about 6 per cent interest on the $5,000 he would borrow to buy the mobile home. That 6 per cent totals $300 per year or $25 per month.

★ ★ ★

Added to the $40 already itemized he could thus have his own 2-bedroom modern home for a total outlay of $65 monthly, against a rental fee of double that sum for a university apartment.

So Philip bought the mobile home, and has been quite pleased with it.

His purchase was economically justified, but many people jeopardize their budget by spending too much for a home.

Dr. E. F. Donaldson, at Ohio State University, recently announced that the price of your new home should not run more than 2½ times your annual income.

If you are thus earning $5,000 per year, that means the ceiling on the price of your home should not exceed $12,500.

The usual graduate student obviously does not make $5,000 per year.

★ ★ ★

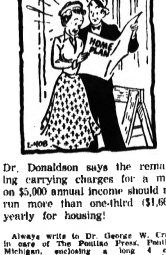

Even if he were on a graduate fellowship of $1,800 and getting G.I monthly aid of $125, his total income would thus not exceed $3,300 so such a person could not afford to pay more than about $8,500 for a home.

★ ★ ★

Mobile homes are thus a very attractive deal for college students and moderate wage earners.

Unless the young married couple have in-laws who will make a down payment on the new home as a wedding gift, or unless they have worked and saved their money for several years prior to the wedding, they better stick closely to Dr. Donaldson's ceiling price.

Dr. Donaldson also advises a down payment that totals 25 per cent of the purchase price. Even at that 25 per cent down payment,

Dr. Donaldson says the remaining carrying charges for a man on $5,000 annual income should not run more than one-third ($1,666) yearly for housing!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and mailing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Do Not Sign Petition Against Medical Aid'

Doctors are asking people to sign a petition against Kennedy's medical aid to the aged. Don't sign it. This would be one of the greatest things our President has done.

I was operated on and in the hospital for six weeks. My husband had hospitalization, but after they paid their part we still had almost $600 to pay. My husband was out of work for seven months. Our income was $34 a week. We have raised three children and our youngest is 21. We have no children in school now, yet we pay big taxes ever year.

In the hospital I asked for gingerale and the nurse's aid told me to have my husband bring some because the hospital charges 35 cents a glass. If you have worked hard all your life and have purchased a small home, before you can get state aid you must sell that home or give them the deed. Don't sign the petition.

'Sufferin' Sufferagettes, Mr. President'

Race Bias? What About the Poor Women?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — The Kennedy administration now has an opportunity to show as much gallantry to women as to Negroes.

Some high government officials have lately been making a headline splash by resigning from their exclusive clubs because of membership discrimination against the Negro race.

These youthful new frontiersmen are unquestionably high-minded chaps who are anxious to offend no voter because of race, creed, or previous condition of servitude.

But what about sex? If political hearts are breaking over the snubbing of qualified people for reasons of race, what about the identical snubbing for reasons of gender?

Nowadays it is fashionable for northern politicians to denounce race bias. To say a good word in behalf of equal professional opportunities for newspaper women requires as much courage, however, as for a southern politician to espouse integration.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy must shortly decide whether he will accept an invitation to be the guest of honor at the annual dinner of White House Correspondents Associations.

He did so last year, although well-aware that the organization bars from attendance dues-paying women members who cover the White House with as much competence as their male counterparts.

The President at the same time refused, however, to accept an invitation to the White House Photographers Association dinner until it admitted a Negro to membership.

Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, who shrewdly managed his big brother's presidential campaign, knows that the Negro vote in the big cities tipped the scales for the Democratic ticket in 1960.

A Kennedy never forgets, and when the fashionable Metropolitan Club recently rebuked a member for bringing a Negro in the Kennedy administration to lunch, Bobby hastily resigned his membership.

Several other new frontiersmen followed suit, although some like Undersecretary of State George McGhee continue to dine there regularly.

★ ★ ★

Another crisis arose last week when the Cosmos Club, the social mecca for eggheads and intellectuals, rejected the membership application of Carl Rowan, a Negro who is deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

J. Kenneth Galbraith, U. S. ambassador to India, quit the club in protest, taking with him the pending membership application of President Kennedy. Assistant Secretary of State Harlan Cleveland and Jerome B. Wiesner, Kennedy's top scientific adviser, also fell into line.

DOWNTRODDEN MAJORITY

This prompt action was undoubtedly applauded by every member of a minority group, but what about us of the downtrodden majority? Negroes are a potent voting force, comprising 10½ per cent of the population. We women total a whopping 51 per cent, although the administration's State Department seems unaware of the fact.

Ignoring repeated feminine protests, the department continues to permit the National (all male) Press Club regularly to stage the one-and-only press luncheon for visiting heads of state.

A majority of the seats are occupied by lobbyists, liquor salesmen and other non-press members of the club, while working newswomen are banished to a tiny, foodless balcony where they may be seen but not heard when the news questioning begins.

★ ★ ★

The Kennedy administration could painlessly end this ridiculous situation by issuing a simple executive ruling: "At press luncheons for official state visitors, there shall be no discrimination because of color, creed or sex."

You can be sure the administration would do so, if women indulged in bloc voting.

U. S. Health Service Says:

Don't Worry About Radioactive Snow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Snow, even in this winter of Soviet hydrogen bomb fallout, is still safe for the kids to play in.

The U.S. Public Health Service has given this advice to allay apprehensions of parents who fear that Red atmospheric tests have contaminated this season's snow with dangerous radioactivity.

Even if a child eats a handful or so of the stuff, there is no real danger of fallout harm, officials say.

The health service still frowns on the practice of children eating snow but not for any nuclear reason.

"We are opposed to eating snow on general health principles," a spokesman commented. "Apart from any question of radioactivity, snow is quickly contaminated with other things — that is, with ordinary dirt and refuse."

★ ★ ★

"It is not a good health practice to eat snow, just as it is not a good health practice to eat fruits and vegetables without washing them thoroughly."

The health service has been bombarded with anxious inquiries about the hazards of a child receiving doses of strontium 90 and other radioactive substances from playing in or eating snow.

Last week, Mississippi state health officer, Dr. A. L. Gray reported that radioactivity in snow which fell in the state was "much higher than expected." He said that although there was little cause for alarm, children shouldn't eat it because of the prevalence of strontium 90.

★ ★ ★

An inquiry on the question also came to the health service from Greensboro, N.C., recently.

Without getting into a lot of technicalities, the simple fact is that there is not enough fallout in snow to harm children, no matter how freely they wallow in or consume it.

This remains true even when the amount of fallout detected in a particular locality happens to rise substantially above the customary level. Variations in the amount of radioactive particles descending from the atmosphere are natural and inevitable, and the "no danger" verdict on playing in snow applies to the peak periods.

★ ★ ★

At the moment, it boils down to this, your youngster just can't eat enough of the stuff to endanger himself from a radioactive standpoint.

Self-Invited Guests Empty Capitol Offices

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Guides at the Ohio Capitol receive some unusual requests, but one of the most out-of-the-ordinary was in 1911.

A young couple, accompanied by families and friends, asked permission to be married in the central rotunda.

Officials checked the Ohio Constitution and other codes and, finding nothing prohibiting such a ceremony, permitted the wedding to take place.

As the wedding began, a 50-year-old newspaper account relates, "the word spread like wildfire and (state) offices were emptied, especially of young ladies of eligible age."

To Honor Youths at White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Two local youths credited with saving two teen-age Dearborn girls from drowning in Oxbow Lake here in late December will be honored for heroism by the Township Board tonight.

The rescue from the icy water was made by Timothy Leahy, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Leahy of 10185 Lakeside Drive, and Donald Meyers, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyers of 3025 Park Drive, Milford Township.

Meyers' parents will accept the award in their son's absence. A sailor, he is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

The girls pulled from the water are Elaine Esper, 13, and Patricia Hore, 15. Both are daughters of Dearborn public safety officers.

The youths had been playing hockey when they heard screams coming from the middle of the lake.

They skated out about 200 yards and found the girls clinging to the sides of the ice which had broken through only minutes earlier.

"We crawled out to them on our stomachs and gave each girl an end of a hockey stick to hold onto," Leahy said after the incident.

The girls had been visiting Patricia's grandfather, Frank Hore, who lives next door to Leahy, when they decided to venture far out on the ice.

Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz will present the citations to Leahy and Meyers' parents this evening.

The awards are the fifth and sixth presented by the township to persons for meritorious action in the last two years.

To Elect 2 to Unit on Conservation

Balloting, Banquet Set by State Agency; to Fill District Board

Two directors of the Oakland Soil Conservation District will be elected Thursday at the annual meeting of the state agency in Pontiac.

The election and banquet will be held at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland, 761 W. Huron St., at 7:30 p. m.

Those whose terms are expiring on the five-member board are Stuart J. Hutchins of Avon Township and Keith Middleton of Oakland Township.

The terms of the offices to be decided are for three years.

Anyone living within the soil conservation district with three acres of land is eligible to vote for the new directors, according to Lyle Abel, director of the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service. This includes both husband and wife.

Featured speaker during the program that will follow the election will be Mary Garlick, who spent five months in Italy as a Farm Youth Exchange student. Her talk will be illustrated with color slides.

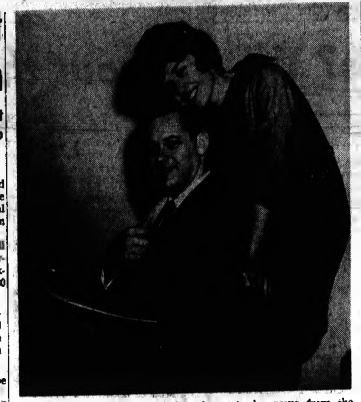

Entertainment will be provided by two 4-H talent contest-winners, Carmen Sue Miller of the Seymour Lake Club and Trudy Wiseman of the East Orion Club.

The three other directors of the local conservation program are Robert McCrory of South Lyon, Samuel Miller of Independence Township and Harold Mitchell of Holly Township.

Set Hawaiian Theme for Rochester Dance

ROCHESTER — Palm trees, swaying hula skirts and the Hawaiian music of Millie Michalski and her "Mele Wahines," will be features of the Elk's Club "Hoolualea" dance here Saturday evening at the Elk's Temple.

The play will be presented at 8:15 p.m. both Friday and Saturday at Utica Community High School.

Examination Today in Shooting of Two

NOVI — A 23-year-old Chicago man is being held in the Oakland County Jail on a charge of assault with intent to murder two Novi men during a fight outside a local bar Saturday night.

Wallace D. Johnson was to appear today for examination before Novi Justice of the Peace Robert Anderson.

Anderson set bond yesterday at $20,000 when Wallace stood mute at his arraignment.

Johnson is charged with shooting Ronald Noland, 22, of 1605 E. Lake Drive and William Daugherty, 24, of 1643 E. Lake Drive.

Noland, shot four times in the stomach and once in the arm, is in critical condition at St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia. Daugherty is in the same hospital with a bullet wound in his chest. His condition is serious.

Also being held in the Oakland County Jail as material witnesses are three companions of Johnson. They are Roy Turner, 26, and James Johnson, 25, both of Chicago, and Royal Goodacre, 17, of Dawson Spring, Ky. James Johnson is not related to the accused.

Police said the shooting occurred in a parking lot next to the Derby Bar, 13-Nile and Novi roads, after the quartet heckled a crippled companion of Noland and Daugherty.

Johnson and Turner were arrested a short time after the incident at the home of Johnson's sister.

James Johnson and Goodacre were held by the Walled Lake police when they walked into the station and said there had been a shooting nearby.

$48,000 Deficit Must Be Faced

Southfield City Council Calls Meeting to Study Tax Corrections

SOUTHFIELD—The city council will meet tomorrow night to study a means of making up a deficit of $48,000 created by wrong assessment guesses on the cost of providing water, sewer and paving for residents in 1959 and 1960.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be held in the high school gymnasium.

Donald V. Smith, city administrator, said that 22 districts were involved in the assessment errors which caused the shortage on the 1960-61 audit.

Smith stated that this figure includes $35,919 that the city can't assess against the benefiting property owners.

The city still owes $10,000 for improvements to its civic center site and $1,200 in financing costs.

It is expected that some residents who were overassessed will receive refunds and those who were underassessed will be reassessed.

Trash Collection Planned at Troy

Commission Draws Up Rules Including Having Single Contractor

TROY — The city commission hammered out contract specifications last night under which a single contractor may take over the entire city's garbage and rubbish collection.

When the plans are rewritten and resubmitted to the commission by City Manager David E. Firestone, the body will take up a motion tabled last night to allow him to advertise for bids on the job.

PLANS AS FOLLOWS:

Basically, the plans are as follows:

1. There will be only one garbage and rubbish contractor in the city. He will be under a contract to the city and will be paid by the city.

2. All arrangements for garbage and rubbish collection will be made by citizens directly with city hall, where the bills will be paid;

3. Citizens desiring the service will pay in advance, as with other utilities, either quarterly, semiannually or yearly;

4. Service complaints will be made to the city hall officials who will refer them to the contractor for satisfaction;

5. Citizens who have equivalent methods of disposing of garbage and rubbish may continue with them if they do not constitute either a health hazard or a nuisance.

Radioactivity in Hawaii Up, but not Dangerously

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaiian health officials reported Monday that Honolulu's atmospheric radioactivity over the weekend was 10 times higher than normal—but still far below hazardous levels.

A spokesman emphasized that radioactivity would have to be "thousands of times" higher than normal to endanger health.

Officials attributed the increased radioactivity to wind changes and other weather factors.

Stops Constipation due to "Aging Colon"

Relief, doctors say, lies in new laxative principle that re-creates 3 essentials of youthful regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents dry out and shrink so they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief.

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) helps retone flabby colon muscles with unique rebuilding action; (3) acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight, is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. Introductory Size 43¢.

Your PTA Tells Plans

Civil defense, physical education, science and foreign language studies will be but a few of the discussion topics for Pontiac Parent-Teacher Associations meeting this week.

DANIEL WHITFIELD

Lee Crandell will show a color film "Dual Purpose Shelters" in a civil defense program planned by the Daniel Whitfield PTA Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the school gymnasium. He will also have information on shelters and will answer questions.

Reports on the recent membership drive and the school's fall fair will be included in a brief business meeting.

Refreshments will be served by room mothers of Margaret Proctor's, Fay Davis' and Mrs. James Spafk's first grade classrooms.

OWEN

Fourth, fifth and sixth graders will be presented in a tumbling act by Gale Hixon, physical education teacher, following a business meeting of Owen School's PTA at 7:30 Thursday.

Plans are under way for a Feb. 3 fair under chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph Bowers.

Mrs. Frank King is the group's chairman for the Pontiac PTA Council's Founders' Day dinner Feb. 6 at Pontiac Northern High School.

WASHINGTON IRVING

Jerrold W. Maben of Michigan State University, science consultant for the Pontiac Schools, will discuss science education at the elementary level for Washington Irving School's 7:30 Wednesday Parent-Teacher Organization meeting. Members will gather in the school's activities room.

Refreshments will be served by fourth grade room mothers following the meeting.

WEVER

PTA members at Wever School also will hear Jerrold Maben discuss the city schools' science instruction methods at Thursday's 7:30 p. m. meeting in the gymnasium.

Pontiac PTA Council Founders' Day dinner chairmen for Wever are Mrs. Herbert Thomas and Mrs. George Van Horn.

Serving on the spring fair committee are Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Mrs. Elmer Miller, Mrs. Samuel Rifelie, Mrs. William Whitehead and Mrs. Barton Schmucker.

WISNER

Mrs. Leah Hervent, French teacher, will direct a special student program for Wisner School's 2 p. m. Thursday PTA meeting in the kindergarten room.

Parents will see third through sixth graders conversing in French as they are taught in the class room. Third and fourth grade girls' chorus members, directed by Marcia Helden, music instructor, will sing several French songs.

Mrs. Lester Mack, third grade teacher, will lead community singing with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Jay Clark.

Mrs. Robert Anderson, PTA president, will conduct a brief business meeting after the program. Baby sitting service will be available. Home room mothers from the classes of Bob Dunn and Mrs. Emily Bonham will serve refreshments.

Peter Garcia, German exchange student at Pontiac Northern High School, will speak to Malkim School's PTA at 2 p. m. Thursday in the multipurpose room.

Playrooms for children will be open. Refreshments will be served by room mother and helpers from Mrs. Ralph Lee's class, including Mrs. James Thomas, Mrs. Dennis Hall, Mrs. Charles Woodworth and Mrs. V. L. Phillips. Mrs. Manuel Paramo, Mrs. William Mihalek and Mrs. Vernon Redden, all from Virginia Fowler's class room, also will help.

A business meeting will follow the program.

BALDWIN

Fathers' Night will be observed by Baldwin School PTA at 7:30 Thursday evening.

James Scott, father vice president, will conduct the meeting, and other fathers will read reports and serve refreshments.

Joseph Singleton, Pontiac PTA Council civil defense co-chairman, will conduct a discussion following showing of the film "Dual Purpose Room."

JEFFERSON JUNIOR HIGH

In keeping with the year's program committee theme "The Fulfillment of a Dream" (a well-rounded public school education for every child) Jefferson Junior High School's PTA will sponsor a program featuring Pontiac Central High School personnel at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Exhibits, discussion periods and talks designed to familiarize parents with Pontiac's high school program, will be presented by Francis Staley, Central's principal, and faculty members Paul Dellerba, physical education; George Putnam, vocal and instrumental music; Donald McMillen, academic counseling and guidance; and Richard Fell, vocational education.

Refreshments will be served at the public meeting in Jefferson's multipurpose room.

CENTRAL

Donald Bradley, father vice president, will conduct the meeting for Central Elementary School's Fathers' Night Thursday.

Following presentation of a flag to the school, guest speaker David Teal will show a film and speak on civil defense.

Memberships will be taken throughout the evening. Refreshments will be planned by Mrs. Russell Black, Mrs. Max Miller, Mrs. Robert Braden and Mrs. Niles Hartung. Thomas Marsh and Mr. Bradley will serve.

Baby sitters will be available.

CARMEN JOY GAVETTE

June vows are planned by Carmen Joy Gavette, daughter of Mrs. Katherine Fuchs of Rutgers Avenue, and Gerdon Gavette of Melrose Avenue, to Larry G. Lackey, son of Mrs. Vivian Green of Valencia Drive and Charles E. Lackey, Auburn Heights.

Will Hold Meetings in Homes

Members of both the Saybrook Group and the Colonial Group of First Congregational Church held Friday meetings.

Saybrook Group met at the Elizabeth Lake Road home of its president, Mrs. William Miller. Hostesses assisting her with the luncheon were Mrs. Harley Stephens, Mrs. Carl Weber and Mrs. Nellie Williams.

Mrs. Grady Smith presented devotions entitled, "What of the new year and its possibilities and ways for better Christian living?" Mrs. J. E. Van Wagoner, program chairman, and members participated in a discussion of their individual church heritage.

* * *

Committee chairmen were announced. In addition to Mrs. Van Wagoner, they include Mrs. James Cheal, procurement; Mrs. Mason Rich, hostesses; Mrs. William Vance, missionary; Mrs. Dora Dawson, publicity; Mrs. Weber, ways and means; and Mrs. William Caleman, telephone.

Mrs. William Vann Jr. was welcomed as a new member.

The February meeting will take place in the chapel of the Salvation Army Rehabilitation Center on West Lawrence street.

* * *

Mrs. Phillip Viericch read a message for the new year by Norman Vincent Peale for 25 members of the Colonial Group. Luncheon hostess was Mrs. Dale Moats of West Iroquois Road.

Committee chairman Mrs. C. Henry Purdy was assisted by Mrs. Allan Denham, Mrs. E. C. Russell and Mrs. Frank McPeek.

Mrs. George Wasserberger of Illinois Avenue will be hostess for the next meeting.

Parents, Teachers Set Get-Together

Pontiac Council, U. of M. Sponsor Program Friday

Workshops covering all phases of current Parent-Teacher Association activities will highlight Friday's Parent and Family Life Education Conference, sponsored by the Pontiac Council of Parents and Teachers and University of Michigan Extension Service.

Guest speaker for the meeting in First Methodist Church will be Mrs. Belle Farley Murray of the University of Michigan.

Registration at 9:30 a.m. will open the conference under general chairmanship of Mrs. Leroy Koch. Rev. Paul Hart, pastor at First Methodist, will offer the invocation, and Mrs. George Gray, PTA council president, will extend greetings to the group.

Workshop topics and chairmen will include: national PTA magazine, Mrs. Paul Keith of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers and Mrs. Erwin Christie; juvenile protection, Mrs. George Chute, MCPT, and Mrs. Fred Goines; and preschool, Mrs. Charles Noldrett, past MCPT president, Mrs. Melvin Norberg and Mrs. Thomas Bartle, PCPT.

Others will be: program, Mrs. William Wright, MCPT, and Mrs. Howard McConnell, PCPT; character and spiritual education, Dr. Robert M. Eyebse, MCPT, Mrs. Koch and Mrs. Ray Ellsworth, PCPT.

Mrs. Charles Coppersmith, Mrs. Herbert Mullen and Mrs. James Hartsock will be in charge of hospitality, and Mrs. William White, invitations. Reservations will be arranged by Mrs. Erwin Christie and Mrs. Bartle.

Publicity chairmen are Mrs. Earl Ottesvig and Mrs. Leslie Hotchkiss.

Abby Says She Knows

Celebrate Birth on Holiday; Make Gifts Double Festive

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps a disinterested party can help us to come up with the right answer in a family disagreement. Our son was born on Dec. 25. Since his birthday falls on Christmas, I would like to celebrate it on Jan. 25 so his birthday can be a special occasion for him and not just all mixed in with Christmas.

ABBY

Most of my relatives say they will give him a birthday gift on his birthday and not a month later. What do you think about this?

Would it be unfair to make him wait a month to celebrate and let his birthday not get lost in the Christmas rush?

WHAT TO DO

DEAR WHAT: Celebrate his birthday on the anniversary of his birth. Many people must share their "birthdays" with another memorable occasion. I know. I was born on the 4th of July.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is divorced, has two children and is trying to marry a 29-year-old bachelor. Instead of having him come to her home to get better acquainted with her children, she drives to another town to spend the weekends with him in a fancy motel. Our daughter maintains that if he "falls" hard enough for her he will accept her children later.

We didn't raise our daughter to behave this way, Abby, but she is 25 and is her own boss, so there is nothing we can do. We hate to see her make a mess of her life, but she won't listen to us. Can you help.

HER PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: Your daughter needs to be told by someone whose opinion she values that no man will marry a divorcee with two children if she will spend weekends with him without benefit of matrimony. Why should he?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My next door neighbor, whom I have known for two years, told me when she first moved in that she wanted to be alone, and did not care to get friendly with her neighbors.

I never visited her, of course, but one day she knocked on my back door and complained that I had never called on her. I was surprised, but said nothing and invited her in for a cup of tea anyway.

Later on, about a week later, I knocked on her door to show her my willingness to be friendly, and she told me sharply that she wanted to be alone and didn't care for visitors.

Then this morning she came to my door asking why I never come to see her. Do you think she is a mental case? She lives alone. What should I do about it? I am beginning to fear for her.

LITTLE WHITE HOUSE

DEAR LITTLE: Find out if she has any relatives or close friends to whom you can report her condition. She appears to be irrational.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Plan Marriage for Jan. 27

A Jan. 27 wedding in San Antonio, Tex., is planned by Carolyn J. Thobus and Fred Ahrens Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ahrens, Drayton Plains.

The bride-elect, daughter of Brig. Gen. John A. Thomas of Ft. Sam Houston Air Base, San Antonio, and the late Mrs. Thomas, is a graduate of Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis.

Her fiance attended Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio; University of Detroit and is presently a senior at the Marquette University Law School.

* * *

The making of corduroy pillows with a woven effect was the evening's lesson subject.

William Newhall will speak on family insurance at the Feb. 5 meeting in the home of Mrs. William Sebring on David K. Drive, Waterford Township.

Bethany Baptist Group of 125 Watches Film

Some 125 persons viewed the film "Shadow of the Boomerang" following Men's Night dinner last week in Upper Fellowship Hall, Bethany Baptist Church.

The Martha Group of the Women's Society of Christian Service served the dinner. Forrest Brown asked the invocation and Mrs. Cora Scott presented as devotions "After Christmas, What?" Mrs. Charles Richmond gave prayer calls.

Mrs. William Dorris, dinner chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Omer Lewis, Mrs. Turis McCully and Mrs. Ray Ward planned the decorations. Mrs. Orville Manns presented the program.

* * *

The Martha Group will meet this week in the new parlors and the Dorcas Group in the old parlors. Both will bring sack lunches.

* * *

Mrs. William Shirley will open her home on Seminole Avenue to the Esther Group and the Naomi Group will meet with Mrs. George Hoyt on Lincoln Avenue.

* * *

The Rebekah Group will be guests of Mrs. Paul Snover of West Huron Street and the Ruth Group will assemble with Mrs. William Gentry of Mark Avenue.

* * *

The Lydia Group will gather at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Sutton on Cawley Street.

It's Better to Remain With Guest

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I live in the suburbs and have four small children. During the week I am very busy working around the house and taking care of my family. When Sunday rolls around I like to get out for a couple of hours of relaxation.

Last Sunday, my sister-in, law came to visit my mother-in-law who lives only a few doors away. As she was not home, the sister-in-law came over to visit us. We were just getting ready to go out.

I did not feel it was my obligation to give up our day to entertain her so we went out as planned. Later I learned from my in-laws that they thought I was very rude for not staying home. This has caused some unpleasantness in the family and I would like to know if I was right or wrong.

A: If you had no definite plans, I do think you were rude to go off and leave your sister-in-law. But if you had a definite engagement or something important to do which you could, and should, have explained to your sister-in-law, you were not rude and deserve no criticism.

* * *

Q: I was invited to a rather large wedding reception recently at which the guests were seated at small tables of ten. After the meal, the bride's parents went around to each table and spoke to the guests asking them if they enjoyed the dinner and if everything was all right. I have never encountered this before and would like to know if it was the proper thing to do.

A: Their solicitous attention to their guests' enjoyment was unusual but certainly not improper.

* * *

Q: When lunching in a friend's house and she is called to the telephone, is it proper for a guest to continue eating or should she wait until the hostess has returned to the table?

A: Most correctly the guest should wait, but not if her hostess has thoughtfully told her to go right on eating before her food gets cold.

* * *

Details for announcing the engagement are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Announcing The Engagement." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Wever School Unit Meets 7:30 Tonight

Wever Preschool Study Group will meet at 7:30 this evening to hear James Poteet, Pontiac Board of Education school psychiatrist, discuss "Behavior Patterns of Preschoolers."

Area parents of preschool and kindergarten youngsters will be welcome at the meeting in the Wever library. Baby sitters will be stationed in the kindergarten room.

Knights, Ladies to Dine, Dance at Camelot Ball

St. Dunstan's Playhouse, decorated with 12 six-foot shields, 12 suspended flags and drawings of battlements surrounding the orchestra, will become the great hall at Camelot for a Jan. 27 dinner dance, the "Camelot Ball."

* * *

A sucking pig will center the main banquet table. Other decor will be secret until the evening of the ball.

Invitations and decorations were fashioned by Robert S. Raisch. Committee workers who will execute the medieval designs include the Hank Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. M. Loud (president), the Roger P. Cratons, the Robert S. Swansons and Elizabeth Boyne.

CHIEF DECORATORS

Others painting and hanging decorations will be James Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith, the David Raymonds, the Otis Thompsons, William Holmes, the Larry Avisons, the Charles E. Letts and Mr. and Mrs. David Lawrence.

Limited reservations are for members only. Dinner will be served 8 to 9 p.m. with Pipe Major Donald MacLellen playing traditional music. Dancing will begin at 9:30.

* * *

Two cocktail parties will precede the affair. Chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Raisch will entertain their committee in the great hall at 7, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Himelhoch will open their Birmingham home to a group.

Mrs. Stuckey Talks Tonight

Mrs. John Stuckey, missionary to Brazil, will speak to Calvary Baptist Church Women's Missionary Fellowship at 7:30 this evening.

* * *

As a special project, members will bring to the meeting medical supplies gathered for the Lyle Leggs, missionaries on furlough from Nigeria, West Africa.

Old Christmas cards with religious themes also will be brought. These will be fashioned into book form on construction paper for Bible verse inscriptions by children in foreign mission fields.

Mrs. Gordon Cogswell and Mrs. Fred Harrell will be hostesses.

Clubmembers Guests of Bank

Members of the Junior Pontiac Women's Club gathered Monday evening as guests of Community National Bank with Mrs. Frank Anderson presiding.

Welcoming the group were Roger Rummel, assistant cashier and director of public relations of the bank. Mrs. Floyd F. Smith introduced C. Mark Harper Jr., resident manager, and Mrs. Joy M. Thompson, registered representative of Watling, Lerchen & Co., members of the N.Y. Stock Exchange, who gave an informative talk on investments and securities.

Mrs. Albert F. Games and Mrs. E. Verne McCall poured from a decorative tea table. Social committee members for the affair were Mrs. Donald K. Ely, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ronald W. Hodge, and Mrs. Floyd F. Smith.

Election on Slate for Women Dems

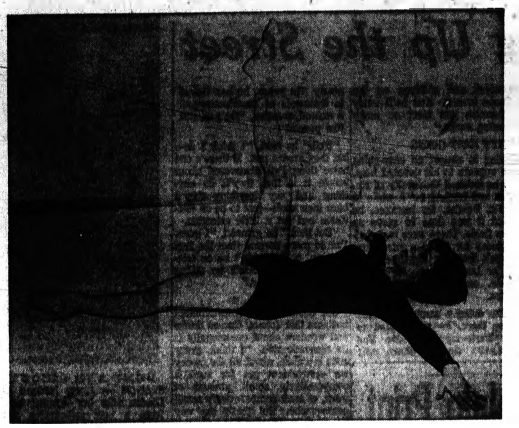

Annual meeting and election of officers of the Waterford Township Democratic Women's Club is slated for 8 p.m. Jan. 24 at the Carlos Drive home of Mrs. Joseph McGee.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Walter Brinkman and Mrs. Stanley Irish.

Along with thousands of others, this woman is on her way to a loss of weight and a gain in attractiveness on Josephine Lowman's' Marathon. This Marathon exercise is good for the hips. She touches toes to floor on left side of body.

Make Change for Best

New Look Means New You

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Yesterday I wrote about Mary Somebody. I painted an unhappy and discouraging picture of a woman who had become caught in the rut of daily routine, and had lost sight of herself as an individual.

* * *

She was sunk in apathy and boredom with resulting lackluster and fatigue. She was an intelligent woman, but life had somehow snowballed and she was unable to rediscover the attractive person she once was. This can happen to anyone, and too often does.

But yesterday I told you that something different had happened to Mary. For the first time in a long long while there were little stirrings of ambition toward self-improvement and tiny sparks of interest and hope, with just a whiff of zest for life. This was only momentary but it was important.

Actually, what happened to Mary was that she had finally HAD IT! She did not realize this yesterday, but today she does. She takes an honest look at herself and her life and decides to do something about both. This will not be easy but she takes the first vital steps toward a more vibrant way of living.

She faces up to at least some of the things which have happened to her. She is 20 pounds overweight. Besides that, she is somewhat flabby and her pounds are not attractively distributed because of lack of exercise. Her complexion reflects neglect and her hair and nails are poorly groomed, as are her clothes.

She instinctively knows that once she improves her appearance life will become more exciting and that she then will have the courage and the ambition and the self-confidence to add new interests and to expand her horizons.

I always have believed that most women live up to the picture they have of themselves and that a change for the better in appearance has important repercussions on the more serious and varied aspects of life.

* * *

Right now thousands of women are following my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon to see how much they can improve their appearance in just eight short weeks, with my help.

We women are pretty much alike! We are influenced by the way we look. When we look our best, we feel younger and look younger and find life more challenging.

The first sound psychological step toward a more vitrant way of life is to improve physical appearance. Along with this comes better health and more energy and more self-confidence. Why not take that first important step?

* * *

If you meant to join my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon and failed to do so, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

* * *

Twenty-four members and guests, Mrs. Olga Minard, Torch Lake; Mrs. Lena Clements, Ionia; and Lela Shields, house guests of Mrs. Louella Minard, were present.

* * *

Mrs. Mildred Hill led devotions, and Mrs. Margaret Monroe conducted a Bible study based on Paul's letters to the Romans, as discussed in J. B. Phillips' book "Letters to Young Churches."

* * *

Adah Shelly, president, announced committee chairmen for this year. They are Jessie Axford, membership; Grace Clark, missionary education; Helen Griggs, hostesses; Mrs. Mildred Hill, devotions; Mrs. Margaret Monroe, Bible study; Mrs. Jessie Snyder, flowers; Mrs. Hazel Ward, social education; and Ethel St. Clair, caller.

* * *

Members will meet again at 6 p.m. Feb. 9 for a dinner in the church dining room.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Sudden rebellion in the ranks? Even the best-behaved baby feels the need to rebel from time to time. And why not? A baby is a human being, entitled to a few human quirks. (Besides, this show of spirit means he's growing up.) So when your baby occasionally refuses to go along with his regular mealtime or naptime schedule, try to relax and let him relax before you feed or bed him down. If you don't force the issue, it will be easier to get baby back on schedule the next time around.

*

Baby will relish regular mealtimes if they're kept "looking-forward-to" times. The needed ingredients? A smiling atmosphere. A goodly variety of Gerber Strained Foods. There are more than enough to keep baby's mealtimes zestful.

*

Variety revives with a delicious point of view. Gerber Strained Foods offer plenty of range for menu change, 10 luscious fruits, 9 garden-good vegetables, 9 savory meats, 5 extra flavor-y high meat dinners, 4 scrumptious desserts, 7 fruit-licious juices. Each one designed, with a specific nutritional need in mind.

*

Four tips to tame a rock-a-bye rebel. (1) Nothing quite so relaxing as a rocking chair session. (2) A lullaby, sweet and low, still "bath charms to soothe." (3) A favorite cuddle toy somehow makes a crib seem cozier. (4) Grandmother offered a spot of warm milk to encourage drowsiness. Works today, too.

*

Specialties of the house. Don't forget these special foods for your baby: Gerber Strained Egg Yolks—delicate in flavor, custard-y in texture, high in iron and vitamin A. Gerber Teething Biscuits—extra-hard to soothe tender gums, specially shaped for easy grasping. Gerber Cookies for toddlers—animal-shaped for fun, twice as much protein as most other cookies, plus B-vitamins in the icing. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

'Boy Next Door' Is Moving Up the Street

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Johnny Carson, the matinee idol of the TV set, looks like the boy next door. Not the big bully who kicked puppy dogs, but the boy next door who was too shy to ask for a date.

That's the way he was, too, back in Norfolk, Neb.—shy and quiet, a real pebble-nudger.

He decided he'd be a psychiatrist ("I don't know why; probably so I could solve my own problems free"), but his plans were interrupted abruptly at the age of 12 when he laid hands on a book of magic.

With the keen insight of a junior introvert, he saw immediately that this was a way to a faster buck than psychiatry.

Johnny took out ads in the Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., newspapers proclaiming the availability of "The Great Carson."

By the time he was 14, he had transformed himself, through magic, into a relatively wealthy extrovert.

Johnny Carson, currently one of those show biz cliches called a "hot property," has been beautifully, financially and psychologically ever since. At the moment, he is NBC's top choice to step in as a replacement for Jack Paar when the latter steps out of the "Tonight" show this spring, but the ABC network, for whom John has emceed the afternoon show "Who Do You Trust?" the last five years, is not about to let their boy-next-door go visiting the enemy camp.

"I'd like to take a crack at it," Johnny says of his apparently lost opportunity to replace Paar, "but I have a contract with ABC which runs till September. I assume I will be with ABC till my contract is up. That's all I can tell you."

Meantime, he will continue to do his five-day-a-week, 52-week-a-year job of entertaining American housewives and children on the afternoon screen. And he'll enjoy it, "because you meet so many interesting kooks."

PRETTY EASY-GOING

Johnny is almost as easy-going as he appears to his devoted fans. After he finished University of Nebraska and worked for a while in radio at Omaha, for instance, he decided it was time to move on to new fields. There were two obvious places for a radio entertainer to break into the big-time, New York or Los Angeles. He flipped a coin, and it came out Los Angeles.

After doing a number of radio shows there, he was called to New York for "Who Do You Trust?" On that show, over nearly five years, he has talked to thousands of Americans—and a natural question, "Do you still like people?"

"Well," he said, "I think I do—but they amaze me. If there's one basic thing I've discovered about people it is that they'll do anything and say anything—they'll bare their souls—just to be on television, and get a little attention.

"But then," he grinned, "I guess I'm no more normal than the rest of them, or I wouldn't be on television, and I wouldn't be telling you my life history."

One aspect of the entertainment business that Johnny Carson thinks and wonders about occasionally is its economic side. "I think, every once in awhile, about all the money we entertainers get for such a comparatively small amount of work, of such comparatively small consequence. But that's the way America is geared. The president gets $100,000 and a teen-age kid gets $1,000,000 for making three records. And a physics professor makes almost nothing."

"I remember somebody asking Humphrey Bogart why he should make $200,000 for a single movie, and Bogart replied, 'Because I can get it.'

"It's as simple as that. Not admirable, not just, but an economic fact of life. It sort of bothers me to think about it," said Johnny, "and the way I keep from feeling guilty is remembering that people in show business have frustrations and insecurities that I think are far greater than those of people who go to the same office for 20 years."

Photography Instructor Shoots at Wrong Train

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Tom Isbill, Oklahoma Baptist University photography instructor, and his class were at the Rock Island depot learning to take pictures of moving objects at night.

They snapped a picture of a passing train.

A few minutes later they were surrounded by police and taken to headquarters to learn they had just photographed a train carrying secret atomic materials.

Cabbie Breaks Into Print Through the Back Seat

LONDON (AP) — A London cab driver with the yen to write found his market in the back seat of his taxi.

When he picked up Dame Edith Stiwell, he recognized her as the poet and they talked about literature.

When he picked up playwright Wolf Mankowitz, they talked about plays.

One day he was flagged down by Godfrey Winn, a broadcaster and writer.

Winn arranged for two of the cab driver's short stories to be published.

Now Maurice Levinson, 50, Russian-born, part owner of a London taxicab, is to bring out his first novel. It is called "The Desperate Passion of Henry Hirsh" and will be published later this year.

★ ★ ★

Levinson was brought up in an orphanage and describes himself as an illiterate who has learned to write.

"Dame Edith asked me to get into the back with her," Levinson recalled.

"We talked for half an hour or more. I later sent her some of my work and she wrote me a four page letter saying how much she liked it.

★ ★ ★

"She told me 'you have a tremendous talent. You must keep writing.'"

★ ★ ★

"Wolf Mankowitz took a tremendous interest. He read my novel and said later "I should have written this book myself."

Levinson looks forward one day to devoting all of his time to writing.

How does he manage it as a self-styled illiterate?

"It's just like a musician playing by ear," he said.

Almonds Are Right from First to Last

Appetizer, main dish or dessert . . . almonds play an important role in all of these courses. The California Almond growers have collected these recipes to show the versatility of the smooth oval nuts. Toasted or plain, they lend elegance to any dish they grace.

ROYAL ALMOND DUCK

1 (5 lb.) duckling
Salt
Mushroom Almond Stuffing
Royal Almond Glaze

Mushroom Almond Stuffing

⅓ cup butter or margarine
½ lb. sliced fresh mushrooms*
1 cup sliced celery
⅔ cup toasted slivered almonds
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
3 cups cooked wild or brown rice
½ teaspoon salt
Dash freshly ground pepper
½ teaspoon crushed basil leaves
¼ teaspoon crushed thyme
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
3 tablespoons dry Sherry

Royal Almond Glaze

⅓ cup slivered almonds
⅓ cup dark corn syrup
⅓ cup dark brown sugar, packed
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Dash salt

Wash duckling well. Salt inside cavity and fill with Mushroom Almond stuffing. Truss duck and place on rack in a shallow roasting pan. Roast in a moderately slow oven (325 degree F.) 2½ to 3 hours. During last half-hour of roasting brush with Royal Almond Glaze.

Mushroom Almond Stuffing: Melt butter in a large skillet. Saute mushrooms until golden. Combine with all remaining ingredients, tossing lightly.

Royal Almond Glaze: Crush almonds by putting ¼ cup slivers in blender at a time and turning to high speed 5 to 6 seconds, or crush on board with rolling pin. Combine with all remaining ingredients.

Makes 4 to 5 servings. Makes about 5 cups stuffing.

*2 (6 oz.) cans sliced mushrooms may be used in place of fresh mushrooms.

Shrimp Cocktail Salad

2 cups cooked shrimp
1 cup sliced celery
½ cup sliced green pepper
1 large avocado
¼ cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon chili sauce
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons instant minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
Crisp salad greens
¼ cup toasted slivered almonds

Combine shrimp, celery and green pepper in a large bowl. Cut avocado in half, remove seed; using a French ball cutter or a ½ teaspoon measure, make balls. Combine sour cream, chili sauce, lemon rind and juice, onion and salt. Toss lightly with shrimp mixture. Fold in avocado balls. Chill. Serve on salad greens topped with toasted almonds. Makes 8 servings.

Almond Honey Balls

2 cups graham cracker crumbs
¼ cup honey
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash salt
¼ teaspoon almond extract
½ cup maraschino cherries
½ cup chopped toasted almonds

Combine graham crackers, honey, butter, lemon rind and juice, cinnamon, salt and almond extract. Chop cherries. Add cherries and almonds to cracker mixture. Roll, by teaspoonfuls, into small balls. If desired, roll balls in chopped almonds or powdered sugar. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Little Almond Crispies

½ cup butter
1 egg, separated
1½ cups sifted powdered sugar
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon almond extract
2 drops anise extract
Whole blanched almonds

Cream butter until light and fluffy. Blend in egg yolk. Gradually beat in sugar and flour. Add vanilla, almond and anise extracts. Place dough in a pastry bag and form cookies by forcing dough through a large pastry tube onto an ungreased cookie sheet; or form dough into small balls.

Dip almonds into unbeaten egg white. Place an almond in the center of each cooky. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes. Cool on rack before serving. Makes 2 to 2½ dozen medium-sized cookies.

Imperial Almond Torte

6 eggs
3 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ cups boiling milk
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
Imperial Almond Filling
Frosting
Toasted sliced almonds for garnish

Imperial Almond Filling

4 egg yolks
3 cups sifted powdered sugar
½ cup cocoa
2 drops almond extract
3 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
3 tablespoons rum or 1 teaspoon rum extract
½ cup toasted sliced almonds

Frosting

1 (6½ oz.) package fluffy frosting mix or, ½ cup sifted powdered sugar

Beat eggs until foamy and lemon-colored. Gradually beat in sugar, vanilla and almond extract until thick. Melt butter in boiling milk. Beat into egg mixture. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Fold into egg mixture. Turn into three, greased and floured, 8-inch layer pans. Bake at once in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes until cake springs back to the touch.

Turn out on wire racks to cool. Split layers in halves; fill with Imperial Almond Filling. Frost with fluffy Frosting or dust with powdered sugar if desired. Sprinkle sliced almonds over top of cake to garnish.

Imperial Almond Filling: Beat egg yolks until light and fluffy. Beat in sugar, cocoa and almond extract. Stir soft butter and rum into mixture until smooth and glossy. Fold in sliced almonds.

Frosting: Follow package directions for frosting mix or dust lightly with powdered sugar.

Makes 12 to 14 servings.

Cook Often With Almonds for Exotic Exciting Foods

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

How many foods can you eat out of hand and still use in any course during a meal? Almonds fit this description and deserve the high place they have in cooks' affections.

Our almonds come from California where they are harvested from August to October. This year there has been a large crop which means that cooks can use almonds with a generous hand.

Whenever you see the word "amandine", it means made with almonds. Usually the nuts are sprinkled on top of whatever dish is mentioned. Just a few sliced almonds sprinkled on top of fish, green beans, chicken salad take the dish out of the ordinary class. And if you haven't ever tasted almonds roasted and salted at home, you've missed something special.

Anything that tastes so good should be good for us. Fortunately almonds are. We read that they are rich in B vitamins, calcium and iron and protein. What more can you ask of any food?

Almonds Stud Meringue Ring Before Baking

There is a kind of delectable, mold with aid of small spatula, leisurely meal that calls for a very keeping almond side up. Drain special dessert to crown its excellence. . . . a dessert like Pineapple Almond Torte for example.

Pineapple has a wonderful way of enhancing the flavor of many foods. Here it is used as a filling for a torte made in a ring mold. The foundation is a delicate meringue a variation of that old-fashioned recipe, called "Forgotten Cake." The final flavor trick is slivered almonds arranged porcupine-fashion in the meringue.

Pineapple Almond Torte

4 egg whites
1 cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 drops almond extract
½ cup slivered, blanched almonds
1 can (No. 2½) pineapple chunks
1 cup whipping cream

Heat oven to 450 degrees. Place egg whites in electric mixer. Beat until stiff peaks form. Combine sugar, cream of tartar and salt. Gradually add to egg whites, beating slowly. Fold in flavorings.

Pour into lightly greased 8-inch ring mold. Stick top thickly with almond slivers, porcupine fashion. Place in oven and turn off heat. Leave until oven cools or overnight.

Chill pineapple in can. Remove cooled torte carefully from ring and fluffy, but not dry. Frost outside of ring. Fill with pineapple. Serves 6 to 8.

Fluffy Nut Sauce Made in Mixer

The home service department of the Carnation Company has developed a wonderful new recipe for a light-as-a-feather sauce, made with evaporated milk. This can be used on pies, steamed puddings and fruit cakes.

Fluffy Almond Sauce

⅓ cup undiluted evaporated milk
1 egg
⅓ cup sifted powdered sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
⅛ teaspoon almond extract
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ cup ground almonds

Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges of tray (about 10 minutes). While evaporated milk is chilling, beat egg until thick. Gradually beat in sugar. Add vanilla, almond extract and nutmeg.

Whip chilled evaporated milk until stiff (about 1 minute). Add lemon juice. Whip very stiff (about 1 to 2 minutes longer). Gently fold beaten egg mixture and chopped almonds into whipped evaporated milk.

Sauce may be made and refrigerated one hour in advance, if desired. Serve on warm mince pie, steamed pudding or fruit cake. Garnish sauce with additional nutmeg, if desired.

Use a Thermometer

Do you use a roast meat thermometer when roasting meats? Research has shown that the meat thermometer is the most accurate guide to the degree of doneness of roasts, for it registers the internal temperature. Cooking time may be used as an approximation, but this is not as accurate as the meat thermometer.

Old English Holiday Recipe Modernized

During the sixteenth century, a flaming dish called "Snapdragon" was served at Christmas parties at the Royal Court of England. This consisted of raisins covered with brandy which was then set aflame. One had to snatch the raisins out of the flaming brandy in order to eat them!

An exciting new version of Snapdragon is made with canned pitted dark sweet cherries, blanched almonds, dried apricots and white grapes. The royal purple color of the canned cherries is enough to entice one to reach through the flames (though the flames die down quickly enough to make that unnecessary!). And their luscious flavor will lead one on to eat another and another, until the festive dish is empty.

The Dark Cherry Snapdragon can be made without brandy; the flames can be supplied by sugar cubes and lemon extract. And cocktail picks can be used instead of fingers, if desired. The recipe calls for heating the fruit; but it can be served cold if desired.

Dark Cherry Snapdragon

2 cans (1 pound each) pitted dark sweet cherries
1 stick cinnamon
½ teaspoon whole cloves
½ teaspoon whole allspice
1 peppercorn
1 cup small bunches green grapes
1½ cups dried apricots
½ cup blanched almonds
4 cubes sugar
1 teaspoon lemon extract

Drain cherries. Tie cinnamon, cloves, allspice and peppercorn in a bag; add to 1 cup cherry syrup. Heat syrup to boiling. Reduce heat and cook 2 minutes longer. Remove spice bag. Cool.

Combine cherries, grapes, apricots, almonds and cooled cherry syrup. Let stand 2-3 hours, stirring occasionally. Cook over low heat to serving temperature.

Just before serving pour ¼ teaspoon lemon extract over each sugar cube. Arrange on top of fruit and nut mixture. Ignite sugar cubes and serve. For alcoholic snapdragons see below.

For alcoholic Snapdragon omit sugar cubes and lemon extract in above recipe. Substitute ¼ cup brandy. Just before serving, heat brandy. Ignite and pour over fruit and nut mixture.

Applesauce Cream Fills Almond Puff Shells

These tiny Almond Apple Puffs can be your special hostess pride. They have great elegance on the plate . . . will prompt delighted comments from guests . . . and even more after the first taste.

It's the taste of almonds . . . almonds are added right to the puff shell batter for a nutty crunchiness. It's the joyous taste of apples . . . the centers are filled with a foam of tangy-canned applesauce and whipped cream, flavored with rum. In serving, make it five or six puffs to a person. With a pour of chocolate sauce or not, as you please. The little puffs are a delight either way.

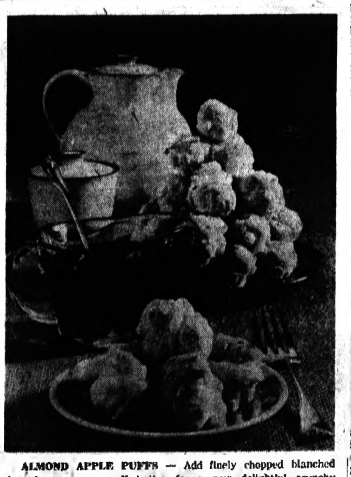

For all their lavish air, these puffs are wonderfully easy to make, although you don't have to broadcast that. The cheery fact is, however, that a cream puff mix takes care of the shells. Also, the filling while luscious, is simple. So much so it suggests this other idea: All by itself, that filling can be a quick dessert in its own right, any time.

Almond Apple Puffs

½ package (1 stick) cream puff mix
1-3 cup finely chopped blanched almonds
¼ cup heavy cream
2 cups canned apple sauce, chilled
½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract or rum flavoring
1 tablespoon confectioners sugar
Chocolate sauce-optional

Prepare cream puff mix, according to directions on package. Stir in almonds. Drop slightly rounded teaspoonfuls of dough on ungreased baking sheets. Bake at 425 degrees, 17 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. Remove puffs to wire rack. With the tines of a fork, prick each puff to allow steam to escape. Cool. Makes 50 puffs.

At serving time, whip cream and fold into apple sauce. Fold in vanilla. With the sharp point of a knife, carefully cut tops from puffs. Spoon filling into each. Replace tops. Stack puffs on serving platter, dust with confectioners sugar. Serve 5 to 6 puffs for each serving. Pass a pitcher of chocolate sauce, if desired.

ALMOND APPLE PUFFS — Add finely chopped blanched almonds to cream puff batter for a new delightful crunchy taste. Fill these miniature puffs with a creamy apple sauce mixture. It's gilding the lily, but you may serve luscious chocolate sauce if you wish.

Almond Paste Is Simple to Make

Bitter or sweet? — That's the question — when buying almonds. Both types are delicious prepared right and are usually sold with their uses labeled. But it is nobler to know the difference yourself than to suffer the misfortune of culinary dismay.

Now that the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports the nuts plentiful, you'll want to use almonds to dramatize family meals or guest-gatherings.

Bitter almonds have a fragrant, volatile oil suited for almond paste in candies, macaroons and other bakery goods. Sweet almonds are, of course, sweet and tasty in nut bowls, salads, sauces and casseroles.

Here's a basic recipe for almond paste to begin your almond productions.

Combine 1⅓ cups blanched ground almonds, ⅔ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup water and 4 drops almond extract, if desired. Cook 20 minutes in covered double boiler. Stir while cooling, pack in covered container and store in refrigerator.

For macaroon treats, work 1 cup each of paste and sugar together thoroughly with hands or spatula. Beat 3 egg whites and ½ teaspoon salt until light and mix thoroughly with first mixture. Drop by teaspoons one-half inch apart on a greased baking sheet covered with wax paper. Bake at 325 degrees for 20 to 30 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Almond Shrimp Bake Stars on Buffet Table

When next you entertain, call your guests to a buffet supper starring Almond Shrimp Bake.

This generous casserole of shrimp and rice, tastily seasoned with green pepper, onions and sherry is topped with a golden mixture of buttery corn flake crumbs and slivered almonds to make it as attractive as it is flavorsome. Serve it with parsley-buttered French bread and a salad of Bibb lettuce with garlic dressing.

Almond Shrimp Bake

1 pound frozen shrimp or 1 pound fresh raw shrimp, shelled and deveined
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
⅔ cup uncooked rice
¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
¼ cup finely cut onions
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon mace
Dash cayenne
1¼ cups (10½-oz. can) condensed tomato soup, undiluted
¼ cup water
1 cup heavy cream
¼ cup sherry
½ cup slivered blanched almonds
2 cups Corn Flakes or ½ cup packaged Corn Flake Crumbs
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Cook shrimp in boiling salted water for 5 minutes; drain. Cut shrimp in half lengthwise, place in 2-quart casserole; sprinkle with lemon juice and vegetable oil. Reserve about 8 halves for garnish.

Cook rice according to package directions. Drain. Saute green pepper and onions in heated butter about 5 minutes. Add with rice, seasonings, soup, water, cream, sherry and ¼ cup almonds to shrimp in casserole. Mix lightly. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes.

Meanwhile, if using Corn Flakes, crush into fine crumbs. Combine butter and Corn Flake Crumbs; mix with remaining almonds and reserved shrimp. Remove casserole from oven; top with crumb mixture. Return to oven, bake 15 minutes longer or until mixture is bubbly and crumbs are slightly browned.

Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

SHRIMP ALMOND BAKE — It's an elegant shrimp and rice dish with a creamy tomato sauce. Almonds add a crisp texture to this buffet casserole. Cornflake crumbs dress the top. Good looking and good eating.

Nobody ever gets anything for nothing, but a lot of people keep trying.

Gene Kelly Likes Role for TV--So Does Mom

By BOB THOMAS
A PMovie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Why would a star like Gene Kelly take on a weekly television hour?

The question has puzzled Hollywood since the announcement that Kelly would star next season in the TV version of "Going My Way."

THOMAS

Kelly is a guy who could call his shots as actor, dancer, director, producer and — for those who like melodic tenors—singer in any phase of show biz.

So why does he choose the back-breaking grind of an hour TVer? The answer has to do with his unborn child, a bit of the old ham and his mother. I don't want to mention money.

Kelly was back in his Rodeo Drive home after his months of directing the monumental Jackie Gleason in "Gigot" in Paris. His pregnant wife Jeanie fetched Gene a glass of sherry, he being on a no-booze diet to get in shape for his "Going My Way" rigors.

'IT IN WITH THINKING'

"The proposal for the series came just after I had learned we were going to have a baby in March," he explained. "It seemed to fit in with how I was thinking. "I wanted to do some acting this year—the ham in me has to come out now and then. And with the baby coming, I wanted to settle down in one place for a little while.

★ ★ ★

"The idea of doing Father O'Malley appealed to me, having loved the picture. And my mother likes it. This is the first time she has really approved of anything I've done in the movies."

Money. There — I mentioned it!

"Yeah, I know," Kelly said. "The announcement was made as a $5-million deal. So everybody said, 'Uh-huh, he's going for the buck.' Honestly, I'm not. I'm doing this series because I want to do it, not that I mind money."

TO TAKE 6 MONTHS

Kelly said Revue Productions and ABC agreed to arrange the shooting schedule so it would take only six months of his time. That will take some fancy arranging, since they plan to film 35 of the shows for the first season.

They'll be doing two of them soon, then all will study the product to see what is needed. Right now they are seeking the two other important actors. One will play the older priest—and Barry Fitzgerald is a tough act to follow.

Something new will be added for TV—a former high school buddy of Father O'Malley who is a Protestant minister.

"We thought that having two priests on TV every week might seem like proselyting," Kelly explained.

Ex-Postal Official Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — William W. Howes, 74, first assistant postmaster general during the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, died Monday after a brief illness. Howes, an attorney, was born in Huron, S.D., and served as Democratic national committeeman for South Dakota from 1924 to 1942.

Army to Report Reorganization

Various Corps Being Combined Under Two New Commands

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army will unwrap today a sweeping reorganization of its ordnance, quartermaster and other technical services and a streamlining of its general staff operations.

The plan, which reportedly has President Kennedy's approval, will be made public this evening.

The aim is to promote efficiency by grouping under two new commands the operations now being conducted by separate technical services such as the Transportation, Chemical, Signal, Ordnance and Quartermaster Corps.

The Army general staff also will be relieved of some of its responsibilities in these fields so it can concentrate on over-all planning and policy making. The staff's present training and school operations will be shifted to the Continental Army Command.

The plan is the product of about seven months of work.

It does not affect the combat structure of the Army or any of the field command organizations.

The Army already has set in motion the reshaping of its fighting divisions for greater mobility and striking power.

Some aspects of the plan may run into opposition in Congress, although an apparent effort has been made to avoid this possible difficulty by leaving the Corps of Engineers' civil functions relatively untouched.

Lawmaker Says Bottle Ban Probe in Wrong Hands

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson did the right thing in obtaining a postponement of the ban on nonreturnable beer bottles in Michigan, but for the wrong reason, says Sen. Paul C. Younger, R-Lansing.

★ ★ ★

The State Liquor Control Commission has delayed the ban, scheduled to become effective Jan. 20, for six months so Swainson can appoint an antilitter committee to study the problem.

Younger, chairman of the Senate Liquor Control Committee, said the problem should be studied by some sort of an economic recovery commission, not an antilitter committee.

The senator said he is keenly interested in the litter problem and in preserving the natural beauty of Michigan.

9 Killed in Mine Blast

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (AP)—The American Smelting & Refining Co., said Monday nine miners were killed in an explosion in its mine near here Sunday. A company spokesman said 59 others were trapped for several hours until they were dug out by fellow workers.

Kennedy Plans to Meet Thant

Both Will Lunch With Stevenson Friday and Talk About U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy plans to meet Friday with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant in New York City.

They will have lunch with U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson at Stevenson's hotel suite, the White House announced Monday.

Kennedy reportedly has wanted to meet Thant for some time. No special world problem is believed to have prompted the get-together.

Kennedy told his news conference Monday that "in my opinion the United Nations justifies the effort we put into it substantially."

★ ★ ★

He again supported U.S. purchase of $100 million in U.N. bonds as "a way to spread the burden more equitably."

★ ★ ★

Kennedy said unless the $200-million bond issue to help pay for the U.N. Congo operation is successful "in my judgment the U.N. will go, sail, into very difficult weather in regard to its financing and could be on the verge of bankruptcy."

Portugal Facing Attacks in U.N.

Communist and African Blocs Blast Her Policy in Angola

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Portugal faced bitter attacks from the Communist and African blocs today as foes of her policy in Angola pressed for condemnation and possible punitive measures by the United Nations.

Poland, cosponsor with Bulgaria of a resolution calling on the Security Council to consider harsh penalties against the Lisbon government, was slated to take the floor as the 104-nation General Assembly's Angola debate went into its second day.

★ ★ ★

The former French Congo also was expected to blast Portugal's administration of Angola and to demand freedom for the West African territory.

Informed sources expressed belief the African group would not seek penalties against Portugal but would limit its proposal to a call for condemnation and a demand for Angola's independence.

NEEDS WEST SUPPORT

Any resolution will need Western support to ensure the two-thirds majority required for adoption. The United States reportedly has made clear it does not favor any call for economic sanctions against its NATO ally.

★ ★ ★

Diplomats said U.S. delegates had told them the United States wants to see a moderate resolution which would prod Portugal to grant self-determination for Angola.

★ ★ ★

Portuguese Ambassador Vasco Vieira Garin walked out of the debate with his delegation Monday and said he would take no part in discussions of charges of Portuguese terrorism in Angola.

Kovac's Funeral Quiet, Dignified as He Wished

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Ernie Kovacs' funeral was quiet and dignified in keeping with the comedian's oft-expressed wish.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the star-studded congregation inside the Beverly Hills Community Presbyterian church Monday, an estimated 600 of Kovacs' fans stood respectfully outside.

Admission to the church was by invitation.

Jack Lemmon, Frank Sinatra, Billy Wilder, Dean Martin, Joe Mikalos and Mervyn LeRoy served as pallbearers.

Group of Doctors to Assist 'Political Awareness' Body

A state political action group of doctors has promised assistance to the newly formed Oakland Political Awareness Committee (OPAC), a group of professional men including doctors, dentists, pharmacists and lawyers.

Dr. Larry Drolette of Lansing, secretary of the Michigan Minute Men, said his group had elected a new board of directors and would back up any drive to provide professional advice and opinion on medical care programs.

However, he added his group would not join in the county group's drive to circulate petitions against the Social-Security-deduction-based King-Anderson Bill which would provide additional medical care for those over 65.

"But we certainly will fight the bill," Dr. Drolette said. "It is socialized medicine because the government would control the hospitals and establish the fees."

The county group, in addition to fighting the bill, also will provide speakers for any group wishing to have information on present and planned medical aid for the aged, Dr. Everette Gustafson of Pontiac said today.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Gustafson, who is a member of OCPAC, said the group "intends to provide information and participate in the formulation of health programs for the young families just getting started and for the unemployed."

"It is these groups," he said, "which, I believe, are in much greater need than the aged for whom help is already provided in the Kerr-Mills Law."

Michigan Triumphs Over Iowa Quintet

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan's 56-55 upset of Iowa here last night was what U. of M. football coach Bump Elliott would call a team victory.

But Michigan basketball coach Dave Strack can be pardoned if he considers it something of a personal achievement: His first victory by less than three points since taking over the reins two years ago.

Michigan earned the triumph on a free throw by 6-7 Tom Cole with one second to play. But it was a team effort that enabled the Wolverines to overcome a seven-point deficit (46-39) in the last seven minutes of the game.

Both hero and goat for Iowa was Don Nelson, the 6-6 pivot man. He scored 20 points—including six that enabled the Hawkeyes to resist an early Michigan surge and gain a 32-26 halftime lead—and took scoring honors for the night.

It was also Nelson who hacked Cole on the arm in a wild scramble under the Iowa basket and provided the Wolverines with the chance to snap their seven-game losing streak.

★ ★ ★

Cole and Bob Cantrell split scoring honors for Michigan with 14 each.

The victory was Michigan's first in Big Ten play after losses to Illinois and Ohio State. Over-all, Michigan is now 3-9. Iowa saw its conference mark evened at 2-2 with an over-all record of 8-5.

SPARTANS DUMPED

EAST LANSING (AP) — Slumping Michigan State fell victim last night to a hot shooting Purdue basketball team, 89-74, to slip to its sixth defeat in the last seven games.

The defeat also dropped the Spartans deeper into the Big Ten basement with a 0-4 mark.

Big Ten scoring leader and All-American Terry Dischinger and teammate Mel Garland paced the Boilermakers to their third conference win in four outings with 21 and 20 points, respectively.

Purdue, after holding a 49-40 edge at the half, shot ahead by 25 points in the second half to outdistance the Spartans completely.

The Spartans hit on 31 per cent of their shots.

State's Pete Gent was the game's high scorer with 23 points.

The Spartans now have an over-all record of 5-7. Purdue's season mark is 10-3.

REVERSAL OF FORM

The worm turned for one team in Michigan college basketball play Monday night.

Alma won its first game of the season in defeating Olivet in MIAA competition 69-63.

For another, Ferris Institute, a winning streak continued. Ferris won its ninth straight in beating Aquinas 71-59.

Bill Doolittle, former Flint Central High football coach now at Mansfield, Ohio, High, will join Paul Dietzel's staff at West Point as an assistant coach of the Army team.

Chiefs Behind Saginaw in 'A' by Three Points

Northville in 6th Place in Class B, Imlay 'C' Leader

By the Associated Press

Saginaw, River Rouge, Imlay City and Champion—a quartet of unbeaten powers—were the top ranked teams in Michigan today in the season's first Associated Press high school basketball poll.

River Rouge (8-0), only defending state champion voted into a first position, was the lone leader to run away from the rest of its class in the initial balloting by the AP's statewide panel of sports writers and sportscasters. Fifty-two poll points separated River Rouge and runnerup Mason (7-0) in the Class B voting.

Saginaw (8-0) led a three-day battle for top honors in Class A. It picked up three more points than No. 2 Pontiac Central 7-0) and seven more than third positioned Detroit Northwestern 6-0).

Imlay City (9-0) led Shepherd (8-0) by the scant margin of four points in the tight Class C voting with Perry (9-0) another two points behind the leader.

Champion (9-0) was first ranked in Class D with a 17-point lead over Suttons Bay (8-1).

The basketball polls will be conducted weekly until the start of the annual state tournaments March 6.

The poll results on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for a second, through 1 point for a 10th-place vote:

Credits Luck for Big Year

Cash Says He's Not Top Hitter Yet

BALTIMORE (AP)—Norm Cash of the Detroit Tigers, whose .361 batting average led both major leagues last season, says he has a lot to learn before he can be classified a good hitter.

★ ★ ★

"I'm not a good one yet—that takes time," Cash said during an appearance here Monday night for the "Tops in Sports" banquet.

"I was lucky last year," he said. "I got a lot of hits that just won't fall in next season. Things may not be as easy in 1962."

OVER .300 TWICE

Last season was only the second time in his professional career, dating back to 1955, that Cash has hit .300 and only the third that he has played more than 100 games in a season.

The 27-year-old first baseman batted only 112 times during the 1958 and 1959 seasons with the Chicago White Sox. The Sox dealt him to the Cleveland Indians in December 1959, but he was traded to the Tigers before the start of the 1960 season.

After hitting .286 in his first full major league season, Cash made it big in 1961. He wound up with 193 hits, including 41 homers, and drove in 132 runs.

"I've always had a basically good swing and fair ability," he said. "All I needed was a chance to play."

PIERSALL STAR

On the speaker's platform, Jim Piersall of the Washington Senators delighted a crowd of more than 1,000 with his wit.

★ ★ ★

"The home run king (Roger Maris) is here," Piersall said. "So is the best pitcher (Whitey Ford) and the batting champ (Cash).

★ ★ ★

"I've been sitting here trying to figure what I'm king of. I'm probably the King of the diaper changers," added the Washington outfielder, who is the father of eight children.

Actually, Piersall was honored by the sponsoring Maryland Professional Baseball Players Association as the "most colorful" player in the majors.

HAS TO FINISH

Ford said he had more trouble in the wintertime, because, "When I get up to talk, I have to finish. (Luis) Arroyo is in Puerto Rico."

He referred to the relief pitching Arroyo supplied last season to help the Yankee ace win 25 games, tops in both leagues.

★ ★ ★

Maris, who received the $2,000 "Sultan of Swat" crown for the second straight year, said: "I enjoy Baltimore much more in wintertime than I do in the summer." Maris hit only three of his record 61 homers off Oriole pitching.

Three Maple Leafs on All-Star Team

MONTREAL (AP) — Three members of the Toronto Maple Leafs and player-coach Doug Harvey of the New York Rangers were among those named to the National Hockey League's All-Star team for the first half of the 1961-62 season today.

★ ★ ★

Harvey, 37-year-old defenseman obtained from Montreal last May, received the most points in the balloting by hockey writers and broadcasters in each of the six NHL cities. Harvey collected 85 of a possible 90 points.

Young Carl Brewer of Toronto was named to the second defense post. Center Red Kelly and left winger Frank Mahovlich were the other Maple Leafs chosen while goalie Jacques Plante of the Canadiens and Andy Bathgate of the Rangers, a right winger, rounded out the team.

The voting was based on games through Dec. 29. Another ballot will be taken at the end of the season and players with the most total points will each receive $1,000 from the league.

The closest vote was for the center position. Kelly received 30 points to 28 for Richard. The competition for the second defense spot also was tight. Brewer had 39 points, Evans 36, Talbot 29, Allan Stanley of Toronto 26 and Doug Mohns of Boston 20.

Plante, making an outstanding comeback after being sent to the minors last season, picked up 73 points while Bower had 49. Mahovlich garnered 77 points and Prentice only 30.

Although Howe, a seven-time all star had only 53 points to Bathgate's 69, the Detroit star has an excellent chance of making the final all-stars. Bathgate was shifted to the center position three weeks ago and, unless he moves back to right wing, his votes for the second half of the campaign will count only for center.

★ ★ ★

NHL Point Ace Increases Lead

MONTREAL (AP)—Andy Bathgate, the New York Rangers' center, apparently is going to be a tough man to catch in this season's National Hockey League individual scoring race.

★ ★ ★

Official league statistics released today show Bathgate collected only three assists last week, but still managed to increase his lead by two points. Runner-up Gordie Howe of Detroit was held to one assist.

The three assists brought Bathgate's league-leading total to 40 and, combined with 17 goals, gave him 57 points.

GORDIE SECOND

Howe has 46 points on 19 goals and 27 assists.

Jacques Plante of the Canadiens allowed six goals in three games and improved his lead over Toronto's Johnny Bower in the race for the Vezina Tophy—awarded to the goalie who plays the most games for the least scored-upon team.

★ ★ ★

Plante has been touched for 99 goals in 42 games, a 2.36 goals-against average. Bower gave up 14 goals in four outings last week and his goals-against average soared to 2.56.

Chicago's Glenn Hall leads in shutouts with five.

★ ★ ★

The scoring leaders:

	G	A	Pts.
1. Bathgate, New York	17	40	57
2. Howe, Detroit	19	27	46
3. Provost, Montreal	24	20	44
4. (Tie) Mahovlich, Toronto	20	23	43
Mikita, Chicago	13	30	43
6. (Tie) Hull, Chicago	18	20	38
McKenney, Boston	17	21	38
Bucyk, Boston	10	28	38
9. (Tie) Delvecchio, Detroit	14	23	37

Three Minor Leaguers Brought Up by Bruins

BOSTON (AP) — The once-mighty Boston Bruins, wallowing in the National Hockey League cellar, have recalled goalie Bruce Gamble and two forwards from the minors.

★ ★ ★

The expected shakeup came Monday night, delayed by the necessity of getting waivers on Bob Beckett and Terry Gray, who are being shipped out.

Left wing Larry Leach was called up from the Providence American Hockey League farm club in exchange for Beckett while former U.S. Olympic Team star Tommy Williams has been summoned from Kingston, Ont., for Gray.

Gamble, who had a 3.75 goals against record tending the Boston nets most of last season, is being given another shot at the big time. He has a 2.21 goals-per-game yield for first place Portland in the Western League.

UNDER PRESSURE

Under heavy pressure for some time, rookie Don Head of Canadian Olympic fame is being returned to Portland in a reversal of the September club deal. Gamble reported to the Niagara Falls, Ont., training camp 15 pounds overweight and was sent packing.

Boston has surrendered the staggering total of 183 goals in 43 games while limping along 15 points behind fifth place Detroit.

All the players are due to report in time for Thursday night's game here against the Detroit Red Wings.

Because the poor showing is due to lack of experience among defensemen and in goal, the Bruins have fingered Leach, a hard-hitting fore-checker.

The brewing Bruin tempest stems from the fact that from 1926 through 1959 the team missed the Stanley Cup playoffs only three times and captured three titles. Now they've been out of the cup competition for two straight years — including an unprecedented last place finish in 1960-61.

"Williams has excellent speed, we'd like to use it," says coach Phil Watson. "Leach will take a regular turn. I'm not sure now about my lines."

New Track Group Faces Battle

AAU to Hold Power

NEW YORK (AP) — What are the chances of the newly formed National Collegiate Track Coaches Association wresting power from the Amateur Athletic Union?

★ ★ ★

Mighty slim, one authoritative source who asked that his name not be used, told The Associated Press today.

"Look at it this way," he said. "The coaches can do all the howling they want. They can form all the new federations they want and even conduct meets.

"But who is going to recognize them? If they want to send their athletes into international competition and that includes the Olympics, they must gain recognition from the International Amateur Athletic Federation. This outfit certifies the governing bodies in all sports.

FERRIS ON IAAF

"The AAU is recognized by the IAAF now and always has been. So the coaches' association sends a delegate to the IAAF convention and asks to be recognized. Do you know who one of the executive committee members of the IAAF—and one of the most powerful men in the organization is? Dan Ferris of the AAU.

"Does anyone think the IAAF would vote against Ferris? Not in a million years."

Ferris, himself, has something to add.

★ ★ ★

"It should be noted," he observed, "that this new organization will have no standing anywhere. Athletes should take note that they automatically disqualify themselves from all international competition if they take part in any meet sponsored by an outlaw outfit."

The coaches' association, with the backing of the NCAA, threatened last week to hold a national championship in competition with the AAU championship in June.

East-West Pro Quintets Meet Tonight at St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The East will counter the West's awesome scoring power in tonight's National Basketball Association All-Star game with the game's two best rebounders, experience and another potent element—pride.

★ ★ ★

Dolph Schayes, Syracuse veteran selected for all 12 NBA All-Star games, put it this way:

"There is a lot of pride involved in this game on both sides. But the East particularly wants to even matters for that 151-133 defeat last year at Syracuse.

"As the years go by it becomes a little harder to stay at your peak," said Schayes, playing in his 14th pro season. "But this is one game you have no trouble getting fired up for."

BAYLOR TOPS

The West's starters, led by Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles with a 38.3 scoring average and St. Louis veteran Bob Pettit (31.2), have a combined scoring average this season of 158.7 points a game. The East starters total 133.3.

The East, coached for the sixth straight year by Boston's Red Auerbach, have 7-1 Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia (49.3), basketball's top all-time scorer, plus Bob Cousy (15.1), the ball handling wizard who triggers the fast break of Boston's perennial champions.

★ ★ ★

Chamberlain, in the voting, edged Boston's Bill Russell, a great defensive player and 19-point scorer. Russell and Chamberlain are the game's two best rebounders and Auerbach is certain to play them together much of the time.

In addition to Chamberlain and Cousy East starters are Schayes (17.3), Tom Heinsohn, Boston, (22.8) and Richie Guerin, New York, (28.8).

OTHER STARTERS

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson (30.7), rookie Walt Bellamy of Chicago, (29.7), and Jerry West of the Lakers (28.8), are the other West starters.

★ ★ ★

West Coach Fred Schaus said: "I'm really excited at the idea of having Robertson and West working the backline together. Our front line certainly can handle itself under the boards."

★ ★ ★

The NBA board of governors reversed itself Monday night and voted to permit one serviceman from each club to play while on pass. Baylor will be playing on an Army pass.

The board also awarded the 1963 All-Star game to Los Angeles.

A near-capacity crowd of nearly 13,000 is expected for tonight's game at the St. Louis Arena.

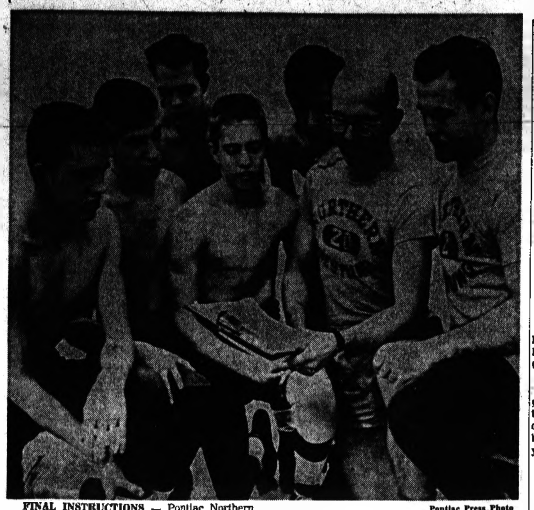

Coaches must start the first five in the voting, but work under no restrictions afterwards.

Boros May Be Shifted to Shortstop if Wert Makes It at Third

DETROIT (AP) — Rick Ferrell is having an easier time this year bringing his hard-bargaining Detroit Tigers into line.

The Tiger vice president received yesterday the signed contracts of shortstop Chico Fernandez and outfielder George Alusik, both knotty holdout problems a year ago.

Fernandez, with difficulties in returning to the United States from his native Havana, reported to the 1961 Lakeland, Fla., training camp several days after it opened. Alusik held out for the first weeks of the season before coming to terms. He was sent to Denver.

This winter Fernandez didn't go home to Cuba because of speculation that Fidel Castro wouldn't let Cuban baseball players leave their homeland for the 1962 season. Like many other Cuban players, Fernandez wintered in the United States, taking up residence in Miami.

BATTLE FOR POST

Or perhaps, he realizes he'll have a hard fight with Dick McAuliffe for the Tigers' shortstop post. McAuliffe is due out of the air force just before the opening of the season. Making McAuliffe into a top major league shortstop is one of manager Bob Scheffing's pet projects.

Fernandez batted .248 in 133 games last season. McAuliffe, who shared the job with Fernandez after his recall from Denver in mid-summer, hit .256 in 80 games.

Steve Boros, last year's regular at third base, also is a shortstop possibility, Scheffing said while in Detroit last week. Boros played short at Michigan — and faces a stiff fight at third base from rookie Don Wert. Wert led the American Association last year with a .328 average at Denver.

Alusik was recalled from Denver late last season and hit .343 in 15 games with Detroit.

If this is a building year for Adolph Rupp at Kentucky, what kind of a basketball powerhouse will the Baron have with his finished product?

At last counting, his po' little Wildcats from the Bluegrass were ranked second in the nation behind Ohio State, had won 13 of 14 games and 12 in a row, and were leading the Southeastern Conference with a 4-0 record.

All of this was not supposed to happen. Over a span of three decades Rupp's Kentucky teams have dominated their conference, but the Wildcats have been shut out of the title the last three years —by Mississippi State, Auburn and Mississippi State again. And there appeared to be a couple of teams capable of outfinishing the Wildcats this season.

LONE STARTER

Larry Pursiful was the only starter returning from last year, and Rupp had only three other lettermen on hand—seniors Carroll Burchett, Allen Feldhause and Jim McDonald. Mostly, Rupp was expected to rely heavily on sophomore talent, notably a crew-cut blond from Lake Charles, La., named Cotton Nash. This 6-5 teenager was tabbed as a "can't miss' prospect—and he's been a revelation, combining with Pursiful and Burchett to give the Wildcats a dazzling punch.

Nash and the two seniors ripped Tennessee for 81 points Monday night as Kentucky beat the Vols 95-82, at Knoxville. The Kentuckians blazed ahead by 12 points and had Tennessee in the run in the first five minutes. Nash and Pursiful had 20 points each, while Burchett added 21. Tommy Wilson of the Vols was high in the game with 34, a Tennessee Fieldhouse record.

Spindly W. C. Stroud dunked in a last-second layup that enabled Mississippi State to nip Georgia Tech 57-56 and avert a second straight upset. In the furious windup at Atlanta, State drew to within one on two free throws by Jack Berkshire with 1:16 to go. Then in the next 15 seconds Tech's Frank Landrey missed twice from the foul line. A scramble after the last miss resulted in a jump ball with 14 seconds remaining. The Bulldogs got possession and Stroud —6-1 and 155 pounds—got the clutch basket. Mississippi State, Frank Landrey missed twice from the foul line. A scramble after the last miss resulted in a jump ball with 14 seconds remaining. The Bulldogs got possession and Stroud —6-1 and 155 pounds—got the clutch basket. Mississippi State, 11-1 and ranked 10th nationally, was knocked off by Vanderbilt 100-86 last Saturday night.

Fifth-ranked Duquesne led virtually all the way in walloping Toledo 80-57 with Willie Somerset hitting 12-for-12 from the foul line and totaling 26 points. West Virginia posted its ninth straight Southern Conference victory, turning back repeated threats from determined Richmond and winning 82-73.

LEADS BIG 8

Colorado remained the pacesetter in the Big Eight by edging Iowa State 58-55 in a thriller. The Buffaloes fell behind 9-0 at the start and didn't take the lead until the closing eight minutes. In the Big Ten, Michigan upended Iowa 56-55 on Tom Cole's final second foul shot, and Purdue swept past Michigan State 89-74.

Mid-Term Exams Slow Rated Basketball Teams

By The Associated Press

Mid-term examinations rather than opposing basketball teams are the chief concerns of Ohio State's Buckeyes today as they once more carry the tag as the nation's top college team after the latest Associated Press poll.

The Buckeyes the only major unbeaten team, play Minnesota on Saturday night and spend the rest of the week with those ever-fearsome books.

★ ★ ★

However, two teams in the top ten are in action tonight. Cincinnati ranked third, takes on tough Dayton and Bowling Green, No. 8, meets Kent State.

Kentucky, which jumped into the No. 2 spot in the opinion of the country-wide board of experts, won't play again until Jan. 29.

★

Kansas State is the fourth ranked team, while Duquesne ranks fifth, Southern California ranks sixth, Duke seventh, Bradley ninth and Mississippi State tenth.

LITTLE ACTION

Because of the mid-term exams, the top ten teams have little activity this week, Southern Cal and Duke are idle until Feb. 2 and Jan. 27, respectively.

The only matching of the top teams occurs on Thursday when Cincinnati and Duquesne play in Pittsburgh.

In other games, Kansas State takes on Missouri on Thursday; Bowling Green plays Marshall Saturday; Bradley goes after Drake on Thursday and Wichita Saturday, and Mississippi State is scheduled against Mississippi on Saturday.

There was considerable shakeup in the rankings after last week's play, with Ohio State holding firm and Bradley edging into the top 10.

Kentucky and Cincinnati changed places and Kansas State moved up a notch. Duquesne shot up from No. 8 position and Duke from No. 10. Bowling Green advanced one notch while Mississippi State dropped from No. 7 and Southern Cal from fourth.

Los Angeles Leaves NBL; 6 'Solid' Teams Remain

By The Associated Press

The National Bowling League, cut to six teams, opens its revised schedule Tuesday night with Dallas at Fresno, New York at Detroit and Minneapolis-St. Paul at Fort Worth.

★ ★ ★

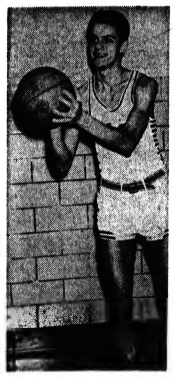

Los Angeles dropped out of the league Monday when club president Leonard Homel said patronage at the box office wasn't sufficient to pay expenses.

It was the fourth club to drop out of the league in the past three weeks but commissioner Dick Charles said he anticipated no further withdrawals. He declared the six remaining teams were "solid franchises" that are prepared to finish the season that runs three more months.

QUIT LEAGUE

San Antonio and Omaha left the league because the circuit was forced to withdraw its subsidy. San Antonio started as a road team and Omaha ran into difficulties and the league had to take it over. Kansas City quit of its own accord as did Los Angeles.

As the league moves out under its revised schedule and with only six teams competing, Detroit sets the pace. The Thunderbirds won three of their last five matches the past week to increase their lead to two games over Minneapolis-St. Paul, which won only two out of five. Minneapolis-St.

LEAD EAGLETS — Alvin Miller will lead Orchard Lake St. Mary to Madison Junior High tonight for a local clash with St. Michael. He has paced the Eaglets in scoring with a 12.8 game average.

Huskie Matmen Favored Tonight

Host Improved Chiefs in Return Match; Skippers Away

A wrestling match may steal the show from area basketball tonight when Pontiac Northern entertains Pontiac Central tonight at 7:30.

Northern will be slight favorite to repeat a December triumph over its crosstown rival. The Huskies won at PCH 26-24 by posting an edge on pins of 4-3 with Gary Cobb, Ken Kimmel, Chuck Mick and Mike Mircum winning the falls. Pat Cameron, Wayne Lee and Tom Elchhorn turned the trick in defeat.

The Huskies may be stronger physically for this one. They had injuries and illness going into the previous meeting.

PNH had beaten Southfield and Berkley while losing to unbeaten Hazel Park since nipping the Chiefs.

It will be the 1st mat action for improved Central in 12 days. They took Waterford and Port Huron the 1st week of 1962.

Waterford goes to Berkley in tonight's only other scheduled prep contest.

Champ Steers Start Second Half Right

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Steers, winners of the American Basketball League's first half playoffs, have picked up where they left off in opening their second part of the season with a victory.

The Steers whipped the New York Tapers 122-96 in the first game of a doubleheader at Pittsburgh Monday night and the Cleveland Pipers edged the Pittsburgh Rens 110-108 in the afterpiece despite a record 54 points by the losers' Connie Hawkins. In another game at San Francisco, the Saints trimmed the Hawaii Chiefs 110-95 with pro football star R. C. Owens making his debut with the winners.

Seaman, Capitol Share Table Net Leadership

Seaman Manufacturing and Capitol Barber are deadlocked for 1st place in the hotly-contested Pontiac Table Tennis League race. Each team has a 51-15 record.

In last weekend's feature match, Ralph Abe and Dick Kirby downed Howard Heckman and Carl Knaack in doubles, 19-21, 24-22, 21-16.

SAN FRANCISCO — Kirk Barrow, 181, San Francisco, outpointed Leroy Green, 173, Phoenix, Ariz., 10.

Champ Fives Win Handily

A 10-point difference was the closest outcome on a four-game city basketball schedule last night. CIO 596 took Buckner Finance 80-70 in that one and Newingham whipped the Southwest Trojans in the other half of a twin-bill, 65-50.

Tuck's Trotters and the Jo Jo's romped in Class D contests.

CIO came from behind with a 32-point 3rd quarter led by Jim Gardner and Charlie Graves.

Gardner totaled 21 points, Graves 20, including 10 free throws, and Fred Davis 16. Jerry Hill's 19 and 15 for Jerry Paul topped Buckner.

Newingham went ahead to stay in the 2nd period and pulled away in the final paced by Jim McDonald with 28. Sam Cole was the only steady shooter for the losers. He hit 18.

The Tuck five opened up a 21-7 early lead and went on to wallop West Kiwanis, 76-41. Larry Black burn was the big gun with 28 points, Tom Watson swished 13 for the Kiwanians.

★ ★ ★

The Jo Jo's took New Hope 70-58 featuring a 25-point night for Willie Peck. The winners kept moving steadily ahead. Steve Hardiman tallied 19 and Charlie Rollins 18 in defeat.

Big Class A Cage Contest at Waterford

With the season not yet half completed, a championship may hinge on the outcome of Wednesday's Class A battle between first-place Spencer Floors and runner-up Lakeland Pharmacy in the Waterford Township Recreation Department men's basketball league.

Spencer, with a 5-0 record, edged defending champ Lakeland, 48-45, in December in their only meeting thus far. After Wednesday's game, set for 9:15 p. m. at Pierce Junior High, the two rivals meet one more time.

Trading Relatively Quiet

Market Drop Is Fairly Sharp

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took a fairly sharp dip in relatively quiet trading early this afternoon.

Losses of most key stocks ranged from fractions to about a point. A scattering of leading issues took wider losses.

The slowness of trading and the general utilities prompted some brokers to call it "a sloppy market." It showed little signs of ambition except for an isolated issue here and there.

President Kenedy's recommendation that steel labor and management hasten to an agreement on a new pact to replace those expiring June 30 brought no buyers to steels. The president's hope is that heavy stockpiling in anticipation of a strike, then a sharp slackoff in the second half, could be avoided.

Motors, utilities, oils chemicals and nonferrous metals were mostly lower.

U. S. Steel slumped more than a point and reached a new low for 1961-'62. Jones & Laughlin took a similar loss. Bethlehem dropped a fraction while Republic and Armco were about unchanged.

Ford was down more than 2 points in what brokers described as a continuation of long-term profit taking, especially by those who bought the stock at 80½ in last year's secondary offering by the Ford Foundation. The stock was trading about 11 points below its high of 117½.

General Motors was down nearly a point while Chrysler and American Motors lost fractions.

★ ★ ★

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in moderate trading. Occidental Petroleum and Chesebrough - Pond's rose about a point. Other gainers included Trans - Lux, Electronic Specialty, Jupiter Oils and Associated Oil & Gas. Acme Missiles "A" fell more than a point. Among the losers were Stanrock Uranium, McCulloch Oil, Siboney-Caribbean Petroleum, Livingston Oil and Signal Oil "A."

Bonds Irregular at Start

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices opened in an irregular pattern today.

★ ★ ★

Over-the-counter dealers quoted some long U.S. government issues down 2/32. Most intermediates were unchanged in quiet dealings.

Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange were unevenly higher although the rail section appeared to dip. Industrials and utilities advanced.

Among the few changes amounting to a full point or more were National Steel 3⅛s, up 1 at 85½.

Fractional gainers included: Detroit Edison 3s at 89¾, Southern Bell 3s at 82, Lockheed 4½s at 93 and Southern Pacific Oregon Railroad 4½s at 97½.

Tax Assistance Now Available

Office Open in Federal Building on Huron St.; Phone Calls Taken

Assistance on the filing of federal income tax forms is available to taxpayers each Monday at the Federal Building, Perry and Huron streets.

Telephone information may be obtained from the Internal Revenue office any day of the week.

★ ★ ★

This information service to taxpayers will be available up until the tax deadline, April 16, according to C. E. Coddington, group supervisor of the Office Audit Branch. Since the normal April 15 tax deadline falls on a Sunday this year, the final day for tax payment is April 16.

★ ★ ★

Four employes of the Internal Revenue Audit Division are on hand each Monday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. to answer tax questions. Telephone inquiries are accepted each day during regular working hours, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and tax forms may be picked up at the office during these hours.

"Up to now we haven't been too rushed on Monday," Coddington stated, "but we have been handling a great deal of phone inquiries." The phone number of the Internal Revenue office is FE 8-7101.

Coddington pointed out that the 1040A form, which can be used by anyone with an annual income under $10,000, has been greatly simplified and in many cases, can be completed in a matter of minutes.

★ ★ ★

The group supervisor recommended the Treasury Department publications for individual and small business taxpayers. These guide manuals are written in the layman's language, Coddington said, and are very comprehensive. The guide books are available at the Internal Revenue office and may be purchased for 40 cents.

★ ★ ★

Taxpayers who intend to visit the Internal Revenue office on Mondays to receive assistance with their returns should use the Mill Street entrance to the building.

Grain Futures Change Only Minor Fractions

CHICAGO (AP) — Influences were scarce in the grain futures market again today and prices shifted only minor fractions generally from previous closes in early dealings on the board of trade.

Rye moved up major fractions on most deliveries on support described as short covering, but elsewhere liquidation or hedge selling continued to be in control.

New crop soybeans met resistance after three successive advances.

Orion Twp. Girl, Struck by Car; in Fair Condition

An 18-year-old Orion Township girl was seriously injured last night when struck by a car while she was walking on Miller Road less than a mile from her home.

In fair condition with a fractured pelvis at Pontiac General Hospital is Betty J. Hoppe of 74 Snyder Road.

She was struck by a car driven by Mrs. June E. Rupert, 32, of 24 Conklin Drive, Orion Township, shortly before 7 p.m. Mrs. Rupert told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies she didn't see the girl walking along the road before the accident.

★ ★ ★

Deputies said it was snowing at the time the mishap occurred.

Regional U.S. Business Affects Utility Stocks

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Utility earnings and stock prices are mirroring today the changing regional patterns of the U.S. economy as well as the ups and downs of the business cycle.

Usually utility profits go on advancing at about the same rate year after year. That is because they are government regulated companies with their charges held fairly closely in line with their revenues and earnings.

★ ★ ★

But this time there's a change. Figures for the 12 months ending Nov. 30, the latest available, show a smaller over-all profit gain than usual. And earnings of a much larger number of companies than usual fell below the previous 12 months.

★ ★ ★

The pattern tends to be regional and spotty. Those falling behind are mostly either in the industrial areas where much of their revenues depend on the activities of factories and mills or in the older population centers where growth has slowed or, in some cases, where population has dropped.

LESS POWER SOLD

Only in the last few months of the 12-month period was activity rising in factories and mills. In most of the period covered the utilities sold less power to industry.

The utilities still showing the usual pep in revenue and profit growth are mostly in the new-growth areas, where both population and industry has been expanding, even during the recession.

Stock prices have reflected these changing fortunes of the individual companies. But the spurt in prices last year and the subsequent reaction also have been due to other things.

The utility stocks looked good for steady income, for steady if modest growth, and for a hedge against the gyrations of some of the glamor stocks. Prices got pushed pretty high. Then when earnings didn't rise, too, some traders decided the reduced yield from utility stocks didn't make them as big a bargain as they once thought.

COURSE CHARTED

The course of utility stock prices can be charted by the 15 utility stock price average index of The Associated Press, which includes 14 in the electrical energy field and giant American Telephone & Telegraph in communications.

The index started 1961 at its low point of 111.8. The high was reached Dec. 12 at 148.9. Then the reaction set in and the index closed the year at 143.1 At close of trading Jan 12 it stood at 138.7. This keeps it well above year ago prices, if notably down in the last four weeks.

★ ★ ★

The total 12 month after-tax earnings of 89 power utilities is $1,245,935,000, a gain of 3 per cent over the $1,211,358,000 the same companies earned in the previous 12 months. The annual gain in profits has ranged between 5 and 7 per cent in the last 10 years. And in the latest year 25 of the 89 firms showed earnings falling behind the previous 12 months. Usually only a fraction of that number do.

AT&T net income was higher than the 89 power companies combined. Adding it into the utility total, since it is included in the AP utility stock index, you have a total of $2,517,021,000 in the latest 12 months, a gain of 4 per cent over the previous period.

The slowdown in utility earnings as a whole may well be only temporary. Receipts and profits were rising at the end of the period for all except those in areas where population and industrial growth had stopped. As the industrial recovery continues, utility earnings in general are expected to rise.

And many expect 1962 reports to look much better for the industry as a whole than will 1961 when the final figures are in.

Jackson State Times Ends Printing Today

JACKSON, Miss., (AP) — The Jackson State Times, an afternoon newspaper, annouced today it would end publication with today's editions.

R. E. Dumas Milner, president of the State Times Publishing Corp., said at a news conference he had made the decision because of a continued decrease in advertising.

He said equipment of the paper, which began publication Feb. 28, 1955, would be sold to the Mississippi Publishers Corp., which publishes the rival Jackson Daily News and Morning Clarion-Ledger.

Plan to Separate Aid for Colleges From the Grades

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders announced after a meeting with President Kennedy today that they will press legislation for federal aid for colleges as a separate measure from proposed federal funds for public schools.

★ ★ ★

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said chances for approval of school legislation appeared better by splitting the two and taking up the college measure first.

★ ★ ★

The speaker and other Democratic congressional leaders met with Kennedy at the first of this cogressional session's weekly breakfasts at the White House.

"The important thing is to separate the higher education bill," McCormack told reporters.

January Car Output Much Better Than '61

DETROIT (AP) — Two weeks of work has shown that January will be a far better production month for the auto industry this year than last, but it won't come up to the rosy predictions made only weeks ago.

Production so far would indicate total output of 635,000 cars but mounting inventories may well trim this figure. Original schedules called for 678,000. A year ago the five manufacturers turned out only 414,498 cars.

Dealer stocks of new cars on Jan. 1 were estimated at 821,000, comfortably under last year's 998,000 but still more than had been anticipated by some 100,000.

Folks Aware '62 Is Here (on Checks)

The general public has made a quick adjustment to the fact that the year 1962 has arrived, as evidenced by the results of a survey of local banks and utility companies handling large numbers of personal checks.

People don't seem to be as lax about using the prior year's date on their checks this January as in some past years, Milo Cross, president of the Pontiac State Bank observed.

The Community National Bank accounting department also reported that the number of misdated checks handled so far this month has been negligible.

Charles Brown, local manager of Consumers Power Company, and Charles Brouillet, public relations representative of Michigan Bell, both substantiated the findings of the two banks, that 1961 dates on checks have been few and far between.

Though, none of the banks or utility companies keeps a record of misdated checks, the consensus of information provided by them would indicate that less than one half of one per cent of the checks handled are misdated.

In the event a check is dated wrong, it is processed in the usual manner without any required correction by the signer.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Analyst Arthur Wiesenberger thinks changes in market leadership have been proceeding rapidly.

Issues that moved up so easily in 1961 were offered in volume on the recent decline, he notes, while the heavier more cyclical capital goods issues—rails, coppers, steels, machinery and the like—met with better demand.

"These trends, we think, will continue." The firm regards the recent decline as temporary in time and scope and continues to suggest a positive policy of equity investment.

★ ★ ★

After consulting its charts, John H. Lewis & Co. concludes that the outlook at this time is for the Dow-Jones industrial average to decline over the next 6 to 9 months, subject to the usual rallies.

★ ★ ★

Alexander Hamilton Institute believes the market is at a mature stage and says it is only good insurance for prudent investors to consider saving capital rather than risking it.

★ ★ ★

Thomson & McKinnon says the market outlook still seems to favor the more cyclical areas and it would place the steels in the forefront of such groups.

★ ★ ★

Richard T. Leahy of J. W. Sparks & Co. says that on the basis of what has happened so far this year, "it is our reasoning that another sell-off may be in the making." He thinks last Thursday's rebound left much to be desired in several ways.

★ ★ ★

Standard & Poor's outlook says the probabilities are that the stock market is not far from a stabilization area and says its policy no longer calls for profit-taking, except in the case of obviously overpriced issues. Instead it would be alert to buying opportunities that might develop in the period ahead.

News in Brief

A television set and two pair of women's shoes were stolen by thieves who broke into the Jones Motor Co. at 234 Elm St. during the previous night, it was reported to Pontiac police yesterday.

Burglars who entered his residence between 8 and 11:30 p.m. yesterday took a carton of cigarettes and a pistol valued at $20, Joseph E. Lambert of 1047 Cloverlawn St. told police today.

Business Notes

T. Boice Purdy, 205 Linden Road, marketing staff supervisor, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., has been installed as secretary of the Detroit Chapter, American Statistical Association for 1962.

Other officers are G. Doyle Dodge of Royal Oak, sales analyst, McLouth Steel Corp., president; Dr. T. Donald Rucker of Dearborn, director, Department of Economics and Research, Greater Detroit Board of Commerce vice president; and Gordon Horsburgh of Detroit, business research staff, General Motors Corp., treasurer.

Masked Bandit Holds Up Store on Auburn Road

The owner of a Pontiac Township grocery store told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he was robbed of $125 by a masked bandit last night.

* * *

William Holdsworth, owner of Holdsworth's Market at 2653 Auburn Road, said the thief, wearing a woman's kerchief over his face, held his hand in his pocket as if carrying a gun, and ordered him behind the counter. Then he took the money from the cash register.

* * *

Warning Holdsworth he would be a "dead man" if he followed, the bandit fled through the front door. Deputies followed his tracks to Auburn Road and Rosetta Court where they believe he made his escape in a car.

DAY AFTER DAY — Donald Bacon (inset) has learned to take everything with a grain of salt. Bacon, of 5320 Linsue Lane, Waterford Township, is an employe of the Oakland County Road Commission. He drives a salt truck like the one being loaded in this picture. For Bacon and many other drivers it's the same salty story every day, as road crews wage a war against ice and snow on county roads.

Waterford Twp. Board Hashes Out Staff Raises

The concluding item on last night's Waterford Township Board agenda brought heated arguments among members, concerning pay raises for township employes.

Police Chief Millard J. Pender requested $200 annual pay hikes for four of his patrolmen who had completed a probationary period. The increase would be from $5,100 to $5,300.

Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson pointed out that requests for salary increase from her staff and the clerk's department had been turned down when the budget was set up in October, and that this was not the time for other department raises.

However, Supervisor Elmer Johnson said salaries had been increased in the fire department for those completing probationary periods, to the maximum of $5,500 and that the same policy should be applied to the police department.

The board called a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. Jan. 31 to work out some definite policy for both departments and other office employes.

The beginning of the meeting saw 35 residents from Sylvan Shores Drive present at a hearing for blacktopping their road. This project has been a bone of contention for months, and after being set in September, had been revised twice.

The revised cost would have been $18,250, less the township's cost of 10 per cent, with property owners paying $4.42 per front foot. Most of those present objected to curbing and ditching that was included in the blacktop project, contending more drains were needed to carry off water running down hill.

* * *

After two hours, the township board denied the petition for blacktop. However, some of the residents asked township engineers Johnson & Anderson to "save their construction drawings" for future use.

A request from George F. Almas, 2345 Cheltingham St., Sylvan Shores, to rezone his property from residential to commercial was granted. His client, Joseph Mihalak of 150 S. Berkshire, was present, telling the board of his plans to build a $50,000 retail floor covering store.

A request from Ted's, Inc., Restaurant to have the last remaining Class C liquor license was tabled for study, and a request from Dobski's Tavern at Cooley Lake and Williams Lake roads was considered. Ted's restaurant would be located in the new Pontiac Mall.

Sukarno Admits Loss of Boat

Scoffs at Charge of Invasion; Says Dutch Launched Attack

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno's government admitted today it lost a torpedo boat in a clash with Dutch forces off West New Guinea. But it scoffed at Dutch invasion charges and claimed the Dutch deliberately launched the attack in international waters.

* * *

Maj. Gen. Achmad Jani, head of Indonesia's recently created New Guinea operational staff, gave no indication of Indonesian casualties other than to say that only one vessel was lost.

In Hollandia, capital of Dutch New Guinea, the Dutch navy said Dutch naval and air units sank one Indonesian torpedo boat Monday night and probably a second, drove off others, and took 50 Indonesians prisoner.

A communique said rubber landing craft were recovered, indicating an invasion attempt, and that the clash occurred in New Guinea's territorial waters.

* * *

Dutch sources said the boat known to have been sunk carried 70 to 90 men—far more than a normal crew—and that presumably 20 to 40 men were not rescued.

'CLEAR AGGRESSION'

The Dutch charged that the incident was "clear evidence of Indonesian military aggression to get a stronghold on New Guinea territory and to plant the red and white (Indonesian) flag."

Indonesian officials claimed their boat was sunk 25 miles off the New Guinea coast. They said Indonesia would accuse the Dutch of provocation in a complaint to U.N. acting Secretary-General U Thant.

At the Hague, Dutch Prime Minister Jan de Quay said after an emergency Cabinet meeting his government also would express to the United Nations "our concern about the Indonesian attack."

He said the Dutch would assure the United Nations "that we remain willing to start negotiations at once" with Indonesia on the future of West New Guinea, which Indonesian President Sukarno has threatened to take by invasion if the Dutch do not give it up. Thant, in similar cables to Sukarno and De Quay, expressed deep concern over the clash and again urged both countries to seek a peaceful settlement.

Troops Positioned at Dominican Palace

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Dominican Air Force troops and armored vehicles took positions today inside the grounds of the national palace.

Reporters were told that, under new orders, visiting civilians must be accompanied by armed guards.

There was no official explanation for these precautions.

However, President Joaquin Balaguer and his military chief are targets now of new opposition efforts to unseat them.

Business within the palace appeared to be proceeding normally.

To Hear Report on Job of Absent Vote Counters

Heading a short City Commission meeting agenda tonight will be a report from City Attorney William A. Ewart on legal aspects of absent voter counting boards.

* * *

Commisioners asked Ewart to check the matter last week when they questioned the number of persons on such boards and their power to rule a ballot invalid.

City Clerk, Olga Barkeley, following a new state law, proposed that a board be set up to count absentee ballots in the city's spring elections at city hall.

Previously, absentee ballots were counted at their respective polling places.

* * *

In other business, commissioners are expected to okay a license and lease agreement with Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital leasing part of Mill Street for routing of heating and oxygen lines from the hospital's plant to the new addition.

Escapee Found Dead in Ditch

Youth, 18, Was From Ohio and Fled Taylor Township Police

DETROIT (AP)—An 18-year-old escapee from a Chillicothe, Ohio, reformatory died today in a water-filled ditch after fleeing from suburban Taylor Township police.

* * *

The victim was identified as Douglas W. Wallace of Medina, Ohio. A 20-year-old Trenton, companion, John Robert Chevalier, was captured by police, but the third, Gary G. Bogges, 17, of Miami, W. Va., escaped.

Officers said Wallace died of exposure. His body was found 250 feet from where the stolen car in which he was riding struck a utility pole.

The body, clad in a brown reformatory uniform, was found in a ditch in a field.

* * *

The driver of the car, John Robert Chevalier, was arrested at the scene.

* * *

The three all were serving time for interstate transportation of stolen automobiles. Police said they escaped from the prison by climbing two walls.

Would Build Mental Hospitals

Eye Revival of State Phone Tax

LANSING (AP) — Revival of a 4 per cent use tax on telephone and telegraph bills and earmarking of the revenue for construction of mental hospitals was proposed today by six House members.

The bipartisan group, headed by Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, also proposed to extend the tax to leased wire services. It would yield between $10.5 and $11 million a year.

* * *

The telegraph and telephone tax was part of a $50-million package of "nuisance" taxes that expired last June 30. Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, has announced he will ask for re-enactment of part of the package, which also includes levies on cigarettes and other tobacco, beer, liquor and corporation franchises, to finance a construction program at state colleges and universities.

"I do not have a bonding program in mind," said O'Brien. "I think that the revenue from the telephone tax would give us the very minimum we need to build adequate facilities for the mentally ill and the mentally retarded.

"I am usually opposed to earmarking tax revenues, but this is an area of very great need and I think it would be justified in this case," he said.

OTHER SPONSORS

Other sponsors of the measure are Reps. Fred O. Olsen, R-Sheridan; William Doorn, R-Grand Rapids; Carol O. Little, R-Saginaw; Ernest Murphy, D-Detroit, and Walter H. Nill, D-Muskegon Heights.

* * *

O'Brien also sponsored a bill to repeal the business activities tax, which brings in more than $80 million annually.

Reps. Allison Green of Kingston and Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit, Republican and Democratic floor leaders respectively of the House, joined again this year to sponsor bills to provide for emergency interim successors for legislators and judges killed in a nuclear attack.

One bill would direct the governor to designate three special emergency judges for each judge on a court of record and specify the order of succession for each position. Similarly the other would require each legislator to choose three emergency successors.

* * *

A related bill would exempt nuclear fallout shelters from property taxes if they meet standards set by the federal official of civil and defense mobilization. The bill, authored by Nill, would cover both private and community shelters.

* * *

Nill also submitted a measure to regulate slaughter houses, with the state agriculture department running the program.

The Senate, with only 24 members present, met for barely 10 minutes last night to run through routine business and introduce bills.

Announce New Classes at Waterford Twp. CAI

New courses in many winter activities are now getting under way at the Waterford Township Community Activities Building on Williams Lake Road in Waterford, according to director Robert Bauer.

Advanced ballroom classes for sixth graders, teens and adults will begin Monday at 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. respectively.

Ladies exercise and gym classes will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. beginning tonight and continue every Tuesday throughout the winter months.

Class piano and guitar lessons for area youngsters have been set. Registrations are being taken for Saturday classes.

Every Saturday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., Community Activities, Inc., has planned full length movies and cartoons for children. A 25-cent donation helps defray expenses for this activity.

* * *

Youth night dances will again get under way at 8 p.m. Friday in the CAI gymnasium. There will be a series of 10 dances on first and third Fridays. Once a month the Pontiac Area Federation of Musicians will proide bands for dancing.

The youth night dances will be open to members only and any student in the 9, 10, 11 and 12th grades in the Waterford school system and Our Lady of the Lakes School is welcome to join, Bauer pointed out.

A 10-week course in fencing will begin from 8 to 10 p.m. Tuesday, for the second time. The class has been designed to teach an individual the basic movements of fencing. Mrs. Barbara Krumwiede of Drayton Plains is the instructor.

JFK Delays Hit at Housing Bias

Would Issue Directive Against Racial Bans if in 'Public Interest'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says he will issue an executive order prohibiting racial bans in federally assisted housing—one of his campaign pledges—when he considers it will be in the public interest.

The order will come, he said Monday during his news conference, when in his view it would make "important contributions to advancing the rights of our citizens."

* * *

Kennedy claimed that "this administration in the last 12 months made more progress in the field of civil rights on a variety of fronts than were made in the last eight years."

Two Republican senators took issue with him.

'NOT DOING ENOUGH'

Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., said in an interview that "I am not interested in getting into a partisan comparison of the past records of this and previous administrations. The important thing is whether this administration is doing everything it could and should do to advance civil rights now. Regrettably, in my judgment, it is definitely not."

* * *

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said Kennedy "overlooks the fact that in 1957 and again in 1960 the (Eisenhower) administration got through Congress the first civil rights legislation enacted since the Civil War. It is under this legislation all of the voting suits have been brought."

"I see no justification for further delay in issuing an executive order banning discrimination in any program financed with federal funds. What I am waiting for is the bold stroke of the pen which the President repeatedly promised during the campaign."

EAST LANSING (AP)—A Michigan State University professor has been named head of the Inter-american Society of Psychology, the university has announced.

Star's Accident Makes Interesting Astrology

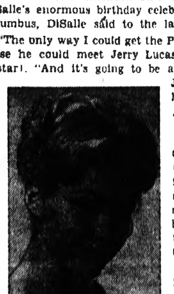

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Tuesday Weld's favorite day should not be Tuesday because on that day she broke a small bone in her right ankle when she accidentally crashed into a tripod while filming a "Naked City" TV sequence with Horace McMahon, Rip Torn and Paul Burke at the Biltmore Studios. Next day, the business manager, Hal Schaffel, literally carried her around the set while she continued working — and now she's on crutches, and in pain. Strangely, the title of the ABC sequence she did is: An Accident Looking for a Place to Happen."

WILSON

When JFK attended Ohio Gov. Mike DiSalle's enormous birthday celebration in Columbus, DiSalle said to the large audience: "The only way I could get the President out here was to promise he could meet Jerry Lucas" (the Ohio State basketball star). "And it's going to be arranged, too—just as soon as Jerry finds time to fit him into his schedule."

Detroit's Licavoli Now in U.S. Jail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peter Licavoli of Detroit was committed to a federal jail today to begin serving a sentence of six months plus a $1,000 fine on a contempt of Congress conviction.

Licavoli had been described by the Senate Rackets Committee as a Detroit hoodlum.

He was convicted last March 30 of failing to respond to a subpoena of a congressional committee. He appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals and later to the Supreme Court, which refused to consider the case.

Today he was formally committed to jail after final papers were presented before Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

Farmington Area Man Killed While at Work

A 44-year-old Farmington Township man was killed in Detroit yesterday when a hydraulic lift of a machine used to stack bricks fell on him.

The victim was Raymond L. Parks of 23050 Canfield St. The accident occurred in a warehouse.

Peter Hobbs on Run From 'Secret Storm'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Constant viewers of CBS' long-playing daytime serial, "Secret Storm," are in for a mild shock next Monday. The face and figure of the principal character will be different—although the name will be the same and the plot will go on and on.

After eight years of playing problem-dogged Peter Ames, department store owner and widower with three children, actor Peter Hobbs has decided to quit the show after next Friday's episode.

* * *

He is giving such short notice—his departure is not entirely amicable—that there's no time to wind up the current story line. Hobbs says he's leaving—"after all, eight years is enough"—largely because he has some television ideas of his own he wants to pursue.

"In daytime serials," he remarked, "the actor doesn't really matter. In the show I have three children—and over the past eight years they have been played by five different boys and eight different girls."

Trial Starting at Newberry

Town Is Excited Over Case of Flint Worker Charged With Murder

NEWBERRY (AP) — A Flint factory worker went on trial for murder today in the fatal roadside shooting last summer of 14-year-old Michael Richmond.

James Yenik, 38, sheet metal worker in a General Motors auto plant, is charged with killing Michael, a high school sophomore. Yenik has pleaded innocent.

The case is being heard before Circuit Judge George S. Baldwin at the Luce County Court House.

It has exited much attention in this Upper Peninsula city.

Judge Baldwin, whose court room has a capacity of 80 persons, has instructed Sheriff Russell W. Hild to limit the number of trial spectators.

The court room is on the second floor. There is a small fire escape.

Prosecutor John P. Shimmens planned to call approximately 40 witnesses. Forty-two persons were prospective jurors.

Selection of a jury of 14 members was to start today. Schimmens follows with his opening statement.

The prosecutor indicated he would have surprises in his opening statement. He said he would bring up "new points" which had not been heard at Yenik's examination.

Course Offered to End Confusion About Investing

Have you ever wondered about the numbers and figures on the financial pages?

In order to clear up some of the confusion, the Pontiac Public Library and a local stock brokerage firm will offer a special adult education course in securities and investments.

The course, the sponsors note, is designed for persons with no knowledge of the stock market.

The six-week series of two-hour classes will start 7 p.m. Feb. 6 in the main library.

The classes include origin and types of securities, mechanics of the New York Stock Exchange, investment objectives, reading a financial page, methods of investing and "mysteries of the stock market."

* * *

Watling, Lerchen & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, will supply instructors for the course, which will be held in the library auditorium.

Registration will be limited to the first 110 persons who apply to the Pontiac Public Library, 60 E. Pike St., or Watling, Lerchen & Co., 402 Pontiac State Bank Building.

Mackie to Ask Funds for Highway Building

LANSING (AP) — State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie is trying again to get all 1,500 highway department employes in Lansing under one roof.

Mackie said he will ask the legislature to appropriate $3 million of highway funds for a department building.

This is the fourth such request since the legislature authorized planning funds for the building in 1958.

The Murderers — 2

Dope Addiction, Prostitution Connected

By HARRY J. ANSLINGER
U.S. Commissioner of Narcotics and WILL OURSLER

Chinese seduction of teen-aged girls into addiction and prostitution presented serious problems to our bureau in the years immediately after 1930. The Chinese not only dealt with prostitutes imported from Asia; many of their customers had developed a liking for white girls with cultured backgrounds.

* * *

Narcotics and prostitution, I had long realized, were handmaidens in the underworld. This was even more apparent later, when the profitable call girl and dope tie-in became an important part of syndicate operations.

The girls produced a safe and predictable market for narcotics, and the drugs dulled their senses and the measure they had to give of themselves. The pattern also gave the syndicate a pressure point against public officials galled into their power.

In the mid-1930s I began to receive reports involving what we called the "dream girls." One of the dreamers, found alone and dazed on the streets of a West Coast city at 4 in the morning, was nicely dressed — a raven-haired, round-faced, pink-cheeked 17-year-old, seemingly from an upper class home.

OTHERS REPORTED

She admitted she was an opium user, but would not tell police who had given her drugs. Police called her parents to take her home.

* * *

I received reports of other girls picked up in West Coast cities over a period of weeks. They were all white girls from good families. All appeared in a bewildered, semi-comatose condition.

All apparently had been smoking opium. One or two hinted they were working with a Chinese "businessman."

Our investigations throughout the area revealed that the number of female addicts had gone up, but we found no increase in male addicts. At the same time, we had reports of sex orgies in which these girls participated, at what were reported as "fantastic prices."

* * *

I told my supervisors and agents to look back over the files for the past year or two, "check every case that had anything to do with sex, perversion, prostitution, opium, or violence, and raids involving young girls." Some place along the road, I figured, the Chinese "businessman" made at least one misstep.

One of our men came upon a six-months old item on an unusual death of a white girl whose nude body had been found in the apartment of a Chinese we will call Joe Sing.

Sing's story had been that the girl knocked at his door and told him she had been at a party nearby and felt sick. She wanted to disrobe and lie down. Would he get her a glass of water? When he returned with the water she was dead. Sing was released for lack of evidence and soon disappeared.

EXTRAORDINARY AGENT

We wanted to talk to Joe Sing. I assigned one of our most extraordinary agents to find him — a lean, full-blooded Cherokee Indian who sometimes passes as a Chinese, sometimes as an Indian, Mexican, Negro or Eurasian. Whether he played the part of a peddler, addict, or underworld bookkeeper, his performance was invariably brilliant.

We gave him papers identifying him as a Chinese immigrant. For days he toured Chinese restaurants, chatted with Chinese customers and finally overheard two waiters mention "white girl" and "apartment 10A."

So we had to find an apartment 10A, address unknown. Our Cherokee began an arduous door-to-door canvass, as a vacuum cleaner salesman. After two plodding days he came to an apartment house, tucked away on a quiet side street. It had an air of tidy respectability. But on one of the mailboxes the agent saw a card with a scrawled figure: 10A.

* * *

To the apartment house owner he identified himself as a U.S. government agent. The owner declared that apartment 10A was occupied by a Chinese who occasionally rented the place out for "private parties."

We staked out the building and there our agent saw a woman they recognized as a heroin pusher. Our agent made several purchases of heroin from the woman, who went by the name Marie.

He established that she was obtaining the heroin directly from Joe Sing in the apartment. He also learned that she tapped out a secret code word on the door before they would admit her.

SEIZED GIRL

The following day we seized Marie just after she walked out of Sing's apartment, carrying heroin. Our agents then knocked at the door, using the signal Marie had disclosed. The door opened a few inches. The agents barged in.

* * *

Four nude girls — all about 18 years old — cried out in high-pitched alarm, and ran for their clothes, while a naked Chinese cowered against the wall.

The man who opened the door admitted he was Joe Sing.

"You won't find any evidence against us," he told the agents. "We had a tip and we threw out all the apparatus." He was almost right. But, in the dimly lit bedroom, agents found a woman's purse with 62 capsules of heroin. Sing accepted the inevitable with Oriental calm.

* * *

The girls gave us their names and addresses as well as the names and addresses of other patrons, both men and women. Their naively related accounts were pathetic, and shocking.

One half-hysterical girl told us how Joe had taken her and other girls through the apartment, shown them nude photographs and an opium pipe. A little later, he induced them to try opium smoking.

The girl's story depicted a cure-fully organized business. She said all the girls were young and from good families; all the men were Chinese. The opium she had smoked the first evening seemed to quicken all her sensibilities. "I felt simply wonderful," she told us. "We ate little bits of Chinese candy. I was dancing with a Chinese boy."

'IN A DREAM STATE'

"It was terribly hot in the apartment. Some girls took off their dresses and slips — they always do that at Joe's. I pulled off my dress too because it didn't seem to me to make any difference and I was in a sort of dream state . . ."

* * *

This unusual effect she described had a definite cause, in addition to the opium. The candy contained a powerful stimulant used as an aphrodisiac.

* * *

In the midst of her love making the girl had collapsed. When she came to it was daylight. Joe Sing gave her some capsules to "fix her up." Still in a half-dazed condition she left the apartment.

In the next few days she found that using the capsules helped soothe her nerves and ease the pain she felt in her abdomen. The capsules contained not medicine but heroin, and when their effects wore off, the pain was even worse than before.

* * *

She went back to Joe Sing and he gave her more capsules. Eventually he told her he couldn't give them away any more but he would let her have some if she went on a party with another girl. The men involved on these "dates" were always Chinese.

THE SAME STORY

Girl after girl related essentially the same story. Sing seemed to have thought of every angle. If the girls didn't go for the opium at first, the candy helped suck them in. If they got reckless and danced naked or half-nude, he would get photos of them.

One of the girls told us Joe Sing offered her free heroin for every girl she introduced into his network. All the girls had to be white. The more beautiful and youthful, the higher the fee in heroin.

These girls now went back to their homes — and a new chance. Marie, the female heroin pusher, got eight months after pleading guilty. Joe drew ten years.

* * *

The technique developed by Joe Sing parallels in many respects that employed later by Lucky Luciano.

* * *

A svelte, sophisticated sample of the latter-day operation is Peggy W. She dresses like Park Avenue, has the hauteur of a Newport matron and the moral horizons of a Times Square tramp. She moves in rarefied circles, normally unassociated with madames or female dealers in dope.

This first lady of the underworld came from a family of pimps and prostitutes. Her customers represent the finest people in the nation, and internationally. She deals with the highest level in business, politics, industry and the professional arts.

* * *

Evidence indicates she is the chief supplier of prostitutes used by the group known as "cafe society" in New York City. These girls operate out of apartments, primarily, but also through a number of elegant barrooms.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED

In June, 1953, she was arrested under a New York State law charged with possession of narcotics with intent to sell. She had opium, opium smoking paraphernalia, marijuana and amidone, a highly dangerous and addictive synthetic narcotic.

A year later she was convicted on these charges and sentenced to from one to three years in state prison. Because of her powerful political influences in New York, Washington and Albany, this sentence was suspended.

* * *

One month after her release, she was arrested again at her elaborate midtown apartment and charged with possession of heroin and marijuana. She was selling through the pushers to teen-agers, taking her profit — and building a reserve of candidates for the call-girl ring.

* * *

Peggy was charged by our agents with violation of federal laws. Her New York state probation was revoked and she was resentenced to three years in a New York City prison — much to be preferred to a federal prison.

The federal charges against her resulted in two three-year terms, but these were suspended and she was given three years on probation on each.

* * *

This was a fantastic sentence for such a woman. Her time in prison was no more than the first sentence, in spite of her persistent activities.

The chilling fact we must recognize is the influence of Peggy's clientele, the people of importance who dared not cross her because of what she could reveal. This is not guess-work or imagination. We found the little black book, which listed her $100 to $500 a night customers. Blackmail is an ugly word but there is no other. This is what happens when leaders of a community — state and national leaders — put themselves in the power of such people.

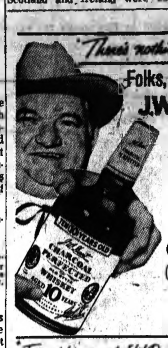

Wednesday: "Reefers" for teenagers a bonanza.

CENTER OF CONTROVERSY — Edwin Farrar, 41, cuddles his pet lion "Congo" at his home in the Long Island community of Valley Stream, N. Y., where the animal is causing a furore among the neighbors. The latest community project is how to get a law passed that will get rid of the 120-pound, 9-month-old Congo. Police say they can do nothing because there's no town ordinance against harboring wild animals.

'Romney Has a Job Helping Lawmakers'

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson says George M. Romney should use his leadership during the 1962 legislature to help the state meet its most pressing needs.

Romney, who may be Swainson's Republican opponent this year, could be influential with legislators trying to solve education, mental health and other problems, Swainson said at a news conference Monday.

Swainson commented in reply to Romney's weekend statement that he had no intention of urging the legislature to adopt the tax reform program of Citizens for Michigan; a nonpartisan organization which he heads.

Romney, American Motors Corp. president and a vice president of the constitutional convention, said he is too deeply involved with the convention to push for adoption of a tax program in the legislature.

Romney's assertion that he will win if he decides to run for governor brought a sharp rejoinder from Swainson.

★ ★ ★

"Every candidate that has ever been against me has said that," he declared.

Swainson is undefeated in political campaigns. He was twice elected to the State Senate from the 18th District and once elected lieutenant governor before his successful bid for governor in 1960.

The governor dismissed as "ridiculous" Romney's assertion that August Scholle, Michigan AFL-CIO president, is the chief spokesman of the Democratic party in Michigan.

Swainson firmly turned aside most of the questions put to him about Romney.

★ ★ ★

"If and when Romney becomes a candidate," he said, "I will be happy to discuss his comments in greater detail.

"I am much too busy trying to work to build Michigan to concern myself with Romney's statements at this time."

Suspect Boy, 13, in School Blaze

Chicago Youth Tells of Setting Fires, Possibly One Killing 95

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 13-year-old boy who has admitted to suburban police he set a number of other fires today was considered a prime suspect in the Our Lady of the Angels School fire which claimed 95 lives three years ago.

Sgt. Drew Brown of the Chicago police bomb and arson squad said he considered the youth the "best suspect so far" in the Dec. 1, 1958, school fire.

Brown said he was told by suburban Cicero police the youth was a student at Our Lady of the Angels at the time of the blaze.

Brown said he listened to a tape recorded conversation in which the boy told Cicero police of setting a number of school fires.

The Chicago Tribune reported in a copyrighted story the boy confessed setting the school fire during an examination by private lie detector expert John E. Reid.

The Tribune said information about the confession was given Monday to Family Court Judge Alfred J. Cilella. The newspaper said Reid declined comment.

However, the Chicago Sun-Times quoted Cilella as saying he had "no knowledge of any lie tests being given anyone. Two or three weeks ago in Cicero the police were investigating something, but I have no knowledge of any lie tests being given to anyone."

Cilella could not be reached for comment.

The boy's fifth grade teacher at Our Lady of the Angels, Pearl Tristan, said a number of the items said to have been included in the boy's account of the fire were at odds with the facts.

However, she admitted that her recollection of the incidents preceding the blaze was foggy.

The boy, who told Cicero police he "loves fire sirens" and "loves to watch fire trucks," said he received permission to go to the washroom and instead went to the school basement, where he dropped lighted matches into a trash container by a stairwell at the school.

Missionaries Killed in Congo, Church Reports

Some Who Escaped Tell of Massacre in Katanga Jan. 1

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Pro-Communist Antoine Gizenga has been stripped of his post in the Congolese government, Premier Cyrille Adoula announced today. Legal proceedings will be started against Gizenga as leader of the Stanleyville rebellion.

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP)—Eighteen Roman Catholic missionaries were killed by Congolese soldiers at Kongolo in north Katanga on Jan. 1, church authorities reported today.

A dispatch from an Associated Press correspondent at Bukavu, a Kivu Province town 225 miles northeast of Kongolo, said missionaries who escaped the massacre reported the violence to the bishop at Bakavu.

The bodies of the 18 were recovered, the dispatch said. Another missionary was taken away and has not been heard from since.

The report to the bishop said troops of the Congo central government attacked missionaries living near Kongolo, beat them and then killed them with automatic weapons.

★ ★ ★

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga reported on Jan. 1 that his forces had abandoned Kongolo and that the invaders were killing hundreds of civilians and burning villages as they advanced on the town.

UNDER GIZENGA

Tshombe claimed that the invading troops were under the orders of the Central Congo government in Leopoldville, but reports since have indicated that they were loyal to pro-Communist Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga, who was put under virtual house arrest in Stanleyville Sunday by central government troops.

Gizenga has been accused of dispatching troops into north Katanga in an effort to establish his own state in the northeast Congo.

Units of Gizenga's Stanleyville force were blamed for the murder of 13 Italian U.N. airmen in Kivu Province in November.

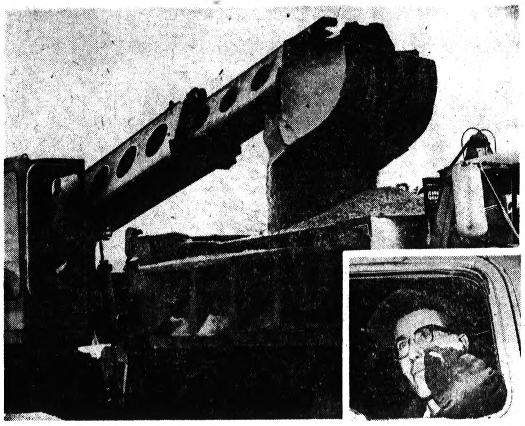

The troops in north Katanga and adjoining Kivu Province constitute the bulk of the Stanleyville army which took orders from Gizenga and Gen. Victor Lundula when it took orders from anyone.

Lundula switched his allegiance to the central government and commanded the troops in Stanleyville who put down an insurrection attempt by Gizenga over the weekend and disarmed more than 300 of his gendarmes, his only military force in the leftist's former stronghold.

JFK Heartened by Allied Unity

Regrets Lack of N-Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says failure to reach agreement with the Soviet Union on a nuclear test ban was the biggest disappointment of his first year in the White House.

"This," he said, could have been "a very important step in easing tensions."

The most heartening development, he believes, was a "great surge for unity" among the Western Allies and in Latin America.

In his first news conference of the year—five days before the first anniversary of his inauguration—Kennedy touched on nearly a subject a minute Monday, roaming from the farm problem at home to Laos and Berlin abroad.

HOPE FOR STEEL PEACE

Steel — He hopes for a quick agreement between industry and the union to avert a strike and the hasty stockpiling of steel that might impede the nation's economic recovery. Contracts expire in June.

Laos — The risk of war is the alternative to the risk of Communist control of coalition governments in Southeast Asia, he said. "We are taking a chance in all of Southeast Asia. We are taking a chance in other areas also." In his judgment "it is in the best interest of our country to work for a neutral and independent Laos."

Farm—Kennedy set a goal of reasonable balance between farm output and demand to insure that the farm income will not be broken by surpluses, as it was to a substantial extent in the '20s. In his State of the Union message, he promised to present Congress a new farm program geared to the times.

Civil rights—Kennedy said he would issue an order against racial discrimination in federally aided housing when he believes it will serve the public interest and advance the cause of civil rights. He claimed more progress in the field during the last 12 months than the previous eight years and said his record may be judged properly at the end of this year "and at the end of our term."

Foreign trade — "When the educational job is done," Kennedy declared, the country will support his request for broad authority to negotiate tariff cuts. He said figures are being prepared in an effort to persuade Congress members that his program would be "most helpful to the United States."

Berlin — Despite reports that U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson has made little progress in talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Kennedy said the discussions would continue in an effort to find a solution for the Berlin crisis. A more precise judgment will be made after the talks have gone on "for a reasonable period."

Sukarno Admits Loss of Boat

Scoffs at Charge of Invasion; Says Dutch Launched Attack

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno's government admitted today it lost a torpedo boat in a clash with Dutch forces off West New Guinea. But it scoffed at Dutch invasion charges and claimed the Dutch deliberately launched the attack in international waters.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. Achmad Jani, head of Indonesia's recently created New Guinea operational staff, gave no indication of Indonesian casualties other than to say that only one vessel was lost.

In Hollandia, capital of Dutch New Guinea, the Dutch navy said Dutch naval and air units sank one Indonesian torpedo boat Monday night and probably a second, drove off others, and took 50 Indonesians prisoner.

A communique said rubber landing craft were recovered, indicating an invasion attempt, and that the clash occurred in New Guinea's territorial waters.

★ ★ ★

Dutch sources said the boat known to have been sunk carried 70 to 90 men, far more than a normal crew, and that presum-

Pontiac Sales in 10 Days Ride to 10,479

Retail deliveries of new Pontiacs and Tempests during the first 10-day sales period of January totaled 10,479, a 30 per cent increase over the same period a year ago when sales were 8,079, it was announced today by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

"These outstanding early January sales, despite the bad weather in many sections of the country, have enabled us to achieve the best first 10-day sales period in seven years," Bridge pointed out.

"The record pace we have been able to maintain since the introduction of our 1962 models is definite evidence of the public's acceptance of the new Pontiacs," Bridge added.

Grant Hospital Funds for Wing

To Speed Construction on $1.3 Million Addition at Pontiac Osteopathic

To meet a heavy demand for more patient space, the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Board of Control has granted additional funds to speed construction of the hospital's new wing.

Harry H. Whitlow, administrator, revealed late yesterday that the third level of the $1.3 million addition will be opened in April, five months ahead of schedule.

"The board has granted $60,000 to pay workers for overtime, working weekends and to pay for the added materials," Whitlow said.

"We expect to open the floor by April 10."

The floor is devoted mainly to patients' rooms. It will give the hospital about 110 additional beds.

★ ★ ★

The move also means that Pontiac Osteopathic will begin hiring about 100 additional employes in the near future.

"We had to do something. We've been operating constantly at 10 to 15 per cent over capacity," Whitlow said.

The hospital currently has 140 beds. Occupancy has consistently ranged from 160 to 175 each day and there are always 30 to 40 people on the waiting list.

Other parts of the new building at Perry and E. Huron streets will not be affected. The building is scheduled to open in September.

Would Step Up State Expansion With 14 'Points'

Send Notes to Con-Con, Legislature Asking for Study of Use Tax

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson laid down an ambitious 14-point program to spur Michigan's economic growth today.

He called on both the legislature and the constitutional convention to join in putting it through.

The Governor sent special messages to lawmakers and convention delegates telling them what they can do to speed up expansion of industry and business.

"Working together we can provide the framework for a brilliant future," he declared. "Delay cannot be tolerated."

Swainson said the legislature can do much to strengthen existing business, diversify the state's industrial base and attract new industry to provide the minimum 80,000 new jobs a year economists say is needed to support a fast growing population.

He urged the constitutional convention to include in its proposed new charter a provision allowing the state to extend credit to aid nonprofit public benefit corporations and finance industrial and municipal development projects.

REJECTED IN 1961

A constitutional amendment to clear the way for such a program was rejected by voters last year.

★ ★ ★

The governor also recommended elimination of a constitutional ban prohibiting corporations from holding real estate not connected with their business for more than 10 years.

HIS PROGRAM

His legislative program, some of it a revival of a blueprint rejected by the legislature last year, includes:

1. Repeal of the use tax on government contracts. This, he said, forces Michigan contractors to add the tax cost when computing bids of federal contracts in competition with contractors from other states and influences federal decisions on construction and location of federal facilities.

2. Elimination of partial assessments on construction in prog-

Exciting Prizes Each Day Ready at Cooking School

Pontiac area women who attend the Pontiac Press Cooking School Jan. 23-26 will have many opportunities to win exciting prizes each day.

The two grand prizes to be given away Friday are a Kelvinator electric range from Federal Department Store and a Roper Gold Star 36-inch gas range from RCA Whirlpool (installation by Consumers Power).

You need not be present to win either of the ranges or any of the other prizes.

Other grand prizes include a set of stainless steel tableware from Pauli Jewelers; a table radio from Hampton Electric; dinnerware service for four from Connolly's Jewelers; Corning ware from Waite's Department Store and a car wash and lubrication job from Oliver Motors.

Each day there will be food baskets from United Food Markets (L. S. Supermarket of Lake Orion; Village Super Market of Auburn Heights; Feller Quality Market of Pontiac; Gingellville Supermarket of Gingellville and Tenuta Supermarket of Drayton Plains.)

★ ★ ★

In addition, there will be daily food certificates from Kroger Stores and 2,000 Gold Bell Gift Stamps per day from Foodtown Markets and People's Food-O-Mat.

Murray's Beauty Academy will give three permanent waves. Fox Dry Cleaners is offering a $3 cleaning certificate.

★ ★ ★

Everyone attending will receive a free jar of Mario's Olives. There will also be free Coca Cola for everyone, plus cartons of "Coke" as prizes — these from the Coca Cola Bottling Company of Pontiac.

The "Galaxy of Foods" starts next Tuesday, 2 p.m. at Pontiac Central High School. Admission is by ticket only with all unfilled seats at performace time taken by those in line without tickets.

Signs Point to Trouble for Nikita

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev is apparently facing considerable difficulties at home, say U.S. specialists in Soviet affairs.

But they add that the United States and its Allies have no reason to rejoice.

This is the specialists' evaluation of such Kremlin riddles as the strange story of V. M. Molotov, the rift between Moscow and Peiping with tiny Albania in the middle and also the whereabouts of Khrushchev himself.

These and other signs, say the observers, point to a struggle between Khrushchev and a strong Stalinist group in his party's Central Committee and possibly also in the secretariat, the inner sanctum of the party bureaucracy.

The Stalinist elements, the belief is here, do not form an organized group, but their number may be large and they exercise power both in the hierarchy and in the lower level of the party apparatus.

But this interpretation of Soviet goings-on does not particularly please Western observers. Though it is expected that Khrushchev will ultimately overcome any Stalinist opposition, he might be forced to take into account its views or return to Stalinist terror and eliminate the opposition.

It is questionable, however, that he could choose this second course.

Khrushchev, it is now believed here by many officials, does not exercise such a personal control over formation of policy as Stalin did.

Referring to the reports of troubles in Moscow, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said Monday that "obviously, something is going on in the Kremlin. The great lack of information indicates some major policy decision may be in the works."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was cautious, however. He said he would not want "to jump to hasty conclusions."

★ ★ ★

What makes observers here cautious and not too optimistic is the fear that Khrushchev, pushed by his Stalinist pro-Chinese critics might revise his "peaceful coexistence" program and get tougher.

The obvious target, of course, would be Berlin. Some of the Soviet satellites are reported to be urging Khrushchev to push the West from the city.

Khrushchev, the consensus among observers here is, was acting in desperation at last October's Communist party congress in Moscow, when without forewarning he attacked Molotov and other "antiparty" elements.

Wants Oldsters to Work

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev, a busy 67-year-old, wants old age pensioners to work at night clerical jobs rather than idle their time away.

In a speech at Minsk reported today by Moscow radio, the Soviet leader said that keeping the elderly busy in this way would make them happier and would free younger people for work in fields and factories.

Khrushchev reminded his listeners: "I am myself of pensionable age, and I think it must be a very unpleasant feeling and experience when you have nothing to do — when you feel that you are not doing your bit for society as you used to do."

★ ★ ★

"This is the hardest thing for a man to bear," he said.

Flashes

BERLIN (UPI) — The United States Army announced today it is pulling back its tanks and armored cars from the area around the key Friedrichstrasse crossing point on the divided East-West Berlin border.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — An agreement was reached today for broad tariff reductions between the European Common Market and the United States, it was officially announced.

French Ponder Toll in Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—French authorities studied new and harsher measures today to cope with the tide of violence in Algeria's clandestine war.

Three killings in Oran boosted the overnight death toll to 20. Half a dozen persons were wounded in combat between European and Moslem terrorist organizations.

★ ★ ★

Louis Joxe, French minister for Algerian affairs, met with the territory's top officials at the new seaside administrative center of Rocher Noir, 30 miles from Algiers.

They were reported to be discussing the possible proclamation of a state of siege, which would clamp tighter restrictions on Algeria's already closely regulated civil life.

DAYLIGHT HOLDUP

The day's events included a daylight holdup of an Algerian bank by five Europeans. They escaped in a motor car with the equivalent of $18,000. This may have been nothing more than an ordinary crime, but in the tense atmosphere of Algiers it was immediately assumed the Europeans were robbing the bank on behalf of the right-wing French Secret Army Organization.

★ ★ ★

In Oran, three Europeans were slain and another wounded in a series of attacks attributed to Moslems on the rebel National Liberation Front.

In Algiers, two Moslems were wounded by bullets fired by European terrorists. In Bone, a young Moslem was injured by the explosion of a plastic bomb. In Mostaganem, near Oran, two Moslems working for the French were wounded by gunfire.

Re-Elect Girard at Bank Meeting

Stockholders Keep All Directors, Officers at Community National

At the annual shareholders meeting of Community National Bank of Pontiac held this morning, A. C. Girard was re-elected bank president and chairman of the bank's board of directors.

All eight directors were re-elected and all bank officers re-appointed.

Girard, in his annual report to shareholders, noted an increase in total assets and deposits for the bank during 1961.

Total assets increased about $4,388,000 last year and deposits were up $4 million, according to Girard.

He said that total assets increased from $111,400,000 in 1960 to $115,788,000 in 1961 and deposits increased from $101,200,000 in 1960 to $105,200,000 last year.

Earnings for 1961, however, were down about $78,000 from the previous year. Girard said earnings for 1961 were $1,068,, or $3.68 per share.

Earnings in 1960 were $1,146,000.

Admits Boat Lost Off New Guinea

ably 20 to 40 men were not rescued.

'CLEAR AGGRESSION'

The Dutch charged that the incident was "clear evidence of Indonesian military aggression to get a stronghold on New Guinea territory and to plant the red and white (Indonesian) flag."

Indonesian officials claimed their boat was sunk 25 miles off the New Guinea coast. They said Indonesia would accuse the Dutch of provocation in a complaint to U.N. acting Secretary-General U Thant.

At the Hague, Dutch Prime Minister Jan de Quay said after an emergency Cabinet meeting his government also would express to the United Nations "our concern about the Indonesian attack."

★ ★ ★

He said the Dutch would assure the United Nations "that we remain willing to start negotiations at once" with Indonesia on the future of West New Guinea, which Indonesian President Sukarno has threatened to take by weekend and made off with 5,000 bedsheets and 1,000 pillow cases.

Police say the robber or robbers broke through a side door and unlocked an overhead garage door between 5 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. yesterday. Total loot was valued at $9,200, police said.

FRIENDS TO THE LAST — Former Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, who died last Thursday, was accompanied from the First Presbyterian Church in Pontiac by six of his closest friends yesterday. On the left (top to bottom) are Monte Scott, hunting companion of the judge; Robert D. Long, chief assistant prosecutor, and C. Richard Smith, assignment clerk for the circuit courts for 10 years before he resigned in 1959. On the right are Robert P. Allen; assistant corporation counsel, Charles A. Davis, first assistant corporation counsel, and Prosecutor George F. Taylor. Taylor, Davis, Allen and Long had served as Judge Doty's court clerks. Friends of the judge's, civic and government leaders, and nearly 30 attorneys attended yesterday's funeral service conducted by Rev. Galen E. Hershey.

Big 3 Resume Test-Ban Talks

Washington Holds Out Little Hope of Pact With Soviet Union

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and Britain formally agreed today to abandon the three-power nuclear test ban talks and refer the issue to the disarmament negotiations expected to open in Geneva next March.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lengthy Geneva conference on banning nuclear tests resumes today with little expectation here that it will produce any East-West agreement.

U.S. officials said the United States and Britain will stand by their proposed treaty to outlaw nuclear explosions, enforced by an inspection system to catch violators.

★ ★ ★

For more than a year the Soviet Union—the third power at the three-year-old negotiations — has been backing off from proposals that the Western powers once thought the conference was near agreement on.

President Kennedy at his news conference Monday called the failure to reach a nuclear test ban agreement his biggest disappointment in his first year in the presidency.

Kennedy said such a pact could have been an important step toward easing the cold war tensions, in preventing a multiplication of weapons and in making progress toward disarmament more possible.

The President left out some events which others might have listed as disappointing developments—the failure of the Cuban invasion, for instance, or the Berlin crisis.

★ ★ ★

Disputing criticism that the United States should have knocked down the East Berlin wall when the Communists put it up last August, Kennedy said no one in a responsible position recommended such action at the time. He suggested the action could have brought "a very violent reaction which might have taken us down a very rocky road."

Vandals, Residents Have Taste for Salt

Why isn't there more salt on side streets? Officials at the Pontiac Department of Public Works say the whole problem doesn't lie in supply and manpower.

★ ★ ★

Naturally, our first concern is salting the major thoroughfares," says Morley Cameron, in charge of the operation, "but some of the fault for slippery side streets lies with vandals and inconsiderate residents."

Each year the city places salt barrels at neighborhood trouble spots. Each year much of the salt and some of the barrels are stolen.

"We lost at least six barrels in the recent cold snap alone," Cameron said.

If residents of a particular area request a salt barrel, and DPW employes agree one is needed, it is placed there. These spots are usually on dangerous hills or steep grades that are impossible to get up in icy weather.

"We put barrels there so that people can use the salt-sand mixture if they get stuck, and for crews that check these spots daily.

"It's for use in the street, but many residents steal it for use on their driveways."

EXAMPLES

Cameron, of 51 S. Astor St., had plenty of examples.

"One morning last week a full barrel was placed on a steep slope in my neighborhood on Rosewood Street," he said. "When I got home that night, not only the salt but the entire barrel had been taken.

"In answer to many requests we put a barrel at Edison and Kemp streets a few weeks ago. It was stolen in a week."

Cameron says barrels are chained down where possible.

"We fished one out of the river at the East Pike Street bridge a half dozen times and finally had to chain it to the bridge," he recalls.

"We'd like to do more," he said, "but you can't do much with an empty barrel."

Escapee Found Dead in Ditch

Youth, 18, Was From Ohio and Fled Taylor Township Police

DETROIT (AP)—An 18-year-old escapee from a Chillicothe, Ohio, reformatory died today in a waterfilled ditch after fleeing from suburban Taylor Township police.

★ ★ ★

The victim was identified as Douglas W. Wallace of Medina, Ohio. A 20-year-old Trenton, companion, John Robert Chevalier, was captured by police, but the third, Gary G. Bogges, 17, of Miami, W. Va., escaped.

Officers said Wallace died of exposure. His body was found 250 feet from where the stolen car in which he was riding struck a utility pole.

The body, clad in a brown reformatory uniform, was found in a ditch in a field.

The driver of the car, John Robert Chevalier, was arrested at the scene.

The three all were serving time for interstate transportation of stolen automobiles. Police said they escaped from the prison by climbing two walls.

Expert Predicts Russia to Steal Glenn's Glory

NEW YORK (UPI) — Space expert Walker M. Mahurin believes the Soviet Union might try to take some of the luster away from the forthcoming orbital flight of Lt. Col. John Glenn by sending two men around the earth in a Vostok rocket.

Mahurin, assistant director for advance programs development at North American Aviation's space and information division in Downey, Calif., made the prediction Monday during a panel discussion at an American Rocket Society lunch.

Britain Reports Curb of Smallpox Cases

LONDON (AP)—The smallpox outbreak in England's industrial north is under control, health officer John Douglas of Bradford said today.

Douglas, whose Yorkshire textile town is the center of the scare, said 100,000 people living in the area have been vaccinated. More vaccine was hurried to Bradford as a precaution.

The disease was brought into Britain last month by immigrants from Pakistan, where an epidemic is raging. Five deaths have been attributed to smallpox in Britain and a sixth may have been due to the disease. A number of suspected cases are under observation in isolated hospitals.

All 1963 Autos to Sport Amber Turn Signals

DETROIT (AP) — All 1963 model cars will come equipped with amber lights for front turn signals, the Automobile Manufacturers Association announced today.

The amber lights will replace the white lights which have been standard since turn signals were first introduced.

The AMA said research indicated amber signals can be seen more readily than white against glaring reflections and also provide greater contrast against headlamps at night.

Twenty-five states have had laws prohibiting amber lights but the AMA said all of these have now been amended, making the universal change possible in 1963.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission OKs Contract for Urban Plan Study

BIRMINGHAM — The triparty contract necessary to allow Birmingham to move ahead with the 701 urban planning study was approved last night by the City Commission.

The city's share of the $30,000-two-year study is about $8,500. The federal government will pay the remainder.

City Manager L. E. Gare said that the city's portion of the project was set up in last year's budget and no appropriation is necessary at this time.

City Commissioners Carl F. Ingraham and Ralph A. Main voted against the 701 contract. Both have been opposed to the plan since it was recommended.

★ ★ ★

The contract had to be signed by the city, the state, which is the agent of the Federal government for the grant, and the city's planning consultants for the study, Vilican-Leman & Associates of Southfield.

The commission received the contract at the last meeting but postponed approval until studying its provisions.

WAIVER DELAYED

An answer to Birmingham Community House's request for a license waiver for its proposed ballet school was delayed by the commission until further information is obtained from the city manager.

In order to grant the waiver it would be necessary to amend a city ordinance which governs the issuance of such licenses.

The dancing school would be part of the youth program being held in conjunction with the adult education classes conducted at the Community House.

The commission approved the rewording of a proposed charter amendment that will be decided in the April election.

The amendment would allow the city to post the codification of ordinances in a public place rather than having them published in a local newspaper.

The proposed revision was accepted by the commission last week but City Attorney Dean Beier was directed to rewrite it.

Originally, it had been proposed that a charter amendment be placed before voters that would allow the city to either publish or post all ordinances.

The new proposal, if approved, would only affect the codification of city ordinances. All other single ordinances would be published like they have been in the past.

Mrs. Charles V. Gardner

Service for Mrs. Charles V. (Marguerite M.) Gardner of 1345 Washington Blvd. will be 4 p.m. Thursday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be Friday in the Greenwood Cemetery, Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Gardner died yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

She was a past president of the Grand Rapids Woman's Club and had attended the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham.

Surviving is a daughter, Phyllis Jean Gardner, of Birmingham.

Given Jail, Fine for Her Lone Voting 'Crusade'

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —Mary Laflamme, mother of two, testified she wanted to prove school board elections were not properly supervised so in the election last Dec. 5 she voted at four polling places.

That was three votes too many, a Common Pleas Court jury ruled Monday in finding her guilty of violating state election laws.

Attorney Charles Gregory argued in vain that Mrs. Laflamme was trying to call public attention to a bad situation. He said she had no criminal intent.

Judge Dwain Box sentenced her to 30 days in jail and a $1,000 fine. Gregory said he would appeal.

Snow Drifts High, Temperatures Low

New State Storm Leaves 6 Dead

From Our News Wires

Below zero temperatures invaded Michigan today on the heels of a winter storm that left at least six dead.

★ ★ ★

More than a foot of new snow was on the ground in areas around Muskegon, Grand Rapids and Saginaw as heavy drifting accompanied the storm.

Lower Peninsula were closed in some areas as heavy drifting accompanied the storm.

Coldest spot in the state early today was Marquette with a reading of one below zero. Bay City had 6 above zero and other temperatures ranged upward to 24 above at Detroit and Muskegon.

Weather-connected deaths included two in fires Sunday, two in heart attack deaths at Kalamazoo Monday and two traffic fatalities.

One of the traffic deaths involved a boy who wandered into the path of a truck when blinded by snow thrown by a passing plow.

The weather bureau said the two-day storm is well out of the state and only a few sporadic flurries were reported.

OVER THE MIDWEST

Another blast of frigid air spread across snow-covered sections from Montana into Indiana, a repeat of last week's severe cold in the Midwest.

Temperatures dropped sharply as the icy air, in the wake of the year's second major snowstorm fanned out from the mountain valleys in southwestern Montana.

The mercury dipped to more than 20 degrees below in the Montana region, touching -25 in Bozeman and -24 in Drummond. Minneapolis got a full blast of the arctic air, with readings of -16 in International Falls, -11 in Duluth and -1 in Minneapolis.

★ ★ ★

Below zero marks also were reported in the Dakotas and sections of Wisconsin, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. Chicago had a fresh snowfall of seven inches in zero weather. It was -8 in nearby Joliet, Ill.

★ ★ ★

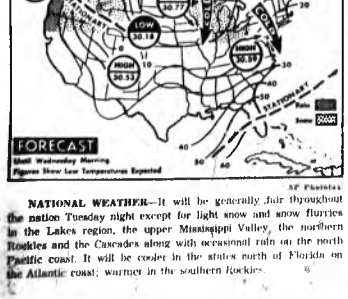

Some of the cold air extended deep in the South. Temperatures were as much as 30 degrees lower than Monday morning's marks southward into southern Louisiana.

Fairly mild winter weather prevailed in most of the East. It was below freezing in Atlanta, Meridian, Miss., Memphis and Chattanooga, Tenn., and Little Rock, Ark. Mild readings were reported in most of southern Florida, with 66 in Miami.

PONTIAC AND VICINITY — Partly cloudy and colder with chance of few very light snow flurries today and tonight. High 28, low 16. Wednesday mostly cloudy and cold with few snow flurries, high 24. Wind westerly 10 to 20 miles.

NATIONAL WEATHER—It will be generally fair throughout the nation Tuesday night except for light snow and snow flurries in the Lakes region, the upper Mississippi Valley, the northern Rockies and the Cascades along with occasional rain on the north Pacific coast. It will be cooler in the states north of Florida on the Atlantic coast; warmer in the southern Rockies.

City Salvation Army Head Promoted to Chicago Post

The announcement of the promotion of the Salvation Army's Pontiac Citadel Corps Commander Capt. J. William Heaver to a Chicago post was made at the annual advisory board dinner meeting last night at Greenfield Restaurant in Birmingham.

Capt. Heaver will leave here Jan. 30 to assume his new duties as divisional youth secretary of Chicago Metropolitan Division.

CAPT. J. W. HEAVER

MRS. J. W. HEAVER

Mrs. Heaver has been promoted to divisional guard and sunbeam director.

Replacing Capt. Heaver, who has served here 3½ years, will be Lt. Gary Crowell, transferring from Ecorse.

Some 75 attending the dinner heard a report by Capt. Heaver on work during 1961 here. Milton F. Cooney, chairman of the board, presided.

★ ★ ★

Officers re-elected were Milton F. Cooney, chairman, Milo J. Cross, vice chairman, Albany C. Kirby, secretary, and Elmer H. Reynolds, treasurer. Harry J. Reed, managing editor of The Pontiac Press, was installed as a new member of the advisory board.

Lt. Col. T. Raymond Gabrielson, newly appointed divisional commander of the Salvation Army's Eastern Michigan Division was a guest.

Brigadier Ira Fitzpatrick, manager of the Edwin Denby Children's Home in Detroit spoke briefly.

Brigadier R. McMahon, manager of the 14-story Eventide Home in downtown Detroit discussed his work with the aging.

Citizens Organize First Club

Macomb Group Says: We're for Romney

DETROIT (UPI) — George Romney's "unofficial" campaign for governor gained added impetus Monday night when an unsolicited grass roots organization was launched in suburban St. Clair Shores by Macomb County Republicans and independents.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of the organization, to be called Citizens for Romney, is to persuade the automotive industrialist to seek the GOP gubernatorial nomination and "then to insure his election."

Romney has remained somewhat silent on his political ambitions although he has already declared that if he runs for governor he'll defeat John B. Swainson, first term incumbent Democrat.

★ ★ ★

William McLaughlin, publicity director for the Michigan Federation of Young Republicans and a founder of the Citizens group, said about 25 Macomb County residents "interested in Romney's candidacy" attended the meeting Monday night.

TO SET UP OFFICES

McLaughlin said headquarters would be set up next week in St. Clair Shores in an effort to show Romney that there are people who want him to run and who will help him in his campaign.

"This is the first citizens group in the state for Romney and it is our hope that it will help spark other such clubs across Michigan," McLaughlin said.

A meeting has been scheduled for this weekend between McLaughlin and David Wells, chairman of the St. Clair Shores Republican Club, with two of Romney's most ardent supporters, Richard C. Van Dusen and Arthur G. Elliott Jr., Oakland County delegates to the constitutional convention.

Although Elliott said he hadn't been notified of any such meeting, he voiced wholehearted approval of the formation of the organization.

"I think it's great," said the former Oakland County GOP chairman. He said its creation was "spontaneous."

McLaughlin said the idea behind the Citizens group is based on similar clubs which operated throughout the nation in 1952 for Dwight D. Eisenhower, then Republican candidate for president.

"We think we can do the same thing for Romney and get him elected if he'll run," McLaughlin said.

Area's Frigid Weather Is Also Harvest Time

Strange as it may sound, the warmer seasons have no monopoly on harvest time.

The heart of a hard winter can also have that distinction.

The golden grain is harvested in summer.

But there's another golden harvest in winter.

★ ★ ★

For several days the Pontiac area has been rather cold.

But some of its cash registers have been rather hot.

We refer to those at our various winter recreational resorts.

Regardless of classy rhetoric and phony claims from other sections, the Pontiac area now is drawing larger crowds to its ski slopes than any other part of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

They have created traffic jams on extra lane highways leading to them.

No other area in the entire Nation has such facilities adjacent to such a large population.

Yes, there's a winter harvest time.

Plan to Retrain Jobless Requires Investigation

The present session of Congress will be working on some new type of bill to provide Federal retraining to teach some of the unemployed new trades or skills.

Of course, the advantages of such a program are not clear and the cost so far is an unknown factor. The price tag mentioned around Washington runs to $90 million or so.

A careful look seems advisable since one experiment now going on leaves much to be desired. Huntington, W.Va., in a two county area with 7,000 unemployed is running a program, but to date only 750 of the jobless have shown interest in the program.

★ ★ ★

This seems odd since while the trainees study they could receive subsistence pay of $23 a week. Of the 750, only 200 have been certified to begin classwork.

Just why, we don't know. The courses offered include small appliance repair, automatic transmission repair, typing, salesmanship and nursing.

During the interviews the Huntington employment office workers discovered these three reasons against the program:

1. Just not interested.
2. I expect to be called back to work soon.
3. I'm too old to be starting all over again.

★ ★ ★

The employment office started with nine in the office and quickly cut back to four because of the lack of interest.

This pilot study is only costing the taxpayers $15,000 which is money well-spent if Washington learned a lesson from it. Since no money has actually been appropriated, it is not too late to shelve any grandiose ideas if the unemployed are not interested.

Need More Passengers to Keep Bus Line Sound

One of life's frustrations is needing something which has been discarded because it wasn't needed.

★ ★ ★

When the previous bus line in the City ended its service, the need for such service was felt immediately. Eventually, the new firm, Pontiac Transit Corporation came along and restored the buses.

Even with carrying more than 830,000 passengers in the last twelve months, the bus company is just meeting expenses. They estimate another 1,000 persons a week would put them on a sound basis.

★ ★ ★

Presidential Tax Power a Bad Idea

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — With all the advisers, experts, economists and politicians, as well as veteran officials supposed to be familiar with tax problems available around the White House, it is surprising to find President Kennedy quite casually recommending that Congress give up its constitutional power to fix tax rates and let the Chief Executive do it.

Before any proposal as far-reaching as this could find its way into the State of the Union Message of the President, it would seem that such a drastic change in tax policies and procedures would be thought through and given to the public only after a most thorough study of all its ramifications.

But the idea here seems to be to toss into the hopper as many ideas as possible to give the impression that the administration isn't standing still.

To permit a President overnight to reduce or raise taxes would be something of an innovation to Americans, though the idea of a flexible tax was proposed long ago by Lord Keynes, the British economist whose theories since have been severely criticized.

In Britain sudden tax changes can be made by the government in power, but this is because there have the parliamentary system.

The people, however, can immediately throw out the cabinet ministry that taxed them unwisely. No such remedy is today available to the American people.

Apart from the wisdom or unwisdom of sudden tax changes from a political viewpoint—for certainly there would be little protest when taxes went down and a big howl if they went up—there are some practical barriers.

Supposedly the tax changes are to be made when business conditions would seem to the theorists to require such a shift.

Where is the expert to be found who is wise enough, upon waking up some morning, to decide that taxes should be reduced to stimulate consumer spending or raised to stop inflation as he rushes to the White House to persuade the President to sign the appropriate executive order?

Nobody seems to have thought about the problem of how to change suddenly all the tax forms and how to provide a procedure for taxpayers to revise in the middle of a tax year the estimates they have already submitted and on which they may have made payments.

The mere task of checking returns in a year when an abrupt change in tax rates has taken place would be a colossal job.

But, even though the administrative difficulties could be surmounted by paying out a few millions of dollars for extra clerks and revised forms, the remedy could prove worse than the disease. There is no certainty, for instance, that a sudden stimulus to consumer spending would come at the right time.

It has been argued that Congress could always nullify a tax change it didn't like because it would have 30 or 60 days in which one house could exercise a veto of the President's action.

This might occur just before an election, and the uncertainty produced between the time the President made his proposal and the time it was rejected or took effect could bring on such chaotic conditions as to defeat the ends sought.

It would not cause so much of a fuss if taxes were always being reduced, as everybody likes a tax reduction. But if the President asked for a change in the basic rate, what about the clamor of the people in the other tax brackets for additional reductions?

A quick tax cut could result in a bigger deficit than expected. Also, there are some paradoxes to complicate the whole problem.

Today, for example, the country is supposed to be in the midst of a business boom, but the budget is unbalanced and unemployment is 6.1 per cent of the labor force. Should taxes be cut, raised, or left unchanged?

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcohol Isn't Any Good Any Time for Anything

If you know an individual uses morphine, heroin or opium would you take some for what ails you on his advice, even if he were a doctor? Assuming your intelligence is at or above moron level, you would probably not take such advice or follow such suggestion.

A person under the influence of a narcotic is hardly capable of good judgment about such matters.

If our reasoning is sound so far, in respect to the narcotics mentioned, it should apply as well to any other narcotic, shouldn't it? Alcohol, for instance. Oh, yes, alcohol is a narcotic, there's no evading the fact.

DR. BRADY

Recently, some articles set forth the views of doctors, one of whom conducted his research under a grant by the wine industry, approving the use of alcoholic beverage or liquor as tranquilizer, restorative, sedative, bracer, cheerer-upper or quiet-downer — or, say, whenever you need a drink.

This is not news. An authoritative textbook of therapeutics, published 37 years ago says, "Alcohol is indicated" (medicalese meaning good for) "for cardiac" ($1.46 term for heart) "failure due to shock, poisons, etc., fainting, snake-bite, surgical shock, typhoid fever, pneumonia or exhaustion."

The screaming inconsistency of the author of the textbook strikes you dead when you read on the next page his straight-faced statement that "alcohol never acts as a true stimulant . . . on the contrary, its dominant influence is depressant."

Persons who are fond of alcoholic beverage or liquor, for occasional, regular or habitual indulgence, are quite likely to resent the teaching that alcohol is a narcotic.

★ ★ ★

As a physician, I have seen too much of the heartache and heartbreak of wives, husbands, and children, brothers, sisters, mothers and fathers of alcohol addicts to have any patience with alcoholics who use every means suggested by the boys in wine and liquor people to persuade young persons of weak character to take up the habit.

In recent symposium on "Alcohol and Civilization" at University of California Medical Center, a New York professor of medicine said:

"Alcohol, unlike other tranquilizers and sedatives, has almost no undesirable side effect, and rarely leads to addiction when prescribed in managing diseases."

The professor added that alcohol "in small doses is a superb tranquilizer; in larger doses a good sedative; and even larger doses, an effective anesthetic."

This irked me more than some what.

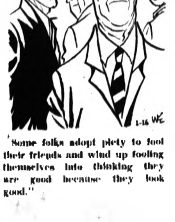

It would have been nearer the truth if the professor had said alcohol . . . is rarely prescribed in managing diseases. At any rate, not in good faith.

This was the education where everybody passes, where the report cards were non-committal lest the failure be faced with the fact of his failure, where all moved at a snail pace like a transatlantic convoy so that the slowest need not be left behind, and all proceeded toward adulthood in the lock-step of 'togetherness.' The competition that breeds excellence was sacrificed for the benefit of something called 'life adjustment.'

'Do Not Sign Petition Against Medical Aid'

Doctors are asking people to sign a petition against Kennedy's medical aid to the aged. Don't sign it. This would be one of the greatest things our President has done.

I was operated on and in the hospital for six weeks. My husband had hospitalization, but after they paid their part we still had almost $600 to pay. My husband was out of work for seven months. Our income was $34 a week. We have raised three children and our youngest is 21. We have no children in school now, yet we pay big taxes ever year.

In the hospital I asked for gargerade and the nurse's aid told me to have my husband bring some because the hospital charges 25 cents a glass. If you have worked hard all your life and have purchased a small home, before you can get state aid you must sell that home or give them the deed. Don't sign the petition

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 16, the 16th day of the year with 349 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1883, the Pendleton Act went effect providing for the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

In 1920, the Volstead Act to enforce the 18th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution went into effect prohibiting the sale, manufacture or transportation of intoxicating liquors.

In 1957, Soviet Russia ordered all foreign diplomats in Moscow to restrict their travel to within 25 miles of the city.

In 1957 a joint Polish-Communist Chinese statement was signed at Warsaw pledging both nations to "proletarian internationalism."

A thought for the day: English philosopher and author, Francis Bacon, once said: "Fortune is like the market, where many times, if you can stay a little, the price will fall."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Heed Advice When Buying Home

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE L-408: Phillip, aged 29, is our oldest son, who is in graduate school at Indiana University.

He and Arlene lived for a year in a compact little student apartment, but when their first baby was due, they decided they needed an extra bedroom.

DR. CRANE

"Dad," he began, "we are debating what to do. We can get a larger student apartment for about $125 per month.

"Or we might start buying a house in Bloomington. We've looked at a couple of old homes that need some renovation.

"They'd require a down payment of about $5,000. Maybe we could rent out a couple of rooms to students to help pay for the heat and light bills.

★ ★ ★

"But lately we have hit on another plan. We can buy a 50-foot mobile home with two bedrooms for a total cash payment of less than $5,000.

"It will be all modern, too. We can locate the mobile home in a very convenient Trailer Park for $35 per month rent.

"That $29 pays for water and the sewer connection. So what do you think we should do?"

★ ★ ★

Well, I asked him how much his oil bill for the oil furnace would run per year, plus his electricity and bottled gas for his kitchen stove.

Phillip figured they would average not more than $20 per month, which meant his rent and other necessary expenses of the mobile home would total about $40 per month.

Meanwhile, he would be paying about 6 per cent interest on the $5,000 he would borrow to buy the mobile home. That 6 per cent totals $300 per year or $25 per month.

★ ★ ★

Added to the $40 already itemized he could thus have his own 2-bedroom modern home for a total outlay of $65 monthly, against a rental fee of double that sum for a university apartment.

So Philip bought the mobile home, and has been quite pleased with it.

★ ★ ★

His purchase was economically justified, but many people jeopardize their budget by spending too much for a home.

Dr. E. F. Donaldson, at Ohio State University, recently announced that the price of your new home should not run more than 2½ times your annual income.

If you are thus earning $5,000 per year, that means the ceiling on the price of your home should not exceed $12,500.

The usual graduate student obviously does not make $5,000 per year.

★ ★ ★

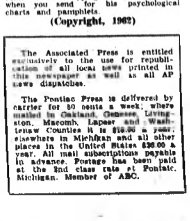

Even if he were on a graduate fellowship of $1,800 and getting G.I monthly aid of $125, his total income would thus not exceed $3,300 so such a person could not afford to pay more than about $8,500 for a home.

★ ★ ★

Mobile homes are thus a very attractive deal for college students and moderate wage earners.

Unless the young married couple have in-laws who will make a down payment on the new home as a wedding gift, or unless they have worked and saved their money for several years prior to the wedding, they better stick closely to Dr. Donaldson's ceiling price.

Dr. Donaldson also advises a down payment that totals 25 per cent of the purchase price. Even at that 25 per cent down payment

Dr. Donaldson says the remaining carrying charges for a man on $5,000 annual income should not run more than one-third ($1,666) yearly for housing!

Radioactivity in Hawaii Up, but not Dangerously

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaiian health officials reported Monday that Honolulu's atmospheric radioactivity over the weekend was 10 times higher than normal—but still far below hazardous levels.

A spokesman emphasized that radioactivity would have to be "thousands of times" higher than normal to endanger health.

200 California Chapters, Reports Birch Society

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Founder Robert Welch of the John Birch Society says the militantly anti-Communist organization now has more than 200 chapters in California.

Each chapter has 10 to 20 members, Welch said in a luncheon address Monday. He said the society is growing rapidly throughout the nation, but didn't mention the total membership figure.

Stops Constipation due to "Aging Colon"

Relief, doctors say, lies in new laxative principle that re-creates 3 essentials of youthful regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents dry out and shrink so they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief.

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain; (2) helps restore flabby colon muscles with unique rebuilding action; (3) acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. Introductory Size 43¢.

Key Stocks Off Slightly

Market in General Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—Continued softness in Ford was a feature in a generally declining stock market early today. Trading was moderate.

Losses of most key stocks were small, a few stretching to a point of more. Here and there a leading issue bucked the downtrend.

Ford was down about 3 points as it resumed a slide which brokers said was based on long-term profit taking. The stock has risen to a high of 117½ and today was trading more than 10 points below that.

Other auto stocks were unchanged to a bit lower, General Motors dropping a fraction.

Steels showed an uneven tendency to the downside following President Kennedy's request that steel management and labor hasten an agreement to replace the pacts expiring June 30.

* * *

Rails continued fairly firm on balance. Small gainers appeared among building materials, drugs, tobaccos and mail order-retails.

Some of the "special situation" oils—involved in rumors about liquidations profitable to shareholders—were weak. Amerada, which has had quite a run up recently, dropped about a point. TXL Oil was off 1⅛ at 24 on successive blocks of 8,000 and 5,000 shares.

Utilities dragged their heels, displaying a string of fractional losses. Chemicals were mixed, with Union Carbide up more than a point.

* * *

Prices were irregularly lower on the American Stock Exchange. Fractional losers included Polard Electronics, Molybdenum, New England Telephone, Heli-Coil and Creole Petroleum. Small gains were made by Technicolor, Sherwin-Williams and Barnes Engineering.

Bonds Irregular at Start

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices opened in an irregular pattern today.

* * *

Over-the-counter dealers quoted some long U.S. government issues down 2/32. Most intermediates were unchanged in quiet dealings.

Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange were unevenly higher although the rail section appeared to dip. Industrials and utilities advanced.

Among the few changes amounting to a full point or more were National Steel 3⅛s, up 1 at 85½.

Fractional gainers included: Detroit Edison 3s at 89¾, Southern Bell 3s at 82, Lockheed 4½s at 93 and Southern Pacific Oregon Railroad 4½s at 97½.

Tax Assistance Now Available

Office Open in Federal Building on Huron St.; Phone Calls Taken

Assistance on the filing of federal income tax forms is available to taxpayers each Monday at the Federal Building, Perry and Huron streets.

Telephone information may be obtained from the Internal Revenue office any day of the week.

* * *

This information service to taxpayers will be available up until the tax deadline, April 16, according to C. E. Coddington, group supervisor of the Office Audit Branch. Since the normal April 15 tax deadline falls on a Sunday this year, the final day for tax payment is April 16.

* * *

Four employes of the Internal Revenue Audit Division are on hand each Monday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. to answer tax questions. Telephone inquiries are accepted each day during regular working hours, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and tax forms may be picked up at the office during these hours.

"Up to now we haven't been too rushed on Monday," Coddington stated, "but we have been handling a great deal of phone inquiries." The phone number of the Internal Revenue office is FE 8-7101.

Coddington pointed out that the 1040A form, which can be used by anyone with an annual income under $10,000, has been greatly simplified and in many cases, can be completed in a matter of minutes.

* * *

The group supervisor recommended the Treasury Department publications for individual and small business taxpayers. These guide manuals are written in the layman's language, Coddington said, and are very comprehensive. The guide books are available at the Internal Revenue office and may be purchased for 40 cents.

* * *

Taxpayers who intend to visit the Internal Revenue office on Mondays to receive assistance with their returns should use the Mill Street entrance to the building.

Orion Twp. Girl, Struck by Car; in Fair Condition

An 18-year-old Orion Township girl was seriously injured last night when struck by a car while she was walking on Miller Road less than a mile from her home.

In fair condition with a fractured pelvis at Pontiac General Hospital is Betty J. Hoppe of 74 Snyder Road.

She was struck by a car driven by Mrs. June E. Rupert, 32, of 24 Conklin Drive, Orion Township, shortly before 7 p.m. Mrs. Rupert told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies she didn't see the girl walking along the road before the accident.

* * *

Deputies said it was snowing at the time the mishap occurred.

Regional U.S. Business Affects Utility Stocks

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Utility earnings and stock prices are mirroring today the changing regional patterns of the U.S. economy as well as the ups and downs of the business cycle.

Usually utility profits go on advancing at about the same rate year after year. That is because they are government regulated companies with their charges held fairly closely in line with their revenues and earnings.

* * *

But this time there's a change. Figures for the 12 months ending Nov. 30, the latest available, show a smaller over-all profit gain than usual. And earnings of a much larger number of companies than usual fell below the previous 12 months.

* * *

The pattern tends to be regional and spotty. Those falling behind are mostly either in the industrial areas where much of their revenues depend on the activities of factories and mills or in the older population centers where growth has slowed or, in some cases, where population has dropped.

LESS POWER SOLD

Only in the last few months of the 12-month period was activity rising in factories and mills. In most of the period covered the utilities sold less power to industry.

The utilities still showing the usual pep in revenue and profit growth are mostly in the new-growth areas, where both population and industry has been expanding, even during the recession.

* * *

Stock prices have reflected these changing fortunes of the individual companies. But the spurt in prices last year and the subsequent reaction also have been due to other things.

The utility stocks looked good for steady income, for steady if modest growth, and for a hedge against the gyrations of some of the glamor stocks. Prices got pushed pretty high. Then when earnings didn't rise, too, some traders decided the reduced yield from utility stocks didn't make them as big a bargain as they once thought.

COURSE CHARTED

The course of utility stock prices can be charted by the 15 utility stock price average index of The Associated Press, which includes 14 in the electrical energy field and giant American Telephone & Telegraph in communications.

The index started 1961 at its low point of 111.8. The high was reached Dec. 12 at 148.9. Then the reaction set in and the index closed the year at 143.1 At close of trading Jan 12 it stood at 138.7. This keeps it well above year ago prices, if notably down in the last four weeks.

* * *

The total 12 month after-tax earnings of 89 power utilities is $1,245,935,000, a gain of 3 per cent over the $1,211,358,000 the same companies earned in the previous 12 months. The annual gain in profits has ranged between 5 and 7 per cent in the last 10 years. And in the latest year 25 of the 89 firms showed earnings falling behind the previous 12 months. Usually only a fraction of that number do.

* * *

AT&T net income was higher than the 89 power companies combined. Adding it into the utility total, since it is included in the AP utility stock index, you have a total of $2,517,021,000 in the latest 12 months, a gain of 4 per cent over the previous period.

The slowdown in utility earnings as a whole may well be only temporary. Receipts and profits were rising at the end of the period for all except those in areas where population and industrial growth had stopped. As the industrial recovery continues, utility earnings in general are expected to rise.

And many expect 1962 reports to look much better for the industry as a whole than will 1961 when the final figures are in.

January Car Output Much Better Than '61

DETROIT (AP) — Two weeks of work has shown that January will be a far better production month for the auto industry this year than last, but it won't come up to the rosy predictions made only weeks ago.

Production so far would indicate total output of 635,000 cars but mounting inventories may well trim this figure. Original schedules called for 678,000. A year ago the five manufacturers turned out only 414,498 cars.

Dealer stocks of new cars on Jan. 1 were estimated at 821,000, comfortably under last year's 998,000 but still more than had been anticipated by some 100,000.

Business Notes

T. Boice Purdy, 205 Linden Road, marketing staff supervisor, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., has been installed as secretary of the Detroit Chapter, American Statistical Association for 1962.

Other officers are G. Doyle Dodge of Royal Oak, sales analyst, McLouth Steel Corp., president; Dr. T. Donald Rucker of Dearborn, director, Department of Economics and Research, Greater Detroit Board of Commerce vice president; and Gordon Horsburgh of Detroit, business research staff, General Motors Corp., treasurer.

CONTEST FINALIST—Pretty Susan Hunt, 16, of 553 Bagley Drive, Lake Orion, is one of 16 finalists in the Miss Junior Achievement of 1962 Contest for Southeastern Michigan. The young businesswomen will vie for the title in Detroit Jan. 26, and the winner will reign over the week-long Junior Achievement Week activities Jan. 29-Feb. 3. She also will serve as official hostess at JA's Industrial Trade Fair to be held Jan. 29-30 at 20½ E. Pike Street.

Folks Aware '62 Is Here (on Checks)

The general public has made a quick adjustment to the fact that the year 1962 has arrived, as evidenced by the results of a survey of local banks and utility companies handling large numbers of personal checks.

People don't seem to be as lax about using the prior year's date on their checks this January as in some past years, Milo Cross, president of the Pontiac State Bank observed.

* * *

The Community National Bank accounting department also reported that the number of misdated checks handled so far this month has been negligible.

Charles Brown, public relations representative for Consumers Power Company, and Charles Brouillet, who functions for Michigan Bell in the same capacity, both substantiated the findings of the two banks, that 1961 dates on checks have been few and far between.

Though none of the banks or utility companies keeps a record of misdated checks, the consensus of information provided by them would indicate that less than one half of one per cent of the checks handled are misdated.

In the event a check is dated wrong, it is processed in the usual manner without any required correction by the signer.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Analyst Arthur Wiesenberger thinks changes in market leadership have been proceeding rapidly.

Issues that moved up so easily in 1961 were offered in volume on the recent decline, he notes, while the heavier more cyclical capital goods issues—rails, coppers, steels, machinery and the like—met with better demand.

"These trends, we think, will continue." The firm regards the recent decline as temporary in time and scope and continues to suggest a positive policy of equity investment.

* * *

After consulting its charts, John H. Lewis & Co. concludes that the outlook at this time is for the Dow-Jones industrial average to decline over the next 6 to 9 months, subject to the usual rallies.

* * *

Alexander Hamilton Institute believes the market is at a mature stage and says it is only good insurance for prudent investors to consider saving capital rather than risking it.

* * *

Thomson & McKinnon says the market outlook still seems to favor the more cyclical areas and it would place the steels in the forefront of such groups.

* * *

Richard T. Leahy of J. W. Sparks & Co. says that on the basis of what has happened so far this year, "it is our reasoning that another sell-off may be in the making." He thinks last Thursday's rebound left much to be desired in several ways.

* * *

Standard & Poor's outlook says the probabilities are that the stock market is not far from a stabilization area and says its policy no longer calls for profit-taking, except in the case of obviously overpriced issues. Instead it would be alert to buying opportunities that might develop in the period ahead.

News in Brief

A television set and two pair of women's shoes were stolen by thieves who broke into the Jones Motor Co. at 234 Elm St. during the previous night, it was reported to Pontiac police yesterday.

Burglars who entered his residence between 8 and 11:30 p. m. yesterday took a carton of cigarettes and a pistol valued at $20, Joseph E. Lambert of 1047 Cloverlawn St. told police today.

3 African Nations Ready for Full Economic Ties

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. Economic Commission for Africa said Monday that independent Tanganyika, the British colony of Kenya and the British protectorate of Uganda "the on the threshold of full economic integration."

The commission's latest economic bulletin for Africa said those three eastern African neighbors had the same income tax system and excise rates, formed a customs and currency union and enjoyed "almost complete internal freedom of trade."

30-Foot Wire Protests Park in Dunes Area

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — A 30-foot telegram protesting the proposed establishment of a Sleeping Bear Dunes national recreation area is headed for the White House.

The telegram bears names and addresses of 1,079 signers in Leelanau and Benzie counties protesting to President Kennedy the proposed establishment of the area.

The telegram said in part:

"We respectfully urge you to study testimony submitted in opposition to this bill and, for the sake of future generations, to curb the actions of Secretary Udall in his social experiments with other people's properties.

To Hear Report on Job of Absent Vote Counters

Heading a short City Commission meeting agenda tonight will be a report from City Attorney William A. Ewart on legal aspects of absent voter counting boards.

Commisioners asked Ewart to check the matter last week when they questioned the number of persons on such boards and their power to rule a ballot invalid.

City Clerk, Olga Barkeley, following a new state law, proposed that a board be set up to count absentee ballots in the city's spring elections at city hall.

Previously, absentee ballots were counted at their respective polling places.

In other business, commissioners are expected to okay a license and lease agreement with Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital leasing part of Mill Street for routing of heating and oxygen lines from the hospital's plant to the new addition.

State Grain Stocks Greater Than in '61

LANSING (AP) — Farm stocks of corn, wheat, barley and soybeans of Michigan farms Jan. 1 were greater than a year ago, the State Crop Reporting Service said Monday.

Stocks of corn — 82.5 million bushels — are at a record for the date.

Oats, rye and hay stocks all declined, with the 24.9 million bushels of oats at a lower percentage of production since January, 1934.

Milk production in December was 416 million pounds, up eight per cent from the previous December, the agency said. The preliminary total for 1961 indicates production was about 2.5 per cent over the 1960 level.

Egg production last month, 112 million eggs, was 2.5 per cent over December, 1960. The decline in the number of layers was more than off set by the increase in the rate of lay, the report said.

Thief Takes Police Car

WASHINGTON (AP)—Police of Prince George County in nearby Maryland are keeping a sharp eye out for a dark blue 1961 four-door sedan reported stolen—it's their chief's official car.

About 83 per cent of the total of a normal man's span of knowledge comes to him through his eyes. The other four senses share in the remaining 17 per cent.

Supervisors Favor Local Direction

Back Mental Health Plan

State Senator Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, yesterday gained local support for his plan to put administration of Michigan's mental health program at the community level.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors' Legislative Committee agreed to back the senator here and throughout the metropolitan area.

Sen. Roberts outlined the plan, which he has drafted into a bill to go before the State Legislature this term, at a meeting with the committee in Pontiac.

Basically, the senator proposes that a local community board take over administration of child guidance clinics—and eventually adult clinics—and that it be appointed by the chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

* * *

He is convinced that enabling more emotionally disturbed persons to receive early outpatient care at the clinics would result in vacant beds in the long-overcrowded state mental institutions.

The result would be two-fold, he said—curing troubled persons before they become mental cases needing to be institutionalized and thus cutting the cost of care.

According to Sen. Roberts' plan, the clinics would receive matching funds from the state with perhaps a sliding scale for poorer counties.

SUGGESTS REVENUE

Local funds might be raised through a state income tax where cities and counties would receive 1 per cent for mental care, he suggested. Or without a state income tax, these municipalities might raise from ¼ to ⅓ a mill for such purpose, he added.

The county could collect the tax in the same way it raises funds for the Huron Valley—Clinton Park Authority, the senator pointed out.

The Legislative Committee, headed by John G. Semann, supervisor from Berkley, agreed to recommend support of Sen. Roberts' bill by both the County Board of Supervisors and the Supervisors Inter-County Committee, composed of members from Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Sen Roberts said he expected opposition to his bill from the State Health Department. A spokesman for the department reported it was in favor of clinics but operated under the department instead of locally.

The senator is chairman of a Senate interim committee on the community mental health problem.

County Corporation Counsel Norman R. Barnard termed Sen. Roberts' proposal "capable of solving local (mental health) problems."

Barnard pointed out two problems here:

During the past three years the Board of Supervisors has appropriated funds to care for emergency cases of mentally ill in private hospitals so they could be kept out of the county jail until they might be admitted to a state institution.

"However, greater numbers of patients are being housed each year at county expense and for longer periods of time," he said.

"At the end of 1960 there were 24 patients at St. Clair Hospital (in Detroit) at county expense awaiting admittance to state institutions, and at the end of 1961 there were 64 patients."

Barnard and other county officials foresee the number in this category continuing to grow at proportionately increasing cost to the county.

The second problem referred to concerns annual requests for increasing county funds for the child guidance clinics now in operation, with no way at present to raise more funds.

A special committee appointed by the Board of Supervisors to study the child guidance clinic program has recommended that the state and county each pay half of the program's cost.

The committee's recommendations are being reviewed by the board's Ways and Means Committee headed by David Levinson, supervisor from Birmingham. No conclusions have been reached yet.

To Hit House Ban on TV Coverage

Rep. Meader Will Test Ruling Against Media at Committee Sessions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House ban on television, radio and photographic coverage of its committee sessions was up for challenge from the floor today by Rep. George Meader, R-Mich.

Meader said Monday he would raise a preliminary question in order to get a ruling from the new speaker, Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass. McCormack said he would be prepared to rule though giving no hint of which way.

The question of permitting television, newsreel and still cameramen and radio technicians to cover open sessions of House committees — as they do Senate hearings — was discussed many times during the late Democratic Speaker Sam Rayburn's long tenure as speaker.

But parliamentary specialists say it was raised formally only twice and each time Rayburn ruled that since the House rules do not specifically authorize such coverage, it is not permitted.

* * *

Rep. Joseph H. Martin Jr., R-Mass., who had two terms as speaker before Rayburn's stints, took the opposite view that the rules would permit broadcast and photo coverage.

Meader told the House today it would "seem clearly in the public interest to permit full and free use" of the various media to cover house committee proceedings.

Detroit Hosts World Premiere of New Musical

DETROIT (AP)—Richard Rodgers' much-anticipated new musical "No Strings" had its world premiere before a capacity audience Monday night at the Fisher Theater.

It is the first major work done by Rodgers since the death of his long-time collaborator, the late Oscar Hammerstein II, and there was great interest in it among theater-goers.

Even Wyatt Earp — actor Hugh O'Brian — journeyed to Detroit for the occasion. Many in the hushed, expectant throng were in full evening dress.

"No Strings" is a nostalgic musical love story of an American Negro model in Paris, played by Diahann Carroll, and an expatriate white American author bumming around Europe. He is played by Richard Kiley.

Discuss Bizerte Base

PARIS (AP) — French and Tunisian officials today opened negotiations on Tunisia's demand that the French give up the strategic Bizerte Naval and Air Base in Northeast Tunisia.

Auditors' Board to Work on Next Year's Budget

The Oakland County Board of Auditors will begin work on the 1963 tentative county budget Feb. 5, according to a schedule released yesterday through the corporation counsel's office.

Auditors that day will open hearings with the personnel and budgeting divisions of county government.

Hearings will continue through March 2, with the board expecting to present its recommendations to the salaries committee of the Board of Supervisors March 5.

Following review by the ways and means committee, the tentative budget for next year will be presented to the Board of Supervisors April 10 for allocation purposes, according to the schedule.

* * *

A final budget for 1963 will be recommended to the board Sept. 10.

Doctor Escapes From His Car in Rouge River

SOUTHFIELD — A Southfield doctor escaped with only minor injuries in a freak accident last night in which his car landed upside down in the Rouge River.

Dr. Albert J. Scarchilli, 28, of 23505 Lee Baker Drive, was driving on Northwestern Highway at 10:45 p. m. when his car skidded on the ice, went of the road, through a guard rail and over a concrete retaining wall. It came to rest upside down in the Rouge River.

A passing motorist called police. By the time they arrived, the doctor had been able to get himself out of the car and was walking up the embankment. He was taken to Detroit Osteopathic Hospital where he is a member of the staff and is in good condition this morning with only face and hand injuries.

Masked Bandit Holds Up Store on Auburn Road

The owner of a Pontiac Township grocery store told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he was robbed of $125 by a masked bandit last night.

* * *

William Holdsworth, owner of Holdsworth's Market at 2653 Auburn Road, said the thief, wearing a woman's kerchief over his face, held his hand in his pocket as if carrying a gun, and ordered him behind the counter. Then he took the money from the cash register.

* * *

Warning Holdsworth he would be a "dead man" if he followed, the bandit fled through the front door. Deputies followed his tracks to Auburn Road and Rosetta Court where they believe he made his escape in a car.
