Good Weather Expected to Bring Out Sizable Vote in Birmingham's Election

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — Clear skies and predicted warmer temperatures are being counted on to draw a good segment of the city's 11,744 registered voters out today.

They face a slate of nine candidates seeking three posts on the City Commission, plus three questions.

The three questions on the ballot are:

- 1 — Whether the city charter should be amended to provide more adequate benefits for city employees and their dependents, under the city retirement system.
- 2 — Whether a 45-acre tract of land known as the "Porrill Property" should be annexed to the city. The land lies within the city limits, but is in Troy Township politically. A special election is being held in Troy Township on this question.
- 3 — Whether the city should issue $225,000 in general obligation bonds to build two new fire stations, one on each side of the city.

The nine candidates seeking three three-year seats on the City Commission are James C. Allen, incumbent; James Conzen, Gilbert C. Goode Jr., Harry J. McGowan Jr., George W. Mullin, Robert E. Navin, Robert S. Owen, William E. Roberts and Harry D. Wise Jr.

Unopposed for three-year terms on the Library Board are Harry Allen and Josephine Shinnick. There is no candidate for constable. Polls close at 8 p. m.

State Medics Shy From Polio Vaccine

made of dead polio virus and dead virus cannot cause polio.

Each batch is given triple tests, including injections into monkeys, separately by the manufacturer, the Public Health Service and Dr. Salk's laboratory at the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. L. Fernald Foster of Bay City, secretary of the society, said the society was informing its county medical groups that it can not recommend the vaccine "until we have further assurance of its safety and that it will not in any way damage our children in the immediate or foreseeable future."

Dr. Foster said the society is "greatly apprehensive" of methods used to kill poliovirus in the vaccine, fearing that it may sensitize children to polio rather than immunize them against it.

He said that neither the society nor the state health commissioner has been able to obtain satisfactory information on the vaccine from the national institutes of health of the U. S. Public Health Service.

The society raised these questions:

- "What responsible authorities have certified or will certify the safety of the use of the vaccine and the control substance?"
- "What reliable proof is available that the vaccine will not sensitize rather than immunize the children receiving it?"
- "Who will assume legal and moral responsibility for possible untoward results from use of the vaccine?"

The society, Dr. Foster said, is concerned over whether the kidney protein in the vaccine may damage the kidneys of children, whether the RH factor on monkey tissues will damage children and whether all batches of the vaccine will be free of the Brebner "B" virus which is fatal to humans.

The Michigan test, which must start by April 20 at the latest to be completed before the schools close in June, is scheduled to be made on school children of the first three grades whom parents give written approval.

Half the children would get the vaccine and half an ineffective solution. Later all the children would be checked to see if polio was reduced in those who had the vaccine.

Closing the books on its annual Roll Call Fund Drive, Community House officials have revealed the solicitation fell $1,000 short of its $45,000 goal to support the institution this year.

Drive director Mrs. Berrien Ketchum said that all mailings seeking funds for operation of the house were out, leaving only returning vacationists and as yet unfulfilled pledges to make up the deficit.

Mrs. Brooks Marshall, a member of the board of directors of the League of Women Voters for the past eight years, has resigned her position to become Oakland County ticket chairman for the women's division of the state finance committee of the Republican Party.

A timely talk on "Atomic Energy" will be heard by High Twelve Club members at their 6:30 dinner tonight in the Community House, with Robert H. Shannon as speaker.

Shannon, an engineer with United Engineers & Constructors of Philadelphia, is on loan to the Dow-Detroit Edison Nuclear Project.

New officers will be elected at a meeting of the Ushers Club of Holy Name Parish at 8 tonight in the school.

Assisted by the drama class and a chorus of 50 voices from Birmingham High School, the Women's Club will present a pantomime on "The Passion of Our Lord" at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Community House.

Clarke Oil Co. Reports Theft

$2,000 Is Stolen From Safe; Breakins Total 4 Over Weekend

A small safe containing $2,000 in cash and checks was stolen from the office of the Clarke Oil Co., 639 Pershing St., Saturday night as Pontiac Police reported four breakins over the weekend.

Police said thieves entered through an office window, broke into a large wall vault and removed the safe containing the money and checks.

Other entries reported were:

- Oliver Motor Sales at 210 Orchard Lake Ave., where thieves pried open the wall safe and rifled a cigarette machine Saturday night. Police said the burglars ignored a package containing $350 in the safe but took about $7 from the vending machine.
- The home of Miss Elsie Duprey, 74 E. Ypsilanti Ave., where burglars removed a 100-pound safe. The safe was found unopened on the sidewalk in front of the home.
- The B&E Body Shop at 154 Orchard Lake Ave., where nothing was reported missing. Thieves gained entry by breaking a rear door lock.

have further assurance of its safety."

Dr. Monroe, director of the Oakland County Health Department, said Oakland will go along with Dr. Heustis plea to 12 Michigan test counties to wait until the U. S. Health Service takes a stand on the vaccine, before halting plans.

"If we wait until everybody says for sure the vaccine is safe, then start making plans, it will be too late to test it this year," Dr. Monroe said. "We're going ahead with our plans—we can always cancel them if it turns out that it's not safe."

Mrs. Marshall pointed out that the whole purpose of testing is to find which batches of the vaccine are safe to send on. No vaccine will be released without a triple stamp of its safety—from Dr. Salk's laboratory, from the manufacturer and from the U. S. Health Service, she said.

No child will be given any of the serum or the inactive control liquid until his parents request that he take part in the test.

Half the children would get the vaccine, while the others would get an inactive solution.

Hotel Man Finds Strength for Problems in Prayer

By FRANK KRIDEL
New York City Hotel Owner-Manager

My wife and I were just opening the door to our hotel apartment when the special fire alarm installed there began to ring. One, two, three—one, two, three—a third alarm some place in New York City.

We stayed motionless and continued to count the bells to identify the box and location of the fire.

"See you later," I said, dashing a way. My wife mumbled something about dinner being on its way, but she is a good sport about these things. In fact, she often dashes off with me.

Why do I, a hotel man, have this special fire bell equipment? Because I am an honorary deputy fire chief here in New York. And how did I get started as a fire chaser? Well, the story began many years ago.

As a boy the neighborhood fire house was my club. Here I would spend my leisure hours listening to the firemen and following the great engines. As a young businessman I kept up those associations, and the firehouse became the focus of my friendships.

At 17, I started out on my own and got a job with a banking company at $15 a week. I had been with this company about seven years when the depression came.

Then my company began taking over hotels right and left. As their hotel representative, I found myself directly operating many of these hotels, including the Ambassador, Lincoln, Delmonico, Ritz Tower and others.

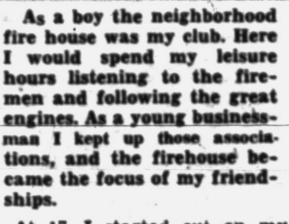

I learned a lot in those early years, not only about business and hotel management, but also about people from all walks of life. As well as catering to royalty and VIPs, we had to handle suicides, throw out opium smokers and spot the phonies. I became rather cynical about our society, as a whole, and decided that the life of a bachelor was for me.

With three such vital interests as hotels, fire departments and sports, I reasoned that my life was full. But I was soon to learn, through bitter disappointment, that something else was still missing. Events took a curious way to disclose this to me.

Of all the hotels I managed, the 1,400-room Lincoln was my favorite.

In 1938 the owners decided to liquidate their real estate holdings, and gave me first chance to buy the Lincoln at $400,000 over the mortgage. But I couldn't quite raise this amount. When the hotel was sold and the new owners entered, it broke my heart.

A deep and bitter disappointment forced a man to re-examine his beliefs and convictions. Some of mine underwent

FRANK KRIDEL

As a matter of fact, the very next day I took her over to meet Capt. Charles Kuehnhaas and the boys of Fire Truck 24. They fell for her too. Often during our courtship we chased fires together, winding up tired, clothes saturated with smoke, in some all-night coffee shop.

With my marriage to Bibs in 1943, and the close association with my minister, the missing elements in my life were falling into place.

When facing a tough decision or opposition, when concerned over the health and problems of a loved one, or when generally in need of spiritual guidance the three of us would get together for prayer and discussion.

One of the crucial decisions of our lives came in 1944—whether or not to buy the Hotels Martinique and Concourse Plaza in New York City. I had been managing both hotels since 1939, and they were now offered to me for purchase.

Together, my wife, my minister and I asked God's assurance that we were on the right track. Then we prayed for wisdom and strength to properly handle the new venture and responsibility.

Now I know that my former disappointment just conditioned me for a brighter and happier future for my goal was reached the hard way rather than being handed to me.

Running a hotel is an exciting job. You will meet and deal with all types of people. There are countless decisions to be made. The tension and activity can shake a man to pieces. It may get to me some day, but I don't think so, and here's why.

Every morning before starting the day, my wife and I sit in our living room and have a period of quiet meditation. During that period we pray together about all the problems of the day.

Before going to bed, no matter how late it is, I have learned first to relax my mind completely. Then, as I read some Scripture passages, my mind becomes saturated with their great ideas.

These devotions, and a regular attendance at church, keep my sense of serenity and provide me with a balance for living.

Dulles to Fight for Foreign Aid

Secretary to Present Administration's Views at Budget Hearing

WASHINGTON (U)—Secretary of State Dulles opens today the administration's fight to keep a foreign aid program alive, though cut down.

The secretary takes his case to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, an arm of a budget-slashing Congress growing visibly impatient with some European allies.

President Eisenhower has said he will request 3 billion dollars to continue foreign aid until mid-1955—a cut of a billion dollars from last year. The details may not reach Congress until next month.

Dulles testifies publicly on the broad range of overseas operations and elaborates with security information afterward in a closed session.

One of Dulles' major tasks may be to convince Congress to wait longer for France and Italy to ratify the European Defense Community.

Acting Chairman Vorys (R-Ohio) says the current daily hearings, lasting through April 15, are intended to give the committee a broad look at foreign affairs. It probably will consider actual foreign aid legislation next month.

In general, Congress is expected to support greater aid for India, China and the rest of Southeast Asia. Both the President and Dulles insist this area must be saved. But Rep. Gordon (D-Ill.) said Congress "is getting more impatient with European allies that don't do enough for themselves."

Scientist Sees Advantage in Having Colored Salt

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UP)—A University of Cincinnati professor wants table salt made in various colors.

Dr. Isay Balinkin, professor of experimental physics, points out that ordinary salt cannot be seen when put on some foods. He suggests blue salt for mashed potatoes, green salt for sliced tomatoes, and so on.

The change, he said, would make it easy for the housewife to know how many shakes of salt she had put on food.

New Machine Hastens Flower Grading Process

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP)—A Cornell University student has devised a machine to speed up the florist's grading of flowers.

Flowers are graded according to weight as special, fancy, extra, or first. The Society of American Florists uses the designations for carnations, chrysanthemums, daffodils, irises, snapdragons and stocks.

The machine, developed by Arthur Leach of Manchester, N. H., will grade 120 dozen flowers an hour. A scale is placed on a revolving turntable. Trips are set up along the turntable and they separate and dump flowers of the same weight in a pile.

Apples Sell in Alaska for 50 Cents Apiece

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (U)—Remember when selling apples was a symbol of the big depression?

They are a red-cheeked sign of prosperity recently in the Far North. They sold for 50 cents apiece.

Bob Rice flew a box of the fruit to the remote village of Adavik, in northwestern Canada, along with a cargo of machinery. He said the apples were snapped up at the premium price in an hour and a half.

Schools at Stake in Mississippi

Legislature Is Groping Toward Watered-Down Equalization Program

JACKSON, Miss. (U)—Mississippi's Legislature is groping today toward a watered-down program to equalize Negro and white schools, still fearful that the U. S. Supreme Court will abolish racial segregation.

The question in the 13-week-old legislative fight is how to maintain segregation, not whether to retain it.

Hovering over the conflict is the Supreme Court and its decision on five school segregation cases.

If the court bans segregation, a special legislative session looms. Mississippi's answer probably would be to abolish public schools and furnish tuition for private, segregated schools, in line with plans in Georgia and South Carolina. Resolutions to abolish schools are pending in both houses, but they do not go into details.

If the court upholds segregation under the "separate but equal" doctrine, Mississippi realizes it must lift its sub-par Negro schools to the level of white schools or face co-mingling of races "by federal force from federal courts," as Gov. Hugh White phrased it.

A solid group in strategic House committee posts blocked attempts to raise taxes to finance the sweeping equalization program, passed but still lacking money. School supporters now realize they must take less than they wanted.

The House finally approved a compromise program, scheduled to go into effect July 1 if passed by the Senate, where it faces action possibly today. Supporters predict a narrow victory in the Senate.

Under the compromise, construction—the major equalization item—would be delayed until after the first year of the plan, while teacher's salaries would be equalized and a start made toward equalizing transportation. A 50-million-dollar appropriation, with 34 million for the first year and more needed for the second, would finance it. The original program called for 86 million for two years.

Fisherman Rescues 8 From Drifting Floe

L'ANSE AU-Loup—A commercial fisherman Sunday beat the Coast Guard to the rescue of eight fishermen stranded on a floe that was heading into Lake Superior.

The Coast Guard was notified by worried families when the eight failed to return. They were fishing about 22 miles offshore from L'Anse when the wind began to carry their floe northward, from Keeweenaw Bay.

Joseph Kikorsky set out in his motor-powered fishing boat, located the men and brought them in. One was his brother John.

The others were Saul and George Overmark of Herman; Paul Harju of L'Anse and August Riittila, Forest Wilson, David de Lauter and Arthur Mattern, all of Ontonagon.

Waterford Wins in Speech Tests

Township High Students Take Four 'First's' in UM Contest at Farmington

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Waterford Township High School students won four of five possible first places in the second semester district speech contest sponsored by the University of Michigan Friday at Farmington High School. Students from Walled Lake, Farmington and Plymouth high schools were also entered.

First place winners for Waterford were Pat Lohff, Jerry Smith, Myles Watkins and Ira Gould.

Second places were won by Jeanne Shumck, Connie Jones and Jack Mitchell. A third place was won by Gloria Rose.

The four first place winners will represent Waterford in the regional contest to be scheduled in late May.

Students gave 10 minute speeches including humorous, interpretive and extemporaneous types, original oratory and rhetorical declamations. They were judged on suitability of selection, interpretation, delivery and choice of selection.

Voters Give Green Light to Romeo School Program

ROMEO — Romeo Community School District voters turned out in record numbers Saturday to cast their ballots in favor of an 18-room expansion program.

Fourteen hundred voted at three precincts in the district to culminate seven months of work by the board of education and administration to provide facilities to meet the needs of the rapidly growing school district.

On the first ballot 855 votes were cast in favor of raising eight mills to construct a 4-room addition and an 8-room addition to the South School in Romeo, a 4-room addition to the Washington School, and agricultural general shop opposite the high school and a bus repair depot.

Voting against the proposition were 535 voters.

The second ballot requested four mills for operation which was favored by an 864-535 vote.

Property owners voted 723 to 597 in favor of selling bonds to finance the expansion program which will cost an estimated $450,000.

Of the three precincts, the first, located in Romeo, favored the proposition by more than a two-to-one majority.

In the second precinct, Washington voters marked ballots in favor of the eight mill increase by a majority of only one vote. The bond sale proposal passed by two votes, with a more substantial majority on the mileage increase for operation.

Voters in precinct three, Davis, were more than three to one against the eight mill increase and 33 in favor.

The board had hired Dr. Gerald Boicourt, of Wayne University, to make a complete study of the area. It was his recommendation that 18 rooms be added to meet the immediate needs of the district.

The board received letters of approval for the expansion program from a majority of clubs and organizations in the district before making plans to be submitted to the voters.

Parents clubs and student organizations joined forces in an effort to insure a large turnout at the polls. High school students staged a pre-election parade Friday evening led by the Romeo High School band.

The election marked the first time in recent years that voters okayed an initial request from the board for additional facilities in the schools.

Hunting Ban Rule Dies in Committee

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Waterford Township won't be able to ban hunting next fall, Supervisor Lloyd Anderson disclosed today.

A proposal passed in January by the township board, which would have made hunting or firing of arms in the township punishable by a $100 fine or 90 days in jail or both, died in a state senate committee recently.

Anderson said a measure to ban hunting and firing of arms must be passed by the legislature before being presented to voters of the township.

'Poison-Proof' Your Dwelling for Child Safety

ATHENS, Ga. (INS) — "Poison-proof" homes are one way to cut the yearly toll of 15,000 children who die from accidental poisoning. University of Georgia health specialists explain that to "poison-proof" a home, an inventory of poisons should be taken and all bottles and boxes labeled and stored out of reach of inquisitive youngsters.

But, just in case, here is an antidote for poisoning:

"Two tablespoons of pulverized charcoal, 1 tablespoon of magnesium oxide and 1 tablespoon of tannic acid."

The specialists directed: "When needed, mix a heaping teaspoon of these powders in a little water and force the victim to drink it."

The bride, the former JoAnne Frazier, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Frazier of Ferndale, and the Paul E. Moros, of Edgefield drive are the bridegroom's parents.

For the 8 o'clock double-ring ceremony, the bride wore white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The long sleeves were pointed over the wrists, and pearls and paillettes ornamented the V-neckline. Tiers of tulle which fashioned the skirt fell into a train.

A matching lace cap held her illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses and freesia with white satin streamers.

In Wedgewood blue were the honor matron, Mrs. Fred Maynard of Ferndale, and the other attendants, Fay Garwood, Judy Trager, Mrs. Cal Landsmeyer and Mrs. Jerry DuBois.

John S. LaMonte was best man and ushers were Richard Guy, Robert Frazier, Mr. DuBois and David Zamek.

C. Lloyd Stait sang the wedding recital accompanied by Rodney Peterson.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. JoAnne attended Wayne University and Paul is a student at Michigan State College.

Song Writer Is Subject of Program

Hymns from the pen of Fanny Crosby, sightless song writer of the 19th Century, formed the program for the Wayside Gleaners Society of First Baptist Church for the Friday meeting.

Barnett Chapel of First Baptist Church was the meeting place.

Mrs. Nellie Monroe told of the circumstances leading to the writing of several hymns. Hymns were sung by Mrs. Elva Ashley, Mrs. Herbert Fleming, Mrs. George Bryan, Mrs. Mabel Wiser, Mrs. Howard Barnett and Mrs. T. N. Slosson.

One of the hymns, "Blessed Assurance," is the opening hymn at all services now being conducted in England by evangelist Billy Graham, according to Mrs. Monroe.

During the 95 years of Mrs. Crosby's life, she wrote more than 8,000 hymns and poems, said the speaker.

Mrs. Harry Newhouse based her devotional topic on songs of the Bible. The next meeting of the group will be a May breakfast on the 7th.

New Heels Let You Balance on a Dime

You'll be standing on a dime this summer and loving it! The dime-sized heel is the newest trend in footwear fashions introduced by Herman Delman in his spring collection for 1954.

Set just slightly forward under the heel of the foot, the heel curves from the top to a super-thin middle section no bigger than your little finger, and then widens to a dime-wide base. This unique attenuated shape gives both daytime leather suit shoes and delicate evening sandals an extremely graceful look.

Shoe back is also narrowed and fitted closely to the natural heel so that its contour is straighter and sleeker.

Grain Slows to Walk

CHICAGO (U) — After an early flurry in grain trading, the pace slowed to a walk on the board of trade today. Prices showed a mixture of ups and downs as compared with Friday's closing.

Scanty moisture reports from the southwestern winter wheat belt gave a little early strength to that market, but failure of predicted export business to materialize removed some buying incentive.

Corn fell off a little under the influence of a good weekend run of 340 cars of cash corn offered by the CCC at Baltimore was a further depressant.

Lard and some soybeans contracts followed the progressively higher hog market. May lard edged to a new seasonal high mark of $19.37. At $27.75 a hundred pounds, hogs hit a new peak going back to the summer of 1948.

Prices near the end of the first hour were on wheat 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May $2.20 1/4, corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May $1.53 1/4; oats unchanged to 1/4 lower, May 75 1/4, rye 1 cent lower to 1/4 higher, May $1.08 1/2, soybeans were 2 cents higher to 2 1/2 lower, May $3.61 1/4 and lard was 2 to 4 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $19.37.

Tobacco Up, Others Mixed

NEW YORK (U) — Tobacco was in demand today in early dealings in a stock market that showed a wide mixture of gains and losses.

The tobacco were up fractions to a little better than a point. They were firm Friday as well, after reports that the decline in cigarette sales had halted.

Aircrafts were mixed with Douglas up between 1 and 2 points and Boeing and United Aircraft down a fraction.

In the unchanged to higher class were the steels, motors, electrical equipment, oils, motion pictures, and utilities.

Anaconda and Kennecott Copper whose Chilean production has been cut, were lower, while other copper were steady.

The remainder of the market was steady to mixed with no severely depressed section in evidence.

Among higher stocks were General Motors, Allied Chemical, General Electric, American Tobacco, and Philip Morris. Lower were New York Central, United Air Lines, Goodrich, and Montgomery Ward.

Business Notes:

1st Quarter Cars to Be 1,247,000

Increasing Sales Pace Apparent; Used Autos Inventory Falls

New car sales during this year's first quarter are estimated by Ward's Automotive Reports to have reached 1,247,000.

"Impact of the industry's steadily improving sales pace since mid-January has become readily apparent," the agency said.

"Combined, the car makers have programmed $21,000 car completions for April, (March netted $20,000; February $43,235), and by all outward signs, don't anticipate at this time any market change in the $20,000 monthly rate through June, excepting perhaps a dip in May.

"Such planning, of course, is optimistically based upon continuation of monthly sales at the March rate through the second quarter. The optimism, significantly, comes despite a persisting high level of dealer new car inventories on an industry-wide basis, counted at the $50,000-unit range on March 21.

"The new car market undeniably is drawing much of its strength from the used car field. March used car sales at new car dealers stand to reach a five-month high, and equal or exceed the 700,000-plus retailed in March of last year.

"At the same time, used car inventories are falling and should by March 31 establish a five to six-month low."

A conference on "the return of competition to American business" will be held Saturday in the Rackham Auditorium at the University of Michigan. The meeting is the fifth annual Michigan Cost Conference, co-sponsored by the University's School of Business Administration and the Michigan chapter of the National Assn. of Cost Accountants.

Wendell B. Barnes, administrator of the Small Business Administration, said a new leaflet outlining ways a small company can determine its competitive standing may be obtained at the Detroit SBA branch, 620 Federal Building. The leaflet is called "Appraise Your Competitive Position to Improve Company Planning."
