

Four Children Die in Apartment Building Fire

GRIEVING MOTHER, UNIDENTIFIED NEIGHBOR

DETROIT (AP)—Four small children, trapped in their parents' top-floor apartment, died in a sudden four-alarm blaze at a three-story apartment building early today.

Fifty-two other tenants were rescued by firemen or leaped to safety from windows.

A fireman fell from the third floor to the basement through a hole eaten by flames beside a stairway but suffered only minor injury.

The parents of the children who died leaped to safety with their fifth child. All escaped without injury.

CAUSES NEAR PANIC
The fire was discovered about

1:15 a.m. in the building in the Linwood-Clairmont area, a largely Negro section. Near panic resulted.

Some cool-headed tenants, however, ran about corridors shouting warnings to others and pounding on doors. Within 30 minutes the 100 firemen on the scene had the blaze under control.

Fire Chief Laurence J. Daly said the resistant walls along the halls helped to limit the damage. The building has about 150 tenants in its 17 apartments.

'MASS OF FLAMES'
"The building was one mass of flames when we arrived," said Sgt. William Erickson of the fire department.

The four youngsters were trapped by the flames, police said. They were the children of Delmar Rushell, 34, and his wife, Ann.

Ruth, 34, who escaped with their youngest, Marie, 15 months. The ground floor business establishments were damaged, but no one was hurt, fire officials said. The fire apparently started on said.

The Fire Department, called while she was working over her son, arrived with an inhalator, just as he was regaining consciousness.

The Goans children, including Donald, Wendell, Pamela, Theresa, 6, and Sandra, 9, were rushed to Pontiac General Hospital. They all were released after treatment at the hospital.

Mother Revives Son Overcome by Fumes

Mrs. Goans returned to the store with her son in her arms soon after she had made her purchase, said William Brown, a pharmacist at the store. The boy was unconscious, overcome by carbon monoxide, according to Brown.

In her haste to remove the boy, Mrs. Goans had left the four other children in the car. Brown went outside and quickly carried the four other children to safety. They son, arrived with an inhalator, just as he was regaining consciousness.

However, Mrs. Goans worked for 15 minutes applying mouth-to-mouth respiration to her youngest child, Donald, before he opened his eyes.

Khrushchev's Campaign to Ban Tests an Old Trap

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev, having carried through an elaborate series of Soviet nuclear weapons tests, opened a campaign today to try to force President Kennedy into calling off U.S. tests and thus slowing development of American nuclear weapons.

That was the real meaning seen in high official quarters here in Moscow's conditional agreement with the United States and Britain to resume negotiations at Geneva Nov. 28 for a treaty banning nuclear test explosions.

But Kennedy administration officials said privately that the President has no intention of getting caught in any such Soviet trap.

He will never agree, they said, to a return to an uninspected moratorium on weapons testing such as accompanied the three-year round of Geneva talks which were suspended in September after Russia resumed testing.

BIGGER DECISION

The real decision before the President, these officials said, is not whether to halt all testing, as implied by the Soviets, but whether to go from underground to atmospheric explosions in order to make experiments which are not possible underground.

Presumably Khrushchev hopes to block atmospheric testing if he cannot stall all testing.

The Soviet position on further test talks was made known in notes delivered to the U.S. and Britain embassies in Moscow.

The State Department received the text from Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in midmorning.

Secretary Dean Rusk immediately took it under study and began conferring with other officials on U.S. reaction.

From London came word that the British government cautiously welcomed the Soviet step but side-stepped the question of a promise to join in a new moratorium.

What the Soviet notes said was that if while the talks were under way some other power started testing the Moscow government would be compelled "to draw the corresponding conclusion concerning nuclear tests."

In other words, the message was read here as telling the world that Russia was ready to stop testing and the question of a new moratorium is therefore up to the United States—since it is the only other country now testing.

Khrushchev could count on this position to inflame propaganda attacks on the United States, especially in neutral countries like India, and by some neutral governments.

ORDERS QUARANTINE
More drastic action was taken late Monday when Dr. John D. Monroe, director of the Oakland County Health Department, ordered a rabies quarantine clamped on Farmington Township.

It was ordered at the request of Farmington Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall and will become effective Nov. 27. It means that all dogs in the township must be confined to their owners' property.

Dog owners who fail to confine their pets will automatically be fined $10 under state law. This step is being taken to safeguard both the dogs and residents.

Farmington police have been given orders to shoot all skunks on sight. Residents are being urged to do the same.

A state conservation department trapper is being sent to the area this week to work with police to ward substantially reducing the township's skunk population.

City to Discuss Rabies Proposal

Commission to Hear Motion for Amendment of Ordinance Tonight

It is safe to say that about 99 per cent of all animal stories are either humorous or heartwarming. This story belongs to the other one per cent.

On Sept. 11 a middle-aged man was severely bitten by a large dog in Pontiac. About a month later Farmington police shot a skunk.

About Oct. 24 a man was bitten by the family pet, a cat, in West Bloomfield Township. A week later two young children were bitten by a stray cat near Lake Orion and last Thursday another skunk was shot in Farmington Township—after it bit a four-year-old boy.

In each case except the first, the animal involved was rabid.

Ironically, the one bite not involving rabies resulted in a proposal to make rabies inoculations mandatory in Pontiac.

That proposal, now in the form of an amendment to Pontiac's dog ordinance, will be introduced at tonight's City Commission meeting.

More drastic action was taken late Monday when Dr. John D. Monroe, director of the Oakland County Health Department, ordered a rabies quarantine clamped on Farmington Township.

Comb Coastal Area for Rockefeller's Son

Dutch navy Neptune planes and a Beaver of the Dutch New Guinea Airlines searched from sea and air for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's 23-year-old son, who disappeared Sunday after a boating mishap while on a scientific expedition.

Naval units plucked a Dutch companion of the youth, Dr. R. W. Wassing, 34, out of the sea Monday. Wassing said he last saw Michael—whom he described as a strong swimmer—about 14 miles off shore attempting to reach land with the help of a makeshift float of empty gasoline cans.

Wassing told rescuers that the misadventure started last Thursday while he and Rockefeller toured the mouth of the Eilend River in a small native boat. They were collecting primitive art and sculpture for the New York Museum of Primitive Art and for a museum to be built in Hollandia.

ALERTED AUTHORITIES
He said they lost their outboard motor and that the river current carried them into Flamingo Bay where heavy seas overturned the boat.

The crash tribune was seen from the patrol ship Tasman, which took Wassing aboard, said his condition was satisfactory despite three days of exposure to the sun and sea.

A Dutch plane sighted Wassing clinging to the overturned boat Sunday and guided rescue vessels to the area with flares. Officers of the patrol ship Tasman, which took Wassing aboard, said his condition was satisfactory despite three days of exposure to the sun and sea.

American missionaries stationed on the south coast joined in the hunt for Rockefeller. They included Catholic brothers using compasses and theodolites and a Protestant mission at Pirampun.

Wassing rested today at Pirampun and was to be flown Wednesday to Hollandia, where he will see Gov. Rockefeller on his way south to the search area.

Say Faulty Ruling Let Notre Dame Beat Syracuse

NEW YORK (AP)—The Big Ten and the Eastern College Athletic Conference ruled today that Notre Dame's 17-15 victory over Syracuse last Saturday was achieved through a misinterpretation of the rules.

In a joint statement, commissioners of the two conferences expressed "deep regret at the confusion surrounding this issue" but pointed out there is no redress.

Thus, the game still must go into the record books as a Notre Dame victory unless Notre Dame voluntarily concedes the game.

TABLES TURNED—A Weldon Turkey, the world's most loved press agent, turned the Thanksgiving tables on us yesterday. In town to promote "his people," he was photographed during a luncheon scene. Despite his eloquent plea for equal rights with chickens, ducks and geese, Mr. Turkey admitted fate and tradition were against him. "Soap box today, lunch box tomorrow. That's the story of my life," he lamented.

Give Thanks to Us, Too, Says Mr. A. Weldon Turkey

A. Weldon Turkey will be making his annual appearance on millions of dinner tables Thursday, but today he had a few things to say about the big event.

In an historic moment, Mr. Turkey clucked his way into the Pontiac Press, hopped up in front of a typewriter and pecked out an exclusive message to Press readers.

"All right, America, let's put our hatchets on the table," his note began.

"Thanksgiving is very traditional and all that jazz, but you can't blame my people for feeling a little persecuted. After all, the Pilgrims celebrated with venison."

"Don't get me wrong, we're not pushing for legislation. We got our waffles full of that after the Civil War when Congress decided to make Thanksgiving official."

"Then some nut starts this turkey thing and look what it's come to. Things get a little hectic for us about this time every year."

SUPREME SACRIFICE
"But being a 'tadition' has left us with a great sense of national pride. We make the supreme sacrifice for our country and where does it get us? This year I see where there's a small of us that our market price is slipping."

"What we turkeys want is a 'little recognition,' he pecked out feverishly, his feathers bristling.

"Our ancestors were wild, but you weren't exactly tame. We were domesticated somewhat by the North American Indians."

"Many of our crude forefathers were shipped back to Spain in 1519

Replacing Wells With Detroit Water Will Be First Project

By DICK HANSON

The federal government has opened the door for $106.7 million worth of public works projects in Oakland County with the Area Redevelopment Administration's approval of broad economic plans for the metropolitan area.

Approval, which was announced yesterday, means that federal loans now will be available to finance long range plans of the six affected counties for new and expanded public facilities.

The total proposed bill for the metropolitan area comes to an estimated $1.2 billion.

It could also mean approximately 300,777 million additional labor man hours in Oakland, Wayne, Monroe, Macomb, St. Clair and Washtenaw counties over a lengthy period of time.

Approval of the broad plans makes these counties now eligible to apply for federal funds to help underwrite specific development programs.

Adenauer Huddles With JFK On Berlin Again

German Ministers Meet With Rusk, McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer went to the White House today for his second conference with President Kennedy on grave issues of the times.

The German ambassador, Wilhelm Grewe, told reporters that Adenauer's visit is better. Because of his cold, Adenauer did not attend a "working dinner" last night of U.S. and West German officials.

Grewe and two German ministers, Foreign Minister Gerhard Schröder and Defense Minister Franz-Joseph Strauss, preceded Adenauer by a few minutes at the White House.

They had held an earlier meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and other U.S. officials at the State Department.

REPORT PROGRESS

Kennedy and Adenauer were reported to be making steady progress toward agreement on the Western powers may follow in prospective negotiations with Russia for a Berlin settlement.

In a lengthy private discussion at the White House Monday, they are said to have reached an understanding that any decisions they work out must be subject to further discussion with British and French leaders. Their aim is a four-power agreement on a wide range of Berlin and German issues.

The West German chancellor and the President scheduled an intensive round of conferences today.

Yacht Tale Shocks Sister

From Our News Wire

ROYAL OAK — The sister of Capt. J. J. Harvey's wife Mary Monday expressed shock and disbelief over alleged foul play in the sinking of the ketch Bluebell and the death of five passengers.

Harvey was accused by the lone survivor, 11-year-old Terry J. Dupperrault, Green Bay, Wis., of killing the passengers and leaving the girl alone on the boat. Harvey took his life after learning Terry Joe had survived.

Mrs. Harvey's sister, Mrs. G. Raymond Young, 2210 N. Connecticut, Royal Oak, said "she was 'sick' and 'profundly shocked' over the story told the Coast Guard by the girl."

"Of course, I don't believe it," Mrs. Young said. "I never met Mr. Harvey but I know my sister thought the world of him." Harvey's wife, the former Mary Dene Smith, 34, Detroit, was one of the Bluebell victims.

A Coast Guard officer in Miami said the girl's narrative of bloodshed and death at sea sounds like mass murder by a man gone berserk.

The officer who made that interpretation of Terry Joe's account of a tragic night aboard the Bluebell would not be quoted by name.

Officially, the Coast Guard said, no findings will be made until its investigation is complete.

Berlin Youths Beaten Back

West German Police Stop Mob of Hundreds Trying to Storm Wall

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police brandishing night sticks rolled back hundreds of West German youths who tried to storm the Communist-built border barrier Monday night with cries that "the wall must go."

East Berlin police also opened up on the angry demonstrators with water cannon and tear gas grenades and drew tear gas fire in reply from the West Berlin police. Authorities estimated that about 200 grenades sailed over the wall during the exchange.

The demonstrations marked the 10th day since East Germany started erecting the wall, which virtually sealed off the main escape route for East German residents fleeing the Communist regime.

There were no reports of serious injuries but many were drenched by cold blasts from the Communists' water gun.

The flare-up came as East Berlin labor forces struggled feverishly to strengthen the 25-mile wall with concrete and steel tank traps. The work got under way Sunday and prompted speculation that the Communists were preparing for a possible shutdown of the East-West border.

The youths' charge on the wall followed a torchlight procession in which an estimated 20,000 marched five miles through West Berlin in an anniversary observance led by Ernst Lemmer, West German Cabinet Minister, and Otto Bach, speaker of the West Berlin City Parliament.

Voters Approve Increase in Millage, School Bond

BIRMINGHAM — Two major school proposals were approved yesterday by wide margins in a special election in the Birmingham School District.

Voters in the district authorized a $4,915,000 bond issue for school construction and site purchase and a 10-cent increase of current operating millage along with a $2.60 tax increase for each $1,000 of valuation.

The bond proposal was approved 5,341 to 3,403 and the tax question was accepted with a vote of 5,423 to 3,261.

The total vote was the second highest recorded in the history of the school district.

The highest number of votes cast in a school election was in June, 1960, when a 19-mill tax was approved and members of the Birmingham Board of Education were elected.

Plump Goose Belongs to Thanksgivings of the Past.

By ELLEN PERRY
Saginaw News Correspondent
ST. LOUIS — Where is the goose of yesteryear?

Time was when almost as many folks ate goose as turkey for Thanksgiving and Christmas. A more beautiful sight ever centered the holiday table than a crisply browned, broad-backed goose, supine on the household's biggest platter — encircled by tureens of biscuits swimming in amber goose-gravy, mounds of butter-crowned mashed potatoes, compotes of jellied cranberries and applesauce, and thick slices of homemade bread stacked on the "God-bless-our-home" bread-plate.

The flavor of that goose! A deep-down great goodness that no other fowl ever matched.

Nor was a more versatile bird to be found. An average goose netted at least a quart of pure oil that was poured or dipped gradually from the roaster as baking proceeded — with just enough oil left in the bottom of the pan to make gravy.

That quart of oil could do many chores. It could be used for shortening, lubricating baking pans, greasing a gun barrel, and applying to the throat and chest of anyone in the family suffering from a cold.

MADE SOFT FELLOWS
Then there were the feathers — the "down-under," fluffy ones, that made the softest pillows ever slept on by man. A pair of goose-feather pillows would last through several generations of sleepers. One 82-year-old St. Louis lady, Mrs. Harold Kiney, still enjoys a pair that she slept on when she was a little girl.

Today's problem would be to find a goose for the big dinner. Years ago, geese were farmyard denizens along with hens, ducks, guinea pigs, and geese flocks never very large, but were ample for the family's special occasions. A female goose wasn't over-ambitious about raising a big family.

Usually geese enjoyed the freedom of the yard, although why is a mystery, for almost every female member of a farm family was afraid of a gander, because a gander never lost an opportunity to launch an attack on any timid soul, particularly on one wearing a skirt or apron or on a bare-legged youngster.

There was a warning hiss that sounded like an overheated radiator, and if the intended victim looked back quickly enough, she made a dash for safety. With wings spread wide and tongue extended, and long neck stretched straight ahead, a gander made an awesome sight — and how that look could hurt!

On the credit side, though, a flock of geese was as good as any watchdog, trumpeting an alarm at the slightest disturbance of the farmyard peace.

And when the family gathered around the holiday table, all the unpleasant traits were forgotten in that moment of eager anticipation, when mother's carving knife made the first incision into the plump, golden-brown carcass and she placed a big slice of roast goose on each dinner plate.

Average American has 39-horsepower available today as compared with one-half horsepower before 1900.

Says America Aids Commies

Birch Society Leader Says U.S. Government Powerful Red Ally

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The United States government, "while all ways pretending to oppose," actually supports the advance of world communism, says Robert Welch, head of the conservative John Birch Society.

He held a rally Monday night the federal government is "the most powerful single force supporting the steady worldwide Communist advance."

Forty or 50 pickets paraded outside the auditorium for an hour before Welch arrived.

Several said they were students at the University of Texas. Signs they carried said "We are opposed to all forms of totalitarianism" and "We protest use of fright tactics and character assassination."

A crowd estimated by police at 1,000 attended the meeting, sponsored by the Austin Anti-Communism League.

"No earthly power could drag the Soviets into a real war or an atomic war with the United States," Welch said.

"Not until the Soviets have complete victory already assured is there any slightest danger of the use of Soviet arms or armies on American soil."

Proposed amendments to three city ordinances will be considered by commissioners at tonight's City Commission meeting at 8.

One proposal would allow dancing in establishments where liquor is sold by the glass. The present city ordinance prohibits dancing in such establishments.

Several weeks ago Charles A. Gersten and Thomas Keeling, owners of the Pink Poodle Lounge on East Pike Street at Perry, asked the city to consider rescinding the part prohibiting dancing.

They own the adjacent building formerly housing Arthur Murray Dance Studios. The owners will request action on the measure to night.

City Atty. William A. Ewart is expected to recommend that commissioners make several additions to Pontiac's traffic ordinance regarding motor vehicle operation.

The amendment would adopt state laws covering use of operator's licenses to city ordinance, enabling police to channel local cases directly into municipal court, bypassing the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office.

Ewart is also expected to report on deeds to newly purchased urban renewal properties and the warranty deed whereby the city will finalize sale of property at Rapley and Brush streets to Newman AMF Church.

Bel Air Fighting Flood Menace

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Residents of the recently burned out Bel Air district waded through mounds of mud and silt today struggling to prevent further flood damage from predicted morning showers in the wake of Southern California's heaviest rain storm in more than a year.

Monday's storm brought nearly 3 inches of rain to the Santa Monica Mountains which just two weeks ago were ravaged by the worst fire in Los Angeles history.

Torrents of water rushed down the denuded hillsides carrying waves of dirt and debris that periled mountain homes and flooded canyon streets.

With no water shed to halt the flow, mudslides caused serious damage to five or six homes in the fire area, leaving up to a foot of mud inside the buildings.

LEAVING FOUNDATION The fire department reported that one house on Bundy Drive, a street hard hit by the fire, was being pushed from its foundation by the surge of debris.

Similar incidents occurred in San Dimas where a house was washed off its foundation. The occupants still inside, and in Glendora where another small house was reportedly pushed off its foundation by floods.

Silt and debris also poured through houses on Rosemead Road, another area razed by the fire where many of the 456 homes destroyed by the blaze were located.

The area was closed to traffic as garbage cans and other refuse floated down the streets of the exclusive district.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communist party has failed to meet the deadline for registration under the Internal Security Act. The Justice Department withheld action today, waiting to see if the party's officers would sign up within their later time limit.

The party, as an organization, had until midnight Monday night to register but the Justice Department said no representative showed up. The officers now have until Nov. 30. If the officers do not meet the deadline, individual party members must register within 20 days—Dec. 20.

A spokesman said the Justice Department plans to wait at least until next week that has expired for the officers to register before taking action. Then, officials said, the first move will likely be directed against the party itself.

MUST REGISTER Under the Internal Security Act—enacted in the courts since 1950 until the Supreme Court upheld its provisions last June—the party was to have registered as an arm of the Soviet government, listing its officers, finances and other details.

In view of the party's formal protest last week that it would not comply with the registration requirement, department officials said it was unlikely the form had been mailed. The party refused on grounds registration might incriminate its officers.

The act carries a penalty of up to $10,000 for each day a Communist or Communist-front organization fails to register. Individuals violating the registration requirement could receive the same penalty, plus a five-year "prison term" for each day of noncompliance.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department says the failure of threatened revolt in the Dominican Republic "should contribute to reducing tensions there and arguing about a peaceful transition to an increasingly democratic society."

State Department press officer Lincoln White told newsmen Monday that by weathering "what appeared to be a serious attempt to carry off a repressive coup," Dominican President Joaquin Balaguer had strengthened his position.

White said he did not know how long American warships will remain near the Caribbean nation. The United States has indicated its readiness to intervene in support of Balaguer if he asks help to defeat any attempt by the Trujillo family to seize power.

A 10-member committee of the Organization of American States left this morning for the Dominican Republic to investigate conditions.

Bridge Collapses With NYC Train, Killing Two Men

NITRO, W. Va. (U)—Two units of a big New York Central diesel locomotive fell into the Poca River just before dawn today when a bridge collapsed. Two crewmen died in the chilly water.

Four other crew members escaped when the bridge gave way at nearby Poca, about 35 miles northwest of Charleston and near where the stream empties into the Kanawha River.

Thirty-two of the 73 freight cars derailed.

Injured Girl's Dad Sues Tavern Selling 'Illegally'

The father of a girl severely beaten in 1959 by a man who mistook her for his wife is suing the man before the incident.

On behalf of his 20-year-old daughter Phyllis Jean, Joseph E. Keel seeks $150,000 damages from the three owners of the Gridiron Bar, 21 E. Pike St., and the Ohio Casualty Insurance Co., which heared the bar for $4,000.

The suit filed in Oakland County Circuit Court said the girl suffered permanent disabling brain injuries when beaten by Bruce M. Taylor, 32, of Pontiac, with a baseball bat on June 25, 1959. She was baby-sitting with the three children of Taylor and his estranged wife, Juanita, 29, of 223 W. Rutgers St.

Taylor, a butcher, is serving a 6 to 10-year sentence for the beating, which he admitted.

Keel said the bar was liable for selling intoxicating beverages to Taylor, who was already intoxicated, the suit alleges.

The insurance company was named in the amount it bonded the bar. The bonds were said to be conditioned on the tavern not selling to an intoxicated person.

Most Pontiac Residents Want Rabies Ordinance

City Commissioner WILLIAM TAYLOR from District 3 has asked the Pontiac City Commission to review the possibilities of a compulsory rabies ordinance.

We can tell him and the other commissioners that without exception all the communication we have had by phone and letter is overwhelmingly in favor of such an ordinance.

The vast majority of other communities in our immediate area has such a law. Some time ago Oakland County realized their responsibility and put into effect a rabies ordinance.

If the Commission doesn't feel that it is their primary duty to pass and enforce laws for the protection of the majority, we would be surprised.

Delayed action is only gambling that Pontiac residents will not be bitten by a rabid dog. It's up to the Commission.

Crossing Rail Tracks Demands Extra Care

Many of us probably feel some annoyance when we suddenly find ourselves caught behind a school bus or truck stopping at a railroad crossing. We should be happy they do.

The National Safety Council passes on word from a committee devoted to grade crossing safety problems, to the effect that far too many drivers of school buses and trucks bearing explosive or inflammable materials are failing to halt at rail crossings as the law requires.

Train vehicle collisions annually kill 1,300 people, disable 3,500 more, and cause losses in the millions. Private cars account for three-fourths of these collisions, but it is shocking that any buses or trucks operating under orders to halt at the tracks should be involved.

The council's drive to reduce these deaths and losses deserves the fullest support from both the private and the professional driver.

Some States Have New Mental Health Setup

In speaking to the Oakland County Mental Health Board of Directors, HOMER SWANDER, vice president of Michigan Bell Telephone Company, pointed up several new approaches to the over-all mental health problem.

In Michigan like many other states, mental health and its increasing problems is becoming more and more difficult to finance.

Mr. Swander discussed the new approach that New York, California, and Minnesota have tried for the past few years. Basically, it is that state and local communities have gone into partnership behind the slogan, "Local control with state support."

New York, the first state to pass legislation enabling cities or counties to receive matching funds for local mental health centers, found their patient load in state mental hospitals decreased by 3,000 after four years. Their total expenditure for mental health had jumped from $4 million to $11 million, but the saving in hospital care and in productive individuals points up the value of the program.

Minnesota, taking New York's example, considers the program highly successful. Where once they had four mental health service units, they now have 16, each serving on an average of 80,000 inhabitants. All of the centers supply a broad range of mental health services to citizens of all ages. In addition, they furnish reference, research and educational material to other interested agencies and serve as a training center.

Each state varies the amount of money it will contribute to the local setup. These local groups may be cities, counties or groups of counties. These are matching funds, not reimbursements. Interested communities must have a local mental health board that may be purely advisory or completely responsible for the operation of the center. Financially able patients must pay. In all cases, the local money must be assured before the state enters the picture.

The Michigan Society for Mental Health has been studying this type of program for over a year. Some interest has been shown by the Senate interim committee.

We feel that this plan is worthy of further study and consideration for our own State.

Television: What's being killed by the roaring squintles.

This column takes exception to the news service dispatch in which Detroit is called "World renowned for the way it makes automobiles." It now is really in fifth place in that respect, following Flint, Dearborn, Pontiac and Lansing.

Detroit always got more credit than it deserved in the making of cars. It didn't even pioneer the manufacture of most successful makes.

Paradoxically, the manufacturing element that built it up now is tearing it down, causing it to lose population faster than any other city in the nation. Many of these people are coming to Oakland County to help build cars, trucks, buses and bodies in Pontiac.

Genesee County was obliged to come to Oakland County to look on a competent test for its official fallout shelter at Flint, and

Back in the Old PT Boat

David Lawrence Wonders:

Divorce... Does It Influence Voters?

WASHINGTON—Do the majority of the voters in America cast their ballots on the basis of personal prejudice—without regard to the capability of the candidate or his integrity?

On reading the speculative analyses written in the last few days by able reporters of public-opinion trends who have contacted leading politicians, one is forced to the conclusion that, no matter how qualified a man may be for the presidency, it hurts him when large segments of the electorate if he happens to have been divorced.

Religion is another "hot potato" in politics. The last presidential election was widely reported to have been largely influenced by debate over the religious question in various states.

Public-opinion polls indicated that many persons would vote for John F. Kennedy because he was Catholic, and a large number indicated they would vote against him for the same reason.

Divorce has long been frowned upon by the Catholic Church, and hence some of the politicians think more Catholic voters might swing to President Kennedy if his opponent is a divorced man.

But what possible connection can there really be between such personal matters as religion or divorce, on the one hand, and the ability of a man, on the other, to serve his country better than the opposing candidate who happens not to be involved in such personal questions?

The politicians who have been interviewed in the last few days—almost all of them anonymously—express puzzlement over the issue of divorce as a political factor. Some say it would hurt Gov. Rockefeller's chances, and some say it wouldn't.

The 1964 election, however, is a long way off. Actually, it is 36 months before the big contest in which President Kennedy, or conceivably Vice President Lyndon Johnson, would be the Democratic nominee.

Much can happen in 36 months, on both the international and domestic fronts.

PURSE IS THE ISSUE

Basically, the vast majority of the people vote for or against a candidate on economic, or what has often been called "pocket-book," issues.

They vote also against an administration which has in any way been tainted with fraud or scandal.

They vote in favor of an administration that endeavors to keep the peace—almost to the point of "peace at any price."

They are likely to vote afterwards against an administration which has plunged them into war, and it doesn't seem to matter too much.

The pamphlet, Wheat to Eat, available on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope, tells how to restore the staff of life to your family dietary.

Instead, the defeat of the Democrats in 1952 was due to the policies of the Truman administration in the previous seven years.

The slogan "Communism, Korea and Corruption" mobilized more votes against Adlai Stevenson than the fact that he was divorced or that Gen. Eisenhower was personally popular.

Incidentally, the analysts of the political parties sooner or later will begin to size up the "divorce vote." There are estimated to be about 20 million men and women in America who have been divorced.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Too Many People Ignore Health Until It's Gone

Perhaps you have observed, if you ever think seriously about physiology, hygiene, prophylaxis and nutrition, how rapidly senility or decline comes upon person who has lost many or most of his teeth and whose teeth are getting along without artificial teeth, bridges or other dentures.

It is not just the appearance of such a person but the actual physical or nutritional condition that suffers from the accelerated progress of degeneration.

Theoretically, it is possible to get all the vitamins and minerals required for good nutrition from good food provided the diet is well balanced, adequate and reasonably varied from day to day.

But very few Americans know enough or care enough about nutrition to follow such a diet. In Little Lesson No. 16, "The 7 Keys to Life" (35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope), you will find a basic, fundamental or model health diet, on which to build your own diet to suit your particular requirements. As it stands, it is a corrective, protective, rejuvenation, regeneration or reduction diet.

The breakfast menu of the pattern health diet includes a slice of toast, roll, waffle or hot cake. But anyone who gets even a minimum of exercise daily should have some such carbohydrate item for breakfast—preferably, of course, one made of whole wheat, not refined white flour.

The dinner menu includes no dessert—unless you are willing to settle for fresh fruit in lieu thereof.

This is not to imply that very active people, people who do hard work, athletes and youngsters who play as hard as normal youngsters should, may not have whatever dessert they like. For sedentary people, including in cake, pie, pudding, ice cream after dinner is over-eating.

Says that primer of health literature, Brady's "An Old Doctor's Secrets of Positive Health": "For each tooth lost and not immediately replaced with a functionally efficient one—that is, one you can chew with—deduct one to two years from your life expectancy. In other words, the cost and value of a tooth is what you are willing to pay for an extra year of life."

On the catalogue of my health pamphlets appears this admonition: "Care for your health while you have it... for when it is gone the chances are you can't buy any more." Bootless advice.

It is human nature to give no thought to care of health until one realizes health is gone. Although my newspaper column is a HEALTH column and not a medical one, it is abundantly evident in the letters I receive from readers that they are not interested in hygiene or prophylaxis. Their questions have to do with symptoms and treatment.

Signed letters sent more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to health, hygiene and dieting, dieting, or treatment, will be answered promptly. Send them to Dr. William Brady, addressed envelope to be sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan 48130.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Help Child to Stop Thumb Sucking

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
"CASE K-456: Jerry, aged 4, years, has a problem."

"Dr. Crane," his worried mother began, "Jerry sucks his thumb so much, our dentist fears it may deform the roof of his mouth."

"And I know he does," Jerry's mother said, "he gets so tired and so tired when he enters kindergarten."

"Jerry," he sucks his thumb even in the daytime. And it is a pre-sleep ritual with him every night. How can we break him of this nuisance habit? And what started it?"

When babies are hungry or in pain, they often suck their thumb as a diversionary strategy.

In fact, during the barbarous custom of circumcising male babies (for the doctor doesn't use anesthesia) he has the nurse stick a pacifier or nipple in the infant's mouth.

Thus, instead of screaming bloody murder as he has the right to do, the infant sucks on the nipple frantically.

The baby who sucks his thumb if often a child who has been in a neurotic home. Or his formula didn't agree with him, or he was not fed on schedule.

Disturbed by the resulting hunger cramps or ulcer pains (for babies can have peptic ulcers), he accidentally learns to suck his thumb.

This vents his nervous tension via muscular action. It also causes more saliva to flow, so he

'Children at State Hospital Regret Fire at Boys' Club'

The boys at Pontiac State Hospital feel a deep sorrow over the unfortunate fire which did such extensive damage to the Boys' Club.

Though thousands of boys have enjoyed its facilities, to us our membership was perhaps dearer. It meant an opportunity to leave the state grounds and its limited recreational facilities, and go to our club in the community.

Our membership card was a pass to fun and an opportunity to learn useful skills. For most of us, the friendly courtesy extended by the Boys' Club staff and the fraternal feeling of the other members was most welcome.

We hope that the club's recovery will be swift, and complete. Children's Program, Pontiac State Hospital

'Doesn't Like Latest Designs of Schools'

I note that an addition is being planned for Pontiac Northern High. I hope our school officials will not continue with aggravating octopus designs. The glass wall design results in an ice box in the winter and a hot box in the summer. Why not look toward a unit that will have a 12-month year of comfortable use—this would include air conditioning for summer use. Another amusing thing in this so-called modern school is the drinking fountains are of antique design. In fact in some areas the drinking water lines run parallel to steam lines so that the water is lukewarm.

keeps swallowing drops of liquid that dilute the acid in his stomach and thus relieve his cramps somewhat.

Even after the mother has cranked his formula shortage and the baby now gets ample food, the old thumb-sucking habit may persist, for it isn't easy to break any habit of long duration (as you smokers and fifties can attest).

DETECT THE THUMB

To break thumb sucking, remedy the tension in the home and see that the child's formula is adequate.

Then try to divert his hands into other acts, as by giving him a soft, wooly lamb or toy dog or kitten to cuddle as a pre-sleep ritual.

If he still reverts to the thumb-in-mouth position, then you can put the thumb with some of the modern baby agents sold at the drug store for such a purpose.

Another surefire device is to cut a strip of rubber from an old, discarded inner tube. With a safety pin, fasten one end of this long, narrow rubber strip to the cuff of the child's pajama sleeve.

Stretch his arm out straight beside his body. Now fasten the other end of the rubber strip to the mattress near the foot of his bed.

Thus, the rubber strip will have no slack in it, but will lie in a straight line from the wrist to the foot of his mattress.

As soon as he starts to go to sleep and the old habit again appears, he will raise the hand to suck the thumb in his mouth.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Tuesday, Nov. 21, the 325th day of the year with 40 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1877, Thomas A. Edison announced in Menlo Park, N.J., that he had invented a "talking machine."

In 1933, William C. Bullitt began his service as the First United States ambassador to the Soviet Union.

In 1949 former Secretary of State James Byrnes warned that the federal government's fiscal and taxation policies threatened to saddle the nation with socialism and to lead to a concentration of government in Washington.

In 1960 the first direct clash between the Congolese army and the United Nations forces in the Congo occurred in Leopoldville.

A thought for the day: American poet, Walt Whitman said, "Once fully enslaved, no nation, state, city of this earth ever afterward resumes its liberty."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And in every matter of wisdom and understanding concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters that were in all his kingdom. — Daniel 1:20.

The intellect of the wise is like glass; it admits the light of heaven and reflects it. — Julius C. Hare.

Help Child to Stop Thumb Sucking

But the rubber strip will then be under tension, so it will exert a steady pull on the child's wrist. Soon the child will fatigue the muscles of his forearm to the point where the rubber strip will jerk his thumb out of his mouth.

This method of using the rubber strip is simple, inexpensive and very effective.

Breaks Balloon-Hour Record Just to Beat 'Those Russians'

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP)—A woman who calls herself a dedicated capitalist spent 40 cold, sleepless hours in a balloon because "I got sick of the Russians holding all the records."

Constance Wolf, 56, of Philadelphia landed in an east central Oklahoma field 12 miles west of here at 4:55 p.m. Monday.

"She had spent 40 hours 3 minutes aloft in a 5-foot square wicker basket hitched to a 65-foot rubberized balloon. That bettered a mark of 34 hours, 21 minutes, 31 seconds claimed by a Russian woman."

"I'm nearly dead," were her first words when she reached the sheriff's office here. "I've been in this miserable balloon —"

Mrs. Wolf didn't know how long she had been up. She left Big Spring in southwestern Texas at 12:47 a.m. Sunday but forgot to note the time. She was in overcast skies most of the time and couldn't communicate with the ground.

"I was afraid to come down. I was afraid I had not beaten the (Russian) record," said Mrs. Wolf.

SHE GOT COLD

She wore an Air Force flying suit but still got cold. Her silvery hair was held in a net and she wore blue canvas sneakers.

"My feet are still frozen," she told newsmen.

She soared at altitudes up to 20,000 feet, much of the time in rain, fog and 30-degree temperatures.

She controlled her altitude by releasing hydrogen from the gas bag or dropping ballast, but could not control her drift.

"The balloon wanted to come here," she said, "so I came."

It is 300 air miles from Big Spring to Okemah.

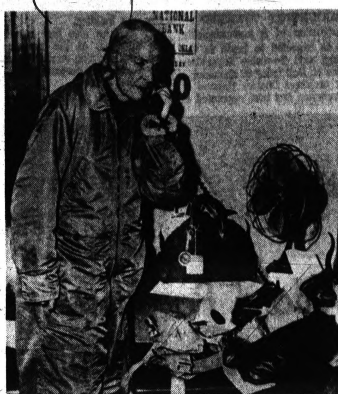

She carried a toothbrush aloft, but no food. She also carried two pencils, but didn't take any notes because "I was too busy with other things."

Hearing Delayed on Charges That Military Gagged

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate group has put off until January its investigation of charges the Defense Department has censored anti-communist statements by military personnel.

Pleading a heavy volume of evidence, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the special Armed Services subcommittee, told of the postponement Monday after conferring with Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C.

The investigation stemmed from statements by Thurmond that the Pentagon has been deleting anti-Communist language from speeches to be delivered by uniformed and civilian military personnel.

BACK TO EARTH — Mrs. Constance Wolf, 56, talks by telephone with her husband, Alfred Wolf, shortly after she landed from a record 40-hour balloon ride at Boley, a small town near Okemah, Okla. Monday. Mrs. Wolf, tired, cold and dirty, told newsmen: "Never take up ballooning... it's a ghastly sport." She said she made the record try just to take the mark away from the Russians.

Religious Issue Raised in Path of McCormack

WASHINGTON (AP)—A possible religious controversy lurked today in the background of a threatened fight over the House speakership.

The possibility was raised by announcement by Rep. Albert Rains of Alabama that he is considering opposing Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts for the top House post, made vacant by the death last Thursday of Speaker Sam Rayburn.

McCormack, 70, presently has no official opposition for Rayburn's seat, to which most observers had assumed he would be promoted by virtue of having been Democratic floor leader since 1940 and acting speaker since Rayburn was stricken last August.

McCormack is a Roman Catholic, and his election as speaker would give members of that religion the top two positions in Congress, as well as the presidency. Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Senate Democratic leader, also is a Catholic.

Should Rains, 55, a Baptist, decide to challenge McCormack, it would provide a rallying point for members who do not believe a Catholic should be in the top spot in both branches of Congress. It

The second plane, piloted by Lt. Anthony D. Miller of Indianapolis, Ind., landed safely.

To Eye Building of Storm Sewer

Really Proposes Drain for Southfield Under Northwestern Hwy.

SOUTHFIELD—A special meeting of the council, city attorney and engineer will be held here next week to consider a proposal from a Detroit relief firm to build a storm sewer under the proposed expressway on the widened portion of Northwestern highway north of Eight Mile Road.

Phil Blanchard, representing Hudson-Webber Realty Co., told the council last night that the firm is anxious to have the storm sewer built before the Michigan State Highway Department begins construction of the expressway.

Blanchard said that inasmuch as the City of Southfield does not have the money to build the sewer at this time, his firm is willing to construct and temporarily finance the drain so it can be built now.

City Atty. James C. Allen pointed out that the council first should know how the construction will be financed when the project becomes a city responsibility.

The drain, besides serving several subdivisions in the city, would also serve 70 acres of land owned by the realty company which is on the corner of Greenfield and Nine Mile roads, just north of Northland Center.

Hannan to Design New Hall

Farmington Twp. Hires Architect

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Construction of a new township hall is expected to begin in the spring, said Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall today in announcing that architect Charles Hannan of Farmington has been appointed to design the building.

Hall said he also has named three members of the township board as a building committee to assist Hannan in preparing plans for the new offices.

The members of the committee are Thomas Dale, chairman; Arthur Bassett and Roy Wilson. Hannan, with offices at 32580 Grand River Ave., will proceed immediately with tentative sketches of the proposed building.

He was selected after being interviewed by the township board. Eleven architectural firms had offered their services.

Hall said that the township board has not made any suggestions as to where the new building will be required to house all the township departments.

ROOMS FOR POLICE

Quarters, however, will be provided for the police department in the new building, he said. Presently, the police department occupies offices in the main fire hall, several miles from the present township headquarters.

The new township hall, expected to cost under $100,000, will be built on a 7-acre site at the southwest corner of Orchard Lake and 11-Mile roads. The property was purchased recently by the township for about $18,000.

Neither the site nor the new township hall will increase taxes, according to Hall, because of a surplus in the township general fund.

A 90-year-old building in the city of Farmington now serves as offices for the township. The township has been using the brick building at 23715 Grand River Ave., since 1944.

Milford Paraders to Welcome Santa

MILFORD—Santa will be welcomed into town Dec. 15 when a parade in his honor, the first such event that is expected to become a tradition here.

Mr. Claus' visit—he'll be here for two days—is being arranged by the Milford Chamber of Commerce, which hopes to persuade the old gent to stop in the village annually before his Christmas Eve adventure.

Following the Friday evening parade Santa will make his headquarters in a Toyland atmosphere in the Community Room of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland and again on Saturday to greet the children in the area.

According to Benjamin Threlford, parade marshal and vice president of the local Chamber of Commerce, the parade of at least 25 units will start at the Milford Fire Hall and will begin its march at 6:30 p. m.

The route of the parade will be from the fire hall to Main Street, up Summit Street to North Milford Road and back to Main Street.

Candidates Selected for Senate Election

By The Associated Press—Candidates for the late State Sen. Charles T. Prescott's unexpired 28th senatorial district term will be Republican Harold Hughes and Democrat Hubert C. Evans.

They were elected in a 10-county district primary Monday and will be matched in a special election Dec. 11.

The GOP nomination virtually assures election in the traditionally Republican district of Northern Lower Michigan.

Hughes of Clare is former Clare County prosecuting attorney and has served on the Republican State Central Committee. He led all 10 primary candidates with 1,640 votes.

With donations from the drive, the department hopes to be able to distribute Christmas baskets to needy families and to hold a Christmas party for underprivileged children shortly before Christmas.

In the past, drive chairman William Richards said, donors have contributed about $150 during the two-day drive.

Crash Injuries Fell Delegate to State Con-Con

LANSING (UPI)—Constitutional convention delegate Harold E. Bledsoe, who had been treated and released from Redford Community Hospital, was in serious condition in Sparrow Hospital here today after he collapsed from injuries he received in an automobile accident.

The Detroit Democrat was injured when his car slammed into the rear of a truck on I-96 near Woodward last night. After being released from the Redford hospital, he had the state police drive him to Lansing for last night's convention session.

Police let him out of the car near the Civic Center after taking him to his hotel first. About 15 minutes later he was found lying face down on the terrace outside the center.

At the hospital, Bledsoe, whom police said was in his middle to late 70s, underwent a blood transfusion.

Troy Ordinance Affects CD Chief

In 10 Days Commission May Oust Long From Office Without Charge

TROY — When a new ordinance goes into effect in 10 days, Troy's civil defense director may be removed from office at the pleasure of the City Commission.

Under the ordinance, passed unanimously last night, the director may be fired at any time by the commission without proof of malfeasance, incompetence or neglect of duty.

Such action is required now to oust him from his post.

Mayor Robert J. Huber has said that present Civil Defense Director Clarence F. Long has failed to cooperate with the City Commission.

Until a year ago, Long had no attendance records at CD meetings, Huber said. In addition, he said, no minutes or accounts of these meetings have ever been kept.

Huber contended that the inconsistencies in the documents and statements Long has released leaves the accuracy of his civil defense reports in doubt.

Commissioners have complained about Long's "autonomy" and about the independent action they said he has taken on a policy level without the commission's authorization or knowledge.

WED 50 YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gordon, 1865 Davisburg Road, Holly, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary tomorrow. They will celebrate the event at an open house for relatives and friends Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Davisburg Methodist Church. The Gordons have three sons, Cecil, Merle and Clarence, all of Holly; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Platt of Stuttgart, Germany; and eight grandchildren.

Teamster Official Files Libel Suit Against Angel

A $100,000 libel suit has been filed against Melvin Angel, Shelby Township truck driver and outspoken foe of Teamster President James R. Hoffa, by a business agent of a Teamster local.

Suing in Macomb County Circuit Court is Walter J. Schuler, of 4700 Charing Way, Bloomfield Township, business agent and secretary of Teamsters Local 337.

Schuler claims that reference to him made in a newsletter out by Angel contained false and malicious statements.

Angel, who is 36, circulated the Transportation Informational Services, He operates the "information service" out of his home at 47555 Jeffrey street.

One of the questions that Schuler takes exception to in the bulletin reads:

"Mr. Hoffa would you or Walt

Schuler explain the $10,000 in $50 bills that came from employers?"

Schuler's attorney, James C. Schuler of Mount Clemens, claims this statement implied that Schuler committed a crime.

The Bloomfield Township man further attests that he does not know Angel personally and has no knowledge of the reference made to him in the newsletter.

Angel has long been a foe of Hoffa's and other Teamster officials. In June he accused two men of beating him in retaliation for his one-man, anti-Hoffa campaign.

The Shelby Township truck driver also accused the Teamster president of choking and threatening him on one occasion.

All of his charges were dropped because of lack of evidence.

Farmington Voters Okay School Bonds, Millage

FARMINGTON—A new junior high and an elementary school will be built in the Farmington School District as a result of a special election held yesterday.

Voters in the school district authorized a $2.1-million bond issue for the new construction and approved another proposal for an extension of operating millage by 2 to 1 margins.

Approval on the bond issue was given with a vote of 1,345 to 985 and continuation of a three-mill operating tax was favored with a 1,987 to 912 vote.

Only 2,940 voters, or 20 per cent of the 15,000 eligible, cast ballots on the two proposals.

"Naturally, we're very pleased with the outcome of the election," said Supt. Gerald V. Harrison, but it's a shame that so few turned out at the polls.

He said that the less than 1,000 no votes indicated, however, that the board of education's information program had proved successful in reaching the public.

NARROW MARGIN

The last bond proposal in November 1959, was passed by a narrow 12-vote margin. At that time the school board was seeking a $3-million bond issue. The total vote was slightly higher than yesterday's with 25 per cent of those registered casting ballots.

Harrison said the new high school is scheduled to be started in September 1962, and be ready for occupancy a year later. It will have a capacity enrollment of 650 students.

It will be built on a 23-acre site, already owned by the

According to the superintendent, it is very possible that the elementary classrooms will be added to existing schools rather than building a separate grade school. At least 20 elementary classrooms will be built.

Any remaining funds from the sale of the bonds would be used to purchase future school sites, primarily for another junior high and two elementary schools.

The current tax rate in the school district is 29.11 mills for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation. This includes the three mills that was extended for five years with the approval of voters yesterday.

Stop Filching, Says Abby

Don't Sneak Into His Pockets, Insist He Give You Allowance

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have something on my conscience which I would like to unload. Also, I want to know if I really should feel guilty under the circumstances.

My husband doesn't know how to hang on to money. All he knows is how to spend it. He gives me money whenever he feels like it, which isn't very often.

I have been going through his pants pockets while he is asleep in order to get enough money to feed our family properly. If I didn't get the money this way, I would never see it. Is this stealing?

POCKET-PICKER

DEAR PICKER: No matter what you call it, helping yourself in this manner is wrong. Insist on a household allowance, and stop filching.

DEAR ABBY: I have been seeing a man for the past few months who claims he is not married, but I have a few reasons to believe he is. He sees me only one night a week. He has never given me his home phone or address. He says he loves me, but avoids the subject of marriage. He never takes me anywhere. Just comes to see me at my apartment. I can't afford a private investigation, but I would like to know how I can find out for sure if he is married or not.

MUST KNOW

DEAR MUST: The next time he comes to see you, in the spirit of kitchiness, douse his neck and hair with perfume. If he washes it off before going home—he's married.

DEAR ABBY: We have in our school a girl who tells the most outlandish lies you ever heard. She told a bunch of us girls that her father had a 90-foot boat. She also said she had a string of horses, and her father had an airplane. She said she has a transistor radio to match every outfit and that she has $500 worth of skating lessons. You can't prove she is lying because, when you ask to see any of these things, she says she gave them away. The girl is only 13. She is very pretty, and not dumb. What makes her fib like this? Is there any way we can cure her?

HER FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: Your schoolmate's stories are too shocking to be just ordinary "fibs." The girl sounds like a psychopathic liar. (One who actually confuses fantasy with reality, and believes her own tales.) It usually stems from a basic insecurity and a desire to be accepted. Psychiatric treatment may be in order. On the other hand, she might outgrow it.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, The Pontiac Press.

Jr. Looks Like Jackie Photo Shows That President's Son Resembles Mom

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON, (UPI)—John F. Kennedy Jr., who will be a year old Saturday, bears a strong resemblance to his mother.

The President's son's resemblance to the First Lady was demonstrated Monday in an official photograph released by the White House.

It shows John Jr. smiling broadly from his mother's arms, with his little arms around her neck. He is wearing a white suit.

Another photograph, in color, shows him sitting on the floor holding a colorful toy rooster on a stick, a gift from Madame Charles de Gaulle.

The two photographs are the public's first real glimpse of Kennedy's son since his christening last December, when another picture was released.

FLEETING GLIMPSES

Most of the news photos taken since then have been at airports, and showed only a fleeting glimpse of the baby being carried on or off airplanes.

He weighs 23 pounds now and is 30 inches tall. He has seven lower teeth and three uppers, which are in evidence in his big smiles.

He can say "ma-ma" and "da-da" when he sees his parents, and pulls himself to a standing position in his crib.

John Jr. gets outside twice a day in his carriage, mostly to the south grounds of the White House. Each outing is for about two hours, accompanied either by his nurse, Maud Shaw, or his mother.

CAROLINE INTERESTED

His sister, Caroline, who will be 4 Monday, takes a great interest in John Jr. When she spots him outside, she always wants to push the carriage.

The White House received more than 400 birthday cards for the two children last week, half of them from adults and half from children. About one in four came from someone whose birthday coincided with that of one of the Kennedy children.

Be on Your Toes

The needle-point is on the way out, at least. The excessive elongation no longer is seen even in the tapered toe for evening. What's in the square toe. The width of the square determines the heel height. It is wider as the heel lowers, narrower as the heel gets higher.

'My Son John'

Nestling contentedly in the arms of his mother, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr. wears a broad smile in this picture released by the White House in advance of his first birthday, Nov. 25. His sister Caroline will be 4 years old on Nov. 27. This is the first full-face view of the President's son to appear in a public photograph since his christening last December.

Let Wife Come Only as Guest

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: I would like your advice in regard to my daughter's forthcoming wedding. I have been legally separated from my wife for the past six years. I have two daughters. Both girls have been living with me since our separation and their mother has shown very little interest in them over these years.

My eldest daughter is to be married shortly and I would like to know how the invitations should be worded. Must my wife's name be included on the invitations? There will be a large reception after the wedding. If she comes to the wedding I do not feel that she has any right to these privileges, but I want to do the right thing.

A: Since you and your wife are definitely separated and your daughter has made her home with you, the invitations would go out in your name alone. If your wife comes to the wedding it is merely as a guest and she does not receive.

Q: When giving a lunch or dinner party, may artificial flowers be used for a centerpiece, or when flowers are used must they always be fresh ones?

A: Artificial flowers made of either paper or cloth are not correct. But artificial flowers of silver, china or glass are entirely correct and can be very effective.

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Clothes of the Bridal Party." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents, to cover cost of handling, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

The sweetest things you whisper in those shell-pink ears are more than pleasant sounds. They're the fore-runners to baby's speech. Remember, your baby is listening all the time, and parents who do not talk to their one may find him a little slow to speak.

Department of pleasure. Babies, like adults, need the eye-appeal of color, the appetite-appeal of flavor, the sensation of pleasing textures. For these are the things that make eating enjoyable. Gerber Baby Foods (over 100) are specially prepared to make this enjoyment possible.

Take, for example, Gerber Strained and Junior Fruits and Vegetables. Special processing helps retain true-to-mature colors, fresh-from-the-field flavors. It also perfects the textures to please baby's palate—smoothly strained for small ones—crevily minced for older tots. Has baby tried Gerber Bananas with Pineapple Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Orchestral numbers on the program include "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor," by Bach and Stokowski, "Dream Fantasia" from Hansel and Gretel by Humperdinck, "Der Rosenkavalier" by Strauss, "Rakoczy March," by Berlioz and "Romanian Rhapsody," by Enesco.

During the business meeting the group noted season tickets will be available only through Dec. 1. Under the sponsorship of the association, exhibition of art will be shown at each concert with the Pontiac Artists Club providing the first display at the upcoming concert.

Social committee members for the affair were Mrs. C. J. Barlow, Mrs. Bernice B. Barlow, Mrs. O. W. Landbeck and Mrs. George Shearer.

Hostess for the next group meeting, Jan. 15 will be Mrs. Vernon C. Abbott, 5111 Illinois Avenue with Melvin Larimer as guest speaker.

All women of the area interested in the orchestra may become members by contacting Mrs. W. S. Furlong, membership chairman.

(NEA)—If your skin tends to be very dry in winter, keep a moisturizing lotion on it all day.

Apply it first thing in the morning, then proceed with the rest of your make-up as usual. It will prevent cold and wind from drying out your skin during the day.

And at night, of course, use a rich cream to lubricate your skin overnight. If your skin has a moist, smooth feeling in the morning, your cream is doing a job.

Attention Teen-Agers—

Keep Hands Off Pimples

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Teen-agers write asking many questions about skin blemishes. They want to know why it is that they are plagued with blackheads and acne so much more often than younger and older folk.

It is true that most adolescents have some trouble with their complexion during these years. This is due to the fact that the little oil glands are more active at this time. The pores become plugged with an excess of oil, and blackheads result.

Unfortunately, most teen-agers pick and squeeze the blackheads, thus causing inflammation and spreading infection. Pimples result. Then the young people usually start to work on the pimples. A hand-out policy may save you much trouble later on. If blackheads are to be removed or pimples drained, let an expert do it.

Cleanliness is of the utmost importance. Don't pick at these facial defects. During these susceptible years wash your face with soap and water several times a day. This will help avoid blackheads. Any real case of acne should be treated by a dermatologist. Most cases can be controlled and cured today, but early treatment is important.

Many physicians ask their acne patients to cut down on the carbohydrates (sweets and starches) and also to go slow on the fat foods. They also recommend that the victim be sure to follow the tenets of good health, which means plenty of sleep and exercise and generally good hygienic living.

If the suggestions above are put into effect, many an adolescent skin problem clears up without professional help. In boys, this condition usually disappears by the end of the teen years. In girls it may last a few years longer.

Those who have acne are urged to get out in the sunshine whenever possible. Sometimes a case of mild acne will clear up during a summertime.

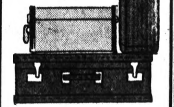

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Popularity," planned for this age group, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 58 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Teen-agers who have blemishes should know that cleanliness is of the utmost importance. Wash your face several times a day.

Richmond Plane Pilot Told: 'You Run Plane'

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The pilot of an Imperial Airlines Constellation which crashed Nov. 8 killing 77 persons said today he did not know he was to be in charge of the flight until he boarded the plane at Columbia, S.C.

Ronald H. Conway of West Hollywood, Fla., told a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing he had entered a flight plan for the ill-fated trip in the name of Capt. James Greenlee. Greenlee, the copilot, was among the victims.

The Imperial Constellation crashed into a muddy ravine two miles short of Richmond's Byrd Field, killing 71 Army inductees and three of the five crew members aboard.

Only Conway and his flight engineer, William F. Peaythress of Miami, escaped the burning wreckage.

Conway, one of the first witnesses before the two-day hearing, said he had assumed when notified he was to make the flight that he would be the copilot. He said, "I was familiar with the copilot's duties and paper work."

Under questioning by George A. Van Epps, a CAB investigator, Conway said, "It was not decided until we got on board the aircraft as to who would be in command of the flight."

The Constellation left Columbia and picked up 26 recruits at Newark, N.J., 31 at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and 17 more at Baltimore.

11 Killed in Battle of Baluba Refugees

ELIZABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — Savage fighting among Baluba refugees over a camp water supply killed at least 11 and seriously wounded 37 others, the United Nations said today. African witnesses said the toll was far higher.

A U. N. spokesman said that besides traditional tribal weapons, grenades and firearms were used in the clash Monday. Witnesses said many of the dead were carried away and buried before authorities arrived.

The wounded were taken to the Italian Red Cross hospital here. A call for blood donors was answered by 10 Swedish soldiers.

Cuba Urges Session on U.S. 'Intervention'

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba today demanded an immediate session of the U.N. Security Council to deal with what it called United States armed intervention in the Dominican Republic.

The government announced its U.N. delegate would present a protest note to the security council saying that American action in the Dominican Republic aimed at opening the way to future U.S. armed intervention in Cuba.

The note accused Secretary of State Dean Rusk of "cynical statements" in connection with the American role in the present Dominican crisis.

City Hall Flag Lowered in Honor of Sam Rayburn

Many curious Pontiac residents have been calling City Hall this week asking why the administration building's flag is flying at half mast.

Today, David S. Teel, administrative assistant, explained that the city is following rules of protocol spelled out for flags by the U.S. Congress.

"We lowered the flag when Mr. Rayburn died last week. The rules specify 10 days at half mast upon the death of a speaker of the house."

"It will be very difficult to spot him if he has reached the coast. Meanwhile he has little to live on."

Waterford Road Protest Reveals 'Someone Goofed'

About ten years ago, when Waterford Township was being laid out in supervisor's plats, "somebody goofed," according to township Atty. Paul Mandel.

This was brought to light at last night's Waterford Township Board meeting when a group of unsatisfied residents living on Hospital Road protested loss of their land to the Oakland County Road Commission for a road right of way.

Until 1951, property owners with acreage along various roads throughout the township had roads with 66-foot right-of-ways. After the supervisor had platted the acreage, however, the Oakland County Road Commission would not accept the plat unless it had 120-foot right-of-ways.

Consequently about 27 feet of property on each side of Hospital Road from Elizabeth Lake Road to Cooley Lake Road was platted as a road right-of-way.

The protesting group headed by

Allen Means, 185 Hospital Road told the board they had not been informed of the move at the time. This was revealed when Means attempted to get a clear title to his land. He has one deed description, and a different one is recorded at the Register of Deeds office.

The Township Board faces a gigantic problem because the situation exists in many areas in the township. Clerk James Steerlin told the group.

The entire problem was turned over to attorney Mandel who said, "This may even involve Circuit Court action."

Will $500 cover
this emergency?

Nobody can answer that.

And at a moment like this, you shouldn't even have to stop and think about it. With Blue Cross-Blue Shield comprehensive coverage, you don't have to. The care that is needed is there. Whether it is a $500 hospital bill or 10 times that, or more, you're covered. This is the essential difference in Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection. It provides benefits in hospital and medical services... not in terms of dollars. It provides care. Isn't this really what health protection is for? There is only one Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Don't settle for less. If you have never looked into the many advantages of Blue Cross-Blue Shield membership, do it now. Just call the enrollment specialist in your area.

Spartans Team Champion

African Gains IC4A Cross Country Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Steve Machooka, a serious minded native of Kenya, Africa, can't wait for the day when he is graduated from Cornell so he can put his major, agricultural economics, to work among his people.

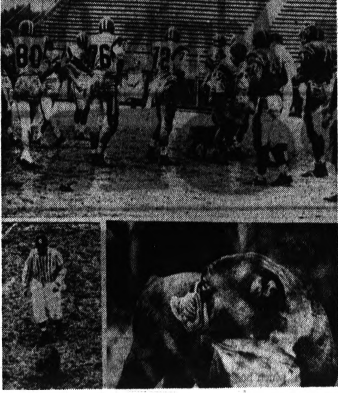

But he may never make it. "He's having trouble with his grades," said veteran Cornell track coach, Lou Montgomery, today. "He's been trying to do too much. He's out for track and cross-country and is trying to work 24 hours a week."

Machooka, who won the IC4A cross-country championship over a field of almost 275 other runners in the most miserable weather imaginable Monday, does not have a scholarship. His father, a farmer, has no money. So he's paying his own way.

"I'm trying to get his working hours cut to 12 a week," said Montgomery. "That may help some. He will not run in the National AAU cross-country meet in Louisville Thursday, but he'll start in the NCAA championship next Monday."

He came through as expected. He led practically all the way. Once back in the hills, he permitted Vic Zwolak of Villanova to take the lead briefly, then moved back in front and won as he pleased in 26:02.9.

Michigan State dethroned Penn State as team champion with 82 points. The Nittany Lions had 90. Gerry Young, in fourth place, and the only Michigan State veteran, led the Spartans.

DOG-GONE UNFRIENDLY—The football game between Oklahoma State and Houston was interrupted by a friendly bulldog that tried to join the fun. The pooch was chased off the field by an official (lower left) and looks indignantly back from the sidelines (lower right). Oklahoma won without the dog's help, 28-24.

Cripples in Bad Shape; State Awaits Illini

Outlook Gloomy for Elliott

ANN ARBOR — (UPI) — Michigan's brilliant senior halfback Bumpie Elliott may have played his last college football, Wolverine coach Bump Elliott learned Monday.

The swift runner from Newport News, Va., Michigan's leading scorer with six touchdowns this season, injured his shoulder during the first half in Saturday's 23-14 victory over Iowa.

X-rays taken yesterday showed no separation, as feared earlier, but a deep bruise. The shoulder was so painful Monday that Elliott insisted it was separated despite the medical findings.

"He definitely won't play against Ohio State unless a miracle happens and the shoulder responds to treatment," Elliott said.

The possible loss of McRae, who is the defending Big Ten indoor hurdles champion in addition to his grid prowess, left Elliott with a stack of headaches as he prepared for the invasion of the unbeaten but once-tied Buckeyes next Saturday.

Besides McRae, first string center Todd Grant and defensive back Jack Strobel left with knee injuries in the first half against the Hawkeyes. Both underwent surgery at the university medical center yesterday.

The injuries further depleted Michigan's already shallow bench. End Scotty Maczietz, another Iowa casualty, "probably will play despite a slight ankle sprain," Elliott said.

But star tackle Jon Schopf, out for the past three weeks with a shoulder separation, still was an uncertainty to face OSU.

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty, giving his team for a victory over winless Illinois and a 7-2 finish, said yesterday he has ruled out starting his traditional all-senior eleven next Saturday.

"We'll prepare for this one just as if it were the season opener," Daugherty, who limited the Spartans' practice Monday to one hour indoors, said.

Daugherty said he would experiment with two position switches against Illinois, in the throes of its worst season in history.

Sophomore halfback Roger Lopes will be moved to offensive left end and junior end Louie Sanders will start at defensive left half, Daugherty said.

Grid Teams Battle Saturday for Bowls

By The Associated Press

To bowl, or not to bowl. That is the question that will be answered Saturday when most of the college football teams interested in and eligible for postseason competition, wind up their 1961 regular schedules.

And the bowl promoters, with time growing short, will fret until the question is settled.

Maryland's Terps were the latest to be put on a "win or no go" basis when the Gator Bowl committee told coach Tom Nugent Monday that if his team licked Virginia this Saturday, it would get one of the spots for the 30 game in Jacksonville, Fla. Maryland accepted on that basis. Georgia Tech is rumored to be the best bet as an opponent.

The Orange, Sugar and Cotton Bowls, among the New Year's Day bigwigs, still are unsettled.

The Rose Bowl knows it will have the winner of Saturday's UCLA-Southern California game, who will be Big Five champ, as the host. Alabama is the current running well ahead of both Minnesota and Ohio State of the Big Ten.

Pittsburgh Adds to Lead in ABL Beating Frisco

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Rens, with Jim Palmer topping the scoring and young Connie Hawkins doing the major rebounding job again, stretched their lead to 1 1/2 games in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League Monday night.

Stuebenville, Ohio, was the site of the ABL's only game, and with Palmer scoring 23 points and Hawkins grabbing 15 rebounds, the Rens dealt the San Francisco Saints their sixth straight defeat, 108-97.

Palmer, 6-9 former NBA player with Cincinnati at New York, led a balanced Pittsburgh attack that had four other players in double figures. Bucky Bolyard, a former West Virginia star, followed Palmer with 20 points. Hawkins, who left Iowa after his freshman year, managed to lead the rebounders and score 13 points although he sat out most of the second half after accumulating five fouls.

John Berberich, 6-8, 230-pounder from UCLA, paced the Saints with 33 points and 19 rebounds. Pittsburgh now has an 83 record compared to 64 for runner-up Chicago, in the Eastern Division. San Francisco's 37, is in third place in the Western Division, four games back of first place Kansas City.

WHY I AM EXCITED

about The Wall Street Journal

By a Subscriber

Not long ago I picked up my first copy of The Wall Street Journal. I expected dull reading. Imagine my surprise when I found some of the best articles I'd ever read!

I went for a Trial Subscription. For the first time in my life I began to understand why others men get ahead while others stay behind. I read about new inventions, new industries and new ways of doing business that are helping ambitious men earn increased income. Also I got some good ideas on what to do to reduce living expenses and taxes.

Already I am several hundred dollars ahead. No wonder I am excited about The Wall Street Journal!

This story is typical. The Journal is a wonderful aid to salaried men making $7,500 to $30,000 a year. It is valuable to owners of small businesses. It can be of priceless benefit to ambitious young men who want to earn more money.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. It has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all three big press associations. It costs $2 a year, but you can get this ad and attach check for $7 and mail. Or tell us to bill you. Published daily right in the Midwest to bring you vital business and Washington news immediately. Address: The Wall Street Journal, 711 W. Monroe St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Colleges Asked if Want to Keep Constitution Hall

LANSING UP — A state legislator has sent queries to Michigan's colleges and universities, asking if they want Constitution Hall kept intact for use as a classroom and for posterity.

Rep. Joseph A. Gillis, D-Detroit, said Monday that if any wanted the hall he would introduce necessary legislation in the next session of the legislature. He said:

"Otherwise legislation will be introduced to allow each delegate to acquire his own chair and desk at salvage value."

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams told Gillis that the furnishings belong to "the people of the State of Michigan" after the convention ends next spring.

Liberated Soviet Safe Yields Thieves Little

Amtorg officials told police the safe contained only $54 in cash and some "miscellaneous papers."

Personnel Chief of NSA Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has fired the personnel director of the super-secret National Security Agency on grounds he lied on his own job application 12 years ago.

The House Un-American Activities Committee said the personnel chief, Maurice H. Klein, was forced to resign Nov. 10.

The committee said it plans to ask Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to prosecute Klein on three charges — perjury, falsifying a government document, and concealment and removal of a document from an official file.

The NSA monitors electronic communications 24 hours a day for the Defense Department and is so secret the size of its staff and operations is not made public.

The committee said Klein made several "bizarre and misleading" statements while undergoing questioning about personnel policies. It said the statements concerned his own application for government employment in 1949, when he was hired by NSA.

Teen-Age Movie Star Blasts Aging Playboys

Beautiful teen-age Pamela Tiffin, the newest movie Cinderella, has some startling tales to tell about how New York's wealthy, aging wolves still try to ensnare young out-of-town girls just like her in those lurid books. Pamela's father and mother, here from Chicago, helped her spot certain villains. "And," Pamela told me after a premiere of "Summer and Smoke" at the DeMille, "I'd like to add that there was nothing to any of those rumors linking Joe Forer and me in Texas when we were doing 'State Fair.' Mr. Forer was a perfect gentleman and we were never together except under camera lights."

Shirley MacLaine, Sally Ann Hoxby and Dick Adler were at the Twist session

In the Living Room's "Room at the Top" (presided over by Jerri Archer) but Shirley wouldn't twist, explaining, "I hurt my back twisting at the Peppermint Lounge."

Which gives veracity to Bob Hope's remark:

"The Twist was invented by chiropractors. The whole world's sacroiliac is going to be out in about three days. Incidentally, I did the Twist on a plane. And that's not easy with your seat belt fastened."

Mitchell of Newburgh Claims Reform Project Cuts Caseload

DETROIT (AP) — Welfare reformer Joseph M. Mitchell of Newburgh, N.Y., told critics Monday that "the practical problems of welfare won't be solved by an Alice-in-Wonderland approach."

Mitchell told 550 persons at an Economic Club of Detroit luncheon that many reform critics are looking through rose-colored glasses.

The 38-year-old Newburgh city manager gained national prominence four months ago when he and the City Council instituted a 13-point welfare reform plan. It was halted a month later by an injunction.

Mitchell reviewed Newburgh's campaign against what he termed "chislers, loafers, social parasites and bureaucrats."

Included in the original reform program, he said, were measures limiting amounts paid and length of time on relief, removal of illegitimate children from "polluted environments," denial of aid when persons quit or refuse jobs with out reason and prohibiting migration to Newburgh for relief.

Despite the injunction, the program has succeeded, Mitchell said. He cited that the caseload of Newburgh has decreased one third although the unemployment rate in the area remains the same.

Workers End Walkout on International Bridge

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP) — Structural steel workers resumed construction on the Canadian side of the $20-million Sault International Bridge Monday ending a 10-week walkout.

The original 13 steel workers, erecting the bridge span framework from the Canadian side and to the St. Marys River to the international boundary, reported for work Monday.

Here Are Nominees for TV Turkeys of '61

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — When our Pilgrims gathered with an accord for Thanksgiving they had to get along with tough turkeys and so, inevitably, have we progressed to a point where we have better birds and TV, too.

And, as it happens, the two are frequently indivisible.

In honor of the Thanksgiving season, permit me to submit myself by parading forth an encore the turkeys that trotted into the living room from tattered

Children Must Know Facts of Bomb, Fallout, Shelters

(Editor's Note: A Nobel prize winner who is America's best known authority on fallout and radiation has written for The Pontiac Press 13 vital articles on what you can do if nuclear war strikes. The series is intended to approve or oppose fallout shelters but to relate how the nuclear threat has become a part of your life. This is the last installment.)

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

If the tragedy of nuclear war should ever overtake us, many of our children could be needless victims.

We can help them by preparing shelters for them—as I have done for my twin 16-year-old daughter—and making sure they understand, if they are old enough, the basic facts about fallout radiation and other hazards.

For children, might be thrown on their own, with no parental guidance in the emergency. If they don't know the nature of fallout radiation, they could expose themselves fatally.

Children can easily grasp the principles about fallout and radiation without becoming frightened and anxious.

WHAT TO TELL CHILDREN

The simple facts for children are these:

Radiation is a natural thing—the light and heat from the sun are radiation. There is natural radioactivity all about us.

The new element in nuclear bombs, aside from the heat and light, is radioactivity which comes down as fallout.

Fallout behaves like ordinary dust or dirt. We are not afraid of the fallout dust itself, but we must be careful because it is radioactive, and intense radiation from it can be very harmful, making us sick, or making us die.

For 48 hours, we must be careful to avoid the fallout. If we are near a bomb, And, preferably, avoid it for a longer time, too. After a time, it mostly becomes "cool" or harmless dust or dirt.

The radiation from the fallout behaves like light or heat waves—it travels only in straight lines. If we have enough of a protecting barrier between it and us, it cannot hurt us. Two feet of concrete, or any barrier that dense, protects us.

We must avoid getting this

Should they be in school when an alert is sounded, make sure they will leave only on the advice of a teacher or if you come for them.

Favorite toys and games can help pass the boring hours in a shelter. Sedatives can not only cause anxiety, but induce sleep to pass the critical hours.

If you have small infants, your shelter may not be large enough for a crib, and you may have to improvise one out of blankets or whatever is available.

Sterilizing milk bottles likely would not be possible. You would have to depend upon powdered milk, or baby food in tins or jars, to carry through the emergency period. With foresight, you could have all the necessary supplies on hand.

Nuclear war would mean abolition of most comforts, and disruption of all normal routines, for children and adults alike. Preparations can reduce the shock and permit smoother adjustment to the shelter life which no one wants ever to see imposed upon us.

CHEBOYAN — Gary Van Hoone, 21, was shot through both legs Sunday by a deer hunting companion who mistook Van Hoone's tan boots for a fox. Van Hoone is recovering in Community Memorial Hospital here.

And finally, our parade includes the turkeys that trotted on a field of public affairs-information-needsology: David Suskind's "Open End" discussion about Frank Sinatra with a panel that included Jackie Gleason, Joe E. Teen-Age Movie Star Blasts Aging Playboys

Beautiful teen-age Pamela Tiffin, the newest movie Cinderella, has some startling tales to tell about how New York's wealthy, aging wolves still try to ensnare young out-of-town girls just like her in those lurid books. Pamela's father and mother, here from Chicago, helped her spot certain villains. "And," Pamela told me after a premiere of "Summer and Smoke" at the DeMille, "I'd like to add that there was nothing to any of those rumors linking Joe Forer and me in Texas when we were doing 'State Fair.' Mr. Forer was a perfect gentleman and we were never together except under camera lights."

Shirley MacLaine, Sally Ann Hoxby and Dick Adler were at the Twist session

In the Living Room's "Room at the Top" (presided over by Jerri Archer) but Shirley wouldn't twist, explaining, "I hurt my back twisting at the Peppermint Lounge."

Which gives veracity to Bob Hope's remark:

"The Twist was invented by chiropractors. The whole world's sacroiliac is going to be out in about three days. Incidentally, I did the Twist on a plane. And that's not easy with your seat belt fastened."

'FHA Official Ousted on Report of $7,000 Loss'

Blames Card Game Story for Firing

WASHINGTON (AP) — James B. Cash Jr. says he has been fired as deputy commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration because of a columnist's report that he lost $7,000 last year in a blackjack game at a builders convention.

Cash said Monday he had been given the chance to resign when it became known that a columnist by Drew Pearson reporting the card game would appear today. Cash said he refused because he felt a resignation might be construed as an admission of improper conduct — "This I would not concede."

Cash said it happened in 1960 at the convention of National Association of Home Builders in Chicago, before he was appointed to his position with the FHA.

At the time Cash was on the staff of the Senate Banking Committee. He declared Monday night there were no implications the incident could ever "influence my official actions."

DIDN'T PAY OFF
 In his statement—obtained by telephone—Cash told of the card game and of the $7,000 which he said he didn't have to pay: "Approximately two years ago a sociable and friendly card game was permitted to reach ridiculous proportions."

"Subsequently, the other party agreed that the whole affair had been an unintentional mistake and that it should be forgotten by both of us."

He forgot the incident until it was revived in the press.

"Neither then or since have I had any reason to suppose that anyone would seek to use this incident to influence my official actions or to compromise my position of public trust."

Cash wouldn't identify the other players in the card game, which apparently lasted for hours and wound up, with Cash badly behind, long after dawn.

Cash said Robert C. Weaver, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, summoned him Monday and handed him a note of dismissal signed by Cash's superior, Neal J. Hardy, FHA commissioner.

BREAKS DOWN

Cash's job carries an annual salary of $17,500, according to the latest available federal pay figures.

Cash's voice broke in tears as he read the final parts of his statement to a reporter.

"I feel no bitterness toward those who determined to remove me from office. I sincerely regret any embarrassment which may come to others, particularly my friends and my family," Cash said.

The statement opened with Cash's declaration that in 23 years of public service he had "never violated my oath of office" nor used his office for personal gain.

Detection Easier for Mouth Cancer

DETROIT (AP)—A new method of detecting oral cancer was explained Monday at the Detroit District Dental Society's 20th annual dental review.

Dr. Donald B. Smith, chief of oral surgery at Veterans Hospital in Dearborn, Mich., said a painless scraping of a suspected oral cancer and a quick study of the cells can determine rapidly the presence of cancer in the mouth.

Painless and easy to do, the scraping will detect mouth cancers in the very early stages, when the cure rate can run between 75 and 100 per cent, Dr. Smith said.

America's First Thanksgiving?

Until President Lincoln's time, Thanksgiving day floated all over the calendar. At one time or another in the early days of the Republic it was held in eight different months.

The precedent of celebrating Thanksgiving on the last Thursday of November was established by Washington. His proclamation of 1789 set aside that day for general thanksgiving. Washington then allowed the holiday to lapse five years, due, it was said, to his dissatisfaction with parades and boisterous feasting. In 1795 he set the date for Feb. 19.

Two other presidents, Jackson and Taylor, refused to declare the holiday for reasons of church-state separation and states' rights.

The forceful editor of Godey's Lady's Book, Mrs. Sarah Hale persuaded Lincoln to establish Thanksgiving as a regular holiday on November's fourth Thursday.

In 1863, Lincoln proclaimed the holiday on that day, re-establishing a precedent which was broken only twice again—by Johnson and Grant—until 1939.

THE first Thanksgiving in the New World was celebrated by the Pilgrims of Plymouth Colony in 1621.

No schoolboy would hesitate to write "true" after this statement. But is it true?

A growing body of opinion down Virginia way claims that it's time to take another look at the record. The skeptics say that the first Thanksgiving was really held in Virginia more than a decade before the Pilgrim fathers shared their groaning board with the local Indians.

Evidence has it that the Jamestown colonists, stepping on the mainland for the first time in 1607, knelt to "thank God for their safe arrival."

Historians also note that these settlers held another "Thanksgiving Service" in 1610 to celebrate the arrival of supplies after a period of famine.

But the Virginians build their biggest case for the Berkeley settlement, up the James River from Jamestown. Here on the riverbank, it is claimed, the colonists gathered for the first official "Thanksgiving Day," on December 4, 1619.

A directive given the group's leader, Capt. John Woodleaf, reads in its original language:

"... wee ordaine that the day of our ships arrivall at the place assigned for plantacon in the land of Virginia shall be yearly and perputuall kept holy as a day of thanksgiving to Almighty god."

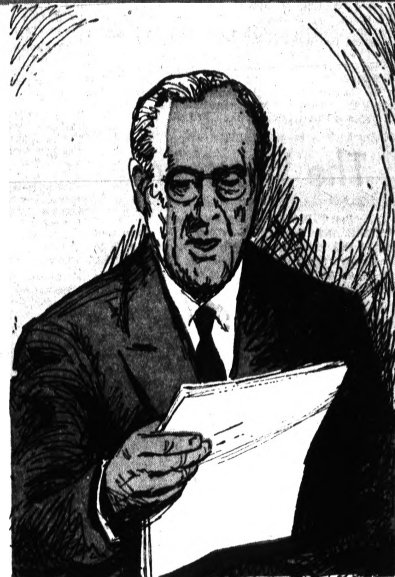

It is assumed that this service was held in the two following years as well, until Indians massacred the settlement.

Thus was the first regularly celebrated Thanksgiving Day organized in the New World—at least two years before the Pilgrims shot those wild turkeys and ground that corn in 1621. All according to the Virginia investigators.

Plymouth Firsters point out quickly that our tradition of the Thanksgiving feast—not exclusively a religious celebration—has been derived in a straight line from the 1621 get-together on the shores of Cape Cod Bay. Purely religious Thanksgiving ceremonies, they say, had been going on for thousands of years—in both Christian and pagan cultures.

But whether we subscribe to the Plymouth or Virginia interpretation of the records, one thing is certain:

Somebody in those perilous days was first to thank God for the bounty he bestowed on the rich, new land. And millions in the perilous present continue to echo this time-honored "Amen."

Few New Deal measures aroused more controversy than the simple shifting of the Thanksgiving holiday by one week.

Eager to stimulate business and employment during the terminal Depression years, President Franklin Roosevelt declared in 1939 that Thanksgiving would be held on the third—not the fourth—Thursday of November.

The reasoning was that the Christmas shopping period would be lengthened by the change.

Near chaos resulted that year as about half of the state governors, following New England's lead, defied the presidential proclamation. Twenty-two states observed the earlier date. Three—Colorado, Texas and Mississippi—held two legal Thanksgivings.

Supreme example was the town of Orangeville split by the Pennsylvania-Ohio line. It was in a quandry. Ohio observed the president's date, Pennsylvania, the old date.

After three years the plan was abandoned, and Congress in 1941 officially established the fourth Thursday as Thanksgiving Day.

Under Defense Dept. Pressure

Security Director 'Quits'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The security director of the National Security Agency, S. Wesley Reynolds, has resigned on request of the Defense Department. He was asked to quit under a rule banning acceptance of favors from those doing business with the government.

It was the second high level resignation within the superseded agency to come to light this week. It also came a day after James B. Cash Jr. was fired as deputy commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration.

Reynolds was asked to resign under the Defense Department's "standards of conduct" directive, the department announced Tuesday.

The directive prohibits employees from accepting "any favor, gratuity or entertainment" from any person or firm doing business with the government in cases where the gratuity might affect or be reasonably interpreted as affecting an employee's impartiality. The terse announcement gave no details.

NO COMMENT

"I feel the whole thing was rather minor and doesn't warrant comment," said Reynolds, 47, a former FBI agent. "My resignation largely was voluntary. They felt I agreed that under the circumstances, we had best part company." He didn't explain what the circumstances were.

The Defense Department said it had acted "upon a lead received from the House Un-American Activities Committee" and "the investigation is continuing."

It was the Un-American Activities Committee that announced Monday that NSA's personnel director, Maurice H. Klein, had been forced to resign on grounds he lied in filling out his job application 12 years ago.

Baldwin Road Barn Fire Set 'Deliberately'

Oakland County sheriff's detectives have determined that a $20,000 blaze which leveled a large two-story barn at 460 Baldwin Rd. in Orion Township, Nov. 19, was set deliberately.

Approximately 700 bushels of corn, some wooden cattle feeders, a frame hay wagon and a pile of straw and hay were destroyed with the barn.

According to detective Gerald Gaedl, all rafters in the L-shaped barn were consumed at about the same time, indicating that a combustible material had been used to spread the fire.

Dominican Leader Claims Full Support of Military

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — President Joaquin Balaguer says the Dominican armed forces have lined up solidly behind him and that threats by anti-democratic diehards to topple his government have been eliminated.

Balaguer in a radio address Tuesday night claimed the government had emerged in full control from the crisis prompted by the return of two Trujillo family leaders last week. Their return raised speculation of a resurgence of Trujillo rule and brought a covey of U.S. warships hovering offshore.

BRAVED WIND

At Provincetown, Mass., 500 persons braved a bitter wind to gather at the scene of the Pilgrims' first landing on the tip of Cape Cod in 1620. The Mayflower dropped anchor there after a stormy 65-day journey. The Pilgrims waited shelter before they sailed across the bay to settle permanently in Plymouth.

Convict Is Slain at Ionia Prison

Gerald MacKay Was Sentenced in Oakland; Inmate 'Admits Killing'

A convict sentenced for murder in Oakland County Circuit Court was slain yesterday in Ionia State Prison allegedly by a fellow convict formerly of Southfield.

Held in solitary at the prison today is Robert Cotte, 23, a former George Kropp and Cotte admitted killing Gerald MacKay, 25, whose body was found in a storage area passageway.

Cotte was serving 3 to 15 years after having pleaded guilty to the Nov. 5, 1960 armed robbery of a motel clerk in Royal Oak. He used a toy pistol in the holdup for $80.

MacKay, formerly of Detroit, was sentenced to 20 years for second degree murder in the 1959 slaying of Carlo Vitale, a Detroit hoodlum whose bullet-riddled body was found in a shallow grave in Commerce Township.

Four Children Die in Apartment Building Fire

GRIEVING MOTHER, UNIDENTIFIED NEIGHBOR

DETROIT (U)—Four small children, trapped in their parents' top-floor apartment, died in a sudden four-alarm blaze at a three-story apartment building early today.

Fifty-two other tenants were rescued by firemen or leaped to safety from windows.

A fireman fell from the third floor to the basement through a hole eaten by flames beside a stairway but suffered only minor injury.

The parents of the children who died leaped to safety with their fifth child. All escaped without injury.

CAUSES NEAR PANIC

The fire was discovered about 11:15 a.m. in the building in the Linwood-Clairmont area, a largely Negro section. Near-panic resulted.

however, ran about corridors shouting warnings to others and pounding on doors. Within 20 minutes the 100 firemen on the scene had the blaze under control.

Fire Chief Laurence J. Daly said fire resistant walls along the halls helped to limit the damage. The building has about 150 tenants in its 17 apartments.

'MASS OF FLAMES'

"The building was one mass of flames when we arrived," said Sgt. William Erickson of the fire department.

The four youngsters were trapped by the flames, police said.

They were the children of Delmar Russell, 34, and his wife, Ann Ruth, 34, who escaped with their youngest, Marie, 15 months. The victims were Danny, 3, Ricky, 4, Gloria, 6, and Sandra, 10. The fire apparently started on said the first floor of apartments, above the ground floor business establishment, then shot up a rear stairs to the roof, fire officials said.

A Pontiac Township mother said her 2-year-old son from said building last night after he had been overcome by carbon monoxide fumes in Pontiac.

Mrs. Frank Goans of 2023 Alton Road left her five children in a car with the motor running while she bought some cough medicine in her haste to remove the boy, child, Donald, before he opened his eyes. "He was coming 'round when the fire department arrived," said Brown.

The Goans children, including Donald; Wendell, 5; Pamela, 4; Theresa, 6; and Sandra, 9, were rushed to Pontiac General Hospital. They all were released after treatment at the hospital.

Dutch Pressing Search for Rockefeller's Son

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea (U)—A land, sea and air rescue force combed a savage coastal area of southwestern New Guinea today for Michael Rockefeller, and Dutch officials steadily held out hope that he would be found safe.

Four rescue parties set out through jungle swamps while a score of ships and Papuan canoes, Dutch navy Neptune planes and a Beaver of the Dutch New Guinea Airlines searched from sea and air for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's 23-year-old son, who disappeared Sunday after a boating mishap while on a scientific expedition.

Naval units plucked a Dutch companion of the youth, Dr. R. W. Wassing, 34, out of the sea Monday. Wassing said he last saw Michael—whom he described as a strong swimmer—about 14 miles off shore attempting to reach land with the help of a makeshift float of empty gasoline cans.

Wassing told rescuers that the misadventure started last Thursday while he and Rockefeller toured the mouth of the Eilendend River in a small native boat. They were collecting primitive art and sculpture for the New York Museum of Primitive Art and for a museum to be built in Hollandia.

ALERTED AUTHORITIES

He said they lost their outdoor motor and that the river current carried them into Flamingo Bay where heavy seas overturned the craft. Two tribesmen with them swam ashore and alerted Dutch authorities.

A Dutch plane sighted Wassing clinging to the overturned boat Sunday and guided rescue vessels to the area with flares. Officers of the patrol ship Tasman, which took Wassing aboard, said his condition was satisfactory despite three days of exposure to the sun and sea.

American missionaries stationed on the south coast joined in the hunt for Rockefeller. They included Catholic brothers using canoes propelled by outboard motors and a doctor from the Protestant mission at Pirampun.

Wassing rested today at Pirampun and was to be flown Wednesday to Hollandia, where he will see Gov. Rockefeller on his way south to the search area.

Gov. Rockefeller, who had left New York at word that his youngest son was missing, chartered a jet airliner to bring him from Honolulu to New Guinea. He was expected to land about (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Soviets Agree to Talk Again on N-Test Ban

Set Nov. 28 in Geneva and Stipulate Any Firing Taboo During Parley

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union agreed today to resume the suspended nuclear test ban talks with the United States and Britain in Geneva on Nov. 28.

But it asked an immediate embargo on all tests by any nation, implying it would walk out if the United States tested during the conference.

(A first assessment of the Soviet offer by American officials in Washington said the Soviet Union, after carrying out its own massive series of nuclear weapons tests, now appeared to be trying to force the United States and Britain to agree to another unopposed moratorium on such experiments.)

Berlin Youths Beaten Back

West German Police Stop Mob of Hundreds Trying to Storm Wall

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police brandishing night sticks felled hundreds of West zone youths who tried to storm the Communist-built border barrier Monday night with cries that "the wall must go."

East Berlin police also opened up on the angry demonstrators with water cannon and tear gas grenades and drew tear gas fire in reply from the West Berlin police. Authorities estimated that about 200 grenades sailed over the wall during the exchange.

The demonstrations marked the 100th day since East German forces started erecting the wall which virtually sealed off the main escape route for East German residents fleeing the Communist regime.

A. Weldon Turkey Rare Bird

No Thanks, Says Gobbler

By DICK SAUNDERS

A. Weldon Turkey will be making his annual appearance on millions of dinner tables Thursday, but today he had a few things to say about the big event.

In an historic moment, Mr. Turkey clucked his way into The Pontiac Press, hopped up in front of a typewriter and pecked out an exclusive message to Press readers.

"Alright, America, let's put our hatchets on the table," his note began.

"Thanksgiving is very traditional and all that jazz, but you can't blame my people for feeling a little persecuted. After all, the pilgrims celebrated with venison."

"Don't get me wrong, we're not picky eaters. We got our waffles full of that after the Civil War when Congress decided on making Thanksgiving official."

"Then some nut starts this turkey thing and look what it's come to. Things get a little hectic for us about this time every year."

SUPREME SACRIFICE

"But being a 'tradition' has left us with a great sense of national pride. We make the supreme sacrifice for our country and where does it get us? This year I see where there's so many of us that our market price is slipping."

"What we turkeys want is a little recognition," he pecked out feverishly, his feathers bristling.

"Our ancestors were wild, but yours weren't exactly tame. We were domesticated somewhat by North American Indians."

"Many of our crude forefathers were shipped back to Spain in 1519 for European schooling and refinement before returning to America to blaze a new frontier in domestic affairs."

"Today we boast six long-established North American varieties."

"And did any of you Pontiac residents ever hear of Turkey Island? Well, get with it."

"It's a small island in the Detroit River below Detroit. It was named Isle of Turkeys by the French because MY forefathers lived there."

TABLES TURNED—A. Weldon Turkey, the world's most fowl press agent, turned the Thanksgiving tables on us yesterday. In town to promote "his people," he was photographed during a luncheon scene. Despite his eloquent plea for equal rights with chickens, ducks and geese, Mr. Turkey admitted fate and tradition was against him. "Soap box today, lunch box tomorrow. That's the story of my life," he lamented.

Warmer Weather, Light Rain Expected

Thanksgiving Day is apt to be cloudy and a little chilly, with some snow flurries the weatherman says. Tonight will be warmer with a low of 32.

Warmer temperatures with occasional light rain or snow may be expected Wednesday with the mercury rising to a high of 45.

Gentle variable morning winds will become south to southwest at 10 to 15 miles per hour tonight and tomorrow.

Twenty-seven was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 41 at 1 p.m.

Meany to Hear of Local Inquiry

Union Official to Report on 4-Hour Meeting With Cleveland Labor Men

CLEVELAND UP—A high AFL-CIO official has returned to Washington to report to AFL-CIO President George Meany on results of a four-hour meeting at which 21 members of the executive committee of the Cleveland AFL-CIO were questioned.

William F. Schmitz, national AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, said Monday night before leaving for Washington that he had questioned the committee for four hours.

William Finegan, who resigned effective Jan. 1 as executive secretary of the Cleveland AFL-CIO, was at the meeting. Meany, who sent two investigators here from Washington two weeks ago to check the local AFL-CIO books, has said the terms of Finegan's resignation were not satisfactory.

The resignation followed an income tax evasion case in which Finegan was fined $5,000 for evading taxes in 1957.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer said it had learned the national organization was trying to find out what happened to records of the old Cleveland Federation of Labor from 1950 to 1958 — before that group became a part of the Cleveland AFL-CIO.

Ex-State Governor Held Road Post

LANSING UP—Michigan's highway commissioner should continue to be elected rather than appointed by the governor, says the only man who has held both offices.

The statement was made last night by former Democratic Gov. Murray D. Van Wagener before a constitutional convention committee studying the executive branch.

His testimony came as the delegates opened their eighth week of sessions.

"By electing a state highway commissioner, we keep the department as far from politics as possible," declared Van Wagener, who served as commissioner from 1953 to 1961. He added: "An appointive commissioner would be a captive of the executive office — with neither complete freedom to build roads as he determined it, nor the complete courage to say 'no' to the man who made his paycheck possible."

Van Wagener also urged the continuation of earmarking of highway user taxes for road building purposes.

Declaring that earmarking removes highway funds as far from politics as possible, Van Wagener asked: "Is it not logical to assume that with an independent fund for highway purposes, the people would also want an independent highway commissioner to make sure these monies are spent for public and not political roads?"

RAINS SNEAK CANYON—Cars move slowly down a canyon road in the Bel Air section of Los Angeles Monday as rains send water and mud gushing down the streets where disastrous brush fires burned many homes earlier this month. The water was racing down hillsides cleared of brush and ground-cover by the fires.

Bel Air Fighting Flood Menace

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Residents of the recently burned out Bel Air district waded through mud and silt today struggling to prevent further flood damage from predicted morning showers in the wake of Southern California's heaviest rain storm in more than a year.

Monday's storm brought nearly 2 inches of rain to the Santa Monica Mountains which just two weeks ago were ravaged by the worst fire in Los Angeles history.

Torrents of water rushed down the denuded hillsides carrying waves of dirt and debris that periled mountain homes and flooded canyon streets.

MAY QUIT POST—Mrs. Elizabeth Rudel Smith, treasurer of the United States, may resign to work in the re-election campaign of California's Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, the White House said. Mrs. Smith has been a close political ally of Gov. Brown and was active in the 1960 campaign.

LEAVING FOUNDATION
The fire department reported that one house on Bundy Drive—a street hard hit by the fire—was being pushed from its foundation by the surge of debris.

Similar incidents occurred in San Dimas where a house was washed off its foundation with the occupants still inside, and in Glendora where another small house was reportedly pushed off its foundation by floods.

Says Highway Chief Should Be Elected

Van Wagener said that the state's road building program totaled about $50 million when he was highway commissioner, and today this program exceeds $200 million.

"The pressures surely are four times as great," he said. "Transferring these pressures to the executive office would not help the governor. It would not help the appointed highway commissioner. It would not help the motorist."

"The best highway engineer in the nation would have less freedom as an appointee of the governor than as an elected official of the people."

Van Wagener's testimony came less than a week after former Gov. G. Mennen Williams suggested that the highway commissioner be appointed as a means of strengthening the executive office.

Two West Germans to Be Tried by Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government announced today that two West Germans will go on trial Wednesday on charges of spying for the United States.

They are Walter Naumann, 27, and Peter Sonntag, 22.

The Foreign Ministry invited Western correspondents to attend the trial before the Supreme Court.

The men were arrested Sept. 27 at an undisclosed place and accused of carrying "material of an espionage nature." Their arrest was announced last week.

Two other West German tourists, Adolf and Hermine Werner, also are being held on espionage charges.

Evidence Indicates Sino-Soviet Dispute

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst

Evidence continues to accumulate that the split between Moscow and Peking not only is real but is proving difficult to mediate.

The latest evidence comes in the form of a speech delivered by Albanian Communist strongman Gen. Enver Hoxha on Nov. 7 violently attacking Nikita Khrushchev.

The publication also provides new evidence of a curious twist taken in the quarrel between the two giants of the Communist world—Khrushchev's theory of coexistence with capitalism vs.

Mao Tse-Tung's insistence on violent revolution.

This makes tiny Albania the sounding board for both in a quarrel which more and more is shaping up as one over leadership of world communism.

ATTEMPT AT TRUCE

So, when Khrushchev calls for the overthrow of Hoxha, he actually is calling for repudiation of Mao.

When Hoxha accuses Khrushchev of betraying Communism and attempting to dethrone Lenin, he is speaking for Mao.

Last week there were indications that attempts were being made to patch things up.

Communist North Vietnam president Ho Chi Minh stopped over in Peking after a lengthy meeting with Khrushchev in Moscow.

While the Peking talks were going on, Red China refrained from publishing Hoxha's Nov. 7 speech.

But with its belated publication, the truce was off.

The Sino-Soviet quarrel, which is one concerning method rather than the ultimate goal of world domination by communism, may be said to have started in 1956 with Khrushchev's denunciation of Stalin at the party's 20th congress in Moscow.

It began coming into the open after the summit meeting of world Communist leaders in Bucharest in June, 1960, and became generally known after failure of a similar conference in Moscow in November, 1960.

When, at the 22nd congress last October Khrushchev vented his special anger on Albania for failure to follow his anti-Stalin line, Red China rebuked him for dragging family quarrels into the open. Shortly afterward, Red Chinese delegate Chou En-Lai left for home.

VIOLENT SPEECH

Hoxha's follow-up attack on Khrushchev in his Nov. 7 speech was among the most violent ever to be publicized outside the Iron Curtain.

Of Stalin, he said, "... He was and remains one of the most outstanding leaders and personalities, not only of the Soviet Union but also of the international Communist movement ... one of the greatest theoreticians of Marxism-Leninism."

Khrushchev, he said, "... weakens the vigilance of the peoples in the struggle against imperialism ... uses the struggle against the personality cult as a pretext to open the way to revisionism ..."

This week Peking is entertaining an Albanian mission there to negotiate aid which the Red Chinese have indicated they have every intention of extending despite their own shortages.

Other Communist parties also have shown signs of following Peking's lead. They include North Korea, North Vietnam, Burma, India, Indonesia, Malaysia and a number of the parties in Latin America.

Two Locals Agree to Hold Pay 'As Is'

DETROIT (U) — A Detroit newspaper said Monday night it had learned that two United Auto Workers Union locals had agreed to pass up guaranteed wage increases for three years to help the tool and die industry.

The Detroit Free Press said a new contract negotiated last Friday between the locals and the Detroit Tooling Association included foregoing annual wage increases of six cents — or 2½ per cent — for the next three years.

The UAW concession was in answer to management pleas for relief in labor costs if the industry is to win new business and make up ground lost since 1955, the Free Press said.

Thailand's 'Pakaoma' ... All-Round Good Pal

BANGKOK, Thailand (U)—The pakaoma is probably the most versatile garment any man can hope to have in his wardrobe—or his do-it-yourself kit.

Essentially something to wear, it can also serve as a kerchief, a bath towel, turban, pup tent, beach towel, tow rope, bar rag or baby's hammock. At sea it can double as a sail or something with which to stop up a leak.

The pakaoma is a sarl-like length of cotton cloth (preferably bright colored or plaid), about 6 feet long and 2 feet wide. You put it on by wrapping it around your waist and simply tucking in the loose ends.

Worn full length, it makes the coolest lounge garb for this tropical part of the world. It can also be pulled up between the legs and tucked in behind to make a swim suit or a pair of shorts.

In Thailand's countryside, it's a standard piece of equipment, particularly when traveling. On the road it can be used to carry one's belongings, plus lunch. At night it serves as pajamas.

A more sophisticated use for the pakaoma has been found in the cities—as a cummerbund for evening wear.

But however you use it, pakaoma wearers have one piece of advice: Don't breathe too deeply when it's on.

2 Detroit Democrats to Seek Rabaut Seat

DETROIT (U)—Two Detroit Democrats announced Monday they will seek the 14th Congressional District seat vacated by the Nov. 12 death of Louis C. Rabaut.

Louis C. Rabaut Jr., son of the late Democratic congressman, and Harold M. Ryan, Democratic minority leader in the Michigan Senate for six years, said they would seek the post.

Rabaut urged Gov. Swainson to call a special election "at the earliest possible date." He is a tax attorney and ran unsuccessfully for the constitutional convention.

Will $500 cover this emergency?

Nobody can answer that.

And at a moment like this, you shouldn't even have to stop and think about it. With Blue Cross-Blue Shield comprehensive coverage, you don't have to. The care that is needed is there. Whether it is a $500 hospital bill or 10 times that, or more, you're covered. This is the essential difference in Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection. It provides benefits in hospital and medical services ... not in terms of dollars. It provides care. Isn't this really what health protection is for? There is only one Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Don't settle for less. If you have never looked into the many advantages of Blue Cross-Blue Shield membership, do it now. Just call the enrollment specialist in your area.

Output Hike Bolsters Hope for Trim in Idle

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK — Rising industrial production bolstered by record personal incomes holds out hope today that unemployment can be further trimmed.

The slow but sure recovery from the last recession also is building up business confidence. And as excess capacity is eliminated, the pessimism that has gripped the economy since 1980 will be replaced by a more optimistic outlook.
