

U. N. Censures Russia for Action in Hungary

Arrest in Budapest Sparks New Revolt

BUDAPEST (U)—Tens of thousands of Budapest workers quit work again today only a few hours after returning to their factories at the end of a two-day nationwide general strike.

The new walkout was in protest against the arrest of the chairman of the Budapest Central Workers' Council and his chief assistant by the Russian-imposed government of Premier Janos Kadar.

There was a total walkout in the Industrial 11th District of Budapest, which has many textile and tool plants.

Informed sources reported the boss of Russia's secret police, Gen. Ivan Serov, has taken over control of Kadar's government in a desperate effort to end the continuing widespread resistance to Communism and Moscow control.

The situation in Hungary now is so chaotic that the Russians are reported running matters entirely, in effect replacing the government of Kadar.

CITY IN TROUBLE — A Russian soldier carrying an automatic weapon stands guard along a Budapest street and watches pedestrians move along. Behind him, a sidewalk discussion is going on between a man carrying a briefcase and another Budapest citizen. Hungary's Red government has decreed death for all convicted of crimes under its new martial law.

The approaches to the Hungarian Parliament building, seat of the government since the outbreak of the rebellion against Communism, were blocked by masses of Russian tanks and armored cars.

This dispatch was received in Frankfurt during a brief break in the four-day communications blackout between Budapest and the West.

At least six persons were killed in riots and clashes with Russian troops and Communist Hungarian police during the general walkout Tuesday and Wednesday.

The clashes included one on Budapest's Szighund Morics Square yesterday and fighting in the provincial towns of Eger and Miskolc.

Rumors circulated through the capital that Kadar had committed suicide or vanished. The rumors could not be checked, however, and appeared to be more wishful thinking than anything else. There was no way of knowing unless the government makes an announcement.

Serov has a long record in connection with deportations. Documents captured during World War II showed he signed the order, just before the German attack on Russia in June 1941, under which thousands were exiled to Siberia from the Baltic Republics of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia.

Ex-Yugoslav Official Djilas Gets Sentence

LONDON (AP)—Yugoslavia's former vice president Milovan Djilas was sentenced to three years imprisonment at hard labor for spreading hostile propaganda, Belgrade Radio announced yesterday.

Djilas, 45, former close friend of President Tito and leading Communist of Yugoslavia, was tried in secret. He was arrested Nov. 27.

The state charged that a state-made he gave to a foreign news agency and an article he published in a New York magazine, The New Leader, constituted "a slander and spread of lies about our foreign and domestic policy."

Djilas denounced Yugoslavia for not coming out vigorously in support of the anti-Soviets in Hungary. He criticized Yugoslav domestic and foreign policy.

Happy Holidays! Mr. Fish

Need a Chuckle on This Cold Day?

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (U)—The life of a fish is not necessarily an unhappy one. About 15,000 gallons of grain alcohol sank in the Ohio River near here when a tug rammed a barge.

LAWRENCE, Mass. (U)—Mrs. Lena Ouellette has sued her husband, David, for divorce on grounds of cruelty — after 33 years of marriage and 15 children.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (U)—The coffee break seems to be catching on — even on the shady side of the law. Vandals broke into the principal's office at the Allen F. Wood School the other day, brewed themselves a batch of coffee, washed the cups and put them back on the shelf.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (U)—It was just one of those nights for two sheriff's deputies here. Deputy Lester Hay and a fellow officer backed a police car away from the court house and ran into a parked car, damaging the headlight and grill on the parked car. It belonged to their boss, Sheriff Harold Hubbell.

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—Asking Santa Claus for a golden bugle "or PAWTUCKET, R. I. (U)—Seven years ago, Martin Manoojian's oil truck rolled unattended down James Street, smashed through a fence and struck a house on Pleasant Street. Yesterday, Martin Manoojian's oil truck rolled unattended down James Street, smashed through a fence and struck the same house on Pleasant Street.

AKRON, Ohio (U)—Somebody swiped Santa Claus — a 10-foot one that J. S. Hartenstein told police he spent three weeks of spare time building out of plywood. He said someone took the jolly St. Nick right out of his front yard where it was surrounded by gay Christmas lights.

BROOKINGS, Ore. (U)—This southern Oregon coastal town has had 9.88 inches of rain in the past three days. No damage was reported.

Dulles' Warning Chills Harmony of NATO Parley

Tells Ministers U. S. Reserves Right to Act Without Consultation

PARIS (U)—The harmony session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization shivered today under cold blasts from the United States and West Germany.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles told the annual ministers' conference that America reserves the right to act alone in certain parts of the world without consulting NATO.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano warned that if Hungary's revolution fever spread to Communist East Germany, nobody could tell how big the blowup would be.

But he toned down his warning with the sober observation that 22 Russian divisions stand ready to smash any German uprising in the East.

Dulles' warning put America in the position of having upbraided its two closest allies—Britain and France—for attacking Egypt without consulting other nations while reserving for the United States the right to do much the same thing.

Dulles pointed out to the NATO Council session yesterday that the United States has mutual protection treaties with 44 nations, 30 of them outside the North Atlantic community.

He assured the council that whenever possible the United States would consult NATO on its policy and projected actions.

But he said defense of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese government on Formosa, for example, might call for independent American action without NATO consultation.

The Atlantic Alliance also called today for freedom in Eastern Europe but pledged itself against a war of liberation.

Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization endorsed a five-point declaration of policy on Eastern Europe submitted by West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

NATO officials emphasized that the declaration is a Western statement of policy designed to quiet any fears in Russia that the West is preparing to launch an attack to liberate the peoples of Eastern Europe.

Police Vote Yes on Civil Service

Pontiac police officers last night voted overwhelmingly to seek civil service to replace the present trial board authority.

The vote was 39 to 2, for placing proposals on the April city ballot to make the change.

The vote came about as a result of officers' criticism of the present trial board.

Officers have alleged the board has refused to meet with them to consider proposals for rules of procedure and meeting out discipline. They claim the board does not have fixed rules.

They criticized Police Chief Herbert W. Straley's alleged influence over the board.

The trial board has denied the allegations.

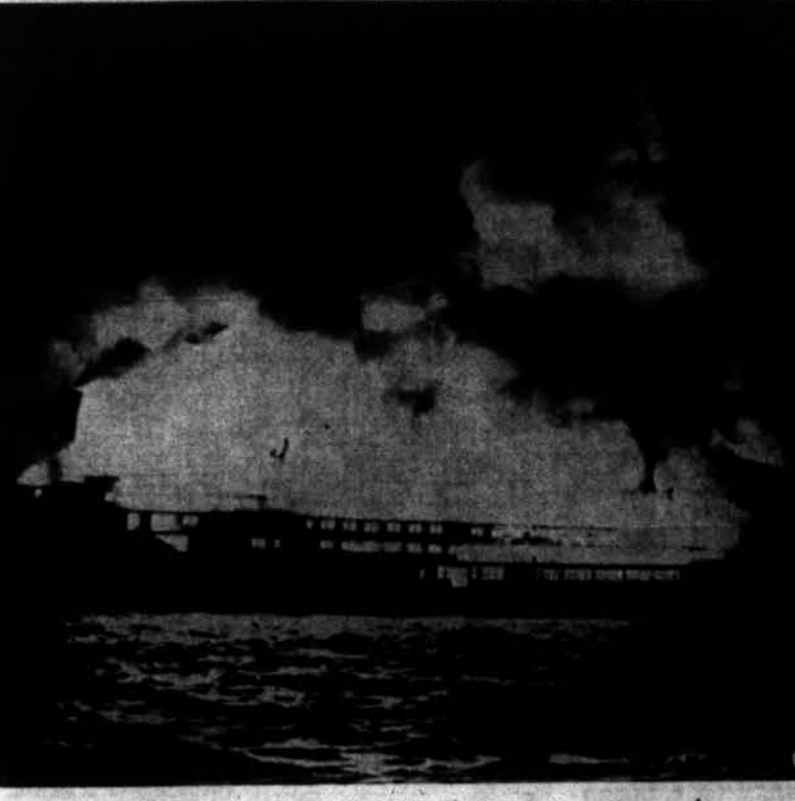

Officers last night voted to request a meeting at 8 p.m. Dec. 13 with the trial board to discuss their proposals, which they say are based on trial procedure used in the Armed Forces.

Pontiac Police Officers Association President Herbert C. Cooley said, however, that plans will proceed to propose an amendment to the City Charter section which sets up the trial board and to introduce a code uniting police and firemen under state civil service laws.

Pontiac firemen have been under civil service the past 15 years.

Officers will ask the City Commission to place the proposals on the ballot, Cooley said. If this fails, petitions will be circulated for a referendum vote, he said.

Venerable Ships Burn Over Grave

END OF AN ERA — A colorful part of Great Lakes history vanishes in smoke over Lake St. Clair as the D & C steamers Greater Detroit and the Eastern States burn during a salvage operation last night. The ships finally went under after a series of attempts which ended when a Roman candle was used.

Morning Session Fails Resume Bargaining Talks to End Fisher Body Strike

Management and union representatives returned to the bargaining tables today as yesterday's seven-hour attempt to settle the Fisher Body Division strike showed "no indication of settlement," according to a top union spokesman.

After two hours of bargaining this morning, no further progress had developed toward the strike's settlement. Negotiations were scheduled to resume again at 2.

Landam Huff, international representative of the UAW, said, "As the result of yesterday's session, there's no indication to show whether management and union are closer or farther apart."

A Fisher Body Division official in Detroit said union officials had handed management a settlement proposal yesterday. "We have received the proposal and are studying it," he added.

Weather Prohibiting Canada Plane Search

VANCOUVER (AP)—One hour of "unlimited visibility" might be enough to permit finding a missing airliner which is feared to have crashed with 62 persons in the mountains of southwestern British Columbia.

The search for the Trans-Canada Air Lines' North Star, now in its fourth day, is at the mercy of the weather.

The prospect of clear weather remains poor. At midnight, the weather office predicted clouds at the 1,500 to 2,000-foot levels would again frustrate today's hunt.

"We have not lost hope of finding survivors," an airline official said yesterday, but he agreed that if any of the 59 passengers and three crew members were alive, "they can't hope to survive much longer."

Only 55 flights and 166 searching hours have been possible so far.

Moscow Told by Resolution to Move Troops

Assembly Vote Divides Asia's Neutral Nations in 55-8 Approval

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U)—The General Assembly condemned Russia last night for stamping out Hungary's freedom bid. The vote split Asia's four "neutral" Colombo nations as well as the entire Asian-African group of countries.

The resolution, sponsored by the United States and 19 other countries, was adopted by the Assembly 55-8 with only the Soviet bloc casting negative ballots.

It was the strongest censure the Assembly has voted against the Russian military action in Hungary.

The resolution also called on Moscow to pull its troops out of Hungary at once, under U. N. supervision. It asked the Russians to "permit the re-establishment of the political independence of Hungary."

Yugoslavia, Finland and 11 of the Asian-African group of nations abstained on the condemnation resolution. But 12 other members of the Asian-African group voted against the Soviets.

India and the other three Colombo nations—Indonesia, Ceylon and Burma—had joined earlier in sponsoring a mildly phrased counter-resolution expressing regret the Russians had not withdrawn from Hungary.

But in the vote on the U. N. resolution Ceylon and Burma voted to condemn the Soviets, while India and Indonesia abstained as expected.

Observers said Russia's delegation was more concerned over the split in the Colombo group, on whom the Soviets had counted for at least implied support, than over the resolution itself. The Russians have ignored two previous Assembly calls for withdrawal of their forces from Hungary.

Sources close to the Burmese and Ceylonese said they finally had decided it was time to take a firm stand no matter whose feet got stepped on. Burmese Delegate U. Pe Kin declared no nation had the right to coerce other nations, and "we have seen in Hungary that the Soviet Union insists on coercion."

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. termed the split in the Asian-African nations "very significant" because "it shows that many countries feel there must be one rule for everybody—if aggression is bad in the East, it is also bad in the West."

Confer on Railroad Safety Gate

OFFICIALS INSPECT CROSSING — Officials of the State Highway Dept., Public Service Commission, Grand Trunk Western Railroad, and the city inspect the railroad crossing at South Saginaw street and Wilson avenue. The Commission ordered the installation of safety gates at the crossing earlier this year. As the Highway Dept. was not consulted then, yesterday's meeting was called, according to Theodore M. Vanderstempel (second from left), Pontiac traffic engineer. From left to right are D. W. Hughes, railroad safety inspector for the Commission, Vanderstempel, R. W. McClish, and Palmer Slack, engineers for the Highway Dept.

Blazing Ships Mark Era's End

Thousands See Burning of D&C Sidewheelers in Lake St. Clair

DETROIT (U-P)—A Great Lakes era had ended today. Two cruddy, but once proud, quonks of the lakes waterways went up in flames on Lake St. Clair last night.

They were the giant Greater Detroit and the smaller Eastern States, the last of the big side-wheelers that once sailed under the flag of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co.

A lone survivor, its steaming days over, now is anchored at East Tawas and has been converted into a "hotel," the water equivalent of a highway motel.

The towering wooden superstructures of the Greater Detroit and the Eastern States were burned off as a quick and economical means of salvaging their hulls and engines and other metal parts for scrap.

Neither had sailed since 1930, when the day of the sidewheel pleasure steamer really ended. Their ornate interiors had been stripped of their finer woods and fittings, such as solid cherry beds and walnut balustrades.

TOWED TO PYRE
The binnacle and its compass and even the wheel were gone from the wheelhouses as the big boats were towed up the Detroit River to their pyre, a couple of miles off the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Four tugs were the pullbearers.

The old queens didn't want to die. Thousands gathered along the lake shore to see an era end, but many of those who saw the close had waited as much as four hours in 30-degree temperatures driven by a stiff-chattering 30-mile-an-hour wind.

Several attempts to get the ships burning failed. Gasoline finally was poured in when burning, oil-soaked rags, torches and even rockets failed to set them off.

But once ahold, the flames raced quickly from stern to stern. They lit hanging clouds, leaping 500 feet high in the wind at times and reddening the night for miles.

Two hours later the funeral was over and the owners—who newly had acquired the ships—Robert Rosen and Abraham Siegel of Detroit—had scrap for maws of hungry steel mills.

Troy Seeks to Block Expansion of Firm

The city of Troy yesterday took its dispute with Dynamic Manufacturers Co. into Oakland County Circuit Court in an effort to block expansion by the company.

Charging the company is "surprisingly" constructing additional buildings after a building permit was denied by the city, Troy attorney Jack W. Hutson asks the court for a permanent order restraining the company from continuing its expansion.

The company has had three fires, resulting in one death, within the past four years, the city charges. Judge Clark J. Adams yesterday issued a temporary restraining order, valid until the suit has been heard in court.

Candidate Says Thanks for Group's Activities

Speaking at the annual meeting of the 18th District Young Republicans, newly elected Congressman William S. Broomfield Tuesday night complimented the group on their activities in the Nov. 6 general election.

The meeting and election of officers was held in Berkley. Jack Gibbs of Pontiac succeeded Edward Lawrence as chairman of the group. Patricia Bowers of Royal Oak is new vice chairman, with Jasper Reid of Birmingham as treasurer.

School Groups to Sing Annual Carols in Bank

Youthful voices singing beloved Christmas carols and hymns will brighten the downtown area again this year.

Junior and senior high school singing groups including some several hundred songsters will entertain shoppers with their carol singing during the lunch hour the week preceding Christmas.

Their headquarters of song for the 11th straight year will be the Pontiac State Bank lobby.

Eight groups will participate in

Goodfellow Sale of Newspapers Set for Saturday

Saturday is Goodfellow Paper Sale day in Pontiac, with 70 old newspapers to sell special editions of the Pontiac Press on city streets in order to raise funds for Christmas baskets for the needy and to provide emergency aid during the coming year.

The Metropolitan Club, Spirit Six, which is made up of members of the police and fire departments and postal employees, will again conduct the annual sale throughout Pontiac.

The sale will get underway early in the morning and continue until all the papers are gone. Doug Jilbert, a member of the Goodfellow Committee, told the Press today he said all proceeds will be placed in a special welfare fund for baskets and emergency use.

Joel Quick, Arthur Carson, and Charles Evans are other members of the "Met Club" committee, which is stressing an all-out effort to go over the top in sales this year with the Salvation Army request for Christmas baskets now at its highest peak.

Council OKs Japan as Member of U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—The U. N. Security Council yesterday unanimously recommended Japan's admission as the 80th member country of the United Nations.

Russia, which promised Japan its support, voted with the majority for a resolution by Peru to admit Japan into the U. N. The vote was 11 to 0.

The General Assembly is expected to meet today to approve the council's recommendation and officially install Japan as a full-fledged member of the United Nations. An overwhelming majority is assured in the 79-nation forum.

The Security Council's action was one of the speediest on record on the admission question and climaxed three years of intensive efforts by the U. S. and other free world countries to obtain Japanese participation in the U. N.

The rare sight of 11 hands going up simultaneously in favor of the Japanese application stirred Japanese delegation visitors to rejoicing in the council chamber.

Dr. Wessels to Head Staff at St. Joseph

Dr. Robert R. Wessels, of Birmingham, was elected president of the medical staff at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for 1957 at the annual meeting of the hospital's general staff held this week.

President elect, who will succeed Dr. Wessels in 1958 as president, will be Dr. Robert J. Mason, also of Birmingham. Dr. John F. Naz, of Clarkston, was elected secretary-treasurer for the coming year.

Outgoing officers of the staff are Drs. John M. Markley, 387 W. Iroquois Rd., and Charles L. Bowers, 213 Cedarvale Ave. Dr. Markley was the 1956 president, while Dr. Bowers was secretary-treasurer.

Ziegler Steps Out in Spring State Free-for-All Seen in Filling Highway Post

LANSING (U-P)—A free for all for the office of state highway commissioner appeared likely to develop today in the wake of the announcement of Charles M. Ziegler that he is stepping out.

The Republican incumbent, who soon will round out 14 years in the post, said Wednesday he will not seek another four-year term. His successor will be chosen in the April election.

Ziegler's exit from the spring election picture left both Republicans and Democrats without a commanding figure in the field for the respective political party nominations. Nominees will be chosen in state conventions in February.

Most prominently mentioned as a Republican possibility was George M. Foster, chief deputy commissioner.

There was talk that the GOP nomination might be sought by Mayor Paul Goebel of Grand Rapids or Glen Richards, a Detroit highway official, but this was heavily discounted in some quarters. The Democrats also were bereft

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Patrick Henry Doyle

Mrs. Patrick Henry (Irene M.) Doyle, of 324 Hickory St., Milford died yesterday morning in Pontiac General Hospital. She was 69.

She was born in Montreal, Quebec, Canada on Nov. 14, 1887 to Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Abel.

Mrs. Doyle was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church of Milford and the Altar Society of her church. She leaves six children, John Doyle of Central Lake, Patrick H. Doyle Jr. of Mt. Pleasant, Robert Doyle of Alpena, Mrs. W. H. Ruggles of Birmingham, Mrs. Norman Winterhalter of Milford and Mrs. E. A. Reitmeyer of Pontiac and 12 grandchildren.

A sister, Mrs. Alice Dubay, is living in Minneapolis, Minn. The recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. Friday in the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, Milford.

The Rev. Richard Haney will officiate at the service at 10 a.m. Saturday in the St. Mary's Church. Burial will be in the St. Mary's Cemetery, Milford.

Harold Dorman Shay
Harold Dorman Shay, 62, of 170 Opdyke Rd. died yesterday morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He had been ill 12 weeks.

Born in Watkins Glen, N. Y., on Feb. 13, 1894, he was the son of Albert G. and Ellen McKain Shay. Mr. Shay attended Cornell University, majoring in electrical engineering. He came to Pontiac from South Haven four years ago.

A projectionist at the Huron Theater, he was a member of St. Andrew's Episcopal Mission of Drayton Plains and the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's.

Besides his wife, the former Marian King, he is survived by his step-mother, Mrs. Ann Shay of Detroit; two daughters, Mrs. Albert Bliss of Grand Rapids and Almarin Class Remme Chevallier, U.S.A.F. England, and one grandchild.

Service will be at 10 a.m. Saturday from St. Andrew's Episcopal Mission with the Rev. Waldo R. Hunt officiating. Cremation will be at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery. Friends may call at the Purnell Funeral Home from 7 o'clock this evening until 8:30 Saturday morning when the body will be taken to the church.

Fourth, Fifth Bodies Found in Erie Crash

The fourth and fifth bodies of five Michigan residents, including a Royal Oak man, who died in a private plane crash in Lake Erie Saturday were recovered yesterday.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kurtz of Grosse Pointe Park were found pinned to the floor of the twin-engine craft when it was raised from about 12 feet of water near Port Maitland, Ont.

The bodies of the other victims were washed ashore Tuesday. They were those of Wesley H. Hopp, 330 W. Sunnybrook Dr., Royal Oak, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael McFadden, also of Grosse Pointe.

The plane, en route from New York to Detroit, was owned by the Peninsula Steel Corp. Hopp, the pilot, radioed shortly after taking off from Buffalo, where he stopped for a weather check, that one engine had failed and he was losing altitude.

Auto Racing Crash Takes Third Victim

DETROIT (U-P)—An automobile crash in Lincoln Park claimed its third victim today.

Frank Szabo, 23, of Detroit, died in Wyandotte General Hospital. He was injured yesterday when a racing automobile went out of control and crashed into a tree.

Two of his buddies, Gilbert J. Martinez, and David Neal, both 18 and of Detroit, died in the crash.

Robert Barnes, 20, also of Detroit and the driver of the car the three were racing pulled his vehicle to a stop without mishap. He pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving yesterday. Martinez, driver of the death car, had only a learner's permit to drive.

Breaks In 'to Wash Up'

DENVER (U-P)—Alcario R. Galleaga, 17, was arrested in a filling station rest room. "I just like clean hands," he told police. He later admitted he broke into three service stations "just to wash my hands," but police said nothing was missing from the stations. He was held for investigation.

The Day in Birmingham 175 Added at Post Office as Holiday Rush Starts

BIRMINGHAM—Christmas rush is on and with 175 added personnel on the Post Office staff, Asst. Postmaster Eugene Beers says, "We have reached approximately the halfway mark on Christmas hiring."

Postmaster Roland Reese and Margaret Tewilliger interview prospects at 8:15 a.m. and 3 p.m. daily at the post office. Each spends about two hours a day at the job.

Beers says "Christmas cards are increasing daily."

The New Year's Dance for Birmingham High School, co-sponsored by the City Recreation Board and Community House, will hold top interest at tonight's meeting of the Recreation Board.

The board will discuss the progress report on the Eton Park Skating Rink.

Final discussion of plans for the hockey league, which will start games next week will be held.

Junior basketball, to start after the holidays, also will be discussed. At the rink, the first skating lesson for tiny tots was given Saturday, and the group is looking forward to a Dec. 22 party at 1 p.m. there, when prizes, games and refreshments will be provided. A New Year's eve skating party is planned, with noise-makers and favors.

The High School party to greet the new year will begin at 8:30 p.m. at the Community House, with dancing to music of the Continentals, the group that played for the 1956 J-Hop.

Co-chairmen are Nancy Olsen and Jane Severs.

The YMCA Church Basketball League will see Community Congregation and Lutheran Church of the Redeemer teams playing on Barnum High School Courts at 8 p.m. tonight. Monday games at 7, 8, and 9 o'clock will see First Methodists face the Lutherans; Congregational Church at Birmingham vs. Embury Methodist and First Presbyterian—First Baptist.

The conference ended today at noon with an address by Circuit Judge James E. O'Neill of Saginaw on "The County Officer as a Leader in Citizenship."

Find Battered Body in Downriver Suburb

DETROIT (U-P)—The body of an unidentified man, the head crushed apparently from a beating, was found today in a riverfront garage in the downriver suburb of River-view.

Police Chief Andrew Davis said the man may have been slain some time after an early morning snowfall. Footprints in the snow led to the gangplank of the steamer Wyandotte, tied up at a dock near the garage.

Davis said crewmen aboard the boat would be questioned. The Wyandotte tied up for the winter last week at the dock just south of the Grosse Ile toll bridge.

The Wyandotte was involved in a tragedy at Alpena Nov. 28. A crew member, Anthony Santey 22, backed his car off the dock next to the freighter. He was saved but his fiancée and another girl drowned.

Court Awards $20,000 in Divorce Settlement
Mrs. Mary F. Christian of Birmingham was awarded a divorce and $20,000 cash yesterday by Circuit Judge George B. Harrick.

Her husband, John D. Christian, vice president of the Acme Foundry Co. in Detroit, will keep their $50,000 home at 755 Waddington Rd. under terms of a settlement arranged by attorneys.

Mrs. Christian, who charged "extreme mental cruelty," had asked for the home and for alimony. Besides the cash, she was awarded the household furniture.

Busmen Sign Contract
FLINT (U-P)—Flint Coach Lines, Inc. and city bus drivers announced agreement on a new contract last night. The settlement ended 100 days of negotiations and averted a threatened bus strike set for Saturday.

Caterpillar Won't Tell

MADISON, Wis. (U. S. N. S.)—An old custom holds that the darker the fall coat of the woolly bear caterpillar the more severe the winter that follows. But Prof. Thomas C. Allen, chairman of the entomology department of the University of Wisconsin, says it's just something the caterpillars ate. "The color of the coats is due to whatever food is available when they shed their coats," Allen said.

Minnesota forest harvests are worth $180 million annually.

Can't Pop the Weasel With Scattered Shot

CARSON, N.D. (AP)—For popping the weasel with a shotgun, that is—a Bismarck man was fined $25 in court here.

Dr. I. G. Bue, deputy state game and fish commissioner who signed the complaint, said one may shoot weasel with a rifle, or trap them, if he has a license, but that it is unlawful to shoot the animals with a shotgun.

Paying for Promotion

PLYMOUTH, Wis. (AP)—Residents of this small East-Central Wisconsin community have agreed to an additional 50 cents a month charge on their electric meters to pay for industrial promotion. Mayor Howard Fischer said "We had a lot of inquiries from firms about locating in Plymouth, but had nothing to nail down the deals with." The extra 50 cents, $1 for commercial users, will be collected by the local electric utility. The plan was approved in a referendum, 1,309 to 587.

Durban, South Africa wants a special stamp issued to mark the centenary in January 1957 of the first stamp used in the Natal area.

Musical Counter-point

OMAHA (AP)—Robert D. Klein, schmidt of the University of Buffalo (N.Y.), told newsmen before a concert here that carillon music is either "sacred" or simply a nuisance. His concert afterwards on the electronic carillon at an Omaha shopping center was interrupted by police. Neighbors—to prove Professor Klein's point—had complained the music was annoying.

Reds' East Empire Economy Shaky

LONDON (INS) — Russia is being hit today by a growing pile of bills in the upheavals and economic failures throughout its Eastern European empire.

This fact noted by Western economic experts has been obscured somewhat by the British economic plight resulting from closure of the Suez Canal.

Russia is being saddled with a host of fresh and formidable commitments to the restive and revolt-torn satellites. New burdens are thrust on Soviet agriculture and heavy industry.

Moscow, for instance, promised Poland recently to provide 1,400,000 tons of grain to see the Poles through the winter. Romanian Red leaders later obtained a promise of 450,000 more tons. Both of these are on credit.

Poland also obtained cancellation of debts and a long-term Soviet loan to finance purchases in Russia, including consumer goods. Poles are allowed also to cut exports of coal and coke to Russia and its satellites.

It's significant that despite this Poland needs more, and has turned to the West for aid.

In East Germany the food situation is bad after a poor harvest. Russia now has to provide that satellite with more food. Poland cannot help. If used to send grain to East Germany, but now is a grain-importing nation.

Russia also is sending coke to East Germany to keep metallurgical industries operating now that Poland, under Red planning, is unable to maintain usual deliveries. Soviet pig iron also must be delivered to East German Reds.

Bills for the economic chaos in Hungary probably will be the biggest of all, according to economic observers. The entire Hungarian economy must be supported, and there are other repercussions from the anti-Soviet revolt.

Hungary, for example, had been scheduled to build up the Romanian chemical industry. Russia must now assume that task.

Shortages and failures in various industrial fields are spreading through the Red empire, resulting in discontent inside the Soviet Union itself.

Russia recently has been selling huge quantities of gold in Western Europe for transferable sterling. This suggests to economists that developments in Poland, Hungary and elsewhere are having an immediate impact on Soviet economic policies.

Indications are that Russia now is preparing to finance larger purchases of consumer goods from the Western nations.

Model of Satellite Inflated Like Balloon

BALTIMORE (AP) — Scientists working on an earth satellite are testing a model which can be blown up like a balloon, the Baltimore Evening Sun reports.

The newspaper said confirmation of the tests was made by Prof. James A. Van Allen at the University of Iowa and W. J. O'Sullivan.

Van Allen is chairman of the working committee on internal instrumentation of the satellites. O'Sullivan is aeronautical research scientist for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics at Langley, Va.

The scientists at Langley have blown up a wad of aluminum foil weighing less than one pound into a rigid metallic sphere about 20 inches in diameter. That is the same size of the prototype of the satellite which the Navy is making and which will be launched as part of the International Geophysical Year beginning next July.

The Navy satellite is made by spinning two circular discs of magnesium into hemispheres. The two hemispheres are then screwed together. It weighs 4.55 pounds.

Boiler Output High

ATLANTA — When the United States Department of Agriculture started keeping data on broiler production in 1934, it was a $19,000,000-a-year business.

By 1940 it had become a $72,000,000 business, with about 143,000,000 broilers a year being produced.

In 1955 Georgia, the nation's leading broiler-producing state, exceeded that total all by itself.

Many Vicinities of Europe Restless; Professor Recalls Appears to Be Result of Hungary

LONDON (INS) — Indications of increasing unrest among the Soviet satellites and even in Russia itself are now coming from various sections of Europe.

The rumblings appeared to be developing out of Hungary's struggle for independence from the Kremlin yoke.

In Poland, the Warsaw regime moved to forestall further anti-Soviet demonstrations by announcing the arrest of 83 persons who participated in Monday night's riot in Stettin.

Radio Warsaw said the Polish ministry of foreign affairs had assured the Soviet ambassador that those responsible for the attack on the Russian consulate would be punished.

Communist Party Chief Wladislaw Gomulka, obviously fearful that additional anti-Russian demonstrations might lead to Soviet reaction similar to that in Hungary, issued a sharp warning to the Polish people.

The warning was contained in an announcement that the United Workers (Communist) Party and United Peasants Party would campaign under a joint banner in next month's elections.

Gomulka, and Peasant Party leader Stefan Gnar, said in their joint declaration of principles that trouble-making elements were trying to sow chaos and anarchy in Poland.

The declaration said Poland can exist and develop as an independent and sovereign state only as a Socialist state.

From East Germany came new reports that university student lists are being purged of "unreliable elements."

A Czechoslovakian Red leader admitted "certain elements" in his country had expressed sympathy for the Hungarian revolutionaries.

Russian officials admitted that many intellectuals in Soviet Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia have begun to attack Soviet ideals and to speak longingly of the pre-World War II days of freedom.

Attacks on these "reactionary" elements were carried by the state radios of the three tiny Baltic nations which were incorporated into the U.S.S.R. during the war.

Restlessness among the Russian people themselves led to reports in Moscow last night that Kremlin officials soon will announce a big boost in consumer goods production.

Soviet sources said the modification of the Soviet five-year plan is expected to be announced during the Dec. 14-20 meeting of the central committee of the Communist Party.

A reorganization of economic relations with the satellite states also was expected to be announced.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., (P) — Mr. and Mrs. George O. Myers of Blue Creek are hoping for wholesale rates from Charleston General Hospital.

Son Michael, 7, went to the hospital for an appendectomy and within six days was followed by: Tony, 1, pneumonia; Norma, 12, inflamed glands; Joyce, 10, fever; Jo Ann, 16, appendectomy; Ricky, 8, possible appendicitis; Beverly, 3, pains in throat and ears.

Two days later, Linda Sue, 13, and Nancy, 6, underwent surgery for appendicitis.

Western observers believed the new course charged for the Soviet economy is a result of increasing demands by Soviet workers for higher standards of living.

of Greek and Latin, served as Lutheran chaplain at Camp Colt, Gettysburg, Pa., during World War I. Eisenhower, then a major, was stationed at the same base.

"I admired him because he made a point of learning the names of every man he spoke to."

Wants No Permit Renewal for '21 Driver's License

CHEHALIS, Wash. (P) — Nellie Roundtree brought a 1921 driver's permit to the State Patrol office.

Thirty miles an hour was the top speed.

speed automobiles could legally go in the state at that time.

It was 20 miles in towns and cities. It was only 12 miles to street and railway crossings, and while passing schools.

The permit was just something she wanted to show patrolmen. She didn't ask to have it renewed.

Edible Packing

When sending packages of perishable foods through the mails, pack them with popcorn or peanuts in the shell. These are light in weight, will prevent rattling and can also be eaten and enjoyed by the recipient.

Election Funds Subject of Quiz

Senate Candidate Gets $50,000 Contribution, Committee Is Told

WASHINGTON — The National Committee for an Effective Congress (NCEC) told investigating senators today that it put up $50,000 for the campaign of an unnamed "senatorial candidate" in this year's elections.

But Sidney H. Scheuer of New York City, NCEC chairman, rejected suggestions from members of the committee investigating lobbying and political activities, that the gift might conflict with the election law.

That law sets a $5,000 limit on the amount any single contributor may give to a national campaign fund.

Scheuer said the $50,000 was not a single contribution by his committee but came from "hundreds of contributors."

Scheuer said the committee "raised and distributed $57,989.81" for 15 candidates in the senate and house elections. He said the "distributions" ranged from $500 to the $50,000 in the senate races, and from $300 to $500 in house races.

Scheuer also rejected a contention by Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) that the NCEC is "beginning to operate dangerously as a splinter party" and that it is "trying not only to influence the election (of congress members) but their actions after they get here."

"That is not a fact, sir," Scheuer replied. "It is a fact," Goldwater retorted.

In a prepared statement filed with the committee, Scheuer described NCEC as "a political committee" incorporated in New York, adding "it is nonpartisan, and represents no special interest."

He said about two-thirds of the 1956 campaign contributions went for Democratic candidates and one third for Republicans.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), the committee chairman, at one point asked whether Scheuer felt that "independent committees should be limited" in the amounts they might contribute, pointing to the $5,000 ceiling on individual contributions.

Scheuer replied that the $50,000 was not a single contribution. McClellan asked whether an obligation of some sort would revolve about a contribution of that size. "If there's an obligation — I don't think there is," Scheuer replied.

Have you ever wished you could relive the joy and excitement of last Christmas and the Christmas before?

There's an easy way to preserve the happenings of this year's holidays for future enjoyment—catch them on film with a movie camera. Surveys have shown that three out of four American families would like to keep a movie record of their children and hope some day to own a motion picture camera.

So why not plan to put a movie camera in the place of honor under the Christmas tree this year? It's a gift for Dad, for Mom, and for the whole family—a gift that will bring pleasure and satisfaction, at Christmas and for many years to come.

John P. Weber Jr., director of technical services for Bell & Howell, leading makers of fine movie equipment, says movies in color are no more expensive nor difficult to take than ordinary black and white snapshots.

The Bell & Howell expert said precision cameras, in the popular 8mm size, can be had for as little as $39.95 and that color film for an average eight-second scene costs only 13 cents, including the cost of processing. Snapshots in the popular 116 size come to about 15 cents each, when the expense of printing and developing is added to the cost of the film.

He pointed out that while there are many types and models of home movie cameras that provide the range of speeds and lenses required by experienced photographers, the simpler models have universal focus lenses and "sundial" settings that are less complicated than a still camera. The user needs to do little more than "sight and shoot."

To take the final bit of guesswork out of movie making, Bell & Howell's latest camera has an "electric eye" that automatically sets the lens for the light available. Even the least experienced amateur cannot help but get properly exposed pictures every time, even under changing light conditions.

Boy, 4, Saves Life of Brother in Fire

DIMONDAL — A quick-thinking four-year-old was credited with saving his two-year-old brother when a flash fire destroyed their frame home near here yesterday.

The home of the 11-member Fred King family four miles north of Dimondale was burned to the ground by the blaze.

Eddy King, 4, woke his brother, Dale, 2, and led him from the home when he discovered the fire shortly before 10 a.m. Betty, 4, a twin of Eddy, also escaped with her mother.

The two-year-old received second degree burns around the head, arms and legs and was reported in a "fair" condition in a Lansing Hospital.

The mother, Mrs. Marion King, was hospitalized for shock. The father was at work at the time and six other children were either at work or in school.

Ray McBride, Eaton County deputy sheriff, said cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Farmer Got His Wish

FURNACE, Ky. — Farmer Floyd Willis always wanted a team of oxen. So when his Hereford cow gave birth to twin male calves, Willis began carefully tending them. Now he has that team and they do many chores on the farm, which is without truck, tractor, horses or mules. Each of the twins weighs about 600 pounds. That's junior size as far as oxen go.

Vacation Ends for President

Returns to Washington to Shape '57 Program; International Talks

AUGUSTA, Ga. (U) — President Eisenhower today ends a 2½-week Southland vacation mixed with work and flies back to Washington for an imminent international conference and further planning of the administration's 1957 legislative program.

The chief executive and Mrs. Eisenhower arranged to take off from Bush Airfield aboard the President's private plane in mid-afternoon on the two-hour flight to the capital.

Aides said the President came to the Augusta National Golf Club in need of a rest and relaxation after his successful re-election campaign and anxiety over the Middle East crisis.

In Augusta he continued to keep in close touch with the tense international situation, but also got in a good deal of rest. His visitors were held to a minimum. Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Defense Wilson headed the list.

In Washington Sunday, the President will start a series of talks with Prime Minister Nehru of India. The Asian leader will arrive then from London and remain until Thursday morning.

The program includes one day of complete seclusion for Eisenhower and the Prime Minister at the President's country home at Gettysburg, Pa. They will travel there from the White House Monday morning and remain overnight.

Eisenhower's return to Washington also means a speedup in the draft of the State of the Union message he will deliver to Congress early next month. That message will outline the administration's 1957 legislative program.

Chief's License Expired so Can't Lecture Official

RENO, Nev. (U) — Reno Police Chief T. R. Berrum and a city councilman today shared embarrassment over the lack of a valid driver's license.

Berrum discovered his own defection Tuesday. Traffic officers discovered it yesterday for Councilman William Foster after a minor accident. They cited him. Under a new state law, driver's licenses expire every two years on a motorist's birthday.

WELCOME VISITOR — Happy to see their loved Santa Claus were nearly 200 Oakland County handicapped children feted yesterday at a Christmas party sponsored by the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children. Eyeing the old gent with the long white beard are two of the honored guests, Linda Huboy of Royal Oak and Nancy Best of Hazel Park. The party was held in Stevens Hall of All Saints Episcopal Church.

8-Ship Group in Suez Zone Headed Home

WASHINGTON (U) — A special eight-ship antisubmarine group which had been patrolling in the Mediterranean Sea since the start of the Suez fighting is headed home.

The sailing of the "hunter-killer" group, which had been operating with the 6th Fleet, suggests the Navy may feel that the situation in the area has relaxed.

A Navy announcement today on departure noted that the group was at Rotterdam, the Netherlands, when the Suez hostilities began "and sailed for the Mediterranean immediately."

The group, which is built around the carrier Antietam and its specially armed and equipped antisubmarine planes, is headed for the "East Coast," the announcement said. The majority of the ships probably will arrive at Newport, R.I.

The group is commanded by Rear Adm. Paul L. Dudley. In addition to the carrier, the group consists of the destroyers New, Holden, Rich, R. L. Wilson, Bastien in the area has relaxed.

Boys Will Like Matching Togs

Take Guesswork Out of Clothing Choices in Pre-selected Sets

A clothing gift for a young man or boy should present fewer problems this Christmas. Manufacturers have taken some of the guesswork out of what to wear by creating pre-selected packages ready to wrap, take and wear.

Proud of this method, Francis DeWitt Pratt, president of the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear, says:

"These packages contain mainly matched shirts, ties and handkerchiefs which combine harmonizing patterns as well as colors. Some firms have created a complete ensemble by adding underwear and pajamas to the color and style of the coordinated sets."

Found in these sets are a wide variety of collar styles ranging from the typical button down modified spread and round pinned types to other proportioned especially for the youthful neckline.

Stripes, checks and plaids are among the most popular ties worn by the younger set but there is also a liberal sprinkling of other patterns, that approximate those worn by dad.

If you want to buy a single item rather than a pre-selected set, Pratt suggests that sports shirts rate high among the favorite gifts for young men and boys.

Now keyed to both the continental and the Ivy League influences, sports shirts are offered in an amazingly wide array of fabrics and models. These include both imported and domestic flannels as well as ginghams in plaids, checks, stripes and patterns that run the color spectrum from deep vivid to pale tints.

The new slim cut slacks in flannels, gabardines and whipcords also will gladden many a youngster's heart.

SPORTS MOTIFS

Belts and jewelry with motifs keyed to sports, cameras, sports cars and hobbies will be evident in all sections of the country.

Gloves and mittens, both individually and in matched sets, will be prominently displayed. The matched sets are in washable blends, too.

And, of course, the traditional robes, neckties and socks will be high again among the most wanted and most given of practical wearables.

Ancient Symbol

The use of mistletoe antedates Christianity. It is known that it was used by the Druids of England, and was adopted by the early English Christian church. Then it was a symbol of peace and good will.

AEC's Strauss Outlines Eight-Point Plan

Asks to Step Up Nuclear Program

WASHINGTON (INS) — Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has called for a stepped-up nuclear power program featuring the construction of five more atomic plants by 1962.

Strauss said that industry will have the first opportunity to build the reactors which would be "of entirely new type and design," but that the government will move in promptly if private industry fails to take the initiative.

The AEC chairman, in a speech before the American Nuclear Society last night, outlined an eight-point plan for accelerating the development of the peace-time atom. The plan reportedly has White House approval.

To encourage private financing of the new atomic projects, Strauss proposed expansion of government assistance to industries in the nuclear field.

Retriever Bad on Birds, Excellent on Pots, Pans

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) — E. V. Putnam's dog Pud is giving him some concern.

The spaniel has been doing some retrieving without sanction.

Objects retrieved in a recent period of a few weeks included six of the neighbors' aluminum pots and pans, one copper-bottomed pot and two china dishes.

On an eight-hour hunting trip, however, Pud failed to flush a single game bird.

Calling for congressional support of his plan, Strauss said that steps should be taken "without delay" to build "at least" two additional "large-scale" power plants—in the 100,000 kilowatt range—and three smaller ones.

The chairman's proposal was regarded as an answer to a Democratic-sponsored bill defeated last summer calling for a 400-million-dollar program of government-built and operated nuclear plants.

Democrats have charged that the AEC has allowed U.S. atomic development to lag.

Among the specific recommendations made by Strauss were:

1. No limitation of any kind would be placed on the size or type of nuclear plants, providing they "promise to make a significant contribution toward achieving cheap, abundant and safe nuclear power."

2. Priority would be given firms constructing a heavy water power reactor—a type not now in use.

3. The AEC would waive or reduce charges to industry for leasing atomic materials, and firms building heavy-water plants could have free use of heavy water for five years.

4. A substantial increase in government aid to private researchers in the field of atomic power.

No-Parking Ruse Proves Boomerang

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A peaceful settlement has been reached between police and Charles W. Newton who wanted to reserve a parking space for himself.

Newton painted his own "no parking" sign in front of his beach area house. But police, finding Newton's car parked there, promptly ticketed it.

Police backtracked on the parking ticket but pointed out Newton painted the curb illegally. "I'll erase it," Newton said, squaring Green is the most popular color for sunglasses.

Hit Record High in '55 for Intercity Trucking

WASHINGTON — The volume of intercity truck tonnage for 1955 broke all previous records, increasing by 10.8 per cent over the former record year, 1953, and exceeding by 15.2 per cent the tonnage haul of 1954, according to the American Trucking Association.

Class-1 common and contract motor carriers transported in intercity service 265,772,896 tons of freight during 1955 compared with 236,187,901 tons in 1954.

Under an emergency housing plan, 5,000 dwellings will be built around Buenos Aires, Argentina, largely prefabricated houses.

No Dog Problem for City Hall 'Mailman'

When you hear the slogan—"Through sleet, snow, hail—the mail must go through," do you think of a fearless mail carrier battling through waist-high snow drifts, with a determined look on his frost-bitten face? Well, it's not all that way. Take the city hall, for instance. Not a snow drift in a single gleaming hallway. But the mail still gets through, carried with a look just as determined. Miss Kay Nordon, 21, clerical aid for the city, is just as diligent in making "her appointed rounds" as any U. S. government employee making his deliveries.

And besides, she doesn't have a platoon of dogs nipping at her. Four times a day, Kay can be seen traveling the many halls and offices of the City Hall, delivering and picking up inter-departmental messages and regular mail.

Kay has been the central and only figure of the mailing room for more than a year now. The office is operated under the purchasing department headed by Frank Reed.

Mail is not Kay's only duty although it is her primary responsibility. Like in the old West days, the mail goes through. Scattered through the office are three printing machines through which pass all printed matter which is duplicated when requested by the different departments.

Some 2,000 stenciled products roll off these machines each week including City Commission agendas, bulletins from the Parks and Recreation Dept., and the yearly budget pamphlets each November, among others.

Kay's miniature post office has a regulation postage machine by which all outgoing city mail is stamped and sent on its way. Kay figured she runs through $100 worth of mail per week. Around tax statement time, this figure reaches as high as $1,000.

Department personnel with offices outside the City Hall come and go through the mailing room to pick up their mail.

Kay estimated she covers about every inch of the hall, with an arm full of bundles, to leave and pick up mail.

If you want to stay on the good side of this City Hall mailwoman, refrain from calling her mailboy as you pass her in the corridors. Other articles in the room include scales to determine postage, three tables, and a wash basin.

"Sometimes it gets to be a pretty dirty job," she explained. "It was quite a mess when the mimeograph machine got a little too much ink on it."

Although she considers her job very routine, her boss, Frank Reed, said her work has been outstanding and very necessary for the functioning of city offices.

She prefers to take the elevator up on her jaunts, but goes by means of the stairs when returning to her abode.

"I use the stairs then to see what's going on," she said.

Globe May Erupt in Flames of War, Warns Spellman

NEW YORK (INS) — The international situation is "delicate and dangerous" in the opinion of Francis Cardinal Spellman, who returned to New York yesterday from a journey to the Far East.

He also expressed concern over "certain evidence of deterioration" in moral values throughout the world.

The Cardinal served as papal legate to the National Eucharistic Congress for the Philippines at Manila. He also visited American servicemen stationed in Japan and on Okinawa in his capacity as military vicar of the U.S. armed forces.

On arrival at Idlewild airport, Cardinal Spellman told reporters: "The entire world is a volcano, and from which crater the flames of war may burst forth is unknown. The entire situation is delicate and dangerous."

A pretty nurse in a GI hospital told Groucho Marx the dangerous cases are the ones that are almost well . . .

Benson Predicting More for No Planting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson said yesterday that soil bank payments will be hiked sharply to encourage more farmers to take their land out of production.

He says that wheat farmers will be paid an average of $20.04 an acre not to plant compared with a national average of $8 an acre this year. The corn rate was hiked from $33 to $42.06 an acre.

Under the soil bank program approved earlier this year by Congress, the government is attempting to cut down price-depressing surplus farm commodities by paying farmers to take land out of production.

Ike to Send Letter

May Urge Soviet Retreat

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower probably will write to Russian Premier Bulganin shortly urging action on withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary as a step toward brightening prospects for talks on arms reduction.

U. S. officials say the use of Russian troops to smash anti-Moscow revolts in Hungary has created a bad climate for disarmament talks expected to begin in the United Nations early next year.

They said that climate could be greatly improved if the Soviet government would return to its October promise to negotiate with Hungary and other Eastern European states as a step toward ultimate withdrawal of the troops.

Foreign policy matters are prominent on the list of problems facing Eisenhower on his scheduled return to the capital late today from a vacation at Atlanta, Ga.

Current attention focuses on his talks beginning Sunday with Prime Minister Nehru of India. The climate for those talks appeared to have been improved by the disclosure yesterday that Ambassador N. K. Krishna Menon will not be a member of Nehru's official party. Menon, Nehru's most trusted foreign affairs adviser, is widely mistrusted by Washington officials.

The proposed Eisenhower letter to Bulganin has been under consideration for about a month. It will be a reply to a lengthy Bulganin declaration on disarmament which the President received in mid-November.

One Russian proposal was for a system of mutual aerial inspection extending approximately 500 miles on each side of the Iron Curtain.

This has excited interest in official quarters here because it marked something of a reversal from Bulganin's rejection of the "open skies" exchange between the United States and Russia which Eisenhower proposed at the Geneva summit conference in 1955. Officials indicated Eisenhower's reply to Bulganin on this point would welcome Soviet acceptance of the aerial inspection principle without agreeing to the particular zone arrangement which the Russians suggested.

Plan 75 Units in Waterford

Building Permits Total $1.9 Million for Month of November

Building permits issued in Waterford Township for the month of November totaled $1,915,082, according to Building Inspector Emil Grischow.

One of the biggest commercial building permits issued during the month was for the Drayton Shopping Center, now under construction on Dixie Highway at Midland. Over $1,500,000 will be spent on the first group of stores in the unit.

Besides a $200,000 parochial school, now in the process of construction, 35 new homes were among the 75 building permits. Cost of the homes was listed at $378,630.

Other commercial buildings listed, included a boat sales room, a car wash plant, a service station and various remodeling and additions of present buildings totaling $115,000.

To Present Lecture

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Gustav von Groschwitz, a curator of the Cincinnati, Ohio, Art Museum, will give a public lecture on printmaking today at the University of Michigan's Architecture Auditorium.

HONORED LAST NIGHT — Irving Steinman (right), chairman of the Greater Pontiac USO Committee, received a certificate of achievement last night from the 28th AAA Group. The award was presented by Major Harold E. Strong, commanding officer of the Nike antiaircraft base in Auburn Heights. It was presented for the work of the chairman and the committee in providing USO activities for the men stationed at the guided missile bases in the Pontiac area. The presentation was made at last night's "Military Ball" held at the Westacres Country Club.

Young Negro Singer to Meet Marian Anderson

11-Year-Old Foundling Gets Wish Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A two years' dream comes true today for Harriet Thalf, 11-year-old Negro foundling, over whom a lot of people are making quite a fuss this Christmas season.

Harriet at last is meeting her idol, and ideal, the great and gracious contralto, Marian Anderson.

Harriet sings, too, the quality of her sweet, clear voice, already having won much praise. She lives in utter poverty, softened by an atmosphere of love; but want cannot stifle the intensity of her ambition to become an artist in music.

The two are to meet at a luncheon in honor of Miss Anderson, a native Philadelphian.

The script calls for Harriet to present a spray of flowers to Miss Anderson, to clasp her hand, and in good time, to sing for her.

Out of the same kind of poverty which blighted the early life of Marian Anderson in South Philadelphia, Harriet Thalf has appeared.

Miss Anderson's father peddled ice and coal; her mother once taught school. Money always was scarce. When the father died, Marian's mother supported the family by doing domestic work. At six Marian started singing at the Union Baptist Church, billed as the "baby contralto." When she was in high school, members of her church collected nickels and dimes to make up a fund to help her future. That led to her enrollment in music schools, and eventually to great honors.

Harriet, abandoned at the age of three months, was taken in and reared by Mrs. Emma Thalf, a domestic. Enrolled in St. Teresa's, she joined the choir and became soprano soloist and sometimes director of the ensemble. A voice teacher got her a scholarship. She won first place at the 24th Annual Irish Feis this year at Fordham University.

Lt. Francis Carre of the Fire Department, going over a list of groups chosen to sing Christmas carols in City Hall courtyard, noted the omission of St. Teresa's Choir. Thanks to Carre's reminder, St. Teresa's was asked to join in. The luncheon invitation followed, with at least a dozen city officials and others offering to stand as Harriet's sponsors.

But Harriet's one party dress had six holes in it. The head of a department store offered to outfit her completely for the party and for school.

Mrs. Thalf summed up for both

Rejects Request Second Time

Sylvan Lake Denies Bid to Build Lumber Outlet on Orchard Lake

The Sylvan Lake City Council last night rejected for the second time a request from a Detroit lumber company to build a retail outlet on Orchard Lake in the city.

The council also accepted a $2,231 bid from the Brooks Stanford Co. for the extension for water mains and sanitary sewer on Lakeview street through to Garland road.

According to City Manager Ernest L. Ethier, work will begin immediately installing the 417 feet of four-inch water lines and 107 feet of sanitary sewer.

No decision was reached by the council on the request of Sam G. Warwick to build in the Sherwood Forest Subdivision.

Either announced that the City Hall would be closed on Dec. 24 and 31.

Ask Union to Halt Ban on Moving Red Baggage

NEW YORK (AP)—The State Department has asked the International Longshoremen's Assn. to halt an unofficial ban on handling baggage belonging to diplomats from Russia and other Iron Curtain countries.

The request was made yesterday during a conference between State Department and ILA officials.

William V. Bradley, ILA president, asked that the department submit a formal request in the form of a letter. He promised to present the letter to a meeting of the union's Wage Scale Committee scheduled for next Monday.

New Employee Steals Mail, Awaits Sentence

DETROIT (AP)—Warren O. Knight, a 23-year-old Detroit, has had one of the briefest careers on record with the Post Office Department.

Knight, unemployed since he got out of the Army last September, finally landed a job sorting Christmas mail Monday.

Tuesday he was fired. Wednesday he pleaded guilty to mail theft. Today he awaits sentence.

Postal inspector Carl Wheeler testified he stopped Knight as he left work Tuesday and found four letters concealed under his jacket. Wheeler said Knight told him he needed money to impress a girl friend.

Parley Is Continuing to End Fisher Strike

tion failed Tuesday evening, a shift of 2,500 workers walked off their jobs at the Baldwin avenue plant, idling all 4,300 hourly workers.

Some 50 pickets, with 150 more in reserve, braved 20-degree temperature as they circled the plant's entrances.

The strike, called because of alleged speeded up production, resulted in the layoff of 2,200 production line workers at Pontiac Motor Division yesterday morning. The struck plant provides all the auto bodies for the Pontiac plant.

More of the Pontiac Motor plant's 12,000 will be sent home if the strike continues, a spokesman for the Division said yesterday.

Today the spokesman said he did not know when the continued layoff would begin. "We know we can work through today and begin tomorrow," he commented.

Members of Fisher Body Local 506 voted Nov. 14 to strike the plant because of the alleged speed ups and removal of former privileges granted to workers.

Country Schools Get More Aid

State Helps Rural Areas at Expense of Cities to Be Discussion Topic

A trend by which state school aid is being directed more and more to rural areas at the expense of urban areas will be discussed tonight at the Pontiac Board of Education meeting.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer will give a preliminary report on the situation, which he says is "disadvantageous" to Pontiac.

This year, for instance, for the first time the school district is operating with less than half its funds provided by the state, Whitmer said.

The discussion will be aimed at possible recommendations to the legislature, Whitmer added.

Whitmer also will report on the schools' program for closer cooperation with industry.

He will review a visit of a dozen Pontiac educators to the GMC Truck & Coach plant Nov. 29.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the board's offices, 40 Patterson St.

'Good Samaritans' Hold Victim, Let Thief Go

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—Longshoreman Paul De Hate was so angry today he didn't know the time of day.

Suddenly, after a stranger jostled him, De Hate realized his watch was gone. He caught up with the stranger, felled him and shook a confession from him.

Just then two Good Samaritans (?) came along and mistook the sinner for the sinned against.

They pulled De Hate from the battle and restrained him while the thief ran off with his watch.

FUR WHAT?—Those are not albino caterpillars attacking this model's face but pieces of white mink on an unusual hat by Svend of Paris. Rhinestone-dotted brown net drawn tightly about the head with a big bow comprises the rest of it.

Order Examination of ITU Mailers Local

DETROIT (AP)—An examination of the books of the Detroit Mailers Local No. 40 has been ordered by Circuit Judge Ira W. Jayne.

The International Typographical Union asked the examination yesterday.

Local 40, whose members are employed by Detroit Newspapers, voted recently to disaffiliate from the ITU. The ITU then ousted local President Max Burns and took over the local.

The ITU went to court to get books and records it said were missing.

Warm Welcome at Camp Kilmer

Operation Safe Haven Brings First Refugees to Air Force Base

CAMP KILMER, N.J. (AP)—The first Hungarians flying here on Operation Safe Haven got a warm welcome from the President's right hand man on refugee problems.

"Acting on behalf of President Eisenhower," Tracy S. Voorhees told the 199 Hungarians as they arrived at McGuire Air Force Base 45 miles south of here yesterday, "Welcome to the United States of America!"

Voorhees, who is special coordinator of the Hungarian refugee program, assured this nation's newest residents, "You have come among friends."

Then Voorhees shook hands with each refugee and patted the babies.

He was so enthusiastic about his work that when this reporter climbed down the ramp, Voorhees grabbed him by the hand, too, and cried on behalf of the President, "Welcome to America!"

These are the first of 9,500 Hungarians who are being flown here by Military Air Transport Service. Other Hungarians, of course, have been brought in on commercial flights and still others are coming by boat.

But this is the first of a big push to move the 9,500 by air before the end of the month.

It's a long and weary trip from Munich, where these refugees took off Tuesday, most of them on the first flight of their lives.

University Will Offer Pre-Journalism Award

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan will offer a $100 scholarship to a pre-journalism freshman next fall for the first time.

Known as the John L. Brumm Scholarship Award, it will honor the former chairman of the U. of M. Department of Journalism. Selection will come from the ranks of senior staffers now on Michigan high school publications and will be made by the scholarship committee of the Michigan Intercollegiate Press Assn.

Commerce Board Buys Vote Machines

Pleased with results of a voting machine trial this year, the Commerce Township Board last night voted to buy the three machines they rented earlier this year.

Under the option with the producing company, rent payments made will apply on the purchase price of the machine.

Two Seek Wayne Post

DETROIT (AP)—Alger F. Malo, Detroit Director of Streets and Traffic, says he will seek the Wayne County highway engineer's job. The $23,361-a-year post will be vacated Dec. 31 through retirement of Leroy C. Smith. Former Gov. Murray D. Van Wageningen also has filed an application for the job with the Wayne County Civil Service Commission.

State Police Nab Ousted Justice

Jacob A. Dalm Jr., who issued the gross indecency warrant against Williams, accused the justice of making immoral advances to a 30-year-old man whom he reportedly met in a restaurant in Vicksburg Oct. 29. Dalm did not name the man.

He added the warrant was not issued until yesterday because his office made "an intensive investigation" after the man reported the alleged incident to him Oct. 30.

Williams was scheduled for arraignment today in Kalamazoo Municipal Court.

Youth on Probation, Ordered to Cut Hair

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Convicted of slugging a fellow drag-racer, Lou Dale Wanek, 18, will serve a 34-hour jail sentence Saturday and as a condition of three years probation he'll have to forego his Elvis Presley haircuts.

Wanek had the long sideburns shaved off and when he returned to court Superior Judge Ralph K. Pierson commented:

"You look a lot better. There's going to be none of this bobtail, curls and ringlets stuff while you're on probation. A person's appearance generally reflects his inward thoughts."

Wanek was convicted of striking 17-year-old Edward Dobrinsky with a chain when he refused to accept a challenge for a race.

Bob Considine Says:

Letter Explains Fascination of the Far East

SYDNEY (INS)—The prospect of swinging again through Asia tantalizes the mind. This memo from our organization's top man in the Far East, Marvin Stone in Tokyo, provides some of the reasons:

Dear Bob and Millie:
So you're coming to Tokyo? Be sure to bring your long underwear and something for snakebite, and I hope you haven't lost your taste for raw squid and earthquakes.

It's getting on to Christmas and you'll find the Japanese celebrating it, not as a religious festival but as perhaps the most raucous of the activities Americans introduced during the late occupation.

It's sort of a ball. We've got jolly Oriental, clean-shaven 5-foot Santas cavorting on the Ginza.

In addition to the Christmas spirit, our American military also introduced burlesque to Japan and one perplexing residue is that at this time of the year you're likely to see a burlesque queen contorting to the strains of "Silent Night."

DON'T UNDERSTAND

Nothing irreverent is meant. It's just that the Army officers in charge of introducing the Christmas spirit didn't bother to get across the fine points of its religious significance in a land of Shinto.

About the long underwear—you'll really not need it unless you insist on being fashionable. On

Dec. 1, most Japanese go into long underwear even in the steam-heated offices, and I've yet to have a satisfactory explanation except that it's the style.

Snakebite is a new fad here. It consists mainly of pickling snakes in Scotch and letting it age. The guarantee is if you eat the snake and drink the scotch, it relieves all pain.

I mentioned raw squid, because although you can find some of the world's most cosmopolitan cooking in this city of eight million, you haven't lived without a plain meal of raw tuna or eel or abalone wrapped in seaweed. If you're served piping hot beancurd soup for breakfast, don't bat an eyelash.

We have so many earthquakes that the meteorological people give up counting them every year after the thousandth. Most are imperceptible to the human senses fortunately.

Nevertheless, you don't have to stir the sugar in your coffee if you're tired. Wait long enough and a tremor will come along and stir for you.

GEISHAS FADING

Tokyo is a great town for entertainment, but I'm afraid you'll be disappointed in the geishas. This is another legacy of our occupation under which most of the attractive women desert the ranks to become cabaret hostesses. This is because Americans never were able to figure out the subtleties of the geishas and preferred cabarets.

After a long period of deep, inscrutable suspicion, the Japanese themselves took to the cabaret system and now you'll find nightclubs as stylish, brassy and expensive as anything in Paris or New York.

Slate More Refugees for Detroit by Yule

DETROIT (AP)—More Hungarian refugees are scheduled to be brought to Detroit.

Dwight K. Hamborsky, assistant U.S. attorney, said Tuesday Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) told him a second plane load will reach Detroit before the Christmas holidays.

Hamborsky said the new group probably will come directly from Austria.

So far, about 50 refugees have reached the Detroit area. Forty-three were on a plane from the Camp Kilmer reception camp that arrived nine days ago.

Hamborsky said that all of the single men and heads of families have been provided with jobs and that all refugees have found lodgings. Two families have rented homes of their own, he said.

Guided Missile Goes on Unguided Spree

EDWARDS, Calif. (AP)—A Navy guided missile somehow broke contact with the jet plane that was guiding it on a test shot Tuesday. It streaked wildly across the desert and crashed 120 miles away on the edge of Death Valley.

The 33-foot Regulus surface-to-surface missile was undergoing a routine test under electronic control from the accompanying plane when it got away. The jet traced it to its crash site and a crew was sent to pick up the pieces.

The devices are being tested at this Mojave desert base under the accelerated missile program. They are built to permit aerial control by chase planes in order to conserve test costs. The planes ordinarily land the missiles on remote air strips.

Base officials said the guiding mechanism apparently failed after launching. The crash was three miles southwest of the community of Ryan.

Name President of Firm

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Marion A. Sherwood, 47, has been elected president of Grand Haven Stamped Products Co. by its board of directors, to succeed the late Paul A. Johnson Sr., who died Nov. 27. Sherwood has been secretary and manager of the firm.

The geishas? Well, they're having tough sledding and many fine traditional restaurants are going out of business. They never were what everyone said they were anyway.

The money here for some reason is called yen, and a dollar will buy you 360 of them. If you go to the racetrack (winter never stops the horses here) you start betting at 100 yen—which means for 28 cents you're improving the breed.

Taxes are much cheaper than in New York or Los Angeles. You can go six miles for a buck. But every sensible man carries risk insurance that runs it higher.

FORMER PILOTS
All the World War II Japanese

"Kamikaze" suicide pilots who survived now find employment as taxi drivers. They drive little toy cars that are great for sneaking through traffic, but it would take six to carry both you and Toots Shor.

I hope you won't have any language difficulties. You shouldn't because so many people speak English, like my barber who has a sign above his place that says, "Please come in and have your head cut."

Of course, the famous Tokyo Press Club still is going strong and hasn't changed much. The only life-sized Marilyn Monroe calendar in all Asia is in its bar. George Thomas Folster of NBC will be waiting for you. George points out that if you are inclined to take the famous Japanese ofura hot baths it will cost you a cent less than it will cost Millie. This is because the bathhouse owners figure a woman by washing her long hair uses a penny's worth more hot water than a man does.

I'm sure you and your wife appreciate that I've given you the offbeat version of Tokyo. It's a wonderful town, and actually hasn't changed much since your last visit in 1950.

Except, of course, that you'll see young Japanese couples walking hand-in-hand along the streets. It's something relatively new to the reserved Japanese, something those crazy emotional Americans introduced.

Oil Production Up in Rocky Mountains

DENVER (INS)—Oil production in the Rocky Mountain region is at an all-time peak of some 600,000 barrels per day as increasing demand from Europe drains supplies from other areas.

Production figures show a definite rise in output since the Middle Eastern crisis began. Increased prices being paid for crude oil in many parts of the region also helped the production boost.

Only a small portion of the oil from the mountain states is being sent directly to Europe via Gulf Coast ports. However, shipment to eastern states has increased.

During the past 20 years the number of pupils transported to and from school buildings at public expense has increased by 350 per cent.

Group to Hibernates on Lonely Fox Island

PETOSKY (AP)—A group of 19 men and two women plan to winter on lonely Fox Island, 45 miles west of Petosky in Lake Michigan, where they operate a lumber camp.

Their contact with the "mainland" will be limited to weekly plane flights by a Harbor Springs flying service and cargo trips by the 65-foot lumber freighter, Tramp, from Charlevoix and Northport.

Sterling Nickerson, whose Sterling Nickerson & Sons Lumber Co. of Kingsley operates about 900 acres on the island, plans to keep the camp and mill in operation through the winter as he did two years ago.

Food is prepared for camp lumberjacks and mill hands by Sterling's daughter-in-law, Eva Nickerson, who is assisted by Mrs. Wayne Silvonen.

DOWN*Vaccine Fails to Save Youth*Foundation Says Death
First on Record After Taking Three Shots

NEW YORK (U)—The National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis said today the death of a boy from polio after he received the full three doses of Salk vaccine was the first known case of its kind.

"He was simply one of those rare types that do not respond to vaccine," a foundation spokesman said.

He said the death of James Thomson, 15, of Seattle, Wash., was the first polio fatality known among 43 million youngsters who have received at least one shot, including seven million fully immunized.

The boy died Nov. 29, about three months after he got his last shot in the series.

The foundation spokesman emphasized that this time lag made it impossible for there to be any connection between the vaccine and the boy's contracting of the disease.

"We've said from the beginning that the vaccine was not 100 percent effective," he said. "Some people, a small fraction simply do not respond to vaccine of any kind."

"They don't build up antibodies.
The vaccine didn't help this boy, or hurt him, he just wasn't touched by the vaccine."

He said there still are some 30 million youngsters in the susceptible age group who have had no Salk shots, and that a massive program is now on to try to reach them.

They must get shots soon if they are to be protected against polio during its peak season next summer, he said, as eight months is required to establish protection by the series of shots.

New York Paper Says U.S. Will Delay H-Tests

NEW YORK (U)—The New York
Post said today in a Washington dispatch that "the United States has decided to suspend further major H-bomb tests at least through 1957."

The newspaper said the Atomic Energy Commission soon will announce that next year's nuclear tests will be restricted to the area of Las Vegas, Nev.

"This will be a guarded way of discussing that no large-scale H-bomb tests are planned," the Post said.

The story, by Robert G. Spivack, said:

"It is also understood that the government intends not to resume
H-bomb tests even after next year, if world conditions improve."

"The reasons are: Public safety and the need for some dramatic step to ease international tensions."

The Post said its information came from "the highest sources."

"Ironically," the article continued, "the administration is following—in many particulars—the course advocated by Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for president, and about which top officials, from President Eisenhower down, were scornful during the election campaign."

"The reasons are: Public safety
and the need for some dramatic step to ease international tensions."

Licenses for Lighters Demanded in Spain

MADRID (INS)—Cigarette lighters must be licensed in Spain according to a new ruling of the Finance Ministry.

Persons not carrying their lighter licenses will be subject to confiscation of their lighters and fines, after April 30, 1957.

Lighters made in Spain pay 10 Pesetas (25 cents yearly) and foreign-made lighters pay 30 pesetas (75c).

Easy Come, Easy Go!

WAUSAU, Wis. (U)—Lost or stolen bicycles laying unclaimed at police headquarters for weeks at a time are a sign of a new attitude by youth toward such possessions, says Chief of Police Everett Gleason. "There was a time when a youngster ran all the way to the police station when his bicycle was missing," said Gleason. "Today they apparently get their bicycles with so little difficulty they don't bother to report their losses."

Fight Over Bus Plates

DETROIT (AP)—A union squabble has developed over attaching the new front license plates to Detroit's fleet of 1,700 buses. Bus maintenance workers, members of the Municipal Employees Union said the work should be done by autobody repairmen because holes have to be drilled for the plates. DSR officials said the protest is being studied by the DSR Commission.

Maine enacted its first prohibition law in 1846 and made it a part of its state constitution in 1884.

To Relocate Building of Misco Fabricators

PORT HURON (AP)—A Detroit firm says it will relocate its plant in the former Dow Magnesium Co. building at nearby Marysville. Garth Thompson, president and general manager of Misco Fabricators, Inc., said Tuesday he hopes to start operations in Marysville with 30 to 35 employees within two weeks. Misco's Detroit plant was destroyed by fire.

The firm is the fourth to be brought to the Port Huron area by the Industrial Development

Corp., organized in 1931 to promote industrial expansion in the Port Huron, Marysville area. Misco manufactures stainless steel equipment and heat resistant alloys.

First federal tax on gasoline was imposed in 1932.

Hungarian Athletes Return to Budapest

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A French airliner landed here with 45 Hungarians from the Olympic games in Melbourne. Most of them were expected to go on to Budapest by special train.

"We must return to Budapest because our families are there," one member of the Hungarian water polo team told reporters.

A second plane carrying 82 more Hungarian athletes is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow. Today's group was to await the arrival of the second plane before leaving for Budapest.

It is estimated that one of every 250 working persons in the United States is employed in some phase of the printing or publishing industries.

All-Around Twins Join U. S. Services

HUDSONVILLE, Mich. (U)—The parallel careers of twin physicians have diverged slightly now that the two have joined the armed forces. Dr. Robert D. Visscher is in the Navy. His twin, Dr. Harrison C. Visscher, is in the Army.

Both were noted athletes and scholars in high school and college; they attended medical school together and each married his college sweetheart. They each have one child. And both entered private practice as associates of other physicians prior to going into service.

Earth Satellite Project Reported as on Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The creators of the earth satellite say they think they'll meet the target date set for launching artificial little moon-lets into the lower reaches of space.

Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the "Vanguard" satellite program for the Navy, told newsmen yesterday "we are essentially on schedule" in the project.

The White House has asked that the U. S. military and civilian scientists be ready to send up satellites during the International Geophysical Year beginning next July.

A dozen satellites are planned by the United States to be used in delving into the secrets of high altitudes, from a height of 200 to 1,500 miles.

Last night, Dr. Joseph Kaplan told an Ohio University audience in Athens he believes the first of the satellites will be launched about Jan. 1, 1958, Kaplan, chairman of the U. S. National Committee for the Geophysical Year, said "it will be a good percentage" if six of the satellites turn out successfully.

Hagen insisted that "we are not in any way racing with Russia."

which also is participating in the scientific program and has announced plans to launch its own earth satellites.

Hagen made the comments to newsmen who toured the naval research laboratory where work on the project is being done. The idea is that three powerful stages of rockets will carry a 20-inch metal sphere high enough to go into an orbit around the earth at 18,000 miles an hour.

The sphere will be crammed with instruments and automatic radio transmitters for sending data back to earth.

How long the first satellite will stay aloft depends on how high it can be fired, Hagen said. If it reaches a level of about 300 miles, it could continue whizzing around the earth in an elliptical orbit for about a year. But if it should climb only to 100 miles, its life aloft might be only an hour or two. Then it would fall into the thick atmosphere and burn up like a meteor.

Prototypes of satellites are being made here, but the actual spheres which will be used are produced by the Detroit firms of Brooks and Perkins.

Store Gains Fame With Spelling Error

TURNERSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A foxey retailer has displayed a sign atop his store here for many years that challenges the spelling of the King's English. It reads: "Hobin's Stoor."

Inside sits an affable Irishman, John Hobin, 77, who has long since become used to people stopping by to tell him how to spell "store."

They've come from as far away as New York. School children stop by to tell him it's misspelled. But John's nobody's fool. The fading sign "Hobin's Stoor," has made his out-of-the-way establishment known throughout the state. People who otherwise would never have heard of Turnersville or Hobin have come by to see the sign.

The state of Washington has the purest known silica deposits in the United States.

Plague Take It, Kids Complained in 1857, Too

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Parents who say that their teenage offspring do nothing but gripe better not claim things were different in "the good old days."

The complaint "I never can do a thing, never can have anything" may sound familiar to modern fathers and mothers.

However, 16-year-old Elizabeth Gurney Taylor wrote that phrase in her diary about 100 years ago.

Elizabeth was peeved on Feb. 10, 1857 because she had to stay home and do household chores instead of attending a school program.

"Plague take it all," she wrote, "I feel so out of patience I don't know what to do. Buckle into the kitchen all day and stay home at night because we haven't got any hired girl."

The 1857 teenager went on to say that she was ruining her hands by "washing dishes and cleaning spittoons."

Elizabeth lived on a farm near Three Rivers, Michigan. Her diary is part of the University of Michigan's Historical Collection.

First express shipment by air to cross an international border was in 1931 when some ship parts as well as 146 hatching eggs were shipped from Florida to a South American city.

Corn-Fed Girls, Hogs 'Better' 'n City-Bred

CHISHOLM, Tex. (AP) — Farmer Sam Baker says there's something about country living that makes hogs and women more wholesome.

A hog that's been "penned up in town and fed on loose garbage and stuff," he explains, will be "flabby and soft."

"It's the same with women,"

No Apples for Teachers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A company which wanted to welcome the annual convention of the Arizona Teachers Assn., left a barrel of apples in the school gymnasium where the meeting was to be held. But there were no apples for the teachers when they arrived. The students got there first.

Didn't Take Judge Long

Figuring Short Division

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — When Mr. and Mrs. William T. Ohlhauser couldn't get together on a division of their community property, the divorce court judge ordered it all brought before him.

Their worldly goods were spread before him — one ironing board, four tea glasses, a lamp and a meat grinder.

Ohlhauser got the ironing board and meat grinder and his wife got the tea glasses and lamp.

U. of M. Engineer Lists Benefits of Vulcanizing Tires With Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal to vulcanize rubber tires from nuclear power was heard here Tuesday.

Richard E. Balzhiser, a University of Michigan nuclear engineer, outlined the advantages of vulcanization by using steam and radioactive gases from reactors in a paper presented to the American Nuclear Society.

Balzhiser is a former Michigan fullback and holds a master's degree in nuclear engineering. He is now studying for his Ph.D. in metallurgical engineering while serving as an assistant coach of the Michigan freshman football team.

He wrote that a 75-million-watt reactor could provide enough heat and radiation for vulcanizing 17,000 tires daily. This compares, he said, with the 12,500 tire capacity of a plant with similar power using heat vulcanization.

Balzhiser said radiation would be particularly useful in making large truck and aircraft tires.

His plan consists of piping steam and radioactive gases from a liquid-metal-fuel reactor into nearby chambers while the tires pass by the pipes.

County Officers Guests at Detroit Safety Dinner

Two members of the Oakland County Sheriff Department Safety Division will be guest speakers at the sixth annual safety dinner meeting of the N. H. Alders Trucking Co. of Detroit to be held at the Northland Civic Center at 8 p.m. today.

Officers Stephen Navarre and Paul Carpenter will talk on "Public Opinion Toward Truck Drivers" and also discuss licenses. The pair were invited to attend the Detroit firm's function since 75 per cent of its vehicles operate on local highways. The company concentrates largely on hauling gravel with plants in Oxford and New Hudson two of its major customers.

Chinese Commies Start Early to Win Young Minds

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
PEIPING (AP) — Wei Chu-tu is 7 years old and in the first grade. Already he can tell you "Chairman Mao Tse-tung is the great leader of our country."

He wants to be a telegrapher when he grows up "so I can serve the people."

This black-haired, black-eyed boy is one of 1,451 children who attend Peiping's No. 2 Central Primary School, where they aim to make youngsters into model workers. Its educational course clings to the party line like a clothespin.

No. 2 School is a pleasant group of buildings behind an ivy-covered wall near the north gate of the Tartar City. Trees and flowers burst through the pavement of the courtyard. Children cultivate the garden with guidance from a cooperative farm outside the city.

The school grounds are meticulously clean. So are the children. They are obviously happy, extremely healthy and incredibly well behaved. They burst into applause at the sight of a strange Westerner. The teachers fawn over them like pets.

Indoctrination begins at the door. On a bulletin board in the main hall is an essay on China's National Day by a seventh grader. It says: "Once again this year we will have the happy opportunity of seeing Chairman Mao and the central government."

"But we do not teach politics in the early grades," said Mrs. Chang Ping Ching, a smiling, middle-aged woman with a Picasso dove button on the collar of her grey slack suit.

At one end of the reception room are portraits of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin, facing a picture of Mao on the opposite wall. Under the portraits is the inevitable long-handled spittoon, a feature of every public room in Peiping. "Of course the model childhoods of these great men are taught to even the youngest child," she said. "And every student learns to be a good student of Chairman Mao."

The first-grade picture books tell about cooperative farms and model factory workers. There is one good old dragon-filled Chinese fantasy.

Writing and language study begin in the first grade. After visiting cooperative farms, factories and construction projects "where they are inspired by the workers," upper grade students are capable of writing essays and poetry — on national politics.

"Certainly they learn about lands other than China," Mrs. Chang said. "They learn about all countries."

"Russia, for instance. We teach them everything about Russia. The Soviet is the leader of world peace and socialism. Our countries have the same aims."

"The United States? Yes, that is taught too, but with limitations. We only take what is useful to us — their scientific development, for instance. They do not learn about the government or the history. Those things are harmful."

In books, pamphlets and magazines, Chinese respect for the scholar has been replaced by respect for the scientist, and "intellectual" usually refers to an engineer.

School is not compulsory. An official estimate shows 62 million pupils registered in primary schools across this country of 600 millions.

Physical punishment has been abolished.

"We punish them by explaining that they cannot serve the people when they grow up, if they misbehave," said Mrs. Chang.

Traffic Expert Takes South Viet Nam Post

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — City Traffic Engineer Jerome D. Franklin, 33, leaves his Grand Rapids post Jan. 14 to take up duties as traffic consultant to the government of South Vietnam at Saigon. Franklin goes to the new job under the auspices of Michigan State University. He came to Grand Rapids from Trenton, N.J., in 1948.

City Manager's Task

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The municipal civil service board told 13 detectives and eight fire alarm operators Tuesday to direct their pay complaints first to the city manager. The two groups, claiming pay discrimination under a recent municipal job and pay classification study, were promised hearings Jan. 8 before the civil service board if the complaints are not settled in the meantime.

Williams to Request More Aid for Wayne

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams will ask the legislature to appropriate an additional $285,650 to enable the Wayne State University medical school to increase its freshman class from 75 to 125 students.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, acting in the absence of the governor, said the request will be in addition to the $6,479,266 state appropriation which Wayne will get under the state's plan to take the university over gradually.

The medical school presently has a capacity of 68 new students a year. The goal of 125 medical students would represent an 85 per cent increase.

The budget request will include $84,000 for additional laboratory equipment and $201,650 for additional operating funds.

1,000 Gallons of Oil Lost

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A tank truck driven by Richard A. Stoddard, 37, capsized Tuesday while attempting to pass an auto on a southwestern Grand Rapids street and spilled about 1,000 gallons of motor oil. Police said Stoddard escaped injury. Motorist Siebrant VanderWert, 71, of Holland, was treated at Grandville Clinic for shock and minor injuries. Firemen flushed the oil from the street.

Asks More Trunkline

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The city commission voted Tuesday to join with the chamber of commerce in a petition asking the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington to authorize additional trunkline air service for Grand Rapids, which now lists Capital Airlines as its lone major trunk service.

'Wives Handle Bills; No Doubt, and Silver, Too

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Husband and wife share the family pants when it comes to making big financial decisions, a University of Michigan survey found.

But wives keep track of money and bills in 40 per cent of the households investigated, husbands in 26 per cent and both in 34 per cent. Husbands get the biggest say-so in deciding on the family car. They give the final OK in 70 per cent of cases.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery
un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-A-S-T-I-C-H stimulate it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy. SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions. IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 50¢ for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

LOSES NO TIME—Alice Slezak, 23, in the U. S. only a short time as a refugee from the Red terror in Hungary, has won the first of ten scholarships the University of Chicago has established for her fellow escapees. A pre-medical student, Miss Slezak said she was dismissed from the University of Budapest in 1954 after disagreeing with a Russian physiologist.

Carve Cathedral in Salt Mine

Nearing Completion, It's Notre Dame Size; Can Contain 5,000

BOGOTA, Columbia (INS)—An underground cathedral as large as Notre Dame is approaching completion near Bogota.

It is being carved in a salt mine. A central nave 430 feet long and two side naves of the same length and capable of accommodating 5,000 persons already are finished.

A parking area inside the underground cathedral can take care of a thousand cars. All you have to do is drive through the main entrance to the church.

Started some years ago, the Cathedral of Our Lady of the Rosary is the realization of a life-long dream of a village priest developing the house of worship from the huge vaulted tunnels built by salt miners of the past 400 years.

The hollowed-out mountain is forty miles from Bogota over a good road and is already a mecca for worshippers from many lands. When it is finished, it is expected that it will be visited by 200,000 persons a year. Admission is free.

Actually the lines consist of a series of catacombs—fifty miles of tunnels winding several miles deep into the earth, and at some points, located at three different levels. All of the tunnels are electrically lighted and have markers at the turns to guide visitors and sightseers.

Progress Crushes Another Christmas Tradition

Now Yaks, Not Reindeer, Come With Santa

By PHYLIS BATELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Every year the cold, firm fist of progress socks a few more old-fashioned Christmas traditions in the head—leaving the sentimentalists among us feeling vaguely as if we'd been robbed of our peppermint sticks and jelly beans.

Take this year, for instance. They've abolished the reindeer and substituted the yak, the llama, the elephant.

Now, nobody has anything against yaks. As a matter of fact, young yaks are rather cute in a hairy, horned way.

But to see them strolling through the Santa-land department of Gimbel's—where traditionally the reindeer has reigned at Yule shopping time—is distressing.

Even the round man in the white beard and red cap who jostles little urchins on his knee is having a hard time getting used to the fact that he's equipped with a 24-beast menagerie this year. No deer included. If you listen very closely, you observe a note of bewilderment in his ho-ho-ho.

WHERE IS DONDER?

"What happened," we asked

"Mr. Luke," the display manager of the store, "to the reindeer? Where is Donder? Who blitzed Blitzen?"

Luke adopted the tolerant air that store managers bestow upon kiddies who have just ripped the tail off a $25 bear while mother was buying a $1.95 bingo set.

"My dear madame," he said, pained, "we are spending more money than ever before to import these yaks and their friends from Catskill, N. Y., to 33rd street. After many years of featuring reindeer, we felt a change was in order."

"Children today are sophisticated. Santa could come into town on an aardvark and they'd be fascinated. It's just the old-timers who really care about technicalities like what type of animal is bringing the toys."

In other words, the toy is the thing. Santa Claus is the manufacturer, and the mode of transportation is incidental. There may even be some shrewd youngsters today who prefer to think of St. Nick as zipping into the chimney area by supersonic jet... now that, as every aware kid knows, they are establishing airstrips at the North Pole.

CAMELS, ZEBRAS

Feeling like a fuddy-duddy we left Mr. Luke to wander through the Gimbel menagerie, eight cages full of animals, from camel to zebra, which had been rented from a game farm in upstate New York.

This being the first "zoo" ever presented to the children by a department store, Luke and his cohorts had to go to Lloyds of London to insure themselves against personal injuries. There was no precedent for the exhibit, so American firms wouldn't give them a policy on the baby beasts.

Children were six-deep around every animal, squatting, squirming and bucking parental shins in an effort to see more.

The animals, soothed by music piped into their cages, stared back at people with small, amiable eyes and, except for an occasional bray from the pair of donkeys, held their peace.

There was considerable yakking about the yaks, but true to the traditions of Tibet they remained mystically aloof from these little, stunted foreigners who bore down on them screaming "Ooh, Mommy, whassat?"

NOT ONE INQUIRY

In more than an hour of observing the passing mob, not once did I hear any child inquire solicitously after the reindeer set.

Nor did one small fry question the fact that Santa Claus seems thinner and paler this year (at least the afternoon shift Claus does), or that his assistants are oversized for gnomes and wearing serge suits.

That's life, I guess. You never miss a reindeer until you're too old to want toys, and you don't notice the size of Santa's paunch until you have one yourself. Ah, back at people with small, amiable

Romance Via Radar

WAVERLY, Iowa (H)—An Air Force radar site near Waverly has proved to be a boon for marriageable girls in this section. In the first year of an airman squadron's assignment there, 44 men were married to girls in the area. That was in 1952. Since then, an average of 12 airmen per year have married Waverly area girls.

Oil-Rich Iraq Produces Also Grain, Many Dates

WASHINGTON—Mobilization of Near East armies draws close attention to oil-rich Iraq, the most prosperous of the Arab states. A forceful member of the Arab League, Iraq adjoins three of its allies—Saudi Arabia, Jordan, and Syria. It shares a long eastern arc of frontiers with Turkey, Iran, and the Sheikdom of Kuwait.

In contrast to the Near East norm, the ancient land of Mesopotamia has a relatively sparse population among abundant natural resources—immense oil reserves, fertile soil, and water, the National Geographic says.

Many of Iraq's 171,599 square miles are flinty scrub desert similar to the American Southwest. Most of its 5,000,000 people live in the long green valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates. The land normally yields more grain than Iraq needs and produces four-fifths of the world's dates.

OUT OF OIL, A NEW EDEN

Sputting from the mountains of Turkish Kurdistan, the Tigris and Euphrates flow as parallel arteries across Iraq, merging as the Shatt al 'Arab to spill into the Persian Gulf. Tradition locates the Garden of Eden in this area; excavations show evidence of an ancient great flood.

It is though oil that Iraq hopes to harness today's floods and recreate a modern Garden of Eden. More than 30,000,000 tons of petroleum surge from Iraqi oil wells each year. Under a 1950 law, the Government puts 70 percent of oil revenues into a national development fund.

Technical assistance is needed, but Iraq is financing its own flood-control dams, irrigation systems, roads, bridges, railroads, airports, schools, hospitals, public housing, power and industrial plants.

The bright potential contrasts tragically with the meager living eked out for centuries by Iraq's masses. Not until the era of oil wealth could the cradle of civilization begin—once again—to rock. Few ancient cultures have given so much to the progress of mankind. It is possible that western civilization dawned in Mesopotamia. The first known villages flourished in northern Iraq perhaps 7,000 years ago.

GIFTS FROM MESOPOTAMIA

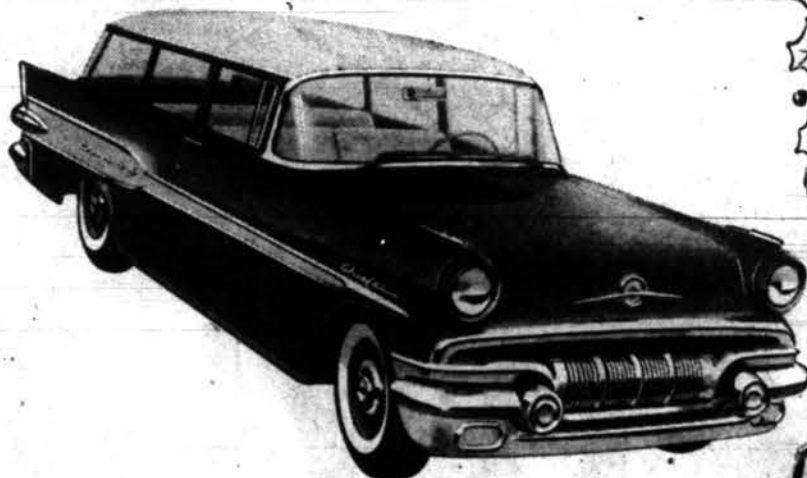

Sumerians, in 3000 B. C., discovered and passed on a priceless legacy: the art of writing. Some of their words—chicory, crocus, and saffron—are familiar today. Among other things, the Sumerians produced the true arch, the earliest sun-dried bricks, and a fine straight razor.

From the empires of Sumer, Babylonia, and Assyria came brilliant and original concepts of philosophy, and mathematics. The Assyrian city of Nineveh came to end of a glorious 4,000-year career before Rome was founded. At the height of Babylon's Golden Age, Nebuchadnezzar built the Hanging Gardens for his queen.

Centuries later, while Europe groped through the Dark Ages, the Baghdad of the Caliphs and "Arabian Nights" rose to pre-eminence as a center of world art and learning. Conquest, first by the Mongols and then by the Ottoman Turks, wrecked the country's irrigation system and reduced its people to poverty.

Mesopotamia remained a part of Turkey until the end of World War I when a British mandate was set up with Arab Chieftain Faisal as king. A treaty ended the mandate in 1932, and Iraq became a constitutional monarchy. Faisal's 21-year-old grandson, Faisal II, rules today.

1956 Broadway Bests Named by Earl Wilson

NEW YORK — And so here they are . . . our 1956 "Broadway Bests."

Elvis Presley beat President Eisenhower for the Man of the Year by a hair (a sideburn) . . . Julie Andrews of England and Rox Russell of Connecticut were Broadway's Gals of the Year . . . Rex Harrison, the Oh Boy of the Year . . . "My Fair Lady" not only The Hit but The Headache . . . Tina Louise and Mickey Hargitay were the Most Heavenly Bodies.

ANIMAL OF THE YEAR: "Hound Dog" . . . Best Parties: Perle Mesta's at Chicago, Liz Arden's at San Francisco . . . Best New Broadway Actresses: Gena Rowlands, Virginia Gibson . . . Best Actors: Pat Hingle, Sydney Chaplin and Fernando Lamas . . . Special Acting Award: Confidential Publisher Bob Harrison for his act about being shot . . . Best Comeback: Ex-Mayor William O'Dwyer's.

LOVER OF THE YEAR: Mike Todd . . . Biggest Wolves: Victor Mature, Jack Carter, Dick Cowell . . . Most Forgotten Man: Group Capt. Peter Townsend . . . Best Gag: "Joe Smith" . . . Best Stunt: In Monaco, when "Miss Kelly" gave a party for the press "at the palace." It was Mary Kelly of Dave Garraway's show—at the Palace Hotel.

BEST MELODY: "Poor People of Paris" . . . Biggest Hollywood Sex Appealers: Yul Brynner (m) and Jayne Mansfield (f) . . . Girl Who Made the Biggest Splash: Diana Dors . . . Best Taste: Margaret Truman's Wedding . . . Saddest Flop: The Ziegfeld Follies . . . Best Hollywood Tag: "Pilltown, U. S. A."

BEST DRESSED MAN: Manie Sacks, NBC Veep, who has both a new white-tie-and-tails AND a new cutaway . . . Biggest Bustups: Godfrey and Frank Parker, Martin and Lewis, Caesar and Nanette Fabray, George Gobel and Peggy King, Eddie Fisher and Coke.

MOST OVERWORKED GAG: "I went to see 'The 10 Commandments' and could only stay for five." Sneakiest Wedding: Terry Moore's.

MOST TALENTED PLAYWRIGHT: Arthur Miller (marryin' Marilyn took something) . . . Best New Comics: Sue Carson, Rowan and Martin, Ernie Kovacs, Jonathan Winter, Buddy Backett . . . Top Cafe Stars: Joe E. Lewis, Harry Belafonte, Eartha Kitt, Dorothy Lamour, Pearl Bailey . . . Greatest Individual Stage Triumph: Sammy Davis Jr.

I almost forgot Judy Holliday who just seems to be the Best-All-Round-Everything in "Bells Are Ringing."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Julius La Rosa bought his missus, who's expecting, a black diamond mink coat with a hood . . . "Auntie Mame" is such a sellout that Rox Russell, its star, could get only balcony seats for her son, Lance.

Lionel Hampton's braintrust ruled out a tour of Israel: too dangerous . . . Vic Bendina, a hackie outside Shor's, played a bit on the Gleason TV'er; next night he was back in his hack . . . Rob't Q. Lewis goes dramatic on "Studio One" Dec. 24 . . . French singer Lily Chantal, now a hit in Canada, makes her local debut in '57.

George Raft will join the Jimmy Durante act after it leaves N.Y. . . . Sonja Henie's looking for someone to help with her autobiography . . . Mrs. Joe Louis is buying a Manhattan apt. house . . . Tyrone Power's London romance is actress Mai Zetterling . . . Frank Sinatra wants to shoot the rest of his movies at night—when he can't sleep . . . Cartoonist Al Capp recalls he flunked arithmetic 11 times: "That's why I like to earn money in round figures, like a million dollars."

Earl's Pearls . . . One doctor has made millions with a simple formula. If his patients play golf, he tells them to stop, if they don't play golf, he orders them to start.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Hollywood," notes Lou Apuzzo, "is where secret marriages often don't last much longer than the secret."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Those automatic dishwashers are real work-savers," enthuses Herb Sherry. "Now, all a husband has to do is dry."

Victor Borge, who did a TV show, was asked if he plans another one-man show. "I suppose so," he said, "—I don't see how we could do it with less." That's earl, brother.

How Santa's Time Table Spreads to Cover World

Santa Claus may not be quite as busy as you might think. His job is made a bit easier because he doesn't have to complete his chores in one night. Not every country practices the giving of gifts on Dec. 25.

In Holland, Belgium and Germany the time is Dec. 6. In Austria many communities celebrate Dec. 5 as gift giving time.

In Switzerland, a tiny nation of intermingled and overlapping cultures, languages and religions, there are two different dates for Santa. In Roman Catholic sections the Swiss Christmas season begins on Dec. 6, the feast of St. Nicholas. In most Protestant sections, mainly around Geneva, the celebration is on St. Lucia's Day, Dec. 13.

In Sweden and Hungary, Dec. 13 is the day for presents.

In England Dec. 26, St. Stephen's Day or Boxing Day, is the customary time for giving presents to the poor and to public servants (postmen, milkmen, etc.).

Family gift giving, however, is the same as in the United States—Dec. 25.

Gifts are not exchanged at Christmas in France and Scotland. Family reunions and celebrations take place on New Year's Day instead.

In Latin America, Dec. 25 is strictly a religious day and not one for gift giving. The end of the one-month feast period—Jan. 6—is the time for festivities and giving of presents to the children.

Santa's timetable probably looks like this:

Dec. 5 — Austria, Dec. 6 — Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium; Dec. 13 — Switzerland, Sweden, Hungary; Dec. 25 — United States and England, Dec. 26 — England (Boxing Day gifts), Jan. 1 — France and Scotland, Jan. 6 — Mexico, Central and South America; Jan. 7 — North Pole and much needed rest.

Ziegler Dedicates Road

GRAND HAVEN — Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler and department officials were scheduled to join Grand Haven leaders Wednesday at the formal dedication of the new US-31, a 4½-mile stretch of divided highway leading south from Grand Haven. The road has been in use for three months. A section of about two miles from the south city limits to near the north end, is lighted for night use by 123 mercury-vapor lights, in use since Dec. 4.

State Gets 390 Seats to Ike Inauguration

DETROIT — Michigan today was allocated 390 vantage point seats for President Eisenhower's inauguration Jan. 21.

Prices will range from $7.50-$18.75, with ticket applications to be channeled through the various Michigan Republican county chairmen.

John Fejens, state GOP chairman, who left for Washington today to confer with the committee handling inauguration arrangements, said he did not believe Michigan Republicans would run any special train to Washington as the yidid on inauguration day, 1953.

Bananas were first imported into the U.S. in 1867.

U.S. Won't Hike Aid to Egypt, Britain Told

LONDON (INS) — The British government states it has been informed by the United States there will be no increase in American aid to Egypt.

Minister of State Lord Reading told the House of Lords: "We have been assured that the United States government has no plan for changing the status of its aid to Egypt from the position it occupied before the Israeli invasion. It was at that time running upon a very modest basis."

Reading referred to reports that the U.S. would boost assistance to Egypt once the current crisis had simmered down.

About three million adults in the U.S. never attended any kind of school.

Happens Every Year

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — The angry taxpayer stormed in to protest an assessment of $4,256 on a car that only cost $2,800 "and didn't have any of that extra stuff either."

Bradley Brown, Jefferson County revenue director, says it happens every year. The taxpayer purchased his car April 2, 1956 and this was entered on the assessment form as 4 2 56—and misinterpreted by the owner as being the assessment.

Vote School Expansion

LAKE ODESSA — The State Municipal Finance Commission Tuesday approved a $460,000 bond issue, approved by district voters last Oct. 5, for construction of a new elementary school and for remodeling of the present high school.

The Cookooorookoo Bird

All over Europe in the middle ages children were familiar with representations of strange animals and birds. Big tapestries hung on castle walls picturing weird creatures, and carvings in churches showed dragons and unicorns.

Here is a Cookooorookoo, a strange bird somewhat like those found in old pictures and carvings. Mount this page on cardboard or stiff paper and color with crayons. Make the bird's crest and feet red, his beak yellow and his body blue with bright stripes on the wings and tail. Color the base yellow with green foliage.

Cut out the parts and along the slit indicated in the base. Cut on the dotted line along the wing and it will stand out from the body. Fasten the bird to the background through the indicated holes (A) with a brass fastener or bent pin. Fold back the end panels and the bird will stand.

Take hold of the bird's crest and pull him forward. He will poke his beak into the opening and look for food. If you split his beak as indicated, you can put the green leaf in his mouth.

(Mary Ann Kocsis, South Norwalk, Conn., wins $10 for sending in this idea first. Perhaps you have an idea for Junior Editors. If so send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP News-features.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (U) — Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman, misunderstood that thing called power. He stuck his neck out, and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn chopped it off.

Butler asked 20 Democrats, including 11 members of Congress, to serve as advisers who would coordinate efforts in behalf of Democratic programs and principles.

Butler heads this 20-man committee, supposedly a guiding force for the party which in effect was left leaderless when Adlai E. Stevenson lost the election. There will be no single party leader until the Democrats pick their presidential candidate in 1960.

The day-by-day practicing leadership of the party rests with the Democrats in Congress. They are the ones who will have to establish whatever record the party offers the voters in the congressional elections of 1958 and then in 1960.

Rayburn and a fellow Texan, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic floor leader, are thus the party's guiding force and the two most powerful Democrats in the capital.

It was the idea of Butler and the Democratic Executive Committee that the 20-member advisory group could help shape a program on which the party could stand in the next two elections.

This meant Rayburn, Johnson and the other members of Congress would be sharing their power with the advisory committee when they didn't really have to.

Butler and the executive committee may have felt that by having Rayburn, Johnson and other congressional Democrats sitting in with the advisory committee they might be spurred to more liberal programs than they have pushed in the past.

But the way Butler went about issuing his invitations to the 20 advisers left him open to embarrassment. And he got it.

If he had asked each of the 20 individually and quietly whether he would serve, anyone declining could have done so with no one besides Butler being any the wiser.

Instead, he announced the 20 names publicly first. Rayburn and three other Democratic House leaders told Butler they would be glad to consult with the committee.

But Rayburn made no promises to follow the committee's ideas. Johnson hasn't been heard from yet but he probably will decline too.

The only members of Congress who have accepted so far are Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Stevenson's running mate this year, and Rep. Edith Green of Oregon.

Butler also invited four Democratic governors and one Democratic mayor. Only Gov. Averell Harriman of New York so far has accepted. Former President Truman and Stevenson were invited and accepted.

You Don't Like to Tip? Then Blame Yourself

OMAHA (INS) — If you are one of those persons who is aggravated by what seem to be the outstretched hands of waiters, maids, d. hatcheck girl and doorman when you go out to dine, you only have yourself to blame. That's the definitive word from a restaurant executive who should know.

John O. Sabatos of New York told members of the Nebraska Restaurant Association that his chain had experimented by putting no-tipping signs in 14 of its 168 restaurants.

Although menu prices were adjusted accordingly and waitresses were given raises, the public "tipped under the table" and the changes had to be dropped. Evidently people secretly like the feeling they get through tipping those who serve them.

Illuminating Statistic

CLEVELAND — If wired together and illuminated, the fluorescent lamps produced in this country during the past 18 years would form a line of light from the earth to the moon and back again, a distance of nearly 478,000 miles.

Principal Creates Own Ding-Dong School

TAMPA, Fla. (U) — Something went haywire the other day with the bell system which signals time to change classes at Plant High School.

But assistant principal Orrin M. Schlacter was equal to the emergency. At the end of each period, he spoke briefly over the intercommunications systems which links the classrooms.

Chemical Sales at Peak

NEW YORK — Sales of $11,900,000,000 in chemicals and allied products in the United States in the first six months of 1956 established a new record, 5.8 per cent higher than the level for the first half of 1955, which also was a record breaker.

Production was also higher than ever before, 8 per cent above the 1955-period figure.

A 200-pound man would weigh only 74 pounds on Mars.

All Shapes, Sizes—Each Begins 'Dear Santa'

They come in all imaginable sizes and shapes, with childish printing, others firm and parent-guided. Scrawled on paper bags, the back of magazine subscription blanks, and written down a long strip of adding-machine paper—but they come.

Do they ever! Santa Claus, despite attempts to brand it as a precious legend, lives on and on in youthful minds. As fast as some grow out of it, many more listen wide-eyed to the tale for the first time.

And although the requests may be a little hard to make out sometimes, the names and addresses are written with extreme care. They don't want Santa to have any trouble locating them.

When the time comes to convey their desires to the round gentleman at the North Pole, they seize anything at all to use. In addition to the usual penned and penciled messages and lists, there are crayoned letters, typewritten notes, and one even had a finger painting on it.

Many of the youngsters whose letters came to The Pontiac Press to be forwarded to St. Nick included brief testimonials on their good behavior.

Still another good share of letters began with a list of gifts wanted—without any preliminaries at all.

For a few youngsters, the letter is a supplement, to provide a few additional remarks that they forgot when they sat on Santa's knee at a local store.

Santa will not go without his reward, either.

Midnight rendezvous in the kitchen with milk and sandwiches are numerous. If Santa takes them all up on their offers, the additional girl will put him right out of the chimney-approach league.

Older brothers and sisters, wise, experienced youngsters of the world, often take up the duties for their siblings.

For the practical approach, nothing beats an itemized list, with prices included. One totaled $31.74 (the addition was correct) but this was for three brothers.

In some cases, the postscripts reveal a practical side, after the dreams of fancy gifts. One "PS" the television influence is easily seen.

Wyatt Earp is now a popular hero, and his tin tin is not exactly a dead dog.

down the chimney. We will leave the front door open."

One young diplomat wrote: "I have been a good boy even if my dad doesn't think so. If you happen to have the following things just laying around and no one to give them to, please send them to me."

Another choice item was: "I would like to have a Isaac E. Cray sweatshirt for ice skating. Size: 16 to 18, try 17."

From the size of the sweatshirt request, it is obvious that the letter to Santa habit is not one that dies at an early age. Some epistles were obviously from the junior high set, and some even looked older than that.

Although some lists include 30 requests, a few were limited to one or two items. From pool tables to "Tiny Tears Dolls" (a very popular request), anything that is manufactured is in demand.

And one letter included this: "Thanks for last year—I liked everything."

SANTA CLAUS.

A Few of Many

The letters reproduced here are only a few of the many delivered to The Pontiac Press for forwarding to the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, and then Santa Claus at the North Pole. Due to space limitations, we will not be able to print all the letters received.

to you. P. S. I have a picture of it in the envelope.

Drayton Scout Sells Wreaths—Wins Prize

Cub Scout Tommy Francis sold 47 Christmas wreaths and won a prize as top salesman of the Pack at a recent award meeting held at Drayton Plains school. Approximately one hundred parents and friends witnessed the awarding of various achievement medals.
Cub Donald Stecher won a Lion badge and David Herbert won a Bear badge and a Golden Arrow. Each Cub brought a 50 cent gift and all have been wrapped and sent to the children at Camp Oakland.

Flowers Bring Holiday Gaiety

Useful Both as Gifts and as Decorations for Your Home

When Christmas is just around the corner, the list of "things-to-do" seems endless. The solution to many problems, however, is as near as the telephone.

Whether it's last-minute gifts, or making the home festive and inviting for the holiday season, the florist can help. If time is really short, call him your gift and decoration orders.

If time permits, however, you'll find that a visit to his shop is really worthwhile. For the gift problem, your florist, if he is a member of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, can guarantee delivery of flowers and plants anywhere in the world within a few hours. So don't despair over the relatives who've been overlooked. A cherry manilla arrangement, or bright poinsettia, the traditional Christmas plant, will fill the bill. Flowers are neither intoxicating nor fattening, and are always in good taste.

They are universally liked, so you can send them without any qualms.

If your list contains people "who have everything," try flowers. A cherry corsage bedecked with tiny Christmas tree ornaments, or a sophisticated pink or low blue arrangement, done with spray-on "snow," will make a hit and be a conversation piece throughout the holiday season.

This year, more than ever before, holiday hostesses are relying on floral decorations to add cheer to their homes. The increased popularity of greens and flowers is partly due to the fact that florists are featuring colors to harmonize with any decor.

Pale blue and silver are popular, although the traditional red and green hold a wide margin of favor.

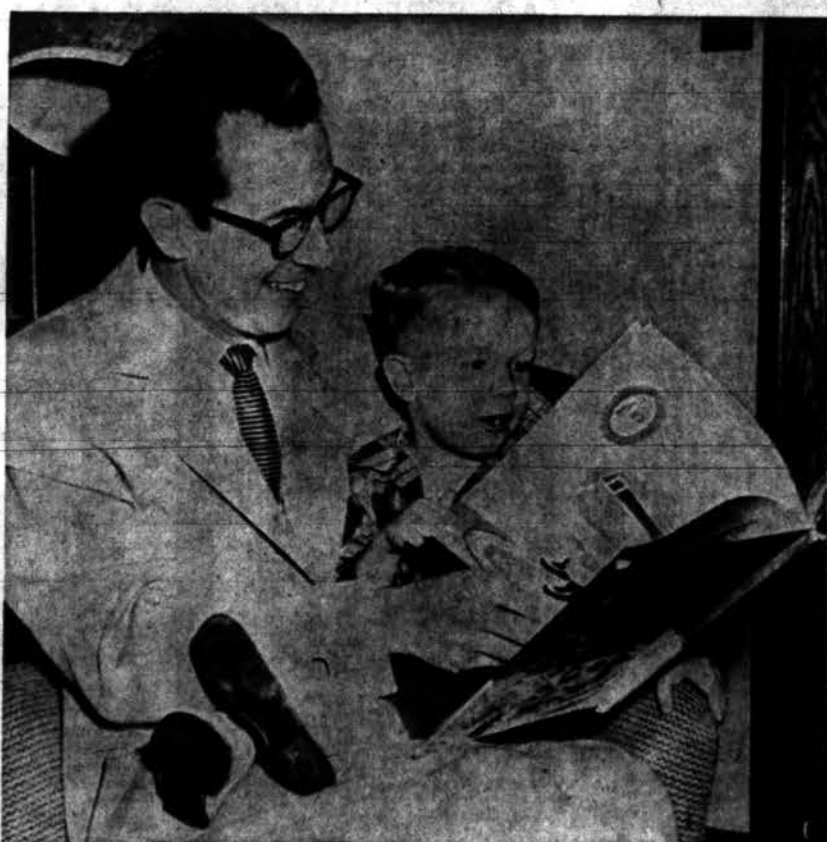

Just as the holiday hostess wants her home to be decorated, she will find she can enter into the spirit of the times much more heartily if someone has been thoughtful enough to send her a lovely Christmas corsage.

To Hold Yule Party at Waterford CAI

A Christmas party for children of the Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held from 3 to 5 in the afternoon, Sunday Dec. 23, at the CAI building on Williams Lake road.

Santa Claus will distribute toys, candy and cookies to the youngsters and a community sing will follow.

Close to one hundred guests are expected according to Tom Mancero, who is in charge of the affair.

TELL ME AGAIN — The story of St. Nick is repeated annually by millions of patient parents to millions of eager youngsters. Here John Vanderlind, of 276 Auburn Ave., relates the activities of St. Nick to his son, John, who is eagerly awaiting a visit from the old gentleman.

Michigan Children's Aid Society held its annual Christmas party for members of the staff Wednesday at Hotel Waldron. Specially honored was Oriel Endelman (extreme left), executive director of the Oakland County Branch. She is photographed with

Children's Aid Board Hosts Staff

Tribute Is Paid to Miss Endelman and Her Helpers

The board of the Michigan Children's Aid Society paid tribute to its executive director Oriel Endelman and staff members Wednesday.

The group was honored with a Christmas luncheon at Hotel Waldron, an annual affair.

Mrs. William A. Kennedy presided at the event, and Mrs. Harry Henderson presented a gift to Miss Endelman and to members of the staff.

Introduced was a member of the local board and a state director, Mrs. Henry S. Booth of Bloomfield Hills. Mrs. Booth was one of the early organizers of the Oakland County Branch.

Also introduced were board members State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge and Mrs. Richard Galpin, wife of Dr. Galpin who serves on the board.

SUCCESSFUL YEARS

With their president W. E. C. Ruthwaite and Miss Endelman, the members point to successful years—years of work but years filled with devotion.

In the broken homes of Oakland County, this agency begins its work. Psychiatric social workers, trained to deal with emotional problems, also are selected because they can give the love and parental understanding to children coming under their supervision.

They also must help when families are separated either through desertion, divorce or death. They work closely with adoptive parents, giving temporary homes until the child's real home can be found.

It's a big task, but staff and board members have proved that they can handle it. It's not just a job, it's a way of life to them.

Sorority Gathers at Christmas Party

Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a Christmas party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Pudduck on Barnes road.

Gifts were exchanged and plans were discussed for the annual "Sno-Ball" dance to be held Feb. 15 at Elks Temple.

BEATRICE SOUTH

Mrs. O. D. Robinson of Onaway and William South of Royal Oak announce the engagement of their daughter, Beatrice South of North Saginaw street, to Jerry D. Hickey of Broadway avenue. He is the son of Mrs. John Hausman of Astor street.

State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge presented a gift to staff members Jeanne Walter, supervisor (center) and Pat Bailey, a psychiatric social worker for the Oakland County Branch of the Michigan Children's Aid Society at the party Wednesday. Board members entertained members of the staff at the affair.

Presiding at the punch bowl for the annual Christmas party was Mrs. Bert E. Norton (center) of Rochester. Two of the board members photographed with her are (left) Mrs. William A. Kennedy of Wenonah drive and Mrs. Harry Henderson of Franklin.

Metro Circle Holds Dinner and Meeting

Mrs. Ray L. Walter opened her home on Cherokee road for the Tuesday evening dinner meeting of Metro Circle of Emmanuel Baptist Church. Twenty-one members were present.

In the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Walter, plans were made to assist with the church nursery. The group also made arrangements to collect articles for the leper hospital in Africa which the church circle sponsors.

Joint Party Held by Church Circles

The Ruth circle and Naomi circle of Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church held a joint Christmas party. Fifty attended and names of secret pals were disclosed and gifts exchanged.

The January meeting of the Ruth circle will be held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Holsington on Giddings road. Mrs. Sol Newhouse will show a film on Israel. All women of the church are invited.

Party Honors Members of USO Hostess Corps

A buffet supper and Christmas party, held recently at the YWCA, for members of the Hostess Corps of the Pontiac USO, was attended by more than 40 of the Junior and Senior Hostesses.

The occasion marked the first anniversary of the activating of the Hostess Corps, which began its regular monthly visits to the Auburn Heights Nike Base in December, 1955. Since then, visits to the Commerce Base have been added to the schedule.

Gold pins were awarded to the hostesses who have served continuously throughout the year. These include: Kathryn Voder, Berta Fernandez, Dolores Hayes, Norma Feller, Barbara McKenna, Wanda Smith and Suzanne Houghton, chairman of the Hostess Corps.

A surprise feature was the awarding of starred pins "for outstanding service" to Mrs. Fred Haushalter, secretary of the Pontiac USO committee and a member of the National USO committee; Mrs. Clark Kimball, food service chairman and representative on the committee from the Federation of Women's Clubs; and Mrs. William B. Dean, N.C.C.W. representative and co-chairman of work with draftees and enlistees, who has seen every group off who were leaving for service since January, 1953.

Mrs. Reba Ross Netzer, executive director of the YWCA, which is responsible for the recruiting and training of the Hostess Corps, also received a starred pin.

A gift exchange followed the pin awarding.

Forest Lake Club Plans Two Parties

Forest Lake Country Club has two holiday affairs on the agenda this week. The Christmas dinner-dance will be held Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick DeRange as party co-chairmen.

The children's Christmas party will be held Sunday at 1:30 p. m. and will feature gifts from Santa Claus and refreshments. The children will be entertained by a clown act and a magician act.

Acquaintance Club Plans Yule Party

An open house and Christmas party was planned at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Widows Acquaintance Club held in Malta Temple. Special music and entertainment are being arranged for the Dec. 18 event.

Members will prepare a basket for a needy family as their Christmas project.

Cross of North Hammond Lake road and Mrs. Walter Reuther of Rochester.

WCTU Chief Fights Office Parties

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—The lips of Mrs. Glenn G. Hays have never touched liquor. But she believes she wouldn't like it, and other people shouldn't.

The energetic, gray-haired former Kansas schoolteacher, now in her fourth year as president of the national Woman's Christian Temperance Union, said today she is a reformer because she "just grew up in the job."

She is now directing WCTU efforts toward drying up holiday drinking — particularly at Christmas office parties.

"The Christmas drinking party has increasingly become a national evil," she says. "It adds to the growing paganism with which commercial interests use the birthday of Christ for gain."

CITES SURVEY

She cites results of a National Safety Council survey indicating that drinkers were involved in 55 per cent of the traffic accidents last Christmas — compared with an average of 26 per cent for the year 1955.

Money spent for Christmas liquor, she says, would better be given to charity.

Mrs. Hays, 61, is a native of Ransom, a town of 500 population in Ness County, west central Kansas. Mrs. Hays, the former Agnes Dubbs, was one of seven children in a pioneer home which became a gathering place for prohibition workers.

She married Glenn Hays, the principal of a high school at Waukomis, Okla., while she was a teacher there. They made their home in Ransom to oversee extensive property, including a wheat and cattle farm which Hays still operates. As a housewife with no children, Mrs. Hays undertook church, social and temperance work.

EASY TO LEAD

She found it easy to provide leadership in WCTU affairs. She was elected president of the Kansas WCTU, became national recording secretary, vice president-at-large, and, in 1953, president.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays have lived in Evanston much of the time since then. Her office is here. "People have told me a number of times that they are surprised that I have not been moved to temperance work by some personal background of experience with alcoholics," Mrs. Hays says. "Actually, I don't know of any of my relatives who drink alcoholic beverages."

In response to a direct question, she affirmed, "I have never tasted liquor."

But, she insists, "one needs not be a victim of disaster — of war or accidents or alcoholism — to assume a full dedication to eliminating them."

November Unit Gathers With Mrs. Johnson

Mrs. Carlos Johnson opened her Moreland avenue home for the Wednesday evening meeting of the November Group of First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Roger Gunn assisted the hostess.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Lester Carlson. The retiring officers presented candles of service to the newly elected officers in an impressive ceremony.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Raymond Eick in appreciation of her service as chairman of the group.

The Detroit Presbytery gave Mrs. William DeRoos an honorary membership on the Board of National Missions. Guest at the meeting was Mrs. Gene Crockett.

Dyed-to-match skirts and sweaters are to be had now at budget prices and in pretty pastel colors. These are ideal choices for the girl who works.

Short Sprigs Are Useful

Make Ball of Evergreen for Christmas Decoration

EAST LANSING—An evergreen ball is an unusual use for short sprigs of evergreen and is especially appropriate during the holiday season. Make it by following these directions from forestry specialists at Michigan State University.

First, shape a 4 to 6-inch ball of moistened sphagnum moss (available from your florist) firmly, but not too solidly, and tie it with wire or string. Then fasten a long piece of wire to the ball so that it can be suspended from a doorway, archway or other likely place.

After you have prepared the base, cut small sprays of greenery 3 to 6 inches long and sharpen the stem end. Then insert the sprays into the moss until the entire surface is covered.

This is done much the same way as "pomander balls" used to be made by inserting cloves into an orange until the entire surface was covered.

Make the evergreen sprays form even, well-rounded ball. As a final decorative touch, a many-looped bow of red ribbon or cones or Christmas bells may be wired to a small sharpened stick and inserted into the moss.

Holiday Party Held by Philathea Class

Mrs. Mabel Wiser led group singing of Christmas carols at the Christmas party held by members of the Loyal Philathea Class of First Baptist Church Tuesday evening. Mrs. Arthur Peck accompanied the group.

Judy Coleman and Jerry Stoner presented a duet of Christmas carols on the accordion and piano, and devotions were given by Mrs. Nellie Monroe. Mrs. I. O. Wideman presided at the brief business meeting.

Yule Tree Is Symbolic of Season

First Appeared in This Nation During Revolution

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Christmas trees probably add more to mark the period of "peace on earth good-will toward men" than any other product of the soil.

A. M. Sowder, extension forester of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, calls it "a symbol of living Christmas spirit."

Sowder, who grows Christmas trees as a hobby and is an authority on the subject, reports that more than 25 million trees were harvested in 1955 in this country alone.

In his interesting pamphlet, "Christmas Trees — The Tradition and the Trade" (Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., 15 cents), he reports that the first record of trimmed Christmas trees in the United States appears in the period of the American Revolution when Hessian soldiers made use of them.

"However," Sowder points out, "the practice did not gain much headway in this country until about the middle of the 19th Century when, after a year of controversy and doubt, it became an established custom in Cleveland."

BACK TO LUTHER
Some historians trace the lighted Christmas tree back to Martin Luther (1483-1546).

"The story is that while strolling throughout the countryside one Christmas Eve under a brilliant starlit sky, his thoughts turned to the nativity of the Christ Child," Sowder relates.

"Luther was impressed with the beauty of the heavens and the landscape. He observed the snow-flecked evergreen trees sparkling in the moonlight.

"Returning to his home he related the experience to his family and attempted to reproduce the outdoor scene.

"To a small evergreen tree he attached lighted candles to simulate the reflections of the starlit heaven — the heaven that looked down over Bethlehem on the first Christmas Eve."

This would date the first lighted Christmas tree prior to 1546, but Sowder says the custom did not actually catch on until 1700, when lights became an accepted part of the decorations.

Change Pace With 'Fum, Fum, Fum'

New Trend Is Toward Hi-Fi Parties

Hi-fi parties are expected to be all the rage at Christmas and New Year's. The idea is that the young group may close themselves off in a room with their Hi-Fi.

Mom, Dad and other members of the family entertain in another room. It'll be fun, say young moderns, just to sit around and listen.

One young girl always entertains her group at a party in her own room. A couple of husky young men arrive early enough to rearrange the furniture so there is plenty of seating space for all. That way, she says, the family can entertain too.

Corn may be popped in an electric popper and hot dogs can sizzle on a borrowed electric broiler if need be right in her room if the kitchen is going to be in full party use.

She can cook everything in advance or serve cold things such as salad and sandwiches with a hot drink if she prefers.

The lovely thing about Hi-Fi is that it brings out the joyous tones of Yuletide carols. The clarity that a good Hi-Fi set and proper acoustics affords can put young people in the mood for pretending they are really at a concert.

Good Christmas records include "Santa Claus Is Coming," "White Christmas," "Jingle Bells" and traditional English carols such as "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen."

Carol parties are becoming so popular that one of the large recording companies has included a group of old Spanish carols this year for a change of pace.

"Fum, Fum, Fum" is one. "Ya Vienne La Vieja" is another, and "Hacia Belen"—a Spanish patter song that recounts the arrival in Bethlehem of a donkey laden with chocolates and gypsies.

France and Germany contributed old carols such as "Here mid the Ass and the Oxen." The Robert Shaw Choral has recorded masterpieces of Haydn, Mozart and Beethoven.

Perry Como includes the old recitative, "The 12 Days of Christmas" in his group in which there is lighter music too—"Winter Wonderland" and "Frosty the Snowman."

George Beverly Shea, the internationally known gospel singer and tenor Mario Lanza are represented also in long-play platters of Christmas carols.

The envelopes that hold the Yuletide recordings are almost as popular with young people these days as the recordings, they are so beautifully ornamented in many instances with kodachrome winter scenes appropriate to Christmas.

Your wardrobe for housework should include pretty cotton house dresses, none costing more than $5, an inexpensive orlon cardigan, a housecoat for breakfast and a well-fitted, low-heeled neat leather shoes.

Christmas Often Means Sadness

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Christmas time, like twilight, intensifies our happiness if we're happy, our sadness if we're sad. This is particularly true, I think, of older people.

For them, Christmas is loaded with memories of days when the children were small, life was full and Mom and Dad were busy and needed.

Too often, as years go by, it becomes a time of poignant loneliness. If, on top of that, money is scarce, as it often is, the picture is awfully dreary.

There is no pat answer, of course. But there are two suggestions I'd like to make for easing this all too common problem.

First, to the young people: Remember, at Christmas, that the old folks need more than bed warmers, house slippers, pipes and perfume. They need, most of all, to have you and your children around.

Spend as much time with them as you can, even if it means giving up the parties your own set is giving. You'll have your contemporaries around a long time, but you won't have Mom and Dad forever.

WRITE LETTERS

If you're too far away to join them, write daily letters throughout the holidays, no matter how busy you are.

Tell them how you miss them, how grateful you are for the many years they devoted to your welfare, how much you love them. Blow yourself to a long distance phone call, even if it means sacrificing something else.

Maybe they weren't the best parents in the world, and maybe they did plenty wrong, but they did the best they could—and you aren't so perfect yourself!

And second, to the oldsters themselves:

Make a resolution to get a really interesting hobby, if you haven't one already, and try to turn it into a money-making scheme.

Even if you make just pennies, there's nothing like a real interest, that also pays some income, for giving you that back-in-the-humanity feeling. It may not be easy, but it's a lot easier than sitting in loneliness and despair.

Maybe you have some physical disabilities and can only put in a few hours a day on the project.

But it's the will and determination that count.

I know many badly disabled people who have glowing, work-filled lives. Moreover, a real interest of your own may well perk up your health better than all the medicine in the world.

Christmas morning becomes even more festive and merry when milady wears her "at home" slippers, done here in black illusion cloth shot through with glimmering, shimmering silver threads. The crystal clear vamp is embroidered in black twinkles, with rhinestones to add further glamor.

If you'd like to start such a project, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you two things for a starter:

First, my pamphlet, Pointers To Your Basic Interest, and second, a really good list of books on retirement projects.

You can do a lot, right now, to make next Christmas one of the happiest!

Child Study Group Has Yule Meeting

Child Study Club Group Three met at the home of Mrs. Maxwell Doerr, on Ottawa drive Tuesday for a luncheon and meeting. Members donated wrapped boxes of Christmas cookies for patients at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital.

Mrs. Robert Boggs of the Pontiac Story Tellers League entertained the group with Christmas stories. Christmas carols were sung accompanied at the piano by Mrs. George Tollerday and at the organ by Mrs. Doerr.

Hostesses were Mrs. Richard L. McPartlin, Mrs. F. Milton Hathaway, Mrs. Carroll C. Braid and Mrs. Maxwell L. Shadley.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. W. McGovern on Alice avenue.

TBI Women's Club Has Holiday Party

Twenty members of TBI Women's Club attended the Christmas party held at the Drayton Plains home of Mrs. Lehr Miller. Mrs. Max Clymer presided at the short business meeting.

The group spent the recent afternoon making favors and place-cards for patients' Christmas Day trays at Pontiac General Hospital. Christmas carols were sung by the group accompanied by Betty Whitson and Mary Parker.

Gifts were exchanged and each member contributed a wrapped gift to be donated to Pontiac General Hospital for the children.

Sleep Is Best Foundation for Beauty

Background to all beauty is at least eight hours' sleep each night. The need for sleep varies. You may need more but you don't need less. Without it, you can't expect creams and lotions to create beauty for you.

These are great aids but they must work on healthy skin and good health comes from sleep. Eight glasses of water per day, exercise in the open air and at least two glasses of milk per day.

These are the basic essentials for good looks. Without them, a pretty face can crumple quickly.

Tension can destroy beauty fast. So, find ways to relax, to let the tension drain out of you. If mystery stories are fun for you and relaxing, keep a couple always on hand. It music takes out the kinks, keep a little fund for a new record album now and then.

But whatever, find some way to get rid of tension. If you need time alone to yourself, away from other people, see that you get it. What's relaxing to one woman is not to another so don't try to pattern your leisure hours on those of a friend. It may not work at all.

City grime is an enemy of clear, beautiful skin. It clogs pores and creates blackheads. Soap is a girl's ally in the fight against grime. But you may also need to use a cleansing lotion. Pick one especially designed for your skin (normal, dry or oily and use it faithfully).

You'll be amazed at the amount of dirt that will show up on those cotton balls. But be sure that the cleansing lotion you choose is not strongly astringent or it will give your skin a taut, dry, pulled feeling.

Norway now permits use of English, German and other foreign languages on food labels.

Mrs. Ethel Rife Speaks Dec. 19 to Accountants

Mrs. Ethel Rife will be the speaker at the Dec. 19 meeting of the American Society of Women Accountants, following a 6 o'clock dinner at the Women's City Club in Detroit. Her subject will be "The General Market."

Mrs. Rife started in the brokerage business in 1915 and through the years has worked in all departments of stockbrokers' offices.

In addition to her career, she is president of the Detroit Northeast Business and Professional Women's Club and publicity chairman of the Inter-Group Council for Women as Public Policy Makers.

In December, the American Society of Women Accountants is honoring as the "Celebrity of the Month" a charter member, Mrs. Crystal Kilgour.

Spray Petticoat for Stiffness

Now you can spray and stiffen your own petticoat and make it flair out beautifully under the modern full skirt.

Several quick coats of a new transparent tough plastic coating serves to stiffen the undergarment, no matter what kind of fabric it is made of, including nylon or cotton.

First, wash and press the garment to be treated, then spray on the plastic coating, letting each coat dry thoroughly.

The spray also may be used around the home to protect electrical wiring, paints and keep shovels, rakes and roller skates from rusting.

'Fur' Budget Ease!

Flattering imitation furs are the answer for the housewife or career girl on a budget. The price is low, the upkeep is easy and while no one thing you're wearing fur, the effect is there.

Lincoln Junior High Presents Yuletide Program

In an elaborate holiday setting, over 180 students of the Vocal Department of Lincoln Junior High School presented two performances of a Christmas program of music and pageantry for the students and faculty. Solos, ensembles, choruses and dramatic tableaux were featured.

The program opened with a medley of Christmas carols especially arranged by Jerry Smith, head of the Vocal Department of the school. Marilyn Vernon, school president, set the scene by describing in blank verse the theme of the program and the significance of Christmas customs.

The combined choruses presented "Happy Holiday" by Berlin in an artistic winter wonderland setting designed as a full backdrop on sheer cloth separating two country scenes with an illusion of distant snow-covered hills.

The Entr'Acte revealed members of the Girls Ensemble costumed as little children waiting up for Santa. They sang as they dramatized two numbers: "Frosty, the Snowman" by Rollins and "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town" by Coats.

The Boys Glee Club of 20 voices under the direction of Julius Middendorf appeared in a group of three numbers which comprised Scene One laid in a living room of a modern home, complete in every detail even to a glowing fireplace. The numbers included "Winter Wonderland" by Bernard, "White Christmas" by Berlin and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas," an old English folk song.

SPECIAL STAGING

The between-scenes number was an expressly arranged version of "Christmas Island" sung by the Girls Triple Trio with special staging effects. The blending of voices in this number was particularly delicate and effective.

Scene Two was performed by the Ninth Grade Chorus under the direction of Mr. Smith. The four numbers included "I've Got the Spirit of Christmas" by Brooks, "The 12 Days of Christmas" by Sidney in a 12-part arrangement of madrigal-type carol, "Jingle Bells" harmonized by Charles, with intricate phrasing and difficult tempo changes which were professionally executed; and "The Christmas Song" by Ringwald.

Two numbers were sung by the Boys Ensemble for between-scenes entertainment: "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer" by Marks and "Deck the Halls," an old Welsh air. Julius Middendorf directed and accompanied this group.

The Chorales, directed by Sue Eckley, presented Scene Three with the singing of "Sleigh Ride" by Anderson and "Silver Bells" by Livingston.

The second part of the program carried a religious theme of "The First and Lasting Spirit of Christmas" and was narrated by Linda Tabor and Judy Kenney, who effectively created the mood of the holy scenes of the Nativity. Marilyn Vernon, soprano, opened the musical drama by singing "How Far Is It to Bethlehem?" by Gritton.

TABLEAU STAGED

The scene of the Wise Men was presented in tableau by Virgil Apley, Robert McCarroll and Gary Sprague in an artistic setting of Bethlehem in the Judean Hills. The Boys Glee Club sang "Silent Night" by Gruber and "The Birthday of a King" by Neidinger.

The scene of the shepherds was portrayed by Ed Almas, Leonard Ferrell, Don Shelton and Charles McMichael, who enacted the tableau as the Ninth Grade Chorus sang the beautifully descriptive number, "As Lately We Watched" by Kirk, and the song that is almost a prayer, "O Holy Night" by Adam.

The manger scene revealed Anita Hodge as Mary and Tolbert Carter as Joseph watching the tiny Babe in the manger. The Chorales sang two lullabies, "Lullaby, Little Jesus" by Magney and "What Child Is This?," an old English tune.

With Linda Tabor giving the poetic call to worship, a dignified procession brought all singers to the stage in "O Come, All Ye Faithful" by Reading and the combined choruses sang a thrilling finale, "Christmas Day" by Holst. The narrators gave a prayer for peace and goodwill as singers breathed a hushed amen to close the program.

Mrs. Margarette Burette and the art classes designed and executed the elaborate and colorful settings. Robert Morse directed the tableaux and Mrs. T. E. Wiersma wrote the continuity.

George Gary and the printing classes supplied the programs.

Mrs. Naomi McVean and the Girls Service Club provided the ushers. A complimentary program will be repeated this evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln Junior High auditorium as a public service.

Blue Star Group Names Officers

Mrs. Florence McCrae was elected president of Blue Star Mothers Chapter Four at the Tuesday evening meeting held in YMCA.

Serving with Mrs. McCrae are Mrs. John Yungke, first vice president; Mrs. Edward Schram, second vice president; Mrs. James Dando, recording secretary; Mrs. Herman Dennis, financial secretary, and Mrs. Lettie Hancock, treasurer.

Officers will be installed on Jan. 10.

The group is packing Christmas baskets and also is distributing gifts to the servicemen in Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Invest in Fashion

A fur-trimmed suit could very well be your big fashion investment this fall.

Children Can Have Fun Planning Yule Decor

Youngsters can have lots of fun foot. Run wire through the body, making Christmas decorations; add four balls for arms and bend from foil, newspaper (paper into skating position. Bend tip ends (make) and food staples such as cranberries.

A jaunty skater about 10 inches high for instance may be made with a series of little balls made of crumpled foil.

To make the head crush aluminum foil to form a ball about two inches in diameter. Nose, mouth and eyes are tiny Christmas beads attached by threading with wire and inserting ends into foil.

For the body make a larger elongated ball about 3 by 4 inches. Run the end of a 4-inch piece of semi-stiff wire into head and opposite end into body, pushing it together firmly.

String five small foil balls less than 1 inch in diameter on wire for legs; add flattened ball for Attach it with common pins. Cut buttons and belt from same paper and attach it with cement. Use red ribbon for a scarf. Attach skater's foot to styrofoam or other base and cover with foil.

A pretty wreath may be made by bending a coat hanger into a circle and covering it with crushed foil around and around. Decorate it with tiny Christmas balls, ribbon bows, artificial flowers. Common pins may be used to attach decorations to foil.

A candle holder may be made by standing a candle upright and crushing foil around it. Decorate with beads and glitter.

Bring Out Hair Curl
According to one beauty expert, about 90 per cent of American women have naturally curly hair and aren't aware of it.

That is, they possess enough natural curl to do without a permanent if their hair is properly cut. Brushing too, aids rather than hinders natural curl.

Pair Plans New Year's Open House Wife Asks Advice on What to Serve With Eggnog

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "My husband and I would like to have open house on New Year's Day for our many friends and neighbors. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded and also what to serve in addition to the traditional eggnog?"

Answer: Invitations are written on your double visiting card (or else on your card with Mr. put in front of the Mrs.) and the message is: "Eggnog 4 to 6 New Year's Day."

In addition to the punch bowl filled with eggnog, there should be either lady cake, or black fruitcake, or both. Also, for those who don't like sweets, a platter of thin sandwiches of plain bread and butter is usually proffered.

If possible, you should serve hot tea (as well as the eggnog) for those who find eggnog too rich.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In a house without servants, would it be proper to have a small table placed near the host on which the food to be served could be placed, then stack the dinner plates in front of him and have him put the food on each plate and pass it to the guests at the table?"

"If this is proper, are all the women at the table served first and then the men or doesn't it make any difference?"

Answer: If it is a large dinner of eight or more you would pass the dishes down the table one by one, the person at the end of the table taking the first and then each in turn until all are served.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a man is divorced and has married someone else, is it proper to invite his ex-wife to a social gathering at which they will be present?"

Answer: This depends entirely upon the personal attitudes of each to the other.

Stick to Pace That's Best for You

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Each person is geared to his own individual speed, and it is a great mistake to try to adopt the speed of another. We differ not only in our physical endowments but in our psychological approach to life.

It is extremely important that every person discover the pace which is best for him. Otherwise fatigue and frustration are certain to result.

One individual may just naturally work with speed and dispatch and may feel nervous if held back, while another may find the sense of rush and pressure most tiring. One woman may thrive on a life chock full of varied responsibilities and activities (social, civic and family) while another may wilt from such a pace.

One man may become exhausted by a hectic nine holes of golf while he might feel refreshed after 18 holes played in a relaxed, leisurely manner. For another, just the opposite may be true. It is a question of physical and emotional makeup and personal taste.

Whether it is work in a career, household duties, exercise, or the general organization of your life, it is essential that you discover the pace which is best for you. If you work best and accomplish more at a fairly slow pace, adhere to this and don't worry about the "drifting sands of time."

On the other hand, if you'd rather hurry through your duties and activities, don't deviate from this course. All those who accomplish much without fatigue have learned this secret.

Neither mental nor physical exertion should result in fatigue if you go at them with the pace natural to you. Boredom, it seems to me, is the one exception. If you are bored, you will be tired no matter what speed you use.

Most folks never think in terms of personal pace. Without realizing it they try to fit their natural speed to that of others. They get pushed into all sorts of activities which do not interest them so that their lives become jammed and they are forced to discard the tempo which is natural to them.

We live with others and daily life must be full of "give and take" so that we cannot achieve this ideal completely. Nevertheless, once we recognize its importance we can come much nearer the ideal than most of us usually do.

If you would like her leaflet No. 19 "Essential Daily Routine, for Beauty and Health," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Reader's Fatigue May Be Psychosomatic in Nature."

If you work best and accomplish more at a fairly slow pace, adhere to this and don't worry about the "drifting sands of time."

Suggest Oriental Touches for Yule Decorations

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Oriental influences have become extremely prevalent in decor of West Coast homes in recent years, and it is not surprising to find them showing up in Christmas decorations as well.

San Francisco interior decorator A. Dudley Kelly who is widely known for both his home decorations and industrial design suggests two uses of Japanese articles in Christmas decorations.

For a different Christmas tree, start with a spruce and completely cover it with white glitter. Then fasten dozens of Japanese glass clip-on-birds to the tips of branches and tie the branches with a pink bow. This gives the effect of a very feathery pink and white glittering bird cage.

He suggests using very small Japanese miniature pine trees as a base for a Western Christmas table decoration. Set them in little tubs and decorate with very tiny silver and pink Christmas tree ornaments.

The trees should be frosted lightly with a dash of plastic snow and set with place cards as the base of each tree.

Bob Combines Intelligence With Comedy

Hope Calls TV the Top Entertainment Medium

INS Staff Writer

Bob Hope is convinced that TV is the top medium of entertainment.

BOB HOPE

Looking back at his 25 years in vaudeville, musical comedy, the movies, radio and TV, Hope says there is no better way for an entertainer to "get his message across" than through the medium of television.

The famous comedian points out that now nearly everybody in the country has "a motion picture in his home"—meaning a TV set.

"Won't it be wonderful for international understanding," he declared, "when we have a TV world network!"

That day is coming, he believes—if a monkey wrench isn't thrown into the machinery of peace.

SERIOUS SIDE

In talking to the genial ski-nose, you realize he's more than a mere entertainer. Behind the facade of a funny man, which he presents to the public, Hope has his serious side.

He's not only funny—he's smart. He is a performer with brains. Nobody will ever have to run a benefit for him.

My interview with Hope in his hotel in Manhattan was interrupted while he answered a long distance telephone call. Louis (Doctor) Shurr, a Broadway personality who has been Hope's agent for more than 20 years, seized the opportunity to remark:

"Never underestimate that fellow's brains. Hope is one of the keenest men in show business, a fast thinker, a man whose been around and knows his profession from every angle."

"He cooperates with everybody—with me, with his sponsors, and with any cast he works with. He is open-minded and doesn't know it all. But don't forget this: He is the one who makes the big decisions."

When Hope returned to the room

Crosby, Jolson and Benny were about the best three male performers he had jostled with, he said.

"All three were resourceful," he declared. He added that Danny Kaye is "a great entertainer."

Ethel Merman and Dorothy Lamour, he regards as two of the best female performers with whom he has worked.

Hope's personal life is a happy one. The ever-traveling Hope always gets around to talking about his "understanding" wife, Dolores, a singer whom he met and married in 1933.

They have a beautiful home in southern California where they live with their four adopted children—Nora, 10, Kelly, 11, Tony, 15, and Linda, 17.

Tony attends Loyola School in Los Angeles and Linda is enrolled at Immaculate Heart in Hollywood. ("I want them to be smarter than I am," says Hope.)

LOW, HUSKY VOICE

Bob was playing in a musical comedy in New York when he met Dolores Reade, then singing at a little club on 57th street which Bea Lillie had opened. The beautiful Dolores had a low, husky voice.

As a seemingly confirmed bachelor he had resisted the attractions of many women on the stage but he fell hook, line and sinker for Dolores, and they were married not long afterward in Erie, Pa.

After they were married, the show "Roberta," in which Bob was playing, closed. He went back into vaudeville and put Dolores in his act, which played the big-time circuits.

Bob would do his act. Then he'd introduce Dolores, who came out dressed in a lovely gown.

"Ain't she beautiful," Bob would say to the audience. He'd walk over and stroke her arm and pretend it looked good enough to eat. He'd nibble it gently. As she started to sing, he'd say to her: "Don't bother about me—keep singing."

ADORING LOOK

Hope would lie down before the footlights, roll over on his back, and look at her adoringly. The audience loved it.

Busy as Hope now is with TV, he has just finished a movie called "Beau James," a story about Jimmy Walker, the debonair former mayor of New York.

He says, however, that he believes the real future for a performer is in TV—that he's sure there is no way to top TV as an enterprise.

In spite of all the gags he has pulled over the years, Bob has never been sued over one although he came close. That was the time, in quipping about a hotel room, he remarked that "a maid came in and changed the rat."

Hope said he "never will retire" from what he regards as an exciting and colorful career. His present plans are to concentrate on movies and TV. He wisecracked:

"I'll go as long as I can. Why, I've got a few jokes for the box. If they raise the lid I'll say a few words on the way to the last hole."

Dad's Christmas Present Should Show Imagination

Don't Give Father Some Practical Gift Chosen as an Afterthought

By RUTH MILLET

Papa isn't actually the forgotten man on Christmas morning. But in all too many families Papa's gifts are more or less afterthoughts.

Mama shops for weeks or may by longer finding the kids exactly what they want. She hunts the town high and low for something to please Cousin Agatha. She window-shops for herself so that she can give Papa a few broad hints as to what he can give her.

Then comes the thought that she hasn't bought anything for the man who is going to get all the Christmas bills.

So she sees a dressing gown and decides that if she buys that maybe she can get him to put aside the shabby, old one he feels comfortable in.

Or she decides he could use some nice white shirts, or she gets even more practical and buys him a supply of underwear, socks, etc.

NEVER EXCITED

"There's so little you can give a man," she tells herself. "And besides, Joe never seems very excited over his presents, anyhow."

She's kidding herself, of course. There are just as many imaginative gifts for a man as for a woman. The woman who knows enough about her husband's hobbies and interests and personal economies has some idea of what he would like but hesitates to buy for himself.

She can come up with a number of gift ideas, any one of which would really be just what her husband wanted.

And if Joe doesn't seem to get much kick out of opening his Christmas presents, it is probably because his gifts have for years been mere afterthoughts.

So why not make your husband's gift the most important one on your Christmas list this year?

What you spend for it in money isn't nearly as important as how much you spend in imagination and determination to really get him just what he wants.

If Democratic Party Wants Him

Williams Will Run in '60

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina.—Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams says he will run for president in 1960 if the Democratic Party wants him to.

Williams, who made a similar statement prior to the 1956 election, is visiting Argentina on a vacation tour of South America.

He made his statement in response to questions put to him by newsmen.

Asked whether he would accept the nomination if offered, Williams said:

"I would like to explain to our friends in South America, and at home, too, that this (to be president) is the dream of every American boy and naturally I could not refuse."

Would he make an effort to win the nomination?

"This is too early to give a specific answer," Williams said. "I have just been elected governor of the state of Michigan which is a very high honor, and I have a great responsibility to seven million people to inaugurate a program which will be to their benefit. I want to devote my first efforts in that direction."

WEIGHING QUESTION

"But when we get that moving forward, then I can spend a little time weighing the question you just asked."

Speaking earlier to a businessmen's luncheon, Williams called Argentina "an awakening giant with tremendous possibilities for the future."

He addressed 50 leading businessmen at the affair, given in his honor by the Industrias Kaiser Argentina, a subsidiary of U. S. industrialist Henry J. Kaiser.

Williams told newsmen that the Democratic Party should "emphasize its tradition as a liberal and progressive party."

Told that a Michigan judge had recommended compulsory automobile insurance, Williams said:

"If a man is run down and killed in the street and the driver does not have insurance, the widow may have a difficult time."

GRAVE MISGIVINGS

"But a law to have compulsory insurance has been tried in Massachusetts with the result that the cost of insurance went so high that all had grave misgivings about the law."

"New York State has passed a law which is a modification of the Massachusetts law and the secretary of state of Michigan, who is one of my colleagues, has recommended a similar law."

"My direct answer is that we certainly want to follow the recommendation of the secretary of state, James Hare."

Meanwhile in Detroit, on the eve of a meeting by the Wayne County CIO Council's Political Action Committee, an important union chief has reaffirmed support for Gov. Williams.

Mike Novak, head of the council, denied reports yesterday that the governor's six appointments to Wayne circuit judgeships had caused a rift between the union and Williams. Novak said:

"If Gov. Williams runs for a sixth term as governor, we will support him."

Novak also said his 375,000-member union body will back Williams if the governor runs for either U. S. senator or president.

The PAC meets tomorrow to complete its list of judicial endorsements and other endorsements for the spring election.

'King of Castle' Outdated

Petticoats Rule in Britain as Gals Make Like Queen

LONDON (INS) — Now that there's a queen on the throne, the women of Britain are really coming into their own.

Ever since the first suffragette chained herself to railings years ago to achieve the vote for women, the ladies throughout the land have been on to a good thing.

The female crusade for equal rights, equal pay and the sort of equal treatment that gets male preferences without losing female privileges, is never-ending.

The girls just don't give up, in public or private, and the last stronghold of the male in Europe is crumbling under the impact.

The Englishman's home is no longer his castle — between television and his wife the poor chap can't get a word in edgewise.

IT'S PETTICOAT RULE

Petticoat rule is all in fashion and the subversive British female could teach the Kremlin leadership a thing or two about penetrating spheres of influence.

Women are pouring into the government, parliament, industry, commerce and every field of human endeavor including atomic research. Men's days may well be numbered when women can make their own H-bombs — or so some hen-pecked husbands and sons-in-law will readily testify.

Just how far these British gals have gone is reflected in the announcement there will be a festival of women — "an exhibition by women for women" in London next year from June 7 to 28.

The ladies even have the chancellor of the exchequer, Harold Macmillan — a man who is desperately trying to curb the female's favorite habit of spending — on the run.

He sent them a message saying that the festival was planned "as an acknowledgement of all the work which women do to help in keeping the country prosperous."

More than 3,500,000 vigilant women are represented by the leading women's organizations throughout Britain who are backing the festival.

Only First Class Postage Will Arrive by Christmas

The deadline for two-cent Christmas cards and three-cent Christmas letters to distant points is definitely past, Leslie H. Dean, acting Pontiac postmaster, warned today.

"From now on, all Christmas cards should be sent by first-class mail if they're expected to arrive by Christmas," Dean said. "And all letters and cards to distant cities should go air mail."

Dean, who has hired about 30 holiday workers to help with the seasonal rush in all departments of the Pontiac office, said he expects the peak mail load next weekend.

"Up to now, we're in no trouble," Dean said. "Cancellations here yesterday totaled 139,000—only about two and a half times the normal load."

The peak load, sometime over

Saar Treaty OK'd by French Assembly

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly has approved by a vote of 354 to 225 the treaty returning the long disputed Saarland to West Germany by the first of next year.

The Saar, a German-speaking industrial and mining region, has been tied economically to France since World War II. It has an area of almost 1,000 square miles and a population of 387,000.

The approval of the treaty removes an old thorn in French-German relations.

Red Cross Asks Aid for Hungary

Urges County Residents Donate $14,943 Quota of $5 Million U.S. Fund

Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, is facing an emergency deadline to raise $14,943 as its share of the $5,000,000 national fund designated for Hungarian aid.

A letter has been sent to Pontiac Area United Fund from Adolph Klein of Royal Oak, chapter treasurer, advising that agency of the goal and asking assistance to avoid a special campaign. It is hoped to reach the goal by Christmas.

The Rev. William Hamm, chapter chairman, says "We are very grateful to Oakland County residents for their excellent participation in the recent United Fund drive, but response to the program for Hungarian relief has been very poor. It is very urgent that we meet this quota."

Mrs. Mildred E. Bennett, chapter executive director, says the chapter will not know if aid will be available from Pontiac Area United Fund until after a board meeting, scheduled next Wednesday. However she said, Detroit United Foundation has allocated $8,115 to the chapter.

EXPLAINS ROLE
In explaining the Red Cross role in the situation, Mrs. Bennett said that Hungarian and Austrian governments have designated Red Cross as a basic relief agency for food, clothing and shelter. Red Cross is handling welfare service for refugees arriving at Camp Kilmer, N.J.

The agency is accepting and transmitting cables from the United States to Hungarians in Europe, and it is aiding all other legitimate relief efforts.

Japan Gets Council OK for U.N. Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Security Council has recommended unanimously that Japan be admitted to the United Nations as its 80th member.

The council's action opened the way for quick final action in the 79-nation General Assembly where approval was only a formality.

The approval of Japan came after more than four years of waiting. The application, first submitted July 16, 1952, had been vetoed four times by the Soviet Union.

The United States had been one of the strong backers of Japan's membership bid. Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said before today's vote that the United States would warmly welcome Japan's admission.

Hungary Relief Goal Lags: U.S. Red Cross

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Red Cross states it has collected about one-third of its five million dollar Hungarian relief goal.

Elsworth Bunker, Red Cross president, urged the organization's chapters to spur their money-raising efforts, saying in a statement that "red cross responsibilities in the huge relief effort are expanding daily."

"The goal we have set is the absolute minimum to care for these people who have suffered so much in past two weeks compared to three million dollars raised in Sweden, two million in Norway and one million each in Britain, Denmark and Switzerland."

Serve Shaker of Candy Drink

"Come to see our tree" is the invitation most often extended during the Christmas season. Teenagers especially are constantly getting together for little parties, to see and exchange over gifts and play new records.

Of course, such gatherings call for refreshments. Cookies and a drink fill the bill.

Here's one that's excellent for special occasions. It's delicious and easy to make, since all the ingredients go into a shaker or blender to mix in a jiffy.

Christmas Candy Drink
1/2 cup frozen orange concentrate
1/2 cup lime juice
1 tablespoon crushed peppermint candy
1 cup sugar
1 egg white
1/2 cup dry ginger ale
Combine first 5 ingredients and shake vigorously. Divide among 4 tall glasses. Fill each glass with ice cold pale dry ginger ale. Stir gently to mix. Serve with a peppermint candy cane as a stirrer.

CHRISTMAS CANDY DRINK — Teenagers will like this combination of frozen orange juice, lime juice, crushed peppermint candy and ginger ale. Serve with stirring sticks of candy canes.

Easy Way to Dramatize Those Cocktail Wieners

Dramatize those little cocktail wieners when you serve them on your cocktail buffet. And do it with a snap of the fingers. Just flatten individual biscuits from a can of refrigerated biscuits by rolling or pressing between waved paper. Wrap flattened biscuits around wieners and pinch ends together. Brush with butter and bake in preheated oven at 450 degrees for about 15 minutes.

Use apple cider for the liquid in a raisin sauce to be served with ham.

Bake Casserole of Tuna, Pretzels

Here is a new version of a favorite main dish casserole. It combines the solid good eating of tuna, the rich flavor and texture of mushrooms, the crunchiness of Pretzels, and the appetizing appeal of mushroom soup and tender green peas.

Pretzel Tuna Casserole
1 19½-ounce can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 cup of liquid instant non-fat dry milk
1 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna, drained
1½ cups crushed pretzels
1 cup canned peas
1 4-ounce can mushrooms
Combine soup and milk and blend. Break tuna into small pieces. Sprinkle half of pretzel crumbs in bottom of greased glass baking dish. Spread over this half of tuna, then half of peas, and half of both undrained mushrooms and soup mixture. Repeat layers, reserving 2 tablespoons pretzel crumbs to sprinkle over top. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees), 35-45 minutes and serve hot, 6 servings.
To crush pretzels: Roll or crush between 2 thicknesses of waxed paper.

Darkly Rich Chocolate Pie to Top Off Party Dinner

Here's a festive pie to top off a festive party meal. Rich, delicious and different, it comes to the table with a fluff of whipped cream decorating a crunchy, dark, chocolate-egg filling.

To make the unusual filling, melted unsweetened chocolate and butter are added to a hot syrup. The chocolate mixture is then poured over beaten eggs and with the addition of vanilla and nut meats the filling is ready for the oven.

It's a pie to delight a man—after all, chocolate is his favorite flavor. And it's a pie to bring a nod of respect from every woman present who's bound to recognize a luscious, made-at-home dessert when she tastes one.

Serve this pie once and it probably will become a specialty of the house—one that is a family favorite as well as a party treat.

Peppermint Stick Cream Loaded in Puff Shells

Fill baked cream puff shells with cheery Peppermint Stick Cream Filling for a Yuletide dessert treat. Whip 2 cups whipping cream. Gradually add ¼ cup confectioners' sugar. Fold in 1/3 cup crushed peppermint stick candy.

Holiday Chocolate Pie
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup coarsely chopped pecan meats
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell
¼ cup cream, whipped up in saucepan. Bring to a boil over high heat, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Boil 2 minutes. Add chocolate mixture.

Pour slowly over eggs, stirring constantly. Add vanilla and nuts, stirring to mix well. Pour into unbaked pie shell.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 45 to 50 minutes or until filling is puffed completely across top. Cool. Top with whipped cream and pecan halves.

Festive Muffins Made With Candied Peel

Sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons sugar. Combine 1 egg, beaten, ½ cup orange juice, ½ cup milk, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons melted shortening and ½ cup chopped candied fruit peel.

Add egg mixture to flour mixture, mixing only enough to moisten flour. Fill greased 2-inch muffin cups about 2/3 full. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 1 dozen 2-inch muffins.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

"MASHED POTATO CAKE" is a very nice Christmas cake from Mrs. Lois Hall, of our Pueblo, Colo. Star-Journal Chapter.

- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup cold mashed potatoes
- 1 tablespoon cocoa
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon allspice
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1/2 cup raisins

Cream sugar and butter, then beat in eggs and potatoes. Combine all dry ingredients and add them; then the buttermilk and vanilla; and last, the nuts and raisins. Bake for 45 minutes in a preheated oven at 350 degrees.

STRAWBERRY ICE BOX DESSERT is highly recommended for Christmas time by Mrs. John D. Murray, Crystal Lake, Ill. (You may substitute 2 pints of fresh strawberries for the 2 packages of frozen berries.)

- 1/2 pound flaky cream wafers
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 2 packages frozen strawberries
- 1 cup rich cream, whipped

Crush the wafers, and spread half of them in the bottom of a and serve on chilled plates, in squares, topped if possible by a large fresh strawberry rolled in powdered sugar.

TACTAO (popcorn balls as done in Louisiana) from Mrs. L. J. Montegut, New Orleans Times-Picayune Chapter. "This is an old French favorite — c'est si bon," says she.

For this you need 4 cups of popped corn and 2 cups of shelled peanuts mixed together. She also uses sugar cane syrup, but you can substitute light molasses.

Combine 1/2 cup sugar with 2-3 cup cane syrup (molasses); 1-3 cup water; 1 tablespoon vinegar; and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Stir until sugar dissolves, then cook to a light crack stage (270 degrees). Remove from heat and add 1 tablespoon butter and 1/4 teaspoon soda. Stir well, and pour over the combined popcorn and peanuts.

Want Bazaar Item? — Sell Tree Strings

Looking for ways to support your favorite charity or to bolster your club treasury? Nothing is easier to make and to sell than fluffy, white strings of popcorn for an old-fashioned Christmas tree decoration!

Just string popped corn on nylon thread, wind strings around shirt cardboards and seal in cellophane. For a novel twist, spray the popcorn with dye, food coloring or paint to harmonize with one-color trees—or spray it with "sparkle" to make it glitter under the Christmas tree lights.

Popcorn strings will stay fresh-looking for years if they are packed away in boxes or tins after the tree comes down. Because popcorn is inexpensive and expands in popping to more than thirty times its original size, the strings can be sold at a very reasonable price and yet provide an excellent profit margin for the organization which sells them.

Light Dessert for Heavy Meal

The dessert should be keyed to the rest of the menu, advises Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at Michigan State University.

When you serve a full course meal made up of several heavy foods, as is so often the custom around Christmastime, a light dessert will please the palates of your guests. Miss Hershey suggests serving ruby apples on such an occasion.

Wash four medium baking apples; remove cores. With a small sharp knife pare thinly around stem end of each to remove about an inch of skin. Place apples in a shallow pan or baking dish, leaving about an inch of space between apples.

Mash 1/2 cup jellied cranberry sauce with a fork and combine with 1/2 cup water and 1/2 cup sugar. Pour over apples.

Bake uncovered in a moderate (400 degrees) for 35 to 45 minutes until soft throughout. Baste the apples frequently with syrup in the pan.

Serve the dessert warm. The apples also help to fill the too often neglected fruit requirement in our diets.

Don't scrape the bottom and sides of a saucepan when you are turning candy out of it.

Five medium-sized beets (about one pound) will make servings for four.

A blend of pineapple and grapefruit may now be had canned. Nice served with some mint sprigs.

CRAB MEAT MOLD — Delicious crab meat molded in lemon-flavored gelatin adds so much zest to holiday buffet fare. An artfully seasoned salad, its unusual flavor is enhanced by the tanginess of sour cream.

Shape Shimmering Salad to Grace Holiday Buffet

The merry Christmas season—filled to the brim with gay parties and family gatherings—presents many an occasion for buffet entertaining, featuring an array of tempting and colorful foods.

Crab meat or shrimp, beautifully molded in lemon-flavored gelatin, make especially handsome salads to serve with other holiday dishes. Substantial and good eating, they're ideal for the hostess because they can be made the day before the party.

An excellent choice for a buffet supper is this Crab Meat Mold which uses sour cream along with the crab meat and gelatin. It's especially intriguing made into a fish mold and served on a chop board garnished with watercress and tomato wedges.

Another enticing salad for a buffet party is a Shrimp and Cucumber Entree Salad. This interesting blend of flavors and textures combines crisp cucumber and celery and shrimp molded in lemon-flavored gelatin.

Crab Meat Mold
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 chicken bouillon cube
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup hot water
2 to 4 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar
Dash of pepper
1 cup sour cream

1 teaspoon grated onion
1/4 cup (3/4 oz. can) king crab meat
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon coarsely chopped parsley
Dissolve gelatin, bouillon cubes, and salt in hot water. Add lemon juice, pepper, sour cream, and grated onion. Beat until blended. Chill until slightly thickened. Remove cartilage from crab meat. Then fold in crab meat, celery, and parsley.

Spoon into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with fresh tomato wedges and watercress, if desired. Serve with sour cream salad dressing or mayonnaise. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Shrimp and Cucumber Entree
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Dash of cayenne
1 cup hot water
1/2 cup cold water
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1 1/2 cups diced cooked shrimp
1 cup finely diced cucumber
1/2 cup finely diced celery
Dissolve gelatin and salt in hot water. Add pepper, cayenne, cold water and vinegar. Add mayonnaise; blend well. Chill until slightly thickened.

Then fold in remaining ingredients. Pour into 1-quart mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with watercress and tomato wedges, if desired. Serve with sour cream salad dressing or mayonnaise.

Green Noodles Are Gay

Green noodles are a "natural" for holiday casseroles. Their green color in a tomato or shrimp sauce sets a Christmas theme just by its hue. Substitute green noodles, weight-for-weight, in your favorite noodle recipe to achieve this pleasing combination.

Parsley Butter Good

You'll need to mix about 1/4 cup of minced parsley with 1/2 cup butter if you're planning to use the mixture as a spread for sandwiches. Fill the sandwiches with cold sliced chicken or ham.

Rules for Selecting Best Buy in Pork

Now that the pork season is in full swing, a few rules of selection will help shoppers choose the best quality, says Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information agent. Look for firm cuts with a bright pink or grayish pink tendency. The fat should be firm and white.

Pork loins weighing 10 to 12 pounds will be better quality than larger ones. The small loins will have finer grained lean and less fat.

The price per pound on whole loins usually will be less than the price per pound for center pork chops or a loin-end roast. A prudent shopper with a little extra cash, can save a few pennies by buying the whole loin, then having it cut to order into chops and roasts.

The blink of the eye occupies about one-fortieth of a second.

Carefully Measure Onion, Garlic Juices

Pure onion and garlic juices may be purchased at most grocers in economical, easy-to-use bottles. Remember, they are full-strength, pure juices of fresh onion or garlic, so use them sparingly until you've determined the proper amount necessary to please your family.

Another says: These rule-of-thumb measurements will be helpful:

One tablespoon of onion juice is equal to an average onion in flavoring strength.

Find Shell Fish. Gourmets Delight on Queensland

BRISBANE, Queensland—A shell fish which is highly prized by gourmets for the delicious flavor of its flesh has been found in great numbers along some parts of Australia's Queensland coastline.

It is the scallop, which moves by a form of jet propulsion by opening its shell, taking in water and ejecting it under pressure through twin flanges in its hinge.

The Queensland scallop averages six inches in diameter and is much larger than its Tasmanian cousin.

Queensland is a tropic State, while Tasmania is an island State in cooler region off southern Australia.

In the first experimental trawl undertaken at Hervey Bay, Qld., by the Hervey Bay Trawling Company, in early 1956, three trawlers brought in 20 tons of scallops in two sweeps of the area. Since then trawling has been intensified.

A preliminary order for 7,200 lbs. of scallops for supply to U. S. has been followed by another for 37,100, also placed by U. S. sources.

It is expected that scallops will take their place alongside shrimps as valuable export industry to U. S.

Make Bread Tree for Holiday Fun

Transform your favorite sweet yeast dough into the edible variety of Christmas tree. Make the dough, using 3 cups sifted enriched flour. Let rise until doubled. When light, punch down and let rest 10 minutes.

Roll or stretch out to square sheet about 1/4 inch thick. Brush one diagonal half of the dough with 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle this half with 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup candied cherries and 1/4 cup chopped nuts. Fold the unsprayed half over the sugar-fruit covered half to form a triangle. Place on greased baking sheet.

With scissors or sharp knife cut dough from two opposite edges of triangle toward center. Cut almost to center making cuts about an inch apart.

Twist each cut slightly. Place a small twist of dough at base to form "trunk." Cover and let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes).

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 to 35 minutes. If desired, frost with confectioners' sugar icing and garnish with colored fruits, candies or sugar.

Generous Supply of Eggs Good for Holiday Eggnog

Amid Christmas wrappings and the list of Christmas cards, food shoppers are jotting down the items for this week's marketing.

Slightly lower wholesale prices on beef are giving retailers a chance to feature beef at more attractive prices than seen in some weeks. Pork, fryers, veal, and lamb remain at about the same steady price levels. Apples, bananas, and citrus team up at reasonable cost for tempting fruit choices.

In the vegetable department nothing can top thrifty cabbage, potatoes, and carrots. Lettuce quality is improved and most heads are lower than shoppers have been paying. Egg supplies are very ample for everyday eating or for eggnog plans.

MEATS—An old-fashioned pot roast with lots of rich velvety gravy, or tender Swiss steak rate more than a thought. Both these are best buy items in beef this week says the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawler. Success in cooking lies in the magic that moist heat weaves. Long, slow cooking with water or some other liquid—with the lid on—will gently tenderize the meat.

For pork roasts, look to Boston butts or loin roasts for good eating at little cost. Allow about 45 to 50 minutes per pound, and roast in a 25 degree F. oven. Some stores are offering large boneless canned hams at about 70 cents a pound. Since each pound will serve three or four persons, they may fit the needs of some families.

FRUITS—Bright red apples add the Christmas look. Team them with the ample supplies of bananas so reasonably priced this week.

The thrifty buys in citrus are among the small oranges that are smooth skinned and heavy for their size. Like other citrus fruits, orange sizes are expressed by numbers—the number of that size needed to fill a box or crate. The larger the number, the smaller the size.

VEGETABLES—Whatever the meat choice, a family favorite is hot fluffy potatoes. Michigan potatoes are about half the cost of those shipped from other states, so take another look before deciding which bag to buy.

Carrots and cabbage are versatile vegetables. Raw or cooked, they are tasty, colorful, and nutritious. Besides, they are quick and easy to prepare.

Notice the more solid heads of lettuce and the slightly lower price tags.

EGGS & DAIRY—More generous supplies of large eggs is welcome news. Christmas baking, and creamy eggnog can be slightly more economical this week. 48 to 53 cents a dozen will buy Grade A large eggs.

Planning ahead can eliminate last minute rush. Freeze eggnog and be prepared. Pour eggnog into freezer containers and place in the freezer. Use large containers, when planning to serve large amounts, or freeze in small containers when planning to use small portions.

Eggnog

To make eggnog for about 30 servings, beat six egg yolks until they are light yellow, gradually adding one cup of sugar. Stir in three cups of milk. Fold in one pint of whipping cream whipped stiff, and one and a half quarts of eggnog ice cream which has been thawed to the mushy stage. Whip six egg whites with 1/4 teaspoon of salt and fold into the mixture. Pour the eggnog into containers and freeze.

Thawing time will vary with the amount frozen in each container. If you freeze the whole recipe in one container, thaw it at room temperature for half a day. Smaller amounts will be thawed accordingly.

Just before serving beat the mixture of mushy consistency with an electric beater. Garnish each cup with freshly ground nutmeg and serve with thin slices of fruit cake or Christmas cookies.

Your pie crust shrinking? You may have added too much water to the dough or you may have overstretched it when fitting it into the pan.

Lakeside PACKING HOUSE SUPERMARKET

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK * 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

WALLED LAKE, MICHIGAN

2 Blocks West of Walled Lake MAIN INTERSECTION

ORANGE CARAMEL FUDGE — Make this unusual fudge, beat it and pour it at once into an aluminum foil pan. When cool, cut in squares and wrap for a special Christmas treat. Decorate some of the squares with candied cherries and nuts.

Caramel Fudge Is Pleasing Gift

Here's an idea for an easy and beautiful Christmas gift made in your own kitchen. Make up unusual Orange Caramel Fudge and pour it into an aluminum foil pie plate. Decorate the fudge with cherries (both red and green, if you have them) and pecans and when cool, cut it in squares.

The foil plates are something you probably have on hand, since they are used by bakers for many foods they sell to you. Or you can buy them new in department stores.

Now, to gift wrap the fudge beautifully, place the plate in the center of a large square of heavy duty aluminum foil and bring the foil up over the candy, gathering ends together in the center. Tie with a bright ribbon, as illustrated and tuck a few sprigs of holly or Christmas greens under the bow.

Many other gift foods take nicely to this way of packing — mince pies, Christmas breads, cookies, salted nuts, are a few. The foil pan and wrapping serves a two-fold purpose — it keeps the food moist and fresh and also gives your gift a bright, sparkling Christmas appearance.

Orange Caramel Fudge
3 cups sugar
1 cup hot water
1 cup evaporated milk
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 cup chopped nuts

Put 1 cup sugar in heavy sauce pan. Cook and stir over medium heat until sugar is melted and golden colored. Add water and stir until sugar is dissolved. Add remaining 2 cups sugar, milk and salt. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, to a temperature of 242 degrees, or until candy forms almost a hard ball in cold water.

Remove from heat. (The candy will appear curdled, but will beat smooth). Add butter, orange rind and nuts. Beat at once until thick and creamy. Turn into greased aluminum foil pan. Cool, mark into squares. Makes 1½ pounds candy.

Butter Now Powdered
Latest American dairy product developed for export market is powdered butter, joint invention of commercial firm and Department of Agriculture. Made from butter and dry skim milk. Has been kept as long as 13 months in tropical climates without refrigeration, without spoiling.

Prawn Is Jumbo Shrimp — Try It for Taste Thrill

Many people are confused over the terms "prawn" and "shrimp." Some think they refer to two different kinds of shellfish.

Because the shrimp industry is now big business—in fact, shrimp is now the largest single fishery in terms of dollar value of sales—the interest in this shellfish is increasing, so we pass this information on to you:

The United States Fish and Wildlife Service tells us that prawns usually refer to the big shrimp, but that the use of the word is disappearing in this country. The large varieties now are usually referred to as "jumbo," a more colorful and descriptive word, we think.

But by whatever name we prefer to call it, a shrimp is a shrimp, delectable eating, no matter how it is prepared. And here's a suggestion from the Shrimp Association of the Americas for making

Salad Just Right With Cold Cuts

You see aspicks everywhere in Switzerland—as clear and pretty garnishes, or as salads served with cold cuts.

This ring salad is just right with cold cuts and a fine substitute for those bitey white radishes and sour cream we may not have at hand.

Mustard Relish Salad Ring
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1½ cups cold water
1½ cups sugar
1½ tablespoons dry mustard
1½ teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons MSG
2 cups cider vinegar
4 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup finely diced celery
2 cups cooked green peas
1 cup grated raw carrot

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine in a saucepan: sugar, mustard, salt, MSG, vinegar and eggs. Stir over low heat until thickened (do not boil). Add gelatin; stir until dissolved.

Chill to consistency of unbeaten egg white; fold in vegetables. Turn into 8-inch ring mold. (This recipe is easy to cut in half. In this case, use 4 to 6 individual molds.) Chill until set.

Unmold on serving plate; fill center with crisp salad greens. Serve as an accompaniment to cold sliced meat or cold cuts. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Chicken in Squash Shells Is Tempting Combination

During December when chicken and squash are so abundant, try about this agreeable combination of them both.

Chicken in Acorn Squash Shells
Four acorn squash
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup canned sliced mushrooms
¼ cup flour
2 tablespoons (8 teaspoons) golden brown prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Shake cayenne pepper
1 cup chicken broth
1 cup light cream
2 cups cooked diced chicken
Grated cheese (sharp cheddar)

To prepare squash: Cut squash in half crosswise; remove seeds and sprinkle with salt. Turn upside down in a shallow pan; add water to a depth of ¼-inch. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 45 minutes or until tender.

To prepare filling: Melt butter; add onion and mushrooms and Swed-saute until onions are yellow. Sprinkle flour over mixture and blend well.

Use Baby Food for Family Dish

Doctors, nurses, nutritionists, researchers, agriculturists—all are working to improve baby's diet. The story of baby's advance on the road to right eating shows less infant mortality, less infant disease, better growth, bigger smiles and appetites.

These are good days for mothers, thanks to the variety of foods that are available, scientifically strained or chopped, and packed especially for the Bib Brigade.

The whole family will enjoy a molded gelatin salad or dessert made with those special baby fruits. Try this new recipe:

Raspberry-Peach Dessert
1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
½ cup strained peaches (baby pack)

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water and chill until slightly thickened. Fold in strained fruit, mixing well. Pour into serving bowl or individual serving dishes. Chill.

For toddlers, serve plain. For adults, serve with tangy fruit dressing or French dressing, as salad.

May be served with whipped cream or custard sauce as dessert. Makes five servings.

Note: Try basic recipe with other flavors of gelatin, other strained or junior fruits. To mold, pour mixture into individual molds. Chill overnight.

Bake Traditional Swedish Treat

The Swedes say God Jul, Gott Nytt Ar!

As they serve you steaming coffee and holiday cookies. Two of their traditional Christmas cookies are Spritz and Pepparkakor. Spritz are short, sweet and light.

The star-shaped Pepparkakor, on the other hand, are spicy, chewy and altogether festive. When Swedish cookies are served with coffee right here at home, it means exactly the same thing—Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

SWEDISH SPICE COOKIES

¾ cups sifted, enriched flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon ground cardamom (optional)
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup light molasses

Mix and sift first 6 ingredients. Cream butter or margarine; add sugar gradually while continuing to cream. Add egg and molasses. Stir in dry ingredients; blend thoroughly. Cover.

Chill overnight. Roll out ¼-inch thick on floured board (about ¼ of dough at a time). Cut into stars. Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees, 8 to 10 minutes. Cool on racks. Decorate as desired. Makes about 6 dozen.

Price Values of Nuts

The wise shopper will make a point to compare prices of nuts in-shell with those out-of-the-shell before deciding to buy.

According to a Consumer Marketing agent, it takes about 2½ pounds of in-shell walnuts or filberts to yield one pound of nut meats. The filberts and walnuts grown in western states this year are especially choice in size and quality.

Shrimp Croquettes

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
¼ cup milk
1 cup cooked rice
¼ cup grated process cheese
2 tablespoons grated onion
1 cup finely chopped cooked shrimp
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Dash cayenne
½ teaspoon dry mustard

Melt butter, remove from heat and stir in flour. Return to heat and gradually add milk, stirring constantly over moderate heat until thick. Combine with remaining ingredients. (If there is time, chill mixture for easier handling). Shape into small balls.

Mix 1 egg with 1 tablespoon water and beat slightly. Dip shrimp balls in egg mixture; then roll in fine dry bread crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat (350 degrees) until browned, about 2 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes about 24 small croquettes, 6 servings.

Make a Party Frappe With Cranberry Juice

Combine tangy, ruby-red cranberry juice with rich, creamy vanilla ice cream, then add a generous portion of sparkling water to tingle the nose and you'll have a party frappe to please a crowd of any size.

Here are the proportions for eight servings. Combine 1 quart of cranberry juice with 1 quart vanilla ice cream. Beat until smooth. Pour into eight chilled tall glasses. Finish filling each glass with sparkling water.

Pork Now Low Priced and Comes Leaner

The "new look" in pork is two-fold. There are lower prices as the spring crop is marketed, and pork is being given a close trim to encourage shoppers to use more of this economical red meat. Farmers are being encouraged to grow more of the meat-type hogs, says Consumer Marketing Information agent Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Meat type hogs weigh between 200 and 225 pounds and have a minimum of carcass fat. Continued requests from consumers for pork from meat-type hogs will aid and encourage farmers to shift their production to this superior porker.

Bread Sticks — the Easy Way

Bread sticks aren't unusual—but bread sticks you make yourself and bake in butter for dinner after a hustling day of Christmas shopping are!

It's during the busiest times we appreciate the new convenience foods the most—and learn how really versatile they are.

Tasty crisp butter sticks, for instance, can be made from refrigerated biscuits. Roll individual unbaked biscuits gently between fingers, twisting into a long stick. Bake in butter until lightly brown. (See exact recipe below.)

For these new butter sticks, try the new refrigerated biscuits, now being introduced, with the new zipper package. A pull-string separates the cylindrical package into two sections; the ten biscuits lift out in a special foil wrapper.

When it is chili or ravioli from a can for supper, sprinkle poppy or caraway seeds on the biscuits before baking—the flavorful seeds give a professional look as well as a foreign flair.

Let a crisp green salad be the third member of your shopper's special—and within twenty minutes from the time you walk into the house dinner will be on the table.

Butter Sticks
1 can refrigerated biscuits
1/2 cup butter
Melt 1/2 cup butter. Pour half into 8 inch square pan. Roll and twist biscuits into thin fingers about 8 inches long. Place sticks in pan, pour rest of butter over them. Bake in preheated oven 450 degrees to 475 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes. Makes 10 Butter Sticks.

Meat Macaroni Dish Is Budget Stretcher

Take the strain off your food budget with economical creamy meat macaroni.

Add 4 teaspoons salt and 8 ounces elbow macaroni to 1 1/2 quarts of boiling water. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly, for 2 minutes. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, melt 1/2 cup fat in skillet. Add 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms and 1/2 pound of ground meat. Brown well (about 15 minutes). Add 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons paprika and 2 tablespoons enriched flour. Mix well. Add 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 cup dairy sour cream and 1/4 cup chopped parsley.

Rinse macaroni with warm water and drain well. Fold macaroni into meat mixture. Pour into greased 2-quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes.

BUTTER STICKS — Bread sticks are a good accompaniment for casserole meals. When you come home late from Christmas shopping, get out a can of refrigerated biscuits and shape them into long twisted fingers. Bake in butter. Yummy.

Cookbook for Diabetics Is Excellent

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Christmas may be the season of overeating for the majority of the population. But to the many diabetics in this country the holidays are no different from any other time. These people must stay on their diets.

Today, thanks to sugarless sweeteners, that diet need not eliminate desserts and other good foods that are so much a part of this socially minded land. A fine cookbook called the Diabetic's Cookbook by Clarice B. Strachan (University of Texas Press, $6.50) has just come to my desk. In it are hundreds of recipes for diabetics.

The author has a diabetic son. This book was his attempt during 14 years to assemble recipes for varied attractive foods diabetics could eat. In it she first lists the food exchanges as set up by the American Diabetes Association in cooperation with other similar groups.

Each recipe is followed by its exchange value. With his individual prescription at hand, each diabetic can use this cookbook to suit himself and his needs.

There are blank outlines at the end of each section for the individual to fill in with new recipes. Each recipe printed has the weight in grams, carbohydrate in grams, fat and protein, as well as the caloric measure at the top of the recipe.

The diabetic need not sit around this holiday time and watch everyone else eat a "goody" dessert; not when Frozen Chocolate Pie can be made so easily.

Frozen Chocolate Pie

1/2 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons cocoa
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup scalded skim milk
1 egg, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
12 graham crackers, rolled in crumbs
Mix cornstarch, cocoa and salt together and blend in scalded milk. Add slightly beaten egg yolk and sugar solution. Cook in top of double boiler until thick. Cool.

Fold in beaten evaporated milk and stiffly beaten egg white. Add vanilla. Place half graham cracker crumbs on bottom of refrigerator tray. Cover with custard and top with remaining crumbs. Freeze firm.

In the back of the book there is a table of weights, measures and equivalents. This is especially useful in interchanging sugar, sucaryl and saccharin. There is also a table of food values.

With leftover ham or poultry from your Christmas dinner you might like to use this recipe from Mrs. Strachan's book.

"Leftover" Souffle

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 1/2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup skim milk
3 eggs, separated
1 cup cooked ground meat
Few grains cayenne
Onion or garlic optional

Melt margarine and blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cool. Add beaten egg yolks, meat and additional seasonings. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and pour mixture into greased casserole. Bake at 300 degrees for 45 minutes or until firm. Makes 4 servings.

One serving may be exchanged for 1/3 bread exchange, 3 meat exchange, 1 fat exchange.

Tricks to Make Molded Salad

Molded salads are favorites around holiday time. They aren't tricky to prepare but a few dos and don'ts may be helpful.

Mary Hixon, home demonstration agent, says to use the sirup from canned fruits as part of the liquid in the gelatin salad for added flavor. Chill gelatin until slightly thickened (unbeaten egg-white consistency) before adding the solid ingredients.

To arrange fruits and vegetables in a definite pattern, place them in a thin layer of slightly thickened gelatin. Chill until firm, then add the balance of the gelatin. To make molded layered salads, be sure each layer is firm before adding the next layer.

For easy unmolding, fill the molds as full as possible. To unmold, loosen the edge of mold with a spatula or a small knife which has been dipped in hot water. Then quickly immerse the mold just to the top in lukewarm water—hot water will melt the gelatin. Place the serving dish over the top of the mold, invert and carefully lift the mold off.

Food Worth Knowing

Chameleon of Vegetables Is American Artichoke

A veritable chameleon of the vegetable kingdom, the American artichoke deserves to be more widely known.

Where else can you find a vegetable with no starch which can be used like a potato? How many other vegetables taste like Brazil Nut, coconut, celery, or malt, depending on their mood? What other vegetable fits with equal aplomb into a candy or a relish recipe?

The American artichoke, not to be confused with the globe or leafy artichoke which most of us know, grows like a potato, and is indigenous to the United States, though it can be grown anywhere in the world. Its crisp texture and intriguing flavor appeal to anyone who tries it.

More and more products are being found to benefit from inclusion of one form of this vegetable. Its 20 per cent levulose sugar content makes it especially appealing for diabetics, and the low calorie, no-starch factors are ideal for all waistline whittlers.

MAKES GLUTEN FLOUR

Among the most popular products made from this vegetable are the bread sticks, rusks and macaroni foods, made of gluten flour and using a high content of artichoke flour. The artichoke flour, of course, has to be used in conjunction with some other flour.

since it contains no starch to hold it together.

These macaroni, including spaghetti and noodle products, are not only calorie and starch reduced — they taste delicious. Whether they are to be used in regular Italian spaghetti or macaroni and cheese, their flavor blends well with the other foods, yet retains its own individual character.

A good casserole dish for unexpected guests is chicken and noodles.

Prepare 1 box of artichoke noodles by boiling until almost tender. Add 2 1/2 cups diced cooked chicken, 1 can condensed mushroom soup, and a generous sprinkling of garlic powder. Mix together, sprinkle with parmesan cheese, and bake 20 minutes in 350-degree oven.

ANOTHER TASTE TREAT

Another taste treat is artichoke hors d'oeuvres. This is mixed like pie crust, the usual three to one proportion of flour and shortening, except that one quarter of the flour is eliminated and the artichoke powder, in the same quantity, is substituted.

The artichoke powder changes the consistency so that it handles more like cookie dough than like pie crust. This may be rolled out and cut into odd and interesting shapes.

Add to some a sprinkle of garlic powder, to others sesame or poppy seeds. Make dainty sandwiches by putting two pieces together with liver paste between—before baking. The possibilities are endless, and the result will bring compliments, and everyone's health will benefit.

Fruit, Vegetables Get Extra Touch From Seasoning

Winter fruits and vegetables now in the market taste doubly good when seasoned with imagination. Let's look at a few suggestions.

Boiled Beets with Vinaigrette Sauce: Peeled boiled beets, diced or sliced and tossed lightly with vinaigrette sauce.

Sweet Potato Stuffing for Pork Chops: Pork chops filled with stuffing made from mashed cooked sweet potatoes, toasted bread cubes, poultry seasoning, celery, and butter or margarine. Hubbard or Butternut Squash, Apple and Sausage Casserole: Alternating layers of sliced squash, apples and partly cooked sausage. Bake until done. Garnish with apple rings.

Mashed Squash, Carrot and Apple Casserole: Mash squash, carrots and apples together. Season with brown sugar, salt, black pepper, ginger and nutmeg and butter or margarine and bake.

The name of "spa" for a watering resort is derived from Spa, Belgium which is a fashionable resort for medicinal waters.

Wonderful Way to Cook Shrimp

Anyone who patronizes "The Lobster," a restaurant in the theater district of New York, will come away with an increased enthusiasm for all kinds of seafood. There are dozens of mouth-watering items on the menu, all gourmet dishes in their own right.

Shrimp is one of the most favored, with curries, croques, cocktails, salads and other popular items.

One of the most unusual and delectable shrimp dishes is the restaurant's own version of the Pan Roast, which the Shrimp Association of the Americas is happy to pass on to you.

"The Lobster's" Shrimp Pan Roast

3 pounds shrimp, fresh or frozen
1/2 pound butter or margarine
2 teaspoons paprika
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons celery salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1 1/2 cups water
1/4 cup chili sauce
1 1/2 cups catsup
1/4 cup sweet cream

Clean and devein shrimp. Melt butter in very hot heavy aluminum pan. Add paprika, salt, celery salt, Worcestershire sauce, pepper, water and shrimp and bring to a boil. Then add chili sauce and catsup and bring to a second boil. Add cream and leave on fire just long enough to foam up. Remove and pour over toast triangles into individual heated serving casseroles.

Cook Beef Stew in Tangy Juices

Christmas roasting on an open fire, Jack Frost's been nipping at your nose.

Vary your beef stew occasionally to promote taste changes in the home. Slickest trick for this is to mellow-cook it in bright red, refreshing cocktail vegetable juices.

This adds a delightful tangy flavor. And though the family won't care as they eagerly dive in, it's loaded nutritionally too. There are eight different vegetable juices contributing to the flavor-color-nutrition melody that's bound to please everyone.

Serve your stew right from a marvelous electric skillet, or a pretty, big casserole. . . add a warm loaf of caraway rye bread and lots of butter. Compliment the meal with your own special tossed salad. Everyone will glow . . .

Happy Beef Stew

- 1 1/2 pounds beef cubes
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 1/2 cups cocktail vegetable juices (12-ounce cans)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon powdered thyme
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 4 medium potatoes, quartered
- 4 medium onions, halved
- 2 cups cut green beans (10-ounce package, frozen)

Dust beef with flour; brown in shortening. Add cocktail vegetable juices and seasonings; cover and simmer about 1 hour. Add vegetables; cover and continue cooking over low heat until vegetables are done. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

New Versions of Tuna - Hot Tampico, Drumsticks

New tuna specialties come into the limelight to spark winter meals.

Sure to please the family on a brisk evening are bowls of piping hot chili made with solid-pack tuna . . . with the chili, serve a grapefruit and avocado salad.

Another "different" way to serve tuna is novel and delicious. Chunk-style tuna is seasoned with onion, mustard and worcestershire sauce and sauteed in the shape of drumsticks.

Tuna Tampico
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped onions
1/2 cup chopped green peppers
1 1/2-pound can tomatoes
1 6-ounce can tomato paste
1 1-pound can red kidney beans
1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder
Salt and pepper to taste
1 1/2-ounce can solid-pack tuna, drained
Melt butter or margarine and add onions and green pepper. Cook over medium heat until onions are lightly browned. Add tomatoes, tomato paste, beans and chili powder. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Cook uncovered, over low heat 1 1/2 hours, stirring occasionally. Break tuna into large pieces and add to chili mixture. Heat to serving temperature. Makes 4-6 servings.

Tuna Drumsticks
2 6 1/2-ounce cans chunk-style tuna, drained
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 medium-sized onion, finely chopped
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste
1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
Fat
Combine tuna, egg, onion, mustard, worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper and 1/4 cup crumbs; mix well. Shape tuna mixture on skewers to resemble drumsticks. Coat with remaining 1/4 cup crumbs and cook in hot shallow fat until browned on all sides, about 4-5 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Butterscotch Crisps Fine for Christmas

Butterscotch Crisps are simple but festive Christmas cookies.

Cream 1 cup shortening, using part butter or margarine. Add 1 cup light brown sugar and continue creaming until light and fluffy. Blend in 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract, 2 eggs, well beaten, and 3 tablespoons milk. Stir in 2 cups sifted enriched flour and mix well until well blended.

Using a spatula, spread 1/4 of dough at a time onto ungreased baking sheets to about 1/4-inch thickness (about 12x15-inch area). Be sure baking sheets cool before re-using.

Sprinkle with 1/4 cup finely ground pecans or pistachios before baking, or 1/4 cup crushed peanut brittle immediately after baking.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 minutes. While still hot, cut in pieces about 1 1/2x2 inches. Place on cooling racks. Makes about 12 dozen cookies.

Vary Fish Sticks

Want to vary those frozen breaded fish sticks? Thaw them and wrap them in pastry squares; brush the pastry with heavy cream and bake in a hot oven.

Spicy Steamed Pudding is Traditional Dessert

To steam a holiday pudding, put about 1 quart water into a large covered pan with a rack in the bottom. Bring water to boiling. Place the covered mold containing the pudding on the rack. Cover pan and reduce heat to simmer.

Steam for the time your pudding recipe specifies. If your pudding be served with cottage pudding, mold has no cover, you can improvise one with a double thickness of aluminum foil or waxed paper, tied securely.

Cinnamon stick and whole cloves add spice to a red cherry sauce to be served with cottage pudding.

Make Cranberry Ice

Cranberry ice is a light Christmas-flavored dessert. Drop four cups of cranberries in four cups of boiling water; cook until they are tender and then, run them through a sieve. Add two and a half cups of sugar and one tablespoon of lemon juice while the berry mixture is still hot. Cool the mixture and freeze it in a mold. Serve the red ice with colorful Christmas cookies.

Waterford Woman Wins Top Dairy Herd Prize

Give 4 Awards as 150 Watch

4 County Associations Gather in Commerce for Banquet

A Waterford Township farm owner received the Pontiac Press award for the dairy herd of the year and three newly-named Centennial Farms were presented with Detroit Edison Co. Plaques last night at the Oakland County Dairy-men's Annual Banquet at Commerce.

Following the dinner and program which was attended by 150 persons, the county's four Dairy Herd Improvement Assns. conducted their annual meetings.

A committee, to be announced later, was named to study the idea of organizing DHIA into one county-wide group.

Chairman for the annual event was Sam Smith, president of the Oakland County Dairy Committee and in charge of arrangements was Lyle Abel, Oakland County Agricultural Agent.

Guest speaker for the evening was Professor Jim Hays of MSU who gave his nationally famous and side-splitting account of "The Cardboard Cow."

Mrs. Myrtle Hess, owner of Lone Cedar Farm at 825 South Williams Lake Rd., took the annual Pontiac Press award for her herd of 21 registered Guernsey cows. Presentation was made by Abbie Kucera, Pontiac Press Suburban Editor.

Mrs. Hess, who was born on the farm which was cleared and started by her grandfather, J. O. Hathaway in 1862, credits much of the success of her farm to its manager, N. E. Arnold, who has been with the Hesses some 15 years.

The winning herd produced 437 pounds of butterfat per animal and 8,118 pounds of milk for 1936. Five year average was 7,944 pounds of milk and 437 pounds of butterfat.

Dan Hines of the Detroit Edison Co. presented plaques to the owners of the county's newly-designated Centennial Farms.

Plaque receivers were Mrs. Hazel Joyner of Rose Township, Mr. and Mrs. Clare G. Voorhees of Davisburg and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Green for the Arthur R. Greens of Walled Lake.

The Joyner farm, located at 225 Munger Rd. was purchased in 1832. Mrs. Joyner says she still enjoys the shade from the row of original maple trees set out when the farm was first settled.

The Voorhees, who live at 6700 Broadet, trace the purchase of their property back to 1840. Outstanding, they believe, are the two giant pines and shrubbery and myrtle, planted there by the grandparents.

The Arthur Green and Sons Fruit farm land, 37800 14 Mile Rd., was bought back in 1832 from the government. Begun with only a half-acre of cleared ground, it is now a productive 160-acre fruit farm. The present Green family still has in its possession the original land grant signed by President Andrew Jackson.

Dinner for last night's event was prepared and served by women of Commerce OES.

trophy for outstanding herd of the year. Presentation is by Abbie Kucera, Press Suburban Editor.

CENTENNIAL FARMS RECOGNITION — Three farms endorsed by the Michigan Historical Assn. were given plaques by the Detroit Edison Co. at the annual Oakland County Dairy-men's banquet last night. Above, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Green receive recognition for their farm at 37800 14 Mile Rd., Walled Lake. Holding the award is Dan Hines, who made the presentation for the Detroit Edison Co. Other plaques went to Mrs. Hazel Joyner, Rose Township, and the Clare G. Voorhees, of Davisburg.

Dock Deaths Cause Suicide

Sailor Who Drove Car Off Alpena Pier Slashes Wrists Before Trial

DETROIT — A young seaman slashed both arms and bled to death today, apparently despondent over his part in the accidental drowning deaths of two girls on Nov. 28.

He was Anthony Santey, 22, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Santey was to appear in municipal court at Alpena tomorrow for examination on a charge of manslaughter in the drowning of Rosemary Gorski and Dorothy Beaubien, both 18, of Alpena.

The girls were trapped inside an automobile when Santey backed it off a pier into 40 feet of water at Alpena. He had driven them to the dock to show them his ship, the freighter Wyandotte.

Miss Gorski was his fiancée. His body was found early today in a riverfront garage at suburban Riverview, where the Wyandotte was docked.

State Police Detective Sgt. Karl Lutz said Santey had slashed both wrists with a razor blade. The used blade was found nearby and a package of razor blades from which it had been taken was in his pocket.

The Wayne County prosecutor's office ruled it suicide. First reports to Riverview police said Santey died of head injuries and footprints in the snow indicated he may have been slain. Later investigation brought the suicide verdict.

Santey had managed to climb through a window when his car plunged off the Alpena pier. He was rescued from the water by seamen who saw the accident.

He had demanded examination on the involuntary manslaughter charge. He was free under $2,500 bond pending the hearing tomorrow.

Police Vote for Plaque to Honor Dead, Retired

A $400 bronze plaque honoring Pontiac Police Department retired and deceased officers was approved last night by the police officers' association. Officers voted for the plaque to hang in the lobby of the new Public Safety Building. It will honor all policemen since the department was formed in 1913.

Your PTA Is Planning:

AUBURN HEIGHTS—The PTSA of Auburn Heights Junior High School, meeting here at the school tonight for the Christmas Musical program, will eliminate business for the evening.

The Junior High Choir will present a series of Christmas Carols under the leadership of Barbara LeBeau, and Gerald O'Connor will direct the school's band in a musical medley.

The public is invited to attend the presentation.

Vote Won't Cut Corn Grown

Walter Cook Says Local Farmers Less Interested in Allotments Now

Defeat of the corn soil bank base acreage plan on a national scale probably won't lower the amount of corn grown in Oakland County, Walter Cook, director of the Agriculture Stabilization Commission office here said today. "But it probably will mean farmers will be less interested in observing corn allotments," he says.

Oakland county farmers voted Tuesday, 97 for the soil bank program and 13 for the acreage allotment. More farmers approved the soil bank plan nationally, than the older plan, but not enough to tally the required 60 per cent.

"Oakland's farmers probably see less difference between the soil bank plan tried last year than the allotment plan used earlier," Cook said. "In states where corn is a major crop, like Iowa or Illinois, the acreage allotment would be more desirable."

Funeral Walk Ends in Hospital Trip

ROCHESTER — Mrs. Agatha Hurley of 710 Willard St., was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Tuesday noon where she was treated for a double fracture of her left arm. Mrs. Hurley slipped on the ice on Lawrence street in Pontiac as she was on her way to the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Glenn Purcell.

West Bloomfield Green School PTA will hold its Christmas meeting this year at West Bloomfield High School. The day will be Friday and time, 8 p. m.

Third and fourth grades, under the supervision of Teacher Mrs. Dickie will present the play, "When Christ Was Born." Each child will participate. Teacher Mrs. White and her first and second graders will present the "Shoemaker and the Elves."

A social hour is scheduled to follow. Two "Care Trees," at Green School again this year are fast filling with name tags. Children bring money which they put in a box designated for overseas aid and thus receive their tags which they hang on the trees.

Lakeville A change of date for the PTA meeting at which the school children will provide entertainment has been announced. The event will be at 7:30 p. m. on Wednesday at the school.

Vandals Cause Retake on Stage for Puppets

ORION TOWNSHIP—Fire extinguisher spray over a puppet stage has caused the fifth graders at Webber School a double scenery job for their play at tonight's PTA meeting. Vandals entered the school Monday night and used fire extinguishers, ruining the newly-completed stage as well as library books just received at the school.

graders under the direction of Mrs. Donald Weston. Besides songs, they will give a puppet show, "The Night Before Christmas" written by fifth grade students. They also created puppets and their own stage.

After refreshments parents will have an opportunity to visit the new unit of the school opened to students last month. Students have prepared bulletin boards and trees with handmade decorations for their parents' visit. Anyone interested in viewing the school should attend the program.

Police Break Up New Polish Riot

Gang of Adventure Seekers in Warsaw Cause Another Clash

WARSAW, Poland (U)—Warsaw newspapers today reported a new clash between Polish and "hooligans" in the port city of Stettin.

The papers said a "gang" gathered outside a restaurant in Stettin (Szczecin) last night and tried to block the street in order to "start a new adventure." They added that police wielding clubs broke up the crowd in a few minutes.

The latest disorders followed a mob attack Monday night on the Soviet consulate in Stettin. Earlier the same night demonstrators attacked police headquarters, the local prosecutor's office and tried to break open the jail.

The government press blamed hooligans for that incident, but other sources said the riot stemmed from a student demonstration protesting the Russian intervention in Hungary. Eighty-eight persons, mostly youths, were reported arrested in the Monday outbreak.

The regime headed by anti-Stalinist Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomułka hurriedly apologized to Moscow for the attack on the consulate.

In contrast with the Monday disorders, the papers said, Stettin residents helped the police and applauded when they dispersed the rioters last night. Bystanders were accused of encouraging the Monday demonstrators by their "neutral attitude."

Antigovernment demonstrations were reported yesterday in other parts of Poland in the wake of the Stettin riots. These included an attack on a police building in Olecko, a town near Bialystok in northeastern Poland; a demonstration in which crowds destroyed municipal offices at Nowy Ciechocinek in the northern Midlands; and the beating of a Communist party secretary at Nieszawa in the same district.

Hazel Park Voters

Allow School Bonds

HAZEL PARK—A third of Hazel Park's registered voters turned out yesterday, and a narrow margin won approval of $5,500,000 to build a new high school and elementary school additions.

The vote was 1,732 to 1,247, a total of 2,979 of the city's 7,000 on voters rolls here.

"About 1,600 students will be taken care of in the new high school," Assistant Superintendent Wilfred Webb said this morning. "In addition, it will provide 40 new classrooms in the district's eight elementary schools."

The bond issue approved will not include junior high school projects. An earlier bond issue asked, would have included that with other projects, at an $8,500,000 total. Voters turned it down last spring.

A citizens committee revived the school building issue, asking a $7,500,000 that was trimmed by school board members to the $5,500,000 figure. With children on half and part-time sessions, the school building program is to start immediately.

Heart of Hills Plans Parade

Biggest Holiday Event to Star Queens Rifles, Floats, Bands, Santa

ROCHESTER—Lions Club members here are planning the biggest and best parade ever put on in the "Heart of the Hills" country.

Date for the big fifth annual Christmas event is Saturday, Dec. 15 at 2 p. m.

In keeping with their custom of having "something out of the ordinary," the Lions this year will have "The Queen's Own Rifles of Canada," Regimental Bagpipe band from Toronto.

Thirty floats have been entered by various organizations and another parade feature will be the Chrysler Highlander Bagpipe Band, which will be returned after making a hit during its appearance here two years ago.

Bands to play include the Rochester High Band under the direction of Ward Reid and Avondale High School Band under the direction of John Nezeck.

300 Children to Give Annual Outdoor Sing

The annual "outdoor sing" to be presented by more than 300 Stringham school children, will be given Wednesday, Dec. 19 on the school lawn.

Stringham was the first school in Waterford Township to initiate this type of Christmas program into the holiday season six years ago, and many schools in the area have followed with similar programs, according to Mrs. Martin F. Barnhart, P.T.A. president.

File Damage Suit in Bank 'Monopoly'

PORT HURON — A million-dollar-plus damage suit was filed yesterday against the Michigan National Bank.

Peoples Savings Bank, which brought the suit, charged Michigan National conspired to gain a monopoly in the Port Huron area. Michigan National announced last September it had gained control of Peoples and planned to merge the two organizations.

Peoples Savings said in its suit that since the announcement of the merger $1,600,000 has been withdrawn from the bank.

It asked that Michigan National be restrained from "monopolizing or attempting to monopolize the banking business or exercising control of Peoples capital stock." It also asked that Michigan National be enjoined from transferring any capital stocks or voting on any transfer.

Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane set Dec. 21 for a show-cause hearing.

Antigovernment demonstrations were reported yesterday in other parts of Poland in the wake of the Stettin riots. These included an attack on a police building in Olecko, a town near Bialystok in northeastern Poland; a demonstration in which crowds destroyed municipal offices at Nowy Ciechocinek in the northern Midlands; and the beating of a Communist party secretary at Nieszawa in the same district.

Color Divinity for Yule Candy

Small girls just love to go to Grandma's house for the afternoon. When they are placed in front of a large tray of candy and told to take some, their pleasure is unbounded.

Lynn Knight, a serious first grader, and her little cousin, Debbie, helped their grandmother, Mrs. Ivan Knight, fix some plates of candy. Almost before the accompanying picture was taken, Debbie had both hands full of candy and was eating blissfully. Her mother said she hadn't been given any candy for about a week in anticipation of this day.

Lynn is old enough to learn how to make some simple candies, but Debbie's participation will be limited for a few years. Lynn could make one of the quick fudge recipes, while both girls could stuff dates.

Mrs. Knight has a foolproof recipe for divinity. For our picture she made two batches, coloring one red and the other green. This is an excellent Christmas candy.

DIVINITY
By Mrs. Ivan Knight
3 cups white sugar
1/2 cup water

GOODY, GOODY! — Two-and-a-half-year-old Debbie Knight and her six-year-old cousin, Lynn, arrange small plates of candy to be passed around. At the right Grandma (Mrs. Ivan Knight of Mark street) cuts some more divinity. Debbie is the daughter of the J. Thomas Knights of Ascot road; and Lynn's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knight of Frankel Lane.

Make It Buffet for Big Party in Small Home

A small home need not put a stop to your entertaining larger numbers of guests for a meal. Try a buffet supper, suggests Frieda Bennett, Oakland County Home Demonstration Agent.

A buffet supper is easy to prepare and serve and allows you more time to visit with your guests. Then, too, it keeps waiting on tables to a minimum.

The menu for a buffet supper need not be elaborate to be successful. Just be sure the food you plan can be made ahead of time and, in many cases, made the day before. Mrs. Bennett suggests a menu of chicken a la king on hot biscuits, tossed salad, hot rolls (breads and serve) and jam, relishes, lemon chicken pie, and coffee.

The vegetables for the relish plate and tossed salad can be cleaned and refrigerated ready to put together just before serving time. The biscuits can be made and frozen, then heated at the last minute. And, the pie can be whipped up and refrigerated the day before.

Mrs. Bennett suggests you help the guests serve themselves by placing the stack of dishes close to the hot dish to they won't have to lift the plates from the table to serve the chicken a la king. And have a clear spot near the salad so they can set their dish down and use both hands to serve their tossed salad.

Guests also find it easier to serve themselves if the linen and silver are already on the tables so they will not have to be carried to their places.

Creamed ham and chicken is delicious served over split squares of cornbread. If you need to stretch the sauce, add hard-cooked egg or mushrooms to it.

Dip Mushrooms in Tangy Sauce

Want a delightful, novel taste-treat for party snacks or buffet? Dip fresh mushrooms into tangy, spicy sauces.

Wash, then quarter whole mushrooms through stems. Chill in ice water and arrange in attractive patterns on serving platters. Holding stem "handles," dip cap ends into popular sour cream-onion soup mix sauce, barbeque, or cheese sauce.

Dunk and enjoy. These are for TV munching. Use sliced fresh mushrooms in salads, too.

And don't forget handy canned mushroom caps for party nibbling. Spear them on pretzel sticks and eat them as they come from the can or dunk into your favorite dip. And always keep a can of mushrooms on hand to use fresh ones — sliced, caps, or stems and pieces — for the crowning glory of that next juicy steak.

Bake Colorful Italian Peppers With Spaghetti

Italian Christmas Peppers are colorful as well as flavorful.

Italian Christmas Peppers
4 ounces elbow spaghetti
2 green peppers
1/2 pound sausage meat
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cups tomato juice
1/2 cup enriched bread crumbs
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Add 2 teaspoons salt and the spaghetti to 3 cups boiling water. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly, for 2 minutes. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes.

Wash peppers, cut in halves and remove seeds. Parboil in 1 salted water 10 minutes. Drain spaghetti with warm water.

While peppers are cooking, brown sausage meat in heavy skillet. Drain off excess fat. Add onion and brown lightly. Stir in flour and salt. Add tomato juice and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Fold in spaghetti.

Fill pepper halves with spaghetti mixture. Pour remaining spaghetti into 1-quart casserole. Arrange pepper halves on top. Combine bread crumbs, cheese and butter or margarine and mix lightly. Sprinkle over peppers.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes. Makes four servings.

Gets Insects Out
An old-fashioned technique that's still good to use: Soak cauliflower or broccoli in salted water for 15 minutes or so before cooking to get rid of small insects.

Always loosen a meat loaf from the sides of the pan before turning it out.

Broiled ham steak is delicious served with whole cranberry sauce to which diced orange has been added.

Men Will Like Items for Desk

Wide Range of Style and Price Offered in Accessories

Be it the home desk or a man's office desk, it's probably due for some new trappings. Desk accessories make an ideal gift for the man who "has time for nothing but business" or for the hard-worked home desk.

It could almost make one feel cheerful when it comes to paying the Christmas bills.

Light colors in sueded grain leather in the ivory, sand, cream and champagne shades are new this year and add a decorator's touch to the woman's office desk or to the home desk. Darker colors please the men.

New two or three-in-one desk accessories such as lamp, clock and penholder all in one leather case improve efficiency and eliminate clutter.

A clean blotter in a leather frame dresses up the desk top. A holder for receipts, statements and pencils saves frantic searches.

Leather-based ash trays, cigarette lighters, hand blotters and memo-pad holders are also available. Extra - convenient is a leather-covered box for filing cancelled checks, month by month. There are also pocket adding machines for totting up the debit.

A picture frame to match a desk set adds a personal touch to an office.

Oval desk baskets can be used for letters or collecting the sundries that accumulate on the desk. A matching wastebasket comes with many sets.

Guest registries and many letter openers complete the list of hand-

Urges Greater Safety at Christmas Time

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit's Health Commissioner, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, urged safety as well as gifts and good will at Christmas time.

Dr. Molner said the likelihood of having accidents comes when people allow themselves to get "dead tired."

The health commissioner cautioned shoppers to choose a Christmas tree that is not too large for the room and keep it in a cool place outdoors, if possible, until ready for use.

He also advised never to leave the lights burning when there is no one home or when everyone is in bed.

Battles Way to Freedom After 4 Years of Horror

HAMILTON, Ont. (U) — Three months before the headlines of the world screamed "Hungary revolts" a letter was delivered at a modern apartment building in Hamilton.

And two people knew the revolution was on the way . . .

Two people who, day after day, carried with them a secret which soon would be shared by the world.

For that letter was from Hungary, from one of the rebel leaders.

It is only now, after the uprising has suffered its death throes, that the couple has spoken.

Last night, the remarkable letter predicting the revolution, was shown to a newsman by 28-year-old Zoltan Peremiczky, a television serviceman, at his home.

Though not in code, its contents contained clever double meanings; Zoltan had interpreted those meanings—correctly.

He had shared the letter's contents with his attractive Canadian-born wife, Anne, and together they had awaited Hungary's D-Day.

In the room last night was the writer of the letter—a man who looked 25, but who was, in reality, only 26.

His name: Laszlo Peremiczky.

With his 26-year-old wife Elizabeth, and younger brother, Bela, 20, he had just arrived in Canada after flying from Vienna at his brother, Zoltan's expense.

He arrived in this country wearing a dead commissar's black leather boots.

To get them, he thrust a dagger through the hated secret police chief's neck—and he killed with a venom born out of 53 months of unbelievable suffering.

His anguish-wracked face tells the silent story of these months . . . of the period he spent as a "guest" of the secret police at Andrási Street 60, Budapest—an address which makes any Hungarian shudder.

It was there that Cardinal Mindszenty was imprisoned.

Laszlo spent four months and four days at the prison. For 92 days he remained shackled, in a cramped position, sitting on a cold, cement floor. His arms were fastened behind the knees.

He said he was methodically beaten and given "cold water" treatment by the Communist secret police as they strove to extort a "confession."

Laszlo's "crime" was spying. "But," he told me, sadly, "I couldn't confess . . . because I had nothing to confess to."

From No. 60, Laszlo was taken to another prison, where he spent nine months in total darkness in a small cell.

"I had almost forgotten what daylight looked like," he recalled. Laszlo isn't particularly fond of cabbage any more. For almost a year, he was given nothing else.

Then he was transferred to various labor camps, where he worked day after day with about four hours sleep a night.

One merciful day in 1954, he was finally released.

And Laszlo had still not "confessed."

But, because of his black record, he found it almost impossible to obtain work.

Fortunately for him, his brother, Bela, was a star soccer player. As a center-forward for one of Hungary's crack teams, Bela was a favored person.

The Communists, noted for the emphasis they place on all sports fed, clothed and paid Bela handsomely.

In one week Bela was paid as much as the average Hungarian earned in a month.

But Bela despised the Red regime as much as his brother.

And when, at last, the revolution began, both Bela and Laszlo were leaders of the freedom fighters in their home city of Miskolc, in northeastern Hungary.

They organized a raid on a munition factory and in three days distributed 28,000 rifles.

And it was Bela's voice which was heard over the radio in Miskolc, telling of the Hungarians' bid to throw off the shackles of tyranny which had bound them for so long.

"It cost one loaf of bread," he chuckled.

The crew, he explained, were so hungry that they had traded their tank for the loaf of bread.

"We thought it was a fair bargain," laughed Bela.

But he didn't laugh when he told of the 14 young students the secret police in Miskolc held as hostages in a bid to save their own lives.

"We were going to blow up the police headquarters," said Bela, "but we didn't dare because of those youngsters." Eventually however, the rebels stormed the building.

They found the students inside. Each one had long, steel needles sticking from his eyes.

Laszlo kicked the jackboots he had taken from the secret police chief across the room. "Now you know how I felt when I killed him," he said.

Shortly afterwards Bela was captured by the Russians and placed aboard a train for deportation to an unknown destination.

Hungarian rebels, however, sabotaged the railway tracks and Bela was among the hundreds of young men who escaped.

The brothers then obtained a tractor and with 400 other rebels, traveling in an assortment of vehicles, set out to fight their way through to the Austrian frontier.

Elizabeth, too, was in the group; she helped in the making of home-made bombs, with which the party knocked out countless Russian tanks.

The small "army" battled its way westwards, and when the brothers came across a Russian tank crew, asleep, they killed them—and stole their tank.

At last the frontier came in sight. They abandoned the tank—and walked to freedom.

But of the 400 who originally set off, more than 300 lost their lives in the endeavor.

And now?

"First," said Zoltan, looking at Laszlo, "He's going to have the best two months' holiday of his life."

And then . . . Zoltan is going to make his television serving a real family concern: He's going to take his brothers into partnership with him.

Sheriff Is Puzzled

WILSON G. GARDNER

Waterford Assessor to Seek Clerk's Post

Seeking the Republican nomination for Waterford Township clerk in the February 18 primary is Wilson G. Gardner, 39, of 3700 W. Walton Blvd., Drayton Plains.

Presently one of two Waterford Township assessors, he was previously an Oakland County Sheriff's deputy, and chief of plant protection at Pontiac Coach Co. in Drayton.

Born near Ithaca, he has been a township resident for 20 years.

Americans each year eat 570 million pounds of macaroni, spaghetti and vermicelli; about 200 million pounds of egg noodles; and about 10.3 million pounds of plain noodles.

Japan's Christmas Revelry Is Largely Non-Religious

TOKYO (U) — Japan is going all out this year for the merriest Christmas in its history, with plenty of tinsel, music, Santa Claus and bells—especially the jingle of cash registers.

Because only one Japanese in 267 is a Christian, the holiday is almost completely commercialized, with none of the solemnity of the West.

Department stores expect to sell 125 million dollars worth of goods in December, twice as much as in November and 10 per cent more than in December 1955.

It is a Christmas without religious significance, except in the tiny Christian community of less than a half million in a population of 80 million.

Japan's Christmas and New Year celebrations are now almost the exact opposite of the American pattern.

The selling approach is "Merry Xmas" on thousands of gift, food and liquor counters. But most Japanese actually exchange presents the last day of the year or on New Year's Day, a most solemn occasion for paying homage to ancestors and the emperor, family reunions and settling debts.

TIME FOR REVELRY

Nearly two million people jam downtown Tokyo streets Christmas eve in wild "year forgetting" spree, even though most must work Christmas Day.

Some 100 night clubs in downtown Tokyo's Ginza and thousands elsewhere have special police permission to stay open all night. Smartly-dressed hostesses in the western-style clubs and geishas in traditional places sell party tickets from $5 up.

This is for one seat and sandwiches or rice, seafood, beer or tea, funny hats, noisemakers, fireworks, entertainment and dancing. Drinks come extra, and high.

For common people, "Kurusu masu" at home means merely a few extra drinks of sake (rice wine) or beer, a better than average meal and perhaps some good-lies or trinkets for the kids.

But for everyone, the main thing is the spectacle in the streets. From late October, Santa Claus, Christmas trees, electric Christmas displays and music take over the shopping districts.

SOME ODD SANTAS

The big stores are swarming with versions of Santa Claus. Only in Japan, his name is "Santa Kuroshu," and he is not always bearded, not always fat, not always dressed in red and not always a man.

Choral groups in major cities perform Handel's Messiah for charity and American Christmas plays appear over television. The tiny Christian community has a more westernized celebration, with church, prayer, hymns and feasts.

The Rome, Italy, zoo has a new attraction—two bouncing black panther cubs. These animals are rarely born in captivity.

U.S. Not Tied, Asserts Dulles

Reserves Right to Act Without Asking NATO, Ministers Told

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dulles has served notice on the Atlantic allies that the United States reserves full freedom of action to defend its vital interests without consulting them in advance.

The secretary told the foreign ministers of the 15 North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) countries that, beside its NATO allies, the United States has mutual defense pacts with 30 other nations.

He said it would not be fair in these other countries if the United States made a "hierarchy" of its NATO friends and could not act in other portions of the globe without consulting NATO.

Diplomats expected that Dulles' remarks would create a storm of comment because of the strong U.S. opposition and resentment when Britain and France took military action against Egypt without consulting the United States or any other NATO ally.

One diplomatic source described Dulles' statement as a "new American declaration of independence" in foreign policy.

Dulles was commenting at a closed session of the NATO ministerial council on a report concerning nonmilitary cooperation in NATO drawn up by the so-called "three wise men." They are Norway's Halvard Lange, Italy's Gaetano Martino and Canada's Lester B. Pearson.

His remarks were disclosed to newsmen by a high NATO source.

Suit to Block Steel Merger

Bethlehem, Youngstown Plan Called Violation of Anti-Trust Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell late yesterday filed suit in New York City to block the proposed merger of Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

The action followed by less than 24 hours an announcement from signed a merger agreement in the face of Justice Department disapproval and the department's announced intention to move against such a consolidation.

The plan is for Bethlehem, the nation's second biggest steel producer, to acquire Youngstown, the sixth largest, in exchange for Bethlehem stock.

In announcing the injunction action, Brownell reiterated his belief that the proposed merger would violate the Clayton Antitrust Act.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen said in a statement the department believes the effect "may be substantially to lessen competition or to tend to create a monopoly."

"If the government is successful in stopping this significant merger, I believe a major step will have been accomplished in promoting competition in one of our nation's most important basic industries," Hansen said.

The merger would create a combined second only to U. S. Steel in the industry.

The suit described the two companies involved as among the largest manufacturing corporations in the United States.

LIGHTS GO ON—A crowd gathers as Christmas lights, surrounded by candy canes, illuminate the gardens of Rockefeller Center in New York City's annual tribute to the Yuletide Season. In the background is a 64-foot spruce tree with 2,200 seven-watt bulbs and 1,200 plastic globes.

Keep Christmas Merry by Making It Fireproof

When you are making plans for the Christmas celebration why not put at the head of your list, "Make it a fireproof holiday?"

Probably at no other time of the year are there as many extra hazards in the average American home. To list all such fire hazards would take a considerable amount of space but the major ones, according to fire-prevention experts are: Christmas trees, Christmas decorations and wrappings, and electrically operated toys.

Forethought, a watchful eye and precautions that are practically elementary are the best fire-prevention methods, the experts say.

Here are some of their specific suggestions for a fireproof holiday: First of all, gather the family together — both youngsters and adults — and let the head of the house explain the additional fire hazards that occur at Christmas time, obtaining a promise from each one to do his or her part in the Yuletide safety campaign.

Select Christmas decorations that are noncombustible. Most stores carry flameproofed decorations. Insist on them. Get your Christmas tree lights out of storage early and inspect them for loose connections and frayed cords. If they aren't in near-perfect condition, don't use them.

Every year, hundreds and hundreds of fires are started by defective strings of lights that have been in the family for years and should have been thrown away.

When buying electrically operated toys make sure they bear the familiar "UL" label of approval of the Underwriters' Laboratories. Be especially wary of celluloid toys.

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A steady increase in student-owned automobiles is giving Baylor University here some headaches.

This year, there are only 1,022 parking spaces on the campus and 2,000 cars are registered for campus parking.

Dean of Men W. C. Perry said each new parking space costs the university $500. Four new parking areas have been added since last year and three are being constructed.

This still doesn't keep up with demand.

corners from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Friday selling the Salvation Army magazine, "The War Cry" and collecting money in the kettles. The brass band of the Salvation Army will be playing Christmas Carols during the drive. The money received will be used for Christmas baskets for the needy.

Find 12 Carriers of Diphtheria Germ

DETROIT (AP) — Five diphtheria carriers were found yesterday in Guardian Angel home, an orphanage on Detroit's near East side. Health department nurses checked the orphanage after finding diphtheria cases at the school where most of the orphans attended classes. Seven other carriers were found elsewhere and three new cases were reported.

The 12 carriers were the most found in one day since the diphtheria outbreak began two months ago. The three new cases brings the year's total to 161. Five cases were fatal. Immunization teams inoculated 6,132 children yesterday, bringing to 40,986 the total inoculated since health teams began the mass project Dec. 3.

Doe Invades Business

ADRIAN (AP) — A 60-pound doe deer leaped through a window at the Gerity-Michigan Corp., was cornered by a factory foreman, two policemen and a conservation officer, and lassoed and freed unhurt.

Wool is ousting synthetics in world markets, according to T. G. Carter, Australian chairman of the International Wool Publicity Fund, in Sydney.

Bar Owner Waits, Youths Break In

MEMPHIS (AP) — A Detroit youth was shot today by a bar owner who had been tipped a break-in of his tavern was planned. Eldon Phillips, 23, was held a police prisoner in Port Huron General Hospital. He was wounded in both legs.

A posse searched the fields of this St. Clair County community for his companion. Steve Spelmack, 36, of Memphis, lying in wait in the darkened bar, shot Phillips after the youth and a friend kicked down the door to the tavern. Bernard Falter, also of Memphis, told Spelmack the youths planned a break-in after he had seen them tamper with a washroom window. They had bought a drink in the bar earlier, then left and returned after closing hours. Phillips is being held for investigation.

Announce Low Bidder for Building Culvert

Low bidder for construction of a culvert on the U.S. 16 relocation near Novi was Gerritt Posthumus of Wayne, the State Highway Department announced today. The low bid figure, submitted at yesterday's 11 million dollar contract letting in Lansing, was $26,572. No completion date was mentioned.

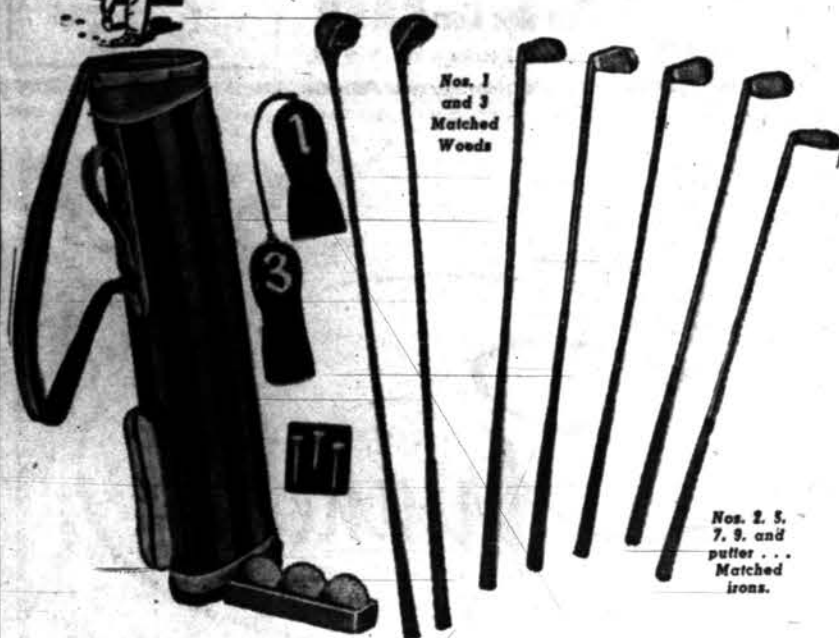

Gov. Williams Visits Latin Jeep Factory

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Gov. G. Menem Williams of the motor capital of the world, Michigan, visited the Kaiser Jeep plant at Cordoba yesterday. The Kaiser operation, Industrias Kaiser Argentina, is a subsidiary of U.S. industrialist Henry J. Kaiser. It is located in the historic provincial capital in central Argentina where the revolution that ousted the Peron regime began more than a year ago. Williams flew to Cordoba from Buenos Aires where he was received by President Pedro Aramburu at Government House.

Five U. N. Secretaries Go to Egypt; to Get More Whistles Than Monroe

CAIRO (INS) — They have never seen Hollywood, but four American girls and a "cousin" from neighboring Canada are about to get more wolf whistles than Marilyn Monroe.

Yesterday five U. N. secretaries who volunteered to come to Egypt,

"for the adventure of the thing" moved bag and baggage into the midst of the United Nations troops from seven nations.

It doesn't seem to bother them a bit that the 3,000 U. N. soldiers now patrolling the Suez front lines haven't seen a woman, except modest, black-veiled Egyptians, since they left home, most of them nearly a month ago.

"Let 'em whistle," is the philosophical attitude of brunette Virginia Bock, of Oceanside, L.I., N.Y. Confessed Virginia: "It's the mosquitoes that are worrying me. I hear they are terrible around the Canal."

The secretaries will be in the first echelon of 27 U. N. members to move into the new headquarters of U. N. Emergency Force Commander Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns in the Canal Zone at the former British camp called "El Ballah."

Blonde Marjorie Campbell, of New York, looks on the pioneering adventure as "exciting but with a lot of work, too."

Dorothy Blackler, of New York, and Paula Cole, of Quebec, Canada, don't seem to have a worry.

"There is nothing to worry about," said Miss Blackler, "the front lines seem to be pretty quiet now."

Since the Canal Zone is strictly a "man's world" at present what has worried U. N. officials most is where the secretaries would live and how.

In record time some of the former British barracks were converted from male to female quarters though it still is nothing elegant. U. N. officials promise one thing — the secretaries won't have to worry about social life.

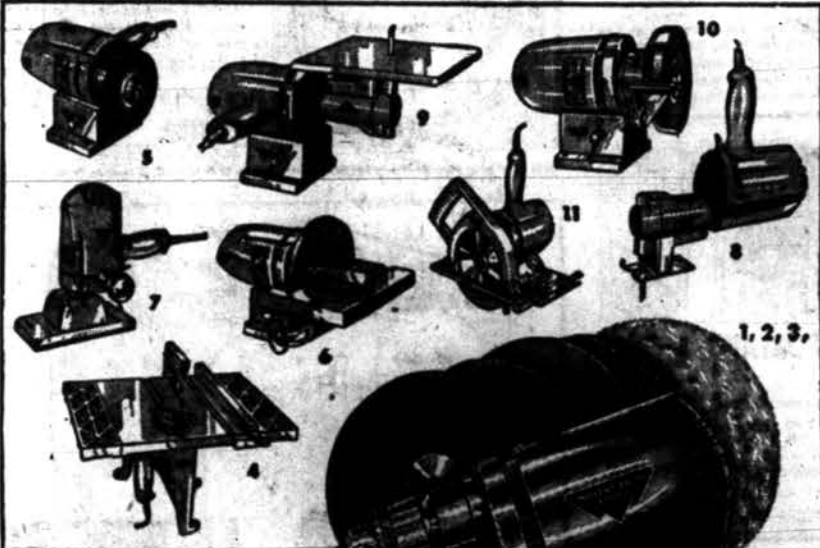

One administrative aide to Burns explained:

"There just won't be any social life at El Ballah. Everybody will be working 20 hours a day the first month and then we will ease off to 18 hours."

Plenty of Right Materials Makes Gift Wrapping Easy

Wrapping one or two Christmas presents is fun but it can get tedious if you have a large gift list. Especially if you're good at the job and the whole family asks you to do their gifts in addition to your own.

If you try to vary the type of wrapping for each gift the task can become much more interesting. Think of the person the gift is for and suit the wrapping to his personality.

Having the right materials makes all the difference in an imaginative wrapping. Gather a supply of paper (both plain and designed), colored gift wrap tapes, sashen ribbon and transparent tape.

A plentiful assortment of other props will help to inspire you.

Small free ornaments, stars, sequins, straws, toothpicks, gold scales, and other glittery items should do the trick.

Now you're ready to create. Start with the kids' presents. They love animated things and there's no end to the variations in this category.

A zany clown is one example. He's made by covering a rectangular shaped box with gaily striped paper. A band of pink construction paper is taped near the top for the face with features of colored tape.

Hair is fringed black construction paper held with tape. The peaked hat is formed from the triangular fold left at end of box. A bright red tree ornament makes the nose. Arms and legs are cut from striped paper and taped to box.

Two green sashen ribbon bows down the front add a finishing touch.

Follow the basic technique described above to make your own designs for other characters.

For a girl package you might tape braids of paper or wool to the box. A wooden soldier would make a clever wrap for a boy's gift. Dogs, cats and other animals are also fun to do. Scraps of fabric can be used instead of paper for special effects.

Another idea for a more glamorous wrapping:

A box top was first covered with shiny black paper and fastened on inside with tape. Then a tree shape was cut out and the cut edge bound with red tape. A piece of white paper banded with gift wrap tape and stars formed the tree stand and a fluffy sashen ribbon bow was taped to the top.

Now wrap your gift with colored tissue paper and place in box. Put top on and decorate the tissue paper with stars and tiny tree ornaments for a three dimensional design.

The stars have holes in the center to hold the ornaments.

which are taped to the tissue paper. You can create similar effects by cutting out stars, stockings, bells and other Christmas motifs.

Once you get started, you'll find yourself coming up with a million decorating ideas.

Plane Crashes in Flames; 8 Die

Phillips Petroleum Craft Nose Dives, Explodes in Oklahoma Field

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (INS) — A Phillips Petroleum Company twin-engine plane crashed and exploded in flames five miles south-east of Bartlesville yesterday, killing all eight passengers on board.

Bodies of the victims were recovered from the wreckage. Their identity was not immediately known but a company spokesman said all were Phillips personnel.

The plane crashed in an open, level area five miles from Bartlesville City Airport where it had taken off a few minutes earlier.

Bartlesville Police Chief W. J. Marvis said that witnesses reported that the plane "made an odd noise" and then leveled off, went into a roll and then a nose dive and crashed in the field.

Oklahoma highway patrol trooper H. H. Hellen said that the wreckage was scattered over a wide area and that the plane burned after the crash.

Food Pellets Beef Up Calves During Winter

DIXON SPRINGS, Ill. — Experiments have shown that, compared with long hay, chopped hay, and silage, pelleted hay when fed to wintering calves produces three times faster weight gains with only about one third more feed.

Greater consumption seems to be the big reason for the triple gain. The pellets are easy for the calves to swallow.

Crash Kills Ithaca Man

ITHACA, N.Y. — Claude A. Britten, 38, of Rte. 1, Riverdale, suffered fatal injuries late Tuesday in a two-car crash at a Gratiot County intersection about eight miles northwest of the city. Sheriff Robert J. Russell said his car collided with one driven by Buhl Loomis of Rte. 1, Elwell, who was taken to Gratiot Community Hospital in Alma for treatment of injuries.

Just 20 Years Ago Edward Quit Throne

LONDON (INS)—Twenty years ago this week, in a radio broadcast heard around the world, Sir John Reith, director of the British Broadcasting Corp., stepped to a microphone and announced in a deep voice — "This is Windsor Castle. His royal highness, Prince Edward."

Then the man who had been King Edward VIII, and had abdicated his throne for the love of American-born Wallis Warfield Simpson, read this farewell speech:

At long last I am able to say a few words of my own.

I have never wanted to withhold anything, but until now it has been not constitutionally possible for me to speak.

A few hours ago I discharged my last duty as King and Emperor, and now that I have been succeeded by my brother, the Duke of York, my first words must be to declare my allegiance to him. This I do with all my heart.

You all know the reasons which have impelled me to renounce the throne. But I want you to understand that in making up my mind, I did not forget the country or the empire which as Prince of Wales, and lately as King, I have for twenty-five years tried to serve. But you must believe me when I tell you that I have found it impossible to carry the heavy burden of responsibility and to discharge my duties as King as I would wish to do without the help and support of the woman I love.

And I want you to know that the decision I have made has been mine and mine alone. This was a thing I had to judge entirely for myself. The other person most nearly concerned has tried up to the last to persuade me to take a different course. I have made this, the most serious decision of my life, upon a single thought of what would in the end be best for all.

KING WELL TRAINED

This decision has been made less difficult to me by the sure knowledge that my brother, with his long training in the public affairs of this country and with his fine qualities, will be able to take my place forthwith, without interruption or injury to the life and progress of

Railroad Improvement Sought by Soviets

MOSCOW (U)—The Soviet Union hopes to complete electrification of more than half its railroad routes by 1970 in a campaign to eliminate interruptions due to winter weather conditions.

Losses in freight traffic during winter run as high as 20 to 30 million tons annually, says a Soviet economic review. Most of this can be eliminated through use of electric locomotives "the capacity of which increase rather than drop in low temperatures," the review added.

the empire. And he has one matchless blessing, enjoyed by so many of you and not bestowed on me—a happy home with his wife and children.

During these hard days I have been comforted by my mother and by my family. The ministers of the crown, and in particular Mr. Baldwin, the Prime Minister, have always treated me with full consideration. There has never been any constitutional difference between me and them and between me and Parliament. Bred in the constitutional tradition by my father, I should never have allowed any such issue to arise.

Ever since I was Prince of Wales, and later on when I occupied the throne, I have been treated with the greatest kindness by all classes, wherever I have lived or journeyed throughout the empire. For that I am very grateful.

I now quit altogether public affairs, and I lay down my burden. It may be some time before I return to my native land, but I shall always follow the fortunes of the British race and empire with profound interest, and if at any time in the future I can be found of service to His Majesty in a private station I shall not fail.

And now we all have a new King. I wish him, and you, his people, happiness and prosperity with all my heart. God bless you all. God save the King.

"WHO, ME?"—Eleven-month-old Linda Ackles has a somewhat indignant look on her face as she faces the news camera upon her arrival at Idlewild Airport, New York, from Norway. Maybe the photographer asked her to pose for a "cheese cake" shot. Linda and her mother flew a United Airliner to Valley City, Ill., where they joined Mr. Ackles in setting up a new home.

Where Wrigleys Used to Be

Clare Luce Launches Effort to Put More Fine Art Into Embassies

WASHINGTON (INS)—Retiring Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce plans early in the new year to launch a drive to persuade American museums to lend fabulous stored collections of art to our embassies overseas.

She will also campaign for donations of antique furniture—chests, tables and chairs—from wealthy Americans who can no longer use the oversized pieces in today's smaller-sized drawing rooms.

As a first step, the beautiful ambassador who returns as a private citizen at year-end from Rome has already written the State Department's director of foreign building offices to call support for the ambitious project.

She has also contacted David E. Finley, chairman of interior department's fine arts commission, and Dr. Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution.

AGREE TO SERVE
Both men are enthusiastic about supplying American works of art to our overseas embassies, and have agreed to serve on President Eisenhower's new person-to-person committee to secure private donations of suitable U. S. paintings for ambassadorial residences. Mrs. Luce has also been invited by Chairman Carmichael to join the group.

Few know better than Mrs. Luce the urgent need for the innovation. On assuming her ambassadorial duties at the exquisite Villa Taverna in Rome four years ago, she discovered that not a single picture hung on the walls of that embassy.

Because she is wealthy, she could send to America for her own impressive art collection, but Clare's successor, Ambassador

James D. Zellerbach, will again find bare walls.

The same situation exists throughout the world, and less well-to-do envoys have no way of coping with the yawning gaps. Although most other governments use their embassies here and abroad as showcases for national art, penny-wise-pound-fool Uncle Sam provides only mirrors—no art—and the skimpy furnishings frequently leave much to be desired.

NEVER HAVE ART
"No wonder," Mrs. Luce sighed, "that we Americans are sometimes looked upon as barbarians, when we never have any art in our embassies."

Clare proposes that our top museums unearth from basements and attic good paintings which are not now being displayed. State Department's FBO could then submit photographs of perhaps 1,000 of the selections to our overseas ambassadors, who could choose those best suited to their own posts.

Mrs. Luce also believes that many rich Americans would be proud to donate to the government stored furnishings and Oriental carpets for the enrichment of our ambassadorial residences.

Dr. Carmichael, who favors the art project, went a step further by suggesting to this correspondent that excellent oil copies of portraits of such outstanding U. S. Presidents as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and Abraham Lincoln should be hung in all of our embassies abroad.

DISPLAY ROYALTY
"British embassies throughout the world boast pictures of royalty," he pointed out, "and we can do equally well with portraits of our own outstanding leaders of the past."

Carmichael, seventh Smithsonian secretary in 110 years, suggested that private foundations might be interested in supply the funds for framing, insuring and shipping the loaned works of art. They might also, he feels, purchase some outstanding paintings for our embassies.

"Congress has a general rule against insurance," he said, "and I'm not sure that it should be asked to appropriate money for framing and shipping the pictures, but this would be a worthy project for private foundations."

Carmichael emphasized the difficulty of securing the type of American art which could be acclaimed both by foreign art experts and the general run of visitors to our embassies.

In pointing out that tastes not only vary, but change, he proposed that the paintings be rotated every few years among the embassies to help meet international "standards of taste."

William P. Hughes, state's FBO director, said he favors Mrs.

Luce's proposed art project but considers the furniture idea highly "impractical." He flatly denied that our embassies are sketchily furnished and praised the "generosity" of Congress in appropriating $30,000,000 a year for that purpose.

While approving the loan of valuable art works, Hughes predicted rivalry between embassies and battles about "taste" in the selection of the paintings.

Finley, recently retired director of the National Gallery of Art who continues on the Fine Arts Commission, said he will be happy to have Mrs. Luce's cooperation in launching—shortly after Christmas—the person-to-person project for securing permanent, donated works of American art.

Inspect Suez for Clearance

Eight Nations to Furnish Equipment to Remove Canal Blocks

CAIRO (INS)—The officer who will direct operations to clear the Suez Canal of some 50 sunken ships said eight nations will furnish salvage equipment for the big United Nations job.

U.S. Lt. Gen. Raymond Wheeler (ret.), a veteran of work on the Panama Canal, told newsmen he could not estimate how long it would take to clear the 103-mile waterway.

But he said, "It is not going to take any year's time, as some have estimated, to get the channel cleared for one-way traffic."

Wheeler flew to Port Said later to inspect the north portion of the canal. He said that he would examine British engineering equipment at Port Said to see if the U.N. experts can use it. "If we find it is," he said, "then we'll use it, but without British crews, of course."

Wheeler said the canal-clearing job would be paid for by the U.N. He said he could not estimate the total cost but said other experts have estimated it at $40 million.

The general said his crew of 500 experts and Egyptian laborers would use equipment furnished by the United States, Egypt, the Netherlands, Denmark, Norway, Italy, Belgium and Germany.

He said that divers would start to work immediately to determine the amount of damage to the ships in the canal. He emphasized that the actual clearance work would not start until the Anglo-French evacuation was complete and said that the investigation phase would last 10 days.

The modern agricultural fairs in America date from colonial times when farmers put their products on display in market towns, primarily for sale.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Michigan High School Athletic Association, a necessary and important body in the state's department of Public Instruction, is toying around with a dangerous weapon—inconsistency.

No one denies the good which the MHSAA has done to put high school athletics on a cleanly regulated level intrinsic to Michigan's educational system.

However, while so much concern has been placed in its administration, the MHSAA has permitted its rules to become antiquated.

There is an urgent need for legislation which would modernize the classification of the state's high school setup.

Rules are needed to revise the present ridiculous basketball tournament setup, and others need be initiated to give coaches and athletic directors their proper place in the state system.

It's time the MHSAA, governed by superintendents and principals, took the handcuffs off the coaches and gave the position of athletic director some premium status.

School officials have fears that coaches and athletic directors would put too much emphasis on high school sports. Yet open the pressure-packed closet door and the picture of over-emphasis sticks out all over the place.

They've talked about revising the classifications for years. A recent bulletin of the MHSAA says a complete study of the present classification plan is to be made prior to the 1957-58 school year.

Why the continuous postponement? Simply because there is too much emphasis on making money in the most haphazard tournament in the country.

The theory that every school in the state is given a fair chance in the state championship race is really an inadequate compromise.

Classification changes have not been made because it would disrupt this ridiculous type of tourney. What is it, if not over-emphasis, by getting every school in the state all keyed up for the tournament at the expense of their own seasons.

Any team that puts together a winning season and even wins its own league championship has every right to move into a championship-elimination tourney.

By the same token there are teams which have no right to even start tourney play on basis of their records.

An example of how much emphasis is placed on tourney play is noted in what a coach recently said. "We won't do much this season, why should we, we'll go all out in tournament play."

Knowing that he wouldn't get into the tournament unless this team did have a season which would earn it a berth, this attitude wouldn't prevail.

The long drawn affair of district, regional, quarter-final, semi-final and final meets could be cut by one-fourth. And they ask, who's to blame for over-emphasis?

In worrying so much over disrupting this long, but money-making, process, the freeze was put on Class "A" rating.

Why should a school for instance like Pontiac with 2,600 students be put in the same classification as Waterford with 900 students? Split Pontiac High in half and there would be two class A schools, each still larger than Waterford.

This is no slur on either Pontiac or Waterford High Schools, it merely exemplifies the inadequacy of the present setup of classes. Because of the freeze, there are schools playing in class B ranks but of class A stature.

The need is for a new class AA, and the urgency can't be solved by freezing and postponements.

Blocked Punt by Teammate Is Best Oddity

NEW YORK (AP)—The football oddity of the year was a blocked punt. Blocked, that is, by the kicker's own team.

It happened at Seattle. UCLA's Kirk Wilson had just punted 53 yards, the ball slithered parallel to the goal line and stopped about six inches away.

Dick McVeigh, a Washington end, went behind his own goal line to kick out of danger on first down. Backing up to protect his kicker, Al Ferguson, Washington quarterback, was struck on the back by the punt. The ball sailed straight up in the air and finally was recovered by UCLA's Don Shinnick on the Washington 2.

Three plays later UCLA had its first touchdown and was on the way to a 13-9 victory.

Wings Tangle With Rangers

Goal for Howe Would Make Him Second Best in NHL History

DETROIT (AP)—This could be a historic hockey night for Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings.

If Howe can bang in one goal against the 4th-place New York Rangers at Detroit's Olympia tonight, he will become the National Hockey League's 2nd highest scorer in history.

At 324 goals entering the New York encounter, Howe is tied with Nels Stewart, who retired after No. 324 with the old Montreal Maroons 16 years ago.

The all-time scoring leader in the NHL is Maurice (The Rocket) Richard of the Montreal Canadiens, who has 467 goals and still is going strong.

There was a possibility that Alex Delvecchio might return to action with the Red Wings tonight for the first time since he broke a leg 23 games ago.

Delvecchio played in a Tuesday exhibition against Michigan State University.

The Detroit 2nd line, on which Delvecchio was regular center, hasn't produced a goal for seven games. Lorne Ferguson got the last one. Metro Prystai hasn't scored in 11 games nor Marty Pavelich in 13.

Possibility of Detroit Fight

Spieser Aims for Title Bout

DETROIT (AP)—Muscular Chuck Spieser is quite willing to become the second man in recent history to make the jump from Olympic boxer to world champion.

Although a proposed title bout between Spieser, 27, and light heavyweight champion Archie Moore is just in the talking stage, the former Olympic boxer—1948 and 1952—will resume training next week "just in case."

Moore, turned back in his bid for the heavyweight crown by former Olympic titlist Floyd Patterson, must defend or relinquish his light heavyweight championship by March 18. Spieser, a former Michigan State boxer who knocked out Willie Hoepner in his last start a couple of weeks ago, is first in line as the No. 1 challenger for Moore's diadem.

"I've watched Archie's style for a long time," said Spieser. "Since I was ranked first among the light heavyweight contenders, I watched closer than ever at ringside the night he lost to Patterson."

That a Spieser-Moore fight would be held in Detroit is a definite possibility. It unquestionably would be a sellout at Detroit's Olympia, says International Boxing Club representative and Olympic director Nick Londres.

Spieser has had 24 fights, winning 19, losing four and fighting to one draw. Most of his fights have been against heavyweights because of the lack of good competition in his own division.

He was beaten twice by heavyweight Willie Pastrano. His other losses came early in his pro career and were to unknowns Frank Favaro and Arthur Wright. Both fights were stopped because of Spieser being cut above the eyes. Officials had him leading in both bouts.

In 1952, after some schooling at

Chuck started boxing at the age of 15 at a Catholic athletic organization. Two older brothers had been fairly successful as amateur boxers and they saw Chuck was the best of the lot. On the Olympic team in 1948, Spieser won his first fight before being eliminated because of a severe cut in the second bout.

Michigan State, Spieser again was a member of the U. S. team but a few days before his first bout he strained an achilles tendon and was unable to go through with it.

Until now, Spieser has not been a "bring on the champ" talker. "It's a little different now," he explains, "for a lot of reasons. I'm 27 years old and my manager, Heck Knowles, and I feel we deserve a shot at Moore. I'm the No. 1 challenger and I never ducked a fight with anyone."

As for Moore, the Detroit fighter believes "people shouldn't believe he's washed up just because he lost to Patterson."

How would Spieser go about fighting Archie?

"I guess I only know one way to fight," said Chuck. "That's to get in there and get at it. I have short arms and an overhand right that's been pretty successful (14 knockouts). Archie being the kind of fighter he is, I guess it wouldn't stand a chance of being a dull fight."

So Spieser leaves the handball court and goes back to the gym next week. "I want to be ready," he says, "just in case."

Avon Unimpressive Beating Fitzgerald Quintet, 41-33

By BILL CORNWELL

Avondale High School won its opening game of the 1956-57 basketball season last night, but coach Dick Bye was not at all pleased with his team's performance.

"They were terrible," was the only comment of the Jacket manager following his squad's 41-33 victory over Fitzgerald in an Oakland B League game on the Avondale court.

Bye's words were justified. The Jacket cagers demonstrated very little if any finesse. Their shooting was frequently wild, their passing was erratic and a porous defense in the 3rd quarter cost them an eight-point lead.

Mikes Meet St. Clement

St. Michael's basketball team will go after its 2nd Suburban Catholic League victory and 3rd of the season tonight when the Shamrocks range with St. Clement in the Center Line High School gymnasium.

The Mikes trounced Detroit St. Agatha in their season opener, 58-27, then started defense of their SCL co-title with a 39-25 verdict over Hazel Park St. Rita last Thursday.

St. Clement has dropped its only game, a 62-25 pasting at the hands of Orchard Lake St. Mary in a league encounter last Friday.

The Shamrocks will rely heavily on Chuck Brown, Jim Fox and Dan Dropps to keep their perfect record intact. Brown has scored 25 points in St. Mike's two games to date while Fox and Dropps have each tallied 21.

Ronald Waananen and Tom Daldine are the chief offensive spark-plugs for the St. Clement Crusaders, who will be underdogs for tonight's tussle.

Activity begins with the reserve game at 7 p.m.

Coast Gulf Has Biggest Fish Trap

GUAYMAS, Mexico (AP)—The world's biggest "fish trap" is lurking deep sea anglers from all over the United States. And they're hauling in fish by the ton.

The attraction is the Gulf of California, a 500-mile strip of water 100 miles across, filled with warm, calm water. Bounded on one side by the west coast of Mexico, and on the other by a narrow peninsula called Lower California, the gulf is a large inlet of the Pacific.

On the Mexican coast the chief fishing impresario is an American named Tom Jamison, who has spent the last 10 years of his life outwitting the fish in the gulf.

Every day he's down at the dock to put his 14 boats to sea. He began 10 years ago with one old craft financed by a bank. Times were hard for about five years, then Mexico completed an all-paved highway from Nogales on the American border to Arizona. It's 775 miles of straight, fast road from the border to Guaymas.

Fred Hyten came off the bench in the 4th period to spark Avon's triumph. The Jackets were faced with a 27-25 deficit when Hyten entered the battle. He tallied 11 points in the final stanza to spearhead the Avon surge.

Both teams showed the effects of 1st game jitters. Neither club could find the range in the 1st half and ragged floor play predominated. Avon held an 8-5 edge going into the 2nd quarter and led at intermission, 15-10.

The Jackets increased their advantage to 21-13 before defensive lapses put them in the hole. Fitzgerald's John Bolognino scored four times on breakaway layups and the 3rd period ended with Avon trailing, 27-25. Then Hyten came to the rescue.

Hyten paced the Yellow Jackets' attack with a total of 15 points. Bolognino was tops for the defending Oakland B champion Spartans with 13 points.

Gary Acker scored 15 points to lead the Avondale reserves to a 38-28 win over the Fitzgerald JV's in the preliminary game.

Victory Would Mean 4th Crown in Five Years

No Pro Team Has Ever Gone Bottom to Top in One Season

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions, preparing for their Western Division title scrap against the Chicago Bears Sunday, already have surpassed the fondest preseason hopes of their publicity department.

When the football club's training camp brochure was issued in early August, this line was included in the summary of the season's prospects:

"The Lions just might make the big jump from the cellar to a contending spot in the western division race."

Actually, the Lions are a virtual even-money choice to make the unprecedented jump from last to first in the division. The oddsmakers in Chicago lead toward their home town eleven by half a point while around Detroit the game is regarded as a toss up.

One thing in the Lion's favor Sunday will be experience. Fourteen of the 33 men who will suit up have been through three National Football League championship contests. The Lions won the playoffs in 1952 and 1953 and were beaten by Cleveland in a landslide in 1954.

Detroit never quite recovered from the 36-16 shellacking at the hands of the Browns and stumbled through a 3-9 season a year ago. Coach Buddy Parker even then called the team the best last-place outfit he ever saw.

The Lions have been working out each morning in lonely Briggs Stadium. As protection against the cold they have been wearing tailored sweatshirts with hoods and extra sweaters over their pads. All in all they look like men from outer space.

Official league statistics show the Lions trail the Bears in total yardage or the season by only 33 yards. The Lions are second to the Chicagoans in rushing yardage and second to Green Bay in passing yardage.

So far the Lions are even with their best previous season's record since Parker took over as head coach for the 1951 season. They've won nine games and lost two — to Washington by one point and to Green Bay by four.

In 1953 the Lions won the league championship with a 10-3 regular season's mark, losing to Los Angeles twice.

The Bears this year are 8-3, losing to Baltimore and Detroit and being tied by New York.

Writers to Do Picking

NEW YORK — Baseball Writers Association of America members of 10 years standing early in 1958 will select former players for baseball's Hall of Fame. At one time selections were annual.

Clem Labine set a Brooklyn Dodgers pitching record in 1956 by appearing in 62 games. He relieved 59 times and started games.

Dodd Respects Panthers' Power

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Tech, maintaining its unruffled air about the bowl business, is planning nothing new for its football return match with Pittsburgh at Jacksonville's Gator Bowl Dec. 29.

Coach Bobby Dodd, readying his Yellow Jackets for their sixth consecutive bowl appearance is not departing from his almost casual attitude toward the postseason hysteria that hits a dozen or so campuses about this time every year.

As usual, the Tech squad will be excused together with the other students for Christmas holidays which begin Saturday. They won't return to the practice field until the day after Christmas, only three days before colliding with Pitt's powerhouse of the East.

"We couldn't cook up anything new if we wanted to," Dodd said today. "There isn't enough practice time left."

Tech took a week off after the last regular season game Dec. 1 and returned to practice only this week.

Dodd isn't taking Pitt lightly. He said the other day that he wouldn't be surprised if Pitt were made the favorite by game time. The current line among the waging crowd has the Panthers a seven-point underdog.

Dodd, whose bowl record is a glittering seven victories and no losses, watched Pittsburgh on television last week as the Panthers removed Miami from the unbeaten. He sent backfield aide Frank Broyles and chief scout Bob Bosons to Miami to get a first hand look.

Today all agreed Pitt is better than the team Tech beat 7-0 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans last New Year's Day. Dodd declared that Pitt, against Miami, was a truly great football team.

some peak its last two games with a 35-0 rout of fired-up arch-rival Georgia.

Tech wound up fourth in the nation in the final Associated Press poll. The Yellow Jackets' 6-0 loss to second-ranked Tennessee was voted the greatest game of the season in an AP poll released earlier this week.

Against the Panthers, Dodd is sending "the finest football team I have ever coached." His 1956 outfit, with 16 seniors and six juniors on the first two units, lost only to Tennessee in a tough, 10-game schedule. It rose to an awe-

Wide Victory Margin

LOS ANGELES—The Los Angeles Angels took the 1956 Pacific Coast league pennant by a margin of 16 games over Seattle. They won 107 for the season.

NEW YORK—Eddie Arcaro entered 1956 with a record of 3,582 winners. His mounts have won more than $1 million in each of the last 10 years.

Bears Getting Ready for Lions' Invasion

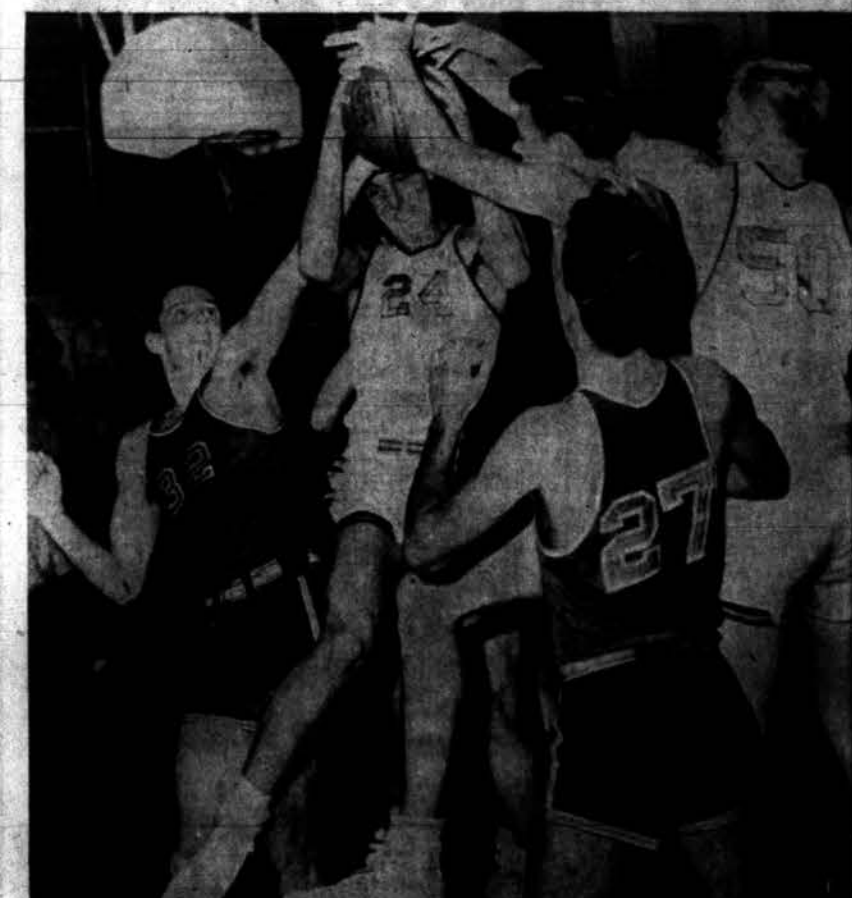

CHICAGO (INS)—Dr. Ed Rozy is the busiest man in the Chicago Bears training camp these days as the Bears get ready for their game with Detroit Sunday to decide the Western Division pro football king.

Fourteen of the Bears are being treated by the team physician for injuries suffered in last week's rough tussle with their city rivals, the Chicago Cardinals.

It is one of the largest Bear injury lists in several years, but fortunately no one is seriously hurt and Rozy expects to have the team in good shape for Sunday.

Meanwhile, league statistics released yesterday show that the Bears are the worst team in the league on pass defense.

Detroit, with Bobby Layne in rare form, is expected to take particular note of the 2,623 passing yards allowed by the Bears.

HANDS OFF, IT'S MINE — Everybody's claiming his right to the ball in this action during last night's Avondale-Fitzgerald basketball game at Avondale. Steve Saunders (No. 50) and Jim Thompson (No. 24), both of Avondale, Fitzgerald's

Bob Bush (No. 33) and another unidentified Spartan cager are all contesting for the ball. The only player who doesn't have a hand on the sphere is Fitzgerald's John Bolognino (No. 27). The Yellow Jackets won, 41-33.

Sawchuk's Loss Hits Bruins' Hopes

BOSTON (AP)—Boston hopes for the Bruins' first National Hockey League championship in 15 years sagged today with the loss of goalie Terry Sawchuk for an indefinite period because of a blood infection.

"It's like getting hit between the eyes," said Coach Milt Schmidt when told his ace netminder may be sidelined for two months.

Sawchuk, 26, three-time winner of the Vezina Trophy, was sent to Carney Hospital yesterday with infectious mononucleosis—a blood stream disease which affects glands and causes a loss of energy.

Dr. Edward R. Browne, Boston club physician, said first tests indicated the goalie will be lost for at least two weeks and possibly as long as two months.

The loss came as a crippling blow to the surprising Bruins who hold first place in the NHL race by a three-point margin over the Detroit Red Wings. Montreal's Canadiens are third, another point back.

Sawchuk is considered the key to the Bruins' rise to league leaders after being picked to finish fifth or sixth—and miss the playoffs—in pre-season polls. In 26 games, he has allowed 56 goals—an average of slightly more than two per game.

The desperate Bruins called up Norm De Felice, a spare goalie with Hershey in the American Hockey League, to replace Sawchuk for tonight's game against the Chicago Black Hawks at the Boston Garden. De Felice has been unimpressive at Hershey.

Boston officials declined to comment on their next move, but it was believed an attempt would be made to purchase veteran Harry Lumley from Chicago. Lumley has played with Detroit, Toronto and Chicago and now is tending the net for the Hawks' AHL farm in Buffalo.

The Bruins obtained Sawchuk in a nine-player deal with Detroit after the 1954-55 season. Sawchuk won the Vezina Trophy for allowing the fewest goals in his sophomore season with the Red Wings in 1951-52, again the following year and the third time in the '54-55 campaign.

Although the Bruins failed to make the Stanley Cup playoffs because of a fifth-place finish last season, Sawchuk allowed only 181 goals in 68 games, an average of 2.66 per contest.

A native of Winnipeg now living in a Detroit suburb, Sawchuk has been the NHL all-star goalie three times. He was named goal tender on the second team two other years.

Dr. Browne said Sawchuk will remain in the hospital for tests every few days to determine how the disease "is progressing or remitting."

"On the basis of one laboratory test it is impossible to determine how long he has had the disease or how far it has progressed," the team physician added.

SIDELINED—Terry Sawchuk, former Red Wing goalie, was sidelined indefinitely because of a blood infection. His loss will hurt the Boston Bruins' hopes for a first National Hockey League Championship in 15 years.

Preparations to Resume for Middleweights

NEW YORK (AP)—Both Sugar Ray Robinson and Gene Fullmer were back at their training camps today, ready to resume preparations for their once-postponed middleweight title bout.

The bout, originally scheduled for last night at Madison Square Garden, was put off until Jan. 2 when the champion came down with a severe cold.

Robinson, reporting himself completely recovered, returned to his camp at Greenwood Lake, N.Y., yesterday and said he expected to resume boxing over the week end.

Fullmer, at the same time, returned from a short visit to his home in West Jordan, Utah and reopened his camp at Grossinger, N.Y., today.

Football Camp Rosy, 600 MSU Alums Told

DETROIT (AP)—Everything appears peachy and cream in the Michigan State University football department.

Dr. John Hannah, MSU president, told 600 alumni at the annual Spartan football bust last night that he is "looking forward to more great seasons under the leadership" of Athletic Director Clarence (Biggie) Munn and Coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty.

Munn said Daugherty and his staff had done "a fabulous job" and he hoped they would stay on at East Lansing. He added he'd never regretted appointing Daugherty to succeed him as coach.

"Duffy to me," Munn said, "will always feel like he's my boy."

Daugherty responded that "Biggie and I have got along since 1937, when he was my coach, but, of course, I didn't have much to say then."

There have been reports of differences between the MSU athletic director and coach and rumors that they were eyeing other jobs.

In most pre-season polls, Michigan State was picked as No. 1 or No. 2 in the nation, but the Spartans ended up with a 7-2 season.

Dr. Hannah's message was read for him. He currently is on a tour of the Far East.

Two major awards were made at the banquet.

Quarterback Pat Wilson was honored as best combining scholarship and athletic ability. He is a pre-law major, president of the senior class and a first-string basketball player.

End Jim Hinesley, previously chosen MSU's most valuable player, was presented the Governor's Award as the outstanding player from the Detroit area. He attended Detroit's Miller High School.

Among guests were such former MSU sports stars as boxers Chuck Spieser and Chuck Davey and end Dorne Dibble of the Detroit Lions.

Chiefs-Indians Pow Wow on PHS Court

By BRUNO L. KEARNES
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

According to the tales of the old west, there was always a real pow-wow when a tribe of Chiefs and Indians got together.

Friday night may not produce any war dances, but there could be quite a tribal battle in the offering when the Pontiac Chiefs tangle with Flint Central's Indians on the PHS basketball court.

Both outfits go into their meeting unblemished in two seasons to date, with one of them certain to fall out of the present three-way deadlock for the top spot in the Saginaw Valley Conference.

Pontiac, with a squeaking 45-42 win over Catholic Central, and an impressive 55-39 victory at Arthur

Hill, goes into the contest a slight favorite on the basis of height and experience.

Flint Central, however, has a unit which can prove troublesome. The Indians cleared the bench in easily whipping Bay City Handy 47-39, and then surprised Bay City Central by beating the Wolves on their own court, 57-53.

Central has damaged its foes with ball-hawking tactics led by two little guards Dave Jeffes who stands 5-foot-7 and Chuck Hyslop at 5-foot-9.

Coach Joe Dowdy has used two different starting lineups in the first pair of games. In the opener with Handy he had center Bob Benson, forwards Dale Lucas and John Kirk and guards Don Bradley and Hyslop in the starting five.

In the second half of this game, only Hyslop was in the game, along Jeffes, center Duane Bates, and forwards Bill Ringer and Mel Thomas.

The second half team came through in such a manner, that Dowdy elected to start them against the Wolves and it proved to be a successful experiment.

Thomas a 6-1, 175 pound sophomore from the football team, has hit for 33 points in two games to lead the attack. Hyslop has been outside sharpshooter for the Indians.

The Chiefs could be in an early comfortable position in the SVC with a victory Friday. Guards Dave Diehm and Larry Peet will have plenty of work cut out for them in keeping Central's outside speedsters, Hyslop and Jeffes, in check.

Coach Art Van Ryzin has decided to go along with sophomore Roosevelt Alexander, 6-4, and Terry Zellhart, 6-1, at the forwards with Bud Ray in the pivot post.

Van Ryzin used 13 players against Arthur Hill, but none of the substitutes was able to crack the scoring column in the last two minutes of play.

Friday's game will get underway at 8:00 p.m. with the reserves starting at 6:45 p.m.

Hornung Back With Heisman

NEW YORK (U) — Handsome Paul Hornung was on his way back to the Notre Dame campus at South Bend today, carrying the Heisman Trophy as one of his talking points in an approaching discussion with the Green Bay Packers.

The trophy, citing the ace quarterback from Louisville, Ky., as the outstanding college football player of 1935, was presented to Hornung at a dinner at the sponsoring Downtown Athletic Club last night.

Broncos Bump Toledo

KALAMAZOO (U)—Western Michigan got its Mid-American conference basketball season under way with an 81-75 triumph over the University of Toledo last night. It also was Toledo's first league game. Western Michigan now is 3-1 overall; Toledo, 2-2.

Rosewall Silent on Pro Report

Shrugs Off Question of Kramer's Offer to Join Paid Troupe

MELBOURNE (U)—Tennis star Ken Rosewall would not say yes or no today to questions whether he had signed to join Jack Kramer's professional troupe.

All he would say was "I hope to play well in the Victorian championships and in the Davis Cup challenge round—let's leave it at that."

Asked if Kramer had made him a $67,200 offer, Rosewall said "Kramer made me an offer about a year ago, but it wasn't as high as that."

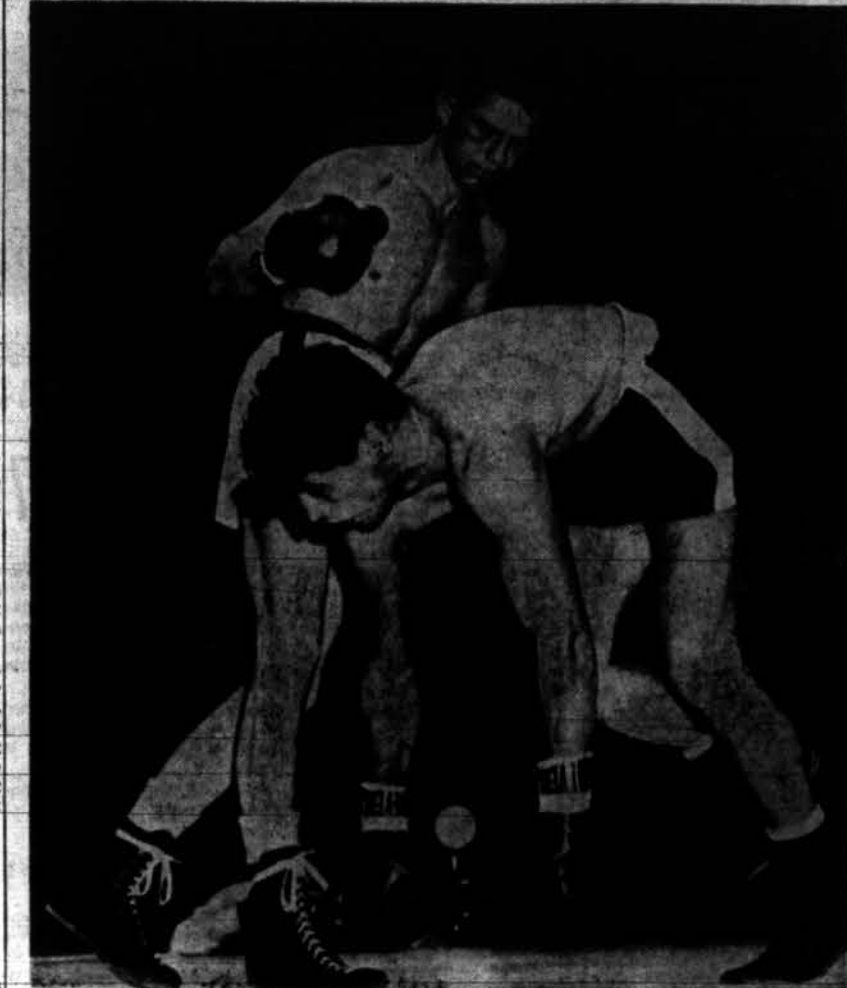

J. C. Wilson, assistant managing director of the milk company which employs Rosewall as a part-time salesman, claimed today Rosewall had signed a contract with a sports goods manufacturer—who also employs Rosewall—not to turn professional for at least a year.

Maryland's Racing Opens on March 1

BALTIMORE (U) — Maryland's 1937 thoroughbred racing season of 121 days will open March 1 despite some sentiment for a Feb. 12 opening.

Chairman D. Eldred Rinehart of the state racing commission said actual date allotment for the state's 12 tracks will be made Monday. He met with operators of both mile and half-mile tracks yesterday in what he termed a preliminary conference.

The Feb. 12 opening was proposed by Donald Lillis, president of Bowie. Officials of the other Pimlico, opposed the proposal and the commission agreed.

BEGINNING TO SLIP — Brooklyn's Carmelo Costa slips to the canvas in the 4th round of last night's feature bout in Madison Square Garden against Paul Jorgensen of Port Arthur, Texas.

Costa, who lost to Jorgensen in two bouts in Houston, came back to take a unanimous decision in the featherweight encounter.

Wayne Romps Ypsi for 5th Straight

DETROIT (U)—Wayne University gave its basketball fans a 5th straight basketball victory for Christmas last night, defeating Eastern Michigan, 86-71.

Thus Wayne interrupted its 1935-'37 season for the holidays with a 5-0 record. The Tartars next play Central Michigan Jan. 7.

With Bob Kendrick scoring 27 points, George Brown, 25, and George Duncan, 17, Wayne led from start to finish, holding a 40-32 edge at halftime.

John McIntyre led Eastern with 18 points, while Charles Crickmore and Dave Parks got 15 each for the Hurons, who now have a 1-2 record.

THE STYLE CORNER OF PONTIAC

Age of Electronics Now Invades High School Basketball Court

NAPOLÉON, Mich. (U)—The age of electronics has invaded the basketball court at Napoleon High School.

A rather simple but effective gadget dubbed "the E & R coaching queen" is stirring up quite a bit of interest around this class school these days.

The device, invented by coach Everett Queen and his brother, Russell of Niles, consists of an amplifier, transformer, eight tubes, 10 headphones, a hand microphone, a few yards of wire—and some

The entire unit, headphones and all, can be transported in a medium-sized suitcase.

Its operation is remarkably simple. Since it draws its power from any regular electrical outlet, all you do is plug in the lead cord, adjust the amplifier and transformer dials, flick the "on" button of the hand mike and you're ready to "communicate."

Because the "E & R coaching queen" was designed to do a specific job—to enable the coach to give his players instructions and directions during a game—the "queen" provides for one-way communication only, coach-to-players. There's no "wire-jamming" with two-way conversation. The coach does the talking, the players on the bench do the listening—and absorbing.

"I believe your best opportunity for coaching comes during a game," says Queen, "when your substitutes are on the bench witnessing 'live play.'"

"With this device the coach can compliment correct play or point out the mistakes being made on the floor—not merely to the boy who happens to be sitting alongside, but to all team members at once.

Since the mental approach to the game is most important," Queen adds, "we find that by using this mass audio aid we can send in substitutes well-versed on what we want a well-informed on what the opposition is attempting to do as team—both offensively and defensively."

The Napoleon coach believes that when each player's attention is focused on the game, and he gets a running commentary on the mistakes that are being made as well as the proper plays that his team is performing, there exists an ideal situation for coaching.

Queen sees possibilities for the device in other sports, too, such as football and ice hockey where coach-to-player instructions are vital.

CLEAN UP — Jockey Nick Shuk (left) who won five of the eight races at Pimlico yesterday and Dave Gorman the winner of the other three, show the horse blankets they will have beneath them in today's races. Shuk's mark was a Maryland track record.

DETROIT (U)—The 1957 racing dates have been assigned to the five metropolitan racing associations and the Jackson Raceway and the new schedule extends the thoroughbred schedule six days over last season.

HAZEL PARK — Friday, May 24, to Saturday, Aug. 3, total 63 days.

MICHIGAN RACING ASSN. — Friday, Aug. 9, to Saturday, Oct. 19, total 63 days.

The harness racing season was cut by seven days. The harness racing dates: NORTHERN DOWNS — Friday, April 19 to Saturday, June 1, total 38 days.

WOLVERINE — Monday, June 3, to Saturday, July 20, total 42 days.

JACKSON — Monday, July 22, to Saturday, Aug. 17, total 28 days.

HAZEL PARK — Monday, Aug. 19, to Saturday, Oct. 5, total 42 days.

One issue was set aside until a Jan. 16 hearing. The commissioners has insisted that the running tracks move their daily starting time to 3 p.m. The tracks want the 3:30 post time they have been using.

NEW YORK (U)—Maybe it was the big town jitters or perhaps it was the TV tremors. Whatever it was, Paul Jorgensen 21, of Port Arthur, Tex. had it bad in his first New York fight.

The featherweight who hadn't been beaten in 16 previous starts, was apologetic for his poor performance in losing a unanimous decision to Carmelo Costa last night at Madison Square Garden.

"I don't want to make any excuses," he said in his dressing room. "But something was wrong with me. I didn't even get going."

Jorgensen who had fought a draw with Costa, July 31 and had beaten the flashy Brooklyn Boxer, Nov. 20 in two Houston matches, didn't even make it close this time. Referee Harry Kessler had it 8-1-1. Judge Al Singer 7-3 and Judge Artie Aldala 6-3-1 all for Costa who weighed 129 1/2 to Jorgensen's 127 1/2 pounds. The AP card had Costa on top 7-2-1.

Drug, Philgas Teams Post Easy Decisions

Drayton Drug and Philgas were easy winners in Waterford Township Recreation League basketball games Wednesday night at Isaac Cray Junior High gymnasium.

The Drug team racked up its 1st victory of the season with a convincing 72-54 triumph over the Waterford High School Faculty. Clarence Beens led Drayton with 29 points while Phil Runkel topped the Faculty squad with 19.

Philgas breezed to a 54-21 decision over Johnson & Anderson for its 2nd straight win. Tex Klaus scored 17 points for the winners. John Newcombe's six points was J & A's best effort.

Boyle-Stone Front meets Poole Lumber at 7:15 and Louie's Tavern faces Davis Machinery at 8:30 in next Monday night's Waterford League activity in the Cray gym.

Former Games Champs Return Trip Delayed

TOKYO (U)—The arrival here of two former American Olympic champions en route home from Melbourne has been delayed until Monday, the U.S. embassy said today.

Bob Mathias, double decathlon winner, and Dr. Sammy Lee, former high diving champion, who were scheduled to arrive in Tokyo Friday, are now in Hong Kong.

Top Rank Cage Teams Have Squeakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This may be the year North Carolina's Tar Heels finally shake loose from North Carolina State's shadow in college basketball.

Coach Frank McGuire's Tar Heels have had nothing but table scraps while State's Wolfpack has been eating high on the hog in their Atlantic Coast Conference. But suddenly it's spring in Chapel Hill.

The unbeaten Tar Heels, No. 6 in this week's Associated Press poll, ran up their third victory last night with an easy-as-you-please 52-35 victory over George Washington. State was chopped down for the second night in a row, this time 75-61 by South Carolina.

Freshman Rule Being Studied

Southern Loop Hears Plan to Bar 1st-Year Varsity Gridders

WASHINGTON (U)—Southern Conference officials, opening their annual fall meeting today, will consider joining other major college athletic groups in barring freshmen from varsity competition.

The faculty representatives also may act on a proposal that the 10 member schools be required to play a minimum number of football games with conference opponents.

Closed sessions of the executive committee, athletic directors, coaches and publicity directors get the meeting under way this afternoon and evening. Business will be transacted tomorrow at open sessions which will continue Saturday, if necessary.

Support from seven of the 10 members would be needed to scrap the rule which since 1954 has allowed freshmen to play on varsity teams.

Virginia Tech has persistently urged that first-year athletes be restricted to freshman competition. It has lined up substantial backing among the larger schools, such as West Virginia and George Washington. Some of the smaller members contend they would be handicapped by limiting their squads to upper classmen.

Albion in MIAA Lead

ALBION (U)—Albion took over undisputed leadership in the MIAA basketball race as George Viviamore's desperation shot in the last three seconds gave the Britons a 73-72 decision over hope last night.

The victory gave Albion a 2-0 MIAA record. Hope now is 1-1 in league play. Overall Albion is 5-0, Hope 2-2.

Court Ruling Declares Pro Game Is a Business

NEW YORK (U)—A federal judge has declared professional basketball a business, not a sport, and has found it subject to antitrust laws.

The ruling was made yesterday by Federal Judge Sidney Sugarman in denying motions by the National Basketball Assn. and others to dismiss a million-dollar antitrust suit brought by a Washington, D.C., group which failed to land an NBA franchise.

Sugarman found the Washington Professional Basketball Corp. has legal grounds for the suit, thereby overruling the NBA's contention that it was not a business and not liable to antitrust laws.

The suit was brought in May, 1955, with the Washington group alleging the NBA and its members conspired to prevent it from buying the bankrupt Baltimore franchise.

Sugarman, in a brief memorandum, wrote:

"The business of professional basketball, as conducted by the National Basketball League and its constituent teams on a multi-state basis, coupled with the sale of rights to television and broadcast—the games for interstate transmission, is trade or commerce among the several states within the meaning of the Sherman Act."

In addition to the NBA, the suit names Maurice Podoloff, its president and treasurer; Madison Square Garden Corp. Inc.; Syracuse Professional Basketball Club Inc.; Boston Celtics Basketball Club Inc.; Zoller Machine Works Inc.; and Minneapolis Basketball Inc.

Students Replace Money Stolen From Gridders

COMPTON, Calif. (U)—Compton College students were taking a collection today to reimburse the Grand Rapids, Mich. Junior College football players who were burglarized of $800 yesterday.

The Grand Rapids Raiders were practicing at Compton's field for Saturday's post season game against Coffeyville, Kan., for the National Junior College Athletic Assn. championship. When they opened their lockers their money was gone.

Flam, Krishnin Open Cup Play

PERTH, Australia (U)—The official draw today paired Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., with Ramanathan Krishnin for tomorrow's opening match of the Interzone Davis Cup finals between the United States and India.

But it was a meager development compared to the overnight recovery of U. S. ace Vic Seixas, 33, Cup veteran from Philadelphia.

Seixas, who will play the second singles match against India's playing captain, Naresch Kumar, reported his ailing shoulder greatly improved when he arrived for the ceremonies at the Royal Kings Park clubhouse.

A doubtful starter until then in the series to determine Australia's Cup challenger, Seixas said heat treatments administered by a doctor last night had removed all pain from his shoulder.

In Dad's Footsteps

HARTFORD, Conn. (U)—Richard B. Noble Jr. last night was elected captain of the Trinity College football team—the same honor his father held in 1924.

defeat Tuesday night, 96-94 in overtime.

Lennie Rosenbluth, the 6-5 Yankee who followed McGuire to North Carolina from New York, did the big job for the Tar Heels with 27 points. North Carolina had it wrapped up at the start, and held a 34-13 lead at the half. McGuire cleared his bench in the runaway but the Tar Heels still hit 43 per cent of their shots and dominated the boards.

State, which had been ranked eighth in the nation, never was in the running against once-beaten South Carolina. The Gamecocks took a 34-24 lead at the intermission, toyed with the Wolfpack in the first 10 minutes of the second half and then ran up an 11-point edge with five minutes left.

Freddie Lentz, a 6-8 soph center, was high with 19 points for South Carolina—which used only six men—four of them all the way. Ray Pucillo's 12 topped NC State, which hit five of 16 foul shots.

West Virginia, rated No. 13, made it 4-0 with an 81-66 job on Penn State, but Dayton, ranked 15th, escaped a second defeat with a 67-65 decision over Miami of Ohio.

Niagara, No. 16, couldn't dodge its second tumble as Syracuse won its first of the season 82-79. West Virginia's success wasn't as easy as it looks. A Penn State zone gave the Mountaineers fits until Red Handley's jump shot from the corner finally put them ahead for keeps at 36-34 with 30 seconds left in the first half. Lloyd Sharrar, a 6-10 center, controlled the boards and was high scorer with 20 points for the Mountaineers. Handley had 17.

Dayton didn't lead until a spurt of 16 consecutive points overhauled Miami in the last four minutes.

Viennie Cohen broke loose for 22 points in the second half and wound up with 30 for the game in Syracuse's surprise against Niagara. The Orange trailed most of the first half, taking over with two minutes left and then moving out on Cohen's second-half splurge.

Heise scored 31 points for the losers.

Elsewhere, Temple hit more than half its shots to bang Princeton 67-58. Yale blew a 20-7 lead and had to resort to a freeze to beat winless Wesleyan 53-47. Texas as opened with a zone, fell behind 32-13 and went into a full court press that paid off with a 68-62 decision over Oklahoma.

Tulsa, a four-time loser, finally got the job done with a 77-59 Breeze past Texas Western. And And Coach Ken Loeffler, one-time kingpin at LaSalle in the Tom Gola years, saw his Texas Aggies take their fourth defeat in six games, this time 75-63 by Mississippi Southern.

Western Michigan overcame a cold start to defeat Toledo 61-75 in a Mid-American Conference opener for both.

And Millsaps put an end to a national-record all-time losing streak with an 87-81 upset—what else?—of William Carey. Millsaps had lost 46 in a row. Said Coach Ernie Smith: "It's been a long time."

THAT'S IT—Bob Scheffing looks at a baseball and hopes for the best. The old catcher is charged with putting the Chicago Cubs back in business.

FREEHOLD, N. J. — The Freehold Raceway this season in a 50-day trotting meeting, attracted a total of 146,548 fans, a figure which was about 22 per cent greater than the gate for the 1955 season.

BROOKLYN — Clem Labine appeared in 62 games for the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1956 to set a pitching record. He was called on for relief in a total of 59 games and he started in three others.

The basketball season is only two weeks old and already a red hot scoring race is under way among prep players in the Oakland County area.

The 19 leading scorers in Oakland County and the top 21 marksmen in the outlying area, based on two or more games and a minimum of 30 points, have been tabulated.

Leading the county pack by the narrow margin of two-tenths of a point is Walled Lake High School's Larry Hughes. The Viking center has collected 45 points in two games for an average of 22.5 points per contest.

Walled Lake is undefeated in three games, but Hughes did not see action in the season opener. He has accounted for 20 field goals and five free throws.

Closely pursuing Hughes is sophomore George McDaniel, Holly's
6-5 center. McDaniel has been responsible for 67 points in three games for an average of 22.3 per contest.

Breathing on McDaniel's heels is center Bill Mountain of St.
Frederick. Mountain has chalked up 43 points in two games for a 21.5 clip.

Pontiac's Dave Diehm is next with a 19.5 average, followed by Leroy Parks of Clarkson with 19.3.
Pete Madelans of Orchard Lake
St. Mary, Birmingham's Bob Labell and Bob Hutchings of Orionville are tied for 6th place at 17.5.

Topping the fringe area shooters is Larry Dorow of unbested Inlay City. Dorow has amassed 66 points in three games for an average of 22 markers per contest. Dorow's total includes 22 field goals and 22 foul shots.

Holding down 2nd spot is Jim O'Neill of North Branch with 41 points in two efforts for a 20.5 clip.

John Ribner of North Branch with a 19.5 average and New Haven's Dick Johnson at an even 19 are next in line. Lapeer's Tom Wilson with an 18.5 average, Larry Kersten of Almont and Herb Sawgle of Dryden follow in that order.

BODY ENGLISH — Veteran Gene Sarazen twists and turns trying to coax the ball into the cup during his match against Gene Little yesterday in the $39,000 exhibition golf series in Phoenix, Arizona. The ball did not go in and Littler won the match by 4-strokes to win $2,000.

Yule Cash for Pros

Open 4-Day Sanford Test

SANFORD, Fla. — The tourists of professional golf stopped off here today to try for a little cash to stuff in their Christmas stockings — $15,000 prize money in the Sanford Open.

It will take four days of hard work over the 6,140-yard Mayfair course, which has a par 36-34-70.

The reward to the best workman over the 72 holes is $2,400.
Twenty-nine others in a field of 132 will collect smaller prizes down to $100 for 30th place.

Al Bessellink, former University of Miami golfer playing out of Grossinger, N.Y., took first prize at Havana, Cuba, last week and is among the favorites.

Others include Bob Toski; Julius Boros; Porky Oliver, new winter pro hero and veteran of the cross country tour; Ed Furgol, former National Open champ; Chuck
Harbert, former PGA champ; Don Finsterwald, third biggest money winner of the year; Mike Soucek, ninth leading money winner, and veteran Dutch Harrison.

In the inaugural Sanford Open a year ago, Al Balding came underhanded out of the field to take top money and become the first Canadian to win a big tournament on the U.S. tour.

There is a baseball atmosphere to this golf tournament. Not only is it sponsored by the New York Giants with President Horace Stoneham as host, but three well-known baseball figures are competing in the amateur section:

Fred Hutchinson, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals; Carl Hubbell, farm director for the Giants, and Tom Sheehan, Giants' scout.

Cubs Offer Trade-Bait

CHICAGO — Speculation mounted today that the Chicago Cubs might land a much-needed centerfielder with their bait being second baseman Gene Baker.

The names of Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies or Lee Walls of the Pittsburgh Pirates were mentioned.

John Holland, Cub vice president, didn't discount either possibility but indicated a deal with the Pirates may be closer than with the Phillies.

"I really can't say there is anything real hot right now," he said.
"We are waiting to hear more from Pittsburgh."

Frank Lane, the trade-master of the St. Louis Cardinals, left Chicago last night.

Lane and Holland swung a 10-player deal Monday, the only transaction of the major league meetings, and the Cubs also acquired catcher Charlie Silvera from the New York Yankees.

Pitchers Sam Jones of the Cubs and Tom Poholsky of the Cardinals were the key men in the exchange.

Holland said "I don't think we can get together with Lane because he doesn't have what we need, but we must might get involved with him in a three-club deal."

Indication the veteran Baker may be the pawn in any transaction came yesterday when the Cubs sent catcher Joe Hannah to Los Angeles and brought K. C.
Wise, 24, star rookie infielder, in from the Pacific Coast League farm club. The second sacker hit
.287 for the Angels last season and fielded .952 to lead the League.

Wise was signed by the Cubs in 1953 out of the University of Texas.

"I'm certain we'll land a top-flight center fielder from somewhere before we open spring training," said Bob Scheffing, Cub manager. "I believe a good center fielder is far more important than a second baseman. A center fielder who can make that one great catch a game is worth as much as a .300 hitter."

Pontiac Has 1st Home Meet in History Friday

Local Wrestling Teams Encouraged Despite Defeats

By CHUCK ABRAH
Encouraged by some outstanding individual performances in one-sided opening defeats, the wrestling teams of Pontiac High and Cranbrook make their second attempts at entering the win column in Friday matches.

The Chiefs, participating in the sport for the first time, make their initial appearance before home fans playing host to strong Berkeley in a 4 p.m. match at the PHS gym.

Cranbrook is away again for its second of four successive road matches traveling to Ann Arbor. The underdog Cranes bowed, 48-0 at Ypsilanti last week.

The local action will pack plenty of interest with the Pontiac contingent coming along fast in overknights sparked by the addition of five newcomers since the 43-15 setback at Bay City Central last Friday.

Berkley, with eight lettermen, will be the heavy favorite in its first appearance of the new season.

The Bears ranked seventh in the state and were regional champions last season in their third year in the mat game.

Back from that team are 130-pound Capt. Lou Drew, Jack Satta, 103, Bob Downie, 145, and Larry Wright, 127 as the nucleus for a well balanced team. Santa, Downie, and Wright were regional champions last year.

Pontiac coach Bill Willson was greatly impressed with his inexperienced team at Bay City with three boys posting triumphs.

The trio of Dave Payne (120), Mel Nosenchuck (133), and Don Herron (165) will be starting again tomorrow. Others ready to go are Jack Keller (95), Mel Heffer (112), Roy Hernandez (127), Bob Ragland (138), Chaley Radcliff (145), Scott Campbell (154), Duke Relyea (175) and heavyweight Willie Duncan.

Cranbrook will not only be looking for its first triumph but also its initial point at Ann Arbor. The Cranes got unexpected strong showings from three newcomers at Ypsilanti but their lettermen failed to aid the cause.

Jim Marcus and Bill Barnett each gained ties before bowing out on riding time, while 154-pounder Ken Tragenza lost out in a close match.

Further improvement by this trio along with veterans Duncan Black, Pete Turner, Gary Grikscheit, and Lou O'Connor would give the Blue and White a formidable aggregation.

Cronin Advises Colleges

BOSTON (AP)—Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox general manager, says colleges should "clean up their own houses before they start trying to clean up someone else's."

Cronin, who returned from the major league meetings yesterday, sharply criticized colleges which opposed repeal of the major league baseball law regarding college players.

"Their own rules are certainly inconsistent and discriminating," Cronin said. "The colleges don't allow the baseball players to play summer ball. Yet, they allow swimmers to work as life guards and bandmen to play in orchestras during vacation. They are college students just as are the college ball players."

Major league owners voted Tuesday in Chicago to rescind the rule whereby a major league club

Tour Is Tough, Says Ed Furgol

DETROIT (AP)—Ed Furgol, one of the nation's leading money winners among the golf professionals, was kicking around the question of golfers and their earnings.

Strangely, it's not a touchy subject at all with the former National Open titlist.

"A lot of people think that because a guy is a golf pro, he's rolling in money," says Furgol.

"It's not that way at all. A lot of guys—most of them, in fact—have a rough go of it trying to make expenses."

Furgol says a pro has to make $10,000 annually to break even. He says "there are a million and one expenses that the average golf fan doesn't stop to think about . . . things like clothes (a guy has to look right, you know), travel expenses, cleaning, caddy fees, entry fees, living expenses, and so on."

"At the minimum, and only if a golfer goes second-class, it takes $10,000 a year for the guy who makes all the tournaments. It costs from $250 to $300 for every tourney he enters. And don't forget, there are just so many winners, and there's not enough big money to go around."

Furgol believes people would "be surprised at the number of young pros who try the circuit for a while, maybe a year or so, then give it up mainly because of financial problems."

Dave Bourland, Army quarterback, called only three offensive plays in 1955 but was the Cadets' big star against Colgate in 1956.

MEANY URGES U.S. TO AID MORE REFUGEES
 NEW YORK (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany says the United States should admit at least 100,000 Hungarian refugees.

Meany, addressing the Overseas Press Club yesterday, added that such a rise from the present quota of 21,500 would not disturb the nation's economy.

The labor chief said the average Hungarian escaping from Communist oppression is between 25 and 40 years old, in "his most productive period."

The United Steelworkers, he said, is sponsoring 1,000 refugees and will help place them in jobs in the steel industry.

Major Issue for Paid Hunting Rights

LANSING (AP)—A proposal that landowners should be paid for hunting rights wound up as a major item for debate among delegates to the Midwest Wildlife Conference.

Jack H. Berryman, assistant regional supervisor of the federal fish and wildlife service at Minneapolis, Minn., advocated the "pay as you hunt" plan in one of the most controversial papers delivered by wildlife experts from nine midwestern states who met here three days ending Wednesday.

Berryman cited the increasing demands for hunting space and the mounting hunting licenses sales as making the plan necessary.

"The solution to the problem of maintaining productive habitat and harvest opportunities on a major portion of the nation's land is to develop a system of payment to the landowner, and that such payment will guarantee both the maintenance of adequate habitat and harvest opportunity," Berryman said.

Responsibility for the development and launching of such a system rests with the wildlife agencies, he declared.

Payment to the landowner, he said, would follow an old American tradition—absolute respect for land ownership.

In 1935, he said, more than three billion dollars was spent on hunting and fishing and only a small fraction of this went to landowners.

Of 494 million dollars spent by small game hunters, Berryman said, only $229,000 was spent for hunting leases and privileges—six hundredths of one per cent.

"Hunting is a big business," Berryman said, "and the landowner, whose role is all-important, is not receiving an equitable share of the business he sustains."

Hungarians in Italy, Refuse to Tell Plans

MILAN, Italy (INS)—Forty-five Hungarian athletes and sports officials arrived in Milan from the Melbourne Olympics today but most refused to disclose whether they would return to their rebellious homeland.

The Hungarians were headed by minister of sports Gyula Hegy. Most of the athletes were afraid to talk. Some, asking not to be identified in news stories, said they would go home to their families. Some said they would go first to Austria and then decide whether to seek refuge in the free world.

LANSING—Michigan State likes third quarters. At least during the 1935 football season the Spartans scored 85 in that period and gave up only 7.

Implanted Hormones Give Steers Weight

LARAMIE, Wyo. (INS)—Wyoming Agricultural Experiment Station researchers find the hormone stilbestrol definitely causes steers to gain weight.

Implantations of the hormone at the base of the ear of each animal increased the body gains of yearling steers 31 per cent. Thirty-six milligrams of the hormone were implanted.

Animal nutritionist Conrad Kercher conducted the trial at a ranch near Otto, Wyo. He used 91 steers and 72 heifers.

Kercher said the same dosage given to yearling heifers resulted in only a seven per cent weight increase.

Hollywood Headlines

Life in Semi-Retirement Pleases Ronald Coleman

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — The scene was outer space, created on a movie stage by a backdrop of stars and knee-high carbon dioxide clouds.

Sitting amid the fumes were actors portraying the heroes and villains of history. They were witnesses before the high judge (Sir Cedric Hardwicke) in the case of whether mankind should be destroyed by the super-H bomb. Mr. Scratch, played by Vincent Price in a devilish goatee, argued the affirmative.

Opposing him was the spirit of man, enacted by none other than Ronald Coleman. And as you listened to his patrician, slightly nasalized tones, you conclude that mankind seldom had a more convincing advocate.

With the exception of a one-day stint in "Around the World in 80 Days," this is the first film work by Coleman in over six years. And even this one will occupy him only eight days or so, I asked him why he didn't do more.

"Oh, I'm not in the big time any more," he said with a twinkle in his eye.

I assured him that was false. His prestige and style of acting will always be big time.

"The studios don't seem to be doing the sort of thing I used to do in films," he added. "There have been scripts, of course, but none of them was anything that I wanted to do."

Gray-haired but still dashing handsome at 65, Coleman appeared to be enjoying his not-so-hurried existence. Most of the time he leads a squire's life with his wife Benita Hume and their daughter Juliet in the comfortable town of Santa Barbara, 100 miles north. Occasionally he comes to Hollywood for work.

"I like to do a television film now and then," he remarked. "I'm going to do a GE Theater and some others. Live TV? No, not for me. That's for stage actors. It's been a long time since I was on the stage. And I wasn't very successful at it."

NBC Celebrating 30th Anniversary

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — About 350 owners and executives of radio and television stations of the National Broadcasting Company together with dozens of stars were here today for a four-day convention celebrating NBC's 30th anniversary.

Three NBC television programs will originate from the convention. They are the "Perry Como Show," two performances of Dave Garraway's "Today," and Steve Allen's "Tonight."

Six stations affiliated with NBC throughout the 30 years will receive awards of merit on Friday's "Today" program. The stations include WWJ, Detroit.

In Youth Cases, Judge Locks Up Parents, Too

CLOVIS, N. M. (AP) — Dist. Judge E. T. Hensley Jr. sent J. B. Martinez and his 16-year-old son both to jail because of the youth's repeated run-ins with the law.

The judge also ordered six other boys and their parents locked up for brief periods Tuesday until they had paid court costs and made good $23 worth of stolen produce.

Martinez and his son were sentenced to 10 days in jail in connection with a theft. Judge Hensley said while in the same cell they could discuss their relationship and try to reach some understanding for the future.

The judge said a new law gives him the power to lock up both the offender and parent in juvenile cases.

Charity Replaces Party

IONIA (AP) — Some 400 members of the Ionia Manufacturing Company's office staff voted for the second year in a row to donate the $1,000 usually used for the office Christmas party to the Ionia Junior Chamber of Commerce. The money will be used to help underprivileged children purchase Christmas presents for their families.

Nehru and Ike Will Have Four Day Visit

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Plans for President Eisenhower's four days of talks with India's Prime Minister Nehru starting Sunday were made public yesterday by the chief executive's vacation headquarters here.

Nehru is scheduled to arrive in Washington from London Sunday noon.

The schedule for the Nehru visit includes one day, Monday, of complete privacy with the President at Eisenhower's country home at Gettysburg, Pa. It also includes several opportunities for private talks in Washington Sunday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

On Wednesday morning Nehru will hold a news conference in Washington, Tuesday evening he will make a nationwide television radio address to the American people.

At Washington's National Airport Sunday Noon Nehru will be welcomed by Vice President Nixon and his wife, other U. S. government officials and members of the diplomatic corps. The Prime Minister will arrive from London aboard Eisenhower's private plane.

Nehru and his daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, then will go to the White House where the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will give a private luncheon. At the luncheon and afterward Eisenhower and the Prime Minister will have their first opportunity for discussion of international problems.

Later, Secretary of State Dulles will call on Nehru at Blair House, the government guest residence across the street from the White House. Then the Prime Minister and his sister will meet the Indian community at the Indian Embassy.

Sunday evening the Prime Minister and Mrs. Gandhi will be honored guests at a dinner given at the Supreme Court by Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren.

Nehru will fly to New York Dec. 20, remain there two days, then travel on to Ottawa before returning to London Dec. 24.

Big City Politics Losing to Labor?

AFL-CIO Claims Unions Taking Over as Boss as Machines Lose Grip

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO political specialists say elections showed that the big city political machines have lost their grip and that labor's electioneering groups are rapidly filling the gap.

This is part of an analysis of the election results provided to labor newspapers by the AFL-CIO's political branch, the Committee on Political Education (COPE).

COPE said that "adding it all up, labor was able to hold its ground well in the nonpresidential fights, whether state or national, and even inch up a little, against a landslide for the President."

Organized labor's leaders were almost solid in support of Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson against President Eisenhower. In the main, they backed Democratic candidates for Congress. The Democrats retained control of the House and Senate.

Discussing Eisenhower's landslide re-election, COPE attributed it to his "personal qualifications" as the voters viewed them. It also said the voters decided to back Eisenhower "in a critical international situation." As for the battle for control of Congress, COPE said, "The results were pretty much of a draw."

"The returns show clearly," COPE said, "... that labor's political organization spearheaded by the AFL-CIO COPE, proves out handsomely. We could have been swept off our feet in Congress had we not been organized."

"Our people might have stayed home in droves in the presidential race except for our register-and-vote campaigns. There might have been a truly disastrous swing in the Negro vote if labor had not been on the job explaining the real issues."

"It looks as if the big city political machines have broken down in most places, and that labor political organization is rapidly taking its place."

COPE's statement about the performance of the big city political machines appeared to hint at organized labor's intent to take a greater role in politics, despite two successive losing efforts in behalf of Stevenson against Eisenhower.

Should labor take over big city political organizations, a long step would have been taken toward forming the often-discussed labor political party.

Union leaders repeatedly have disclaimed any intent of forming a third political party. But supplanting the big city political organizations undoubtedly would project union labor into the political field far beyond what labor officials have sought, at least until now.

New Theory Advanced on Origin of Stars, Planets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Research aimed at harnessing the H-bomb reaction to produce peaceful electrical power has led to a new theory of the origin of the stars and planets, a Stevens Institute of Technology physicist states.

Dr. Winston Bostick of the Hoboken, N. J., school so reported in describing experiments he performed while working for "Project Sherwood"—a secret U. S. research effort to tame the hydrogen fusion reaction.

In a report prepared for a meeting of the American Nuclear Society, Bostick said the experiments suggest this concept: That all matter first made its appearance in the universe in the form of hydrogen "ions"—that is, positively charged nuclei of hydrogen atoms.

In describing his experiments, Bostick reported a technique for imparting to ions of the metal titanium speeds up to 450,000 miles an hour, which he said is the highest speed yet attained on earth by matter of comparable density.

He said the energy of such particles, if expressed as a temperature, would attain 100 million degrees centigrade, which he said is comparable to temperatures generated in a thermonuclear or hydrogen bomb explosion.

But some scientists at the meeting indicated to a reporter that something more would be needed to convert such energy into temperatures of the type required for any peacetime exploitation of the fusion reaction.

They said the particles described by Bostick traveled in only one direction, and that to convert their high energy into heat energy it would be necessary to devise some means of making the particles move in all directions.

Party Fetes 200 Handicapped Children

By JANICE MAYHAW

It was quite a day yesterday for nearly 200 physically handicapped children of Oakland County. They were fêted at the annual Christmas party sponsored by the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

A host of volunteers turned in services at the afternoon party at Stevens Hall, All Saints Episcopal Church, to make the day a memorable one for the young participants.

Children came in wheelchairs, with crutches, some walked and still many were carried in to see entertainment and receive specially chosen gifts from Santa Claus.

Glenn and her Busy Bees, an act with seven dogs and two monkeys, was a hit with the children who came from all parts of the county.

SANTA PASSES GIFTS

But loved and waited for most of all was Santa Claus and it was a jolly Santa who gave out the gifts. Faces were alive and the spirits uplifted when he made his appearance and talked to the little ones.

A lot of planning went into yesterday's party. Invitations were sent to the children and their parents. The society's files and Pontiac, Royal Oak, Ferndale and Farmington Hills, and other city health departments, were mailed in October.

Many agencies contributed to the day's affairs.

WCS at New Hudson to Lunch, Exchange Gifts

NEW HUDSON — WCS members of the Methodist Church here will exchange gifts today when they hold their Christmas party and luncheon at 1 p.m. at the church.

MEETMORA — MOMS Club, meeting here this week at the home of Mrs. Anna Kuske, is providing Christmas gifts for each of the 13 servicemen in Metomora Township. Members also exchanged gifts among themselves.

Next meeting of the group will be Jan. 14, at the home of Mrs. Robert Peretto.

Give to Servicemen

Members of the Birmingham and Clarkston Rotary Clubs and Daughters of Penelope decorated the tree and gym at Stevens Hall.

Card of Thanks

IN GRATEFUL APPRECIATION for the kindness and sympathy shown during our recent bereavement of Theodore J. Barnhart, wishes to publicly thank all those who helped in various ways to make our sorrow less bitter.

Romeo Chorus to Sing Messiah Sunday Night

ROME — The 36-member Community Chorus will officially welcome the Christmas season in Romeo by presenting Handel's "Messiah" at 8 p.m. next Sunday evening in the First Congregational church.

Vocalists from Washington, Alto, Rochester, Imlay City, Capac, Utica, and Romeo began rehearsing for their annual choral concert early in October with practices every Wednesday night.

Director of this year's presentation of the famous oratorio is Worth Mallory of Rochester. Rehearsal accompanist was Miss Joanne West of Romeo. Concert accompanist will be Mrs. Floyd Wilson of Hartland.

Soloists will include Mrs. Fred Scheueman of Romeo, soprano; Mrs. Roy A. Borland of Romeo, alto; Wanda Davis of Detroit, tenor; and Robert Waterstreet, head of the voice department at Eastern Michigan College, Ypsilanti, bass. Mrs. Scheueman is chorus president.

The group will reconvene early next year to begin rehearsals for its Spring concert held annually during Easter season. Mrs. Scheueman said.

Asks Public to Inspect Results of Remodeling at $80,000 Cost

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROME — The public will view the results of an $80,000 expansion and modernization program in the Romeo Savings Bank during an open house from 7 to 10 p.m. next Monday.

Remodeling, under direction of local contractor David E. Pettibone, began in the basement the first of August. By the middle of September work was in full swing on the main floor.

Reason for the sizeable expenditure of funds on expansion at this time is the "tremendous growth evident in the increase of banking activity," officials said today.

Another contributing factor was the need for added security on the part of both tellers and customers, they explained.

The new plan, designed by Detroit architect Erwin L. Broecker, former Romeo resident, makes use of all available space and segregates departments into units of their own.

Public Invited to Sunday Sing in Commerce

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A Christmas concert featuring the three choirs of Commerce Methodist Church is planned for 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the church.

Choir Director George Scott has invited the public to attend.

Each choir will present its own specialty numbers, in addition to performing in a combined chorus.

Soloists on the program will be Al Dalton, who will sing "O Holy Night," and Donald McKenzie, who will present "Nazareth."

Two duet numbers have been scheduled. Mrs. Margaret Ridley will sing with George Scott, and later with Mrs. Mary Sue Peria. Organ accompaniment will be provided by Mrs. Marion Colestock.

Public Invited to Sunday Sing in Commerce

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A Christmas concert featuring the three choirs of Commerce Methodist Church is planned for 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the church.

Choir Director George Scott has invited the public to attend.

Each choir will present its own specialty numbers, in addition to performing in a combined chorus.

Soloists on the program will be Al Dalton, who will sing "O Holy Night," and Donald McKenzie, who will present "Nazareth."

Two duet numbers have been scheduled. Mrs. Margaret Ridley will sing with George Scott, and later with Mrs. Mary Sue Peria. Organ accompaniment will be provided by Mrs. Marion Colestock.

Area Yields $800

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Chief of Police Andrew Plano, chairman of the Goodwill Drive, last week, reported that all receipts are not in yet, but he estimated that over $800 dollars was collected.

A Christmas to Remember

When Santa Paid a Visit to the Bowery

By FANNIE HURST

It was late November when I arrived in New York for the first time, from my home town, St. Louis.

I wanted to write. Newly out of college I had neither relatives nor friends in the metropolis. I was an exploring stranger in a strange land, a lone roomer in an impersonal side-street hotel.

For days on end, no voice was directed to me except the timeless theme song of the city: Stop lively! Watch your step! This way! All out!

When Christmas Eve arrived, and lighted trees shown in windows and public squares, my spirits reached a new low. Not even my favorite pastime of browsing the city streets, could get my spirits off the ground. Nostalgia for home and all that went with it, had me in its grip.

With the fearlessness of a babe in the wood, I found myself, this night before Christmas, wandering through the lower reaches of Manhattan, elevated trains roaring overhead, furtive men lurking in dark doorways or staggering from one saloon to the next.

AMONG FORGOTTEN MEN

Not until a corner sign enlightened me, did I know that I was on the Bowery, that street of song and sordid reality; street of forgotten men, of literal and spiritual bankrupts.

But unmolested I wandered. Toward midnight, attracted by a long queue of men waiting outside a lighted building, I pushed forward to find out what it was about, but was intercepted at the entrance. I am a writer, I mis-stated.

But without further questioning I was not only admitted to the crowded auditorium but assigned a place in a row of stage-seats, beside an immense matron whose smile, as she made room for me, was as warm as my mother's.

A speaker was addressing the audience, giving welcome to hundreds of men who were obviously out of the dark shadows of the Bowery. Lean, unshaven heavy men, who had lost the way.

Following the speaker, an entertainer did slight-of-hand and a little girl recited "The Night Before Christmas." The men dozed, watched dully or slumped. At least it was warm here and bright with a Christmas tree, and presently there would be doughnuts and coffee.

As the child recited, the large warm woman beside me placed a friendly hand over mine. My gratitude for the small gesture made me realize to the point of tears the loneliness of my Christmas Eve.

STAR OF THE EVENING

Following the little girl, the speaker rose again and announced: Now men, I have a surprise and thrill. I give you one of the greatest singers in the world. Madame Schumann-Heink!

Amid applause the stout, plainly clad figure beside me rose and in her rich accented voice, greeted the men. Then for over an hour, she sang to them, German lieder, lullabies, folk songs, excerpts from her magnificent opera repertoire, the dead faces of her audience coming alive as if rows of lights were being turned on.

Following encore after encore, responding to their shouts for this song and that, the great lady

Yule Programs Set at Christ Lutheran

Programs and services for the Christmas season at Christ Lutheran Church, Airport and Williams Lake Rds., have been announced by the Rev. Arvid E. Anderson, pastor.

The new addition to the church, which seats over 400 people, will be used for all of the Christmas activities.

The first program, scheduled for Sunday at 4 p.m., will be presented by the nursery, beginners and primary departments of the Sunday school, under the direction of Mrs. Leo Fugle. She will be assisted by superintendents of each department.

Program for the upper departments of the school will be held at 4 p.m. the following Sunday. It will be a pageant, portraying the Christmas story with modern day applications.

Two traditional candlelight Christmas Eve Services will be held Monday; one at 8 and the other at 11 p.m.

The Luther League will meet this Sunday at 6:30 and go caroling for the sick and shut-ins.

Spaghetti Is Favorite in School Cafeterias

ALBANY, N.Y. (U-P)—What's the favorite noontime dish of school children? That's easy—spaghetti, say school cafeteria managers.

Why? One manager said it was because spaghetti was familiar and one said it was because children hate to chew. Another said: "Spaghetti goes down quickly and kids are always in a hurry."

Raise Didn't Last Long

DALLAS (U-P)—Dallas County Commissioners had to reconsider the pay increases they voted for three assistant district attorneys. Through error, the assistants were officially raised to a salary of $1,300 a month. That's more than the Commissioners make. The clerk didn't make the proposed raises read "bi-monthly" as they should have.

Photographs were first transmitted by telephone wires in 1924.

OK School in Ludington

LUDINGTON (U-P)—Qualified Ludington school district voters Tuesday approved a tax limitation increase and a $750,000 bond issue to build a new elementary school and construct an addition to the present junior high school. The bond issue was approved by a vote of 1,096 to 500.
