Area Plane Crash Kills Three

By JIM LONG

Plans for a Thanksgiving homecoming ended tragically yesterday with the crash of a single-engine plane in Springfield Township, killing all three persons aboard.

Pontiac State Police identified the victims as Robert L. Deming, 46, of 4706 Pickering, Bloomfield Township; his 18-year-old daughter, Nancy; and Jennifer Taylor, 18, of Detroit.

Deming, an executive with the Bendix Corp., reportedly had picked up the girls in Lafayette, Ind., where they attend Purdue University, and was bringing them home for the holiday.

The plane, a four-seater Piper Comanche, crashed about six miles northwest of the Oakland-Pontiac Airport.

The aircraft fell in a sparsely populated area near Big Lake and Shaffer roads.

All three died in the crash, according to an official of the Federal Aviation Administration, which is investigating the cause of the crash.

DEMING

MISS DEMING

A control tower official at the airport said that Deming attempted to land about 6:30 p.m. but missed his approach and apparently began to circle.

Visibility was not very good and Deming was being guided in under special visual flight rules, airport officials said.

★ ★ ★

A witness told police that the plane was "flying low, as if it was having trouble. Then it crashed into the field."

CONTACT NEVER LOST

A controller in the airport tower said that contact was never lost with the plane, and that there was no indication that Deming was experiencing any trouble.

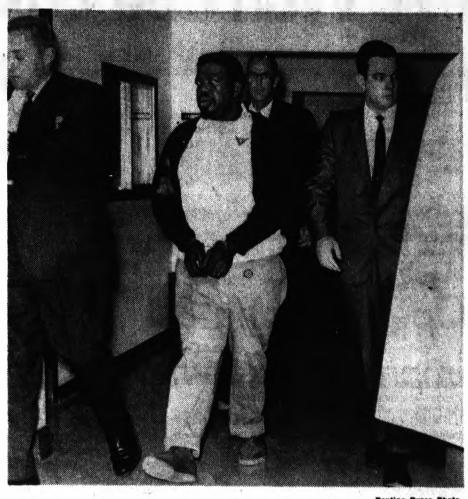

★ ★ ★

Radio communications, however, between the craft and the tower was not the best and described as "spotty" by one official.

CONSPIRACY SUSPECT — Milton R. Pratt, 39, of 556 Bloomfield, Pontiac, is led to his arraignment on a charge of conspiracy to commit armed robbery in the case of a fatal holdup at the home of a West Bloomfield Township official. Some $25,000 was reported taken. Pratt's bond was set at $50,000.

Social Security's Largest Increase OK'd by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed today a massive Social Security bill carrying 15 to 59 per cent increases for present beneficiaries and larger boosts for persons retiring in the future.

The roll call vote was 78 to 6.

The dissenters were Sens. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah; Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb.; Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla.; John Stennis, D-Miss.; Strom Thurmond, R-S. C., and John J. Williams, R-Del.

The measure, which would make the biggest cash benefit and payroll tax increases in the 32-year-old history of the Social Security system, was sent to conference with the House.

The conference is expected to be a tough one, with major differences to be resolved over the cash benefit and tax provisions and over new restrictions on public welfare programs.

CALLED LANDMARK BILL

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., called the final Senate product a landmark bill in the history of Social Security.

One of its most important results, he said, will be to move out of poverty more than two million elderly people. This would be accomplished chiefly through a new $75 a month minimum payment coupled with higher checks for all persons now getting slightly more than the present $44 minimum.

The benefit and tax levels in the Senate bill are largely those recommended by the administration.

★ ★ ★

Chairman Wilbur D. Mill, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee resisted those in the seven months the bill was before his panel earlier this year. He is expected at least to insist on a compromise in the conference.

★ ★ ★

In addition, Mills and his committee wrote into the measure tight new welfare restrictions designed to cut down on the soaring growth of the aid to families with dependent children program.

The Senate softened these considerably. This also is expected to be a sticky point in the conference.

The Senate stayed in session 13 hours Tuesday, its longest meeting of the year, to complete work on all amendments to the measure.

Long estimated Tuesday, after the Senate completed action on 42 amendments, that the new benefit package would total about $7 billion in the first full year of operation.

Examination Slated in DeConick Case

The first person arrested in the July 3 murder of West Bloomfield Township Trustee Edward E. DeConick faces preliminary examination in township justice court Monday on a charge of conspiracy to commit armed robbery.

Milton R. Pratt, 39, of 556 Bloomfield, arrested at 10:30 a.m. yesterday by Pontiac, West Bloomfield and State Police detectives, is accused on the warrant of conspiring with another man on June 23 to rob while armed the DeConick residence.

Justice of the Peace Emery Jacques set bond at $50,000 at the arraignment yesterday and Pratt is in Oakland County Jail in lieu of payment.

Township police said the three law enforcement agencies which have cooperated on the case were acting on leads supplied by an unidentified informant when they arrested Pratt at his place of employment at 550 Oakland.

BEATEN, SHOT

DeConick was beaten, then shot to death and his 73-year-old sister, Kathleen, was beaten and critically wounded when four persons — three men and a woman — forced their way into the DeConick home at 5847 W. Maple.

The assailants, who apparently left Miss DeConick for dead, made off with a cash box and floor safe containing some $25,000.

Miss DeConick managed to contact neighbors, who called police.

Dallas to Mark Kennedy Death

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Churchmen of three faiths held a simple, one-hour observance today at Dealey Plaza, where gunfire cut down President John F. Kennedy four years ago.

A city park spokesman said he anticipated that more than the usual number of floral wreaths would be placed at the site by anonymous persons today.

Related Story, Page A-7

Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of the Dallas-Fort Worth Roman Catholic Diocese, Rabbi Gerald J. Klein and the Rev. S. M. Wright of the Peoples Missionary Baptist Church were asked to conduct the service. Mayor Erik Johnson also was a scheduled speaker.

Ever since the assassination, mourners have placed bouquets and wreaths at Dealey Plaza, and for a while, the nearby two-square-block area was near-covered with flowers.

★ ★ ★

With the passage of time fewer flowers are to be seen. Tuesday there were only three. Two bore no message but the third had a note attached that read simply: "4th."

★ ★ ★

Dallas leaders have decided not to make Dealey Plaza the official Kennedy Memorial site in Dallas. The Kennedy Memorial Plaza, a block-square park, is to be two blocks to the east.

★ ★ ★

Plans call for the memorial plaza to be completed in early 1969, or after the fifth anniversary of the assassination.

4 Tots Offer Transplant Hope

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Four little girls — too young to know they're making medical history — offered hope for thousands yesterday when doctors outlined their progress as the most successful liver transplant patients in medical history.

As recently as four months ago, there was no known record of anyone surviving longer than 34 days following any type of liver transplant.

Now there are these four.

The first, Julie Rodriguez, 25-month-old daugher of Mr. and Mrs. John Rodriguez of Pueblo, Colo., had her transplant 122 days ago on July 23.

She bounced alongside with mother, arms swinging into a news conference. Julie is virtually ready for discharge from the hospital, and spends about half her time outside, leading an all but normal life.

The most recent patient, Carol Lynne MacCourt, 15½-month-old daughter of Mrs. Marylin MacCourt, Salt Lake City, made her appearance in a stroller and had a shy smile and a wave for newsmen. She received her new liver 45 days ago, on Oct. 8.

Kerri Lynn Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale L. Brown, Long Beach, Calif., also arrived in a stroller and didn't seem at all impressed by her visitors. She is 15 months old and had her transplant Sept. 5.

The oldest, Paula Kay Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Hansen, Fort Worth, Tex., was carried in. She is 25 months old and received her new liver Aug. 1.

There have been some serious but so far not insurmountable complications with these cases, but generally doctors at the University of Colorado Medical Center, where the transplants were performed, are optimistic. They are hopeful parallel advances in kidney transplantation, a field where some patients are doing well five years after the surgery.

NEW TECHNIQUES

The doctors say their apparent success can be traced to better techniques for suppressing the body's tendency to reject the new liver, to development of a method of preserving the donor liver for several hours without damage and to better methods of matching donor and recipient tissue.

County Residents to Offer Thanksgiving Day Praise

Oakland County residents will follow the pattern of the Pilgrims of 1621 in observing Thanksgiving Day.

In churches and synagogues, they will gather tonight and tomorrow to offer prayers of gratitude and sing hymns of praise.

As congregations sing the well-known song of Thanksgiving "We Gather Together to Ask the Lord's Blessing," men, women and children in Vietnam and other war-torn countries will pray the last line of the hymn, "O Lord Make Us Free."

The custom of holding a special harvest festival to return thanks to God did not originate in America.

The Bible-reading Pilgrims borrowed the idea from ancient Israel.

IN DEUTERONOMY

The story of the "First Thanksgiving" may be found in the Old Testament Book of Deuteronomy. They record the instructions which Moses gave to the Jews for a holiday to be held exactly seven weeks after they began harvesting their first crop in the promised land.

The purpose of the holiday, Moses said, was to "rejoice in all the good which the Lord your God has given to you and your household."

★ ★ ★

Moses told his followers "You shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground which you harvest, and you shall put it in a basket."

Sunnier, Warmer for Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving Day will dawn partly sunny and a little warmer, the weatherman reports.

★ ★ ★

A few showers, possibly mixed with snow, may arrive late today. Skies will be mostly cloudy tonight and temperatures cold.

The mercury is expected to dip to 25 to 30 tonight and climb into the 40s tomorrow.

Friday's outlook is cloudy and colder. Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today and tonight 30, tomorrow 10.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 34. By 2 p.m. the thermometer reading had warmed up to 36.

Early Edition Tomorrow

The Pontiac Press will publish a single, early edition tomorrow so that its employes may spend most of the Thanksgiving holiday with their families. Normal editions will resume Friday.

Stores, Offices Closed Tomorrow

Pontiac area stores and banks will be closed tomorrow in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

City, county and Waterford Township offices also will be closed.

Pontiac's main post office lobby will be open for mail deposit, access to locked boxes and purchase of stamps from machines.

Mail will be picked up from deposit points on normal holiday schedules and processed from outgoing dispatch. There will be no regular window or delivery services.

FBI Chief Asks Stern Justice

With crime getting almost out of hand, J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, issues a powerful statement to the American people.

Director Hoover says:

"Today, thousands of Americans live in fear. They fear for their lives, the safety of their families, their homes and their businesses. The cause of their fear is CRIME.

★ ★ ★

"Without a doubt, crime is rapidly becoming our nation's number one internal problem. For years, we have seen misguided sociologists and well-meaning but misinformed public officials rationalize the spiraling crime rate and excuse criminal behavior.

★ ★ ★

"We have seen an apathetic public ignore the warning signals of surging criminality which is costing taxpayers an estimated $27 billion annually. We have seen a criminal "feedback" caused by judicial leniencies, including pardons, paroles, and probation, which is a disgrace to our system of criminal justice. And we have seen loopholes, technicalities, and delays release hundreds of hardened, unrepentant criminals on the streets to prey again on the public while awaiting trial on easily provable charges.

"Nearly 3¼ million crimes were reported in 1966, an 11 per cent increase over 1965. Figures for the past six months of 1967 show a 17 per cent increase above the 1966 totals for the same period. Is it any wonder that more and more people are living in fear of crime?

"We are told that crime increases because our population continues to grow. This is true, but the volume of crime is up 62 per cent since 1960 while our national population has risen only 9 per cent. Crime is outstripping population growth by almost 7 to 1.

★ ★ ★

"We are told that improved reporting methods by law enforcement agencies result in more violations being reported. This carries no weight. Hundreds of departments which have had approved uniform crime reporting systems for years continue to have increases in all categories with no change in their methods.

'Defeat of LBJ Won't Be Easy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Thruston B. Morton says President Johnson will be hard to beat in 1968 despite possible challenge for the Democratic nomination and his current low ranking in the polls.

Morton, former GOP national chairman, said some Republicans appear overly optimistic about unseating Johnson if he seeks re-election next year as expected. The Kentucky senator attributed the optimism to recent polls showing any of five potential Republican candidates could defeat the President.

* * *

"The President could get some breaks in the Vietnam war that would make it almost impossible to defeat him," Morton said. "Even if the war situation remains about what it is now, he's going to be a tough man to beat."

MAY HIT OTHERS

Morton predicted voters may take their war frustrations out on Democratic senators and House members while deciding to keep the President in office.

He said he thinks Republicans have a good chance of capturing the House if former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama does not cut too deeply into their ranks in the South. The GOP would have to gain a net of 32 seats to accomplish that turnover.

* * *

Wallace has given every sign he intends to run on a third-party ticket in the general election after exploring his strength in some Democratic presidential primaries.

"It is difficult to judge the effect Wallace will have on our House candidates in the South," Morton said. "I would expect him to run strong in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, South Carolina and possibly Georgia.

"Anti-Johnson Democrats who might vote for a Republican presidential nominee and Republican candidates for Congress could go over to him and vote for Democrats for Congress."

EYE McCARTHY

Some Democratic leaders say privately that if Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., runs as an anti-Vietnam war candidate in Democratic primaries Wallace's support in the North would be deeply cut. They feel McCarthy and Wallace would split any protest vote against Johnson.

House Republicans meanwhile are cashing in on—literally—Wallace's presidential ambitions.

Over the past few months the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee has mailed 175,000 form letters citing the "dramatic possibility" that Wallace, if he runs as a third-party candidate, could keep any presidential contender from getting a majority in 1968 and thus throw the election to the House, now controlled by Democrats.

The letters brought in $140,000 — a much higher average per letter than other test letters that made no mention of Wallace, officials said. They are so pleased with the response that they plan to send out another half-million of the Wallace letters next year.

Open Housing Bill Improved---Romney

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney today said he was pleased with changes in the open housing bill made by a special bipartisan group of legislative leaders.

The group finished work on the bill Tuesday after making some substantial changes, and Romney said he had looked over a copy.

"I think it's an improvement," Romney said. "I think the changes that were made eliminate some things that needed to be eliminated. It's still just as strong a bill."

* * *

Romney also said he was "fully confident" there will be legislative action on the open housing bill this year. Meanwhile, Lt. Gov. William Milliken said and informal poll of senators showed the bill was "very close" to having needed support on the upper chamber.

* * *

The House Civil Rights Committee meets next Monday to begin its work on the measure, which lawmakers hope will be ready for action when the Legislature returns Dec. 12.

* * *

The special leadership group amended the bill to:

- Provide that the $1,000 and $2,000 fines which the State Civil Rights Commission is empowered to levy against realtors may be lowered by courts if appealed.
- Delete a provision exempting housing owned by religious organizations.
- Give a person who feels he has been discriminated against 90 days (instead of a year) to file a complaint with the commission.
- Prohibit complaints filed by "testers" — Negro-white teams who try to get evidence of bias by asking for housing they do not actually want.
- Exempt temporary rentals and subleases from the provisions of the open housing bill.
- Delete the state's liability for damages if a discrimination complaint is dismissed; the state could still be made to pay a respondent's costs and attorney fees.

* * *

Left in the housing bill were provisions that a corporation found to have committed an unfair housing practice would be fined $1,000 for a first offense and $2,000 for violating a commission order.

Romney: Must Reach People

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney thinks his biggest problem in seeking the 1968 presidential nomination is "just getting through to the people."

And he told a news conference today, the news media isn't helping him any.

He also announced he and his wife, Lenore, will take an 11-day vacation beginning Thursday and "expect to seclude ourselves in a pleasant part of the United States."

He declined to comment further on the vacation.

The Romneys will return to Lansing on Dec. 4, three days prior to their departure for a month - long tour of Europe and Asia.

Romney said his biggest problem in seeking the nomination is "just getting through to the people to be sure they understand my views and understand me."

"I've met many people who have told me 'Why you're so different from what we thought you'd be from reading the press' " Romney commented, adding that press reports of his views have often been "unfair and misleading."

OLD GLORY FLIES — Soldiers of the 4th Intantry Division rest atop the crest of Hill 1338 under Old Glory after a fierce battle for the hill against North Vietnamese regulars near Dak To, South Vietnam.

U.S. Reinforcements Move Into Dak To

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. reinforcements poured onto Hill 875 near Dak To today as American paratroopers, artillery and planes fought doggedly to root out the last entrenched North Vietnamese.

* * *

With at least 246 Americans killed, 869 wounded and an estimated 1,290 North Vietnamese killed, the cost of the 20-d a y-old campaign around Dak To has been exceeded in the war only by the 30-day campaign just before Thanksgiving 1965 in the Ia Drange valley and around nearby Plei Mei.

In that one 371 Americans and 165 South Vietnamese were killed, 558 Americans and 248 South Vietnamese were wounded, 1,771 Communists were killed and 138 were captured.

At noon today, after 72 hours of fighting, two U.S. battalions appeared to be in nearly full control of Hill 875. They were clawing their way toward a bunkered ridge line leading off the crest and still held by the enemy.

* * *

Another battalion of U.S. infantrymen moved onto the hill today, increasing the American strength to 1,500.

S. VIET TROOPS

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that two more battalions of government troops also had been moved to Dak To.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam, a multibrigade force of U.S. 25th Division and South Vietnamese troops pressed a new operation in the Vietcong-infested Iron Triangle north of Saigon.

U.S. headquarters reported two company-size actions 26 and 31 miles northwest of Saigon yesterday, with five U.S. infantrymen killed and 34 wounded. Enemy casualties were not known.

* * *

The operation, code - named Atlanta, was launched Sunday.

'Ike Backs Tax Increase'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is quoted as having given qualified endorsement to a tax increase.

House Republicans who attended an off-the-record luncheon Tuesday at which Eisenhower was guest said the former president told them he did not see how a tax boost could be avoided.

* * *

But, they added, he said an increase must be coupled with "substantial reductions in government spending," a position taken last month by the House Ways and Means Committee when it postponed further consideration of the administration's tax hike request.

* * *

Eisenhower was in Washington for a physical checkup at Walter Reed Army hospital, and left there shortly before the unannounced luncheon.

'Planners Picked for Influence'

The Pontiac Area Planning Council's board of governors is not necessarily a group which represents organizations to which the members belong, said Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. last night to persons questioning its formation.

"We wanted people who would be able to open doors and use their influence," he said.

"They were not put on (the 32-member board of governors) because they represented any organization. They were chosen because of their influential ability," Taylor said.

The mayor said the board, one of the levels of the planning council, would hopefully be of such a nature that it could be a catalyst in development of housing and commercial facilities.

* * *

"Maybe they can get developers interested in this city," he said.

MANY LEADERS NAMED

Members of the governing board appointed in recent weeks include many business, industrial and commercial leaders of the area.

Donna Harrington of 128 Chippewa said only a little more than one-third are residents of the city.

Taylor noted that all have interests in the city and have displayed this on many occasions.

CITIZEN ARM SEEN

He said while there was not seemingly a great deal of "grass roots" representation, plans are in the making to form a "community action citizen arm" which will work closely with the board of governors advising it of the interests and needs of the people.

Also questioned were the qualifications and the amount of influence on the formation of the council of Dr. David Lewis, who has been a consultant working with the city and the school district. Lewis reportedly will be hired to help develop an educational complex to replace McConnell, Central and Wilson elementery schools.

Louis G. Smith of 365 W. Iroquois said rumors are circulating that Lewis had unduly influenced formation of the planning council and has had an undue influence on the superintendent of the school district.

* * *

Lewis, a native of South Africa, graduated with distinction from Leeds University in England as a doctor of architecture. He is a professor of architecture and urban design at Carnegie Mellon University, a consultant to the New York City Board of Public Education, and a member of an urban design firm based in Pittsburgh.

GOVERNOR TIE FIRST

Taylor said whether Lewis will be hired to work with the planning council is up to the board of governors first, then the city Commission and school board.

The mayor said there was talk of a planning committee "long before Dr. Lewis got here" this summer.

Lewis was one of two consultants supplied by Ford Foundation money to discuss school and city development this summer.

* * *

The other, deputy director of a sweeping urban redevelopment program in New Haven, Conn., made a strong recommendation for formation of a powerful citizens committee which could help direct new development.

Birmingham Area News

Train Set for Parade Watchers

BIRMINGHAM — The Grand Trunk Western Railroad is running a special train tomorrow for suburban residents who want to see Detroit's annual Thanksgiving Day Parade.

The train, originating in Pontiac, stops in Birmingham at 9:04 a.m. and leaves Detroit's Brush Street Station at 11:45 a.m. returning to Birmingham at 12:27 p.m., said a railroad spokesman.

The parade begins at 10:15 and ends 11:15 a.m.

* * *

The special leaves Pontiac's Inglewood station at 8:35 a.m. and stops at Bloomfield Hills at 8:57 a.m. and Charing Cross at 8:59 a.m. as well as Birmingham, said the spokesman.

DSR buses will be on hand downtown to shuttle passengers to and from the parade route on Woodward, he added. Fares will be the same as on the regular commuters.

The Birmingham Board of Education last night approved the final drawings and specifications drawn up by the firm of Tarapata-MacMahon Associates for major additions to three schools.

The board should be ready to start receiving bids by Nov. 30 on about $700,000 worth of construction projects, said Board President Pell Hollingshead.

A $277,000 two-story library addition is planned for Seaholm High School along with four tennis courts; Barnum Junior High is scheduled for $312,000 worth of language and art classrooms in a single story addition; and Derby Junior High School will get $207,000 worth of science and art classrooms also in a single addition at the south end of the school.

* * *

Funds for the projects are part of the 1966 $9.8-million bond issue passed by voters.

County Panel Opposes Purchase of Berz Airport

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors' aviation committee yesterday recommended against purchase of Berz Airport in Troy.

The owner of Berz warned the county early this month that he had received an "attractive" offer for the site, which houses some 145 private and industrial craft, and a sale was imminent.

It was pointed out that the plane owners would have to move, probably within 30 days, and that other county facilities were already overcrowded.

A figure of $2.5 million was named as a possible purchase price. Eventual purchase needed to first be approved by the aviation committee, which had been studying the matter.

Their decision, in this case a negative one, will go to the ways and means committee on Nov. 27. The latter group's decision will go before the entire board of supervisors at its regular meeting December 17.

PURCHASE URGED

Representatives from the Birmingham-Bloomfield area, including the Chamber of Commerce, have been present at recent meetings involving Berz Airport, urging the county to purchase the site. Many businesses and families use the facility.

Plans to alleviate the hangar and space shortage for private and industrial craft are pending with the proposed expansion of the Pontiac-Oakland Airport in Waterford Township.

The $4.5 million program would not only lengthen the runway and install an instrument landing system, but would provide some 400 new small hangars. It has been estimated that about 200 of the hangars would be occupied at present if they were built.

* * *

A project to begin construction of about 75 units is now under consideration by aviation and airport committee members.

AIRPORT EXPANSION

A further alleviation of the county's aviation problems could come from proposed expansion of Allen Airport in Orion Township. A master plan for the facility is due to be presented next month.

2 Tots Bitten; Police Seek Dog's Owner

Waterford Township police are searching for the owner of a black and tan, pure-bred German shepherd which bit two children this morning.

The dog was about 1 year old and was wearing a red leather collar.

* * *

The police need to know whether or not the dog has had rabies shots, said Officer Al Meredith.

* * *

The dog was killed by a car shortly after biting the youngsters at Stringham Elementary School, 4350 Elizabeth Lake. The car hit the dog in the vicinity of the school, police said.

Shorter Days for Some at Pontiac Div.

A union decision has resulted in shorter workdays on the final assembly line at Pontiac Motor Division.

Production has been slowed about 10 per cent, according to company spokesman.

UAW Local 653 announced last week that it would refuse to work overtime, including weekends, until a new contract is signed.

A company spokesman said that, because of shorter work periods at the foundry and engine plant, about four hours running time at the assembly line, employing some 4,000, has been lost in the last two days.

* * *

The plant will not work tomorrow, but will continue operations Friday.

All three General Motors plants in Pontiac were hit recently with 24-hour strikes. The union and GM are negotiating nationally for a new contract.

UAW Meets Dec. 1 to Set GM Deadline

DETROIT (AP) —The United Auto Workers Union has scheduled for Dec. 1 a special meeting of its national General Motors Council to set a national and local strike deadlines at GM's U.S. plants, UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock said Tuesday.

Woodcock, who heads the union's GM department, added that the UAW will resume bargaining Monday with the giant automaker on a new national contract.

The union has been without a contract at GM since the old contract ran out midnight Sept. 6.

Fruehauf Trial Is Under Way

The ex-boyfriend of Mrs. Roy Fruehauf was expected to testify in his own behalf today on a charge of beating the attractive 43-year-old widow of the truck trailer manufacturer.

* * *

On the first day of the trial yesterday, Mrs. Fruehauf told a Circuit court pury of seven men and six women that Donald DeClercq struck her repeatedly with his fist during a fight on Valentine's Day this year.

DeClercq, 30, of Detroit is charged with aggravated assault.

She said DeClercq had come to the home at 5330 Middle Belt, West Bloomfield Township, to discuss the repayment of a $25,000 loan she had given him.

"On the night of the fight," she said, "he threatened to put my eyes out and that he would kill me before he left."

Mrs. Maude Cook, a housekeeper, said that when she went into the room to assist Mrs. Fruehauf, "DeClercq was in a rage. He had an ashtray and threw it against a marble table."

* * *

She said Mrs. Fruehauf was covered with blood and that her "eye lid was gashed."

Mrs. Fruehauf was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for lacerations under her left eye and on the lip. Six stitches were required to close the wounds.

Hoover Asking Stern Justice

"The man, woman and child on the street today are concerned with their immediate safety. And rightly so, since the risk of their becoming victims of serious crime has risen 48 per cent since 1960.

"The young child who is criminally assaulted, the corner grocer who is repeatedly robbed, the elderly lady at the bus stop who is mugged and brutally beaten, and the thousands of others who are victimized each day by vicious thugs want instant as well as permanent relief. They, too, have rights. But their cries for help are frequently drowned out by the clamor for mercy and leniency for guilty lawbreakers who scoff at law and order and the rights of society.

"When the individual is no longer reasonably secure in his home and on the streets of his community, then the criminal is being favored at the expense of the law-abiding citizen.

"Crime must be reduced by eliminating the huge profits and the soft justice which attract criminal - minded individuals. Avalanches of crime and terrorism cannot be tolerated in a society of free men.

"Full justice is needed—stern justice. We need justice which keeps the balance true and affords the law-abiding public an even break. We need justice which deals swiftly and surely with the criminal, convincing justice which means a quick arrest, prompt prosecution and substantial punishment of the guilty lawbreaker."

2nd Suspect Is Arrested in Area Jewel Robbery

The second suspect in the $39,700 Bloomfield Hills jewel robbery last July 3 has been arrested in Cincinnati, Ohio, by FBI agents and is reportedly being held there on $20,000 bond.

Geraldine Casey, in her mid 20s whose last known address was in Cincinnati, was arrested Nov. 9 for interstate flight on a larcey charge while in a hospital there recuperating from an auto accident injury, said FBI spokesman.

Bloomfield Hills Police Chief Walter Sluiter said the woman refused to waive extradition and proceedings to do so have been initiated through the Oakland County prosecutor's office.

Her alleged accomplice, Smead Bowie Jr., 35, is charged with larceny and is in Oakland County Jail on $5,000 bond. He was arrested in Chicago by FBI agents on Oct. 30 on an interstate flight warrant, said Sluiter. He waived extradition the next day and was brought back.

SERVANTS IN HOME

Both suspects were reportedly posing as a married couple while employed as servants at the home of Jordon H. Stover III of 3805 Lahser said the chief. Stover reported the jewels and some cash missing after a check was made at 2 a.m. on July 3.

Bowie has a record of convictions and is also wanted by an Indiana prison for parole violation on a five-year sentence, said Sluiter. No court date has been set for Bowie, yet, Sluiter added.

Apartments Slated on Ex-Land-Fill Site

A new proposal to develop the city's former land-fill site on Orchard Lake near the western edge of the city is due to result in a new apartment development.

City commissioners approved the proposal last night and asked the administrative staff to work out the details.

The 30-acre site was being sold to another development company, the E.R.E. Co., under a land contract but the purchasers defaulted in payment, Director of Law Sherwin M. Birnkrant said.

Birnkrant said two Detroit developers, George Kratchman, an attorney, and Soloman Sylvan, a builder, are willing to take over the contract and will pay past due interest and taxes.

The proposal also calls for them to complete an undetermined number of units by April or May.

RETAIL SHOPS

"Commercial retail shops such as a food market or other similar large-sized single-level buildings" would be constructed along Orchard Lake, commercial zoned property, he said.

An old lawsuit was cleared up, Birnkrant also told the commission, with the settlement of a city claim of $19,250 against a company which had painted two city water towers a few years ago.

The commission agreed to accept about one-half that amount on the advice of the attorney. Birnkrant said that to seek full reimbursement, because of the legal position of the city and some technicalities, may lead to no recovery.

The city had to repaint the towers after the original paint job failed to last the expected number of years.

HOUSE PURCHASE

Commissioners authorized purchase of a house at 124 S. Johnson for $19,000 to allow for continuing expansion of the Pontiac General Hospital parking lot.

The money will be taken from the hospital's building depreciation fund.

Commissioners also authorized signing a contract with the Peckham Co. for installation of aeration equipment at the Auburn road sewage treatment plant and installation of chlorination equipment at the East Boulevard sewage treatment plant. Cost to the city will be $70,400.

City Affairs

Pound Devaluation Affects Urban Funds

The action of the British government in devaluating the pound already is being felt in Pontiac.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said this, plus action of the U.S. Federal Reserve over the weekend, helped push the interest rate up for money the city will receive in $2,586,000 worth of preliminary urban renewal notes.

Bids on the notes were opened yesterday afternoon by city officials and only one bid was received at an interest rate of 3.99.

This is higher than the 3 per cent rate quoted in July and a 2.68 rate submitted on other loans in February, he said.

Warren said the bidders telegraphed the bid yesterday afternoon and undoubtedly were influenced to the higher bid by developments over the weekend.

INCLUDES DECISION

This included the reserve board's decision to increase the interest rate to its member banks from 4 to 4.5 per cent.

One of the country's largest banks Monday quickly raised its prime interest rate from 5.5 to 6 per cent and all Detroit banks followed suit.

Warren said the results of tight money will be higher interest paid by the city plus the possibility of a drop in housing development.

Commissioners are expected to approve the low bid at next week's meeting. The bidders were Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, Soloman Brothers and Hutzler, First National Bank and Bank of America, all acting in conjunction.

Ex-Prison Friend Is Key Witness in Murder Hearing

INKSTER (AP) — A former prison friend supplied the key testimony Tuesday as two Jackson Prison inmates were ordered to stand trial for murder in the kidnap - slaying of a Westland supermarket manager.

The two, David Krogol, 24, formerly of Southgate, and Gene E. Mitchell, 26, formerly of Wyandotte, were ordered held without bond after their pretrial hearing in Inkster Municipal Court. No trial date has been set.

They are charged in the death of supermarket manager Anthony Volante, whose bullet-riddled body was found in the Detroit River last July, five months after he was kidnaped from the driveway of his home.

The key witness at the hearing was William George Pistole, 25, an ex-convict who told of conversations he had with Krogol while in prison, where he and Mitchell had been sent on a burglary conviction.

New Driver's License Office

Those seeking driver's licenses and renewals won't be going to the city's police department any more after Monday.

But, they won't have to go much farther.

* * *

The secretary of state's office, which will take over the function Monday, has set up an office in the basement of the Municipal Employes Credit Union Building, 144 E. Pike, just east of the public safety building on East Wide Track and Pike.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the switch will save the city about $13,000 per year and will free civilian employes for other use.

Parking Fines Hiked in NY

NEW YORK (AP) — In an effort to persuade drivers to help unclog Manhattan's streets, illegal parking fines in the downtown and midtown areas will rise from $15 to $25 beginning Dec. 1.

Similarly, fines for illegal parking and any of 29 driving violations will go up $10 throughout the city, Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary announced Tuesday.

UF Goal Push Asked by Mayor

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. last night made a special appeal for Pontiac area citizens to contribute to the faltering Pontiac Area United Fund.

Taylor said the vast amount of good being done by the fund far outweighs any reason for not giving.

The mayor implied that area citizens are holding back because of recent troubling experiences.

During Thanksgiving week, he said, "I wonder if we don't have the thankfulness for the many blessings" the fund provides.

* * *

Taylor said that if every fund family in the area gave $1 to the fund it would meet its goal, which will fall short for the first time in a decade this year.

* * *

Campaign chairman Frederick J. Poole this week said $950,229 or 84 per cent of the goal had been collected as of Friday.

Light and Lively

Throw rugs make lively gifts and brighten room decor. They may be gifted for bathroom, bedroom, playroom, hallway and even the living room. Latest fibers provide longer wear.

Noels to Accompany Christmas Shoppers

In addition to decorations in the downtown area during the Christmas season, there will be a loudspeaker system set up to play music during store hours.

City commissioners last night agreed to a request by the Downtown Pontiac Business Association for permission to play the music.

The city will put up the wiring involved as part of its participation in the decorating program, which the commission gave preliminary approval to last week.

Commissioners gave formal approval by resolution to the city's participation last night, agreeing the city personnel will erect suitable decorations while the business association will provide the materials and supplies and will furnish electric power.

* * *

In other action, city commissioners last night set Dec. 5 public hearings to consider the necessity of constructing water mains which would serve the planned rent supplement housing project on E. W. Kennett adjacent to Alcott Elementary School and a planned apartment project north of that.

COST $21,620

The mains, recommended by the director of public works and service, would be installed along Columbia from its present end to Telegraph at a cost of $21,620, along Kennett from Sarasota to the Belt Line Railroad and along Sarasota from Tallahassee to Kennett.

The commissioners confirmed special assessment rolls for nine complete paving projects, one new water main and two curb, gutter and street projects.

* * *

They set Nov. 28 public hearings for projects which would construct sanitary sewers along Dearborn from Fairview to Kennett and along Kennett from Dearborn to Hollywood.

Pastor's Wife on Rights Unit

City commissioners last night approved appointment of Mrs. Tom Malone of 1045 Dover to the city's Human Relations Commission.

Mrs. Malone is the wife of the pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, 645 S. Telegraph.

* * *

In other action, the commission received a letter from the Oakland County Inter-Agency Housing Committee supporting a proposed open housing ordinance.

Birmingham Board Hears Protests of Seaholm 'Smoking' Suspensions

BIRMINGHAM — The recent suspension of eight Seaholm High School girls for suspicion of smoking ignited a hot debate last night at the Birmingham Board of Education meeting at Baldwin School.

Several of the girls' parents were present and loudly voiced their disapproval of the enforcement of the stringent smoking policy.

The rule, written in the Seaholm student handbook, states that possession of tobacco on school property is contrary to state law and that the use of tobacco shall be considered as the act of smoking or chewing and may be evidenced by the exhalation of smoke, even though the student is not at the time in possession of tobacco in any form.

Board President Pell Hollingshead said that the Board's policy covered only the possession of tobacco but that schools could extend the rules as in the case of Ross A. Wagner, principal of Seaholm who included suspicion of smoking into the rules.

"Mr. Wagner has the right to take the extra steps necessary for discipline," said the president.

'GOT TO STOP'

A resident in the audience agreed. He said that the smoking rules should be enforced stringently, "I saw school buses filled with smoke and kids 10-17 years old standing outside of school smoking. It's got to stop," he said.

"I agree too," said Mrs. Allen Waite whose daughter was suspended. "But how can somebody be convicted on suspicion. That's as if you were given a traffic ticket for speeding the day before."

Mrs. John Mackie, whose daughter was also suspended, charged that the verbal ruling by Wagner saying that anybody caught in a smoke-filled rest room could be disciplined was unjust.

"My daughter said she couldn't walk into any rest room without it being smoke filled. What's she going to do?" added Mrs. Mackie.

IMPOSSIBLE TASK

John Dunlap, a teacher at the Berkshire Junior High School stated to the board that stopping the kids from smoking was impossible because they were devious.

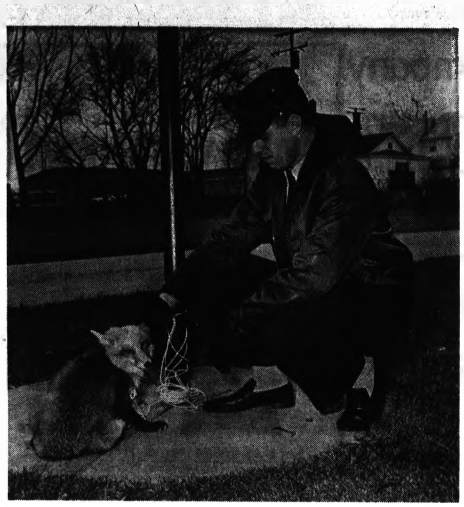

"They will have a guard leaning against the lavatory door and as soon as somebody pushes on it out go the cigarettes," he said.

"We have had this policy against smoking now for a number of years and effort has been made to enforce it.

* * *

It needs to be enforced for safety's sake if nothing else—just today we had a wastebasket fire."

Hollingshead said that the board would study the complaints and suggestions offered last night and would report back, possibly for some kind of action, on Dec. 19.

'NICE FOXY' — Rochester Police Officer Douglas Ehle wears gloves as he soothes a stray pet fox spotted yesterday morning on the back steps of the Rochester Post Office and caught at Camp's Cafe, 111 E. University. Tied to the Civic Center flagpole, the fox awaited the coming of the County Animal Shelter wardens.

School Is Renamed by W. Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A new name for the district's junior high school and the hiring of a financial consultant have been approved by the board of education.

The junior high school, located at Orchard Lake and Commerce roads, was named the Warren W. Abbott Junior High School.

Opened in 1954, the school was named in honor of a former area school superintendent.

Abbott, now retired, of 6129 S. Main, Clarkston, headed the former West Bloomfield Township School District No. 5 for 23 years, leaving in 1952.

* * *

According the present school chief, Leif Hougen, Abbott was largely responsible for the consolidation of four former districts into the present school district.

MORE JUNIOR HIGHS SEEN

The name change was made, said Hougen, because the district eventually may have two or three junior high schools.

In other recent business, the school board approved the hiring of Robert S. Russell, assistant vice president of the First of Michigan Corp. of Detroit, as the district's financial counsel.

Hougen said Russell is to assist in the projected sale of bonds for future school construction.

BOND APPROVAL AWAITED

The school district is awaiting state approval of bonds totaling $4.6 million. The district can now sell up to $4.5 million in bonds, but the state must okay the added $4.6 million for a total bond issue of $9.1 million.

* * *

No election date has yet been set for voter approval of the bond issue.

Russell's fee would be $9,000 on the $9.1 million in bonds, said Hougen.

Wounded Man Is Arraigned

WALLED LAKE — A 41-year-old resident injured in a gun battle Saturday stood mute at his arraignment yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

* * *

Raymond Fugate, 1392 Appleford, is being held in lieu of $50,000 bond. The examination date is pending the suspect's release from the hospital, said Walled Lake police.

Fugate, whose condition is fair after being shot in the stomach is charged with wounding two city policemen in an exchange of shots at 2 a.m. Saturday.

Officers William Folwell and Robert Snook were called to the Fugate home by family members.

When the officers reached the home, the suspect emerged and fired a shotgun at them, reported police.

Utica School Voters Approve 11-Mill Renewal

UTICA — School district residents here yesterday overwhelmingly passed the renewal of 11 operating mills for the next five years.

The turnout was almost as big as last December's bond issue vote, said public relations representative Tom Breen. The turnout yesterday was 5,508 with 4,841 voting yes and only 667 voting no — 88 per cent approving.

"We're very pleased with the results since about 50 per cent of our operating funds from the millage was at stake," said Breen. "The millage would have expired this year, but now we can levy the 11 mills through 1972."

Dependent on the renewal was the operation of a new junior high school and three elementary schools now under construction as well as the opening in February of the new Adlai Stevenson High School, said Supt. Phillip Runkel.

"We estimate that all students including senior high students will be on full-day sessions beginning next fall," he added.

The district would have lost $212,000 a year for the next five years if the election had failed, he said.

Board to Publish New Zoning Law

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Action which will make the township's new zoning ordinance effective by Jan. 1 was taken by the Township Board last night.

Acting on the recommendation of the planning commission and the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee, the board voted to publish the amended ordinance. It is to take effect 30 days after publication.

The amendments were the result of a public hearing July 31. Robert C. Dieball, planner for Driker Associates, Inc., of Birmingham, said that 99 per cent of the objections made had been honored.

The new ordinance provides for the first time a "planned unit development" which will allow cluster communities of varying type zoning in one unit such as apartments, homes and stores.

An agricultural classification was retained in the less populated areas of the township. Original intent had been to reclassify all such land to suburban farms, but objections of landowners were considered in the amended ordinance.

3 Dumping Areas to Be Cleaned Up in W. Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Three of the township's most cluttered, illegal dumping areas are going to be cleaned up.

The township building department has recently contacted the owners and developers of the parcels who have agreed to handle the cleanup operation within two weeks, said Max Selle of the township building department.

The rubbish, including household appliances, furniture and shingles, has been dumped on county road right of ways by the public.

William J. Pulte developers have agreed to remove the refuse on Green Road. Thompson-Brown Inc. and Coleman and Moss companies are planning to clean up rubbish on properties on Lone Pine near Middle Belt.

After the cleanup the township will post no-dumping signs informing the public of a $100 fine for dumping.

Letters have been sent to subdivision associations telling residents that they can take refuse to the Pontiac dump by getting a permit from the township building department for a fee.

Despite Alta Loma Objections

Farmington Okays Three Paving Studies

FARMINGTON — Despite opposition from the Alta Loma Subdivision Association, the City Council here has authorized proceeding with engineering for the proposed paving of three subdivision streets.

According to City Manager John Dinan, association spokesman opposed the resurfacing on the basis that the city should maintain the streets since the Municipality took them over 12 years ago.

The hearing on the paving of Alta Loma, Moore and Cass drew more than 75 people and lasted nearly two hours.

Dinan said the total cost of the paving project would probably be in the neighborhood of $35,000. Assessments for Alta Loma and Moore would be $5 per front foot, while the cost for residents of Cass will be $8.50. Cass is also to receive curb and gutter work.

In other recent business, the council received a report on the projected acquisition of 10 acres of land on Drake adjacent to the Long Acre School site for a park.

Councilmen were told the projected park site would cost about $20,000. Half of the purchase price is slated to come from the federal government.

Final approval of the federal aid is expected in about 90 days, said Dinan. The Council authorized city officials to begin negotiation for the land.

The council appointed Mrs. John Richardson as the city's delegate to the Beautification Council of Southeastern Michigan.

County Population 'Meter' Ticks On After Hitting 875,000

There's a clock in Washington, D.C., that ticks away people instead of time. Earlier this week it registered the number 200 million.

There's also a sort of clock in Oakland County, and it just ticked at 875,000.

Both the figures are estimates — the one in Washington made by a special meter in the Commerce Department and the one in Oakland County coming off the pencil of George N. Skrubb, county planning director.

The one in Washington marks up another person every 8½ seconds in the U.S.

The county "meter" runs much more slowly, about 75 per day. The county's projected population increase, made by various planning agencies, is for about 28,000 per year.

According to Skrubb, the county "meter" is fairly accurate. Estimates are made yearly using new dwelling permits and school enrollments to check against census and other data.

The figure at the beginning of the year, was 847,981. In 1965 it was 791, 969, and in 1950 the last official census, just 396,000.

The "meter" is supposed to register at 932,000 for the year 1970.

But Skrubb and other planning prognosticators see 1.3 million by 1980 and 1.5 million in the county by 1990 — that is, if there's room for them all.

Sterling Twp. Crash Claims Fifth Victim

STERLING TOWNSHIP (AP) — A two-car, head-on collision Sunday night claimed its fifth victim yesterday when Pamela Slankemenac, 17, of Detroit died at South Macomb Hospital.

Also killed in the crash were Ervin Barnefske, 32, of Flint; his wife, Margaret, 30, their 7-month-old son, David; and Jonathan Livingston, 18, of Detroit, a passenger in the second car.

The other two Barnefske children—Pammy, 5, and Michael, 7—remained in critical condition at a Madison Heights hospital. Both are in oxygen tents.

Police said the Barnefskes were en route from a family get-together in Warren when their station wagon collided with a car containing a group of teenagers.

Shopping Center Opens in Lapeer

LAPEER — A new shopping center, consisting of a Yankee Department Store and an Arnold's, Inc., has opened here, it was announced by Paul Borman, president of Borman Food Stores, Inc.

Borman Food Stores is a diversified retail store chain and food processor, which operates more than 90 supermarkets, 24 Yankee Department Stores, and about 40 Arnold units, as well as an ice cream company and a milk processor.

* * *

The new Lapeer unit was the third major shopping center opened by Borman last week. Two centers containing a Farmer Jack Supermarket, a Yankee Department Store and an Arnold's Drug unit were opened Nov. 15 in the Detroit metropolitan area.

The new Lapeer center is the city's newest shopping facility. It contains 52,000 square feet of selling space and has parking space for more than 500 cars. The center is located at 1875 West M21.

The developer of the unit was Hamady Brothers.

To Wide-Eyed Children

Gift Books Bring Dreams

By JEAN SAILE

The name of the game is Christmas shopping.

The players are assorted wide-eyed small fry.

The stakes are next January's grocery budget.

The winner gets to eat, come postseason holiday bills.

This is the time of year when even the most benificent parent feels like Scrooge . . . and doesn't really mind it.

The toy catalogs have arrived!

Good for two weeks of avid reading and dreaming by normal children transformed into wild-eyed monsters, the books feature 27 different kinds of dolls, road-race sets reminiscent of Le Mans, chemistry sets for a budding Salk, beauty parlors, kitchens and laundry units that mother only wishes she had, and assorted sports equipment that would do credit to an Olympic star.

INDEX TO DREAMS

The catalogs are the index to dreams available by the shelf at the local department store.

The litany begins.

"I want that one and that one and that one and that one and that one, and — oooh — look at this one!"

How a 4-year-old not yet introduced to reading can invariably choose the most expensive item on the page or the shelf is a matter yet to be explained.

"When I was a kid I got an orange in the toe of my sock, new doll clothes for my old doll and maybe a game," says a deflated parent.

PLEA IGNORED

She's ignored, but she's got to bring it up.

"If you ask for all those things, there won't be any left for Santa Claus to bring to the poor little children."

Mother is still ignored.

"Make a list of the three toys you want most," is the parental order.

They hear her.

* * *

IMPOSSIBLE TASK

What red-blooded American kid, living in these days of high commercial pressure, can bold a list to three?

It's held, and held firmly enough, it can even divert their egotism to selecting gifts for sibling rivals.

That's when catalog index shopping can become fun. The whispered consultations, the excited and babbling 4-year-old who lets all the secrets loose, the marked books, the money counting, the delighted smiles of people who have made their choices — that's fun!

* * *

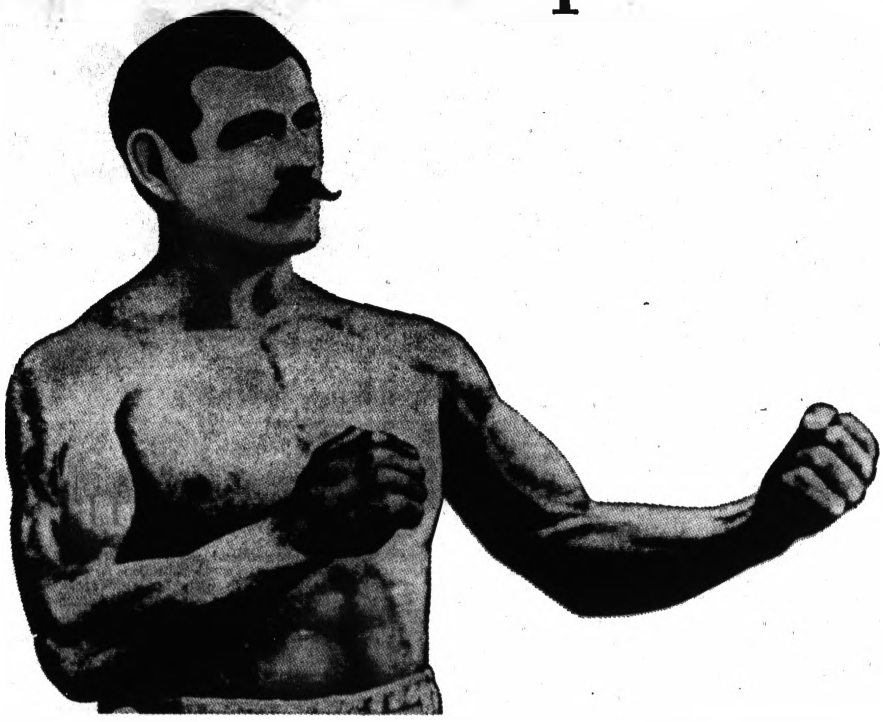

It's even fun late at night after the children have all retired for mom and dad to grab the book and do some dreaming of their own.

U.S. Hits New Population Milestone

The United States has celebrated many milestones since it officially became a nation 158 years ago. It chalked up another at 11 o'clock Monday morning.

At that moment, according to the census clock which has been kept ticking by the U.S. Department of Commerce for 40 years, the U.S. recorded a population of 200 million.

Some private authorities dispute the timing of the noteworthy event, claiming that the population actually hit the new high in the spring of 1965. They base their calculation on the contention that the Census Bureau missed counting some 6 million Americans in the 1960 census.

Be that as it may, the Stars and Stripes now proudly flies over the world's fourth most populous country, trailing only Red China, India and the Soviet Union.

The population clock reflects the birth of a citizen every 8½ seconds and the death of one every 17 seconds. It also computes the arrival of an immigrant every minute and the departure of an emigrant every 23 minutes.

The first census, taken in 1790, found a population of 3,929,214. It was not until 1915 that the U.S. hit the 100-million mark. At the present rate of population growth, Uncle Sam can boast of 300 million nephews and nieces by the turn of the century.

★ ★ ★

In today's population, the gals outnumber the guys 102 million to 98 million, and the median age — at which half the people are older and half younger — is 27.7 years.

As they greet Thanksgiving Day, Americans may well give thanks that their Nation with but one-sixteenth of the world's population embraces the great majority of its material and spiritual blessings.

Factory Auto Options Show Shifting Patterns

While we have seen a decline in U.S. auto production in the 1966 and 1967 model years, it is interesting to note that the demand for leading factory installed equipment items is largely on the upswing.

According to a survey by Ward's Automotive Reports, 15 out of the 20 items surveyed for the '65, '66 and '67 three-year period showed increases in demand.

Some of the increases and decreases show a marked relationship. Automatic transmissions, for example, have increased. At the same time, four-speed synchromesh transmissions declined.

Six cylinder engines were installed in only 16.1 per cent of the total auto output during the 1967 model year, down from 21.4 per cent in 1966 and 26.6 per cent in 1965. At the same time, V-8 engines grew to 83.9 per cent in '67 compared to 78.6 per cent the previous model year.

★ ★ ★

As might be expected with the increase in V-8 engines, power steering — a practical necessity in larger, heavier cars — showed substantial gains.

During the 1967 model year the demand for air conditioning nearly doubled that of 1966. Also showing big gains in demand are vinyl roofs.

And the champion of factory installed equipment changed hands in '67. Tops on the list now is AM radios, with a whopping 89.2 per cent.

This is in contrast to the previous two model years when automatic transmissions rated tops in demand for factory installed equipment.

Florida Health Dept. 'Sucker' in Popsicle Case

We all know about Billy Churchill and his sidewalk popsicle stand in Satellite Beach, Fla.

We know that someone complained that 11-year-old Billy was operating without a permit and that the county health department closed him up.

To emphasize the extent of his lawlessness, the health authorities pointed out that Billy didn't even provide separate toilet facilities for his men and women customers.

★ ★ ★

Well, the governor of Florida didn't muff this one. He rushed in with cameras clicking and personally put the stand back in business with a ribbon-cutting ceremony, plugs for Florida fair play and free enterprise everywhere, and even a rap at LBJ.

All of which was good clean refreshment stand fun for everyone except the county health department, which came out looking a little sick.

The Irony of the Kennedy Legend

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The sun was shining, the crowds were cheering, and President John F. Kennedy was the most popular figure in America when he was shot to death four years ago today in Dallas.

MARLOW

Now he is a beloved and almost legendary figure. But so much has happened since that day it is as if Kennedy had died in another age.

Nothing shows this better than the change in the national mood since Nov. 22, 1963, and in the difference between the attitude toward Kennedy then and the attitude now toward his successor, President Johnson.

Kennedy won election by a thread in 1960 and in three years had become a national idol. Johnson overwhelmingly won election on his own in 1964, but this week a public opinion poll reported confidence in him at an all-time low.

There is irony in this. While Johnson lacked Kennedy's grace and eloquence, he won the presidency by 16 million votes, reflecting the people's great confidence and hope in him, while in 1960 Kennedy won bigonly 118,550 votes.

★ ★ ★

What went wrong? Above all things, the war in Vietnam. At the time Kennedy died the United States was only dipping its toes in the war with 15,500 men. Under Johnson it get in up to its neck. It has 475,000 men there now.

JUST AS DEEP

Again, ironically, if Kennedy were still president, American involvement would probably be just as deep as it is now, for shortly before his death Kennedy was saying the same things about U.S. determination to help South Vietnam stop Communist aggression as Johnson is saying now.

But while crowds beamed on Kennedy, when the country had no major dilemma like Vietnam, antiwar mobs deride Johnson and the tide of criticism month by month rises against him on streets and college campuses across the land.

Antiwar demonstrations starting out peacefully end in violence. Youths burn their draft cards in defiance of the government. Crime increases and Negro riots in the city multiply in size and destruction.

Johnson has been on the receiving end of it all. If Kennedy had lived and been reelected and if there was no war, by now he might have set up a stunning record in the presidency.

NOT IN SAME LEAGUE

He didn't do it while he was president. In the main problem of his time, which was getting major legislation through Congress, he wasn't in the same league with Johnson. But that has to be qualified a bit.

Johnson's legislative record in the first year after his election was unmatched by all that Kennedy did in three years. After that Johnson, distracted by the war, lost his grip on Congress.

Why then all the adoration of Kennedy? There are some likely reasons: A sentimental one, a regret for a shining young man shut out of life so early; the growing flow that builds up around a folk-hero, making him look taller; gratitude for the splendid grace Kennedy gave to the presidency.

★ ★ ★

But future historians, aided by the cool detachment of time, are not apt to conclude that Kennedy's actual achievements were more than ordinary.

It Doesn't Have To Be Turkey!

David Lawrence Says:

Pound Devaluation Aids LBJ

WASHINGTON — Britain's devaluation of the pound sterling happens to have furnished a lucky break to President Johnson in two important factors that can improve his fiscal policy.

LAWRENCE

First, Congress has perceived the necessity for changing its mood about a tax increase and may vote it soon, to take effect in the year 1968.

Second, the President has had to agree to a sharp cut in the national budget, and the reductions will be better accepted by groups affected than would have been the case just a few days ago.

The net result will be a curtailment of the budget for the fiscal year ending next June 30. The deficit, instead of the expected $21.5 billion, will be reduced to $13.7 billion.

★ ★ ★

This will be due to an anticipated $3.8 billion in added revenues from the new taxes, and $4 billion in the cut in expenditures.

While the $13.7-billion deficit is one of the biggest in history and compares unfavorably with the $9.9 billion deficit in fiscal year 1967, which ended last June 30, and the $2.3-billion deficit for fiscal year 1966, the administration now hopes to be able to promise that the budget deficit will be $4 billion for fiscal year 1969, starting next July 1.

President Johnson will be waging his campaign for reelection during 1968 with the argument that, despite the high cost of the Vietnam war, he will have brought the budget deficit down to an estimated $4 billion for the then current year.

Unquestionably the devaluation of the pound in London has had repercussions in many parts of the world, particularly in the United States, where Congress and the President have seen the danger of letting the deficits rise much farther.

Both the Senate and the House, which had been lukewarm about a tax increase, now feel that something has to be done.

Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee has insisted he would be for the tax increase if the administration would agree to a constructive plan of budget-cutting.

REALISTIC VIEW

Fear of a loss of confidence in the dollar and further complications of the financial front have prompted both parties in Congress, along with the President, to take a realistic view of what might be the demoralizing effect of a very large budget deficit in the current fiscal year.

The United States stands alone in the world behind the dollar. The balance-of-payments problem is by no means solved.

So anything that Congress can do to move in the direction of sound fiscal policy tends to be helpful in building up confidence in the dollar in other capitals of the world.

What is not yet foreseeable is the impact of the British action on world trade.

One solution for the United States may be to establish some kind of freeze on the quantities of foreign goods sold here prior to the British devaluation and limiting the monthly imports to these quotas.

Bob Considine Says:

No Sudden Change Seen in Mideastern Situation

JERUSALEM — Gen. Yariv, chief of the Israeli intelligence forces, crisply summed up the situation which bugs the victors in last June's six-day war.

CONSIDINE

"Russia would like to have stable tension here," he said, "but the Soviets don't want it so tense that it would bring them into a confrontation with the United States. So things will stay this way for some time to come."

★ ★ ★

"This way" can be described as follows:

● The Israelis have no intention of voluntarily giving up the new frontiers their forces forged with steel and blood along the Suez Canal, the Jordan River and the Golan heights of Syria.

● Russia has reequipped Egypt and Syria with better weapons of war than they had been provided with before their quick knockout.

● France, the only western power willing to sell the Israelis what they need in the way of arms, was hesitant to sell them so much as a spare part before and during the war. There is a puzzling (to Israeli) delay in the delivery of new French jets, despite Israeli's $42-million down payment on the $60-million tab.

There are legends about all national heroes, and Israeli's legendary figures are no exception.

"Gentlemen, we are losing our image as hard-working people devoted only to the welfare of the state of Israel," David Ben-Gurion (the story goes) lectured his cabinet.

"There are increasing reports that you are womanizing. I'm not going to mention any names, but if he doesn't stop immediately I'm going to punch out his other eye."

★ ★ ★

Then there's the story of the pious pilgrim who had spent his life's savings on a trip to see the River Jordan. He was reduced to tears, and when a passerby paused to comfort him all the weeping man could say was "What propaganda will do . . . what propaganda will do."

George Washington could have thrown a 2-ton truck across the Jordan through most of its meandering path from its three little tributaries in Syria to its dead-end stop in the Dead Sea. Jesse Owens could have jumped across it at most places along its course.

Reminds me of Bugs Baer's response when George Sokolsky, who was shaped like Buddha, mentioned casually that most people thought of the Great Wall of China as impenetrable but that he, Sokolsky, had "skipped over it."

★ ★ ★

Bugs said, "How can I get my money back from Burton Holmes?"

'Pursuit of Thieves Endangers the Innocent'

Police should be more interested in the protection of human life than the capture of thieves in the case of car theft. A young man who will steal a car will speed to elude capture. As this often results in death or injury of innocent people, this sort of pursuit should be outlawed.

V. M. CANFIELD

Police could help keep the death rate down due to accidents. With radio transmitters in patrol cars, if they were posted where they could block the thief's escape, why all this speed? If they carried binoculars they could identify the car if not the license. I don't think it's worth taking a chance chasing cars at such speeds. There must be more strategic ways to catch thieves and speeders.

'Union Demonstrations Seem to Get Results'

How many times in recent months have we heard Walter Reuther make a statement such as "all we want is our fair share" or "we will not settle for less than our equity." This is fine and I'm for it, but how does he figure a fair share to the production and service department employes of Ford Motor Company who gained 20 cents an hour in wages as opposed to skilled trades' 50 cents an hour?

★ ★ ★

In 1964 retirees demonstrated and marched on Solidarity House. As a result they received the bulk of the "pie" of that contract. In 1967 skilled trades demonstrated and marched on Solidarity House and they received the filling of the pie, leaving only the crumbs for production and service employes.

★ ★ ★

I advocate that fellow employes of General Motors organize a committee to demonstrate and march on Solidarity House in hopes that we may obtain a more equitable contract at G.M. This seems to be the method of action that gets results.

Question and Answer

In 1966 I read that some sort of object might collide with the earth in 1968. If this is true, what can be done about it?

CONCERNED

REPLY

Mrs. McMillen of Cranbrook Institute of Science was not aware of any specific danger, but found that The Observer's Handbook for 1968, published by the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, says that the asteroid Icarus will approach the earth in an abnormally close orbit on June 15, 1968. An asteroid is a small object revolving around the sun mainly between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter, so its proximity to the earth in 1968 will be unusual. However, we suggest you stop worrying — it will only come within 4 million miles of the earth — close for an asteroid, but quite a distance for a collision.

British Pounds

The Wall Street Journal

The devaluation of the British pound is both a confession of failure and a recognition of reality — as well as a lesson for the U.S.

As these columns observed last Friday, the writing off had become all but inevitable after years during which the British government lived beyond its means, indulged in inflation and suffered heavy trade losses with the rest of the world.

Even the recent period of attempted austerity was not enough to cure the consequences of excess.

Like politicians elsewhere in these enlightened times, the British authorities had tried to run a grandiose welfare state, but with insufficient resources.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps partly for that reason the years since World War II have seen the development of complacency or lethargy on the part of industry and labor.

Certainly the unions and the Labor government fostered the I'm-all-right-Jack attitude of featherbedding and minimal effort which made it difficult for Britain to compete in world markets.

Given such policies and sentiments, it is a question how effective the devaluation will be. By itself, marking down the pound merely admits that it was overvalued.

★ ★ ★

Unless followed by genuinely tough-minded approaches to economic problems, it may prove to be no more than the precursor of further reductions.

President Johnson, commenting on the move, noted Britain's trade deficit and said it had become clear that the United Kingdom was faced with a fundamental imbalance that necessitated the adjustment.

Presumably the irony was unconscious. After all, the U.S. has been running not trade deficits, but heavy deficits in its general balance of payments, also mainly occasioned by wrong-headed Governmental policy.

★ ★ ★

Why, then, hasn't the day of reckoning come for the U.S.? One answer is that the dollar is being continually devalued through the Government's addiction to inflation, but that the process is not so obvious; in any case, it is the dollar by which other currencies are measured and formal devaluation would cause a lot of trouble.

Another answer is that the U.S. economy is so much bigger and more variegated than Britain's that maybe it can stand the abuse for a longer time.

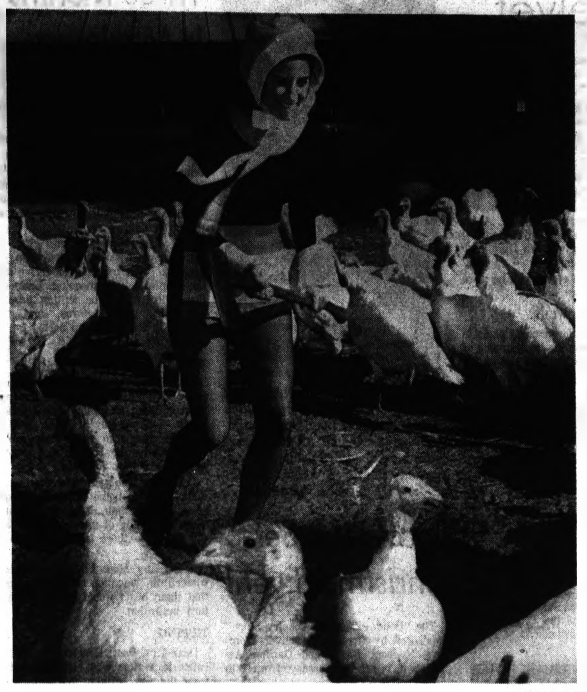

Still, Federal finances are in a shocking state, and Britain's step is a reminder that grave distortions cannot be left forever uncorrected.

That is so whether the political system is candidly called socialism or more deviously the social-welfarism of an allegedly great society.

Flowers Shroud JFK Memorial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every day people come to visit the grave of John F. Kennedy, and their numbers now are 21 million. Every day flowers cover the granite stone marking the site.

President Johnson is sending a wreath today, for it was four years ago, on Nov. 22, 1963, that President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

A White House military aide is to place the wreath beside the black slab and the eternal flame above the grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

No special ceremony was planned at the site.

* * *

Each year on this date Kennedy relatives and old friends have slipped in quietly to bring flowers and stand a while in remembrance.

MASS PLANNED

In downtown Washington, the 12:10 p.m. Mass at St. Matthew's Cathedral was to be offered for Kennedy. Kings and queens and heads of state gathered there four years ago for his funeral Mass.

When heads of state visit Washington now, they make it a part of their official schedule to place a wreath at the Kennedy grave.

Anyone may bring flowers to the Kennedy grave, and many do. Yesterday there was one yellow rose lying on the granite, and behind the grave a spray of carnations, two baskets of gladioli and a red rose.

* * *

It was a quiet place. Mothers hushed their toddlers as they climbed the white marble steps. Some men removed their hats for a moment. Two women brushed away tears.

SURROUNDING TREES

Saucer magnolia trees, their branches bare white, surround the memorial to which Kennedy's body was moved last March from its temporary resting place some 20 feet away.

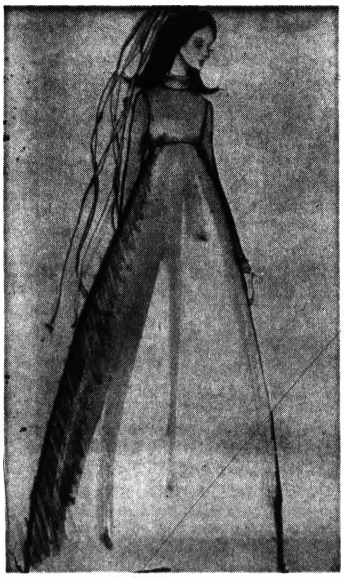

Jacqueline Kennedy, the president's widow, came from New York for the blessing of the new grave. As far as is known she has not visited the grave since.

Each year on Nov. 22, she has stayed in seclusion with her children, Caroline, who will be 10 next Monday, and John Jr., who will be 7 this Saturday. A spokesman said they would leave their New York home tomorrow to spend Thanksgiving in Newport, R.I., with Mrs. Kennedy's family.

ARLINGTON VISITORS—A few visitors stand in the cold of Arlington National Cemetery yesterday to view the grave of former President John F. Kennedy. Lynda's Attendants to Wear Red Velvet

The White House released this sketch, describing it as one of the gowns to be worn by the seven bridal attendants at the Dec. 9 White House wedding of Lynda Bird Johnson and Charles Robb.

AP Wirephoto

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson's seven bridal attendants will wear long gowns of a plush deep Goya red velvet designed by Geoffrey Beene of New York, it was announced officially Tuesday.

Red was chosen because of the pre-Christmas holiday time of year. The shade was made famous by the Spanish artist, Francisco Goya.

* * *

Details of bride-to-be Lynda's wedding gown will not be announced in advance of the Dec. 9 White House wedding, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to the First Lady, said.

The bridegroom, 28-year-old Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb of Milwaukee, Wis., will be wearing his military dress blue uniform, the striking Marine outfit of dark blue, almost black jacket, and trousers of sky blue, with a broad two inch scarlet stripe.

His fellow Marine best man will wear dress blues too, but the six other groomsmen will be in cutaways.

SAME OLD SUIT

President Johnson, escorting his daughter, will wear the same cutaway he wore when his younger daughter Lucy was married in August 1966.

The White House said a special altar will be constructed between the portraits of George and Martha Washington in the East Room. The 12-minute Episcopal ceremony will be performed by a Texas minister, the Rev. Canon Gerald McAllister of San Antonio, Tex.

The 500 guests will stand through the ceremony in both the East room and the red corridor, where the bridal party will enter for the double-ring ceremony and depart after the marriage under an arch of swords held by six Marine officers.

* * *

The red velvet gowns of Lynda's attendants will have simple lines, high stand-up collars, and fitted bodices with long tight wrist-length sleeves. High curved seams above the waistlines define the A-shaped skirt.

At the back of their heads, the bridesmaids will wear small grosgrain-covered circlets cut to resemble flowers. About a dozen half inch-wide streamers of matching red ribbon will fall from each petal to finger-tip length.

Wrist length white gloves will be worn to meet the sleeves.

WHITE HOUSE FLOWERS

The White House flower room plans to provide nosegays for the bridesmaids of flowers in the same shade of red as the gowns.

* * *

Miss Johnson chose designer Beene because, the White House said, he is one of her favorites. Beene, 40, native of Haynesville, La., studied in Paris and has won a number of designing awards.

He operates out of New York City, but the White House said that the bridesmaids' gowns are being purchased through Joseph Magnin Co. of San Francisco, Calif.

* * *

The wedding rehearsal will be held on Dec. 8.

Robb's family has sent out invitations for a black tie rehearsal dinner to be held that evening at the City Tavern, a private club in Georgetown.

Three Months Is Maximum for the Notes

By ELIZABETH L. POST

For the benefit of the many readers who are constantly asking me what the time limit is for sending thank you notes for wedding presents, I repeat: Thank-you letters should be written as soon as possible — the day the gifts arrive if the bride can do so.

But when there are many gifts, it is not always possible to keep up, and presents often continue to arrive while the couple is honeymooning. Letters for these gifts should be written promptly after the bride returns, and three months is the maximum period for acknowledging every last gift.

WINTER VISITORS

Dear Mrs. Post: Floridians entertain many visitors during the winter season. Few think to ask us to visit them in the North — a one-way business. How can they be made to reciprocate, so we won't always be hostess and never a guest? — Nancy Johnson.

Dear Mrs Johnson: Few Northerners think of their home areas as vacation spots. Other than dropping a hint — "We're thinking of making a trip North this July" — there isn't much you can do.

If it's any help, I'll issue a plea to wintertime vacationers to remember that their hosts would appreciate a return invitation.

TIPPING

Dear Mrs. Post: How much should the cafeteria waiter who carries the trays from the food display to the tables be tipped? When more than two diners are in the group, it usually means several waiters bring the trays.

Is each one to be tipped individually? —Ray

Dear Ray: I have never been in a cafeteria where waiters carried the trays. One of the attractions of a cafeteria is that there is no need to tip; they are almost invariably self-service.

I would be glad to hear from readers if this service is usual in other areas of the country.

In answer to the question, one who dines regularly at the same cafeteria, and has the same waiter frequently, might give him 50 cents or a dollar occasionally. But the one-time diner need not tip at all.

* * *

Who do you tip? When, and how much? You will find the answer to these questions in Elizabeth L. Post's booklet, "The Etiquette of Tipping."

Be Honest About Age

Not Worth the Price to Lie

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl 12 and one half years old, but I don't look it. I haven't started to develop or anything yet and could easily pass for 10 or 11.

When I go to a movie I say I am only 11, and get in for 50 cents. If I told the truth I would have to pay $1.75, which would leave me broke for the rest of the month.

ABBY

When I traveled with my mother last summer I said I was 11 and saved a lot of money on buses and planes. I also stayed in a motel for free.

I go to church and don't believe in cheating. But is this really cheating, Abby? I can't see where it is so wrong.

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Yes, it is cheatin, and it is VERY wrong. Furthermore, when one gets away with seemingly "petty" falsehoods, he is encouraged to try larger ones. That you are "wondering" is a healthy sign that your conscience is bothering you.

Tell yourself (and your mother, who is partly to blame for permitting it) that from this day on you will NOT lie about your age. The relief and inner joy you will get from such a decision cannot be measured in money.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A strange woman called me on the phone and accused me of having an affair with her husband because she found my name and phone number in his wallet.

I didn't even know what she was talking about until she told me where her husband worked. Then I remembered that I had cashed a check at that store a few days before, and the man who cashed it for me took down my address and phone number.

Since I am very happily married woman with four children and I don't even know this man, what do you think I should do about it?

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: Did you tell the woman the circumstances? If not, do so. If she doubts you, offer to forward a copy of the canceled check.

And if you ever see her husband again and he so much as looks sideways at you, take it up with the store's management.

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago, we were in some financial difficulty so my husband accepted the offer of an interest-free loan from his father. His father is a wonderful person, but he has his own ideas about things, and it seems that we have to live our lives according to HIS ideas instead of our own.

This is upsetting our marriage. Every time we want to spend a dollar we have to worry about what his parents will think. We aren't children, Abby. In fact, we have children of our own.

Thank heavens, we will soon be free and clear, and when we are, we will never borrow from his father again. I have read where you have advised against borrowing from relatives.

Please keep it up. I wish we hadn't.

MADE A MISTAKE

DEAR MADE: There are exceptions, of course, but most parents who give interest-free loans to their children obligate them in ways other than financial, causing ill will on both sides.

Parents would do their children a greater favor by teaching them to borrow money from a bank to establish good credit.

The First Family Keeps Tradition of Thanksgiving

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and his family will have a traditional Thanksgiving turkey dinner, with the same menu they have each year, the White House said today.

It is expected they will follow their tradition and have that dinner at the LBJ ranch in Texas, although no plans have been announced.

* * *

The Johnsons' older daughter, Lynda and her fiance, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, expect to be in Texas for a round of prenuptial parties.

TEXAS PARTY

One big party is scheduled for Thursday, given for the young couple by Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and widow of a Texas governor. She is giving a dinner-dance for Chuck and Lynda at the Ramada Club in Houston.

They will also be entertained by longtime friends of the Johnsons, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Woodward, who are planning a Friday evening party at the Dallas Club in Dallas.

* * *

On Sunday, Lynda's maid of honor and best friend, Warrie Lynn Smith, will entertain for Lynda at her San Antonio home.

And, on Monday another member of the wedding party, Mrs. Thomas Curtis, will give a kitchen shower for Lynda in Austin.

Mrs. Curtis is the former Carolyn Kellam, whose father directs the Johnson radio and television station KTBC in Austin.

MENU

As for the Thanksgiving dinner, scheduled for late Thursday afternoon, here is the menu as supplied by the White House:

Is Budget Counseling Really Worthwhile?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Bad luck can get a man into debt. But good luck can't be depended on to get him out. While he's waiting around for his luck to change, his creditors may merely be waiting until a garnishment can be slapped on his wages or a collection agency can crowd him into a corner.

But even with this squeeze play sapping his emotional and financial endurance, he may still believe he can repay his debts from current income if he can just get an objective analysis of his situation, preferably, at a very small counseling fee or no cost at all.

Such purely advisory help is available to some extent in many communities, but not in all. For example, Welfare Departments supported by both federal and state funds provide a certain amount of financial counseling—but how far in-depth such counseling can go must necessarily depend on the size and schedules of the staff, as well as their familiarity with basic money management.

Many credit unions offer a budget advisory service, and in some cases extend this service into the area of debt-pooling on a no-fee basis. Here again, it depends on the time and facilities of the treasurer of the union.

A study is now being made of counseling needs by the non-profit National Family Service Association, which is represented throughout the country. The question being raised is: how practicable is budget counseling at the community level, either with or without a fee being imposed?

One civic group decided to find out and set up operations in a small east coast community. For a year and a half, this "board," composed of bankers, creditors, and retailers were subsidized by companies that felt the need warranted the expense of a small office and paid staff.

There were no fees required of the debtor who came seeking their help, even though both advice and actual debt-pooling were combined. This was in no sense a commercial venture, as the civic-minded group put themselves on a voluntary basis.

However, the venture folded due to the high cost of operating, and the time-consuming demands put upon the acting members. The final upshot was that the creditors of the debtors who came for help decided it would be more to the point to deal directly with the men who owed the money.

The National Foundation for Consumer Credit, one of the sponsors of the above group, has also set up other groups around the country. However, the cooperation of creditors in these programs has been indifferent.

There are leaders in business and industry who believe that if private industry doesn't step in and recognize the need for debt-adjustment in some form, the government will. M. G. Miller, credit sales manager of a retail establishment in St. Paul, Minn., is one of these. Miller declared recently in an interview with a trade publication:

"There is no question that unscrupulous high rate debt adjusters have no place in the world of credit. But to say the principles of debt adjustment are wrong, simply because they can and are being misused, is to bury our heads in the sand and ignore the real problem."

Miller believes the biggest stumbling block in setting up a satisfactory debt counseling service is "how to finance the plan." One way, he points out, is to have each creditor who receives disbursements pay a percentage toward the cost of the operation.

With the growing emphasis today on Consumer Credit, the man neck-deep in debt is everybody's concern. How to get him out — and keep him out — is a problem we're all going to be living with for some time to come.

Case No. E-503

She Tells Woman's Side

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-503: Alma A., aged 34, is clever.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "a group of us mothers think you are a sex crank!

DR. CRANE

"You are always urging us to play up to our husbands to keep them from running after other women!

"Ugh! If single girls knew the mess they get into after marriage, they'd think twice before saying 'I do.'

"The poor, abused husband works hard from maybe 7 till 4 p.m.

"Then he comes home exhausted! To sit down in an easy chair and relax with the newspaper till his wife gets supper ready.

"He thinks she has been taking it easy all day!

"She only got his breakfast at 6:30 and packed his lunch so he'd get to work on time.

* * *

"Then she got the kids up, gave them breakfast, saw that several were scrubbed and then sent them off to school.

"There are two others not yet ready for school. They must be cleaned and fed. Bottles sterilized and filled for the youngest.

"Beds must be made and the wet things hung up to dry.

"Clothes picked up from the floor.

"Then, while she entertains the youngsters as she washes the kitchen dishes, she sees the diapers to be washed and yesterday's ironing staring her in the face.

"She also tries to clean up the house, in between phone call and salesmen at the door. Then lunch time!

"After she again sends the older kiddies back to school, the youngest must be put to bed for a nap, and the kitchen cleaned up again.

MEANWHILE

Meanwhile, mamma plans the evening meal and maybe must do some shopping.

"Aha, naps are over and kiddies back under foot again! Evening meal is started.

"Older children now home (from school and pandemonium reigns, while piano lessons and homework must be supervised, if you can keep the neighborhood kids away long enough!

* * *

"Then daddy arrives home, so tired out he must immediately rest till supper is ready! Mamma must meanwhile keep the kiddies quiet so they will not bother their daddy, who works so hard all day!

"Supper over! Daddy now watching TV. Mother clears up table and after homework and teasing are done, she gets kiddies to bed.

"Then organizes briefly for tomorrow's breakfast and daddy's lunchbox.

* * *

"As mamma finally sits down about 10 p.m. to relax and knit socks, daddy says 'Let's go to bed.' Mamma is dead tired, anyway.

"Dr. Crane, maybe you think women have an easy life, so why don't you give my side of the story and let some of those overworked husbands see the real facts? I dare you to print my true account!"

Well, Alma, I am happy to wake up the indolent husbands of such a busy mother as you are.

Such men should give their wives a break and help with the evening dishes.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I am trying to make some clear vinyl raincoats for my family for Christmas. This is the darnest stuff I have ever tried to sew on and I'm certainly not in a holiday mood. I could throw the whole mess away.

I just can't seem to get it to stitch and if I do, it doesn't look neat. Please help me before I lose all my religion! Mrs. C. S.

There are many types of vinyl and each one will have to be varied slightly in your sewing techniques. These pointers should help you beg over the hump.

When selecting your pattern, choose one with very few details. Straight lines are best. Although vinyl is pliable, it cannot be eased into seams and darts so I would suggest choosing raglan or kimono sleeves. They would be the easiest for an amateur to handle.

If your vinyl is transparent, you wouldn't use any type of interfacing or lining. If it isn't clear, you must use washable lining and interfacing, since vinyl doesn't dry clean.

Never pin the vinyl; the pins will leave permanent holes. Pin within the seam allowance. If any fitting is required, cut the garment out of muslin first and make your pattern changes ahead of time.

The machine stitch should be slightly longer than ordinarily used. Use about eight stitches to the inch. If your machine stitches are too fine, they will tear the vinyl when sewen. If you are going to top stitch, use at least six to eight stitches per inch. You may use mercerized threat; buttonhole twist amy be used for decorative top stitching.

Do not baste seams, you may clip them together with paper clips or hair clips and remove as you come to them. The vinyl will stick together so you won't have too much slippage. Be sure to place a piece of tissue paper between the vinyl and the metal surface of your machine so it will glide through as you stitch.

Since you can't press vinyl, you may flatten the seams by rubbing them with the smooth edge of your scissors. Top stitching is recommended because it keeps the seams from rolling and gives a neat appearance.

The seams may be opened and stitched on each side, or you may prefer a welt type seam which means the seams would lay in one direction and be stop stitched about one-fourth inch from seam. Darts should also be stitched to one side (after stitching, trim off the excess vinyl.)

Hems should ordinarily be stitched about one-fourth inch from the fold line. Vinyl couldn't be let down for growing children, so don't allow for extra length. Hope these little tips will help all of you. And, may I suggest you keep this in your file for future reference.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. A. Topoik, Waukegan, Ill., wins a Tailor Trix Pressing board for this trick.

"This is one of my oldest and most useful tricks, (used it last week on a cocktail dress 10 minutes before it went out)!

"If you discover your dress is too long, take a tuck in the hem with fine hand stitches or on machine, press, and presto—shortened without ripping or resewing."

Former Resident Schedules Vows

The engagement is announced of Susan Lynn Gerzanics and James Arnold Dobson.

The bride elect is the daughter of Mrs. B. E. Gerzanics of Palm Beach, Fla. and Anthony Gerzanics of Juno Beach, Fla., both formerly of Pontiac.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dobson of Plant City, Fla.

Post Christmas vows are planned.

Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Roger L Srigley (nee Ann Burdett) of Huntington Woods, announce the birth of a son, Kevin Castle Srigley on Oct. 29.

Grandparents are the George Burdetts of Steep Hollow Drive, White Lake Township and the Harold Srigleys of Heyden Street.

The player piano is getting a bright new "face" from Mary Hargrave with an application of a new furniture polish by Johnson Wax. It is the first polish to contain natural wax of lemon and its fragrance tends to leave a room smelling clean and fresh. Recommended for all types of furniture and household surfaces, it is especially suited for restoring a like-new appearance to pieces that show signs of wear.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

There is absolutely no truth to the story that in 35 years of married life Mary Zita Jacoby has never played a hand at three no-trump with her husband as dummy.

JACOBY

We know of several occasions, but we must admit that, like many husbands, Oswald Jacoby has a tendency to play most of the no-trump contracts.

His two-club response to Mary Zita's opening diamond bid was eminently correct. When you have a good hand, respond in your longest suit to prepare for a possible slam contract.

His second bid of three no-trump is open to question. It would have been far more scientific to bid two spades, but that would have wasted one round of bidding and might have led to a no-trump contract by Mrs. Jacoby.

The plays shows how an expert goes after that overtrick. We aren't going to speculate on what would have happened if the defense had thought of attacking the diamond suit at some early stage of the play.

The first spade was won by the queen. There was no reason to false-card with the king, since East could be sure his partner did not hold the queen but would be in doubt about the king.

A low club produced dummy's queen and East's ace. A second spade was won in dummy. A club was led and the 10 finessed. Then South played king and another club, while West signaled by playing the five and then the four of hearts.

East returned a heart to his partner's king. At this point, South was sure of nine tricks—three spades, three clubs, two hearts and a diamond—but he managed to make all the rest of the tricks for a total of ten.

It didn't require anything fancy. West led a third spade. South won, led a heart to dummy's queen, came back to his ace and played his last club.

West was down to two spades and the king-jack of diamonds. He had to unguard his king of diamonds to protect the spades, and the 10th trick went to dummy's nine of diamonds.

7 Free in Actor Assault Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Battery charges against seven of nine persons accused by actor Robert Vaughn were dismissed Tuesday by the district attorney's office.

Vaughn, star of the television series "The Man from U.N.C.L.E.," accused the nine persons of attacking him while he sat with friends in a restaurant booth last Oct. 13.

* * *

After a three-hour closed hearing, Deputy Dist. Atty. Noel Slipsager dismissed charges against all but Jack Blanck, ticket manager of the Los Angeles Lakers professional basketball team, and Mrs. Larry Reagan.

The actor claimed Blanck "pulled me from my booth, threw me across the room and to the floor, cutting my eye." Blanck has signed a statement that, after he went to Vaughn's table to invite him to join Blanck's group, the actor struck the first blow.

Malaysians Protest Money Devaluation

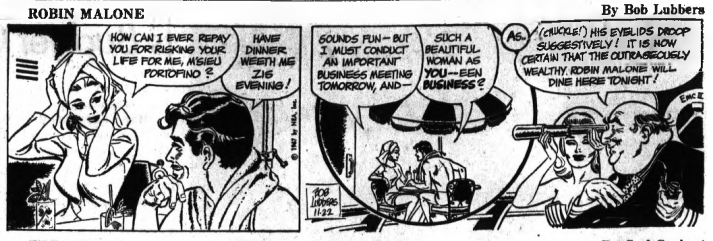

KUALA lumpur, Malaysia (AP) — Police fired tear gas Tuesday night in Penang to disperse 1,000 chanting demonstrators in what is believed to be the first violent protest against devaluation of Malaysia's currency in line with Britain's.

They were protesting the devaluation of the old sterling-backed Malayan dollar which is gradually being withdrawn from circulation. The new gold-backed dollar was not devalued.

The devaluation was felt most in rural areas where the old notes are still in wide use because of fewer banks.

You Too Can Be Friendless

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

About 30 years ago, Carnegie (Dale, not Andrew) sired a book titled "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

Presumably, if one hungering for friendship on a broad front mastered and practiced the author's precepts, one would in due course find one's self lousy with friends.

Inevitably, some would prove to be pretty lousy friends, but when you start raking in friends on a production scale, you'd expect to take the bad with the glad.

Heldenbrand

But what disturbs me about Mr. C.'s total friendship pitch is that another thinker, poet Alfred Tennyson, beat him to the punch half a century earlier with his "He Makes No Friend who Never Made a Foe."

* * *

What the rhymester's quip boils down to, it seems to me, is that before you can win yourself any friends you must first win yourself some enemies. Or, to put it another way, an individual's friend count would be equated with the number of citizens who hated his you-know-what.

BOOK TO BRIDGE GAP

So, as a friendly service to readers, your solicitous scribe is hard at work on a volume titled "How to Lose Friends and Repel People," that hopefully will bridge the philosophic gap between Alfred and Dale.

Space does not permit more than a glimpse of the vast area of friendship fracture which will be covered, from subtle stategy (e.g., topping a pal's exuberant recital of a fantastic fish he caught), progressing to the indirect (like forbidding your kids to play with their kids) and moving to the frontal (such as lending money to an earmarked foe and reminding him of the debt when repayment is overdue).

As in so many other areas of human relations, there are many problems inherent in keeping a working balance between friends and enemies as you set to cultivate the former (Carnegie) by first developing the latter (Tennyson).

* * *

One must guard against getting carried away by enemy making to the neglect of friend making, and wake up to find one's self possessed exclusively of enemies. (This is covered fully in Chapter V: "How to Tell Enemies From Friends.")

CHALLENGE TO VERSATILITY

But this state of affairs would not necessarily doom you to live out your years friendless and disliked. Rather it would pose a challenge to your versatility in reversing your field and converting present enemies into furutre friends.

However, this likewise has to be pursued with great artistry, else you may discover one day that you haven't an enemy in the world — thus necessitating a whole new campaign of enemy making. (See Chapter XII: "Always Let the Right Hand of Friendship Know What the Left Hand of Enmity Is Doing.")

Another thing. Unless kept under tight control, such repetitious swings from one extreme to another could not only become pretty monotonous but seriously wearing on the psyche as well. And as everyone knows, your standard psyche will stand just so much kicking around.

* * *

Perhaps the worst hazard presented by the enemy-friend syndrome is that the practice of it leaves little time for anything else. Neglect of business and family invariably follows, and by the time the practitioner has become a social floperoo on his way to oblivion he'll have neither friends nor enemies.

(The concluding chapter of the book, "How to Live Happily in a Vacuum," deals exhaustively with this predicament.)

Open Housing Foes Jeer at Detroit Session

DETROIT (UPI) — Opponents of a fair housing ordinance for the state's largest city crowded the Council auditorium yesterday, jeering as proponents of the legislation testified.

The common Council scheduled the open meeting to take testimony on the measure before casting its vote, probably next week.

Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams was jeered as he called for adoption of the measure both in Detroit and by the Michigan Legislature.

Calling fair housing legislation a part of the process to implement the Constitution, Williams said we are living "in a period when our society is on trial."

* * *

Speaking against the measure was Donald Lobsinger, head of the conservative group called Breakthrough. He was loudly cheered by many of his backers as he urged defeat of the legislation.

HYPOCRITICAL SLOGAN

"Open housing is not fair housing is just another slogan by hypocrites who use it to disguise their schemes to take away people's rights. It is a serious erosion into basic human rights."

* * *

G. Merrill Lenox, chairman of the Detroit Council of Churches, said his group continues its stand in favor of fair housing.

* * *

"The least we can do is to make it possible for an American family . . . to live in whatever community it chooses if it can meet its obligations to live in that community," Lenox said.

A survey indicates that mass-transit in cities is used more in hard times. When money becomes more plentiful, people use second cars for transportation.

Viet, De Gaulle LBJ's Big Disappointments

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, looking back on four years in the White House, cites two big disappointments: Failure to achieve peace in Vietnam and to improve relations with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Johnson, four years in office today, does not regard these as personal failures, however. He feels, for example, that the Vietnam situation was largely inherited and he simply—as he told a news conference last week—faced the 1965 decision to put up or shut up." As for De Gaulle, he is mindful that much of the French leader's displeasure with the United States grew out of his unpleasant relations with President Franklin D. Roosevelt during World War II.

The President was spending this anniversary at his ranch home near Johnson City, some 75 miles north of here. He and his wife Lady Bird flew to Texas Tuesday evening for a Thanksgiving holiday.

Looking ahead, Johnson's hopes for the coming year include:

- Peace both in Vietnam and the Middle East.
- Substantial progress in coping with the crime problem at home.
- Revolutionary efforts to rebuild the cities and to promote better housing and jobs.

Johnson, who isn't saying yet whether he will seek reelection next November, likes to quote former President Harry S. Truman as saying that personal, political fortunes don't count. Most people believe, however, that he wants another term and has already launched his campaign, if unofficially.

Looking back, the President finds a great deal to be pleased about: His handling of explosive crises in Panama and the Dominican Republic, establishment of relative stability in the hemisphere, avoidance of a Greek-Turkish war over Cyprus, preservation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization despite obstacles thrown up by De Gaulle and agreements on a number of items with the Soviet Union.

Johnson still feels that his meetings last June with Soviet Premier Alexsei Kosygin at Glassboro, N.J., were very productive. But he believes Kosygin has serious problems, involving both his personal health and his political future.

When surveying his own difficulties, many of them stemming from the Vietnam war, Johnson takes some solace in the fact that the Communists have suffered some notable setbacks during his term of office, notably in Indonesia and in the massive destruction of Soviet-supplied Arab arms during June's Middle East war.

He is convinced the United States is on the right track in Vietnam and that in 25 years his countrymen will thank him for his decision to become more deeply involved in Asia.

He sees Hanoi's Ho Chi Minh as getting considerably older and considerably weaker—and he wants very much to believe Gen. William C. Westmoreland's tentative estimate that, within two years, the South Vietnamese army may begin to take over some of the burden now borne by American arms.

Ex-Lion Brown in Homecoming

A lot of Dud Bowls are on tap for the New Year's weekend and one of the biggest duds of them all could be the Rose Bowl, the granddaddy of post-season football classics.

Best of all the bowls will probably be in Miami where Tennessee and Oklahoma will meet for the Orange title.

* * *

The Big Ten meanwhile, because of its antiquated and silly rule, will have its second or third best team go to Pasadena, and either representative will have a tough time digesting Orange Juice (Simpson) from Southern California.

* * *

Because Purdue, which finished second to Michigan State in the Big Ten last year, was the Rose Bowl entry, the Boilermakers can't return this year even though they will probably take all the marbles in the conference.

* * *

It would certainly be a shock if the Hoosiers of Indiana were to stop Purdue and as it appears, the Minnesota Gophers who were whipped 41-12 by the Boilermakers will make the trip.

Big Ten teams were spanked by non-league foes by a margin of 17 games to 12 this season, and only Indiana with a 3-0 mark wasn't defeated by a non-conference opponent.

SENTIMENTAL FAVORITE

It would be unlikely that the Hoosiers could handle Southern Cal, but sentiment among Midwest football fans would want Indiana to go to a bowl.

* * *

Indiana and Wyoming would make a good pair for the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston, but it will never happen.

Wyoming and LSU with a 5-3-1 record are slated for the Sugar Bowl and there is a possibility that Texas A&M with a 5-4 mark could be the Cotton Bowl representative should the Aggies defeat Texas in their Thanksgiving Day game.

With these team records slated for the bowl games, Duffy Daugherty's plan for having post-season playoffs and sending the best teams to the football classics looks better all the time.

* * *

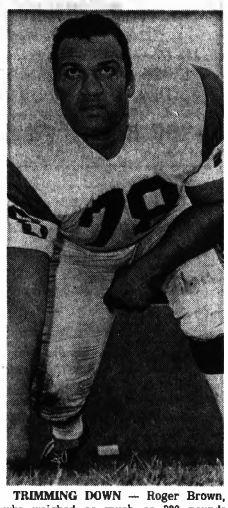

Maybe the Big Ten would modernize its rule which prohibits all members except the league champion from going to a bowl and to let the champion go regardless of how many times in succession.

Prep Cage, Swim, Wrestling Preview on Tap Tomorrow

With another chapter of prep football out of the way, The Press now turns the page for a preview of what's ahead on the high school winter sports scene.

On tap tomorrow in the Press' Thanksgiving Day edition is a rundown on basketball, swimming and wrestling for the 1967-68 campaign, a rundown that includes features and photos plus a look at how the teams stack up in league races.

Also on tap for tomorrow is a look at the 1967 Class B All-State football team.

TRIMMING DOWN — Roger Brown, who weighed as much as 330 pounds with the Detroit Lions, is now playing at 288 pounds for the Los Angeles Rams. Brown will be facing his old teammates tomorrow in the Thanksgiving Day game at Tiger Stadium.

Success on Road Keeps Red Wings at Head of Pack

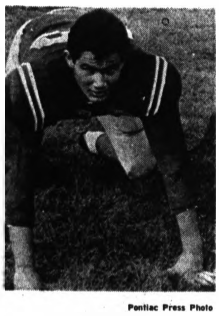

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Things have changed for the Detroit Red Wings this year. They're in first place and they don't even mind leaving the friendly confines of Olympia Stadium in Detroit.

The Wings, holders of first place in the National Hockey League's Eastern Division, take on the Philadelphia Flyers tonight in the fourth game of their current road trip.

Unlike last year, when the Wings weren't able to pick up a point on the road until their 14th game and a win until their 20th road game, the Detroiters hold a 3-2-3 road mark this season.

General Manager and coach Sid Abel says he is pleassd with the road performance and hopes to continue it tonight and again Saturday when the Wings travel to Toronto to meet the Maple Leafs who are tied with Boston for second place, one point behind the Wings.

Abel said Floyd Smith, who suffered a pulled leg muscle last Wednesday, would be back in action tonight

DAMAGED COIN — Pontiac Northern coach Dick Hall and the Huskies' basketball team will be without the services of forward Dana Coin for about five weeks. Coin, slated for a starting assignment with the Huskies, suffered torn ligaments in his left ankle during the football season and it was placed in a cast this week. Another of Hall's regulars is also sidelined. He's center Stan Allison, now recuperating from a knee operation brought on by a football injury. Fortunately, the Huskies have a lot of depth and Hall said he's confident the other players will take up the slack.

Detroiters Duel Rugged Rams in Turkey Game

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

At $10 a pound being overweight was a costly thing for big Roger Brown when he was playing defensive tackle for the Detroit Lions.

At one time Brown was up as high as 330 and he was told to trim down to 290 or pay $10 for every pound over 290.

That's $400 and Brown had to pay a big share of it because 292 was as low as he managed to get.

But now as part of the big front four of the Los Angeles Rams Brown is playing at 288 pounds. It is doubtful that the Rams are paying him the $20 difference for playing two pounds under 290, but for the Rams the deal was one of the best they've made.

When 290-pound Roosevelt Grier was injured and had to have knee surgery, the Rams were shrewd enough to trade for another giant tackle and they gave the Lions a No. 1 draft choice plus another, presumably a No. 3 pick, for big Roger.

However, the Rams, who play the Lions in the Turkey Day clash tomorrow at Tiger Stadium, made another shrewd move by trading Tommy McDonald for Atlanta's No. 1 choice.

Now the Atlanta Falcons will probably finish last in their division and therefore will be one of the first teams to get a draft choice, which will go to the Rams.

GOOD CHANCE

Thus, the Rams won't be losing anything in the deal with Detroit, because they have a good chance to win their division and their No. 1 choice which goes to the Lions will probably be one of the last picks.

Los Angeles is favored from 10 to 13 points over the Lions tomorrow and it will be Roman Gabriel going against probably Milt Plum.

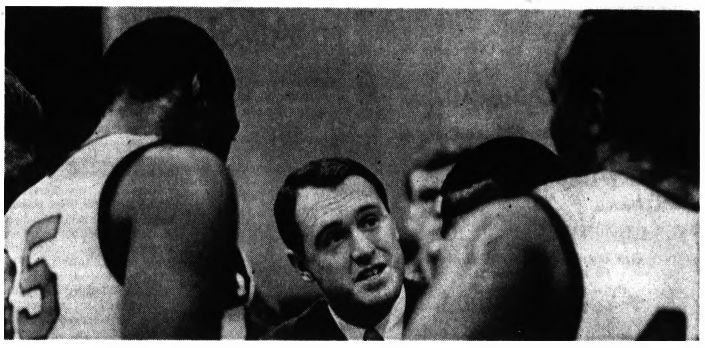

For Brown, it will be homecoming at Tiger Stadium. It was on the Detroit gridiron five years ago, Thanksgiving 1962 in the assault on Bart Starr and the Green Bay Packers, that Brown played

With Alex Karras having one of his best seasons with the Lions, the game tomorrow could be a competitive duel between the former teammates, both of whom could be the all-pro selections at defensive tackle this year.

Kickoff is noon tomorrow and 8,000 bleacher seats will go on sale at 10 a.m. at the stadium.

Ailing Gridders Back

LAS VEGAS, N. M. (AP) — New Mexico Highlands football coach John Levra announced Tuesday that Carl Garrett and Ben Cortez, who missed last week's game due to injuries, will be ready when the Cowboys meet Eastern Washington State here Saturday in the NAIA championship semifinals.

COMET CONVERSATION—Coach Bob Duffy of the Pontiac Tomahawks, whose home debut in the NABL was spoiled last Saturday in the final seconds by the Grand Rapids Tackers, 132-129, huddles with the team in discussing game strategy. Jim Patterson (left) 6-8 forward and Joe Maddrey, 6-5, are in the picture. The Tomahawks play the Columbus Comets, with several former outstanding Ohio State stars on the squad tonight at Pontiac Northern High School. It will be the first Eastern Division game in the NABL for the Tomahawks.

T-Hawks Face Comets Tonight

A major point in the development of the Pontiac Tomahawks professional basketball fortunes could be reached tonight at Northern High School against a bunch of Buckeyes.

* * *

The Columbus Comets invade the PNH court to meet the Pontiac pros in second North American Basketball League home game for the Tomahawks.

* * *

Coach Bob Duffy and his squad lost their home opener Saturday night to Grand Rapids in a 132-129 thriller that wasn't decided until the final 10 seconds. It left the Tomahawks with a 0-2 mark.

Columbus topped Holland, 119-114, that same night for its initial victory; and the Comets will enter tonight's game as slight favorites.

Pontiac's quintet displayed its best three quarters of basketball in a gallant rallying effort against the superior Grand Rapids' squad, and a conquest tonight would be a big boost for the local squad.

DECISION

Duffy has been choosing his lineup from a 12-14 man roster, but the former Colgate University star is about to cut back to 9-10 regular performers.

Tonight's tilt and tomorrow's Thanksgiving visit to Lansing will likely finalize his decision on the Tomahawks' nucleus.

The Lansing Capitols (2-0) will entertain the Tomahawks at 8 p.m. in the Waverly High School gym.

Flashy Ernie Thompson and Dave Gaines earned the fans' plaudits for their efforts against Grand Rapids. They teamed with Jim Patterson, Joe Maddrey, Lou Hyatt, Ken Nevels and Marty Letzmann to pressure the Tackers into frequent second-half mistakes.

* * *

The visiting Comets feature a pair of Ohio State University cage alumni plus an ex-Bowling Green performer. Joe Roberts in the player-coach for Columbus and their standout performer

He was a star on the OSU campus just before the Buckeyes' ascension into the national collegiate cage spotlight. Roberts played very capably for several seasons in the National Basketball Association.

His Buckeye cohort is 6-3 guard Tom Bowman. The Bowling Green grad is 6-0 Frank Wade. They alternate with ex-Lincoln College (Mo.) flash Arvesta Kelly, a Cincinnati Royals' prospect.

The rebounding chores are shared by Roberts, 6-5 Bob Patton (New York University), 6-8 Dick Kutchen and 6-4 Jim Doughty.

* * *

A key man missing from the Columbus quintet that finished second in the NABL last year is ex-All America Gary Bradds, another Ohio State grad. He was recently sold to Houston of the American Basketball Association.

OL St. Mary Center Earns Spot on All-State Squad

The Eaglets of Orchard Lake St. Mary went a long way for a team picked to go nowhere in football during the 1967 campaign.

But OLSM surprised everyone by romping to a 7-0 record and bagging the championship in the Northwest Parochial League.

And much of the credit for the successful season rests on the shoulders of center John Wojtys, a solid 6-3, 185-pounder, who steadied the young Eaglet offense and played the middle linebacker spot on defense.

Wojtys' play did not go unrecognized. He was named today to the Associated Press All-State Class C team.

Wojtys anchored the powerful OLSM line and he had a hand in two out of every five tackles in the Eaglets' eight games. Wojtys played a superb game in the OLSM finale, a 20-0 loss to St. Thomas in the league playoffs.

TWO NAMED

Top-rated Galesburg—Augusta's powerful Rams, unbeaten the last two years, placed two men on the Class C squad.

Halfback Tom Dieterman and guard Frank Cox were the mainstays of Coach Bill Maskill's scoring machine which ground nine opponents into the dust this year.

Other first team selections were ends Gary VanElst of Middleville and Pat Balmer of Harrison, tackles Gary Walters of Flint Holy Redeemer and Sam Michaels of Detroit St. Ambrose, guard Joe Kamaly of Saginaw St. Stephen, quarterback Bill Spencer of Vandercook Lake, and halfbacks Butch Hoelzer of Clinton and Ken Brown of St. Ignace.

Dieterman heads a small, but swift backfield which averaged 18 touchdowns a man.

The 6-foot, 145-pound Galesburg flash scored 16 touchdowns, including two on kickoff returns. He carried the ball 74 times for 893 yards, an average of 12.1 yards per carry.

Spencer, the state's top Class C quarterback, led Vandercook Lake to a record of 16 victories, one loss and a tie in the last two years, passing for 2,390 yards and 32 touchdowns.

* * *

The smallest man on the squad at 5-foot-8 and 155 pounds, Spencer's size proved no handicap when it came to scoring. He hit on 55 of 119 passes this year for 951 yards and 18 touchdowns. Spencer ran for 332 yards and two touchdowns and scored 14 extra points on runs.

Clinton's Hoelzer gives the Class C backfield its only big man. The 6-foot-4, 200-pound halfback rolled up 1,082 yards in 164 tries for a 6.6 average carry and 13 touchdowns. He caught six passes for 78 yards and as a passer, hit on four of five passes for 119 yards and three touchdowns. Hoelzer, a B-plus student, is a member of the National Honor Society.

Soccer Teams Await Merger or Court Fight

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The United States' two soccer leagues have until Monday noon to merge. After that, there'll be an $18-million court fight, Commissioner Ken L. Macker of the National Professional Soccer League told sports writers Tuesday.

Macker said, "A merger appears to be close; but I've told you that before and when I left there was no merger. However, the owners are optimistic and I am pleased over the prospects."

Pontiac Open Bowling Prize Fund Could Swell

The possibility of a record number of entries in the Pontiac Open Bowling Championship strengthens the probability of a greater prize fund which could reach $1,000 for first place.

The largest number of entries over a three-week qualifying period happened in 1963 when 1,200 bowlers participated in the tournament.

* * *

Interest in the 1967 tournament has been keen at all qualifying sites. Huron Bowl, Lakewood Lanes and Fairgrounds Bowling are holding qualifying this Saturday and Sunday and at least 300 more bowlers are expected to shoot for the target score of 600.

Qualifying concludes next weekend, and then the tournament proper begins with the semifinals Dec. 10 at 300 Bowl and the finals Dec. 17 at Huron Bowl.

The total prize fund could reach and even surpass $5,000 this year to brighten the holidays for possibly 200 bowlers.

The women bowlers of the area have been the surprise of qualifying to date, having taken some of the top spots in the first weekend.

The Mix 'N Match doubles have stimulated interest by the women. A team from 300 Bowl posted a 3,180 at Cooley Lanes last weekend to lead this feature while the mixed doubles pair of Naoma Johnston and Harry Roberson totalled 1,194 at Howe's Lanes.

Entering this team or doubles feature is a very simple procedure.

Bowlers who enter the singles tournament need only to print the name of their partner or team members on the back of their entries who are bowling on the same squad. They should be clipped together as only the score from that squad shall count.

MAY RE-ENTER

If the bowler fails to qualify he can re-enter and if he wishes again to be in the doubles or team feature he must bowl on the new squad with his choices.

For an added $50 in each feature, bowlers are foolish for not participating.

This is a situation which came about last Sunday at 300 Bowl:

Millie Anderson marked son Archie as her doubles partner on one squad. Millie qualified and Archie failed.

On the next squad Archie and sister Nancy Jarrell teamed in doubles, but Archie qualified and Nancy didn't.

So, Nancy re-entered for a later squad but failed to mark a doubles partner. Subsequently she rolled a 643, second best at 300 Bowl and is out of contention for the added doubles prize because she failed to mark a male doubles partner who was bowling on the same squad she re-entered.

All bowlers should check with the sites for squad times, Saturday and Sunday.

Brown, the St. Ignace whiz, sparked his team to an 8-1 season by rushing for 985 yards and 13 touchdowns. He tossed 15 passes for 178 yards.

Middleville's VanElst, biggest man on the squad at 6-foot-3 and 250 pounds, is the only repeater from last year's team. His size enabled him to toss the shotput 60 feet in a national high school track meet last spring. A great offensive blocker, VanElst used his speed and agility to anchor the Middleville defensive line as a linebacker on defense.

Balmer, the other end, scored seven touchdowns on 36 receptions and averaged 15 tackles a game on defense.

Walters, who was a standout defensive player for Flint Holy Redeemer, is the tallest boy on the team at 6-foot-5.

Coach Joe Carruthers calls Michaels the "best blocking tackle I've ever had." The three-year starter goes both ways and averaged seven tackles per game for St. Ambrose.

Cox was the outstanding lineman on a Galesburg team which gave up only seven points all season. He averaged 12 tackles a game on defense, intercepted three passes and averaged 44.6 yards per kick on 55 kickoffs.

Kamaly was the great pulling guard who sparked St. Stephen to a 6-1 season and is one of the finest prep blockers in the state.

So. Cal Star Back of Week

By the Associated Press

"I owe it all to my blockers," O. J. Simpson said.

"He turned an eight-yard gain into a fantastic run," said John McKay enthusiastically.

"We're number one," shouted the Southern California rooters joyously.

And, indeed, the Trojans did regain the top spot in the Associated Press poll, beating UCLA 21-20 Saturday as Simpson gained 177 yards and scored two touchdowns.

To the surprise of precisely nobody, Associated Press' Simpson was named the college football Back of The Week. It was the second time this season he has been cited.

* *

Simpson's second touchdown came in the fourth period on what was supposed to be a pass play. But Trojan quarterback Toby Page saw the Bruins' defense was ready for it and checked off to a run.

Quicker than you could spell Orenthal O. J. burst through the line and dashed 64 yards for the winning score.

Simpson praised the blocking of Sandy Scott and Earl McCullough on the play, but Trojan Coach McKay gave most of the credit for the run to O. J. himself.

Bowl Foes Lining Up

By the Associated Press

The Texas-Texas A&M rivalry, almost as traditional in Texas as Thanksgiving, is extra appetizing this year with the Longhorns and Aggies also trying to carve up each other for the Southwest Conference title and a trip to the Cotton Bowl.

The game at College Station, home of the Aggies, shares the feature billing on Thursday's college football schedule with the Oklahoma game at Nebraska where the Sooners try to wrap up the Big Eight crown.

Elsewhere, Villanova plays at Toledo and Virginia Tech and VMI clash at Roanoke.

* * *

Texas has dominated the series that started back in 1894, winning 51 times and losing 17 with five ties. The Longhorns have won the last 10 times.

This year, the game rates about even and a victory by the Aggies would give them a 6-1 SWC record, the title and a date against Alabama in Dallas Jan. 1. A Texas victory would deadlock the two at 5-2 and open the way for a possible four-way tie should Texas Tech beat Arkansas Saturday and TCU whip Rice Saturday and SMU Dec. 2.

Edd Hargett, whose passes have carried A&M to five straight victories after losing four in a row, leads the Aggies against Texas' all-purpose quarterback, Bill Bradley, and Chris Gilbert, an All-America candidate at halfback.

BOWL BID

The loser is likely to get an invitation to the Bluebonnet Bowl Dec. 23 in Houston, although Texas coach Darrell Royal has said his team would not consider a bowl bid if the Longhorns, now 6-3, finish at 6-4.

Colorado, still with an outside chance to tie Oklahoma for the Big Eight' championship, accepted a bid to the Bluebonnet Monday.

* * *

Oklahoma, fifth ranked in the nation with a 7-1 record, needs a victory over Nebraska or Oklahoma State Dec. 2 to win the crown. The Sooners already have accepted an Orange Bowl bid against Tennessee.

Georgia, which closes against Georgia Tech Saturday, took an invitation Tuesday night to play in the Liberty Bowl with Syracuse, UCLA's opponent Saturday, a rumored opponent.

* * *

Florida and Florida State play Saturday for a Gator Bowl bid against Penn State, which finishes against Pittsburgh. Minnesota can line up a trip to the Rose Bowl by beating Wisconsin or if Indiana loses to Purdue.

* * *

* * *

In the big game Friday night, Miami of Florida, still entertaining bowl hopes, entertains Notre Dame.

Boycott Talks Slated in LA

Negro Youths Plan Three-Day Workshop

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Talks that might lead to a Negro boycott of the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico will begin Thursday at a Black Youth Conference in Los Angeles.

Harry Edwards, holder of San Jose State's discus record and a former basketball player, said Tuesday the three-day conference will be for Negro youth 15 to 30 in the seven western states. He added "all American Negro world class athletes will be there."

* *

Edwards, a 24-year-old sociology teacher at San Jose State college, declined to say which athletes, amateur or professional, would attend.

The meeting, called the Olympic boycott workshop, is only "one of many workshops" and would be attended by 1,000 persons, Edwards said.

"We've been talking about it since 1960 and I feel very strongly that we are going to pull it off," Edwards said of the boycott.

* * *

He noted that black athletes "dominate the prestige events—the sprints and the relays."

"We are not trying to destroy the United States in the Olympics," he said. "We are trying to bring to everyone's attention that the United States is as racist as South Africa ever was."

* * *

"Black athletes are tired of being used by a racist society. We simply live in a racist society and we are recognizing the fact. This is only one of many reasons," he said, for the proposed boycott.

NEW YORK (AP) — With four games to go, Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns appears a cinch to crack the 1,000-yard club for the second straight year.

Kelly, the leading rusher in the National Football League and an odds on choice to succeed Gayle Sayers as the league rushing champ, has gained 871 yards in 168 carries, an average of 5.2 yards.

HANDY ROOKIE — Minnesota Twins' Rod Carew, a handy young man with a baseball glove and bat, is also a handy fellow in the kitchen and that's where he happened to be yesterday when word came he had been named the American League's Rookie of the Year. Carew, 22, who is unmarried, batted .292 for the season.

Indians, Reds in Player Deal

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians opened the inter-league trading season Tuesday by sending first basement Fred Whitfield and pitcher George Culver to Cincinnati for outfielder Tommy Harper in a straight player trade.

* * *

The trade was announced 10 hours after the start of the period in which inter-league trades are permitted. The deadline is Dec. 15.

* * *

It was the first Indians trade since Manager Alvin Dark was named to head the American League club in October, replacing Joe Adcock.

* * *

The National League Reds also will get outfielder Bob Raudman, whose assignment from the Chicago Cubs to Cincinnati was arranged by the Indians.

Warriors Whip Detroiters, 124-98

Pistons Lack Zing Without Dave Bing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors drubbed the Detroit Pistons 124-98 in a National Basketball Association game Tuesday night at the Cow Palace.

Detroit played without its leading scorer, Dave Bing and was no match for the well-rested Warriors.

* * *

It took San Francisco 3½ minutes to hit its first goal. But the Warriors moved to a 27-23 first-quarter lead.

In the second quarter, with the score tied 33-33, the Warriors reeled off 19 points while holding the Pistons to four. Jeff Mullins led the move with seven and Bob Warlick chipped in six late in the half.

The Pistons hit only 27 per cent of their field shots in the first half.

Bing, who injured his right hand when knocked to the floor in Tuesday's game with Seattle, is a doubtful starter at Los Angeles Thursday.

Adding to their troubles, Piston Coach Dennis Butcher was ejected from the game with five minutes remaining by referee Joe Gushue.

Apparently Butcher had some unkind words for Gusher, who retorted, "You've got some nerve, the way you coached tonight."

The feeble Detroit attack was led by Terry Dischinger who picked up 19 points. Tom Van Arsdale added 17 and Jim Walker and Paul Long had 12 each.

The defeat left the Pistons with a 10-8 won-lost record and in third place, four games behind Boston, leaders of the Eastern Division.

In another NBA game Tuesday night, it took the New York Knicks two overtime periods to finally nip the stubborn Chicago Bulls 125-123.

In the prelude to the Knicks-Bulls game at New York's Madison Square Garden, the Boston Celtics downed the San Diego Rockets 121 - 114. Elsewhere in the NBA, Seattle got 47 points from rookie Bob Rule and edged Los Angeles 137-132.

Rookie Honors for Flashy Twin

NEW YORK (AP) — Rod Carew, the fleet Panamanian who made the American League All-Star team halfway through his initial big league season, became the first second baseman ever to win the circuit's Rookie-of-the-Year award today. He missed by a single vote of being a unanimous choice.

Carew received 19 votes in the balloting by 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Outfielder Reggie Smith of the pennant-winning Boston Red Sox was named on one ballot.

* * *

Carew, a 22-year-old native of Gatun, Panama, batted .292 for the Twins. He had 22 doubles, seven triples, eight homers and 51 runs batted in. His average was the sixth highest in the circuit.

* * *

Smith, who started slowly, wound up with a .246 average, 15 homers, 61 RBI and 17 steals.

Carew is the second Minnesota player to win the rookie award. Outfielder Tony Oliva took it in 1964. The Twins moved Carew up from Wilson of the Carolina League where he hit .292 in 1966. He was the starting second baseman for the American League in the 1967 mid-season All-Star Game and was hitless in three times at bat before being replaced by Dick McAuliffe of Detroit.

TOP AVERAGE

Carew's average last season was the highest among major league second basemen. Early in the campaign, he had five hits in one game and a streak in which he reached base safely 11 straight times—nine by hits.

In the field, Carew played errorless ball for the first 22 games. He wound up with 15 errors and a .976 average in 134 games.

Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees, the 1951 rookie award winner, played 55 games at second base that year. However, most of his defensive work was done at third base, where he played 82 games.

Jim Gilliam of Brooklyn in 1953, Ken Hubbs of Chicago in 1962 and Pete Rose of Cincinnati in 1963 captured the National League rookie award while playing second base. The award was originated in 1949.

Pitcher Tom Seaver of the New York Mets was named the NL's outstanding rookie for 1967 earlier this week.

UCLA has not lost a basketball game since the great Lew Alcindor started to play for them—but do you know if ANY team on which Alcindor played ever lost a game? . . . When he was in high school at Power Academy in New York, he played in 79 games over three seasons and his team won 78 . . . The only team ever to beat Alcindor was DeMatha High of Hyattsville, Md. . . . They won over Lew's high school team when Lew was a senior, 46-43.

Most fans assume the huddle has always been part of a football game, but did you know that football was almost 30 years old before anyone thought of having a team to into a huddle to discuss the next play? . . . The coach who was the first to get this idea was Pop Warner when he coached Georgia in 1896 . . . And because Georgia had an unbeaten, untied team that year, other teams quickly picked up the huddle idea.

Leads Press Derby

First Deer a Trophy

Most deer hunters stalk the woods for a lifetime without seeing a trophy buck.

Richard E. Witkop Jr., 2901 Lynch, Highland Township, is one of the fortunate. He will cart a trophy head off to the taxidermist. It was his first deer.

★ ★ ★

Witkop dropped a 200-pounder near his home about 9 a.m. Sunday. The big buck carried a head with 16 points over one inch and several smaller tines protruding around the base of each antler.

The head is for mounting and the weight is for entering — The Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest. And Witkop's entry is the heaviest so far in the derby which ends at noon, Dec. 3.

Should his entry hold on, the Ford Motor worker will receive the $150 in savings bonds.

All residents of Oakland County are available. Weight is the only determining factor. Only bucks taken in Michigan can be entered. The deer must be weighed on state approved scales and a weight slip signed by the hunter, person doing the weighing and a witness must be brought to The Press sports department between 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The deer must be seen by a representative of The Press.

This was Witkop's third try. He was hunting with his brother, Tom, of Hickory Ridge Road, Highland Township, when he spotted the buck through some brush. It took three shots to down the deer.

DAMP START

Rain, sleet and snow Saturday dampened hunters and opening day results in Oakland County. But action improved Sunday with at least 10 bucks taken in the Holly area and two others north of Ortonville.

Seven were known tagged in the Milford-Highland area.

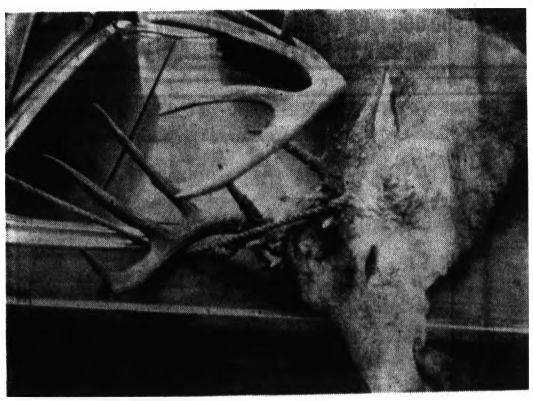

James Acree, 235 W. Cornell took a four-pointer near Hadley. A 180-pounder was reported downed off Fox Lake Road Monday afternoon.

Hunting in Northern Michigan has been spotty. Some hunters are seeing plenty of deer while others are spotting few, depending on the area.

Kurt Thompson, 14, of 3520 Woodland, Highland, scored on his first trip. Hunting with his father, Bruce, near Cadillac, Kurt wanted to go out "one more time" Monday instead of leaving for home as scheduled

The result was a six-pointer hit on the run at 85 paces with a 20-gauge slug. His father failed to connect.

Snow in some areas of the northern Lower Peninsula aided hunters. Heavy snows late last week chased other nimrods out of the woods in the western U.P.

HEAVIEST ENTRY — Richard E. Witkop Jr. (top photo), 2901 Lynch, Highland Township, has reason to smile. He downed the 200-pounder Sunday morning near his home and it leads The Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest. The buck carried 16-point antlers. Weight is the only determining factor.

EIGHT-POINTER — Harry Curtis, 16, of 970 S. Lapeer, Oxford Township, may have bagged one of the first deer of the season in Oakland County on Saturday's opening day. Hunting four miles north of Oxford, Harry dropped his eight-point buck at 8:30 a.m.

More Violators Reported

Hunters Policing Own Sport

LANSING (AP) — Deer hunters are doing a good job again this year of policing their own sport against violators, reports the law enforcement division of the State Conservation Department.

Ken McCord, of the enforcement division, reported that violations in the northern part of the state appear to be up slightly from last year—this based on the first weekend of hunting.

★ ★ ★

The first tally shows violation complaints against hunters are fewer—but there are more complaints of the type that result in arrest and convictions.

"You might say we're getting a better quality of complaints," McCord said. "They are more actionable. In the Roscommon area, we had 31 actionable complaints in the first two days."

More of the people reporting violations, he said, are coming in and offering to appear as witnesses.

In one case, McCord said, a hunter appeared to say he shot a doe by mistake. But then two other hunters followed him in and reported the shooting as deliberate.

So far, McCord said, there have been practically no complaints of hunters illegally shining and shooting deer at night.

One reason, he said, might be a new law forbidding hunters to carry a gun in the car where it might be easily accessible to shoot down deer.

The stiffer penalties enacted by the Legislature also are seen as a deterrent.

These provide for compensation of between $100 and $200 for an illegal elk.

Judges have been slapping violators with the stiff fines and the word apparently is getting around among hunters.

Those temped to violate, feel $200 is too high a price for illegal venison.

It Doesn't Pay to Argue Over Rifle With Officer

An area deer hunter has found it doesn't pay to argue about a trifle with conservation officers.

Johnny W. Byrd, 25, of 4111 Davisburg, Holly Township, was ordered to pay $90 in fines and costs by Justice William H. Stamp of Independence Township after pleading guilty Monday to having a high power rifle in his possession for hunting deer.

★ ★ ★

Only shotguns and muzzle loaders 44 caliber or over are permissible deer hunting weapons in Southern Michigan.

★ ★ ★

District Law Supervisor George Bruso and State Trooper Tom Brooks spotted Byrd and a companion in a Holly Township field after receiving a complaint late Saturday afternoon of someone shooting a high-powered rifle.

According to Bruso, when he asked Byrd for the rifle, the Hunter balked. Finally, said the officer, Byrd jammed it into a creek bottom. Bruso fished it out.

On the way to the patrol car, Byrd grabbed the rifle and he and Bruso fell to the ground grappling over it. Brooks called on the patrol car's radio for assistance.

★ ★ ★

State police, Oakland County sheriff's deputies and conservation officers responded, but Bruso and Brooks were able to regain control of the situation before help arrived.

★ ★ ★

"He just didn't want to give up that rifle," said Bruso who was mud-covered from the engagement. The rifle was taken as evidence and will be returned to Byrd when the fine is paid.

He has until Dec. 1 to pay or serve 16 days in jail.

Wild Turkeys on 125 Tables

Spring Shoot Eyed by Game Experts

Only 325 Michigan hunters were able to duplicate the feat of the pilgrim fathers this year by going out and shooting their own wild turkey for Thanksgiving.

The low success ratio for the 10-day special season ending Nov. 12 was reported by the state conservation hunters.

★ ★ ★

There were 1,400 hunters allowed the special permits but rainy weather cut down the turkey kill.

The standout trophy reported was a record 28-pound, 8-ounce tom turkey shot by Frank Tucker of Richmond in the Baldwin area.

The conservation department, meanwhile, said it is considering a week-long special season next mid-May, with males only legal targets.

Shooting would be allowed in the Baldwin and Mio areas, where wild turkey numbers are estimated at about 2,300.

The special permit numbers tentatively are being set at 800 for the Baldwin area and 500 for the Mio area.

Wetland Program

Bills Aid Duck Hunters

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of several bills moving through Congress with the blessing of duck hunters and conservationists would provide a $59 million expansion of waterfowl refuges.

Others would give the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission more power and make the new Secretary of Transportation one of its members.

The House is expected promptly to approve a Senate amendment and send to the White House the refugee bill, which the Senate passed by voice vote last week.

This measure, sponsored by Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., and Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., would extend for eight more years a seven-year federal program of land acquisition for migratory waterfowl refuges.

About a million acres may be added to the wetlands with extension of the program authorized by Congress in 1961, Metcalf said in an interview.

Congress authorized an advance of $150 million seven years ago for the purchase of 2.5 million acres, to be repaid partly by receipts from the sale of duck stamps to hunters. Metcalf said.

Haunch of Elk Now Available

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tired of turkey for Thanksgiving? How about a nice haunch of elk or buffalo?

The Interior Department announced that fresh elk and buffalo meat, in carcass and half-carcass lots only, is being sold at the Wichita mountains wildlife refuge near Cache, Okla. The only catch is the price: up to $180 for a carcass of buffalo, $90 for elk.

Over Two Million Attend Rec Areas

Helped along by the recent pheasant hunting season, attendance at the state recreation areas and parks in Oakland County went over the two-million mark earlier this month.

Alfred Masini, district parks supervisor of the Conservation Department, reported that 2,013,178 people had used the county's seven state areas through Nov. 12.

There was some question whether the mark would be reached because last summer's cool weather had cut attendance.

But hunters used the lands in good numbers and are continuing to do so during the current deer season.

This is the second straight year attendance has gone over two-million.

Although it was used mostly by a few boaters after Labor Day, Dodge Park No. 4 on Cass Lake pulled enough people during the summer to continue as the most popular area.

Attendance at the park is set at 390,381.

Other totals are Bald Mountain 194,053; Highland 196,345; Holly 245,371; Pontiac Lake 291,954; Proud Lake 325,499; and Rochester-Utica 369,635.

"These are conservative figures," said Masini. "It is impossible to get an accurate count because the areas can be reached along so many roads.

"The only places we can actually count cars and people is at the park entrances."

He reported that new sanitary and concession facilities are being constructed at Pontiac Lake and that work on improved campground facilities at Wildwood Lake campground in the Holly area is progressing.

Junior Editors Quiz on CHARCOAL

QUESTION: Where does charcoal come from and what is its use?

* * *

ANSWER: Charcoal is an animal or vegetable substance which has not been completely burned. If you blow onto a burning match, the twisted blackened end which remains is charcoal.

* * *

Much of the charcoal we use comes from incompletely burned hardwood. Because it burns with a smokeless flame and throws out a great deal of heat, charcoal is often used in cookouts.

Since charcoal is porous, it can absorb odors and impurities from the air; it is also used for purifying water. Special kinds of charcoal such as lampblack and bone black are used in making paints.

Many artists, use charcoal in stick form to lay out their pictures, just as the artist is doing in our picture. If she wants to change a line, she dusts off the charcoal with a clean cloth. Fixitif is frequently blown over the charcoal lines so they will not mix with the paint.

Viet Pullout Forecast Has Familiar Ring

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland's prediction of possible U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam within two years evokes memories of a forecast antiwar critics have never let Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara forget.

Both the Westmoreland forecast and McNamara's 1963 prediction hinged on the same factor: Development of the South Vietnamese army as a force effective enough to fight Communist forces with decreasing U.S. help.

* * *

But there is an important difference in the firmness of the predictions made by McNamara and Westmoreland, some four years apart.

McNamara forecast a major part of the U.S. military job could be finished within two years, by the end of 1965.

TWO YEARS AGAIN

But Westmoreland speaks about a token withdrawal starting in about two years and hopefully becoming progressively larger. And the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam repeatedly uses the word "conceivably" in speaking of the beginning of the phase-down over that span.

Asked at the National Press Club Tuesday whether he felt uncomfortable about making such a prediction in the light of McNamara's forecast, Westmoreland replied:

"My statement is to the effect it is conceivable to me that within two years or less it will be possible for us to phase down our level of commitment and turn more of the burden of the war to the Vietnamese forces."

On Oct. 2, 1963 the White House issued the statement that McNamara since has regretted. It came after he and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, then chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, had returned to Washington from a Vietnam inspection.

FROM WHITE HOUSE

The White House press office announced:

"Secretary McNamara and Gen. Taylor reported their judgment that the major part of the U.S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965, although there may be a continuing requirement for a limited number of U.S. training personnel.

* * *

"They reported that by the end of this year the U.S. program for training Vietnamese should have progressed to the point of where 1,000 U.S. military personnel assigned to South Vietnam can be withdrawn."

* * *

Within a month, President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown and killed and an 18-month period of further coups and chaos followed.

By the spring of 1965, the South Vietnamese army was reeling, its reserves near the vanishing point.

BUILDUP STARTED

And in midsummer President Johnson set in motion a major American military buildup to save South Vietnam—a buildup now due to reach 525,000 men by mid-1968.

Many things have changed in Vietnam since McNamara's prediction. Not the least of these developments has been the increasingly intensive bombing assault on North Vietnam, aimed at hampering Hanoi's ability to support the Communist assaults in South Vietnam.

* * *

In those two years, the South Vietnamese army has had the chance—behind a protective screen of American fighting units—to rebuild, retrain and develop better leadership.

Westmoreland may have hedged his prediction of the beginning of a U.S. military "phase-down" by referring to it as conceivable rather than definite.

* * *

But if the forecast is not born out by events, few people will remember his hedge.

Hart Charges Draft Bias on Organizations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., accused the selective service Tuesday of reclassifying students for the draft because they belong to organizations local boards don't like.

Hart, who has been critical of the reclassification of students who interfere with armed services recruiters, said in a prepared Senate speech that he opposes any such policy.

"At the risk of sounding dramatic," he said, "I think a reasonable question might be: can the republic endure a policy that allows federal officials to decide what political organizations are in the national interest and permits them to induct the membership of any group that doesn't pass the test?"

Hart cited an order of the Tulsa, Okla., draft board reclassifying John Ratliff, a University of Oklahoma student, to I-A on the ground that he was active in the Students for a Democratic Society, a group opposed to the Vietnam war.

The Tulsa board's letter to Ratliff said it "did not feel that your activity as a member of SDS is to the best interests of the U. S. government."

January Induction Quota Is Highest in 14 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon yesterday ordered the induction of 34,000 men into the Army in January, the highest draft call in 14 months.

The main reason for the high call, the Pentagon said, is that "the Army is now replacing the relatively large number of draftees originally inducted about two years ago when it was in the midst of its initial strength buildup" for the Vietnam war.

* * *

The total of 34,000 young men tabbed for induction in January compares with the November 1966 call of 37,600.

It more than doubles the average call this year of slightly more than 16,500.

AUGUST HIGH

The biggest monthly draft quota in 1967 totaled 29,000 in August.

In announcing the January quota, the Defense Department said it supports "currently approved force levels and will assure a timely flow of replacements for men completing their terms of service."

The Pentagon said it expects that the average draft calls in the January-June period next year will be at a somewhat higher average level than the last six months of this year, with fluctuations from month to month.

Army draft calls in this fiscal year, which began July 1, are running at a lower rate than the corresponding draft calls two years earlier mainly because enlistments have been considerably higher than they were two years ago, the Pentagon said.

Market Rally Losing Steam

NEW YORK (AP) — A continued stock market rally was running out of gas early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Stocks surged ahead in the first hour when the ticker tape was three minutes late and the Dow Jones industrial average was up 6.25.

* * *

The Dow industrials at noon had cut the gain to 2.26 at 873.21.

Trader began evening up their positions after the early rally as they prepared for what will be a four-day Thanksgiving weekend for many Wall Streeters.

The stock exchanges will be closed Thursday but open Friday.

CONTINUATION

Brokers said that the early strength was the usual continuation of a rally from the day before but that profits were taken and caution was the watchword as the initial buying wave exhausted itself.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.0 at 314.3 with industrials up 2.3, rails up 1.6 and utilities up 1.0.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange despite some profit taking. La Maur Inc. advanced more than 2 points. Fractional gains were made by Stanrock Uranium, Federal Resources, Consolidated Oil & Gas, Syntex, Chief Consolidated Mining and Westates Petroleum.

* * *

McCulloch Oil was the volume pacemaker and lost a point. Valley Metallurgical skidded a couple of points and Gale Industries fell fractionally.

People in the News

By the Associated Press

A half-brother has accused the two sons of the late Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles of "fraudulent and malicious conduct" in allegedly doing him out of an equal share of their mother's will while he was fighting in Korea.

Hunt Slater Kerrigan, 41, filed a suit in the New York State Supreme Court yesterday seeking $8 million from his half-brothers, Arnold Welles, 49, an investment consultant who lives in Greenwich, Conn., and Benjamin Welles, 51, a reporter in the New York Times Washington Bureau.

Kerrigan, a Manhattan resident and a decorated Marine Corps veteran, said his half-brothers "conspired" to prevent their mother, Esther Slater, from signing a new will that he contended would have left her estate equally to her three sons.

The mother died in Tampa, Fla., in 1951 at the age of 59. She was heiress to a textile fortune founded by her father, Horatio Nelson Slater II of Webster, Mass., and resumed her maiden name after divorcing Army Col. Joseph F. Kerrigan in 1947. She had divorced Welles in 1923.

The complaint in Kerrigan's suit asked $3 million as his claimed share of the estate and $5 million in punitive damages. It also asked for an accounting and appointment of a receiver.

Actress Divorces Ray 'Crash' Corrigan

Actress Elaine Dupont, 33, was granted yesterday an uncontested divorce from actor Ray (Crash) Corrigan after 11½ years of marriage.

In Los Angeles Superior Court, Miss Dupont testified the couple had "one argument after another" in their Encino mansion, frequently in front of their 6-year-old daughter, Colleen.

She estimated in her complaint that Corrigan was worth more than $3 million. A property settlement filed yesterday said they were selling the home for $365,000.

Alimony was waived, but Corrigan, whose age was given in an affidavit as 65, agreed to pay $500 monthly child support.

Bachelor, 48, Wins $100,000 in N. Y. Lottery

Joe Pencarski's mother is worried — her 48-year-old bachelor son won $100,000 in the New York State lottery.

"Now I'm afraid all the girls will be after him for his money," she jokingly told newsmen yesterday after learning he won the prize.

"I'm so happy for him, especially today since it is his birthday," she said. Pencarski called it "the best birthday present anyone could ask for."

Pencarski, a truck driver for a plastics firm in Cranford, N.J., lives with his parents in Irvington, a suburb of Newark. He said he had not yet decided what to do with the money.

Actor Charged With Enslaving Princess

Another chapter in the tangled love story of Italian Princess Maria Beatrice of Savoy and actor Maurizie Arena opened today with his summons to a Rome court or charges of making her a slave.

The bearded actor and the 24-year-old princess have vainly been trying to marry in Italy, Spain, England and France but bureaucratic and judiciary procedures have foiled them.

The charge, filed by a friend of the princess, accuses Arean of "various and repeated physical and psychological means of coercion, thereby reducing her to a total state of subjection."

Conviction could mean 5 to 15 years in prison. Maria Beatrice denies the charge. She said, "It's something dating back to the days of slavery, an archaeological oddity."

Broomfield Proposes U.N. Budget Review

Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-18th District, today called on the United Nations to apply in its budgetary and management programs "the same rigorous standards of program performance and budget review that we apply to domestic programs."

* * *

Speaking to the General Assembly's Administrative and Budgetry Committee in behalf of the United States, the congressman from Royal Oak pointed to the growing complexity of United Nations operations, particularly in the economic, social and development field and called upon the world community "to share the planning, the responsibilities and the costs."

Pointing to the United States' contributions of $3 billion or over 45 per cent of the present total of $6.6 billion expenses of all U.N. agencies during the 22 years of the United Nations, Broomfield observed, "no nation has been more openhanded in support of the United Nations, the specialized agencies and other international organization."

He recalled more than two decades of "consistent bipartisan and unstinting support for the United Nations and its programs."

* * *

"We favor — and always have — utilizing the full potential of the United Nations in organizing a durable peace and fulfilling the promises of the charter."

He urged that all members do their part in sharing the costs which will enable the United Nations "to operate at full capacity in order to promote the peaceful resolution of conflict and change and to help step up the flow of resources and technology from the industrialized to the newly developing countries. American leaders of both parties have consistently subscribed to this policy."

The Michigan Republican member of the House Foriegn Affairs Committee emphasized "every nation must do its share."

Advocating an international aid program that is international in practice as well as purpose, he said, "all united nations members can do better."

* * *

Broomfield spoke in support of a resolution under which the Secretary - General would establish an annual planning figure which will give both the United Nations itself and the contributing member nations better control and management of expenditures and enable them to plan rationally for the developing needs of the world organization and its specialized agencies.

* * *

Broomfield introduced a resolution in behalf of the United States, United Kingdon, France and the Soviet Union. These four nations are the largest contributors to the U.N.

No Policy Change Anticipated

Recruiting at OU Is Debated

By DICK ROBINSON

Some 350 students and faculty of Oakland University — a few with beards and long hair and one student with an Army jacket — debated yesterday whether any recruiters should be allowed on campus.

For the most part it was an orderly session with handpicked speakers on both sides of the issue given 10 minutes to speak.

Judging from the applause after each of the 10 speakers, the majority of the people attending favored no change in the university's policy of permitting armed service and other "legal" business employers to recruit on campus.

The hearing was held before the 15 - member Placement Council of faculty and administrators, who may now submit a resolution to the University Senate, the faculty legislative body.

* * *

No change in the university's policy on campus recruiters is expected.

PETITION

The hearing was organized after 100 students and seven faculty members signed a petition against military recruiters on campus and 29 students and two faculty members against any type of recruiters on campus.

Arturo Biblarz, a bearded instructor of sociology and anthropology, said he would favor a ban on any recruiters on campus that have "anything to do with the war in Vietnam."

He included the Dow Chemical Co., which makes napalm for the war, and even companies which send medical supplies.

* * *

Biblarz labeled the army as a "totalitarian institution" which does not permit free speech or independent decision.

"The university must be in a position to refuse its cooperation to organizations whose policies deny the rights of free speech, thought and dissent," he remarked.

The petition did not oppose anyone's right to come on campus to express a point of view when invited by a campus organization, the instructor advised.

He indicated that the university shouldn't encourage "mass murder" in Vietnam by permitting military recruiters on campus.

* * *

"A university that does not permit free speech does not, and cannot educate free individuals capable of the critical judgment that is essential to a democracy.

"This places the university in the same controlled position as the German university during World War II."

URGED VOTE

Biblarz had asked that the university hold a vote on its recruitment policy, which he termed illegitimate because it does not have the consent of faculty and students.

The Placement Council, which limited yesterday's hearing to the whos and whys of recruiters and not who makes these rules, had rejected Biblarz' request for a moratorium.

Typical among seven of the 10 students and faculty who spoke in favor of an open recruitment policy was blonde senior Carol S. Freeman of Royal Oak.

* * *

Students should be able to decide if they want an interview with a recruiter, she contended.

"Action taken is on the part of the student, not on the university which remains passive and dissociated with the views of the recruiter," she said.

Lawyer Hits Imperfection in Administering Justice

CHICAGO (AP) — The president-elect of the American Bar Association declared Tuesday night that due process of the law is not only threatened by mob action but also by "imperfections in the administration of justice."

William T. Gossett, a Bloomfield Hills lawyer and next ABA president, told members of the Chicago Bar Association that "equal access to the law is one of the many areas that cry out for a sharpened sense of due process on the part of all of us.

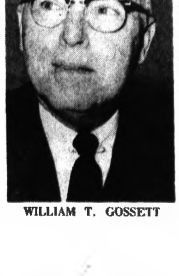

* * *

"A person without legal advice because he cannot afford it is, because of that fact alone, deprived of due process," Gossett said. "Unpopular people and those serving unpopular causes can be and often are, deprived of due process."

* * *

He said the "unpalatable truth is that the poor, black and white, resent and fear the law" because of the conditions under which they live seldom expose them to the law as their protector.

Gossett, of 420 Goodhue, added that there must be further extension of legal services to all who need them and that the legal profession must lead in correcting those injustices arising out of inequitable laws or legal procedures.

Vote Is Near on Mideast Peace Plans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Western powers pushed for a quick vote today on rival Middle East peace plans amid predictions that Britain's resolution would win overwhelming approval despite a late Soviet entry.

The British plan, submitted last week, was expected to poll at least 12 of the 15 council votes.

* * *

Informed sources said the Russians would vote for the British plan or abstain. They discounted the possibility of a Soviet veto.

U.S. BACKS BRITAIN

The United States was expected to withdraw its resolution in favor of Britain's. U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said earlier his government strongly endorses the British draft and would give full diplomatic and political support to the special U.N. representative it would send to the Middle East.

As the council neared a vote, Israeli and Jordanian forces dueled across the Jordan River Tuesday for the fourth straight day and Israel sent its air force into action. It was the heaviest fighting and the first use of Israeli planes along the Israeli-Jordanian cease-fire line since the June war.

Two Charged in Cruelty to Animals Case

Two area men were charged in Fort Walton Beach, Fla. yesterday with cruelty to animals after sheriff's deputies said they had been transporting 10 horses for two to four days without food or water.

In the Ocaloosa County Jail in lieu of $750 bond are Harold D. Risinger, 32, and Marvin Singleton, 25, both of unreported addresses.

They were stopped on a northwestern Florida highway in a closed van pulling a rental trailer when a sheriff's investigator saw something on the floor of the trailer and became suspicious.

The deputy said he found a dead horse and an ill one — later destroyed — among the cargo.

Another horse was later found by deputies tied up in the woods along the highway, deputies said.

LED FROM DEATH SCENE—Hospital attendants lead Mrs. Carol Metherd from the scene where police found the body of her 2-year-old boy. Police said the heart of the child had been cut out and a wine bottle inserted into the cavity. Mrs. Metherd, her hands and the knees of her blue jeans caked with blood, was taken to the Denver General Hospital where she was placed under guard.

Police said the mother had been using her maiden name, Metherd, and had lived at the house—a stopping-off place for transient hippies--for about a month. The boy's father and her estranged husband, James Schellhammer, 34, a newspaper copy editor, collapsed and was hospitalized in shock when he learned of his son's death.

HIPPIES QUESTIONED

Detectives questioned 10 hippies who lived at the house and pieced together an account that indicated Mrs. Metherd had taken the youngster into the second-floor bathroom to bathe him.

* * *

Residents said they heard the boy screaming and the sound of breaking glass. Not much thought was given to the incident, they said, because the youngster often protested at bath time.

After more than an hour, one of the residents climbed to an outside porch and looked inside the bathroom.

Police said the nude child was face up in the empty bathtub and his mother, her jeans and shirt bloodstained, was lying motionless on the floor in a "fetal like" position.

QUESTIONED IN RAID

Police said Mrs. Metherd was questioned and released following a July marijuana raid in Denver. Police records indicated the house was searched twice recently during narcotics investigations. Officers said a small quantity of the hallucinogenic drug LSD was found, along with an amphetemine drug called "speed."

Cincy Airport Safety Probed by Two States

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Ohio and Kentucky officials, some questioning safety factors at Greater Cincinnati Airport have called for investigations of Monday night's crash that claimed 66 lives.

* * *

Two persons died in hospitals Tuesday of injuries. Four of the remaining 16 survivors are in critical condition.

* * *

Kentucky Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, Ohio Aviation Director Norman Crabtree and U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, asked Tuesday for investigations of safety at the airport.

SINCE 1961

The airport, 15 miles from here across the Ohio River in Boone County, Ky., has had four crashes since 1961— the latest Monday night when a Trans World Airlines jet carrying 82 persons plunged into a hillside and burned.

* * *

Two years ago this month an American Airlines plane crash claimed 58 lives. A big charter plane crashed into a hill in 1961, but everyone aboard escaped. Only two weeks ago, a TWA jet passenger plane crashed as the pilot aborted a takeoff.

* * *

A federal investigator reported Tuesday night that part of the airport's instrument landing system (ILS) was not operating during Monday night's crash. He added, however, it was probably not a factor in the tragedy.

SAC Seeking Boy to Return Thanks

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)— The Strategic Air Command (SAC) is looking for a boy named Danny. SAC doesn't know his last name nor where he lives, other than he probably is in the Chicago area. But if they can find him, the men of SAC would like to offer their thanks for his Thanksgiving greeting and let him know that it will be relayed to SAC installations all over the world.

* * *

M. Sft. Wayne Crumley who works in the directorate of information at SAC headquarters, opened Danny's letter addressed only to Strategic Air Command, Omaha. It contained a Thanksgiving greeting with a quotation from the Thanksgiving proclamation issued by the late President Kennedy in 1963. There also was a postscript in a boyish hand which said: "Thank you for the wonderful job you've been doing in maintaining the peace 24 hours in the air. I can't say it in words but thanks to all of you there."

About 480,000 foreigners visited the U.S. in the last six years, spending an estimated $225 million.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR beloved wife and mother, Elsie Ellerson, who was called to Heaven November 22, 1966.
God saw you getting weaker,
So He did what He thought best.
He took you home and relieved you
And whispered "Come to rest."
You suffered in pain and bore it
Nor even said goodbye.
You were gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.
Sadly missed by Husband Edward and Daughter Carol

Note of Cheer Is Promised Viet GIs by Top Opera Star

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — If the war's about over, nobody mentioned it to the USO. Opera Star Richard Tucker has been booked into Vietnam for two weeks in June 1968, seven months from now.

Tucker, who earlier went over on his own to prove that GIs do want to hear opera excerpts ("It reminds them of home"), will travel under USO auspices next trip. "I promised I'd keep coming back as long as they're there," he says, "and that looks like it'll be some time . . ."

WILSON

And Tucker is the Met's top-priced star. "Nobody gets more than you," Rudolf Bing told him.

Connie Francis departs for Vietnam Dec. 1, Bob Hope Dec. 15, Johnny Grant Dec. 17.

Readers have been chastising me for saying that Frederic March walked into the sea at Malibu in the film "A Star Is Born," claiming that James Mason did that role. But for once I was right (and so were they). March played that suicide scene in the original "A Star Is Born," about 1935, opposite Janet Gaynor, for producer David O. Selznick. A couple of decades later James Mason played the part in a musical version for Warners opposite Judy Garland.

Peter Sellers isn't going to have a lot of people ogling his wife Britt Ekland in the nude. So, when she does a strip in "The Night They Raided Minsky's," crew members and others will be searched for hidden cameras. No still photographers will be admitted. And Britt herself will have a right to censor the movie film showing her doing what purports to be (in the picture) the first strip tease in history.

Napalm Talks Replace Riot

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A battle of words Tuesday replaced police tear gas and student rocks on the San Jose College campus in a protest against using napalm in the Vietma war.

★ ★ ★

A riot was touched off Monday on the 20,000-student campus over the appearance of a job recruiter for Dow Chemical Corp., which manufactures the jellied gasoline.

During Monday's fracas, 12 persons were arrested, three others were treated for head injuries and a dozen for tear gas burns.

★ ★ ★

The protest was sparked by an organization called Students for a Democratic Society.

At the outset of an auditorium debate Tuesday before a standing-room-only crowd of 1,100, SDS representatives asked the moderator, Dr. William Dusel, the college's executive vice president if the Midland, Mich., firm would stop making napalm and, if not, if it would stop recruiting workers on college campuses.

★ ★ ★

Before Dr. Dusel could answer, 500 demonstrators walked out and began picketing the administration building.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Pentagon Sets M16 Retesting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon is going to retest the controversial M16 rifle, the basic fighting weapon of U.S. troops in Vietnam.

Deputy Defense Secretary Paul H. Nitze wrote the House Armed Services Committee that recent tests "have given us further assurances that the modified rifle now in the hands of our troops in Vietnam is a reliable and effective weapon."

He added, however, that in light of recommendations by a subcommittee of the House panel, further tests will be conducted by the Marine Corps.

Nitze said the primary purpose of the new program will be to test the rifle as it is used in the field under a program simulating actual combat conditions in Vietnam as closely as possible.

The subcommittee found the M16's troubles began when the Army started using ball powder in M16 ammunition in 1964. It said this caused the rifle's rate of automatic fire to be excessive and produced carbon that fouled the chamber — both causing malfunctions.

The army says it has since modified the rifle to solve both problems, but Nitze said the new test would involve both ball powder and tubular powder, some of which is still used by the Army in M16 ammunition.

Radios Silenced

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Twin City Transit Co. posted notices Tuesday prohibiting passengers from playing transistor radios on its buses operating in Little Rock and North Little Rock.

The notices said music from the radios was a safety hazard because it might distract bus drivers.

Big Nickel Theft

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Police are investigating the disappearance recently of 23 bars of nickle worth an estimated $1,200 from the State Plating Co. A spokesman for the firm, Roman Tryce, said each bar weighed about 38 pounds and could bring up to $3 a pound on the black market.

Bahamian Banks to Do Business in Own Currency

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Bahamian banks open today for the first time this week and will do business only in their own country's currency, according to an order issued Tuesday by the legislature.

The order was handed down after a two-day public holiday was called to give the government time to close speculative loopholes following its decision not to devalue the Bahamian dollar.

★ ★ ★

The legislature also gave final approval to a bill which fixes the value of the Bahamian dollar at eight shillings, two pence. The action maintained the Bahamian dollar's exchange rate with the U.S. dollar at 98 cents.

Premier Lyndon Pindling said the rigid controls would be relaxed as soon as the government felt the currency was safe from heavy speculation.

Surveyor 6 Stops Hops

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 6 won't try another broadjump on the moon after its eight-foot hop last Friday.

★ ★ ★

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory decided Tuesday there was not enough fuel left to propel the 600-pound spacecraft in another leap.

Surveyor 6 has radioed more than 20,000 pictures since it landed on the moon Nov. 9.

Trip Near End

NEW ORLEANS, La. His rowboat, the "Cherrie Belle," was built in replica of early day paddle-wheelers. Seiler takes leaves of absence from the classroom for periodic adventures.

Army to Cancel Viet Mail Ban

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Army plans to cancel its ban against sending mail to "lonely servicemen" in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., said Tuesday that the post office had decided that mail sent to "a lonely serviceman" care of Pfc. William Rice in Vietnam could not be considered as anonymously addressed. The army had received thousands of letters addressed that way after a letter from Rice asking for mail had appeared in a newspaper column.

★ ★ ★

Rice had volunteered to distribute the letters to servicemen who otherwise would have a cheerless Christmas.

Wilson said the Army plans to release 16,000 pieces of mail and 321 parcels that have been held at San Francisco and another 12,200 letters and 293 parcels at Seattle.

MAIL BANNED

The Defense Department had banned mail addressed to unspecified persons after a serviceman in Vietnam received a can of dog food and a note calling him an animal.

Boy's Road Test Tests Examiner's Courage, Nerves

HICKORY, N.C. (AP) — Driver's license examiner Ernest Neal of Hickory said a 16-year-old boy asked for a road test this week and said a friend had loaned him the car.

★ ★ ★

"I became suspicious when the boy asked me how to turn on the engine," Neal said.

Neal had more reason to worry when the boy slipped the gears into reverse rather than first, and screeched backward toward a busy boulevard, stopping just in time.

★ ★ ★

Neal jumped out of the car—end of driver's test.

Ex-Student Held After Try to Reveal Dope Probers

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A former University of Michigan student was arrested after publicly trying to alert the campus last week to what he said were the names of Ann Arbor police narcotics investigators.

★ ★ ★

Police said the former student, Steven Combs, 21, of New York City, was picked up Monday on a warrant charging antisocial behavior in violation of his probation on an April conviction for possessing marijuana.

They said Combs was also charged again with possessing marijuana after he tried to hide a small package containing the drug in his mouth shortly after being picked up Monday.

★ ★ ★

Police said a warrant for Combs' arrest was issued last Friday after two articles signed by him appeared in the student humor magazine, "The Gargoyle."

DESCRIBED DETECTIVE

The articles, entitled "My Dog Is a Nark" and "Bust We Must," named and described four Ann Arbor detectives and said they were narcotics investigators.

One of the articles said, "The entire abortion is run by a Lt. Eugne Staudenmaier."

★ ★ ★

One of the articles also said, "I thought grass (marijuana) had been legalized. They (students) were turning on (getting high) all over the place and I naturally jumped in. They (city police) began making busts (arrests) to serve as a warning to all newcomers on the campus."

The warrant for Combs' arrest said he had violated his probation through antisocial behavior in publishing the two articles.

ARRESTED

Police said Combs was arrested while strolling across the street from the Ann Arbor police station.

Shortly after being arrested, police said, he popped something from his shirt pocket into his mouth.

Lt. Staudenmaier said he forced Combs' mouth open and pulled out a tin foil wrapper containing enough marijuana to make five cigarettes.

No One Is Injured in NY Hilton Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Fire broke out in a linen chute in the New York Hilton Hotel in Rockefeller Center early today and the smoke drove about 100 guests out of their upper-floor rooms for about half an hour.

★ ★ ★

Many other guests smelled the smoke and fled anxiously to the lobby. A hotel spokesman said 1,200 guests were registered.

No one was injured, however, and the fire caused only minor damage. It was discovered at 12:37 a.m. in the bottom of the chute, which extends from the basement to the top floor of the 44-story hotel.

★ ★ ★

Fire officials said the smoke rose in the chute and spread throughout the top floors. The fire was declared under control at 1:40 a.m. Most of the guests returned to their rooms a few minutes later.

Poverty Grant OK

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney today announced approval of an economic opportunity grant of $30,054 to Economic Opportunity, Inc., of Monroe County. The grant will provide for continued operation of the community section agency which has administered anti-poverty programs in the area for the past year.

Cavanagh Asks a New Name for 12th Street

DETROIT (UPI) — Mayor Jerome Cavanagh yesterday suggested that 12th street — birthplace of last summer's bloody riot — be given a new name.

★ ★ ★

Cavanagh did not suggest a new name, but he said it should reflect a "new spirit and a new resolve in our city."

"The name 12th Street, like the name Watts in Los Angeles, will always evoke a negative reaction; will always be synonymous with violence and turmoil," he said.

★ ★ ★

The July riot began along a seedy strip of 12th Street lined with taverns and grubby shops. Cavanagh suggested that the local businessmen in the area should join with residents in selecting a new name.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a worrying rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 5 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

Administration Out to Cut Deficit to $15 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — By its late-session drive in Congress for tax boosts and cost cuts, the administration hopes to slash in half this year's prospective $29-billion deficit.

The deficit would be shrunk to roughly $15 billion—still one of the biggest splashes of red ink in U.S. history—by the fiscal package plan to be presented to the House Ways and Means Committee next Tuesday.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler said Tuesday he and Budget Director Charles L. Schultze hope to convince the tax-writing committee "it is doubly important," in view of the international financial repercussions following Saturday's devaluation of the British pound, to "protect the dollar now, because the dollar is in the front lines."

The tax hike is needed, Fowler said, "to reduce substantially the existing deficit, minimize the risks of inflation, avoid escalating interest rates, avoid a credit crunch and reduce our deficit financing to manageable proportions."

SET BY LBJ

Fowler told a news conference the budget target is still the one set by President Johnson in his Aug. 3 tax message—to reduce the red ink to a range of $14 billion to $18 billion.

To approach the lower figure it became clear, it would be necessary for Congress to make the 10 per cent surcharge on individual income and corporation taxes effective Oct. 1.

* * *

The retroactive date will be in the plan delivered to the closed ways and means committee hearing, Fowler said. He acknowledged that retroactivity would involve "administrative problems and difficulties."

Actually, a retroactive personal income tax boost is most unlikely. Congress consistently has rejected such proposals but in some instances has enacted retroactive corporate tax hikes.

EFFECTIVE DATE

It seemed likely, therefore, that the administration hopes for an Oct. 1 effective date for business firms and a Jan. 1, 1968, date for the start of bigger pay check withholding from wage earners.

The White House has described its fiscal package—whose details still are under wraps—as providing expenditure cuts to match the anticipated $7-billion tax receipts dollar for dollar.

* * *

However, the cuts to be haggled over in the Nov. 28 meeting will add up to $4 billion. About $3 billion of the potential $29 billion deficit already has been erased tentatively.

First, about $1 billion of a proposed federal employes' pay increase was lopped off under administration pressure. Second, the sale to investors of about $2 billion worth of government assets —"participation certificates," or shares in pools of government-held loans—was approved after Johnson's Aug. 3 message. Whether the certificates can be sold will depend on credit conditions. The sales show up in the budget as a spending cut.

VERY PAINFUL

Of the remaining $4 billion of needed savings, about $1.5 already has been cut, or is scheduled to be cut, by Congress from Johnson's budget requests. This includes $450 million for space activities.

But it will be very painful, officials admit, to find another $2.5 billion of savings in fiscal 1968 expenditures without provoking screams of outrage from Congress members whose pet programs are affected.

* * *

"That ways and means hearing will be a bloody affair," one administration aide predicted privately.

One problem is that each $1 cut out of this year's spending represents about $2.50 in overall program cuts, because federal appropriations typically involve spending programs running two or three years ahead.

Rep. Griffiths: Impeach Judge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich., angrily suggested yesterday a federal judge in Louisiana should be impeached for ignoring a law passed by Congress.

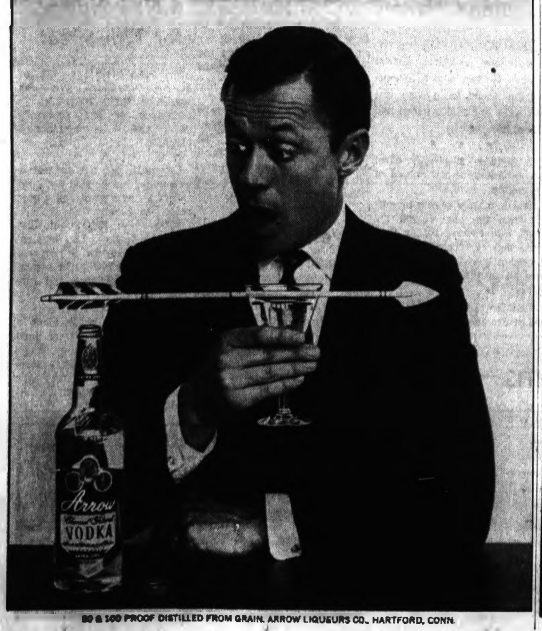

In a House speech, Mrs. Griffiths sharply criticized Judge James A. Comiskey of the U.S. District Court for the New Orleans Division of the Eastern District of Louisiana.

Comiskey, in a recent ruling, dismissed a complaint of a stewardess who said she was fired by her airline for getting married.

Mrs. Griffiths said the judge had ignored a provision in the 1964 Civil Rights Law prohibiting job discrimination on the bases of sex. Mrs. Griffiths sponsored the provision.

Terming Comiskey "totally unqualified," she said if amendments adopted by the Congress do not count, "I suggest we consider impeaching such judges."

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a worsening rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 8 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First — a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

Administration Out to Cut Deficit to $15 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — By its late-session drive in Congress for tax boosts and cost cuts, the administration hopes to slash in half this year's prospective $29-billion deficit.

The deficit would be shrunk to roughly $15 billion—still one of the biggest splashes of red ink in U.S. history—by the fiscal package plan to be presented to the House Ways and Means Committee next Tuesday.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler said Tuesday he and Budget Director Charles L. Schultze hope to convince the tax-writing committee "it is doubly important," in view of the international financial repercussions following Saturday's devaluation of the British pound, to "protect the dollar now, because the dollar is in the front lines."

The tax hike is needed, Fowler said, "to reduce substantially the existing deficit, minimize the risks of inflation, avoid escalating interest rates, avoid a credit crunch and reduce our deficit financing to manageable proportions."

SET BY LBJ

Fowler told a news conference the budget target is still the one set by President Johnson in his Aug. 3 tax message—to reduce the red ink to a range of $14 billion to $18 billion.

To approach the lower figure, it became clear, it would be necessary for Congress to make the 10 per cent surcharge on individual income and corporation taxes effective Oct. 1.

* * *

The retroactive date will be in the plan delivered to the closed ways and means committee hearing, Fowler said. He acknowledged that retroactivity would involve "administrative problems and difficulties."

Actually, a retroactive personal income tax boost is most unlikely. Congress consistently has rejected such proposals but in some instances has enacted retroactive corporate tax hikes.

EFFECTIVE DATE

It seemed likely, therefore, that the administration hopes for an Oct. 1 effective date for business firms and a Jan. 1, 1968, date for the start of bigger pay check withholding from wage earners.

The White House has described its fiscal package—whose details still are under wraps—as providing expenditure cuts to match the anticipated $7-billion tax receipts dollar for dollar.

* * *

However, the cuts to be haggled over in the Nov. 28 meeting will add up to $4 billion. About $3 billion of the potential $29 billion deficit already has been erased tentatively.

First, about $1 billion of a proposed federal employes' pay increase was lopped off under administration pressure. Second, the sale to investors of about $2 billion worth of government assets —"participation certificates," or shares in pools of government-held loans—was approved after Johnson's Aug. 3 message. Whether the certificates can be sold will depend on credit conditions. The sales show up in the budget as a spending cut.

VERY PAINFUL

Of the remaining $4 billion of needed savings, about $1.5 already has been cut, or is scheduled to be cut, by Congress from Johnson's budget requests. This includes $450 million for space activities.

But it will be very painful, officials admit, to find another $2.5 billion of savings in fiscal 1968 expenditures without provoking screams of outrage from Congress members whose pet programs are affected.

* * *

"That ways and means hearing will be a bloody affair," one administration aide predicted privately.

One problem is that each $1 cut out of this year's spending represents about $2.50 in overall program cuts, because federal appropriations typically involve spending programs running two or three years ahead

Airplane Crash Kills 3 in Springfield Township

By JIM LONG

Plans for a Thanksgiving homecoming ended tragically yesterday with the crash of a single-engine plane in Springfield Township, killing all three persons aboard.

Pontiac State Police identified the victims as Robert L. Deming, 46, of 4706 Pickering, Bloomfield Township; his 18-year-old daughter, Nancy; and Jennifer Taylor, 18, of Detroit.

Deming, an executive with the Bendix Corp., reportedly had picked up the girls in Lafayette, Ind., where they attend Purdue University, and was bringing them home for the holiday.

The plane, a four-seater Piper Comanche, crashed about six miles northwest of the Oakland-Pontiac Airport.

★ ★ ★

The aircraft fell in a sparsely populated area near Big Lake and Scaffer roads. The plane did not burn.

DIED IN CRASH

All three died in the crash, according to an official of the Federal Aviation Administration, which is investigating the cause of the crash.

A control tower official at the airport said that Deming attempted to land about 6:30 p.m. but missed his approach and apparently began to circle.

Visibility was not very good and Deming was being guided in under special visual flight rules, airport officials said.

★ ★ ★

A witness told police that the plane was "flying low, as if it was having trouble. Then it crashed into the field."

CONTACT NEVER LOST

A controller in the airport tower said that contact was never lost with the plane, and that there was no indication that Deming was experiencing any trouble.

★ ★ ★

Radio communications, however, between the craft and the tower was not the best and described as "spotty" by one official.

At noon today, after 72 hours of fighting, two U. S. battalions appeared to be in nearly full control of Hill 875. They were clawing their way toward a bunkered ridge line leading off the crest and still held by the enemy.

Another battalion of U. S. infantrymen moved onto the hill today, increasing the American strength to 1,500.

S. VIET TROOPS

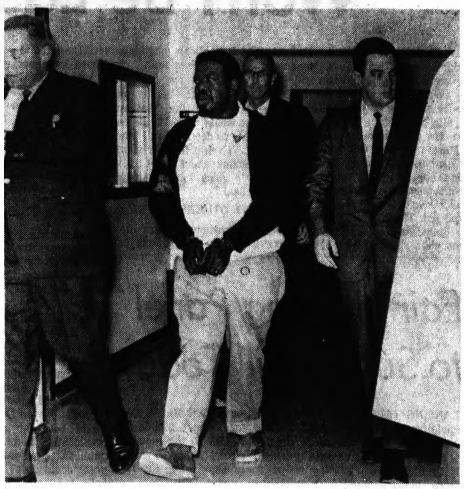

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that two more battalions of government troops also had been moved to Dak To.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam, a multi-brigade force of U. S. 25th Division and South Vietnamese troops pressed a new operation in the Vietcong-infested Iron Triangle north of Saigon.

U. S. head quarters reported two company-size actions 20 and 31 miles northwest of Saigon yesterday, with five U. S. infantrymen killed and 34 wounded. Enemy casualties were not known.

Examination Slated in DeConick Case

The first person arrested in the July 3 murder of West Bloomfield Township Trustee Edward E. DeConick faces preliminary examination in township justice court Monday on a charge of conspiracy to commit armed robbery.

Milton R. Pratt, 39, of 556 Bloomfield, arrested at 10:30 a.m. yesterday by Pontiac, West Bloomfield and State Police detective, is accused on the warrant of conspiring with another man on June 23 to rob while armed the DeConick residence.

Justice of the Peace Emery Jacques set bond at $50,000 at arraignment yesterday and Pratt is in Oakland County Jail in lieu of payment.

Township police said the three law enforcement agencies which have cooperated on the case were acting on leads supplied by an unidentified informant when they arrested Pratt at his place of employment at 550 Oakland.

BEATEN, SHOT

DeConick was beaten, then shot to death and his 73-year-old sister, Kathleen, was beaten and critically wounded when four persons — three men and a woman — forced their way into the DeConick home at 5847 W. Maple.

The assailants, who apparently left Miss DeConick for dead, make off with a cash box and floor safe containing some $25,000.

Miss DeConick managed to contact neighbors who called police.

Dallas to Mark Kennedy Death

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Churchmen of three faiths held a simple, one-hour observance today at Dealey Plaza, where gunfire cut down President John F. Kennedy four years ago.

A city park spokesman said he anticipated that more than the usual number of floral wreaths would be placed at the site by anonymous persons today.

Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of the Dallas-Fort Worth Roman Catholic Diocese, Rabbi Gerald J. Klein and the Rev. S. M. Wright of the Peoples Missionary Baptist CHurch were asked to conduct the service. Mayor Erik Johnson also was a scheduled speaker.

Ever since the assassination, mourners have placed bouquets and wreaths at Dealey Plaza, and for a while, the nearby two-square-block area was near-covered with flowers.

★ ★ ★

With the passage of time fewer flowers are to be seen. Tuesday there were only three. Two bore no message but the third had a note attached that read simply: "4th."

★ ★ ★

Dallas leaders have decided not to make Dealey Plaza the official Kennedy Memorial site in Dallas. The Kennedy Memorial Plaza, a block-square park, is to be two blocks to the east.

Plans call for the memorial plaza to be completed in early 1969, or after the fifth anniversary of the assassination.

4 Tots Offer Transplant Hope

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Four little girls — too young to know they're making medical history — offered hope for thousands yesterday when doctors outlined their progress as the most successful liver transplant patients in medical history.

As recently as four months ago, there was no known record of anyone surviving longer than 34 days following any type of liver transplant.

Now there are these four.

The first, Julie Rodriguez, 25-month-old daugher of Mr. and Mrs. John Rodriguez of Pueblo, Colo., had her transplant 122 days ago on July 23.

She bounced alongside with mother, arms swinging into a news conference. Julie is virtually ready for discharge from the hospital, and spends about half her time outside, leading an all but normal life.

The most recent patient, Carol Lynne MacCourt, 15½-month-old daughter of Mrs. Marylin MacCourt, Salt Lake City, made her appearance in a stroller and had a shy smile and a wave for newsmen .She received her new liver 45 days ago, on Oct. 8.

Kerri Lynn Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale L. Brown, Long Beach, Calif., also arrived in a stroller and didn't seem at all impressed by her visitors. She is 15 months old and had her transplant Sept. 5.

The oldest, Paula Kay Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Hansen, Fort Worth, Tex., was carried in. She is 25 months old and received her new liver Aug. 1.

There have been some serious but so far not insurmountable complications with these cases, but generally doctors at the University of Colorado Medical Center, where the transplants were performed, are optimistic. They are hopeful parallel advances in kidney transplanation, a field where some patients are doing well five years after the surgery.

NEW TECHNIQUES

The doctors say their apparent success can be traced to better techniques for suppressing the body's tendency to reject the new liver, to development of a method of preserving the donor liver for several hours without damage and to better methods of matching donor and recipient tissue.

County Residents to Offer Thanksgiving Day Praise

Oakland County residents will follow the pattern of the Pilgrims of 1621 in observing Thanksgiving Day.

In churches and synagogues, they will gather tonight and tomorrow to offer prayers of gratitude and sing hymns of praise.

As congregations sing the well-known song of Thanksgiving "We Gather Together to Ask the Lord's Blessing," men, women and children in Vietnam and other war-torn countries will pray the last line of the hymn, "O Lord Make Us Free."

The custom of holding a special harvest festival to return thanks to God did not originate in America.

The Bible-reading Pilgrims borrowed the idea from ancient Israel.

IN DEUTERONOMY

The story of the "First Thanksgiving" may be found in the Old Testament Book of Deuteronomy. They record the instructions which Moses gave to the Jews for a holiday to be held exactly seven weeks after they began harvesting their first crop in the promised land.

Church Services, Page A-11

The purpose of the holiday, Moses said, was to "rejoice in all the good which the Lord your God has given to you and your household."

★ ★ ★

Moses told his followers "You shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground which you harvest, and you shall put it in a basket."

Sunnier, Warmer for Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving Day will dawn partly sunny and a little warmer, the weatherman reports.

A few showers, possibly mixed with snow, may arrive late today. Skies will be mostly cloudy tonight and temperatures cold.

The mercury is expected to dip to 25 to 30 tonight and climb into the 40s tomorrow.

Friday's outlook is cloudy and colder.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today and tonight 30, tomorrow 10.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 34. By 1 p.m. the thermometer reading had warmed up to 40.

FBI Chief Asks Stern Justice

With crime getting almost out of hand, J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, issues a powerful statement to the American people.

Director Hoover says:

"Today, thousands of Americans live in fear. They fear for their lives, the safety of their families, their homes and their businesses. The cause of their fear is CRIME.

★ ★ ★

"Without a doubt, crime is rapidly becoming our nation's number one internal problem. For years, we have seen misguided sociologists and well-meaning but misinformed public officials rationalize the spiraling crime rate and excuse criminal behavior.

★ ★ ★

"We have seen an apathetic public ignore the warning signals of surging criminality which is costing taxpayers an estimated $27 billion annually. We have seen a criminal "feedback" caused by judicial leniencies, including pardons, paroles, and probation, which is a disgrace to our system of criminal justice. And we have seen loopholes, technicalities, and delays release hundreds of hardened, unrepentant criminals on the streets to prey again on the public while awaiting trial on easily provable charges.

"Nearly 3¼ million crimes were reported in 1966, an 11 per cent increase over 1965. Figures for the past six months of 1967 show a 17 per cent increase above the 1966 totals for the same period. Is it any wonder that more and more people are living in fear of crime?

"We are told that crime increases because our population continues to grow. This is true, but the volume of crime is up 62 per cent since 1960 while our national population has risen only 9 per cent. Crime is outstripping population growth by almost 7 to 1.

★ ★ ★

"We are told that improved reporting methods by law enforcement agencies result in more violations being reported. This carries no weight. Hundreds of departments which have had approved uniform crime reporting systems for years continue to have increases in all categories with no change in their methods.

'Defeat of LBJ Won't Be Easy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Thruston B. Morton says President Johnson will be hard to beat in 1968 despite possible challenge for the Democratic nomination and his current low ranking in the polls.

Morton, former GOP national chairman, said some Republicans appear overly optimistic about unseating Johnson if he seeks re-election next year as expected. The Kentucky senator attributed the optimism to recent polls showing any of five potential Republican candidates could defeat the President.

★ ★ ★

"The President could get some breaks in the Vietnam war that would make it almost impossible to defeat him," Morton said. "Even if the war situation remains about what it is now, he's going to be a tough man to beat."

MAY HIT OTHERS

Morton predicted voters may take their war frustrations out on Democratic senators and House members while deciding to keep the President in office.

He said he thinks Republicans have a good chance of capturing the House if former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama does not cut too deeply into their ranks in the South. The GOP would have to gain a net of 32 seats to accomplish that turnover.

★ ★ ★

Wallace has given every sign he intends to run on a third-party ticket in the general election after exploring his strength in some Democratic presidential primaries.

"It is difficult to judge the effect Wallace will have on our House candidates in the South," Morton said. "I would expect him to run strong in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, South Carolina and possibly Georgia.

"Anti-Johnson Democrats who might vote for a Republican presidential nominee and Republican candidates for Congress could go over to him and vote for Democrats for Congress."

EYE McCARTHY

Some Democratic leaders say privately that if Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., runs as an anti-Vietnam war candidate in Democratic primaries Wallace's support in the North would be deeply cut. They feel McCarthy and Wallace would split any protest vote against Johnson.

House Republicans meanwhile are cashing in on—literally—Wallace's presidential ambitions.

Over the past few months the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee has mailed 175,000 form letters citing the "dramatic possibility" that Wallace, if he runs as a third-party candidate, could keep any presidential contender from getting a majority in 1968 and thus throw the election to the House, now controlled by Democrats.

The letters brought in $140,000—a much higher average per letter than other test letters that made no mention of Wallace, officials said. They are so pleased with the response that they plan to send out another half-million of the Wallace letters next year.

Fair Housing Panel to Submit Bill Today

LANSING (AP)—The Special Legislative Leadership Committee asked by Gov. George Romney to work on the open housing bill to improve its chance of passage plans to hand Romney its final version of the measure today.

The bipartisan ad hoc group of senators and representatives worked for two days on the controversial bill and made a number of substantial changes.

The House Civil Rights Committee meets next Monday to begin its work on the measure, which lawmakers hope will be ready for action when the Legislature returns Dec. 12.

The special leadership group amended the bill to:

● Provide that the 1,000 and $2,000 fines which the State Civil Rights Commission is empowered to levy against realtors may be lowered by courts if appealed.

★ ★ ★

● Delete a provision exempting housing owned by religious organizations.

● Give a person who feels he has been discriminated against 90 days (instead of a year) to file a complaint with the commission.

★ ★ ★

● Prohibit complaints filed by "testers" — Negro-white teams who try to get evidence of bias by asking for housing they do not actually want.

● Exempt temporary rentals and subleases from the provisions of the open housing bill.

★ ★ ★

● Delete the state's liability for damages if a discrimination complaint is dismissed; the state could still be made to pay a respondent's costs and attorney fees.

REMAINING PROVISIONS

Left in the housing bill were provisions that a corporation found to have committed an unfair housing practice would be fined $1,000 for a first offense and $2,000 for violating a commission order.

But the special committee voted to permit courts to lower the fines levied by the commission, feeling a $1,000 penalty could be too steep for certain violations.

★ ★ ★

Also removed was a provision that religious bodies may give preference to members of their religions in filling housing facilities they own.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. George Romney's planned world tour next month may include a meeting with Soviet Premier Alexi N. Kosygin, diplomatic sources indicated today.

★ ★ ★

One diplomatic source said such a meeting was a "possibility." But the Soviet embassy — where Romney paid an unannounced visit Monday — said yesterday that there has been "no direct indication" who will receive Romney in Moscow.

An embassy official said Romney, in his 30-minute visit with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, discussed the "technicalities" of the trip that will include three nights and two days in the Soviet Union.

A spokesman for Romney in Lansing, Mich., said Romney did not raise with Dobrynin the possibility of meeting Kosygin.

★ ★ ★

Informed sources said, however, that Romney aides were making "follow-up" efforts to arrange meetings with Kosygin, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, King Hussein of Jordan, Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol and leaders of other countries he will visit on his Dec. 7-Jan. 4 trip.

Social Security Vote Faces Senate Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, after padding proposed record Social Security benefit boosts, faces a vote on a bill that would increase cash payments to 24 million Americans on the system's rolls by 15 to 59 per cent.

Emerging from a 13-hour Senate session that lasted until late last night was a measure containing the biggest Social Security cash benefit hikes — and the largest tax boost — in the system's 31-year history.

Today's expected passage of the measure would sent it to a conference with the House where its final form will be determined.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the bill, estimated following Senate action on 42 amendments that its new benefit package would total about $7 billion in the first full year of operation.

That was $1.2 billion more in enefits than the Senate Finance Committee proposed after two months of work on the bill.

★ ★ ★

The biggest increase in the bill's cost yesterday came with the 50-23 adoption of an amendment by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., to raise to $2,400 the amount a retired person can earn in a year and not lose any Social Security benefits.

The present limit is $1,500 and the Finance Committee wanted to hike it to $2,000.

Long said the extra cost of the Bayh amendment would be $600 million in 1968.

★ ★ ★

The Senate bill would establish a new range of payments of from $70 to $163.30 beginning next April for individuals now getting checks compated with the present range of $44 to $142.

★ ★ ★

But the new schedules in the bill would have even more far-reaching effect on those retiring in the future.

For example, a man who becomes 50 in 1968 could receive a maximum payment of $223 a month when he retires at 65-44 per cent more than he would get under the law now.

More Dems Ask Favorite Son

DETROIT (AP) — Democrats in a second inner city district in Detroit have called on Michigan delegates to send a favorite son or uncommitted delegates to the national convention in 1968.

★ ★ ★

The resolution, passed unanimously at the monthly district party membership meeting Tuesday follows a similar resolution passed earlier by its sister inner city district, the 13th.

★ ★ ★

Resolutions were also passed calling for immediate withdrawal of U. S. troops from Vietnam and for withdrawing support from city councilmen and state legislators who do not promote and vote for open housing legislation.

BARGAINING POWER

The resolution calling for a favorite son or uncommitted delegation said it would be a means for Democratic voters to "maximize their political bargaining power at the convention."

'Planners Picked for Influence'

The Pontiac Area Planning Council is not necessarily a cross-section representation of the city population, said Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. last night to persons questioning its formation and selection of its board of governors.

"We wanted people who would be able to open doors and use their influence," he said.

"They were not put on (the 32-member board of governors) because they represented any organization. They were chosen because of their influential ability," Taylor said.

The mayor said the board, one of the levels of the planning council, would hopefully be of such a nature that it could be a catalyst in development of housing and commercial facilities.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe they can get developers interested in this city," he said.

MANY LEADERS NAMED

Members of the governing board appointed in recent weeks include many business, industrial and commercial leaders of the area.

Donna Harrington of 126 Chippewa said only a little more than one-third are residents of the city.

Taylor noted that all have interests in the city and have displayed this on many occasions.

CITIZEN ARM SEEN

He said while there was not seemingly a great deal of "grass roots" representation, plans are in the making to form a "community action citizen arm" which will work closely with the board of governors advising it of the interests and needs of the people.

Also questioned were the qualifications and the amount of influence on the formation of the council of Dr. David Lewis, who has been a consultant working with the city and the school district. Lewis reportedly will be hired to help develop an educational complex to replace McConnell, Central and Wilson elementery schools.

Louis G. Smith of 365 W. Iroquois said rumors are circulating that Lewis had unduly influenced formation of the planning council and has had an undue influence on the superintendent of the school district.

★ ★ ★

Lewis, a native of South Africa, graduated with distinction from Leeds University in England as a doctor of architecture. He is a professor of architecture and urban design at Carnegie Mellon University, a consultant to the New York City Board of Public Education, and a member of an urban design firm based in Pittsburgh.

GOVERNOR TIE FIRST

Taylor said whether Lewis will be hired to work with the planning council is up to the board of governors first, then the city Commission and school board.

The mayor said there was talk of a planning council "long before Dr. Lewis got here" this summer.

Lewis was one of two consultants supplied by Ford Foundation money to discuss school and city development this summer.

★ ★ ★

The other, deputy director of a sweeping urban redevelopment program in New Haven, Conn., made a strong recommendation for formation of a powerful citizens committee which could help direct new development.

Birmingham Area News

Train Set for Parade Watchers

BIRMINGHAM — The Grand Trunk Western Railroad is running a special train tomorrow for suburban residents who want to see Detroit's annual Thanksgiving Day Parade.

The train, originating in Pontiac, stops in Birmingham at 9:04 a.m. and leaves Detroit's Brush Street Station at 11:45 a.m. returning to Birmingham at 12:27 p.m., said a railroad spokesman.

DSR buses will be on hand downtown to shuttle passengers to and from the parade route on Woodward, he added. Fares will be the same as on the regular commuters.

The parade begins at 10:15 and ends 11:15 a.m.

★ ★ ★

The special leaves Pontiac's Inglewood station at 8:35 a.m. and stops at Bloomfield Hills at 8:57 a.m. and Charing Cross at 8:59 a.m. as well as Birmingham, said the spokesman.

The Birmingham Board of Education last night approved the final drawings and specifications drawn up by the firm of Tarapata-MacMahon Associates for major additions to three schools.

The board should be ready to start receiving bids by Nov. 30 on about $700,000 worth of construction projects, said Board President Pell Hollingshead.

A $277,000 two-story library addition is planned for Seaholm High School along with four tennis courts; Barnum Junior High is scheduled for $312,000 worth of language and art classrooms in a single story addition; and Derby Junior High School will get $207,000 worth of science and art classrooms also in a single story addition at the south end of the school.

★ ★ ★

Funds for the projects are part of the 1966 $9.8-million bond issue passed by voters.

County Panel Opposes Purchase of Berz Airport

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors' aviation committee yesterday recommended against purchase of Berz Airport in Troy.

The owner of Berz warned the county early this month that he had received an "attractive" offer for the site, which houses some 145 private and industrial craft, and a sale was imminent.

It was pointed out that the plane owners would have to move, probably within 30 days, and that other county facilities were already overcrowded.

A figure of $2.5 million was named as a possible purchase price. Eventual purchase needed to first be approved by the aviation committee, which had been studying the matter.

Their decision, in this case a negative one, will go to the ways and means committee on Nov. 27. The latter group's decision will go before the entire board of supervisors at its regular meeting December 17.

PURCHASE URGED

Representatives from the Birmingham-Bloomfield area, including the Chamber of Commerce, have been present at recent meetings involving Berz Airport, urging the county to purchase the site. Many businesses and families use the facility.

Plans to alleviate the hangar and space shortage for private and industrial craft are pending with the proposed expansion of the Pontiac-Oakland Aport in Waterford Township.

The $4.5 million program would not lengthen the runway and install an instrument landing system, but would provide some 400 new small hangars. It has been estimated that about 200 of the hangars would be occupied at present if they were built.

★ ★ ★

A project to begin construction of about 75 units is now under consideration by aviation and airport committee members.

AIRPORT EXPANSION

A further alleviation of the county's aviation problems could come from proposed expansion of Allen Airport in Orion Township. A master plan for the facility is due to be presented next month.

Report Claims China Rocket Test Disaster

TOKYO (AP) — The failure of a rocket test in Red China's Tsinghai Province in August destroyed 40 other rockets and the plant in which they were made, the Tsinghai provincial radio has reported.

The radio report, heard in Tokyo, gave this account by a worker named Nein Hsu-wang:

"In August, I was transferred from the countryside to work at the Industry and communications front in Hu Chu County. On 13 August workers of the rocket plant conducted a test of a rocket.

Instead of going skyward, the ignited rocket went astray and landed on the workshops, kindling some 600 catties (66 pounds) of powder and some 40 rockets already manufactured, and causing tremendous explosions.

Shorter Days for Some at Pontiac Div.

A union decision has resulted in shorter workdays on the final assembly line at Pontiac Motor Division.

Production as been slowed about 10 per cent, according to company spokesman.

UAW Local 653 announced last week that it would refuse to work overtime, including weekends, until a new contract is signed.

A company spokesman said that, because of shorter work periods at the foundry and engine plant, about four hours funning time at the assembly line, employing some 4,000, has been lost in the last two days.

The plant will not work tomorrow, but will continue operations Friday.

All three General Motors plants in Pontiac were hit recently with 24-hour strikes. The union and GM are negotiating nationally for a new contract.

UAW Meets Dec. 1 to Set GM Deadline

DETROIT (AP) —The United Auto Workers Union has scheduled for Dec. 1 a special meeting of its national General Motors Council to set a national and local strike deadlines at GM's U.S. plants, UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock said Tuesday.

Woodcock, who heads the union's GM department, added that the UAW will resume bargaining Monday with the giant automaker on a new national contract.

The union has been without a contract at GM since the old contract ran out midnight Sept. 6.

Fruehauf Trial Is Under Way

The ex-boyfriend of Mrs. Roy Fruehauf was expected to testify in his own behalf today on a charge of beating the attractive 43-year-old widow of the truck trailer manufacturer.

On the first day of the trial yesterday, Mrs. Fruehauf told a curcuit court jury of seven men and six women that Donald DeClercq struck her repeatedly with his fist during a fight on Valentine's Day this year.

DeClercq, 38, of Detroit is charged with aggravated assault.

She said DeClercq had come to the home at 5330 Middle Belt, West Bloomfield Township, to discuss the repayment of a $25,000 loan she had given him.

"On the night of the fight," she said, "he threatened to put my eyes out and that he would kill me before he left."

Mrs. Maude Cook, a housekeeper, said that when she went into the room to assist Mrs. Fruehauf, "DeClercq was in a rage. He had an ashtray and threw it against a marble table."

She said Mrs. Fruehauf was covered with blood and that her "eye lid was gashed."

Mrs. Fruehauf was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for lacerations under her left eye and on the lip. Six stitches were required to close the wounds.

Hoover Asking Stern Justice

"The man, woman and child on the street today are concerned with their immediate safety. And rightly so, since the risk of their becoming victims of serious crime has risen 48 per cent since 1960.

"The young child who is criminally assaulted, the corner grocer who is repeatedly robbed, the elderly lady at the bus stop who is mugged and brutally beaten, and the thousands of others who are victimized each day by vicious thugs want instant as well as permanent relief. They, too, have rights. But their cries for help are frequently drowned out by the clamor for mercy and leniency for guilty lawbreakers who scoff at law and order and the rights of society.

"When the individual is no longer reasonably secure in his home and on the streets of his community, then the criminal is being favored at the expense of the law-abiding citizen.

"Crime must be reduced by eliminating the huge profits and the soft justice which attract criminal - minded individuals. Avalanches of crime and terrorism cannot be tolerated in a society of free men.

"Full justice is needed—stern justice. We need justice which keeps the balance true and affords the law-abiding public an even break. We need justice which deals swiftly and surely with the criminal, convincing justice which means a quick arrest, prompt prosecution and substantial punishment of the guilty lawbreaker."

An automobile manufacturer and leading oil corporation are collaborating on research to develop fume-free gasoline powered automobiles.

2nd Suspect Is Arrested in Area Jewel Robbery

The second suspect in the $39,700 Bloomfield Hills jewel robbery last July 3 has been arrested in Cincinnati, Ohio, by FBI agents and is reportedly being held there on $20,000 bond.

Geraldine Casey, in her mid 20s whose last known address was in Cincinnati, was arrested Nov. 9 for interstate flight on a larcey charge while in a hospital there recuperating from an auto accident injury, said FBI spokesman.

Bloomfield Hills Police Chief Walter Sluiter said the woman refused to waive extradition and proceedings to do so have been initiated through the Oakland County prosecutor's office.

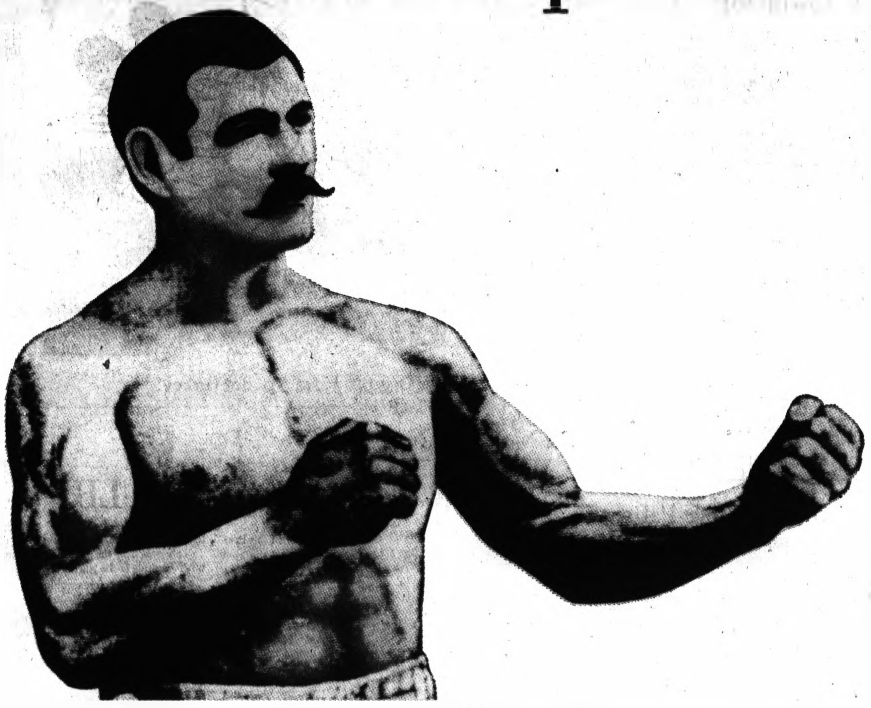

Her alleged accomplice, Smead Bowie Jr., 35, is charged with larceny and is in Oakland County Jail on $5,000 bond. He was arrested in Chicago by FBI agents on Oct. 30 on an interstate flight warrant, said Sluiter. He waived extradition the next day and was brought back.

SERVANTS IN HOME

Both suspects were reportedly posing as a married couple while employed as servants at the home of Jordon H. Stover III of 3805 Lahser said the chief. Stover reported the jewels and some cash missing after a check was made at 2 a.m. on July 3.

Bowie has a record of convictions and is also wanted by an Indiana prison for parole violation on a five-year sentence, said Sluiter. No court date has been set for Bowie, yet, Sluiter added.

Leads Press Derby

First Deer a Trophy

Most deer hunters stalk the woods for a lifetime without seeing a trophy buck.

Richard E. Witkop Jr., 2901 Lynch, Highland Township, is one of the fortunate. He will cart a trophy head off to the taxidermist. It was his first deer.

★ ★ ★

Witkop dropped a 200-pounder near his home about 9 a.m. Sunday. The big buck carried a head with 16 points over one inch and several smaller tines protruding around the base of each antler.

The head is for mounting and the weight is for entering — The Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest. And Witkop's entry is the heaviest so far in the derby which ends at noon, Dec. 3.

Should his entry hold on, the Ford Motor worker will receive the $150 in savings bonds.

All residents of Oakland County are available. Weight is the only determining factor. Only bucks taken in Michigan can be entered. The deer must be weighed on state approved scales and a weight slip signed by the hunter, person doing the weighing and a witness must be brought to The Press sports department between 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The deer must be seen by a representative of The Press.

This was Witkop's third try. He was hunting with his brother, Tom, of Hickory Ridge Road, Highland Township, when he spotted the buck through some brush. It took three shots to down the deer.

DAMP START

Rain, sleet and snow Saturday dampened hunters and opening day results in Oakland County. But action improved Sunday with at least 10 bucks taken in the Holly area and two others north of Ortonville.

Seven were known tagged in the Milford-Highland area.

James Agree, 235 W. Cornell took a four-pointer near Hadley. A 180-pounder was reported downed off Fox Lake Road Monday afternoon.

Hunting in Northern Michigan has been spotty. Some hunters are seeing plenty of deer while others are spotting few, depending on the area.

Kurt Thompson, 14, of 3520 Woodland, Highland, scored on his first trip. Hunting with his father, Bruce, near Cadillac, Kurt wanted to go out "one more time" Monday instead of leaving for home as scheduled.

The result was a six-pointer hit on the run at 85 paces with a 20-gauge slug. His father failed to connect.

Snow in some areas of the northern Lower Peninsula aided hunters. Heavy snows late last week chased other nimrods out of the woods in the western U.P.

HEAVIEST ENTRY — Richard E. Witkop Jr. (top photo), 2901 Lynch, Highland Township, has reason to smile. He downed the 200-pounder Sunday morning near his home and it leads The Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest. The buck carried 16-point antlers. Weight is the only determining factor.

EIGHT-POINTER — Harry Curtis, 16, of 970 S. Lapeer, Oxford Township, may have bagged one of the first deer of the season in Oakland County on Saturday's opening day. Hunting four miles north of Oxford, Harry dropped his eight-point buck at 8:30 a.m.

More Violators Reported

Hunters Policing Own Sport

LANSING (UPI) — Deer hunters are doing a good job again this year of policing their own sport against violators, reports the law enforcement division of the State Conservation Department.

Ken McCord, of the enforcement division, reported that violations in the northern part of the state appear to be up slightly from last year—this based on the first weekend of hunting.

★ ★ ★

The first tally shows violation complaints against hunters are fewer—but there are more complaints of the type that result in arrest and convictions.

"You might say we're getting a better quality of complaints," McCord said. "They are more actionable. In the Roscommon area, we had 31 actionable complaints in the first two days."

More of the people reporting violations, he said, are coming in and offering to appear as witnesses.

In one case, McCord said, a hunter appeared to say he shot a doe by mistake. But then two other hunters followed him in and reported the shooting as deliberate.

So far, McCord said, there has been practically no complaint of hunters illegally shining and shooting deer at night.

One reason, he said, might be a new law forbidding hunters to carry a gun in the car where it might be easily accessible to shoot down deer.

The stiffer penalties enacted by the Legislature also are seen as a deterrent.

These provide for compensation of between $100 and $200 for an illegal elk.

Judges have been slapping violators with the stiff fines and the word apparently is getting around among hunters.

Those temped to violate, feel $300 is too high a price for illegal venison.

It Doesn't Pay to Argue Over Rifle With Officer

An area deer hunter has found it doesn't pay to argue about a trifle with conservation officers.

Johnny W. Byrd, 25, of 4111 Davisburg, Holly Township, was ordered to pay $90 in fines and costs by Justice William H. Stamp of Independence Township after pleading guilty Monday to having a high power rifle in his possession for hunting deer.

★ ★ ★

Only shotguns and muzzle loaders 44 caliber or over are permissible deer hunting weapons in Southern Michigan.

★ ★ ★

District Law Supervisor George Bruso and State Trooper Tom Brooks spotted Byrd and a companion in a Holly Township field after receiving a complaint late Saturday afternoon of someone shooting a high-powered rifle.

According to Bruso, when he asked Byrd for the rifle, the Hunter balked. Finally, said the officer, Byrd jammed it into a creek bottom. Bruso fished it out.

On the way to the patrol car Byrd grabbed the rifle and he and Bruso fell to the ground grappling over it. Brooks called on the patrol car's radio for assistance.

★ ★ ★

State police, Oakland County sheriff's deputies and conservation officers responded, but Bruso and Brooks were able to regain control of the situation before help arrived.

★ ★ ★

"He just didn't want to give up that rifle," said Bruso who was mud-covered from the engagement. The rifle was taken as evidence and will be returned to Byrd when the fine is paid.

He has until Dec. 1 to pay or serve 16 days in jail.

Wild Turkeys on 125 Tables

Spring Shoot Eyed by Game Experts

Only 125 Michigan hunters were able to duplicate the feat of the pilgrim fathers this year by going out and shooting their own wild turkey for Thanksgiving.

The low success ratio for the 10-day special season ending Nov. 12 was reported by the state conservation hunters.

★ ★ ★

There were 1,400 hunters allowed the special permits but rainy weather cut down the turkey kill.

The standout trophy reported was a record 20-pound, 5-ounce tom turkey shot by Frank Tucker of Richmond in the Baldwin area.

The conservation department, meanwhile, said it is considering a week-long special season next mid-May, with males only legal targets.

Shooting would be allowed in the Baldwin and Mio areas, where wild turkey numbers are estimated at about 2,300.

The special permit numbers tentatively are being set as 800 for the Baldwin area and 500 for the Mio area.

Wetland Program

Bills Aid Duck Hunters

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of several bills moving through Congress with the blessing of duck hunters and conservationists would provide a $50 million expansion of waterfowl refuges.

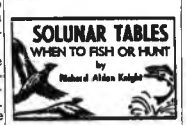

Others would give the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission more power and make the new Secretary of Transportation one of its members.

The House is expected promptly to approve a Senate amendment and send to the White House the refugee bill, which the Senate passed by voice vote last week.

This measure, sponsored by Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., and Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., would extend for eight more years a seven-year federal program of land acquisition for migratory waterfowl refuges.

About a million acres may be added to the wetlands with extension of the program authorized by Congress in 1961, Metcalf said in an interview.

Congress authorized an advance of $150 million seven years ago for the purchase of 2.5 million acres, to be repaid partly by receipts from the sale of duck stamps to hunters. Metcalf said.

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Over Two Million Attend Rec Areas

Helped along by the recent pheasant hunting season, attendance at the state recreation areas and parks in Oakland County went over the two-million mark earlier this month.

Alfred Masini, district parks supervisor of the Conservation Department, reported that 2,013,178 people had used the county's seven state areas through Nov. 12.

There was some question whether the mark would be reached because last summer's cool weather had cut attendance.

But hunters used the lands in good numbers and are continuing to do so during the current deer season.

This is the second straight year attendance has gone over two-million.

Although it was used mostly by a few boaters after Labor Day, Dodge Park No. 4 on Cass Lake pulled enough people during the summer to continue as the most popular area.

Attendance at the park is set at 390,381.

Other totals are Bald Mountain 194,093; Highland 196,345; Holly 245,371; Pontiac Lake 291,954; Proud Lake 325,499; and Rochester-Utica 369,635.

"These are conservative figures," said Masini. "It is impossible to get an accurate count because the areas can be reached along so many roads.

"The only places we can actually count cars and people is at the park entrances."

He reported that new sanitary and concession facilities are being constructed at Pontiac Lake and that work on improved campground facilities at Wildwood Lake campground in the Holly area is progressing.

Haunch of Elk Now Available

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tired of turkey for Thanksgiving? How about a nice haunch of elk or buffalo?

The Interior Department announced that fresh elk and buffalo meat, in carcass and half-carcass lots only, is being sold at the Wichita mountains wildlife refuge near Cache, Okla. The only catch is the price: up to $180 for a carcass of buffalo, $90 for elk.

Junior Editors Quiz on CHARCOAL

QUESTION: Where does charcoal come from and what is its use?

* * *

ANSWER: Charcoal is an animal or vegetable substance which has not been completely burned. If you blow onto a burning match, the twisted blackened end which remains is charcoal.

* * *

Much of the charcoal we use comes from incompletely burned hardwood. Because it burns with a smokeless flame and throws out a great deal of heat, charcoal is often used in cookouts.

Since charcoal is porous, it can absorb odors and impurities from the air; it is also used for purifying water. Special kinds of charcoal such as lampblack and bone black are used in making paints.

Many artists, use charcoal in stick form to lay out their pictures, just as the artist is doing in our picture. If she wants to change a line, she dusts off the charcoal with a clean cloth. Fixitif is frequently blown over the charcoal lines so they will not mix with the paint.

Viet Pullout Forecast Has Familiar Ring

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland's prediction of possible U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam within two years evokes memories of a forecast antiwar critics have never let Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara forget.

Both the Westmoreland forecast and McNamara's 1963 prediction hinged on the same factor: Development of the South Vietnamese army as a force effective enough to fight Communist forces with decreasing U.S. help.

* * *

But there is an important difference in the firmness of the predictions made by McNamara and Westmoreland, some four years apart.

McNamara forecast a major part of the U.S. military job could be finished within two years, by the end of 1965.

TWO YEARS AGAIN

But Westmoreland speaks about a token withdrawal starting in about two years and hopefully becoming progressively larger. And the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam repeatedly uses the word "conceivably" in speaking of the beginning of the phase-down over that span.

Asked at the National Press Club Tuesday whether he felt uncomfortable about making such a prediction in the light of McNamara's forecast, Westmoreland replied:

"My statement is to the effect it is conceivable to me that within two years or less it will be possible for us to phase down our level of commitment and turn more of the burden of the war to the Vietnamese forces."

On Oct. 2, 1963 the White House issued the statement that McNamara since has regretted. It came after he and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, then chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, had returned to Washington from a Vietnam inspection.

FROM WHITE HOUSE

The White House press office announced:

"Secretary McNamara and Gen. Taylor reported their judgment that the major part of the U.S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965, although there may be a continuing requirement for a limited number of U.S. training personnel.

* * *

"They reported that by the end of this year the U.S. program for training Vietnamese should have progressed to the point of where 1,000 U.S. military personnel assigned to South Vietnam can be withdrawn."

Within a month, President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown and killed and an 18-month period of further coups and chaos followed.

By the spring of 1965, the South Vietnamese army was reeling, its reserves near the vanishing point.

BUILDUP STARTED

And in midsummer President Johnson set in motion a major American military buildup to save South Vietnam—a buildup now due to reach 525,000 men by mid-1968.

Many things have changed in Vietnam since McNamara's prediction. Not the least of these developments has been the increasingly intensive bombing assault on North Vietnam, aimed at hampering Hanoi's ability to support the Communist assaults in South Vietnam.

* * *

In those two years, the South Vietnamese army has had the chance—behind a protective screen of American fighting units—to rebuild, retrain and develop better leadership.

Westmoreland may have hedged his prediction of the beginning of a U.S. military "phase-down" by referring to it as conceivable rather than definite.

* * *

But if the forecast is not born out by events, few people will remember his hedge.

News Analysis

Hart Charges Draft Bias on Organizations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., accused the selective service Tuesday of reclassifying students for the draft because they belong to organizations local boards don't like.

Hart, who has been critical of the reclassification of students who interfere with armed services recruiters, said in a prepared Senate speech that he opposes any such policy.

"At the risk of sounding dramatic," he said, "I think a reasonable question might be: can the republic endure a policy that allows federal officials to decide what political organizations are in the national interest and permits them to induct the membership of any group that doesn't pass the test?"

Hart cited an order of the Tulsa, Okla., draft board reclassifying John Ratliff, a University of Oklahoma student, to I-A on the ground that he was active in the Students for a Democratic Society, a group opposed to the Vietnam war.

The Tulsa board's letter to Ratliff said it "did not feel that your activity as a member of SDS is to the best interests of the U. S. government."

January Induction Quota Is Highest in 14 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon yesterday ordered the induction of 34,000 men into the Army in January, the highest draft call in 14 months.

The main reason for the high call, the Pentagon said, is that "the Army is now replacing the relatively large number of draftees originally inducted about two years ago when it was in the midst of its initial strength buildup" for the Vietnam war.

* * *

The total of 34,000 young men tabbed for induction in January compares with the November 1966 call of 37,600.

It more than doubles the average call this year of slightly more than 16,500.

AUGUST HIGH

The biggest monthly draft-quota in 1967 totaled 29,000 in August.

In announcing the January quota, the Defense Department said it supports "currently approved force levels and will assure a timely flow of replacements for men completing their terms of service."

The Pentagon said it expects that the average draft calls in the January-June period next year will be at a somewhat higher average level than the last six months of this year, with fluctuations from month to month.

Army draft calls in this fiscal year, which began July 1, are running at a lower rate than the corresponding draft calls two years earlier mainly because enlistments have been considerably higher than they were two years ago, the Pentagon said.

2 States to Swap Christmas Trees

SEATTLE (AP) — Christmas trees are being exported to Washington state from Hawaii which imports Christmas trees from Washington state.

A Seattle nursery plans to import 5,000 Hawaiian Norfolk Island pines, a golden green, symetrical tree. Fifteen hundred already have been flown in.

More than 100,000 firs and pines from the Pacific Northwest will be shipped to Hawaii early next month.

Vote Is Near on Mideast Peace Plans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Western powers pushed for a quick vote today on rival Middle East peace plans amid predictions that Britain's resolution would win overwhelming approval despite a late Soviet entry.

The British plan, submitted last week, was expected to poll at least 12 of the 15 council votes.

★ ★ ★

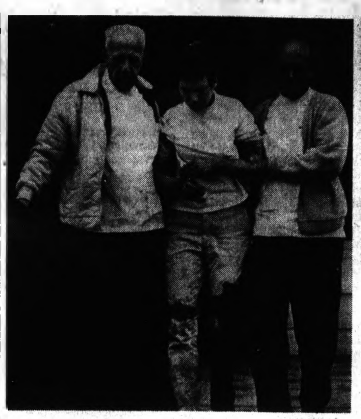

Informed sources said the Russians would vote for the British plan or abstain. They discounted the possibility of a Soviet veto.

U.S. BACKS BRITAIN

The United States was expected to withdraw its resolution in favor of Britain's. U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said earlier his government strongly endorses the British draft and would give full diplomatic and political support to the special U.N. representative it would send to the Middle East.

As the council neared a vote, Israeli and Jordanian forces dueled across the Jordan River Tuesday for the fourth straight day and Israel sent its air force into action. It was the heaviest fighting and the first use of Israeli planes along the Israeli-Jordanian cease-fire line since the June war.

Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-18th District, today called on the United Nations to apply in its budgetary and management programs "the same rigorous standards of program performance and budget review that we apply to domestic programs."

★ ★ ★

Speaking to the General Assembly's Administrative and Budgetary Committee in behalf of the United States, the congressman from Royal Oak pointed to the growing complexity of United Nations operations, particularly in theeconomicomic, social and development field and valled upon the world community "to share the planning, the responsibilities and the costs."

Pointing to the United States' contributions of $3 billion or over 45 per cent of the present total of $6.6 billion expenses of all U.N. agencies during the 22 years of the United Nations, Broomfield observed, "no nation has been more openhanded in support of the United Nations, the specialized agencies and other international organization."

Two Charged in Cruelty to Animals Case

Two area men were charged in Fort Walton Beach, Fla. yesterday with cruelty to animals after sheriff's deputies said they had been transporting 10 horses for two to four days without food or water.

In the Ocaloosa County Jail in lieu of $750 bond are Harold D. Risinger, 32, and Marvin Singleton, 25, both of unreported addresses.

They were stopped on a northwestern Florida highway in a closed van pulling a rental trailer when a sheriff's investigator saw something on the floor of the trailer and became suspicious.

The deputy said he found a dead horse and an ill one — later destroyed — among the cargo.

Another horse was later found by deputies tied up in the woods along the highway, deputies said.

Mother Held; Son Found Slain in Hippie House

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A young mother was hospitalized under guard today, following discovery in a hippie house of her 2-year-old son's body, a broken wine bottle protruding from a massive wound over his heart.

★ ★ ★

Officers said Carol Metherd, 24, the mother, was being treated for what was thought to be a drug reaction. She was held in a detention ward for investigation of homicide in the death of her son, William.

★ ★ ★

Capt. C. W. Miller, among the first officers to arrive at the house in East Denver, said the boy's heart had been cut out. Later, investigators said the child's internal organs were exposed by massive slashes about the abdomen and chest.

★ ★ ★

Police said the mother had been using her maiden name, Metherd, and had lived at the house—a stopping-off place for transient hippies—for about a month. The boy's father and her estranged husband, James Schellhammer, 34, a newspaper copy editor, collapsed and was hospitalized in shock when he learned of his son's death.

HIPPIES QUESTIONED

Detectives questioned 10 hippies who lived at the house and pieced together an account that indicated Mrs. Metherd had taken the youngster into the second-floor bathroom to bathe him.

★ ★ ★

Residents said they heard the boy screaming and the sound of breaking glass. Not much thought was given to the incident, they said, because the youngster often protested at bath time.

★ ★ ★

After more than an hour, one of the residents climbed to an outside porch and looked inside the bathroom.

★ ★ ★

Police said the nude child was face up in the empty bathtub and his mother, her jeans and shirt bloodstained, was lying motionless on the floor in a "fetal like" position.

QUESTIONED IN RAID

Police said Mrs. Metherd was questioned and released following a July marijuana raid in Denver. Police records indicated the house was searched twice recently during narcotics investigations. Officers said a small quantity of the hallucinogenic drug LSD was found, along with an amphetemine drug called "speed."

Cincy Airport Safety Probed by Two States

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Ohio and Kentucky officials, some questioning safety factors at Greater Cincinnati Airport have called for investigations of Monday night's crash that claimed 66 lives.

★ ★ ★

Two persons died in hospitals Tuesday of injuries. Four of the remaining 16 survivors are in critical condition.

★ ★ ★

Kentucky Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, Ohio Aviation Director Norman Crabtree and U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, asked Tuesday for investigations of safety at the airport.

SINCE 1961

The airport, 15 miles from here across the Ohio River in Boone County, Ky., has had four crashes since 1961—the latest Monday night when a Trans World Airlines jet carrying 82 persons plunged into a hillside and burned.

★ ★ ★

Two years ago this month an American Airlines plane crash claimed 58 lives. A big charter plane crashed into a hill in 1961, but everyone aboard escaped. Only two weeks ago, a TWA jet passenger plane crashed as the pilot aborted a takeoff.

★ ★ ★

A federal investigator reported Tuesday night that part of the airport's instrument landing system (ILS) was not operating during Monday night's crash. He added, however, it was probably not a factor in the tragedy.

People in the News

By the Associated Press

A half-brother has accused the two sons of the late Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles of "fraudulent and malicious conduct" in allegedly doing him out of an equal share of their mother's will while he was fighting in Korea.

Hunt Slater Kerrigan, 41, filed a suit in the New York State Supreme Court yesterday seeking $8 million from his half-brothers, Arnold Welles, 49, an investment consultant who lives in Greenwich, Conn., and Benjamin Welles, 51, a reporter in the New York Times Washington Bureau.

Kerrigan, a Manhattan resident and a decorated Marine Corps veteran, said his half-brothers "conspired" to prevent their mother, Esther Slater, from signing a new will that he contended would have left her estate equally to her three sons.

The mother died in Tampa, Fla., in 1951 at the age of 59. She was heiress to a textile fortune founded by her father, Horatio Nelson Slater II of Webster, Mass., and resumed her maiden name after divorcing Army Col. Joseph F. Kerrigan in 1947. She had divorced Welles in 1923.

The complaint in Kerrigan's suit asked $3 million as his claimed share of the estate and $5 million in punitive damages. It also asked for an accounting and appointment of a receiver.

Actress Divorces Ray 'Crash' Corrigan

Actress Elaine Dupont, 33, was granted yesterday an uncontested divorce from actor Ray (Crash) Corrigan after 11½ years of marriage.

In Los Angeles Superior Court, Miss Dupont testified the couple had "one argument after another" in their Encino mansion, frequently in front of their 6-year-old daughter, Colleen.

She estimated in her complaint that Corrigan was worth more than $3 million. A property settlement filed yesterday said they were selling the home for $365,000.

Alimony was waived, but Corrigan, whose age was given in an affidavit as 65, agreed to pay $500 monthly child support.

Bachelor, 48, Wins $100,000 in N. Y. Lottery

Joe Pencarski's mother is worried — her 48-year-old bachelor son won $100,000 in the New York State lottery.

"Now I'm afraid all the girls will be after him for his money," she jokingly told newsmen yesterday after learning he won the prize.

"I'm so happy for him, especially today since it is his birthday," she said. Pencarski called it "the best birthday present anyone could ask for."

Pencarski, a truck driver for a plastics firm in Cranford, N.J., lives with his parents in Irvington, a suburb of Newark. He said he had not yet decided what to do with the money.

Actor Charged With Enslaving Princess

Another chapter in the tangled love story of Italian Princess Maria Beatrice of Savoy and actor Maurizie Arena opened today with his summons to a Rome court or charges of making her a slave.

The bearded actor and the 24-year-old princess have vainly been trying to marry in Italy, Spain, England and France but bureaucratic and judiciary procedures have foiled them.

The charge, filed by a friend of the princess, accuses Arean of "various and repeated physical and psychological means of coercion, thereby reducing her to a total state of subjection."

Conviction could mean 5 to 15 years in prison. Maria Beatrice denies the charge. She said, "It's something dating back to the days of slavery, an archaeological oddity."

No Policy Change Anticipated

Recruiting at OU Is Debated

By DICK ROBINSON

Some 350 students and faculty of Oakland University — a few with beards and long hair and one student with an Army jacket — debated yesterday whether nny recruiters should be allowed on campus

For the most part it was an orderly session with handpicked speakers on both sides of the issue given 10 minutes to speak.

Judging from the applause after each of the 10 speakers, the majority of the people attending favored no change in the university's policy of permitting armed service and other "legal" business employers to recruit on campus.

The hearing was held before the 15 - member Placement Council of faculty and administrators, who may now submit a resllution to the University Senate, the faculty ligislatuve body.

★ ★ ★

No change in the university's policy on campus recruiters is expected.

PETITION

The hearing was organized after 100 students and seven faculty members signed a pritition against military recruiters nn campus and 29 students and two faculty members against any type of recruiters on campus.

Arturo Biblarz, a bearded instructor of sociology and anthropology, siad he would favor a ban on any recruiters on campus that have "anything to do with the war in Vietnam."

He included the Dow Chemical Corp., which makes napalm for the war, and even companies which send medical supplies.

★ ★ ★

Biblarz labeled the army as a "totalitarian institution" which does not permit free speech or independent decision.

"The university must be in a position to refuse its cooperation to organizations whose policies deny the rights of free speech, thought and dissent," he remarked.

The petition did not oppose anyone's right to come on campus to express a point of view when invited by a campus organization, the instructor advised.

He indicated that the university shouldn't encourage "mass murder" in Vietnam by permitting military recruiters on campus.

★ ★ ★

"(A university that does not permit free speech) does not, and cannot educate free individuals capable of the critical judgment that is essential to a democracy.

"This places the university in the same controlled position as the German university during World War II."

URGED VOTE

Biblarz had asked that the university hold a vote on its recruitment policy, which he termed illegitimate because it does not have the consent of faculty and students.

The Placement Council, which limited yesterday's hearing to the whos and whys of recruiters and not who makes these rules, had rejected Biblarz' request for a moratorium.

Typical among seven of the 10 students and faculty who spoke in favor of an open recruitment policy was blonde senior Carol S. Freeman of Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

Students should be able to decide if they want an interview with a recruiteer, she contended.

"Action taken is on the part of the student, not on the university which remains passive and dissociated with the views of the recruiter," she said.

Lawyer Hits Imperfection in Administering Justice

CHICAGO (AP) — The president-elect of the American Bar Association declared Tuesday night that due process of the law is not only threatened by mob action but also by "imperfections in the administration of justice."

William T. Gossett, a Bloomfield Hills lawyer and next ABA president, told members of the Chicago Bar Association that "equal access to the law is one of the many areas that cry out for a sharpened sense of due process on the part of all of us.

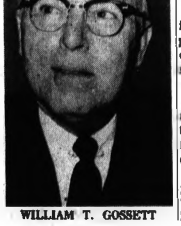

★ ★ ★

"A person without legal advice because he cannot afford it is, because of that fact alone, deprived of due process," Gossett said. "Unpopular people and those serving unpopular causes can be and often are, deprived of due process."

★ ★ ★

He said the "unpalatable truth is that the poor, black and white, resent and fear the law" because of the conditions under which they live seldom expose them to the law as their protector.

Gossett, of 420 Goodhue, added that there must be further extension of legal services to all who need them and that the legal profession must lead in correcting those injustices arising out of inequitable laws or legal procedures.

Note of Cheer Is Promised Viet GIs by Top Opera Star

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — If the war's about over, nobody mentioned it to the USO. Opera Star Richard Tucker has been booked into Vietnam for two weeks in June 1968, seven months from now.

Tucker, who earlier went over on his own to prove that GIs do want to hear opera excerpts ("It reminds them of home"), will travel under USO auspices next trip. "I promised I'd keep coming back as long as they're there," he says, "and that looks like it'll be some time . . ."

WILSON

Connie Francis departs for Vietnam Dec. 1, Bob Hope Dec. 15, Johnny Grant Dec. 17.

Readers have been chastising me for saying that Frederic March walked into the sea at Malibu in the film "A Star Is Born," claiming that James Mason did that role. But for once I was right (and so were they). March played that suicide scene in the original "A Star Is Born," about 1935, opposite Janet Gaynor, for producer David O. Selznick. A couple of decades later James Mason played the part in a musical version for Warners opposite Judy Garland.

Peter Sellers isn't going to have a lot of people ogling his wife Britt Ekland in the nude. So, when she does a strip in "The Night They Raided Minsky's," crew members and others will be searched for hidden cameras. No still photographers will be admitted. And Britt herself will have a right to censor the movie film showing her doing what purports to be (in the picture) the first strip tease in history.

Pentagon Sets M16 Retesting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon is going to retest the controversial M16 rifle, the basic fighting weapon of U.S. troops in Vietnam.

Deputy Defense Secretary Paul H. Nitze wrote the House Armed Services Committee that recent tests "have given us further assurances that the modified rifle now in the hands of our troops in Vietnam is a reliable and effective weapon."

He added, however, that in light of recommendations by a subcommittee of the House panel, further tests will be conducted by the Marine Corps.

Nitze said the primary purpose of the new program will be to test the rifle as it is used in the field under a program simulating actual combat conditions in Vietnam as closely as possible.

The subcommittee found the M16's troubles began when the Army started using ball powder in M16 ammunition in 1964. It said this caused the rifle's rate of automatic fire to be excessive and produced carbon that fouled the chamber — both causing malfunctions.

The army says it has since modified the rifle to solve both problems, but Nitze said the new test would involve both ball powder and tubular powder, some of which is still used by the Army in M16 ammunition.

Radios Silenced

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Twin City Transit Co. posted notices Tuesday prohibiting passengers from playing transistor radios on its buses operating in Little Rock and North Little Rock.

The notices said music from the radios was a safety hazard because it might distract bus drivers.

Big Nickel Theft

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Police are investigating the disappearance recently of 23 bars of nickle worth an estimated $1,200 from the State Plating Co. A spokesman for the firm, Roman Tryce, said each bar weighed about 38 pounds and could bring up to $3 a pound on the black market.

Bahamian Banks to Do Business in Own Currency

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Bahamian banks open today for the first time this week and will do business only in their own country's currency, according to an order issued Tuesday by the legislature.

The order was handed down after a two-day public holiday was called to give the government time to close speculative loopholes following its decision not to devalue the Bahamian dollar.

★ ★ ★

The legislature also gave final approval to a bill which fixes the value of the Bahamian dollar at eight shillings, two pence. The action maintained the Bahamian dollar's exchange rate with the U.S. dollar at 98 cents.

Premier Lyndon Pindling said the rigid controls would be relaxed as soon as the government felt the currency was safe from heavy speculation.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 6 won't try another broadjump on the moon after its eight-foot hop last Friday.

★ ★ ★

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory decided Tuesday there was not enough fuel left to propel the 600-pound spacecraft in another leap.

Surveyor 6 has radioed more than 20,000 pictures since it landed on the moon Nov. 9.

His rowboat, the "Cherrie Belle," was built in replica of early day paddle-wheelers. Seiler takes leaves of absence from the classroom for periodic adventures.

Napalm Talks Replace Riot

Stable Imports Jockey Honor for U. S. Rider

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A battle of words Tuesday replaced police tear gas and student rocks on the San Jose College campus in a protest against using napalm in the Vietnam war.

★ ★ ★

A riot was touched off Monday on the 20,000-student campus over the appearance of a job recruiter for Dow Chemical Corp., which manufactures the jellied gasoline.

During Monday's fracas, 12 persons were arrested, three others were treated for head injuries and a dozen for tear gas burns.

★ ★ ★

The protest was sparked by an organization called Students for a Democratic Society.

At the outset of an auditorium debate Tuesday before a standing-room-only crowd of 1,100, SDS representatives asked the moderator, Dr. William Dusel, the college's executive vice president if the Midland, Mich., firm would stop making napalm and, if not, if it would stop recruiting workers on college campuses.

★ ★ ★

Before Dr. Dusel could answer, 500 demonstrators walked out and began picketing the administration building.

Army to Cancel Viet Mail Ban

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Army plans to cancel its ban against sending mail to "lonely servicemen" in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., said Tuesday that the post office had decided that mail sent to "a lonely serviceman" care of Pfc. William Rice in Vietnam could not be considered as anonymously addressed. The army had received thousands of letters addressed that way after a letter from Rice asking for mail had appeared in a newspaper column.

★ ★ ★

Rice had volunteered to distribute the letters to servicemen who otherwise would have a cheerless Christmas.

Wilson said the Army plans to release 16,000 pieces of mail and 321 parcels that have been held at San Francisco and another 12,200 letters and 293 parcels at Seattle.

MAIL BANNED

The Defense Department had banned mail addressed to unspecified persons after a serviceman in Vietnam received a can of dog food and a note calling him an animal.

Boy's Road Test Tests Examiner's Courage, Nerves

HICKORY, N.C. (AP) — Driver's license examiner Ernest Neal of Hickory said a 16-year-old boy asked for a road test this week and said a friend had loaned him the car.

★ ★ ★

"I became suspicious when the boy asked me how to turn on the engine," Neal said.

Neal had more reason to worry when the boy slipped the gears into reverse rather than first, and screeched backward toward a busy boulevard, stopping just in time.

★ ★ ★

Neal jumped out of the car—end of driver's test.

Ex-Student Held After Try to Reveal Dope Probers

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A former University of Michigan student was arrested after publicly trying to alert the campus last week to what he said were the names of Ann Arbor police narcotics investigators.

★ ★ ★

Police said the former student, Steven Combs, 21, of New York City, was picked up Monday on a warrant charging antisocial behavior in violation of his probation on an April conviction for possessing marijuana.

They said Combs was also charged again with possessing marijuana after he tried to hide a small package containing the drug in his mouth shortly after being picked up Monday.

★ ★ ★

Police said a warrant for Combs' arrest was issued last Friday after two articles signed by him appeared in the student humor magazine, "The Gargoyle."

DESCRIBED DETECTIVE

The articles, entitled "My Dog Is a Nark" and "Bust We Must," named and described four Ann Arbor detectives and said they were narcotics investigators.

One of the articles said, "The entire abortion is run by a Lt. Eugne Staudenmaier."

★ ★ ★

One of the articles also said, "I thought grass (marijuana) had been legalized. They (students) were turning on (getting high) all over the place and I naturally jumped in. They (city police) began making busts (arrests) to serve as a warning to all newcomers on the campus."

The warrant for Combs' arrest said he had violated his probation through antisocial behavior in publishing the two articles.

ARRESTED

Police said Combs was arrested while strolling across the street from the Ann Arbor police station.

Shortly after being arrested, police said, he popped something from his shirt pocket into his mouth.

Lt. Staudenmaier said he forced Combs' mouth open and pulled out a tin foil wrapper containing enough marijuana to make five cigarettes.

No One Is Injured in NY Hilton Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Fire broke out in a linen chute in the New York Hilton Hotel in Rockefeller Center early today and the smoke drove about 100 guests out of their upper-floor rooms for about half an hour.

★ ★ ★

Many other guests smelled the smoke and fled anxiously to the lobby. A hotel spokesman said 1,200 guests were registered.

No one was injured, however, and the fire caused only minor damage. It was discovered at 12:37 a.m. in the bottom of the chute, which extends from the basement to the top floor of the 44-story hotel.

Fire officials said the smoke rose in the chute and spread throughout the top floors. The fire was declared under control at 1:40 a.m. Most of the guests returned to their rooms a few minutes later.

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney today announced approval of an economic opportunity grant of $30,054 to Economic Opportunity, Inc., of Monroe County. The grant will provide for continued operation of the community section agency which has administered anti-poverty programs in the area for the past year.

Cavanagh Asks a New Name for 12th Street

DETROIT (UPI) — Mayor Jerome Cavanagh yesterday suggested that 12th street — birthplace of last summer's bloody riot — be given a new name.

★ ★ ★

Cavanagh did not suggest a new name, but he said it should reflect a "new spirit and a new resolve in our city."

"The name 12th Street, like the name Watts in Los Angeles, will always evoke a negative reaction; will always be synonymous with violence and turmoil," he said.

★ ★ ★

The July riot began along a seedy strip of 12th Street lined with taverns and grubby shops. Cavanagh suggested that the local businessmen in the area should join with residents in selecting a new name.
