Centennial Plan Amazes Officer Answering Call

Pontiac Police Lt. George T. Scott was slightly baffled this morning when he received a phone call from the State Treasurer's office especially when the voice at the other end asked when Pontiac was planning to hold its Centennial celebration.

The conversation went something like this:

"This is Warren Wright, the state treasurer. Say, when are you planning your centennial down there?"

Scott: "Centennial? What centennial?"

Wright: "The Livingston County centennial."

Scott: "Pontiac is in Oakland County."

Wright: "There's no Oakland County in the state."

Scott: "Where are you calling from?"

Wright: "Chicago."

Scott: "This is Pontiac, Michigan."

Wright: "What? I was calling Pontiac, Illinois."

"I thought it was a gag at first because I know Sanford A. Brown is Michigan's treasurer," Scott related. "But I thought maybe I'd misunderstood when he started mentioning Livingston and Pontiac," he said.

The long distance operator could not be reached for comment.

Legislature Set for Fast Windup

Return Today to End 1955 Session, Close at Noon Tomorrow

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Legislature came back today to clean up the odds and ends of its 1955 session.

If everything goes according to plan, the lawmakers will wind up their business today and tomorrow's session will be merely a formality to comply with the constitution and adjourn the session at noon (without day).

A last minute change of agenda was suggested by state elections officials to correct an error in the earlier adoption of state election code amendments.

Robert M. Montgomery, state elections director, reported that the title of the election bill had failed to list the repeal of several old laws, including one which requires election inspectors to initial every ballot.

Montgomery proposed that the Legislature pick up a dead bill in the House, which already has passed the Senate, and use it as the vehicle for correcting the error.

The major items of business appeared to be Senate action on the confirmation of more than 40 governor's appointees and a resolution which would authorize the State Highway Department to receive immediately the returns from a recent gasoline tax increase.

While most of the nation shared the Pontiac area weather fate, and sizzled under 90 plus temperatures, the U. S. Weather Bureau had little immediate encouragement for this vicinity and the country at large.

Wide areas of the United States will continue to swelter under hot, sticky weather despite the thunderstorms that lashed the Mississippi Valley last night and this morning.

Two Ships Sink in Stormy Seas

Huge Caribbean Waves Blamed for Disasters, 45 Believed Drowned

VERA CRUZ, Mexico (AP) — The crowded coastal passenger boat La Flecha sank last night in the storm-tossed Gulf of Campeche 40 minutes after sailing from Veracruz. Twenty-nine persons were feared lost.

Twenty-six persons were reported missing. Three bodies—of an adult passenger and two children—were recovered and 37 persons were reported rescued.

All those aboard the 145-ton vessel were believed to be Mexicans.

The La Flecha sinking was the second marine disaster of the day in the Caribbean area. Early yesterday a Liberian oil carrier, the Sun Princess, rammed and sank the 6,155-ton Trinidad. Ninety crewmen of the Geologist were missing and the body of another was recovered.

The La Flecha went down about four miles off Veracruz. She was bound across the gulf for the port of Progreso, on the Yucatan Peninsula. Coast guard vessels and fishing boats searched throughout the night for survivors.

66 ON BOARD

A rescued crewman said the La Flecha was carrying at least 66 persons. Her sailing list showed 37 passengers and a crew of 11 aboard, but many of those rescued were not on the list.

The cause of the sinking was not immediately determined. Heavy storms had swept the gulf area and survivors told of struggling against towering waves before being rescued.

They said the ship went down so rapidly there was little time for launching lifeboats.

Hope for finding additional survivors from the sinking off Trinidad faded last night after a day-long air and sea search. Twenty-two survivors from the Geologist were picked up by the Sun Princess.

Father & son who saw the accident the night of July at Crooks Rd. & Auburn please call PB 4-8527.

Although a few scattered thundershowers are a possibility in the Pontiac area Friday, the weather will continue hot and humid today and tomorrow.

Today in the Pontiac area, a low of 66 degrees was recorded at 4:45 a.m., and the mercury, stood at 92 degrees in the city at 1 p.m.

The low tonight is expected to range from 68 to 72 degrees rising to a high of from 88 to 92 degrees on Friday.

The mercury made its customary upward skid, Wednesday, reaching a torrid 91 degrees at 4:30 p.m. in Pontiac. The low recorded yesterday was a comfortable 66 degrees which, unfortunately, began to mount early in the morning.

3,405 Acres Burned

GOP Seeks Compromise on Federal Highway Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans promised a strong effort in the House Public Works Committee today to compromise rival proposals for financing a mammoth new road-building program.

The committee yesterday approved the construction program itself, calling for about 37 billions in federal funds and 10 billions from the states over the next 12 years.

But it defeated 19-14 President Eisenhower's proposal to finance the road-building expansion largely through bonds to be issued by a special government corporation.

The committee takes up today a substitute Democratic plan to pay for the new roads by immediate increases in taxes on gasoline, trucks and buses, heavy tires and tubes, and diesel fuel.

As approved by a subcommittee, these increases would raise about 850 million dollars a year. Some Republicans and Democrats have protested the increases are too steep, especially on trucks, and drives were under way to reduce them.

Ziegler Assures County of Roads in Future Plans

Will Restudy Projects When Affecting Issues Are Resolved

LANSING — State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler here yesterday repeated statements made previously by his aides that Oakland County would not be overlooked in Michigan's accelerated road-building program.

As soon as three indefinite issues are resolved, probably in the next five months, the Oakland situation will be re-examined and more projects planned for this area, Ziegler promised.

The interview was arranged by State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak).

Ziegler said that no projects are now in the planning stage for Oakland, above those already announced, pending a new federal aid bill, a decision on the toll road and results of a Detroit-area traffic survey.

He summed up progress toward starting work on the Telegraph Rd. Orchard Lake Ave. grade separation, the widening of Perry Street in Pontiac and the widening of M24 from Perry to the north county line.

The commissioner said the projected extension of Northwestern Highway across the county to Fenton, planned for several years, is a definite possibility within the next two years.

Plan to Arraign Triple Slayer

Fourth Victim of Gun in Critical Condition at Flint Hospital

FLINT (AP) — Friendly looking Kenneth Kuzner, still bewildered by his actions, faced court arraignment in a murder charge today in the wanton tavern slaying of three persons he never had seen before.

He was picked up by State Police of the Pontiac Post only 45 minutes after he pulled a gun from his shirt Tuesday night in a Grand Blanc bar, and killed the trio.

While authorities prepared for legal action against him, the fourth victim of the 30-year-old Detroit trucker's fusillade of bullets Tuesday night clung to life in a Flint hospital.

James R. Dollars, 26, of Flint, still was on the critical list. He had two bullet wounds in the shoulder and one in the neck.

Killed were Said Farah, 26, a Flint engineer; his wife Jeannine, also 26, and Mrs. Margaret Cross, 31, a divorcee.

The four, longtime friends, were sitting together in a booth in a tavern at nearby Grand Blanc when Kuzner, without provocation and at point blank range, opened fire. Those killed all were shot in the head by Kuzner's snub-nosed .38 caliber revolver.

Representatives to Switzerland. The choice adds greatly to the safety of Bulganin—who appears to be the chief worry of the Swiss police—because of its nearness to the Palais des Nations.

Bulganin can attend the meetings simply by walking from "La Pastorale," through the permanent Soviet villa grounds and across the street into the Palais' main entrance.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov will stay with Bulganin while the remainder of the huge Soviet delegation will be housed in the Hotel Metropole.

Swiss authorities who have been dealing with the Soviets say it is much easier now to get along with them than it was last year.

Dulles Arrives in France for Pre-Geneva Conclave

PARIS (AP) — U. S. Secretary of State Dulles flew into Paris today to help put the finishing touches on Western strategy for the Big Four summit conference.

He was to confer today and tomorrow with French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan to complete coordination of Western policy for the Geneva talks.

They will meet Saturday with the North Atlantic Council to outline the Western policy to their NATO partners' foreign ministers.

Informed that Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov were accompanying Premier Bulganin to Geneva, Dulles commented "that's normal."

In an airport statement, Dulles declared that "great hopes are in the air" that steps will be taken at Geneva toward a peace settlement "rich in human values."

The statement, taking cognizance that today is Bastille Day, France's chief national holiday, said:

"Our own liberty seems the more precious as we sacrifice to make it secure and as we see those who, having had liberty, have lost it and now aspire to regain it."

After reading his statement to reporters, Dulles went directly to the U. S. Embassy residence.

The Western Three were reported ready with a plan to limit Germany's armed forces — even after unification — to half a million men in order to convince Russia that a unified Germany within NATO would not menace her.

Quantity Called Small as City Hunts Source

Utica Water Supply Still Being Hauled by Tank Trucks

Chromium wastes are still being put into the Pontiac sewer system, Floyd Vermette, sewage treatment plant superintendent, told the Pontiac Press today.

He said the amounts were "dribbles" and that crews were pressing efforts to find their source.

"We don't consider dangerous the amount coming in now," he stated. "It is actually less than what was being put into the sewers three weeks ago."

He said that 18 employees, assisted by a State Health Dept. sanitary engineer, are working to run sewer and river tests 24 hours a day. This morning, below the sewage treatment plant, tests showed slightly less than one part per million of chromium compound was in the river.

Vermette said seeking the source of the contaminating chemical was like "looking for a needle in a haystack." The city has been trying to locate the industry or industries dumping the chemical for four weeks, he said.

The search was intensified this week, however, after a large quantity of the solution was poured into the sewers and eventually got into the Clinton River, contaminating the water supply of the city of Utica in Macomb County. Utica gets its water from the river.

Since Monday night, Utica residents have been getting drinking and cooking water from tank trucks bringing it in from adjoining wells.

KNOW OF WASTES

Pontiac officials have known for some time that chrome wastes, which are dangerous to the kidneys in large amounts and which could prove fatal if taken in large enough doses, have been getting into the sewers.

Saturday morning, a "slug" estimated at more than a ton was dumped, officials believe accidentally. They have been unable to find which industry turned loose the compound.

Vermette said the fact the chromium was dumped in dribbles made the job of tracing it difficult.

He said he believed the small

Eye Settlement on Dixon-Yates

Joint Group to Watch Federal Deal to End Power Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Anderson (D-NM) said today the Senate Atomic Energy Committee heads will keep close watch on how the government goes about settling the Dixon-Yates contract.

The committee failed in an effort to obtain from Atomic Energy Commission officials yesterday word as to just how the cancellation will be effected.

Noting that under the law his committee is to be kept informed of everything AEC does, Anderson said AEC is the government party to the contract and should negotiate the settlement.

He declared he had been disturbed about indications that Atty. Gen. Brownell might have charge of the negotiations, and added that if that happened, "there may be a settlement running into millions of dollars and we will know nothing about it."

Brownell and other administration officials have declined to guess what it may cost to cancel the contract. There have been some indications the Dixon-Yates group may seek several million dollars.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss told Anderson's committee he believes AEC should handle the cancellation. But he said this would not be settled until his agency gets a formal directive from the Budget Bureau. It was that bureau, acting as President Eisenhower's agent, which originally directed AEC to negotiate the contract.

Police Check Errors in Farmhand's Account of Rape; Slaying Denied

JOPLIN, Mo. (U) — Officers checked discrepancies today in a farm laborer's rambling account of abducting 2-year-old Donna Sue Davis from her crib and raping and beating her.

The body of the Sioux City, Iowa, child was found Monday in a farm field near South Sioux City, Neb., just across the Missouri River from the Iowa town.

Detective John Showers said Audrey Brandt, 42, of La Porte City, Iowa, orally admitted taking the girl from her bed Sunday night, raping her and hitting her several times.

Showers said the farmhand claimed, however, that he did not kill her.

He told officers he hitchhiked here from Sioux City.

Officers questioned him late into the night on his story, which they described as incoherent in parts.

Detective F. E. Eichelberger said the FBI and Joplin police were studying certain phases of the story that "didn't jibe."

At La Porte City, Police Chief Henry Kruse said Brandt had a record for petty thievery there. Brandt had been arrested on child molestation charges in 1947 and last April, Iowa authorities reported.

Detective Showers said the farmhand related that he passed the home of Donna Sue's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, twice Sunday night and then crept into the child's room through a window, took her from her crib and went across the Missouri River.

Showers quoted him as saying he then raped the child and hit her when she began screaming.

The farmhand was arrested on a street corner here after a truck driver told police he had given a ride to a hitchhiker fitting the description of a man wanted in the case.

No charges have been filed.

File Libel Warrant Against Local Man

An order for a warrant charging criminal libel and slander was issued yesterday by Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue.

Named is James Dean, 34, of Pontiac. He is accused of falsely stating two Pontiac policemen took $275 from him and failed to return the sum, Gerue explained.

The officers arrested Dean early Monday at Saginaw and E. Pike Sts. He pleaded innocent to drink and disorderly and was released on bond.

Dean went to an attorney and signed an affidavit stating the officers took the cash which he claimed he was about to place in a night deposit box for his employer, Gerue said.

The employer denied giving Dean any money to deposit and the libel warrant followed. Meanwhile, Dean was picked up on another drunk charge and sentenced to seven days in Oakland County Jail Tuesday by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Criminal libel is a misdemeanor carrying $100 fine, 90 days in jail, or both.

Mute on Arraignment, 2 Released on Bonds

Two 17-year-old Royal Oak Township youths, charged with attempting breaking and entering, stood mute to the charge when they were arraigned yesterday before Troy Township Justice Scott C. Belyea.

The pair, Laquintess Collins and Mark Briggs, were released on $500 bonds pending examination July 20. They are accused of attempting a nighttime break-in of a grocery store at 4020 Rochester Rd., Troy Township, Sunday.

A resident noticed the pair flee the store in a car and turned the license number over to police.

Two Men Rob Novi Gas Station

Thugs Loot Cash Box Threatening Attendant With Pistols

Two pistol-brandishing holdup men robbed a Novi filling station of $285 early this morning after forcing the attendant to lie face down on the floor while they looted his pockets and cash box.

The attendant, James Killeen, told Oakland County Deputy Sheriff Gordon Misenar that the pair threatened to "blow his head off" if he refused to follow orders. He said the men took the phone receiver off the wall before they fled in their car.

Killeen stated that the thugs had entered the station earlier to purchase a candy bar. "They acted sort of suspicious so I took their license number when they left," he told Misenar.

They returned in about five or 10 minutes, and told the attendant to fill up their car's gasoline tank. Both went inside and when Killeen followed, he said he found himself looking down the barrel of an automatic.

Charge Area Man With Manslaughter

An order for a warrant charging manslaughter was issued yesterday against William R. Birkelbaw, 23, of 315 Liberty St., South Lyon, according to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Robert D. Long.

Birkelbaw drove a car which collided with another on Pontiac Trail in Lyon Township June 30 resulting in the death of Mrs. Eleanor Haw, 32, of 29546 Gilchrist, Farmington, July 6 in a Brighton hospital.

The order charges Birkelbaw with driving "under influence of intoxicating liquor" at an "excessive rate of speed." He will probably be arraigned later today in Farmington Justice Court.

Straits Ferry Traffic Up 7.3 Per Cent Over 1954

LANSING (U) — Traffic on the Straits of Mackinac ferries during the first six months of 1955 showed a 7.3 per cent increase over the same period last year, the State Highway Department reported today.

The ferries carried 263,595 vehicles during the first six months of 1955 compared to 245,735 during the same period of 1954, an increase of 17.84.

The first American newspaper advertisement was believed one published in the Boston News Letter in 1704.

Senate Debates on Reserve Bill

Revised Measure Up Today Omits Veterans From Program

WASHINGTON (U) — A military reserves bill shorn of compulsory training requirements for present and former servicemen comes up for Senate debate today.

The Senate Armed Services Committee, approving the measure yesterday, voted to require future reserve training only of those men entering regular service 30 days or more after the measure becomes law. That would delay the compulsory drills at least until late in 1957.

As passed by the House, the bill would have permitted an almost immediate use of a form of compulsion, as asked by President Eisenhower to assure trained men for the expanded reserve forces he wants. The House voted to permit required training of all men who entered service after the Korean armistice, July 27, 1953.

The Senate committee voted 7-2 to reject that idea, however, and proposed instead a scale of bonuses to veterans who voluntarily join Army and Marine Corps combat reserve units during the next two years.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.), calling for Senate passage of the bill, said in an interview that "I think we have a good, workable bill and I'm ready to defend it anywhere."

The committee action left Senate Republicans uncertain of their next move, despite hurried conferences on possible means of rescuing some of the administration's original proposals.

Commission Slates Race Track Hearing

A public hearing will be held Monday to discuss the amended application of the Michigan Thoroughbred Turf Club for a license to construct a horse racing track, with pari-mutuel wagering on a 200 acre parcel of land at the northeast corner of 14 Mile Rd. and John R. Rd., in Troy Township.

The hearing will begin at 10 a.m. in the offices of the State Racing Commission at 1702 Cadillac Square Building, Detroit.

Both Birmingham and Clawson may voice possible objections to the proposed race track. The Birmingham City Commission's main objection is the possible traffic congestion on 14 and 15 Mile roads running through the city.

The Clawson council expressed their opposition unless "adequate precautions" are taken on traffic and similar problems.

The Troy Township board originally approved the track by a 4-3 vote, although one group of Troy residents had petitioned against the track, while another group filed a counter-petition for it. Troy officials will attend the meeting.

Can't Take License Till Final Conviction

LANSING (U) — Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh today reversed his predecessors and held that the state may not suspend a driver's license while he has an appeal pending from a drunk driving conviction.

Kavanagh advised the secretary of state that the law does not permit a justice court to send the license and record of conviction to the secretary of state until the conviction becomes final.

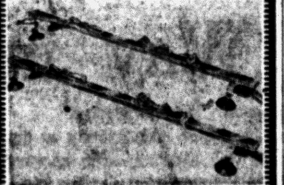

If an appeal is taken after the license has been suspended the license must be returned to the driver, Kavanagh held.

In an opinion requested by Prosecuting Attorney Russell L. Shepherd of Newaygo County, Kavanagh held that the Fremont City Council must resubmit a charter revision to the voters if a vote is petitioned even though the general statutory two-year waiting period has not elapsed.

Says Oakland County Won't Be Overlooked

millions constructing bypasses of Flint and Saginaw, which would tie in to a north-south freeway through Oakland," he stated.

"We could build a north-south freeway just as fast as a toll road could be built if the forthcoming federal-aid bill hikes the U.S. government's share of interstate road building from 60 to 80 or 90 per cent."

The project would take longer than the three years the toll road would be built in if federal aid is left at the 60 per cent level, Ziegler explained.

"There is definitely no need for both a freeway and a toll road running north-south through Oakland," Ziegler declared.

Newly elected Michigan Turnpike Authority (MTA) chairman, George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, said Tuesday he could not see constructing a toll road if the Highway Department goes ahead with plans to construct a freeway along a similar route.

The apparent conflict may be resolved when the MTA meets in Lansing July 25. Higgins has asked the Highway Department to supply him information at the meeting showing whether the toll road would duplicate any work planned in Oakland by the department.

Of the three things holding up further work-plans here, the Detroit area traffic survey, including Oakland's south portion, will be done within two months, said Ziegler.

A new federal aid bill is expected at least by fall and a State Supreme Court decision on validity of the toll road act can be expected about October, he added.

Right-of-way is still being obtained for the Telegraph-Orchard Lake grade separation "and we have hopes of starting drainage and grading operations yet this year."

A contract has been let and work is slated to start in two to three weeks on widening M24 from two to four lanes between Opdyke Road and Lake Orion.

Widening of Perry from Opdyke in to Mt. Clemens Street in Pontiac is slated for 1956, as is the extension of the M24 widening from Lake Orion north to the county line, the commissioner stated.

Projects which would be given first consideration in a reappraisal of Oakland's situation would include widening M59 from Auburn Heights into Pontiac and also, Orchard Lake Avenue from Telegraph to Keego Harbor, said Ziegler.

The commissioner declared that he feels Oakland has received a fair share of money available for road construction since World War II.

"If we turned all the gas and weight tax funds paid by Wayne, Oakland and the five other large counties back to them, it would leave practically nothing to build roads in less populous counties," he asserted.

"People in your county want good roads to ride on when they travel outside Oakland."

"Since 1947 we've spent $14,575,000 for new construction in Oakland, not counting projects now in the works. We've also expended about $3,000,000 for maintenance work in your county."

Broomfield expressed pleasure over the promise to re-evaluate an speed-up Oakland's program.

"But the county road commission, Board of Supervisors and individual citizens must keep watch of the situation and let the Highway Department know we're vitally interested in getting better roads," the senator urged.

Utica Water Supply Still Contaminated

amounts being put in the sewer now would not affect the Utica water supply.

LESS THAN EARLIER

"As soon as the river washes itself of this 'slug,' Utica is going to be as well off as it ever has been," he said. "The dribbles now are less than before the crisis and nobody was worried three weeks ago."

Meanwhile, water - short Utica has been offered a temporary supply from the city of Detroit. Utica officials were scheduled to study the offer. Detroit authorities had it clear the offer was on an emergency basis only.

The contamination level today remained far above the .05 parts per million judged safe. Frank B. Gibbing, Utica water superintendent, said the readings were about .09, the same as yesterday. He said he could not estimate when Utica's water crisis would end.

"We're taking samples up the river between here and Pontiac but we can't find the end of the chromium yet," he said.

Rio de Janeiro is growing at a rate of 70,000 per year.

The Day in Birmingham

Water Rules Tightened as Demand Nears Peak

BIRMINGHAM — Notices concerning further emergency sprinkling regulations will be put in the mail today, City Engineer L. R. Gare announced yesterday.

In addition to those rules already in effect, Gare, acting in the absence of City Manager Donald C. Egbert, said that no sprinkling is to be allowed from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

"In other words, persons living at an even-numbered address may sprinkle any time on even days of the month except the hours prohibited, and may not sprinkle on odd-numbered days of the month at all." The same process follows for those with odd-numbered house numbers.

The new ruling is to remain in effect until rescinded, he said.

At 8 last night, only hours after more rigid sprinkling regulations were ordered, the city sounded its siren 12 times, the first time this summer residents have been signaled to cease sprinkling for a two-hour period.

Fire Chief Park Smith said, while the 5,608,000 gallons of water consumed yesterday were not quite as high a count as the day before, city wells could not meet last night's peak demand and still hold enough water in reserve in case of fire.

In asking immediate compliance by householders, Gare said, "We realize the restrictions will not take effect until notices are received, probably Friday, but would like to ask for residents' cooperation in easing off at once, even before they have received official word."

Fire Chief Park Smith said, "It's a question of whether people want green lawns or black ashes. That once were a house."

"Under the new system, we hope to be able to meet the peak demand from 5 to 9 p.m. and to conserve our water supply in case of emergency," he said. "The prolonged dry spell brought on just a little more of a demand than our system could supply."

City Commissioners this week accepted the resignation of Clarence W. Blenman, Birmingham's junior member on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

In turn, the lawmakers reappointed Mrs. Hope F. Lewis, Elmer W. Haack, Luther Heacock and David Levinson. Reappointment on the board cut the to four members.

Det. Sgt. Robert Schaule and Richard Thomason were among policemen from all over the state who yesterday attended a meeting sponsored by the police administration branch at Michigan State University. Subject of the day-long conference was fraudulent checks.

A long-time Birmingham resident is dying and is expected to be gone by night fall.

Shain Park's big Elm tree, which last year barely survived a lightning strike, has succumbed to the Dutch Elm disease and is today being removed.

The great Elm's demise marks the end of a 100 year reign, its age as estimated by City Forester William LeBold.

A champagne appetite and apparently a beer pocketbook, landed John Haddad, 43, of Port Huron in jail here yesterday. Police are holding him on a charge of larceny from a building.

Police said he was arrested after leaving Ominingham's Drug Store, 101 South Woodward Avenue, without paying for a $6 bottle of champagne he took with him. Haddad was expected to make a statement at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office today.

Honor Graduate Loses Hand in Bomb Blast

DETROIT (U) — John Eilers, 17, a Denby High School honor graduate this spring, lost his left hand in the explosion of a homemade bomb yesterday.

The youth is in a serious condition at Saratoga General Hospital. Doctors amputated his shattered hand just above the wrist.

Eilers was injured while conducting a chemical experiment in the basement of a friend.

The Home Gardener Now Comes Into His Own

The season for the supreme revelry of the home gardener is at hand. If he has done his part he has won the battle of the bugs and war of the weeds.

He is reaping the rewards for those blistered hands, backaches, fights with the neighbors' chickens and other discouragements of last spring when he often wondered why he fell for those lovely pictures in the seed catalog.

Nobody ever has really lived and enjoyed life to the full until he has had a home garden. There's an appetizing satisfaction and waist bulging contentment in it that words cannot describe.

A home garden is such a family affair. Of course no man should plant one larger than his wife can weed. If she gets into the spirit of the occasion, both on the production and cooking lines, then the household joy is complete.

Your first radishes have a snap, crack, flavor and lack of burp that you cannot buy. Your lettuce, peas, beans, turnips, onions and other vegetables then all parade along in a manner that knocks out all dieting in the first round, and everybody is happy.

But the apex of joy supreme is reached with your first green corn. That is when everything else is discounted. That's when all restrictions go out the window, appetites seem endless, and the bathroom scales climbs to new heights.

There's only one way to enjoy fully home grown green corn. You must plaster on plenty of butter and salt, put both elbows on the table, throw EMILY POST and all conventionalities to the summer breezes, and go after it a la harmonica.

Wrapping yourself around green corn plucked only a few minutes before in your own garden is like listening to a great symphony orchestra. There's never a sour note, and each succeeding number only whets your appetite for more.

Be Careful of Fires

Two tourist guides operating out of the Canadian Soo have been charged with failure to put out a campfire. It burned over 4,500 acres of forest. Some 350 men and ten airplanes fought the blaze before it was brought under control.

Here is another reminder to all vacationers who go into the woods. If you build a fire, put it out before you leave the spot.

It may look as if just a few sparks are left, and it may appear impossible to you that it could spread. But you never know what may happen after you leave. A breeze may spring up that will fan those sparks and blow them onto nearby leaves. Or a similar breeze may blow dry material into the remains of the fire.

Take no chances with anything as dangerous anywhere. But be particularly careful in the woods. It takes many years to grow a tree; only a few minutes to destroy it. Also the danger to life, both human and animal, is great. Put out your fires. Keep our forests green.

ALTHOUGH it is well known that a partial vacuum is formed in the central area of a tornado, it is difficult to believe the report by a Kansas farmer that a tornado that ripped through his place milked all his cows.

Drama Continues In All Star Games

An odd twist came Tuesday when funeral service was held for ARCH WARD, Chicago Tribune sports editor and the originator 22 years ago of the All Star Baseball game.

The first All Star Baseball game came simply as an offshot of the World's Fair held in Chicago in 1933. It wasn't intended to be a permanent affair.

The club owners and managers weren't exactly enthusiastic about lending a star pitcher, even if he worked only three innings or so, or any other star, with no profit to the club. And regular games that did mean profits had to be held up so that the All Star game could be held.

But the fans lapped up the idea of the best of the American League being pitted against the best of the National League. The first All Star game at Chicago, with GOMEZ winning for the Americans, HALLAHAN losing for the Nationals drew 50,000 customers. So to discontinue the contest after one year proved impossible.

The outstanding feature of the first game was a home run by BABE RUTH, hit when he had three balls and no strikes.

Like this year's game when the going is tough and the old pro steps to the plate watch out.

The fans' vote was not great enough to start Stan (The Man) Musial, but with the game tied in the twelfth inning he hit the first pitch into the right field bleachers well over the head of Detroit's Al Kaline.

The Man About Town Water Pollution

A Former Resident Writes About Doings 60 Years Ago

Middle age: When most of the exercise we get is caution.

"Don't worry about water pollution in Pontiac," writes

Jerry Strawbridge from his present home in Detroit. He continues, "When I lived in your city 60 years ago we dumped our dead horses and all other dead animals and garbage into the Clinton River—which reminds me of our present Detroit water."

Celebrating his eightieth birthday this week by retiring from his work as traveling salesman, which he has followed for 53 years, is Robert L. Moule of 272 Oakland Ave. He divided his birthday between one son at Lansing and another at Worcester, Mass., making the trip by plane.

Few Oakland County areas can run their local ancestry as far back as the Olive Branch community near Holly. Its annual picnic is on July 24 at the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Andrews which stands on the site of the log cabin of the latter's great grandfather,

Moses Smith, and she has the deed from the government, signed by President Martin VanBuren, the community being named for Olive, N. Y., from whence many of the first settlers came. Mr. Andrews is the son of Floyd Andrews, Chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The season has arrived when some people find small "tomatoes" on their potato vines. Really, these are not tomatoes at all, but a form of potato seed common many years ago, but now rather rare.

Here around Pontiac we have plenty of transportation problems. But they don't bother the young opossums. The other day Mrs. Warren H. Organ of 3377 Clintonville Road, saw an old 'possum leisurely carrying two young ones piggy back across her front yard.

Born in Northern Michigan 37 and 35 years ago, Thomas Garrison now of 5796 Dwight Road, Pontiac, and his sister, Marion, had never seen each other. This week, in company with his wife and daughter, he flew to Riverside, Calif., to get acquainted with his sister.

David Lawrence Says:

Ban on Nuclear Weapons May Hike Armament Costs

WASHINGTON — Paradoxical as it may seem, the net effect of any ban on the use of nuclear weapons that could be proclaimed at the four power conference at Geneva, or in any subsequent conference, might be to increase substantially the armament cost to the American people.

What is not generally realized is that because atomic and hydrogen bombs contain many times the explosive power of the conventional bomb used in World War II and known as "block-busters," there is substantial economy in their substitute for the ordinary bombs. If both A-bombs and H-bombs are tabooed, the United States would have to build up its capacity to drop conventional bombs on enemy territory.

This means that long range bombers by the thousands would have to be provided. Estimates vary. But one military executive said he thought it might mean trebling the cost for more bomber aircraft just to be able to deliver the blows that would be necessary to make sure "massive retaliation" against an aggressor would be effective.

Obviously the contention of many military men is that disarmament talk is nonsense unless the plan is to include all kinds of armament. In other words there cannot be any partial restriction on the use of weapons because it would only mean the equivalent increase in conventional weapons to secure adequate defensive strength.

NICE TO TALK ABOUT

The disarmament problem is regarded here as something attractive to talk about in international conferences — as a sort of evidence of good will and good intention. But nobody expects the limitation to get anywhere, and if it does, the inevitable result will be to create a new demand for long-range bombers. The aircraft industry certainly may enjoy its biggest boom if the ban on nuclear weapons becomes effective.

All this is but another way of saying that the world is reaching the point where it will become necessary to find a way to ban all forms of international military airpower, and find some sure means of inspection if anything real is to be accomplished in the field of disarmament.

Precisely because no nation, least of all the United States, is going to throw away its means of defense, whether on a conventional or unconventional basis, the chances of a disarmament agreement are nil.

It is important to talk about it, however, as a goal and as a means of offsetting the accusations of "warmonger" which the Communists level at the United States. That's why disarmament will be a topic of discussion for a long time to come though nothing concrete will ever come of it.

MILITARY CONCERNED

Naturally, military men are concerned about any restrictions on the use of weapons. They have been saying in recent years that introduction of nuclear weapons cuts down expense and actually permits reduction in the arms budget. The fact that the converse is also true—abolition of nuclear weapons means an increase in conventional arms — has not yet seeped through to the people in the Western countries.

There is evidence that the Russians are building up their armament at the very time that their propaganda is urging a reduction or limitation. It is to the interest of Moscow to catch up with the United States, particularly in airpower.

If air strength is to be limited, however, the Reds have an ace in the hole — they have the biggest land armies in the world. Naturally it is Moscow's effort to persuade America and the West to stand still a few years while the Communists build up their armament.

So the disarmament game isn't fooling our own military leaders as they scoff at talk of reduced expense and lower taxes allegedly as a result of international agreements to limit armament. No plan that has as yet been brought out will accomplish any economy for the American people—it could conceivably increase by many billions of dollars the armament budget. (Copyright 1955, New York Herald Tribune Inc.)

Send Children Away to Summer Camp for Valuable Training in Growing Up

Try adopting a child at least part time! Pick out somebody like Lois in your church and send her to a summer church camp. Mrs. Crane and I have sent all five of our children to church camps at least four summers apiece, and some went for six summers. Note the reasons why.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case 0-382: Lois L., aged 13, wants to attend a camp with other young people from her church denomination.

"Dr. Crane, I suppose it is a good idea," her mother began, "but it will cost us about $20 for the week she is away."

"Her Daddy grumbles that we shouldn't waste so much money on her. He also thinks she is too young, and says let's wait awhile."

"But Lois has her heart set on going with the other young folks from our church. There will be eight boys and girls at the camp from our town."

"So should I let her go this year or wait?"

CAMP IMPORTANT

By all means try to see that every child attends church camps. Scout camps and similar youth gatherings away from home.

This is one of the essential steps in helping a youngster grow up. For a child must learn to live away from mama.

Millions of semi-adults haven't yet acquired this valuable training. When they enter college in the fall, they grow so homesick that they run back home on alternate weekends.

Or, if they do stay on the campus, they may be so restless because of nostalgia that they can't concentrate on their studies and hence flunk out during that first semester.

In big universities, we may lose 500 students the first semester, largely due to nostalgia (homesickness) with its bad effect on grades.

County Worker Agrees With Editorial, Praises Integrity of County Government

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters, but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Congratulations to the Press on the editorial praising Mr. McQuaid for his work as Register of Deeds.

I work for the county, and I can testify personally how very right that editorial is. He runs his office like a business, and holds it as a public trust; his only criterion in any decision is saving money for the taxpayer, and service to the public.

The office is notably free of politics, a terrific contrast to those in the metropolis to the south, where workers must constantly "pony up" campaign contributions.

I know two other county set-ups fairly well and the contrast in integrity and efficiency is startling. So far as I can determine, all other county offices here are well run. I have never entered partisan politics, and I have no doubt that there are Republican-run local governments somewhere which are corrupt and graft-ridden. I just don't know where they are.

The only ones I am familiar with are not Republican. And when I saw the heavy Democrat vote in south Oakland County last fall, I was sickened for I know the kind of political machine these emigrant Detroiters would put into power.

I can only pray that the people of this county may look long and carefully during the next year at what we have here, and remember it next November when they vote.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Rejoice the soul of thy servant; for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.—Psalms 86:4.

Hal Boyle Says:

Resort Owner Illustrates Dignity of Mountain Folk

GATLINBURG, Tenn. — "In saying hill folk live with dignity, I feel that I am not making a misstatement, for indeed they do." So said a lady here of whom I inquired what peculiar virtues mountain people have.

One example of mountain dignity is Jack Huff, who also superbly exemplifies another continuing virtue of the original Scotch-Irish settlers in the Great Smokies — pride of family.

Would you carry your own mother on your back up a mountain merely to let her see a sunset and a sunrise that you enjoyed and, as a son, felt she should share?

Jack Huff did once. It's a good story. Ernie Pyle told it in 1940, and I'd like to tell it again and bring it up to now.

About 1900 Jack's father came here with a pocketful of timber money looking for more, and ended up by building the pioneer Mountain View Hotel. It lies here in a cup in the hills, now one of America's leading summer resorts.

Jack loved the mountains and didn't want to lean on his pappy. So he decided he'd build a lodge of his own atop Le Conte, one of the highest peaks in the Great Smokies, then reachable only by footpath. This was before the federal government took over the area and made it into one of the nation's most popular public parks.

Jack built the lodge largely with supplies he tooted up first on his own back, then on the backs of horses.

He now has enough cabins there to sleep 48 people overnight. Ernie Pyle figured in 1940 that Jack had climbed some 15,000 miles in creating his mountain eyrie. During most of his trips up the 7½-mile journey he shouldered a 50-pound pack.

His description of the magnificent view at the top of the peak intrigued his mother. She was time-crippled.

Jack built a special back chair, and put his mother on it. She weighed more than 90 pounds, but her son carried her up the steep slopes with her favorite kitten sitting purring in her lap.

He thought it was a privilege to do this for his mother, not a hardship. But it still has left him a deep regret. For the weather turned bad. His mother spent several days on the peak and her rheumatism finally forced her to come down again, and she died in time, never having seen the sun rise or set from the peak that Jack loved. It was something he had known she wanted to know, — too — and she never did.

Her son has never forgotten. Jack doesn't pack supplies up the trail on his back anymore. His father died four years ago, and now he has to run the big prosperous hotel here in town.

He worries about the service, says it's hard to find people anymore who want to do a job right just because they feel that's the way a job should be done.

Jack takes his exercise now golfing. His doctor tells him his heart isn't what it was 20 years ago. But his spirit is, and now it's valley-bound. He makes plenty of money. I would guess, but his eyes shine when he talks about the past, and they dull when he talks about the present.

He is a tall, lean, big-eared, courteous, friendly man hungry for yesterday, lonesome for the youthful prime when his mind was free and all his troubles were on his back. He misses climbing, going uphill, building in a new place.

When I asked him about the mountain top, he said:

"Up there you never find two days the same. It changes. You can see far. Every moment is different."

Growing older and wealthier in the town below, Jack Huff remembers being happier younger and higher up.

But hereabouts he will always be honored because he once carried his mother up a stony road to watch a sunset she never lived to see. It gives him a respect beyond any bank account.

Dr. Brady Says:

Diet Deficient in Vitamin B May Even Affect Memory

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
Before World War II, a third of the population of the British Isles existed on diets containing insufficient vitamin B. Probably nutrition was no better here.

After war began the British government required the millers to leave 85 per cent of the wheat in the flour. Aside from the mild restriction this placed on the criminal waste of food for the production of refined white flour, it restored the consumers in Britain a good deal more of the vitamins and minerals removed from wheat in the refining process than we do in that snide product called "enriched" flour.

Many mild clinical cases of vitamin B1 deficiency have escaped notice because (I quote this sentence from Bignell & Prescott's The Vitamins in Medicine) clinicians wait for the appearance of full-blown beri-beri . . .

Until or unless you can work up a full-blown case of beri-beri the doctor can give you "shots" of something or other to keep you from wondering what ails you.

SYMPTOMS

It is against my Hippocratic principles to tell readers which symptoms indicate what disease or vice versa. But I believe it can do no harm and may do much good to mention the common manifestations of vitamin B deficiency, which most Americans have because they get most of their calories from refined white flour and refined white sugar — the nambys-nambies.

Fatigue. Dyspepsia. Palpitation.

Breathlessness. Slight swelling around the ankles. Pain produced by squeezing the calf muscles. Pins and needles sensations in hands, arms, feet or legs. Distension of veins in neck and arms. Squatting on the heels is painful and perhaps you can't rise without using your hands. Inability to concentrate, defective memory, nervous irritability and anxiety. Diminished inclination to perform accustomed work.

Today it is difficult even for the expert to select food which will supply the minimum daily requirement of vitamin B—that is, the amount necessary to prevent these manifestations of deficiency—from the bewildering array of pretty packages of ready-cooked, ready-to-serve, pasteurized, sugarized and maybe accepted yet by the AMA.

Various investigators have noticed these psychological manifestations in human volunteers who ate only foods extremely poor in vitamin B1.

Intolerance of noise, inability to concentrate, inattention to details, nervous irritability, memory defects, anxiety, insomnia, diminished inclination to perform customary work.

Being nutty, I readily imagine I have most of these manifestations myself, so you needn't worry if the description hits your case. Do as I do—eat some extra vitamin B daily to supplement your refined nambys-nambies Yankee diet.

Davy's First Bear Shot at Age of 8

OKAWVILLE, ILL. (AP) — Davy Crockett didn't kill a bear when he was three, according to one of his nearest living relatives. The first killing by the famed Indian fighter and frontiersman didn't occur until he was eight.

Contrary to song and story, that is the word passed on by Mrs. Margie Ree Chon.

According to family legends, Mrs. Chon said Davy Crockett was responsible for obtaining meat for the family when he was eight because his father and older brothers were too busy with the crops.

To do this job, Davy was given one bullet a day. If he shot and missed he still had to get the meat. In a short time, he rarely missed.

Officials of the 1928 Texas Centennial compiled a genealogy tracing Mrs. Chon's relationship to Crockett.

Crockett and his wife had three children, two boys and one girl.

The daughter, Margaret Finley Crockett, married Wiley Flowers. They were the parents of Mrs. Chon's grandfather, David Flowers.

David's son, Thomas, was Mrs. Chon's father, making Davy her great-great grandfather.

Kent Employment Up

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan Employment Security Commission reports show Kent County employment continued an upward swing in June. Figures list 109,800 wage and salaried workers for the period ending June 15, compared with 109,500 for the previous period. An unemployment jump—from 2,600 in May to 3,000 in June—was described the result of an influx of students into the labor market.

New Welfare Secretary:

Folsom Fathered Layoff Pay Plan

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Marion Bayard Folsom, chosen by President Eisenhower today to be the new secretary of health, education and welfare, is a founding father of the social security system.

He devised, and put into practice in 1928 a private social security system at the Eastman Kodak Co., where he was assistant to the chairman. That was seven years before the United States became the last of the major industrial nations to legislate protection against old age, unemployment and widowhood.

And in 1931, as unemployment mounted toward its depression worst, Folsom organized 14 companies at Rochester, N. Y., including Eastman into the "Rochester Plan"—a scheme of lay-off pay similar in many respects to the agreements signed this spring by Ford and General Motors with the CIO United Auto Workers.

This effort, starting in the dark depression year of 1931, sent hopeful delegations from cities across the nation to Rochester to confer with Folsom, in hopes that other cities could imitate the "Rochester unemployment benefit plan."

The plan coming atop the Eastman-financed social security plan for its wage earners made Folsom nationally known as a big business executive with a bent for social planning.

Folsom, now 61, was born Nov. 23, 1893 in McRae, Ga. He is a quiet, soft-spoken man who neither drinks nor smokes and has made a life specialty of the dusty complexities of pensions, and tax and social security law.

When the Eisenhower administration came into power, Folsom was appointed undersecretary of the treasury for tax matters.

From the outset, his job was the complete revision, first in over 70 years, of the federal tax code put into law last year. Folsom claimed little public notice for his part in devising the new 900-page tax law, but it is very much his own work.

That job done, he had planned to return to private business this summer. But the illness in her family which prompted Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby's resignation as secretary of welfare opened a job Folsom could not resist—administering and making policy for the social security system he helped develop.

Folsom, a Harvard Business School graduate with a passion for figures and detail, has very often seen an advantage to business as well as to workers and

Red Clover Discovery Resists Stem Disease

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (UP) — A new variety of medium red clover, resistant to northern anthracnose, a stem disease, has been released by several midwest agricultural experiment stations after 10 years of testing.

C. N. Hittle of the University of Illinois' agricultural school said a limited amount of seed will be available in 1956.

The new clover, named Dillard, has shown up exceptionally well in the northern two-thirds of Illinois, out-yielding other varieties when anthracnose is present.

Florida Town Exudes Air of Mystery Month After Unsolved Abduction

MANALAPAN, Fla. (INS) — An atmosphere fused of suspicion, sunshine, mystery, and fear hung over the plush little community of Manalapan today—serving as an uneasy memorial to the disappearance of Circuit Judge Curtis E. Chillingsworth and his wife, Marjorie, just one month ago.

The consensus of the man-in-the-street is that "the perfect crime" has been committed and that the continuing investigation will come to naught.

But police claim they are far from whipped and point to the famed Lindbergh case, which took two years to solve.

The Chillingsworths, both in their late 50s, were last seen the night of June 14 when they attended a dinner party in fashionable West Palm Beach, a few miles to the north. They left for their seashore home at an early hour—and were never heard from again.

CITE MOTIVE

A West Palm Beach city commissioner, who asked that his name not be used, said the judge's colleagues are convinced the case is one of vengeance.

"The judge was a tough man on the beach," he said. "Just, but unbending. True, he had many friends—but he also had his enemies, even here in West Palm Beach."

"This was not the job of a couple of amateurs. Whoever carried off the judge and his wife knew exactly what they were after... and it's the belief here that it was someone that received a stiff sentence."

FEW CLUES

Only a few slim clues have turned up in the baffling case. Two rolls of adhesive tape—one partially used—a broken floodlight and a few drops of common-type blood are all the police have had on which to work.

The house showed no signs of struggle, and nothing was missing. County Investigator John R. Hiatt said he could not go along with the premise that the Chillingsworth case was destined to go down as an unsolved crime.

"People making those statements just are not familiar with police work," he said. He added:

"Take the trouble to go back through your police files. It is not unusual for a case to go unsolved for months, or even years. It took two years to catch the kidnaper of the Lindbergh child."

5 MEN ON CASE

"We'll start worrying when we stop getting phone calls and tips from the public. At present we have five men doing nothing but running down such leads. Some of them aren't too logical, but we check them out anyway."

Loren Simon, Judge Chillingsworth's brother-in-law and the official spokesman for the family, said he had "all the confidence in the world that the mystery will be solved." He said the family was content that "police are doing everything within their power," and added: "We're leaving it entirely in their hands."

Hiatt had the highest praise for the Chillingsworth family, and the way its members have conducted themselves during the tedious, outwardly unfruitful investigation.

KEEP HEADS

"They've cooperated 100 per cent," he said, "and managed to keep their heads. By this time, most families would have been to a crystal gazer and consulted their ouija board, then would have expected us to check out the results."

The Chillingsworth's few remaining neighbors in the "summer ghost town" all have reacted in about the same way to the disappearance: They're frightened, suspicious of anyone who mentions the judge's name. Questions bring only "yes" and "no" if replied to at all.

The community—made up almost exclusively of winter homes of well-to-do Northerners—borders Route A-1-A, the Florida ocean highway.

The judge's home sits back off the road on a knoll overlooking the pounding surf, a strange mixture of all that's bright and gay—and sinister and forbidding.

Buffalo's Good Neighbors Entertain Foreign Visitors

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — To scores of foreign visitors from all over the world, Buffalo is "The City of Good Neighbors."

For it is here that some 125 transient foreigners annually are welcomed into homes for an opportunity to see what Americans are really like.

Buffalo is believed to be the only city in the United States with an organized program for inviting foreign visitors to the home, church and school. Now in its fourth year, the program has been so successful in promoting international understanding and good will that it has attracted praise from such officials as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The program is administered by an informal organization known as the Buffalo World Hospitality Committee. More than 200 citizens participate, with the only requirement being the willingness to play host. There is no membership fee, nor is the group subsidized in any way.

Last year, the committee catered to more than 125 visitors from 28 countries in Europe, Asia and Africa. Among them were ambassadors, journalists, political leaders, government officials, religious leaders and professional and business men.

Most pass through Buffalo under the State Department's international exchange program. As guests of the committee, they sleep in private homes, eat with families, attend church, tour cultural points and schools and compare notes with their counterparts in government and business. In other cities, the visitors generally stay in hotels and eat at restaurants.

All stops here include a trip to nearby Niagara Falls and passage over the Peace Bridge into Canada. Invariably the foreigners are astounded at the ease with which they can cross the international boundary. They wonder at the lack of red tape and armed guards.

LIKE PROGRAM

Miss Ethel Mason Coan, committee chairman, said the foreigners eagerly accept their hosts' friendliness and help. Most arrive with an apparently distorted picture of Americans, she added, and are agreeably surprised to find that "we are simply people just as they are."

Recently a couple from Austria arrived by train, alone and bewildered. When Miss Coan walked over and said, "Welcome to Buffalo," the two broke down and wept with relief and joy.

"Our visitors write and tell us they will never forget our kindness," Miss Coan explained. "We feel we are helping the peace by making these people our lasting friends."

Kids Don't Change Much but Teachers' Ideas Do

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UP)—Guidance has changed more in 40 years than children, says Francis S. Warner.

"In fact, kids basically have hardly changed at all," Warner says, and he should know—retiring after 40 years as school janitor and custodian.

The most valuable thing teachers can do in guidance, Warner says, is to manage the two or three mean kids found in every group "so the other children will influence the mean ones instead of vice versa."

Scorned Sweetheart Gets Just Deserts

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Police learned the power of a woman scorned, but they won't tell her name. Her boy friend won't prosecute.

Someone reported a hit-and-run accident. A young woman was lying in the street. Questioning disclosed it wasn't a hit-run case, exactly.

She had followed her boy friend, who drove another young woman home in his convertible. While he was saying good night to the other woman, No. 1 picked up rocks and smashed the lights, windows and instrument panel of his car. As he returned, she grabbed the convertible top and began ripping away. He drove off while she was still ripping. She was knocked down.

Water Drillers Strike
Oil on Farmer's Land

FREDONIA, Ky. (AP) — Oil's well with farmer Malcom Boone, but the town's civic clubs have troubles. The clubs raised money for Fredonia's first waterworks and arranged to drill on Boone's land.

But oil was struck and the project was abandoned after the clubs had spent $1,300. Boone leased 296 acres to an oil company, which will drill for oil, not water.

Woman Gives Bandit Scare of His Life

MINNEAPOLIS (UP) — A stick-up man approached Mrs. Mary McGlynn, about 50, at her grocery store here.

"There's going to be no robbery here," she shouted at him. "I'll hit you over the head with a bottle first."

She proceeded to shoo him out and chase him down the street screaming: "That man tried to hold me up. Follow him."

Two neighbors nailed the would-be bandit, a six-footer weighing 280 pounds. Mrs. McGlynn stands five feet, two inches.

HOUSE-HUNTING'S EASY when you place a Pontiac Press Wanted-To-Rent ad. Phone FE 2-8181.

NO STORAGE SPACE — Grain elevator operator Jim Luder, right, has a partial solution to the shortage of boxcars to haul away wheat from his Waldo, Kas., elevator. He cut a hole in the side of the elevator and dumped the extra wheat on the ground through the hole. Capacity of the elevator is 16,000 bushels, with an additional 12,000 bushels on the ground.

United States Place Names Present Amusing Thought

United States place names sometimes lend themselves to amusing word patterns when arranged in groups.

For instance, Roulette, Pa., might conjure a picture of a gambling town. The community really derived its name from Jean Roulette, a French land promoter. Mention of Looneyville, W. Va., may bring smiles. But it stems from the family name Looney, the National Geographic Society says.

Nonetheless it is a fact that Arkansas, Missouri and West Virginia each have towns named Romance. And there's Love in Kentucky; and a Loving, N. Mex., Ga. and Texas; Beauty, Ky.; Admire, Kans.; Coy, Ala. and Ark.; Smile, Ky.; Wink, Texas; Clinch, Va.; Embarrass, Minn. and Wis.; Blue Eye, Mo.; Deary, Ida.; Kissimmee, Fla.; Darling, Pa. and Miss.; Bridal Veil, Ore.; Bliss, Ida., Ky. and N. Y.; Venus, Fla.; Neb., Pa. and Texas; Romeo, Colo.; Fla. and Mich.; Juliette, Ga.; and Casanova, Va.

Ava Gardner must be shared by many states, four have an Ava and seven a Gardner.

The devil's domain is suggested by Diablo, Calif.; Devil's Elbow, Mo.; Devil's Lake, N. D.; Devils Slide, Utah; Devils Tower, and Hell's Half Acre in Wyoming. But paradoxically Paradise is not far away—in eight states. There are also 16 Edens and a Utopia in Texas.

Three states have a Prosperity, Utah a Bountiful, Washington an Opportunity, Mississippi a Progress, Kentucky a Busy, Indiana and California a Mecca, Tennessee a Boom, and Arkansas a Booster. Minnesota has a Babbitt.

AND EVEN MORE

Appropriately Iowa and Minnesota have a Fertile. There is a Wonder in Oregon, a Paragon in Indiana, and Success in Arkansas.

Arkansas and Texas each claim a Best; Georgia and South Dakota an Ideal. Three states have an Advance (Louisiana has Retreat).

One Mississippi town is Money; and towns or hamlets in Arkansas, Kentucky, and Virginia are called Cash.

Many a name strikes a cheerful note: Sunshine, La. and Wyo.; Sunny South, Ala.; Sunbeam, Ida.; Sunnyside in several states; What Cheer, Ia.; Happy, Ky. and Texas; Happy Jack, La. and Ariz.; Benevolence, Ga.; Brilliant, Ala. and Ohio; Jolly, Texas; Welcome in four states; and Amity, Concord and Harmony scattered over the country. To a small community in Oklahoma, home town is Okay. Long ago a Blessing was bestowed on Texas.

A Ripping Good Time

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — It was all in the line of duty but Deputy Sheriff Mickey Espinosa was embarrassed anyway.

Trying to place a disorderly woman under arrest, the officer lost the protection of the seat of his pants when she grabbed a hip pocket, pulled, and produced two long rips down his trousers.

Atomic City Vagrant

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP) — At long last, this atomic center had a vagrancy case.

A $100 fine on the charge was levied by Justice of the Peace Joseph Conner and the fine suspended on condition the arrested man leave the area. It was the first vagrancy case in Los Alamos' more-than-10-year history.

About 65 per cent of Formosa's people can read and write.

And! She's Wrong?

CLEMSON, S. C. (AP) — Sam Burnett of the post office staff reports one patron always mails her income tax return addressed to "Eternal Revenue Dept."

Public Notice

in the event of an enemy air attack

OUR TOWN MAY NOT HAVE AN EARLY WARNING!

Lack of civilian volunteer plane spotters leaves vital observation posts vacant

How important are these plane spotter posts? Read these facts and judge for yourself:

The Reds have recently completed several air bases in northern Russia from which they can reach any point in the United States. The Soviets are known to have 1000 heavy bombers—enough to blast 89 top U. S. cities at a single blow leaving eleven million casualties!

"What about the Air Force and Radar?" you ask.

Our interceptor planes and anti-aircraft batteries . . . must have an early warning. Our present radar can not be depended upon because of its inability to spot low-flying aircraft. Only the eyes and ears of the Ground Observer Corps can do this job. And, the shocking fact is that our town simply does not have enough volunteers to man all of the necessary spotter posts!

Will you help fill the gaps in our ranks? Join the 300,000 Americans wearing the G.O.C. wings. So long as the Iron Curtain still exists, we dare not relax our "Sky Watch." Two hours a week is all that is required to help keep your home and your country safe!

Salk Vaccine Flown to Texas for 2nd Shots

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A shipment of Salk polio vaccine for Texas schoolchildren's second shots arrived by plane last night from Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

Most Texas cities had arranged for a quick pickup of their share of the vaccine so that the vaccination program can be resumed. An Air National Guard plane flew from Dallas to get vaccine for Dallas County and 14 other north-east Texas counties.

Ike Repudiates Aid Bill Action

President Attacks Rider Giving Congress Veto Power Over Arms Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's avowed intent to disregard a provision of the new defense money bill unless the courts tell him to abide by it brought Republican praise and Democratic denunciation in Congress today.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said the President showed "courage and integrity." Rep. Sikes (D-Fla.) protested, "This country is not under martial law."

In a special message, Eisenhower directed a broadside against a provision giving either the Senate or House appropriations committees veto power over Defense Department decisions to divest itself of any of its business activities. Describing the provision as a violation of the constitutional injunction that the branches of government shall be independent, Eisenhower said it "will be regarded as invalid by the executive branch of the government . . . unless otherwise directed by a court of competent jurisdiction." Were it not for the "imperative need" of the Defense Department for the money, Eisenhower said in the unusual message to Congress, he would have vetoed the entire bill.

Starts Solo Voyage Across Atlantic Ocean

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass. (AP)—A former Harvard and Boston University football player leaves today on the first leg of a solo voyage across the Atlantic in a home-made 30-foot boat.

George Boston, 33, estimated it will take him 40 days to cover the 2,000 miles to the Azores and another 20 for the 1,000-mile trip from there to Gibraltar in his double-ended auxiliary ketch Tahiti.

Boston said he may continue around the world in the ketch, if he reaches Gibraltar. Brilliant Excuse Fails ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—William Harris Henson, charged with speeding, explained, he had borrowed the unmarked patrol car of Police Chief Tom Kilpatrick, of nearby Belle Vista Beach, and was hurrying to get it back by the time Kilpatrick had to start patrolling. City Judge Herbert L. Peterson said the excuse was good but was not good enough. He fined Henson $20.

New Winter Barley May Replace Oats

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP)—Farmers hereabouts are keeping their eyes on the fall-seeded barley field of Henry Classen for it may prove to be a profitable substitute for oats as a crop.

Known in New York state as Hudson barley, it is a new winter variety developed at Ithaca by the Cornell University Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

In its home state, yields have averaged 54.6 bushels an acre during the years 1947 to 1953. The test weight is 49.4 pounds a bushel.

It is believed the new variety of barley is especially adaptable to the Illinois climate because Classen's field showed very little winter kill.

Wallet Injury Worst

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Although cut and bruised in an auto accident, Charles Padgett was hurt worst in the wallet. The mishap occurred several miles outside Lexington. When the Mount Clemens, Mich., motorist reached for his wallet after arriving here, it was gone. It and the $2.61 in it are still missing. Padgett has no idea how he lost the wallet.

Cherry Salad Spares the Cook

Summer's the time for gaiety and fun but, alas, most get-togethers involve food, and food involves cooking. But that needn't bother you much during cherry time, for there are dozens of quick-as-a-wink dishes you can prepare with big, juicy sweet cherries.

But, remember, big cherry time is all too short, so make the most of it. Keep fresh cherries on hand all through the season.

They're a wonderfully nutritious between-meal snack for youngsters and adults alike, for they contain vitamins and body-building minerals. And, because they're naturally sweet, cherries dull that sweet tooth, making the children forget the concentrated sweets they constantly beg for.

Favorite cherries for out-of-hand

Teen Appetites Encouraged by Family Meal

Breakfast is a meal teen-agers can get for themselves, but do they? Many do not. Of 10,000 junior and senior high school students questioned in a recent survey, 3,000 did not have breakfast daily. Two of the principal reasons given by those who did not eat breakfast were (1) breakfast was not prepared, and (2) no one to eat with.

Many nutrition authorities state that breakfast is the most important meal of the day, and a third of our teen-agers should not be missing it. Busy, fast-growing adolescents need a good nourishing meal in the morning. Every one does, but the teen years are ones of particular stress. Growth—adding inches and pounds apace—is demanding. And activity! Healthily, busy teen-agers are happy ones.

Eating alone is no fun, and it seems that companionship is the thing that would encourage many youngsters to get interested in breakfast.

It takes just about a quarter of an hour to prepare a breakfast of fruit or juice, ready-to-eat cereal with milk, bread and butter or margarine, and a beverage—little time for big returns in health. And while the kids may not be too willing to "go-it-alone," they'll pitch in and help.

So make breakfast a family meal. It's the pleasantest way to get off to a good start in the morning.

Use Roquefort cheese instead of butter in creaming tuna or salmon.

eating are the Bing and Lambert. The Bing, named after the Chinese gardener who developed it, is a deep red cherry, plump and sweet. The Lambert is a show-off, large, bright red in color, and a favorite not only for eating, but also for centerpieces, salads and colorful desserts.

The Royal Anne, a lighter sweet cherry, is used for sauces, salads and out-of-hand eating, but most especially for maraschino cherries.

However, all three types of sweet cherries are delicious in FROZEN CHERRY SALAD—It's a fix-ahead dish. Make this creamy cherry salad in the cool of the morning and forget it until serving time. Besides the sweet cherries, it contains pineapple, banana, chopped nuts and mayonnaise. Sounds like the perfect salad to serve for late evening refreshments.

Sparkling, Cooling Aides Defeat the Summer Heat

The tinkle of ice and tall glasses of fresh fruit drinks will be a welcome sound on any hot day.

Frozen concentrate for lemonade from California provides fresh flavor for these drinks and is so much easier than squeezing lemons.

Red Strawberries in Lemonade
Fresh strawberries
Frozen concentrate for lemonade
Cracked ice

Make a pitcherful of lemonade by adding water according to the directions on the can of frozen concentrate.

Wash and hull strawberries. Then, in tall glasses, layer the strawberries in cracked ice (this way they will stay floating in the glass and not sink).

Fill glasses with lemonade, and serve.

Raspberry Lemonade Crush
2 tablespoons mashed, sweetened raspberries
2 tablespoons frozen concentrate for lemonade
Crushed ice
Plain or sparkling water

Mash raspberries and sweeten to taste. In each tall glass use 2 tablespoons of the crushed raspberries and 2 tablespoons of undiluted concentrate for lemonade.

Fill each glass with crushed ice and plain or sparkling water. Stir and serve immediately. Makes 1 serving.

Lemonade and Grape Juice
Lemonade and grape juice have a real taste affinity.

For a cool, refreshing summer drink, place 2 or 3 tablespoons frozen concentrate for lemonade in bottom of a tall glass; fill glass with grape juice and ice.

Tropical Punch
1 (6-ounce) can frozen concentrate for lemonade
1 (6-ounce) can frozen pineapple juice
Ice cubes
1 tall bottle sparkling water

Combine concentrate for lemonade with pineapple juice. Mix well; add ice cubes and sparkling water. About 1 quart.

Cream Extra Chicken

Dice that leftover chicken and add to a well-seasoned cream sauce. Serve over hot biscuits for a wonderful brunch on Saturday or Sunday morning. Sprinkle a little paprika over the creamed chicken just before serving for attractive color.

West Coast Eggs Are Hearty Fare

This recipe is patterned after famous Eggs Benedict.

West Coast Eggs
1 1/2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese
1/2 cup fine olives (cut from p.b. in large pieces)
4 slices hot toast
1 can 3 ounces deviled ham
4 poached eggs

Melt butter and stir in flour and salt. Add milk; cook and stir over moderate heat until thickened and bubbly. Stir in cheese over low heat until melted, then olives.

Spread toast with deviled ham; top each slice with a poached egg; cover with sauce. Serve at once. Makes four servings.

Add Apple Tang to Little Loaves of Beef and Pork

There's nothing like a gay little change now and then to quicken interest in family meals. So when you serve these individual meat loaves, each deliciously brown, juicy and tasty... they'll seem novel and fun.

The big reason for their special tastiness is ready-prepared applesauce... which you can buy in any grocery store.

Individual Applesauce Meat Loaves
1/2 cup minced onion
1 lb. ground beef, chuck
1/2 lb. ground lean pork
1/2 teaspoon sage
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup canned applesauce
1 cup dry bread crumbs

Combine onion, beef, pork, sage, Worcestershire sauce and salt; mix well. Add applesauce and crumbs; mix well.

Pack into large greased muffin pans. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees 30-40 minutes.

Try Indian Coleslaw Made With Corn

To give your cabbage salad a little more "body" try the addition of some canned corn. Chilled whole kernel corn makes an interesting contrast to the shredded green cabbage.

Indian Coleslaw
2 cups finely shredded cabbage, well chilled
1 can (1 pound) whole kernel corn, drained and chilled
1/2 medium-sized onion, finely chopped
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup tart French dressing

Combine all ingredients; toss lightly. Makes four servings.

Adopted July 11, 1955
Effective July 21, 1955
The City of Pontiac Ordains:
Section 1.
That the title of Ordinance No. 448 be amended to read as follows: "for the removal and destroying of noxious weeds in the City of Pontiac and for the collection of the cost of such removal by the City of Pontiac by Special Assessment procedures."

Library Answers Questions on Almost Everything

Good reading habits often are the result of early library training. Barbara Olds (left) of Pioneer avenue and her sister, Marsha, a first grader, were two youngsters City Library this week.

Two students of the Bible, Ross Berry (left) of Judah and Doris Tucker of Collier street were photographed at Pontiac City Library as they were doing research on various religious doctrines. They find the library an excellent source for information in their work.

"This might help you," suggests librarian Florence Wells (left) of Williams street to Jackie Kosky (center) of LaSalle avenue and Sandy Filer of Edgfield drive. The girls find real pleasure in the books on the shelves at Pontiac City Library.

Robert J. Colombo, Buffington's lawyer, has requested an investigation of all records in the case. Buffington was issued a three-year contract at a salary of $8,980 per year at an April meeting of the Carver School Board.

Easy Credit Causing Increase in Number of Delinquencies

NEW YORK (AP)—The Wall Street Journal said today that soaring buying on credit is pushing a rising number of delinquent bills into the laps of collection agencies.

A survey by staff reporter Ray Vicker said that collections at tribute the bad debt boom to the widespread easing of credit terms.

The newspaper added that the credit easing has helped to push up the volume of installment credit outstanding by $2,700,000, 100 in a year to a total of $21, 000,000 on May 31.

Although exact records of uncollectable bills are not available, the survey indicated that this year's total is running ahead of last year's by at least 10 per cent.

"We're having the best year in 24 in this business," said Robert Heller, owner of the Heller Collection Bureau of Warren, Ohio, which is processing 1,000 delinquent accounts a month.

"My business is so good it has me worried," commented Fred A. Church of Des Moines, who noted a 100 per cent jump in business over last year.

But some of the biggest lenders in the United States see no cause for alarm.

"In every barrel of apples," said an official of a big national lending concern, "you'll find some bad ones. Relative to the total amount of credit outstanding, delinquents still are small."

Grains Show Small Losses

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains eased for mostly fractional losses in routine dealings on the Board of Trade today.

The list started a little lower. Wheat dipped the most, partly on hedging pressure and partly on selling by local traders. It then tried to stage a little recovery, but quickly fell back.

Corn was independently firm. Soybeans started out steady and then dropped. Oats were weak from the start. Harvesting of this crop is proceeding at good pace with fair-sized quantities arriving at terminals.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 to 1/2 lower, July $1.99 1/2; corn 1/4 to 1/2 lower, July $1.41 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2 lower, July $1.14 1/2; soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 lower, July $2.37 1/2; and yard 5 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $11.93.

Tax Men Striking at Canadian Tickets

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The United States Internal Revenue Service has launched a drive to curtail purchase by Americans of travel tickets in Canada. By buying in Canada, travelers avoid payment of a 10 per cent U. S. excise tax.

Edward S. Shea, assistant director of the Buffalo office, said the practice has become widespread on the Niagara frontier in recent months.

American tourists, he said, flock to Canada to buy travel tickets. Most buying is done in Fort Erie and Niagara Falls, Ont.

Shea disclosed his office already has notified "a number" of Buffalo residents they will have to pay the tax. Americans visiting in Canada or maintaining summer homes there are not free from the tax liability.

Under the revenue code, Shea said, Americans convicted willfully avoiding the tax are guilty of an offense punishable by five years imprisonment, a $10,000 fine or both.

Democrats Aver Their Platform Will Hold Ike

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Nineteen of Richmond's Democrats for Eisenhower were invited to the White House. The Richmond News Leader gives this report of a part of the conversation with the President.

Coleman Wortham Jr., invited the President to Virginia to see "the best duck hunting marsh in the United States."

"Do I have to go through Richmond?" the President asked. On one visit, he recalled, he was hustled past some dignitaries he was supposed to greet. Then of course the speaker's platform collapsed with him on his 1953 campaign stop.

"Mr. President, excuse me," one member of the party cut in, "but the Republicans built that platform. They wouldn't let us near it. Democratic platforms don't collapse."
