Eastman Takes Over Straley's Police Duties

Chrysler Strike Shuts 7 Plants in Second Day

White Collar Workers Ignoring UAW Desire to Keep Production

DETROIT (AP)—Only one of Chrysler Corp.'s eight final assembly plants was operating today as a strike of 8,000 unionized office workers and engineers went into its second day.

The United Auto Workers, which represents both the strikers and Chrysler's approximately 70,000 production workers, had expressed hopes the strike would not force a shutdown of Chrysler's efforts to turn out 1959 models.

UAW leaders instructed strikers not to post picket lines around the auto plants at shift change time; unionists traditionally do not cross picket lines.

The UAW leadership had a knotty problem on its hands in trying to enforce its desire to keep Chrysler's auto assembly lines going, while at the same time giving full support to the striking office workers and engineers.

Chrysler said its work picture was changing almost hourly because of union walkouts and company shutdowns of some units because of parts shortages.

Company officials said the only Chrysler assembly plant operating as of mid-morning was at Newark, Del., where 2,000 workers turn out Plymouth and Dodge autos.

The situation in others was listed by Chrysler thus:

Plymouth assembly, Detroit—1,200 sent home when UAW truck drivers refused to cross picket lines.

Plymouth body plant, Detroit—1,500 sent home; same reason.

Dodge assembly, Detroit—3,000 workers. No production scheduled today because of the dispute. Some 300 workers were called in on special assignments.

Cited for Human Torch Coverage

Press Gets Photo Award

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—Three Michigan newspapers were cited today by the Associated Press Managing Editors' Assn., for outstanding news and photo coverage in 1958.

The awards, announced at the APME national convention here, went to the Bay City Times, The Pontiac Press and the Saginaw News.

The Times and the News were honored for both news and photo work on the Capital Airlines plane crash at Tri-City Airport Easter night.

The Press was honored for photo coverage of the Frank Kierdorf human torch story.

The Pontiac Press citation with a letter to John Fitzgerald, editor, read:

"For outstanding photo coverage of the Frank Kierdorf human torch story, including immediate availability to all wirephoto points, exclusive hospital shots of Kierdorf on the day he was identified, even within the Press' own competitive area."

Pontiac's photo work on the Kierdorf story was excellent, prompt and in volume although The Press, itself, chose not to use many of its own pictures because of the gruesome subject matter.

Christmas Club Payoffs in Mail Soon

Christmas bills won't be much of a chore for many Pontiac area persons who will be recipients of $1,040,059 in "Christmas Club" checks going into the mail beginning Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Club members back a year ago began depositing what they wished in such savings plans conducted by the Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Association, and the General Motors Truck & Coach Employes Federal Credit Union.

Community National Bank reports checks totaling $619,957 will be mailed Nov. 17 to 8,106 club members.

Pontiac State Bank will mail out the second largest amount of checks Saturday. These add up to $352,527 and go out to 4,415 persons.

★ ★ ★

Beginning Monday also, the 600 persons who joined the Christmas Club at Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Assn. will be lucky recipients of $52,321 in benefits.

In their second year of operating a Christmas Club plan, the GMC credit union says it will put into the mail Saturday checks adding up to $15,254. They will go to 249 participants in the 1958 saving plan.

Striking Distance Here for UF Goal

The tenth anniversary appeal of the Pontiac Area United Fund today eased to within striking distance of its goal, with reports of contributions totaling $401,143 from its three major campaign divisions.

Philip J. Monaghan, 1958 campaign chairman, expressed confidence the drive will go over the top, and announced that the victory luncheon will be held Tuesday, Nov. 25 at the Elks Temple for the men and women who have worked so hard on this year's drive.

Today's final-day report puts the drive within $99,857 of the $501,000 goal needed to maintain the fund's 55 vital community service agencies through 1959.

An additional $37,770 in pledges was turned in today by the 1,700 supervisors who are conducting the in-plant solicitations of employes in the Industrial Division.

★ ★ ★

This brings the division's total to $236,330.14, according to its chairman, Semon E. Knudsen.

The Commercial Division, headed this year by Judge Clark J. Adams and Berkeley Voss, registered $140,878.18 or 78.5 per cent of its $179,371 quota.

"We had hoped to be able to announce 100 per cent of quota this morning," stated Voss. "Although our job isn't quite completed we're not counting ourselves out. We will not be satisfied until the Commercial Division goes over the top."

4 DIVISIONS OVER TOP

Reports tabulated this morning at Fund headquarters indicated four of the Division's 11 groups have surpassed 86 per cent of their quotas.

They are: Finance, chairmanned by Al Holcomb, $21,772.60 or 89.1 per cent of quota; Retail No. 1, chairmanned by Larry Payne, $21,840.20 or 88.9 per cent of quota; Public Service, chairmanned by Dave Ewalt, $21,336.60 or 87.4 per cent of quota; and Board of Education, chairmanned by Dr. Philip Proud, $10,681 or 86.3 per cent of quota.

Adams and Voss expressed greatest concern over the Automotive and Construction groups which have managed to raise only 59 per cent and 52 per cent of their respective quotas.

★ ★ ★

"It looks like we'll have to count on some of the other nine groups to make up the deficit in order to put the Commercial Division over its quota," stated Judge Adams.

The Women's Division, which went over the top last week, now stands at 115.1 per cent of quota with collections totaling $23,935.68.

This total sets a new mark for the Fund's door-to-door solicitors in the Pontiac-Waterford area.

It surpasses the performance of any previous residential campaign in the nine year history of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

The national spotlight is now on Pontiac, since it was here that the United Fund principle of "Giving Once For All," was established in 1948. More than 1,100 communities across the nation have followed Pontiac's lead, and now conduct a United Fund campaign.

Cubans Release 31 of Captives

American Among Group Turned Over by Rebels to Red Cross

HAVANA (AP)—After reporting the release of 31 persons from captured airliners, the Cuban rebels held up today the return of army prisoners until the government explains an alleged violation of a rebel cease-fire.

The high command of rebel chief Fidel Castro announced Tuesday they handed over to the Red Cross 25 passengers, including an American, and 6 crewmen of two Cubana Airlines DC3s.

The planes were seized in flight Oct. 21 and Nov. 5. Eleven other passengers aboard one plane had been freed previously.

The rebels declared on Sunday a 30-hour cease-fire to turn the passengers and crewmen over to the Red Cross at a site in eastern Cuba. The cease-fire ended at 6 p.m. Tuesday night.

The 31 prisoners, including U. S. Navy Airman Robert M. Montgomery of Miami, arrived safely in Santiago.

The insurgents said the government showed bad faith when a navy plane flew low over the transfer site. They claimed the navy plane and pilot were captured but did not say how this was accomplished.

The rebels said they still have about 200 army prisoners they want to turn over to the Red Cross.

But Raul Castro, brother of Fidel, said in a broadcast none of them will be transferred until President Fulgencio Batista's government explains what the navy plane was doing there.

Fair, Brisk Weather Predicted for Area

Fair and cooler with a low of 33 is the prediction for the Pontiac area tonight. Winds will be southeasterly Thursday at 8-15 miles an hour.

Tomorrow will be fair with little change in temperature, with the expected high about 55. Showers, with little change in temperature, is the outlook for Friday. Rainfall will average about three-tenths inches, with showers again about Monday.

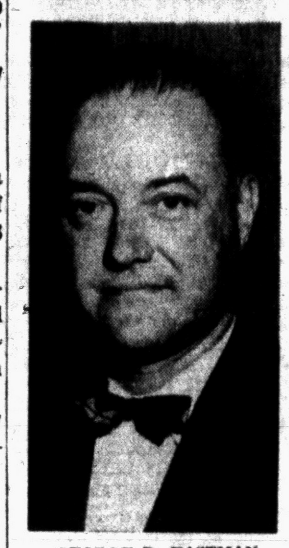

In downtown Pontiac the lowest recording preceding 8 a.m. was 34 degrees. The reading at 2 p.m. was 54.

Political Boss Dies in Boston

Dem Leader Curley, Last of Big City Rulers, Dead at 84

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — James Michael Curley, last of the big city political bosses, died today at City Hospital. He would have been 84 Nov. 20.

Curley was a Democratic leader for more than half a century, serving four terms as mayor of Boston, one term as governor of Massachusetts and four as a congressman.

Slowly failing health had marked Curley's last years, and he was long under treatment for diabetes.

Death came four hours after a team of seven doctors performed a 55-minute emergency operation in an attempt to clear a clotting of the artery which supplies the small bowel.

Curley had undergone surgery Nov. 4 for an intestinal blockage. He apparently was making satisfactory progress until Tuesday

Fluoridation Spreading

CHICAGO (AP)—Despite opposition, more and more municipal waterworks are fluoridating water supplies. By the end of 1958 some 1,650 towns and cities, with a population of more than 34,000,000, will be provided with fluoride-treated water. Eight years ago only 94 communities, with a population of 1,500,000, had it.

Chief Retains Rank but Loses Right to Control

Safety Head Assumes Supervision to Solve 'Urgent Problems'

By MAX E. SIMON

Pontiac Public Safety Director George D. Eastman announced today that he was taking "personal and direct command" of the city police force.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley was being placed "on special assignment" to Eastman's office, but Eastman did not disclose what the chief's new duties would be.

In another major change, Eastman shuffled other high officers around "to make most effective use of the present command personnel."

Although Straley will retain his rank, he will have "no command or supervisory responsibility other than that which would normally go to his position as police chief in an emergency condition," Eastman said.

Eastman said he was removing the controversial police chief from command because of the "urgency of the many problems" that face the department.

"To resolve them with reasonable dispatch, if is necessary that I deal directly with the responsible bureau and unit commanders," Eastman said.

"I have arrived at no decision about the future role the chief will play," Eastman said. "This will depend somewhat upon the extent to which he is willing to participate in my future plans."

'NO RAPPORT'

Eastman, who has held his post for just one month, noted that "there is no feeling of rapport between the chief and the bulk of the police personnel — including men of all ranks, working, supervisory and command.

"Such a lack of rapport precludes the possibility of the department doing a successful job," he said.

Eastman said he has found the police force to be one of "unusually low morale, lacking in esprit de corps."

He said that substantial changes in the level of morale have already resulted from such simple things as seeking the advice of the rank and file on the design of a new uniform, and in the growing willingness of the supervisory and command officers for working together toward solving departmental problems.

★ ★ ★

"I view my job here as being principally concerned with developing the latent talent that is available, and releasing the energy, skills and ambitions of the many competent persons in the department," Eastman said.

MEETING CALLED

He has called an open meeting for all police officers at 3 p.m. today in the City Commission chambers at City Hall, where he will speak on his policies and program for the department.

Among Straley's new duties as a staff officer, Eastman said, will be a study of the Public Administration Service report on

'Champagne Taste' Led to $290,000 Theft

Bank Teller Caught in Denver

DENVER (AP)—A Canadian bank teller with a yen for lavish living is going home to face charges of theft.

Police said Boyne L. Johnston, 25, confessed yesterday he stole $290,000 from the Imperial Bank of Canada at Ottawa. He signed a written statement.

Detectives said he told them:

"I had thought about it many times and decided I would do it in one big swipe—not a little bit at a time. I just wanted to know what it would be like to have that much money at one time. And I found out."

Johnston's spree lasted 17 days. He was arrested in a Denver night club Monday night.

The wine, women and song for which he yearned played prominent roles in his downfall.

A sip of champagne, Johnston said, bolstered his desire to take the money.

"I sipped it at a party a month ago," he explained. "I like the taste of champagne, and it led me to thinking about expensive cars and good clothes. I kept changing my mind, but on Friday night (Oct. 24) I decided to go through with it.

"The bank was open from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m., and then all the other employes left. I put all the deposit money in a big canvas bag, carried it to the basement of the bank and put it in a cardboard box. Then I put the box in my car, went back and locked the bank, picked up my wife at home and drove to Renfrew."

LEFT WIFE

He left his wife, Bernice, 23, at the Renfrew home of her parents, saying he was going hunting. Instead he returned to Ottawa and flew to Windsor.

He entered the United States at Detroit, then visited Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Twin Falls, Idaho and Cheyenne before landing in Denver, Nov. 3. Monday night he wound up at the Chez Paree night club here.

Ormonde Wynn, 27, a waitress at the club, recognized Johnston from a "wanted" poster offering a $10,000 reward for information leading to his arrest.

Benson Outlines Farm Problem

Cites Three Difficulties, Offers Six Solutions in Grand Rapids Talk

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Three major classes of problems facing agriculture and six possible solutions were outlined today by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson at Grand Rapids.

The material was in a speech prepared for delivery at the 92nd annual National Grange convention.

Some 3,000 members from 37 state granges are attending the nine-day convention in Grand Rapids.

Among major problems Benson listed as facing agriculture were: Marketing the biggest output by far of farm products in all our history; long-range difficulties arising out of the technological revolution in agriculture and problems arising out of heavy investment of capital and high costs of farming operation.

The secretary listed six points as "some of the things we need" to solve agriculture's problems. They are, he said: Sound price and acreage programs; effective measures to cut down surpluses and to aid in production adjustment; new and expanded markets at home and abroad; continued emphasis on lower-cost, higher-quality production; alternative crops and stronger, more aggressive farmer cooperatives.

Benson said American Agriculture is in transition, which he described as movement.

"Agriculture cannot properly move ahead," he declared, "wearing the shackles of outmoded programs . . . bearing on its back the burden of artificial pricing which destroys markets . . . handcuffed by unrealistic acreage allotments and marketing quotas."

Rainy in West, but Rest of U.S. Has Dry Shoes

By The Associated Press

Most of the nation's wet weather was confined to western sections of the country today. It was cool and dry from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast.

Heaviest rain was in western Washington, with more than one-half inch in a six-hour period.

Cold rain dampened much of Utah, where temperatures dropped into the 30s. Snow flurries flecked sections of southwestern Wyoming.

Only wet spot in the East was near the Canadian border in the Northeast section where light showers were reported. Temperatures were generally in the 20s and 30s from the Dakotas eastward into the northern Great Lakes region, and in the 30s extending southward across the plains into northern Kansas.

It was another cool night in most of the Southeast with readings in the 30s in South Carolina. However, mild weather continued in southern Florida and southern Texas, with temperatures of 70 degrees and higher. Warmer weather was forecast for chilly sections of the Southeast.

A sudden increase in wind from calm to about 20 m.p.h. at Elkins, W.Va., sent the mercury from 30 to 47 degrees in one hour with a rise of 10 degrees reported in five minutes.

'Junior Miss' Contest Deadline Extended Here

Deadline for applications in the 1958 statewide Junior Miss contest has been extended 30 days, to Dec. 27.

★ ★ ★

"So many inquiries about the contest have come in from organizations throughout the state that we felt it wise to give everyone more time," said W. B. Neal, a member of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the contest next year.

Contestants must be at least 16 years of age and no more than 17 on March 8, 1959, said Neal, the contest chairman. They must also be high school seniors who will not graduate prior to May 1, 1959.

★ ★ ★

The state finals will be staged in Pontiac Jan. 16 and the winner will go to the national finals in Mobile, Ala. March 4-7, said Neal. There will be a total $10,000 in scholarships in the national contest, including a $5,000 scholarship and the title "America's Junior Miss" to the top winner.

Eastman Takes On Police Chief's Duties

the department and recommendations on the report's findings.

The PAS, a Chicago firm, was hired by the City Commission last year to perform a study of the department on the heels of strife between Straley and the Pontiac Police Officers Association, to which a majority of the police officers belong.

★ ★ ★

Eastman, former police chief of Seattle and a national authority on police administration, was later hired by City Manager Walter K. Willman to improve efficiency in the department and raise morale.

Eastman told members of the department this morning that Straley, as a staff officer, would be acting under his instructions and representing him.

Eastman said that Chief Straley expressed a willingness to cooperate, when informed of the plan today. The chief was not available for comment.

NEW ASSIGNMENTS

Inspector Clark M. Wheaton has been named commander of the Detective Bureau.

The present head of the Detective Bureau, Capt. Oliver H. Lemeaux has been put in charge of the Patrol Division, "because of the need for an aggressive, older and experienced man to head this largest segment of the department," Eastman said.

Capt. Joseph Koren, head of the Traffic Division, will take over all administration units. Eastman noted that Koren "has relative youth and excellent training which would fit him for this long term assignment."

Lt. William K. Hanger has been placed in charge of the new planning, research and training program.

Eastman said this appointment was dictated because of Hanger's "youth, intelligence and objective approach to problems and loyalty to the service. Assigned to him are two of the most competent younger men, Sgt. Frederick J. Wirth and Patrolman Robert C. Gaines.

"The very significant production of this unit so far has been very gratifying to me," Eastman said.

Lt. Clayton A. Randolph of the Traffic Division will head that branch of the department.

Eastman said that to further assist him in selecting officers, a training program for all officers of command rank would soon be inaugurated. After a period of some time, a similar program will be inaugurated for supervisory officers, he said.

Eastman also placed the vice squad under his personal supervision, and said that he had tentatively selected Detective Richard G. Evans to head the squad.

The public safety director said the new vice squad head will have complete freedom to pick whom he wants on the squad, which will be reduced from seven men to four.

Asked for Accused Killer of Texas Hoodlum

Murder Charge Drop Studied

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty is studying a motion seeking to dismiss the second-degree murder charge against Demitrios B. Tsermengas, accused killer of Texas hoodlum George Kean in Commerce Township last December.

Pontiac attorney Clarence L. Smith claims the prosecution failed to show in the lower court examination of Tsermengas any premeditation or malice of forethought (grounds for first or second-degree murder charges) in the Kean killing.

Smith, Tsermengas' attorney, charges in his motion that West Bloomfield Justice Elmer C. Dieterle, in whose court Tsermengas was examined, erred in binding him over to Circuit Court on the second-degree charge.

Judge Doty has taken Smith's motion under advisement. No date has been set for a ruling.

Meanwhile, the prosecutor's office announced that one of two other companions of Tsermengas', wanted here for the killing, is being held in Texas to stand trial for armed robbery.

Jerome K. Barry Jr., assistant prosecutor assigned to the Kean case, said the governor of Texas, upon the request of the Texas Rangers, has withdrawn an extradition warrant which would have sent Thomas D. Smith back here to stand trial with Tsermengas.

Barry said an extradition hearing is scheduled later this month in the governor's office in Austin, Tex. on whether the third man, Lowell E. McComb, will be returned here.

Tsermengas is in the Oakland County Jail awaiting trial for what he called the "accidental" shooting of Kean in a cottage in Commerce Township. Barry said he might be tried during the December jury term.

Kean was allegedly killed by Tsermengas, 39, during a struggle resulting from attempts of the three to disarm him after Kean had threatened to kill them following a drinking spree.

Kean's body was found near Alpena in September where the three had buried it.

In Beck Tax Trial

Pile of Evidence Growing

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — The president of the Seattle-First National Bank was to take the stand today to continue identification of more than 3,000 items concerning the financial transactions of Dave Beck.

★ ★ ★

M. B. Blake, also comptroller for the bank, began testimony Tuesday as the income tax evasion trial of the ex-Teamsters president concluded its second day.

★ ★ ★

Two filing cabinets containing bank statements, checks and ledgers were brought into court. Government attorneys contend the items prove Beck's income tax payments did not increase in ratio to his wealth.

Federal attorneys introduced evidence to show that the former union president's net worth rose from $189,819 in 1949 to $810,727 in 1953.

The government charges Beck evaded $240,000 income taxes for the years 1950-1953.

Defense lawyers say they will base their case on the fact that Beck used money borrowed from nontaxable union funds to acquire much of his wealth. They said Beck invested the money and paid back the union from the proceeds of his investments.

Admitting Beck's handling of the funds was "sloppy," the defense contends he never cheated either the union or the government.

The portly Beck broke his usual silence and told newsmen the cost of lawyers and auditors for his trial was more than what the government said he owed in taxes.

★ ★ ★

He said the bill for his defense would run $250,000 and, that although he has paid more than $100,000 of the cost, he needs money. Solicitations to close friends have brought in nearly $35,000.

Space Problem Occupies U.N.

Russia Trying to Link Controls to Elimination of Foreign Bases

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations blasts off into outer space today with a debate on control of man's quest for the skies. Some East-West blasts loomed ahead.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin was expected to open debate before the 81-nation political committee with a call to link the space question with Russia's cold war demand for elimination of military bases on foreign soil.

The United States, which indicated it will not go into extensive debate until it hears Russia's full position, privately sought support for its own proposal. It wants to create a U.N. commission to study how outer space can be used solely for peace.

Chances of East-West agreement dimmed when Russia rejected an American attempt to obtain a joint approach on the space issue. A U.S. spokesman said the Soviets replied that they wanted to hear U.N. debate before commenting on possibilities of East-West cooperation.

The United States made clear in turn it would oppose Russia's demand to approve both a ban on use of space for military purposes and elimination of foreign military bases on foreign soil, particularly Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

Police identified him as John Fair, 29, of Detroit. They said the chase began when two policemen in a scout car attempted to stop stop him for speeding.

Returning Body of Avon Sailor

Harold K. Brown, 20, Killed in Auto Crash at Genoa, Italy

The body of an Avon Township sailor, Harold K. Brown, was being returned here today for burial following an auto accident that claimed his life in Genoa, Italy.

BROWN

The Navy said that Brown, 20, an electrician's mate 3.c., was struck by a car Friday while on liberty from his ship, the cruiser Des Moines.

Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Brown, 3030 Avalon Rd., was attached to the Sixth Fleet. Before joining the regular Navy in October 1955, he attended Avondale High School.

While in the Navy he was graduated from electrical and electronics schools at Great Lakes, Ill.

Hope Flares in Hunt for Lost State Fliers

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Reports of the sighting of flares in the Rocky Mountain foothills have given rise to new hopes in the search for two missing Michigan men.

★ ★ ★

A search has gone on since last Thursday when a private plane went down in a storm with Clarence T. Janik, 42, of Cadillac and Frederick E. Joyce of Grand Rapids.

Janik, vice president of the Kysor Heating Co. of Cadillac, and Joyce, company pilot, were flying from Vancouver to Calgary and failed to arrive at Kamloops for refueling.

Flares were reported Monday night in the Bear Lake area 50 miles north of Kamloops. The area already had been combed by a rescue party.

However, Royal Canadian Air Force sources said they have received no reports on new flare sightings. They said they had checked out several reports of flare sightings and found all were old.

Caril Expected to Take Stand

Starkweather's Girl to Reply to Charge of Aiding in Murder

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Caril Ann Fugate, 15, charged with aiding and abetting in murder, was expected to testify today in her own defense.

The prosecution's last "witness" was Caril's unsigned statement about her part in the slaying of 10 persons last January. County Attorney Elmer Scheele had read all but 15 pages of the 166-page statement before court adjourned Monday for the Veterans Day holiday.

Caril contended she was the innocent captive of her boy friend, Charles Starkweather, 19, accompanying him in the vain hope that she could save the lives of her family. She said he told her they were being held hostage and would be safe if she obeyed him.

Starkweather has admitted slaying 11 persons, one of them last December while alone, and 10 others last January while accompanied by Caril.

The state charges she helped Starkweather along his murderous course, and specifically accuses her of aiding in the murder of Robert Jensen, 17, last Jan. 27.

Starkweather has appealed his death sentence for the Jensen murder. Caril also is subject to the death penalty if found guilty.

7 Chrysler Plants Shut for 2nd Day

3,200 workers. Not enough showed up to permit final assembly. Several hundred worked on special jobs.

Imperial assembly, Detroit—800 workers. No crossed picket lines.

Dodge Truck, Detroit — 1,900 workers. None crossed picket lines.

Mound road engine plant, Detroit — 900 workers. No work scheduled because of parts shortages resulting from strike.

Plymouth assembly and body plants at Evansville, Ind. — 3,500 workers. No work scheduled because of parts shortages.

Los Angeles assembly plant — 2,000 workers. None scheduled because of parts shortages.

No new negotiations between the UAW and Chrysler were scheduled. Talks were suspended indefinitely after failure to reach a new contract.

The Day in Birmingham

Seeks U.S. Treasury OK to Cut Lot Assessments

BIRMINGHAM — Based on a tax ruling in Bismarck, N. D., the city of Birmingham will ask for a similar ruling to permit local businessmen to deduct parking lot assessments from their federal income tax.

City Attorney James Howlett has been asked to draft such a request to enable those involved to appeal for a refund prior to April 1959.

The Bismarck ruling was brought to the attention of the city commission by William C. Rowland of 2898 N. Adams Rd., tax advisor to several local businessmen who already have paid the assessments.

It was pointed out that appeals for a refund will be up to the individual with no city participation. Rowland said such an appeal would undoubtedly bring about a tax audit of a firm's books and that it would be necessary to show the business had benefited by the parking lot.

WANTED: Birmingham Police are seeking the owner of a woman's mink hat found on a city street Sunday. It may be claimed at the lost and found department in the Police Station.

More than a ton of homemade peanut brittle is on hand for the First Methodist Church bazaar opening tomorrow in the church social hall on W. Maple avenue, Birmingham.

According to Mrs. Philip Cartwright, general chairman, the holiday candy made by women of the church has become a Christmas tradition in the city.

The all-day sale also will include gift items, baked goods, holiday decorations, a special center for the young shoppers and a nursery for babies. Lunch will be served from 11:30 until 1 p.m. and dinner from 5:30 to 8 p.m.

Derby Junior High School PTA will hold a special observance for National Education Week at its 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow at the school.

Parents will meet with teachers and receive schedules showing their child's full-day activity. "Classes" will be dismissed at 10 p.m. for a social hour.

The annual Harvest Dinner of Embury Methodist Church on E. 14-Mile road will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the church. The general store will supply gifts and baked goods throughout the afternoon and evening. Tea will be served from 2 to 4:30 p.m. for shoppers.

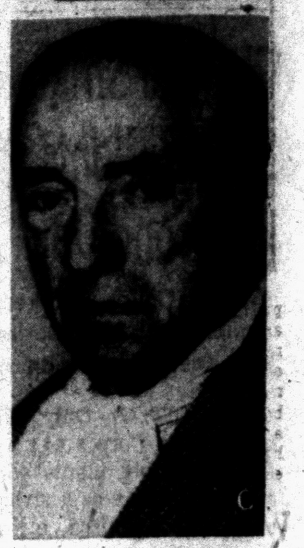

Peter Pearson

Service for Peter Pearson, 95, of 1026 Shipman Blvd., will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mr. Pearson died Tuesday at his home following a brief illness.

A native of Sweden, he was a retired brick mason.

Surviving are a son, Emel A. of Birmingham; two sisters, two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

JAMES M. CURLEY

Political Boss Curley Dies in Boston at 84

night when he suffered a fainting spell.

Earlier in the day he had walked in the hospital corridor and had posed for newspaper photographers.

After the weak spell, Mrs. Curley and Curley's two sons, the Rev. Francis X. Curley, of Holy Cross College, and George J. Curley of Boston, were summoned. Father Curley gave his father the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

Curley's long career was one of triumph and tragedy.

He once was high in the councils of his Democratic party—but he also served two terms in jail.

His triumphs included election as governor at the peak of his career in 1934. He served one term. He was mayor of Boston for four terms of four years each.

He claimed to have carried Massachusetts for Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 national election, and he stumped the country in the first election campaign of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932.

Curley contended the best selling novel, "The Last Hurrah" by Edwin O'Connor, was based on his career.

"The Last Hurrah" was made into a movie which had its premiere in Boston. Curley didn't attend.

Curley later published his autobiography, titled "I'd Do It Again."

His tragedies were mainly personal.

Curley's first wife, Mary, who bore him nine children, died in 1929.

Curley was deeply devoted to his family but he lived to mourn the deaths of seven of them. He never had a grandchild.

Curley's daughter, Mary, his official hostess when he was governor, died of a cerebral hemorrhage in February 1950.

Curley's son Leo, a lawyer, dropped dead the next day.

Besides the two surviving sons, Curley is survived by his second wife, Gertrude.

In recent years, Curley expressed a wish to live to be 125 "so I can bury my political enemies."

Curley first went to jail at the turn of the century for conspiracy in connection with taking Civil Service examinations for another man.

He served five months in 1947 in the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn., in connection with a mail fraud case.

Fisher Denies Plans to Get Quick Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Singer Eddie Fisher has no intention of filing for a Mexican divorce and still intends to let wife Debbie Reynolds file for a California decree, his attorney said today.

Reports circulated yesterday that Fisher would seek a quickie Mexican divorce to wed actress Elizabeth Taylor, third figure in Hollywood's most publicized triangle of the year. But spokesmen for both Fisher and Miss Taylor denied the two planned to marry.

★ ★ ★

Today, attorney Martin Gang repeated earlier statements regarding Fisher's plan to permit Debbie to file for a decree in this state.

"There has been absolutely no change in plans," he said.

The attorney said Fisher did not plan to file for a decree.

Asked when the divorce action would be filed, Gang said that would depend on completion of discussions now under way between counsel for Fisher and his wife.

Science Already at Work on Problem

Space Rescue Ships Will Become Vital

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Your space ship is off course and out of control.

In 16 hours, it will collide with an automatic weather station satellite circling the earth. Your own steering rockets won't work. But you know you are on a collision course.

What to do?

You are about ready to take off after a visit to the moon. But you haven't enough fuel.

★ ★ ★

Or an unlucky hit by a meteor has ripped away part of your space ship. Most of your food supply was lost. What to do?

Space rescue ships are the answer, responding to your SOS. Or racing out on their own when they detect that something must be wrong.

Space scientists already are considering how to set up mercy mission satellites and ships. And how to solve intricate problems of making a rendezvous in space.

Rescue satellites circling close to the earth could be one solution, says Norman V. Peterson of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Sunnyvale, Calif.

★ ★ ★

They could be big enough to send out emergency space repair trucks or mercy ambulances.

Or they could be designed so they could slow up or speed up, or swoosh up to a higher orbit to intercept and rescue people on a satellite or space ship in distress.

Petersen described the problem and proposed solutions today to a space symposium sponsored by the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine and arranged by Southwest Research Institute.

Space rescues would be far from simple.

A rescue satellite headquarters would need excellent methods of communications to hear an SOS or detect trouble, and mathematical computers to figure how to maneuver to the scene to overtake or reach a space vehicle in trouble.

★ ★ ★

Other rescue satellites might circle far above the earth to aid interplanetary travelers, Petersen said.

Some rescue ships might be controlled or launched from the ground.

★ ★ ★

Petersen also proposed a kind of satellite service station to go repair or retrieve damaged space stations, such as automatic weather watchers or astronomical observatories.

Accidents will undoubtedly occur in all phases of space operations, said Col. Paul Campbell of the School of Aviation Medicine.

In the vast sea of space, rescue operations will be harder than they were in the isolated continent of Antarctica before airplanes were flying in there with lots of other necessary support, he said.

★ ★ ★

Navigating rescue missions in space will call for almost a new science in itself, he added. Also tough is the problem of transferring people from a disabled ship to another in the vacuum of space.

★ ★ ★

You can't just abandon ship out in space, even in a fancy space suit, Col. Campbell cautioned. Radiation and freezing cold could do you in. And there would be the problem of finding you worse than finding a lone sailor floating in the Pacific Ocean.

★ ★ ★

Humans won't travel out there "until there is a reasonable chance of a safe journey and of safe recovery in case of accident," he declared.

Waterford PTAs Build Programs on Book Week

Emphasizing Book Week, Nov. 17 through 21, four Waterford Township Parent-Teacher Assns. have scheduled programs around the subject of books, for tomorrow night's meetings.

★ ★ ★

From 8 to 9 p.m. there will be an open house, combined with a membership drive at Drayton Plains School. A member will also present a short talk on "Waterford Township's Library Situation."

Drayton Plains sixth grade pupils attending John Pierce Junior High School will have an open house, under the jurisdiction of Monteith School, adjoining the junior high school property.

The room with the greatest percentage of parents present will win a room prize. Registration will be held from 7:30 to 8 p.m. for Drayton Plains School activities.

A film, "Preface to a Life," will be the subject for group discussion at 8 p.m. at the Pontiac Lake PTA meeting. Visiting teacher Jerome Weiss will be the leader answering questions raised by the group.

"Reading Program in Waterford Township Schools" is the subject Elementary Coordinator Mrs. Clare Hubbell will present at the Lambert School PTA meeting, which will get under way at 8 p.m.

Garden City Mayor Doesn't Plan to Quit

DETROIT (UPI) — Garden City Mayor James Tierney, fired on twice in two years in office, says he has no intention of quitting.

"We have some very rough and very dirty campaigning out here," he said. "But I didn't believe it would go this far."

Tierney, 52, was shot at Monday night when he parked his car after returning from City Hall. The bullet zipped over his head when he bent over to pick up some books he dropped.

"I think it was just some crackpot acting on his own," was the way he explained it. "I have no

VIENNA (AP) — Bulgarian courts have passed 31 death sentences in the past two years on Communist party and government officials who stole or embezzled state funds, according to the Warsaw newspaper Trybuna Ludu.

In the most recent trial a bank inspector was executed for accepting graft money amount to about $25,000, a copy of the paper received here said.

County Unit Holds Awards Banquet

8 Win Free 4-H Congress Trips

Eight Oakland County 4-H Club members are looking forward to their free trip to the National 4-H Congress being held in Chicago Nov. 28-30.

★ ★ ★

The winners, announced at the annual Oakland County 4-H Leaders Banquet at First Congregational Church in Pontiac, are:

Judy Cudnohufsky and Larry Middleton of Lake Orion; Sharon Brodie of Birmingham; Laura Guthrie of Pontiac; Sally Taylor of Ortonville; Larry Scramlin of Holly; Paul Norland of West Bloomfield Township, and Don Campbell of Milford.

State project winners Gloria Sanders of Rochester and Walter Cudnohufsky of Lake Orion will represent Michigan at the Chicago Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4, it was announced.

69 AWARDS PRESENTED

In all, 69 awards were presented to county 4-H members at the banquet. Twenty adults also were honored.

Grace Williamson of Pontiac, the 1958 County 4-H Fair Queen, presented Judy Cudnohufsky of Lake Orion, with the County Home Economics trophy which Miss Williamson won last year.

Eight 4-Hers were also recognized by the Cities Service Oil Co. as being in the top one per cent of 4-Hers in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Those who received gold keys were: Judy Crawford of Milford; Sharon Brodie of Birmingham; Gertrude Sandison of Rochester, Margaret Braid and Walter Cudnohufsky, both of Lake Orion; Kenneth Smith of South Lyon; Ralph Hoxie of West Bloomfield and Harold Owen of Holly.

Outstanding socially, physically, mentally and spiritually in the county were Walter Cudnohufsky of Lake Orion and Janet Long of Milford. They received the Danforth Foundation awards for this 4-H county recognition.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Long of Milford and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kipp of Pontiac were awarded certificates by the International Farm Youth Exchange for promotion of world peace because they were hosts this summer to two Nepal girls.

3 HONORARY MEMBERS

Three friends of 4-H were selected to receive honorary 4-H memberships for their interest in the county program.

They were: Hiland Thatcher, West Bloomfield Township supervisor; Charles Matthews of Detroit Edison Co.; and Mrs. Mary Ellen Williams of Consumer's Power Co.

Harry Kreger of the Wayne Oakland Bank and Melvin Lamphar of Leonard were awarded certificates for their outstanding contributions to Camp Kett, the proposed Michigan 4-H training center.

★ ★ ★

For over-all 4-Hers in the county in leadership, personality and character, Gertrude Sandison and Stuart Hutchins, both of Rochester, were honored by the Michigan Farmer magazine.

Leaders honored for five years of service were: Ronald Voorhels of Davisburg, Mrs. Leland Martin of Pontiac, Mrs. Emiel Bouckaert and Carlos Long, both of Milford.

Mrs. Earl VanLeuven of Davisburg, James Reid and Mrs. Ted Owens of Milford, Mrs. Donald Montney of Drayton Plains and Mrs. Stuart Braid of Lake Orion also received 10-year pins from the New York Central Railroad.

2nd Michigan Driver 'Caught' on Turnpike

BEREA, Ohio (UPI) — Another wrong-way Michigan driver on the Ohio Turnpike will be arraigned in court today.

Bruno A. Giacobbi, 36, Melvindale, Mich., faces a drunk driving charge. The unemployed man was arrested Monday by turnpike officers who said he was so drunk he could not stand and had to be carried from his car.

Giacobbi entered the turnpike at the Stony Ridge-Toledo Interchange. It is the same one used Friday night by John Hines Jr., of Detroit, who is charged with killing seven persons in a wrong way collision near Norwalk.

Patrolman E. D. Elliott nabbed Giacobbi on the wrong side after narrowly missing a head-on collision with him in the east-bound passing lane.

1,000 Workers Strike at Budd Plant in Gary

GARY, Ind. (UP) — A strike of about 1,000 production workers closed the Budd Co. auto body plant here yesterday.

The company said the strike was a wildcat. Officials of United Auto Workers Local 1122 said the strike resulted from a failure to agree on a new contract.

The plant was closed twice by similar strikes in September. Budd and the union have been negotiating for both local and national contracts.

Seeking Safe Driver

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (UP) — State police would like to talk to the driver of a tractor trailer who drove his vehicle over a single-lane bridge on state route 57. Witnesses said the bridge collapsed just as the driver reached the end — and he dod not stop.

Mark Twain once described the 21-mile long Bermuda island chain (365 islands) as "the biggest little country in the world."

Seeks One-Ton Space Capsule

National Space Group Presents Large Order to Missile Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has asked the missile industry to design a one-ton space capsule capable of orbiting the earth for as much as 28 hours.

NASA plans to launch the capsule from Cape Canaveral, Fla. in the nose of an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

★ ★ ★

It said in an anouncement that the winning design may resemble capsule concepts proposed for manned flight into space, but will not be a true space craft.

The agency presented its preliminary specifications to 38 missile and aviation manufacturers at a meeting at the Langley Research Center near Norfolk, Va. last Friday.

NASA asked the companies to submit bids by Dec. 4, and said it would award a contract for the long-term development of the space capsule after Jan. 1.

★ ★ ★

NASA told the manufacturers it wanted two complete orbits from the first of the vehicles, and 18 or more from later models. The satellites must attain an almost circular orbit rigidly fixed between the altitudes of 125 and 140 miles.

Initially the capsule will contain only instruments for measuring acceleration and deceleration, velocitities, temperatures and other data for relay back to earth by radio telemetry systems.

★ ★ ★

After several such launchings, capsules with monkeys or other animals will be sent aloft in a study of the problems of abrupt acceleration on takeoff, re-entry into the earth's atmosphere, and recovery once the vehicle has been returned to earth.

Eventually the capsules, if they prove satisfactory, may be adapted for manned satellite flight.

NASA described the project as "another step the nation is taking in its march into space."

Game Warden's Slaying Bared

2 New York Hunters Admit Shooting After $10 Bribe Refused

CARMEL, N.Y. (AP)—Two New York City hunters have confessed killing an unarmed game warden who refused a $10 bribe to let them go after he caught them poaching for the second time on a 3,000-estate near here, police say.

★ ★ ★

Martin Anzalone, 28, an unemployed bricklayer, and Mario Sesta, 17, a barber's assistant, are in the Putnam County jail here to await a hearing Friday on first degree murder charges.

Anzalone and Sesta were arrested early Tuesday in their Bronx homes and under questioning admitted the shotgun slaying Monday of Clarence Smith, 28, father of three children, authorities said.

They were taken later to the estate of L. Arthur Cushman, board chairman of American Bakeries Co., at Patterson, N.Y., to re-enact the crime.

★ ★ ★

Capt. John Lawson of the state police said their statements indicated Sesta's father, Corrado, 44, was present—unarmed — at the shooting. He was held as a material witness.

Lawson gave this account of the slaying:

Smith spotted Anzalone and young Sesta, each armed with a shotgun, on the estate. He confiscated their hunting licenses and said he would take them to a judge.

★ ★ ★

The men offered Smith $10 "to forget it," but the warden refused.

Police said Smith was shot in the back from a distance of several feet and again through the head at very close range.

Each man admitted firing one shot, police said.

Anzalone and young Sesta were arrested by Smith for poaching Oct. 20. They were fined $10 each by a justice of the peace.

1,550 Gallons of Gas Mislaid by Operator

DALLAS (AP) — L. F. Hammond, a filling station operator, told police someone had been stealing gasoline from his pumps. There were 1,550 gallons missing he said.

Sheriff's deputies staked out the station for a week, then Hammond discovered a bookkeeping error that explained the "loss."

State Liquor Commission Issues Fines, Warnings

Several alcoholic beverage licensees were fined and others warned by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission at recent hearings in Lincoln Park after various charges had been filed against them.

Henry Kolakowski, owner of the Gay-Way Bar, 33338 Grand River Ave., Farmington, was fined $100 on a charge of allowing a patron to consume an alcoholic beverage on the premises of his bar after the legal closing hour.

A $50 fine and warning were levied against Anthony and Margaret Tassi, owners of the Cavern Bar, 22 E. Huron St. The licensees were charged with having an intoxicated employe on the premises.

Joseph A. Myers, owner of the Sportsman's Inn, 5864 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township, charged with selling to a minor, was fined $150 by the commission.

★ ★ ★

A Milford licensee, Arthur W. Jeffery, owner of Timm's Tavern, at 449 N. Main St., was fined $150 for selling to a minor and allowing the minor to consume alcoholic beverages on the premises.

No closing of the tavern was ordered by the commission in view or the minor's mature appearance.

A warning was issued to John and Margaret Fulgenzi, owners of the Dinnerbell Market, at 9410 Elizabeth Lake Rd., White Lake Township. The owners were charged with having an open bottle of an alcoholic beverage on the premises licensed to sell package beer and wine.

★ ★ ★

Charged with selling to minors and allowing minors to consume an alcoholic beverage at their establishment were George and Ella Mitchell, owners of Dave's Tavern, at 4000 Cass-Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

The licensees were issued a warning but no penalty was ordered due to the older appearance of the minors.

A warning was also issued to William H. Donovan, owner of Donovan's Drug Store, 6581 Commerce Rd., West Bloomfield Township, who was charged with obtaining a license for the use and benefit of another person whose name does not appear on the license.

All fines imposed on the license holders are due and effective Dec. 1.

Fright Saves Tennie the Cat After 9 Days

ATLANTA (AP) — A rescuer scared Tennie the cat out of a hole in a building wall today by using a tin can filled with pebbles.

The cat, imprisoned for nine days, was freed through efforts of J. W. Ray, manager of the Atlanta Humane Society. An expert animal rescuer reportedly flying from Boston had not shown up when the cat was freed.

Tennie, one of two cats owned by Clarence Coursey, 67, fell from the window ledge of the hotel where Coursey lives. The hotel adjoins another structure with only six or eight inches separating the buildings.

★ ★ ★

Debris littering the crevice hindered numerous rescue efforts. Tennie hid from rescuers part of the time, apparently by crawling into a hole in one of the walls.

Efforts to reach her hiding place through a window in the hotel basement were unsuccessful.

Today, Ray entered a vacant store in the building adjoining the hotel, removed a basement window and cleaned out paper, bricks and material that had collected between walls of the buildings.

★ ★ ★

With working room thus afforded, he rattled the tin can. Tennie ran from her hole into the hotel basement. Ray quickly closed the basement window, caught the cat and restored it to Coursey.

Coursey, a near-invalid whose only companions are his cats, was happy over the rescue. He said that his pet was in good condition and evidently had eaten the food he had tossed into the crevice.

The only tools required for a do-it-yourself man to build himself a bay window are a knife and fork . . . An old timer is one who remembers when his wife put food into cans instead of always taking it out. —Earl Wilson.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

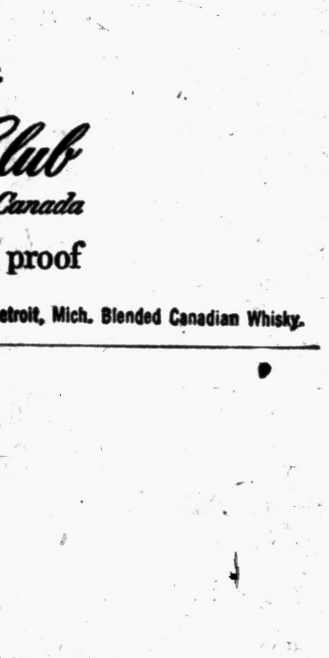

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Optimistic Man Cashes Finance Office Form

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—It looked like a check, so Fred Johnson cashed it, according to the police report.

Officers said a finance company sent Johnson a form informing him he was $10.81 behind in his payments.

It so resembled a check that a supermarket accepted it, investigators said, and in turn passed it along to an egg dealer.

A local bank wasn't so easily fooled, however. The "check" bounced, and today Johnson faced a charge of using false pretenses to obtain money.

Eyeglasses were not invented until around the end of the 13th Century.

Public Meeting in Little Rock

School Board Members Slated to Give Word on Resignations

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The Little Rock School Board invited the public to a meeting tonight at which members are expected to announce their decision on resignation.

It was generally felt here that some members of the board would resign as a result of Monday's federal court order to proceed with integration of Little Rock's four public high schools. The schools have been kept closed this fall because of the integration controversy.

★ ★ ★

The board held a closed, two-hour meeting in a hotel room yesterday, but all that Wayne Upton, president of the six-member board, would say was "We're going to have a public meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday)."

Dr. Dale Alford, the only outspokenly segregationist member of the board, left the meeting shortly before the others yesterday, and said he personally was not going to resign.

Alford was elected to Congress in the Nov. 4 general election by defeating veteran Congressman Brooks Hays (D-Ark) in a write-in campaign.

★ ★ ★

The school board has been under heavy and almost constant fire from Gov. Orval Faubus and segregationists since the Central High School integration crisis in September of 1957.

The U. S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis ordered the board Monday to take positive steps to accomplish integration.

Aiming to Avoid Lansing Hassle

Van Peursem, Mezzano Slate Meeting to Seek House Compromise

LANSING (UPI) — Two legislative chieftains will put their heads together today to see what might be done to avoid an expected wrangle over control of the House of Representatives.

Election of six Democrats Nov. 4 in districts now held by Republicans threw the Lower Chamber into an unprecedented 55-55 split.

House Speaker George M. Van Peursem (R-Zeeland) and Rep. Louis Mezzano (D-Wakefield), Democratic leader in the House, scheduled a private meeting to lay the groundwork for an expected compromise. One or the other may end up as speaker when the Legislature goes into session Jan. 14.

Without a majority of 56 of the 110 members, neither party can organize the House—elect the speaker, who in turn names the membership of House committees.

Van Peursem and Mezzano will talk over possible compromise plans, but no definite steps likely will be taken before the full House meets in January.

Republicans retained control of the Senate, 22-12.

Arab Refugee Upkeep Expensive Proposition

The annual report of the United Nations aid program to Arab refugees is a rather disheartening one.

LESTER J. CARVER, acting head, told the General Assembly that work is being hampered by Arab governments. Restrictive regulations by Syria and Lebanon on rail transport of relief supplies to Jordan mean unnecessary delays and cost the U.N. $650,000 a year. In addition, the United Arab Republic refuses to allow U.N.'s international staff to enter the Gaza strip.

★ ★ ★

The U.N. is again asked for $37.5 million to care for these Middle East refugees, 70 per cent of the money will be contributed by the United States. Our contributions have averaged $20 million in each of the past two years and we have pledged $23 million toward operations through June, 1959. We also have offered to give $3.75 million for activities that would result in permanent resettlement of at least part of the refugees.

★ ★ ★

Some 900,000 are being kept alive in Lebanon, Jordan, the Gaza strip (where a quarter of the refugees live) and the UAR. While a few are taking vocational training, the majority resists all efforts at rehabilitation and resettlement and lives in the hope of returning to Israel under its own terms. This dream is being fostered aggressively by the UAR.

★ ★ ★

Israel has set aside funds as compensation for abandoned land or for resettlement in new areas and has promised financial help to those Arabs who are being admitted to rejoin their families in Israel. Few refugees have accepted the offer.

So long as these discontented, hostile people are willing to exist in idleness and poverty along the borders of Israel, there is a constant threat of war. Thus far the problem has defied solution.

Sudanese Get Help From Britain and U.S.

With the announcement from London that British arms will go to the Sudan, President NASSER may now use less aggressive methods in trying to reach an agreement with that country on the Aswan Dam project.

Frustrated in efforts to control Tunisia, Lebanon, Jordan and Iraq, he is expected to turn south in his search for power. Egypt and the Sudan have clashed twice this year, once over territory claimed by NASSER and once over Nile water. The Sudanese chose independence and rejected union with Egypt in 1956 and in 1958 defeated pro-NASSER candidates at the polls.

While Moscow is tightening its hold on Cairo through a $1.3 million Aswan Dam loan, the United States is spending $30.6 million in economic assistance in the Sudan. Because of its potential wealth many observers believe that vast territory to be the coming power in Africa, says Near East Report.

Sudanese have come to think that NASSER's plan for a high dam would benefit Egypt only. They insist there should be a new water sharing agreement. It is estimated that the total Nile flow is 84 billion cubic meters. Of this 32 billion meters are lost, 48 are used by Egypt and only four by the Sudan.

Egypt has an area of 386,000 square miles and a population of 24 million poverty stricken people concentrated in 13,900 square miles of the Nile valley. In contrast, the Sudan with a population of 12 million, extends over an area of 967,500 square miles, about one-third the size of the United States.

In accepting British arms and U.S. economic assistance the Sudanese have shown President NASSER that they have no desire to see their country become an Egyptian satellite.

The Man About Town

Army Induction Records Seem to Favor Our City

Fahrenheit: A man who died before it recorded such queer stuff in November.

We've always been told that the rural areas are more conducive to good health than the city. But the local draft boards' current record is quite contradictory.

As its November quota the Pontiac city board is asked for only 14 men, but the out-county board must send 57. This is principally on account of the large percentage of physical rejections among the out-county men sent in recent months. The induction date for both boards is Nov. 20.

His good wife calls my attention to the fact that

More Than Filling Them

David Lawrence Says:

Labor Could Control Congress

WASHINGTON — The labor unions poured millions of dollars, including members' services, into the recent election campaign and are claiming a majority now in both houses of Congress on their side.

LAWRENCE

The "law of the land" says specifically that neither labor unions nor corporations may contribute money or "anything of value" to elect candidates for Congress.

How is this law being circumvented? Will the Democratic Party leaders have the courage to investigate campaign spending or will they listen to the clamor already coming from the unions to squelch even the anti-racketeering inquiry authorized by the last session of Congress?

Since 23 of the senatorial candidates backed by the AFL-CIO were elected—one being William Langer of North Dakota, Republican, and the other 22 being Democrats—the labor oligarchy feels it now can count on 54 senators to vote as the labor-union leaders may demand. This is a majority of the Senate.

Similarly, there is a majority in the House who either voted "right"—according to labor union standards—more than half the time or were elected with considerable support from the unions. The latest tabulation on this basis, derived from labor union sources, indicates 220 members of the House on labor's side. It requires 219 for a majority.

The consequences of this victory are already apparent. The AFL-CIO has just announced that it will demand that Congress at one fell swoop remove the right-to-work laws from the statute books of 19 states. This would be possible if Congress amended the Taft-Hartley Act, thus taking away from the states the right to enact any legislation whatsoever on this subject.

At present, if the states do not legislate, the federal statute permitting compulsory unionization remains in effect. This law says that, unless a worker pays dues to a union, he must be fired from his job by the employer, and he cannot get or keep a job unless he is ready to join a union.

So Congress, by one single piece of legislation, can take away the civil rights of all the unionized workers of America—the right to join or not to join a union and the right to protest against racketeering and corruption by resigning and quitting his payment of dues. This means a form of slavery that will be up to the Supreme Court to limit or abolish in its next decision.

For, although the right of two private organizations—the employing company and the labor union—to agree to keep on the job only those who pay dues to a union has been upheld as constitutional, there is an important reservation which the highest court has recorded. It is that, in making such a private contract, there can be no violation of the "due process" clause of the Fifth Amendment or of the free speech and freedom of belief privileges granted under the First Amendment.

Incidentally, the issue concerns small business far more than big business. For many in the latter category can operate under the high rates charged by unions. It is the small businesses that will go to the wall when labor rates skyrocket, as they inevitably will if the labor union monopoly and its industrywide bargaining technique is perpetuated.

There are 42,000,000 voters comprising the employes of small businesses and farm groups which are not unionized. They have not yet become politically active, but they will have to do so if they hope to prevent the labor unions from bringing on a runaway inflation in America and eventually a buyers' strike that produces a recession.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the youth. — Psalms 127:4.

★ ★ ★

God has given you your child, that the sight of him, from time to time might remind you of His goodness, and induce you to praise Him with filial reverence.—Christian Scriver.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Don't Sit—Do Something If You Want to Relax.

The best medicine for executives, office workers, salespeople, professional people and others who live by their wits is two miles of oxygen on the hoof two or three time a day. Say a brisk walk to office, store or school each morning and again at the end of the day or later in the evening. A brisk walk.

DR. BRADY

The eminent Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, I read somewhere, absorbs a few miles of oxygen on the hoof nearly every day, or whatever replaces oxygen in the exhaust laden atmosphere of Fifth Avenue, and Fannie Hurst is "out at 6 o'clock every morning, taking her usual hour-and-a-half walk through Central Park."

Whether Dr. Fosdick writes a sermon or Miss Hurst does a chapter of her next book or arranges her next TV show is no matter—in any case the walk will insure a better job.

How many young persons ride to and from school although, they live only a mile or two distant? In school these same young persons, or 95 per cent of them, are deprived of physical education for the sake of the football team. After all, participating in living pictures and making noises under the direction of cheer leaders is a sad make-believe to foist on school children in place of proper physical training.

FORGET THE REST

What students and white collar workers need for relaxation is general exercise, not rest. A daily walk is the ideal way to get general exercise. For one who has not time to walk three to six miles a day, riding a bicycle, skating, swimming, spading garden, mowing lawn or playing tennis, golf, baseball or other games is nearly as good as a daily walk. For relaxation, I mean.

Student or teacher, executive or secretary, salesman or white collar worker, doctor, lawyer, musician can best get the relaxation he needs by DOING SOMETHING HIMSELF. He can't get it sitting in the bleachers or loge watching professionals play.

Many misguided persons get into the habit of using a tranquilizer, a sedative or a narcotic to help them relax, particularly after a "hard day at the office." The favorite narcotic is alcohol — a round of drinks with companions at the tavern before they go home, or a few cocktails or a highball before dinner at home.

Tranquilizer or sedative merely enhances stupidity, but alcohol benumbs or lessons consciousness of fatigue, a state not at all like the relaxation that comes naturally after a reasonable stint of physical work, play or exercise.

Dr. Savage Takes Issue With Tenet of Catholicism

I notice the late Pope, called the Vicar of Christ, is said to have gone to Purgatory the same as anyone else. Strange that he could not absolve himself from that experience.

Then although millions upon millions are praying for him—priests, prelates and people — yet there is no assurance as to when he will get out of Purgatory.

If it is so difficult for the ex-Pope to get through, then what chance has a friendless, penniless communicant to ever make it? This is very confusing especially in the light of the Apostle Paul's statement, "To be absent from the body (is) to be present with the Lord."

Feels Ex-Coach Wishes Team Well

As parents of a football player on St. Mike's football team, we thought and still do that he was a wonderful coach when he "quit." His good teaching in sportsmanship will never be forgotten. The spirit of the Big Blue was a little trampled when he left, but it bounced back as I'm sure Bob wanted it to. As long as the school and team have it, we just can't worry too much about the alumni. We thought they were always loyal to the school and team. Our record shows there's still a little spirit left.

We were sorry to have Bob leave, especially after the season had begun. We admire and respect him as a coach, but he did leave. As for our lacking guts, unless you're a parent, you know nothing of what was done or tried to be done about it.

I'm sure Bob wishes us well. He attends our games with his family. Do you?

Oil Industry's Attitude Deplored by Newsmen

CHICAGO (UPI) — The oil industry can get out of the political and public doghouse only by doing a better job of telling its story to the American people, two editors said today.

Poor public relations has made the oil industry a whipping boy, they said.

Lyle C. Wilson, vice president and Washington manager of United Press International, and Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press, addressed the 38th annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute.

Wilson said there has been a "chaos, a lack of orderliness, a lack of communication that is astonishing" in the industry's relations with the public. He added that both politicians and public believe the oil industry has been "arrogant" and, in the public mind, is "muscle-bound with money."

Seltzer told the oil executives that in the higher echelons of politics, "you have been stupid, you have been arrogant, you have been unmindful of the consequences of your conduct."

"Anything done arrogantly, unwisely or stupidly injures the preservation of the American democratic form of government," Seltzer added.

Wilson advised industry leaders to "get into politics up to your ears.

"Don't pass any cash money," he warned, "Don't say anything you wouldn't want printed in the newspapers the same day."

Wilson, citing recent Senate roll calls on the question of depletion allowance in the oil industry, reminded oilmen that 13 new senators were elected Nov. 4.

"Most of them—perhaps all of them—are going to be against you when that depletion allowance comes up again, unless you get your story to the people," he said.

"Time is running out," Seltzer agreed. He added that what happens in the next several years will decide if the oil and other industries will be under public regulations.

"Our democratic society is in some very real danger," he said. "More dedicated effort, thinking and actirg is needed on the part of industrial and civil leaders and the public."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Nothing Like Fear to Weaken You

Jack was a strong young man who could easily have prevented the accident mentioned below. But he lost his nerve. He got scared. And fear tends to "turn your muscles to water," as the old saying goes. So learn to think positively. Then you'll be stronger and more likely to recover from sickness, too.

★ ★ ★

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-369: Jack L., aged 22, was an athletic young fellow who was a member of my gang of tree surgeons when I was in college.

DR. CRANE

For I was foreman during summer vacations of a group of such men, and we traveled around the country repairing valuable shade trees on the estates of wealthy folks.

This particular month we happened to be in Terre Haute, Ind., working on the Hulman grounds. We seldom used ladders, for we'd coil a rope and toss it 20 or 30 feet in the air across a fork.

Then, holding both strands of the rope, we'd walk up the side of the tree, carrying our pruning saws and paint can fastened to our belts.

But on this particular day, Jack and another member of my crew got to arguing as to which one could shin up a certain tall tree that had no limbs for at least 30 feet.

Jack made the first attempt and he was almost up to the fork, when he happened to look down. Apparently, he got a case of fright, for he suddenly yelled:

"I can't hold on. Help me!"

And before we could move, he slid down to the ground and sprained his ankle.

FEAR WEAKENS US

Jack had plenty of strength to shinny up that tall trunk. And his strength, even if he were tired, should easily have held him in place, for the friction of the rough bark against his shirt and moleskin pants would easily have held him in place.

★ ★ ★

But he got scared! And fear weakens our strength till our muscles almost "turn to water," as some frightened folks have reported in times past.

So Jack actually was powerless at the time he started sliding down, though his muscles could have been very strong if he had not been overcome by fright.

So it is on the football gridiron and baseball diamond. For when people are frightened, they tend to lose their strength.

That is why we stressed the importance of morale in yesterday's case.

BRAVO, CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The Christian Scientists deserve a lot of credit for their continued emphasis on positive thinking.

★ ★ ★

"As a man thinketh, so is he," states the Bible.

If you think strongly, you are likely to be strong.

If you think illness and sickness, you are more likely to be feeble.

As a physician, I fully realize the importance of germs and vitamins and iron for the blood's hemoglobin. But we medics also realize that a frightened patient may frustrate much of the effects of our medical treatment.

For example, even in such a mechanical ailment as a broken leg, you can readily see that a patient could theoretically delay his recovery if he imagined:

★ ★ ★

"I am never going to get well. My broken bones will not knit. Maybe TB will develop, etc., etc."

With such fearful thoughts, the patient could become sleepless and not obtain more than 4 or 5 hours of slumber per night, instead of 8 to 10.

He might also lose his appetite and fail to drink milk or consume other calcium foods that would help his bones knit. His continued pessimism and fear might slow down all the proper physiology of the body till he was under par in his internal chemistry.

So think positively and you'll be stronger! And you will be able to throw off disease more easily, too!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

According to Red Premier Grotewohl:

Russia, East Germany to Negotiate Withdrawal of Soviet Troops

BERLIN (AP)—Russia and Communist East Germany plan shortly to negotiate the withdrawal of Soviet troops from East Germany, Communist Premier Otto Grotewohl indicated today.

Grotewohl told a news conference that, by this step, the Communist powers hope to force the United States, Britain and France to withdraw their troops from Western Germany and Berlin.

Grotewohl's announcement gave a clue to how the Kremlin expects to implement Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's announced determination to force the Western allied powers to evacuate pivotal Berlin.

Khrushchev demanded in Moscow on Monday that the four-power occupation of Berlin be brought to an end. He hinted that the Soviet Union would end its treaty obligations to insure Western access to the isolated city, 110 miles inside East Germany.

Diplomatic missions in Moscow reported today that the East German mission was circulating an 18-page document charging West Germany with aggressive acts. The printed document appeared Monday, indicating coordination between the Kremlin and East Berlin on a drive to oust the Western allies.

The United States, Britain and France have indicated they intend to stand fast in Germany, protecting West Berlin by military force if necessary. Both Washington and London contend that the Soviet Union cannot, by itself, scrap the agreements reached after World War II for occupation of Germany.

Grotewohl called for the signing of a World War II peace treaty with Germany. Agreement among the Big Four on terms of a treaty has been blocked by the cold war which split Germany into two camps.

All the indications here were that Russia and East Germany were about to launch a big diplomatic offensive to force the Western powers to acknowledge the existence of the Communist East German government which the West refuses to recognize on the ground that it is a Communist puppet without popular basis.

It was too early to tell whether this offensive would be accompanied by a nerve war against isolated Berlin.

"I am of the opinion that negotiations will take place shortly between the government of the German Democratic Republic and the Soviet government over the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Germany," Grotewohl said.

★ ★ ★

"By this means we will encourage the Western powers to follow suit. I believe we will find enough people in both parts of Germany who will fight for that. Thereby we will come one step closer to a peace treaty."

★ ★ ★

There are an estimated 400,000 Soviet soldiers in the Soviet zone of Germany and about 300,000 U.S., British and French soldiers in Western Germany.

Grotewohl did not elaborate under what conditions the Soviet Union might agree with Communist East Germany to pull out its troops.

★ ★ ★

In the past the Russians have made Allied withdrawal from West Germany the condition for the pull-out of their own troops.

★ ★ ★

The Western powers have refused to pull out their forces unless an agreement could be reached on the reunification of Germany through free elections.

Puts Integration Responsibility Upon Newspapers of Nation

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP) — A Southern newspaper editor said today accurate, complete facts offer the only hope for a solution of "the tragic conflict" over school integration.

In his annual report as president at the opening of The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. convention, Coleman A. Harwell of the Nashville Tennessean said of the integration problem:

"Opinions are many and often extreme. They excite hatred, bitterness, violence. Amid all the resultant din and confusion, there is the constant and earnest query what are the facts? Facts are the basis of reason, the only hope of a solution.

"A public that does not know the facts cannot act intelligently. A public that does not comprehend the facts is dangerous. That places a tremendous responsibility upon newspapers."

★ ★ ★

Reviewing the progress made in news presentation since the APME was founded in French Lick 25 years ago, Harwell called the AP "an example of democracy at its best, a rare combination of the genius of cooperation and of competition."

Two other speakers stressed community service at the opening session of the silver anniversary convention, attended by almost 400 editors and their wives.

Ben Reese, co-chairman of the advisory board of the American Press Institute at Columbia University, said a community has a right to expect its newspaper to "be a guardian of the town . . . try its best to preserve public virtue. . . fight for the rights of its readers."

★ ★ ★

"Newspapers must make themselves indispensable," said Reese, a former managing editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. "Public service is a sure way to do it."

Louis M. Lyons, curator of the Nieman Foundation, Harvard University, said, "The problem of making our cities fit to live in still invites newspaper attention."

Lyons, whose foundation offers advanced study at Harvard for newspapermen, said the press generally lagged in reporting news about science and education and even the Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

Recalling Adlai Stevenson's 1952 complaint about what he called a "one-party press," Lyons said:

"In most cities there is no debate in a political campaign. As the number of our papers shrinks, until most cities have only one, such a forum becomes increasingly impossible."

Vincent S. Jones, Rochester, N.Y., executive editor of the Gannett Newspapers, reviewed news events and newspapering of the 25 years, using news pictures to illustrate the period.

★ ★ ★

"Twenty years ago, scenes of raw violence were common," Jones said in tracing the development of organized labor. "Today's battles are won at the bargaining table and on the voting machine."

Concerning televised political conventions, Jones said, "the conventions on TV had their moments, but they bored as many people as they enthralled, because they couldn't be edited."

Letters Bombard Washington

Publicity Does California's Brown Up Real Brown

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edmund G. Brown has just won the governorship of California but he won't—or maybe it's his publicity man who won't—win any prize for modesty.

★ ★ ★

As soon as this Democrat beat Republican William Knowland in last Tuesday's election his headquarters bombarded Washington newsmen with airmail, special delivery letters on his victory, new power and splendid qualities.

Brown's win over Knowland pushed him into national prominence for the first time; he hasn't yet moved into the governor's office to show what he can do; but these letters were like telling the big-name political tigers in his party:

"Make way, boys, for a lion."

The tigers may be impressed or they may think that for sheer gall newcomer Brown—or his publicity man—is in a class by himself.

★ ★ ★

In one sentence the letters denied Brown has any ambitions for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, in the next said he'd probably be California's "favorite son" candidate, and then wound up with this unabashed phrase:

". . . Brown's moderation and his ability to weld conflicting interests make California's governor-elect a leading contender for national political leadership in the Democratic party."

★ ★ ★

Whoever wrote the letters is no newcomer to political doubletalk, which is a special kind of jargon intended to please everybody a little bit and make nobody mad much.

Brown was described as a "political moderate who nonetheless adheres to progressive principles." This is like listening to a Republican describe "Modern Republicanism."

★ ★ ★

You can draw from the letters a slight feeling Brown is not only thinking of himself as the Democrats' presidential candidate but is already warming up against a man he thinks may be his Republican rival.

★ ★ ★

Said one of the letters:

"Brown had to work hard for everything he got. There was no money to send him to a university, so he went to night school and read for a blind attorney on the side.

"Brown's humble beginnings stand out in sharp contrast to those of another new figure on the national political scene, Governor-elect Nelson Rockefeller of New York."

If these letters had been used in Brown's gubernatorial campaign—before his election and with some slight changes — they might have gotten him some more votes.

★ ★ ★

But it's hard to understand why they were pumped out to Washington newsmen after the election, before Brown even took office, and before the Democratic party even had a chance to digest its national victory.

★ ★ ★

Maybe the publicity man had them left over from the campaign and liked them so much he could not bear just destroying them. One thing is sure: these letters did his boss up Brown.

Bagwell Endorsing Economy Committee

LANSING (AP) — Paul D. Bagwell says he likes the sound of Gov. Williams' Committee on Michigan's Economic Future.

Bagwell, the unsuccessful Republican candidate to unseat the Democratic Governor in the Nov. 4 election, gave the 100-member blue-ribbon committee a qualified endorsement.

It could he said, "be an important step forward in re-establishing a favorable climate for business expansion and new jobs."

★ ★ ★

William Day, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was named by the Governor last spring to head the group.

The Governor complained the committee couldn't get going in the heat of the election campaign, but should move ahead now that inter-party hostilities have eased.

★ ★ ★

Bagwell said he hoped the Governor would name local Chamber of Commerce representatives and state and local officials to serve on it.

West German customs officials will now inspect travelers' luggage in private quarters upon request.

Rochester to Celebrate Opening of New Bridge

Ceremony Set for 4 Thursday

Mackie to Be Speaker at Formal Dedication of Clinton River Span

ROCHESTER — Shortly after 4 p.m. tomorrow cars will begin streaming across Rochester's new four-lane South Main street bridge.

That's the time Village President Sydney Q. Ennis and Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller are scheduled to snip the ribbon, officially opening the concrete span over the Clinton River at the south entrance to the community.

Village and township officials, civic leaders and merchants are going all out to celebrate this important milestone. It will be "Bridge Day" in Rochester.

Featured speaker at the dedication ceremonies will be State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. He'll be introduced by Master of Ceremonies Fred Noyes, Rochester civic leader.

Festivities will get under way with the Rochester High School Varsity Band marching down Main street to the north end of the bridge, where the Chamber of Commerce will have set up a decorated platform.

Following the band, directed by Ward T. Reid, will be 30 to 40 horses ridden by 4-H club members and a caravan of new cars carrying state, county, township and village officials.

Village merchants are decorating the fronts of their stores and displaying merchandise. They will remain open until 9 p.m., Jack Burr, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced.

Completion of the State Highway Dept. Bridge, constructed by the Jutton-Kelly Co. of Detroit, was far ahead of its scheduled July 1, 1959 opening.

It misses by just a few days the 31st anniversary of the dedication of the old two-lane span held Nov. 9, 1927. The old bridge, which made its debut amidst as much if not more fanfare, was hailed as the longest vehicular bridge in the state at that time.

The new 810-foot-long bridge cost $456,502, compared to the $235,521 needed to build the old one. Its width is 48 feet. The old span was 20 feet across.

The four-lane structure spans the Clinton River, two streets and a railroad.

SUNDERLAND, Vt. (UPI)—The Retail Milk Dealers' Assn. honored Mr. and Mrs. Elias Bentley and their four children for having 339 quarts of milk delivered to their home in a single month. The prize was a month's supply of free milk.

With Old Bell as Link With Past

To Dedicate Pine Lake School

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The tradition of American Education week will take on a new significance for residents of West Bloomfield Township when the new Pine Lake Elementary School and its Callow Bell Tower are dedicated.

Linking the old with the new will be the 75-year-old bell taken from the one-room schoolhouse at the corner of Long Lake and Middlebelt Rds.

It will be rung by sixth grade pupils Susan Henderson, Joan Kelchner, Phillip Maxwell, Barry Moris and Christine Ribant, who began school with Mrs. Eva Thompson, longtime teacher at the old school.

Principal Lester W. Utterback, his faculty and Parent-Teacher Association officers will be hosts at dedication.

A tour of the building at 7:30 p.m. will start the evening. The program will be held in the multi-purpose room of the school an hour later.

★ ★ ★

W. Earl Givens, PTA president, will welcome parents and guests and introduce the speakers.

They will include Merrill O. Bates, president of the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education; Eugene L. Johnson, superintendent of schools; Utterback, and Douglas Jocelyn, member of the Board of Education.

Honored during the program will be Robert and May Callow, longtime residents of the area and former owners of the 15-acre Pine Lake School site.

The school band, under direction of Bruce Warnock, and the chorus, directed by Jane Whitton, also will participate in the program.

The flag ceremony will be conducted by Girl Scouts, and Cub Scouts will serve as guides.

The invocation will be given the Rev. John Wigle, minister at the Episcopal Church of the Advent, which presently meets in the old Pine Lake School.

Dr. Joseph Blackburn, minister of education at Kirk in the Hills, will give the benediction.

Pine Lake School was completed this fall. Students have been attending classes there since the first of September.

Constructed at a cost of $300,000, the school has seven classrooms, plus an all-purpose room, an office and a library.

Leonard Man Held in Automobile Arson

ROMEO — A Leonard man is being held today in Macomb County Jail for investigation of arson in connection with a fire which destroyed his car yesterday in a field on Mound road, between 30 and 31-Mile roads in Washington Township.

Romeo State Police said Richard Walker, 27, of 76363 Dequindre, admitted he was behind in payments on his car.

Volunteers of the Romeo Fire Dept. were called to the blaze, but were too late to save the vehicle from being completely destroyed.

MR. and MRS. SHELDON THORTON

Celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary are Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Thorton of Highland Township. The Thortons, who were married Nov. 11, 1908, were feted at a family dinner Saturday night at their West Livingston street home and at an open house Sunday. Some 200 guests have come from Indiana, Millington, Mt. Morris, Detroit, Flint, Linden, Mayville, Lansing, Garden City and Pontiac. The couple has two sons, Wilbur of Highland and Aden of Pontiac. They had another son, the late Elwood Thorton.

School Addition Contracts Set

Walled Lake Board of Education Awards Senior High Pacts

WALLED LAKE — Contracts for construction of the addition to the Walled Lake Senior High School have been awarded by the Walled Lake Board of Education.

Low bidder on the general architectural work was the McHugh Construction Co., $153,760; mechanical, Brady Plumbing and Heating, $39,300; and electrical, Electrical Maintenance Co., $17,447.

University School Equipment Co. was awarded the $6,938 contract to equip the new junior high school library.

A special meeting was called for Nov. 24 to open bids on the sale of $150,000 in bonds for operating expenses.

★ ★ ★

In other business at the Board's meeting Monday night, Fred Chamberlain, secretary of the salary committee, recommended that faculty members be given a $250 across-the-board yearly pay increase.

The Board instructed Supt. Clifford H. Smart to set a date for a meeting with the entire staff to discuss the matter.

Pair to Live in Davisburg After Honeymoon at Falls

DAVISBURG—Upon return from their honeymoon at Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. J. Calvin Walters will make their home at 738 Broadway St., Davisburg.

They were married Saturday evening at the Davisburg Methodist Church. Performing the candlelight rite was the Rev. Zack Clayton.

The former Carole Joy Danley, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Danley of 2291 Ford Rd., Milford. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Eva M. Walters of 794 Broadway St., Davisburg.

For her wedding the bride chose a princess styled gown of silk taffeta and imported lace rose point. It featured a Sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves.

Her fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white baby roses.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Frances. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mary Wiechert of Davisburg and Miss Diane Stewart of Milford.

The bridegroom's brother, William of Davisburg, was the best man. Ushers were another brother, Carl, and the bride's brother, Roy.

The reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

'Property Rights' to Be Explained in Local Classes

"Property Rights" will be the subject of a class for county home economics club leaders and their husbands, which begins tomorrow.

Conducted by Lucille Ketchum, Michigan State University extension service home management specialist, the class will be held at Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford Township from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The class will be repeated at 7:30 at the V.F.W. Hall in Wixom.

The lesson will cover the importance of making a will to speed settlement of an estate, possibility that death resulting from accidents may create settlements involving heirs although the individual was not financially able, inheritance taxes and co-ownership of property.

Milton F. Cooney, Pontiac lawyer, will attend the last hour of each session to answer questions involving Michigan law.

★ ★ ★

The class will be repeated from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. throughout the county on the following dates: Nov. 14 — Avon Township Hall, corner of Pine and Fourth Streets; Nov. 17 — Birmingham Congregational Church, 388 N. Woodward Ave.; Nov. 18 — Highland Township Hall, John Street; Nov. 19 — Catholic Church, Maple Street, Holly and Nov. 20 — Oxford Methodist Church, E. Burdick Street.

Not a single trace of Amelia Earhart, famed aviatrix, was ever found since she disappeared over the Pacific Ocean after starting her second world flight in 1937.

SAFETY PRECAUTION — A civilian rides donkey loaded with his possessions past heavily fortified positions on Quemoy after Chinese Reds resumed shelling island.

Pattern Forms in Childhood

Bad Drivers Begin Early

BOSTON (AP) — Most traffic accidents are directly due to persons with bad traffic behavior patterns — and their behavior develops years before they even learn to drive, a driver education expert said today.

Dr. Forest N. Noffsinger of the Traffic Institute, Northwestern University, told the Northwestern Traffic Safety Committee:

"Somehow these people develop attitudes that result in actions dangerous to themselves and others in traffic.

"They honk at pedestrians, they speed up when about to be overtaken . . . they double park in congested areas and straddle lane markers on expressways.

"They believe they can stop their car on a dime. They believe they can drive as well or even better with three drinks as with one. They believe there is no danger in passing on curves.

"They brake their car after entering a curve, they turn their wheel the wrong way in a skid, they overdrive their lights at night, they jump stop lights."

The best safety-designed cars and roads in the world, he added, will not prevent these drivers from having accidents.

More and more accidents and fatalities are going to occur, he said "until we have drivers with correct traffic attitudes, appreciations, understandings, habits and skill."

Noffsinger suggested that driver education start as early as the first grade and continue through the college level.

The conference purpose is to encourage legislative study of street and highway needs of the operational agencies in each state.

These 3 Professors Well-Named for Jobs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Several University of Pittsburgh faculty members are well named for their jobs.

George O. Manifold is a mechanical engineering professor. Norman K. Flint is an associate professor of geology. And Dr. George W. Toothman is an assistant professor in the dental school.

The world's largest natural arch is the Rainbow Bridge in southern Utah. It is 309 feet high and 247 feet between its abutments. It crosses a dry creek.

Life of Service in Arizona

Pioneer Doctor Dies

WILLCOX, Ariz. (AP)—"Just a country doctor" is how most folks would describe Doc Wilson. But the 2,000 residents of this farming town feel Dr. John C. Wilson was more than that.

He brought healing and love to this onetime frontier settlement.

He died Wednesday after a lengthy illness. He was 79.

Doc Wilson began as a horse-and-buggy doctor in 1903 — nine years before Arizona became a state. He brought into the world nearly all local residents under 50.

His small, wiry frame, ruddy face, sparkling eyes and rimless glasses were a familiar sight to many an injured outlaw, railroadman, miner and school kid.

★ ★ ★

He was elected mayor of Willcox three times. He organized the town's first American Legion post and Rotary Club, and he headed the committee that built its first airport and first golf course.

★ ★ ★

He was the town's health officer, school doctor and railroad physician. In recent years he was technical advisor to the television show, "Frontier Doctor."

The first car in Willcox was his, but many times he wished he had kept his old buckboard as he jounced over wagon trails.

In the old days, he'd leave for several days to tend the sick at distant mining camps. At every relay point he'd change horses—much like the pony express.

At one mining camp he used a cook's meat saw to perform an amputation.

★ ★ ★

Born May 12, 1879, in Owenton, Ky., and educated in Indiana, Doc Wilson was headed for California when he stopped in Willcox on Christmas Day 1903. A railroadman had been hurt. The town had no doctor. Wilson decided he was needed. So he stayed for good.

★ ★ ★

Mortician Bill Koehn said Doc Wilson remembered others even in death.

One of his last requests was that no one send flowers — just donations to the Willcox Hospital Fund.

Perfume Manufacturer Pays Through the Nose

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — The State Tax Department figured something was in the wind when it received a perfume-impregnated check made out "to the Odor of the State Tax Commission."

★ ★ ★

It was a tax payment from an apparently disgruntled perfume manufacturer and was made out to the correct number of dollars — and scents.

Chicagoans Must Pay More to Be Trimmed

CHICAGO (AP) — It looks like the price of a haircut in barbershops in 15 downtown hotels will go up a quarter, to $2, starting Monday. Attorneys representing the hotels and AFL-CIO journeymen barbers said the hike will result from pay raises granted 200 barbers employed in the loop shops.

Shaves also will go up a quarter, to $1.50, the attorneys said.

Alaska Favors Civil Rights

Laws to Protect Native 16 Per Cent Passed Despite Prejudices

By MORTON PUNER
Ex-Editor of The Anchorage (Alaska) Daily Times

The caption under the picture of Alaskan Indians, appearing in a recent issue of a news magazine, said: "Indians like to be called 'natives.'"

★ ★ ★

The statement is only half true. They do and they don't—depending on how the word is used. They're certainly proud to be native to Alaska, almost never leave there.

But they've also discovered that native has another meaning, as in signs in restaurant windows saying, "Natives not allowed."

This is not to suggest that the booming land of Alaska is filled with overt prejudice or that the soon-to-be-elected senators from our state in the Far North will join senators from the Deep South in fighting civil rights laws. To the contrary, discrimination in places of public accommodation has been sternly outlawed in Alaska since 1945 and the new state will have excellent civil rights legislation on its books.

But such signs as "Natives not allowed" were common until the public accommodations law went into effect; the prejudices that prompted their use are still around.

The population of Alaska can only be estimated; it is growing fast and record-keeping is difficult. Best current estimate is about 210,000 for the huge area of 586,000 square miles; of these about 50,000 are military personnel; 158,000 are civilians, about 35,000 of these natives. Thus the natives represent about 16 per cent of the total population.

The natives are Eskimos, Aleuts, and Haida, Tlingit, and Tinneh Indians.

The Aleuts, who are an offshoot of the Eskimos, are accustomed to the raw and wet climate of the Aleutian Islands rather than the cold climate to the north. The language of the Aleuts and Eskimos is fundamentally the same and sounds the same to an outsider, but Aleuts and Eskimos can barely or not at all understand each other. All the other natives are remote offshoots of North American Indian stock and have their own dialects.

The Aleuts have probably suffered most with the coming of the white men. There were fierce Russian-Aleut battles in Aleutian waters in the eighteenth century; often Aleuts were taken as slaves or massacred.

Alaska, which means "great country" in one of the native tongues, was once called Russian America. But the Russians never really tried to settle the territory even though today, 91 years after the purchase by the United States, Russian influence is still felt in scattered areas of the territory. In Sitka in the Panhandle, once the Russian capital of Alaska, Indians still have uniquely Russian names.

Many Aleuts, as well as the Indians in coastal Alaska and in remote regions of the interior, still adhere to the Russian Orthodox religion and maintain churches. And Eskimos often refer to whites as "Cossacks."

Big boom or not, Alaska—more than twice the size of Texas—is still sparsely settled and there is no problem of pushing the natives into the Arctic or Pacific Oceans or the Bering Sea. But there are groups understandably concerned and working to assure that the rights of natives to their land are not jeopardized in the future.

France Exports Rice

PARIS—Until recently, rice was cultivated in France only on an experimental basis. But spectacular increases were registered in recent years, especially on lands reclaimed from the Rhone River, and last year France produced 120,000 tons of rice. She became not only self-sufficient in this commodity, but also began to export it.

City Safe for Orchids

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Thirty-two years ago Shaw's Garden moved its orchid collection from the city to Gray's Summit, 35 miles west, because of excessive air pollution. Now that the smoke is clearing away, the orchids are coming back. Transfer of about 10,000 plants is expected to be completed in three months.

Operators Have Code

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI) — Telephone operators here have devised a code to speed up service. OMC means "out milking cows."

Move to Smash Filibuster Comes First

Democrats Expected to Offer Some Kind of Civil Rights Legislation

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — New civil rights legislation was not in the 12-point program proposed by the Democrats' Senate leader—Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas—for the new Congress starting in January.

But it seems certain some kind of civil rights legislation will be offered, particularly since the Northern and Western advocates of civil rights among the Democrats have been strengthened by this month's elections.

★ ★ ★

A preliminary effort may come in January, in a move to make it easier to smash the filibuster. That is the weapon used repeatedly by Southern Democrats to block civil rights bills.

Leading in this fight will be senators of both parties — Douglas (D-Ill), Humphrey (D-Minn), Javits (R-NY) and Case (R-NJ). Any fight they make will have tough going. Southerners have already promised that.

To make it easier to cut off a filibuster requires a change in the Senate rules.

★ ★ ★

This last time the effort was made to do this — in 1957—Southerners were able to block it with the help of six Northern Democrats and 28 Republicans. In short, the Republicans were the main support of the Southerners.

But in the Senate just ended the Republicans had 47 seats to the Democrats' 49. The recent elections cut the Republican seats to 34 and boosted the Democrats' to 62.

Thus, while the total of Southern Democratic seats remains unchanged, the number of Republicans who might have lined up with them in 1959 has been drastically reduced and their seats taken by Northern and Western Democrats.

★ ★ ★

The result: the power of the South to fight a change in the filibuster rule has been greatly weakened.

Even if the filibuster rule isn't changed, that doesn't necessarily mean there won't be new civil rights legislation.

A major civil rights bill was passed in 1957, despite the defeat that year of efforts to limit the filibuster.

The legislation went through under the leadership of Johnson who —by what seemed a legislative miracle — was able to get it done without any major filibuster attempt by the South.

It was not the kind of bill which satisfied all the advocates of civil rights by any means. But getting it through, without a southern filibuster, was evidence Southerners knew some such legislation was inevitable.

It was also a foot in the door, opening the way for more legislation of the same kind later.

Both parties — highly sensitive to the importance of the vote of minority groups in the North — will hardly dare face the voters in 1960 without some record of civil rights legislation in these next two years.

The leadership in both parties may think it politically wiser to postpone such legislation until 1960. The voters, going to the polls in November of that year, then would have a fresher memory of what had been done.

But recent bombings in the South — against Jews and Negroes — give added ammunition to advocates of more power for the federal government to move against violations of civil rights.

SHADED POST — Perched atop a mound of sandbags, Cpl. Ingeman Hansson of Skane, Sweden, uses his glasses to peer across the desert at an observation post near the Gaza Airport. Hansson is a member of the U.N. truce forces stationed on the Gaza Strip to maintain peace between Egypt and Israel.

Waterford Building Hiked by $13,000

Commercial building in Waterford Township is up some $13,000 over last year for the month of October, according to building reports.

There was a total of $36,603 commercial permits issued last month, and $24,420 last year for October.

Over-all building in October was slightly higher, with a total of $616,372, than September's $613,149 total.

A new $20,000 screen for the Waterford Theater, was the biggest commercial permit issued, and a new $6,500 office building at 3384 Dixie Highway, is now under construction.

Individuals applying for building, sanitary, sidewalk and electrical permits, have paid the township government $2,165 during the month of October.

Few 'Old Maids' There

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The West Virginia Education Association reports that West Virginia teachers are seldom "old maids." Statistics showed that three-fourths of West Virginia women teachers are married—25 per cent more than the national figure.

'America Illustrated' Success

Russians Read U.S. Magazine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When the U. S. government's Russian-language magazine, "America Illustrated," hits Moscow newsstands, Ivan sometimes buys four or five copies. One is for himself and the others for resale at a premium.

The U.S. Information Agency, producer of the slick, picture-filled publication, thinks this is one of the best signs of the magazine's success.

Nobody expects the magazine's non-political word-picture stories to win a flood of Russian defectors to the free world.

But American propagandists think it may go a long way toward giving the average Soviet citizen an idea of everyday American life and thus bridging the gulf of misunderstanding between the two nations.

Even big-shot Russians get exposed to "America Illustrated." The U.S. Embassy in Moscow distributes 2,000 copies free each month to leaders of Soviet opinion, including leading Communist officials. The USIA isn't saying, but chances are one copy goes to Nikita Khrushchev himself and the Soviet strongman may take an occasional peek between th covers.

The United States began distributing its propaganda magazine in the summer of 1956 after working out a reciprocal agreement with the Soviet Union. Russia started passing out here an English language magazine about the Soviet Union at the same time.

The two nations had exchanged magazines earlier but publication was suspended in 1952 because of obstacles raised by Russia.

The revived U. S. magazine resembles a copy of "Life" without advertising. In fact, it frequently reprints articles from "Life" and other leading American magazines because they tell what Americans are interested in.

Story subjects run the gamut from sports to science to music to fashion. The latest issue includes a two-page spread of shapely American girls modeling figure-hugging bathing suits. Another shows 20 of Detroit's latest automotive masterpieces.

Russia does not censor the magazine. But the editors are careful to avoid any controversial political subjects because the U.S.-Soviet agreement provided such material would be left out.

The United States sells 50,000 copies of "America Illustrated" in Russia monthly in addition to the 2,000 copies given away. It costs five rubles, the equivalent of $1.25. The price may seem high but th USIA insists it is in line with the cost of other magazines of similar quality sold in Russia.

For a time, as many as 12,000 of the magazines were being returned unsold. USIA officials attributed this to the fact that the Soviet magazine was not selling well in the United State. But since the U. S. and Russia signed a new overall cultural exchange agreemnt early this year the number of returned copies has dropped off sharply and the magazine frequently is sold out completely.

Exact circulation is impossible to determine. USIA officials figure the magazine is passed from person to person so that it reaches a far larger audience than the 52,000 figure might indicate. One sign that the agency values the magazine highly is that a similar one is now in the planning stages for distribution in Poland.

Incidentally, there is one big difference between "America Illustrated" and typical U. S. publications. "America Illustrated" never receives any letters to the editor from its readers.

Boy Hurt Saving Dog

GLASTONBURY, Con. (UPI)—Arthur Jackson, 14, suffered a broken shoulder when he swerved his bicycle into a huge boulder rather than run down a small dog. Said Arthur; "I'm glad I did it. After all, I wouldn't want to hurt that dog."

U. of M. Blackballs Sigma Kappa Group

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan Student Council voted last night to withdraw campus recognition from the Michigan chapter of Sigma Kappa Sorority.

The council said Sigma Kappa's national headquarters has suspended two chapters for pledging Negroes.

Sigma Kappa chapters at Tufts University and Cornell University were suspended two years ago. The U. of M. Student Council said at that time Sigma Kappa was in violation of a university regulation which refuses recognition to any organization which practices racial discrimination in its membership policies.

★ ★ ★

The action means that Sigma Kappa must leave the Michigan campus by next June 15 unless the council's decision is reversed by a university board of review.

Major Epidemic Unlikely

U.S. Ready for Asian Flu

IF ASIAN FLU STRIKES — A plentiful supply of vaccine will be available. Here, a technician stores in a refrigerator the eggs in which the vaccine is grown.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If the Asian flu bugs decide to attack again this year, the resulting conflict will probably be strictly a limited war.

Dr. C. C. Dauer, U.S. Public Health Service flu expert, declares: "Influenza virus is hovering around somewhere. When conditions are right it will blossom forth into epidemics. But we think they will only be in localized areas."

Main reason why Dr. Dauer and other specialists don't expect another global or national epidemic of Asian flu is that the thousands of people who contracted the virus have now built up some natural resistance to it which they didn't have when it struck for the first time last year.

Also, the special vaccine designed to boost this resistance is in plentiful supply throughout the country and is considered to be a highly effective deterrent against another world-wide attack.

Actually, specialists are not even sure whether the Asian bug will be involved in this year's brush-fire-type flu war. They think the 1958 culprit might be the "Bon" bug, another type of flu virus which for some unknown reason pulls sneak attacks only once every four or five years. It's been about that long since the last time the Bons struck this country.

The word Bon is actually an abbreviation of the name of a flu patient from whose blood doctors first isolated this particular virus.

Flu experts explain that the strong chance of it striking in 1958 is no real cause for alarm. A vaccine to combat it has been in existence for years. Also, they say the virus is relatively weak and has never been known to cause a nationwide epidemic.

Doctors explain that usually just one type of virus strikes each year. Whether this year's culprit will be the Asian or Bon variety probably won't be known until December, the month that medical intelligence experts believe 1958's flu season will begin.

These experts explain that there are also a few other clans of flu bugs in existence. But these germs are either pretty weak or have been around so long that they're becoming extinct and aren't likely to cause much trouble.

Scientists, however, aren't taking any chances. They have combined several vaccines, including those used to combat Asian and Bon flu, into one potent dose so that people can be prepared for all the known treacherous bugs.

Surgeon General Leroy Burney stresses that the decision of whether a person should be vaccinated should be left up to his doctor. But he believes that it would be a good idea if the vaccine were given to hospital workers, people who live or work in institutions and workers who hold jobs in a business that would be severely hampered by a lot of absences at one time.

tion should be given to vaccinating pregnant women and people who are old or chronically ill.

Looking back on last year's epidemic, many doctors agree that the danger potential of the Asian bug was overrated. Of course, there's no doubt that it played a part in killing plenty of people.

But doctors report that the flu and pneumonia death rate was actually higher in 1953. An epidemic reached its peak in February of that year when about 76 out of every 100,000 persons in the U.S. died from these closely linked diseases.

Last year's epidemic reached its peak in November. But flu and pneumonia killed only about 67 out of every 100,000 people.

Telephone Use Soars

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (UPI) — The 150th thousandth telephone has been installed in South Dakota. Officials of Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. said it took 65 years to get the first 70 thousand telephones installed in the state, and 13 years for the next 80 thousand.

Seeking Right Kind of Help

Colombo Conference Is Searching for Quick, Sufficient Aid to Asia

SEATTLE (AP) — The Colombo Plan conference turned today to the knotty details of how to get enough of the right kind of help to needy Asian nations in time to do the job.

The meeting of 18 nations found no ready answer, although reassured by President Eisenhower of intensified American interest and by British, Canadian and Japanese pledges to increase their contributions to the plan.

A sense of urgency was injected by the Japanese chief delegate, Hayato Ikeda. He warned in a separate speech to the Japan Society of Seattle that the 700 million people the Colombo Plan seeks to help are squarely in the path of a subversive Chinese Communist economic drive.

To meet this situation, free nations, especially the United States and Japan, must work together to give more vigorous and well-organized assistance to these countries, he declared.

In four years, he noted, Red China multiplied her exports to Indonesia 11 times, to Burma 7 times and to India 6 times.

"While armed conflict in Formosa Strait threatens maintenance of world peace . . . we cannot sit back and let the less-developed countries in Southeast Asia be influenced and swayed," he said. Japan stands ready to do her part, he added.

Time is vital in two other ways, other delegates warned.

★ ★ ★

The industrial countries still are raising their own standards of living far faster than the less developed countries they are trying to help, said the chief Indian representative, Deputy Finance Minister B. H. Bhagat.

Mumps on Purpose

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A San Francisco pediatrician says it might be a good idea to expose children to the mumps on purpose. This way they would develop lifelong immunity, said Dr. Edward B. Shaw. It's better to have mumps during childhood when possible complications are not so severe, he said.

Doodles Are Familiar

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Police reporter Menno Duerksen of the Memphis Press-Esimitar lost his notebook filled with notes and idle "doodles." But he got it back quickly from detective Lt. L. G. Weaver, although Duerksen didn't have his name in the book. "How did you figure it was mine?," Duerksen asked Weaver. "By the doodles," he said. "I've seen you make those doodlees in court."

Cadillac

Motordom's New Measurement of Greatness!
The American motorist has long since adopted his own personal technique for judging the year's automotive offerings.
He simply looks to the new Cadillac car to discover motordom's fullest measure of all that is new and good and wonderful.
And never before has Cadillac placed such a high standard of excellence on the world's motor cars as it has for 1959.
For the new "car of cars" has introduced a whole new concept of what an automobile can do and be . . . and how it should look and act.
To the eye alone, it is a revelation. Elegant, majestic, poised—it has brought a new magic and splendor to the world of motion.
Its Fleetwood interiors are miracles of advanced design. Appointments are beautiful beyond imagination . . . and its fabrics and leathers are unbelievably luxurious.
The 1959 Cadillac is equally inspiring from behind the wheel. Its spectacular new engine, its advanced transmission and its new ease of ride and handling make every journey the most glorious distance between any two points.
These Cadillac advancements have been interpreted in thirteen distinctive body styles—including a new Eldorado Brougham.
So if you contemplate the purchase of any motor car in the coming year, you owe yourself an early visit with this newest of Cadillacs.
Sixty minutes in the showroom and on the road will give you a full understanding of the new way to measure greatness in a motor car.
The majestic new Cadillac for 1959 is now on display—inspect and drive it today!

UNVANQUISHED—The legendary Phoenix of Egyptian mythology crowns this symbol of France's Caen University. The immortal bird was believed to rise from its ashes after being consumed by fire. The university has done the same thing. Almost completely destroyed in World War II, its rebuilding is nearly finished.

German Reunited With 3 Sons in U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An 80-year-old German whose family was divided by World War II was reunited with three of his sons Tuesday night.

August Tilker of Herford, Germany, was greeted by Walter, now 52, who fought in the Canadian forces; Ewald, 47, who fought for Germany, and Frederick, 54, who was not in the war.

A fourth son, fighting for Germany, was killed in Russia.

Papa Tilker, a former taxicab driver, was amazed at Chicago traffic.

"But just wait until we show him the San Francisco auto jams," said Frederick.

Wife Sues Jed Harris for Divorce 2nd Time

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Jed Harris, New York and Hollywood theatrical producer, is being sued for divorce for the second time in a year.

Mrs. Beatrice Allen Harris, 30, former dancer, charged her 59-year-old husband with cruelty. She filed a similar complaint last February but the couple reconciled.

Bob Considine Says:

Democrats Flocking to Washington

WASHINGTON — "Bring the rascals back," was the political laugh-of-the-month around the National Press Club bar. And, sure enough, the people did. For the next two years, at least, there are going to be more Democrats in town than the old city has seen since 1936, when Alf Landon tried for the White House. Alf is now a Nash dealer in Topeka.

The most honestly baffled Republican in town is the President. It took him a considerable time to get down into the political arena in support of various GOP candidates before the Nov. 4 elections. He would have preferred to remain aloof of the entire matter.

The persuader was a friend, or friends, who assured him that only his personal appeal to the voters could keep them from voting for spendthrift Democrats. That pitch struck a responsive note, and off went Ike.

"The President was as sure he would be listened to this time as he was in the past two presidential campaigns and during his years of giving orders in the Army," a friend of the general said. "He found it terribly hard to believe when millions of people began voting against the candidates and the ideals he had sponsored.

"He was still upset and incredulous when he faced the press after the returns were all in. He won't be sorry about leaving, when the time comes."

Three wreaths were laid on the tombs of the unknown soldiers at Arlington on this Veterans Day. It was a touching ceremony, as ever before, made more poignant this time by the presence of those who fought in World War II and Korea—and emerged faceless and, in a sense, forgotten.

But as the ceremony unfolded, it recalled to mind a melancholy "whomp!"—the sound made by the canvas-sacked body of a World War II unknown who was buried at sea off Newport News, Va., last May. He was the loser, if that's the word, in a contest to choose between an unknown brought from the war in Europe and one brought from an unmarked grave somewhere in the wake of the war that raged in the Pacific. There could be only one selection from that global war.

The boy who had to make the hard decision stood for a long and unforgettable minute, on the deck of the cruiser where their flag-draped coffins lay beneath a cluster of angry-looking yellow missiles. He seemed lost in thought, and later said he was praying.

Every eye was upon him. His were lowered. He made a brief move toward the coffin on his left, then a military half-right and walked resolutely to the foot of the other box, and put the wreath down.

They threw the rejected body over the rail.

Watching it, we thought it unbearably sad. Yet I've spoken to a number of veterans since then and found them less than moved. "I'd rather have been the fellow they tossed in the drink," a former Eighth Air Force sergeant told me today. "They can't get their hands on him any more."

Thomas Chippendale, the famed English cabinet-maker, opened his first workshop in London in 1749.

Pontiac Office Issues Appeal

Buy 1959 Auto License Plates Now

The Pontiac branch of the Secretary of State's office has asked motorists to do it two big favors: Have license applications made out early and buy 1959 license plates NOW.

★ ★ ★

Willis M. Brewer, branch manager, reports sales of the new green and gold plates about 800 behind last year's sales. About 1,000 passenger car plates have been sold since they went on sale Nov. 1 as compared to 1,800 last year, he said.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac branch is located at 53 N. Parke St. It is open Monday through Fridays from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., and on Saturdays from 9 until 1 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Motorists are reminded that new license applications no longer will be mailed to them, but are available at the Pontiac office.

Brewer said, due to limited space, motorists are asked to pick up their applications, if possible, take them home and make them out before returning to purchase their 1959 plates.

These will stay with your car through 1961 as the state will issue tabs to attach in subsequent years.

Deadline as usual for purchasing the new plates is Feb. 28, 1959.

Rockefellers in Venezuela After Election

By JAMES DEVLIN

CHIRGUA, Venezuela (AP) — New York Governor-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller and his wife arranged a horseback trip into a 5,000-foot mountain range near his hacienda yesterday.

Rockefeller flew here Sunday for about a week's rest after his strenuous campaign, and is avoiding politics as much as possible.

His hacienda has no telephone connection with the outside world. A few lines link various buildings on his 6,500-acre property.

★ ★ ★

The nearest full-scale telephone and telegraph communications are 135 miles away in Caracas.

The Rockefeller trip to Venezuela was announced only after he won the election last Tuesday and few knew he had this remote hideaway in the Andes.

His family has business interests in Venezuela, mostly in dairying and supermarkets. Standard Oil is active here, but the Rockefellers no longer participate in its management, although still owning stock.

The Republican governor-elect, who takes office in January, took visiting reporters on a tour of his hacienda.

The setting includes a 12-room house with a red tiled roof. It has breath-taking views in all directions. There is a farmed valley 500 feet below and a surrounding circle of mountains.

"The most beautiful spot in the world," Rockefeller said. "Now you can see why I wanted to come down after the campaign."

He met newsmen in a sport shirt and bermuda shorts.

★ ★ ★

He spotted somebody in a suit and necktie. "Why the necktie?" he joked. "Don't be a sissy."

The house has a 30-foot swimming pool. Newsmen didn't bring bathing suits but Rockefeller found about half a dozen pairs of swimming trunks.

After a swim he donned slacks and a sports shirt with a pattern of elephants, symbol of the Republican party. He called it his victory shirt.

Of the 6,500 acres he owns, about 860 acres are tilled in experimental farming. Much of the rest is grazing area for 400 cattle, also an experimental project.

England, Ireland and Sweden are the only European nations where motorists drive on the left side of the road.

Blind Man Detects Flaw

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI)— Blind vending stand operator Ernst Mohn examined a newly varnished pine cabinet at the Grand Rapids police headquarters and discovered someone had goofed. Sighted carpenters had the boards on backwards with the unfinished surface on the outside of the cabinet. Mohn discovered the error by touch.

Senate Majority Leader Chosen Again

Johnson Gets Mexico Mission

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration has called on Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) for another bipartisan task — discussion of continental problems with the incoming president of Mexico.

Johnson, the Senate's Democratic leader, is expected to go to Mexico City some time this month to confer personally with President-elect Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

In Congress and the State Department the invitation to Johnson to undertake the personal diplomatic mission to Mexico was regarded as an indication the administration wants to work closely with the party leader in shoring up Latin American relations.

It was the second bipartisan assignment Johnson has been asked to undertake this week. Previously Secretary of State Dulles had announced Johnson had agreed to speak in the United Nations in behalf of the American resolution for the peaceful uses of outer space.

Although Johnson heads the opposition party in the Senate, he has worked closely with the Republican administration at times, especially on problems involving foreign policy. He said in a speech last week the increased Democratic majorities in the new Congress will meet President Eisenhower at least half way.

Johnson is generally expected to retain his post as Democratic leader when the Senate meets in January. Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis), one of an increased number of liberal Democrats in the new Senate, said yesterday he has found no indications of dissatisfaction with Johnson's course.

★ ★ ★

One senator-elect reported Tuesday he understood Johnson had called the 13 Democrats newly elected to the Senate to meet with him at his Texas ranch next month.

Johnson, in a telephone interview, discounted talk of a presession meeting and said he had issued no blanket invitation for one.

But Senator-elect Frank E. Moss of Utah said later he had tentatively agreed to meet with Johnson Dec. 5, and got the impression in talking with Johnson that at least all the new Western Democratic senators would attend.

★ ★ ★

Johnson's visit to Mexico City is expected to precede Lopez Mateos' inaugural on Dec. 1. He will be representing not only the State Department but the top-heavy majority of Democrats in the Senate which expects to begin an early inquiry into Latin American relations.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) has been designated chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee which may begin hearings in January.

Johnson called last week for a review of American foreign policy "so that bold, new, imaginative programs can be recommended to responsible officials."

Although Lopez Mateos did not define his feelings toward the United States in the campaign that preceded his election last July, he has said that there are no outstanding problems between the two countries that could not be settled by friendly understanding.

★ ★ ★

It apparently will be up to Johnson to attempt to bring about this sort of friendly understanding in a mission aimed at improving general relations rather than at solving any outstanding differences.

Detroit Youth Held in Teenage Stabbing

DETROIT (AP)—A 14-year-old boy is held for questioning in the stabbing of another teenager yesterday in an alley on Detroit's northwest side.

Police said Charles De Lisle, 14, was in serious condition in Detroit Osteopathic with a knife wound in the back.

De Lisle said he had reprimanded three youths for breaking bottles in an alley. He said the eldest of the trio stabbed him in the back when he didn't back down from a challenge to fight.

Foreign Ducks Cost 2 Hunters $50 Fines

MINOT, N.D. (UPI)—Two young brothers caught in a cross-fire between North Dakota and the Federal government were fined $50 apiece because the ducks they hunted were from another state.

Allen Kaasmer, 21, and his brother Leonard, 19, of Douglas, N. D., were charged with violating federal regulations against hunting migratory waterfowl before October.

★ ★ ★

It would have been all right if the ducks were "nonmigratory" or had been hatched in North Dakota, which expressed its opposition to what it considered the late opening of the Federal season by beginning its own five days earlier.

Tony Martins to Portray 'Loving Couple' on Stage

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — With Cyd Charisse's ability as a dancer and Tony Martin's fine singing voice, they should be a real attraction in Freddie Brisson's stage musical, "The Loving Couple."

Cyd, one of the beauties of our town, just returned over the weekend from visiting Tony in Chicago, where he was appearing at the Chez Paris. She said:

"Tony and I conferred with Freddie about 'The Loving Couple' and we felt it would be very good for us—the book is so funny. The author you know as Virginia Rowan is actually Patrick Dennis, author of 'Auntie Mame'."

★ ★ ★

Debbie Reynolds is studying an offer she has received to star in "The Sandman," a musical fantasy, on the order of "Peter Pan."

"If the music measures up to the book, I think I will do it," Debbie said, "although nothing has really been settled. I believe it would be good for me and, of course, I would take the children to New York with me."

★ ★ ★

Fantastic how quickly a talented actor can get to the top these days. Take Anthony Franciosa—two years ago he had been in exactly one Broadway play, "A Hatful of Rain." Now he winds up his deal with 20th Century-Fox in his next picture, "The Man Who Understood Women," in which he costars with Leslie Caron for Nunnally Johnson.

Then, Anthony will costar with Anna Magnani in "Orpheus Descending" for Hal Roach. After that he goes to MGM for two pictures and leave us not forget "The Naked Maja," which he made with Ava Gardner and received the tidy sum of $225,000. Fantastic—did I say?

While I am on the subject of Franciosa, Shelley Winters, his admiring wife, starts rehearsals Dec. 15 on "A Piece of Blue Sky," formerly called "The Squirrel Cage." Her producer is Jay Julien, for whom she worked in "A Hatful of Rain," where she met Tony, fell in love with him and married him.

A strange duo in New York was Anna Maria Alberghetti and Jack Haley Jr.—strange because Buddy Bregman, who is Anna's boy friend, was once married to Gloria Haley, Jack's sister, and is now being sued by her.

Atom Smasher to Go Into Use

Chalk River Plant Set to Produce Fantastic Energy by Christmas

CHALK RIVER, Ont. (AP) — A million dollar atom smasher known as a tandem accelerator will be producing beams of fantastic energy here by Christmas to help scientists study the composition of matter.

The machine, first of its kind in the Western world, will bombard the core of atoms with particles having an energy of 10 million volts. With additional equipment the particles' energy may be increased later to 18 million volts.

★ ★ ★

Built by the High Voltage Engineering Corp., of Cambridge, Mass., the machine will be used to investigate forces which hold together the core of the atom.

The three million volt accelerator now in use at this Canadian atomic research center has permitted research only on the nuclei of light elements such as calcium. The new machine will provide information on heavier elements, such as lead and uranium, as well as the light elements.

Dr. H. E. Gove, of Niagara Falls, Ont., 36-year-old head of the center, said the atom smasher will operate 16 hours a day. Complicated electronic computers which nearly fill a room 50 by 20 feet will furnish automatic readings of the experiments every few minutes.

The accelerator consists of two smaller accelerators placed end to end in a steel pressure tank 34 feet long and 8 feet in diameter. The tank contains nitrogen under a pressure of 225 pounds to the square inch to prevent escape of the electrical charge.

★ ★ ★

Two powerful electromagnets, one of six tons and another of two tons, will deflect the high speed particles into an experimental room 25 feet from the accelerator. Materials being tested will be in the experimental room.

Walls of the bufilding are of thick concrete placed against a hillside to prevent the escape of high energy radiation.

Want to Discuss Disarmament

Soviets Push Subject in Proposal for Summit and at Geneva, U.N.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union sought today to discuss disarmament with the West at a summit meeting, at the Geneva talks on surprise attack and at the United Nations.

The Western powers have on previous occasions opposed the form of talks proposed by Moscow as more likely to produce propaganda than progress.

The Kremlin renewed its off-again, on-again summit conference proposals in a joint communique ending talks between Premier Khrushchev and Polish Communist boss Wladyslaw Gomulka. The communique was signed Monday and published Tuesday after Gomulka left for Warsaw.

It said a meeting at the summit should "examine and solve the most pressing problems of dis-

The Soviet Foreign Ministry handed a note to the U.S. Embassy here asking that the Geneva talks be "coupled with definite steps in disarmament," Moscow radio reported.

★ ★ ★

"Without these steps it is useless to consider the question of preventing a surprise attack," the note said.

When the 10-nation technical talks on problems of preventing surprise attacks opened Monday in the Swiss city, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassili Kuznetsov demanded disarmament without going into controls or guarantees.

William C. Foster, U.S. delegation leader, rejected discussion of disarmament as outside the field of the talks, which are designed to lay the technical groundwork for future political decisions. Disarmament is a hotly political issue in world relations.

On a third front, the Soviet Union tried to introduce an aspect of disarmament into a U.N. debate in New York on peaceful use of outer space. A Russian resolution called for both a ban on using space for military purposes and elimination of foreign military bases.

The Western position has been that advance preparations indicating good results must precede any summit meeting. Khrushchev broke off ambassadorial talks in Moscow last spring on a summit meeting.

Both at Geneva and in the U.N. the West contends that disarmament is not part of the business at hand and its injection only complicates discussions without offering progress toward guarantees of balanced, effective disarmament.

While calling for disarmament, the Soviet-Polish communique also said it is necessary to strengthen the Warsaw Pact. This is the military alliance of the East European Communist bloc with headquarters in Moscow.

Gas Fumes Fell 40 at Kiwanis Meeting

FAYETTEVILLE, Ga. (AP)—A gas heater that should not have been turned on almost turned a Kiwanis Club meeting into a disaster. Escaping fumes sickened 40 persons attending a ladies night meeting.

Seven ambulances rushed many of the victims to Atlanta hospitals 30 miles away. Others were treated at a Fayetteville clinic. Some had convulsions and others lost consciousness for a few minutes. All were groggy and nauseated, but doctors here and in Atlanta said none was seriously ill.

The victims were attending a meeting in the new Masonic Hall. The heater was installed a few hours before the fumes felled more than half the audience of 65 men and women.

The Atlanta Gas Light Co. said the new heater should not have been in use because it was not vented.

New Governor of Ohio Is Newsman's Delight

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's a story going around that Mike Disalle—the former Price Stabilizer just elected Governor of Ohio—was asked whether he'd be available for President in 1960.

WILSON

"I was available in 1950!" he supposedly replied.

Mike—just back in Toledo after visiting his daughter at St. Mary's in South Bend, and about to visit his parents in Ft. Lauderdale—actually said "ARE YOU KIDDING?" when I asked him the 1960 question by phone.

Born in Greenwich Village, a New Yorker, who went to Ohio to make good, Mike will be "good copy" from Columbus starting Jan. 12. Once when somebody said his political foe Sen. Bricker made a good speech, Mike said, "He should; he's been making it for 30 years." Mike gave an intimate dinner which was crashed by a political notable. Mike told the crasher, "I'd have invited you except that I was afraid you could make it."

TWITTY

Conway Twitty, the hottest new singer in many months, has just been signed for a Perry Como TV spot by Don Seat of Tin Pan Alley who not only manages Twitty but gave him that melodic monicker. Twitty, real name Harold Jenkins, was a handsome fence-busting young minor league ball player whom Seat heard about in Cincinnati and Nashville. Son of a Mississippi ferry boat skipper, who learned to strum the gittar in Helena, Ark., Twitty writes his own songs—and his big one, "It's Only Make Believe," is going to make him the Pat Boone and Johnny Raye of '58.

"I don't know how I thought of that name for him," Seat says, "but when I mentioned it, everybody flipped," Everybody's still flippin'.

Top 4-H Dairyman No Burly Young Man

SOUTH DEERFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Massachusetts' top 4-H dairyman this year does most of the work with 53 animals and counts hunting and shooting as hobbies.

★ ★ ★

But make no mistake — the champ isn't a burly young man. Miss Joan VanPetersilge, 19, a pretty beauty school student, won the state title from among hundreds of 4-H club youths who specialize in dairying.

Extension service officials can't remember when a girl last won the title.

Accidents caused slightly more than 10 per cent of all deaths among pre-school American children 10 years ago, but the figure is about 30 per cent today.

Bing Crosby's Mother Undergoes Eye Surgery

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Bing Crosby's mother had a cataract removed from one eye Tuesday.

The surgeon who performed the operation said Mrs. Kate Crosby is doing fine and should leave Beverly Hills Doctor's Hospital in 10 days.

The singer's wife, actress Kathryn Grant, who recently completed a nurse's aid course, "is doing a fine job assisting in the nursing," he added.

Nash Pens Love Song for Nearsighted Dog

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — And THEN Ogden Nash wrote:

"Candy
Is dandy
But liquor
Is quicker."

It didn't do much for his career or his bank account. The New Yorker magazine eeked out $10 for it, which was scarcely enough to retire on; so Ogden Nash went right on writing advertising copy for Madison Avenue and wondering if the day ever would come when his verse would make him self-supporting.

"Incidentally," he said today, "we don't necessarily call it 'verse.' I think of it, for lack of a more appropriate name, as 'stuff'."

GLOBE DIGGER — The world is just a big apple waiting to be cored, in the opinion of Dr. T. F. Gaskell, shown, right photo, handling a globe possessively in his London, England, office. The chief physicist for the British Petroleum Co. plans to drill a hole 10 miles deep, far outstripping man's deepest penetration of his planet to date. Painting, left, depicts the drill which will be used. Dr. Gaskell believes it may be possible eventually to drill all the way to the earth's center, thought to be a mass of molten iron.

Today — 28 years after "Candy Is Dandy," perhaps his most famous chunk of stuff — Mr. Nash is an affable, bespectacled, modest gentleman of 56 who still must take on outside jobs to pay the bills.

"Even Sandburg and Frost, who write real poetry and are enormously prolific," he comments, "are not driving Jaguars, I notice."

Nash began his career at the age of nine, when his elder sister's marriage left him with mixed emotions. His first doublet:

"Beautiful spring at last is here and has taken my sister away, I fear."

A few hundred rhymes later, he went to Harvard for one year (and has affidavits to prove he quit on his own whim, not the dean's), taught school in Rhode Island for another year, and came to New York to sell bonds. In two years he sold one — to his godmother. "However," he points out, "I saw a lot of good movies."

Finally, Nash got a job on Madison Avenue. Nights and lunch hours, he wrote rhymes. Success and more pay came only after he stumbled into his peculiar Nashian pattern of irregular meter coupled with unusual rhyme (which he refers to as his "individual method for concealing my illiteracy.")

The famed verse writer is currently at work writing lyrics to the music of Serge Prokofieff, to be used in the Nov. 30 ABC-TV spectacular "Art Carney Meets Peter and the Wolf." He has finished four songs for it, but is having a devil of a time at the moment on a poignant love ballad.

"It is a love song to be sung by a nearsighted dog who has become enamored of a duck under the impression she's a water spaniel," he explained wearily, "and a bit of a job."

Although Nash has written music lyrics before (notably, Kurt Weill's "One Touch of Venus"), the lyrics have usually come first, with the composer writing the music around them. This time, the composer cannot change the music to fit Nash's words — "owing to the fact he's dead."

It is not an easy job.

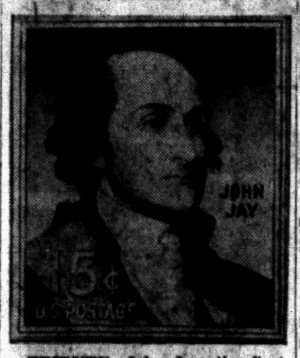

In fact, none of Nash's stuff comes easy.

In fact, it comes hard.

In fact, Ogden Nash has some advice for aspiring young poets. It goes:

"If you can help it, don't."

Philip D. Armour, founder of the meat packing empire which bears his name, was born on a small farm near Oneida, N.Y., in 1832.

TRIBUTE—John Jay, the first Chief Justice of the United States is honored for the first time on a U.S. postage stamp. Stamp is maroon in color.

Measles and Mumps Increase in County

The beginning of the mumps and measles season was evident last week when a total of 30 in Oakland County were reported to be ill with one of the two diseases, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

Eighteen in the county were reported to have the mumps, and seven county and five Pontiac residents were in bed with the measles.

The number of couty polio cases continued to grow last week, with one reported in Avon Township and another in Royal Oak Township. This brings this year's total to 56 compared to 27 for the same time last year.

The following is a list of the communicable diseases reported last week to the county and city health department:

UF Agency Steps in at Crucial Time

Society Gives Girl Hope for Future

Sylvia, a confused and frightened 17-year-old girl, was a picture of despair the day she came to the Oakland County Branch of the Michigan Children's Aid Society, a United Fund agency.

Choked with tears, she told an understanding case worker how she was "terrified" at the thought of possibly being an unmarried mother.

She was an excellent student at high school where she lacked only one semester for graduation. She was highly intelligent, had a good employment record in her part time job, was mature for her years and able to accept responsibility.

Her ambition was to become a teacher, but now, suspecting her pregnancy, she saw her life in ruins and wanted only to run away as far as possible. She felt her family would not understand or accept her problem; that she would ruin her parents' fine reputation.

The trained and capable case worker first tried to convince Sylvia that the society could help her with each facet of her problem. They sent her to a highly respected and understanding area doctor who confirmed her pregnancy.

The society then convinced her that she could finish high school before her pregnancy became noticeable. The doctor and case workers began a tireless effort to bolster her self-respect and set long range planning into motion.

"In such cases it is highly important that early steps be aimed at building a girl's confidence so she will not run away from the help available to her," says Oriel Endelman, executive director of the local branch.

Sylvia was taken to a Maternity Home where she was told of the home's day-to-day activities and shown she would be with other girls faced with the same problems.

The society helped her break the news to her family in a way designed to obtain their understanding. The society helped both Sylvia and her family in their hour of need, and helped further by anticipating questions and situations which might arise.

Case workers helped them to an awareness that this unhappy situation could be either a "stumbling stone" or a "stepping stone" — whichever they made it.

Finally, arrangements were made for the maternity home. After Sylvia had her baby she was given time to decide whether to keep it or release the baby to the society for adoption.

★ ★ ★

She and her family decided it was best not to keep the baby. The society placed the baby in a home with two happy and proud adoptive parents.

★ ★ ★

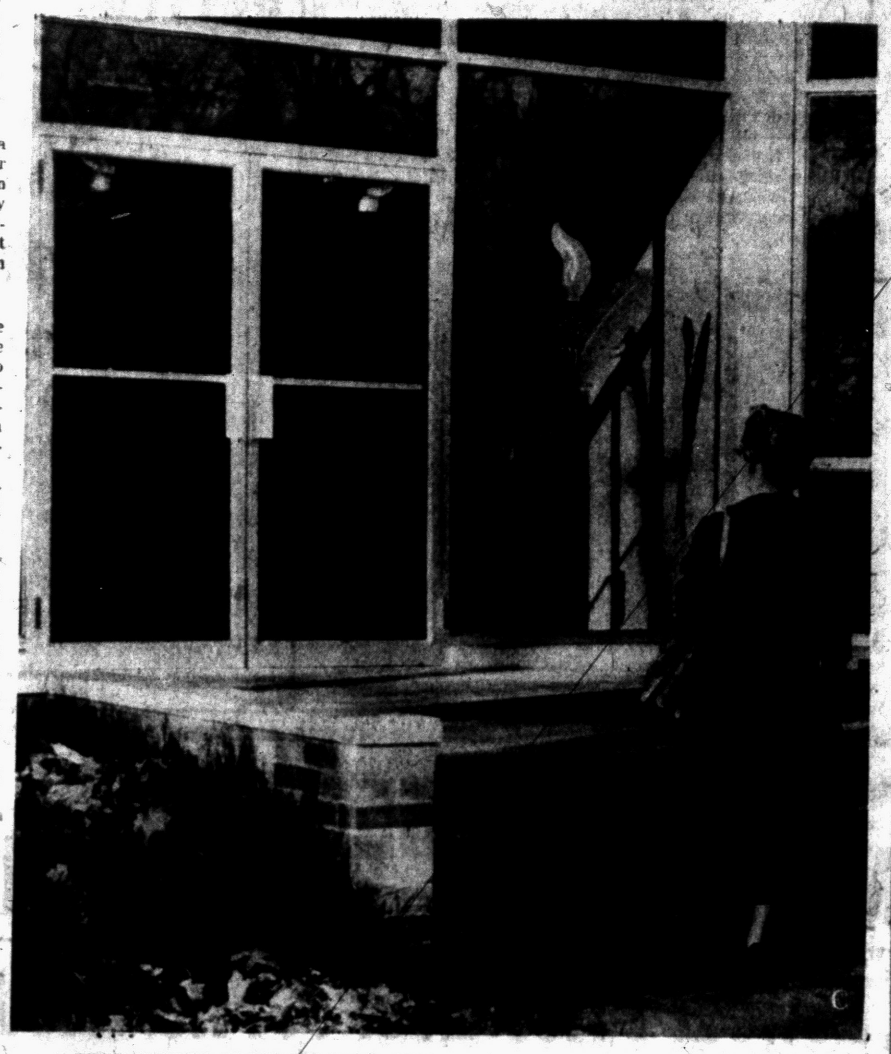

When she left the maternity home, Sylvia knew what errors she had made and why she had made them. She had been led through a "terrifying" time in her life by trained and understanding case workers and was a much wiser and better balanced individual when it was all over.

★ ★ ★

More important, her parents had been shown by the society exactly what need or flaw in their daughter's makeup had been the underlying cause of the situation.

Where is Sylvia today? She is enrolled in one of our leading universities, coming closer each day to the goal which, early in her pregnancy, seemed completely out of reach.

She has the assurance, too, that this bitter part of her past will always remain in the strictest confidence of the society. This is merely one instance in which the Michigan Children's Aid Society, through United Fund contributions, is a constant service to the community, offering aid to those in need.

A STEP TOWARD UNDERSTANDING—This unwed mother hesitatingly walks up the steps to the Community Services Building, on Franklin boulevard. Filled with fear and despair she hopes to find aid at the Pontiac office of the Michigan Children's Aid Society. Here, trained and experienced case workers, supported by United Fund contributions, will attempt to carry her through the hard days ahead, try to uncover the emotional disturbances which led her into her unfortunate situation, and give her a renewed hope for the future, which at this point seems "ruined."

4 Nations Represented at Tuesday Musicale

Pontiac Press Photos

Pontiac Tuesday Musicale presented an International Music Day program yesterday at Grace Lutheran Church. Jose Vega (center), a native of Spain now living in Pontiac, gave patriotic readings during the program. He is pictured with Mrs. Addison Oakley (left), program chairman for the day, and Mrs. Ralph Norvell (right), president of Tuesday Musicale.

Modern Israeli dancing was presented for Tuesday Musicale members by Mrs. Naomi Ruth Schlyfestone (left). She was accompanied by Mrs. James Rosenthal (right) at the piano.

International Program Featured at Musicale

By CHRIS GAENSBAUER

An International Music Day program was presented to members of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale yesterday in the Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church.

The theme for the day took on added significance because the date was Nov. 11, the day we most closely associate with the nation's hopes for peace in the world.

FOUR NATIONALITIES

Mrs. Addison Oakley introduced the performers, representatives of four different nations.

★ ★ ★

Jose Vega, a native of Spain, soon to become an American citizen, recited the American Creed and a short essay on the meaning of our Constitution.

Spoken in a language he still finds difficult to pronounce, his sincerity and pride in his adopted country aroused in the audience an acute awareness of the guaranteed freedoms and privileges of this country which are too frequently taken for granted.

★ ★ ★

Dressed in her native costume, Mrs. Lillian Jleske sang several charming Latvian songs, accompanied by Mrs. Anna Forbat. Her clear lyric soprano voice was well suited to express the varying moods of the light fanciful folk music.

★ ★ ★

Naomi Ruth Schlyfestone of Pontiac danced a group of folk dances from Israeli which depicted, in expressive movement the Israeli determination and joy in the possession of a native soil.

The dances had the Israeli folk quality, but Mrs. Schlyfestone's fine technique and background as a dancer brought them to a level more nearly approaching the art form. She was capably accompanied at the piano by Mrs. James Rosenthal.

HUNGARIAN MUSIC

The melancholy, gypsy characteristics of Hungarian music were brought out by Mrs. Anna Forbat as she played and sang compositions and folk music of that country, attired in native costume.

Mrs. Forbat is an excellent pianist and former student of the late great Hungarian composer Bela Bartok. Her intelligent playing of one of his works demonstrated a facile technique and a thorough understanding of this pleasing (in this case) but sometimes difficult contemporary composer.

★ ★ ★

Six members of the Tuesday Musicale Chorus appropriately closed the musical portion of the program with "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," the words of which are part of the poem by Emma Lazarus used as the inscription at the base of The Statue of Liberty.

The vocalists were Rose Jorgenson, Mrs. J. K. Helvey, Yvonne Smith, Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks, Mrs. Collis Scott and Mrs. Fred Stimpert, directed by Mrs. George Putnam and accompanied by Mrs. Donald Hogue.

★ ★ ★

As a sort of postlude, Mr. Vega recited a short poem entitled "America, I Love You" with an earnestness and unembarrassed patriotic zeal that was deeply moving.

BUSINESS MEETING HELD

Mrs. Ralph Norvell, club president, presided at the business meeting.

Door hostesses were Mrs. C. E. Armstrong and Mrs. Alex Capsalis. Mrs. G. V. Poole and Mrs. J. V. Walker were tea table hostesses. Serving on the floral committee were Mrs. Harry C. Hall and Mrs. Gilbert Every.

Mrs. N. W. Gray was social committee chairman with Mrs. J. N. Youngblood cochairman. Assisting were Mrs. H. J. Wood, Mrs. H. L. White, Mrs. L. V. Ostrander, Mrs. C. G. Uligian, Mrs. D. J. Robertson and Mrs. M. R. Voss.

Coordinate Courses With Dec. 2 Concert

Symphony to Benefit Schools

The Dec. 2 concert of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra will be held in its new quarters at Pontiac Northern High School.

★ ★ ★

With the new enlarged seating area, a plan is under way in conjunction with the music departments of the city and county to coordinate the symphony's programs with the material taught in the classroom.

Prior to each concert, a list of selections will be provided to the schools to be included in their study courses. Invitations will then be issued to various music departments to bring their students to the concerts as guests of the symphony.

In this way it is felt that the musical education of the students will be greatly enhanced and broadened.

★ ★ ★

This new development has been made possible by the financial support which has placed the symphony in a sufficiently strong position to help the youth of the city and Oakland county, officials said.

Italian Club Plans Party

Plans for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 4 at Devon Gables were made when the Women's Italian-American Club Auxiliary met at the group's new hall. Mrs. Ralph Mazza and Mrs. Robert Mazza were named chairmen for the party.

Mrs. Donald Lucarelli and Mrs. Thomas Powers are chairmen for a children's Christmas party. Hostesses at the Monday meeting were Mrs. Sam Calabrese and Mrs. Henry Felice.

Place a Mirror Near the Baby

A bored and fussy Baby often will be intrigued by watching himself in a mirror. When Baby has to-be alone, try putting a mirror near the playpen and see what happens. However, don't depend on it as a substitute for you or other members of the family.

PATRICIA M. McGINTY

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. McGinty of Lochaven road announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia May, to Robert Lertola, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lertola of Utica. No wedding date has been set.

Comfy and Chic

This winter, the fur-trimmed boot is a city fashion. It's a smart way to keep your feet warm and dry and chic all at once.

Wellesley Clubs to Meet Friday

Birmingham Wellesley Club and Detroit Wellesley Club will have a joint meeting at 12:30 p.m. Friday at the Birmingham home of Mrs. John Campbell.

Assisting at the luncheon meeting will be Mrs. Glen Davis, Mrs. Norman H. Berry and Mrs. Oliver Marcotte.

National secretary of the Wellesley College Development Fund, Mrs. Norman Staub of Evanston, Ill., will present the program and describe her role to fellow alumnae.

Sorority Plans Nov. 25 Dinner

Mrs. Wayne Anable was hostess at her First street home Tuesday evening for the meeting of Omega Mu Sigma Sorority. Mrs. Walter LaPlante was cohostess.

Plans were made for a cooperative dinner, to be held at the Woodbine street home of Mrs. Louis Livingston Nov. 25.

Dear Abby . . .

Woman of 74 Rejects Benefits Rather Than Admit Her Age

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Our sister is 74 years old and she has money piling up under the Old Age Benefits, but believe it or not she won't collect it because she doesn't want to admit her age. I've tried to talk to her and so have others, but it is like talking to a brick wall. How can we convince her that she should forget her vanity and take what she has coming to her under the law?" HER SISTERS

ABBY

DEAR SISTERS: Contact your local Social Security office. They've heard that song before and will be glad to furnish you with some convincing arguments.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I read your column every day to see if I can find someone as crazy as I was. I lived with this man for 15 years and we have two children. Not once did he ask me if I wanted to get married. When we got together he had nothing, but now he is sitting pretty. He worked hard for what he has but I helped him. Everyone thinks we are man and wife.

"I am sick of bringing up the subject because he says a little piece of paper doesn't make any difference. He doesn't run around on me and he treats me better than some married men treat their wives, but how do I get him to legalize my name?" LIVING IN SIN

DEAR LIVING: (You are EXISTING; he is LIVING) Perhaps he doesn't realize that you two could go quietly to a clergyman and have him perform a simple ceremony. No filing, no public notices, no waiting. Ask your clergyman.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My problem is an overly neat wife. She gave away my fishing hat and all the fishing clothes I had. She also cleaned me out of every comfortable pair of shoes I wore for gardening and around the house. My high school sweater is also missing and I kept it for 14 years. As soon as I get used to something she gives it away. She says she can't stand shabby things around. How can I cure her once and for all?" PLAIN MAD

★ ★ ★

DEAR PLAIN: Every woman has a favorite extra comfortable old girdle. Confiscate it and see if that doesn't snap her back to attention.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am a 64-year-old woman who has been taking care of a 93-year-old man for two years. I have never had a day off in all that time. I do his cooking, cleaning, laundry and even gardening (75 ft. by 200 ft.). He found out I could do office work so I am also taking care of his finances. He willed me $10,000 but he told his lawyer he has no intention of letting me have it as he is going to try to outlive me and the way things are going the chances are good.

"I draw $250 a month. He is as mean as the devil himself and pretends to be sleeping when I pass by him, but he will pinch me hard. I don't drink or smoke. Should I walk out or wait?" TIRED

DEAR TIRED: Your present working conditions are far from ideal, but many a 64-year-old woman would be glad to change places with you. If you can get a job more to your liking, take it—otherwise, stay where you are. Your job will do in a pinch. (P.S. How hard can a 93-year-old man pinch?)

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO FRAN: Trying to stop an affair at this stage is like trying to stop a toboggan going full speed ahead. But remember—you deliberately climbed aboard, looking for something to happen.

Plans Nov. 21 Tea

BPW Club Holds Dinner

Members of the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club met for dinner Tuesday evening at Hotel Waldron.

Mrs. Anne Stapp told of the success of the group's recent scholarship benefit party, and Roberta Rapaport reported on the meeting of the Greater Pontiac Advisory Council and Planning Commission.

President Ora Randall and Fritzi Stoddard will represent the Club at the Needlework Guild Ingathering Nov. 13.

Club members were invited to a tea, to be given Nov. 21 by the Bell Telephone Co. at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building, honoring Eva Dyer who is retiring.

Hostesses for the evening were Jane Danton, Julia Dimond, Janet Dow, Mrs. Edward Eickmeier and Mrs. Rita Rose.

Season cooked lentils with sauteed onion strips and crisp crumbled bacon. The bacon drippings may be used for cooking the onion.

Acceptance of Ourself Blunts Criticism

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. R. writes, "I am 36, the mother of three children; but my father can still make me feel about 4 years old.

"He belongs to a religious sect that forbids smoking. As I no longer belong to it, I smoke occasionally. But not before Papa. Yet I'm sure he knows I smoke. It's the pretense he forces on me that makes me feel like two cents."

Why is Mrs. R. afraid of her father's condemnation?

If she is reading this column, I wish she'd stop right here — and instead of reading on to my answer, let this question start to ferment inside her. The result may be an answer far more productive to her than any I can suggest.

However, here's mine.

I think that Mrs. R.'s fear of her father's condemnation is really fear of self-condemnation. I think she's got some high-minded ideal of herself that starts scolding her whenever she does something weak and disappointing.

If we are persons who can tolerate our own weaknesses, we are not panicked by the prospect of somebody else's condemnation of them.

If Mrs. R. were such a person, she'd have long since been able to say to her cigarette-disapproving father, "Papa, smoking an occasional cigarette may indeed be moral weakness in me. But pretending I don't do it is not going to make me morally strong. It is just going to make me dishonest and uncomfortable. Surely neither of us wants that."

The Accuser that is making her feel like two cents is the one inside of her.

It's the voice of that high-minded ideal of herself.

So in my opinion, it's a waste of time for her to go on imagining that she's scared of displeasing Papa when what actually frightens her is displeasing that virtuous ideal of herself.

To recover from fear of other people's criticisms, we always have to begin by working on fear of our own.

We have to demolish that high-minded ideal of ourselves that starts scolding whenever we disappoint it, so that we can learn to live in peace with ourselves.

It's our claim to virtues we have not developed that makes us suffer when confronted with criticism.

Central School PTA Plans Penny Supper

Central School PTA is sponsoring a penny supper and open house Thursday evening. The supper will be served from 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The open house, an annual event, will begin at 6:15 p.m. through 8:15 p.m. Teachers will be in their rooms to greet parents and explain their children's work.

Chairmen Appointed

Committee chairmen appointed at the Monday evening meeting of Daughters of Isabella, held in K. of C. Hall, are Mrs. Georg Michaels, membership; Mrs. Floyd Sanchez, National Council of Catholic Women; and Mrs. Frank Quinlan, welfare. Mrs. Louis Koprince and Mrs. F. W. Sterman served refreshments.

His Dating Manners Need Parents' Push

By RUTH MILLETT

If he is old enough to date, he is old enough to be made to understand that:

When he takes a girl out in the family car he is actually taking her life in his hands. If he is tempted to show off at the wheel, he is risking not only his own neck but hers, too.

If her parents tell her to be in at a certain time, he is responsible for getting her home on the dot—even if she doesn't press the point.

If he dates her, he shouldn't talk about her in any way that could hurt her reputation.

If he makes a date he has to keep it, no matter what else comes along that he would rather do.

When he makes a date for eight o'clock he shouldn't be early and he shouldn't be late.

He should be perfectly willing to meet her family and should show her parents such little courtesies as rising when they come into the room, telling them good night when he leaves the house, and so on.

If he expects a girl to look her best when she goes out with him, he should go to the trouble of dressing appropriately, too.

When he asks a girl to go to a movie he ought to give her a chance to express a preference for the movie she would like to see.

When he telephones a girl for a date he should have the courage to come right out and ask for it instead of putting her on the spot with, "What are you doing Saturday night?"

Just because he goes steady with a girl, he shouldn't expect to hang out at her house all the time.

PERFUME

Wherever you go . . . let heavenly fragrance follow you. If you have a favorite perfume then buy it's companion cologne and splash it on your body after each bath. Save the perfume for pulse spots.
Your body heat will do the most in bringing out the essence of your cologne. Since heat rises, start with your feet and legs in the cologne treatment.
Thus your scintillating feminine fragrance will seem to come from within. No dab of perfume behind the ears will ever achieve this effect. We do encourage you to use your special bottle of perfume . . . it will deteriorate with time.

Carol Frances Pendleton Weds Joseph B. Galiardi

Carol Frances Pendleton and Joseph Bert Galiardi were married Saturday evening at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Elder Roland Curtis officated at the ceremony before 175 guests.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford S. Pendleton of Eastway drive and Mrs. Anthony Galiardi of St. Charles and the late Mr. Galiardi.

The bride wore a princess style dress of white brocade taffeta with a sweetheart neckline. A matching headpiece held her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and ivy centered with a white rose corsage.

Mary Lee Brockman of Sparta, Wis., was maid of honor. Mrs. William O'Donnell of Pentwater was the bridesmaid. Both wore emerald green taffeta sheath dresses with chiffon overskirts. Their cascade bouquets were of white carnations and ivy.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Best man was Donald Bernardoni of St. Charles. Seating the guests were Robert Brady and Angelo Pavesi, both of St. Charles, and Craig Pendleton.

MRS. JOSEPH B. GALIARDI

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The bride selected a Kelly green wool sheath dress with the corsage from her bridal bouquet for her going-away outfit.

The couple will live in Mount Pleasant where both are attending Central Michigan College. The bride also attended Graceland College, Lamoni, Iowa.

Mrs. Pendleton wore a Dior blue wool dress with red accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Galiardi was dressed in a beige and black dress with black accessories. Both had red sweetheart roses.

McConnell Set for Open House, PTA Meeting

Children's work will be displayed in classrooms and teachers will be on hand for conferences with parents at the annual Open House of McConnell School, to be held at 7 p.m. Thursday. A PTA meeting will follow at 8:15 p.m.

Highlight of the program will be a speaker from the training school of Leader Dogs for the Blind.

Homeroom mothers will act as hostesses in the classrooms. Mrs. Vernon Macon will be in charge of refreshments.

Venerable 'Bead'

Look for all-beaded short evening dresses this year. They turn up in a variety of glittering colors. Newest type of beaded dress has jet in all-over designs.

VFW Auxiliary Takes in Two New Members

Membership was granted Mrs. Lessie Anderson and Mary Couture when the VFW 1008 Auxiliary met Monday at the Post Hall on Pike street for inspection.

Evelyn Fletcher, Fifth District officer, was in charge of the program. Mrs. Paul Boelter was in charge of the luncheon.

Funds to purchase terry cloth robes for children at the VFW National Home were donated. Donations also were given to the organ fund at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, and a VFW member who is ill.

Creamy Coated Walnuts Have Hint of Cinnamon

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Walnuts are showing up on grocers' shelves now. One unusual way to serve them is to spice them the way Mrs. Ray Mattson does. These would make a delightful Christmas gift.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Mattson exercises her green thumb in a minute greenhouse in her basement. She likes outdoor gardening too. Leading a Brownie troop and sewing are other activities that keep her busy. The Mattsons have two daughters.

SPICED WALNUTS
By Mrs. Ray Mattson

1 cup sugar
6 tablespoons milk
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 cups walnut halves

Put sugar, milk and cinnamon in a saucepan. Cook slowly to soft ball stage. Remove from heat. Add vanilla and walnuts. Stir until coating turns creamy. Drop on waxed paper to cool, separating each nutmeat, if desired.

Ruth M. Coleman Wed in St. Michael Ceremony

Wearing a white floor-length gown of Chantilly lace, Ruth M. Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coleman of Opdyke road, became the bride of George W. Johnson Saturday morning. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Johnson of South Astor street.

The ceremony was performed in St. Michael Catholic Church by the Rev. Norman Thomas before 150 guests.

The bride's gown featured long sleeves and a scoop neckline, and a crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered by a white orchid.

Dorothy A. Coleman was her sister's maid of honor and Rachael Ann Buckner of Detroit was the bridesmaid. Both wore ballerina-length aqua print chiffon dresses with aqua accessories, and they carried cascade bouquets of white carnations.

★ ★ ★

Junior bridesmaids Carol Ann Johnson, the bridegroom's sister, and Carolyn Coleman, another of the bride's sisters, wore matching taffeta dresses with aqua accessories. Their colonial bouquets were of white carnations. Karen Crosby of Holly was flower girl. Her white nylon dress matched the bride's gown.

Best man was Gerald Johnson, the bridegroom's brother. Ushers included Robert Boeneman, Jack Briggs and Clifford Guyette. Raymond Gollinger was ringbearer.

A reception for 300 guests was held at Bemis Olson Amvets Post Hall. Before leaving for a honeymoon to northern Michigan, the bride changed to a royal blue suit with black accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

★ ★ ★

The couple will live on Williams drive.

Mrs. Coleman wore a blue lace dress with navy blue accessories for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Johnson was dressed in rose lace with white accessories. Both had orchid corsages.

Past Noble Grands Name New Officers

New officers were elected at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Past Noble Grands Club of Pontiac Rebecca Lodge No. 450, held at the Rochester home of Mrs. Hazel Wegner. They are Mrs. Fredericka Schwark, president; Mrs. Leon Holman, vice president; Mrs. Orry Ritter, secretary; and Mrs. Howard Smith, treasurer.

Plans were made for a Christmas party and exchange of gifts at Mrs. Florence McCrae's home on Rutgers street, Dec. 9.

Four Basic Food Groups Easier

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The government has streamlined its Seven Basic Foods to four basic food groups. This is a good idea I think because it always seemed to me that there was an overlapping in the former classification which was confusing. Today and tomorrow I want to bring you this new guide to health through fine nutrition.

The four groups are the Milk Group, the Meat Group, the Vegetable-Fruit Group and the Bread-Cereal Group. The Milk Group includes milk (fluid whole, evaporated, skim, dry, buttermilk.) Also in this group are cheese and ice cream. The Vegetable-Fruit Group includes all vegetables and fruits. The guide emphasizes those fruits and vegetables which are good sources of vitamins C and A.

The Meat Group includes beef, lamb, veal, pork, heart, liver, kidney, eggs, poultry, fish and shellfish. As substitutes dry peas and beans, lentils, nuts and peanut butter are included. Your daily menus should include two or more servings from the meat group.

In the Bread-Cereal Group we find bread and cereals (all breads and cereals which are whole grain, enriched or restored). In this group also are crackers, flour, grits, spaghetti, macaroni, rice, noodles, hot breads and all baked goods if made out of whole grain or enriched or restored flour.

From the Vegetable-Fruit Group it is recommended that you choose four or more servings a day, one of which should be a fine source of vitamin C and one a fine source of vitamin A. The citrus fruits and juices are the best source of vitamin C. Peppers, strawberries and broccoli are good, too. The deep green and yellow vegetables are splendid sources of vitamin A.

Even people who feel that they eat well may have surprises when they compare their daily intake to the standards of best nutrition. Tomorrow I will tell you more about the Milk and Bread-Cereal Groups.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my leaflet "Vitamins in Your Diet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 38. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "So You're a Big Girl—You Still Need Milk."

The Bread-Cereal Group is one of the four Basic Food groups.

Postcard Is Better Than Call

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be considered improper, or forward, for a young woman to telephone a young man to tell him that she has arrived in his city? I met this young man almost a year ago on a double date when he visited friends in my home town.

"When he said goodbye, he told me to be sure and call him if I ever came to his city, and I'm sure he meant it sincerely. However, I haven't been in touch with him since that time and don't know whether it would be proper to call him or not.

Answer: Rather than call him on the telephone, I think it would be better to send him a card from the hotel and say, "I am staying here for a few days and hope you may have time to stop in to see me." Then you have to leave any next step up to him.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What are the proper decorations for a wedding breakfast? This will be limited to the families and everyone will be seated at one large table. May a color be used on this table even when the bride is wearing all white?

Answer: White is always the chosen color when possible. The chief decoration on the bridal table is the wedding cake always elaborately iced and placed in front of the bride and groom.

In Sewing Area

Keep Letter 'U' in Mind

In setting up an efficient sewing area, the letter "U" is the thing to keep in mind, according to a clothing specialist at Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

Arrange your equipment in a U shape, with your sewing machine at the center of the U, a work surface for laying out and cutting fabric on one side, and a surface for pressing on the other. Sewing supplies should be kept in drawers within easy reach of the area.

★ ★ ★

Make sure your sewing area is well lighted. Besides a good overall light, you need a close lamp, other than the one on your sewing machine. This lamp should direct bright light on your work and should be placed in back and slightly to the left of the needle of the machine below eye level.

★ ★ ★

Remember, darker fabrics and dark winter days call for more light than do light fabrics and bright, sunny days.

Madison JHS Counselor

Having problems is characteristic of life.

One of the challenges of guidance and of all education is to help students meet, solve, or adjust to problems. Children need to develop skill in making choices and adjustments at each stage of development.

Guidance in the Pontiac schools, whether on an individual or group basis, includes all those services which contribute to a student's understanding of himself—his attitudes, interests, abilities, his physical, mental and social maturity, and his personal and social needs.

Guidance is not something to be learned. It is a process by which the teamwork of school personnel helps students move in the direction of making adjustments or meeting a need. It can be accomplished only when the people involved know each other, care about each other and have confidence in each other.

While some guidance goals can be achieved in a group situation, others demand individual attention. Pontiac's guidance program holds that, despite the assembly line-automation approach to education in some circles, recognition of and provision for the individual are vital to his well being.

In the elementary grades students work with one teacher throughout the day and her intimate knowledge of each pupil enables her to play a capable counselor-role.

Beginning with the seventh grade the homeroom organization requires changing rooms and teachers each hour. Consequently, close teacher-student relationships become difficult, sometimes impossible.

Throughout the secondary grades (7-12) trained and experienced counselors are available to all students at all times.

★ ★ ★

In voluntary personal interviews, students are given the opportunity to communicate with the counselor privately and informally. During these conversations the student and counselor discuss freely all aspects of problem identification, causes and possible solutions, and the probable consequences involved.

An important concept in guidance is that the process results in self-direction on the part of the student rather than in decisions made for him by someone else. This involves mutual study and learning by both counselor and counselee and is a time-consuming technique.

Often interviews with the counselor lead to further contacts with the persons who are in a position to aid in particular problems. These may be of a personal, emotional, social, academic, religious, occupational, or educational nature.

The adolescent must adjust to changes in himself and his environment. Decisions must be made daily and this creates a need for the ability to solve problems.

This ability to solve one's own problems is necessary in a democracy, and Pontiac's guidance program is geared to furnish every student an opportunity to develop himself to the maximum in this regard.

If education is to help prepare individuals make life-long adjustments, guidance in problem-solving is an essential of education.

Pretty Young Mother Latest Singing Star

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP) "In 1955 I got married, in 1956 I had a little boy, in 1957 I had another little boy — and now, in 1958, I've got a career!"

It's a career as a recording star Fran Lacey is talking about. From a quiet life on a side street in a Los Angeles suburb this pretty young mother has suddenly stepped into a new world of bright lights, celebrities, interviews and guest appearances.

★ ★ ★

"My mother is taking care of the children today so I can get my hair done — of course I have to have it done for tomorrow, because that's when I'm supposed to be on the disc jockey programs."

That's the way things are going these days for Fran. It all started when some neighbors heard her sing and told a friend who owns a record company.

The neighbors talked the friend, Russ Malloy, into auditioning her. She showed up without any sheet music and wasn't sure what she wanted to sing. The band, the Buddy Collette group, had to tell her which key to use.

She used it so well Malloy signed her up.

Fran's maiden name was Bufkin, her married name Menns. Malloy renamed her Lacey and had her record an album of ballads.

"Fran" is the name of it. It's got her picture almost life-sized on the cover. It's the sort of a thing the other young housewives in Fran's neighborhood in Buena Park stare at as if it were Cinderella's slipper.

★ ★ ★

"It's all so exciting," says Fran. "The album is just coming out this week, and now they're talking about my getting a manager, and an agent, and going on television —and maybe in night clubs."

Fran was a secretary not long arrived here from Visalia, Calif., when she met and married Les Menns, a metals salesman. What does Les think of Fran's sudden step into a career?

"It's kind of hard to say," she says. "I think he may be kind of afraid things might be . . . well, sort of changing too fast."

Hal Boyle Says:

Weaponless Man Helpless in Modern Age

NEW YORK (AP) — Theodore Roosevelt once advised, "Speak softly—and carry a big stick."

Most men today speak real softly, but few carry a stick. This may be why the modern city man feels so helpless.

Social critics deplore the fading masculinity of the American male. One way to restore it might be to revive the fine old manly custom of carrying a walking stick or cane.

★ ★ ★

At present anyone wearing a cane is regarded as being afflicted either with snobbishness or a physical infirmity, such as rheumatism or the agonies of gout.

This attitude is all wrong and, I strongly suspect, probably woman-inspired.

Why should women want to spread the idea that cane-wearing is sissified: Why, for their own selfish ends—to make men less and less able to cope with them.

In our cave dwelling prime when every bucko carried a club, woman was afraid to turn her back on man — and always followed respectfully three paces behind him. If she got out of line, or ear-jawed her husband too much, he simply belted her back into place.

Over the centuries she gradually cajoled him into carrying a smaller and smaller club, finally sold the foolish oaf on the ridiculous theory he should quit carrying a stick altogether because it made him look like a sissy.

So what happened? Like another Sampson shorn of his symbol of strength, modern man has become a weakling. He follows meekly behind woman into elevators, trails her to the feed trough—the buffet table—gets the last seat on the bus, if any.

Woman, on the other hand, has not been so foolish as to abandon her own self-defense. She has increased it. She prowls the town packing either a parasol slender enough to inflict a mortal wound, or a handbag heavy enough to fell a rampaging elephant.

★ ★ ★

No wonder weaponless man feels so helpless in this civilization. In any sudden trouble a husband has to rush to his wife to find any real protection.

But put a cane in a man's hands even for a few moments, and watch the marvelous change in him. He feels a foot taller. He is D'Artagnan.

He stabs at a hydrant, he spears at a falling leaf. The remnant caveman in him surges into new life. A glorious feeling of power sweeps through his veins.

★ ★ ★

The cane becomes a living extension of his muscles. He waves it aloft. He sniffs the air. He is ready to fend off mad dogs, muggers—even bill collectors.

"I'd like to see any woman try to grab a taxi away from me now," he mutters. "I'd smash her to the pavement, pin her to the ground, and drive away laughing."

★ ★ ★

He does laugh—a little wildly. It has been so long, so very, very long, since he felt in any way equal to women.

Let 40 million men start carrying a stout walking stick again and you'd see a proud new rebirth of American manhood.

And women? Well, they might find they kind of liked a change in the present situation, too.

Dem Chairman Wins Pass to GOP Dinner

TULSA, Okla (AP) — Tommy D. Frasier, chairman of the Tulsa County Democratic Committee, wasn't present when his ticket was drawn at a club event. But it probably was just as well.

The prize entitled him to attend the Republican Minute Men's dinner.

No Tax; Land Not His

BISMARCK, N. D. (UPI) — Farmer Harvey Nelson knows now why the county tax office always refused his payment of taxes on a 40-acre strip of land he began farming in 1949. Nelson thought he obtained the land as part of an 80-acre purchase from another farmer, but when he sold his farm recently he learned part of the land belonged to someone else.

The historic term "Thespians" for actors comes from Thespis, known as the father of Greek tragic drama.

FIRST WOMAN — Mrs. Mary G. Roebling, above, is the first woman ever to achieve a top policy-making post on a major stock exchange. Mrs. Roebling, mother of two, was named to the 32-member Board of Governors of the American Stock Exchange in New York.

Oliver Goldsmith, Canada's first native-born poet, was a grand-nephew of the Irish poet of the same name.

3 Weeks Gives Visit to Hawaii, Africa, India

Jets to Let Family Vacation in Paris or Rio

Americans' vacations are in for a change.

In the time it takes New Yorkers to drive to a vacation spot on Cape Cod, Mass., they could fly to Paris in a jet clipper.

From a viewpoint of the man with a vacation, the jets—to be introduced on European runs this fall—change the old adage "time is money" to "time is choice."

With the French, Italian and Spanish Rivieras half as far away, many Americans are expected to choose the Mediterranean's winter warmth—combining sun, sea and sand with a few days in Paris or Rome.

On the other hand, for this winter the choice between the United States best ski terrain—in the West—and the slopes at Davos, St. Anton or Cortina d'Ampezzo will be made much easier. In the seven hours skiers can be in Paris and a few hours later in Switzerland, Austria or Italy where skiing is not only more spectacular and varied but also much less expensive.

SHRINK WORLD

Jet speeds will shrink the world by 40 per cent. Areas Americans with three weeks' vacation have always wanted to visit will soon be within easy reach. The Far East, India, South Africa, trips around South America have been on the "dream" lists of thousands of Americans for a long time and when jet clipper service is extended to these areas the dream can become reality within a two or three-week vacation period.

★ ★ ★

Another dream of most Americans is a family trip abroad. Children make good air travelers, but many parents have felt that a trip to Europe or South America represented too many hours of flying for their children.

The jet clippers will solve this. In the hours it takes the average family to drive a few hundred miles to the summer cottage they could be in Europe, the Caribbean, Central America or Hawaii. Family vacation travel by iar, consequently, is expected to rise sharply.

The inauguration of jet clipper flights across the Atlantic will follow shortly after the introduction of transatlantic family fare reductions to be offered between Oct. 15 and March 31.

Jet speeds, appealing particularly to those with limited vacation time — or the great majority of Americans — will mean that the trend toward international travel for the average traveler will be strengthened considerably. Speed, plus economy fare, will bring a Paris trip into the vacation planning of millions more Americans.

★ ★ ★

As a result of jet service, the airlines expect a 10 to 15 per cent increase in travel to Europe in 1959. The jet clipper will add about 3,000 seats a week to transatlantic capacity during the peak period.

ARRIVE READY TO GO

With every day at the destination counting among those with limited vacation time, the jets have a bonus in addition to speed. Flying at up to 40,000 feet, they will be above the weather. The jet clippers' vibration-free, quiet cabin will make for a restful and quiet as well as quick trip. The vacation traveler will arrive at his destination fresh and ready to go.

Customs and baggage clearance officials are working on dures to match jet speeds. One jet clipper can carry 165 economy-class passengers and the new procedures will enable them to get through formalities quicker than today's 80 passengers.

Beyond the gateways, the jets' increased loads will bring changes in both transport and accommodations. The completion of jet deliveries for overseas service will mean a doubling of annual tourist spending abroad—from two to four billion a year—it is estimated.

★ ★ ★

However, since the jets will make international travel possible for more and more medium-income people, spending per person will probably decrease — creating demand for more good, but reasonably priced, accommodations, tours and facilities.

★ ★ ★

Taken together, the jet's advantages will do more than anything since the invention of the airplane itself to liberate the average man's vacation from one of what is called its "two grim keepers—time and money."

Police Chief Asks Money to Help Buy Whisky

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—The police department wants some whisky money, but Chief Murrell Waddle explains it's not for grog rations.

★ ★ ★

He wants the city to provide the money so officers can make buys in efforts to catch local bootleggers. Waddle said the officers have been getting the money out of their own personal funds.

Flint Parents Notified

Search for Student Flier

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Small boats, helicopters and skin divers resumed their search of Pensacola Bay today for a missing Navy student flier from Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Ensign Donald L. Sterling, 23, of Flint, Mich., last was seen about noon Sunday. His car was found parked at the edge of the bay. It contained a diving mask and flippers. Friends said Sterling was an enthusiastic swimmer and skin diver.

Sterling, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Homer J. Sterling of Flint, was stationed at Saufley Field, an auxiliary of the air station. He entered fight training June 28.

★ ★ ★

Naval officials have officially listed Sterling, a graduate of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, as missing.

If Parents Allergic, Child Likely Victim

DETROIT (AP)—If both parents of a child are allergic, the chances are 3 to 1 the child will be allergic.

If only one parent is allergic, the odds go down to about 1 in 3.

These estimates were given the Michigan Academy of General Practice today by Dr. Harold I. Lecks, allergist at Children's Hospital in Philadelphia. The academy is an organization of general practitioners in medicine.

Dr. Lecks said child allergies usually can be solved without expensive skin tests. He said the parents and family doctor usually can track down the offending substance by patient observation.

Adlai's Ex-Wife Battling Her Mother for Mansion

CHICAGO (UPI) — Adlai E. Stevenson's ex-wife and ex-mother-in-law feuded today over possession of their old family mansion.

Mrs. Ellen Borden Stevenson, who divorced the two-time presidential candidate when he was governor of Illinois, filed suit in Circuit Court against her mother, Mrs. John Alden Carpenter.

She demanded possession of the old Borden mansion on Chicago's Lake Shore Drive for herself and her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Borden Hines of New York.

Mrs. Carpenter, a patron of the arts and the opera, declared herself "shocked" at her daughter's suit.

★ ★ ★

"My daughter has been very ill-advised," Mrs. Carpenter said. "I love my daughter and my first thoughts are of her."

Mrs. Carpenter's attorney, Albert E. Jenner, was not so kind. He called Mrs. Stevenson's suit "scandalous" and indicated there would be a court fight if the case is pressed.

At issue was a 36-room mansion, one of the last of the old, luxurious homesteads remaining on Chicago's "Gold Coast."

★ ★ ★

Until last May, Mrs. Stevenson, an amateur poetess, used the mansion as a center of Chicago's art activities.

Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Stevenson's father, the late John Borden, were divorced in 1924. Mrs. Stevenson contended in her suit that her father allowed his wife to live in the mansion "only until she remarried."

Mrs. Stevenson contended her mother lost her right to the house when she married the late composer, John Alden Carpenter, in 1933.

Mrs. Stevenson also sought repayment of $30,000 in rent she said she paid to her mother.

Housewife Kidnaped for ½ Hour, Robbed

DETROIT (AP) — A masked gunman who kidnaped a Detroit housewife for half an hour and then robbed her of $80 was sought today by police.

Mrs. Jenny Middleman, 52, told police a man with a silk stocking mask over his face approached her last night as she got into her car at a west side parking lot.

She said the man pointed a pistol at her, ordered her to move over and got behind the wheel. After driving about for half an hour, the gunman took Mrs. Middleman's money, coat, shoes and keys to the car and fled on foot.

The woman was not harmed.

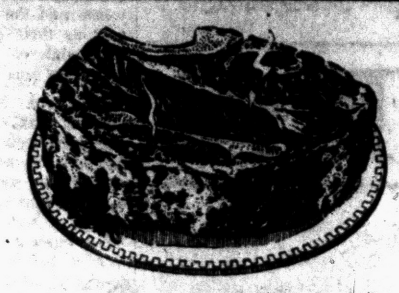

Man Trapped in Cave-In Said in Good Condition

DETROIT (AP) — Mario Tacitto, a 34-year-old construction supervisor, escaped serious injury yesterday when he was trapped 11 minutes in a sewer cave-in in suburban Redford Township.

Fellow workers freed Tacitto after an avalanche of earth had buried him up to his shoulders. Tacitto suffered a broken leg and back injuries. Wayne County General Hospital doctors described his condition as good.

The South Pacific Railroad was incorporated in the 1880s in Kentucky, where its "corporate" home was a small white house until about 10 years ago, when it was shifted to Delaware.

U.S. Entry Disqualified in International

Aussie Horse Wins on Foul

LAUREL, Md. (UPI) — A. G. (Bert) Dibb, who sold Sailor's Guide to Dr. Leon Levy of Philadelphia following the Australian horse's victory in the Washington D. C. International, today declared he would not have entered a foul claim against Tudor Era's jockey.

Tudor Era, one of the two American entries in yesterday's classic at Laurel, finished 3½ lengths ahead of Sailor's Guide but was disqualified for bumping the Australian horse on the stretch turn and placed second.

The foul claim, upheld by the stewards, was made by Howard Grant, the American rider of Sailor's Guide, against jockey Willie Harmatz on Tudor Era.

However, Dibb later appeared quite surprised at Grant's action. "In our country," the Australian horseman said, "the jockey is not permitted to claim foul without permission from the owner or trainer of the horse."

"I would not have given that permission," Dibb added.

Because of Grant's foul claim, the official result of the race was held up almost a half hour while the stewards studied movies of the race and also conferred with both riders.

Satisfied that Grant's objection was justified, the stewards ordered the disqualification of Tudor Era and awarded the winner's purse of $70,000 to Dibb. The Australian sportsman, who purchased Sailor's Guide for only $1,750 as a yearling, then turned around and sold the horse to Levy for a reported $55,000.

★ ★ ★

Levy said he will race Sailor's Guide in California next winter and then will retire the horse to stud at the conclusion of the 1959 campaign.

The seventh edition of the International was the most dramatic — and roughest — in its brief history. The start was delayed seven minutes as the 10 horses from seven countries jostled each other while their riders vied for a good "jump" from the walk-up.

Tudor Era got the best jump and led every step of the way in the mile and one-half journey. However, Zaryad, one of the Russian invaders, dwelt at the start and never got into the 'chase, winding up last.

Garnir, the other Russian entry, raced with the leaders during the early stages and then fell back to finish sixth.

Ballymoss, Ireland's "wonder horse" who was the favorite of a record Maryland racing crowd of 40,276, turned in a disappointing performance, finishing almost four lengths off the pace in third place. He, too, ran into traffic trouble.

"We met interference a couple of times," said Scobie Breasley, Ballymoss' rider. "However, he ran very well considering the circumstances."

★ ★ ★

Tharp, another Irish entry ridden by Eddie Arcaro, finished fourth and was followed by Germany's Orsini, Garnir, Venezuela's Escribano, America's Clem, Argintina's Revosue and Zaryad.

INTERNATIONAL FINISH — Sailor's Guide (5) and Ballymoss (7) trail Tudor Era to the wire at the finish of the $100,000 International Race in Washington, D. C. Jockey Howard Gran aboard Sailor's Guide claimed a foul and Sailor's Guide was declared the winner, paying $18.60.

Busch, Solberg Retain Slim Chance

Lyon Point Leader at 102

By CHUCK ABAIR

St. Frederick fullback Jack Lyon was held to one touchdown in his last appearance as a Ram Sunday but the single tally virtually clinched his 2nd straight Oakland County scoring championship.

He finished with 17 TDs for 102 points, just six under last year. Jack totaled 210 points in his last two years.

Only two other members of the top 15 county scorers have games remaining. Third placer Ed Busch, who led the pack most of the fall, would need better than four touchdowns to catch Lyon in his final against Southfield. The Birmingham senior was held scoreless for the first time Friday.

The other remaining slim contender is Southfield halfback Cliff Solberg. He rung up four six-pointers last time out to vault to 4th place with 72 but would need five to even tie Lyon.

Busch and Solberg will likely have better luck dueling for 2nd. Harvey Chapman of Farmington is currently the runnerup with 79 but has completed play.

John Lucadam of West Bloomfield finished with 69 points and seems certain to hold his present 5th position. Paul Underhill ended his career at South Lyon in grand style with four touchdowns Friday to rank 6th with 63.

One Highland Park St. Benedict back has replaced the other as county area individual leader. Ed. Everhart dropped Dan Donar from 1st to 3rd and took over the lead with three scores Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Everhart has 79 points, Frank Hartway of Almont tallied nine touchdowns in his last four games to finish with 78 while Donar has 73. Bob Fisher of Brown City follows with 64 All are finished for the year.

Fifth and 6th placers John McKillen of Lapeer and No. 7 man Bob Starnes of Northville are still in the running for the top slot. The latter has two games yet to add to his 54 total.

Bruins Take Lead in NHL

Boston Moves Ahead of Montreal on 8-4 Win Over Hawks

By The Associated Press

They said it couldn't be done. But there were the Boston Bruins nestled in first place today in the National Hockey League, one point ahead of the Montreal Canadiens.

★ ★ ★

The Canadiens figured to be a shoo-in for the title in the preseason consensus. Nevertheless, the Bruins passed them with an 8-4 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks in the only game played last night.

Boston has won seven and tied three in 15 starts for 17 points. Montreal also has seven victories and has two ties in only 13 games for 16 points. Chicago remains third with 14 points.

★ ★ ★

Johnny Bucyk and Don McKenney were Boston's top marksmen. Bucyk caged three goals to achieve the "hat trick" and McKenney scored twice. Jerry Toppazzini, the league's leading scorer with 10 goals, Earl Reibel and Guy Gendron also tallied for the Bruins.

★ ★ ★

Ed Litzenberger sparked the Hawks, who ended a three-game winning streak, with a pair of goals. Eric Nesterenko and Ken Wharram produced the other two.

SCL Probes Game Ruckus

DETROIT (AP) — Parochial as well as public high schools of Detroit are investigating football game disorders.

Coaches of two Catholic League Schools were under orders today to appear at a hearing into troubles that followed a game Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Previously, all 19 public high school principals of the city had been called to a conference set for Tuesday at which riotous incidents were to be examined.

The Parochial High School Athletic Assn. ordered an inquiry Monday into fighting that marred a game Sunday between St. Benedict and St. James schools. The public school incident took place the previous Friday after a game between Northeastern High and Pershing.

★ ★ ★

Because of a fight on the field between rival players the St. Benedict-St. James game was called with seven minutes to go with St. Benedict leading 20-12.

Gresham Takes Michigan Title

DETROIT (AP) — Gene Gresham, 134¾, took a unanimous 10-round decision from Leroy Jeffrey, 130½, and won the Michigan lightweight boxing championship here Tuesday night. Both fighters are from Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Gresham took command of the fight in the fifth round and completely dominated his lighter opponent in the 10th round in winning the state title vacated by Kenny Lane of Muskegon.

★ ★ ★

Referee Herman Spinelli scored 38-37 for Gresham; Judge Al Goodman had it 48-42 in Gresham's favor, and Judge Ed Waggonlander gave the bout to Gresham 49-42. Michigan fights are scored on the five-must system.

A crowd of 1,700 paid a gross of $2,500. Lane presented the title belt to Gresham following the fight.

Writers Check Prep Grid List for All-Staters

LANSING (AP) — Sports writers from all sectors of Michigan will meet in Lansing Nov. 24 to make the final selections for the 18th annual Associated Press All-State high school football teams.

More than 700 ballots have been sent out to coaches, writers and broadcasters, and the sports writers will tabulate results in their Lansing meeting.

All-State teams in Classes A, B, C and D will be announced in early December.

Pontiac Central in Judge's Box

Who's Better--Bay City or Flint Central?

Bay City Central and Flint Central, who tied each other 13-13, battle it out for the honors of being the number one Class A football team in the state.

★ ★ ★

A good judge as to which team should get the honor could rest with Pontiac Central which has to face Flint Central this week after playing the Wolves last week.

Bay City has led the Associated Press poll for the entire season, while Flint Central has been in the top spot of the United Press International ratings most of the campaign.

East Lansing has just about sewed up the Class B championship in both polls.

★ ★ ★

In the UPI Class C ratings, Almont held on to 9th spot, while Imlay City moved into the 11th position. Imlay holds a win over Almont when they got back into the poll after routing Ortonville last week.

Imlay plays only seven games and could jump into a higher position with an impressive win over Swartz Creek this week.

Farmington stayed up among the top 10 in each poll and Lapeer also got mention, while West Bloomfield finished in 9th place in AP ranks.

Bob Cousy, still nursing a painful foot injury, and Bill Russell, playing with an injured ankle which had to be taped in the second half, sparked the Celts to a 116-113 overtime victory over the Lakers last night before 13,000 fans.

Schoendienst Will Undergo Check for TB

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Milwaukee Brave second baseman Red Schoendienst is in St. Johns Hospital here, undergoing a check for tuberculosis.

Dr. Ray Martin said "There is a distinct possibility that he has the disease."

★ ★ ★

The veteran infielder, who lives in St. Louis, will remain in the hospital until tests are finished. There was no immediate indication when the results of the tests would be known.

★ ★ ★

Schoendienst is in the same hospital where his wife last week gave birth to their first son. They have three daughters.

Red, 35, was benched twice last season with injuries and once from an attack of pluerisy.

Brennan's Job Safe?

CHICAGO (AP) — Terry Brennan is going to be football coach at Notre Dame for a long time, Ed "Moose" Krause, athletic director, said Tuesday.

If there had been any rumors of Brennan being replaced, Krause quickly spiked them in an appearance before the Chicago Football Writers' Assn.

Chiefs Clash With Indians in SVC Game

Flint Squad Is Rated 1st or 2nd in State, Depending on Poll

By BILL CORNWELL

Long and dreary football seasons have become customary at Pontiac Central High School in recent years.

Defeats kept piling up, things gradually went from bad to worse and the PCH gridders as well as their coaches heaved a huge sigh of relief when the campaign was finished.

For Jesse MacLeay and his coaching staff, the 1958 season at PCH has been shorter and more enjoyable in many respects than several past campaigns that Pontiac grid fans can remember.

★ ★ ★

The current year has certainly been a better one for MacLeay than 1957 when he made his debut as Pontiac Central's head mentor and struggled through an eight-game schedule with only three wins.

This season comes to an end for the Chiefs on Friday night when they clash with Flint Central in a Saginaw Valley Conference game at Wisner Stadium.

It looks like there is only the remotest chance for the Chiefs to wind up their season on a winning note, but they are already assured of a better record than last year.

★ ★ ★

PCH goes into this contest with an over-all mark of four victories and four losses and a 1-3 slate in the Saginaw Valley.

Through no fault of their own, the Chiefs had the misfortune of meeting Michigan's two top-ranked Class A teams in the concluding two weeks of their schedule.

Last Friday they journeyed to Bay City to face the powerful Wolves and absorbed a 34-6 setback, despite the fact that they turned in their finest performance of the season.

Now it's Flint Central on the agenda and the Chiefs are placed in the rather unenviable position of trying to decide which team is better, the Wolfpack or the Indians.

Both teams are rated No. 1 in the state, depending on which poll you follow. Bay City is tops in the AP list with Flint Central holding down 2nd while the two schools are reversed in the UPI poll.

They have been voted 1-2 all season long. One of their common foes in the Valley — which took a drubbing from both of them — has given the Flint squad a slight edge. It's Pontiac's turn to vote this Friday.

★ ★ ★

If the Chiefs do as well against the Indians as they did at Bay City last week, there will be absolutely no disgrace in losing. The Chiefs left the Bay City gridiron with their heads held high and rightly so.

In Flint Central the Chiefs will be fighting a lightning-quick attack sparked by a pair of speed-demon halfbacks named Ron Watkins and Art Thrush, both of whom are All-State candidates.

The Indians battled Bay City to a 13-13 tie for the lone scar on their record and the Wolves had to come from behind to get the deadlock. Otherwise, the Indians have polished off six opponents.

★ ★ ★

Suffice it to say, Pontiac will again be a giant underdog in this SVC contest with the Indians of Bill Doolittle, who is presently serving his 5th year as Central's head coach.

Archery Instruction Continues Thursday

A six-week course in archery instruction for all members of the family enters its 2nd week tomorrow night at the Community Activities Center on Williams Lake Road. The program is sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

Children from 8 to 14 years of age take their instruction from 7 to 8 p.m. and adults have training between the hours of 8 and 9. The program continues weekly on Thursday nights, stressing fundamentals of shooting and care of equipment.

A limited supply of equipment will be provided by the Waterford Township Recreation Department. Registration can be made at the door and entries close tomorrow night.

Major Hoople Sez: LSU to Get Bumped

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Was First Running Guard

Hak-kaff! There are times when a man has the urge to do something against all advice because he feels he is correct.

Out of such situations strong individuals invariably show themselves and go on their own. It was this way when I ordered my Yale team, against advice of assistants and against all concepts of the game, to run the Hoople Mousetrap with third down and 27 yards needed late in the game against Harvard.

It was basically wrong, but something within me said it would work. Thus, while the Bowl was filled with huzzahs as my halfback raced 57 yards, I merely smiled and planned anew.

It is the same this week. Dr. Quentin Zlobotny, Dr. Vladimir McGrath and Mr. Red Board Daly, after many hours of work, all concurred. Notre Dame, they said, would defeat North Carolina and they promptly made arrangements to have it listed this way in my weekly forecast.

★ ★ ★

Egad! Something within me said to do differently. So without the hint of hesitation, I say that Carolina, stirred to the limits of credulity, will blast Notre Dame in a significant victory. By the score of 21-13, to be exact.

And Louisiana State, victors over Mississippi as I foresaw, will feel the sting of bitter defeat when Mississippi State turns tiger as it were and throws off the shackles of a poor season to triumph, 21-6.

These, as is the usual, are but a few of my startling forecasts. Read on for the rest:

Georgia Tech 6, Alabama 0
Army 34, Villanova 13
Boston College 27, Boston U. 13
North Carolina 21, Notre Dame 13

Maryland 13, Miami (Fla.) 6
Oregon State 33, Stanford 8
Oklahoma 34, Nebraska 14
South Carolina 14, Virginia 13

Final Meeting for City Cagers Slated Nov. 17

The final meeting for managers of City League basketball teams will be held Monday night, Nov. 17, at 7:30 in the conference room of the health department on the ground floor of City Hall, 35 S. Parke St.

★ ★ ★

This is the last call for teams wishing to compete in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department men's basketball program for the 1958-59 City League season.

★ ★ ★

Teams must be represented in all classes — A, B and C — to receive consideration for league entry. Discussion at next Monday's meeting includes team classification, league organization, schedule, playoff procedure, tournament selection and rules and regulations.

★ ★ ★

Entry fees will be accepted no later than Friday, Nov. 21 at 5 p.m. League play should start Monday Dec. 1. At present there are 14 teams registered and facilities and schedule will accommodate only a few more teams.

Cards Shut Out Japanese

SHIZUOKA, Japan (AP)—Right-handers Ernie Broglio and Sad Sam Jones pitched one hit ball today and the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the Japan All-Stars 8-0 before 12,000. Their superb hurling was backed by 15 hits including two homers that netted the Cards five of their eight runs.

The Cardinals now have a 10-2 record in their 16-game goodwill tour.

Lions Have 'Say' in NFL Title Chase

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The champion Detroit Lions may be out of the running for the National Football League title, but they are now being feared by the contenders as the team who will have the most to say about the successors to throne.

"We will have plenty to say about who wins the title this year," said assistant coach Bob Dove yesterday at the weekly meeting of the football writers.

"The Bears feel they can put the Western Division into a tie by beating Baltimore this week, but then George Halas looks at the schedule and points to the fact that he has to play the Lions twice in the last four weeks," said Dove, "and let me tell you he is worried about those two games more than any."

The Lions are also having a lot to say about who will win the Eastern Division crown. They forced the division into a first place tie last week by whipping the Browns, 30-10, and have a game coming up with the New York Giants, presently the co-leaders.

★ ★ ★

"New York also figures its game with us is a big one. The Giants do not play the Colts again this year, and they play the three big games in their division at home, so they look at the game here in Detroit, December 7th as the key to their title hopes," said Dove.

The Lions are now preparing for a home stand starting with the San Francisco 49ers Sunday, and followed by the Chicago Bears, the Packers and the Giants in successive weeks.

"We are in good physical condition now, our defensive unit is in good shape, so we feel we can do well from here on," Dove added.

★ ★ ★

The Lions lost a close decision, 24-21 to the 49ers, in San Francisco, but last week the Frisco team took a drubbing from the Rams, 56-7.

"Injuries which have hurt us early in the season are now catching up with teams like the Colts and 49ers, and they are always the big factors in the outcome of pro football," said Dove.

★ ★ ★

Dove praised the end play of rookie Jim Gibbons, who was outstanding against the Browns, the team which peddled him to the Lions after Detroit lost Jerry Reichow and Steve Junker for the season following leg operations.

★ ★ ★

"Gibbons is coming along real well and I think Brown is now thinking of what a mistake he might have made."

★ ★ ★

It was Brown who decided whether it would be Gibbons or another end to go. The other coaches wanted to keep Gibbons and trade off another end named Clark. Of course Brown's vote counts 5 to 1, so we got Gibbons and we're happy," Dove finished.

In NFL statistics Baltimore and the Chicago Cardinals each gained 384 net yards in their seventh national football league game of the season but the Colts remain the league leaders with 2,822 NFL statistics announced today disclose.

The Colts have made 1,333 net yards rushing and 1,489 passing. The Cardinals, in second place, have rolled up 2,689 yards, 1,135 on the ground and 1,554 in the air.

Los Angeles moved up from fourth by gaining 577 yards for a total of 2,561. Cleveland dropped from third with a net of 2,471. Washington is fifth with 2,335.

★ ★ ★

In rushing, Cleveland leads Baltimore by 291 yards, 1,624-1,333. Los Angeles, not among the first five a week ago, is third with 1,224, followed by Washington with 1,195 and the Chicago Bears with 1,175.

W. Michigan Star Has 94 Points

Coleman Near Scoring Title

By The Associated Press

The season is over for one-third of Michigan's college football teams and Western Michigan's Lovell Coleman has the state scoring title all but clinched.

The flashy halfback has rolled up 94 points, among the best in the nation for individual scoring, and has a 21-point edge on his nearest state rivals.

Trailing Coleman are Ron Bekius of Hope with 73 points and Walter Beach of Central Michigan with 72. All three players wind up the season this weekend.

★ ★ ★

Albion, Alma, Adrian and Kalamazoo of the MIAA have their seasons wrapped up, as does independent Ferris Institute and Michigan Tech of the Northern States Conference.

There are nine games on tap for state teams this weekend as all but the three major schools —Michigan, Michigan State and Detroit—wind up their 1958 schedules.

In interstate competition, Michigan teams are on the short end of the count—losing 32 while winning 31 against out-of-state opponents.

Home teams have a 51-46 edge in games played so far.

Here's the way the state's teams have fared:

Indiana End Voted 'Lineman of Week'

By The Associated Press

Indiana beat Michigan State 6-0 last Saturday for the first time in nine years.

The headlines after the game went to Earl Faison, a sophomore end who blocked a MSU field goal attempt, scooped up the ball and ran 92 yards for the only touchdown. Today his teammate, Ted Aucreman, was named Lineman of the Week for his yeoman work in the same game.

The ferocious tackling of Aucreman, a junior end from Lancaster, Ohio, was the main reason the Hoosiers held Michigan State four times inside the Indiana 10. Phil Dickens, Indiana coach, called it the "darndest defensive performance I ever saw." Aucreman made numerous shoestring tackles and recovered one Spartan fumble.

Smith Gets Official Induction to 'Hall'

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Horton Smith, twice masters champion and the only golfer to play in all 22 masters tournaments, is the newest member of Golf's Hall of Fame.

The Professional Golfers' Assn. of America inducted Smith into its select hall at the annual PGA president's dinner here last night.

The PGA also honored Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., as the professional golfer of the year and Harry Pezzullo of Northbrook, Ill., as the outstanding teaching professional of 1958.

The awards were presented by PGA president Harold Sargent.

27 Straight Wins for Prison Team

Most Carefree Football Coach Works at Ionia

IONIA (AP) — Richard Heufelter has none of the worries besetting his fellow football coaches in this season of upsets, player investigations and disgruntled alumni.

Heufelter's team has won 27 straight games over a three year span. He faces no recruitment problems, has a 33-man squad, several members of which are playing their 10th season, and doesn't worry about his squad breaking training rules.

★ ★ ★

Heufelter, a staff member, took over as head coach at the Ionia State Reformatory five years ago. Under his direction, the reformatory team piled up its winning streak against semi-pro teams in Battle Creek, Detroit and other Michigan communities.

Three team members, two serving life terms and one a 15-40 year term, were honored at halftime ceremonies last weekend for their contributions to the football fame of Ionia Reformatory.

Team Capt. Robert Przevozny of Minneapolis, and Ulysses Champion and Richard Viau, both of Detroit, received "fine sportsmanship" certificates.

★ ★ ★

The three led Ionia Reformatory to a 20-6 win over a Battle Creek club to continue the institution's long victory streak.

The reformatory football field looked like a college campus during the ceremony. There were speeches, band music and parading cheer leaders.

Heufelter, 37, said his players receive no special jobs or considerations during the football season, except for a Monday off to review games and map strategy for the following weekend.

★ ★ ★

He had 10 "letter" men returning this year. The rest of the squad undergoes a rapid turnover as players gain release or are sidelined for various reasons.

The team plays most of its schedule at the institution but has made several road appearances in benefit games.

The biggest gripe on Heufelter's squad is about the "confining nature of the season schedule."

★ ★ ★

Heufelter says his least worry is being hanged in effigy. There is no audible or visual signs of "undergraduate" dissatisfaction over the team's performance.

Michigan Defense Has Been Slowfooted

Long TD Runs Woe for 'M'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Touchdowns from long distance are at the root of Michigan's troubled season.

The Wolverines have been unable to counteract the explosions with their own ball-control tactics.

The slow-footed Michigan defense has surrendered 27 touchdowns in seven games. A dozen were scored from more than 30 yards out. Only nine times were Michigan's rivals required to put the ball in play from inside the five-yard line before scoring.

★ ★ ★

The long-distance scores have come in a variety of forms — passes, punt returns and rushes. Only one opponent — Minnesota — was prevented from making a touchdown from outside the 30 yard line.

★ ★ ★

Northwestern and Iowa did it three times; Illinois and Southern California twice, and Michigan State and Navy once.

Michigan's plight is emphasized by the number of times it has had a chance to move the ball. The Wolverines have had 484 plays. Their seven opponents have totaled 420 attempts.

But Michigan has yielded 201 yards more rushing and passing than it has gained.

The Wolverines have chalked up 101 first downs to their opponents' 108. This is another indication that a ball-control team needs a defense to win with.

Michigan, in contrast, has had to march in short spurts to score. All but three of the 16 Wolverine touchdowns came from relatively close to the goal line.

Their only long touchdown run was Darrell Harper's 58-yard jaunt against Minnesota. The other two were scored by Gary Prahst after he stole pitchouts in mid air. He intercepted one against Michigan State and ran 42 yards for a score. Prahst then duplicated the feat against Northwestern from 33 yards out.

Defense, naturally, came in for most of the attention at yesterday's drill for the Indiana game Saturday.

Harper, ailing with a pulled leg muscle, tried to run but couldn't without a limp.

5th Straight Title for Germans

U.S. Horsemen Finish 2nd

NEW YORK (AP)—"I guess," sighed Bill Steinkraus today, "we just stopped connecting."

Steinkraus, a Westport, Conn., stock analyst, is captain of the U. S. Equestrian Team and even he was having trouble putting his finger on just how the West Germans won the team trophy in the National Horse Show.

★ ★ ★

"No one knows what makes a horse blow hot and cold," he said. "But my own guess is that some of our horses got tired by being ahead early in the show. The longer you stay out front, the harder it is on the horse because they are in jumpoffs and do a lot of additional jumping."

★ ★ ★

The show ended last night with West Germany winning the Nation's Cup, its fifth international triumph in a row. The victory enabled the West German trio of Hans Gunter Winkler, Fritz Thiedemann and Alfons Lutke-Westhuess to compile 121 points to 120 for the United States. It also was their sixth international victory to five for the U. S. team.

Steelers, Giants to Draw 50,000

Pitt's Biggest Crowd of Season Will Watch Layne-Conerly Duel

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Like old man river quarterbacks Chuck Conerly of the New York Giants and Bobby Layne of the Pittsburgh Steelers keep rolling along.

And with the two veteran campaigners tossing, Sunday at Pitt Stadium, the Steelers expect a crowd of between 45,000 and 50,000—the largest ever to watch a pro football game in the Steel City.

★ ★ ★

Successive victories by the Giants over previously undefeated Cleveland and Baltimore and the Steelers 31-24 triumph over Philadelphia last Sunday have helped the ticket sale.

This is a must game for Coach Jim Howell's Giants who are tied with the Cleveland Browns for the top spot in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League with a 5-2 mark.

Anybody with a 3-4 record would figure the season just about over. But not Coach Buddy Parker of the Steelers. "This club is just beginning to come around," he said.

Vengeful MSU Meets Hoosier Soccerites

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State Soccer team will try to avenge the football defeat by Indiana at Bloomington this Saturday.

If the booters do it, they will finish a third straight season undefeated.

In the three year period since soccer was made a varsity sport at Michigan State, the Spartans have won 18 and tied three. The seven games won so far this season have included five shutouts.

Eskimos Go Coasting

EDMONTON (AP)—The Edmonton Eskimos coasted into the Western football final Tuesday, trampling the Saskatchewan Roughriders 31-1 to win the two-game, total-points semifinal 58-12.

The Eskimos now meet the Winnipeg Blue Bombers for the championship.

Duffy to Give Soph a Chance at 1st String

Spartans Try to Stay Out of Big 10 Cellar Against Gophers

EAST LANSING (AP) — Tommy Wilson, the sophomore from Lapeer, will get a chance at trying to move the stalled Michigan State football Spartans against Minnesota Saturday.

Coach Duffy Daugherty, continuing his game of musical chairs with backfield positions, has named Wilson as the starting signal-caller for State's last try to win a Big Ten game this season.

Senior Mike Panitch started out as No. 1 and junior Greg Montgomery later was given the call as starter.

Wilson, a 6-1, 180-pounder, had two brothers, John and Pat, who were standout football players at State. Used only sparingly in relief roles so far this season, he's connected with four of eight passes for 36 yards.

In another switch, Park Baker, a lightweight junior, was named to share fullback chores with Bob Bercich. Baker, who started at halfback, weighs only 161 pounds but has good speed and made some creditable yardage against Indiana last week. He had 52 yards in seven carries.

★ ★ ★

In a cross switch of ends, Fred Arbanas was moved from the right side to the left side to spell team captain Sammy Williams. Dave Northcross and Dick Barker will work at right end.

Depending on the outcome of injuries, guard Ellison Kelly and tackle Larry Cundiff may not be able to start. Their spots, respectively, probably will be taken by Fred Boylen and Palmer Pyle.

Coaches, already looking toward next season, hope that Wilson will be able to move into quarterback with some show of authority.

Minnesota, meanwhile, is equally as bad off for experience in its backfield. Coach Murray Warmath, likewise looking for his first Big Ten victory, will start an all-sophomore backfield directed by Larry Johnson at quarterback.

11th Frame

By CHUCK ABAIR

One of the big factors behind the rapid rise of bowling around the Pontiac area during the past few years has been the development of many outstanding young keglers.

Two excellent examples have been Joe Tinson and Mike Samardzija. Joe was still in high school when he surprised this sector by beating out the best in Oakland County to win the 1st Pontiac Press Bowlerama championship.

Samardzija has held his own in the city's toughest competition this season to prove strong showings he made last year were no flukes. He recently has turned in series of 660 and 629.

Now a 12-year-old local boy has made it known he may someday rank with the likes of Les Rothbarth, Lou Koprince, Bill Bull and the many other toppotch performers cavorting on alleys in Pontiac and nearby cities.

Howard Menzies earned himself an American Junior Bowling Congress trophy recently by firing a 239 game in the Lakewood Lanes Boys' League. He had one streak of six successive strikes and compiled a 544 series. It was the 1st 200 game and initial 500 series in loop play.

The above mention of the Bowlerama brings to mind that plans are in the making for a 3rd tournament with several added features.

President Gen Bradley and secretary Peggy Bender will head the Pontiac delegation to the annual WIBC convention at Buffalo next May. Others going will be Millie Anderson, Fern Bowles, Viola Cargal, Gertrude Fleming, Jo Gohl, Sally Hoffman, Bessie Holtz, Bonnie Kuzak, Doris Lanktree, Eva Miller, Jerry Stevens, Ann Wilson and Marguerite Young.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

When you release a ball at the foul line, notice sometime that it has three distinct, different actions before striking the pins. The amount of ground covered with each action will vary slightly with bowlers, but for practical purposes, let's consider what Professor Wilman's ball does:

1. First, it skids. When a round ball strikes a polished surface with good speed and force, skidding is natural. My ball will skid about 15 feet, but a faster ball will skid farther.

2. Second, it rolls. When the skidding motion stops, the ball will begin rolling. My ball rolls for about 25 feet.

3. Third, it hooks. For the final 20 feet or so before the ball goes into the pins, the stuff applied in delivering the ball takes over and causes the ball to hook.

Considering these three actions helps a bowler understand the importance of a rolling, hooking ball. It also makes you understand how an extremely fast ball never does get as much hooking action as a normal ball. Now you can see how it's possible to get an 8-10 split on a pocket hit. It may be too fast, causing too much deflection when it hits the pocket, or it may start hooking too soon, causing a fadeout at the 1-3 pocket.

Students' Prank Gives Gridders Bad Lime Burns

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP) — Lime spread on the playing field Oct. 25 as a student prank burned so many members of the Swarthmore football squad that the college's game with Pennsylvania Military College Saturday must be canceled, Courtney C. Smith, Swarthmore president, announced Tuesday.

Smith said students spread the lime in the shape of a huge "S" before the Swarthmore-Ursinus game.

The burns have not yet healed and the team physician advised that the players should not undertake a game this week. The contest was scheduled at nearby Chester.

Only 14 players were able to practice Tuesday, seven of the squad including five varsity regulars, received burns of varying degree.

Smith said he hoped the traditional game with Haverford College Nov. 22 could be played.

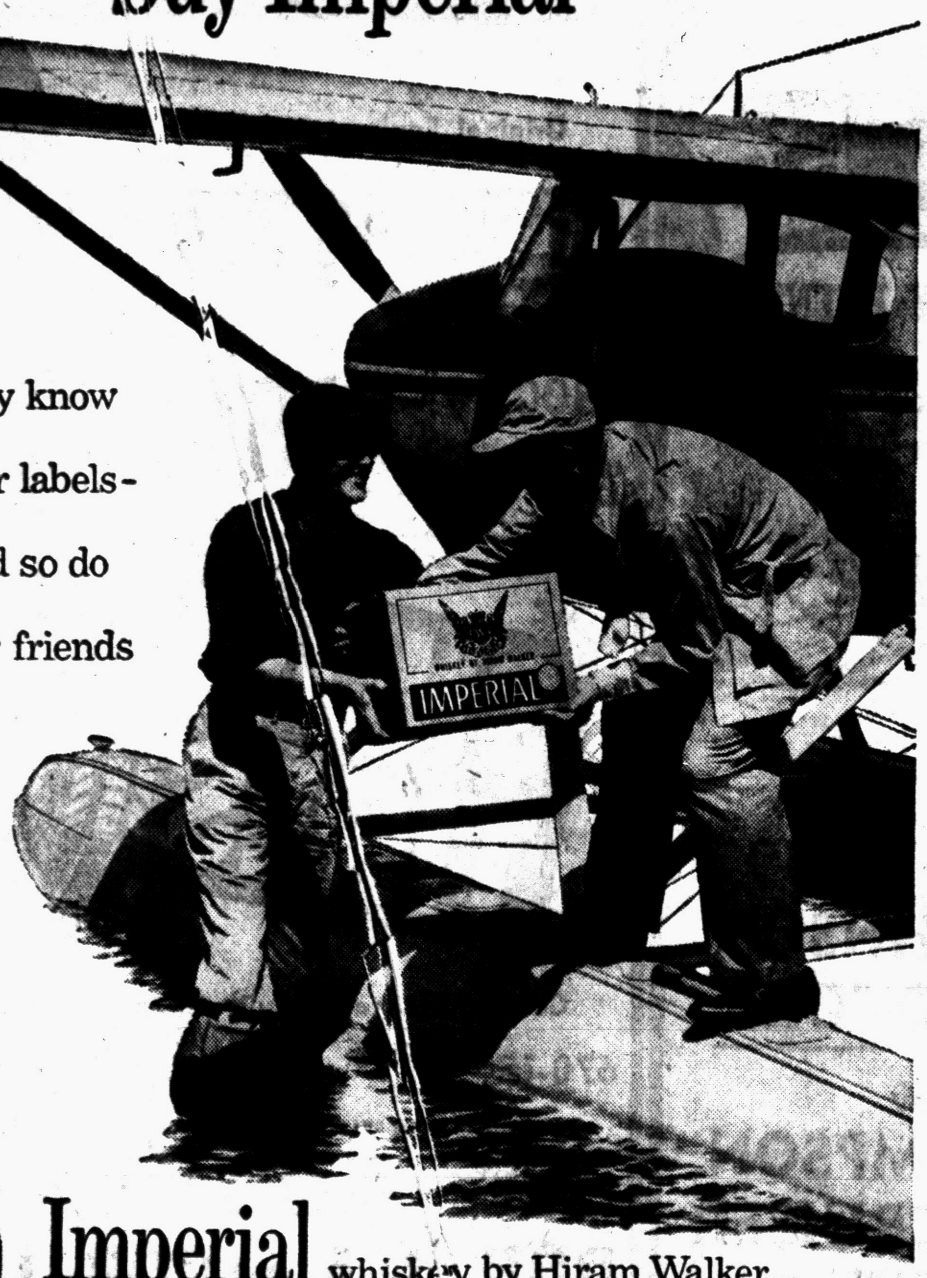

Goalie Refuses to Go

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Gil Mayer, Hershey Bears goalie, said Tuesday night, "I will not report to Edmonton no matter what happens."

Business Manager Baz Bastien had ordered Mayer to the Western Hockey League for 10 days to two weeks to fill in for the injured Dennis Riggin who suffered an eye injury.

Press Contest Opens Saturday

Prospects Bright for Deer Hunters

By JACK PATTERSON

People who imagine that the general deer season opens Saturday, as advertised, either don't know any deer hunters or are hopelessly divorced from reality. The only thing that begins Saturday is the shooting. The important part of the business, the endless preparation, has been going on for weeks.

PATTERSON

In fact, there are cases where preparations have been going on since the close of last year's season. These cases are not few, or isolated.

★ ★ ★

For many hunters, though the shooting lasts but two weeks, the season is never really closed.

It has been suggested that if the regiments of deer hunters in Michigan put all this effort into some useful pursuit they could pay off the national debt in a fortnight and have enough left over to fill the Irrawaddy with milk and honey. No doubt they could and wouldn't it be dull?

Now whether these mighty labors of love are worth while or not is not a matter to debate here, but affords some speculation instead on what results these labors might produce.

This year they should be highly productive. While we always hesitate to be over-optimistic on the eve of any season there's no reason not to be very optimistic in advance of the coming one.

What hunters are going to find this year, in practically all deer areas, is a heavy population of deer, with a higher than normal ratio of bucks to does. This prediction is based on personal observation, reports of qualified observers throughout the state, game division estimates, and other sources that have proved reliable in the past.

The period of study ranges from April 1 until two days ago, and every indication is that unless deer suddenly take wing and fly away, hunters should enjoy the best shooting since World War II.

One factor that can make or break the short-term hunter is weather, which nobody, except maybe the Russians, is doing anything about it. If it warms up appreciably, or rains, there would be a change in prospects regardless of the number of deer about.

But rain or shine, snow or whatever, and no matter how many Boone & Crockett trophies fall before the hunters, one thing remains true. The biggest racks, the heaviest deer, the most remarkable deer will be shot across the card tables and in the smoky taverns that dot the north. It was always so.

$150 Reward for Heaviest Michigan Buck

County Nimrods Among 450,000 Expected to Open 1958 Season

Michigan's deer hunting army of an estimated 450,000 faces good prospects for successful forays into the north woods — and in many instances around legal hunting areas in Oakland County, where many bucks have been reported recently.

With start of the season Saturday The Press "Big Buck Derby" gets under way. A reward of $150 in U.S. Bonds awaits the heaviest (dressed out) entry. Full time county residents only are eligible.

All entries must have a certified weight slip, signed by weigher, one uninterested observer of the weighing, and the hunter. Final date for entries is noon, Dec. 2.

★ ★ ★

Experts looking at the Nov. 15-30 season are taking into consideration weather, numbers of hunters, numbers of deer and many other factors which are impossible to predict completely and from these, seek some of the answers.

★ ★ ★

Hunters are predicted to bag a total of about 65,000 animals — just a shade over last year's kill.

Many will have the "any deer" permits. There were 53,600 permits issued through the drawings but of course not all of these will be hunting.

Last year, the Conservation Department figures 62,560 bucks were shot, making about 15 per cent of the hunters successful. The percentage this year may go a point or so higher.

PRACTICE PAYS — Sherry Mapley, a regular season trapshooter on the GMC ranges on Opdyke road, found that practice with the clay "birds" paid off when wildfowl shooting time came around. Sherry, a tabulation department man at the Coach plant here (784 Third street), downed the brace of far honkers a few days ago at Highland. Two shots from a 10-gauge magnum did the job. The geese averaged 11 pounds. Sherry plans to open the deer season Saturday near Fenton, hoping for a Press contest trophy.

Says Bypasses Will Benefit Resort Areas

HIGGINS LAKE (AP) — Limited access expressways will bring the Grayling and Roscommon areas more business than they will lose, the head of the Resource Development of Michigan State University said Monday.

Frank W. Suggitt told residents of the two towns that tourists will bring a business boom even though both communities and lakeside resort areas will be bypassed by the planned U. S. 27 Expressway.

"The modern highway will lure more people away from their homes, they will travel farther or will originate from farther away, and they will make more freequent trips," he said. "This has been the experience in other states."

Suggitt will moderate a panel on the same subject Thursday in Dearborn at a meeting of the Southeastern Michigan Tourist and Publicity Assn. Other participants will be Otis Hardy, director of State Highway Information; William Palmer of the Associated Petroleum Industries, Harry Roga of the Automobile Club of Michigan, Arthur C. Elmer, parks chief for the State Conservation Department, and Rep. Delmont Chapman (R-Rockwood).

Pontiac Dog Takes Monroe Show Honor

His first show entry last weekend proved a very successful move for Polar Paul, a snow-white Samoyed, owned by Mrs. Robert Lussier, 2007 Henbert, Pontiac.

Polar, one-year-old pet of the Lussier family, went best of breed at the Monroe Kennel Club's show. He first won in the novice division, then was named for the breed honors. He will be entered for the Lansing show Dec. 7.

Polar is the Lussier's only Samoyed, but they hope to make him the starter of a Samoyed kennel.

Mrs. Lussier several years ago was the first winner of The Press' Pot O'Gold.

U.S. Eyes 1960 Olympics

Plans Tests to Pick Trapshooting Squad

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Intrigued by their first taste of international-style trapshooting in 34 years, American shotgun enthusiasts are going to try it again in the Pan American Games in Chicago next summer and the 1960 Olympics in Rome.

★ ★ ★

Herman Peterson of Dillon, Montana, president of the Amateur Trapshooting Assn., alerted U.S. scattergunners today for competitive trials which will determine U.S. teams in the two events.

Maynard B. Henry, Los Angeles attorney and ATA secretary, will be in charge of the new program

★ ★ ★

A group of American shooters paid their own expenses to the international shooting matches in Moscow last August. They had never seen international-style shooting until they stopped to practice in Sweden on the last leg of the trip.

In spite of the handicap, Frances Eisenlauer of Palo Alto, Calif., won the world's trapshooting championship over 100 international shooters and the U.S. team finished third in a field of 16.

★ ★ ★

Team members beside Eisenlauer were Homer Clark Jr., Alton, Ill., team captain; Lt. Col. W. C. Everhart of the Air Force; Deputy Postmaster General E. O. Sessions; Stan Danekas, Thedford, Neb., and Mrs. Evelyn Primm, Los Angeles.

National Title for County Dog

Cover King Victor in Pheasant Shooting Test in Delaware, Ohio

Aptly named Cover King, six-year-old bird dog owned by Norman Ellis, 7425 Lahser, Birmingham, is the new National Amateur Pheasant Shooting Dog champion. King won the title on his 2nd try. He was unplaced in the same event a year ago.

Championship was held at Delaware, Ohio, last weekend and the field included 17 other nationally rated dogs. A big perpetual trophy, chest of silver and a stuffed pheasant were King's trophies.

King won the Northern Shooting Dog Classic in Michigan in 1957, was runnerup this year, and has won a number of area trials.

90 Sports Cars Run at OCSC

More than 90 sport cars of various classifications made the recent two-day inaugural test of the new OCSC asphalt-surfaced course a really successful event.

Competition was for both sports and saloon divisions, with the best time set by Jack Jenkins, who captured the Class A (saloon) and the over-all championship. Jack drove a red G-T Saab.

Other winners included Garth Deal (Class A on 2nd day) in a MG. Deal is from Kalamazoo. He also took the over-all honors for three events. Class B honors went to Judd Holcombe in an Alfa-Romeo.

Gordon Harrison, imported car dealer from Pontiac, won the curves event in a Morgan Plus-4 in Class C, and class over-all title; Lt. Les Morisette of Grosse Ile Naval Air Base, hit a 51.1 for the "D" title and fastest time of the day, in a Corvette.

A formal event is planned for the 4th weekend of every month, straight through the winter. Practice runs are held Saturdays and Sundays, at 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. for members only.

Big Pot for Ladies

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Contracts have been signed for a ladies professional golf tournament at Alliance Country Club next July 16-19 with a purse of $12,500, tournament chairman Frank A. Hoiles announced Tuesday.

This is the largest purse, said Hoiles, for any tournament of the Ladies Professional Golf Assn.

Deer No 'Family Man'

LANSING (UPI)—For the woman who weeps when her husband brings home a fine buck, here's a tip. Shed a tear less because the whitetail isn't much of a "family man"—in fact, he has hardly any family life at all.

That's the word from one of the state conservation department deer experts who also offers plenty of other little-known facts about the animal which swarms of Michigan hunters will be sighting in on come Nov. 15.

I. H. Bartlett, the deer specialist of the department, said a buck probably doesn't stay with the doe much and has little family life. In fact, in the spring, the bucks move out of the winter deeryard areas and begin roaming about individually although they don't move any more than necessary because their new antlers are sensitive to knocks on brush.

During the winter, the bucks, young deer and does all live together in the deeryard.

The does and new-born fawns stick together during the spring and occasionally the yearling born the year before is still with its mother but often it is chased off by the doe about the time she drops her new baby.

The buck doesn't have much of a home as such either. He may roam over an average square mile area during the spring, summer and fall, Bartlett said, but doesn't have a bed which he heads for each night.

He usually feeds in the early morning, sleeps until the late afternoon, then moves around from dusk until 10 or 11 p.m. and sleeps until his day starts early the next morning.

CLOSE — Darrell Bordine, 1835 S. Rochester Rd., a nursery operator, yesterday listed a 40-inch-long pheasant for The Press contest. It came close, but lacked one-quarter inch of equalling the leader. The beautifully colored 3½-pound bird was downed last week on Bordine's own land, where he was hunting with his son, Carl, 14, Rochester High pupil. This was one of the last entries filed for the contest, as date for entries closed at noon today.

Jud Larson Winner of 100-Mile Race

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Jud Larson of Tampa, Fla., clipped nearly 39 seconds off the event record as he won the Bobby Ball Memorial 100-mile big car race Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Larson zoomed around the course at 93 m.p.h. in 1:04:41.92 to better the 1956 record of 1:05:20 set by George Amick of Venice, Calif. Amick was forced out by engine trouble on the 67th lap.

Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., was a close second and picked up the national big car driving championship with 1,830 points.

Area Entries Rate High in Motor City's Show

With two breed winners and a number of other places, Pontiac area dogs in the recent Motor City Specialty Show gave some very good accounts for their owners.

The winners' group included Alamabe Checkmate, a Doberman owned by J. F. Kronik and W. T. Haines of Birmingham; and Ch. Rowe's Wee Margo De Oro (Chihuahua), property of Beatrice and Leslie Rowe of South Lyon. The show drew 715 entries in eight breeds.

Out of a big and "terrific" field of Great Danes, won by L. W. Harper von der Stadt, owned by Mrs. Antonio Press and C. G. Starger of River Forest, Ill., the Hank Roberts' Ravens Hill entries collected two trophies.

In the stud-dog class Ravens Hill Jughead and Ravens Hill thunderbird (Tiny) with their sire, Luki Dane of Ravens Hill, beat out a Columbus, Ohio champion. Tiny also went 3rd in puppy bitches. Jughead experienced a mishap that probably cost him his class honors, when he slipped stepping on a rubber mat during the judging.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hiscox, 720 S. Holly Rd., placed 2nd in the Dane brindle class for open dogs with Guyette's Mr. Guy.

Breed and obedience winners included:

Obedience—Ch. Duckerbird Atomic III (golden retriever) C. A. Frank, Detroit; Manchesters — Ch. Copeland's Ranney, Barbara Brown, Montpelier, Ohio; Bostons — Ch. Hykia's Lady, C. H. Coleman, Akron, Ohio; Collies — Ch. Welshire Whatever, Walter L. Welsh, Manistee; German Shepherds — Ch. Luxi von Liebestraum, Emil Lederer, Detroit and Boxers — Ch. Hale's Windy, Samuel and Lucille Smith, Newark, Ohio.

Solunar Tables

For help in finding good times for hunting and fishing in this area sportsmen should consult the John Alden Knight solunar periods listed here for the ensuing week. Major periods of activity, beginning at the hours listed, last from an hour to two hours, the minor periods somewhat shorter.

Little Stories About Outdoors

Ever hear of a bird-dog dog? Well, you are now.

Maybe the name will not be found in any AKC registry or book of breeds, but that's exactly what Mrs. Mary Jayne Roberts calls her Alexander the Great Dane, a 10-months old puppy (150 pounds!). Alexander, who goes by the pet name of Jughead (Ravens Hill Jughead) earned his new title by a smart move.

A happy, inquisitive, gentle dog, "Jug" recently brought home, unharmed, a pheasant. Then, the next day, a hunter's English setter strayed onto "Jug's" domain, and was promptly collared by the big Dane.

★ ★ ★

"Jughead" grabbed the setter's collar, trotted the intruder off to the Roberts' house. Mrs. Roberts released the setter "which seemed to enjoy the experience, with its tail wagging. Jughead never hurts anything. He's big, bigger at 10 months than his sire," the owner said.

"Ask the farmer first" is still a very good way to start a successful hunting foray. That's what a state-conducted survey of 300 southern Michigan farms revealed. The survey showed that four of five land owners would give permission for hunting their lands, if the hunter first sought such permission before moving in. Refusals usually stemmed from previous trouble with inconsiderate gunners.

Added to recently announced allocation of $820,000 Pittman-Robinson funds, the Dingell-Johnson allocation of $209,575 gives Michigan a total of $1,029,575 in federal aid for wildlife programs.

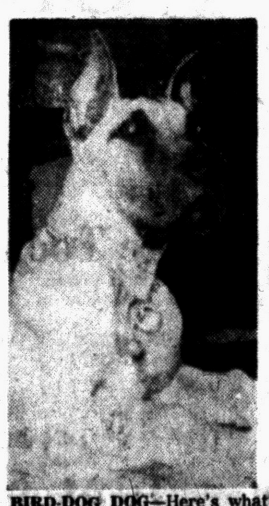

★ ★ ★

Michigan's 1959 (that's right) fishing licenses are effective Dec. 1 this year. The 1958 licenses expire on Dec. 31, this year. There are few changes in regulations.

★ ★ ★

Conservation department geological survey division will honor Helen Martin, research geologist for 30 years, with an open house, Nov. 21, at the Lansing offices. Miss Martin plans to retire Dec. 1.

Somebody . . . Please Tuck Me In

Little Joey is an orphan now . . . mother and dad are gone. Their love was the most important thing in the world. But where are they? Wouldn't it be wonderful to say to him someday . . .

"Joey, here's your mother. We brought her back from heaven for you."

How much would that be worth to him? A thousand, ten thousand, a million dollars?

If you could perform this miracle — wouldn't your whole life be worth twice as much to you?

We can't get back his own mother . . . but let's do all we can. Let's give him a home . . . good food . . . a doctor . . . a teddybear. Let's give him a mother who'll try as hard as she can to take another's place. Maybe Joey will have to "share" that mother with other children, but it's a beginning to happiness and a fuller life. For him . . . and you.

Yes, we think you'll want to do this. Because where else than the Pontiac Area United Fund can you do so much good for so many? Where else can your dollars work for 55 community campaigns at once? Little Rock Faces Dilemma

If School Board Quits What Happens Next?

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — What happens to a community's schools when its school board quits?

Who operates the schools?

These questions face Little Rock today.

Five of the six members of the board have discussed resigning. This report was confirmed Monday by a member who declined to be identified by name.

Wayne Upton, board president, said the group would meet officially today—ostensibly to discuss the latest federal court ruling ordering integration at once in Little Rock's public schools.

★ ★ ★

If the board resigns, who is left to handle the routine duties—such as signing paychecks—or attempting to carry out Monday's edict from the U. S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals? Should the board stay on, how can it integrate schools which are not operating?

Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed Little Rock's four high schools to avoid integration. He has shown no inclination to reopen them.

County Supervisor A. B. Wetherington said he is not sure just who can appoint a new school board.

★ ★ ★

A recent legislative act which authorized recall of board members provided that the vacancies would be filled by the county judge until the next school election.

Wetherington said the law does not cover resignation en masse.

If the present board quits, Little Rock voters could elect a new slate at the regular school election Dec. 6.

Normally, only three of the membership would be up for re-election.

So far only one candidate has announced for a board position—James T. Karam, a Little Rock clothier and friend of Faubus.

Both the board and School Supt. Virgil Blossom have been under heavy segregationist fire since the outbreak of the school crisis here last year. Blossom is recognized as the architect of the city's gradual integration plan, and a majority of the board has never wavered in backing him.

★ ★ ★

Only Dr. Dale Alford, the board member who unseated Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), a racial moderate, in the general election, has disagreed with the board majority.

There is speculation that the board, before its possible resignation, will buy up Blossom's contract which still has 19 months to run at $1,100 a month.

MSU Approved for TV Station

Jackson Judge Lifts Temporary Injunction Against Venture

JACKSON (AP) — Michigan State University has judicial approval for its controversial plan to build a television station with a commercial partner.

Jackson Circuit Judge John Simpson Monday dismissed a temporary injunction that kept MSU from going ahead with the letting of contracts for construction of a Channel 10 station at Onondaga, between Jackson and MSU's home at East Lansing.

The injunction was issued Oct. 24 on the plea of Jackson Broadcasting and Television Corp., which contended MSU could not legally enter into the partnership without the permission of the State Legislature.

Judge Simpson noted in his decision that MSU planned to use private funds left to the university in financing the station. Therefore, he said, he saw no violation of the state law against a university using public money in a business venture with a private concern.

"They have the money to go ahead without tax dollars," he said.

★ ★ ★

Jackon Broadcasting and Television Corp., was an unsuccessful bidder for Channel 10 before the Federal Communications Commission.

After the FCC ruled in favor of the joint application of MSU and Television Corp. of Michigan, the Jackson firm lost one appeal to the federal agency and now has another pending.

★ ★ ★

Under their agreement, MSU and Television Corp. of Michigan will share the air time of the new station.

They hope to be on the air by early January.

Detroit Steel Output Best in 16 Months

DETROIT (AP) — Steel production in the Detroit area is on the way to its best week in 16 months, Iron Age magazine said today.

★ ★ ★

Iron Age said output this week should rise 10 points to 89.7 per cent of capacity as against last week.

This would mean production of 131,000 tons, compared to the 79.6 per cent or 117,400 tons of last week, the magazine said.

Iron Age said the last time the area produced more than 130,000 tons of steel in a week's time was for the week ending June 20, 1957 when output was 133,900 tons, or 103 per cent capacity.

★ ★ ★

The magazine pointed out that the capacity figure is greater this year than last since there has been plant expansion since last year.

Grains Border on Irregular

CHICAGO (AP)—Prices of grain futures were narrowly irregular again today in slow early dealings on the board of trade.

★ ★ ★

Dealers said that while there appeared to be a light demand there was a rapid absorption of a moderate volume of offerings which indicated a willingness to maintain yesterday's advances.

That support was believed to be pegged more to the outlook for better markets both domestic and abroad rather than to any current influences.

★ ★ ★

Wheat was ¼ cent a bushel higher to ½ lower near the end of the first hour, December $1.96; corn ⅛ to ⅜ higher, December old type contracts $1.13¾; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, December 65¾; rye ¼ higher to ¼ lower, December $1.31½; soybeans higher to ¼ lower, November $2.13¾.

Stock Market Still Climbing

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to advance in heavy early trading today but there were signs of profit taking.

Gains of leading stocks were mostly fractional. Some leaders were unchanged. A few minus signs spotted the list.

About the biggest loss among prominent stocks was a 2-point drop by Lockheed. Traders were cashing profits following yesterday's late jump of 5⅞ on stock split news.

Other aircrafts did well. There was a predominance of plus signs among steels, motors, nonferrous metals, oils and electrical equipments.

U.S. Steel erased an early fractional gain and eased. An unusual number of very large blocks reflected major changes in portfolios by big investors.

Maytag jumped 3 following a dividend boost. Checker Motors was up about 2. Ahead about a point were Zenith, American Smelting and International Paper.

The ticker tape was behind transactions for a 15-minute period. It caught abreast then lagged again.

Lansing GM Plants Step Up Production

LANSING (AP)— The Lansing Oldsmobile and Fisher Body plants have announced they will step up assembly line production to five full days plus Saturday overtime next week.

Both automotive plants said they are recalling about 700 production workers to meet the demand for 1959 car models.

"Public acceptance of our 1959 models has been all that we have expected," said Jack F. Wolfram, manager of the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors. "Dealers are calling for all we can deliver."

Wolfram said Oldsmobile previously had recalled about 1,500 workers. He said the additional 700 would bring the production worker total to around 11,200.

Fisher Body, which supplies bodies to Oldsmobile, said its recall will up production employment to around 5,600.

Ontario Couple Faces Bogus Money Charge

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Leopold Chabot, 39, and his wife, Rose, 26, of Espanola, Ont., were removed from the Chippewa County Jail here yesterday to appear before a federal court judge in Grand Rapids on charges of attempting to pass counterfeit money.

The Ontario couple, unable to raise $5,000 bail each, were detained here since last month. Police said they found 63 bogus U.S. $10 bills in their car following a complaint by a suspicious Michigan merchant.

City to Discuss Jobless Pay

Compensation for Civic Employes Snagged by State Law

City Commissioners are expected tonight to air the subject of unemployment compensation for city employes.

City Attorney William Ewart has prepared a report dealing with the legal aspects of the question. He said it would take a change in state law before Pontiac could set up a compensation program for its employes.

★ ★ ★

At present, municipal employes all over the state are prevented from receiving unemployment compensation benefits.

Commissioners also have five public hearings scheduled. One is on intention to construct sidewalks on the south side of Linda Vista drive, Joslyn to Vernon. The walk would be used by pupils of Mark Twain School.

Two hearings are on special assessment rolls covering construction of sidewalks on the west side of East boulevard, north of Michigan avenue, and on the east side of Stirling avenue, Madison to Baltimore.

★ ★ ★

Two other hearings on minor zoning changes are expected to be postponed one week for technical reasons.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would ask for another week's time before recommending a compromise solution to the Seminole avenue-Oneida road parking meter problem.

Business Notes

Former Pontiac resident Bruce Satterla, a salesman for A. Glenn Wilson insurance agency was honored this week when he was awarded the Charles L. Parham Outstanding Airman Award for 1958 by Michigan Air National Guard at Detroit Metroplitan Airport.

Satterla, 23, who lives in Utica, was presented the award for his performance as a non-commissioned officer who trained an air police squadron.

Safety Council Suggests Dry Holiday Parties

CHICAGO (AP)— The National Safety Council asked its 8,000 business and industrial member firms today to keep their Christmas parties dry or cut them out.

"This is no attempt to dampen the traditional Christmas spirit," the Council wrote its members.

★ ★ ★

"It is a practical attempt to eliminate a definite source of death and destruction on the highway at a time they hurt most — the Christmas season."

★ ★ ★

The Christmas party pattern in Chicago may give comfort to the Council. A survey made by the Employers' Assn. shows that 14 per cent fewer companies will allow alcoholic beverages at parties this year than in 1957.

★ ★ ★

The Council said many Christmas traffic accidents can be traced to the office party and its highball hilarity.

Oming Examination Set on Embezzling Charge

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — William Oming, Washington Township treasurer, will be examined by Justice Francis A. Castellucci tomorrow on a charge of embezzling $1,700 in tax receipts.

Oming, of Romeo, was arrested last Wednesday. He was released from jail last night on $2,500 bond.

Sees Rambler Sales Absorb Wage Hikes

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors says it is absorbing an increased labor cost in its new Rambler cars through increased prospective sales.

★ ★ ★

AMC President George Romney said in a statement yesterday the new costs "can be met by the record production volume we see ahead of us." He said new car orders are running two to three times as much as last year.

★ ★ ★

Romney said the added labor costs come from the new contract with the United Auto Workers. He said the Rambler price increase announced at the time of the new models introduction covered only increased material and procurement costs.

AMC's new contract with the UAW followed the car industry's 24 to 30 cents an hour increase pattern for three years.

'Morgiana' Boils 39 Thieves in Oil

Talented Puerto Rican Is Natural for Unusual Role on 'Storybook'

NEW YORK — Morgiana, the slave girl who manages to boil 39 thieves in oil, in "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," NBC-TV network's "Shirley Temple's Storybook" presentation at 7:30 p. m. this evening, obviously is a very talented girl. She not only boils a mean pot of oil, but she dances bewitchingly and at the climax of the fairy tale's most dramatic scene, she disposes of the Robber Captain single-handedly.

A very unusual girl!

What could be more fitting, than to have the talented and unusual actress Miriam Colon play the role of Morgiana. For Miriam has a complete college education in drama, yet never has enrolled in college — and that's a neat trick, too.

The unusual situation came about in Miriam's native Puerto Rico, while she was still in high school. Her acting in a bit role in a high school play attracted the attention of a graduate student at the University of Puerto Rico. He was presenting a play as a part of his thesis in dramatics, and asked Miriam to take a part. She so impressed the university's drama department head, that he invited her to do parts in other plays.

★ ★ ★

Given special permission to sit in on college dramatic classes Miriam says, "The whole fantastic, unknown worlds of the theater were being opened to me."

After a year, she was being given lead roles at the university. During her school vacations, she toured Puerto Rico with the college's traveling theater group as its only non-student.

In mountains, plains and "little country places" she acted in the plays of Garcia Lorca, Sophocles, Aeschylus and Anouilh. By the time she was graduated from high school in 1951, she had already gone through all the dramatic studies at the university.

Although accepted for formal admission, she had no desire to repeat the courses she had already learned.

The University of Puerto Rico solved her problem by inventing a special scholarship for her to study in New York. Miriam went through the Dramatic Workshop and Technical Institute two-year course, there, in a year and a half. In 1953, she joined the Actors' Studio (of which she is still a member).

★ ★ ★

Miriam has appeared on Broadway in "The Summer House" and "The Innkeepers" and in the Los Angeles Players Ring in "Me Candido." She has made more than 40 TV appearances on such programs as "Studio One," "Omnibus" and "Kraft Theater." Still a resident of New York, she is now considering a move to Hollywood.

BREWING A WICKED PLOT — Miriam Colon, as the slave girl "Morgiana" awaits the bidding of the scheming Kasim (Thomas Gomez) in "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," tonight's TV presentation of "Shirley Temple's Storybook."

To Plan Pontiac Drive for Muscular Dystrophy

The Oakland County Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Assn. of America, Inc., will hold its annual campaign meeting next Monday, Nov. 17, according to Pontiac campaign chairman William J. Brown.

The meeting will take place at Birmingham High School and is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. Featured speakers for the evening will be Pontiac Probate Court Judge Arthur E. Moore and Dr. Max Newman, administrator of the M.A.D. Clinic of the Detroit Memorial Hospital.

The meeting will be open to all interested residents and an open discussion will be held concerning plans for the 1958 M.D.A. drive scheduled to start Dec. 2.

Eraser for Conscience

BEDFORD, Ind. (UPI) — Elementary school principal Lee Hutchinson received a dollar bill from a woman in Lexington, Ky., who wrote she had taken a blackboard eraser when a first or second-grader in the school. To help clear the woman's conscience, Hutchinson said he would buy another eraser with the money.

Power Output Swells

MARSEILLE — Electric-power production in France increased from 19 billion kilowatt hours in 1945 to 58 billion in 1957 and is expected to exceed 70 billion by the end of 1961. About half the power is generated by steam plants, the remainder by hydro-electric stations.

Jordan Files Charges at U.N. in Aerial Attack on Hussein

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Jordan has carried to the United Nations its charge of United Arab Republic aggression because Syrian jet fighters turned back King Hussein's plane. No immediate U.N. action was indicated today.

This desert kingdom also sought an immediate emergency meeting of the Arab League Council in Amman to discuss the aerial incident. The U.A.R. has denied the charge.

★ ★ ★

The two steps were approved by Parliament Tuesday in separate resolutions. Cheering members gave Premier Samir Rifai a free hand to take any action necessary.

Hussein was flying toward a 24th birthday vacation in Europe Monday when two Communist-built MIG jet fighters turned him back over the U.A.R.'s Syrian Province. In a dramatic broadcast to his people, Hussein charged the MIGs sought to kill or capture him and had crossed over Jordan in the pursuit.

★ ★ ★

U.A.R. officials said Hussein's plane was crossing Syria without proper clearance and was stopped as a routine and legal measure. The incident shattered a recent improvement in relations between Jordan and the U.A.R., whose radio stations often in the past have called for Hussein's assassination.

Rifai told Parliament that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold would be asked to arrange a Security Council debate on the Jordanian charges as soon as possible. A source at the U.N. in New York said, however, that the charges received there did not mention an emergency council meeting.

★ ★ ★

The parliamentary resolution for an Arab League meeting said it would "bring home to all Arabs the dreadfulness of Syria's act." There was no immediate response from the league headquarters in Cairo.

The U.A.R. has ridiculed Hussein's account of the incident. Cairo radio called it "a figment of Hussein's imagination" and claimed his report was a "story dreamed up by imperialists for a child (Hussein) to tell the world."

★ ★ ★

Syrian newspapers suggested the Jordanian charges might be the prelude to "further events plotted by imperialism to increase tensions in the area and divide the Arabs."

The air traffic control officer at Damascus Airport said the Syrians did not know Hussein was aboard the plane.

But Rifai said the King's emblem was painted clearly on the plane and there should have been no mistake about the fact he was aboard.

Pope Receives Canada Leader at Vatican City

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada was received by Pope John XXIII today in a special audience. They talked for more than ten minutes in the pontiff's private library.

"Now I understand why he was elected Pope," the Canadian leader said later. "He is so affable, courteous and fatherly that he wins immediately those who are fortunate enough to approach him."

Heroic Doctor Suffers Surgery 91 Times

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Emil H. Grubbe, internationally noted physician, underwent his 91st operation Tuesday for cancerous burns suffered more than 50 years ago when he became the world's first scientist to use X rays in human medicine.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Grubbe, 83, whose pioneer work led to saving or prolonging millions of lives, was reported making satisfactory progress after the 1½-hour operation.

Surgeons operated on the remaining three fingers on his right hand, and did additional work on his nose which has been practically destroyed by the seeds of malignancy scattered through his body by his early experiments.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Grubbe's upper lip, his jaw, left hand and most of the right side of his face have been eaten away.

Dr. Grubbe, who retired from active practice in 1949, has taught more than 7,000 physicians how to use X rays for healing purposes.

In 1951, the year book of the American Roentgen Ray Society credited Dr. Grubbe as thefirst to use X rays in treatments.

Churchill's Cook Anxious to Run Cyprus Canteen

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill may lose his Austrian cook. She was volunteered for Cyprus to serve tea and buns to British troops.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Josephine Schwarz saw a call for 500 volunteers to run army canteens on the terrorist-ridden island as a chance to repay the debt she feels she owes to Britain. Some 8,000 others, mostly young girls, have volunteered also.

From Chartwell, Sir Winston's home in Kent County, Mrs. Schwarz telephoned the London headquarters of NAAFI — the British equivalent of the PX—to say: "I want to go to Cyprus to look after the boys out there."

★ ★ ★

She was told to send in a written application.

What will Sir Winston say?

"Perhaps he will laugh," Mrs. Schwarz said. "I've not told him or Lady Churchill yet. It will be a shock for them, I know. I shall be very sorry to leave."

Jerry Lewis Leaves Mount Sinai Hospital

The comedian had been under treatment for a perforated ulcer and minor heart condition.

Dr. Marvin S. Levy said Lewis will remain at home at least 10 days and then will be on a restricted work schedule for an indefinite period.

To Study Land Lease for Port of Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — The Port of Detroit Commission may take a different approach today to the problem to getting a port project under construction to meet expanded shipping that will come with the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Thomas E. Lane, commissioner, said he would confer with Mayor Louis C. Miriani about a lease-arrangement to provide land for the port.

Twice a multi-million dollar bond issue to provide funds for the project has been defeated by voters, the latest setback coming Nov. 4.

Lane said if the city would condemn the land and lease it to the commission "we would have our foot in the door. We could then lease it to a private operator and let him build the facilities."

The commission planned to hold a strategy meeting today.

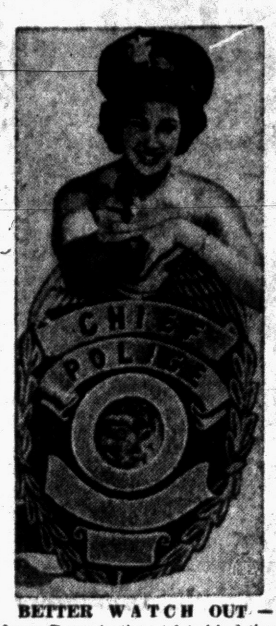

Peace Offering May Be Next in Callas Saga

NEW YORK (UPI) — Soprano Maria Callas, admitting her dismissal from the Metropolitan Opera had left her without a single operatic engagement this season, left the door unlatched today for a peace offering from the impresario who fired her.

Miss Callas indicated that Met General Manager Rudolf Bing would have to make the first move to soothe her ruffled feelings, and it appeared that such a step was being taken by a Chicago booking agent skilled at dealing with temperamental artists.

Harry Zelzer, head of the Allied Arts Corp., said he would meet in New York today with Miss Callas, whom he termed "a little tigress."

She denied at a press conference last night that she had any plan to see Zelzer.

BETTER WATCH OUT — Lynn Dean is the girl behind the badge at Miami Beach, Fla. She was hostess to the recent International Association of Police Chiefs in the resort city.

No Red Shells Fall Yet Today

Defenders of Quemoys Take Wait-See Attitude on Scheduled Shooting

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communist shore batteries facing the Quemoys held their fire into the afternoon today despite a loudspeaker threat to resume shelling on even-numbered days.

★ ★ ★

By the rules announced over Peiping radio on Oct. 25, the Reds have not shelled the landing beaches and airstrip on Quemoy on even days but might shell the rest of the offshore islands. In practice there has been no shelling on the last five even days.

★ ★ ★

Red loudspeakers six miles across the bay from Quemoy had indicated Tuesday that shells would fall today. The Chinese Nationalist defenders of the islands took an unconcerned wait-and-see attitude.

The Communists fired 93 shells at the Quemoys Tuesday, an odd day on which they permit themselves to shoot at anything. Volume of fire in the Red bombardment which began Aug. 23 has been light lately.

Boy, 7, Narrates How His Dad Killed Mother

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Anthony Shay Jr. is 7 and this is how he told police what happened when his mother answered a knock Tuesday and found his father at the door:

"He asked my mother if she was going to come and live with him anymore. She said, 'no,' and he shot her five times and himself once."

★ ★ ★

Mildred Shay, 32, was killed. Anthony Shay, 43, an unemployed farm laboroer, is expected to recover from a .22 caliber wound in the left chest.

They had been separated a few months and Mrs. Shay had filed suit for divorce.

★ ★ ★

Anthony Jr. and three other children, Joseph, 5; Timothy, 2; and Mary Kay, 9 months; were at home when their mother was slain. Mrs. Shay's two youngsters by a previous marriage, Ralph Miller, 15; and Sharon Miller, 11; were at school.

Man Dies of Injuries After Crash Kills Wife

ALMA (AP) — Franklin G. Johnson, 67, of Harbor Beach, died last night of injuries suffered in a highway crash Sunday in which his wife was killed.

Johnson's car ran off M53 near Alma. His wife Christina, 53, died in the wreck.

Members have also been asked to bring guests to this once-a-year project, and all proceeds will be donated to worthy community projects.

No Fun to This

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) —Fisherman Louis Johnson said he had no trouble catching a two-pound bass. The bass jumped into his boat on a bayou near here, he said.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.
