Titan Shows Its True Colors

ATLANTA (AP) — The aurora borealis or "northern lights" sometimes puts on a fiery show of heavenly beauty that can be seen deep in the heart of Dixie.

Now comes the "aurora titanalis," fanned by a mighty Titan rocket fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and named by a Weather Bureau meteorologist weary from answering calls about strange, brilliant lights in the sky Monday night.

The pyrotechnics kicked off by the intercontinental range missile were spotted along the Atlantic Coast from Miami, Fla., to Virginia.

As the huge rocket blazed into the cold air of the upper atmosphere at dusk, it created a brilliant vapor trail illuminated spectacularly by rays of the setting sun, below the horizon.

The firing closed out the Titan I program that began at Cape Canaveral four years ago. The Air Force said the missile achieved all test objectives in streaking 5,000 miles to a target area near Ascension Island in the South Atlantic.

A major goal was to test an advanced inertial guidance system for the Titan II, the most powerful military missile currently planned by the United States.

Titan II tests will begin at the Cape in March.

Titan I's finale set telephone switchboards buzzing at newspapers, police stations and weather bureaus along the lower East Coast.

The sight was described by some as a "big, filmy balloon, hundreds of miles across," by others as a "terrible flash of light—like an umbrella cloud with a rocket ball of fire going from it."

Residents of Raleigh, N.C., saw it as a blimp, or a moon of lights, or a flash with lights at both ends. At Asheville, N.C., it was described by some as a jellyfish with lights.

Kennedy Pushes for $100 Million to Bail Out U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy asked Congress today for $100 million to buy United Nations bonds and help bail the U.N. out of its Congouca financial crisis.

In a strongly worded message Kennedy declared the bond purchase is vital to U.S. interests. Failure to buy the securities, he said, "would serve the interests of the Soviet Union."

The presidential plea has already run into controversy in Capitol Hill and Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, has promised hearings before any vote is taken.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts predicted, however, that the legislators will okay Kennedy's request. He told newsmen "I feel very confident that Congress will realize the importance of it and will act favorably on it."

The debate appears likely to range over the whole question of this country's role in the U.N.

The President, in his State of the Union message, said purchase of the bonds "will not only keep the United Nations solvent, but require all voting members to pay their fair share of activities."

The proposed bond issue, totaling $200 million, is to be retired out of general assessments, which all U.N. members pay. The money is required to pay debts arising from U.N. Congo operations. Several nations not yet the Soviet Union, France and Belgium, have refused to pay special assessments for the operations.

Several congressmen have said they are opposed to the bond purchase and to the U.N. military actions on behalf of the Congo central government. The actions were backed by the Kennedy administration.

The Senate Affairs subcommittee, headed by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., has been holding closed hearings this month on U.S. support of the U.N. military campaign against President Mobutu of the secessionist Katanga Province.

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman said today he doesn't believe that if Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller gets a divorce, it will affect his chances for re-election as governor.

However, as to how it could affect the possibility of his getting the presidential nomination, Truman said: "Your guess is as good as mine."

JFK Suggests Blueprint for Congress Okay

To Create Department for Urban Affairs and Housing; Fate Unsure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy sent to Congress today a reorganization plan to create a new Cabinet rank department of urban affairs and housing.

The fate of the plan is uncertain. It becomes law in 60 days unless either house of Congress vetoes it, but the measure has become embroiled in racial and partisan controversy.

Senate rejection of the plan is considered unlikely but the prospects in the House are uncertain. Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., introduced a resolution to reject the President's proposal as soon as a clerk had read the message in the House.

Meader's resolution may be called up for a vote in the House any time after Feb. 2 if the House Government Operations Committee takes no action or refuses to approve it.

In a special message to Congress accompanying the plan, Kennedy said: "The times we live in urgently call for this action. We will neglect our cities at our peril, for in neglecting them we neglect the nation."

The 11th Cabinet department would contain the seven agencies now embraced in the Housing and Home Finance Agency, and Kennedy has announced that HHA's administrator, Robert C. Weaver, would become secretary of the new department — the first Negro Cabinet officer in history.

Kennedy announced the plan to Meader Weaver for the new job at a news conference last week and a few hours after the House Rules Committee had rejected by a 9-6 vote a bill to freeze the department by regular legislative means.

Kennedy scolded Republicans for their solid committee opposition in the bill. The five GOP members were joined by four Democrats.

"I am convinced that economy and efficiency will be importantly enhanced by the improved coordination which this reorganization plan will make possible," today's Kennedy message said.

In a press release accompanying the plan and message, the White House said Kennedy decided to use his power under the reorganization act only after the attempt to create the department by legislation failed.

Sec. McNamara Unifies Defense

By RAY CROMLEY
(First of Three Dispatches)

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Defense Secretary Robert Strange McNamara is turning out to be neither as tough nor as inflexible as his reputation.

But in his first year in office, McNamara has made changes in U.S. defenses so far reaching that in some key ways the Army, the Navy and the Air Force may not again be the same.

These are conclusions drawn from some 60 interviews with key civilian and military men in key spots in the Department of Defense.

These officials will not be named by their own request. Although this report attempts to summarize this thinking, no single person would agree with everything said. McNamara is a very controversial man.

In his first year, McNamara has taken major strides toward what amounts to a single U.S. military force under a central command.

All ready-to-go U. S. fighting forces — Army, Navy and Air Force — are now in unified commands directly under the operational command of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Major defense buying, except for weapons in use under a single Defense Supply Agency, major electronics buying is being put into a single agency. Major military communications were already unified.

All major military intelligence is being brought into a single agency.

Cloud Outlook Bad for Glenn

Space Officials Going Ahead, However, With Thursday Plans

From Our News Wires

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Space officials said today the weather prospects are grim but that they will go ahead with preparations to launch astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. into orbit Thursday morning.

The schedule as now set calls for Glenn to make one, two, or three flights around the earth in space depending on when he gets off in the period between 7:30 a.m. EST and 12:30 p.m.

At last report the pre-shot checkout of the big Atlas booster and Glenn's Friendship 7 Marscury space capsule were proceeding smoothly. Glenn apparently continued to be in top form.

But the weather forecast at 9:40 a.m. EST today was not reassuring. A cloud cover was expected to move in Thursday over the launch area from the northeast at 3,000 feet.

Said the forecasters: "Mostly cloudy — uncertain."

Because officials want to photograph the critical early moments of the launch as a safety move to make doubly certain they know exactly how it is going, they will not fire it more than 35 to 40 percent of the sky is covered by clouds.

Three aircraft carriers were ordered out to sea again to stand by for astronaut Glenn's attempt to ride a spaceship around the earth.

Orders called for the carrier Enterprise to leave Norfolk, Va., for her recovery area, 500 miles south of Bermuda; the carrier Wasp to leave Bermuda; and a pair of some 500 miles east of there, and a third carrier, the Randolph, from Puerto Rico to an area near the Bahama Island of Grand Turk, nearly 800 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

The forecast was hardly more favorable for the recovery area in the Atlantic where Glenn would come down if his trip were ended after one orbit.

Rough seas east of Bermuda were expected to extend as far south as the one-orbit recovery area, the forecast said.

Political Row Hits Waterford

Trustee Wants Johnson to Retract Charge of Dem-Based Decisions

Waterford Township Trustee John S. Coleman last night demanded Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson retract a charge that decisions by township officials were based on Democratic political considerations.

Coleman, in a typewritten statement distributed at the Township Board meeting, said Johnson's "only recourse is to retract his statement in question and publicly apologize to those officials he is unthinkingly indicted."

Johnson, elected three times as a Democrat, announced that next year he'll run as a Republican. Regarding the political considerations, he said he preferred not to speculate.

This drew a question from Township Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy O. Olson on what Johnson meant by not being specific.

Coleman, a Democrat and government and economics teacher at Waterford Township High School, said in the typewritten statement that "not being specific raises very serious implications about which the citizens of Waterford Township have every right to know."

Further, "Mr. Johnson alleges that certain Waterford Township officials base decisions on political considerations not in the best interest of all citizens of the township."

"This allegation is false, misleading, and is made, it appears, to deliberately smear certain township officials whose judgments do not in every case agree with that of Supervisor Johnson," Johnson, saying he didn't want to become implicated in a political hassle at a Township Board meeting, walked out.

Later, Johnson said that he had his own reasons for making his statements and changing party affiliations, and for the good of the township, he had no intention of revealing his personal feelings.

Delay Vote on Cuba in Conciliation Move

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — The United States and its 13 Latin-American supporters backed away today from a demand for an immediate vote by the hemisphere foreign ministers conference to exclude Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime from the Organization of American States.

The majority group eased its stand in an effort to break a deadlock over how and when the suspension of the conference, which was supposed to end Monday, continued to drag on after hours of fruitless bargaining.

As hopes faded for an early adjournment, United States prestige appeared to suffer a blow.

The 14-nation group met for two hours and named a three-nation committee to draft a compromise amendment to be offered to the

This Morning's 'High' Plummets 23 Degrees in 6 Snowy Hours

Blister north winds sent temperatures plummeting this morning in the Pontiac area. A high of 32 was recorded at 3 a.m. By 4 a.m. the mercury had dropped to 9 degrees.

Snows drifted treacherously over icy roads. County road crews were called out in full force at 1:30 a.m. to clear the worst spots for morning traffic.

Winds 30-40 m.p.h. toppled a Detroit Edison Co. power line on Oakland Avenue in Pontiac this morning. Another power line was down in Troy. No damage resulted in either instance. Service was restored in Troy in about an hour.

Motorists were warned by state police and the sheriff's department that all roads in the county have slippery spots concealed by snow. Gravel roads were particularly bad in spite of crew work efforts.

Wednesday's outlook is fair with diminished winds and not quite as cold.

At 2 p.m. the mercury reading was 12.

Swainson Calls for More Work

Wants Less Politics at Con-Con, Which Refers to Romney

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George W. Swainson says the legislature and constitutional convention should spend less time on politics and more time on the issues they face.

Two much political in-fighting among legislators and convention delegates would impair their work, Swainson said at a news conference Monday.

"January is much too soon to worry about who will be governor in 1963 and president in 1965," said the governor in an obvious reference to political feuding over George Romney, his potential rival in the 1962 race for governor.

Romney, American Motors Corp. president and a Republican, will head the constitutional convention, has said he will announce by Feb. 15 whether to seek the GOP nomination for governor.

Said Swainson:

"The most important thing being done at the constitutional convention and the legislature is to address ourselves to the problems involved and not worry about what's going to happen a year from now."

George M. Van Pearson, GOP state chairman, countered with a defense of the Republican majority in the convention.

"The record clearly shows that Republican delegates have voted the dictates of their individual consciences on all matters pertaining to the proposed constitution," he said.

GOP Men Say JFK Insincere on Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders said today President Kennedy might doom all civil rights legislation by his insistence on a new urban affairs department.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen and his House counterpart, Charles A. Halleck, accused the President of employing "urban tactics" in the field of civil rights.

They said the President's attempt to set up an urban affairs department through his executive reorganization authority, and his pronounced intention of naming a Negro as secretary, would endanger all civil rights legislation.

The Day in Birmingham

City Commission Renews Troy Water Contract

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission last night approved the renewal of a five-year contract for the sale of water to Troy.

The agreement will provide Birmingham with an annual minimum revenue of $6,000.

Troy has been using the Walker Well, on East Maple road between Crooks and Coldgate roads since Birmingham was the South Central Water Authority to be furnished with water from Detroit.

The 40-acre well site is located in Troy but is owned by Birmingham. The commission also accepted the resignation of two members from city boards.

Roy W. LeMayne of 1380 Maryland Blvd. resigned from the zoning board of appeals for business reasons and Royden K. Lewis resigned from the electrical board. Lewis said he intends to be traveling and would no longer have time to serve on the board.

No successors to the two men were named by the commission.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley reported today that the number of traffic accidents in Birmingham last year dropped to 706 from 774 in 1960.

Reductions were shown in all violations last year compared with the previous year, he noted.

There were no fatal accidents in 1961 compared to two in 1960 and the personal injury accidents dropped from 199 to 135.

Oscar L. Green, 30, of 1170 Chesterfield St., will be in court tomorrow at the Birmingham City Jail.

Plans for further improvements are being prepared tentatively by the city engineer. These include new fences, a better approachway from M24 and dormitories for the youngsters who have been sleeping in tents and shacks each year at fair time.

Recognition May Save Fairgrounds

See 4-H as County's Child

BY DICK HANSON

The Oakland County 4-H Club got its first break in a long-fought struggle to hang onto its fairgrounds in Pontiac yesterday.

County Auditor Robert L. Lyle pointed out since 4-H is a function of county government, the property could not rightfully be leased to the club but should be allocated for its use.

Allocation would give the club assurance of the fairgrounds.

First hurdle will make the second one easier.

In a sense, these officials got more than they asked for yesterday, since they came seeking a new 20-year lease on the site.

County Auditor Robert Lyle pointed out since 4-H is a function of county government, the property could not rightfully be leased to the club but should be allocated for its use.

Allocation would give the club assurance of the fairgrounds.

Officials estimate the club already has sunk some $40,000 into buildings and other improvements to the 20-acre site located just outside city limits.

Plans for further improvements are being prepared tentatively by the county engineer. These include new fences, a better approachway from M24 and dormitories for the youngsters who have been sleeping in tents and shacks each year at fair time.

Asks Adzhubeis for Luncheon

DAUGHTER, SON-IN-LAW OF KHRUSHCHEV HONORED BY THE KENNEDYS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev's daughter and son-in-law are having luncheon today with President and Mrs. Kennedy at the White House.

The son-in-law is Alexei I. Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia, official Soviet government newspaper. He interviewed Kennedy last fall at the President's Cape Cod home.

Adzhubei told newsmen at an embassy reception Monday night the case of former Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov "has no significance in our country."

In answer to newsmen's questions, he said the mystery surrounding Molotov's fate does not mean any resurgence of the so-called "anti-party group" in the Soviet Union, a group which has opposed Khrushchev policies.

He said Molotov is an old man and perhaps has been sick. The Molotov case made headlines in the West when it was announced he was returning to a diplomatic post in Vienna. Later it was announced he was not returning.

The White House luncheon was announced last Wednesday, two days after the President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, declined an informal invitation to stop off in the Soviet Union on his world trip.

The White House, however, ascribed no particular political significance to the invitation.

Press secretary Salinger said Adzhubei had asked to meet with Kennedy again and the President had volunteered to be host in his honor.

Salinger described last fall's interview, which was published in Izvestia, as "the single most important step in the field of international communications in 1961."

To Leave Cranbrook Staff for Top Post at Kingsbury

Bruce N. Coulter, one of the stalwarts of the Cranbrook School faculty, will leave the school in June after a 25-year service to become headmaster of Kingsbury School near Oxford.

Coulter, 64, an English teacher and director of guidance at the Bloomfield Hills boys school, will succeed Richard H. DeFano who is resigning at the close of the current school year.

Kingsbury is a private elementary school with an enrollment of 80 boys and girls in kindergarten through the ninth grade. It is located at the corner of Hosier and Oakwood Roads about seven miles northeast of Oxford.

"I don't like to leave Cranbrook for this has been a wonderful place to teach and live," said Coulter, the recipient last June of 15 salary grants in the state of Michigan for all-around contribution to his school.

Five years ago he authored a book on the adventures of a young boy going west in 1883. He also coached hockey and basketball at Cranbrook, has been headmaster of the seventh and eighth grades and taught about 3,000 boys. He was to retire from Cranbrook next year.

A native of Saratoga Lake, N.Y., the new headmaster received a masters degree in English and education from the University of Michigan.

As chairman of the board of trustees of Kingsbury the past three years, one of his duties was to name a committee to find a successor to DeFano. The committee found one right in their midst.

Drifts Too Deep, Schools Close in Thumb Area

By The Associated Press

Scores of Michigan schools were closed by gale force winds and up to 10 inches of snow that whipped across the state Monday night and today. A sharp drop in temperatures followed the new snow.

Sixty schools in the Thumb area shut down today when heavy snow and high winds were buried under heavy snow drifts.

At 11 a.m., state police said a blizzard was raging in the Lapeer County area of the Upper Peninsula. Visibility on U.S. 2 was out to zero, police said.

The State Highway Department cautioned that driving conditions were "very poor" in the northern part of the state, where from 4 to 10 inches of snow fell during the night.

Colombians Wear Friendly Smile for Billy Graham

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — A crowd of 2,000 gave American evangelist Billy Graham a warm welcome at Bogota Airport Monday.

Graham told newsmen he was pleased with the friendliness shown him in Colombia despite the refusal of authorities at Barranquilla to let him use the city stadium.

He said the "cordiality and respect" of his audiences and well-wishers more than made up for the slight.

Graham abandoned plans to confer with President Alberto Lleras Camargo because of the shortness of his stay. He planned to leave for Cali today where another religious hall available for him to use.

Both the buildings and grounds and ways and means committees had been split over the future of the fairgrounds.

Some members wanted to centralize the fairgrounds with other county facilities in the vicinity of the new courthouse.

But county cooperative extension service officials, who manage 4-H affairs, are anxious to retain the present site because of the many improvements and buildings that have been added over the years.

MOIGHT LONG TERM LEASE

They have been seeking a long term lease of the county-owned property.

At a joint meeting yesterday with the cooperative extension service committee, the buildings and ground committee agreed unanimously to recommend to the board that 4-H be housed on a county farm land and the present site be allocated rather than leased to the club.

Approval by the Board of Supervisors would supersede any past agreements, such as at least, according to the committee's recommendation.

There is one catch, however. The recommendation was made subject to concurrence by the ways and means committee.

But extension service officials are hopeful that clearing this hurdle will make the second one easier.

Commissioners To Act on Budget

Could Mean Tax Rate Hike of 26 Cts. on Each $1,000 Assessed Value

Final adoption of the proposed $2.7 million operating budget for 1962 and passage of the budget ordinance will top tonight's Pontiac City Commission meeting at City Hall.

The budget is the same as was proposed last November by former City Manager Walter K. Williams.

Although original department requests were trimmed by more than $500,000, city officials estimate the budget will require a tax rate hike of 26 cents per $1,000 of assessed property value.

For someone with $1,000 of taxable property this would amount to an increase of about $1 in his city tax bill.

In other business, the commission will hear reports from the City Clerk Olga Barkley on petitions filed with the city requesting that a pension plan for firemen and policemen and another for non-uniformed police officers be placed on the April 16 ballot.

All petitions contain the necessary number of signatures. The proposals must be prepared by City Attorney William A. Ewart.

DELETED TO 1963

Since the pension plan would cost an estimated $100,000 this year and no provision was made for it in the 1962 budget allocations, it passed, couldn't become effective until 1963, city officials said.

Commissioners will also hear City Engineer James N. Carline's cost estimates on four proposed sewer projects in the Kennel Gardens area.

Sam B. McCool of Michigan Bell Succumbs at 58

Sam B. McCool, general information manager for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., died Monday in Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit.

Mr. McCool, 58, of 20500 Piquette, Detroit, a former newspaperman, was one of the most respected public relations men in the business.

He won respect for himself and the company he represented.

A cancer he was battling accurately and completely in his reports of what went on within Michigan Bell—whether it was good or bad news.

In 1927 McCool went to the Associated Press bureau in Lansing, after working on papers in Los Angeles, in Texas and in Tampico, Mexico.

He was hired to handle public relations for the State Highway Department in 1935 and four years later moved to Michigan Bell.

Services will be at 3:30 a.m. Thursday from the Ted C. Sullivan Funeral Home, Detroit, with Requiem Mass at 10 a.m. at St. Gaudy Church, Burtville in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

McNamara Operates on Pentagon

McNamara's computer-type mind was especially enthusiastic when he last time possible to the Pentagon his many Minuteman or Polaris submarines could be built to take the advanced Polaris missiles which were being developed by the Navy. That is, the $100-million subs would not be obsolete when 2,500-mile Polaris missiles replace the 1,000-mile variety.

The submarines will still be usable when super Polaris missiles are developed with nuclear warheads five to six times more powerful than present ones.

McNamara decided to keep on with Nike Zeus experimentally, but not go into expensive production in the gamble that Zeus would develop into a more sophisticated missile that could take care of a rain of enemy ICBMs instead of being a single shot.

Tells Plan to Lift East-West Ban on Crossing Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The British commandant in Berlin offered the Soviet command today a plan to relax a decades-old ban on crossing the Communist wall through Berlin.

Maj. Gen. Sir Robin Delamater, British commandant in Berlin, told the Soviet commandant the Western Allies are ready to go back to previous procedures on the travel of the commandants and their staffs in the divided city.

This would mean that the ban would be lifted against the Soviet commandant, Col. Andrei I. Solovov, and his staff. Civilian officials, including the U.S. commandant, would be permitted to go to the Soviet sector without identifying themselves to the police of the West German Communist regime.

McNamara Operates on Pentagon

McNamara's computer-type mind was especially enthusiastic when he last time possible to the Pentagon his many Minuteman or Polaris submarines could be built to take the advanced Polaris missiles which were being developed by the Navy. That is, the $100-million subs would not be obsolete when 2,500-mile Polaris missiles replace the 1,000-mile variety.

To Oust Teacher Over Pledge

Contract Won't Be Renewed

Ulta Board Votes to Drop Jehovah Witness in Patriotism Dispute

UTICA — The Ulta Community School Board voted unanimously last night against renewing Charles McManigal's contract for next year because he has said he will refuse to participate in patriotic displays which are against his religious beliefs.

The board acted on Schools Superintendent Fred M. Atkinson's recommendation that the teacher be dropped when his present contract expires June 15.

The 37-year-old Sterling Junior High School music and band teacher has said he will not lead the band in the "Star Spangled Banner" because such an act constitutes a "nationalistic ceremony." He is a Jehovah's Witness.

Adopted Dec. 11, the board's patriotism policy requires teachers in the district to participate with students in saluting and pledging allegiance to the flag and carrying out other duties involved in patriotic programs.

The policy was adopted after parents complained that McManigal had told his students he was not going to lead the band over a substitute for the playing of the National Anthem.

According to Louis Gonda, director of the school's instrumental music department, McManigal has not refused to teach the piece — only to lead it.

The special meeting was called last night to consider two letters the teacher submitted to Atkinson last week.

The first, a letter of resignation, asked that the board clear up the embarrassing situation by relieving McManigal of his duties. The second, given to Atkinson the night last, requested that the board ignore the resignation.

EXPLAINS LETTERS

The band teacher explained last night that his first letter was prompted by concern over the cost and length of a possible court battle over the constitutionality of the board's policy.

He withdrew the resignation, he said, because he was assured of financial support in case of a suit from the defense fund set up by the Michigan Education Association.

Donald Haynes, a Ulta teacher and president of the district's teachers' association, told the board Jan. 8 that no precedent had been set in Michigan courts on this issue.

He referred to a 1943 U.S. Supreme Court decision ruling that the state of West Virginia did not have the right to force students to salute or pledge the flag.

This decision applies indirectly to McManigal's case, he said, and he asked that the board hold off on any action against the teacher until a suitable compromise could be found.

teacher until a suitable compromise could be found.

Atkinson said he recommended that the board not renew McManigal's contract for next year on the basis of the teacher's statements. To suspend him this school year would have required evidence of a failure to perform at a school function, Atkinson said.

NEXT STEPS

McManigal has from 30 to 45 days now to ask for a hearing before the board on his hearing. If no agreement is reached when the board reviews the case, his pay will stop and the State Tenure Commission will step in to negotiate.

Then, it talks back, McManigal said he will take the case to court. Members of the board have expressed willingness to have the case heard in court to clarify the board's powers to set its teachers' duties.

McManigal, who is married and has two children lives at 4255 14th Road, Utica. He said he became a Jehovah's Witness during the second of his seven years teaching in the district.

James Cutty Wins College Scholarship

MILFORD — James Cutty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cutty, 3105 Ford Road, has been awarded a $300 scholarship at Olivet Nazarene College, Kansas, Ill. Besides being a member of the Jesse Gordinier Chapter of the National Honor Society, James is drum major of the Milford High School marching band.

He also is a member of the school orchestra and has his varsity letter in tennis.

He will enter Olivet Nazarene next September where he will major in secondary school education specializing in music and mathematics.

GOP Moderates Talk to Romney

Sen. Roberts in Group Discussing Future of State in Lansing

Eight young Republican state senators, who espouse the moderate viewpoint, ate steak sandwiches with George W. Romney last night in Lansing and chewed over state problems.

The moderates, including Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, talked behind closed doors in the Jack Tar Hotel for one hour and 45 minutes about Michigan's future. But they didn't bring up Romney's future, Roberts said.

Romney, possible candidate for governor, discussed tax reform, party activity in larger metropolitan cities like Detroit, increased state aid for such cities thereby eliminating federal assistance, and the state's overall business climate.

Others who met in the room of Sen. John H. Stuhlin, R-Bellingham, who already has announced for the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor, were Sen. Stanley G. Thayer, D-Ann Arbor, John W. Fitzgerald of Grand Lodge, Frederick Hilbert of Wayland, Harry Litwack of Benton Harbor, Thomas F. Schweigert of Peleekey, William G. Milliken of Traverse City.

Asked about the group's reaction to Romney, Roberts said, "It was very favorable before the meeting with him and it continues very, very favorable."

$75,000 Blaze Rips Lumberyard in Area

SOUTHFIELD — A spectacular blaze which broke out and was fought under control in about 45 minutes by Southfield firemen with the help of the Farmington Township, Oak Park and Detroit departments.

The blaze, was discovered shortly after midnight and was brought under control in about 45 minutes by Southfield firemen with the help of the Farmington Township, Oak Park and Detroit departments.

Some 50 firemen battled the blaze which was fanned by gusty winds. The roof of the one-story brick 40-by-150-foot building caved in while the walls were left standing.

A 30-by-60-plywood storage shed attached to the main building was gutted and its contents destroyed. An investigation of the cause of the fire was to be made this morning by Fire Chief Kruck.

Owner of the company is Joseph A. Cherrier, 2186 Mahon Road. The fire was discovered by an unknown passer-by.

While firemen brought the blaze under control in about 45 minutes, they stayed at the scene until after 5 a.m. to see that it did not break out again and to clean up the mess.

Rec Executives Set Conference

Speakers Listed for Annual Get Together in St. Clair Shores

Prominent persons in the fields of recreation, regional planning and metropolitan government will be the featured speakers at the annual Metropolitan Recreation Executives Association conference to be held at the Civic Center in St. Clair Shores starting at 9:30 a.m. Feb. 7.

Martin Schwark of Mount Clemens, chairman for the conference, said that over 150 recreation executives and leaders representing 54 communities are expected to attend the conference. Metropolitan recreation facilities for leisure time will be discussed.

The topics and speakers include "Blueprint for 1970," by James F. Project Will Use 300 Tons of Rock

On the art work for the interior of shrine.

Painting the 14 Stations of the Cross is Joseph Jankowski, an alumnus of the college who is a teacher at the Cleveland Institute of Arts.

Jankowski also has designed the 21-foot statue of Our Lady of the Shrine.

The statue is being done in copper by Carl Van Duzer, also of the Cleveland Institute of Art. When completed it will be the largest copper figure ever constructed in the United States and possibly the largest in the world.

Enclosed by the stones, mortared by cement and lime, are steel frames needed to support the high pillars roof.

Moshier, who has his two sons, Donald and Robert, working with him on the project, said that on an average it is necessary to cut about 200 stones a day to fit irregular holes.

Setting each individual stone in place is the job of Wayne Veatch, 35, of 1521 Rutel Road, Bloomfield Township, a mason for 10 years.

During the low temperatures men are protected from the cold and wind by a heavy plastic covering attached to a rectangular frame building.

The superstructure of the 62-foot shrine is expected to be completed in August but it may be four or five years before the interior is finished — an official at the seminary said.

"By finished I mean stained-glass windows and items that aren't immediately necessary," he said. Currently, work is progressing

MARON AT WORK — Smoothing the mortar between Pennsylvania river stone in one of the 22 buttresses of the Shrine of Our Lady of Orchard Lake is Wayne Veatch, 35, of 1521 Rutel Road, Bloomfield Township. Some 300 tons will go into the construction of the shrine on the campus of St. Cyril and Methodius Elinary, St. Mary's College and High School.

Cheerful Milford Man Works From His Chair

BY REBA HEINTZEMAN

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — It's been a long haul for a Milford area boy since that fateful day in June 1943, when he dove off Black Bridge into the Huron River and smashed a vertebrae in his neck.

David Angustine, 1120 Burn Road, and a group of teen-age friends from the First Baptist Church had gathered at the "old swimming hole" for a picnic and an afternoon of swimming.

Just at the moment David was poised on top of the bridge ready to plunge into the water, two younger friends jumped from the lower level.

In order to avoid colliding with them 18-year-old David decided his dive from the 14-foot depth to shallow water, and he hit bottom.

It was then that David's life changed completely. He was pulled unconscious from the river by a cousin, James Korn, and given artificial respiration until an ambulance arrived. It was months before David was taken off the critical list, but the damage was done.

The 190-pound foot football tackle who also played the tuba in the school band was paralyzed from the neck down.

AVOID SWIMMING HOLE

The accident stunned the entire community and since then the people who remember seldom use the Black Bridge swimming hole.

Today at the age of 30, Angustine is not bitter. He has learned to live a different kind of life in a wheel chair, and has — through long tedious hours of exercise — managed to recover partial use of his arms and hands.

After his mother died five years ago, David and his father, Henry settled down to "batching it." Sisters and brothers are always looking into see that the two are well and happy.

David has set up a little mimeograph service for producing bulletins for churches, businesses and organizations needing such work. He is also the Milford area representative for Goodwill Industries, Detroit.

However, the main part of David's life is now spent at the Milford police station, where he is employed as a dispatcher. He loves the 1 a.m. to 9 a.m. shift and says that it is anything but lonely.

At 12:30 a.m. a police car pulls up at David's home and he is helped into the car, then to the station where a special ramp was built for easier wheel chair transportation.

The police station radio, connected with all Oakland County stations, transmits hundreds of different stories throughout the early morning.

State police, sheriff's deputies and Milford police are continually coming and going to keep the young man's hours from becoming tedious. Occasionally people on their way home from late parties drop in just to visit.

Although his legs are lifeless, the handsome young man has a cheery, friendly attitude that seems to radiate quiet charm, making him one of the favorite police radio car dispatchers in all Oakland County.

50,000 to Visit MSU Campus

Farmers Week Draws Crowds to See 'Beef on the Hoof'

LANSING (AP)—Farmers from all parts of the state will have a chance to see "beef on the hoof" today at Michigan State University's 47th annual Farmers' Week.

The steers, which have roamed some of the top beef breeding farms in the state, were to be judged today and sold at the annual fall stock show tomorrow.

More than 8,000 visitors poured over the MSU campus Monday during opening sessions. Dairy cows were the main attraction.

Before the week is up, some 50,000 visitors are expected to visit the farm products and agriculture showing.

Fruit farmers, sugar beet growers, Christmas tree growers and agriculture engineers also are expected to be here today.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman will address state farmers tomorrow.

Mount Clemens Bookseller Sues Prosecutor, Police

MOUNT CLEMENS — Lawrence Patterson, 32, a Mount Clemens bookseller, has sued the Macomb County prosecutor and four city policemen, charging harassment.

Attorney Edwin Eklund filed the $100,000 suit in U.S. District Court yesterday. It names George N. Harris, Macomb County prosecutor; Eugene A. Smith, the Mount Clemens chief of detectives; and Russell A. Grand, Aldrich, Pudey and Harold Worthen, members of the Mount Clemens police force.

Eklund said Patterson was arrested earlier this month on a warrant charging sale of a book containing passages derogatory to the morals of minors. Eklund said that statute has been declared unconstitutional and repealed.

Patterson said, however, that the charge was sale of obscene literature and that the statute was valid.

Patterson said the book, a paperback titled "The Girls Upstairs," was obtained through normal distribution channels. He also alleged that the police had entered his store without a valid warrant and confiscated $500 worth of books.

Patterson said, however, that the police had a valid warrant. He said he didn't know what was confiscated.

Patterson said the case came up after a theft of some books at the store.

Admit Mt. Holly Theft in Boyne City Court

Two Southfield youths who also admitted stealing ski equipment from the Mt. Holly Ski Area were fined $75 yesterday for a similar theft in Boyne Falls.

Pleading guilty to larceny in Boyne City Justice Court were William T. Bishop, 18, 30155 Southfield Road, and Melford J. Valiquette Jr., 17, 33154 Henry Road.

Pleasantry state police arrested the pair Sunday in the theft of ski equipment from the Boyne Falls ski resort. Officers said they admitted taking a set of skis and boots from Mt. Holly and other items from Harbor Springs.

Punitive state police are investigating the theft at Mt. Holly.

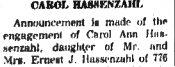

Urges Merger of New Nations for Effectiveness

DETROIT (AP) — A United Nations staff official says a way should be found to join some of the many new countries into nations of more effective size.

Dr. Andrew W. Cordier, under-secretary in charge of general assembly and related affairs, told the Economic Club of Detroit yesterday one of the current problems of the U.N. is caused by the growing number of new nations.

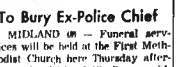

He said there is too much "fragmentation of land and empire" and that it would be "a good thing if means were found for peaceful joining of these new countries" into nations of more effective size.

These new countries need our help in many ways, Cordier said. But he urged that aid be more adapted to need and be given in a way that makes the aided country a partner in the effort.

Stone Cutters Busy on Shrine at Orchard Lake

BY JIM LONG

ORCHARD LAKE — Take 10 tons of rock, a small crew of masons and stone cutters working in freezing weather, and you have a first visible sign of the new campus shrine at St. Cyril and Methodius Seminary here.

The rocks are being used to construct 22 buttresses of various sizes that will surround the Shrine of Our Lady of Orchard Lake which is expected to be completed late this year.

Eventually it will take another 225 tons of rock to complete.

The skilled workers are employees of the Carl Leffler Stone Co. of Bloomfield Township which contracted to do the special work three weeks ago and which will probably be on the job for another three months.

STONE CUTTER — Bob Moshier, 22, of 3263 Donley Road, Auburn Heights, is shown here cutting stone for the buttresses of Our Lady of Orchard Lake Shrine now under construction. It will take 25 tons of stone to build the buttresses and another 225 tons to complete the shrine. Moshier's father also is a stone cutter as was his grandfather and great-grandfather.

The stone project is believed to be the largest ever undertaken in this area, according to Carl Moshier, 49, of 3263 Donley Road, Auburn Heights, a stone cutter for 14 years.

The river stone is being transported directly to the site by rail from Pennsylvania. A railroad siding is located on the campus.

No estimate has been made of how many stones will go into the 9,000 square feet of buttresses because of the different shapes and sizes, but so far the four small supports have taken more than a thousand rocks each.

Enclosed by the stones, mortared by cement and lime, are steel frames needed to support the high pillars roof.

Moshier, who has his two sons, Donald and Robert, working with him on the project, said that on an average it is necessary to cut about 200 stones a day to fit irregular holes.

Setting each individual stone in place is the job of Wayne Veatch, 35, of 1521 Rutel Road, Bloomfield Township, a mason for 10 years.

During the low temperatures men are protected from the cold and wind by a heavy plastic covering attached to a rectangular frame building.

The superstructure of the 62-foot shrine is expected to be completed in August but it may be four or five years before the interior is finished — an official at the seminary said.

"By finished I mean stained-glass windows and items that aren't immediately necessary," he said. Currently, work is progressing on the art work for the interior of shrine.

Painting the 14 Stations of the Cross is Joseph Jankowski, an alumnus of the college who is a teacher at the Cleveland Institute of Arts.

Jankowski also has designed the 21-foot statue of Our Lady of the Shrine.

The statue is being done in copper by Carl Van Duzer, also of the Cleveland Institute of Art. When completed it will be the largest copper figure ever constructed in the United States and possibly the largest in the world.

Goldwater Rules Out '64 Campaign Intent

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Monday "it's too early to tell" who the most likely 1964 Republican presidential candidate will be. He ruled out himself.

"I have no idea of ever being President," the conservative Republican leader said at the National Cotton Council's 24th annual meeting in New Orleans.

Goldwater predicted the nation's proposed laws to regulate the Common Market would produce the "most heated" debate of this session of Congress.

He said he thought the President would not get congressional approval for his proposed changes in tariff policies.

ELBERT M. WILMUT

Osteopathic Board OKs Local Hospital

The American Osteopathic Association (AOA) Board of Trustees has approved Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital for intern and resident training on the basis of an inspection report and recommendation of the AOA committee on hospitals.

The AOA's annual hospital inspection program is designed to guarantee acceptable standards of patient care, procedures and facilities in all approved hospitals. To qualify for residency training, the hospital must have doctors qualified in the specialty field on its staff and must show that it can provide a sufficient range of experience in the designated specialty.

Ski Lift Maker Sued by Wife of GR Victim

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The widow of a Grand Rapids school teacher killed in a ski lift accident is suing for $170,000.

Mrs. Jo Ann Orr, now living in Toledo, Ohio, sued Monday in U.S. district court here naming the Pomagalski Co. of Fontaine, France, manufacturer of the device operating at Nub's Nob near Harbor Springs, where the accident occurred.

Her husband, Lawrence D. Orr, 32, was killed Dec. 31. She contends the company failed to design and manufacture a ski lift with adequate safety devices.

Area Man Named Exchange Club District Head

A past president of the Pontiac Exchange Club, Elbert M. Wilmut, has been appointed district governor of Exchange Clubs in Michigan District 12 of the National Exchange Club.

The announcement was made by Frederick Howell, Dayton, Ohio, president of the service organization.

Wilmut resides at 74 E. Franklin Road. He will be the national contact for clubs in Birmingham, Brooklands, Clawson, Farmington, Pontiac, Rochester and Troy.

Among the programs with which Wilmut will assist area clubs are the Book of Golden Deeds awards to persons contributing to the welfare of the community, Freedom Shrine document presentations to schools and civic groups, National Crime Prevention Week observances, community service activities, youth rehabilitation and the sponsoring of additional Exchange Clubs.

Vows to Take Beggars Off Streets in Cairo

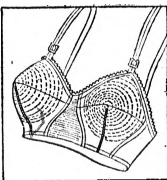

CAIRO (AP) — Minister of Social Affairs Hussein el Shafiei has pledged to have all the beggars off Cairo's streets within six months. This whopping project is to be accomplished, he said Sunday, by establishing four baid houses for beggars by July 21, anniversary of the revolution against King Farouk. Beggars are such a common sight in Egypt that there is no estimate of their numbers.

Question Nags Even the Social Drinker

'Will' Ever Become an Alcoholic?

By PHYLLIS BAYTELLE

NEW YORK — There are 70 million drinkers in the United States, and most of them have experienced the creeping, foreboding thought — "Will I ever become an alcoholic?"

It's a thought that is difficult to escape. So much publicity has been given lately to lost weekends, and medical studies in alcoholism, and the resourceful work of Alcoholics Anonymous. Even the very "occasional" social drinker must, at some time or other, have a sensation of guilty fear.

He may not express it aloud, but it's there. And unfortunately, sometimes this fear and this guilt can best be eased by having another drink.

"I've really got to cut down — I'm drinking too much," says a man. Then he pours himself a scotch, to drown his trepidation.

When this happens, is he an alcoholic? "Almost certainly not," reported Herbert Breen, author of the book, "How to Stop Drinking." But if he continues to take this easy way out — if he acquires the belief that he is dependant on liquor and that he cannot resist it — then he is in trouble. "For it certainly is possible to think oneself into discouragement and hopelessness and defeat."

CURIOUS THING
And the ancient art of alcohol-drinking is a curious thing. It can become a habit through emotional fear, rather than physical thirst or psychological need. Breen's suggestion to people who are worried about their drinking is to make "tests" of will power occasionally, thus bringing self-assurance where guilt and terror used to be.

One test: For three months allow yourself to have three drinks a day, but no more. "Do that successfully for the 30-day period, and you can be confident you are not an alcoholic."

Of course, watch it. Continue the moderation. Three months doesn't make a lifetime.

Breen also wrote the book "How to Stop Smoking." After a great deal of research on both has concluded that "it is harder for the heavy smoker to stop smoking during the first week of his privation, than it is for the heavy drinker to stop drinking during that period."

But the heavy drinker must be on his guard much longer.

DROPS OF LIFE — Pontiac P.C. Quentin Dungan of 271 Voorheis recently gave blood along with 51 other young soldiers at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., so an 11-year-old San Antonio girl, Graciela Zurita, would have a supply during a delicate heart operation. Moral: booster at left is Judy Currid of San Antonio, member of a teen-age volunteer organization at the hospital where the operation will be performed. The operation is to give Graciela a chance to live a normal life after correction of a heart defect with which a normal life span is unlikely. Medical technician at right was not identified.

The installation was held jointly with the Pythian Sisters.

Mrs. Van Johnson Files Suit Against Husband

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Arlen Van Johnson's wife is expected to file suit for separate maintenance this week, her attorney said Monday.

Johnson is starring on the London stage in "The Music Man."

Attorney Marshall Morgan said the Johnsons separated last October. The couple married in January, Mexico, in 1946. Eve Johnson had formerly been married to actor Keenan Wynn. The Johnsons have a daughter, Schuyler, 13.

A WOMAN DAYS PRODUCTION
"A MAN SO EVIL... HIS FACE COULD STOP A HEART."

Mr. Sardonicus
A WILLIAM CRAWFORD PRODUCTION

"Well, he's evasive, no far. It could be from behind the Iron Curtain."

That was too important to let alone. I called him out of your hands, Sheriff, I said. "I'll fix a man out there."

The smuggler was a dark-haired Middle European type, apparently well educated. I sent him only a slight glance. As it turned out, the Iron Curtain was not involved. In fact, there was no curtain at all.

DOPE SALES LEGAL.

It can be said here in Trieste with no trouble," he informed the agent. "It is legal in Trieste to buy and sell heroin."

The moment I received this report, in the summer of 1951, I sent a man by plane direct to Trieste. He found a narcotics loophole five miles wide.

When the Allied governments moved into Italy, they repealed all the old laws promulgated under Mussolini and no one had gotten around to writing new statutes in regard to narcotics controls in Trieste.

I discovered that Italy was legal in producing its own heroin. It was 200 miles from Rome, all of it listed on their reports to the United Nations "for medical consumption within the borders of Italy." France and Switzerland used only one-twentieth the amount, on a per capita basis.

Further probing revealed that the production of cocaine in Italy was so enormous that it could not possibly be used for medical needs.

We asked the Italian government to close these firms that were obviously violating the law, and to discontinue the production of heroin. Until the house they had on hand was used up.

The heroin production licenses of the five main culprit plants were taken away. Narcotics control laws were also enacted in Trieste.

Development of international control agencies has been achieved over long and bursing years. In countries where opium has been a major crop of peasant farmers for centuries, it is difficult and even impossible for local authorities to tell the growers:

"Give up your high-grade, high-price opium and grow hay or wheat instead." There isn't enough profit, the farmers say, in hay or wheat. Because of such continuing interference, international control came slowly, grudgingly, but still it came, as a product of the conscience of mankind.

CONTROL GROUPS

By 1960, controls rested in four organizations. Three of these: The Commission on Narcotic Drugs, the Permanent Central Opium Board, the Drug Supervisory Body—are part of the UN. The fourth group, the Expert Committee on Drugs, is a part of the World Health Organization.

At the heart is the Commission on Narcotic Drugs which is part of the UN Economic and Social Council.

Fifteen governments constitute the membership—each selected by the Economic and Social Council because they are either producers of opium, large manufacturers of narcotic drugs, or primary targets of the international traffic.

In 1959, these fifteen nations were Canada, China, Egypt, France, Greece, India, Iran, Mexico, Peru, Hungary, Turkey, Tunis, the United Kingdom, the United States, and Yugoslavia.

Behind the farmers, the statisticians and the procurators, the table and the tubulations, is the reality of deadly war. In the late 1940's, we had a deteriorating "opium for all" situation in Iran. Production of opium in that country amounted to over 700 tons a year—almost seven times more than the needs of the entire world.

Through cooperation with Interpol, I sent some of our Bureau people into Iran. These agents reported that opium dealers were operating openly day and night in Tehran and other Iranian cities. All of the 700 tons of opium were consumed by Iranian addicts. One-fourth of the Iranian people were addicted.

We talked with the Shah of Iran who agreed to curtail Iranian opium production. We then sent our own Colonel Garland Williams to Iran. He reported that complete cessation was the only solution to Iran's near-disaster situation.

Opium crop production was virtually wiped out. Addition in Iran went on the greatest toboggan ride in history: within a space of two years the number of confirmed addicts plunged downward from 2,000,000 to approximately 50,000.

Just as victory appeared certain, a new menace appeared for Iran: opium smuggling from Afghanistan. The United Nations, by preventing an Afghanistan to cut off its large scale production.

Opium smuggling from Afghanistan and Turkey continued. Iranian and Turkish opium members of the commission got together and worked out a policing agreement where, for the first time, Turkish authorities could pursue smugglers into Iran, and Iranian police could pursue smugglers into Turkey.

CUT SMUGGLING

Almost overnight, this smuggling dried up. Iranians and Afghanitans then met to develop similar arrangements.

One development in dealing with such problems is the concept of regional meetings of groups of nations bound together by mutual problems in narcotics and the control of smuggling between these nations.

In the late 1950's, we in the United States became concerned with illicit cocaine, production and manufacture in South America, particularly in Bolivia and Peru. A regional meeting of North, Central and South American nations was planned to deal with these "other problems."

One of these "other problems" in 1960 was the hammer and sickle, the narcotic needle—in Cuba. Cuba is loaded with cocaine and uses more cocaine among its addict population on the island than all the rest of the world put together.

Our agents made more than 50 cases against Cuban pushers and dealers in the Batista era. The Batista government did nothing about putting these men in jail in spite of our cooperation in working with their own people to get the evidence, so I sent word to our agents, "Cease cooperating and come on home."

When the Castro regime came to I sent a man to see Castro's secretary and gave him a list of the 50 traffickers who should be prosecuted. Either the traffickers or Castro himself, we can't be sure which, lost the list.

When Castro visited Washington a little later, he sent his assistant to see me. I gave the assistant another copy of the list of 50 names and the evidence in the case and he solemnly promised to bring these men to trial. Nothing has happened.

Our work in the international arena has been aided by the cooperation of the national and municipal police departments of many countries through Interpol.

While Interpol is still in a developmental state, it already serves as an international switchboard of information, as well as the nerve center for investigations carried on by agents of possibly several countries, in association with Interpol and with local authorities.

These local authorities always have legal charge of a case; our agents, for example, provide technical and investigatory assistance only when an individual country feels we can be of help.

Film 4-Some in Twist but Tangle Cleared Up

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — One side of a famous quadrangle was in town this week expressing wonder at what all the fuss was about.

Joan Collins' curves belie the possibility that she could be part of a square.

Here is the sequence: Joan was engaged to Warren Beatty, who had just broken off from Robert Wagner, who then started dating

THOMAS

The Beauty World romances took place in Hollywood. The Wagner-Collins axis was in London, where both were making movies.

Joan's attitude? She couldn't care less.

"Warren and I had broken off our engagement," she said. "We talked by telephone between here and London, and we both agreed that it wouldn't work out."

"Yes, I know we had a long engagement. But that's so true of long engagements—if they're that long, it means the two people aren't meant to be married."

"As for my dates with Bob Wagner, there was no romance involved. Good Lord, I've known Bob for seven years; he's one of my dearest friends. Good friends with the opposite sex—friendship only—are rare and wonderful to have. I'm happy for the ones I have, like Bob."

"Right now he's going with one of my best friends, Marion Donen (former wife of director Stanley Donen), and I'm delighted for both of them."

"MARRIAGE A TRAP"

That leaves Joan unencumbered and happily so, she indicated. "Marriage is a trap," said the actress, once trapped in an early unhappy union.

She is here for three weeks to tend to business matters, including the forming of her own production company. Then she is off to New York to take up residence there on account of the big change of season, the theater, the hustle-bustle of the big city and all that anti-California jazz.

"I hate California at this time of year," she said. "It can't decide whether it's winter or summer."

The Collins career has been stimulated by her last engagement, slightly into Doty Lamour's shoes, though not her anorak, between the great Hope and Crosby in "The Road to Hong Kong."

Texas Voters Picking Rayburn Successor

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Voters decide today which of two Democrats, both pledged to back the Kennedy administration, will succeed the late Sam Rayburn as congressman from Texas' 4th district.

The contestants are attorney R. C. (Rob) Slagle Jr., whose platform is liberal, and state Sen. Ray Roberts, whose viewpoint is a shade more conservative.

Hotshot Missile Squirts Aloft From LA Pad

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A water-buster shot aloft Monday night, hitting a probable altitude of a hundred yards or so and traveling two blocks.

Officials said it was the longest water fight of the year here. The unguided missile was hurled, unintentionally, by an explosion in an apartment house. The blast was attributed to probable leaking gas.

There were no injuries, but Bonnie Willis' car was a casualty. The car, packed two babies from the launching post, served as impact point for the wayward tank.

Two Auto Mishap Victims

Hospitalized With Injuries

Two persons are hospitalized today in Pontiac with injuries suffered yesterday in separate traffic accidents in Avon Township.

In fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with fractures of the ribs and leg is Mrs. Agnes Fitzpatrick, 52, of 1855 W. Huron Road, Avon Township.

Raymond Krajewski, 18, of 3185 Gerald St., Avon Township, is reported in satisfactory condition at the same hospital with fractures of the ankle and facial bones.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick was a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Eleanor M. Batchelor, 40, of 3171 Lavernis Road, Avon Township. Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said the car skidded into an embankment and flipped on its side on Lavernis Road at Stella Drive about 7:30 p.m.

William D. Tipton, 38, of 3179 Melvin St., Avon Township, the driver of the car in which Krajewski was a passenger, told deputies his car went off the road and hit a utility pole at 2:40 p.m. on Auburn Road at Midvale.

GOP Survey Might Swing for Romney

George W. Romney wasn't the top pick for president among a scattering of Oakland County Republicans in August.

Opinions might be changed today, however, if the party's "shareholders' questionnaire" were sent out and the question asked, "If a presidential election were being held today, for which candidate would you vote?"

Arizona conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater polled 255 first place votes when 4,000 queries were dispatched by former publicist Charles A. Ferry last August.

Party headquarters just released results from 550 returns yesterday.

Romney polled but 51 votes. Asked if he thought the returns would be different today, in the light of all the talk for Romney for governor and president, Wilbur G. Durker, executive secretary of the county committee, answered emphatically with a "Yes, sir."

Other first-place vote getters for president were Richard Nixon 177, Nelson Rockefeller, 67, and miscellaneous, 28.

And a follow by the name of John Fitzgerald Kennedy received two votes.

Denies He's a Birch

MIDLAND — State Sen. Lynn Francis, R-Midland, told the Midland Daily News Tuesday "I have not belonged to the John Birch Society for more than a year. The group I was in was dissolved."

At one time Francis had publicly in the Batchelor car also was stated he was a member of the ultra-conservative group.

DEAD AT 77 — Dr. William F. G. Swann, internationally known physician, teacher, philosopher and authority on cosmic radiation, died Monday at Swarthmore, Pa.

One and one-half ounces of coal contains enough energy to pull one ton of rail freight one mile.

Eleven new-size models make One-Stop Shopping easier than ever at your Chevrolet dealer's

Nothing fair to middling about the spacious and spunky new lineup of low-priced cars from Chevrolet! From the looks of these nifty top-of-the-line Novas (unmistakably new), you'd never guess they're so easy to own. Even some bigger cars wonder how we got so much full-size family room into such a parkable, garageable package — and so much hustle out of a 6 that sips gas so sparingly. Your dealer will be happy to point out more reasons why liveliness, luxury and a low price have never been more beautifully blended. Driving this one comes mighty close to having your cake and eating it, too.

People Getting Taller

Beds Need to Grow, Too

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Only recently have beds begun to catch up with the increased height and size of the human race, which is getting bigger all the time.

Statistics from public health service records, insurance companies, the armed services, college and university records, show that the height and weight of American men and women is on the increase and has been for some time.

Men who are between the ages of 18 and 21 now average as tall or taller than those men in the 21 to 35-year age group. The average height of men who have reached their maximum growth is now nearly 70 inches.

Women are taller, also, averaging 64.5 inches from 17 to 25 years of age, compared with 63.5 inches in the 1920s.

Army statistics indicate that the number of men 5 feet, 10 inches tall has increased more than 40 per cent since the 1947 draft. In the same period, the number of men 6 feet and over increased more than 70 per cent.

SEVEN-FOOT BEDS

There are evidences that this greater height is making itself felt in many fields. In 1955 at least one hotel decided to put 7-foot beds on two floors because the management found that about 15 per cent of its guests were over 6 feet tall.

In 1956, the University of Wisconsin installed 7-foot beds in its dormitories to replace beds which were 6 feet and 6 inches long. The university said it was trying to keep up with the lengthening male.

Two 8-inch beds were ordered for Bible House in Washington following a visit from King Saud of Saudi Arabia. He is 6 feet, 2 inches tall and caught the State Department without a bed long enough for him.

One might well apply these ideas to one's home and consider the possibility that the bed he sleeps in is too narrow or too short and therefore damages the quality of his slumber.

This might possibly be a factor. I know one wife who practically clings to the bedside table all night because her husband takes so much of their 54-inch wide bed and many couples who have resorted to twin beds because they cannot find a single bed suitably long in such a small area.

Morning Hours Best to Do Housework

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
A recent study shows that for most people the most productive hours are those in the first half of the morning.

There's a tip there for housewives. If it is possible to accomplish more in the first half of the morning than at any other period of the day then the early morning hours aren't the first.

Sitting and sipping a third cup of coffee and reading the paper to rest up from the ordeal of getting the family off to school and work.

Calling friends to chat on the telephone about last night's party or to trade the latest gossip.

Dropping in on a neighbor for a little visit before getting down to work.

Putting around with little bits of busy work to put off facing the hard jobs that have to be done.

Turning on the TV to watch a favorite morning program.

Deciding to run errands that would be done at any time of the day.

All of those little devices for postponing the inevitable time when the hard work has to be done just eat up the best and most productive hours.

And yet that is how many housewives began their day's work—stalling and killing time instead of plowing in and getting as much of it out of the way as possible while they are still fresh and not yet pushed for time.

If you've ever noticed, that isn't the way the good managers, the best housekeepers you know start their days. They work hard and fast during the morning hours and then are through with the morning-waters are still complaining.

"I've got so much to do I don't know how in the world I am ever going to get it all done."

Have You Tried This?

Poppy Seed and Nut Roll Is Czech in Its Origin

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor
This is the time of year when it's fun to bake. You are inclined to stay indoors anyway. Have a batch of Poppy Seed or Nut Rolls ready when your family comes home at the end of the day. The fragrance of baking bread is one of its attractions.

Our cook today is Mrs. Julia Zaitk of Kegera Harbor. The church work she usually does is somewhat curtailed by the two little boys with whom she is baby-sitting these days. Bowling is a favorite leisure time occupation.

POPPY SEED AND NUT ROLLS

By Mrs. Julia Zaitk

1 package yeast
1 cup milk scalded
1 cup melted shortening or solid oil
4 cups flour
2 egg yolks beaten
1 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons sugar

Mix dry ingredients. Cool milk to lukewarm and add yeast and 2 teaspoons sugar. When yeast is dissolved, add shortening and blend dough. Add beaten egg yolks. Add flour and mix thoroughly.

Wrap in waxed paper and store in refrigerator overnight. The next day take out and let stand 2 hours. Divide into 3 parts.

Roll each piece into a round. Spread with poppy seed or nut filling almost to the edge. Roll up and place on greased pan. Bake 15 minutes at 400 degrees. Reduce heat to 350 and bake another 45 minutes.

Poppy Seed Filling

2 cups poppy seed, ground
2 cups water
1 cup sugar
1 cup honey
1 pound butter or margarine
Add ground poppy seed to water, sugar and honey. Boil 10 minutes. Add butter or margarine.

Nut Filling

2 cups ground nuts
1 cup sugar
Mix together with enough milk to spread.

Pretty Scarf Saves Collar

(NEA)—A girl's best protection against make-up film on dress and coat collars is a wardrobe of scarves. Nothing is as unobtrusive as a rim of make-up clearly visible on a coat collar.

But a series of pretty scarves in chiffon, silk and satin will provide the solution. Learn to tie them in butterfly bows or catch them up with pretty, glittery pins.

You'll not only protect your clothing, you'll add a touch of flattery for yourself.

Sleep Better in Cool Room

(NEA)—Even in winter, your bedroom should be well-ventilated at night if you are to rest well and, subsequently, look well and refreshed the next morning.

Cold air won't hurt you if you are warmly and adequately covered; in fact, it's also, largely essential.

Be sure the windows are open before you retire. Bang them shut in the morning, if you like. Generally, a house or apartment where temperatures are kept on the cool side even in winter is best for you.

About one quart of milk weighing 2 1/2 pounds is required to make one pound of evaporated milk.

Bouffant Hairdo Looks Comical on Early Teen

By ALICIA HART

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
It was startling, the other day, to see a teenager (early teens, by the way) wearing a bouffant hairdo that would have been perfect for a woman of 35. It was puffy, sophisticated and ridiculous on the youngster.

Even though she was 13 or 14, it continued to make her look far older. It was out of place, to say the least, with a storm coat, flat-heeled shoes and a pile of school books.

Most teenagers would like to look sophisticated, it's true, but some of them are so eager to appear older that they are actually passing up the iron years for a sort of premature aging. This doesn't make much sense.

In the teen years, a girl can wear her hair simply, keep it clean and shining and appear a beauty. Back combs, sprays and elaborate hairdos are all wrong for her—and in poor taste.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5
If baby is going through a particularly fussy teething period, it's best to delay starting new foods until he's able to digest them. He might take a dislike to a food that may be hard to overcome.

Armour Meat Protein is complete protein, supplying all the essential amino acids that build and re-build vital body tissues.

Coordination tends to come to active babies sooner than to placid ones. But as a member, physical development does not follow a rigid timetable. If active babies acquire skills faster, it's probably because they are grasping for every experience.

Favorite foods are your best bet when baby has teething trouble. You can encourage baby to eat more with delicious Gerber dishes like these: Gerber Dinners—garden-good vegetables blended with meat, Gerber High Meat Dinners—with 3 times as much meat as the Dinners and therefore more protein. Vegetables are added for unusual flavor interest. And for lots of high quality protein, plus valuable vitamins and minerals—Gerber Meats for Babies—100% selected.

Active or placid babies need plenty of protein for strength and muscle development. Besides the aforementioned meat dishes... Gerber Egg Yolks... Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

City Parochial Duel Tops Cage Slate

By CHUCK ABRAH
St. Michael vs. St. Frederick will be the feature attraction tonight on one of the biggest cage Tuesday prep work schedules of the season.

Five different leagues will have action on a 18-games slate. They are the Suburban Catholic, Saginaw Valley, South Central, Southern Thumb here while Orlinville will host Montrose in a Genesee B contest.

The city parochial five will tangle at Madison Junior High with the reserve preliminary scheduled for 8:15 p.m. because of it being a school night.

It is an added game since previous plans called for the schools to meet only once. St. Fred won that one by six points two weeks ago.

Each has dropped two of three since with the Rams' pair in succession. The Shamrocks upset St. Clement in overtime in its middle game but then bowed in the last seconds Friday.

The Rams, led by Pete Vasquez, Charley Dean and Jim Schachera are 4-1 with one BCL game. St. Mike is last in the league at 1-4 and won its only outside game. Dean has a 12.4 scoring average, Vasquez 11.1, Schachera 8.5, Charley D. 8.1, with a 14 average, has been the most steady Shamrock. Larry Sonnenberg is 11.5, Jim Horren 8.7.

St. Benedict will put its 3rd place ranking on the line at St. Clement.

Flint Central took over 3rd place in the Valley last night by handing the Rams a 12-10 defeat. The 1-4 team, unbeaten Saginaw Valley, Flint Southwestern, Midland vs. Arthur Hill and Flint North are at Bay City Central tonight.

North Branch goes to Millington for an SCU game postponed from last week. Almost at New Haven, Dryden home to meet Brown City, and East Cape at Memphis and Armada vs. Ann Arbor.

Meanwhile, Adams was traded to the New York Rangers and played against the Pittsburgh Penguins Monday night in Pittsburgh, scoring 11 points.

At Pittsburgh the Pens pulled away for a 124-107 victory in the league's only game. Pittsburgh winning its fourth in a row for a 1-1 game lead in the Eastern Division, had six players in double figures, led by 30 points by league scoring leader, Connie Mackey.

Don Stenutz, who joined New York after the Los Angeles fold, led the Tapers with 38.

Flint Central Five Routs Handy, 67-53
(Special to The Pontiac Press)
FLINT—Shooting a torrid 57 per cent in the first half, Flint Central picked up a 41-24 halftime lead and coasted to an easy 67-53 victory over Bay City Handy last night in a Saginaw Valley Conference basketball game at Ballenger Fieldhouse.

No Central regular season action after the 2nd quarter. Bob Barrett and Jim Toles paced the Indians with 19 points apiece while Handy's Clay Whitte tallied 16. The Indians now stand 5-2 in the SVC and 6-3 altogether. Handy is 0-7 in the Valley and 1-8 overall.

Three more Valley games are scheduled tonight. League-leading Saginaw High invites Flint Southwestern, Midland visits Arthur Hill and Flint Northern goes to Bay City Central. Pontiac Central is idle.

Top Names in Fold for National Net Play
NEW YORK (AP)—At least five of the nation's top seven amateurs, together with leading players from Spain, Australia and Canada, will compete in the National Indoor Tennis Championships, chairman Tex Schwall announced Monday.

The tournament will be played on the board courts of the Seventh Regiment Army here Feb. 7-11.

Top-ranked Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif.; second-ranked Chuck McKinley of St. Louis; fifth-ranked Don Dell of Bethesda, Md.; sixth-ranked Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla.; and seventh-ranked Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn are the top U.S. entries.

cher Bay is the full Thumbe set.

Several interesting non-loop affairs are also on tap.

Improving Kettering will be favored to take its 4th in a row at Orchard. Highly Imley City will be at Mariette gunning for victory. No 12 and more points in the state ratings.

Avondale will try to snap a three-game losing streak on its court against Lamphere. Brighton and South Lyon will match losing records. Country Day will entertain Cherry Hill.

Emmanuel Christian travels to Southgate Davidson seeking its 2nd successive success. Hazel Park and Royal Oak-Dromore, another pair of steady losers, will meet. Milford will have a busy time trying to win No. 2 against Fenton.

Slumping Bathgate 1st by Only Four Points; Mahovich 3rd

MONTREAL (AP)—Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings, coupling his consistent play with the slump that has shackled Andy Bathgate and the New York Rangers, is within four points of the lead in the National Hockey League's scoring race today.

Howe, a five-time league scoring champ, scored three goals and pushed his season totals to 21 goals and 31 assists for 55 points.

Bathgate, the leader since early weeks of the season, was shut out in three games and his total stayed at 50 points on 18 goals and a league-leading 41 assists.

Frank Mahovich of Toronto pulled into third place with two goals and an assist for 49 points, one more than Claude Provost of the Montreal Canadiens.

Provost still is the pace-setter in goals with 27. Jacques Plante of Montreal held the lead in another week in goal-tending, with a 2.32 goals-against average to 2.48 for Johnny Bower of Toronto. Glenn Hall of Chicago leads in shutouts.

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—The status of Bill Chmielewski, University of Detroit regular sophomore forward, was in doubt tonight as university officials were not sure that he would be in the lineup Wednesday in a home game with Drake.

The Detroit native told business administration school Dean Dr. Hilary Beth Monday that he was dropping out of school in order to find a job to help his family.

The boy's father was with him when he talked to Beth.

However, following the interview with the dean, Chmielewski had on hour-long conference with basketball coach Tom Blakburn and then said he was not sure what he planned to do.

Dayton Starter From Detroit May Drop Out
DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—The status of Bill Chmielewski, University of Detroit regular sophomore forward, was in doubt tonight as university officials were not sure that he would be in the lineup Wednesday in a home game with Drake.

The Detroit native told business administration school Dean Dr. Hilary Beth Monday that he was dropping out of school in order to find a job to help his family.

The boy's father was with him when he talked to Beth.

However, following the interview with the dean, Chmielewski had on hour-long conference with basketball coach Tom Blakburn and then said he was not sure what he planned to do.

Hot Howe Nears NHL Leader
Slumping Bathgate 1st by Only Four Points; Mahovich 3rd

MONTREAL (AP)—Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings, coupling his consistent play with the slump that has shackled Andy Bathgate and the New York Rangers, is within four points of the lead in the National Hockey League's scoring race today.

Howe, a five-time league scoring champ, scored three goals and pushed his season totals to 21 goals and 31 assists for 55 points.

Bathgate, the leader since early weeks of the season, was shut out in three games and his total stayed at 50 points on 18 goals and a league-leading 41 assists.

Frank Mahovich of Toronto pulled into third place with two goals and an assist for 49 points, one more than Claude Provost of the Montreal Canadiens.

Provost still is the pace-setter in goals with 27. Jacques Plante of Montreal held the lead in another week in goal-tending, with a 2.32 goals-against average to 2.48 for Johnny Bower of Toronto. Glenn Hall of Chicago leads in shutouts.

Terrific Spree Gives Wilt Average of 49.9

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, and his Philadelphia Warriors have been on sizzling streaks, of late.

In Chamberlain's last 11 games, the 7-1 center has averaged 61.5 points for a 55.9 average. This has boosted Chamberlain's season average to 49.9 on 2,746 points in 55 games.

Will set a league record for shots taken in one period in a game against Chicago last Wednesday. He had 20 field goal attempts and hit eight shots.

Meanwhile, the Warriors have won seven straight games and have moved to within six games of Boston's Eastern Division leaders. Philadelphia has won four less games than the Celtics.

The scoring leaders:
1. Chamberlain, Phila. 50.9 Pts. Avg.
2. Baylor, L.A. 48.5

Piper Coach and Boss Will Discuss Differences

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coach John McLendon and his St. Michael team-mates will be setting their sights on St. Fred tonight at Madison Junior High. The Rams won earlier by six points. Harding has been used sparingly in reserve.

McLendon said he will decide after today's meeting.

The latest Rhabarib involving Steinbrenner and McLendon came from newspaper reports two weeks ago saying certain members of the team were upset over their pay being late and allegedly threatening not to play until they were paid.

TOOK ACTION
Acting against McLendon's advice, Steinbrenner went directly to coach captain Jack Adams and asked that a statement signed by the players be sent to a Cleveland newspaper that had printed the original story. The statement denied there was any recruitment toward Steinbrenner over the delay in pay and said the team is 100 per cent behind the president.

McLendon said he deliberated a long time before accusing Steinbrenner, in a statement sent to the newspapers, of putting pressure on the players to make them sign this statement.

"I don't like to hurt basketball," McLendon declared. "If today's talks are satisfactory in terms of the future, then there is the possibility I'll be staying."

Meanwhile, Adams was traded to the New York Rangers and played against the Pittsburgh Penguins Monday night in Pittsburgh, scoring 11 points.

At Pittsburgh the Pens pulled away for a 124-107 victory in the league's only game. Pittsburgh winning its fourth in a row for a 1-1 game lead in the Eastern Division, had six players in double figures, led by 30 points by league scoring leader, Connie Mackey.

Don Stenutz, who joined New York after the Los Angeles fold, led the Tapers with 38.

Flint Central Five Routs Handy, 67-53
(Special to The Pontiac Press)
FLINT—Shooting a torrid 57 per cent in the first half, Flint Central picked up a 41-24 halftime lead and coasted to an easy 67-53 victory over Bay City Handy last night in a Saginaw Valley Conference basketball game at Ballenger Fieldhouse.

No Central regular season action after the 2nd quarter. Bob Barrett and Jim Toles paced the Indians with 19 points apiece while Handy's Clay Whitte tallied 16. The Indians now stand 5-2 in the SVC and 6-3 altogether. Handy is 0-7 in the Valley and 1-8 overall.

Three more Valley games are scheduled tonight. League-leading Saginaw High invites Flint Southwestern, Midland visits Arthur Hill and Flint Northern goes to Bay City Central. Pontiac Central is idle.

Top Names in Fold for National Net Play
NEW YORK (AP)—At least five of the nation's top seven amateurs, together with leading players from Spain, Australia and Canada, will compete in the National Indoor Tennis Championships, chairman Tex Schwall announced Monday.

The tournament will be played on the board courts of the Seventh Regiment Army here Feb. 7-11.

Top-ranked Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif.; second-ranked Chuck McKinley of St. Louis; fifth-ranked Don Dell of Bethesda, Md.; sixth-ranked Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla.; and seventh-ranked Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn are the top U.S. entries.

Income Tax Primer

Claiming Every Exemption?

(Editors Note—This is the first of eight articles in the Newspaper Enterprise Association Income Tax Primer, for readers who want more information than is supplied in the official instructions.)

By RICHARD A. MULLENS

Written for NEA

One problem facing every taxpayer regardless of the size or source of his income is how many exemptions he must claim. This is not an easy problem for many taxpayers to solve. In fact, more mistakes are made in claiming exemptions than in any other part of the tax return.

This and the second article of NEA's Income Tax Primer will explain the rules which are likely to cause you the most trouble. They will help you understand the explanations in the official instructions issued with your tax forms.

Most taxpayers know about exemptions for children, but many do not know that a $600 exemption may be claimed for a person who is not related to you if the following conditions are met:

- (1) You furnish over half of the person's support for the year.
- (2) The person has gross income of less than $600 for the year.
- (3) The person lives in your house for the entire year and is a member of your household. (Temporary absence due to sickness, school, or vacations will not prevent a person from meeting this condition.)

This provision permits you to claim as a dependent a foster child or other person living with you as a family member.

You cannot, however, claim an exemption for someone living with you in violation of local law. This means that a "common law" wife may not be claimed in states which do not recognize such relationship.

If you were to pay a housekeeper $50 a month and furnish her room and board, it may appear at first glance that an exemption could be claimed for her under the above provision. She could not be claimed, however, for you are not considered to have furnished any part of her support.

What she receives is not a contribution for support, but a payment for services.

Q—On my withholding statement filed with my employer, I claimed only an exemption for myself and my wife. We had a son born on Dec. 31, 1961. May I claim him as an exemption on my 1961 tax return?

A—Yes. You are entitled to one exemption for the entire year for any child born alive in 1961. The fact that you did not show your son on your withholding statement does not prevent you from claiming him on the tax return.

Q—My 65th birthday was on Jan. 1, 1962. Do I get an "over 65" exemption on my 1961 return?

A—Yes. For tax purposes you are considered 65 on the day before your 65th birthday.

Q—My father, whom I was supporting died on Jan. 1, 1961. May I claim him as an exemption for 1961?

A—Yes. So long as you supported him while he was alive in 1961 and so long as he had less than $600 income in that year, you may claim him even though he lived only for a day of that year.

NEXT: More exemption tips.

Says Services Are Duplicated

Holland Official Claims Both State and Local Units Inspect Food

HOLLAND (AP)—A Holland spokesman claims the state duplicates services of local government units in the inspection of food handling establishments and other related businesses.

S. M. Stephenson, director of the Holland Department of Environmental Health, has sent to Gov. George Romney a letter which takes issue with a recent statement on alleged personnel shortage in the State Department of Agriculture.

The governor earlier said the department was inadequately staffed, according to Stephenson, for proper inspection of approximately 75,000 food handling establishments including restaurants, packers, retailers, grain elevators and others.

Stephenson claims most of these inspections are done also by full-time local health departments in 70 of Michigan's 83 counties.

CITES HOLLAND UNIT

The Holland department, Stephenson wrote, also has a division of weights and measures for all but heavy truck weighing and tank car measurement.

The food inspection program covers all community eating and drinking establishments.

Stephenson said these places also are inspected by State Agriculture Department Food and Standards Division representatives.

Further duplications, said Stephenson, occur in checking scales, gasoline pumps, food labeling and milk quality.

License Plate Office to Open Tomorrow

A temporary branch of the Pontiac Secretary of State office will open at 9 a. m. tomorrow at the Waterford Township Hall, 4965 W. Huron St.

The township hall will be open for motorists obtaining 1962 automobile license plates through Feb. 24. Hours of both the temporary branch and the main office at 26 E. Huron St. will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a. m. to noon Saturdays.

William M. Brewer, manager of the Pontiac office, reminded motorists they must have their car titles with them in order to purchase the new plates. Registration forms will be available at both offices.

Yenik Defense Begins Today in UP Slaying

NEWBERRY (AP)—The defense was to start presenting its case today in the first-degree murder trial of James Yenik, 35.

Yenik, a Flint auto worker, is accused of the fatal shooting of Michael Richmond, 14, of Newberry. The boy was found shot twice through the head at a wooded intersection 14 miles east of Newberry last July 28.

Yenik's attorneys said they would make their opening statement today to the Lapeer County Circuit Court jury of six women and eight men. They said they would not deny the slaying. He has denied killing the boy.

The prosecution completed 10 days of testimony Monday, calling 45 witnesses and offering more than 100 exhibits.

Java Sets Up Command to Combat Food Shortage

JAKARTA (AP)—An Anti-Bunger Command has been established in central Java to take "prompt and quick steps" to deal with a "food shortage" reported becoming increasingly dangerous throughout Indonesia.

The crowded island of Java, with its 61 million population, is being hit by high rice prices—five times as high as six months ago—and food scarcity. The Anti-Bunger Command is headed by central Java's Deputy Gov. Soedjono Oetomo and has worked out a crash program to relieve immediate distress.

JAMES A. YEAGER

Musical Mailman to Head Local 784

A piano-playing mailman, James A. Yeager, has been elected president of Pontiac Local 784 of the American Federation of Musicians.

Yeager, 3381 Signet St., Waterford Township, has been a member of the musicians union since 1958. He is a Pontiac post office employee.

The local also elected W. E. Earl vice president, and re-elected P. G. More, secretary-treasurer, at its annual meeting Sunday.

Newly elected executive board members are Robert Lawson and Clyde Troxell. Chetney Stader and Charles Lundgren were re-elected to the board.

Drinking, Violence Changing

Finds Latest Trends in TV Disturbing

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Having finished the book someone gave me for Christmas, I have been watching television lately.
Television has one big advantage over reading. It doesn't leave your lips tired. Just your mind.
The government has been conducting an inquiry into the magic world of video, and so have I.
I don't know how alarmed the BYRLE government is, but some of the latest trends I have noted in TV I find disturbing, assuming that what people are depicted on their home screen affects their own conduct.

SPEED UP DRINKING
Take drinking, for example. A dozen years ago if a man took a drink on television, it was a civilized drink. He put some ice cubes in the glass, poured in a measured shot of rye, bourbon or scotch, and mixed it with a sensible amount of branch water or fizz.

Well, apparently that ritual wasted too much film time. About half a dozen years ago, they started settling for a double shot of whisky on the rocks.

JUST TOSS IT DOWN
Today they don't bother with a figger or ice at all. The hero, after weathering an ordeal, simply picks up a bottle and a couple of glasses and pours himself and the heroine a brace of slugs that would tell a thirsty ox. And they toss off this lethal dose of straight booze as if it were soda pop.
I keep expecting them to topple over, but they seem to have cast-iron gizzards.

Of course, the actors may actually be gulping only weak tea, but if the public starts swilling real red-eyes in this manner, Alcoholic Anonymous is certainly due for boom times.

EXPERT VIOLENCE
The outcry against violence on TV has had some weird results, too. Violence used to consist of barking guns at the endless host of roundhouse fat swings landing against stomachs or jaws.
Not so much any more. It's subtler now. The favorite target is the back of the neck, and the favorite weapon is the back of the hand. Everybody is a judo-judo or karate expert.

A lightning clip to the base of the skull and—pronto—the victim is out for several hours, and wakes up ruefully rubbing a sore neck.
The other morning I was breathing over, breathing hard as I tried to tie a shoelace, when I felt a blow on the back of the neck. I looked up to see my 8-year-old daughter, Tracy Ann, standing before me with her hand stiffly outstretched and a puzzled expression on her face.

IT ISN'T NAVE
"What did I do wrong, Daddy?" she asked winnily. "When they do that on television, somebody falls down on the floor."
Well, I ask you, is TV making a man unsafe in his home?

DOES YOUR CHILD HAVE LORDOSIS?

If your child has "round" shoulders, jutting "wings," or other signs of poor posture, he or she may be suffering from lordosis—or simple curvature of the spine.
Many thousands of American school children suffer from lordosis—and their parents don't even know it.
Lordosis is correctable—and vigorous exercise plays a vital role.
Guarantee your child proper exercise, every day, in his own school, by getting your school board to put into effect an adequate program for youth physical fitness.

more and more men getting up and giving their bus seat to little old ladies. Not out of politeness, but fear. Anger a TV-watching little old lady today, and like as not she'll clamp a judo hold on you and flip you the length of the bus.
WOMEN TAKE OVER
A third disturbing trend I have noted in television is the marriage of the old daytime female soap opera to the horse opera. Women have taken over the old-fashioned Western look, stock and saddle.
No longer does the sheriff or marshal indulge in bang-bang duels with the bad man. He spends his time righting some woman's wrongs, listening to her woes, or wiping away her tears. He no longer needs a gun so much as a crying towel.

My slogan is "Keep women out of Westerns, unless they are dance hall girls." The average man tunes in on TV horse opera for an escape from reality. If he wants to hear about women troubles, all he has to do is ask his wife, "What's new?"
That's my big quarrel with TV today. No matter how much you twist the dial, all you see is another forlorn woman with a great many at Ndola and here since down a kid-size quota of hooch, or someone knocking someone else unconscious with a rabbit punch.
Now and then I catch myself wishing I had been given two books for Christmas.

New Products Show Planned for May

The second annual "New Products and Inventions Show" will be held May 25-27 during Michigan Week at the Michigan State Fair Grounds. Exhibit headquarters is at 731 Palliser St., Detroit 2. It is announced by J. Neill & Associates.
The show will have the same objective as its predecessor — to help stimulate Michigan's economy by fostering the growth and diversification of industries.

First all-around performance report on the '62s

Powered by PURE Firebird Gasolines, the '62s proved their performance and economy at Daytona International Speedway

The 1962 Pure Oil Performance and Economy Trials were the most realistic public automotive tests ever staged. Designed to match the toughest driving conditions, they pitted car against car in a 3-event competitive test measuring (1) gasoline economy, (2) acceleration, (3) maneuverability.

The results prove what the '62s can deliver—in economy and all-around performance. They prove, too, that both new PURE Gasolines—Firebird Super with Tri-tane or Firebird Regular—bring out the best a car has in it. For top performance and economy in your car, try PURE Firebird Gasolines at your Pure Oil dealer's.

ECONOMY TEST

(Mileage)

Fueled with just one gallon of PURE Firebird Gasoline each car had to average 40 mph on the twisting 3.7 mile road course, hit 65 mph on one stretch, and make two full stops per lap.

PASSING TEST

(Acceleration)

This test measured passing ability in two phases: (1) time required to pass a car in city traffic at 30 mph; (2) time required to pass a car in highway traffic at 50 mph. (1000 points is optimum score.)

STOP AND GO TEST

(Maneuverability)

This test measured overall response and handling characteristics—low-end acceleration, repeated braking, steering, transmission response, handling ease, and inclination to stall. (1000 points is optimum score.)

CLASS WINNER

Make of car scoring most total points in its class as measured by all three tests. Each make of car was limited to three entries in any one class.

McNamara Takes (Makes) Over U.S. Defense

McNAMARA AT PRESS CONFERENCE — Are his methods suited to the long-term pull?

By RAY CROMLEY
(First of Three Dispatches)
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Defense Secretary Robert Strange McNamara is turning out to be neither as tough nor as inflexible as his reputation.

But in his first year in office, McNamara has made changes in U.S. defenses so far reaching that in some key ways the Army, the Navy and the Air Force may not again be the same.

These are conclusions drawn from some 60 interviews with civil ilian and military men in key spots in the Department of Defense.

These officials will not be named by their own request. Although this report attempts to summarize this thinking, no single person would agree with everything said. McNamara is a very controversial man.

In his first year, McNamara has taken major strides toward what amounts to a single U.S. military force under a central command.

All ready-to-go U.S. fighting forces — Army, Navy and Air Force — are now in unified commands directly under the operational command of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Major defense buying, except for weapons in under a single Defense Supply Agency, Major electronics buying is being put into a single agency, Major military communications were already unified.

All major military intelligence is rapidly being put into a single agency.

BY RY RIT

Piece by piece, major research and development is being put under the control of a single research and development chief.

For all practical purposes, the department budget for fiscal 1963 is a unified budget.

McNamara's Army reorganization, designed to make it like the Air Force in setup, is another step toward unification. Personnel administration is unified.

So is the research, development, purchase of weapons and specialized equipment, training, development of combat organization and doctrine.

McNamara has halted the decade-long slow but rising dominance of the uniformed military in the Department of Defense. He has put civilians back in a dominant position.

Cabinet Plan to Go on Trial

JFK Suggests Blueprint for Congress Okay

To Create Department for Urban Affairs and Housing; Fate Unsure

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sent to Congress today a reorganization plan to create a new Cabinet-rank department of urban affairs and housing.

The fate of the plan is uncertain. It becomes law in 60 days unless either house of Congress vetoes it, but the measure has become embroiled in racial and partisan controversy.

Some rejection of the plan is considered unlikely but the prospects in the House are uncertain.

In a special message to Congress accompanying the plan, Kennedy said: "The times we live in urgently call for this action. We will neglect our cities at our peril, for in neglecting them we neglect the nation."

The 10th Cabinet department would contain the several agencies now embraced in the Housing and Home Finance Agency, and Kennedy has announced that he will name Weaver for the new job at a news conference last week and a few hours after the House Rules Committee had rejected by a 24-vote margin a bill to create the department by regular legislative means.

Kennedy would like to see the bill passed by the House. The five GOP members were joined by four Southern Democrats.

"I am convinced that economy and efficiency will be importantly enhanced by the improved coordination which this reorganization plan will make possible," today's Kennedy message said.

TAILORED MEASURE

In a press release accompanying the plan and message, the White House said Kennedy decided to use his power under the reorganization act only after the attempt to create the department by legislation failed.

Titan Shows Its True Colors

ATLANTA (AP)—The aurora borealis or "northern lights" sometimes puts on a fiery show of heavenly beauty that can be seen deep in the heart of Dixie.

Now comes the "aurora Titanalis," fanned by a mighty Titan rocket fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and named by a Weather Bureau meteorologist weary from answering calls about strange, brilliant lights in the sky Monday night.

The pyrotechnics kicked off by the intercontinental range missile were spotted along the Atlantic Coast from Miami, Fla., to Virginia.

As the huge rocket blazed into the cold air of the upper atmosphere at dusk, it created a brilliant vapor trail illuminated spectacularly by rays of the setting sun, below the horizon.

The firing closed out the Titan I program that began at Cape Canaveral four years ago. The Air Force said the missile achieved all test objectives in straddling 5,000 miles to a target area near Ascension Island in the South Atlantic.

A major goal was to test an advanced inertial guidance system for the Titan II, the most powerful military missile currently planned by the United States.

Titan II tests will begin at the Cape in March.

Titan's final set telephone switchboards buzzing at newspapers, police stations and weather bureaus along the lower East Coast.

The sight was described by some as a "big, filmy balloon, hundreds of miles across," by others as a "terrible flash of light—like an umbrella cloud with a rocket ball of fire going from it."

Residents of Raleigh, N.C., saw it as a blimp, or a moon of lights, or a fish with lights at both ends. At Asheville, N.C., it was described by some as a jellyfish with lights.

Kennedy Pushes for $100 Million to Bail Out U.N.

Lawmakers Told to Halt Financial Crisis by OK of Bond Purchase

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy asked Congress today for $100 million to buy United Nations bonds and help bail the U.N. out of its Congo-caused financial crisis.

In a strongly worded message, Kennedy declared the bond purchase is vital to U.S. interests. Failure to buy the securities, he said, "would serve the interests of the Soviet Union."

The presidential plea has already ready run into controversy on Capitol Hill and Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has promised hearings before any vote is taken.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts predicted, however, that the legislators will okay Kennedy's request. He said the Congress will very definitely support the request because of the importance of it and will act favorably on it.

The debate appears likely to range over the whole question of this country's role in the U.N. The President, in his State of the Union message, said purchase of the bonds "will not only keep the United Nations solvent, but require all voting members to pay their fair share of activities."

The proposed bond issue, totaling $100 million, is to be retired out of general assessments, which all U.N. members pay. The money is required to pay debts arising from U.N. Congo operations. Several nations, not only the Soviet Union, France and Belgium, have refused to pay special assessments for the operations.

Several congressmen have said they are opposed to the bond purchase and to the U.N. military actions on behalf of the Congo central government, actions warmly backed by the Kennedy administration.

The Senate African Affairs subcommittee, headed by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., has been holding closed hearings this month on U.S. support of the U.N. military campaign against President Maselele of the secessionist Katanga Province.

Delay Vote on Cuba in Conciliation Move

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The United States and its 13 Latin-American supporters backed away today from a demand for an immediate vote by the hemisphere foreign ministers conference to exclude Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime from the Organization of American States.

The majority group eased its stand in an effort to break a deadlock over how and when the suspension should take effect. The conference, which was supposed to end Monday, continued to drag on after hours of fruitless bargaining.

As hopes faded for an early adjournment, United States prestige appeared to suffer a blow. The Uruguay group met for two hours and named a three-member committee to draft a compromise amendment to be offered to the nations holding out for a velvet glove approach.

The United States and 13 Latin-American nations backing a tough line against Fidel Castro's government had just the necessary two-thirds majority to carry a formal resolution tooust the Havana government from the OAS councils.

They scheduled another bargaining session today in an effort to win over six of Latin America's biggest and most influential nations demanding a delay in the formal ouster of Cuba. The six were Brazil, Mexico, Argentina, Chile, Bolivia and Ecuador.

Both sides emerged from a closed-door, eight-hour bargaining session early today asserting some progress had been made on the issue threatening a deep split in inter-American relations.

The foreign ministers went without dinner Monday night in an effort to break the impasse. After the session there were hints of compromise in the works.

Asked of the meeting produced any progress, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said, "I think so."

One conference informant said the United States appeared to be leaning toward what he called the Argentine view that it would be better to have all 20 nations vote Cuba than a majority out-vote it.

An Argentine spokesman said Rusk "with definite partners" seemed to have brought the opposing sides toward a solution whereby each OAS body would decide on excluding Cuba in line with the proposed conference declaration that the Castro regime is incompatible with the inter-American system.

This drew a question from Township Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson on what Johnson meant by not being specific. Coleman, a Democrat and economics teacher at Waterford Township High School, said in the typewritten statement that "not being specific raises very serious implications about which the citizens of Waterford Township have every right to know."

Further, "Mr. Johnson alleges that certain Waterford Township officials base decisions on political considerations not in the best interest of all citizens of the township."

"This allegation is false, misleading, and is made, it appears, to deliberately smear certain township officials whose judgment do not in every case agree with that of Supervisor Johnson," Johnson, saying he didn't want to become implicated in a political hassle at a Township Board meeting, walked out.

Political Row Hits Waterford

Trustee Wants Johnson to Retract Charge of Dem-Based Decisions

Waterford Township Trustee John S. Coleman last night demanded Supervisor Elmer H. Johnson retract a charge that decisions by township officials were based on Democratic political considerations.

Coleman, in a typewritten statement distributed at the Township Board meeting, said Johnson's "only recourse is to retract his statement in question and publicly apologize to those officials he is thinking indicted."

Johnson, elected three times as a Democrat, announced that next year he'll run as a Republican. Regarding the political considerations, he said he preferred not to be specific.

This drew a question from Township Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson on what Johnson meant by not being specific. Coleman, a Democrat and economics teacher at Waterford Township High School, said in the typewritten statement that "not being specific raises very serious implications about which the citizens of Waterford Township have every right to know."

City Mercury Crash Dives to 9

This Morning's 'High' Plummets 23 Degrees in 6 Snowy Hours

Ritter north winds sent temperatures plummeting this morning in the Pontiac area. A high of 23 was recorded at 3 a.m. By 1 p.m. the mercury had dropped to 9 degrees.

Snows drifted treacherously over icy roads. County road crews were called out in full force at 1:30 a.m. to clear the worst spots for morning traffic.

Winds reaching a high of 25 m.p.h. toppled a Detroit Edison Co. power line on Oakland Avenue in Pontiac this morning. Another power line was down in Troy. No damage resulted in either incident and service was quickly restored.

Motorists were warned by state police and the sheriff's department that all roads in the county have slippery spots covered by snow. Gravel roads were particularly bad in spite of work crews' efforts.

More wind and snow flurries are predicted for Pontiac and vicinity tonight with the mercury sinking still lower, perhaps to as low as 4 degrees.

Thursday's outlook is fair with diminished winds and not quite as cold.

At 1 p.m. the mercury reading was 12.

Preparations Go Ahead

Weather Threatens Spaceshot

From Our News Wire
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Space officials said today the weather prospects are grim but that they will go ahead with preparations to launch astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. into orbit Thursday morning.

The schedule as now set calls for the Glenn to make one, two, or three flights around the earth in space depending on when he gets off in the period between 7:30 a.m. EST and 12:30 p.m.

At last report the preflight checkout of the big Atlas booster and Glenn's Friendship 7 Mercury space cabin were proceeding smoothly. Glenn apparently was expected to ascend as far south as the Cape Canaveral launch area, the forecast said.

Said the forecasters: "Mostly cloudy — uncertain."

Because officials want to photograph the critical early moments of the launch as a safety move to make doubly certain they know exactly how it is going, they will not fire if more than 25 to 30 percent of the sky is covered by clouds.

Three aircraft carriers are ordered out to sea again to stand by for astronaut Glenn's attempt to ride a spaceship around the earth.

Orders called for the carrier

Enterprise to leave Norfolk, Va., for her recovery area, 500 miles south of Bermuda, the forecast said. She was to leave Bermuda for a point some 500 miles east of there, and a third carrier, the Randolph, from Puerto Rico to an area near the Bahamas island of Grand Turk, nearly 800 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

The forecast was hardly more favorable for the recovery area in the Atlantic where Glenn would come down if his trip were ended after one orbit.

Enough seas east of Bermuda were expected to extend as far south as the Cape Canaveral launch area, the forecast said.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said they may not subsidize sufficiently for safety's sake by launch time.

Flashes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. David M. Shoup, Marine Corps commandant, told investigating senators today he overrode Pentagon orders to censor or review his speeches but now believes it "provides a useful service."

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury today charged two former employees of the State Elizabeth Kenny Foundation with taking nearly $300,000 in kickbacks from contributions to the foundation.

Let's Forget '63 Politics at Con-Con — Swainson

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Swainson says the legislature and the constitutional convention should spend less time on politics and more time on the issues they face.

Too much political in-fighting among legislators and convention delegates would impair their work, Swainson said at a news conference Monday.

"January is much too soon to worry about who will be governor in 1963 and president in 1965," said the governor in an obvious reference to political fraying over George Romney, his potential rival in the 1962 race for governor.

Romney, American Motors Corp. president and a Republican delegate to the constitutional convention, has said he will announce by Feb. 10 whether to seek the GOP nomination for governor.

Said Swainson: "The most important thing before us at the constitutional convention and the legislature is to address ourselves to the problems involved and not worry about what's going to happen a year from now."

George M. Van Pelt, GOP state chairman, cautioned with a defense of the Republican majority at the convention.

"The record clearly shows that Republican delegates have voted the dictates of their individual consciences on all matters pertaining to the proposed constitution," he said.

As Nasser's Influence in Arab World Wanes

New Alignments, Frictions Emerge in Middle East

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In the Middle East, where tempers flare quickly and calls to assassination are accepted strategy among feuding Arab leaders, new alignments and possible new sources of friction are emerging.

The changes emphasize the waning influence of the United Arab Republic's President Gamal Abdel Nasser and the re-emergence of Syria as a pivot in a region whose stability is vital not only for its oil but because it stands at the crossroads linking Europe, Asia and Africa.

The new alignment finds Syria linked with Iraq in a defensive agreement coordination of the activities of their armed forces.

It finds Jordan increasingly isolated.

It finds a temporary truce between Saudi Arabia and Egypt shattered by a torrent of angry words beamed from Cairo radio.

GAINS INFLUENCE

And as Nasser's influence on Arab affairs has waned through the loss of Syria to the U.A.R., that of his chief rival, Premier Abdul Kas-sem of Iraq, has gained as Syria turned increasingly to Iraq for Middle-Eastern leadership.

For Iraq, the defensive agreement could mean an eventual step toward union with Syria in a "fertile crescent" which is an old, old Iraqi dream.

When France held both Syria and Lebanon, Arab nationalists discussed it in terms of a "Greater Syria," which would combine Iraq, Jordan, Syria, Palestine and Lebanon.

When a revolt broke out in Lebanon last month, members of the popular Syrian party favoring a greater Syria were among its strongest supporters. Changes were made and denied that Syria secretly favored the Lebanese revolt.

The link between Syria and Iraq, even though presently a weak one, cannot but be a blow to Nasser's pride and also a disappointment to King Hussein of Jordan.

So long as Syria remained tied with the U.A.R., relations with Iraq frequently were bitter and of an directly reversed.

Iraq and Syria killed their military agreement as a defensive move against Israel, but they failed to consult Jordan which has the longest border with Israel of any Arab state.

In effect, it left Hussein on his own, sandwiched between the Syrian-Iraq agreement on the one hand and hostile Egypt on the other, with Saudi Arabia his only chance of possible support.

Relations between Egypt and Saudi Arabia have been cooling ever since last September's coup by which Syria broke away from Nasser's U.A.R.

Nasser accused King Saud of having contributed more than $5 million to assist the Syrian break-away.

More recently, Al Ahrat, Cairo newspaper close to the Nasser regime, accused Saud of using his convalescence in the United States to organize a religious, political and economic attack on the U.A.R.

To Oust Teacher Over Pledge

Contract Won't Be Renewed

Utica Board Votes to Drop Jehovah's Witness in Patriotism Dispute

UTICA — The Utica Community School Board voted unanimously last night against renewing Charles McManigal's contract for next year because he has said he will refuse to participate in patriotic displays which are against his religious beliefs.

The board acted on Schools Supt. Fred M. Atkinson's recommendation that the teacher be dropped when his present contract expires June 15.

The 27-year-old Sterling Junior High School music and band teacher has said he will not lead the band in the "Star Spangled Banner" because such an act constitutes a "nationalistic ceremony." He is a Jehovah's Witness.

Adopted Dec. 11, the board's patriotism policy requires teachers in the district to participate with students in saluting and pledging allegiance to the flag and carrying out other duties involved in patriotic programs.

The policy was adopted after parents complained that McManigal had told his students he would turn his back to a substitute for the playing of the National Anthem.

According to Louis Gonda, director of the school's instrumental music department, McManigal has not refused to teach the piece — only to lead it.

The special meeting was called last night to consider two letters the teacher submitted to Atkinson last week.

The first, a letter of resignation, asked that the board clear the embarrassing situation by relieving McManigal of his duties. The second, given to Atkinson the next day, requested that the board ignore the resignation.

Explains letters

The band teacher explained last night that his first letter was prompted by concern over the cost and length of a possible court battle over the constitutionality of the board's policy.

He withdrew the resignation, he said, because he was assured of financial support in case of a suit from the defense fund set up by the Michigan Education Association.

Donald Rhynes, a Utica teacher and president of the district's teachers' association, told the board Jan. 8 that no precedent had been set in Michigan courts on this issue.

He referred to a 1943 U.S. Supreme Court decision ruling that the state of West Virginia did not have the right to force students to salute or pledge the flag.

This decision applies indirectly to McManigal's case, he said, and he asked that the board hold off on any action against the teacher until a suitable compromise could be found.

GOP Moderates Talk to Romney

Rep. Roberts in Group Discussing Future of State in Lansing

Eight young Republican state senators, who espouse the moderate viewpoint, ate steak and sandwiches with George W. Romney last night in Lansing and chewed over state problems.

The moderates, including Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, talked behind closed doors in the Jack Tar Hotel for one hour and 45 minutes about Michigan's future. But they didn't bring up Romney's future, Roberts said.

Romney, possible candidate for governor, discussed tax reform, party activity in larger metropolitan cities like Detroit, increased state aid for sick cities, thereby eliminating federal assistance, and the state's overall business climate.

Others who met in the room of Sen. John H. Stethin, R-Bellingham, who already has announced for the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor, were Sens. Stanley G. Thayer of Ann Arbor; John W. Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge; Frederic Hilbert of Wayland; Harry L. Lutz of Benton Harbor; Thomas F. Schweigert of Petoskey and William G. Milliken of Traverse City.

Asked about the group's reaction to Romney, Roberts said: "It was very favorable before the meeting with him and it continues very very favorable."

$75,000 Blaze Rips Lumberyard in Area

SOUTHFIELD — A spectacular blaze which was fanned by gust-fires which broke out early this morning at the Chevier Lumber Co., a 1200 Lahar Road caused estimated damage of $75,000, according to Fire Chief Alfreo Kruck.

The blaze, was discovered shortly after midnight and was brought under control in about 45 minutes by Southfield firemen with the help of the Farmington Township, Oak Park and Detroit departments.

No one was injured. Some 50 firemen battled the blaze which was fanned by gust-fires which broke out early this morning at the Chevier Lumber Co., a 1200 Lahar Road caused estimated damage of $75,000, according to Fire Chief Alfreo Kruck.

A 30-by-60-plywood storage shed attached to the main building was gutted and its contents destroyed.

An investigation of the cause of the fire was to be made this morning by Fire Chief Kruck.

Owner of the company is Joseph A. Chevier, 21888 Mahon Road. The fire was discovered by an unknown passer-by.

While firemen brought the blaze under control in about 45 minutes, they stayed at the scene until after 5 a.m. to see that it did not break out again and to clean up the mess.

Parents and Teachers to Talk at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — Parents in the Walled Lake Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association will meet privately with teachers Thursday to discuss their child's individual progress in various subjects.

Appointments will be scheduled between 7:30 and 9 p.m. and must be made by calling the school office tomorrow.

Martin Schwark of Mount Clemens, chairman for the conference, said that over 150 recreation executives and leaders representing 44 communities are expected to attend the conference. Metropolitan recreation facilities for leisure time will be discussed.

The topics and speakers include "Blueprint for 1970," by James F. Miller, principal planner for the Planning Commission; "The Role of Regional Parks in the Metropolitan Area," by Edward Malonen, park planner of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority; and "Metropolitan Government," by Dr. Mel Ravitz, common councilman, City of Detroit.

Others are "Recreation Association of Michigan," by John D'Agnostino of the UAW Recreation Department and a member of the legislative committee for the Recreation Association of Michigan; "Detroit Metropolitan Youth Fitness Program," by James J. MASON AT WORK — Smoothing the mortar between Pennsylvania river stone in one of the 22 buttresses of the Shrine of Our Lady of Orchard Lake in Wynt Venet, 33 of 121 Hotel Road, Bloomfield Township. Some 200 tons will go into the construction of the shrine on the campus of SS. Cyril and Methodius Emissary, St. Mary's College and High School.

Enclosed by the stones, mortared by cement and lime, are steel I-beams needed to support the high pillars and roof.

Moshier, who has his two sons, Donald and Robert, working with him on the project, said that on an average it is necessary to cut about 100 stones a day to fit irregular holes.

Setting each individual stone in place is the job of Wynt Venet, 33 of 121 Hotel Road, Bloomfield Township, a mason for 10 years.

During the low temperatures men are protected from the cold and wind by a heavy plastic covering attached to a rectangular frame building.

Cheerful Milford Man Works From His Chair

BY KERA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — It's been a long haul for a Milford area boy since that fateful day in June 1949, when he dove off Black Bridge into the Huron River and smashed a vertebrae in his neck.

David Augustine, 1129 Buno Road, and a group of teenage friends from the First Baptist Church had gathered at the "old swimming hole" for a picnic and an afternoon of swimming.

Just at the moment David was poised on top of the bridge ready to plunge into the water, two younger friends jumped from the lower level.

In order to avoid colliding with the 18-year-old David dove from the 15-foot depth to shallow water, and he hit bottom.

It was then that David's life changed completely. He was pulled unconscious from the river by a cousin, James Kern, and given artificial respiration until an ambulance arrived. It was months before David was taken off the critical list, but the damage was done.

The 190-pound star football tackle who also played the tuba in the school band was paralyzed from the neck down.

AVOID SWIMMING HOLE

The accident stunned the entire community and since then the people who remember seldom use the Black Bridge swimming hole.

Today at the age of 30, Auguste is not bitter. He has learned to live a different kind of life in a wheel chair, and has — through long tedious hours of exercise — managed to recover partial use of his arms and hands.

After his mother died five years ago, David and his father, Henry, settled down to "batching life." Staters and brothers are always looking into we that the two are well and happy.

David has set up a little mimeograph service for producing bulletins for churches, businesses and organizations residing such as a suit from the defense fund set up by the Michigan Education Association.

However, the main part of David's life is now spent at the Milford police station, where he is employed as a dispatcher. He lives the 1 p.m. to 9 a.m. shift and says that it is anything but lonely.

At 12:30 a.m. a police car pulls up at David's home and he is helped into the car, then to the station where a special ramp was built for easier wheel chair transportation.

The police station radio, connected with all Oakland County stations, transmits hundreds of different stories throughout the early morning.

State police, sheriff's deputies and Milford police are continually coming and going to keep the young man's hours from leaving the station. Occasionally people on their way home from late parties drop in just to visit.

Although his legs are useless, the handsome young man has a clever, friendly attitude that seems to radiate quiet confidence making him one of the favorite radio air disc jockeys in all Oakland County.

Farmers Week Draws Crowds to See 'Beef on the Hoof'

LANSING — Farmers from all parts of the state will have a chance to see "beef on the hoof" today at Michigan State University's 16th annual Farmers' Week.

The streets, which have been packed on some of the top beef breeding farms in the state, were to be jammed today and sold at the annual fair stock show tomorrow.

More than 50,000 visitors poured over the MSU campus Monday during opening sessions. Dairy cows were the main attraction.

Before the work is up, some 50,000 visitors are expected to visit the farm products and agriculture showing.

Mount Clemens Bookseller Sues Prosecutor, Police

MOUNT CLEMENS — Lawrence Patterson, 32, a Mount Clemens bookseller, has sued the Macomb County prosecutor and four city policemen charging harassment.

Attorney Edwin Elmann filed the $100,000 suit in U.S. District Court yesterday. It names George N. Parris, Macomb County prosecutor; Eugene A. Smith, the Mount Clemens chief of detectives; and Russell A. Girard, Aldrich Park and Harold Wahlen, members of the Mount Clemens police force.

Elmann said Patterson was arrested earlier this month on a warrant charging sale of a book containing passages corruptive to the morals of minors. Elmann said that statute has been declared unconstitutional and repealed.

Parris said, however, that the charge was sale of obscene literature and that the statute was valid.

SAYS WARRANT INVALID

Patterson said the book, a paperback titled "The Girls Upstairs," was obtained through normal distribution channels. He also alleged that the police had entered his store without a valid warrant and conducted a search north of his.

Parris said, however, that the police had a valid warrant. He said he didn't know what was confiscated.

Parris said the case came up after a theft of some books at the store. He said among the stolen books recovered was a copy of the one in question.

Smith denied the arrest. "The case has not yet come to trial," Parris said. "This is no book burning. We don't do that out here."

Two Southfield youths who also admitted stealing ski equipment from the Mt. Holly Ski Area were fined $75 apiece yesterday for a similar theft in Boyne Falls.

Pleading guilty to shoplifting in Boyne City by Justice Court, the two youths, 16 and 17, were fined $75 apiece yesterday for a similar theft in Boyne Falls.

Urges Merger of New Nations for Effectiveness

DETROIT (AP) — A United Nations staff official says a way should be found to join some of the many new countries into nations of more effective size.

Dr. Andrew W. Cordier, under secretary in charge of general assembly and related affairs, told the Economic Club of Detroit yesterday one of the recent problems of the U.N. is caused by the growing number of new nations.

He said there is too much "fragmentation of land and empire" and that it would be "a good thing if means were found for peaceful joining of these new countries" into nations of more effective size.

These new countries need our help in many ways, Cordier said. But he urged that it be made adapted to need and be given in a way that makes the added country a burden on the effort.

Survey Results Different Today: Romney Vote?

George W. Romney wasn't the top pick for President among a scattering of Oakland County Republicans in August.

Opinions might be changed today, however, if the party's shareholders' questionnaire" were sent out and the question asked: "If a presidential election were being held today, for which candidate would you vote?"

Arizona conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater polled 725 first place votes when 1,000 queries were dispatched by former publisher Charles A. Ferry last August.

Party headquarters just released results.

Romney polled but 51 votes. Asked if he thought the returns would be different today, in the light of all the talk about Romney for governor and president, Wilbur G. Durkee, executive secretary of the county committee, answered emphatically with a "Yes."

Other first-place vote getters for president were Richard Nixon 177, Nelson Rockefeller, 67, and miscellaneous, 28. And a fellow by the name of John Fitzgerald Kennedy received two votes.

Denies He's a Bircher

MIDLAND — State Sen. Lynn Francis, R-Midland, told the Midland Daily News Tuesday "I have not belonged to the John Birch Society for more than a year. The group I was in was dissolved." At one time Francis had publicly stated he was a member of the ultra-conservative group.

LIVELINESS AND LUXURY IN A FULL LINE OF LOW-PRICED CARS
CHEVY II

Eleven new-size models make One-Stop Shopping easier than ever at your Chevrolet dealer's

Nothing fair to middling about the spacious and spunky new lineup of low-priced cars from Chevrolet! From the looks of these nifty top-of-the-line Novas (unmistakably new), you'd never guess they're so easy to own. Even some bigger cars wonder how we got so much full-size family room into such a parkable, garageable package—and so much hustle out of a 6 that sips gas so sparingly. Your dealer will be happy to point out more reasons why liveliness, luxury and a low price have never been more beautifully blended. Driving this one comes mighty close to having your cake and eating it, too.
