

Romney Outlines Plan for Economic Expansion

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney outlined a program for Michigan's economic expansion today which he said tackles the fundamentals of job-creating without eye-catching gimmicks and snappy slogans.

Romney made his recommendations in a written message to the legislature. The message also formed the prepared text of a speech to be delivered before a Michigan AFL-CIO legislative conference at Lansing.

"I don't expect to 'wow' them," said Romney of the talk before the union group. "There is no razzle-dazzle in this message. I'm just talking about basic things. It is just like football — you need the basic things such as blocking and tackling."

Romney said he was not restricted at all by the union group on the subject of his talk.

"I know they are interested in jobs," Romney said. "I assume they invited me because they are interested and that has been the tradition in the past."

"A ponderous and unglamorous

REPEATS STATEMENT

Romney repeated his former statement that Michigan's number one economic need is jobs, and added that the major role of the government is to make sure that "our economic citizens are not handicapped by public policies and actions."

Government, he said, should not be a stumbling block to compete in the open market place so that investor and producer enjoy satisfactory return.

This in turn, Romney said, makes possible satisfactory wage and financial benefits to workers and satisfactory service to consumers.

"If the employer cannot compete," he said, "it must not be because government, through policy and action, handicaps his ability to compete."

Romney said immediate steps that should be taken to capitalize on the job creation potential involve legislation in three areas.

Creation of a new department of economic expansion, with an executive director responsible directly to the governor and charged with the planning, direction and implementation of a job creation program.

Encouragement of creation of new business development corporations and encouragement to Michigan's financial institutions to provide additional sources of credit through these corporations.

Creation of a special state research fund of $750,000 to enable Michigan research facilities to focus attention on projects that can boost the state's job-producing economy.

PROPOSALS CONSIDERED

Romney declared: "All sorts of proposals have been considered — various forms of subsidy, an elaborate world's fair exhibit, a state magazine, a floating exposition on the Great Lakes, a fully-staffed Washington office, traveling ambassadors to tour Europe and the rest of the world and many more ideas. All have elements of merit."

The Governor said, However, that the fundamentals of Michigan's job problems must be tackled first.

"We must correct our weaknesses in blocking and tackling and line play before we can shake loose for a lot of touchdown runs," he said.

Sees Downturn if Taxes Not Cut

JFK Expects 'Hard Fight' but is Hopeful

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says U.S. economy "will inevitably move into a downturn" — perhaps this year — if Congress doesn't act promptly to cut taxes.

Kennedy told his news conference Thursday the congressional battle over tax legislation will be "a hard fight." But he was optimistic about getting an acceptable bill by the end of the session.

"We are going to get a bill for a tax reduction which will provide a consensus," Kennedy forecast. "It won't be perhaps the bill we sent up, but I think it will be a good bill."

In a special message to Congress Jan. 24, Kennedy proposed a combination of rate cuts and tax revisions that would produce, over the next three years, a net tax reduction of $10.2 billion.

Besides renewing and strengthening his plea for action on the he picked up by Venezuelan vessels.

State Department informants said that when search craft locate the ship their first step will be to "tell the Venezuelans."

"The prospects are good for finding the ship," one official said. "The chances of its getting through to Cuba, if that's where it's going, are remote."

The Venezuelan ambassador, Enrique Tejira-Paris, called at the White House, talked with President Kennedy and on leaving told newsmen that earlier reports the freighter had been located were in error.

Tejira-Paris said the erroneous report stemmed from the fact that Venezuelan planes yesterday sighted an unidentified ship in the Caribbean, which erroneously was believed to be the Anzoategui.

The ambassador said his country had asked for the cooperation of other nations, including the United States, in an effort to apprehend the freighter in accordance with international law.

County Counsel Gets Probate Judge's Seat

Oakland County Corporation Counsel Norman R. Barnard was named today by Gov. George Romney to fill Judge Arthur E. Moore's unexpired term as county Probate Judge.

Judge Moore was to be sworn in today as a Circuit Judge to succeed Judge H. Russel Holland, who retires today after 27 years on the county's Circuit Court bench.

Barnard also will take the oath as probate judge in the swearing-in ceremony at 3:30 p.m. today in Judge Holland's courtroom.

Barnard's appointment to the $23,500-a-year judiciary post will be effective until the November 1964 general election.

Barnard, 49, of 5945 Livernois Road, Troy, has been the county's corporation counsel and clerk of committees for the County Board of Supervisors since November 1958.

THREE CONSIDERED

He was one of three men recommended to Romney for the post by the county's Republican executive committee.

Thornburn is considered first in line for appointment to a sixth Circuit Judgeship expected to be established in the county this year by the State Legislature.

Barnard, a 1940 law graduate of University of Detroit, served as Troy Township Justice of the Peace (1939-1955), the township's clerk (1945-51) and its supervisor (1951-56).

He played a leading role in the incorporation of the City of Troy in 1955 and was chairman of the Troy Charter Commission.

Barnard served as clerk of committees and legislative agent for the board of supervisors from 1956 until his appointment as corporation counsel.

Assassination Planned Today, Police Claim

Others Questioned; Say Generals Among Those Arrested

PARIS (AP) — Three military officers and two women were arrested today and accused of plotting to kill President Charles de Gaulle.

It was the fourth assassination plot reported against the president in 17 months.

Police sources said the plotters planned to kill the 72-year-old chief of state with a high-powered rifle when he visited L'Ecole Militaire (military school) this morning.

First reports said six officers and a woman had been arrested. Interior ministry sources said only five are still held but that several others were questioned and released.

Some unconfirmed reports said one or more generals were among those arrested and that one officer detained was on the official reception committee for the president's visit. De Gaulle visited the school on schedule.

A French woman who taught English at the school also was arrested in the series of night raids that rounded up the alleged ringleaders, police reports said.

Harold Wilson Holds News Conference

Laborite Would Reject Polaris

LONDON (AP) — Harold Wilson the youngest Labor party leader in British history and possibly the next prime minister, wants Britain to get rid of its nuclear arms and abandon the Polaris missile agreement with the United States.

In a television interview following his election to the party leadership Thursday night, Wilson said nuclear arms should be confined to the United States and the Soviet Union.

As the party leader Wilson will become prime minister if Labor wins the general election which Prime Minister Harold Macmillan must hold by October, 1964. Recent opinion polls have given the Laborites a clear edge over Macmillan's conservatives.

Wilson, 46, a leftist intellectual and Labor's foreign affairs expert, won the party leadership over George Brown, the more conservative deputy party leader.

A second challenger, James Callaghan, was eliminated in the first ballot last week. Wilson defeated Brown 144-103 in a secret ballot of the Labor members of the House of Commons. Two legislators did not vote.

NASSAU, NO. — Wilson served notice immediately that he favors negotiations for an orderly withdrawal from the Nassau agreement Macmillan and President Kennedy made to supply Polaris missiles for British submarines.

"As long as there are nuclear submarines in the world they should be held, as far as the West is concerned, by the United States and by the Soviet Union," Wilson said.

He also said that he would like to see the U.S. Polaris submarine base at Holy Loch, and other such bases, taken out of the present American-British framework and put under the wing of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Asian Flu Hits in Michigan

Report Jump in Deaths Through Nation's East

From Our News Wires

The first cases of Asian flu have been verified in Michigan, reports the State Health Department.

"We figure the state is in for it now and that it will spread fairly rapidly in the next few days," said Dr. Harold Lambert, assistant director of the department Division of Epidemiology, which deals with such epidemic diseases.

Dr. Bernard Berman, deputy director of the Oakland County Health Department, said today that no confirmed cases of influenza in the county have been reported to his department.

U.S. health authorities reported a jump in deaths blamed on an outbreak of flu sweeping across the nation's East.

The influenza outbreak was of epidemic proportions in some cities. The serious Asian flu strain was confirmed to be active in five states and schools were closed and work forces sapped in some of the nation's largest population centers.

Physicians recommended ample rest, exercise and diet to prevent the disease — and plenty of rest and quiet for those suffering from its effects of headaches, sore throats, aches and nausea.

A widespread outbreak of influenza in West Germany raised fears of epidemics there.

Program Loses City Subsidy

Adult recreation programs formerly subsidized by the city are going on a self-supporting basis.

City officials today explained fee hikes as measures "which may be only temporary" and will be "subject to further study and review."

The changes were necessitated by a cutback in the city's recreation budget adopted by the City Commission last month.

The cutback was made by commissioners in an attempt to avoid too large an increase in the tax rate this year.

Some $45,000 was cut from the proposed parks and recreation department budget this year — slicing about 15 cents off the proposed tax rate.

The recreation budget alone was cut $30,000 — equal to an estimated 10-cent reduction in the proposed tax rate.

"The budget will be thoroughly reviewed after the board of tax review set for April," said Mayor Robert A. Landry.

COULD BE ALTERED

"If the tax base is higher than expected and we have more money to work with, the recreation budget could possibly be altered upward," he said.

City Manager Robert A. Stierer said most of the changes were being made in adult programs "because they can absorb cost increases more easily than children."

The policy change will not affect special interest courses currently in progress. Registration fees, however, will be as much as eight times higher for future courses.

For example, the registration fee for a course that meets one night a week for eight weeks will be $8. It used to be $1.

This involves such programs and courses as swimming, dancing, oil painting, sculpturing, cake decorating, flower arranging, sewing, gymnasium and fencing.

Since the city will no longer be subsidizing these programs, all participants will pay the same fee.

K Says Russia, China to Bury U.S. Together

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev declared tonight that when the time comes for communism to bury capitalism, the Soviet Union and Communist China together will throw in the last spadeful of earth.

Khrushchev told correspondents across a table at a reception given by the King of Laos that cooperation between Communist China and the Soviet Union is old, is continuing, and will continue.

"When the last spadeful of earth is thrown on the grave of capitalism," the premier said, "a warm handshake with the new Chinese ambassador, 'we will do it together with China.'"

It was all staged as a lightning quick performance to discredit stories that the two have reached such a bad point in their relations that a break could be imminent.

The demonstration took place before one of the biggest diplomatic receptions held in this city in several months.

It was given by King Savang Vatthana of Laos in the Hotel Sovetskaya, near the conclusion of his visit in the Soviet Union, the first country he is visiting on a tour which will take him to the nations which signed the accord under which Laos was made neutral and fighting ended in his country.

He is due in Washington late this month.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, noting that Khrushchev was talking to correspondents across a table, brought up the new Chinese ambassador, Pan Tzu-li, and Khrushchev promptly made a show of it.

"This is the Chinese ambassador," he said, shaking the man's hand while he held his arm with the other.

The ambassador grinned widely, and returned the handshake enthusiastically.

"Friendship and cooperation," said Khrushchev.

"Is this the beginning?" asked a newsman.

"No," replied Khrushchev. "Our cooperation has been going on a long time. It is continuing and it will continue."

pitals to handle the overflow of flu patients.

Doctors in the industrial state of Westphalia reported a shortage of 47,000 hospital beds.

The verified cases in Michigan were found at the University of Michigan among several students who had returned to Ann Arbor from holidays in the East.

Lambert said Gordon Eadie, Wayne County health officer, reported growing absenteeism in the Detroit area, also suspected to be because of the flu.

Wayne County cases have not yet been confirmed by department laboratory tests, he said, as this takes several days.

Absenteeism because of illness jumped to seven in the governor's office Friday morning.

Phones were ringing unanswered and the governor apologized in his news conference for having only one copy of the announcement of an appointment, explaining there was one to man the mimeograph machine.

Dems Seek Spots on Waterford Ticket

Democrats will contend for nominations to two major offices in Monday's primary in Waterford Township.

Elmer Fangbner, 327 Meindrad St., Drayton Plains, and Lewis Ruelle, 5156 Farm Road, are seeking the township clerk nomination.

A write-in candidate also has announced his candidacy.

The others are Charles Evans, 370 River St.; Donald Herr, 327 Siget St., Drayton Plains; Mrs. Juanita Luehmann, 3611 Percy King Drive; Kenneth (Gene) Preston, 641 Crest St.; and John Verhey, 434 Cheeseman St., Drayton Plains.

Republican candidates involved in primary contests were introduced in yesterday's Press.

Fangbner, 55, has lived in the township 36 years. A retired Pontiac fireman, he organized the township fire department and now serves as fire chief.

Following graduation from Pontiac High School, he attended Olivet College and Michigan State University.

He served six years on the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Ruelle, 43, was a township board trustee from 1954-61. He has lived in the township nearly all his life.

An employee of AC Spark Plug Co. in Flint, he finished the 11th grade at Clarkson High School. A Navy veteran, he formerly served on the township zoning commission and on the recreation board.

Coleman, 33, was appointed to fill a vacancy on the township board in 1957 and was the top vote getter in the 1959 board election.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, he is now a government and history teacher at Kettering High School. He is an Army veteran.

Evans, 42, a township resident for 22 years, is a graduate of Romulus High School. He is employed by General Motors Truck and Coach in the service parts division.

He is a member of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

tial paid a higher fee in most cases.

Special activities, such as the Pontiac men's and women's choruses, symphony orchestra and Fashion Your Figure Club also will be on a self-supporting basis.

OTHER SUPPORT

Stierer explained that some of these groups, such as the symphony, have other sources of outside financial support.

"We're encouraging them to use private financial support rather than draw from the city budget," he said.

Some programs, such as baseball, softball and basketball, will continue to be subsidized by the city, but fees for persons living outside Pontiac will be increased considerably.

Youth activities will suffer mainly in terms of time. The Frog Hollow Day Camp will be run for several weeks instead of eight, according to present plans.

It also is proposed that playground operation be cut from eight to six weeks. Other minor cuts will be made in supplies and equipment, if necessary.

Initial reaction has been a sharp drop in registration. Adult painting courses, for example, which drew 106 registrants last fall, had only 24 this month.

In at least one case, a whole class walked out in protest to the higher fees.

Birmingham Area News

Questions of Financing Main Discussion Topic

BIRMINGHAM — The question of finances emerged as the major problem last night at a joint meeting held to discuss eventual adoption of Birmingham's central business district development plan.

The city could not receive federal aid to put the plan into action, officials said.

Carrying out projects mapped in the plan, according to City Commissioner Charles Renfrew, would cost anywhere from $850,000 to $2 million.

City commissioners attended the meeting last night, with representatives from nine other civic organizations and boards.

City Planner William R. Brownfield, commenting on the meeting today, said he believed the joint session accomplished two major goals.

"One is that it should prove to the City Commission that there are a lot of people besides the merchants who are interested in development of the central business district," Brownfield said.

FINANCE PROBLEM

The city planner also mentioned that the meeting should have brought out the fact of the financial problem involved in implementation of the CBD plan.

"The merchants can't finance it themselves," Brownfield said.

Mayor pro tem William H. Bergum said the need for adequate parking and the necessity of a peripheral traffic route stood out as major considerations in reports by various representatives last night.

If the plan goes through, Bergum said, it must be done with a bond issue or an over-all financing regarding the peripheral route.

He said the parking district can handle its phase of the plan under the present financial base of the parking system.

Birmingham Board of Education President Mrs. Kathryn Loomis said the school district could not allow removal of Baldwin Elementary School and Hill Administration Building to make way for additional parking.

In the CBD plan, it was suggested that the two school district buildings be replaced by public buildings.

Mrs. Loomis said the school district could not agree with this part of the plan because it would be necessary to find schools for the 488 pupils now attending Baldwin school.

"This meeting gives expression to our feelings," she said.

Some 300 county Republicans were leaving today for Grand Rapids still uncertain which of the two will get the majority of their 161 delegate votes in a showdown.

THE RESULTS in the county delegation caucus tonight are expected to wield a powerful influence among the rest of the 1,553 convention delegates in the chairmanship election.

The county delegation is the convention's largest.

Gibbs claims some 100 of the 161 county votes.

The 39-year-old former assistant to Elliott in the Oakland County Republican organization is on vacation from his job as executive assistant, to retiring GOP State Chairman George M. Van Pusem.

SEEKS LEADERS' AID

Elliott has concentrated his efforts lining up the support of some 140 party leaders throughout the state. He is considered the favorite because of his close relationship with Romney.

The 46-year-old former county GOP chairman was the governor's campaign manager.

If Romney indicated a preference after conferring today with some 70 party leaders including supporters of both candidates — it would end the danger of the GOP's facing the same explosive situation that split the Democratic party over their state chairmanship Feb. 2.

A Romney endorsement would clinch the election for either candidate, and his opponent would probably withdraw.

Delegates also will nominate candidates for two State Supreme Court posts, superintendent of public instruction, a state board of education seat, and two posts each on the governing bodies of University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University.

Reds Reject JFK's Plan for Hot Line

From Our News Wires

GENEVA—The Soviet Union today turned down President Kennedy's plan to guard against accidental war which included a "hot line" direct telephone link between the White House and the Kremlin.

At the same time, chief Soviet delegate Vassili V. Kuznetsov gave the 17-nation disarmament conference a take-it-or-leave-it offer of accepting the Kremlin's terms for a nuclear test ban or risk getting no treaty at all.

He left the impression with delegates to the 17-nation disarmament conference that Russia expects the West to accept the Soviet offer of a maximum of 2 or 3 on-site inspections a year.

The proposal to guard against the start of war by accident was emphasized in a message the President sent to the conference Tuesday when it reconvened after an eight-week recess.

The Kennedy proposal would set up a special observation team, establish instant White House-to-Kremlin communication and carry through other measures designed to prevent war by "accident, miscalculation or failure of communication."

In view of the Western powers this is inadequate to check suspicious earth tremors in the Soviet Union.

'68 Games Site Drive On

DETROIT (UPI)—An Olympic task force, announced by Gov. George Romney, meets in Detroit today with a March 18 deadline.

Its mission is to devise in a hurry a means of financing a $20-million stadium in the Detroit City to house the 1968 Olympic Games.

Romney met in Lansing yesterday with members of the Detroit Olympic Committee (DOC), headed by Douglas R. Romy, delegate to the U.S. Olympic committee (USOC), and Walter A. Goodman, general manager of the State Fair Authority.

The crisis meeting was called after Detroit was tossed back into competition with Los Angeles as a site contender for the 1968 international sports festival.

Romney announced after the meeting that Donald F. Valley, board chairman of the National Bank of Detroit, will head the new five-man task force.

The stadium would be built at the fairgrounds.

Romney said the task force would report its findings to a DOC in time for its scheduled appearance before the USOC in New York, March 10-11.

Romy said the USOC must have a definite site to submit to the international Olympic body by April 1.

One of these, said the governor, was the raising of the state's pari-mutuel betting receipts. A bill has been drafted for introduction in the legislature to hike the state's cut from 13 to 15 per cent. Romney declined comment on the other financing methods discussed.

The stadium would be built at the fairgrounds.

Showdown Looms Next Week for Powell

By RUTH MONTGOMERY WASHINGTON — The real showdown for fast-traveling Adam Clayton Powell may come next week, when the House Administration Committee meets to consider his request for operational funds.

The Harlem representative, past master of the vanishing act, has been hiding out in his palatial beach home at Puerto Rico this week, while the sands drip slowly through the hour glass of public indignation.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

The brassy chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee must eventually return to face the music. One of his first chores will be to appear in person before the administration committee, to request money for the operation of his own committee.

Powell, whom Sen. John J. Williams bitingly denounced on the Senate floor as in authority on "Adult Delinquency," managed to wangle a colossal $651,000 from the 87th Congress just ended.

This was in addition to the approximately $250,000 provided by the House for a professional staff, and the secret sum of money handed to Powell by the department to finance his junket with "two lady friends" in European nightspots.

Although the ratio of Democrats to Republicans in the House is approximately 5 to 3, the Harlem preacher-lawmaker received the GOP staff from four to two people, and increased the Democratic staff to a whopping 50. This is, of course a 25-to-1 ratio.

IGNORES GOP

Powell turned the same deaf ear to outraged Republican protests that he gives internal revenue demands that he pay his long-delinquent income taxes.

Republican members of the education committee hope to turn the tables on his slippery chairman next week. At a secret strategy meeting they decided that when Powell requests money for the committee's operation, they will demand that it be rejected unless he gives the GOP a fair ratio of staff personnel.

This would prevent Powell from leading the public payroll with his own pals and "lady friends," as Williams bluntly termed them.

Powell's present vice is carried on his tax-supported public payroll at $12,500 a year, although he lives full-time in Puerto Rico.

Republican committee members have been gunning for their chairman since he scheduled a two-weeks hearing on the administration's $5 billion education bill last week, during the Lincoln Birthday recess, and then personally skipped off to Puerto Rico.

At an executive hearing just before his disappearance, he reportedly announced: "This education bill is not going anywhere, but I made a commitment to the President to hold two weeks of hearings, so we're going to hold them." The "we" did not include Powell.

AGREES ON BILL'S FATE

Rep. William Ayres of Ohio, a high ranking GOP member of the committee agreed with the chairman that the administration's omnibus bill is a "dead duck," although he believes Congress may enact such parts of it as grants for colleges and aid to higher education.

"It is obvious," Ayres said, "that by trying to cover the waterfront with requests for everything he can think of, the President is more interested in making political issues for 1964 than in seeking solutions to the people's problems."

Other GOP congressmen privately observed that until President Kennedy, House Speaker John McCormack, and Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield agreed among themselves on aid to private and parochial schools, the administration's omnibus education bill has no chance.

The top three leaders are all members of Roman Catholic Church, which has vigorously opposed aid to public schools unless Catholic schools are also helped with federal funds. Kennedy has come out against this position, but McCormack supports it, and Mansfield held left his views unclear.

Nation Moving (Limping Comes Next)

Corn Plaster Status Symbol

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The poor man's aristocracy says:

In public life today it is no longer enough to have a bleeding heart. Your feet have to bleed, too.

The corn plaster has become the new status symbol for political integrity in the nation's capital.

A man used to say he'd walk a mile for his favorite cigarette. Now he has to walk 50 miles to prove he's physically fit to serve his country.

Pavement patriotism seems to be sweeping Washington, D.C., like wildfire. Every bureaucrat who hasn't made plans to complete a 50-mile loyalty health hike has to publicly admit he has flat feet or be put down as a coward.

They say the area around Foggy Bottom is thronged with so many limping casualties the place looks like Gettysburg on the second day of the battle.

Is this what President Kennedy meant when he said we have to get the country moving in the 1960 campaign? Somehow, we thought it would be done on wheels.

RUN, THEN WALK

This whole problem of whether you can measure the efficiency of a government by the number of bunions on the feet of elected and appointed officials raises a number of interesting questions such as:

Will it result in a pedestrian administration?

How fast of foot lobbyists have to be to keep up with legislators on the hoof?

Isn't it enough to ask a politician to run for public office? Is it fair, after he wins, to expect him to go on a long walk to hold his office?

Instead of arranging to meet a congressman in his office, will you have to get a copy of his hike route from his secretary and hope to catch up with him at an inter-office meeting?

Politics has always had its obstacle courses, but already some of the sore-footed faithful have been running about using the 50-mile hike as the sole test of fitness.

Some have suggested swimming the Potomac both ways. Others have expressed the view it is more important for a member of the Supreme Court to be able to pole vault over any obstruction than to walk 50 miles.

It has even been suggested that the real acid endurance test of a politician is whether he can successfully straddle a fence without falling off during his term of office.

The principle that political leaders should be sound of limb, however, has a strong basis in history. Most of the Roman emperors kept in good physical condition.

For example, Lucius Aurelius Commodus believed so strongly in fresh air and exercise that he himself participated in gladiatorial combats in the arena. Unfortunately, Commodus was so antisocial in other ways that his mistress had him strangled at the age of 31 by a famous athlete named Narcissus.

Be that as it may, the New Frontier is building a stronger, harder breed of public servant. The government is on the march.

Hup, two, three, four! Hup, two, three, four! Keep going, men—the next foot powder station is only 300 yards ahead.

Again Ask School Funds

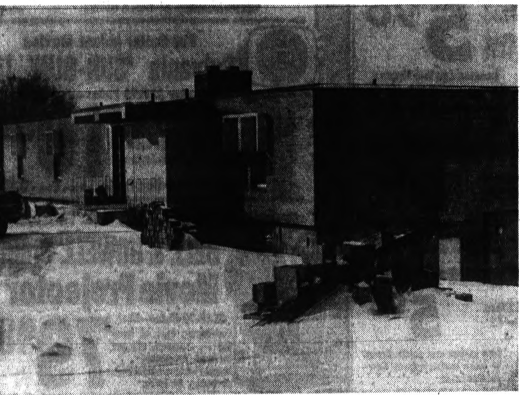

LAKE ORION — School District voters here will be asked to approve a $2-million bond issue and a four-million operational tax hike in a special election July 15.

The school board will resubmit the expansion proposals just after the deadline has passed for presenting the same propositions that were turned down by voters last December.

Under state school law, six months must elapse before identical proposals can be presented to a district electorate. If a substantial change is made, they can be resubmitted at an earlier date.

NEARING COMPLETION — Although the exterior of the new Sacred Heart Convent (pictured above) and school addition are completed, most of the Auburn Heights parish are continuing to work on the inside of the buildings. A parish development drive begins tomorrow to obtain funds for the school and convent, which will eventually house eight teaching nuns. Both facilities are at 2360 S. Adams Road. An administration wing, cafeteria and parish hall are being added to the school.

'Rewold Trying to Initiate Feud'

ROCHESTER — Village President Roy Rewold was charged today with attempting to create a village-township feud rather than sticking to the issues in the fight over city incorporation.

The charge was leveled by Charles Morell, chairman of the Rochester Area Fact Finding Committee, a group seeking a no vote on cityhood in Monday's election.

"Rather than clearing the air," Morell contended, "the spokesman for cityhood proponents has muddled the waters with inferences about a township-township feud by showing his spite for individuals."

Chairman Morell also disputed the steering committee's public hearing statement that the water department could offset a $13,000 annual revenue loss from Park-Davis and Co., and still operate at a profit.

The fact finding committee claims that auditor reports show that the net income for the water and sewer system was $1,506 for the fiscal year 1961, and $7,283 for the year ending June 30, 1962.

Eight Towns Report Benefits of Cityhood

ROCHESTER — Eight Michigan cities, all former villages, have benefitted from the conversion to cityhood, according to a recent survey by Village President Roy Rewold.

Rewold heads the Steering Committee for City Incorporation. He said response from inquiries to the eight cities was "most gratifying."

The village president said that the reports listed some of cityhood's advantages as representation on the county board of supervisors, increased residential, commercial, and industrial development, and the elimination of township taxes.

A Frankenmuth city official said that his city had enjoyed a $5.5 million dollar expansion of area industrial plants. In addition, there had been "substantial" residential development since incorporation.

In Fraser, the city clerk said, "the transition from village to city was unnoticeable."

Reporting no disadvantages, Wayne officials reported that property taxes had been lowered with the elimination of township taxes. Lower interest rates on the sale of municipal bonds also were reported by Wayne.

"Of course," a Wayne spokesman said, "we have increased our tax base and obtained an exact rectangle city which makes planning of services and functions much easier."

Northville, according to Rewold, was another city that pointed to a decrease in property taxes and more efficient government.

"More control over our own problems," was the answer from Riverview city officials.

Hudsonville offered a similar reply to Rewold's questionnaire. "Cities are in a better position to encourage development," a spokesman added.

The Lowell city clerk reported that the municipality was able to extend its boundaries and acquire more area for industrial and residential development.

Rewold said his survey proved that a yes vote is called for on the controversial incorporation issue Monday.

Morell added that while village taxes have gone up 9 per cent, it was not over an 11-year span as proponents infer, but rather in one year.

Wixom was one of the first municipalities in the area to apply for a grant when it submitted its application in October. The trip to the nation's capital was authorized by the City Council last night.

The city is seeking federal aid on a $150,000 project which would allow most of Wixom's gravel roads to be paved. Approximately 75 per cent of the streets and roads here presently are gravel surfaced.

The $2-million bond issue will be used for school expansion, which will include a $1.1-million junior high school.

The bonds will also provide for remodeling of the present junior high school, and additions to high school and four elementary schools.

The millage hike failed 883 no, 732 yes, while the bond issue was turned down 859 no, 707 yes.

The school board has already purchased 20 acres of land for the proposed junior high building, adjacent to the high school on M-24.

Half-day sessions are expected next fall even if the proposals pass, according to Reed. He said seniors will receive a 20 per cent reduction in curriculum.

Additional teachers aids will also be necessary next year, the school chief said. He expects enrollment to jump to 970 compared with the present 875 students.

The four-mill hike in operational millage will cover the next seven years, Reed explained.

A school architect estimated that it would take from 12 to 18 months to construct the additions and new building. Reed said that the new facilities would probably be ready some time during the 1964-65 school year.

The elementary rooms might be ready in time for the opening of school next fall, he said. However, this would not solve the overcrowded conditions at the high school.

The proposed expansion was first considered a year ago. It was prompted by the recommendations of the Lake Orion Community Schools Survey Committee.

(1) boundaries were set in one week without adequate study; (2) the area to be incorporated allows little land for future growth and (3) incorporation would mean additional expenses which would not match new revenues.

Other factors listed were (4) cityhood means additional political jobs which would not benefit the public; (5) incorporation will bring a loss of revenue for outside fire calls from the affected area and (6) the possible loss of industry in the area unless the present hostile business climate is improved.

Morell added that while village taxes have gone up 9 per cent, it was not over an 11-year span as proponents infer, but rather in one year.

Wixom — Mayor Wesley A. McAtee and City Attorney Gene Schnelz will go to Washington to check on Wixom's $75,000 federal grant application.

City Clerk Pearl Willits said the mayor and city attorney will speak to Michigan representatives and senators. They will seek an audience with President Kennedy if possible, she said.

McAtee and Schnelz will attempt to find out what is delaying action on the city's application for a Public Works Acceleration Act grant.

Police Holding Two Youths

Say Pair Tried Escape From Burglary Scene

ORCHARD LAKE — Police say two Troy youths smashed their car into a stone wall while attempting to escape from the scene of a burglary here yesterday.

Being held today at the Oakland County Jail on bonds of $5,000 each are William D. Haslett, 280 E. Long Lake Road, and Wendell D. Jonson, 62 Superior St., both 20.

Neither youth was hurt in the accident.

Sgt. Bruce Boyd and Patrolman Wayne Brause took the youths into custody after their car crashed on Orchard Lake Road, about a half mile from Wilkin's Beverage Store, 4135 Orchard Lake Road.

Minutes earlier, two youths were seen fleeing from the store by Harold Jacobs, a bartender at Wilkin's Bar & Restaurant, 4185 Orchard Lake Road.

A front door window was broken open, but nothing was taken from the store, police said. Jonson and Haslett denied any part in the break-in.

They stood mute yesterday before West Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dieterle. They will appear for justice court examination Tuesday.

Dallas Firm to See Romney on Plans for State Division

DETROIT (AP) — Officials of Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., of Dallas, Tex., were to confer with Gov. George Romney in Lansing today about their plans for making the firm's new Michigan division a permanent operation with an anticipated employment of nearly 5,000 within five years.

Gifford K. Johnson, L-T-V president, told a news conference here yesterday the firm's operation at the Army's missile plant in nearby Sterling Township "has the chance to become the biggest division in our company."

'NO PREFERENCE'
L-T-V officials said former and present Chrysler missile employees would be given "every consideration but no preference" in their hiring policies.

Johnson said about 800 workers would be employed by the end of 1963 and of these, about 40 per cent will be engineers and technical aids. Hiring of engineers already is in progress, Johnson said.

Work on both contracts still is in the development stage, Johnson said, and plans are to move the Lance missile here from Dallas in mid-June. Work on the truck will be moved here about two months later, he said.

Johnson said the Michigan division will subcontract from 40 to 50 per cent of the Lance program and also important parts of the Gama-Goat program. "We will try to take every advantage of the Detroit area as a source of supplies," Johnson said, but he added:

Caucus Will Pick Office Candidates

LEONARD — Candidates for seven village offices will be picked here tomorrow in the citizens' party caucus at 7:30 p.m. in Township Hall.

Officers whose terms are expiring are Village President Lawson Sheik, Treasurer Mrs. Lucille Porter, Assessor Jesse Sutherby, Clerk Mrs. Marlene Mallia and three of the six trustees, John Sutherby, Dwight Patterson and Charles Hamilton.

Mrs. Mallia said today that she is not seeking re-election.

'We'll Raise Our Child Away From Suburbs'

By PHYLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Everybody says we will come to it, within four or five years—move out of the city and into the suburbs, so our young boy sprout will flourish.

We always say we doubt it. Our youngster likes people, all kinds of people. Rich, poor, Spanish-speaking, dark-complexioned, very old and very young.

We'd like to BATTELLE keep him that way, rather than tucking him neatly into a station wagon along with a horde of other kids who are exactly like him in color, religion, allowance and, after a time, thinking.

We are unrealistic, our friends say. Children need grass under their feet and trees over their heads, dogs and cats and a view from the bedroom window. They need fresher air than the city has, birds and ponds and golf courses to be caddies on.

This, of course, makes us pause. Our boy lives within 10 minutes of Central Park with its grass and trees, playgrounds, merry-go-round and zoo—but it ISN'T quite the same as a back yard and a garage that you can keep rabbids in and fall off the roof of. We had all those things when we were kids and we value them now for the small one.

Our resolve to remain in the city may weaken momentarily, but then we remember: We lived in small cities, rather than in suburbs. There's a great difference. Small cities have all the geological formations of suburbs, but they also have the human variances of race and religion and economics that big cities have.

NEW KIND OF SOCIETY

Suburbs are a wholly new kind of society. Some of them have quiet and fresh air and good schools. But they are also planned little communities — planned to keep people of similar status and interests and income together, while keeping the other guys out. Whether they're low-income housing projects, or middle-class ranch homes, or chi-chi villages, they are by nature a version of "class" society.

And little boys and little girls fall so easily into "classes." They don't have to work or think much. They only have to keep up with the Joneses—not the Rockefellers. They don't have to give a helping hand to the kid down the street, because the kids down the street has as much money, status, savvy and schooling as they have.

There is not as much challenge to a child living in the suburbs. He is sheltered from the knowledge that poor people have a rough time, that minorities are abused and that smart and talented people are a worthwhile emulating.

TELLS TRUE STORY

Peter Wyden in his book, "Suburbia's Coddled Kids," told a true story that demonstrates the wall that rises around the suburban child.

Wyden, who lived in Highland Park, a Chicago suburb, took his kids to some slums in their new station wagon. Seeing an urchin in the doorway of a tenement, his 10-year-old boy remarked, "Look, a d-a-d-y—a frontier kid!"

When our boy grows up, we don't want frontier kids to come as a surprise to him. We don't want him to emerge, unknowing, into a world of "I" and turmoil. We think he'll be a better citizen if he's made his own choices in life, if he's had to sympathize with people as well as envy them.

In other words, right now he accepts everybody he sees—and we don't want him to change.

Firm Says It's Bankrupt

Happen"

There is no "shortcut to personal and financial success." Leading businessmen throughout the world attribute their success to opportunities gained through the knowledge of bookkeeping, office machines, business law, math, English and related business training. Successful secretaries, who enjoy highest incomes and the best working conditions, are quick to point out that "half-training" is not enough. Only those who are well trained can command the better positions.

Excellent career opportunities, in business, industry and government, abound for those who qualify.

At PBI young men and women are preparing for better jobs, higher salaries and future security. We should like to tell you about our program. There is no obligation to you.

797 Million More Gallons

City Water Pumpage Up in '62

The Pontiac Water Department, 1955 when the department pumped 797 million more gallons of water last year than it did the year before.

Pumpage for 1962 was 4,328,039,000 gallons, according to Herbert G. Parker, water superintendent.

The 1961 total was 3,530,939,000 gallons.

The lower 1961 total was due largely to a cool summer with good rainfall.

When he made his annual report a year ago, Parker commented, "It's been a long time since we've had a long, hot, dry summer."

He didn't have to wait long. The demand for water reached near record proportions last spring and early summer when rainfall was far below normal.

DANGEROUSLY LOW

The water table in many of the city's wells fell to dangerously low levels until late summer storms relieved the situation.

In most areas of the city, residents experienced more "rusty" water than usual because the city discontinued flushing hydrants during the long, dry summer.

A near record production year for Pontiac Motor Division also helped boost last year's total pumpage.

Subzero Trip Is a 53 Miler

HOUGHTON (AP)—A college student from Dearborn may have topped all those 50-mile hikers in at least one respect. Gordon C. Haber, 20, a junior at Michigan Tech, walked 53 miles yesterday in temperatures ranging from 5 to 10 below zero.

Haber took his first step at 3 a.m., passed the 50-mile mark 16½ hours later, and covered another three miles before halting at 8:35 last night.

Haber is the latest Michiganian to get the hiking fever inspired by a recent White House discovery that the Marines were required to make 50-mile marches under President Theodore Roosevelt.

The city government of Taipei, Taiwan, has ruled that no new buildings may be higher than 108 feet or 11 stories because of earthquake danger.

Circuit Court's Holland Has Served Area Well

A familiar figure will be missing from the Oakland County Courthouse next week. JUDGE H. RUSSEL HOLLAND, the Southern gentleman who has so competently served the County's Circuit Court for the last 27 years, has put away his gavel.

HOLLAND

Judge Holland has had the intense admiration of everyone with whom he came in contact. With his soft drawing voice he exudes competence, not only with those with whom he worked closely, but with the thousands who had occasion to meet him.

For some 36 years he has been a citizen of Pontiac, and we can honestly say that "he was one of the best." The Judge, as he will always be known, is a forthright individual, and his entire life has been spent working for and serving the community where he resides.

A significant part of his life has been rendering decisions that had considerable bearing on others. It has been apparent for years that Judge Holland is understanding and exceedingly fair in reaching his court verdicts.

The general public may not realize that at times the job of a jurist is a lonesome one. He alone is responsible for passing judgment on other humans.

In this endeavor Judge HOLLAND stands as a symbol of complete fairness. It would seem a fitting tribute to say that his record should stand as a goal for others who follow in his footsteps.

Tragic Auto Death Tolls Lost in Air Crash Drama

A jetliner falls into a swamp in Florida. Forty-three people die. The Nation is shocked.

Some people with airline reservations cancel them. Others who had been thinking about flying dismiss such thoughts. Still others reaffirm the vow that "you'll never get me up in one of those things."

A car twists itself around a utility pole. Two people die. An elderly man steps in front of a truck. His life ends beneath its wheels.

The scenes are copied across the Country. Over 110 people die. The Nation is rarely shocked.

What makes the impact of a plane crash fatal to 43 so much greater than that of traffic accidents fatal to 112?

That latter figure was the daily average of traffic deaths in the United States in 1962. The toll for 365 days was 41,000.

Airline crashes killed 138 over that same span. That's an average of 3 per day. There were three life-ending crackups.

Perhaps a major reason for the reactions to plane crashes is the fact that so many people die in one instant.

There were 43 persons riding in the red, white, blue and silver Northwest Orient Airlines Boeing 720B as it climbed through 17,000 feet over the Everglades Tuesday. Moments later, they were in the swamp. All were dead.

When death makes this big a collection so quickly, it's bound to get unusual notice.

Another factor involved in virtually every air mishap is mystery. How did it happen? Why did it happen? Can it happen again?

Sometimes these answers aren't known for years. Sometimes they're never known.

A plane crash often brings cries for greater air safety. In many cases, a crash has led to just that.

The same can rarely be said for our highways. Last year's 41,000 toll was a record high.

As long as man continues to defy the law of gravity by taking off from earth, he's bound to come down the wrong way occasionally. When he does, there will be concern over why.

If some of this reaction can be applied to our national disaster on the highways, that 41,000 should begin to shrink.

Barbershop Fours in Trim for Annual Harmony Kick

By HOWARD HILLENBRAND

Lifting his linden voice to sing the praises of the SPEBSQSA—I was afraid of that okay, hold your breath: THE SOCIETY FOR THE PRESERVATION AND ENCOURAGEMENT (I'm serious) OF BARBER SHOP QUARTET SINGING IN AMERICA, INC.—the Pontiac chapter of which holds its annual Holiday of Harmony at Pontiac Northern High, Saturday evening, when six quartets and a chorus will be presented.

Wm. P. (Bill) Pascher of Gageville, was the source of some interesting notes on the "songsters' organization, and his own role in it.

A charter member of the 20-year-old group, who has held every office in it, he pointed out that it is a non-profit activity, with any surplus that accrues being used for charitable work.

For the upcoming program, talent to be imported will travel 5,000 miles and be paid $1,500. Continuing with some Society economics—odds remindful of Washington's—I'm informant, who incidentally, won the Fanny Beard contest in the Pontiac Centennial, said that figure breaks down expense-wise to $150 per seat. Programs and staging account for another 55 cents.

Since the tickets are $2, the economist observed wryly that you can't make any money that way.

He has from the outset been responsible for design-building and stage scenery for the annual singests and, for scenic effects, has specialized in the use of "black light."

The most numerous request-number from private groups were Barbershop quartets are singing is "Down by the Old Mill Stream" which, your musically uninitiated scribe was surprised to learn, is one of the hardest to sing... because of its unusually wide range.

And by way of a stunner, among the local Barber Shop singers, there is not one barber!

Continuing the musical theme, the guiding spirits of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra were more than pleased by the capacity turnout for the last concert.

Making a sizable contribution toward this happy outcome was the Webster School PTA, which organized a parent-children Family Night Out and attended in a body.

The Inside Story?

David Lawrence Says:

U.N. Owes SOMETHING to U.S.

WASHINGTON—The United Nations has reached a turning point in its history. Sentiment in the United States for withdrawal from the international organization has just been given strong new impetus.

For the American people will be asked through Congress to decide whether taxpayers' money shall be channeled into Cuba through the U.N. to help Castro maintain his inhumane regime.

The point is made by President Kennedy that none of the money to be spent in Cuba will come directly from the funds furnished by the United States.

But funds can always be redistributed or reallocated to achieve a political objective.

The fact remains that the American government is paying a large share of the expenses of the U.N., and it is no secret that the United States is trying to help liberate the people of Cuba by putting the squeeze on the island's economy.

When the U.N. flagrantly ignores the policy of the United States, it brings up the broad question of whether financial aid by American taxpayers shall be extended blindly and without any opportunity to keep the funds from being used to defeat the foreign policy of this country.

"NOT INTERFERING"

U.N. officials argue that they are not interfering in the internal politics of Cuba. But, realistically, anything that bolsters the Cuban economy is an intervention.

The U.N. has been in deep financial trouble lately, and this country has helped out by paying for more than its share of the expenses of the organization.

Congress, however—and not the State Department or the White House—has the final say as to how the taxpayers' money shall be loaned or given away.

The U.N. bond issue had a tough time getting through Congress last year, and there are renewed expressions of doubt now about the foreign aid program in which the United States alone decides how to spend its money.

This will cause Congress at least to examine more carefully any legislation that would appropriate money where this distribution this country has no control.

The argument that America, as a philanthropically minded nation, should help underdeveloped or backward countries will continue to make a certain appeal.

At a time, however, when the American people are being asked to incur a treasury deficit of more than $39 billion, it will doubtless occur to many members of Congress that this presents a paradox which cannot be easily explained to the voters.

The whole amount to be spent in Cuba by the U.N. for the new project of agricultural development is comparatively small—about $12 million.

It isn't, however, the sum allocated but the principle which bothers the American government at this time. The State Department tried to persuade the U.N. officials that it would be an unwise move, but the protest was of no avail.

Furthermore, if this project goes through, it will cause a hesitation in Congress to approve all other appropriations for the benefit of the United Nations.

PRO-RED BOOKLET

Coincidentally with the announcement of the pro-Castro action by the director of the U.N. Special Fund, a pro-Communist booklet issued by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization has come into the news.

This publication extols the alleged social and political equality existing inside the Soviet Union and asserts that Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia "voluntarily joined the Soviet Union" in 1940.

Everybody knows that early in World War II the Soviet army by military force seized those three countries, which were then incorporated into the Soviet Union, where they have remained ever since.

Bob Considine Says:

108-Year-Old's Confident She'll Live to Pass 109

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—People... places things

Dr. Charles Mayo recently met an ancient lady who claimed it was her 108th birthday. The famed surgeon was skeptical but, as ever, the old lady came on the pipe as

"Well, congratulations," he said. "I hope I'll be here for your hundred and ninth birthday."

"You will," the old lady chuckled contentedly.

"Will I?" he asked.

"Sure," she said. "Very few people die between 108 and 109. Look it up."

It takes a crash such as Northwest Orient's Boeing 720 in the Everglades to make a lot of us realize the great safety record the airlines have achieved since the inauguration of the jets.

We who travel a great deal by air take speed and regularity of service for granted, dismissing as our just due the enormous amount of work that goes into the running of an airline.

Coming out of Omaha recently on a scheduled nonstop United Air Lines Douglas DCB Janjet, the pilot came on the pipe as we climbed through the overcast. His voice was matter-of-fact.

"My instrument panel indicates a fire in engine No. 1," he said. "It could very well be the fault of the instrument itself, but as a safety measure I have shut down the engine and we are returning to Omaha airport to check it."

Only a few years ago an announcement of that sort would have struck terror in the majority of the passengers. But the only comment heard on the jet after this announcement came from a woman traveler.

"Oh, darn!" she said, impatiently. "I'll bet this cause me to miss my connection in New York."

Voice of the People:

Teaching Methods Cause Deficiencies in Reading

Reading Reform is a worthy cause and vital. Industry today is short of employees able to understand normal communications. The trouble began when educational leaders put time-tested alphabetical reading instruction on the shelf and substituted meaningless memorization of the shape of whole words. This was even worse than the picture-writing of primitive peoples. There is not a single word whose shape has the slightest connection with its meaning.

The absurd memorization method now taught in most of our elementary schools is responsible for the incredibly poor reading comprehension of our high school and college students.

Soviet children 8 and 9 years old are taught alphabetically and are several years ahead of ours. Their average vocabulary is more than twice our own children's. Here are some cold facts: 35 per cent of our children's are seriously retarded in reading; 40 per cent are actually deficient.

With active committees in many states, 180 key educators, reading authorities, writers, etc., backing our program we hope to save the situation.

Agrees Jimenez Anti-Everything

In answer to Mrs. Baldwin's letter on Jimenez and Betancourt of Venezuela, the Venezuelan government does not want to punish Jimenez just because he's anti-Communist. He is anti-everything resembling the U.S. conception of Democracy. He's the classic kind of Latin American dictator, getting richer every year he's in office and doing little for his people.

The government of President Betancourt is anti-Communist and is trying hard to walk a different path between dictatorship and communism. Betancourt is a rarity in South America—an able, intelligent and probably dedicated man who wants to avoid political extremism.

What makes Mrs. Baldwin think our political freedoms are disappearing because we have stopped granting political asylum to Jimenez? He is not a citizen of this country.

Current Administration

The Fort Lauderdale News

We have an administration firmly dedicated to vastly increasing the influence of the federal government. In just two years this administration has raised 145,412 persons to the federal payroll and the padding has just started. It is an administration which thinks nothing of buying congressional votes with lush patronage jobs and of twisting arms in every way possible to get what it wants. Its political morals come from the barnyard and it is a complete stranger to the truth unless telling the truth happens to serve its own ends.

This is blunt language, but it is the kind of language that America must hear if it is to survive under the dynasty now in Washington. There is only one effective way to get just what it wants. Congress must be persuaded that the program is not the program our people want and the only way is a letter writing campaign of such effectiveness that our Congressional representatives must listen.

That means that every American who is dedicated to preserving constitutional government and sanity must plunge into this fight and make his or her voice heard. Sounding off to a neighbor or a friend isn't going to do any good, but sounding off to a congressman can do a lot of good.

Let no one kid himself that this administration is a particularly smart one. It is a letter writing machine that has ever come into power and it is not the least bit averse to using every trick in the book to stay there.

It is time more Americans woke up to what is going to happen. We are riding for a very nasty fall, and it could be a disastrous one, indeed, unless some checkreins are applied.

Private Pupils Would Ride Public School Bus

LANSING (AP) — Public school districts would be responsible for the transportation of students to private and parochial schools under a controversial bill which has been introduced in the state Senate.

The measure, with 28 cosponsors, was filed from the floor Thursday after the rules were suspended to clear the way for the annual procedure. Most bills are filed through the clerk's office.

"I'm generally sympathetic toward such legislation," Gov. George Romney told newsmen when advised of the bill. "Any service supplied to an individual should be available to all individuals on an equal basis."

Romney said he would like a more detailed explanation now how much more such a law would cost the state and local school districts.

"I'm favorable toward the principle, but I want to study the mechanics of carrying out the measure," Romney commented.

The principal sponsor, Sen. Robert Vander Laan, R-Grand Rapids, estimated the extra transportation would cost the state about $1.7 million annually, and local districts about $70,000.

CHURCH AND STATE

Vander Laan denied that the measure would violate the traditional separation of church and state. It would fall under the government's responsibility to provide for the health, safety and welfare of its citizens, he told reporters.

A public fire department doesn't hesitate to put out a fire at a parochial school, he explained. "Fire departments protect all citizens, just as public sidewalks are provided for the safety of everyone."

The bill provides that any school district transporting or paying for the transportation of any of its resident pupils "shall transport or pay for the transportation of every resident child in the elementary and high school grades attending either the public or the nearest state-approved nonpublic school available."

Vander Laan said that he believes parents who pay property taxes which are used to cover the expense of school transportation should share in the cost of buses whether they send their children to public or parochial schools.

The measure would not require a school district to transport or pay for the transportation of any resident child living within 1½ miles, by the nearest traveled route, to public or state approved nonpublic schools.

Districts also would not be required to transport students to nonpublic schools located more than eight miles outside of the nearest school district boundary, except where the district transports or pays for the transportation.

In case a parent or legal guardian of a student is unhappy over the bus route selected by the school district's board of education, an appeal could be filed with the state superintendent of public instruction, who would have the final word.

The measure, similar to a proposal rejected at the recent constitutional convention, is expected to touch off heated controversy if a public hearing is held.

Both the Senate and the House adjourned for the weekend yesterday to accommodate Republican legislators who wanted to attend the GOP State Convention in Grand Rapids.

Before adjourning, the House passed, by a 74-26 vote, a GOP-backed bill which would give the legislature authority to approve all agency rules before they can go into effect.

Some 19 Democrats voted with the Republicans and sent the bill off to the Senate.

'Rural Voters Favor It'

Hare Says Constitution to Pass

LANSING (AP) — The proposed new state constitution will be approved by the voters April 1, Secretary of State James Hare predicted yesterday.

Hare, the Democratic party's top vote-getter in the November election, told a newsmen that rural voters were crossing party lines in favor of the new document.

"The rural areas are united in opposition to what they consider urban interests, and the urban areas are divided along party lines," Hare said, basing his conclusions on personal observations made while in different parts of the state.

The Democratic party must continue to point out what it considers to be the loopholes and shortcomings of the new document so those can be more carefully watched when and if the document goes into effect, Hare said.

Democrats opposed the new constitution at their state convention in Grand Rapids in early February, and pledged "total commitment to defeat the Republican constitutional plan for one-party government in Michigan."

The secretary of state said his own chief objection to the document is the legislative apportionment provision. That provision gives 20 per cent emphasis to area and 80 per cent to population in drawing legislative districts.

The provision would perpetuate possible "deadlock" government in Michigan by assuring a Republican majority in the legislature, Hare said.

To Name Experts for College Study

LANSING (AP)—A committee of experts will be appointed within the next few weeks to study the problems of higher education, Gov. George Romney has reported.

Romney said the 40- to 50-member group will study the entire field of higher education — the needs, how to deal with them and how to meet the problem of finances.

Private as well as state-supported colleges and universities will be included in the study, the governor said, along with the community colleges.

Flames Kill Brothers Despite Rescue Try

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Two young brothers burned to death yesterday despite a neighbor's attempts to rescue them from a fire which destroyed their home, a small frame bungalow in Benton Township just east of here.

The victims were Sherman Burkhead, 2, and his brother, Jimmy Dee, three months, sons of Mrs. Fanny Drakes Burkhead.

Police said the mother was away when the fire broke out. A half-sister, Diane Drakes, 11, managed to flee from the burning home.

Dorothy Ferguson, 19, a neighbor, suffered a cut hand in a vain effort to reach the boys. She was driven back by the flames.

Cossacks Change Over to Traditional Tirlby

LONDON (AP) — A group of Red army singers and dancers arrived from Moscow yesterday wearing traditional British tirlby hats instead of their famed Cossack-style headgear.

"We hear that Cossack hats are popular here, so we have done a change over and worn the English tirlby," one soldier said.

The United States has balanced its budget only six times in the last 31 years.

Snow Stops Flights of African Students

VIENNA (AP) — Heavy snowfalls closed the Sofia airport today, preventing the departure of hundreds of African students leaving Bulgaria because of a Communist crackdown on their student organization.

A spokesman of the Ghanaian embassy in Sofia said 25 Ghanaian students, headed by Ambassador Appan-Samang, had been waiting since yesterday for the airport to be cleared.

Students from seven other African countries also were stranded.

So far none of them had come out by train via Vienna.

A total of 484,000 pounds of reindeer meat was exported from Alaska's Nunivak Island in 1961, more than the 49th state's total production of pork and beef.

NATO N-Force Talks Coming Up in Ten Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to send a special negotiator to Europe in about 10 days for urgent talks with allied governments on creation of a NATO nuclear striking force.

The President made clear at a news conference Thursday that he thinks European members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are entitled to a greater voice in deciding the nuclear strategy of the West against the Soviet Union. But he emphasized that they must pay an increasing share of the total cost of Western defense.

Special negotiator Livingston T. Merchant, retired diplomat called back to duty for the nuclear mission, will go to Europe in about 10 days, Kennedy told newsmen. As a result of policy discussions Kennedy is now holding, Merchant is expected to be able to tell allied leaders how the United States believes the nuclear force could be organized.

WHO'S TO DECIDE?
The most difficult problem, Kennedy said, involves deciding whether man or men would decide in a sudden emergency whether nuclear weapons should be used.

Kennedy said the power might be given to the American president or the president of France or the British prime minister or someone else. What he hopes at Michigan Dems Mending Split?

Lesinski, Ferency in Healing Tete a Tete

LANSING (UPI) — Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski indicated today the split that occurred two weeks ago at the Democratic State Convention over the party chairmanship may be rapidly healing.

Lesinski announced he and new chairman Zoltan Ferency, who was thrust into office by a power play managed by former Gov. John B. Swainson and the labor wing of the party, held "a very friendly meeting" yesterday.

It was the first face-to-face confrontation the two have had since the convention, where Lesinski backed the re-election of John J. (Joe) Collins and accused Swainson of tricking the other party leaders in his efforts to seat Ferency.

"Ferency indicated a sincere desire to work together with myself and other members of the administrative board and other state officials toward strengthening our party and toward cooperation in the spring election," Lesinski said.

The lieutenant governor added: "He indicated several points that helped quell some of the concern I previously had about his election. I see no reason why with the spirit displayed by Ferency we cannot work together."

Lesinski also said he told Ferency "my objections to his election were not predicated on any personal objection to him as an individual but that my participation in the election was because of my genuine support for Collins. I was for Collins and not just against Ferency."

Lesinski said the meeting in his office was the result of a request by Ferency for the get-together.

In recommending confirmation, the Senate business committee said that charges against Bashara—aired at a public hearing here—had not been substantiated.

Bashara had been accused by union officials of being involved in unfair labor practices in connection with a union organizational campaign at a group of Detroit drive-in cafes.

The attorney also was questioned about his role in a 1960 fund-raising campaign in the 14th Republican congressional district.

The question about fund-raising was brought up by the district chairman, Richard Durant, a former member of the John Birch Society, who has clashed with Gov. George Romney previously.

300 Pupils Flee Thing on the Roof

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — About 300 students of Sacred Heart School were evacuated Thursday by police, firemen and rescue squads after a strange apparatus was found on the top floor of the two-story building.

Suspected by Sister Mary-Florence who said she received a telephone warning a bomb was planted in the school, police found a button connected to wires leading to a dry cell battery, a shoe box and bell.

They asked the bomb disposal unit at nearby Ft. Knox to remove it.

While waiting for the Army unit to arrive they questioned some of the students. Judith Kuhn, 12, a seventh-grade student, enlightened them.

The strange apparatus was hers, she said—a battery powered door bell she constructed for a science class experiment.

Senate Affirms MESC Choice

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Senate today confirmed the nomination of Detroit attorney George Bashara Jr. to a position on the Michigan State Employment Security Commission appeals board.

Bashara's appointment was confirmed 22-0 with Democrats abstaining from the vote.

In recommending confirmation, the Senate business committee said that charges against Bashara—aired at a public hearing here—had not been substantiated.

Hero in Jail Charged With Desertion

MARION, Ark. (AP)—A medal of Honor winner, once the hometown hero, is in jail here awaiting his return to the Army to face charges of desertion.

Wilson Douglas Watson, 41, who received the nation's highest military honor for gallantry on two Jims, says he just got fed up with the Army and left.

Sheriff Cecil V. Goodwin said Watson is being held for Ft. Rucker, Ala., authorities. Army officials said he had been missing from the post since last October.

Watson was a Marine when he led an assault on enemy positions at two Jims. He captured two Japanese bunkers and single-handedly killed 60 Japanese soldiers.

President Harry S. Truman decorated Watson with the medal of honor in Washington on Oct. 5, 1945. A few days later "Doug Watson Day" was celebrated here.

French Nationalism Could Affect the Canadian Election

By MAX HARRISON
OTTAWA (AP)—Canada is engulfed in a wave of French nationalism which could affect the national election April 8.

The 5½ million French-speaking Canadians complain they are treated as second class citizens by both government and business.

Canada's bicultural problem is as old as the country itself, but the present movement appears to be no more outburst of Gallic temperament.

Behind it is a conviction that changes will have to be made. French-speaking citizens demand equality of opportunity and a full share of every branch of Canadian life. If these demands are not met, they say, there is bound to be trouble.

Rumblings of discontent have spread far beyond Quebec Province, where the French-speaking population is concentrated.

While there has been talk in the past of making Quebec a separate nation, this theme is not being emphasized today.

However, all political parties promise to do something to ease the situation. Just before his Conservative government was toppled last week, Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker announced a conference of federal and provincial leaders to tackle the problem.

The campaign for Quebec's 75 seats in the House of Commons—more than a fourth of the national total—is expected to be fought largely on the issue of recognition of French needs. Real Couette, deputy leader of the Social-Credit party, hammered away at it during the 1962 campaign. He is pressing it again.

SITUATION CONFUSED

The situation has become confused to some extent in English Canada by stress on bilingualism and biculturalism in a literal sense. There has been a constant barrage of letters to newspapers on this subject, some dealing with such questions as the teaching of French in English-speaking parts of Canada.

Language is part of the problem, as many business executives have recognized. In Montreal, one school of languages reports that businessmen are scurrying back for blitz courses in French.

A recent study showed that an eighth of the country's 18 million residents speak both English and French. This ratio has remained almost the same for 30 years.

Many English-speaking Canadians openly declare that bilingualism is a lot of nonsense.

A reader said in a letter to a Toronto newspaper:

"Whether Quebecers like it or not, English is the language of North America, and they must learn it if they want to succeed. It is time for Quebecers to grow up, and cease to expect special privileges and concessions."

Another wrote: "DON'T SPEAK ENGLISH!" "There are now one million people in Quebec who do not speak English. Does it not seem more logical that this one million people should be taught the English language than that 14 million English-speaking people should be saddled with the patois of Quebec?"

The French nationalists say bilingualism is important, but the main problem is discrimination.

What the French-speaking population really wants, according to a leading French-Canadian editor, is: "A fair deal for the French-Canadians in federal civil service, where they now hold only 13 per cent of responsible positions; a fair deal in big private corporations operating in Quebec, where their representation is even less; a fair deal for French-Canadian minorities in other provinces, similar to the position English-speaking Quebecers enjoy."

Pierre Reaps News Harvest

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Kennedy administration has on occasion been accused of seeking to manage the news.

I am not equipped to discuss the broader aspects of these allegations, but there is a narrow field in which I can recognize news managing when I see it.

Based on what I have seen thus far in 1963, my nomination for "news manager of the year" would go to White House press secretary Pierre Salinger for the handling of his on-again, off-again walkout.

In order that everyone might appreciate the finer nuances of Salinger's feat, or feet, I shall get technical for a moment to explain that news management in its simple, classical form shapes up as follows:

(A) Someone announces that something is going to happen.
(B) Something happens.
The advantages offered by this method are immediately apparent. In effect, you get two for the price of one. That is, you get twice the amount of coverage that would be produced by (B) alone.

Suppose, for example, that Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman decided to dramatize a new farm program by pole vaulting over a mound of surplus butter.

His news manager would announce the decision, which would be duly reported by his correspondents. Then, when Freeman actually performed the stunt, we would report it again.

ADDS REFINEMENT

Many times, of course, the build-up makes a better story than the actual event.

Salinger, whose reputation for creative thinking is justly deserved, took this basic exercise in news management and added a refinement that may change the pattern completely. What he did was:

(A) Announce that he was going to lead a hike along the old Chesapeake & Ohio barge canal towpath.

(B) Announce that he was not going to lead a hike along the old Chesapeake & Ohio barge canal towpath.

Thus did he twice manage to plug President Kennedy's physical fitness program while actually doing nothing.

Furthermore, a good case can be made for an assumption that his decision not to go on the hike—made a better story than the hike itself would have.

Salinger, I submit, has provided the art of news management with one of its finest hours.

Who was it that said you can't have your cake and eat it, too? Certainly not plucky Pierre.

The first American postmark appeared in 1892, shortly after the Massachusetts General Court ruled that all letters leaving post offices must have postmarks showing when they left the office.

27 Ounces at Birth

Incubator Baby Doing Fine

CHEBOYGAN (U)—Three-day-old Roxy Morrow, who weighed 27 ounces at birth, was reported "doing just fine" in an incubator today at Cheboygan Community Hospital.

Dr. Walter Larson said the baby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Morrow of rural Cheboygan County, was "taking a little nourishment and gaining." He said he "never heard of a baby as small doing as well as this one."

The Morrow baby is not the smallest infant ever to survive. Jacqueline Jean Benson of Chicago, who weighed an estimated 12 ounces at birth on Jan. 14, 1936, is reportedly still living and in good health.

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: What makes icebergs and where are they found?

ANSWER: Icebergs are huge pieces which break off from the slowly moving rivers of ice called glaciers when these finally meet the sea (top pictures). Topping over in the water with a cracking, thundering sound, the iceberg floats away. As you can see, only a small part about one ninth of its bulk, remains above the water; this makes an iceberg dangerous.

If a ship comes too close, it may strike a submerged part of the berg. Many icebergs are formed in the Antarctic, but the ones with which we are most familiar come from glaciers breaking up off the west coast of Greenland (see map).

Driven southeast by the polar current, they meet warmer water in the open Atlantic and melt away. Now and then a particularly large berg may cross the Atlantic steamer lanes; it was in a collision with an iceberg that the huge liner Titanic went down, with a loss of many lives.

Since that 1912 disaster, the U.S. Coast Guard has kept watch on large icebergs and reports the position of dangerous ones.

Pieces of ice which break off the arctic ice sheet are also sometimes called icebergs, but these are not nearly as large or dangerous as the glacial kind.

FOR YOU TO DO: You can make a miniature iceberg very simply by floating an ice cube in a glass of water. The interesting point to notice is how much of the cube stays underwater.

Young Win Marriage Right

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — Not-so-young lovers in tiny Monaco Thursday were promised a Valentine's Day present:

Revision of an old law requiring persons under 30 years of age to get their fathers' permission before marrying.

The legislature decided to lower the age to 21 following a complaint by Jean Joseph Marquet, a town councilman who has performed more than 100 civil marriage ceremonies.

Marquet was upset because he himself had to ask papa before he got married at the not-so-tender age of 26.

City Expense Includes
Yarn, Knitting Needles

YUMA, Ariz. (U) — Mayor George Shackelford asked some questions after noting a city expenditure of $44 for yarn and knitting needles.

It turned out this was for a program through which the Parks and Recreation Department said it was teaching children to make good use of their time knitting "useful products."

First Spanish Crisis Exploded Into War 65 Years Ago Today

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In 1898, Congressmen were demanding the return of Spain from Cuba in much the same way they now demand Russia be chased out. Then 65 years ago today—the situation exploded into war with the sinking of the battleship Maine.

At 9:40 p.m., massive explosions shattered the Maine, sending her to the bottom of Havana Harbor. Exactly what caused the explosions still is a mystery. But many newspapers and politicians quickly placed the blame on Spain. Public opinion was inflamed.

On April 19, Congress passed a resolution declaring Cuba independent and directing President McKinley to use force to compel Spain's withdrawal from the island. Six days later war was declared.

Spain lost the war and was finished as a world power. The United States emerged for the first time as a major power.

The United States quickly granted Cuba independence and began a close friendship that lasted until Fidel Castro came to power four years ago.

ORDERS CHANGED
The crisis had been building for months over measures taken by Spain to suppress Cuban rebels.

Strangely, if the Maine had been permitted to carry out its original orders it would have been in New Orleans celebrating Mardi Gras instead of at the bottom of Havana Harbor Feb. 17. The Maine had been a big attraction at the 1897 Mardi Gras, and orders were issued Jan. 22 for a return trip.

Two days later they were changed and the Maine went to Cuba.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS SPECIAL REPORT

The captain had just finished a letter to his wife when the explosion came. Flames shot from the forward part of the vessel.

It looked to me as if the whole inside of the ship had blown up, said one eyewitness.

FATAL TO 260
The Maine had 370 men and 26 officers. Some of them were ashore. Those aboard not already fatally injured from the blast were saved with the help of boats from nearby Spanish vessels.

Some 232 men were killed in the blast and eight died later. Only 17 Navy men were killed during the action of the Spanish-American war that followed.

Sigsbee notified Washington of the tragedy and urged, "Public opinion should be suspended until further report."

He asked his commanding officer for help but specified, "Don't send war vessels if others available."

In a code message a few days later, the captain said, "The Maine was probably destroyed by a mine. It may have been done by accident. I presume her berth was planted previous to her arrival, but perhaps long ago. I can only surmise this."

FINDING DIFFER
A naval court of inquiry confirmed his judgment, finding that the explosion came from outside the vessel. It did not attempt to fix blame for the explosion.

But a Spanish court of inquiry said the blast came from inside the Maine.

In 1911, after the bulk was raised, a second U.S. court of inquiry confirmed substantially the decision of the first.

If Spain wanted war, as many Americans concluded after the sinking of the Maine, obviously the man responsible for fighting any war didn't want it.

On Feb. 16—the day after the sinking of the Maine—Rear Adm. Pascual Cervera, who commanded Spanish forces in the Caribbean, wrote the minister of marine it was a "feverish frenzy" to think he could blockade any U.S. port and that war against the United States would be at the start "a defensive or a disastrous one."

"It is frightful to think of the

Chrysler to Close Plant for 5 Days

Detroit (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced today it is closing its Jefferson Ave. assembly plant for five days next week. The purpose is to balance production inventories with production schedules, Chrysler said.

About 5,000 men will be affected. The plant is to reopen Feb. 25. The plant makes the Chrysler, Imperial and Dodge 88 passenger cars.

Driver Killed as Car Thrown Before Train

JACKSON (AP) — A car-train crash near the northern Jackson County Line yesterday killed John J. Wild, 26, of rural Stockbridge. The victim and a portion of his car were thrown in front of a Grand Trunk Western freight train after the car collided with a signal pole.

Historians say the Maine, commissioned only three years earlier, had been standing by in the Key West area since Dec. 15 for possible duty in Cuba. So it was no surprise to her skipper, Capt. Charles D. Sigsbee, when he got orders to head for Havana. He was received cordially by Spanish authorities and only minor tensions developed while he was there.

Wants to Work Despite 16 Hours Caught in Well

LAKE TOMAHAWK, Wis. (AP)—Woodcutter Raymond Fink, who quipped that it was time to go to work soon after he was freed from 16 hours' imprisonment in a collapsed well, extended his hospital stay today.

Fink, 31, was described as in excellent condition, but a hospital spokesman said his physician wanted him to stay at least through the night. Fink rested in the hospital after expressing his thanks to 300 volunteers who battled shifting sand and sub-zero cold to free him.

Churches' Lack of Discipline Assailed

BY LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International

Should churches purge their membership rolls of people whose lives flagrantly contradict the teachings of Christ?

That question is under serious debate in church circles for the first time in more than a generation.

One of the church leaders who raised the question is Prof. Franklin H. Littell of Chicago Theological Seminary.

He told a recent church conference that major Protestant denominations have virtually abandoned membership standards and are "incapable of maintaining internal discipline."

He said that lack of discipline makes it impossible for churches to play an effective role in the struggle for racial justice. Nearly every denomination has condemned racial discrimination as un-Christian, he pointed out.

But, he asked, how often do you hear of a Protestant church expelling a member for preaching or practicing bigotry?

Even in the Roman Catholic Church, which has stricter standards of internal discipline, excommunication for disobedience of moral teachings is comparatively rare nowadays.

Witness the nationwide sensation which resulted last year when the archbishop of New Orleans denied the sacraments to three people who had openly challenged the church's stand on integration of parochial schools.

But the breakdown of church discipline is not confined to such fields as race relations, where there are strong differences of opinion.

Prof. Glenn Hinson of the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Ky., observed recently that churches are not even cracking down on such blatant acts of immorality as adultery and drunkenness.

RECALLS CORINTH

Hinson said many Christians today seem to feel that there is something "distasteful, almost uncivilized" about telling people they must live up to the church's moral standards or get out.

Writing in the Texas Baptist

Standard, Hinson noted that the same tendency to look the other way existed in the early Christian Church at Corinth.

St. Paul found out about it, and wrote a blistering letter to the Corinthians about the maintenance of church discipline.

"I actually hear reports of sexual immorality among you," said the shocked apostle.

He proceeded to lay down stern rules for "rooting out evil-doers from your community."

"Have you ever heard the saying, 'a little leaven leavens all the dough'? The old leaven of corruption is working among you. Purge it out . . .

"You must have nothing to do with any so-called Christian who leads a loose life, or is grasping, or idle, or a drunkard, or a swindler."

St. Paul made clear that he was not advocating that the church turn its back on sinners outside its fold.

To do that would be to abandon its whole mission, for Christ said repeatedly that it was precisely for sinners that he came and died.

It was nominal Christians — hypocrites who claim the name of Christ while making a mockery of his teachings — that St. Paul said were to be "rooted out" of the church.

And even in their case, the withdrawal of fellowship was not to be a vindictive act. It was the same kind of punishment that a loving parent administers to an erring child, to bring him to his senses.

St. Paul specified that any church member who was expelled for wrongdoing should be welcomed back with open arms if he sincerely repented and sought forgiveness.

Cholesterol Lower in Vegetable Eaters

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A five-year study of 2,000 monks, half of whom eat no meat, shows that the vegetarians have a lower cholesterol count.

A study of hardening of the arteries, undertaken in 1957 by the Georgia Health Department, Georgia Heart Association and the National Heart Institute, covers 25 monasteries throughout the country.

Dr. Carroll B. Quinlan of the Georgia Health Department said Thursday the experiment must be followed many years before it can be determined whether the difference in diet of the two orders will be reflected in heart disease rates.

Factory Week Dips a Little

WASHINGTON (AP)—The factory work week dipped 0.4 hours during January, to 40.1 hours, the Labor Department said yesterday. It was the second successive month of decline.

The drop for January was described as slightly more than seasonal, and the Bureau of Labor Statistics said there would be reason for concern if there is a continued drop in February.

However, the January work week compares with one of 39.7 hours in January 1962.

Along with the dip in the work week, average weekly earnings dropped about $1, from $98.42 in December to $97.44 in January. Weekly earnings for the previous January were $94.88.

Hourly wages remained at the same $2.43 average level that they were during December, compared with $2.39 in January, 1962.

"On a seasonally adjusted basis," the report said, "the overall factory work week has declined slightly from the very high levels in the spring of 1962." The bureau said there has been very little change in employment and unemployment, except for seasonal variations, since last June.

'Deflation' of Coins Probed on Fla. Campus

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Secret Service agents are heading for the University of Florida to investigate pennies filed down to the size of dimes.

Agent R. M. McDavid said Thursday many such coins have been found in vending machines on the campus at Gainesville. "Mutilation of a U.S. coin is a federal offense."

Fire Destroys Fire Hall

COPPER CITY (AP)—This tiny Upper Peninsula community lost its fire hall, fire trucks and fire-fighting equipment last night. They were destroyed by fire.

College Gets Gift by Unnamed Donor

ADRIAN (AP)—An anonymous donor has given Adrian College $450,000 for construction of a new college chapel.

The college board of trustees gave no hint as to the identity of the donor. However, the donor was reported the same one who has made many gifts in recent years to the Methodist-supported college.

A tuition increase also was announced by the board. Effective next September, tuition will be $800 a year. It is now $750. The trustees also announced a plan to increase the college endowment by promoting sale of annuities to alumni and friends which would be payable to the college on death of the policy holders.

But She Only Thought It Was a Rifle Range

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Recia Carrath Calloway was fined $300 Thursday for illegal use of a shotgun on neighbor Byrd King. Both live on Rifle Range Road in nearby Old Hickory.

Police said Mrs. Calloway fired at King in an argument over a boundary dispute but missed and hit a house.

Bending to kiss her daughter Gerri as she receives her Candy Stripper's cap at Pontiac General Hospital is Mrs. Howard C. Cunningham of Windiate Drive. Mrs. B. B. Roush, secretary of the hospital board of trustees, did the capping. Mrs. Cunningham is a student practical nurse who will complete her training in August.

Honor 15 Hospital Candy Stripers

Two adult groups gathered Thursday afternoon in the auditorium of Pontiac General Hospital to honor 15 high school girls who have completed their 30-hour probationary period as Candy Stripers. The Women's Auxiliary and the American Red Cross sponsor these groups. The work is the same for the teenagers... only difference being the uniform.

Those in the Red Cross program wear blue and white jumpers over white blouses. The auxiliary group wears red and white jumpers.

Fifteen girls who attended the Valentine tea with their mothers received their caps. Also honored was the pioneer group in these programs, the Mildred Bennett class organized April 15, 1961. At present there are 83 youths in the volunteer hospital program, with only a sprinkling of boys. It is hoped that a program for boys can be set up in the future.

Some of the girls now doing hospital work in their free time will go on to become nurses, either registered or practical.

One girl, Gerri Cunningham, had such a good example in her own home that she was encouraged to take part in the program. Her mother, formerly an aide at Pontiac General Hospital, is now studying to be a registered practical nurse and will complete her hospital training in August. Gerri will enter Ann Arbor Practical School of Nursing after her graduation from high school. Representatives from the Red Cross, from the hospital board of trustees and the Women's Auxiliary participated in the meeting.

Grinning Candy Striper Joanna Lovett, Aquaria Drive, receives her cap from Mrs. Richard G. Carter of the American Red Cross. Fifteen teen-agers who have completed their probationary period were capped at a tea Thursday afternoon in the auditorium of Pontiac General Hospital.

Flower Club Sets Meeting

Venice of the Lakes Flower Club will meet March 13 at noon for a cooperative luncheon at the Cass Lake Road home of Mrs. Lloyd Banks.

Following the luncheon members will sew on cancer pads.

Neighbors are welcome to attend and join the club.

Gives Talk on Pressures

"Pressures," a lecture on the major pressures facing women of today, and how to meet them was given at the February Christian Women's Club Luncheon at Devon Gables Wednesday by Mrs. Fred Renich.

In her lecture Mrs. Renich included comments, standards of living, responsibility, time, finances, and inadequate feelings as the major pressures.

Baritone William McConnell sang two numbers, "Eternal Life" and his own translation of a German song by Hugo Wolf.

Mrs. Robert Foster of Huntington Woods spoke of her hobby, "Gemmaux," the art of painting with glass, and exhibited a number of the glass items she had made.

Bring Items for Children

Fashionette Club members brought candy and cards for the children's homes to Tuesday evening's Valentine party at the Adah Shelly Library.

A buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. Frederick Root, Mrs. James H. King and Mrs. Charles Meier.

Mrs. Harold Hopper won the trophy for losing the most weight. The group also attended a party Thursday evening at the library as guests of Fashion Your Figure Club.

Opera Fans Hear Lecture

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Wednesday evening some 60 opera lovers came to hear Prof. Glenn D. McGeoch of the University of Michigan as he began his first lecture on "Music of the Opera" at Cranbrook. This series of eight lectures is sponsored by the Cranbrook Music Guild in cooperation with the University Center for Adult Education, Wayne State University, and the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Benjamin Brewster is chairman of the opera course and Graham Shinnick is president of Cranbrook Music Guild.

Among those attending are: Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Conrad; Mr. and Mrs. George Tomlinson; Mr. and Mrs. John Nevin; Mr. and Mrs. George D. Miller Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Butzel; Mesdames Theodore Votaw; Lynn Townsend; John S. French; J. Donald Green; Peter Mann; Howard Berg; Frances Leland; Arthur Raich; Harvey E. Burgardner; LeRoy W. Dahlberg; and Edward E. Rothman; Miss Milka Ikonofski; Miss Margaret Morrison; Miss Katherine Campbell; and R. M. Ivanko III.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of Orchard Ridge Road returned this week from a visit in Miami and Delray Beach. They saw a good deal of friends from this community.

Group Meets at Club Hall

Members of the Italian American Club Auxiliary gathered at the club hall on North Tilden Street Monday night.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Frank Soda and Mrs. Eugene Soda.

Last minute plans for the card and fashion party to be held Feb. 25 at the club hall were discussed.

Look for Another Guy

Maybe He's Not Kidding!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 62-year-old widow on the lookout for a second mate. How does a gal go about making herself attractive to a man six years her junior? Fancy clothes and new hairdos don't work like they used to.

I live alone and I know he likes home cooking so I invite him to dinner at my home several times a week. He never takes me out but says he enjoys my company. He likes his freedom and kidding says he'll never marry. I am just an average working girl. How can I convince him he can't live without me?

HUNGRY FOR LOVE DEAR HUNGRY: What makes you think he's kidding when he says he'll never marry?

If you really want to find a second mate, don't waste your time and groceries on the likes of him.

DEAR ABBY: Our son married a terrible girl who has tried for years to turn him against his people. We love our son, Abby, and for that reason have tolerated it as long as we could. She has never made any big trouble between our son and us, but the cooling process is gradual and the gap is growing wider.

We know our son loves us but is too weak to stand up to this woman. He has told us this in so many words. She is bringing up her children to hate us and to favor her parents. How can we change the situation?

LEFT OUT

DEAR LEFT: The only person who can "change" the situation is your son. Since he, by his own admission, is "too weak to stand up to this woman," you will have to put up with it.

Don't blame the girl entirely. Your son's spinelessness accounts for half the problem.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for two months and I am exhausted! My husband is the most wonderful man in the world but he has one fault. He never sleeps. I require at least eight hours sleep; but he gets along fine on five! We get to sleep about 11 o'clock at night, and at four in the morning he is up like a rooster.

He showers, shaves, dresses and then he wakes me up to fix his breakfast in the middle of the night.

Briton Will Speak Here

Beverly Nichols, British author, and the possessor of one of the finest gardens in England, will speak next Thursday and Friday at 11 a.m. at the Birmingham Town Hall on "Laughter in an English Garden."

Mr. Nichols has had a remarkable career which has encompassed just about all the arts.

At Oxford he was editor of the leading undergraduate magazine, "The Isis," president of the Oxford Union which is usually considered the highest nonacademic student distinction.

He has written "country books," essays, novels, mystery stories, books for children, books about cats, travel books, and many others.

A celebrity luncheon at Kingsley Inn will follow both lectures.

Tell Friend You'll Trade Present

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I gave a friend a pair of earrings for her birthday two months ago. She seemed to like them very much, but up to the present time I have not seen her wear them and I'm very much afraid that she does not like them after all.

I would be happy to exchange them for her as they were rather expensive and it would be a shame not to use them. Would it be proper to mention this to her?

A: It would be proper and a good idea to tell her that if she finds a little use for the earrings you gave her, you will be delighted to exchange them for something else she would rather have.

Q: My daughter is going to be a bridesmaid in a wedding that is taking place in two weeks. I have received an invitation to the church but not to the reception.

I know the bride's family, but they are not personal friends. Even so, I always thought the parents of the wedding attendants were supposed to be invited to the reception. Am I right about this?

A: The parents of the bride's attendants are always invited to the church as they are naturally interested in seeing how their daughters look in the procession.

They should be invited to the reception too, when possible, but it is not a breach of etiquette to omit them when they are not personal friends of the bride's family and the number of guests has to be limited.

Q: What does one do when a glass or cup is filled or the very brim and it is practically impossible to lift it without spilling some of the contents?

A: In the case of an over-filled cup, the best thing to do is to remove some of the liquid by spooning the first few mouthfuls.

In the case of a glass, one should try to lift it very carefully to the lips, using both hands if necessary, holding it over one's plate so that should any of the liquid spill, it will fall onto the plate and not on the tablecloth or on one's clothes.

Make Most of Being Female, Prof Says

BY JANET ODELL

"Women are here to stay and we're indestructible," Dr. Dorothea Wyatt, professor at Flint College, University of Michigan, proved her point in her talk at the Zonta Club intercity banquet Thursday evening at Pine Knob Lodge, Clarkston.

Because the building is still new, arrangements for private groups are incomplete. The shutters did not screen out all sounds from the main dining room and Dr. Wyatt's talk was punctuated with "Happy birthday to you" and applause from another source. She was equal to the occasion.

"Women are here to stay; men are here today and gone tomorrow. One out of every four women alive today can expect to live to be at least 85."

There are now 129 women for every 100 men, 65 years or older. By the year 1980 the ratio will be 139 to 100, and by 2000, it'll be 145 to 100! This is in spite of women's doing all the snow shoveling, Miss Wyatt remarked.

WORK 25 YEARS

If this is the case, girls and women must prepare for such a future. The average young girl today can expect to work at least 25 years of her life. This may not be all at one time; in fact, it probably won't be if she marries and has a family. Family duties still come first.

If more women are going to work, this poses problems for the female executive. Most of the world, but especially the men, have an idea of the typical woman executive and how she got where she is.

The old accepted ways were to inherit the business when the husband died or start with a new company and stick with it.

Now, because of automation, women must be careful to have the skills to meet the continuing competition. They have to take training so that when executive positions arise, they won't be passed over.

Female executives are not uncommon in certain businesses; but Dr. Wyatt thinks they can do more to break the crust of custom that keeps them out of most management jobs and some professions.

All set to go to Pine Knob Lodge for the Zonta Club's intercity dinner are (from left) Patricia Brewer, Madison Street, who was a guest; Mrs. Nelda Carmichael, Rochester; and Charlotte McManus, Camley Street, a new member of the Pontiac Zonta club.

Beta Theta Phi Chapters Join for Banquet

The combined chapters of Beta Theta Phi Sorority met for their 44th annual banquet Thursday evening in the Waldron Hotel.

Representatives of Alpha, Beta, Gamma and Delta chapters were present. They heard guest speaker Mrs. Roy W. (Myrtle) Labbit, former women's editor of CKLW radio, discuss "Europe by Car Without Reservation."

Mrs. Labbit's talk centered on the adventures of traveling through Europe by car without reservations.

She said it takes a spirit of adventure, sometimes courage, but it all adds up to more interesting and rewarding experiences.

General chairman of the event and toastmistress was Mrs. Arthur McKinniss. She was assisted by Mrs. Herbert Johnson, Mrs. Leslie Cross, Mrs. Cecil Denison and Mrs. Orben Wilkins and Mrs. Homer Tinney.

Also participating in the program were Mrs. Walter Kinder and Mrs. Jack Greathouse.

Two honorary members were present, Mrs. Charles Andrews and Mrs. Robert Bagg, home from Indonesia.

Don't Just Record Spending, Manage It!

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management
Dear Miss Feeley:

My wife calls our savings account the "Put — and — Take Department." Every two weeks when I get paid, we put $12 in the savings bank. About every third or fourth week, we take $13 out! Yet for the past year we've been going at this budget business seriously. We keep track of everything we spend. Our combined income is $510 a month, after deductions. Maybe there is such a thing as no margin for savings, huh?

Tom G., Rochester, N.Y.

Dear Tom:
Un-huh. Whoever told you that budgeting your income simply meant keeping records? You don't just record what you spend — you manage it. Writing down "monthly food allowance, $125" isn't helping your financial bind if the figure ought to be $90 instead. On that combined income of $510, you and your wife ought to be able to put $40 a month in the savings bank and leave it there.

Here's how you could do it: rent, $110; clothing, $40; food, $90; savings, $40; expenses on the job, $80; medical, $20; insurance, $15; recreation, $15; gifts and donations, $20; household operating, $30; car operating, $50.

Check your monthly records against these figures. Somewhere along the line what should be your savings dollars are slipping through your fingers. Maybe you're eating them. Maybe you're wearing them. Since the "Put-and-Take Department" is causing you and your wife real concern, tighten the reins. Hold your budget in, or it'll race right down the hill with you.

Dear Miss Feeley:
I am a widow with two girls in high school. I manage pretty well on a modest income — or have up until now. But trying to keep my girls in clothes has become more of a problem than I expected. We can't plan an entire year's wardrobe, or even an entire season's — which I realize is the best way to shop — because I just can't lay out that much money at one time.

KAROL KAY CLARK

September vows are planned by Karol Kay Clark, daughter of Freeman Clark of Northfield Drive and Mrs. Marion Clark of Communevalth Road, and Roger Allen Stutzman, son of the Charles J. Stutzmans of Orchard Lake Road.

Can you offer any suggestions for cutting down on the clothes budget?
Mrs. W. D., San Francisco
Dear Mrs. D.:
The teen-ager is everybody's favorite customer. She's the target for all the latest fashion gimmicks. But in the interest of good taste as well as economy, she must learn some basics.

Number one is buy wash-and-wear. It's a girl's best friend. When she can wash it, dry it quickly, and put it back on in a matter of hours, she's really got something for her money. She needs fewer outfits when they're never out of circulation very long. Fortunately, wash-and-wear is year-around wear these days.

Wait for a sale, if you know one is coming up. Look for small-money price tags on "fad" items. Girls get bored in short order with many fashions. I realize variety is all-important at this age. But your girls can exchange garments when each grows tired of her own.

Blouses, sweaters, even skirts and dresses can often be bleached, then dyed in brand new colors. New buttons alone can sometimes transform a jacket or coat.

Even though you can't shop for an entire season, you can plan for it — by deciding on a basic wardrobe color for each girl. As piece by piece is added, there will be more harmony and fewer mistakes.

Remember that impulse-shopping is the most expensive kind.

Welcomes Bitter, Sweet

Reader Thankful for Life

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A letter from a reader says, "It would be so nice if you would reprint an article you wrote one Christmas Day. I do not have the date or the year. I am sure that in these tense times it would mean a lot to many of your readers. I still have my clipping and still read it."

I know which column this reader must mean. Here it is:

"I wrote the following with no thought of publishing it. I was simply talking to myself on the typewriter. However, when I read it over several days after writing it, the thought occurred to me that many of you may feel the same way and that it might therefore appeal to you."

"I feel very thankful during many days of each year. However, I have a need to express this thankfulness in a special way, by spoken word or on the typewriter, on this Christmas Day. "Thank you, God, for this life on this earth. Thank you for its challenges, its excitement, its rewards and its happiness. Thank you also for its frustrations, its heartbreaks and its disappointments.

MOUNTAINS AND VALLEYS "Life cannot be life and have only highlights, moments of exhilaration, mountain peaks and joy. Living is made up of mountains and valleys, of laughter and tears, of sunshine and storm, of hope and despair.

"It seems to me that the only dread we should ever have is the dread of having nothing matter much any more, of being incapable of either suffering or gladness. Then we will be dead, and only then, on any plane of existence.

"As to the future, please give me more of the same if you can. I do not mean to indicate a lack of belief in the next existence after this earthly life is finished. It is just that I cannot believe it will be much different, so long as it means being alive. We probably will continue to build our own individual hells and heavens."

"Anyway, thank you for the ability to feel and to think, for the capacity to be bold or afraid, happy or distressed. Thank you for the gift of life!"

As you can tell, this was written by a person who is hopelessly in love with life.

Indoor Use for Chaise

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I bring my lawn chaise lounge in the house when the children have minor illnesses and have to stay put.

The adjustable back lets them sit or lie down and saves continual propping of pillows.

They do not seem to tire as easily as they do in bed. They can also see television when they want to and the lounge is easier to move than a bed. MRS. G. D. W.

DEAR POLLY — I have found in grating coconut, it is well to use a pair of pliers to hold the pieces when they get small. You can grate them down to almost nothing without grating your fingers, too. Saves coconut, fingers, nails and patience. MRS. G. L. G.

DEAR POLLY — Cover a cellulose sponge with a scrap of bright fabric to make a nice pin cushion for sewing basket or sewing machine.

Tape a portion of sandpaper to the side of your typewriter or on your desk for keeping erasers "sanded off." When your youngsters refuse to eat bread, let them use cookie cutters to cut animals from the slices. Then top with butter or jam. Nice for a sick child's tray, too. The leftover bread can be converted to crumbs to be used on casseroles, for stuffing and so on.

When removing paint or varnish from a chair or table, place the leg inside a can containing the remover. Brush the remover up and down and the surplus will run back in the can. Waste is lessened this way. MRS. E. F. C.

GIRLS — The mess is lessened, too. I have used this method many a time but instead of standing the leg in a can of remover, I use an empty coffee can so as not to mess up more remover than is needed for the job.

Central High Senior Gets DeMolay Post

Gerald Noren, 17, will be installed Saturday as master counselor of the Pontiac Chapter of the Order of DeMolay.

Noren, a senior at Pontiac Central High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Noren, 717 E. Pike St.

Others to be installed are Charles Hayes, senior counselor; Arnie Dolmer, junior counselor; James Howard, scribe; and Ronald Mapley, treasurer.

Union Chief Says 5 Million Jobs Can Be Created

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Maurice A. Hutcheson of the AFL-CIO Carpenters Union says a switch to a 35-hour work week would create 5 million new jobs. Hutcheson spoke Thursday to the 35th annual convention of the California State Council of Carpenters.

"Unemployment is the greatest threat America faces on the home front and the problem must be attacked boldly and drastically," he said.

"A 35-hour work week would result merely in sharing work with a few of our currently unemployed brothers. It will result in creation of at least 5 million new jobs."

Central Slates 'Music Man'

By JANE BIGLER

"Seventy-six trombones led the big parade" has been heard through the halls of Pontiac Central High School as students prepare their sixth annual spring musical. The "Music Man" will be presented March 14, 15, 16, 20, 21, 22 and 23 in Central's auditorium. Tickets will be available at school next week. Directors for this production are instructors C. Stuart Parkard, drama, and A. Michael Dempsey, music.

"Music Man" committee chairman are Betty James, student director; Richard Taylor, production assistant; Richard Crawford, stage manager; and William Cox, assistant stage manager.

FESTIVAL RESULTS

An instrumental solo and ensemble festival was held at Pontiac Central last Saturday. Students from many surrounding high schools performed and were given a rating.

Receiving a first class rating were David Belanger, euphonium; Lyle Velle, marimba; Jon Stepleton, flute; James Forman, baritone and trombone.

Ensembles which earned the rating of I were Donna Rofe, Jon Stepleton and Ricky Northcross, flute trio; and Joanne Quince, Jane Belanger, Annette Rofe and Jack Post, clarinet quartet.

Donna Rofe, flute; Jill Anderson, clarinet; and Paul Grahek and Stephanie Bennett, oboe duet received a rating of II.

This Saturday a vocal solo and ensemble festival will be held at Pontiac Central. Participating will be students from all over southeastern Michigan.

Representing Central will be Richard Levine, Kathy Jackson, Mary Jefferson, Eddie Payne, William Raynes, Charlotte Morris, Roger Putnam and Nathan Jones.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY
Names of some 74 seniors have been placed on a preliminary list of National Honor Society members. These students have fulfilled the B average scholastic requirement and now must meet the leadership and school service requirements.

Under national rules only 15 per cent of the senior class is allowed to belong to the National Honor Society.

WALLED LAKE
By SHERI JACKSON

Walled Lake High School's announcement of the "52-member cast for this year's musical 'Bells Are Ringing' marked the beginning of more than two months of work for leads Dianne Smith and Bela Krusac.

Their supporting cast includes Shelby Gibby, Rich Morpheu, Sharon Cox, Gary Sparks, James Bales, Michael Mengyan, Anita Zuecht, Pamela Jeffrey, Catherine Flannery, Carmen Cavallaro, Hugh Cleal and Don Lacey.

At the District Instrumental Solo and Ensemble Festival last Saturday, Walled Lake Senior High Students were awarded eight first division ratings and four second division ratings.

First division ratings and eligibility for the state contest went to soloists Martha Kurzwel, Carol Thompson, Terry Crawford, Nancy Tuma, Lynn Mattson and Michael Garrels.

Ensembles in the first division were Nancy and Elizabeth Tuma, Emilie Beaupre, John Ellenwood, Charles Dornbush and Paul Cunningham.

RECEIVES PIN
Senior Barbara Lake has been named Waterford Township High School's Future Homemaker in the recent Betty Crocker sponsored contest.

Receiving a pin for her accomplishment, Barbara has the opportunity to compete in the statewide contest.

Sponsored by Mrs. Marjorie White, girl's physical education teacher and James Amell of the WTHS social studies department, Waterford Swimmers have organized a swim club.

Swim enthusiasts may be found at the Pontiac Northern High School pool every Saturday afternoon.

National Honor Society members are busy planning the initiation assembly to be held next week. Ten per cent of the senior class and 4 per cent of the junior class will be named to the society by the faculty.

'Showboat' Due Tuesday at Clarkston

By JANET TISCH

The "Showboat" will dock at Clarkston High School Tuesday and stay until Thursday for performances of the variety show each evening at 7:30.

Sponsored by the student government and entirely a student project, proceeds go to the Scholarship Aid program designed to help needy students planning to attend college.

"Showboat" will open with a musical performance by Rick Warren, Carl Wilberg, the Four Js, V-Teens and square dancers.

The Tremble Tones, Kathy Verberk, Jeanne Shoots, Robert and Robin Ruten, Larie Walters and Gary Stelmach will follow.

A barbershop quartet, Kathy Egars, Cindy Mosier and Marty Tisch and the Four Js also are on the program.

In the final act will be Janice and Lynn Norberg, Delana Hunt, Anita Rivenburgh, Linda Shedd, Beverly Plyman, Marcia Hoskins, Earl Brendle, The Electrons, Diane Crites, Carol Walter, Gordon McInnes, Frank Powell and Carl Wilberg.

Student director is Sheila Goins with Linda Hallman as her assistant. Chipper Caruso is stage manager with Jerry Darling as his assistant.

Others working backstage, include Ward Robbins, Leslie Tusch, Beverly Galligan, George White, Lynn Ellsworth, Carol Kiert, Cindy Keller, Blair Bullard and Dennis Urlick.

Hit Weak Behavior Areas

Urge Citizenship at Kettering

By BARBARA SECAN

Members of the student council at Waterford Kettering High School are staging a campaign to promote good citizenship.

Hitting upon the weak areas of student behavior they are striving to abolish smoking in the lavatories and encourage neat cafeteria habits.

Excessive commotion and litter in the halls is another problem students are urged to eliminate.

As head of the committee on better school conduct, senior John Popovich made an appeal to the student body over the public address system Tuesday.

Plans for the first annual Fine Arts Festival are under way. Participating departments are art, English and Science, and the drama club.

New dates for the festival are April 29 through May 4. General chairman for the festival is Kettering art instructor Robert Seeburger.

Final results of the senior mock elections follow: Prettiest Smile—William Whitaker and Gayle Crigger; Most Courteous—Claudia Wagner and Douglas Stranda; Most Likely to Succeed—Gail Bingle and Ray Steehler; Most Shy—Terre Calkin and Don Ferrier.

Others include Most Dependable—Joanna Lovett and John Popovich; Wittiest—Pat Kizer and Carl Methner; Most Valuable to the Class—Barbara Secan and J. C. Young; Class Flirt—Jeri Daniel and Orville Mullins; and Most Athletic—Lynne Johnston and Tom Campbell.

Selected as the Most Perfect Match were Karen Flesher and Michael Dorman.

"A Summer Place" is the class song, with a white rose as the class flower. "Here one journey ends; another begins" is the class motto and lavender and white are the class colors.

Dance Tonight at Northern

Event Follows Game With Waterford High

By SUSAN KILLEN

Pontiac Northern High School cheerleaders will sponsor a "Snow Flurry" dance tonight from 10 p. m. to midnight following the game with Waterford Township High School.

Jerry Olson will act as disc jockey. Records will be given away during the evening. Tickets are available from any of the cheerleaders.

CHOIR AGENDA

Results of the choir election have been tabulated and new officers have been announced. They are as follows: Douglas Smith, president; Robert Hilly, vice president; Sue Sparks, secretary; and Jackie Morris, treasurer.

On the agenda for the choir are a number of important events. March 22 has been chosen as the date for the Choir Festival at Ferndale High School.

Many of the senior students will also be taking part in the Solo and Ensemble Festival Feb. 16. Pamela Jones, Cheryl Montgomery, Pamela Pruett, and Linda Maline will all present vocal solos.

Others performing are Nancy Elkins, Clara Whiting, Sue Blasingame, Claude Edwards and Joan Simmons.

The Senior Girls Ensemble, the Senior Boys Ensemble and the Sophomore Girls Ensemble have also been working on numbers to present at the festival. The festival is sponsored by the Michigan School Vocal Associations.

ALL-A STUDENTS

Pontiac Northern High School students who recently received all A's include Shirley Kath, Beverly Benson, Denton Carlson, Terry Chase, and Ruth Vallins. Completing the list are Barbara Baldwin, Joyce McBurney, Linda Spangler, Barbara Vanhorn and Joyce Warden.

CLOTHING DRIVE

This year Pontiac Northern topped Pontiac Central as the school bringing in the most clothing per person for the clothing drive. Northern gathered 1.1 pounds per person while Central gathered .9 pounds per person.

This year the total of clothing collected was 22,735 pounds. This was an increase of 8,735 pounds over last year. The clothes are distributed to the Salvation Army, Dorcas Society and St. Vincent de Paul.

A contest between homerooms was held at Pontiac Northern to see which homeroom could gather the most clothing.

Crown Awaiting Oxford High's 1st Snow Queen

By SHARON MANN

A glittering tiara and a bouquet of red roses were to be waiting for Oxford High School's first Snow Queen tonight.

Election of class candidates was held last Monday and the final election was held this morning.

The four candidates will be escorted by their fathers to the floor of the gym at halftime of the basketball game with Millington High. Then George Sander, student council president will crown the girl chosen queen.

A red cape has been made for the new queen by senior Connie Wilkinson.

Following the game, a dance honoring the queen and her court will be held in the student center.

ANNOUNCES REMODELING — Completion of remodeling at the Thomas Economy Furniture Co., 361 S. Saginaw St., gives the store a bright new appearance. A Pontiac landmark, the company has been at the same location for half a century.

Pontiac Firm Tells of Modernization

William D. Thomas Jr., president of the Thomas Economy Furniture Co., today announced the completion of another step in the store's modernization.

From its beginning in 1914, the furniture store has expanded from a one-man operation with only several hundred pieces of furniture to one of the largest in the state with 30 employees and stock ranging in the thousands of pieces.

William D. Thomas was founder of the store. His son William D. Thomas Jr. joined the firm in 1946.

Fire destroyed the store's building in 1922.

In 1927, several years after the completion of a new building on the same site, business was again disrupted.

To keep pace with the influx of automobiles, city officials demanded that stores on South Saginaw St. be moved back to permit widening of the street. The Thomases complied.

Then in 1955, faced with either renovating the store or moving, the Thomases made the critical decision — renovate.

"The supposedly smart people told us to move," said Thomas, "but we knew this location and decided to stay. We've never regretted it."

The remodeling and expansion that began in 1955 has continued to this date.

The most recent step includes new ceilings, walls, lighting and stairways in one section of the store.

Meanwhile, the firm established a second store in Waterford Township in 1960, giving the company a total floor space of 65,000 square feet.

A 30-year bond issue will finance the project. The city's share will be borne by annual assessments to taxpayers.

The Clinton River project will include deepening, widening and straightening of the river from Orchard Lake Avenue, just west of Cass avenue, to Union Street. Most of it will be tunneled.

The project is being handled as a county drain through the County Drain Commission, which will issue the bonds. Construction bids will be opened at the drain commissioner's office at 10 a.m. March 21.

Will Review Child Clinics

The annual dinner meeting of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinics will be held at Devon Gables, 1116 W. Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Township, Feb. 19 at 6:30 p.m.

At the meeting the board of directors will review activities of the past year, and discuss plans for expanding the work of the three Oakland Child Clinics.

Dr. Thomas A. Petty, a psychoanalyst and director of the McGregor Center in Detroit, will be the main speaker.

County to Get Highway Funds

$926,130 for Gas Tax, License Fees

Oakland County is due to receive $926,130 in 1962 fourth-quarter gasoline tax and license plate receipts from the Michigan State Highway Department.

Pontiac will get $145,399, the highest single total in $926,130 going to 38 incorporated cities and villages in the county.

This is in addition to the county's share.

Distribution of the money from the state's Motor Vehicle Highway Fund has already begun.

Some $46.2 million is being paid to counties, cities and villages throughout the state for road maintenance expenses, according to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

The figure, covering net receipts of the fund for October, November and December of 1962, was some $1.34 million less than the total for the same period a year ago, Mackie said.

LOWER LICENSE SALES

A falloff in the sale of 1963 license plate tabs during the three-month period compared to the same period in 1961 accounted for the decrease, Mackie explained.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes, license plate fees and some miscellaneous fees are deposited in the fund.

The State Highway Department will get $21.7 million of the fourth-quarter receipts, with $16.1 million going to the state's 83 counties and $5.3 million to 511 incorporated cities and villages.

Oakland County's share is second only to the $3.1 million headed for Wayne County. Macomb County will get $25,424; Lapeer, $135,326; Washtenaw, $281,057; and Livingston, $130,852.

Area cities and villages are scheduled for the following amounts: Berkley, $29,987; Beverly Hills, $14,727; Bingham Farms, $1,078; Birmingham, $36,108; Bloomfield Hills, $6,028; Clarkston, $1,155; Farmington, $10,119; Franklin, $5,192; Holly, $5,944.

Huntington Woods, $11,906; Keego Harbor, $3,733; Lake Angelus, $217; Lake Orion, $4,973; Lathrup Village, $6,722; Leonard, $1,182; Milford, $7,483; Novi, $14,062; Oak Park, $7,450; Orchard Lake, $2,879; Orionville, $1,461; Oxford, $4,142.

Pleasant Ridge, $4,927; Quakertown, $1,201; Rochester, $9,240; South Lyon, $2,824; Southfield, $75,601; Sylvan Lake, $3,237; Troy, $33,890; Walled Lake, $5,715; Wixom, $4,371; Wolverine Lake, $4,518; and Wood Creek Farms, $1,599.

U.S. Kids Send Hearts to Caroline, Baby John

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy children, Caroline, 5, and John Jr., 2, received about 75 valentines from youngsters across the country yesterday.

Patricia Turner, the First Lady's press secretary, said a few in the bundle were for Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

Welfare Cost Is $2.89 Million

Give County Share of Program for '62

An Oakland County taxpayer with property assessed at $3,000 paid $4.11 for a county welfare program last year.

Welfare administration and relief cost the county $2.89 million during 1962.

In taxes that meant $1.37 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, according to figures prepared for the annual report of the Social Welfare Department.

Welfare expenditures by the department, however, totaled some $3.3 million. The difference came from state welfare funds, hospitalization insurance and other sources.

The county's share of the total was about 52 per cent.

AMOUNTS TO FOURTH

County tax revenue spent for welfare amounted to about a fourth of total county tax collections for the year.

Of the $1.37 per $1,000 assessed valuation, 90 cents went for medical care and hospitalization of welfare clients. Another 47 cents went for administration and direct relief payments, according to Williams.

About half the $2.89 million spent by the county — $1.56 million — went for direct relief payments, including $65,000 for storage and transportation of federal surplus foods distributed by the department.

The rest is broken down into $758,000 for hospitalization of welfare patients, $235,000 for operation of the county's Medical Care Facility, and $327,000 for administration of the program.

The gross figure of $3.3 million breaks down into $1.54 million for hospitalization, $1.2 million for the Medical Care Facility, $2.35 million for direct relief payments, and the $327,000 for administration.

REORGANIZING

The Social Welfare Department is currently undergoing a reorganization, Williams said. Nine employees handling hospitalization applications are to be moved from the Medical Care Facility to the department's renovated offices in the County Service Center, he said.

A $35,000 remodeling begun last August was completed last month.

"The renovation will allow us to integrate welfare services more efficiently," Williams said.

Williams said the position of deputy director from which Mrs. Helen E. Slayton was fired last November was to be reclassified as "casework supervisor."

The State Bureau of Social Aid and Williams' department has stepped up efforts to work closely to eliminate duplication of services and reduce administrative costs, Williams said.

Air Patronage Off Slightly

North Central Airlines reported a slight drop in patronage of out-bound flights from Pontiac Municipal Airport in January.

There were 30 passengers on out-bound flights last month compared to 42 in December, according to J. O. Edwards, station manager.

Inbound flights, however, carried 34 patrons last month, an increase from the 22 reported in December.

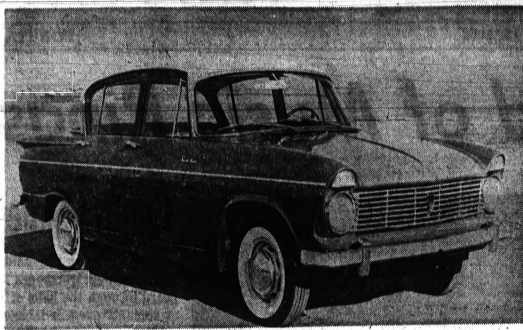

Patronage showed an increase both ways compared to January last year when there were 17 passengers on out-bound and 25 on inbound flights.

For last month, out-bound flights carried 1,525 pounds of air mail, 176 pounds of air express, and 968 pounds of air freight.

In December, out-bound flights mail, 556 pounds of air express, and 853 pounds of air freight.

January's inbound flights recorded 713 pounds of air mail and 3,468 pounds of air freight.

For comparison, December flights carried 879 pounds of air mail and 5,738 pounds of air freight.

NO-SHIFT IMPORT TO DEBUT — The first economy import with an American automatic transmission is the Hillman Super Minx Deluxe, which can soon be seen at Superior Auto Sales, 550 Oakland Ave. While the transmission is completely automatic, the driver can "kick down" the accelerator from high gear to 2nd for passing and hill-climbing.

Construction Value's Up

City Projects Boom Building

Two city projects boomed construction value to $3,077,270 in Pontiac during January.

The big permits in January were for the city's new sewage treatment plant ($1,926,375) and water pumping station ($1,079,955).

The two municipal buildings accounted for all but $70,937 of the total.

The month's building statistics were released by Carl F. Alt, city building inspector.

Some 45 building permits were issued in January compared to 62 in December.

Construction for December was valued at $546,967.

Permits were issued on both city projects even though they were well under way. The reason is a new policy whereby the city will take out building permits for construction of municipal facilities.

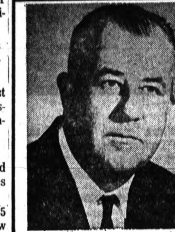

In the past, building permits were not required for public facilities.

Home building hit a low last month with only three permits issued for some $15,000 in new family dwellings.

Some 16 permits were issued for $153,500 worth of new homes the month before.

In January 1962 there were 35 permits issued for $82,482 in new construction. That included four

Start Using New Phones

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's new communications network connecting federal agencies in 43 cities by telephone begins operation today.

The General Services Administration (GSA), the government's housekeeper, has rented 17,000 miles of AT&T lines to link 250,000 telephones in federal offices across the country.

Estimated savings in telephone tolls should be $7 million this year, the GSA said.

Frank Sinatra Jr. Impresses Everybody but Himself

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—There was a ripple of excitement as the slender young man with hunched shoulders and serious face walked through the MGM commissary.

"That's Frank Sinatra Jr.," said the studio workers.
Ordinarily a famous figure would scarcely turn a head in the studio lunch room. But this was a special event. After all, young Frank was making his dramatic debut on the lot where his father started his rise to movie fame.
About the only person who wasn't impressed was Frank Sinatra Jr.

"I'm just doing a part in a
'Sam Benedict' television show," he shrugged. "The fact that my name is Sinatra shouldn't make any difference."

Of course it does, but his 19-year-old appears to bear his burden (if such it is) with ease and open-mindedness. He wants to make his own way in show business, but he knows he can find no better teacher than Sinatra Sr.

'BEEN AROUND'

"I've been hanging around movie sets and recording studios since
I can remember," recalled young Frank. "I recall once when I was watching my father on a record date where Nelson Riddle was the conductor. I must have been 9 at the time. Nelson said he couldn't go ahead until I got untangled from the cables."
You recognize the similarities of father and son as the conversation progresses. At first glance, you say the kid is an imposter.
Where's the resemblance? He has the same emaciated build, but the face seems entirely different.

But the mannerisms—that's something else. When young Frank starts expressing opinions, you see a lot of pop.
Acceptance by his fellow workers is important to him.
"The main thing I would like to do when I have an acting job," he said, "is to have the other people say that I was easy to work with. My mother taught me good manners. There is no excuse for rudeness or unprofessional behavior on a set."
Frank is learning all the time.
He works for his father's Reprise

FRANK JR. ON TV—Frank Sinatra Jr., 19-year-old son of the famed singer-actor, gets pat on the shoulder from actor Edmond O'Brien during a break in rehearsals for "Sam Benedict" show in which he's to make his dramatic debut.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House-directed drive to ease the way for President Kennedy's tax program has gone down to defeat, but Senate Democratic leaders claim to see a silver lining amid the dark clouds.

The cause for their professed optimism: pledges by the two top Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee not to bottle up the tax-cutting legislation.

Gloom was cast on Kennedy's program yesterday when the Senate's Democratic Steering Committee refused to expand the Finance Committee to make way for additional Democrats partial to the administration.
Even Kennedy's leader in the Senate, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, voted against the White House.

The plan "was not in the best interests" of the Democratic party, Mansfield said after the steering group, in secret session, voted by a reported 10-5 margin to keep finance at its present line-up of 11 Democrats and six Republicans.

The action was a victory for Finance Chairman Harry F.
Byrd, D-Va., who claimed the White House was trying to pack his committee. Byrd opposes any tax cut that is not accompanied by balanced reduction in federal spending—a position contrary to Kennedy's.

And the conservative Virginian also is a leading opponent of the administration's plan to provide health care for the elderly under the Social Security system.

However, Democratic leaders are known to have received pledges from Byrd and from Sen.
Russell B. Long, D-La., that neither measure will be bottled up by the Finance Committee—and the chances are the leaders will rest their hopes on these pledges.

Administration backers say they will decide next week whether to renew on the Senate floor the fight to expand the committee. The indications are they would have little chance of success.

He later declined to say how it would be done. Studies are being conducted on the implementation of the plan, he added.

Government Center Formally Dedicated

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The Defense Department Logistic Service Center, expected to employ some 600 persons here at full operational strength, was formally dedicated yesterday.

The center is located in old Percy Jones Hospital, now known as the Battle Creek Federal Center.

Commanded by Col. Charles C.
Case, the center is a virtual catalogue of all defense materials purchased by the government.
Rep. August E. Johansen was present at the dedication.

Judy Garland Visits Hospital Few Hours

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)—Singer Judy Garland was admitted to Tahoe-Carson Hospital for a few hours yesterday for diagnosis and treatment of a "weakness on her left side."

Miss Garland, 39, who collapsed in her dressing room at Harrah's Club on Lake Tahoe Wednesday night, was taken to a hospital yesterday morning on a stretcher. She checked out a few hours later.

A hospital spokesman said the weakness did not appear to be the result of a stroke. He said she was in fine condition, but had been "overworked."

Former N. Y. Governor Better With Fracture

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Former New York Gov. Herbert H. Lehman was reported "doing very well" today and responding to treatment for a fractured thigh bone.

Lehman, 84, also formerly a U.S. Senator, had been taken off the critical list Monday night. He was hurt in a fall at his resort suite here Saturday.

Driver Makes Best of a Bad Situation

MIAMI (AP) — Joseph Carden, 24, was driving home late one night recently when he found the street blocked by fire department equipment at a hotel fire.

Carden helped firemen rescue two people from the fire. Then, when he started to drive away, he found the other end of the street blocked by fire trucks which answered an alarm at an apartment house.

Carden pondered the situation, parked his car and went to sleep.

Measure for Marriage

To Require Guidance?

DETROIT (AP) — A bill requiring at least six hours of marriage counseling prior to issuance of a marriage license will be introduced in the legislature next week.

Sen. John Smeekens, R-Coldwater, and Rep. Harry DeMasco, R-Battle Creek, announced yesterday they will introduce the measure in both houses.

The bill also would forbid divorce for parents with children under 18 unless both husband and wife could show they had received at least six hours of domestic counseling.

Circuit Court would name the counselors, and fees would be charged for counseling.

We So Solly, Ladies; but No Speakee Englie

PERTH, Australia (UPI)—The Japanese men's swimming team caused an embarrassing commotion at their hotel today because they could not read English.

They mistakenly tried to enter a room marked "women" inside of which were stored members of the Australian women's team.

The hotel management quickly put up signs in Japanese.

"An aid in getting drip-dry dresses to dry wrinkle-free is to fold a turkish towel over the hanger before hanging them. The towel prevents the fabric from clinging together."

Cuba to U.S. as Berlin to Russ

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

For much the same reasons that Nikita Khrushchev described West Berlin as a bone in his throat, President Kennedy can apply the same description to Cuba.

Viewed in this light, Cuba vs. Berlin, Soviet strategy becomes clearer and Cuba takes a natural place on the cold war chess board. And in this light, the actual number of Soviet troops in Cuba takes on less significance, whether it be 5,000 or 20,000. It is the Soviet "presence" that counts.

NEWSOM

A handful of 10,000 or so Allied troops in West Berlin could not hope to stem the Soviet tide there to be unleashed. One reason that it is not unleashed lies not in the number but in the Allied "presence" which would guarantee a world war in case of Soviet attack.

When the world receded from the brink of nuclear war last October with Khrushchev's promise to remove his offensive rockets, it naturally was assumed that he now would look elsewhere for a means to reestablish damaged prestige and to recapture the initiative.

One of these assumptions took in the possibility of new Soviet pressure on Berlin.

Instead, he has reversed his field, facing the United States in Cuba with exactly the same risks he would face in an attack upon Berlin.

There are other striking similarities.

Just as West Berlin is a Western foothold within Communist territory, so Cuba now is a Soviet foothold in a traditionally U.S. sphere of influence.

Just as the Western powers have been willing to pour millions of dollars into West Berlin to help maintain it as a free world symbol, so Khrushchev apparently is willing to pour millions into Cuba to maintain it as a beacon for Communist subversion throughout Latin America.

Khrushchev could take other pages from the book of Allied experience in Berlin.

The Allied airlift broke the back of the 1948 Communist blockade of Berlin and demonstrated the utility of trying to starve out even an isolated city without measures sterner than the Communists were willing to undertake.

A Communist sealfit can continue to supply Cuba, although at enormous expense, unless the United States is willing to take similar stern measures.

Khrushchev assured the United States that the Soviet troops would depart Cuba in "due time," but the construction of permanent barracks seems to place that time far in the future.

Since it seems agreed that chances of successful internal revolt in Cuba are dim and military action from the outside equally remote, Khrushchev therefore seeks to reach the initiative he temporarily lost.

He retains Cuba as a possible bargaining weapon against Berlin.

If not, he retains a forward base for subversion against the Americas.

Confirms Report That Minow Will Quit FCC Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recurrent reports that Newton N. Minow will resign as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission by the end of the year have been confirmed by a source who has intimate knowledge of commission affairs.

The well-placed source, asking that his name be withheld, said yesterday that commissioners E. William Henry and Kenneth Cox are being mentioned as Minow's successor.

The 37-year-old chairman stirred controversy within the industry 21 months ago when he described much of television programming as a "vast wasteland." Reports that he would leave his government post were circulating then and have been recurrent ever since.

Crash Kills State Youth

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — A Michigan youth was killed yesterday when a small foreign car went into a spin and rolled over twice. Roy Dane Byrd Jr., 19, Foster, Mich., was hurled from the car.

Radio to Take Voice Past Space Curtain

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A radio transmitter capable of piercing the curtain of heat that has blocked out astronaut's voices during atmospheric re-entry was announced today by General Dynamics-Astronautics.

The firm said the transmitter is the first to send radio signals through the black-out heat that has done so more than a dozen missile flights from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

It has never had a failure, the company said.

We'll Have One Order of Cash . . . to Take Out

VINCENNES, Ind. (UPI) — Two young shotgun-wielding bandits staged a curb service hold-up yesterday. Station attendant Sam Downum said they ordered him to go inside and bring all the cash — $200 — to their waiting car.

Tigers Groom Jake Wood for Utility Purposes

Scheffing Puts Jake at Short as Experiment

Bengals to Play Series With Visiting Tigers From Hanshin, Japan

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—A puny batting average isn't the only reason Jake Wood was ordered to attend the Tigers' early instructional camp.

"Get over at shortstop, Jake," bellowed manager Bob Scheffing as the weather warmed up enough yesterday to permit Detroit to practice outdoors.

Wood dashed over from his old second base position and a new Scheffing experiment was launched.

It was another indication the Tigers are unsure about who is the real Chico Fernandez: the one who hit 20 home runs and handled shortstop competently last year? Or the Fernandez who stumbled and struggled in the field and at bat his previous six major league seasons?

Fernandez obviously will be the No. 1 shortstop when he reports to camp in a couple of weeks. He earned the right to the job with his work last year.

"We didn't lose the pennant last year at shortstop," Scheffing has said often.

SOUGHT HOWSER

But still, the Tigers spent the winter seeking improved shortstop. They failed in their effort, aimed mostly at trying Dick Howser away from the Kansas City Athletics.

So Wood, loser of his second base job to Dick McAuliffe last season when his average withered to .226, is being worked at short.

"We want to be prepared for anything," said Scheffing. "I don't want to go changing McAuliffe around, so we're giving Jake instruction at shortstop."

"Right now, it's Chico's job. But who knows what'll happen? Besides, we've got to have an infielder who can play several positions for utility purposes."

Shortstop is far from foreign to Wood. He broke into the minors there and wasn't shifted to second base until his third season as a professional.

Scheffing is among the many who believe Wood's pitiful 1962 season wasn't an indication of his true ability. The manager talks frequently about Wood's blazing speed and fine base running.

And no current Tiger has received so much special tutoring to overcome flaws in his play.

Detroit's first game action will come up tomorrow in the opener of a four-game series with Japan's Hanshin Tigers, who are training at Tigertown. Scheffing named left hander Doug Gailagher as his starter with home rookie Bill Paul set for relief. Bob Anderson, acquired from the Chicago Cubs for Steve Boros, will start Sunday's game.

2 Deadlocked for 1st Place in Tuscon Play

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Jim Ferrer and Don January were tied for first with 7-under-par 66s as the Tucson Open Golf Tournament swung into second-round play today.

As the round started, 15 golfers were to complete the first round, halted by darkness Thursday. They failed to finish because frost on the greens delayed the start more than one hour.

Ferrer's 33-32-65 held up until January brought in his 31-34-65 on the par-72 49ers Country Club course.

Butch Baird had a 67 and was closest to the co-leaders.

Jack Nicklaus, the nation's third leading money winner and pre-tourney favorite, was well back with a 76.

Nicklaus, bothered by bursts in his left hip, belted two balls out of bounds on his second hole, for a disastrous error and couldn't recover.

Par meant little on the new mesquite and cactus lined 6,749-yard course, as 55 competitors made or broke it.

Illini-Indiana Set for Point Battle

By The Associated Press
The Big Ten basketball title race, which seemed to be commanded by Illinois, could crack wide open Saturday with the one-beaten Illini invading Indiana for a key game between the conference's highest scoring teams.

The afternoon encounter will be the Illini's second road contest of the week. They absorbed their first league loss, 84-77, at Wisconsin Monday and now hold only a one-game lead over Ohio State in the championship struggle: Illinois is 6-1, Ohio State 5-2.

While Illinois is battling the Hoosiers, other afternoon engagements send Ohio State to Michigan and Northwestern to Wisconsin. At night Minnesota is at Michigan State and Purdue at Iowa.

TIED AT 43

Minnesota is 5-3 in the conference, while Indiana, Michigan and Iowa are 4-3.

The Illinois-Indiana game shapes up as another high-scoring affair. When they met earlier at Champaign, the Illini won 104-101. Illinois tops the Big Ten in team scoring with a 90.1 average and has three players among the leading scorers — Bill Smith, with a 19.7 point average, Dave Downey, 17.1, and Bob Starnes, 14.9.

Indiana, second highest scoring team with an 88.3 average, is led by Jimmy Ray, No. 2 in the individual race with 29.1.

Ohio State's Gary Bradds is the top scorer with a 31.0 average and should have quite a duel with Michigan's sophomore, Bill Buntin. Buntin is fifth with 24.4 and is No. 1 in rebounding with 11.3 in 7 games.

Two Redlegs in Fold

CINCINNATI (AP) — Catcher Hank Foiles and pitcher Bob Heffner have signed 1963 contracts, the Cincinnati Reds announced today.

Foiles was the Reds' second string catcher last year, batting .275.

Heffner, a 24-year-old right hander, had a 12-10 record last season with York in the Eastern League, with a 2.68 earned run average.

Campbell Answers Powers

NHL Prexy Replies

MONTREAL (AP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League fired back today at referee Eddie Powers, who resigned charging game officials received insufficient support from Campbell.

"I have given the fullest possible support to Eddie Powers in this and all other cases," Campbell said. He said $200 was the standard fine for coaches who made remarks judged detrimental to the game, adding he couldn't be expected to "evaluate the exact language and color in each offending statement."

Powers, an NHL referee for seven years and considered one of the best in the league, resigned Thursday, terming Campbell's $200 fine of Montreal coach Toe Blake "inadequate if one compares this with others that have been levied against players, executives and officials for far less offenses."

EXPENSIVE COMMENT

Blake was fined for saying after a Toronto-Montreal game here two weeks ago the officials had done their job "as if they had bet on the game's result."

The Boston Bruins, making a late rush to escape the National Hockey League cellar, have pulled to within two points of the fifth-place New York Rangers.

And, as so often happens, it's a New York castoff who's helping the Bruins close in.

Dean Prentice, acquired by Boston in a trade with New York last week, broke a 1-1 tie with 1 minute, 28 seconds left in the game Thursday night and brought the Bruins a 2-1 victory over Montreal in the only game played.

The victory stretched Boston's unbeaten string to six, including three ties.

BREAK TIE

Prentice got his 16th goal of the season and his third in four games as a Bruin when he flipped the puck into a far corner over the fallen Jacques Plante, the Montreal goalie who had left his feet to save against center Bob Leiter.

Jerry Toppazzini gave Boston a 2-1 lead early in the second period, but the Canadiens matched it when Bobby Rousseau scored on a penalty shot early in the third period.

Plante was called on to make only 15 saves in the Montreal nets, while Boston's Ed Johnston was called on for 40 saves.

Pistons Will Observe Oakland County Night

It will be Oakland County Night at Convention Arena Saturday night when the Detroit Pistons will play host to the Cincinnati Royals.

County residents will be admitted to the National Basketball Association game for $1 and the coupon from the Press sports pages if they arrive at the Pistons box office before 7:45 p.m. Saturday.

Coupon bearers are entitled to reserved seats.

Tipoff time will be 8:30 p.m. as the Dick McGuire-coached Detroit continues its drive for the final playoff spot in the NBA's Western Division.

All-pro performers Bailey Howell and Don Ohl spearhead the Pistons' attack. Ohl's running mate at guard is former University of Detroit star Dave Busschere.

The Royals have generally been "outsins" for Detroit since it moved to the Motor City. The two would meet frequently in the first round of the NBA playoffs when both were in the same division with the Pistons holding the upper hand consistently.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Alvin Dark, a four-time winner, and Albee Pearson carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the 72-hole Baseball Players Golf Tournament.

Local 594 also rallied to grab a third quarter lead against Michigan Bell, but the runnerup team bounced back to hold the union quarter for a two-point victory. Bud Hayward led the telephone team with 15 points, including five in the last period 94 margin the winners posted.

Sammy Cole's 23 were not enough for the losers who maintain a half game lead in the circuit.

Bob Smith's 27 markers led Tim's to its upset win and Dick Henselgraves added 16. Drayton is now a game and a half out of first place in the B loop.

Allen Holds Lead After 1st Round

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Bill Allen of Fern Park, Fla., averaged almost 223 per game Thursday, taking the first day lead in the $25,000 Oklahoma City Professional Bowling Tournament with a 24-game total of 2,674.

Allen, who has only two years' experience on the pro tour, led Ed Bourdase of Fresno, Calif., by 92 pins. Bourdase eased into second place with a 2,582 total, just one pin better than Bud Hodgson of Los Angeles.

Another pair of six-game blocks was scheduled for the 96 professionals in the tournament today. The top 16 bowlers after today's sessions will compete in Saturday's finals.

The leaders:
 Bill Allen, Fern Park, Fla. 2,674
 Ed Bourdase, Fresno, Calif. 2,582
 Bud Hodgson, Los Angeles 2,581
 Glen Allison, St. Louis 2,563

Margie Lines Rolls 264

Margie Leines attracted applause last week in the Howe's Jet Ladies League when she bowled a 264 actual game and 576 series.

Her game is one of the highest by a local woman this year and the league members showed they recognized the fact with a standing ovation.

Also at Howe's, the Clarkston Women's League last week had a 514 series by Elaine Sharrock and a 200-512 performance by Evelyn Kelley. Good female figures were noted in the Pioneer League at 300 Bowl. Peggy Bryan scored with a 232-558 performance, Betty Emery had 212 and Lila Hicks 208.

MEN'S ACTION

On the men's side of the docket at the same establishment, Del Selvala had the high game for the Tuesday House League with 241. Irv Gray rolled 225-624 and George Boyer was good for 232-623 marks.

The 300 Bowl's Twilight loop reported Harold Hadden with 214-247-626 and Bill Vernagus with 213-222.

The Sports Center Trophy's team at Westside Lanes is still going strong in the Housewives Bowling League. Last week four of the women rolled better than 500. Violet Doyle showed the way with 522, Marjorie Hopp and Carol Arnold had 530's and Mary Johnson 504 in a 2,780 high team game.

The big $100 jackpot in Westside's Scotch Doubles was won by Carol and Al Manganello. Dale Ryan and Phil Felice split $180 between them in the Saturday afternoon Break the Bank competition.

Another high actual women's game was recorded at Lakewood Lanes last Friday when Maxine Bollinger had 247-572 in the Stars & Stripes Mixed League.

Lakewood's Ivy League had a 246-213-638 performance by Lee Marino while Gary Thompson was hot for a 211-202-658 display. Grover Breeding rolled a 268 for the Faistaff team as there were 24 games in the 200 bracket.

The Grand Trunk Mixed League at Lakewood last Sunday had a 256-634 by Marvin Hubbard and a 210 by Joanne Hubbard. Gran Arnold scored 228-258-654 and Patricia Blaylock rolled 507.

PRESIDENTIAL AID
 League president Ola Lee registered a 233-545 in the Hilltop Rebels loop when two teammates were missing from the Avon Beauty lineup to help take three of four points from Pontiac Window Cleaning last week.

The 11th Frame

Local March of Dimes officials have confirmed the fact that the state "Dimes" bowling tournament finals will be March 2 at Battle Creek's Cereal Bowl.

Some confusion among the six local finalists was evident when they received their prizes Wednesday for the one-two-three finishes in the northern Oakland County finals last weekend at Montclair Bowling Centre.

Frank Ferguson, Ron Richards and Lewis Ruelle were the top three male qualifiers and Shirley Pointer, Bonnie Watson and Janice Cowan claimed the women's prizes.

At Battle Creek the six will compete for the grand prize-vacation trips to Nassau in the Bahamas.

Mrs. Pointer will also journey to Milwaukee, Wis., the weekend before for the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America National Women's Team Championships.

She will be the only local resident on the Huron Bowl team that is entered in the Squad B Bracket at the seventh annual competition.

CLASSIC BOWLING

Joe Foster has assumed the lead in the Huron Bowl Classic Singles although runnerup Mike Samardzija Jr. has one extra mark to make up his 12.12 Peter-son point difference.

In the Huron Bowl Classic last week, Foster's 662 series was only third best, falling behind Bud Marohn's 694 and Gene Shell's 667. High games in the a g u e were bowled by Bob Smith (275), Ray Keith (268) and Skin Keith (266).

The Wednesday Night A League at Huron Bowl reported eight 600 series last week. George Budwitt had 202-216-235-653 although Dom Mazza's 256 was the high individual game.

The Westside Classic had a new individual high series set Monday when Bob Murphy bowled 306, 234, 245 for 745. His performance overshadowed 14 series of 600 or better and the efforts of Dale Cook Construction Company to increase its first place margin.

Airway Lanes remained atop the Traveling Classic League by beating Wonderland Lanes, 12-6. Ed Gibbs rolled 230-214 for six points.

Another loop match saw Howe's Lanes upset Westside Lanes, 8-6. Single 300 Bowl & Lounge had to postpone its meeting with Cooley Lanes.

Joe Foster's 211 average and 50 points won pace the individual efforts.

Cranes 6 to Skate on Home Ice Today

Cranbrook's Cranes will attempt to close their regular season play in the International High School Hockey League with a victory this afternoon over visiting Ann Arbor.

The 4 p.m. game means little in the final league standings but it will be Cranbrook's last start before next week's playoff matches with Riverside.

The latter team clinched first place in the loop's first division by pinning a 3-1 loss on the Cranes Wednesday. Dave Schultz was the only Cranbrook player to tally a goal.

The Cranes and Riverside finished as their division's top two clubs and will oppose each other in a best-of-three series to determine which one will meet its counterpart survivor from the second division for the league championship.

In a non-league game earlier this week, Cranbrook defeated Birmingham Varsity Shop, 3-2.

Official Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute Report:

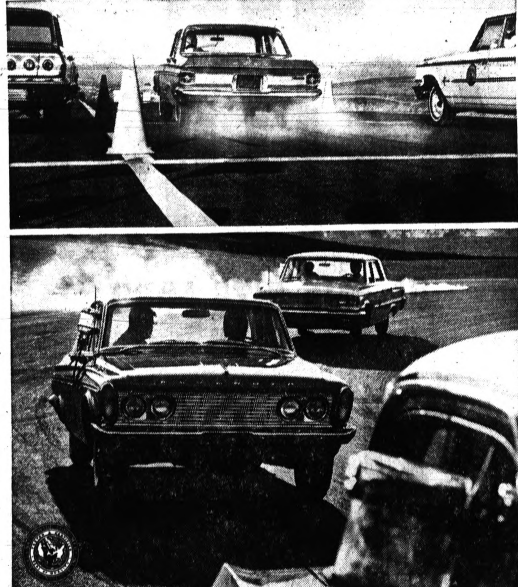

PLYMOUTH WINS PERFORMANCE TEST. PLYMOUTH WINS GAS ECONOMY TEST.

It happened in the second big meeting of Ford Galaxie '500', Chevrolet Impala and Plymouth Fury at Riverside, Cal.—in a "Showdown" Plymouth asked for. The cars were all V-8s, comparably equipped. And Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute was there to conduct the competition and see to it that its strict rules were followed. When it was over, Plymouth had victories in almost every performance test, plus victory in the all-important economy run. Plymouth for '63 also has the only 5-year/50,000-mile warranty* in the tough Plymouth-Ford-Chevrolet league. See your dealer. Plymouth's on the move.

Captains Invade Rochester

Kettering in Key Game

Kettering will be trying to keep its Tri-County League basketball championship hopes alive tonight at Rochester.

An upset by the Falcons would assure Lapeer a share of the title. The Panthers play a non-league game at Davison. Romeo, on the verge of elimination from the race, hosts sagging L'Anse Creuse in the other league game.

Eaglets Record
11th Straight
Victory, 55-32

Orchard Lake St. Mary blitzed St. Stanislaus 55-32 last night to hand Fr. John Rakoczy a record.

It was the 11th straight win for the Eaglets, the longest under Fr. Rakoczy's coaching. OLSM has a 12-2 overall record.

The Eaglets blanked St. Stan 14-0 in the first period and ran up a 17-0 margin before the opposition scored. St. Mary defeated the Detroit school, 23-34, in an earlier meeting.

John Stolicnik led the latest triumph with 16 points. Larry Janiszewski scored 11.

ter or Romeo to win the championship. Kettering can pull to within a game of Lapeer at Rochester's expense.

The Captains have turned in some very good performances this season but in other contests, they have been just the reverse.

Rochester has won two straight and defeated Kettering in an earlier engagement.

Romeo has three losses and trails Lapeer by 2½ games. The Bulldogs have three league games remaining as compared with two for the Panthers.

Romeo's lost scoring punch has been found in recent games and this shouldn't set too well with L'Anse Creuse which has been stumbling badly in its last few games.

Lake Orion had a rocky time on the road against Fitzgerald and the Dragons may find the road to Madison just as rough. Troy is a heavy favorite over Avondale.

Oxford Eyes 2nd Place in South Central LoopEmmanuel Christian Ends Layoff at Byron

Emmanuel Christian's basketball team will end a two-week layoff tonight at Byron.

The Lancers lost to Byron in an earlier meeting and have a 3-9 mark for the season. Ralph Wingate will be trying to up his 20.9 average in the Oakland County scoring race.

A tie for second place in the South Central League will be Oxford's goal tonight when the Wildcats play at home against winless Millington.

The Wildcats will need an Imlay City victory over North Branch if the loftier standing is to be achieved. This contest will be at North Branch, always a trouble spot for the league-leading Spartans.

Unfortunately for Oxford and the other two teams in the league, an Imlay City victory would give the Spartans the championship.

Oxford holds one victory this season over Millington which hasn't won in 27 straight outings. The Wildcats have won only twice overall, but the competition has been much stiffer than faced by Millington.

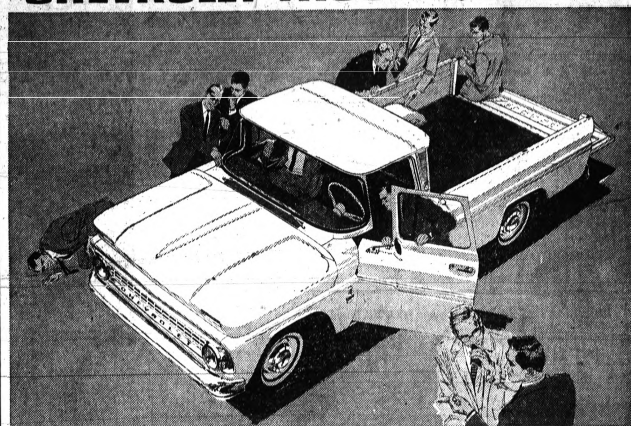

BATTLE FOR 2ND

The battle for second place in the Southern Thumb continues tonight with Brown City expected to be alone in second place once the firing stops.

Brown City is tied with Memphis which has the unhappy task of invading champion Capac's court. Meanwhile, winless Almost is traveling to Brown City.

Anchor Bay, tied for third, goes to Dryden, loser of its last seven, and New Haven, also in the third place deadlock, hosts Armada.

CHEVROLET TRUCK QUALITY

You can see the difference wherever you look

If you believe various makes of trucks are pretty much alike, you aren't doing justice to your pocket-book. There are differences.

A Chevrolet truck welcomes comparison. Look at the little things on it—latches, hinges, stitching in the upholstery. Notice how strong the tailgate is, the rubber encased chains that keep it from sagging.

The body floor is made of select wood to eliminate the rust problem and give you better footing. The lower side panels are double-walled; you might dent the inside but it won't show through.

Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

If you are going to need a new truck this year, you should look at the quality Chevrolet has to offer. May we bring over a new '63 so you can examine it?

Top Scorers Sidelined; Wingate Back in First

Two of the county's top five cage scorers have been sidelined.

Bob Reader of Waterford (second) and Craig Bell, Northville scoring area (fourth), are. The top point man from Waterford injured his wrist a week ago against Berkley and doesn't expect to see action until tournament time, two weeks off.

Bell also has been relegated to a spectator's role, because of low grades and will be unable to finish the season with his Mustang teammates.

Musing Wingate of Emmanuel Christian has recaptured his position atop the score column with a 20.9 average.

Paul Jagels of Brother Rice is third at 19.7 and Pontiac North's big gun, Gary Hayward, is tied with Bell in fourth. Both have 18.2 marks.

AREA RACE
Chuck Ingram of Port Huron remains undisputed leader in the area race with 23.3 points over 11 games. Lynn DeGrow, North Branch, is second at 22.7 and is followed by Dwight Lee from New Haven with a 21.9 record.

Ferree's Putter Warm in Hot Temperatures

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP).—Jim Ferree of Crystal River, Fla., shot a 2-under-par 70 Thursday despite stiff winds and 90-degree heat and took the first round lead in the Maracaibo Open Golf Tournament.

Ferree, who lost the Maracaibo tournament in a playoff last year, had four birdies in a 34-36 round that gave him a one-stroke lead over Charlie Sifford of Los Angeles. Bobby Brue of Rialto, Calif. and Tommy Wulff of New Orleans. The trio tied with 71s.

'White Bucks' Aim for Par

Archery Big on Golf Course

By DICK PONTON

If Robin Hood were alive today he would probably be shooting about three under par.

His 20th century counterparts, the modern archers, may not be dependent on their bow and arrows for survival as Robin was, but like the men of other sports, bowling or golfing, he takes his sport quite seriously.

He doesn't have to worry about his golf clubs rattling as he sneaks out the back door for his secret rendezvous on a snow covered golf course. A quiver full of arrows isn't that noisy.

Some may think the archer is crazy going to a golf course in the middle of winter.

It's really not.

LOCAL CLUB ACTIVE

About 150 local hunters who belong to the White Buck Archery Association will defend their eagerness to get out and enjoy their sport in zero degree weather.

The sport is archery golf. It appeals to a larger percentage of the outdoorsmen each year.

The similarity of golf and archery — golf is that both use the tee, the green, the fairway and the clubhouse. The only difference is the archers use bows and arrows while the golfers stick to their clubs and balls.

Archery golf takes place in the winter time when the golf courses are deserted.

Whether it's a twosome of a foursome they play on an actual and handicap basis.

LADIES COMPETE

No special honors or advantages go to the ladies but this does not discourage the feminine lot.

Beverly Nicholson is an example. Her husband is president of the White Bucks and she is secretary.

They enjoy the sport together and Harry, an electrician, goes all out for the activity. "I gave up bowling so I could shoot," adds Harry, and I manage to participate the year round."

"In the spring it's carp shooting, the summer the White Bucks have their own field archery range by Pontiac Lake which gets a weekly workout by some 50 members and their families. Bucks schedule a golf shoot once a month. Its from the time snow flies and the golfers start dust. During the winter the Whiteing off their bowling balls.

For Successful School Life

Precocious Children Need Firm Guidance

By LESLIE J. NASON, E.D.D. teacher told us not to push him in it.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our 7-year-old son has been reading since two years of age and has a very large vocabulary. He is self-taught and loves reading and memorizing. He thought kindergarten was silly, would not join in games of skipping, jump rope, etc. He loved puzzles and numbers but did not like drawing and painting which he could not do very well.

In first grade he was excellent on numbers. He did several demonstrations for teachers and club groups, but hated writing. The

This year he is in a different school and in a first-second grade combination which he resents, as children hide him by saying he is a first grader.

The teacher says she can not put him in another class until he can show her what she knows he is capable of doing.

His written assignments are never finished because of poor coordination; his marks are down in math not because he doesn't know the answers, but because of having to write the problems. So it ends up with her keeping him from 15 to 30 minutes each day after the class is dismissed.

Please help us if you can.

Mrs. C.S., Sacramento, Calif.

Answer: Unless your son develops the skills of writing for his school work and the coordination necessary to play the games of his grade level, he will be unsuccessful and unhappy throughout his school life. This often happens to superior children who are left to develop in their own way.

Someone must take time and patiently, but firmly, show him how to improve his handwriting skills. A good discussion of this will be found in my book "You Can Get Better Grades."

He will develop coordination for play if some adult, or perhaps another child, helps him get the necessary practice in throwing, catching and batting a ball, climbing jungle gyms or jumping rope.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our children (fifth and sixth graders) have come to dislike homework. Their school's policy from the earliest grades is to give extra home-work assignments on weekends.

to pupils who have misbehaved during the week. And when the class is unruly they all get an extra assignment.

This seems very unfair to our children. What is your opinion?

G.A., San Jose, Calif.

Answer: School work should not be associated with punishment. When a history teacher assigns a theme or written exercise to punish students for misbehaving, he is making the work of the English teacher very difficult.

I suggest that you discuss this with your principal or counselor, in hopes that the offending teachers can be influenced without bringing still more punishment on your children.

Dr. Nason will welcome your questions addressed to him in care of this newspaper. Those of most general interest will be answered in his column.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

One of the best defensive plays of the recent annual St. Paul Winter Carnival tournament was made by James Dolan.

He opened the king of diamonds against South's three no-trump contract and continued the suit. South won the third lead and ran off four clubs and Dolan had to make two discards.

JACOBY cards. His first was the deuce of hearts, his second the deuce of spades.

South, one of Minnesota's top players, went into a huddle. Jim still held three diamonds. His other card was surely a heart. Could it be the king? Possibly, but not probably. If not, South had a pinch play. He led his queen of hearts expecting that East would win with the king.

lead to dummy's ten of hearts or queen of spades. Unfortunately for South, Jim produced the king of hearts and made the rest of the tricks with his remaining diamonds to set the hand two.

At other tables, the West player would keep the king of hearts guarded and throw away a diamond. After that, South would simply lead a diamond and throw West in the lead. West could cash his last diamonds and then have to lead up to the ace-queen of hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION

West and North pass over your two heart bids and East bids two spades. What do you do?

City JA Fund Drive
90 Per Cent to Goal

The Pontiac area 1963 Junior Achievement Fund Drive has reached 90 per cent of its goal with the remainder of the increase would pay for new services and beeping up existing programs.

The board of education this year becomes an independent unit under state law. Its budget previously was part of the city's.

Also new is the July 1-June 30 fiscal year instead of a calendar year fiscal period. The new budget includes figures previously approved for the last six months of the 1963 budget.

Budgets Presented to Board

The Oakland County Board of Education yesterday gave tentative approval to a record $370,832 general fund budget for 1963-64. It also got a first look at a proposed special education budget of $1,643,887.

Board members approved a motion to present the general fund budget to a committee of 30 school board members — one from each school district in the county — at a Feb. 28 meeting.

The school board members may change the total amount of the budget. It calls for tax revenue of about $315,000 at a levy of .14 mill.

The special education budget provides for 28 new special education rooms for handicapped children in county schools. It includes an increase from $677,000 to $705,000 for instruction and operation in existing special education rooms.

This budget includes $433,187 for administration of the special education program, a $23,400 increase over 1962-63.

Some $30,000 was added to the general fund budget since its preliminary introduction two weeks ago. About $20,000 is for salary, staff and expenses of a new research director.

Some $127,000 higher than this year's general fund budget and about $100,000 more than the year before, the new budget includes salaries for 11 other additional persons.

About $32,000 of the increase will pay for services previously provided by the county. The remainder of the increase would pay for new services and beeping up existing programs.

Circuit Judge Hits Conduct of 2 Attorneys at Trial

Two Pontiac attorneys were criticized in Oakland County Circuit Court by a visiting circuit judge yesterday following the conviction of their two clients for armed robbery.

Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane directed his wrath at "unarranted attacks on the integrity" of the county's circuit bench, the County Prosecutor's Office and police departments investigating the case.

The two defendants were found guilty in the Sept. 5 holdup of Royal Oak gas station chain owner J. J. Levy. The pair was Joseph Welch, 38, of Hazel Park, and Joseph Lconar, 35, of Lincoln Park.

Judge Kane came from Port Huron to preside at the 14-day trial last month after Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziern dis-qualified himself. Ziern had declared a mistrial at the pair's first trial in December.

Attorneys Anthony Renne and Leonard Peres had moved for a mistrial on the ground that Levy contributed to one of Judge Ziern's past election campaigns.

At the second trial, Judge Kane denied a motion to dismiss the case because Levy also had contributed to a campaign of County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

"During this trial there has been every attempt made to cast reflections concerning the integrity of men of honor and men of whom I would be proud to have serve me in a public capacity," Judge Kane said.

Judge Kane will sentence Lconar and Welch following a pre-sentence investigation by the probation department.

Lconar and Welch and two others were accused of taking Levy at gun point from his home to his main station in Royal Oak and forcing him to open a safe. Levy owns the Oakland County Gas & Oil Co. and its 17 stations.

Charges of kidnapping and safe burglary against Lconar and Welch were dismissed by Judge Kane earlier.

Woman Killed
in Rochester Road Accident

Mrs. Sheila Katz, 24, was killed last night in a two-car crash on Rochester Road. Two blocks from her home at 3607 Rochester Road, Royal Oak.

Maurice Katz, the dead woman's husband, who was driving the car was treated for injuries at Beaumont Hospital and released.

John Butcher, 18, of Royal Oak, driver of the other car, and Richard Jones, 15, also of Royal Oak, a passenger, are both listed in poor condition at the hospital.

The accident occurred at 9:20 p. m. when Katz' northbound auto, was in the process of making a left turn from Rochester Road. The Katz car and the southbound car driven by Butcher collided.

Romney Outlines Plan for Economic Expansion

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney outlined a program for Michigan's economic expansion today which he said tackles the fundamentals of job — creating without eye-catching gimmicks and empty slogans.

Romney made his recommendations in a written message to the legislature. The message also formed the prepared text of a speech to be delivered before a Michigan AFL-CIO legislative conference at Lansing.

"I don't expect to 'wow' them," said Romney of the talk before the union group. "There is no razzle-dazzle in this message. I'm just talking about basic things. It is just like football — you need the basic things such as blocking and tackling."

Romney said he was not restricted at all by the union group on the subject of his talk.

"I know they are interested in jobs," Romney said. "I assume they invited me because they are interested and that has been the tradition in the past."

"A ponderous and unglamorous

REPEATS STATEMENT

Romney repeated his former statement that Michigan's number one economic need is jobs, and added that the major role of the government is to make sure that "our economic citizens are not handicapped by public policies and actions."

Government, he said, should not be a stumbling block to compete in the open market place so that investor and producer enjoy satisfactory return.

THIS IN TURN, ROMNEY SAID, makes possible satisfactory wage and financial benefits to workers and satisfactory service to consumers.

"If the employer cannot compete," he said, "it must not be because government, through policy and action, handicaps his ability to compete."

Romney said immediate steps that should be taken to capitalize on the job creation potential involve legislation in three areas.

— Creation of a new department of economic expansion, with an executive director responsible directly to the governor and charged with the planning, direction and implementation of a job creation program.

— Encouragement of creation of new business development corporations and encouragement to Michigan's financial institutions to provide additional sources of credit through these corporations.

PROPOSALS CONSIDERED

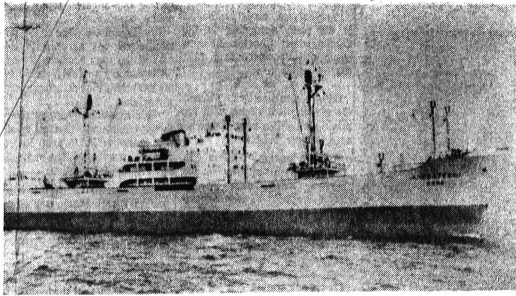

Romney declared:

"All sorts of proposals have been considered — various forms of subsidy, an elaborate world's fair exhibit, a state magazine, a floating exposition on the Great Lakes, a fully-staffed Washington office, traveling ambassadors to tour Europe and the rest of the world and many more ideas. All have elements of merit."

THE GOVERNOR SAID, HOWEVER, that the fundamentals of Michigan's job problems must be tackled first.

"We must correct our weaknesses in blocking and tackling and line play before we can shake loose for a lot of touchdown runs," he said.

Hijacked Freighter Anzoategui

Venezuela Hunts Ship

Fidel Offers Asylum to Pirates

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Fidel Castro's regime offered asylum today to Communist hijackers of the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui as Venezuelan destroyers and jet bombers hunted the fugitive vessel across the Caribbean.

The 3,127-ton freighter was believed heading for the Cuban port of Santiago, on the island's south-east coast.

Three Venezuelan destroyers were reported on the track of the captive ship. But if its position was known, it was kept secret by Venezuelan authorities.

reported sighting the Anzoategui in about the same position.

This would have placed the freighter about 450 miles south-east of Santiago, which is 40 miles from the big U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Some observers believed the hijackers had not decided whether to try for the Cuban port or for Mexico.

The freighter has a top speed of 15 knots, considerably less than the pursuing destroyers. But it had a considerable start on the pursuers.

President Romulo Betancourt ordered an all-out effort to intercept the hijackers, identified as nine members of the Armed Forces for National Liberation, a Communist organization with links to Fidel Castro's regime. Betancourt called on friendly nations in the area to help.

Asian Flu Drawing Bead on Michigan Communities

County Counsel Is Appointed to Probate Bench

Barnard Will Succeed Moore Who's to Take Holland's Place

NORMAN R. BARNARD

Oakland County Corporation Counsel Norman R. Barnard was named today by Gov. George Romney to fill Judge Arthur E. Moore's unexpired term as county Probate Judge.

Barnard also will take the oath as probate judge in the swearing-in ceremony at 3:30 p.m. today in Judge Holland's courtroom.

Judge Moore was to be sworn in today as a Circuit Judge to succeed Judge H. Russell Holland, who retires today after 27 years on the county's Circuit Court bench.

Barnard's appointment to the $23,500-a-year judiciary post will be effective until the November 1964 general election.

Barnard, 49, of 5945 Livernois Road, Troy, has been the county's corporation counsel and clerk of committees for the County Board of Supervisors since November 1958.

THREE CONSIDERED

He was one of three recommended to Romney for the post by the county's Republican executive committee.

The others were County Prosecutor George F. Taylor and Royal Oak attorney James S. Thorburn, president of the Oakland County Bar Association.

Intensify Drive for GOP Post

By JIM DYGERT

Campaigning by two Oakland County Republicans for the post of GOP state chairman reached a feverish pitch today as the party's state convention was about to begin in Grand Rapids.

Arthur G. Elliott Jr. of Bloomfield Hills and John A. (Jack) Gibbs of Royal Oak will take their battle to the floor of the convention tomorrow unless Gov. George Romney steps in to prevent it.

Some 300 county Republicans were leaving today for Grand Rapids still uncertain which of the two will get the majority of their 11 delegate votes in a showdown.

The results in the county delegate caucus tonight are expected to wield a powerful influence among the rest of the 1,533 counties (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

French Police Report Planned Assassination

Unconfirmed Reports Say Some Generals Among Suspects

Harold Wilson Holds News Conference

PARIS (AP) — Six high-ranking army officers and a woman were arrested early today and accused of plotting to kill President Charles de Gaulle.

It was the fourth assassination plot reported against the president in 17 months.

Police reports said the officers planned to kill the 72-year-old chief of state with a rifle fired with a telescopic sight when he visited a military school this morning.

Some unconfirmed reports said one or more generals were among those arrested and that one officer detained was on the official reception committee for the president's visit. De Gaulle visited the school on schedule.

A French woman who taught English at the school also was arrested in the series of night raids that rounded up the alleged ring leaders, police reports said.

The Interior Ministry refused to issue any detailed information, but details began leaking out from unofficial sources as the investigation went into high gear.

These sources said a rifle with a telescopic sight was seized during the raids.

Laborite Would Reject Polaris

LONDON (AP) — Harold Wilson the youngest Labor party leader in British history and possibly the next prime minister, wants Britain to get rid of its nuclear arms and abandon the Polaris missile agreement with the United States.

In a television interview following his election to the party leadership Thursday night, Wilson said nuclear arms should be confined to the United States and the Soviet Union.

As the party leader Wilson will become prime minister if Labor wins the general election which Prime Minister Harold Macmillan must hold by October 1964. Recent opinion polls have given the Laborites a clear edge over Macmillan's conservatives.

Wilson, 46, a leftist intellectual and Labor's foreign affairs expert, won the party leadership over George Brown, the more conservative deputy party leader.

A second challenger, James Callaghan, was eliminated in the first ballot last week.

NASSAU, NO!

Wilson served notice immediately that he favors negotiations for an orderly withdrawal from the Nassau agreement Macmillan and President Kennedy made to supply Polaris missiles for British submarines.

"As long as there are nuclear submarines in the world they should be held, as far as the West is concerned, by the United States and by the Soviet Union," Wilson said.

He also said that he would like to see the U.S. Polaris submarine base at Holy Loch, and other such bases, taken out of the present American-British framework and put under the wing of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Adult Recreation Fees Hiked

Program Loses City Subsidy

Adult recreation programs formerly subsidized by the city are going on a self-supporting basis.

City officials today explained fee hikes as measures "which may be only temporary" and will be subject to further study and review.

The changes were necessitated by a cutback in the city's recreation budget adopted by the City Commission last month.

The cutback was made by commissioners in an attempt to avoid too large an increase in the tax rate this year.

Some $45,000 was cut from the proposed parks and recreation department budget this year — slicing about 15 cents off the proposed tax rate.

The recreation budget alone was cut $30,000 — equal to an estimated 10-cent reduction in the proposed tax rate.

"The budget will be thoroughly reviewed after the board of tax review sets the city's total assessed valuation in April," said Mayor Robert A. Landry.

COULD BE ALTERED

"If the tax base is higher than expected and we have more money to work with, the recreation budget could possibly be altered upward," he said.

City Manager Robert A. Stierer said most of the changes were being made in adult programs "because they can absorb cost increases more easily than children."

The policy change will not affect special interest courses currently in progress. Registration fees, however, will be as much as eight times higher for future courses.

FOR EXAMPLE, the registration fee for a course that meets one night a week for eight weeks will be $8. It used to be $1.

This involves such programs and courses as swimming, dancing, oil painting, sculpturing, cake decorating, flower arranging, sewing, gymnasium and fencing.

Since the city no longer be subsidizing these programs, all participants will pay the same fee.

Soviets Reject 'Hot Line' Link to Kennedy

Red Delegate Delivers N-Ban Pact Ultimatum

From Our News Wires
GENEVA—The Soviet Union today turned down President Kennedy's plan to guard against accidental war which included a "hot line" direct telephone link between the White House and the Kremlin.
At the same time, chief Soviet delegate Vassili V. Kuznetsov gave the 17-nation disarmament conference a take-it-or-leave-it ultimatum for a nuclear test ban or risk getting no treaty at all.
Kuznetsov said a treaty really is within easy reach and accused the Western powers of stalling.
He left the impression with delegates to the 17-nation disarmament conference that Russia expects the West to accept the Soviet offer of a maximum of 2 or 3 on-site inspections a year.
In view of the Western powers this is inadequate to check suspicious earth tremors in the Soviet Union.
Kuznetsov described the Soviet offer as a major concession, and added:
"The matter now rests with the United States."
Kuznetsov said the Kennedy plan would just make espionage easy.
The proposal to guard against the start of a war by accident was emphasized in a message the President sent to the conference Tuesday when it reopened after an eight-week recess.
The Kennedy proposal would set up special observation teams, establish instant White House-to-Kremlin communication and carry through other measures designed to prevent war by "accident, miscalculation or failure of communication."
Kuznetsov coupled his take-it-or-leave-it test ban with another call for the conference to adapt his declaration opposing foreign nuclear forces—a declaration designed to strip the United States of its overseas nuclear might.
Kuznetsov focused on the United States' growing fleet of nuclear-powered submarines carrying rocket-firing Polaris missiles.
He said their presence in the Mediterranean "disturbs the balance of power between the United States and Russia."

Elliott has concentrated his efforts lining up the support of some 140 party leaders throughout the state. He is considered the favorite because of his close relationship with Romney.
The 46-year-old former county GOP chairman was the governor's campaign manager.
If Romney indicated a preference after conferring today with some 70 party leaders—including supporters of both candidates—it would end the danger of the GOP's facing the same explosive situation that split the Democratic party over their state chairmanship Feb. 2.
A Romney endorsement would clinch the election for either candidate, and his opponent would probably withdraw.

Dems Seek Spots on Waterford Ticket

Democrats will contend for nominations to two major offices in Monday's primary in Waterford Township.
Elmer Fangboner, 3327 Meind St., Drayton Plains, and Lewis Ruelle, 3156 Farm Road, are seeking the township clerk nomination.
A write-in candidate also has announced his candidacy.
A field of six candidates including incumbent John S. Coleman, 100 Crescent Drive, is vying for the four party nominations for township board trustee.
The others are Charles Evans, 370 Riviera St.; Donald Herr, 3779 Siget St.; Drayton Plains; Mrs. Juanita Luehmann, 3611 Percy King Drive; Kenneth (Gene) Preston, 6441 Crest St.; and John Verhey, 4434 Cheeseman St., Drayton Plains.
Republican candidates involved in primary contests were introduced in yesterday's Press.
Fangboner, 55, has lived in the township 36 years. A retired Pontiac fireman, he organized the township fire department and now serves as fire chief.
Following graduation from Pontiac High School, he attended Olivet College and Michigan State University.
He served six years on the Waterford Township Board of Education.
Ruelle, 43, was a township board trustee from 1959-61. He has lived in the township nearly all his life.
An employee of AC Spark Plug Co. in Flint, he finished the 11th grade at Clarkson High School. A Navy veteran, he formerly served on the township zoning commission and on the recreation board.
Coleman, 33, was appointed to fill a vacancy on the township board in 1957 and was the top vote getter in the 1959 board election.
A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, he is now a government and history teacher at Kettering High School. He is an Army veteran.
Evans, 42, a township resident for 22 years, is a graduate of Romulus High School. He is employed by General Motors Truck and Coach in the service parts division.
He is a member of the Waterford Democratic Club and the Greater Waterford Community Council.
Herr, 42, has been a township resident 20 years and has operated a service station in Drayton Plains for 17 years.
A graduate of Pontiac High School, he is making his first bid for public office.
Mrs. Luehmann, 47, has been a resident of the township six years.
A graduate of high school in West Virginia, she serves as a volunteer librarian at the Schoolcraft School two days a week.
Preston, 30, is an instrumental music teacher at Waterford Township High School. A University of Michigan graduate, he has lived and taught in the school district for the past eight years.
He is currently president of the Waterford Education Association.
Verhey, 36, is a former township board trustee, having filled a vacancy for a year and a half. He has been a township resident all his life.
He is a graduate of Pontiac High School and is employed by Detroit Edison Co. as a meter installer and inspector.
James McCullough, 53, of 2450 Airport Road, has announced that he will be a sticker candidate for township clerk.
A self-employed construction contractor, he is married with one child.
McCullough, who completed the 11th grade, has been a resident of the township for 10 years.

Questions of Financing Main Discussion Topic

BIRMINGHAM — The question of finances emerged as the major problem last night at a joint meeting held to discuss eventual adoption of Birmingham's central business district development plan.
Mayor Florence H. Willett said the city could not receive federal aid to put the plan into effect.
Carrying out projects mapped in the plan, according to City Commissioner Charles Renfrew, would cost anywhere from $850,000 to $2 million.
City commissioners attended the meeting last night, with representatives from nine other civic organizations and boards.
City Planner William R. Brownfield, commenting on the meeting today, said he believed the joint session accomplished two major goals.
"One is that it should prove to the City Commission that there are a lot of people besides the merchants who are interested in development of the central business district," Brownfield said.
FINANCE PROBLEM
The city planner also mentioned that the meeting should have brought out the fact of the financial problem involved in implementation of the CBD plan. "The merchants can't finance themselves," Brownfield said.
Mayor pro tem William H. Burgett said the need for adequate parking and the necessity of a peripheral traffic route stood out as major considerations in reports by various representatives last night.
If the plan goes through, Burgett said, it must be done with a bond issue or an overall financing regarding the peripheral route.
He said the parking district can handle its phase of the plan under the present financial base of the parking system.
Birmingham Board of Education President Mrs. Kathryn Loomis said the school district could not allow removal of Baldwin Elementary School and Hill Administration Building to make way for additional parking.
In the CBD plan, it was suggested that the two school district buildings be replaced by public parking.
Mrs. Loomis said the school district could not agree with this part of the plan because it would be necessary to find schools for the 480 pupils now attending Baldwin school.
"This meeting gives expression to the community that we do desire some action," said Robert Thom, spokesman for the citizens' Action Committee.
"We fear what's going to happen to Birmingham. Our committee sees symptoms of decay, especially in the downtown area," said Thom.
Birmingham merchants paid more than $15,000 to have the CBD plan drawn up in 1961 by professional planners with the aid of the city administration.
Other Birmingham groups represented at the joint meeting were the Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Baldwin Public Library Board, Board of Realtors, the local Council of Churches, City Planning Board and the Community House Board.
Arthur P. Furlong, Service for Arthur D. Furlong, 90, of 2260 E. Hammond Lake Drive, Bloomfield Township, will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at All Saints Episcopal Church. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.
Mr. Furlong died yesterday after a 14-month illness. He was retired manager of the former Pontiac Light Co., predecessor of Consumers Power Co.
His body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, Pontiac.
Surviving are a son, Dr. Harold A. Furlong of Bloomfield Township; a daughter, Mrs. Arthur C. Schurberg of Florida; two grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

vent the disease which is plentiful of rest and quiet for those suffering from its effects of headaches, sore throats, aches and nausea.
A widespread outbreak of influenza in West Germany raised fears of epidemics there.
Some West German hotels were turned into makeshift hospitals to handle the overflow of flu patients.
Doctors in the industrial state of Westphalia reported a shortage of 47,000 hospital beds.
In the Westphalian city of Dortmund, flu patients were lying on hospital hall floors and in waiting rooms due to the bed shortage.
U.S. health officials credited large-scale immunization for preventing an even greater epidemic of the respiratory ailment.
But they said it would not be enough to get a vaccination now—it takes at least two weeks before protective antibodies are developed.
The verified cases in Michigan were found at the University of Michigan among several students who had returned to Ann Arbor from holidays in the East.
Lambert said Gordon Eadie, Wayne County health officer, reported growing absenteeism in the Detroit area, also suspected to be because of the flu.
Wayne County cases have not yet been confirmed by department laboratory tests, he said, as this takes several days.
High absenteeism from a flu-like ailment also was reported at Lansing, particularly among department stores.

Economic Downturn ... or Tax Cut—JFK

three years, a net tax reduction of $10.2 billion.
Besides renewing and strengthening plans for action on the tax package, Kennedy made these major points:
The United States is doing more than the Europeans to defend Europe and intends to maintain its present combat strength there.
However, troops will be withdrawn if they wear out their welcome—though Kennedy sees no sign of that.
NO REPRISALS
He definitely plans no economic or political reprisals against President Charles de Gaulle of France who shook the Western alliance by questioning British entry into the European Common Market and by spurring U.S. proposals for a multination nuclear force in Europe.
In remarks directed both at his Republican critics at home—specifically Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York—and friendly nations abroad, Kennedy said: "It is a mistake to allow us to assume that the United States is wrong, and that by being disagreeable to the United States, it is always possible to compel the United States to succumb."
He said "our primary mission for the hemisphere this winter" is to work with Latin-American nations to combat Communist subversion, sabotage and political infiltration directed not only from Cuba but from northeastern Brazil and elsewhere.
In making his new plug for a tax cut, Kennedy argued that inaction by Congress would mean "restricted economic growth, higher unemployment" and a "higher-than-forecast deficit, already estimated at $11 billion for the fiscal year that begins July 1."
He described his tax package as "our plan to prevent a recession this year and the years to come."

'68 Games Site Drive On

DETROIT (UPI) — An Olympic task force, announced by Gov. George Romney, meets in Detroit today with a March 18 deadline.
Its mission is to "devise in a hurry a means of financing a $20-million stadium in the Motor City to house the 1968 Olympic Games."
Romney met in Lansing yesterday with members of the Detroit Olympic Committee (DOC), headed by Douglas Roby, delegate to the U.S. Olympic committee (USOC), and Walter A. Goodman, general manager of the State Fair Authority.
The crisis meeting was called after Detroit was tossed back into competition with Los Angeles as a site contender for the 1968 international sports festival.
Romney announced after the meeting that Donald F. Valley, board chairman of the National Bank of Detroit, will head the new five-man task force.
Detroit city controller Alfred Pelham and E. William Sedgman of Grand Rapids, a special Romney fiscal adviser, also were named members.
The two other members' names were withheld until they definitely agreed to take part.
"It was unanimously decided at the meeting that what we need is the best possible financial talent available in Michigan to develop a specific and adequate plan for financing the building of an Olympic stadium in Detroit," Romney told newsmen.
"We took a look at a number of alternate plans for financing the stadium," Romney said.
One of these, said the governor, was the raising of the state's pari-mutuel betting receipts. A bill has been drafted for introduction in the legislature to hike the state's cut from 13 to 15 per cent. Romney declined comment on the other financing methods discussed.
The stadium would be built at the fairgrounds.
Romney said the task force would report its findings to the DOC in time for its scheduled appearance before the USOC in New York, March 18-19.
Roby said the USOC must have a definite site to submit to the international Olympic body by April 1.

Circuit Court's Holland
Has Served Area Well

A familiar figure will be missing from the Oakland County Court-house next week. JUDGE H. RUSSEL HOLLAND, the Southern gentleman who has so completely served the County's Circuit Court for the last 27 years, has put away his gavel.

HOLLAND

Judge Holland has had the intense admiration of everyone with whom he came in contact. With his soft drawing voice he exudes competence, not only with those with whom he worked closely, but with the thousands who had occasion to meet him.

For some 36 years he has been a citizen of Pontiac, and we can honestly say that "he was one of the best." The Judge, as he will always be known, is a forthright individual, and his entire life has been spent working for and serving the community where he resides.

A significant part of his life has been rendering decisions that had considerable bearing on others. It has been apparent for years that Judge Holland is understanding and exceedingly fair in reaching his court verdicts.

The general public may not realize that at times the job of a jurist is a jonesome one. He alone is responsible for passing judgment on other humans.

In this endeavor Judge HOLLAND stands as a symbol of complete fairness. It would seem a fitting tribute to say that his record should stand as a goal for others who follow in his footsteps.

Tragic Auto Death Tolls
Lost in Air Crash Drama

A jetliner falls into a swamp in Florida. Forty-three people die. The Nation is shocked.

Some people with airline reservations cancel them. Others who had been thinking about flying dismiss such thoughts. Still others reaffirm the vow that "you'll never get me up in one of those things."

A car twists itself around a utility pole. Two people die. An elderly man steps in front of a truck. His life ends beneath its wheels.

The scenes are copied across the Country. Over 110 people die. The Nation is heavily shocked.

What makes the impact of a plane crash fatal to 43 so much greater than that of traffic accidents fatal to 112?

That latter figure was the daily average of traffic deaths in the United States in 1962. The toll for 365 days was 41,000.

Airline crashes killed 138 over that same span. That's an average of 3 per day. There were three life-ending crashes.

Perhaps a major reason for the reactions to plane crashes is the fact that so many people die in one instant.

There were 43 persons riding in the red, white, blue and silver Northwest Orient Airlines Boeing 720B as it climbed through 17,000 feet over the Everglades Tuesday. Moments later, they were in the swamp. All were dead.

When death makes this big a collection so quickly, it's bound to get unusual notice.

Another fact involved in virtually every air mishap is mystery. How did it happen? Why did it happen? Can it happen again? Sometimes these answers aren't known for years. Sometimes they're never known.

A plane crash often brings cries for greater air safety. In many cases, a crash has led to just that.

The same can rarely be said for our highways. Last year's 41,000 toll was a record high.

As long as man continues to defy the law of gravity by taking off from earth, he's bound to come down the wrong way occasionally. When he does, there will be concern over why.

If some of this reaction can be applied to our national disaster on the highways, that 41,000 should begin to shrink.

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND
Lifting his lifting tenor voice to sing the praises of the SPESBQA — I was afraid of that — okay, hold your breath: THE SOCIETY FOR THE PRESERVATION AND ENCOURAGEMENT (intermission) OF BARBER SHOP QUARTET SINGING IN AMERICA, INC. — the Pontiac chapter of which holds its annual Holiday of Harmony at Pontiac Northern High, Saturday evening, when six quartets and a chorus will be presented.

PASCHER

A charter member of the 20-year-old local group, who has held every office in it, he pointed out that it is a non-profit activity, that the funds that accrue being used for charitable work.

For the upcoming production, talent to be imported will travel 5,000 miles and be paid $1,500. Continuing with some Society economics — oddly reminiscent of Washington's — my informant, who incidentally, won the Fancy Beard contest in the Pontiac Centennial, said that figure breaks down expense-wise to $1.50 per seat. Programs and staging account for another 55 cents.

Since the tickets are $2, the economist observed wryly that you can't make any money that way!

He has from the outset been responsible for designing and stage scenery for the annual singfests and, for scenic effects, has specialized in the use of "black light."

The most numerous request-number from private groups where Barbershopbers are singing is "Down by the Old Mill Stream" which, your musically-uninitiated scribe was surprised to learn is one of the hardest to sing... because of its unusually wide range.

And by way of a stunner, among the local Barber Shop singers, there is not one barber!

Continuing the musical theme, the guiding spirits of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra were more than pleased by the capacity turnout for the last concert.

Making a sizeable contribution toward this happy outcome was the Webster School PTA, which organized a parent-children Family Night Out and attended in a body.

The Inside Story?

David Lawrence Says:

U.N. Owes SOMETHING to U.S.

WASHINGTON — The United Nations has reached a turning point in its history. Sentiment in the United States for withdrawal from the international organization has just been given strong new impetus.

For the American people will be asked through Congress to decide whether taxpayers' money should be channeled into Cuba through the U.N. to help Castro maintain his inhumane regime.

The point is made by President Kennedy that none of the money to be spent in Cuba will come directly from the funds furnished by the United States.

But funds can always be redistributed or reallocated to achieve a political objective.

The fact remains that the American government is paying a large share of the expenses of the U.N., and it is no secret that the United States is trying to help liberate the people of Cuba by putting the squeeze on the island's economy.

When the U.N. flagrantly ignores the policy of the United States, it brings up the broad question of whether financial aid by American taxpayers should be extended blindly and without any opportunity to keep the funds from being used to defeat the foreign policy of this country.

'NOT INTERFERING' U.N. officials argue that they are not interfering in the internal politics of Cuba. But, realistically, anything that bolsters the Cuban economy is an intervention.

The U.N. has been in deep financial trouble lately, and this country has helped out by paying for more than its share of the expenses of the organization.

Congress, however — and not the State Department or the White House — has the final say as to how the taxpayers' money should be loaned or given away.

The U.N. bond issue had a tough time getting through Congress last year, and there are renewed expressions of doubt about the foreign aid program in which the United States alone decides how to spend its money.

This will cause Congress at least to examine more carefully any legislation that would appropriate money over whose distribution this country has no control.

The argument that America, as a philanthropically minded nation, should help underdeveloped or backward countries will continue to make a certain appeal.

At a time, however, when the American people are being asked to incur a treasury deficit of more than $20 billion, it will doubtless cause to many members of Congress that this presents a paradox which cannot be easily explained to the voters.

The whole amount to be spent in Cuba by the U.N. for the new project of agricultural development is, comparatively small — about $1.2 million.

It isn't, however, the sum at located but the principle which bothers the American government at this time. The State Department tried to persuade the U.N. officials that it would be an unwise move, but the protest was of no avail.

Furthermore, if this project goes through, it will cause a hesitation in Congress to approve all other appropriations for the benefit of the United Nations.

PRO-RED BOOKLET Coincidentally with the announcement of the pro-Castro action by the director of the U.N. Special Fund, a pro-Communist booklet issued by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization has come into the news.

This publication extols the alleged social and political equality existing inside the Soviet Union and asserts that Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia "voluntarily joined the Soviet Union" in 1940.

Everybody knows that early in World War II the Soviet army by military force seized those three countries, which were then incorporated into the Soviet Union, where they have remained ever since.

108-Year-Old's Confident She'll Live to Pass 109

By BOB CONSIDINE
NEW YORK—People... places... things.

Dr. Charles Mayo recently met an ancient lady who claimed it was her 108th birthday. The famed surgeon was skeptical but, as ever, the soul of cordiality.

"Well, congratulations," he said. "I hope I'll be here for your hundred and ninth birthday."

"You will," the old gal cackled contentedly. "Sure," she said. "Very few people die between 108 and 109. Look it up."

It takes a crash such as Northwest Orient's Boeing 720 in the Everglades to make a lot of us realize the great safety record the airlines have achieved since the inauguration of the jets.

We who travel a great deal by air take speed and regularity of service for granted, dismissing as our just due the enormous amount of work that goes into the running of an airline.

Coming out of Omaha recently on a scheduled nonstop United Air Lines Douglas DC8 fanjet, the pilot came on the pipe as we climbed through the overcast. His voice was matter-of-fact.

"My instrument panel indicates a fire in engine No. 1," he said. "It could very well be the fault of the instrument itself, but as a safety measure I have shut down the engine and we are returning to Omaha airport to check it."

Only a few years ago an announcement of that sort would have struck terror in a majority of the passengers. But the only comment heard on the jet after this announcement came from a woman traveler.

"Oh, darn!" she said, inquisitively. "I'll bet this causes me to miss my connection in New York."

(P.S.—It didn't. She was picked up by a United Caravelle and sped to Chicago in less than an hour. Then, to make sure she'd make her connection, United put her on an American Airlines 707

Voice of the People:
Teaching Methods Cause
Deficiencies in Reading

Reading Reform is a worthy cause and vital. Industry today is short of employes able to understand normal communications. The trouble began when educational leaders put time-tested alphabetical reading instruction on the shelf and substituted meaningless memorization of the shape of whole words. This was even worse than the picture-writing of primitive peoples. There is not a single word whose shape has the slightest connection with its meaning.

The absurd memorization method now taught in most of our elementary schools is responsible for the incredibly poor reading comprehension of our high school and college students.

Soviet children 8 and 9 years old are taught alphabetically and are several years ahead of ours. Their average vocabulary is more than twice our own children. Here are some cold facts: 35 per cent of our children are seriously retarded in reading; 40 per cent are actually deficient.

With active committees in many states, 180 key educators, reading authorities, writers, etc., backing our program we hope to save the situation.

First Spanish Crisis Exploded Into War 65 Years Ago Today

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In 1898, Congressmen were demanding the ouster of Spain from Cuba in much the same way they now demand Russia be chased out. Then — 65 years ago today — the situation exploded into war with the sinking of the battleship Maine.

At 9:40 p.m., massive explosions shattered the Maine, sending her to the bottom of Havana Harbor. Exactly what caused the explosions still is a mystery. But many newspapers and politicians quickly placed the blame on Spain. Public opinion was inflamed.

On April 19, Congress passed a resolution declaring Cuba independent and directing President McKinley to use force to compel Spain's withdrawal from the island. Six days later war was declared.

Spain lost the war and was finished as a world power. The United States emerged for the first time as a major power.

CEDERS CHANGED
The crisis had been building for months over measures taken by Spain to suppress Cuban rebels.

Strangely, if the Maine had been permitted to carry out its original orders it would have been in New Orleans celebrating Mardi Gras instead of at the bottom of Havana Harbor Feb. 17. The Maine had been a big attraction at the 1897 Mardi Gras, and orders were issued Jan. 22 for a return trip.

Two days later they were changed and the Maine went to Cuba.

Historians say the Maine, commissioned only three years earlier, had been standing by in the Key West area since Dec. 15 for possible duty in Cuba.

So it was no surprise to her skipper, Capt. Charles D. Sigbee, when he got orders to head for Cuba. He was received cordially by Spanish authorities and only minor tensions developed while he was there.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS SPECIAL REPORT

The captain had just finished a letter to his wife when the explosion came. Flames shot from the forward part of the vessel. "It looked to me as if the whole inside of the ship had blown up," said one eyewitness.

FATAL TO 260

The Maine had 370 men and 26 officers. Some of them were ashore. Those aboard not already fatally injured from the blast were saved with the help of boats from nearby Spanish vessels.

Some 252 men were killed in the blast and eight died later. Only 17 Navy men were killed during all the action of the Spanish-American war that followed.

Sigsbee notified Washington of the tragedy and urged, "Public opinion should be suspended until further report."

He asked his commanding officer for help but specified, "Don't send war vessels if others available."

In a code message a few days later, the captain said, "The Maine was probably destroyed by a mine. It may have been done by accident. I presume her berth was planted previous to her arrival, but perhaps long ago. I can only surmise this."

FINDING DIFFER
A naval court of inquiry confirmed his judgment, finding that results of a naval battle," he added, "even if it should be successful for us, for how and where the explosion came from outside the vessel. It did not attempt to fix blame for the explosion."

But a Spanish court of inquiry said the blast came from inside the Maine.

In 1911, after the hulk was raised, a second U.S. court of inquiry confirmed substantially the decision of the first.

If Spain wanted war, as many Americans concluded after the sinking of the Maine, obviously the man responsible for fighting any war didn't want it.

On Feb. 16 — the day after the sinking of the Maine — Rear Adm. Pascual Cervera, who commanded Spanish forces in the Caribbean, wrote the minister of marine it was a "feverish frenzy" to think he could blockade any U.S. port and that war against the United States would be at the start "a defensive or a disastrous one."

Frank Sinatra Jr. Impresses Everybody but Himself

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — There was a ripple of excitement as the slender young man with hunched shoulders and serious face walked through the MGM commissary. "That's Frank Sinatra Jr.," said the studio workers. Ordinarily a famous figure would scarcely turn a head in the studio lunch room. But this was a special event. After all, young Frank was making his dramatic debut on the lot where his father started his rise to movie fame. About the only person who wasn't impressed was Frank Sinatra Jr. "I'm just doing a part in a 'Sam Benedict' television show," he shrugged. "The fact that my name is Sinatra shouldn't make any difference." Of course it does, but the 19-year-old appears to bear his burden (if such it is) with ease and open-mindedness. He wants to make his own way in show business, but he knows he can find no better teacher than Sinatra Sr.

"BEEN AROUND" "I've been hanging around movie sets and recording studios since I can remember," recalled young Frank. "I recall once when I was watching my father on a record date where Nelson Riddle was the conductor. I must have been 9 at the time. Nelson said he couldn't go ahead until I got untangled from the cables. You recognize the similarities of father and son as the conversation progresses. At first glance, you say the kid is an imposter. Where's the resemblance? He has the same emaciated build, but the face seems entirely different.

But the mannerisms — that's something else. When young Frank starts expressing opinions, you see a lot of pop. Acceptance by his fellow workers is important to him. "The main thing I would like to do when I have an acting job," he said, "is to have the other people say that I was easy to work with. My mother taught me good manners. There is no excuse for rudeness or unprofessional behavior on a set." Frank is learning all the time. He works for his father's Reprise

Feels Poverty Can Be Licked by Economics

ANN ARBOR (AP)—One of the two major political parties will draft an "abolish-poverty" plank by 1968, predicts Adolph A. Berle, a Columbia University law professor.

The abolition is feasible, Berle said in the last of a series of lectures at the University of Michigan yesterday, and the problems would be less economic than cultural and educational.

"To arrange that every family in the United States should have an income of not less than $4,000 a year — to take an arbitrary figure — would be a feasible piece of economic engineering," he said, adding:

"It would mean rerouting about $30 billion of the gross national product of $75 billion," and this would not be too difficult.

"So far as the economic capacity — and for that matter, the current administrative ability — of the economic republic is concerned, the thing could be done," Berle said.

He later declined to say how it would be done. Studies are being conducted on the implementation of the plan, he added.

Tax Drive Beaten, but Still Hope

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House-directed drive to ease the way for President Kennedy's tax program has gone down to defeat, but Senate Democratic leaders claim to see a silver lining amid the dark clouds.

The cause for their professed optimism: pledges by the two top Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee not to bottle up the tax-cutting legislation.

Gloom was cast on Kennedy's program yesterday when the Senate's Democratic Steering Committee refused to expand the Finance Committee to make way for additional Democrats partial to the administration. Even Kennedy's leader in the Senate, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, voted against the White House.

The plan "was not in the best interest of the Democratic party," Mansfield said after the steering group, in secret session, voted by a reported 10-5 margin to keep finance at its present line-up of 11 Democrats and six Republicans.

The action was a victory for Finance Chairman a Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who claimed the White House was trying to pack his committee. Byrd opposes any tax cut that is not accompanied by balanced reduction in federal spending — a position contrary to Kennedy's.

And the conservative Virginian also is a leading opponent of the administration's plan to provide health care for the elderly under the Social Security system.

However, Democratic leaders are known to have received pledges from Byrd and from Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., that neither measure will be bottled up by the Finance Committee — and the chances are the leaders will rest their hopes on these pledges.

Administration backers say they will decide next week whether to renew on the Senate floor the fight to expand the committee. The indications are they would have little chance of success.

Captains Invade Rochester

Kettering in Key Game

Kettering will be trying to keep its Tri-County League basketball championship hopes alive tonight at Rochester.

An upset by the Falcons would assure Lapeer a share of the title. The Panthers play a non-league game at DeWitt. Romeo, on the verge of elimination from the race, hosts sagging L'Anse Creuse in the other league game.

Troy will be trying to stay close to Clawson, and possibly pass the Trojans, when it plays at home against last place Avondale in the Oakland A circuit.

Clawson will be trying to defend its half game edge on the Colts at Fitzgerald and Lake Orion travels to Madison. Oak Park is not scheduled.

Despite its loss to Kettering last week, Lapeer still remains a solid choice to pickup all the Tri-County marbles.

NEEDS ONE WIN

All the Panthers need is one victory and a loss by either Kettering or Romeo to win the championship.

Emmanuel Christian Ends Layoff at Byron

Emmanuel Christian's basketball team will end a two-week layoff tonight at Byron.

The Lancers lost to Byron in an earlier meeting and have a 3-9 mark for the season. Ralph Wingate will be trying to up his 20.9 average in the Oakland County scoring race.

Kettering or Romeo to win the championship. Kettering can pull to within a game of Lapeer at Rochester's expense.

The Captains have turned in some very good performances this season but in other contests, they have been just the reverse.

Rochester has won two straight and defeated Kettering in an earlier engagement.

Romeo has three losses and trails Lapeer by 2½ games. The Bulldogs have three league games remaining as compared with two for the Panthers.

Romeo's lost scoring punch has been found in recent games and this shouldn't set too well with L'Anse Creuse which has been stumbling badly in its last few games.

Lake Orion had a rocky time on the road against Fitzgerald and the Dragons may find the road to Madison just as rough. Troy is a heavy favorite over Avondale.

Oxford Eyes 2nd Place in South Central Loop

A tie for second place in the South Central League will be Oxford's goal tonight when the Wildcats play at home against winless Millington.

The Wildcats will need an Imlay City victory over North Branch if the loftier standing is to be achieved. This contest will be at North Branch, always a trouble spot for the league-leading Spartans.

Unfortunately for Oxford and the other two teams in the league, an Imlay City victory would give the Spartans the championship.

Oxford holds one victory this season over Millington which hasn't won 27 straight outings. The Wildcats have won only twice overall, but the competition has been much stiffer than faced by Millington.

BATTLE FOR 2ND

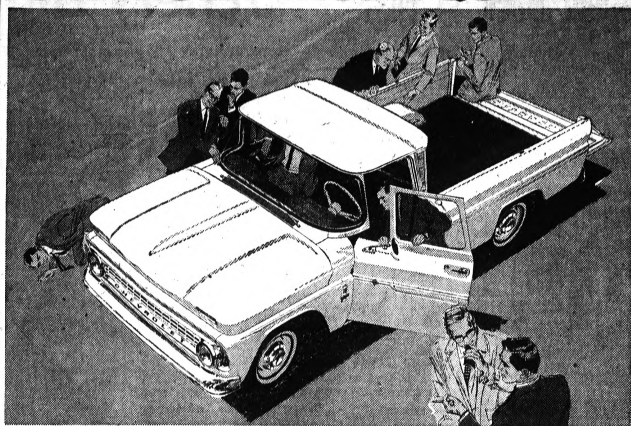

The battle for second place in the Southern Thumb continues tonight with Brown City expected to be alone in second place once the firing stops.

Brown City is tied with Memphis which has the unhappy task of invading champion Capoe's court. Meanwhile, winless Almont is traveling to Brown City.

Anchor Bay, tied for third, goes to Dryden, loser of its last seven, and New Haven, also in the third place deadlock, hosts Armada.

CHEVROLET TRUCK QUALITY

You can see the difference wherever you look

If you believe various makes of trucks are pretty much alike, you aren't doing justice to your pocket-book. There are differences.

A Chevrolet truck welcomes comparison. Look at the little things on it—latches, hinges, stitching in the upholstery. Notice how strong the tailgate is, the rubber encased chains that keep it from sagging.

The body floor is made of select wood to eliminate rust problem and give you better footing. The lower side panels are double-walled; you might dent the inside but it won't show through.

Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

If you are going to need a new truck this year, you should look at the quality Chevrolet has to offer. May we bring over a new '63 so you can examine it?
