Shunning Student War Protests to Hurt Nixon—Percy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican senator says President Nixon may be haunted by his repudiation of student protests against the Vietnam war.

Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois said the statement undoubtedly will be used against the President time and again.

★ ★ ★

"As a matter of realism," Percy said yesterday, "any president would be affected by any movement as widespread as that movement is."

Nixon said Sept. 26 he expects continuing opposition to the war on campuses and elsewhere. ". . . We expect it," he said, "However, under no circumstances will I be affected by it."

'Under No Circumstances Will I Be Affected By (The Protests)' — Nixon

SENATORS JOIN PROTESTS

At least three senators, Republican Charles E. Goodell of New York and Democrats George McGovern of South Dakota and Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, already have accepted campus engagements in support of an Oct. 15 war protest movement.

Student organizers are planning a moratorium on normal activity on that day, to turn instead to teach-ins and other protests aimed against the war.

Percy said he will be in Brussels Oct. 15, for a NATO meeting, but he offered a guarded endorsement of the protest, saying it probably would be an effective device.

"I certainly would never want to discourage any contribution to a constructive dialogue," he said.

CRITICISM MORATORIUM

Percy also termed impractical the proposal of Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania for a 60-day moratorium on Vietnam policy criticism.

"There isn't any moratorium because it hasn't been accepted," Percy said.

★ ★ ★

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., No. 2 Democrat on the foreign relations committee, said the pressures being aimed at Nixon "are not completely devoid of politics.

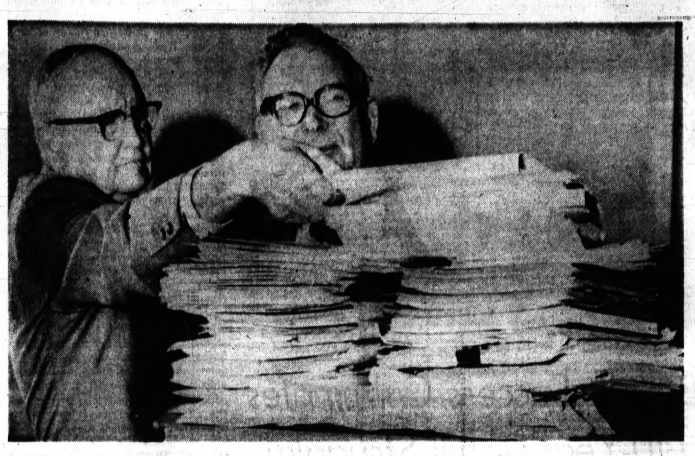

"The conduct of a war, just like the conduct of peace negotiations, cannot be handled on the floor of the U.S. Senate nor in the halls of the House of Representatives," Sparkman said.

Percy proposed that the United States halt offensive operations in South Vietnam, and end bombing missions there, "as long as the enemy takes no advantage of the situation."

He said such a peace initiative would be in line with Nixon's effort to reduce the level of combat and prod Communist negotiators to action in the stalled peace talks.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know any better way to get casualties down than to stop as much of the fighting as we possibly can," Percy said.

Military Funds OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a $21.35-billion military spending package, including President Nixon's Safeguard ABM system, after one of the bitterest public fights of the year.

The bill — slightly more expensive than when passed by the Senate — received 311 to 44 approval in the House last night after a debate marked by shouting matches, charges of open vote maneuvering and claims by spending critics they were muzzled.

★ ★ ★

It gives Nixon the go-ahead to deploy his version of the antiballistic missile system, leaves intact $481 million for 23 more of the controversial C5A supercargo planes and contains $1 billion more for ships than the administration asked.

Efforts by critics of military spending to cut those and other projects totaling $2.2 billion were defeated during the week-long House consideration of the measure.

HOUSE-SENATE PANEL

The bill now goes to a House-Senate conference committee in which differences between versions passed by each chamber will be worked out.

Occasional angry exchanges between supporters and critics of military spending Wednesday and Thursday became the dominant feature of heated debate yesterday.

Critics claimed they were being run over roughshod when debate on the advanced manned strategic bomber was cut off by voice vote after only six minutes.

They protested again when debate was limited to 47 seconds per speaker on a proposal to cut $136 million from three bomber defense projects.

'DISTORTING FACTS'

Armed services committee chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., accused critics in general of distorting facts and accused Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif., of "heaping abuse" on the chairman, other committee members and the committee staff.

Leggett had said military spending has risen $10 billion a year since Rivers became chairman compared to $1.4 billion before and that the committee staff echoes Rivers' views at the expense of dissidents.

★ ★ ★

The final dispute came before a 270-93 roll-call vote supporting Nixon's safeguard system.

Critics accused the Republican leadership of trying to maneuver the vote into an overwhelming show of support by insisting the vote be on elimination of all Safeguard funds, not just its deployment money.

Talks, Suit Mark Rift at Clarkston Schools

Negotiations resumed late yesterday in the Clarkston school dispute between the school board and the district's teachers.

Meanwhile, Pontiac attorney Wallace McClay filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday afternoon against the school board and the Clarkston Education Association (CEA).

There was no report this morning on how long talks were held yesterday or their outcome.

Filed in behalf of James F. Peters, the father of five school-age children, the suit asks that "the court order the school board and CEA to meet and bargain in good faith until differences are settled."

Peters said this morning he was happy to hear talks had resumed. In reference to his suit, "I thought it was better that they (the board and the union) get mad at me before they got mad at each other."

Peters of 3723 Maiden Lane, Waterford Township is a Clarkston School District resident. McClay said Peters is representing other parents in the Clarkston district in the "class action" suit.

A hearing on the injunction action is scheduled for 9 a.m. Monday before Judge William R. Beasley in Circuit Court.

The teachers struck Monday after the board of education rejected some of the recommendations made by a state fact-finder. Details of the salary schedule and emergency days off are reportedly the chief remaining obstacles.

New Criticism of Haynsworth?

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon is still firmly supporting Clement F. Haynsworth for the Supreme Court, but the Florida White House acknowledged today that the President has gained new information critical of the judge since sending his name to the Senate.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said a complete review of all aspects of Haynsworth's background had been made prior to the nomination and "when additional reports came up in the press, even further checking was done."

★ ★ ★

Asked if this meant Nixon had learned some facts about Haynsworth after submitting his name and had then ordered a more extensive check, Ziegler said, "to some extent the reports and the interpretation of some of these matters have never been interpreted in that way before."

It was obvious that the reports that prompted a further inquiry into Haynsworth's past were of a critical nature.

Ziegler was asked whether the Senate Republican leadership would join the President in supporting Haynsworth.

STILL BACKS CANDIDATE

"You would have to address your question to them," Ziegler said.

The press secretary said, in response to questions, that even following the additional checking of Haynsworth, the President was convinced "of the soundness of the judge's background."

★ ★ ★

He said anew that "we expect the judiciary committee to act in a positive way and for the Senate to confirm the nomination."

When asked if it would be fair to say that Nixon had not anticipated the degree of resistance his choice for the Supreme Court has met, Ziegler pointedly ignored the inquiry.

President May Be Contacting Hanoi

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon's staff held open today the possibility that the United States is in secret contact with the Hanoi government about Vietnam peace prospects.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, questioned about a report that the administration has been in touch behind the scene with Hanoi since the death of Ho Chi Minh, declined to deny the premise.

★ ★ ★

Nixon just this week has been trying to promote a moratorium on criticism of his Vietnam policy, presumably so he could advance his search for peace.

In a Washington dispatch, James McCartney of the Knight newspaper chain said the Nixon administration had made recent contacts with Hanoi and that these were directly related to the push for a halt to criticism.

DON'T DISCUSS IT

Ziegler, when asked about that, said: "We've always said that we will watch every development in South Vietnam. . ."

As for contacts, he said, "we have made it our position not to discuss one way or the other" whether these are being carried on.

Congressmen Seek to Bar Antitrust Suit Settlement

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Forty-six congressmen have asked a federal judge to keep the Nixon administration from settling out of court an antitrust suit against the nation's largest auto makers.

In a petition yesterday to U.S. District Court Judge Jesse W. Curtis, the 44 Democrats and two Republicans asked that the auto manufacturers be tried on charges of "conspiracy in restraint of trade and commerce in motor vehicle air pollution control equipment."

★ ★ ★

The judge set a hearing on the petition for Oct. 28.

The charges were brought in a lawsuit last Jan. 10 by then Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, who accused General Motors, Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp. of conspiring for the past 15 years to delay installing antismog devices on cars.

AGREED TO SETTLE

On Sept. 11 the Justice Department agreed to settle the suit in return for assurances from the auto makers and the Automobile Manufacturers Association that they will develop antismog devices competitively and refrain from deciding among themselves when the devices will be installed.

The congressmen contend the settlement "is not in the best interests of the people."

"It will deprive private litigants of the opportunity to take advantage of such facts and judgment which might have been proved and obtained by the government," the congressmen said.

If the judge accepts the settlement, the lawmakers said, it should be rewritten to obligate the defendants "to admit the allegations in the government complaint" so private litigants can use the admission as evidence.

ONLY 1 STATE CONGRESSMAN

Only one Michigan congressman — Democrat John Conyers of Detroit — was among the signers of the petition.

Also seeking to intervene in the case were the United Auto Workers, the American Civil Liberties Union and several cities, counties and individuals.

"The concern of the American people over air pollution requires an open trial," said the UAW.

Latest Ouster by the AFL-CIO Heats Up Feud

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The battle between labor leaders George Meany and Walter Reuther has escalated with the expulsion from the AFL-CIO of the International Chemical Workers Union.

The 1,000 delegates at the AFL-CIO convention, representing some 13 million workers, voted overwhelmingly yesterday to oust the chemical workers.

The 29-man AFL-CIO executive council, headed by labor federation President Meany, had unanimously recommended the action against the 110,000-member union for joining a "hostile" labor group, the Reuther-sponsored Alliance for Labor Action.

MEANY

REUTHER

The AFL-CIO charged the alliance with raiding AFL-CIO unions.

UAW-TEAMSTERS UNION

Reuther pulled his Auto Workers Union out of the AFL-CIO last year after charging Meany with stagnant leadership and joined acting president Frank Fitzsimmons of the Teamsters Union in creating the alliance.

The expulsion was the first such action since the AFL-CIO kicked out the Teamsters and two smaller unions on corruption charges 12 years ago.

Chemical Workers President Thomas E. Boyle protested: "We have done nothing wrong."

Troy Apartment Fire Injures 2

Two women were injured early today when a fire swept four second-story units in the Somerset Park apartment complex in Troy.

Doris Hahnke, 29, suffered first- and second-degree burns and smoke inhalation. She is listed in fair condition by officials at William Beaumont Hospital.

Treated and released from the hospital was Louise Marsik, 27, who suffered a fractured wrist bone when she jumped from her second-story apartment.

Troy Fire Chief Lauren Ford said the fire apparently started in the bedroom of apartment 201 at 1940 Gulfview about 2:50 a.m. and spread into three other apartments of an eight-unit building.

Two apartments were gutted and extensive damage was done to the other two, he added.

Ford said the fire was brought under control after about 45 minutes and completely extinguished after three hours.

Fire officials have not yet determined the cause of the blaze or placed a dollar value on the damage which they termed extensive.

GI Graft Quiz Focusing on Top Noncom

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators looking into charges that the Army's onetime top enlisted man was part of a criminal empire want to know why the soldier remains in a position of trust and responsibility.

For the past week a Senate investigations subcommittee has focused on Sgt. Maj. William O. Wooldridge who, one senator said, is assuming the "proportions of a character of fiction" from testimony concerning a multimillion-dollar graft operation.

Although Wooldridge is no longer the Army's No. 1 enlisted man he recently was named sergeant major at the White Sand missile base in New Mexico and the subcommittee wants to know why.

So far, there has been no answer but the senators indicate they will press the matter when hearings resume next week with Wooldridge expected to testify.

IN KEY POSITION

"The person who is sergeant major of the Army is in a position to greatly affect the morale and welfare of the Army at large," Col. James C. Shoultz, now deputy provost marshal general, said yesterday.

Shoultz testified that when he complained to Maj. Gen. Carl Turner, that a criminal investigation involving Wooldridge was being stifled, the general ordered him out of his office.

★ ★ ★

"He told me Sgt. Maj. Wooldridge was just a very simple fellow and people took advantage of him frequently and he was just a good ol' country boy," Shoultz related.

★ ★ ★

Reis Kash, a warrant officer who is a key investigator in the Army's Criminal Investigation Division said Wooldridge attended a secret meeting at Ft. Benning, Ga. called to set up a scheme to manipulate Vietnamese and U.S. currency on a worldwide basis.

PURPOSE OF MEETING

He said CID agents at Ft. Benning told him the main purpose of the meeting was "the investment of money that was being generated by other illicit activities," including rakeoffs from slot machines at NCO clubs in Vietnam and Germany.

A retired Army major general and NCO club sergeants from Army bases around the world attended the 1967 meeting, Kash said.

★ ★ ★

Allegations of criminal activities have been made against many of the persons who attended the meeting, a number of whom ran NCO clubs successively in Augsburg and Munich, Germany, Ft. Benning and in South Vietnam.

"My analysis of the Augsburg file, my knowledge of the Ft. Benning investigation, my observations while on duty in South Vietnam and later here in the United States, lead me to conclude that Sgt. Maj. Wooldridge and other high-ranking NCOs and civilian persons are involved in a major criminal conspiracy," Kash testified.

30 AGENTS AT WORK

Later he said that conspiracy is so large that nothing in his experience approaches it.

Searches Illegal --Collins Lawyer

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Attorneys for a college senior accused of killing a pretty coed claimed yesterday police used illegal search warrants as "wholesale license" in an attempt to link him with six similar slayings.

As 22-year-old John Norman Collins listened intently, his lawyers sought to have the search warrants thrown out when he is tried for the first-degree murder of Karen Sue Beineman, 18.

★ ★ ★

Robert Francis, one of Collins' court-appointed attorneys, said during the third day of a pre-trial hearing that search warrants were illegally obtained by police to comb Collins' rooming house and car.

He claimed the warrants, obtained by Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey of Washtenaw County, were based on suspicion and hearsay an without basis of fact."

'ALLOWED BY LAW'

An assistant county prosecutor replied that a 1967 Michigan law allows issuance of search warrants on hearsay.

Francis pointed out that when Collins was arrested July 31, "There was a great deal of pressure at that time to make progress on these cases, and here they had an individual who looked tempting to them."

★ ★ ★

Francis said the search warrants listed things police were looking for "that they knew they could never find." Included, he said, were fingerprints of two previous victims who were killed either before Collins' 1968 model car was manufactured or purchased.

★ ★ ★

At another court session Wednesday, defense attorneys said they know of "a number of people" who saw Collins during the crucial hours during which the prosecution says Miss Beineman was killed. Three people say he was in a motorcycle shop at the time, according to the defense.

Welfare Protest Violence Flares

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Large-scale violence erupted for the first time in five days of welfare protests at the state capitol last night when club-wielding law officers routed some 150 demonstrators from the square.

At least 22 persons were arrested and an undetermined number — including at least two newsmen and a Catholic priest — were struck with clubs. There were two separate confrontations as some 150 law officers enforced an executive order banning loitering on the capitol grounds.

At least nine persons were treated and released at hospitals. Another was admitted with a head injury. Many others refused treatment of injuries.

Young people recruited from the University of Wisconsin and student-hippie Mifflin Street neighborhoods comprised the majority of the demonstrators. Until last night, the protest had appeared to be losing steam, with the movement's leader, the Rev. James Groppi, in jail.

The demonstrations are protesting welfare cutbacks in the new state budget.

Earlier yesterday, federal judge James Doyle promised a decision by Monday on an attempt by Groppi's attorneys to free him from jail, where he has been since Wednesday. The assembly cited him for contempt of that body in connection with Monday's takeover of the assembly chambers by 1,000 demonstrators with a resultant $26,000 damage.

Brandt Success Culminates a 10-Year Uphill Struggle

By PETER REHAK

BONN, Germany (AP) — Willy Brandt's capture of the West German chancellorship is the result of a 10-year struggle to make his Social Democratic party respectable in the eyes of the West German public.

It also is the sign of decreasing tensions with Communist East Germany and of increasing prosperity in West Germany.

★ ★ ★

Brandt, whose election as chancellor was assured last night, is closely identified with his party's 1959 reform platform that gained it rising popularity. The accompanying increase in voter support culminated with Sunday's election results which enabled the party to dominate a government for the first time in West Germany's 20-year history.

Brandt, who will be 56 in December, also gave the party the personality it needed to appeal to the voters after stagnation in the early postwar years.

PERSONAL PRESTIGE

He gained a lot of personal prestige as mayor of West Berlin when it was a Cold War flashpoint in the early 60s, while leading the party in a long uphill struggle to power.

There was a setback in 1965 when he was defeated for the chancellorship by Christian Democrat Ludwig Erhard. Brandt said he would never seek the top government post again.

★ ★ ★

He retired to Berlin but then brought new respectability to the Social Democrats when he came back in 1966 to serve as foreign minister in the coalition with Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger's Christian Democrats, who now, become the opposition party.

The coalition, which gave the Social Democrats a chance to participate in government for the first time since before World War II, seems to have made the party acceptable to the German voter.

★ ★ ★

It was the only party to register gains in Sunday's election. It got 42.7 per cent of the votes, 3.4 per cent more than four years ago. It still did not get the most votes, but enough to be able to form a coalition with the tiny Free Democrats.

$100,000 Theft at Area Home

Thieves at a Bloomfield Township home netted over $100,000 in jewels and furs, according to Township Police Chief Robert L. Snell.

Police said the home was entered while the family was away on vacation in early September. The break-in was not discovered until after they returned Sept. 16.

★ ★ ★

Snell refused to release the name of the victim or the address of the home. He said the theft was still being investigated.

★ ★ ★

The jewels and furs were kept in a locked closet in one of the bedrooms, police said.

SENT TO FBI LAB

A jammed lock from the front door of the residence has been sent to the FBI Crime Lab in Washington, it was revealed.

★ ★ ★

An FBI agent said: "With such a large amount of merchandise involved, it's possible the thieves are professionals."

★ ★ ★

He added that all the information available has been distributed to their offices around the country.

Apparently, the thieves knew the house was unoccupied, though they did little damage to the rest of the residence, police indicated.

Increasing Sales of Services Cited

$510,000 Surplus Is Seen for County

County government should wind up the year $510,000 in the black.

This is the "unappropriated surplus" forecast by Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the county board of auditors. The fiscal year ends Dec. 31.

Murphy said much of the nonbudgeted income is a result of increasing sales of county services. The returns from fees and licenses have been running 5 per cent above estimates. Some $7.9 million were forecast for the year.

Also swelling the leftover fund is $100,000 in salaries reserve, due to the county's inability to fill several budgeted positions, mostly in the health department, at the start of this year.

Murphy noted that fees are estimated nearly $2 million higher in the 1970 budget.

A significant contributor to the expected increase are the district courts, new in 1969.

★ ★ ★

Last year county officials estimated that the courts would bring in $25,000 during their first year of operation. Actual figures show them to have earned the county $123,464 during the first six months of the year.

★ ★ ★

The new estimate is that they will earn the county $325,000 next year.

INCOME TAX REBATE

The state income tax rebate, currently about 20 per cent behind estimates, is held to a $2.2-million figure in the 1970 budget. The county had figured on $2.3 million this year, and as Murphy noted, it could still come in if the economy picks up in the last part of the year.

★ ★ ★

Currently the county anticipates $1.7 million income from the Oakland County Sanitorium next year. However, Murphy claims the situation there is still not stable and it may be the sanatorium which will eat up much of this year's surplus.

★ ★ ★

The state has threatened to fund 109 of the sanatorium's 166 beds at nursing home rates of between $14-$16 per day instead of the present full-cost basis of between $30-$40.

Birmingham

Schools to Get Less State Aid Than Planned

BIRMINGHAM — The school district has learned it will receive about $90,000 less than anticipated in state aid because of a slight drop in over-all enrollment this fall.

Enrollment in the district as of Sept. 26 was 17,526, compared with 17,643 at the same time last year. School administrators had projected 17,750 students for the 1969-70 school year.

★ ★ ★

Finance Director Albert Peters explained the smaller enrollment figure dropped the amount of state aid per child from $202.69 to $200.08. The original amount of state aid was figured at $3,597,000 based on the projected enrollment of 17,750 multiplied by $202.69.

★ ★ ★

Peters said the $90,000 reduction in state aid for the school district represents the difference of the revised state aid per child of $200.08 times the actual enrollment or $3,507,000 subtracted from the $3,597,000 projection.

★ ★ ★

No reimbursement is received for new students who enroll after the fourth Friday after Labor Day, this year Sept. 26. School districts, therefore, must budget ahead in order to meet the costs of educating new students who arrive after the official fourth Friday count day, a school board spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

The 17,526 enrollment for the current school year breaks down as follows: 8,823 kindergarten through sixth grade, 4,386 seventh through ninth grade, 4,317 10th through 12th.

ENROLLMENT DECREASES

Although over-all enrollments during the past three years have decreased slightly, secondary enrollment continues to rise. Since September 1967, the fourth Friday junior high enrollment has increased from 4,263 to 4,386 students.

At the senior high level, the increase has been from 4,023 to 4,317 students.

Elementary enrollment has decreased for the same period from 9,437 to 8,823 this fall.

★ ★ ★

The Vilican-Lehman enrollment study, authorized by the Board of Education in 1960 and revised in 1968 by that firm, has generally projected higher enrollments for the past few years.

The Federal Reserve Board reports the amount of installment credit outstanding in the United States is $93.1 billion compared to $83.43 billion a year ago.

The debt incurred by installment buying in Birmingham averages $3,250 per family based on Federal Reserve figures.

★ ★ ★

The debt for the Birmingham population as a whole totals more than $30 million.

Biggest share of the debt, approximately 38 per cent, represents payments for automobile purchases. The balance is divided among consumer goods, home repairs, modernization loans and personal loans.

★ ★ ★

GM Truck Sales Up in September

GMC truck sales totaled 9,419 in September, a 9.6 per cent increase over the 8,592 deliveries the same month last year, Martin J. Caserio, a vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, reported today.

★ ★ ★

Calendar-year GMC truck sales of 108,734 through September were 7.2 per cent above the previous high of 101,410 over the same nine months set last year, he said.

★ ★ ★

Combined truck and coach deliveries since Jan. 1 of 109,965 are also at a record level, running 7.1 per cent ahead of last year's rate, Caserio added.

Wheeler Predicts Step-Up in Enemy Action in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Gov. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived in Saigon today and predicted a new round of fighting will break the current lull in the war.

Wheeler, making his second visit to the war zone in 2 months, said he was particularly interested in seeing what progress has been made in turning more combat action over to South Vietnamese forces.

* * *

Commenting on reports by the U.S. Command that the level of action is at its lowest point this year, Wheeler said, "I look for it to pick back up. The same thing has happened in the past. The enemy has his cyclic high points and his low points and he is in a low point now because of allied actions."

Wheeler said he expects the Communist command to launch a winter-spring campaign, but he did not predict any timetable. Other military sources have said they thought the campaign might begin in November.

Wheeler was accompanied on the flight from Seoul, Korea, by the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton Abrams. They had attended a celebration marking the 21st anniversary of the South Korean armed forces.

Wheeler will confer with military and civilian U.S. officials during his stay and visit the field as he did during his last visit July 16-20.

In the war, the U.S. Command reported light and scattered ground action but no major battles involving U.S. troops.

* * *

South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 40 enemy soldiers in two fights, one in the Mekong Delta 130 miles southwest of Saigon and the other 32 miles northeast of Saigon. South Vietnamese casualties were put at two killed and 11 wounded.

OUTPOST HIT

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that Vietcong gunners fired six mortar shells into a populated area 25 miles northwest of Saigon, killing one civilian and wounding three.

* * *

Enemy gunners also slammed 10 mortar shells into the positions of U.S. troops from the 5th Mechanized Infantry Division operating a mile south of the demilitarized zone. Some Americans were wounded but none were killed, headquarters said.

American B52 bombers flew five missions late Friday. Up to 25 of the big bombers dropped 750 tons of explosives on North Vietnamese bases and staging areas. The strikes ranged from 79 miles south of Da Nang to 67 miles northwest of Saigon.

The U.S. Command also announced that a 300-man Marine bomber squadron with more than two years' duty in Vietnam will be moved to Japan beginning Sunday as part of President Nixon's announced reduction of U.S. forces in Vietnam to 484,000 by Dec. 15.

Attack Squadron 533 will begin moving from its base at Chu Lai, 50 miles south of Da Nang, to the Marine Corps airstation at Iwakuni, Japan, to become part of the Marine Corps ready forces in the Far East.

Power Firm Seeks Rate Hike Go-Ahead

LANSING (UPI) — Consumers Power Co. formally asked the Public Service Commission yesterday to approve, effective immediately, a contested $38-million rate increase for natural gas and electric power consumers over most of Lower Michigan.

The commission, acting on a request by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, set a hearing date Oct. 16.

Yesterday's filing of an amended rate increase request follows last Monday's commission ruling that such an application could be filed.

The giant utility, which serves almost all of Lower Michigan outside of the Detroit area, had originally asked for a rate increase on April 19, 1968.

38 CENTS A MONTH

Company officials said the proposed increase would amount to about 38 cents a month to the minimum residential electric user and 60 cents a month to the minimum residential gas user.

Electric customers in Pontiac would not be affected by the rate hike. The new rate would apply only to outstate Consumers' customers, according to Wallace B. Schooth, assistant Pontiac division manager.

Consumers asked for immediate approval of the amended application because "each day represents about a $100,000 loss in revenue."

* * *

The commission said Monday Consumers was authorized to increase its rates for electric service by $16.5 million annually and $21.3 million for natural gas.

A. H. Aymond, board chairman, said delay in formally approving the increase is depriving the company "of its right to earn a fair return."

Hurricane Inga Near Bermuda

MIAMI (AP) — Hurricane Inga, the erratic storm that has kicked up the Atlantic for 11 days, early today pointed its 80-mile-an-hour winds toward Bermuda as it turned northward toward the tourist island 24 miles away.

The National Hurricane Center said Inga made a rather sharp turn to the north Friday night and increased its forward speed to 8 m.p.h. in response to a cold front moving from the northwest.

The hurricane, which fluctuated from a tropical depression to a tropical storm several times before gaining full hurricane strength, was located near Latitude 29.0 north, Longitude 65.5 west at 6 a.m.

Forecasters warned residents of the resort island to prepare for gale forces, and urged all small craft to remain in port.

"Inga is expected to turn northeastward, and the forecast track would bring the center about 100 miles to the southeast of Bermuda," the Hurricane Center said. "This would bring winds of gale force very close to the island."

Dr. Robert Simpson, director of the National Hurricane Center, said Inga's behavior has been baffling.

"Inga certainly has been one of the screwball hurricanes of all time," Simpson said. "For five days now, she has been making almost a perfect 15-mile circle again and again out there."

Typhoon Kills 6 on Formosa; 43 Missing

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Typhoon Flossie killed six persons and left an estimated 200,000 homeless today. Another 43 were reported missing.

Police were digging through landslides to reach several persons known buried.

* * *

Water in the city streets reached the second floor of some buildings. In the suburbs thousands were reported marooned by the floodwaters.

Declaring a state of emergency, Mayor Henry Kao asked the assistance of the U.S. military command in Formosa to help in rescue operations.

Flossie has dumped more than 58 inches of rain on Formosa since Thursday and U.S. military weather forecasters said another 6 to 12 inches of rain will fall on the northern part of the island where the typhoon still is lingering.

Health officials feared outbreaks of a typhoid and dysentery because of polluted water supplies.

GM Considering Closing Struck Flint Plant for Good

FLINT (AP) — A General Motors Corp. spokesman said Friday GM was considering closing down its Fisher Body No. 2 plant, where 2,300 United Auto Workers Union members have been on strike since Sept. 26.

GM cited continuing labor strife on such matters as work loads and work assignments during the model changeover periods. The giant auto maker, however, has not made any decision on abandoning the plant, the GM spokesman said.

The UAW had no immediate comment.

The strike also has caused GM to lay off over 1,600 at the companion Chevrolet assembly plant in Flint.

DEADLINE SET

On Thursday, the UAW notified GM it would strike three more plants unless production standard disputes are settled by 9 a.m. next Thursday. These three are Fisher Body plant in Norwood, Ohio, and GM Assembly Division plants in Baltimore and Doraville, Ga.

A. F. Platt, manager of the Fisher plant in Flint, wrote all the employes that "Each of us has a stake in the future of this plant. We simply cannot continue a pattern which has been typical of the last several years."

He said there have been long delays of up to 80 days in "attaining full production after the model change and a steadily declining efficiency."

He also wrote that "unless plant is to remain on strike for an indefinite period, we must find the basis of agreement with the union to resume production and work out a settlement of the standards grievances."

He said employes must be available "to cooperate in arriving at a fair and reasonable work load on the jobs dispute."

The Fisher Body plant was where the United Auto Workers staged their first sit-down strike in December 1936 in their drive to get union recognition from GM.

Milliken Eyes Water Quality

Urges Establishment of National Policy

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has called for greater emphasis in environmental quality in water resources management and for regional goals to be considered in establishing a national water policy.

In a statement submitted to the National Water Commission, Milliken said, "Water development projects have always been considered from the viewpoint of an investment designed to produce certain goods and services and to thereby increase the national wealth.

* * *

"We do not believe that dollar benefits can realistically be derived for environmental quality considerations. Our water development projects should be designed not only to avoid adverse environmental quality effects, but also in a manner to enhance and promote environmental quality," he said.

On the matter of regional considerations, Milliken said, "Obviously the Great Lakes have a difference set of water management objectives than the southwestern section of the country."

* * *

"We believe that a new national water policy should be formulated and that this policy should provide explicit recognition of regional goals, objectives and priorities," he added.

The governor also called for great centralization of federal water management functions and for full funding of federal water quality control programs.

Bay of Pigs Readiness on Ships Is Told

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — Two Maritime Union leaders say they can now disclose that American cargo ships were loaded with military supplies, and passenger liners were readied for troops for possible use in the Bay of Pigs invasion attempt on Cuba in 1961.

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, and Thomas W. Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, made the disclosure yesterday at a news conference announcing a possible maritime strike.

* * *

Curran said union leaders were called to Washington and given plans to muster all passenger ships for the Bay of Pigs invasion within 24 hours.

"The passenger ships were to be depended on to secure beachheads in Cuba if necessary," Curran said.

Gleason said a number of cargo ships were loaded with military supplies and stood by in southern ports ready to sail to Cuba, but were not needed after President John F. Kennedy called off participation by U.S. forces after Cuban exiles had begun the abortive invasion against Fidel Castro's regime.

"We were told at the time to keep in confidential," Curran said, "but now we may as well tell it."

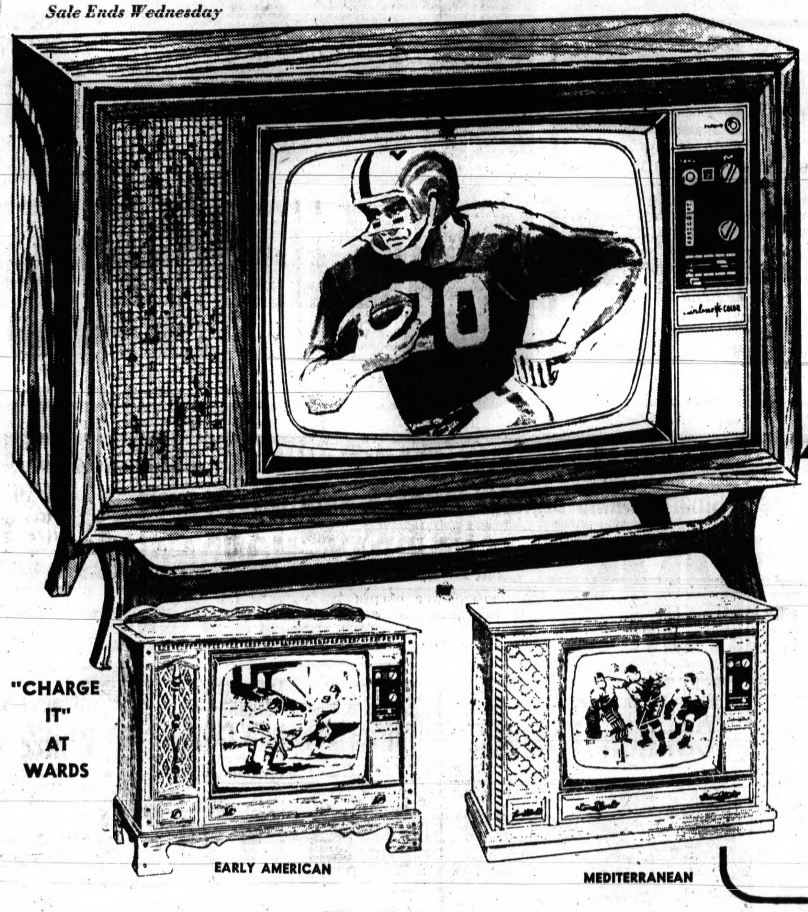

Pigeons Unfazed by 'Snaky' Tactic

HONOLULU (AP) — Pigeons are supposed to fear snakes, so several high-rise building superintendents have placed plastic snakes on their favorite perches.

They report mixed results. There are no real snakes in Hawaii and local pigeons never saw one.

Fliers' Wives Seek Support

AP Wirephoto

SEEK INFORMATION — Mrs. Sue Shuman (left) and Mrs. Martha Doss, both of Virginia Beach, Va., tell of their plans to go to Paris to try to gain information about their husbands, naval aviators captured by the North Vietnamese. They hope to talk to the North Vietnamese negotiators at the Paris peace talks.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Every week, Mrs. Carter Luna writes a letter to her husband, whose plane was shot down last March over North Vietnam.

She addresses the letters to "Camp of Detention, U.S. Pilots, Democratic Republic of North Vietnam, Hanoi," but never receives an answer.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Luna is one of 26 women who hope to mobilize national and international opinion to help them learn whether their "forgotten men" are dead or prisoners of the North Vietnamese.

The women plan to visit the Florida Cabinet to seek support for their cause. Last month they flew to Washington to seek support from congressional and administration leaders.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Rep. William Dickinson, R-Ala., introduced a joint congressional resolution calling for the United States, the United Nations and the "people of the world" to appeal to North Vietnam to allow the prisoners to receive mail guaranteed them under the Geneva convention.

The women, all living in the Tampa Bay area, say they believe North Vietnam will respond only to world opinion.

"It's personal. We're not working with, against or in spite of our government," said Mrs. Luna, who was told by the U.S. Air Force that other American pilots saw her husband eject from his aircraft and parachute to earth in North Vietnam.

Jean Smith, 23, a hazel-eyed brunette from Dunedin, was a bride of six months when her husband was sent to Vietnam. His aircraft was shot down in January 1968, and Mrs. Smith did not know he had survived until last month when the Air Force told her it had learned her husband was a prisoner.

CAPTAIN'S FIANCE

Miss Donna Moricz of Tampa is the 23-year-old fiancee of an Army captain who was taken prisoner in 1966.

She said many of the women did not want their names publicized for fear that North Vietnam would make reprisals against their husbands.

Mrs. Luna said the more fortunate members of the group know their men were taken prisoner. She is among those who know only that their men disappeared.

Of her letters she said, "I know many people will be reading the letters, possibly not my husband. And, I don't know if he's dead or alive."

PROTEST AT LANSING — After presenting a petition to the governor requesting release of White Panther leader John Sinclair, the Panthers hung their petitions from the second floor of the Capitol building.

Protest Leader's Imprisonment

White Panthers Demonstrate

LANSING (AP)—Members of the White Panther party staged a demonstration Friday in the Capitol to underscore their plea for a high level investigation of the circumstances surrounding the arrest, conviction and imprisonment of John Sinclair, the party's minister of information and manager of the MC5, an acid rock group.

★ ★ ★

The group of nearly 40 party members met with Joseph Thibodeau, assistant legal adviser to Gov. William Milliken, to plead their case that Sinclair was "snatched away for political reasons."

The 29-year-old Sinclair recently was transferred from the Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson to Northern Michigan State Prison at Marquette after being sentenced to 9½ to 10 years imprisonment following his third conviction for marijuana possession.

★ ★ ★

Perry Johnson, deputy director of the State Bureau of Prisons, recently said that Sinclair was transferred to the maximum security prison because of fears of unrest.

★ ★ ★

Sinclair attempted to persuade other prisoners to accept the beliefs of the White Panther party that include free drugs, free food and promiscuous sex, Johnson said.

However, a White Pather spokesman declared, "he fears for his life at Marquette. He asked for solitary confinement."

Transfer to the maximum security prison won't cause Sinclair to change his beliefs, he added.

"All they're going to do is make him look like a funny old man—cutting all his hair off," he said.

In addition, the Panthers charged that Sinclair was denied bail during his appeal, and that his letters were confiscated and read by prison officials.

Thibodeau told the group that he was conducting an investigation of the circumstances surrounding Sinclair's conviction at the request of Milliken.

However, Thibodeau said, he had uncovered nothing to substantiate charges that Sinclair was prosecuted for political reasons.

★ ★ ★

Following the meeting, the group passed out copies of "The South End," a Wayne State University student paper, that contained a statement of Sinclair's belief while a tape recorder blared the hard rock strains of the Grateful Dead in the Capitol rotunda.

Let's Stay Out of Laos

It is inconceivable that Laos could become a second Vietnam, with some 38,728 U.S. dead. But the reality that is Vietnam was itself inconceivable in the early 1960s, when the seeds of our involvement were sown.

But the same confusions and official evasions that marked the earliest U.S. entrapment in Vietnam are now encountered next door, in a smaller, poorer and more strategically hopeless setting.

★ ★ ★

One of the few things, however, that can be said with any certainty about U.S. Laotian policy is that the American people are not prepared to tolerate a repetition of Vietnam there.

★ ★ ★

We have already learned the hard way how pointless and self-defeating land war on the Asian mainland must be for the United States. Hopefully, we have also learned as a nation that there are limits to the exportability of our vision of the good life.

The time to avoid a comparable American commitment in Laos is now. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is trying to do this, by finding out just what is going on in that sleepy nation and by reporting its findings to the public.

★ ★ ★

This effort will enjoy the widest public support. It grows harder and harder to find Americans still in favor of our war in Vietnam. Those in favor of a second such adventure surely can be regarded as a fringe, whether the qualifying word is statistical or lunatic.

Bill Eyes Venture Capital

Money, the ancient wisdom to the contrary, is the root of much good, and in the world of free enterprise, credit is the fertilizer that makes the root grow.

Thousands of would-be businessmen and entrepreneurs in the Nation's ghettos would like to become cultivators of capital but the indispensible fertilizer of credit is hard to come by.

A few programs to provide credit for ghetto businesses — so-called "black capitalism" — have been attempted, but progress has been extremely slow. The Small Business Administration reports that less than 3 per cent of the Nation's five million business establishments are currently under nonwhite ownership.

★ ★ ★

The picture is equally bleak for many poverty area residents trying to obtain mortgage loans to move into better quality housing. Others, through ignorance or desperation, are frequently driven into the "tender" hands of loan sharks.

★ ★ ★

Many believe that the solution to these problems must come from the private sector and that only by stimulating private investment can the credit gap in America's poverty areas be closed.

One of them is Sen. WILLIAM PROXMIRE, D-Wis., who has introduced a bill—the Community Credit Expansion Act—which goes a step beyond the NIXON administration's proposal to offer tax incentives to commercial banks that make "socially desirable" loans.

PROXMIRE'S legislation would establish a new kind of financial institution, to be called "National Development Banks." These would be privately owned and wholly new banks or branches of existing banks. Eighty per cent of consumer, mortgage or business loans would have to be for the benefit of persons living in rural or urban poverty pockets—of which there are about 800 throughout the Country and in which 15 to 20 million people live.

★ ★ ★

In return for concentrating their loans in poverty areas, the Government would grant certain liberal concessions to the banks, such as lower reserve requirements and much greater flexibility in granting and making investments.

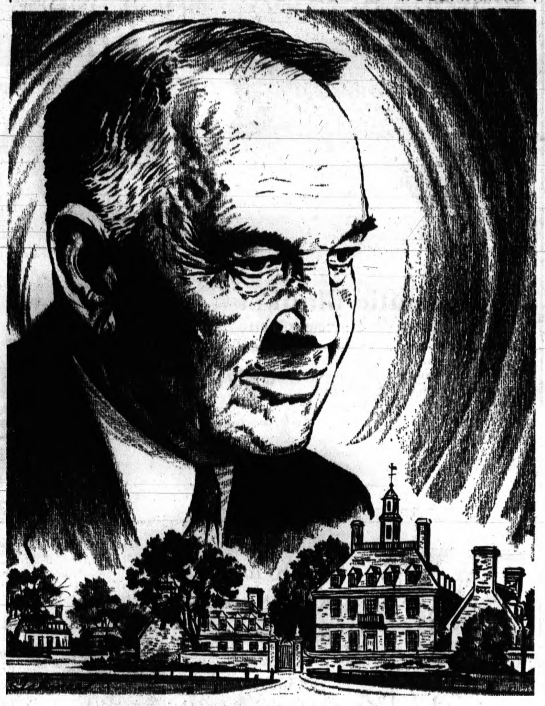

★ ★ ★

The bill is viewed favorably by some of the Nation's major banks. For instance, THOMAS R. WILCOX, vice chairman of First National City Bank of New York, terms it "the most sensible proposal for making modern financial services available to ghetto residents I've seen."

The most novel feature of the program is that it would not involve a single dollar of Federal money. It would all be done by private enterprise, backed up by certain Federal guarantees and a loosening of some of the current restrictions on lending.

The POWER of FAITH

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

NO. 2: FAITH IN WILLIAMSBURG

Williamsburg, Virginia, during the founding of our country was one of the most important cultural, political and religious centers in the colonies. It was the capital of the Virginia Colony and great history was made there. When the capital was moved to Richmond in 1780, Williamsburg went into decline and for 122 years it lay dormant and in disrepair.

The faith and dedication of Dr. William Archer Rutherford Goodwin brought about its restoration and has given present and future generations a greater understanding and meaning of our past history.

Dr. Goodwin was rector of the Bruton Parish Church in Williamsburg from 1902 to 1908. While there his dream of a restored Williamsburg took form and found an outlet in the restoration of Bruton Parish Church. It wasn't until 1923, when Dr. Goodwin returned to Williamsburg to accept a post at the College of William and Mary, that his dream began to take shape. His meeting Mr. John D. Rockefeller Jr. gave him his opportunity, and his dedication and enthusiasm slowly infected Mr. Rockefeller. The results of the effort of those two great men is a restored colonial Williamsburg.

". . . a place where history can speak to modern Americans; where they can hear a proud voice — a voice strong with faith in God, in democracy and liberty, in integrity, high moral purpose, a sense of public duty, and responsibility . . . a shrine of the American faith."

Confident Living:

Impressions of Vietnam Visit

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

On Hill 55 in South Vietnam the 7th Marines had assembled for a solemn memorial service for those of their number who had given their lives in a battle in Pipestone Canyon.

DR. PEALE

I had been invited to speak at this service conducted by the commanding general and the chaplains. Arriving by helicopter, I found the men seated in rows on the hilltop, each man's weapon by his side. It was a barren hill, looking over a wide plain, with high hills in the distance where puffs of smoke arose from exploding bombs dropped into the dense forests.

★ ★ ★

Walking with the general to martial music, the chaplains following, we took seats on an improvised platform. A table had been laid with a simple cloth and two candlesticks someone had brought. Overhead, the American and South Vietnamese flags whipped in a stiff breeze.

A Scripture was read, a hymn was sung. Looking at the serious young faces of the seven hundred Marines, one wondered at their thoughts. "Will I be next?" must certainly have been a question.

The distant hills had been given characteristic names: Dodge City, Arizona Territory, Charley's Ridge, Pipestone Canyon, and running through them was the Vietcong infiltration route.

In the speech I talked about life and its meaning, love of country, desire to help backward people and the greatness of giving oneself. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

Then a bugler blew taps and three volleys were fired in honor of the dead. The schedule called for immediate departure when the service was over. Again to martial music I walked with the general to the waiting helicopter. I had strapped myself in, but felt a desire to see the regiment once more, so I released the strap and stepped to the open door. There all stood at salute, from the general on down, a salute not for me, but for memory. Upon impulse I waved as the chopper blades were turning.

Always in memory that scene will live. Etched on that hilltop against plain and mountain they stood, those hundreds of American boys. Suddenly they broke the salute and as a man they waved in return. Blinded with tears, I again strapped in as the 7th Marines, getting into trucks, streamed off down the valley on their mission.

President Nixon had asked me to go to Vietnam to speak to the troops and visit the sick and wounded in the hospitals. Being a pastor, my approach to the visit was entirely from the standpoint of spiritual helpfulness.

An American news magazine reporter in Saigon asked what report I would take back to the American people. And I told him, "No report." My job was simply to do what I could as a pastor for the boys in the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force whom I met.

And so I did speak as many as seven times a day, often in far-out, exposed positions (in the boondocks, as it is referred to) to groups ranging from seven hundred to a couple hundred men. Some of these talks were in halls, but for the most part the meetings were under the sky on some hill or plain.

Commanding officers interrupted troop activities long enough to receive a message, then give opportunity to shake hands with each one. I must have shaken the hands of several thousand men. And that was a thrill in itself, for I realized I was grasping hands with American youth of high caliber, real men. And I liked that, believe me.

Hours were spent visiting hospitals, bed to bed, talking with the wounded and the sick. Each man told me what had happened to him, also where he was from, and we talked about home, and each one I gave a "God bless you." One thing became poignantly clear: the incredible spirit of these men.

Some were badly hurt and others were pretty sick, but to the question, "How are you?" the answer invariably was, "Fine. I'm anxious to get back to my outfit." Not one man of the hundreds to whom I spoke in hospitals complained or griped.

Church State Has Become a Museum

By DAVID POLING
(Newspaper Enterprise Association)

If we can believe the travel statistics, everyone wants to go to London. This summer the swinging city of England was overwhelmed by tourists. Young people were in the forefront as the student avalanche covered every available hotel, pension and park bench. Victoria Station, Trafalgar Square, Piccadilly Circus were throbbing with youth day and night.

POLING

And London responds. Carnaby Street fashions spilled out the stores seven days a week. The theater is jammed and the lines form early to get into the Tower of London.

And where is the Church or churches in all this? What is the condition of organized religion in a country with a church-state legal embrace? No, the church is not dead. It is alive. It has become a museum.

★ ★ ★

The impression you get after all the vitality and excitement of Great Britain is that religion has become a nostalgic experience. You visit the enthralling Canterbury Cathedral and come away with the remembrance that here Christianity made some exciting and relevant history.

In 1170 Thomas A. Becket held his ground on these holy steps and then was hacked to pieces by agents of the king. Eight hundred years later the site is well marked by paperback history, guided tours and color postcards. The grounds are beautiful, the workmen are painting the tower and the outdoor lights are properly wired.

But, alas, there is a great emptiness. There are no people. Tourists are not worshipers and travelers are not going to take the place of regular members.

★ ★ ★

The state church, The Church of England, is well-situated with ecclesiastical real estate. Yet the clergy, the lay leadership, the body of its membership is in a shocking state of impotence. The lovely city-village churches with their look of early Dickens and their security of late Queen Victoria are almost completely out of the life stream of humanity.

My total summary of this situation was better handled by Albert Schweitzer when he said:

"The religion of our age gives the same impression as an African river in the dry season — a great river bed, sand banks, and between, a small stream which seeks its way. One tries to imagine that a river once filled that bed."

★ ★ ★

Form, tradition and order have become the relics of a once dynamic, inspired religion. It is true there are surprising outbursts of religious fervor and creativity, but these generally happen outside of the church in the secular society.

Personalities like Malcolm Muggeridge and David Frost (A N. Y.-London commuter) have used radio and television to effectively communicate the contemporary challenge of Christianity. Through guests and topics of controversy, as well as the brilliant trip through the Holy Lands conducted by Muggeridge, BBC has an unusual record of excellence in religious broadcasting.

In publishing, Sir John Lawrence edits the powerful Frontier magaine, a monthly journal of comment and observation, but again, outside the hierarchy. The latter is stuck with cathedrals, cemeteries and saints' days that no one observes. As Lawrence, an Episcopal clergyman, puts it:

"The future is altogether uncertain. It may be that God is breaking the ordered visible structure of church life, as it has come down to us, in order to remake it in a form more suited to the third millenium."

Voice of the People:

'Disagree With Critics of Nursing Home Care'

Nursing homes and their care of aged patients have been receiving undue belittling comments. I wonder if the writers think of what might become of the elderly if there were no nursing homes to offer care. Patients are there because there is no one else willing or in a position to assume the responsibility of their care. It appears many are more than willing to find fault, often without frequent visits, with the nursing home. As an employe of a nursing home, I find many of the comments unjust and untrue.

★ ★ ★

Some patients must be restrained for their own protection. If an unsteady or bewildered patient fell it could result in a fractured hip and recovery could be extremely slow. In some cases a fall could be fatal.

★ ★ ★

It would be a wonderful gift of time if people belittling the nursing homes would offer help in trying to make their friends' hospitalization more cheerful and comfortable.

Discusses Teachers' Sensitivity Training

I am in sympathy with the teachers who had the courage to say they had not been in agreement with the sensitivity training they were forced to take. I also agree that there are probably many teachers who are not in accord with these demands that are made of them. No wonder we have trouble getting good teachers; but why does The Press insist on supporting these meetings by stating that a majority agrees with such ideas?

★ ★ ★

Right now our school system is struggling for survival, in need of money and teachers, so why then are they trying to force sexology and sensitivity training into the strained budget? Many grew up and were better educated before these things were heard of and it seems that right now we need basic education. We can ill afford these controversial side issues.

'Appreciate Respect Shown by Teen-Agers'

I recently gave my oldest daughter a surprise party before she left for Michigan State for her freshman year. Only 50 young people were invited but before it was over we had about 100 teen-agers. I am grateful those that weren't invited were respectful and there was no fighting, no alcoholic beverage and no disturbance. I appreciate their respect. All left quietly at the designated time.

'Let's Oppose Educational Reform Package'

As a taxpayer and a citizen I do not like the idea of losing my right to vote. Governor Milliken has big ideas, and if he is successful in getting them passed this fall, the following will happen: Two-thirds or all of the 60 intermediate school districts will be liquidated and the department of education will set up eight to 15 regional offices. One-half to three-fourths of all school districts will be eliminated. There will be a statewide curriculum (sex education could be made mandatory in every district). The State Board of Education will be appointed by the governor, instead of being elected by the citizens. There will be an increase of from 50 per cent to 80 per cent in the state income tax for so-called relief of property tax.

★ ★ ★

When you add this up you can only conclude that any semblance of local control of education will be destroyed if Milliken's educational reform package passes the legislature. Write your representative and encourage him to oppose this precedent-setting bill. Be sure to mention that it is No. 91 on the calendar for October 6.

Stresses Importance of Choice When Voting

If you care about your city, state or national government, you better start voting. Maybe some of these people only have two years, but it is long enough to let you know if they're worth your tax dollar. I've learned the choice in voting is more important than choosing my doctor or hair stylist. It means survival for both rich and poor. These officials know exactly who cares and who doesn't.

Mother Grateful for Education She Received

Seeing our present situation in our public schools, I ponder over my lucky past. I am a 1952 graduate of the now closed St. Frederick's. We had about 46 in our class and 18 teaching nuns and no lay teachers. I treasure my Catholic education. I say, God bless you Sisters, for a job well done.

Question and Answer

Last summer a questionnaire regarding boats, docks, rafts, etc., was left on porches at Cass Lake. The return address was Dept. of Parks and Recreation Resources, Recreation Research and Planning Unit, Michigan State University. Can you tell us the purpose of this questionnaire, how it was financed and how much it cost?

MRS. R. H. M.
WEST BLOOMFIELD

REPLY

Dr. Chubb at Michigan State directed the study and says it was done in cooperation with the State Waterways Commission, which funded the research. It is part of a series of studies on boating to enable the Commission to gauge accurately the most efficient and economical ways of meeting needs of the vastly increased recreational-boating public. Dr. Chubb says the response was generally excellent, and estimates this part of the study will cost around $300 to $400. (The exact figure is not available because it has not yet been separated from the whole series.)

REPLY

We assume you mean water removed from the air by a dehumidifier, and we're told such water is distilled, suitable for use in steam irons.

Junior Editors Quiz on NATO

QUESTION: Can you tell me something about NATO?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: NATO means North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It is an alliance, for mutual defense, of certain Western nations roughly circling the North Atlantic Ocean (black areas on map).

Twelve of these nations — Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal and the U.S. — signed a pact, on April 4, 1949, agreeing to come to each other's aid if attacked.

In 1952, Greece and Turkey became NATO members. West Germany joined in 1955, bringing the NATO nations to 15.

Considerable difficulty has been experienced by NATO in keeping its nations together because of disputes among members. But new developments last year alerted the NATO nations to possible new threats to their mutual security.

In August 1968 the Soviet Union invaded Czechoslovakia, a nation which had been making progress toward liberal reform. West Germany declared that the Soviet occupation created a new situation in the NATO alliance, making it more necessary than ever to stand together in an uncertain world.

Mosque-Burning Trial Is Near

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Next Monday an Australian sheepshearer will take his place behind a bulletproof glass screen in a converted concert hall to begin the trial that will give him a niche in Middle East history.

Security precautions surrounding the trial of Michael Dennis Rohan, the 28-year-old itinerant accused of burning down the El Aqsa Mosque, recall the historic Adolf Eichmann trial here in the early 1960s.

★ ★ ★

Eichmann, accused of masterminding Nazi extermination of some six million Jews during World War II, faced his Jewish accusers from a bulletproof glass box.

He was sentenced to death in December 1961 and executed five months later.

AROUSED ARABS

Rohan, accused of four counts of trying to burn down Islam's third holiest shrine, will face his accusers from behind a bulletproof glass screen separating the court proper from the public and press galleries.

The fire he is accused of starting Aug. 21 raised calls throughout the Middle East and the Moslem World for a Jehad (Holy War) against Israel and sparked the most serious Middle East crisis since the war of June 1967.

★ ★ ★

Rohan faces a maximum possible sentence of 44 years in prison if found guilty on all four counts—two charges of arson (15 years each) and two of violating a holy place (seven years each).

His trial begins next Monday in a sprawling auditorium usually used for chamber music recitals.

GREAT INTEREST

An official Israeli statement said the concert hall is being used instead of the Jerusalem district court because of "great interest shown by public and mass communications media in the trial."

Proceedings will be in Hebrew but will be simultaneously translated into English. A press room with international communication outlets is being set up.

Big Mac Traffic Up in September

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Traffic across the Mackinac Bridge in September was up 16.2 per cent over the previous year, reflecting an increase in bridge traffic following a 60 per cent reduction in tolls, reported Prentice M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

A total of 185,099 vehicles crossed the bridge last month, compared to 159,322 crossings in September, 1968, Brown said.

Minting OK'd for Ike Dollar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Minting of a one dollar coin to honor President Dwight D. Eisenhower was approved today by the House Banking Committee.

★ ★ ★

The committee approved a bill to authorize issuance of the coin, which would be of copper and nickel composition.

★ ★ ★

Committee chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said he will try to have the measure passed in time for the late president's birthday observance on Oct. 14.

★ ★ ★

The measure also would authorize the Treasury Department to remove silver altogether from half dollars, which now are 40-per cent silver, and would permit the public sale of $3 million in rare silver coins at the current market value, which ranges up to $170 a coin.

NBC Tops TV Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC jumped into first place with ABC right behind it in the first competitive Nielsen ratings for the season, released yesterday. CBS, the traditional leader, came in third.

The ratings period for the 70-city survey was Sept. 22-28, premiere week for ABC and CBS. NBC introduced its new shows the week before.

★ ★ ★

The area included in the ratings survey represents 67 per cent of the viewing public. The full national ratings are due Monday.

The No. 1 show was NBC's Bob Hope Special. Altogether, NBC placed nine shows in the top 20 and ABC came in with seven. CBS had four.

★ ★ ★

The top 10 were: 1. Bob Hope Special, 2. ABC Sunday Night Movie "Nevada Smith," 3. Flip Wilson Special and NBC Saturday Night Movie "Shenandoah" tied, 5. CBS Charlie Brown Special, 6. ABC's "Marcus Welby, M.D.," 7. NBC's "Bill Cosby Show" and CBS Friday Night Movie, tied, 9. NBC's "Laugh-In," and 10. ABC's "Movie of the Week."

1,745 Items Remain

Man's Space Leftovers

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Since the Soviet Union inaugurated the space age 12 years ago today with the launch of Sputnik 1, man has dumped 4,111 objects into space, the Space Defense Center, which catalogues such things reported today.

★ ★ ★

Of these objects, 2,366 now have either been de-orbited or have decayed into the earth's atmosphere.

Of the 1,745 objects remaining —debris such as spent boosters and other mission leftovers, including some from the Apollo 11 moon shot—U.S. launches account for 1,327, the Soviet Union for 385 and France, Great Britain, Canada and the European scientific research organization for the 33 others.

The Space Defense Center, headquarters for a global satellite tracking system, is located in Cheyenne Mountain as part of the joint U.S.-Canadian North American Air Defense Command.

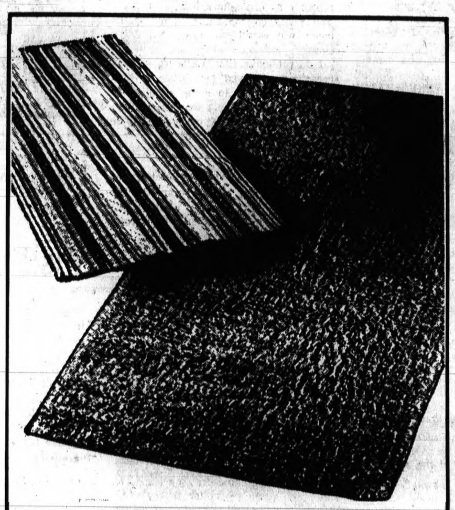

★ ★ ★

The center's computers daily process more than 20,000 electronic and optical satellite observations. The parent Air Defense Command also operates near and outer space systems to warn of attack and an alert force of aircraft and missiles.

'Regret Is Cancer of Life'— No Use to Dwell on Mistake

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I recently learned that our 23-year-old son, now a senior in college, is the father of a child that was given away for adoption last year. Our son did not confide in us, I found this out quite by accident.

Our son and this girl did not want to rush into marriage, so they decided to give up the child, but now that she has returned home they became engaged. (They are not aware that I know about the baby.) I might add, she is a very sweet girl and I think the world of her.

* * *

My husband and I have always looked forward to our first grandchild and I am sick with grief to think that somewhere in this world I have a grandchild, whom I will never know. I haven't been able to bring myself to tell my husband yet. My question: Do I have the right to keep this from him? It is his grandchild, too.

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: No possible good can come from your telling your husband. The "grandchild" is now somebody else's child and grandchild as well. Be kind and silent. And don't dwell on it. The cancer of life is regret.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I and our son (who is an only child) have had Sunday dinner out for many years.

David is now 15, and he's suddenly started something new. He rushes through his dinner, and when we are nowhere near finished he asks his father for the keys to the car so he can go sit in it and listen to the radio. His father doesn't like it any better than I do, but he gives him the keys and we finish without him.

David has done this when we have had others eating with us, too. I think it is rude, but my husband says if the boy prefers to sit in the car and listen to the radio, it's his privilege, but I know my husband is hurt. I'd like your opinion.

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: It IS rude, but your son is trying to tell you that he is bored. Have you tried drawing David into the conversation? Directing questions to him? Listening to him? Next time, try it. He may stay through dessert.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 49 and I am 46. He is a college graduate and an excellent provider. We have three lovely children and have been married for 20 years. My problem? My husband doesn't like for me to talk to him.

He asks me not to talk to him at mealtime because he is "busy" eating. He doesn't want me to talk to him while he's driving, because he's "busy" driving. And God forbid that I should talk to him while he is reading or watching television!

He doesn't want me to talk when we are out in public with friends either. This is very hard on me as I come from a large family and love to talk. I am not dumb. I read a lot and have a lot of interesting things to say. When we are out, he talks to other people, but he says he HAS to talk to THEM — he doesn't have to talk to ME.

* * *

Oh, he does call me from work every day to find out what was in the mail, and then I get to talk. He says as long as he has to pay for the five minutes he doesn't mind my talking. Please put this in your column as it is one of the things my husband always reads, and it will be one way for me to tell him what I think. Thank you.

Keep Meaning of Religion in Attendance

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Your article entitled "Etiquette for Church" seemed very improper to me. The answers you gave were probably correct, but the very nature of them seemed to degrade the church and its function.

* *

Church is not a place — even though some people do use it for this purpose — to model clothes or to impress people with precise anad correct manners. It is a place to worship and praise God (and God looks at the heart, not outward appearances), not to draw attention to oneself.

People come to hear the word of God preached, not to see whether the Smiths wear the proper clothes or whether Miss Jones takes off her gloves before Communion. Therefore, I think even though your intentions were probably good, you did not present the correct view of church-going. — Randy

* * *

Dear Randy: It is a sign of respect for God to dress as appropriately and act as properly as one knows how, in church. You would do the same in a friend's home; why would you not do so in God's House?

I do not agree that a sincere wish to dress correctly and act in the best of taste is an effort to draw attention to oneself, and I am only too happy to attempt to answer the questions people have about etiquette in church.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister lost her husband the end of last year. On her anniversary next month, what is the proper way to let her know I haven't forgotten, without sending an anniversary card? — Mrs. W.E.

* * *

Dear Mrs. E.: Could you ask her out to dinner that evening, or to visit you? You need not talk about the fact that it is her anniversary, but she will know that you want to do something to help her and keep her from being lonely on that sad occasion.

Visit Brings Back Memories

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir returned Friday to visit the city of her youth. She seemed filled with emotion as she visited an elementary school she attended more than half a century ago, but tears never came.

Mrs. Meir was taken on a private visit to a classroom where she had studied. She sat for a few moments of silent reminiscing.

* * *

The four-hour Milwaukee visit had been announced as "more sentimental than political" in Mrs. Meir's tour of the United States.

Mrs. Meir, a 71-year-old grandmother of five, was brought to Milwaukee by her family in 1906 from Kiev, Russia. She left Milwaukee in 1921 to go to Palestine where she became a leader in the creation of Israel.

EMOTIONAL

The emotional peak of Friday's visit came at the Fourth Street School, which now has a completely Negro enrollment and is located in the heart of the city.

Mrs. Meir was serenaded by the children, who wore blue head bands with a Star of David on each, and was given a book of poems and pictures they had done. On a corridor wall was a mural depicting Mrs. Meir's life.

* * *

Earlier at the airport, she was greeted by a crowd, composed mostly of Jewish children who waved Israeli flags and sang Hebrew songs. Before her departure for New York, she spoke to some 2,500 persons at the Milwaukee Performing Arts Center.

She boasted that her children and her grandchildren had been born in the "sovereign state of Israel." But she said it was in Milwaukee that her family "knew and felt and experienced freedom for the first time."

* * *

"I knew the sorrows of the Jewish people before I came to Milwaukee," she said. "But I first learned the basic important lessons of freedom and democracy in this city."

Left His Heart Somewhere Else

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — The wife of singer Tony Bennett has filed a divorce suit here charging the entertainer with committing adultery and desertion.

In the suit, Patricia Bennett, formerly Patricia Beech, said her husband left her Aug. 19, 1964. She accused him also of committing adultery on New Year's Eve of 1966 in a New York City apartment.

* * *

Mrs. Bennett, 36, is seeking custody of her two sons, D'Andrea, 15, and D'Aegal, 14, and an undisclosed amount of alimony. She has been living with them in a $150,000 home in Englewood.

Bennett, 42, now appearing at the Empire Room of the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City, was unavailable for comment.

The couple was married in St. Patrick's Cathedral Feb. 12, 1952.

* * *

Mrs. Bennett's attorney, Walter H. Jones, said reports that his client is receiving between $40,000 and $45,000 a year in support "are probably right."

According to Jones, the suit was filed in the Chancery Division of Superior Court here Sept. 25.

Clubs Offer Saturday Night Fun for Old, New Members, Guests

By SHIRLEY GRAY

Twin attractions at Bloomfield Hills Country Club and Bloomfield Open Hunt tonight mean a booming business for area babysitters. At BOH, it's the annual Tennis Ball. The eating promises to be at least as much fun as the dancing and partying, with an all-out seafood spread of clams, oysters on the half shell, stoned crabs, marinated herring, shrimp, escargot, broiled lobster, and for landlubbers, prime rib.

At the country club, it's the night of the annual new member party.

MARRIAGE

A pair of business-minded young people signed up for a lifetime contract Friday evening. Robert Knowles, almost a business administration graduate, and his bride Suzanne Dyla, an assistant buyer, will be admirably suited to sympathize with each other's gripes about jobs.

* * *

Suzanne, daughter of the E. A. Dylas of Southfield, plies the buying trade at the new Bonwit-Teller shop in Troy, while Bob works toward January graduation from Wayne State University. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. James G. Knowles of Bloomfield Hills.

A reception at BOH followed the 6 p.m. ceremony at St. Bede's Church in Southfield, then off to Nassau. They will live in Troy upon their return.

* * *

Lansing's loss is a plus for us. The Robert W. Truxells, formerly of the capital city where Bob worked for Oldsmobile from 1964 on, got the word late this summer of his appointment as director of manufacturing on the GM manufacturing staff. That meant a move, which has now been accomplished. They and their daughter Barbara are settled in Hunt Club Manor.

This sketch by Steven Stipelman for Women's Wear Daily shows the new Valentino Maxi chosen by Jackie Onassis recently. The black cashmere "robe coat" is trimmed with sable.

English Schoolmarm Becomes Bride of Thrice Married James Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — James Roosevelt, 61, eldest son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, has made a 32year-old English schoolteacher his fourth wife.

Roosevelt married Mary L. Winskill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Winskill of Bromborough, England, in a civil ceremony Friday, three weeks after divorcing his third wife.

The ceremony was performed by state Supreme Court Justice Joseph Hawkins in Hyde Park at Valkill Farm, the home of one of Roosevelt's younger brothers, John.

Roosevelt received his recent divorce on the grounds of incompatability from his third wife, the former Gladys Irene Kitchenmaster, who was accused of stabbing him a week after he filed for the divorce last spring.

SWISS HOME

The couple will live in Geneva, Switzerland, where Roosevelt, a former six-term congressman from California, is an executive of Investors Overseas Services, an international mutual funds group.

After the private wedding ceremony, the couple left for a brief honeymoon at an undisclosed location. The bride wore a blue wool dress.

The new Mrs. Roosevelt, who was married for the first time, was educated in England and taught in England, Geneva and the United States. She resigned Sept. 1 as principal of the Junior House of the United Nations International School in New York City. Roosevelt has six children by previous marriages.

Snowdons In Bangkok

BANGKOK (AP) — Princess Margaret of Britain and her husband, Lord Snowdon, flew into Bangkok today from Cambodia for a two-day private visit.

The British royal couple will dine tonight with King Bhumibol and his wife, Quen Sirikit, and watch displays of Thai classical and folk dances.

Romantic Thief Steals Jewels, Kiss

LONDON (UPI) — The elderly widow of American theatrical producer Gilbert Miller was robbed of a quarter of a million dollars in jewels at her luxurious Mayfair home Friday by a "tall, dark and rather attractive" thief who also stole a kiss before fleeing.

The kiss nearly did him in.

Mrs. Kathryn Miller was breakfasting in bed when a masked raider burst into her boudoir. While his accomplices forced the household staff, at gunpoint, to lie face down on the floor, he snatched diamond bracelets and neckless worth $250,000.

* * *

Before fleeing, the intruder — whom Mrs. Miller described as "tall, dark and rather attractive," leaned over her bed, told her "you are a pet, you really are," and kissed her lightly on the cheek.

"I told him I would have to go and wash my face and he answered 'don't be wicked,'" said the indignant widow.

She pressed a secret alarm button linked to the police station when the bandit leaned over the bed. When the intruders realized what she had done, they sped out of the house — dropping handfuls of jewelry valued at $48,000 on the way.

* * *

Detectives arrived at the home as the three men scrambled away — two in a stolen truck and one on foot.

"This wouldn't have happened if my husband had been alive," said Mrs. Miller, who is in her 70s. "He was a champion boxer."

* * *

Gilbert Miller, who died in January at the age of 84, produced plays in London and New York. His last in London was Harold Pinter's "The Caretaker" in 1961.

For the Figure, Eat With Vigor

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It is well known that the only way to avoid gaining weight is to balance your intake of calories with the calories you burn through exercise and other activity.

WEST

The best place to achieve this balance is, of course, the dining table.

The ideal arrangement would be to burn as many calories eating the food as the food itself contains. Then we could forget about jogging, skiing, karate and all of those other silly exercises.

Unfortunately, however, it is very difficult for a person to offset the calories he eats. In this respect, we are victims of good table manners.

Emily Post and other etiquette arbiters have imposed standards that demand a certain amount of restraint in the way we consume our victuals.

ABOUT THE SAME

I have never seen any figures on the number of calories the average persan burns during a meal. It has been calculated, however, that a person burns about 56 calories an hour while operating a nonelectric typewriter.

The amount of energy expended in wielding a knife and fork probably is about the same as that required to depress typewriter keys. It may therefore be assumed that eating burns about 56 calories an hour.

* * *

If that figure is anything like accurate, we can see at a glance that eating is a very poor way to lose weight.

A single slice of mince pie consumed in a matter of minutes infuses us with more calories (450) than we burn during the entire dinner hour.

MORE VIGOROUS

The solution to this problem is to develop a more vigorous method of dining—one that requires us to use vast amounts of energy while partaking of viands.

Going back to the old boardinghouse style would do it. You very rarely saw a fat border.

* * *

But it is doubtful our present concept of civilization would contenance a return to the raw savagery and violence that existed around boardinghouse dining tables.

A more humane approach would be to have everyone take nourishment under the conditions that prevail at cocktail parties.

CONSERVATIVE ESTIMATE

At a conservative estimate it may be assumed that the average person burns 5,280 calories an hour fighting off starvation at cocktail parties. The food he gets during the squandering of that amount of energy probably contains about 98 calories.

If we adopted the cocktail party system at home—if, in other words, we had to snatch our food off passing trays and eat it from tiny plates while milling around in congested areas absorbing blows to the ribs from errant elbows—obesity would soon be a thing of the past.

* * *

We might drink ourselves to death, but we would die skinny.

Baton-Twirling Classes Near

Baton-twirling classes will be offered starting next week by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

For boys and girls ages 8 through 15, there are three separate classes with beginners charged $3.50 for 20 lessons and advanced twirlers 50 cents per lesson.

* * *

The three classes are: Mondays at Weber Elementary and Thursday at LeBaron Elementary, both starting at 6:30 p.m. for beginners, and Tuesdays starting at Washington Junior High at 6 p.m. Registrations are taken during the first-class.

Gym shoes and comfortable clothes are recommended as well as bringing your own baton, if you have one, although batons are furnished.

* * *

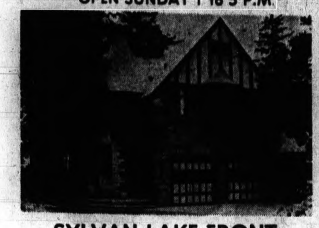

Baton twirling is recommended for development poise, posture and discipline, as well as marching techniques and routines.

Newspaper Exhibits by The Pontiac Press from Production to Home.

Your Pontiac Press is a careful blend of many things coming together — news, advertising, and the means of printing them — paper, ink, and mechanical equipment of type-setting machines, plate-casting equipment, and the presses themselves.

The news of the local area is gathered by reporters and photographers, as they attend governmental meetings, interview accident victims and visiting celebrites, and keep a careful eye on all local happenings.

The Associated Press and the United Press-International are news-gathering agencies with staff members all over the globe. These are available to The Press in both news articles and pictures.

Each day's news is judged in it's importance against what is happening that day. From the millions of words of news, the most significant are selected, and displayed throughout the pages of The Pontiac Press.

White-Trimmed Red Barn Apartment Of Mr. And Mrs. Thomas L. Baugh Located In Avon Township

Mrs. Baugh Prepares Salad In Antique Chopping Bowl

Antiqued Blue Cupboards Accent Kitchen Work Space

Couple Enjoys Barn Apartment

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

It's not very big, the one-bedroom barn apartment of the Thomas L. Baughs of Avon Township. But it's plenty big enough for two adults, an assortment of pure-bred Siamese cats and one 2-year-old weimaraner named Bruno.

"We were so lucky to find this place," said young Mrs. Baugh who will graduate from Central Michigan University in October. At the present time, she's a commuter, traveling between here and Grand Rapids as she completes her student-teaching requirements.

★ ★ ★

"Back in the late 1930s," she continued, "the McCulloughs who owned the farm built a kitchen and bedroom in the barn for their horse groom. Then in the '40s, they made it larger and converted it into an apartment for their tenant farmers.

"We've had a lot of fun decorating the place. My husband is the antique spotter. He frequently finds things that I would walk right by and miss."

Pontiac Press Photos by Rolf Winter

CAFE CURTAINS — Two-year-old Thong, a red-point Siamese, likes the open view of the kitchen window which overlooks the rolling meadow.

CEDAR PANELS

Clear cedar panels lumbered from the farm mark the living room walls and set the pace for the Early Americana approach. The Baughs chose a neutral beige area rug for the room relying on the upholstery and accent pieces for color interest.

The sofa's Early American print features turquoise and olive green on white with the shades of the lamps repeating the color tones. Avocado green Mr. and and Mrs. Chairs with matching ottoman complete the grouping.

Crisp white dotted Swiss curtains dress the windows enhancing the cottage imagery.

"The pieces above the sofa," said Baugh, "are a blend of contemporary and antique. The ducks were handmade in Traverse City and the tavern signs are reproductions.

"The brass ice scale, cow bell and harness bell are old," he said, reaching down to gently chuck a lithe Siamese cat under the chin as its counterpart edged in for a share of the attention.

CHOME CHAI CATTERY

"We are professional breeders of Siamese, you know. Right now we have seven with one expecting. Our official name is Chome Chai Cattery.

"Chome Chai means beautiful figure in Siamese," he added with a quick pat to the coaxing feline.

★ ★ ★

In the nearby kitchen, antiqued blue accents complement both the work and dining areas.

★ ★ ★

"The blue was a wild experiment," said Mrs. Baugh. "The cupboards were originally white. My husband antiqued a washboard for me and I just happened to wonder out loud what the cupboards would look like in the same blue.

GOOD JOB, WELL DONE

"And he did it—right then and there. I like it very much and followed it through with the rest of the accents."

FARMHOUSE GOES MODERN: Although up-to-date in every respect on the inside, the exterior of this traditional two-story house is in the style of farmhouses of yesteryear, with low wings on either side of the central portion.

FLOOR PLANS: Center hall leads directly to the four main portions of the house — the formal living room and dining room to the right, the family room to the left, the kitchen-breakfast area straight ahead and the four upstairs bedrooms.

Popular Two-Story Farmhouse Design

By ANDY LANG

One of the most popular House of the Week plans of recent years was a two-story farmhouse designs.

Here's another version of that house, also by architect Herbert C. Struppmann, but this time with four upstairs bedrooms instead of three.

Like the other structure, this one has warmth and charm, with everything laid out within rectangles, eliminating any exterior breaks that might add to construction expenditures.

Sheltered by the portico roof, the front door opens on an entry area with a coat closet and an attractive flight of stairs leading to the second floor.

The master bedroom, at the front of the house includes a fireplace, two closets, two windows, a dressing alcove and a private bath.

Two of the bedrooms are situated at the rear and are identical, each with a closet and cross-ventilation.

The fourth bedroom, if not required for sleeping quarters, can be used as a sewing room, study or any purpose desired.

It is off the center hall and close to another bathroom.

On the first floor, the living room is to the right of the entry, the family room to the left.

The latter has another door to the service center, which includes a laundry area, lavatory, linen closet and access to the two-car garage.

Features of the family room are a fireplace with an extended hearth, two built-in bookshelves, three pretty windows at the front and a closet for games and toys.

Fine for informal gatherings of all ages, this room is likely to be a most popular spot.

S-13 STATISTICS

Design S-13 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast area and service center, including lavatory, on the first floor, totaling 1,260 square feet. It has four bedrooms and two bathrooms on the second floor, adding 735 square feet of living space. There is a two-car garage, with inside and outside storage closets. Over-all dimensions, which include the garage, are 66' 10" by 29' 8".

Check Entryway

First Impressions Important

First impressions count big — especially when it's the first impression guests get of your home.

Whether it's a room, a formal foyer or merely the space where your guest sets down his hat, gloves and umbrella, the entryway sets the viewer's expectations for what's to come in the rest of your home. Don't discourage him!

* * *

The flash of color or tasteful furniture arrangement that you greet him with is just as important as that special cup of coffee you serve him later. The coffee may tell him something about your cooking, but the entryway to your home previews for him much about your personality, taste and decorative ability.

Happily for today's homemaker, decorative possibilities for the entry are almost limitless. There is a way for every homemaker to bring out the best in her home to salute visitors.

SIMPLE FURNISHINGS

Keeep the furnishings simple and utilitarian. This part of your home is one that is to be used, but only briefly, by everyone coming in through the front door. The visual impact is most important. Furnishings need only serve the temporary needs of guests as they remove coats and hats or put windblown coiffures back in line.

A small table or chest and a decorative mirror can turn the trick. If space permits, an occasional chair or two and perhaps an unusual umbrella stand make comfortable additions to the entranceway. Since the furnishings here get little use, this is the ideal spot for that eye-catching antique chair that can't stand hard sitting.

* * *

This part of your home is typically small, and thus, needs only one focal point, the wall paneling company asserts. That one eye impact center, however, should be geared to winning over your guest to the charm of your home.

Because of the short stay the guest has in the entryway, it is wise to coordinate its furniture styling or color theme to that of the living room. Thus, through thoughtful decorating, you carry your guest from one room to the next without jarrying his sense of the artistic. In many smaller homes, this coordination of entrance and living room is essential, as the entryway is literally part of the living room.

UNCLUTTERED ENTRYWAY

The backdrop for your entryway should be as uncluttered as the furniture arrangement. This is definitely not the place to confuse your guest with "too-busy" patterns or a loud barrage of glaring colors. Nor is it the place to assault him with every decorating idea you've ever had.

Wood-grained panels can be the perfect answer to your wall-covering needs in this part of your home. With today's wide selection of tones and patterns in both wood-grained hardboard and pre-finished plywood wall paneling, there is a wood-grained panel for the entrance of literally every home.

* * *

Should your home take its decorate theme from either the Orient of Scandinavia, a teak facade at the doorway will set the stage for your whole home. Colonial, ranch and farmhouse decorative schemes start off well with a barnboard greeting. Should your choice be Mediterranean or Spanish, the textured grain and even coloring of pecan may be your entrance answer. The rich tones of oak, too, give a hint of the Mediterranean.

If early American decor is your choice, the warm tones of Cherry, maple, hickory and walnut will be your best paneling selections. For the grandeur of an old English manor in a deep tone, look to the handsome oak wall paneling. Modern furniture fanciers will find white oak, silver ash, light elm and some of the colored wood-grain panels their wall-covering answer.

Traditional furnishings are backgrounded comfortably with oaks and darker walnuts.

Require the prior sale of an existing home before a new home can be purchased. The O'Neil Realty Guaranteed Sale Plan was developed to make it possible for you — the home buyer or seller — to solve this frustrating problem without the necessity of becoming obligated to pay concurrently on two homes, and the insecurity of having to sell your old home on the open market.

Results
100% SALE OF LISTINGS.
Based on the factor of a calculated risk, O'Neil Realty Company assumes total responsibility for the sale of your existing home. Once the Guaranteed Sales Plan is affected, your worries are over and you can move into your new home with the enthusiasm such an occasion merits.
Trading is a successful method of assuring an owner of an existing home that he can cash out his net equity in order to purchase another home of his choice!

Cost of Flooring Told

Older Home Can Be Best Buy

For a handy young couple, older homes comprise some of the best buys on today's housing market. They can do much of the renovation themselves, enjoying the plus benefit of buying in an established neighborhood.

But there is a catch here: one that the new owners may not become aware of for several years — the older home is probably a little bit worn.

★ ★ ★

Rejuvenating a home has become a much simpler matter in the past few years.

A few key questions which will help a couple decide whether or not their home is in need of face-lifting which can forestall later emergencies and make living more comfortable:

- Are painted areas dull, flaking or peeling? Do they stain stone and brickwork?

If this is the case, moisture is the culprit. Chances are that the condition will continue to plague the home, even after repainting. The home with this problem is a good candidate for a remodeling job.

- Is the home drafty? Are there cold spots? Are heating costs higher than they should be?

If so, the house needs to be tightened, made more snug. Drafts should be reduced and more sidewall insulation added. The money you save on heating costs alone will help justify remodeling.

- Is the house too hot inside during the warm months?

Again, more insulation is the answer. And if the house is air conditioned, there will be some great savings on electric bills.

- Are repair and repainting costs occuring more frequently?

This budget drain will get worse until these costs are controlled by substantially reducing the need for maintenance. This is the most pressing reason to renovate.

- Does the home look shabby and tired instead of clean and fresh?

This question can be answered more objectively by looking at the home through the eyes of a prospective buyer. Indeed, with Americans experiencing the highest mobility of any time in history, the odds are in favor of the family's relocating in a few years.

If the home presents a poor first impression it will take longer to sell. A face-lifting for the shabby-looking home will increase its value and the owner's pride in it.

The most popular material for restyling an older home is value proved aluminum siding and the modern aluminum trim that goes with it.

Many homeowners are unaware of the wide range of colors and textures available to today's siding buyers. In addition to providing a fresh, clean look, aluminum siding is resistant to moisture damage and has been proven an excellent insulator against heat as well as cold.

GUARANTEE

What's more, aluminum siding guarantees extend for as long as 20 years.

If a home fails to pass the question test, the owner should look long and hard before rushing into a face-lifting job. He will protect his own interests by learning as much as possible about all kinds of building materials and their relative costs and benefits.

Garbage Pails Aren't Needed

The least expensive built-in appliance is also the handiest kitchen helper a housewife can have.

The food waste disposer may be hidden out of sight beneath the kitchen sink, but those homemakers who have one would never be without it.

★ ★ ★

Plumbed into the kitchen sink, a disposer gets rid of food waste before it can become garbage and spread its unpleasant odors throughout the kitchen. Corn cobs, melon rinds, bones and other large pieces of food waste are quickly and efficiently pulverized and flushed down the drain by a disposer.

Soggy bags and unhygienic kitchen pails are eliminated forever — as are mid-winter and rainy day trips to the garbage pail.

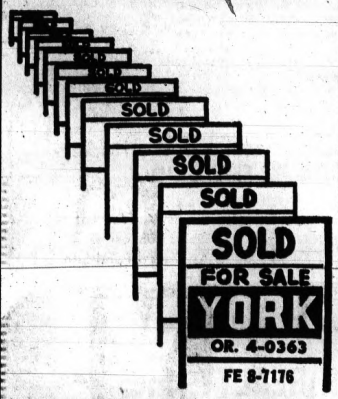

A disposer not only helps keep the kitchen and sink clean, but is itself self-cleaning. The swirling action of the water scours it every time it is used.

THE REALISTIC WIGGLE of these pull-toy dogs is easy to produce in the home workshop. All you need is scraps of wood, canvas for joints, glue and some paint. These toys make a wonderful showing under the Christmas tree. Pattern 310, which gives actual-size guides and directions, is 50c. This pattern also is one of four in the Tiny Topt's Toy Packet 52 — all for $1.50.

Peace Pleas Fall on Deaf Ears in Turbulent N. Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — At sundown, the "Hards" gather on street corners and the Irish problem starts all over again.

The "Hards" in Belfast slang are the men at the barricades —throwing fire bombs and stones, jeering troops and police, working out grudges hundreds of years old.

* * *

They may be Catholics, Protestants or Unionists. Some may be nationalists, anarchists, hooligans. These are the men—mostly young, many jobless—who light the fuse of chaos in this green land.

Slogans of reform and pleas for peace seem irrelevant to the logic of attack and counterattack hammered out in the streets of Londonderry and Belfast.

DOZEN DEAD

Passions dormant for years erupted a year ago. The year has cost Northern Ireland a dozen dead, hundreds injured and thousands homeless.

It began in Londonderry when a Catholic civil rights march turned into a bloody battle with police who tried to enforce a ban against demonstrations.

* * *

The government resigned in April after the Protestant-dominated Unionist party split over giving jobs, housing and a wider vote to the Catholic minority. Violence sputtered on into August, when British soldiers cut short the rioting and arson with tear gas and stretched barriers of iron and barbed wire across Northern Ireland's two biggest cities.

* * *

By this time, the original dispute over civil rights had turned into the ancient collision between Protestant and Catholic.

STILL COUNT LOSSES

Businessmen are still counting the losses. Farming and shipbuilding, the two main industries, are largely unaffected. But the Tourist Board estimates revenue will be down about 10 per cent from the 1969 target of $72 million. Production of linen, a basic export, is expected to drop well below last year's level because of employe absenteeism during the riots.

Some manufacturers have postponed setting up plants. Unemployment tops 7 per cent of the work force, and hundreds of workers are planning to leave. Canadian officials in Belfast received 768 applications to emigrate last month, more than triple the September figure aa year ago. The U.S. consulate reported a 15 per cent increase in similar inquiries.

* * *

Hundreds of families dispossessed in the riots face long stays in camps of trailers or converted construction huts until government agencies find them permanent homes.

* * *

Angelo Moralli, 30, a truck driver born in Northern Ireland of Italian descent, moved into a four-room, 20 by 20 hut, one of 30 clustered off a Catholic street in Belfast. His three sons sleep in a room 7 by 9. The nearest water faucet is 25 yards away and the nearest toilet 100 yards.

INCIDENTS, CONTINUE

"They told us we'd be here six months to a year," Moralli says. "It's not so bad. We have heat and we're putting up wallpaper."

Scattered nighttime incidents continue. Belligerent crowds form after the pubs close, occasional gasoline bombs ar thrown, a few shots are fired.

* * *

British commanders have 4,000 troops avaiable for peacekeeping chores in Belfast and Londonderry, but a military spokesman commented: "Short of the army getting trigger-happy, can anybody be stopped from throwing a bottle?"

The Public Prorotection Authority organized last month received in three weeks more than 1,100 complaints of threatened violence against individuals.

'UNFORTUNATE RESULT'

"The targets of this intimidation are largely people of one religion living in an area of another religion," said director Tom Cromey. "The unfortunate result is that more families move out and there is more segregation."

Prime Minister James Chichester-Clark, opening Parliament last week, appealed for legislation he said could remove "root causes of fear and suspicion." But many Irish are questioning whether the deliberate process of democratic government—the prime minister hopes to have most of his proposals enacted by Christmas—can any longer control the situation.

* * *

A longtime Unionist party member said:

"In the beginning, the issue was clear—civil rights for Catholics. Now the country is caught in a tide of passion that has little to do with religion, economics or politics. It's getting your own back—retalalation.

"We're at the point where we could have all the ruddy reforms you want and it still wouldn't do any good."

PEACE COMMITTEE

A 30-member peace committee including clergy and legislators meets regularly at Chichester-Clark's residence. But a Methodist minister who has joined efforts to cool off the crowds in his own neighborhood said: "We have trouble reaching these boys. They don't go to church and when we start talking, they just don't want to know."

Part of the problem is the long Irish memory that has made a rallying cry out of "Remember 1690," the year Protestant forces defeated the Catholic King James II in the Battle of the Boyne.

* * *

"Other people bury their history. The Irish keep theirs alive," said a shopkeeper whose customers include both Catholics and Protestants. "The best thing would be if we forgot it all.

"Of course," he added, "the other side would have to forget first."

"We are going through a crisis of confidence," said Hugh Kennedy, spokesman for the Catholic Citizens Defense Committee in Belfast. "There is no political solution in sight.

"It looks like a long, hot winter."

A vaccine to prevent spinal meningitis reduces the transmission of the disease from person to person. It is still in the experimental testing stage, at military camps where the disease is most prevalent.

Oregon City Pulls Parking Meters

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — This southern Oregon city of 24,000 began plucking its 850 parking meters out of the ground Friday after the City Council voted to remove all time restrictions on parking.

The idea was proposed by local merchants in hopes of stimulating trade.

Judge Orders Settlement of $650,000 in Divorce

Detroiter Jack Rose, 40, son of builder Edward Rose, has been ordered by Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn to make a property settlement with his former wife totaling $650,000.

Rose was also ordered to pay his attorney $105,000 in legal fees.

* * *

Rose was jailed last spring for contempt of court in refusing to obey court orders regarding his divorce. He was cited for contempt of court five times by two judges in his protracted divorce trial.

Rose attempted to act as his own attorney in the case but the court later appointed one for him.

WILL APPEAL DECISION

Steven Andrews, an attorney and court-appointed legal guardian for Rose, said the decision will be appealed.

Rose fought three divorce suits in a futile attempt to force his wife, the former Doris Wertheimer, 41, into a reconciliation.

* * *

She charged "extreme and Repeated cruelty." They were married in 1962 and lived together 18 months. They had no children.

Rose acted as his own attorney until Judge Thorburn finally ruled him "incapable" of handling his own legal affairs and appointed Andrews as his attorney and guardian.

* * *

It was while acting as his own attorney that Rose was sentenced five times for contempt and spent 91 days in jail.

Hawaii AFL-CIO May Organize Island's Renters

HONOLULU (AP) — William Abbott, executive secretary of Hawaii's AFL-CIO, says the union may try to organize island renters.

"Here the problem is sky-high rent," he said Friday. "I hope it never comes to a renters' strike, but if it does, the whole labor movement might use its expertise to aid the renters."

Abbott said he hates to see the high cost of housing in Hawaii blamed on labor.

"The villains," he said, "are the greedy hands here and there along the way."

The Purpose of A Vault

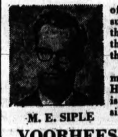

Should a vault be selected by everyone? The answer is no!

In our opinion, the selection of caskets, vaults, etc., should be, "To each his own." If this is true, what purpose does a vault serve?

The primary and most important function of a vault is protection! Protection for the casket and its precious contents. A vault gives "peace of mind" to those who care, that can never be measured in dollars.

J. L. Voorhees

M. E. SIPLE

Today, most cemeteries require the use of a vault or concrete liner. This is to make sure that the burial receptacle will support the weight of the earth above. This prevents the unsightly sunken graves that used to be the earmark of most cemeteries.

Vaults are produced in both concrete and metal Here at VOORHEES-SIPLE FUNERAL HOME the decision to select a vault or liner, is left entirely in the hands of those responsible for making final arrangements.

"I didn't read it"

Judging by the complaints which reach the Business Ethics Board, few people read the documents which they sign. When they find themselves bound by the provisions of an iron-clad contract, they tell us, in bewilderment, that they never signed a contract, that it was only an application or an order, and, anyway, the salesman told me he would tear it up if they changed their mind about it.

Your signature is your promise to abide by certain terms and conditions. Your failure to comply with such terms and conditions is actionable at law. Read EVERY WORD of any paper you sign — read the small print as well as the big print. Learn what it means before you sign it!

Why I Go to Church

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the 13th in a series of articles written by Pontiac area citizens.)

HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

By HAROLD A. FITZGERALD
Former Publisher, The Pontiac Press

Attendance in church for all ages is just as important as attendance in school for children. One is compulsory but the other gives many people the chance to dodge without authoritative correction.

Church services are more necessary today than ever before in our existence. At no time in America's 193 years have morals and common decency descended to such a low level. Thus, the teachings of Jesus and the church are needed as they never have been before.

Everyone gains moral and spiritual benefits plus new strength from church services.

Just by appearing in church you help. Others observe your presence and we all have a certain influence on someone, even though we don't know where.

We owe it to ourselves to attend. We owe it to our compatriots, our associates and our families. And we owe it to Him above for the favors already received, many of which may have been unearned.

★ ★ ★

Does anyone live so perfect a life he can't improve? Don't we all need guidance and help from a greater and more powerful source than just ourselves? Think of the complicated situations that lie ahead of us all. Surely, past and future church guidances can help point the way.

To me, a supposedly facetious remark that derides church attendance constitutes the most contemptible joke that exists. This shows a dreadful disrespect for God and man.

Remember, "Faith if it hath not works, is dead."

Show hours are from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily with the exception of Thursday when the show will close at 8 p.m.

The church is located in a wooded area of Bloomfield Township at Lone Pine and Telegraph. Donations are $1.25.

Oriental objects will also be for sale.

★ ★ ★

Women of Cross of Christ Church will serve luncheon including homemade pies, cakes and other desserts in a large tent pitched across from the entrance to the church.

NEW LOOK

A bright new look will be evident with the addition of long table cloths in fall colors on each of the round tables and colorful calico aprons worn by women of the church.

Hundreds of chrysanthemums will also help brighten the scene.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. A. Ray Riese of Bloomfield Hills is chairman of the show; and Mrs. Richard Kuehn, dealer chairman.

Mrs. Karl Walter is in charge of tickets; and Mrs. Louis D'Ambrosio, Mrs. Robert Singer and Mrs. Herbert Head comprise the luncheon committee.

FIRST SHOW

The present Bloomfield Antique Show bears little resemblance to the first show six years ago, a fund raising effort of the church choir.

The congregation had just moved into the new building and members felt a robed choir, although not a necessity, would be an addition to the service of worship.

★ ★ ★

The growing young congregation had no money in its budget for frills so members of the choir were told they would have to purchase robes of their own. The result was the first Bloomfield Antique Show.

Churches Change Names, Construct, Buy Buildings

The Pontiac Church of Christ as it moves from 1180 N. Perry into its new facilities at 1500 University Drive is also changing its legal name to University Drive Church of Christ.

Boyd Glover, minister of the new church, said of the venture "The new building is the result of years of planning and great blessings from the Lord.

* * *

In the 32,950 square feet of floor space, there is an auditorium seating 600 persons and 21 large class rooms that will comfortably take care of around 600 Bible students.

The building is so designed that worship services and Bible classes can be conducted simultaneously.

* * *

"With multiple services we feel that some 2,000 people can study the Word of God and worship God each Sunday without any more building. One reason for the large class rooms is to have a Christian day school should it be desirable in the future," Mr. Glover added.

The new University Drive Church is located on 10.9 acres and cost approximately $650,000.

PERRY PARK BAPTIST

The congregation of the former Perry Park Baptist Church, 827 Cameron will begin services tomorrow at the new location, 1180 N. Perry. Members purchased the former Pontiac Church of Christ, now located in a new building at 1500 Univeristy Drive.

Members of the Perry Baptist congregation changed their name to North Perry Baptist Church.

* * *

The first meeting in the redecorated and remodeled church will be a Bible Conference at 10 a.m. with Evangelist John Marine conducting the Sunday School hour.

* * *

Dr. Wendell Johnson, president of Detroit Bible College, will speak at 11 a.m. worship service. Dr. John Hunter, pastor of Silvercrest Baptist Church will offer brief greetings at 3 p.m. and musical selections are slated for the 4 p.m. service.

Services for the day will close with Louie Files and the Friends of Mexico Team speaking at 7 p.m.

Everyone is invited to the programs, and noon and evening meals in the church basement, according to Mrs. Delbert Burnett, chairman.

FOUNDED IN 1926

The Perry Park Church was founded by a group of young people from First Baptist Church in March 1926. After surveying the site and finding no Sunday School within walking distance for children to attend, First Baptist decided to open an afternoon Sunday School.

* * *

Permission to meet in one of the Emerson Elementary School portable buildings was granted by the Pontiac Board of Education.

The Sunday School opened March 14, 1926 with 46 children present. Today the average SS attendance is 156. Later permission was given for the use of the other two buildings.

When the first unit of Emerson School was constructed, meetings moved into the new building and length of service increased to 90 minutes to provide a preaching ministry.

* * *

When First Baptist Church instituted its branch church plan, Perry Park Church became the first branch unit. The Rev. Ralph Pardee was called as first pastor. He served part time.

Property was purchased at Cameron and Baltimore. After World War II, the ground floor of the building was erected and meetings shifted from Emerson School to the church building. An evening service was then added.

* * *

As the work progressed the Rev. James Savage and the Rev. Richard Fisher were called as part time pastors. The Rev. and Mrs. Pardee served as youth directors at First Baptist for many years as well as at Perry Park Church. Mrs. Pardee is still active in the present youth church program.

BIHL CALLED

In February 1948 the Rev. Hilding Bihl of Valparaiso, Ind. accepted the call to become the first fulltime pastor and server until September 1969 when he resigned to enter an evangelistic program.

The mission program of the church has grown from partial support of two missionaries to the support of 25 missionaries and organizations. Pastor Bihl helped to train six missionary couples through the Missionary Internship Program.

* * *

Five of these couples have already reached the mission filed.

Pastor Bihl who has had a sight defect since birth, was partially blind when he became pastor. He is now almost totally blind but with the help of his wife, carries on without much notice of his blindness. He never considers his blindness a handicap, Mrs. Burnett said.

* * *

The talking Bible records are his greatest help and he has memorized countless verses of Scripture in this manner.

Jews Mark End of Season

Simchat Torah Rite at Religious School

Members of The New Temple will conclude the observance of the Jewish festival season this weekend with the celebration of Smini Atzeret (Feast of Conclusion) and Simchat Torah (Rejoicing of the Law.)

* * *

Services at The New Temple were held last night in Birmingham Unitarian Church, Woodward and Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, by Rabbi Ernst Conrad.

The students of the Religious School will hold a Simchat Torah service at Religious School session tomorrow.

* * *

During the celebration, Jews give thanks, not only for the bounties of nature, but also for the book of the Divine Torah.

The Torah consists of the five Books of Moses: Genesis, Exodus, Levitious, Numbers and Dueteronomy.

It is customary for children to follow the Torah Scrolls as they are carried at the head of a procession through the synagogue. Sweets and apples are given to the children to enhance their joy and fun on this occasion.

Within the last generation Reform Syngagogues have instituted the ceremony consecration for the newly enrolled pupils in the lower grades of the religious school.

They receive a special blessing and gift and recite a promise to be faithful students in the quest for knowledge and understanding.

Fellowship Supper Set for Marimont

National Child Evangelism Week will be observed in the Pontiac area Oct. 19-26.

According to Marion Williams, director of Child Evnagelism Fellowship of Oakland County, the theme will be "That the Generation to Come May Know."

* * *

Under the leadership of Thomas Mackie, chairman of local Child Evangelism Fellowship Committee, a fellowship supper is planned Oct. 17 at 6:30 p.m. in Marimont Baptist Church.

Those interested in attending may call Mrs. Henry Mehlberg.

* * *

"The purpose of these events is to alert people of the Pontiac area to the spiritual need of our children, said Miss Williams. "Child Evangelism seeks out the unchurched children, teaching them the Bible in homes, open air, fairs and camps, and encourages them and their parents to align themselves with a Bible-teaching church in our community."

* * *

"At the present time," Miss Williams added, "it is estimated that 41 million children under 13 do not attend any church. Experience teaches that those who have a firm spiritual commitment are capable of making a greater contribution to the society in which they live."

Prays to Be Better

Oh heavenly Father, make me a better parent, Teach me to understand my children, to listen patiently to what they have to say, and to answer all their questions kindly.

Keep me from interrupting them or contradicting them. Make me as courteous to them as I would have them be to me.

Forbid that I should ever laugh at their mistakes, or resort to shame or ridicule when they displease me. May I never punish them for my own selfish satisfaction or to show my power.

Let me not tempt my child to lie or steal. And guide me hour by hour that I may demonstrate by all I say and do that honesty produces happiness.

Reduce, I pray, the meanness in me. And when I am out of sorts, help me, Oh Lord, to hold my tongue.

May I ever be mindful that my children are children and I should not expect of them the judgment of adults. And fit me, O Lord, to be loved and respected and imitated by my children. Amen.

Second Half Ruins PCH

WRONG SIDE — Halfback Calvin Hirsch of Pontiac Central gets a good block from one teammate (lower right), but needs the help of the player behind him as he is pulled down by Flint Northwestern's Vance Edwards after a short gain in last night's game. Rick Beaver (79) of the Wildcats moves in to help. Hirsch gained 88 yards in 22 carries, but Northwestern won, 24-0.

State's No. 3 Rated Eleven Whips Chiefs

By DON VOGEL

Flint Northwestern, completely throttled in the first half, began living up to its No. 3 state Class A football ranking early in the third quarter last night and went on to defeat Pontiac Central, 24-0, at Wisner Stadium.

The Chiefs checked Northwestern with 47 yards rushing and one first down in the opening half.

★ ★ ★

A 40-yard return by Delma Williams with the second half kickoff was the spark Northwestern needed and the Wildcats used only four plays to go the remaining 42 yards for the first scoring of the game.

The Wildcats chalked up three touchdowns in the fourth quarter, the last on 59-yard pass play from quarterback Mike Hrapsky to end Ray Johnson with less than a minute to play.

FOURTH STRAIGHT

The victory was Northwestern's fourth straight and put the Wildcats in a commanding position in the Saginaw Valley Association's Western Division with a 2-0 mark. PCH dropped its third decision against one victory and is 1-1 in divisional play.

Although the Chiefs controlled the action during the first half, running 36 plays to Flint's 13, not counting penalties and punts, they only threatened once.

A drive to Northwestern's 18 ended as three passes went incomplete.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs were able to get out of their own territory only twice more in the game, once to the Northwestern 47 in the second quarter and to the 41 late in the fourth period.

Hrapsky's 40-yard punting average in the first half, helped by "Northwestern bounces," kept the Chiefs from getting good field position. He only had to punt once in the last half as the Wildcats dominated the action.

BIG PLAY

A 21-yard burst by fullback Robin Early was the big play for Northwestern after Williams' long run with the second half kickoff. Claude Purches punched over the goal-line from the 14.

A 53-yard punt by PCH's Dennis Brown put the Wildcats in a hole on their 13 late in the third quarter. But the Wildcats started finding running room inside PCH's big defensive line and marched the distance in 11 plays with Williams driving the final yard early in the fourth quarter.

The Wildcats went 52 yards the next time they had the ball. Robins broke over right guard from the five for the score. Johnson's TD finished the scoring. The wildcats major second half weakness was that they failed twice on runs and twice on passes to score conversions.

Quarterback Perry Humphrey thrilled the small crowd with his scrambling before being injured in the fourth quarter. Brown took over as PCH signal caller.

The running of halfback Calvin Hirsch was a bright spot for the Chiefs. He gained 88 yards in 22 carries. Art Goldman, who had a big game against Arthur Hill last week (not Spencer Dinkins as erroneously reported to The Press), found the defenses stacked against him and he carried only three times.

WL Central Coach Settles Old Score With Waterford

By FLETCHER SPEARS

It took quite a spell, but Dick Woodworth has evened an old score with the Skippers of Waterford.

Woodworth, now head football coach at Walled Lake Central, was a halfback on that team back in the fall of 1955 when it dropped a 26-18 decision to Waterford.

CARRIED OFF

During the game, Woodworth scored a touchdown but suffered a back injury as he scored the six-pointer and was carried from the field on a stretcher.

★ ★ ★

Losing to Waterford is something Walled Lake has seldom done so Woodworth was eager to atone for his part in that setback 13 years ago.

GAINS REVENGE

He did last night. He took the Vikings onto the Skippers field before a crowd of some 2,000 and guided the Walled Lakers to an 18-14 victory.

★ ★ ★

From a mechanical standpoint, it wasn't the finest game ever played — there were nine fumbles and two interceptions — but it was a victory and winners find it easy enough to overlook their own mistakes.

'NEEDED IT'

"They sure needed this one," said Woodworth of the Vikings, who won for only the first time this season. For Waterford, the loss was the third in a row following a win in the season opener.

★ ★ ★

A couple of long passing plays plus a short drive following a blocked punt produced the Viking victory.

Quarterback Don Burlingame connected with Les Perry for both of the aerial six-pointers. He hit the speedy halfback with a 49-yarder at 4:52 of the first period and with a 65-yarder with just 1:10 remaining in the first half.

ELUDES RUSH

On the second touchdown strike, Burlingame eluded a strong Waterford rush, and the Skipper secondary, apparently thinking the quarterback was down, relaxed and Perry moved some 25 yards behind them to take the scoring pass.

★ ★ ★

Mike Shaw scored on a 23-yard run and Craig Whetstone tallied on a three-yard dash and added a two-point conversion to give Waterford a 14-12 lead at halftime.

That lead looked relatively safe until early in the fourth when Walled Lake broke through and blocked a Skipper punt and recovered the ball on the Waterford seven.

WINNING TALLY

Perry ripped off left tackle for five yards and John Ratliff, like Perry a junior, went up the middle for the final two yards and the winning touchdown.

★ ★ ★

Waterford made a valiant try to pull it out with 1:42 left. From their own 20, the Skippers, guided by quarterback Carl Whetstone, moved to the Walled Lake 38 before losing the ball on downs.

Linebacker Bob Springer, also a junior, turned in a superb defensive job for the Vikings. He made a number of outstanding plays, one of them a fourth-down tackle that prevented Waterford from picking up a first down late in the final stanza.

★ ★ ★

The victory was the 13th straight for the Vikings over the Skippers, a string that began back in 1957. After Woodworth and his teammates dropped that 26-18 verdict, Waterford won the following year, 12-7. Since then, it's been all Walled Lake.

South Lyon's Brandon Scores All 14 Points

Dave Brandon scored twice to lead South Lyon to a 14-0 triumph over Dundee last night.

The victory gives South Lyon an overall 3-1 mark and 2-1 league record.

The first touchdown in the second period came after a 45 yard drive with Brandon going 7 yards.

★ ★ ★

An interception by John Pfeffer set up the second TD and a 60 yard march with Brandon going six yards and he then ran for the two point conversion.

Denby Ties Pershing

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Pershing ran up a 20-6 halftime lead, but it withered away, as Detroit Denby made a 65-yard scoring drive in the final five minutes to tie the final score 26-26 Friday.

Chris Malechikos ran three yards for a score with 1:45 left and then ran around end for a two-point conversion.

Pistons Cut Squad to Limit of 12 With Cut of Sonny Dove

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran forward Sonny Dove and rookie guard Larry Jeffries were cut Friday as the Detroit Pistons reduced their squad to the regular season limit of 12.

The Pistons, who start their National Basketball Association campaign against Milwaukee Oct. 18, said a final disposition is still pending on Dove, who had a year left on a three-year contract.

The only rookies on the squad are Steve Mix of Toledo University, who was a fifth-round pick, and George Reynolds of Houston.

Dove was farmed out by the Pistons to minor league teams in Pontiac and Scranton, Pa., for most of the last two seasons.

The Pistons kept three veteran forwards, Happy Hairston, Terry Dischinger and McCoy McLemore, veteran guard-forward Eddie Miles, guards Dave Bing, Howard Komives, Jimmy Walker and Paul Long and centers Walt Bellamy and Otto Moore.

Yale Routs N. Branch

Pete Michelx scored three touchdowns last night to lead Yale (4-0) to a 53-28 victory over North Branch (2-2). Cliff Clendenen scored twice for North Branch.

Stevenson Shows PNH Muscle, 25-0

The Inter-Lakes League football crown will apparently be worn for the second straight year by the Spartans of Livonia Stevenson.

That's the opinion of Pontiac Northern coach Dave Schmidt who took the Huskies against the burly Spartans yesterday afternoon and came away with a 24-0 setback.

'NO WAY'

Can anyone else beat them? "Not in our league," says Schmidt. "No way. Maybe a good contest would be them and North Farmington."

★ ★ ★

The Spartans and North Farmington meet Nov. 1 but the game has no bearing in the Inter-Lakes title picture. However, it could determine how North Farmington will fare in the state Class A poll. The squad is now ranked fourth.

ASSESSMENT FIGURES

Schmidt's assessment of Stevenson figures. Northern and Southfield Lathrup were picked to give the Spartans a run for the marbles. So far, PNH has defeated Lathrup and now lost to Stevenson.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies blew several opportunities in the first half and the fired-up Stevenson crew then slammed the door in the second half.

★ ★ ★

"They taught us how to play," continued Schmidt. "They were out to play ball. If we had scored there in the second quarter it was our ball game, but . . ."

LOSES BALL

Twice in the second quarter, PNH drove inside the Stevenson 10-yard line only to lose the ball on downs.

★ ★ ★

The Spartans struck with just two seconds left in the first half when Rusty Gregg flipped a 20-yard pass to John Jetchick and then hit the big end for a two-point conversion.

QUICK SCORES

Tom Kellogg was on the receiving end of a 45-yard Gregg pass in the third stanza, and immediately following that kickoff, PNH fumbled the ball and Stevenson's Jerry Kennedy scooped up the ball and raced 22 yards for the touchdown.

★ ★ ★

After a hot first quarter during which they gained 69 yards rushing, the Huskies then began to go downhill and wound up with a net 38 yards on the ground.

TOP RUSHER

Fullback Al Nance picked up most of that first-quarter yardage with a 35-yard run that put the ball on the Spartans' five-yard stripe, but four downs later, Stevenson took possession at its own nine.

★ ★ ★

Next week, Northern, now 1-1 in league play and 2-2 over-all, entertains Farmington, while Stevenson, 2-0 in league and 3-1 overall, plays host to Walled Lake Central.

Walled Lake Western Pins Defeat on Churchill, 26-6

The Warriors of Walled Lake Western continue to get good mileage from quarterback Roy Coomer.

The slender Coomer ran his aerial touchdown total to 10 last night as the Warriors pinned a 26-6 setback on visiting Livonia Churchill.

THREE STRIKES

Coomer, with 55 completions in 102 attempts for four contests, tossed scoring passes of 17 and 44 yards to Marvin Gross and connected with sophomore Marvin Geary on a 20-yarder.

★ ★ ★

For the night, Coomer hit on 20 of 35 attempts for 235 yards and ran his season yardage total to 907 yards.

The Warriors, now 4-0, collected their other six-pointer in the third stanza on a 25-yard run by Jack Lewis.

CLOSE SCORING

Walled Lake pushed across two touchdowns in the second quarter and closed it with two more in the third.

★ ★ ★

After taking a punt on their own 37, Coomer moved the club quickly on passes to Geary (16), Bob Zaebst (19) and finished the drive with the 17-yarder to Gross.

The second drive was a 63-yarder during which Zaebst hauled in a 22-yard pitch before Gross picked off the payoff pitch.

Zaebst set up the final tally in the third with an interception that he returned to the Churchill 15-yard line. Coomer lost five yards on first down, but hit Geary with the 20-yard scoring pitch on second down.

Churchill made it on the scoreboard in the fourth on John Cerretani's two-yard run.

In case anyone is interested Spencer Dinkins didn't play in the game last night which saw Flint Northwestern whip Pontiac Central before about 200 paid customers.

In fact Spencer Dinkins doesn't even wear a Pontiac Central uniform.

In the 34-0 victory over Arthur Hill, Art Goldman did the bulk of the running, did most of the scoring and was really the hero, but Spencer Dinkins got all the credit.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Central, which has been sitting on a pedestal wearing the self-appointed crown as the No. 1 school in Oakland County, doesn't even have an accurate roster to indicate who is on the team and who isn't.

DAY OF ENLIGHTENMENT

It took eight days for PCH officials and coaches to enlighten everyone that the number supposedly worn by Dinkins was being worn by Goldman.

In the meantime, the family and friends of Goldman were disheartened and belittled that a "myth" was getting credit for the accomplishments that deservingly belonged to Art Goldman.

★ ★ ★

We at The Press take responsibility for the error because we trusted our sources, but those at Pontiac Central are responsible for the unplacable attitude which has existed for many years.

Through the years Pontiac Central athletics have been the No. 1 concern of the lead stories of our sports section, but of recent years PCH baseball, golf, tennis, swimming, wrestling, football and even the strong hold of the school, basketball, have fallen to the "lesser" class A schools of the county.

★ ★ ★

Back in 1961 we urged the school, before the board of education, to break its ties with the Saginaw Valley and become part of the athletic strength of our county, the fastest growing in the state.

The board, the school administration and the old guard coaches scoffed at the suggestion that Pontiac Central would just be another of 38 class A schools in the county, fighting for its competitive life.

It wasn't long afterward that Francis Staley, the devoted principal at PCH, came to admit that the school on West Huron had lost its stature in our county of 700,000 people and did everything he could, to the extent of weakening his heart to bring the Chiefs back to their homegrounds.

NOT FORGIVING

It was too late however. The big schools of the county weren't ready to forgive that easily. One prominent educator, recently retired commented," Pontiac High set itself on a pedestal, thinking itself too good for the rest of us."

Those days are gone and presently there is talk that Pontiac Northern would join some new alignment of the Saginaw Valley.

★ ★ ★

The taxpayers of Pontiac will have something to say about this, as are the taxpayers in every school district in the state.

There is no need to travel 100 and 120 miles for athletic competition when equitable competition exists within 20 miles of the city.

We've always maintained that athletic budgets should be sustaining out of football and basketball and this is not possible from costly schedules with Bay City and Midland schools.

★ ★ ★

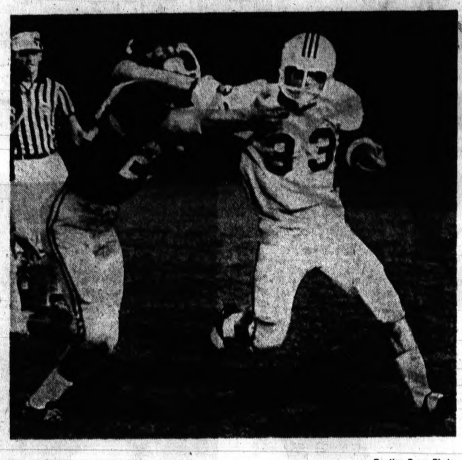

The Flint schools are on the verge of forming their own affiliations, exclusive of the Saginaw Valley.

Potiac Central had best bow its head humbly, admit to the rest of the 37 class A schools in the county, that it is class A like the rest of them and get back to the ranks where it belongs, in Oakland County.

For 12 years, Pontiac Central has been on the first prep page of four football sections.

Out of tradition, it may still hold that position for the next 12 years, that is if Pontiac Central people decide to get into step with 37 other class A schools in our ranks.

Andover, West Bloomfield Keep in Pace

Barons Top Milford, 24-8; Lakers Lace Northville, 40-14

Bloomfield Andover and West Bloomfield kept pace with each other in their race for the Wayne-Oakland League title.

Andover had its goal line crossed for the first time this season in whipping Milford, 24-8, while West Bloomfield gave Northville a 40-14 lacing.

In other league games Kettering stomped Brighton, 34-6 and Clarenceville whitewashed winless Clarkston, 42-0.

Quarterback Scott Roley and running back E. J. Levy were the big guns for Andover, each scoring two touchdowns.

TAKE LEAD

Milford took a 6-0 lead after a 70 yard drive with Tom Newcombe carrying from the two. Matt Partridge added the two point conversion to make it 8-0.

After a 55 yard march Levy scored for the Barons to make it 8-6 and in the third period he rambled 33 yards for a 12-8 lead.

Roley's two TD's came in the final stanza after Steve Rupp set one up with an interceptions.

Kettering's first win of the season came with the help of Bob Gratz's 104 yards rushing.

★ ★ ★

Tom Setter went 26 yards for the first Captain tally and Barry Baker kicked the first of three conversions for a 7-0 halftime lead.

THIRD PERIOD

Dan Pillow went 28 yards and Paul Curry went one yard for the other third period touchdown.

In the 4th quarter Setter again went two yards and Pillow raced 38 yards for a 34-0 advantage.

West Bloomfield found easy going through the interior of the Northville line as the Lakers scored four of their five touchdowns in this manner.

★ ★ ★

Tke Lakers scored on their first two series, John Hugulet climaxing a drive from the 50 with a four yarder for the first one and Dave Carey going 11 yards for the second.

Cary again went four yards in the second period and Kim Woodruff swept around right end on a double reverse for a 10 yarder.

Northville got on the scoreboard with a five yard pass from Rich Adams to Terry Mills with two minutes left in the third quarter.

★ ★ ★

John Sopko, who had 129 yards rushing, closed out the Lakers' scoring with a fance 33 yards rushing, closed out the Lakers' scoring with a fancy 33 yard run up the middle in the final stanza with Randy BeVier running the conversion.

West Bloomfield had 414 yares rushing with Carey accounting for 108 along with Sopko's output.

★ ★ ★

Clarenceville had a 22-0 lead at halftime over Clarkston with Bob Weller scoring the first two touchdowns on 11 and five yard runs.

Oxford Bubble Bursts, 8-0

Avondale Stops Wildcats; Orion Outpoints Adams

The bubble burst for Oxford and dreams of an upset failed to come true for Rochester Adams in Oakland-A games last night.

★ ★ ★

Avondale ended Oxford's three game winning streak with an 8-0 triumph; Lake Orion defeated Adams, 30-18, and Rchester couldn't find the goal line in taking a 43-0 whipping from Lamphere.

Avondale and Oxford played an evenly matched game statistically, but Bob Mutter's touchdown with 3:57 left in the second period won the battle of the scoreboard.

Mutter went 15 yards after a 55 yard drive and he also ran for the conversion to account for the eight points.

FUMBLE ENDS DRIVE

After the kickoff, Oxford then drove to the Yellow Jackets three with a first down and just 1:25 left in the half.

A fumble ended the threat.

Lake Orion jumped off to a 16 point lead in the first period and added two more in the second quarter.

Jim Luebbert went one yard after a march following the opening kickoff.

An interceptions by Ray Rogers and a 15 yard return gave Lake Orion a 12-0 lead, but Adams retaliated with Mike Hall going from the four yard line after a 55 yard drive.

★ ★ ★

Roger Allison then went one yard in the final seconds of the first quarter.

Adams tallied late in the half with Flumerfelt going four yards, and then the Highlanders' Bill Lennox went 52 yards in the final period.

Lamphere's victory was its first.

Scoring in every period, Lamphere's Dave Raifleight scored on a two yard keeper and he passed 26 yards to Vic Monczynski for another.

PAINFUL GAME — Injured Oxford players Mike Dunn (left) and Jeff Nefty found last night's game doubly painful. They hobbled on crutches behind the bench as the Wildcats lost to Avondale.

Lions No. 1 Spot to Get Tough Test

CLEVELAND (AP)—Detroit's defense, rated No. 1 in National Football League statistics, gets a major test here Sunday from Rob Johnson, a former University of Michigan flash, and the rest of the Cleveland Brown offense.

Cleveland is leading the Century Division of the NFL's Eastern Conference with a 2-0 record, while the Lions are 1-1 in the Western Conference's Central Division.

"The real test is if we can be No. 1 next week," said Mike Lucci, Detroit's middle linebacker and a defensive standout. "I think Cleveland has a fine offense.

The Lions defense is first in least yardage yielded, in fewest passes completed against and in fewest touchdowns permitted. It is second in fewest points allowed.

★ ★ ★

Lucci, defensive cocaptain, is a former Brown, having come to Detroit in a roundabout trade involving Earl Morrall in 1964, and he told newsmen: "I want to win it."

"I live next door to Jim Houston of the Browns in the off-season, and I've rented my house for the season to Bill Nelson."

Nelson, at quarterback, will be a primary target Sunday for Lucci and Alex Karras.

★ ★ ★

And Nelson has threatened "to burn the house down" if Lucci is too rough on him. On the other hand, Lucci has threatened "to raise the rent," if Nelson has too good a day passing.

Red Wings Gain 5-2 Triumph Over Barons

CLEVELAND (AP) — Carl Brewer's 40-foot slap shot on a power play in the third period pushed the Detroit Red Wings out of danger and into a 5-2 professional hockey exhibition victory over the Cleveland Barons here Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Brewer's shot made the score 4-2 as the American Hockey League Barons came from a 3-1 deficit at the end of the second period to within scoring range on Rey Comeau's 12-footer early in the third. Frank Mahovolich iced the game for Detroit of the National Hockey League with an unassisted goal at 15:39 of the third period.

Madison Whips Troy; Lahser Stuns Clawson

Troy and Clawson, a pair of Oakland A South Division hopefuls, took it on the chins last night.

Madison stopped Troy, 22-14, while Bloomfield Lahser shocked Clawson, 14-6.

The Eagles wasted little time in letting Troy know it was in for a rough night when Kenny King returned the opening kickoff 81 yards for the touchdown.

Madison held on to the 6-0 lead until early in the second stanza when Troy's Tom Machinak ripped through the Eagle's secondary on a 44 yard jaunt.

The run for the conversion failed and the teams had a 6-6 tie.

Madison roared right back and scored twice before halftime going 78 yards in 15 plays with Jeff Miller going the final four yards.

Halfback John Angelo was the sparkplug on the other touchdown, rambling 68 yards on the second play.

A one yard plunge by Mike Atkins and another two-yarder by Doug Wagner accounted for Lahser's two touchdowns.

The first Dryden touchdown came when Bill Weingartz recovered a fumble in the end zone. A few minutes later Greg Howard took a nine yead pass from Jack West to make the score read 12-0 at halftime.

A safety and a 15 yard run of a pass interception accounted for Dryden's final points in the third quarter.

Memphis scored in the final stanza when Steve Stelmack took a 40 yard pass from Tom Shephard.

Kimball's Showdown March Flattens Seaholm

Knights Roll, 40-6; Play Ferndale Next

'OVER HERE' — Rick Remstad takes a pitchout from Oxford quarterback Bill Biebuyck and starts around right end. Avondale's Dan Barker (71) finds himself looking at Oxford's Clarence Millen (33) and out of the play. Avondale won, 8-0.

Birmingham Seaholm's attempt to disrupt next week's big Southeast Michigan Association football showdown was brushed aside by Royal Oak Kimball, 40-6, last night.

The Knight's, fifth-ranked Class A team in the state, will meet Ferndale Friday with the winner expected to roll unmolested into the throne room.

Ferndale stayed unbeaten and tied for first with ROK by downing Hazel Park, 24-6. Southfield clipped Berkley, 30-16, in the other league game.

Kimball made short work of Seaholm while posting its fourth victory. The Knights scored three times in the first quarter. Quarterback Jim Cole hit Tom Brown, the county's top scorer, with scoring passes of 35 and 55 yards for the first two touchdowns.

OTHER TOUCHDOWNS

Rick Campbell, Craig Briggs, Mike Kilbourne and John Kerr scored Kimball's remaining touchdowns on runs of two, eight, one and 67 yards.

Seaholm's lone touchdown came late in the fourth period following the recovery of a Kimball fumble on the Knight's 22 yard line.

The Maples drove down to the 14 yard line where quarterback Rick Bach connected with a pass to Joe Sansonetti for the score.

* * *

Southfield's Chuck Petrillo led his teammates to their first win in league competition.

Petrillo turned a stray Berkley pass into an interception and ran it back 80 yards to break the ice and give Southfield first scoring honors in the second quarter.

Petrillo clicked with Dave Hoffman for the conversion pass to put the Bluejays in front, 8-0.

Berkley retaliated in the next series by driving 55 yards in 10 plays with Scott Pyykkonen hitting end Jim Karshner on a 13-yard pass for the touchdown.

Glen Downie's successful run for the PAT tied the game as the first half ended.

Petrillo scored again early in the fourth period when he plowed over from the five-yard line.

Dave Hoffman flipped a 30-yard pass to Bob Muiter in the end zone to finish out Southfield's scoring.

The Bears roared back in the closing minutes of the game as Steve Rawlik shot through right guard and galloped 12 yards for the TD.

Key Games for Parochials

With the grid season into its fourth week of play, competition among the local catholic prep schools is building up as teams battle it out for top positions in their leagues.

Tonight, the Northwest Parochial league will have only one game, but it should prove to be a dandy.

* * *

Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, which was riding a two game winning streak before being upended by Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows last week 16-6, will face Ferndale St. James which is currently tied with FOLS for the number one position, each with unblemished 3-0 records.

* * *

In the three wins St. James has posted, the Dales have rolled up an amazing 126 points while allowing just one opponent, Orchard Lake St. Mary, the privilege of scoring eight points.

Besides downing OLSM in their season opener 40-8, St. James has rolled past Royal Oak St. Mary, 40-0, and Utica St. Lawrence, 46-0.

WOLL meanwhile, has collected victories over Detroit St. Rita, 38-0, and Hamtramack St. Florian, 62-0.

SUNDAY GAMES

Tomorrow afternoon at Wisner Stadium, Pontiac Catholic will be seeking its second victory since joining the first division's A-West bracket by hosting St. Francis Cabrini.

Cabrini will bring a 2-1 record with it including wins over Holy Redeemer, 20-6 and Bishop Borgess, 26-0, and a 9-0 loss at the hands of Benedictine.

The Titans dropped their opening game to Benedictine, 22-3, bounced back and dumped East Catholic, 14-6, and then fell last week to Aquinas, 29-8.

* * *

Also tomorrow afternoon, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows and Orchard Lake St. Mary, each riding two-game winning streaks, will clash at Orchard Lake.

FOLS will be out to keep its winning streak and first place position in the Northwest Parochial league intact.

Birmingham Brother Rice, which shares the lead in the first division's central league with Notre Dame, will invade Catholic Central in a game which should provide a lot of action.

Notre Dame and Brother Rice have 3-0 records while Catholic Central is with a 2-1.

Utica St. Lawrence (1-2) will take on last place Detroit St. Rita, (0-3).

* * *

St. Lawrence powdered St. Florian in the season opener, 20-6, and then was tripped up by FOLS 48-12 and St. James, 46-0.

* * *

St. Rita meanwhile, has been scorched by Waterford Our Lady 38-0, Orchard Lake St. Mary, 28-6 and Royal Oak St. Mary's 56-26.

Highland Lakes Winning Streak Ends at Four

Highland Lakes had its winning streak snapped at four by losing a cross country meet to Flint Community College, 18-40 yesterday.

It was a quadrangular and Alpena finished third with Jackson CC taking fourth.

Gary Day of Flint was the individual winner with 22:0.8.

John Nadolni was Highland Lakes' top runner, finishing fourth.

Raiders Whip Groves

N. Farmington Rolls

Powerful North Farmington took awhile to get warmed up last night and then rolled past Birmingham Groves, 30-0, in a Northwest Suburban League football game.

* * *

The Raiders were held scoreless in the first quarter, but struck for 16 points in the second period and netted one touchdown in each of the last two quarters to chalk up their fourth straight win.

* * *

North Farmington, ranked No. 4 in state Class A, is 2-0 in league play. Groves lost No. 4 without a win and is 0-2 in the NWSL.

* * *

Kevin McConeghy started the scoring for North Farmington with a 37-yard jaunt. Mike Gow ran the two-point conversion and then chalked eight more points before the half on a 16-yard TD run and sprint for the conversion.

SHORT PLUNGE

Steve White bucked over from the one in the third quarter and Keith Heavenridge tallied the final touchdown on a 15-yard pass from quarterback Bob Hughes. Gow again ran the conversion.

Groves made two potential scoring thrusts, but both ran out of steam.

OAK PARK FALLS

In another league trouncing, Thurston walloped Oak Park, 36-0 as Craig Mutchday scored four touchdowns on one, 12 and 40 yard runs, and then on a 25 yard interception.

* * *

Larry Marshall scored the other TD on a pass from Ron Barringer which went 43 yards.

Mutchday now has 12 touchdowns in four games and his running accounted for 105 yards against Groves.

Mott Evens Grid Record in Win Over Dearborn

Waterford Mott evened its record at 2-2 last night by edging past visiting Dearborn, 16-12.

Dearborn, trying to throw off a tight Mott defense, scored on the fourth play from scrimmage following the opening kickoff.

Dearborn, aided by Jack Lorente's 54 yard ramble on the previous play, charged down to Mott's five yard line where he bulled his way across the goal line.

Mott then drove 60 yards in nine plays with Jerry McNair covering the final two yards to even the game, 6-6. McNair's conversion pass to Randy Cooper put Mott in front 8-6.

SCORES AGAIN

McNair again scored for Mott, this time in the second period after forcing Dearborn to give up the ball on downs on its 30 yard line.

Mott drove to Dearborn's one where McNair crashed through while Terry Ruffato followed with the conversion run giving Waterford a 16-6 halftime lead.

Both teams played tight defenses throughout the second half until Dearborn picked up its only other touchdown late in the fourth quarter.

Following a bad punt, Dearborn took over possession of the ball on the Mott 25 and drove in to score with Brian Walsh going the final two yards.

MIAMI (AP) — Vince Opalsky led Miami's punishment of North Carolina State on the ground Friday night and Jim Huff's three field goals provided the cushion in a 23-13 victory at the Orange Bowl.

Opalsky, a 207-pound senior from McKeesport, Pa., crushed the muscular Wolfpack defense for 120 yards in 26 carries as Miami evened its record at 1-1.

Huff booted field goals of 32, 29 and 37 yards as the Hurricanes overcame a shocking NC State passing attack that had Miami in a 13-10 hole at halftime.

Lew Pytel, who went most of the way for Miami at quarterback, suffered an interception by linebacker Pete Bailey at the Miami 45 late in the first half. Charron made the break pay off with a 40-yard field goal 33 seconds from halftime to give the Wolfpack a 13-10 lead.

Western Harriers Romp to Victory

Walled Lake Western's cross country team swept the first seven places yesterday to beat Brighton, 15-50, and even its record at 3-3.

Steve Floto was first in 10:37 followed by Tim Stoddard, Jim Cook, Dave Lesnek and Doug Floto. Only the top five runners from each school figure in the scoring.

Auburn Hills' Harriers Win

Auburn Hills' cross country team had to borrow a couple basketball players for its meet with Highland Park JC and the "steal" paid off.

* * *

Auburn defeated Highland, 25-31, as Andy Libby set a school and course record in 23:15. Cage Lawrence Carter helped the win with a 4th place finish.

Holly Blanked

Lapeer scored touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters last night to defeat Holly, 16-0, in a Metro League football game at Holly.

Vikings, Packers Clash, Crucial Game on NFL Card

AP Wirephoto

Full Schedule on Tap for Both Pro Leagues

By the Associated Press

There will be a college graduates football game Sunday at the University of Minnesota's Memorial Stadium between two groups of men—some balding, some starting to slow up, but all big, smart and tough—known as the Green Bay Packers and the Minnesota Vikings.

The key game in the National Football League's Central Division will get its college atmosphere because the Baltimore Orioles and Minnesota Twins have an American League baseball playoff game Monday at Metropolitan Stadium—and the Packers and Vikings would tear up the field.

So, the Packers and Vikings will try to tear up each other at Memorial Stadium as Green Bay shoots for its third straight victory and Minnesota attempts to tie the Pack for first place by making its record 2-1.

CHANGE SITES

The Baltimore Colts, 0-2, and the Atlanta Falcons, 1-1, also will have to change playing sites because of a National League baseball playoff between the New York Mets and the Atlanta Braves Sunday at Atlanta Stadium. The Colts and Falcons will play at Georgia Tech's Grant Field.

In other NFL action, Dallas, 2-0, is at Philadelphia, 1-1; New Orleans, 0-2, at Los Angeles, 2-0, Detroit, 1-1, at Cleveland, 2-0; St. Louis 1-1 at Pittsburgh, 1-1; Washington, 1-1 at San Francisco, 0-2, and Chicago, 0-2 at the New York Giants, 1-1.

* * *

Oakland is at Miami and Cincinnati at San Diego Saturday night while the New York Jets are at Boston, Buffalo at Houston and Kansas City at Denver Sunday in the American Football League.

The Green Bay—Minnesota game pits a Packers' defense that has allowed just seven points in two games and a Vikings' offense which rolled up 52 points in battering Baltimore.

Heading the Minnesota cast, with a light one on left wrist because of a hairline fracture, will be quarterback Joe kapp who completed 28 of 43 passes for 449 yards and an NFL record-tying seven touchdowns. Out to stop him will be a defense which features such stars as middle linebacker Ray Nitchke, end Willie Davis and back Herb Adderly.

FRONT FOUR

Minnesota's front four will try to put the pressure on quarterback Bart Starr and also contain the running of Travis Williams who picked up 97 yards in 18 carries in a 14-7 victory over San Francisco.

Baltimore will be trying to regroup after the 52-14 smashing by Minnestoa. A third straight loss, something that has not happened since 1962, would just about end Colts' chances to catch Los Angeles in the Coastal Division. Atlanta will have to protect quarterback Bob Berry better than it did in a 17-7 loss to Los Angeles in which he was trapped 10 times.

For Philadelphia to upset Dallas, the Eagles will have to stop the running of rookie Calvin Hill, who leads the league with 208 in two games, and establish a rushing game against a Cowboys defense that has allowed just 99 yards on the ground this season.

* * *

A tremendous pass rush and steady offense, guided by quarterback Roman Gabriel, figures to get Los Angeles past New Orleans.

Leroy Kelly, who missed last week's action with a pulled hamstring, might return to add strength to Cleveland's running game. The Browns, led by Reece Morrison and rookie Ron Johnson, still ground out 199 yards in a 27-23 victory over Washington and now will have to penetrate a Detroit defense that has allowed only one touchdown.

First Round Tied in Wright Tourney

SAN MARCOS, Calif. (AP)—Kathy Ahern and Carol Mann, both with five birdies and one bogey, shot first round 69s Friday to take the early lead in the $21,150 Mickey Wright Invitational golf tournament.

* * *

Miss Ahern, of Corpus Christie, Tex., shot a blistering back nine of 33 and came into the clubhouse first, four under par. Miss Mann, of Baltimore, was in shortly after with 35-34.

Ruth Jessen of Seattle was alone at 70.

U.S. Golfers 21 Strokes Ahead

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — The United States team went into a 21 stroke lead in the World Senior Amateur Golf Championship at St. Andrews Friday and made virtually certain of retaining the trophy.

The event ends Saturday. The American quartet will start the last day with an aggregate of 679, while their nearest rivals, the Canadians, have 700.

Thirteen countries are represented by teams of four. The championships are decided over four rounds, with the best three scores out of four in each round counting towards the total.

* * *

The Americans had a three-man aggregate of 223 for the third round their best score yet. David Goldman of Dallas, Tex., and Merrill L. Carlsmith of Hilo, Hawaii, each carded 74 while Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn., had 75. Goldman, who has been the cornerstone of the U.S. effort with previous round scores of 75 and 73, three-putted five greens.

UNUSUAL ROUND

Person, the team captain, had what he called "the most unusual round of my life." He had four birdies—including the 15th, where he sank a putt of 90 feet but also three-putted four times and had a three-over-par six at the short eighth.

The fourth man on the team, Robert C. Loufek of Moline, Ill., became the first American to touch 80—and he had to sink a 20-foot putt on the last green to do it.

* * *

Canada returned an aggregate of 233 on the third round, with Dr. George Bieglow scoring 76, Jack Hash 78 and Phil Farley 79.

* * *

The team leaders were: United States 679; Canada 700; Great Britain-Ireland 703; South Africa 711; German 718; France 726.

Taiwan Golfers Pull Ahead in World Cup Competition

SINGAPORE (AP) — Taiwan's surprising Hsu Chi San and Hsieh Yung Yo fired rounds of 69 and 70 Friday and pushed a stroke ahead of the favored Americans after 36 holes in the 17th World Cup golf competition.

"If we can continue to play steady with two or three birdies each day, I think we can win," said Hsieh, the 35-year-old Asian champion whose 66-70—136 also put him in the lead in the individual standings.

The two Nationalist Chinese had a combined two-day score of 277, breaking out of a tie with the two Texans representing the United States, who had 278.

* * *

Orville Moody, the 14-year-army veteran out of Killeen, Tex., who won the 1969 U.S. Open championship, and Lee Trevino, the voluble Mexican-American out of El Paso, each shot 70 over the 6,692-yard, par 71 Bukit course.

Miami Trims N. Carolina State, 23-13

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — Drivers battled rain, fog and a chill wind Friday as formal practice opened for the $206,000 U.S. Grand Prix. Because of the conditions, lap speeds as atrocious as the weather resulted.

It was the first of two four-hour practice periods leading up to Sunday's chase for top prize money of $50,000 over the 2.3-mile Watkins Glen course, a hilly, tear-shaped layout that combines long straights and fast bends in the countryside north of this village.

Belgium's Jackie Ickx, fresh from his victory in the Canadian Grand Prix two weeks ago, and Scotland's Jackie Stewart recorded the best practice times but neither was proud.

Ickx was clocked at 1 minute, 16.6 seconds in a Brabham-Ford or 108.09 MPH. Stewart, handling the Anglo-French Matra-Ford that has already carried him to five victories and the 1969 world driving title, posted 1:17.3 or 107.12 MPH.

Mets Face Braves

ATLANTA (AP) — It'll be as the two teams battle today and Sunday, before moving onto New York, for the right to meet the Baltimore-Minnesota playoff winner in the World Series scheduled to begin a week from today.

"Any manager with a Tom Seaver and a Jerry Koosman has a good chance to beat anybody," Manager Gill Hodges of the Mets explained as he sent his club through a light workout Friday. "But we've got to pitch around Aaron—he's the one who makes Atlanta go."

Aaron is Hank Aaron, the ageless Braves' right fielder who hit .300 during the regular season, and exploded for 44 homers that made him the key to the Braves' ability to terrorize enemy pitching and win the tight, five-team western Pennant struggle.

* * *

"Everything starts all over now," said Aaron before the game. "It's like a new season. Their pitching and our hitting. It should be an interesting series." Then, however, he added: "But it's only five games. Anything can happen."

What is known is that Seaver, the biggest winner in the majors this season with a 25-7 record, will be out on the mound for the Mets today against knuckleballer Niekro, 23-13.

What is anticipated is that game two will see the Mets follow with Koosman, 17-8, against Ron Reed, 18-10, and game three will match New York's Gary Gentry, 13-12, and Pat Jarvis of Atlanta, 13-11.

Twins Admit Win Record 'Impressive'

BALTIMORE (AP) — Outfielder Frank Robinson said Friday the Baltimore Orioles "shouldn't have to prove again" that they're the best team in the American League.

"We've already proved that over 162 games," Robinson said on the eve of the league's inaugural playoff to decide the World Series participant. "Now, we have to do it again in a five-game series."

"We're impressed by Baltimore's 109 wins," said manager Billy Martin of the Minnesota Twins, the Orioles' playoff opponents. "But that's history."

* * *

Martin, manager Earl Weaver of the Orioles, and Harmon Killebrew, Rod Carew and Jim Perry of the Twins participated in a news conference between workouts by the teams in Memorial Stadium.

PERRY STARTS

Perry, 20-6, will start for Minnesota against Mike Cuellar, 23-11, in the opener Saturday, 1 p.m., EDT, and Martin promised to "run against them quite a bit."

* * *

"Sometimes in a crucial game, teams change and become more conservative," Martin said, "but we're going to play our game and run. That could lead to errors or mental mistakes."

Weaver seemed more concerned about the Twins' hitting and power, rather than their base running.

"Minnesota is an explosive team," he said. "If you get three, four or five runs ahead, you try to get more before Killebrew hits the ball out."

Baltimore held an 8-4 edge over the Twins in regular season play, but Martin contends the Twins could have just as well won the series, 9-3.

"Baltimore's great defensive play made the difference," he said. "But we could have won about every game except the two one-hitters they pitched against us."

* * *

Cuellar hurled one of the one-hitters and the other was by Dave McNally, 20-7, who will start the second game Sunday against Dave Boswell, 20-12.

Both Cuellar and McNally are left-handers, against whom the Twins had only a 31-25 record this year.

Isaac Paces Wilkes Race

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — Bobby Isaac of Catawba set the pace Friday as NASCAR's three winningest drivers won the first three starting positions for Sunday's ninth annual Wilkes 400 Grand National stock car race.

Isaac set a Wilkes 400 qualifying record of 106.032 miles an hour in winning the pole position for the second straight year at the high-banked, five-eighths mile asphalt track.

His speed was just off the track record of 106.731 mph that he set prior to April's Gwyn Staley 400.

But No Major Epidemics Seen

2 Flu Bugs Threaten

ATLANTA (UPI) — Americans may be prey to two types of flu bugs this season government experts say, but there probably will be no major epidemic of any type of influenza.

The National Communicable Disease Center (NCDC) Thursday forecast "sporadic" cases of the A-2 Hong Kong flu and the Type-B virus.

* * *

The NCDC recommended flu vaccine shots for elderly persons and those in poor health. The recommended dose contains units of Hong Kong strain antigen and units of Type-B antigen for protection against both kinds of flu.

The NCDC, apparently for the first time, acknowledged the limited effectiveness of the vaccine, and said it "should be considered only for persons of any age with certain chronic debilitating conditions . . ."

NOT FOR ALL

It said that "until good protection is provided consistently by influenza vaccine, it is not recommended for healthy adults and children."

In this connection, the NCDC noted that preliminary data compiled from trials of the Hong Kong strain vaccine indicated that the vaccine was "considerably less effective than would have been desired."

* * *

The Hong Kong flu last winter reached epidemic proportions in 44 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. The NCDC said final figures had not been tabulated, but it estimated there were between 45,000 and 60,000 flu-related deaths in the winter of 1968-69.

The Hong Kong flu strain represented a major antigenic shift within the Asian flu type. It caught this country and the rest of the world without an effective vaccine.

RAPID SPREAD

From Hong Kong, where it was first discovered, it spread rapidly throughout Asia. Jetliner travelers brought it quickly to this country and it spread rapidly in leapfrog fashion to most of the 50 states.

Dr. Allen Brodsky of the Viral Disease Branch of NCDC noted that six states — Mississippi, Oklahoma, Texas, Wisconsin, Nebraska, and Hawaii — reported only regional or isolated Hong Kong flu outbreaks last winter. In addition, the state of Nebraska reported no laboratory evidence of this flu strain.

* * *

Based on past history of the flu bug, it would be these states that are likely to receive a visit from Hong Kong influenza this year, he said.

The Type-B virus struck mostly in the midwestern United States in the 1968-69 season. This means that other parts of the nation are more susceptible to Type-B in the winter of 1969-70, Brodsky added.

Cemetery Chapel Is Planned

Pontiac will soon own a new $225,000 chapel at its Ottawa Park Cemetery in Independence Township.

Bids from construction firms are being asked by the City Commission. The deadline is Oct. 22.

The new chapel is designed to handle all religions and types of burials, according to George Schipper, superintendent of cemeteries.

The cost will not come out of any tax money but will be assumed by users. Construction funds will be transferred from the perpetual care fund, then replaced by payments, Schipper said.

The Ottawa Park Cemetery is located on Dixie north of Andersonville Road, in the Waterford Hills area.

The city runs another cemetery, Oak Hill, on the near east side, but this is nearing capacity.

★ ★ ★

Cost of the new building has been placed at $175,000 and the remaining $50,000 will go for furnishings. The building will have 4,000 square feet with three separate chapels, one a cremation chapel. Design is by Denyes and Freeman Associates of Pontiac.

The building will be built in the shape of a large cross. Inside will be office facilities, a family room and restrooms, courtyards will surround the facility.

★ ★ ★

A new special feature will be the cremation facilities. This is the first known municipal facility of this type, Schipper said. Families will be able to place cremated remains in niches in the courtyards. Some 2,000 of these are provided for.

The cremation service is becoming more and more prevalent, Schipper explained.

Present chapel facilities are at Oak Hill, a small, 70-year-old stone building.

The new facility is expected to generate sufficient interest and revenue to be entirely self-sustaining providing the city's families with fine surroundings at a relatively low cost in their time of need, Schiffer said.

Memorial donations are now being accepted for the new building. These can take the form of family memorial pews, windows, or plaques, Schipper pointed out.

Chessman-Death Law Annulled

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court has ruled unconstitutional the state's "Little Lindbergh" kidnaping law, under which Caryl Chessman was executed almost a decade ago.

★ ★ ★

In a 6-1 decision, the high court Thursday held that a robber who forces his victim to move during the course of a holdup cannot be separately punished for kidnaping unless the movement "substantially increases the risk of harm."

The court thus reversed the kidnaping convictions of Gene Daniels and Archie Simmons, sentenced to death in the 1966 robbery and rape of three Los Angeles women because the victims were moved across a room or from one room to another during the crimes. The court said the two defendants still would be prosecuted "to the full extent of the law" on the other charges.

The decision thus overturned the court's 1951 decision in the Chessman case when it construed the words "kidnaps or carries away" in the state statute to mean the act of moving the victim any distance whatsoever.

CHESSMAN EXECUTED

It was nine years later after a hectic series of legal battles that Chessman, the notorious "red-light bandit" of Los Angeles, was executed as the world watched and debated both the case and the whole question of whether the state has the right to take a life.

Former Gov. Edmund G. Brown said Thursday that the court verdict "completely vindicated" him on the Chessman case.

Brown, a Democrat, stayed Chessman's execution while the legislature met and decided whether to abolish the death penalty. Lawmakers decided to retain it, and Chessman died in the death chamber at San Quentin.

Opening lead—♥4

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Optimism is a mighty fine thing and a bridge player should be an optimist most of the time, but occasionally a little pessimism will prove valuable.

North's two diamonds was the Jacoby transfer to hearts. With four hearts and a very strong no-trump, South jumped to three and North went right to the slam.

West opened the four of trumps and South noted that he had a pretty good play for the slam. Specifically, he could draw trumps and try a diamond finesse.

If that worked, he would home, if it failed, he would discard one of dummy's clubs on the third diamond and try to break the club suit 3-3. If that failed, also, he could still fall back on the spade finesse.

Pessimist South decided that West's trump lead indicated that he was afraid to lead away from honors in all side suits and that finesses were all going to lose. Then he worked out a play to guard against almost everything.

He drew trumps and played two rounds of clubs. Then he played ace-king and 10 of diamonds. West covered the 10 with with the queen and South discarded the last club from dummy.

★ ★ ★

West was end-played right then and there. He didn't have a club to lead. A spade lead would be right up to declarer's ace-queen and a diamond lead would allow a ruff and discard.

You, South, hold:
♠K876 ♥A2 ♦KQ4 ♣J853

What do you do now?

A—Bid one spade. Your partner may well have four spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do bid one spade and he raises you to two spades. What do you do now?

Answer Monday

The play would also have worked against a 3-3 club break, since a club lead would set up South's fourth club. Of course, it would have failed miserably if East held the diamond queen but pessimist South had decided that West was surely going to show up with that card.

Bolivia Plans TV for Its Poor Amid Austerity

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The revolutionary government of Bolivia is going to impose severe austerity, one of its leaders says, and at the same time make a start on a project to see that television reaches the poorer classes.

Education of the masses is a cornerstone of the regime that took over Sept. 26, Information Minister Alberto Bailey Gutierrez says, adding:

"We will bring in 40,000 to 50,000 television sets, free of duties."

Bolivian television is a fledgling project controlled by the government, and Bailey said it has been oriented to the privileged few who could afford sets.

FORMER EDITOR

Bailey, 39, is a former newspaper editor. He was the son of an American mining official and a Bolivian mother.

* * *

In an interview, he expressed hope that recent developments, including the South American trip by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, could "change the status of relations between the United States and Latin America."

* * *

"There is a new current in Latin America that is neither Socialist nor capitalist, and this should be understood by the country to the north," he observed.

* * *

Bolivia's new government, headed by Gen. Alfredo Ovando Candia, is attacking problems in a leftist-nationalist vein.

"It is possible some American companies could be nationalized," Bailey said, but he added there are no present plans for this.

"We are going to reorganize Bolivian society," he said. "Changes will be very profound, very rapid."

* * *

He indicated that the country's turbulent universities are among the first targets. Measures likely will include an end to traditional campus autonomy, in a step similar to that taken by the military regime in Peru.

Bailey said the case of International Petroleum Co., a Peruvian operation of Standard Oil (New Jersey), is completely different from that of the Gulf Oil subsidiary in Bolivia. He explained that IPC fields were old, but Gulf's holdings in Bolivia have only recently come into production and are rich in oil.

ECONOMIC POWER

Asserting that Gulf "leaves about $6 million a year in Bolivia and takes out $30 million," he said "They have economic power greater than Bolivia."

What Bolivia proposes to do eventually about Gulf has not been made clear.

* * *

The economy here is in desperate condition, Bailey said, so that "We couldn't come out of the economic problems the way things are."

Birds Sour Grape Growers of Two Nations

VIENNA (UPI) — On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, over the Austrian border, sending thousands of birds fleeing a private air force zooms low into Hungary.

On Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, the Hungarian air force strikes back. Warplanes buzz the frontier, and the birds scurry back to Austria.

* * *

This is the "Great Austro-Hungarian Wine War," and to vineyard owners on either side of the border it's a matter of deadly seriousness — so serious that both sides are using airplanes as scarecrows to drive off millions of grapeeating starlings.

"The damage done by these birds to the vintages on both sides is enormous and cannot be estimated," an Austrian winegrower explained. "To use airplanes against them is a matter of necessity."

NO BAD INTENTION'

An Austrian agricultural expert said, "There is no bad intention on either side. It's just that these birds live very close to the border area. Whenever we chase them away, they go to Hungary. The Hungarians react the next day and the birds come back here."

* * *

Starlings come to Austria every year by the millions and head straight for the reeds along the shores of Neusiedl Lake, a huge saltwater lake that straddles the Austro-Hungarian border. Unfortunately some of the best wine grapes grown in the two countries comes from this area.

* * *

"Our winegrowers pay for the airplanes to protect their vintages," an agricultural official said. "It's worth it."

Four single-engine Austrian Piper planes, owned by a former Austrian airlines captain named Helmut Lorenz, are on hand every day for starling-chasing duties.

FIRE FIRECRACKERS

Lorenz said his pilots chase the starlings up to an altitude of 2,500 feet, then fire away with blanks and firecrackers.

"Noise is still the best method, as in the old days when winegrowers used to chase them away by making some kind of mechanical noise on the ground," Lorenz said. "But we cover a much bigger area."

* * *

It is not known whether the Hungarians also used noise, but Lorenz said that "They use military planes when the number of starlings on their side gets too big."

* * *

Even though the Hungarians chase the starlings back the next day, the grape-growers should be satisfied, Lorenz said.

NO PEACE IN SIGHT

"It's worth every schilling they spend," he said. "Without the airplanes, the damage would be far bigger."

A cease-fire is not in sight.

"This year it's particularly bad," an Austrian pilot said. "Some days we have to chase them for eight hours to clear the vineyards. The next day, most of them are back.

Milliken Supports Study on Marijuana

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has given his stamp of approval for a presidential commission to investigate the physiological and psychological effects of marijuana.

"The efforts of a presidential commission could be of great value to the decision makers on both the national and state levels who must deal with this growing social problem," Milliken said in a telegram to Rep. Robert Kastenmeier of Wisconsin

GOP Panel on Issues Set

LANSING (AP) — A special committee of Michigan's Republican Party expects to present Gov. William G. Milliken with election-year recommendations for the party's platform on labor relations and job support.

Rep. Weldon Yeager, R-Detroit, said the proposals, covering some 20 topics, "hopefully" would go to Milliken and party chairman William McLaughlin by Jan. 1.

Culp Shocked That Writers Are Shocked by His Movie

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Bob Culp shocked this interviewer by declaring he was "appalled" that "some respected members of the Fourth Estate permitted themselves to be tricked by their premisconceptions" and therefore "missed the meaning" of the movie "Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice" in which he plays Natalie Wood's husband.

WILSON

He was referring to some critics who didn't like the film, especially the end when B, C, T and A are in bed together.

"I'm appalled," he repeated, "at these critics' lack of comprehension. A 12-year-old child could understand what took place and didn't take place but some critics didn't."

The 6-foot-1 TV star and writer—he was on "I Spy" for three years—said that some reviewers thought the picture endorsed marijuana, emotional infidelity and sexual freedom—whereas the movie actually showed that two married couples were decent humans who couldn't go through with their planned adventure.

* * *

I'm getting so steamed that this has become a cause with me," Culp lit a cigaret and took a soft drink.

* * *

"This will become known as the best comedy since World War II—but that's not very good company," he admitted.

Culp could say this without conceit for he only acted in it. He readily conceded that his thoughts were those of a man "who, I am told, is very difficult."

* * *

"I'm TOLD that. I'm also told I'm uncommunicative, have a bad temper, am terribly opinionated, arrogant, tend to withdraw and be silent a lot, that I'm possessive (which is true), that I have an imperfect understanding of money. That's what I'm told. I don't believe it for a second."

* * *

"That is what your wife (France Nuyen) says?"

"That's what they've all said!"

The Gourmet Adventures of Jaysons

There's no country like Mexico—the land of Mariachi music, spicy foods, and maize—maize has long been the food associated with Mexican Indian civilization. Walking through a small town, you can still hear the slap-slap-slap of Maize being shaped into tortillas. Mexican markets are open-air displays of ripe mangoes, papaya, and melons with pinto beans, rice, chicken and turkey. You can smell the aroma of plumbago and passmine and the spice of chili. Enjoy the taste of enchaladas and tacos. Mexican food is "terrifico"!

Bill Hits Car Engines

BOSTON (UPI) — A state senator who regards automobile exhausts as the chief cause of air pollution is sponsoring a bill which would forbid the sale of conventionally engined cars in Massachusetts after Jan. 1, 1975.

The bill, filed Thursday by Democratic Sen. John J. Moakley, also would require the installation of antipollution devices on all the cars in the state by Jan. 15, 1971.

Moakley charged that "internal combustion reciproacating engines" are primarily responsible for what he described as an "emergency" pollution situation.

★ ★ ★

"It is criminal that the auto industry has been permitted to jeopardize public health so flagrantly and wantonly," Moakley said. "It is insanity to let a few persons in Detroit poison the entire population."

Moakley said his bill gives the auto manufacturers sufficient time to develop an alternative to the engines used in most cars.

LANSING (AP)— James B. McMahon, 36, East Lansing, has been named manager of the State Highway Department construction audit section. He succeeds Howard Wilson, who transferred to the department of health.

Young Joy Rider Keeps Air Traffic on Ground

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A 17-year old youth tied up major air traffic at busy Stapleton International Airport for more than two hours Friday as he circled the field in a single-engine plane, Federal Aviation Administration officials said.

The youth's name was not made public when he landed safely at Jefferson County Airport.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said the plane was taken—apparently without permission—about 2:30 p.m. from Denver Beechcraft at Stapleton, where it is based. Its owner was listed as the Denver Tri-Pacer Airplane Club.

Officials said the red and white Cessna kept airliners grounded as the pilot circled Stapleton, appearing and disappearing on the control tower's radar screen.

COLLISION FEARED

Controllers said they feared a collision because the pilot did not respond to radio messages.

Emergency equipment was called, and one of the runways at Stapleton was foamed, but the plane disappeared. Later it was reported over Jefferson County Airport about 20 miles northwest of Denver.

FAA supervising inspector Bob Lewis said the pilot made three passes at the field before landing. Lewis said the plane was forced to land because of ice on the wings.

5 Youths Arrested Near City Schools

Five persons were arrested yesterday in a crackdown on loitering near Pontiac schools.

The strict enforcement was ordered following disturbances at the two city high schools last week.

★ ★ ★

Arrested at noon at Shirley and Sanford, near Eastern Junior High, for carrying concealed weapons were two youths, Larry J. Welsh, 20, and Gary R. Bush, 17, both of 645 Auburn. Police said Welsh was carrying a bayonet and Bush a knife.

★ ★ ★

Three others arrested near Northern High School were turned over to juvenile authorities.

His Arrest Didn't Score

NEW HARTFORD, N.Y. (UPI)—New York State Trooper R. T. Wolkowski, playing with the New Hartford softball team, was rounding third base and heading on home when he suddenly ran off the field, vaulted a fence and two cars, stopped a car driving from the parking area and arrested the woman driver.

Wolkowski said he saw the women's car strike a parked car when he rounded third.

The car she struck was Wolkowski's.

Authorities quoted the youth as saying he had an instrument pilot's license and a multiengine and commercial rating.

He was turned over to Jefferson County officers.

Smog Thwarts Address on Air Pollution

DETROIT (AP) — A federal official's scheduled speech in Detroit on air pollution was foiled Friday—by air pollution.

Dr. Roger O. Egeberg, assistant secretary of health, education and welfare for health and scientific affairs, was to speak at a women's club banquet. But his plane was unable to land at Metropolitan Airport because smoke and fog reduced visibility.

★ ★ ★

"We circled Detroit for an hour and 45 minutes," Egeberg said. "Finally the pilot said that because of smoke and fog, we couldn't land. He said there was a 100-foot ceiling and visibility was a quarter of a mile."

The commercial flight finally landed in Cleveland.

★ ★ ★

Metro Airport was closed for scattered periods Friday because of the smog. The airport's all-weather instrument runway has been closed for repairs for two weeks.

Redemption of Bonds Tops Sales Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Savings bond redemptions exceeded sales by $101 million last month, the 10th straight month more money was taken out of the bond program than was put in, the Treasury Department said today.

The Nixon administration said in July that E and H bonds, at 4.25 per cent interest, did not pay a high enough yield to be competitive with other savings plans. The Treasury asked Congress for permission to pay 5 per cent on the bonds, but legislation is still pending.

★ ★ ★

The September decline was about a quarter greater than the $72-million drop recorded in August. Sales last topped redemptions last November. Since then, a net $608 million has been withdrawn from bond holdings.

Tennyson Says:

How dull it is to pause,
To make an end.
To rust unburnished
Not to shine in use.

To wear out, than rust out,
ya!

If you are not in need of rustoleum — we present these excellent non-paying ads — as a retired or an ambitious younger man.

Motivation Is Key to Stopping Smoking

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Here is the sixth in a 14-part series on how to stop smoking and not gain weight. The Newspaper Enterprise Association series offers a double-pronged solution to the problem. It is written by Julius Fast, novelist, medical editor and mystery writer.)

By JULIUS FAST

Some smokers can give up cigarettes with relative ease.

"Relaxation" smokers have little or no trouble getting along without cigarettes. They have a ready substitute in after-dinner coffee, liquor or even a relaxing conversation after meals.

On the other hand, the "craving" smoker has an extremely difficult time giving up the habit.

He has built up a psychological need for cigarettes that combines with his own physical need and has locked in on the habit.

It often means his going through all sorts of hell before the habit is overcome.

DECISIVE FACTOR

How much the smoker wants to quit is a decisive factor in eventual success.

The "habit" smoker can quit easily if he really wants to.

The "crutch" smoker can quit, too, but any stress or strain will drive him back to the weed.

About 50 per cent of all smokers can quit if their motivation is strong enough.

What makes for strong motivation varies from smoker to smoker.

With some it's the death of a friend or member of their family from lung cancer or heart disease or emphysema.

With others, it's a simple realizaton of the facts: smoking is a disabling and deadly habit.

Whatever it may be, Dr. Morton L. Levi of Roswell Park Memorial Institute says, "Motivation, real motivation on the part of the person who wants to give up smoking, is the most important factor in his or her success.

"The most important elements in motivation are the health aspects. In other words, knowledge regarding the health aspects. This requires continuous reinforcement and continuous example."

Group sessions for would - be nonsmokers have been tried, usually along psychiatry-oriented lines.

Dr. Levi believes these are helpful, but in his practice he combines medication with the sessions.

On adepressing note he says, "Most people who give up smoking on their own, or with professional help, do not succeed the first time.

There are probably as many different systems as there are different brands of cigarettes.

Some advise tapering off, others suggest the guillotine approach, cut it all off at once. Some substitute other things, pipes, cigars, chewing gum . . . even pacifiers of a sort.

People in the News

By the Associated Press

Air Force Col. L. Gordon Cooper, one of America's seven original astronauts, has been given a desk job at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., but officials said he is still eligible for space flights.

COOPER

In his new job he will be responsible for developing the flight crew training for pilots who will fly the proposed shuttle—a reusable vehicle being developed to ferry men and supplies between the earth and orbiting space stations.

Cooper, 42, has made two space flights in 1963 and an eight-day earth orbit aboard Gemini 5 in 1965. He has indicated eagerness for a third flight.

Ohio Women Honor Astronaut's Mother

Stephen K. Armstrong, father of the first man on the moon, accepted last night, on behalf of his wife, Viola, a "Mother of the Year" award from the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's Clubs in Columbus, Ohio.

* * *

He was presented a silver platter at the banquet of the organization's annual fall conference.

Armstrong apologized for his wife's absence, explaining that she "has a baby-sitting job in Texas while her son and daughter-in-law tour the world."

Their son is astronaut Neil A. Armstrong, a native of Wapakoneta, where the Armstrongs still live. Armstrong is on a good-will tour abroad.

British TV Nets Ban Christine

Christine Keeler, the good-time girl whose exploits once nearly toppled a government, found herself barred from both British television networks yesterday.

CHRISTINE

ITV, Britain's only commercial network, barred her last night from a joint interview with Australian press magnate Rupert Murdoch, owner of the sensational newspaper News of the World, which is publishing her memoirs.

The noncommercial British Broadcasting Corp. canceled an interview with her Thursday night "for editorial reasons." It did not elaborate.

Miss Keeler, 27, gained prominence six years ago when she had an affair with John D. Profumo, war minister in Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's cabinet. The ensuing scandal nearly wrecked the government.

* * *

Profumo had since immersed himself in social work in a London slum, and many protests against publication of Miss Keeler's memoirs stem from concern for him.

He Gets in Fight on Size of 'Bite'

BELO HORIZONTE, Brazil (UPI) — Police brought assault charges yesterday against Sebastiao Francisco Torres, accused of beating up a beggar who complained of the size of his alms offering.

* * *

Torres said the beggar, Jose Bendito, said he could not accept less than 25 cents because of the rising cost of living.

Detroit Building Halt Threatened

DETROIT (UPI) — Leaders of an Ad Hoc Construction Coalition threatened yesterday to "halt all construction" in the area unless building trades unions and building contractors provide increased black employment in the construction industry.

* * *

Hank Rodgers, a coalition spokesman, said the group's demands would be presented to unions and contractors at a meeting next Thursday in Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh's office.

Franciscans Recruit With Hippie Theme

BOSTON (AP) — The first hippie, according to Rev. Bede Ferrara of the Franciscan Fathers, was St. Francis of Assisi.

Taking a cue from political campaigns, the balding friar returned to his native Boston Friday seeking recruits for vocations in the religious order.

* * *

He affixed bumper stickers to autos with willing owners, all combining the appeal of a religious vocation with the hippie ideal of love.

"Don't kick the habit—be a friar," says one. Another says, "Don't knock the frock."

HAD MESSAGE

"Franciscanism is Peoplism," says another. "Live and Love the Franciscan way."

* * *

"St. Francis was the first hippie. He was a man, he had a message," said Father Ferrara, who is stationed at Mt. Vernon, N.Y. "He didn't fight the establishment, he tore down its evils. He didn't just complain, he did something about it."

* * *

St. Francis founded the order in the 13th century, at the age of 27, after renouncing a life of wealth in favor of helping the poor.

Condominium Has Benefits

QUESTION: We will be selling our house soon and moving into a condominium apartment, which will cost us about the same as we hope to get for the house. If, things go as we expect, we will make a profit of several thousand dollars on the sale of the house.

We will have to pay a capital gains tax on that profit — or does the same rule apply to a condominium as it does to the purchase of another house?

* * *

ANSWER: First, let us explain for the benefit of some readers that, in a condominium apartment house, a family purchases its own living unit rather than buying stock in an apartment-owning organization, as it does in a co-operative apartment house.

* * *

As for your specific question, the owner of a condominium enjoys the same tax benefits as if he bought another house.

NO TAX

That is, he does not have to pay a tax on the profit from the sale of his house IF he buys another house or condominium within one year and IF the new purchase price equals or exceeds the sale price of the old house.

* * *

There was some question about this for quite a while. But the Internal Revenue Service recently issued a ruling clarifying it.

* * *

Incidentally, the owner of a condominium apartment has all the other tax advantages granted a home owner. He can deduct the interest and real estate taxes which he pays each year.

Detroit Man Killed in Turnpike Crash

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — A 36-year-old Detroit man was killed Friday in a two-car collision on the Ohio Turnpike about 10 miles west of Elyria.

* * *

The turnpike patrol identified the victim as Earl Edgell, driver of one of the cars.

The crash occurred in the eastbound lane of the turnpike where two-way traffic is being conducted while the westbound lane is being resurfaced.

Hunters in New York State killed 91,933 deer last year.

Shunning Student War Protests to Hurt Nixon—Percy

MAKE OVER PAGES

'Under No Circumstances Will I Be Affected By (The Protests)' — Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican senator says President Nixon may be haunted by his repudiation of student protests against the Vietnam war.

Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois said the statement undoubtedly will be used against the President time and again.

★ ★ ★

"As a matter of realism," Percy said yesterday, "any president would be affected by any movement as widespread of that movement is."

Nixon said Sept. 26 he expects continuing opposition to the war on campuses and elsewhere. ". . . We expect it," he said, "However, under no circumstances will I be affected by it."

SENATORS JOIN PROTESTS

At least three senators, Republican Charles E. Goodell of New York and Democrats George McGovern of South Dakota and Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, already have accepted campus engagements in support of an Oct. 15 war protest movement.

Student organizers are planning a moratorium on normal activity on that day, to turn instead to teach-ins and other protests aimed against the war.

Percy said he will be in Brussels Oct. 15, for a NATO meeting, but he offered a guarded endorsement of the protest, saying it probably would be an effective device.

"I certainly would never want to discourage any contribution to a constructive dialogue," he said.

CRITICISM MORATORIUM

Percy also termed impractical the proposal of Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania for a 60-day moratorium on Vietnam policy criticism.

"The [illegible] authority [illegible] it hasn't been accepted," Percy said.

★ ★ ★

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., No. 2 Democrat on the foreign relations committee, said the pressures being aimed at Nixon "are not completely devoid of politics.

"The conduct of a war, just like the conduct of peace negotiations, cannot be handled on the floor of the U.S. Senate nor in the halls of the House of Representatives," Sparkman said.

Percy proposed that the United States [illegible] in South Vietnam, and end bombing missions there, "as long as the enemy takes no advantage of the situation."

He said such a peace initiative would be in line with Nixon's effort to reduce the level of combat and prod Communist negotiators to action in the stalled peace talks.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know any better way to get casualties down than to stop as much of the fighting as we possibly can," Percy said.

Military Funds OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a $21.35-billion military spending package, including President Nixon's Safeguard ABM system, after one of the bitterest public fights of the year.

The bill — slightly more expensive than when passed by the Senate — received 311 to 44 approval in the House last night after a debate marked by shouting matches, charges of open vote maneuvering and claims by spending critics they were muzzled.

★ ★ ★

It gives Nixon the go-ahead to deploy his version of the antiballistic missile system, leaves intact $481 million for 23 more of the controversial C5A supercargo planes and contains $1 billion more for ships than the administration asked.

Efforts by critics of military spending to cut those and other projects totaling $2.2 billion were defeated during the week-long House consideration of the measure.

HOUSE-SENATE PANEL

The bill now goes to a House-Senate conference committee in which differences between versions passed by each chamber will be worked out.

Occasional angry exchanges between supporters and critics of military spending Wednesday and Thursday became the dominant feature of heated debate yesterday.

Critics claimed they were being run over roughshod when debate on the advanced manned strategic bomber was cut off by voice vote after only six minutes.

They protested again when debate was limited to 47 seconds per speaker on a proposal to cut $136 million from three bomber defense projects.

'DISTORTING FACTS'

Armed services committee chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., accused critics in general of distorting facts and accused Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif., of "heaping abuse" on the chairman, other committee members and the committee staff.

Leggett had said military spending has risen $10 billion a year since Rivers became chairman compared to $1.4 billion before and that the committee staff echoes Rivers' views at the expense of dissidents.

★ ★ ★

The final dispute came before a 270-93 roll-call vote supporting Nixon's safeguard system.

Critics accused the Republican leadership of trying to maneuver the vote into an overwhelming show of support by insisting the vote be on elimination of all Safeguard funds, not just its deployment money.

Clarkston Schools Sued; Talks Resume

Negotiations resumed late yesterday in the Clarkston school dispute between the school board and the district's teachers.

Meanwhile, Pontiac attorney Wallace McClay filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday afternoon against the school board and the Clarkston Education Association (CEA).

There was no report this morning on how long talks were held yesterday or their outcome.

Filed in behalf of James F. Peters, the father of five school-age children, the suit asks that "the court order the school board and CEA to meet and bargain in good faith until differences are settled."

Peters said this morning he was happy to hear talks had resumed. In reference to his suit, "I thought it was better that they (the board and the union) get mad at me before they got mad at each other."

Peters of 3723 Maiden Lane, Waterford Township is a Clarkston School District resident. McClay said Peters is representing other parents in the Clarkston district in the "class action" suit.

A hearing on the injunction action is scheduled for 9 a.m. Monday before Judge William R. Beasley in Circuit Court.

Sun Will Brighten Weather Picture

★ ★ ★

Probabilities of precipitation are 5 per cent today, near zero tonight and 5 per cent tomorrow.

Nixon Pressing Haynsworth OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has committed himself to a showdown vote on his Supreme Court nominee even though he so far lacks a possibly essential ingredient to victory—open support of his own Senate leaders.

Both Republican leader Hugh Scott and GOP Whip Robert P. Griffin refused to take sides yesterday as Nixon began to shift the full weight of his prestige into blunting criticism of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth.

Scott said he still would vote in the Senate Judiciary Committee to report the nomination to the floor but that he could not predict what the Senate—or even he—would do then.

Scott even added a note of faint hostility. He said he agreed with Democratic leader Mike Mansfield that Haynsworth may have shown questionable judgment in ruling while a federal judge on two cases involving companies he was financially involved with.

NIXON'S LETTER

Scott also left it up to another Republican member of the judiciary committee to release a letter from Nixon that capped a day of steadily increased White House pressure and mounting counterdemands from Democrats and Republicans that Nixon withdraw the nomination.

In a letter to Scott, Nixon said there was nothing in Haynsworth's record to cast doubt on his integrity or to fault his position on civil rights or labor issues.

"In order that there be no misunderstanding on the part of anyone," wrote Nixon, who is spending the weekend at Key Biscayne, Fla., "I send this letter to confirm that I steadfastly support this nomination and earnestly hope and trust that the Senate Judiciary Committee will proceed with dispatch to approve the nomination."

Latest Ouster by the AFL-CIO Heats Up Feud

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The battle between labor leaders George Meany and Walter Reuther has escalated with the expulsion from the AFL-CIO of the International Chemical Workers Union.

The 1,000 delegates at the AFL-CIO convention, representing some 13 million workers, voted overwhelmingly yesterday to oust the chemical workers.

The 29-man AFL-CIO executive council, headed by labor federation President Meany, had unanimously recommended the action against the 110,000-member union for joining a "hostile" labor group, the Reuther-sponsored Alliance for Labor Action.

MEANY

REUTHER

The AFL-CIO charged the alliance with raiding AFL-CIO unions.

UAW-TEAMSTERS UNION

Reuther pulled his Auto Workers Union out of the AFL-CIO last year after charging Meany with stagnant leadership and joined acting president Frank Fitzsimmons of the Teamsters Union in creating the alliance.

The expulsion was the first such action since the AFL-CIO kicked out the Teamsters and two smaller unions on corruption charges 12 years ago.

Chemical Workers President Thomas E. Boyle protested: "We have done nothing wrong."

Nixon Reportedly Contacting Hanoi

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit newspaper said today the Nixon administration has made secret contacts with the new North Vietnamese government in efforts to seek a negotiated settlement of the Vietnamese war.

One source—who was not identified—was quoted as saying the contacts were directly related to the administration's request for a moratorium on criticism of President Nixon's Vietnam policies.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper, in a story from Washington by James McCartney, said the secret contacts were made to find out whether the present officials might be more favorably inclined to seek an end to the war than the late North Vietnamese leader Ho Chi Minh.

Saying the site of the talks was not publicly known, the report said apparently it was not Paris, where formal peace talks are under way.

★ ★ ★

The Nixon administration has not publicized the contacts, possibly because of their tentative, probing nature, the paper reported.

It said word has been circulated quietly in some high circles in Washington that "something is happening" involving the Vietnam conflict.

Congressmen Seek to Bar Antitrust Suit Settlement

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Forty-six congressmen have asked a federal judge to keep the Nixon administration from settling out of court an antitrust suit against the nation's largest auto makers.

In a petition yesterday to U.S. District Court Judge Jesse W. Curtis, the 44 Democrats and two Republicans asked that the auto manufacturers be tried on charges of "conspiracy in restraint of trade and commerce in motor vehicle air pollution control equipment."

★ ★ ★

The judge set a hearing on the petition for Oct. 28.

The charges were brought in a lawsuit last Jan. 10 by then Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, who accused General Motors, Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp. of conspiring for the past 15 years to delay installing antismog devices on cars.

AGREED TO SETTLE

On Sept. 11 the Justice Department agreed to settle the suit in return for assurances from the auto makers and the Automobile Manufacturers Association that they will develop antismog devices competitively and refrain from deciding among themselves when the devices will be installed.

The congressmen contend the settlement "is not in the best interests of the people."

"It will deprive private litigants of the opportunity to take advantage of such facts and judgment which might have been proved and obtained by the government," the congressmen said.

If the judge accepts the settlement, the lawmakers said, it should be rewritten to obligate the defendants "to admit the allegations in the government complaint" so private litigants can use the admission as evidence.

ONLY 1 STATE CONGRESSMAN

Only one Michigan congressman — Democrat John Conyers of Detroit — was among the signers of the petition.

Also seeking to intervene in the case were the United Auto Workers, the American Civil Liberties Union and several cities, counties and individuals.

"The concern of the American people over air pollution requires an open trial," said the UAW.

Troy Apartment Fire Injures 2

Two women were injured early today when a fire swept four second-story units in the Somerset Park apartment complex in Troy.

Doris Hahnke, 29, suffered first- and second-degree burns and smoke inhalation. She is listed in fair condition by officials at William Beaumont Hospital.

Treated and released from the hospital was Louise Marsik, 27, who suffered a fractured wrist bone when she jumped from her second-story apartment.

Troy Fire Chief Lauren Ford said the fire apparently started in the bedroom of apartment 201 at 1940 Gulfview about 2:50 a.m. and spread into three other apartments of an eight-unit building.

Two apartments were gutted and extensive damage was done to the other two, he added.

Ford said the fire was brought under control after about 45 minutes and completely extinguished after three hours.

Fire officials have not yet determined the cause of the blaze or placed a dollar value on the damage which they termed extensive.
