Troopers Report Paroled Convict Confesses Crime

Girl's Body Discovered Hidden Under Straw and Pine Branches

GRAND MARAIS (AP)—The body of missing school-teacher Patricia Burdick, covered with pine branches and straw, was found early today in a desolate pine forest three miles north of the village of Seney in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

State Police Lt. Murrell Clark said Leonard H. Lundberg, 35, a paroled convict from Marquette had admitted slaying her with a tire iron.

Lundberg led troopers to the spot where the body lay hidden, a few yards off M77.

The area had been covered only yesterday by a search party which had been looking for the attractive 21-year-old teacher since her mother Mrs. Eva Burdick reported her missing three days ago.

The young woman was last seen Sunday night, hitchhiking to this Lake Superior village after spending the weekend with her mother at Sault Ste. Marie.

There is no bus service between Sault Ste. Marie and Grand Marais and State Police said it was not unusual for girls to hitchhike through the area.

Clark quoted Lundberg as saying he picked up the girl at Seney and drove her three miles before he pulled off onto a side road and killed her. Rape had apparently been the motive for the slaying, the officer said.

Miss Burdick's skull had been fractured. An autopsy was scheduled for today.

Lundberg was seized yesterday morning at his home in Marquette after State Police learned he was a paroled convict and had not reported Monday for work at the Munising Wood Products Co. in nearby Munising. He also was known to have visited relatives in Seney last Sunday.

Edward Arnold Dies Suddenly

Veteran Screen Actor
Years in Show Business

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Veteran stage and screen actor Edward Arnold died today suddenly of a cerebral hemorrhage at his Encino home.

The 66-year-old actor, famed for his role of "Mr. President" on radio and for more than 104 major roles in films, succumbed at 2:30 a.m.

Arnold was celebrating his 50th year in show business. He was currently engaged in a heavy work schedule of stage, movie and television appearances.

He came to Hollywood in the early '30s and was under contract for a number of years with MGM. One of his most famous roles was that of Diamond Jim Brady.

Recently, he had been touring with the play "Apple of His Eye" and had also just finished a TV dramatic show.

He is survived by his widow, Cleo, formerly of Detroit, and three children by a former marriage, Mrs. William F. Orlando, Mrs. James E. Bright of Northridge and a son, William Arnold.

No funeral arrangements have been made as yet.

Accident Scene and Victims on Pontiac Lake Road

END OF THE ROAD—Four young Waterford Township men died last night when their car failed to negotiate a curve on Pontiac Lake Road, and crashed into a tree. A Pontiac youth, the fifth passenger, is in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital today. Police were seeking the car's occupants as those allegedly involved in a fight with a Pontiac resident.

What Next, Mr. Chairman?

Can City Build Hospital With $3 Million Available?

Where does the addition to the Pontiac General Hospital go from here? That's the question uppermost in the minds of the Pontiac citizens who voted a 3 million dollar addition 18 months ago.

Apparently this is their answer:

The third postponement of the final tabulations of the bids was made Tuesday night by architect Leo J. Heenan.

Talk of the possibility of Federal aid is still being considered by the building committee. (This aid from the Hill Burton program was turned down March 2.)

Mr. Heenan also mentioned the possibility of private contributions.

After 18 months the voters are entitled to something more than continued delays.

The Pontiac Press would like to ask Mr. Babcock, chairman of the hospital board two questions:

1. Is it impossible to build a 3 million dollar addition to the Pontiac General Hospital?
2. With 3 million dollars available why would the hospital board or the building committee consider any construction in excess of that amount?

Certainly it is architecturally feasible to build a $2,000,000 addition. Talk of anything above that figure is not keeping faith with everyone.

Further delays will only make an increase in the present estimates.

Pontiac needs the additional hospital beds.

Board meetings and reviewing the situation in quest of funds that are not available is plain mockery.

In the past Pontiac has acted to take care of its needs. Citizens on all sides are demanding positive action.

2 Royal Oak Women Killed

Two Royal Oak women were killed last night when their car crashed into the side of a trailer seven miles east of LaGrange, Ind.

Dead are Mrs. Clarence Edgill, age unknown, who died at the scene, and Florence Evans, 52, who died this morning at a LaGrange hospital.

Two other passengers in the car were injured severely. State police said the car failed to stop at an intersection and plowed into the truck driven by Stanley L. Ferry, of Benton Harbor. Troopers said the driver may have fallen asleep.

Completion Near on Postal Layout, Dondero Reports

U. S. Congressman George A. Dondero said today final decisions as to building layout of Pontiac's additional post office building will be made early next week.

Dondero quoted a letter from Rollin D. Barnard, deputy assistant to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, saying the department's study of space requirements has been completed.

"I am confident that development and construction can be expected in the very near future," Barnard said.

All Night Hunt Fails to Find Missing Boy

LYONS (AP)—State Police said a search by 30 troopers and 60 volunteers all last night still has failed to turn up a clue as to what happened to missing 8-year-old James Russell.

The Lyons boy disappeared from his home Tuesday afternoon and it first was believed he drowned in the Grand River.

Trooper Tony Sobolewski of the Ionia post said the river in the area was thoroughly searched after the water level was dropped by plugging up three dams and "we haven't found a thing." Water levels have been restored to normal.

Sobolewski said troopers will continue the search until some trace is found of the boy. "I don't know whether it's foul play or not," said Sobolewski. "There's nothing to indicate either way and the country down there is pretty wild."

Besides the river, police searched all vacant barns and houses in the area last night and are continuing their search along the river area. Lyons is located seven miles east of Ionia in Ionia County.

Perennial Panther on Prowl Again

By JOE HAAS

What has the semblance of a black panther has again appeared in the vicinity of Leonard, in the northeast corner of Oakland County.

An animal of this description was seen Wednesday afternoon by John H. Sutherby, driver of a Leonard school bus, and several of the children with him.

When on Second Lake road, about three miles northeast of Leonard, some of the children spotted it in an open field about 400 feet away. Sutherby stopped the bus and for several minutes they watched it.

7 Children Die as Fire Razes Cinder Block Home

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Fire raced through a one-story cinder-block home eight miles northwest of here early today, killing seven children who were alone in the house.

Fire Chief Richard Campbell of Sylvania, whose men joined a Whiteford Township, Mich., company in fighting the blaze just north of the Michigan-Ohio border, said the father, John Cooper, 33, was en route with his wife, Laurel, 29, to a Toledo cafe where she works when the fire broke out.

Dead were Brenda Joyce, 9; Harrison Leonardo, 9; Jacqueline, 6; John, 4; Sherry Jean, 3; Georgia Marie, 2; and Carter Stephen, 2 months.

Campbell said he believed Harrison Leonardo had been orphaned and was being reared by the Coopers.

Sheriff's deputies said Coopy was being held for investigation. The deputies said State Police wanted to determine why the children were left alone.

The fire chief said bodies of three of the children who apparently tried to escape were found sprawled in a hallway and at a door. The other four bodies were found in beds. They had been in two rooms of the six-room house, Campbell said.

A neighbor discovered the blaze. She said flames spread so quickly that no rescue attempts were possible. Campbell said it apparently was a flash fire and had "gained such headway that by the time we got there there was little that could be done."

Campbell was unable to say what had caused the fire, and he said the parents were in such a state of shock they were unable to give a possible cause.

Fifth Hurt as Joy Ride Is Climaxed by Tragedy

Brighton Resident, 48, Dies
Near Kensington Park as Two Cars Collide; 2 Hurt

An alleged drinking spree last night ended in death for four Waterford Township youths when their car hurtled past a curve on Pontiac Lake road and smashed headon into a tree.

A fifth youth, from Pontiac, was removed from the wreck with injuries.

In another accident this morning, a Brighton man died in a two-car collision on US 16 near Kensington Metropolitan Park.

Pontiac Grocery Company Sold

Buy Whitfield, Walter
and Dawson Firm

Purchase of the 37-year-old wholesale grocery firm of Whitfield, Walter and Dawson by Lee & Cady of Detroit was confirmed today by owners of the two companies. The Pontiac firm ends local operations June 1.

Lee & Cady President John N. Lord said his company has purchased the "merchandise and good will" of the wholesale house. Plans to sell the 118 W. Lawrence St. building, machinery and other equipment were announced by Stuart Whitfield.

The operation will move to Detroit, although key warehouse employees and the sales staff will be retained under the new management, Whitfield said.

Founded in 1919, Whitfield, Walter and Dawson has supplied dry grocery products to area food stores.

ONE PARTNER DEAD

The firm is now headed by Whitfield and his brother Mac, both sons of one of the founders, and H. O. Cole, an original employee. It was organized by a partnership made up of H. O. Whitfield and Guy Walter who, as retail grocers, bought out the Robinson Wholesale Grocery. A third partner, Joseph Dawson, joined in 1922. He died two years later in an automobile accident.

Whitfield, now 56, retired in 1941. Walter, 51, is president of the Clarkson State Bank.

The site of the original building was at Cass Avenue and Pike Street. A fire in 1925 forced the firm to move to a site later occupied by the Hotel Pontiac and currently by the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

FIRM EXPANDS

Operations were transferred to the present building in 1928.

Robert D. Wilson, 16, of 4856 Filer St.

Arthur D. Farnsworth, 19, of 4021 Arcadia Park Dr.

Wayne Cunningham, 23, of 280 N. Saginaw St., escaped with severe cuts and bruises when the youths' auto, loaded with beer bottles, completely wrapped itself around the tree. He is listed in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

KILLED INSTANTLY

Killed instantly in the crash at 7 a.m. today was Rufus D. White, 48, of 5800 S. U.S. 23.

Apparently White lost control of his car after passing another motorist, one mile west of New Hudson, troopers at the Brighton State Police post said. They said his car swung across the road, ramming into the auto of Homer Smith, 23, of Detroit.

Smith and his passenger, Maceo Thomas, 22, of Detroit both were taken to Mellus Hospital in Brighton, troopers said, where they are listed in Satisfactory condition. Smith suffered a brain concussion, they said, and Thomas fractured ribs.

Police had been seeking the youths' car after reports that they had smashed car windows with beer bottles, fought with a motorist and had threatened a housewife.

Bus Firm Alters Time Schedules

New Changes to Affect Runs Sundays, Holidays, Starts April 29

Holiday and Sunday bus schedules will be altered slightly Sunday when a series of new time schedules will go into effect, officials of Pontiac City Lines Inc. said yesterday.

The changes, as outlined by E. W. Dresher, transportation superintendent, will be as follows:

Outbound, the Huron, Joslyn, Baldwin, Oakland and Perry Park routes will leave the downtown transfer point (Saginaw Street between Pike and Lawrence) at 8:30 a.m. and at 20 minutes past each hour through 9:30 p.m.

Inbound, the same routes will leave the ends of their lines to return to the downtown area at 8:35 a.m. and 35 minutes past each hour through 9:35 p.m.

Outbound Sanford A. South Boulevard, St. Joseph - Franklin, James K. and Bagley routes will leave the downtown transfer point at 7:50 a.m. and 50 minutes past each hour through 9:50 p.m.

The same routes inbound will return downtown at 8:05 a.m. and five minutes past each hour through 10:05 p.m.

The only route change will be a loop of the St. Joseph - Franklin area, Dresher said. The loop's route will follow Fulton, Earlmoor, Delwood, Howland, California, Highland, Dittmar and Franklin, and will be in effect only on Sundays and holidays.

Pontiac Man Faces Local Slaying Count

The second-degree murder trial of Samuel Vaughns, 33-year-old construction laborer of 73 Crawford St., began today before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Vaughns is charged with the shotgun slaying of Willie Henry, 37, of Detroit, on a Pontiac street corner last Oct. 25.

Vaughns told police he fired the fatal shot from behind the wheel of his car after Henry drew a revolver from beneath his coat.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Robert D. Long will conduct Vaughns' prosecution, Mitchell Baccow is defense attorney.

22 Draftees to Leave for Induction Tuesday

Twenty-two men from Pontiac and Oakland County will leave Tuesday morning for induction into the armed forces, the county Draft Boards announced today.

A draft board spokesman said the men from the city and other areas would meet with the quota set for May. The group will be transported to Detroit for induction.

Plan Funeral Services for Auto Crash Victims

Funeral services have been scheduled for three Waterford Township men. All died early today in a car crash on Pontiac Lake road that took four lives and left a fifth person seriously injured in Pontiac General Hospital.

Robert Dale Wilson
Service for Robert Dale Wilson, 16, of 4856 Filer St., will be held at 3:30 p.m. Saturday from Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Pontiac. A former student of Waterford schools, Robert had planned to enter the U. S. Marines on his 17th birthday June 28.

He leaves his parents, Frank and Gladys Wilson; a sister, Mary Lou, four brothers, Frank Jr., Thomas, Richard and Jerry, all at home; and grandparents, Mrs. Victoria Wilson of Rockwood, Tenn. and Mrs. Ella Waters of Oneida, Tenn.

George H. Hampton Jr.
Service for George H. Hampton Jr., 20, of 4877 Fenmore St., also will be held at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

He leaves his parents, George Sr. and Beulah Hampton; a sister, Mrs. Edward Gomer of Pontiac; and a grandmother, Mrs. Annie Hampton of Canada.

Arthur D. Farnsworth Jr.
Service for Arthur Delmar Farnsworth Jr., 24, of 4021 Acadia Park Dr., will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the DeWitt C. Davis Funeral Home, Pontiac, with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery. A Korean War veteran, Mr. Farnsworth had been employed by the Stainless Ware Co.

He leaves his parents, Arthur Sr. and Lina Farnsworth; four brothers, Edward and Howard at home, Donald of Waterford Township, Martin with the U. S. Navy; four sisters, Betty, Sandra, Barbara, Bonnie, all at home; and his grandmother, Mrs. Ida Farnsworth of Pontiac.

Mrs. Richard G. Hartingh
Mrs. Richard G. (Elsie M.) Hartingh, 74, died yesterday in her home, 172 S. Edith St. She had been ill five years.

Born in Cleveland, Ohio Nov. 11, 1881, she was the daughter of George and Mary Jane Miner Mount. On July 11, 1906, she was married to Richard G. Hartingh in Tawas City.

Royal Oak Resident Faced With Warrant

A first-degree murder warrant was issued yesterday for Cecil Edgill, 31, of Royal Oak, the alleged assailant of a Royal Oak barber shop porter who died yesterday morning in William Beaumont Hospital, 11 days after his skull was fractured by a baseball bat reportedly wielded by Edgill.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Zigm said yesterday witnesses will testify they heard Edgill threaten to kill Lerner Norris, 51, of Detroit, shortly before the alleged attack occurred in the royal Oak barber shop where Norris was employed.

Edgill told police April 14 he had hit Norris with the bat in self-defense after Norris had pulled a knife on him.

Former Convict Held in Teacher's Death charged with first-degree murder, which carries a maximum sentence of life imprisonment.

Lundberg was released from Marquette Prison in September after serving nine years of a 15-year term for breaking and entering.

The area of the slaying is one of the most desolate in the sparsely settled Upper Peninsula. Except for scattered villages, dense woods and brush and swamplands cover the entire region.

Mrs. Burdick, a speech correction teacher at the Soo, said she knew her daughter must have met with foul play when she failed to make her regular telephone call Sunday night to say she had arrived safely at Grand Marais.

Miss Burdick's father, who is in the furniture business in Muskegon, came here yesterday. The parents are divorced and Miss Burdick was their only child.

The young teacher had completed three years of college at Michigan Tech and Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti and was saving money for more education, her mother said. She had planned to study in France this summer.

The girl's body was found under a fallen pine tree near the east branch of the Fox River, just over a slight hill off a side trail. It was fully clothed in the red coat and khaki slacks she was wearing when she disappeared, except that one shoe was missing.

Police were searching for the tire iron Lundberg said he used to strike the girl. They found blood-stained floor mats and Lundberg's blood-stained work shoes about a mile and a half west of Munising where the ex-convict said he had tossed them.

At first Lundberg told police blood stains in his car were from a deer he had struck and attempted to put into the front seat. He changed his story when officers showed him his own blood-soaked trousers.

Schoolcraft County Prosecutor William J. Sheehan said Lundberg agreed to show police where he had hidden the body after officers promised he would not have to get out of the car at the scene.

After being brought to the jail in Manistique, Lundberg told police he was cold but declined their offer of coffee.

"I want to sleep. I want to sleep," he said.

Former Publisher Seeks Vacant Seat

A former newspaper publisher from Royal Oak today announced he is entering the Republican contest for U. S. Rep. George A. Dondero's vacant seat.

Claude E. Sadler, former mayor of Marion and publisher of newspapers in Marion and Cadillac, now is a member of the Board of Directors of an area advertising agency and a free-lance writer.

Sadler says he favors an income tax ceiling of 25 per cent, federal subsidization of educational personnel, credit control and broad farm legislation to raise farmers' purchasing power.

Renew Request for Hospital Aid

Pontiac General Head Confers With Official Over Federal Funds

No definite answer resulted yesterday for a second request for Federal aid for the Pontiac General Hospital addition, Lauretta Paul, hospital director, said.

Miss Paul conferred with Jordan J. Popkin, director of the State Hospital Survey and Construction Dept. for three hours.

No members of the Board of Trustees were present at yesterday's conference.

"I do feel a little more encouraged than I did before," she said. She is expected to confer with Popkin again May 11.

A previous request for Federal aid under the Hill-Burton program was denied the hospital in March.

The second request is for outpatient facilities at Pontiac General which will permit the money regularly used for these services to be applied elsewhere, Miss Paul said.

Bids taken on the $3 million wing topped $4 million.

The director said she expected an increase in the 1956-57 Hill-Burton program. The allocation should be announced in July.

William Judy Enters State Senate Race

The Republican contest for the State Senate seat vacated by William S. Bloomfield, now a candidate for U. S. Congress was entered yesterday by Berkeley Mayor William R. Judy.

Judy, 35 and the father of two daughters, has been mayor of Berkeley for a year and councilman for three years. An insurance and real estate broker for nine years, he was an Air Force pilot during World War II.

Judy said he would campaign for "recognition" for the state's "forgotten suburbs." He said Oakland County has been receiving "a pitance from the enormous taxes being paid into state treasuries by Oakland County residents."

The Day in Birmingham

City Planners Requesting Extra Lane on Southfield

BIRMINGHAM — Request for widening Southfield road to 32 feet is being relayed from the planning board to city commissioners.

The board last night heard City Planner Herbert Herzberg describe the Oakland County plan for an expressway on Southfield from Eight Mile road that would circle west of Birmingham. Members strongly favored the plan.

The increase of traffic up Southfield would require more space on Southfield within the city limits of Birmingham, planners agreed.

The Southfield widening would be from 14 Mile to Lincoln, and would allow for one parking lane. The road is currently only a two-lane pavement. From Lincoln to Maple, the road has parking lanes and is 30 feet wide.

Owners of property adjoining un-platted parcels 1A and 1B on North Woodward met with the planning group last night to consider allowing rezoning of the two parcels for terrace development from Woodward back to the river bank.

No recommendation was made. Planners set May 15 as date for both those abutting property owners and the owners of the two parcels to meet with them. A decision is hoped for at the May meeting.

Rezonng for professional office status of five lots north of 14 Mile on Pierce would be feasible if two owners shared their two lots, according to the city planner.

He told the board the owner, Dominic Caputo, had agreed to sell at least 10 feet to the Leinbach-Humphrey Company, which owns too little property to meet the zoning requirement. Negotiations will continue when one of the company's officials returns from Florida.

City planners on Tuesday met with city commission members from Troy, with 15 at the dinner meeting at Kingsley Inn. General mutual problems were discussed informally.

William Dutton, alias Carl Brunning, 316 Haynes, waived extradition in Judge Frank Doty's court yesterday, and is awaiting his return to Colorado on a larceny by conversion

Ronnie Kinser, 17, arrested at a supermarket this week, will be returned to a juvenile home at Knoxville, Tenn. He had escaped and joined his brother-in-law in Miami, Fla. and came here with him three weeks ago.

Edwin LaMay, 246 N. Saginaw, the brother-in-law, has been cleared of larceny charges. He had been with Kinser at the market.

$2 Million Allotted to Dutch Elm Fight

LANSING (U) — Michigan will spend more than two million dollars this year to combat the spread of Dutch Elm disease, which has already hit trees in 16 lower peninsula counties.

C. A. Boyer, chief of the State Agriculture Department plant division, said cities plan to spend about two million dollars in fighting the disease and the state will spend $72,000.

The disease was first discovered in Michigan in the Detroit Metropolitan area, but has spread steadily outward in a semi-circle.

Last year, it affected trees as far west as Grand Rapids and Niles. It has moved northward to Port Huron and Saginaw. Boyer said about 70 per cent of the shade trees in Michigan are elms.

Plan Benefit Dance for Tornado Victims

A dance for the benefit of recent Michigan tornado victims will be held at 9 p.m. Saturday by Pontiac Eagles lodge No. 1230 in their hall at 289 W. Montcalm Ave.

Proceeds will be contributed as part of a state-wide campaign, according to Allen Pilkinton, entertainment committee chairman.

He said that fund-raising activities had been called for by the Eagles state headquarters in Grand Rapids, one of the stricken areas. All counties hit by recent tornadoes will be aided.

Dance band musicians and entertainers in a two-hour floor show have donated their services free of charge, he added.

Herring driven ashore by huge schools of porpoises were gathered in buckets by people on the Fylde coast of Lancashire, England, Fleetwood reports.

Worries Plague Business Executives Who Constantly Watch for New Men

CHICAGO (INS) — The movies generally portray the typical company president as a hard-working, quick-witted businessman who has earned the respect of the men in his organization.

This characterization is true for the most part. However, Lyle M. Spencer, president of Science Research Associates in Chicago, claims many chief executives maintain facades which carefully hide part of their personalities.

Spencer pointed out that these presidents are as secretly dissatisfied with their own work as with that of their most bumbling employees. He added that this hidden dissatisfaction begins almost from the day they take over the reins of business control.

The SRA president said at a recent Chicago meeting of commerce and industry executives that presidents have indicated they spend most of their time worrying about 10 problems.

EXTENSIVE FILE

These problems were uncovered in a survey made among members of the Young Presidents Club, an organization composed of executives who became presidents of multi-million dollar concerns before reaching their fortieth birthday.

Spencer called the study "possibly the most extensive file of information yet collected about what they think they should do—and what do they fear they do wrong."

The survey showed these presidents worried most about using time effectively, not being able to do things, building a satisfactory working force, setting the proper direction for their companies, finding expert advice and securing working capital.

TOO MUCH WORK

Other difficulties that make for grey hair according to the SRA president are negotiations, searching for a creed to live by, self-improvement and making crisis decisions.

Spencer said many members of the YPO "are constantly plagued by the frustrating feeling that they have more work to do and more people to see on any given day than they can satisfactorily handle."

A brisk business manner is one of the results of this constant time pressure.

The Chicago executive called the task of finding and training key officials the "thorniest and longest-lasting" problem a president faces. He said one company head reported:

REAL SLIPUP

"I knew for a long time that the core of (declining sales) was lack of leadership in our sales department. It was the hardest decision of my whole life, but I finally fired my close personal friend who also was my sales manager. This act revitalized the whole organization."

Spencer noted that many presidents also blame themselves for not hiring an outstanding man when he was available because they did not have a specific job for him.

One business leader, however, reported his philosophy was, "always grab a top man when you can, the right spot never fails to turn up soon."

The SRA president pointed out that every chief executive faces recurring crises. He added that "it is interesting how often they seem to have their most brilliant ideas when their backs are against the wall."

Find Detroit Resident Guilty on Arson Count

A 5-man, 7-woman jury yesterday found William R. Soper, 1550 Hazelwood St., Detroit, guilty of arson after a trial lasting 1½ days. Soper was convicted of maliciously burning an automobile Oct. 14, 1955, in Commerce Township. Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty set no date for sentencing Soper.

Crows Go to Town

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A U. S. Fish and Wildlife official here says that crows are moving into the residential areas of the city. The gravel-voiced intruders, which used to make the valley farm land their quarters, are infiltrating into the plushier, clipped hedge and patio section of the city. "They are extremely adaptable," the official said.

Shades, Lights of Ford Empire

Milan Village Maintains Once-Costly Generator for Electricity Source

MONROE (A)—A gleaming part of the old Henry Ford empire still lights up the village office and public library in the village of Milan.

It's a highly polished generator believed to have cost more per kilowatt output to install than any other power plant in the state.

The power plant, a project of the late Henry Ford, was built in 1937 at an estimated cost of $250,000. It has never delivered more than 26 kilowatts.

The generator goes back to the days when Ford's hobby was hydroelectric power. He wanted a mill to process soybeans being raised on his land at nearby Macon.

The auto maker bought a grist mill and installed a 145-horsepower steam boiler. The Saline River, flowing through the center of the village, was dammed and a power house erected.

SOLD FOR $40,000
A generator was installed in the building to provide electricity to light only the buildings and grounds. The village bought the whole project for $40,000 after the Ford Motor Co. discontinued operations here in 1948.

The mill was converted to a community center and other buildings used to house village equipment. One structure was leased to a bowling alley while the power house became the municipal building.

There's little chance that Milan's venerable power plant will ever be laid up for lack of parts.

Ford, who wanted parts for his Model T cars to be simple and in ample supply, directed that plenty of spares be kept on hand for Milan's generator.

Thurlof Bodley, village public works superintendent, said there is stored in the power plant basement a standby part for every part in the generator—and a standby for the standbys.

Israel's Cotton Crop Increases Sevenfold

JERUSALEM—Israel's 1955 cotton harvest increased sevenfold over the 1954 crop, resulting in the saving of $2,000,000 in hard currency. The 6,500-ton yield of cotton, first planted experimentally two years ago, will provide 40 per cent of the country's cotton requirements.

Sheriff Needs Lift

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (A)—The court room started buzzing when the defendant in a murder trial had not showed up from jail within five minutes after the trial was to start.

Sheriff D. J. Leeper escorted the accused man in and told Judge C. F. Holt they were late because one courthouse elevator stalled.

The judge fined the sheriff $5 for the delay.

Attorney General Asks Security Act Change

After long consideration the Eisenhower Administration has asked Congress for what we believe is an overdue change in the Nation's basic security law.
U. S. Attorney General BROWNELL wants the lawmakers to eliminate that section of the act which makes it mandatory to suspend without pay any Federal employee accused as a security risk. In its place he proposes two sensible substitute provisions.

He would have such an employee, if he occupies a nonsensitive position, retained on the payroll until his case is decided. If the employee's position is sensitive, he would have him transferred to a nonsensitive post and similarly retained pending final disposition of his case.

It long has been felt that the mandatory suspension without pay is one of the severest features of this law. An employee who wants to fight the charges against him might find himself without funds at the very time he needs money most not only to live on and to retain counsel.

One of the strongest arguments for this change is to be found in operation of the act. Officials estimate that more than half of those accused as security risks have been cleared when they carried their fight to the finish.

Not only have these employees suffered needless hardship, both mental and financial, but the Government also has lost. It has had to pay the cleared employee full back pay, and got no work for it.

We hope Congress will act favorably on the Attorney General's request. To withhold approval would be to refuse to recognize a basic American right—the right to be considered innocent until proved guilty.

Unwise Discrimination

Three Southern states have adopted legislation which amounts at least to shortsighted discrimination against Japanese textiles.

These states, Alabama, South Carolina and Mississippi, are big cotton producers. In the belief that they are helping home manufacturers, all three require that mercantile establishments display signs reading "Japanese textiles sold here."

Critics of such legislation contend that it comes dangerously close to encouraging a legally backed effort to carry out a boycott. Moreover, it is a clear violation of the spirit of our 1953 treaty of amity and commerce with Japan.

An important feature of that treaty, "the most favored nation" clause, was included for the special purpose of guarding against just such discrimination.

Most important of all, the backers of this legislation seem to have forgotten that Japan long has been our major foreign market for cotton. Also forgotten is the fact that Japanese imports amount to only one and a half per cent of our textile production. Obviously, the Japanese can't earn the dollars with which to buy raw cotton from us if they can't sell us some finished goods.

One can only hope that more careful study of this complex problem will halt the trend such legislation reflects. It also is to be hoped that it will bring about a clearer and wider understanding of how such laws do trade more harm than good.

Petty Theft by Phone

Most people in this country are so basically honest that they not only pay their just debts and taxes when due, but wouldn't even think of stealing from a neighbor.

Yet an amazing fact is that many otherwise respectable persons don't hesitate to engage in petty chiseling. One example is provided by the Illinois Bell Telephone Company which loses heavily because of widespread abuse of the person to person long distance telephone call.

Here is how the racket works: A long haul truck driver or traveling salesman reports to his home office by asking for a non-existent person. Told that the person named isn't in right now, the call is canceled without charge. Yet, because the agreed upon name was used, the message was delivered and the telephone company is cheated of the toll.

According to officials of Illinois Bell, their company alone loses between $300,000 and $400,000 a year because of this petty theft by phone. What makes this cheating all the more reprehensible is that its cost automatically is passed on to the honest telephone users.
Fortunately, Illinois' commerce commission has authorized the company to fight this abuse by suspending service to subscribers found thus dodging toll charges.

The Man About Town The Fight on TB

Splitting headache: Alimony.
Workers get together next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium for the annual dinner and meeting of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Assn., which is the big local event of the year in the fight against TB. It is open to the public, but advance reservation is quite necessary. The guest speaker is to be C. W. Kammeler, Executive Secretary of the Wisconsin Tuberculosis Association, whose topic will be "The Job Ahead of Us."

Returning to TV on Channel 4 at 5:30 o'clock Sunday are Tom and Arlene Hadley, whose "Nature Trails" have an Oakland County background. Mr. and Mrs. Hadley, whose home is in Holly, recently returned from a 17,000-mile lecture tour.

The funeral of a grand niece of the celebrated surgeon of the last century, Dr. William Beaumont, was held Wednesday. She was Miss Florence Beaumont who spent practically all of her 79 years in Oakland County, 71 years at Clyde. It was in honor of Dr. Beaumont that the William Beaumont Hospital was named. He made an observation of the digestive tract in 1822 through a hole in the stomach of a man who had been shot, which eminent physicians have claimed was the greatest advance of that century in surgery.

David Lawrence Says: New Red Propaganda Line Rips U. S. for Overemphasis on Military Strength

WASHINGTON — The flow of news sometimes embarrasses various spokesmen for present-day governments. Nehru in India must be wondering now if he hasn't been a bit harsh upon the United States, accusing it of "sabre-rattling" and threats. Even Walter Reuther, labor leader, who has been stumping India lately making criticisms of his own government, must feel uncomfortable as he reads what Khrushchev has just said to the British people:

"I am quite sure that we will have a guided missile with a hydrogen bomb that can fall anywhere in the world."

The Soviet leader also claims that the Soviet Union was the first nation to explode a hydrogen bomb from an airplane. He adds:

"The Americans are only intending to do so because their previous explosion was not of a hydrogen bomb but of a hydrogen installation."

Yet the Soviet government is protesting against the forthcoming tests of hydrogen bombs to be held by the United States at the Marshall Islands in the Pacific. And Nehru is also against these tests.

REUTHER JOINS BLAST
But the main burden of the Nehru speeches has been that the United States emphasizes military power and military alliances.

Reuther echoed that criticism when he told audiences in India recently: "Like many Americans, I have felt that United States foreign policy in Asia has placed undue emphasis upon military power, military pacts and military alliances. This overemphasis on military power has, in my opinion, tended to trade reliable democratic friends for doubtful military allies."

Reuther didn't name the "reliable" friends or the "doubtful" military allies. But it is significant that the line taken by the labor chief has been repeated in a general way by Adlai Stevenson, who came out openly last week against the holding of H-bomb tests by the United States. Without mentioning Stevenson, President Eisenhower at his press conference made this significant point about the proposed ban on H-bomb tests:

"It is a little bit of a paradox to urge that we work just as hard as we know how on the guided missile and that we stop all research on the hydrogen bomb, because one without the other is rather useless . . . so I think research without test is perfectly useless, a waste of money."

DEFENSIVE STRENGTH

Such inconsistencies are apparent also in the arguments made by those who keep on saying that America is "losing the Cold War" or is not sufficiently alert to the opinions of Asian peoples.

The United States is not pressing its military program for purposes of aggression but of defense. When the argument is made that America should put less "emphasis" on military alliances, it really means that this country is being asked to abandon those alliances. This is the objective of the Soviet propaganda about alliances and overseas bases: It has been going on for some time now.

Again, it's a case of an attempt by the Soviets to disarm the United States and her allies—to frighten the West by threatening bigger and bigger bombs and demanding that, unless trade advantages are given, the military threats will multiply.

The new dispatches do seem to bear out the theory that military weapons are still a talking point of the Russian leaders and that apparently only Americans must reduce armament, abandon bomb tests and keep from debating military matters in Congress. That's what the Soviet spokesmen apparently want done, and some Americans abroad seem to think it's the way to "win Asia," though it could come to mean "losing America."

Remedy for Heart Trouble Is Plain Body Exercises

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Graduated exercises, that is, regular daily exercise of the kind and amount prescribed by the attending physician, perhaps beginning with the simplest arm or leg movements while the patient is still confined to bed or chair, and gradually increasing from week to week, until the patient can walk a brisk mile or two with benefit or ordinary light work, is the very best remedy we have for heart trouble.

The second best remedy for heart trouble, in my opinion, is a good tonic. A heart tonic.

Most good doctors regard digitalis as a "heart tonic." Just why I have not been able to learn. As nearly as I can understand the doctors still consider digitalis a heart tonic because the great doctors of the last century did. The doctors of the last century got their digitalis lore from an old woman of Shropshire who informed an English doctor by the name of William Withering that foxglove (digitalis) was very good for the dropsy.

In modern textbooks of therapeutics, however, there is little or nothing about the effects of digitalis on dropsy; but man, they give the most amazing explanations of the action of digitalis on the heart. In view of these weird explanations it is no wonder that some so-called cardiologists (heart specialists) make their glib customers believe that a "weak" heart simply won't continue to beat unless the poor soul takes his daily dose of digitalis.

I say this is a refined cruelty, no matter how well-advised the charlatan who defends it.

Therapeutically, digitalis enables the damaged heart to do more work with the same expenditure of energy, declared a standard textbook published 18 years ago. If digitalis or anything else can make a heart do more work with less expenditure of energy, any fool can believe it will keep a heart beating indefinitely.

No, knucklehead, I can't share your childish faith in the miraculous effect of digitalis. It's not that a few drops of digitalis will necessarily do you any harm, but to the best of my knowledge, there is no good laboratory or clinical evidence that the drug does any good. And so I recommend as a real heart tonic to take your digitalis if you're still afraid to do without it and to continue indefinitely after you have stopped the digitalis. It is not medicine, but just essential food, and hence it can do no harm in any circumstance. It is a combination of the B vitamins, including B12 and its potentiators, with iron and manganese. The daily ration of this is three tablets or three teaspoonfuls — B-Nutron tablets or B-Nutron Syrup.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist: $100 a Month Won't Go Far in the City, but It Will Do a Lot on a Small Farm

One hundred dollars per month will not go far in the city where you must pay high rent, but oldsters like Tim and his wife can live in freedom and moderate luxury on a small five-acre farm. Scrapbook this case. It may start you planning your farm freedom after 65. Better be a free farmer than a "kept" inmate of a rest home.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case R-340: Tim J., aged 64, is the Chicagoan who is soon to retire on a Social Security monthly check.

"Dr. Crane, I can buy a little place east of Gary, Indiana," he began and his eyes shone like those of a youngster.

"Mother and I have about decided to invest most of our savings in the deal. It is a five-acre plot with some trees and a little creek that cuts across the far corner."

"We can get the farm for $3,750. It has a three-room house on it and a shed that would serve as a cow barn and garage for my old jalopy."

"There is a good well on the place and the house has been wired for electricity, so we could use our electrical stove, toaster, etc."

Voice of the People 'Lot of Drivers Disregard Yield Right of Way Signs'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I, too, would like to know what happened to all our good stop signs. We were over a year getting a stop sign at a busy intersection near our home, and now they have taken it down and replaced it with a yield sign.

What do we have to do to get our stop sign back? The streets I refer to are the streets approaching Michigan avenue. This street is heavily traveled due to cut off both to Pontiac Motor and GMC Truck plant men going and coming from work. We definitely need a stop sign on all the streets approaching Michigan avenue, not a yield sign.

I have been watching these yield signs for some time, as I travel these streets every day, and they don't mean a thing to a lot of people. We have too many school children crossing this street to take a chance on a yield sign. Please Bring Back Our Stop Signs

Confirmed Cigar Smoker Gets Help From Science

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato: How do you get rid of your inner tensions?

Do you bite your nails? Light up a cigar or cigarette? Chew gum?

Usually a person who has one of these habits is intolerant of one who has another of these nervous habits. The gum chewer looks down on the nail biter. There is a fixed gulf of misunderstanding between the cigarette smoker and the man who enjoys a good corona.

Now—thanks to an enlightened dentist—all us craven addicts have reason to be more tolerant of each other.

Dr. Maury Massler of the University of Illinois College of Dentistry says smokers, gum chewers and nail biters share one thing in common—they are all former thumb suckers.

A tolerant man himself, Dr. Massler sees no basic harm in these grownup replacements for the consoling thumb of childhood. They are merely, he says, needed methods of "relieving the inner tensions that build up."

SWORE OFF AT FIVE

I cannot attest the general accuracy of Dr. Massler's thesis. But it is certainly true in my case. I was a stout thumb man myself until the age of five, when I swore off forever.

There followed 29 tense, fretful, and restless years. Then at 34 I discovered the relaxing solace of a good cigar. It was like being reborn again. Since then my life has been one long smoke-filled song.

But my enjoyment has been interrupted by many a cigarette smoking hostesses who complained that the rich, dreamy aroma of my stogies reminded them of smoldering hemp.

"Why don't you light up a cigarette instead?" they urged.

What could a polite man do but reluctantly extinguish his fine, two-bit cigar—and quietly slip the

'Voters Will OK Building if Location Is Unchanged'

I heartily agree with "Down But Not Out" on the proposed site for the new courthouse—the Oakland County Board of Supervisors hope to get.

Everyone knows the County is in dire need of a new courthouse, but I am sure the voters will again turn the proposal down if the Board insists on erecting the building on the site located at West Boulevard and Telegraph Road. If the voters are assured that the site of the new building will be where the present courthouse is, I am sure they will sanction the erection of same.

There are many reasons why the new courthouse building should not be erected out in the country, but I'll mention only one of them here: What will any and all people, spectators, etc., do when during a trial or other proceeding, a recess is called?

cream, etc., for Tim and his wife, plus enough skim milk to help feed the cow and chickens.

Tim's one-acre garden plot will also furnish several bushels of dry sweet corn for chicken feed. His sow will give him an average of at least six sturdy pigs, annually. One of these he can butcher for his own table and sell the other five.

His cow will raise a calf, which he can sell in the fall for cash.

He will need to buy some hay for the cow and a little grain feed for the cow and chickens, but this outlay will not be very heavy.

FARM FREEDOM
With an outside cash income each month of $75 to $150, as from Social Security (or other insurance), Tim and his wife will live like free men and women.

They will enjoy the zest of farm life. If you have never puttered around in warm loam in spring and smelled the odors of freshly plowed soil, you haven't really lived.

So start shopping around for a five-acre plot, or even a smaller piece of land, on which you can retire. Try to locate on a good paved highway where you aren't far from a bus stop, for then you will not need an automobile. Long after you are too wobbly to drive your own car, you can still hobble to the bus stop to visit the city and attend a movie, church or other social event.

Tim's total expenses for fuel, electricity and taxes, thus will average less than $25 per month, which is just one-third of his $75 monthly rent in Chicago.

Meanwhile, Tim will be free. Nobody can oust him from his own home. And the incentive to move around and work will keep his muscles tougher so he'll live longer. Social Security checks don't go far in the city but you can live on them happily on a small farm like Tim's.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 26 stamped, self-addressed envelope and the to cover mailing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and past-plates.

Nature Receives a Helping Hand

Nebraskans Appreciate Splendor of Trees

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

OMAHA, Neb. (INS)—It's been my impression that the only persons who truly appreciate the splendor of trees are small children, Joyce Kilmer, Tarzan and New York City residents with nostalgic memories of palmier days. Now I discover that Nebraska is

"The Tree-Planter's State" and almost anybody you talk to can give out with a lecture on forestry. "Lots of folks take trees for granted," an Omsahian explained to me. "But Nebraskans—never. Only God can make a tree, but we plant it and keep it going." The reason this state is so arbor-conscious is quite simple. When the first settlers arrived here, the land was as barren as a backyard in the Sahara.

Starved for beauty and scorched by the midday sun, the pioneers sent word back to the nearest forested settlement for sprigs and bulbs and seeds and, as fast as the laws of nature would allow, they began to build up their own green nesting roosts for birds, their own cool and comforting shade.

PAMPERED TREES

Trees became the small, personal children of Nebraskans, to be nursed and pampered and treated almost as if they were humans.

"And you never should get over that feeling," says Frank J. Pipal (pronounced "people"). There's a "universal intelligence" that is a part of every living thing, he says, and trees possess it as deeply as humans.

"You build a fire under a tree and it sings some leaves."

"They'll drop off, and two or three weeks later that branch will burst into bloom."

"That tree was scared," Pipal smiles kindly, "and to overcome the danger of becoming extinct, it reproduced itself as quickly as it could."

Pipal, who recently celebrated a 75th birthday, is Omaha's outstanding arbor expert. He served many years as city forester, and organized the "Junior Foresters" with 1,700 pupils for 26 Omaha schools.

The movement spread so widely that now there are kids planting and caring for trees on every continent except Africa — where the trees grow like Topsy and don't need much help, anyway.

"I planted my first pine seedling when I was 5," he remembers. That was in Czechoslovakia where he was born. His father worked on a nobleman's estate, and by the time he was 7 Pipal knew more about trees. Plants and birds than most botany teachers in the U. S.

In America since he was 12, the elderly, boyish-looking forester gives trees the credit for keeping him — and everybody else here — about as healthy and vigorous and content.

"It's like this. People breathe out carbon dioxide, and the trees absorb it and give back oxygen to the air. That's why people breathe better in a woods than in the open. There's free, fresh oxygen to sustain them."

"God created the plants before animals, to condition the air. Plants can exist without man, but man cannot exist without plants." That's what they all understand, here in Nebraska.

Czech Commie Given the Boot

Powerful Red Is Latest Casualty of Stalin Type 'Individual Cult' Purge

VIENNA, Austria (U)—Once one of Czechoslovakia's most powerful Communist, Gen. Alexei Cepicka, is the latest casualty in the Red drive against the "cult of the individual."

Prague radio announced Cepicka, 46-year-old son-in-law of the late President Klement Gottwald, had been fired from his posts as deputy premier and defense minister. He was also kicked out of the government politburo and dropped from the Central Committee of the Czech Communist party.

MADE BLUNDERS

The broadcast said, "Cepicka committed serious mistakes in his capacity as minister as well as party leader." It said he was removed from his official posts by the Central Committee in a special meeting April 20 and that President Antonin Zapotocky had approved the committee decision.

Czech newspapers last week accused Cepicka of practicing the "Cult of the individual," the charge now being raised throughout the Soviet bloc against Stalin and many of his associates.

Bohumir Lomsky, Cepicka's former deputy, was named new defense minister by President Zapotocky.

The broadcast said the Central Committee also adopted an extensive reform program including reorganization of the leadership of the nation's economy, reorganization of courts and state prosecution office, decentralization of tasks of national committees and reformation of the country's mass organizations.

Support Is Welcome but Let's Start Now

MIAMI, Okla. (U)—A story in the Miami News-Record quoted State Rep. J. R. Hall Jr. as saying he pledged his full support to the Inter-Tribal Indian Council's pageant, scheduled here in 1957.

After the paper came out, a local Indian—well fortified with fire-water—came to Hall's office. Apparently on the verge of collapse, he declared:

"I read in the paper where you're going to support the Indians, and you can start right now—with me."

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF ORION-PONTIAC TOWNSHIPS SANITARY DISTRICT

These Articles of Incorporation are signed and executed in behalf of the Township of Orion and Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, for the purpose of forming a municipal authority as a body corporate under the provisions of Act 178 of the Public Acts of 1945, as follows:

ARTICLE I.

The corporate name of this authority is

ORION-PONTIAC TOWNSHIPS SANITARY DISTRICT

ARTICLE II.

THE TOWNSHIP OF ORION, Oakland County, Michigan;

THE TOWNSHIP OF PONTIAC, Oakland County, Michigan;

ARTICLE III.

The purpose or purposes of this corporate authority are as follows:

To provide for the collection, disposal of garbage and/or rubbish within the Townships of Orion and Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan.

ARTICLE IV.

This corporate authority shall have all of the powers, and shall be subject to all of the limitations, set forth in Act 178 of the Public Acts of 1945.

ARTICLE V.

This corporate authority shall be managed by a Board of Trustees, consisting of five (5) members. The supervisors of the Townships of Orion and Pontiac shall be Trustees, ex-officio; the Township Board of each said Township shall elect one resident of its respective Township as one Trustee; and the four (4) Trustees thus chosen shall choose the fifth Trustee, who shall be a resident of one of the said incorporating Townships.

The Board of Trustees shall elect a Chairman and a Secretary and such other officers as the Board may deem necessary or advisable and may prescribe their duties. Records shall be kept of the Board's proceedings and an annual report and financial statement of the affairs of this corporate authority shall be made to the Boards of the Townships of Orion and Pontiac.

The Board of Trustees shall determine the necessity of employing persons for its operation and shall determine the remuneration, method and terms of employment.

ARTICLE VI.

Trustees may be compensated on a per diem basis not greater than the per diem compensation provided by law for supervisors of Oakland County; and may have necessary expenses reimbursed. No Trustee may have any financial interest in any contract entered into by this corporate authority.

ARTICLE VII.

The first Board of Trustees shall hold office until the next (1957) biennial spring election. Thereafter all Trustees shall hold office for concurrent terms of two (2) years, or until their successors shall be elected and qualified. The removal of a Trustee from the area he represents on the Board shall vacate his office. Vacancies on the Board of Trustees shall be filled in the same manner as above provided for original election.

ARTICLE VIII.

The municipalities organizing this corporate authority hereby designate the Supervisors and Clerks of Orion and Pontiac Townships and Robert W. Hodge, attorney, or any of them, as the person(s) charged with the responsibility of causing these Articles of Incorporation to be published, certified and filed, as required by the said Act 178 of the Public Acts of 1945, and to perform any and all acts necessary in connection with the incorporation of this corporate authority.

ARTICLE IX.

These Articles of Incorporation shall be published in The Orion Review and The Pontiac Press, being newspapers circulating within the said Townships of Orion and Pontiac.

ARTICLE X.

The office of this corporate authority shall be at the Orion Township Hall, Orion Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

ARTICLE XI.

These Articles shall become effective upon the filing of certified copies hereof, together with the date and place of publication, in the offices of the Secretary of State and the Clerk of Oakland County.

Air Force Jets Gain Cover Control of Any Specific Area With 'Mobility'

CLARK FIELD, Philippines (INS)—The U. S. Far East Air Force, responsible for such a vast area it could easily stretch itself out of joint is emphasizing "mobility" to make sure communist generals do not become overconfident in Asia.

Combined Communist combat air strength in Asia outnumbers American power by 5,000 planes to 2,500 but those figures do not tell the whole story—there is more to winning air battle than putting planes in the sky.

Mobility, as the Air Force sees it, means keeping pilots and crews in razor-sharp training to move quickly to any spot needing backing up, rather than being spread thin over the vast distances of the Pacific.

A program of steady conversion to jets is giving the Far East Air Force the extra speed, too, to get there fast when the pressure is on. Clark Field, outside Manila, is one of the key Air Force bases from which jet warplanes can be called upon to wing to the scene if Communist aggression threatens again.

FULL TIME JOB

Brig. Gen. William Lee, Commander of the 13th Air Force at Clark Air Base asserts the defense job of his forces "is a full time job."

Clark in the Philippines is at the southern anchor of the string of FEAF bases strung like a protective shield northward through Formosa, Okinawa, Korea and Japan to Alaska.

The practicability of the idea of mobility was displayed last January when Communist Chinese pressure against Nationalist islands threatened to embroil the Formosa Straits in war.

At that time sabrejets of the U. S. 18th fighter-bomber wing were hurried to Formosa from the Philippines and Okinawa and were flying a protective cover over the threatened island 90 minutes after touching Nationalist soil.

QUICK TRIPS

When the tenseness was over, the sabrejet squadrons demonstrated their mobility again by flying back to Clark Field and Kadena Air Base on Okinawa to fly sorties one hour after returning.

And, the principle of mobility was most dramatically demonstrated this summer in "operation hand-clasp" in which U. S. Thunderjet fighter-bombers flew nonstop from their home base in Japan to Australia.

The jets, capable of lugging an atomic bomb, were refueled by air tankers enroute.

Actually two factors militated in favor of a policy of mobility: The great expenses of the Pacific; and the disparity in actual numerical strength of U. S. as compared to Communist air fleets.

OUTNUMBERED

Total Communist air strength in the Far East is estimated at some 7,500 planes of which 5,000 are combat types. Of this number, about 3,000 are high-speed jet fighters and some 700 are long-range twin-jet B-29 bombers.

The Communist Chinese Air Force is estimated at 2,500. The U. S. is admittedly greatly outnumbered by the Communist air armada.

Newer model jets are helping make up for the deficiency in numbers. New, long range B-57 twin-jet bombers are joining U. S. Air Forces in Japan and newer model jet fighters are being added, also.

Actual dependence for security from the global view rests with the U. S. Strategic Air Command's intercontinental bombers. In the event of an all-out conflict, then, Far East Air Force air fields will be called into play.

But, in the Far East where an aggressive but careful enemy ignites brush fire wars, the mobile Far East Air Force extinguishes would be relied upon to do the job.

Nixon Manager to Be Witness

Chotiner Faces Probers Wednesday in Service Clothing Investigation

WASHINGTON — A Senate subcommittee last night summoned Los Angeles Atty. Murray Chotiner for questioning next Wednesday about his services for a garment manufacturer in trouble with the government.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) signed the subpoena and had it sent to the U.S. marshal in Los Angeles to be served on Chotiner, a figure in Republican politics.

WILLING TO TALK

Chotiner, who was Vice President Nixon's 1952 campaign manager, told newsmen in Los Angeles it wasn't necessary to subpoena him. He said the senators already knew he was willing to testify voluntarily after taking care of some matters that would keep him tied up until May 2.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee which issued the summons, told reporters Chotiner had broken a promise to be here today. He said the Subpoena will assure that Chotiner will be here when wanted. Kennedy said Chotiner was needlessly "creating a rumpus" about the subpoena.

KRAVITZ CONVICTED

chairman, said he thought that in any event "Mr. Chotiner would want to testify" about a $5,000 "professional fee" he has acknowledged receiving in 1953 as counsel for garment maker Herman Kravitz of Atlantic City, N.J.

Kravitz was convicted of the charge in 1954 and fined $5,000.

Kravitz also refused to say yesterday whether he had bribed any government officials. He invoked the Fifth Amendment 148 times on questions about his dealings in government contracts and his association with Chotiner. Answers, he said, "might incriminate me."

The subcommittee is exploring for evidence of possible graft in the awarding of contracts for the manufacture of Army uniforms.

Muffler Boom On

FLINT, MICH. — Increased use of dual-exhaust systems is creating a boom in the muffler and tailpipe business. Another factor is the increase in city driving, which cuts muffler life by 25 per cent.

She's 112, and Ready to 'Move On' for Others

WICHITA, Kan. — "I've celebrated my last birthday," said Mrs. Lucinda Mallory, 112 years old yesterday.

"I'm ready to pass on and make room for someone else," said Mrs. Mallory, who prides herself on "a strong sense of prediction."

Prefab Gas Stations

CINCINNATI — At least 700 prefabricated service stations are expected to spring up this year. They cost about $14,000 and can be put up in 14 days.

Hotel Union Official Is Target for Gunmen

MIAMI Fla. — A top hotel union official and organizer narrowly escaped injury and possibly death last night when two bullets shattered a window in his living room.

Bert H. Ross, 46, international vice president of the Hotel Employees Union, said he believed his union activities were behind the shooting. Ten minutes after the shooting and anonymous call, he warned him to get out of town. Ross and his wife Cathrine, 44, were sitting in the living room when the shots were fired shortly before 10 p.m.

The hotel organizing drive began little more than a year ago among Miami Beach luxury hotels. Ross, a former Miamian who has been active in union affairs since 1933, served as an organizer since 1943 and came here in September to take charge of the hotel organizing drive.

Hotel spokesmen were not available for immediate comment.

Wool shearing teams were set up among sheep graziers all over Australia after union shearers spurned the new wage rates offered, Brisbane reports.

Bob Considine Says:

Red Dean, Chaplin Share Love of Prattfalls

LONDON (INS)—Charlie Chaplin and the Red Dean of Canterbury, Dr. Hewlett Johnson, got together at Russian Ambassador Jacob Malik's reception for "B & K." and discussed animatedly a subject apparently very dear to their hearts—the pratfall.

"I shall always look back with delight upon those wonderful falls that you used to take on your bottom," enthused the towering churchman.

Chaplin, plainly pleased, replied: "I'm still doing them. I'm just starting a new picture."

The two famed fellow travelers agreed also on the stature of the late Mahatma Gandhi and reminisced about their youth. The Red Dean informed Chaplin he began life as an apprenticed engraver; Chaplin said he had begun as a printer's devil. In answer to a warm invitation to visit him in Switzerland, the dean told Chaplin he would do his best.

They concluded with other happy reminiscences of a common subject dearest to their hearts—the pratfall.

CRASH ECLIPSED

Wall street's long-held record for laying the biggest egg—established Oct. 29, 1929—has been conclusively eclipsed by Comrades Bulgannin and Khrushchev on their now badly fading trip to England.

They have flopped so badly that the remainder of the trip will be devoted to trying to pick up the pieces. They have curtailed the schedule, postponed a promised dance of wishing to bolt back home news conference, and give evil and forget the whole business.

Bulgannin still waves and tries to smile, but bullyboy Khrushchev has just about given up trying to play the role of genial emissary.

His crude brushoff of the Laborites' polite inquiries about 200 Social Democrats being held in Communist jails was just about the last straw, coming as it did on the heels of his sword rattling at Birmingham.

The man with the difficult task of protecting the Russians during their visit to a country that is alive with exiled victims of the Kremlin's war against the dignity of man is Leonard Burt, head of the Special Branch of Scotland Yard.

HOOVER PLUS HOMES

Stocky, 61-year-old Burt is Britain's J. Edgar Hoover and Sherlock Holmes combined. The safety of the royal family and Cabinet ministers is his normal job these days after a career that has ranged from outfooting Piccadilly pickpockets to gaining the confession of atomic spy Dr. Alan Nunn May.

The London Daily Express crime authority, Percy Hoskins, wrote of him:

"It is his eyes that I remember. They do not laugh when the rest of his face does. They have a quality that makes you think of all the wrong things you've done in your life."

He is an easy-going unruffled man in the face of fantastic pressure which the visit of "B & K." has placed on him. But apparently this is his strength.

Men who saw him in counter-espionage work in spy-infested London during the war, round up William "Lord Haw Haw" Joyce after the war, set up security around such immense events as the coronation and personally lead a raid into a cellar where the Irish Republican Army had cached stolen ammunition, say nothing shakes his impeccable aplomb.

On the side, he tends the garden of his modest home in suburban Putney. He is the only man in the empire whose phones reach directly to the military service chiefs, the foreign secretary and the Prime Minister. A grateful nation pays him the magnificent sum of $92 a week.

Nikita S. Khrushchev is a fragment plug-ugly with a dossier that would chill the most hardened criminal.

He didn't learn to read and write until he was 15. His first break was when Stalin's second wife became interested in him and sent him to the Stalin Industrial Academy. In the mid-30s, he was an organizer of Red Square parades and trumped up pro-Stalin demonstrations.

In 1933, he was given the job of wiping out nationalism in the Ukraine. He ordered at least 3,000 party officials shot or sent to Siberia. Stalin was so delighted he gave Khrushchev the "Order of the Red Banner of Toil."

The Ukrainians barely failed to bump him off in 1933. Two companions were killed near him in his railway car when a bomb exploded.

He deported more than a million Poles into Soviet Union slave labor camps between 1939 and 1940. There is reason to believe he had a hand in the massacre of Polish officers in the Katyn Forest and elsewhere.

Back in the Ukraine, he won the title of the "Ukraine's Executioner" for the ruthless way he dealt with those suspected of having been friendly with the Germans during the latter's occupation.

He was briefly out of favor in 1950 because one of his pet agricultural plans backfired. But he was strong enough at the 19th Party Congress in 1952 to read an important paper dealing with party reforms.

He initiated the purge of Lavrenti Beria after Stalin's death and now is dedicated to purging Stalin from the memory of a people who were told at gunpoint that he was god.

Razors Offer Daily Plague

Archeologists Discover Even Primitive People Shaved With Tools

WASHINGTON—From the Stone Age to electric models, razors in one form or another have helped man cope with what Byron once called the "daily plague" of shaving.

An iron razor, found recently in excavating a prehistoric lake dwelling near Boyle, Elre, has been dated by archeologists at 600 B.C. But the owner of even this early tool was no pioneer at chin scraping.

At least 2,500 years before, says the National Geographic Society, people of Mesopotamia devised an efficient knifelike shaver with slate handle and a blade of obsidian, or volcanic glass. Holder and blade were soldered together with dried pitch.

Through the ages, razors have been made of just about any hard, sharp substance that came to hand, including bits of flint, shell fragments and sharks' teeth. Such primitive materials are still used by a few remote peoples from South Pacific isles to mid-Africa. Some even carry on the heroic practice of plucking out whiskers one by one.

Razors owned by the wealthy were often decorated with intricate drawings or attached to handles of gold, silver or other precious materials. From graves at the site of Carthage have come hatchet-shaped bronze razors engraved with Egyptian-style gods and people.

Before the 20th-century development of the now prevalent safety and electric types of razors, shaving implements varied surprisingly little in basic form.

An unusual style used in Rome about 500 B.C., was a flat metal disk cut out on one side like a fat half-moon. It was held by a tiny knoblike handle at the bottom curve.

For the most part, however, the straight razor—in one or two pieces, or with folding handle like a pocketknife—was long the favorite model. Variations were in degree rather than kind, with long or short blades, rounded cutting edges or right-angle hatched corners.

Although the Biblical patriarchs wore and respected beards, many Bible references tell of shaving in connection with cleansing and other rituals. The Egyptians particularly liked their heads and faces to be shaven, and ridiculed long-haired and bearded Greeks.

Cowboys Don Skis for Hunts

Different Outfits Used by Eskimos in Search for Reindeer Herds

WASHINGTON—When it's reindeer roundup time in the Canadian Arctic, Eskimos don caribou skins and skis and, without one "yip-ee," efficiently drive their antlered charges into corrals.

In the cold Akavik area of the Northwest Territories, 25 Eskimos recently corralled 6,500 reindeer in five herds that feed in an area of some 16,700 square miles, the National Geographic Society says.

One herd is government owned. The other four are owned or managed entirely by Eskimos.

Reindeer, as distinguished from the larger North American caribou, reached the Canadian Arctic in two time and distance-spanning steps.

Between 1891 and 1902, more than a thousand of the domesticated beasts were bought in Siberia by the United States Government and shipped to Alaska. Long accustomed to the wild, strong and obstinate—but dwindling—caribou, the Eskimos took kindly to the gentler reindeer: gentle except in mating season when clashing antlers resound across the tundra.

Later, about 25 years ago, the animals were driven from Alaska to northwestern Canada in a tortuous 1,200-mile trek.

The largely unexplored drive route lay north of the Arctic Circle between Nabachtoolik in Alaska and Kittigazuit on the east shore of Canada's Mackenzie Delta.

On their hardship-racked journey, the herders crossed mountains, rivers and swamps, in temperatures blasting down to 50 degrees below zero.

Drivers were further plagued by two trying reindeer traits—the homing instinct which might at any moment send deer racing back on their own tracks, and the reindeer habit of traveling against the wind.

Really From Missouri

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A Missouri motorist passed through here and left evidence that he doesn't believe anything unless he is shown.

An irate motorist burst into city hall in the Capitol city claiming he was unjustly given a parking ticket.

A quick check showed that the ticket has been put on the windshield of a car bearing Missouri license plates and its driver apparently took it off and put it on the other car.

Return of Swallow

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It was not funny then, but Sam Hudley laughs now about losing his lower plate and coughing it up five weeks later.

He swallowed the false teeth when he suffered a stroke. Hudley's difficulty in eating and drinking was blamed on the stroke until a coughing spell and a pounding on the back by his wife brought them up.

Dr. C. A. Wood said the chompers apparently had lodged in his esophagus.

Big City Anonymity

NEW YORK (AP)—Gary Cooper, visiting here from Hollywood, says he has the solution to the problem which haunts most movie stars in New York—how to keep from being mobbed by well-wishers. Says Cooper:

"I just walk down the street, minding my own business, and nobody ever notices me. But the big thing: I don't wear dark glasses."

Now I Lost 55 Lbs.

RAY CITY, MICH. "I have taken Russell Concentrate for two years and my weight has gone from 260 to 205 lbs. I am still at it and want to reduce slowly. I feel so much better and my doctor approves. I don't have gas on my stomach anymore nor do I have to take salts and pills which is something to be thankful for," writes Violet Glass, 3819 11th St. Ask your druggist for 4 ounces of liquid RUSSELL Concentrate. You'll never know a hungry moment while reducing with RUSSELL.

Sleeps Way Into Jail

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP)—When John Anderson went to sleep, he was sitting in his car waiting for a train to pass at a grade crossing. When he awakened he was in jail.

Police put him to bed on a drunkenness charge after they found him, with the car motor running and the train crossing gates lifted.

Made a Blind Landing

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A Hinton woman in court on a drunk charge was explaining her presence in the state capital.

"Judge," she said, "I just got tanked up and took off."

Has Wide Awake Toes

place else after this," said Judge James A. McWhorter, and sent her back to Hinton.

License? What's That?

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—Police said John Green, 46, didn't have a driver's license after his car ran into a wire service pole. "I've been driving around here and in the South for 30 years and never knew I needed a license," they quoted him as saying.

Robber Stirs Up Ire

CHICAGO (U)—Miss Rena Chesel saw red when a robber told her to empty the till into a bag and give it to him. As he made his exit, she hurled a bottle of catsup and a water tumbler.

The catsup broke a window, the tumbler found no target. So, shouting, she took after him. Two passersby intercepted the fleeing man. Police found her money in his pockets.

An Albuquerque weatherman apparently did one morning as he announced to the world over his

Mexico to Tap Potential for Sources of Heat, Electricity, Steam

WASHINGTON—Engineers more and more look to the world's volcanic areas as sources of power, heat and light.

Mexico, after investigating several promising hot springs districts in the general vicinity of its capital, now plans exploratory drilling to tap potential underground steam supplies.

The project is one of a series being carried on in cooperation with the United Nations technical assistance program to develop various forms of industrial and domestic power in Latin America.

Volcanic steam has the advantage of ready-made natural pressure and heat for driving turbines and generating electricity, says the National Geographic Society. Tapping nature's steam power is far less expensive than building and maintaining dams or constantly burning fuel as required in other electric power plants.

Besides the Mexican project, similar efforts to use convenient volcanic energy are under way in the small Central American republic of El Salvador, and on the British island of St. Lucia in the Caribbean.

IN SOUTH PACIFIC
In the South Pacific, New Zealand is building a power station at Wairakei in North Island's famous volcanic region where pools boil, fumaroles and geysers erupt, and mudpots churn furiously.

Dozens of steam bores have been drilled, the deepest reaching 3,000 feet or more. Many provide high pressure that remains undiminished, occasionally even increasing, despite years of spouting.

Electricity to be generated at Wairakei within the next few years is expected to help power New Zealand's industrial future in such fields as paper making and railway transport. In addition, special installations will produce heavy water for Britain's atomic energy program.

Envelopes May Have Number of Windows

WASHINGTON—Formerly postal regulations permitted only a single address window in envelopes. Now other windows are allowed—for advertising or display purposes, for example, or for return address.

Also, more latitude is now permitted concerning where the windows may be located in the envelopes, and printing may now be placed closer to the windows than before.

Whose Face Is Red?

DETROIT (U)—When Patrolman John Pedrie saw Buster L. Goff screech his car around a corner, he stopped him and said: "You've been drinking. Move over and I'll drive to the police station. If you keep on, you'll have an accident."

Pedrie then crashed the car into the rear of another while en route.

Butter Exports Up

CANBERRA—Australia exported just over 140,000,000 pounds of butter during the 1954-55 marketing year, nearly 60 per cent more than in the year before. Great Britain took 122,000,000 pounds, an increase of 87 1/2 per cent over the previous year.

HIGH-FASHION—Here's what the well-dressed Russian woman is wearing. This photo from Moscow shows an outfit appropriate for Moscow in springtime. The double-breasted three-quarter coat in heavy brown wool is trimmed with a collar hood in tweed-like brown which matches the straight skirt.

Trace Beginning of Telephones

Alexander Graham Bell
Granted First Patent on March 17, 1876

Washington—Eighty years ago, on March 7, 1876, Alexander Graham Bell was granted the first basic patent on the telephone, a milestone in the history of communication.

Three days later, on March 10, 1876, in Dr. Bell's rooms at 5 Exeter Place, Boston, the new "membrane-speaking" apparatus transmitted its historic first sentence in the voice of the inventor—"Mr. Watson, come here, I want you!"

Some 98 million telephones are now in use throughout the world, says the National Geographic Society. More than 56 million are in the United States. New York City has 3,927,000; Washington, D. C., nearly 552,000.

The four-score anniversary recalls other patents, inventions and ideas of the versatile Edinburgh-born genius, whose search for a better means of teaching the deaf to speak led him to the telephone. The records show that Dr. Bell would have been long remembered even if he had had no part in his greatest invention.

In 1879-80, Bell, satisfied to leave commercial development of the telephone largely to others, worked on what was then an even more fantastic idea—communication without wires! The resulting photophone, patented in 1880, came to be the invention in which he took the most pride.

FIRST MESSAGES

The photophone transmitted the world's first wireless telephone messages. Conveyed on electromagnetic radiations, they were the forerunners of the successes of Marconi, De Forest, and other later inventors. Dr. Bell, however, used light waves instead of radio waves to transmit variations of sound.

With the $10,000 Volta Prize awarded him by the French Republic for inventing the telephone, Dr. Bell in 1880 established the Volta Laboratory in Washington. There, with associates, he perfected methods for using wax cylinders and discs to make recordings for Thomas A. Edison's phonograph, invented in 1877.

Dr. Bell was always interested in the idea of human flight. In the 1890's he helped Samuel P. Langley build a steam-powered model plane that flew but carried no pilot. For 15 years he studied kites, seeking a plane structure that would fly at low speeds. He developed the aileron, which is still used in controlling airplane flight.

Writing in 1908, Dr. Bell declared: "The airship will revolutionize warfare... it may become a war-extinguishing agency and thus end armed conflicts. The nation that secures control of the air will ultimately control the world."

The wounding of President Garfield by an assassin's bullet in 1881 and the suspense of the ensuing 73-day vain struggle to save the Chief Executive's life prompted Dr. Bell to invent an electric probe for locating bullets or other metal objects in the human body.

It was used in surgery until supplanted by Roentgen's discovery of the X-ray in 1895. In 1883, Dr. Bell suggested a device to restore breathing that embodies the principle of today's iron lung.

Until his death at 75 on August 2, 1922, Dr. Bell's active mind continued its searchings. He delved into distilling fresh water from salt, high-speed motorboating, sheep breeding, human longevity, the metric system, and air conditioning.

Is Grant's Gray Hair Just a Touch-Up Job?

By MRS. EARL WILSON

MADRID—Pop was so tired and beat after Monaco that I promised to have a date with Cary Grant just to give him a day off.

So while Pop flew to New York, I flew from Monte Carlo to Spain, and waiting for me in Madrid was Mr. G.

I'd just got to my room at the new Hotel Fenix (that's not my bad spelling; it's the Spanish way) when Cary Grant's voice on the phone said:

"How was your flight?"

"Would you like to have lunch or go for a ride? But perhaps you'd rather just rest. You're probably tired."

Before he could enlarge on that possibility, I gulped out, "Who's tired? Let's go for a ride."

And we did. He looked handsome in a tan trench coat. We rode about Madrid with Grant taking in the sights and me taking in Grant.

Naturally he asked me about the big garden party at the palace after Grace's wedding. I got some wedding cake at the party—then I lost it.

Grant's hair is streaked with gray. Hitchcock might know whether it's artificially done but I don't.

I didn't have the nerve to ask him if he'd touched it up just for the picture "The Pride and the Passion" that he's making with Frank Sinatra and Sophia Loren.

He's a very kind man. He didn't knock a soul.

He bragged that his wife Betsy is a secret writer. She writes things under several names and they get published.

Our date wasn't very romantic. Fred Allen, he said, once did a fine thing for him when he was still Archie Leach.

Grant was opening that night in a show.

He was a bundle of nerves. Fred realized it, pushed him into a cab and took him to the Empire State Building, and up to the roof. They had coffee. Fred talked to him about everything but the show to calm him.

"It's a nice memory," Grant said, "but it didn't do a thing for my jitters that night."

Children's Mishaps Keep Doctors Busy

BY GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

You name it, and Dr. Arthur W. Weaver, chief resident at Pontiac General Hospital, has undoubtedly seen it happen to hundreds of children.

Baby swallowing nuts and bolts, little Timothy drinking some kerosene, or Susie stuffing waxed beans in her ears, are just a few of the mischievous deeds of children that keep the interns of the hospital emergency room busy day and night.

Before becoming chief resident, Dr. Weaver spent many hours in emergency operations of young children.

"I've seen just about everything in a child's stomach," the doctor related.

By far the most common ailment of the less-serious nature treated in emergency are thousands of cases of cuts and bruises.

"We see children brought here with screws, nuts, bolts, campaign buttons, coins of all sizes, and just about anything the child can get into the mouth."

A mother rushed in with her child one day screaming that he had swallowed a penny but examination later proved a safety pin was lodged in the boy's stomach.

Dr. Weaver said the open safety pin swallowed by children is a most serious and common occurrence.

There are many cases on record where children have drunk turpentine, kerosene, oil of wintergreen, or swallowed lye, laxatives, and aspirins.

"The biggest offender is pills, and aspirins have killed more children by swallowing a complete box or bottle," the doctor said.

Hours of work in the emergency room don't get the same results, he explained. "I once treated two children with the same ailment in the same manner, and one's parents asked me to be their doctor while the other parents said, 'you have a lot to learn yet doctor.' Some parents often interfere with the operations of the emergency room with fainting spells so the hospital has prohibited parents in the room.

Crayons, pencils, beans are not always used for what they are intended for, and interns find these items in the ears, nose, and throat.

Particles in the eye are far more common with industrial men than with kids, Dr. Weaver said, and splinters are daily treatment procedures at the hospital.

"We are plagued with cases of cut feet in the summer time after the kids go swimming and cut their feet on all sorts of articles."

Burns too are not uncommon cases confronting emergency room interns.

"Despite the many cases that came before me in emergency, I enjoyed the work greatly," the doctor said. "Just about everything comes up sooner or later."

The La Mans, France, racing track where 80 people were killed in a crash last year, has been declared safe for future racing.

A ROCK WITH ROLL—A tombstone in Harrisonville, Mo., presents a baffling mystery. The 2-100-pound granite ball has rotated on its pedestal in the last 58 years. Originally resting on the flat spot facing the camera, the ball has slowly and without apparent force turned over a distance equal to one-fourth its circumference. Measuring the change is Frank Tuttle.

Starved Child Tossed in River

5-Year-Old Boy Found Dead; Authorities Hold Easton, Pa. Parents

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Five-year-old William Mueller had died of starvation before his father threw the body into the Delaware River, Coroner George T. Kametz said last night.

The body was recovered yesterday.

Police held the father, Alfred Mueller, 60, and his 24-year-old wife pending a further hearing on charges of failure to provide the boy with necessities of life.

State police said Mueller signed a statement that the boy died last Saturday night after long confinement in his locked room for punishment. They quoted Mueller as saying that, fearing trouble with authorities, he placed the boy's body in a weighted burlap sack and threw it into the river.

Kametz, making a partial report on his autopsy, said the body bore no marks of violence, that it weighed 16½ pounds when taken from the water and that death was due to malnutrition and neglect.

Dist. Atty. Clinton B. Palmer said it would be several days before he decided whether to place additional charges against the Muellers, parents of four other children.

Double Header Fire

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (AP)—There was a double fire at the home of Fire Chief Harry Whitney. He extinguished the original blaze near the chimney, only to have it re-kindled later and break through the attic and roof. Neighbors carried out many articles, including a parlor stove with the fire still burning in it. They wore gloves on the job.

Eyes Open for Fraud

DENVER (AP)—A "very considerable amount of fraud" has accompanied the uranium boom in the ore-rich Colorado Plateau, Chairman J. Sinclair Armstrong of the Securities and Exchange Commission says. "We're keeping our eyes open," he added.

First Space Ship Will Operate Like Rocket

WASHINGTON (INS)—The first space ship to be built—perhaps for the purpose of visiting un-manned satellites circling the globe at various altitudes—will probably carry a crew of two.

The words space ship, however are not exactly descriptive, because the vehicle, which will do a great portion of its travel through the atmosphere, visiting in space perhaps for only one or two hours, will be more of a rocket aircraft.

Such a craft will be launched about the same way as a satellite. It may well represent the third stage of a large step rocket and we may assume that the vehicle will be launched from the earth's surface.

By the time the manned craft leaves the second stage, the velocity will be in the neighborhood of 10,000-12,000 miles per hour. The altitude will be 200 miles. The flight path will almost parallel the earth's curvature, but will be elliptical.

The rocket craft must gain another 8,000-miles-per-hour—twice the velocity of a Viking rocket—to reach a satellite orbit 800 miles from the earth. At this point the achievement of an 8,000 miles-per-hour velocity is really not considered the greatest problem.

GET 'EM UP
Speeds up to 6-8,000 m. p. h. probably could be achieved by rocket aircraft already in existence, if it were possible to launch them at these high altitudes. The problem is, therefore, how to bring the craft up to these altitudes—and how to protect the pilot or crew from the hazards of space.

Basically, a rocket craft employed in the venturing to the man-made moons might look very much like the supersonic rocket aircraft of Douglas and Bell. The cockpit must be large enough to hold a crew of two, and the aircraft must be streamlined and have wings and control surfaces like the current rocket planes for its return flight to earth.

Designers and engineers already have some experience in construction and operation of high-altitude rocket planes. But not too many rocket aircraft have been flown.

ON OUR WAY

Latest and most advanced of all aircraft is the Bell X-2, which might have made its first flight by now. With this airplane we are really on our way toward cosmic flight; the experience that we shall gather from this plane will help us a great deal in our efforts to conquer space.

By all means, it is possible that we will see large rocket ships within the next two decades, but the first manned vehicles to explore space must be very conservative in concept.

The first trips, dozens and dozens of them, will be scouting trips for the crew to gather experience and test the performance and design of the craft.

And when the first rendezvous with a small satellite is attempted, the ship will carry a payload of only a few pounds; the purpose of the trip might be to reload the satellite with film and adjust the satellite's gyro—and this will be done by the help of automatic devices so designed that the crew does not have to leave the rocket craft while "working" on the satellite.

WHITE SHIPS

The craft might also be used to operate as a satellite itself for a few hours.

Only bleaching white materials such as magnesium oxide can serve as surface coatings if a manned craft is exposed to the field of thermal radiation. Therefore, the rocket craft will have a shiny surface from which the intense radiation will literally bounce.

The craft will be equipped with an air conditioning system and carry with it a supply of liquid air for breathing purposes.

We know that the altitude at which a hermetic cabin becomes necessary is around 100,000 feet. When this altitude is reached, the vehicle has no further life-sustaining contact with the earth. It becomes a world all its own.

Realize that the problems involved in the operation of manned rocket craft vary at very high altitudes and eventually in free space are of diverse and complex nature. Their solution requires contributions from meteorology, geophysics, astronomy and astrophysics, cosmic ray physics, aerodynamics, radiobiology, physiology, aviation medicine, space medicine, bioclimatology and human engineering.

MANY CHANCES

The behavior of the human system in both the aerospace (that region of the atmosphere where its various functions for man and craft begin to cease and space-equivalent conditions are gradually approached) and in space naturally is of extreme importance.

It is one thing to be able to construct a small two-man rocket craft capable of penetrating the highest layers of the atmosphere and reach space, and quite another to insure that the crew can be protected against the space hazards—difficulties and threats other than the problems of having sufficient air and bearable temperatures inside their cabin.

At this point therefore, the question is whether we can solve the physiological problems. Do the latest research developments indicate that man will master these difficulties? The space medicine experts might have an answer to this—although we may have to send human beings beyond the atmosphere to get a true picture of the problems.

Libya has given a French company two oil-exploration leases, one covering 5,752 square miles in Tripolitania, the other 2,339 square miles on the Syrtic Gulf.

French Poodle Takes 3rd in College Voting

VANCOUVER, B.C. (INS)—Tiki Graham captured 405 votes and third place in the race for chairman of student undergraduate societies in an election at the University of British Columbia. Tiki, a French poodle, was put on the ballot as a student prank. His campaign slogan: "Friend of the underdog."

See Breast Cancer Film

A film, "Breast Self-Examination," has been prepared by the American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute. Your local unit, the North Oakland County group of the Southeastern Michigan Division, is showing this film, for women only, at the Elks Temple Friday, free of charge. The two showings will be at 10 a.m. and at 2 p.m. The film takes only 17 minutes to run, and to see it may save your life.

(Editor's Note: The following directions are taken from Dr. Charles E. Cameron's book, "The Truth About Cancer," which The Pontiac Press is presently running in condensed form.)

The examination consists of four parts. Two of them consist of inspecting the breasts in a mirror. The other two are devoted to feeling the substance of each breast completely.

STEP I: Sit straight before a mirror that gives a view of the entire chest area, including both breasts. Remove all clothing to the waist. Let your arms fall to your sides, relaxed. Examine each breast thoroughly. Look for (a) any change in size, in shape, or in contour (such as a bulge, swelling,

Suit Has No Takers

BALTIMORE — Police are keeping a grey suit in storage, tagged with a note: "Awaiting an owner."

James A. Barnes told the officers he found the suit, complete with white shirt and tie, in a box behind his house.

He doesn't want it. Presumably no one in the police station wants it, either.

Juvenile Candidate

WAKEFIELD — Michigan State Police, campaigning to recruit 200 new troopers, got this application:

"My name is Randy Seppala, 7 years old, of Mass. Mich. I want to join the Michigan State Police."

Police said Randy's application will be considered—in 1939.

Whose Wrong Number?

DOUGLAS, Ariz. — Mrs. Doris Sturgis is still puzzling over a telephone call she received one night.

As soon as Mrs. Sturgis picked up the phone the caller asked, "Who is this?" Mrs. Sturgis gave her name.

"Oh, you've got the wrong number," the voice at the other end said, and its owner hung up.

700 New River Craft

CHICAGO — A survey of 85 inland shipyards indicates that more than 700 inland-waterway cargo-carrying craft were launched in 1935 and that still greater production is expected this year.

Newspaper on Move

BOZEMAN, Mont. — When the Bozeman Daily Chronicle started its move to new quarters, a heavy snow threatened to stall the transfer of bulky linotypes and other equipment. But publisher G. Nichols left III says the snow was a blessing in disguise. The linotypes were loaded on broad wooden runners and sledged easily and quickly to the new building.

British Exports Lag

LONDON — Great Britain's share of total Canadian imports fell to 8½ per cent in 1935, compared with 18 per cent in 1933. Its share in Latin-American imports fell from 7 per cent to 4.6 per cent in the same period, being exceeded in 1935 by Germany's share, which totaled 5.7 per cent.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR: JUNIOR EDITORS

A FUNNY NAME FOR A FLOWER

"Yellow Lady's Slipper"

Sometimes called a yellow slipper orchid, this flower is found in May or June on the banks of streams in wooded and mountain country all over the United States, except California and Florida.

The plant grows two or more feet tall, and the bright yellow slipper flower is one to two inches long, with a brownish center and long twisted brownish leaves about it. Color the picture for your scrapbook.

If you are lucky enough to find this lovely flower do not pick it. The plant may never grow again if you do. Some varieties of lady's slipper have been almost destroyed by careless picking.

The picture in the background, suggested by the name of the flower, shows a little dancing girl who has shaken off one of her slippers as she whirls about.

(Junior Editors awards $10 to K. Long, Ogallala, Nebr., for submitting this idea. Send your idea in care of this newspaper and it may win a $10 award also.)

MSU Traffic Director
Declares Wrongdoings
Caused '55 Accidents

DETROIT (U)—The director of Michigan State University's new highway traffic safety center says all the 200,000 auto accidents in Michigan last year were caused by someone doing something unsafe and, usually, illegal as well.

Gordon Sheehy made the statement Tuesday at the annual meeting of the inter-industry highway safety committee.

He pointed up the state's 1955 toll of 2,000 persons killed, more than 60,000 injured and an economic loss of more than $60 million dollars, then listed ways in which the safety center plans to aid in cutting down the toll.

Sheehy urged a better understanding of traffic hazards by both motorists and pedestrians as well as "firm, impartial enforcement and driver's license administration."

Re-elected as chairman of the committee was Daniel O'Shaughnessy, president of Dan O'Shaughnessy, Lansing.

Pulling Tail of Puppy Gets Tot in Trouble

LA MESA, Calif. (U)—Enthusiasm for pulling a pet puppy's tail got 2-year-old David Sandifer into trouble up to his ears.

Reaching for the tail through a wrought iron fence, David got his head caught. He couldn't get his ears back through the bars. Firemen had to spring the fence to free him.

Taximen Post Hours

MEXICO CITY (U)—Taxi drivers are under orders to post their working hours on cab windows. The order followed protests that drivers were brushing off short-haul customers with the excuse their working day was over.

The Arab League will coordinate the policies of all Arab oil producing nations.

Dobbin Coming Back

SALEM, Ore. (U)—The Oregon Horsemen's Assn. says the horse is making such a comeback that the state highway commission has been asked to do something about providing bridge trails along public roads and in parks.

A. W. Oliver of Oregon State College reports that horsemanship is one of the most rapidly growing projects in 4-H club work with 114 members in 33 clubs in the state. Some 60 per cent of the members are girls, Oliver says.

Stranger Than Fiction

GREENVILLE, N. C. (U)—Two state highway patrolmen were surprised when a motorist who had driven past their stopped his car, approached them and said:

"I came back to get my ticket."

"What do you want a ticket for?" asked Cpl. Carl E. Whitfield.

"My driver's license expired in February," the driver explained. Patrolman W. E. Whitehurst obligingly handed him a ticket.

VISION OF HAPPINESS—Radiantly happy, 18-year-old Amabile Battistello, formerly blind, steps into a world of light and vision, following convalescence from a corneal transplant. The girl "inherited" her priceless gift from the late Italian priest Don Carlo Gnocchi, who willed his eyes to the blind.

Peoria Blacked Out by Freak Situation

PEORIA, Ill. (UP)—A combination of drought and rain was blamed for setting fire to several utility poles and disrupting electric power service to thousands of Peoria homes last night.

James Brown of the Central Illinois Light Co. said this is what happened:

During an extended drought, dust collected on the poles and insulators. When it finally rained, the dust absorbed the moisture. This formed a contact which permitted the electricity to reach the ground. The flow of electricity set fire to the poles and circuits were broken.

About 25,000 residents were without power for several hours.

Doesn't Everyone Mail Letters in Red Boxes?

NEW YORK (UP)—When Segura Attolina, a tight-wire performer with Barnum & Bailey Circus, went to mail a letter here last week she pulled a fire alarm lever.

In Spain the mail boxes are red, she explained yesterday to Magistrate Reuben Levy, and she thought she was opening a mail slot. Levy dismissed the case.

Ontario's Multiple Wedding—Six Couples!

BLLENHEIM, Ont. (INS) — Papa Dorrers started it.

He said he just wouldn't go to a "wedding today and a wedding next week and a wedding the week after that again." And he might have added, "again and again and again."

So on Saturday, Canadian matrimonial history will be made in Blenheim's red-brick Roman Catholic Church when six of Leo Dorrers' 15 children are married in a single ceremony.

For the 2,600 residents of this Kent County farming village, the service in St. Mary's Church temporarily has overshadowed all other activities.

HOLLAND IMMIGRANTS

Grada Dorrers, 33, and Ben Lulking; Wilhelmina Dorrers, 30, and Gerard Willemson; Christina Dorrers, 28, and Jack Van Haren; Dora Dorrers, 25, and Bill Vandenberg; Andre Dorrers, 23, and Anne Heuvelman; and Cornelius Dorrers, 20, and Joan Menheers.

The Lulkings, Van Harens and Cornelius Dorrers will live in Blenheim; the Willemsons in Cedar Springs; the Vandeborgs in Sarnia and to Andre Dorrers in Wallaceburg.

The multiple ceremony had its inception at a family gathering in February. Bill Vandenberg and Dora Dorrers already had planned for a spring wedding. One by one, the others admitted that they, too, hoped to be married soon.

PAPA SPEAKS

Then Papa Leo Dorrers issued his edict:

"I go only to one wedding. I don't like to go to a wedding today and a wedding next week and a wedding the week after that again."

So the four daughters and two sons decided to get it all over with at once. The province-wide interest which their decision aroused has them completely bewildered, although they admit they never have heard of such a thing before.

According to Dutch custom, the brides and grooms-elect are already wearing their wedding bands. They are worn on the right hand.

Accept Only Bid on Water Bonds

Sylvan Lake Council Also Approves Budget With Tax Increase

The Sylvan Lake City Council last night accepted the only bid to be received for $50,000 worth of revenue bonds to finance the completion of the city's new water system.

The single bid was received from Watling, Lerchen and Co. of Detroit for $385 for each $1,000 bond.

This was the second advertisement for the bonds after no bids were submitted in the first sale notice March 7. They were originally advertised at 100 per cent of par value but were bought yesterday at 98 1/2 per cent.

City Manager Ernest L. Ethier said he expected the money to be available in June.

In other action last night, the council appointed Howard E. Wideman to fill the vacancy left by the death last Wednesday of Frank E. Baldwin.

Wideman had served for 13 years on the former Sylvan Lake village and city councils. His new term will expire in 1957.

The council also approved the 1956-57 city budget of $114,290 which involves a $4.40 per thousand tax hike over last year.

The approved budget also shows an increase of $20,785 over the 1955 budget.

Area Planners Schedule Discussion of Parking

South Oakland County planners will discuss off-street parking at their next regular meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Birmingham's municipal building.

At the last meeting, members expressed concern over cities' parking problems and said they wanted to discuss the problem at Wednesday's meeting.

Solutions of the problem by area municipalities will be aired.

Notice of Intention to Construct Sidewalk on Onida Road

You are hereby notified that at a regular meeting of the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan, held April 24, 1956 by resolution it was declared to be the intention of the City Commission to construct a sidewalk on the east side of Onida Road between Macmillan Avenue and Main Street for a distance of 100 feet.

It is further intended to construct said sidewalk in accordance with the plan, profile and estimate, and that the cost thereof shall be defrayed by special assessment according to frontage and that Lot No. 19 Crofoot Western Addition shall constitute the special assessment district to defray $150.00 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof and that $61.25 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof shall be paid from the Capital Improvement Fund.

NOTICE TO KERRY CITY

That the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan will meet in the Commission Chamber on May 1, 1956 at 8 o'clock a.m. to hear suggestions and objections that may be made by parties interested.

W.D. 6993
Dated: April 25, 1956
ADA R. EVANS,
City Clerk
April 25, 1956

before the ceremony as engagement rings, and transferred to the left hand during the ceremony. In line with their adopted country's customs, however, several of the girls have diamond engagement rings.

NATURAL CONCLUSION

The brides will wear identical, long white gowns.

The decision to have a multiple wedding came naturally to the Dorrers, who always have functioned as a family unit. Even the move to Canada, from Holland, was a family operation.

The oldest daughter, Mrs. John Timmerman, came to Blenheim with her husband and family nine years ago. Her glowing accounts of life in Canada persuaded the rest of the family that they too should emigrate.

Five of the children — Andre, Bank, Christina, Dora and Tony — arrived in 1933, and a year later their parents and the rest of the family came to Canada.

Three married daughters remained in Holland.

In Canada, the Dorrers have found what they were looking for, "enough room for a family to get started on its own."

There is just one point on which all 12 brides and grooms are silent whether they plan a multiple honeymoon.

2 Pontiac Boys to Make Trip to Washington

Pontiac's two outstanding school safety patrol boys of 1955-56 will attend the 20th Annual AAA Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D. C., May 3-6, it was announced by the Michigan Auto Club today.

Wendell Banks, 11, of 24 Michigan Ave., and Gene Anderson, 12, of 414 Lowell St., are the boys who will make the four-day all-expense trip sponsored by the Auto Club. Bank attends Central School. Anderson is a student at McCarrall School.

The Pontiac pair will be among 140 boys from the state going to the nation's capital. The group was picked from some 50,000 patrol boys at 2,200 schools. Over 30,000 patrolmen from throughout the United States will take part in the traditional march down Constitution Avenue.

Michigan's representatives will register and receive physicals at Detroit before departing. The Berkeley High School band will lead the delegation in the Washington parade. While there, the patrol boys will meet congressmen from their home districts, visit historic buildings, monuments, and landmarks.

GROWLROARER — This gent is convincing, whether it's a comment on politics, baseball or somebody's wedding. Leo Feline, above, demonstrates the form that brought him the Debate Championship at the London Zoo. Against that armored trap, who can argue?

Double Israel Cattle

JERUSALEM — Israel doubled the number of cattle raised for beef during 1955, increasing its beef herds to 6,500 head. The herds now include eight exceeding 200 head, 19 of from 100 to 200 head, and more than 50 smaller herds.

They'll Learn Soon

PERTH AMBOY, N. J. (AP)—Two young boys, explaining to firemen

why they had turned in a false alarm, said they arrived only two weeks before from Italy. Another boy told them to open that red box and pull the handle and went away "rapidamente," they said.

Editor Denies Sedition Charge

Former China Review
Head, 2 Others Are Indicted by U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Editor John William Powell has been indicted by the government in its first use of a 1953 sedition law. He is charged with using his China Monthly Review in Shanghai to thwart American military progress in the Korean War.

He says the charge is "completely untrue."

Powell, his wife Sylvia and Julian Schuman of New York all were named in one indictment yesterday.

Twelve other counts are leveled against Powell alone. He is charged with publishing issues of the Review which accused the United States of being internally corrupt, pursuing a "morally unjustifiable" foreign policy, attempting to exterminate the peoples of Korea and China with germ warfare and poison gas, testing germ warfare weapons on Korean and Chinese prisoners and spreading smallpox in North Korea. These statements, the indictment charges, Powell "well knew were false and untrue."

"I think they're pushing this a little far," Powell told the Associated Press when informed of the indictment. "Certainly neither Sylvia nor I have done anything seditious. That's completely untrue."

"What we have done is to have expressed very openly and vigorously our opinions on what has happened in China and on our government's foreign policy in China. We've learned in the last three years we've been home that you say these things at some risk."

"Our policy doesn't recognize the revolution in China as an accomplished fact. If we continue to play footsie with Chiang Kai-shek we'll lose all of Asia."

Powell said that in Peiping, the Red Chinese capital, in 1952 he saw a big exhibit the Chinese had prepared to "prove" that America was waging germ warfare.

"I wasn't convinced . . .," he said, "but I must say I wasn't satisfied with the flat American denials that were all I heard at the time. I still have an open mind on the subject and think it needs a great deal of investigating."

The Powells, each 36, have lived in San Francisco since 1953, when they closed the Review and returned to the United States. The Review was started by Powell's father, the famed late J. B. Powell, as a weekly in 1917. The elder Powell continued publishing after the Japanese occupation of Shanghai in 1937 until Pearl Harbor Day in 1941. He died in 1947, weakened by wartime imprisonment and starvation at Japanese hands.

The Powells have two sons, John, 6, and Tom, 4, both born in Shanghai.

Schuman, 36, was listed as associate editor of the Review and Mrs. Powell as contributing editor. Powell said he presumes Schuman is in New York.

The indictment, returned before Federal Judge O. D. Hamlin, says in the first count that all three "conspired" to circulate the Review in the United States during the Korean War "with intent to interfere with the operation and success of U.S. military and naval forces and to promote the success of its enemies," North Korea and Red China.

Judge Hamlin set bail at $5,000 for each. If convicted they could receive a sentence of up to 20 years and $10,000 fine on each count, which could make Powell's punishment if found guilty a maximum 260 years in prison and $130,000 in fines.

Powell said he and his wife would surrender to the U.S. marshal here Friday.

Jap Tobacco Record

TOKYO—Japanese tobacco growers will plant a record 185,900 acres to the leaf this year, about equal to the 1955 harvested acreage, but an increase of 2.3 per cent over the 181,700 acres originally authorized for planting last season.

Health Survey Shows VD Rise

Industrial Area Study
Sees Higher Incidence Than Expected

LANSING (AP)—The State Health Department states 17 out of every 1,000 persons checked by the department in a blood testing program were found to be victims of syphilis.

The survey disclosed there were 4,865 new cases of syphilis and 10,305 cases of gonorrhea in 1955. This was the highest number of gonorrhea cases since 1947.

The survey showed 16 per cent of the acute cases of venereal disease appeared in the 15 to 19-year-old age group. One out of every four cases in the teen-age group were women.

Dr. John Cowan, chief of the department's division of tuberculosis and adult health, said the survey pointed up both shortcomings in education and personal and family living, including soundly based sex education and counseling programs.

More people named Jones*

own Chevrolets than any other car!

*Of course we haven't actually counted all the Joneses. But it seems a safe guess. Because this year—as they have year after year—more people are buying Chevrolets. And 2 million more people drive Chevrolets than any other car. Maybe you ought to come in and see why this is so.

Dulles Studies Global Strategy

Hunts for Way to Prove U.S. Will Use Nuclear Arms for Defense Only

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is studying ways to prove to the world "by word and deed" that the United States intends to use only for defensive purposes the power of its atomic and hydrogen weapons.

He apparently hopes in that way to bring pressure on the Soviet Union to give firm assurances that it also will refrain from the use of threat of atomic war except for defense.

THIRD TIME MUM

Dulles did not outline any specific ideas when he discussed the project in the course of a speech last night to the American Society of International Law.

It was the third time in recent days that an administration spokesman had provided evidence of developing American policies and tactics in foreign affairs without disclosing details.

In an address in New York Monday, Dulles declared U. S. readiness to join with the Atlantic allies to broaden the work of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to include unspecified political and economic problems.

TIME MUST COME

Last Saturday night President Eisenhower spoke in an address here of creating a "rotating advisory group" to advise the government on foreign aid issues, apparently foreshadowing a full study of the foreign aid program and its broad purposes.

Dulles said last night he thinks "the time must come when the Soviet rulers, if only as a matter of expediency and in deference to what should be incessant demands of world opinion, will be prepared to take steps to assure that the new power of modern weapons is in fact subjected to the will of the community."

USED IN DEFENSE

He said the United States already has "made clear its own purpose" to use new weapons "and new means of delivery" only in defense of the principles of the United Nations Charter. He listed these as being to refrain from the threat or use of force and to exercise the right of individual or collective self-defense against armed attack.

"In order that we may set an example which will be influential," he continued, the United States should increasingly make clear "by word and deed . . . that it is our intent that this new power be used only in defense of principles to which the community of nations subscribes."

probably be giving off echoes for a long time.

The jeers and hoots for the two men may have amused Western anti-Communists. The effect elsewhere may have created sympathy for the Russians and hostility for the British. The Russians were guests in Britain.

At the same time Khrushchev's temper tantrums — his reaction to needing — raises questions about his leadership. They don't prove anything definite — yet — but they make Westerners wonder what they're looking at.

EVERYBODY LIKES GEORGI

Georgi Malenkov, deposed as premier in favor of Bulganin but still a member of the Russian hierarchy, got a warm reception on his recent visit to Britain. Bulganin and Khrushchev may have thought they were in for the same. Americans in the best position to know what Kremlin thinking is — if anyone can be said to know it — are said to feel Malenkov is the smartest man in the Russians' collective leadership and will be back on top in time. Malenkov, fat and almost sad-faced, made no mistakes in Britain.

Khrushchev is apparently the real boss now. Bulganin takes a back seat to him, letting his partner do almost all the talking.

UNPREDICTABLE

Being so, he is unpredictable. But it could be assumed, since he's at the top of 200 million Russians, that he is a cool, calculating man who knows what he's up to every minute.

Khrushchev's performance in Britain raises questions about both his coolness and his shrewdness. The sight of a British workman shaking his fist at him so irritated him that he mentioned it in a speech shortly afterwards. "Never shake your fist at a Russian," he said. Then, like a teenager puffing out his chest in view of a rival gang, he informed his British hosts and the world that Russia was developing a hydrogen missile that could hit anywhere on earth.

He blew up again at a dinner given him and Bulganin by the British Socialists. He was asked if Russia would free about 200 East European Socialists presumed to be in Communist prisons.

SOCIALISTS BLASTED

This irritated him so much that he blasted back, according to reports, with these statements: All Socialists are "enemies of the working class," he knew nothing about the 200, they were not in Russian prisons, if they were in prison elsewhere that was no concern of his, and he refused to take a list of their names or try to help them.

As errors go, this was a beaut, if the reports of what he said are correct.

The new Russian line, as outlined by Khrushchev himself at the Communist party's 20th Congress in February, envisions Communists working with Socialists outside the Iron Curtain to gain parliamentary majorities in the Western governments.

And in the West this idea cannot help occurring: If Khrushchev can be needed into exploding by jeers, how emotionally reliable is he to a raised fist, and a barbed question do business with in far tougher situation at a Socialist dinner, just situations?

UM Doctor Advocates Children Hospital Motel

ANN ARBOR 26—A University of Michigan pediatrician proposed today a children's hospital of the future where mom and dad can live motel-style with their child until he recovers.

Dr. James L. Wilson told 200 hospital clinicians, meeting at the university, that hospitals must take time and care in making small children "feel at home" when they come to the hospital.

He said there was a desperate need for a new children's hospital embodying a new concept of child care.

"We hope to have a unit constructed," he said, "in which parents will be able to stay with the child during his confinement."

Each room is planned, he said, with a kitchenette so meals could be prepared by the mother. It would be on ground level so cars could be parked nearby. "In this respect," he said, "its convenience would resemble that of a motel."

Kentucky Couple Marks Diamond Year in Mass

BARDSTOWN, Ky. 26—Mr. and Mrs. Felix Grundy Greenwell observe their 75th wedding anniversary today at High Mass in a hospital chapel.

A bed will be wheeled into the chapel for the 94-year-old great-grandmother, a patient at Flaget Memorial Hospital since March 27. The couple's son, the Rev. Paul Joseph Greenwell, Albuquerque, N.M., will serve as celebrant.

WE NEVER AGREE
How does she feel after 75 years of marriage?

"Well, I feel like I been married," says the mother of 10 living children.

"She's the best woman in the world," her 55-year-old husband says. Greenwell feels "pretty good, but I'm worried about her."

How does Mrs. Greenwell account for their long married life? "We live a natural wedded life. We have plenty of arguments. We never agree. He thinks I talk too much. I guess I do, but he don't like to talk like I do."

The couple are parents of 17 children. The "clan" now includes 43 grandchildren, "between 75 and 80" great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Dem Governor Wears Ike Pin for Politeness

DENVER 26—There was an "Ike-1956" campaign button in the lapel of Democratic Gov. Edwin C. Johnson yesterday.

It was pinned there by singer James Melton during a courtesy visit at the Capitol. Later Johnson, a former U.S. senator, explained to reporters:

"I didn't know what it was. I just told him to be sure not to stick me. When he said it was an 'Ike' button I decided to be polite and leave it on while Melton was here."

The governor has endorsed Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas for the presidency.

Generous City
MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Nick Prillaman, of Martinsville, nominate Winchester, Va., as the state's most generous city.

They put a nickel in one of Winchester's new parking meters and out rolled two dimes. What they can't understand is that the meters were not designed to take dimes.

Hunter, Wife Back From Isle of No Return

NAIROBI — G. A. G. Adamson and his wife Joy think they are the only people to visit the "island of no return" and live to tell the story.

Elmolo Island has long been a challenge to Adamson, a game ranger. It lies in Great Lake Rudolf, in northwest Kenya, and is almost impregnable because of sudden, fierce storms and vicious currents.

Elmolo, 10 miles long, is a bleak volcanic strip eight miles from shore. Several abortive attempts have been made to survey it. Members of these expeditions perished.

It is populated only by crocodiles, giant cobras and bats. The Adamsons reached it by motorboat and were stranded there for six days by storms.

Food ran short and Adamson shot fish with a rifle. Then the weather cleared and they made it back to shore.

Japanese 'Cupids' Work Overtime at Tokyo Agency

TOKYO — A matrimonial agency operated by the Tokyo City Government arranges meetings for compatible Japanese men and women who want to marry.

The agency does some family-problem counseling, but most of its time is spent helping applicants find a suitable marriage partner. About 5,000 persons are registered for this service.

The agency tells several compatible registrants about one another and choices are made.

Introductions follow, and if after a reasonable length of time the couple decide they don't want to marry each other, the association is dissolved and the agency tries again to arrange a suitable match.

Pakistan will name, in Karachi, a committee to survey the country's atomic raw materials, Minister of Commerce Habib Rahman announced.

It takes a GIANT to solve an enigma

A giant wind tunnel reveals an aircraft's lines of least wind resistance. The giant that is the newspaper reveals the lines of least sales resistance.

Whether your market is these United States, this region, this state, or simply this city — your problem is how to overcome sales resistance and win your share of your market against today's unparalleled competition.

The newspaper unravels the mysteries of any market, because the newspaper penetrates its market so deeply. In one market or 1,000 it can track down your every last customer with methodical efficiency.

Practically every customer for every product or service habitually reads and shops the newspaper every day. That's why over 56,000,000 newspapers are bought daily. That's why advertisers, national and retail, invested over $3,000,000,000 in newspapers in 1955.

It takes a giant to solve the enigma of today's selling. That giant, who lives in every town, is the newspaper. USE the newspaper and win your share of the market.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.

Pedestrian Dies in Duel
With Bumpy Bus Driver

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Police were on the lookout today for a bus driver who bested a pedestrian in a bus-vs.-gun duel.

Witnesses gave this account: The bus bumped Alfonso de la Serna as he was crossing a street. The pedestrian started shouting insults at the driver and drew a pistol. The bus ran him down and a shot he fired as he fell went wild.

De la Serna died on the way to the hospital. The bus driver fled.

Five persons were killed by a male rhinoceros near Tazpur, India. It had strayed out of Dhanisiri Reserve Forest into nearby villages.

Escapes Death
Twice in Day

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Mark Edwards, 2, isn't fully aware how close he came to death.

The boy fell 10 feet down the almost perpendicular cliff overlooking the rocky surf here yesterday. He landed on a narrow ledge, just wide enough to hold him.

Mark had been walking with his grandmother Mrs. Alfred Bauer. She stopped for an instant to look at some flowers and in an instant he was gone.

Mrs. Bauer was horrified as she looked down on Mark, but she impressed on the tot the necessity of remaining still. If he had squirmed six inches he would have plunged 100 feet.

A park attendant, police, an ambulance and a crowd assembled in almost no time. Mark kept looking up at his grandmother.

Police lowered a man to the boy, and the two were pulled up to safety.

Excessive Rabbits

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—A ruling by the attorney general has spurred campaigns to rid Wyoming ranchlands of an oversupply of jack rabbits. The attorney general ruled that rabbits do not grow fur and people who buy rabbit carcasses do not have to be licensed fur dealers.

More than 3,000 rabbits were killed in drives near Pine Bluff and Douglas, Wyo. Ranchers say the rabbits have been destroying too many crops.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS — This one-horsepower conveyance provided an ingenious Dane with transportation in Copenhagen. Shortage of gasoline due to a strike in the Danish capital brought old Dobbin out of the stable and back on the job.

Gestapo Leader Himmler Reportedly Double-Crossed Hitler During WWII

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Sweden said today that Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler was a traitor to Adolf Hitler two years before the fall of the German Third Reich.

A historical White Book published by the Swedish Foreign Office brought out that in 1943, Himmler sought peace contacts with the Western powers through Sweden and behind the Fuehrer's back.

Germany's surrender, ending World War II, did not come until May 7, 1945. Hitler already had killed himself in his Berlin bunker. Himmler later did the same in British captivity.

The White Book said Himmler made "consistent efforts to arrange peace contacts with the Western powers via Sweden." It recalled his 1945 talks with the late Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden.

ASKED 3 TIMES

But it said he also asked Sweden's leading banker, Jacob Wallenberg, three times to arrange such contacts—in 1943, 1944 and 1945.

One document, now published for the first time, said Himmler also sent his deputy, Walter Schellenberg, to Sweden about 10 times to arrange such contacts.

to negotiate with Westerners. In 1943, this document said, the deputy negotiated with a personal representative of President Roosevelt.

The White Book largely concerned Count Bernadotte's mission to Berlin as an official of the Swedish Red Cross. He flew there in February, 1945. In a deal Himmler made with him, the Nazis released 19,000 prisoners of 27 nationalities in a last-ditch gamble for a separate peace with the West. The Nazis' ultimate surrender was both to the West and to the Soviet Union.

Bernadotte later was killed by Jewish gunmen in Jerusalem Sept. 17, 1948, while serving as U. N. mediator in the Palestine war.

LIKE MENTIONED

The book said Bernadotte had been asked by Himmler in the spring of 1945 to be prepared to go at once to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied supreme commander, "in case the situation with Hitler is changed"—meaning if Hitler was eliminated.

The book brought some changes in the distribution of honors for the Bernadotte mission.

Felix Kersten, Himmler's masseur and personal physician, was credited with an "important part" in the preparations through the use he made of his great influence over the Gestapo chief.

Kersten was not mentioned at all in the account of the mission that Count Bernadotte gave in his book, "The End."

Slate Opening of Fort Union

Plan to Restore Relic as National Monument in New Mexico

WASHINGTON — Time-scarred Fort Union in New Mexico, whose bugles reassured Indian-threatened emigrants on the Santa Fe Trail, will soon be opened to visitors as a national monument.

Title to 720.6 acres of the historic reservation has been acquired by the National Park Service, which is restoring the one-time frontier outpost in cooperation with the State of New Mexico, the National Geographic Society says.

Built in 1851 and abandoned in 1861, the fort's ruins stand upon rolling grassy lands about 69 miles northeast of Santa Fe. Now on row of adobe, brick and stone walls, chimneys and mounds present silent reminders of the once bustling reservation.

In its heyday as a bustling symbol of United States authority in territory but recently acquired from Mexico, Fort Union sheltered 3,000 military personnel and civilians. It was the supply center for some 50 lesser forts and cantonments within a radius of 500 miles. ROUGH AND READY

During the Civil War, Confederate forces from Texas marched to attack the fort, hoping to control the overland stage and wagon route to the Pacific and cut the gold supply line. They were stopped en route by Union forces.

The nearby Santa Fe Trail sometimes witnessed prodigious feats of horsemanship. Some three years before the fort was founded, Captain Felix Aubrey rode in relays from Santa Fe to Westport (Kansas City) in five days and 13 hours—a distance of 715 miles—to win a wager.

Wagon Mound, not far from Fort Union, is named for a hill that resembles the canvas top of a covered wagon. A party of Comanches confronted a Texas trader's caravan there. The Indians at first made signs of friendliness, but the suspicious trapper seized the chief by the scalp lock and pressed a hunting knife against his head. The chief ordered his men to leave the vicinity.

Fort Union's mule handlers traditionally enlivened the place. Of their vocabularies, a visiting inspector-general reported in 1853: "Shocking . . ."

Northern Ireland's Health Ministry has decided against using the new British vaccine against poliomyelitis.

Lad, 10, Parleys Hut Into Farm Prosperity

GLOUCESTER, Va. — Billy Weaver, 10, wanted a clubhouse, as do most boys. The folks let him build one from scraps and salvage. That was five years ago. Billy converted it into a brooder. He now produces 70,000 baby chicks a year, in addition to many eggs. He won a place on the Virginia 4-H poultry judging team. He raises the family garden, his cow furnished the family with milk, and he also is raising the pork. He has also planted 1,000 trees and has learned to estimate accurately the number of board feet in one tree or an acre of forest.

"Keeping Billy on the farm is no problem at all," says his father, William Weaver.

Red Chinese Armies Poised Opposite Quemoy

PASADENA, Calif. — Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas says Red China "no doubt" is in a position to attack the offshore islands between Formosa and the mainland. But he questioned whether the Reds would make the effort and "lose the men."

SEMIAN-RAMA HOLIDAY — At Westlake, Calif., Mambo, an eight-pound platinum gibbon valued at $500, gets in one or two last mambo steps before "Mama" — Mrs. Yvonne Buntin, a pet shop operator — returns him to captivity. Mambo, who had been quartered at Mrs. Buntin's home instead of at her shop, threw a section of the town into an uproar by going for an unescorted walk. Incredible citizens stared out their back windows and rubbed their eyes on seeing the ape happily leaping from phone poles to fence tops and back again. Members of the SPCA, the fire department, and neighborhood volunteers surrounded the friendly but restless gibbon and tried to coax him down with bananas, kind words, and cries of encouragement. Eventually worn out by all the excitement, the ape gave in and allowed Mrs. Buntin to take him home.

Lions Conduct Local Campaign

'White Cane Week' Sales to Help Blind in Pontiac

A campaign to educate area residents to the meaning of a white cane and a sale of miniature canes to benefit the Sight Conservation Fund is being carried on all this week by the Pontiac Lions Club in observance of White Cane Week, chairman Alex Pittsley said today.

The white canes are known as the traffic signal of the blind. Vehicles are required to stop within 10 feet of persons carrying such canes and should take all precautions necessary to avoid inflicting accident or injury.

Miniature canes are being sold by all members of the city club. Funds collected here will be used locally, according to Pittsley.

He points out that Lions Clubs throughout Michigan donate free white canes to blind people. These canes are purchased from the state each year.

The Pontiac Club has a full-scale program throughout the year to prevent blindness and aid the blind.

It furnishes city schools with tests and equipment for checking children's eyes. Parents are notified if glasses or operations are needed.

The sight conservation fund covers the expenses for those unable to afford the purchase of glasses or expensive operations. One of its other year-round projects is to conduct regular dances for the blind.

The chairman urges residents to give all they possibly can since contributions for canes may be said dollars each year in its work. The sight fund spends several thousand to The White Cane Fund, Box 35, Pittsley said.

Lemon Sparks Brownie Waffles

TOPPING FOR WAFFLES — Want something new to serve on waffles? For that matter, want something new in the waffle line? A thick lemon topping is served on waffles made from a packaged brownie mix. This same topping is delicious as a filling for cake or cookies also.

For that dessert bridge party you've been meaning to serve to the neighborhood gals, here's a combination that's really great . . . and very easy.

Make chocolate waffles with a brownie mix and serve with tangy Lemon Butter Topping prepared in advance and refrigerated until serving time.

It's a tasty combination that melts in your mouth, and when served with hot tea and a thick wedge of lemon, will really establish your reputation as a cook and hostess.

Make enough topping to use later as a spread or filling for sponge or chocolate cake, cookies, ginger-snaps or vanilla wafers . . . the perfect mate for many a food.

Lemon Butter Topping for Brownie Waffles
1 package brownie mix
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, well-beaten
1/2 cup fresh lemon juice

Prepare waffles according to cake brownie directions, but bake in waffle iron.
Melt butter in double boiler; add sugar and well-beaten eggs. Cook over hot water five to eight minutes, stirring constantly. Add lemon juice; continue stirring three to four minutes more, or until thick and smooth. Cover and chill. Serves four to six.

To Avoid Putty Spots, Use Oil in Mixture

Question: When putty is used to cover nail holes, how do I keep the putty from turning lighter than the wood.

Answer: It is not the putty that lightens, but the wood which darkens. To avoid light putty spots on wood paneled walls, darken the putty with oil paint a few shades deeper than the wood to which it will be applied. This will be unattractive for awhile, but it will not take the wood long to deepen to the same color as the putty.

Insures Best Results

To be assured of top results in a meat dish, be sure you use the proper meat cookery method.

When pan-frying, brown the meat on both sides in a small amount of lard or drippings, season with salt and pepper. Cook at a moderate temperature until done, turning occasionally. Do not cover the pan. Remove from pan and serve at once.

Newly Developed Method Eases Macaroni Cooking

The trend to shortcut, simplified methods of cooking has prompted the development of a new way to cook macaroni foods. It was first worked out in the school lunch-rooms of the Seattle public schools for cooking large quantities of macaroni foods.

This is the new method: To cook 4 ounces of macaroni, noodles or spaghetti, first bring 3 cups of water to boiling. Add 2 teaspoons salt and the macaroni food to the rapidly boiling water. Stir the boiling mixture constantly for two minutes.

Then, cover the pan, remove from heat, and let stand 10 minutes. At the end of 10 minutes, drain the macaroni food and rinse immediately. It will be cooked to the correct stage of doneness—completely cooked, yet still chewy—not overdone and mushy.

Increase or decrease the amount of water as you vary the quantity of macaroni you wish to cook.

It is important that the water be boiling when the macaroni food is added, and that the mixture be boiled for two minutes.

Inexperienced cooks like this method because the step of testing for doneness is eliminated.

Cooking macaroni foods for a crowd is much simpler this new way. For example, you need only 2 1/2 gallons boiling water to cook 3 pounds of macaroni, noodles or spaghetti. Use 2 tablespoons salt for this amount of water.

This method is not recommended for thick-walled macaroni food and shapes like lasagna and tuffoli. Cooking in a large quantity of water still seems to be the best method for these forms.

Prefabricated do-it-yourself furniture is made by the F & F Manufacturing Company. Made of wrought iron and plywood, the line includes three-tier utility shelves, bookshelves, cocktail tables, magazine end tables, telephone table and desks.

CHERRY RHUBARB PIE—If you can't decide whether to have fresh rhubarb pie or canned sweet cherry pie, combine the two! The sweet, rich, juicy canned cherries are the perfect complement, both flavorwise and texture-wise, to the pink, tangy rhubarb.

Kitchen Counter Makes Ideal Place for Sewing

If you're looking for a convenient place for sewing, try using the end of a kitchen counter. It can serve admirably as a sewing center—especially if the counter top is surfaced with scratchproof and stainproof ceramic tile. The smooth surface of real tile is ideal for handling garments (no chance of ripping material).

Picking the kitchen for mending and other household duties has an additional advantage—you can carry on other activities and still keep a watchful eye on preparations for the next meal.

Easy Sieved Cheese

When sieved cottage cheese is called for in a recipe, prepare it the easy way. Use a food mixer or rotary beater to whip the cottage cheese to very fine particles.

Serve on French Toast

Leftover lamb from your Sunday dinner need not go to waste. Surprise your family—they won't even know the dish you're serving has leftover meat in it.

Prepare french toast in the usual manner. Mince cooked lamb, sprinkle it with flour and brown it well in a small amount of lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add leftover gravy, heat thoroughly and serve over the french toast.

Sweet Cherries, Rhubarb Provide Perfect Pie Duet

In case you've never tried a pie made with canned sweet cherries rather than the tart pie cherries, you're in for a real eating experience. Once your family has experienced that thrill you can get them to do anything with the promise of a canned sweet cherry pie.

Of course, canned dark sweet cherries are delicious any way they're served—as a simple sauce, in cocktails, salads—both molded and tossed—and in all sorts of pastries from sweet rolls and coffee cakes to delightful cobblers, upside-down cakes and puddings.

If you pride yourself on being prepared for any emergency, keep a few cans of sweet cherries on hand, and you'll never be caught without a scrumptious dessert that everybody loves!

Cherry Rhubarb Pie

1 No. 2½ can dark sweet cherries
1 No. 200 can or 1 pound package frozen rhubarb or 1 pound fresh rhubarb
¼ cup cherry syrup
¼ cup sugar
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
Pastry for double crust 9-inch pie
Drain and pit cherries, save one-half cup syrup. Drain rhubarb, add one-half cup liquid to cherry syrup. Mix together sugar and cornstarch, stir in small amount of fruit liquid until smooth, then add remaining liquid and salt. Cook until thick and clear.

Remove from heat and stir in butter. Line 9-inch pie pan with pastry. Combine cherries and rhubarb. Pour syrup over and mix lightly. Pour into prepared pan and cover top with lattice crust. Press edges together.

Bake in hot oven (425) for 30-35 minutes or until crust is done. Makes six to eight servings.

Deviled Ham Bolsters Leftover Meat Mixture

Don't throw that bit of leftover meat or chicken away! You'll have enough to make a delicious pie or casserole if you bolster the meaty flavor with deviled ham.

Make up your dish as usual, with potatoes, rice or noodles, in a cream or tomato sauce, then stir in a family-size can of deviled ham and bake. Penny-pinching notion? Yes! But the savory whole-ham taste will baffle the price tag!

Puffs Brighten Sunday Supper

Put this high on the what-to-cook-for-Sunday-supper list. Here is an unusual dish that will put a gleam in the eyes of all who are present. You will puff up with pride when you serve these cheese puffs.

Mushroom Cheese Puff

4 slices day-old bread
1 pound process American cheese
2 ounces can sliced broiled mushrooms
1 egg
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
Cut bread in large circles to fit individual casseroles. Cut cheese in eight thin slices. Top each circle of bread with two slices of cheese.

Drain mushrooms, reserving broth. Grease two casseroles and place one round of bread in each, cheese side up. Sprinkle with half of the mushrooms. Add another round of bread, cheese side up, and sprinkle with the remaining mushrooms.

Beat egg. Add mushroom broth, milk, onion and salt. Carefully pour half of the mixture in each casserole. Let stand one hour.

Use One-Egg Cake in Cottage Pudding

Stag Dinner Special: Spicy Corned Beef

If it's a stag dinner you're preparing or perhaps just a dinner to satisfy those hearty male appetites in your home—try this recipe.

Cover corned beef with cold water. Cover tightly and simmer gently for 3 to 4 hours or until tender. Add more water, if necessary, to keep the corned beef covered. When done remove and drain. Spread top surface with brown sugar and dry mustard. Stud with cloves and place in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for 15 minutes.

Try Bittersweet Sauce

Dark brown and velvety smooth bittersweet sauce can be served either hot or cold according to your fancy. It's a luscious topping for ice cream or pudding and very simple and speedy. Melt a 6-ounce package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces together with two-thirds cup evaporated milk in the top of a double boiler, stirring to blend smoothly. Makes 1 cup of sauce.

This one-egg cake makes a fine cottage pudding.

Cottage Pudding
1½ cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
¼ cup emulsifier-type shortening
¾ cup milk
1 egg
Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into mixing bowl. Add shortening and one-half cup of the milk and vanilla; beat for two minutes on low speed with electric mixer or 200 strokes with mixing spoon by hand.

Add remaining milk and egg; beat two minutes. Turn batter into greased pan (8x8x3 inches), bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Cut in squares and remove with spatula; serve cake warm with fruit sauce.

Spiced crabapples are readily available at most food markets. Use the syrup from the fruit for basting a clove-studded boneless pork shoulder butt. Heat the crabapples and serve as a garnish for the meat.

Potato Biscuits Are Fluffy but Not Rich
Just right for family eating: biscuits that are fluffy and delicious, but not rich.
Quick Potato Biscuits
2 cups biscuit mix
1/2 cup mashed potatoes
1/2 cup milk
Put biscuit mix in a mixing bowl, cut in mashed potatoes with pastry blender until well worked.

1. Add milk and mix vigorously with fork.
Turn out on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth; shape and pat smooth with fingers; roll out about one-half-inch thick.
Cut out biscuits with round floured cutter (3 inches in diameter). Place on ungreased baking sheet a couple of inches apart; bake in hot (450 degrees) oven 10 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned on top.
Serve at once with butter. Makes about 10 biscuits.

SALMON CASSEROLE — There's nothing like a casserole for quick, easy cooking. This one makes use of packaged onion soup and sour cream to give a new piquancy to salmon and noodles.

Cheese Rabbit Has Wonderful Flavor
This cheese rabbit has wonderful flavor.
3 tablespoons flour
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup lightly drained canned tomatoes
2 cups grated cheddar cheese
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
Salt
Melt butter in top of double boiler; stir in flour. Add milk and cook over simmering water until thickened, stirring constantly.

Add tomato, grated cheese, mustard, curry powder and salt to taste; stir over hot water just until cheese melts. Makes four servings.

'California Dip' Sparks Salmon

Casserole cookery need not be distinguished only as a means of using up leftovers. It holds a rightful place in the creative world of culinary art. A good example of this is a Salmon-Noodle Casserole that is a gourmet treat yet decidedly inexpensive in spite of some elegant ingredients.

The unique flavor is contrived by mixing sour cream and a package of onion soup mix together.

This basic combination which started out as a "dip" for hors d'oeuvres has subsequently made its way as a tasty topping for hamburger, lamb chops and fish fillets, thence to a savory stuffing for tomatoes and celery, and finally as an actual ingredient in the cooking of many standard dishes.

The notable advantage of using onion soup mix and sour cream in cooking is that the sour cream will not curdle even in such recipes as one calling for pot roast to be simmered in the mixture for up to three hours.

Thus you will find that the "dip" will insure a successful as well as flavorful casserole. The delicate flavors inherent in the onion soup mix enhance the bland taste of the salmon and the noodles. And since it is so easy and quick to make, you will find it a fine feature for a buffet supper party.

Salmon-Noodle Casserole
8 ounces medium-wide noodles
1 pound can salmon (3 cups)
2 cups "California Dip"
1 cup cream
Heat oven to 375 degrees. Cook noodles according to package directions.

tions; drain. Mix "California Dip" and add cream to it.

Combine cooked noodles and chunk size pieces of salmon; mix with the liquid. Turn into a 2-quart casserole and bake 20 minutes. Makes eight to ten servings.

California Dip

Combine 1 pint sour cream and 1 package onion soup mix just as it comes from the package. For one cup of mix use one-half pint sour cream and 3 tablespoons (one-half package) well-blended onion soup mix.

No-bake pie crust; Crushed ginger snaps mixed with crushed vanilla wafers and melted butter or margarine.

Marbleize Cake Batters of Banana-Spice, Yellow

Some sunny afternoon bake a Banana-Spice Marble Cake to ice with tart Lemon Butter Frosting. This cake is moist and has good keeping qualities. With its winning taste combination of banana-spice and yellow batters, however, your family will polish it off in a huge hurry.

BANANA-SPICE MARBLE CAKE

$\frac{3}{4}$ cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup shortening
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sieved, mashed bananas (about 2 bananas)
1 teaspoon cinnamon
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon allspice
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cloves
Lemon Butter Frosting

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Stir in eggs and vanilla extract. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Beat well after each addition.

Four about one-half of batter into two greased, paper-lined, 8-inch round pans. Blend spices into banana. Fold banana mixture into remaining cake batter. Pour banana-spice batter over plain batter.

Cut through batters several times with a spoon or spatula to give marbled effect. Bake in moderate oven (350) 30 to 35 minutes. When cool, frost with Lemon Butter Frosting. Makes two 8-inch layers.

*If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

Lemon Butter Frosting
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter or margarine

3 to 3½ cups confectioners' sugar
2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup lemon juice

Cream butter or margarine until softened. Cream in about 1 cup sugar. Blend in lemon rind. Add remaining sugar and lemon juice alternately. Beat well after each addition. Mix until frosting is smooth and fluffy. Makes enough frosting for two 8-inch layers.

Wafers Flavored by Sesame Seeds

These cookies are adapted from a recipe by California's celebrated cookbook author, Helen Evans Brown.

Sesame Wafers
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup margarine
1-3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup flour (sift before measuring)
Sesame seeds

Cream margarine, sugar and vanilla. Beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in flour until blended. Drop level teaspoonfuls of the dough, 1 inch apart, on buttered cookie sheets.

Have a cup of water with a couple of ice cubes in it handy. Dip a small spatula in the ice water and flatten each cookie with cold wet blade so it is the size of a quarter.

Sprinkle with sesame seeds. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned—9 to 12 minutes.

Cool on rack; store in tightly covered container. Makes about 5 dozen.

Tasty Two-Way Soup Is Treat for Small Fry

Small fry usually like bowls of two-way soup. Heat cream of tomato soup in a sauce-pan; in another pan heat cream of green pea soup. Holding one pan of soup in one hand, and the other pan of soup in the other hand, pour the two varieties into a soup bowl at the same time.

The tomato soup will stay at one side of the bowl; the green pea soup at the other, creating an effect that will seem wonderful to Junior!

NEW...from Duncan Hines: Old-fashioned BURNT SUGAR Cake Mix

Caramel Flavor in the Cake—Caramel Flavor in the Frosting!

Enough Burnt Sugar Syrup for both included in this exciting new mix

Duncan Hines says: "If you've ever tasted a real old-fashioned Burnt Sugar Cake the way it's best... with a Burnt Sugar Frosting that enhances the caramel taste... you know how delicious it is. If you've ever made it the old-fashioned way, you know there's quite a trick to caramelizing sugar to just the right flavor."

"With my new Burnt Sugar Cake Mix, you don't have to do any caramelizing at all! I've found a way to package enough Burnt Sugar Syrup to flavor the cake, and make the perfect frosting for it, too."

"Try it soon! I guarantee you'll serve a cake that will make memories... the old-fashioned, caramel-rich kind of cake that always went first at church suppers. I consider it a real adventure in good eating."

NO SUGAR TO CARAMELIZE!

This packet contains a concentrated burnt sugar syrup—inside the package.

Just dissolve the contents of the packet in enough water to make $\frac{1}{2}$ cup. It's liquid, so it mixes instantly with a stir of the spoon.

Add half of this mixture to the cake batter, as directed on the package. The cake will have a true caramel flavor and color.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

James H. Murnan of New York City joins the New Orleans Times-Picayune Chapter with his "SMOTHERED CHICKEN," which "makes for a real good dinner, and requires very little attention during the process of cooking."

2 small (or 1 large) chicken
2 tablespoons fat
1 cup flour
Salt, pepper, and paprika

Remove the necks and split the chickens down the back, and wipe with a damp towel. Season inside and out with salt and pepper, dredge both sides with flour and place the chicken inside down in a well-greased baking pan with cover, or roaster. Add 1/2 cup water, sprinkle with paprika.

Or you can cut chicken in serving pieces, and shake in a bag with flour and salt and pepper, until all pieces are well coated. Place in pan flesh side up.

Cook, covered, at 325 degrees for one hour. If chicken is lacking in fat, add a little as needed. When done, remove to a hot platter.

Add to the pan enough water to make two cups of gravy. Thicken with three tablespoons of the seasoned flour remaining from the bag, made into a roux with excess fat from the pan. If chicken is very fat, remove all but three or four tablespoons of fat from the pan before making the gravy.

Season with salt, pepper if necessary, and add (as we did) a little MSG powder. Pour the gravy over the chicken and serve at once, with boiled rice or fluffy mashed potatoes and a green vegetable.

And here is another nice business, "FLUM CHICKEN," from Marjorie Kessler of New York City. She uses:

1 four-pound trying chicken, cut in serving pieces
Salt, pepper and flour
1/2 cup fat
1 No. 2 can purple plums
1 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup salted almonds

Wipe the chicken, and shake the pieces in a paper bag with the flour, salt and pepper. Melt fat over medium heat and brown chicken well on all sides.

Drain the plums and reserve 1 cup of the syrup. Pit the plums. Arrange chicken, plums, celery and almonds in a greased three-quart casserole. Add plum syrup, cover, and bake at 325 degrees for 40 minutes, then uncover and bake 30 minutes more.

Add a little more syrup if necessary. And in a spirit of rare enterprise, we added two tablespoons of Marsala wine toward the end of the final baking. And from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Chapter, Mrs. Dorothy Brandon sends us a very nice GRAPEFRUIT PUDDING, which uses canned or fresh grapefruit sections. A nice, tasty dessert it is, too.

4 rounding tablespoons tapioca (or cornstarch)
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups hot water
No. 2 can grapefruit sections (or equivalent in fresh grapefruit sections)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Pinch of salt

Cook tapioca (or cornstarch), sugar and water until smooth and thickened. Remove from heat, add remaining ingredients, and cook five minutes longer.

Mazarin Tarts of Scandinavia Star Almonds

Here's our version of a Scandinavian pastry.

Mazarin Tarts
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons finely granulated sugar
1 egg yolk
1 cup sifted flour
Almond filling

Cream butter, sugar and egg yolk. Stir in flour until blended; chill. Roll out one-half of dough; cut out 12 rounds with a 3-inch cookie cutter; repeat with other half of dough.

Press rounds into small cupcake pans (about 1 1/2 inches across top). Put 2 teaspoons of Almond Filling in each.

Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven about 30 minutes — filling will puff up and be glazed.

Cool in pans; filling will sink; remove carefully. Store in tightly covered container. Makes 24 tarts.

Almond Filling

Beat 1 large egg white, 6 tablespoons finely granulated sugar and one-quarter cup finely ground or grated blanched almonds together vigorously for about five minutes.

If there is not quite enough filling for tarts, use preserves. Make small preserve-filled turnovers from any scraps of pastry.

Chocolate Farina Molds Will Delight Breakfasters

If you can turn breakfast, the value. Yet, all it takes is a little most staid meal of the day, into an interesting affair, you're a homemaker well worth your weights and measures in food.

CHOCOLATE FARINA MOLDS — Here's an unusual idea for a breakfast dish. Cook farina in chocolate milk, let it set in interesting molds. Garnish with bananas and serve for the first meal of the day.

citement with the aid of a bottle or container of chocolate milk.

Cook farina in flavored chocolate milk and it's enticing, let it in molds, garnish with bananas, and a delightful mood has been created. Then, place a pitcher of light cream on the table and let each member of the family "pour it on."

Cereal made with chocolate milk need not stay at the breakfast table only. The chocolate flavor elevates it to the dessert category, as well.

Take the Chocolate Milk Farina recipe and turn it into an 8-inch ring mold, fill the center with scoops of vanilla ice cream and you've a nutritious and pretty dessert.

And, just in case this isn't rich enough for your family, make the Chocolate Coconut Sauce to serve with it.

Chocolate Milk Farina Molds
1 quart chocolate milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup fat
3 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 medium-sized bananas, sliced
Lemon juice

Heat chocolate milk to boiling point; add salt and farina and cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until thickened. Add a little of hot mixture to eggs; mix well.

Add egg mixture to remaining hot mixture; cook over low heat three minutes, stirring constantly. Add vanilla; mix well.

Turn into six individual molds and chill until firm. Brush banana

Nutrients High in Cheese Soup

Hearty cream soups make ideal luncheon main dishes when served with crisp crackers and a tossed salad. This Cream of Cheese Soup is a delightful blend of vegetable flavors with milk and cheese. It is easy to make and will be popular with everyone to whom it is served.

The milk and cheese used in Cream of Cheese Soup provide protein, calcium and vitamins, which are so essential to any well-planned meal.

Serve Cream of Cheese Soup with a tossed or fruit salad, celery and olives, assorted crackers and Melba toast with butter, and for dessert, a sherbet with butter cookies.

This will be a meal that will appeal to all — it is not heavy, is flavorful and is nourishing as well.

Cream of Cheese Soup
4 tablespoons butter
1-2 cup finely diced onion
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 chicken bouillon cubes
4 cups milk, scalded
1/2 cup diced, cooked carrots
1 teaspoon celery seed
1 1/2 cups freshly grated sharp American cheese
2 tablespoons minced parsley

Melt butter in saucepan over low heat. Add onions and cook until tender but not brown. Blend in flour and Worcestershire sauce; heat until bubbly.

Dissolve bouillon cubes in hot milk. Gradually stir hot milk mixture into sauce; cook until it boils and thickens, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients, stirring until cheese is melted.

Season to taste. Pour into hot soup bowls and garnish with minced parsley. Makes six servings.

Cheese Lovers Take Note: a Cookbook's Been 'Wrote'

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Are you fond of cheese? If so, there's a fairly new book that will be just your dish. Three hundred and fourteen pages are devoted to cheese in Bob Brown's "The Complete Book of Cheese" (Random House).

If you're ignorant about cheese, here's your chance to get educated.

We gleaned a good many facts about cheese from a quick once-over of Mr. Brown's book. The introduction by Clifton Fadiman is both revealing and amusing.

There are, according to author Brown, 11 cheeses made in America that are worthy of mention. Among the list the ones we are most familiar with are Vermont Sage, Philadelphia Cream, Ohio Liederkranz, Wisconsin Limburger, Minnesota blue and Brick.

Mr. Brown has no use for processed cheese. All his recipes call for regular, properly aged cheese. Here's a sampling of them.

Chipped Beef Rabbit
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup canned tomato, drained, chopped and drained
1/2 pound dried beef, shredded
2 eggs, lightly beaten
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 cups grated cheese

Heat tomato in butter, add beef and eggs, stir until mixed well. Sprinkle with pepper. Stir in grated cheese until smooth and creamy. Serve on toast.

Open Faced Cheese Pie
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup soft margarine (that's just cottage cheese!)

Whip everything together and fill two pie crusts. Bake in moderate oven without any upper crust.

Grilled Sandwich
Cut crusts from 2 slices white bread and butter them on both sides. Make a sandwich of these with 1 slice cooked chicken, 1/2 slices sharp Cheddar cheese and a sprinkling of minced ham.

Fasten tight with toothpicks, cut in half and dip thoroughly in a mixture of egg and milk. Grill golden brown on both sides and serve with lengthwise slices of dill pickle.

Make Swiss Scramble — It Isn't Any Gamble
A Swiss Scramble is no gamble when you work out this combination: Break 6 eggs into top of double boiler; mix in one-quarter cup cream, 3 tablespoons butter and seasonings.

Cherries Spark Banana Sponge

A really good dessert, brightened with gay maraschino cherries, is a Cherry Banana Sponge. Try it.

Cherry Banana Sponge
1 3-ounce package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1/2 cup cold water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 bananas
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries, drained (about 15 cherries)
Whipped cream
Maraschino cherry halves

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water, lemon juice and lemon rind. Mash two bananas well and add to gelatin mixture, mixing well. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Beat well.

Fold in egg whites and chopped cherries. Pile lightly into serving dishes and chill until firm. Top with whipped cream.

Slice remaining banana. Garnish sponge pudding with banana slices and cherry halves. Serve six.

Instant Cream Adds Richness to Potato Soup
A tempting luncheon is that old favorite of hot nourishing soup, served with a crisp cool salad. Although this menu is good any season of the year, it really comes into its own on a brisk winter day.

Today we are suggesting a potato soup made with instant powdered cream. It's a rich, creamy soup, delicately flavored with onion and celery and should be served piping hot. It is so simple to make when you use instant cream in the proportions given below.

This instant cream not only creams your coffee, but provides wonderful short cuts in food preparation as well. For a delicious meal just serve this potato soup with fresh fruit salad.

Instant Cream Potato Soup
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
2 cups diced potatoes
1/4 cup finely chopped celery leaves
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups water
1/4 cup instant cream
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine onion, potatoes, celery leaves, salt and water. Cover and cook 30 minutes. Shake instant cream on top of potato mixture and add butter. Stir once or twice. Makes four servings.

Shrimp-Stuffed Peppers Star at Party Luncheon

Shrimp-Stuffed Green Peppers are a dramatic scene-stealer for spring party luncheon productions. Shell macaroni, cream of mushroom soup and shrimp set the flavor pace. Let crisp relishes and French bread round out the main course.

Shrimp-Stuffed Green Peppers
6 large green peppers
4 ounces shell macaroni
2 1/2 cups condensed cream of mushroom soup (10 1/2-ounce can)
1/4 cup hot water
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 cup cleaned cooked shrimp (8 1/2-ounce can)
Sifted pimiento

Wash peppers and remove stem and seeds. Place in a small amount of boiling salted water. Cover partially and cook five to seven minutes.

Add 2 teaspoons of salt and macaroni to 3 cups boiling water. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly, for two minutes. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes. Drain peppers and set aside.

Combine soup, water, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Heat. Stir in shrimp. Mix macaroni with warm water and drain well. Fold macaroni into shrimp mixture.

Spoon into green pepper shells. Garnish tops of peppers with pimiento. Bake in moderate oven (350), uncovered, about 20 minutes. Makes six servings.

Try Pears in Syrup

Fresh pears that are pared, halved and cored can be cooked tender in simmering sugar syrup in ten to fifteen minutes. Make the syrup with a cup of water and about half a cup of sugar. After the pears are cooked and cooled, stir a little vanilla into the syrup for fine flavor.

Mushrooms Flavor New Green Beans

New Green Beans Francaise
1 pound snap beans
1/4 cup boiling water
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion
1 egg (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms
2 tablespoons heavy cream
Salt and pepper

Snip ends from beans; scrub in cold water; cut crosswise in about 1-inch lengths.

Put in 1-quart saucepan with boiling water and one-fourth teaspoon salt; boil gently just until tender, lifting cover a few times; drain.

Meanwhile melt butter in 8 or 9-inch skillet over low heat; add onion and cook gently, stirring often, until lightly browned; drain mushrooms and heat.

Mix with beans and cream; add salt and pepper to taste; reheat but do not boil. Makes six servings.

District YWCA 'Neighborhood Conference' Held

Two presidents confer at the Neighborhood Conference held Wednesday. Mrs. Maude Pino (left) president of the Detroit YWCA, presided at the all-day conference. She is photographed with Mrs. Fred Stimpert, president of the Pontiac YWCA.

270 Attend Event Held in Church

Workshops, Talks Highlight Pontiac Conference

Two hundred and seventy delegates from throughout Southern Michigan and Ohio, attended the YWCA 'Neighborhood Conference' held Wednesday at Central Methodist Church.

Held for the first time in Pontiac, it was the largest 'Y' conference of its type, according to authorities.

Mrs. Maude W. Pino, president of the Detroit YWCA, was presiding officer. Morning speakers were Mrs. Robert W. Claytor of Grand Rapids, Mrs. George A. Schenn of Detroit and Mrs. Alva Peterson of Columbus, Ohio.

Discussing "Our National and World Responsibility," Mrs. Claytor said that "no local unit can exist unto itself alone." The work is as important in other countries.

There are five pages in today's Women's Section she said, and explained that it is the responsibility of members to work through their organization for a world of peace.

Keynote speaker, Mrs. John K. Ormond of Birmingham, outlined "Social Responsibilities of the YWCA."

Pointing to the inspired young women who founded the YWCA, those who united for a special purpose, Mrs. Ormond said that it is the responsibility of members to work for their program and to work for its adoption.

When problems arise, Mrs. Ormond said that members must first study the problem, learn its ramifications, then come to conclusions based on sound thinking. The final step is keeping an informed public.

The problems discussed in workshops throughout the day were those concerned with differences in race, color and creed.

YWCA members agreed that there were no barriers within its organization and that their next task is to help enlighten others, and to live what they maintain in theory.

Dr. Milton H. Bank gave the invocation.

Church Choir Sets Saturday Show Date

The Senior Choir of Bethany Baptist Church is presenting a benefit variety show, "Spectacular," to be presented Saturday evening at 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

The program, arranged under the direction of Elda Sutter, choir director and organist will include local and television talent, comedy routines, instrumental numbers, vocal selections and a magician's act.

An invitation has been extended to the public to attend. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Directors Gather in Hills

Mrs. J. Edwin Watson was hostess at her home on Pembroke road, Bloomfield Hills, on Monday to members of the board of directors of the Bloomfield Hills Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

At the luncheon meeting plans were outlined for the club to participate in the annual meeting of the Michigan Division being held in Birmingham on May 9 and 10.

Mrs. Robert Vanderkloof, program chairman, announced that the next meeting of the club will Three members from the local YWCA attending the Neighborhood Conference were (left to right) Mrs. O. R. Briney Jr., Mrs. Paul S. Kantz and Mrs. Gelston V. Poole. The conference was held for the first time in Pontiac with 270 attending.

DiBlasi Praised for Brilliant Direction

By DORA DAWSON
The third season of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra was brought to a brilliant close Wednesday night in Lincoln Junior High School with the fifth concert in this year's series. All of these concerts have been under the direction of Francesco DiBlasi and have maintained a steady growth toward a perfect standard of orchestral music.

Mr. DiBlasi's understanding of this composite instrument and its capabilities has made it possible for ideas and feelings to be expressed in terms of musical sounds that are most gratifying.

The concert opened with Mendelssohn's overture "A Midsummer Night's Dream," followed by Mozart's Symphony No. 23, and closed with the overture to the opera "La Forza Del Destino" by Verdi, all great favorites, and all having within them the finest creation of orchestral art.

When one considers this orchestra is made up of many non-professionals, assisted in parts by more experienced players, it is most noteworthy to hear the unity of tone, the precision of attacks and releases, and the beauty of shading.

The high-light of the concert was the concerto for trumpet, piano and strings, featuring Mr. DiBlasi on his favorite instrument, the trumpet. Known throughout Christian history as an instrument of alarm or arousal, it is seldom heard as a solo piece.

In this concerto, the combination was delightful and most interesting. The resplendent, ringing tones of the trumpet, so clearly and smoothly produced were supported by a brilliant pianistic background, by Norman Gifford, and a flowing string section that was lyrical in composition.

The success of our Pontiac orchestra places it among other cultural musical attainments here that have met with wide approval. To produce these concerts has also required the constant planning and work of the officers and boards of the Symphony Association.

The appreciation of the humblest listener, the patrons, the contributing members and all those working for its success, have been needed to bring it to its present success. It is hoped that it will continue in growth, in popularity, in perfection and in permanence, in Pontiac.

Mrs. Milton Freet presided at the Tuesday meeting of Pontiac Toastmistress Club held at Hotel Waldron. Toastmistress for the meeting was Mrs. Sidney Olson.

Mrs. Howard Wheatley served as critic for Mrs. Freet when she spoke on "Thrift." "I Remember" was the speech delivered by Mrs. George Gaches, with Mrs. Ivan Wilcox as critic.

Mrs. W. Arthur Vernon acted as critic when Gertrude Foley spoke on "Can You Trust Yourself?"

Tailtwister for the evening was Helen Lapsch, and Mrs. Robert Bunce served as chief evaluator. "The Most Beautiful Word I Know" was the table topic for the evening, which afforded members a new and better understanding of the many words chosen.

Members of the Pontiac Story League attended an area Story Festival Tuesday evening at St. Luke Parish Hall in Ferndale.

Leagues from Ann Arbor, Benton Harbor, Royal Oak, Saginaw, Walled Lake and Detroit also were represented, and the different leagues presented their own entertainers.

The Pontiac League was represented by Mrs. Robert Boggs who presented the story, "The Spring by the Side of the Road."

Attending from the local league with Mrs. Boggs were Laura Cobb, Grace Clark, Julia Dalzell, Mrs. Wendell Green, Mrs. Elmer Hutson, Mrs. Clayton Rule, Mrs. Oscar Schmidt and Mrs. J. R. Shaffer.

WHAT WIVES DON'T KNOW ABOUT SEX

It may sound unbelievable—but it's true! Many wives are bound and hampered by ignorance and inhibitions in their marital relations. Despite the modern young woman's sophistication, a lack of adequate sex knowledge often wrecks the most promising marriage.

In the May Ladies' Home Journal, Dr. Abraham Stone, eminent physician and marriage counselor, answers seventeen significant and vital questions. He also gives helpful information and advice on this most important subject.

Married women—and every woman who is about to be married—will want to read this frank, enlightening article.

Also in this issue
A glittering love story that shocked the world!

The Vanderbilt Feud

It's the frankest account ever written of a marriage that caused a Vanderbilt heir to lose a $40,000,000 inheritance and began a society feud that still survives—in "Can This Marriage Be Saved?"

"MONEY... or the lack of it... is destroying my marriage"

He hid the bills in his bureau, couldn't manage funds. Both Ted and Lita agreed he was to blame for their financial mess... but the marriage counselor said "no." Read how they found the solution—just in time—in "Can This Marriage Be Saved?"

Sisterhood Hosts Speaker

Mrs. Stanley Winkelman of Detroit discussed Social Action programs at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob.

The speaker who was introduced by Mrs. Herman Stenbuck, is a member of the Community Relations Committee and Mass Media Sub-Committee of the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Detroit. She is a former co-chairman of the Social Legislation Committee of the Detroit section, National Council of Jewish Women and a member of the Community affairs committee of Temple Beth El, Detroit.

Mrs. Winkelman told her listeners of the importance of a Social Action Group, one of the most important being to educate people to whichever social problem they might undertake. "This knowledge must then be applied and integrated into everyday living," the speaker stated.

Mrs. Sanford Saperstein gave the opening prayer and the business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Irving Gordon, president. Reports of the recent convention of the Michigan State Federation of Temple Sisterhoods held in Jackson were presented. Attending were Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Irving Steinman, Mrs. Herman Dickstein, Mrs. Charles Gersteh, Mrs. Harry Arnkoff, Mrs. Saperstein, Mrs. Joseph Nosanchuck and Mrs. Sam Stolorow.

Also attending were Mrs. Herman Stenbuck, Mrs. George Richmond, Mrs. Julian Levine, Mrs. Sidney Barnett, Mrs. Mae Fink, Mrs. Nat Morrison and Mrs. George Wyman.

Eleanor Keyes extended an invitation to the group to attend the Open House to be held at the Pontiac State Hospital April 29-30 and May 1-2. She explained the importance of each person being acquainted with and able to cope with mental patients.

Mrs. Harry Ackerman closed the meeting with prayer.

'More Hat' Illusion

As a rule, only one hat pin goes on a large hat. But two should be worn on smaller hats and should be covered to match the trim—fruits, flowers or ribbon. That way, they help create the illusion of "More Hat."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Warner have returned to their home on Greentree road after three months at Delray Beach, Fla. They spent some time fishing at Miami during their southern stay.

Mrs. Edward A. Procter will be the guest of his daughter, Mary, over the coming weekend at Bradford Junior College. It will be the annual father and daughter week.

Mrs. William Gordon Heads Local U M Alumnae Club

Mrs. William A. Gordon was elected president of the Alumnae Club of the University of Michigan when the club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Brownlee of Square Lake road.

Others elected to serve are Mrs. Robert B. Tarr, vice president; Mrs. Brownlee, treasurer; Gertrude Overton, secretary; Marian Lehn-er, senior councillor and Mrs. Charles Harmon, junior councillor. Mrs. Harry Richards, Mrs. Vernon Abbott and Margaret Steward served on the nominating committee and presented the officers.

Mrs. Tarr and Mrs. Richard were appointed to represent the Pontiac group on May 5, when the Alumnae Council Clubs in this area will be included in the 9th District Alumni Association Conference which will be held at the Dearborn Country Club.

Ford Motor Company will be hosts for the conference which will include business in the morning followed by luncheon and a trip through one of their new buildings.

Announcement was made of the Alumni University which is held each year in Ann Arbor, the week preceding Commencement. This year the activities will be held June 11-15.

This program of short courses by outstanding members of the faculty is designed to aid Alumni and all interested adults, in keeping abreast of developments in the arts and sciences.

A sound and colored film from the University entitled, "Locks of Saul S. E. Marie" was presented by Miss Lehn-er, program chairman.

Mrs. Raymond Rapaport, Mrs. Thomas Temple and Mrs. Floyd Beardslee were welcomed as guests at the meeting.

A buffet luncheon was served from a table centered with an arrangement of spring flowers in the school colors of yellow and blue. Serving on the committee were Mrs. R. Grant Graham, Helen Travis, Beulah Phillips, Mrs. Katherine Quick, Julia Dalzell, Mrs. Conrad Church and Mrs. Tarr.

Be Cordial in Greeting Man's Kin

Relatives, Friends of the Bridegroom
Are Strangers

By EMILY POST

The mother of a bride-to-be writes: "The bridegroom's relatives, except his immediate family, and many of his friends will be strangers to my husband and me. When they arrive at the reception, how shall I greet them, and are they supposed to be introduced to everyone else?"

Answer: Greet them as you would everyone else whom you are glad to see rather than as impersonal strangers. Since you must stand at the door receiving other people, the duty of looking after these people falls on your husband and perhaps upon some members of your immediate family.

It is not necessary that they be led around the room and introduced to everyone, but it is necessary to see that they are not left standing neglected and alone.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In our dining room we have candles on the sideboard which are rarely, if ever, lighted. They are purely decorative.

"I am curious to know whether these candles should be fresh unused ones, or whether it would be more correct to light them for a few minutes to take away their newness and make them less suggestive of a department store display window. I am inclined toward the latter but I have a friend who assures me it is incorrect."

Answer: Since their light is not needed, they should be freshly new with unburned wicks.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I will be staying at a motor court for a four-month period and will have maid service. Will you please tell me how much I am expected to tip—and when?"

Answer: If you have only one room and the maid merely comes in to make up your bed, one dollar a week should be sufficient. If you have more than one room and she does other chores, between two and five dollars a week would be about right—depending on how much she does for you.

9-Day Reducing Diet

Don't Delay Task of Slimming Your Figure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Don't take your extra pounds along with you on your vacation again this year! Perhaps last summer you decided to get in shape to really enjoy your vacation and your lovely but revealing summer clothes and then procrastinated.

Maybe you did not have as good a time as you would have had if you had worked even just a little to get your figure in shape beforehand. You may have felt self-conscious or missed swimming because figure faults haunted you. Don't let it happen to you again!

Get in shape—to really enjoy your vacation and your lovely but revealing summer clothes.

Why not leave your extra pounds at home this year? Nine days from now you can be from 5 to 10 pounds slimmer if you follow my 9-Day Diet. This has been a popular feature of "Why Grow Old?" for many years. Thousands of women watch for it each spring in order to get ready for their swimsuits, shorts and playclothes.

While following these menus you not only lose pounds but you form good habits in eating, and can use

Pleated Skirts Spring Vogue

Pleated skirts are fashionable this spring, but they can be a packing problem unless you know how to fold them properly into a suitcase.

A travel expert says the main trick is to place the skirt first on a hard flat surface.

When it is flat on the hard surface, make sure all the pleats are straight. Then fold it lengthwise in "three's" putting tissue paper lengthwise also in each fold.

Then just pull the top halfway over the bottom and place the folded skirt in the bottom of your suitcase.

Add another fold of tissue paper over the entire skirt to keep it flat, and pack soft goods over it.

the menus as a skeleton pattern to follow later on. The good reducing diet should have lean meat, fish or fowl, citrus fruit, eggs, milk, lots of yellow and green vegetables, and a low fat and carbohydrate content. Here are your menus for tomorrow.

An Ancient and Troubled Land

History of Mideast Crisis Can Be Traced in U. N. Diplomacy

By WILLIAM N. OATES

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The cease-fire agreements being negotiated by United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld between Israeli and her Arab neighbors are the latest examples of a decade of U.N. diplomacy in the Middle East.

The record of U.N. activity in the last turbulent 10 years in the highly strategic region also serves as an index to the history of the young state of Israel and relations—never far from open warfare—between the highly nationalistic and emotional peoples of the Middle East.

Interference in the affairs of the Middle East by big powers was the first issue reaching the United Nations from this ancient and troubled land. On Jan. 19, 1946, just two days after the Security Council opened its first meeting in London, Iran complained of Soviet meddling in its affairs and of wartime Soviet troops still on its soil.

The next month Lebanon and Syria complained about British and French troops in their countries. In July 1947, Egypt filed a similar complaint against the British.

The foreign forces in Iran, Lebanon and Syria were pulled out within a few months but stayed longer in Egypt. Britain and Egypt finally agreed in 1954 that British troops should complete their withdrawal from the Suez Canal zone by June 1956.

Meanwhile, in April 1947, Britain announced it was dropping its 30-year-old League of Nations mandate over Palestine, where long-established Arabs and recently settled Jews already were quarreling. It handed the problem to the U.N. Boundaries of Palestine during the life of the mandate are shown in an inset on the accompanying map.

SEPARATE STATES

On Nov. 29, 1947, the General Assembly approved a plan to partition Palestine into separate Arab and Jewish states and internationalize Jerusalem. The Jews accepted the plan. The Arabs, in Palestine and the countries around, opposed it.

Britain dropped the mandate May 15, 1948. The Jews created Israel. The Arabs attacked. Israel fought back.

The U.N. got a cease-fire and finally, in 1949, an armistice. The main map shows the Israeli boundaries fixed by force of arms, as well as the earlier U.N. partition.

The armistice agreements of Israel with its four neighbors, besides setting forth demarcation lines between the armies, laid out demilitarized zones and forbade warlike acts.

Arab-Israeli-U.N. mixed armistice commissions also were established to handle complaints of violations and U.N. truce observers empowered to investigate complaints.

But the armistice did not bring real peace. There still are underlying causes of friction. These include:

CAUSES OF FRICTION

1. Arab refugees from Israel. Almost a million now live in surrounding Arab countries, many in U.N. relief camps. The General Assembly on Nov. 19, 1948, decided they should get the choice of going home or settling where they were, with compensation for their old property. The Arabs insist on this choice. The Israelis refuse to allow it; they say returning refugees would be security risks and excess population.

2. Borders. The armistice left Israel holding a third more territory than the partition plan would have given her. The Arabs now favor that plan. The Jews now oppose it.

3. Peace treaties. They do not exist. The armistice agreements, by their own terms, neither establish nor nullify "territorial, custodial or other rights." They leave them for later settlement "at the discretion of the parties." But they also aim at "the return to permanent peace in Palestine." Israel claims the territory she holds. The Arab countries deny the claim. Israel has sought to negotiate peace treaties with them. They have refused to negotiate. They regard themselves as still at war with Israel.

There also are, overlying these basic problems, particular sources of tension along the demarcation lines. Among these are:

OTHER BASIC PROBLEMS

1. Arab infiltration. Refugees sometimes sneak back into Israel to rob and kill, or merely to harvest crops from land they regard as still theirs. Clashes result.

2. Border shooting. Arab and Israeli patrols sometimes fire at each other on sight, or at settlements or military posts across the lines.

3. Israeli reprisal attacks. In these, Israeli regulars killed 54 Arabs at Kibya, Jordan, in October 1953; 39 in Egypt's Gaza Strip in February 1954, 56 in Syria east of the Sea of Galilee in December 1955, and 64 at Gaza on April 5, 1956.

4. Disputes over demilitarized zones. Israeli efforts to develop these zones, and encroachments of armed forces on both sides, have led to bloody fighting.

Palestine border incidents have taken up more of the Security Council's time in recent years than any other subject. After one such outbreak, Britain, France and the United States, on May 28, 1950, declared that if they found that Israel or any Arab state was preparing to violate armistice lines, they would "immediately take action, both within and outside the United Nations, to prevent such violation."

The West then expanded to the Middle East its chain of defense alliances around the Soviet Union. Pakistan and Turkey signed a pact April 2, 1954. Britain, Iran and Iraq joined them, and last Nov. 21 the alliance set up its Baghdad headquarters.

Egypt, committed to "non-alignment" with either Russia or the West, disliked seeing Iraq line up with the latter. She sponsored a defense alliance embracing herself, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Lebanon and Yemen. Britain sought to get Jordan into the Baghdad pact and ended up seeing the British commander of the Arab Legion, Lt. Gen. Sir John Bagot Glubb, ousted from Jordan.

REDS SIDE WITH ARABS

Meanwhile the Soviet Union began siding with the Arabs on Palestine issues before the Security Council. Twice in early 1954 it vetoed resolutions Arabs disliked. It offered trade, loans and technical assistance to the Arabs.

Last Sept. 27 Egypt announced that a Soviet ally, Czechoslovakia, was selling it arms. But this month the Soviet Union took a new tack. On April 17, the Soviet Foreign Ministry pledged backing for any U.N. action to "strengthen peace in Palestine." In the same statement, it called for a peaceful settlement there on a basis mutually acceptable to the interested sides.

This statement undoubtedly strengthened Hammarskjöld's hand and helped him bring about agreements for more careful observation of the armistice provisions.

But it also marked the entry on the international diplomatic level of the Soviet Union into the affairs of the Middle East. Only time can show the historic effect of this highly significant move.

Bullet Through Head Gives Him Headache

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A rifle bullet went through William H. Miller's head but he complained only of a "slight headache."

Miller told authorities his .303-caliber rifle discharged accidentally ly yesterday while he was cleaning it. The bullet entered just above his right eye.

He said he walked half a block for help.

Doctors said there was no brain damage and called Miller's condition satisfactory.

Horse Thieves Fading

TROY, N.Y. (AP)—The Brunswick Society for the Apprehension of Horse Thieves last night discussed broadening the scope of its organization. Since no horse thieves have been apprehended since 1910, chicken thieves may be added to the 40-member society's list of culprits.

Katyn Forest Probe by Poles

Report Says Massacre Review May Give Soviet Whitewash From Blame

NEW YORK (AP)—A report has seeped across the Iron Curtain that the Polish Communist government is investigating the Katyn Forest massacre.

Analysts here doubt the suggestion the Polish Reds might dare raise this hot issue.

Still, the report deserves attention because the Polish Communists are going much further these days in their denunciation of Stalin and his works than other Soviet satellites.

MASS MURDER SCENE

Katyn Forest, in western Russia near Smolensk, was the scene of the mass murder in 1940 of more than 4,000 Polish army officials who had been missing since the Polish defeat in 1939.

The Germans, who first reported the massacre during World War II, said the Russians did it. The Soviet government blamed the Nazis. An American congressional committee held hearings for nine months in 1951-52 and laid the massacre at the door of the Russians.

WHITEWASH REDS?

The new report from Poland says the Warsaw government has established a group to investigate and can be expected to make a report in June, which might be made public.

If the report is true, it could mean the Poles intend to whitewash the Russians. Such a step would stem from the fact that the denunciation of Stalin and revelation of some of his crimes has awakened bitter memories in Poland. Many Poles nowadays are asking questions—some of them no doubt about Katyn.

FIRST WOMAN OVER NORTH POLE — First woman to fly over the North Pole is Mrs. Lionel Massey, seated behind her father-in-law, Vincent Massey, governor-general of Canada. They are

It is also conceivable—barely—that the Kremlin, having admitted so many of Stalin's purges and massacres, has decided to blame him for Katyn Forest also. Such an action would arouse strong passions in Poland and could be dangerous to the Communists.

If the Polish Reds are delving into the Katyn story, it seems certain it is being done with Moscow's approval.

Home, Sweet Home for Daily Intruder

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Frank Wood has a complaint about the intruder who's entered her home twice in the last two days.

He takes a shower in the basement, splashing water around and leaving soggy towels here and there.

He's helped himself to some cold cuts and cookies. But he brings his own soft drinks and leaves the bottles. And he's never bothered the family's valuables.

British teachers, embittered by the government's failure to allow them higher salaries, have threatened not to collect children's school savings next term.

Senate Group Okays Aid for Lakes Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee yesterday approved legislation which would grant government help to expand and modernize the Great Lakes fleet.

The bill had been opposed by spokesmen for the Eisenhower Administration, who contended it would give lake operators an unjustified subsidy. Sen. Patter (R-Mich.) and others introduced the measure.

Under the bill, owners of Great Lakes vessels would receive trade-in allowances from the government to help them build new vessels, including ore carriers.

Similar legislation is pending before the House Merchant Marine Committee.

THE POWERHOUSE

Racing men tell me there is a good chance for a Triple Crown winner this season because the Belmont Stakes now takes supplementary entries.

Previously, if a colt won the Derby and was not eligible for both the Preakness and Belmont he was out of luck. Which is why Determine and Swaps disappeared quickly over the horizon in past seasons.

Now, if a horse is good enough to win the Derby, he should be worth $7,500 to his owner for a crack at the 80th running of the $100,000 Preakness on Saturday, May 19. And if he should get that one, he should be worth another $5,000 to make him a belated eligible for the Belmont Stakes—and the Triple Crown.

What's so important about the Triple Crown? Well, the original theory behind horse racing was improvement of the breed. Though that aim is often overshadowed by the whirl of mutual machines and the glitter of $100,000 pots. And the only way to prove which is best is in competition!

As racing developed, three events became synonymous with championship ability. They were the Derby at Churchill Downs, the Preakness at Pimlico and the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park.

For one thing, they were races for 3-year-olds. The glamour in the game are still concerned with turning out the best stock age of thoroughbreds, the season at which race horses can be compared physically to young athletes in the prime of their manhood.

Secondly, the distances of the three races—a mile and a quarter, mile and three-sixteenths, mile and one-half—required true stamina of the winner.

Thirdly, spaced over a period of two months in the spring, the three events meant that a colt not only had to attain a sharp edge to be a winner, but that he had to maintain his peak to complete the series.

ONLY EIGHT HORSES HAVE WON TRIPLE CROWN

If this sounds like a not too difficult accomplishment reflect that it has been possible to win the Triple Crown since 1875 and that only eight colts have done it: Sir Barton, 1919; Gallant Fox, 1930; Omaha, 1935; War Admiral, 1937; Whirlaway, 1941; Count Fleet, 1943; Assault, 1946; and Citation, 1948.

For all their value, such stars as Native Dancer and Nashua made one slip in their bids for the coveted Big Three which their owners, Alfred Vanderbilt and William Woodward Jr., had rather have had than any other racing fixtures.

ACCUSED—James D. Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, has been accused by promoters of asking percentage of gates for the right to stage certain championship bouts in Cincinnati and Buffalo.

Shakedown Claimed in Title Fights

Two Promoters Testify They Made Payments

International Boxing Club Accused of Taking Percentage of Profits

NEW YORK (U)—The monopoly trial of the International Boxing Club was in recess today after two promoters testified they had to agree to pay the IBC a share of profits before they could stage heavyweight title bouts involving Ezzard Charles.

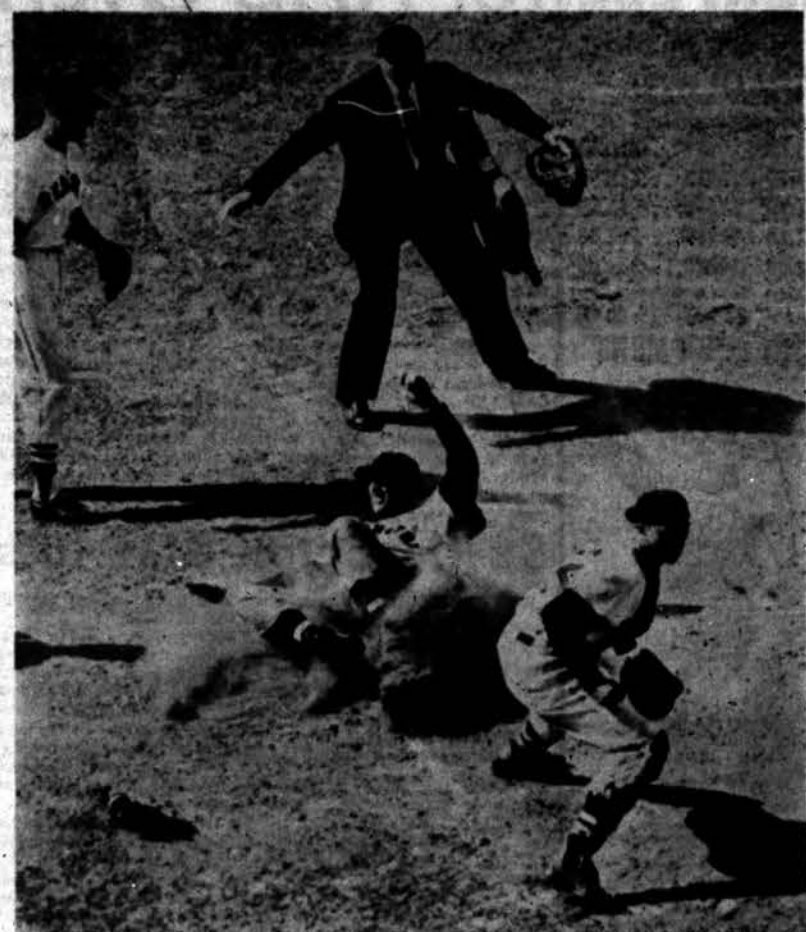

The government's antitrust suit against the IBC, its affiliates and officers on charges of monopolizing the promotion of fights will be resumed tomorrow morning before Judge Sylvester J. Ryan.

Sam Becker, a Cincinnati promoter and clothing manufacturer, testified yesterday that Jim Norris, IBC president, asked him for $150,000 if he wanted to promote a Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott fight in Ohio in 1934.

Dewey Michaels of Buffalo told the court he had to agree to pay the IBC five per cent of the profits to stage a Charles-Fredrick Be-shore title fight at Buffalo, Aug. 15, 1930. Michaels added, however, he never paid the five per cent as he lost $20,000. The bout set an all-time low for heavyweight title receipts with $28,666.

Becker also said he had to agree to pay the IBC 25 per cent of the profits for promoting a title defense by Charles in Cincinnati against Nick Barone Dec. 5, 1930. He said the IBC got $208 as its share.

John N. Grombach, American manager of Laurent Dauthuille of France, said the IBC demanded an exclusive contract and a $20,000 note "to protect" its interests before the Frenchman got a chance at Jake Lamotta's middleweight title at Detroit Sept. 19, 1930.

SCORES FROM SECOND—Jim Lemon, Washington outfielder scored from second base yesterday as Red Sox catcher Sammy White dropped a wide throw from centerfielder Jimmy Piersall. Lemon came home on a single by Jerry Snyder who reached second on the throw. Umpire Ed Rommel calls the play and Red Sox pitcher Bob Porterfield backstops at the left. Washington won 4-1.

Delbert Travis, program chairman for the luncheon, in honor of the late Fielding H. Yost, next Tuesday, said the affair, which was meant to be just a small luncheon of the Birmingham Exchange Club and a few guests, has mushroomed larger than expected, with numerous Michigan Alumni clubs requesting participation.

Wally Weber, U of M frosh football coach will be the representative of the school's athletic department. It will be held in the Community House.

Dave Zittel, former Pontiac High School athlete is hitting the ball at a .500 clip as captain of the Alma College baseball team. He is stumped as one of the best second basemen in the MIAA conference, of which Alma is defending champion.

Left halfback Jim Pace, 150 pound speedster from Little Rock Ark., has been sidelined for the remainder of spring training at the University of Michigan because of a back ailment.

The Kansas City Athletics announced there would be no more High School Days at home. The first one held against the Tigers Tuesday was enough.

Nearly 8,500 youngsters who were given a half day off by school officials ran wild in the stadium during the game with several fist fights developing.

Six Must Go by May 15th

Bucky Harris Ponders About Cutting Roster

DETROIT (U)—Like the old woman who lived in a shoe, Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers has so many players he doesn't know what to do.

Knowing that he must do something about it before long, Harris has at least partially abandoned his plan to do away with experimenting once the American League season was under way.

The experiment goes on in left field, tagged as a Tiger sore spot long before the club ever went South for spring training. Charley Maxwell, the Paw Paw, Mich., strong boy, currently holds down the job. No one can take it away from the much-traveled Maxwell as long as he performs in a manner even close to his current .467 hitting. The 29-year-old left-hander has 7 hits in his first 15 trips to the plate. Last season in 59 games, Maxwell hit .257.

That leaves Harris with at least three other possible left fielders. Jim Deling, who had the job last season, is 0 for 9 so far this year. Chick King up from Buffalo where he hit .295, probably is the fastest outfielder on the roster. But he's appeared at the plate only three times for one single, and the Tigers doubt he can hit major league pitching.

Then there's Wayne Belardi, the ex-Brooklyn Dodger first baseman who is trying to make the club as an outfielder. He hasn't drawn a starting assignment yet, but in three pinch-hitting roles Belardi has "homered," singled and been hit by a pitched ball.

J. W. Porter, the catcher-outfielder-first baseman, is listed among the receivers. But he can play the outfield. In addition, the Tigers must carry bonus player Jim Small, another outfielder who has been trying his hand around first base.

If all that sounds like a problem now, it will grow in size before the May 15 deadline when the clubs must trim their rosters.

Harris said earlier that because of the uncertainty of his pitching, he would like to carry 11 pitchers. That probably would mean he could carry only five outfielders. You can count Al Kaline, Bill Tuttle and Small as the first three.

The others? What happens between now and the deadline will tell the story. No doubt the Bengal manager would like to carry a lot more than the 25-player limit. All in all, Harris has 13 pitchers; four players who can catch; four who can play first base; eight who can play the outfield—plus third baseman Ray Boone, second baseman Reno Bertoia, shortstop Harvey Kuenn and utility infielders Fred Hatfield and Buddy Hicks. That adds up to 34—but the club is carrying only 31 men. Versatility is quite an asset and usually means a strong bench—but it's a good bet that Stanley W. Harris will be wrestling with this problem right up to the deadline.

Lions Seek to Make Deal With Cardinals

DETROIT (U)—The Detroit Lions will trade any day now for another big, strong lineman because they don't want 250-pound Lou Creek-mur to "go to waste."

The deal for a lineman will make it three trades in a row for the Lions, who are determined to climb back up the National Football League ladder after a season in the cellar.

First off, the Lions peddled guard Dick Stanfel to Washington for halfback Dick Alban. Two-ty-four hours later, off went Alban to Pittsburgh for defensive tackle Dick Modzelewski. It looks like Modzelewski will be next to go.

Detroit general manager Nick Kerkawy was on the phone as soon as that deal was completed. He was talking with at least two teams about getting that extra lineman.

"If we don't get another lineman, we'll have to waste Creek-mur," said Kerkawy. What he meant was this:

Two years ago, the middle guard situation was well taken care of by huge Les Bingaman. Then he retired, and after the Lions dropped the first six games in 1933, coach Buddy Parker switched Creekmur from offensive tackle to middle guard on defense. And Creekmur did an outstanding job.

"But Lou is a great blocker with lots of speed," said Kerkawy. "It's a shame to waste him by putting him at middle guard. We want to utilize his full versatility."

That means the Lions are in the market for someone who can fill the gap at middle guard. They're also shopping for backs—as the general manager put it, "big backs who can run over someone."

Kerkawy said the Lions "made a very generous and outstanding offer" for Ollie Matson, the Chicago Cardinal speedster. Asked what the Lions offered, Kerkawy replied:

"Money, players, everything—we think he's the greatest and we offered them plenty."

But the Cardinals weren't interested when Kerkawy talked with them two weeks ago in Florida. The Lions also are interested in two other Cardinal backs—Dave Mann and Johnny Oszewski—and "one big Chicago lineman," said Kerkawy.

Majors, Minors Study New Pact

Joint Session Called to Explore Problems in Mutual Agreement

CINCINNATI (U)—The financial and attendance problems of the minor leagues and their relation to the majors figured to be a top topic as a joint major-minor committee met here today to begin working on a new cooperative agreement between the two professional baseball groups.

The present major-minor league agreement will expire next Jan. 12.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick emphasized after preliminary sessions yesterday that nothing definite would come from the meetings here. He said they would be only "exploratory" and that others would be held later.

Birmingham Little Grid Teams Join New Circuit

Three Birmingham teams of the Little Football League have withdrawn from the Jack Lowther League to join Royal Oak, Grosse Pointe Park, Lincoln Park and Dearborn in forming the suburban All-American Little Football League.

Each of the other communities has one team and Birmingham three, thereby bringing the membership of the new league to seven teams.

Last year the Jack Lowther League, foster group of organized football for boys 9 to 12 in Michigan, was composed of 11 teams.

The Jack Lowther League include Hazel Park, East Detroit, Grosse Pointe Woods and three Detroit teams. New entries include Southfield and St. Clair Shores, making it an 8-team circuit.

Reason given for quitting the Lowther group, according to Birmingham secretary Roy Fritz, was for the purpose of "promoting the Little Football program and for simplifying scheduling problems" for both leagues.

The second of three spring round-ups for interested youngsters in Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area will be held Saturday, April 28, at Pierce Field and May 5 at Bloomfield Village School.

Verdict on OSU Athletic Probe Is Expected Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, said yesterday his decision on an investigation of Ohio State University athletics would be announced in Chicago, probably today.

Wilson, in his 4th visit to the Buckeye campus since the probe opened several months ago, met today with Ohio State President Howard L. Bevis and faculty representative Dr. Wendell Postle.

The commissioner said: "Positively no statement will come out of Wednesday morning's meeting. This is a final summing-up of our investigation. I will return to Chicago and an announcement will come from there, probably about Thursday."

He declined further comment and said others involved would have nothing to say until his decision is made public.

The inquiry into the school's athletic program was touched off when a national magazine reported football coach W. W. (Woody) Hayes had made loans or gifts of money to some of his players.

Wilson, in his 4th visit to the Buckeye campus since the probe opened several months ago, met today with Ohio State President Howard L. Bevis and faculty representative Dr. Wendell Postle.

Canine Jockey Surprises Fans at Fort Erie

Mascot 'Dresses' as Rider, Wears Specs, Smokes Cigar

FORT ERIE, Ont. (U)—Newcomers to the Fort Erie Race Track shake their heads in astonishment when a dog wearing a jockey cap, spectacles and smoking a cigar rides by on the back of a stable pony.

The canine performer is Jackie, a 7-year-old mascot of the Mike Long Stable.

In the morning, Jackie grips the end of a shank in his mouth and leads a horse around, acting as a "hot walker."

He carries a whip in his mouth and to climax his performance climbs a ladder.

A member of the Long Stable since he was a pup, Jackie also acts as a policeman. Long says Jackie will not tolerate another dog around the stable.

Intercollegiate Boxing Dropped at Oklahoma

NORMAN, Okla. (U)—The University of Oklahoma will drop boxing as an intercollegiate sport. "College boxing at Oklahoma has proven impractical because there are no boxing teams in the Big 7, Missouri Valley and Southwest Conferences," Coach Dewey (Snorter) Luster said.

Maple Track Team Routs Mt. Clemens

Birmingham High School's talented track team has served notice that it's gunning for another Eastern Michigan League title following Wednesday's 77½-31½ rout of Mount Clemens on the Bather track.

The Maple Thinclads won nine events, took eight runner-up spots, and shut out Mount Clemens in the pole vault and half-mile run. Joe Kidwell captured both hurdles and ran one lap in the 880 relay to lead Birmingham with 11½ points.

Tony Evangelista won the 100-yard dash in the time of 10.9 seconds. Howard Didier was the half-mile winner; Doug Wuggazer won the mile run; Doug O'Camp took honors in the shot; and Ron McCrumb, Bill McFarlier and Tom Segal tied for 1st in the pole vault. The team of Jim MacDonald, Pat

Open House Saturday

Pontiac Speedway to Start

The Pontiac Speedway will hold an open house this Saturday to lift the lid on the 1936 auto racing season in the Pontiac area.

Dick Dewey, manager and promoter of the M29 track, has announced that this year's variety of shows will include new cars, late models, mid-gts, old models, hardtops and motorcycles.

The first complete day of racing is scheduled this Sunday, with time trials getting underway at 1:30 p.m. and the first race at 3 o'clock. Sunday's program will be sponsored by the Land O'Lakes Racing Association as well as all modified hardtop events this season.

Sunday, May 6, will mark the first annual "Kiwanis Day at the Races," featuring a hardtop show sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of West Pontiac. One of the day's highlights will be a Kiwanis race in which cars will be driven by Kiwanis members.

Proceeds from the Kiwanis show will go to the Kiwanis Youth Activities for the benefit of underprivileged children. A turnout crowd is expected, Dewey says.

Dewey also states that work is currently in progress to repair the safety wall, resurface the track, and increase public facilities. The park at the speedway offers swimming, fishing, picnicking, dancing and playground facilities.

'Shoe' Rides Four Winners at Tanforan

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (U)—Jockey Willie Shoemaker is almost cornering the winners at Tanforan . . . 15 in 39 starts.

Shoe had four yesterday, including the $11.20 daily double of God Start at $6 and Consented $3.70. His others were Free Dough in the fifth at $4.30 and Altador Kid, $4.80 in the sixth.

Shoemaker has also had three triples since Friday.

Secrets of Better Golf

As the clubhead nears the ball, the hands and wrists generate power into your 8-iron shot.

The hips and shoulders are square to the ball and there is a slight push with the right knee toward the left. However, this is not so noticeable as it is with the longer clubs, for the weight is fairly distributed over both feet in the shorter irons.

Because this shot is more of a hand-and-wrist action, and also because of the shorter arc of the swing, the stroke is more of a "hit" on the downswing than is the case with the longer clubs.

Your head and eyes remain over the ball as during the address. It cannot be over-stressed that this is a hand-and-wrist shot. The hands and wrists must have complete control of the club so as to contact the ball before the turf.

There should be no effort on your part to scoop the ball into the air. The left of the club, when properly controlled by your hands and wrists, will lift the ball up naturally.

Play your 8-iron shot easily but firmly. There should be no flippy wrist or hand action, but rather a controlled and crisp action throughout the swing.

Remember to hit down and through with your 8-iron.

Ex-Track Stars Call for AAU Overhauling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Amateur Athletic Union, a frequently controversial body almost since its founding, remained in the news today on both sides of the country as its president upheld the integrity of its veteran secretary-treasurer and several former track stars called for a general overhauling of the organization.

President Carl H. Hansen of Oakland, Calif., said in a prepared statement that "Where we have 'bad apples' ... we will rid ourselves of them, but Mr. (Daniel J.) Ferris, AAU secretary, is from another orchard entirely."

Hansen's statement was in answer to a charge made against Ferris by John Fulton, former Stanford track star. Fulton charged Ferris approved an excessive expense account for him for a trip to Canada. Ferris lost no time denying it.

"I do rely entirely on the outstanding character and spotless record of Mr. Ferris earned over a period of more than 49 years devoted to service in amateur sports," said Hansen. He told me by phone that the charges are utterly irresponsible and without foundation.

A few hours later on a television program (Dumont) Elmore Harris, a 600-yard star from 1945-47, and Roscoe Browne, former 1,000-yard national indoor champion, called for liberalizing of the AAU rules regarding the definition of an amateur and punishment of promoters who violate the rules by paying athlete excess expense monies.

Harris and Browne, along with Joe Nowicki, former half-mile collegiate titleholder from Fordham, Jim Herbert, a one-time great running star for New York University and Fulton related in a Life Magazine story by Jack Newcombe how they flouted the amateur rules by accepting payoffs in expense money or cash.

"I never ran unless I got my price," Harris was quoted. "Maybe only a couple of us out of five or six starters were paid. But the promoters knew that without us they didn't have a race."

Nowicki was quoted as saying, "It was the practice to talk with other runners and find out what they were getting. If the man you were beating got more than you did, you asked for more the next time. When the Wes Santee case broke, I thought it was unfair to start enforcing rules that have been waived for years. I know AAU officials who, when they were competing, took just as much as Santee did."

Santee was suspended for life by the AAU for accepting excessive expense monies.

"I got paid bonuses, but I know I was as pure in performance as the most rabid amateur," Browne was quoted as saying. "Some meets were run strictly for profit—that's why I demanded 'liberal' expenses," said Herbert. "Sure I made more money than AAU rules permit but I didn't make a living out of it. When I retired, I didn't have five dollars in the bank."

Ex-Princeton Star Dies

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gresham Hough Poe, 75, retired investment broker and one of the "Six Little Poes" who established a great football tradition at Princeton University, died yesterday at a convalescent home. He had been ill for several years.

Prominent socially and in financial circles, Poe was the youngest of the Baltimore brothers who went to Nassau Hall in the late 1800's and at the turn of the century. They won fame in the days when the Ivy League was the biggest thing in football, and their names are still held in respect at Princeton today.

The brothers are distantly related by marriage to the poet Edgar Allan Poe.

Poe quarterbacked Princeton teams in 1900 and 1901, and also played on the varsity hockey team.

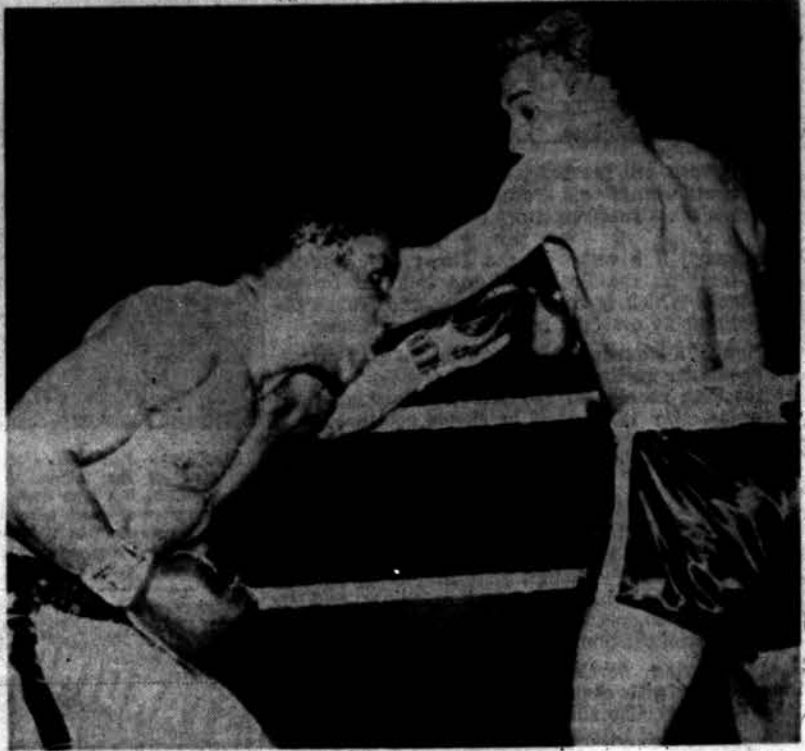

Chiefs' Junior Nine Gets 1st Real Test

After compiling a runaway victory in its season's 1st encounter, at Ortonville, Pontiac High School's Junior Varsity baseball club gets a real test today.

Coach Arnie Wilson takes the team to Royal Oak, if weather permits. "This will be a good test," says Arnie. "Acorns usually have good teams."

In Tuesday's opener Jayveas blasted four Ortonville hurlers for 13 runs on 13 hits for a 13-1 win. Joe Tinson pitched a 4-hitter and his mates turned in two double plays, unusual for JV action.

Joseph stops one of Savage's blows with his glove. Joseph won a split decision in their 10-round at New Orleans last night.

Lions Make Three Year TV Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Sale of the Detroit Lions' television rights in a three-year deal involving a reported $300,000 was announced today.

The Lions and the Columbia Broadcasting System made a joint announcement of the pact, which will be put into effect with the beginning of the 1956 National Football League season.

Nick Korbaw, general manager of the Detroit club, said the agreement reaches "far into the field of football entertainment on television" and "will enable local sponsors to adopt a more effective plan of bringing out-of-town Lions games into the Michigan territory."

"It also will make available all Lion games on CBS to other sections of the country," Korbaw added.

It will be the first time that pro football has used CBS facilities. The network has purchased chased rights of several other NFL teams.

Exact terms of the contract were not disclosed, but it is believed the Lions will realize more than $100,000 during each of the next three years.

The Lions were on another National Network in 1953 and since then have been on an independent TV network.

Joseph Called Title Timber

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — No less a boxing sage than Jack Kearns today labeled New Orleans middleweight Charley Joseph champion-ship timber and said the young stylist could "go all the way."

Joseph, a 23-year-old high school student, used a talented left hand and a heady defense last night to score a 10-round split decision over mauling Milo Savage of Salt Lake City, second-ranked contender for the middleweight crown.

Joseph convinced more than 3,900 fans and a national television audience he easily deserves the No. 9 middleweight ranking he holds. He puzzled Savage with his blinding speed during the early rounds and his defense neutralized Savage's furious attack in the late stanzas.

But the officials were split on the verdict. Referee Roland Brown had Joseph ahead, 5 rounds to 4 with 1 even, and Judge Eddie Brown tabbed Joseph the winner, 4 rounds to 3 with 3 even. The AP card had Joseph a 5-3-2 winner.

Three Week Census of Game Under Way

LANSING (AP) — A three-week census of deer and grouse is underway in Northern Michigan with some 300 rural mail carriers doing the counting.

The State Conservation Department explained that the count, started April 16 in the Upper Peninsula and April 23 in the Northern Lower Peninsula, is designed to furnish information needed for game management.

Every spring since 1922, the rural mail carriers have volunteered to count deer and grouse sighted during their daily trips.

Derby Tryout

Whitney Pair in Blue Grass

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—C. V. Whitney, seeking all possible power for the Kentucky Derby, sent Career Boy and Nasomie against five other 3-year-olds today in the Blue Grass Stakes.

Career Boy, rated second to Needles in the Derby Future Book, was assigned 126 pounds—the Derby impost—for the 1 1/4-mile Blue

Nasomie, Mr. Bob W. Mark's Rickey and Toby B. drew 121 pounds each.

Gross value of the $25,000-added with seven starters is $33,900.

Overnight showers, expected to end by noon, made an off track a distinct possibility. The forecast was for partly cloudy and cool by post time (4:30 p.m. CST).

The Whitney entry was rated a 1-2 favorite in the 32nd running of the Blue Grass, which his horses have won twice. Mr. Trouble won for him in 1950 and Mameluke took one division the next year.

However, Whitney hasn't won a Derby in nine starts. But he figures to hold a strong hand a week from Saturday at Churchill Downs with Career Boy and Head Man rated sure starters.

The surprise naming of Nasomie to the Blue Grass could be an attempt to find another possible Derby horse in Whitney's strong string of 3-year-olds.

PHS Seeks 2nd Win Over A.H.

Heikkinen Club Aims to Repeat in Today's Tilt at Saginaw

Weather permitting, Pontiac High School's baseball club travels to Saginaw today to face Arthur Hill in the second encounter between the schools this week. Chiefs won the 1st meeting, 10-2, on a hitless performance by Jim Jones.

Coch Ed Heikkinen has named Arnold Larson to do the throwing today on the Lumberjacks' mound.

There was no change contemplated in the Chiefs' batting order from that of the first game. Jones, supporting cast gave him a 9-hit backlog to work on, here Monday. Today's game is the 2nd SVC contest for Chiefs.

Bucs Surprise in NL, Yanks Win Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The highly regarded Pittsburgh Pirates, with little or no fanfare, are quickly developing a one-two punch that compares favorably with any two back-to-back hitters in the major leagues.

During the Pirates' first seven games, Dale Long and Frank Thomas have done all that could be expected of third and fourth place hitters—and more.

Only the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle-Yogi Berra combination has shown more power this season. The only other pair of sluggers who clearly outrank the Long-Thomas offensive are Brooklyn's Duke Snider and Roy Campanella. Snider, however, has not yet hit his true stride.

Pittsburgh, an overwhelming pre-season choice by the experts to finish in the National League basement, has been the early season surprise, winning three of its first seven games. Long and Thomas have been the dominating factors in all three triumphs.

Thomas rapped two singles last night, one of which drove in the run in the seventh inning that gave the Pirates a 6-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. He also scored once. Long slugged two doubles and a single, batted in two runs and scored twice. Long is now hitting .429. Thomas is batting .346. Each has driven in six runs.

The Pirates have a total of six home runs this season. Long has three and Thomas three. Thomas has driven in the winning run in all three Pirate victories. His ninth-inning single drove in the deciding run in Pittsburgh's 3-2 victory over the Giants April 19. His two-run homer defeated Brooklyn 3-1 on April 29.

The Dodgers, who haven't lost since that day, whipped the Giants 7-2 last night to take sole possession of first place in the National League for the first time this season. Carl Erskine pitched the Brooks to their fourth consecutive victory with a seven-hitter for his first triumph.

St. Louis walloped the Chicago Cubs 6-0 to climb into third place behind the two-hit pitching of Harvey Haddix who hurled his first shutout since last July 19. Rain washed out the scheduled game between Cincinnati and the Braves in Milwaukee.

Villanova Stars Aim at Records

Bragg, Reavis Shoot for Vault, High Jump Marks at Penn

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Penn Relays, one of the nation's big pre-Olympic track meets, is expected to have a strong local tinge.

Perhaps the outstanding local favorite in the two-day event starting tomorrow will be Villanova's Don Bragg in the pole vault. Bragg, who has cleared 15 feet, figures to better the meet mark of 14-4 1/2, which he holds.

Penn's John Haines is one of the favorites for the 100-yard dash but he can expect tough competition from another area sprinter, George Sydnor of Villanova. Haines, the National AAU indoor champion, has done the century in 9.5 this season, as has Sydnor.

Another Villanova, Phil Reavis, has done 6-10 in the high jump and is hopeful of erasing the 6-7 1/2 meet record.

Villanova (again), anchored by the sensational Charley Jenkins, is a heavy favorite in the 1-mile relay and the sprint medley while Penn is given a good chance in the quarter-mile relay.

Baltimore Draft Choice Returns Inked Contract

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jesus Esparza, a 1954 National Football League draft choice, has returned his signed contract, the Baltimore Colts announced today.

Esparza expects to be discharged soon from the Marines with which he has served the past two years. Esparza, a 245-pound lineman, was graduated from New Mexico A&M. He also played football for the Junior College in his home town of LaJunta, Colo.

Ring Manager Admits Many Violations of Rules

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—An open admission of many rule violations by one of California's top fight managers set the stage for today's final hearing in a drawn-out statewide boxing investigation.

Three witnesses remain to be called, including the return of reluctant Jim Murray, fight promoter of San Francisco and Richmond, Calif.

Manager Sid Flaherty of San Francisco, whose stable of some 25 boxers includes middleweight Carl (Bobo) Olson, yesterday brushed aside the protests of his attorney and admitted:

1. He acted as co-promoter of many fights throughout northern California, although state rules forbid managers taking part in matchmaking.

2. Often had more than the permissible three fighters on a single card. "We probably have violated that rule more than we should have," he said.

3. Accepted fees as a "booking agent" but never got a booking agent's license. No California fight manager has such a license.

4. Followed the "common practice" to feed and wine visitors at training camps and his guests may have included boxing enforcement officials.

Flaherty's willingness to talk was a sharp change from the silence and failing memory of Benjie Ford, San Francisco fight promoter and president of California

Bantamweights Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two former North American bantamweight champions, Nate Brooks of Cleveland and Billy "Sweetpea" Peacock of Los Angeles, headline a fight card tonight at the Olympic Auditorium. They are scheduled to box 10 rounds.

Girl Softball Champs Seeking New Sponsor

Because of a reported change in ownership of the sponsoring body, last year's Pontiac Girls Softball League champions are now looking for a new backer. It played in 1955 as Giles Realty Club.

The team has retained all its championship roster for this season. It will begin practice next Monday at the new field at Branch and Wessen, Willis Seay, manager, reports.

Anyone interested in sponsoring the club should contact Seay at FE 4-7701.

$2 Billion in Vaults, Not a Dime for a Paper

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's export-import bank, with assets of $2,700,000,000, has had trouble lately because sometimes it had not so much as a dime in cash for a couple of newspapers.

The directors have remedied the situation. A bank executive said "our petty cash fund was only $50. At times it ran out. Now the directors, after thorough study, raised the petty cash fund to $200," contest for Chiefs.

Recovery Slow for Williams' Injured Foot

BOSTON (U)—Ted Williams, Boston's slugging outfielder, isn't recovering from his sore foot as quickly as he had hoped.

"I'm doing everything I can to bring the foot around but it just doesn't seem to respond," Williams said yesterday after the Red Sox 4-1 loss to Washington.

Williams has suffered bleeding in the foot and has not been able to play regularly since the second game of the season. Yesterday he was a pinchhitter for the third straight game but did not stay in the contest.

22 Tee Off in Champions' Meet

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (U)—Twenty-two professional golfers tee off today in the $37,500 Tournament of Champions over the Desert Inn Country Club course. With them go the good wishes of their backers, including a group who bet a total of $192,000 on their chances. The sum represented the amount sold in the auction of the respective players late last night. It was shy of the $202,500 wagered in the auction pool last year for this tournament.

Top money of $16,500 was paid for Gene Littler, winner of the tournament last year, the buyer for the second straight time was singer Frankie Laine.

A year ago Laine paid $13,000 for Littler and won $72,900 for his investment. The bidding last night reflected much of the feeling on the outcome of the tournament itself, an event in which each player had to win a major open tournament in the past year to qualify.

Cary Middlecott was the second choice in the bidding at $16,000 and next was veteran Lloyd Mangrum at $15,500.

Details of the auction are simple. The buyers, usually representing a group or syndicate, bid for a player. Out of the total pool, 10 per cent comes off the top and goes to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund. Last year this amounted to $20,250.

The buyer of the winning player collects 40 per cent of the net, and 20 per cent goes to the buyer of the second-place finisher. Other percentages are 15 for third, 10 for fourth and 5 for the fifth, sixth and seventh places.

Tournament Chairman Wilbur Clark abandoned the "sweepstakes" lottery this year, a system followed in Calcutta pools at many private country clubs. In this a person buys a ticket for $1 or more and takes a chance that it will match up with the winning player and give him a portion of the lottery pool.

In last night's auction former racetrack executive Walter Marty was high bidder at $11,000 for Mike Souchak, while Al Rosen bought Doug Ford for $13,000.

Jimmy Durante's Favorite Comedian Jimmy Durante personally favored Canadian golfer Al Balding for obvious reasons—Balding has more hair than Jimmy—but auctioneer Jimmy could get only $5,000 for the young professional.

At another stage Phil Harris yelled out to Durante to ask whom he was selling, and Durante shouted back, "Sam Kroll." Kroll's first name is Ted and he sold for $12,000.

Cry singer Johnny Ray, trying his hand at auctioning, announced that golfer Max Evans had won the Long Island "Opener." Comedian Joe E. Lewis peddled Henry Ransom as "King Ransom" for $6,000.

Bob Hope, another of the battery of volunteer auctioneers, wound up owning Bo Winingler for $6,500.

Today's tournament pairings, in order, were Littler and Winingler, Chandler Harper and Dick Mayer, Dow Finsterwald and Middlecott, Jack Fleck and Tommy Bolt, Doug Ford and Julius Boros, Ransom and Arnold Palmer, Kroll and Frank Stranahan, Evans and Balding, Mangrum and Shelley Mayfield, Souchak and Don Fairfield and Mike Fetchik and Gardner Dickinson Jr.

Only absentees from the roster of eligibles were Sam Snead and the recent Masters winner, Jack Burke Jr. Business kept both away.

Minnesotan Takes ABC's Fifth Spot

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (U)—A Minneapolis bowler was the new occupant today of fifth place in the all-events division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Glen Olson rolled into the spot yesterday on a 9-game total of 1,917, 101 pins behind the top 2,018 posted by Bill Lillard of Chicago. The 29-year-old carpenter and alley maintenance man is a member of the fourth-place Air-Flu Bowling Shirts team in the regular division.

He scored 633 in the team event Tuesday and posted 672 in the doubles yesterday on games of 268, 163 and 241, and 612 in the singles on games of 163, 235 and 214.

There were no other changes among the leaders.

He paid his $2 backers with $10.20. Piping Echo, third from left was second, and Weber J on the outside was third.

Handicapper in Running

North-South Golf Meet in Quarter Finals

PINEHURST, N.C. (U)—Seven

engaged Dr. Ted Lenczyk of Newington, Conn.

Campbell and Strafaci have won this tournament twice and Patton won it two years ago.

Two rounds yesterday claimed only one major victim, medalist Doug Sanders of Miami, Fla., who had been making a joke of the par 72 of the 7,000-yard No. 2 course of the country club in his earlier rounds. In the second round he could win only one hole and fell victim to Howard Everitt of Northfield, N.J., 3 and 2. Everitt, after shooting par golf against Sanders, went to the 19th hole with Strafaci where a par four gave the New Yorker the edge in a match that saw many missed opportunities by both players.

Dana Howard, the "baby" of the field, trimmed capable Jim Tom Blair of Jefferson City, Mo., 5 and 3, after an earlier 3 and 2 decision over Larry Dana of Bradford, Pa.

Dave Smith, medalist last year when he reached the semifinals, had a nightmarish bogie filled morning match which he pulled out from William Chapin of Rochester, N.Y., 3 and 1, then settled down to play some sharper golf for a 1-up victory over little Eddie Merrins of Meriden, Miss., who had eliminated Dick Chapman of Pinehurst in the morning, 2 and 1.

Pair of Pars on 18th Hole Gives Maples 2-Stroke Win

Defending champions of the Pontiac Press Prep Invitational Golf tournament, Birmingham's team yesterday had a close squeak in a match at Gowan Club, Mt. Clemens.

Maples won 336-338 from a strong Mt. Clemens High squad led by ace medalist, Ray Kuffpaff.

It took a pair of par threes, on the final (18th) hole of the rain and wind-swept layout, to bring about the victory, Coach Joe Borovick said today.

"The play was really terrific," Joe reported. "In view of the conditions I thought it was much better than one could expect. That lad, (Kuffpaff) is really something. He fired a 75, a fine showing. Return to action of Capt. Tim Baldwin also was a big help." This was Baldwin's first start this season.

Teams were tied after the 17th. So Tom McDaniels and Bob Embe sailed into the home green, went down in par 3's, while the Bather pair in their foursome carded 4's. Ron Manthey and Skip Swartzenberg had the bogies.

Kuffpaff hit 47-38-75 (course par 70); Chuck Nicolai 83, Manthey 86, Swartzenberg 94.

Baldwin had 40-41-81. Mike Conroy 41-42-83, Embe 44-46-90 and McDaniels 41-41-82. But the "hot" shooter was the "fifth man," Pete Green, who banded 76 but didn't figure in scoring.

KANSAS CITY (U)—Little Bobby Shantz, on whom the Kansas City A's have been pinning big hopes for the 1956 campaign, had to quit the mound with a pulled back muscle in the fourth inning of last night's game with Cleveland.

The injury was described as minor and the lefthander probably will be back in action within a week.

Pitchers ScaredDiz Dean Says Game Is Getting Too Long

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

NEW YORK (INS)—Diz Dean thinks the Major Leagues should kill two birds with one fast ball by making life a little easier for the pitchers and, at the same time, shortening those marathon games.

It is the former mound star's thesis that one reason games now drag out so is that the pitchers are just plumb scared to throw the ball.

Diz, who now does his kibitzing from a broadcasting booth, recalls that he used to think he was working overtime if a game he was pitching lasted much over two hours. Nowadays, players and fans too, are fortunate if nine innings are completed under 2½ hours. If it turns out to be a slugfest like last Saturday's New York Yankee-Boston Red Sox 14-to-10 wacky, dinners are surely going to be late. That one consumed fully three hours and 44 minutes. The same day, Cleveland and Detroit played a 7-to-6 engagement clocked in 3:16.

The difference, as Dean sees it, is fundamental.

"I used to turn loose of that ball a lot quicker than they do now," he said.

Diz isn't criticizing the pitchers. Under present conditions, he hints that he might be a trifle timid, too.

Smelt Runs Hitting Peak This Weekend

Smelt runs are hitting their peak in southern Michigan this week. In the Thumb area heavy runs are reported in Rock Falls Creek near Harbor Beach and the northeast shore of Huron County near Sand Point.

Smelt are being caught in the surf near Sanilac, but the run is light in the streams. Fair runs are reported in the St. Clair River with most of the smelt being taken at night. Other good runs are reported near Tawas.

Both perch and smelt are running in the Pine River, but perch fishing in the bay is poor. Perch fishing is far near the Clinton spillway and poor at Quannicassee due to low water. The perch run has begun near Cedarville in the Upper Peninsula.

St. Fred Golf Team Loses to Clarkston

Despite a medalist effort of 40 by Dick Doyon, St. Frederick's golf team bowed to Clarkston yesterday over rain-soaked Davisburg Golf Club. Clarkston's foursome carded 170 to St. Fred's 172.

Behind Doyon came Ed Kast with 42, Dick Kast with 46, and Paul Grosse with 54. Bob Hall led the Wolves with a 43 while Bill Shanks and Roger Dubats each fired 44 and Bill Junglas shot 49. Wednesday's setback was the 1st for the Rams after a win over Bloomfield Hills and a previous decision over Clarkston.

Arcaro Has Winners

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Arcaro collected a riding triple at Jamaica yesterday when he piloted winners of the second, fifth and seventh races on an eight-race program.

He won the second with Big Sweep ($30.90), then followed with Let's Face It ($3.70), and Prob- phets Bell ($3.80).

Drake Relays Start FridayMany Olympic Hopefuls Gather for Outstanding Track and Field Show

DES MOINES (AP)—A Drake Relays field, dotted with Uncle Sam's Olympic hopefuls, begins a two-day charge for new records tomorrow.

Representatives from 30 universities and 45 colleges, an increase of 9 over last year and ranking with one of Drake's largest gatherings since the late Maj. John L. Griffith founded the games in 1910, will be on hand for one of the top track and field shows of the Olympic year.

Drake "statisticians, remarkably accurate in the past with their figures, are out with a forecast of 16 probable new records. They list nine events with "possible" record potentials.

Last year they were correct on six of the eight "probable" predictions and picked up two records from the "possible" category for a total of eight.

The 100-yard dash is one event in which relays officials are most anxious to get a new record. Back in 1926 the late Roland Locke of Nebraska set the record of :09.5.

COUNTING THE HOUSE—Sugar Ray Robinson meditates at his Greenwood Lake, N. Y., camp. The middleweight champion can't be too much concerned about Bobo Olson, so he must be wondering what they'll draw in Los Angeles, May 18.

BOATING DOWN THE RIVER—Walter Stokes of Philadelphia, student at nearby Dartmouth College is in line for a cold bath as he rides bow of canoe piloted by Dick Pearson of Charlestown, N. H., in the wild rapids of White River at West Hartford, Vt. Dartmouth's Ledyard Canoe Club runs the rapids every spring, going for thrills the icy way.

The Yankees got Babe Ruth from the Red Sox in 1920 for a price of $125,000.

The Cubs' 1955 profit of about $300,000 was their first since the 1952 season.

Big Three Deny Rumors of Loan

Lawyer Says Carmakers to Provide $50 Million for Studebaker-Packard

DETROIT (U) — Rumors continue today that Studebaker-Packard Corp. is looking for new loans, despite denials from the auto industry's Big Three that the money would come from them.

In Washington, Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), chairman of a subcommittee investigating the auto industry, called the reported loans "a dreadful commentary on the progress of economic concentration."

The denials of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler came within hours of a statement by Sol A. Dann, Detroit lawyer and Studebaker-Packard stockholder. Dann said the Big Three were going to loan his company 50 million dollars.

He said of the loan denials that he was not surprised. "It might be a very delicate subject at this time," he said.

Dann said he was disbanding a shareholders protective committee that he had organized at a Studebaker-Packard meeting last week.

The reason, he said, was the assurance from a source he would not disclose, that the huge loan was being arranged.

James J. Nance, company president, said last week that Studebaker-Packard was in an "extremely difficult" situation. One of the reasons had been described as a sharp curtailment of defense contracts.

Showdown Set at Graham Trial

FBI Agents Will Testify of Alleged Confession Made by Bomber

DENVER (U) — Moving swiftly through state testimony, the murder trial of John Gilbert Graham is near the crisis—introduction of his alleged confession to blowing up an airliner carrying his mother and 43 others.

Prosecutor Bert M. Keating said today he expects his case to reach the decisive point "no later than tomorrow" when he will call FBI agents. They will testify about the 24-year-old defendant's statement to them.

"Without the confession, I can't send Graham to the gas chamber," Keating told newsmen.

Graham is charged with murder in the death of his well-to-do mother Mrs. Daisie E. King, 35.

DEFENSE PLEA FAILS

Court-appointed lawyers for Graham failed in an attempt yesterday to get a federal court order that would have prevented FBI agents from testifying in the state murder trial. The agents took the statement from Graham.

Defense Attorney Charles S. Vigil argued unsuccessfully that the statement was not made voluntarily and that FBI agents searched Graham's home and property without proper warrants. U. S. Dist. Judge Lee Knous denied Graham's motion. He said, "There is not a thing to indicate any basis for rejection of the confession, either on constitutional grounds or on the ground of its being involuntary."

Recreation Head Asks Group Support

Club Donation of $250 Serves as Starter for Tennis Court in Waterford Township

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The newly established Waterford Township Tennis Court Fund is one step toward its goal with the contribution of a check for $250, given by the Business and Professional Women's Club here.

Mrs. Helen Reese, BPW president, and Nadine Fillmore, treasurer, have presented the check to Thomas Belton, Waterford Township recreation director and originator of the court fund.

"We are asking all the service and civic clubs in Waterford Township to consider donating from $200 to $500 to this fund," Belton said today.

"Several of the clubs have already indicated a definite interest in this joint community service, and the old Drayton Men's Club has pledged $300."

"Many people have expressed a desire for the tennis courts, and a very practical way is to have the service clubs of the township contribute jointly to a construction fund," he added.

Belton said that "During the summer, several calls a week are received at the recreation office asking about tennis facilities."

"It would be wonderful if these facilities could be made available to the public," he added. Organizations interested in contributing to the fund may call Belton at the Waterford Recreation office, OR 3-9152, for full information.

Bishop Emrich to Confirm Class

Church of the Advent Service Set for Friday in West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Rt. Rev. Richard S. M. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan, will confirm a class of 14 at the Church of the Advent at 8 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Ethel Hogle, diocesan field mission worker, will present the class to Bishop Emrich.

Bishop Emrich became diocesan bishop in 1948. Born in Mardin, Turkey, in 1910, of missionary parents, he attended Phillips Andover Academy, Brown University, the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge and the Union Theological Seminary in New York City. He received his doctorate at the University of Marburg in Germany.

He has written, lectured and preached widely, throughout Michigan. He has served as president of the Detroit Council of Churches. The Church of the Advent, which is located on West Long Lake Rd. at Middlebelt Rd., will hold its 22nd service next Sunday.

Baby Dies, Wedged in Bars of Crib

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Two-month-old Naomi Reed was found dead in her crib Tuesday by her mother, Mrs. Annie Reed of 21437 Westview.

Township police said the child was found with its head wedged between the bars of its crib and the wall. She apparently wriggled into the position and was unable to breathe.

Her mother was doing the family wash at the time.

Rochester Lions Club to Sell White Canes

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Village Council granted permission to the Rochester Lions Club to observe White Cane Week and sell white canes on the streets, tomorrow and Saturday.

Upon request from the Auxiliary of Homer Wing Post 172, permission was given to hold Poppy Day sale on May 24-25.

The standard lubricating oil made especially for timepieces costs about $1,000 a gallon.

County Calendar

Rochester — The regular meeting of The Rochester Women's Club will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Addison R. Carr, 226 Walnut. Mrs. Arthur Dewey will lead a discussion on books as a part of the afternoon program.

Friday — The Four Towns Squares will meet at the Four Towns Methodist Church, at 2 p.m. The new officers will take over their positions.

Friday — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cook of Inlay City have announced the birth of twins, a boy and a girl, on April 23.

Friday — Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Lang Jr. of Franklin Village have announced the birth of a daughter, Holly Jane.

Oakland-Wayne Fight PTA Plan

Oppose Bigger Board, Claiming Move Denies Public Voice in Schools

DETROIT (U) — A fight over membership of the State Board of Education and federal aid to education was expected today at the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers (PTA).

Approving resolutions were up for vote by the 3,500 delegates attending the closing session of the three-day convention.

Factions from Wayne and Oakland counties were opposing a proposed constitutional amendment to double the membership of the State Board of Education. The enlarged board would have authority to appoint a superintendent of public instruction.

Opponents contend the proposal would disenfranchise voters by denying them a voice in school policies. The amendment is backed by the Michigan Education Assn. and the board of managers of the PTA Congress.

OTHER PROPOSALS

The federal aid to schools proposal has been opposed by some groups who fear it might lead to federal control of schools. The National PTA Congress has endorsed the measure.

A number of additional resolutions was expected to pass without opposition. They approve driver training courses in state schools, laws to provide treatment and rehabilitation for convicted sex deviates, improved educational facilities for handicapped children and reorganization of school districts on a more equitable basis.

A panel discussion on the teacher shortage brought suggestions for community programs to increase pay scales and prestige for men teachers.

Between 30 and 40 per cent of qualified teachers drop out in the first three years, the conference was told. Most of those who leave the field are in secondary schools where most men teach.

100 Turn Out, Voice Protests

Township Board Kills Rezoning of Site for $5,500,000 Project

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Backers of a proposed $5,500,000 racetrack and sports arena at 10 Mile and Haggerty Rds. were still at the starting gate after a meeting of the township zoning board last night.

In a town hall packed to the doors with more than 100 protesting residents, the zoning board turned down a proposal to rezone 244 acres to clear the way for the racetrack.

Louis Schmidt, zoning board chairman, pointed out that the board had received no definite plan for the proposed harness racing track and could not rezone without a plan indicating intended use of the land.

When asked why no architectural plan had been presented, George Kovacs, representing the racing interests, said:

"You're all over 16. There are many reasons you don't expose—you all know what a racetrack it is. That's why we don't want it," someone shouted from the audience, and was applauded vigorously.

Schmidt asked those opposed to stand, and at least three-quarters of those attending jumped to their feet.

The zoning board also read letters protesting the rezoning from individual residents, Bond School PTA, and the American Association of University Women. Residents of Novi Township, just across the line from the proposed track, also expressed opposition.

Schmidt pointed out that the matter can go back to the township board for final decision, or can be put to a vote. However, Kovacs indicated that he would not press the issue in the face of opposition from residents.

Area Postmasters Meeting Saturday

Postmasters from towns all over southern Michigan will converge on Waterford Township Saturday morning for their Detroit District management meeting in the CAI building on Williams Lake Road.

The all-day program will include speeches by Pontiac postmaster Leslie H. Dean, Chicago Regional Director Robert R. Justus, and officials of the National Association of Postmasters and the National Association of Postal Supervisors.

A series of short speeches on postal problems in the afternoon will be followed by panel discussions, dinner and Justus' address.

Cycle Rams House When Clutch Sticks

A motorcyclist who rammed into a house yesterday evening blamed a stuck clutch. Pontiac police said Jack L. Hubble, 28, of 68 Putnam St. told them his bike roared out of one driveway on Cherrylawn Dr., zipped across the street and smashed into a home at 1035 Cherrylawn because he couldn't disengage the clutch.

Hubble was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment of a broken right leg, authorities said.

Auburn Heights Resident Knocked Down by Auto

Struck down by an auto when he ran across Auburn road near Squirel road yesterday afternoon, Walter Kollander, 60, of Auburn Heights told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he "misjudged" traffic.

To Be Exchange Student Next Year

Girl of Philippines to Be at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Norma D. Sandoval of the Philippine Islands will be enrolled as a student of Waterford Township High School next year.

The first foreign student to enter under the sponsorship of the Student Council, Norma will be living with the Carl Hoffman family, 4408 Sasabaw road, Drayton Plains.

Arrangements for the entrance of Norma to this country have been made through the American Field Service. Students are selected by the ministers of education of various countries.

A senior, Norma has an excellent record in school and is looking forward to continuing her studies at WTHS.

She stated, "I would love to see how the people of America live. I want to know and understand people other than my own and to increase the goodwill now existing between my country and the United States."

Norma was born in Hilo City on the island of Panay. Her father is not living. Her mother, a dressmaker, supports the family.

The young student will arrive in August and at the conclusion of her year here, she will go on a three-week bus tour of the states.

The Hoffmans have a daughter, Jean, who is a sophomore at Waterford. Along with the Student Council, she is making plans to include Norma in as many of the school activities as possible.

World's largest dragon tree is at Icod, in the Canary Islands off northwest Africa. It is said to be 3,000 years old and measures 50 feet in circumference.

State Department Expels Two Soviet U. N. Diplomats

WASHINGTON (U) — The United States has expelled two Russian U. N. diplomats on the ground they exceeded their authority in taking part in the return of five Soviet seamen to their homeland 19 days ago.

The State Department late yesterday handed a protesting Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin a note ordering out of this country Aleksandr K. Guryanov and Nikolai Turkin, members of the Russian United Nations delegation.

The note also criticized the head of the delegation, Arkady Sobolev.

Under the U. N. headquarters agreement, the United States reserved the right to take action against any foreign official accredited to its government's U. N. delegation in New York City who engages in "activities outside of his official capacity."

Officials said Guryanov and Turkin were guilty of improper action because their U. N. status did not permit them to go to the Idlewild Airport, as they did with the seamen, and shepherd them through an immigration hearing as they left the country.

It performed by a duly accredited consular official, such things are all right.

Russia closed its New York consulate in 1948.

DENIED VISA SOUGHT ASYLUM

Both Turkin and Guryanov were listed in the U. N. diplomatic register as accompanied by their wives. Officials here said Turkin had accompanied the five seamen back to Russia, and that he will be denied permission to re-enter this country.

Secretary of State Dulles has been under some pressure to take action in the sudden flight of the five young seamen who had sought and been granted asylum in this country.

Dulles had recommended asylum for these five, together with four others, from the crew of the Soviet tanker Tuapse. Eleven

Dag Succeeding in Peace Task

U.N. Chief Chalking-Up Progress With Jordan on Cease-Fire Plan

AMMAN, Jordan (U.N. Sec. retary General Dag Hammarskjöld) chalked up more progress in his Mideastern peace mission today as he wound up talks with Jordanian leaders.

Although nothing official was revealed regarding Hammarskjöld's talks in Amman, well-informed sources reported Jordan is willing to go along with a pledge of a cease-fire and general armistice observance.

These sources added Jordan also was ready to agree for local commanders to seek ways of avoiding incidents along the frontier, and possibly to an increase in the number of U. N. truce observers on the border.

CONCLUSIONS REACHED
After a final conference with Premier Samir El Rifai, the secretary general in a statement said that "the whole field under the mandate from the Security Council (to secure observance of the Palestine armistice) was covered in the talks here and on all points conclusions have been reached."

Hammarskjöld, who was directed by the Security Council to seek ways of ensuring compliance with the 1949 armistice between Israel and her Arab neighbors, already has received promises from Israel and Egypt to observe an unconditional cease-fire along their borders.

Syria also has agreed to a cease-fire, subject to a like pledge from Israel, and Lebanon has agreed to cooperate in easing tensions, which are not acute on that border.

After returning this afternoon to his temporary Middle East headquarters in Beirut, Lebanon, the U. N. official planned to fly to Cairo for further talks this weekend. His schedule called for final conferences in Israel next week. He is to report to the Security Council in New York by May 4.

Stevenson Raps GOP Leadership

Dem Contender States Moral Force Lacking in Segregation Issue

NEW YORK (U.S. Adlai E. Stevenson says the Eisenhower administration has provided no moral leadership in dealing with racial segregation in the schools.

The contender for the Democratic presidential nomination spoke last night at a $100-a-plate "tribute to Stevenson" dinner attended by some 2,200 persons.

The present administration, Stevenson said, has contributed nothing toward an atmosphere in which the Supreme Court's school integration decision "could be carried out in tranquility and order."

Stevenson added: "The presidency is above all a place of moral leadership. Yet in these months of crucial importance no leadership has been provided. The immense prestige and influence of the office has been withheld from those who honestly seek to carry out the law in a gathering storm and against rising resistance."

"As president, if that were my privilege, I would work ceaselessly and with a sense of crucial urgency—with public officials, private groups and educators—to meet this challenge in our life as a nation and this threat to our national reputation. I would act in the knowledge that law and order is the executive's responsibility."

"Refusing to rise to this great moral and constitutional crisis, the administration has hardly even acknowledged its gravity."

Stevenson urged an overhauling of the internal security system to protect the rights of persons suspected of disloyalty.

Among other speakers at the dinner were Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D. Liberal-N.Y.), Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Thomas K. Finletter, former secretary of the Air Force, was toastmaster. In the audience was former Postmaster General James A. Farley.

Methodists Face Policy Revision

Principles - Practicality Interpretation Confronts Bishops in Conclave

MINNEAPOLIS (U.S. —Methodist policy makers, haunted by old troubles that once split their now-united church, today had two words on their minds — "principles" and "practicality."

These were the dual aspects of a plea that the church "move in sure but calculated steps" to get rid of racial segregation.

An underlying question, couched in a weighty opinion by the church's Council of Bishops, was how soon — and by what means — the job could be done without shattering repercussions.

"THESE EVILS"
The matter was up to the 766 delegates at a general law-making conference, which charts the future of America's biggest Protestant church for four years ahead.

The bishops, in their key, 23,000-word message last night, declared that "these evils" of racial discrimination and segregation must be driven out of the church.

But they said the way to do it is by following an old Methodist tradition to "establish principles by a practical consideration of what could be done."

NO MERGERS
They advocated — as a first, major step — the setting up of a study commission on the problem, to bring back recommendations to the next conference in 1960.

If done, this would mean dropping, for the moment, proposals for merging the church's all-Negro subdivision with regular regional jurisdictions.

The separate administrative unit was a feature of the church's reunion — North and South — in 1939.

HOPEFUL SIGNS
The lengthy Episcopal Address, delivered for the 75 bishops by Bishop Fred Pierce Corson of Philadelphia, ranged widely over the church's progress and needs.

On the bright side, it saw improvements in "the quality of living within the home" in America. "Hopeful signs appear everywhere," the bishops said.

"The family is returning to the practice of doing things together."

But the statement said divorce and desertion still were blighting too many families.

On specific conduct, the bishops struck hard at smoking and drinking and legalized gambling.

Town Marshal Bungles Bank Robbery Attempt

PADUCAH, Ky. (U.S. —A former town marshal who thoroughly bungled an attempted bank holdup pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 15 years in prison by Federal Judge Roy Shelbourne yesterday.

Robert Herman Maxey, 52, contended he "blacked out" after he entered the Citizens Deposit Bank of Arlington last Feb. 10. But psychiatrists ruled him legally sane.

THE HOLDUP:
Here is how officials described the bungled holdup attempt:

Maxey thought the bank closed an hour earlier than it did, so he aroused suspicions of a woman who tried to enter the bank's locked door. She notified authorities.

After scooping up more than $7,000, Maxey was met in front of the building by a posse organized during the robbery. The pistol he had used in the holdup wouldn't fire. He had used the wrong ammunition.

And officers discovered his car, parked near the bank, wouldn't start. It had to be towed away.

Peru's Yma Sumac Adds Opera to Notable Career

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U.S. —There seems to be no limit to the range of Yma Sumac's talents. She'll prove that next year when she makes her operatic debut in this country.

The Peruvian doll is a favorite on the night club circuit. Her record albums are good sellers, and she is a popular concert artist. She appeared in a Broadway show, "Flahooley," and is a regular guest on TV and radio. She is now appearing in her second movie, "The Loves of Omar Khayyam."

Next, the opera. The Cosmopolitan Opera, which offers a spring season at the San Francisco Opera House, has signed her to star in its production of "Lakme" next fall. This is a rare instance of a singer graduating from night clubs to opera.

NOT HER FIRST
"It is not my first opera," the dark beauty explained. "Once before, I sang 'La Traviata' in Rio de Janeiro. But this will be the first time I have sung opera in this country, outside of some arias which I have sung in concerts."

"And oh, it is so much work to prepare for it! I am naturally lazy, but my husband (Moises Vivanco) is a slave driver. He makes me practice one or two hours a day while I am on this picture. It will be four hours a day when I finish the picture."

She said that she is learning under a coach for the first time in her career. Before, she always taught herself to sing, she remarked. Oddly enough, she is working harder to prepare for "Lakme" than she ever has for other mediums. And she is being paid less.

"The top salary for an opera star in this country is $1,500 a performance," she explained. "In Las Vegas, I am paid $10,000 a week."

FOR PRESTIGE
Then why does she do it? "There is prestige in doing opera. And also a great deal of satisfaction."

Yma's vocal range is well known. She can span five octaves with ease and clarity, whereas you and I are lucky to handle two. This offers pregnant possibilities for her opera career. Supposing the tenor gets sick one night. She could also sing in part—and the contralto and baritone too, for that matter.

She would like to expand her operatic career, through interspersing it with her other engagements so she could afford the luxury of being in opera.

Actor Recovering

'Happy Pills' Can Cause Pangs of Unhappiness

DENVER (INS)—Colorado doctors took a dim view today of the latest fad of "happy pills," and cautioned peace of mind can't be bought in a drug store.

The pills—which can be purchased in many states without a prescription—reportedly are sweeping the West Coast area under a variety of names.

The Colorado State Medical Society said none of these drugs is curative. They're only palliative, and the doctors cautioned they are by no means harmless. In fact there are serious complications which can result from taking the pills without a doctor's knowledge and consent.

In a statement issued today, the society warned:

"Remember this: There is no safe 'happy pill' that can be taken as aspirin is taken for a passing headache. And in some cases they are not really 'happy pills' at all. They can make a mental depression, a case of the 'blues' even deeper. Suicides have been reported in the aftermath of 'happy pill' happiness."

CAN BE HARMFUL

Most people just don't know for sure what a "happy pill" is. They heard the seductive term "tranquillizer" and the immediate reaction is, "that's for me."

The society declared drugs of this nature should definitely be prescription-type and taken only on the orders of a doctor.

Doctors can prescribe pills for tensions and worries, but it takes an expert to dabble in pharmacology. Self-diagnosis in this sphere is as dangerous as any other, and the doctors insist that "happy pills" are not innocuous.

The doctors advise these pills on occasion, but usually only as an adjunct to other psychiatric treatment. In general, the primary function of the pills is to reduce anxiety, to make the patient more amenable to other treatment to attack the primary causes of anxiety.

The pills, however, should never be taken casually, as sort of a mental gun-drop. They cannot cure a really serious emotional difficulty.

The society pointed out another danger in misuse of the "tranquillizers":

"Some of these drugs greatly step up, in certain persons, the reaction to other drugs, such as barbiturates, or to alcohol. This can be so serious, a level of shock can be reached by the combination in some individuals."

"Drinking can be very dangerous when these drugs are taken."
