'Pueblo Crew Beaten'

CMDR. LLOYD M. BUCHER

SEOUL (AP) — The commander of the USS Pueblo said today he and his men were beaten in the final weeks of their North Korean captivity in "the most concentrated form of terror that I've ever seen or dreamed is possible."

Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher told a news conference of the beatings after he and his surviving 81 crewmen reached South Korea and were dispatched to a U.S. military hospital for medical checkups.

Some of the men still had black eyes and bruises and others suffered from malnutrician, Bucher said.

"I was beaten less than anyone else," he said.

"I was mostly terrified of possible beating and I was kept in solitary confinement during the entire 11 months and there were many occasions when I didn't think I was going to make it."

He said he was punched and kicked by the North Koreans but never hit with a stick or a club as some of his men were.

"Commencing with the week before last, we went through the most concentrated form of terror that I've ever seen or dreamed is possible . . .

"I wasn't prepared totally for the beatings . . . I thought that they were totally brutal with no mercy of any kind. They were done for one purpose and that was to terrify people. I and about half of the crew last week were beaten badly. There are still many people in the crew today who have carried black eyes and bruised ribs. I had one man last week (who was) beaten with a four by four (timber).

"I think that there are many in my crew who are in very bad physical condition and just from a nutritional point of view.

"The bruises and that sort of thing I think are going to heal up quickly," Bucher said.

The men were in a hospital near Seoul for medical checks before being flown to rejoin their families for Christmas in San Diego, Calif.

DEPARTURE UNCERTAIN

A U.S. military spokesman in Seoul said he did not know how soon the Pueblo men would leave for the United States. But it was thought here they might leave tomorrow.

The spokesman said there were no immediate plans to let the men talk to their families by telephone from Korea.

To win the release of the men after 11 months of captivity, a U.S. representative at the armistice hut in Panmunjom signed a statement apologizing for "the grave acts of espionage committed by the U.S. ship after having intruded into the territorial waters of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea." But first he repudiated the statement and said he was signing it only to free the ship's crew, a procedure to which the North Koreans agreed.

'Korea a Reality for 50,000 GIs'

By BOB HOPE

HOPE

SEOUL, South Korea — You all remember Korea a few years ago when it was in all the papers. That was eons ago, back in 1950. Since then, except for a government crisis or a student riot, Korea, to all intents and purposes, has ceased to exist for the American public.

Well, it still exists for 50,000 GIs who would desperately like to be somewhere else. I know because I looked down as our C141 landed at Kimpo Airport, near Seoul, and there they were.

★ ★ ★

We tried to play to as many as possible, but the odds were staggering. We split into four groups and hit the trail along the DMZ playing in baseball infields, pastures, hillsides, outposts and outhouses.

Everywhere our choppers put us down there were thousands of GIs screaming for a look at the "round-eyes."

They called it a handshake tour, but there were such crowds waiting we put on impromptu shows.

SHOW FOR 15,000

In the afternoon we put on a three-hour show for 15,000 troops at Yonggo-il (don't stare at me, I never heard of it either) and then finished with a night show from a field house in Seoul. We did the whole show over armed forces TV in Korea so we would cover as many as the forgotten men as possible.

The other day the U.N. voted to main-

FREE AT LAST — Released crewmen of the USS Pueblo are escorted by MPs upon their arrival at the U.S. Army 121st Evacuation Hospital at Ascom City, 10 miles west of Seoul, yesterday. The men were welcomed by an Army band playing "California, Here I Come." The crewmen were released at Panmunjom and taken to Ascom City by helicopter.

Mastin Dems' Choice to Chair Supervisors

Philip O. Mastin, 38, of Hazel Park and Alexander C. Perinoff, 56, of Southfield apparently will be the new chairman and vice chairman, respectively, of the new Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The men were nominated during a Democratic caucus yesterday, and because Democrats outnumber Republicans on the new board, 15 to 12, it is expected the two will be elected in January.

★ ★ ★

Mastin defeated Charles B. Edwards Jr. of Madison Heights and Perinoff, who both sought the chairmanship. Perinoff ran successfully against Edwards and former State Sen. Carl O'Brien of Pontiac for the vice chairmanship nomination.

William Mainland of Milford Township was nominated for both jobs, but declined them.

HAZEL PARK COUNCILMAN

Mastin, a Hazel Park city councilman, serves his party as Oakland County deputy chairman. He has been caucus chairman for the Democrats elected to the new board.

Mastin has served as chairman of the present board's boundaries committee.

He has been on the board of supervisors four years.

Doors Will Close for Christmas

Most Pontiac area stores will be closed from 5 p.m. tomorrow until Thursday morning in observance of Christmas.

Pontiac State Bank, Community National Bank, Capitol Savings and Loan and First Federal Savings of Oakland will close most of their offices at 3 p.m. tomorrow and reopen Thursday morning to follow their regular schedule.

★ ★ ★

City and county offices will be closed from noon tomorrow until Thursday.

Pontiac's main post office lobby will be open for mail deposits, access to locked boxes and purchase of stamps from machines.

MAIL PICKUPS SET

Mail will be picked up from deposit points on normal holiday schedules and processed for outgoing dispatch. There will be no regular window or delivery services.

Pontiac Motor Division, the Fisher Body plant and GMC Truck and Coach Division will be closed today, tomorrow and Wednesday in observance of the holiday.

Winds to Buffet Yuletide Shoppers

Cold winds will buffet Pontiac-area residents doing their last-minute Christmas shopping tonight and tomorrow, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau report.

★ ★ ★

Cloudy, windy and colder is the outlook with winds in gusts up to 40 m.p.h., diminishing tomorrow.

Precipitation in the form of snow is given a probability of 40 per cent tonight and 20 per cent tomorrow.

City Tax Airing Set

Litigation over the legality of Pontiac's income tax will again go before a judge on Jan. 7.

Pontiac attorneys involved in the case, Robert D. Coon and Robert Cunningham, are to appear in Division 2 of the Michigan Court of Appeals in Lansing.

Cunningham said the hearing will determine their right to intervene in the case on behalf of their client, Cecil C. Mullinix of 571 Lowell.

After the tax was approved by the city commission in November 1967, Mullinix circulated petitions to have the issue placed on the ballot.

VALIDITY CHALLENGED

Subsequently the validity of the petitions and calling of the election were challenged in Oakland County Circuit Court. Judge William Beer held the levying of the tax legal and the petitions and election invalid.

A motion filed on behalf of Mullinix to intervene in the case was denied by Judge Beer. It is this denial that is now being appealed.

★ ★ ★

The case has been at the State Appeals Court level since last spring. Cunningham indicated that the scheduled hearing will not result in any definite decision, but will only determine the subsequent manner of pleading in the case.

Apollo Speeds Toward Lunar Orbit

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The bold adventurers of Apollo 8 sped ever closer to the moon today and reported they are ready to blast themselves into lunar orbit early Wednesday, fulfilling man's centuries-old desire to explore this mysterious body.

As the spaceship flew unerringly toward the grip of lunar gravity, commander Frank Borman reported the astronauts were healthy and eager to make their Christmas Eve orbit of the moon.

More than 180,000 miles from his home planet and nearly 50,000 miles from the moon, Borman reported:

SEEKS SECURITY

But he emphasized he would not commit his ship to a lunar orbit unless he was satisfied everything was perfect.

"I hope you have everyone looking over everything very carefully," Borman told Mission Control. "We want a perfect spacecraft before we consider the LOI burn."

That critical engine burn is to occur early Wednesday when Apollo 8 is behind the moon, out of radio communication with earth. It will be about 15 minutes after the firing, when the ship emerges from the backside, before the ground will know the success of the maneuver.

LUNAR FIELD

Air Force Col. Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders reach a climactic moment at 3:29 p.m. EST today when they will be captured by the gravity field of the moon—the first time man will be in the grasp of another heavenly body.

The tug of the moon will increase Apollo 8's speed, and the spacemen will sweep toward their historic lunar orbit. A burst from their spaceship engine at 4:59 a.m. tomorrow is to swing them into orbit just 69 miles above the surface.

Glynn Lunney, a flight controller, said today that "everything with the spacecraft and the people looks good for the lunar orbit. The spacecraft is working in an essentially perfect fashion."

He said the only problem was in a secondary cooling system.

SLIGHT PROBLEM

"It appears," he said, "that perhaps the back pressure valve did not close completely in the secondary evaporator and that's being trouble shot right now. I don't think that's anything serious."

Lunney said "we're in good shape as far as the consumables are concerned—the fuel, oxygen and hydrogen."

He said that the course of Apollo 8 was so perfect that a midcourse correction planned today had been cancelled. He said a small correction change would be made about five hours before the astronauts are to reach lunar orbit.

SPACE TOOTHBRUSH — Air Force Maj. William A. Anders displays his toothbrush to television viewers while riding in the Apollo 8 spacecraft towards the moon yesterday. Anders released the toothbrush to show it floating, weightless, in the cabin. The astronauts were able to photograph each other and televise the images back to earth, but an attempt to show the earth from 120,000 nautical miles away failed because of a malfunctioning telephoto lens.

3-Day Truce Ends Series of Attacks

SAIGON (AP)—A Vietcong-proclaimed Christams truce period began at 1 a.m. Tuesday in the first such standdown in the Vietnam war since the Tet lunar new year last January.

The Tet cease-fire was broken by an enemy offensive that brought the bloodiest fighting of the war. Every truce in Vietnam so far—which each side orders independently—has been marked by some shooting.

★ ★ ★

The Vietcong's national Liberation Front announced it would observe a three-day cease-fire over the Christmas holiday. The Saigon government has said it will put in effect a 24-hour cease-fire for Christmas, beginning at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

(Saigon time is 13 hours ahead of Eastern Standard.)

RED ATTACKS

The heaviest fighting, often at hand-to-hand range with mortars and rockets falling on American troops at the rate of 100 a minute, raged only six miles from the truce site where U.S. and Vietcong representatives are to meet Christmas Day to discuss the release of three American prisoners.

A force of 1,500 freshly equipped North Vietnamese soldiers stormed out of Cambodia yesterday morning and lost least 103 dead and a huge pile of weapons and ammunition in a six-hour attack on an American patrol base 44 miles northwest of Saigon.

The U.S. infantrymen, in deep bunkers but outnumbered by about three-to-one, reported 17 of their men killed and 12 wounded. Bazooka-firing North Vietnamese torpedoed their way through the barbed wire and fought in the trenches connecting the bunkers. At least 30 at least 103 dead and a huge pile of enemy bodies were strung along the barbed wire.

Six American B52 bombers attacked positions within three miles of the patrol base and of the truce site early today, dropping nearly 200 tons of explosives on "enemy activity, base camps, storage areas and bunker complexes," the U.S. command said.

Corporation to Open New Medical Unit

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Space Defense Corp., 1600 N. Woodward, has announced the formation of a new Bio-Med Products department.

The new department will begin operating Jan. 1, and a department director will be named at a later date, company officials report.

Bio-med products will manufacture and market a new line of products for research in medicine and biology. Some of the products were developed from the outset to meet identified needs in the rapidly accelerating areas of medical and biological research.

Other new products are a direct conversion of science and new technology produced by the corporation under government sponsored research contracts. Additionally, marketing rights are being acquired for related and complementary products manufactured by other firms.

Product line details will be announced later, company officials said, adding that the emphasis will be placed on instruments which will contribute to research in heart disease.

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners tonight at 8 will hear a request to amend the city code regarding the regulation of awnings. The request was submitted by Howard C. Weber of the building department.

The request is based upon a complete review recently made of the city awning regulations and recommends certain controls for awnings, marquees and canopies as found in the 1965 edition of the basic building code.

Other items scheduled for discussion include a recommendation to pass a resolution requesting the southeastern Oakland County Water Authority and the City of Detroit Water Board for approval to serve the Erb-Restrick and Byrne Plywood property, located on Cole. Part of the property extends into Troy.

VC Nixes Ky Talk Terms

PARIS (AP) — The Vietcong today rejected the idea of direct talks with the South Vietnamese government as advanced by Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Tran Buu Kiem, president of the foreign affairs commission of the National Liberation Front, told Agence France Presse, the French news agency, that direct talks between the NLF and "the present rulers in Saigon . . are impossible because they do not represent the South Vietnamese population and cannot be accepted by the NLF as valid negotiating partners."

Ky flew back to Saigon to talk with President Nguyen Van Thieu, and on his arrival scotched the impression he gave in Paris that he was considering talks with the Vietcong soon to bring peace.

He told a news conference in Saigon that after peace returned to South Vietnam, the Saigon government would deal with all opposition groups including the National Liberation Front. But he said his government will never recognize the NLF "as an entity. But we admit it is a reality."

'MUST FACE REALITY'

In Paris, speaking to a CBS panel, he had not been so specific, though there too, he spoke of the NLF as a "reality."

"Once we recognize its reality, we have to face this reality and try to solve it," he said.

★ ★ ★

Ky said several times he would propose to Thieu direct contacts between their government and its opposition in South Vietnam, including the NLF leaders. But his imperfect English made his precise meaning unclear.

★ ★ ★

His talk of accepting the Vietcong's "reality" appeared to envisage an entirely new policy toward the NLF, but at other times he seemed to restate the old Saigon offer to talk directly with individual NLF leaders who openly relinquish their Communist allegiance.

KIDNAP SUSPECT IN PAIN — Gary Krist (left), a suspect in the kidnaping of Barbara Mackle, 20, in Atlanta, Ga., last week, grimaces in pain as he is driven by FBI agents to a local hospital yesterday. Cold Beers? No, 'Hot Line'

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — "Send up a couple of beers," said the wool buyer from Coonabarabaran. But he was talking on LBJ's "hot line" to the White House, and soon the place was swarming with police.

A Canberra hotel keeper told today about the incident during President Johnson's visit last December for the funeral of Prime Minister Harold Holt.

★ ★ ★

"I was behind the desk going over some dockets when these grim-faced Yanks walked in and said they wanted to make a security check of the premises," said the hotel manager, who asked that his name not be used.

★ ★ ★

"Some people came in from the PMG (postmaster general) department and installed a private phone to the White House. It was like any other phone except it had a picture of the White House on the dial.

"The President never really checked in. It seems it is the custom for security reasons to book him in several hotels. He stayed at another hotel.

"Later this wool buyer was assigned to the room which had been set aside for Mr. Johnson.

"This bloke goes up to the room and before he unpacks his bags he picks up the phone.

"There is a blip and the other end says, 'White House?'

"'Room service — I want room service,'" the guy says.

"'This is the White House' comes from the other end.

"'Send up a couple of cold beers,' the traveler said.

"We had forgotten that the phone was still in the room. Soon the place was swarmming with G-men and police.

tain its peace-keeping forces in South Korea and the shouts of joy could be heard as far away as three feet. After a 15-year "truce" with the enemy still taking potshots at you, you can understand why.

★ ★ ★

But there's one factor in South Korea which strengthens our determination to hold the line. Unlike the South Vietnamese, the South Koreans are united in their hatred for communism. They're individually committed in the fight against the North Koreans, whom they regard as anything but brothers.

A touching example of this dedication was manifested during our stay in Seoul. A large sum of money was contributed by the South Koreans, under the auspices of a newspaper, and turned over to President Park. The money was to be used for counterespionage activities.

'ACTION' AT DMZ

All the "action," of course, is at the DMZ — a vast, desolate stretch of land by day and a treacherous strip crawling with human booby traps at night.

Despite the most sophisticated detecting devices available, the infiltrators keep coming, paying more and more dearly for their fanaticism.

They have apparently been told that if captured by the "uncivilized" Americans they will be brutally tortured, so when captured, they blow themselves up with grenades. Messy, but effective.

'HARDER SINCE PUEBLO'

Gen. Leand G. Cagwin, commanding the 2nd Division which patrols the DMZ, summed it up this way: "I'll say we've got a harder front since the Pueblo. But we give them a bloody nose every time they try to come over."

At the DMZ I talked to Lt. Dennis Lauer of Chicago, who commands a reconnaissance battalion strike force. These guys are the troubleshooters for the observation and guard posts which need supplies and help along the bleak frontier.

★ ★ ★

★ — ★ ★

Some of Lauer's men had to go in with an APC (armored personnel carrier) to rescue the injured GIs. Helicopters could not be used because of the delicacy of the truce. The North Koreans are looking for any pretext to scream "violation."

'CRITICAL STAGE'

There are many here who think the situation in Korea has reached a critical stage. Since the Pueblo, the North Koreans have become more arrogant daily.

★ ★ ★

One North Korean defector revealed that Kim Il Sung has already been promised a really elegant birthday present in 1970 — South Korea. But I'd bet against Kim Il Sung getting his birthday present.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the United Nations forces, the ROK (Republic of Korea) troops are among the best fighting men in the world. They covered themselves with glory in Vietnam and are feared by the Cong.

A lot of our boys are going home for Christmas, most of them wearing bandages and plaster casts over wounds of war. But they're anxious to get back to the world — that's what they call the U.S.

I visited a Marine in a hospital in Kishine, Japan, and I asked him "Are you going to see our show tomorrow?" He said, "Hell, no: I'm going home tomorrow."

★ ★ ★

It's a long way to come to have somebody throw that line at you — but I guess he's had enough of combat.

Waterford Father, Son Die; Police Rule Murder-Suicide

Waterford Township police said today they believe heavy drinking took place previous to the murder-suicide shooting deaths of a township father and son late Saturday.

Found dead about 10:50 p.m. in the living room of their home at 6185 Waterfront were James Delmer Miller, 59, and his son, Ronald D. Miller, 24.

Their bodies were discovered by a friend of the Miller family identified as Donald Dorman, 21, of 6156 Andersonville, Waterford Township, according to police.

Investigators said evidence indicates that Ronald first shot his father with a 22-caliber derringer found at the scene then turned the gun on himself.

Both men died of head wounds, police said. An autopsy is scheduled today at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Township Det. James A. Webb said heavy drinking had apparently taken place just before the incident, but added it was not known whether the two men argued.

He said liquor bottles and glasses were strewn about the room.

★ ★ ★

"The first shooting took place at close range," he said, "and the second was apparently self-inflicted."

Webb said that James' wife, Della, 53, was at a Christmas party elsewhere at the time of the double slaying.

2 Major Storms Lash Northern Part of Nation

By The Associated Press

Two major storm systems, a half continent apart, buffeted the northern part of the nation today with high winds and heavy rain and snow causing hazardous conditions for preholiday travelers.

One storm centered in upper Wisconsin drove heavy snowfalls into blizzard conditions from the eastern Dakotas to the Great Lakes.

Two feet of snow shrouded Duluth, Minn., and Sioux Falls, S.D., with as much as 18 inches falling in 12 hours during the night. Marquette, Mich., struggled with 27 inches of snow while Eau Claire, Wis., had 22 inches and Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn., had 14 inches with snow continuing to fall.

Winds of 30 to 45 miles an hour piled up 10-foot drifts in the open areas of Nebraska, South Dakota and Minnesota, closing roads and isolating farm families and stranding motorists.

Subzero air, rushing south behind the storm system, further aggravated the plight of snowbound Midwesterners.

The second storm, off the Pacific coast of Canada, hammered the Northwest with gale force winds. Tides along the Oregon and Washington coasts were up to two feet above normal.

The flow of Pacific air spread rain over the coastal areas but dumped up to a foot of snow in the Cascades. The relatively warm air also brought rising temperatures to the Northwest in sharp contrast to the freezing temperatures over much of the northern half of the country.

SNOOPY'S HOME AGAIN — Seventeen-month-old Beth Wilder of Kalamazoo will have a merry Christmas, after all Her wandering puppy, Snoopy, is home again. The dog had wandered away to a nearby airport Monday, where it was adopted by a car rental agency employe. She turned him out Wednesday when she found he was not exactly housebroken, and he followed an 11-year-old girl home from school. After a newspaper published a photo of a mourning Beth, Herbert Mearing of nearby Portage realized that it was Snoopy who was his house guest. Girl and dog were reunited Saturday.

British Vet Plays Santa to U.S. Wounded

CHICAGO (AP) — A London-born veteran of British army service played Santa Sunday to wounded servicemen at Great Lakes Naval Hospital for the fifth straight Christmas because, he says, he appreciates Americans.

Edward Hobbs, 42, gave a party for 200 of the hospital's 1,113 patients, providing Christmas stockings, musical entertainment and refreshments.

Some 600 to 700 of the patients were well enough to go home for Christmas. "I was very happy that so many could go home," Hobbs said.

STARTED IN 1963

Hobbs, a bachelor who became an American citizen in April, started his Yuletide visits to the military hospital in 1963 when his customers gave him a large number of holiday gifts.

"It seemed like such a waste," he said. He added that he did not have enough space to store all his presents. He suggested to his customers that they make gifts instead to injured servicemen at Great Lakes. Some 60 surprised sailors received Christmas packages that year.

★ ★ ★

Hobbs said the men were so grateful that he decided to make the giving an annual event. His customers enthusiastically joined the effort. He puts all his tips into a holiday fund.

★ ★ ★

In 1966, he expanded the holiday activities to include a party. This year he gave a midyear lift to the sailors' morale on Independence Day with a "Christmas in July" celebration.

'BEAUTIFUL PARTY'

"It was wonderful to see a man discover that he hadn't been completely forgotten," Hobbs said. Sunday, he said, "was a beautiful party. I think we got the boys' spirits going real good. They were very happy."

★ ★ ★

Hobbs said 250 stockings filled with toiletry items, candies and stamps had been prepared, and the 50 left over would be distributed to wounded Vietnam veterans expected to arrive at the hospital that night or the next day.

★ ★ ★

School Board Action Attacked

Kalamazoo Recall Drive Is On

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — A citizens' group has begun a petition drive designed to force a recall election of the city's seven-member school board whose action in borrowing $12 million for school construction without bringing it to a public vote has angered some Kalamazoo residents.

At issue is the board's decision to make use of a state law that permits school district's to borrow up to 5 per cent of their assessed valuation for school construction and then pay the loans back by levying a millage increase.

The board said the money would be used for construction of a new high school on the city's extreme west side and an addition to Loy-Norrix High School on the city's south side. An additional 2.6 mills would be needed to pay back the loan.

"The main issue is that the voters should have the right to vote on whether they are for the construction or not," said Robert Van Streain, a father of four who is heading the petition drive.

★ ★ ★

"Kalamazoo voters last year turned down the money, and it is apparent the board felt the same would happen again, so they bypassed the people," he said.

Detroiters Map Attack on Inner-City Problems

DETROIT (AP) — A $20-million plan for inner city action was submitted today to the Detroit Common Council.

The plan calls first for better housing for residents of the inner city. Drawing up the blueprint was the 102-man Citizens Governing Board (CGB), speaking for residents of the inner city.

After housing the group listed employment, health and education as primary needs of people in an area bounded roughly by Hamtramck, downtown Detroit, Mount Elliott on the east and Grand River and the New York Central Railroad tracks on the east—an area of about 19 square miles.

The group asks that its blueprint be used in Detroit's share of the federal Model City funds.

Specifics included:

- A model neighborhood police precinct with civilian review boards for each of several suggested subprecincts.
- A joint development council of CGB members and city officials who would promote better housing.
- A five-year program to raise incomes in the area.
- Citizens councils to participate in school decisions.
- Offices in each school to pass out information on benefits available to them, but for which they do not apply because of lack of knowledge.
- Prepaid health insurance for all inner city residents.

Numerous other reforms were suggested in the package.

The group indicated in a statement that it was prepared for a lengthy attack on the ills of the inner city:

"The belief that all goals can be fully achieved within five years is perhaps a pleasant fiction. Conditions which have been developed over 50 years cannot all be corrected in five."

Troy's New $85,000 'Snorkel' Fire Truck

Troy Fire Chief Lauds Value of 'Snorkel' Truck

TROY — This city's newest piece of fire equipment has yet to see action here, but members of the Rochester Fire Department would probably be happy to recommend it.

★ ★ ★

Troy's new $85,000 "snorkel" truck got its "baptism of fire" Dec. 12 in a blaze at Case's Hardware Store in downtown Rochester and proved a valuable addition to the local fire-fighting forces.

The truck, which possesses an 85-foot extension ladder with an aerial platform at the end, was used to pour water down on the fire from above.

According to Troy Fire Chief Mike Ford, the snorkel, which was purchased in September, has not yet been needed to fight a blaze in Troy, although it has been taken to the scene of several fires.

RARE MACHINE

The 45,000-pound vehicle is the third of its kind in Michigan (Southfield and Pontiac have the others) and only the 16th made by the manufacturer, the Sutphen Fire Co. of Columbus, which mounts the aerial assembly on a General Motors chassis.

★ ★ ★

The platform-basket, which has a maximum capacity of 1,400 pounds, is kept horizontal by an automatic levelling device as it is raised hydraulically from the ground.

★ ★ ★

Controls for raising, lowering and extending the ladder are located both in the basket and on the side of the truck at ground level.

★ ★ ★

The crewman handling the controls at ground level, Ford explained, can override those aloft — a precaution in case they should be overcome by smoke or some malfunction should occur in the two-way intercom system which connects the ground crewman and the basket.

★ ★ ★

Mounted on either side of the basket are two 500-gallon-per-minute nozzles, which can be adjusted easily to produce wide or narrow streams of water.

Other equipment which is carried on the truck, the chief said, includes 209 feet of ground ladders, a life net, axes and air packs.

In Rochester District

Parents Study School Crowding

ROCHESTER — A committee of high school and junior high parents has been formed in this school district to study plans for accommodating students at Rochester High School next year.

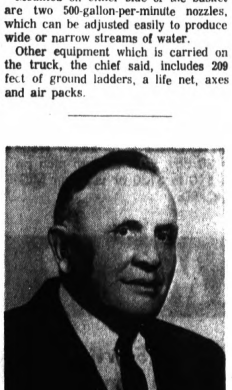
★ ★ ★

The committee is studying a variety of proposals designed to alleviate overcrowding at the junior high schools and, at the same time, make provisions for the opening of Adams High School, scheduled for the latter part of next school year.

The Secondary Housing Committee is composed of 18 parents representing secondary students of all age levels and geographical areas in the district. Dr. Harry Jones, director of instruction, and administrators from all secondary schools are assisting the committee.

★ ★ ★

Meetings are held each Tuesday evening, and committee members hope, according to Jones, to present a plan for approval by the board of education in January.



HENRY SHETTLER

Forestry Veteran to Retire

A man who has spent almost half of the past 23 years up a tree is coming down to earth.

Henry Shettler, foreman of the forestry crew of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, retires Dec. 31. During the past 10 years Shettler and his 10-man crew have been responsible for tree maintenance at authority parks in the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Shettler was hired Oct. 14, 1945, and was one of the authority's first construction foreman, where he worked on the development of Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford and Metropolitan Beach near Mount Clemens.

In the early 1940s Shettler was employed as a gear cutter. Previously in the 1930s, he was with the National Park Service, where he supervised construction at the Interlochen Recreation Area and the Waterloo Recreation Area near Chelsea.

JOINED AUTHORITY

When Shettler was asked to join the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, he hired five men and his crew began at Kensington Park. Their tasks included the removal of tree stumps on the new 1,200-acre lake bottom that would soon increase Kent Lake from its original 60 acres.

Shettler spent four years helping with the construction of Metropolitan Beach. At that time, he and his family lived in Roseville and one of his big jobs was helping level the tons of sand fill that formed the crescent design of Metropolitan Beach covering 1¼ miles along the Lake St. Clair waterfront.

"In those days you could sink over your heard in the marshes," he recalled and stated that shortly after the parking lot was filled it would seem to move up and down as people drove over it."

Since 1958 Shettler has been foreman of the forestry crew, which performs a wide variety of tree maintenance work, including the removal of dead or broken branches, spraying and fertilizing operations, removal of trees and the planting of seedlings throughout parks of the authority.

He has no special plans for retirement.

Shettler and his wife, Marjorie, make their home at 116 Franklin, Milford. They are the parents of six, ranging in age from 20 to 26 years.

Taxpayer Group Likes Full-Time County Board

The Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpapers Association has come out in favor full-time jobs for the income board of supervisors.

"There is no evil in full-time jobs for the new board," said George H. Williams, chairman off the group's county committee, "provided the extra money paid out in salaries is returned to taxpayers in lowered taxes and more representative programs."

★ ★ ★

The taxpayer organization reportedly believes that a full-time or fully reimbursed board conceivably could keep county affairs out of the hands of a "few special interest groups and officials" by paying each supervisor for the time he spends working for the people and researching material he is to vote upon.

Williams noted that in the past the part-time supervisor was reimbursed only for meetings attended.

★ ★ ★

"Under this system, an establishment was created by a handful of men who had sufficient motives and enough personal income to devote free time to county affairs," Williams claimed.

State Traffic Kills 10 Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 2,298 fatalities in 1966 was the record for any previous year.

The Associated Press count of weekend traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The fatality which brought the state to its record-matching toll was that of 43-year-old Leo A. Czarnecki of South Bend, Ind. Czarnecki was killed Sunday night when he was hit by a car while walking along U.S. 31 near Niles in the southwestern corner of the state.

OTHERS KILLED

Others killed were:

Marion Offill, 51, and his wife, Leola, 52, of Flint, when their car skidded on a slippery road and smashed into a tree Sunday night in Saginaw County.

Richard C. James, 37, of Central Lake, who was a passenger in a car involved in a head-on collision Sunday evening on M75 near Boyne City.

Pearl Phillips, 61, of near Battle Creek, in a head-on collision of two cars Sunday night on a road near Battle Creek.

Kenneth Jemson, 11, of Battle Creek, when he was hit by a car Sunday in Battle Creek. Police said the driver, Walter Dozier, 31, of Battle Creek, was charged with negligent homicide.

July Ann Jacobs, 19, of Monroe, when her car crashed Sunday in a culvert in Bedford Township, Monroe County.

Christopher Turner, 3, of Burt, who was struck by a car Saturday on M13 near his home in the Saginaw County community of Burt.

Eugenie G. Kann, 55 of Ann Arbor, in the head-on collision of two cars Friday night on a rural road five miles northeast of Ann Arbor.

Daryl F. Huggard, 21 of Bay City, when the car in which he was riding hit another vehicle and struck a guard rail Friday night on Midland Road near Bay City.

Bailey Grimes, 45, of Warren, who died Saturday from injuries suffered intersection.

Walled Lake, Novi to Detail Plans for Sanitary Sewers

Officials from Walled Lake and Novi will present a progress report on their proposed sanitary sewer system before the State Water Resources Commission Jan. 15.

The state called the show-cause hearing to see what corrective measures the communities have taken to halt the pollution of Walled Lake.

★ ★ ★

A year ago the communities were notified that they were illegally polluting the lake. The commission ordered corrective measures which called for installation of sanitary sewers.

Plans and specifications for a joint sewer system have been completed. The system will cover all of Walled Lake City and the north side of Novi, which borders the lake.

COUNTY WILL DO WORK

The communities have contracted with the Oakland County Department of Public Works (DPW) for construction of the sewers.

Currently the DPW is handling negotiations between the communities and Wayne County for extension of a trunkline sewer north through Novi to Walled Lake. The line now ends at 9½ Mile Road near Haggerty.

Timetable for the construction depends greatly on when the negotiations with Wayne County will be completed.

The system will cost approximately $6 million, according to Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey. A federal grant of $1,001,000 has been received and the other approximately $5 million will come from general obligation bonds sold by the county. The county will be repaid from service charges.

STEPS OUTLINED

Once the extension of the trunkline is approved, the next step will be to obtain approval of the bond sale from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

City Pupils to Buy Youngsters Gifts

Eighth and ninth grade students of Mike Oman's social studies classes at Lincoln Junior High School in Pontiac have been collecting money since mid-November for the Oakland County Children's Center and Fairlawn at Pontiac State Hospital.

The classes have raised the money to provide Christmas gifts and candy for children at the two state-supported institutions through a bake sale and individual student contributions.

★ ★ ★

Four Canadians Found Asphyxiated in Trailer

BELLEVILLE (AP) — Four Canadians were found asphyxiated in a travel trailer Sunday in a Belleville church parking lot where they apparently had stopped for the night while vacationing.

State Police identified the victims as Rolland and Dora Clermont, both about 50, and Paul Andre Vezeau, about 25, and Jocelyne Vezeau, about 23. All were from St. Vincent de Paul, Quebec.

★ ★ ★

Officers said the bodies were found by the pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church after Sunday services in the Detroit suburb.

Autopsies were scheduled today.

Police said it appeared that th efour may have died from lack of oxygen, caused by a small furnace in the trailer using up the oxygen inside the 23-foot travel-house trailer.

Wahl Will Offer New Appointees

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Supervisor Roy Wahl will offer new appointments to the township planning commission at tonight's township board meeting at 7:30 in the Township Hall, 2060 Opdyke.

It will be the third time Wahl has attempted to make appointments to the board.

The supervisor, who is the only Democrat on the board, twice has seen his appointees defeated. While the township supervisor makes the appointments, the board must approve them.

The commission is four members short.

FIRST VOTE 4-1

A month ago, Wahl nominated Claude Arnett, 320 N. Lake Angelus, and Ronald E. Drake, 2143 Allerton, to the commission. Arnett and Drake, both unsuccessful candidates for trustee in the November election, were rejected by the board, 4-1, with only Mrs. Drake, newly elected to the board, voting for the appointments.

Two weeks ago, the supervisor nominated Mrs. Drake and Arnett for the posts. The two were defeated, 4-2, with Clerk Mrs. Greta Block joining Mrs. Drake in the voting.

In other business, the board will consider a request for renewal of a dismantling license from Sam Gottsman for one acre on Taylor Road.

Earlier this year, the board went to court to obtain an injunction to prohibit Gottsman from operating his business on an adjoining five-acre parcel. However, a nonconforming usage license permitted use of the one-acre parcel. The property is in residential and agricultural zoning.

M59 Bid Opening Set

The State Highway Department will open bids Jan. 8 on the widening and paving of four-tenths of a mile on M59 in Highland Township.

The improvement, slated for the Duck Lake Road intersection, is estimated to cost $210,000.

New High-Voltage Line Put in Service by 2 Power Firms

Michigan's first electric interconnection line to transmit current at 345,000 volts between Consumers Power Co. and the Detroit Edison Co. has begun operation between substations near Flint and Pontiac.

The highest interconnection transmission voltage used in Michigan up to now has been 138,000 volts.

★ ★ ★

The 43-mile stretch of extra-high-voltage steel transmission tower line is the first leg of a system that will eventually connect Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois utility companies for purposes of exchange of power for reliability of service and for emergency.

Consumers Power installed 23 miles of the first leg from Thetford Substation, north of Flint. Detroit Edison installed the 20-mile segment from Pontiac to the service area border at the Oakland County line.

220 MILES BY JULY

By July 1969 both utilities expect to have completed construction of their portions of a total 220 miles of 345,000-volt transmission lines across the southern half of the lower peninsula. Interconnections will be made near Toledo with the Toledo Edison Co, system and near South Haven, Mich., with Indiana and Michigan Electric Co.

Utility companies in Ohio and Indiana also are constructing similar transmission lines to make a complete loop within Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. This, in turn, will be connected to the Illinois system.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Electric Power Pool, of which Consumers Power and Detroit Edison are the principal members, will operate the Michigan portion of the system from a control center being constructed near Ann Arbor.

The Consumers Power and Detroit Edison systems have been interconnected since 1928 and have operated as an integrated power pool since 1962.

It Seems to Me . . .

Observance of Christmas Most Joyous Time of Year

It's soon here—the Big Day.

Surely Christmas stands apart and is in a class by itself. Happily, there are many other joyous occasions throughout the year. But the 25th of December reigns supreme and is adorned by a halo enclosing the full 24 hours. Even those who are not moved recognize the widespread honor paid the day in general and accept it accordingly.

★ ★ ★

For the vast majority, Christmas in 1968 should be one of unusual rejoicing. Employment in Pontiac has been at an all-time peak. It outranks all the Christmases since Chief Pontiac sheathed his tomahawk. Wholesale, retail, manufacturing and all other callings have been busy —very busy. The sum total is gigantic. The Press has inquired around and speaks with the assurance of actual contacts.

★ ★ ★

Rain, snow, hail, or high winds can't dim Wednesday's lustre. Santa Claus stands astride the universe. Doing for others fills the hearts of everyone everywhere. And even those who have suffered misfortunes can smile through the clouds and share the widespread joy.

We honor Christ.

We honor each other.

Be ye joyful.

'Sacred' Territory . . .

Two Sixth Fleet Destroyers of ours have been cruising about in the Black Sea.

Well, why shouldn't they?

For a considerable period, the belligerent Russians have taken the attitude that "this is a private sea."

The Black Sea is just as free as the Gulf of Mexico. The entry is a bit tricky and you pass Istanbul through that narrow passage into the "open waters," so the aggressive Reds have tried to imply that this was sacred territory. Once you've negotiated the narrows, much of the shoreline is Russian.

So what?

India dominates the Indian Ocean but it's accessible to the wide, wide world. The Reds were incensed when we passed into this "sacred" territory and shadowed us at varying distances. So be it. Perhaps we should shadow them tomorrow.

Unless certain freedoms are observed, the laws of time and custom come slowly into play until they're a fixture. The Black Sea is a case in point. We do well to sail in, sail around and sail out when and as we please.

Future Olympics . . .

With the 1968 Olympics written into history, thoughts turn to the future.

The 1972 games are in Munich.

Should the U.S. drop out?

This may shock a few, but the reason is far from a secret. From times immemorial, only amateurs have competed. Some ninety-odd percentage of the nations accept this fact graciously.

But the Russians don't.

(They're "under orders.")

★ ★ ★

The crooked Reds hit below the belt here just as openly as they do everywhere else. They are without qualms or honor. If you're a high jumper in that ruthless land of conscienceless schemers, the government tells you high jumping is your full time occupation. That's the way you'll earn your living. Period.

★ ★ ★

Hence you're a professional in any definition ever devised and pros are barred from Olympic teams in other nations. Why should the U.S. give approval to crooks and palpable cheats? Why should we bow abjectly before these mugwumps?

★ ★ ★

When you don't play the accepted rules, you should be given the bum's rush. The Russians make international suckers and saps out of the rest of the world.

And in Conclusion . . .

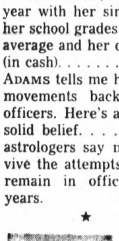
★ ★ ★

JULIE BUDD, 14 earns $20,000 a year with her singing. She just got her school grades with a straight "B" average and her dad gave her $10.00 (in cash). . . . . Judge CLARK ADAMS tells me he strongly supports movements backing law enforcing officers. Here's a grand spot to have solid belief. . . . . French astrologers say DE GAULLE will survive the attempts of an assassin and remain in office for three more years.

★ ★ ★



VICKI

Personal nomination as one of the attractive young ladies in the area: Vicki Chambers. And the good-looking red-head can really sing.

. . . . . University of Colorado regents voted to ban the chapter of Students for a Democratic Society. (Pause here for loud applause.) . . . . . . . Teacher: "And what did God do on that seventh day? student: "He watched football on TV."

★ ★ ★

My wife's magazine Bible is Reader's Digest and yet she failed to see my name and a quotation from the article I had in Look Magazine. I weep. . . . . There's a new candidate for the honor of standing as golf's longest hitter: MARTINUS ROESINK. He's from Holland and plans to give the American scene a whirl. . . . . A new program for the development of medical schools involves $330 million by 1970 and $430 million by 1976. How about Pontiac's Osteopathic College getting a share of this? The capacity of our medical institutions will be increased by 75%. . . . . Overheard: "Smart husbands give wives expensive china so they won't trust them to do the dishes." . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—EUGENE RUSSELL's unprecedented term as two-year Chamber of Commerce president; the J's—The Weatherman.

Grim Attack By UFO's!

Cabinet Consolidation Unwise

By RAYMOND MOLEY

It's doubtful whether any Cabinet officer ever took over the department to which he was assigned without big and bright ideas about how it should be reorganized. And the 12 men who were presented by President-elect Nixon will be no exceptions.

MOLEY

No doubt they will find as the months pass that they will have their hands full trying to understand the meaning and purpose of bureaucratic monstrosities over which, at least nominally, they must preside.

But in the final happy days before their real work begins, there have been a lot of brave plans about reorganization. Some of these pertain to the idea of consolidation among the departments already in existence.

One suggestion is that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare absorb the two latest members — Housing and Urban Development and Transportation — into a vast new entity called the Department of Human Resources.

IN FOR TROUBLE

But any such semantic change (for the present bureaus and agencies would still be there) would encounter not only the consent of Congress but the willingness of the new secretaries George Romney and John Volpe to give up the honors and prerequisites they have so gladly assumed. Once seated, a department head cherishes his office like a cat seeking the warmest place before the fireplace.

There was talk about the merger of Commerce with Labor a while ago, but that failed.

And from another source there has come a suggestion about merging Agriculture and Interior in a big affair perhaps to be called a Department of Natural Resources.

As we look back into the origins of the present departments we find that for the most part (except in those which existed under President Washington) they were created because either a function in an existing department became important enough to claim individual recognition or because a lot of new activities were created by Congress and needed to be nicely packed in one new department.

BROAD INTERESTS

The general theory (if there has been a theory) has been that a department represents certain broad interests either in the government itself (Defense or Post Office) or in the private sector (Commerce, Labor, Agriculture) or a lot of new activities assumed by the federal government which were formerly state, local or private affairs.

★ ★ ★

Later on we may see, as we have seen in the past, struggles between department heads over the control of agencies.

Bob Considine Says:

Mom's Christmas Trees Lingered On for a Reason

NEW YORK—Received an interesting letter the other day from someone who signed himself with the improbable name of Bob Considine. He asked that an old Christmas story by an author of the same name be reprinted on this day.

CONSIDINE

Here goes:

My mother's Christmas trees always made talk around Swamppoodle, the old Irish colony near the Union Station in Washington. It wasn't because they were big — we never paid more than 50 cents for a tree — or because they were ornately decorated.

★ ★ ★

Mom's trees made talk because mom always found it difficult to take them down after Christmas.

People who didn't know her too well, and who might drop into our house around the middle of February for a cup of tea, would stop as if shot when they saw our tree still standing. Their jaws would drop, and you could see behind their blank eyes that they were counting the long weeks since Christmas trees had disappeared from their own well-ordered houses.

LIKE A SKELETON

By around St. Patrick's Day mom's tree would have shed most of its needles, and these she would have carefully swept up and burned sweet-scentedly in our Latrobe stove.

The tree would stand there like a bemedalled skeleton, or a picked but proudly decorated turkey. Our cats liked it best in this stage of disrepair. It was easier for them to climb.

But at last it would come down, sometimes because the older children were getting embarrassed about it.

The only time we didn't have a tree was the year my father died. The tree was already in its black iron base, but untrimmed, on Christmas Eve when the cop knocked on the door. Mom came to the door, wiping her hands on her apron, and the rest of us gathered around behind her. The cop took off his cap when he saw her, swallowed, and told mom that pop had died at his watchman's job. It was the only time we all cried at once.

Mrs. Campbell, next door, had a tree for us that Christmas after we took ours down.

The neighbors sent us a lot of things for the wake, pies, a ham, and half a keg of beer.

Mom didn't get around to a regular tree for a couple of years after that. But when she did, she had not lost her touch. She preserved her trees and she kept her dearest treasures on them, ad infinitum.

It took a long time to understand mom's reluctance to part with her Christmas trees. And then one day I knew. My mother was only trying to space out the tender, simple joys of Yuletide.

Reasons for Joy

London Mirror

Three good reasons for the Americans to enjoy a bumper celebration this Christmas:

1. A new administration, confident of success and as yet untarnished by failure, is about to take over.

2. Peace in Vietnam is now a firm prospect.

3. Three American spacemen — God willing — will be safely orbiting the moon.

The Mirror also gives the Americans three good reasons for keeping the festive spirit in realistic perspective.

1. President-elect Richard Nixon faces problems at home and abroad as great as any which confronted his immediate predecessors.

2. The Vietnam peace talks in Paris (assuming that the participants finally agree on the shape of the conference table) will be frustratingly protracted.

3. The moon flight will still leave America with her feet on earth, in the unenviable role of custodian of the western way of life.

★ ★ ★

Particularly at Christmas we remember our friends. And we do not forget that Uncle Sam, much as we may criticize him for his brashness, chide him for his stubbornness and censure him for his intolerance, is very much on our side.

Mr. Nixon, the Republican, takes office with a priceless political bonus: the fighting in Vietnam has shifted from the military to the negotiators. He can thank President Johnson, the Democrat, for that.

★ ★ ★

We have critized L. B. J. for his methods in Vietnam. Only bigots and idiots have impugned his motives.

But it was American lives and American dollars which were ungrudgingly used in a cause backed by successive American administrations — and for that matter, successive British governments too, though not in the hard way with soldiers and arms.

We wish we could send Mr. Nixon glad tidings of comfort and joy for the months ahead. We can only wish him all the luck in the world. He will need it.

★ ★ ★

He takes office knowing that America has never been more divided politically.

He must quickly try to inject some sense into the international monetary system before the whole wobbly apparatus goes completely mad.

He must try to establish a dialog with the Soviet leaders.

And he must resist the temptation of using America's eventual withdrawal from Vietnam as an excuse for a return to isolationism.

★ ★ ★

Broken A-String

Boston (Mass.) Herald Traveler

Pianist Vladimir Horowitz was deep in Rachmaninoff's B Flat Sonata during a Sunday concert in New York City when the piano went "boing." Mr. Horowitz pressed onward, and the piano made a jangling sound.

★ ★ ★

The pianist paused while a technician raced on stage and snipped a broken A-string from the bass area of the instrument. Undounted, Mr. Horowitz backed up a few measures and plunged back into the work. When he finished, the applause was thunderous and he played four encores.

★ ★ ★

Lesser artists would have been undone by a broken A-string, and Mr. Horowitz is not noted as the least temperamental of pianists. We suspect his performance gained him some new fans.

One doesn't have to know anything about music to admire a man who keeps his cool in trying circumstances.

'Agree Law Defenders Deserve Our Applause'

My sincere congratulations to The Press for the editorial in support of law defenders. It is heartwarming to see these sensible conclusions published in one of today's news media. With you, I admire and respect law enforcing agencies and appreciate the over-all excellent job they are doing every day.

They certainly do not deserve to be singled out for "stiffer penalties," but rather, as you say, deserve our applause.

Our police officers are the unsung heroes. Little thanks they get for the many lives they save in accidents alone. I hope the people will get behind them and let Senator Kuhn know how we feel. If this keeps up we won't have a police force. Instead, we'll have a police state. I'm sure they are getting tired of this. Too bad Senator Kuhn has the police to pick on.

Reader Comments on Recent Incident at OU

The picture of the deluded young man who spoke in the nude at Oakland University revealed that he needed psychiatric treatment. Whoever was responsible for the teaching leading up to this act of indecency owes an apology to the young man and to the public who support the University. God does not condone nakedness. Adam and Eve made aprons of fig leaves to cover their nakedness. The rawest heathen wears a loin cloth, but when he gets converted he puts on clothes. If nudity is higher education, deliver our young people from it. True freedom is only given to those who receive Christ into their heart, for if the Son of God makes you free, you shall be free indeed.

'Phones Along Highway Useful to Drivers'

While traveling along the expressway to Kalamazoo, I noticed telephones for public use placed intermittently along the road. This appears to be an exceptionally useful aid to travelers who may be in distress with no one near to help. These telephones would also help women who may be wary of flagging anyone down for help. It is important that we have similar phones installed along I-75 in this area.

Question and Answer

My daughter heard the Messiah sung and asked me why everyone stood up when they sang the last part. I didn't know. Can you tell us?

IGNORANT

REPLY

Handel's Messiah was first performed before a royal audience, and the King was so impressed by it all he stood up when the Halleluia Chorus was sung. Naturally, everyone else stood up then, and since that time, it has been traditional for the congregation to rise when it is performed.

Question and Answer

When Shakespeare wrote "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned," there was another line with it I can't remember. Could you check it out for me? I can't seem to locate it.

SCORNED

REPLY

Probably because you have your authors mixed. William Congreve, not Shakespeare, wrote it in "The Mourning Bride," and he said, "Heaven has no rage like love to hatred turned, nor hell a fury like a woman scorned."

VC Offensive: Fact or Fiction?

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.

SAIGON (UPI) — Captured Communist documents, prisoners and defectors from the Vietcong point to a nationwide guerrilla offensive to enhance the Reds' negotiating position at Paris.

North Vietnamese and Vietcong troops 30,000 strong are building northwest of Saigon along the Cambodian frontier, allied intelligence sources say, and once again a sizable Red buildup threatens Da Nang to the north.

* * *

U.S. intelligence authorities say the new offensive is still in the threat stage, still building. The Saigon government, however, says the drive has already begun. One report says it kicked off Dec. 6.

More and more, there are indications the allied intelligence network has been outfoxed. Or that improved defenses thwarted the offensive before it could begin. Or that the Red buildup is as much Saigon's political imagination as military reality.

MIXTURE OF THREE

Quite likely, it is a mixture of all three.

The tipoff that a new Communist offensive was in the works came in a series of documents, mostly Vietcong captured in late November and early December. While the U.S. command classified it "top secret," South Vietnamese sources leaked the information to the press.

* * *

Political observers said the Saigon government stood to gain through any leak suggesting the Reds planned attacks even as they bargained in Paris. The torrent of leaks angered American commanders.

The document that got the most attention laid out a three-phase offensive to commemorate the eighth anniversary Dec. 20 of the Vietcong's National Liberation Front.

WOULD START DEC. 10

It said attacks on government outposts would begin Dec. 10 and last three days, followed by shellings of cities and towns and finally, in the third phase, ground attacks into major cities including Saigon.

Then nothing happened. Dec. 10 and Dec. 20 came and went. No offensive. It was reminiscent of earlier predictions the Communists would launch a major offensive. It happened just this way in August.

* * *

There was a strong flavor of politics this time. The Saigon government apparently is bent on undermining the position of the Vietcong at Paris. What better way then to claim the Reds planned an attack?

* * *

Although the offensive hasn't materialized, the Vietcong and North Vietnamese still linger in bivouacs around Saigon. In some quarters officials say their move depends on what happens at Paris.

* * *

Third Party Sets State Convention

Junior Editors Quiz on SCULPTURE

QUESTION: Why is it that ancient sculptors didn't carve the arms?

* * *

ANSWER: It is true that some ancient sculptured figures such as one sees in museums (lower right) have one or both arms missing. We must remember that statues of this kind were made many years ago. Greek statues of the great period of the 400s B.C., for example, are over 2,000 years old.

In 2,000 years, a great many things are liable to happen. King fought against king, nation against nation. Many of the beautiful temples where the statues were preserved were damaged in such wars (upper right).

An example is the famous Parthenon in Athens, built in 447 B.C. It stood intact for 2,000 years, and then was very badly damaged in a war between the Venetians and Turks.

When a marble statue falls down during such destruction, the arms, which are usually held outward in some way, are naturally liable to snap off. If the missing arm is found, later restorers will probably put it back in place. But many such arms were lost. Yet the beauty of these ancient works of art is so great that we can enjoy them just as they are.

One of the many hats of Consumers Power

CUSTOMER-MINDED PEOPLE

Many a housewife is happier today because of this lady from Consumers Power. She's a home service adviser. She's a wizard with appliances. A whiz at the range. A fount of know-how on work-saving, time-saving, wife-saving ways to run a home.

An expert in home economics, she puts on demonstrations for women's groups in the Consumers Power kitchens, explains the newest cooking and cleaning tricks, instructs on home safety. She visits schools to tell girls how to care for home appliances.

The services of our home service adviser are free. We look at it this way. If our experts can save you time and effort, if they can help you become a more effective homemaker, you'll continue to think of us (we hope) as a helpful neighbor, whose energy lightens housework and gives you more free hours for other things.

Legislators Ponder Gubernatorial Succession

LANSING (UPI) — Gubernatorial succession — last talked about in Michigan 29 years ago — is suddenly a subject of legislative concern again.

★ ★ ★

Not without reason. For the first time since 1939, the state is about to embark on a period in its history when there will be no lieutenant governor to fill in for the state's chief executive when the need arises.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken will step up to the governor's office when Gov. George Romney resigns next month to become secretary of housing and urban development.

But there is no constitutional procedure for filling the vacancy in Milliken's office. It must close down until after the 1970 general election.

POLITICAL RUB

There will, however, be a short line of succession to the governorship. Secretary of State James M. Hare comes first and Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley next — and therein lies the rub.

Hare and Kelley are Democrats; Milliken is a Republican. So when Milliken is out of state, the power of the executive office automatically passes to the Democrats, though only temporarily.

Should something happen to Milliken — such as disability or death in office — the Democrats would inherit the governor's office until the next general election.

Some political scientists say continuity in government would be better served if the party elected to run the executive branch did so absolutely until the term involved expired.

TANDEM ELECTION

That is the reason, they say, for electing the governor and lieutenant governor in tandem rather than as separate public officials.

The most frequently mentioned solution to the succession problem is appointment of a lieutenant governor when the man holding that office ascends to the governorship.

Critics attack the proposal on the grounds a non-elected official would fill an important state post and sit only a heartbeat away from the No. 1 job in Michigan government. They say a better way might be to hold a special election.

There appears, however, to be growing interest in the appointive approach. At least two legislators — Sen. George W. Kuhn of West Bloomfield Township, and Rep. William P. Hampton of Bloomfield Hills — have announced they will sponsor or propose constitutional amendments in the 1969 session to put the proposition before the people.

MODEL FOR PLAN

Hampton's plan is modeled after the recently adopted presidential succession amendment. It would permit the new governor to appoint a lieutenant-governor, with the consent of both houses of the legislature.

Kuhn would also let the governor do the appointing but he would limit the confirmation process to the senate.

The man who will move to the head of the succession line when Milliken becomes governor, Secretary of State Hare, said in an interview that he supports the appointive idea.

"It makes good sense," Hare said. "There should be some provision for a lieutenant governor, especially since we now elect the executive branch for four instead of two years."

HARE'S OPINION

Hare, Michigan's first seven-term secretary of state, said there are a "lot of administrative details, like issuing proclamations or making a presentation and maybe even signing a bill" that must be taken care of by the acting absence.

He also acknowledged an "embarrassing situation" could develop if an acting governor of an opposite party started filling commission and departmental vacancies or appointing judges.

★ ★ ★

"But Bill Milliken doesn't have to worry about that while he's governor," said Hare. "I'll be glad to help out on the routine stuff but I'm not going to upset any applecarts when he's out of the state."

The last time an effort was made to solve the succession problem was in 1939 when Lt. Gov. Luren D. Dickinson moved up to governor with the death in office of Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald.

★ ★ ★

Although he lacked constitutional authority, Dickinson appointed Mrs. Alfred G. (Matilda) Wilson as Michigan's first and only woman lieutenant governor.

But Mrs. Wilson was denied compensation by an attorney general's ruling on the grounds there was no legal authority for her to serve in office.

State's First Heart Donee Home for Yule

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Michigan's first heat transplant recipient, Kalamazoo accountant Philip T. Barnum, was to go home for Christmas today, just over three months after his operation.

Barnum, 49, was to leave the University of Michigan Hospital this morning following a brief news conference. Doctors had asked any newsmen who suspect they have colds or the flu to stay away.

★ ★ ★

The father of four received the heart of a convict stroke victim Sept. 20. Barnum will have to stay on a regimen of rest, a special diet and avoidance of crowds where he might pick up an infection.

Michigan's second heart transplant patient Donald L. Kaminski, 38, of Alpena, was reported recovering satisfactorily from his Dec. 2 operation at University Hospital. There was no word when he may return home.

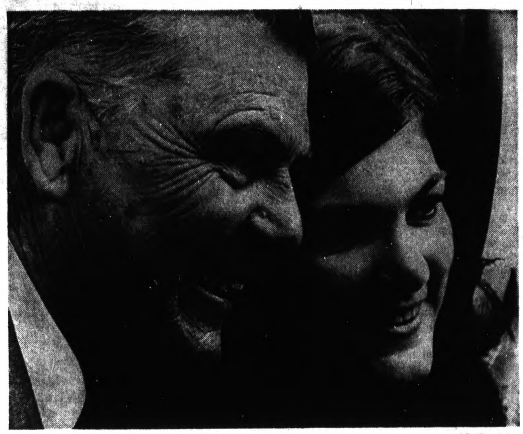
Ransomed Girl Feels 'Great'



AP Wirephoto

ALL SMILES — Kidnap victim Barbara Mackle and her father, Robert, are all smiles as they meet with newsmen yesterday in Miami, Fla. Miss Mackle was held for 80 hours after being kidnaped in Atlanta, Ga., last Tuesday. She has been hospitalized since her release but says she feels fine. An escaped convict — 23-year-old Gary S. Krist—has been apprehended and charged. A warrant has been issued for Ruth Eisemann-Schier, 26.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Barbara Jane Mackle, ransomed from a live burial for half a million dollars, clung to her father's arm Sunday as the wealthy land developer explained that he met kidnapers' demands because "I had my faith to go on."

Robert Mackle and his daughter, 20, met newsmen Sunday for the first time since her release Friday. The meeting was on the patio of Miami Heart Institute where Barbara is recuperating from an 80-hour burial in a coffinlike box.

* * *

Faith in God sustained the family throughout the ordeal, Mackle said, even as he paid a fortune to ransom Barbara without knowing she was alive.

"Our first and deepest thanks —those of myself and Mrs. Mackle, our son and our daughter, Barbara—are to Almighty God, who in His infinite mercy has seen fit to return our beloved daughter safely to our family," Mackle said.

TELEPHONED FBI

Barbara was freed from the box when the kidnapers, ransom money in hand, telephoned the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Atlanta with directions to the site of her North Georgia burial.

Weakened, dehydrated and 10 pounds lighter, Barbara smiled radiantly Sunday.

* * *

"I just feel wonderful and I just want to thank everybody for their prayers and their concern for both myself and my family," she said.

A few hours later Gary Steven Krist, a husky 23-year-old escaped convict, was booked into the Dade County jail in Miami on a kidnaping charge.

$50,000 BOND

Krist was held in a safety cell in lieu of $500,000 bond, the amount of the ransom.

A posse captured Krist early Sunday on wild, swampy Hog Island on Florida's lower Gulf Coast. The FBI said he carried a suitcase containing about $18,000 in $20 bills. Another $480,000 in 20s was found nearby in the rotting hull of an abandoned boat.

The ransom was paid in used, wrinkled $20s.

Krist, suffering from exhaustion, was taken to a Fort Myers hospital where he was later arraigned on the kidnap charge.

The FBI refused comment Sunday on its search for Ruth Eisemann-Schier, 26, for whom it also has issued a kidnap warrant. She worked alongside Krist at the University of Miami Institute of Marine Science.

The FBI also refused to say whether other persons were sought in connection with the kidnaping.

* * *

Krist was identified by the FBI through a tracer on license plates found on a car abandoned by two men during an aborted attempt to collect the ransom Thursday. The $500,000 was again dropped for the kidnapers in a Miami shopping center parking lot Friday morning.

The FBI said a car rented in Miami Springs under the name of George Deacon—a Krist alias—was found Friday at West Palm Beach.

* * *

A boat dealer at West Palm Beach said he sold a $2,300 boat to an "Arthur Horowitz," who paid for it with $20 bills from a money-stuffed suitcase.

Escapee Terrorizes Family, Is Caught

COLDWATER (UPI) — An escaped convict who terrorized a Branch County family during his futile dash for the Indiana border yesterday was being held in the county jail today.

Neil Henderson, 27, was charged with felonious assault with intent to commit murder in the knifings of John Ogurchak, 22, and his wife, Beverly.

* * *

Henderson, who was serving a 7½-to-20-year prison term in Southern Michigan Prison for armed robbery, stole a prison car yesterday morning to make his escape, State Police said.

He cracked up the car, and Ogurchak, who lived nearby, went to investigate the accident and returned to his farm with Henderson.

KNIFE THREAT

Police said that when Ogurchak directed his wife to call the State Police about the incident, Henderson drew a knife.

* * *

Ogurchak was knifed in the chest, arms, neck and face while his wife was slashed in the face and neck as the couples's two daughters, aged seven and 10, looked on, officials said.

* * *

Henderson fled from the farmhouse after ripping out their phone. Minutes later, Mrs. Ogurchak staggered to a neighbor's home and called police.

Tracking dogs were called in by State Police and Henderson was discovered hiding in a wooded swamp.

$50,000 BOND

The escapee demanded examination in his arraignment at Coldwater Municipal Court. Bond was set at $50,000 and examination was set for Dec. 28.

Hospital's Accreditation in Jeopardy

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit General Hospital, failing for the second time in five years to win approval from the Joint Committee on Accreditation of Hospitals, has been given a one year's grace period to shape up.

★ ★ ★

The hospital, near the heart of the downtown slum area, has until next October to meet JCAH standards before being put on probation, which is the last step before loss of accreditation.

Such a loss would not only make it very difficult for the hospital to hire doctors and nurses, but would also disqualify it for federal aid and stop its use as a training facility for nearby Wayne State University Medical School.

Many of the deficiencies listed in the JCAH report — which refused to recommend its customary three-year seal of approval — were architectural. Officials felt they could be corrected in time if a proposed remodeling program begins within the next six weeks.

There were 16 per cent more crimes in the U.S. in 1967 than in 1966.

Apollo TV Shot of Earth Flops

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The first televised view of earth from deep space was a flop Sunday—but not the birthday of the mother of astronaut James A. Lovell Jr. No mother ever got a son's birthday greeting from farther away.

Sunday's show, the first of seven planned for the Apollo 8 moon mission, was to have been in two parts. First, the interior of the spacecraft with a wide-angle lens; then a telephoto view of the receding earth that should have shown all of the United States, western Canada, the Gulf of Mexico and down to half of Antarctica.

The interior shots transmitted from 140,000 miles away were beautiful—of better quality than those taken inside Apollo 7 in October when the ship was about 130 miles above the earth.

CLEAR VIEW

Viewers could see clearly Air Force Col. Frank Borman in the spacecraft commander's position, Navy Capt. Lovell in the equipment bay fixing lunch and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders demonstrating weightlessness by trying to snag his floating toothbrush with his teeth—like a child bobbing for an apple.

But when Anders put on the telephoto lens, the screen went blank.

"You don't have a lens cover on there?" Mission control asked.

"No," said Borman. "We checked that, as a matter of fact."

HARD TO TELL

"We have a picture," said mission control, "only it is a little difficult to see what we have."

★ ★ ★

The earth, which Borman described as "a beautiful, beautiful view with a predominantly blue background and just huge covers of white clouds," showed on the TV screens like a single lighted porthole of a ship on a dark sea.

"Perhaps we will get some assistance from the people on the ground and be able to determine why this other lens is not transmitting properly," said Borman, addressing the TV audience on earth.

FEELING FINE

Mission control asked for "a couple of words on your health to the wide world," and Borman said:

"We feel fine. It was a very exciting ride on that big Saturn but it worked perfectly. We are looking forward, of course, now for the day after tomorrow (Tuesday) when we will be just 60 miles away from the moon."

★ ★ ★

Later the Space Center conjectured that an automatic light control—reading the blackness of space—was fooled by the brilliance of the earth's reflected light. One solution being discussed was the use of ordinary lenses from other cameras aboard Apollo 8.

As Borman commented that Blanche Lovell was celebrating Lovell was ahead in the bearded-growing race, Lovell stuck his head into the foreground and said: "Happy birthday, mother."

At Edgewater, Fla., Mrs. her 73rd birthday.

"I just can't get over it," she said, "when they had so many things to do in space that he would think of his mother on her birthday."

Thief Hotfoots It

Someone broke into K's Carry Out restaurant at 67 Squirrel, Pontiac Township, and carried out a 10-pound box of footlong hot dogs, owners told the Oakland County Sheriff's office yesterday.

Flu Likely for Apollo 8

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A space doctor says it is almost certain that all three astronauts eventually will come down with the flulike virus that is bouncing around the Apollo 8 spacecraft.

"They play Ping-Pong with that sort of thing," said Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief flight surgeon.

Berry said that Air Force Col. Frank Borman, spacecraft commander, is virtually over the gastrointestinal ailment that struck him Sunday, but the virus is easy to catch over and over because of the low immunity it produces.

He said it is almost certain that Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders would come down with the bug in the close quarters of the Apollo cabin and that Borman most likely would be reinfected.

FEELING OFF

All three crewmen were not feeling up to par Sunday, but Borman was in worst shape. He said he vomited, and had diarrhea, chills and headaches.

The astronauts first began to feel uneasy Saturday when they unstrapped themselves from the seats and began to move around, but no one knows what caused this. The Apollo 7 crew did not encounter this discomfort during its earth orbit in October. However, doctors said individuals react differently.

★ ★ ★

Berry discounted any possibility that radiation from the sun as producing any problems for the astronauts. Meters showed exposure inside the spacecraft was minor.

Heart Transplants, Quake Made News in January

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first of 12 articles on "The Year That Was" — a year of unprecendented news events.)

By JOY STILLEY
Associated Press Writer

Nearly 12 months ago, bells heralded a new year laden with old problems and destined for its own heaping measure of comedy and tragedy.

The news last January centered on both life and death-life from the revolutionary new technique of heart transplants and death from killer earthquakes in Sicily.

"Who ever heard of an earthquake in Salaparuta before? said still unbelieving Rosa Scandina, 75, who had lived in that village all her life. "Nobody. Never."

The first of more than 100 quakes struck the western half of the Mediterranean's biggest island on Jan. 14, leaving hundreds dead, thousands hurt and 50,000 homeless. The Rome government put the damage at 200 billion lire ($320 million).

SORROWFUL TASK

The quake left cracked roads and shattered bridges torn rail lines and broken dams, tangled wreckage of sewers, water conduits and power lines. Firemen and soldiers, civilians and police tore at the rubble with picks, shovels and bare hands, calling anxiously as they dug, "C'e qualcuno?" — is anyone there.

★ ★ ★

By the end of January, more than 15,000 Sicilians had left the island. Would they ever come back?

★ ★ ★

In South Africa in California and in New York, death meant life for three heart transplant recipients, though for two the gift was fleeting.

TWICE THEY FAILED

At Stanford University Medical Center in Palo Alto, Mike Kasperak 54, received the heart of a 43-year-old housewife who had suffered a brain hemorrhage. He died 15 days later. At Maimonides Hospital in Brooklyn, 57-year-old Louis Block lived for 10 hours with the heart of a young woman who had died of a brain tumor.

★ ★ ★

But Philip Blaiberg 58-year-old retired dentist, went home from Cape Town's Groote Schuur Hospital with the heart of Clive Haupt, also a brain hemorrhage victim, functioning efficiently in his chest. The operation was performed Jan. 2 by Dr. Christiaan Barnard, 44, pioneer in this type of surgery.

★ ★ ★

Not all the news was of worldwide significance, although pro football fans may have debated the point. In Miami's Orange Bowl Jan. 14, the Green Bay Packers defeated the Oakland Raiders 33-14 before 75,000 fans in the Super Bowl.

★ ★ ★

On a different playing field — the field of diplomacy — another battle was waged between the United States and North Korea.

DISTRESS CALL

"These fellows mean business," the USS Pueblo's radio crackled in alarm as it was challenged Jan. 23 off the coast of North Korea, by a North Korean patrol boat.

★ ★ ★

Seizure of the U.S. Navy's electronic snoop ship precipitated a crisis in which more than 14,000 airmen were called from the reserves to active duty. The Fifth Air Force was put on combat alert and the Navy sent a flotilla into the Sea of Japan.

★ ★ ★

The Pentagon delcared the seizure took place 25 miles from the coast while the Communists insisted the ship had intruded within the 12-mile limit.

ANOTHER DRAMA

Thousands of miles from North Korea another drama was enacted after a B52 Stratofortress on Jan. 22 fell flaming onto the thick ice near Thule Air Base, Greenland. The crew had bailed out.

★ ★ ★

As part of a routine air alert against nuclear attack the plane had been carrying four hydrogen bombs. In the Arctic twilight, by flashlight and dog sled, in harsh winds, blowing snow and temperatures 25 to 30 degrees below zero, began the search for the missing bombs. Weeks after the crash the fragments all were located. Heavy bulldozers were sent in to scrape away the scattered plutonium.

Old Bricks Bring Scholarship Funds

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Alfred V. Morro, athletic director at Classical High School, raised money for scholarships by selling 1,000 old bricks to alumni for $1 apiece.

The yellow bricks from the schools razed building will be used as souvenirs of youthful days gone by, as doorstops, bookends and paperweights.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the sale went to the Alfred V. Morro Varsity Club Scholarship Fund. Morro said he had orders from as far away as California.

Kentucky Crash Kills State Girl

LONDON, Ky. (AP)—Dora J. Hubbard, 13, Petersburg, Mich., was killed Sunday when the car in which she was a passenger skidded off U.S. 25 about 14 miles north of London and slammed into an embankment. The girl's mother, Flossie M. Hubbard, was treated for injuries at a London hospital.

London is in Laurel County.

The Gregorian Chant is named for St. Gregory, pope of Rome, from 590 to 604, who had made collections of the music used in the Catholic services.

Wives May Discover Skeletons in Cabinet

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I am told the leaders of certain groups espousing equality for women are unhappy because President-elect Nixon did not name any ladies to his cabinet.

WEST

This may be one of the reasons why Nixon arranged for the wives of his Cabinet members to receive security clearances.

★ ★ ★

Officially, the Cabinet wives will not be a part of the administration. But the clearances will enable them to discuss classified matters with their husbands. And perhaps among themselves.

Hence there probably will be a strong feminine influence on, if not actually in, the Cabinet.

WHAT HOME EFFECT?

Such an arrangement may placate female militants to some extent. But I am wondering what effect it will have on the home lives of the Cabinet members.

Hero-worshipping plays a big part in many marriages. A wife likes to look up to her husband. It helps subdue that nagging suspicion that she has made a dreadful mistake.

A husband, in turn, likes to see admiration shining in his wife's eyes, that usually being the only place he is likely to see admiration shining.

Maintaining the hero image ordinarily requires a certain amount of deception, husbands being what they are nowadays. A husband must keep some things to himself. Otherwise, his wife will become totally disillusioned.

AURA OF OMNISCIENCE

Because they have a security cover, high government officials find it easier than most husbands to create an aura of omnisicience.

Their wives may read criticism in the newspapers and ask what they did wrong, in which case they have had a perfect response.

"I'm not at liberty to discuss it with you because it involves classified material," they can say. "But if you knew the background you could see that I handled it with my usual skill and keen insight, backed by a wealth of experience and sound judgment."

Thus the marriage is saved.

STILL TO BE SEEN

It remains to be seen whether a government official whose wife has a security clearance can remain a prophet with honor in his own household.

Members of the Nixon Cabinet may be such extraordinary men they can impress their wives even when the true facts are known. I sincerely hope so.

Under the new arrangement, it's going to be difficult for them to lie like the rest of us.

Mr. and Mrs. David Eisenhower walk out of Marble Collegiate Church in New York Sunday after they were married. Mrs. Eisenhower is the former Julie Nixon, daughter of the President-elect. Her sister, Tricia, holds the bridal gown.

Sentimental Touches

Wedding Reflects Wishes of Bride

By DEE WEDEMEYER
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Julie Nixon, younger daughter of President-elect Nixon, and Dwight David Eisenhower II, only grandson of the former president were married Sunday in a brief Protestant ceremony that from beginning to end carried out the bride's wish for a private and personal wedding.

★ ★ ★

Before a small, white, silk-covered altar banked by rows of red and white poinsettias in the historic old Marble Collegiate Church, Julie surprised her father when she turned and kissed him after he gave her hand to the groom. At the end of the ceremony, she again broke tradition and did not kiss the groom.

"That was her idea," Nixon told reporters after the 12-minute ceremony."

THEE, THOU

It was also Julie's idea to substitute the words "thee" and "thou" in the Reformed Church of America service. The Nixons are Quakers. David, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, is an Episcopalian.

"I rather thought this was a special day," Nixon said. "Just before coming here I saw the first shots of the Apollo flight and I just heard of the release of the Pueblo crew tonight. Dec. 22 is a lucky day."

Julie, 20, radiant in a Victorian, full-skirted, ivory peau d'ange dress with puffed sleeves and a high neck, stood beside the groom, who wore a cutaway. She clutched a modest white bouquet of lily of the valley, narcissus, sweetheart roses and bouvardia. Her illusion veil was held with a crown of seed pearls.

David, also 20, held her hand in both of his, Letting go only when she removed her short white gloves to show reporters the diamond circulet wedding ring she received in the single-ring ceremony.

At first somewhat startled when she was addressed as Mrs. Eisenhower, the dark-haired bride fielded questions with composure, refusing only to reveal their wedding trip destination.

A six-tier wedding cake, topped with a tiny bouquet of bouvardia, was wheeled to the center of the ballroom. The couple cut the first pieces together — David's hand over Julie's.

The bride fed David the first piece, then offered her father a slice. Mrs. Nixon was next, and then Sgt. and Mrs. John Moaney of Washington, D.C., who were asked to take some cake to former President and Mrs. Eisenhower, who watched the wedding ceremony on a special television circuit at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington.

MENU

Guests dined on filets of beef, rice pilaf and hors d'oeuvres, served with domestic champagne — half from New York and half from California.

Hotel personnel estimated the food cost at a minimum of $7,500.

★ ★ ★

The first toast was offered by Fred Grandy of Sioux City, Iowa, the best man, to "my best friends." Then the President-elect followed, saying, "We're the luckiest parents in the world to get such a fine son . . . David is the luckiest man in the world to get such a girl."

★ ★ ★

Julie, David and Mrs. Nixon attended 11 a.m. services Sunday at the 114-year-old church while Nixon, resting from a touch of flu, remained at home.

True Spirit Is In Giving So Go Ahead With Plans

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I feel so terrible I could cry. I just got a phone call from my sister-in-law and she said, "I hope you aren't giving us anything for Christmas because we bought a new car, and we aren't giving any presents this year — not even to the kids."

Abby, I did all my Christmas shopping a long time ago and I bought gifts for this sister-in-law, her husband and all her children. (She has seven.) The gifts are already wrapped and the cards are tied to them.

★ ★ ★

I don't really care about myself, but what shall we tell our children when they don't get any presents from their aunt and uncle? Should we take our gifts over there anyway, or not? My husband said, "Write to Abby and we'll do what she says."

UNDECIDED IN PHOENIX

DEAR UNDECIDED: Deliver the gifts and tell your sister-in-law that the true spirit of giving is giving for the joy of it —with no thoughts of what one may get in return, so she needn't feel that she "owes" you anything. And explain this to your children, too.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What do you do when a couple tells you they might come over on such and such a night?

This couple we know always does this to us and we never know if they're coming or not, but we stay home just to be on the safe side, and half the time they don't show up.

VICKI AND RON

DEAR V. AND R.: When they tell you they "might" come over, tell them you "might" be home. Then do as you please.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that a once-married woman who is currently divorced is referred to as a "divorcee," but a man who has been divorced six times reclaims his "bachelor" status during the time he is single.

And while I'm on the subject of inequity of the sexes, isn't there some nice name for a female who is unmarried, never was, but is desirable—like "bachelor?"

RESENTFUL

DEAR RESENTFUL: There is no equivalent for "bachelor." Unmarried women are referred to as "maiden ladies," "spinsters," and "old maids," which usually implies they were left on the shelf. "Unclaimed treasure" is infinitely more generous. "Bachelor girls" and "career girls" suggest independent women, or women who don't like men, which is worse.

★ ★ ★

But what's in a name? A bachelor is still a man who comes to work from a different direction every morning, and a woman is either married, divorced, widowed, not interested, or available. Heaven help us. It's a man's world.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SHOULD I?" IN New London, Conn.: A new nose may give you new self-confidence, but remember: A plastic surgeon can shorten your nose, but if you have blamed all your shortcomings on a long nose, you're in for a big disappointment.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO T.H.L.: Every liar is a coward. Putting it simple, most people lie because they don't have the courage to tell the truth.

★ ★ ★

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Twin Brother Is Born Fifty Days After Sister

The first twin, a girl, was born Nov. 1, and the second, a boy, was born Friday. Both babies and the mother, Mrs. Maj-Britt Petterson were reported in good condition.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Petterson had expected a child at the end of January. When she gave birth to a girl three months early, Dr. Alvar Brunge discovered she had twins and stopped the second birth.

The girl weighed only 34 ounces at birth. The second twin weighed 75 ounces. Both are in incubators.

Should Girl Have Gone to Date's Room?

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Is there ever any time when it is proper for a woman to meet her date in his hotel room? Now that some colleges permit males to visit students in dormitories, my daughter believes there's nothing wrong in going to meet a visiting friend in his hotel room.

Of course, her date should always call for her, but shouldn't she have phoned the room and waited in the lobby? — Mother.

Dear Mother: What a girl does among people who know her in a college dorm, and what she does in a hotel filled with strangers, is quite different. She should not go to the boy's room alone; she should, as you suggested, call him and wait in the lobby.

Of course if there were other young people with either of them it would be a different story.

Glowing bride, Mrs. Edward D. Sherman (nee Catherine Howick) joined her guardians, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Matus of East Drahner Road, Oxford Township, during the wedding reception Saturday at Kresge Hall at Camp Oakland, Oxford. Husband Edward is to the far left. The occasion marked the first wedding reception ever held there.

Bridal Reception at Camp Oakland

The bride's guardians are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Matus of East Drahner Road, Oxford Township. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. Don Sherman of Nashville, Tenn.

★ ★ ★

Attended by her sister, Mrs. Keith Vanden Bosch of Ann Arbor, the bride was gowned in an A-line broacade ensemble fashioned with fur collar and cuffs. A matching fur bonnet completed the bride's attire and she held a bouquet of white carnations and red baby roses.

★ ★ ★

On the esquire side, W. Donald Sherman was best man for his brother with Michael Murphy, Douglas Comer and Douglas McFadden, all of Grand Rapids, as ushers.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in the Florida Keys.

Case No. H-568

Mixed Marriage Works

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE H-568: Miriam B., aged 26, illustrates a mixed marriage. "Dr. Crane," she began, "I was brought up in a Jewish family.

"But while in college, I met a wonderful boy who was studying to become a Lutheran clergyman.

DR. CRANE

"We both held high moral principles and thus felt a mutual affinity from the start.

"My parents were a little reluctant to have me marry outside of their faith, but I did so, anyway, and they have been quite pleased with my husband.

"Besides, I joined the Lutheran Church and am very happy to be the wife of a fine young clergyman.

"And I find that Christianity is a very dynamic type of religion that buoys people up and promotes joyfulness.

"Is that why it has flourished so much faster than other faiths?"

Christianity is really a composite outgrowth of Abraham's faith in God and the essential moral precepts of Judaism.

But it also combines the authority of the early Catholic Church, now supplemented by the greater freedom of choice that the many Protestant faiths offer their members.

Graphically, you can view the modern Judaic-Christian religion as a tree, with the roots being Judaism; the trunk, Catholicism, and the branches, Protestantism.

But one of the most unique assets of Christianity is the fact it starts out with Jesus as a newborn infant, instead of a greybearded adult like Moses or Confucius or Buddha.

Athena, too, sprang from the forehead of her father as a fully grown goddess, so Greek mythology explains.

But by empathy, every kiddie can link himself with the early life of the founder of the Christian religion.

Futhermore, Christ was an extrovertive clergyman, urging his followers to go all over the earth to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, heal the sick, visit the widows and orphans and those in prison, as well as teach and preach.

Note those positive "action" verbs, as "feed, clothe, visit, heal, teach and preach!"

Jesus opened the doors of Christianity to everybody, and thus launched the greatest missionary religion of all history, for he didn't debar anybody on the basis of race, religion or geography.

Some of the other religions have been largely a "closed shop."

But the greatest contribution of Christianity is the fact that it offers the final piece in the ecclesiastical jigsaw puzzle of why we are on Earth, by showing that we are the sons and daughters of the Almighty.

The whole import of Christmas and its climax at Easter, is a demonstration of God's love for us children down here on Earth.

God is not a cruel or sadistic dictator, like Pharoah or Herod who required the death of babies and bribery via sacrifices of doves, sheep, bullocks or even human lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Roselli of Tex Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Carlotta Diane, to Joseph Henry Pavlovich. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pavlovich of Roseville. May 31 vows are planned. The bride-elect has attended Oakland University and her fiance Macomb Community College.

Pair Departs for Canadian Honeymoon

Newlyweds the Bradford J. Kings (nee Gail Elaine Goines) are honeymooning in Montreal and Quebec following a reception in their honor Saturday in first Federal Savings of Oakland.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Goines of West Rundell Street and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis J. King of Ludington exchanged vows earlier that evening in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

ENSEMBLE

Attended by her sister, Melba Jean, the bride wore an A-line velvet gown trimmed with pearls and crystals. Her bouquet was comprised of white carnations, red roses and holly.

Susan Johnson was bridesmaid.

On the esquire side were J. Scott King, brother of the bridegroom, as best man with Steven Danek and Robert Westdorp and Craig Hedeen as ushers.

Bride in Satin Gown

MRS. H. W. STEVENS JR.

Mrs. Charles Houston and Philip Stevens were honor attendants for the evening nuptials held at the Adams Castle Drive home of the bridegroom's parents in Bloomfield Township.

* * *

Following the home reception, the son of the senior Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Stevens and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. LaBair of Meadowleigh Street departed for a honeymoon trip to Florida.

They will make their home in Menomonie, Wis., where both are attending Stout State University.

Vows Exchanged

First United Presbyterian Church was the recent setting for the marriage of Mrs. Joanne Hetchler of Kenilworth Street and Seaman William W. Huston, US Coast Guard.

The newlyweds, who were feted at the Embarcadero Street home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Olsen, are honeymooning in the East.

Use Saddle Soap to Clean Leathers

To clean leather chair seats or a leather sofa or desk set, put saddle soap on a slightly moistened sponge and rub gently but thoroughly into the surface of the leather.

Rinse with a clean cloth wrung out of clear water and dry with another clean cloth. When dry rub vigorously. Coat the surface with leather cream to make it dust resistant.

Who Wants Equality With Men?

By BETTY CANARY
NEA Writer

News of the Swedish law guaranteeing absolute equality for women in that country received a rather lukewarm welcome here. There are several reasons why this is so, not the least of which is the fact that some women refuse "equality" because they believe women are superior.

* * *

There aren't many of that kind around and I know the reason for that. Keeping the halo straight is simply too much bother for most of us.

Then there are those women who believe along with a few men, that women are inferior beings, so it goes without saying they aren't interested in what any country does about equality laws.

Fortunately there aren't too many of THAT kind about although it is still possible to find both men and women who believe if the female of the species is given a matched set of cooking pans, three babies, and one afternoon each week for bridge she will be the most contented of creatures

* * *

And, let's be honest. There are those women who want help from no husband and no governments. They are the martyrs among us.

Actually, what Sweden has done is pass a law saying husbands are to spend as much time as their wives doing homework. Now, at first glance it's yum-yum time. Looks as though the Swedish woman has it made. Isn't it only fair? If she has an outside job, helping bring home the lingenberries, then certainly he should help her cook them.

* * *

The idea is embraced wholeheartedly by those women who think all women would be deliriously happy if only they went out and got a job. They seem to think that happiness for all women is a membership card in the bricklayers' union.

What worries me when I think of this law is that it can lead only to more complications in our lives. The law would mean that all home jobs — except maternity leave — must be equally divided. And, even if it meant keeping charts and books, husbands and wives could only be fair and take turns doing everything.

* * *

Trading off some of the ironing does appeal to me. But, I can't help wondering what would happen the next time the kitchen drain bubbles up. My problem (it may be an allergy or something) is that when I am faced with a clogged drain, I cry.

* * *

At such times I wouldn't give you 15 cents for the ability to use a pipe wrench. And, I wouldn't take a million dollars for a plumbing-oriented husband.

Troy Is Setting for Recent Vows

The Julius B. Fishers of West Drahner Road, Oxford Township announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Julie Ann, to ETO 2, James W. Dutton, USN. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Dutton of Ledbury Drive, Bloomfield Township.

* * *

Susan Ore of Sandusky and John Bridges attended the couple for the vows in First United Methodist Church of Troy. Ushers were Rick Dutton and Thomas Fisher.

* * *

Girl Repairs Pipes Smokes 'Em Too

* * *

She got a job in Jay Rostov's shop here when his repairman was drafted. "Jay desperately needed help," she says, "because he could not keep up with the repairs."

* * *

Sandy started out by buffing and cleaning repaired pipes and did such a good job that little by little she took over the repairs full-time. She zips to work and back on a motorcycle.

SANTA HELPS HER — Mrs. Mary W. Wessels, librarian at Bagley Elementary, looks on while Santa does his part in distributing Christmas gift books and candy. Mrs. Wessels made it her special project to see that each pupil in the school received a book, and some 575 were given out.

She 'Books' Pupils' Yule Treat

Mrs. Mary W. Wessels, librarian at Bagley Elementary School, wanted to do something for the pupils at her school for Christmas.

She collected about $250 from individual donors and from the Episcopal Church Women at Christ Church Cranbrook, and used this money to buy books for every child in the school.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Wessels contacted the Ludington Press Co. in Detroit and told them her plan. Although they agreed it was irregular, they allowed her to go through their shelves and choose from among their books.

★ ★ ★

Santa Claus did his bit, too, by distributing the 575 books. Coloring books went to children in kindergarten and the first and second grades.

USEFUL BOOKS

Children in the third, fourth and fifth grades each received paperbook storybooks, and every sixth grader received his own dictionary.

"It wasn't an original idea. I read in a magazine that it was done last year in Washington, D.C., and though it was a great way to allow children to start their own personal libraries," Mrs. Wessels said.

★ ★ ★

"The school principal, William Counts, and my supervisor, Mrs. Janet Gauthier, were very helpful and cooperative in helping to carry out my idea," she said.

Lights Are Incongruous

Berlin Wall Hated More at Yule

BERLIN (AP) — The world may have grown hardened to the Berlin Wall but Berliners hate it more than ever. Resentment is deep this cold December as the despised symbol of division keeps relatives apart for the third Christmas in a row.

Yuletide lights blink on trees along the concrete and steel barrier the Communists built across the city seven years ago to stem the flow of East Germans seeking a freer life in the West. But the lights strike an incongruous note in this season of peace.

★ ★ ★

The wall is what makes a West Berlin office worker volunteer for Christmas Eve duty because all the members of her family are in East Berlin and she can't visit them.

"When," an old man asks, "will we be able to go to East Berlin to visit our relatives, our countrymen, the other half of our city?"

NO THAW SEEN

But there seems little likelihood that the warmth of Christmas will melt the cold attitude of the Communist East German rulers. Politically, their stand on wall passes is a lever in their campaign for recognition as a state by West Berlin.

The theory is that the more the East Germans remain unyielding, the more the West Berlin city administration comes in for pressure.

West Berlin Mayor Klaus Scheutz said he saw no hope for a last-minute pass agreement. City Hall sources added there was no sign the Communists were planning any unilateral opening of the wall.

West Berliners got their first wall passes to visit their East Berlin relatives for Christmas in 1963, more than two years after the Communists built their wall. There was a surge of humanity through the barbed wire that caught the imagination of the world.

WORLD HARDLY NOTICED

But gradually passes became routine and the world hardly noticed when they stopped coming in June 1966. Only those who remained divided felt the pain at Christmas in 1966 and 1967.

There are those who say the Berliners, who rushed into each other's arms by the hundreds of thousands whenever given the chance, no longer care, that the pass procedure is too tedious, too expensive in the gifts that one must bear. This is not borne out by the comments of people anywhere in the city whose relatives are on the other side of the wall.

★ ★ ★

"If I could see my brother anytime I wanted to," a middleaged man said, "I probably would not go. But I cannot see him. That makes me want to go."

Declared a wealthy matron at a glittering diplomatic dinner, "I can buy anything I want. But I cannot buy, at any price, a pass to see my family, all of whom live in East Berlin.

About one-quarter of the city's 3.3 million people are 60 or over and for them each season's separation is more acute than the last.

"At night," a West Berlin border patrolman said, "the old people cannot sleep. They come down to the wall, look across and cry."

CHAPTER 17
A Merry Christmas to All

Ding Dong stood on the roof of Santa's workshop and carefully dropped the hippies' popcorn popper down the smoking chimney. When it was in place on the burning coals below Ding Dong began to drop kernels of corn, one by one, down the chimney into the popper.

★ ★ ★

For a moment there was no sound except Hesekiah chopping and swatting on his machine. Then, between the whacks of the hammer, Ding Dong heard the soft pop-pop-popping of the corn in the fireplace below.

He dropped the corn faster and faster until it was pouring down the chimney in a river. Now, the hammer blows were silent. There was only the gentle popping of corn.

ELF TAKES PEEP

"He's stopped working!" he cried. "The whole shop is filling with popcorn! It's covered his feet! Now his knees! His middle! His neck! He's drowning in popcorn!"

★ ★ ★

Ding Dong dumped the last of the corn down the chimney. He yelled, "Watch out! He'll be out in a minute!" And he slid to the ground to see the fun.

★ ★ ★

A moment later the dwarf flung open the door and burst out in a cloud of popcorn. His stumbling feet snapped the three-colored string stretched across the door frame.

SPELL BROKEN

The spell on Santa Land was broken. The spinning tops stopped spinning. Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus and all the elves and reindeer were themselves again.

There was such rejoicing! Edgar told Santa all that Ding Dong had done and Santa asked what he could do for Ding Dong in return.

★ ★ ★

Ding Dong said he would like to go home again. "If only I didn't have to be good all the time!" he added with a sigh.

"Being good is just thinking of others," said Santa. "That is something you certainly have done."

WHAT ABOUT BATHS?

"What about taking baths and being polite and picking up toys and all like that?"

"It isn't necessary," said Santa thoughtfully. "But you might say it is a way of thinking of other people."

★ ★ ★

"I suppose I could give it a try," said Ding Dong reluctantly.

"I don't think it would hurt much," said Santa with a smile. "It probably wouldn't hurt at all."

LOAD SLEIGH

The elves loaded Santa's sleigh with toys and Mrs. Claus tucked in sacks of cookies. The reindeer were hitched to the sleigh and it was time to go.

Santa climbed in with Ding Dong by his side and off they soared over the great sleeping world. When they came to Hippieville Santa leaned from the sleigh and dropped off an enormous bag of gifts for the hippies below.

The bag bulged with records and strange new musical instruments and magic color paints and weird clothes. Unknown to Santa, Mrs. Claus had slipped tooth brushes, combs and a dozen bars of soap in with all the rest.

The hippies—who never sleep when other sleep — heard the jingling bells of the sleigh and knew that all was well. They rushed into the street shouting joyfully, "Merry Christmas!"

★ ★ ★

Santa and Ding Dong, circling away, waved and called back, "Merry Christmas to all!"

Pueblo Crewmen to Be Questioned, but After Family Reunions

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Hours of questioning face the USS Pueblo crewmen—but not until after reunions with their families.

The private debriefings in San Diego will be expected to provide authorities detailed answers to such questions as where the Pueblo was when seized. The ship's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, told a news conference in Seoul today after his release that at no time did the Pueblo sail within 13 miles of North Korea. The debriefings also, presumably, will involve what happened to the code machines and other sensitive equipment aboard the Pueblo.

★ ★ ★

But, first, joyful family reunions were in store.

By plane, car and bus, wives and children of the 82 surviving crewmen were arriving from throughout the United States.

PRIVATE REUNION

After the hugs and kisses following the crewmen's arrival expected tonight at Miramar Naval Air Station, 10 miles north of San Diego the families go to the sprawling naval hospital at Balboa Island for a private reunion.

Then, the freed Americans will get medical checkups and rest in the four-story Navy corpsmen's school which will be their temporary home.

CPO Walter Beerle, chief master of arms for the school, said 250 students were ordered out of the barracks soon after word came Sunday of the prisoners' release. The two-tiered military bunks were converted to single beds. Beerle said "Every effort to make the rooms as comfortable as possible" was being made.

The "best diagnostic and treatment facilities available" are located at the hospital, a Navy spokesman said. It is the largest such installation in the United States.

FAMILIES AT MOTEL

For a few days, at least, many of the 170 wives and children plan to stay on if necessary in the downtown El Cortez Motel. There was no official word if some or all of the men would be permitted to spend Christmas at home.

The interrogators presumably want to know just where the Pueblo was with regard to the 12-mile limit claimed by North Korea. They also will question the men about the validity of claims that the crewmen confessed to violations of North Korea's sovereignty.

Although high-ranking American officials say the Pueblo was in international waters when it was seized, there was a 10-day radio silence during the cruise.

A memorandum issued by the Pentagon said, "Returnees will be accorded all of the legal rights and privileges to which they are entitled as military personnel at every stage of processing, including intelligence debriefings." When he signed the memorandum, Deputy Secretary of Defense Paul H. Nitze said any evidence of misconduct will be referred to the Navy and "disposed of in accordance with normal practices."

It is considered likely a formal Navy court of inquiry will be convened to determine whether any action might be taken against any members of the crew.

Many Heading for San Diego

Happy Relatives Planning Trip

By The Associated Press

"It's about as good a Christmas present as you can get," said the father of CPO Ralph D. Bouden, one of the 82 surviving crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo, who were freed today from 11 months in North Korean captivity.

The father, Grant M. Bouden of Nampa, Idaho, said he was not sure whether he and his wife would go to San Diego for an expected pre-Christmas reunion. But another crewmen's father, Vincenzo Strano of Hartford, Conn., said he was already packed for the trip.

"I just can't wait to get there," he said. Strano said he had gotten only two hours sleep since Saturday night while awaiting word of his son, PO 3.C. Angelo Strano.

The mother of PO 2.C. Wayne D. Anderson said she would fly to San Diego Tuesday at government expense. "Wonderful! To God be the glory!" said Mrs. Wailey S. Anderson of Waycross, Ga.

'SANTA GOOD TO US'

"Santa Claus has certainly been good to us this year," said Genevieve M. Sterling. But Mrs. Sterling said her 3-year-old son Billy was more excited about the snow outside their Stratford, Conn., home than about the release of his father, Charles, a communications technician second class. "His daddy is away on a ship—that's all he knows," she said.

Rose Bucher, wife of the intelligence ship's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher, said she hadn't bought a Christmas present for her husband. "Here I am," she said in San Diego, Calif. "Just put a red ribbon on me."

★ ★ ★

Carol Murphy, wife of the Pueblo's executive officer, Lt. Edward R. Murphy Jr., called his release "the best Christmas present we will ever have."

Mrs. Murphy, like the Bucher family, has been living in San Diego. She gave birth to a daughter two months after the Pueblo was captured Jan. 23. "He has never seen our daughter, Victoria Lynn," she said. "Our 3-year-old son Eddie doesn't understand where his father has been. I'm thankful for this."

LONGEST 11 MONTHS

In St. Joseph, Mo., the mother of Fireman John C. Higgins, Jr., said, "It did not appear there would be any Christmas this year for our son. This has been the longest 11 months I have experienced."

Phyllis Berens of Wichita, Kan., had been a bride of five months when her husband, PO 2.C. Ronald L. Berens, was captured. She said she didn't believe news of his release at first. "Then when they told me to pack my bags so they could take me to meet him, I knew they meant it," she said.

★ ★ ★

Other families also said their hopes had been cruelly fired by previous false rumors. "I had made plans before and they fell through," said Mrs. Ernest Roose, who farms with her husband near Trenton, Neb. She said she would fly to San Diego to meet her son, PO 2.C. Alvin H. Plucker.

At least one Pueblo wife reported the Christmas travel rush was causing problems for a Navy representative trying to book a reservation for her. But Mrs. James A. Shepard of Williamstown, Mass., said she was confident the Navy "will probably get it all straightened out."

Repudiated Statement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is the text of a statement signed by the U.S. chief negotiator at Panmunjom Sunday in connection with release of the 82 crewmen of the captured USS Pueblo —a statement repudiated by the State Department in advance as false:

★ ★ ★

To the Government of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea:

The Government of the United States of America, Acknowledging the validity of the confessions of the crew of the USS Pueblo and of the documents of evidence produced by the representative of the government of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea to the effect that the ship, which was seized by the self-defense measures of the naval vessels of the Korean People's Army in the territorial waters of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea on January 23, 1968, had illegally intruded into the territorial waters of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea,

At this point the text broadcast by North Korea monitored in Tokyo, differed with the version released by the State Department in Washington by adding these words: "On many occasions and conducted espionage activities of spying out important military and state secrets of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea."

★ ★ ★

Shoulders full responsibility and solemnly apologizes for the grave acts of espionage committed by the U.S. ship against the Democratic People's Republic of Korea after having intruded into the territorial waters of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea,

And gives firm assurance that no U.S. ships will intrude again in the future into the territorial waters of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the government of the United States of America earnestly requests the government of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea to deal leniently with the former crew members of the USS Pueblo confiscated by the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, taking into consideration the fact that these crew members have confessed honestly to their crimes and petitioned the government of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea for leniency.

On behalf of the Government of the United States of America,

Gilbert H. Woodward, Major General, USA

Board to Mull Traffic Bureau

The question of establishing a traffic violation bureau within Waterford Township's new district court is scheduled for tonight's township board meeting at Waterford Township High School, 1415 Crescent Lake.

★ ★ ★

Also scheduled at the 7:30 p.m. meeting are a report on bids on a new police van, a proposed lot split and the statement of the board's position on the dispensing of dump tickets by fire stations.

★ ★ ★

The tickets, which allow township residents to use Pontiac dump facilities, are available to the public at the three fire halls.

The "great blackout" in the fall of 1965 when some eight states and parts of Canada were without power, cost more than four million man-hours of productivity.

Nixon Has Flu; Vacation Plans Still On

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon is suffering from a touch of the flu, but says he hopes it will not interfere with his plan to leave for a Florida vacation.

Nixon, standing coatless despite a chill rain Sunday night, said his doctor told him the Florida sun would be a good place to recuperate. He hopes to leave today.

★ ★ ★

He said he felt, "pretty good," after suffering flu symptoms, including a slight fever, Saturday night. He saw a doctor, rested, then spent more than four hours Sunday at the wedding and reception of his daughter Julie and Dwight David Eisenhower II.

The first word of Nixon's ailment came when guests leaving the reception said he had told them of Saturday night's illness.

RECEIVED MEDICATION

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press assistant, said the president elect saw Dr. Victor deLuccia in his Fifth Avenue apartment Saturday night and received medication.

Nixon stayed behind to rest while his family attended church Sunday morning.

By the time of the late afternoon wedding Nixon was said to be feeling better. Ziegler said he did not believe Nixon had any fever at the ceremony.

Nixon shook hands in the reception line, went outside to bid the newlyweds goodby and talked to reporters and policemen in the street.

'LOW GRADE' INFECTION

Nixon said the doctor had told him he did not have the Asian flu but a "low grade" infection

"The doctor said it would be good if I got down to Florida and got some sun," he said.

Nixon rode the three blocks back to his apartment and had another rainy chat, this one with Chief Inspector Sanford D. Garelik of the New York Police Department. Nixon praised New York policemen and said he had asked that a contingent march in his inaugural parade.

"Let us know what we can do to help you at our level," he told Garelik.

Then he went inside, saying he was going right to bed.

Nixon plans a 12-day vacation in Key Biscayne, Fla., and in Los Angeles. None of his top advisers were to accompany him to Key Biscayne, and a spokesman said Nixon would be doing little business during the holidays.

He planned to remain at his newly purchased retreat near Miami until Jan. 1, then fly to Los Angeles and attend the Rose Bowl football game before returning to New York on Jan. 3.

Toys for Needy

The staff of Pontiac's Planning and Urban Renewal Department contributed toys to two needy families residing in depressed neighborhoods of the city. Seventeen children were recipients.

Apollo's Yule Menu: Turkey

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 8 astronauts will be up to 200,000 miles out in space on Christmas Day, but they'll still have a traditional Christmas turkey dinner.

The turkey meat was prepared by the U.S. Army Natick Laboratories and packaged in airtight foil. The turkey is much like meat that has been canned. It's cut in slices, and the astronauts will eat it with a spoon.

Packaged with the dinner are cranberry-apple sauce, coffee and a grape drink. These items are freeze-dried.

★ ★ ★

RETREAT FOR NIXON — This three-bedroom waterfront home on Key Biscayne at Miami, Fla., has been purchased by President-elect Richard Nixon for $127,700. The home has 200 feet of sandy beach and low seawall on the west side of Key Biscayne.

Nixon Purchases Key Biscayne Home

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Nixon has bought a rambling, three-bedroom winter vacation home on Key Biscayne, the island where he often comes to relax.

★ ★ ★

The house, overlooking Biscayne Bay, adjoins one belonging to retiring Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., which the President-elect had been renting. The Smathers home is between Nixon's and the residence of banker C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo, a close friend of Nixon.

★ ★ ★

Workers planted a 10-foot-high hedge of hibiscus Friday, putting the three houses into a floral compound.

FOR WINTER VACATIONS

Nixon and his wife, Pat, bought the home from Manuel Arca Jr., who purchased it 10 years ago for $55,000, while he lived in Cuba. Arca and his family, sugar mill owners, went into exile in 1960.

Home Pickup, Morning Paper, Stereo

Flint Bus Service Is Special

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—How would you, on these frigid mornings, like to have someone come by, turn on your front porch light and ring the doorbell to signal that a warm vehicle is waiting at the curb to whisk you to your job?

What, too, if there were stereo music and a morning newspaper to read en route and you'd get off at the door nearest your job?

★ ★ ★

A good many people in Flint hope to get that kind of service fairly soon—and from the city's bus lines, yet.

Two hundred people here already get doorstep-to-factory gate service, complete with morning newspaper and occasionally a cute "bus bunny" to enliven conversation and interior scenery.

AND HOME AGAIN

The idea is to attract the public back to municipal mass transportation systems.

The Flint transportation authority, a municipal agency, and the U.S. Department of Transportation began a joint $776,000, three-year experiment last September to lure auto-driving factory workers in this industrial city of 196,940 back to buses.

Now the authority is proposing, and federal authorities have indicated they favor, adding the porch-lighting and bell-ringing to the service.

ALREADY SCHEDULED

Stereo music already is scheduled for inclusion, and coffee — or cider in season — is served on the afternoon return runs. Coffee originally was available on the morning runs, but, surprisingly, customers didn't partake and it was discontinued.

Experimental runs already have been conducted with the porch-lighting and bell-ringing technique. The purpose of this service is twofold: To show the driver in the black predawn hours where his next pickup is an to alert the customer to grab his hat.

A side effect is a speedup in service, assurance the bus will make the gate ahead of the starting whistle. Another may be a signal to alert police whenever the driver spots trouble.

The light is flicked and the bell rung in the same electronic fashion that a motorist, with the proper equipment, can open his garage door from the car while approaching and close the door upon entering.

RADIO BEAM USED

The bus driver pushes a trigger on a little box beside him which sends out a radio beam which a similar box in the house picks up, then flicks on the light and rings the bell.

An outlay of $25,000 has been proposed for this addition to the service, which costs $9 to $18 a month, depending upon the distance a customer lives from his job. No increase is planned for the light and bell.

★ ★ ★

Gerald Wood, a customer since the beginning, says:

"It's fine with me, a lot easier and saves a lot of wear and tear on the car — and the wife, because she doesn't have to drive me down now if she wants the car. She's got it all day."

STARTED SLOWLY

The authority calls its service "maxi-cab," and it started out slowly with only two runs and 13 people. It is now up to 200 people on 14 runs, and expects to have 23 buses making 28 runs by the end of January.

With the 200 customers making a round trip, that brings the load to 400 daily, which represents a five per cent gain (or 100,000 a year) in the 2.3 million customers who ride Flint's regular bus lines which charge 35 cents one-way, 70 cents round-trip.

While some might view a growth to 400 over three months as failure, neither the Flint authority nor federal department sees it that way.

In fact, the authority is so enthusiastic about responses, when compared with original projections, that it now is mapping plans to offer similar service to white-collar workers employed in the downtown business district. April 1 is the target date for this.

TIME GAP CITED

James Stebbins of the American Academy of Transportation, who is project technical manager, points out the great bulk of factory workers must report not later than 7 a.m., while most downtown workers report between 8 and 9:30 a.m.

Thus the same buses could be used for dual service, instead of drivers switching to regular bus line jobs once curbside service is completed.

★ ★ ★

A third "bus bunny" is being added Jan. 1. Besides improving the scenery and conversation, the girls take suggestions for improvements, pass out goodies and operated the two stereo music machines originally installed.

Hospital Room Protects Sick From Germs in Air

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — The University of Michigan Medical Center has unveiled a room in which it says it will be virtually impossible for a patient to catch any airborn bacterial or virus disease.

"Immediate use of the room is expected for those patients who have undergone major organ transplants," the university said. It added that the two-bed room could also give better protection to patients with severe burns, who also are specially vulnerable to airborn germs.

★ ★ ★

The room, called "vertical laminar air-flow room," was unveiled Friday.

Irving Krasnoff, environmental health specialist at University Hospital, said the room is the first ever built in a hospital, although the system is fairly common in the aerospace and electronics industry.

The system is a complex method of air control and filtration that eliminates 99.99 per cent of all airborn bacteria, the university said.

The system keeps air constantly moving in the room, and completely changes the air 660 times an hour.

Grad Job-Hunters' Goal Is 'Freedom'

EAST LANSISG (UPI) — Freedom to wear a colored shirt to work or return late from lunch may mean more to the future college graduate being recruited by industry than salary and retirement benfits.

That is the prediction of John Shingleton, director of the Michigan State University placement bureau, in an evaluation of tomorrow's inducements to college-trained personnel.

Shingleton said college students are becoming more and more creative, and with creativity goes individuality — a desire to be different.

Oswald: "Remember the old story about the man who just happened to bring his bass viol along for the weekend?"

Jim: "When the American team goes to Brazil next May for the World Championship matches they will have their bass viols or specialized bids along with them."

Oswald: "The average player shouldn't bother with most of these bids, but in international play you need them. Why don't you tell me about the Billy Eisenberg and Bobby Golman version of Blackwood?"

* * *

Jim: "They figure that they will always have some idea about their partner's ace holding. Hence, the five-club response shows no aces or three; five diamonds shows one ace or four; five hearts two aces and nothing extra, and five spades two aces and something extra. Hence Billy Eisenberg's five-spade response on today's hand shows two aces plus something extra."

Oswald: "That something extra was very good trumps and his diamond suit, including two of the top three honors. It made it easy for Bobby Goldman to bid six spades. The slam based on only 22 high card points in the two hands was, of course, an absolute cinch."

* * *

Jim: "There was another gadget used in their bidding. North's jump to four clubs said, 'Partner, I want to be in four spades even if your one-spade response was a minimum and part of my reason for getting there is that I have exactly one club!' "

Oswald: "That singleton club was certainly welcome news to South. His clubs could be ruffed in dummy, if necessary and his singleton heart had to be worth its weight in gold."

What do you do now?

A—Bid three diamonds. You have diamond support and, while your hand is minimum, you should prefer to show this in preference to rebidding your five-card heart suit.

You bid three diamonds and your partner goes to three hearts. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Presentation receipt of surprise gifts is highlighted. Enter into holiday spirit despite what might appear as setback. Your cycle is on the rise. Avoid brooding. Be charitable.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Key is to be outgoing; put golden rule into practice. Friends may make demands. Realize that the more you give the more you will receive. Interesting proposal tonight.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): A friend plans to surprise you. Be appreciative. Don't reveal you knew it all the time through this column. Meaningful compliment received from one in authority.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You receive a surprising number of cards, communications. Try to reciprocate. Some at a distance appear supersensitive. Dig in to catch up on correspondence, calls.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Overcome tendency to go into shell. Be outgoing. Unusual invitation deserves consideration. Element of mystery is involved. Maintain sense of humor. Say yes.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Invitations multiply. Stick with mate, partner. Don't go too far afield. Show appreciation for past favors. Let others shine in spotlight. Be kind, diplomatic.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): If observant, you could avoid costly error. Fine to discuss ideas. But don't be in too much of a hurry. There are basic requirements — fulfill them. Forego grandiose scheme.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Capture spirit of youth, give special attention to children. Many young people depend upon you today. Don't let them down. Creative, romantic aura fills evenings. Congratulations.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You may feel restricted. Realize that entertainment, celebration is desirable. Temporary confinement should not be cause for brooding. Do best to make family member happy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Confusing statements may be made concerning money by relatives. Don't get involved in foolish dispute. Be practical, sympathetic. Listen but do not necessarily commit yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your worth is appreciated. You get solid results. Minor worry over holiday costs should not be blown up out of proportion. Financial picture will brighten.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Inspiration received through special services, music, words delivered by wise person. Throw off tendency toward narrow view. Look beyond immediate indications.

* * *

IF TUESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you express your true self to few persons. You are loyal, selective. Your desire for harmony leads to music appreciation. Unusual voice, dramatic talent is indicated. Recent domestic adjustment was wise.

* * *

Plastic Trees 15 Pct. of State Sales

LANSING (AP)—About 15 per cent of the Christmas trees sold in Michigan this year are plastic, says Les Bell, a forester with Michigan State University.

"This does not mean that the sales of live Christmas trees have been declining," Bell said. "We're selling more trees than ever. Many people are putting up two and three trees in their homes."

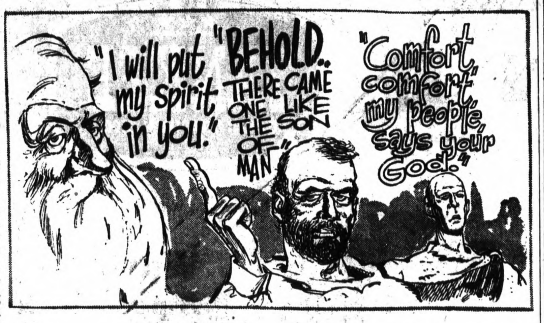
Promise of the Prophets—4

Ezekiel Saw Coming Glory

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth article in a five-part Christmas series about the prophets who struggled for justice and who foresaw a coming Redeemer Who would accomplish justice in an extraordinary way.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer



Thick double walls surrounded ancient Babylon, its gleaming towers rearing astride the Euphrates River. From the Ishtar Gate, the broad avenue of processions ran through the city's lavish center, flanked by statuary, palatial courts and temples to Tiamat and Marduk.

There, in the midst of fashionable idolatry, imposing wealth, vaunted sciences and gay, uninhibited pleasures and luxuries, the ragged, captive people of God dwelt for half a century in servitude, longing for a lost dream.

"By the waters of Babylon, there we sat down and wept," says Psalms 137, telling of the despondency and misery of that time.

Directions blurred and purpose wavered, even to the prophets, Judaism's messengers of the divine will for man. Ezekiel, in his bleak vision, saw his nation turned into a valley of death, littered with broken skeletons, wailing:

GLIMPSES OF GLORY

Yet out of that desolation, he and other prophets of that dark period from 587 to 538 B.C. — The dauntless Daniel and a brilliant, tender prophet whose name remains unknown — caught glimpses of a coming greater glory than ever.

"They who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength," wrote the nameless sage, called the Second Isaiah. "They shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint . . .

"Arise, shine, for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you . . . and nations shall come to your light."

The bold, perceptive Daniel, singled out for special duty in the retinue of the conquering Babylonian monarch, Nebuchadnezzar, also saw in a dream the tracery of an amazingly majestic future. He related:

"Behold, with the clouds of heaven, there came One like a Son of Man, and He came to the Ancient of Days . . . And to Him was given dominion and glory and kingdom, that all peoples, nations and languages should serve Him; His dominion is an everlasting dominion which shall not pass away."

'WONDROUS IMAGE'

A strangely nebulous, yet wondrous image, rising from the hidden subconscious in a day of abject thralldom and defeat, yet whispering of a marvelous theophany, seen by Christians as pointing to Christmas, the birth of Jesus the Christ.

"A bruised reed He will not break and a dimly buring wick He will not quench . . . till He has established justice in the earth," wrote the anonymous one, also called Deutero-Isaiah. "The Lord has lain on Him the iniquity of us all."

Anther odd, puzzling conception, yet applicable, and it was in keeping with the shadowy, figurative symbolism in which the prophets often spoke in that stricken, melancholy period of captivity.

Brought by decadence and war into bondage under the heel of a powerful, skilled, heathen empire, Judaism's great commission of bringing knowledge of one universal God to the world seemed shattered and dead.

LORD'S ASSURANCE

"Shall these bones live?" came the question in Ezekiel's grim vision of a death-strewn canyon. But "behold, a rattling: and the bones came together . . . there were sinews on them, and flesh . . ."

★ ★ ★

And the Lord assured, "Behold, I will . . . raise you from your graves, O My people. I will put my Spirit within you . . ."

★ ★ ★

Curious, visionary, wraithlike, born of ruin and affliction, yet it carried a lingering hope and unrelinquished conviction, smoldering beneath the bumptious, lusty and extravagant panoply of pagan Babylon.

Engineering technology, astronomy, mathematics, artworks and cuneiform literature flourished in the academies of that affluent capital of Chaldea, along with grand-scale prostitution, drunkenness, tyranny and altars to 2,500 gods.

RESPLENDENT PALACE

The gold-veneered temple of Marduk, god of ruling order, towered massively beside the processional street, Ajbur-Shabu, outrivaling shrines to Tiamat, god of chaos, and Ishtar, goddess of sensual delights.

★ ★ ★

The whole city, haughty, artful, sated with spoils of conquest, came to be regarded as the archetype of human corruption and defiance of God—the great beast, harlot Babylon.

Nebuchadnezzar picked some of his prisoners for duty in his court, including Daniel.

SURVIVE FURNACE

Three others, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, initially drew the king's rage, and were cast in a fiery furnace for refusing to worship the royal idols of gold. But mysteriously they survived unscathed.

Daniel warned Nebuchadnezzar he would go mad, running wild in the fields, until he recognized that one "most High" Sovereign rules humanity. The madness came, and the clarity, before he died in 561 B.C.

Daniel, although continued in his post under the new ruler, soon came under condemnation for defying an edict not to pray to "any god or man" but the king. Cast into a den of lions, he emerged unhurt.

Unlike other writings of the prophets, the book of Daniel relating these extraordinary events remained unknown, assertedly "shut up and sealed," until centuries later, in 168 B.C., raising questions about its time of composition.

INTERPRETATION

But it specifically concerns the years of exile, including Daniel's interpretation of those mysterious words, "Mene, Mene, Tekel, and Parsin," which appeared on the wall at a rowdy feast of the new king Belshazzar.

"You have been weighed in the balances and found wanting . . ." That night, Belshazzar was slain.

★ ★ ★

Unlike Daniel, most of the captive Jewish population eeked out a bare existence as farm laborers, servants, street sweepers, peddlers, wood carriers and building crews, living in drab hovels with meager diets.

'HOW SHALL WE SING . . .?'

But their throats pinched; their lyres hung stringless on a willow branch. "How shall we sing the Lord's song in a foreign land?"

Despite their forlorn regrets and bitter resignation, the far-seeing, unnamed prophet, whose writings form the latter part of the book named for the earlier Isaiah, from chapter 40 through 55, offered hopeful consolation.

★ ★ ★

"Comfort, comfort my people, says your God," he said. "A voice cried in the wilderness prepare the way of the Lord . . Every valley shall be lifted up, and every mountain and hill be made low . . . And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together."

More of those veiled, tenuous inklings, words applied more than 500 years later to Jesus.

PRIESTLY FAMILY

Ezekiel, whose book swarms with mystical, elaborate imagery, lived in a shack beside the Chebar Canal, where other Jewish refugees often came for counsel. His wife died there. A solemn man, he belonged to an historic priestly family.

"Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we waste away because of them," he mourned. "How then shall we live?" And he urged, "Repent."

His calling to prophecy came in a furious lightning-laced thunderstorm. He visualized God's appeal as pervading all the world, not just Judaism, picturing that totality as "wheels within a wheel," moving everywhere.

Subject at times to silent, motionless trances, he envisioned a broad, life-giving river rising out of Judaism, and he saw high hope ahead.

"Says the Lord God . . . I will manifest My Holiness among you in the sight of the nations . . . I will seek out My sheep and I will rescue them from places where they have been scattered . . . I Myself will be the Shepherd of my sheep . .

"I will seek the lost, and I will bring back the strayed, and I will bind up the crippled, and I will strengthen the weak . . . I will feed them in justice . . . I will set over them One Shepherd . . . I will send down showers of blessings . . .

"I will make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant . . . My dwelling place will be with them."

A tremendous restoration, a new, more intimate kind of emancipation and relationship rang in those tenuous, leaping symbols.

Daniel, who remained a regal adjutant through Babylonia's collapse in 539 B.C. under the expanding new Persian empire and into the rule of its more benevolent King Cyrus, conceived of an approaching "everlasting kingdom" over all the earth.

SHOCKING NOTE

Generally, the messianic yearnings looked toward some divinely exalted, blissful world sovereignty, but the unnamed "Second Isaiah" added a shocking note to that concept, saying:

"He had no form or comeliness that we should look at Him, and no beauty that we should desire Him. He was despised and rejected by men; a Man of Sorrows, acquainted with grief . . .

"But He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; upon Him was the chastisement that made us whole, and with His stripes we are healed . . .

"Yet it was the will of the Lord to bruise Him . . . When He makes Himself an offering for sin . . . He shall see the fruit of the travail of His soul and be satisfied; by His knowledge shall the righteous One, My Servant, make many to be accounted righteous; and He shall bear their iniquities."

'SERVENT' PASSAGES

These strange, anticipatory insights, along with others, are known as the "Servent" passages, which Christians see as portraying the coming persecution and death of Jesus in union with humanity for its evil-doing.

Cryus, the new master of the Middle East, released the exiles in 538 B.C., to go home, and "Second Isaiah" foresaw that joyous time. He offered lilting encouragement, suffused with those happy, peculiar intimations of redemption.

★ ★ ★

"Awake, awake . . . put on your beautiful garments, O Jersulam . . . Shake yourself from the dust, arise, o captive . . . deliverance draws near speedily . . . And the ransomed of the Lord shall return . . .

"I will give you as a light to the nations, that My salvation may reach to the end of the earth . . . Behold, I will lift up My hand to the nations, and raise my signal to the peoples . . .

'THE LORD COMES'

"For the mountains may depart and the hills be removed, but My steadfast love shall not depart from you . . . Behold, the Lord comes."

Jubilant, reassuring, brimming with renewed purpose and soaring expectancy in the waning hours of a long night of the soul, "Second Isaiah" also used words that Jesus would quote as His text in His first sermon five centuries later in Nazareth:

"The Spirit of the Lord God is upon Me, because the Lord has annointed Me to bring good tidings to the afflicted; He has sent Me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound; to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor."

Dearborn Heights Strife Talks Slated

DEARBORN HEIGHTS (AP)—Administrators and teachers at conflict - ridden Robichaud High School in Dearborn Heights will seek solutions in meetings over the Christmas holidays.

The school has been the scene of violent incidents between black and white students for nearly two weeks following a confrontation between two students.

School district representative Robert Anderson said the incident "sort of polarized" the students.

Anderson said the problems are known. "Now we'll try to correct things." Anderson referred to curriculum limitations and staggered lunch and dismissal times at the school.

Youth Dominates Pontiac Open

Pontiac Press Photo by Rolf Winter

TWO HAPPY SOULS—Santa paid an early visit to the Steve Oliseck family yesterday, leaving a $1,000 check and a huge trophy for the 23-year-old Pontiac resident. Oliseck, who returned this year from Labrador after a four-year Air Force tour, rolled a record 745 series to win the Pontiac Open Handicap Singles title at Airway Lanes.

Pontiac Press Photo

Handicap Mark Falls as Oliseck Posts 745 Total

By JERE CRAIG

Youth had a big day Sunday in the finals of the Pontiac Open Handicap Singles Championship at Airway Lanes where the pins were falling in record numbers.

Quite often the younger a bowler is the more likely he is to succumb to pressure in the finals of a tournament, but four of the youth set responded to the challenge of clutch deliveries with the calmness of veterans yesterday and claimed the biggest checks in the 12th annual city championship.

Of the four, one is 21, two are 23 and the other is 25 years old.

Topping the field of approximately 185 area men and women was Steve Oliseck of Pontiac, a Pontiac Motor drill press operator. He rolled 219-203-231, finishing his last game with three straight strikes for a 653 actual total (his highest sanctioned series) and a handicap record 745 for the tournament.

Oliseck, who returned to the local bowling scene this year after four years of Air Force duty, earned $1,000 and a trophy for his victory.

Also breaking the old 728 previous tournament winning score was 25-year-old Mike Dodge from Oxford. Bowling on the first of the four finals squads Sunday, he hit 197-227-263 for 687 actual and 733 total pins.

"I felt like bowling when I came," Dodge stated, "I felt real good. I had to bowl in an afternoon league at Collier Lanes and I kinda had the feelin' it (the 733) wouldn't win when I left here."

SEMIS LEADER

His effort was good enough to hold off the challenge of semifinals leader David Grove of Pontiac who rolled a 723—four pins better than his 719 high score last Sunday at Huron Bowl — in the same opening squad. Grove, 23, managed to win $400 for his third best effort yesterday, while his 719 in the semifinals earned him $50.

Also in the youth movement was 21-year-old Gary Benning, son of Airway proprietors Frank and Ida Benning. He compiled a 686 actual — his best sanctioned one — and 713 with handicap.

There were two other 700 series as more than 45 per cent of the finalists reached the 600 mark, of the 87 having 600, 28 hit actual 600s. Veteran Ed Gibbs hit 226-239-235—700 for the first such actual series in finals history.

Dick Peterson, a WJBK-TV account executive from Bloomfield Hills, rounded out the list of 700s with his 702, including 176-261-205 (642). He won $200 and Gibbs claimed $150. Gibbs hit 714 actual last Sunday in reaching the finals for the eighth time this decade.

Bill Presson of Pontiac and Roger Shafer of Pontiac won $125 and $100 with 693 and 692, respectively — good for seventh and eighth places.

NEW CHAMPION

The new champion Oliseck had 20 strikes in his winning effort. A graduate of Waterford Kettering High School, he entered the tournament with a 156 average for the current season in the Firebird League Friday mornings at Huron.

Ironically, his father Steve reached the finals with only eight handicap pins, but yesterday the elder Oliseck struggled to make 502.

Similarly, bachelor Dodge — who is an engineer for Chrysler Corporation — is going to have a "nice Christmas" savoring his first big tournament bowling payoff. The Central Michigan University graduate earned letters in three varsity sports at Oxford High School and has several years experience in the Pontiac Class A baseball league.

Those participants who did not receive their checks after yesterday's finals were completed will receive them in the mail within a week. Rose Davis and Larry Angott may pick up their trophies as Mix 'n' Match doubles champs at Cooley Lanes later this week.

PCH-PNH to Match Speed

Close Contest in Intra-City Clash Expected

THE PONTIAC PRESS
SPORTS
MONDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1968 C—1

Two of the fastest teams ever to represent Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central in basketball collide this evening on the PNH court in the first of their two annual scheduled contests.

Tickets are on sale at the door beginning at 6:30 p.m., and a full house of 1800 is expected despite a limited advance sale.

The host Huskies are a slight favorite.

"I don't like that, not a bit," Northern mentor Dick Hall observed this morning.

PNH will take the floor unbeaten in three starts — beating Highland Park, Livonia Stevenson and Farmington in impressive showings that saw it produce 250 points.

Four of the starters are averaging in double figures, reserve guard Ed Williams has an eight-point average, and 6-4 Mike Chapman made his varsity debut Friday night with a 22-point spree at Farmington.

STARTER AILING

Chapman was filling in for the ailing 6-5 pivotman Sheldon Fisher, who according to Hall, isn't expected to play much tonight either.

Rob Clancy, Ernie Crawford, Chuck Moncrief and Joe Bradley are the other starters scoring well. Crawford and Moncrief are vital factors in the rebounding phase of play, too.

"Yes, this is the fastest team I've had," Hall confirmed. "I'm real happy with their development. It's probably the hardest working group we've had, and they have excellent team spirit."

★ ★ ★

Hall also notes that Central will have "a real good ball club by the end of the year. It's too early to tell what they'll do tonight, but it should be a fine ball game."

Grubb agrees that Northern has a fine team, especially in the backcourt where Williams and Gary Gibson give the Huskies exceptional depth behind Clancy and Bradley.

REBOUNDING

But the contest could be decided up front where Crawford, Moncrief, Chapman and possibly Fisher will be dueling with Central's good young frontline of Jerry Ratliff, Monte Herring, Campy Russell and Waverly Jones for control of the backboards.

PCH's only senior is guard Clayton Burch who is complemented by sophomore backliners Anthony Styles and Myron Brock.

Although PCH (3-1) won two of the three meetings last season and upped its series margin to 20-4, the Huskies' reserve team topped PCH twice last season and many of those performers are seeing regular duty for the Huskies now.

This will be the first city series competition for Styles, Russell and Brock. Only Burch and Herring have played on PCH quintets that have wins over Northern.

This experience could prove a big plus for PNH.

The Northwest Christmas Tournament begins tonight. At host Redford Union, Southfield meets Livonia Stevenson at 7 o'clock and Walled Lake tangles with Redford Union in the nightcap.

The other half of the opening round pairings is at Farmington where North Farmington encounters Livonia Bentley in the tipoff tilt, and Farmington entertains Berkley at 8:30 p.m.

Colts Trim Vikings, Praise Cleveland

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts followed form on and off the playing field Sunday as they won the National Football League's Western Conference championship.

After beating the Minnesota Vikings 24-14, as expected, the Colts trooped to the dressing room and — as expected — spoke in glowing terms of the Cleveland Browns, their opponent in next Sunday's NFL title game.

Football players are extremely careful not to rile a future opponent with loose talk which could stir the emotions. But the Colts certainly have reason to be sincere in their praise of the Browns.

ONLY LOSS

Baltimore's only defeat in 15 games this season was a 30-20 loss to the Browns in the sixth week of the campaign.

"They didn't beat us last time by any fluke," Baltimore Coach Don Shula said. "They have a sound football team."

"It should be a helluva battle," said tight end John Mackey.

★ ★ ★

"Cleveland has a great defense, and their good running game will keep our defense honest. We can't rush the passer and let a guy like Leroy Kelly slip past for a long gain."

The last time the two teams met for the NFL title, in 1964, the favored Colts were upended 27-0 as Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier beat Shula, his former assistant at the University of Kentucky.

★ ★ ★

The Colts, who posted three shutouts during the regular season while allowing a record tying low of 144 points, didn't yield a touchdown until 8:16 remained to be played.

Minnesota quarterback Joe Kapp turned in a courageous effort while being rushed unmercifully during the second half. He completed 26 of 44 passes for 266 yards and led all rushers with 52 yards on 10 carries.

Although thrown for losses only three times while trying to pass, Kapp was rapped hard frequently as he released the ball and when he ran — sometimes not at his own choosing.

The Colts, held to just 50 yards rushing on 37 carries, gained 245 yards on the passing of quarterback Earl Morrall — including touchdown passes to Mackey for 49 yards and to Tom Mitchell for three yards.

The Vikings tossed Morrall four times while passing and gave him such a hard time, the Colts resorted to the rollout to get things moving.

The return of fullback Jerry Hill, inserted as a substitute after missing five games with an injury, also helped to thwart the Minnesota rush.

Olympic Winners Among Sullivan Award Nominees

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifteen athletes, including 11 Olympic gold medal winners, have been nominated as candidates for the 1968 Sullivan AAU Memorial Award, it was announced Sunday.

The honor is given annually to the amateur athlete who by performance, example and good influence did the most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year.

★ ★ ★

Track and field — Madeline Manning, Cleveland; Al Oerter, West Islip, N.Y.; Bob Seagren, Los Angeles; Bill Toomey, Laguana Beach, Calif.; Wyomia Tyus, Griffin, Ga.; George Young, Casa Grande, Ariz.

Skating — Diane Holum, Northbrook, Ill.

★ ★ ★

The award is given in memory of James E. Sullivan, one of the founders of the AAU, its first secretary and a past president of the organization. Randy Matson, world shot put record holder from Texas, was the 1967 winner.

Fans in Orbit Over Cut of NFL Contest

★ ★ ★

CALLS BEGIN

A CBS-TV spokesman said nearly 1,000 calls were received shortly after 3:04 p.m., EST, just after the network switched away from the National Football League Western Conference title game for the space spectacular.

★ ★ ★

A similar situation occurred several weeks ago when NBC-TV switched away from the last minute of the New York Jets-Oakland game for a special showing of Heidi, the children's program.

PINS DIDN'T DODGE—Collier Lanes bowler Mike Dodge of Atlas won $600 and a trophy yesterday for posting a 733 runner-up score in the city handicap singles championships at Airway Lanes. Dodge is a former Oxford High School football-basketball-baseball performer.

Hockey Brothers in Leading Roles

The brothers Mahovlich and Hull each played prominent roles in victories by the Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks while a sibling rivalry was in full flower when Montreal met Boston.

★ ★ ★

Big Pete Mahovlich and his brother Frank, the "Big M," each notched a goal as the Red Wings defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night, 3-2.

TWO PAST BROTHER

Phil Esposito, a center for Boston, put two goals by Tony Esposito, a goalie for Montreal, as the Bruins roared from behind to defeat the Canadiens, 7-5, and move into undisputed possession of first place in the East Division by a single point.

Phil has an uncommon liking for his brother, who was an All-America goalie for Michigan Tech a couple of short years ago, but that liking may not be reciprocated.

★ ★ ★

The Montreal goalie, shoved into the breech after the Canadiens lost regular net minders Gump Worsley and Rogatien Vachon, was victimized for two tallies the first time the Esposito brothers faced each other on NHL ice.

In the only other two games on the night's card, the New York Rangers overhauled the Minnesota North Stars, 4-2, and the Oakland Seals nipped the Philadelphia Flyers, 2-1.

Pete Mahovlich, who stands 6-foot-4, started the scoring by dribbling in a short shot by Toronto goalie Bruce Gamble in the second period.

It appeared that Gamble closed his glove a little early and the shot skidded off the inside and into the net. The younger Mahovlich was up for the weekend to help out while Bruce MacGregor was in bed with the flu. It was his second goal of the season.

TAKE 2-0 LEAD

Frank pounded in his 16th at 15:48, about nine minutes later, on a rebound of a Gordie Howe shot to give Detroit a 2-0 lead which was shaved to 2-1 when former Red Wing Norm Ullman stole the puck and stickhandled it into the net behind goalie Roger Crozier.

★ ★ ★

That set up the third period fireworks. All was placid until the stanza was about 14 minutes old. Then defenseman Kent Douglas, who played a vicious checking game all night, backhanded the puck backwards over his head from the Detroit zone.

Toronto defenseman Jim Dorey, apparently thinking Douglas had illegally hit it above his head with his stick, had the puck stolen by Pete Stemkowski and the former Maple Leaf fired it into the net from short range to make it 3-1.

"I had an idea where he was going to try to get it out," said Stemkowski, "so I made a move toward him and just picked it off."

"If we had touched it first it would have been whistled down," said Coach Bill Gadsby.

OU Cagers Travel to Alma Tourney

Oakland University's basketball team is making preparations for a two-day engagement in Alma after being torpedoed by Wayne State, 93-81, Saturday night.

The Pioneers will play Olivet Friday in the four-team event with Grand Valley and Alma meeting in the other game. The winners play Saturday following the consolation game.

Browns Started Drive Against Colts

Play Baltimore in Title Game

Dallas Beaten, 31-20, on Key Passes

CLEVELAND (AP) — It was against Baltimore that the Cleveland Browns did an about face and marched on to the National Football League's Eastern Conference championship.

Now it's Baltimore again—this time for the NFL title Dec. 29 at Municipal Stadium.

The Browns beat Dallas 31-20 Saturday and Baltimore tripped Minnesota 24-14 Sunday to take the Western Conference playoff and set the stage for the showdown. The winner goes to the Super Bowl.

Browns' Coach Blanton Collier watched the Baltimore-Minnesota game on television and said he expects the Colts "will be very emotional" about the title game. That would be natural. I hope we're up, too."

Cleveland handed the Colts their only loss of the season, a 30-20 decision Oct. 20, and went on to win seven in a row.

'64 TITLE GAME

Also, the Browns beat the Colts 27-0 for the NFL title in 1964. Collier again will match strategy with Colts' coach Don Shula, who used the play for him and worked as an aide when Collier coached at Kentucky.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said "the Browns' defense made the big difference. It made the big play. That's where the game was to be won or lost."

Collier said it was "the greatest defensive effort for a team that has played for me."

The two key plays were a 45-yard touchdown pass from Bill Nelsen to Leroy Kelly that made it 10-10 at halftime and an interception by Dale Lindsey on the first play of the second half.

On the Kelly touchdown, Landry said "the Browns went into the half with all the momentum. We went in dejected."

* * *

Lindsay juggled the ball several times but held it and raced 27 yards for a 17-10 lead.

Cleveland upped it to 24-10 shortly after that when Ben Davis picked off the third interception from Don Meredith. It resulted in Kelly going 35 yards for a touchdown on a sweep.

A first-quarter interception set up Din Cockroft's 38-yard field goal for a 3-0 lead but Dallas came back when Chuck Howley grabbed Nelsen's fumble and raced 44 yards for a touchdown. Mike Clark added a 16-yard field goal.

Raiders Remembered at Appropriate Time

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders, who had almost forgotten how to win one going away, picked an excellent time to remember, surprising the Kansas City Chiefs, the New York Jets and themselves.

* * *

For three weeks, the Raiders had scraped and clawed their way into an American Football League Western Division playoff and when they got there Sunday they found, instead of the expected pitched battle, a 41-6 cakewalk over the Chiefs.

"I didn't know that," said a stunned Kansas City Coach Hank Stram when told it was the first time the Chiefs had been held without a touchdown in five years. "I just don't know what to say."

JUST AS PLANNED

"It's almost amazing," said an equally surprised, but far happier John Rauch, the Oakland coach, "that offensively and defensively everything went the way we planned."

And from across the continent came the thoughts of Weeb Ewbank, coach of the New York Jets, whom the Raiders will play in New York next Sunday for the AFL championship and a trip to the Super Bowl.

* * *

"I didn't think it would be a runaway," said Ewbank. "Oakland's a great football team—they showed that today—and this victory will make them all the more confident."

In the three games preceding this showdown battle, Oakland was a great football team only in the sense that it won even though it played poorly.

That gave the Raiders a 12-2 record, matching Kansas City with whom they split two regular season meetings.

But against the Chiefs Sunday, the Raiders found themselves. And it didn't take very long.

THREE FAST TDs

By the time the first quarter was over, Oakland quarterback Daryle Lamonica had thrown three touchdown passes, two to Fred Biletnikoff, and the Raider offense had established itself.

Twice, the Chiefs drove within the Oakland five-yard line and twice the Raiders' defense held, forcing Kansas City to settle for field goals by Jan Stenerud.

"It was very important to us then to just get on the scoreboard," said Stram. "I thought somehow with a pass interception or a fumble recovery we might be able to jump back."

Just before the half ended, Lamonica hit Biletnikoff with a sideline pass and the Raider flanker powered, danced and just ran the ball 30 yards into the end zone on a 46-yard play. Lamonica's fourth TD toss.

* * *

Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson completed only three passes in the first half and though he did better in the second half, finishing with 17 completions in 36 attempts, the Raiders found a way to keep the Chiefs from crossing the goal line.

Rookie Charlie Smith, held to just two yards in the first half, gained 72 the second time around, setting up Lamonica's fifth touchdown pass, to Warren Wells, and one of two field goals by George Blanda.

Baseball Eyes Senator Hart

CHICAGO (AP) — The search for a baseball commissioner acceptable to both the American and National League began today and rumor's first production was Sen. Phillip Hart of Michigan.

The name of Hart, a friend of baseball, popped out of Washington, D.C., for the $100,000-a-year job which was left up in the air by club owners dedicated to create a new image for the game.

After 19 ballots and 14 hours, the baseball brass failed to agree and wearily ended with a stalemate at 6:15 a.m., EST, Saturday.

DIFFUSED BALLOT

The balloting to select a successor for the dismissed Gen. William Eckert was diffused by at least six candidates and all but one of them now appear to be out of the picture altogether. Possibly, the lone remaining hopeful in the group is career baseball man Lee MacPhail, Eckert's first assistant who resigned to become vice president of the New York Yankees.

It was a tug-o-war between the traditionalist, Chub Feeney, and the so-called Young Turk ringleader, suave Mike Burke, through 10 ballots.

Feeney, vice president of the San Francisco Giants and a nephew of the club's owner, Horace Stoneham, had the required minimum of nine NL votes but couldn't swing it through the AL. Burke, president of the Yankees, couldn't putt it through the NL.

* * *

With this checkmate, presumably both contenders now are out of the race. Also gone from the list, if the balloting is a criterion, are Joe Cronin, AL president and Circuit Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, former player counsel.

In the late balloting, John McHale became a compromise choice of the AL which gave him nine votes. McHale, former Eckert executive and general manager of the Detroit Tigers and Milwaukee-Atlanta Braves, decided to stay as head man of the new Montreal Expos.

* * *

He withdrew from the commissioner race without even giving his NL colleagues a chance to vote on him.

Finally, it got down to MacPhail. It looked as if he were on the move in the 18th ballot, getting nine AL votes and four from the NL. But on the 19th ballot, three of his four NL backers passed.

* * *

"The owners just thought that by this time they were too tired and thought-weary, and this just wasn't the way to select a commissioner," said spokesman Frank Dale, Cincinnati Reds president. "That's when we adjourned. They stuck it out as long as they could. They really wanted to get the job done.

"Now, I expect, it will be 30 or 40 days before we meet again."

Ferndale Kegler Actuals Champ

Joe Prey of Ferndale has been league bowling 20 years. He currently is competing in three leagues a week at three different establishments in Oakland County.

None of them is 300 Bowl. In fact, Prey — it's pronounced Pry instead of Pray — until yesterday had only bowled three games at "300."

* * *

But the 43-year-old Autobahn Motors team member in the Huron Bowl Classic Sunday gained a new interest in the establishment as he outrolled the area's leading bowlers to win the Actuals Invitational title in the Pontiac Open Championships.

His 255-182-226 games were good for a 663 series and the $100 first prize plus trophy. It is the first tournament victory ever posted by the Suburban Boring Co. worker.

"I bowled three games here right after the place opened," Prey disclosed following his Actuals' triumph. "I never bowled here again until I rolled one just before the first squad this morning.

A bachelor, Prey is a graduate of Ford Trade School and spent two and a half years in the Navy. He carries a 197 average in the Huron Classic.

He also won $10 in the Pontiac Open qualifying as a member of the five-man team from Huron that had a 3310 total.

* * *

Ed Bate, who bowls for Cooley in the North Oakland County Traveling Classic, had a shot at beating Prey with a double in the tenth frame of his final game.

CLOSE FINISH

Bate, who last season had a 300 game at Livonia's Wonderland Lanes, just managed to nip Tony Ledesma and Bill Pointer for the $60 and runner-up trophy.

The 30-year-old Ledesma, a Fisher Body worker, won $40 for third place with a 642 that also included a costly split in the last frame, while Pointer was fourth at 641 to earn $25.

* * *

After the initial squad, 23-year-old Rich Toles, who lives in Atlas and works for the state at Flint in the Aid to Dependent Children program, led with 225-215-175 for 615.

Another young bowler, Lee Smith, 22 of Rochester, had a 606 as the only two 600s on the first squad. In addition to the four prize winners, four others passed Toles' total as 11 men had 600 actuals on the second squad.

EMU Tough for Titan 5

DETROIT (AP)— The University of Detroit Titans are through playing Eastern Michigan this year, and basketball coach Bob Calihan couldn't receive better Christmas cheer.

When Detroit beat the Hurons Saturday night 80-67 it was the second time this year the 13th ranked Titans had a difficult time against EMU.

HUSTLING HURONS

"Yes I'm glad we don't have to play them again this year," Calihan said. "They just won't give up. They won't stop trying. They've got a good, hustling team."

* * *

In their first meeting Dec. 11 at Ypsilanti U. of D. won 74-72 on a basket by Jerry Swartzfager at the buzzer. Saturday EMU's zone press defense stymied Detroit's attack but the Titans managed to break away in the second half after being ahead only 34-33 at halftime.

Atlanta Cracks Pistons

By the Associated Press

The Atlanta Hawks, led by high scoring Lou Hudson, claimed their seventh straight National Basketball Association victory Saturday night, defeating the Detroit Pistons 120-110.

Bill Bridges saved the day for the Hawks, who led 98-92 with seven minutes remaining in the fourth quarter. Bridges scored three of the Hawks' next seven field goals and assisted on three others to make the score 113-104 with thee minutes left.

In the NBA, Wilt Chamberlain got his wish to play 48 minutes and it turned out be not a minute too many.

The outspoken center for Los Angeles, whos opinions over his amount of playing time and other matters has made headlines, played all 48 minutes Sunday night and sparkled in the Lakers' 102-99 victory over Philadelphia.

SECOND BEST ACTUAL-LY — Union Lake's Ed Bates holds the $60 check and trophy he received Sunday for finishing second with a 643 series in the Actuals Invitational at 300 Bowl.

Aussie Net Captain Has 'Smoke Screen'

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Donald Dell, U.S. Davis Cup captain, said today he believes his rival Harry Hopman is using 17-year-old John Alexander as a smoke screen in tennis preparations for this week's Challenge Round.

★ ★ ★

"If I had a million dollars I would bet Hop doesn't use Alexander in the singles," Dell said. "I am convinced the Australians will go with their two experienced players, Ray Ruffels and Bill Bowrey.

"What they will do in the doubles I don't know. I suspect this will depend on how the first two singles come out."

The wily, 52-year-old Hopman, who is captaining the Australian team for the 21st time, has been high on Alexander, baby of the Aussie team, hiting that the hard serving teen-ager is likely to play one of the two single positions with Ruffels almost a cinch for the other.

SHOWS FORM

"Alexander is continuing to show excellent form and improving each day", Hopman said after a Monday workout. "Bowrey, on the other hand, is not playing at his best."

★ ★ ★

Matches between the challenging Americans and Cupholding Australians begin with the opening singles on the lightning-fast Memorial Drive Courts Thursday starting at 13:15 local time (10:45 p.m., Wed. EST).

The draw will be made Christmas day at 15:30 local time (1 a.m. EST).

Alexander, a strapping Wimbledon junior champion who has grown six inches in the last eight months to 6-foot height, has been one of the flashiest players on either side in preliminary workouts.

He hits one of the most devastating services in all tennis, pro or amateur, with a whippy wrist motion that sends the ball over the net at close to 120 miles per hour.

HARD SERVICE

His service is said to be harder than that of either of Arthur Ashe Jr. or Clark Graebner, both of whom serve rockets.

The question is whether Alexander, who would be the youngest player in the 68-year history of Cup to play a Challenge Round, has the court poise and all-round game to match America's two top aces, Ashe and Graebner, both Davis Cup veterans.

'M' Defeats Bradley
As Fife Scores 23

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — Rudy Tomjanovich and L. C. Bowen, two former Michigan high school standouts who chose different paths to basketball glory, made the University of Kentucky Invitational All-Tournament team.

Joining Tomjanovich, who chose Michigan after starring for Hamtramck, and Bowen, who was the state's outstanding prep player while at Benton Harbor before enrolling at Bradley, were Dan Issel, Mike Pratt and Mike Casey of host Kentucky and Army's Dick Simmons.

Bowen won the scoring duel between the two, 31-28, as their teams met in the consolation game Saturday night but Tomjanovich won the game for the Wolverines, 95-93 with a layup with just 12 seconds showing on the clock.

Clarkston's Dan Fife, another reason Michigan prep basketball is gaining more and more respect, was second high for Michigan with 23 points. He had 20 points Friday night for his best showings in his sophomore campaign.

The Wolverines had led at the half of the game, 46-44 and it stayed close the rest of the way. It was Bowen who set the stage for Michigan's narrow win by popping in a 15 - foot jump shot with only 23 seconds to play.

The Wolverines, now 4-2, host Utah tonight and then journey to Indiana to play Butler on Saturday.

UCLA Wins Tourney Tuneup

Illini Wreck Houston's Home Record

By the Associated Press

UCLA might be the best college basketball team in the rest of the country, but in Houston, unranked Illinois is tops.

The unheralded Fighting Illini all but put some ranking into their Christmas stocking by doing what no team, including UCLA, has been able to do in more than two years — beat Houston at Houston.

Not even UCLA, the NCAA champion the last two years, can equal that performance. The Bruins crushed West Virginia 86-56 for their 68th victory in 69 games, but the only defeat was to Houston last season in the Astrodome.

★ ★ ★

UCLA's victory represented a final tuneup for this weekend's Holiday Festival in New York and for All-American Lew Alcindor and his pulled tendon in his left arch. Both passed easily as the Bruins jumped to a 47-34 halftime lead and breezed and Alcindor scored 19 points and blocked numerous shots while playing without a limp.

MEET PROVIDENCE

The Uclans meet Providence in the first round Friday night of the tournament that also includes second-ranked North Carolina and eighth-rated Villanova.

Villanova also had an easy tuneup, belting Catholic U. 77-47. North Carolina was idle.

Davidson, No. 3, also was idle before heading into the Charlotte Invitational this weekend as the heavy favorite against Texas, Maryland and Wichita State. Cincinnati, No. 6, and Santa Clara No. 10, rested, too.

★ ★ ★

The rest of the Top Ten played true to form, led by fourth-ranked Kentucky which beat undefeated Army 80-65 to win its Lobo Tournament by New Mexico, No. 5, which captured its Lobo Tournament by dropping Temple 83-70.

Notre Dame, No. 7, outscored Indiana 104-94, and St. Bonaventure, No. 9, hammered Illinois Wesleyan 109-76.

Illinois should have plenty of room to move up as Houston, Purdue, No. 12, California, No. 15, and Western Kentucky, No. 18, all lost last week.

★ ★ ★

The Illini, with all five starters back from an 11-13 season last year, jumped to a 50-39 halftime lead and the Cougars never got closer than five again. Dave Scholz and sophomore Greg Jackson each scored 21 points for Illinois.

Cincinnati has a date against North Texas State Saturday and Santa Clara heads for the Rainbow Classic Thursday in Hawaii as the favorite. Kentucky and Notre Dame collide Saturday and New Mexico takes on Texas of El Paso tonight.

St. Bonaventure travels to the All-College Classic at Oklahoma City Thursday. Almost every other major college also is scheduled for a tournament this week.

Purdue was the only Saturday casualty in the second 10, losing to Arizona State 85-80 in the Sun Devil Classic final.

New Defense Helps Denver

Tall, Short Players Halt ABA Bucs

By the Associated Press

The tall and the short of Denver's new defense in the American Basketball Association are 6-foot-9 Wayne Hightower and 6-2 Lonnie Wright, and both looked just the right size against New Orleans.

In a strange switch, Rocket Coach Bob Bass put Hightower on 6-4 Jimmy Jones, New Orleans' high scoring guard, and Wright on 6-7 Ron Franz, and the result was Denver's 122-96 victory over the Bucs Sunday night.

Hightower held Jones to 17 points, 11 below his average, and Franz managed only 15 as the Rockets took a 31-20 quarter lead and gradually increased it. Larry Jones finished with 29 points for the Rockets.

In other ABA games, Indiana trounced the New York Nets 125-110, and Dallas beat Houston 111-105. Kentucky at Minnesota was postponed because of a storm.

On Saturday night, Indiana stopped Kentucky 114-97, Miami edged Minnesota 103-99, Los Angeles tripped Denver 124-119 in overtime, Dallas hammered Houston 130-103, and Oakland blasted New Orleans 144-124.

Western Five Falls on Road at Marquette

MILWAUKEE (AP) — No two Broncos combined were able to match Marquette's George Thompson and the result was a 76-60 Western Michigan non-league basketball loss to the Warriors.

★ ★ ★

Thompson pumped in 32 points for Marquette to pace the winners Saturday night in Milwaukee. It was his biggest production of the season and moved him into fifth place on the Marquette career scoring list with 1,338 points.

★ ★ ★

Gene Ford and Ellis Hull each had 12 points to top the Broncos.

★ ★ ★

The only thing that kept Western Michigan in the game was the inability of the Warriors to sink free throws during most of the first half. But with the score 24-21 Thompson, Dean Meminger and Ric Cobb led a Marquette surge that kept WMU out of reach.

Bowie Drops Gold Cup

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Bowie Race Course has dropped from its 1969 schedule the $100000 Governor's Gold Cup which produced Kentucky Derby first-place finishers in its last two runnings.

Hearing Ends

Derby Decision Is Upheld

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The Kentucky Racing Commission today upheld the stewards at Churchill Downs in disqualifying Dancer's Image from the winner's purse in the 1968 Kentucky Derby. The commission, after hearing 14 days of testimony, agreed with the stewards that the colt, owned by Boston sportsman Peter Fuller, had phenylbutazone or a derivative of the drug in his system during the running of the May 4 Derby.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Arthur Grafton, an attorney for Fuller indicated an appeal might be made to the courts, but said no final decision would be made until he talked to Fuller.

Fuller was reported in Boston.

"While the commission is announcing its decision today," Egge said, "the final order for the purpose of appeal...will not be entered until detailed findings of fact and conclusions of law have been prepared, adopted and filed by the commission.

★ ★ ★

"The time for the taking of any such appeal will not begin to run until the entry of that final order," Egger said.

Grafton immediately asked for a complete transcript of the commission's hearing to be prepared and attested by the commission. He said that was the first step in an appeal if one were to be made.

Foreign Student Squash Champ

Mir, who was 18 Dec. 13, retained his title by defeating Gordon Anderson of Toronto, Ont., 17-15, 15-10, 15-12 in the windup of the 14th annual tournament Sunday at St. Paul's School.

Nothing Like a Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Not only are Ohio State and Southern California 1-2 in the college football rankings, they also led the nation in attendance, according to figures released today by the National Collegiate Sports Services.

Ohio State averaged 80,427 spectators for each of its six home games — a rise of 3,727 over 1967 — in winning its 11th consecutive national attendance crown and 17th in the last 18 years.

HIGHEST FINISH

It was the highest ever for Southern California, which averaged 70,989, an increase of more than 8,000 a game over 1967.

A record 10 teams averaged more than 60,000 per game. Ohio State, Southern California, Michigan State, Michigan, Louisiana State, Nebraska, Texas, Purdue and Notre Dame were repeaters while Tennessee joined the group, rising from 17th to eighth, ahead of Purdue and Notre Dame.

All of the top 10 teams except Michigan, No. 4, showed increases. The Wolverines dropped 6,557 per game to 67,991, despite the season's largest crowd, 102,875 for the Michigan State game.

* * *

Michigan State ranked third with a per-game average of 69,030, followed by Michigan; Louisiana State, 66,129; Nebraska, 65,967; Texas, 63,333; Tennessee, 62,258; Purdue, 61,124, and Notre Dame, 61,075.

The only other 100,000-plus crowd was 101,799 for the Army-Navy game in Philadelphia.

The biggest increase was Pennsylvania's, up 12,300 per game. Next came Memphis State's Missouri Valley champions, up 11,642, and California, up 11,403. California made the longest jump, from 45th place to 26th.

Fullmer Loses Ground

Boxing Champs Honored

SYLVANIA, Ohio (AP) — Nicoline Loche of Argentina and Nino Benvenuti of Italy were named Boxers of the Month today by the World Boxing Association.

Loche was cited for winning the junior welterweight championship with a technical knockout over Paul Fuji in Tokyo, Dec. 12. Benvenuti gained recognition for turning back the challenge of Don Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, in San Remo, Italy, Dec. 14 in their middleweight title bout.

Fullmer's loss dropped him to the No. 4 spot among the middleweights behind Luis Rodriquez of Miami Beach, Fla., Emile Griffith of New York City and Juan Carlos Duran of Argentina.

* * *

Among the heavyweights, Argentina's Oscar Bonavena was dropped to No. 3 after losing to top-ranked contender Joe Frazier of Philadelphia, Jerry Quarry of Bellflower, Calif., advanced to No. 2.

Tech Skaters Triumph for Hockey Title

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Tech finally won the top trophy in its Great Lakes hockey tournament this weekend, but any homecoming celebration had to be postponed until today.

Tech won the title Saturday night defeating Wisconsin 4-1. The Huskies have hosted the four-team affair for the fourth-straight year this weekend. It was their first tourney title.

Their moment of glory at the Houghton campus had to be delayed because of a heavy snow storm which forced cancellation of their flight from Green Bay, Wis., to the Upper Peninsula city. A Tech bus was dispatched to Green Bay for the last leg of the trip.

* * *

In the consolation game Bill Watts of Michigan State Univery-sity went on a scoring binge leading the Spartans to a 4-2 victory over Michigan.

Watts scored all four goals. The four goals Saturday tied a single-game tournament scoring record. Combined with a single in the tourney opener, Watts claimed a tournament record of five goals.

Watt was named the tournament's most valuable player in voting sportswriters Saturday night. Watt was also placed on the all-tournament team in the wing position.

Possible Sweep for U.S. Team

Canadians Are Fifth After Two Days

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — A strong showing in the downhill today would give the Americans a clean sweep in the alpine Holiday Classic ski meet with Canada.

* * *

After two days of skiing, the best showing by a Canadian was Bill McKay's fifth-place finish Sunday in the men's giant slalom.

* * *

Kiki Cutter, Bend, Ore., won the women's giant slalom Sunday in 1:52.82, a half second ahead of Erica Skinger, Stowe, Vt. Marilyn Cochran of Richmond, Vt., was third and Karen Budge, Jackson, Wyo., fourth.

* * *

Dip in 5th Straight Day

Stock Mart Resumes Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market early Monday afternoon resumed its doleful decline for the fifth straight session.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.9 to 361.5, with industrials off 3.6, rails off .4, and utilities off 1.1

The market was lower from the start and continued to widen its decline as the day wore on. Blue chips and glamor stocks sank, but selling pressure was not heavy.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 7.27 to 959.72.

Lehigh Valley Industries, up a fraction, took the lead as most-active stock when it was traded on a block of 169,100 shares, off ⅛ at 13. In second place on volume was Spartan Industries, which traded unchanged at 28 on a block of 125,00 shares. It registered a fractional gain in later dealings.

★ ★ ★

Part of the reason for the decline, brokers said, was the fact that Monday was the last day on which stocks could be sold on a regular five-day delivery basis so that the profits could be recorded on 1968 income tax returns. Selling to establish losses can continue until the end of the year.

Prices were irregularly lower on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was a little heavier than on Friday. The Amex index took a slight loss.

eckmar Corp. paced the list on volume as it advanced nearly 2 points. Also active, Gilbert Flexi-Van dropped 3, Asamera Oil and LTV Aerospace about 1 each, Westates Petroleum 1¼, and Ling-Temco-Vought warrants 2.

Earl Reaps Some Goodies From Funny Goodman Ace

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Goodman Ace is one of the few funny writers left in these solemn times. I asked Goody to pluck a few gems from his delightful column in The Saturday Review for me to reprint. He replied with the silence for which he is not noted.

WILSON

Back came a letter from Goody.

"Dear Earl: Please don't send Jane any more mail. She said 'Why don't you do what he wants, he's so nice.' I said, 'What does he want!' She said, 'I don't know but do it, he's so nice.'

"I said to Jane, 'He isn't going to use my whole column because that wouldn't leave space for things he wishes he'd said. Anyway, he would discover there are few quotes that stand on their own. Like "A miniskirt measures about two hands above the knee," or "TV is called a medium because it is rarely well done," or Groucho Marx at a dinner party was asked by his hostess if he would like some chicken livers and replied, "No, nor anybody else's." And Jane said, 'Are you going to sit there talking? Do what he wants, he's so nice.' So, Earl, please don't send Jane any more mail . . . Luv, Goody."

Goody, the one-time Kansas City critic, got $2,500 a week writing the Milton Berle TV show and something similar for the Tallulah Bankhead "Big Show" radio program. He can do everything with a typewriter except write dirty and you should read him. He's up to the minute. He hears the trouble with Hong Kong flu shots is that you want another one a half hour later.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Barbra Streisand's offer of $1,000,000 for 4 weeks at the new Las Vegas International ($250,000-a-week) is likely to be all-time high for a long, long time. Sid Korshak, atty. for the rival Riviera, who has her under contract from an old deal for $7,500-a-week and has offered her $100,000 a week, says, "They can't do it unless I release her. I don't know whether I want to stand in her way of making $1,000,000."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: John J. Plomp heard of a fellow who was very proud when he found his wife knitting little things, then found out she was dating a jockey.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Charlie Bates figures the modern-day Scrooge is the woman who shows up at her husband's Christmas office party.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Nature makes little boys and girls lovely to look upon so they can be tolerated until they acquire some sense."—William Lyon Phelps.

EARL'S PEARLS: Bob Ropoza of Plymouth, Mass., says his friend can't quit smoking: "His doctor wrote him a note advising him to stop—and my friend rolled up the note and smoked it."

Pickpocket Vic Perry, now working at the Playboy Club, says his skill is inherited: "My grandfather learned to be a pickpocket in Australia, kidnaping baby kangaroos." . . . That's earl, brother.

AMERICAN DESERTERS—These Army deserters in Sweden are finding life far from home in a strange country is not the heaven they had supposed, A leader of the American Deserters Committee in Stockholm said many of them are depressed over their self-imposed exile and are longing to return home. About 105 American deserters have been granted asylum in Sweden.

Window Fog Still a Problem

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — With one of the most breathtaking views of all time out their windows, the Apollo 8 astronauts face much the same problem as couples at a drive-in theater on a cold night—foggy windows.

* * *

Only two of five windows around the cone-shape craft are clear, the pilots reported. Both side windows, each about 13 inches square, "have moderate haze on them," they told ground controllers, and a round window in the center "is almost opaque."

* * *

Foggy windows have plagued nearly every manned space flight, and project officials said there was no reason to think Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders would have any difficulty making critical maneuvers because of the problem. The source of the problem never has been pinpointed.

* * *

* * *

The two windows without any fogging are triangular panes about eight inches high and 13 inches long. They face the left and right couches, where Borman and Anders are stationed, and permit a view toward the spaceship's nose.

City Scraps Its Yule Tree

FERNDALE, Wash. (AP) — This northwest Washington city's yule glow won't be as bright this year. Worried about expenses, Mayor Carl Fisher has ordered the city's 25-foot Christmas tree taken to the city dump.

The tree, given to the city by a local couple, was erected in front of City Hall without the City Council's approval. Fisher said this caused "some squabbling within city ranks."

The mayor explained that Christmas decorating around town—supported by local taxes—has "steadily grown out of hand." The city's five-man crew was crimped for time and did not have time to decorate the donated tree, he said.

U.S. Shows Biafra Compassion, Cash

By TOM TIEDE

NEW YORK (NEA) — A group of youngsters paraded on Fifth Avenue to protest what they felt was United States apathy toward starving children in Biafra.

"Save the children," she shouted.

* * *

Then, almost sobbing, she added: "There are 12,000 children starving to death every day over there (Biafra). What's the matter with the United States — what's the matter with the people? Doesn't anyone care?"

The truth is, the American people do care. They have opened their hearts for Biafra and their pocketbooks, also. In fact, officials of combined Catholic-Protestant Biafran relief societies say U.S. compassion has been unprecedented.

OVERWHELMING RESPONSE

Rocco Sacci, public information director of the Catholic Relief Services, says: "The response from Americans is overwhelming. People in our organization say they can't remember when so much was given so fast."

The Protestant counterpart, Church World Service, agrees. A spokesman there says that of all the aid currently being given to Biafra, over one-third is being donated by the people of the United States.

* * *

Latest figures by both groups indicate that more than $3 million worth of U.S. medicine, food and critical material has been airlifted to Biafra since August. That's nearly 1.5 million pounds of relief.

Moreover, authorities feel the U.S. donations would be even greater to date were it not for public confusion concerning the Nigerian war. Relief agency authorities say that many Americans have held back contributions because they wrongly believe such aid cannot get into blockaded war areas.

PRIVATE CONTRIBUTIONS

The donations have come from individuals or small, localized collection groups. Some large foundations have contributed (up to $25,000), but with much less frequency than private citizens.

At the Catholic Relief Services offices, 65 floors up the Empire State Building, the contributions pour in daily. Secretaries have recorded donations from grade school tots, from military bases, from church collection plates and from the receipts of raffles, dances and drives.

* * *

One youngster, Jean-Pierre Ruiz of Jackson Heights, N.Y. sent in $5 with this explanation: "I enclose the money my brother and I earned from a Kool-Aid drive and the sale of bottles."

Another donor, a woman from St. Louis, sent in $12 that she had saved by "filling up jars around the house with pennies." She said she had been planning to get a new coat, but it didn't seem important any more.

$1,000 CHECK

Another donation, from the men of Hahn Air Force Base, N.Y., included a check for $254.62 and the written hope it would "relieve the suffering."

Says a CRS worker: "It's all been very wonderful. One day a woman walked into the office with her child. And, while the boy waited, she just sat down at a desk and wrote us out a check — for $1,000."

* * *

Nobody at either the Catholic or Protestant organization implies that U.S. assistance has been sufficient. They point out that thousands of Biafrans continue to die daily, that projected figures indicate a half-million could starve in December and they wish the donations would double or triple.

But everyone seems to agree the American response has been massive.

LITTLE KNOWN

"After all," says a priest who has been to Biafra, "that nation's a long way from here. Most people in the United States never even heared of it until this summer."

This summer, people began hearing of Biafra through newspaper and television accounts. One story, quoting a Catholic missionary, told of children catching flies and scraping the ground for worms to eat. Another, the pitiable account of an 11-year-old girl, fully aware she was dying of starvation and crying uncontrollably in a hospital bed until the end came.

* * *

Since then, American donations have accounted for more than 450 mercy flights into the Biafran war zone — each flight containing more than 10 tons of everything from protein concentrate to wool blankets.

As one letter of contribution has summed it up: "I don't have a lot, but the kids in Biafra have nothing. Here's $3 and a prayer."

Teen Says He'll Give Up Crime After Whipping

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The teen-ager who chose 20 licks with a leather belt instead of five years in prison has vowed he will stay out of trouble and defended the judge who gave him the choice.

"The judge went out on a limb for me," Scott Grandstaff said last weekend. "I'm not going to cut it off.

* * *

District Judge Carmon C. Harris sentenced the Grandstaff youth Thursday to the whipping by his brother-in-law on a charge of concealment of stolen property. Harris had given the teen-ager a deferred sentence earlier this year in connection with another burglary.

The World's Dirtiest Race

4,997 Vietcong Defections Told

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese officials claimed today that 4,997 Vietcong have come over to the government side since it launched a special campaign Oct. 15.

A communique said the "ralliers" brought with them 25 crew-served and 423 individual weapons, 83 hand grenades and a large quantity of ammunition.

U.S. Ready to Renew Soviet Culture Swap

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S.-Soviet cultural exchanges suspended after the invasion of Czechoslovakia should resume early next year, the State Department says.

But the decision to resume the exchanges, made after consultation with NATO allies, does not mean the United States has changed its attitude toward the invasion, a spokesman said.

"Our attitude toward the Soviet-led action against Czechoslovakia has been made clear both unilaterally and in concert with our allies," press officer Robert J. McCloskey said. "This attitude remains unchanged."

The Soviet Union has been notified of the willingness to resume the exchanges suspended early in September, McCloskey said.

2 GROUPS COMING

He said the U.S.S.R. State Symphony should come to this country in February and a visit by the Osipov Balalaika Ensemble is scheduled next fall.

McCloskey announced Sept. 6 that a number of exchanges with Poland had been canceled or postponed. It was learned, at the same time, that a scheduled Soviet tour by the University of Minnesota band had been cancelled.

★ ★ ★

The United States is ready to permit the band to make the tour next year, McCloskey said.

Preparations also are to resume for U.S. participation in the Poznan Fair in Poland in June and the Budapest Fair in Hungary next May, McCloskey said.

5 NATIONS TOOK PART

Poland and Hungary joined the Soviet Union, East Germany and Bulgaria in sending troops to Czechoslovakia last August.

Japan OKs Plan to Alter Status of Some U.S. Bases

TOKYO (AP) — Attempting to dampen opposition in Japan, the United States offered today to give up, more or share a third of its bases in Japan.

The offer was accepted, and the two governments said they would begin discussions on the change in status of about 50 of the 148 bases and installations the United States maintains under the U.S.-Japan Security Treaty. The bases were not named.

The agreement was reached at a three-hour session of the security treaty joint consultative committee attended by Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi; Kuichi Arita, director-general of the Japanese defense agency; U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Adm. John S. McCain Jr. commander of U.S. Naval Forces in the Pacific.

Recent studies indicate that a genetic abnormality that has been linked with criminality may occur in as many as one in 3,000 men.

Gromyko Fails to Leave Cairo

Delays Exit in Possible Effort to Avert War

By United Press International

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko extended his visit to Cairo today in what Middle East sources said could be a major effort to head off another Arab-Israeli war.

There were unconfirmed reports Gromyko carried a Middle East Peace Plan from Swedish ambassador Gunnar Jarring, the U.N. peace envoy, who is in the Soviet capital.

★ ★ ★

In Jerusalem, Israel confirmed it had been in contact with Soviet officials concerning a Middle East settlement but spokesmen attached little significance to Gromyko's visit to Cairo.

Middle East obervers said the hurriedly arranged visit indicated the Arab-Israeli crisis was entering a critical phase, with Egyptians troops along the Suez Canal on full alert.

Diplomats said Gromyko might be trying to head off further Middle East fighting that could bring the Soviets face-to-face with the United States.

There was no communique of yesterday's top-level meeting. But Egyptian sources said Gromyko had decided to postpone his departure from today until tomorrow for more discussions.

25 Young Persons Die in U.S. Mishaps

By the Associated Press

Three fires claimed the lives of 13 children and 12 young people died in two auto accidents over the weekend as the Christmas holiday season neared its peak.

Three Navy crewmen were killed in a helicopter crash and a disabled veteran and his son, a Marine home on Christmas leave from Vietnam, died in their auto.

"The entire community is in a state of shock and disbelief," Mayor Bob Bass said at church services Sunday. "Our deepest sympathies go out to the hundreds of relatives."

A few hours later, five youngsters of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McLaughlin of Portsmouth, N.H. died in a blaze as their parents visited next door. A sixth child escaped.

Later Sunday, five teen-agers were killed when their car hit a tree south of Allentown, Pa. Police said the car went out of control on the road between Lanark and Limeport in Lehigh County.

★ ★ ★

And in Coatesville, Pa., five children died as their home was swept by fire. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Green Jr., a sixth child and a grandfather were hurt.

The Green children killed were Antonette, 9, Floyd III, 8, Geffrey, 7, Jerome, 6, and Melissa, 4. Their father was listed in critical condition, and the others in fair condition, in Coatesville Hospital.

The victims in the Allentown crash were Carey Koch, 17; Charles Romig, 15; Katherine Brubaker, 15, Theresa Ohl, 14, and Roger Hassick, 17. A sixth youth was critically injured.

Police in Portsmouth said the five McLaughlin children died about a half-hour after a babysitter had gone home. The victims were Scott, 8, and four sisters, Patricia, 7, Kimberly, 5, Annette, 4, and Kelly, 4 months.

★ ★ ★

The two-car disaster near Hartsville left many of the city's young girls in tears, a local radio station reported. Dead were Steve Griggs, 18, Robert King, 20, William Hogg, 18, Mike Taylor, 19, Jimmy Ross, 18, Douglas Leroy Price, 16, and Richard Wadsworth, 17. Griggs, Taylor and Ross were college students home on vacation. Wadsworth and Price attended Hartsville high school, and Hogg and King worked in the city, police said.

★ ★ ★

Three youngsters died Friday night in an Atlanta, Ga. fire as their parents were hiding Christmas presents in another part of the building. Intense heat blocked firemen as Nathan James, 6, Martha Ann Whatley, 4, and Bethlashang Whatley, 2, died from asphyxiation.

A Navy helicopter crashed on a dairy farm near Imperial Beach, Calif. Sunday as it returned from a training flight. Lt. J.G. Thomas A. Mathews, 25, of Chula Vista, Calif. was one of the dead. The identities of other two were not immediately released.

The Marine, Stephen Gath, 19, his father died Saturday when their car rolled over near Danville, Calif. The father, Donald M. Gath, 48, a radiation laboratory weapons engineer, lost both legs in World War II.

2 on Apollo Need a Pill to Get Sleep

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The three Apollo 8 astronauts had varying degrees of luck getting to sleep over the weekend.

Only Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. appeared to have little trouble snoozing. Through Sunday night he was the only one who had not asked for sleeping tablets.

★ ★ ★

Air Force Col. Frank Borman, the command pilot, was the first to try for some shut-eye Saturday, and the first to ask for a Seconal, described as a short-acting sleeping pill. Permission was given.

★ ★ ★

Lovell and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders got to sleep all right during their first rest cycle Saturday. But late Sunday, Anders decided he needed a sleeping pill, and ground controllers concurred.

Borman did not ask for another sleep-inducing tablet during his sleep period Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Shortly after Borman took his sleeping pill, Dr. John Zeiglschmid, flight surgeon, told newsmen that Borman requested it "after he was not able to sleep two hours into his sleep period." He called this "another space first." It was the first time sleeping pills had been taken into space. There were 21 Seconal tablets on board at blastoff time.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR wife and mother, Mrs. Karen V. Nelson, who passed away December 23, 1952.
Sleep on, dear good mother, it has been long years.
Yours was a heart that was blithesome and gay,
Scattering sunshine all along the way.
You know how we loved you, and yes, love you yet;
Though God took you from us, We cannot forget.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Cecil D. Baker who passed away December 27, 1967;
More precious than gold
Of a father whose worth
Can never be told.
Your memory is a keepsake with which we'll never part,
Though God has you in His keeping You love and spirit remains in our hearts.
Sadly missed by daughter Barbara and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear daughter, Marion Ryen, who passed away Dec. 23 1967 1 year ago today.
We mourn the loss of one we loved
We did our best to save,
Beloved in life regretted still,
Remembered in her grave.
No more upon this world we'll see,
Her gentle loving face.
Who can take her place.

A Look at TV

Apollo Coverage Sleek

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — The television networks with plenty of practice, turned in their usual sleek professional jobs of covering the greatest of the space shots to date, the Apollo 8 blast off.

Television is having troubles with critics of its news coverage, but no one can fault the networks on the way they are able to present, explain and illustrate the background of a space event. It all led up Saturday to that breath-taking moment when the massive Saturn 5 rocket, in a burst of flame, moved slowly into the sky. A whole nation could watch the start of an adventure that must rank with the sailing of Columbus.

Over the years of the space program network reporters have sharpened their skills and developed their specialities. It is impossible to single out one network or one reporter for special praise. They were all very good.

The television pictures from the space vehicle Sunday, made an incredible 140,000 miles from earth were of excellent quality. It was disappointing that the shots of earth—it looked like a bright star on the screen—did not come off clearly.

FOOTNOTE TO FLIGHT

All three networks of course dropped regular programming to show the space pictures. CBS, caught with the Baltimore-Minnesota football game in progress was careful to note at the conclusion of the space program, that during the viewers' absence, the game had reached halftime with no change in the score in the interim.

Portions of the final 2½ minutes of the first half that were missed were shown on tape before the second half started, but the network's New York office received about 2000 telephone calls of complaint.

While television had a field day covering man's first journey to the moon, it did not have much luck trying to cover an event closer to home: the marriage of Julie Nixon to David Eisenhower. Julie said she wanted a private marriage and, she had one.

Bright Spot in Sky Venus, Not Apollo

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A bright spot seen in the night sky by several Kalamazoo-area residents this weekend resulted in speculation they might be seeing the Apollo 8 capsule carrying three astronauts to the moon.

But it wasn't. It was the planet Venus, said Dr. Hym Krug-lak, professor of astronomy at Western Michigan University. He added that Venus has been unusually bright the past couple of months.

In Houston, officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it would be impossible to see reflections of the capsule with the naked eye. "Only an observatory with a large telescope would be able to do it," a spokesman said.
