

Senate Passes Patchwork Farm Bill

Funds for Toll Roads Under Debate by Senate

LANSING (P)—Senators debated for an hour Monday night the wisdom of keeping the Michigan Turnpike Authority alive. They reached no conclusion.

Nothing was said about the likelihood of getting any turnpike project started in the near future regardless of the authority's fate. The authority plans north-south and Detroit-Chicago toll roads. The north-south route would enter Oakland County at the south, running generally west of, and parallel to, Telegraph Road.

It would cut across Telegraph and Woodward Avenue below Pontiac to run along the city's east limits, then swing northwest into Genesee County to pass east of Flint.

Directly at issue was a bill to appropriate $150,000 to the toll road agency for standby expenses in the year starting July 1. It was put over for further discussion.

The heat generated by squabbles that have kept the turnpike authority in hot water much of the time since its creation in 1953 cropped out in the argument.

BROOMFIELD OPPOSED

Sen. William Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), a determined foe of continuing the present agency, said the appropriation would amount to a subsidy for eastern bond houses who would profit if the turnpike authority ever got off the ground.

How much longer was this use of Michigan money going to continue, Broomfield wanted to know.

Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids), the bill's chief sponsor, retorted: "As long as a few obstructionists are going to hold up building of good roads in Michigan."

Greene observed that the talk of toll roads in the state "accelerated" the state highway department plans for highway construction, adding:

"Maybe we ought to keep on with it if it's going to jack up the highway department this way."

DISCUSS PROBLEMS

There was discussion of, but no solution offered for, many of the problems that have beset the authority: The rivalry with the highway department; the authority's inability to sell its bonds; public relations mistakes; the vigorous objections encountered at the announcement of proposed turnpike routes by people and groups along the right-of-way.

Postpone Hearing on Sewage Plant

A hearing was postponed to March 29 yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court on a temporary injunction which has halted action on a proposed sewage disposal plant at Pontiac Lake Road and the Clinton River in Waterford Township.

The restraining order was obtained March 12 by the Crescent Lake Country Club Estates Civic Assn., against Bert Smokler, promoter of the Highland Estates subdivision, and the Township Board. Smokler will appear March 29 and attempt to show why the injunction should not be made permanent.

Crescent Lake Association members object to the location of the plant near their homes.

Some senators said that numerous states were making headway with toll road plans, and that they were an important part of the answer to the staggering new road needs of most states.

Others argued that toll road projects in Ohio, West Virginia and elsewhere were not panning out.

During the talk, Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson), one of the authority's chief defenders, said the only other turnpike legislation still alive probably would never see the light of day.

He referred to a proposal for a constitutional amendment to pledge the state's credit behind a $300 million dollar turnpike bond issue. He said he doubted it would emerge from the senate judiciary committee.

Senators for and against the bill were agreed that large sums for road building will have to be found from some quarter in the years ahead.

Some sentiment was expressed for a sharp boost in automobile license fees, which one senator said had remained almost unchanged for 30 years, and some for boosting truck fees.

Bodies Found in Mexico

Hunt Americans in Killing of Wealthy Detroit Couple

MEXICO CITY (INS)—Mexican police today sought two Americans for questioning in the bludgeon-slayings of a wealthy Detroit engineer and his wife missing since Feb. 8.

Police have identified two mutilated bodies as Everett F. Kennison, 58, wealthy inventor and Detroit engineer and his wife, Pauline 50. The beaten decomposed bodies, discovered Friday in desolate brush country 16 miles east of Ciudad Victoria, were identified from dental records.

Wanted for questioning were William A. Shelton, formerly of Dallas, Tex., and Joseph O'Brien, formerly of New York, who operated a motel in Victoria, Mex., where the Kennisons stayed several days before leaving on a hunting trip.

Mexico City police found the Kennison automobile loaded with hunting equipment and expensive cameras outside Mexico City about 350 miles from where the bodies were discovered. Officials believed the car was a "plant" to throw them off the trail.

A. R. Lehman, an American interpreter, said the nude battered bodies were found by a rancher. A money belt, which relatives said Kennison habitually carried, was missing.

Miguel Mendoza Dominguez, federal secret service chief for Mexico, said the suspects are believed to be in Dallas. Shelton and O'Brien, said Dominguez, disappeared from their motel Sunday morning shortly after the Kennisons' bodies were identified.

Silver-haired Everett Kennison had no children of his own. But his tales of hunting and his films of far-away places brought outdoor adventure to the children of his pleasant northwest Detroit neighborhood.

Fenton Attorney Receives 2 to 5 Year Sentence

Dye Seeks New Trial in Shooting of Farmer During Dispute

Former Fenton village attorney Clifford B. Dye was sentenced to 2 to 10 years in Jackson State Prison yesterday after he charged the jury which convicted him with "unjustness . . . beyond description."

Dye, 54, was found guilty of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder March 1 following a nine-day trial.

He was accused in the non-fatal shooting of Fenton tenant farmer William C. Clark, 27, last Aug. 26. Clark leased a farm owned by Dye's sister.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams yesterday granted a stay of execution of Dye's sentence and allowed the Fenton man to remain free on $10,000 bond pending hearings on a motion for a new trial filed by defense attorney Clarence L. Smith. If the motion is denied, said Smith, he will appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Dye made a two-minute statement after being asked by Judge Adams if he had anything to say before sentence was imposed.

Saying "calculated untruths were presented against me," Dye repeated the stand he took during the trial claiming Clark assaulted him and he shot only to scare the farmer off.

"The unjustness of the jury overwhelms me beyond description," he asserted.

Pointing out that Dye has a legal background, Judge Adams said, "The community perhaps feels you had a higher responsibility to follow the law because you're trained in the law."

"During the trial, the jury appeared to me to listen intently to your testimony. The things you maintained were brought out and weighed by the jury. The court must assume the jury was right."

The shooting followed a series of disputes between Dye and Clark over management of the farm. Clark and his wife said Dye pulled the gun from his pocket and began shooting.

"I advanced on Dye to protect my wife and children," the farmer stated.

Urges Hospital for Aged Vets

Grand Rapids Building Could Relieve Taxes, Legislature Told

LANSING (P)—The Legislature was told today Michigan should build a new five million dollar hospital for the aged at the Michigan Veterans Facility in Grand Rapids.

The recommendation was made by the Detroit architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, hired by the Legislature to study the need for such a geriatric hospital.

The report said that 265,000 veterans who are ill requested state aid in 1955, but that there is no provision to take care of them. "There is not one chronic hospital bed available today in Michigan under the veterans program," the report said.

The present 250-bed hospital at the facility is overcrowded, the report said.

If a new unit were built at the Veterans Facility the state could receive $700 per patient in federal funds and thus relieve local tax burdens, the report said.

The firm noted that there are now more than one million veterans in Michigan.

Death Toll at 129

Drifting Snows Halt Life in Southern New England

BOSTON (INS)—Southern New England lay buried and crippled under 36.5 inches of drifting snow today for the advent of spring.

Major cities and many towns, abandoned to the fury of the second blizzard in three days, counted 19 new deaths, bringing the two-storm total to 69 in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Before battering these states and parts of the other three New England states, the paralyzing two-fisted attack hit eight other states from West Virginia northward, leaving an estimated death toll of 129 from Friday to today.

New England's worst blizzard in forty years spent itself over the Atlantic soon after midnight after the Monday "sneak" attack, depositing 19.5 inches of snow. Damage to property and business mounted into millions of dollars.

As the hour of spring approach this morning with the weather cold but fair, transportation lines struggled to get back into running for millions of commuters. Airlines faced another day of idleness. Long distance bus lines were partially or completely paralyzed.

Major highways, buried under 12-foot drifts, piled up by 63-MPH gales had been plowed out by an army of all-night workers, but hundreds of secondary roads remained impassable.

Thousands emerged from city hotels, public buildings, bus and railroad stations where the second, and great 1956 "blizzard prisoners" had sought refuge during the night. They had been supplied with food and blankets and food by relief agencies.

Many industries remained at a standstill today. Schools and colleges were closed. Hundreds of stores did not open. State capitols were opening at noon. Theaters were closed.

Aiken Believes Act Warrants '3 or 4 Vetoes'

Long-Argued Measure Heads Into New Fight With House

WASHINGTON (P)—A patchwork farm bill containing features Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said warrant "three or four vetoes" was passed by the Senate last night and headed into a new fight with the House.

The vote on passage was 93-2. That was no measure of the angry criticism raised against the election year measure.

No one in the Senate seemed fully happy with the bill, much of it pieced together on the Senate floor.

Democrats, pointing to a five-year decline in farm prices, have already emphasized the farm issue as a major one in the 1956 campaign.

The Senate bill contains authority for a soil bank, the major 1956 recommendation of the Eisenhower-

How Senators Voted

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.) voted for and Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) against the Kerr-George amendment to the farm bill yesterday. It was designed to assure farmers of a fair price in purchase programs carried out by the Agriculture Department. The Senate passed the amendment, 49-44.

On the amendment to deny price supports, effective in 1957, to most farmers if they fail to participate in the soil bank program, Potter voted for and McNamara against.

On the amendment to boost price support levels for wheat, cotton and corn by putting large quantities of these surplus commodities into a mandatory government "set-aside," Potter voted against it and McNamara for it.

er administration. But several provisions of that program, designed to take land out of production and thus reduce surpluses, were subjected to major revision.

And while the bill nominally retains the administration's flexible price support system, that system was supplemented by a "two-price" plan for wheat, a similar optional one for rice, and hedged in by "set-asides" which would have the effect of boosting sharply the price supports for wheat, corn and cotton.

Final action at about 10:30 last night followed eight straight days of voting, during which debate was limited, and 11 days of unrestricted debate before that.

Senators Bush (R-Conn.) and Flanders (R-Vt.) cast the only "no" votes. Sen. Ives (R-NY), voted by aides to have suffered a stomach upset earlier, was the only senator who did not vote.

Senate passage moved the bill to the House, expected to act promptly to send it to a Senate-House conference committee assigned the thorny task of working out a compromise.

April First to Be Shared by Easter, All Fools' Day

Practical jokers have been struck a cruel blow by a trick of the calendar.

They have been deprived of their biggest day of the year, All Fools' Day.

A coincidence of dates places it on Easter Sunday this year, a day consecrated with deeply religious observances.

Of course some minor pranks may still be tolerated within the limits of the family home, after church activities.

Dad may come down to breakfast to find his silverware sewn to the tablecloth, or sugar in the saltshaker. Mother may find her favorite straw hat adorning the family dog.

The traditional cry of "April Fool!" will still sound, despite the solemn occasion. And many people will fall victim to hoaxes, duped at least once early in the day.

The origin of All Fools' Day is obscure, but it is not recent, the encyclopedia assures us. It was mentioned in English almanacs in 1760.

It has been confused with the Feast of Fools, riotous festivals

Mothers Blockade Street to Get Signal

By BUD MARTZ

A group of sign-toting mothers, who blocked East Boulevard at Valencia Drive twice yesterday and have promised to repeat the performance today, will get the traffic light they demand.

But Theodore M. Vanderstempel, city traffic engineer, says the blockade had nothing to do with his decision.

"Not one of these people ever talked to me about the situation," Vanderstempel said today. "All their information was second-hand."

They will have a light at the crossing, probably within a month. It is among several lights scheduled for installment.

"Delays in installing all these lights have been due to ground frost and strikes in the electrical companies which produce the lights."

The mothers, 15 strong, began their blockade yesterday at noon when local elementary school children boarded a city bus for Emerson School.

Three children, the mothers claim, have been seriously injured by cars at the crossing since January.

Latest victim, seven-year-old David Swartz, was struck Friday and is still in critical condition in Beaumont Hospital, where he is scheduled to undergo surgery at 1:30 p.m. today.

Spokesman for the group, Mrs. Lloyd Aldrich, said yesterday, "We've had enough delays. We want our children, and we want them alive."

Vanderstempel said a survey taken several months ago of traffic on East Boulevard passing Valencia Drive showed the daily total was 6,546. Between 3 and 4 p.m., the peak traffic hour, he said 1,174 cars passed.

The children board the bus at noon, and return from school at 4:45 p.m.

In yesterday's blockade, 14 mothers and one father blocked traffic for 15 minutes while the children disembarked from the bus. A Pontiac patrolman attempted to move the group from their positions in the street.

While nearly 100 drivers waited with varying degrees of patience, the women paraded across the intersection carrying signs. Among the captions:

"Three down—how many more?"
"We want our Pontiac kids to die of old age."
"We want our promised light."
"Mothers march on Polio. Now mothers march on traffic. Both Killers."

BLOCKADE FOR TRAFFIC LIGHT — Fifteen irate mothers, angered over delays in installment of a traffic light at East Boulevard and Valencia Drive, held up traffic for 15 minutes yesterday afternoon while their children disembarked from a city school bus and crossed the street. The mothers claim three children have been injured at the crossing since January.

WARRIORS OF DANGERS OF HYPNOTISM

Amateurs Can Cause Trouble

Dr. Clinton Mumby, Area Psychiatrist, Sees Harm in Fad

"Hypnosis handled by inexperienced people can be very dangerous," says Dr. Clinton Mumby, local consulting psychiatrist speaking in connection with the recent national interest in the subject. The most important reason for hypnosis being exceedingly dangerous, he said, is that inexperienced people are apt to get involved in removing symptoms, which the hypnotized person has built up to great trouble so that he can get along easier in the world.

Dr. Mumby pointed out that the inexperienced hypnotist might remove the "built up symptoms" and find something much worse.

This work in medical centers is very carefully handled, Dr. Mumby said, and "needs careful supervision with very experienced people in charge."

Mumby debunked the idea that a hypnotist can force someone to do something against their moral principles, although the idea is a common one among the inexperienced.

Two papers have been given on one phase of hypnotism. Mumby said an experiment in World War II showed that a hypnotized person would give military information that would be impossible to get from him any other way.

The Bredy Murphy story, according to Dr. Mumby, is "pure bunk." He said the subject was quite thoroughly discussed at a national Orthopsychiatric meeting in New York City last week and conclusions reached by psychiatrists there found the story a complete fabrication or buried memories that the woman had, but had forgotten.

"There is nothing remarkable about the idea. This has been duplicated by every hypnotist. Some people have total recall and they may be one of them," he stated.

Share April First With Easter, Pranks

than a small hand in the frivolity of tricks which prevail at the start of the fourth month.

All Fools' Day has been observed in the United States for many years, and is a holiday in some states, combined with tree planting observances of Arbor Day, which shares the same birthday.

When will the day of pranks fall on Easter Sunday again? Not for 62 years, the World Almanac reports.

Easter is set as the first Sunday after the first full moon that falls on or next after the vernal equinox, which is March 21, except in Leap Year.

If the full moon happens on Sunday, Easter is celebrated one week later. However, the sacred day must be within the time of March 22 and April 25.

A checks shows that the coincidence of April Fools' Day and Easter have occurred in 1923, 1934, 1945 and this year, following an eleven year cycle.

However the next time the two days fall together will be 2018, when it begins another 11-year cycle, popping up in 2029 and 2040.

If you relish the protection from pranks that the Easter Sunday and All Fools' Day offer, you've got a long wait.

FIRST PUMPER — The Union Lake Fire Department is proud of its first pumper, a 1926 American LaFrance that cost $1 three years ago when the department organized, but still chugs about its business of quelling fires in the Union Lake area. Sitting at the wheel is volunteer fireman Jerry Fettig. Beside the pumper is (left) Fire Chief Irvin Maynard and (right) Assistant Chief James Saunders.

men get no pay in the volunteer department, which currently is selling tickets for a bowling tournament to finance a new headquarters. The tournament will be held all day and evening March 31 at the Cooley Lanes bowling alleys, 8193 Cooley Lake Rd.

Volunteer Department Now Bowling for New Headquarters

Men of Courage, $1 Bill Started Union Lake Fire Unit

By WILMA GREENWAY

Players who enter the Union Lake Fire Department Bowling Tournament March 31, can be sure of a strike, even if every ball rolls in the gutter and they come out with zero scores.

For there's a bigger prize than the $25 for top man bowler, $25 for top woman, and $10 for top child being offered in the individual tournament, which will run from 10 a.m. until 2 a.m. the next morning at the Cooley-Lanes, 8193 Cooley Lake Rd.

The real prize that could come out of the tournament—one to benefit every man, woman and child in the area—will be a new building and headquarters for the Union Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

The bowling lanes are being contributed by proprietor Paul Rabaut, himself a Union Lake volunteer fireman. Tickets, being sold by all volunteer firemen at 50 cents each, entitle the holder to bowl in the tournament and try for one of the grand prizes.

CHANCE AT PRIZES

Tickets also give bowlers a chance at prizes that will be given out every half hour during the 16-hour tournament.

The fledgling volunteer fire department started in June of 1953 with a $1 bill, a good portion of ingenuity, and a handful of men who were concerned with the fact that their area, located at the juncture of four townships, was not getting adequate fire protection.

Union Lake is situated just where White Lake, Commerce, Waterford and West Bloomfield Townships meet. Fire departments centrally located in each of the townships lost precious time in getting men and equipment to Union Lake fires—time that could mean much in the saving of both lives and property.

STARTED WITH $1

Under the direction of former Chief A. N. Carnes and former president Thurman Farlow, the original fire department plunked down a $1 bill and purchased a 1926 American LaFrance pumper from the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium which in turn had got it as a discard from the Berkley Fire Department.

The department began a membership drive and training program, and by September 1953, there were 21 active members, courageous, determined men to answer calls both day and night.

Now the equipment includes, besides the original pumper which still chugs along and puts out fires, a 1,000-gallon tank truck which the volunteers converted from an oil truck and painted a bright fire-red. The tanker, a 1946 Chevrolet, is now equipped with a front mount pump and two-way radio.

Other equipment the department boasts is a portable gasoline engine pump, an E&J resuscitator, remote control siren system, smoke masks, raincoats, boots, helmets, hose, fire extinguishers and the two-way radio loaned out by the West Bloomfield Township Fire Department.

The volunteers have their own efficient system of operation. Present headquarters in the boiler room of the TB Sanatorium always has an engineer on duty. Calls come in to this headquarters, where the trucks and equipment are kept, and then things begin to hum.

The engineer starts the siren and places the first phone calls on the call system. The system branches out so that each volunteer calls two others, and in no time the circuit is complete.

NO COST TO TAXPAYERS

The Union Lake Volunteer Fire Department is completely independent. No township or municipal funds go into its operation, although its cost averages some $800 a year.

Funds come from private donations, through projects sponsored by the firemen themselves and others worked out by the active women's auxiliary. The firemen get no pay for their volunteer work.

In addition to paying its own way, the hardy volunteer department has improved its equipment inventory each year in its goal of becoming a better fire-fighting unit.

SEEKS OWN QUARTERS

Now it is ready for its own headquarters. The department hopes to acquire a grant of land from Oakland County—possibly a part of the TB Sanatorium property, although this has not yet been determined.

The building fund, started last fall, now has $1,459 to its credit. Also, donation of roofing material and trusses adequate for a 26 x 84 foot building has been made, at an estimated value of $3,000.

Not bad going, is it, considering that it started out three years ago with only a $1 bill and portion of courage and determination?

Anybody want to carry the ball a little further? Tickets to the bowling tournament are going for only 50 cents!

VIENNA (U) — Wilhelm Miklas, president of Austria from 1928 until the Nazi occupation in 1938, died here today.

Elected president Dec. 5, 1928, Miklas' political career ended in 1938 when Hitler occupied Austria and proclaimed its union with Germany.

Miklas had defied two ultimatums from the German Führer to yield Austria to Nazi control, but finally was forced to appoint an Austrian Nazi, Arthur Seyss-Inquart, as chancellor.

Miklas refused to sign the Anschluss decree uniting Austria with Germany and resigned as president March 13, 1938, the day the Nazi armies entered his country.

After he quit the presidency, he lived in retirement. His movements were restricted under the Nazi regime and his home was placed under guard.

ATLANTA (U) — Police have slapped a midnight curfew on Atlanta teen-agers under 18 in an effort to halt juvenile delinquency. Police Chief Herbert Jenkins issued the order after an investigation into juvenile problems by the Fulton County grand jury and the aldermanic police committee.

MONTE CARLO (INS) — The smart set in this international gambling capitol is wagering on a fabulous new game — who will be the privileged 300 to be invited to the Grace Kelly-Prince Rainier III wedding April 18.

Training Exercise

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C. (U) — More than 1,800 men of a reinforced Marine battalion from Camp Lejeune shove off from this port city today for a routine training exercise in the Mediterranean.

The exercises are expected to last three to four months and will include joint maneuvers with NATO forces, a Marine spokesman said.

Included in the task force carrying the Marines are the USS Monrovia and the USS Rockbridge, attack transports; the USS Rankin, attack cargo ship, and the USS Plymouth Rock, landing ship dock.

The flagship, the USS Taconic, and an attack transport, the USS Bassett, were loaded at Norfolk. The troops are from the 2nd Marine Division.

Bulgaria Joins Reds in Immorality Drive

VIENNA, Austria (U) — Bulgaria has joined the Communist drive against immorality. Bulgarian papers received here say the Sofia government has adopted a new law striking at marital infidelity.

It says: "A spouse who leaves his (or her) family and cohabits with another person is punished by deprivation of freedom for six months or by a fine of up to 1,000 leva ($140) and public condemnation."

For repeated offenses the prison terms go as high as three years. Both parties in the liaison are equally liable to the penalties.

around the clock, the chamberlains of the Prince have pondered the list. They must select 300 from a list of candidates numbering more than 1,000.

The chamberlains are confronted with the seemingly impossible task of weeding out the "secondary" candidates and dodging the legion of frenzied wire-pullers, "friends of friends" and that most canny of all social species — the professional party breaker.

INEVITABLE TURMOIL

The royal wedding has triggered somewhat of a turmoil in the international set. Many socialites fear that their failure to be invited to the wedding and gala celebrations will mean the "kiss of death" under the society regime.

This "kiss of death," they fear, will result if they are left out of any of the half dozen or so top functions surrounding the wedding.

Considered the most delectable invitations are these for opera and the international sporting club banquet, April 15, and of course the two wedding ceremonies, the civil service April 18 and the church ceremony the next day. As it stands now, the tiny opera house could be filled ten times over.

But from the likes of Pat Scantlebury, Jack Taylor, Jim Pisoni, Sam Eposito, Norm Siebern, Bob McKee, Floyd Ross and Bob Tettebach is liable to come the leading candidates for this year's Rookie of the Year citations.

Scantlebury, a left-hander who won 13 games and lost 9 for Havana in 1955, gave up only two hits in five innings and Taylor, 17-11 for High Point Thomasville of the Carolina League, yielded two in four frames yesterday in pitching the Cincinnati Redlegs to a 5-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pisoni, the Texas League's leader in runs batted in last year with 118, slammed two home runs, a double and a single to lead the Baltimore Orioles to an 8-6 triumph over the New York Giants. An outfielder, Pisoni hit only 270 for San Antonio but he walloped 26 homers.

McKee, a second baseman for Des Moines where he hit .278 with 14 home runs, landed one of four Cuba's homers as the Cleveland Indians went down to their first defeat in eight games 9-5. Frank Kellert, Monte Irvin and Ernie Banks also found the range for Chicago, which scored six times in the ninth inning.

Ross, a lefty who was 10-13 for Chattanooga, worked four scoreless innings for the Philadelphia Phillies as they edged the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3.

Tettebach, acquired from the Yankees in the Mickey McDermott deal this winter, got two singles and a double in leading the Washington Senators to an 8-6 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. Billy Consohl hit a grand slam homer for the Sox.

FENCE BUSTER — Stock racer Marvin Gilhausen lost control of his sportsman type auto and crashed through the guard rail taking part of the fence with him in the Jacksonville, Fla., stock races yesterday. Gilhausen was not injured but the car was a total loss.

Chiefs Now in Same Position as Northern

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

All Pontiac High School has to do is to look back at its own series with Flint Northern this year to realize that Catholic Central isn't going to lay down and play dead in the state quarter-finals tomorrow night at Livonia Bentley High School.

During the regular season, Northern tripped the Chiefs twice before the "big" game last Saturday in the regional finals.

By the same token, Pontiac took the measure of the Detroit Shamrocks 50-40 and 66-50, and now finds itself in the same position Northern had to face—that is, trying to beat a team for the 3rd time in one season.

The fast-breaking Shamrocks led by 6-4 center Tom Skrzycki, easily waltzed through the regionals at Birmingham with wins over Royal Oak, Birmingham and East Detroit.

Pontiac's regional wins were over somewhat stronger foes, having beaten Port Huron and Flint Central before taking Northern.

Catholic Central, boasting a 17-3 record, including the three regional victories, has lost two of those to Pontiac.

"We've improved steadily and couple of our reserves have come through in the past few games,"

Foley was speaking of guard Tony Dietz who was a spark for the Shamrocks in the regionals along with Tom Kramer who has been quite active at the forward spot in the reserve role.

Big threat from the outside is the firing of guard Brian Hussey, the team's second best scorer behind Skrzycki.

Pontiac has been hurt by the loss of Larry Peel and coach Art Van Rynin has not yet decided who will start at the guard spot.

Dave Simmons started against Northern Saturday but gave way to Terry Zellhart, who did an outstanding job moving the ball as well as defensively.

Pontiac's advantage will be the boardwork of Hudson Ray, that is if he performs in the same manner as in the previous two meetings with Central.

Oddly, Catholic Central has been Willie DeWalt's two lowest scoring games this year. In the first game the sharp-shooting Chief hit only six points and in the second meeting collected but eight.

Dave Diehm was the top scorer each time with 14 in both instances.

This marks the 4th time since 1946, when Van Rynin assumed the coaching duties, that Pontiac has moved into the quarter-finals.

Each time the Chiefs failed to get to the semi-finals. In 1947 Pontiac defeated Catholic Central in the regionals and then lost to Flint Northern, subsequently the state champ, in the quarter-finals.

Other quarter-final losses were in 1949 to Ferndale and in 1954 to Highland Park.

Winner of tomorrow's game at Livonia will meet the winner of the Muskegon Heights-Arthur Hill game at 8:00 p.m. Friday at Jensen fieldhouse in East Lansing.

NEW YORK (AP)—Dayton's top-seeded Flyers, determined to go all the way for a change, move into action against Xavier of Cincinnati tonight in the final half of the quarter-finals in the National Invitation Basketball tournament. Defending champion Duquesne and fourth-seeded Niagara already are among the missing.

The Daytonians, who three times have wound up second best in the NIT, and Xavier got it for the third time this season in the nightcap of the Madison Square Garden double-header. Third-seeded St. Joseph's of Philadelphia plays Seton Hall in the opener.

The Dayton-Xavier winner will meet little St. Francis of Brooklyn, which ousted Niagara with sheer hustle 74-72 in overtime last night, in Thursday's semifinals.

The other semifinal will pair the St. Joseph's-Seton Hall survivor against second-seeded Louisville, which looked a bit shabby but clicked when it had to in eliminating Duquesne 84-72.

Scrappy St. Francis blew an 8-point lead with 3 minutes left in regulation time because of a reluctance to play it safe, but finally got home free on a jump shot by George Fox with 4 seconds left in the overtime.

It was the lone score of the 5-minute extra session after an unaccustomed freeze-up for 3½ minutes by the Terriers.

Louisville didn't look at its best. But when Duquesne, led as ever by All America St. Green, scrapped back to come within one point of the Cardinals midway in the second half, Louisville closed ranks to barge into a 67-57 edge that settled matters.

This increase was also reflected in other groups of items distributed by the foundation. According to the report, the foundation received 12,777 letters regarding aids for the blind and the One - Fare Concession, which gives a blind person the privilege of traveling with a sighted companion on the payment of a single fare.

Drainage Work to Resume, Says Engineer for Builder

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Residents jammed the West Bloomfield Township Hall last night when Nere D. Alix, civil engineer specializing in sanitation, attended the special meeting of the Sylvan Manor Assn.

The meeting was called to hear a report of a committee setup by the association to investigate what action is open to residents, who claim that faulty drainage and septic tank problems have caused sewage to back up into their homes during rainy periods.

Alix said he was engaged last fall by David Lukacher, president of Northwood Building Company to erect the major portion of some 200 homes in the subdivision, to investigate the problem and recommend a solution.

As a result, a series of dry wells were installed along the easements of the various homes having trouble. The work was started last December, but had to be halted because of cold weather, according to Alix.

Alix told residents that completion of the dry wells, which will be done as soon as frost is out of the ground, possibly in three weeks, should solve their problem. He said the builder had authorized him to do the work as soon as weather permits.

What homeowners are to do in the meantime was a question asked at the meeting that could not be answered. Homeowners were told to cut down on use of water as much as possible.

Alix agreed with the residents' suggestion that all homeowners who now have trouble should make a written report to the builders, sending a copy to Alix, to make sure no one is overlooked when work resumes.

The committee also recommended individual action be taken in sending complaints to the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission.
