Violent Storm Misses State; Strength Ebbs

Possible Tornadoes Fail to Materialize Along Southern Michigan

From AP and UP Dispatches
A giant storm front which peaked the nation's midsection with lethal tornadoes and thunderstorms, causing at least 11 deaths, this week-end passed harmlessly over Michigan.

Although the storm's strength appeared to be ebbing early today, it was still pouring rain and thunderstorms into the eastern and southern United States.

The Pontiac area, which collected more than one-half inch of rain over the week end, apparently has been the last of the downpour for the present. The forecast is for cloudy skies and cooler temperatures tonight and tomorrow.

While possible tornadoes along Michigan's southern border failed to materialize last night, a murderous twister ripped through three small communities in northern Alabama yesterday.

The tornadoes, causing property damage estimated at $50,000, killed an elderly couple, a three-year-old boy and his 10-year-old sister.

At least seven midwest traffic deaths were blamed on rain-slick highways or poor visibility.

Another tornado roared through the campus of Eastern Kentucky State College at Richmond, destroying a house and unroofing others. Winds gauged at 50 m.p.h. swept Wooster, Ohio.

A tornado passed over Lemont, Ill., without touching down.

Thunderstorms pelted the Carolinas with hailstones up to two inches in diameter at Charlotte, N. C., and four inches in diameter at Rock Hill, S. C.

The eastward movement of the storm center was expected to clear the skies in the midwest but only to make way for eastward moving weather now dampening the northern Rocky Mountains and Pacific Northwest.

At 8 a.m. the temperature in downtown Pontiac stood at 52 degrees, rising to 54 degrees at 1 p.m. Today's high is expected to be 54 to 58.

Accidents Fatal to 21 in Michigan

15 Persons Are Killed on Rain-Slicked Roads Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Twenty-one persons died in Michigan accidents over the weekend, 15 of them on highways slicked by rains.

One four-car smashup claimed three lives, and a couple died in a flaming collision of their automobile and a truck.

Drownings accounted for three deaths, farm accidents for two and a fall for one.

Traffic fatalities included: Edward Arnsch, 31, his wife, Genevieve, 30, and Michael Jankovic, 40, all of Detroit; Millard V. Vanperson, 59, and his wife, Mary, 35, of Lansing; La Vern O'Neil, 30, of Wayne; and Trinidad Huerta, 26, of Detroit.

Douglas W. Leach, 19, of Redford Township; Kenneth Lyle Bates, 26, of Grand Rapids; Charles Howard, 12, of Alanson; William G. Wolf, 31, of Holland; and James E. Duart Jr., 3, of Willow Run Village.

In other mishaps: Lorne Peake, 14, and Melvin Barret, 10, both of Trout Lake, were drowned. Another drowning victim was 2-year-old Gregory Jon McCaw of Crystal Falls.

Joseph Comay, 64, of Detroit, fell six stories to his death Saturday when his safety belt broke while he was washing windows.

Maurice Kaitzer, 55, of Van Buren County fell off his tractor and was crushed to death.

Saul Henderson, 82, Boyne City farmer, was killed early Sunday when his tractor overturned.

Red China Refuses Terms for U. S. Formosa Talks

BANDUNG, Indonesia (UP)—Communist China today rejected the American terms for a conference on the Formosan crisis and there were strong suggestions Peiping might use 11 imprisoned American fliers as a bargaining point.

Peiping radio announced the rejection and said the U. S. State Department's answer to Premier Chou En-lai's bid to sit down and discuss Formosa "put forward a series of unreasonable prerequisites for such negotiations."

It listed these as the participation of Chiang Kai-shek, the call for an immediate cease-fire in the Formosa Strait, the immediate release of "All American spies" and the acceptance of a United Nations Security Council invitation to discuss the New Zealand proposal on the Formosan issue.

But at the same time, Prime Minister Mohammed Ali of Pakistan said he thought Red China might release the 11 imprisoned American fliers if Peiping were convinced of the United States' sincerity to negotiate the Formosa crisis.

All hinted strongly he had made progress in convincing Chou to release the prisoners in the course of a long talk he had with the Red Premier.

Observers said Chou's reported willingness to discuss the release of the Americans was a strong indication the Communists hoped to use their imprisonment to win concessions on other points.

The flood of developments on the Formosa crisis made it more and more evident that the talks between the United States and Communist China might not come off.

Nationalist officials on Taipei said flatly they would not sit down with the Chinese Communists on any terms. The United States said it would not talk unless the Nationalists were present. And Peiping rejected all American proposals.

The Associated Press has a solemn obligation to provide news and information vital to intelligent decisions on public questions of enduring importance. That responsibility could not be discharged by superficial reporting, skirting controversial areas or dull, routine presentation. It would be a business as well as a professional folly to attempt it.

The Associated Press requires skillful, forthright, objective and fearless reporting. Such reporting can be accomplished only through intelligent and efficient utilization of competent staff and adequate resources. Only through high quality copy can we hope to interest the public, consistently and constructively, in keeping abreast of developments in today's changing and eventful world.

We believe the membership shares the board's conviction that the Associated Press has again met this challenge in the 12 months since our last meeting.

The news report was better than ever. The scope and depth of coverage increased. Memberships and subscriptions expanded all over the world.

On the big stories, the staff performed magnificently. These included the attempted assassinations by gunfire in the House of Representatives chamber, the "off-year" election in November, the Army-McCarthy hearings, the Supreme Court ban on school segregation in Soviet leadership including the resignation of Russian Premier Malenkov. Interpretation, background, and analysis by experienced writers played an important part in the dominance of Associated Press coverage.

There were many other stories on which AP coverage was outstanding, and repeatedly it was due in large measure to member newspapers and radio stations that had either supplied the facts, the photos or the ideas. Your directors are impressed with the very great increase in membership cooperation.

Our modern Associated Press represents a unique achievement in the creation of a world-wide cooperative enterprise. Its end product is the news of what happened in the world today. ## Ike Will Reveal Plans for First Surface A-Ship

Foreign Trade Program Main Subject of Talk Before AP Today

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower will announce plans today for history's first atomic-powered merchant ship.

Eisenhower plans to announce the project in a New York speech stressing the importance of his foreign trade program strengthening the free world economic ties.

The nuclear-propelled merchant ship will offer a dramatic illustration of the role atomic power will play in future international trade.

The only atomic-propelled vessel built thus far is the submarine Nautilus, which was recently assigned to the fleet.

The Navy also plans to build three other atomic submarines, but no nuclear-driven surface craft have been ordered as yet.

The Maritime Administration and the Atomic Energy Commission will oversee construction of the merchant ship.

The chief executive was to fly to New York this morning to deliver a major foreign policy speech hammering at the theme that increased world trade is vital to free world security.

He was scheduled to arrive at La Guardia Field at about 11 a.m. (EDT), following a takeoff from Washington at about 9:45. He planned to return to Washington immediately after his scheduled 2 p.m. luncheon address at the annual Associated Press meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The President may also have something to say about Communist China's weekend overtures on a conference to ease tension in the Formosa Strait.

The administration bill, which would permit gradual tariff reductions over a three-year period, will face a withering fire of special interest amendments when it reaches the Senate floor. The Finance Committee expects to have the measure ready for debate later this week.

What Eisenhower has to say today, and the sting with which he says it, could swing the balance in favor of the administration in what shapes up as its toughest fight of the new Congress.

Law Voids Opinions on Project Financing

A bill has been signed into law voiding two attorney general's opinions which threatened to jump Pontiac's share in financing the planned Telegraph Rd.-Orchard Lake Ave. grade separation from $125,000 to $250,000.

The two opinions would have forced the city to stand costs of replacing sidewalks removed for widening plus requiring Pontiac and the State Highway Department to divide cost of the project before, instead of after, the deduction of federal aid.

The new measure, entitled the Dykstra Act, restores the old procedure of including sidewalk costs and deducting federal aid first, then splitting the remainder between state and city.

Homes Will Feel A-Blast in Tomorrow's Big Test

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev. (AP)—Final touches were put on this tiny town today as more than 5,200 persons prepared for history's most complex atomic test.

Workmen completed furnishing the four homes on Doomsday Drive, the avenue only 4,700 feet away—6 to 10 blocks in most towns—from tomorrow's atomic blast tower.

One of the biggest detonations unleashed at Yucca Flat—a device with the wallop of 40,000 tons of TNT—will be used for a variety of eye-opening experiments.

Most important, this test will show what blast, radiation and fiery heat, can do to the kind of home you live in. The homes on Doomsday Drive will be hit by all three; some farther from the blast by only one or two. Some should escape entirely.

The spacing is planned, for in any real atomic attack it represents part of your chance for survival. Secondly, it's designed to learn how best to protect homes and lives.

Most of the 10 homes under test are more or less completely furnished. Families of clothed mannequins are sitting in living rooms, standing near windows or lying in bed. Some are taking refuge in basement shelters.

Many homes contain complete food stocks.

Allied Diplomats Slated to Meet May 8 in Paris

Hope Conference With Reds Can Be Held as Soon as Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western Big Three foreign ministers will meet in Paris May 8 "to discuss concrete plans for holding a four-power conference with the Soviet government."

The State Department in announcing this today said the United States, Britain and France "earnestly hope that a four-power conference can meet as soon as possible."

The brief announcement did not say at what level it hoped the meeting with Russia could be held. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have said in the past that a four-power foreign ministers conference should precede any meetings of heads of state.

In preparation for the May 8 Paris meeting, American, British and French technical experts will meet in London Wednesday to make what the State Department called "a preliminary study" of the problems to be discussed by the foreign ministers.

The State Department said that "in accordance with the usual practice" the three Western governments will discuss the possible Big Four conference with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and representatives of other Atlantic Pact governments.

The governments of France, the United Kingdom and the United States, the announcement said, "have consistently given proof of their desire to seek by negotiation the just and peaceful settlement of questions which might disturb the maintenance of enduring peace."

"Moved by the same desire, the three foreign ministers will meet in Paris May 8 in order to discuss concrete plans for holding a four-power conference with the Soviet government."

"In accordance with usual practice they will also discuss this question with the chancellor of the German Federal Republic and ministers of other NATO governments. "Experts designated by the three governments will meet in London April 27 to make a preliminary study of these problems, in preparation for the ministers' discussions."

"The three governments earnestly hope that a four-power conference can meet as soon as possible."

Formosa Talks Resume Tonight

U. S. Delegates, Chiang Discussing Situation in Troubled Area

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Top-level sessions on the Formosa situation will be resumed tonight. There still has been no hint as to the specific nature of the emergency mission of two high U. S. officials.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson conferred with President Chiang Kai-shek six hours yesterday, shortly after their arrival.

A Chinese source said they discussed the "broad, over-all situation" in the Formosa area, not merely the question of the Matsu and Quemoy, Communist-menaced offshore islands.

Radford and Robertson came to Formosa hurriedly to confer on the U. S.-China mutual defense pact under what the State and Defense departments described as "the tense situation which continues in the area." However, Secretary of State Dulles said Wednesday "no crisis is involved."

Radford and Robertson will dine with Chiang again tonight and was said the situation would be discussed further after dinner.

On this conversation may depend whether Radford and Robertson depart for home tomorrow or stay over for more conferences with Chiang.

The idea that the visit of Radford and Robertson was a step toward American abandonment of Quemoy and Matsu was losing ground.

Chinese officials who were so gloomy yesterday were noticeably less so today.

Year of Progress Summed Up in AP Annual Report

NEW YORK (AP)—The text of the annual report of the Board of Directors of the Associated Press follows:

The Associated Press went forward on many fronts during the past year.

Membership and staff were preoccupied with a basic objective—a compelling and lucid news presentation that competes effectively for an adequate share of popular attention and study.

The Associated Press has a solemn obligation to provide news and information vital to intelligent decisions on public questions of enduring importance. ## Slaying Suspect Nabbed on Isle

Arrest in Puerto Rico Halts Man Wanted for Killing 3 in Brooklyn

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—A 40-year-old man was arrested yesterday in connection with the knife slaying of a Brooklyn couple and their 2-year-old son.

The man, wanted by the New York police, was identified as Gustavo Diaz Gonzalez, Island police said he admitted killing Mrs. Rosa Ortiz Grancitano, 40, but denied slaying her husband Peter, 40, and their son Peter Jr.

Police quoted him as saying Mrs. Grancitano had killed the other two before he entered the couple's Brooklyn apartment. Gonzalez said he killed Mrs. Grancitano after she went at him with a knife, police said.

The three bodies were discovered by police last Tuesday. Little Peter's body was stuffed into the refrigerator. Police said robbery apparently was the motive for the slaying of the couple and the child was slain because he recognized the killer.

Police said Gonzalez arrived in Puerto Rico April 19, the day the slaying was discovered. He was held without bond.

Salk Polio Shots Hailed as Safer Than Expected

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. F. S. Leeder of the State Health Department says the Salk polio vaccine is "safer than anyone believed."

Leeder said yesterday that 150,000 Michigan children have been inoculated "without a single case of unfavorable reaction."

"We always expect a high percentage of reaction," he said, "but with the Salk vaccine there was not even local tenderness of the area around the vaccination. We are not only surprised, we're delighted."

Inoculation programs for first and second graders in Wayne County areas outside Detroit were scheduled to begin today.

Other counties planning to start inoculations today are Bay, Macomb, Saginaw, Ingham, Jackson, Calhoun, Kalamazoo, Hillsdale, Lenawee, Monroe, Branch and St. Joseph.

Kent County plans to begin inoculations tomorrow.

Cindy Goes Home From City Hospital

Cindy Lynn Montgomery, who spent her fourth birthday in the hospital after police said she was beaten savagely by a 12-year-old boy, went home yesterday.

The 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Montgomery, of 575 E. Mansfield Ave., was released by Pontiac General Hospital authorities at 3:30 p.m.

She was on the critical list for nine days after being struck on the head and body with a nail-studded board April 12. She suffered puncture wounds to the head, back and abdomen.

The boy is currently being held at the Oakland County Juvenile Home pending psychiatric tests.

Woman, Missing 5 Days, Is Found Dead in Home

500 Bicycle License Tags Issued in City

Pontiac Police, cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee and the Optimist Club in the annual bicycle inspections here, reported today that some 500 bicycle owners have been issued license tags so far.

The program, which started last week and will continue through May 17, had been completed at three schools by this morning.

Clyde R. Haskill, committee chairman, said the yearly program is a service rendered to save bicycle owners time. Ordinarily the age is purchased at the Police Department.

"We urge every bike owner," said Haskill, "to obtain a license plate in case the bike is stolen. It's almost impossible for police to recover a bicycle without the tags."

Inspections today are underway at the McCarrall School. Inspection teams will be at the Bagley School on Wednesday; Central, Thursday; Crofoot, Friday; Emerson, May 3; Hawthorne, May 4; LeBaron, May 5; Malcolm, May 9; Webster, May 10; Whitfield, May 11; Whittier, May 12; Wisner and Bailey, May 17.

St. Michael and St. Frederick Schools are scheduled for May 2. St. Trinity Lutheran School will receive the inspection May 4. Emanuel Baptist School will be visited May 5.

Dragging Continues for Drowning Victim

Dragging continued today for the body of 20-year-old Seaman Robert Golebiewski of Hamtramck, who drowned Friday in Round Lake, near Lakeville.

Seaman Kenneth Carneal, 18, of Roseville swam to shore and George Hunt, 16, of E. Detroit was drowned along with Golebiewski when their boat capsized on the small lake about a half-mile southeast of Lakeville Lake.

Hunt's body was recovered about an hour after the mishap by Addison Township volunteer firemen. The firemen continued dragging all day Friday and Saturday. Efforts to spot the body from an airplane flying overhead and repeated attempts by a diver also were unsuccessful.

Oakland County Sheriff's department said at noon today that dragging would continue this afternoon, but that the divers had returned to Detroit.

Avon Supervisor Heads County Assessing Body

The Oakland County Assn. of Assessing Officers has elected Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller president for the next year. Other officers named were Leonard Watchowski, of Lathrup Village, vice president; Theodore Koella Jr., of Sylvan Lake, treasurer; Donald Melchert, of Clawson, secretary; and Frank J. Voll, of Oakland Township, trustee.

They were charged after their arrest by Pontiac Police Friday night on S. Saginaw street.

Socialists Oppose Guaranteed Wage

DETROIT (AP)—The Socialist Labor Party of Michigan calls the CIO United Auto Workers' proposal for a Guaranteed Annual Wage a "sellout of the auto workers."

Joseph Pirinich, of Cleveland, national party delegate, told the group's annual state convention yesterday the proposal "is a perfect formula for collecting dues from the workers the year round."

"It also will help to divert the workers' attention from the danger that threatens through automation," he said.

The party went on record opposing the Guaranteed Annual Wage and Universal Military Training.

Warning Issued Against 'Real Estate Firm' Claims

Pontiac business people today were warned by the Chamber of Commerce's Business Ethics Board to be wary of out-of-town "real estate" firms which claim to have a buyer for the business.

The whole thing usually winds up with the businessman paying from $250 to $400 to the firm for space in a buyers guide-type magazine, said John W. Hirlinger, assistant manager of the Chamber.

"These firms, usually operating from Chicago, Cleveland or Los Angeles, lead people to believe they are in business to sell property and that they will get a better price than local agents," Hirlinger said.

"Actually, all they are doing is selling space in a magazine with nothing but page after page of ads. For $250, the businessman gets nothing but a little ad on one of the pages."

Hirlinger said the companies usually start their operation with a

AP Board Reports Year of Progress

The original objective of having radio share in the cost of collecting news was achieved from the earliest days of our entry into this field. The financial benefits of this enlarging our cooperative effort have grown steadily over the years as the radio membership increased. That the relationship has been mutually advantageous is evidenced by the net gain of 11 radio-television members during 1952.

There are more than 350 radio members located in cities or towns where there is no newspaper or newspaper member and where our news protection previously depended upon non-member arrangements. For a single example of another sort, 334 news items were carried from one radio member in a three-newspaper city.

It is less than ten years since the Associated Press began reestablishing and expanding its news distribution abroad. The success of that endeavor in numerical terms is highly gratifying—an increase of 11 per cent or 390 subscribers to news or newsphoto services was recorded during 1952 alone. More important to the membership is the fact that the expansion of the organization's operations is based faithfully on the principles of mutuality and cooperation.

Our international operations are conducted without subsidy, direct or indirect. Expansion has been achieved on the merits of the service. There has been no compromise with integrity and honest news reporting. We have shunned all arrangements which involved distribution of news designed to serve the purposes of foreign or domestic governmental propaganda, directly or by implication. Subscribers pay all the costs of delivering the service and also share fairly in the expense of worldwide collection. Benefits do not end here.

The management's ingenuity and enterprise are taxed constantly, to meet the difficult news coverage requirements and the demands of the membership, in an era of steadily increasing costs. These problems have been met for several years without a general increase in charges, and no effort in maintaining that policy will be spared in the year ahead. The board has consistently directed the management to operate on the most economical basis possible, consistent with the requirements; however, it is convinced the membership desires first of all a news service which fulfills its responsibilities.

Even at the risk of inadvertently slighting functions equally deserving, the board commends the striking development of enterprise reporting, particularly those dispatches in the newsfeatures budget handled by wire. Week after week, this branch of the service provides for members a wide variety of copy designed (1) To meet the broader need for public information on urgent questions and problems, and (2) To enable members to compete effectively for the attention of the public.

Eton Road Buffer Strip Up for Hearing Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — Seven public hearings — most controversial the one on the proposed buffer strip along Eton road south of the Grand Trunk station — will be held by the City Commission tonight.

Five hearings are on special assessment districts for paving portions of Edgewood, Bird, Southlawn, Grand and Catalpa. One is on installing manholes in Belmont Subdivision near the junction of the Belmont and Chesterfield sewers.

The Eton Buffer is based on a plan by the city to acquire 24 lots — four at the east end of each of six streets — and make them into a park-like strip at the expense of adjoining property owners who want to be screened from factories on the east side of Eton. One of the lots contains a newly built house.

Several property owners have indicated they do not want to pay any of the bill. Others want to limit the expense to not more than $200 apiece and enlarge the special assessment district to spread the expense.

D. C. Egbert, city manager, will propose a substitute plan of acquiring only 12 lots—one on the north and one on the south side of the ends of the six streets—and construction of "lot lots," or play areas for small children, at Bowlers and at Webster.

Egbert also has asked the commission to determine its policy on a municipal income tax which has been proposed in the Legislature. In this area the tax would chiefly benefit Detroit, officials said.

Definite determination of whether to condemn for a parking lot the block bounded by Bates, Henrietta, Merrill and Townsend also will be sought by Egbert. This is the block immediately south of Shain Park which the voters decided April 4 should not be abandoned in favor of parking.

Spring Rally for youth of the Detroit Congregational Association Pilgrim Fellowship will be held at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Congregational Church here. Following supper the evening program includes a concert by the 70-voice youth choir, of Mahanesset Congregational Church, Long Island, now on tour.

New officers of Quarten PTA are Mrs. Robert Wyatt, president; Mrs. V. W. Greene, mother vice-president; Lawrence Ball, father vice-president; Grace Mack, teacher vice president; Mrs. John Richardson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Williams, recording secretary and Mrs. Neil Hyde, treasurer.

Monthly meeting of the Men's Club of St. James Episcopal Church will hear Charles B. Kass, of the Ethyl Corporation, at 7 p.m. today. His topic will be "Fuels and Engines in '53."

Rabbi Richard Hertz of Temple Beth El will be the speaker at the annual Ladies Night Dinner at the Birmingham First Methodist Church Men's Club meeting at 6:45 o'clock this evening.

Mrs. Henry Stephens
Mrs. Henry (Ellen) Stephens, 82, of 536 Hanna St., died Saturday at her residence after a year's illness.

A member of the First Baptist Church, she had been a Birmingham resident since 1916. She also resided in Deford for 10 years.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. George Jackson of Birmingham; two sons, Edward Stephens of Howell, and Phillip Stephens of Highland; a sister, Mrs. J. B. Funk

Eisenhower Backs Higher Postal Rates

Before long Congress will have to answer what has become almost a perennial question.

That is whether postal rates should remain at present levels or should be increased to reduce the annual operating deficit.

Start toward a decision will be made when hearings are opened by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee on a postal rate raise bill. The bill is sponsored by Committee Chairman TOM MURRAY, Democrat, Tennessee. It would provide $343,000,000 in urgently needed additional revenue.

Most of the increase would be derived by boosting the postage on first class letters, second class newspapers and magazines and third class books and advertising circulars. The MURRAY bill has the endorsement of the EISENHOWER Administration but it is certain to face strong opposition.

Foes of higher rates contend mail delivery is a service of the Federal Government and shouldn't be expected to support itself entirely.

That theory is expensive, having resulted in a 1954 deficit of $399,000,000. Postmaster General SUMMERFIELD estimates the postal deficit for fiscal 1955 at $313,000,000. This would skyrocket if the pay boost just voted postal workers escapes a veto.

The Press long has believed that our postal service should be operated on a business like basis. In short, we think those who use the service should pay for it and that the rates should be sufficient to defray the costs of all operations properly chargeable to the department.

U. S. at Trade Fairs

Something new has been added to our commercial life — U. S. participation in foreign trade fairs.

It was last December at Bangkok that the first U. S. exhibit was placed in a foreign trade fair. The general practice in this country has been for stores to send buyers to New York or Chicago and for manufacturers to send salesmen around the country.

But now in our Commerce Department there has been established an Office of International Trade Fairs. Its purpose is to encourage greater American participation in this form of merchandising so popular and effective in Europe.

For the first time the United States is officially represented at the trade fair in Milan, Italy, and before the year is out will have exhibits at some 40 similar fairs on the Continent.

Outstanding among the fairs is that at Frankfurt, Germany, which has been operating for 600 years. Another famous example is the German Industrial Fair at Hannover where 3,735 firms from 12 countries will have exhibits.

Last year 1,200,000 businessmen attended this fair. Because of the large attendance and lack of sufficient room, the general public was excluded.

The favorable reception given the U. S. exhibit at Milan suggests that displays at other fairs will pay U. S. manufacturers satisfying dividends.

Social Security Fund Ample at Present Rates

If you are among those who have feared that our social security fund would prove inadequate, forget it.

The good news is that there is

MAKE OVER PAGES

According to the Social Security System's board, the number of persons drawing benefits will rise from 6,900,000 last December to around 10,000,000 by 1960 and 19,000,000 in 1980.

Benefit payments thus will grow from $5.4 billion in 1954 to $7.3 billion in 1960, $11.4 in 1970 and around $20 billion by the year 2000.

Impressive as these figures are, U. S. News & World Report shows they should occasion nobody any alarm. In fact, at present scheduled payroll deduction increases and assuming medium costs, the reserve fund will reach $60 billion in the year 1983. It will remain at that level for some 30 years and then begin to decline slowly.

These figures thus justify the reassuring conclusion that the old age pension fund will be self supporting at least until the year 2013. Few of us now living will have to worry about it thereafter.

Pontiac Traveler Finds All Countries Making Progress

Success: What sometimes turns a man's head so much that it wrings his neck.

A communication from Pontiac's long time champion globe trotter, W. Walter Smith, was mailed in Egypt. He marvels at the remarkable growth and great development of cities in the many foreign countries he had previously visited in tours around the world and otherwise. "The camels on the streets of Cairo have been replaced with thousands of automobiles, many of them made in Pontiac," he writes. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are on a tour of several of the Mediterranean countries.

"Guard This With Your Life—and Ours"

David Lawrence Says: Russian-Austrian Treaty Catches Paris Off Guard

PARIS—It is hard to describe the shock which swept official circles in France when the first news came that Soviet Russia after ten years had decided to abandon her stubborn refusal to sign the peace treaty with Austria to which all the other powers had long ago given their approval.

Did it mean a real change in the Soviet attitude, or was it just another move in a cruel game of often called the "cold war"? These questions were asked again and again as French officials prepared themselves for the repercussion. For anything that Moscow does has to be reckoned with in terms of domestic propaganda carried on here by thousands of Communist agents who have the advantage of maintaining a political party headquarters with all the machinery necessary to influence votes in the Parliament even outside the Communist bloc itself.

Thus, for example, the most important result of the Moscow action in agreeing to approve an Austrian treaty is to give a decided impetus to the movement for a "four power conference." This means a meeting of the foreign ministers of Soviet Russia, Great Britain and France and Secretary of State Dulles.

If such a conference could bring forth an agreement not merely to approve the neutralization of Austria but also what is of infinitely greater importance—the neutralization of Soviet Russia herself, the event would be a real step toward world peace.

For today it is not so important whether Austria agrees to keep out of any alliances of a military nature but whether Soviet Russia will take convincing steps to end her military threat against the West.

It is the Soviet Union's refusal to withdraw her armies of occupation from East Germany and from the satellite states which has caused the Western allies to take counter-measures such as the establishment of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, with its military bases and co-ordinated forces in being.

Nobody would have suggested such a military alliance in 1946 when the Soviet Union was still a trusted ally. It was only when Moscow began to go it alone and to generate friction throughout the occupied zones and especially in Berlin that the free world woke up to the fact that the rulers of the slave world had hostile designs on the Western countries.

Having taken protective measures, the Western allies today are moving in diplomacy on the theory that an attack has been deterred and that Soviet Russia has been checkmated militarily and will begin, therefore, to play ball with the other members of the team which saved her from Hitler's murderous conquest.

But morality is never imposed by force or the threat to use it. Gangsters remain gangsters no matter how many privileges they get. Unfortunately in the free world, where materialism and the comforts of living have bred a wishful-thinking philosophy—that Soviet Russia will reform if a lot of four-power conferences are held—there is a tendency to throw moral principles to the winds and rely wholly on expedient policies.

This means giving concessions to Soviet Russia to buy her co-operation—a position which may make the Communist regime wonder if the amassed military force will ever be used against her and whether the Western governments have not after all succumbed to a peace-at-any-price doctrine.

Out of precisely such a miscalculation by the aggressor came World War I and also World War II. But history is soon forgotten and those who call attention to it or insist on morality above expediency are shouted down as advocates of "preventive war" or as "warmongers."

The hypocrisy of it all can best be illustrated by the speeches here and abroad demanding that Red China be recognized and admitted to the United Nations because the Peiping government has full control of the main territory of China.

It is solemnly asserted, moreover, that this action need not mean approval or disapproval of any form of government. Yet the Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Why do parents think it is right to allow their children to chase around on other people's property, throwing stones, sticks, papers and jumping and fighting on porches?

This takes place at night as well as in the daytime. If politely asked to leave the premises, they snap back with profanity and abuse.

Why isn't there something done about this? No wonder there is so much delinquency. Why can't we have a curfew?

'Dogs Better Off to Run Loose'

In regard to the "Cats Next" letter concerning dogs chained in the boiling sun in the summer I ask, "Is that worse than running loose?" It's better to be loose. He can get a drink of water in some pond and find someone who will give him some food, someone who has a heart that's not made of stone.

If the people don't like a dog on their property let them fence the yard in. No one will stop them. Also fence in the school yards as it would save a lot of dogs from being picked up by the dog pound and kicked around like a ball.

As long as people have to pay taxes and pay for inoculations for dogs, the dogs should be able to run loose. Dogs should not be chained as long as we have to buy dog licenses.

We have people where I live who plant gardens and what happens to them? The kids steal the tomatoes, melons and corn. What they don't take with them they crush. A poor dog could not do damage like that. It's the kids who tip most of the garbage cans especially if they don't like you.

Don't begrudge the dog a little bit of food if he's hungry.

'Andy' Describes World Calendar

It must be immediately evident that in a world so closely knit as the world of today where interdependence necessitates close agreement in matters of systems of dating that only a world calendar will suffice.

It is this calendar, the work of many individuals, which has been gaining respect and recognition for almost a hundred years. Now, it is to be reviewed in May by the United Nations' General Assembly. If it is approved there, it is possible that an international convention or agreement will be submitted to the various governments of the world for their adoption.

This proposed calendar will retain our familiar twelve months.

Habit of Failing to Compliment People Causes Much Unhappiness in World

Frank is an old ball player who tried to do a good turn. But the recipient of his generosity neither thanked Frank with words nor even a cup of coffee. Had he been a member of the "Compliment Club" he would never have been so tactless toward the old men on this volunteer ball team.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case O-313: Frank K., aged 61, is a former professional baseball player.

"Dr. Crane, I have a case which should be of benefit to many of your readers," he recently informed me.

"The sponsor of a girls' softball team here in Fort Wayne, Indiana, wanted to install lights around the diamond so he could schedule night games, but the cost was $1,000.

"He paid $300 down and then tried to obtain contributions from his friends. When he asked me, I told him I thought I could suggest a better plan.

"So I promised that I'd recruit enough old ball players of the male sex so he could publicize a contest between the girls and these former professional baseball men.

"Well, at first he didn't think my idea was very good, but when he failed to obtain many contributions, he decided maybe my plan would work.

"So I recruited a dozen men among my acquaintance and the game was widely advertised.

"We had a crowd that filled the small park to overflowing, and he took in over $300 in contributions at the time of the game.

"Since he had lacked only $300, his lighted ball diamond was thus assured. And the crowd had a jolly time.

"But the thing that surprised me was his failure to thank the men. He took our efforts for granted.

Injection Beats Surgery for Internal Bleeding Piles

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
Practically painless injection (ambulant, office) treatment for internal hemorrhoids (piles), which detains the patient only a few minutes, once or twice a week, for from four to eight times, is far more satisfactory than the crude 19th century clamp and cautery operation, which hospitalizes the victim for from one to two weeks and is generally attended with or followed by a good deal of pain.

This is the consensus of the many correspondents who have reported their experience.

I hope no reader will assume that injection treatment is the best modern treatment for any case of hemorrhoids (piles). In my judgment it is the method of choice for internal (bleeding) piles—at least it would be if I were the patient. But, injection treatment is not applicable to external (the most painful) piles.

External piles demand surgery—the surgery may be done in the doctor's office, perhaps under local anesthesia. But there is no alternative, to the best of my knowledge.

Whenever I travel, I buy a magazine, pull the staples out and put the cover back on upside down. ## Council Head Predicts End of Dairy Surplus DETROIT — Milton Hult, president of the National Dairy Council, says industry leaders foresee an end to dairy surpluses by 1956.

Hult, of Chicago, said yesterday that government surplus stocks of dairy products also will be used up by that time.

"Per capita consumption of fluid milk is up 10 per cent from the prewar period," he said. "People are eating 40 per cent more cheese and 70 per cent more ice cream. This is going on in the face of increased milk production."

Hult said the industry is so vast and unwieldy that "sectional disturbances can't be avoided."

"But the dairy story is really good," he added. "There should be no pessimism."

Hult was in Detroit for the opening today of the council's central regional conference.

Try Persuasion, Says Expert

A Little Cow Psychology Helps Fill the Milk Pail

WASHINGTON (INS) — Dairy men who would encourage cows to give their all were advised today to rattle milking equipment, pass the feed just before milking, or turn on the radio.

In the opinion of a top Extension Service specialist, the dairy farmer "must know and practice good cow psychology" to get all of the milk.

E. E. Anderson of New Mexico A & M College, who voiced this pearl of bovine wisdom, said in effect that only a soft-headed farmer would leave all summer to grow a crop of corn and leave every fifth to tenth row unharvested.

But he said, a similar performance takes place every day on many dairy farms throughout the country merely because unfeeling owners aren't catering to bossy's mental whims.

Anderson stated a firm conviction that the old saying, "A cow doesn't give milk, we have to take it from her" is basically true.

Therefore, he added, it's all the more important "to get her in the proper frame of mind" and to know the best psychological moment to take the milk in order to get it all.

He said: "Under normal conditions, the let-down (of milk) can be achieved by one or a combination of stimulations."

"Washing the udder with warm water, rattling of milking equipment, feeding just before milking, or turning on a radio, may bring about this response."

"Washing of the udder in a warm chloride solution one minute before milking is the recommended procedure."

As might be expected, Anderson said some cows are more easily persuaded to cooperate than others.

He explained that some let down their milk as soon as they enter the barn and hear the sounds associated with milking. When possible, Anderson suggested that these be placed at the head of the milking line and stripped first.

The expert said that some cows may balk in letting down their milk if they're frightened, angry, nervous, or irritated, or if strangers enter the barn.

Only Shell Premium with TCP

gives you the full benefit of High Octane Gasoline

If it weren't for the fact that most of our driving is local driving—short-trip driving—any good high octane gasoline would do a fine job in today's more powerful engines.

But this kind of driving increases the formation of certain deposits within the combustion chambers. These deposits, if not neutralized, rob even the finest engines of a considerable amount of their power.

And high octane alone will not keep high compression engines delivering their full power. To overcome deposits, these engines need a gasoline with a special kind of additive.

Here's why:

As your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time... before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fireproofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

*Shell's trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

Working Mothers Deserve Praise

By MARGARET LATROBE
If you are fond of statistics and looking for some place to lay the blame for juvenile delinquency, here is an easy trap to fall into—there are now 20 million women employed outside the home, many of them mothers of young children.

And sure enough, the experts and park bench philosophers are beginning to announce that a mother who works is falling down on her job at home; to conclude that women should be chained to the cook-stove, should hover on the homestead all day, every day.

I say otherwise. To my notion, a woman with enough initiative to run a home and a job is usually possessed of greater resources to share with her children than the woman who is clumping along at home—resentful, nagging, bitter because she cannot see the creative possibilities of homemaking which surround her.

Some people haven't yet understood that fine motherhood is a matter of quality, not quantity. They fail to see that a handful of hours spent with a child—gay, brilliant, loving hours, hours to be cherished—are better than any number of sharp-shooting fretful hours filled with complaint.

Of course, we know that many children in the midst of plenty are neglected. But don't tell me they belong to working mothers! Case histories show delinquency springs from broken homes; from parents who are the opposite of "workers," who are shiftless, indifferent, who are alcoholics; or just large minus signs when it comes to living.

Women work for a variety of reasons. The great majority work because they must. Some take jobs for added material benefits they think they want, but which sometimes prove to be false economy. Others work in order to use professional training or creative talent, to contribute something to life or to express themselves more fully.

And a few just loathe housework and child care so thoroughly they take the first job offered in order to get away from home—in which case I think both they and their children are better off with Mamma working.

But for whatever reasons behind a woman's employment, the assumption that she is a poor mother because of it is nonsense. I know working mothers who are the best there are. So do you. I know "stay-at-home" mothers who are never at home and otherwise neglectful in the worst sense. So do you. The quality of the gift is the important consideration. The hours of happiness shared with children are those which build sound emotional patterns. And I salute the gals who manage to provide those hours every day—particularly when they have another job to do.

LANSING (AP)—Michigan druggists have given up their long fight to keep the sale of patent medicines to themselves.

Sen. Perry W. The bill is supported by organized druggists.

WHY? These people deposit their savings in the bank because they can attend to many other financial matters under the same roof... because they know and have confidence in the bankers who serve them... because they can get interest on their savings at minimum risk, without having to make an investment... because they know that their savings dollars are put to work for the benefit of the local community.
