A citizen committee looking into Pontiac's municipal money problems has endorsed and sent to the City Commission a proposal asking a spring advisory vote on a city income tax.

Coupled with an income levy, the measure suggests, would be a 2-mill charter reduction in the city's property tax powers.

If passed, the millage proposal would cut the city's general fund levy to $8 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

State law sets an income tax at 1 per cent on residents and 1/2 per cent on non-residents working in the city.

Final approval of the recommendation came by voice vote last night at a 90-minute meeting of the Pontiac Finance Study Committee (PFSC).

AMENDED

The committee amended only slightly

a report which emerged from its revenue subcommittee last week.

The subcommittee had asked that the city guarantee a 2-mill property tax reduction.

Urging stronger assurances of a lower levy on home owners, however, the full committee last night inserted a provision that any reduction be in the form of a charter amendment.

The committee, chaired by Robert R.

Eldred, also indicated — pending City Commission reaction to the proposal — that its members intended to remain active in promoting voter support of the measure.

QUALIFIED

Those sentiments were qualified, however, by an almost unanimous insistence that a "concrete package of services" be offered as the projected result of a tax increase.

18 Killed as Jet Crashes Into New Orleans Motel

SCENE OF CRASH — Wreckage of a Delta DC8 is strewn over a wide area after it crashed into a New Orleans motel, claiming some 18 lives early today. Parts of the plane lay on the road (bottom of photo) while other pieces of the aircraft are rammed into several sections of the motel.

Victims Include Nine Schoolgirls

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A cartwheeling Delta Air Lines DC8 jet exploded into the rear of a luxury motel opposite New Orleans International Airport early today, killing 18 persons including 9 high school students from Juda, Wis.

The big jet was on a training flight. It carried five pilots and a federal inspector. All died in the flaming crash at the Hilton Inn.

The students were on a senior class outing, part of a group of 32 from Juda High School who had been at the motel since Monday and were scheduled to leave today.

The bodies of eight of the students—all girls—were found huddled together in charred bathrooms of the motel.

They had turned on the showers in a futile attempt to escape the holocaust.

OUTSIDE THE BUILDING

The body of another girl student was found outside the building.

The jet fell as it was banking sharply to return to the landing strip. It struck two houses, peeled off the top of a truck and began cartwheeling, spewing fuel and blistering the area.

It blew apart when it smashed into a rear corner of the rectangular shaped multimillion-dollar motel.

NOSE EMBEDDED

The nose of the craft was embedded in the structure.

The motel erupted in fierce flames after the jet struck. Numerous rooms were destroyed or damaged.

At least 10 persons were treated for injuries at a New Orleans hospital.

The surviving students, many hysterical or in a daze, were placed under sedation by doctors. Some wore Bermuda shorts, others were dressed in bikinis.

Police Capt. Marvin Leonard said the plane "spewed a sea of fuel right to those rooms where those eight kids were staying. That's what killed them. Not the impact from the wreckage.

"There were eight girls in four rooms. You could see where they took refuge in the shower stalls. One girl even took her purse with her.

Romney's Tax Plan Heading for Defeat

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Romney's income tax bill was in position for a final vote in the Senate today — and faced almost certain defeat.

Most senators, both Republicans and Democrats, predicted the bill would be rejected today and returned to committee where a measure of compromise could be worked out between the parties.

The taxation committee would have two weeks—until an April 13 committee report deadline — to work out a compromise and report the bill back to the floor for reconsideration.

"On the assumption of the possibility that it won't pass, I have assurance from the Democrats that they will help resurrect it," said Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis.

However, Lockwood declined to predict how many senators would vote for the bill, calling for a 2 1/2 per cent personal income tax, 5 per cent corporate tax and 8 per cent tax on financial institutions.

REPUBLICANS IN OPPOSITION

The bill would require 20 votes to pass. There are 20 Republicans and 18 Democrats in the Senate, but observers believe at least five Republicans and no Democrats will vote for the tax in its present form.

"I predict the 20 votes won't be there," said Senate Taxation Committee Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, whose committee has been working on the bill since January.

DeMaso said he believed the bill would be "sent back to committee and Republicans and Democrats will work to develop an acceptable package."

"The second time around it will pass," DeMaso said, "because I don't think any one wants to come back to a fall session based on the fact schools and counties must prepare budgets."

The bill's backers say it must be passed in time to give school officials an idea of how much money will be available for operations.

The Senate spent less than 30 minutes last night in debating the bill, one of eight bills in Romney's fiscal reform package, before moving it onto third reading — the position for final passage.

The bill drew only one amendment from the floor. Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, proposed that any increase in the tax rates adopted by future legislators be approved by a vote of the people.

Kuhn withdrew his amendment after fellow senators pointed out that his amendment would have no binding effect on subsequent legislatures, which could amend the bill as they saw fit.

Dems in House Elect Leader

LANSING (AP) — Rep. William A. Ryan of Detroit, who doesn't smoke, seldom drinks, and possibly works longer hours than any other legislator, is the new Democratic leader in the House of Representatives.

Ryan, 48, a devout Roman Catholic and a House member since 1958, was elected by his party's caucus in a secret vote yesterday, beating Rep. Albert Horgan, D-Flint, on the fourth ballot.

Democrats refused to reveal the vote totals, but the Ryan-Horgan race was described as close.

Candidates J. Bob Traxler of Bay City, Daniel Cooper of Oak Park and Arthur Law of Pontiac were eliminated on the first three ballots.

Ryan reportedly had 24 votes on the first ballot and 27—just one short of the needed majority—on the second.

Newcomers to Lansing, who note Ryan's quiet, methodical manner, are sometimes surprised to learn he is a Marine Corps veteran of World War II and was twice president of United Auto Workers Local 104.

Second Bomb Discovered in Sterling School

A second homemade bomb — this one not equipped with a fuse — was discovered this morning at Sterling Junior High School, 12500 19 Mile, Sterling Township.

School authorities said the alarm clock triggered device was found in the same lavatory by the same matron, Mrs. Charlotte Stoddard, at 7:30 a.m. She had discovered a similar bomb there last month which was subsequently defused with no damage occurring.

The school was not occupied at the early hour and Sterling Township police were called. They examined the bomb and sent it to Michigan State Police for investigation.

Students were still, being questioned regarding the previous bomb finding.

Senators Oppose Dodd Ouster but Refuse to Exonerate Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee has decided against recommending expulsion of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd. But neither will it exonerate him of misconduct charges.

It also was learned yesterday that the panel will not propose that Dodd be stripped of his Senate seniority or penalized financially in any way.

The 59-year-old Connecticut Democrat's financial affairs and his relations with an agent of West German business interests have been under investigation by the bipartisan committee for more than a year.

The committee's recommendations to the Senate are not expected for three or four weeks, but the staff is working on a preliminary draft.

At a secret meeting last week, to set guidelines for the staff, the committee ruled out both total exoneration and expulsion, it was learned.

'BETWEEN EXTREMES'

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., one of the six committee members, said when asked about this he thought it was fair to conclude that whatever action is taken "will fall between these two extremes."

In-between courses of action could include censure or condemnation of Dodd's conduct or some other form of reprimand or rebuke.

It appeared the committee's report is likely to make different findings on various aspects of Dodd's activities.

Sunny Skies Will Give Way to Rain

Today's sunny skies, and showers forecast for tonight or tomorrow, will help spring-blooming flowers reach new heights.

Temperatures are expected to register in the high 30s tonight and soar into the 60s tomorrow.

Partly cloudy with seasonal temperatures is the outlook for Saturday.

The thermometer recorded a low of 35 at 6 a.m. today. The mercury climbed to 65 by 2 p.m.

'Mud Not Hindering Mail Much'

Some Pontiac area residents living on unpaved roads have complained that their mail isn't always delivered because of muddy conditions.

Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said today his office has received a few complaints. However, he emphasized there has been no major breakdown of mail delivery this spring.

"Only a few carriers were unable to deliver some mail yesterday because of muddy impassable roads in a few localized situations," he added.

If a carrier can get to the mailboxes, he will deliver the mail, but occasionally the road conditions make this impossible.

Donaldson cited a recent incident where a carrier's truck was stuck for 1 1/2 hours on a muddy road. It took 7 1/2 hours to repair the broken axle and the transmission, after the wrecker pulled the truck out and towed it to the station.

YOU NEVER KNOW

"Carriers take the temporarily unlivable mail with them every day because what might have been impassable yesterday could be fine today," Donaldson said.

Patrons in impassable areas who want their mail should call or come to the post office.

If in Zip Code area 48063, 54, 55, or 58, the patron should contact the superintendent of mails at the Pontiac Post Office.

If the area Zip Code is 48057, the Auburn Heights Post Office should be contacted.

'New School Cheaper Than Improving PCH'

The Pontiac Board of Education learned last night that it will be less costly to build a new high school at another site than to modernize Pontiac Central.

The remodeling of the school and the construction of additions would cost approximately $2.5 million, Charles Sherman of the Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., told board members.

The firm had been retained two months ago to determine what renovations would be required to meet proposals made by the teaching staff and administrators during an 18-month study.

The additions would require the razing of the Crofoot Elementary School adjacent to Central since usable land is at a premium.

To replace the Crofoot school would require an additional $800,000, according to Richard Fell, assistant superintendent, bringing to over $9 million the cost of the total project.

ANOTHER PROBLEM

"This also raises the problem of where to house the children at Crofoot while construction is going on," said Fell.

There are 510 children enrolled at Crofoot.

The total cost for a new high school is estimated at $8.5 million, according to the architectural firm.

The firm reported that the high school is basically sound but does not meet today's requirements of a high school.

450 SQUARE FEET

Some of the rooms, it was noted, contain only 450 square feet, compared to the 800 to 900 square feet in new schools.

The main building at Central was built in 1912, with additions made in 1928 and 1952.

After hearing the report, the board directed the administra-

Auto Makers' Pleas Rejected

U. S. Shuns Changes in Safety Standards

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Traffic Safety Agency rejected today all of the appeals by 38 auto manufacturers for changes and deletions in the initial federal motor vehicle safety standards.

The agency did, however, grant a public hearing on the industry's objections to one key standard, the one providing for interior impact protection in the event of accidents.

Lowell K. Bridwell, acting undersecretary of commerce for transportation, said the auto manufacturers requested a wide variety of changes, deletions or postponements of the effective dates of 18 of the 20 standards issued Jan. 31.

The agency only granted minor technical amendments or interpretations.

The public hearing on interior impact protection will permit the manufacturers to explain and produce evidence on their argument that they cannot meet all the details of the standard by the deadline next Jan. 1.

That proposed rule says instrument panels, seat backs, sun visors, arm rests and knobs and handles must be constructed to reduce the possibility of injury to occupants of the cars in accidents.

In a series of legal rulings, the agency:

- Turned down changes and delays requested by auto companies for 13 of the 18 standards, which the manufacturers wanted revised. Clarifications and interpretations were issued for all the remaining standards except the two which were not involved.
- Adopted minor technical rephrasing in relation to portions of three of these standards.
- Announced it will schedule industry testimony before a hearing officer for additional data on the interior impact protection standard.

Fund Solicitation Fraud Charged to Eight in State

LANSING (AP) — Eight persons charged with fraudulently collecting "thousands upon thousands of dollars" by claiming to be working for crippled children were arrested today following an investigation by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

The eight, all representing week-old corporation called United Crippled Children's Fund, were charged with making charitable solicitations without a license and under false pretenses and with conspiracy to do both.

Kelley said it was not immediately known whether any of the money, collected by the group in a telephone solicitation campaign aimed mainly at businessmen, actually was used for any charitable purpose.

The organization filed articles of incorporation with the state only last week, Kelley added.

Kelley said the organization called businessmen and solicited contributions, then sent bills for the pledged amount under its letterhead.

The group's stationery contained the abbreviation "UNICEF" — which identifies the United Nations' child welfare organization, Kelley said, adding the group was not connected with the United Nations.

Kelley said three of those arrested were incorporators of the "Crippled Children's Fund." He identified them as Lee Williford of Detroit and Walter R. Burnette and Margaret Gaines, both of Roseville.

Volunteer Center Will Open

BIRMINGHAM — A clearing house for volunteers willing to devote time to health and welfare agencies of Oakland County will open soon in Room 320 of the Birmingham Theater Building, 231 S. Woodward.

Sponsored jointly by the United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit (UCS) and the Junior League of Birmingham, the new center will be a branch operation of the Central Volunteer Bureau.

Decision to open the clearing house grew out of a growing need in the area on the part of agencies as well as citizens who want to volunteer their time and talents to service programs in the community.

Mrs. Edward B. Emery, Junior League president, and Mrs. James H. Wineman, chairman-elect of the Central Volunteer Bureau's administrative council, said the bureau would operate on a three-year trial basis.

Its announced objectives are:

- Recruitment of volunteers according to specific agency needs.
- Placement of volunteers according to service opportunities which are best suited to their interests and capabilities.
- Development of well-administered volunteer programs.
- Promotion of the volunteer's role in the community.

Residents Get Warning on Thin Lake Ice

Pontiac area residents planning a stroll on "frozen" lakes will be reading on thin ice — or no ice at all.

That was the warning issued today by Lt. Donald K. Kratt, head of the safety division of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

"There's actually no ice on most of the shores around here," he said, "and the ice in the center of the lakes is very weak and unsafe."

He said that what appears to be solid ice nearer shore is honeycombed and pocketed.

"Parents should keep their children away from the water and ice fishermen should use extreme caution in removing their shanties from the lakes," he said.

Kratt estimated it would take three or four days of subzero weather to make the ice solid enough for safety.

"Not only is that unlikely," he said, "but the windy weather of March and early April tends to break up the ice even more."

Chicago Girl Is Still Sought

CHICAGO (AP) — Police are still seeking a firm tie on the fate of Carrie Stephens, 8, who disappeared from a sidewalk near her family's north side home Monday evening after a man had stopped to talk with her and her playmates.

Carrie's friends ran to her mother, Alice Stephens, and said that Carrie walked away with the man. The man was described as fat and about 40. He offered the children $1 if they could find a little dog which he said was lost.

Although more than 200 persons have called police with tips and advice, there has been no trace of Carrie.

Anti-Romney Man Plans Primary Race

JACKSON (AP) — A Jackson man who at one time described Gov. George Romney as a "fabulous fraud" says he plans to run against Romney as a Republican presidential candidate in West Virginia's 1968 primary election.

John McCabe, 54, now terms himself an anti-Romney man and has been checking into the West Virginia election laws. McCabe, who has no record of political activity in Michigan, ran as a write-in candidate against Richard Nixon in the 1960 presidential primary.

Woman Named to Head UF Residential Campaign

The appointment of Mrs. Robert C. Irwin, 435 W. Iroquois, to head the Pontiac Area United Fund Residential Campaign Division was announced today by Frederick J. Poole, 1967 General chairman.

She succeeds Mrs. James Cowen of Clarkston who held the post in 1966.

Last year the residential United Fund solicitation netted $35,997 of the $1,042,107 raised toward operating expenses of the 55 agencies affiliated with the once-a-year campaign.

Mrs. Irwin will be responsible for major campaign appointments in Pontiac, Waterford, Independence, Orion and Lake Angelus areas and in over-all planning of residential campaign activities.

HONORED

Recently named "Most Outstanding Young Woman in Community Service" by the Pontiac Jaycee Auxiliary, Mrs. Irwin, the mother of two and wife of local real estate broker and Pontiac City Commissioner Robert C. Irwin has long been active in United Fund activities as a residential solicitor and district chairman and was recently appointed to the Governing Board of the PAUF Women's Division.

MRS. ROBERT C. IRWIN

"The importance of sound family relationship in an increasingly complex society cannot be overemphasized," Mrs. Irwin stated in accepting the appointment. "Women in particular know how important family, health and youth programs are to the well-being of families. The Homecoming program, which will join the Pontiac Area United Fund in April, is but one of many services helping to meet family needs and requiring additional support through this year's drive."

"Voluntary citizenship commitment on the part of many hundreds of volunteers is needed to raise the necessary funds, and to let other housewives know about the many services available."

ARRESTED TODAY

The eight were arrested today by attorney general's agents and state, Center Line and Roseville Police. They were in custody in Center Line.

The known solicitations were made in Wayne and Macomb counties, Kelley said.

Kelley said the organization called businessmen and solicited contributions, then sent bills for the pledged amount under its letterhead.

The group's stationery contained the abbreviation "UNICEF" — which identifies the United Nations' child welfare organization, Kelley said, adding the group was not connected with the United Nations.

Sierra Leone Regime Resisted

FREETOWN, Sierra Leone—Street crowds watched him with no show of emotion.

(AP) — Sierra Leone's new military government has aroused a notable lack of enthusiasm and stiffening civilian resistance in this West African country.

The ruling National Reform Council has announced it would name a civilian advisory board, but the council's new chairman, Lt. Col. Andrew Terence Juxon-Smith, 35, said Wednesday it was a "possibility" there would be no civilian advisers.

At least one prominent Freetown resident has turned down an invitation to advise the council of five army officers and two police officials.

New rulers have announced only three congratulatory messages, claims it won more seats. The one of them from Sierra Leone popular vote was 200,000 for the APC to 240,000 for the SLPP.

Lansana took over when the governor-general, Sir Henry J. through Freetown on his arrival from Europe Tuesday, normal

The general said the election results were incomplete. Three days later the younger officers who formed the reformation council ousted Lansana and announced that he, Stevens, Margai and Lightfoot-Boston had been put in custody and would remain there until the "constitutional crisis is sorted out."

CREOLE INFLUENCE
Observers believe a civilian presence is important to the new rulers because of the strong Creole influence in the capital, the APC stronghold.

Pickle Packers Putting On Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pickle packing people came to town today passing out wooden pickle pickles and dill pickles. They're having a convention of Pickle Packers International, Inc., "for those who think pickles," according to their program.

W. R. Moore — "My name is Bill; it rhymes with dill" — secretary-treasurer, from St. Charles, Ill., said about 100 pickle packers were coming.

But, he said, they represent about $90 million worth of business.

BIG BUSINESS

He said in an interview the pickle packing industry is a $300 million-dollar-a-year business in this country; it uses 100 million dozen glass jars a year and more than a billion caps and labels.

"Pickles make pay checks," he said. Moore maintained that the American people eat more pickles per capita than butter. It's below six pounds annually for butter, almost seven pounds for pickles, he claimed.

"I say the government can support guns and pickles," Moore declared.

The pickle packers have formed the Pickle Political Party. But all they do is pass out big white buttons that say "Vote for Pickles, the People's Choice."

The pickle-packing delegates were supposed to bring some members of congress to a reception this afternoon.

MISS PICKLE

But they're in a pickle — Congress is in recess. They're going to have the reception anyway to meet Miss Pickle, Kathleen Holby of Chicago.

Their convention winds up Friday with a party to celebrate the 4,000th birthday of the pickle.

Don't pin the packers down on just when the cucumber came into juxtaposition with the concept of preserving goods in brine. They figure it was about 2,000 years before the birth of Christ.

The year 1967 might as well be the 4,000 anniversary, they said.

NOT SO SERIOUS

Moore philosophized: "Well, everybody takes himself so damn seriously these days. . . ."

Housing Contract Aid to Lansing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development has awarded a financial assistance contract to the Lansing Housing Commission not to exceed $1,699,239 for the purchase of 100 low-rent homes.

The homes will be purchased by the commission under a concept which allows private developers to produce housing on their own land with private financing for sale upon completion to the local housing authority.

Trial Set for AF Protester

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Trial of an Air Force captain's suit to block his transfer from the Air Force Academy is scheduled for April 12.

Capt. Dale E. Noyd, 33, a 12-year veteran of the Air Force who teaches psychology, claims the proposed transfer would lead eventually to a flying a fighter plane in the Vietnam war.

U.S. District Judge William E. Doyle Wednesday granted Noyd's request for a temporary injunction blocking the transfer and set the trial date. Noyd had been ordered to report April 1 to Cannon Air Force Base, N.M., to receive training in the F100 jet fighter.

The injunction will remain in effect until a court determination of Noyd's suit. It asks the court to order his superiors to accept his resignation or assign him to duties consistent with his beliefs in humanitarianism.

Noyd told a news conference this week: "The war in Vietnam is unjust and immoral and if ordered to do so, I shall refuse to fight in that war."

He is being defended by lawyers for the American Civil Liberties Union.

Lanes in Lakes Are Still Closed

Signs Point to a Late Thaw in Key Areas

By the Associated Press

Few ships will be heading into the Great Lakes early this season because several northern channels still are closed by ice. There is no sign of an early opening at Green Bay in Lake Michigan, the North Channel in Lake Huron, the St. Marys River and the Straits of Mackinac.

The ice cover over Lake Superior and Georgian Bay increased slightly last week. After going through Round Island Passage recently, the icebreaker Mackinac recommended that no other ship attempt the channel "until radical improvement" occurs.

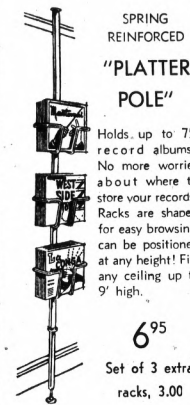

ONLY TO DETROIT

Self-unloaders of U.S. Steel's Bradley Fleet normally would be starting through the Straits to Lake Michigan ports with limestone.

But the first of these, the T. W. Robinson, loaded coal in Toledo and was en route today on the first of several trips only as far as Detroit.

Splintering Endangers Communist Movement

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

The illness of the world Communist movement is illuminated by what has been going on in Latin America.

No longer can advocates of armed revolution trust those who claim to be their allies. National interests get in the way. And, to the violent revolutionaries, the Russians are the worst sinners in this respect.

"What would the Vietnamese revolutionaries think if we sent delegations to South Vietnam to negotiate with the puppet government of Saigon?" shouted Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro in a marathon March 13 speech.

The Russians had a delegation in Colombia, negotiating for a trade, cultural and financial agreement with the government of President Carlos Lleras Restrepo, Castro pointed out. These negotiations, Castro noted, went on undisturbed while Colombia's government arrested the chief and all leaders of the Colombian Communist party they could negotiate with the puppet gov-

"No matter what the others do," insisted Castro, "we Marxist-Leninists will never reestablish relations with such governments."

The Soviet Union recognized governments which Castro de- tested. Evidently he was implying that this was one of the reasons, as he put it, that "not everything is rosy in the revolutionary world."

Things were far from rosy in Latin America, the situation was considerably different from that of five years previously, when the Alliance for Progress was just starting and Castro still was a hero to impatient revolutionaries.

A combination of factors eroded the Castro image. The Soviet-Chinese quarrel had splintered already small Latin American parties. The Soviet quest for trade and influence required a cautious policy which frowned on armed violence as the only means to Communist power. Latin-American governments, strengthened by U.S. help, became more confident of their ability to cope with revolutionary violence.

CASTRO'S COMPLAINT
Castro's bitter lament about what was happening in Venezuela provided convincing evidence of the Red troubles. The Cuban dictator pilloried the Venezuelan Communist party leaders as a bunch of cowards who had turned their backs on armed struggle.

The Venezuelan party is Moscow-oriented. Its aging chief, according to Castro, stood for a change in tactics, contending the party was in no condition to support armed warfare. Thus, complained Castro, the party chiefs recommended a suspension of armed action in favor of a political offensive as a "temporary" shift.

To Castro, this was outrageously "defeatist." To him, "those who do not have a truly revolutionary spirit cannot be called Communists." They did

Rites for Doctor
DECATUR (AP) — Funeral services were held Wednesday for Dr. William P. Bope, who practiced medicine in Michigan for 69 years. He died Monday at the age of 95. Bope continued his practice on a part-time basis until a few weeks before his death. He was named Michigan's "Doctor of the Year" in 1957.

not have "one iota of communism" in their makeup." They were "individuals with a spirit of splitism," who were opposing guerrilla war everywhere.

Castro was not alone in his woes. They were shared by many Communist leaders in the underdeveloped world. Those leaders were harried by what, from their point of view, was the all too practical outlook of the current Soviet regime, on the one hand, and on the other the all too impractical approach of the Chinese to their prospective spheres of influence.

CHINESE MISTAKES
Chinese Communist activities severely damaged Communist fortunes in Asia, notably with the explosion in Indonesia which wrecked the Chinese-line Indonesian Communist party. In Africa, the Chinese leaders had preached that the time was ripe for revolution, a line not likely to be popular with new African political figures.

Communists could hardly be anything less than baffled by the spectacle of China and Russia constantly accusing one another of precisely the same sins: scheming and collaboration with the United States at the expense of the Vietnamese Communists, deviating from the doctrines of Marxism-Leninism, and in fact, wrecking the world Communist movement.

Against such a background, Vietnam took on the look of a decisive test of the theory of guerrilla war — what the Chinese Communists call "people's war."

From the point of view of Communists impatient for power, the Vietnam situation might look like this: If it proves a Communist success with promise of delivering all Vietnam into Red hands, their theories will be vindicated and they will have received a needed shot in the arm. If it should be an obvious failure, the Vietnamese movement can look forward only to more quarrels and more splintering.

Speech Change Tied to Disease

Computer Can Spot Neurological Troubles

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — An elegantly simple method for detecting the onset of neurological disease, developed here at the National Center for Chronic Disease Control.

People developing a neurological disease such as Parkinsonism often reveal their condition through inaudible speech changes before any other sign is visible.

And these changes can be spotted with a computer, according to Dr. Joseph L. Stewart, speech consultant to the center.

WITHIN 10 SECONDS
Once that is done, the computer will be able to analyze a speech signal, match it for possible disease, and return a verdict within 10 seconds.

Only electronic analysis can spot the pathological changes at such an early stage, said Dr. Stewart. And early detection is important to treatment, he said.

Political Fund Controls Urged

Hare: State Needs
Law With Teeth in It

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James Hare Wednesday urged "a law with teeth" to control political campaign expenditures in Michigan.

Hare said such a law is needed "before a scandal of major proportions breaks out in Michigan as it has in other states and at the federal level."

He said a bill introduced by Sen. George Fitzgerald, D-Grosse Pointe Park, would "greatly strengthen our campaign expense reporting by giving the candidate control over money raised and spent on his behalf by committees."

"Under present law," Hare said, "candidates have virtually no control over money spent in their name. In fact, committees can be formed without a candidate's knowledge or approval and often are."

CANDIDATE UNPROTECTED
There is nothing in present law, Hare said, to stop a Communist or extreme right-wing group announcing support of a candidate against his wishes and hurting his reputation.

The new bill, Hare said, provides that "there be no subcommittee on behalf of a candidate for political purposes except under his personal direction."

The law also liberalizes the amount of money a candidate may spend. It would raise the limit from $40 to $100 for each 1,000 votes cast for president in the candidate's political subdivision.

Hare said a review of political spending and fund-raising by various candidates within two congressional districts showed no wrongdoing "but glaring inconsistencies."

Among items found, Hare said, were:

—Unreported campaign contributions on all levels from national political organizations down through local operations.

—Some duplications in reported spending by two or more political echelons.

—Committees filing in two or more counties.

—Candidates and committees reporting contributions but no expenses.

—Reports on what happened to money raised at various functions in lump sums, if at all.

—No practical limits on spending since present law provides that any committee may spend as much as the candidate himself.

Campus Use of Drugs Eyed

By Science Service
WASHINGTON—Tentative efforts to assign numbers to the prevalence of illicit drug use on campus produced two different figures at the recent meeting of American Orthopsychiatrists here.

Both figures were low compared to popular estimates of usage of marijuana, barbiturates, amphetamines, LSD and the like; there are no national figures as a base for comparison.

Dr. Samuel Pearlman of Brooklyn College in New York, whose study included opiates as well, tabulated the 1965 graduating class.

Half responded to his questionnaire, and on that basis Dr. Pearlman found chronic drug users—those who had taken drugs 50 times or more without medical approval—to be only 0.9 per cent of the total senior class.

In all, 6.3 per cent had taken a drug, illegally at one time or another during their college years. Experimenters with marijuana were the most popular.

Somewhat higher was the estimate reported by Julian F. Janowitz of the University of Massachusetts. He interviewed 26 representative of various student subcultures at an unnamed eastern state university (enrollment 13,000).

CONSISTENT USERS

"Consistent users"—mostly of marijuana—numbered about 200 to 300 students or 2 per cent of the undergraduates, he reported. These were the alienated, emotionally troubled students, said Janowitz.

In addition, about 10 per cent of the graduates had experimented with hallucinogens like LSD at least once.

Railroad Trip From Holland to Moscow Is Study in Contrasts

By ANTHONY C. COLLINGS
MOSCOW (AP) — Direct New York-Moscow flights are in the offing, but for railroad buffs en route to the Soviet capital there's a Northwest Express.

It runs from Holland to Moscow. The 1,300-mile trip is approximately the same distance as New York-Omaha or San Diego-Salt Lake City.

The trip takes two days. Passengers moving through some of the most politically sensitive areas in the world sense the distances that historically have cut Russia off from the West.

Sharp contrasts in living standards begin at the start, when passengers can compare the single Russian car with those of other nations on the train.

BAD IMPRESSION

A Russian conductor named Dmitri, wearing a brown fur cap, boarding his car at the Dutch port named Hook of Holland.

Dmitri's friendly "Dobry vecher" — good evening — and his help with the luggage did not quite compensate for the unfavorable impression the Russian sleeping car gave.

The cramped first-class sleeping compartment hardly had room for two small suitcases.

In contrast to the airy modernity of the Dutch and West German cars, the Russian one was dimly lit, stuffy and decorated with dark red velvet curtains.

"This car will be replaced by a new one next year," Dmitri said.

NEW BUILDINGS

Over a good meal in the Dutch dining car, the American couple had one of their last looks at Western prosperity as the train passed bright new apartment buildings in Rotterdam and Utrecht.

By 5 next morning the train had crossed West Germany to the Communist East German town of Marienborn.

Transit visas through East Germany were easily arranged at the border, for $2 each.

Later that morning the train entered West Berlin, an enclave of modern buildings, busy streets and bright lights, then entered crossing through the wall into East Berlin.

NOT AS ATTRACTIVE

War-damaged East German buildings remained unrepaired. As the train moved on it passed new buildings but none as attractive as those in West Berlin. A light snow began falling as the train picked up speed and headed through snow-filled woods for the one-hour trip to the Polish border.

The bleakness outside was eased by the warmth inside the train as Dmitri and his assistant, Alexei, served Russian tea from a two-foot samovar built into one end of the car.

Making their way through corridors jammed with standing-room-only passengers, the American couple arrived at the Polish dining car. It had been attached to the train in Berlin, when a number of Russian sleeping cars came on.

COARSE PAPER

The couple sat for a long time at a table beside soiled curtains and studied a menu printed on unbound sheets of coarse paper. At last a waiter took the order and brought out a good soup but also a lumpy pile of cabbage, greasy mashed potatoes and tough veal cutlet.

The Americans pushed the food aside and concentrated instead on the Polish beer.

At 6 p.m. passengers saw the lights of Warsaw, halfway point to Moscow, and shortly after midnight the train crossed into Russia.

WOMEN OFFICIALS

At the border city of Brest the Americans noticed one immediate difference: Soviet women officials. Smiling and round-faced, they inspected passports and checked against pest-bearing plants.

Passengers were told to get out and wait for two hours while the train's axles were extended 3½ inches to fit the Soviet tracks, made five feet wide in Soviet times — possibly to slow down any invader.

The Brest station was filled with the characteristic Russian smell of disinfectant. Copies of Pravda, the Communist Party paper, were posted under a slogan saying "Workers of the world, unite." On either side were quotes from V.I. Lenin saying newspapers should spread propaganda.

At 3 a.m. a woman in a dark jacket announced: "Comrades, the train to Moscow is ready."

RUSSIAN CARS

Now composed entirely of Russian cars, the train began the final 600-mile, 13-hour leg of the trip.

By noon the train was heading toward Borodino, scene of a major battle in Napoleon's ill-fated 1812 invasion.

Over this same flat, cold land Hitler's 1941 invasion pushed on toward Moscow — but never penetrated the outskirts. Snow sparkled in forests of birch trees and firs. Villages went by, gingerbread houses of green, red, blue or yellow. Power lines brought electricity, but many homes still had outhouses.

MUSICAL MEDLEY

Corridor loudspeakers played a mixture of radio music: "Midnight in Moscow," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata."

Soon the speakers switched to melodramatic speeches filled repeated reenactments of the 1941 defense of Moscow. Martial music, machine-gun fire and the air.

In the distance appeared the skyscraper of Moscow State University.

The fields outside Moscow lay peacefully under snow. But the war sounds superimposed on this scene the ghosts of a battle 26 years past.

Avon Family's Pet

Ringo's a Stick-in-the-Mud

By JEAN SAILE

Ringo, the temperamental turtle, refuses to budge from his closet.

A family pet of the Arthur Arnold family, 2540 Dearborn, Avon Township, the 2-year-old turtle has never before shown antisocial tendencies toward the family.

Strangers and visitors have always been a different proposition. Ringo heads out when company comes in.

Mrs. Arnold said he doesn't want to be bothered.

VERY ALERT

"They say turtles are dumb," she said, "but Ringo is very alert. When my husband or I call him, he stops right in his tracks and looks up at us."

Ringo is also noted for pacing back and forth in front of the aquarium when it is nap time—for burling over to be picked up when a hand is extended—and for anticipating mealtime.

Ringo is a painted turtle about six inches long.

Having outgrown the size of the aquarium, he now has a posh layout in the laundry tubs where he spends his nights.

ROOMS AT WILL

Days he roams at will and sometimes can be found reposing in Mrs. Arnold's shoe.

"People think we're crazy," she admits, "but I really like that turtle."

She admits to spoiling him by purchasing gourmet tidbits like ant eggs and fresh hamburger, which he is fed with the regular turtle food.

"He turns up his nose at lettuce and tomatoes, and that's something turtles are supposed to like," she said.

FURNISHINGS FOR TUB

Ringo's laundry tub "pad" features a water heater, an air freshener, a water aerator and a turtle block.

"It's sort of expensive, and I'll admit when Pammy (she's the Arnold's 10-year-old daughter) found him, I thought he'd be just a bunch of trouble," Mrs. Arnold said.

"He's just a little doll, but I don't know what's the matter now. He doesn't even want to go in the water. Why, he used to like it so much that there were some days when he didn't even want to get up until noon!"

Mrs. Arnold doesn't know too much about turtle trails, but she agrees it would really be something if Ringo were to produce an egg from his self-imposed hibernation.

Gift for Group to Aid Partially Deaf Children

ROCHESTER—A county group aiding hard-of-hearing children has extra money for its summer program, thanks to the Rochester Rotary Club.

An $800 check was given to the group at a recent Rotary meeting. The money was profit from a Christmas cake sale.

Presenting the check was Terence O'Connor, club president. He gave it to Joseph Taitelbaum of Royal Oak, representing the Lost Decibels.

Past Rotary donations have been used to provide a summer teacher for children with impaired hearing. The county had provided instruction for them during the regular school year, but not in summer.

Taitelbaum said his group was informed that this year the county would provide summer training.

Therefore, Lost Decibels plans to use the funds toward providing summer camp activities for the children.

The group hopes to be able to send a small group of children to a regularly operated camp along with a counselor.

In this manner the children would be allowed to enjoy summer activities along with unhandicapped children as well as gain added instruction, Taitelbaum said.

For Trip to Wolverine Lake

Village President to Repay $200

By JANICE KLOUSER
WOLVERINE LAKE — At a heated, name-calling council meeting last night, Village President Oscar Fritz agreed to reimburse the council for a plane trip he made from Florida but refused to pay for several long-distance phone calls.

About 50 village residents watched and, at times participated in a lively verbal exchange between Fritz and other village officials over $200 paid him when he flew here in January to attend a meeting in which the newly created office of chief administrative officer was abolished.

Fritz agreed to repay the money on the advice of Village Attorney Gene Schnelz but claimed he was entitled to the phone calls, which he said were strictly business.

After the council created the administrative office in January and named Clifford Cottrell to fill the position until July 1, Fritz said Councilman Fred Stricker called him in Florida and asked him to return and "straighten out the mess" which had allegedly been caused by the appointment.

"He told me that the police department and the girls in the office had threatened to quit," said Fritz, "and said that if I came back, he was sure the council would reimburse me for some of my expenses."

ASKED FOR OPINION

He said he didn't want to come "back to the cold" but felt it was his duty as village president.

Schnelz was asked for a written opinion after residents heard of the payment and demanded reimbursement.

Schnelz said in his opinion there was no legal reason for Fritz' return to the village and ruled that the reimbursement was invalid.

"If there had been a 3-3 vote on abolishing the administrative office, then there might have been a reason for him to be here," said Schnelz, "but there was a 6-0 vote plus Cottrell's resignation."

OSCAR FRITZ

CLIFFORD COTTRELL

News of the

He also said that members of the police department, in a letter to the council, asked to be excluded from working under the new administrator because "a certain amount of resentment" had been built up.

"I don't construe this as a resignation," he said.

Councilman Mrs. Clara Miller, who was serving as president in Fritz' absence, said a "sneaky deal" had been pulled and that "things were not handled properly from the beginning."

"Fritz came back unknown to me," she said. "Stricker should have shown me the police department letter and I would have called a meeting."

The trouble began, according to Stricker, at the Jan. 9 meeting when the council asked Schnelz to draft a resolution setting forth the duties of a chief administrative officer and appointed Cottrell to serve "free gratis."

"It was late at night when we did this and as soon as we got home we knew we had made a decision that was wrong because we were so sleepy," he said.

He said the position was abolished at the Jan. 16 meeting "because the village can't afford the position nor do we need an administrator for the village."

Cottrell, who was also serving as road commissioner and building inspector, said he resigned "because it was obvious the council was not interested in my services."

"I resigned before they abolished the office," he said, "hoping they would keep the office because it was a step in the right direction."

"I did not solicit the job as administrator."

He said it was not his decision that the police department be put under the village administrator.

He charged that the police were going to quit because they didn't want to work for Police Chief Don Vickery and because they didn't want any supervision.

An auxiliary police officer came to the defense of his chief and said Vickery was "one of the finest police officers" and that Cottrell was not qualified to handle the police.

OSAKIS, Minn. (AP) — When Ted Lano built a doghouse for his family's pet, Sporty, he discovered he had forgotten to cut an outer entrance. Lano then cramped into the tight space to cut it and got wedged into the doghouse. His family had to help him out. Lano's 13-year-old son, Jerry, finished the cutting job.

Barbecue a la President

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor—Suburban

WOLVERINE LAKE — Village residents hurried the calendar somewhat and held a barbecue here last night. Roasted was Oscar Fritz, long-time village president.

Held in the garage adjacent to the village hall, the council meeting had few definite results, but did provide for the thorough airing of political dirty linen. And this just before a council election Monday.

Fritz became the main dish at the early barbecue primarily because of $200 he received for flying home from Florida in January to preside at a special council meeting that saw the ouster of the then newly appointed chief administrator for the village, Clifford Cottrell.

Both of long tenure in the village and participants in local politics, Fritz and Cottrell were the main event last night. They engaged in one heated shouting match, but otherwise let others speak for them.

In the end, after the political uproar, the 63-year-old Fritz was still village president, Cottrell remained as building inspector and the village was still without a chief administrator, although the idea of such an administrator remained as a possible eventuality.

ONE BIG ISSUE

A small village with a 1960 population measured at 2,404 persons, Wolverine Lake essentially is not hampered by large-sized problems.

Village Attorney Gene Schnelz, speaking both professionally and as a resident, said the only big issue is the pending annexation.

Petitions to annex roughly one-third of the village to neighboring Walled Lake are in the hands of county officials.

Schnelz said the annexation strikes at the heart of the village. However, he indicated that the expected possible election on the issue may be delayed. There is an indication that the petitions may not list the boundaries correctly.

St. Jude Guild to Present Spring Fashion Show

Seminar Slated

WALLED LAKE — Demonstrations on how to utilize a newspaper in teaching will be presented to Walled Lake elementary school teachers April 10-13.

Martha Lord, consultant from the American Education Publications, Inc., Middletown, Conn. will conduct the demonstration.

ROAD COMPLAINTS — This "sign of spring" points up muddy road conditions prevalent throughout the county. This sign is on Colfax Street in Farmington Township, where residents of the Tarabusi Roseland Gardens Subdivision are taking out petitions to get their streets paved. Township Clerk Floyd A. Cairns said the township could set up a special assessment district to pay for the paving but that the county would maintain it because township roads are under the jurisdiction of the Oakland County Road Commission.

Pontiac Man Confirmed as Police Chief

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Newton F. Tubbs, 52, of 71 Ogema w. Pontiac, was confirmed today as police chief of Bloomfield Township.

Supervisor Homer Case elevated Tubbs from his position of acting chief, held since last October.

Tubbs joined the Bloomfield Township department in June, 1965. He was made sergeant in July, 1966, and lieutenant in April, 1967. He became deputy chief in April of 1966 assisting Chief Norman Dehnke who resigned last fall for other employment.

Tubbs was the first man in Oakland County to train a K-9 dog for police work. He and "Susie," who served the department for six years, were a familiar duo in police work.

Smart Students Use TV Tape

WALLED LAKE — By means of a portable closed-circuit television unit, students at Clifford H. Smart Junior High School can see themselves on television as they appear in a classroom situation.

The recently purchased equipment works on the principle of a tape recorder except that it picks up the picture on a tape as well as the sound.

The camera is on a track and is equipped with a zoom lens; The finished tape is played through a video recorder which then transmits the picture and sound to a conventional television set in the classroom.

Students have been trained to operate the camera so they can assist teachers in filming lectures, class demonstrations and student performances.

PERMITS SELF-ANALYSIS

"When the tapes are played back, the students can see their performance as their teacher analyzes it."

"We will also be able to tape lectures presented by outside speakers and then replay the tape to several classes."

The cost of the basic unit was $1,500 and the tapes, which can be reused, are $40.

"We selected this type of unit because the cost was so reasonable," Adams said. "It is also very simple to operate which gives it tremendous potential."

Invitation to Britain

Bell Ringers May Travel

If they can raise the money, the Eastern Junior High School Bell Ringers are going to England this summer.

It's as simple as that. They have an invitation to perform in the American Festival in Britain from June 26 to July 17.

The American Festival in Britain, sponsored by the Restoration Arts Theatre in Detroit, selects groups and individuals to perform choral works, orchestral works, dance and drama before British audiences.

The idea is to contribute to international understanding. All perform without pay or as a benefit performance with the proceeds going to a local charity.

Performances are given in a variety of schools, colleges, theatres, churches, hospitals and private groups.

After a week of performing, each group has a two week historical and literary tour of portions of England and Scotland.

They will attend a play at Stratford-upon-Avon.

This costs each individual $550. Total cost for 18 students, six chaperones and the director will be $12,000.

The Bell Ringers had planned to attend a national convention of bell ringers in Dallas, Texas this summer. But the invitation to go abroad is an honor they hope they won't have to miss.

It is believed that this young group directed by William C. Coffing, is the only such group in the United States sponsored by a junior high school. Bell ringers are popular in England.

Organized nearly four years ago as an extra curricular activity, the bell ringers group has appeared over 50 times in the area. Last summer they participated in the Area V Bell Ringer Festival in Lake Forest, Ill.

RECEIVE INVITATION

On Feb. 26, they appeared as a part of station WXYZ's TV program, "Young Sounds of Michigan." As a result of that their invitation to Britain.

James A. Jones, executive director of the Restoration Arts Theatre, appeared before a representative group of school officials and parents to explain the tour. Both officials and parents gave their approval.

But many of the parents of students involved are not able to underwrite the trip financially.

School officials have given the group permission to approach the general public for the needed $12,000. Each student will pay $100.

Theodore E. Wiersma, former principal of Eastern, is heading a committee to assist the Bell Ringers in their fund raising appeal.

Serving with him are Ralph Norvell, Glenn Griffin and Monroe Osman.

Inquiries, cash contributions and checks (made payable to Eastern Bell Ringers) should be directed to: Bell Ringers, Eastern Jr. High School, 25 South Sanford, Pontiac, Mich. 48068.

Phone inquiries may be made between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

'Patriot' Confuses Jury Duty With Fixation for Pornography

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I would like to volunteer for jury duty as I have lots of time on my hands and I think I have as much sense as the next person.

I wouldn't care to sit through anything boring, but I would be willing to give my time for a murder, rape or kidnapping trial.

How can I get on such a jury? "PATRIOTIC"

DEAR "PATRIOTIC": Sorry, but as far as I know there is no way to get on a jury with assurance that the cases will be "worthwhile" according to your yardstick.

DEAR ABBY: I think you erred in telling the bride to confess her one mistake — IF HE ASKS. He may ask, but he really doesn't want to know. A confession would help to ease her guilt, but what a price for HIM to pay!

Men are like children. And you wouldn't give a child that which would hurt him just because he asks for it, would you? I should know!

Tell her to lie, and to let him keep his precious illusions. That's HER punishment for her sin, not his!

KNOWS

DEAR ABBY: I became widowed suddenly and have suffered severely from the shock of losing a truly perfect partner after nearly 50 years.

What weds me more than I can say is having someone come up to me in a public place and say, "I am so sorry about your loss. I meant to send you a note, or I have been meaning to pay you a visit, but — blah, blah, blah," and then a long list of lame excuses follow.

If people don't think enough of you to write a note, or to pay a call, they should just say "hello," and not mention your "loss" or other good intentions at all.

RECENT WIDOW

DEAR ABBY: Are men cleaner than women? I know it's a dangerous generalization, but after renting out rooms for over 35 years, I can tell you that I would much rather rent to a man than a woman.

I am not saying that ALL men are cleaner than ALL women, but I would much rather clean up after an untidy man than an untidy woman. Women tend to run to extremes.

If a woman is neat, she is very, very neat, but if she is sloppy, she is dirtier than a pig.

The J. Curtis Willsons Have Returned to Area

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Mr. and Mrs. J. Curtis Willson have returned to their home after four weeks at DelRay Beach, Fla. Their daughter, Debbie joined them for Easter after a month of riding her horses in Southern Pines, N.C. She has been spending the winter in Orange, Va. with her horses at Hill Tops Stable.

On May 1 Miss Willson will show her horse "Rapid Fire" in the working hunter division and "In My Cap" in the open jumper division at the Cincinnati Horse Show.

Gomboly first came to Canada in 1957 from Hungary and to USA in 1964. He has a wealth of experience in his profession.

His father was the trainer for the Royal Hungarian Army racing stables and Frank was a member of the equestrian squad. After attending the University of Budapest he enrolled at McGill University in Canada.

Among those who have made reservations for the dinner prior to this evening's program are: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zimmermann, the William Hartmans, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Audette, the Robert L. Martins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Price, the Richard Kings and Chad Ritchie.

Grand Opera to Be Seen by Students

ALPENA (AP)—Grand opera will come to 28 northern Michigan communities next spring under a program sponsored jointly by the Alpena public school system and Oakland University.

Dr. Gene Gisert, Alpena school superintendent, said the program is being organized under the Elementary Secondary Public Education Act. It is financed by a federal grant of about $40,000.

Gisert said the Alpena school system and Oakland University have obtained an agreement with the Detroit Grand Opera Association to hire professional stars and produce the tour.

Starting next fall, Oakland University will send instructors into the northern Michigan communities in advance of the opera company to help students understand what they will be seeing.

Two operas now are scheduled for the tour—Carmen and Figaro. Local people will appear in minor roles in the operas and also will work in the technical end of the productions.

Millard J. Holbrook, Clawson (from left); Cathy Kluge Siewert, East Princeton Street; Evelyn Anderson, Houston, Texas; and David LaPlantz, Genoa, Ohio, examine a dress from the weaving department of Cranbrook Academy of Art. It will be sold at the scholarship auction of student art works Saturday, 7:30 p.m. in the Galleries. LaPlantz is chairman of the auction, assisted by Holbrook and Miss Anderson.

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Women's Editor
Nobody has seen fit yet to send me to Paris to view the fashion shows.

Like our readers, I have to be content to look at pictures flown from the openings and read what fashion writers on the scene have to say.

But this week I did see "line for line" copies of many of the current Paris fashions. With other newspaper people, I attended a luncheon and fashion show put on by J.L. Hudson's in Detroit where the dresses will be sold, starting Monday.

As one other women's editor commented, "With a little lowering of the hemline, some of the clothes we've seen are very wearable at any age."

Many of the designs are for the young — and, let's face it — the tall and skinny. You don't wear a tent dress if you're short and stocky.

SHIFT IS AGELESS

But the straight orange shift of double gabardine with trapunto-like trim on the V-neck and just above the hem would look good on many women.

A woman, 40 or more, would look kind of silly in the white dress with an enormous pussy-cat bow under her chin and black stockings and shoes.

But the straight white or navy "necktie" dresses would be becoming to a number of women. The white one has brass buttons for a double-breasted effect; the navy one has white cuffs and white tie.

The fabrics are handsome. Some are the originals, others are fine American copies.

LOWER HEELS

All the shoes from Paris are tailored walking shoes. American manufacturers have slimmed the heels a bit, making them less chunky. Many are shiny; many have bows. The most popular is a shiny black pump by Patou with flower "buckles."

Very few of us will be buying these copies which start at $70. But they do affect our clothes.

We must decide whether our dresses will fit or flare. We'll probably wear more vivid colors. Some of us will wear the colored stockings or even white fishnet ones.

St. Laurent, Bohan of Dior, Ricci, Givenchy, Cardin may be names that don't mean too much to you. But they do affect the way you look. And fashion can be fun.

The engagement of Cynthia Lynn Alexander to Randall John Thompson is announced by her parents, the William C. Alexanders of Cedar Grove Road, Independence Township. She has attended Central Michigan University. His parents are the James A. Thompsons of Shimmons Road.

Clock Radios Start the Day

NEW YORK (UPI) — The bedroom alarm clock that has traditionally awakened Americans in the morning is finally getting competition. More than 25 per cent of all adults now use clockradios as awakeners, a nationwide survey shows.

"The study indicates that a growing number of Americans, male and female, consider the alarm clock an unnecessarily noisy bedroom companion."

Polly's PointersClosets Smell Nice

DEAR POLLY — I keep a large box of soap in each of my closets to absorb the dampness. Some of them have delightful odors and that helps, too, in making the closets smell good.

When the powder becomes lumpy and hard from the dampness, I put the box in the sun until it is dry again and then put it back in the closet. — RACHEL

DEAR POLLY — Our 1 1/2-year-old accidentally got hold of some crayons, so now we have colored walls. I am wondering how I can get this color off of rough plaster walls so they do not have to be repainted. — MRS. J. M.

DEAR MRS. J. M. — Several years ago we had a Pointer suggesting the use of toothpaste to remove crayon marks from plaster walls. Much to the amazement of Sally, one of my daughters-in-law, it worked well on smoothly plastered walls.

You might try this on the rough plaster with the aid of an old toothbrush to get in the cracks. Leave the paste on a few minutes (but do not let it get hard) and the remove with a damp sponge or cloth. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I use a dustpan, with a rubber strip across the front for a quick and easy way to remove piled up snow from my automobile. Be sure the pan is rubber-tipped so the finish of the car is not marred. — JANET

DEAR POLLY — In answer to Teresa's request for help in whitening the surface of her son's chair robe, I suggest that she use one of the color removers put out by the better dye companies. They work beautifully on hard-to-whiten clothes. — LORETTA

DEAR GIRLS — I have an idea that Loretta used the wrong word in describing this product. The better dye companies put out a product that really isn't a color remover but a whitener for most fabrics. — POLLY

Role Declines

NEW YORK (UPI) — Picnickers, come summertime, needn't worry about forgetting to bring the bottle opener.

The easy-opening caps for soft drink and beer bottles that began appearing last summer will be more plentiful than ever in '67, reports the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute. The new caps come off by unscrewing, prying or simply tearing.

The pry caps are removed by pushing with the thumb on a concave tab. The screw caps, are simply screwed off. The tear caps are stripped off by pulling on an aluminum tab or ring that has been scored to make the action easy.

ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: When I was growing up, my mother always volunteered to help with the dishes in the home of friends or relatives. Now that I am married, I do the same when we go out.

Some women can relax better knowing the job is done, and some prefer, as I do, that their guests not get their hands wet and just have a good time. Please tell me what is considered proper for the guest to say (or do) and for the hostess to reply (or do)? — Connie

Dear Connie: This is really a matter that must be played by ear. Some women honestly prefer that their guests do not come near the kitchen, others appreciate a little help. At a formal dinner, when the ladies are dressed in their best, they need not offer. It is not expected, nor is a comparative stranger expected to pitch in.

But among good friends and relatives, I feel the girls should make the suggestion and proceed according to the hostess' reaction.

GODPARENTS

Dear Mrs. Post: Please explain the obligations of godparents in addition to religious upbringing of the child in the absence, or death, of the parents. Is there an established gift-giving and card-sending obligation which is expected of godparents? — Lynn C.

Dear Lynn: The godparents give as nice a present as possible at the christening. They should, if possible, continue to remember their godchild with gifts at Christmas and birthdays, and with special attentions whenever possible.

If they live close by, they might take him to dinner at a restaurant occasionally, or a Sunday excursion, and they would be expected to attend his graduation or his debut.

In the event of his parents' death, they are expected to make arrangements for his upbringing if there is no family to do so.

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question that we receive each week, we'll send a free copy of Emily Post's Etiquette, revised by Elizabeth L. Post.

Send your question to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Check With Bank About Special Deposits

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: I have a marvelous husband and two boys, and the family has no money problems. But I do.

My husband, as a CPA and vice president of a company, handles financial problems in the thousands and millions all day. He doesn't want to come home to my $12-$20 weekly problems. I don't blame him. He shouldn't have to.

I have a liberal weekly allowance of $85. My problem is that there are certain things you can't charge, and which are not supposed to come out of my weekly allowance.

Such as $20 for liquor for a party; one son's ice-skating lessons; $33, a C.O.D. order coming shortly for about $15. I don't buy a lot of junk for the boys, and my husband never complains that I spend foolishly. We are a active family.

My husband says he will reimburse me for the extra items once a month. But when I do ask for a reimbursement I never know whether he has remembered to deposit the money for me until the bank deposit slip comes — often four days later.

As I operate on a weekly basis, this is a hardship — you know what bouncing checks do to husbands!

I don't want to keep hounding him every week. He comes home tired, just wants to enjoy the family and peace and quiet.

We each have our checking accounts, but I guess I'm a terrible budgeter as my money is gone before the month is up. Any advice you can give will be much appreciated. Mrs. J. S., Chicago.

Dear Mrs. S.: I'll give you E for Effort, anyway. You're aiming at the right target — your husband's peace of mind.

Small World Proves to Be Next Door

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—When Mrs. William Blackburn, visited New York City recently she was given the telephone number of Sheila Crosley, daughter of former Des Moines residents, who now lives and works in Manhattan.

Speaking to Sheila, Mrs. Blackburn expressed the hope that in the huge and busy city they could somehow manage to get together.

"Where are you?" asked Sheila. "I'm staying with friends at 318 East Fifty-third," replied Mrs. Blackburn. "And I," exclaimed Sheila, "live next door, at 320 East Fifty-third!"

Even though you don't have, shall we say, expertise at handling money, at least you haven't bankrupted him yet. So how about trying this:

Ask your husband to have the bank transfer a set amount — say, $50 — from his checking account to yours on a certain date every month. Most banks will do this as a special service — by instruction of course. Then, when you make out a check, you will be responsible for seeing that you don't overdraw. You can give him an accounting periodically. This way you'll never have to hound him about specific little bills.

But for goodness' sake each time you get ready to buy something "out of bounds," look at your checkbook to be sure you have a sufficient balance.

Dear Miss Feeley: We have a lot which we are in hopes of selling soon. We have held it since 1948 and, due to improvements and a rise in property values generally, we should realize some profit.

We know that the purchase price of the lot, plus improvements which we have paid for, can be deducted from the selling price in figuring the capital gain. But we are confused about the taxes which we have paid since 1948 on the lot. Are they deductible too? A. L., Madison, Wis.

Dear A. L.: The taxes you've paid on this property should have been deducted from your income tax yearly. Since you didn't deduct them that way, then you'd have to file an amended return for each of the past years in order to claim this tax benefit. You can't just lump them all together when you sell the lot.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press).

Baroque Music Lover Builds Own Harpsichord

PONCA CITY (UPI)—When the baroque period musical wave, currently the rage on the East Coast, hits Oklahoma, Doug Martin, of Ponca City, will be able to ride it in style.

Martin, 19, and a music major at Southwestern College in Winfield, Kan., is now caught up in a revival of the baroque period of music.

He made his own harpsichord.

BROUGHT KIT
Young Martin learned where he could get a kit for a harpsichord. During the summer months, he worked evenings, putting the instrument together.

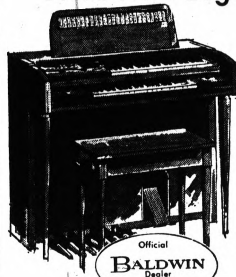

The harpsichord is a one-volume instrument with no foot pedals. It has a lever called a lute stop which causes the sound to stimulate the music of a lute and mutes the volume somewhat.

The harpsichord produces its 57 tones by the plucking of its strings by plastic fingers mounted on a 57-note keyboard. The strings are made of three sizes of steel wire and three sizes of brass wire. The harpsichord weighs 150 pounds. Its three legs unscrew to make a compact carrying case.

The first performance of the instrument was at the Kaw City Methodist Church where Martin is a substitute organist.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. I have heard of a shampoo you can make at home. Can you give me the directions about how to make one at home?

A. You can make a very good shampoo at home. Shave some castile soap and put it in hot water. Allow it to melt to the consistency of liquid soap.

Q. How many calories are there in an avocado? Does it have any food value?

A. One-half of a fairly small avocado gives you from 100 to 150 calories. It also gives you vitamins A, B, and G.

Q. Why do I always get pimples around the time of my periods when I don't have any at other times?

A. There are many good ones on the market. Just be sure that the one you select is not too bushy or too broad. A lipstick brush should be compact and narrow.

Q. Please give my friends and me some advice. We are in our early to middle teens, and we have very oily hair. We use tonics for oily hair, but they have not helped much. I know lots of girls our age who have this trouble.

A. At your age the little oil glands are more active. I think you will probably outgrow this difficulty. However lead a healthful life, with outdoor exercise. Wash the hair twice a week if necessary. Keep using the tonics, and cut down on rich greasy foods. Your face is probably quite oily also. Take preventative measures against future blackheads by washing it several times a day.

Q. Is it safe to take exercises to develop the bust when it hasn't had time to grow? I am 14½.

A. Why hurry life so? I am sure that nature will take care of everything if you give her more time. However, it is perfectly safe if you want to take exercises to build up the chest muscles.

Q. Are there any rinses that really look natural and attractive?

A. A great big yes! There are excellent ones, although some are much better than others.

Corn, Pork Sausage Make Good Mixture

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Casserole dishes for potluck occasions run the gamut from ordinary macaroni and cheese to very fancy concoctions. Anyone who goes to many of these parties is happy to have a new recipe.

Mrs. Eva Terrell, program director of the Pontiac YWCA, has a lot of good casserole recipes. Here is one of her favorites that's a real quickie.

CORN SAUSAGE CASSEROLE
By Mrs. Eva Terrell
1 pound bulk pork sausage

1 can (No. 2) cream style corn
2 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt

Brown sausage until crumbly. Pour off fat. Combine rest of ingredients and place half of the mixture in a greased casserole. Add sausage and top with rest of corn.

Return part of fat to pan and add 1½ cups soft bread crumbs. Stir and mix well. Spread over top of casserole.

Basic Truth Is Mirrored

Letters to newspaper editors often turn up some basic truths. One such letter, published in San Francisco, points out that:

- Slum buildings were at one time new and free from rats and vermin;
- Age does not make rundown homes, but neglect does; and
- Plenty of soap or detergent suds and elbow grease can do much more to correct problems than do reports on adverse conditions.

Why, asks this letter writer, if rundown housing lowers the morale of the people, cannot cleanliness prompt civic pride and raise the morale?

Case No. B-527

Love or Infatuation?

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE B-527: Pauline P., aged 17, has "gone steady" with her boy friend for the last two years in high school.

Now she wanted to elope.

"Dr. Crane," she tearfully protested, "I simply can't live without him!"

"So isn't this true love?"

"Surely no other boy would ever be able to affect me like this!"

LOVE MAGIC

Pauline shows the folly of "going steady" in high school. For she is merely infatuated and not in love at all!

A dozen other boys could make her tingle and feel giddy and put butterflies in her tummy, if she were to date them regularly and go through the romantic "motions" of compliments and kisses.

For when you go through the proper motions, you will inevitably begin to feel the corresponding emotions!

The trouble with amateurs like Pauline is their limited experience with boys.

By dating different young men, she would soon have learned that thrills and kisses and palpitation of the heart are typical of both "infatuation" as well as "true love."

How do you tell them apart? It's simple.

In true love you are unselfishly concerned with the best interests of your sweetheart and not with your own selfish pleasure.

Read Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities," and notice what Sidney Carton did.

He was deeply in love with the heroine but knew she was devoted to another man. So when her fiancé was due to be guillotined, Sidney Carton actually traded places with his rival and went to his death, just to make his sweetheart happier.

That's true love!

Pauline (and other teen-age girls) know very well that it hampers a boy's future to marry young.

For he then is jerked out of school to try to support his young wife at unskilled labor jobs.

His plans for a career or a professional future are thus ruined.

Within a few months, she is actually pregnant and they must move in with her parents, where friction then ensues and the divorce statistics will run over 50 per cent.

A girl who thus jeopardizes her boy friend's economic future and that of her unborn babies, is obviously not showing "true love."

She is just hypnotized by the temporary thrills of his kisses and the magnetism of physical contact.

Besides, the average teen-age girl will live to be 72, so why rush into a "child bride" affair?

In Washington's day, when the average longevity was about 42, a girl might marry at 17, for then she'd have only 25 years of life ahead.

Nowadays, however, if she waits till she is 22, she can still celebrate her Golden Wedding Day, so you girls need to use your head. Don't succumb to infatuation!

Send for my 200-page "Tests for Husbands and Wives," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents, and plan for a permanently happy marriage!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of my booklets.)

August 19 votes are planned for Linda Kay Applequist and Robert Rogers Barrett. Their parents are the Gordon C. Applequists of Long Lake Shores Drive and Mrs. Edward P. Barrett of Pine Tree Drive and the late Mr. Barrett. The engaged couple are students at Northern Michigan University.

Pamphlet Says Wife Is Boss in the Home

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — "The wife runs the show in the house."

This is the conclusion about American life from one African diplomat at the United Nations. He has worked in New York for one year.

His comments are included in a pamphlet, "New York, Your Host," given to UN personnel by the New York City Commission to the United Nations to help them understand New York and its people.

"Do not feel insulted if the (American) wife dominates the conversation," the African adviser says in the pamphlet. "Women are expected to be intellectual companions to their husbands and friends and are expected to form and express their opinions on all subjects."

"In public places women usually walk first with the man following when going through doors, etc. Men carry women's packages and open doors for them."

"Family life in America homes is informal, with less outward signs of deference to elders. This does not necessarily denote a lack of respect for older people but simply the tendency to treat all age groups equally."

"In homes, do not expect the same formal respect that befits you in your official capacity. The informality is looked upon by the family as a way of making you feel at ease and 'at home.' Even the children call you by your first name."

"Cocktail type parties are often large and impersonal and the guest may only meet and see his host briefly. He is free to come and leave when he wishes."

The wife of a UN diplomat from Europe also wrote some comments for the pamphlet which she thought would be helpful to other foreigners:

"The eagerness of Americans to make you a part of their life and their recreation is outstanding and admirable."

"Our first American invitation was on Thanksgiving Day—a big day in this country... we went to a lovely rural community outside New York City and had the traditional dinner with the family... that was my first initiation to another American tradition—the brownies. I praised them immensely—Grandma had baked them and she was flattered. She... sent me a large box of the nice cookies for Christmas."

The diplomat's wife added, "The exchange of ideas and the desire of Americans to learn from their foreign guests is quite obvious and very refreshing. The Americans are the only people who not only invite but even appreciate criticism..."

The New York City Commission to the UN adds its own views of U.S. customs for example:

"There is an acute consciousness in the United States of time and its use. Being prompt is regarded as very important by most Americans. The exception is cocktail parties where you may drop in any time. When you accept an invitation to luncheon and dinner parties however, it is expected that you will arrive on time."

When you buy a leather coat, don't be surprised if the saleswoman gives you instructions for keeping it clean. A leading manufacturer of leather sportswear, recognizing that women are practical as well as style-conscious, is training store personnel in cleaning methods to pass on to customers.

His advice for leather outerwear is to wash the surface gently, using a soft cloth moistened with suds. The next steps are pat it dry, dust it with a coating of baby powder to close the pores, and then buff it with a clean dry cloth.

British Welcome Relocated U.S. Forces

LONDON (AP) — A big chunk managed to avoid disrupting of U.S. armed power, forced to vacate bases in France, has moved to Britain right on schedule.

"We just about sneaked in," said one colonel. "That was the idea."

He meant they had carried out with no stress an order to transport almost 10,000 American service personnel and their families, three fighter-reconnaissance squadrons, a fleet of cargo-carrying Hercules C130s, and several hundred thousand tons of equipment.

The 3rd Air Force at Ruislip near London has evidence that the objective was reached. The forces have been deployed around a dozen bases, have acquired off-base housing, put their children into schools, and principal authorities, studied the big problem — housing — and lined up hotels and other temporary accommodations in various areas.

One of the prime concerns was to prevent the American influx from raising local rents higher than Britons could afford.

'WELCOME MAT'

Officers at a half-dozen bases found a welcome mat — and often found houses too remote for the average citizen but quite all right for automobile-driving American families.

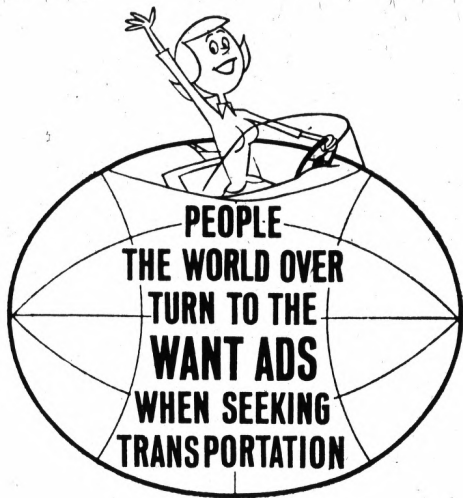

The whole package has been buttoned up, including fully operational F101 Voodoo reconnaissance squadrons, Hercules carriers, and storage areas at Ruislip headquarters, Mildenhall, Upper Heyford, High Wycombe, Alconbury, Burtonwood of World War II fame, Bentwaters, Chicksands, Greenham Common, Sculthorpe, Chelveston and Foul.

Quietly remote bases once housing the Strategic Air Command's nuclear deterrent are populated with the American uniforms again and a dozen new U.S. flags are hanging alongside the Union Jack.

Wexford Districts

CADILLAC (AP) — Wexford County Supervisors Wednesday adopted a redistricting plan reducing from 23 to nine the number of members on the board. Under the plan which goes into effect in 1968, Cadillac would have five representatives on the board and the remainder of Wexford County four.

Mecca Packed Despite Strife in Middle East

MECCA, Saudi Arabia (U.P.) — Crowds of Moslems from around the world are in this desert city for the hajj, a pilgrimage which for centuries has made Mecca a holy goal.

For followers of Mohammed, born here 1,400 years ago, the hajj is a once-in-a-lifetime duty, a pilgrimage that all men must make if it is at all possible.

There is a cold war in the Middle East, and occasionally bombs fall on Saudi Arabia, which blames the Egyptians and their efforts to control neighboring Yemen. But this year has not stayed the pilgrims. This year's total is estimated as high as 500,000.

Some of the fervent pilgrims will never see home again, for many are old and fulfilling their last wish. Some die on the way, or in the crush around the sacred shrines.

BYGONE DAYS

The days are gone when some hapless pilgrims, unable to pay their way home, were sold into slavery.

Mecca and its great mosque are situated in a rocky and barren valley. This was an early hub of caravan routes. Ptolemy called it Macoraba and the Arabic name is Makkah.

Pilgrims entering Mecca wear only a seamless white garment, like a towel. They leave all their possessions in tents around the city. Saudi Arabia's laws — a thief has a hand cut off — insure that nothing will be stolen.

The Saudi government has spent millions of dollars in recent years on improved facilities for the pilgrims. New roads and health services have been provided, the mosque has been refurbished. Holy water from the sacred well of Zam Zam has been piped into a courtyard so worshippers can cleanse themselves for the climax of the hajj.

SOURCE OF INCOME

Until Saudi Arabia's immense oil reserves were discovered 30 years ago, the pilgrimage was the only source of income for the desert kingdom. Many a Jiddah merchant grew rich on the religious trade.

Hajjis still pay a fee for the pilgrimage — about $15 at the airport — but the main benefit to the country is now a moral one.

To the world's 400 million Moslems, Mecca is the center of the earth, and they face it five times a day for prayers.

As guardian of Mecca and its twin holy city of Medina, King Faisal is regarded by many as the defender of the faith. The bearded monarch has used this prestigious position against his chief Arab rival, Gamal Abdel Nasser.

BECAUSE OF STRIFE

Because of the cold war, Egyptian pilgrims this year were forbidden to fly thousands of pilgrims from Africa for the hajj.

Inside, the Kaaba, central structure of the mosque lies a mysterious black stone. A meteorite which was worshipped even before Mohammed's time. Kissing the stone of Mecca is still the life goal of every Moslem. This year it has been covered with a crystal dome ordered from France. Egypt used to supply an embroidered cover.

Junior Editors Quiz on ICEBERGS

QUESTION: How are Atlantic icebergs formed?

ANSWER: Glaciers, which are slow moving rivers of ice, work their way down to sea on the west coast of Greenland (look up this location in an atlas.)

As they reach the water, enormous chunks of ice break off with a mighty, thundering sound (upper left). These splash into the water and float away with only one-seventh of their mass above the surface.

Our artist has shown us what they look like as they float down with the Arctic Current, which runs between Greenland and the coast of Labrador. He drew this picture from sketches he himself made while cruising along the Labrador coast in a small sailing vessel.

Here are three bergs, looking dazzling white against the immense black cliffs of Labrador. Hollows in the ice may appear brilliantly blue or green. Thousands of sea birds often settle on them.

The pounding of the surf has worn the berg in front into the fantastic mushroom shape. The icebergs finally float out to sea and are melted by the warmer water of the Atlantic Ocean.

For Weevils

Sterilization Studied

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — Some 7,000 chemical compounds will be tested to see if any of them can render male boll weevils sterile. The Southern Research Institute, Birmingham, Ala., under a $150,000 contract with the Agriculture Department, will spend 3½ years in the search. If successful, the project would provide a means of destruction of the boll weevil, one of the most destructive cotton pests. Sterile males would be grown and released to mate with wild females, whose eggs would never hatch. This sterile-male technique, applied to the screwworm fly, eliminated that expensive pest in the United States.

Boll weevils cannot be sterilized by radiation, as the flies were, because radiation destroys the weevil's sexual drive.

Links Demonstrable, Says Prof

Stress, Physiological Ills Tied

By JOY MILLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Can problems of living in the 1960s really cause an acute surgical emergency such as a perforated duodenal ulcer?

Can guilt feelings produce sore throats?

Can wars be removed by psychotherapy?

Dr. Heinz E. Lehmann, professor of psychiatry at McGill University, posed these questions Wednesday at a symposium on the emotional basis of illness. He then presented samplings of controlled research studies that added up to "yes" to all his questions.

"In view of the mounting evidence inside and outside the laboratory, it is difficult to dispute that there are demonstrable links between human emotions and physiological illness," Lehmann said. He added that the mechanisms involved in this link are not yet clearly understood.

One experiment he cited demonstrated that when a woman's dependency wishes were inhibited from expression because of feelings of shame or guilt, her streptococcal counts in throat cultures were very high. When the woman was trying to resolve her conflicts realistically and found herself a more worthwhile person, the bacterial count was significantly lower.

"How can we explain the fact that an effective treatment probably the most effective of multiple wars in children is by suggestion or hypnosis? Wars, after all, are small benign tumors caused by a virus," he said.

Intense rage may lead to serious surgical emergencies, Lehmann said. A 1962 study of 20 patients with perforated ulcers of the stomach and duodenum showed that most of them had recently been trying to resolve an emotional crisis.

At the symposium some bleak statistics were presented by Dr. Augustus Gibson:

Two-thirds of all Americans go to their family doctors today for ailments that have emotional rather than physical basis.

One-third of the hospital beds in the United States are devoted to the care of the mentally ill.

At any one time about one person in 20 in this country is suffering from some serious mental or nervous disorder; one in 10 will at some time be hospitalized for mental illness.

Detroit Police Send Mother Back to Ohio

DETROIT (UPI) — A desperate young mother who smashed a police station window to force officers to arrest her and care for her two young daughters was to be sent to Columbus, Ohio, today.

Police said charges of malicious destruction of property would be dropped if Mrs. Frances M. Rosico, 22, would return to the home she left three months ago.

The woman was arrested Tuesday when she smashed a Detroit Police headquarters window with a bottle after claiming she "had to get into trouble" to "get my kids fed."

Mrs. Rosico's husband, Lewis, 25, has been in the county jail since March 4, awaiting trial on a check forgery charge.

Mrs. Rosico claimed she hadn't been able to get welfare assistance and wanted to force the city to take charge of Leah Ann, 1, and Lara, 3.

COULD HAVE HAD HELP

Welfare officials said the woman could have received assistance if she would follow their procedures.

They said Mrs. Rosico had been on public assistance for several years in various cities and "had come to expect it as her right, immediately, with no effort on her part."

The children, who spent Tuesday night in a local hospital while their mother was in jail, were released to her care yesterday.

The department had budgeted $7.5 for winter maintenance last spring, but a record January snowstorm in the Lower Peninsula sent costs up to $8.9 million, Hill said.

The department is seeking legislative approval of a $2.5 million deficiency appropriation and is transferring $700,000 from other accounts to make up the difference between the sum budgeted and the sum needed, Hill said.

The department said total snowfall reports for different sectors of the state have not yet been compiled by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

TOGETHER AGAIN — Mrs. Frances M. Rosico, 22, embraces her children, Lora (left), 3, and Leah Ann, 14 months, after she spent the night in jail for breaking a window at Detroit Police headquarters. She said she could not afford to feed the girls and broke the window to force policemen to care for them. Police said charges would not be pressed if she returned to relatives in Columbus, Ohio. Her husband has been in jail since March 4, awaiting trial on a check forgery charge.

Highway Dept. 'News': Salt Use, Cost Set Record

LANSING (AP) — The winter just ended was Michigan's worst in modern times in terms of highway salt usage and maintenance cost, the State Highway Department said Wednesday.

State Highway Director Howard Hill said use of salt and calcium chloride to keep highways free of ice and snow hit an all-time record as did cost, requiring a $2.5 deficiency appropriation.

An estimated 297,612 tons of salt and 5,617 tons of calcium chloride were spread on the state's 9,210 miles of highway to keep them free of ice, Hill said.

This compares with the previous high of 243,822 tons of salt and 6,103 tons of calcium chloride used in 1964-65.

'GOP Has Votes in the House'

Waldron: Medicaid to Be Cut

LANSING (AP)—Republicans have the votes in the House to cut back implementation of the state's Medicaid program, House Speaker Robert Waldron said Wednesday.

Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, said GOP House members had unanimously agreed to vote for a bill making the Medicaid cutbacks requested by Gov. George Romney.

Republicans have a 55-54 majority in the House. If they stick together, they can pass a bill without Democratic help.

The Medicaid legislation passed last year, when Democrats had a majority.

LACKED POWER

Romney ordered a cutback late in the year, claiming Medicaid was costing more money than had been appropriated for it, but Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled that Romney lacked the power to delay implementation of the program.

The bill containing Romney's requested delay has passed the Senate on a near-party line vote Democrats opposed the measure.

plan a day-long caucus on fiscal reform Friday and will reconsider changes they have proposed in the tax program recommended by Romney.

Romney asked for income taxes of 2 1/2 per cent on individuals, 5 per cent on corporations and 8 per cent on financial institutions, a 10 per cent property tax cut and a sales tax rebate of $10 per person per year.

House Republicans proposed raising the income tax rates to 3 per cent on individuals and 6 per cent on corporations, boosting the property tax cut to 20 per cent and eliminating the sales tax credit.

Democrats, who charged the original Romney package put too much of the new-tax burden on individuals, probably won't vote for a package containing these changes, most observers agreed.

The nation of Indonesia comprises 3,000 islands, says the National Geographic.

Fire Razes Landmarks

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Fire destroyed one of Juneau's oldest landmarks and top tourist attractions Wednesday.

A little theater, bunkhouse and an old boiler house, starting points of a gold mine tour for visitors, were described as a total loss.

Two items were saved, however—a pair of 60-year-old fire extinguishers.

Group Opposes Snowmobile Licensing

EAST JORDAN (AP)—Strong opposition to a proposed licensing of snowmobiles has come from more than 100 owners, dealers and distributors of the vehicles in a six-county area in northwestern Lower Michigan.

The opposition to a proposal by State Sen. Thomas R. Schweigert, R-Petoskey, was voiced at a meeting of the Michigan Snowmobile Association. The bill would place a $5 license fee on each machine.

Thomas Galmore of East Jordan, a dealer and association treasurer, said the proposed law could require additional insurance for snowmobiles which now can be covered by homeowners policies.

The association has proposed that the vehicles be registered and numbered after the small boat plan enacted by the state in recent years. The organization has members in Osego, Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, Kalkaska and Grand Traverse counties.

Dentists to Meet

Dr. William T. Graetz of 17200 Kinross, Bloomfield Hills, will be general chairman for the 110th annual meeting of the Michigan State Dental Association.

The meeting will be held April 17-19 in Detroit.

Waldron also told a news conference he hopes a final House vote on fiscal reform can be taken next week. He added he thought the House would pass a tax package similar to the one now before it, which is pegged to a state income tax.

The Senate is now considering the tax measures, but is expected to reject them.

INFLUENCE SEEN

Waldron said he thought if the House passed the tax package, that would influence the Senate to reconsider and approve them.

He said House Republicans

Underwater Speech Poses Difficulties

By Science Service

NEW YORK Artificial voice boxes and skull microphones may both be necessary to enable future undersea explorers to understand each other, according to the country's only astronaut-aquonaut.

There are still serious communications problems under water, said Navy Cmdr. Scott Carpenter, who has experienced both environments first-hand. He orbited the earth three times in 1962 aboard the Mercury 7 space capsule and three years later spent a month 210 feet below the surface of the Pacific Ocean in Sealab II.

The biggest underwater talk problem comes from the helium-oxygen atmosphere. Unlike breathing in space, there is no question whether to use helium or nitrogen as the "second gas" underwater, since nitrogen at high subsea pressures could cause severe cases of the bends.

Helium, however, poses its own problem. Sound travels faster in high-pressure helium than in earth's normal atmosphere. The result is that voices have a high-pitched "Donald Duck" sound, often to such an extent that speech is completely useless.

One possible remedy, Carpenter told a meeting of electronic engineers here, is the speech compressor, a modified tape recorder that can lower the pitch of a voice as it is played back, without changing the speed. However, the equipment is bulky and heavy, and so far it hasn't been developed to withstand high pressure.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor
Like new cookbooks? I do. The only problem is that after perusing a new one, I want to quit work, go home and start cooking — right then.

One of the most interesting collections of recipes to be offered is Woman's Day Encyclopedia of Cooking in 12 volumes. The first two or three volumes are already on sale in supermarkets and the rest will be offered, one volume per week.

From abalone to zwieback, 800 recipes, 50 specialty cookbooks and many feature articles provide an unusual contribution to your kitchen reference shelf.

Although the books have an alphabetical listing, each has an interesting variety of recipes. There are sections of foreign foods in their proper alphabetical order.

The color photography is superb and the drawings add more interest to the pages.

FRUIT RECIPES

The first volume sells for $9 cents; the rest are priced at $1.49 each.

Another cookbook published by a magazine house is Better Homes and Gardens "So Good With Fruit." (Meridith Press, New York, $3.95). This is a new addition to their long list of cookbooks.

Again, color photography makes the pages more attractive. You'll find all sorts of interesting things to do with fruit. Here is one recipe that always pleases.

STRAWBERRY ANGEL PIE

3 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 cup sugar

1 3-oz. package strawberry gelatin
1¼ cups boiling water

1 cup sliced fresh strawberries or 1 10-oz. package frozen sliced strawberries, thawed and drained
1 cup whipping cream, whipped

Have egg whites at room temperature. Add vanilla, cream of tartar and dash of salt. Beat till frothy. Gradually add sugar, a little at a time, beating till very stiff peaks form and sugar is dissolved.

Spoon into lightly greased 9-inch pie plate and shape into shell, swirling sides high. Bake at 275 degrees one hour. Turn off heat and let dry in oven (door closed) at least two hours.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in strawberries and whipped cream. Chill until mixture is firm. Sprinkle lightly when spooned. Pie into meringue shell. Chill 4 to 6 hours, or overnight.

HOTTEST COOKBOOK

A third hard cover cookbook is Betty Crocker's Hostess Cookbook (Golden Press, New York, $1.95).

This spiral bound volume concentrates on party preparations, food and service. It would be a nice gift for a bride who may be unsure about what to serve when and how.

FOIL COOKERY

Coinciding with the 20th anniversary of the introduction of aluminum foil is "Creative Cooking With Aluminum Foil" by Eleanor Lynch. Mrs. Lynch is director of home economics at Reynolds Metals Company.

The "Foreign Foods" edition of the Favorite Recipes of Home Economists Teachers is a boon to the cook who wants to try something different.

It may be ordered directly from the publisher, Favorite Recipes Press, Inc. P.O. Box 5386, Montgomery, Ala., 36109 for $3.45.

PASTA COOKING

You can learn all you want to know — and more — about pasta from "What's for Dinner Mrs. Skinner?" by Charlotte Adams (Popular Library, New York; 85 cents.)

How to cook macaroni, spaghetti and noodles for all occasions is the subject of this paperback.

Pretzels Fine for Cheese Dip

A salty suggestion: almost no calories: To one 8-ounce carton of cottage cheese add 2 tablespoons of frozen chives, a dash of celery salt, or a sprinkle of dill seed, plus a few drops Tabasco. Beat until light, or if you prefer, put it into a blender and let mix until fluffy. Pour into a dunking bowl and surround with pretzel sticks, nuggets and other pretzel shapes. You'll notice something especially delicious in this blend of non-rich dip with the crisp, salty pretzels.

Elegance in Fresh Pineapple Desserts

Fresh pineapple is in our market right through the year, but spring brings the peak supply of this wonderful fruit. From Mexico, Hawaii and Puerto Rico millions of fresh pineapples are coming to our produce stalls, fragrant, luscious and perfect for the Easter holidays.

To determine quality, tug at the leaves at the top of the pineapple. If they loosen easily, the fruit is of good quality.

Fresh Pineapple-Occumt Royal
2 large fresh pineapples
1 pint vanilla ice cream
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
¼ teaspoon ground mace
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
¼ cup grated fresh coconut

½ cup chopped fresh pineapple
½ cup diced fresh orange sections
Prepare this dessert the day before serving. Select pineapples that are ripe and have fresh-looking tops. Slice off tops, wrap in aluminum foil and store in refrigerator to keep fresh.

Scoop out meat of pineapple, leaving a shell with ½-inch wall. (Save the scooped-out portion to use in the ice cream mixture or in cups and salads.)

Place pineapple shells in freezer to chill while preparing ice cream mixture. Soften ice cream and fold in whipped cream, spices, coconut, pineapple and oranges. Spoon into pineapple shells. Wrap in foil and freeze until desired firmness.

This dessert may be frozen firm or soft (like custard). Before serving, replace the reserved pineapple tops. If frozen hard, remove from freezer 30 minutes before serving.

Serve with fresh pineapple wedges and grated fresh coconut. Six to 8 servings.

Fresh Pineapple Parfait

1 package (4 oz.) vanilla pudding mix
¼ teaspoon ground mace
1 cup finely chopped fresh pineapple

2 tablespoons sugar
Prepare vanilla pudding mix according to directions on package. Add mace. Cool. Mix pineapple with 2 tablespoons sugar. Fill parfait glasses with alternating layers of vanilla pudding and pineapple, beginning with pudding and ending with pineapple. Yield: 4 parfait glasses.

STRAWBERRY ANGEL PIE

Crunchy Toasted Almonds Give Texture to Jellied Pie

The apple, with its highly-perfumed flavor, has long been the symbolic fruit of love. Ever since Eve, it's been the most tempting fruit of all. A dessert, prepared especially for a man's apple pie fancy, can be the piece de resistance of many menus.

Just such a delightful ending to a dinner is Jellied Apple Pie, delicious in Spring and all through the year. It has a delicious consistency and a wonderfully tangy taste combination of apple, allspice, lemon and almonds.

And, with a vanilla wafer crust, this pie is a quick and easy labor of love.

Jellied Apple Pie
55 vanilla wafers, from 12-ounce package
5 tablespoons melted butter
1 can apple slices (1 pound 4 ounces)
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup diced toasted almonds
1 package lemon flavor gelatin dessert, 3 ounces
1¼ cups boiling apple juice
½ cup heavy cream, optional
Roll 38 of the vanilla wafers into very fine crumbs between two pieces of waxed paper. (There should be approximately 1 cup.) Blend with melted butter.

Spread mixture evenly over bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Press remaining whole wafers around sides to make scalloped edge. Refrigerate.

Chop apple slices and combine with sugar and allspice. Cook over moderate heat, stirring occasionally, until mixture has begun to thicken.

Stir in lemon rind and remove from heat. When cool, add almonds and chill.

Dissolve lemon flavor gelatin in boiling apple juice and cool, stirring occasionally, until about consistency of unbeaten egg white. (Chilling is quicker if bowl is placed in large bowl of ice cubes and water.)

When cool, blend with apple mixture and turn into crust. Refrigerate until needed. When ready to serve, garnish with whipped cream, if desired. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Use Pudding for This Pie

Most everyone likes bananas. And most everyone likes a luscious cream pie. There are lots of bananas in your markets, so enjoy yourselves.

Fresh Banana Cream Pie
1 (3-oz.) package vanilla pudding
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
3 fresh bananas
1 9-inch graham cracker pastry
Whipped cream for garnish
Prepare vanilla pudding according to package directions. Add sugar. Fold in whipped cream.

Line bottom of graham cracker crust with sliced bananas. Pour cream filling over bananas and chill.

Garnish with additional whipped cream and bananas cut into lengthwise strips. Six servings.

JELLED APPLE PIE — It's a completely new way to make apple pie. This one starts with lemon flavored gelatin. The apples come in a can and are chopped and cooked with sugar and spice before being added to the gelatin. Use vanilla wafers for the crust.

Fish Portion Goes in Bun with Relish

SAUCY SANDWICH — You won't need a dinner bell to call a hungry crew when you're serving thick fish portion sandwiches. Add your favorite chowder for a rib-sticking meal.

Seafood is a favorite of the younger set, and they will quickly tackle this Saucy Sandwich, made with inspected fish portions. Its crisp freshness is topped tantalizingly with an easy-to-do combination of cheese, chili sauce, mustard, and horseradish that will set taste buds a-tinging.

Its familiar wholesomeness will appeal to the youngsters, who want plenty of good food without frills and who usually want it in a hurry. Be at your alert best with this high-protein sandwich.

Saucy Sandwich
1½ pounds frozen, raw, breaded fish portions
1 cup grated cheese
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
2 teaspoons horseradish
6 hamburger rolls

Place frozen portions in a single layer in a frying basket. Fry in deep fat, 350 degrees, for 4 to 6 minutes or until brown. Drain on absorbent paper.

Combine cheese, chili sauce, mustard, and horseradish. Split rolls and toast. Place the bottom half of the rolls on a cookie sheet, 15x12 inches. Place a fish portion on each half.

Spread one tablespoon cheese mixture over each portion. Broil about 3 inches from source of heat, 2 to 3 minutes or until cheese melts. Top with second half of roll. Serves 6.

Flavor in Topping

Mix an Italian-inspired topping for vanilla ice cream. Combine 1 cup mixed diced candied fruits, ½ cup honey, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ cup roasted diced almonds and, if you wish, 2 tablespoons brandy. Mix well. This makes 1 cup topping.

Cheese Tops Lettuce Wedges to Broil for Entree Salad

There are virtually hundreds of interesting salads that can be made with wedges of crisp western iceberg lettuce, but we think these "Iceberg Gondolas," delicious entree salads for an elegant luncheon, are outstanding.

On each of these refreshing wedges, you simply spread a savory mustard and mayonnaise mixture and fold a slice of Swiss or Jack cheese and a slice of smoked salmon or Canadian bacon (choose the combination you prefer) over each; then broil the wedge just until the cheese is melted and the lettuce is hot but still crisp.

"Iceberg Gondolas" are quick and easy to prepare, but they make very elegant individual main dish salads.

Serve them at your next luncheon with onion soup, crisp, hot rolls and a luscious almond cake for dessert and see if your friends don't agree.

1 cup real mayonnaise
2 tablespoons pickle relish, drained
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon onion powder
6 slices natural Swiss or Monterey Jack cheese
6 thin slices smoked salmon or Canadian bacon

Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in disposable plastic bag. Combine mayonnaise with relish, mustard and onion powder.

Cut lettuce into 6 wedges; stand on oven-proof plate. Spread mayonnaise mixture onto outside of wedges. Fold a slice of cheese and salmon over each.

Broil in preheated broiler several inches from heat about 5 minutes or until cheese is melted. Serve at once.

If you wish, spike each with a kebab of cherry tomato, olive and pickled watermelon rind or onion. Makes 6 servings.

Baking lady fingers? Put each pair together with frosting.

Pound of Bacon Helps Flavor Lots of Dishes

High on the list of truly versatile foods is bacon. It's an easy-to-cook meat, ideal for any meal of the day and between-meal sandwiches and snacks. Too, bacon provides solid nourishment, food energy and high quality protein.

Besides its main-course uses, bacon makes an excellent garnish and flavor addition for other foods. For example, diced bacon adds texture and rich flavor to omelets, creamed potatoes, corn bread, potato salad, wilted lettuce salad, cream soup, green peas, stewed tomatoes, egg salads, spaghetti dishes and vegetable casseroles.

Bacon makes an ideal "wrap" for other foods, too. Cheese-stuffed franks acquire extra flavor when wrapped with bacon strips before broiling.

Hamburgers take on gourmet airs when wrapped with bacon before cooking. Olives or chicken livers wrapped with bacon before broiling are popular appetizers.

Bacon strips make attractive toppers and add extra juiciness to meat loaves, lean roasts, baked fish and baked poultry.

Blend Olives and Eggs for a Brunch Dish

Brunch... the meal that's half breakfast, half lunch... is a delightful way to entertain guests.

Brunch can lean toward lunch with an English grill of chops, broiled tomatoes and sausage, or it can be more breakfast-like with an egg dish, bacon or sausage, and an assortment of hot breads.

One particularly good brunch item is Eggs 'n Olives Poached in Cream. The poaching sauce is made with both sweet and sour cream and flavored with pimiento-stuffed olives, chives and Cheddar cheese. The olives provide color as well as an interesting slightly salty tang.

If you have a chafing dish, use this for serving... otherwise cook the eggs in your most attractive skillet so they can be brought straight to the table.

If you're serving a crowd, it's easier to poach the eggs ahead of time in simmering salted water. Lift them out with a slotted spoon and place in cold water until just before you're ready to serve.

Put the thoroughly drained poached eggs in the simmering olive cream sauce for about a minute to heat them before serving.

Eggs 'n Olives Poached in Cream

1 cup milk
1 cup heavy cream

1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
¼ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon chopped chives
1 tablespoon butter
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash Tabasco
1 cup dairy sour cream
8 eggs

Chopped parsley
4 English muffins, halved, toasted and buttered
Combine milk, heavy cream, cheese, olives, chives, butter, salt and Tabasco in large skillet. Simmer gently, stirring until cheese is melted. Stir in sour cream, blending well.

Bring sauce to a gentle simmer; break in eggs, one at a time. Cover and simmer gently 3 to 5 minutes, or until egg whites are just set. Garnish with chopped parsley, if desired.
Serve over muffins with grilled sausage, if desired.

DESIGN FOR BRUNCH — Eggs poached in cream that's flavored with pimiento-stuffed olives and chives makes a wonderful brunch dish for Spring.

COCKTAIL CANAPÉS—Finely chop one pound raw mushrooms (reserve stems for soup or sauces). Sprinkle with lemon juice. Add one tablespoon chopped chives and four tablespoons chopped water chestnuts. Stir together. Beat one carton (8 oz.) creamed

Instant Minced Onion Is Flavoring for Stuffing

Instant minced onion, instant onion powder, onion salt and onion flakes not only cost somewhat less than in the past, but the quality has been improved. These factors, plus their great convenience in the kitchen, explain the thousand per cent increase in the use of dehydrated onions since 1957.

Most onions for dehydration are grown along the Pacific Coast, from the Imperial Valley in Southern California to the Oregon border. These onions are very "special." They are high in solids and of concentrated aroma.

All dehydrated onions are easy to use. Instant onion powder can be added to anything just as it comes from the container.

It's especially good as a last-minute addition to some dish — mashed potatoes, for instance, or sandwich fillings, dips, salad dressings. It is pure onion.

Instant minced onion and onion flakes can be added "as is" to any mixture which contains enough liquid to let them soften. If there is no actual liquid in the mixture, instant minced onion should be mixed with an equal amount of water and allowed to stand for 3 to 5 minutes before use.

Same thing goes for onion flakes except that they need a few drops less water — 4 measures of onion flakes to 3 of water.

If dehydrated onion and water are measured accurately, the instant minced or flakes should absorb the water completely enough so that draining is unnecessary.

Add Sugar First

To brown coarse bread crumbs quickly, add a scattering of sugar before sautéing in butter. Use for flavor and texture contrast in fresh spinach salad, cooked green beans, ready-to-serve vermicelli, and other foods.

Incidentally, dehydrated onion should always be softened in water if they are to be sautéed.

Stuffed South American Flank Steak

3 pounds flank steak
2½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon ground black pepper
6 tablespoons instant minced onion
½ cup bottled oil and vinegar dressing
¼ cup mixed vegetable flakes
½ cup soft bread crumbs
½ cup cooked chopped spinach

¼ cup cooked corn
1 hard cooked egg, chopped
3 crisp bacon slices, crumbled
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cups beef bouillon

Score one side of steak in diamond pattern. Sprinkle both sides with ½ teaspoon of the salt and ¼ teaspoon of the pepper. Place in large bowl.

Combine 4 tablespoons of the minced onion with oil and vinegar dressing; pour over meat. Cover and refrigerate 6 hours or overnight.

In another bowl combine remaining 2 tablespoons minced onion, vegetable flakes and ½ cup water. Let stand 8 minutes for vegetables to soften.

Add bread crumbs, spinach, corn, egg, bacon and remaining ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Remove meat from onion marinade; reserve marinade.

Spoon filling onto scored side of steak spreading so it almost extends to edge. Roll jellyroll fashion; tie securely with string.

Heat shortening in large skillet. Brown steak on all sides, 15 to 20 minutes. Pour reserved onion marinade and bouillon over steak. Cover and simmer about 1 hour or until fork tender.

Place steak on warm platter; remove strings. Serve with strained skimmed gravy. Yield: 6 servings.

Hearty Potato Soup Made With Beef

Viennese Potato Soup is a taste. You may even wish to be pierced with fork. Add Worcestershire sauce, if desired. Serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

It appears to men, women and children. It is an excellent dish to serve at a buffet, or at a church supper.

Its appeal lies in the fact that it combines those two favorite foods, meat and potatoes, and makes the most of both.

Since the broth in which both are cooked together is part of the soup, not a bit of the precious vitamins and minerals and other food value is lost.

Viennese Potato Soup can be adapted to suit one's own taste without spoiling the soup.

One may use more or less onion than the recipe calls for, more or less meat.

But don't cut down on the margarine, for the soup needs water, all that for flavor.

And you don't cut down on potatoes, or until potatoes are easily

Viennese Potato Soup

½ cup margarine
½ cup chopped onion
1 pound lean ground beef
1 tablespoon paprika
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons flour
4 cups diced peeled potatoes (6 to 8 potatoes)
2½ quarts water
2½ tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, if desired

In large deep saucepan melt margarine. Add onion and fry gently until pale yellow. Add ground beef and stir to separate meat.

Cook gently 5 minutes, stirring several times. Add paprika, salt and pepper. Cover and cook 2 minutes. Dust flour over meat, stirring well. Add potatoes and water.

Cover and cook 15 to 20 minutes, or until potatoes are easily

Butterscotch, Orange to Fill and Frost Cake

Such beautiful things can be done with two ordinary cake layers — the variety is infinite. For example, make a "Butterscotch Crunch Cake" for dessert tonight and see if you're not the most praised cake-baker around!

Use a packaged yellow cake mix if you wish and spread this delicious almond-studded butterscotch frosting on top of each baked and cooled layer. Stack them and then spread the butterscotch's flavor pattern, a fluffy, orange-flavored cream frosting, on the sides. Delicious!

Butterscotch Crunch Cake

½ cup granulated sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ cup evaporated milk
½ cup butterscotch pieces
½ cup orange juice
1 egg yolk, beaten
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup diced natural almonds
¼ cup heavy or whipping cream
3 tablespoons powdered sugar
¼ teaspoon grated orange rind (optional)
½ teaspoon vanilla
Few dashes salt

2 baked, cooled 9-inch yellow cake layers
Combine granulated sugar and cornstarch in saucepan; stir in milk, butterscotch pieces and orange juice. Mix in egg yolk and heat, stirring, until melted and thick. Stir in butter and almonds. Cool.

Whip cream until stiff peaks form; slowly beat in powdered sugar, orange rind, vanilla and salt. Spread butterscotch mixture on top of cake layers; stack. Spread cream mixture over sides. Chill. Makes 8 servings.

Put Apple Cubes in Salad Mold

Triple apple flavor in a salad. Dissolve one package apple-flavored gelatin in two cups hot apple juice. When partially set, add two Golden Delicious apples (pared, cored, and cubed) and fill crown mold. Chill until firm; unmold and ring with clusters of frosted grapes. Serve with dollops of whipped cream tinted light green, flavored with mace.

Dark Cherries Color, Flavor

A refreshing springtime dessert is Dark Cherry Ice. Easy to make, it has a tart flavor and a gleaming jewel color and is as good as an accompaniment to ham or roast duckling as it is for dessert.

Dark Cherry Ice
About 1½ cups sweetened grapefruit juice
1 can (1 pound) pitted dark sweet cherries
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon honey

Drain cherries. Add enough grapefruit juice to cherry syrup to measure 2½ cups. Combine with cherries, lemon juice and honey in electric blender; blend smooth. Pour into refrigerator trays; freeze until firm around edges of pan. Beat smooth. Freeze until firm. Makes about one quart.

Crumble Olives

The inside story on ripe olives says they needn't always be neatly chopped or sliced. When you're in a hurry, just crumble them between your fingers. Great for stuffings, spreads, fillings and the like.

HONEY BAKED BANANAS — As easy as it is delicious is this dessert of baked bananas and orange sections flavored with honey and grated orange peel.

Try Baking Bananas

In these days of convenience most modern processors. What, for example, could be more convenient than a fine, ripe banana? Grip and strip, then munch away at one of the world's most nutritious fruits.

Q. What are the names of these cuts of meat?

A. Right, country-style backbones; left, country-style back ribs. They are sometimes packaged together and sold as "country-style ribs," "country-style backbones" or "country-style spareribs."

Q. Where do they come from? How are they identified?

A. Both cuts are made from the pork loin. "Country-style backbones" contain a portion of the backbone including the feather bones. "Country-style ribs" contain a portion of the rib bones. Each has a thick, lean, meaty covering.

Q. How are these meat cuts prepared?

A. By roasting, braising or grilling. To roast, place on a rack in a shallow pan. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a moderate oven (325 to 350 degrees) 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 hours. To braise, brown meat in its own fat or lard and drippings. Pour off drippings, season and add liquid. Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 to 2 1/2 hours or until done. To grill, place on the grill in the basket of an outdoor cooking unit. Cook slowly, turning occasionally, until done allowing 1 1/2 to 2 hours cooking time.

One good reason why Americans are the world's best-fed people is that we import mountains of bananas, some 3.7 billion pounds annually. That's almost as many as are eaten in all of Europe.

Bananas are one of the great est of all foods, raw or cooked from breakfast through to the midnight snack. They contain a wide assortment of nutrients, including vitamin C. Since almost all are eaten uncooked, the full benefit of the nutrients is obtained.

Their blandness and soft texture make them ideal in many therapeutic diets. Being low in sodium and very low in fat they are a treat for those on limited diets.

Among the many virtues of the banana is that even weight-watchers may eat them with a clear conscience because bananas are high in bulk and relatively low in caloric content.

Honey Baked Bananas
6 large bananas, peeled
1 orange, sectioned
2 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon fresh orange juice
1/4 teaspoon grated fresh orange peel
1 teaspoon butter or margarine

Place bananas in a single layer in a buttered casserole; top with orange sections. Combine honey with orange juice and orange peel; pour over fruit in casserole. Dot with butter. Bake in a preheated moderate oven 350 degrees 15 to 20 minutes.

Cut bananas in halves for serving, allowing 1 banana per serving. Serve with orange sections whole. Yield: 6 servings.

Use a wide spatula or a pancake turner to remove drop cookies from the pans after baking. Cool the cookies on wire racks.

Chill Meets Reagan's Budget Squeeze

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Ronald Reagan is pinning his hopes on an Ohio-type austerity program to fatten California's deflated treasury.

The Ohioans have told him how it worked for them, but so far the new Republican governor of the nation's largest state is getting a much chillier reception in this capital city than Ohio's Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes in Columbus.

Reagan launched his administration in January with a pledge to "squeeze, cut and trim" spiraling costs of state government. He charged that the Democrats under Gov. Edmund G. Brown had left California wallowing $500 million in red ink.

The big question for Reagan, holding his first public office, was just how and where to squeeze, cut and trim.

ASKED ADVICE

In his first month in office he brought out Ohio Finance Director Richard Krabach to tell how Ohio did it.

Faced by a similar situation four years ago Rhodes shocked Ohio with a severe economy program. Rhodes fired 5,000 provisional employees hired by the previous Democratic administration. He cut spending nearly 10 per cent.

MADE CUTS

He called for increased tuition at state colleges. He asked state employees to work on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays. He enlisted the help of private enterprise in streamlining state government at a yearly saving of $50 million.

The Ohio governor thus gained national attention by balancing the budget and still keeping his pledge against new taxes. Rhodes won easy reelection last November.

Philip M. Bataglia, Reagan's top assistant, said a new administration would be foolish not to profit from experiences elsewhere. In an interview, Bataglia said he and Reagan shopped widely for ideas right after the election and found that "it appeared the government with a number of problems that had a great similarity was Ohio."

So, they brought out Krabach for lengthy consultation. They brought him out a second time to address a meeting in Los Angeles at which Reagan persuaded business and industrial leaders to lend him 150 executives.

VOLUNTEER BASIS

These men, working on a volunteer basis for up to six months each, are making a pentrating analysis of cost control and efficiency of all state operations.

On other Rhodes-like points, Reagan has encountered considerably less enthusiasm among Californians accustomed to state services. As in Ohio, Reagan has ordered elimination of 5,000 state jobs over the next 15 months and has frozen new hiring except for the most essential work.

He has called for tuition for the first time at the state's 28 universities and colleges. He has ordered a 10 per cent average cut in state spending.

Is Soft Whiskey soft? Draw your own conclusion.

You have to taste Soft Whiskey to believe it. Anything less won't prove a thing.

How soft is Soft Whiskey?

We'll accept your conclusion if you'll swallow our pride.

WW Vets Reminded of GI Home Loan Cutoff

By JERRY T. BAULCH
AP Newfeatures

If you are a World War II veteran planning to buy a home this year, you had better shape up fast.

July 25 is the cutoff date now on GI home loan guarantees from the Veterans Administration. And if you put things off until the last minute, you may get tangled up in the rush of deadline riders.

Congress has extended the deadline several times, but as nearly as I can find out there isn't too much chance of another extension.

Nearly seven million loans have been guaranteed thus far for World War II veterans.

It should be easier now to buy a home under the program

SEPARATE LEGISLATION

The cutoff date doesn't affect Korean War veterans or those who served in the military since Jan. 31, 1955. These are covered under separate legislation.

The latest program has a special provision for men now in service, guaranteeing home loans for those who have had more than two years of active duty.

You're not excused from paying federal income taxes just because you're in military service, but you get some special breaks that can save you considerable money. Many states also ease the tax burdens of men and women in uniform.

The major tax relief is given to those in Vietnam.

If you're an enlisted man or warrant officer you don't have to pay taxes to the federal government on pay received for time in Vietnam or its adjacent waters.

The same rule applies while you're hospitalized as a result of wounds, disease or injury in Vietnam or adjacent waters.

EXEMPTION RAISES

The Vietnam exemption for officers has been raised from $200 to $500 of their monthly pay.

Servicemen in Vietnam — AS WELL AS Red Cross workers, federal civilian employees supporting the armed forces and others — need not file tax returns until 180 days after they leave there.

If you are hospitalized outside the United States as a result of service in Vietnam, your tax return is not due until 180 days after your release from the hospital.

And here's another special rule. If you are serving in Vietnam, your wife can file a joint return without your signature.

EXTRA 2 MONTHS

Other military personnel on duty outside the United States are allowed an extra two months for filing.

There is no automatic extension on filing for others in the services, but if their ability to pay is materially impaired by being in service, they may defer payment of tax until six months after their final discharge.

Servicemen get another break. These items in their pay are not taxable:

- Subistence, uniform and quarters allowances.
- Housing and cost of living allowances while on permanent duty outside the United States.
- The allowance for those who live in trailers near their bases; also trailer-moving allowances.
- Mustering out pay, disability retirement pay.

If you are on permanent duty overseas you may not deduct expenses for meals and lodging, even though you have to maintain a home for your family in the United States.

As for state tax relief, it's best to consult your home state tax guide.

State and local tax collectors where you are stationed may try to tax your income, or other personal property. But only your home state may do so.

Navajos Will Learn English Different Way

ROUGH ROCK, Ariz. (AP) —

A new method of teaching English as a second language will be used throughout the Navajo Reservation by 1968, a Bureau of Indian Affairs official says.

Dr. William J. Benham, assistant area director for education, says the method is a "structural linguistic" approach. It makes use of pattern drills.

An example, Benham said Indian youngsters are taught in English the sentence, "The boy hits the ball."

Then they employ such variations as "The girl hits the ball" and "The boy hits the car."

Benham said the approach is used because the Navajo language is not structurally like European languages.

Rebels Possibly Led by 'Che'

Guerrillas Fleeing Troops in Bolivia

LA PAZ (UPI) — Bolivian troops and planes today were tightening a noose around guerrillas, possibly led by Cuban revolutionary leader Ernesto "Che" Guevara, reported fleeing toward the Argentine border, a military commander Gen. David la Fuente said.

In Buenos Aires last night, Argentine Foreign Minister Nicolo Costa Mendez said a group of about 500 guerrillas "perfectly trained and equipped" were operating only 15 miles away from Argentina's northern Sala province.

He said border troops were in position to prevent their entry.

A force of at least 3,000 Bolivian troops, sweeping in a pincer movement through thickly forested mountains to trap the guerrillas, found training camps and hidden air strips used by the Communists, the army reported yesterday.

COLD WAR

The struggle had ominous overtones of the international cold war. Newspapers in La Paz printed photographs of two men identified as American para-troop advisers working with the Bolivian forces.

And on the Communist side, according to interim armed forces chief of staff Gen. Jorge Belmonte Ardiles, there was evidence that Chinese, European and Cuban fighters were in action.

Belmonte said Monday that Guevara had been to Bolivia on at least two occasions to organize the guerrillas.

Guevara, an Argentine-born physician turned professional revolutionary, dropped out of sight in Cuba two years ago. He has had close contacts in the past with the Bolivian Communist movement.

SEEK HIDEOUTS

In La Paz, Sucre and other urban centers, intelligence agents were seeking Communist hideouts used by the guerrillas, an army communique stated.

The army said bombers softened up suspected guerrilla hideouts in the main action center south of the Camiri oil zone near the frontiers with Argentina and Paraguay.

Helicopters were also being used to whisk troops over the jagged, cave-studded terrain.

The sparsely inhabited zone lies along the route used by smugglers to run cocaine to Buenos Aires and the international under-world market.

Windsor Students Oppose Draft Foes

WINDSOR, Ont., (AP) — University of Windsor students voted more than 5-1 Wednesday against supporting a center to help Michigan students come to Canada to avoid the draft.

In a campuswide vote, 233 students voted for advancing student council funds to maintain the center and 1,141 voted against.

A vote by the "Graduate Society" censured its own executive committee for advancing $100 towards the center, dubbed Info 67, but the student committee's actions and plans won't be affected by the vote, one source said.

"It by no means kills us. The vote shows that there are 233 students committed to aiding American students avoid the draft. We expect to continue collecting funds on Friday," said Brian Kappler, secretary-treasurer of Info 67.

Kappler said his committee had received money from U.S. citizens in Ohio and California, and his group would canvass Windsor labor organizations for more funds.

He said the student newspapers of a community college, the University of Michigan, the University of Detroit, Wayne State University and Michigan

Richard Tracke, a fourth-year honors English student from Windsor, who leads the Info 67 body, said his group did not wish to enter into the "large-move to Canada," he said.

"It is not our intention, how- sons close to their personal con- ing for kindergarten.

Jet Passenger Fatally Injured

Plane in Down-Draft; Head Strikes Ceiling

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — A Glenview, Ill., man was injured fatally Wednesday when a United Air Lines jet cruising at 37,000 feet over eastern Wyoming dropped 8,000 feet in a down-draft.

Airlines officials said the victim, George Graves, 52, apparently had released his seat belt to move closer to his family during a period of turbulent flight. When the craft fell Graves struck his head on the plane's ceiling.

The incident occurred about 100 miles north of Cheyenne. The pilot, Capt. R. H. Mitchell of Denver, made an unscheduled landing at Casper 30 minutes later. Graves was taken to a hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Thirty passengers and a crew of seven were aboard the Boeing 720 en route from Portland to Chicago.

FAMILY OK
Graves' wife, Margaret, his son, William, 21, and a daughter, Pamela Thompson and her 3-week-old son, Mark, were examined at the Casper hospital and released.

Other passengers were sent to Denver on a Western Airlines flight to make connections with United there as the 720 was held at Casper for a detailed inspection.

Detroit Plans a Model City

DETROIT (UPI) — Common Council today was examining Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh's 350-page plan for building a $100-million model city through the urban renewal of nine square miles of the inner city area.

If the council approves the document, it will be forwarded to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development with a request for $450,000 in federal funds.

The land involved has an estimated population of nearly 134,000 living in about 65,000 apartments and houses. About 63 per cent of the residents were believed to be earning below the standards for decent living.

The plan must be sent to Washington by May 1 to qualify for funds through the federal government's Model City Program.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

The Lighter slam double calls for an unusual lead. When the doubler has bid a suit it becomes obvious that he wants one of the other two suits led. When the doubler has not bid at all you must choose between three suits.

JACOBY

In general, if your opponents have bid exactly one suit other than the quite awhile but finally came to final trump, the unusual lead correct conclusion and will be the one suit they have opened a spade. South went up with the ace and East ruffed.

When they have each bid a suit, in general, the double calls for the one bid by dummy, when dummy has bid up to a lead of one and it is up to you to look over your hand and choose.

East's double of six hearts shows the Lighter slam double at its best. East is certain that his ace of clubs will be worth a trick. South has used Blackwood and stopped at six when his partner showed one ace. Obviously, South has a club loser.

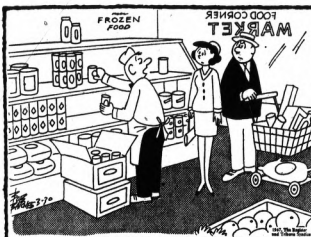

Can East be sure that his partner will open a spade and not a diamond? The answer is that he can't. Nothing is certain at the card table.

On the other hand, a review of the bidding shows that West is bound to have a lot of spades and not likely to hold many diamonds.

Then, if West is willing to think a spade void is evident. West will get around to that spade opening.

Sure enough, East has some anxious moments. West thought

Boston's Yastrzemski Starting to Menace Pitchers

By United Press International
Carl Yastrzemski, the American League's leading hitter in 1963, seems like he's ready to start menacing rival pitchers again this season.

Yastrzemski, who hit .321 in 1963, smashed two home runs and drove in six runs Wednesday as the Boston Red Sox rallied from five runs back to edge St. Louis 10-9.

In other action, Detroit downed Philadelphia 6-2, the New York Mets beat Cincinnati 5-3, Los Angeles nipped Kansas City 3-2, Pittsburgh topped the Chicago White Sox 6-4, Houston edged Atlanta 3-2, Minnesota blanked Washington 5-0 and Cleveland slipped by California 2-1. The scheduled game between San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs was cancelled because of rain.

The left-handed hitting Yastrzemski, whose average dipped to .278 last year after he hit a .312 clip the year before, tied sparked a three-run first inning off on southpaw Al Jackson outburst as Los Angeles tripped twice, connecting with one on in Kansas City. Don Drysdale the third and again with two mates aboard in the fifth.

The Red Sox outfielder also walked with the bases loaded in the sixth to drive across the tying run and came around to account for the eventual winning run on Joey Foy's three-run triple.

Bob Bailey's home run for to dump Cincinnati. Ron Swoboda's two-run triple was the big blow for the Mets rapped Mel Queen for seven hits in the inning.

The Pirates, who spotted the White Sox, a four-run lead on Ken Berry's bases-loaded homer in the third, battled back on Donn Clendenon's home runs in the fourth and sixth innings.

METS EXPLODE

The New York Mets exploded for five runs in the fourth inning and rode home on a strong relief performance by Ron Taylor to just four singles as Minnesota shut out the Senators. Killebrew's homer was his fifth of the spring.

Cleveland capitalized on four California errors and Gary Bell, Vincente Romo and Dick Radatz limited the Angels to four hits as the Indians edged Bill Rigney's crew.

Tom Tresh, the New York Yankee outfielder who has been out of action since March 11 with an injured knee, said Wednesday he expects to play this weekend when the Yankees make their Caribbean tour.

Muskegon Keglers Take First in ABC

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ken McBride and Tony Kiteles, Muskegon, Mich., rolled 394-421-459-1274 to move into first place in the classic doubles division Wednesday at the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

The 27-year-old McBride fired 655 and Koteles, a bowling center manager, fired 619.

Ferrari Is Absent in Sebring Races

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — With Enzo Ferrari's first team staying in Italy, the rest of the world's top sports car pilots huddled through first workouts Wednesday in preparation for Saturday's 12-hour Sebring endurance test.

Noticeably absent as the racers sped around the course were the red four-liter prototypes with which Ferrari snarled to a 1-2-3 triumph at Daytona Beach in the first of the 1967 races for the World championship.

This across-the-board victory got the Italian off to a blazing start in the battle to regain the championship he lost to America's Fords last year after a long reign as king of the world's race

BIG DEFEAT

Ferrari dealt Ford such an embarrassing defeat, in fact that he seemed unconcerned by the possibility that holding his factory team out of the Sebring event might give Ford an opportunity to gain some ground on him.

For first place at Daytona — the first of eight races in which the manufacturing title is won — Ferrari collected nine points. By also grabbing second and third, he blanked out the 10 points awarded for those places. Two German Porsches came in fourth and fifth, capturing the three points for fourth and cancelling out the two points for fifth.

The once-proud pack of Ford Mark IIs which ruled the world in 1966 was shut out cold, but Ford salvaged a single point when an independently entered car with which the factory had no connection came in sixth.

Freed temporarily of the menace of Ferrari, Ford will try to beat back into competition here with a new experimental Mark IV model to be driven by Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., and Bruce McClaren of England.

In Wednesday's first qualifying runs, both Fords broke the lap record for the 5.2-mile course.

McClaren was clocked at 106.72 miles per hour in the Mark IV and Mark Donohue at 106.36 in the Mark II. Dan Gurney set the record of 105.17 in last year's tuneups.

Jim Hall of Midland, Tex., again will challenge Ford for the over-all victory with two of his unorthodox Chaparral cars driven by former world champion Phil Hill of California, Mike Spence of England, Bob Johnson of Ohio and Bruce Jennings of Maryland.

Bad One for Turner

Yarborough Has Good Track Day

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — It was a good day at Atlanta International Raceway for Cale Yarborough but a bad one for Curtis Turner.

Yarborough narrowly escaped Turner's crash. He was behind Turner on a test run when the Chevelle began to spin.

"It was a helpless feeling," Yarborough described later, still shaken. "He went up in the air and I couldn't see him anymore. I just knew he would come down on my top or windshield. But, thank Heaven, he landed about a foot away from my right front. It was that close."

Turner was taken to a hospital for observation but was released Wednesday night.

The Charlotte, N.C., driver also lost his AFR records for one lap and four laps to Yarborough, also from Charlotte. Yarborough's four-lap average was 148.998 miles per hour and his one-lap speed was 149.461.

Table Tennis Meet Set

Former Illinois champion Ben Baker will be trying to retain his Oakland County table tennis title in championship action Sunday at Pontiac Central High School.

The 30-year-old Baker, a Navy career man stationed at the Naval Reserve Center in Pontiac, will be one of 100 county players on hand for the competition.

Play opens at 1 p.m. in the tournament which is sponsored by the Pontiac Parks & Recreation Department and

Pontiac Table Tennis Association

Entry blanks may be obtained at the Capital Barber Shop on West Huron. Tournament officials also said that contestants could register prior to the start of play Sunday. However, all registration must be accomplished before 1 p.m.

Indiana-born Baker, who has been in the Navy 14 years, numbers the Illinois singles title among his trophy collections. Along with his Navy work, Baker attends Oakland University where he is studying history and art.

TOUGH FOES

Players expected to give Baker a battle for the crown include former Pontiac city champions Sid Brillon, Perc Secord, Sid Dickstein, Jerry Saunders and Floyd Finkle.

Competition is slated for men's singles and doubles; boys' singles; junior singles; senior men's doubles (40 and over); women's singles; mixed doubles; novice singles (men and women).

Players will register from 10 a.m. until noon. Registration fee is $3.

The program is open to boys who will reach the age of 8 before August 1 and those who will not reach the age of 15 before August 1. There will be three leagues — minor, major and senior.

Adults interested in coaching and managing are invited to the registration session, or they may contact Leo Strohschein at UL 2-2895.

Poor PR Cited as Penn Ousts Athletic Boss

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — As an athletic director Jerry Ford was excellent, but he fell down as a public relations man, says the man who told Ford he was fired as head of athletics at the University of Pennsylvania.

Ford announced Wednesday he was told two weeks ago that he was being fired from the post he has held since 1953.

Ford claimed it was because he objected when he discovered that an alumni fund for athletics was being used for "tutoring" football players which he said was illegal under Ivy League rules.

Not so, said Dr. Harry Fields, assistant to the president for athletic affairs.

"As an athletic director, Jerry was excellent, but he was weak in getting along with the coaches and as a public relations man in dealing with the alumni. We also felt too many people associated him with Penn's lean years in sports," Fields said.

Ford, who earned $17,500 as Penn athletic director, said he was fired on until a replacement is picked.

Golf Tourney Starts

Greensboro Draws Stars

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, Julius Boros, Doug Sanders and Gary Player — those were the names most frequently mentioned today as the $125,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament got underway.

They shaped up as the most formidable of the 144 contenders in the chase for $25,000 top money in the richest tournament of the professional tour thus far this year.

Palmer, who elected to sharpen his game for next week's Masters under competitive conditions while Jack Nicklaus preferred to practice at Augusta, has won two of the 10 circuit tournaments this year. So has Boros.

Sanders, the GGO defending champion, has demonstrated a liking for the par-71 Sedgefield Country Club course measuring about 7,000 yards. He has won twice and lost a playoff here in the last four years.

Player demonstrated that his game was nearing its peak with a 66 in Wednesday's pro-amateur play.

Palmer is $252 away from becoming the first professional to reach the $800,000 plateau in official tournament winnings.

Other tournament winners this year who are on hand are Bob Goalby, Tom Nieporte and Dan Sikes.

Hope College Snaps Slump

TROY, Ala. (AP) — Hope College, loser of its first four baseball games this spring, defeated Troy State 5-3 Wednesday in 10 innings.

Hope scored both winning runs in the top of the tenth after Troy men were out. Phil Pluister reached base on a throwing error, pitcher Don Kroszma walked and outfielder David Abel singled to score Pluister.

Henry topped the men's three-meter event with 272.5 points and Dunfield had 277.0 points in the one-meter.

The 12 highest finishers in each event of Wednesday's pre-qualifying meet join the exempt entries in the preliminaries.

No prequalifying was needed in the women's events or in the platform diving.

Royals Seeking New Mentor

Jack McMahon Moves to San Diego

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals can expect to have a new coach "within a week to ten days," General Manager Pepper Wilson said after the announcement that Jack McMahon has accepted another job.

McMahon, who had led the Royals since 1963, Wednesday was named coach and general manager of the new National Basketball Association team at San Diego.

There had been talk that McMahon's days at Cincinnati were numbered ever since the Royals went on a losing streak last season. The team finished with a 39-42 record for third place in the NBA's Eastern Division. McMahon's record in the NBA is 199-160.

EXAMPLES OF VANDALISM — The Michigan Conservation Department shows these examples of vandalism at State parks and park rangers have received instructions to arrest vandals and rowdies as the start of the spring and summer recreation season nears.

State to War on Park Vandals

LANSING (AP) — Comes "We'll be ready for them this spring and family groups, young year," said William Laycock, Park rangers and other conservation officers are taking a dramatic swarm to the state parks, manager for southern Michigan special courses from State parks, do the gang-fighters, parks. So do the trouble-makers and vandals. He was referring to the unruly and potential rioters — not those who use the rangers.

blade knife last year," said Laycock. "At Hayes State Park, a bunch of hoodlums chased the park manager the length of the beach swinging tire irons." There were 998 instances of disorderly conduct, breaking and entering, molesting, assault and other violence in the state's southern parks last year.

An alert system also has been set up for emergency calls to state and local police or sheriff's patrols for aid in cases of major trouble.

Park trouble spots are the ones in southern Michigan near the major cities. Island Lake State Park, Dodge State Park No. 4 and Hayes State Park in southeastern Michigan and Warren Dunes State Park in the western side of the state all have experienced gang violence.

Southern Michigan state parks were visited by more than 10 million people last year. Attendance was up more than 20 percent. Instances of park rule violations increased by about the same 20 percent.

"A lifeguard at Island Lake State Park was backed out into the lake by a kid with a switch."

"I think this is mostly due to lack of parental control and discipline in the homes." The uniformed conservation officers will not carry guns. But Laycock said there is some thought of letting them keep night sticks handy—in case they need to swing them.

Along with terrorism, the young rowdies go in for vandalism. "They will break anything that will break," said Laycock. "They use picnic tables and benches for firewood and wind-downs are a favorite target. We hope to be able to stop it."

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Neil Blatchford of Chicago finished second to Ceichi Suzuki of Japan in the 500-meter race Wednesday night at an international speed skating meet. Suzuki's time of 40.2 set a record for the Valle Hovin rink. Blatchford's time was 40.8.

AAU Cage Tourney Title Is at Stake

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Two in the last 2½ minutes of the tourney-wide teams, Bartlesville, Okla., and Akron, Ohio, led to 12 points. The Ohioans held a 40-29 bulge at halftime.

Don Freeman gave Chicago new life in the second half, cutting Akron's lead to 56-49 with nine minutes left.

Benson, who had been resting during the Chicago rally, returned to play and hit two quick jumpers that featured an Akron surge to a 64-49 lead with 7:38 remaining. Benson led the scoring with 22.

MEET FOR THIRD — Denver and Chicago meet for third place honors in advance of the Bartlesville-Akron championship contest.

The Oklahoma State University team the past season, ignited a Denver comeback. He bagged 19 points in the second half.

Denver pulled 70-65 with seven minutes to play when Bartlesville's back court specialist, Harold Sergeant, started playing keepaway.

This stalled Denver's attack and forced the home town team into a full court press. It opened the gates for Sergeant to drive in for Oklahoma's last three baskets and victory.

Akron turned on its fast break.

Auto Makers to Go All Out to Cut Down Car Stealing

By CHARLES C. KAIN

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry is going to do all it can to make things tougher for auto thieves.

General Motors started the trend early this month when it announced its 1968 cars would have a couple of new antitheft devices.

Ford and Chrysler have similar plans afoot and are slated to disclose them April 10 at a hearing in Washington before a Senate subcommittee which has been looking into juvenile delinquency. American Motors is studying the problem, too.

GM thought the problem of sufficient importance to warrant the attention of its president, James M. Roche, who announced GM's two-point anti-theft program March 21.

1. — install a buzzer device that would be activated if a driver opened the car doors while the auto key was still in the lock. This was aimed at cutting down instances of where a driver left his car with the key in the switch, thus making it easy prey for car thieves.

2. — print the vehicle's serial or identification number on the top of the dashboard so it could be seen from the outside. GM reasoned that if such identifying numbers were more visible than they are now, as under the hood, they might serve as a deterrent to car thieves.

CAR LOCKS

GM's top brass also reportedly was evaluating the possibility of relocating inside door car locks so they could not be reached quite so easily by thieves who have had some success to date in slipping a wire into the opening between the main window glass and the side windows, hooking a piece of wire onto the door lock and pulling it up.

GM conceded that the problem was to find a spot, inaccessible for thieves, but still within fairly easy reach of the driver or other occupants when they wanted to release the lock.

Ford and Chrysler said they would wait for their appearance before the subcommittee headed by Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., to disclose details of the campaigns they have afoot to make car stealing more difficult.

GM said its antitheft campaign was intensified after federal figures showed that over 500,000 cars worth about $140 million were stolen last year with about two-thirds of the thefts charged against juveniles under 18.

PRaises CAMPAIGN

Michael J. Murphy, president of the National Automobile Theft Bureau in New York, was among the first to praise GM's antitheft campaign.

"I am sure GM's program will have an important beneficial effect on the serious problem of auto theft," he said in a telegram to Roche.

GM pointed out that most of the antitheft steps would still remain the problem of the individual motorist.

"He must be educated against his own carelessness in leaving the auto unlocked or the keys in the ignition," a GM spokesman said. "All the precautions in the world will be of no avail if the motorist makes things easy for the car thief."

Bay's Flood Threat Ending

BAY CITY (AP)—The threat of damaging floods is almost over in the Bay County area.

Ice breakup and a water runoff in the county is better this spring than ever before according to William Rosebush, county drain commissioner.

He said the Kawakawin river broke up "real well" and should present no problems. Ice on the river in the past broke up and then jammed at river mouth causing severe flooding.

A $108 million dredging project on the river next summer is designed to eliminate the back-up problem.

LOTS OF SNOW

He said the spring breakup and runoff is "unbelievable" because of the large amount of snow in the county. He said the recent thaw weather and lack of rain were responsible for the good runoff.

He said complaints from home owners about water in their basements had been almost nonexistent this year.

City Finance Group Asks Advisory Income Tax Vote

KATIE'S ROLLING — The long winter apparently hasn't improved Katie Vogt's skateboard abilities. Katie of 4667 Quarton, Bloomfield Township, found her first spin of spring a little frightening.

A citizen committee looking into Pontiac's municipal money problems has endorsed and sent to the City Commission a proposal asking a spring advisory vote on a city income tax.

Coupled with an income levy, the measure suggests, would be a 2-mill charter reduction in the city's property tax powers.

If passed, the millage proposal would cut the city's general fund levy to $8 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

State law sets an income tax at 1 per cent on residents and 1/2 per cent on non-residents working in the city.

Final approval of the recommendation came by voice vote last night at a 90-minute meeting of the Pontiac Finance Study Committee (PFSC).

The committee amended only slightly

a report which emerged from its revenue subcommittee last week.

The subcommittee had asked that the city guarantee a 2-mill property tax reduction.

Urging stronger assurances of a lower levy on homeowners, however, the full committee last night inserted a provision that any reduction be in the form of a charter amendment.

The committee, chaired by Robert R.

Eldred, also indicated — pending City Commission reaction to the proposal — that its members intended to remain active in promoting voter support of the measure.

Those sentiments were qualified, however, by an almost unanimous insistence that a "concrete package of services" be offered as the projected result of a tax increase.

18 Killed as Jet Hits New Orleans Motel

TOO MUCH 'VASSER' IN VASSAR — The overflowing Cass River is threatening to do serious damage in the Michigan community of Vassar, and already three families have fled their homes. Five streets are closed with the possibility of more.

Victims Include Nine Schoolgirls

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A Delta Air Lines DC8 jet on a training flight careened into a luxury motel opposite New Orleans International Airport early today and exploded. Nine high school girls from Juda, Wis. were among the 18 persons killed in the flaming crash.

The girls were on a senior class outing, part of a group of 32 from Juda High School, who had been in New Orleans since Monday and were scheduled to leave today.

Eight of the dead girls were found huddled together in a charred bathroom of the motel. The body of the ninth was blown outside.

Five pilots and a federal inspector were on board the big jet, which sliced through two houses before plunging into the Hilton Inn, across U.S. 61 from the airport. All six were killed.

The motel erupted into fierce flames. As many as 40 guest units were destroyed or damaged. The number of injured was not known.

The cartwheeling jet spilled fuel as it skidded down a railroad track behind the motel, blistering the area.

The nose of the craft remained buried in the building.

The surviving students, many hysterical in a daze, were placed under sedation by doctors. Some wore Bermuda shorts, others were dressed in blankets.

Tour leaders were busy informing relatives in Juda, a village of 300 persons in Wisconsin's dairy country of the tragedy.

Police Capt. Marvin Leonard said the plane "spewed a sea of fuel right to those rooms where those eight kids were staying. That's what killed them. Not the impact from the wreckage.

"There were eight girls in four rooms. You could see where they took refuge in the shower stalls. One girl even took her purse with her.

"They turned on the water, but it didn't do them any good."

Most guests fled the fiery scene in panic, many in their nightclothes.

Romney's Tax Plan Heading for Defeat

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Romney's income tax bill was in position for a final vote in the Senate today — and faced almost certain defeat.

Most senators, both Republicans and Democrats, predicted the bill would be rejected today and returned to committee where a measure of compromise could be worked out between the parties.

The taxation committee would have two weeks — until an April 13 committee report deadline — to work out a compromise and report the bill back to the floor for reconsideration.

"On the assumption of the possibility that it won't pass, I have assurance from the Democrats that they will help resurrect it," said Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis.

However, Lockwood declined to predict how many senators would vote for the bill, calling for a 2 1/2 per cent personal income tax, 5 per cent corporate tax and 8 per cent tax on financial institutions.

REPUBLICANS IN OPPOSITION

The bill would require 20 votes to pass. There are 20 Republicans and 18 Democrats in the Senate, but observers believe at least five Republicans and no Democrats will vote for the tax in its present form.

"I predict the 20 votes won't be there," said Senate Taxation Committee Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, whose committee has been working on the bill since January.

DeMaso said he believed the bill would be "sent back to committee and Republicans and Democrats will work to develop an acceptable package."

"The second time around it will pass," DeMaso said, "because I don't think anyone wants to come back to a full session based on the fact schools and counties must prepare budgets."

The bill's backers say it must be passed in time to give school officials an idea of how much money will be available for operations.

The Senate spent less than 30 minutes last night in debating the bill, one of eight bills in Romney's fiscal reform package, before moving it onto third reading — the position for final passage.

The bill drew only one amendment from the floor. Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, proposed that any increase in the tax rates adopted by future legislators be approved by a vote of the people.

Kuhn withdrew his amendment after fellow senators pointed out that his amendment would have no binding effect on subsequent legislatures, which could amend the bill as they saw fit.

Dems in House Elect Leader

LANSING (AP) — Rep. William A. Ryan of Detroit, who doesn't smoke, seldom drinks, and possibly works longer hours than any other legislator, is the new Democratic leader in the House of Representatives.

Ryan, 48, a devout Roman Catholic and a House member since 1958, was elected by his party's caucus in a secret vote yesterday, beating Rep. Albert Horgan, D-Flint, on the fourth ballot.

Democrats refused to reveal the vote totals, but the Ryan-Horgan race was described as close.

Candidates J. Bob Traxler of Bay City, Daniel Cooper of Oak Park and Arthur Law of Pontiac were eliminated on the first three ballots.

Ryan reportedly had 24 votes on the first ballot and 27 — just one short of the needed majority — on the second.

Newcomers to Lansing, who note Ryan's quiet, methodical manner, are sometimes surprised to learn he is a Marine Corps veteran of World War II and was twice president of United Auto Workers Local 104.

Second Bomb Discovered in Sterling School

A second homemade bomb — this one not equipped with a fuse — was discovered this morning at Sterling Junior High School, 12500 19 Mile, Sterling Township.

School authorities said the alarm clock triggered device was found in the same lavatory by the same matron, Mrs. Charlotte Stoddard, at 7:30 a.m. She had discovered a similar bomb there last month which was subsequently defused with no damage occurring.

The school was not occupied at the early hour and Sterling Township police were called. They examined the bomb and sent it to Michigan State Police for investigation.

Students were still being questioned regarding the previous bomb finding.

Senators Oppose Dodd Ouster but Refuse to Exonerate Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee has decided against recommending expulsion of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd. But neither will it exonerate him of misconduct charges.

It also was learned yesterday that the panel will not propose that Dodd be stripped of his Senate seniority or penalized financially in any way.

The 59-year-old Connecticut Democrat's financial affairs and his relations with an agent of West German business interests have been under investigation by the bipartisan committee for more than a year.

The committee's recommendations to the Senate are not expected for three or four weeks, but the staff is working on a preliminary draft.

At a secret meeting last week, to set guidelines for the staff, the committee ruled out both total exoneration and expulsion, it was learned.

'BETWEEN EXTREMES'

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., one of the six committee members, said when asked about this he thought it was fair to conclude that whatever action is taken "will fall between these two extremes."

In-between courses of action could include censure or condemnation of Dodd's conduct or some other form of reprimand or rebuke.

'Mud Not Hindering Mail Much'

Some Pontiac area residents living on unpaved roads have complained that their mail isn't always delivered because of muddy conditions.

Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said today his office has received a few complaints. However, he emphasized there has been no major breakdown of mail delivery this spring.

"Only a few carriers were unable to deliver some mail yesterday because of muddy impassable roads in a few localized situations," he added.

If a carrier can get to the mailboxes, he will deliver the mail, but occasionally the road conditions make this impossible.

Donaldson cited a recent incident where a carrier's truck was stuck for 1 1/2 hours on a muddy road. It took 7 1/2 hours to repair the broken axle and the transmission, after the wrecker pulled the truck out and towed it to the station.

YOU NEVER KNOW

"Carriers take the temporarily undeliverable mail with them every day because what might have been impassable yesterday could be fine today," Donaldson said.

Patrons in impassable areas who want their mail should call or come to the post office.

If in Zip Code area 48063, 54, 55, or 58, the patron should contact the superintendent of mails at the Pontiac Post Office.

If the area Zip Code is 48057, the Auburn Heights Post Office should be contacted.

New School Cheaper Than Improving PCH'

The Pontiac Board of Education learned last night that it will be less costly to build a new high school at another site than to modernize Pontiac Central.

The remodeling of the school and the construction of additions would cost approximately $2.5 million, Charles Sherman of the Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., told board members.

The firm had been retained two months ago to determine what renovations would be required to meet proposals made by the teaching staff and administrators during an 18-month study.

The additions would require the razing of the Crofoot Elementary School adjacent to Central since usable land is at a premium.

To replace the Crofoot school would require an additional $800,000, according to Richard Fell, assistant superintendent, bringing to over $9 million the cost of the total project.

ANOTHER PROBLEM

"This also raises the problem of where to house the children

at Crofoot while construction is going on," said Fell.

There are 510 children enrolled at Crofoot.

The total cost for a new high school is estimated at $8.5 million, according to the architectural firm.

The firm reported that the high school is basically sound but does not meet today's requirements of a high school.

450 SQUARE FEET

Some of the rooms, it was noted, contain only 450 square feet, compared to the 800 to 900 square feet in new schools.

The main building at Central was built in 1912, with additions made in 1928 and 1952.

After hearing the report, the board directed the administration to return in two weeks with suggestions on other possible uses for Pontiac Central.

Auto Makers' Pleas Rejected

U. S. Shuns Changes in Safety Standards

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Traffic Safety Agency rejected today all of the appeals by 38 auto manufacturers for changes and deletions in the initial federal motor vehicle safety standards.

The agency did, however, grant a public hearing on the industry's objections to one key standard, the one providing for interior impact protection in the event of accidents.

Lowell K. Bridwell, acting undersecretary of commerce for transportation, said the auto manufacturers requested a wide variety of changes, deletions or postponements of the effective dates of 18 of the 20 standards issued Jan. 31.

The agency only granted minor technical amendments or interpretations.

The public hearing on interior impact protection will explain and produce evidence on their argument that they cannot meet all the details of the standard by the deadline next Jan. 1.

That proposed rule says instrument panels, seat backs, sun visors, arm rests and knobs and handles must be constructed to reduce the possibility of injury to occupants of the cars in accidents.

In a series of legal rulings, the agency:

- Turned down changes and delays requested by auto companies for 13 of the 18 standards which the manufacturers wanted revised. Clarifications and interpretations were issued for all the remaining standards except the two which were not involved.

- Adopted minor technical rephrasing in relation to portions of three of these standards.

- Announced it will schedule industry testimony before a hearing officer for additional data on the interior impact protection standard.

Louisiana's High Court May Get Warrant Appeal

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — An attorney for a missing witness in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's Kennedy assassination conspiracy case plans to ask the State Supreme Court to throw out the arrest warrant for the man.

Criminal Dist. Court Judge Edward Haggerty Wednesday denied a motion by Gordon Novell's attorney to quash the warrant for Novell.

Haggerty continued Novell's bond at $50,000 but indicated he might lower it if Novell returns to the court's jurisdiction. Garrison disclosed there had been threats on his life, but he joked about them in the hallway of the court building Wednesday.

Garrison seeks Novell's arrest as a material witness in his investigation. Novell, 29, sold his French Quarter tavern and left town last week just before a VOLUNTEERS — WELCOME — Mrs. Edward B. Emery (left), president of Junior League; Mrs. John E. Bones, Junior League board member; and Mrs. James H. Wineman, chairman-elect of Central Volunteer Bureau's administrative council, said the bureau would operate on a three-year trial basis.

Decision to open the clearing house grew out of a growing need in the area on the part of agencies as well as citizens who want to volunteer their time and talents to service programs in the community.

Sponsored jointly by the United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit (UCS) and the Junior League of Birmingham, the new center will be a branch operation of the Central Volunteer Bureau.

That was the warning issued today by Lt. Donald K. Kratt, head of the safety division of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

"There's actually no ice on most of the shores around here," he said, "and the ice in the center of the lakes is very weak and unsafe."

He said that what appears to be solid ice nearer shore is honeycombed and pocketed.

"Parents should keep their children away from the water and ice fishermen should use extreme caution in removing their shanties from the lakes," he said.

Kratt estimated it would take three or four days of subzero weather to make the ice solid enough for safety.

"Not only is that unlikely," he said, "but the windy weather of March and early April tends to break up the ice even more."

Chicago Girl Is Still Sought

CHICAGO (AP) — Police are still seeking a firm clue on the fate of Carrie Stephens, 8, who disappeared from a sidewalk near her family's north side home Monday evening after a man had stopped to talk with her and her playmates.

Carrie's friends ran to her mother, Alice Stephens, and said that Carrie walked away with the man. The man was described as fat and about 40. He offered the children $1 if they could find a little dog which he said was lost.

Although more than 200 persons have called police with tips and advice, there has been no trace of Carrie.

Splintering Endangers Communist Movement

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
The illness of the world Communist movement is illuminated by what has been going on in Latin America.
No longer can advocates of armed revolution trust those who claim to be their allies. National interests get in the way. And, to the violent revolutionaries, the Russians are the worst sinners in this respect.
"What would the Vietnamese revolutionaries think if we sent delegations to South Vietnam to negotiate with the puppet government of Saigon?" shouted Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro in a marathon March 13 speech.
The Russians had a delegation in Colombia, negotiating for a trade, cultural and financial agreement with the government of President Carlos Lleras Restrepo, Castro pointed out. These negotiations, Castro noted, went on undisturbed while Colombia's government arrested the chief and all leaders of the Colombian Communist party they could find.

"No matter what the others do," insisted Castro, "we Marxist-Leninists will never reestablish relations with such governments."
Things were far from rosy. In Latin America, the situation was considerably different from that of five years previously, when the Alliance for Progress was just starting and Castro was seen as a hero to impatient revolutionaries.
A combination of factors eroded the Castro image. The Soviet-Chinese quarrel had splintered already small Latin American parties. The Soviet quest for trade and influence required a cautious policy which frowned on armed violence as the only means to Communist power. Latin American governments, strengthened by U.S. help, became more confident of their ability to cope with revolutionary violence.
Castro's bitter lament about what was happening in Venezuela provided convincing evidence of the Red troubles. The Cuban dictator pilloried the Venezuelan Communist party leaders as a bunch of cowards who had turned their backs on armed struggle.

Castro was not alone in his woes. They were shared by many Communist leaders in the underdeveloped world. Those leaders were harried by what, from their point of view, was the all too practical outlook of the current Soviet regime, on the one hand, and on the other the all too impractical approach of the Chinese to their prospective spheres of influence.
Against such a background, Vietnam took on the look of a decisive test of the theory of guerrilla war — what the Chinese Communists call "people's war."
From the point of view of Communists impatient for power, the Vietnam situation might look like this: if it proves a Communist success with promise of delivering all Vietnam into Red hands, their theories will be vindicated and they will have received a needed shot in the arm. If it should be an obvious failure, the Communist movement can look forward only to more quarrels and more splintering.

Speech Change Tied to Disease

Computer Can Spot Neurological Troubles

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — An elegantly simple method for detecting the onset of neurological disease development here at the National Center for Chronic Disease Control.
People developing a neurological disease such as Parkinsonism often reveal their condition through inaudible speech changes before any other sign is visible.
And these changes can be spotted with a computer, according to Dr. Joseph L. Stewart, speech consultant to the center.

The system should be ready for large-scale use in routine physical examinations in about three years.
In the meantime, the Cleveland Hearing and Speech Center in Ohio, working under contract for the national center, will map out the speech changes. Their aim is to determine which changes in stress, pitch and intensity go with which diseases.
WITHIN 10 SECONDS
Once that is done, the computer will be able to analyze a speech signal, match it for possible disease, and return a verdict within 10 seconds.

Only electronic analysis can spot the pathological changes at such an early stage, said Dr. Stewart. And early detection is important to treatment, he said.

CHINESE MISTAKES

Chinese Communist activities severely damaged Communist fortunes in Asia, notably with the explosion in Indonesia which wrecked the Chinese-line Indonesian Communist party. In Africa, the Chinese leaders had preached that the time was ripe for revolution, a line not likely to be popular with new African political figures.
Communists could hardly be

Widow Wins $750,000 Suit

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The widow of a deckhand who was making his first Great Lakes voyage when the ore carrier Daniel J. Morrell sank during a Lake Huron storm seeks an award of $750,000 in damages for his death.

Mrs. Cecilia A. Stojek of Buffalo filed a suit that amounts to $750,000 in damages for the death of her husband, Daniel J. Morrell, 39, who was killed in a Lake Huron storm on Nov. 23, 1965. Aboard the ship was Dennis Hale of Ashland, Ohio, the only survivor among the Morrell's 29-man crew.

Three other suits for lesser amounts have been filed in the federal court here by relatives of other victims of the sinking. The damages sought total $1.7 million.

In addition, several other damage suits against Bethlehem and Cambria have been filed in federal courts at Cleveland and Detroit.

Mrs. Stojek asks the court to award her $500,000 for the loss of her husband, Arthur E. Stojek, a 41-year-old father of five, perished on a life raft after the
