Man Lives 4 Days Lashed to Boat; 2 Missing

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

Found lashed to the mast of a floundering sailboat last night, a West Bloomfield Township man was rescued from the waters of Lake Huron after going four full days and nights without food.

Marvin Mallis, 29, 2061 Appoline is in a Rogers City hospital recovering from shock and exposure suffered during his ordeal.

He told Coast Guard officials that two companions on the boat were blown overboard and probably drowned.

The missing men were identified by Presque Isle Deputy Sheriff Sam Treadwell as Dr. Donald W. Aiken, 2050 Appoline, and Richard Gardner, 33, 2081 Daintree, West Bloomfield Township.

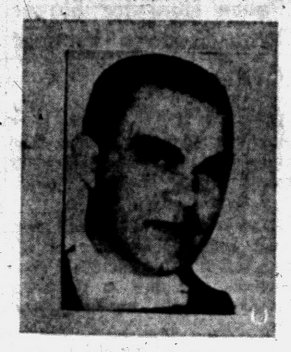

★ ★ ★

The boat was spotted yesterday by wheelsman Nolan May on the freighter Princeton.

★ ★ ★

Two tugs from Rogers City rushed to the rescue and found Mallis tied to the mast as the ship listed heavily on one side in the choppy lake.

When picked up, Mallis was unable to speak coherently, and to give details of the tragic ending of the Labor Day outing.

RICHARD GARDNER

Dr. Robert Ries of the Rogers City Hospital, said, "It's a miracle that he (Mallis) is still alive. He couldn't have lasted out there another 24 hours."

★ ★ ★

In the hospital today, Mallis told Dr. Ries that the trio left Cheboygan on the morning of Sep. 1, and were headed up the St. Mary's River when a wind squall arose near Decatur.

Mallis said that when he saw that a storm was brewing he put on a lifejacket and warm clothing. He advised his friends to do likewise, but they didn't.

The boat apparently turned on its side in the squall, but righted itself, according to Mallis. Mallis said that he tied himself and companions to the boat, which was waterlogged.

On September 2nd, Monday, Mallis said that Aikens passed out and that when he felt his pulse he was dead.

On their third day of drifting, Mallis said that Gardner apparently went "berserk" but then quieted down.

Mallis said that he blacked out that afternoon, and when he awoke the other two had disappeared.

Deputy Sheriff Treadwell said that Mallis couldn't "remember exactly" what happened.

★ ★ ★

The steamer, Princeton, upon spotting the drifting sailboat, phoned the Michigan Limestone Division offices in that area. It was from there that the tugs were sent out.

DONALD AIKEN

Mallis was picked up by the crew of the Dolemite. He was not unconscious, but spoke incoherently and was weak. He was immediately rushed to the Rogers City Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The Coast Guard at Charlevoix said the three men were believed to have motored from Detroit Aug. 31 to Cheboygan where they launched their boat the following day. The Coast Guard said that the trio had sailed to Mackinac Island from where they mailed post cards to their friends.

★ ★ ★

Mallis has one child, a three-year-old daughter, and his wife is expecting another within a few weeks. He is a eneral foreman in a Detroit plant.

★ ★ ★

All three men were charter members of the Walnut Lake Estates Boat Club. Aiken has four children, ranging from 10 months to 11 years of age. He was an osteopathic surgeon with offices on Walnut Lake road.

★ ★ ★

Gardner was employed as a photo engraver at the Service Engraving Co. in Detroit. He is commodore of the Walnut Lake Estates Boat Club and active in the Boys' Club there. He has three children, ages 1-5.

Flying Family Believed Dead in Chilly Waters

Six Bodies Hunted as Plane Debris Is Pulled From Superior

MARQUETTE, (AP)—There was little question in the minds of police search parties today that the Hietikko family of six died when their plane crashed in Lake Superior five days ago.

Parts of their small plane, scattered pieces of clothing, and debris have been pulled from the chilly waters of the lake near this Upper Peninsula town.

No trace of the bodies has been found.

State Police skin divers and Coast Guard dragging teams pulled up the fuselage of the plane, a radio and part of a landing gear yesterday.

The pieces were identified by painted numbers on them as parts of the plane that carried the family en route home to Lansing from a Labor Day weekend trip to the Upper Peninsula.

Rough weather late yesterday forced the divers and draggers to give up their probe before lifting other pieces of submerged wreckage visable from the air.

★ ★ ★

Aboard the plane were Raymond Hietikko, 40-year-old owner of a Lansing photographic shop, his wife Corrine, 32, and their four children — Cameron, 9, Mark, 7, Connie, 5, and Scott, 11 months.

Put Off Action on Controversy in Little Rock

Will Wait for Ruling by Federal Judge Defied by Gov. Faubus

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower and Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. conferred today on the tense Little Rock school controversy but put off any immediate decisive action in the thorny dispute.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen after the 45-minute meeting that any Washington action will await a ruling by Federal District Judge Roland N. Davies who has been asked by the Little Rock school board to delay integration.

At issue in the controversy is the fact that Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus has surrounded Central High School in Little Rock with National Guardsmen barring the entry of Negro students.

Eisenhower flew from his Newport, R. I., vacation site to meet with Brownell at the White House. Also at the early morning meeting were Hagerty, White House Counsel Gerald Morgan and Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons, presidential liaison officer with Congress.

Hagerty reported that the discussion centered on possible federal actions that might be necessary because of the judge's ruling. He said this included alternative actions based on whether Davies "rules this way or that."

★ ★ ★

He declined to comment on speculation that a court injunction may be sought to enforce integration, commenting: "This would

Strikes at 8 Victims

Ex-Night Watchman Seized as Chicago's 'Mad Ripper'

CHICAGO (AP)—A lean, tousled ex-night watchman was seized as Chicago's "Mad Ripper" last night, police said, shortly after the stealthy stabber knifed his seventh and eighth victims.

Tall Joseph P. Caraher, 39, was captured after a blocks-long chase by a group of rock-throwing men who drove him into the arms of an offduty policeman.

The chase began when two men said they saw Caraher stab a 12-year-old girl on the Northwest Side. They roused neighbors and raced after the fleeing attacker.

"Why are they picking on me?" Caraher mumbled as Policeman John Keane held him at gunpoint until more law officers arrived. He cursed his captors as "German spies."

Police said Caraher was drunk and talking incoherently. They reported he was carrying a blood-stained pearl handled switchknife when seized.

Homicide Detective Sgt. James Traut said Caraher "is definitely the stabber" who slashed eight persons in Chicago since Monday, six of them yesterday.

Later four of the knife victims identified Caraher as their assailant.

"I never stabbed nobody. I was doing a service," Caraher rambled on at the Racine Avenue police station. Earlier he had told a newsman he went on a stabbing spree "because they're trying to hold me up."

No charges have been filed against Caraher.

The series of unprovoked attacks began Monday when Ronald McFadden of Tulsa, Okla., was stabbed in the arm as he waited for a subway train on the near North Side.

Cases Drop Off Sharply

State Passes Polio Peak

LANSING (AP) — Michigan is definitely past the peak of its infantile paralysis season, the State Health Department reported today.

Dr. F. S. Leeder, head of the department's Division of Disease Control, said a sharp drop was noted in the number of cases reported last week.

"We can scratch polio as a threat for this year," Dr. Leeder said.

There were 25 cases reported during the past week, only two of them paralytic. This compared with 47 cases the week previous and 53 two weeks ago.

There were 47 cases during the same week last year and 68 in the week during 1955.

There have been 307 cases reported so far this year compared to 353 during the same period last year and 802 in 1955. There have been only three polio deaths reported so far this year.

Leave Pontiac Early Monday Morning

Theater Goers Ready for Whirl at New York's Top Attractions

Last minute preparations for start of the Pontiac Press Theater tour to New York today occupied 154 Pontiac area residents who hold reservations for the trip.

The party will start checking in at The Press at 6 a.m. Monday and leave by bus for Willow Run Airport by 7. Those planning to reach The Press by taxi are urged to place their calls early as there may be a last minute rush.

The Pontiac party will fly from Willow Run to Idlewild airport in two chartered United Airline planes, and will partially fill a third, TWA plane.

The schedule of activities for the tour is designed to disprove the adage that anticipation is better than the actual event.

For some the trip will be their first visit to New York. For many it will be the first time they have seen so many Broadway shows on one jaunt. For everyone there is some special item of interest.

It won't take much to convince 74-year-old Mrs. Amanda S. Holthusen, of 1150 Parkway Dr., Waterford Township, that she's going to enjoy the trip. "I know I'm going to have the time of my life," she said.

This will be the first time to New York for Mrs. Holthusen who, to prove that life can begin at 70, is learning to swim this year.

"I'm going because I love to travel," she said. "That boat trip around Manhattan will be thrilling along with everything else."

Won't Someone Rescue Judges?

They Want Winner for $2,400 Now Waiting in Pot-O-Gold

Doesn't anyone pity our poor judges? We know all contestants want to win the money, but maybe a little compassion for the woes of a Pot-O-Gold judge will spur you on.

After spending two days going over almost 20,000 entries, quite often finding solutions with only two or three errors, and hoping each time that it would be a winner, the judges wearily report that there were no entries which had all answers right or only one wrong.

Won't you take pity on the judges and try just a little harder this week? You have until Tuesday to postmark your entry, and the pot now contains $2,400.

Won't someone please come up with the right solution before our headlines read "Frustrated Contest Judges Go Berserk?"

City Hospital Plans Psychopathic Care if Voters Approve Funds for New Wing

By HAROLD COHEN

Pontiac General Hospital will provide beds for psychopathic patients if the public approves the $950,000 bond issue which will be on the ballot Oct. 28.

Warren W. Simonds, acting hospital director, in commenting on stories in The Pontiac Press detailing the total lack of emergency hospital facilities for the insane, said plans call for setting aside 10 beds on three floors for this purpose after the new wing is completed.

The Press in recent articles has pointed up a situation where doctors, police departments and families throughout Oakland County do not have a place to take a person who suddenly shows violent mental symptoms or threatens harm to himself or others.

Simonds said plans call for beds in the present hospital to be available for the insane as soon as the functions now served by the space can be moved to the new wing.

"We have money for the special facilities set aside" he added "but if we cannot furnish and use the new wing, we can't even let workmen into the present building to make the necessary alterations."

Simonds stated he did not believe the use of 10 beds, scattered over three floors would lend itself to the best arrangement of the space.

"All authorities say beds for the insane should be kept together to form a psycopathic ward. This permits the employment of special nurses and orderlies to staff the ward which cannot be done under the present plans."

Simonds said he would consult with the hospital's trustees to see if it would be economically feasable to group the alloted 10 beds into a ward.

He said that establishment of

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Does a mild winter always mean bumper crops in the summer and fall ahead?

A mild winter, contrary to what some people believe, is not necessarily the best thing for trees and plants which produce salable products.

Some trees and plants require so many cold nights during the winter. If they do not receive this cooling process, which controls the dormant period, they are likely to produce little or bear too early, or both.

Thus an average winter is better than an extremely cold or an extremely warm one. And there has been little change in our average winter weather over the years—despite the fact that elderly people usually think the weather was colder in their childhood. It was slightly colder but the difference in the average winter at the turn of the century and today is relatively minor.

Chimp Star Cheeta Shot

SANTA ANA, CALIF. (INS)—The chimpanzee movie and Television star, Cheeta, was shot to death by deputy sheriffs as she charged toward a group of children in a field.

★ ★ ★

The incident occurred yesterday in nearby Cypress at the climax of an unsuccessful attempt to recapture the 9-year-old animal.

The ape attacked her owner, Ed Rogers, just prior to the shooting and he is now under medical observation. Laboratory tests are being run to determine whether Cheeta had rabies.

The animal became enraged during the afternoon and escaped by tipping over a bottomless, 300-pound cage.

★ ★ ★

She climbed a tree and leaped to the roof of a house. Rogers called deputies after a futile attempt to lure her down. Three responded to the call.

They finally got her to the ground and were trying to rope her when she attacked Rogers, severely biting and scratching him.

One of the deputies fired a pistol at her, hitting her in a hand.

She then charged into a field and headed for a group of children watching the recapture attempt.

★ ★ ★

Deputies cut her down with shotguns to keep the children from being attacked.

The chimpanzee star worked in 42 movies, among them the "Tarzan" films, and was "Beaulah" in the "Truth and Consequences" television show.

In Little Rock, Wiley Banton, attorney for nine embattled Negro high school students turned away from Central High School at gunpoint, dramatically told Judge Davies today that if he gives a stay of execution in his integration order it will be "a blow to the human dignity of man everywhere."

It was the climax of a 15-minute hearing in which the attorney for the school board, Archie House, reiterated the board's plea that the court issue a stay which would reduce the tension that has grown in Little Rock since the Negroes were turned down.

Gov. Faubus called out the National Guard in the powder-keg situation.

"Our petition is based on educational factors," House told the diminutive federal judge in a crowded courtroom.

"The constant distractions, the spectacles taking place on the school grounds can only mean that teaching is at an end at Central High.

ANTAGONISTIC GROUPS

"Some think that the National Guardmen presence is ill-advised and others think it is a good idea. The parents of the students have now broken into two antagonistic groups. If this goes on education will be interrupted."

He concluded with a plea that the judge create a temporary armistice in which "intelligence would replace emotions."

He promised that the school board wanted only a limited period of time to straighten out its difficulties and that it will not deviate from its announced intention of abiding by the Supreme Court integration decision.

Gushing Oil Well Now Under Control

HILLSDALE (AP)—A gushing well that had spewed highly inflammable oil over a 360-acre area was brought under control today.

Experts forced specially mixed mud down the well casing and through the break that was letting the oil seep up to the ground around the casing.

They planned to cap the casing with a steel top.

The wind blown oil that soaked the surrounding area had forced the evacuation of 50 farm people from the district. State Police feared a spark would have touched off an explosion of the highly combustible oil and gas.

Detroit Grocer Beaten to Death

Police Hunt for Slayer Who Escaped Without Any Money

DETROIT (INS) — Police were searching today for a thug who fatally beat a 62-year-old grocery store owner for his empty wallet.

★ ★ ★

Barney Nove of Detroit was found behind a counter of his store suffering from multiple skull fractures. He died in Receiving Hospital without regaining consciousness.

A homemade blackjack, believed to be the murder weapon, was found in an alley behind the store.

Nove's wife Rose, 58, son, Hannan, 23 and daughter, Mrs. Sally Kaplan, 27, could not understand why the attacker would beat him so ferociously.

They said he had adopted a philosophy of doing exactly as told in a holdup and would never resist, especially since he had been roughed up by two robbers only six weeks ago.

Detectives were mystified because only Nove's wallet containing personal papers was missing. No money had been taken from the cash register. Another $250 in large bills was found in Nove's right sock.

They theorized the thug was interrupted in his robbery by the approach of another customer and ran away.

Fireman Hurt Fighting Blaze

Lt. Pamadge Shelton Falls Through Steps in Pontiac Home

A Pontiac fireman was injured yesterday evening while fighting a blaze in the basement of a two-story frame home at 191 Ferry St.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Pamadge Shelton, 41, 75 Summit Ave., fell through the burning basement steps. He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital, treated for slight bruises and released.

The fire, belived caused by spontaneous combustion, did $3,500 damage to the home and $2,000 damage to the contents. The occupants are the Stanley Gordon family.

Both loses are covered by insurance, the fire department reports.

A careless smoker set fire to a davenport early this morning and caused $1,000 damages to Parkside Apartments at 101 Mechanic St.

The fire started in Apt. 110, occupied by Harold Davis, the Pontiac Fire Dept. reports. His apartment suffered $200 damages to contents.

Hospital May Provide Psychopathic Ward

such a ward would result in changing the present policy of the hospital which does not now admit psychiatric patients.

★ ★ ★

The new system would treat patients on the same financial basis as others. The patient or his family would be billed for the services rendered and if unable to pay they would be referred to the Oakland County Social Welfare Dept. which would bear the cost.

Creation of 10-bed ward would have many advantages, Simonds said. It would give the police a place to take psychotic persons, instead of locking them up in jail as is now frequently done.

★ ★ ★

It would also give the hospital a place to put patents admitted for other reasons who subsequently turn psychotic.

Patients would benefit by earlier treatment, he said, and the stigma of being in an "asylum" would be avoided.

"We could also use the space for patents who have psyco-somatic complaints and need a careful evaluation by our staff," Simonds continued. "And family cooperation would be much better."

Other advantages he outlined were that noisy patients could be separated from others who they disturb, and the staff could have facilities for examining and treating patients as a whole, rather than drawing a line between mental and physical ills.

The plans call for each bed to be in a private room which would be under maximum security precautions to prevent escape or self-injury by the patient.

A trained staff of psychiatrists, psycologists and psychiatric social workers might also conduct an outpatient clinic where mental ills could be treated before they result in psychosis, Simonds concluded.

New Hurricane Roaring West

Carrie Moving From Mid-Atlantic, as Yet Poses No Threat

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—Squalling westward today from mid-Atlantic was newborn hurricane Carrie, swinging 100-mile-an-hour haymakers in the air 1,000 miles from land.

The U. S. Weather Bureau located the center of the season's third whole gale last midnight at about 2,600 miles east southeast of Miami, Fla., and 1,750 miles east southeast of San Juan.

It was still more than 1,000 miles east of the lesser Antilles, island outposts of the new world, and forecasters said that "from its present direction and forward speed, there is no immediate threat to insular areas."

Carrie was not close enough to fly a hurricane hunter plane into, and wasn't expected to be before Sunday.

Carrie's westward movement rose slowly from 10 miles an hour, when the hurricane was detected late yesterday, to 12 m.p.h. at midnight and was expected to be making 15 miles an hour during the rest of today.

★ ★ ★

The Weather Bureau warned shipping in the storm's path to exercise caution.

County Road Commission Schedules Open House

A lot of dignitaries have been invited to the Oakland County Road Commission's open house Wednesday. Those who show up are going to be impressed, the commission feels.

"The county now has one of the finest plants of any county road commission in the state," declared Paul Van Roekel, county highway engineer.

This is only fitting, he said, since Oakland's commission is the largest, with the most road mileage under its jurisdiction.

At the top of the invitation list is State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. His road engineering staff in Lansing and at the Detroit district office also are invited.

OFFICIALS INVITED

The guest list includes members of all the state's county road commissions, Oakland County's Board of Supervisors and its six state representatives and state senator, plus officials from all of the county's cities and villages.

The general public is invited, too, said Van Roekel.

The open house will be from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday at the commission's new $600,000 headquarters, 2420 Pontiac Lake Rd., in the Oakland County service center area.

On view will be the facilities for running the county's 700 miles of primary roads, 1,870 miles of local roads, and 183 miles of state roads.

★ ★ ★

In addition, 80 to 100 miles of new subdivision streets are being added to the county's road system every year.

Secrecy Order Hit by Newsman

Administration Urged to Become 'Interested in Open Government'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Florida newspaperman representing two national organizations has urged the Eisenhower administration to cancel a 1953 secrecy order and "to get interested in open government."

V. M. Newton Jr., managing editor of the Tampa Tribune, yesterday discussed what he called abuses of the order with Gerald Morgan, special counsel to President Eisenhower, and with Defense Department officials.

★ ★ ★

Newton represented the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. (APME) and Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity. He said both groups had adopted resolutions urging cancellation of Eisenhower's 1953 directive, issued to "safeguard official information" in the interest of defense security.

Discussing his conversation with Morgan, Newton told reporters:

"I said we regretted the abuse of the 1953 order and said if secrecy expanded in the next 25 years as it has developed in the last 25, not only will freedom of the press be seriously impaired, but other freedoms of our grandchildren will be irreparably impaired.

"I told him editors all over the country had gotten laws for open meetings and open records adopted by legislatures in eight states, and that it was time for the federal government, too, to get interested in open government."

★ ★ ★

Newton said Morgan agreed "that something ought to be done about the abuse. He said he would welcome concrete examples of secrecy in government."

The editor said he had collected data on 59 instances which he said his two groups regard as efforts by the administration to exert "a form of political censorship."

Charge Reduced to Second Degree

Lee Harris Jr., 25, of Pontiac Township yesterday was bound over for Circuit Court arraignment on a reduced charge of second-degree murder.

A first-degree murder charge against Harris, a resident of the Glenview Trailer Park, 2300 Shimmoris Rd., was reduced by Pontiac Township Justice Robert Hodge after two days' examination in the shooting of Eddie Hicks, 28, of Wye Mills, Pa. Hodge ruled that there was no evidence of premeditation.

Hicks was shot as he and two companions arrived by automobile in front of Harris' trailer the night of Aug. 26, it was testified. Although Harris did not take the stand, police witnesses quoted him as saying that he thought the three men were threatening him because of a long-standing grudge.

Harris was freed under $2,000 bond until arraignment Sept. 10.

Jack Palance, Photographer Duel Verbally

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Jack Palance, Hollywood heavyweight (200 pounds), and photographer George O'Day, Los Angeles middleweight (150 pounds), had an inconclusive set-to outside a courtroom.

The two were separated, amid pyrotechnic verbal exchanges. Witnesses said Palance objected to having his picture taken, and when O'Day took it the actor let fly with a notebook that bounced off the head and shoulders of O'Day, Herald and Express cameraman.

Palance, 37, was in court for a hearing on the separate maintenance suit of his estranged wife, Virginia, 32.

The hearing was continued until next Thursday.

Wants South to Lead Nation

Negro Pastor Hopes That Dixie Will Furnish President Soon

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The leader of the world's largest Negro religious group has expressed hope the South will send a president to Washington soon.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Joseph H. Jackson, president of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., made the statement yesterday when he introduced Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma to the convention.

Jackson later was asked in an interview why Negroes would support a presidential candidate from an area leading the fight to maintain racial segregation.

The Chicago pastor replied, "there are great leaders in the South.

★ ★ ★

"The only thing that stands between them and great victory (as a presidential candidate) is the little tradition of segregation, which will be overcome.

"Some people feel we may expect great leaders from only one part of the nation but many of us do not. Abraham Lincoln came from the South and so can other presidents."

★ ★ ★

Jackson said thousands of white citizens in the South are "devoted to the ideals of freedom and liberty" and stand against segregation.

He said Gary and Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky are "broad-minded citizens" who possess some of the qualities a presidential candidate needs.

Both Gary and Chandler spoke out against segregation before the convention.

Prison Cracks Down on Reducing Medicine

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Kilby prison officials have ordered a security crackdown in efforts to halt smuggling of reducing pills to convicts who use them as narcotics.

Deputy Prison Commissioner Frank Lee said several prisoners have been dissolving a certain type of reducing pills in water, and injecting the solution in their veins.

Lee said the injection of the solution gives a "quick, cheap jag."

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Learns to Shoot, Then Kills Father

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 10-year-old boy whose father showed him how to fire his shotgun only last week killed the father last night with the weapon as the climax to a domestic argument, Police Inspector William Gilmore reported.

Killed was Michael E. Chervenak, Jr., 31, a steelworker. The son, Michael Thomas, sobbed bitterly.

"There are no charges yet but we have to turn the lad over to juvenile authorities," Gilmore said. The officer said the boy and his mother gave this version:

Chervenak had beaten both of them and been abusive during the evening. Finally, Mrs. Chervenak left the room. Her son ran upstairs, took the shotgun from under a bed and came downstairs.

★ ★ ★

Gilmore said the youth told him his father was coming toward him when he pulled the trigger.

Champ Husband Caller Maintains Superiority

The tiny woman with the big voice successfully defended her title over a field of five last night with her cry of, "George, come home."

Brains of Executives 'Need Warming Up'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A business man's brain, like a baseball pitcher's arm, needs to be warmed up before going into action, says Dr. Irving Maltzman, psychologist at University of California at Los Angeles.

Experiments, Maltzman said yesterday, indicate that mental warm-up exercises help business men and others in solving problems.

Persons given a minor mental problem to solve had more success in reaching the solution of a subsequent more difficult problem, Maltzman said in reporting on his tests.

It Seems to Me...

City Title Game Would Succeed

In the not too distant future, Pontiac will have two high schools. This points to a sterling football battle in the days ahead for "the City Championship."

The PRESS would like to suggest now that this newspaper will undertake to stage an annual Thanksgiving Day battle at Wisner for the City Title, with a definitely stepped-up ticket charge.

The money would go to charity.

Of course this is all contingent upon approval by the Board of Education and the schools themselves.

★ ★ ★

This might easily become the local football feature of the year. It is in Flint now. Northern and Central play their regular schedules and each does its level best. But come Turkey Day, records count for naught. Form is tossed aside. The fur flies and the two schools play before the biggest crowd of the year—every year—in Atwood Stadium.

Why can't Pontiac do that?

Let's have a civic festival.

★ ★ ★

Both schools could have a grand parade of bands before the games and at half-time. The cheer leaders could go all out as they hadn't done before and Pontiac could stage a local spectacle that outdid anything either school experienced during the season.

After a few years, local citizens would be ashamed not to be present at this annual affair.

Roughly, we would plan to sell 1,000 center line seats at $5 a crack. And we mean $5. There would be no "passes" and no "courtesy seats." Every spectator in the stadium would fork over his do-re-mi, including Mr. and Mrs. Dana Whitmer.

This would produce $5,000.

The next 4,000 seats could go for $2.50 and should net $10,000. Then the remaining 3,600 could go at a dollar and a half and perhaps the committee would soften at the last minute and allow the students to get in at a cut rate. The details are unimportant at the moment. The affair could gross $10,000 or $20,000 and do a lot of local good. Every thin dime would be expended in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

High school rules specify a maximum number of games. Each school would have to allow for this in scheduling its contests. It is reasonable to suppose that the current high school which would probably become "Central" would have an edge for a year or two. But that would be short lived. The two will serve equal areas of the city and the two squads would soon be evenly split.

Charity, open your lap.

Hart's 'Hardship'

As a director of the Associated Press, I was filled with utter desolation when I read an A.P. dispatch out of Lansing. Our great organization fell for a line of propaganda that should have been summarily rejected by:

The A.P. Reporter
The Lansing Bureau
The Detroit Office
PONTIAC PRESS Editing

It crept past all defenses.

We were all taken in.

★ ★ ★

The relatively innocuous item in question said that Lieutenant Governor Phil A. Hart, the father of eight children, rides a bicycle to work, "as it's cheaper than the family car."

My heart bleeds.

I see the spectre of the grim, gaunt, rapacious wolf practically encamped on the Hart doorstep as Phil, Janey and the eight children huddle in penury and want.

Very few voters in this section were fooled.

PHIL'S wife is JANE BRIGGS, a delightful girl and the proud mother of eight. We stand before her silent and uncovered. She's a stalwart American mother.

The size of her late father's estate is no public matter, but we do recall the Briggs Body Company was sold for $35,000,000. Even the Detroit Tigers, which represented purely a hobby in the life of JANE'S father, was peddled for $5,500,000 and the unnamed real estate and other holdings remain in the limbo of things unknown. It really isn't anyone's business, anyway. But the total far, far, far transcends "business as usual."

★ ★ ★

Phil's wife is one of five equal heirs to this vast holding, plus the fact she wasn't a pauper or a candidate for the relief rolls, anyway. Hence, working off that bike as an example of frugality is a giggle of sorts.

If the wolf that's mistakenly stalking the Hart front door is feminine, she can safely pause and bear a litter of pups. The Harts can feed those hungry little mouths in addition to the big number already at hand.

★ ★ ★

And, by the way, PHIL, when you speak of "the family car," which one of them do you mean?

The People's Business:

Nothing's Done

Republican Plans Are Still in Talking Stage

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—Let's go back nine months to December, 1956.

A few weeks had passed since Democrat G. Mennen Williams won a fifth term as Michigan governor, and Republicans were bouncing back—vocally, at least—from their defeat.

EYE RETURNS

John Feikens, then GOP state chairman, and some other Republicans had taken stock of the returns and were questioning whether a defeat really was suffered.

"We picked up a seat in Congress," the argument went. "We put across President Eisenhower by an even bigger plurality than in 1952. We gained a couple of seats in the House and held our own in the State Senate."

At about this time, there was a rising tide of optimistic talk about the future, building for election campaigns to come.

MUCH TALK

There was talk, a good deal of it, about putting the state chairman, then paid $75 per diem plus expenses, on a full time, salaried basis at $20,000 a year.

Some Republicans looked south to Ohio where the party prospered under the direction of a well staffed, well financed state headquarters.

"We'll make a start in that direction in Lansing," the optimists cried. "Organize a qualified, professional-caliber staff to stimulate party activity and build on a year 'round basis'."

OTHERS CHIME IN

"Sure," others chimed in. "You can't beat the Democrats by working three months every two years. Let's take a leaf from Ohio's book."

This was nine months ago. What has happened since?

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Bredio

A rider for the old Pony Express, who braved Indians and other frontier hazards to bridge a continent, first had to take an oath or sign a pledge:

"I agree not to use profane language, nor to get drunk, nor to treat animals cruelly, nor to do anything incompatible with the character of a gentleman."

Then he was given a small, leather-bound Bible with the advice to use it at all times.

Days of All Faiths:

Observe Blessed Virgin's Birthday

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Sunday is the birthday, the nativity, of the Blessed Virgin Mary, or at least it is the day so observed by millions of Christians in both the eastern and western parts of the Church. There is no historical information, however, to support the choice of Sept. 8.

Nor does anyone know where Mary was born. One tradition favors the town of Nazareth, but another says it was Jerusalem and even goes so far as to indicate the exact location, which was in the neighborhood of the miraculous pool called Bethesda, mentioned in St. John, chapter 5, verse 2.

Near the site of this pool there now stands the Church of St. Anne (Mary's mother, and a crypt under the church is venerated as the spot where the birth took place.

Of all the many days dedicated to the Blessed Virgin, this one is perhaps the least important — which is far from saying it has no importance at all. For countless Christians believe, and have believed through the centuries, that Mary's birth was unique. This baby was born into the world different from all other babies born before or since. She was "full of grace," not prone to sin, as was every other human being. It was a birth well worth commemorating.

SUPERSTITIONS ABOUT BAPTISM

Christians, of course, are familiar with the naming of a child as a part of the Sacrament of Holy Baptism, and over the years have developed a great many quaint superstitions related to this important ceremony. Some of them, even some of the ridiculous ones, still hang on in what is supposed to be an enlightened world:

To call a child by his name-to-be, or even to tell anyone what that name is, before the baptism is unlucky.

If a child's initials spell a word, that is lucky.

A child never thrives until it has been baptized. Sickly children were always suspected of not having been baptized.

It is unlucky for a child to be the first one baptized in a new church.

The baptismal water must never be wiped off a child's face. It must be allowed to evaporate.

The ordeal of birth has made the child particularly susceptible to demons and evil spirits — therefore, get him baptized as soon as possible, or the demons will carry him off. The only protection, except baptism, is to keep a piece of his father's clothing over him.

A child must wear a christening cap at his baptism and must keep it on the rest of the day and all that night.

There must always be a feast, especially plenty to drink, after a baptism. (This is one superstition that hasn't gone out of style.)

If a boy and a girl are brought to baptism together, the boy absolutely must be baptized first. Otherwise the boy will never develop a beard, but the girl will.

Mothers who are embarrassed when their babies cry during the ceremony shouldn't be. The cry is the voice of the evil spirit leaving him. There are still parishes where the godparents will even pinch a child to make him cry at his baptism if he shows no disposition to do so on his own.

Too-Tight Stretch Socks Can Cause Ingrown Nails

"Is it possible stretch socks are causing ingrown nails on my big toes? Never had any trouble before I began wearing stretch sox." (F.H.)

Answer—Yes, if they're tight. To prevent this trouble, stretch sox made with extra room for the toes should be worn.

DR. BRADY

"Is saccharin a depressant to the heart? How may one know if it is doing one any harm." (L.F.J)

Answer—In my opinion, any one may take daily up to five grains of saccharin (as a sweetener in place of sugar) with impunity. A quarter-grain tablet gives to tea or coffee the sweetening of a teaspoonful of sugar.

"Is too much meat bad for a child? I say it isn't—provided he has a well-balanced meal." (T.H.)

Answer—Too much of anything is bad for any one. Meat (including fowl, fish and eggs, which are the equivalent of meat in nutrition) once a day is not too much for a healthy child.

SKIM CLEARED

"Writing to thank you for the wonderful success I had with your lotion for pimples and blackheads. About three weeks after I began using it my skin was beautifully clear. Before I used it I had used many other lotions and creams without success. Thank you again." (H. A. C.)

Answer—Any reader may have the pamphlet Acne — Blackheads and Pimples if he or she will provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope. It contains recipes and directions for use of the lotion to which H.A.C refers.

As for creams—if that means this and that goo containing oil or fat, the young person with acne will generally be better off without such stuff. Neglect is better than overtreatment.

Gentle soap and water washing of the face occasionally, even twice daily if the skin is a little too oily, as young skins usually are, and the less handling or fingering of the skin the better. The less washing the better for the complexion, if the face isn't obviously dirty.

"Forcing the mother-to-be, who is in labor, to remain in bed with her feet strapped up high seems all wrong. She should be on her feet, to get the aid of gravity until the very last . . ." (E.S.E.)

Answer—Yes, certainly if she wishes. You describe 19th century obstetrics—the kind I was taught as an intern. That harness should be left in the museum.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Where Can Guy? Meet Nice Girl?'

I don't mean to be disrespectful but I'm looking for an intelligent answer. Where in this city does a guy 18 years old and over meet a nice girl? What functions are there for those between 18 and 21? And where would a person with some college meet a girl with equivalent education as a good beginning? If you're over 21, the only places a guy can go is a bar or one of the "pickup" joints in town, and who wants to get serious with a barfly?

'Why Not Similar Articles for Men?'

I've been reading the "How to Get and Keep a Husband" series and find it very enjoyable and helpful. However, it makes me wonder why there are so many more articles like this directed at the wife than at the husband. I bet of the marital advice articles, there isn't one in a hundred that tells men how to be good husbands. There would be a lot less need for advice to wives if more men did all they can to be good husbands. Most women would naturally be good wives if they all had good husbands.

'Working Is Good for Mothers-to-Be'

Why should anyone object to expectant mothers working? Most doctors agree that, except in unusual cases, it's better for the mother to be active at that time, and that there's no harm in her working right up until the last if she feels like it. Why should a girl go home and sit twiddling her thumbs when she'd be happier and healthier working?

In most schools, teachers who are expecting are allowed to work as long as they choose. Why, then, shouldn't women in business be given the same privilege? The only people who object are those who have a slightly unhealthy attitude toward the whole thing and look on it as something not quite nice. For most girls it's the most wonderful time of their lives and old prudes shouldn't be allowed to dictate what a girl can or can't do while she's expecting.

Seconds Inquiry About Negro Vote

GOP writes in and asks how come the Democrats can battle forever to keep the colored people under subjugation and yet the Negroes flock to the polls and vote Democratic.

Since that letter, a Democratic governor has decided to fight the Supreme Court and he is refusing to let colored children go to schools in his state with white children. But the next time there's an election, the Negroes will pour into the booths and vote for the Democrats, the party that wants to keep them under heel and in segregated districts.

I ask "how come" along with GOP.

Will Khruschev Institute Another One-Man Rule?

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Is Nikita Khrushchev trying to become another Stalin, or at least institute one-man rule under the guise of "collective leadership"?

He has toppled veteran bigwig Reds such as V. M. Molotov and Georgi Malenkov and assigned them to remote posts. For the long list of charges against them, Stalin would have shot them, but Khrushchev has not done this. One of Khrushchev's main complaints when he began debunking Stalin was the manner in which the late dictator executed thousands of men, many of them innocent.

Some experts on the Soviet Union always have maintained that the much - publicized "collective leadership" in the Red system cannot work, that in order to survive the Communist system needs a one-man dictatorship.

In a sense, Khrushchev violated "collective leadership," assuming some reports are true about what went on in the battle in the presidium last June. Five of the 11 presidium members were ousted after Khrushchev obtained a wider vote in the larger central committee. But before that it is known that since five of the 11 were against him, he, as the sixth and very interested member, voted for himself.

"Collective leadership" also failed in that the battle in the presidium was at the very top ranks of the Communist Party.

Khrushchev, since he fired five top men, certainly has been acting like a one-man government. But his power largely depends on the aid of two other men, Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov of the army and the security chief, Gen. Ivan Serov. The question yet to be answered by events is whether this collaboration will continue or whether the three men will maneuver against each other.

WARS WITH WRITERS

Belated publication of some of Khrushchev's summer speeches disclose that he now is warring with Soviet writers. Members of the Writers' Union began showing greater freedom after Khrushchev's de-Stalinization moves.

But Khrushchev now has told them to toe the line, that the press is the party's main ideological weapon and the party "cannot entrust organs to unreliable hands."

Some Soviet writers have claimed that their work was in the interests of the people and a guard against a return to Stalinism, or the cult of one-man rule.

★ ★ ★

"It is impossible," Khrushchev warned them, "to wish to go together with the people without sharing the views of the party and its political line. He who wants to be with the people always will be with the party."

That's the same argument Stalin used.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Trip as Prize on the Increase

Sales Conventions Build Up Pep

NEW YORK (AP) — Vacation days are over for most Americans but the season for sales conventions and trips as a reward for selling is just catching its second wind.

★ ★ ★

Full dress sales meetings come to around 2,500 a year. Add in the regional conventions and the pep conclaves of small companies and the number is estimated to be as high as 70,000, averaging out at a cost of $30,000 a year for big companies, although a convening of the corporate clan at Miami Beach may go as high as $220,000.

The total spent on national sales conventions is estimated as 150 million dollars a year.

TRIP AS PRIZE

Incentive selling with a trip as the prize is on the increase. The average trip is for a week to 10 days with wives usually included.

Some of these come high. Example: 700 appliance dealers in the general area of New York City vied for five months to increase sales 25 per cent.

The value of the prizes totalled $300,000, involving 300 free trips to Europe for winning salesmen and their wives.

One household appliance maker reports staging a 13 week promotion that sold 20 million dollars of its products. The cost of the campaign and the prize trips came to less than five per cent of the added sales volume.

★ ★ ★

How much industry spends each year on these incentive selling contests isn't known, but Martin B. Iger, who heads a convention-eering service, says it must run into millions of dollars.

AGENCY TAKES BRIBES

Agencies specializing in handling meetings for the big corporations say they can save money on the trips through experience and bulk buying. Also they shoulder all the arranging and scheduling—and all the gripes, such as poor rooms, tough steaks, bad liquor.

Iger says he once got a call from a man who had just returned from a Miami Beach corporate outing with the wrong suitcase. Even stronger than his wish to have his own luggage back was his urge to get rid of the one he'd picked up by mistake — it contained 50 live turtles, painted green and inscribed "Welcome to Miami."

Methodists Push Program for University in Alaska

Cash on hand for the Alaska Methodist University, to be established in Anchorage, has passed the $1,000,000 mark, H. Conwell Snoke, Philadelphia, coordinator of the university development program, has announced.

The announcement means that of the $2,000,000 that must be on hand in cash before any construction can start, more than half is on deposit either in Philadelphia or in Anchorage.

Snoke, who is also treasurer of the Methodist Division of National (home) Missions, said the actual receipts as of July 31 were $1,228,000. That amount included $980,000 in the division's Philadelphia office from Methodist churches and church groups across the United States and $248,000 in Anchorage from payments on pledges by Alaska residents.

★ ★ ★

The National Division is conducting the campaign for financial support across American Methodism, and a special university committee is handling the program in Alaska.

Snoke said that in cash, pledges and goals set by Methodist churches and Alaskans there is now a "total expectancy" of $3,128,000 for the university.

A special contribution to the university came in late July from about 5,000 Methodist laymen at the second National Conference of Methodist Men at Purdue University in Indiana. In a communion offering, the laymen gave $4,839 to buy books for the libaray. The Methodist Board of Lay Activities in Chicago has recommended library books as a financial project for about 10,000 Methodist Men clubs through the country.

The Alaska Methodist University is to be the first four-year, church-related liberal arts college for the territory. The president of the newly-organized board of trustees is Bishop A. Raymond Grant, Methodist bishop of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Alaska.

Church Federation Aids People New to Chicago

New residents in Chicago's vast metropolitan area now have "friends in court" at headquarters of the Greater Chicago Federation of Churches.

★ ★ ★

The newly arrived Puerto Rican family, the Indian accustomed to life on the reservation and the Chinese and Negro family looking for a place to live are taken in hand by members of the federation's Newcomers' Commission, a unit of its Department of Social Welfare.

Through this commission," declared the Rev. James S. Caskey, its chairman, "Chicago's churches are making a major effort to give resettlement assistance, encourage church membership and, in general, to help the new arrival adjust to city life."

The needs of Chicago's 100,000 Mexicans and Puerto Ricans are the concern of the department's newly organized Latin-American Committee, Caskey said.

Members of this group have inaugurated a "program caravan" to help make their needs known in the churches.

They give special attention to problems of credit buying and rentals and also work for passage of bills in the state legislature aimed at improving living and working conditions for the newcomers.

"Perhaps more than any others, the Indians need our help and understanding," Caskey said, adding: "The department's Joint Indian Committee is always busy and the work of the Refugee Committee never ceases."

St. Luke's Plans Special Meeting of Congregation

Following the regular morning service of worship tomorrow at St. Luke's Methodist Church, a special congregational meeting will be held. According to Rev. Kenneth Stephens, pastor, the building and expansion committee will present the plans and sketches of the proposed new building.

★ ★ ★

The committee under the chairmanship of Fred Feekart, includes Mrs. Ray Warren, building fund treasurer; Frank Garvey, local church lay leader; Russell Poole, chairman of the official board; Beecher Rossman, trustee, and Robert Carfier.

★ ★ ★

Following a review and discussion of the building plans, a financial plan will also be presented for consideration.

Miners Hear Gospel Message

Bible Society Members Find Uranium Rush Is New Field for God

In the "four corners" area where Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Utah meet, there has been a great influx of people lured by the discovery of uranium. Most of these people live in trailers near the established cities of the region.

During the summer, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Palm, honored and courageous distributors for the American Bible Society's Rocky Mountain District, have again performed their meticulous task of calling on every family they could reach.

With the cooperation of local ministerial groups they sold or, where needed, gave Bibles and encouraged people to read them and go to the church of their choice.

Because of the constant shifting of population it is almost a new group that must be visited each year. Because of the fickleness of mining and the elusiveness of the wealth they seek, the people are often disappointed and disheartened souls who more than ever need the changeless Word.

Last year a photographer of a national magazine accompanied Mr. Palm through a day's work.

The kindness and patience of the evangelist so impressed the photographer that, at the end of the day, he asked Mr. Palm for a Bible for his little daughter.

Outdoor Shrine Blessing Given

Feast of Immaculate Heart of Mary Observed at Trenton, N.J.

TRENTON, New Jersey —The blessing of an outdoor shrine to Our Lady of Fatima by the Bishop of Trenton, and an address by the Founder of the Blue Army of Our Lady of Fatima, marked the observance of the Feast of the Immaculate Heart of Mary here last night.

The Most Rev. George W. Ahr, Bishop of Trenton, presided over the ceremonies in which he personally blessed the new shrine outside the Church of the Holy Cross, and gave Solemn Benediction inside the Church.

Principal speaker was Rt. Ev. Msgr. Harold V. Colgan of Plainfield, New Jersey, the Blue Army Founder.

A procession including clergy, parish societies and Blue Army Delegates from the United States and Canada, went into the Church for recitation of the Rosary, talks by the pastor, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Francis A. Kasprowicz and Msgr. Colgan, and Solemn Benediction.

"Putting into one's life the program of Our Lady of Fatima" was described by Monsignor Colgan as a great devotion to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

NAM Sponsors Advisory Group to Aid Churches

NEW YORK — To support and accelerate the growing cooperation between business and religious leaders in matters of community betterment, the National Association of Manufacturers has formed a Clergy-Industry Relations Advisory Committee composed of 17 industrial executives from every section of the country.

The committee, representative of the three major faiths, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish, is headed by R. E. Salvati, president of the Island Creek Coal Company, of Huntington, W. Va., who is a director and regional vice president of the NAM.

Formation of the committee, the NAM announced, is another step in its continuing program to foster broader recognition of the many mutual community interests of business and religious leaders. The first meeting of the new committee will be held on September 18 in Hot Springs, Va.

Ask, and it shall be given you; seek and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you.

For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

Sunday Morning Services Held Next to Mayflower II

Early Sunday morning, Aug. 11, against the background of New York's mighty skyscrapers more than 100 persons stood on a barge alongside the little "Mayflower II." In his booming voice, Capt Allan Villiers, master of the replica of the Pilgrim ship, led a responsive reading of the 103rd Psalm and the first of a unique series of Sunday worship services was launched.

★ ★ ★

After the hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers," the Rev. Dan M. Pottr spoke of the debt yet to be paid to the Pilgrims.

★ ★ ★

Potter is executive secretary of the Protestant Council of the City of New York which is sponsoring the services at the 41st Street pier where the little barque is moored.

"This debt will not be paid," ★ ★ ★ Potter declared, "until every American has the unrestricted opportunity to be a first-class citizen, regardless of race, creed, color or economic status."

Paying tribute to the Pilgrims, Potter said: "Theirs was a bold venture conceived in the faith that God had called them to build a new nation dedicated to religious freedom, civil liberty, human dignity and high moral character under the guidance of God."

★ ★ ★

The Sunday morning services alongside the "Mayflower II" will be held during the remainder of the summer, weather permitting, Capt. Villiers announced.

Church Membership Reaches New Peak

NEW YORK — New peak levels in church membership of all faiths have been announced by the National Council of Churches.

The nation's only annual compilation of statistics of all faiths shows that church and synagogue membership rolls increased by 3 per cent during 1956 — a gain nearly twice that of the estimated 1.7 per cent population rise for the year.

The record - breaking total for all faiths is 103,224,954 — up slightly more than 3,000,000 over the previous year. This means that 62 out of every 100 Americans of all ages are members of a church or synagogue.

The figure a century ago was only 20 out of every 100. In the last generation span of 30 years, church membership has doubled, while population has risen 40 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Other significant gains in the nation's religious life include new highs in:

Sunday School enrollments — up 2.5 per cent for a new round figure total of 40,000,000.

Local congregations — an increase of 3,198 for a total of 308647.

Pastors with charges — at a new high of 235,100, a notable gain of 13,000 over the previous year.

Per capita contributions — $54. an increase of 8 per cent.

New church construction — at a new peak of $775,000,000, topping the previous year's high by $40,000,000.

BREAKDOWN

A breakdown of membership figures by major faiths shows there are now 60,148,980 Protestants in the U. S. A., an increase of 1,700,000 over 1955 — 34,563,851 Roman Catholics, up 1,167,204 — 5,500,000 Jews, the same as reported the previous year — and 2,598,055 Eastern Orthodox communicants, up 212,000.

★ ★ ★

The major religious bodies have developed in about the same relationship to each other during the last 50 years. Thirty years ago, 27 per cent of Americans were Protestant — today the figure is 35.9 per cent. Roman Catholics were 16 per cent of the population a generation ago—today they represent 20.7 per cent.

The membership count was based on a compilation of 258 church bodies. The one notable body not reporting was the Church of Christ Scientist. A regulation of this church forbids "the numbering of people and reporting such statistics for publication."

While the total of 258 separate church bodies in the report seems high, the large majority of them have a small membership. Eighty-two of these groups account for over 98 per cent of church membership — or over 101,500,000.

The Sunday School "boom" apparently continues at its fast post-war pace. Enrollments and the number of church schools have never been higher. Nearly 37,000,000 Americans, mostly youngsters, are enrolled in classes being taught or led by some 3,000,000 teachers and other religious education workers.

Schools to accommodate the swelling ranks of Sunday School students now number 207,606 — up about 6,000 over the previous year.

Despite the record - breaking millions being spent on church construction, many church school plants are still crowded as more and more enrollees pour in. Church statisticians predict that with continuing prosperity church construction will continue to boom, with next year's total topping the $800,000,000 mark.

American in Free Malaya Must Adapt, Be Helpful

What are the prospects for an American, particularly an American missionary, in a land that has just been granted political freedom after more than a century of colonial status?

An answer to this question from the missionary viewpoint has been given by the Rev. Robert F. Lundy, Pulaski, Va., a Methodist missionary currently serving in Quantan, Malaya. A journalist as well as an evangelist, Rev. Lundy wrote recently of what American missionaries may expect when Malaya gains its independence from Britain August 31. His dispatch, in part:

"On August 31, Malaya will go all-out in celebrating 'Merdeka' — independence from the British. We will be celebrating with her. So will the British, in fact. The date has been set for a year and a half. The fulfillment of this purpose has never been in doubt since January of 1956.

"There are approximately 300 Americans in this land of more than six million people. There are as many more in the city of Singapore, which has a different political administration. None of us are 'government servants' and therefore we will not be 'Malayanized,' at least for the present.

"American oil and rubber companies are turning over responsible jobs to people who have made Malaya their home. The American Government will be represented in the new Malaya by personnel of ambassadorial rank, and Malaya will apply for membership in the United Nations.

"Then there are assosrted missionaries — Methodist, Baptist, Lutheran, Independent. The day of the Christian missionary is by no means over in Malaya. But the day of adaptation to changing conditions has been here for two or three years. The missionary himself must be adaptable—and dispensable, if need be.

"If anti-Western feeling does come with national independence, it will not be a different pattern from what has prevailed in Burma, Indonesia, and the Philippines in the last ten years, to a degree.

★ ★ ★

"One of our Methodist leaders has put it this way: 'We are here to preach Christ, to witness to our faith to all the people of Malaya. . . When the disciples asked Jesus about the end of the world, he replied that he did not know and that was not his concern, nor theirs. Their responsibility was to continue to do God's will where they were. . .The wise farmer continues to sun his rice while the sky is clear. . .It may be that the strong winds of nationalism will blow us out of our quiet harbor and drive us across many a hidden reef into waters where the opportunities are even greater than we know now. Pray God that it may be so!"

Youth Rally Scheduled at Christian Temple

The Christian Temple on Auburn avenue will hold a youth rally next Saturday beginning at 7:45 p.m. Featured on the program will be radio, television and recording artists Ken Apple and the Singing Star Trio.

The trio, formerly of Huntsville, Ala., has been featured by ministers and promoters of revivals, and has appeared in concerts and all-night "singspirations" throughout the United States.

Evangelist From Africa to Speak on Church Work

Evangelist E. C. Severe of Nyasaland, British Central Africa will be the speaker this week-end at the Church of Christ, 87 Lafayette Street.

The young African, who is an evangelist of the church, has only recently arrived in this country. He expects to remain about four more months. In his own country, he is a preacher and educator.

★ ★ ★

Severe will speak on African customs and his work with the Church of Christ in his homeland. Sunday morning's talk will be "Be Ye Followers of Christ". He speaks six native dialects in addition to English.

His evangelistic program has been under the direction of the Churches of Christ in the states. In 1952 these churches sent Evangelist Paul Nichols and his wife to Nyasaland as a missionary. While there, Severe was his interpreter.

Severe is in the United States to further train himself in the work of the Church of Christ. On his arrival July 4, he attended a camp meeting at Sulphur, Okla., and spoke before some 1,000 people. Since then he has visited Texas, Arkansas, Illinois, Missouri and Indiana.

E. C. SEVERE

Evangelist Severe says he is enjoying his visit with the churches in the states and finds "the people here hospitable and very likable."

He will speak this evening at 7:30 and tomorrow at 10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

'Remonstrance' Signers Put Religious Freedom Into Living Terms

Churches of all denominations across America are noting this year the 300th anniversary of the Flushing (Long Island, N. Y.) (Remonstrance," an historic statement of religious freedom, and regarded as one of the "forerunners" of the "Bill of Rights" incorporated in the American Coonstitution 134 years later.

The "Remonstrance" was signed by 29 simple and otherwise unknown residents of Flushing (five of them could sign only by mark) protesting the decree of Dutch Governor Peter Stuyvesant forbidding Quakers to preach in the town, and forbidding the inhabitants from entertaining them in their homes.

★ ★ ★

The signers reminded the Governor that the Town's "patent" granted religious freedom and freedom of conscience. They told the Governor their intent to extend that freedom to Quaker and all "other sons of Adam . . .in whatsoever form, name, or title he appears in"; and that they would not "lay violent hands upon them . . . punish, banish or persecute them . . .but give them free egress and regress into our town and houses."

The signers were not themselves Quakers, but some of them were jailed or otherwise punished for signing the "Remonstrance."

It was seven years later when the issue was settled; but not before John Bowne — a convert to the Quaker faith who was arrested and banished for permitting services in his kitchen — went to Holland and pleaded his case there.

★ ★ ★

Now there is in Flushing a noted Quaker meetinghouse, and also a Dutch Reformed Church — the later the denomination of Stuyvestant.

On October 10, 1957, a tablet to the memory of these 29 signers will be erected at the "Bowne House" (built in 1661) now maintained as a shrine to religious liberty.

The New York and Flushing Quaker meetings will present the tablet and it will be accepted — on behalf of the Bowne House Historical Society—by the minister of the Dutch Reformed Church. Judge Charles S. Colden, of Whitestone, L. I., is president of the Society.

He will fill the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Benjamin A. Bohn, who is on vacation.

Church services are being held in Monteith School on Crescent Lake near Hatchery Roads, until the new church building is erected.

Magazine Series Opens With Story on Methodists

NEW YORK — The Methodists are being featured as the "great doers of U. S. Protestantism" in the first of a series of articles on "The Story of Religions in America" which will appear in a national magazine.

The largest single Protestant body in America, with a membership of 10,729,936, the Methodists are "pioneers in the crusades for such social ideals as world peace, racial equality, the rights of labor and Christian unity," the magazine reports.

According to the author of the series, "They sparked the movements for national prohibition and for woman suffrage, against the sweatshop and child labor . . . helped immeasurably to create a climate of American public opinion favorable to the United Nations."

In future issues the magazine will describe, among others, the development of the Catholic, Mormon and Lutheran churches in America.

Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

New York Done as Top Port?

Fenn College Bureau Sees Decentralization of Shipping to Lake Erie

CLEVELAND (INS) — The Fenn College Bureau of Business Research for the Council of Lake Erie Ports predicts that Chicago and Cleveland will replace New York as the shipping center of the world with completion of the St. Lawrence seaway.

The Fenn analysts came to this conclusion from replies to a questionnaire on shipping practices sent to some 2,000 exporting and importing firms in the Lake Erie region and to Latin America.

★ ★ ★

A decentralization of shipping activities now centered in the East and Gulf Coasts to ports along Lake Erie is forecast in the study.

The research group based it conclusions on the following comments:

"Companies in Cleveland and the surrounding area do a considerable export business, particularly in electrical equipment, machinery, machine tools and supplies — their major products.

"In addition, a substantial number of firms in the Lake Erie region operate foreign factories or warehouses which are scattered through 36 countries or political subdivisions.

"The Great Lakes region originates more export to Latin America than the New York-Philadelphia areas."

★ ★ ★

The study shows, however, that actual realization of this forecast is contingent upon two factors. One is the ingrained shipping habits of exporters and importers, who turn to New York for such services as banks, foreign departments, steamship agents, freight forwarders and custom brokers.

The other is the need for a comprehensive educational program to acquaint companies with the likely impact of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold.

Confident Living

Manila Saw Hate at Work; Realists Want It No More

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

DR. PEALE

I sat on the broad, old style veranda of the Army and Navy Club in Manila gazing into the wonder of a Philippine sunset. Some say that sunsets in Manila are among the most beautiful in the world. They shoot like fingers of fire into the heavens.

There in the gathering twilight loomed Bataan and a bit to the left of it that famous little island, forever enshrined in American and Filipino history, called Corregidor. Sipping an ice cold Dyap, a delicious Filipino drink (non-alcoholic in my case), we listened to my friend Howard Cavender, a charming raconteur, as he thrilled us with stories of war-torn Manila.

★ ★ ★

Howard's father, a long-time respected American businessman in these islands, was a major under MacArthur. Captured at the fall of Bataan, he took the death march and went down in a bombed prison ship off Cebu. Howard Junior, in college in the States when war came, recieved only one letter from his father. Then silence. The younger man, many months later, came ashore in the second wave at Leyte. He followed the trail of his father until finally he stood gazing at the mast tops of the older man's tomb rising out of the waters. "There we left him," he said simply.

Across the bay we could trace the long, hard road they walked in the burning heat, many dying along the way. On this still summer evening one could almost see their silhouettes in the mystic twilight. Indeed they shall ever walk into a glory greater than any earthly sunset.

Howard took me to the United States Military Cemetery at Fort McKinley. Here in a beautifully landscaped area where the scent of flowers fills the air, the Stars and Stripes fly over the graves of 17,180 Americans of all races and creeds. Row after row of white crosses with an occasional Star of David mark their resting places. There are many crosses upon which there is no name, but rather this deeply moving inscription: "Here rests in honored glory a comrade in arms known only to God."

★ ★ ★

"But," I thought, "back home they are still known and will ever be missed by loving hearts who know not where they rest." But I can say to you that if your son is here at Manila or in any of the far-flung God's acres under the American flag, he sleeps amidst beauty and peace.

TRAGEDY TO FORGET

What a tragedy if in her prosperity and ease America should ever forget these men! And what an even greater tragedy if we should ever forget the fact that in a moment when least expected a vast attack might be made upon our freedom. Never forget also that a large part of the world is pledged to the destruction of democratic ideals.

Of course, and it's been said so often as, perhaps, to be trite, our unforgetfulness must take the form of resolution that war shall never be again. The statement may be trite, but the fact is the greatest problem of mankind today. The keeping of the peace is the only hope of any future for all of us.

And how may world peace be assured? Let's face it, there is only one way; a new spirit of understanding, respect and love among men.

I worshipped in the Union Congregational Church of Honolulu on a sunkissed Sunday morning. The choir was singing a glorious anthem of praise to God. High above the altar I read, "Love never faileth." Set out by themselves in this dramatic way those words drive the audacious message into the mind. "But is it really so?" one asks. And even then I saw a demonstration in the choir, for there, singing together were Japanese, Chinese, native Filipino, Negro and white, all children of Him who said, "Little children, love one another."

★ ★ ★

In Manila I spoke to a huge crowd, over 90 per cent of which were Filipino. It was one of the most moving experiences of all my speaking and lecturing. Looking out over that sea of brown faces I was strangely moved. How appealing these people are and how responsive! The spirit was there. My friends, Mr. Leonard Padilla and Dr. Gumercindo Garcia, one a business man, the other a physician, told me of the amazing spiritual movement among these people and the spectacular growth of the church.

"How do they feel about the Japanese?" I asked, "any ill will?"

I shall not forget their answer, "Only love as Christ teaches it can save the world."

These men are realists. They know personally what war is. They learned the hard way. They saw what hate did and they want no more of it. They believe in love—tough, man-sized love. They believe that love will work. If we don't want another and worse tragedy, we had better write those dynamic words large in contemporary history, "Love never faileth."

Heavy Docket Awaits Court

List 938 Civil Cases and 160 Criminal for New Term Monday

There'll be 938 civil cases ready for trial as Circuit Court opens its fall session Monday.

The number of ready cases is about five times as large as the number Assignment Clerk Richard C. Smith thinks there's time to try this session.

The county's four circuit judges will have their hands full hearing from 150 to 200 cases, Smith says.

Added to the load are the 140 to 160 criminal cases expected to be settled by juries this fall.

But the press of cases is nothing new. It's about the same this year as last, said Smith.

In 332 of the civil cases jury trials have been requested. In non-jury trials, where the judge makes the final decision, 200 of the cases represent suits in law and 406 are suits in chancery, mostly divorces.

Non-jury trials will start Monday. The first jury panels will be selected a week from Monday.

Arctic Runway of Ice Simply 'Ironed Out'

POINT BARROW, Alaska — United States Eighth Air Force engineers recently constructed a runway in which materials were no problem. It was on Fletcher's Island in the Arctic Ocean, only 100 miles from the North Pole.

The Air Force men simply "ironed out" a 5,000-foot runway of ice by spreading tarpaulins over the rough ice and using hot-air generators to blow warm air on them. As fast as the ice melted, the canvas and the generators were moved and the water refroze into a level surface.

British Fussing Over New Hotel

Skyscraper Building to Rise in Swank Area in Heart of London

LONDON (INS) — The British, who generally make a fuss when an historic antiquated building is about to be torn down, are showing unusual excitement in a proposed new building for the heart of London.

This project is for the construction in swank Park Lane of a first-class skyscraper hotel with 700 bedrooms, public rooms, restaurant, and banqueting facilities, and parking space for about 250 cars.

The central feature would be a crescent-shaped tower of 34 stories and a height of 378 feet. Interest is high, not just because London is desperately short of hotels for the tourist trade, but because the new hotel would be the tallest structure in London and the nation's first real sky-scraper.

The British, of course, refer to any building over 10 stories as a sky-scraper but there are few real giants in Britain's capital city. The tallest building is St. Paul's Cathedral, which soars 365 feet into the sky. The new hotel's height would exceed that of the proposed Shell offices on the South Bank of the Thames River near Waterloo Station, which, with 25 stories and a height of 340 feet, was to be the tallest fully-occupied building in the capital.

The promoters of the project are New City Properties Ltd., and Hilton Hotels International.

Hilton will put up part of the money and will operate the hotel on a profit-sharing basis when it is completed.

The lower part of the hotel would consist of two stories forming a base 35 feet high. This would accommodate dining rooms and a ballroom.

Set back 50 feet from the Park Lane frontage overlooking Hyde Park, the tower would rise 32 stories above the level of the base. The curved shape of the tower—to lessen the sense of massiveness—would add to the frontage for bedrooms, giving it a length of 210 feet on a site of 178 feet.

Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and He shall lift you up.

New Arabian Nights Tale

Modern City Rises in Iraq

WASHIGTON — If Scheherazade were still spinning Arabian Nights tales, she could find new themes in deeds of city planners, architects, and engineers who are lifting the face of old Baghdad.

★ ★ ★

Plots for a thousand-and-one stories of steel and brick are outlined in blueprints of the Iraq Development Board, whose long-term, nation-wide plans include one to expand and modernize the city.

★ ★ ★

Projects include a new parliament house, royal palace, a civic center, palm-fringed suburbs, schools, hospitals, offices, and factories. Hundreds of houses are to be torn down, streets recut, drainage and sewage systems installed, and more bridges thrown over the Tigris.

★ ★ ★

Where is the money coming from? The national pocketbook bulges with oil royalties allocated to development by law. For Iraq is one of the Near East desert lands that makes up in oil what it lacks in water.

WESTERN INFLUENCE

Among pressures behind Baghdad's ambitious building is the problem of increasing population.

★ ★ ★

Western influence, especially American, is evident everywhere. Amid the cluttered bazaars and small cafes are shops displaying canned supermarket delicacies, TV sets, electrical appliances, and deluxe cameras. Hollywood movies are popular.

★ ★ ★

At crowded intersections, roomy American cars pass small European sports models and red, double-decker buses. Streamlined, air-conditioned hotels and modernistic apartments rise beside dilapidated shack colonies and Arab mansions whose walls hide a bustling secret life.

★ ★ ★

One of the striking contrasts that mark today's changing scene is the spectacle of the world's latest aircraft swooping down to Baghdad's airport over tents of nomad tribesmen who follow medieval ways.

On the Tigris, steel arches of modern bridges frame ancient, bowl-shaped, reed boats. Towers and spheres of modern oil refineries have joined the mosque-and-minaret skyline of the city of Harun al-Rashid.

Akron Parents Ask Trial Plan

Raise Cash for French Class in Grade School; Board Members Object

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — When the parents got together and offered to put up the money themselves for a trial course in French at an elementary school here, how could the school board say no?

The board did not turn them down, but there was considerable objection before the program was approved for Fairlawn School.

★ ★ ★

Board members objected at first because of the 'general philosophy involved," as Robert Mohler put it.

Mohler said he "shuddered at the idea that education may be based on the ability of parents to pay."

Spokesmen for the Fairlawn PTA, which has promised to collect a minimum of $4,200—about $8 per family for the year—say it is not an attempt to bring "special privileges to any one school."

School officials have been asked to study the trial program and investigate the possibilities of introducing language studies in all elementary schools.

★ ★ ★

Asst. School Supt. Albert J. Dillehay said he made a survey recently of 134 Ohio elementary schools and that of 129 schools which responded only 11 offered "some, not much" instruction in foreign languages at the grade school level.

School officials believe Fairlawn will be the first elementary school in Ohio to offer a foreign language throughout the grades.

Denver Wars on Bad Checks

Merchants Form Group to Crack Down Hard on 'Paper Hangers'

DENVER (INS) — Denver merchants, faced with a 30 per cent increase in bad check passing, have decided to crack down hard on both professional and amateur "paper hangers."

Under the sponsorship of the Denver-area Better Business Bureau, a special Merchants Information Bureau, Inc., has been established to educate merchants, collect short checks and prosecute check passers.

To handle the job, Regis Colasanti, a supermarket security officer, was picked because of his wide background in dealing with check passers.

The biggest problem, said Colasanti, is the "weekend borrower" who writes a short check to tide him over until he gets a paycheck in the bank.

Colasanti estimated 65 per cent of all check passers are amateurs who do not really intend to commit fraud.

Businessmen hope to save at least something of the two and a half million dollars lost each year to the check artists.

Sterns Deny Spying for Reds

Claim That They Fled United States Because of Persecution

VIENNA (AP)—Alfred and Martha Dodd Stern have denied being Communist spies, declaring they fled the United States because they were persecuted.

The couple said yesterday they had been threatened and falsely accused because they were "progressive-minded people."

★ ★ ★

Their passports were taken from them, their telephones were tapped and U.S. "secret police" interferred with their mail, the Sterns said in a statement issued in Prague. It was given to reporters here by the official Czechoslovak news agency, CTK.

★ ★ ★

The Sterns also termed false the accusations of FBI counterspy Boris Morros, who told a congressional committee they were spies.

They said they are appealing to the U.S. Supreme Court a $50,000 fine in absentia ordered by a U.S. district judge in New York after they failed to answer a subpoena from a federal espionage grand jury.

The subpoena was sent to them after they went from the United States to Mexico. The Sterns charged Mexican police persecuted them on U.S. orders.

★ ★ ★

"Because we had enough of persecution we legally arranged to become Paraguayan citizens and left for Europe," their statement said. The couple did not disclose their future plans.

Mrs. Stern is the daughter of the late William E. Dodd, U.S. ambassador to Germany in the 1930s. Her husband formerly was a New York stockbroker.

Via St. Lawrence Seaway Next Spring

State Grains May Move to Foreign Ports

LANSING (AP)—A grain marketing expert said today that grains sowed in Michigan soil next spring may move to foreign lands via the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Fred J. Watts Jr. of Chicago, general manager of the Illinois Grain Corp., relied in his prediction on a report of progress on seaway construction by city of Chicago officials. They foresaw movement of first traffic in the spring of 1959.

TIME MOVING

"Time moves fast and it behooves us to carefully consider where, if any place, our cooperatives fit into the scheme of things to come," Watts said in a talk prepared for the annual luncheon of the Michigan Elevator Exchange.

He said transportation cost advantages resulting from seaway completion promises to attract to the water route grain from the entire Central Plains area above an east-west line about at the Ohio River.

"It's historic," Watts said, "that water movement of grain has had a terrific impact on area tributary to water."

He said Illinois grain producers stood to profit by an average of five cents a bushel by reason of the seaway. It is expected to be that much cheaper than shipping by rail, he said.

Watts, analyzing recent U. S. grain export statistics, said the greatest seaway potential undoubtedly would be in corn.

Michigan, Illinois, Iowa and Indiana this year will produce about one and one half billion bushels of corn as compared with 150 million bushels of wheat and 200,000 bushels of soybeans, he said.

★ ★ ★

He suggested that Michigan and the other three states lie in a "corn bowl" rather than a "bread basket."

"I think it becomes rather obvious that we will be specializing in corn exports—if we are to be in the business at all," Watts said.

"I certainly don't want to draw the line and say we won't be able to export wheat, but I think it's fairly safe to say that the Gulf ports and the Atlantic gateways are not going to give up their present advantage in exporting wheat without a struggle."

LIKES CHICAGO

As to which of the Great Lakes ports appears destined to be the hub for handling of seaway grain tonnage, the choice of Watts was Chicago.

★ ★ ★

"Many think that Toledo with its location close to production in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana can take a leading role in seaway activity," he said.

"I don't doubt that it can take some part in the export activity, but Chicago does have a factor or two in its favor.

"First, it's historic that major ports usually develop at the ends of the line in long distance movements; intermediate points tend to get lost in the shuffle."

★ ★ ★

He said Chicago will be the extreme western terminus of the seaway, is the focal point of a great network of railroads and has a grain storage capacity of nearly 80 million bushels.

It has a unique advantage in being situated at the juncture of the inland waterway system and the seaway, and will have a much larger tributary area than any other port.

Watts cautioned that potential bottlenecks will prevent full exploitation of seaway advantages, probably for years. As an example, he said the Welland Canal between Buffalo and Toronto will be a limiting factor on increased tonnage.

★ ★ ★

"The canal will be deepened to accommodate deep draft vessels but expansion of canal facilities to match facilities of the seaway may be some time away," he said.

Smallest Child Ever Born Alive, Dead in Iowa

CLARION, Iowa (AP) — An estimated 10 to 12 ounce baby—perhaps the smallest child on record born alive—died early today nearly 24 hours after it was born.

★ ★ ★

The baby girl was born 4½ months prematurely to Mrs. Merrill Hanson, 22, of Goldfield, about 2 a.m. yesterday. Mrs. Hanson, mother of a two-year-old son, was reported doing fine, a hospital spokesmen here said.

Dr. D. A. Harding of Eagle Grove, Mrs. Hanson's physician, estimated the baby's weight at birth. He said the baby was too small to weigh on a scale. The child was about 11 inches long, he said.

The doctor said the baby was oberhas⅝

American Medical Assn. records show the smallest baby was Jacqueline Jean Benson of Chicago. She was three months premature and weighed an estimated 12 ounces when born Jan. 14, 1936.

Freed From Their Jail

JACKSON, Ky. (AP) — The residents of Jail Street don't have to put up with all the wisecracks any more. The city council, bowing to long-time criticism of the name, changed it to Brown Street in honor of a former mayor.

Channel Charted in the Far North

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 50-foot channel has been surveyed through Bellot Strait at the northern tip of the American continent, establishing an escape route eastward for ships which otherwise might be trapped by Arctic icepacks.

★ ★ ★

The survey, disclosed by the Navy yesterday, was conducted by three U.S. Coast Guard vessels led by a Canadian patrol ship, the Labrador. Bellot Strait separates Boothia peninsula on the mainland from Somerset Island. Boothia peninsula is the northernmost point of the American mainland.

Vice Adm. John M. Will, who observed the vessels from a Navy plane, said the route was needed to prevent ships from being locked in the icepacks that close in on the northern shores of Alaska and Canada.

Soviet Jet Liner Leaves U. S. on Return Trip

MCGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP)—A sleek Russian jet airliner took off early today on the return flight to Moscow.

The powerful two-engine craft was flown by a Russian crew but also carried the three American fliers who assisted the Russians on the last leg of their flight to the United States earlier this week.

An Air Force spokesman said the Americans will leave the craft at Goose Bay, Labrador, the first stopover for refueling.

The TU104 plane, the pride of the Russian civil air fleet, landed here Wednesday night after completing the 5,570-mile flight, including several stopovers for refueling, in 21 hours and 54 minutes.

The plane carried 40 passengers, mostly members of the Russian delegation to the United Nations.

The Changing Times

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Martha Hoffman told police she rented a furnished apartment here to a couple. She later visited her tenants. They were gone. So were the mattress, refrigerator, dinette set, washer, pots, pans and dishes, she said. Now she has an unfurnished apartment for rent.

Planning in Detroit Held Up by Mayor

MACKINAC ISLAND (INS) — Mayor Cobo told delegates to the Michigan Municipal League convention yesterday he was offering Detroit as a model for the nationwide effort to prepare cities for the future.

He said Detroit's $688,000,000 public improvement program has paid $105,000,000 in dividends — investment by private capital in building projects.

Cobo stated: "Other cities that are rebuilding come to us for a comprehensive and complete program."

Playboy Explains How He Got Rid of Millions

By EARL WILSON

BUENOS AIRES—Famous playboy "Macoco" spent $2,000,000 on wives and other kinds of females, but he declares, at 55, he'd do it again—in fact, he plans to do it again as soon as he gets some more pesos.

WILSON

"Weren't your wives pretty expensive?" I asked Macoco, one-time husband of Kay Williams, now Mrs. Clark Gable, when I saw him here.

"No, not so much," grinned the robust Argentinian.

"I don't think I spent as much on wives as when I lived alone," added Martin de Alzaga Unzue, amiably. "I think you spend more single.

★ ★ ★

"With me," he explained, "I spend a little and it shows a lot. Some fellows will spend 10 times as much as I do on some old hag and it won't show as much as me spending on some beautiful girl."

Don't you regret not saving some of that money?" I asked.

He idly picked up a cheesecake magazine. "Suppose I had put aside a little money. Peron would have left me with $5,000. I can make that much," he shrugged, "in one deal alone."

MACOCO

Now he's "free-lancing" — both in business and in love.

Macoco's many scrapbooks and albums show such beauties as Carole Lombard and Joan Bennett as young girls —but his all-time favorite was and is Kay Williams, who divorced him in 1943 after nine months of considerably interrupted bliss in Hollywood and New York.

"We're friends now," he said. "I got over that torch in about one year.

★ ★ ★

"Here," he said, "is a picture of a girl when I met her . . . when we almost got married . . . and when she got fat.

"Women change a lot you know," he nodded. "But we men change a lot too; maybe we change more!"

He patted his stomach which is still well under control and whistled something. "I had better make my pesos and get back to America real fast," he decided, "or all the girls I know will be a bunch of old hags."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP IN NEW YORK . . .

Gag writer Jay Burton gives Kim Novak a violet scarf—for luck—before she starts a movie. When he forgot recently she wired him frantically, "Where's my scarf?" . . . Ruth St. Denis, former dance great, will write her memoirs; she has diaries covering the past 50 years . . . Actress Susan Strasberg gets a chance, finally, to wear fancy gowns onstage in her next show, with Helen Hayes.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Movie business must be pretty bad, says Allen Swift. He phoned the local theater to learn what time the show started. "Well," asked the manager, "what time can you make it?" . . . That's earl, brother.

One was reported in Commerce Township; the other in Royal Oak.

To date this year, 12 cases have been reported in the county, as compared to 11 the same time last year.

Hollywood Headlines

TV Hoping 'New Year' Won't Be Another 'Dud'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—As far as television is concerned, this is the start of the new year.

But will it be a happy one? If it's anything like last year, the answer is no. What a dud that one was! Except for some topnotch dramas on Playhouse 90 and a few other shows, the 1956-57 season will go down in TV history as the year the money-hungry contest winners pushed entertainment aside.

★ ★ ★

So what's ahead for 1957-58? Step right up while I gaze into my crystal TV tube.

Here are my predictions:

The paucity of comedy shows will prove a boon to the ratings of Red Skelton, Danny Thomas, George Gobel, Phil Silvers and the few remaining TV funnymen.

Steve Allen will overtake Ed Sullivan in the ratings because Allen offers a funnier show, while comedy has always been Sullivan's short suit.

★ ★ ★

NBC's ailing "Tonight" show will give up the ghost, torpedoed by the late, late movie.

The spectaculars on all networks will continue to net the biggest audiences, proving that viewers crave an occasional dessert to go with their steady diet.

Lucille Ball will again draw her stratospheric ratings with the stretched-out version of "I Love Lucy" five times yearly.

Groucho Marx will have trouble with competition from the new "Mark of Zorro" show.

★ ★ ★

The public will weary of the flood of singing emcees on TV, but Frank Sinatra's one who will be among the most popular new entries.

The No. 1 TV show of the nation will be—

Oops, the crystal tube grows a bit smoggy here. I'll have that prediction for you at a later date, perhaps next June.

Mental Patients Getting Drugs

Report Early Evidence Shows Agents Could Aid Healthy Humans

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—The International Congress for Psychiatry was told today that drugs may help make man realize some of his "tremendous capacities that lie dormant."

Dr. Nathan S. Kline, director of research of the Rockland State Hospital, Orangeburg, N. Y., was reporting on the drug treatment of schizophrenia, one of the most serious mental diseases.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Kline said that drug treatment, first applied in the United States in 1953 and now in use throughout the world, has brought about revolutionary changes in the care of mental patients.

He said there also was preliminary evidence that the capacity of the healthy human individual can be increased by drugs.

"At the present time, most humans are ambling along at probably no more than five or six per cent of their possible efficiency and perhaps biochemical and pharmaceutical agents will point the way to realizing some of the capacities that lie dormant in us," Dr. Kline said.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Kline said impressive results have been achieved with the new energizer drug treatment of the depressed, lethargic type of schizophrenic patient. This treatment was first reported in the United States last April.

This type of patient, making up more than half of all schizophrenic cases, did not respond to the tranquilizer drugs.

The energizer therapy is now on the verge of large-scale tryouts in the United States, Canada and several European countries, Dr. Kline said.

★ ★ ★

The chemical designation of the drug is iprionizid. It was first used in treatment of tuberculosis but its use was discontinued after about 15 per cent of the patients developed symptoms of psychosis as a result.

The shoelace that Mrs. W. G. Richmond thought was in her slipper when she slipped it on to answer the night phone call in Maritzburg, South Africa, was a 10-inch snake. It was harmless though.

DARING DUNKER—Taking a coffee and sinker break, trapeze artist Lois Hoover proves that dunking can be a high art, especially when it's done upside down. The flying young lady is displaying her skill at a New Jersey amusement park where she pulls stunts like this while dangling 125 feet in the air, without benefit of a safety net.

WINSOME — Currently appearing in Billy Wilder's "Love in the Afternoon," Audrey Hepburn is co-starred with Gary Cooper and Maurice Chevalier in the Allied Artists comedy romance. The film opens here Sunday at the Oakland Theater.

Figures in U. S. Thoroughly Covered

Volume Gives Statistics on Virtually Everything

WASHINGTON (INS) — Do you know that the mythical average American is smoking 18 fewer packages of cigarettes a year than he did in 1943.

It can be proved with figures drawn from the Census Bureau's latest edition of the Statistical Abstract, a 1,045-page volume costing $3.50 now on sale at the Government Printing Office in Washington.

The abstract's tightly-packed rows of figures on births, death, marriages, divorces, income, votes, acreages, production, and consumption, contains virtually everything anyone would want to know about the United States if it can be expressed in figures.

For instance: Atlantic City, N. J., is the windiest city in the United States.

Any good convention goes would swear to the fact but could he prove it? He could if he looked at page 174 of the abstract and found that Atlantic City ranked highest with an average annual hourly wind velocity of 15.2 miles an hour.

Only Oklahoma City, Okla., comes close to that and the "Windy City," Chicago is far down the line with a breeze-like 10.9 mph.

Regarding cigarettes, the volume showed that the industry spent $23,561,000 for advertising in 1956, compared with $17,259,000 in 1955 and $14,107,000 in 1954.

Meanwhile, consumption of cigarettes was slumping off from approximately 3,546 per person per year in 1953 to 3,193 in 1956.

The book is of considerable value to anyone who uses statistics—advertisers, salesmen, politicians, teachers, administrators, newsmen or housewives with inquisitive children.

Author Anne Parish Dies in Connecticut

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — Anne Parrish, 68, author of more than 20 novels, died yesterday in Danbury Hospital. She lived in nearby Georgetown, Conn.

Her third book, "The Perennial Bachelor," published in 1925, won the $10,000 Harper prize.

She also wrote children's books.

Miss Parrish was working on another novel when she became ill.

She was born in Colorado Springs, Colo., the daughter of Thomas Clarkson and Anna Parrish, both artists. She was the widow of Josiah Titzell, who died in 1943. She was married previously to Charles Albert Corliss, who died in 1936.

Funeral service will be private.

Lions Meet Parker on Opposite Sides

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Ex-Detroit Pilot Guides Steelers in Sunday Game

Wilson's Crew After 4th Straight Pre-Season Win in Buffalo Stadium

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BUFFALO, N.Y. — For the first time since August 12th when he broke his ties with the Detroit Lions, coach Buddy Parker will meet his former proteges on the same field — but on opposite sidelines.

This time Parker will be guiding the Pittsburgs Steelers in an attempt to snap the three-game pre-season winning streak of the Lions instead of trying to protect it.

Last week when the Steelers won their first game of the exhibition tour by downing the Eagles, 17-12, Parker was in the press box on the field phones while Walt Kiesling directed the team on the field for the last time.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow Parker takes over the field direction hoping to throw everything he has against his successor George Wilson.

The Steelers bring a record of one victory and two defeats into the contest while George Wilson, Parker's successor, has an unbeaten string of three victories. The Lions under Wilson have dumped the Cleveland Browns 20-10, conquered the Philadelphia Eagles, 34-27 and downed the Washington Redskins 31-14. Pittsburgh's losses were suffered at the hands of the Chicago Bears, 24-7, and Cleveland, 28-13.

A pair of former University of Detroit stars, quarterback Ted Marchibroda and rookie end Perry Richards turned defeat into victory against the Eagles with a 34-yard scoring pass. Marchibroda will probably carry the quarterback load against the Lions as Len Dawson, the Steelers' No. 1 draft choice, is bothered by a sore thumb. Fullback Fran Rogel, halfback Henry Flood of Pittsburgh and Jack O'Brien at the slot back position round out the Steelers backfield.

★ ★ ★

Wilson will have fullback John Henry Johnson in his starting backfield along with Tobin Rote at quarterback, Gene Gedman at halfback and Dorne Dibble at the flanking halfback post.

Today was checking out time at Cranbrook School for the Lions. After Sunday's game in Buffalo against the Pittsburgh Steelers the Lions will not return to Cranbrook but set up training camp in Detroit.

Next Saturday night Detroit will meet the Browns in Cleveland and then play the final pre-season game at Briggs Stadium, Sunday Sept. 22nd against the New York Giants.

★ ★ ★

The game tomorrow will be broadcast by WWJ.

REST CURE — New York Yankee outfielder Mickey Mantle, catches up on his reading with a western story at Lenox Hill Hospital in New York where he will remain until Tuesday with the hope that the rest will cure shin splints in his left leg.

The summer sports banquet of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation department is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 2nd, at 6:30 p.m. at St. Benedict's Church Hall, West Huron and Lynn Street.

★ ★ ★

Bob Kelly, senior tackle from Holly is out of Central Michigan grid sessions with a torn knee ligament. He will miss the game against Bradley next week.

★ ★ ★

Don Hoff at Bloomfield Hills has three transfers he cannot use in football because of eligibility rules but two of them are expected to be valuable to Hal Trott in baseball. The trio includes two from Cranbrook and a standout from Detroit Catholic Central.

★ ★ ★

Notre Dame is reportedly having trouble getting on Army's grid schedule again after 1958. West Point officials are said to be not interested.

★ ★ ★

Farmington will have a chance to halt a winning streak in its season opener. Falcons are hopeful of upsetting Livonia Bentley in the first game to be played at the new FHS field. Bentley has won its last 13 starts.

★ ★ ★

St. Mary's of Redford named Tom Tramski, former U. of D. quarterback, as backfield coach under Dan Boisture.

The Sunday Mixed Bowling League will meet at West Side Recreation tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. Interested couples unable to attend can join the league by calling FE 2-1707. Bowling will start Sunday, Sept. 15.

Red Wing Training Camp Opens in Soo Monday

The Detroit Red Wings will become the first National League team to begin preparations for the hockey season when 72 players report to Sault Sainte Marie on Monday.

The Wings, together with the Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League and a host of amateur prospects, will begin a 17-day training program at the Sault's Pullar Community Building.

★ ★ ★

This will be the 10th straight season the Wings will hold preseason workouts at the Soo.

Four squads will work 90 minutes on two hour shifts each day. The current roster includes the greatest number of American-born players in history of Red Wing camps. There are seven players, born in the U. S. who have been invited to attend the training camp.

Detroit born Carl Wetzel, goalkeeper at Hamilton last year, heads the list. The other six, all juniors, are products of the Copper Country youth program. They are Tony Bukovitch Jr., son of the one-time Red Wing forward, Ron Katalin, Tony LePage, Roger Maki, Ron Norkel and Charles Rivette.

Maki has been rated one of the Copper Country's best prospects in many years and Rivette has been outstanding in two Olympia appearances in MAHA tourney play.

The top prospects returning include Terry Sawchuk, literally unchallenged for the goalie spot; defensemen Red Kelly, Marcel Pronovost, Al Arbour, Warren Godfrey, Frank Roggeveen and Gordon Strate.

Centers Alex Delvecchio, Norm Ullman and Dutch Reibel are back in addition to Guyle Fielder, Western League scoring champion. Missing are Ted Lindsay, Glenn Hall and John Bucyk through trades and Marty Pavelich through retirement.

Saxton Retired by Joe Miceli

Ex-Champ Bows Out After Bad Beating in 4th Round TKO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ex-welterweight champion Johnny Saxton, had his comeback campaign wrecked at the start by unranked Joe Miceli as the finishing touch was applied to his rapid descent from boxing heights last night before a nationwide TV-radio audience.

★ ★ ★

Jumping Joe, a 28-year-old New Yorker who has been in and out of the ratings for years, clouted the former king of the 147-pounders unmercifully for three rounds at Capitol Arena. Saxton went into the fight a 2-1 favorite.

Dr. Clark Halstead, the ring physician, examined Saxton after the third and declared Johnny unfit to continue. Under District of Columbia rules, the result went into the books as a fourth-round TKO.

Back in his dressing room, dejected and still bleeding profusely from a cut mouth, Saxton told reporters he was thinking of retiring but would leave it up to Manager Frankie Palermo.

★ ★ ★

"I'll give you the decision right now," Palermo announced. "I'm going to make him retire."

Johnny accepted the verdict.

Pistons Select 'Doc' Forsyth

Dr. Raymond (Doc) Forsyth, 54, veteran trainer once with the University of Detroit, Detroit Lions and the Detroit Tigers, was named today as team physician by the Detroit Pistons, according to general manager Fred DeLano.

DeLano also announced that trainer Stan Kenworthy will continue to serve in the same capacity.

Dr. Forsyth moved into the pro athletic picture under Potsy Clark with the old Brooklyn Dodgers football team in 1937. He was with the Lions in 1943-44 and with the Tigers in 1944-45.

A graduate of Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery in 1927, he took over the U. of D. athletic teams in 1934. He returned to the Titans after WW II and stayed until his resignation recently.

Battle Creek Wins Tournament Opener

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The home team of Battle Creek, an easy victor last night, stood aside and let the rest of the field fight throught first-round games today in the eastern playoff of the American Amateur Baseball Congress tournament.

★ ★ ★

On the hitting of Art Cybulski and the pitching of Carl Angelo, Battle Creek breezed past East Chicago, Ind., 11-2 in the only game played on opening day of the tournament yesterday.

Angelo fanned 16 and held the East Chicago hitters to four safeties.

Cinci Legion in Finals of Baseball Playoffs

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—Robert E. Bentley Post 50 of Cincinnati, a three-time U.S. Legion baseball champion, withstood a ninth inning rally by Willamette Heights Post of Portland, Ore., last night to chalk up an 8-6 victory and advance to the finals.

SPORTS

State College Scene Looks Good

Hopes Bright at Grid Camps

From all parts of the state where the college football camps are in training, the overall outlook for 1957 looks brighter than in many years.

Michigan college grid teams are looking forward to fine seasons and the possibility of a bowl bid or two.

★ ★ ★

The state's Big Ten representatives, Michigan and Michigan State, are both rated top contenders for the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl berth. U. of D. has more depth with the help of army veterans and transfers. Central Michigan is eyeing the Aluminum Bowl; Hillsdale wants to protect a winning streak of 24 straight games, and Eastern Michigan is depending on an experienced backfield to battle Central in the IIAC.

★ ★ ★

The Spartans, with a platoon of quarterbacks led by Jim Ninowski, Mike Panitch, Greg Montgomery, Larry Bielat and a few others may do more passing this year.

This may be supported by the fact that coach Duffy Daugherty has appraised the MSU situation at end as the strongest point on the team.

★ ★ ★

Spartan passers will have six terminal lettermen, Tony Kolodziej, Bob Jewett, Sam Williams, Harold Dukes, Dave Kaiser and Larry Harding plus a couple of bright newsomers, Willie Boykin and Dave Northcross as receivers.

With Minnesota and Iowa given strong support in the Big Ten, the scent of Roses could still come out of the big October 12th clash at Ann Arbor where the Wolverines play host to the Spartans.

Michigan is priming one of the best overall backfields in the league with thoughts of its first trip to Pasadena's Rose parade since January 1951.

★ ★ ★

Two veteran quarterbacks, Jim Van Pelt and John Spidel will guide the team spearheaded by a backfield of John Herrnstein at fullback, Jim Pace, Bob Ptacek, Mike Shatusky available at halfback posts along with highly touted newcomers Fred Julian, Al Groce and Darrell Harper.

There are some big vacancies with Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz missing at ends, but 13 terminals headed by Gary Prahst give coach Benny Oosterbaan some good material from which to pick.

U. of D. went down to its worst season in history last year after losing seven regulars in the first two games, but coach Wally Fromhart feels that better depth this year will pull the Titans above board once again.

Using the variation of the winged-T as made popular by Davey Nelson, Delaware University coach, the Titans boast the best array of backs in several seasons.

Sophomore Bruce Maher will give veterans Billy Russell, Al Korpak, Tom Hunter, Dan Collins and Bill Dapdo strong support in the backfield.

Huge linemen are Emerson Dromgold (225), guard, ex-Quantico Marines ace; John Jereck (235), tackle transfer from Indiana; John Dingens (230), tackle; Tony Sterlitz (230), tackle out of service. Grady Alderman (235), soph from Madison Heights and 235 pound center Ernie Fritsch are the top newcomers.

Central Michigan, with 15 straight wins, will have three Pontiac boys in the starting backfield with quarterback Herb Kipke. They are Walt Beach, Phil Officer and Ed Revis.

Big game will come against Hillsdale when the Chips match their streak against the Dales' 25 straight, Sept. 28 at Mt. Pleasant.

At Ypsi, Kerry Keating of Waterford and Jerry Wedge, quarterback from Birmingham, head the list of backfield veterans.

The state college scene opens next Saturday in Saginaw when Central Michigan meets Bradley in the annual "Red Feather" game. The following week, Sept. 21, Marquette visits U. of D., and on the 28th the first big grid weekend gets under way.

League Becomes 7th "Big Boy"

Inter-Lakes Newest in Class A

By BILL CORNWELL

A new all-Class A league will be in operation when the 1957 high school football season gets under way on Sept. 20.

The latest addition to the growing ranks of the "big boys" is the Inter-Lakes Conference, which has been equally divided between classes A and B until now.

Changes in the status of Walled Lake, Farmington and Van Dyke have caused the shift to a circuit composed entirely of Class A schools. All three had been 'B' schools for several years.

Waterford, Southfield and Berkley — the Class A half of the six-team circuit — can feel a little more at ease from now on because they will no longer be the "big, bad boys."

A move made by the Michigan High School Athletic Association last May, which ruled that any three-grade high school must add one-third of its enrollment to the total figure for its classification, vaulted Walled Lake, Farmington and Van Dyke into the 'A' category.

★ ★ ★

The decision by the MHSAA makes the Inter-Lakes the 8th all-Class A conference in Michigan, aside from the Detroit school system.

Other member leagues of this illustrious company are the Saginaw Valley, Eastern Michigan, Border Cities, Grand Rapids, Southwestern Michigan, Six-A and Arrowhead.

Walled Lake's jump into 'A' circles has not dampened the spirit of the Vikings or scared them into a safe corner as far as the coming football season is concerned.

The Vikings, who won the Inter-Lakes crown last year and compiled an unbeaten season in the process, suffered heavily from graduation, but head coach Dave Smith it taking on that optimistic outlook.

"Developments in practice this week have boosted our hopes for a winning team," Smith said. "Guard and end are the biggest problems for us right now," he stated.

Walled Lake, co-favorite with Waterford in the Inter-Lakes race this fall, was scheduled to hold its 1st full scrimmage today.

Waterford, despite the loss of some key personnel through graduation, is expected to field a strong team.

"There will be no stars on our squad this year," said head coach Dave Freeman, "but we may develop into a sound club." The Skippers finished 2nd in the Inter-Lakes campaign last season.

Coach Monte Charles has his work cut out for him at Southfield. The Bluejays had severe graduation losses, and a big rebuilding job is facing Charles in 1957.

In Net Semifinals

Flam Plays Cooper Today

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Herbie Flam, the overlooked Beverly Hills, Calif., shotmaker, and Ashley Cooper, top player in Australia, met today in the semifinal round of the National Tennis Championships.

It also figured to be a preview of the Davis Cup challenge round, although U.S. Cup brass certainly didn't want it that way.

Flam, added to the Cup team as an afterthought when Dick Savitt turned down a bid to play, was just itching to get at Cooper, the top-seeded operator in the tournament.

In yesterday's quarter finals, he eliminated Vic Seixas, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1. While Mal Anderson, a young Aussie who seems to have arrived, cut down Chile's Luis Ayala at 6-1, 6-3, 6-1. Anderson meets Sven Davidson of Sweden in the other semifinal.

The women's division followed form. In today's semifinals, top-seeded Althea Gibson of New York played Mrs. Dorothy Knode of Forest Hills, while Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., went against Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif.

★ ★ ★

Miss Gibson gained her bracket yesterday with an easy 6-2, 6-2 victory over Mrs. Mary Hawton of Australia while Miss Hard, annoyed at being seeded fifth, trounced fourth-seeded Mrs. Shirley Bloomer of England, 6-0, 6-1.

Henny Young Can Handle Himself

EAST LANSING (AP) — Everyone connected with Michigan state football is amazed at the way little Henny Young, the 5-4, 147-pound fullback from Detroit, can take it and dish it out.

Dr. James Feurig, team physician, came up with a prize comment on Henny yesterday.

"He's the only football player I've ever seen that you have to put a life jacket on when he goes into the whirlpool bath," said Feurig.

Sal Impressive in 1st NY Start

WASHINGTON (AP)—The old guy gave it the big try last night, but even Sal Maglie's ancient mound magic wasn't enough to pull out a win for th slump-stricken New York Yankees.

★ ★ ★

"He did a great job, though, and he's going to help us," said Manager Casey Stengel after Maglie's first starting assignment with the Bombers.

★ ★ ★

For six innings against the Washington Senators, Maglie toiled much like the Barber of old whose slants helped carry the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers to National League flags.

Then, with the Yanks ahead 3-1, a couple of solid pokes to left by Julio Becquer and Jim Lemon prompted Stengel to go to the bull pen. The move didn't work because the Senators tied it up and went on to tally the winning run in the ninth to take a 4-3 decision.

Giant Attendance at Rock Bottom

NEW YORK (AP)—Want a simple reason for the New York Giants' planned shift to San Francisco? They've been able to count 20,000 or more cash customers at the Polo Grounds only five times this season—and it was Brooklyn's hated Dodgers who lured 'em in.

The old rivalry paid off again last night with 21,373 paying patrons on hand as the Brooks defeated the Giants 3-0 in the last scheduled night game of the season in the Polo Grounds.

Indian Mistakes Help Tigers to 5-2 Win

Bunning Gets 17th Triumph Beating Wynn

Double Error on His Grounder Breaks Up Game; Lary Today

DETROIT (AP) — At this stage of the season, the Detroit Tigers will take a victory no matter how it is achieved.

They proved it last night, taking advantage of glaring Cleveland Indian mistakes that more than overcame the Tigers' own shoddy play. The Tigers wound up with a 5-2 victory and Jim Bunning got his 17th pitching triumph before 21,810 spectators at Briggs Stadium.

The Cleveland infield, which donated one game to the Tigers during the recent series in Cleveland, found an easy way to dissolve a 2-2 deadlock last night. Early Wynn, who had already dropped three decisions to the Tigers, was the victim of the sixth inning lapse.

The Tigers had runners on every base with one out when Bunning hit a ground ball that shortstop Chico Carrasquel ordinarily would have turned into a routine double play. But Chico fumbled the ball and one runner scored. Second baseman Bob Avila, merely trying to be helpful, picked up the loose ball. But he threw it past third base where Larry Raines ordinarily would have been standing, and the ball sailed into the Tiger dugout. Two more runners crossed and that was it.

★ ★ ★

Both Carrasquel and Avila drew errors on the play. Earlier in the same inning Charlie Maxwell, on with a walk, overran second base on J. W. Porter's bloop single to second and was tagged out.

Porter dropped a pop foul for an error in the fourth inning and Avila's roller dribbled through shortstop Harvey Kuenn's legs in the fifth inning. Neither of these caused more than slight difficulty.

In the second inning, when the Indians started the scoring, the Tigers pulled a blunder that didn't enter the official books as an error. Indians loaded the bases with one out and Carrasquel hit a high fly to left centerfield. Maxwell in left and Johnny Groth in center played "you take it—no I'll take it"—and neither one took it.

The ball, which would have scored the runner from third base anyway, dropped for a single and one run scored. Bunning retired the next two batters and permitted only one more score.

Frank Lary, with five straight wins, was to oppose Cleveland's Mike Garcia in the second game of the weekend series today.

Moore Seeking Postponement of Title Bout

'Dead Guys' Smite Leaders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ever watch a bunch of kids playing cops and robbers, where the "dead" guys get up and start blasting away again? That's just what's happening in the major league pennant races. The dead guys won't stay chilled.

★ ★ ★

In the American, New York's Yankees, apparently home free when they swept three from second-place Chicago last week, are down to a 4½-game lead again. They booted a two-run lead and lost 4-3 on a ninth-inning homer by relief pitcher Dixie Howell that again put them just three games behind in the lost column.

In the National, Milwaukee's Braves, looking like a cinch to clinch it quick after a Labor Day doubleheader sweep at Chicago gave them an 8½-game bulge, blew a 3-0 lead and lost their third in a row, 5-4 to the last-place Cubs.

Brooklyn's Dodgers remember those old gaffers? Now only seven games behind after winning their third straight with a 3-0 job on the New York Giants.

★ ★ ★

Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 3-2 on Hank Foiles' solo home run in the sixth that gave righthander Ron (7-15) Kline his fifth straight in the other NL game.

★ ★ ★

In the other AL games, Detroit defeated Cleveland 5-2 and Boston closed fast to nip Baltimore 4-3 with Gene Stephens, subbing for Ted Williams, one of the big guns.

Williams, still out with a cold, retained a seven-point lead over Yankee Mickey Mantle in the batting race. Mantle was bedded in a hospital yesterday to rest his ailing legs.

The Yankees, losing 11 of their last 19 and five of six with the long-gone, seventh-place Senators, dropped this one with two out in the ninth. An error by second baseman Jerry Coleman enabled the tie-breaking run to score after the Nats had loaded the bases with three walks from loser Bob Grim.

Washington chased Sal Maglie, making his starting debut as a Yankee, with two runs that tied it 3-all in the seventh while Truman Clevenger and Bud Byerly four-hit the champs. Byerly won his sixth—three from the Yankees—with two innings of one-hit relief.

If it's any help to Haney, the Yankee staff has collected just two complete games (both by Bob Turley) in the last 19 starts.

The White Sox scrambled from behind with a run in the sixth that junked Alex Kellner's three-hit shutout, then gained a tie with two in the eighth on singles by Luis Aparicio, Nellie Fox (his third of the night) and 1,499th in the majors, Minnie Minoso and Sherm Lollar.

The White Sox have 21 games left, 14 on the road. The Yankees have only 18 games remaining, 13 at home—including two with the White Sox next weekend.

WANTS WORD WITH WILLIE — An over-exhuberant fan, leaped onto the playing field to talk to New York Giant centerfielder Willie Mays when he came to the plate against the Dodgers last night. Dodger catcher Al Walker watches as umpire Shag Crawford decides to interrupt the conversation. The fan left the field. He must have given Willie good advice, because he singled.

But Talbert Has Confidence

U.S. Cup Team Loses Top Stars

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States is going into the Davis Cup wars in December without its two best players — Dick Savitt and Ham Richardson —but outwardly confident of victory.

★ ★ ★

"I am convinced we can bring back the Cup," Captain Bill Talbert said yesterday above the chaos which was created with the official naming of a six-man squad.

★ ★ ★

Savitt, the big South Orange, N.J., oil man who is generally rated one of the best amateurs in the world, said, "I won't go. That's definite. That's final."

Richardson, the No. 1 U.S. player in current rankings, said, "I will go if I may take my wife." U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. officials repeated, "No wives."

★ ★ ★

A player who wasn't originally picked on the team said he'd be happy to go — and furthermore he went out and won his berth.

That was Herbie Flam, the quiz expert from Beverly Hills, Calif., who, after being omitted from the squad, cut up Vic Seixas in the national quarter-finals 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.

Shame-facedly Chauncey Steele Jr., chairman of the U.S. Davis Cup selection committee, called an impromptu press conference to announce Flam's substitution for Savitt.

So here's the team with which Uncle Sam hopes to beat Harry Hopman's young quartet of Ashley Cooper, Neale Fraser, Mal Anderson and Roy Emerson:

Vic Seixas, Philadelphia, 34, making his eighth appearance in the challenge round.

★ ★ ★

Flam, 28, badly beaten by Lew Hoad in the last challenge round 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

Gardnar Mulloy, Miami, 44, rated one of the greatest lefthand court doubles players in the game. He probably will team with Seixas in doubles.

Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, 22, a tall, promising youngster with a good game but not enough experience for Davis Cup play.

Ron Holmberg, Brooklyn, 20, another big, powerful boy of promise but just going along for the ride.

★ ★ ★

There has been no announcement of a substitution for Richardson when the latter gives his official notice. The sub likely will be Mike Green, 21, of Miami, who has made two trips to Australia as a reserve.

Many Coaching Changes

New Faces Among Preps

The starting of a new prep school athletic season always brings to light numerous coaching changes that have occurred since classes closed the previous June.

This year is no exception. Some changes have been made at the Pontiac schools and several throughout Oakland County in recent months. There are still some openings for coaches in spring sports.

Pontiac came up with the biggest city change in naming Jesse MacLeay, formerly of the University of Illinois physical education staff, to take over the difficult task of trying to turn out a winning Chief football team. New assistants are Gene Norris and Steve Szabo.

His predecessor, Ed Graybiel, is staying on at PHS as a teacher and will keep his hand in the game by assisting Bob Mineweaser at St. Michael. New to the St. Frederick staff is Tony Pizza, a former aide to Graybiel. Tony is now working with St. Fred skipper Gene Wright.

Waterford and Walled Lake will both have new basketball coaches come the winter months. Gerry Wallace moves up from Isaac Crary Junior to handle the Waterfor post. Bob Ingersoll has the job of trying to follow the big footsteps of Bill Ullenbruch at WLHS.

Former Bay City Central coach Art Paddy will direct West Bloomfield in football, basketball and track. Ken Sauder is the new baseball coach there and veteran mentor Charley Guinnip takes over the golf team.

Holly is another school with a revamped staff. Don Harrower was promoted from track coach to athletic director with Dennis Deegan new boss of the thinclads. Al Gratsch has shifted from baseball to football and Leroy Decker moves into the baseball job.

Dick Figg has taken over the football reins and Ted Gawry will head baseball at Oxford.

Ivy Loftin in football and Ron Gora in swimming are new leaders at Royal Oak Dondero. Gordon Webb has taken over cross country at Milford and Ed Casey football at Royal Oak St. Mary.

Berkley had to do considerable juggling around when basketball-hoop boss Fred Holdsworth moved up to an administrative position. Eldon Rouse has been signed for basketball and will also handle golf.

Former assistant Hal Smith moves up as top man in basketball and baseball at St. James in Ferndale.

Phil Martin is South Lyon's new cage leader. Ron Morse has that job now at Clawson.

Southfield has named Bob Watts athletic director and has three new coaches. They are Dick Welkenbach in golf, Milt Hurd for swimming and Jim Pegen wrestling.

Jug Trial Featured at Harness Raceway

The "Roaring" Grand Circuit, the major league of harness racing, moves in to Hazel Park Monday night to begin a week long stay.

Before the nation's best pacers and trotters move on to the next stop on the Circuit, Hazel Park may be treated to another track record, thanks to the expected arrival of Torpid for Thursday night's $20,000 Brown Jug Trial.

Torpid, who has won his last 17 starts, is just about the hottest thing to hit harness racing in several years. The three year old has paced in two minutes or under, in eight of his victories, and could lower the track mark of 1:59.1, currently held by Widower Creek and set in the recent Transamerica Pace.

Strong Ram Running Attack Beats Browns

LOS ANGELES (INS) — The Los Angeles Rams counted their halfback blessings threefold today in the wake of a thrilling 20-to-14 victory over the Cleveland Browns.

Tom Wilson, Ron Waller and Jon Arnett were more than Cleveland's Jim Brown last night as the Rams delighted a partisan crowd of 45,000 at Memorial Coliseum.

Wilson averaged 6.5 yards in pacing the Ram running attack and had tremendous help from Waller and Arnett in more than offsetting the 6.9-yard per carry effort of Brown, the rookie speedster from Syracuse.

★ ★ ★

The Rams trailed all the way from the opening quarter until midway through the third period, when Tank Younger plunged one yard to climax an 86-yard drive, 49 yards of which were handled personally by Wilson.

First half found the Browns ahead 7-6, with the Ram points coming on two field goals by Paige Cothren. Cleveland jumped into an early 7-0 lead when Preston Carpenter bounced into the end zone from one yard out.

Brown hurled over from the one early in the fourth quarter, but the Rams wrapped it up four minutes later when Joe Marconi scored from the two after Waller set it up with a 35-yard sprint.

Boxy Suits Extra Chic With Belts

By OLGA CURTIS
INS Women's Editor

NEW YORK (INS)—If you bought yourself one of the Chanel-type open, loose suits last season, rush right out and get yourself a wide belt.

The newest suit silhouette is firmly belted to the body, though it retains the fullness of the boxy suit.

★ ★ ★

The latest suit style — a belted, flared peplum tunic-jacket over a slim skirt—is being shown by Norman Norell, America's most honored designer.

BELTS ON EVERYTHING

Norell is using belts on almost every outfit in his winter line for Traina-Norell, especially wide belts that start at the natural waistline and go up.

The belt revival is especially impressive on the new suit jacket. The jacket is smoothly fitted at a slightly wider shoulder, shirred and belted at the waist, then flared like a peplum to the hip. It comes collared or cardigan-necked, with buttons or without — but always with a firmly cinched belt.

Norell also has another suit jacket which neatly combines belts and boxiness. This jacket has a belted, fitted front, but the belt disappears at the sides under a completely loose box back.

Phi Kappa Tau Meets at Home of Mrs. Angel

Phi Kappa Tau Chapter of Pi Omicron Society held its first meeting of the fall season at the home of Mrs. Robert Angel on West Longfellow street Thursday evening.

★ ★ ★

A card party is scheduled for Oct. 24, with Mrs. Richard Maier chairman for the affair.

Expert Cites Toughest Job —Marriage!

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

What is wrong with women?

Well, says Dr. John A. Schindler, co-founder of the famous Monroe Clinic at Monroe, Wis., and author of the best-selling book, "How to Live 365 Days a Year," the principal thing wrong with women is marriage.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Schindler has just written a new book, "Woman's Guide to Better Living," in which he says that the bulk of medical practice in the United States is concerned with emotionally indueed illness E.I.I. Three out of four of these emotionally upset patients in every doctor's office, he says, are women. Moreover, most of them are married women.

THE BIG 'WHY?'

Now the good doctor doesn't suggest that we should become a nation of spinsters and bachelors, but he, being of an inquiring turn of mind, began probing for the answer to a highly important question—why do so many married women blow their tops?

★ ★ ★

The reason, he now states, is that wives and mothers have been handed the greatest and most difficult of all possible jobs—that of managing a marriage and raising a successful family. This, says he, is a job that requires the highest abilities, talents and training—and many women just aren't equal to the job.

Adequate training is not avaiable, personal weakness is great, problems are legion—and so many women survey their lives along about midway in a marriage and all of a sudden start picking the roses off the wallpaper.

★ ★ ★

Physically, says the doctor, women are much tougher than men. Mentally they're on a par with men, also. It's just in the emotional department that they are likely to crack up.

MR. AND MRS. CECIL LUEBKE

For her wedding the bride chose a waltz-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin accented with iridescent sequins and seed pearls.

★ ★ ★

The dress featured long pointed sleeves and a sweetheart neckline, and her Juliet cap was held by a fingertip veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations.

Serving as matron of honor was Barbara Morrissey who was gowned in a street-length dress of light aqua eyelet over darker aqua taffeta. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

★ ★ ★

Trick for Staying Young in Heart

By ANNE HEYWOOD

One trick for staying young is to do something about the things that other oldsters just grumble about. In fact, sitting around grumbling and comparing these times with the good old times is the surest sign of age!

Mr. and Mrs. W., a couple in their seventies, will stay young, because they are doing something about it.

APPALLED BY WASTE

For example, they were appalled by the wastefulness of young people these days.

"They don't know how to repair and make do," Mr. W. told me, "even simple things like toys.

★ ★ ★

"I used to walk along the street and see toys thrown into garbage cans — toys which, in my youth, I would have loved to have. Nobody knew how to repaint them or glue them — or at least nobody cared to.

"My wife and I used to comment on it and one day we decided to do something about it instead of just noticing it.

SET UP A SHOP

"We have a spare room adjoining the garage," he went on, "so we set it up as a repair shop and told the young people in the neighborhood that we would teach them to repair toys.

"From the beginning, we were snowed under with work. We don't charge, except for the materials that are needed, but we just love doing it. We've salvaged many good toys, too, for their grateful owners.

★ ★ ★

"But the important thing is, the children are seeing what fun it is to be thrifty, what fun it is to know how to repair your belongings instead of just tossing them out."

MADE NEW FRIENDS

"Yes," Mrs. W. chimed in, "and it gives us so many new friends — all the children, of course, and their parents, too. Our 'shop' is open two or three hours a day and we have real open house. Not many people our age have such a good time!"

★ ★ ★

And not many people their age look and act so young and radiant!

If you want a hobby for your retirement years, a hobby to keep you young, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of this newspaper and I'll send you a list of good books in the field.

Men Shun Marriage Traps, Seek Depth, Charm in Mate

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of articles condensed from the Dorrance best-seller, "How To Get And Keep A Husband." Today you'll find that the most important thing most men look for in a wife is a charming personality. And you'll learn the characteristics for the properly adjusted "inner woman" and "outer woman."

By KATE CONSTANCE

Thousands of women are needlessly alone in the world today, having driven away would-be suitors before they get to the proposing stage.

They failed to approach the courtship with the proper positive attitude, and did not recognize the elements that the man was seeking in his prospective wife.

★ ★ ★

There are many things a woman in search of marriage should do and should not do as she develops her acquaintance with a man.

She should accept all eligible new male contacts as would-be friends and not as would-be husbands. A single woman should be careful to avoid any indication that she is husband-hunting.

It is presumptious and dangerous to jump to the conclusion that a few theater and dinner dates are leading right to the altar. Men are usually afraid of the wary-eyed matrimonial huntress. By nature a hunter himself, the male resents being tracked down and bagged.

WARY OF 'TRAP'

An eligible man I know once explained, "Really, I am not keen about making new female friends. Ninety-nine out of 100 start putting their claws into a man and try to hold him fiercely to the path toward marriage if he so much as asks them out to dinner or a dance now and then.

"Is that all women think about—marrying?"

★ ★ ★

Marrying should be right at the top of a woman's thought processes, but she had better not let the man know it!

Listen to my man friend again: "It would be so refreshing if women treated new men friends as intelligent being and not just dumb brutes standing around waiting to be taken into marriage.

"If only women would go easy on so much note-writing, so much telephoning, so much questioning about a man's private life, trying to pin him down emotionally even before he has a chance to know his own feelings! Am I asking too much?"

No, of course he isn't.

★ ★ ★

At the beginning of a friendship, a woman should skip the topics of love and matrimony. They are telltale signs of her aims. If her male conversationalist approaches the subjects, she might comment briefly, making it obvious that she prefers not to discuss them. This attitude arouses a man's interest.

NOT A 'CONVENIENCE'

Don't use a man just as a handy escort. Nor as a means of livelihood, so you can leave the working world.

The girl who uses love and matrimony for her own selfish purposes — to have an escort to good times, to get away from a job, or to acquire a meal ticket—is violating the privileges of love and marriage. She has an attitude that will drive away men.

One of my friends lost her most promising suiter because he got tired of having her drag him around to act as chauffeur to visit her friends and relatives, to go shopping, for dressmaking fittings and for every other conceivable errand.

When he married another girl, my friend moaned, "I wouldn't miss him so much if I knew somebody else to take me around. I do all right during the week when I'm at work, but on the weekends I just die of loneliness because I can't get out and have a good time.

Just as escort — that's all she wanted.

Men are wary of women who put a price on their friendship in any way.

One prime reason for so many American divorces is the eagerness of our women to grab a meal ticket at the altar. A girl I know expressed it when she said, "Oh, if only some man would come along and sweep me off my tired feet!"

HAVE PATIENCE

In dealing with men, a woman must develop that highly important quality of patience. There are few men who will not try the patience of the most understanding woman. Nor can they be rushed.

The spirit that characterizes the woman most likely to succeed in winning a husband and maintaining a happy marriage is that of giving. She should expect to give far more than she receives from wifehood.

With that realistic outlook she will not be disillusioned by the demands that necessarily come with the wedding ring. She never should expect marriage to solve any financial, emotional or social problems.

Marriage is like a business if it has no problems it is not a going concern, and the person who goes into marriage or a business without deciding to assume its responsibilities does not deserve to enjoy its advantages.

The question of working after marriage is a matter of much importance.

If the bride decides to continue working she should do it graciously, never reminding her husband that her paycheck is necessary for many of the luxuries or near-luxuries she craves. Even if she has to work for the basic necessities she should keep her mouth shut on the subject if she wants a successful marriage.

CODDLE HIS EGO

To say or do anything that shames her husband is likely to injure his ego, and the man with the injured ego is the one most likely to stray from home for more stimulating feminine companionship.

Brutal but true is the fact that many working wives sadistically enjoy needling their husbands over the fact that they are "forced" to work outside the home.

The job decision is one of the most important for the bride-to-be. Once she makes the choice to continue working, let her do it cheerfully, as a co-partner, believing that what they build together they share together.

★ ★ ★

One of the most difficult tasks for a woman married to a busy executive is to understand the demand of his outside interests. Too many girls fail to grow with their husbands in this respect, resentful and jealous of their business interests and acquaintances.

A woman who really loves her husband and wants to help ease his business chores never would think of leaving him because he is too busy, forcing her to spend lonely evenings. Yet many women do so. Selfishness is at the root of their attitude.

Again, be willing to give.

CHARM ESSENTIAL

The most important thing most men look for in a wife is a charming personality, which doesn't mean mere surface beauty. There are two aspects to personality the inner woman and the outer woman. In the sincere personality both aspects are active, with the inner woman in control.

Check this list of seven characteristics for the properly adjusted inner woman; positive attitudes, selflessness, wholesome life patterns, moral strength, high ideals, good habits and sound religious convictions.

And for the outer woman, these six components: poise, sincerity, naturalness, likeable mannerisms, well-modulated voice and proportioned sense of humor.

We can hardly expect any woman to have all these characteristics strongly developed. But they are something to aim at. The more of them you have, the better your prospects of marriage.

Professional Type Manicure Can Be Done at Home

Treat Yourself to Beautiful Nails

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women give themselves home manicures. It is perfectly possible to give yourself a good one if you will follow certain procedures.

★ ★ ★

First, remove any old polish with polish remover. An oily one is best. Wet a piece of cotton with the remover and hold it on the nail for a few seconds. Then wipe the polish off.

Next, file the nails. Most women prefer an emery board to a metal file. Do not saw back and forth with the emery board. File in only one direction as you shape your nails. Smooth the nails with the back of the emery board.

Now soak the hands in soapy water for a few minutes. Dry the hands. Tip an orange wood stick with cotton and dip this into cuticle remover. Gently push the cuticle back. If necessary use a cuticle snipper to remove hangnails or extremely roughened cuticle. This is never ideal, but is often necessary.

USE BASE POLISH

Use the orange stick to clean the tips of the nails. Now it is time to apply polish. First comes the base or colorless coat. Next apply the colored polish. Most women find it best to spread the fingers on a table to keep them steady while applying the polish. If you should get some polish on the cuticle or skin about the nail use your orange stick with a little polish remover.

★ ★ ★

Two coats are best. The polish looks better and lasts longer. Allow plenty of time for the polish to dry thoroughly before going about your business.

If you wish to make your nails look longer, leave a very thin line unpainted at at each side of the nail and take the plish to the tips of the nails. If you want to make them appear shorter, do not paint the moons or the tips.

Some women buff their nails nails rather than use polish. I have seen many beautiful nails which were simply buffed with a powdered, colorless plish.

Some women buff their nails even when they are going to apply polish because they feel that it goes on more smoothly.

Well cared for nails are an essential in good grooming!

Questions Army Food Testing

Sen. Wants Precautions in Giving GI Volunteers Irradiated Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) has asked the Army to supply him with more information on its plan to test irradiated food on some soldier volunteers at Ft. Lee, Va.

★ ★ ★

Neuberger yesterday wrote Secretary of the Army Brucker saying he understood the Food and Drug Administration "will regard any food containing radioactive materials as polluted" until specific tolerance levels are established.

Irradiated food is that which has been exposed to atomic radiation to kill bacteria and preserve it with little refrigeration. The Army has said the food will be served this fall or winter to men who volunteer for a test, lasting about a month, to determine reactions to the flavor and texture of the food.

★ ★ ★

Neuberger said he wanted to know what precautions are being taken to make certain the food is not radioactive, and how the Army "determined that no physiological harm" would result from the tests.

St. Laurent to Drop Party Leadership

OTTAWA (AP) — Former Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent is stepping down as leader of Canada's Liberal party because of his health. A successor is expected to be chosen early next year.

The 75-year-old Quebec lawyer announced yesterday he will quit as soon as a national party convention can choose a new leader.

The Liberals were defeated in the last general election. John Diefenbaker, a Conservative, succeeded St. Laurent as prime minister June 21.

St. Laurent became prime minister Nov. 15, 1948, as Mackenzie King's chosen successor. He twice led his party to national election victories.

To raise funds for its Olympic team, South Africa hopes to induce Jack Dempsey, the "Manassa Mauler" of other days, to speak at a banquet in Johannesburg this year.

Senator Potter to Be Speaker at Jaycee Event

Sen. Charles E. Potter will be guest speaker at Wednesday's Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce "Past Presidents' Night" dinner at the Roosevelt Hotel.

★ ★ ★

The public has been invited to attend, according to Stanton L. Deyo, program chairman. There will be a $1.75 charge for the dinner.

★ ★ ★

About 10 past Jaycee presidents, back as far as 1928, are expected to be among the 50 to attend the kick-off banquet of the 1957-58 Jaycee year, Deyo said. The dinner will begin at 7.

Airman Seized After Robbery

Bank at Missouri Base Recovers $12,229 Loot; Second Man Quizzed

KNOB NOSTER, Mo. (AP)—An airman was captured 17 minutes after he robbed the Whiteman Air Force Base bank of $12,229 yesterday, the Air Force said.

A.3.C. Melvin J. Stephenson, 21, St. Charles, Minn., was held by the base provost marshal on a charge of armed robbery.

Held for investigation was A.1.C. Thomas L. Layman, 21, Comanche, Tex.

Stephenson was in a car driven by Layman when they were arrested at a gate leaving the base. The bank's money was in a bag in the car, officers said.

Stephenson was armed with a 32 caliber automatic pistol, but did not resist.

Layman insisted that he had only given Stephenson a ride and didn't even know there had been a holdup.

★ ★ ★

Oscar Wolfrum, bank manager, and Miss Alberta J. Hall, 20, cashier, both of Warrensburg, Mo. were in the bank when the bandit entered.

They said he forced them to lie down in the bank vault. Then three customers entered and also were forced into the vault.

The man took the money from the tellers' cages and left. Those in the bank notified air police and gate guards immediately started searching all cars. Layman and Stephenson soon appeared.

The bank is operated as a branch of the Peoples National Bank of Warrensburg.

BIBLE QUIZ

QUESTION: Where was the Garden of Eden?

ANSWER: No one is certain where the Garden of Eden was, but experts cite two passages in the Bible which make them believe the garden was in the valley of the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers in what is now Iraq.

The Bible says the garden was located in a region known to the Israelites in Biblical times and speaks of a river that went out from the garden and divided into four parts. It identifies one of the rivers as the Euphrates and the others as the Hiddekel, the Pison and the Gihon. From the description, most theologians believe the Hiddekel is known as the Tigris, while the Pison and Gihon may be the Arakthu and Jukba rivers.

The Bible says that God created Adam and Eve and placed them in a beautiful garden. There a serpent tempted Eve to eat the forbidden fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. Eve persuaded Adam to eat the fruit also, and God banished them from the garden. After that they had to work for a living and suffer hardships.

Social Security Questions, Answers

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From Mrs. D. K., Monrovia, Calif.: "My husband is 44 but has been disabled since 1952. He didn't know until recently about the 'wage freeze' that would keep his benefits from being lowered when he becomes eligible for Social Security disability payments at age 50. Can he still apply for it?"

If your husband applies before June 30, 1958, the freeze will be applied to his earnings record back to the date of his disability. Thus his payments at 50 will be the same as they would be if he had continued working at the same wage until 65. If he applies after next June 30, the freeze can be applied only to the preceding year.

★ ★ ★

From M.D., Washington, D.C.: "My sister, a native of England, lived in this country for over 12 years before returning there. During most of her time in the United States she worked under Social Security. She is now 62 and believes herself eligible for Social Security payments even though residing outside the country. Can she apply for payments without coming here? Through whom?"

Your sister appears eligible and may apply for payments without returning here. She can apply through any U. S. consulate in England.

From A.W.W., Newark, N.J.: "From about 1925 through the 1940s I was in business for myself, and paid Social Security taxes on my employes. (I had a small factory.) Early in 1950 I suffered a coronary thrombosis and have been unemployed since. Is there any provision in the law that would allow me to collect Social Security?"

No. Self-employed persons were not covered by the law before Jan. 1, 1951. None of your work before that time was covered, and the tax you paid on your employes' wages does not entitle you to benefits.

★ ★ ★

From G.R.G., New Tazewell, "I am drawing 30 per cent disability compensation from the Veterans Administration. Does Social Security have to pay me the same amount? I got the disability in World War II at Anzio."

A severely disabled worker who meets the eligibility requirements may draw Social Security disability payments after age 50. These have no relation to veterans' compensation. The Social Security payments are based on the worker's earnings over a period of years. Veterans' compensation is based on the degree of disability, with set amounts paid for the loss of a limb an eye etc.

From D.E.F., Beloit, O.; "I am now on Social Security. Since I'm under 72 I have to keep my earnings under $1,200 to get all my checks. This year I will pay about 85 dollars in taxes. Can I deduct that from my earnings?"

No.

From Mrs. C.W., Seminole, Okla.: "My mother and father are nearly 70 years old and can't work. They sold their farm over five years ago and haven't any income at all. We had them apply for State welfare aid, but the state said we children had to take care of them. We can't. Is there anything we can doaboutthis?"

You can appeal to your state department of public assistance, giving reasons you're unable to support your parents. But if the state turns you down again, there doesn't seem to be much you can do.

Grandpa Wants Bright Grandson, but Not 'Sissy'

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Grandpa wants 6-year-old Douglas P. Moreland to get good grades in his schools in Ft. Pierce, Fla. — but he wants him to be a normal boy, too.

★ ★ ★

Grandpa Verne Bickelhaup and Douglas entered into a solemn contract, complete with red seals, witnesses' signatures and all the trimmings, when Douglas visited here this summer.

★ ★ ★

Douglas will enter the first grade this fall, and the contract binds grandpa to pay him 50 cents for every "A" received on each monthly report card.

When Douglas receives "A" grades on all his subjects, grandpa will dig deeper for a $1 bonus. An entire year with "A" grades in all subjects for each monthly report period will produce a $25 bonus from grandpa.

But grandpa knows young boys sometimes are noisy and get into mischief — and that's the way it should be. One paragraph of the contract says:

"Whereas the party of the second part emphatically desires that the party of the first part does not become a 'sissy', 'goody-goody', 'teacher's pet', or 'greasy grind', it is mutually agreed that deportment is not to be considered a subject study under the terms of this agreement."

A local bar has this sign: "Your wife can only get just so mad, so why not stay a little longer?" . . . A Broadway character is overly polite. Before entering an elevator he asks the operator, "Is the seventh floor out of your day?" —Earl Wilson.

BOYS WEAR BIG SHOES

J. L. VOORHEES

A boy is never satisfied; each challenge is a seed for the next one. He walks in the footsteps of the great.

A wise parent keeps that boy interested in new ideas, new concepts of play and ways of doing things. He insists that the child finish whatever he starts. That boy will wear big shoes; he may astonish you but never himself. His bounding, questioning mind is never satisfied with the obvious; he wants shoes too big for him; he wants to fill them.

M. E. SIPLE

Put a constructive program before a boy and turn him loose. Let him solve problems, in his own way; that is how our world has become a better place in which to live. Youth met each challenge; as he stepped into bigger shoes he grew into them. Give him big shoes.. he'll grow into them.

Background for LIVING

Area Schools Still Going Up

THE REASON WHY—Here is the reason why all the school buildings shown on this page are being built. Young scholars at St. Benedict's School in Waterford Township, Kathleen Huellmantel of South Genesee and Ann Richards of Illinois avenue, need adequate classrooms in which to pursue their book "larnin." This means their parents and all the other members of the community have to foot the bill for school expansion. To this worthy aim today's Home Section is dedicated.

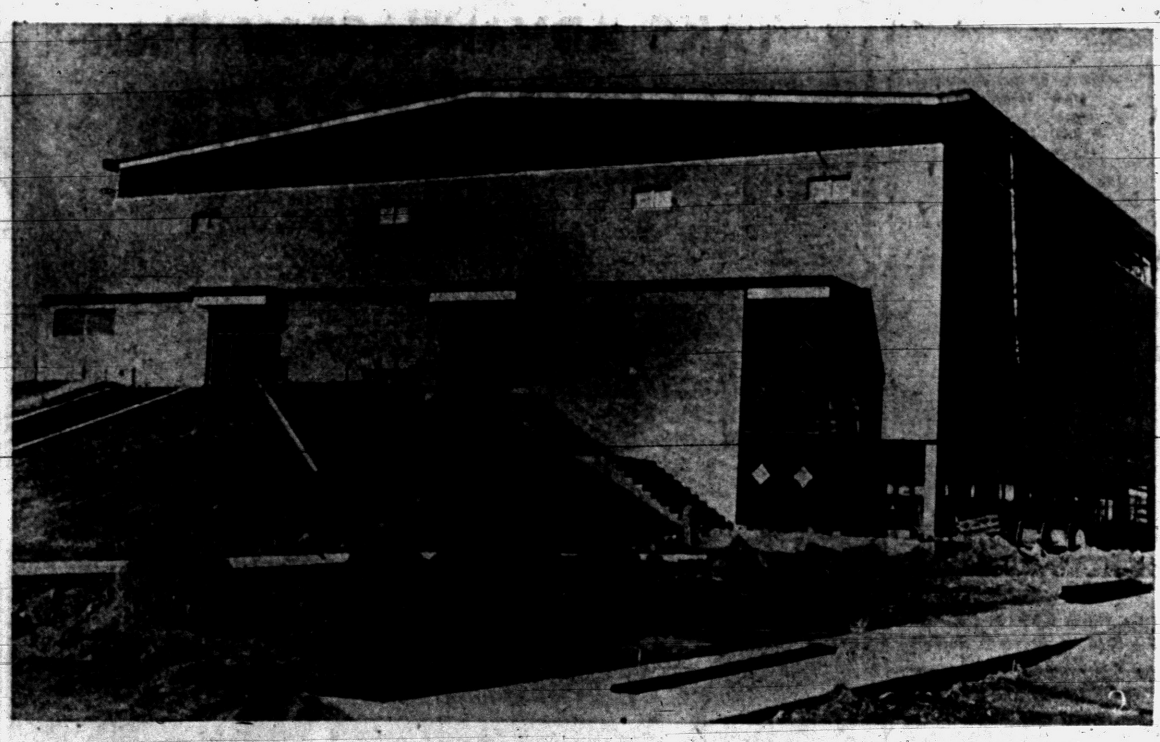

Pontiac Press Photos

BIRMINGHAM — When this gymnasium at the Derby Junior High School in Birmingham was in the construction stage, The Press ran a picture of it. Here is the completed building. This standard size gym has a concrete roof with no inner supports. It rests solely on the arms that extend out and rest on the ground. Birmingham school officials like the ease of maintenance of this type building. Eberle M. Smith, the architect who designed Pontiac's new high school, did the plans for this one. The builder was Steinle Wolfe of Fremont, Ohio and Detroit.

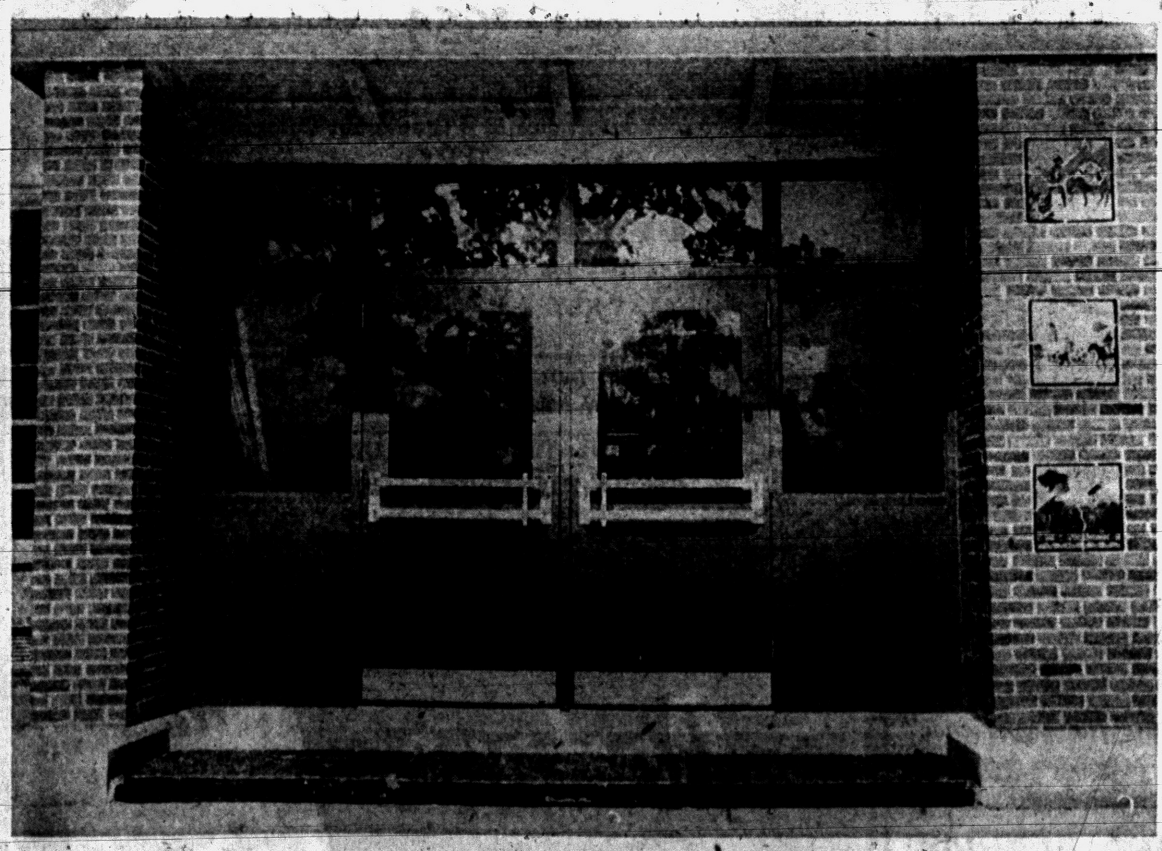

WALLED LAKE — To help house its expected 5,500 students, the Walled Lake School District has added seven rooms to each of two buildings. A subdivision only blocks from the Commerce school made its expansion necessary. This entry way joins the original building with another section completed last year. A similar doorway is nearly finished for the 1957 addition. Cement block is the material used by the West Side construction Company of Detroit for the building. Walter Anicka of Ann Arbor is the architect.

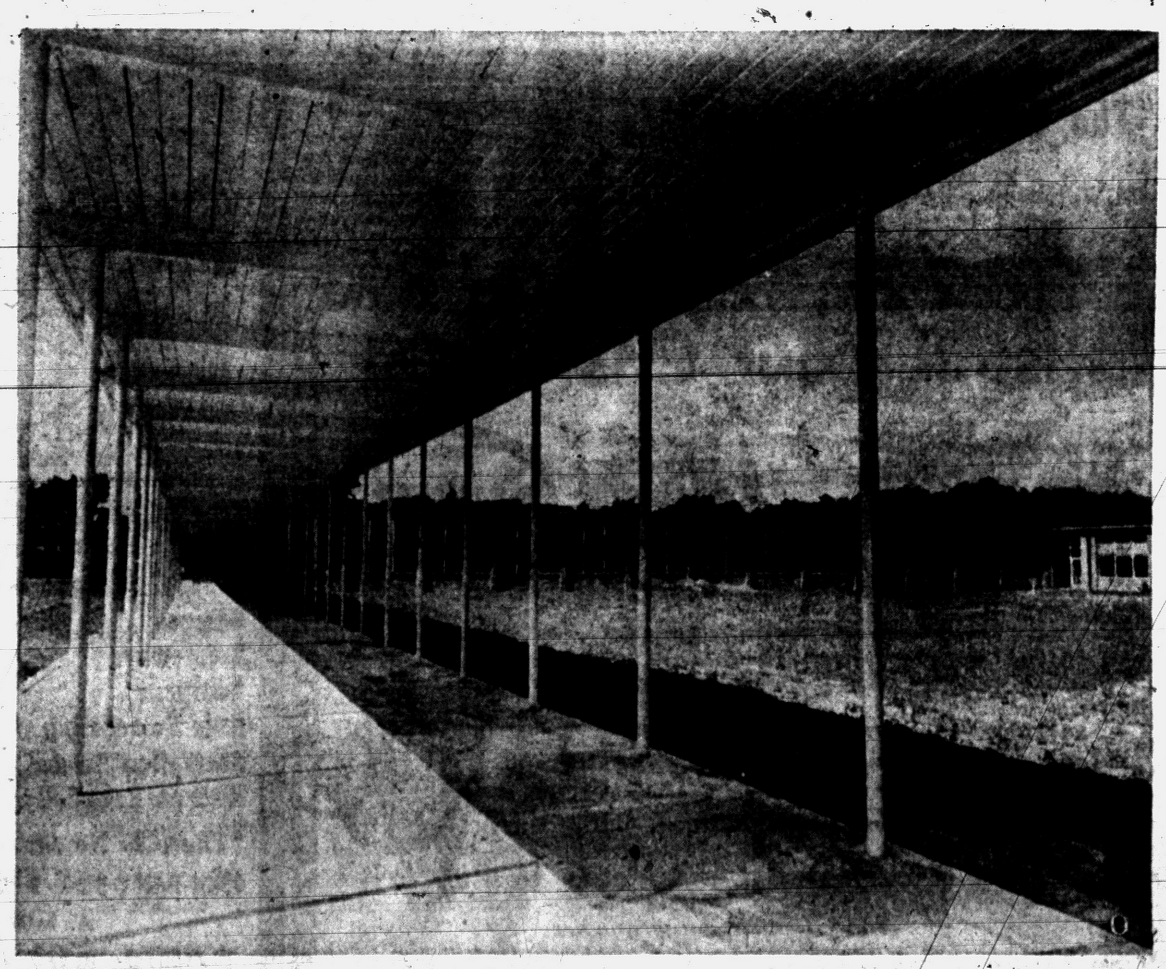

ROCHESTER — When all the grading and landscaping are complete, the entrance to Rochester High School's gymnasium will be an impressive one. This addition to a high school opened only last year adds three big rooms for the music department, as well as a gymnasium. Schurrer Construction Company of Pontiac did the building, designed by H. E. Beyster and Associates of Detroit. With an increase of some 400 students, Rochester expects a total enrollment of 4,000.

CLARKSTON — A slight difference in level is noted in this addition to the Andersonville Road school of the Clarkston District. The face brick cinder block school building now contains 17 rooms. Superintendent of Schools, Leslie F. Greene, says he is counting on 3,000 students to show up for classes this year. L. J. Heenan of Pontiac did the architectural work with Chissus Construction Company of Birmingham as the builder.

WATERFORD — Shown above is the entrance of the new William Beaumont elementary school on Elizabeth Lake road. Decorative tiles set into the brick beside the entrance depict the history of transportation. This school, like the other new grade school in the Waterford district has 14 rooms. It is made of face brick over cement block. Architecture was done by the George D. Mason Company of Detroit and the Bundy Construction company of Pontiac was the builder. Waterford expects over 10,000 students this year.

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Wednesday night the carpenters left and Thursday morning students took over the rooms in the addition to West Bloomfield High School. The above view shows the new structure through the covered walk connecting this wing with the original building. Space provided includes the equivalent of 14 classrooms and a large study hall. Students now have the use of an art room and a mechanical drawing room. Estimated attendance for the West Bloomfield District this year is 1,700. George T. Mason Company of Detroit did the architectural work with Ward Ross of Pontiac putting up the brick veneer building.

Smaller Bathtubs Popular

Small bathtubs featuring lower sides and extended apron seats for greater convenience are finding their way into bathrooms where space is a problem. They can be installed in little more than shower stall space, yet offer adequate bathing comfort.

NEW HARDWARE STORE — Chris Bulman who has owned and operated a hardware store at the corner of Elizabeth Lake and Cass Lake roads for five years, now has a new larger store. Located a few hundred feet west of the first store, this new face brick and cinder block building was planned and built by builder, James Lonie. The store which measures 41x120 feet has steel decking, an acoustical tile ceiling and cork-tone tile floors.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

NEAT AND COMPACT is the word for this low-slung three-bedroom ranch. It has economic back-to-back plumbing, with the bathtub away from the window. Bedrooms have horizontal strip windows and the two corner rooms enjoy cross-ventilation. The plan covers 1,118 square feet. It is Plan R31AP94 by Jan Reiner, architect, Box 12, Boston 17.

Hydronics Is a New Term

A new word has been added to the vocabulary of the heating industry.

It is "hydronics." The word designates the science of heating and cooling with water.

The word will be used as a descriptive term by all branches of the heating industry—manufacturers, wholesalers, and contractors, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

The new word is the result of an exhaustive study made by a Committee on Terminology of the Institute of Boiler and Radiator Manufacturers. The Committee made its report at a recent semi-annual meeting of the Institute and pointed out that the word "hydronics" clearly identifies the multitude of uses of controlled water for heating and cooling.

Hydronics was offered by the Committee after consultation with a number of engineers, manufacturers, and iangauge specialists with the object of creating a word that would be technically reflective of the role of the industry, pleasing to the ear and easy to remember.

★ ★ ★

The new term includes all functions of water-controlled heating systems. Along with heating and cooling for the home, commercial buildings and industrial structures, hydronics covers such operations as providing hot faucet water, melting snow on walks and driveways, and other functions.

New Folder Shows Moulding Uses

For the extra touch that will make a door more interesting, or a ceiling look higher, or a window more finished, mouldings are making a come-back in the American home.

Pushed aside in the builders' race for construction shortcuts, mouldings are returning to favor because of the demand for relieving the plainness of many features of the modern home.

A free album of ideas on many ways mouldings can be used, together with step - by - step photographs for the do-it-yourself craftsman on how to work with mouldings, has been prepared by the Western Pine Association.

Readers may obtain copies by writing for the folder "Minding Your Moulding Manners" to: The Western Pine Association, Yeon Building, Portland 4, Oregon.

Hide Flaws With Paint

If your painting job involves hiding cracks, rough or patched plaster, or dry wall seams, you might try using a texture paint. It's thicker than regular paint, is brushed on and then stippled with a brush or sponge.

Don't forget that dull blades cause far more accidents than sharp ones.

Gives Double Benefit

There are two-way benefits in providing heating for an enclosed porch, reminds the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. Not only is the usefulness of the porch area greatly enhanced out of season and on chill nights, but, like the heated vestibules of fine commercial buildings, the improvement provides a buffer against cold air blasts when doors are opened. Compact gas direct heating equipment figures in many such installations.

Shabby Roof Spoils Effect of New Paint

Cast a critical eye at the appearance of your roof before you paint your house.

★ ★ ★

This is the advice of New York color stylist Beatrice West, who says: "Putting a new coat of paint on a house with a shabby, worn-out roof is like wearing a fur coat and diamonds with dungarees. They just don't go together."

"Nothing spoils the appearance of an attractive home more than a weather-beaten roof. This is especially true when a house has been freshly painted. The new paint actually accentuates the shabbiness of the roof."

★ ★ ★

If the roof of a house shows signs of wearing out, Miss West says, she usually recommends a new roof of asphalt singles in a color which will provide a basic shade for other colors on siding, trim, and accent spots.

"As for the added cost," Miss West says, "I explain that when a roof begins to look worn, chances are it will no longer be serviceable in a year or two. The family will have to reroof then, anyway, and they might as well do it now and enjoy a completely color-styled house instead of doing the job only halfway."

The many colors available in asphalt shingles are a big help to color stylists, Miss West says. "For example, by choosing a roof of blended greend with a fleck of yellow in it, I can pick up the yellow for an accent color on doors, window boxes and shutters, while the trim and windows can be painted in a harmonizing green."

Another trick with roof color, Miss West adds, "makes houses look taller or longer and lower. You simply reroof a tall, awkward-looking house with a deep, dark color and it appears lower. The opposite is true of a small house that seems to be built too close to the ground. Light-color roofing gives it a lift, making it seem taller and larger."

Miss West, who color-styles thousands of new and remodeled homes every year, says she always examines the roof of a house first before deciding on a color scheme because:

Finish Floors to Suit Fancy

NEW YORK (INS) — Your floors don't have to look downtrodden—not with the variety of floor coverings on the market to appeal to almost any taste.

If you want a hard floor covering, you can turn to vinyl plastic or linoleum for the luxurious look of marble and the practicality of modern day floorings.

★ ★ ★

A semi-translucent vinyl combines ornamental value with a "depth" look, while linoleum can be obtained with a terrazzo marble texture and effect. Another elegant vinyl combines the plastic flooring with inlaid strips of ceramic tile and-or metal in a classic design that is simple and fits in with either period or modern decor.

Tweed is still among the top when it comes to carpeting. The uneven coloring makes tweed a best bet for practical usage since it doesn't show soil.

Rayon, wool, nylon blends sell for as low as $7.95 a square yard in color combinations such as turquoise, green and coral. Tweed can also be mixed with solid yarn for a rippled texture design that adds a little extra dash and tailoring to your carpeting decor.

Advance Planning Pays

Before you repaint your sitting room, how about trying out new ways to hang your pictures? A new grouping, this one a little higher, that one a little lower, or in an entirely new arrangement. It's a simple matter to plug up the nail holes with spackling material and smooth them with your finger. When you have achieved the effect you desire, you'll be all set to put your room to rights in record time once the paint is dry. Keep a sketch of your plan in case you might forget it.

ECONOMY BUILT HOUSE — Horizontal siding and brick add length to the exterior of this budget-built house. A bowed-out picture window adds contrast. This house can easily be built on a level lot.

SPACE IN WHICH TO GROW — Space for a growing family is provided in a nine-room house whose dimensions are only 35 feet by 36 feet. Note that the bedrooms are directly over the recreation room for easy heating. They are also away from the service areas such as the garage and kitchen. See story page 21.

Workshops Becoming a 'Must' in New Homes

Home builders, always alert to new trends sought by home buyers, are adopting the "if you can't whip 'em, join 'em" technique to lure the fast-growing army of do-it-yourself fans.

Not that the builders are encouraging handymen to build their own homes. But they are, in increasing numbers, making a room or space for a home work shop a "must" in plans for new homes, according to a poll conducted by handcraft specialists for Thor Power Tool Company.

* * *

Typical of the builders' reasoning for this trend is that expressed by Bruce Blietz, vice president of the Irvin A. Blietz organization, one of the largest custom quality home building concerns in the Chicago area, and chairman of the joint National Association of Home Builders-Producers Council.

"Pre-planned space in new homes for a home work shop is becoming as important today as the handy, ground-floor utility room that became a must in the postwar mushrooming popularity of the basement-less ranch-type home," explained young Blietz. "Over 90 per cent of the new homes we are building this year are designed to include space for this kind of activity."

The reason is two-fold, said Blietz.

"In the first place, do-it-yourself has become a giant industry almost overnight with modern, lightweight power tools making "experts" out of millions of beginners each year. Most of these handymen soon want a handy, in-the-house location to arrange their equipment and do their work.

"Secondly, the still increasing costs of labor and materials over the past several years, resulting in a constantly higher square-foot cost for a finished house, has resulted in the overwhelming popularity of smaller new homes designed for possible later additions. Many handymen as they increase their skills in their new do-it-yourself hobby, are tackling these postponed additions themselves."

Grit Does Dirty Work

Actual grit makes up from 10 to 30 per cent of the total volume of any dirt sample taken from floor coverings. It causes the greatest damange to them. Its sharp cutting edges, when it is allowed to remain at the base of the pile, do much harm as the routine traffic of the home and the movement of furniture to and fro exert pressure on them. Carpet manufacturers urge daily vacuuming of all traveled areas, and frequent cleaning for all others.

Conditioner Does It

Clean off shower-curtain scum by adding ½-cup water conditioner to warm water along with your favorite detergent or soap. Soak the curtains for a few minutes. Add ¼-cup water conditioner to the first rinse, then follow with a clear rinse. Let the curtain drip dry.

Windows Fun to Paint

A nice project for a child who's proud of his poster-paint progress is painting of pictures on his bedroom window. Pretty to look through and easy to wash off.

Sofa Pillows to Wash

Another "First" is claimed by Nettle Creek Industries, Richmond, Ind., for its "Polly-Pillo" which the firm says is the first pillow that can be washed and dried safely in automatic washers and driers. The fillings are of molded polyurethane foam which, the company states, are immune to cleaning fluids, alkalies and ultra violet rays. The covering is of nubby rayon and silk textured cloth highlighted by brass buttons. The pillows come in nine colors and three shapes.

An important part of every plumbing installation is concealed behind the walls and under the floors.

Split Level Magic Is Secret of Budget Home

The living requirements of the budget - minded family in an era of rising construction costs have posed an increasingly complex problem for home builders: how can one build a larger - than - average house on limited ground space, at moderate cost?

Now an architect, searching for the answer in the endless mystery and variations of design, has solved the problem through the magic of split levels.

Without the different levels, this nine-room house would not have been possible on an area of only 1,260 square feet.

The major aim, therefore, of the architect, Lester Cohen, in this House of The Week design, HW-68, was to solve the problem of providing plenty of living space on a small plot at budget cost.

Yet, he has done more than just this. The split level, in Cohen's adaptation of it, has created an interior with dramatic design and unusual charm.

It has provide the setting for an upswept dining area, elevated four feet above the living room area at the opposite end of the dominant first level living space.

A CONVERSATION PIECE

This is a real conversation piece—a custom - built extra which emphasizes an illusion of added space and up-and-down levels all emanating from a common plane.

This house is an expanded version, with subtle variations, of a previously popular model which had wide appeal to the economy - minded builder. The basic floor plan of the new design has been reversed, moving the living and dining room area to the right of the house as viewed from the front.

The bedrooms have been enlarged. A fireplace has been added to the living room area, and custom touches have been placed here and there.

Throughout the labor of working out his design, however, the architect has been conscious of two prime elements — (1) space and (2) economy in cost.

Hence, the basic appeal of this split level home is its generous living areas and its modest cost. Yet little more could be desired in the way of smart, modern features.

Consider, for example, once again the living room - dining room area. The dining area has been placed on a four-foot-high dais for "dining in space," if you please.

The very location and design of the dining dais adds drama to the living room. Entertaining in the living room, your guests are certain to be impressed by the dining dais, set high and enclosed by a trim wrought iron railing.

Plants, modern dining furniture, and a large reflector-type lamp suspended from the ceiling add an intimate atmosphere. A modern credenza or buffet can provide interest to the back wall of the dining dais.

And the view, while dining on the dais? You can look down on the living room and at the same time out through a gracefully - bowed picture window. The bow of the picture window repeats the curved line of the dining dais.

Overhead in the living room is a cathedral ceiling providing a still greater sense of height and space. All in all, a dramatic stage setting for either formal or informal entertaining.

Steps leading to the dining dais and steps descending into the recreation room below add still more interest to this central area of the house.

The kitchen is reached through an entrance at the left of the dining dias. A dumbwaiter is a feature of the kitchen. A tub shower and bath are easily accessible from the two rear bedrooms. The master bedroom has its own private lavatory.

A practical feature of the bedroom locations is to be found in the fact that they are directly over the recreation room, therefore easier to heat in the winter. They also are away from the service areas such as the garage and kitchen.

There is a private lavatory in the recreation room below, and a bar.

Outside the recreation room you and your guests can relax in comfort on an outside terrace. Add flagstones to the terrace and a brightly-colored awning overhead, if you wish.

The lower level also has a utility-laundry room. And an alcove for storage purposes and hobbies is almost like another full room.

The recreation room is not a basement room in the ordinary sense of the word because it is at grade level and has a full scale picture window and door out to the back terrace.

No point in the entire house is more than three feet below grade level.

A prime economy point in this house, whose overall dimensions are 35 feet by 36 feet, is that its design calls for an absolute minimum of foundation and digging.

It's a good house plan for a level lot, and it's been built with success on just such a lot. An economy-built house with plenty of room and custom features, through the magic of split levels!

Modify Eastern Art to Fit American Homes

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Century-old Japanese crafts ar being "Americanized" to fit into U. S. homes.

One of the leaders in this blending project is San Francisco designer Paul Matte, who displayed many of the results in the "Design for Today" exhibition at the World Trade Center.

Matte just returned from a two-month tour of Japan. At the invitation of the Japanese government, he served as a design consultant for artists and craftsmen.

One example of this East and West teamwork, Matte points out, is changing the proportions of a beautifully designed rice bowl into a salad bowl for American use.

For the kitchen there is a cherry-wood cannister set with a saucy red and yellow rooster design. Cutting boards, adorned by the same gay bird, come in a set of three. Bamboo is curved into baskets, fruit bowls and trays or woven with chenille into smart placemats of black and white or brown and orange.

In the earthenware, fine Japanese workmanship fashions native clay into berry sets — individual square berry cups with a larger serving bowl—ashtrays, low wide salad bowls with lots of tossing space, and fluted flower bowls.

For the nursery, the brightly painted wooden Kokeshi dolls have been wired as lamp bases.

Don't use a screwdriver in trying to break the paint seal holding a stuck window in place or you will leave conspicuous marks on both the sash and the frame.

No Nails, Joints in Bookcase

A volume of knowledge isn't necessary to build a bookcase, especially if nails or cabinet joints are not used. All you need are boards and bricks . . . and some books, of course.

Simply lay a finished board across bricks spaced under the ends and center. Add more bricks on top, another board, more bricks a board, and presto! You have a bookcase.

Use good face brick. Glass brick adds a modern, decorative touch. The number you use between the boards will determine the shelf height to accommodate different book sizes.

This brick-and-board case can be as long as you wish, but tends to wobble if built too high. If you keep it long and low, the top board can support tall indoor plants, statuettes and other ornamental objects. Their weight will keep the top board steady.

For more rigidity, drill two or three holes at the end of each board and run dowels or tubular metal from top to bottom. You'll need sturdy boards, three quarters to one inch thick, and 10 to 12 inches wide to hold larger books or magazines.

Select the wood and its finish to match your other furnishings. Modern, clear finishes which accent the natural grain and beauty of the wood are popular with several varieties to provide the durability and luster you want. But whichever you choose — varnish, lacquer or wax — will require extensive sanding before and between coats. A versatile power sander will take the muscle strain out of this job, and also can be fitted with felt pads or bonnets for fianl polishing.

Pre-fabrication has demonstrated its advantages in the shower cabinet industry. Available are units which can be quickly assembled in cramped quarters and will provide a leak-proof installation.

Well Planned Entry Is Indoor Welcome Mat

There are more ways than one to welcome guests into your home, and one of the most effective is to design the home's entrance to give the preliminary greeting.

★ ★ ★ ★

Far too often this all-important area is treated like an enlarged cloak closet when it should really have been designed as an enlarged welcome mat, for here the tribal rites of friendship are exchanged—the handshakes, the inquiries after health, the relinquishing of one's outdoor vestments into another's care and keeping—and here the first impression of your home is given.

Via a decorative motif for the entryway featuring a simple, warm and den-like setting, your friends are assured of a hearty welcome into your home. Glowing walls of western red cedar paneling, for instance, immediately envelop the guest in an atmosphere of comraderie and warmth, for there is a natural wealth of highlights and coloring in this wood which cannot be duplicated with paints or papers of any sort.

Obviously, size is also a factor to be considered. The entryway must accommodate four to six persons struggling with coats, hats and umbrellas. Lighting is another, for no visitor will be overjoyed at being received into a mysteriously darkened cell.

Windows framing scenes of the outdoors or translucent panels of glass bring the cheer of daylight into the room, and the same red cedar can be used with telling effect for planter boxes set beneath the windows.

What housewife isn't called upon several times a week to receive unexpected callers into her home—the neighbor lady looking for her child, salesmen and charity solicitors. A well designed entryway makes the perfect reception area, and there's no need to take them further into the home. A banquette seat of cedar to match the paneling may be built in along one wall, and provides a place for the salesman to show his wares, the census taker to relax while taking his necessary poll.

A built-in corner table of cedar at one end of the banquette seat and a magazine rack at the other give the final balancing touches to the decor, and to your home's signature.

Unused Openings Turn Into Shelves

Many times in home remodeling, original doors and windows are closed and converted to wall surfaces. Instead, these openings can be put to good use as bookshelves or shadow boxes for displaying hobby collections, books or handicraft items.

The back of the opening should be lined with Masonite Presdwood and the top and bottom with light lumber. Lining the sides with ⅛" "Peg-Board" panels provides a place for pegs to support wood shelves.

All surfaces should be painted with a prime coat and one or two finish coats to match the decor of the room.

New Use for Plastic Tape

Loose handles, that thread or wedge in socket-type joints, can be a problem to tighten with glue or nails. Take up the slack with a couple of twists of ellophane tape. It conforms to the shape of either a threaded or tapered joint.

Renew Metal Furniture Before Winter Storage

If outdoor metal furniture is showing signs of rust, do not put it away for the winter without giving it a reviving treatment. Sandpaper off all rust, next using the vacuum cleaner to remove the dust. Then, again using the vacuum cleaner for both operations, apply a primer, then paint-spray the furniture.

Cover thoroughly before storing, which should be in a clean dry place. If cushions look dingy, make new covers for them during the winter so that they will be ready for service at the first signs of spring.

HUTCH CABINET — The hutch or Welsh cabinet pictured here with NBC's actress, pretty Gloria Maxwell, is certainly easy to build. It has shelves to show off your fancy dishes or knick-knacks. There are two drawers for silverware or other articles and a space at the bottom for table linens and things like that. The pattern for building this cabinet is full size. All you need do is trace the pattern on the wood, then saw out the parts and finally put them together. The pattern lists the required materials (regular 1 inch lumber) along with easy to read step-by-step directions. The cabinet can easily be completed in three or four evenings. To obtain the full size Welsh Cabinet pattern No. 141, send $1.00 to Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, Calif.

Residential Building Down 4 Per Cent

NEW YORK — Contracts for future construction in the United States in July totaled $2,900,681,000, a decline of four per cent below July 1956, the F. W. Dodge Corporation, construction news and marketing specialists, reported today.

Non-residential contracts in July amounted to $960,658,000, down 11 per cent from the comparable month last year. Nearly all the major non-residential building types shared in the decline.

July contracts for residential buildings were valued at $1,286,937,000, an increase of 13 per cent over the corresponding year-earlier level. Number of housing units represented by the July contracts totaled 95,696, up seven per cent above a year ago. Contracts for multi-unit dwellings accounted for the major part of the increase in both dollar and unit volume.

Contracts for heavy engineering construction in July totaled $653,086,000, a decrease of 18 per cent compared with the same month last year. Both public works and utilities were below their corresponding year-earlier levels.

Cumulative contract totals for the major construction categories for the first seven months of this year, with percentage changes from the comparable 1956 period, are as follows: non-residential building, $6,931,405,000, up three per cent; residential building, $7,770,251,000, down two per cent; heavy engineering, $5,157,030,000, 14 per cent; and total construction, $19,858,686,000, up three per cent.

Valance Size Important

When cutting wood for a valance, remember that the size should be governed by the shape of the window and the weight of the material, according to home workshop specialists of Thor Power Tool Company. A short, wide window needs a narrow valance; a tall, narrow window can take a deeper and wider valance. Use lightweight wood or plywood to avoid undue strain on the window frame or wall where the cornice is hung.

Smart Decorator Can Deceive the Eye

Let yourself be a party to fraud, hoax, artifice and deception, House & Garden magazine's decorating staff advises, and you'll be found guilty of no more than cleverness as a decorator. "Trompe l'oeil" — literally, "to fool the eye" — is a centuries-old technique that has returned to popularity.

* * *

The flat plaster walls in Pompeiian villas, for example, were trimmed with architectural details which gave an illusion of depth. Today, we use the same fantasy technique to trick the eye into seeing spaciousness in a small area, or three dimensions where there are only two.

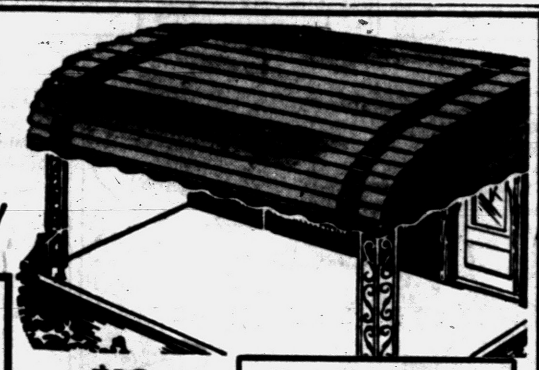

Among the original suggestions from "The Grand Illusion in Decorating," a recent feature, are the use of a "library" of mock books printed on wallpaper to give depth to a small room, a life-like decorative false front to create interest in an empty or artificial fireplace, a "marble" floor that is actually a patterned vinyl tile, or what appears to be an unbroken wall area in which doorways have been camouflaged by architectural detail.

Record Budget for Next Year

Inflation Boosts Cost of Food in Prisons

LANSING (AP) — Costs of prison life, like everything else, are moving up year by year.

Gus Harrison, state corrections director called attention to inflationary trends behind prison walls yesterday in asking the Corrections Commission to endorse a record $22,300,000 budget for the 1958-59 fiscal year.

Harrison, basing his estimates on an expected prison population of 10,600, said costs of feeding inmates should climb 3 per cent and prices of other commodities 5 per cent.

Inflation also has hit inmate pocketbooks, he said, and won commission backing of a raise to 15 cents in the minimum daily wage paid to working inmates. Some prisoners now earn as little as a nickel a day, from which they must purchase such personal items as cigarettes and toothpaste. Most, however, collect between 15 and 40 cents, with some earning as much as $1 a day.

Harrison estimated the increases would amount to about $55,000 a year.

The corrections department this year is operating on a $15,500,000 budget. It's $500,000 allocation for capital outlay was only enough to keep current projects going.

Next year, the department hopes to wheedle six million dollars from the Legislature for building purposes.

Harrison told the commission that 200 prisoners will move into the first section of the new medium security prison at Ionia by Jan. 1 as scheduled. But, he added, young men confined to the institution will be "roughing it" for a time, attending classes in makeshift classrooms doubling as dormitories.

So far, some $2,600,000 has been spent on the new prison. Its estimated cost will run between six and seven million.

Harrison suggested two names for it: the Corrections Youth Training Center or the Michigan Youth Training Center.

In other action, the commission turned over to the attorney general's office a request by state jail inspector William Nestle to condemn the Gogebic County jail at Bessemer. Nestle said the jail is antiquated and sadly inadequate.

Southfield Stops WXYZ Rezoning

TV Station Proposes $4,000,000 Buildings, 1,000 Foot Antenna

SOUTHFIELD—Station WXYZ-TV's request to have 90 acres on 10 Mile Road, west of Northwestern Highway, rezoned from residential to commercial has been turned down by the Zoning Board here.

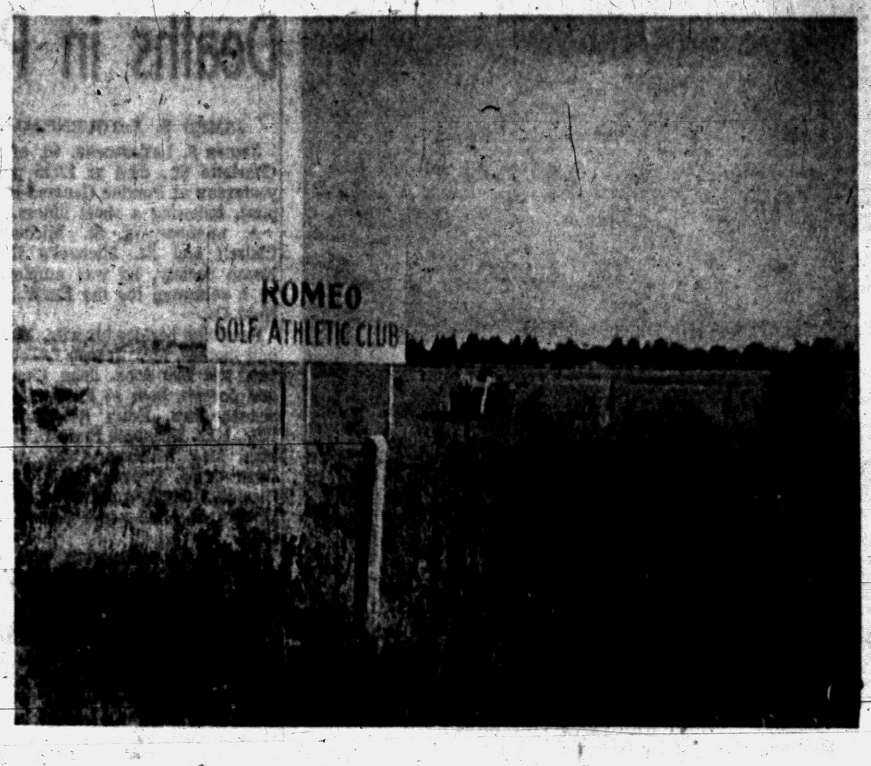

The station has an option on the land and had planned to build a $4,000,000 radio and television station with a 1,000 foot antenna.

James G. Riddell, president of WXYZ, said this morning that one last attempt would be made by the station to get the property rezoned. He plans to go before the Township Board again at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The station has been trying for the past eight months to get the property rezoned. Petitions with over 400 signatures from residents in the area, protesting construction of the antenna were received by the township board last March.

Three color TV studios, three radio studios and complete administrative facilities were planned by WXYZ on 40 acres of the site.

WXYZ's present station in the Maccabees Building would be abandoned.

GOLF CLUB SITE — Work has begun on the golf course which will be the major part of the new Romeo Golf and Athletic Club. Located on the south side of 32 Mile road, it is less than a mile east of the village. In bulldozer, Hiram C. Brown grades the 18th green.

Build Golf, Athletic Club at Romeo

ROMEO — Workmen have begun laying out the 18-hole golf course for the new Romeo Golf and Athletic Club on 32 Mile Rd., less than a mile east of the village limits.

This is the first step in the development of the 158-acre parcel of land which was the south farm of the Pontiac Nursery Co. before its sale early this summer.

Buyer Victor DeBaeke of Grosse Ponte Shores has elaborate plans for the project, according to his superintendent in charge of construction, Hiram C. Brown.

In addition to the golf course, Brown says the 11-room frame home on the property will eventually be remodeled and used as a clubhouse. Future plans also call for a swimming pool and tennis courts.

Brown anticipates that the driving range at the north end of site will be open next spring. He says that it will take about two years to develop the golf course and that it should be ready by the spring of 1960.

The superintendent is busy now grading the 18th green and supervising the excavation of a pound close to proposed location of the sixth green. A stream once ran through this section of the property.

Brown and his wife live in the farmhouse while he supervises the project. He says he will work on the golf course the year 'round until it is completed.

DeBaeke is the former owner of the Beverly Hills Golf Club on the club several years ago to the Van Dyke in Warren. He sold General Motors Corp.

Dedicate Church Sunday at Lyon

Cornerstone of $25,000 Structure Was Laid in July

SOUTH LYON—Dedication of the new Immanueal Lutheran Church located on East Liberty street here will take place at 10 a.m. Sunday.

The Rev. Alfred J. Maas, of Sodus, will conduct the service and the Rev. Karl J. Kraus of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Lansing, second vice president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synodical Conference of North America will conduct the 3 p.m. service.

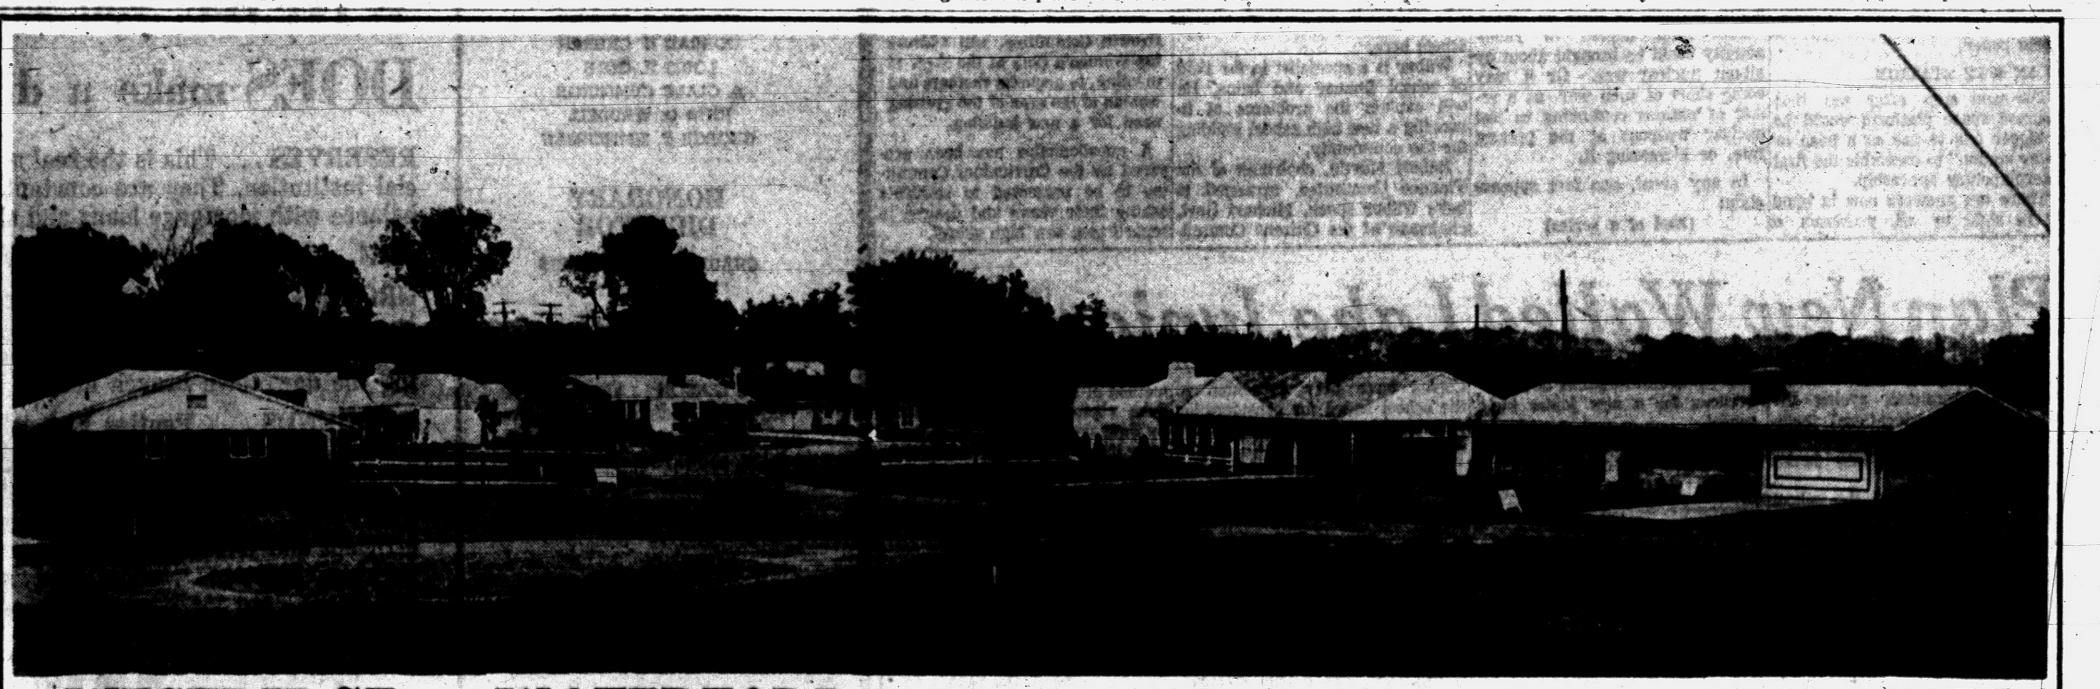

The Rev. Maas started the mission here in 1931 and served as pastor for 25 years and was succeeded by the Rev. Alfred M. Walthers.

Work on the 32-52 foot church was started in early June of this year, following two years of planning and financing. It was designed by architects Kraus and Farnsworth of Lansing, with an exterior of tan brick with laminated wood arches finished in soft tones of natural wood, giving the interior a cathedral-like appearance.

A kitchen, office and lavatories are provided in the new structure which is also designed so that it may become a wing of a still larger church.

Laying of the corner stone program was held in early July.

The church cost, estimated to be $25,000 by Dilloway Construction Co. of Brighton, was greatly lessened by interior work done by members of the church.

Success is in sight for fantastic dream after 25 years of work and research.

Fantastic Journey

Want to Rocket to the Moon in Perhaps Twenty Years?

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA)—No man has yet seen the other side of the moon for our natural satellite keeps the same face turned toward the earth.

The only way to see the back of the moon is to go there—and man may do this in the next 10 or 20 years. The distance is only about 220,000 miles.

The first trip to the moon has enormous significance to the nation's defense. The rapid progress of America's guided missile program has already put space flight in the realm of the probable.

Neil McElroy's handling of the missile program will determine just how soon the U.S. masters space flight. And the first country able to get to the moon will also have the tools to make the world free or slave.

The beginning of space flight will come on the day man places the first "artificial moon" in an orbit 200-300 miles high above earth, some time during the 18-month International Geophysical Year which began July 1.

500 MILES UP

A 250-mile altitude was reached by an Army two-stage rocket as long ago as 1949. Recent reports are that this height has been more than doubled.

Such a satellite will fulfill a 25-year dream of Doctor Wernher von Braun and his group of space enthusiasts at the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, Huntsville, Ala. —even though they are not directly engaged in the U.S. satilite program.

Doctor von Braun, now 45, received his degree of doctor of philosophy in physics at age 22. He has been working on rockets and space flight since 1930.

He envisions the next step after the unmanned satellite as a manned "space platform" 1,075 miles up in the vacuum of outer space. It will travel at 18,000 miles an hour to circle the earth every two hours indefinitely.

★ ★ ★

From such a space platform, launched in the right direction, every corner of the world would be visible at least once every day.

It would therefore provide the ideal "open sky" means of inspection and enforcing world disarmament, and thereby achieving world peace.

PLAN WAY STATION

The next step after the first manned space platform would be a bigger one to use as a base or "way station" to assemble the first interplanetary spaceship.

There are answers now in hand or in sight to all problems a "Model T" spaceship presents. The only delaying factor would be the amount of money and scientific effort the U.S. decided to invest.

An advanced spaceship would blast off years sooner if a way can be found to use atomic fission for propelling power, instead of the chemical energy which rockets use today. The Atomic Energy Commission is already at work on the problem.

McElroy will find that the Soviets to are in the "race to space." They have announced plans to launch their own "artificial moons." And Soviet scientists have indicated that intensive effort is going into space rockets. Animals are used as experimental "space passengers."

What will man discover on the far side of the moon, or on the other planets?

Perhaps nothing — perhaps treasure-houses of materials and knowledge. A big enough find of uranium would supply power to turn our deserts green and to free mankind entirely from hunger, poverty and servile work.

A dividend like this would be rich reward for our rocket research.

There is another reason why missilemen are eyeing the other planets. This is the frightening possibility that Planet Earth will become a "poison planet" — so radioactively "hot" that mankind, no longer able to survive here, will have to turn elsewhere for his home, perhaps to Mars or Venus.

This fatel degree of radioactivity could be brought about by all-out nuclear war. Or it may come short of such war, as a result of nations continuing to test nuclear weapons at the present rate, or increasing it.

In any event, one fact appears plain:

Talk on High School Financing

Specialist Will Speak to Clarkston Citizens

CLARKSTON—Mills Wilbur, Consultant of the School Bond and Loan Program of the State Department of Public Instruction, will address the Citizens Committee of the Clarkston Community School District Monday night at the high school here.

Wilbur is a specialist in the field of school finance and loans. He will explain the problems of financing a new high school building for the community.

Robert Martin, chairman of the Finance Committee, arranged to have Wilbur speak. Michael Hart, chairman of the Citizens Committee has been conducting meetings all summer in preparation for the building program which is fast becoming a necessity in the community.

Frank Ronk, chairman of the Growth Committee, will address the Women's Club at the Sept. 18 meeting, to acquaint mothers and women of the area of the growing need for a new building.

A questionnaire has been prepared by the Curriculum Committee to be presented to residents asking their views and desires in regard to a new high school.

Teamsters on Trial

Asks Repudiation of Hoffa for Contacts With Hoods

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Writer

The question of rehabilitation of personalities who had served time in jail came up as a byproduct issue at the hearings before the McClellan Select Senate Committee on Improper Practices of Management and Labor.

For example, Jimmy Hoffa, of the Teamsters Union, tried to justify a record of association with some hoodlums and criminals on the noble ground that he believed in redemption and in the right of reformed men to earn a livelihood.

This raises serious and delicate problems in human relations for government, business and the labor unions.

Whether or not it is possible for a leopard to change his spots, it seems a mere matter of common sense and integrity not to put those with a shady past in delicate positions of trust which may represent maximum temptation.

No bank president, for example, would deem it prudent to give the keys to the vault to those with blemished records, though the executive, is actuated by humane considerations, might not exclude ex-criminals from assignments as porters.

Where an executive establishes a pattern of association with riff raff, it tells something about the person himself. Sometimes, there may be a temptation deliberately to select hoodlums for strong arm work.

The revelations before the Select Committee on Racketeering must indeed have been a painful experience for Senator Irving Ives (R-NY), a member of the committee. There is no question of the senator's idealism and personal integrity.

FRIEND OF LABOR

In New York and at Washington, he has consistently been a friend of labor. From the academic side in the Industrial Relations School in New York, Senator Ives was a leader in developing the ideology of "progressive" industrial relations.

It must have been shocking to the Senator to see his good intentions perverted by racketeers.

It was a moving experience when the senator at the hearing asked Hoffa for a pledge of better standards when and if he becomes president of the Teamsters Union.

Hoffa alone is not on trial. The rank and file of the Teamsters are also before the bar of public opinion as they vote for a new national president late this month. If, in face of the disclosures Hoffa is elected, the reputation of organized labor before public opinion will suffer.

Ike Rushes Aid to Syria's Neighbors

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today speeded up U. S. aid to Syria's neighbors and expressed hope that "international communism" would not push Syria into aggression.

Eisenhower's reaction to expressed fears from Syria's Arab neighbors was made known by Secretary of State Dulles after an urgent two-hour White House conference.

Dulles, flanked by Deputy Undersecretary Loy Henderson, read a three-page statement to reporters. He refused to go beyond it.

Eisenhower's reaction, Dulles said, was to appraise this gloomy report in the light of the U. N. Charter "which denies Syria the right of any use of force except in self defense."

Plan New Walled Lake Junior High

WALLED LAKE—The Citizens' Planning Committee, eyeing the need for more educational facilities for this fast-growing area, has released plans for a new junior high school.

It is proposed that the school be constructed on a 30-acre site which fronts Commerce road in Commerce Township. The property is located across from Edgewood Golf Club.

★ ★ ★

The land was purchased several months ago by the Board of Education serving the Walled Lake Consolidated School District.

The committee, separate from the Save Our Schools (SOS) organization, has studied the need for more school space. Results of the study were utilized to make recommendations and suggestions for a new junior high school.

Committee members have published a brochure containing specifications for the proposed unit. Copies have been presented to the school board for consideration and to an architect for sketches and cost estimates.

It is expected that the school board will be asked to propose a method of financing the new school. Such a proposal would be needed by January, 1958 or shortly thereafter if the proposed school is to be completed by September, 1959, as asked by the committee.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

THE BEST—The little town of Peebles, Ohio, total population 1,600, will play host to the World's Plowing Matches Sept. 17-20. Among the many signs erected to welcome the expected 300,000 visitors is this one extending the welcome of Night Bloomers Garden Club. The O.A.G.C. on the sign means the Night Bloomers are members of the Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs.

Typhoon Weakened to Tropical Storm

TOKYO (AP)—U. S. Air Force weather observers said today typhoon Bess, now moving over southern Japan, had weakened to a tropical storm.

The storm slammed into Kyushu today with winds of 115 miles an hour.

★ ★ ★

Japanese police reported three persons missing and 15 injured in that area. They said 1,115 homes were damaged and 10,000 persons were homeless.

The Kyodod News Agency said at least 20 persons were killed by the typhoon.

A U. S. Air Force weather bulletin said winds had dropped to 60 miles an hour at the storm's center as it moved 100 miles east southeast of Itazuki, site of an American air base in northern Kyushu. The storm was moving northeast at 13 miles an hour.

Ford Chalks Up First for New Edsel Line

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ford Motor Co. can chalk up a first for its new Edsel line.

At a North Philadelphia dealer's place, a new Edsel was parked on the pavement and left unguarded for a moment. When an employe went back for it, it had been stolen.

The dealer reported the car, valued at $3,800, stolen at 3:20 p.m. to police. As far as was known it was the first stolen car case involving an Edsel.

Asian Flu Hits Korea

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean government officials estimated today 2,772,000 persons were stricken with Asian flu during June, July and August when an epidemic swept the peninsula.

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—About 600 supporters of ousted President Juan Peron marched through downtown Buenos Aires last night shouting "Peron will return." Police broke up the demonstration with tear gas. Twenty-five demonstrators were reported arrested.

South African wines are winning New Zealand's wine market away from Australia, Adelaide reports.

'There's Always Tomorrow'

Grandma Moses 97

EAGLE BRIDGE, N. Y. (AP)—"Just work so hard that there's no time to worry," says Grandma Moses, a spry 97 today.

The world - famous painter of primitives, still in "unusually good" health, commented on her birthday eve: "If you can't finish it today, there's always tomorrow."

Grandma looked at 97 roses, the gift of admirers, and declared that people "make too much fuss" about her birthdays. "I'm just a plain person," she said.

A quiet day with her family and friends was her only birthday plan.

Until she took up painting in her 70s, Grandma was known only as Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses—farm wife and mother of 10.

Today, dozens of her paintings hang in museums. Many are reproduced on Christmas cards.

Seldom does Grandma, a sufferer of arthritis, miss a day of painting. She's busy at work well before 6:30 a.m. She paints several hours each day, usually working on two or three paintings at a time.

★ ★ ★

As Grandma talked to a newsman, she gazed out a window to watch workers in a nearby field pick tomatoes.

"You know," she said, "if I wasn't so lazy I'd go out and pick some too."

Grandma lives with a daughter, Mrs. Winona Fisher, in a one-story brick house in this rural community near the Vermont line.

Actor Adolphe Menjou Examined in Hospital

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — An accident at the dinner table has put actor Adolphe Menjou in the hospital for x-rays and treatment.

★ ★ ★

Peter Menjou said yesterday that his father caught his foot between a table leg and his chair as he was finishing dinner in his Beverly Hills home Thursday night. He fell over backwards, pulling ligaments in his right hip and leg. Menjou, 67, was hospitalized yesterday.

'Dick and Duchess' Show to Start Sept. 28 on CBS

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Sheldon Reynolds couldn't peddle his Milton Berle comic-whodunit series but he's sold his "Dick and the Duchess" celluloid to CBS-TV, starting Sept. 28, opposite Perry Como.

Somehow, the prospect of a spectacular version of "I Love Lucy" doesn't sound as funny as the durable old series was. The first one stars Lucy, Desi, Rudy Vallee, Hedda Hopper, Cesar Romero, Ann Sothern and, of course, Bill Frawley and Vivian Vance.

John Huston takes the TV plunge in '58 with a 90-minute color film, "Huston in Japan." Huston expects his TV premier will be written by S. J. Perelman, filmed by Gjon Mili.

Arlene Francis will go full tilt into glamorous togs in her new morning variety show now that she doesn't have to keep up the old intently conservative "Home" girl action.

CBS-TV has a glamor gal set to appear (on film) in its new "20th Century" series: Queen Victoria, via rare reel coaxed from a private old-celluloid collector.

TV ROLE FOR ERIN

Before Erin O'Brien starts "Marjorie Morningstar" for Warners, that studio will use her in the cast of ABC-TV's "Colt .45" series, in an episode ("The Peacemaker") written by Marion Hargrove.

Sammy Cahn has written lyrics to the "Playhouse 90" theme (composed by Alex North) which now will be called "The One Love."

CBS is being nice about permitting Polly Bergen to take the NBC Saturday TV show starting Sept. 21 alternating with Dean Martin.

One of the minor characters to be portrayed in "The Californians" starting Tuesday, Sept. 24, NBC-TV, will be Mark Twain.

David Atkinson was signed for a role in the tuned-up TV version of "The Importance of Being Earnest" on U. S. Steel Oct. 9.

Gwen Verdon's being considered for the General Motors spec . . . whose theme will be "Happiness."

NBC (via its ownership in Joe Mankiewicz' "Figaro Productions") will be sole backer of the legit play "The Square Root of Wonderful" this season, in exchange for the possible profits and certain TV rights. It will star Anne Baxter.

About 75 million meals are served daily in public eating places.
