

Stevens Admits Asking McCarthy to Halt Probe

215 Children Get Salk Serum

Health Officials Place Approval on Polio Vaccine

Parents Still Hesitant to Permit Youngsters to Take Shots

The Salk polio vaccine tests started today in Oakland County, with some 215 children scheduled to be inoculated at five schools.

As the tests got under way in Oakland and three other Michigan counties, Ingham County dropped out of the program due to a polio case there.

A national advisory committee has ruled the tests out in any county with a case of paralytic polio within two weeks of the program.

The number of first, second and third grade children of the five Oakland schools was less than half of the enrollment in those grades.

Health authorities estimate parents will let 15,000 Oakland County children take part in the test. This is almost half as many as expected before the vaccine's safety was questioned.

The tests started today in Michigan and 44 other states after the program was given final clearance Sunday by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Several polio experts flashed the green light to local authorities following a two-day review of the new vaccine's safety.

The Oakland County Medical Society also officially endorsed the program at a Sunday night meeting of its board of directors.

About a million children will get shots before the test is over. Half of them getting the control liquid and the others getting the new serum that may stamp out polio for ever.

"Everything went fine this morning," Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director, said.

Parents let 35 of the 131 children in first, second and third grades of the Novi-Stone and Chapman schools take the test shots. Clarkston Elementary parents okayed 46 of the 139 youngsters in the first three grades there.

Berk Baker School in the Huron Valley District had 134 children scheduled to get shots this afternoon — a little less than half the 315 eligible youngsters.

"The children are calm about the test," Arthur Burkum, Baker principal and school district supervising elementary principal, said today. "They're a little too young to realize the full meaning of it — it's just another shot to them."

Each child was given one cubic centimeter (about one-fifth of a teaspoonful) of watery pink fluid. No one — not even the doctors giving the shots — knows whether a child is getting the new vaccine or the control liquid.

The code number on the vial of liquid was set down after each youngster's name in the records. The number will later tell whether or not the child got the vaccine.

Keep Reds Out in Open, Says Danish Ambassador

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

Danish Ambassador Henrik Kauffmann warned the United States against chasing its Communists underground in an interview Saturday at the Danish Old Folks Home near Rochester.

"In Denmark we let them get up on their soap boxes and discourse to their heart's content. Then we know who they are and what they are. Our people develop an immunity to this crazed ideology when they know what it is," said the diplomat of 22 years.

Kauffmann asserted that people "never catch that which they have had a chance to develop an immunity to." He said he did not like to sound pessimistic, but he held little hope for any peaceful results from the Geneva Conference opening today.

Things in the East, he said, were shaping up faster than any conference could discuss them.

His visit to the Old Folks Home brought his commendation for this type of "transplanting of the old country ways."

Clarkston Pupils Among County's First

"EASY, NOW"—Seven-year-old William Burns Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Burns of Clarkston, was one of the first Clarkston school children to take part in the first day of the field test of Dr. Jonas E. Salk's new polio vaccine. Dr. Rockwood W. Bullard of Clarkston, left, and registered nurse Miss Arvilla Sevold, Drayton Plains, right, gave injections to 35 Clarkston school children.

French Ask Allied Troops to Stave Off Indochina Loss

PARIS (AP)—France's frantic government canvassed its major allies for fresh aid to stave off defeat at Dien Bien Phu today. The best it could do was a reported possibility that the United States might consider sending forces to Indochina if the proposed Southeast Asia Alliance is formed.

An authoritative French source in Geneva for the Asian Conference said President Eisenhower's government had turned down a French request that U.S. Air Force planes and pilots be sent into action at once against the Vietminh rebels.

Vietminh Pound Dien Bien Phu

Encircled French Brace for Hand-to-Hand Battle to Halt Mass Assault

HANOI, Indochina, (U)—Dien Bien Phu reeled under violent Vietminh bombardment today but the French said the rebels still held off their long-expected third mass assault to engulf the battered northwest Indochina fortress.

The tightly packed French Union defenders, driven into a cluster of fortifications less than a mile and a quarter across, were in an "extremely serious but not desperate" position, the French reported last night. Today they said the situation was "unchanged."

Informants in radio contact with the isolated, encircled plain said the morale of the garrison troops was "sky high" as they braced themselves for the bloody hand-to-hand fighting they hoped desperately would hold back any all-out enemy attempt to sway the Geneva conference on Asian problems.

The rebels leveled their heaviest mortar and artillery fire on the northwestern corner of the shrunken Dien Bien Phu redoubt. This was an attempt to rip bigger holes in the crumbling defenses in the northwest, opening a floodgate for (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

19 Nations Meet in Geneva Today to Debate Peace

Dulles Wins 1st Round, Keeps Red China From Presiding Job

GENEVA (INS)—The historic 19-nation East-West Geneva Conference opened today with a 19-minute session approving a procedure that excludes Communist China from presiding at any session.

The delegates attending the conference which has been called to try to obtain peace in Indochina and reunify Korea will meet again tomorrow, with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov presiding.

A compromise formula restricting the rotating chairmanship to three nations, Thailand, Russia and Britain, in that order, was regarded as a victory for U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Dulles himself is excluded as acting as chairman at any time, but an American spokesman explained he preferred this so as to be free to speak from the floor at any time.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov agreed to the compromise plan before the brief opening session began and a Russian delegate told a French official that Molotov intended to exert a conciliatory influence. Molotov was quoted as saying, "nothing will exhaust our patience."

Western delegates, familiar with Molotov's "patience" at previous conferences, were pessimistic about getting peace in Indochina or any agreement that would reunite North and South Korea.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said of today's short session: "We had a very satisfactory meeting devoted entirely to procedure."

Thailand Foreign Minister Prince Wan Wathayakorn made what Western delegates termed a "simple, cordial, direct and businesslike" inaugural speech, then obtained ratification of the rotation and other organizational plans.

An authoritative French informant said that South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai will make the opening statement at tomorrow's session.

When today's session ended it was learned French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault will meet Molotov and Eden tonight at Bidault's villa.

Indochina War Significant—Ike

President Says Loss Is Liable to Affect Millions in Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower declared today that this is "a time of great decisions" in world affairs, with the outcome of the Indochinese war carrying "the greatest significance for the United States."

The President told the United States Chamber of Commerce that Indochina is "the cork in the bottle" whose loss would affect the fate of hundreds of millions in "the surrounding areas of Asia."

How can the democratic government of Japan exist, he asked, if those areas are lost to communism?

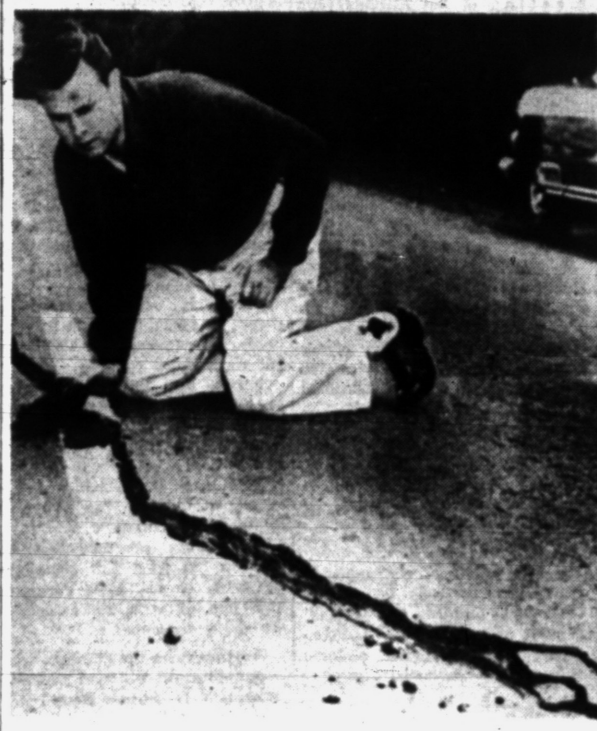

Earlier, Secretary of Defense Wilson told the chamber that the "new look" study of America's defense has been completed and said it has led to "great and encouraging progress" in the military program.

"I do not claim that all the inefficiencies and waste in our defense activities have been eliminated, nor that all of our objectives will shortly be achieved," he added. "Improvement must be a continuing process."

Earth Tremors Crack Road

ON CHITTENDEN PASS HIGHWAY—Edward Reeves examines a 3-inch crack in the Chittenden Pass highway eight miles east of Watsonville, Calif., caused by an earthquake which struck Sunday afternoon. A slide near this point closed the highway for an hour.

Strongest Recorded in 2 Years

Earthquake Jolts Central California Coast Sunday

WATSONVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Central California's strongest earthquake in nearly two years jolted a 150-mile stretch along the West coast yesterday, frightening thousands, causing widespread minor damage to buildings and temporarily blocking a highway east of here.

A panicked crowd of some 500 rushed for the doorways of a dog show at the fairgrounds five miles north of here, bruising an unidentified 16-year-old girl. She was the only injury reported.

The shocks, recorded by the University of California seismograph for 20 minutes starting at 1:33:47.5 p. m. PDT, were felt throughout the San Francisco Bay area, 90 miles to the north.

The UC seismograph at Berkeley registered an intensity of 5.2 on the 10-point Richter Scale, compared to more than 7 for the 1952 Kern County quake in which five died and 84 for the disastrous 1906 San Francisco quake.

Dr. Perry Byerly, university seismologist, said the shocks centered about 75 miles south of Berkeley. Reports indicated the towns of Hollister, Gilroy and Watsonville got the worst shaking.

In Watsonville, a lettuce-growing center of 11,000, Police Sgt. J. G. Brandon called it the "worst quake I've ever felt in my life—worse than the one in Santa Barbara when I was living there several years ago." Police estimated damage roughly at from $25,000 to $40,000.

Chunks of concrete fell from the Bank of America building, plaster dropped from the ceiling and two walls of the bank cracked.

There were widespread reports in the Watsonville-Gilroy-Hollister area of toppled chimneys, fallen dishes and bottles and broken windows.

The Gilroy-Watsonville highway over Chittenden Pass was blocked several hours when the quake opened a three-inch crack 50 feet long and loosed earth slides over five miles of the route.

A city water main apparently snapped as pressure dropped perceptibly after the shocks. Two downtown plate glass windows shattered in Hollister and a ceiling fell in a drugstore and hotel bar.

Trucker Dies After Release From Wreck

A Flint truck driver, pinned in the cab of his truck for over an hour, died in a Pontiac hospital today shortly after Berkley firemen freed him from the wreckage.

Roy E. Boyd, 40, died in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after his vehicle crashed into another truck waiting for a traffic light at Woodward Ave. and Northwood Blvd.

Firemen worked for nearly an hour before releasing him by tearing away the front end of the cab with a cable.

Berkley Police said Boyd apparently dozed and his semi smashed into the rear of the other truck operated by Randall Trout, 31, of Keego Harbor. Trout was uninjured.

Wanted Army to Conduct Quiz at Ft. Monmouth

Testifying Secretary Denies He Was Afraid of Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens agreed today he once suggested that Sen. McCarthy lay off his probe for Communists at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and let the Army handle it. He denied, however, that he was "afraid" of the Wisconsin senator.

Stevens made the statements under hammering cross-examination by special counsel Ray Jenkins at the third day of hearings into the row between the Wisconsin senator and high Army officials.

A little earlier, the ordinarily quiet spoken secretary testified that McCarthy's "publicity tactics" at Ft. Monmouth had caused "a great deal of misinformation and excitement." But Stevens conceded McCarthy did "speed up" some suspensions.

Jenkins demanded to know whether Stevens had not gone to New York City last November to "make peace with Sen. McCarthy" after telling newsmen in Washington that there was no "current espionage" at Ft. Monmouth.

"No, sir," Stevens said, laughing.

Jenkins recalled that Stevens had testified two McCarthy aides had told him the senator was displeased with Stevens news conference statement.

Why then, asked Jenkins, "did you go traipsing off to New York to make peace with this man if you were not afraid of him?"

Stevens said he did not go to New York—this was last November—because he was afraid of McCarthy, but because it was "in line with my policy of cooperating with Congress." He denied the trip was to get McCarthy to call off his probe.

Jenkins asked him if the secretary had not discussed turning the investigation over to the Army.

"Certainly," replied Stevens. "I said I didn't like the constant hammering of the Army in the headlines. That's what I objected to."

What he told McCarthy, Stevens continued, was that the Army wanted to take over the Ft. Monmouth inquiry, make "progress reports," and then if it failed to do the job McCarthy's committee could step back in.

"So at no time did I ever want him to cease and desist," Stevens asserted.

Jenkins said the situation added up to asking McCarthy to suspend his investigation "and let you carry on."

"That's right," agreed Stevens. "You merely wanted to get it suspended."

"That's right," Jenkins asked if Stevens might not have wanted the suspension to run a long time.

"I suppose so," said Stevens.

GM Employment Close to Record

First Quarter Average 30,000 Over Figure in Same 1953 Period

General Motors Corp. said today that its first quarter average employment of 374,000 this year came within 2,000 of its quarterly record high.

GM reported the figure was slightly below the all-time high set in the second quarter of 1953, but was 30,000 higher than average employment in the first three months last year.

In a statement preliminary to the regular quarterly report, President Harlow H. Curtis and Board Chairman Alfred P. Sloan Jr. said overtime work continued during the three months, but at a lower rate than a year ago.

The report said the average number of hourly-rate employees in the United States for the quarter was 397,200.

The average number of hours worked per week by hourly-rate employees was 39.5. The average weekly earnings were $38.23.

For the same quarter in 1953, average hours worked were 43.3 and the average weekly earnings were $41.73.

The corporation said that payrolls of $656,000,000 were about the same as 1953's first quarter.

2 Drown, 2 Saved as Boat Capsizes in Lake Superior

ONTONAGON, Mich. (AP)—Two men were drowned and two amazingly rescued by a convict manning a rowboat alone in stormy Union Bay off Lake Superior yesterday.

The two saved were towed a quarter-mile to shore as they clung with numbing hands to the sides of the rowboat in 40-degree water. Heavy seas smashed two companions from the side of their capsized boat before help arrived.

The two drowned were Andrew Jackovac, 45, of nearby White Pine, and Raymond Martin, 40, of Columbus, Ohio, who had been working in newly developed copper mines at White Pine.

Rescued were Carl Bioniewski and Frank Zurek both of White Pine.

The four were returning from opening the trout season on Carp River in the Porcupine Mountains. It can be reached only by boat, skirting Lake Superior shores.

Their wave-tossed outboard motor boat capsized a quarter-mile out in Union Bay. It was seen by convicts as it flipped within view of the state's Porcupine prison camp and of the family of Knox Jamison.

A dozen convicts grabbed a rowboat. After several attempts down an incline, they finally launched it with one man aboard — George Cardinal, a former Great Lakes seaman.

It took Cardinal 20 minutes to battle his way through the waves to the overturned boat. Jackovac and Martin still were clinging desperately to it.

Fear of overturning the rescue boat led to Cardinal's decision to tow them at the sides, instead of trying to pull them inside.

Commission to Discuss Appeal of Zoning Decision on Birmingham Triangle

BIRMINGHAM — The "triangle" suit, which currently shows the city on the losing end in the case brought by the Industrial Land Co. and others, will be reviewed at tonight's city commission meeting.

Clark Adams, the city's attorney in the legal tangle, will report to the lawmakers on Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty's recent written opinion that single family residence zoning of the nine acre tract bounded by Eton road, the Grand Trunk Railway right-of-way and Gracefield Terraces, is "unreasonable and confiscatory."

Whether to appeal the case or immediately rezone the area for terrace development, will be discussed.

Doty has issued a permanent injunction which prevents the city's intervention in development of the property by the plaintiff. Doty's opinion upheld the plaintiffs' right to develop the area under a business A classification.

So far, according to Schwandt, the safe has not been claimed. The patrolman described the safe as black, about 20x20x30 inches and bearing the name of the Julius King Safe Co. The safe had been opened, probably with a sledge hammer and crow bar, Schwandt said, and was empty.

Stevens Says Cohn Misused His Power

such a case would not be a stoppage.

"No," responded Stevens, "I wouldn't think so."

Stevens said under questioning, that he had invited McCarthy and his committee to have meals at Stevens' expense at the Merchants' Club in New York City, during the week of Nov. 12-16 when McCarthy was holding hearings at a nearby courthouse.

Jenkins, noting that McCarthy's committee then was investigating Stevens' department, asked if Stevens thought this was "within the balance of propriety."

"Completely," Stevens answered.

"This was not done for the purpose of mollifying or pacifying the senator, or getting him to suspend his investigation of Ft. Monmouth?" Jenkins asked.

"Certainly not," Stevens insisted. He added "it was a friendly matter of convenience, when you get right down to it."

Stevens also testified that Roy M. Cohn used his "powerful position" as McCarthy's chief counsel "in a perversion of the rules of the Army" in connection with the status of Pvt. G. David Schine, drafted ex-consul to the Wisconsin senator's subcommittee.

The Army secretary testified that on "at least 84" occasions, McCarthy or his aides discussed with him or with his associates the status of Schine.

Testimony in the hearings was resumed after Assistant Defense Secretary H. Struve Hensel accused McCarthy of a "malicious" lie in charging that Hensel sought to block a probe of his own World War II business deals, and the senator struck back with a new counter-charge.

McCarthy asserted that Hensel had attempted to "roadblock" all investigations of graft, corruption and communism and divert the committee down the road of investigating itself.

After Stevens detailed a list of alleged attempts by McCarthy and Cohn to obtain special treatment for Schine, Jenkins asked him: "Did you feel that these efforts or attempts on the part of the staff in behalf of Schine, or made by Sen. McCarthy, were made by him personally, individually, and as United States senator on one hand, but also as a member of the so-called McCarthy investigating committee with all its judicial powers, shall we say?"

Stevens replied: "My impression is that Mr. Cohn was tremendously interested in Mr. Schine . . . in having special treatment for Mr. Schine."

"Occupying the powerful position he held as chief counsel of the committee, I feel he used his office in perversion of rules of the Army in regard to inductees."

McCarthy interrupted to demand that it be explained "what consideration" Schine got. Jenkins replied that this would be brought out in due time.

The Wisconsin senator again interrupted to ask whether the presence of "generals" at the hearings was at the subcommittee's request, or at the Pentagon's direction.

will break the code and find out how many children in each group got polio.

Dr. Robert J. Mason, Oakland County Medical Society president, pointed out today that three independent laboratories now have guaranteed the vaccine's safety. These are Dr. Sak's laboratory, the manufacturer, and the National Institute of Health.

All reports were checked by the National Foundation Advisory Committee, headed by Dr. Thomas Rivers, head of the Rockefeller Research Hospital.

Repeated testing, Dr. Mason said, showed the vaccine's potent and won't make the children who get it any more susceptible to polio.

"Eight thousand children in Pennsylvania already have received this vaccine," Dr. Mason said. "There haven't been any serious reactions, or any cases of polio or paralysis among them."

Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty today sentenced James G. Maybee, 17, of 2627 Frank St., to 30 days in Oakland County Jail for breaking into the Rochester Recreation building April 9 and stealing $97.

Maybe was also placed on two years probation and assessed $100 costs. He pleaded guilty April 19.

Seven Riding in Car Injured by Accident

Seven persons, all in one car, were injured Sunday morning when their car failed to complete a turn onto Dixie highway from Sashabaw road and struck a utility pole.

Walter R. Pointer, 31, of 238 Perry St., driver of the car, told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies that he lost control when his car started skidding. The injured were taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

Pointer and his wife, Shirley, 26, were treated for cuts and bruises. Miss Agnes Coulter, 22, of 2836 Orchard Lake Rd., W. Bloomfield Township, was admitted with severe face cuts. Her condition is reported good today.

Miss Audrey Samson, 20, of 1254 Atkinson Ave., Herbert Tipolt, 23, of 624 S. Dort Hwy., Flint; Leonard Tipolt, 29, of 625 S. Dort Hwy., Flint and his wife Mary, 22, were treated for cuts and bruises.

Local Lions Club to Mark White Cane Week May 2-8

"To those who walk in darkness" — will be the watchword of the Pontiac Lions Club as they join Lions Clubs of Michigan in the observance of White Cane Week May 2-8.

Pontiac Police and Oakland County Sheriff Departments are co-operating with Lions to make the local observance of the statewide movement a success.

Pontiac Schools also will help in the educational campaign of White Cane Week, according to Robert J. Stadler and Harry F. Vernon, co-chairmen.

Descriptive material pointing out the significance of the white cane is being passed out to the public by the various agencies, said Stadler.

"The purpose behind White Cane Week," explained Stadler, "is an educational one. We hope that everyone will recognize the white cane as the symbol of blindness and will give assistance to persons carrying the cane."

Proceeds from present sales of miniature white canes will replenish the Lions fund for the blind who benefit through the club's numerous projects. Some 4,000 miniature canes are expected to be sold before White Cane Week.

Free visual examinations and eye-glasses to persons who can not afford to pay for the service are available through the Lions Sight Conservation Committee, ac-

Beautiful City of Geneva Holds Hope for the Future

WASHINGTON — Geneva, meeting place for the Far Eastern Conference, has often played host to international gatherings.

Today the Western powers, the U.S.S.R. and Communist China will try to iron out differences over Korea and Indochina.

They meet in a city that has always lived close to great events and has emerged as one of the world's intellectual centers. A principal city of traditionally neutral Switzerland, Geneva has built a reputation for independence and tolerance.

In 1864 the International Red Cross was founded there. In 1946 and 1949 Red Cross conferences placed civilians within the rules of war and revised the regulations concerning prisoners, sick and wounded.

In 1872 a Geneva tribunal awarded the U. S. $15,500,000 growing out of the depredations of the British-built Alabama and other Confederate vessels.

Geneva became the home of the League of Nations in 1920. Four years later it lent its name to the Geneva Protocol on regulating international disputes. From 1932 to 1934 a world disarmament conference was held at League headquarters.

Geneva now is the seat of the International Labor Organization, the Economic Commission for Europe, the world Health Organization, and the International Committee for European Migration, all United Nations affiliates.

The roots of the community go far into history. Julius Caesar built a town on a near-by hill. John Calvin, apostle of rigid morality, made of Geneva a prime example of theocratic society.

Here John Knox, the Scottish reformer, found refuge. Here Jean Jacques Rousseau and Albert Gallatin were born.

Four miles away Voltaire spent his last 20 years. On her estate close by, Madame de Staël reigned over her celebrated salon. And in Geneva's outskirts Byron and Shelley spent the summer of 1816.

Today Geneva boasts a 150,000 population, the long established University of Geneva and several museums. Speaking mostly French, the inhabitants make up a cosmopolitan city where the mind sweeps distant vistas of thought and the eye commands some of Europe's finest scenery.

The trees are neatly trimmed. Spacious promenades border the formal water front. Pleasure craft dally on the Lake of Geneva's speckled waters.

From the grounds of the League of Nations building, where the East West diplomats will meet, visitors can see the Alps' loftiest summit, snow clad Mont Blanc, 15,781 feet high.

In such a setting and blessed with a stimulating climate, modern Geneva possesses the air of a happy city. The home of a precise people, it is the center of a precision industry, watchmaking.

During the Middle Ages Geneva was noted for its gaiety. There was often dancing in the streets. In the nervous era between World Wars I and II, it again learned to smile. Its night clubs became famous.

Vandals Wreck Records of Several Draft Boards

Low Farm Prices Disturb Senator

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Milton R. Young (R-ND) warned today that the nation's economy could not "stand the shock" of still lower farm prices he claims will result from the administration's flexible price support plan.

Young, an advocate of continued rigid price supports at the 90 percent level, made his statement in a speech prepared for Senate delivery on the pending wool price support bill.

Young argued that farmers' prices have fallen while the prices of food to consumers are at an all-time high and costs of commodities needed by farmers have soared.

He said: "If the government fails to prevent farm prices from slipping further, I am convinced that we are going to have not only a serious farm problem but a serious national economic problem."

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

Jesus' Death a Revelation of God's Love of Mankind

Dr. Andrew S. Creswell, pastor of the Community United Presbyterian Church, otherwise known as Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, preached the "Proof of God's Love" in his sermon Sunday.

Dr. Creswell came to Pontiac on Oct. 1, 1920 to organize the church. He claims the distinction of having the longest one-church pastorate in the city. He also has led in the organizing of Drayton Plains, Joslyn Avenue and Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Churches.

The distinguished pastor took as his text, "But God commendeth His love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us" — Rom. 5:8. His sermon follows:

How do we know God loves us? We are all unworthy of that love. But here we have stated the historical fact upon which this conviction of God's love rests.

God commendeth His love. When Paul the Apostle used this word, commend, he used a word that not only proved God's love, but recommends it in such a way as to appeal to the heart.

God establishes the fact, and He sweeps it into man's heart, on the bosom of that full tide of self-sacrifice.

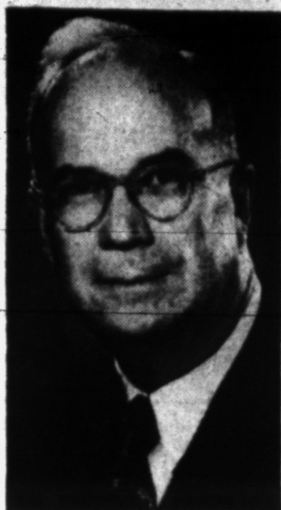

This statement indicates that God was in action behind the death of Christ. His death was not the death of a martyr in loyalty to a cause, but much deeper than that — "God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself."

The love that was in Christ was the manifestation of the love of God Himself.

Why did Jesus die? The Apostle Paul expresses the conviction here that "Christ died for us." This implies that Christ died of His own accord, being impelled by a great beneficent motive. The actors in the drama of putting Him to death, would have been helpless except He was voluntarily giving Himself.

This did not excuse them but it did set forth His death, as a voluntary sacrifice that is for our advantage.

This little word "for" does not define in what way that death ministers to our advantage, but it does assert that for those Christ-

DR. ANDREW S. CRESWELL, tians in Rome there was benefit in the fact of His death.

They had never seen Christ but Paul writes to them of the fact that Christ's death was for them. This is also true for us who live nineteen centuries and more after the event at Calvary.

Recently we read in the newspapers of a father who rushed into the house which was on fire to save his son who was trapped in the burning home. The child was saved but the father was so severely burned that he died. That was death for another, but Jesus died for us in a deeper sense than that.

One of our magazines recorded the story of a doctor who was working on a cure for cancer. But in developing the cure he became afflicted with the disease himself. He died but he kept a record of the development of the disease in his own body and the effect of the remedy as applied, that those following him might be benefited. So in carrying out his purpose to aid others, he had to give his life.

What he aimed at could only be accomplished by the sacrifice of his life.

However this martyr's death is not the depth of the sense in which Paul meant Christ died for us. "He bare our sins in His body on the tree," I Pet. 1:24 "He died for us." "While we were sinners Christ died for us."

God's Love for us is so great that we cannot completely fathom it. But it is a righteous love. We did not deserve it. But Christ willingly died for our sins. "So that God can be just and still the justifier of him who believeth in Jesus."

God has proved His love in such a wondrous way. May we receive Jesus as our Savior and let Him live in us today.

Trade Act Fight Reopens

Introduction in the House of the Administration's bill for extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act has signaled resumption of the almost perennial GOP fight over tariffs.

Sponsored by Rep. KEAN of New Jersey, this bill is one of the most important of the entire EISENHOWER program. Neither that nor the fact that the trade act expires in less than two months has lessened the opposition to this program by high protectionists among the GOP Old Guard.

Actually the proposals in this measure are moderate. In general they follow the recommendations in one section of the Randall Commission's report, which has been criticized for not going far enough toward lowering trade barriers.

Besides asking a three year extension of the trade act, it would empower the President to negotiate five per cent tariff reductions in each of the three years. Another provision would authorize more drastic reductions on tariffs of 50 per cent or more. No change would be made in the present peril point and escape clauses of the act.

The PRESS believes this legislation is important not only to our own national economy but to our Allies. It indeed would be regrettable if Congress should reject it at a time when the Administration is attempting to reduce its foreign economic aid. The inevitable result would be greatly increased Allied pressure for more trade with Communist countries.

Finally, the basic fact justifying the reciprocal trade agreements still exists. If we want markets abroad to keep our excess productive capacity busy, if we want our Allies to keep buying from us, we've got to let them sell to us.

As President EISENHOWER has said so often, what is needed is "trade not aid."

Teacher Shortage Acute

Once again Dr. CLARE L. TAYLOR, state superintendent of public instruction, has sounded a warning that Michigan's teacher shortage is nearing the crisis stage.

Only a few figures are needed to show that he is justified in again calling this problem to public attention. The stark fact is the State is not producing enough teachers and attracting enough experienced teachers to meet the ever growing need.

For example, our normal colleges graduate 4,500 a year. This is just about enough to replace those who leave our school systems each year because of marriage, retirement or death.

At the same time school enrollment in the State is increasing at the rate of 70,000 a year. Our teaching force now is 45,000 and should be 53,000 by 1958.

That is the basis of Dr. Taylor's statement that "Michigan should have 6,500 new teachers a year, or 2,000 more than our school districts have been able to obtain."

Our State Superintendent doesn't stop at stating the problem. He suggests ways of attacking it and lists the price of failure to solve it. One suggestion is higher salaries, which already are being offered in the larger centers. Another is more effective programs for recruiting students for teacher training.

At present the State Board of Education is offering 1,000 scholarships averaging about $75 to such students. This pitiful sum strikes us as being far from enough to lure many into education as a career.

What is the price of failure to solve this problem?

Many schools already are paying part of it—overcrowded school rooms, half day sessions and inferior education.

Annexation OKs Near

All present indications are that there will be early and favorable action on the county's request that 100 acres of Waterford Township be annexed by the City of Pontiac.

This acreage, already part of the county center on Telegraph Road, must be brought inside the city to become the site for the proposed county building. It lies between Telegraph Road and Pontiac's West Boulevard boundary line.

Unlike the procedure in annexation cases involving privately owned land, no vote of citizens in each of the two local government units is necessary. Only approval of Waterford Township Board and Pontiac City Commission is required to effect the change.

Waterford Supervisor LLOYD ANDERSON already has assured the county board that his township will not object to the transfer. We know of no reason why the City Commission should not approve this routine transaction.

The Man About Town

Trout Near Home

Good Fishing Right Here in Our Oakland County Waters

Daffynition
 Realist: A person who carries both cigarette lighter and matches.

It is not necessary to leave Oakland County to go trout fishing. At the Bald Mountain Recreational Area, just northeast of Pontiac, plenty of the speckled beauties await you, and Park Manager William Rathbun tells me they're biting good. You are allowed to take them with flies in the pond, where the limit is two per day. In Paint Creek you can use worms or any other legal bait, and the limit is eight. You must have a fishing license and trout stamp. The varieties include rainbows, brooks and browns. They were planted over a period of several years, and come in sizes just right for delicious fries.

Ten thousand yellow daffodils will be a feature at Cranbrook Gardens next month. The gardens will open to the public May 1, and a phone call to

Mrs. Herbert Hall at Cranbrook House will give you particulars as to the hours on the day you wish to be a visitor there. The phone number is MI 4-1600.

After living her entire life on the farm on which she was born 77 years ago,

Miss Mary Van Zandt of 5351 Williams Lake Road, died last week. She is survived by a brother,

William B. Van Zandt today celebrating his eighty-second birthday, and a sister,

Miss Nellie Van Zandt aged 80, both of whom were born on the same farm and have always lived there. The farm was taken up from the government by their ancestors 120 years ago.

Pontiac druggists tell me that they still have calls for that old time sulphur and molasses mixture, supposed to wipe out your winter lethargy and fill you with spring pep.

Another sports celebrity is to become a permanent resident of the Pontiac area, as

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Sawchuk are making arrangements to buy the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Steele at 1848 Union Lake Road, and will move there. Terry is the goalie of the world champion Detroit Red Wings hockey team.

Our main highways again are the location of many fish bait stands. One on the Dixie near Dryden Plains has a sign: "Full length worms, 50 cents a 100; halves, 25c."

Fearing somebody would steal his fish house last winter,

Harvey Millwright chained it to several cement blocks on Oxbow Lake, which pulled it to the bottom when the ice broke up.

A. O. Henderson Backs Bill to Provide Tax Deductions for Handicapped People

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Present income tax laws are unfair to the physically handicapped in that they do not provide deductions for the handicapped for special costs. To end this unfairness the paralyzed veterans of America, in conjunction with the joint legislative committee for the physically handicapped, have proposed an income tax bill providing such deductions.

It would provide deductions for special housing expenses, such as ramps or lifts; extra wear and tear on clothing because of rubbing against braces or artificial aids to ambulation; services hired for purpose of earning a living, and all transportation costs incurred in the individual's work.

The taxpayer claiming such deductions would offer proof in the form of a doctor's statement, and such other proof as the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Department might provide, with suitable provision for punishment in case of fraudulent returns or fraudulent proofs.

I believe this proposed bill is fair and that it should be adopted to help many physically handicapped people in the United States remain or become self supporting.

R. R. Copeman Praises Public Speaking Class

On April 24 over forty persons, young and old, received from the Michigan CIO Council a certificate for completing a ten week course in "Public Speaking and Parliamentary Procedure."

This class, sponsored by the CIO, was under the leadership of Mr. Hineley of Waterford High School. I feel I learned a great deal.

The people in Oakland County might be interested to know that these classes, which start in September, are open to the public. They run for ten weeks, and one does not have to be a union member to attend. For further information contact the CIO office on Lawrence Street.

'Moralist' Urges More Moral Laws for State

The article by LeRoy Dean on the Ziegenhardt case was a masterpiece of expression of what the average Michigan citizen feels about taking away a man's farm to collect a $280 assessment indebtedness.

This case shows the extreme need of some moral "Lexington Laws" in the state books so that "Paul Revere" citizens can demand that legal procedures are also morally proper.

The voters and taxpayers should have control of their hired servants by moral laws in the statute books of the state.

I have proposed a moral law to the legislature and have hopes that it will someday be enacted into law.

I have proposed that before a Michigan prosecutor can release a slayer without charge, state law demands there be an autopsy, an inquest and a lie-detector test.

Let's propose some moral laws that will protect life and property of Michigan citizens and demand that they be enacted into law.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And he said that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father had done.—II Kings 24:9.

A man cannot practice sin and be a good citizen. Burke says very truly: "Whatever disunites man from God disunites man from man."—Chapin.

French Present and Future Indo Policy Due for Searing Questions by America

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American people no doubt will want some questions answered if they have to go into Indochina to bail out the French in the war with the Communist-led Vietminh.

These are the main ones: 1. Just how much effort have the French put into the war? How much more would they put forth if this country got in?

2. What would happen if, through American help, the Communists were crushed? Would this country have a deciding voice in Indochina's future or turn it back to the French?

American troops sent in as a last resort would include regulars and draftees. The draftees would have no choice.

But French draftees are not sent to Indochina unless they volunteer to go. Would the French change this if American draftees were sent into the fighting?

American youths are drafted for 24 months, French youths for 18 months.

Every year in France itself between 250,000 and 275,000 youths are drafted when they reach 21. Why is none sent to Indochina unless he volunteers?

That question was asked the French Embassy here last night. This was how the conversation went:

Q—Why aren't draftees sent to Indochina?

A—Because they are drafted for only 18 months and it would be uneconomical to send them to Indochina to train and then fight. They'd have perhaps only three months' fighting service and then be brought home.

Q—You send no draftees at all?

A—Yes. But only draftees who volunteer.

Q—Does that mean, once they volunteer to go to Indochina, they must serve more than 18 months?

A—No. They are returned to France at the end of that time. Q—How is that? If you say it's uneconomical to send draftees because their service is for only 18 months and they'd have perhaps only three months of fighting, why do you send any at all?

A—Because it's less uneconomical to send perhaps a hundred than a thousand.

In the three years' war in Korea American casualties were 142,000, of which about 30,000 were battle deaths (an average of 10,000 a year).

In over seven years in Indochina total casualties for the French, including troops from North Africa, were 150,000, of whom 50,000 were killed or missing.

The number of French officers killed each year has run about 750. Frenchmen say this is the equivalent of each year's graduating class from St. Cyr, the French officers' school similar to West Point.

But the French have held Indochina as a colony for almost 100 years and even in the past seven disastrous years have failed to train an Indochinese officer corps that could replace the French.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Most Professions Stress Need for Human Interest

Marlene asks about "human interest." This is of vital concern not just to newspapermen, for it also separates the successful clergymen, teacher and salesman from the failures in those fields. And you parents need to be experts in this matter in order to motivate your children properly.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case K-385: Marlene J., aged 20, is a journalism student.

"Dr. Crane, my professors tell us to inject 'human interest' in our writing," she began.

"But just what do they mean by 'human interest'?" And are there any psychological laws for helping an author create suspense?"

"Human interest" is wrapped up in our epidemics. So every inch that a speaker or writer focuses away from our skin, we begin to wane in our attention.

And every second that they digress from the present moment of time, we likewise have a decline in our enthusiasm.

When I planned this clinical column in practical psychology, I thus tried to hit the bull's-eye of reader interests. You amateur authors might follow my basic formula contained herein.

Each week I thus include two cases on love or marriage problems. I also give you one case on children, plus another case on mental health, such as abnormal fears or phobias, as well as psychosomatic medical ailments.

Then I have one case on personality improvement and another on business or professional psychology, such as advertising, selling, personal problems or such a case as this one on writing.

Thus, I cover the five basic interests of all mankind, namely, sweetheart, love, parental love, love, health, self-esteem (popularity), and money (as related to business strategy).

These five are fundamental instincts or bull's-eyes of all mankind. They comprise the typewriter psychology formula for this column, but are just as valuable to fiction writers, too.

If you are a speaker or writer or a salesman or teacher, which one of these topics would you choose for wider general interest: (1) How to make bricks, or (2) How to carry on an interesting conversation?

Obviously, it is that second title, for it strikes nearer the epidemics of most of us. It is closer to our present need.

"Yes, Dr. Crane, but how can we make an interesting talk about bricks or geometry or other educational subjects? How can we aim them at the epidemics of our pupils?" a teacher might ask.

The Air Force instructors perked up the interest of their students in mathematics by showing concrete cases of how their lives depended on accurate navigation via laws of trigonometry.

And in this atomic age, you can even bring bricks closer to the epidemics of the audience and also tap "parental love" and "sweetheart love" instincts by showing that bricks are better protection against atomic bombs.

And they are fireproof, too, as well as bullet-proof, so exploding fragments of metal are not so likely to injure our wives and children if they are housed in brick buildings.

One of my former students had a Cadillac agency. A young salesman on his staff tried to sell a ratty new car to a wealthy woman in Evanston.

The salesman stressed the high horsepower of the motor and other engineering virtues of the auto. And the woman bought. He felt elated.

But later she naively confessed that the chief reason she picked the car was the fact the color of the upholstery fitted in so perfectly with her new ensemble!

That young salesman would have lost the sale, except for her own recognition of the close relationship of the color to that of her new clothes, which in turn were adjacent to her epidemics.

So direct your teaching or preaching, or writing or selling at the epidemics of your prospects! Focus on their skin! More about this in tomorrow's Case Record.

Less Attention Paid to 'Roughage' in Diet, the Better for One's Health, Says Brady

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Years ago there were a good many queries about "roughage" in the diet. In the past 10 years there have been few such queries, although the volume of daily mail is greater than ever before.

This does not necessarily imply that readers are less introspective than the old timers were nor that they have learned a little about physiology and the automatic regulation of the alimentary or digestive functions.

For all I know it may be just because my uncouth style and my name—calling propensity made all the wisecracks mad and so they want no part of me.

If that's the case I'm sorry for the poor geeks, but my conscience is clear—I did my best to relieve them of their morbid notions.

In Little Lesson 25, Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene, for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope, I do refer once or twice to food which leaves considerable residue in the intestine, but not under the name of "roughage."

In fact I suggest a few food items which supply a desirable kind of residue.

I do not believe that the digestive tract of the well fixed and therefore refined class of customers is insulted by coarse foods such as whole wheat, wheat bran, corn, oats, celery, cucumbers, nuts, berries, cabbage, onions, peanuts, tomato, raw apples, melons, etc.

One with real colitis (not the functional derangement the quacks call "mucous colitis") should heed his or her own doctor's advice about diet but everybody else, I believe, should eat what he or she likes, whether it is "roughage" or not.

The question whether an item is "easy to digest" or "indigestible" should never influence one's selection of food. Nor does it matter at all whether a given food item is boiled, baked, fried, rare, well done, roasted, stewed or raw, if that's the way you like it.

It is well to remember that the indigestible part of many valuable foods—the cellulose or woody fiber of vegetables and cereals, the gristle or tendon and soft bone or cartilage of meat, the skins of apple, pear, grapes etc. and the seeds of berries—are natural aids to digestion in the intestine.

So the less attention one pays to "roughage" and the imagined "digestibility" or "indigestibility" of one's food the better for health.

Signed letters, not more than one page or the world long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

Police Arrest Breakin Trio

Pontiac Women Want Burglary Thrill but Tip Brings Officers

Three Pontiac women caught burglarizing a S. Sanford street restaurant Friday night will be arraigned today before Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan on charges of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

The three refused to make statements to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem who authorized issuance of a warrant this morning.

Mrs. Charlotte May Guinther, 27, of 77 Douglas St., Martha Holworth 21, and Claudine Carter, 18, both of 666 1/2 S. Paddock St., told police they planned the breakin for thrills.

Police arrested the trio about midnight in Cosy's Grill at 490 S. Sanford St. after acting on a tip from three neighborhood youths.

The tipsters told police they became suspicious when they saw an auto circle the block several times. Police said they found Mrs. Guinther and Miss Holworth in the grill and Miss Carter waiting in the car.

Housewife Injured in Headon Crash

A Pontiac housewife was injured Saturday when two cars hit head-on at Branch and Howard McNeil Sts.

Mrs. Wilma Overton, 24, of 414 Bloomfield Ave., was treated for knee injuries at Pontiac General Hospital. She was a passenger in a car driven by Glen Jenkins, 44, of 1521 Rotsel, W. Bloomfield Township.

Pontiac Police said Jenkins rounded a curve on the wrong side and ran into a car driven by Charles Wells, 20, of 160 Franklin Rd.

Suffers Head Injuries When Struck by Car

Mrs. Luberta McGee, 33, of 435 Howard McNeil, was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with head injuries suffered Sunday morning when she was struck by a car at Franklin Road and Montana Ave.

Pontiac Police said she stepped in front of a car driven by Willard L. Washington, 30, of 17 Wilson Trailer Park. Washington told police he did not see Mrs. McGee until too late to avoid the accident.

Police Nab Burglar Inside Liquor Store

A 56-year-old Pontiac man was arrested Sunday night while burglarizing a liquor store at 631 Oakland Ave. after he tripped a burglar alarm connected to Police Headquarters, according to Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of detectives.

Charged with breaking and entering in the nighttime is Allen B. Carr, of 193 N. Perry St. He is scheduled for arraignment in Municipal Court today.

Patrolmen Herbert Cooley and William Davis said they found Carr hiding in a dark corner of the store when they arrived. A bag of burglar tools, used in forcing the rear door, was confiscated.

Carr, according to Wheaton, has served a prison term in Ohio State Prison for felonious assault.

Warrants OK'd in Dairy Holdup

Action Comes as 2 of 5 Men Admit $75 Robbery to County Prosecutor

Warrants charging five men with holding up the Walton Dairy Bar last Tuesday were approved today after two of the men admitted the $75 robbery in statements to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Scheduled for arraignment today in Pontiac Municipal Court are Lee D. Bates, 20, of 80 Omar St., Francisco M. Mendez, 26, of 61 Pine St.; Richard Parks, 17, of 22 McNeil St.; Arthur C. Hewitt Jr., 19, of 1654 Giddings Rd., and Robert K. Smith, 19, of 1024 Hospital Rd. Mendez and Bates, according to Ziem, admitted the holdup and implicated the others.

Bates and Hewitt are Jackson Prison parolees, recently released after serving terms for breaking and entering in the nighttime. Mendez is on probation for carrying a concealed weapon, according to police.

Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detectives, said the hold-up car was recovered by Patrolman Wayne Long after a three-mile auto chase early Sunday when the occupants fled on foot in between houses on S. Shirley St. A witness to the holdup, Steve Sekulich, 17, of 225 W. Walton Blvd., later identified the auto as the holdup car. Sekulich told police he was passing the dairy bar when he saw the men go into the building and yell, "Stick 'em up."

Teenager Sent to Prison for Restaurant Burglary

Millard R. Norman, 19, of 1555 Richmond St., was sentenced to 1 to 15 years in Jackson Prison today by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty for breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Norman pleaded guilty April 19 to breaking into a drive-in restaurant Jan. 13 at 2520 Rochester Rd. and stealing $8. He also admitted breaking into the Stony Creek School and was on three years probation for another breaking and entering charge in July, 1953.

Breakin Nets Thieves $600 in Household Goods

Thieves took about $600 in household goods Saturday from the home of E. J. Bacon of 24450 N. Cromwell, Southfield Township, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Articles listed as stolen included bedroom drapes, an Oriental rug, a suit and a .25 caliber automatic pistol. Other smaller household items also were taken, Bacon said.

Bar Broken Into

An undetermined amount of money was taken in a breakin Sunday night at Clare's Bar at 800 Woodward Ave., Pontiac Police said today. Owner Clarence Sherbarth of 17 Earlmoor Blvd., said entry was gained by forcing a rear door.

Woman Hospitalized; Husband Goes to Jail

An Ortonville woman was injured in an auto accident on U.S. 10 near Telegraph road Sunday night, and her husband was jailed on a drunk and disorderly charge following the accident, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

The woman, Mrs. Arlene Sorles, 44, of 325 Hadley Rd., was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with cuts and bruises, and her husband, William P., 53, was jailed. Mrs. Sorles' condition is fair today.

Deputies Ted Gunn and Shelton

Stites, who arrested Sorles, said that his car pushed another car, driven by Mrs. Vivian McLaren, 33, of 4295 Hatchery Rd., Drayton Plains, into a third auto driven by James Haisington, 27, of 2254 Rosemary, Waterford Township.

Haisington told deputies that he had been halted by drive-in theater attendants who were directing traffic with flares.

Mediators Enter Dispute

Between County Unions

ANN ARBOR (UP)—State and federal mediators planned to enter negotiations today in a wage dispute between the Washtenaw County General Contractors Inc. and Local 512, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (AFL).

Negotiations have been deadlocked since April 19. The carpenters, refusing to recognize the contractors association as a legitimate bargaining agent, have threatened a strike.

Sees Congress Committing GIs

Bentley Thinks Solons Would OK Troops to Save Indochina

WASHINGTON (UP)—Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich) believes President Eisenhower will request—and get—congressional approval to send U. S. troops to Indochina if it turns out there is no other way to save the country from Communist conquest.

Bentley, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, emphasized that the administration "will do everything in its power not to have to send American boys to fight in the jungles of Indochina."

But if there is no other way to keep Indochina from falling to the Communists, he said, "I think the President would ask Congress for the necessary authority and, moreover, he would get it."

His statement came on the heels of reports that France is convinced it cannot continue fighting in Indochina for more than a few months without direct U. S. intervention—regardless of the fate of the embattled fortress of Dien Bien Phu.

Usually reliable sources said they understood the French government gave this view to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles as he passed through Paris last week en route to the Geneva Conference.

Retains Chairmanship

Capt. Edward H. Shigley, of the Pontiac Police, has been re-elected chairman of the board of trustees for the city employees retirement system for 1954, according to Oscar Eckman, city finance director. Morley Cameron, city waste and refuse supervisor, was named vice chairman.

How can you know what your next hospital bill will cost you?

You can't know! You can't predict whether $10 a day ... $15 a day ... or any limited amount per day will take care of the hospital bill that your family has a 1 in 3 chance of facing this year!

Unpredictable as hospital bills are, there is one reliable and easy way to protect your family adequately against "catastrophic" expense that can exceed even $50 a day!

Get the protection that provides, not a check for $10 or $15 a day, but the bed and board, the drugs and medicines, the operating room, and the many other hospital services you need!

Get Michigan's Blue Cross protection!

Not for profit, Blue Cross is sponsored by the hospitals and doctors themselves. It is the most successful idea ever devised for meeting the problem of paying hospital bills.

No wonder over 3,000,000 Michigan people have Blue Cross. Chances are, your neighbor is protected the Blue Cross way. Talk it over with him ... and see if he doesn't agree that there is no finer protection at any price!

How Blue Cross protects you

Blue Cross Comprehensive Group Plan assures you of a wide range of hospital services when you need them. It entitles you to hospital bed and board, to expensive extras such as operating room, drugs and medicines, oxygen and so forth. And every enrolled member in your family is protected the same way ... at over 200 Blue Cross participating hospitals in Michigan alone!

How Blue Shield protects you

Unlike paying hospital bills, you can find out in advance what your doctor's charges will be. The thing you can't find out is when you'll need a doctor's services, and here is where Blue Shield protects you.

Blue Shield offers two basic plans—one, a straight surgical plan, the other, a medical-surgical plan. Under either plan, Blue Shield pays generous, specific amounts directly to your doctor for thousands of surgical procedures, including maternity care. And in non-surgical cases, under the medical-surgical plan, Blue Shield also pays liberal amounts for your doctor's visits to you in the hospital. Often the doctor's full bill is covered.

The cost is low

Only pennies per day for the finest protection against hospital and medical bills obtainable anywhere! You can help keep costs low ... by using Blue Cross - Blue Shield only when it is necessary. Please do not ask your doctor to put you in the hospital for diagnostic treatment which could just as easily be performed in his office.

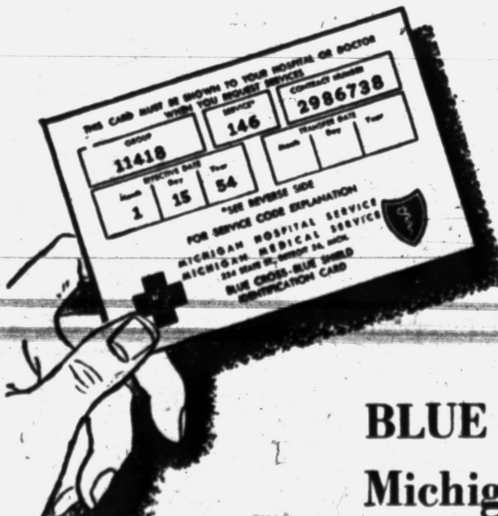

How to get Blue Cross - Blue Shield

Ask your employer or union representative how you can get low-cost Group Enrollment. A company with as few as five employees may qualify as a Group. Check your Farm Bureau or Grange. Contact your nearest Blue Cross - Blue Shield office.

Dean, Rhee Confer Again

American Envoy Gives South Korean Briefing on Geneva Problems

SEOUL, (AP) — U. S. envoy Arthur Dean today gave South Korean President Syngman Rhee a run-down on the problems facing the allies at the Geneva conference on Korean unification.

Dean, a special envoy of Secretary of State Dulles, conferred with Rhee for an hour in his reported role as a pacifier of Rhee's fears that the Geneva conference will end in failure for the West.

Dean also transmitted to the 79-year-old South Korean President the "personal regards and best wishes" of President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and Dulles.

Neither Rhee's office nor Dean would discuss their meeting.

However, observers assumed Dean reassured Rhee that the United States would stand firm in its backing of the republic's demands that red troops be pulled out of North Korea and that election for all of Korea be held under United Nations supervision.

Dean arrived at Rhee's presidential mansion with American Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs. The special envoy probably will meet daily with Rhee to keep him advised on Western progress and strategy at Geneva. A statement issued by Dean merely expressed his pleasure at renewing the "warm friendship" of his previous visits to Korea.

Dean was last here for the unsuccessful Panmunjom negotiations to arrange a Korean peace conference. He walked out on Red negotiators after they accused the U. S. of "perfidy."

Happy Bachelors Disrupt Meeting of Church Group

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — About 30 revelers at Saturday night's Bachelors' Ball kept their high society party going until the unprecedented hour of 11:30 a.m. yesterday to the chagrin of the Palace Hotel management because a church meeting was going on in an adjoining room.

The bachelors and their guests were dancing to a jazz band, drinking milk punch and shooting firecrackers.

The hotel authorities began at 10 a.m. encouraging the revelers to go home. But one of them said they had lost an hour in the switch to daylight saving time and they were going to make it up.

The American flag flies over only three buildings in the U. S. day and night. They are the national Capitol, the U. S. house of representatives, and the U. S. senate.

City Club Federation Announces 'May Flowers' Committees

By Bartlet Wagers

Golden Wedding Marked

During the 50 years that Mr. and Mrs. Bartlet Wager have spent on the grounds of the Pontiac State Hospital they have accumulated a host of friends. This was apparent when 300 friends and relatives gathered for the Wagers' golden wedding anniversary Sunday.

Mr. Wager, who is hospital steward, began work at Pontiac State Hospital in 1903, remaining there continuously, and throughout these years, both Mr. and Mrs. Wager have been devoted to the hospital.

to the employees and to the patients.

As you entered the Wager home Sunday, you were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Wager whose faces clearly expressed their happiness as they chatted with hospital friends whom they had not seen for several years.

In order to accommodate their guests, the Wagers received hospital friends from 2 until 3 o'clock, and during the next hour their friends from the First Presbyterian Church made their appearance. Relatives who remained far into the evening began arriving at 4 o'clock.

Hosts for the affair were Orben Wilkins, George Tremper, Martin Wager and Clifford Taylor, and hostesses were Mrs. Wilkins, Mrs. Tremper, Mrs. Wager, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Harold Hudak.

Presiding at the beautifully appointed tea table were Mrs. P. V. Wager, Mrs. Ivan A. LaCore, Mrs. E. L. Page, Mrs. Don Dickerson, Mrs. E. D. Rummels, Etta Wager and Mrs. Lynn Carmer.

Taking over at the punch bowl were Nancy Tremper, Virginia Sherman, Nona Taylor, Marilyn Sherman and Hope Reavely.

In charge of the guest book was Carol Lee Venner who also gave a reading and paid tribute to Mrs. Wager, who is her great aunt.

E. Grace Clark presided over the dining room and Mrs. Lyle Venner and Mrs. Tremper assisted.

Assisting in the kitchen were Etta Wager, Mrs. Harold Bliss, Mrs. Lloyd Porter, Mrs. Clifford Taylor, Mrs. Robert Phillips, Mrs. Gordon Reavely and Mrs. Gertrude Carmer.

Mary Bliss played accordion selections throughout the afternoon and Neal Reavely served as an aide. Dr. William H. Marbach gave the blessing.

PHS Vocal Concert Set for May 6-7

'Say It With Music' to Include Secular, Religious Numbers

"Say It With Music", annual spring concert of Pontiac High School Vocal Department, will return to the Pontiac High School stage on May 6 and 7.

Six hundred vocalists under the direction of George H. Putnam and Jeanette Vier will present a program of religious and secular music built around colorful themes.

"Say It With Music" will include students in all of the glee clubs, the A Cappella Choir, small ensembles, soloists and pianists.

The Girls' Glee Clubs, whose membership totals over 350, will present songs inspired by flowers and will climax their part of the program with "Waltz of the Flowers" from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite."

Two groups of numbers will be offered by the A Cappella Choir. Its sacred group is entitled "Vesper Meditation" and will depict music from many faiths. A secular group will include an operatic chorus as well as a chorale melody from a Broadway musical.

"And Away We Go!" is the theme chosen for the Boys' Glee Club selections which will deal with "getting places."

The final selections are inspired by the theme "For A Better World." Two Waring arrangements, "I Believe" and "America Our Heritage," are included, with "Let All Things Now Living Praise the Lord," a Welsh folk song with descant arranged by Katherine Davis, as the final selection.

Tickets may be purchased from vocal department members. Concert patrons who are not able to get in touch with students may reserve tickets by contacting the high school no later than Thursday.

Navy Mothers Plan Projects

Future projects and activities were discussed at the Thursday evening meeting of Navy Mothers Club 355 held in the Naval Training Center.

The group announced that it will present a second television set to the veterans at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium. Members also voted a donation to the Navy family chapel in Long Beach, Calif.

Pontiac General Hospital will be visited on May 5. Mrs. Wilburn Kelly and Mrs. Frank Kelly reported on working at the USO in Detroit. A sewing meeting will be held Wednesday in the Draper avenue home of Mrs. Vernon Pike.

Married Saturday evening at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church were Eunice Campbell, daughter of the Ralph E. Campbells of Oxford, and Carl F. Loomis, son of the Floyd M. Loomises of North Perry street.

MRS. CARL FREDERICK LOOMIS

Eunice Campbell Speaks Vows in Candlelight Rite

Spring flowers and palms decorated the altar of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church Saturday evening when Eunice Campbell became the bride of Carl Frederick Loomis, son of the Floyd M. Loomises of North Perry street.

For the candlelight ceremony, the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Campbell of Oxford, chose a floor-length gown of white nylon etched lace over satin.

The dress was fashioned with a scalloped bodice, full-length sleeves and a Peter Pan collar. The full skirt fell in panels of etched lace alternating with panels of net.

A tiara of white satin appliqued with lace and seed pearls held her veil, and she carried a bouquet of a white orchid surrounded by white roses and carnations and blue-tinted hyacinth.

Mrs. Glenden Fletcher of Ortonville was matron of honor and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Richard Lockwood, attended as bridesmaid. Junior bridesmaid was the sister of the bride, Daphne Campbell.

The attendants were gowned in maize, powder blue and pink, respectively. Their dresses were fashioned of etched lace over tulle in a ballerina-length with small pearly at the waist. Each carried a bouquet of gardenias tinted to match her gown.

Marvin Hawkins was best man, and seating the guests were the bridegroom's brother, Donald M. Loomis, and Bruce Johnston.

May Infect Child With Terror of Life

Mother Worships God of Catastrophe

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The kitchen clock says 11:40. Outside the window, a slight rain is falling. Tommy's mother, fixing lunch, makes up her mind.

She runs to the hall closet for her hat, coat and umbrella. Then, with Tommy's raincoat and rubber boots tucked under her arm, she sets out for his school. At his noon dismissal, she will dress him in the rain clothes for his short walk home in the quiet April drizzle.

Tommy is 10. Nature has endowed him with a thick mop of brown hair that insulates his head against cold. His parents have endowed him with rubber-soled shoes that insulate his feet against wet.

But his mother isn't interested in these facts. What she's interested in is proving herself a Perfect Mother.

If she demonstrates her perfection by patiently waiting in the rain to swathe her child in extra protective layers, she will appease the over-protective parent's God of Catastrophe. And he may be persuaded not to strike Tommy down with pneumonia.

The God of Catastrophe is a terrible one for people with children to worship, because parents who demand perfection from themselves also demand it from children.

So last week she had hysterics when he told her a lie. She has nervously forbidden any association with the "common," boisterous children who live on the alley behind her house.

And she no longer speaks to the people who own a neighboring summer place at the lake because Tommy once showed sex curiosity toward their little girl.

If you told Tommy's mother that her fascination with danger is morbid and can infect him with similar terror of life, she would not know what you meant. She thinks of her anxious vigilance as the devotion of particularly pure maternal love.

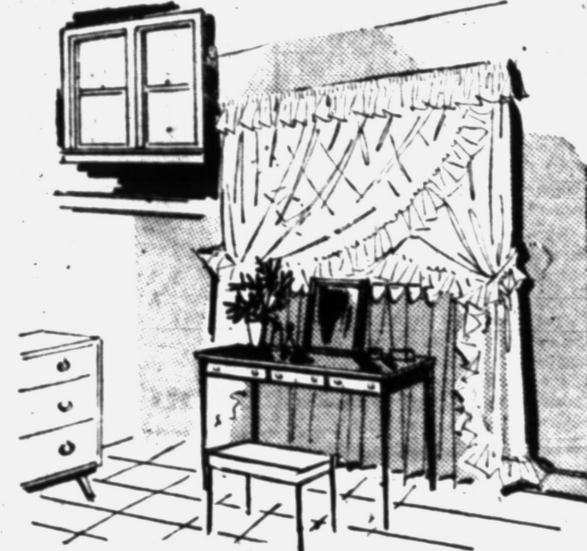

She hasn't the slightest idea that it is really motivated by a sense of overpowering helplessness, by fear of a disaster that would smash her.

That is why a lie cannot be just a lie to Tommy's mother, but is a threat by Catastrophe to injure her. Irreparably by making Tommy into a chronic liar.

It is why an unmannerly child from the alley represents seduction into uncontrollable trouble.

It's why sex curiosity is not natural curiosity, but the frankest possible invitation to the God of Catastrophe to plunge her and Tommy into shame and humiliation.

What taught her to worship such a god is another story. It's a story whose theme is also over-protective.

With Ready-Made Curtains

Glorify Ordinary Windows

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

Even with ordinary windows and ready-made curtains, you can create an effect that is something pretty special.

There's nothing difficult about working out a glamorous window setting, and the materials needed are easy to find.

Look for the prettiest, fullest, wide pair of ruffled curtains of the type to be had. Make sure they'll reach the floor, and hang them as usual, but over two windows instead of one.

Add a café curtain rod and hang café curtains to the floor. It might be necessary to make the café curtains yourself, if the right length and color can't be found, but they are easy to make.

If the color of the walls is interesting, the café curtains might match them, or they could be the white or pale shade of the ruffled curtains.

Use a fabric that can't be seen through, so the window sills and strip of wall below them won't show.

Now you have a high, wide and floor-length setting for a dressing table, and a dramatic and summery lift for the room.

Worry Mars Her Pre-Prom Dreams

Girl Fears Beau May Forget Corsage

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

If you like question marks pouncing at your temples, if you like suspense to torment your tum-mum, if you like to toss on your pillow at night, you'll go right on worrying in advance as to whether he'll jump in the right direction.

And by right direction you mean the direction you want him to jump, of course.

It's hard enough to imagine how you yourself will operate in a certain situation without burdening your soul with worry over other people's way of operating. Yet you go right on stewing over things you can't control.

Will he know enough to...? Will he have enough sense to...? Will he be thoughtful enough to...? When the time comes, you'll know the answers. It's a waste of steam to worry too hard in advance what they'll be.

Here's a girl who's in a twit over whether she'll get flowers to wear to the prom. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: He has not given the slightest hint that he even knows he's supposed to send me flowers! He hasn't asked what kind of dress I'm going to wear, or anything.

"I go to a girl's school and he doesn't know any of my classmates, so there's really nobody he can ask but me.

"What if he doesn't give me a corsage? I'd feel terribly embarrassed. Dare I mention it to him, or have Mother say something?"

Just offhand I'd say you're not giving the boy credit for knowing anything about anything. If he had not had any dating experience at all, if he couldn't dance, if he didn't appreciate what an invitation to your prom meant, you wouldn't have asked him.

He's heard about corsages before. He knows when they're expected of him. And if he doesn't, his mother does!

Neither of them may ask for clues as to what you're planning to wear. And at the last minute he may turn with a box of flowers that won't go with anything.

You'll get your flowers—but the funny thing is you may wish you hadn't!

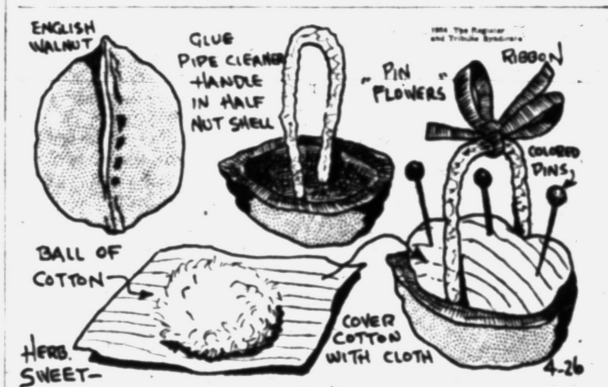

There may be no place to wear them—no shoulders to pin them to. They may be the wrong color, the wrong kind—absolutely superfluous. But you can take steps in your own behalf so it won't matter what he does about it.

I went to a very posh party the other night and there wasn't a conventional corsage in the place. Yet two of the girls in our party were wearing real flowers.

One had a garland of white hyacinth blossoms encircling her bun of very black hair. The other had nestled a flat cluster of daisies into the tulle pouf of her very full skirt. Both girls had planned and ordered their own flowers to complete the picture.

If there's any reason to add flowers to your dress, get them yourself. Then they'll be perfect and right. And fasten any flowers he may bring you to your purse.

Make May Day Baskets

Here is a new kind of May Day basket! It is fun to celebrate May Day in some way, and it is nice to make some kind of a small remembrance to give to Mother and your friends, so how do you like this idea sent in by Alice Bell of Dayton?

She tells us that a group of her friends made these, and that they are handy to have on your chest or dresser. Your Try It drawing is on its way, Alice.

You will need an English walnut for each two pincushions, for each one requires one half a walnut for the base. Look in several stores for the largest walnuts, for the larger they are, the more pins they will hold.

Separate your walnut carefully so that it will not break. Ask Mother how she does this. It seems that everyone has a "sure" way of opening walnuts so they do not break.

Stuff the inside of the walnut shell with a square of material wrapped around a wad of cotton. Glue this in place. Also, glue or cement on a pipe cleaner handle, and tie a tiny bow on top of it. Stick in a few pins for a start, and it's ready!

The betatron, producing 26,000,000 volts of radiation, is used in cancer treatment, the American Cancer Society says.

Who Pays Sick Guest's Doctor Bill?

Answer Depends Upon the Number of Calls Made

By EMILY POST

An unhappy situation is described in the following letter: "While spending the weekend at our house recently, one of my guests was taken ill suddenly. We called our family doctor.

"Now what I would like to know is: Are we expected to pay this bill or should it be sent on to her to pay? I would very much appreciate hearing from you concerning this matter."

Answer: If she became very ill and the doctor was called several times, he would very properly ask for her address and send the bill to her.

But if he made only one or two calls, it would be very ungenerous to forward the bill to her unless she has written and asked you for it.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am in the midst of addressing my wedding invitations and there seems to be a difference of opinion as to the correct way of folding the invitations and inserting them into the envelopes. Will you please straighten us out on this detail?

Answer: If the invitation fits into the envelope without folding, it is inserted with the engraving toward you.

A larger invitation is folded in half with the engraving inside, and inserted folded edge into the envelope first. With the unsealed flap of your hand, insert it in the mailing envelope.

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper way to eat a sticky cinnamon bun at the breakfast table? Should it be eaten with a knife and fork because it makes the hands sticky?

I am quite sure I read somewhere that one eats with a fork or spoon foods that are messy and sticky. My husband's answer to this is: "Whoever heard of eating a cinnamon bun with a knife and fork?"

Answer: Your husband is perfectly right. You certainly do not eat a cinnamon bun with a knife and fork. You might, however, cut it in half.

Bride Terrified at Thought of Making Reports Before Women's Club

Get Ready for Hot Days of Summer

Prepare House for Better Resistance to Heat

By HUBBARD COBB

Around this neck of the woods it was pretty darn hot last summer and a lot of people did a lot of complaining.

This summer will probably be pretty warm too, so it might be a good idea to do a few things to your home now to make it more comfortable come July and August.

One of the best things you can do to make your house less hot in summer is to insulate the roof or attic floor.

This is not an expensive undertaking and will make the whole house as well as the upstairs room much cooler in summer as well as warmer in winter.

Awnings, shades and venetian blinds on windows are fine things to have because they keep the sun from reaching through the window glass into the house.

Weatherstripping on windows helps, too, for warm air always flows from hot to cool and if it's warmer outside than inside you can bet your last dollar that heat will be flowing through cracks around windows.

The south and west sides of the house are the worst as far as picking up heat goes and so here is where you need your best shading devices.

Anything that keeps the sun off the house is going to do you good. Trees and high shrubs are ideal for this purpose, especially if they drop their leaves in the fall to allow the winter sun to reach the house.

Large areas of glass should be provided with some shading devices, and if a window isn't required for ventilating purposes it's often wise to leave the storm sash up during the summer. The two layers of glass with the air space between them make a good insulator.

Told to Follow Four Steps Reluctant to Join Group

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband is a professional man," a bride writes, "and we have just moved into the community where he will practice the rest of his life. It is very important that I make a good impression, and I have been introduced to a great many of the women in the community.

"Now they have invited me to join the women's club, and I am scared to death. I have never belonged to a club in my life, and this is a very formal one.

"I know they will ask me to be on committees, and the very thought of having to make a talk, even a five-minute report, scares me horribly.

"I have always been very shy in front of groups, and it was all I could do in school to answer a question in front of the class.

"I have half a mind not even to join the club, because if I do, and ever should have to address them, I will do so badly that it might have been better never to get into it in the first place. 'What can I do?'

In the first place, most speakers, even the eloquent, experienced, professional ones, get nervous.

Famous lecturers who get top fees and go all over the country have secretly confided to me that they always die a thousand deaths, always tremble before their talk.

As a fact, people have told me that unless you are sensitive enough to have stage fright, you are not sensitive enough to be a good speaker.

So, face the fact that you may always have that pre-speech nervousness, and that there is nothing wrong with it, uncomfortable though it may be.

Second, go to your library and get hold of a good book on parliamentary procedure. There are several of them, and if you will study one, you will learn all about how meetings are conducted, the proper forms of address, and so forth.

This will make you sure of yourself, and at home with the techniques of club procedures.

Third, try to volunteer for committees in which you have real interest and to which you can make a real contribution.

If figures interest you, get on the financial committees. If flowers are your forte, get on the garden committee.

You will make a more valuable contribution in the field you like, and then, should you ever have to give an address, your interest in the subject will carry you through, even if your delivery, in the beginning, is not polished.

Fourth, you might investigate and see if your YWCA or adult education center gives courses in public speaking.

Courses are wonderful, because you will be with others who suffer as you do, and misery loves company. Also, the mere practice of having to speak regularly will give you poise.

Wheat is the most widely distributed of cereal crops.

Muffins Add Nice Touch to Any Meal

Graham Gems Are Delicious Variation by Mrs. Stolzman

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Muffins add that certain touch to any meal. Served fresh from the oven, they are eagerly eaten by the entire family.

These Graham Gems, the contribution of Mrs. Frank Stolzman of Clarkston, will be a happy variation of your usual muffin recipe.

When we met Mrs. Stolzman at the Fashionette Club recently, we asked her for some personal information to accompany her recipe. She was too modest, we fear, in insisting that there was little to say. She did admit to a fondness for sewing and fancywork.

GRAHAM GEMS
By Mrs. Frank Stolzman

½ cup of sugar
1 tablespoon lard or other shortening
1 egg
Pinch of salt
1 cup buttermilk or sour milk
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup white flour
1 cup graham flour

Sift the dry ingredients together. Combine egg, milk and shortening. Add to dry ingredients, stirring only enough to moisten all ingredients.

Bake in greased muffin tins in a 400-degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve at once.

IF petite—

Avoid the square look. Good are the new casual suit-jackets—a mere slip of a suit, bound and tied with satin.

Miss P. — "Easy" for the silhouette from now through fall. Clothes look easier, making elegance as easy as breathing. Clothes are easier to live in and to live with, and there's an easy, nonchalant new way of wearing this silhouette. Try it now!

Mary Margaret McBride Says: Words of Wisdom Make the H-Age Easier to Bear

H-bomb talk was beginning to make me feel helpless and doomed. Then I took to asking questions of wiser heads and keeping a record of the answers. Because this helped me a little, I'd like to share my log with others, for what it is worth.

Will Durant, philosopher and historian: Too much time is being spent paying attention to what has happened in the past 24 hours—not enough to the past 600 years.

Charles Franklin Kettering, engineer and inventor: Sure the world's in a mess—but it's always been in a mess. It's just that nowadays we hear about it so much faster.

Harold Stassen, U. S. foreign operations administrator: The development of this power (nuclear) is of great significance to the future security of the United States and the free world. As it advances, it can so strengthen the free nations that there is less likelihood the Soviet will start moving toward a third World War.

Novelist John Master: Once when I was a boy, walking with my father, we saw a bull. I was frightened and showed it. My father quoted, "Towards die many times before their deaths; the valiant never taste of death but once."

The saying stuck with me. It really doesn't do much good to show fear—and still less to try to avoid what you are scared of. You'll find you only run into worse.

Carroll Lane Fenton, anthropologist: It's estimated that there have been about 2 billion years of life on this earth and in that time many species have flourished and then disappeared. The fossil world is a great relief to look back upon today, for it shows us that one species isn't really much . . .

Nathan Schachner, historian: We were worse off in 1776. Today we're a powerful nation, we've grown and expanded our position in the world. Then we had no idea where we were going. We were just a group of colonies which had become states in a predatory world. We were in a far more perilous position then, surrounded by the wolves.

Philip Wylie, author of a novel envisioning an atom-age attack on America: You can forestall your own panic if you can face an ordeal in your feeling and go through it in imagination. That prepares you to bear it.

No sacrifice, no terror, no outrage is too great to stand up against if you believe in freedom, so each of us should face the possibility emotionally and say, "I can learn. I can take this. I am an American, and I can hold all I have by keeping my head."

The Rev. Margaret Blair Johnson: Afraid of being afraid is what is wrong, not the fear itself. There has to be fear or we wouldn't be able to protect ourselves—and there are things to be afraid of. But faith lies in knowing that you do not have all the answers . . . you must go to God for the rest.

My recipe for HONEY-RHUBARB PIE... always successful in my ELECTRIC RANGE

Popular hostess, Mrs. Fred Black, is a very active 4-H Club leader and church worker. Her pet hobby is collecting cookbooks, so it's not surprising that she has lots of "specials" for entertaining. Honey-Rhubarb Pie is one of her specialties that you'll enjoy serving. You'll enjoy baking it, too, with the help of that time- and flavor-saver, a modern electric range.

It's easy to make cooking a pleasant practice instead of a chore—just switch to electric cookery, as 345,000 of your neighbors have. With electric cooking you never guess about temperatures . . . need not scour smoke-blackened utensils . . . and you wash down kitchen walls less often.

HONEY-RHUBARB PIE

Temp: 425°F.
Time: 40-45 min.
2 eggs
1 cup strained honey
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon grated orange rind (optional)
¼ teaspoon salt
3½ cups diced rhubarb
9-inch unbaked pastry shell

Beat eggs; add flour, salt, honey and orange rind. Pour honey mixture over diced rhubarb. Mix well. Place in pastry shell. Cover with lattice of pastry strips. Bake.

Bob Considine Says:

Probers Harboring Doubt About What They've Done

By BOB CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON (INS)—The subcommittee judging the Army-McCarthy talk-show is meeting today to find out what it did Friday. Friday, after hours of legalistic wrangling they adopted a motion by Sen. McClellan, a slow-talking and serious man from Arkansas, to subpoena all the Army-McCarthy telephone conversations recorded without McCarthy's knowledge. McCarthy grumbled but okayed the subpoena motion.

It was one of those motions full of whereases and whyfors and long enough to strangle Democrats. Half an hour after it was introduced the senators wanted the stenographer to read it back. The fellow looked like he might quit then and there, but happily remembered he had sent that part of his paper downstairs to be transcribed. So Sen. Mundt asked McClellan to take another whack at it. McClellan tried. It wasn't much like the first time but everybody said "aye"—puzzled or no.

Problem now is: What will the committee do with the impounded stuff? Will it break an FCC law if it makes public a conversation mentioning the name of a person who doesn't want to be mentioned? And just how good a reporter was Jack Lucas, the official eavedropper? What did he leave out?

Also, what is meant by "relevant" conversations. The Democrats on the subcommittee panel think that the only way to keep this case from lasting until Christmas is to keep it confined to this question: Did Mac and his people put excessive heat on the Army to get preferential treatment for Dave Schine?

Mac, himself, wants a broader picture, perhaps one that takes in his investigation of subversives in the Army's Fort Monmouth, the case of the untalkative dentist, Maj. Irving Peress, the battle with Brig. Gen. Zwicker and so forth. The roots of the Schine incident reach into all those fields, the senator feels.

Ray Jenkins, the Tennessee lawyer who is the ringmaster of the hearings, hopes to run against another TV star, Sen. Estes Kefauver, when Kefauver comes up for reelection this November.

Jenkins is a Republican, and Tennessee sends about as many Republicans to Washington as it sends polar bears. But the big, wordy Jenkins thinks he has a good chance—and that the present hearings give him a good showcase in which to display his wares. At least one senator has conceded the November victory to Jenkins. In an absent-minded moment the other day, Sen. Mundt called him "Senator" Jenkins.

What a nerve-racking job it must be to sit for any length of time in the subcommittee's witness chair, or even in a solon's seat! The witness gets his questions over the heads of four or five photographers squatting directly in front of the witness desk, cameras aimed and ready to fire.

If he changes his expression in the slightest, his picture is taken. If he makes a gesture or leans over to talk to his lawyer, boffo. If he pounds the table, he's blinded by flash bulbs.

My own estimate of when the hearings will end: Never.

Aussie Aborigine Gains Wide Fame Via Stamp

SYDNEY (AP)—One Pound Johnny, the Australian aborigine whose bearded face appears on the 3 shillings 6 pence Australian postage stamp, has shaved off his beard.

One Pound Johnny lives on a central Australian cattle station 160 miles west of Alice Springs. Alice Springs people say he is shaving as a disguise to avoid autograph hunters next time he visits town. Since his face first appeared on the stamp two years ago Johnny has received hundreds of letters, some from the United States.

His boss Bill Waudby at the Mount Wedge cattle station bought Johnny an ink stamp pad to meet requests for his signature—his thumb print.

Scientists Want High Level Quiz

Cite Probe Damage to Work at Ft. Monmouth, Hit Present Publicity

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A committee of scientists says President Eisenhower should appoint a "high level" committee of scientific and administrative authorities "to examine the situation" which has arisen from investigations at the Signal Corps Engineering Laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

In a bulky report of an inquiry into the investigations, a committee of the Federation of Scientists, headed by Ernest C. Pollard, professor of biophysics at Yale, charged that the investigations already have done substantial damage to radar and communications work in progress at Ft. Monmouth, and to morale.

The scientists suggested that a President-appointed committee study these points:

"The active research output per dollar at Monmouth in comparison with laboratories such as Bell Laboratories, General Electric Laboratories, Project Lincoln or the Naval Research Laboratory."

"The background of the security personnel."

"The presence of racial or religious prejudice."

"The amount of actual disruption to classified work entailed by the sensational newspaper stories."

"The seriousness of proved espionage or security leaks in recent years."

The report made public here yesterday hits investigations by a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and by the Army Security Board. McCarthy said in Milwaukee where he spent the weekend, he had not seen the scientists' report and did not comment on it.

Dinner Meeting to Settle Details

Junior League Backers, Physicians, Educators to Attend

Plans for a spring vision testing program for pre-school children in Pontiac, Birmingham, Waterford Township and West Bloomfield Township will be formulated in detail Tuesday at 6 p. m. dinner meeting at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Members of the Birmingham Junior League, sponsors of the program which last year tested the eyesight of hundreds of Pontiac-area youngsters, will meet with Pontiac and Birmingham advisory committees composed of prominent physicians and leaders in the fields of health and education.

Vision screening clinics have been scheduled from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. at the following times and locations:

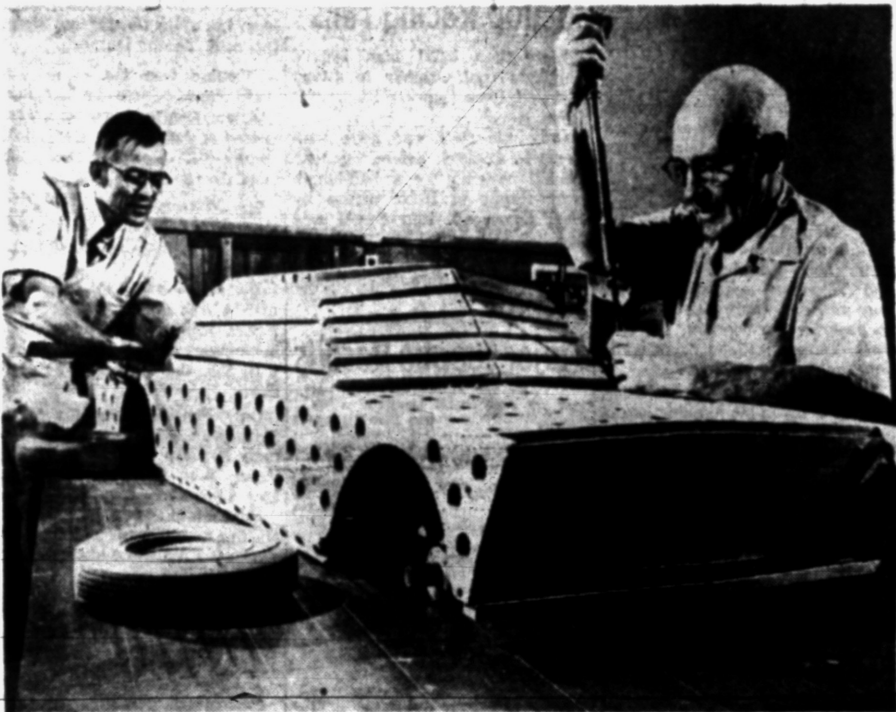

May 2, 4 — Birmingham Community House, Birmingham.
May 10, 11, 12 — All Saints Episcopal Church, Pontiac.
May 17, 18 — Community United Presbyterian Church, Drayton Plains.
May 19 — Christ Lutheran Church, Airport and Williams Lake Rds., Waterford Twp.
May 21 — West Bloomfield Township Hall, 4406 Orchard Lake Rd.

From 14 to 48 Junior League women will devote their time each day to giving the "sight games" which tell how well the youngsters can see. Only experienced and trained personnel will conduct the tests.

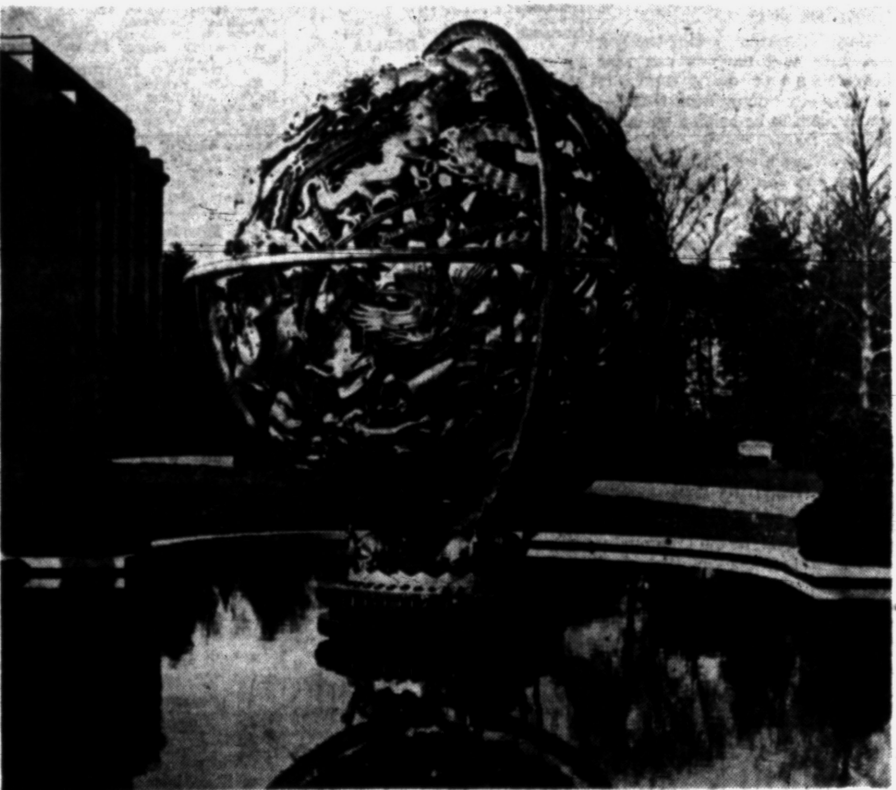

Representing the Junior League at tonight's meeting will be Mrs. Gene A. White, Mrs. Harvey Kresge Jr., co-chairmen, and Mrs. R. Jamison Williams, public relations director. Representing the Pontiac advisory committee will be Dr. Campbell Harvey, Dr. Robert J. Cooper, Mrs. Mary M. Burrell, supervising nurse, Pontiac Health Dept.; Miss Josephine Sealey, coordinator Pontiac School Health Services; and Miss Martha Johnson, assistant director of nurses, Oakland County Health Dept. Dr. Aaron D. Eiker, also on the committee, is out of town and so will not attend.

Attending from the Birmingham committee will be Mrs. Anyce Gillette, Birmingham city nurse, Miss Frances Curtin, Birmingham school nurse, Dr. Ralph Fox and Dr. Lloyd Kemp.

The vision screening tests, given without charge, are for all children between the ages of 3 and 5. They are designed to catch vision defects early so that corrective measures may be taken before school work begins.

Pontiac Woman Relinquishes PTA Presidency Thursday

The name of Lola B. King, will be added to the list of past-presidents of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers Thursday afternoon in Saginaw.

However, when this year's annual PTA state convention winds up its three-day session and Mrs. King, of Pontiac, steps down from the head post, she will not be through with PTA work.

"I may be through serving as president, but PTA and I are going on forever," she says. "After all, I have been an active member for more than 30 years. I call it my best habit," explains this gray-haired, 5 feet two, woman who for three years has spoken before small PTA groups, large conventions and commanded respect and attention from a packed house or Senate in Lansing.

Three years ago in Ironwood, several hundred miles from the scene of her own local PTA group, she was named president of the organization which then counted 205,440 members. Today, under her leadership, membership stands at the all-time high of 291,011.

PTA headquarters in Lansing reports that her three-year term has witnessed the greatest strides by this lay-professional organization dedicated to advancing the welfare of boys and girls, their schools and homes.

PTA to Mrs. King has not been an organization, but a cause. Thoroughly indoctrinated with the value of the public schools, understanding and cooperation between the home, the school and the community, Mrs. King has been selling public schools for years because she was sold.

"When I walk down Pontiac streets, or when I travel through other towns and cities, I always experience a feeling of pride when I see our public schools," she says.

Here are institutions which guarantee the American way of life. They are the only way persons like me, my family and thousands of other families could ever have an opportunity to improve ourselves and hence make a contribution to our country," she said.

Traveling thousands of miles in this state to other spots in the country, Mrs. King has been in constant demand as speaker and resource person at educational meetings.

One well-known national educational leader claims Mrs. King knows more about education than the professionals.

"She has the interest in this vital field and what she didn't know she went out and found out about. People listen to her because she is a lay person and this is invaluable to the profession," he said.

A resident of Pontiac since 1926, Mrs. King is the only woman member of the Pontiac board of education. Because of her interest in education, she says, she will run for office again this year when her term expires.

Born in Hart, Mich., she graduated from high school there, and graduated from the Grand Rapids McLaughlin Business University. In PTA work she has served in practically every post. As president of a local unit, president of the Pontiac Council and director of District Service she went up the ladder to perform the duties of vice-president of the Michigan Congress.

Mrs. King often is called in by the governor as a resource person for his educational problems. He has asked her to serve on the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, a recently created group.

Mrs. King has conducted a series of surveys, for her own information, on the cost of education in this state and in the rest of the nation. She has pointed up the difference in educational opportunities in the different areas. "My greatest and immediate concern is the shortage of teachers. I am proud to say the PTA is doing many things to alleviate this by offering scholarships for prospective teachers and pointing up the need in their communities," she said.

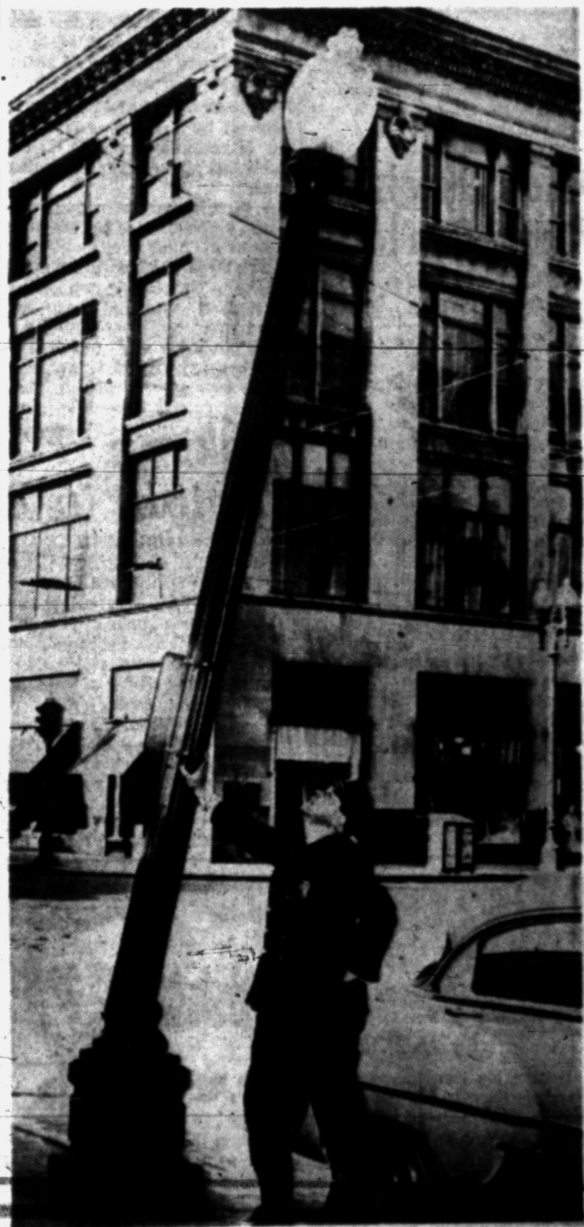

Mrs. King's two married daughters, Mrs. John Leonard Jr., and Mrs. Alvin Sommerville, both with children in Pontiac schools, have caught their mother's enthusiasm for PTA. Mrs. Leonard is vice-president of her school PTA.

Pontiac Blood Drive Seeks More Donors

Mrs. N. E. Durocher, Red Cross blood donor recruitment chairman for Pontiac, today again urged anyone who can give blood to volunteer for Tuesday's Bloodmobile visit.

The mobile clinic will set up equipment at the First Presbyterian Church, at Wayne and West Huron Sts., from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Donors can make appointments at the Red Cross chapter house, by calling FE-4-3575, until 5 p. m. today or with Mrs. Durocher, at FE-5-4244, tonight. Anyone who can't call can drop in anytime Tuesday except between 11:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m., the group's lunch hour.

HE CAN'T LEAVE HIS POST—Sgt. D. W. Dunning, of the Minneapolis, Minn., police force, demonstrates graphically how he sticks to his post. He couldn't leave even if he wanted to. The base of the street lamp shown here had rusted out and the post wobbled precariously in high winds as Dunning was passing the other day. He put in a fast call for help and then returned to the post, supporting it until a repair truck arrived.

Cancer Society's Open House Begins Today

The American Cancer Society is holding open house starting today and running through Friday of this week at its new office, 66 W. Lawrence St., Pontiac.

Ten northern Oakland organizations have joined with the society to act as hosts and hostesses each day from 3 to 5:30 and 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Chairman Francis Miller, in charge of the 1954 Cancer Crusade, reports additional support for the educational crusade in the form of services especially designed to add to the visibility of the ACS program.

For instance, trucks are carrying bumper stickers with the slogan "Strike Back at Cancer" and posters have been placed in business places in Pontiac and outlying towns.

Miller states, "We believe we are accomplishing our aim to make the public aware that this is everybody's American Cancer Society."

Dr. John D. Monroe, acting chairman of the North Oakland Area of the ACS, reports that plans are afoot for a broader program for the training of volunteers for the organization.

He said that a special sign-up sheet will be maintained during the society's open house with the hope that volunteers qualified for the many types of activity may be contacted at an early date and trained for the work of their choice.

The cancer society will work in cooperation with efforts of the Pontiac Area United Fund, of which the ACS is a member, in selection and training of volunteers.

The American Cancer Society office will be open for usual services to cancer patients or their families from 10:15 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. during this week of the open house. As of May 3 the office will be open for service until 4 p. m., as usual.

Chairman Miller wishes to thank the following local organizations who have aided the new office and in the plans for the open house this week:

Arnold Sign Co., Buckner Finance Co., Camp Fire Girls of St. Frederick's School, First Presbyterian Church, Gaudier Storage Co., National Guard, Naval Reserve, Pontiac Fruit Co., Whitfield, Walter and Dawson, newspapers and radio stations in the county. This list is in addition to the one published last week. And many contributors were anonymous.

Belmont Meet Opens Tuesday

Several New Features Are Provided in 42-Day Turf Event

NEW YORK (U)—The thoroughbred, and New York's Two-Buck Bennies, move from Jamaica to Belmont Park tomorrow for a 42-day race meeting which will provide a number of new features.

One of these is turf racing, popular in Europe, and another is the first truly international steeplechase ever held at the swank Long Island plant.

The meeting will also mark the return of Alfred G. Vanderbilt's big grey ghost, Native Dancer, who has lost only one race in his career. The loss came in the Kentucky Derby last year when the Dancer was beaten by Dark Star.

The Dancer, who had to take it easy because of a bad foot last fall, will run in the Metropolitan Mile on May 15, with Royal Vale looming as his toughest opponent.

The first flat race over grass—made possible by removable hurdles, is scheduled May 1 and the international steeplechase is May 8, with entries being flown in from England and Ireland.

The Belmont stakes, last of the triple-crown races, will be June 12.

Bullets Draft Killen

NEW YORK (U)—Werner Killen of Lawrence Tech was the only college basketball player in Michigan to be drafted by a professional team in the National Basketball Association.

The association announced Sunday that Killen is Baltimore's 3rd choice. Baltimore picked 11 players, with Frank Selvy of Furman and Bob Leonard of Indiana ranking 1st and 2nd.

Fishing Results Spotty

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Outdoor Writer
GRAYLING (U)—The weather was miserable Saturday, but the fishing was fair. The weather was excellent Sunday, but the fishing was miserable.

This summed up a crazy, mixed up trout season opening weekend.

Nearly 200,000 trout fishermen and several thousand bluegill and sunfish fishermen were out for the weekend that marked the beginning of the open season on those species.

Some good catches of trout were reported on Saturday, although most of the trout country was deluged under an all-morning rain.

The fish were biting best at the height of the rain. Many good sized fish and limit catches were recorded.

The fishing slackened off in the afternoon when the rain stopped. Sunday in northern Michigan dawned bright and clear. The sunshine sparkled on the rippling trout waters and many fishermen who had been discouraged by the rain Saturday flocked to the streams and lakes.

But the fish apparently had filled up on Saturday and were not particularly interested in the dainty morsels offered on the end of fishing lines.

The loamy worm was far and away the most popular and the most successful trout bait. All contest winners in the Kalkaska trout festival were caught on worms.

At Kalkaska, the best opening day trout was a 25½ inch six and a half pound rainbow taken by George Seaman of Alden in Spencer Creek, Antrim County.

Oakland County lakes also yielded a number of fish over the weekend as thousands greeted the opening of the general fishing season.

Best catch was reported by Grady Pinner of Drayton Plains, who took an 8-pound, 14-ounce, 29-inch rainbow from the Clinton River early Sunday morning.

William Kotynski of Detroit took his limit of trout and rock bass from Union Lake. Pete Kulcavage hooked a large pike at Upper Straits Lake and young Tom Nelson pulled several trout from Ox-bow Lake.

Heichel trailed Sanders and Kelly in the feature.

In the 3rd heat, Phil Ragatz of Waterford was 1st, followed by Tom Taylor of Pontiac.

Regular racing season begins next Sunday at the M-59 track with an 8-race program, including four heat races, a trophy dash, Australian pursuit, semi-final and feature.

Races will be held each Sunday throughout April, with qualifying starting at 5:30 p. m. and the 1st race at 7 o'clock.

Derby Favorite Slated to Leave New York Today

Mile Trial Scheduled at Churchill Downs on Tuesday

By JOHN CHANDLER
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U)—With the exception of the $10,000 Derby trial, all preliminaries are over and battle lines are being formed for the 80th running of the world famous Kentucky Derby.

Most of the principals for the main event already are quartered at ancient Churchill Downs, where the mile-and-one-quarter classic for $100,000-added money will be raced Saturday.

Main exception was Correlation, the big California derby favorite who was to leave New York City about noon today by plane for Louisville. The handsome bay son of Free America stamped himself as the one to beat by whipping C. V. Whitney's Fisherman and six other colts in the $122,750 Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday.

Meanwhile, some unfinished business will be transacted tomorrow at Churchill Downs as the Hasty House Farm's Hasty Road, Andy Crevolin's Determiner, the Cain Hoy Stable's Hot Pursuit and others go postward in the derby trial at one mile.

The last two trial winners, Calumet Farm's Hill Gail in 1952 and Cain Hoy's Dark Star last May, came back on Saturday to snatch the blanket of American Beauty roses.

Others expected to see action in the trial include Grace Kosiba's Sub-Factor, Mark Leach's Jet General, H. H. Mundy's Sir Chris, and S. R. Palutis' Thunderbird.

Early birds will get a peek at another top derby threat early tomorrow when Woodvale Farm's Goyamo works a mile with the Woodley Lane Farm's Red Hangan.

Goyamo won the Blue Grass Stakes Thursday at Keeneland, and right now rates as probable 2nd choice to Correlation on Saturday.

Bevo, Coach Talk Pro Jobs With Trotters

NEW YORK (U)—One of the most fantastic combinations in college basketball history—Newt Oliver, a small-sized promoter coach, and the apple of his eye, gangling Bevo Francis—were ready today to cast their lot with the professionals.

Oliver had a luncheon date with Abe Saperstein, the equally-famous owner of the Harlem Globetrotters and it was expected that the pair would make a package deal for coach and protegee to move into the play-for-pay ranks.

There doesn't seem to be much else Bevo, the youngster who pulled Rio Grande College out of bankruptcy, and Oliver can do. They are inseparable. They've indicated they'll stay together at all costs.

Saperstein admitted that Oliver had sounded him out on the Globetrotter deal. If their price isn't out of line, Bevo and Oliver probably will sign as a package with Saperstein.

Lindeman Shy of State Lead

Tony's 1,895 Is Just Short of Top Mark in All Events

FLINT, Mich. (U)—Detroit's Tony Lindeman missed by one pin of sharing the actual all events lead after weekend action in the state bowling tournament at Flint.

Although defending champion Detroit Strohs Beer took over the team lead here several weeks ago with a 3073 actual series, Lindeman, of the Strohs stars, competed only in the doubles and singles.

Lindeman was the 6th man that weekend and missed the team event. But he fired 673 in doubles and 605 in singles for a great start on all events.

Tony got his chance when he filled in on the Helin Tackle team from Detroit over the weekend. He shot 617 for an overall 1895 total but one pin short of the leader.

That was the only change in the actual division. Three new names appeared on the board in handicap competition. In singles, George Arvant of Detroit shot 716 for 7th place. In all events M. Pillsbury of Coldwater fired 1994 for 6th place and Claude Curtis of Traverse City collected 1976 for 10th.

Big Ten Confer on TV, Athletic Code

CHICAGO (INS)—Top Big Ten officials continue a meeting today in Chicago which is concerned with a review of football television programs and reports on rules revisions affecting the conference athletic code.

Athletic directors and faculty representatives met yesterday, prior to today's session of university presidents.

Bill Reed, assistant commissioner, said discussions centered on TV from a regional basis, while keeping in mind the fact that the National Collegiate Athletic Association program for 1954 already has been accepted.

America's lowest priced low-friction SIX!

FORD'S NEW I-BLOCK SIX IS THE MOST MODERN SIX IN THE INDUSTRY . . . THE ONLY LOW-FRICTION SIX IN ITS FIELD!

More folks are swinging to Ford's 115-h.p. I-block Six because they're getting the most modern six in the industry. Ford's short-stroke, low-friction design means less gas waste, less wear and longer engine life.

The extra-deep, "I-shaped" block means a more rigid, quieter engine. And the new high-turbulence combustion chambers, and Ford's Automatic Power Pilot, bring you even more "GO" per gallon.

ONLY FORD OFFERS BOTH A V-8 AND SIX IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD!

Ford is still the only low-priced car to bring you V-8 power. And this year, Ford's Y-block V-8, with its new deep-block, low-friction design, is the most modern "eight" in the industry. Both new Ford engines are available with Fordomatic, Overdrive or Conventional Drive—the finest choice of drives in the low-price field.

HERE'S WHAT FORD'S LOW-FRICTION DESIGN MEANS TO YOU

LONGER ENGINE LIFE. Both new Ford engines are of short-stroke design. This means pistons travel less distance. Naturally, there is less friction and less wear. In both engines overhead valves have a free-turning feature which allows them to rotate to cut down wear.

MORE POWER. Because there is less friction to overcome in moving pistons up and down, there is more energy to move the car. And because combustion chambers are wedge-shaped, fuel burns more completely . . . for even more power.

MORE "GO" PER GALLON. Ford engines also bring you the additional savings of the Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the last ounce of power out of every drop of gas. You won't find any of the modern advances on this page in any other low-priced car.

Worth more when you buy it . . . even more when you sell it!

Giant Hurlers Blank Phils 3 Straight Games

Michigan Splits With Wildcats

By JOE REICHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The talk around baseball today is of the three straight shutouts turned in by New York Giants pitchers Marv Grissom, Sal Maglie and Johnny Antonelli. The Giant hurlers blanked the Philadelphia Phillies on Saturday and twice Sunday.

The brilliant pitching by the Giants' trio has all but overshadowed the remarkable play of the Chicago White Sox who, in one week, leap-frogged last to first place with seven victories in eight games.

Following up Grissom's 1-0 three-hit squeaker over Robin Roberts Saturday, Maglie and Antonelli limited the Phils to five and three hits, respectively, yesterday as the Giants swept the doubleheader 3-0 and 5-0. In 27 straight scoreless innings, the Phils accumulated only 11 hits, 10 of them singles.

The White Sox made it three in a row over Baltimore coming from behind each time to capture both ends of a twin bill 3-2 and 4-3. The double victory boosted the Sox into a half game lead over Detroit. The Tigers fell into a second place tie losing a 10-8 overtime decision to Cleveland.

Washington broke loose with five runs in the eighth inning to overcome the Boston Red Sox 5-1.

Maglie, 37-years-old today, celebrated his birthday a day early by outpitching Curt Simmons for his third straight triumph. A double by Davey Williams and Don Mueller's single broke a scoreless duel in the seventh.

CHICAGO (UP) — Michigan, champions of the Big Ten, invaded Wrigley Field for weekend games with Northwestern and left town with the issue not fully settled.

Struck by Ex-Roomie McDermott, Mel Will Miss 2 Months

WASHINGTON (UP) — Pitcher Maury McDermott says "I feel just as badly as Mel does" about the pitch that fractured the wrist on the left-throwing arm of Red Sox pitcher Mel Parnell.

McDermott, who came to Washington from Boston in an off-season trade—winged his former Boston roommate in Saturday night's game here and Parnell will be out of action for two months.

"Of all the people to hit," moaned McDermott, "I had to pick on my old roomie. I was trying to side-arm him. Mel swung on the pitch and the ball seemed to follow him."

"He just couldn't get out of the way. I tried to get Mel to come out to the house for dinner the night before. That's how friendly we are."

Parry O'Brien Heaves Shot to New Mark

Fabulous Toss May Not Be Recognized as World Record

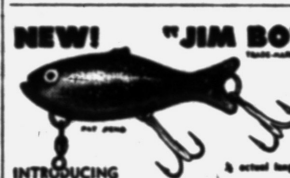

DES MOINES (UP) — Parry O'Brien, a young giant, is a world record holder with a fiery ambition—a 60-foot shot put.

He almost realized his desire in the Drake Relays here Saturday. The handsome, 6-feet 3-inch, 230-pound former Southern California athlete exploded the 16-pound shot 59 feet, 9 1/2 inches in an exhibition.

O'Brien, 1952 Olympic champion, set his present world record of 59-2 1/2 at Compton, Calif., last June. There was question Saturday whether the fabulous toss would count as a world record or would simply enter the books as a "noteworthy performance."

While the question of O'Brien's record is tossed about, there is no question about Kansas' two American marks set in the Drake show.

Anchored by slim Wes Santee, this country's greatest miler, the Jayhawks were propelled to American records in the distance medley relay (9:50.4) Saturday and sprint medley relay (3:21.4) Friday.

BIG TROUT—Grady Pinner of Drayton Plains displays the big rainbow trout he hooked in the Clinton River in Waterford Township Sunday morning at 5:30. The fish weighed 8 pounds, 14 ounces and was taken on a fly rod with garden hackle. Pinner used a number 8 hook and a 6-pound leader, but said he would have lost the prize had not Charles Wilson of East Detroit happened along with a landing net.

No Shipping Record Seen on Great Lakes This Year

CLEVELAND (UP) — Barring all-out war, the 1954 Great Lakes shipping season won't set any records.

Last season, with 290 ships operating full-tilt from March 26 on to November, a record $5,844,449 gross tons of iron ore was brought down. The over-all total of 199,604,000 tons of coal, ore, grain and limestone also was a new record, about 10,000,000 tons greater than the previous high in 1951.

Steel production this spring has been fluctuating between 60 and 65 per cent of capacity with 140 blast furnaces operating in the United States as of April 15. Last year on April 1, 173 furnaces were operating at about 85 per cent capacity with but 17,800,425 tons of iron ore on hand, compared with this year's 23,315,357 tons left on the docks from winter.

The estimated date for the full-scale start of this season's activities is within the first 10 days of May. Although some of the 276 carriers to operate this year are under way, many boats are still tied up. Several of the fleets have sent a few of their carriers north now that the passages are clear and most of the buoys and channel markers are in place.

Though 14 fewer boats will be in service this season, the vessels have greater capacity so there is no loss in tonnage and, in fact, a gain to an average of 11,414 gross tons.

Wary operators are reluctant to speculate on the season's activity. The Michigan Conservation Department has estimated that about 30,000,000 tons of iron ore would be brought down this year. Shipping officials have put the figure as low as 60,000,000, which would rank with the first post-war readjustment year of 1946 when 59,356,716 gross tons were carried.

There is little optimism in industrial circles for immediate improvement.

To Curb Tax-Free Ticket Purchases

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Internal Revenue Service has put the brakes on U. S. residents who cross the Canadian and Mexican borders to buy tax-free tickets to travel between points within the United States.

The U. S. government levies a 10 per cent tax on transportation tickets bought inside the country for travel inside the country. Canada and Mexico have no transportation taxes.

Residents of the United States who live near the international borders have found it worthwhile to step outside the country to buy tickets for travel which is essentially within the country.

Beginning May 1, the revenue service has ruled, such tax-free transportation in the United States may be bought only by non-residents of this country.

Chou Sees Chances for Peace Settlement

GENEVA (INS) — Chinese Communist Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai said upon his arrival in Geneva today that "joint efforts" by all "will provide possibilities of settlement" of the Korean and Indochinese questions.

Chou and approximately 40 other delegates arrived at an airport heavily guarded by Swiss troops. They were accompanied by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov aboard a Russian military plane.

Gas Firm Fighting Panhandle Eastern

By International News Service

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company is fighting in Washington today against the direct sale of natural gas to industry by pipeline companies.

Such direct sales, according to Michigan Consolidated, could boost gas bills in Detroit five million dollars a year.

The Supreme Court has ruled against direct sale of gas by Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company unless necessity can be proved. Panhandle, which supplies 40 per cent of the gas distributed in Detroit, is currently bucking Consolidated on the issue.

Lets Audience Use Imagination

Impressionistic Setting Helps Focus Attention on Action

HOLLYWOOD — In its production setup, the home audience is considered an integral part of television's Jo Stafford Show, according to the men in charge of the program.

"The charm of radio is in the imagination of the listener," explains co-producer Bernie Gould. "That's what we are trying to incorporate in the Stafford television show—the audience. They are a part of our show because what we are presenting is not a 'limited' realistic scene."

The Stafford sets are all impressionistic. For example, a house will consist of eight bars of wood with a window opening in other words, a stylized set.

"When Miss Stafford sings a torch song framed in its window, everyone will visualize the kind of house that is home to them," adds co-producer Paul Harrison. "This gives the viewer an opportunity to use his imagination."

"If you are singing a song, people are interested in that song and what it means to them," says music conductor Paul Weston. "A lot of extraneous, visual props detract, instead of adding meaning."

"And versatile camera action is possible," notes director Ed Hillie. "When you don't have to worry too much about going off your set. Our sets are partly imagination, anyway, so I can pull camera around many angles, going high and wide without worrying about inches. It's a directional freedom."

The Stafford show, which requires 12 to 13 rehearsal hours a week, originates in Hollywood. With Jo are The Starlighters, a singing group of four men, Weston, the producers, and star of the show huddle after each show to plan the format for the program three weeks hence.

BING'S BACK—Seen on television last night in his second video performance was the ever-popular crooner Bing Crosby. Shown with lovely doe-eyed Joanne Gilbert, one of his guests, the singer has decided to give TV another try. Joanne, a singer and dancer in her own rights appeared on the "Bing Crosby Show" along with Buddy Cole and the Wier Brothers.

Car Demolished, Driver Ticketed for No License

MONROE (INS) — It all started Sunday when Harry Winters, of Monroe, stalled his car on the railroad tracks.

Good samaritan William Schrader, of Grand Beach, saw Winters' plight and began to shove the car but pulled away when he saw a 20-car freight train bearing down. In his haste, Schrader ran into the crossing gates, caving in the hood of his car.

Then good samaritan Frank Pribyl, 18, entered the picture. He drove up and pushed Winters' car off the tracks, but was directly in the show huddle after each show to plan the format for the program three weeks hence.

and smashed it against a utility pole.

Good samaritan Pribyl, his car demolished, was ticketed by police when they discovered he was driving without an operator's license.

U. of D. Instructor Gets $4,000 Study Award

WASHINGTON — A University of Detroit instructor was awarded one of 10 fellowships last night by the American Political Science Assn.

The association gave the $4,000 fellowship to John T. Dempsey, 29, a graduate of Detroit's Wayne University who has been with the University of Detroit since 1951.

The program is designed to give legislative know-how and practical experience to the young professors, lawyers and newsmen in Washington.

Mexico Plane Crashes, Six Are Found Dead

Iraq Says U.S. Granted Military Aid Request

BAGHDAD (INS) — The government of Iraq has announced that a request for U.S. military aid made last year has been approved by the United States.

The announcement said Iraq has not entered into any alliance nor assumed any political obligations in return for the American aid. The request was made by Iraq in March 1953, but the announcement broadcast by Baghdad Radio yesterday did not say how much aid the U.S. has agreed to supply.

The number of those saved from cancer could be doubled by early detection and prompt adequate treatment, the American Cancer Society says.

Female Feet Two Sizes Larger in Generation

NEW YORK (UP)—Today's woman travels on a firmer foundation than her sister of a generation ago.

Shoe manufacturer Herman Del-man says the most popular size to day is 6-B; most of our mothers wore 4-B. Feet are expanding, he said, because they're used more for walking.

"The small foot just isn't fashionable any more," Delman said. "Women would rather be comfortable than vain."

U. S. Medical Colleges Magnet for Foreigners

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (U. S. medical schools have become a magnet for graduate medical students from nearly all countries outside the Iron Curtain.

That report was given to the Association of American Medical Colleges at its annual convention here. The report said 2,751 foreign physicians are in the United States and the list of applicants is growing steadily.

Texas is the principal cattle producing state.

Busch Wants to Breed a Colossal Clydesdale

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP)—Twelve one-ton Clydesdale horses have been imported by August A. Busch, Jr., for experimental breeding at his estate.

Clydesdales, famous for size, beauty and gentleness, are a trademark of his brewing firm, which once used them to draw its beer wagons but now uses the huge horses for show and advertising. "We want to see if we can produce an ever-greater horse," Busch said, "a sort of a super-Clydesdale."
