Women's Division First to Top Quota

The women's division yesterday became the first Pontiac Area United Fund group to top its 1960 quota.

★ ★ ★

It was announced yesterday to some 600 UF volunteer workers at a victory luncheon in the Elks Temple that the women had registered $27,000.23 in receipts and pledges.

★ ★ ★

Of the total, $25,000.23 is cash contributions, and $2,000 had been pledged as of noon yesterday.

The goal was $27,000.

The victory announcement was made by Mrs. Roderick Taylor, chairman of the division.

In exceeding the quota, many areas went well over their individual collection quotas.

Mrs. Ben Hawkins, cochairman of the women's division, introduced area chairmen.

Mrs. Glenn Griffin of Area 1 reached 89.4 per cent of her quota; Mrs. Richard Fox, Area 2, 100 per cent; Mrs. William Coulacos, Area 3, 101.7 per cent; and Mrs. Leonard Buzz, Area 4, 100.1 per cent of her quota.

Among her area chairmen, Mrs. Leslie Howey of Area 1 reached 97.1 per cent of her quota; Mrs. Percy Dunn, Area No. 2, 107 per cent; Mrs. Elmer O. Johnson, Area No. 3, 105.1 per cent and Mrs. Norman Dunn, Area 4, 94 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Reporting on the Lake Angelus area, Mrs. Floyd Foren announced she had reached 121.1 per cent of her area quota.

She reported collecting $2,790 with her quota set at $2,305.

Mrs. Charles Pangus gave the women's division report for Brandon Township and Mrs. Harry Fahrner for Independence Township.

Robert Nelson, president of the United Fund Board of Directors and president of the Pontiac Manufacturers' Association, host for the luncheon, spoke briefly on the ideals of the United Fund.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hawkins introduced district chairman for Indian awards in the Pontiac area and Mrs. Noffsinger who indicated Indian awards for her respective areas.

Mrs. Spencer Libby is director of the Women's Division of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

The Rev. Galen E. Hershey gave the invocation at the luncheon.

Proposal No. 1 Concerns Tax Dollar, Market Appeal

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a three-part series discussing Michigan School Proposition No. 1, which will appear on the Nov. 8 ballot. If approved, the proposal would continue an amendment to the constitution to permit distressed school districts to borrow building and operating funds when needed—and at a lower interest rate—with the backing of a special state fund.)

By DICK SAUNDERS

Proposal No. 1 on the Nov. 8 ballot will concern two major financial factors:

1. The tax dollar.
2. The board of education's "market appeal."

To simply say a vote for it will cost the public much less money is not enough.

The voter should know why it will cost him less if the proposal is passed.

First he is voting to extend the 1955 proposal and, second, he is voting to make several changes in it which will improve the board's financial position and result in less tax cost to him.

The proposed amendment was formulated by a state-appointed committee headed by Louis H. Schimmel, president of the Pontiac Board of Education.

Schimmel also was chairman of the committee that drew up the 1955 amendment.

The 1955 proposal, which expires June 30, 1962, did three major things to the way we finance our school building programs in Michigan.

1. It took the limit off the amount of taxes, under certain conditions, that could be levied to pay school bonds.
2. It guaranteed taxpayers against a heavy tax burden on real estate by establishing a State School Bond Loan Fund of $100,000,000. The school district could borrow from this when its debt reached a higher amount of money than could be raised by a tax rate of 13 mills ($13 for each $1,000 of property valuation).

★ ★ ★

3. It removed a previously imposed limit to which any school district could go in debt, as long

Suddenly, It's Indian Winter Here

Freezing weather and snow were forecast for Southern Michigan today, after some parts of the state got a mild sample of winter last night.

★ ★ ★

The forecast called for isolated snow flurries near lakes in Southern Lower Michigan and scattered snow flurries or showers in Northern Lower Michigan.

The season's coldest temperature hit the Pontiac area with a freezing 31 degrees at 6 this morning.

And that's not all. The mercury is expected to drop to a new low of 25 tonight, with skies clearing.

FRIDAY PARTLY CLOUDY

Friday will be partly cloudy with the high temperature in the upper 40s.

Saturday and Sunday will be a little warmer but temperatures will turn colder again Monday. Scattered showers are forecast for Sunday or Monday, with less than one-half inch in rainfall.

★ ★ ★

Morning northerly winds at 18 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

★ ★ ★

From 10:15 a.m. yesterday until the same hour today .1 of an inch of rain fell in the downtown area.

The temperature in downtown Pontiac was 41 at 2 p.m.

Longest LA Criminal Hearing

Finch Retrial Goes to Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The jury is at last deliberating in the Finch-Tregoff murder retrial—the longest criminal hearing in Los Angeles County history.

For 16½ weeks one man and eleven women jurors have heard evidence and argument supporting and denying the state's claim that Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, killed his wife.

The handsome, balding surgeon, 42, was red-faced in apparent anger as a prosecutor told the jury Wednesday: "We have demonstrated the guilt of these two defendants."

Then Finch appeared composed as the jury filed out after the judge's instructions. He yawned.

★ ★ ★

He clasped the hand of red-haired Miss Tregff, 23, his onetime receptionist, and spoke reassuringly to her.

She smiled, but her lip trembled. Her brown eyes moistened as a matron led her back to jail.

After an overnight stay at a hotel, the jury continues deliberating on an issue on which a previous jury deadlocked last March.

The charge that Finch and Miss Tregoff went to his estranged wife's home in suburban West Covina the night of July 18, 1959, and that he deliberately shot socialite Barbara Jean Finch, 36, to death.

The state says the defendants wanted to avoid sharing his wealth with his wife in a divorce settlement.

The physician and his codefendant say they went to the house to discuss a divorce with Mrs. Finch, that she produced a gun and it discharged accidentally as Finch grabbed it and tried to throw it away. Mrs. Finch died of a bullet in the back.

DeWitt Quits as Tiger Prexy

Resigns 9 Days After Fetzer Takes Control

Fate of Remaining 2 Years on $50,000 Contract Not Revealed

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — William O. (Bill) DeWitt resigned today as president of the Detroit Baseball Co., after declining an offer by the club to become assistant to the president.

DeWitt had two years to go on a three-year contract that paid him a reported $50,000 annually.

The resignation came nine days after radio-television executive John E. Fetzer, of Kalamazoo became majority stockholder in the Detroit Tigers and announced he would assume the presidency.

Fetzer, a previous one-third owner, became a two-third owner through stock purchase.

PAY OFF CONTRACT?

Whether DeWitt will be paid for the next two years of his contract was a question not answered immediately. DeWitt has been under verbal fire from the Tiger ownership since the American League season ended Oct. 2, with the Tigers in sixth place. They were fourth in 1959.

In a prepared statement issued by the club, DeWitt said: "He came to the Tigers as president and had started a rebuilding program which he must now relinquish due to the consolidated sale of the club.

"He stated that the necessity to install a new president was a natural consequence, but expressed the opinion that as assistant to the president he was not convinced that his program could be carried forward according to his previous plans."

Amicable settlement was reached, a club statement said.

DeWitt, reached at home, said his plans were "indefinite" and that he had not contacted any other ball club.

He said he planned to take "a

Big Questions Will Be Whether K's Sincere and Fidel Needs Him

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. officials expect Russia to offer massive new economic aid to Cuba. But how genuine this will turn out to be was considered an open qustion.

And on it hinged another question — how badly will the suspension ordered Wednesday of most U.S. exports to Cuba damage Fidel Castro's economic machine?

Many state department officials feet the Kremlin will be both unwilling and unable to provide quickly major aid to Cuba in consumer goods.

One of the few commodities which Russia has in surplus, and for which she has actively sought overseas markets, is oil and oil has been the bulk of Soviet exports to Cuba during the last year.

But the $141.1 million worth of U.S. exports to Cuba during the first half of 1960 included shoes, cigarettes, fabrics, radios, household appliances, cars, rubber, package foods, toys and all other items which make up a civilian economy.

Russia has been supplying almost none of these. Experts believe she could send such items to Cuba only by making the political decision to take them away from either Soviet consumers, satellite countries or underdeveloped countries of Africa and Asia which the Communists have been trying to woo.

Many officials here think Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wants to use Cuba for all the propaganda it's worth, but does not want to go to great expense over it.

★ ★ ★

A dissenting view expressed by some government officials is that Russia will be more than eager to engulf Cuba economically with resulting "Sovietization" of the Cuban economy which might be hard to retrieve even if Castro is overthrown some day.

★ ★ ★

The consensus among economic experts here is that the U.S. action will not topple Cuba's economy overnight and bring about a revolution against Castro, but that it will cause economic trouble for Cuba — the seriousness depending on what Russia is willing to do.

Nixon Has New Plan for Economic Group

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today proposed establishing a National Economic Council—part of a 12-point program he set forth to accelerate economic progress in the United States.

The council he suggested would correspond to the National Security Council which advises the chief executive on the problems of security.

Nixon said in a speech before the National Association of Business Economists that the new group would coordinate "the various government efforts bearing on the promotion of healthy economic growth."

But he declared it would infringe in no way on the independence of the Federal Reserve Board.

This, Nixon said, "is something the opposition seems bent on doing and which is already causing concern in responsible circles both in our country and abroad."

Much of what the Republican presidential candidate said in his speech—which he described as the most important of his campaign on business and economic matters—expanded on proposals which he previously had made in criticism of Democratic programs.

WARNING SYSTEM

For the first time he emphasized the possibility of "an early warning economic intelligence system."

He said it could operate through flexible credit and fiscal possibilities, that could include tax adjustments, to protect the economy against threats to stable growth.

In this connection he suggested amending federal law to include "reasonable price stability" as a

Ralph Houk Steps Into Stengel's Job

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ralph Houk, a war hero who never rose higher in the major leagues than third-string catcher, today was named to succeed Casey Stengel as manager of the New York Yankees.

★ ★ ★

Houk, a coach under Stengel the past three years, received a one-year contract for a salary estimated between $25,000 and $30,000, compared to the $85,000 Stengel received for each of the past two years.

★ ★ ★

Houk is a tobacco-chewing product of the Yankee organization who was third-string catcher for the Yankees off and on from 1947 through 1954.

★ ★ ★

He's 29 years younger than Stengel, who was not rehired because of his age.

Jack Answers White Paper

Accuses Vice President of '1-Sided Debating'; TV Dispute Still On

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy today accused Vice President Richard M. Nixon of trying to debate with one-sided statements, while refusing "to make his answers and charges in direct television confrontations with 70 million people watching."

★ ★ ★

The Democratic presidential nominee, with this preface, issued his own written reply to a Republican "white paper" put out Wednesday.

In this earlier paper, Nixon said he was nailing what he termed 13 misstatements or distortions Kennedy made during the campaign.

In a point-by-point reply, Kennedy said Nixon repeated "some of the most glaring errors" the vice president had made during the campaign.

Meanwhile, the dispute about the future of the television debate series between the candidates went on. Emissaries of the two scheduled discussions today on possible extension of Friday night's meeting to two hours, instead of one.

NIXON'S IDEA

This was Nixon's proposal, accepted in principle by Kennedy although the Democratic candidate has been insisting there should be a fifth debate, close to the election.

Kennedy said today it is "an interesting fact" that Nixon is willing to continue the debate by issuing statements with a duplicating machine. He has been implying that his opponent is afraid of more face-to-face meetings with him.

Kennedy said the answer to the Nixon "white paper" will be "millions of white papers cast on Nov. 8."

And he added that while he was replying to Nixon, "the total record of Nixon's misstatements, slurs and distortions could not possibly be answered in a single white paper."

★ ★ ★

On various points, the Kennedy rejoinder said:

—Kennedy had contended the United States last year had the lowest rate of economic growth of any major industrial society. Nixon said the rate was 6.9 per cent, higher than that of major European powers.

Kennedy replied the Joint Economic Committee of Congress placed the 1953-59 average at 2.3 per cent, half the Western European average.

—Kennedy said Soviet power construction was likely to outstrip that of the United States by 1975. Nixon said the Soviets' own announced goals were below this. Kennedy retorted official Soviet publications listed the 1975 goal at 1,550 billion kilowatts of electricity, approximately the figure projected for the United States.

Gold Prices Soar in Frantic Rush on World Marts

By The Associated Press

The price of gold soared to an unprecedented high today. The London dollar price ranged between $37.50 and $38.50.

And as the price of the metal gained nearly $2.80 in frantic trading, gold shares leaped ahead in London Stock Exchange dealings.

★ ★ ★

The story was the same in Frankfurt, Germany, where the price was $37.68 an ounce when trading was suspended. In Toronto the price went to $39. Gold stocks on the New York exchange rose sharply.

A scramble for gold was touched off earlier this week by Swiss bankers, who have been advising their customers to change American dollars into gold.

★ ★ ★

One dealer said this has led to speculation that the United States may eventually devalue its dollar by fixing a higher price for gold than its current $35 an ounce.

State Candidates Warm Up Talks

Dem Takes Day Off After Heavy Stumping in Six Cities

EN ROUTE WITH SWAINSON (AP)—Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson paused today in his hunt for votes in Michigan's cities to hunt for pheasant in the marshlands.

The Democratic nominee for governor headed for Sebewaing in the Thumb area after completing another strenuous 16-hour day of campaigning Wednesday.

In stops at six cities, Swainson pounded away at themes ranging from education to the space age to old age benefits.

In St. Joseph, he stood bareheaded in the predawn rain to shake hands with factory workers at the huge Whirlpool Corp. plant.

Then the 35-year-old candidate had breakfast with 50 Benton Harbor schoolteachers and outlined a 14-point education program.

"Education is the ultimate salvation of our country," he told them. "There is nothing more important."

At a news conference, Swainson again declared that his specific tax program would be tailored to the financial needs of the state, but he declined to say whether an income tax or a sales tax increase would be among his proposals.

In answer to a question, he declared it was even possible that neither tax would be necessary—but he emphasized that this possibility was remote.

On the Nov. 8 ballot proposal for a boost of 1 per cent in the current 3 per cent sales tax, Swainson said he doesn't believe the average voter has enough facts about the complex tax issue to make an intelligent decision on the matter.

A taxation advisory committee headed by University of Michigan Professor William P. Hafter is expected to report to Swainson shortly, and aides indicated the nominee may have more to say on the matter next week.

DeWitt Bows Out as Tiger President

vacation for two or three weeks and that he and Fetzer remained on the "friendliest of terms."

He said he had promised Fetzer he would be available for "advice and counsel."

DeWitt said he had spent 45 years in baseball with the St. Louis Cardinals, old St. Louis Browns and the New York Yankees and that all had won pennants during his time with them.

He said he had hoped to produce a pennant in Detroit, too, but that the Tigers were hurt by a "lack of hitting and lack of the double play."

He said he hoped the Tiger slump this past season was only a "one-year thing" and that he believed outfielder Al Kaline would become "the greatest ball player in the American League."

Tiger owners — Fetzer among them — criticized DeWitt for the low 1960 finish and also for the sudden resignation of field manager Joe Gordon.

Gordon quit the club a day after the season ended, despite a contract running through the 1961 season. Gordon blamed front office interference for his decision.

So did ex-manager Jimmie Dykes, swapped for Gordon Aug. 2 in an unprecedented swap of managers by Detroit and Cleveland.

The managerial deal engineered by DeWitt, also brought criticism from the Tiger owners.

36 Negroes Jailed in Atlanta

Behind Bars for Sit-In

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Following a pledged "jail instead of bail" policy, integration leader Martin Luther King Jr., and 35 other demonstrators against segregated eating facilities were behind bars today awaiting trial on charges of violating the state anti-trespass law.

They were among 51 Negroes and one white person arrested Wednesday following a well-organized invasion of downtown Atlanta by Negroes picketing and staging sit-in demonstrations at stores with segregated lunch counters.

* * *

King, who said he was an invited participant and not a leader of the demonstrations, vowed to remain in jail a year if necessary rather than make bond. He also said the demonstrations will continue "until something is done."

Also arrested was Lonnie C. King (no kin), head of the Committee on Appeal for Human Rights, which one of the demonstrators said sponsored the demonstrations.

All arrests were made at Rich's Department Store on charges of violating a 1960 act making it a misdemeanor to refuse to leave private property when requested to do so.

Demonstrations also were staged at Davison's, S. H. Kress, F. W. Woolworth, H. L. Green, Newberry's, Grant's and McCrory's stores. White lunch counter facilities at the other stores were closed when the demonstrations began shortly before noon.

There were a few tense situations during the demonstrations and picketing, but no violence.

All defendants pleaded not guilty before Municipal Judge James Webb. Charges against 16 were dismissed when an officer testified they had been requested to leave the dining room but not the store.

The other 36 were bound over to Fulton County Criminal Court. Webb also delivered a strong tongue lashing to several Negro students who began picketing police headquarters with hastily drawn posters during the trial. He warned that any further such demonstrations would be punished.

The judge also first invited photographers into his courtroom, but then reversed that decision saying the demonstrations were organized for publicity and "my courtroom is not going to be used for that purpose."

The largest demonstration to date in Atlanta obviously was well organized. It occurred three days after a Southwide meeting of the student nonviolent coordinating committee at which new sit-in tactics were discussed.

At his hearing, the Rev. M. L. King, who led the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, said his family spent $4,500 at Rich's during 1959 and that "we are welcome at all counters but the lunch counter."

In a statement, he also said if convicted under the antitrespass law, he may serve his sentence rather than appeal. That, he declared, would "bring the issue under the scrutiny of the conscience of the community."

The mall would include walks, canopies, landscaping, a reflecting pool and outdoor showcases.

Bagwell Pounds at 'Confusion'

GOP Nominee Tells 200 at Cheboygan Labor Backs Opponent

EN ROUTE WITH BAGWELL (AP) — Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson is "the captive candidate of politicians in the labor movement," his Republican rival for governor, Paul D. Bagwell, declared Wednesday night.

* * *

Labor leaders won the Democratic nomination for Swainson and he is counting on their money and organization support to put him in the governor's chair, said Bagwell.

The Democrats' 35-year-old choice to carry on the 12-year regime begun by Gov. Williams has been described as "personable" and "real cute," Bagwell told a GOP audience of more than 200 in the Cheboygan Armory.

But his election, he said, "will mean only more political warfare, more bickering, more confusion, more stalemates and more messes in Michigan."

The GOP candidate set out Wednesday on his final swing through Northern Michigan before the Nov. 8 election. Henceforth, he said, the campaign will focus entirely on southern counties, mostly Metropolitan Detroit, where people and votes are far more numerous.

Bagwell flew through gray and threatening skies to the far tip of the Lower Peninsula to give an assist to Rep. Victor A. Knox of Sault Ste. Marie.

Knox, trying for his fifth straight term in Congress, is battling again with Prentiss M. Brown Jr., who picked up 48 per cent of the vote in the huge 16-county district two years ago.

Brown, who has battled the former speaker of the State House of Representatives three times before, is one of the few Democrats given a chance of unseating one of the 11 incumbent GOP congressmen.

To one of Cheboygan's biggest political turnouts in recent years, Bagwell charged that Michigan has been "victimized by selfish interest politics which have sought to divide our state into warring groups.

"Labor has been pitted against business; small business against big business, and rural residents against city residents," he said.

Bagwell chided Swainson for refusing to take stands on "the burning questions of the day — taxes, economic growth, government reorganization to promote efficiency and economy."

The high school band in the tourist and farming town northwest of Bay City treated him to a parade through the middle of town. Later, he shared a buffet lunch in Ogemaw County Republican headquarters with a crowd of more than 100.

Bagwell told Mrs. Robert Mines that her pumpkin cake could "easily win a national prize."

Nixon Proposes Economic Council

major objective of government policy.

The national economy also could be stabilized, he said, "if our unemployment insurance system were substantially strengthened."

Discussing fiscal policy, Nixon said Democrats, who insist on easy credit on what he called artificially low interest rates under any circumstances, are practically inviting foreign investors to withdraw billions now placed in this country on deposit or in short-term paper.

This could result, he contended, in "a totally stupid and unnecessary gold crisis" which could have disastrous consequences for the entire free world.

To solve problems created by automation in industry, Nixon rejected over-all consultation among union, industrial and government leaders. Instead he recommended working sessions for each major industry to analyze its own problems.

Discussing other approaches to maintain a fixed economy, the vice president said featherbedding must be attacked in all its forms —in government waste, needless work rules for labor, and business pricing practices.

In the same area, he called for "fair-minded enforcement of the antitrust laws" and an imaginative policy for international trade.

Nixon addressed the convention of business economists in his only scheduled engagement of his second day in New York. He meets his Democratic opponent — Sen. John F. Kennedy—here in the last of their televised debates Friday night.

Nikita Claims A-Powered Subs

Tells 15,000 Soviets Vessels Armed With Nuclear Rockets

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union, which is credited with the world's biggest underseas fleet, now has atom-powered submarines armed with nuclear rockets.

Khrushchev spoke before 15,000 Muscovites packed into Luzhniki Stadium.

It was his first speech since he returned last week from his deskpounding visit to the U.N. General Assembly.

Copies of his speech distributed by Tass news agency in English gave a paragraph to his announcement of the nuclear, rocket-armed subs.

* * *

It said "he served this notice on American generals and admirals in connection with the report that the Pentagon decided to send submarines armed with missiles and nuclear weapons to the shores of the Soviet Union."

(Jane's Fighting Ships, an authoritative reference work, credits the Soviet Union with 500 conventionally powered submarines. Though many are old types it has described them as "a formidable threat to the Allied control of the seas." The United States, with 200 conventional subs, has 33 nuclear-powered submarines named and others are in the pipeline.)

Khrushchev again proposed the convening of a summit conference in 1961 to deal with the question of Berlin and Germany.

He said new Western proposals to the U.N. assembly show the Western powers are continuing to use disarmament talks to cover up an arms race policy.

"They are an ill omen for the future," Khrushchev said.

Hospital Saves for Christmas

Pontiac General Could Break Even if Losses at Holiday Stay Down

Pontiac General Hospital has $36,345 saved up for Christmas.

Not for presents, but to cover usual operating losses during the holiday season lull.

If losses then don't exceed the savings, the hospital will have a break-even year, operationally.

The picture looks good, said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

The 1960 budget estimated that the excess over expenses at this time of year would amount only to $28,467.

Thanks to a sharp upturn in occupancy this month, the hospital is more than $7,000 ahead of the estimate.

The difference could mean a lot as far as breaking even is concerned, since the conservative budget estimated the hospital would miss the balance point by only a few hundred dollars.

Occupancy was at 91 per cent as the present accounting period got under way. It was at 81 per cent the previous period.

Euler said that in the 10th period, ending Oct. 8, income exceeded expenses by $10,600.

The Day in Birmingham

F86 Plane From Korea at Home in Eton Park

BIRMINGHAM — A jet fighter that could at one time easily break the sound barrier took a day and a half arriving at its destination only 30 miles away yesterday.

The former workhorse of the Korean conflict; an F86, still sleek as ever, arrived here yesterday in a drizzling rain to be placed permanently at Eton Park.

The obsolete plane, with all its expensive controls missing, is to be set up in the park so youngsters with high-flying imaginations can do everything the plane was planned to do.

The $1-million craft was towed without any major difficulty from Selfridge Air Force Base. State police and crews from the Birmingham Parks and Forestry Division kept traffic from interfering with its journey.

* * *

The only real trouble in getting the plane safely to Birmingham was an underpass just west of Utica. The tail of the plane was too high to go under.

The problem was solved by raising the nose of the jet. The tail went down and the 39-foot-wide plane slid through without difficulty.

Scheduled to arrive at the park Tuesday, the delay was encountered when the state police ruled that the craft had to be off the road by 3:30 p.m. so not to tie up traffic.

* * *

The plane was pulled into a vacant gas station at Mound Road and M59, where superintendent of the parks department, Charles Gale, spent the night in a sleeping bag in the jet's exhaust opening.

Sponsors of the gift from the Air Force, the Norman Lyle Air Force Reserve squadron of Birmingham will maintain the plane when it is ready for public use.

The plane will be placed between the ice rink and the tennis court at the park.

Film Star to Talk for Republicans

George Murphy Will Appear in Birmingham for Nixon, Lodge

In his new role as campaigner for the Nixon-Lodge ticket, former screen actor George Murphy will be in Birmingham next Wednesday night.

His hosts will be the Birmingham Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge. Murphy will speak at a 7 p.m. dinner at the Birmingham Community House.

* * *

Known better for his career in Hollywood from 1929 to 1958, Murphy also has made a name for himself in behalf of the Republican party.

Now chairman of the Celebrities for Nixon and Lodge Committee, Murphy has been state chairman in California, a delegate to four national conventions, and has been director of the last two.

"The evening of Oct. 26 will provide an opportunity for securing more information concerning the candidates and to hear an entertaining and able political speaker," said Harry M. Denyes Jr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Bahr, coordinators of the dinner, in a joint statement.

* * *

They've asked that Democrats and so-called independents—as well as Republicans—come out and hear Murphy. Tickets are $4.

Richard C. Van Dusen, vice chairman of the Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge, will introduce Murphy.

State Proposal No. 1 Concerns Tax Dollars

as the district did its financing under provisions of the 1955 law.

PROVED ITS EFFECTIVENESS

Now, after five years of proven effectiveness this amendment, or way of buying and paying for school needs, must be renewed.

* * *

Proposal No. 1 on the November ballot will continue this basic method for 10 more years but make a few changes. The purposes of these changes are:

1. To extend the benefits of financing with "unlimited taxes" to all school bond issues.

2. To modify or change requirements that school districts must levy 13 mills to qualify for a state loan.

3. To remove the limit on the state loan fund.

4. To define bonds that are qualified for loans.

5. To continue the unlimited taxing power given school districts by the 1955 amendment.

These may sound confusing and complex, but the 1955 law merely made it easier for schools to sell bonds to pay for buildings—much like you pay for a home.

* * *

The new amendment will make it more closely like the way you pay off the mortgage on your home.

When you consider buying a home on monthly payments, one of the first things you are asked is where you work, what you do and how much you earn.

ABILITY TO PAY KNOWN

The person you make payments to isn't going to take chances. He wants to be sure you have a reasonably guaranteed yearly or monthly income.

When a school board buys a school, or builds an addition, it must have a guaranteed income.

The school district raises money to pay for new buildings by selling bonds to cover the total cost.

The builder gets his money right away. The bonds are paid off at regular intervals over a period of years, just as you pay a mortgage.

The money to pay off the bonds comes from your pocket in the form of taxes.

* * *

If there is a limited tax rate in any school district, that district has a limited, or at least uncertain, income, which lowers its market appeal.

* * *

This means not so many firms will bid to buy the bonds for a building program, and therefore the board must settle for the best interest rate it can get.

The interest rate is merely what the board pays for "borrowing" money by sale of bonds and paying it back 10 or 20 years later.

The higher the interest, the more taxes needed to pay it off.

Now, the only way to get the best possible deal with the lowest possible interest is to show whoever buys the bonds that you have a solid, guaranteed annual income —that your "credit" is good.

* * *

To do this, the board must be able to set a tax rate with no limits. The tax rate is in terms of mills.

A mill is equal to $1 for every $1,000 of property valuation.

* * *

This ability to set the tax rate at will is what is called "unlimited taxation."

As you see it greatly aids the "credit" of a school district, but there are several qualifications that must be met in order to finance bonds from unlimited taxes.

* * *

One of these is that any bonds paid for by unlimited taxes must not be issued to mature in less than 25 years from the date they are issued.

This decidedly helps fast-growing and tax poor communities, but somewhat hinders a relatively rich, established school district such as Pontiac's.

One of the features of unlimited tax serial bonds is their low interest rate, as previously explained.

* * *

Short term bonds don't have the advantage of these rates.

Many school districts have taxable wealth to finance school building programs over shorter periods of 10, 15, or 20 years without a large increase in the individual's tax burden.

So the first of the five provisions of the new amendment will make available to short-term bonds these low interest rates by removing the 25-year time limit.

It permits the issuance of unlimited tax serial bonds for any number of years up to a maximum of 30 years.

Other major changes listed above will deal mainly with the state loan fund and its qualifications.

QUALIFICATIONS

One qualification for a loan is that a community must show some "reasonable effort" to pay for school building programs.

The measure set by the 1955 law is a 13-mill tax rate. A school district is guaranteed backing from the loan fund to pay for any immediately needed debt above what a 13-mill tax will raise.

This measure of 13 mills is not of much aid to a district like Pontiac, which has a property valuation that offers a sound tax base.

For example, the current millage rate for building program bonds in the Pontiac School District is .01, or $4.01 for every $1,000 of property valuation.

It is safe to say that Pontiac will never need such a fantastic figure as would be produced by a 13-mill tax rate.

This, under the 1955 amendment, automatically leaves this district out in the cold in respect to state loan fund aid.

Property valuation has also gone up in other parts of the state, making 13-mills too high a "measure" of "reasonable local effort."

Therefore, the new amendment provides for a ceiling of 13 mills, giving the power to the State Legislature to change this to a lower figure if, in its judgment, it is desirable to do so.

Also, in many districts where a sudden, unexpected debt occurs but where tax rate is lower than 13 mills, the district cannot get a state loan under the 1955 law.

This is taken care of in the new amendment by providing that such a district can apply for a loan.

Both these changes would help Pontiac, Schimmel says.

The state loan fund does probably more than any one thing to give fast growing school districts good "credit."

Bond "buyers" know that if all else fails the fund will come to the rescue.

It was set up as a fixed fund of $100,000,000 in 1955. When school districts had borrowed $100 million, the fund was gone—or "used up."

It could not be a revolving fund. to be used and paid back many times, according to the 1955 law.

* * *

It has been demonstrated that the sum of $100,000,000 is sufficient. Less than $500,000 has been borrowed in the past five years, and half of that has already been repaid.

But investors, nevertheless, point out that the fund is limited in total figure and has the same weakness of a limited tax issue —questionable credit backing.

The limit would be removed by the new proposal.

It becomes an unrestricted revolving fund instead of a fixed, limited amount that can be used only once.

* * *

Proposal No. 1 also states that all bonds qualified under the 1955 law would automatically be qualified under the new amendment.

Bonds issued after July 1, 1962 would be qualified under terms prescribed by the Legislature.

The new law is not self-executing.

Indian Houses Found in Illinois

131 Counted in Biggest Excavation in U. S. Date to 700 A. D.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The ruins of 131 prehistoric Indian houses—the largest number of such structures to be found in one excavation in North America—have been discovered near Collinsville, Ill.

Dr. Thorne Deuel, director of the Illinois State Museum, said the excavation represents the largest single archaeological undertaking in the central United States since 1940.

★ ★ ★

The 150,000-square foot site, he said, dates back to a period from 700 A.D. to around 1400 A.D.

★ ★ ★

Along with the unearthed ruins, the museum found food storages, fire basins and pits believed to have been locations of clay used for pottery and house walls.

Begun in April under the direction of Dr. Warren L. Wittry, curator of anthropology at the museum, the investigation has centered around an area 2,000 feet from the great Cahokia mound, largest man-made prehistoric earthwork in the Western Hemisphere.

★ ★ ★

Cahokia is believed by archaeologists to have been the center of Indian population for this region for many centuries.

The museum is attempting to learn more about the people who once lived at the site.

President of United Likes Merger Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—William A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines, said a merger of Capital Airlines into United "would remove a serious threat to the credit of the entire airline industry."

★ ★ ★

He testified at the Wednesday opening of a hearing on the merger proposal, that many airlines are having difficulty buying necessary jet equipment.

Patterson said neither United nor any other airline has arranged for the purchase of all the jet equipment needed.

"I have felt strongly that bankruptcy or foreclosure upon the assets of a major domestic trunk line would materially and adversely affect the ability of the industry to obtain the additional financing which it will require on reasonable terms," he said.

★ ★ ★

Vickers-Armstrong, Ltd., started foreclosure action against Capital for $33,717,000 due on purchase of Viscount airliners, but agreed to withhold the action pending a merger agreement satisfactory to the British creditors.

Shotgun Keeps Firing; Minister Loses His Arm

WEST BRANCH (AP)—A Michigan minister, the Rev. Newell Q. Fort of Detroit, lost his right arm in a hunting accident at Clear Lake in Ogemaw County Tuesday.

The Rev. Mr. Fort said he was sitting on a log with a 16-gauge automatic shotgun propped under his arm and that as he started to get up the gun went off, firing three times.

The first shot missed, the second one tore off the minister's right hand and forearm. The third missed. State police said the gun must have been defective to have kept shooting.

Chamber Dedicates Building in Big Rapids

BIG RAPIDS (UPI)—Robert P. Briggs, president of the State Chamber of Commerce, was main speaker Tuesday at the dedication of a new Big Rapids Chamber of Commerce building.

The structure is split-level, red frame and located on U.S. 131. It will be used as an information center as well as a Chamber of Commerce office.

Nasser's Fair Words Don't Mean a Thing

In view of President NASSER's amazing speech in the United Nations, it will be interesting to hear what he has to tell the people of the United Arab Republic now that he has returned home.

★ ★ ★

"There is no problem which concerns our homeland, the United Arab Republic," declared President NACSER, "or which concerns our nation or which relates to the two continents through which our country extends, Asia and Africa, or which relates to any of the world problems — I say, there is no such problem for the solution of which we are not ready to accept the Charter of the United Nations and its principles, the resolutions of the United Nations and its recommendations for a just settlement, with the best of good will."

To the Western world these words, if uttered by a representative of a democracy, would mean that the Suez Canal would be opened to all shipping immediately; that differences with Israel would be settled through the U.N. and that Egypt would make peace with its Arab neighbors.

But if past performances are any guide, President Nasser didn't mean any such thing. Since 1955 his regime has been identified with the violence and unrest in most Arab countries. Only a few days before attending the U.N. he publicly urged the overthrow of King Hussein of Jordan and President Bourguiba of Tunisia whom he called "American stooges."

★ ★ ★

Radio Cairo's vitriolic attacks against neighboring Jordan, Iraq and Lebanon are notorious. Fundamental human rights and democratic freedoms long have been stifled and the free press expropriated.

Any democratic change would be welcome.

Study Press Freedoms at Meeting in Colombia

Freedom of the press is something the Inter American Press Association will study at its annual meeting now in session at Bogota, Colombia.

Probably no other single group has done more to advance the cause of a free press than the IAPA. Actively working on the problem for the past several years is Harold A. Fitzgerald, Publisher of The Pontiac Press. He is currently attending the annual session.

At this writing six Latin American countries can be considered to have a restricted press. Governments where controls of varying degrees exist are: Cuba, The Dominican Republic, El Salvador, French Guiana, Haiti and Paraguay.

★ ★ ★

Generally speaking the Western hemisphere has greater press freedom than most other areas of the world. A recent survey by U.S. News & World Report showed 44 countries with a free press, 15 Communist nations with a controlled press and 81 countries with a restricted press.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the most pernicious erosion of this precious freedom has occurred in Cuba. FIDEL CASTRO's 26th of July Movement took power Jan. 1, 1959 with a promise of absolute freedom of the press. Little more than a year later an IAPA committee reported that virtually the entire Cuban press had either directly or indirectly physically passed into the hands of the government — or had become so intimidated that it cannot be considered free.

★ ★ ★

When one man dictates what the people of his country will read it is following the Communist line. If honest journalists cannot practice their trade then that country has lost any semblance of what we know as a free nation.

Four Havana editors—all now in exile who would not go along with the CASTRO suppression will receive the freedom of the press awards at this meeting of the IAPA.

"MENTAL stupidity is usually caused by a lack of iron in the system," says a physician. If so, many a person should take a medium-sized tire tool—in broken doses, of course.

"A PERSON should have a definite end in view when he or she punishes a child," says a psychologist. Yes, indeed—in view and in handy position for warming up considerably.

"It's All Your Fault"

David Lawrence Says:

Jack's Line Is TV Demagoguery

WASHINGTON — When it comes to dramatics and achieving theatrical effects, the Kennedy management is putting it all over the Nixon management. One stunt out-Checkers the famous Nixon appearance in the 1952 campaign, and another piece of staging outdoes any "Madison Avenue technique" of which the Republicans have frequently been accused.

LAWRENCE

These two television affairs have together just cost the Kennedy management at least $250,000. Both were televised over networks of between 150 and 180 stations.

The first of these two shows occurred on Sunday night, when the smart boys in the Kennedy camp managed to persuade the Columbia Broadcasting System to shorten its regular television program "What's My Line?" and make the last five minutes available for a Kennedy broadcast, paid for by the Citizens for Kennedy organization, thus insuring the continued interest of an audience that had already been gathered for a popular quiz feature.

★ ★ ★

In the second instance, the same technique was used, and the Garry Moore Show on Tuesday night, which also enjoys a high rating, was clipped by five minutes to permit the Kennedy management to put on its show.

Both shows were then presented the following mornings, as paid political telecasts, in the midst of the Dave Garroway program on the National Broadcasting Co. network, where another big audience was assured.

Sen. Kennedy played the role of the leading man in the two skits, and undoubtedly the script was prepared in advance at least for those selected to appear in the act with him.

THREE MOTHERS

In the Sunday night show, there were three mothers who had lost their sons in World War II, and Sen. Kennedy mentioned in passing that he had lost a brother in the same war. The discussion centered on the horrors of war, and the plain implication was that Sen. Kennedy would spare the nation a repetition of such a tragedy.

The Democratic nominee sat at a small table, having tea with the three elderly ladies in an informal, homey atmosphere. The women participants didn't have much to say except to reveal at the outset that they had lost their sons in the war.

It was a dramatic setting, and the Kennedy management certainly took advantage of the emotional undertones in order to help the Democratic nominee get votes.

In the Tuesday night show, the technique was very much the same, but the participants were different. An older man and his wife sat at a table in what appeared to be their home and discussed with Sen. Kennedy the cost to the husband of something around $600 for medical treatment for a broken hip.

Sen. Kennedy pointed out that this was a pretty heavy bill to pay and that, under his administration, social security would take care of such things through a tax which would cost only three cents a day, or about $11 a year, in social security payments.

The Congress had this question up at the last session, and many Democrats as well as Republicans voted against it.

But, irrespective of the merits of the issues themselves as discussed by Sen. Kennedy, the technique used by him was certainly novel.

This may be the forerunner of other theatrical presentations by future presidential nominees, and it could be that the elections hereafter will turn on who is the best actor and who can play the best role on the television screen with scripts that touch the sympathies and emotions of the people.

All this, of course, is what the dictionary defines as "demagoguery," but that word has not been applied to Sen. Kennedy. It has usually been directed against Nixon who, it will be recalled, appeared on television in connection with a controversy that arose in the autumn of 1952 over a political fund.

The Country Parson

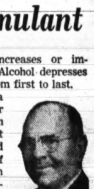

"More folks would be willing to turn to God for help if He'd agree to do what they want done."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Virtues of Alcohol Dose as Stimulant Overrated

A stimulant increases or improves function. Alcohol depresses every function from first to last.

When I was a young doctor practicing in Penn Yan, I spent some hard-earned cash for a copy of the latest edition of Hare's Practical Therapeutics. You see, in those days, Hobart Amory Hare, M. D., B. Sc., at least in my book, belonged on the top shelf alongside of William Osler.

DR. BRADY

Hare's book was our textbook in medical school, and I was anxious to learn what advances therapeutics had made in the three years since I had received my degree.

★ ★ ★

Upon receiving the book I dipped into the chapter on alcohol, and I was flabbergasted. Prof. Hare was still positive enough in describing the physiological action of alcohol. He still asserted: "Alcohol never acts as a true stimulant to the brain, spinal cord, or the nerves. It is in no sense a true stimulant to the circulation. On the contrary, its dominant influence is depressant."

That was all right, according to Hoyle, and it has remained so, up to the present day. But, having presented our 20th Century knowledge of alcohol, Dr. Hare drifted back to the 19th Century and asserted baldly that "Alcohol is a rapidly-acting stimulant in all forms of cardiac" ($1.80 word for heart) "failure, fainting, surgical shock, chronic pneumonia in its later stages, snakebite" and what have you.

Every time I look at the 10th edition of Hare, which I still have, I feel cheated.

Professor Hare's exhibition is or was typical of modern medicine. The heck with medical science — that's just something to occupy the time of medical students. A doctor who hopes to build a lucrative practice must have no compunctions towards whatever use customers may make of beer, wine and liquor.

I hope every reader, at least every young reader, will understand clearly that beer, wine or liquor, in small or large doses, depresses or weakens and does not stimulate or increase efficiency of mind or body in any circumstance.

One who understands this — and I'm sure no reputable physiologist or physician will dispute it — will recognize that the drinker who "feels the need of a stimulant" really craves a narcotic, alcohol, which makes the poor yap, for an hour or less, unaware of his weakness or failure, unconscious of his poor health unpoliced by his conscience or unashamed of his wretched conduct.

A shot or several shots of liquor will do this for half an hour or so at any time the addict wants to hide his head in the sand.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Today Proclaimed Credit Union Day by President

The third Thursday in October has been proclaimed by President Dwight D. Eisenhower as International Credit Union Day.

It will be celebrated by hundreds of meetings around the world. This is a far cry from its humble beginning 100 years ago in a small German village where the Burgomaster put into practice the idea that credit should be made available on the basis of need and in the spirit of mutual aid.

★ ★ ★

Sixty years ago the movement spread to the North American continent. Ten years ago about 3 persons out of 100 were Credit Union members, but 6 out of 100 are members today. The total population in the United States has increased about 20 per cent in the last decade. Credit Union membership has more than doubled.

★ ★ ★

In our own area the first credit union was organized in 1928 by the employes of the Pontiac Postal Department. We have today, in Oakland County a total of 69 credit unions whose members will pay tribute to our forerunners for the helping hand they extended to their fellow man.

Let us pattern ourselves after them and let their inspiration give us courage and endurance. In the words of Edward Filene, who gave over a million dollars of his own personal fortune to further the movement in this country, "Let us keep purpose constant here."

'Better Wake Up—Vote Republican'

Wake up American voters who would vote for Mr. Kennedy, the man who would have our president apologize to that "slob" from Russia; the man who would appease the "slob" from Russia; the man who belongs to same party as Eleanor Roosevelt, who entertained the "slob."

Vote for Mr. Nixon and Mr. Lodge, the men who will not give an inch to the Communists and save our freedom and lives.

M. E. C.

'Do You Understand Social Security?'

You working people who are under social security should be sure you understand what it means to take medical aid for the aged out of your social security. Seek out your friends 70 years old and see how much social security covers their needs. You will have problems when you are their age if medical aid comes out of this fund, which is in its infancy and not strong enough to carry its own load let alone take on something this big. Even so, it will not help the many people not covered by social security.

Who knows what 20 years can bring? This is everyone's problem and it depends on you as a voter to be sure you understand this issue. Don't say they can't do it. That is what the veterans said about their fund, but where is it? Don't let anyone tamper with our social security.

'Let GOP Diehards Talk to Themselves'

I see these Republicans are after Harry Truman again. Did they ever take a look at the record of this administration. It isn't so hot. Take the credit away from the working people and I am inclined to think you would have another Hoover administration made to order. Let's get behind Kennedy and let these diehards talk to themselves for a change.

Jack's Flint Speech Gets Reviewing

Sen. Kennedy at the end of his speech in Flint on Labor Day told the audience that automation in industry is a subject of collective bargaining.

Do we remember the fatal position of the revolutionists in England who a century ago tried to destroy the looms that replaced hand weaving? To oppose money-saving and labor-saving machinery is to oppose economic progress. To follow Sen. Kennedy's advice and fight automation could lead to crippling strikes and physical strife.

★ ★ ★

It may also be asked why Reuther with the cooperation of subtle politicians is pushing for medical aid under the Social Security system. Are they interested in the welfare of our needy aged? Definitely not. Our needy aged have not asked for aid and most of them say they do not need it. Furthermore, a great many of our needy aged are not enrolled in the Social Security setup. The next step following medical aid for the aged is complete socialized medicine.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Kennedy has promised "full parity" of income for the American farmer. According to professional U.S. Department of Agriculture economists in order to boost prices that much, farm production would have to be cut back tremendously. By such rigid controls and loss of normal markets, the typical farmer will be a part-time peasant with a few acres of wheat, corn, small amount of livestock and poultry. It requires recognition that the law of supply and demand remain an economic reality.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Hear, for I will speak noble things, and from my lips will come what is right;—Proverbs 8:6.

We should be as careful of our words as of our actions. And as far from speaking ill as from doing ill.—Cicero.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Middle-Aged Spouse Accuses Wife

Sam is a classical example of the middle-aged jealous husband. Notice his accusations against his innocent wife. She thinks he must be losing his mind. But his subconscious is simply producing a clever camouflage to disguise a deep sexual secret. Scrapbook this clinical case and its follow-up tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE G - 404: Sam S., aged 47, is a prominent business executive.

"But he is excessively jealous," his wife began.

"And he makes the most outlandish charges, right in front of our children.

"He claims I am untrue to him and that I am having an affair with some other man, which is so obviously false that nobody believes him.

DR. CRANE

"But he jumps around in his charges, claiming that it is first one man, then another.

"For example, he is now jealous of our doctor. Later, he may accuse me of loving our clergyman. Next, it may be an insurance man, etc.

"I have been true to Sam all my life and I am sure he knows that. But two weeks ago, I learned he even hired detectives to trail me, so is he losing his mind or what?"

FEAR BREEDS JEALOUSY

Sam's case is a classical example of the middle-aged husband whose waning sex desires are producing platonic condition.

"How can I hold my wife's devotion?" is then the haunting question that terrifies such a man.

"I can't offer as much as other males, so I must be suspicious of everybody else."

Coupled with this secret inferiority complex, is usually another false notion of men, namely, that wives are passionate creatures.

Although the average husband knows better as a result of the comparative frigidity of his wife for the previous 25 years, he suddenly seems to magnify his wife's erotic hunger as soon as he wanes in his own ardor.

Moreover, if he accuses her unmercifully and constantly, this forces her to protest that, "You know I love you and have never even looked at any other man."

That is sweet solace to his terrified ego.

SEX CAMOUFLAGE

But there is another secret reason why an aging husband often becomes a chronic accuser of his innocent wife.

★ ★ ★

It diverts her attention so she is not so likely to suspect that he is platonic.

For when he angrily charges her with clandestine affairs, he subconsciously figures that she will:

(1) Be so concerned with denying and defending herself that she will overlook his lack of ardor.

(2) If she does wonder at his lack of physical affection, she will assume it is due to his anger, since everybody knows that anger checkmates love.

The subconscious mind can concoct the cleverest subterfuges and smoke screens imaginable.

In fact, it will do such a splendid camouflage job that it often hoodwinks the victim himself.

"Let not your right hand know what your left hand doeth," is a Biblical statement that perfectly describes the apparent barrier between the conscious mind and the subconscious.

★ ★ ★

But this barrier is not as complete as the patient would believe, for we psychiatrists can break it down quickly by hypnosis or more slowly by the personal interview.

And that was how I obtained Sam's shamefaced confession, as outlined tomorrow. Scrapbook this classical case of a jealous middle aged husband.

Again Endorses Dem Slate

AFL-CIO Ignores GOP

Republicans again have been shut out of the slate of favored candidates drawn up by the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council.

It's the Republican candidates' fault that they didn't receive any endorsements, the Union said, because they were extended invitations to appear before a screening committe, but didn't show up.

Had they done so, some might have won endorsement because the Union, in releasing its slate belatedly, said the committee "felt there were several Republican candidates worthy of consideration had they sought the endorsements." Their names weren't mentioned.

All Democrats requested — and received — endorsements, according to Fred V. Haggard, council president.

GOP ANSWERS

A spokesman for the Republican committee of the county said Republicans were given too short notice. "We also felt from the start this was a propaganda gimmick so the Union could toss barbs back our way for not turning out," the spokesman said.

The Union's Committee on Political Education (COPE) is backing S. Jerome Bronson, candidate for the State Senate, attorney for a congressional candidate in the primary who went to court to oppose a similar union slate of primary favorites.

Bronson didn't win endorsement then, but his opponent Joseph T. Stadnik did. Bronson defeated Stadnik in the primary.

Leading off the Nov. 8 slate were Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, president and vice president candidates, Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, candidate for re-election as senator from Michigan, and James G. Kellis, Oakland County Congressional candidate.

Favored also were John B. Swainson for governor, T. John Lesinski, for lieutenant governor and the entire incumbent Democratic Administrative Board of Sec. of State James M. Hare, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, Treasurer Sanford A. Brown and Auditor Gen. Otis M. Smith.

Supreme Court Justice Theodore Souris received the nod in the "nonpartisan" contest for his post on the high court.

★ ★ ★

Another "nonpartisan" candidate, Donald E. Adams, landed a spot on the slate in his bid for the county's second probate court post.

Other endorsements were:

For state representative:
District 1—Patrick K. Daly.
District 2—Rep. Arthur P. Law.
District 3—James M. McNeely.
District 4—Rep. S. James Clarkson.
District 5—William A. O'Brien.
District 6—John C. Hitchcock.

For county offices:
Prosecutor—George J. Fulkerson.
Sheriff—Homer Hight.
Clerk-Register of Deeds —David S. Lees.
Treasurer—William K. Benson.
Drain Commissioner — Roy J. Russell.
Surveyor — Stanley F. Dunn.

Auto Show Salutes Industry's Pioneers

DETROIT (UPI)—The men who helped pioneer in the auto industry were in the spotlight today at the National Auto Show along with national defense.

About 400 members of the Automotive Old Timers, a group formed 21 years ago, attended a luncheon in Cobo Hall.

They signed a scroll which will be presented to President Eisenhower as a memento of his visit to the show Monday.

National Defense Day also was being observed today, with the auto industry's contribution as the "arsenal of democracy" underscored by display of a space television capsule and trucks and tanks.

Courtroom May Be In for an Ocelot of Noise

Lathrup Village police have ticketed the owner of an ocelot, which is not an undersized foreign sportscar but an oversized South American cat.

Police say the animal is dangerous.

The ocelot's owner, Edith McNeal, 33, of 27930 E. California St., Lathrup Village, says her Wendy is not dangerous and gets along fine with her two cats and mongrel dog.

Police said they have received several complaints from neighbors about the animal, which is about a foot high, a yard long and looks like a small leopard.

Miss McNeal, who originally wanted to buy a baby lion but was advised to take the ocelot instead, said she keeps Wendy in the house most of the time and has heard no complaints.

She said she is contacting ocelot owners from all over the state to accompany her when she appears before Justice of the Peace James K. O'Leary.

Miss McNeal reported there are some 151 ocelot owners in Michigan. There also is a national ocelot owners' organization, she said.

Justice O'Leary and the police better be prepared for the invasion of the ocelots.

Club Federation Picks Michigan Officers

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Mrs. Cameron Carruthers of Bancroft is new president of the West Central District of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs.

She was elected Wednesday at a Grand Haven meeting attended by 120 district members.

Other new officers are Mrs. Arnold Svebilius, Grand Haven, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Beckmeyer, Edmore, secretary; and Mrs. Winchell Brown, St. Jones, treasurer.

State Freeways Expected to Show Accident Drop

EAST LANSING (AP) — The completion of Michigan's controlled-access highways will save a minimum of one life for each 10 miles, says Gerald W. Graves, executive director of the Michigan Good Roads Federation.

★ ★ ★

Graves said that accident studies on 196 miles of freeways showed that accidents dropped 77 per cent and injuries 74 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Graves also cited economic advantages to the new freeway system— among them a 5,000 employe automobile plant in the Novi-Wixom area.

Leave Camp Pontiac

2 Prisoners Take Walk

Two more prisoners walked away from Camp Pontiac in White Lake Township last night.

Being sought today by area police are Lewis F. McKinley, 24, and Richard Cummings, 21, both believed to be from Bay City.

Cummings was serving a 1½- to 10-year sentence for armed robbery in Ogemaw County. McKinley was sentenced to 1½-to 14 years for forgery in Gratiot County.

The men were discovered missing when a bed-check was made by prison guards at 10 p.m. They are believed to have walked away from the minimum security prison camp.

★ ★ ★

Two escapees from Camp Pontiac last month, Gerald K. Davis, 32, of Rochester, and Melvin Blake, 28, of Grand Rapids, were identified as the pair that held up a Wayne City Bar last night with shotguns.

They fled with $600 from bar receipts and $300 from customers, driving off in a light blue 1956 or '57 Ford.

They also stole identification cards, a driver's license and a pilot's license from one of the bar patrons, Donald Cousins.

★ ★ ★

This is the second stick-up they are believed to have pulled since they walked off from the camp undetected Sept. 12.

★ ★ ★

Earlier this month they held up the Country View Inn in Pontiac Township at gun point and fled with $400 in cash.

FLINT (UPI)—City Clerk Lloyd S. Hendon has certified petitions calling for an April 1961 referendum on the proposed banning of floor shows in Flint bars.

Hendon said more than 3,000 valid signatures had been turned in by a citizens' group. Mrs. John Maxson, an office worker, heads the group.

Tuskegee Arguments End in High Court

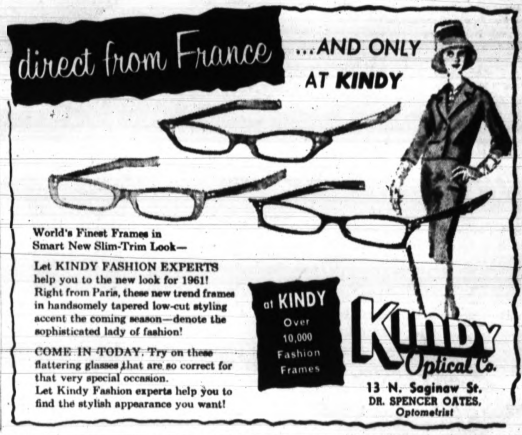

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court concluded arguments Wednesday on a challenge to the boundary revision of Tuskegee, Ala., home of the famed Negro school, Tuskegee Institute.

A Justice Department spokesman told the high court that the Constitution bars the states from passing any law which results in setting up "'racial and religious ghettos.'"

A challenger need only show that the state law is "'in substance and effect racial discrimination,'" regardless of the actual language, said Philip Elman of the solicitor general's office.

Elman referred to a 1957 Alabama law which redrew the boundaries of Tuskegee to exclude most of the Negro population and all but four or five Negro voters.

Benson, in State, Blasts Kennedy

Secretary Gets Chance to Criticize Someone Else's Farm Program

By The Associated Press

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson headlined Michigan's political campaign picture Wednesday with a blast at the farm program advocated by Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy as "'fantastic — a nightmare.'"

Benson said the American people are being asked to consider "'a fantastic farm program that would put the farmer under the tightest controls ever seen in this country. This is the worst farm program, bar none, that I have ever seen.'"

The Republican secretary told the Michigan State Grange's annual convention at Michigan State University that the program would "'strap all phases of agriculture into this straight jacket — producers of livestock, dairy products, poultry, fruit and vegetables, as well as producers of food and feed grains, tobacco, cotton and other fibers.'

"'Every farmer who receives marketing quotas expressed in bushels, barrels and bales. It is a one-way ticket to disaster. I don't believe it ever will be enacted into law.'"

Of his tenure in office, he said the Eisenhower administration does not have "and we never have had, anywhere near the full program of price supports we asked for. We have a little of what we asked for, but even this came too late to be effective."

Benson also said he would not be interested in serving in any capacity if Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP presidential nominee, is elected.

"I have other duties of more importance in the Mormon Church," he said.

Another top Republican was conspicious by his absence from the state Wednesday.

Henry Cabot Lodge, the GOP vice presidential nominee, had planned a half-hour stop at Benton Harbor but canceled it because he was running behind schedule and because of bad weather.

Brand Tale of Regret a Smear on Nixon

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI)—A spokesman for Vice President Richard M. Nixon Wednesday branded as a smear a report by Sen. J. William Fulbright that Nixon "indicated his regret" to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev over the captive nations resolution in 1959.

Fulbright said he had been informed that the Republican presidential candidate did so with respect to the timing of the resolution passed by Congress just before Nixon's visit to Russia last year.

"This is obviously a campaign smear," Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said.

Nixon has been assailing his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, for having suggested President Eisenhower might have expressed regret to Khrushchev over the U2 spy plane incident if such action could have prevented

Ex-Dealers Sue Midas Muffler

13 Ask $5.47 Million in Damages on Charge of Trade Conspiracy

CHICAGO (UP) — Thirteen former Midas automobile muffler dealers sued the parts supplier for nearly $5.5 million Wednesday on charges of conspiracy to retain trade.

★ ★ ★

The former dealers declared in their U.S. District Court suit their actual damages amounted to $1,824,000 and that under the anti-trust laws they are entitled to triple damages of $5,472,000.

Defendants in the civil suit are the Parent Company, International Parts Corp., Chicago, and three subsidiaries, Midas, Inc., Powell Muffler Co., Inc., and Muffler Corp. of America, all of Chicago.

The former dealers charged that since Jan. 1, 1955, International and its wholly owned subsidiaries forced dealers to sign exclusive contracts for parts which forbade them from obtaining materials from other suppliers.

Some 250 such contracts in 25 states were entered into, the suit set forth, and the dealers were compelled to pay higher prices for parts than available from other suppliers.

The suit said the arrangement constituted an illegal conspiracy that produced discriminatory trade practices forbidden by antitrust statutes.

Argentina Plans Look at Communist Activities

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP)—The government Wednesday published a decree naming a seven-member committee to investigate Communist activities in Argentina.

Headed by Hector Caceres Monie, undersecretary of defense, the committee will advise the government of President Arturo Frondizi on measures to take against Communists, especially in public office.

During a government crisis last week, army generals charged that Communists or their sympathizers were active in many sectors of Argentina life, though the Reds have been barred from political action.

Thieves Intrigued

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Our 7-year-old Weimaraner has a broken blood vessel in his ear. Is there a cure for this? Florence Midgett of St. Louis.

A. I believe you are referring to a broken blood vessel in the lobe of the ear. This will cause the ear to swell and fill with blood, which then coagulates.

★

The rupture of a lobe blood vessel is often caused by violent head-shaking. When canker sores, ear-mites, etc. are present inside the ear, the dog instinctively shakes his head.

★ ★ ★

Treatment of the inner ear will stop the head-shaking. The only successful way to remove a blood clot is through surgery, and there is a possibility that the ear may be slightly deformed after the operation.

Waterford Couple Wins Accident Case

A Waterford Township couple, Mr. and Mrs. Cramer H. Bess of 5330 Lynsue Lane, have been awarded $21,389 in a judgment for injuries suffered in an accident near Newton, Iowa, last Nov. 22.

Jasper County District Court Judge R. G. Yoder rendered the judgment late Tuesday night in a suit against the estate of T. R. Klyn, driver of the other car.

★ ★

Klyn was killed in the accident. His car allegedly failed to stop for a stop sign at a highway junction and struck the Bess car.

Big Fire Leaves 10,000 Homeless in Philippines

MANILA (UPI)—A seven-hour fire razed three fourths of the Southern Philippine town of Jolo Wednesday and destroyed $3 million in property. Ten thousand persons were left homeless.

Described as the worst fire to hit that part of the Philippines, it roared through the commercial block, completely destroying the municipal building, the public market and the biggest stores.

Vote of Confidence Called For in France

PARIS (UPI) — Premier Michel Debre called for a vote of confidence in the National Assembly early today to end a furious debate on President Charles de Gaulle's plan for an independent nuclear striking force for France.

* * *

The fate of the French government rested in the hands of 551 deputies who were expected to vote on Debre's motion Monday.

But it was almost a foregone conclusion that the government would win the first major political battle to hit France since De Gaulle was swept to power a little over two years ago.

Debre's action was greeted by a storm of shouts and desk-banging from the right and left-wing members of parliament. Only the 215 solidly pro-De Gaulle members of his UNR party cheered.

* * *

Former Premier Guy Mollet shouted, "Resign, Resign" shortly after Debre finished speaking.

Dr. Kenneth Randolph of the University of West Virginia made that claim Wednesday at the American Dental Association. He estimated that in all there were about 700 million decayed teeth now in need of treatment.

A-Rocket Forerunner Gets 15-Minute Test

MERCURY, Nev. (AP)—A test reactor which may be a forerunner of the power plant for America's first atomic-powered rocket has completed a 15-minute test run on the desert here.

The Kiwi A3 is mounted on a railroad flat car.

After the test Wednesday the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported that it appeared to have performed to specifications.

City Goes Shopping

Wanted: a Free Yule Tree

Only 67 days till Christmas.

* * *

Lots of time? No, not for the parks and recreation department, which is shopping around for a free Christmas tree.

Thanksgiving is only 34 days away, and that's about the time the city usually hoists the big tree at Saginaw Street and Oakland Avenue, signaling the holiday season.

The city is not exactly looking for a handout.

ONE IN WRONG PLACE?

It isn't interested, for instance, in your favorite evergreen, the one that proudly dominates your front lawn. Or at least the city doesn't expect you to donate it.

But how about that nice looking tree that happened to grow up in the wrong place?

The one that looked so cute as a sapling outside your window but now, with growth, is threatening to burst in through the wall? Or the one that's gradually blocking your driveway?

* * *

"This is the sort of tree that's usually donated," explained Donald Nagle, Pontiac forester.

Last year's donation was kingly, 40-foot-high specimen that had been overcrowding a home and other, younger trees.

The city also accepts donations of small trees for transplanting. Most of the Civic Center trees were donations.

Joke and Grin During Al Smith Dinner

Dick and Jack Make Fun at Feast of Faith

By BRUCE AGNEW

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy met with a grin and a gag Wednesday night at the annual Alfred E. Smith Memorial Dinner, then turned serious to express hopes that the religious issue of the 1928 campaign would not be revived.

"Religion should not be an issue in the campaign," Nixon said in his speech at the $100-a-plate charity dinner, "and it will not be, certainly, if those of us who are of good will . . . can do everything we can to keep the real issues before the American people by not discussing religion."

Kennedy put the same thought this way:

"1960 is not 1928. I am confident that whatever their (the voters') verdict, Republican or Democratic, myself or Mr. Nixon, that their judgment will not be based on any extraneous issue, but on the real issues of our time."

In 1928, Republican Herbert Hoover was the unwilling beneficiary of a vicious whispering campaign against the religion of Democrat Al Smith, the first Roman Catholic ever to run for the presidency.

Also present at the 16th annual Alfred E. Smith dinner were Francis Cardinal Spellman, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, former New York Gov. Averell Harriman, Mayor Robert F. Wagner and the state's two Republican senators, Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating.

Nixon was dressed in white tie and tails and Kennedy in a tuxedo.

As they walked away from a picture-taking session, the vice president tugged at his tight collar and proposed that the two candidates "make a deal . . . whoever is elected will abolish the white tie."

Both opened their speeches to the 2,500 persons at the dinner with a series of political jokes, dividing the barbs between Republicans and Democrats.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy said he had sent former President Truman a telegram concerning Truman's off-the-cuff remark in Texas that anyone who voted Republican could "go to hell." Kennedy's telegram, he said, read:

★ ★ ★

"I have noted with interest your suggestion as to where those who vote for my opponent should go. While I understand and sympathize with your deep motivation, I think it is important that our side try to refrain from raising the religious issue."

Nixon said the worst smear of the campaign was a statement by Fidel Castro that the two men running for president were a couple of beardless youths. "Now I resent that," Nixon said. "I resent it because, as Sen. Kennedy well knows, after my first television debate, my makeup man said I had the worst beard since Sal Maglie."

SEES SIMILARITIES

Kennedy said there were similarities between the issues of 1928 and 1960 but that the American voter is not the same, and lives in a different world. "In 1960, as never before, our enemy is loose on the other side," he said.

Nixon referred to a statement he made earlier this year that a legitimate religious issue would arise only if one of the candidates had not faith in God.

He said, "America must present to the world the image of a people concerned about the problems of the world because of poverty and disease and tryanny exist we would be concerned even if there were no communism."

Somewhere between 500,000 to 1,000,000 people are expected to fall victim to poison ivy during a season.

Renault Workers Protest Firings

PARIS (AP)—About 10,000 Renault workers demonstrated Wednesday against the government-controlled auto firm's plan to dismiss 3,000 employes.

★ ★ ★

Renault, France's largest auto manufacturer, announced the cutback in its 60,000-man work force earlier this week. A company statement said a drop in export sales forced a slowdown in production.

WITH CARDINAL — Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, was among the guests, with Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, at the 16th annual Alfred E. Smith Memorial Dinner in New York City Wednesday. The cardinal delivered the invocation and the presidential candidates delivered several jokes and an air of good fellowship. Both candidates said religion should not be an election issue.

Armadillos Migrating Out of Texas but Why?

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Armadillos are moving out of West Texas, and nobody seems to know why.

Small herds of the sharp-clawed, cat-sized, shell-encased throwbacks to prehistoric times are slowly heading into east Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. Biologists said it might be because of a drought in West Texas, or because of a gradual disappearance of their normal food supply — ants and grubworms.

NEW WEAPON — Spec 4 Charles B. Greer of Ft. Meyer, Va., poses with a 40-millimeter grenade launcher newly developed by the Army. The weapon weighs six pounds, has an aluminum barrel and fires a nine-ounce projectile (left) designed to knock out enemy bunkers, machine gun nests or small troop concentration. The Army announced Wednesday that the weapon would be issued to troops early in the year.

He Predicts Negroes to Vote for Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. William L. Dawson, D-Ill., predicted today a record six million Negroes would vote this year, 75 per cent of them for Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy.

The Negro congressman said in a statement, "Negroes have confidence in the Democratic party on civil rights and the basic economic issues which affect the working man."

Dawson said "Many Negroes who voted for President Eisenhower have had enough of the Republicans."

Oh, the Wine Will Flow

Two U. of M. Scientists Named to Missile Group

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Dr. George Zissis and Dr. Gwynn Suits, of the University of Michigan's Willow Run laboratories, have been appointed to the government's newly-formed technical advisory group for ballistic missile defense.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Zissis is head of the ballistic missile radiation analysis center of the laboratories, and Dr. Suits is director of the infrared laboratory.

★ ★ ★

The group, which also includes scientists from MIT, Stanford Research Institute and Cornell University, will be advisors in a government research project known as Defender, a program developing antiballistic missile defenses.

Dem Swainson Outlines 14-Point Education Plan

EN ROUTE WITH SWAINSON (AP — Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson outlined a 14-point education program which he said would get Michigan "in step with the immense new challenges of our times."

The program was announced at a Wednesday meeting with some 50 schoolteachers in Benton Harbor, one of the stops along the campaign trail for the Democratic nominee for governor.

★ ★ ★

Highlights of the Swainson program included:

— A $8,600 minimum annual wage for all teachers with 10 years experience, and a starting pay of $4,800 a year for all with bachelor degrees. The Republicans, he said, offer teachers merely gratitude and praise, "I offer them money."

—Defense of academic freedom whenever it is attacked.

—Elimination of discrimination in any area of education activity.

IMPROVED AID

—Improvements in state school aid directed toward equalizing education opportunities between communities and special help where reorganization imposes unusual financial hardships.

—State assistance for school construction.

—Reduction in pupil-teacher ratio to 28 to 1.

(Current average over all ratio in the state is 26.8 to 1; 28.8 to 1 in elementary grades and 23.9 to 1 in high schools).

Swainson blamed what he termed a Republican-controlled legislature for the fact that no funds have been appropriated for new classrooms and laboratories in the past three years.

The lieutenant governor said that raising tuition fees for students at the University of Michigan and Michigan State University was the equivalent of setting up a quota system.

Those without adequate money are thus prevented from getting a college education, he said.

"Education is the ultimate salvation of our country," Swainson declared. "There is nothing more important."

Says Jack Hits U.S. for All Woe

Lodge Also 'Believes' Nixon Would Name a Negro to His Cabinet

EN ROUTE WITH LODGE (UPI) — Henry Cabot Lodge, campaigning in upstate New York Wednesday, charged that Sen. John F. Kennedy is "blaming everything that goes wrong in the world" on the U.S. government.

He also expressed his "belief" there will be a Negro in the Cabinet if Vice President Richard M. Nixon is elected president.

Lodge directed his criticism of Kennedy to the Massachusetts senator's comments on U.S. loss of prestige and, specifically, to Kennedy's remarks deploring the advance of the iron curtain to Cuba.

Lodge said there has been a shift in the power balance in the world since World War II because the United States did not wish to be "the only power" and helped to restore other war ravaged nations.

He stressed that prestige is a matter of whether a nation's word is good and whether its motives are noble. He said U.S. world prestige remains high.

He said Kennedy and other Democratic campaigners are blaming all world problems on the U.S. government and such a policy is "like blaming FDR (Franklin D. Roosevelt) for Hitler or Japanese militarism."

★ ★ ★

Asked for his views on the admittance of American newsmen to Communist China, Lodge said he generally favors a policy of "freedom of information" there with the understanding that newsmen who entered Red China could not be protected by the U.S. government.

A former newsman, Lodge said he thinks police harrassment, language barriers and other difficulties would prevent U.S. newsmen from piling up "a lot of good stories" about that nation.

Pontiac Products Share Spotlight at Auto Show

BIG ATTRACTION — Record crowds at the 43rd National Automobile Show in Detroit's mammoth new Cobo Hall had thinned visibly by the fourth day, but the General Motors Truck and Coach Division display was still a major attraction. Visitors were greatly impressed at the many trucks, ranging from the half-ton pickup to the big tractors, "kings of the highway" and the gleaming suburban bus coach.

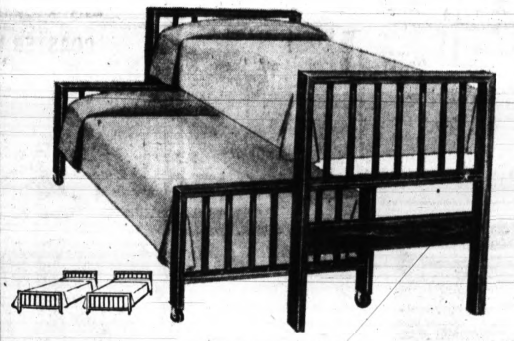

CROWD PLEASER — Yawning jaws of Pontiac's new compact Tempest is drawing a large crowd constantly at the auto show, which lasts until Sunday. The unitized body of the Tempest lifts from the wheel base in this exhibit to show revolutionary mechanical advances made possible by placing the transmission over the rear axle, connected to the husky gas-saving four-cylinder engine by a flexible drive-shaft. This not only cuts down space lost to the floor hump, which is virtually non-existant in the Tempest, but provides a 50-50 weight distribution for a smoother ride. Three other clean-styled Tempests including the station wagon are included in the Pontiac display. Tempests will appear in dealer showrooms Nov. 3.

DREAM CAR COMES TRUE—These attractive young ladies were enticed by the luxury of the custom-built 1961 Bonneville convertible in the Pontiac exhibit area at Cobo Hall. They are (from left) Kristina Knudsen, Heather Bennett and Lisa Knudsen. Lisa and Kristina are daughters of Pontiac General Manager S.E. Knudsen. The special Bonneville, appropriately termed the Moda d' Oro, features a pearlescent gold exterior color and gold lame cloth with ivory and gold leather interior. It is one of 17 Pontiac models at the show.

'MY DADDY MAKES 'EM' — Four-year-old Dick Coombs Jr. of Utica inspects one of the trucks his father helps build as he visits the GMC Truck & Coach Division display at the auto show. Judging by his own transportation, the youngster plans to become a truck man himself when he grows up.

Stevenson Criticizes Ike's Soviet Policies

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson said Wednesday the Eisenhower administration "talked loudly and carried a small stick."

"We need a toughly realistic policy which leaves the Russians in no doubt of the fact that military adventures do no pay," he told a meeting of members of the National Counsel of Jewish Women.

"We must stop being obsessed with what Mr. (Soviet Premier Nikita S.) Khrushchev is after and we must start to find out what we positively and generously and decisively want to do ourselves."

Strong Newspaper Is Your Protection

(EDITOR'S NOTE: John H. Colburn is managing editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch and president of The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn.)

By JOHN H. COLBURN

The scope and power of your newspaper as a community force have changed drastically during the past 50 years. Today the dimensions of this force and the restrictions certain groups seek to impose on it are too little understood.

How often have you viewed your newspaper as—

* * *

1—A stout defender of your liberties;

2—A voice against injustice;

3—A tireless prober into the acts of your public officials;

4—A constructive influence in your community?

* * *

An American community has many components but at the hub of every vibrant community is its newspaper.

* * *

If there was ever a time that there was a need for strong, stable newspaper hubs in our communities it is today.

We need newspapers so that people can see and understand the workings of our society . . . so that they can get the feel, fascination and excitement of national and international affairs and achieve a sense of participating in current history.

OFFERS BACKGROUNDS

Newspapers are needed to make the city's budget hearing or last night's ball game more than a jumble of statistics.

Despite enormous progress by newspapers in reaching a high plane of community responsibility, obstacles remain in efforts to serve the public more effectively.

Many politicians and government officialdom have not been in the least sympathetic to this greater community responsibility because they realize it means a more searching spotlight on their activities.

Officials would—and some have—barred the public and the press from information of legitimate interest to a substantial segment of the public.

JOHN H. COLBURN

Public business should be the public's business—not solely the business of public office-holders and their allies.

* * *

The public's right to legitimate information is a vital right. Courts and legislative bodies have recognized that newspapers represent the public as a medium of information. That right has been legally supported, not for the benefit of newspapers—but for the benefit of the public.

A newspaper's responsibility—and that of an editor—is the same as that of any good citizen. Private rights or feelings should not be invaded without a sure warrant of the public right as distinguished from public curiosity.

Our Constitution says that "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging freedom of speech or of the press . . ."

* * *

This means that every person is protected in the right to speak freely or to distribute views in printed form.

USE GOOD TASTE

The only restrictions are the legal ones dealing with libel and slander laws and the moral ones which come under the heading of good taste.

Newspapers must constantly face up to these same restrictions but these problems are not nearly as difficult as those of gaining access to news that is being suppressed.

Some of this suppression is inadvertent, resulting from the lack of knowledge of news operations. Much is deliberate.

Some information is suppressed on the pretense that its disclosure would violate the nation's security.

There is no dispute among responsible editors that legitimate security information should be withheld. However, when government agencies classify information "secret" to keep it from the eyes of Congress and the public to cover up inefficiency, poor judgment and sometimes corruption then the public interest is being jeopardized.

* * *

News is what interests people. But it likewise is information that you wouldn't get if newspapermen didn't break down the barriers to essential truth.

Some of our critics say the newspapers devote too much space to crime and other subjects that should not be printed.

An analysis of the news content of the average newspaper will show a small amount of crime news in relation to the total news content of the paper.

Let's not dismiss the distressing parts of the news product as being some editor's malicious obsession with in and gossip. Such matters are a part of our life and their exposure is a healthful process.

Editors—and this is reflected in the continuing studies of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association—are primarily interested in keeping pace with the widening horizons of our readers.

Our job is to provide information through the written word and visual aids such as pictures, charts and maps to help readers appraise the challenging issues and developments of our day.

* * *

The newspaper, as the community hub, also is the market place for merchants and shoppers. It makes a diligent effort to keep advertising truthful and clean so that through its columns the buyer and seller can bargain over the needs of the day—whether it be food, furniture or automobiles.

* * *

Newspapers dedicated to pursuing the essential truth must be economically strong and independent of all groups and factions. Those newspapers here and abroad which have compromised with the truth—even if only by an attitude of silence—have been the first to pass out of existence because they sacrificed the confidence of their readers.

The columns of your newspaper daily unfold the story of humanity—its struggles, its hopes, its brutalities, its heroism, its stupidities, its triumphs, is failures.

Your newspaper can expose outstanding performance as well as misfeasance—and it does. By interpreting and clarifying issues, it creates better understanding.

EARLY VOTER—Mrs. Patricia Lawford, wife of actor Peter Lawford and sister of Sen. John F. Farley Predicts Biggest Dem Win Since 1932

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley predicted Wednesday night that Sen. John F. Kennedy would win the presidential election in a victory "as big as 1932" when Franklin Roosevelt swept the country.

Roosevelt, whose early victories were managed by Farley, won the 1932 election with 472 out of 531 electoral votes.

Farley labeled as a "lot of hokum" the contention of many political experts who have said there are large numbers of undecided voters.

The earth is 50 times the size of the moon.

Wednesday's Embargoes About Reach Limit

Not Much More Can Be Done With Cuba

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States apparently faces serious difficulties in imposing any major new economic or political pressures on the pro-Communist Castro government of Cuba.

State Department officials said today that this country has gone about as far as it can go for the time being in applying what amounts to sanctions against the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

★ ★ ★

The latest move came Wednesday when the Commerce Department ordered a curb on all U. S. exports to Cuba except medical supplies and some foodstuffs. The partial embargo applies mainly to machinery and industrial equipment and supplies. The Maritime Commission at the same time banned the transfer of American-owned ships to Cuba.

Earlier this year the United States had cut off aid to Cuba and had virtually closed the U. S. market to Cuban sugar purchases.

Wednesday's trade ban was clamped on after Vice President Richard M. Nixon, speaking in his presidential campaign at Miami, Fla., Tuesday, advocated a policy of quarantining Castro's Cuba and said that "a number of steps can be taken to do this and are planned."

★ ★ ★

Diplomats dealing with the problem reported that consideration has been given to a wide range of measures.

The next most likely step—though it is not yet worked out in detail—could be the freezing of Cuban assets in the United States. Officials said they were not sure of the volume of these assets but that they probably were not more than a few million dollars.

Apart from keeping friendly Latin-American governments informed of all that can be learned about Communist activities in Cuba, the idea of isolating Cuba from the rest of the hemisphere has not been worked out as to specific detail.

From time to time, informants said, ideas have arisen of the possibility of establishing some kind of patrol of air and sea craft around Cuba and of trying to prevent flow into Cuba of arms from Communist countries. Such activities, however, responsible authorities said, come close to blockade actions if they are to be effective. Blockade raises questions of the use of military force which apparently no one in the government considers seriously.

There has also been some talk of the possibility of breaking off diplomatic relations with Castro, but the State Department officials discount this completely under present conditions. They would prefer to maintain some channel of communication with the Cuban regime such as is afforded by the U. S. Embassy in Cuba.

★ ★ ★

The possibility of taking joint action with other Western Hemisphere allies through the Organization of American States is under constant study at the State Department. The problem is that in many Latin-American countries Castro has the status of a popular revolutionary hero. Though the governments are aware of the Communist danger now present in Cuba they feel themselves restricted in what they can do because of Castro's appeal among many of their own people.

Ike 'Campaigns' Nonpolitically

San Francisco Plans Big Welcome Today; Speech Set Tonight

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower, traveling under a nonpolitical banner but doing some oblique missionary work for the Republicans, returns to the trial today in vote-rich California.

Refreshed by a day of golf and relaxation in this desert resort area, the President arranged to take off aboard his jet airliner at midmorning for San Francisco.

The city is planning a big welcome for Eisenhower on a motorcade into the downtown area. Tonight he will make a major speech, reportedly on the international situation, at a dinner meeting of San Francisco's Commonwealth Club.

In advance of the address the only comment by the White House as to the theme was that it will be nonpolitical — the label Press Secretary James C. Hagerty put on the President's cross-country tour when it was announced. Eisenhower started the nine-day trip last Monday.

★ ★ ★

10 Months Ago: Triplets; This Time: Triplets!

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Mrs. P. J. Steynvaart has given birth to her second set of triplets within 10 months.

The first set of triplets born to the Steynvaarts last Dec. 15 died.

FAR-DARTING NOSE CONE — This is a Mark III nose cone, the usual payload of an Atlas missile, which is the only operational ICBM in the U.S. arsenal. A 1½ ton cone of this type was hurled 9,000 miles in 32½ minutes by an Atlas May 20. Traveling in a 1,000-mile-high trajectory, the cone spanned two oceans—the North and South Atlantic—and dropped into a third—the Indian Ocean, 300 miles northeast of the Prince Edward islands. It was covered with a material which burns and vaporizes during re-entry into the earth's atmosphere, thus dissipating heat and keeping interior cool.

REHEARSING PLAY — The Lakeland Players of Waterford Township will have the final rehearsal of "Sabrina Fair" tonight. The curtain will open at 8 p. m. Friday and Saturday at the Community Center. Here, ex-suitor, Verne Vackaro (left) would like to hit Jay Wheeler, the bridegroom-to-be, as he talks with the heroine Carol Lozenby (Sabrina). Her stage-mother Mrs. Joseph Lotozas bends her ear to listen.

Lakeland Players to Open Friday With 'Sabrina Fair'

The Lakeland Players of Waterford Township will open their second season at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday at the Community Center with the presentation of "Sabrina Fair."

★ ★ ★

Authored by Samuel Taylor, the play had a long Broadway run and was successfully interpreted as a movie.

Carol Lazenby will hold the title role.

In this modern comedy of manners, Sabrina the chauffeur's daughter makes off with the rich man's son. Much hilarity accrues from the family's reaction, and the ending is obviously happy.

Other featured players include Jack McCaffrey, Mrs. William Aebersold, Mrs. Joseph Latozas, William Solley, Vernon Vackaro and Jay Wheeler.

Production of the play is under the supervision of Patricia Hott, director, and Mrs. Harry Crigger, producer.

The group is offering season ticket sales for the first time for $3.60 for four productions. The group is sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif. (UP) — Motorcycle officer Fred Hall got to meet actress Kim Novak Wednesday.

Separate Maintenance

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Elizabeth M. Gimbel, 48, is suing Frederic A. Gimbel, wealthy member of the New York department store family, for separate maintenance.

★ ★ ★

She said Gimbel, 69, makes more than $100,000 a year. She asked reasonable support.

Her petition, filed Wednesday, charged cruelty. She said they were wed in Cuernavaca, Mexico, in February 1955, and that he left her in November 1958.

Asks Election Stand by Catholic Church

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Methodist bishop says responsible officials of the Roman Catholic Church should join Sen. John F. Kennedy in saying a Catholic president would not be subjected to church pressures.

★ ★ ★

Protestants are waiting for such assurances from the Catholic church itself, Bishop John Wesley told a news conference.

★ ★ ★

He said Kennedy has made a "completely satisfactory statement" of his own views on separation of church and state. But the bishop added that some Catholic papers and professors indicated that Kennedy was "at variance with his faith's official position."

Air Reserve Paratroops Are Laid Low by Rain

By MAX E. SIMON

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky.—Heavy rain poured down on this Army post early today throwing a monkey wrench into the opening of the fourth annual Air Force Reserve troop carrier competition.

Some 36 aircraft were scheduled to drop 200 paratroopers of the 101st Airborne (Screaming Eagles) division during the first phase of the exercises today and a briefing.

However, commanders announced that those flights would be postponed for 24 hours. Many of the planes scheduled to participate were unable to reach Fort Campbell because of rains, heavy winds and poor visibility in the area.

Altogether 54 Air Force troop carrier planes will participate in the competition. Among them will be three planes from the 403 Troop Carrier Wing stationed at Selfridge AFB.

One—manned by the 63rd Troop Carrier Squadron—carries two Oakland County men. They are Reserve Lt. Col. Leroy Selton, 261 Rietman Court, Avon Township, team captain, and Reserve Capt. Hugh Graham, 487 Kuhn St., navigator.

Also on hand to watch the competition was James H. McPartlin, 1022 Top View, Birmingham, commander of the wing.

The 403 Wing will fly for honors with crews from 25 other states. Most of the crews will fly the now famous C119 flying boxcars.

Under a revised schedule, a 6-hour night flight tonight will be the first event.

Throughout the night mission, navigators aboard the aircraft will guide their troop carrier transport over a designated course fully through navigational "fixes" from the stars.

No radio aids will be utilized and at the end of the flight competing crews from each air drop will drop a 260-pound cargo bundle over the Fort Campbell drop zone.

★ ★ ★

Aerial umpires aboard the plane will score the navigating results and ground umpires at the drop zones will check crucial points of the paratroopers.

Plugged-Up Flue Causes Explosion

A plugged-up chimney flue was the cause of an explosion at the Waterford Township maintenance building, 4584 Pontiac Lake Road, at 1:30 a.m. today, according to township firemen.

A night employe, Roy Locke, told firemen he had been working on a school bus in the front of the building when he heard the explosion in the furnace room.

A back window was blown out, and pipes connecting to the furnace exploded. Firemen estimated damage at $25.

WHO'LL WEAR THE CROWN? — Bagley School's Parent-Teacher Association-sponsored festival Friday will be highlighted by the crowning of a king and queen. Two candidates for queen, Veta Smith (left), 281 Howard McNeill St., and Jacqueline Banks, 16 Wessen St., both 11, smile approvingly as festival chairman Mrs. John McCallister (left), 300 Hughes St., and Mrs. James Overton, 274 Rockwell St., PTA president, teasingly hold the coveted crown above their heads.

An altar stone dating from the fourth century was unearthed during renovation of the 12th century Roman Catholic Church of St. Lawrence near Insbruck, Austria.

Bagley Revelry Friday at PTA School Festival

The Bagley Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will turn Bagley School into a three-ring circus Friday night.

The annual PTA School Festival will take place from 5 to 8 p.m.

In one ring will be the royalty, in another will be tasty and glittering morsels on sale, and in the third will be plenty of fun for all.

The king and queen of this year's festival will be elected. They are chosen from fifth and sixth grade students.

Candidates are Jacqueline Banks, Veta Smith, Beverly Batten, Mary Edwards, Annette Johnson, Ruth Walker, Jessie Bennett and Anthony Pilgrim.

There will be an old-fashioned country store with canned and baked goods, all products of mothers' kitchens, and a "white elephant" store, where jewelry donated by PTA members will be on sale.

Mrs. John McCallister is festival chairman, assisted by Mrs. Louise Russell, Mrs. Louise Edwards, and Mrs. James Overton, PTA president.

Everyone will find something of interest, including music, movies and games of skill, according to Mrs. Walter Johnson, publicity chairman.

★ ★ ★

The school is at 320 Bagley Street.

Pontiac Mother Hurt in Crash

Truck Runs Red Light, Say Mishap Witnesses; 2 Boys Injured

A 45-year-old Pontiac mother of three was in critical condition today at Pontiac General Hospital from injuries received when a tractor-trailer rammed into her station wagon at Perry and Montcalm streets yesterday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The victim, Mrs. Julius Hoganson of 350 Linda Vista St., sustained multiple fractures and possible internal injuries in the crash.

One of her children, John, 13, and his friend, Robert J. Seator, 13, of 554 Linda Vista St., were also hurt.

John was in satisfactory condition today at th hospital. Robert was treated and released last night. Both boys suffered facial cuts.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses said the tractor-trailer, driven by 31-year-old Ludwig P. Weimorts Jr. of Williston, S.C., failed to stop for a red light at the intersection. He was heading south on Montcalm Street when he rammed the westbound station wagon broadside, knocking it 150 feet from the point of collision.

Neither Weimorts nor his wife, who was a passenger in the tractor cab, were injured.

He told police his brakes failed. Police said they checked the brakes after the accident and found them to be in working order.

★ ★ ★

Assistant county Prosecutor Robert Stirling advised Weimorts to remain in Pontiac until released by Pontiac police. He was not held.

Brigitte Back From the Brink of Disaster

PARIS (UPI) — Brigitte Bardot has returned to her Paris apartment, tanned and healthy and apparently recovered from her suicide attempt earlier this month.

★ ★

The 26-year-old actress spent 10 days in St. Tropez, part of the time in a clinic, and two days at her luxury cottage near Paris. She slashed her wrists and took an overdose of sleeping pills because of what doctors called a period of deep depression.

★ ★

Poland Asks Block on Bases

Wants U.N. to Call Halt on Military Installations in Other Countries

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Communist Poland asked the United Nations today to call on all countries to cease building new military bases and rocket launching installations on the territories of other countries.

★ ★ ★

The proposal was laid before the General Assembly's 99-nation political committee by Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki.

Rapacki also proposed:

1. That countries which do not have foreign military bases on their territory should ban construction of such installations.

2. That countries which do not have nuclear weapons should not accept them from other countries and should not seek to manufacture them on their own soil.

The Polish foreign minister further renewed his appeal for adoption of the Rapid plan for a partially disarmed zone across Central Europe without nuclear weapons or rockets.

★ ★ ★

While offering his own proposals for partial disarmament measures, Rapacki urged the committee to begin work immediately on a treaty for general and complete disarmament along the lines demanded by the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

The debate continued under the shadow of a Soviet boycott threat and a U. S. charge that the Communists are using the critical arms issue as a propaganda springboard.

The expression "truck crops" has no connection with the method of hauling vegetables to market. It derives from the French word troquer, meaning to barter or exchange. In the United States the term became synonymous with vegetables in general because much produce was once bartered or sold in small lots.

Dag Contender for Peace Prize

But Nobel Award Unit May Consider Him to Be Too Controversial

OSLO (UPI) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, recently under fire from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, is a leading contender for the 1960 Nobel Peace Prize, informed sources said Wednesday.

But the selection of the veteran Swedish diplomat may be too controversial for the Norwegian Nobel committee which must announce its choice by Nov. 15, the sources reported.

Hammarskjold bore the brunt of a strong attack from Khrushchev during the Soviet premier's recent session at the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

The sources said the committee is wary of creating another issue similar to that which arose when Soviet author Boris Pasternak was given the literature prize in 1958.

Pasternak relinquished the prize after he was bombarded by criticism in his own country, including heavy criticism from Khrushchev.

★ ★ ★

It is possible the committee, which brooks no intrusion into its affairs, will not award a prize this year and simply wait until 1961. There have been persistent rumors that Hammarskjold was the top candidate but that the committee was split on the controversial issue.

Gardner-Denver Sales Near All-Time Record

DETROIT (UPI) — Gardner-Denver Co. sales this year are expected to exceed $83 million, an all-time record, company President G. V. Leece said.

★ ★ ★

He said this would exceed by more than 10 per cent the $74.7 million in sales last year.

★ ★ ★

He said sales of products of the Grand Haven Division, with plants at Grand Haven and Reed City, are the best in history. This division makes pneumatic tools and special automation equipment.

Schweitzer Confirms Steel Heir's Death

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mark Higgins, 20-year-old heir to a Massachusetts steel fortune, was shot and killed in the Congo July 21 by a Congolese soldier who mistook him for a Belgian, according to word from Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

★

Higgins' mother and stepfather, New York attorney Stanley R. Doman, received a telegram from the famed humanitarian in Lambarene, Gabon, confirming the death of the adventurous, 6-foot-five youth.

★ ★ ★

Higgins went to Africa in 1959 to work as a volunteer at Schweitzer's hospital and was registered to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology this Fall. He is the son of Carter C. Higgins, president of the Worcester Pressed Steel Co., Worcester, Mass., and was graduated from the Milton School, Milton, Mass.

A woman may suffer in many ways, but one way she never suffers is in silence . . . You can always find a lot of people willing to give advice, but a pitiful few willing to offer help . . . Dentists Uphold Stamp of Approval on Crest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The American Dental Association's House of Delegates has upheld an ADA Council's endorsement of Crest toothpaste.

* * *

A Connecticut resolution to rescind the approval was voted down Wednesday. Opponents of the endorsement claimed involvement of ADA with a commercial product weakened public confidence in the association.

* * *

Never before in ADA's 100-year history had a commercial toothpaste been endorsed.

Supervisor Named to Run for Sheriff

FLINT (AP)—Thomas A. Bell, Mount Morris supervisor, was named Democratic candidate for sheriff in Genesee County to replace Sheriff Don Carmichal, who died Tuesday.

* * *

Bell was an unsuccessful candidate for the nomination in the August primary.

A former chairman of the county Democratic committee, Bell was chosen at a hastily summoned meeting of the committee's executive committee.

The new nominee stands to lose votes in absentee ballots that already have been mailed out with the name of Carmichael on them in his race with Republican Orie Clark, chief of police of Fenton.

* * *

The Democratic leadership conceded this but said that nothing could be done about the absentee ballots. Between 1,300 and 3,000 ballots have been sent out.

It was agreed that such ballots yet to be mailed out will contain Bell's name — on a sticker pasted over the name of Carmichael.

Regular ballots and voting machines will carry Bell's name along with that of Clark.

Women's Division Adds $27,000 to 1960 Budget

Sugar-Bowl Change Spills Over the Top for UF

First again to top its goal, the Women's Division of the Pontiac Area United Fund has gone over the top in contributing its $27,000 piece of the total budget pie.

Contributions are still coming in, according to Chairman Mrs. Roderick Taylor. Most of the money contributed was what Mrs. Taylor proudly terms "sugar-bowl money,"—the odd bits of change and small bills a housewife tucks away for nonbudgeted needs.

Realizing that most of the women contacted in the house-to-house drive have husbands making the family's substantial United Fund contribution at work, the canvassers were looking for the small personal contribution that is the typical woman's pride and prerogative.

That the aggregate of these contributions could total many thousands of dollars is a testament to the power of a woman and her "sugar bowl mite," according to Women's Division Director Mrs. Margaret Libby.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday, at noon, more than 600 volunteer workers and division chairmen of the United Fund Women's Division gathered to celebrate their drive's success as luncheon guests of the Pontiac Manufacturers Association at Elks Temple.

The Rev. Galen E. Hershey gave the invocation and Mrs. Roderick Taylor welcomed the assembly and introduced the speakers.

Leo N. Kimmler and his Kim Tones orchestral group entertained with musical numbers. Mrs. LaVon Ryden, vocalist, was accompanied by Mrs. John McCallum at the piano.

Elwood Bigler gave the Industrial Division report, John Niggeman, the Commercial Division, and Milo J. Cross, the Advance Gifts Division report.

Mrs. Charles Pangus gave the report on Brandon Township Women's Division and Mrs. Harry Fahrner reported for Independence Township. Mrs. Taylor reported on Orion Township in the absence of Mrs. Dacey.

Representing the Women's Division, Mrs. Ben Hawkins introduced her area chairmen, Mrs. Glenn Griffin, Area I; Mrs. Richard Fox, Area II; Mrs. William Coulacos, Area III; and Mrs. Leonard Buzz, Area IV.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Walter Noffsinger, Waterford co-chairman presented Mrs. Leslie Howey, Area I; Mrs. Percy Dunn, Area II; Mrs. Elmer O. Johnson, Area III, and Mrs. Norman Dunn, Area IV.

Mrs. Floyd Foren gave a report on the Lake Angelus area.

Robert Nelson, president of the United Fund Board of Directors who is also president of the Pontiac Manufacturers Association, spoke briefly on the goals of the UF.

Indian statuettes were again awarded as trophies to areas achieving their quotas. Symbolic of Pontiac, the small figures were present in tribal numbers at the successful drive luncheon.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hawkins presided as district chairman, while Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Coulacos and Mrs. Buzz were named Indian award winners in their respective areas.

Mrs. Noffsinger then introduced Waterford district chairmen receiving Indian awards.

Mrs. Taylor presented an orchid to Mrs. William Williams, first women's campaign district chairman, to go over the goal.

Also honored were Mrs. Louis Matich, volunteer office assistant, and Carol Ballard, Mrs. Robert Butler and Sandi Buck, staff workers.

★ ★ ★

Centering the luncheon tables were sugar bowls, symbols of the drive, made by the Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls, a member agency of the United Fund.

★ ★ ★

The floral arrangement from the House of Evergreens which graced the speakers' table, was presented to Mrs. Margaret Libby, director of the Women's Division.

When the Women's Division was originally organized, according to Mrs. Libby, it was named the Geographic Division.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderwerp

Proud of her Indian award was Mrs. Floyd Foren of Lake Angelus. Division chairman in her area, Mrs. Floren was elated that the small community surpassed its goal at such an early date. According to Mrs. Margaret Libby, Lake Angelus is always among the first communities to make its final report.

Ralph M. Spadafore II (at right) of West Iroquois Road is being made up by his mother, Mrs. Ralph M. Spadafore. He portrayed the symbolic Indian figure, motif of the successful drive, and delighted the large audience with his spontaneous antics as he circulated about the dining room.

The overflowing sugar bowls which were centerpieces at the table were the informal theme of this year's Women's Division United Fund drive. The clever decorations were made by the Pontiac Council of Campfire Girls. Admiring them and pleased at the drive's success were Pontiac area chairmen Mrs. Glenn Griffin of Ogemaw Road and Mrs. Richard Fox of Pioneer Drive.

The good news that the women have topped their goal is received happily by volunteer workers (from left) Mrs. Robert Lazelle of Ostrum Street, Mrs. Thomas Hollis of South Genesee Avenue and Mrs. Robert Shorey of Wenonah Drive. Luncheon as guests of the Pontiac Manufacturers' Association was a pleasant climax to their effort of several weeks.

"Orchids to you!" the corsages of Mrs. Walter Noffsinger of Drayton Plains (at left) and Mrs. Ben Hawkins of Mohawk Road seem to say. The women were among cochairmen of 1960's sugar-bowl drive.

Karl Bradley, executive director of the Pontiac Area United Fund gives Mrs. Charles Pangus of Ortonville an assist with the microphone. Mrs. Pangus, admittedly "a little nervous," was quite obviously proud of her canvassers and Ortonville's contribution to the fund.

Devoted workers in the United Fund Drive listen intently to the figures reported at Wednesday's luncheon. They are (from left) Mrs. Bernard Stickney of South Francis Street Mrs. H. O. Sirbaugh of South Francis Street and Mrs. Robert Sirbaugh of Drayton Plains.

Montoya Delights Crowd

By MARJORIE EICHER
Women's Editor
The Pontiac Press

Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall "scooped" the metropolitan Detroit area yesterday when it presented Carlos Montoya, flamenco guitarist, and his beautiful dancing wife Trianita to a capacity crowd at the Oakland Theater.

A true Spanish gypsy, Senor Montoya delighted his audience for an hour and a half with music in the gypsy manner.

He was introduced by Mrs. Paul Kern, Town Hall president, who explained briefly the Eastern and Moorish influences in the music. The guitar has a kinship to the lute, she pointed out.

Intense, balding Montoya might have been anyone's businessman friend from Anyplace, U.S.A.—until he sat down to play.

INCREDIBLE DEXTERITY

With incredible dexterity and obvious love of his medium, he became a magic figure as he wove his spell with the haunting, sensuous melodies.

He was a master at building the excitement of the program from a relatively staid beginning, using contrapuntal and tapping effects to the complex fast and tricky rhythmed dances that set feet tapping throughout the auditorium.

It seemed a shame that the exciting rhythms were heard by a predominately female audience. The husbands would have had a ball!

Senor Montoya's control, his left hand technique (filigree, he calls it) and the strumming and tremulo effects of his right hand are unique.

Most liked by the audience was his version of "St. Louis Blues," the Saeta "Arrow Song" with its effect of advancing and retreating drums and an encore which produced a bagpipe effect.

THEATER PLEASES WIFE

His American-born wife added color and dimension to the program with her lithe interpretations of gypsy dances.

American-born Mme. Montoya served as interpreter for her husband. She expressed delight at the size and quality of the stage at the theater.

"Most New York theaters have linoleum-floored stages," she said. This makes it next to impossible for a Spanish dancer to achieve the marked beat and crisp heelwork that are the hallmark of this style of dance.

Her beautiful carriage, fluid hand motions and grace endeared her to the audience.

Those who attended the celebrity luncheon at Orchard Lake Country Club were further endeared by her charm.

★ ★ ★

Speaking for her husband, she admitted they had never appeared in a morning performance before.

"But we like it," she said, as if surprised.

I didn't expect to be holding Senor Montoya's hand, but most of us at our table did!

We were examining his fingertips for callouses. They were smooth and soft as a baby's skin, which seems incredible considering the strength and effort he applies to his instrument.

In Spanish, which his wife translated, Senor Montoya explains he "plays with delicacy and loving kindness — the way the Spanish treat their women."

GEN. ROMULO NEXT

Town Hall's next presentation will be Gen. Carlos Romulo of the Philippines.

He will speak Nov. 9 on "America's Stake in Asia."

The celebrity luncheon which will follow his talk is set for Devon Gables.

Dance Saturday

Square Set Dance Club will meet Saturday at Herrington School. Members will appear in costume for the affair's "hard times" theme. Hours are 9 to 12 p.m. Club members will call.

★ ★

They will share details of their experiences to prospective hostel tourists, chapter members and friends at 8 p.m. at Detroit's Central Young Women's Christian Association on Witherell Street.

Poodle No Pet for Small Boy?

Writers Put Dear Abby in the Doghouse

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You goofed! How could you advise parents to get their small boy a miniature French poodle? Poodles are expensive to buy and only a millionaire can keep a poodle properly manicured and clipped.

Also, you can't give an aristocrat like that table scraps unless you eat filet mignon and crepes suzette every night. What's wrong with a Boston bull?

PAUL

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I wish you'd have told Mrs. J. L. T. that apartment dwellers have no business having dogs. A few goldfish or tropical fish would do just as well. I had puppies when I was a child and believe it or not, I learned about the birds and the bees from the fish!

"CORNELL '61"

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Anyone who knows anything about pets will tell you that the best pet in the world for a child is a dachshund. They are odorless, hairless, affectionate and sturdy.

FRISKEY'S MASTER

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I hope Mrs. J. L. T. didn't take your advice and rush out to buy her 7-year-old son a miniature male poodle. A female (spayed, of course) would make a much better pet.

EDNER

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I agree, every child should have a pet. But why a French poodle? Our boys had white mice. Their mice gave them much pleasure and there was no work involved for me. Mice cost nothing to feed, require no license, never have to go to the vet and do not annoy the neighbors.

LIKES WHITE MICE

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: For a couple of dollars and a trip to the dog pound, Mrs. J. L. T. can get a first-class pet. Yes, I mean an ordinary mongrel. We've never had anything else and when it comes to loyalty and companionship, I'll put one of those mutts against any pedigreed dog.

HERB H.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I've raised and bred dogs all my life and, if I were to recommend the ideal dog for a child, I'd say get him a cocker spaniel, beagle or schnauzer. French poodles are too high-strung, noisy and ornery. Besides which, a small poodle is no animal for rough-housing.

DOGBREEDER

DEAR ABBY: I couldn't believe my eyes when I read your advice to buy a miniature French poodle for a 7-year-old boy. That's a dog for a rich lady who has nothing to do but pamper a spoiled ball of fluff. Tell the parents to get the child an Airedale. It can take all the teasing, cuddling and mailing a small boy can dish out.

The bridegroom's sisters Marie and Lorraine Kramb attended the bride as honor maid and bridesmaid, respectively, with Mrs. James Arnold and Diane Hall.

Crushed hipline cummerbunds of frosty teal aqua taffeta with soft fabric roses accented their dresses of radiant aqua taffeta, worn with matching feather hats. They carried yellow Fuji chrysanthemums.

Robert Kramb stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Kramb of Birmingham. Leslie Schoonover, brother of the bride, seated guests with William Ballinger of Birmingham, cousin of the bridegroom.

Black accessories accented the green and white wool check suit chosen by the new Mrs. Kramb for the Northern Michigan honeymoon. The couple will live in Royal Oak.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Schoonover wore pure silk green print jacket dress and dark green accessories. Mrs. Kramb appeared in radiant blue faille. Both wore white orchids.

A U. of M. Letter . . .

By SHARON WARREN

A record enrollment of 24,229 students has again produced a whirl of bicycles, activities, and classes at Ann Arbor. Plans are now being made and carried out for the big Homecoming weekend Friday through Sunday.

Focused on the theme of a Roman rampage, the weekend program includes displays by the fraternities, sororities, and resident halls, the football game with Minnesota; and the dance, featuring Woody Herman. Preweekend activities included a Roman Slave auction Tuesday in which twelve of the big men on campus are auctioned off for one hour.

★ ★ ★

Jan Brooks of Birmingham, a junior and recent transfer from Albion College, says that her sorority, Alpha Chi Omega, has "the Gaul to divide Minnesota into three parts." This is what they have used as their house display theme.

Don Lucas of North Marshall Street and Doug Read of Orangegrove Street, Waterford, both of whom are members of the Sigma Nu fraternity, attest to the work involved in Homecoming. Men's rush, during which time interested men students become acquainted with the campus fraternities, has just ended, and pressure has been great on the fraternities to plan and execute displays in time. Don is a predentistry student, studying on a Regents scholarship.

Valerie Armstrong of Bloomfield Terrace finds that being officer secretary and Panhellenic representative for the Delta Sigma Theta sorority and studying are a full schedule.

Myrla Henry heads the judicial council in Hunt House of Mary Markley Hall. Rules and regulations are made and enforced by the council. Myrla is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, an honorary sorority. Her home is on James K Blvd. in Pontiac.

Myra Goines, of Tecoma Court, a Pontiac senior at Ann Arbor, is president of the Assembly Association, the independent women's governing body. She is also a member of the Board of Governors which governs the women's resident halls. Membership in the Honorary Senior Society is another of Myra's achievements.

Dance Plan Set

The Style Steppers completed plans for the Oct. 29 Halloween Dance Saturday evening during the regular dance at Willis School.

Randall May and Edward Farr were callers for the evening. The round dance "Short Cake" was taught.

Dames of Malta Members Fete National Officers

Corrine Sisterhood Dames of Malta members entertained national officers at a banquet in Malta Temple Wednesday. One hundred members from Detroit, Highland Park, Dearborn and Farmington attended.

Mrs. James Schram of Pontiac offered the invocation.

Queen Esther Mrs. Christian Theis introduced Mrs. Rose Geigle, sovereign protector; Mrs. Florence Hummer of Detroit, sovereign senior deaconess; and Mrs. Edna Siler of Farmington, sovereign pianist, all of the Sovereign Body.

Mrs. Geigle was presented a donation for the Children's Lukemia Fund, the project during her term as national officer.

★ ★ ★

DEPUTIES INTRODUCED

After introduction of visiting deputies Mrs. Alvina Chapel and Mrs. Hummer, Mrs. Edith L. Levely was presented an honorary certificate of membership.

She is a charter member of the sisterhood and was accorded the honor upon her 80th birthday.

Mrs. R. F. Lange, chairman, and Mrs. James Schram, cochairman, directed the banquet.

★ ★ ★

Sir Knights Don Bussard, William Walls and Albert Clark also assisted.

The group has scheduled a bazaar Nov. 11.

Women Attend Dessert-Luncheon

Members of the Sylvan Shores Woman's Club were guests of Mrs. John Gottschalk of Woodbine Drive Wednesday evening. Mrs. Robert Newill, Mrs. George Newton, Mrs. Norman Mack and Mrs. Ronel White were cohostesses.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harvey Johns narrated color slides of her recent vacation in Alaska.

Mrs. Felix Ballard was winner in the crazy-hat contest.

(NEA)—It's strange and fascinating the way a lovely smile can light up a face and turn a plain girl into a beauty. It shouldn't be a grin or a grimace.

'Mother' Title May Be Poor

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister died about two and a half years ago. Her husband recently remarried. His new wife is a very lovely person and we are very happy for him.

My sister had two daughters — 15 and 17. They are very fond of their stepmother — so much so in fact, that they have taken to calling her "mother" and refer to her as "their mother."

I'm very pleased that a happy relationship exists between them, but I think calling her "mother" is going just a little bit too far and is certainly very unkind to the memory of their own mother. I would very much like to have your opinion on this matter.

Answer: I agree that it would be preferable if your nieces found another name than "mother" for their stepmother, but this is a matter for them to decide with her and their father.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: Our daughter is going to be married soon — reception to be held in the basement of the church. Guests will be seated at small tables and served.

Is it proper to use paper plates with a wedding design on them? The dishes supplied by the church are the heavy restaurant type and not very pretty.

Answer: If you are having a caterer provide and serve the food and drinks for your reception he will be able to supply the china and glasses that will be needed. On the other hand, if there will be no caterer, pretty paper plates will be better than unattractive heavy ones.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: I have often read in your column that a girl is supposed to return the engagement ring as well as any other presents of value given her by her fiance, when the engagement has been broken, but I have never seen anything about the man's returning valuable presents given to him by her. Does the same rule apply to him?

Answer: Yes. Any presents of value given him by her while the engagement lasted should be returned.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: I plan to be married at a ten o'clock nuptial mass. The men in the bridal party will wear cutaway coats and striped trousers.

However, my problem is this: Arrangements have been made for an evening reception and I have been told by my friends that the men will be required to change into tuxedos. Is this true?

I am very much concerned over this as I don't want the men in the bridal party to go to the double expense of hiring tuxedos in addition to the cutaways.

Answer: It is not necessary that they change into tuxedos. It will be quite all right for them to remain in the same clothes that they wear at the ceremony.

Faith, Health, Education Are Paramount

Teens Give Their Requisites for President

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the
Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Between now and the second Tuesday in November we will be hearing a great deal about the respective qualifications of Richard M. Nixon and John Fitzgerald Kennedy for the office of President of the United States.

The Constitution prescribes only two: that the office holder be 35 years of age and born in the United States. All other conditions are prescribed by the nominating conventions of both major parties and, in the final analysis, by the electorate itself.

In general, what are the qualifications that most voters expect in a candidate for President? What should he be and mean in the opinion of most people to win the highest office in the land?

We put these questions to 983 teen-agers across the country in an attempt to determine the image that young America has of what a presidential candidate should be or should not be. None of the youngsters interviewed will be eligible to vote on Nov. 8. Indeed, few of them will be able to vote when the next presidential election rolls around in 1964.

Despite their temporary status of onlookers in this great national drama, we found most of the teen-agers keenly interested in the impending battle between Republican Nixon and Democrat Kennedy. All had very definite ideas of what a president should be.

DESIRED QUALITIES

In the minds of most, with personalities aside, it was felt that a presidential candidate must at least:

Believe in God.
Be a college graduate.
Be in reasonably good health.
Not have undergone psychiatric treatment.
Never have been a conscientious objector to the draft.
Not be an active advocate of World Federalism.

These are the minimum things, in the minds of most teen-agers, that a candidate must be or must not be to be qualified for President.

In other controversial areas, however, they were far more lenient than many of their elders.

For instance:

76 per cent said they would vote for a candidate who was divorced.

53 per cent said they would vote for a candidate over 65.

61 per cent would vote for a candidate who had jumped parties.

95 per cent would vote for a Protestant.

70 per cent would vote for a Catholic.

52 per cent would vote for a Jew.

DON'T LIKE REDS

More youngsters would reject a candidate who had once been a Communist (80 per cent), than one who didn't believe in God (72 per cent). And far more would reject a candidate in poor health (88 per cent) than one who had undergone psychiatric treatment (47 per cent).

* * *

On the atheism question 17-year-old Patrica Albright of Claremont, Calif., expressed the majority viewpoint that "the United States is a God-fearing-nation and I think our President should believe in God."

Speaking for the 24 per cent minority group who would vote for a candidate who did not believe in God, 18-year-old Thomas Engelmann of Charleston, S. C. argued that "just because a man does not believe in God, does not mean he is incapable of executing his duties as President."

* * *

Since Catholic John Kennedy is the Democratic nominee, the thinking behind the 25 per cent who would reject a Catholic candidate may be of more than passing interest. Their objections ranged from fear of the Pope and the candidate's freedom to act on a birth control bill to a belief that we are "essentially a Protestant nation by heritage and population."

One girl frankly admitted that she would not vote for a Catholic "because I have a religious prejudice." She gave the identical answer when it came to voting for a Jew.

Most of those who would turn down a candidate who had been a Communist at some time in the past had no doubts about the possibility of sincere conversion but felt his background would be a drawback in dealing with world problems. "Even though completely converted," commented 16-year-old Sue Parrish of Richmond, Va., "he would arouse suspicion among non-Communist nations and hatred in the Communist bloc."

EDUCATIONAL STATUS

The most striking division of opinion was recorded in answer to a question of whether a candidate must be a college graduate. The 40 per cent who said they would vote for a non-college man cited Abraham Lincoln, Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Edison and other self made men who figured so prominently in the history of the Republic.

"A college diploma," insisted 17-year-old Olivia Kredel of Charleston, S. C., "doesn't make a man any better, nor does the lack of it make him any worse."

But the 55 per cent who deemed a college education an essential qualification for the presidency argued that the world has become too complex to entrust its future to the whims of the self-made men.

"In today's world, which gets smaller each day while the problems get larger, an education is utmost," said 17-year-old Sharon Glickman of Miami Beach, Fla.

Short Skirts a Problem

Try to Make Legs Pretty

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The present styles make us seem to be all arms and legs. Skirts are shorter than ever. I imagine you have had the same experience I have had. My hemlines have been taken up three times, and in some instances four.

The grooming of the legs is most important. No matter how lovely your leg contours are, superfluous hair or flaky skin showing through sheer stockings can ruin the effect. Shaving or a depilatory are the two most practical methods of removing the hair. My opinion is that cosmetic wax is too big a job over such large surfaces.

SHAVING, DEPILATORY

Either shaving or a depilatory is satisfactory. The depilatory has the advantage of leaving the hair ends less stubby because it melts the hairs rather than cuts them. For this same reason it may give you a little "closer" shave, although the difference is slight. If shaving is easier, use that method.

While there are many evening clothes with sleeves, some of the most attractive ones have extremely short sleeves or none at all. So upper arms will be in view also this winter.

When necessary, the hair also should be removed from the arms, although I do not think that so many women have this problem since the hair is usually sparse and fine.

LARGE UPPER ARMS

Some women have extremely large upper arms, arms which are out of proportion to the rest of the silhouette. Our glandular setup dictates weight distribution and this condition is sometimes due to low thyroid.

Of course if you are overweight, a general reduction in poundage will reduce the arms although they may still remain out of proportion unless exercise is used to speed the loss.

Flabby upper arms add up to one of the main beauty hazards with which the middle-aged woman must cope. If a woman has indulged in sports or taken arm exercises consistently, she probably will be spared this. Otherwise it is sure to happen sooner or later. Exercise will help but it takes time and must be done regularly.

* * *

Try this one. Stand tall with your arms raised sideward, shoulder height, and your palms toward the floor. Clench your fists HARD. Keep them clenched as you bend your elbows and touch the fists to the chest. Hold while you count to six slowly. Return arms to starting position and continue.

If you would like to have my routine of arm exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 11. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

For flabby upper arms do this exercise: Bend your elbows and touch your clenched fists to your chest. Hold while you count to six slowly. Exercise will help but it takes time and must be done regularly.

Smooth 'Papa's' Way for A. M. Happiness

By RUTH MILLETT

An ex-English butler who is now running a school for butlers tells students how to get the master started off right in the morning.

"In waking the master, draw the curtains gently and tell the master the time. Nothing else. Never say 'Good morning' unless he does so first. Lay out the suit on the back of a chair; underwear, socks, and shirt on the seat, shoes on the carpet. Never choose a tie. The master will do that."

Chances are there is no butler in your house to get "the master" off to a good start. But you might assure his getting out on the right side of the bed, instead of coming to the breakfast table with a scowl, if you would pay as much attention as a well-trained butler to making the morning start out smoothly.

If morning is a time of hectic rushing around and of short tempers in your household, try to give your husband a sense of being well-looked-after by making yourself a set of rules:

Look after your husband's clothes so that the suit he wants to wear is in no need of pressing, the first shirt he puts on doesn't have a button off the cuff, and there's no likelihood of his putting on a pair of socks with a hole in the toe.

15 MINUTES EARLY

To have a little time for yourself, set the alarm fifteen minutes ahead. This should permit you to pay a little attention to how you are going to look across the breakfast table. (In case your husband ever looks up from the morning paper.)

Make a practice of setting the table the night before so that getting breakfast is quick and easy.

Make your own "Good Morning" cheerful, but don't follow it up with a lot of talk if your husband is naturally uncommunicative in the morning.

Above all, don't worry him with your problems or chatter about last night's party while he is trying to digest the front page of his paper.

And by all means, give him a real kiss instead of turning your cheek for a husbandly peck, as he leaves for work.

Wash Baby's Toy

It's important to choose washable stuffed toys for babies. And it's equally important to give these dawn-through-dusk and bedtime animals a sudsy bath at the first sign of soil. Not only will a beloved creature last longer, but it will be clean for baby's affectionate nibbles.

Socks Over Shoes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wear a pair of clean socks over new shoes when trying them out at home. Then, if you want to return the shoes, the soles still will be spotless.

Housewives Organized

German Woman Turns Head That Rules

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—The boss of the family in Germany to all outward appearances is the man.

But from talking to both men and women in this hustling nation, there seems increasing truth to a poem of German folklore which when freely translated quotes the husband as saying, "I am the head, the man. You follow the direction of my nose . . ."

And wife answers, "You are quite right. But I am the neck, and I turn the head."

★ ★ ★

The "new" German wife is not as active in politics as her sister in the United States. But the chances are one in three that she is—like her American counterpart—holding a job outside the house.

★ ★ ★

And, like as not, she also is a member of an extraordinary organization called the German Housewives Assn. founded 70 years ago, forbidden to operate in the Hitler regime, but revived in 1949 with federal government sanction and financial support.

★ ★ ★

Today it has branches in almost all of West Germany's large cities, in most cases, the branches are nonpartisan and nonsectarian. In others, membership may be based on religious or social interests.

Over-all, the purpose of the association is improvement of homemaking skills—and what man will argue that motive?

Here in Munich, the association has one of West Germanys largest branches—3,000 members. I talked with Mrs. Helmut Haselmayr, its president, who also runs a television network show directed to the housewife.

Louise Haselmayr, a hazel-eyed blonde of 38, holds a doctorate in economics from the University of Munich. She became interested in the associations work while she was a newspaper reporter covering the activities of the Munich branch.

She listed some of the association projects:

Advice on purchase of home appliances and other consumer goods, family health and welfare, the exchange of recipes and guidance in nutrition—"We are certainly not knocking beer in Munich," said Mrs. Haselmayr, "But we would like to have all children getting the proper amount of milk"—classes in homemaking ranging from knitting to cooking and budgeting.

★ ★ ★

"Courses in cooking for housewives?" I asked, because I thought that this was a skill carefully handed from mother to daughter.

"Yes," said Mrs. Haselmayr. "And we have both brides and women in their middle years enrolled.

In our country there are no home economics courses in high schools—only in special colleges. Because if you study home-ec, it is to be a demonstrator or dietician."

Mrs. Haselmayr said budgeting was a constant problem for housewife members, because "statistically, the average housewife spends almost 50 per cent of her budget for food.

"Yet we would like to add the new labor-saving appliances.

"The woman may want to buy something for the house, but if the man wants a car, the family gets the new car."

Garden Club Has Annual Card Party

Lorraine Manor Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association staged its annual card party Wednesday at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Highlighting the evening was the introduction of four new hair styles by a representative from a local beauty salon. Mrs. James Shultz, Mrs. Donald Lloyd, Mrs. Kenneth Downing and Mrs. Harold Hackett, club officers, modeled the coiffures.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Warren Cleven at the coffee service. Mrs. Burton Strong was head of refreshments and the kitchen. Party chairmen were Mrs. James Shultz and Mrs. Cleven.

Proceeds from the event will be used for local civic improvements and the Lapeer State Home and Training School.

Study Club Gets Instructions on Procedure Rules

The Parliamentary Study Club opened the fall season with a study meeting Wednesday in the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Ervin Christie, as leader, explained the lesson on order of exercises, introduction of business, duties of officers and members, purpose of a motion and steps of a motion.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Nienstedt, Mrs. R. Earl Springer, Mrs. Stanley Warwick, Mrs. John Braid and Mrs. Russell Larkins as officers of the demonstration group, conducted a model regular meeting.

Mrs. E. D. Moessner, charter member, was made an honorary life member. Mrs. Robert Cain, Mrs. Hayden W. Henley, Mrs. Melvin Norberg and Mrs. William R. Winkler were elected to membership.

Auto Men in Dilemma: To Plan for '61 Show?

By BEN PHLEGAR

DETROIT (AP)—Directors of the Automobile Manufacturers Association are facing a problem of how good is good enough.

Their dilemma concerns the National Automobile Show, now running in Detroit's Cobo Hall, and its immediate future prospects.

The current show appears on the surface to be an unqualified success—record crowds, unprecedented national attention.

Could a follow-up presentation next year be as successful? So far, the AMA is uncommitted. A spokesman says no decision will be announced until this year's show is evaluated.

In the years from 1960 to World War II national auto shows were an annual fixture in New York. Crowds rarely battered down the gates but attendance was reasonably good. And the New York locale seemed to generate the national interest the manufacturers so much wanted for their new models.

One postwar revival—in the New York Coliseum in 1956—was only modestly successful. Then came 1960.

Detroit, the nation's automobile capital, was able for the first time to offer an exhibition hall large enough to stage a national show. The city needed something big for an opening attraction at the new hall. The current show was the result.

Harry Williams, managing director of the AMA, frankly called it a "costly experiment." He told Detroiters the AMA had an option on the hall for 1961, but that it would depend on a number of factors including how the 1960 show was received.

★ ★ ★

The reception—more than half a million admissions in the first five days—has been a little overpowering, especially when you realize cars certainly are no novelty to this area.

More than 30 per cent of the nation's automobiles are built within 100 miles of Detroit and more than 500,000 Michigan residents are directly involved in the manufacture of cars.

The attendance as announced by the AMA has caused some raised eyebrows. There are no turnstiles at the hall and no paid admission figures are disclosed. But crowds have been large and fire marshals barred the doors for 45 minutes on Sunday as a safety precaution.

National attention through the daily press and periodicals has been more extensive than at any previous show. One national magazine devoted 42 pages.

★ ★ ★

The show rated one sponsored hour of national television time—definitely national attention despite some critics' comments that the presentation was one solid commercial for cars.

That's what the whole auto show is—a commercial for cars—and salesmen scurry around the floor hoping to write orders.

★ ★ ★

The AMA had three things going in its efforts to attract attention—a new city, the nation's newest and largest exhibition hall, and a resumption of the show after a four-year lapse complete with four new compact cars.

★ ★ ★

None of these factors could vie for similar national attention next year. Neither the hall nor the city would be new and none of the manufacturers has indicated plans to bring out additional lines of cars.

★ ★ ★

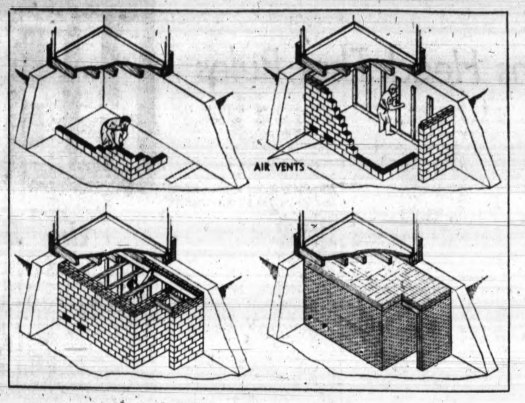

Having responded in record numbers, Detroiters obviously are expecting a show next year. Now it's up to the AMA.

Sees Slight Margin for Dick in California

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif., told a town hall meeting he believes Vice President Richard M. Nixon holds a slight edge in his home state of California over Sen. John F. Kennedy.

While refusing to predict beyond his own state, Kuchel said he had been told by friends that it appeared neither of the candidates had a clear margin and the election would be close.

FALLOUT SHELTER — This is one type of basement fallout shelter recommended by Leo A. Floegh, Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization director. Steps in its construction are shown, above, in sketches that are included in a booklet, "Clay Masonry Family Fallout Shelters," available from the OCDM in Washington. The booklet states that such a shelter can be constructed by a do-it-yourselfer and a friend in two weekends. All requirements such as heating, lighting and ventilation are included in the booklet.

Paper of Jan. 1, 2000, Reviews Past Century

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—The morning paper dated Saturday, January 1, 2000—has been dropped at our doorsteps.

It has all the good news that's fit to predict.

★ ★ ★

The lead story, headlined "Happy New Century!," sums up the most important newspaper yarns in the past 100 years:

1—Discovery of the Martian culture by the U.S.A. and Japanese cosmonaut scientists in 1983.

2—The wayward H-rocket (origin unknown) destroyed over Arctic; jolted by narrow escape, all earth nations accepted total and permanent disarmament.

3—Colonization of the moon, first by U.S.A. space troops in 1971.

4—World Wars I and II (1914-18 and 1939-45.) last great international wars waged with pre-nuclear weapons.

5—Adolf Hitler, a "most wanted war criminal," found working as laundry assistant in remote Peruvian monastery, 1969; later banished to penal institution on moon.

Also front-paged is the announcement of the "Mom of the Year 2000," a Mrs. Nils Raison D'Etre, 75. Her secret for staying perky, she says, is keeping interested. And it's hard not to be interested these days, she adds, "because women have to always, well, sort of wiping up after the progress of men, you know.

Manager at Iron River Quits Over Salary Rate

IRON RIVER (UPI) — Donald Pedo has resigned as Iron River city manager because the city commission refused to hike his pay $25 a month.

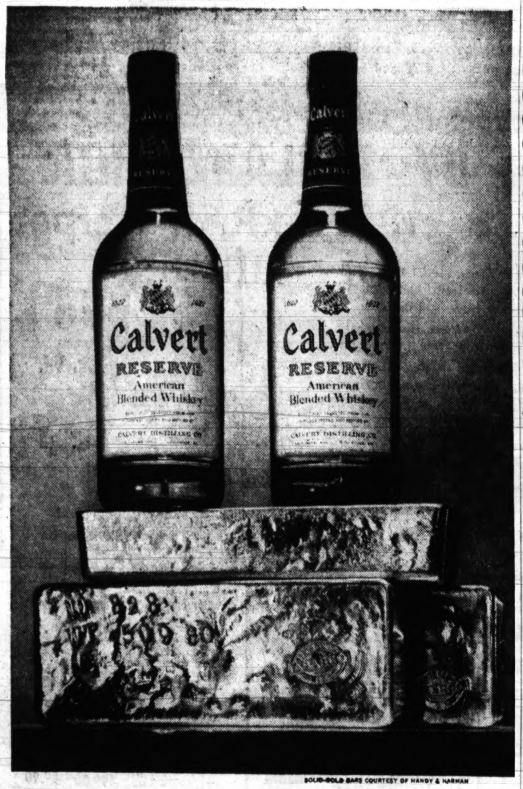

★ ★ ★

Pedo, former assistant city engineer at Milwaukee, took the job last spring for $7,500 a year with the understanding he would get the pay raise after a six-month probationary period.

★ ★ ★

The six months ended Oct. 6 and the commission last night voted down the pay increase.

Average Shopper Visits Market 3 Times a Week

"How do you fit the description of the average food shopper?" asks the marketing information agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Today's average shopper is a homemaker who visits a supermarket three times a week. She does not have a completely written shopping list.

Today's average food shopper buys 13 to 14 items per shopping trip, spends 27 minutes per visit and spends an average of $7.74. She makes most of the trips to the grocery store on Friday and Saturday.

The average food shopper lives in a family of three or four people and has a family income of about $5,000. The average food shopper is between 25 and 44 years of age and has a high school education.

These are stew kettle, roasting pan and casserole days . . . for a chilly morning warms of fall's heartier appetites. There is about 10 per cent more beef available than a year ago and this brings a good supply of thrifty pot-roasting and stewing beef, advises Mrs. Lawyer.

Both the less tender and more popular tender cuts come from the same beef animal. The less tender cuts come from "working" muscles which get more exercise. The active muscles include the leg, shoulder, neck and flank of the beef animal.

In the food market, you will find these less tender beef cuts listed as shank, bottom round, shoulder, neck brisket and flank. Moist heat cookery steam-tenderizes less tender cuts. It is important to simmer them at low temperature during their long cooking.

Here is good news for food shoppers. Efficiency in processing and distributing food keeps costs down and cost reductions do get passed along to food buyers.

We sometimes fail to realize this, Mrs. Lawyer adds, because cost reductions are often hidden by other changes. Some of these changes include increasing costs in farming, changes in package size or type, or changes in processing formulas.

Data assembled on some foods over a period of 20 years shows that retail food prices have not increased proportionally as much as the general price level has increased. That is good news for food shoppers.

Wonder why carrots can be so long and perfectly shaped? They may have been planted using the new transparent soluble "seed ribbon." This ribbon holds the tiny seeds and insures perfect spacing so that carrots can grow without crowding. This results in uniform size and growth.

The uniform carrots are a real advantage to canners, processors and consumers. You get carrots that cook evenly whether they are whole or sliced.

If leg of lamb is your meat choice, you'll find fall prices less than they were during the summer.

By purchasing a full or whole leg of lamb, you can realize more than one meal. For variety, have the meat department cut through the shank bone leaving about a pound of meat on the bone for stew. Then have a few steaks cut from the sirloin end of the leg. These steaks can be broiled just as you would lamb chops. The center of the leg then becomes a lamb roast which can be used for another meal.

Demi-Tasse Cups Hold Go-Withs

Serve - yourself - accompaniments never fail to beguile. Offer them with soup.

Use miniature containers for these go-alongs. (Demi-tasse cups and spoons are fine). Place them on a small tray for easy passing and fill each with a topping that will complement the flavor of the soup.

With jellied red madrilene or a bisque (a creamy seafood or tomato concoction) we like cucumber, avocado, pimiento-stuffed green olives — all diced; minced chives or scallions.

Vary Bran Muffin Recipe to Change Menu

The autumn color that's sweeping the countryside has come inside to enliven the breakfast table. Fall fruits lend their real and figurative color to the morning meal, turning breakfast into one of the best experiences of the day.

You can start breakfast with a steaming baked apple, rosy and tart. Or, cook cranberries and apples together to make a tempting breakfast fruit combination to serve warm with a sprinkling of nutmeg.

Another way to use your favorite fruits of autumn at breakfast is in quick breads. Almost any freshly baked hot bread will give breakfast an added interest. When you choose these sparkling fruited muffins, enthusiasm at the breakfast table is assured.

Top bran muffins with a dollop of whole cranberry sauce for a ruby-red accent in a meal of orange sections, corn flakes with milk and sugar, and cocoa or coffee. For a variation, tuck the cranberry sauce in between spoonfuls of batter when filling the muffin cups.

Spicy Applesauce Bran Muffins enhance breakfast or brunch. Pass honey and butter with the hot muffins, and round out breakfast with grapefruit juice, oven-toasted rice cereal with milk and sugar, grilled pork link sausages, and milk or coffee to drink.

Cranberry Bran Muffins

1 cup whole bran cereal
¾ cup milk
1 egg
¼ cup soft shortening
1 cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup sugar
8 tablespoons whole cranberry sauce

Combine whole bran cereal and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add egg and shortening and beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add to first mixture, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Press 2 teaspoons of cranberry sauce into the top of each muffin. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Serve immediately.

Yield: 9 muffins, 2½ inches in diameter.

★ ★ ★

Applesauce Bran Muffins

1 cup whole bran cereal
1 cup milk
1 cup sweetened applesauce
1 egg
¼ cup soft shortening
1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup sugar

Combine whole bran cereal, milk and applesauce; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add egg and shortening and beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt, spices and sugar. Add to first mixture, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Serve immediately. Yield 11 muffins, 2½ inches in diameter.

Dip sliced bread into an egg-and-milk mixture as you would for French toast; bake right at the table on your waffle iron.

Shrimp Mix Has Double Use

When two such versatile foods as shrimp and rice are combined, it goes without saying that the results will be versatile, too. For example, the recipe below from the Shrimp Association of the Americas makes croquettes or patties for a main-course luncheon dish, to be served perhaps with a creamy dill sauce.

The same recipe may be used for preparing hot canapes. Just mold the mixture into tiny balls, deep-fat fry them, stick a toothpick in each and serve them with a spicy cocktail sauce.

Shrimp-Rice Croquettes

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
¾ cup milk
1 cup cooked rice
1 small can mushrooms, drained and chopped
1 cup finely chopped cooked shrimp
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Dash cayenne
1 teaspoon curry powder

Melt butter, remove from heat and stir in flour. Return to heat and gradually add milk, stirring constantly over moderate heat until thick. Combine with remaining ingredients. (If there is time, chill mixture for easier handling.) Shape into small balls, patties or croquettes, as desired. Mix 1 egg with 1 tablespoon water and beat slightly. Dip in egg mixture, then roll in fine dry bread crumbs.

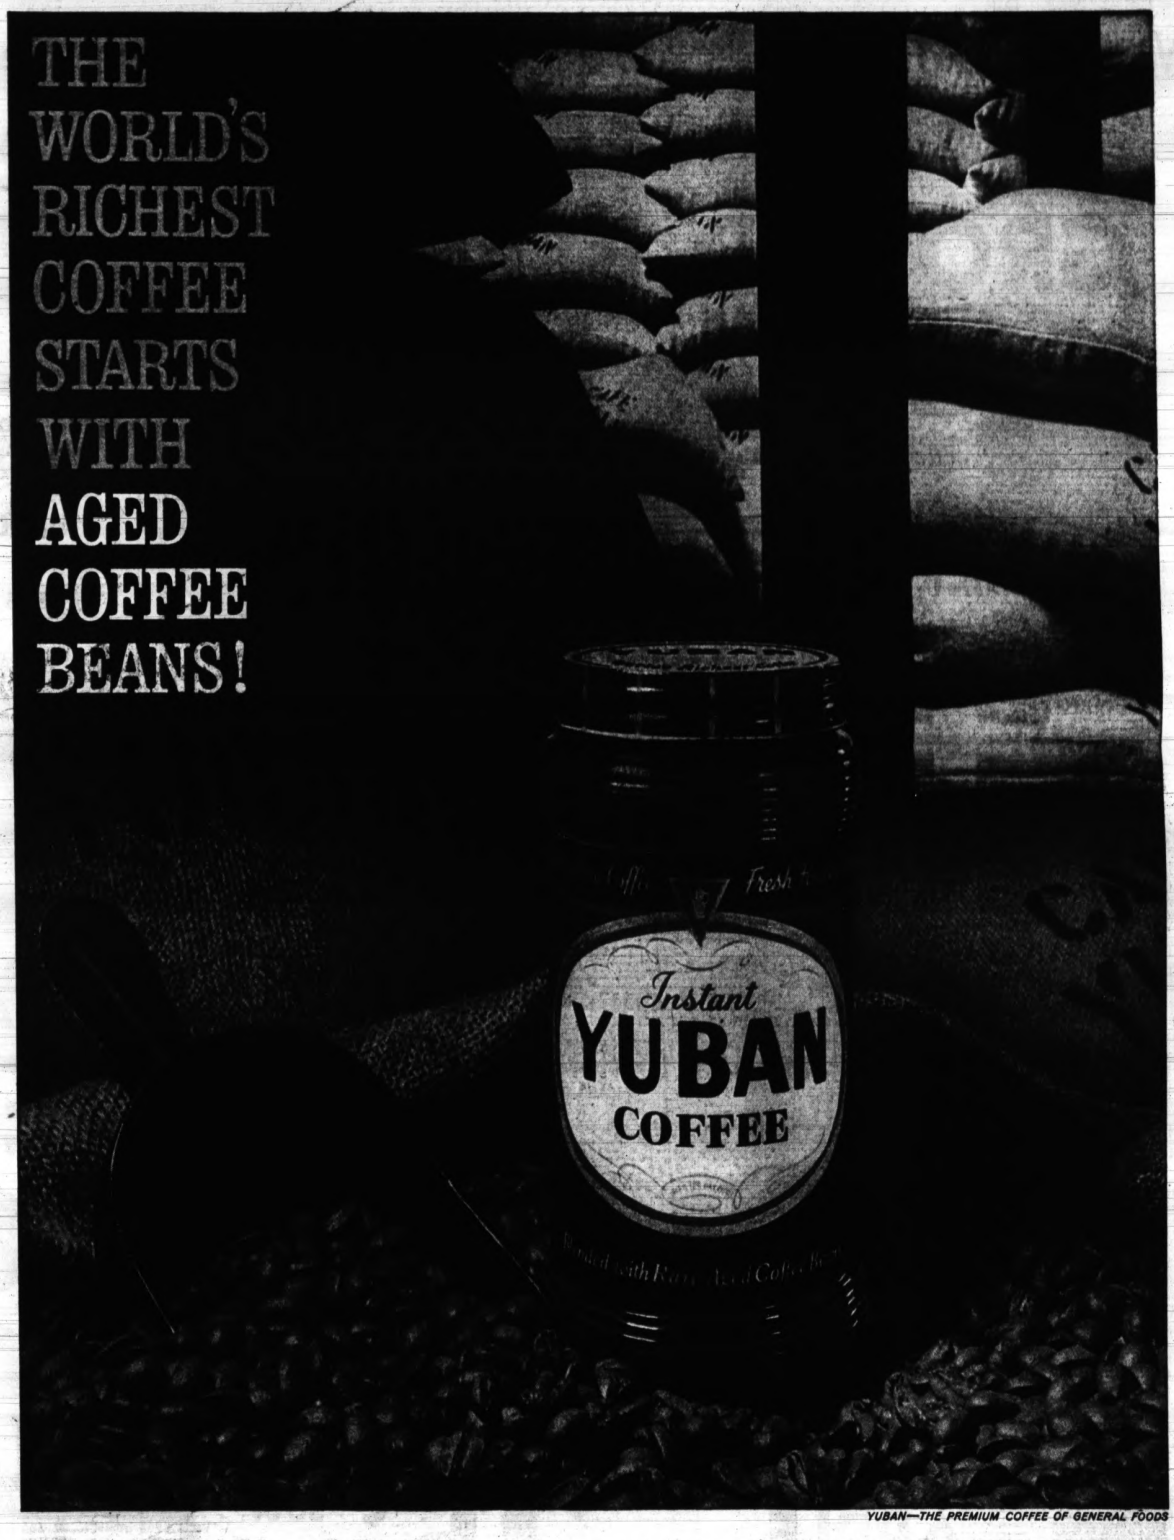

Fry in deep hot fat (375 degrees) until browned. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes about 24 small croquettes, six servings.

Topping Is Important

Hot breakfast soup is "cool" with students of high school age. They like the multiplicity of soup flavors —the variety of ingredients and the floater possibilities. Toppings of small squares of toast, cereal bits, crumbled pretzels, popcorn, or bacon add to the goodness and nourishment of breakfast soup.

Save Orange Shells

Save orange halves after you have extracted the juice and scallop the cut edges, zig-zag fashion, with your kitchen shears. Cut away inside membrane. Pack the orange shells with a layer of fruit sherbet and a layer of vanilla ice cream; freeze. Nice to have on hand for company.

MEAT 'N TATER—Meat-and-potato pie looks light as meringue dessert, combines hearty nourishment and rich flavor. The secret: a well-spiced meat loaf mixture, its juiciness and good beef taste brought out by Ac'cent, and a surprise layer of cheese slices hidden by the fluffy topping of instant mashed potatoes.

Team Meat Loaf and Potatoes in Easy Pie

It's a neat trick when you can put meat and potatoes together to make a sturdy dish that looks as light and fluffy as a lemon meringue pie. Like other neat tricks, it's easy when you know how—much easier than you might have supposed.

Start with one of America's favorite meats, ground beef. Sprinkle it with MSG, the seasoning that has no flavor of its own but works magic on the flavor of beef and many other foods by underlining their natural qualities. Ground beef seasoned with MSG enriches its own beef flavor and juiciness as it cooks. Now make your beef into a meat loaf mixture with evaporated milk, bread crumbs and seasonings, and most of your work is done.

The meat loaf bakes in a pie plate instead of the usual loaf pan. Ten minutes before it's done, you cover it with cheese slices and a swirl of frothy instant mashed potatoes. Return it to the oven for 10 minutes and presto! it comes out with delicately browned peaks on the white surface concealing the savory beef and cheese pie beneath.

This pie makes an ideal choice for company dinners. You can mix your meat loaf well in advance and have it ready in the pie plate to pop into the oven when the moment arrives. You need leave your guests for only a few minutes to mix the potatoes and add them to the pie with cheese slices, and you have a display piece to bring to the table. Moreover, it's almost a one-dish meal that requires nothing more than a green salad for a successful partnership.

Meat 'n' Tater

1½ teaspoons MSG
1½ pounds ground beef
½ cup evaporated milk
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
1 egg
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ teaspoons dry mustard
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon thyme
½ cup minced onion
4 ounces process American cheese, thinly sliced
1 envelope instant mashed potato granules

Sprinkle MSG over beef in mixing bowl. Add remaining ingredients except cheese and instant potatoes. Mix with fork until blended. Turn into a 9-inch pie plate. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 40 minutes. Remove from oven. Increase heat to hot (450 degrees).

While meat is baking, prepare potatoes according to package directions. Cover hot meat mixture with cheese slices. Swirl potatoes on top. If desired, dot top with additional cheese cut in small cubes. Return to oven and bake 10 minutes longer. Yield: 6 servings.

Marshmallows

NEW YORK (UPI) — Marshmallows take their name from a European perennial herb, Althaea officinalis, or marsh mallow, whose root was used to make a sweetened paste similar to today's confection. Modern marshmallows are made from corn syrup, starch, sugar and gelatin.

Grape Sauce for Lamb

A tasty sauce especially good with lamb roast or lamb chops is made by adding 1 teaspoon lemon rind and 1 teaspoon lemon juice to 1 cup of grape jelly and heating the mixture, stirring constantly, until the jelly melts. Two or three tablespoons slivered toasted almonds may be sprinkled over the top for added goodness.

Universal Food

Put Pancakes in U.N. Day Menu

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

What would you choose as a universal food? United Nations Day is being observed October 24. That's a day when it would be appropriate to serve something that might be eaten all over the world.

That something is PANCAKES. Surprised? Guess we were too, but an article we read says that one of the earliest forms of bread was a simple mixture of meal and water cooked on a hot stone.

★ ★ ★

We had fun the other night looking through some of our foreign cookbooks to find the following pancake recipes. Instead of pulling out the box of pancake mix, try one of these recipes and let the family know they're eating foreign food.

In Hungary pancakes are filled with walnuts.

Hungarian Pancakes

1 egg
Yolk of an egg
About 1 cup milk
1 teaspoon sugar
Dash of salt
½ cup water

Mix all together to make a thin batter. This should make 7 pancakes. Cook and fill before serving.

Walnut Filling

Mix roughly ground walnuts with sugar and little lukewarm milk. Place a small amount of this filling on each pancake and fold over. Honey may be used instead of sugar.

★ ★ ★

In Sweden pancakes may be served as a dessert.

Apple Pancake Cake

1½ cups sifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons melted butter

Beat eggs until thick and piled softly. Blend in milk and melted butter. Add to sifted dry ingredients and beat until smooth.

★ ★ ★

Bake on a hot griddle, making six 8-inch pancakes. Keep remaining batter for breakfast pancakes. As each pancake is cooked, transfer it to a platter; spread with ¼ cup thick, sweetened applesauce. Do not put applesauce on top pancake. Chill.

Prepare sweetened whipped cream, using 1 cup cream. Frost pancake stack with cream. Chill until time to serve. Cut into wedges. Serves 6 to 8.

★

In some countries the pancake batter is poured into one large dish and baked. The following recipe is Austrian.

Almond Pancakes

½ cup milk
6 eggs
2 tablespoons ground almonds
1½ tablespoons butter
1½ tablespoons sugar
2 drops almond extract

Separate the eggs and beat the whites. Mix milk, egg yolks, butter, sugar, flavoring and ground nuts. Last of all beat in the beaten whites. Beat all together well.

Butter a baking dish and pour in batter. Bake in 375-degree oven for 45 minutes. Divide pancake into pieces and serve with a sprinkling of sugar.

Our last recipe is a simple one. It comes from our near neighbors, the French Canadians who live on the Gaspe Peninsula.

Habitant Sour Milk Pancakes

1½ cups sour milk
½ teaspoon soda
1 egg well beaten
Dash of salt
Flour to make soft batter

Fry on a hot buttered frying pan.

Try Various Egg Dishes for Breakfast

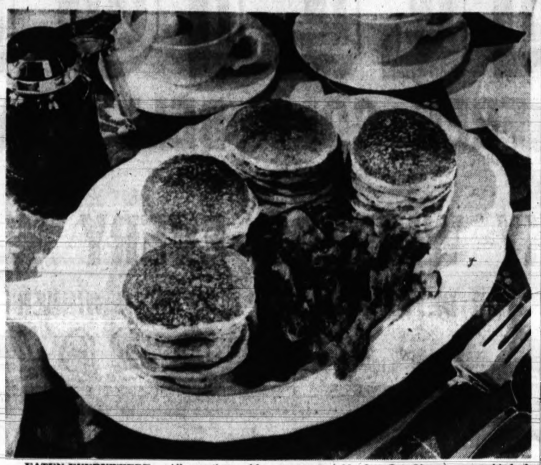

"Make breakfast at your home worth getting up for," advises Kathryn Bele Niles, home economist for the Poultry and Egg National Board. In discussing ways for homemakers to get the family back to organized living after a summer of relaxed routines, Mrs. Niles counseled women that good eating habits established at the start of the school year are easy to maintain.

"A wholesome meal of eggs, toast, fruit and milk will send youngsters off to school eager to learn, and with plenty of vigor for active work and play." Teachers, too, report that boys and girls who've had a complete, nourishing breakfast don't suffer from midmorning let-downs.

Eggs, whether soft-cooked, scrambled, fried, poached, shirred, or served as omelets, make any good breakfast better. They are a boon to busy mothers, for egg preparation requires only a few minutes, no matter how eggs are cooked. Serve eggs often in whatever style your family enjoys most. And for an occasional change, serve an eggnog or orangeg drink at breakfast—it's a meal-on-the run and "nogs" can be mixed the night before and refrigerated.

Brisk fall mornings bring requests for hot cereal. Whip an egg or two into cooked cereal; then watch the youngsters relish it down to the last spoonful.

You'll just naturally cook better breakfasts if you keep a supply of eggs in the refrgirerator. They're one of the easiest, quickest foods for breakfast, and they're laden with golden, nutritious goodness.

EATEN EVERYWHERE — All over the world people eat pancakes although they may not use that name. In honor of United Nations Day which comes next Monday, Oct. 24, serve some kind of foreign pancakes to your family.

Cranberries Are Safe to Buy

It's no secret that cranberry growers throughout the country are working to build customer confidence in their product. It's also no secret that no one needs to worry about cranberries this year reports the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Retailers have plenty of the fresh new crop in the stores.

★ ★ ★

You'll find that fresh cranberries today are the early black varieties. Brighter red varieties will come later in the season.

The cranberry crop is 4 per cent larger than last year and 29 per cent larger than average. This means lots of fresh cranberries for several months to come.

★ ★ ★

Cranberries add special flavor when served with meats. Salads, desserts or breads are other popular ways to serve them.

Toasted Cracker Treats

Pantry shelf pals take to the outdoors as Peanut Butter-Jelly Graham Toasties. To make them, assemble "sandwiches" from graham crackers filled with the favored combination of peanut butter and jelly. Place in a long-handled, hinged wire broiler or toaster—closed tightly — and toast for one or two minutes, turning often.

Bottled mint sauce is delicious served with broiled lamb chops as well as with roast leg of lamb.

Butterscotch Cake Mix Gets Harvest Touches

Since a cake makes any occasion special, and many occasions ranging from football games to formal dinner parties occur in the Fall, a wise hostess will recognize the value of this beautiful and delicious "Harvest Cake."

★ ★ ★

Starting with a package of butterscotch cake mix to which applesauce, spices and raisins are added, two dark fruity layers evolve, two dark fruity layers evolve. These are frosted, top and sides, with easy, no-cook orange-flavored butter cream frosting. It is a cake that guests will enjoy and remember.

This recipe is just one of 200 in General Foods Kitchens new baking book "All About Home Baking." This new cookbook is well illustrated in black and white and color and is filled with the newest data on home baking. This includes charts and techniques as well as recipes for all kinds of baked products . . . bread and pies, as well as cakes and cookies.

Harvest Cake

1 package butterscotch cake mix
1 cup water
2 eggs, unbeaten
½ cup thick unsweetened applesauce
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup chopped raisins

Empty cake mix into bowl. Add remaining ingredients. Beat 3 minutes until smooth and creamy.

★ ★ ★

Pour batter into two round 9-inch layer pans, which have been greased and floured on bottoms and sides. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes. Cool. Frost with Orange Butter Cream Frosting and garnish with orange slice, if desired.

Orange Butter Cream Frosting

⅓ cup butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
1 pound (about 4 cups) sifted confectioners' sugar
2 egg yolks, unbeaten
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
3 tablespoons orange juice

Cream butter until soft. Add salt and part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Then add egg yolks and grated orange rind; blend well. Add remaining sugar, alternately with orange juice, until of right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth. Makes 2½ cups frosting.

NOTE: If desired, 1 whole egg may be substituted for the 2 egg yolks. Makes 2¾ cups frosting.

Cottage Cheese on Pie

Put your electric blender to work on this flavorful garnish for frozen individual apple pies: Combine ½ cup cottage cheese with 1 tablespoon frozen concentrated orange juice. Blend until smooth. Spread over baked apple pies. Top with toasted chopped almonds for a wonderful treat.

Lean Pork Roast Good Meat Choice This Week

Of all the meat in the market, which will you choose? If price and supply are as important as family wishes, then you'll be interested in changes since last week.

Retailers report little if any change in over-all beef, lamb and veal prices. If you like beef round steak you'll find the average price about 79 to 99 cents a pound. Cut extra thick (1 to 1¼ inches) round steak can be used for making "Swiss steak."

Hog marketings at 12 major terminals last week were the largest for any week since mid-June. Some think this a signal to indicate that larger fall marketings have finally begun. You'll find more pork cuts emphasized in food stores this week.

"To market, to market to buy a lean pig" could well be the slogan of today's food shopper. If you want the leanest fresh pork roast, check the Boston butt, selling at 39 to 53 cents a pound. This cut comes from the shoulder of the animal. If the bone seems a nuisance, have the butcher remove it. It is easy to remove the flat blade bone from this cut. Once the bone is out, the Boston butt can be rolled and tied or stuffed and tied for a roast or sliced into boneless steaks.

Wholesale fryer prices are slightly higher, but this week's retail prices remain about as they have been. At 29 cents a pound for a whole bird, that's about 23 cents a serving. At 43 cents a pound, that's 33 cents per serving.

Want a turkey? You will find ample supplies at about 49 to 59 cents a pound but your money buys more meat when you choose a large size turkey. The large size bird has more meat in proportion to bone.

Time to stock up on apples for those goblins that come "trick and treatin." A bushel is the best buy, if you want as many as 96 to 144 apples. Best for eating out-of-hand are McIntosh, Jonathan and Delicious.

It is possible to have all U.S. Grades in small, medium or large apples. Grades do not indicate the cooking quality or flavor of apples. These depend upon the apple variety. If you wish a free copy of Michigan's apple varieties with suggestions for their use, write Mrs. Lawyer at 1260 W. Blvd., Pontiac.

Retailers report that apples are starting from storage and will be a little higher because of added storage costs.

Florida grapefruit is beginning to be more plentiful, but you can expect size to be small at first. Both size and flavor will improve as the season progresses.

Alert shoppers will notice a drop in cauliflower and a rise in head lettuce prices this week. Supplies of cauliflower are larger and some of the Texas lettuce crop has been destroyed by hail.

Rains have helped both cabbage and cauliflower supplies. At 5 to 7 cents a pound, fresh green cabbage is now an excellent way to serve Vitamin C. One-half cup of raw cabbage contains about a third of the vitamin C recommended for the daily diet of a normally active man.

Have you seen the plump fresh mushrooms in the market? Twelve growers in southeastern Michigan are now busily harvesting about 70,000 pounds each week. To prepare for cooking, wash in cold water and trim ends of the stems. It is not necessary to peel mushrooms.

Bacon Has Interesting History

CHICAGO—If you've ever been awakened by the nose-tingling aroma of frying bacon, you know just how good bacon can be. There's more to this meat than fine flavor and solid nourishment, however. According to the American Meat Institute, bacon has a long and interesting history all its own.

'Way back in the times of the early Greeks and Romans, bacon was a preferred food. Wrestlers ate it to become strong. It was believed that the gods also appreciated its finer qualities and favored the altars on which bacon was smoked.

Bacon must have been also prized by the American pioneers according to a tale of Denver's early days. A covered wagon driver who managed to bring a load of bacon from the Missouri River cities was able to trade his load for an entire city block.

Homemakers who now appreciate bacon for its economy may marvel at this story. Following the "panic" of 1837 bacon cost so little that it was used for fuel on Mississippi River steamboats. It was cheaper than cordwood!

The uses of bacon today are more conventional but they are just as varied and popular. Versatile bacon is an easy, nutritious meat for breakfast, lunch and dinner as well as for snacks, sandwiches and casseroles. Bacon adds a special color and flavor to cooking and to history as well.

Building Should Begin by April 1

New Plans Expected to Overcome Monetary Bottleneck

By DON FERMOYLE

LAPEER — Construction of a new Lapeer County Jail — already delayed twice this year because of high costs — should start April 1, according to County Clerk Lyle Stewart.

★ ★ ★

The building committee of the Lapeer County Board of Supervisors has accepted revised architectural plans which are expected to allow the jail to be built for the $350,000 set aside for the project.

★ ★ ★

The board found that earlier drawings submitted by the Architectural firm of Cuthbert & Cuthbert of Dearborn would result in a building which would cost nearly twice that amount.

The lowest bid for the project based on these plans was in the neighborhood of $400,000, Stewart said. Because of the high costs, all bids were rejected in August.

★ ★ ★

The architects were sent back to their drawing boards in January when they came up with plans for a building considered too expensive for the county.

The revised plans accepted by the board will be made available to contractors Nov. 15. The new bids will be opened a month later.

Told to design a more economical building, the architects revised their drawings to call for a flat roof which will eliminate about 50 per cent of the columns that would have been needed to support the concrete slab roof originally planned for the structure.

Another cost cutting measure is the use of brick veneer rather than concrete panels in exterior construction.

★ ★ ★

Stewart said the cost of the building should be less with this type of construction.

★ ★ ★

The county clerk reported that the board hoped to have the work started as soon as the weather allows it next spring. He said April 1 is the target date for construction to start.

These 'Baby Sitters' Take Care of Cows

The Michigan, farmer is looking o his neighbor for ways to broaden his experience without suffering osses on the home front.

★ ★ ★

In years past, farmers have been ouldn't leave their milking and stay-at-homes" because they ouldn't leave their milking and her chores unattended for even day without returning to at least minor disaster.

Now farmers in at least two counties have organized "cow-sitting" services.

Similar to baby-sitting, "cow-sitting" involves hiring someone to ke care of the farm while the mily goes visiting, shopping or aces an emergency.

Don Murray, dairy specialist at lichigan State University, said his epartment has received many inuires on how the "cow-sitting" ervice was organized in Barry and llegan counties.

The most recently organized of the two was the East Allegan Milking and Chore Service.

Farmer members pay an anal membership fee, which can e applied to "sitter fees" during iat year. When a farmer wants o go visiting, he simply calls for relief milker.

Of course, the relief milker, like he baby sitter, requires detailed nstructions as to the proper care nd feeding of his charges—when nd what to feed the chickens, cows, sheep, pigs and so forth.

Officials of the recently formed organization in East Allegan County indicated the sitter service would be available for farmers who want to take vacations, but they anticipated the major use of the service would be in emergencies such as illness.

"There is a lot of interest in programs of this type throughout he state," Murray said. "But there are few which have organized.

"The ones which we know that are not really organized usually are successful because a farmer who wants to go away for a day knows of a semiretired neighbor who is willing to fill in, or a group of farmers may have an agreement to help each other in emergencies, he said.

The program in Barry County operates on a membership fee basis like that in the Allegan area, Murray said.

"We get many letters from individuals throughout the state wanting to know how to organize these programs," he said.

"And we send them information about what other groups have done. To my knowledge, however, the groups in Barry and Allegan counties are the only ones which have really organized it."

A group of farmers in Washtenaw county recently held an organizational meeting on the matter, Murray said, but it was not known whether it carried through with its original plans.

Members of the Allegan and Barry groups saw the organization as a way of gaining freedom from the day-to-day, year-to-year monotony which tied them down to their income-producing acreage.

Revises Rules Covering Center

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The Township Board has adopted a revised constitution and bylaws governing use of the Community Center on Main Street.

Although no drastic changes were made, the revisions spell out and clarify certain regulations upon which there had been some question.

People older than 20 and in groups must pay for use of the center. Those under 20 will not be required to pay a fee.

The rule excludes the American Cancer Society, the Red Cross Blood Bank and all other government sponsored units wishing to use the building.

KITCHEN FEE $3

PTA Asks Backing on Proposals

ROCHESTER — Support of two proposals on the Nov. 8 ballot is being urged by the Rochester Community Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.

★ ★ ★

One issue, Proposal No. 3, asks for an amendment to the state constitution which would put a call for a constitutional convention (Con-Con) on the April ballot.

The other, Proposal No. 1, would continue in effect the unlimited tax feature on school bond issues.

Robert Chandler, chairman of the council's legislative committee, reported that information concerning the school loan amendment and the Con-Con proposal has been forwarded to Rochester PTA units.

★ ★ ★

Both issues have the backing of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, the council's parent organization. The council is asking its member units to hold panel discussions on the two proposals.

★ ★ ★

The local PTA groups will outline their plans for the year when the council meets at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Rochester High School.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis of 29839 Lyon St., New Hudson, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with an open house at the Methodist Church, New Hudson. Market Manager Pleads Guilty in Safety Charge

WALLED LAKE — The manager of the Lakeside Packing House Super Market, 155 Todd Road, pleaded guilty in justice court yesterday of failing to comply with a directive from the State Department of Labor.

The charge was brought against Nowacki by state inspector Grace Olsen.

Embezzle Trial Gets Under Way

The first witness testified yesterday in the case against a 59-year-old Almont woman who is charged with embezzling over $100,000 from a Detroit architectural firm.

★ ★ ★

Asst. Prosecutor William P. Long told a Recorder's Court jury that he will attempt to show that Mrs. Mary M. Averill took $294,550.

The architectural firm of Giffels & Rossetti claims that some $856,000 was stolen over a six-year period while Mrs. Averill was its head bookkeeper.

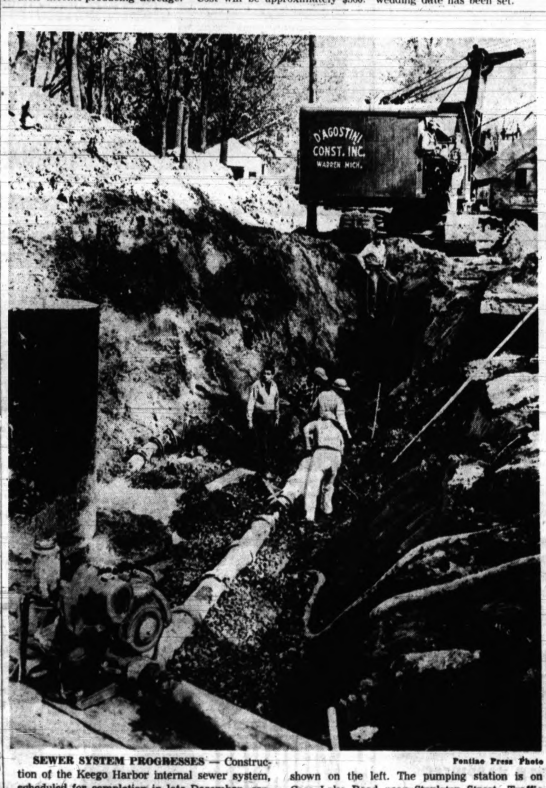

The company was known as Giffels & Vallet when Mrs. Averill was employed there.

The prosecutor said the woman is being tried for the amount allegedly taken in 1955-56 only.

First witness was Pierce Fowlow, vice president of City Bank, who will conclude his testimony today. Mrs. Averill's defense attorneys will not make an opening statement until after the witness completes his testimony.

The palatial Averill home is at 6330 W. Bordman Road, just south of the Almont village limits.

Glenn Averill the accused woman's husband is a retired Detroit policeman.

Russian Pianist Thrills Audience

Sviatoslav Richter at Carnegie Hall as Part of Exchange Program

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pianist Sviatoslav Richter, Russia's secret weapon in the cultural exchange competition, took New York music lovers by storm Wednesday night at a Carnegie Hall recital that had them cheering in the aisles.

Richter's billing as the world's greatest pianist brought out one of the most critical audiences seen at Carnegie in years — pianists, piano teachers, conductors, singers and famous music patrons. The program of five difficult Beethoven sonatas was a grueling test even for a great virtuoso.

With each Sonata, the audience response rose a few decibels until it reached a thunderous roar of applause, shouted bravos, and whistles after the final number, the incomparable appassionata.

For the first time a smile crossed Richter's sober face and he sat down to play an encore, then an other and another and another. Schubert, Schumann and Chopin.

"He never does this in Moscow," said impresario Sol Hurok who brought the 45-year-old pianist from behind the Iron Curtain for the first time in his career, except for a concert in Finland last May. "I heard an audience at the Moscow Conservatory applaud for 45 minutes, but they didn't get an encore."

Tickets for the concert, the first of five at Carnegie Hall, were sold out in five hours after they went on sale at the hall during Hurricane Donna. The other concerts have been sold out for weeks, an unprecedented box office record for a debut artist in New York.

Richter made his American debut with the Chicago Symphony last Saturday and will play with the Philadelphia and Boston orchestras and give recitals in 13 American and Canadian cities. While he is here, the American pianist Byron Janis is touring the Soviet Union as part of the exchange program renewed last June by the U.S. and Russian governments despite growing international tensions.

England Provides Dixie Setting

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—"Suddenly, Last Summer" was a Tennessee Williams saga of sex and sin in the deep American South.

So where was it filmed? England!

This oddity is explained by film industry bigwig: "Here was a story about America with American actors, which should have been filmed here. It probably would have been a better picture if it had, better in atmosphere and bit players. But it was filmed in England and Sam Spiegel probably made a million dollars more than he would have, because of the Eady plan."

THOMAS

American companies today are shooting six features in England, largely because of the Eady plan (named for the British politician who dreamed it up).

Here's how it works: The British government places a tax on the returns from all theaters. From this fund, the government grants a rebate to producers who make films in England with native talent.

The English-made picture is also assured unlimited playing time in Britain, while a foreign product is subject to quotas.

LOAN SOLDIERS

France and Italy offer similar inducements to Hollywood companies. So do other countries, either in outright subsidies or other means. Yugoslavia has been free with loaning its troops for battle scenes ("War and Peace"). So was Spain with "Alexander the Great," "Pride and the Passion" and "Spartacus," although the Spanish have since desisted.

★ ★ ★

But producer Samuel Bronston has found another way to do business in Spain. He is financing "King of Kings," "El Cid" and other epics with backing from big American firms doing business in Spain. Thus the firms can get their funds out of Spain in dollar returns from the box office receipts in the United States. Other countries offer the advantage of thus freeing frozen coin, besides which foreign labor is more attractive than the steadily rising cost of Hollywood labor.

EXPLAINS DILEMMA

The production chief of a big Hollywood studio told me his dilemma: "Look, I'd like to keep this studio going. We've got a staff here to whom we owe some loyalty; we also have loyalty to the community to keep the movie business here. But we've got to have production to pay for the overhead.

"It is becoming increasingly difficult to maintain a schedule of productions at the studio. The expatriates—not only stars, but directors, writers and producers, too—are part of that difficulty. More and more of them will only work abroad.

"And it is becoming harder and harder to compete with the advantages that foreign countries give to producers who will film over there."

Prestige-Decline Report Alleged

Washington Paper Says GOP Trying to Hide Adverse Study

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration was reported today to have found through overseas polls that U.S. prestige "has been unquestionably on the decline" since Russia launched Sputnik I in 1957.

★ ★

The Washington Post and Times-Herald said in a front-page story that this was the conclusion of a secret top-level group appointed by President Eisenhower last December.

The newspaper report was certain to add fuel to the presidential campaign argument over American prestige abroad.

Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy contends that this country's standing overseas has slipped under the Eisenhower administration. GOP candidate Richard M. Nixon asserts that American prestige has never been higher.

★ ★ ★

The Post and Times-Herald quoted a source as saying that in nine of 10 countries polled by the U.S. Information Agency (USIA) "The general picture shows that without any question whatsoever the peoples' confidence in the U.S. as the wave of the future, as a dynamic, growing country has been on the decline since Sputnik commenced."

The publication quoted the source as saying that Central Intelligence Agency charts presented to the White House group "confirmed the blackest allegations that the Democrats have made."

The Post and Times-Herald said the White House group "is being subjected to increasing pressure to keep its findings secret, at least until after the election. Already the general tendency has been to water down some of the drafted conclusions."

★ ★ ★

The newspaper report appeared just after the State Department and USIA appeared to be trying to keep their studies of U.S. prestige abroad out of the presidential campaign.

The State Department conceded Wednesday that it was making a photographic survey of U.S. prestige overseas. But it said the study would not be ready until mid-November or later — after the Nov. 8 election.

PLAN WEDDING — Actor Jason Robards Jr. and actress Lauren Bacall are pictured outside her New York apartment early Wednesday. Robards said he loves Miss Bacall and stated that they will be married. "I love Betty (Miss Bacall). And as soon as this is over we'll get married," he told newsmen. Robards was referring to a divorce suit in which his wife Rachel Taylor Robards charges he committed adultery with Miss Bacall. Robards, currently starring on Broadway in "Toys in the Attic," denied the accusation.

U.S. to Help India Buy Machinery

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The United States today made available to India $25 million for the importation of capital equipment for small and medium-sized industries.

★ ★ ★

The loan, granted by the Development Loan Fund, is repayable in rupees and intended to cover foreign exchange requirements during the closing months of India's second five-year plan, which ends next March.

★ ★ ★

Official sources said $25 million more will likely be granted by the fund Thursday to enable India to import steel and steel products.

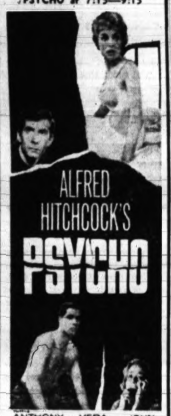

★ ★ ★

This will push the total of DLF loans to India to more than $420 million, and total U.S. financial assistance to India to $3,679,000,000.

State Buying Compacts, Plans to Purchase More

LANSING (AP)—One of the state's largest volume car buyers has moved into the compact car field.

The State of Michigan—owner of 2,342 passenger vehicles—purchased its first two lots of compacts recently, and it's going to buy more, says State Controller Ira Polley.

Fifty-five Detroit-made compacts are in the state's motor services division pool, purchased last March and July. The State Conservation Department, which does not use motor services division cars, has purchased four compact cars.

The State Highway Department, maintaining a fleet of 708 automobiles (including Jeeps), and the State Police Department, with 628 passenger cars, have purchased no compact cars to date.

Chris Briethaupt, motor services division director, has filed a request with Polley for 351 new cars. He recommended that about 25 per cent be compacts.

"Although we won't be buying nearly that number of cars," Polley said, "I do know that I will go him one better and order an even higher percentage of compacts."

Is it just the state's financial problem that has sparked this interest in smaller than standard size cars?

"I don't think so," the controller said. "I hope I would have had this same interest in compacts even before austerity. It seems like sound economy."

CONSIDER ECONOMY

The state has always purchased low-priced cars, except for those used by some elected officials and an occasional "deal" on a higher-priced car.

"In our auto economics, we take into consideration the purchase price, day-to-day operating costs, maintenance and resale value, Polley said.

To date, he said, the over-all economy of the compacts looks good. Preliminary checks show them getting 19 to 22 miles per gallon.

"We really won't have a clear idea of their economy until we get about 50,000 miles out of them," Breithaupt said. "The whole picture won't be seen until trade-in time—two or three years from now."

Reactions from the drivers has been varied; some complain, while others have bought small cars for personal use as a result of driving state-owned compacts.

Labor Secretary Pushing for Nixon

HAMMOND, Ind. (UPI)—Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said it is important for the nation's economy that Vice President Richard M. Nixon be elected next month.

Mitchell said steel production rose by 40 per cent during the Eisenhower administration and U.S. steel mills will reach an all-time high in ingot-ton production this year.

Values Remain Steady in Real Estate Report

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Economist Luigi Laurenti studied real estate values in seven cities.

Is George Wilson reaching the end of the line as coach of the Detroit Lions?

The feeling grows stronger that it will happen soon.

The attitude also exists that the red hot coals which burst into flame at the National Football League meeting last winter in regard to Edwin J. Anderson's presidency have also been rekindled.

Last spring this writer quoted an ex-Lion official who was willing to wager that Wilson and Anderson would be "out" before this season reached its end.

★ ★ ★

Despite what appears to be a serene atmosphere at this time, the present Lions' plight has already caused a few unpleasant words to be spoken from sources close to the organization.

This is the unfortunate part of professional athletics. Regardless of how nice the guy or how capable the coach, the effects of losing always takes its toll.

Casey Stengel, one of the winningest coaches in baseball even found that out. He was relieved of his job when with the Dodgers and with the old Milwaukee Braves. Now he was "fired" despite his record.

Coaches have to accept two things in pro athletics, keep winning but don't get old.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Did you know that when the Baltimore Colts started molding their championship team together a few years ago they obtained five of their top regulars who were cast aside by other teams for $100 or less? John Unitas, Daddy Lipscomb, Milt Davis, Buzz Nutter and Bill Pellington all took a century note or less for signing.

Lloyd Syron, 1957 Michigan Amateur golf champion, is taking the "fatal" step Saturday morning. Lloyd, son of Pontiac Country Club pro-owner Frank Syron, will marry Miss Mary Theresa McNamara at 10 a.m. in Whiting, Ind., home town of the bride-to-be. The couple will live in their recently-completed home across the road from the 15th green at PCC.

We think the Tigers missed the boat in letting Johnny Pesky leave their system. Pesky has now moved into the Red Sox chain and will manage Seattle next year.

During his five years as minor league manager he won two pennants and finished in the first division two other times.

All during this time he was hopeful of coming up with the Detroit coaching staff but for some reason the Tigers never gave him that chance.

Talk about fiery managers, Pesky is in that bracket. He could have been Detroit's answer to Danny Murtaugh if given the opportunity.

PCH Line Play Key to Hopes for Upset Victory

As Expected, It's Houk for Yankees

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ralph Houk, a fellow who's made it the hard way all his baseball life, today inherits the royal robes of Casey Stengel as the new manager of the New York Yankees.

The announcement that the 41-year-old tobacco-chewing native of Lawrence, Kan., will succeed Stengel was made by Yankee president Dan Topping at a press conference at noon.

New York newspapers were still sending up a storm of criticism over the firing of Stengel today but it was unlikely to disturb the ruggedly-built Houk, a World War II hero who has been marked by the Yankees for the leadership since 1947.

Houk joined the Yankees that year along with Yogi Berra, in whose shadow he was to play off and on throughout his career. Between 1947 and 1954 Houk played in only 91 games and had only a .272 batting average. He appeared only twice in world series games — once in 1947 and again in 1952 — and made one hit.

Houk moved out as a player in 1955 and became manager of the Yankees' Denver farm club in the American Association. He managed Denver for three years, finishing third once and second twice, before returning in 1958 as a Yankee coach.

Houk's major league managerial "career" consists of 12 games during which he ran the team while Stengel was sick this season. He quickly demonstrated his "take-charge" qualities by putting catcher Johnny Blanchard and third-baseman Cletis Boyer in the lineup. The team won six and lost six under his leadership but bringing Blanchard and Boyer to the fore was considered an important move in the Yankees' ultimate pennant victory.

FLEET-FOOTED VIKING — Pontiac Central's football team will have to bottle up this speedster if the Chiefs hope to topple Flint Northern in a crucial Saginaw Valley Conference game Friday night at Wisner Stadium. He's Hue Edwards, a flashy 155-pound, 5 foot-11 halfback with speed to spare. Edwards, a two-year veteran, is the kingpin of the Northern attack.

Flint Northern's Fast Backs Are Cause of Worry

Chiefs Square Off With Vikings Friday in Loop Battle at Wisner

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Central's linemen are on the spot.

Their solid work up front — or lack of it — will in all likelihood tell the story here Friday night when the Chiefs butt heads with undefeated Flint Northern at Wisner Stadium in a Saginaw Valley Conference showdown battle.

The line, on each and every play that crowded place on the football field where seven players on one side of the line clash fiercely with seven players on the other side, looms as the key to the outcome of this all-important struggle.

From the standpoint of experience, the Flint Vikings hold a distinct advantage. They boast an experienced gridder at virtually every position in the forward wall.

Central, on the other hand, has only two seasoned performers in the front line, end Elick Shorter and guard John Skelly. All the others are first-year regulars and three of them are sophomores.

Coach Paul Dellerba and his staff at PCH are worried over the ability of their linemen to halt the fleet Northern backs. They are worried about Northern's great breakaway speed.

The Chiefs have been working hard on defense against Northern plays in practice this week and Dellerba has been driving home the importance of stopping the ball carrier at the line of scrimmage.

"Once their swift ball carriers get past the line of scrimmage and into the secondary, we're due for a lot of trouble," Dellerba said. "If we give them just a little bit of running room, they're apt to go all the way on us," he added.

Northern boasts three fast halfbacks, all veteran performers. The starters are Hue Edwards and Craig Nourse, a pair of fast-stepping, elusive runners who can score touchdowns from any spot on the gridiron.

Clarence Redmond, a transfer from Flint Central, is the 3rd halfback and there's no chance to relax when he enters the game. He's a fleet-footed runner and also a "handy" runner who fakes and picks his holes well. In addition, he is perhaps Northern's finest defensive back.

Edwards, Nourse and Redmond — each one a challenge for the PCH line on the eve of a Valley game that has great title bearing on the 1960 grid race.

Central's linemen — Clarence Montgomery, Milford Hillie, Shorter, Dick Richards, Wayne Lee, Bill Pritchett, Willis Martin, Tom Eichhorn, Skelly, Gary Wesley, Bob McKay, Jeff Spires and all the rest — really have their work cut out for them.

The Vikings own a 4-0 record altogether and a 1-0 Valley mark. The Chiefs, also unbeaten, are 3-0-1 over-all and 1-0-1 in the league.

Tomorrow night's winner will take a giant stride toward the SVC crown, although both schools would still have huge hurdles to clear in Bay City Central and Flint Central. Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

Writers Honor Casey

Stengel Bids Farewell With Unashamed Tears

NEW YORK (UPI)—Casey Stengel said goodbye to the Yankees and "my baseball writers" Wednesday night with unashamed tears in his eyes and a catch in his voice.

It was supposed to be a "private party" given by New York baseball writers at the Waldorf Astoria but the guest list read like a roll call of the game's greatest figures —and it seemed they all came to eulogize the man who is "too old" to run the Yankees despite the fact he led them to seven world championships and 10 American League pennants in the last 12 years.

"This was the saddest decision the Yankees ever had to make," said Dan Topping, co-owner of the Yankees and the man most responsible for letting Stengel go. "It was a decision we had to make but we wish there could have been another way."

★ ★ ★

Stengel dabbed at his eyes with a handkerchief as one after another of the baseball greats and "just newspaper pals" eulogized him. And he temporarily lost control of his emotions when general manager George Weiss, who also is expected to feel the edge of Topping's axe in a general shake-up of Yankee officials, shook hands at the end of the party.

★ ★ ★

"This is the first time I can ever remember cryin' since I was a kid," said Stengel when he clasped the visibly shaken Weiss, who also had tears welling in his eyes.

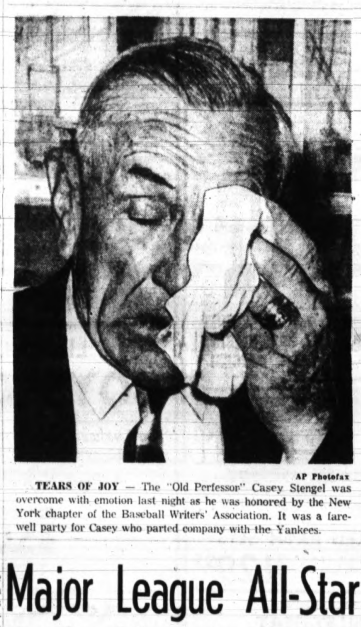

★ ★ ★

The plush Starlight Roof of the hotel was hushed when Stengel rose to speak but the guests broke into a tremendous cheer when Casey delivered a fighting speech.

"I know that competition exists among newspapermen just like among ballplayers," Stengel told the writers. "And I say never give up because tomorrow's another day—and that goes for me, too."

Stengel also revealed that he has received numerous job offers during the last 24 hours but did not say whether any of them were for Major League managerial posts.

Naming of Tiger Pilot Expected Soon

TEARS OF JOY — The "Old Perfessor" Casey Stengel was overcome with emotion last night as he was honored by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association. It was a farewell party for Casey who parted company with the Yankees.

Applicants Are Being Screened by Rick Ferrell

Announcement of New Manager May Be Made Within 10 Days

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers are likely to have a manager signed to a three-year contract within the next 10 days.

He probably will be a man of previous major league managerial experience.

★ ★ ★

Rick Ferrell, the man who is screening the applicants and who will make a recommendation to owner John E. Fetzer, said no one has any inside track to the job.

He has made it clear that he prefers a man with major league managing experience — as Ferrell put it — "someone we can depend on in our rebuilding program."

There have been about 15 applicants for the job, Ferrell said half a dozen of them now are "being seriously considered."

Ferrell talked to most of them during the recent World Series. None is coming to Detroit to be interviewed, he said.

★ ★ ★

In a strange turn of the Briggs Stadium baseball merry-go-round, it was revealed yesterday that Ferrell is the man Fetzer is counting on most in the business of selecting a manager.

Fetzer has said he wants to rid the Tigers of what has been almost a dial-a-manager program over recent seasons.

Bill DeWitt, still employed by the Tigers at a $50,000-a-year salary, but recently ousted from control when Fetzer purchased the stock that gave him sweeping powers, has nothing to do with selecting the new field boss.

It was DeWitt who demoted Ferrell last spring. Ferrell was named acting general manager when John McHale quit the Tigers to become general manager of the Milwaukee Braves. Later the "acting" part of the title was removed.

★ ★ ★

DeWitt became president last October, made vast changes in the organizational structure and one of them was the removal of Ferrell's authority. Ferrell became assistant to the president.

★ ★ ★

So far as anyone knows, that's what he is now.

"I haven't been told anything," said Ferrell. "Mr. Fetzer asked me to do this job in connection with the naming of a manager, and I'm doing it. Other than that, I haven't heard a thing. I'm just sitting tight."

And so are half a dozen other people who want the job of resurrecting the sixth place Tigers under the new Fetzer regime.

Pontiac Honors Jones Tomorrow Between Halves

The citizens of Pontiac will pay their respects to Hayes Jones tomorrow night at Wisner Stadium between halves of the Pontiac Central-Flint Northern football game.

The Olympic hurdler who brought everlasting track fame to this city, Pontiac Central High School, Eastern Michigan University and his country will be honored with three presentations as part of a busy halftime ceremony.

Certificates of appreciation will be presented to Jones by Mayor Pro-Tem John Dugan, representing the city of Pontiac; President James Jenkins of the downtown Kiwanis Club; and PCH Principal Francis Staley, representing the high school.

Staley will present Hayes with a lifetime pass to all PCH athletic events, the first time such an award has ever been made here.

He Wants Brown First

LONDON (AP) — European lightweight boxing champion Dave Charnley Wednesday refused to defend his title against Sauveur Benamou of France until he gets a crack at the world crown held by America's Joe Brown.

COOL ICE, HOT TEMPERS — Gloves and sticks are showered over the ice as a fight between the Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers develops in Madison Square Garden. Principals in the brawl are Ranger forward Dean Prentice and Hawk Reg Fleming (6). Officials try to separate the struggling players.

NY Hands Hawks 1st Loss

McCartan Blanks Chicago

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Rangers goalie Jack McCartan, who gained the plaudits of the nation in backboning the champion United States Olympic Hockey team at Squaw Valley, is showing the same form that had this town raving about his performances in four tryout games at the close of last season with the Rangers.

He shutout the previously undefeated Chicago Black Hawks 2-0 Wednesday night and is the choice of Rangers Coach Alf Pike to face the National Hockey League-leading Montreal Canadiens here Sunday. Montreal lost to Toronto 3-1 in the only other NHL game Wednesday night.

"I didn't have many tough shots to handle," said the St. Paul, Minn., native, who turned aside 19 drives. "That team of ours played real well in front of me and really made things easy."

His most unexpected trouble came from a gash under his chin that required five stitches to close. The wound was inflicted during a melee—involving a host of Rangers and Chicago's rookie Reggie Fleming. Fleming was finally ousted after fighting with Eddie Shack and John Hanna.

★ ★ ★

Shack had an abrasion on his finger, and someone asked him what happened, since gloves are always worn while playing.

"Fleming bit me," Shack said with a smile.

★ ★ ★

Dean Prentice and Andy Hebenton scored for the Rangers who snapped a four-game losing streak.

Gerry Ehman, Bob Pulford and Bob Nevin scored their first goals of the season for Toronto while Henri Richard got Montreal's only score.

Dancer vs. Bald Eagle on Belmont Park Gross

NEW YORK (AP)—Bald Eagle vs. Sword Dancer, at 1⅛ miles on the Belmont Park infield grass course Saturday for $100,000-added, with horse of the year votes hanging on the outcome.

That would be an ideal match race, but it seems that five or six others are sticking their noses into the scrap. Well, there is money for third and fourth places, as well as first and second.

Major League All-Star Team Has 4 Braves

NEW YORK (AP)—Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves, a 20-game winner for the 11th time, topped the balloting for the 1960 Associated Press major league all-star team selected Wednesday of the 192 baseball writers taking part in the annual poll, 188 named Spahn as the best left-handed pitcher.

The Braves dominated the voting with third baseman Eddie Mathews, outfielder Hank Aaron and catcher Del Crandall also named to the squad.

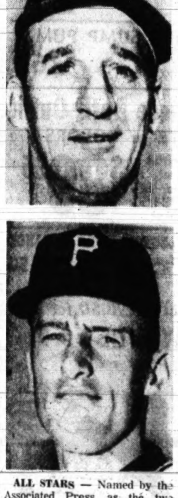

Others chosen were first baseman Bill Skowron and outfielder Roger Maris of the New York Yankees, second baseman Pete Runnels of the Boston Red Sox, shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, outfielder Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants and right-handed pitcher Vernon Law of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Only four players repeated from last year's squad—Mathews, Banks, Mays and Aaron.

The balloting for second base honors produced the closest vote. Runnels polled 68 votes, Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox 60 and Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates 56. Another tight race was for first baseman with Skowron edging Roy Sievers of the White Sox, 65 to 53.

Mays was the second highest vote-getter with 182. Law was next with 144 and then came Maris with 132, Banks had 111, Crandall 104, Mathews 83, Runnels 68, Skowron 65 and Aaron 55.

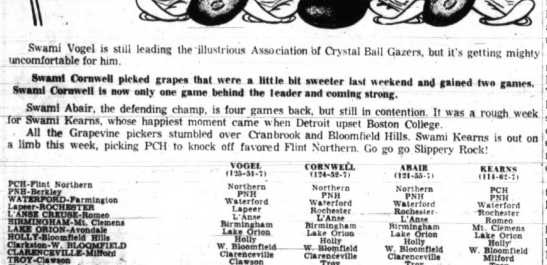

The rest of the second team, in addition to Sievers and Fox: Third base—Brooks Robinson, Orioles (60 votes); shortstop—Dick Groat, Pirates (68); outfield — Roberto Clemente, Pirates (54), Minnie Minoso, White Sox (46) and Ted Williams, Red Sox (36); catcher—Yogi Berra, Yanks (39), left-handed pitcher—Whitey Ford, Yanks (2) and right-handed pitcher—Ernie Broglio, Cards (28).

ALL STARS — Named by the Associated Press as the two Major League All-Star pitchers were a pair of National Leaguers, Warren Spahn (top) of the Milwaukee Braves and Vernon Law of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Big Jackson Double

JACKSON — Valley Direct took the first ($34.40) and Widower Zepair the second ($12.80) at Jackson Raceway last night to combine for a $150.80 daily double. Miss Goldie Patch won the feature Flint pace and paid $8.60. A crowd of 1,314 bet $73,479.

Swami Vogel is still leading the illustrious Association of Crystal Ball Gazers, but it's getting mighty uncomfortable for him.

Swami Cornwell picked grapes that were a little bit sweeter last weekend and gained two games. Swami Cornwell is now only one game behind the leader and coming strong.

Swami Abair, the defending champ, is four games back, but still in contention. It was a rough week for Swami Kearns, whose happiest moment came when Detroit upset Boston College.

All the Grapevine pickers stumbled over Cranbrook and Bloomfield Hills. Swami Kearns is out on a limb this week, picking PCH to knock off favored Flint Northern. Go go go Slippery Rock!

'M,' Gophers Await Big Clash

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—The Little Brown Jug, a battered symbol of gridiron conflict between Michigan and Minnesota for more than five decades, will be almost a forgotten issue when the two Big Ten schools clash Saturday for the 51st time.

The classic quarrel for possession of the hallowed Jug has been one of college football's most enduring traditions.

And in recent years, when the two teams suffered through several seasons of lean pickings, it was often the struggle for the Little Brown Jug that enlivened an otherwise dull affair.

But the Jug won't be needed to inject interest in Saturday's contest.

The Golden Gophers from the North have muscled past four straight opponents for their fastest start in years. Two of those victories have been against Big Ten foes and last week's 21-10 verdict over Illinois set Minnesota up as the nation's fifth-ranked team.

The Wolverines are also on their way out of the woods. Coach Bump Elliott, rebuilding around a host of talented sophomores, has driven his charges to three wins in four starts and the only Michigan loss was a 24-17 thriller to Michigan State.

* * *

The result is that the 1960 Little Brown Jug affair stacks up as the most important Michigan - Minnesota game since the late 1940s when the Wolverines were riding roughshod over everybody and Minnesofa furnished some of their stiffest opposition.

Over the decades the Little Brown Jug battle has had its ups and downs.

The whole thing started as a joke back in 1903 when the Wolverines left a jug on the Minnesota field and Michigan Coach Fielding H. Yost wrote to Minneapolis and asked that it be returned.

The good-natured reply was, "If the nation's top-ranked school you want it back, come on up here and fight for it."

The two teams didn't meet again until 1909 when it was agreed that the little brown jug would go to the winner.

The rivalry over the insignificant-looking bucket picked up momentum in 1919 when the two schools began playing annually and in the 1930s when both schools developed national powers year after year, the argument reached its peak.

Minnesota has never matched the famed Bernie Bierman teams of the 1930s and Michigan's fortunes began to wane after its great teams of the late '40s.

* * *

But both schools have, coincidentally, chosen this season for resurgance.

The Gophers, especially, have been one of the year's big surprises so far. They are one of two teams with a perfect slate in Big Ten warfare. The other one is Iowa.

The good-natured reply was, "If the nation's top-ranked school.

Central Harriers Notch 1st Win; SVC Meet Today

After five defeats in dual meet competition, Pontiac Central's inexperienced cross country team hit the victory trail. The Chiefs scored a 26-29 verdict over Royal Oak Dondero on the PCH course for their 1st win of the season.

Central's Jim Nelson finished 1st in the time of 10:44, followed by Dondero's Don Kelly. Walt Seger of Dondero placed 3rd, Bill Campbell took 4th place for the PCH harriers, Darryl Patterson 6th, Wade Wilkinson 7th and Ken Johnson 8th.

With Dick Johnson leading the way, the PCH junior varsity also won its first meet of the year with a 25-30 decision over Dondero, Johnson's winning time was 12:06.

The PCH runners are competing in the annual Saginaw Valley Conference meet today at Swartz Creek Country Club. The meet got underway at 4 p.m.

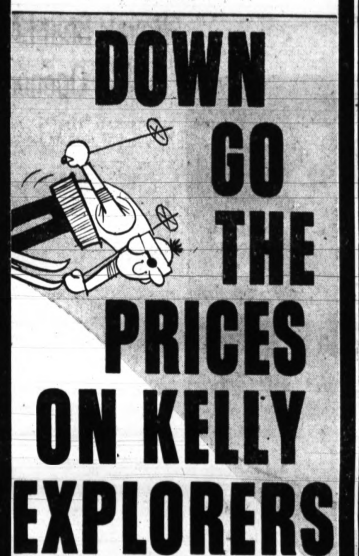

Booters Start Anew

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State University's soccer team will be seeking a return to the winning column Saturday when it travels to Wheaton College in Illinois.

The Spartans were defeated 4-0 last week by St. Louis University in their first loss of the season. It was also the first time the East Lansing booters were shut out in their 34 years of Soccer competition.

Junior Wings Meet Windsor Monday Night

Detroit 'Champs' to Open Season

Detroit wasn't without a champion last season despite the Tigers, Lions, Red Wings and Pistons.

The team which upheld Detroit's once-great championship prestige, was the Junior Red Wing hockey team which begins defense of its Border Cities crown tomorrow night when it meets Windsor at the Olympia.

The Junior Wings, coached by Jimmy Peters, one-time National Hockey League star who lives at 8569 Cooley Drive in Pontiac, is the only American team in the seven-club league.

Last year the Jr. Wings nosed out Chatham in the final game of the season to win the title in their first year of operation.

★ ★ ★

Other teams in the league include Windsor, Wallaceburg, Dresden, Riverside and Leamington, plus Detroit and Chatham.

For the 1960-61 campaign, Peters has 11 returning players plus newcomer Jimmy Peters, Jr., his 16 year old son who was the Star Cutter team in the Detroit Juvenile League.

Young Jimmy ranked third in scoring and he was called up to play with the Junior wings for the last 14 games in which he collected four goals and four assists.

Another "rookie" is 16 year old Jack Hancock a Southfield High School junior who played with the Thompson Cain team in the Detroit Midget League where he was second in scoring.

★ ★ ★

The youngest regular and one of top stars of the team is 15 year old Ned Runey of Warren where his father is a member of the Warren city council.

A big left winger who stands 6-foot-1 and weighs 175 pounds, Runey scored 11 goals and 16 assists.

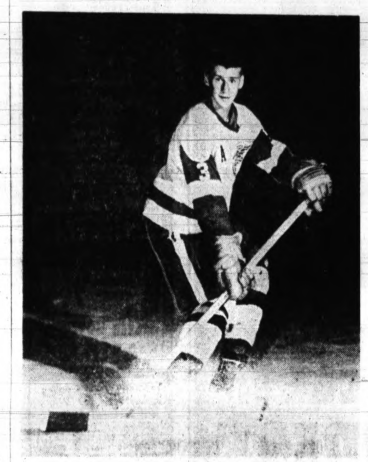

The Junior Wings have 17 home games scheduled at the Olympia where they have average 4,000 fans a game.

A special feature of Monday night's opener will be a door prize which will consist of a trip with the Red Wings to Toronto later in the season for some fan in attendance.

A "Game of the Week" will be held at 7:00 p.m. and the regular league game will start at 8:00 p.m. Admission for the Junior Wing games is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

This is the Junior Wings' home schedule:

Monday, Oct. 24—Windsor
Tuesday, Nov. 1—Wallaceburg
Monday, Nov. 7—Chatham
Tuesday, Nov. 22—Leamington
Monday, Nov. 28—Riverside
Monday, Dec. 5—Windsor
Monday, Dec. 12—Dresden
Monday, Dec. 19—Chatham
Tuesday, Dec. 27—Wallaceburg
Monday, Jan. 2—Dresden
Monday, Jan. 9—Riverside
Monday, Jan. 16—Windsor
Monday, Jan. 23—Chatham
Monday, Jan. 30—Riverside
Wednesday, Feb. 1—Hamilton
Monday, Feb. 6—Leamington
Monday, Feb. 13—Windsor
All games at Olympia start at 8 p.m.

JUNIOR WING — One of several county boys on the Junior Red Wing hockey team in the Border Cities Hockey League is Jack Hancock, 16-year-old Southfield High School student. The Junior Wings won the championship in their first year of operation in the league last season. Monday night's opener at the Olympia against Windsor starts at 8 p. m.

JUNIOR STAR — One of the youngest but toughest members of the Detroit Junior Red Wing hockey team which plays in the Border Cities League is 15-year-old Ned Runey of Warren. Ned had 11 goals and 16 assists as the Junior Wings won the league championship a year ago. The team plays most of its games at the Olympia on Monday nights.

Royals Beat LA in NBA Opener

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Charley Wolf sums up the "new look" Cincinnati Royals' record victory this way:

"Rebounding did it."

He referred specifically to the first half of Wednesday night's season opener, when the Royals grabbed 47 rebounds to 25 for the Los Angeles Lakers, and raced to a 140-123 victory.

"Rebounding is all we need," Wolf said. "If we can get the ball we can score. They know what to do with the ball."

"They" meant players like Jack Twyman, last year's second-highest NBA scorer, who Wednesday night paced his team with 30 points, hitting 11 of 18 attempts.

And three-time All-America Oscar Robertson lived up to expectations in his pro basketball debut, scoring 21 points to delight the record crowd of 8,176 fans at the Cincinnati Garden.

Major Hoople Goes Upset Spree—Again

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
World's Upset Champion

Egad, what a perilous business this pigskin predicting has become!

A gust of wind, a broken shoe lace, a fumbled punt, the left tackle's girl dates a fraternity brother, and the best made plans of mice and men and coach are dashed to smithereens. Regardless, the grand old game goes on.

This week I have decided to forego the aid of my staff and go it alone. Loyal followers of my selections know that this portends the finest hour for the Hoople System.

Upsets abound when I permit my fertile brain free rein. Heh, heh!

The biggest surprises this weekend will come in the South where Tulane will triumph over Georgia Tech. Duke will take the measure of Clemson and unheralded Mississippi Southern will vanquish North Carolina State.

Other sections of the country will see their share of topsy-turvy upsets.

In the Southwest the Hoople special is Texas A. and M. to down mighty Baylor. In the East, Cornell will squeeze past Princeton, 9-8. And on the West Coast, Dick Norman's aerial wizardry will carry Stanford to an amazing 41-19 conquest of UCLA. Um, yas!

Bruins Visit Wings Tonight

Boston Still Winless in Six Starts, With Four Ties

DETROIT (AP)—The Boston Bruins the only National Hockey league team worse off than the Red Wings, will be at Olympia Stadium tonight for a tussle with Detroit.

Boston, winless in six starts, occupies the NHL cellar with its 0-2-4 record. The Red Wings are 1-2-3.

The appearance is Boston's first this season in Olympia.

Norm Ullman, who leads the Red Wings in scoring thus far this season, is looking forward to tonight's game.

Ullman scored his first three-goal hat trick last season against Boston on Jan. 31. It was the only hat trick collected by a Red Wing that season.

Ullman, now in his sixth season with Detroit, has collected 97 goals and 149 assists during his Detroit career for 246 points. He now ranks 13th among the all-time scoring leaders in Detroit history.

Gordie Howe, however, still heads the scoring race. Howe, a 15-year veteran and still Detroit's ace of aces, has 448 goals and 537 assists for 985 points.

JUG AT STAKE — The annual Little Brown Jug battle between Michigan and Minnesota takes on greater importance this week as both teams still have Big Ten title hopes. This is the 51st clash for the Jug and Michigan has won three in a row. Dennis Fitzgerald, halfback, along with equipment man Henry Hatch and guard Dick Syring of Bay City bring out the Jug for display.

Capac, New Haven and Memphis Win

Capac, New Haven and Memphis posted Wednesday victories in Southern Thumb games.

The Chiefs rallied from an 8-0 halftime deficit to whip Dryden 13-8. Passes of 20 and 2 yards from Ken Kobayashi to Pat Owens accounted for the Capac touchdowns.

Dryden tried to pull out the verdict in the final seconds reaching the Capac 2 on 3rd down when time ran out. A safety and etn Grondin's 17-yard run were the Dryden points. Dwa Dittman was outstanding in defeat.

New Haven also had to come from behind in a 12-6 triumph over Armada. Armada dominated the opening half although it ended 6-6 when Tom Griffin passed to Ron Lee on a 65-yard play.

An interception and 20-yard return to the Armada 15 by linebacker Joe Kozub set up the clincher. Dwight Lee dashed to paydirt on 1st down. New Haven was in complete command in the last half with Larry Siefert getting off a 48-yard punt to the six to just about ruin any final Armada hopes. Larry Luoma passed for the losers' TD.

Memphis led all the way in downing Brown City, 15-6.

Four Area Prep Grid Leaders Expect Busy Friday

By CHUCK ABAIR

Four leaders of area prep football leagues will be put to rugged tests Friday night—three of them on home ground.

Walled Lake will likely need a better performance than that turned in a week ago to get by visiting Southfield. The Vikings are on their way to repeat as Inter-Lakes champions.

Lake Orion, actually a co-leader in the Oakland B with Fitzgerald, entertains Avondale in what could be the top game of the night.

West Bloomfield is host to an unpredictable Clarkston eleven putting its 1st place ranking in the Wayne-Oakland loop on the line.

★ ★ ★

The one top team with a big battle on the road is Ferndale. The Eastern Michigan front-runner will have its work cut out at Port Huron.

Walled Lake may be a little stronger physically this week for its final home contest. Southfield has won two straight and coach Monte Charles has the "horses" to pull an upset.

The Skippers of Waterford should keep their title hopes alive by whipping Farmington at Waterford. Pontiac Northern will go against improved Berkley at Wisner Stadium Saturday.

It could be a big night for the Oakland B which has been locked tighter than a drum. A pair of fast backfields will be dueling at Orion although Dragon halfbacks Gary Hunter and Larry Thompson have been weakened by leg injuries. Avondale will have a slight weight advantage. Fitzgerald goes to Madison and Clawson is at Troy.

Clarkston should be all fired up facing a "must" situation where a defeat would dump the Wolves out of the running. Little-speed merchant Willie Knox could spark an upset. Two injured Lakers may be ready for full duty but quarterback Jeff Pries now is a question mark. CHS may not have defensive starter Roger Rolfe.

Anything can happen in any of the other Wayne-Oakland games. Holly hosts up-and-down Bloomfield Hills. Milford goes to Clarenceville hoping to avoid fumbles and win another and Brighton plays Northville.

★ ★ ★

Topnotch passer Mike Brown will have to add to his 13 TD aerials if Ferndale is to keep rolling. Mt. Clemens is guest of Birmingham Seaholm and Royal Oak Kimball vs. East Detroit.

Rochester takes to the road tomorrow hoping to bounce back into the victory column at Lapeer as Romeo visits L'Anse Creuse in Tri-County games.

The South Central will have Ortonville at Millington and Oxford at North Branch. Anchor Bay should boost its lead at Almont in the only Southern Thumb contest.

★ ★ ★

Hazel Park entertains Flint Kearsley, Roseville plays Edsel Ford, unbeaten Imlay City goes to Lakeville. Utica hosts Lake Shore, South Lyon meets Chelsea and Monroe is at Royal Oak Dondero in other night games.

Tomorrow afternoon, Pontiac Emmanuel is at Grosse Pointe University School; Lamphere seeks its 6th straight at Clintondale and Country Day plays Huron. Cranbrook is at Shady Side Saturday.

A Sunday doubleheader at Wisner Stadium will have St. Michael against St. Benedict in the afternoon and St. Fred vs. Orchard Lake St. Mary at night. St. Rita visits Royal Oak St. Mary and St. James vs. St. Clement in other Suburban Catholic games. RO Shrine meets St. Catherine and Farmington Our Lady goes to Ann Arbor St. Thomas in other division tilts.

Hillsdale vs. Albion

Area Gridders in MIAA Showdown

Several Oakland County gridders will be on opposite sides of the line when Hillsdale and Albion meet Saturday in a game that could decide the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. (MIAA) football championship.

★ ★ ★

The game will be played Saturday afternoon at Hillsdale and highlight the small college action in Michigan this weekend.

Six of the seven players from Oakland County listed on the Hillsdale roster will be starters, depending on whether the Dales are on offense, defense or receiving kicks. Albion will send three area players into the game on the first unit.

Starting in one way or another for the Dales will be senior guard Paul Christe, Oak Park; senior tackle Jim Larkin, Drayton Plains; junior end Clay Roth, Drayton Plains; junior halfback Jim Drake, Lake Orion; sophomore halfback Tom Ridley, Southfield; and junior guard Terry Distel, Royal Oak. Freshman quarterback Bill Bryce of Drayton Plains has also seen some action.

Starting for the Britons will be junior tackle Jon Rise, Waterford, and junior end Monte Clute, Rochester. Bob Porritt, Clarkston freshman, is a reserve quarterback. Junior center Colin Stewart, Bloomfield Hills, and Jerry Snider, senior from Royal Oak, will also be ready. Snider will probably open at fullback.

Albion is seeking its 1st undisputed title since 1952. The Britons opened the season with a 21-7 victory over Eastern Michigan and then dumped three straight MIAA foes. The tightest game was a 14-12 win over Hope.

Hillsdale, defending MIAA champion, was stunned by a good Northern Michigan team 29-6 in its opener. Since then the Dales have rolled to impressive wins over Missouri Valley, Adrian, Toledo and Olivet. Hillsdale is ranked 12th in the UPI small college poll.

Barring a major upset in the closing weeks of the campaign, the championship should ride on the outcome of this game. Hillsdale is a slight favorite.

★ ★ ★

In other MIAA action, Alma plays at Adrian and Kalamazoo entertains Hope. Olivet has a non-league game at Lakeland.

Waterford's Jim Hoke will be in the starting lineup for Adrian. The steady improvement of the freshman fullback has regulated senior Jim Koresky from East Detroit to the defensive team.

Northern Michigan, with four wins in five games, tangles with Western Illinois.

Huskies Use Ineligible Boy

PNH Forfeits to Orion, Erasing 12-7 Grid Win

Pontiac Northern lost a victory and Lake Orion became an unbeaten team in the won-lost columns this week without playing a game.

It was announced that PNH would have to forfeit its opening day victory over Lake Orion because of use of an ineligible player.

According to Northern officials the player used entered the game for two extra point plays. A discrepancy was discovered in the boy's last marking period which showed that he had left school in the final weeks of the previous semester.

PNH athletic director Elden Johnson notified the Michigan High School Athletic Association and Lake Orion of its finding.

Northern's season record thus stands at 1-3-1 while Lake Orion is 4-0-1.

Restriction Off on Sugar Beets

Allow More Planting to Compensate for Recent Ban Against Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sugar-beet growers can plant as much acreage as they want next year.

The Department of Agriculture lifted all acreage restrictions on the 1961 crop Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Lifting of the acreage restriction was part of the department's planning to assure an adequate supply of sugar. In July the United States stopped buying cane sugar from Cuba, hitherto the principal supplier to this country.

The increased sugar which will come from an increased acreage of sugar beets will help maintain the nation's normal quota.

The sugar beet acreage allotment for 1960 was 985,000 acres. The 1960 crop of sugar beets, estimated at 16,727,00 tons as of Oct. 1, was grown on 905,000 acres.

The domestic beet sugar allotment for this year was slightly more than 2.3 million tons.

★ ★ ★

Unrestricted acreage for the 1961 crop of sugar beets can be expected to result in considerably more beet sugar than from the 1960 crop of beets.

Kenny Institute Faces Deficit

Foundation Expects to Be $400,000 in Hole by End of Year

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Sister Elizabeth Kenny Institute faces a $400,000 deficit by the end of the year.

Dr. Frank H. Krusen, new director of the polio treatment and research center, hoisted the financial storm warnings today. He said the foundation has only $100,000 in funds available to the end of the year and will need half a million.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Krusen said an emergency fund drive will be launched "very soon."

Several months ago Minnesota Atty. Gen. Walter F. Mondale accused former officials and fund-raising associates of the Kenny Foundation of mismanaging and raiding donated funds. He said it amounted to millions of dollars.

★ ★ ★

Marvin L. Kline, former director and one-time Minneapolis mayor, has been indicted by a grand jury for his alleged unlawful profiteering.

Alfred R. Nelson, partner in the Chicago accounting firm of Arthur Anderson & Co., disclosed results of an audit Tuesday.

Krusen and Nelson said emergency steps are being taken.

Many Small Papers Plan New Equipment

NEW YORK (UPI) — Twenty-eight per cent of the nation's weekly newspapers and 24 per cent of the small dailies plan to replace their presses within the next two years, according to a survey by the magazine American Press.

★ ★ ★

The survey said the "revolutionary" program of improving printing equipment was disclosed by a poll of 1,014 of the nation's 3,150 weeklies and small dailies. It said all dailies do their own printing but 302 weeklies have their newspapers printed outside.

The magazine said one of the surprises of the survey was the widespread use of web-fed presses by weekly newspapers. It was generally supposed that all weeklies used sheet fed flat presses but 40 per cent are now using web fed presses.

The survey said 629 weeklies and 32 dailies are printed by offset methods and 779 weeklies contemplate switching to offset in the next two years. There are 23 small daily tabloids against 1429 tabloids in the weekly field.

Jackie Quitting, but She Has a Valid Excuse

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy is quitting her husband's presidential campaign—for a very good reason. Her doctors ordered her to stop because of the expected birth of her second child in December.

Her last appearance was with her husband in the ticker tape parade staged in his honor Wednesday, the candidate's press secretary said. She will remain here a few days then return to their home in Washington, D.C.

Dry ice is being replaced in industry by liquid carbon dioxide which is easier to handle and reduces costs. But dry ice continues to be useful as a refrigerant in milk wagons and ice cream trucks.

Tougher Than on Russia

New Curbs Tight on Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States' crackdown on exports to Cuba imposes tighter curbs than this country maintains on trade with Russia and its European satellites.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. move Wednesday, forbidding export of nearly all goods save food and medicine, cuts Cuba off from the vital flow of machines and replacement parts needed to run many of the island's American-equipped industries which were taken away from their owners. It also shuts off many American-made finished goods.

This country also maintains control over sales to the Soviet Union and its bloc, but permits export of many commodities which could not be used to advance the Communist war-making potential.

★ ★ ★

The Cuban embargo, however, does not equal the complete U.S. boycott on exports to Red China.

★ ★ ★

Export control is administered and enforced by the Commerce Department's Bureau of Foreign Commerce. Through licensing of exporters—and possible heavy fines and prison terms for violations—it wields a potent weapon in the economic Cold War.

CAN ENFORCE CONTROLS

The government enforces export controls by acting to lift an American exporter's or foreign importer's privilege to ship or buy U.S. goods, and by prosecution for criminal violation of the Export Control Act.

Each conviction carried penalties up to $10,000 fine and 10 years in prison.

The export controls apply to U.S. goods which might be sent either directly to a prohibited destination or via a third country. For example, goods which may not be sent directly to Cuba also may not be sent indirectly or trans-shipped through Mexico or some other country.

★ ★ ★

However, the government has no control over goods manufactured in a foreign country by an American-owned or controlled firm.

The department frequently has suspended the privileges of U.S. and foreign firms for violation of the export controls. This administrative sanction is imposed only after a formal hearing at which the accused merchant may defend himself.

Can't Escape Motorcade

Likes Kennedy, but . . .

NEW YORK (AP)—A red-haired typist came out to watch the Kennedy motorcade Wednesday, got scared, tried to run away from it and wound up in it.

Miss Josephine Casella's adventure reached its climax in the crush at Broadway and Wall Street when, with others, she was squashed against one of the press cars.

Miss Casella pleaded prettily, "I think I'm going to faint. I've got to get out of here. Please help me."

The press opened the door. Miss Casella hopped in. When she recovered her breath and composure, she gave this sidewalk eye-view of the tickertape reception:

★ ★ ★

"I got an extra half hour for lunch, and got away from the office early. It is about a block from here, and the crowd was all right. But all of a sudden, all the people poured in.

"I was carried one solid block. I lost my two girl friends. The last I saw of them, one of them was crying.

"I tried to turn into a side street. That didn't work at all. Next thing I knew here I was smashed against your car."

Miss Cosella, who lives at 1716 Gates Ave. in Queens, said she is for Kennedy, but:

"This is my last parade."

Sam Rayburn All Out for Kennedy, Johnson

HICKORY, N.C. (UPI)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., has told 4,000 Democrats here John F. Kennedy "will make a great president with the help of Lyndon Johnson."

Of Vice President Richard Nixon, Rayburn said: "I know him well, and that is the principal reason I do not want to see him president of the United States."

Some Grains Rise in Moderate Trade

Demand from commission houses and light hedge-selling firmed soybeans, with the distant May contract advancing more than a cent a bushel before profit-taking appeared.

Gold Stocks Up, Others Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold shares spurted to greater heights in response to the soaring price of bullion in London but the rest of the stock market was mixed in quiet trading early this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Some of the gold stocks ran up more than 2 points to their highest prices in years. Meanwhile Wall Street demonstrated extreme caution about the economic and political implications as many of the pivotal issues showed little or no change.

Coppers, however, moved ahead nicely. Oils drifted off. Steels, autos, rails, chemicals and drugs were mixed.

Changes of most key stocks were from fractions to about a point. Popular market averages do not include the gold shares so their strength was not reflected in these barometers.

★ ★ ★

The gold stocks advanced on a broad front. At one phase, Dome Mines was up close to 3 points. Ahead more than 2 were Homestake, McIntyre Porcupine and U.S. Smelting. Campbell Red Lake and South American Gold & Platinum posted gains in about the 1-point zone. Benguet, the Philippine gold mining stock which was Wednesday's most active issue, was heavily traded again and up a fraction.

Later Dome cut its gain to about a point and other golds pared their gains.

★ ★ ★

Coppers, showing about the only other concerted market action, produced gains of around a point or more for such issues as Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting and Phelps Dodge. International Nickel rose a fraction.

Corporate news had little effect on stocks in other sections of the market. Cessna Aircraft and Penn Fruit boosted their dividends but prices of these stocks barely changed.

Name Local Pastor to Ohio State Post

Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church for the past three years, has accepted a call from the Ohio Baptist Convention to become executive secretary of the state.

He will assume his new position Dec. 1.

In his new work Dr. Chapman will have charge of the Ohio convention and its various departments including promotion, Christian education, youth work, camping, student ministry, children's work, laymen's work along with the business and financial affairs of the convention.

During his ministry at Bethany, two new youth groups were formed a second worship service started and membership grew from 814 to 1,013.

Dr. Chapman has served two terms as president of the Pontiac Pastor's Association, as chaplain of the Civitan Club, as a member of the General Citizens Committee on Youth, and as one of the leaders in the Clergy Friends of Michigan State University, Oakland.

A director of Michigan Baptist Senior High Camp, he is a member of the board of directors of the Baptist Hospital Fund in Minneapolis.

He has served on many committees of the Michigan Baptist Convention and is a director of the Michigan Council of Churches.

DR. JOSEPH I. CHAPMAN

A member of the editorial committee of Baptist Crusader Magazine, Dr. Chapman was second vice president of the American Baptist Convention during 1958 and 1959, and currently serves as a member of its general council.

Chap Spins 17 Minutes in Laundromat Dryer

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) — Amos Culpepper, bandaged from head to foot after a terrifying 17 minutes inside a spinning, hot-air clothes dryer at a laundromat, "just doesn't remember what happened," police said today.

★ ★ ★

"He may be able to talk some today," detective Pat Rowe said. "He was in there about 17 minutes and still had 13 minutes to go when he was let out."

Culpepper, a 28-year-old barber from Riceville, Tenn., apparently was stuffed into the dryer by an unidentified prankster early Wednesday after a long drinking bout at a tavern across the street from the all-night laundry.

Someone inserted a quarter to start him spinning, and his shoes were found spinning in a nearby washing machine.

★ ★ ★

Residents in the area were awakened about 2:45 a.m. by screams from the laundry. They freed Culpepper and rushed him to Erlanger Hospital where he was found to be suffering from multiple bruises, second degree burns and scalp cuts.

The dryer was the standard size found in most coin-operated laundries and was a tight fit, police said.

To Picture GM Trucks in Action

★ ★ ★

The scenes illustrated by 40-by-60-inch backlighted color transparencies were shot specifically for the show. Each features a new GMC truck in a typical operating situation.

Two of the photographs were made at night. One shows a sleek GMC panel truck dropping off newspapers in Times Square; the other—a steel tilt-cab GMC taking on cargo at a Brooklyn dock.

★ ★ ★

The transparencies will be displayed on the mezzanine overlooking the grand ballroom during the famed GM automotive show.

FBI Agents Miss Joke; Then Arrest Their Man

DETROIT (AP) — Aloysius Eugene Francis Patrick (Patty Gardenseed) Mozier is in the clutches of the law again—at the law's risk.

Two FBI agents, escaping a practical joke unintentionally aimed at themselves, picked up Mozier just before he was to make a talk to a Lions club in suburban Wayne Wednesday night.

Mozier, 57, was wearing his customary cowboy suit and 10-gallon hat.

The government, in a complaint on file in San Francisco, charges that Patty impersonated a U.S. Navy officer in promoting the use of a Navy car and a driver last March 23.

Once, Patty served 14 months in a federal penitentiary on a conviction on a similar charge.

The FBI agents almost got booby trapped in their seizure of Patty.

The club was called in advance to be sure to keep Patty until the agents got there. The man who took the call suspected a joke on the part of a rival club.

Containers of water were rigged over the entrance to give the visitors a wet reception.

It just so happened that the two agents came in the back door.

A native of Dowagiac, Mich., Patty has seen a lot of the world from hitches in the Navy as an enlisted man and his wanderings.

He gets his "Patty Gardenseed" nickname from his announced project of distributing garden seeds on a worldwide basis in a fight to help hungry people. He says the sight of a starving girl in Korea inspired him.

Since 1955, Patty often has spoken to Detroit groups. He says he wears his cowboy costume to make sure everybody recognizes him as an American. Once, in Hong Kong, he said he was thought to be an Englishman and was beaten up.

Coldest Weather of the Season Grips Mid-U.S.

By The Associated Press

The season's coldest weather, freezing temperatures and brisk northerly winds, spread through the middle part of the country today.

The cold air dipped southward as far as the Texas Panhandle, northern Oklahoma and temperatures dropped below freezing in south central Illinois. Readings were generally 20 degrees lower than Wednesday morning in most sections.

Airport to Face 12-Month Test

5 - Passenger - a - Day Minimum Will Have to Be Maintained

Once Pontiac Municipal Airport begins airline service it will undergo a 12-month passenger test period to decide whether the service will be continued, State Aeronautics Director James D. Ramsey said Wednesday in Lansing.

★ ★ ★

Unless a minimum of five passengers a day use the new airline from Pontiac's airport during the trial period, the state grant permitting the operation will be withdrawn, he warned.

"We've made a special effort to get airline service," Pontiac Municipal Airport Manager Homer Hoskins said today, "and we hope the public will take advantage so that we can retain it."

He expected new facilities at the airport would be ready sometime in December for North Central Airlines to begin operations.

★ ★ ★

"We are now in the process of ordering furniture for our new terminal," Hoskins said.

★ ★ ★

Other expanding city airports equally affected by the limited test period ruling are Port Huron, Alpena, Benton Harbor-St. Joseph, Reed City-Cadillac, and Ludington-Manistee.

★ ★ ★

All are expected to begin operations during early December. And, they are all subject to the "use it or lose it" standards, Ramsey said.

TV Playing Up Aides to Heroes

Assistants Take Place of Characters Such as Andy and Gabby

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The big new trend in television series this season is assistant heroes.

★ ★ ★

More decorative than useful, this new breed of actor is in his early twenties and employed for dubious comic relief. He's taken the place of old Andy Devine and Gabby Hayes characters.

The newcomers generally are all-American types in need of a haircut, and mostly patterned after Edd (Kookie) Byrnes of the "77 Sunset Strip" series. They can be found in any adventure-drama, be it a modern detective show or a horse opera.

Among them is Gary Clarke (real name Clarke L'Amoreaux) who plays assistant hero to Richard Denning in the "Michael Shayne" series.

He has an explanation for the character he plays. "We're for teen-agers," he said.

"Teen-age kids make up the biggest following for TV actors. They also have become important as spenders for the sponsors, and they don't go much for characters over 30.

★ ★ ★

"Every new show is striving to find another Kookie. They're looking for something just like Byrnes, only different. Do I make myself clear?

Other assistant heroes are Quinn Redeker (Dan Raven), Mike Landon (Bonanza), Mark Goddard (Detective), Troy Donahue (Surfside 6), Gary Vinson (the Roaring 20s) and Doug McClure (Checkmate).

"My character is Dick Hamilton, a nice clean-cut name," said clean-cut, 24-year-old Gary.

"He's a college student whose sister is Michael Shayne's secretary. I'm not a hipster like Kookie, but I do play the bongos and have a few fist fights. Mainly I run errands for the chief hero.

"I don't wear blue jeans and sweatshirts. I'm strictly Ivy League."

He might be just the guy to catch on like Kookie.

Sen. Byrd Still Mum on His Nov. 8 Choice

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Democratic patriarch of Virginia, is expected to let the Nov. 8 election go by without naming his choice in the presidential contest.

★ ★ ★

Friends of the conservative Virginian said today that he intends to continue sitting out the campaign unless some unforeseen development causes him to change his mind.

★ ★ ★

His silence so far has done much to build Republican confidence that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will win Virginia's 12 electoral votes from Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Research Heads of Both Parties Minimize Polls

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The research directors of the Republican and Democratic campaigns say they don't put much stock in public opinion polls.

★ ★ ★

"We find the statistics and then discount them," said George Grassmuck, research director for the Nixon-Lodge campaign.

George Belknap, director of voting analysis for the Democratic National Committee, termed polls "relatively unimportant" compared to case studies and sociological research on previous elections.

The men, professors on leave of absence during the election campaign, spoke Wednesday night at a joint meeting of the Washington Statistical Society and the District of Columbia Chapter of the American Association of Public Opinion Research.

Grassmuck is an associate professor of political science at the University of Michigan.

'Boulwarism' Being Tested in Strike

GE Tries Different Bargaining

WASHINGTON (AP)—A novel mode of collective bargaining — pegged on beating a labor union at its own game—is now being tested in the crucible of industrial conflict at General Electric Co.

The industry and union men who keep thrashing out the terms of the nation's major labor contracts are intently watching the battle.

Because if the plan works it could spread to other industries. The showdown is between one of the nation's largest corporations, General Electric, and one of the top labor organizations, the International Union of Electrical Workers.

★ ★ ★

GE has been developing and practicing its bargaining plan for a dozen years, but it has never been put to so severe a test. Essentially, it's a method of strengthening management's hand in calling the tune on labor contract terms.

The GE approach to labor bargaining is two-fold:

First, a steady, unremitting drumfire of "Papa knows best" counseling to the workers contending that the company, rather than the union, is their best protector and welfare provider.

Second, a sizable contract offer containing "everything the company believes to be right" and, except for minor variations, sticking to it even if it means a strike.

The system has worked well—in the sense that the company views have substantially prevailed without incurring any company-wide labor stoppages—since GE Vice President Lemuel R. Boulware devised the technique in the late 1940s.

In fact, it's worked so well a new word, "Boulwarism," has been coined by industrial relations practitioners.

But the plan is meeting an acid test. The present strike is not only the first major walkout at GE since "Boulwarism" came into vogue; it's also the first time in years that a major employer has tried to keep plants operating in face of a strike.

WORKERS CONFUSED

What are the effects of the plan on GE's employes? And on the union? It seems to leave the workers confused in their loyalties, and the union in a state of angry frustration.

★ ★ ★

The Schenectady local already has shown signs of revolt against the strike by returning to work. Other locals may follow.

James B. Carey, head of the IUE and the onetime "wonder boy" of the old CIO, hasn't been able to get his IUE membership to go on strike all these years in an effort to better GE's offers.

Negotiations have now pretty much deteriorated to a union-management shouting match.

In 1958, the now-expired IUE-GE contract called for "employment security" negotiations. The IUE asked for supplemental unemployment benefits to boost income of workers laid off because of increased plant mechanization. The company countered with a scheme to help workers accumulate savings by buying company stock. No agreement resulted.

Meanwhile, Carey got his union to change its rule, thus making it harder for some IUE elements to block his calling future strikes. These rule changes have led GE to question publicly how much employe support there is for the present strike.

In the constant sniping between company and union, GE has claimed Carey had promised "I owe GE a strike." Carey says the company's "take it or leave it" attitude is to blame for the sad state of GE-IUE relations.

Certainly a worker is bound to have questions on the value of his dues payments to a union that can't wangle better settlement terms than a company will give willingly. Thus the GE policy tends to minimize the union's role in industrial life.

The company stands by its system, saying: "General Electric believes its approach is sounder than auction-type bargaining which can start out with unrealistic claims on both sides, and then lead to drawn-out haggling."

★ ★ ★

GE deals with some 100 different unions and never seems to have the troubles with the others that it experiences with Carey's union. But the IUE is the largest and as such gets most management attention and the full "Boulwarism" treatment. The IUE says the other unions are handled more tenderly.

Both GE and IUE blame the other for adamancy. Both deny it —yet stalemate is the result.

Beautiful Jill St. John Tells of 'Hardship'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Beautiful Jill St. John's in town bearing a small gripe against the rough life she's leading.

"I want to be a comedienne," Barbara Hutton's daughter-in-law, herself "the Countess von Reventlow," plaintively informed me. "They say in Hollywood, 'You're too pretty to be funny.' I think Kay Kendall was beautiful—and funny. Do you have to look like Jerry Lewis to be funny?"

WILSON

As Lance von Reventlow's bride, "you're known just for money—for millions of dollars," Jill said. "Well, it's not very flattering to be known as the wife of the son of the daughter of ——."

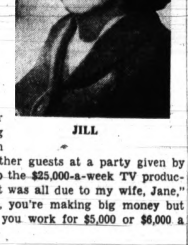

I found Jill as nice as she was stared-at. And democratic! She told me that when she and Lance traveled in Europe with two Dachshunds, "the Countess von Reventlow was frequently down on her knees cleaning up after the dogs."

★ ★ ★

Denise Darcel and her road manager and boy friend, Bob Atkinson, are planning a law suit against a heckler who, she says, followed her from one Dayton club to another and finally hit her. "Pow, pow, he came at me with a beer punch and I sat on the floor!" Denise says, "My jaw steel hurt!"

Bob Hope phoned our apartment (returning a call I'd made) and the B.W. answered. "Earl's in the shower," the B.W. said. "Don't disturb him!" exclaimed Bob. "It may be a first!"

Perry Como's great writer Goodman Ace was explaining to Groucho Marx, Lauren Bacall, David Susskind and other guests at a party given by Bernard Geis, how he gave up the $25,000-a-week TV producing and returned to Como. "It was all due to my wife, Jane," Ace said. "Jane said, 'Goodie, you're making big money but you're not happy. Why don't you work for $5,000 or $6,000 a week like everybody else?'"

Attempt to Spoof Autos Runs Into Ignition Trouble

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Step on the Gas," billed as a spoof of America's automobile fetish, came mighty close to steering itself into a dead-end street last night.

The CBS-TV special, engineered by Max Liebman and sparkplugged by Jackie Cooper, Hans Conried, Shirley Jones, Pat Carroll and Shari Lewis, sputtered along on its rundown comedy battery almost until the end.

Maybe I'm too literal, but when they say they're going to kid the fenderpants off our devotion to Detroit, I expect them to keep their promise.

Actually, there was very little serious, bread-basket spoofin'. You would think that somehow small ripostes would be directed at such things as car pools, parking lots, women drivers, sports cars, tolls, women drivers, car gadgetry, hot rods and women drivers.

Well, this show managed to steer itself almost completely away from these targets and instead brushed lightly, innocuously against the problems of coping with anything but cars.

Only the finale rose to the occasion and gave us a hint of what the hour might have been. The number was a satire of those over-produced commercials that are occasionally seen on TV when the new auto models are introduced.

The stage was jammed with slit-skirted dancing girls, tail-coated chorus boys, cornball music, fireworks, frenzy and ridiculous attempts to build and sustain suspense.

Finally, "neath the rocket's red glare," we were introduced to the newest model of the "'Midge." It was a kiddie car with tail fins. Not really hilarious stuff, but at least it jabbed an elbow into a pompous tradition that could use the poke.

"Step on the Gas," which also was handicapped by a fuzzy, bumpy videotape, drove past too much uninspiring underbrush before we came to the green patches of inspired comedy.

Jack Paar visited "Perry Como's Music Hall" on NBC-TV last night to avail himself of the comedy services of Como's head writer, Goodman Ace. The major skit was a take-off of Paar's midnight madness, with Perry handling Paar's role. It was deft, sharp, funny for a few minutes and then bogged down into aimless clowning.

Keely Smith also was aboard. Her voice, which used to be the velvetiest, sexiest thing around, last night sounded screechy. Oh well. At least she still sounds better than Louis Prima.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: The prize-winning French film short "The Red Balloon," is to be shown on CBS-TV's "G.E. Theater" later in the season as a half-hour "special."

"Riverboat," still riding in a low rating tide, may sink out of sight next January. NBC-TV may replace it with "The Blue and the Gray," a Civil War adventure series.

An adaptation of the stage hit, "Stalag 17" may be presented on CBS-TV's "Du Pont show of the month" early next year . . . Nick Mayo has replaced Murray Susskind as producer of CBS-TV's "The Witness."

★ ★ ★

Burgess Meredith will be the host of NBC-TV's "Telephone Hour" for Friday, Nov. 11, replacing David Wayne. The program will offer a cavalcade of songs associated with the American armed forces. The cast includes Alfred Drake, Mindy Carson, Genevieve, Barbara Cook, Gisele MacKenzie and the West Point Glee Club.

"Room for One More," a situation comedy starring Andrew Duggan and Peggy McKay, may find a nighttime slot with ABC-TV.

Bob's Curious About 'Kitchen Debate'

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (UPI) — Robert Kennedy charged Wednesday that transcripts of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's "kitchen debate" in Moscow with Nikita Khrushchev have been declared "top secret."

The brother of the Democratic presidential nominee said efforts to get a copy of the transcript had run into the top secret label. "Perhaps Nixon doesn't want Khrushchev to find out what it was he really said," Kennedy commented.

Candidate Boning Up for Friday's Debate With GOP Foe

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. John Kennedy's staff worked today on a detailed reply to a broadside launched Wednesday from the Republican camp.

In the blast Vice President Richard M. Nixon accused Kennedy of misstatements and distortions in 13 instances during the campaign on matters covering practically all the disputed issues.

A Kennedy spokesman said the Nixon "White Paper" will be answered point-by-point later today.

Kennedy said Wednesday night at a charity dinner honoring the late Alfred E. Smith that he does not expect the religious issue to decide the presidential election.

Although he struck this serious note at the Al Smith dinner, Kennedy spoke for the most part light-heartedly as he shared the platform with Nixon.

★ ★ ★

Among other politically pointed barbs, he said he thought the "worst news for the Republicans this week" was the firing of Casey Stengel as manager of the New York Yankees.

"It must show that perhaps experience does not count," he said, hitting at one of Nixon's main campaign contentions.

Kennedy, fresh from tumultuous street receptions during tours of Broadway and suburban Yonkers Wednesday, scheduled a similar excursion into Brooklyn late today. But he is devoting most of his time to preparing for Friday's debate with Nixon.

★ ★ ★

Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who welcomed Kennedy at City Hall, said the ticker tape parade up Lower Broadway to City Hall was "the greatest reception anybody has ever received in this section of the city in its history."

Wagner estimated that one million persons turned out to see Kennedy along a motorcade route that wove about 30 miles through the city to Yonkers and back again.

Program Aims at Accelerating National Growth

Dick Issues 12-Point Plan in Key Address Before Businessmen

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today proposed establishing a National Economic Council—part of a 12-point program he set forth to accelerate economic progress in the United States.

The council he suggested would correspond to the National Security Council which advises the chief executive on the problems of security.

★ ★ ★

Nixon said in a speech before the National Association of Business Economists that the new group would coordinate "the various government efforts bearing on the promotion of healthy economic growth."

But he declared it would infringe in no way on the independence of the Federal Reserve Board.

This, Nixon said, "is something the opposition seems bent on doing and which is already causing concern in responsible circles both in our country and abroad."

★ ★ ★

Much of what the Republican presidential candidate said in his speech—which he described as the most important of his campaign on business and economic matters—expanded on proposals which he previously had made in criticism of Democratic programs.

WARNING SYSTEM

For the first time he emphasized the possibility of "an early warning economic intelligence system."

He said it could operate through flexible credit and fiscal possibilities, that could include tax adjustments, to protect the economy against threats to stable growth.

In this connection he suggested amending federal law to include "reasonable price stability" as a

At Victory Luncheon

'CONGRATULATIONS' — The Women's Division of the 1960 Pontiac Area United Fund again became the first to top its goal. Congratulating campaign chairman Mrs. Roderick Taylor of 54 Mohawk Road is Robert S. Nelson, president of the UF board of directors. The women, as of noon yesterday, had collected $27,000.23 in their door-to-door drive for "sugarbowl savings" of women interested in contributing to their community's well-being. Their quota was $27,000, with more still coming in.

Women's Division First to Top Quota

The women's division yesterday became the first Pontiac Area United Fund group to top its 1960 quota.

It was announced yesterday to some 600 UF volunteer workers at a victory luncheon in the Elks Temple that the women had registered $27,000.23 in receipts and pledges.

Of the total, $25,000.23 is cash contributions, and $2,000 had been pledged as of noon yesterday.

The goal was $27,000.

The victory announcement was made by Mrs. Roderick Taylor, chairman of the division.

In exceeding the quota, many areas went well over their individual collection quotas.

Mrs. Ben Hawkins, cochairman of the women's division, introduced area chairmen.

Mrs. Glenn Griffin of Area 1 reached 89.4 per cent of her quota; Mrs. Richard Fox, Area 2, 100 per cent; Mrs. William Coulacos, Area 3, 101.7 per cent; and Mrs. Leonard Buzz, Area 4, 100.1 per cent of her quota.

IN WATERFORD, TOO

Waterford Women's Division cochairman Mrs. Walter Noffsinger reported collections of $8,823.75, exceeding the Waterford goal of $8,723.

Among her area chairmen, Mrs. Leslie Howey of Area 1 reached 97.1 per cent of her quota; Mrs. Percy Dunn, Area No. 2, 107 per cent; Mrs. Elmer O. Johnson, Area No. 3, 105.1 per cent and Mrs. Norman Dunn, Area 4, 94 per cent.

Reporting on the Lake Angelus area, Mrs. Floyd Foren announced she had reached 121.1 per cent of her area quota.

She reported collecting $2,790 with her quota set at $2,305.

Mrs. Charles Pangus gave the women's division report for Brandon Township and Mrs. Harry Fahrner for Independence Township.

Robert Nelson, president of the United Fund Board of Directors and president of the Pontiac Manufacturers' Association, host for the luncheon, spoke briefly on the ideals of the United Fund.

Mrs. Hawkins introduced district chairman for Indian awards in the Pontiac area and Mrs. Noffsinger who indicated Indian awards for her respective areas.

Mrs. Spencer Libby is director of the Women's Division of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

The Rev. Galen E. Hershey gave the invocation at the luncheon.

Only 13 Votes Apart

U.S. Officials Ponder Export Ban

Russia Can't Help Cuba Much

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. officials expect Russia to offer massive new economic aid to Cuba. But how genuine this will turn out to be was considered an open question.

And on it hinged another question—how badly will the suspension ordered Wednesday of most U.S. exports to Cuba damage Fidel Castro's economic machine?

Many state department officials feel the Kremlin will be both unwilling and unable to provide quickly major aid to Cuba in consumer goods.

One of the few commodities which Russia has in surplus, and for which she has actively sought overseas markets, is oil and oil has been the bulk of Soviet exports to Cuba during the last year.

But the $141.1 million worth of U.S. exports to Cuba during the first half of 1960 included shoes, cigarettes, fabrics, radios, household appliances, cars, rubber, package foods, toys and all other items which make up a civilian economy.

★ ★ ★

Russia has been supplying almost none of these. Experts believe she could send such items to Cuba only by making the political decision to take them away from either Soviet consumers, satellite countries or underdeveloped countries of Africa and Asia which the Communists have been trying to woo.

Many officials here think Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wants to use Cuba for all the propaganda it's worth, but does not want to go to great expense over it.

A dissenting view expressed by some government officials is that Russia will be more than eager to engulf Cuba economically with resulting "Sovietization" of the Cuban economy which might be hard to retrieve even if Castro is overthrown some day.

The consensus among economic experts here is that the U.S. action will not topple Cuba's economy overnight and bring about a revolution against Castro, but that it will cause economic trouble for Cuba — the seriousness depending on what Russia is willing to do.

Air Reserve Paratroops Are Laid Low by Rain

By MAX E. SIMON

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky.—Heavy rain poured down on this Army post early today throwing a monkey wrench into the opening of the fourth annual Air Force Reserve troop carrier competition.

Some 36 aircraft were scheduled to drop 200 paratroopers of the 601st Airborne (Screaming Eagles) division during the first phase of the exercises today and a briefing.

However, commanders announced that those flights would be postponed for 24 hours. Many of the planes scheduled to participate were unable to reach Fort Campbell because of rains, heavy winds and poor visibility in the area.

Altogether 54 Air Force troop carrier planes will participate in the competition. Among them will be three planes from the 403 Troop Carrier Wing stationed at Selfridge AFB.

One—manned by the 63rd Troop Carrier Squadron—carries two Oakland County men. They are Reserve Lt. Col. Leroy Selton, 261 Rietman Court, Avon Township, team captain, and Reserve Capt. Hugh Graham, 487 Kuhn St., navigator.

Also on hand to watch the competition was James H. McPartlin, 1022 Top View, Birmingham, commander of the wing.

The 403 Wing will fly for honors with crews from 25 other states.

Most of the crews will fly the now famous C119 flying boxcars.

Under a revised schedule, a 6-hour night flight tonight will be the first event.

Throughout the night mission, navigators aboard the aircraft will guide their troop carrier transport over a designated course fully through navigational "fixes" from the stars.

No radio aids will be utilized and at the end of the flight competing crews from each air drop will drop a 260-pound cargo bundle over the Fort Campbell drop zone.

Aerial umpires aboard the plane will score the navigating results and ground umpires at the drop zones will check crucial points of the paratroopers.

DeWitt Lets Go of Tiger Reins

Turned Down Fetzer's Offer to Become His Assistant

DETROIT (AP)—William O. (Bill) DeWitt resigned today as president of the Detroit Baseball Co., after declining an offer by the club to become assistant to the president.

★ ★ ★

DeWitt had two years to go on a three-year contract that paid him a reported $50,000 annually.

The resignation came nine days after radio-television executive John E. Fetzer, of Kalamazoo became majority stockholder in the Detroit Tigers and announced he would assume the presidency.

In another baseball development, Ralph Houk, a 41-year-old onetime second string catcher, was named manager of the New York Yankees today to succeed Casey Stengel.

The contract was for one year at Houk's request.

Whether DeWitt will be paid for the next two years of his contract was a question not answered immediately. DeWitt has been under verbal fire from the Tiger ownership since the American League season ended Oct. 2, with the Tigrs in sixth place. They were fourth in 1959.

Longest LA Criminal Hearing

Finch Retrial Goes to Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The jury is at last deliberating in the Finch-Tregoff murder retrial—the longest criminal hearing in Los Angeles County history.

For 16½ weeks one man and eleven women jurors have heard evidence and argument supporting and denying the state's claim that Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, killed his wife.

The handsome, balding surgeon, 42, was red-faced in apparent anger as a prosecutor told the jury Wednesday: "We have demonstrated the guilt of these two defendants."

Then Finch appeared composed as the jury filed out after the judge's instructions. He yawned.

★

He clasped the hand of red-haired Miss Tregff, 23, his onetime receptionist, and spoke reassuringly to her.

She smiled, but her lip trembled. Her brown eyes moistened as a matron led her back to jail.

After an overnight stay at a hotel, the jury continues deliberating on an issue on which a previous jury deadlocked last March.

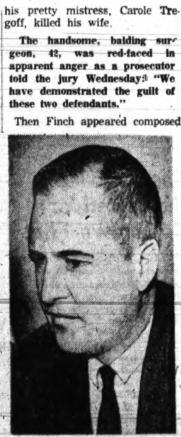

The charge that Finch and Miss Tregoff went to his estranged wife's home in suburban West Covina the night of July 18, 1959, and that he deliberately shot socialite Barbara Jean Finch, 36, to death.

The state says the defendants wanted to avoid sharing his wealth with his wife in a divorce settlement.

The physician and his codefendant say they went to the house to discuss a divorce with Mrs. Finch, that she produced a gun and it discharged accidentally as Finch grabbed it and tried to throw it away. Mrs. Finch died of a bullet in the back.

Proposal No. 1 Concerns Tax Dollar, Market Appeal

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a three-part series discussing Michigan School Proposition No. 1, which will appear on the Nov. 8 ballot. If approved, the proposal would continue an amendment to the constitution to permit distressed school districts to borrow building and operating funds when needed—and at a lower interest rate—with the backing of a special state fund.)

By DICK SAUNDERS

Proposal No. 1 on the Nov. 8 ballot will concern two major financial factors:

1. The tax dollar.
2. The board of education's "market appeal."

To simply say a vote for it will cost the public much less money is not enough.

The voter should know why it will cost him less if the proposal is passed.

★ ★ ★

First he is voting to extend the 1955 proposal and, second, he is voting to make several changes in it which will improve the board's financial position and result in less tax cost to him.

The 1955 proposal, which expires June 30, 1962, did three major things to the way we finance our school building programs in Michigan.

1. It took the limit off the amount of taxes, under certain conditions, that could be levied to pay school bonds.

2. It guaranteed taxpayers against a heavy tax burden on real estate by establishing a State School Bond Loan Fund of $190,000,000. The school district could borrow from this when its debt reached a higher amount of money than could be raised by a tax rate of 13 mills ($13 for each $1,000 of property valuation).

★ ★ ★

3. It removed a previously imposed limit to which any school district could go in debt, as long as the district did its financing under provisions of the 1955 law.

PROVED ITS EFFECTIVENESS

Now, after five years of proven effectiveness this amendment, or way of buying and paying for school needs, must be removed.

★ ★ ★

Proposal No. 1 on the November ballot will continue this basic method for 10 more years but make a few changes. The purposes of these changes are:

1. To extend the benefits of fi-

State Candidates Warm Up Talks

Swainson Hunts for Pheasants

Dem Takes Day Off After Heavy Stumping in Six Cities

EN ROUTE WITH SWAINSON (AP)—Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson paused today in his hunt for votes in Michigan's cities to hunt for pheasant in the marshlands.

The Democratic nominee for governor headed for Sebewaing in the Thumb area after completing another strenuous 16-hour day of campaigning Wednesday.

In stops at six cities, Swainson pounded away at themes ranging from education to the space age to old age benefits.

In St. Joseph, he stood bareheaded in the predawn rain to shake hands with factory workers at the huge Whirlpool Corp. plant.

Then the 33-year-old candidate had breakfast with 50 Benton Harbor schoolteachers and outlined a 14-point education program.

"Education is the ultimate salvation of our country," he told them. "There is nothing more important."

At a news conference, Swainson again declared that his specific tax program would be tailored to the financial needs of the state, but he declined to say whether an income tax or a sales tax increase would be among his proposals.

In answer to a question, he declared it was even possible that neither tax would be necessary—but he emphasized that this possibility was remote.

On the Nov. 8 ballot proposal for a boost of 1 per cent in the current 3 per cent sales tax, Swainson said he doesn't believe the average voter has enough facts about the complex tax issue to make an intelligent decision on the matter.

A taxation advisory committee headed by University of Michigan Professor William F. Haber is expected to report to Swainson shortly, and aides indicated the nominee may have more to say on the matter next week.

At a high school assembly in Watervliet, the lieutenant governor was greeted with cheers from the 800 plus student body, some of whom waved signed saying "John B. is for me."

Then he received a sampling of the same adoration from the teenage girls frequently displayed for Democratic presidential candidate John S. Kennedy.

Tonight Swainson is scheduled to attend a rally in Hamtramck and wind up the day with a television debate with his Republican rival, Paul D. Bagwell.

The Democrats' 35-year-old choice to carry on the 12-year regime begun by Gov. Williams has been described as "personable" and "real cute." Bagwell told a GOP audience of more than 200 in the Cheboygan Armory.

But his election, he said, "will mean only more political warfare, more bickering, more confusion, more stalemates and more messes in Michigan."

The GOP candidate set out Wednesday on his final swing through Northern Michigan before the Nov. 8 election. Henceforth, he said, the campaign will focus entirely on southern counties, mostly Metropolitan Detroit, where people and votes are far more numerous, Bagwell flew through Gray and threatening skies to the far tip of the Lower Peninsula to give an assist to Rep. Victor A. Knox of Sault Ste. Marie.

Knox, trying for his fifth straight term in Congress, is battling again with Prentiss M. Brown Jr., who picked up 48 per cent of the vote in the huge 16-county district two years ago.

Brown, who has battled the former speaker of the State House of Representatives three times before, is one of the few Democrats given a chance of unseating one of the 11 incumbent GOP congressmen.

To one of Cheboygan's biggest political turnouts in recent years, Bagwell charged that Michigan has been "victimized by selfish-interest politics which have sought to divide our state into warring groups.

"Labor has been pitted against business; small business against big business, and rural residents against city residents," he said.

Bagwell chided Swainson for refusing to take stands on "the burning questions of the day — taxes, economic growth, government reorganization to promote efficiency and economy."

Nikita Claims A-Powered Subs

Tells 15,000 Soviets Vessels Armed With Nuclear Rockets

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union, which is credited with the world's biggest underseas fleet, now has atom-powered submarines armed with nuclear rockets.

Khrushchev spoke before 15,000 Muscovites packed into Luzhniki Stadium.

It was his first speech since he returned last week from his desk-pounding visit to the U.N. General Assembly.

Copies of his speech distributed by Tass news agency in English gave a paragraph to his announcement of the nuclear, rocket-armed subs.

It said "he served this notice on American generals and admirals in connection with the report that the Pentagon decided to send submarines armed with missiles and nuclear weapons to the shores of the Soviet Union."

(Jane's Fighting Ships, an authoritative reference work, credits the Soviet Union with 500 conventionally powered submarines. Though many are old types it has described them as "a formidable threat to the Allied control of the seas." The United States, with 200 conventional subs, has 33 nuclear-powered submarines named and others are in the pipeline.)

Khrushchev again proposed the convening of a summit conference in 1961 to deal with the question of Berlin and Germany.

He said new Western proposals to the U.N. assembly show the Western powers are continuing to use disarmament talks to cover up an arms race policy.

"They are an ill omen for the future," Khrushchev said.

The Day in Birmingham

F86 Plane From Korea at Home in Eton Park

BIRMINGHAM — A jet fighter that could at one time easily break the sound barrier took a day and a half arriving at its destination only 30 miles away yesterday.

The former workhorse of the Korean conflict, an F86, still sleek as ever, arrived here yesterday in a drizzling rain to be placed permanently at Eton Park.

The obsolete plane, with all its expensive controls missing, is to be set up in the park so youngsters with high-flying imaginations can do everything the plane was planned to do.

The $1-million craft was towed without any major difficulty from Selfridge Air Force Base. State police and crews from the Birmingham Parks and Forestry Division kept traffic from interfering with its journey.

★ ★ ★

The only real trouble in getting the plane safely to Birmingham was an underpass just west of Utica. The tail of the plane was too high to go under.

The problem was solved by rising the nose of the jet. The tail went down and the 39-foot-wide plane slid through without difficulty.

Scheduled to arrive at the park Tuesday, the delay was encountered when the state police ruled that the craft had to be off the road by 3:30 p.m. so not to tie up traffic.

★ ★ ★

The plane was pulled into a vacant gas station at Mound Road and M59, where superintendent of the parks department, Charles Gale, spent the night in a sleeping bag in the jet's exhaust opening.

★ ★ ★

Sponsors of the gift from the Air Force, the Norman Lyle Air Force Reserve squadron of Birmingham will maintain the plane when it is ready for public use.

The plane will be placed between the ice rink and the tennis court at the park.

Film Star to Talk for Republicans

George Murphy Will Appear in Birmingham for Nixon, Lodge

In his new role as campaigner for the Nixon-Lodge ticket, former screen actor George Murphy will be in Birmingham next Wednesday night.

His hosts will be the Birmingham Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge. Murphy will speak at a 7 p.m. dinner at the Birmingham Community House.

★ ★ ★

Known better for his career in Hollywood from 1929 to 1958, Murphy also has made a name for himself in behalf of the Republican party.

Now chairman of the Celebrities for Nixon and Lodge Committee, Murphy has been state chairman in California, a delegate to four national conventions, and has been director of the last two.

"The evening of Oct. 26 will provide an opportunity for securing more information concerning the candidates and to hear an entertaining and able political speaker," said Harry M. Denyes Jr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Bahr, coordinators of the dinner, in a joint statement.

★ ★ ★

They've asked that Democrats and so-called independents—as well as Republicans—come out and hear Murphy. Tickets are $4.

Richard C. Van Dusen, vice chairman of the Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge, will introduce Murphy.

Hospital Saves for Christmas

Pontiac General Could Break Even if Losses at Holiday Stay Down

Pontiac General Hospital has $36,545 saved up for Christmas.

Not for presents, but to cover usual operating losses during the holiday season lull.

If losses then don't exceed the savings, the hospital will have a break-even year, operationally.

The picture looks good, said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

The 1960 budget estimated that the excess over expenses at this time of year would amount only to $28,467.

Thanks to a sharp upturn in occupancy this month, the hospital is more than $7,000 ahead of the estimate.

The difference could mean a lot as far as breaking even is concerned, since the conservative budget estimated the hospital would miss the balance point by only a few hundred dollars.

Occupancy was at 91 per cent as the present accounting period got under way. It was at 81 per cent the previous period.

Euler said that in the 10th period, ending Oct. 8, income exceeded expenses by $10,600.

Proposal Tied to Tax Dollars

nancing with "unlimited taxes" to all school bond issues.

2. To modify or change requirements that school districts must levy 13 mills to qualify for a state loan.

3. To remove the limit on the state loan fund.

4. To define bonds that are qualified for loans.

5. To continue the unlimited taxing power given school districts by the 1955 amendment.

These may sound confusing and complex, but the 1955 law merely made it easier for schools to sell bonds to pay for buildings—much like you pay for a home.

The new amendment will make it more closely like the way you pay off the mortgage on your home.

When you consider buying a home on monthly payments, one of the first things you are asked is where you work, what you do and how much you earn.

ABILITY TO PAY KNOWN

The person you make payments to isn't going to take chances. He wants to be sure you have a reasonably guaranteed yearly or monthly income.

When a school board buys a school or builds an addition, it must have a guaranteed income.

The school district raises money to pay for new buildings by selling bonds to cover the total cost.

The builder gets his money right away. The bonds are paid off at regular intervals over a period of years, just as you pay a mortgage.

The money to pay off the bonds comes from your pocket in the form of taxes.

If there is a limited tax rate in any school district, that district has a limited, or at least uncertain, income, which lowers its market appeal.

★ ★ ★

This means not so many firms will bid to buy the bonds for a building program, and therefore the board must settle for the best interest rate it can get.

The interest rate is merely what the board pays for "borrowing" money by sale of bonds and paying it back 10 or 20 years later.

The higher the interest, the more taxes needed to pay it off.

Now, the only way to get the best possible deal with the lowest possible interest is to show whoever buys the bonds that you have a solid, guaranteed annual income—that your "credit" is good.

To do this, the board must be able to set a tax rate with no limits. The tax rate is in terms of mills.

A mill is equal to $1 for every $1,000 of property valuation.

This ability to set the tax rate at will is what is called "unlimited taxation."

As you see it greatly aids the "credit" of a school district, but there are several qualifications that must be met in order to finance bonds from unlimited taxes.

One of these is that any bonds paid for by unlimited taxes must not be issued to mature in less than 25 years from the date they are issued.

This decidedly helps fast-growing and tax poor communities, but somewhat hinders a relatively rich, established school district such as Pontiac's.

One of the features of unlimited tax serial bonds is their low interest rate, as previously explained.

Short term bonds don't have the advantage of these rates.

Many school districts have taxable wealth to finance school building programs over shorter periods of 10, 15, or 20 years without a large increase in the individual's tax burden.

So the first of the five provisions of the new amendment will make available to short-term bonds these low interest rates by removing the 25-year time limit.

★ ★ ★

It permits the issuance of unlimited tax serial bonds for any number of years up to a maximum of 30 years.

Other major changes listed above will deal mainly with the state loan fund and its qualifications.

QUALIFICATIONS

One qualification for a loan that a community must show some "reasonable effort" to pay for school building programs.

The measure set by the 1955 law is a 13-mill tax rate. A school district is guaranteed backing from the loan fund to pay for any immediately needed debt above what a 13-mill tax will raise.

This measure of 13 mills is not of much aid to a district like Pontiac, which has a property valuation that offers a sound tax base.

For example, the current millage rate for building program bonds in the Pontiac School District is 4.01, or $4.01 for every $1,000 of property valuation.

It is safe to say that Pontiac will never need such a fantastic figure as would be produced by a 13-mill tax rate.

This, under the 1955 amendment, automatically leaves this district out in the cold in respect to state loan fund aid.

Property valuation has also gone up in other parts of the state, making 13-mills too high a "measure" of "reasonable local effort."

Therefore, the new amendment provides for a ceiling of 13 mills, giving the power to the State Legislature to change this to a lower figure if, in its judgment, it is desirable to do so.

Also, in many districts where a sudden, unexpected debt occurs but where tax rate is lower than 13 mills, the district cannot get a state loan under the 1955 law.

★ ★ ★

This is taken care of in the new amendment by providing that such a district can apply for a loan.

Both these changes would help Pontiac, Schimmel says.

The state loan fund does probably more than any one thing to give fast growing school districts good "credit."

Bond "buyers" know that if all else fails the fund will come to the rescue.

It was set up as a fixed fund of $100,000,000 in 1955. When school districts had borrowed $100 million, the fund was gone—or "used up."

It could not be a revolving fund to be used and paid back many times, according to the 1955 law.

It has been demonstrated that the sum of $100,000,000 is sufficient. Less than $500,000 has been borrowed in the past five years, and half of that has already been repaid.

But investors, nevertheless, point out that the fund is limited in total figure and has the same weakness of a limited tax issue—questionable credit backing.

The limit would be removed by the new proposal.

It becomes an unrestricted revolving fund instead of a fixed, limited amount that can be used only once.

★ ★ ★

Proposal No. 1 also states that all bonds qualified under the 1955 law would automatically be qualified under the new amendment.

Bonds issued after July 1, 1962 would be qualified under terms prescribed by the Legislature.

The new law is not self-executing.

major objective of government policy.

The national economy also could be stabilized, he said, "if our unemployment insurance system were substantially strengthened."

Discussing fiscal policy, Nixon said Democrats, who insist on easy credit on what he called artificially low interest rates under any circumstances, are practically inviting foreign investors to withdraw billions now placed in this country on deposit or in short-term paper.

This could result, he contended, in "a totally stupid and unnecessary gold crisis" which could have disastrous consequences for the entire free world.

To solve problems created by automation in industry, Nixon rejected over-all consultation among union, industrial and government leaders. Instead he recommended working sessions for each major industry to analyze its own problems.

Discussing other approaches to maintain a fixed economy, the vice president said featherbedding must be attacked in all its forms —in government waste, needless work rules for labor, and business pricing practices.

In the same area, he called for "fair-minded enforcement of the antitrust laws" and an imaginative policy for international trade.

Nixon addressed the convention of business economists in his only scheduled engagement of his second day in New York. He meets his Democratic opponent — Sen. John F. Kennedy—here in the last of their televised debates Friday night.

Shoppers Mall Suggested for Downtown Flint

FLINT (UPI) — A downtown shoppers mall, similar to one set up in Kalamazoo, and other innovations have been recommended by a firm preparing a master plan for Flint.

★ ★ ★

About 100 city officials and civic leaders saw the plan unveiled Wednesday by Ladislas Segoe & Associates of Cincinnati.

The mall would include walks, canopies, landscaping, a reflecting pool and outdoor showcases.

Carl Bonbright, City Planning Commission chairman, described the plan as "dynamic."

OLD CADDY — Ray Henry of North Benton, Ohio, pulls a 1904 Cadillac while his wife steers on the docks at Southampton, England, Wednesday, after their arrival on the liner Queen Mary to take part in the forthcoming London-Brighton veteran car club rally. The trip to England and the chance to participate in the rally was a prize which Henry earned as winner of a recent auto show in the United States.

Both in Running, but They're Using Different Means

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Two hard runners, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Serenyi Istvan, stopped for a moment to shake hands Wednesday. Both Nixon and Istvan are racing toward Washington, but by different routes.

Nixon is running for president and was in Wilmington Wednesday morning for a campaign speech. Istvan, a refugee Hungarian distance runner, is in the middle of an eight-day-marathon from New York to Washington to draw attention to Hungary's plight.

The 41-year-old Istvan, who lives in New York, trotted off the highway at New Castle County Airport in his blue and white running regalia to wish Nixon luck before the vice president took off for New York and more campaigning.

"The day will come when the people of Hungary will be free again, as sure as the sun rises," Nixon told Istvan. "They are a very brave people."

Bar Once-Red Woman From Holding WSU Talk

DETROIT (UPI) — Wayne State University Wednesday notified Mrs. Helen Winter, once listed as one of the top Communists in Michigan, that she would not be permitted to hold a meeting in the university's MacGregor Memorial Center.

The meeting was to be held by a group named the Global Book Forum. Mrs. Winter runs the Global Book Store here.

University President Clarence Hilberry did not mention Mrs. Winter's past Communist connections in denying the permission to use the building, but said the meeting would not serve the educational purpose of the building.

The meeting was to have been held Friday night and the speaker was listed as Harvey O'Connor, author of "Mellon's Millions."

The Burning Question:

Can Ike Transfer Popularity to Dick?

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Politicians are watching President Eisenhower's current tour for new answers to the od question of whether a president can pass along his popularity.

The White House has called Eisenhower's nine-day tour nonpolitical, but the President has been doing some obdous plugging for election of Vice President Richard M. Nixon to succeed him.

★ ★ ★

While the returns are awaited from scheduled Eisenhower appearances in San Francisco tonight and San Diego Friday, the consensus seems to be that the President is giving Nixon some needed help.

If Eisenhower gets in some of the same kind of licks in California that he registered for Nixon in Michigan and Minnesota, Republicans are going to be mighty happy about his tour of political hot spots.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower has struck at the campaign theme of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, that this country has stood still and has lost prestige in the world. The President said it was idle to say this country "doesn't hold its head up any place in the world."

Eisenhower didn't have to mention Nixon's name when he called for the election of "the man of our choice."

No President since Theodore Roosevelt has been able to get the country to accept his personal choice of a successor. Roosevelt got William Howard Taft the Republican nomination in 1908 and helped Taft get elected.

★ ★ ★

Since then presidents haven't been very effective in swaying the electorate for another man. Calvin Coolidge virtually sat out the campaign when Herbert Hoover was elected. Harry S. Truman campaigned to no avail for Adlai E. Stevenson.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower himself has had little luck trying to transfer his vote popularity to Republican candidates for Congress since 1952.

★ ★ ★

But even some Democrats concede that this year's campaign is different. Republicans contend—and Democrats don't dispute it seriously—that Eisenhower's popularity remains tremendously high.

★ ★ ★

And the President is talking about one man—Nixon—and not a collection of candidates with whom he had only occasional contacts. He stresses that Nixon has been trained in daily consultation in the innermost administration circles.

★ ★ ★

How much this recommendation of a popular President will sway the voters remains to be seen.

State Freeways Expected to Show Accident Drop

EAST LANSING (AP) — The completion of Michigan's controlled-access highways will save a minimum of one life for each 10 miles, says Gerald W. Graves, executive director of the Michigan Good Roads Federation.

★ ★ ★

Graves said that accident studies on 146 miles of freeways showed that accidents dropped 77 per cent and injuries 74 per cent.

★

Graves also cited economic advantages to the new freeway system— among them a 5,000 employe automobile plant in the Novi-Wixom area.

Fails to Give Economy Boost

U.S. Home Building Sags

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Another prop to the economy is proving wobbly. Home building had been expected to pick up under the prodding of easier credit. Instead, it is sagging sharply.

A pickup in housing was supposed to jab the economy with both a dollar and a psychological needle. Other business needles also have proved blunted of late.

Builders say the slowdown—officially reported as a 17 per cent slump in September from August—is continuing this month.

Easier credit may have been offset by uneasiness over the general trend in the economy.

Also blamed is a hangover of unsold homes built last year, high prices of these and prices of constructing new ones, and the suspicion that the big building boom of recent years may have sopped up a major portion of demand.

A few builders say this isn't so. They announce good sales of their houses and say it's because they're giving the public the value it craves. Defining what the public wants is hard. Each builder usually says it's what he is offering.

Announcement of the housing decline—this September was off 29 per cent from a year ago and the total started so far this year is 19 per cent below the first nine months of 1959—comes at an unfortunate time psychologically.

It coincides with, and adds to uneasiness due to, reports that the total dollar-volume of output of goods and services in the nation has dropped below the record $505 billion annual pace set in the April-June quarter.

It casts doubt that this grandaddy of the statistics can climb through in the final three months of the year to make the $510 billion total which Washington officials were still hoping for only a few weeks ago.

Housing's failure to give the economy the expected push follows hard on reports that industrial output in September was at a 10-month low; that retail sales slipped that month instead of rising on a seasonal pattern; that a hard core of jobless persists in the manufacturing industries; that wage and salary payments have fallen although total personal income has hit a high; that profits continue to slip for many companies; that American exports haven't risen enough to offset the drain on our gold and dollars; that businessmen are cutting back a bit on spending for plants and equipment, and particularly on inventory.

ADMINISTRATION MOVES

Against these unfavorable aspects of the economy the administration has moved on several fronts.

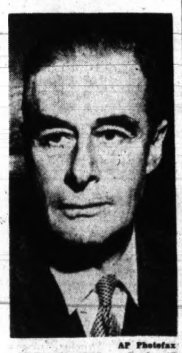

The money managers have made credit more available and interest rates lower. So far this has had little, if any, effect on either home buying or business borrowing. Consumer credit has slowed its long, steep climb.

The federal government has stepped up slightly its ordering for defense and release of funds for highway building.

It has taken general steps to encourage a greater flow of exports and urged other lands to lower further their postwar barriers against American goods.

On the psychological front there is a concerted drive to reassure the public that a deep recession is unlikely and to stress that much of the current slowdown in industry and bearishness in the stock market is the result of a reaction to past overconfidence and too high expectations.

It's still up to the consumer, however, to decide what he'll do with his money—and to guess his chances of getting more.

Ex-Dealers Sue Midas Muffler

13 Ask $5.47 Million in Damages on Charge of Trade Conspiracy

CHICAGO (AP) — Thirteen former Midas automobile muffler dealers sued the parts supplier for nearly $5.5 million Wednesday on charges of conspiracy to retain trade.

★ ★ ★

The former dealers declared in their U.S. District Court suit their actual damages amounted to $1,824,000 and that under the anti-trust laws they are entitled to triple damages of $5,472,000.

Defendants in the civil suit are the Parent Company, International Parts Corp., Chicago, and three subsidiaries, Midas, Inc., Powell Muffler Co., Inc., and Muffler Corp. of America, all of Chicago.

The former dealers charged that since Jan. 1, 1955, International and its wholly owned subsidiaries forced dealers to sign exclusive contracts for parts which forbade them from obtaining materials from other suppliers.

Some 250 such contracts in 25 states were entered into, the suit set forth, and the dealers were compelled to pay higher prices for parts than available from other suppliers.

The suit said the arrangement constituted an illegal conspiracy that produced discriminatory trade practices forbidden by antitrust statutes.

Argentina Plans Look at Communist Activities

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The government Wednesday published a decree naming a seven-member committee to investigate Communist activities in Argentina.

Headed by Hector Caceres Monie, undersecretary of defense, the committee will advise the government of President Arturo Frondizi on measures to take against Communists, especially in public office.

During a government crisis last week, army generals charged that Communists or their sympathizers were active in many sectors of Argentina life, though the Reds have been barred from political action.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Our 7-year-old Weimaraner has a broken blood vessel in his ear. Is there a cure for this? Florence Midgett of St. Louis.

A. I believe you are referring to a broken blood vessel in the lobe of the ear. This will cause the ear to swell and fill with blood, which then coagulates.

★ ★ ★

The rupture of a lobe blood vessel is often caused by violent head-shaking. When canker sores, ear-mites, etc. are present inside the ear, the dog instinctively shakes his head.

★ ★ ★

Treatment of the inner ear will stop the head-shaking. The only successful way to remove a blood clot is through surgery, and there is a possibility that the ear may be slightly deformed after the operation.

Second Graders Just Want to Get Glimpse of Ike

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—"I have never seen a president before," wrote second grader Brenda Jantz at Grant Elementary School to President Eisenhower.

Hers was one of 94 letters sent by members of her class asking the President to at least drive by Grant School when he visits San Diego Friday.

JoAnn Bono wrote: "All the boys and girls like you. Can you visit us?"

Lorna Reading said she was "a good citizen" and told the President the school was not far from the airport.

Craig Gurling pleaded "just drive past."

The President is coming to talk to the Inter-American Municipal Congress at San Diego Country Club.

Big Fire Leaves 10,000 Homeless in Philippines

MANILA (UPI)—A seven-hour fire razed three fourths of the Southern Philippine town of Jolo Wednesday and destroyed $3 million in property. Ten thousand persons were left homeless.

Described as the worst fire to hit that part of the Philippines, it roared through the commercial block, completely destroying the municipal building, the public market and the biggest stores.

Vote of Confidence Called For in France

PARIS (UPI) — Premier Michel Debre called for a vote of confidence in the National Assembly early today to end a furious debate on President Charles de Gaulle's plan for an independent nuclear striking force for France.

★ ★ ★

The fate of the French government rested in the hands of 551 deputies who were expected to vote on Debre's motion Monday.

But it was almost a foregone conclusion that the government would win the first major political battle to hit France since De Gaulle was swept to power a little over two years ago.

Debre's action was greeted by a storm of shouts and desk-banging from the right and left-wing members of parliament. Only the 215 solidly pro-De Gaulle members of his UNR party cheered.

★ ★ ★

Former Premier Guy Mollet shouted, "Resign, Resign" shortly after Debre finished speaking.

Trusting Bandit Takes Her Word on the Subject

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Who ever heard of a bank without any money in it? Somewhere today there is a potential bank robber who thinks he has.

The would-be bandit entered a branch bank here Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

"I have a gun in my pocket," he announced. "Do you have any green stuff?"

"No," replied teller Mary Donahue.

"That sounds strange," said the bandit. But, not pressing the point further, he left.

Dentist Reports 700 Million Teeth Decayed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — There is so much decay in Americans' teeth that all of the nation's dentists could start work today and they wouldn't finish in two years.

City Goes Shopping

Wanted: a Free Yule Tree

Only 67 days till Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Lots of time? No, not for the parks and recreation department, which is shopping around for a free Christmas tree.

Thanksgiving is only 34 days away, and that's about the time the city usually hoists the big tree at Saginaw Street and Oakland Avenue, signaling the holiday season.

The city is not exactly looking for a handout.

ONE IN WRONG PLACE?

It isn't interested, for instance, in your favorite evergreen, the one that proudly dominates your front lawn. Or at least the city doesn't expect you to donate it.

But how about that nice looking tree that happened to grow up in the wrong place?

The one that looked so cute as a sapling outside your window but now, with growth, is threatening to burst in through the wall? Or the one that's gradually blocking your driveway?

★ ★ ★

"This is the sort of tree that's usually donated," explained Donald Nagle, Pontiac forester.

Last year's donation was kingly, 40-foot-high specimen that had been overcrowding a home and other, younger trees.

The city also accepts donations of small trees for transplanting. Most of the Civic Center trees were donations.

Joke and Grin During Al Smith Dinner

Dick and Jack Make Fun at Feast of Faith

By BRUCE AGNEW

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy met with a grin and a gag Wednesday night at the annual Alfred E. Smith Memorial Dinner, then turned serious to express hopes that the religious issue of the 1928 campaign would not be revived.

"Religion should not be an issue in the campaign," Nixon said in his speech at the $100-a-plate charity dinner, "and it will not be, certainly, if those of us who are of good will . . . can do everything we can to keep the real issues before the American people by not discussing religion."

Kennedy put the same thought this way:

"1960 is not 1928. I am confident that whatever their (the voters') verdict, Republican or Democratic, myself or Mr. Nixon, that their judgment will not be based on any extraneous issue, but on the real issues of our time."

In 1928, Republican Herbert Hoover was the unwilling beneficiary of a vicious whispering campaign against the religion of Democrat Al Smith, the first Roman Catholic ever to run for the presidency.

Also present at the 16th annual Alfred E. Smith dinner were Francis Cardinal Spellman, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, former New York Gov. Averell Harriman, Mayor Robert F. Wagner and the state's two Republican senators, Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating.

Nixon was dressed in white tie and tails and Kennedy in a tuxedo.

★ ★ ★

As they walked away from a picture-taking session, the vice president tugged at his tight collar and proposed that the two candidates "make a deal . . . whoever is elected will abolish the white tie."

Both opened their speeches to the 2,500 persons at the dinner with a series of political jokes, dividing the barbs between Republicans and Democrats.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy said he had sent former President Truman a telegram concerning Truman's off-the-cuff remark in Texas that anyone who voted Republican could "go to hell." Kennedy's telegram, he said, read:

★ ★ ★

"I have noted with interest your suggestion as to where those who vote for my opponent should go. While I understand and sympathize with your deep motivation, I think it is important that our side try to refrain from raising the religious issue."

Nixon said the worst smear of the campaign was a statement by Fidel Castro that the two men running for president were a couple of beardless youths. "Now I resent that," Nixon said. "I resent it because, as Sen. Kennedy well knows, after my first television debate, my makeup man said I had the worst beard since Sal Maglie."

SEES SIMILARITIES

Kennedy said there were similarties between the issues of 1928 and 1960 but that the American voter is not the same, and lives in a different world. "In 1960, as never before, our enemy is loose on the other side," he said.

Nixon referred to a statement he made earlier this year that a legitimate religious issue would arise only if one of the candidates had not faith in God.

He said, "America must present to the world the image of a people concerned about the problems of the world because of poverty and disease and tryanny exist we would be concerned even if there were no communism."

Somewhere between 500,000 to 5,000,000 people are expected to fall victim to poison ivy during a season.

WITH CARDINAL — Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, was among the guests, with Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, at the 16th annual Alfred E. Smith Memorial Dinner in New York City Wednesday. The cardinal delivered the invocation and the presidential candidates delivered several jokes and an air of good fellowship. Both candidates said religion should not be an election issue.

Renault Workers Protest Firings

PARIS (AP)—About 10,000 Renault workers demonstrated Wednesday against the government-controlled auto firm's plan to dismiss 3,000 employes.

★ ★ ★

Renault, France's largest auto manufacturer, announced the cutback in its 60,000-man work force earlier this week. A company statement said a drop in export sales forced a slowdown in production.

REHEARSING PLAY — The Lakeland Players of Waterford Township will have the final rehearsal of "Sabrina Fair" tonight. The curtain will open at 8 p. m. Friday and Saturday at the Community Center. Here, ex-suitor, Verne Vackaro (left) would like to hit Jay Wheeler, the bridegroom-to-be, as he talks with the heroine Carol Lozenby (Sabrina). Her stage-mother Mrs. Joseph Lotozas bends her ear to listen.

Lakeland Players to Open Friday With 'Sabrina Fair'

The Lakeland Players of Waterford Township will open their second season at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday at the Community Center with the presentation of "Sabrina Fair."

★ ★ ★

Authored by Samuel Taylor, the play had a long Broadway run and was successfully interpreted as a movie.

Carol Lazenby will hold the title role.

In this modern comedy of manners, Sabrina the chauffeur's daughter makes off with the rich man's son. Much hilarity accrues from the family's reaction, and the ending is obviously happy.

Other featured players include Jack McCaffrey, Mrs. William Aebersold, Mrs. Joseph Latozas, William Solley, Vernon Vackaro and Jay Wheeler.

★ ★ ★

Production of the play is under the supervision of Patricia Hott, director, and Mrs. Harry Crigger, producer.

The group is offering season ticket sales for the first time for $3.60 for four productions. The group is sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

Separate Maintenance

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elizabeth M. Gimbel, 48, is suing Frederic A. Gimbel, wealthy member of the New York department store family, for separate maintenance.

★ ★ ★

She said Gimbel, 69, makes more than $100,000 a year. She asked reasonable support.

Asks Election Stand by Catholic Church

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Methodist bishop says responsible officials of the Roman Catholic Church should join Sen. John F. Kennedy in saying a Catholic president would not be subjected to church pressures.

★ ★ ★

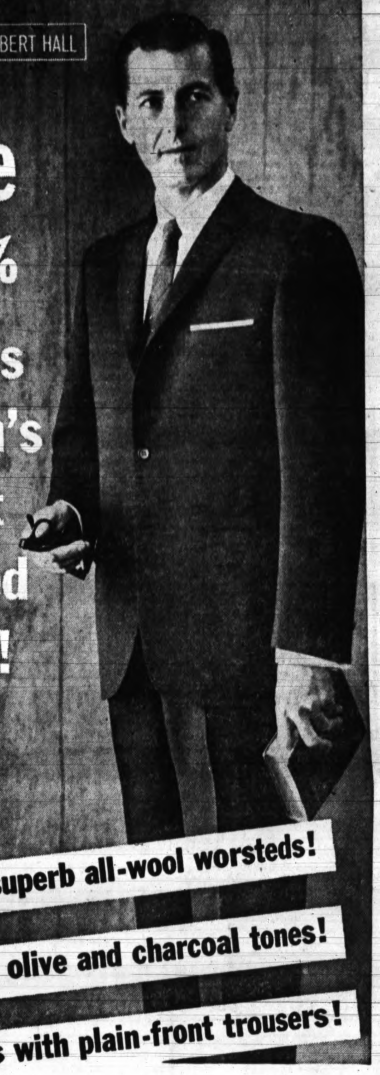

Protestants are waiting for such assurances from the Catholic church itself, Bishop John Wesley told a news conference.

★ ★ ★

He said Kennedy has made a "completely satisfactory statement" of his own views on separation of church and state. But the bishop added that some Catholic papers and professors indicated that Kennedy was "at variance with his faith's official position."

Propose Ceiling on Property Tax

Special State Senate Committee Holds Series of Study Meetings

LANSING (AP) — A ceiling on property tax assessments is the most dramatic suggestion to come from a series of meetings to study real and personal property taxes in Michigan held by a Special Senate Committee.

Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings, R-Holland, committee chairman, said he was convinced something must be done to provide more equitable property taxes.

Geerlings said he, personally, might recommend some limitation such as an assessment of not more than 50 per cent of true cash value, particularly on personal property.

A constitutional amendment probably would be needed to make such a limitation legal, he said.

The committee wound up a series of hearings in a two-day meeting at Lansing with members of the State Tax Commission and State Board of Equalization. The full committee will present recommendations on the problem to the next legislative session.

★ ★ ★

Geerlings said he thought the State Tax Commission has been doing a good job with the available manpower. A staff increase probably is needed, he said.

The committee chairman said he was convinced the tax commission should have three full-time members. The commission now has one full time and two part time members.

Robert A. Eckhardt, tax commission chairman, appeared before the group to ask for a larger staff.

"A large staff is not for guarantee that assessments will improve the total tax picture in Michigan," he said.

★ ★ ★

He suggested the addition of at least 50 field appraisers and five clerical workers at an estimated annual cost of $362,000.

Next year, however, Eckhardt said, he is only asking for 12 additional staff members.

Lathrup Village Hollers Scat to Big Tabby

DETROIT (AP)— There's an ocelot in Lathrup Village and city officials want it to leave.

Edith McNeal, 33, owner of the South American cat which looks like a leopard, isn't going to give her pet up without a fight, however.

Police have ticketed Miss McNeal on grounds she "harbors an animal that is not a common household pet, to wit, one ocelot, dangerous."

"Dangerous?," replies Miss McNeal. "Why, Wendy is just a big kitten."

The 10-month-old cat is about a foot high, a yard long and weighs 20 pounds, Miss McNeal says the ocelot gets along fine with her two regular cats and dog.

★ ★ ★

She said she bought Wendy from a pet shop about eight months ago for $200.

Miss McNeal is to appeal in court Monday to show cause why she shouldn't have to get rid of Wendy.

Cheesecloth raincoats are now in the books. Highly efficient waterproof cotton fabrics of all sorts have been developed by Department of Agriculture chemists recently.

WHO'LL WEAR THE CROWN? — Bagley School's Parent-Teacher Association-sponsored festival Friday will be highlighted by the crowning of a king and queen. Two candidates for queen, Veta Smith (left), 281 Howard McNeill St., and Jacqueline Banks, 16 Wessen St., both 11, smile approvingly as festival chairman Mrs. John McCallister (left), 300 Hughes St., and Mrs. James Overton, 274 Rockwell St., PTA president, teasingly hold the coveted crown above their heads.

An altar stone dating from the fourth century was unearthed during renovation of the 12th century Roman Catholic Church of St. Lawrence near Insbruck, Austria.

Bagley Revelry Friday at PTA School Festival

The Bagley Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will turn Bagley School into a three-ring circus Friday night.

The annual PTA School Festival will take place from 5 to 8 p.m.

In one ring will be the royalty, in another will be tasty and glittering morsels on sale, and in the third will be plenty of fun for all.

The king and queen of this year's festival will be elected. They are chosen from fifth and sixth grade students.

Candidates are Jacqueline Banks, Veta Smith, Beverly Batterl, Mary Edwards, Annette Johnson, Ruth Walker, Jessie Bennett and Anthony Pilgrim.

Others are Edwin Byrd, Charles Anthony, Azell Powell and Frederick Edwards.

★ ★ ★

There will be an old-fashioned country store with canned and baked goods, all products of mothers' kitchens, and a "white elephant" store, where jewelry donated by PTA members will be on sale.

Mrs. John McCallister is festival chairman, assisted by Mrs. Louise Russell, Mrs. Louise Edwards and Mrs. James Overton, PTA president.

Everyone will find something of interest, including music, movies and games of skill, according to Mrs. Walter Johnson, publicity chairman.

The school is at 320 Bagley Street.

Venezuela Presses for Dominican Ban

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Venezuela, spurred by the new U.S. trade embargo against Cuba, has intensified its drive for an economic boycott of the Dominican Republic.

★ ★ ★

Nelson Himiob, Venezuela's representative to the Organization of American States, said he planned to press for speedy consideration of a proposal to broaden sanctions adopted against the Dominican regime by the American foreign ministers in August.

He told a reporter his government had prepared a resolution calling on the American republics to impose an oil blockade and ban shipments of machinery and industrial equipment to the Dominican government.

Electra Investigators May Rule Out Birds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The question before the aviation world Wednesday was:

Have investigators knocked down the theory advanced by Federal Aviation Agency chief Elwood R. Quesada that bird impact probably caused the crash of an Eastern Airlines Eelctra at Boston, Oct. 4?

★ ★ ★

Sources close to the investigation of that accident report that thus far, no bulky bird remains have been found in the vital parts of the engines now being examined at the Allison Plant in Indianapolis, Ind.

★ ★ ★

All that was found, these sources revealed, was (1) bird remains in the oil coolers which would not cause a jet engine to flame out; (2) microscopic bird remains on some of the vital parts; (3) one tiny feather about an inch long.

Brigitte Back From the Brink of Disaster

PARIS (UPI) — Brigitte Bardot has returned to her Paris apartment, tanned and healthy and apparently recovered from her suicide attempt earlier this month.

★ ★ ★

The 26-year-old actress spent 10 days in St. Tropez, part of the time in a clinic, and two days at her luxury cottage near Paris. She slashed her wrists and took an overdose of sleeping pills because of what doctors called a period of deep depression.

★ ★ ★

Watch Fire, Children on Halloween

BOSTON (UPI)—Five rules for a safe and sane Halloween were suggested today by the National Fire Protection Association.

The rules:

★ ★

—For costumes, avoid flimsy outfits with yards of material in baggy sleeves and billowing skirts. A touch of flame can start them burning.

—Avoid wigs and masks with fibrous "hair."

—Caution children to stay away from flame — bonfires and burning leaves outdoors, fireplaces and stoves indoors.

—Don't allow children to carry a pumpkin lighted by a candle.

—Keep the smaller children in charge of and in sight of a responsible person at all times.

★

The association warned that flame and flimsy Halloween costumes can be as dangerous a mixture as witch's brew.

Picking Up After Donna

NEW YORK (UPI) — A week after hurricane Donna passed, New York City's Department of Sanitation reported it had picked up 7,000 tons of debris — mostly fallen trees and branches — and was still going.

School Principal to Talk for Mental Health Dept.

Pontiac State Hospital has announced that Jerome Breen will represent the Department of Mental Health as a speaker at the St. Clair County Home demonstration meeting at Goodells, Friday.

Breen is principal of the Fairlawn School for Emotionally Disturbed Children on the hospital grounds.

★ ★ ★

The program, at the Goodells 4-H Club building, is sponsored by the Michigan Institute of Local Government.

In 1859 the University of Toronto leased a large tract of land to the city for a period of 999 years at an annual rental of five shillings.

HE'S NO DRIVER — A driverless convertible automatically follows another car around the country's first full-size electronic test track. The specially equipped car responds to signals generated in buried circuits by the lead car. Dag Contender for Peace Prize

But Nobel Award Unit May Consider Him to Be Too Controversial

OSLO (UPI) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, recently under fire from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, is a leading contender for the 1960 Nobel Peace Prize, informed sources said Wednesday.

But the selection of the veteran Swedish diplomat may be too controversial for the Norwegian Nobel committee which must announce its choice by Nov. 15, the sources reported.

Hammarskjold bore the brunt of a strong attack from Khrushchev during the Soviet premier's recent session at the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

The sources said the committee is wary of creating another issue similar to that which arose when Soviet author Boris Pasternak was given the literature prize in 1958.

Pasternak relinquished the prize after he was bombarded by criticism in his own country, including heavy criticism from Khrushchev.

★ ★ ★

It is possible the committee, which brooks no intrusion into its affairs, will not award a prize this year and simply wait until 1961. There have been persistent rumors that Hammarskjold was the top candidate but that the committee was split on the controversial issue.

Gardner-Denver Sales Near All-Time Record

DETROIT (UPI) — Gardner-Denver Co. sales this year are expected to exceed $83 million, an all-time record, company President G. V. Leece said.

★ ★ ★

He said this would exceed by more than 10 per cent the $74.7 million in sales last year.

★ ★ ★

He said sales of products of the Grand Haven Division, with plants at Grand Haven and Reed City, are the best in history. This division makes pneumatic tools and special automation equipment.

Schweitzer Confirms Steel Heir's Death

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mark Higgins, 20-year-old heir to a Massachusetts steel fortune, was shot and killed in the Congo July 21 by a Congolese soldier who mistook him for a Belgian, according to word from Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

★ ★ ★ ★

Higgins' mother and stepfather, New York attorney Stanley R. Doman, received a telegram from the famed humanitarian in Lambarene, Gabon, confirming the death of the adventurous, 6-foot-five youth.

★ ★ ★ ★

Higgins went to Africa in 1959 to work as a volunteer at Schweitzer's hospital and was registered to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology this Fall. He is the son of Carter C. Higgins, president of the Worcester Pressed Steel Co., Worcester, Mass., and was graduated from the Milton School, Milton, Mass.

A woman may suffer in many ways, but one way she never suffers is in silence . . . You can always find a lot of people willing to give advice, but a pitiful few willing to offer help . . . A U. of M. Letter . . .

By SHARON WARREN

A record enrollment of 24,229 students has again produced a whirl of bicycles, activities, and classes at Ann Arbor. Plans are now being made and carried out for the big Homecoming weekend Friday through Sunday.

Focused on the theme of a Roman rampage, the weekend program includes displays by the fraternities, sororities, and resident halls, the football game with Minnesota; and the dance, featuring Woody Herman. Preweekend activities included a Roman Slave auction Tuesday in which twelve of the big men on campus are auctioned off for one hour.

★ ★ ★

Jan Brooks of Birmingham, a junior and recent transfer from Albion College, says that her sorority, Alpha Chi Omega, has "the Gaul to divide Minnesota into three parts." This is what they have used as their house display theme.

Don Lucas of North Marshall Street and Doug Read of Orangegrove Street, Waterford, both of whom are members of the Sigma Nu fraternity, attest to the work involved in Homecoming. Men's rush, during which time interested men students become acquainted with the campus fraternities, has just ended, and pressure has been great on the fraternities to plan and execute displays in time. Don is a predentistry student, studying on a Regents scholarship.

Valerie Armstrong of Bloomfield Terrace finds that being officer secretary and Panhellenic representative for the Delta Sigma Theta sorority, and studying are a full schedule.

Myrla Henry heads the judicial council in Hunt House of Mary Markley Hall. Rules and regulations are made and enforced by the council. Myrla is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, an honorary sorority. Her home is on James K Blvd. in Pontiac.

Myra Goines, of Tecoma Court, a Pontiac senior at Ann Arbor, is president of the Assembly Association, the independent women's governing body. She is also a member of the Board of Governors which governs the women's resident halls. Membership in the Honorary Senior Society is another of Myra's achievements.

Dames of Malta Members Fete National Officers

Corrine Sisterhood Dames of Malta members entertained national officers at a banquet in Malta Temple Wednesday. ONE hundred members from Detroit, Highland Park, Dearborn and Farmington attended.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. James Schram of Pontiac offered tie invocation.

Qdeen Esther Mrs. Christian Theis introduced Mrs. Rose Geig protector; Mrs. Florence Hummer of Detroit, soverign senior senior deaconess; and Mrs. Edna Siler of Farminton, sovereign pianist, all of the Sovereign Body.

Mrs. Geigle was presented a donation for the Children's Lukemia Fund, the project during her term as national officer.

DEPUTIES INTRODUCED

After introduction of visiting dep ties Mrs. Alvina Chapel and Mrs. Hummer, Mrs. Edith L. Levely was presented an honorary certificate of membership.

She is a charter member of the sisterhood and was accorded the honor upon her 80th birthday.

Mrs. R. F. Lange, chairman, and Mrs. James Schram, cochairman, directed the banquet.

★ ★ ★

Sir Knights Don Bussard, William Walls and Albert Clark also assisted.

The group has scheduled a bazaar Nov. 11.

Women Attend Dessert-Luncheon

'Mother' Title May Be Poor

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister died about two and a half years ago. Her husband recently remarried. His new wife is a very lovely person and we are very happy for him.

My sister had two daughters — 15 and 17. They are very fond of their stepmother — so much so in fact, that they have taken to calling her "mother" and refer to her as "their mother."

I'm very pleased that a happy relationship exists between them, but I think calling her "mother" is going just a little bit too far and is certainly very unkind to the memory of their own mother. I would very much like to have your opinion on this matter.

Answer: I agree that it would be preferable if your nieces found another name than "mother" for their stepmother, but this is a matter for them to decide with her and their father.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: Our daughter is going to be married soon — reception to be held in the basement of the church. Guests will be seated at small tables and served.

Is it proper to use paper plates with a wedding design on them? The dishes supplied by the church are the heavy restaurant type and not very pretty.

Answer: If you are having a caterer provide and serve the food and drinks for your reception he will be able to supply the china and glasses that will be needed. On the other hand, if there will be no caterer, pretty paper plates will be better than unattractive heavy ones.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: I have often read in your column that a girl is supposed to return the engagement ring as well as any other presents of value given her by her fiance, when the engagement has been broken, but I have never seen anything about the man's returning valuable presents given to him by her. Does the same rule apply to him?

Answer: Yes. Any presents of value given him by her while the engagement lasted should be returned.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: I plan to be married at a ten o'clock nuptial mass. The men in the bridal party will wear cutaway coats and striped trousers.

However, my problem is this: Arrangements have been made for an evening reception and I have been told by my friends that the men will be required to change into tuxedos. Is this true?

I am very much concerned over this as I don't want the men in the bridal party to go to the double expense of hiring tuxedos in addition to the cutaways.

Answer: It is not necessary that they change into tuxedos. It will be quite all right for them to remain in the same clothes that they wear at the ceremony.

Teens Give Their Requisites for President

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the
Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Between now and the second Tuesday in November we will be hearing a great deal about the respective qualifications of Richard M. Nixon and John Fitzgerald Kennedy for the office of President of the United States.

The Constitution prescribes only two: that the office holder be 35 years of age and born in the United States. All other conditions are prescribed by the nominating conventions of both major parties and, in the final analysis, by the electorate itself.

In general, what are the qualifications that most voters expect in a candidate for President? What should he be and mean in the opinion of most people to win the highest office in the land?

We put these questions to 985 teen-agers across the country in an attempt to determine the image that young America has of what a presidential candidate should be or should not be. None of the youngsters interviewed will be eligible to vote on Nov. 8. Indeed, few of them will be able to vote when the next presidential election rolls around in 1964.

Despite their temporary status of onlookers in this great national drama, we found most of the teenagers keenly interested in the impending battle between Republican Nixon and Democrat Kennedy. All had very definite ideas of what a president should be.

DESIRED QUALITIES

In the minds of most, with personalities aside, it was felt that a presidential candidate must at least:

Believe in God.

Be a college graduate.

Be in reasonably good health. Not have undergone psychiatric treatment.

Never have belonged to the Communist Party.

Never have been a conscientious objector to the draft.

Not be an active advocate of World Federalism.

These are the minimum things in the minds of most teen-agers that a candidate must be or must not be to be qualified for President.

In other controversial areas, however, they were far more lenient than many of their elders.

For instance:

76 per cent said they would vote for a candidate who was divorced.

53 per cent said they would vote for a candidate over 65.

61 per cent would vote for a candidate who had jumped parties.

95 per cent would vote for a Protestant.

70 per cent would vote for a Catholic.

52 per cent would vote for a Jew.

DON'T LIKE REDS

More youngsters would reject a candidate who had once been a Communist (80 per cent), than one who didn't believe in God (72 per cent). And far more would reject a candidate in poor health (88 per cent) than one who had undergone psychiatric treatment (47 per cent).

* * *

On the atheism question 17-year-old Patrica Albright of Claremont, Calif., expressed the majority viewpoint that "the United States is a God-fearing nation and I think our President should believe in God."

Speaking for the 24 per cent minority group who would vote for a candidate who did not believe in God, 18-year-old Thomas Engelmann of Charleston, S. C. argued that "just because a man does not believe in God, does not mean he is incapable of executing his duties as President."

* * *

Since Catholic John Kennedy is the Democratic nominee, the thinking behind the 25 per cent who would reject a Catholic candidate may be of more than passing interest. Their objections ranged from fear of the Pope and the candidate's freedom to act on a birth control bill to a belief that we are "essentially a Protestant nation by heritage and population."

One girl frankly admitted that she would not vote for a Catholic "because I have a religious prejudice." She gave the identical answer when it came to voting for a Jew.

Most of those who would turn down a candidate who had been a Communist at some time in the past had no doubts about the possibility of sincere conversion but felt his background would be a drawback in dealing with world problems. "Even though completely converted," commented 16-year-old Sue Parrish of Richmond, Va., "he would arouse suspicion among non-Communist nations and hatred in the Communist bloc."

EDUCATIONAL STATUS

The most striking division of opinion was recorded in answer to a question of whether a candidate must be a college graduate. The 40 per cent who said they would vote for a non-college man cited Abraham Lincoln, Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Edison and other self made men who figured so prominently in the history of the Republic.

"A college diploma," insisted 17-year-old Olivia Kredel of Charleston, S. C., "doesn't make a man any better, nor does the lack of it make him any worse."

But the 55 per cent who deemed a college education an essential qualification for the presidency argued that the world has become too complex to entrust its future to the whims of the self-made men.

"In today's world, which gets smaller each day while the problems get larger, an education is utmost," said 17-year-old Sharon Glickman of Miami Beach, Fla.

Short Skirts a Problem

Try to Make Legs Pretty

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The present styles make us seem to be all arms and legs. Skirts are shorter than ever. I imagine you have had the same experience I have had. My hemlines have been taken up three times, and in some instances four.

The grooming of the legs is most important. No matter how lovely your leg contours are, superfluous hair or flaky skin showing through sheer stockings can ruin the effect. Shaving or a depilatory are the two most practical methods of removing the hair. My opinion is that cosmetic wax is too big a job over such large surfaces.

SHAVING, DEPILATORY

Either shaving or a depilatory is satisfactory. The depilatory has the advantage of leaving the hair ends less stubby because it melts the hairs rather than cuts them. For this same reason it may give you a little "closer" shave, although the difference is slight. If shaving is easier, use that method.

While there are many evening clothes with sleeves, some of the most attractive ones have extremely short sleeves or none at all. So upper arms will be in view also this winter.

When necessary, the hair also should be removed from the arms, although I do not think that so many women have this problem since the hair is usually sparse and fine.

LARGE UPPER ARMS

Some women have extremely large upper arms, arms which are out of proportion to the rest of the silhouette. Our glandular setup dictates weight distribution and this condition is sometimes due to low thyroid.

Of course if you are overweight, a general reduction in poundage will reduce the arms although they may still remain out of proportion unless exercise is used to speed the loss.

Flabby upper arms add up to one of the main beauty hazards with which the middle-aged woman must cope. If a woman has indulged in sports or taken arm exercises consistently, she probably will be spared this. Otherwise it is sure to happen sooner or later. Exercise will help but it takes time and must be done regularly.

* * *

Try this one. Stand tall with your arms raised sideward, shoulder height, and your palms toward the floor. Clench your fists HARD. Keep them clenched as you bend your elbows and touch the fists to the chest. Hold while you count to six slowly. Return arms to starting position and continue.

If you would like to have my routine of arm exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 11. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

For flabby upper arms do this exercise: Bend your elbows and touch your clenched fists to your chest. Hold while you count to six slowly. Exercise will help but it takes time and must be done regularly.

Smooth 'Papa's' Way for A. M. Happiness

By RUTH MILLETT

An ex-English butler who is now running a school for butlers tells students how to get the master started off right in the morning.

"In waking the master, draw the curtains gently and tell the master the time. Nothing else. Never say 'Good morning' unless he does so first. Lay out the suit on the back of a chair; underwear, socks, and shirt on the seat, shoes on the carpet. Never choose a tie. The master will do that."

Chances are there is no butler in your house to get "the master" off to a good start. But you might assure his getting out on the right side of the bed, instead of coming to the breakfast table with a scowl, if you would pay as much attention as a well-trained butler to making the morning start out smoothly.

If morning is a time of hectic rushing around and of short tempers in your household, try to give your husband a sense of being well-looked-after by making yourself a set of rules:

Look after your husband's clothes so that the suit he wants to wear is in no need of pressing, the first shirt he puts on doesn't have a button off the cuff, and there's no likelihood of his putting on a pair of socks with a hole in the toe.

15 MINUTES EARLY

To have a little time for yourself, set the alarm fifteen minutes ahead. This should permit you to pay a little attention to how you are going to look across the breakfast table. (In case your husband ever looks up from the morning paper.)

Make a practice of setting the table the night before so that getting breakfast is quick and easy.

Make your own "Good Morning" cheerful, but don't follow it up with a lot of talk if your husband is naturally uncommunicative in the morning.

Above all, don't worry him with your problems or chatter about last night's party while he is trying to digest the front page of his paper.

And by all means, give him a real kiss instead of turning your cheek for a husbandly peck, as he leaves for work.

Wash Baby's Toy

It's important to choose washable stuffed toys for babies. And it's equally important to give these dawn-through-dusk and bedtime animals a sudsy bath at the first sign of soil. Not only will a beloved creature last longer, but it will be clean for baby's affectionate nibbles.

Socks Over Shoes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wear a pair of clean socks over new shoes when trying them out at home. Then, if you want to return the shoes, the soles still will be spotless.

Housewives Organized

German Woman Turns Head That Rules

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—The boss of the family in Germany to all outward appearances is the man.

But from talking to both men and women in this bustling nation, there seems increasing truth to a poem of German folklore which when freely translated quotes the husband as saying, "I am the head, the man. You follow the direction of my nose . . ."

And wife answers, "You are quite right. But I am the neck, and I turn the head."

★ ★ ★

The "new" German wife is not as active in politics as her sister in the United States. But the chances are one in three that she is—like her American counterpart—holding a job outside the house.

★ ★ ★

And, like as not, she also is a member of an extraordinary organization called the German Housewives Assn. founded 70 years ago, forbidden to operate in the Hitler regime, but revived in 1949 with federal government sanction and financial support.

★ ★ ★

Today it has branches in almost all of West Germany's large cities, in most cases, the branches are nonpartisan and nonsectarian. In others, membership may be based on religious or social interests.

Over-all, the purpose of the association is improvement of homemaking skills—and what man will argue that motive?

Here in Munich, the association has one of West Germanys largest branches—3,000 members. I talked with Mrs. Helmut Haselmayr, its president, who also runs a television network show directed to the housewife.

Louise Haselmayr, a hazel-eyed blonde of 38, holds a doctorate in economics from the University of Munich. She became interested in the associations work while she was a newspaper reporter covering the activities of the Munich branch.

She listed some of the association projects:

Advice on purchase of home appliances and other consumer goods, family health and welfare, the exchange of recipes and guidance in nutrition—"We are certainly not knocking beer in Munich," said Mrs. Haselmayr, "but we would like to have all children getting the proper amount of milk"—classes in homemaking ranging from knitting to cooking and budgeting.

★ ★ ★

"Courses in cooking for housewives?" I asked, because I thought that this was a skill carefully handed from mother to daughter.

"Yes," said Mrs. Haselmayr. "And we have both brides and women in their middle years enrolled.

In our country there are no home economics courses in high schools—only in special colleges. Because if you study home-ec, it is to be a demonstrator or dietician."

Mrs. Haselmayr said budgeting was a constant problem for housewife members, because "statistically, the average housewife spends almost 50 per cent of her budget for food.

"Yet we would like to add the new labor-saving appliances.

"The woman may want to buy something for the house, but if the man wants a car, the family gets the new car."

Garden Club Has Annual Card Party

Lorraine Manor Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association staged its annual card party Wednesday at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Highlighting the evening was the introduction of four new hair styles by a representative from a local beauty salon. Mrs. James Shultz, Mrs. Donald Lloyd, Mrs. Kenneth Downing and Mrs. Harold Hackett, club officers, modeled the coiffures.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Warren Cleven at the coffee service. Mrs. Burton Strong was head of refreshments and the kitchen. Party chairmen were Mrs. James Shultz and Mrs. Cleven.

Proceeds from the event will be used for local civic improvements and the Lapeer State Home and Training School.

Study Club Gets Instructions on Procedure Rules

The Parliamentary Study Club opened the fall season with a study meeting Wednesday in the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Ervin Christie, as leader, explained the lesson on order of exercises, introduction of business, duties of officers and members, purpose of a motion and steps of a motion.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Nienstedt, Mrs. R. Earl Springer, Mrs. Stanley Warwick, Mrs. John Braid and Mrs. Russell Larkins as officers of the demonstration group, conducted a model regular meeting.

Mrs. E. D. Moessner, charter member, was made an honorary life member. Mrs. Robert Cain, Mrs. Hayden W. Henley, Mrs. Melvin Norberg and Mrs. William R. Winkler were elected to membership.

Auto Men in Dilemma: To Plan for '61 Show?

By BEN PHLEGAR

DETROIT (AP)—Directors of the Automobile Manufacturers Association are facing a problem of how good is good enough.

Their dilemma concerns the National Automobile Show, now running in Detroit's Cobo Hall, and its immediate future prospects.

The current show appears on the surface to be an unqualified success—record crowds, unprecedented national attention.

Could a follow-up presentation next year be as successful? So far, the AMA is uncommitted. A spokesman says no decision will be announced until this year's show is evaluated.

In the years from 1960 to World War II national auto shows were an annual fixture in New York. Crowds rarely battered down the gates but attendance was reasonably good. And the New York locale seemed to generate the national interest the manufacturers so much wanted for their new models.

One postwar revival—in the New York Coliseum in 1956—was only modestly successful. Then came 1960.

Detroit, the nation's automobile capital, was able for the first time to offer an exhibition hall large enough to stage a national show. The city needed something big for an opening attraction at the new hall. The current show was the result.

Harry Williams, managing director of the AMA, frankly called it a "costly experiment." He told Detroiters the AMA had an option on the hall for 1961, but that it would depend on a number of factors including how the 1960 show was received.

★ ★ ★

The reception—more than half a million admissions in the first five days—has been a little overpowering, especially when you realize cars certainly are no novelty to this area.

More than 30 per cent of the nation's automobiles are built within 100 miles of Detroit and more than 500,000 Michigan residents are directly involved in the manufacture of cars.

The attendance as announced by the AMA has caused some raised eyebrows. There are no turnstiles at the hall and no paid admission figures are disclosed. But crowds have been large and fire marshals barred the doors for 45 minutes on Sunday as a safety precaution.

National attention through the daily press and periodicals has been more extensive than at any previous show. One national magazine devoted 42 pages.

★ ★ ★

The show rated one sponsored hour of national television time—definitely national attention despite some critics' comments that the presentation was one solid commercial for cars.

That's what the whole auto show is—a commercial for cars—and salesmen scurry around the floor hoping to write orders.

★ ★ ★

The AMA had three things going in its efforts to attract attention—a new city, the nation's newest and largest exhibition hall, and a resumption of the show after a four-year lapse complete with four new compact cars.

★ ★ ★

None of these factors could vie for similar national attention next year. Neither the hall nor the city would be new and none of the manufacturers has indicated plans to bring out additional lines of cars.

★ ★ ★

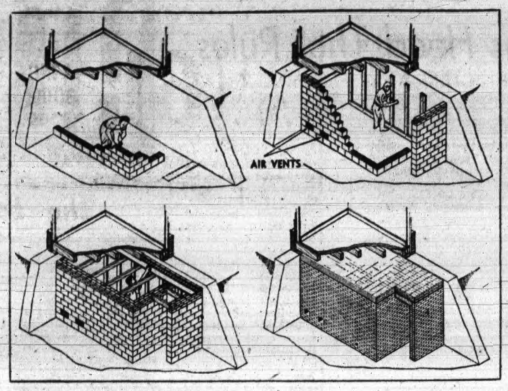

Having responded in record numbers, Detroiters obviously are expecting a show next year. Now it's up to the AMA.

Sees Slight Margin for Dick in California

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif., told a town hall meeting he believes Vice President Richard M. Nixon holds a slight edge in his home state of California over Sen. John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

While refusing to predict beyond his own state, Kuchel said he had been told by friends that it appeared neither of the candidates had a clear margin and the election would be close.

FALLOUT SHELTER — This is one type of basement fallout shelter recommended by Leo A. Hoegh, Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization director. Steps in its construction are shown, above, in sketches that are included in a booklet, "Clay Masonry Family Fallout Shelters," available from the OCDM in Washington. The booklet states that such a shelter can be constructed by a do-it-yourselfer and a friend in two weekends. All requirements such as heating, lighting and ventilation are included in the booklet.

Paper of Jan. 1, 2000, Reviews Past Century

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—The morning paper dated Saturday, January 1, 2000—has been dropped at our doorsteps.

It has all the good news that's fit to predict.•

★ ★ ★

The lead story, headlined "Happy New Century!," sums up the most important newspaper yarns in the past 100 years:

1—Discovery of the Martian culture by the U.S.A. and Japanese cosmonaut scientists in 1985.

2—The wayward H-rocket (origin unknown) destroyed over Arctic; jolted by narrow escape, all earth nations accepted total and permanent disarmament.

3—Colonization of the moon, first by U.S.A. space troops in 1971.

4—World Wars I and II (1914-18 and 1939-45,) last great international wars waged with pre-nuclear weapons.

5—Adolf Hitler, a "most wanted war criminal," found working as laundry assistant in remote Peruvian monastery, 1969; later banished to penal institution on moon.

Also front-paged is the announcement of the "Mom of the Year 2000," a Mrs. Nils Raison D'Etre, 75. Her secret for staying perky, she says, is keeping interested. And it's hard not to be interested these days, she adds, "because women have to always, well, sort of wiping up after the progress of men, you know."

Manager at Iron River Quits Over Salary Rate

IRON RIVER (UPI) — Donald Pedo has resigned as Iron River city manager because the city commission refused to hike his pay $25 a month.

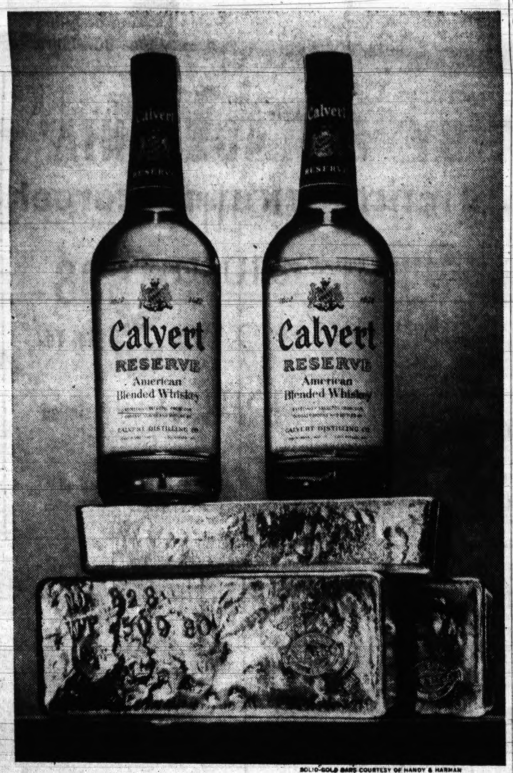

★ ★ ★

Pedo, former assistant city engineer at Milwaukee, took the job last spring for $7,500 a year with the understanding he would get the pay raise after a six-month probationary period.

★ ★ ★

The six months ended Oct. 6 and the commission last night voted down the pay increase.

'M,' Gophers Await Big Clash

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—The Little Brown Jug, a battered symbol of gridiron conflict between Michigan and Minnesota for more than five decades, will be almost a forgotten issue when the two Big Ten schools clash Saturday for the 31st time.

The classic quarrel for possession of the hallowed Jug has been one of college football's most enduring traditions.

And in recent years, when the two teams suffered through several seasons of lean pickings, it was often the struggle for the Little Brown Jug that enlivened an otherwise dull affair.

But the Jug won't be needed to inject interest in Saturday's contest.

The Golden Gophers from the North have muscled past four straight opponents for their fastest start in years. Two of those victories have been against Big Ten foes and last week's 21-10 verdict over Illinois set Minnesota up as the nation's fifth-ranked team.

The Wolverines are also on their way out of the woods. Coach Bump Elliott, rebuilding around a host of talented sophomores, has driven his charges to three wins in four starts and the only Michigan loss was a 24-17 thriller to Michigan State.

* * *

The result is that the 1960 Little Brown Jug affair stacks up as the most important Michigan - Minnesota game since the late 1940s when the Wolverines were riding roughshod over everybody and Minnesota furnished some of their stiffest opposition.

Over the decades the Little Brown Jug battle has had its ups and downs.

The whole thing started as a joke back in 1903 when the Wolverines left a jug on the Minnesota field and Michigan Coach Fielding H. Yost wrote to Minneapolis and asked that it be returned.

The good-natured reply was, "If you want it back, come on up here and fight for it."

The two teams didn't meet again until 1909 when it was agreed that the little brown jug would go to the winner.

The rivalry over the insignificant-looking bucket picked up momentum in 1919 when the two schools began playing annually and in the 1930s when both schools developed national powers year after year, the argument reached its peak.

Minnesota has never matched the famed Bernie Bierman teams of the 1930s and Michigan's fortunes began to wane after its great teams of the late '40s.

* * *

But both schools have, coincidentally, chosen this season for resurgance.

The Gophers, especially, have been one of the year's big surprises so far. They are one of two teams with a perfect slate in Big Ten warfare. The other one is Iowa.

The good-natured school.

Central Harriers Notch 1st Win; SVC Meet Today

After five defeats in dual meet competition, Pontiac Central's inexperienced cross country team hit the victory trail. The Chiefs scored a 26-29 verdict over Royal Oak Dondero on the PCH course for their 1st win of the season.

Central's Jim Nelson finished 1st in the time of 10:44, followed by Dondero's Don Kelly. Walt Seger of Dondero placed 3rd, Bill Campbell took 4th place for the PCH harriers, Darryl Patterson 6th, Wade Wilkinson 7th and Ken Johnson 8th.

With Dick Johnson leading the way, the PCH junior varsity also won its first meet of the year with a 25-30 decision over Dondero, Johnson's winning time was 12:06.

The PCH runners are competing in the annual Saginaw Valley Conference meet today at Swartz Creek Country Club. The meet got underway at 4 p.m.

Booters Start Anew

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State University's soccer team will be seeking a return to the winning column Saturday when it travels to Wheaton College in Illinois.

The Spartans were defeated 4-0 last week by St. Louis University in their first loss of the season. It was also the first time the East Lansing booters were shut out in their 34 years of Soccer competition.

Junior Wings Meet Windsor Monday Night

Detroit 'Champs' to Open Season

Detroit wasn't without a champion last season despite the Tigers, Lions, Red Wings and Pistons.

The team which upheld Detroit's once-great championship prestige was the Junior Red Wing hockey team which begins defense of its Border Cities crown tomorrow night when it meets Windsor at the Olympia.

The Junior Wings, coached by Jimmy Peters, one-time National Hockey League star who lives at 8569 Cooley Drive in Pontiac, is the only American team in the seven-club league.

Last year the Jr. Wings nosed out Chatham in the final game of the season to win the title in their first year of operation.

* * *

Other teams in the league include Windsor, Wallaceburg, Dresden, Riverside and Leamington, plus Detroit and Chatham.

For the 1960-61 campaign, Peters has 11 returning players plus newcomer Jimmy Peters, Jr., his 16 year old son who was the Star Cutter team in the Detroit Juvenile League.

Young Jimmy ranked third in scoring and he was called up to play with the Junior wings for the last 14 games in which he collected four goals and four assists.

Another "rookie" is 16 year old Jack Hancock a Southfield High School junior who played with the Thompson Cain team in the Detroit Midget League where he was second in scoring.

* * *

The youngest regular and one of top stars of the team is 15 year old Ned Runey of Warren where his father is a member of the Warren city council.

A big left winger who stands 6-foot-1 and weighs 175 pounds, Runey scored 11 goals and 16 assists.

The Junior Wings have 17 home games scheduled at the Olympia where they have average 4,000 fans a game.

A special feature of Monday night's opener will be a door prize which will consist of a trip with the Red Wings to Toronto later in the season for some fan in attendance.

A "Game of the Week" will be held at 7:00 p.m. and the regular league game will start at 8:00 p.m. Admission for the Junior Wing games is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

This is the Junior Wings' home schedule:

Monday, Feb. 13—Windsor
All games at Olympia start at 8 p.m.

JUNIOR STAR — One of the youngest but toughest members of the Detroit Junior Red Wing hockey team which plays in the Border Cities League is 15-year-old Ned Runey of Warren. Ned had 11 goals and 16 assists as the Junior Wings won the league championship a year ago. The team plays most of its games at the Olympia on Monday nights.

JUNIOR WING — One of several county boys on the Junior Red Wing hockey team in the Border Cities Hockey League is Jack Hancock, 16-year-old Southfield High School student. The Junior Wings won the championship in their first year of operation in the league last season. Monday night's opener at the Olympia against Windsor starts at 8 p. m.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Charley Wolf sums up the "new look" Cincinnati Royals' record victory this way:

"Rebounding did it."

He referred specifically to the first half of Wednesday night's season opener, when the Royals grabbed 47 rebounds to 25 for the Los Angeles Lakers, and raced to a 140-123 victory.

"Rebounding is all we need," Wolf said. "If we can get the ball we can score. They know what to do with the ball."

"They" meant players like Jack Twyman, last year's second-highest NBA scorer, who Wednesday night paced his team with 30 points, hitting 11 of 18 attempts.

And three-time All-America Oscar Robertson lived up to expectations in his pro basketball debut, scoring 21 points to delight the record crowd of 8,176 fans at the Cincinnati Garden.

Restriction Off on Sugar Beets

Allow More Planting to Compensate for Recent Ban Against Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sugar beet growers can plant as much acreage as they want next year.

The Department of Agriculture lifted all acreage restrictions on the 1961 crop Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Lifting of the acreage restriction was part of the department's planning to assure an adequate supply of sugar. In July the United States stopped buying cane sugar from Cuba, hitherto the principal supplier to this country.

The increased sugar which will come from an increased acreage of sugar beets will help maintain the nation's normal quota.

The sugar beet acreage allotment for 1960 was 985,000 acres. The 1960 crop of sugar beets, estimated at 16,727,00 tons as of Oct. 1, was grown on 905,000 acres.

The domestic beet sugar allotment for this year was slightly more than 2.5 million tons.

★ ★ ★

Unrestricted acreage for the 1961 crop of sugar beets can be expected to result in considerably more beet sugar than from the 1960 crop of beets.

Kenny Institute Faces Deficit

Foundation Expects to Be $400,000 in Hole by End of Year

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Sister Elizabeth Kenny Institute faces a $400,000 deficit by the end of the year.

Dr. Frank H. Krusen, new director of the polio treatment and research center, hoisted the financial storm warnings today. He said the foundation has only $100,000 in funds available to the end of the year and will need half a million.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Krusen said an emergency fund drive will be launched "very soon."

Several months ago Minnesota Atty. Gen. Walter F. Mondale accused former officials and fund-raising associates of the Kenny Foundation of mismanaging and raiding donated funds. He said it amounted to millions of dollars.

★ ★ ★

Marvin L. Kline, former director and one-time Minneapolis mayor, has been indicted by a grand jury for his alleged unlawful profiteering.

Alfred R. Nelson, partner in the Chicago accounting firm of Arthur Anderson & Co., disclosed results of an audit Tuesday.

Krusen and Nelson said emergency steps are being taken.

Many Small Papers Plan New Equipment

NEW YORK (UPI) — Twenty-eight per cent of the nation's weekly newspapers and 24 per cent of the small dailies plan to replace their presses within the next two years, according to a survey by the magazine American Press.

★ ★ ★

The survey said the "revolutionary" program of improving printing equipment was disclosed by a poll of 1,014 of the nation's 3,150 weeklies and small dailies. It said all dailies do their own printing but 802 weeklies have their newspapers printed outside.

The magazine said one of the surprises of the survey was the widespread use of web-fed presses by weekly newspapers. It was generally supposed that all weeklies used sheet fed flat presses but 40 per cent are now using web fed presses.

The survey said 629 weeklies and 32 dailies are printed by offset methods and 779 weeklies contemplate switching to offset in the next two years. There are 23 small daily tabloids against 1429 tabloids in the weekly field.

Jackie Quitting, but She Has a Valid Excuse

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy is quitting her husband's presidential campaign—for a very good reason. Her doctors ordered her to stop because of the expected birth of her second child in December.

Her last appearance was with her husband in the ticker tape parade staged in his honor Wednesday, the candidate's press secretary said. She will remain here a few days then return to their home in Washington, D.C.

Dry ice is being replaced in industry by liquid carbon dioxide, which is easier to handle and reduces costs. But dry ice continues to be useful as a refrigerant in milk wagons and ice cream trucks.

Tougher Than on Russia

New Curbs Tight on Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States' crackdown on exports to Cuba imposes tighter curbs than this country maintains on trade with Russia and its European satellites.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. move Wednesday, forbidding export of nearly all goods save food and medicine, cuts Cuba off from the vital flow of machines and replacement parts needed to run many of the island's American-equipped industries which were taken away from their owners. It also shuts off many American-made finished goods.

This country also maintains control over sales to the Soviet Union and its bloc, but permits export of many commodities which could not be used to advance the Communist war-making potential.

The Cuban embargo, however, does not equal the complete U.S. boycott on exports to Red China.

★ ★ ★

Export control is administered and enforced by the Commerce Department's Bureau of Foreign Commerce. Through licensing of exporters—and possible heavy fines and prison terms for violations—it wields a potent weapon in the economic Cold War.

CAN ENFORCE CONTROLS

The government enforces export controls by acting to lift an American exporter's or foreign importer's privilege to ship or buy U.S. goods, and by prosecution for criminal violation of the Export Control Act.

Each conviction carried penalties up to $10,000 fine and 10 years in prison.

The export controls apply to U.S. goods which might be sent either directly to a prohibited destination or via a third country. For example, goods which may not be sent directly to Cuba also may not be sent indirectly or trans-shipped through Mexico or some other country.

★ ★ ★

However, the government has no control over goods manufactured in a foreign country by an American-owned or controlled firm.

The department frequently has suspended the privileges of U.S. and foreign firms for violation of the export controls. This administrative sanction is imposed only after a formal hearing at which the accused merchant may defend himself.

Can't Escape Motorcade

Likes Kennedy, but . . .

NEW YORK (AP)—A red-haired typist came out to watch the Kennedy motorcade Wednesday, got scared, tried to run away from it and wound up in it.

Miss Josephine Casella's adventure reached its climax in the crush at Broadway and Wall Street when, with others, she was squashed against one of the press cars.

Miss Casella pleaded prettily, "I think I'm going to faint. I've got to get out of here. Please help me."

The press opened the door. Miss Casella hopped in. When she recovered her breath and composure, she gave this sidewalk eye-view of the tickertape reception:

★ ★ ★

"I got an extra half hour for lunch, and got away from the office early. It is about a block from here, and the crowd was all right. But all of a sudden, all the people poured in.

"I was carried one solid block. I lost my two girl friends. The last I saw of them, one of them was crying.

"I tried to turn into a side street. That didn't work at all. Next thing I knew here I was smashed against your car."

Miss Cosella, who lives at 1716 Gates Ave. in Queens, said she is for Kennedy, but:

"This is my last parade."

Sam Rayburn All Out for Kennedy, Johnson

HICKORY, N.C. (UPI)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., has told 4,000 Democrats here John F. Kennedy "will make a great president with the help of Lyndon Johnson."

Of Vice President Richard Nixon, Rayburn said: "I know him well, and that is the principal reason I do not want to see him president of the United States."

Gold Shares Keep Rising

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold shares continued to boom in a mixed stock market early today as the price of bullion soared in the London market.

Trading was fairly quiet over-all in the market but the gold stocks resumed their activity which placed several among the most heavily traded issues Wednesday.

The economic and political implications of the London gold rush gave Wall Street pause.

There was very little of any decided tendency in other stock groups aside from the golds.

Some of the gold mining stocks opened on big blocks. As dealings continued, McIntyre Porcupine was up well over a point.

Dome Mines was a point higher. Campbell Red Lake and South American Gold & Platinum gained fractions.

★ ★ ★

Benguet, the Philippine gold mining stock which paced the entire market on volume Wednesday, was traded on a succession of big blocks and showed a fractional gain.

Radio Corp. fell more than a point while DuPont recouped a point or more. U. S. Smelting, also in gold mining, advanced more than a point.

Steels, motors and rails were very narrowly mixed. Some leading issues in these groups were unchanged.

Drugs managed a string of fractional advances. Oils trended slightly lower. Aircrafts showed little if any change.

The market was a bit lower at the start but as more stocks opened with plus signs the over-all pattern became irregular.

Poland Asks Block on Bases

Wants U.N. to Call Halt on Military Installations in Other Countries

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Communist Poland asked the United Nations today to call on all countries to cease building new military bases and rocket launching installations on the territories of other countries.

★

The proposal was laid before the General Assembly's 99-nation political committee by Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki.

Rapacki also proposed:

1. That countries which do not have foreign military bases on their territory should ban construction of such installations.

2. That countries which do not have nuclear weapons should not accept them from other countries and should not seek to manufacture them on their own soil.

The Polish foreign minister further renewed his appeal for adoption of the Rapid plan for a partially disarmed zone across Central Europe without nuclear weapons or rockets.

While offering his own proposals for partial disarmament measures, Rapacki urged the committee to begin work immediately on a treaty for general and complete disarmament along the lines demanded by the Soviet Union.

The debate continued under the shadow of a Soviet boycott threat and a U. S. charge that the Communists are using the critical arms issue as a propaganda springboard.

President Has Korner on Kiddies' Vote

Ike Avoids Being a Partisan on Tour

By WILLIAM J. EATON

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) If there were such a thing as a "kiddies' vote," President Eisenhower would win it hands down.

The 70-year-old grandfather of four seems to be making a special point of tweaking noses, tousling hair, chucking chins and shaking hands of children on his "nonpolitical" tour.

This may be part of his soft-sell approach to campaigning for the Republican ticket this fall. White House observers are convinced that the President has decided to avoid anything that might be interpreted by the American voters as extreme partisanship.

One reason for this is that Eisenhower and his political advisers believe that Vice President Richard M. Nixon must capture a big share of the so-called independent vote to succeed in his White House bid.

Especially in states like California — where registered Democrats far outnumber the registered Republicans — Eisenhower also was expected to make an appeal to what he terms "discerning Democrats."

★

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty is having a tough time keeping a straight face when he tells reporters that the president's trip in the midst of the election campaign is non-political.

He grinned broadly the other day in reaffirming this position after announcing the names of GOP candidates in Michigan who had called on Eisenhower to get their pictures taken with him. A newsman then inquired if they were "nonpoliticians." Hagerty just smiled.

The President is traveling 332 miles by helicopter on his 6,728-mile cross-country tour. This is the greatest use of the 'choppers ever made on a domestic presidential trip.

Blades on the helicopters are changed after 100 hours' use as an extraordinary safety precaution. In normal military use, the blades are switched after 500 hours flying time.

To Picture GM Trucks in Action

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Brilliant color transparencies displayed by GMC Truck and Coach Division will bring several New York street scenes to life in the Waldorf Hotel's Grand Ballroom during the General Motors Motorama.

The scenes illustrated by 40-by-60-inch backlighted color transparencies were shot specifically for the show. Each features a new GMC truck in a typical operating situation.

Two of the photographs were made at night. One shows a sleek GMC panel truck dropping off newspapers in Times Square; the other a steel tilt-cab GMC taking on cargo at a Brooklyn dock.

★ ★ ★

The transparencies will be displayed on the mezzanine overlooking the grand ballroom during the famed GM automotive show.

2 Grab $5,000 at Taylor Bank

Stolen Car Recovered Mile From Scene of Wednesday Robbery

DETROIT (UPI)—Wayne County, state and federal authorities are searching for two bandits who robbed a branch of the Security Bank in Taylor Township and escaped with between $5,000 and $6,000 Wednesday.

★

A stolen car used in the holdup was recovered about half an hour after the robbery was reported a little over a mile from the scene.

Mrs. Jane Shepard, 38, of Allen Park, a teller, said two men entered the bank shortly after noon with drawn guns and wearing black gloves which they held in front of their faces.

They ordered her and another employe, Mrs. Doris Westphal, 38, also of Allen Park, and the only customer, Mrs. Mary Homa of Taylor Township, into a corner.

★ ★ ★

The bandits failed in efforts to open the safe of the bank and fled after cleaning out the cash drawers.

Courtroom May Be In for an Ocelot of Noise

Lathrup Village police have ticketed the owner of an ocelot, which is not an undersized foreign sportscar but an oversized South American cat.

★ ★ ★

Police say the animal is dangerous.

The ocelot's owner, Edith McNeal, 33, of 27930 E. Californ ia St., Lathrup Village, says her Wendy is not dangerous and gets along fine with her two cats and mongrel dog.

Police said they have received several complaints from neighbors about the animal, which is about a foot high, a yard long and looks like a small leopard.

WANTED BABY LION

Miss McNeal, who originally wanted to buy a baby lion but was advised to take the ocelot instead, said she keeps Wendy in the house most of the time and has heard no complaints.

She said she is contacting ocelot owners from all over the state to accompany her when she appears before Justice of the Peace James K. O'Leary.

Miss McNeal reported there are some 151 ocelot owners in Michigan. There also is a national ocelot owners' organization, she said.

Justice O'Leary and the police better be prepared for the invasion of the ocelots.

Tuskegee Arguments End in High Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court concluded arguments Wednesday on a challenge to the boundary revision of Tuskegee, Ala., home of the famed Negro school, Tuskegee Institute.

A Justice Department spokesman told the high court that the Constitution bars the states from passing any law which results in setting up "racial and religious ghettos."

A challenger need only show that the state law "in substance and effect racial discrimination," regardless of the actual language, said Philip Elman of the solicitor general's office.

Elman referred to a 1957 Alabama law which redrew the boundaries of Tuskegee to exclude most of the Negro population and all but four or five Negro voters.

The city, which previously had been a square, now has 28 sides.

Illinois has more individual school units than in any other state.

"I love Betty (Miss Bacall). And as soon as this is over we'll get married," Robards told reporters. He referred to a divorce suit in which his wife Rachel Taylor Robards, charges the comedian adultery with Miss Bacall.

Robards denied the accusation.
