LBJ Signs Two Key Bills

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP)—President Johnson has signed into law bills greatly expanding Social Security benefits and federal aid to education—keystones to his Great Society legislative program.

He hailed the passage of the measures as triumphs for the nation's poor. But he had nothing at all to say as he signed a third measure—the $2.29-billion foreign aid bill—which imposes the sharpest dollar limit on total U.S. aid to other nations since the program began 20 years ago.

Johnson said the expansion of Social Security benefits is the "greatest step forward" since the system was initiated during the Roosevelt administration in 1935.

The next phase, he said, calls for close scrutiny of America's welfare system which he branded "outmoded and in need of major change."

He appointed a 19-member commission to "examine any and every plan, however unconventional, which could promise a constructive advance in meeting the income needs of the American people."

Related Story, Page A-2

The President named Ben W. Heineman, 53, chairman and chief executive officer of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Co., to head the commission.

The education bill provides a record $9.3 billion for elementary and secondary schools. The Social Security bill increases benefits by at least 13 per cent for 24 million persons.

Social Security checks going out in March will reflect the new increased benefits. Minimum monthly payments rise from $44 to $55. The maximum will be $160.50, compared to the present $142. The average monthly check for husband and wife over 65 increases from $145 to $165.

"One million more people will be lifted above the poverty line," Johnson said, and 65,000 disabled widows and 175,000 children will receive benefits for the first time.

MEDICARE

Medicare benefits are expanded to include additional days of hospitalization. Outside earnings of $140 instead of $125 a month are permitted with no reduction in benefits.

There will be additional taxes, though, for worker and employer, amounting to as much as $52.80 in 1968 on earnings of $7,800 or more.

The new law keeps the tax rate at 4.4 per cent in 1968, but the amount of salary on which the tax is levied goes up from $6,600 to $7,800. Eventually, the tax rate will rise to 5.9 per cent by 1987.

★ ★ ★

The education bill continues until the middle of 1970 a program of aid to elementary and secondary schools, giving states more say in how the money is used.

BENEFITS OF LAW

This new law, he said, brings special educational and health services to nine million of our poorest children, sparks a new effort to prevent dropouts, includes programs for handicapped children, help for rural schools and sets up bilingual education programs for children whose first language is not English.

Johnson commented on the record of the 90th Congress, saying it was not as productive as he urged it to be and left an agenda of unfinished business.

Cuts in City Services Are Due by Monday

By BOB WISLER

Cuts in city services ordered by the Pontiac City Commission two weeks ago will take place no later than Monday unless the Oakland County Circuit Court rules out an income tax election, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said last night.

This includes a $35,000 subsidy for bus service in the city.

A hearing is scheduled tomorrow morning before Judge William J. Beer to argue the merits of petitions requesting a referendum election on the income tax ordered in October by the City Commission.

However, the hearing requested by the city's director of law, Sherwin M. Birnkrant, could be delayed.

★ ★ ★

Robert D. Coon, a Pontiac attorney, said this morning that he would file today with Circuit Court a petition requesting that he intervene in a suit brought against the city.

RESTRAINING ORDER

The suit, started by a Pontiac fireman and a policeman, asks for a permanent restraining order preventing the City Commission from setting a referendum election on the income tax question.

Judge Beer last week continued a temporary restraining order until a hearing could be held.

The suit names the City Commission as defendants because the election machinery of the city is controlled by the commission.

★ ★ ★

Petitions requesting the election were circulated by a group organized by Cecil C. Mullinix of 571 Lowell. Coon said he was acting on behalf of Mullinix and the petition circulators.

CITY'S POSITION

The city finds itself in the position of being charged with defending the validity of the petitions. But, the city officials would like nothing better than for the petitions to be declared invalid.

Intervention by Coon as an interested party would allow him to defend the validity of the petitions instead of the city.

Once Coon's request is filed it would be up to Judge Beer to determine whether he would allow Coon to intervene as an interested party.

★ ★ ★

A hearing would probably have to be held on this matter and thus delay the hearing on whether the petitions are indeed valid.

PETITION VALIDITY

Some 1,900 signatures were turned in three weeks ago to the city clerk's office, but, the suit brought against the city charges that the petitions containing the signatures were not properly drawn up.

Winston L. Livingston, a Detroit attorney, representing the plaintiffs, charged that:

● — The petitions don't contain endorsements of the names and addresses of three persons filing them, in violation of the city charter, and,

● — The petitions do not contain certification by the circulator that "he is qualified to circulate this petition . . . and that each signature on the petition was signed in his presence, "in violation of the Michigan Election Law.

Waterford Fire Fighters Call for Mediator in Wage Talks

The Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters Association, Local 1335, has requested a mediator from the Michigan Labor Mediation Board to assist in the unit's current negotiations with the Township Board toward a 1968 contract for firemen.

★ ★ ★

"We have reached an impasse with the board," said Lt. Donald D. Somerville, president of the association which represents all 21 township firemen with the exception of the chief and assistant chief.

The crux of the issue is that township policemen were offered $200 more in wage increases this year than firemen, who were to receive a $600 across-the-board boost.

"The board has created disparity between the police and fire departments," said Somerville. "That's what we're fighting.

★ ★ ★

"Up to this time," said Somerville, "we have always had parity between the two departments.

HARMONIOUS RELATIONSHIP

"We have, in my opinion, maintained a harmonious relationship with the police department and would hope to continue this relationship," he said.

★ ★ ★

Because of the impasse in negotiations which began in September, professional firemen presently will no longer double as volunteer fire fighters.

★ ★ ★

"We (full-time paid firemen) will refrain from making fire runs on our off-duty time," said Somerville. "So we are no longer providing this free service and will be shorthanded," he emphasized.

Won't Oppose 'Hot Pursuit' by U.S.--Sihanouk

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk today issued a statement giving American troops freedom to chase Communists fleeing Vietnam into Cambodia's border jungles.

The chief of state, in the statement containing remarks made in a provincial speech Sunday, said he would not send his 35,000-man army against U. S. troops engaged in such "hot pursuit."

Sihanouk lashed "some Cambodian and foreign" critics of his decision to allow the Americans freedom of border action.

Sihanouk said his refusal to oppose any such American "hot pursuit" was in no way an invitation for border crossing by U. S. forces in neighboring South Vietnam.

The Cambodian leader said he would use his troops against the Americans if U. S. forces seize Cambodian territory and refuse to surrender it.

McCarthy to Enter N.H. Dem Primary

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., has decided to enter the New Hampshire presidential primary March 12, his chief supporter in the granite State, David Hoeh, said today.

Hoeh of Hanover said McCarthy will seek a full slate of national convention delegates pledged to him.

McCarthy is opposing President Johnson on the issue of the Vietnam war.

Hoeh said he received a telegram from the senator last night.

★ ★ ★

McCarthy had called off plans to tour Europe and Southeast Asia, Hoeh said, and would be in New Hampshire within the next two weeks to campaign "in excess of 12 to 15 days."

Baby Bonanza Won by Milford Parents

"Pretty hectic," said Mrs. Richard Brooks about the activity around her generated by her new title, mother of the first baby of 1968.

The Brooks, who live at 747 Birdsong, Milford, have named their daughter Amy Leigh. She was born Monday at 12:08 a.m.

The girl was born after a routine delivery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Brooks drove his wife to the hospital the day before.

Brooks, 24, is a technician in the noise and vibration laboratory at General Motors Proving Grounds in Milford. His wife, also 24, worked at Community National Bank.

Traditionally, the first baby born in the new year in this area receives numerous gifts from area merchants.

Gifts include a case of disposable diapers, a savings bond, a savings account, cases of milk, baby shoes, a diamond baby ring, baby clothes, a silver cup, a baby blanket and a high chair.

For the parents are such gifts as dinners for two, gift certificates, a tire, a car wash and polish, slippers for mother, a ham, dry cleaning certificates and flowers.

DR. ROBERT E. WALDEN

Flash

The County Health Department today issued a warning against eating cooked corn beef purchased within the last 72 hours from Bottle & Basket Restaurant, 190 N. Hunter, Birmingham.

Numerous cases of food poisoning have turned up since New Year's Eve and more cases were coming in today, said Dr. Bernard Borman, county health director.

Mental Health Leader Resigns

By ED BLUNDEN

One of the leading figures in Oakland County's mental health program has resigned.

Dr. Robert E. Walden, 47, director of the program for the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board, was one of the highest paid county employes at $30,000 annually. He was the center of a controversy for the last few months.

Criticism was leveled at Dr. Walden by employes of Oakland Training Institute in Berkley where some 40 mentally retarded children are cared for. The dissident group claimed lack of leadership for their program, among other things.

Twelve of a staff of 14 had turned in resignations which would have been effective today.

However, on Dec. 23 it was announced a compromise had been reached and 10 of the staff decided to stay. The other two reportedly are leaving for different reasons.

★ ★ ★

The OTI group was given a pay boost and a consultant, Mrs. Rita Charron, was hired to see to their problems.

The OTI operation has had difficulties since it began about two years ago and four directors quit in 16 months.

Dr. Walden was hired to head all the county's mental health programs in June 1965. Oakland was the first county in the state to set up a separate organization of this type under new laws. This fiscal year its budget is $2.2 million.

Dr. Walden came to the county after a nationwide search for a director. He had been superintendent of Lakin State Hospital, Lakin, W. Va.

He received his medical degree from Maharry Medical College, Nashville, Tenn., and took residency in psychiatry from 1957 to 1960 at Brockton and Boston veterans' hospitals in Massachusetts.

UNTANGLE WRECKAGE—Pennsylvania Railroad crews move in to clear the wreckage of 26 freight cars—many of them loaded with chemicals—after long-smoldering fires finally were quenched late yesterday at Dunreith, Ind. The accident occurred New Year's night when two trains sideswiped, setting off a series of explosions in ammonia, gasoline and oil tankers, forcing evacuation of the residents. Officials say the 236 residents of Dunreith will be allowed to return to their homes today when a deadly chemical compound is removed from a tank car left battered but unbroken in the wreckage. (Story, Page A-2.)

Fair Housing Vow Renewed in State

LANSING (AP)—A handful of citizens representing Michigan's most prestigious political, church, civic and labor groups renewed a pledge Tuesday to fight for a statewide open housing law.

Republican acting Gov. William G. Milliken, who led an unsuccessful bid for passage of such a law last month, predicted that this time "we will be successful."

The leaders met with Milliken for nearly two hours to map open housing strategy to be followed in the regular legislative session, which begins Jan. 10.

The meeting fell on the eve of the return of Gov. George Romney, who had added the controversial issue to the agenda of a special fall session.

Romney, a contender for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, left the lieutenant governor in charge of running the state and coordinating open housing efforts before leaving Dec. 7 on a month-long tour of Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

MAJOR ROLE

With Romney tied up in presidential primary campaigns, Milliken likely will play a major role in spearheading any future open housing move.

The special session bill, which would have outlawed discrimination based on race, color, religion or national origin in most real estate transactions, monopolized headlines last month, but failed in a 47-55 house vote.

"The bill, in my judgment and that of everyone present here today, is not dead," Milliken said. "It's merely waiting to be reactivated."

Attending the meeting were the state Republican and Democratic chairmen and representatives of the Michigan AFL-CIO, United Auto Workers, Michigan and Detroit councils of churches, Michigan Catholic Conference, Jewish Community Council, State Chamber of Commerce and Michigan Association of Police Chiefs.

RIOT COMMITTEE

Also present were members of the New Detroit Committee, named by Romney and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh to seek answers to last July's disastrous Detroit riots.

★ ★ ★

Democratic State Chairman Sander Levin said he and GOP chairman Elly Peterson planned talks within the next two weeks concerning what can be done by both parties to pass the bill.

PRICE-BOOSTING HARNESS—Shoulder harnesses, such as the one demonstrated by model Lynn Ross, became mandatory on all new cars under federal safety regulations. All new automobiles rolling off assembly lines in the U. S. yesterday were equipped with the safety straps. With the harness came a boost in car prices, generally in a range from $23 to $32. City Alters Boat-Trailer Code

BIRMINGHAM — After extensive discussion, the City Commission last night passed an amendment to the city code covering proper storage of house trailers, boats and boat trailers.

Unaffected by the new ordinance will be owners of boats at the time of the amendment's passage, and owners unable to comply with the code because of physical factors such as size of lot or building location.

Under the amendment, trailers and boats may not be stored at the front of a residential zone district, and may not be stored beside a house between the front and back of a district for more than 30 days.

House trailer camps may be established in zoning areas labeled B-2, but consent of 60 per cent of all property owners within 500 feet of the proposed site must be secured first.

Such a camp is the only condition under which fixed utility connections may be made to a house trailer, or under which it may be used for living purposes.

48 HOURS

Trailers, however, may be parked anywhere on a residential zone district for 48 hours for loading or unloading.

The commission also approved the first phase of a program for interim parking provisions during the construction of the Lot 1 structure at Merrill and Pierce.

Flyers placed on windshields will notify parkers for one week prior to the lot's closing, and the 12-hour limit on 25 meters in Lot 7 at Merrill and Henrietta will be lowered to two hours.

In other business, the commission set a date of Jan. 22 for confirmation of the assessment roll on delinquent debts from 1967.

Commissioners also expressed concern in the proposed sign ordinance, currently undergoing revision by the administration. Residents and business owners planning to invest in signs were cautioned of the impending change in the city code.

Indiana Town Sees End of Gas Threat

DUNREITH, Ind. (AP) — Officials say the 236 residents of Dunreith will be allowed to return to their homes when a deadly chemical compound is removed from a tank car left battered but unbroken in the wreckage of two freight trains.

Two Pennsylvania trains sideswiped New Year's night, setting off a series of explosions in amonia, gasoline and oil tankers, and forcing evacuation of the residents.

Blast-driven flames destroyed a cannery, service station and three homes. Windows were broken in a dozen other homes and businesses.

George Winburn, safety director of Rohan & Haas Chemical Co. of Louisville, Ky., said it would take 8 to 10 hours for the team of experts to transfer the lethal acetone cyanhydrin to a tanker truck. The compound, used in making plexiglass, produces cyanide gas when exposed to air.

MAY FINISH TONIGHT

Officials said the transfer may be complete by tonight. Many townspeople stayed with friends and relatives in other cities, while some were lodged in motels.

★ ★ ★

Winburn said he had hopes the compound had been consumed by flames, removing the danger of lethal fumes. "The worst thing that could have happened did happen," he said after finding the filled tank car unbroken.

★ ★ ★

State police said the same chemical had leaked from another car and seeped into nearby Buck Creek. They said nine head of cattle on the Everett Thompson farm a mile south of Dunreith died after drinking poisoned water.

★ ★ ★

Robert W. Heider of the State Board of Health said samples were being taken from the creek and Big Blue River, which it empties into, to determine how far the poison had spread. He emphasized that neither waterway is used for human consumption.

FLAMES EXTINGUISHED

Firemen extinguished the last of the flaming wreckage Tuesday night, more than 20 hours after the accident. Railroad crews working under flood lights began to clear the wreckage.

A railroad spokesman said an 18-inch piece of track snapped in the sub-freezing cold, causing cars on the 98-car westbound freight to derail into a passing freight about the same length.

Kelley Recommends Anticrime Measures

LANSING (AP)—Higher pay for policemen, two-year grand juries, school courses in law and order and state money for victims of violent crimes were recommended to the Legislature today by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

In a letter to lawmakers, Kelley warned: "It is an indisputable fact that we are faced with a crime crisis."

"We cannot fight crime with rhetoric," Kelley said. "We can fight it with firm and even-handed law enforcement."

Among the attorney general's recommendations were these:

RECOMMENDATIONS

- Boosts of local police salaries by 25 per cent, part of it financed by the state, coupled with higher education and training requirements for policemen.
- Making the job of county prosecutor a full-time job and joining together into single districts small counties where a full-time prosecutor is not needed.
- State-sponsored training programs for new prosecutors and annual seminars for incumbent prosecutors.
- Permitting prosecutors and the attorney general to petition a court for subpoenas or immunity-granting powers in criminal investigations.
- Increasing the maximum life of a one-man grand jury from one to two years while "making some provision for the protection of the anonymity of those called as witnesses before the grand jury."
- Making it a felony for an unauthorized person to lend money at an interest rate higher than 25 per cent per year.
- Money payments to victims of violent crimes, "based upon the principle of giving to the victim of crime or his family at least as much care and attention as we provide to the individual who has been convicted of committing the crime."

Heart Patient 'Doing Well'

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's third heart transplant patient, was "doing very well" today, a hospital spokesman said.

The 58-year-old retired dentist regained consciousness last night and in his first words since the operation said: "I am thirsty. Please give my regards to my wife."

The heart beating inside the white dentist's chest belonged to Clive Haupt, 24, a mulatto, but there was no objection from the chief defender of apartheid-South Africa's policy of racial segregation.

Said Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster: "I am very glad to hear that the operation was successful."

Ground War Flares in Viet

Da Nang One Target of Attacks by Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy Communist forces launched a series of coordinated attacks in the precarious northern provinces of South Vietnam today, including a rocket assault on the Da Nang air base that destroyed three planes and ground attacks in which at least 19 Americans were reported killed.

★ ★ ★

As the ground war flamed up after a New Year's truce which U.S. officers termed "the worst yet," Air Force pilots reported shooting two MIGs from the skies above Hanoi. North Vietnam claimed three U.S. jets were downed.

★ ★ ★

Heavy fighting dotted South Vietnam, but it was in the five northern provinces of the 1st Corps Area that the action was hottest.

These actions were reported:

1. Red gunners fired a number of 122mm rockets into a unit of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division bivouacked in the Que Nhon Valley 25 miles south of Da Nang, then followed with a ground attack. Initial reports said 11 cavalrymen were killed, 70 were wounded and the fight was continuing. There was no report of enemy casualties.

★ ★ ★

2. Earlier, before dawn, the enemy raked the flight lines at the big Da Nang base with 45 of the big 122mm rockets, destroyed a $2-million Phantom jet and two light spotter planes, badly damaged two other spotter planes and a twin-engine C47 and did minor damage to 20 other aircraft. Four Americans were wounded in the 10-minute barrage and 19 others were injured as the sleepy airmen tumbled into the darkness and dashed for bunkers.

★ ★ ★

Six coordinated hit-and-run assaults raked South Vietnamese outposts within a 15-mile radius of Da Nang. Casualties among the defenders were reported light.

Voter Suspension Cards Sent to 695 in Waterford

Notice of suspension of registration cards were mailed to 695 voters yesterday by employes of the Waterford Township clerk's office.

The 695 electors who were notified have not voted in the past two years as required by state statute to remain on the active registration file.

According to township clerk officials, the voters have 30 days to sign the cards and return them to the clerk's office in order to officially be reinstated as registered electors.

If they fail to comply, their names will be withdrawn from the active registration file and they will have to reregister in order to vote in this year's elections in the township.

★ ★ ★

Last January when the law was new, notice of suspension of registration cards were sent to 5,713 township voters.

FOUR-YEAR PERIOD

Prior to the state statute, township electors could keep their registration active by voting once every four years.

Currently, there are 21,936 registered voters living in the township.

★ ★ ★

Anyone with questions pertaining to his voter status is urged to contact the clerk's office.

Social Security Key Provisions Are Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following are the major provisions of the new Social Security bill signed Tuesday by President Johnson:

★ ★ ★

Cash benefits—Present Social Security recipients will receive increases of at least 13 per cent in their February checks due on March 3. Minimum monthly payments will go up 25 per cent, from $44 to $55. The top of the range for individuals will be $160.50, compared to $142 now. The average monthly benefit for a man and wife now on the rolls will be increased from $145 to $165.

★ ★ ★

The maximum future payment for a surviving family will be raised to $434.40, compared with $358 under the old law.

Taxes—A worker now pays Social Security taxes on wages up to $6 600 a year. This will be increased to $7,800 in 1968.

Waterford JCs Set Tree Pickup

The Waterford Township Jaycees announced today that they will hold their annual Christmas tree pickup Saturday and Sunday.

Keith Cadman, project chairman, said public schools in the township will be used as collection stations.

Residents should bring their trees to the parking lot of the nearest school Friday night or Saturday morning.

This year, instead of the customary burning of trees, the Jaycees will transport them by truck to the Holly Recreation Area where they will be used as brush shelter for rabbits.

★ ★ ★

Howard Green, a game biologist for the Michigan Department of Conservation, will direct the construction of the brush shelters, according to Cadman.

U.S.-N. Viet Peace Talk Gap Narrows

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam and the United States apparently have narrowed somewhat their differences over starting peace talks. But U.S. officials see little prospect the talks would be "productive" as required by President Johnson.

This is one of three questions on which the United States is reported seeking clarification from North Vietnam before deciding on its next move in response to a statement made last weekend by North Vietnam's foreign minister, Nguyen Duy Trinh.

So far, Trinh's statement is regarded here as being primarily an effort to build up new, worldwide pressures on President Johnson to stop bombing the North without a reciprocal scaling down of military action by North Vietnam.

Officials said, however, that the Trinh statement is being fully explored through diplomatic channels to determine whether it was seriously intended to advance the prospects for talks.

Exam Is Set for City Man in Hit-and-Run

A Pontiac man arrested in connection with the hit-and-run death early Monday of a 17-year-old Highland Township girl faces preliminary examination in Waterford Township Justice Court Feb. 13 on charges of manslaughter and leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

In Oakland County Jail in lieu of $10,000 and $2,500 bonds on the respective charges set at arraignment yesterday before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth Hempstead is Gary Gillespie, 22, of 350 Third.

He was arrested about 4 p.m. Monday at North Telegraph and Walton by an Oakland County sheriff's deputy while driving a car answering a description of the hit-run vehicle.

This was about 13 hours after Sherry Ann Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lane E. Knight of 203 S. Center, was killed and her escort, Alan Lengeman, 17, son of Mrs. Janet H. Lengeman of 3727 Gulfwood, Milford, was seriously injured by a car which struck them from behind as they walked on the shoulder of Milford Road in Highland Township.

Lengeman is reported in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

Deputies said the couple was apparently walking to the Knight home from Lengeman's stalled car when the mishap occurred.

Finance Firm Safe Is Looted

Some $770 in cash was stolen from the safe of a firm in the Pontiac State Bank Building by a burglar who apparently knew the combination, it was reported to city police yesterday.

The manager of the Baxter-Livingstone Finance Co., located on the building's fourth floor, told investigators he found the safe open when he opened the office or the safe.

He said there were no signs of a break-in, either into the office or the safe.

Officers said they later found a fourth-floor fire escape door open and tracked footprints in the snow to a third floor window which was also unlocked.

★ ★ ★

Mental Health Figure Quits County Post

No criticism was leveled in the announced resignation — either by Dr. Walden or by the mental health services board. Making the announcement was Paul N. Averill of Birmingham, board chairman.

He announced, "Dr. Walden leaves behind a record of important pioneering effort in this county, which in itself has given leadership statewide in establishing Public Act 54 as a valid and forward-moving piece of legislation."

(Act 54 enables separate organizations for mental health purposes in the state. Previously this work had been handled through hospitals and clinics.)

Dr. Walden's resignation cited the accomplishments of the programs for the mentally ill and mentally retarded.

He did not announce, however, his reasons for resigning or what his future plans were.

TEMPORARY LEADERS

Two men are to assume temporary leadership of the programs, the board announced. They are Dr. Donald L. White, assistant psychiatric director, and John Madole, administration officer of the board.

Dr. White, 44, was hired in April 1967 at an annual salary of $26,000. He is a University of Michigan graduate and was on the staff of Ford Hospital, Detroit.

Madole was hired in February 1965 at a salary of $13,500 a year after serving as the county envoy in Cali, Colombia, in an Alliance for Progress program.

★ ★ ★

The Mental Health Services Board offers both inpatient and outpatient care in conjunction with several county hospitals. It aids in operation of the three county Child Guidance clinics and operates or aids in operating various training programs for the mentally retarded.

The 12 board members are named by the County Board of Supervisors.

Body of Man Is Found in Wrecked Car

A 37-year-old Highland Township man was found dead in his car yesterday, some 65 feet into a swampy area off M59 in Highland Township.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the body of Theodore R. Stewart of 2919 Summit was found in the car about 2 p.m., shortly after a passing motorist who had noticed tire tracks leading off the road called the sheriff's department.

Deputies said the vehicle had apparently gone out of control east of Harvey Lake Road and left the road after knocking down eight highway guard poles.

The time of the accident will be determined at a post-mortem held today, according to deputies.

City Cuts Due by Monday

City commissioners were prepared last week to order a referendum election after City Clerk Olga Barkeley certified that enough valid signatures were turned in to order a referendum election.

The setting of the election would immediately delay collection of an income tax revenue ordered by the income tax ordinance.

In effect, the city wouldn't be able to collect income tax money until voters would approve the ordinance. And then, collection would be delayed until July.

★ ★ ★

With this in mind the commission ordered a number of cuts in services and the layoff of some 42 city employes.

SWIFT DECISION

While the income tax question is still up in the air the commission indicated last night that only a swift decision on the petitions would delay the cuts.

If the petitions are declared by the court to be invalid, the cuts won't go into effect and the city will take immediate steps to collect income tax revenue.

If, however, the court delays past Friday in reaching a decision or finds the petitions valid, the cuts will take effect no later than Monday.

Mayor Taylor said some $542,000 worth of services must be cut immediately to balance the 1968 general operating budget. This budget figures on no new income tax money.

NEW BUDGET

If the income tax goes through the city will draw up a new budget.

In addition to the bus subsidy, service cuts include shutting down the city's department of health and youth assistance, closing two library branches and the Hayes Jones Community Center and stopping a rent subsidy for the Office of Economic Opportunity's Action Center at 7 W. Lawrence.

Also planned are elimination of two fire companies (12 men) and closing of two fire stations, a reduction of overtime for employes of the Department of Public Works and in recreation programs and shutting off some street lights.

Spring Parking Ban Due on Part of Huron Street

As part of a long-range improvement of M59, parking will be banned this spring on Huron from West Wide Track to Perry.

Joseph Koren, traffic engineer for the city, said today the elimination of parking will allow for five traffic lanes.

He said the city will remove the meters now on the streets and the State Highway Department will paint new traffic lanes and install traffic control signs "as soon as the weather breaks."

He estimated the work would be done about the middle of March.

Koren said the street is wide enough for five traffic lanes — two in each direction with one lane for left turns — without widening of the street.

The state highway department and city agreed to changes in the street usage after meetings late last year.

★ ★ ★

Officials are hopeful that the changes will tend to eliminate the congestion which occurs on Huron during the rush hours, especially between Saginaw and West Wide Track.

'Hot Pursuit' Eyed on Legal Grounds

(EDITOR'S NOTE — In the following article, the distinguished scholar Milton Katz, Henry L. Stimson professor of law and director of International Legal Studies, Harvard Law School, discusses the question of "Hot pursuit.")

By MILTON KATZ
Written for the Associated Press

"Hot Pursuit" in international law means different things in different circumstances. The doctrine has evolved primarily as a doctrine of maritime international law. But on occasion states have tried to invoke it on land.

In only one type of situation can its meaning, application and limits be regarded as approximately clear. Suppose that a ship of the state of Erewhon enters territorial waters of the state of Utopia where it violates Utopian customs, fisheries or other law.

A Utopian patrol vessel pursues her through the territorial waters out into the high seas where it eventually captures her. Is the arrest lawful or does it violate the freedom of the seas?

The arrest is lawful if the pursuit was continuous—"hot"—throughout; but the right of hot pursuit ends as soon as the fleeing ship enters its own territorial waters or the territorial waters of a third country.

PROCLAIMED ANEW

This doctrine evolved as a part of customary international law. It was proclaimed anew on April 29, 1958 in Article 23 of the Geneva Convention on the High Seas, signed by some 55 states, including the United States, the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom, France, the Republic of China, Thailand, Cuba and Yugoslavia.

From time to time, some states have tried to invoke "hot pursuit" to justify behavior in wholly different circumstances, involving war and self-defense, on sea and on land.

Suppose that Utopia and Erewhon are at war. An Erewhon merchant ship, fleeing from a Utopian warship encountered on the high seas, tries to escape into the territorial waters of a neutral state. The Utopian warship, pursuing, captures the Erewhon merchant ship in the neutral territorial waters. Utopia might seek to justify the intrusion on the ground of "hot pursuit."

It appears to be at least the American and British view that the capture would be unlawful under international law in relation to the neutral state. Would it also be unlawful in relation to the enemy state, Erewhon? On this, foreign offices and learned writers have expressed conflicting views, but there appears to be no established doctrine.

MURKIER QUESTIONS

The legal questions grow murkier when the scenario shifts from sea to land, and murkier still when groups of varying and uncertain allegiance become involved. American experience in this regard goes back a long way, with the United States on both the giving and the receiving end.

In the Seminole War in 1817, Gen. Andrew Jackson pursued the retreating Seminole Indians into West Florida, then Spanish territory, where he captured St. Marks and Pensacola in which the Indians had taken refuge. Spain protested and demanded indemnity. The United States restored St. Marks and Pensacola to Spain, but justified Jackson's conduct on the ground of "the total and lamentable failure of Spain to restrain, by force, her Indians from hostilities against the citizens of the United States," in Secretary of State John Adams' words.

During an insurrection in Canada in 1837, the shoe was on the other foot. Defeated Canadian insurgents took refuge in the United States, where they apparently enlarged their forces through participation by Americans.

From Buffalo, they harrassed the Canadian side of the Niagara River, using a small steamer named "The Caroline." Canadian forces chased the Caroline into American waters, put fire to it and set it adrift over Niagara Falls.

U. S. PROTEST

The United States protested the violation of her territory, but the British insisted their act was necessary as self-defense since the United States had not effectively policed her own frontier.

In time, the affair was amicably settled. Britain apologized for the violation of American territory. The United States conceded there was a "self-defense" exception to the inviolability of territory, but emphasized that such exceptions arose only when the "necessity of that self-defense is instant, overwhelming, and leaving no choice of means, and no moment for deliberation," in Secretary of State Daniel Webster's words.

Comparable difficulties arose later between the United States and Mexico when, over a period of years, armed bands from Mexico intruded into the United States and escaped back into Mexico.

A peak was reached in the famous pursuit of Pancho Villa by Gen. Pershing in 1916. Villa, a revolutionary leader or a bandit, depending on the point of view, attacked Columbus, New Mexico on March 9, 1916, burning buildings and killing Americans.

PRIOR UNDERSTANDING

American troops under Pershing went after him and hunted him in Mexico. There had been a prior understanding between the United States and Mexico that armed forces of either country might cross into the territory of the other to punish escaping bandits.

★ ★ ★

But the Mexican government showed uneasiness over the agreement, insisting that Pershing withdraw. The United States stuck to its pursuit, reaffirming a reciprocal right on the part of Mexico.

★ ★ ★

The respective positions gradually hardened. The United States maintained that repeated bandit outrages from Mexico which Mexico seemed unable to control left the United States with no alternative in view of its own duty to protect American lives and territory. Mexico replied that no excuse could justify entrance into its territory by foreign forces without its permission.

The particular difficulties were worked out, but the respective attitudes were maintained.

SUMMING UP

Perhaps a few statements can be made to sum up without distorting the picture through over simplification. International law has established doctrines of the inviolability of national territory and the freedom of the seas.

There is one widely acknowledge "hot pursuit" exception to the doctrine of freedom of the seas, described above. Other alleged "hot pursuit" exceptions have been claimed to the doctrine of territorial inviolability; but the alleged exceptions have not found general support and have not become established as a part of international law.

★ ★ ★

Contemporary events make it easy to imagine possible novel claims of a right of hot pursuit in situations far more complicated, confused and dangerous than any here described.

Reagan Is the Delight of Party Fund-Raisers

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, already a million-dollar-plus fund raiser for the Republican party, is collecting the kind of political IOU's that helped Richard M. Nixon and Barry Goldwater win presidential nominations.

From traditionally Republican Iowa to new GOP country in the Old South, party chairmen beam with delight when they land the California governor for fund-raising dinners. He is one of the biggest draws in Republican history—"the all-time champ," according to Chairman James Halley of the California Republican Central Committee.

Reagan will test his appeal in the heartland of the East—the Establishment of Dewey, Willkie and Eisenhower—on a tour next month of New York, Pennsylvania and Washington, D.C.

The name Reagan to date has meant money to hard-pressed party finance officials in Oregon, Seattle, Houston, Dallas, Des Moines, Milwaukee and Columbia, S.C. Gratitude for similar favors created blocs of loyal national convention delegates for Nixon in 1960 and Goldwater in 1964.

Reagan keeps insisting he is not a candidate and hopes only to head a "favorite son" delegation from California to the 1968 convention.

In answer to questions at a Dec. 19 news conference, Reagan conceded that the backing of conservative Republicans who want him to run for president is "gratifying, there is no question about that."

★ ★ ★

He added, however: "My position hasn't changed at all. I'm not a candidate."

Nevertheless, the remark by Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon that Reagan is "the hottest political property around" is becoming a favorite saying among Reagan watchers.

IN DOLLAR TERMS

In dollar terms, Reagan raised nearly $1.4 million in September and October for depleted GOP coffers, says Tom Reed, a wealthy 33-year-old former appointments secretary who handles the governor's out-of-state political contacts.

★ ★ ★

National speechmaking tours are described by Reagan as "party chores that should be done." He is well aware that such ventures heighten speculation they are fronts for a full-scale campaign for the GOP presidential nomination.

Rochester, Township Officials Air Views

Avon Cityhood Issue Stirs Heated Battles

ROY REWOLD
Rochester Mayor

AVON TOWNSHIP — The verbal battle over the election Jan. 15 to incorporate all of Avon Township outside the City of Rochester is heating up here.

Both city and township government officials have released statements citing opposing views.

Mayor Roy Rewold of Rochester today related findings of the Rochester Jaycees seminar series and the Rochester Area League of Women Voters which have urged a single unit of government for the combined area.

"I would urge a 'no' vote," said the mayor. "My reasoning for this is that some of the proponents of a favorable vote say that we could consolidate the two cities at a later date."

Mayor Rewold said that checking the possibility of two cities consolidating showed that it has never happened in state history.

"I will do all I can as a lifetime resident of the Rochester area and as mayor of the City of Rochester to encourage the annexation of the Avon area to the City of Rochester."

Rewold's statement followed an earlier one put out by Township Trustee William McCullough wherein the recently proposed development of the $25-million Fried-Jacobson property at Walton and Livernois and the projected R. P. Scherer Corp. pharmaceutical plant on former Parke-Davis property were cited.

Said McCullough:

- "Avon Township has an area of 34.4 square miles compared to Rochester's 1.6 square miles.
- "Avon Township has a population of approximately 20,000 as compared to the City of Rochester's approximately 6,000.
- "The growth potential of the township exceeds that of Rochester.

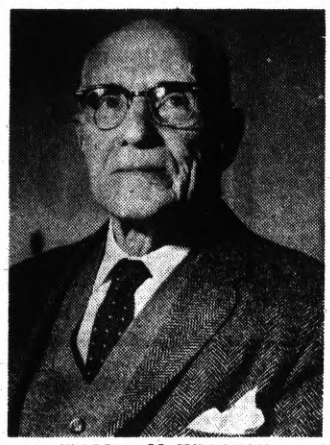
- "Unless Avon Township incorporates and adopts a charter of its own choosing, it could, because of annexation, be forced to a charter and form of government about which it has no choice.

"How sentimental can the taxpayers of our township afford to be?" McCullough asked.

PROTECT INTEREST

"They can best protect their interest in their property by voting 'yes' on the incorporation proposal.

"Once we have protected our bargaining position by incorporation, we then can consider the advisability of eventual merger with the City of Rochester, because we then can go to the bargaining table as equals and not as country cousins."



WILLIAM McCULLOUGH
Avon Trustee

JCs Feel Avon Annexation to Rochester Is Best Answer

ROCHESTER — The Jaycees, an active group of community-minded young men in the Rochester-Avon area, has come out in favor of annexation as the route toward unification of governments here.

An incorporation vote for Avon Township excluding Rochester is due Jan. 15.

Following "an extensive study of the existing atmosphere of local governments," the group has adopted a four-point statement of conclusions which includes:

- They agree with the objectives of simplification by avoiding duplication of governmental efforts and the prevention of fragmentation of the total Rochester-Avon area.
- They believe that if the Jan. 15 election passes, in all likelihood the result would be the formation of two separate cities, excluding the City of Rochester, to be fragmentation of the community.
- They believe that annexation of the entire Avon Township to the City of Rochester, as requested in the annexation petitions now on file in Oakland County is the most logical route toward unification.
- Whichever course the voters of the community choose, the Jaycees are pledged to study and work toward unification as long as it remains a possibility.

★ ★ ★

The statement of the Jaycees followed a similar one by the Rochester League of Women Voters and another by Mayor Roy Rewold of Rochester.

Statements favoring the incorporation vote Jan. 15 have so far been issued by Harold Pepper, chairman of the Avon Township Study Committee, and by Township Trustees William McCullough and Philip Trimble.

Troy Delays Setting Tax Vote

TROY — The City Commission last night tabled for the second time determination of the date for a half-mill tax election.

The proposed increase, to be used for construction of a city library, is still tentatively scheduled for Feb. 19, provided a city primary election is held the same day.

If no primary takes place, the millage election may be rescheduled to coincide with the regular city election in April,

The motion to table came because the Troy Board of Education, also meeting last night, was considering a new school millage election Feb. 19.

★ ★ ★

Friends of the Troy Library, a citizens' group backing the half-mill hike, have urged that the two millage votes be set on different dates.

BUILDING CODE AMENDMENT

In other business, the commission approved a proposed amendment to the city's recently adopted building code, dealing with swimming pool safety regulations.

Instead of an "adequate enclosure" as is specified in the present code, any pool containing over 12 inches in depth of water at any point must now have a chain link, frame or masonry enclosure at least four feet high.

Gates in the enclosure must have self-locking latches four feet high or otherwise inaccessible to small children from the outside.

★ ★ ★

The commission also voted 4-2 to deny a request from the Boron Oil Co. to rezone Lots 1-7 in John R. Gardens Subdivision from B-1 to B-3 to permit the installation of a service station.

CONSIDERABLE DEBATE

Since the intersection involved, John R. and Maple, has three service stations, which were constructed before the area was rezoned from B-3 to B-1 (forbidding service stations), the request brought considerable debate.

Commissioner John Kokalis, who cast a dissenting vote along with Commissioner Wallace B. Hudson expressed his feeling that the corner is "bound to go commercial" and said he hoped the planning commission would study possible uses for such areas, adding, "I question whether there is any other use for that corner."

In other business, the commission approved the special-assessed construction of a 12-inch water main on Square Lake Road from Coolidge to Glen-Moor Subdivision to provide an emergency supply for the well servicing that area.

★ ★ ★

Also approved was the appointment of Joe Howey as a part-time city librarian on City Manager Paul York's recommendation.

Howey studying for a master's degree in library science at the University of Michigan, will work part-time for the city until his graduation in April.

Man Is Charged With Try to Kill 2 Brothers

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Police here have charged a 28-year-old man with attempted murder of two brothers at a New Year's Eve party at 6551 Drake.

The two warrants were issued yesterday by Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

Charged is Fred Parkkila, 28, of the Walled Lake area who is being sought by police.

The two brothers injured are Randall and Thomas Ryan, both of 21355 Farmington, Farmington.

Randall, 19, who suffered stab wounds in the back and a collapsed lung, is in satisfactory condition at Botsford Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Thomas, 21, who earlier had been treated and released for stab wounds in the back and back of his head, is now in Selfridge Hospital in satisfactory condition.

'ATTACKED BY 7 MEN'

The Ryan brothers, home on leave from the Army, were attacked by seven men in the parking lot after they arrived at the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Barr, police said.

A third stabbing victim has been identified by witnesses as Jack Watson, age and address unknown, according to police.

Also injured during the melee at about 3:30 a.m. New Year's Day was Charles Parkkila, 25, of 6782 Drake, a cousin of Fred Parkkila.

★ ★ ★

Another man, still unidentified, was reportedly beaten, said police.

When two township policemen arrived at the party scene near 3:30 a.m. Monday, there was evidence of a large fight both inside and outside the home, said patrolman Richard Lamphier.

Fire Local Head Asks Vote

Union Certification Sought

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The president of the newly formed firemen's union here has applied for an election which may certify Local 1721 of the West Bloomfield Township Firefighters Association of the International Association of Firefighters.

The request for approval to hold the election was made after the Township Board refused to recognize Local 1721.

The board wants to assure that the local does represent the majority of the nine full-time firemen and about 30 or 40 volunteers, explained Township Supervisor John Doherty.

The supervisor added that the board has always bargained with a lawyer who said he was representing the firemen.

★ ★ ★

Local 1721 president Donald Nelson made the election request to the Michigan Labor Mediation Board in Detroit.

STATION 'CLOSED' AGAIN

Nelson reported that the Green Lake station was "closed" again Friday from 6:30 to 7 a.m. Saturday. He said earlier that the same station was also "closed" the Saturday before Christmas.

The station was closed both times because of a lack of manpower, Nelson explained.

According to Assistant Fire Chief Mel Jorits the Station was not officially closed although no man was in attendance in the building.

★ ★ ★

The station was in operation because a volunteer next door was taking fire calls on his monitor and telephone said Jorits.

NOT ALL DOORS LOCKED

Not all the doors of the station were locked, added Jorits who made the decision not to have a man on duty at the station.

Supervisor Doherty reported that for a 10-year period several years ago, the station didn't have a man on duty in the building all the time but a man answered calls from his home.

Jorits explained that men weren't at the Green Lake station because of a wage dispute and not because of a manpower shortage.

★ ★ ★

He said the firemen believed they should be paid more than regular wages when they work on their off days.

The fire department is under the ultimate authority of the township Fire Committee composed of trustees Walter J. Whitmer and John F. Warren.

Independence Rejects COG

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — A vote against seeking membership in the Southeast Council of Governments was unanimous here last night.

The Township Board qualified its motion, however, with a phrase, "at this time." Clerk Howard Altman said, "I know they would never vote to join without considerable study of the issue.'

In other business, the board amended its zoning map in four instances to conform with surrounding property classifications.

Areas returned to a residential classification were a small grocery store on Sashabaw Road near Whipple Lake — to be kept as a nonconforming usage; an old synagogue in Woodhall Lake subdivision; and a home adjacent to some industrial zoning at the Clement and White Lake intersection.

★ ★ ★

By action of the board, most of Section 18 in the Reese-Holcomb Roads area was left in an agricultural category. Suburban farms and residential had been proposed for part of the land.

East Lansing Saga: Tale of 'Goldilocks and the 4 Students'

EAST LANSING (AP) — East Lansing's very own "Goldilocks" has red hair and green eyes and goes for bourbon instead of porridge.

Four Michigan State University students returned to their East Lansing apartment after a long holiday break and discovered someone apparently had been living there while they were gone.

Douglas Bailey, 21, of Walled Lake told police someone had been eating their food and sleeping in their beds.

And, he said, the someone had taken 500 pennies, three pints of bourbon, sweaters, towels, a clock, a pen, about 40 record albums, a check for $6 and a key to the apartment.

Police said neighbors reported hearing music during the students' absence and seeing a girl with green eyes and red hair.

School Board Puts Tax Hike on the Feb. 19 Ballot in Troy

TROY — The board of education last night approved the placing of a 7-mill tax increase on the ballot Feb. 19.

The proposed boost, to remain in effect for two years, would bring in approximately $750,000 each year to brighten the district's dim financial picture.

The new millage attempt comes on the heels of two others, on June 12 and Sept. 11, both of which failed. As a result, the district will incur a deficit of $600,000 by the end of the fiscal year, despite cutbacks in many areas, according to Supt. Rex B. Smith.

The board also approved an effort to seek a $410,000 loan to handle current expenses. "We need more money to see us through till March," Smith said. "As things are now, we're going to run out of funds around Jan. 30."

The district cannot use present income to apply to expenses, Smith added, because of two loans received last year. One loan, he said, was against incoming taxes and the other against state aid.

"By March 2," he continued, "enough taxes will have come in to pay off the first loan, and we will have money to handle current expenses."

More Gold Transferred

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department said today it has transferred another $450 million in gold from the nation's money stocks to help cover the recent rash of speculative gold buying in Europe.

Avon Planners Eye $25-Million Project

AVON TOWNSHIP — A $25-million commercial - office - residential development for the southeast corner of Walton and Livernois is currently under consideration by the township planning commission.

The commission, due to meet in study session tonight, expects no formal action as yet, though it has received a letter from Vilican-Leman planning consultants of Southfield, which reports on the proposed project as follows:

"We look for the new developments (in the Walton-Livernois area) to emerge as the major commercial center serving the region and for the (Rochester) downtown area to assume the role of a marginal or fringe shopping area."

Proposed by Martin and Paul Fried of Claridge Properties, Detroit, the development would feature a pedestrian shopping bridge between the projected Jacobson Stores development on the northeast corner of the intersection across Walton to the proposed new development.

The developers told the Avon Planning Commission they would like to start work immedately once zoning problems were solved for the multiuse development.

HIGH-RISE APARTMENTS

No major zoning ordinance change, with the possible exception of high-rise apartment usage in the future, is foreseen by the planning consultants.

Individual parcels of the 19-acre area would, however, have to be zoned to usage, according to township officials to permit the stores, the medical office building and the apartments now planned.

Vilican-Leman visualizes the new development changing the character along Walton from the multiple housing, now planned, to commercial and office related to the new center.

★ ★ ★

The proposed development area lies now between the Rochester Senior High School and Crittenton Hospital.

Paul Whiteman

A man who in the Twenties and and early Thirties set America's feet tapping to a new dimension in music died at 77.

WHITEMAN

Denver-born PAUL (Pops) WHITEMAN rode the upswing of his rhythmic creation to become recognized as the "Jazz King" of his time.

His king-sized dance band that numbered 46 musicians was the innovator for innumerable others whose notes soon filled the Nation's glittering dance halls and luxurious restaurants.

In his heyday, Whiteman had 50 dance bands on tour under his name while his own aggregation featured the programs of top Broadway musicals and radio programs, and even breached the portals of concert halls with its semisymphonic classics.

Many future musical luminaries used Pops' bandstand as the launching pad to fame and fortune. These included such instrumentalists as the DORSEY brothers, BIX BEIDERBECKE and JOE VENUTI; and singers BING CROSBY, JANE FROMAN and MORTON DOWNEY.

Although he immortalized a score of instrumental hits, perhaps his most outstanding contribution to the world of music was his commissioning GEORGE GERSHWIN to write "Rhapsody in Blue," which WHITEMAN introduced in a New York concert hall on LINCOLN'S Birthday in 1924.

The impresario amassed untold millions from his career of melody, which enabled a generous nature to support many worthy causes, provide for friends and associates in distress, and gratify his hobby for promotion of automobile racing and ownership of hundreds of high-powered cars.

Tito Shuffles Schedule of Yugoslav Workers

Yugoslavs began the new year working an unfamiliar time schedule. The TITO government decreed that they will report for work at 8:30 a.m. and quit at 5 p.m. during a Monday-through-Friday workweek. The change does violence to a hallowed Yugoslav worker tradition of arriving at 7 a.m. Monday through Saturday and leaving at 2 p.m., in time for a late luncheon, followed by a nap and perhaps a leisurely stroll.

The government obviously feels that putting Yugoslav workers on a time schedule with their western, capitalist neighbors is more important than tradition. The change offers one more shred of evidence that western business philosophy is taking root in Eastern Europe under Communist regimes.

★ ★ ★

Hungarian and Czech workers have begun to sound like their American union counterparts in demanding a bigger voice in economic affairs. Romania virtually had declared its independence from Moscow on economic matters. From Poland come reports that 23 years of Communist rule have been unable to quell the farmers' bent for free enterprise.

It is not entirely clear whether Moscow is merely tolerating subtle practices of capitalism in the Communist states of Eastern Europe, or whether Russia itself is leading the way.

★ ★ ★

Since STALIN'S death, Soviet leaders have half - acknowledged that some western economic notions have merit and might be adapted to their economy. They find expression in new emphasis on placating the Russian consumer and a steady but cautious introduction of wage-profit incentives.

'Round Numbers' Belief Doesn't Square With Facts

There's a fascination about years ending with nice round numbers.

Take the year 1000, for example, which most of Christendom was quite certain would bring the end of the world.

★ ★ ★

Or 2000, about which scientists are predicting all sorts of things and which people are beginning to look forward to as marking a fateful and tremendous turning point of some kind or another.

But perhaps we attach too much significance to such round numbers, suggests Glenn Seaborg, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Aside from the fact that most great historical dates have no zeros in them —1215, 1492 or 1776, to name a few, have you ever noticed where your car is when the odometer turns the thousand mark? he asks.

It's usually a place you'd be least likely to want to stop for any length of time.

Editorial Dept. Outbowls Sports

It is fitting that the spirit of the victor reflect magnanimity toward the vanquished, Such is the one harbored by the Editorial Department of The Press whose football forecaster overwhelmingly defeated the Sports Department's Supreme Swami in predicting the outcome of the six major bowl games played over New Year's weekend.

For those who came in late, Mrs. James Wilson, 41 Oak Hill, little more than a month ago won Editorial's annual football contest, thereby gaining the title of Peerless Seeress for 1967 together with the winner's award of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond.

★ ★★ ★

But, you see, Sports' panel of Swamis (four good men and true, but not necessarily right) customarily make weekly pigskin prognostications throughout the football season. Top predictor among them for the past season was Swami Fletcher Spears, with a winning percentage of 74.

At this point, interdepartmental rivalry reared its ugly head, and certain snide remarks reflecting on the occult powers of its standard bearer reached Editorial's ears.

So persistent was the calumny that the department, the ethics and gentility of whose personnel is self-admittedly impeccable, could bear it no longer, and issued the bowl-games challenge.

Sports duly accepted it, and the stage was set for the greatest grid guessing game since football players stopped wearing shin guards.

Well! What Seeress Wilson did to Swami Spears shouldn't happen to a dog —er, swami. Of the games covered by the challenge, the soothsayers picked the same outcome for two games, thus reducing the area of contention to four.

Our feminine fireball took the Orange, Sugar and Sun Bowls like Grant took Richmond, and just missed making it a clean sweep by losing the Rose Bowl when Indiana was felled by Southern Cal.

There, readers, you have it. Editorial has emerged with its image not only unsullied but enhanced. We'd prefer not to comment on that of Sports, since The Press is a family newspaper.

★ ★ ★

In recognition of the superlative performance turned in by Seeress Wilson, she and her husband will be Press guests at a de luxe dinner, accompanied not surprisingly by a representative of Editorial and his spouse.

★ ★ ★

As for Sports, perhaps the crow that one of the department's Swamis, with more hope than wisdom, had staked out for Editorial to eat, will serve as the basic ingredient for Swami Stew for four.

You're No Kid If You Remember—

David Lawrence Says:

France to Feel U.S. Restrictions

WASHINGTON — Gen. de Gaulle may be having some second thoughts about the United States, and the French people may be doing some new thinking about Gen. de Gaulle as a consequence of President Johnson's announcement that tourist trade outside the Western Hemisphere will hereafter be substantially restricted.

No countries were mentioned in the plan to reduce tourist spending abroad, and no government was blamed for the crisis which has developed over the soundness of the dollar in world trade.

LAWRENCE

Viewing the whole situation retrospectively, however, the President might not have found it necessary to take such serious measures of limitation as were announced on New Year's Day if France had wholeheartedly cooperated with the United States after Britain devalued the pound sterling.

The French, on the contrary, officially and unofficially did everything they could to damage the prestige of the dollar and to start speculators in their drive to reduce the gold value of the dollar.

President Johnson, in his formal statement, spoke of many things that are necessary to maintain the stability of the international monetary system of which, he said, "The U.S. dollar is the bulwark."

★ ★ ★

He emphasized that the time has come to "engage the cooperation of other free nations, whose stake in a sound international monetary system is no less compelling than our own."

While the business world regards some of the measures as painful, it recognizes that what the President outlined may be the beginning of a far-reaching readjustment in world trade.

Not only are American investments abroad to be limited, but apparently the United States is not going to be willing to reduce its own tariffs while at the same time foreign countries erect new barriers. Mr. Johnson's statement said on this point:

"American commerce is at a disadvantage because of the tax systems of some of our trading partners. Some nations give across-the-board tax rebates on exports which leave their ports and impose special border tax charges on our goods entering their country.

"International rules govern these special taxes under the general agreement on tariffs and trade. These rules must be adjusted to expand international trade further."

It is likely that the United States will endeavor to stabilize the imports of certain products — particularly steel — which now are competing with American goods even within this country. There is no intention to cut down such trade, but merely to limit the incoming quantities by setting up quotas.

There is a feeling in Washington that the President's moves this week are preliminary to others, far more drastic, which may become necessary to keep the dollar from declining further in the money markets of the world.

Bob Considine Says:

It's Time to Examine the Calendar Foul-Up

NEW YORK—Did you wear that silly paper hat and blow that off-key horn in vain?

Did you solemnly swear to yourself or others that you would operate this year under a stern set of resolutions? Indeed, was this really the dawn of a New Year?

CONSIDINE

What year is it? What day? What hour? Quick!

Man, in his arrogant confidence, has laid down certain rules and regulations as to just where we are in our short-lived lives, and defined the progress, if it can be called that, of our infinitessimal satellite (earth) which is in orbit around one of the lesser of the stars (our sun), both flung near the edge of a relatively obscure constellation ridiculously called the Milky Way.

The day - night month - year rule we observe — we call it our calendar — has been so fouled up over the centuries that those who originally devised it would never recognize it, if reincarnated.

Christ may have been born in what we call May, for all we know. (Call Jim Bishop.) Easter may be properly placed around Dec. 25. A July 4th orator could come to the conclusion, halfway through his dissertation, that he should have had his ghostwriter give him a Thanksgiving Day speech.

★ ★ ★

This is whatever day you decide it is because Pope Gregory XIII and two brilliant friends of his who were astronomers and physicians, Aloysius Lillus and Luigi Lilio Ghiradi, plus a German jesuit and mathematician named Christopher Clavius, figured the whole thing out in 1582.

'ULTIMATE JOB'

But not, of course, to everybody's satisfaction. Julius Caesar would not have approved. He thought he had done the ultimate job 15 centuries before, when he put a stop to the political control over the calendar.

His predecessors had fouled it up so badly, in order to shorten or lengthen the terms of political appointees, that winter had become autumn and autumn had infiltrated summer.

But the Julian year, which began about four decades before Christ with a year of 445 days, was 11 minutes and 15 seconds out of tune with the celestial year. That meant the loss of an entire day every 128 years. Learned men became disturbed over this and set out to correct matters.

'City Needs Volunteer Police and Firemen'

Mr. Mullinix saw fit to circulate petitions for a referendum on the income tax, postponing this revenue and causing the City to be in deep financial crisis. Now we must lay off City employes and cut back services because we will not be able to collect income taxes until July 1. If the people do not vote in favor of the income tax in February, we could not get the benefit of a property tax until July, 1969.

★ ★ ★

We need more policemen instead of less. Riots and crime must be stopped. I believe some good citizens of Pontiac would offer their services as auxiliary police or as volunteer firemen. We need at least 100 volunteer policemen trained by our present police department and prepared to help in time of emergency or riot. We now have a small auxiliary police unit but we must have more.

★ ★ ★

Because of our financial condition it is impossible to hire more full-time policemen. We must not let this forced postponement of needed City revenue obstruct this important service. I hope some of our able-bodied citizens will apply at our police department to become auxiliary policemen.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

Small Change . . .

The Flint Journal

Previous spending on national election campaigns is almost certain to look like small change in comparison with what probably will be spent this coming year.

It has been estimated by the Presidential Commission on Campaign Costs that a total of $200 million was spent in the 1964 election for all offices.

★ ★ ★

A public affairs pamphlet put out by the Chase Manhattan Bank offers excellent example of what lies behind the size of this bill:

"The $150,000 total spent in the 1860 election campaign is about the price today of one hour of prime time on a TV network. A telethon, a favorite device in the windup period of a campaign, can run about $250,000."

With the rising cost of living, the smell of success in the nostrils of many Republicans and the greater interest in the issues as compared to 1964, there is every indication that the final costs of the 1968 campaign will be nothing short of staggering.

★ ★ ★

This mounting cost of getting elected to office has concerned students of our government for some time. Last year, Congress sought to meet a part of the problem with a law providing a $1 checkoff on income tax payments, such money to be divided equally between the two major parties.

Second thoughts — made in the middle of widespread criticism of the policy from all shades of political thought — resulted in abandoning this idea.

The voter, however, will have to be persuaded that democratic government as we practice it is worth not only the time it takes to make his decision and cast his ballot, but also a small bite from his share of the pie provided in our affluent society.

An Exception . . .

The Wall Street Journal

The truism still holds: Many Congressmen are all for Governmental economy—until it begins to affect themselves or their constituents. But it's nice to know that isn't always the case.

★ ★ ★

The Joint Congressional Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures is of course constantly harping on high living in the Executive branch.

When the committee lost its chairman, the late Senator Harry F. Bryd Sr. of Virginia, it had a small chance to show that it means what it says.

At that time the committee found that it still had a supply of envelopes carrying the postal frank of the Virgina Democrat.

★ ★ ★

Though the usual procedure would be to throw them away, the committee instead is using them up by drawing a line through Mr. Byrd's reproduced signature and adding a sticker with the name of the new chairman, Rep. George Mahon of Texas.

It's a tiny gesture, really no more significant than turning out lights in the White House. Yet we're sure the principle is one that Harry Byrd would have appreciated.

Social Security—2

Tax Bite for Increased Benefits Is Deferred

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second of a series analyzing the changes currently being made in the Social Security and Medicare regulations.)

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Publications

WASHINGTON — Only one in every four Americans at work will feel any increased Social Security tax bite in 1968 as a result of major 1967 revisions in the law.

That does not mean that the many other millions of workers paying into Social Security coffers will be relieved indefinitely from paying a share of the higher cost of benefits due to be lifted an average of 13 per cent for nearly 24 million recipients with their March 2 checks.

The stiffer tax load for everybody else has simply been postponed for a year.

In 1969 more than 80 million working Americans will get hit harder in their pay checks as Social Security tax deductions rise. (The actual work force is not much above 72 million, but enough people are on and off the employment rolls in the short run, like Christmas workers, to account for the higher total.)

Here is why roughly one in four Americans on the job will get nicked a bit more in 1968:

The new law raises from $6,600 to $7,800 the level of annual earnings from which the Social Security tax is to be taken. But it does not elevate the 4.4 per cent tax rate in 1968. The net of it, then, is that people who earn more than $6,600 in 1968 will pay more than they did in 1967—but nobody else will.

RISING TAX RATE

In 1969 this will happen:

The earnings base from which the tax will be drawn will hold at the $7,800 level—as it will indefinitely thereafter. But the Social Security tax rate will rise from the present 4.4 per cent to 4.8 per cent. From that point on, every working individual will feel the bigger bite.

That will not be the end of it. Five times more between 1971 and 1987, the Social Security tax rate will rise, until it reaches a scheduled peak of 5.9 per cent.

The last four of these upward changes will come as a result of slight increases in the charges for the Medicare portion of Social Security—which even in 1987 will still represent only about a sixth of the total Social Security tax.

All through this rising cycle, of course, your employer will be paying in more, too, since he must match your payments into the established benefit trust funds.

Self-employed persons, having no employer to match their own contributions, have always had to pay more as individuals and will continue to do so. Their 1967 tax rate of 6.4 per cent holds through 1968, then escalates to 6.9 per cent in 1969-70 and rises five more times to a 1987 peak of 7.9 per cent.

The most a man at work could be taxed in 1967, with a $6,600 base, was $290.40. The worker who makes $7,800 or more in 1968 will pay $343.20.

Thereafter his Social Security tab will rise to a maximum of $460.20 in 1987 and after.

For the self-employed, the 1967 figure was $422.40, the 1968 figure $499.20, and the 1987 figure $616.20.

ADDED LOAD

Clearly the millions who on March 2 will start getting fatter checks are not getting bread from the sky. Working taxpayers are going to bear the added load.

Many of the younger ones, seeing retirement and other problems far off in the future, are bound to complain. For a good while they will be carrying the freight for many older people, including some who put little or nothing into the Social Security reserve.

★ ★ ★

Social Security authorities have some arguments, worth a later look, as to why the system is nevertheless a pretty good thing for today's millions of young workers who will be paying the heavier Social Security taxes for a long time to come.

Reagan Recall Campaign Is Far Short of Signatures

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The first effort to force a recall election on Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan is going to fall far short of its sign-up target.

But Nancy Parr, a San Francisco registered nurse who started the campaign, says she's going to keep trying.

The state constitution requires 780,414 signatures, 12 per cent of the total vote cast in the 1966 election for governor, to force a recall election.

Miss Parr said in an interview that her campaign to date has corraled 500,000 signatures on recall petitions circulating in various parts of the state.

★ ★ ★

She has until Jan. 18 — six months after she filed for the recall — to obtain the remain 280,000. It sounds easy, but it isn't — because she actually must get about 400,000 more to assure that the petition is valid.

Generally, about 25 percent of the signatures on statewide petitions are declared invalid for a variety of reasons.

NO SUCCESSES

No recall move against a california governor has ever succeeded in getting the needed signatures.

Records in the office of Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan indicate former Gov. Frank F. Merriam had little trouble with a recall group in 1936.

There were four recall petitions filed against Gov. Culbert F. Olson, a one-term Democrat, and three against Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Reagan's predecessor in the state's No. 1 office.

★ ★ ★

Miss Parr frankly admits she won't meet the deadline, either but she plans to refile the petition in January — and start all over again.

DENY NOMINATION

The goal is one million signatures by July — right before the August Republican national convention. Miss Parr says that the group wants to recall Reagan and deny him the Republican presidential nomination.

"We really want to get rid of him as governor," Miss Parr said in the interview at the group's headquarters in suburban Orangevale. "But, something that is more important is to stop him from becoming president."

Reagan repeatedly has said he is not a candidate for president.

LBJ Signs $9.3-Billion Education Bill

SAN ANTONIO, Tex (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill calling for the largest outlay of federal funds for education ever authorized in a single act.

The bill—extending to mid-1970 the aid program for elementary and secondary schools Johnson pushed through Congress two years ago—bears a $9.3-billion price tag.

★ ★ ★

Schools can make better use of the money if they know in advance how much they will get, Congress was told.

Another innovation in the law will shift the administration of an important part of the program from Washington to the various states.

$1 BILLION

This program—designed to help local school districts establish supplemental education centers and develop new teaching methods—will receive more than $1 billion during 1969 and 1970. All of it, under the old law, would have been handed out directly by the U.S. Office of Education to local districts.

Now the money will go to the states to be distributed in accord with state-drawn plans. Under a compromise between the House and Senate, 75 per cent of the money will go to the states in 1969 and all of it in 1970.

By far the largest sums in the bill are for the improvement of eduational opportunities and standards for children in school districts containing large numbers of impoverished families. The wide variety of remedial and concentrated courses made available by the program are open both to public and parochial school students. A provision that would have permitted individual taxpayers to challenge the constitutionality of aid to parochial school students was stricken from the bill before its final passage.

The bill contains no provision dealing with school desegregation, but its passage through Congress was eased by a declaration of policy on the subject by John W. Gardner, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Gardner said no school will have its funds cut off during a school year for failure to comply with the civil rights laws unless it has received written notice of such a danger by the previous March 1 and notice of a hearing by Sept. 1.

The declaration was designed to ease fears of some southern educators that programs might be abruptly terminated in midterm.

Also extended until June 30, 1970, by the law is the program of aid to school districts in areas where there are large numbers of federal employes. The program has been in existence since 1951.

BUDGET THREATENS BRITANNIA — Queen Elizabeth's yacht Britannia may feel the economy ax of Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government in its effort to save Britain $1.9 billion by 1970. Critics claim the 5,759-ton vessel costs more than $1 million a year to maintain but spends most of her time tied to a buoy. The ship is shown passing under the American span of the Thousand Islands bridge across St. Lawrence River at Kingston, Ont., in July 1967, during a tour of Canada by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

1967 Riot Cases Still in Court

By the Associated Press

The summer riots in Newark and Detroit took place nearly six months ago, but courts of both cities are still dealing with hundreds of the arrests which resulted from the outbreaks.

Clearing the dockets is likely to take at least until next summer.

In Detroit, where 4,200 persons were jailed, the trials of 1,200 accused of felonies will commence next spring.

In Newark, where 1,300 were taken into custody on riot-connected charges, 330 cases remain to be heard.

Detroit disposed of misdemeanor cases arising from the riots within two to three weeks after peace was restored. More than 1,000 defendants pleaded guilty to charges rangipg from drunkenness to disorderly conduct. Most were sentenced to five to seven days in jail.

About half of an original 3,200 felony cases in Detroit were settled by the prosecution's acceptance of guilty pleas to lesser charges if the defendants had no prior criminal records.

Still in jail are 40 persons accused of serious crimes who were either denied bail or were unable to find sureties for their release.

Most of these were held in high bail because they already had charges pending against them for other crimes when they were arrested in the rioting and accused of such offenses as arson or attempted murder.

Jay Nolan, an assistant Wayne County prosecutor, expressed hope the courts would complete the outstanding trials within the next five or six months, commenting: "We had barely cleared out our cases on the 1966 disturbance on Detroit's east side when our 1967 troubles struck." Grand juries in Newark returned felony indictments against 808 of the 1,300 arrested there. Most were charged with looting, one with murder. Investigations into 26 other homicides are still going on.

Faced with overcrowded jails and jammed court calendars, the Newark prosecutor's office downgraded to disorderly conduct the charges against about 300 persons indicted for more serious crimes.

New Device Offers Hope in Air Turbulence Detection

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Clear air turbulence (CAT) is a mystery that meteorologists would love to solve. The sudden, violent phenomenon can tear a jetliner apart without warning.

One of the most promising ways of detecting CAT pockets assumes that they are accompanied by a sharp change in temperature, which can be detected either by infrared or microwave detectors.

A CAT detector patented last week senses temperature far ahead and to the side of the aircraft by measuring microwave radiation put out by oxygen molecules, the intensity of which depends on temperature.

The remote temperature is compared with the temperature at the aircraft itself, and when a sharp change is noted, an electronic circuit tells the pilot which way to turn to avoid the disturbance.

The patent was assigned to Sperry Gyroscope Co. by the inventors, Benjamin R. Fow, Richard F. Hazel and Wayne D. Mount. A Sperry spokesman says the remote temperature radiometer is being engineered by the company for use also in air pollution studies, but the whole CAT assembly hasn't been flown yet.

One difficulty with the temperature sensors is that the instrument has to be kept level. Temperature changes due to different altitudes, which would be picked up if the plane tips, give false alarms.

Regionally infant mortality rates are highest in the South.

U.N. Peace Force Fights a War of Wits in Cyprus

KYRENIA, Cyprus (AP) — Cpl. Cy Clayton and his five men stand right in the front line of the war waged by United Nations forces in Cyprus.

The Canadian corporal, however, is more concerned with polishing his diplomatic manner than priming his rifle. His is mainly a war of wits against an armed "enemy" of mutually hostile Greek- and Turkish-Cy- hostile Gree-and Turkish-Cypriots.

★ ★ ★

In the U.N. force a soldier operates from a position of exposed weakness rather than concealed strength.

Clayton and his men can bluff or bluster, as long as it falls short of force. The only weapons used are staves wielded to ward off dogs.

Clayton's stronghold is a cluster of huts painted in the blue and white U.N. colors.

The post stands on a mountainside exposed to view for miles around—from the arid plain below, where Greeks and Turks square off among the olive trees, and from the fantastic St. Hilarion Castle above, a fortress built into the rocky summit 800 years ago and held since 1963 by Turkish-Cypriot fighters.

Like 18 other observation posts manned by Canadians in Kyrenia district, it is also visible and vulnerable after dark, illuminated by spotlights.

"It hardly fits the army rule about concealing positions," a soldier says, "but this way no trigger-happy local can claim he shot a U.N. man by mistake."

EYE FOR VIOLATIONS

The main job is to keep a sharp eye out for violations of the cease-fire arranged in 1964. Any reinforcement or rebuilding of battle lines and any armed intrusions into demilitarized zones are reported higher up and if possible stopped on the spot by persuasion.

The group has an added task —preventing illegal traffic in arms, ammunition or unauthorized building materials into Greek-ringed Turkish enclaves.

★ ★ ★

Greek-Cypriot fighters entrenched along a road and ringing the village agree to Turkish traffic on condition that nothing conceivably warlike is transported. Clayton and his men, with the help of a movable road barrier, a gift of the gab and little else, try to keep both sides from releasing safety catches.

Neither side admits to being satisfied, of course, and the men in the middle with blue berets are abused from both directions.

NEW 6-CENT STAMP—This is the design for an American flag postage stamp, in the new first-class denomination of six cents which will be issued in Washington, D.C., Jan. 24. The new stamp features a bird's-eye view of the White House from the Pennsylvania Avenue side with the Washington Monument and the Jefferson Memorial visible in the background.

New Menace in Mideast: Soviet Rocket Buildup

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union today was reported building a menacing rocket potential in the Middle East as a new step in further diversification of Russia's strategic delivery system.

Defense sources said mounting evidence points to a systematic buildup of Soviet rocketry in the Middle East and the Mediterranean.

They warned that the move poses a growing threat to western security — both to the United States 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean and to the southern and southeastern flanks of the North Atlantic allies.

The sources said the threat comes from Soviet missile ships and Soviet-built missile launchers already supplied in considerable numbers to Arab countries.

Soviet rockets also have been installed recently in Egypt. Most are of the surface-to-air (SAM) type, but there is strong suspicion ground-to-ground missiles either have been set up already or are in the process of being installed.

Defense experts said this development implies, in effect, a marked further extension of the Soviet zone of influence beyond the immediate Arab sphere. The Soviet rockets have an estimated 300-1,200 mile range.

With nuclear Polaris-type submarines operating in support of the Soviet naval force in the Meidterranean, and rocket-carrying destroyers forming part of the flotilla, a new factor has been introduced in the strategic concept for the area. Until recently, the Mediterranean was the preserve of the western powers.

These developments stem from wider Soviet strategy considerations. Defense experts recalled a statement by the late Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky at the 23rd Soviet Party Congress to the effect that "special importance is being attached to the development of mobile land-based missiles for the strategic missile forces."

This was intended as a step which would further diversify Russia's strategic delivery potential.

Spring Designs Forecast Return to Fit in Fashion

NEW YORK (UPI) — So your waistline's grown flabby under the easy fit of the shift? Hurry up — Touch your toes, do sit-ups, cut calories.

By spring, Dame Fashion decrees, body-defining dresses with fitted waists and bosom-accenting touches will be the order of the day and night.

★ ★ ★

The big fit in fashion was apparent at opening sessions of an 11-day marathon of new togs drummed in by the nation's pace-setting designers in New York.

★ ★ ★

The first shows for the fashion press corps are sponsored by the New York Couture Business Council; the second ones, by American Designer Showings.

RETURN TO FEMININITY

The shape-up is part of a return to femininity. Other marks of the movement: Lace, ruffles, dirndls or full swingy circles of skirt.

★ ★ ★

Typical of the ladylike look was a costume in the original collection. The fitted waist and bodice were accented by a belt; the skirt had an inverted-V pleat front and center. Fit continued in a matching jacket.

★ ★ ★

As the fashion event continues, watch for:

— A profusion of belts on dresses, skirts, coats, blouses . . . in shiny patents, crushed leather, fabrics, and in slim Grecian wrap effects. Belts wander — slim under the bosom, flat at the hip or wide at the waist and often fastened with big bold buckles.

★ ★ ★

— Shirts. They have Mao collars, wide Buster Brown collars, military airs with epaulettes. They overflow with ruffles, ties or jabots. Sleeves mostly are long and flowing, primly cuffed at the wrist.

★ ★ ★

—Fabrics include silks, organdies, chiffons, jerseys, light wools and the new knit crepes that have a flowing look on the body.

LESS SHOCKING

— Color tends to be less shocking, less stinging, with toned-down brights and a strong move toward brightened and whitened pastels.

— Coats and suits follow the trend to shape and separates. Biggest coat news is the shirt look and the fact that hardly a one is seen without a belt — Empire, half-belted, hip hugging or squarely at the waist. Suits take up the separates' lead with shorter jackets over full skirts.

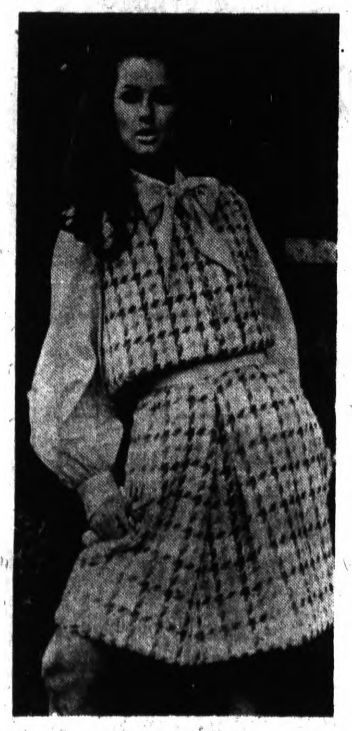
★ ★ ★

— The only thing missing from the Scarlet O'Hara look, as Hollywood of the thirties pictured her, is the hoop petticoat. The evening looks have ruffle-bedecked necklines, cuffs and hems. Sleeves and skirts billow. Feathers add a touch of extravaganza on skirts, wraps.

★ ★ ★

— Hemlines are as you like it—short, long, sometimes slanting. The trend: Most fashion conscious women probably will have in their spring wardrobes mini, midi and maxi skirt lengths.

A beige Desiree (silk and worsted) coat takes a belting for fashion's sake . . . pulled through the flaps of patch pockets on a slightly lower waistline. Front paneled beige and black silk linen print dress beneath completes the ensemble. From the Branell spring '68 collection.



The important "sleeveless suit" in giant houndstooth, whose front-pleated easy skirt sashes wide at the waist below. A romantic full-sleeved blouse with fichu bow at the neck . . . from Townley, by Chuck Howard for spring '68.

Now Comes Punishment for Teen

Went Without Their Approval

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: First of all I want you to know that I'm 14, but am very mature for my age. Most people think I am 18. Anyway, the evening before Thanksgiving, our high school had a basketball game.

ABBY

Most of the kids always go for a coke and stay around town for a while after the game. I had never done this but that night I felt like it, so I told my 10-year-old brother to tell my folks that I would be staying around town afterwards. (I couldn't find my parents to tell them myself.)

Well, I came home at 11:45 p.m. and the way my folks carried on you would have thought I had committed some kind of crime or something. You should see the list of punishments they gave me.

No dances or parties until 1968. Not even for Christmas. And I can't talk to my best friend on the phone until 1968. I am not a run-around, do not date, and do not have a bad record. I can't figure out what I did that was so wrong, can you?

DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: Telling your brother (or anyone else, for that matter) to convey a message is not the same as asking for — and getting permission.

Since you never before had your parents' approval to "stay around town" after the game, perhaps they feel that you didn't try harder to find them because you feared they might have said no.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO ABE: I'm with you. I've always been just a little wary of people who treat dogs like people and people like dogs.

From Larry Aldrich's collection . . . the return of ruffles . . . the return of romance . . . Marie McCarthy spotlights re-embroidered white lace for spring '68 in a softened shirtwaist silhouette, marking the waist with a wide self belt.

He Went for a Pair but Drew a Flush Instead

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — The father of Australia's first quintuplets insured with Lloyds of London against a multiple birth—but he doesn't know whether he will get $400.

A clause in the policy said that it would be invalid if the children were born more than six weeks before the stipulated date. The quints were born Sunday, six weeks and a few days prematurely.

Their father, Roger Braham, 34, said today that his wife, Patricia Mary, 36, had twins a year ago and when she became pregnant again, he insured against a multiple birth, he said he was thinking in terms of another set of twins and insured for $400 to help meet the extra expenses. The possibility of quints never entered his head, he said.

Braham, a lawyer from Tenterfield, New South Wales, has not yet been able to check with the insurance firm.

The quints, now in their fourth day, are doing so well they may leave the hospital before the expected six to eight weeks. A hospital spokesman announced today: "The condition of the quints is satisfactory and the mother is very well."

In her first public comment on the quints, Mrs. Braham said Tuesday night: "I saw the babies again today and I am absolutely thrilled. They look wonderful. Please thank everyone for their kindness and congratulations."

Prime Minister John McEwen was among the scores who sent congratulatory messages.

Hibachi Utensils

For the cooks who like Oriental touches, there is a special three-piece hibachi tool set of mini-size fork, tongs and spatula. They're of stainless steel with blackwood handles and scaled to hibachi cooking.

Pattern Layout

When cutting out a velvet garment, place all the pieces of the pattern so that the fabric runs up. But when cutting velveteen, corduroy, and napped woolens, always place the pattern pieces so the nap runs down.

MRS. L. M. REMILLARD

Canadian Honeymoon Follows Remillard Vows

A honeymoon in Canada followed vows Saturday between Pamela Diane Call and Laurence Michael Remillard in St. Lawrence Catholic Church, Utica.

For the morning rite, the bride chose an Empire style gown of satin peau de soie accented with French Alencon lace and embroidered with seed pearls. A lace petal headpiece held her elbow length veil of illusion.

She carried a traditional bouquet of white tea roses surrounded by white carnations.

★ ★ ★

The daughter of the Geralo D. Calls of Ann Maria Lane, Avon Township, was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Carol Perreault of Lake Linden, as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Deborah Call, Sharon Neilson, and Patricia Call.

Joseph Perreault of Flint served as best man for the son of the Wilfred Perreaults of Lake Linden.

★ ★ ★

Donald Hiltunen of Detroit, David Call and Paul Call ushered.

The newlyweds greeted guests at a reception in the Champion Hall in Rochester following the rite.

A mid-July wedding is planned by Margaret Ann Brown and Randall Dean Morell. The bride elect is the daughter of the Lealand Browns of King Circle, Orion Township. Her fiance is the son of the Arnold Morells of Oxford.

Keeps Bag Handy

DEAR POLLY — Here's a Pointer some of your readers might like to try. I placed a large plastic bag (or a cardboard box would do) in a corner of my basement. Each time I clean out drawers and closets, I place all unused and outgrown clothing, household items, etc., into this bag.

In the spring and fall many organizations in our town send out pamphlets requesting used clothing and household items for underprivileged families. Not only can I get the bag for them at a moment's notice but this helps keep my drawers and closets fairly straight at all times.—GLORIA

DEAR PLOLY — I use not only the plastic lids from coffee cans but the metal top that is cut off and the can, too. The metal top, when cut off, is covered with foil and used to set hot pans on when I am cooking. I use the plastic lids for small bowl covers and also for putting under my flower pots.

A can holds bacon drippings and, when painted with gold paint, makes a pretty flower pot. Rice, macaroni, dry beans and cookies can be put into the cans after they are washed and dried.

Put the plastic lids back on and you can see what is in them with a glance. They also hold my husband's nails so he can see the size with one look. I fix treats for my small granddaughter to take home after a visit and then she uses them for storing her small playthings. After drying flower seeds, I store them in one of the small cans and they never get lost from one planting until the next.

We also use them for cleaning paintbrushes. That type coffee can should get a gold star for its many, many uses. I have never found any other can so handy.

THE LEGEND OF THE FIRST FLOWERS

Flowers, nature's most beautiful and wonderful creation . . . where did they come from?

According to legend, when God created the earth . . . and it was finished, He made a large rainbow. All the angels walked out onto the rainbow to look at earth. Their weight caused the rainbow to crack, and small fragments fell on the earth . . . these tiny bits were the first flowers.

We will be writing this column titled "Flower Talk" each week in this newspaper. Our writing will be about different flowers and how you can effectively use and enjoy them. Won't you join us each week? — and in the meantime if you need flowers call us at FE 2-0127.

Various Factors Are Involved In Accident Rates

CHICAGO (UPI) — There are about 102 million drivers in the United States, reports the National Safety Council.

Of the total, as of last year, some 61 million were males. They are involved in more accidents than the 41 million women drivers, but the difference is due in part at least to differences in amount of driving done by each sex.

The council says another factor in the accident rate is the time, place and circumstances of the driving.

MRS. J. L. ADAMS

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

I just have to print two more letters from women whose husbands have retired.

Dear Mrs. Lowman,

My husband is retired. He had no hobbies. I kept trying to think of things for him to do to keep him happy and occupied, for his sake as well as mine.

I felt like I was supervising ward activity. He would take garbage out, do the shopping, take the laundry out, paint and do a little carpentry around the house and then look at TV.

Then I saw the light and suggested that we buy a boat, any kind of a boat so that he could have an interest of his own and have some privacy. At first my husband insisted that I go along. It was fun but I realized that I couldn't go every day.

BOAT FRIENDS

Now he has his fishing and boat friends, and I am learning to play the organ. We both have our individual interests as well as our mutual interests. There is peace and harmony in the house.

Now I am busy doing the shopping and laundry and going to weight watchers to lose the weight my husband's cooking has put on me.

I have lost 17 pounds in a few weeks, and am practicing do, re, me, fa, so, la, tee, on the organ.

This winter I guess we will put the boat in the back yard and maybe he will make some gadgets for it so that it will be ready for next summer.

★ ★ ★

If my music doesn't improve, he may even sleep on the boat!

Another:

Dear Mrs. Lowman,

My husband retired about five years ago. He had no hobbies. His work for the past 50 years had been his hobby so we took it from there.

When a young couple marry, they face the fact that things will be different. What gets me is, why do people put so much stress on not wanting things to change? Are they so dull that they want to stay in the same old rut? Do women forget how nothing their home and their possessions would be without a husband to share them?

★ ★ ★

I thought, "If my husband's work had been his hobby, how can he put it to work in retirement?" I remembered that through the years he had received many compliments on his interesting letters to business friends and personal friends. I suggested that he enroll in a correspondence course in writing.

CORNER OF ROOM

He did and I fixed up a corner of the living room for his study. I found a second hand desk and we put up some bookcases which acted as room divider for that corner.

The project to date is 100 per cent successful. He made fine marks in the course and is still learning. He has sold a few things already but more important his mind is growing bigger and better every day.

When we started retirement, it seemed that we had nothing in common, but we weren't thinking. Then we set aside one day to go exploring. With a picnic basketful of food and a car full of gas, what fun we have had!

★ ★ ★

We select good books and take turns reading aloud. I could go on and on but the picnic basket and the car are waiting right now.

Paper Pressing Cloth

Wet a brown paper bag with cold water, then wring it out and your have a fine pressing cloth with which to set the crease in men's and boy's trousers.

Mrs. James Hipp of Mt. Prospect, a Chicago suburb, feeds her son John from a bottle while his twin, Joseph, gurgles in his crib. Doctors say the twins are the first to survive intrauterine blood transfusions to combat the RH negative factor in their mother's blood. The transfusions were made three days before their birth, Oct. 23, 1967. The hospital used an x-ray with an image intensifier in the procedure.

Toy Workshop on Day's Agenda

A salad luncheon and toy workshop in the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. William Wood is slated Friday at 12:15 p.m. for the University of Minnesota Women's Club.

★ ★ ★

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. G. E. Graves, Mrs. Harold Helgeson, Mrs. Joseph Schroeder and Mrs. Robert Cunningham.

Mrs. Nicholas Kenjoski, chairman of College Women's Volunteer services, will conduct the workshop.

Reservations may be made through Mrs. John Strang of Birmingham or Mrs. Arthur Burry.

Starch for Stains

A grease stain may often be removed from the wallpaper by applying liquid starch from a pushbutton container to the spot and letting it dry. Wipe off starch with a clean cloth when dry. If the stain isn't fully gone, repeat the treatment.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

All columnists take the opportunity to say Happy New Year to their readers, I don't want to miss the opportunity. This is the time of year when we begin trying to mend our ways and make all sorts of New Year's resolutions that are quickly forgotten.

For those of you who have thought of taking up sewing because some of your friends are making beautiful clothes, this is the time to do it. Don't procrastinate any longer.

The time of year just after the holidays is usually a little sad, and we have a let down feeling. What better time to spend learning to sew and by spring and summer you will have something to wear.

Please remember that sewing is fun if you make it that way. Laugh at your mistakes as you repair them; you must have a sense of humor to sew. You can't expect to be a master overnight.

Choose a very simple pattern in a gay overall print in a rather firm fabric. The print will hide errors and firm fabrics rip better (yes, ripping is part of sewing, accept it). Perfection comes with practice.

Whatever you do, don't be discouraged. If you don't like a dress after you have finished it, remember that everyone has a ready-made dress in their closet that hasn't been worn because you didn't like it after you bought it and took it home. This will happen less and less when you sew because you can choose exactly the color and pattern you have in mind.

Let me hear from you beginners. I'll help and encourage you any way I can! Today, sewing is the "in" thing to do. Many very wealthy, important women in the world are making their own clothes and proud of it.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

Is there any way to remove the pin marks from the seams on velveteen fabric? I have just finished a velveteen dress that looks very professional except that there are crushed marks wherever I have sewed over the pins. Mrs. M. W.

Dear Mrs. M. W.:

These marks are almost impossible to remove. You should always remove the pins on any napped fabric before stitching over them. I would suggest steaming the seam very well, taking a rather stiff brush and trying to bring up the nap in this way. Perhaps a firm tooth brush would do the job.

Set-in sleeves take perhaps more skill than any other operation in dressmaking. If you would like my booklet "All About Sleeves" which gives you illustrated instructions for professional looking sleeves, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Panama Canal Raises Ships—and Controversy

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone (AP) — Puffing on the day's fifth cigar, Raymond Kielhofer used two small, darkly veined hands to lift a 9,000-ton Russian freighter.

He saw the Novorossisk's captain wave from the bridge while women crew members flashed broad, proletarian smiles from the railing.

Down here, you lift boats by moving four chromed knobs on a long horizontal panel. This puts in motion a $72-million-a-year operation involving two giant man-made lakes, some 20,000 civilians, 28,000 troops, two governments and, once in a while, a lot of angry dispute.

Kielhofer is senior control house operator on the Panama Canal locks which pass 13,000 ships a year on their way to and from the great oceans.

FILLING, EMPTYING

His job is filling and emptying vast concrete chambers, 1000 feet long by 110 feet wide, to a depth of 42 feet with 52 million gallons of water. That's how ships are lifted, or lowered, 27 feet. It takes longer to empty some bathtubs than to fill one canal chamber—eight minutes flat.

How this is done is just one of the samples of the engineering marvel the Panama Canal represents even in the space age. Now in its 54th year, the thin, 50-mile waterway between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans is operated with mostly the same equipment that went into it at an initial cost of $380 million in 1914.

Kielhofer is one of some 50,000 U.S. citizens in the Canal Zone related, one way or another, to the canal's operation. In many ways he's a typical "Zonian."

He puts in an 8 to 4 day in a small two-story control house on a concrete island in the middle of the steamy locks. He makes more than $10,000 a year and lives the quiet life of his suburban stateside kin, except that his expenses are about 10-15 per cent less.

"A LUCKY ONE"

He came to the Canal Zone in 1940 "for two years," he says with a grin, and stayed. During the war he suffered a malignant tumor. It was removed and although on the frail side now—he is 60 and weighs 120 pounds—he looks healthy and vigorous.

"I'm one of the lucky ones," he says.

For the last 10 years, Kielhofer has been a senior operator raising and lowering ships through the locks. Error and disaster are ever present dangers.

Through a miscalculation, a carrier's overhanging deck once sheared off steel light poles imbedded alongside a canal lock. During the war, a battleship got stuck. Its gun shields extended too far over the sides to clear the control houses. They were cut off with acetelyne torches and were welded on again after the trip through.

"GAS IN THE OCEAN"

More recently, a tanker smashed a hole in her side and dumped a six-inch layer of gasoline on the waters near the locks. Kielhofer recalls: "No Smoking orders went out over the loudspeaker system. We decided to proceed with the lockage (putting the boat through) then ran two empty lockages to get the gas out into the ocean."

That meant 104 million gallons of unused water lost to the sea.

★ ★ ★

Water, the canal's lifeblood, is one of its more serious problems. In Panama the rainy season normally runs eight months. Water is stored in two great artificial lakes created by damming a river. An extended dry season, lowering the lake levels, can be troublesome. Water conservation measures are then imposed to maintain the steady flow needed to operate the locks that raise ships 85 feet above sea level, through a shallow mountain range, in order to get them from one ocean to the other.

Earth slides are another headache. More earth has been removed in the 54 years since the canal was finished than in all the digging to build it.

300 SHIPS TOO BIG

A third problem is shipping. The waterway is still some distance from becoming obsolete, but the question has arisen as to the wisdom of investing more money in an operation that eventually will have to be replaced or altered radically to satisfy merchant fleets. More than 300 ships now are too big to get through the locks; 900 others cannot make it across fully loaded.

The most discussed alternative is a new sea-level canal route through Panama or a neighboring country. Studies were intensifed following an outbreak of violence over U.S. jurisdiction in the Canal Zone in January 1964.

Panama wants a larger voice in canal operations and the elimination of the zone concept in its present form. A new treaty, considerably altering the old one, was negotiated earlier this year, but it has been shelved in Panama after much political sniping.

The zone, a 10-mile wide, 50-mile long strip of lush tropical green sandwiched in the middle of the Republic of Panama, is the only home many Americans have known. To some the idea of putting it under full Panamanian sovereignty is almost equivalent to giving Connecticut back to the British.

Others feel they will be forced to leave under a dark cloud of unfair censure from Panamanians and nonresident Americans. In the infrequent angry moments of Panama-U.S. relations, Zonians have been accused of "plantation boss mentality." Zonians dispute this with statistics about the zone's social, cultural and economic contribution to Panama.

★ ★ ★

"It bothers me," said Kielhofer, the boat lifter, speaking of the fading American presence here. "The canal's too important a thing to give away. Grant that we can't stop progress. But I don't believe in the giveaway. Give, give, give. No one really appreciates that."

Snafu in Idaho Leaves Marriage Cost a Puzzle

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — The cost of marriage went down in Idaho this week. Or did it?

The state's new commercial code, passed by the 1967 legislature, was effective Jan. 1 and sets marriage license costs at $3.

However, the same legislature's new marriage law—effective last May—retains the old fee of $4.75 per marriage license.

Idaho Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard has been asked to rule on the snafu. In the meantime, most county officials in the state say they plan to ignore the commercial code's $3 stipulation in favor of the higher rate.

Murder Exam Set for Man, 53

A Pontiac man accused of the fatal shooting of his wife Friday faces preliminary examination Jan. 10 on an open charge of murder.

Robert Humphreys, 53, of 229 E. Walton was arrested at his home shortly before midnight.

His wife, Earline, 50, died in Pontiac General Hospital a few hours later. She had been shot once in the chest, according to police.

The incident followed an alleged argument during which Mrs. Humphreys fired a revolver, later confiscated by officers, three times, a witness said.

★ ★ ★

Police said they found six spent cartridges on the premises.

Humphreys is free after posting $2,500 bond set at his arraignment Saturday by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Pontiac Man Is Bound Over in Road Death

A 33-year-old Pontiac man was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday on a charge of negligent homicide in the traffic death of a Commerce Township man last Nov. 3.

Roy L. Scott of 170 Florence is scheduled to appear before Circuit Judge Philip Pratt for arraignment at 9 a.m. Jan. 17.

The charge against Scott was reduced from manslaughter to negligent homicide by Waterford Township Justice Patrick K. Daly who conducted the preliminary examination.

The victim, George P. Seedorff, 52, of 2105 Union Lake, allegedly was struck by Scott's car on the shoulder of I-75 near Sashabaw Road in Independence Township as he was getting tools from the rear of his vehicle to repair a flat tire.

Seedorff was pinned between the cars and was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital, according to Pontiac State Police.

The driver who struck Seedorff then left the accident scene. The suspect later was arrested in his home by Pontiac police.

He will discuss current national problems and hold a question-and-answer period after the noon luncheon, according to Pontiac Chief of Police William K. Hanger, club president.

The luncheon is open to Exchange Club members and their guests.

Records Stolen, TVs Recovered

Burglars made off with some 50 long-play record albums from a Pontiac firm late yesterday, but police recovered two stolen television sets near the scene.

Officers were dispatched to the D and D Radio and Television Shop, 319 Prospect, shortly before midnight and found that the intruders had smashed through the front door glass.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the firm said at least 50 albums valued at more than $300 plus the television sets, were missing.

★ ★ ★

Police said the sets, both portables, were found hidden under vehicles parked across the street, apparently left there by the burglars in a hasty escape.

Lot Purchases OK'd to Expand Parking at Pontiac General

City commissioners last night authorized purchase of three more properties on Seminole for expansion of Pontiac General Hospital's parking facilities.

The purchases are part of a continuing program to purchase the entire block bounded by West Huron, South Johnson, Seminole and Menominee for hospital use.

The city presently has option on the properties at 91, 95, and 99 Seminole for $30,000. They had been appraised at $28,400.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, said the price is comparable to prices paid for similar purchases in the same block.

★ ★ ★

In other action, the commissioners turned down a request, after lengthy discussion, to grant a special permit to West Side Lanes, a bowling establishment on Orchard Lake at Williams, to allow serving of alcoholic beverages on the concourse where bowlers bowl.

2 IN FAVOR

The vote was 5-2 for denying the request with only District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin and District 4 Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson in favor.

An atorney for the business, Stanley Kurzman, said all other establishments in the area have such permits.

He said the owner is in the position of losing leagues to competing establishments.

Noting that during seven years of operation, the business had not had any trouble with the Liquor Control Commission or police department, he said it would be the responsibility of the management to ensure that minors were not able to procude any drinks on the concourse.

Commissioners who spoke against such a move said they preferred that drinks not be served in areas where minors could be mingling with adults.

Voter Drive Limits Hit by POOBY

A request to deputize 12 persons as vote registrars in a voter registration drive met with little enthusiasm by city officials at last night's City Commission meeting.

Spokesmen for the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth (POOBY) protested that the city clerk was arbitrarily setting a limit of four registrars — who would be named by POOBY — instead of 12, the number they prefer.

City commissioners late last year had given approval to a drive which would include a house - to - house registration campaign, provided those deputized would receive training and be under the authority of City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

Mrs. Barkeley said she was not in favor of house-to-house registration at all, but noted she could properly supervise four persons in the legalities of voter registrations.

★ ★ ★

City attorney Sherwin M. Birnkrant advised the commission that it could not direct the city clerk in this area since the clerk's office is responsible to the Michigan secretary of state in election matters.

LEGALITY OPINION

He said he was not sure of the legality of house-to-house registrations. City commissioners asked the clerk to seek an opinion from the Michigan secretary of state to determine if they were legal.

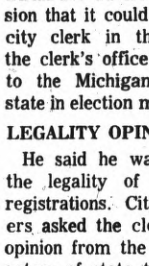
Mrs. Barkeley said house-to-house registrations had been conducted in the past with up to 20 registrars for short periods preceding national elections.

But, she submitted a report which showed the Michigan Association of City Clerks as against such drives with a number of reasons for being opposed.

★ ★ ★

She said the clerk's office would be glad to work with POOBY in setting up registration offices in any school or building that could be utilized for particular areas desired.

Pontiac Div. Appointment Is Announced



The appointment of Philip Western as Pontiac Motor Division's national used-car manager was announced today by Thomas L. King, general sales manager.

Western, who for the past two years has been Pontiac's owner relations manager, succeeds Robert B. Haley, who recently died.

Western joined the division in 1936 at its main assembly plant in Pontiac.

He became a service adjuster in the Pontiac zone in 1947 and later that year he assumed the same position in St. Louis. He also served as a service instructor and district manager.

In 1951 he returned to Pontiac as zone service manager and in 1951 he was promoted to assistant zone manger. He accepted his owner relations assignment in 1966.

Jungle Outposts Hit by Terrorist Patrols

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thai soldiers are reported fighting a series of running battles with Communist terrorists in mountainous jungles of northern Thailand.

A Thai television news team which returned from the north Monday said military commanders in the area believe North Vietnamese and Communist Laotian forces have moved a battalion into Nan province, which borders Laos.

They said Communist attacks on government outposts had caused heavy casualties, and Thai units sent deep into the mountains were being ambushed by Communist patrols.

Gen. Praphas Charusathien, commander in chief of the have been killed in 16 current operations against Communist forces in northern Thailand in army, today said 20 soldiers the past week three Communist terrorists were killed, 26 captured and 16 surrendered, mostly in the north and northeast provinces, he told his weekly news conference.

N. VIET BATTALION

After a visit to Nan, Charusathien said last week that a battalion of North Vietnamese troops, sprinkled with Pathet Lao and hill tribe forces, was trying to cross from Laos. Thai army units were sent in by helicopter.

The Thai troops found the terrorists were using booby traps and building cleverly concealed bunkers, the television newsmen reported.

Viets to Stop Impounding U.S. Vehicles

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Mission has reached a tentative agreement with the South Vietnamese government to end the impounding of official American cars and trucks which aren't properly registered.

Vietnamese police started hauling vehicles in by the score Tuesday, forcing some U.S. Army colonels and AID officials to walk or take cabs. One U.S. official termed it "an administrative mess that defies the imagination."

Some 300 of the official vehicles have been impounded.

Many trucks used to carry goods from the Saigon port also have been impounded, and the port has begun to clog up, officials said.

The estimated 10,000 U.S. Mission vehicles in south Vietnam were supposed to have been reregistered by the first of the year. They display special "TN" plates, and the Vietnamese police ordered the registration so they could apprehend Vietnamese driving an estimated 20,000 American cars with illegal "TN" plates to escape import and use taxes, which are high.

By the Dec. 31 deadline, registration forms for only 6,000 of the cars had been submitted.

But the Vietnamese police were swamped with those and were not able to keep up with the forms submitted before the deadline. Thus most of the official cars were liable to impounding.

The agreement reached today is that if the car user can provide a certificate proving that the car is being used officially, it will not be impounded or it will be released.

Sixty-eight official vehicles have been released.

Milliken Role as Stand-In Growing

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Shortly after Michigan Gov. George Romney left on his four-week world tour, Lt. Gov. William Milliken, filling in Romney's absence, was asked how he liked the governor's office.

★ ★ ★

Milliken replied: "I think it's a nice place to visit, but I'm not sure yet whether I'd want to live here."

Asked how he liked it nearly four weeks later, on the eve of Romney launched his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Romney has been away frequently in recent months, twice on long trips. Early last fall he made an extended tour of the nation's riot areas. Tonight he returns from his world tour.

During the governor's absence, the lieutenant governor becomes acting governor and assumes the governor's full constitutional powers.

Romney's absence has drawn criticism from a number of Democratic legislators. They wanted him to stay in Lansing and fight for the state's highly controversial open-housing bill.

During Romney's tour of riot areas, a four-man delegation of Democrats met him in New York and other places and appealed for his return.

Letters to the editor in Detroit newspapers also have criticized Romney for paying too little attention to running the state.

The open-housing measure, placed by Romney on the agenda of a special legislative session between Thanksgiving and Christmas, failed in the House of Representatives and never got to the Senate.

BOGGED DOWN

A number of other controversial measures, among them a lower court reorganization bill, also bogged down while Romney was away.

Citizens representing Michigan's most prestigious political, church, civic and labor groups renewed a pledge Tuesday to fight for the open housing law.

Among those present were members of the New Detroit Committee, named by Romney and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh to seek answers to last July's disastrous Detroit riot.

The leaders met with Milliken for nearly two hours to map open-housing strategy to be followed in the regular legislative session, which begins Jan. 10.

MAJOR ROLE SEEN

With Romney tied up in presidential primary campaigns, Milliken likely will play a major role in spearheading any future open-housing move.

The 45-year-old lieutenant governor, seen by many Republicans as the most likely successor to Romney, buttonholed nearly all the 110 House members in fighting for open housing during the special session.

Milliken said he believes Romney "will be here and will continue to work" for open housing during the regular session.

Romney's Washington campaign headquarters says the governor is scheduled to fly to New Hampshire, site of the nation's first primary, on Jan. 11 after delivering his State of the State message.

★ ★ ★

Campaign plans reportedly include New Hampshire trips on Jan. 12-17, Jan. 25-27 and tentatively again Feb. 5-7.

Negro Greeted but Sits Alone

JACKSON, Miss (UPI) — The first Negro to serve in the Mississippi legislature since Jefferson Davis's former slave helped draft the 1890 state constitution says he has been "warmly" received by his white colleagues.

But no one wants to sit beside him.

Rep. Robert G. Clark, 38, who won his seat as an independent candidate in the November general election, yesterday became the first Negro permitted on the floor of the house in the memory of veteran observers. The occasion was the opening of the 1968 legislature.

Several legislators nodded to Clark as the educator, wearing a gray business suit and black tie, walked down an aisle and took a seat at a double desk in front of the chamber.

★ ★ ★

He still was sitting alone after the formal allotment of seats for the new session. Two members normally are assigned to a double desk.

City Schools Preparing for Annual Clothing Drive

Next week will be the time to give away old clothing for needy children in the Pontiac School District.

Pontiac public schools will hold their 13th annual clothing drive Monday through Jan. 12.

The goal this year for all of the city's schools is 24,000 pounds of clothing, an average of one pound of clothing per child, said drive chairman Don DeVoe, assistant principal of Lincoln Junior High School.

More than 39,500 pounds of clothing were collected last year, DeVoe said.

INITIAL DRIVE

The drive was started in 1957 to aid needy children in the district. Some 6,500 pounds were gathered that year.

Clothing collected during the one-week drive is delivered by the school system's maintenance department to two local charitable organizations.

Acting as clearing agencies for the school system are the Salvation Army, 118 W. Lawrence, and the Dorcas Society, Seventh-day Adventist Church, 168 University.

★ ★ ★

DeVoe said children in need of shoes or clothing usually are identified by their teachers or principals. The parents of a needy youngster are contacted and given a requisition slip which can be exchanged for articles at one of the two agencies.

Last year, 325 requisitions were issued, he said.

Persons who have clothing to contribute but have no children in school can contact the nearest school and arrangements will be made to have the clothing picked up.

★ ★ ★

Pupils at Eastern Junior High School were the top contributors last year with 5,972 pounds of clothing, an average of more than six pounds apiece.

People in the News

"Johnny! Johnny!" shouted a woman autograph hunter as she ran down the studio aisle during the taping of the Johnny Carson "Tonight" show.

CARSON

The commotion occurred last night while Carson was delivering his opening monologue before the National Broadcasting Co. television cameras in New York.

An NBC spokesman said the woman, unidentified, had been sitting in the audience. She was stopped before she reached the stage and escorted from the studio. No charges were brought.

The incident was not edited from the film, the spokesman said, but the only on-screen indication that something was happening was a stunned expression on Carson's face.

Yachtsman Plans Seabed Survey

Japanese yachtsman Ikuo Kashima, who has sailed across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, announced today in Tokyo, he will lead an expedition around the world to survey the sea bottom.

Kashima, 38, and five other persons, including a doctor and biologist, will leave in November aboard a 20-ton yacht, the Koraasa III.

Kashima said the voyage would take two years. It would cover Southeast Asian waters and the Indian Ocean, Red Sea, Mediterranean Sea, Atlantic Ocean and Strait of Magellan and waters around South Pacific islands.

Kashima sailed alone from Long Beach, Calif., to Japan last summer aboard the Koraasa II. In 1965 he crossed the Atlantic from Genoa, Italy, to New York aboard the Koraasa I.

Chief Justice Is Praised

U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren has heard the achievements of the Supreme Court under his leadership praised as "awesome."

WARREN

Provost Edward H. Leiv of the University of Chicago offered that assessment yesterday during the dedication of a legal center named for Warren at the University of California Law School in Berkeley, Calif.

Levi said the record of the court under Warren "is unparalleled in the effective attention given to the development of constitutional doctrines to safeguard the dignity of the individual."

Warren, three-time governor of California and an alumnus of the law school, attended the ceremony.

Asian Flu Spread Feared With Return to Schools

ATLANTA (UPI) — Health officials feared today that the return of children to school from the holidays will give momentum to outbreaks of Asian flu that apparently are affecting more than half of the nation.

The National Communicable Disease Center (NCDC) reported yesterday that 12 states have documented outbreaks of Asian flue, three states have "probable" outbreaks and 12 others are listed in the "possible" category.

Doctors said the intensity of the current virus appeared to be remaining relatively mild.

NCDC experts said that the most exact view of the scope of Asian flu is gained through school absenteeism figures, which have been blank for the past two weeks because of the Christmas holidays.

★ ★ ★

Medical authorities in several states viewed the reopening of schools with apprehension.

ABOUT A WEEK

"After the kids get back together, I expect the roof to blow off in about a week," said Dr. Paul White of the Virginia Health Department. Virginia schools reported as high as 20 per cent absenteeism before the holidays.

"We anticipate that any flu virus that's around will gain momentum as school resumes," said a spokesman for the Massachusetts Health Department.

NCDC officials said that much of New England had been spared the epidemic so far, but predicted it would strike the area before winter ends.

★ ★ ★

The western United States will continue to be spared, the NCDC said, because of immunity built up in a 1964-65 outbreak. The California Department of Education said yesterday that absenteeism was running about normal with no evidence to indicate that flu is a factor in the absences.

Romney Will Return Briefly Before N.H. Stumping Tour

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney returns to Michigan tonight after a month-long world tour, but he plans to leave again next week for New Hampshire in his quest for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

Romney left New Delhi late Tuesday en route to Paris on his way home.

He is to arrive at Kennedy Airport in New York at 6:30 p.m. and at Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 9:30 p.m.

Romney will deliver his State of the State address to Michigan's Legislature, which convenes Jan. 10, before leaving Jan. 11 for New Hampshire.

STUMP FOR VOTES

He will stump for votes in New Hampshire Jan. 12-17, Jan. 25-27, and tentatively again on Feb. 5-7.

He also plans visits to Portland, Ore., and Seattle, Wash., Feb. 23-24, and possibly to Wisconsin on Jan. 20.

★ ★ ★

New Hampshire's primary election March 12 is the first in the nation. Romney is the only major announced candidate for the 1968 GOP nomination, although former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is expected to make his campaign official this month.

★ ★ ★

Before leaving the Indian capital Tuesday, Romney was introduced to Karan Singh, an Indian who is employed by Ford Motor Co. in Detroit, and his wife of three days, Abha. Singh vacationed in India to get married.

★ ★ ★

They were introduced to Romney by Bhagwan Singh, the girl's father who is chairman of the Indian Tea Board. Bhagwan Singh gave the Michigan governor a hand-carved walnut tea chest filled with Indian tea. Romney gave the couple a metal medallion.

Romney said he saw changes in India, particularly in agriculture, which may cause some turmoil but which should benefit the people.

★ ★ ★

Romney has scheduled staff meetings in Michigan from Thursday through next Tuesday.

He plans to spend the night of Jan. 11 in Manchester, N. H. He will begin his campaigning the next day shaking hands at 6:30 a.m. with factory workers at a plant gate in Nashua, N. H.

DAY'S ITINERARY

The governor plans a news conference in Concord before paying his filing fee at the secretary of state's office at midmorning. His first-day itinerary also calls for street campaigning in Manchester, afternoon openings of neighborhood headquarters in Somersworth, Durham and Portsmouth and an evening speech at Exeter Academy in Hampton. He will spend the night in Hampton.

★ ★ ★

His Washington campaign headquarters said the details for Jan. 13 were still tentative, but that he would remain overnight in Portsmouth.

He also will attend a dinner at Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 where he is to be introduced by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has been running ahead of Romney in popularity polls although he is an avowed backer of the Michigan Republican.

WITH TENDER CARE — It's usually rugged going for troopers of the 1st U.S. Air Cavalry Division, but these two GIs find things unusually rough as they pass a Vietnamese baby across a monsoon-swollen stream in Que San Valley during New Year's weekend. Troopers are members of a troubleshooting helicopter force. They formed a human bridge to get the baby and other Vietnamese civilians over the water. The Vietnamese were being resettled outside the valley where the U.S. troops and a North Vietnamese division were set for a showdown battle.

Isolated Squad Survives Attack

LANDING ZONE BURT, Vietnam (AP) — Sgt. Mark Ridey and his 12 men were caught in the middle, 450 yards from their lines, when 2,500 enemy soldiers hurled themselves at this American infantry post in the bloodiest Communist violation of the New Year's truce.

"The Lord was with us. I can think of no other reason that we came through," said Ridey, a soft-spoken Texan from San Antonio. Six of his men were wounded, but none was killed.

Ridey led his 12-man patrol out of the landing zone perimeter near the Cambodian border at 8 Monday night, 10 hours before the allied cease-fire expired and five hours before the end of the Vietcong truce period, to set up an ambush against any enemy offensive that might develop.

Three hours later, four battalions of North Vietnamese regulars and Vietcong guerrillas began repeated attacks against this field position of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division's 3rd Brigade some 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

FIRST CHARGE

The first charge came two hours before the Vietcong's truce ended at 1 a.m. Tuesday, and the enemy assaults continued until after dawn.

The U.S. commanders said 374 of the enemy were killed and five captured, while American casualties were 23 killed and 153 wounded.

★ ★ ★

"We got set up in our ambush position about 450 meters east of the perimeter and then I heard their rounds hitting the brigade," Ridey said.

The enemy followed the mortar barrage with a ground attack, right past Ridey.

'WE GOT THEM'

"We saw three NVA (North Vietnamese) soldiers coming from the direction of the perimeter and I gave the order to open up. We got them," the sergeant continued.

"Then I saw another two heading toward the perimeter. I threw a grenade and blew them apart. Another one came, and we shot him, but before he died he crawled over to his RPG (rocket launcher) and shot off a round toward the perimeter.

"An NVA came trotting by and one of my men opened up with his M16 on full automatic and split him."

It wasn't all one way, though. "Several rifle grenades came in on us and wounded half my men," Ridey said.

As the enemy regrouped for another attack, Ridey said he "could hear a hell of a lot of movement. I estimated from 250 to 350 NVA in my general area."

He radioed this information back to the command post and the brigade commander, Col. Leonard Daems of Bozeman, Mont., told him to call in strikes from circling U.S. warplanes.

The sergeant called the strikes in close.

★ ★ ★

"One NVA kept firing at our helicopters," Ridey said. "I thought he was about 25 meters away but when I called strikes on him, and he moved, he turned out to be only 10 meters away."

CLINGING TO EARTH

Ridey and the patrol remained clinging to the earth, calling in air and artillery strikes until 9 a.m. Tuesday, when the enemy broke contact.

A company of infantrymen came out to escort Ridey and his battered patrol back to the perimeter.

★ ★ ★

"Man, was I happy to see them," the sergeant said. "I was frightened, but I tried not to show it to my men."

Col. Daems said he was going to recommend Ridey for a medal. "He did a fantastic job," Daems said.

LION ON THE FLOOR — James Wieczorek frolics with his pet lion, Brandy, on the front-room floor of his apartment in Chicago. Brandy, only 6 months old, consumes four pounds of horsemeat a day and is still growing. Wieczorek says his apartment is getting a little too small and is looking for a home for his pet—one with a large back yard.

Maine Is Trying to Stem Declining Lobster Supply

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Aided by ideas from aerospace industries, the State of Maine is laying scientific groundwork to turn the tide on mother nature and stem a declining lobster supply.

Experts claim a gradual drop in ocean temperature over the past few years has caused the annual Maine lobster catch to dwindle.

They have chosen a first experimental site to see if shoreline coves can be warmed artificially by discharge from power plant coolant systems.

If successful, other coves along the northeastern United States coastline may be heated to improve the over-all lobster crop.

★ ★ ★

"We propose to apply in the field the information we have gained over the last 20 years," said Robert L. Dow, director of research for the Maine Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries. "We think we have enough background to develop information on how lobsters could be produced in greater number at reduced cost."

BEST TEMPERATURE

Ideally, the best temperature for Main lobsters, Dow said in an interview, is between 47½ and 49½ degrees. For 1967, however, the average water temperature will be between 44½ and 45 degrees, he predicted.

Scientists at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology blame the cooler offshore waters on a change in solar activity, which has shifted zonal westerly winds to lower latitudes.

They claim it may be another 20 years until a warming trend begins.

★ ★ ★

"The cooler water has not only affected lobsters," Dow said, "but other shellfish — oysters, clams, shrimp and scallops. And it is not only peculiar to Maine. Other northeastern states and Canada have had similar problems."

STATISTICAL STORY

Statistics tell the story. In 1957 Maine's lobster catch totaled 24½ million pounds. In 1965, it was down to 19 million pounds. Dow predicted the 1967 total will be about 15 million pounds.

The large marine crustaceans grow by shedding their shells. But they "molt" — or grow — less often in colder water. As a result, there are fewer lobsters around of legal size, Dow explained.

In an experiment to see if the tide can be turned against mother nature and in favor of lobster fishermen, the Maine Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries is considering plans to raise the water temperature in a cove on Cousins Island, Casco Bay, by distributing heated water discharged from the coolant system of a nearby power plant.

★ ★ ★

Heater water from the plant now rises to the surface of the cove, the director noted.

SUITED TO COMFORT

The problem will be to distribute this heat so temperatures on the bottom are suited to the comfort and happiness of the lobster population there to promote molting, growth and reproduction. Only a few degrees change from the present water temperature would be necessary for this to occur, officials said.

In addition to engineering problems created by the task—complicated by ocean tides which give the cove a 100-million-gallon capacity at low tide and 200-million-gallon capacity at high tide, there is also the problem of getting federal funds to finance the project, Dow said.

Heart Surgeons Examine Ethics

Transplants Stirring Questions of Morality

By Science Service

NEW YORK — While Louis Washkansky fought his losing battle against death in a South African hospital, an international panel of heart surgeons was meeting here to thrash out the ethical implications of his heart transplant.

The Ameriacn heart surgeon, Dr. Jacob Zimmerman of St. Barnabas Hospital here, told reporters and his colleagues from Switzerland and Great Britain, "I will never participate in such surgery."

To which Dr. Donald Rose of The National Heart Hospital, London, and pioneer in transplantation of heart valves from the dead to the living, rejoined, "But you will, we all will."

Asked if a heart transplantation were imminent in Zurich, Swedish-born surgeon, Dr. Ake Senning replied with a reluctant yes.

Dr. Senning, who has repaired defective valves joining the heart's left ventricle with the major body artery, the aorta, using connective tissue from the patient's hip, said he was most concerned about the physician's judgment as to when a patient's heart is fatally damaged or defective.

★ ★ ★

Neither he nor Dr. Ross felt that heart transplants posed a greater hazard of rejection by body defenses than do today's fairly common kidney transplants. In fact, they suggested that the heart is probably better able to withstand the attack of white blood cells and antibodies than either the kidneys or the liver.

CONCERN FOR DONORS

But Dr. Zimmerman was more concerned with the donors. "It is medically and morally wrong," he said, "for us as doctors to stand by a dying patient's bedside hoping he'll get it over with quickly so we can grab his heart."

The heart surgeon even envisioned a despotic ruler doomed with a diseased heart ordering the execution of a political enemy to obtain the organ for transplant. "A million dollars," he continued, "could buy a patient almost anything — including a new heart."

★ ★ ★

On Dec. 3, Dr. Chris Barnard of the Groote Schuur Hospital in Capetown removed the heart of a 24-year-old female auto accident victim and within less than half an hour transferred it to the chest of Louis Washkansky, a 55-year-old man dying of heart failure.

LBJ's Globe-Hopping Tour Seen as Political Move

PARIS (AP) — French and German commentators agree that President Johnson's pre-Christmas globe-hopping tour launched his campaign for re-election and may have bolstered his image at home.

"It was a performance which degraded Jules Verne's hero, who had circled the world in 80 days, to a comic figure," said Die Welt, the influential Hamburg newspaper. "It was a rushing, extravagant feat that mocked every rule of protocol.

★ ★ ★

"In the short span of a few days the President attended as many events as would otherwise require weeks: South Sea ceremonies on Samoa, Memorial ceremonies at Melbourne Cathedral, political conferences at Canberra, Christmas with the troops in Thailand and Vietnam, airport talks with President Ayub Khan in Karachi, and a Vatican rendezvous that joined Pope and President for a quick encounter like travelers in the waiting room between trains."

Die Welt said this "can only serve his 'image' at the beginning of the 1968 election year. His political rivals got a first taste of the fighting reserves still hidden in this dynamic man."

POLITICAL TEMPERAMENT

Johnson's '68 campaign, said Frankfurter Allgemeine, "began this Christmas" with his whirlwind tour. "It would be an injustice to the man if one tried to find the insincerity of a professional politician in this dizzying rush," the newspaper went on. "It is rather the expression of a strong political temperament, not made to give up."

The satirical French journal Le Canard Enchaine, in a rare straight-faced article, commented: "President Johnson has just begun his presidential campaign in making a round-the-world trip. LBJ is rubbing his hands, convinced that he has done a good job and awaits with optimism the next public opinion poll."

★ ★ ★

Other comments found by the Associated Press focused on Johnson's general image or his relation to the war in Vietnam.

"From all evidence, President Johnson is one of the good men," wrote Pierre Mathias, writing in a front-page column that appears daily in Le Monde of Paris. "He knows it and never fails to mention it."

LIMITS TERROR

Mathias asserted that in conduct of the war Johnson "reserves something of his reasonable goodness, because, to spare humanity from an irremediable catastrophe, he limits the means of his terror."

Lord Arran, British Liberal Party peer, writing in the London Evening News, described his ambitions for 1968 as "first, to see the Americans in Vietnam militarily, demonstrably and crushingly victorious."

But an editorial in the Montreal Star charged: "An enormous amount of hypocrisy clouds the whole of the Washington-Saigon approach to ending the war."

To U.S. Scholars in Moscow

Soviet Scientists Talk Readily

MOSCOW (AP) — A group of American scientists neared the end of talks with leaders of Soviet science today, and one expressed pleasure at being able to maintain such contacts despite U.S.-Soviet friction over Vietnam.

Harvard Prof. Paul M. Doty Jr., a chemist and leader of the seven-man nongovernmental American group, told a newsman political questions such as Vietnam and disarmament came up informally and "in a friendly way" in the talks.

★ ★ ★

He said Soviet scientists seemed to show the "greatest tolerance" about discussing the Vietnam war this time, compared with two previous visits Doty has made here since the start of major U.S. participation in the war.

Doty said the talks which began last Thursday on a wide range of subjects were "particularly pleasant, considering the circumstances" of limited U.S.-Soviet contacts because of Vietnam tension.

EX-JFK AIDE

The U.S. group included Jerome B. Wiesner, former special assistant on science and technology to President John F. Kennedy.

Members were expected to comment later to U.S. officials in Washington on the talks, but Doty said he felt such reports would contain "nothing newsworthy."

He said scientific subjects in the talks with members of the Soviet Academy of Sciences included exchanges of views on financing of research and on efforts to forecast social developments.

Doty said most members of the U.S. group have left, but he and sociologist Talcott Parsons, president of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in Boston, were staying for a final get-together with their Soviet counterparts.

'PUGWASH' PARLEY

The talks have involved past participants in "pugwash Conference" discussions, in which unofficial representatives of many countries meet to consider disarmament and other world problems.

The Soviet group was led by Mikhail D. Millionshchikov, a vice president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences and head of Soviet Pugwash teams.

State Income Tax Forms Being Mailed to 3 Million

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's three million or so income taxpayers will have not one but two form 1040s this year — the old federal standby, and a brand new form now being mailed out by the state.

State Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock says the Michigan forms and instruction booklets are being mailed to every Michigan resident on the mailing list of the federal Internal Revenue Service.

The deadline for figuring and filing the new 2.6 per cent state tax on income received between Oct. 1 and Dec. 31, 1967, is next April 30.

The state forms can be distinguished from Uncle Sam's by the "MI" prefix before the number—MI-1040 and MI 1040A The shorter MI-1040A may be used by persons who earned income only from wages, interest and dividends.

FEDERAL FIRST

Lock's advice to taxpayers saddled with both forms is to handle the federal one first. The "adjusted gross income" entry on the federal 1040 is the starting point for the state's calculations."

To find out how much of your income is taxable by the state, take the gross income entry from your federal return and then:

- Add interest derived from bonds issued by state government units outside Michigan.

★ ★ ★

- Subtract any military pay, alimony and separate maintenance payments included in the recipient's gross income, and interest earned on obligations issued by the United States.
- When figuring your tax, subtract $300 for each of your dependents, including yourself; beginning in 1969, the exemption is $1,200.

It's lower this year because the state tax paid this year covers only the last three months of 1967 and not the full calendar year.

This year only, taxpayers will be able to choose between two methods of computing their state-taxable income and use the one that leaves them with the smallest bills.

★ ★ ★

They can figure out how much income they received during October, November and December and pay the 2.6 per cent tax on that, or they can take their income for the full year, divide it by four, and pay the tax on that figure.

250 Narcotics Addicts Quelled in California Riot

NORCO, Calif. (AP) — Some 250 narcotics addicts interned at a state rehabilitation center seized control of the facility Tuesday, burning buildings and stoning guards until massed law enforcement officers quelled the riot.

Six officers were injured and five of the rioters wounded, one fatally. Damage was estimated at $250,000 at the California Rehabilitation Center located 60 miles east of Los Angeles.

★ ★ ★

"I would say the residents definitely had control for a couple of hours," said Roland W. Wood, superintendent of the center. "This is the worst disturbance since the center started in 1961."

★ ★ ★

After 300 guards and law enforcement officers from surrounding communities rounded up the rioters, 51 inmates were shipped off to the maximum security California Reception and Guidance Center in Chino.

NO CELLS

There are no cells on the 91 country acres occupied by the center. The addicts, who have been committed by civil court order for a minimum six-month stay, are called residents instead of prisoners.

Cause of the sudden riot was officially undetermined a day later. "I can't point to any one particular thing and say that caused it," one official said. "Whether it was prearranged we do not know."

Officials said they found no evidence that liquor, narcotics or race was involved. Guards confiscated several gallons of homemade liquor four weeks earlier and noted rambunctious celebrations on Christmas and New Year's Eves, but no liquor was found Tuesday.

Sulphur is a mineral used in the manufacture of an estimated 32,000 items.

Frisking Law Nearing Okay

Dearborn Tentatively Approves Ordinance

DEARBORN (UPI) — The City Council of this nearly all-white Detroit suburb gave tentative approval to a municipal "stop-and-frisk" ordinance last night.

The ordinance, passed on a 7-0 vote, would give police the authority to search a person for a dangerous weapon should an officer "reasonably suspect that he is in danger" after stopping a suspect for questioning.

After the council vote, State Rep. Alex Pilch, D-Dearborn, said he plans to introduce the stop-and-frisk proposal in the Legislature when it reconvenes next week. One such proposal was introduced last year, but has been tied up in a Senate committee.

"I'm hoping there's a new attitude in the Legislature now, and maybe we can get something through this time," Pilch said.

★ ★ ★

Dearborn voters approved the idea of a stop-and-frisk law less than two months after the July riot in Detroit. They voted "yes" on a 16,701 to 3,078 margin to the question: "Are you in favor of a law, local, state or federal, allowing police to stop, frisk and search any person suspected of carrying a concealed dangerous weapon, such as a gun, knife, blackjack, brass knuckles or any other object that could be used to inflict injury or bodily harm, and to seize and confiscate it on the spot."

N.Y. MODEL

The ordinance, introduced by freshman Councilman John Jay Hubbard minutes after he had taken his oath of office, is modeled after the New York State stop-and-frisk law. Fifteen other states have similar laws.

★ ★ ★

"Our citizens want and deserve strong and vigorous law enforcement guaranteeing individual safety," Hubbard said, "and we simply cannot provide them with this unless we give out police the tools they need to work with."

★ ★ ★

The ordinance will go into effect Jan. 25 if it wins final approval at the next council meeting on Jan. 16.

52 Jamaican Cane Cutters Jailed in Florida Labor Dispute

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP) — Eighty sugar cane choppers were flown back to their island homes in Jamaica today and 52 more were jailed after riot squads intervened in a pay dispute Tuesday at a remote sugar plantation in the Florida Everglades.

Palm Beach County Sheriff William Heidtman said the workers had threatened to destroy their labor camp "if certain dmands were not met by pay time."

Fifty-two were held under $11,500 bail each, charged with inciting to riot and unlawful assembly.

Dan Bradley, a representative of the federally financed Migrant Legal Services Program Inc., an antipoverty agency, said most of the 360 cane cutters —covered with soot from routine burn-offs of the fields— balked at working and claimed they were asked to cut twice as much cane as the pay covered.

CALYPSO CHANT

"Want more money, mon! Want more money, mon!" they chanted in their Calypso accent.

The workers, about 9,000 of them imported each year from the British West Indies for one of the dirtiest jobs in American agriculture, are paid according to their productoin, but federal law requires they receive at least $1.45 per hour. Bradley said many deductions are made from the pay, including about $2 a day for room and board and 15 per cent for mandatory savings.

★ ★ ★

The cutters burn off the fields between Nov. 1 and about May 1, then move through hundreds of thousands of acres swinging the razor-sharp machetes that harvest all of the cane in the South Florida mucklands.

Tuesday's incident occurred at a camp operated by the Glades Sugar Cooperative. Bradley said uneven rows of cane led Jamaicans to charge they were being asked to cut two rows for the price of one. No spokesman for the cooperative was immediately available for comment.

2 Thugs Kill Milkman on Detroit Route

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit milkman was shot to death Tuesday night after refusing to open his delivery truck door to two young thugs.

Michael Marvin Kane, 58, was shot in the back while making a routine stop on Detroit's East Side.

★ ★ ★

The would-be robbers, about 16 years of age, escaped. Police later detained some juveniles for questioning, but no charges were filed.

"It was just another senseless killing. They probably got excited because they couldn't get any money," said Police Lt. Charles McDermott.

HELPER HELD

McDermott said one youth held a gun on Kane's helper, 29-year-old Donald Williams, who was getting milk out of the rear of the Twin Pines Milk Co. van.

The other youth went to the side of the car and tried to open the door. Police said Kane, who had $175 in cash, kept it locked.

★ ★ ★

The youth holding the gun on Williams then fired twice through the rear of the van. One bullet crashed through the windshield. The other struck Kane in the back.

He died at a hospital a short time later.

Williams said Kane was "a good boss, a very nice person. We never had trouble before."

Income Tax Sought by Lansing Mayor

LANSING (AP) — Mayor Max Murninghan Tuesday renewed his appeal for enactment of a uniform city income tax, defeated last year by the City Council.

In his annual State of the City message, Murninghan urged the city council to give top priority to the tax question in 1968.

★ ★ ★

"Adoption of the uniform city income tax represents Lansing's only opportunity for true tax reform," he said. "It represents the long-term, farsighted and equitable solution to the ever-present problem of municipal finance."

Library Director Named to Panel

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)— Dr. Frederick H. Wagman, director of the University of Michigan Library in Ann Arbor, Tuesday was named by President Johnson to an 18-member commission on obscenity and pornography. The commission will investigate the relationship between such material and anti-social behavior, particularly in minors.

Pancakes Not Limited to Breakfast

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

All cuisines have some form of pancakes. They—may be called crepes, blini or cannelloni. Whatever their title, they're versatile, attractive and delicious.

In the United States we are more apt to consider pancakes a breakfast item. We forget that sweet pancakes make excellent desserts, especially if the main course is on the light side.

Pancakes are used to hold other foods; for this, they are rolled or folded. They may be used as a base for creamed mixtures or meat sauces.

Now that the holidays are over and you are looking for ideas that will keep your menus from getting monotonous, yet within your budget, pancakes may be the answer.

There ought to be a recipe on this page to please every taste.

Sometimes you bake the entire recipe in one pan, making a giant pancake. Here's one for winter entertaining that's full of spicy applesauce.

SUPER CANDIED APPLE PANCAKE

1 cup pancake mix
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¾ cup milk
2 eggs
3 tablespoons melted or liquid shortening

CANDIED APPLE FILLING

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ cups sweetened canned applesauce
¼ cup red cinnamon candies
Confectioners' sugar

For pancake, combine pancake mix, sugar and spices in bowl. Add milk, eggs and shortening. Beat with rotary beater until smooth.

Meanwhile, measure about 1 tablespoon shortening into heavy 10-inch skillet. Place over medium heat. To test skillet for heat, a few drops of water should bounce a second before evaporating.

Pour in batter. Bake about 5 minutes over medium heat or until surface is covered with bubbles.

Place in preheated hot oven (400 degrees); bake about 5 minutes longer. Loosen pancake from skillet with spatula and slip onto platter. Carefully fold over.

Spoon ½ of filling (see below) on bottom half of foldover. Sprinkle foldover with confectioners' sugar. To serve, cut in wedges. Place remaining filling in serving bowl.

For filling, melt butter in small saucepan. Stir in applesauce. Heat thoroughly, but do not boil. Stir in candies, just enough to swirl, but not enough to melt them completely. Makes 4 servings.

DESSERT PANCAKES

CANDIED APPLE PANCAKE

Hot 'Sandwich' Pastry Covered

When your teen-age sports enthusiasts come in out of the cold clamoring for "something to eat," serve tasty franks-in-a-blanket. It's a new twist to an old favorite!

★ ★ ★

Quick and easy, you start with biscuit mix. Roll out a rectangle of dough. Lay down the franks. Cover with another rectangle of dough. Fork the edges, cut in peek-a-boo windows and bake.

What gives extra zing to this cold weather special is a generous saucing with canned mushroom gravy sparked with onion, ketchup, and dill pickle. Thus, the traditional accessories are spooned on in one delicious swoop. As nibble food, include celery, carrot strips and olives. Don't forget the hot chocolate.

P. S. Keep a supply of canned gravies — beef, chicken, giblet as well as mushroom-on hand, so you can whip up hot sandwiches in short order.

Franks-in-a-Blanket

2 cups biscuit mix
⅔ cup milk
8 frankfurters
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) mushroom gravy
2 tablespoons ketchup
2 tablespoons chopped dill pickle

Combine biscuit mix and milk as directed on package. Roll out into 2 rectangles (12x8" each). Place one rectangle on cookie sheet; arrange frankfurters across length. Top with other rectangle; crimp edges; slit top. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes or until done.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, in saucepan, cook onion in butter until tender. Add remaining ingredients. Heat; serve with frankfurters. Makes 4 servings.

Orange-Date Pancakes

ORANGE SAUCE:

½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Dash salt
½ cup water
¼ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

PANCAKES:

1 cup milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon melted or liquid shortening
1 cup pancake mix
½ cup chopped pitted dates

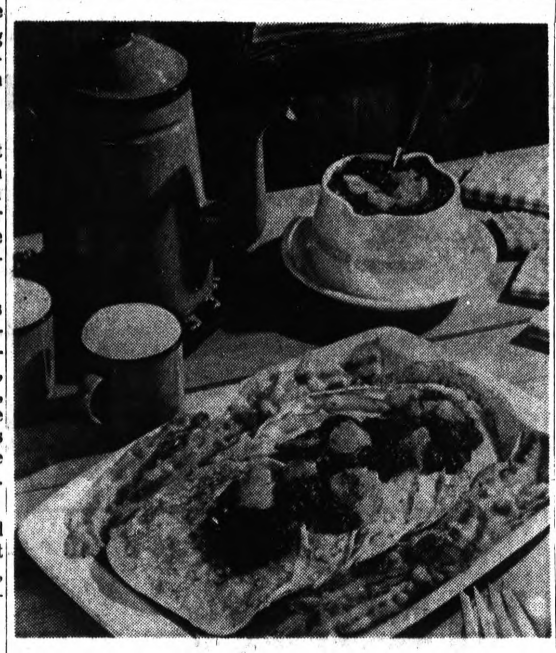
For sauce, combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in medium-sized saucepan. Gradually add water. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly until thickened and clear.

★ ★ ★

Add orange juice, lemon juice, orange rind and butter. Heat thoroughly.

For pancakes, place milk, egg and shortening in shaker or bowl. (If melted shortening is used, add after pancake mix.) Add pancake mix. Shake vigorously 10 times or mix lightly until batter is fairly smooth. Somewhat lumpy batter makes light pancakes.

Pour batter onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Sprinkle each pancake with dates. Turn when tops are covered with bubbles and edges look cooked. Top pancakes with warm orange sauce.



POTATO PANCAKES

Chocolate Pancakes Are Dessert

One of the most elegant desserts you're likely to find, "Chocolate Almond Pancakes," take a little time to make but the preparation isn't difficult. In fact, you can bake and roll the cakes at your leisure, then reheat them just before serving; the same thing applies to the smooth sauce.

The ever-popular flavor combination of chocolate and almonds finds a most rewarding new outlet in these outstanding pancakes.

CHOCOLATE ALMOND PANCAKES

¾ cup blanched whole almonds
1 cup pancake mix
1½ cups milk
2 eggs
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
2½ tablespoons cocoa
Powdered sugar
Vanilla ice cream
Dream Sauce

Dream Sauce:

1 cup granulated sugar
2½ tablespoons cocoa
2 tablespoons cornstarch
Few dashes salt
1 cup water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine.
1 teaspoon vanilla

Finely chop almonds. Combine ½ cup almonds, pancake mix, milk, eggs, butter and cocoa; beat until smooth.

For each cake, pour ¼ cup batter onto hot, lightly buttered griddle or 8-inch skillet; tilt to spread thinly. Bake until bubbles appear; flip and finish baking. Sprinkle with powdered sugar, roll and place seam-side down on shallow pan.

When all are baked, place in 350-degree (moderate) oven until heated through. For each serving, place 1 pancake on dessert plate, spoon ice cream on top, ladle warm Dream Sauce over and sprinkle with almonds. Serve at once.

Dream Sauce: Combine sugar, cocoa, cornstarch, salt and water in saucepan; cook, stirring, until mixture comes to full boil and is thickened. Mix in butter and vanilla; keep warm. Makes 10 servings.

Oat Cakes Are Good

Bonnie lassies, and laddies as well, respond to the call of "Highland Hotcakes" for breakfast. Wee wonder, as they're made extra delicious with the addition of rolled oats to the pancake batter.

Those cagey Scots know that oatmeal gives more than a bonus in flavor. Its reputation for nourishment is well founded on the protein, thiamine and iron it supplies.

HIGHLAND HOTCAKES

¾ cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
1½ cups milk
1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup melted or liquid shortening

Combine oats and milk; let stand 5 minutes. Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt; add to oats mixture along with eggs and shortening. Stir only until combined.

For each hotcake, pour about ¼ cup batter onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once. Serve with butter and syrup. Makes 4 servings.

Go Hawaiian for a Supper

Polynesian Pancakes are thin, ginger-spiced cakes enclosing a delicate creamed crab filling.

POLYNESIAN PANCAKES

¼ cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon curry powder
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
⅓ cup milk
1 can (7 ounces) crab, flaked
¼ teaspoon mace
1 cup pancake mix

In saucepan, cook onion with curry powder in butter until tender. Stir in soup until smooth; gradually blend in milk. Add crab. Heat; stir now and then.

Meanwhile, add mace to pancake mix and prepare 8 thin pancakes as directed on label. Place 2 tablespoons crab mixture on each pancake; fold in half and top with 2 tablespoons crab mixture. Makes 4 servings.

Brunch Pancakes

Vary those pancakes for Sunday brunch! Serve them with creamed chipped beef or chicken, or with creamed mushrooms and sliced hard-cooked eggs. For a garnish, some parsley parsley sprigs.

Spinach Is Filling for Tomato Cups

A tasty luncheon dish good to serve with meat.

Spinach Stuffed Tomatoes

creamed spinach in pouch
4 medium-small tomatoes — (about 1 pound)
1 package (9 ounces) frozen

Cook spinach according to package directions. Wash and dry tomatoes.

Cut slice off top of each; with small sharp knife cut around top so as to remove inside in deep wedgeshaped plug.

With small teaspoon or fingers remove seeds from remaining wall of tomatoes; turn upside down to drain. (Save scooped-out tomato to use in soup or sauce.)

Fill tomatoes with spinach mixture, using 2 heaping tablespoons for each.

Bake in shallow pan in moderate (375-degree) oven about 15 minutes — until just heated through and tomatoes are partially cooked. Makes 4 servings.

For Man-Size Appetites

Thick, robust, rich with sweet country cream, tender diced potatoes, and expert seasonings, cream of potato soup becomes the base of an egg-rich potato pancake that's a snap for crack-of-dawn meal preparation.

CRANBERRY SAUCED POTATO PANCAKES

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of potato soup
¼ cup flour
3 eggs
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
1 can (1 pound) whole cranberry sauce
1 cup orange sections, cut up
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
Cooked bacon

In bowl, blend soup and flour, beat in eggs and drippings until smooth. Pour ¼ cup batter for each pancake onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake until golden brown on each side; turn only once.

Combine cranberry sauce, orange section, and rind. Top pancakes with cranberry mixture; serve with bacon. Makes 4 servings.

EMPEROR'S PANCAKE

Austrian Pancake Gives Base for Frozen Fruit

Kaiserschmarren or Emperor's Pancake is a dessert of Austrian origin. It is made with a batter similar to that of popovers or Yorkshire pudding and baked in a shallow dish of any shape.

KAISERSCHMARREN (EMPEROR'S PANCAKE)

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1½ cups light cream
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen raspberries in syrup, thawed
Sweetened whipped cream (optional)

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Sift flour with sugar and salt into a medium mixing bowl. Add eggs, cream and vanilla extract to flour mixture.

Beat with rotary beater only until batter is smooth. Pour batter into well-buttered or oiled 13x9x2-inch baking dish (oval or oblong).

Bake 40 to 45 minutes, or until a deep golden brown. Remove from oven.

While hot, fill center area with raspberries and about 1 cup of the raspberry syrup. If desired, pipe rosettes of whipped cream around edge and pass additional whipped cream for spooning over the dessert. To serve, cut into wedges or squares. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

(Note): This batter may be baked in a round or other shallow baking dish of similar size. Before baking, it should be about ¾-inch deep.)

Dinner Pancakes Are Hearty and Filling

When you want to serve pancakes for dinner, you make sure that some extra protein is included. Perhaps you'll make corn meal pancakes to serve with canned chili.

Other days, your choice will be buckwheat flapjacks with a can of salmon, flaked and stirred into the batter. Both make main courses.

HOEDOWN DINNER

1 package (9-ounce) corn muffin mix
1 egg
1½ cups milk
½ cup drained whole kernel corn
3 cans (15 or 15½ ounce) chili without beans
½ cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Combine corn muffin mix, egg, milk and whole kernel corn. Stir until dry ingredients are moistened. Bake 12 4½-inch pancakes on hot, lightly greased griddle until golden brown.

Heat chili. Spoon about ¼ cup chili on each pancake; roll up.

For each serving top 2 pancake rolls with more chili; sprinkle with cheese. Makes 6 servings.

SALMON BUCKWHEAT JACKS

7¾ ounce can salmon
About 1¾ cups milk
2 eggs
2 cups buckwheat pancake mix
4 tablespoons melted butter

Preheat griddle over medium heat.

Drain liquid from can of salmon into 2 cup measure. Flake salmon into mixing bowl. Add sufficient milk to salmon liquid to make a total of 2 cups liquid.

Add milk mixture and eggs to flaked salmon. Add pancake mix and stir until batter is fairly smooth. Stir in melted butter.

Grease griddle lightly and pour batter onto griddle, using about ¼ cup batter for each cake. When top of cakes are covered with bubbles and edges are brown, turn to brown top side.

Serve with cream or horseradish sauce. Makes 12 cakes. Serves 4.

HORSERADISH CREAM SAUCE

In saucepan melt 2 tablespoons butter. Stir in 3 tablespoons flour and ¼ teaspoon salt. Gradually stir in 1½ cups milk and cook, stirring, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Stir in 2 teaspoons drained horseradish.

Twelfth Night Ends Holiday

Don't be disappointed if you didn't get to entertain friends during Christmas festivities. Invite guests for a Twelfth Night dinner party to wind up the Holiday Season. You can celebrate this special time of the year and even be more unusual.

★ ★ ★

You're recuperating after the whirl of holiday activities so it should be one of the easiest parties; yet, the dinner must be elegant and fit the event. A glazed boneless turkey roast served with delectable orange-apricot sauce is a perfect choice.

The two-and-a-half pound turkey roast practically cooks by itself and is in keeping with the occasion. The orange-apricot sauce is just right for the season.

Twelfth Night is January 5, the eve of the twelfth day after Christmas. Epiphany, as it is called in many countries, celebrates the visit of three kings to Bethlehem: thus, in some countries Twelfth Night is the Three Kings' Eve.

In England it's also Old Christmas and was once a huge celebration with feasts and merrymaking. Around the world, it's a time for parties.

Here, some families take down the Christmas tree on Twelfth Night, but European families cut a special cake. The Twelfth Night cake is white and three-layered with a bean hidden in each layer. Persons who get a piece of cake with a bean are the three kings (or queens) for the evening.

Make a Twelfth Night cake. It's easy with cake mix and prepared frosting. Don't forget the beans and be sure to cue your guests about them. Decorate elaborately with candies or candied fruit.

On second thought, why not make fancy cupcakes with a bean in each so that everyone can be a king or queen of the feast.

Tutti-Frutti Turkey Roast

- 1 (2 lbs. 8 oz.) frozen boneless turkey roast
- 1 jar (7¾ oz.) strained apricots with tapioca
- ¼ cup orange juice
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 medium orange, peeled and cut into segments OR 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin orange segments, drained

Heat oven to very hot (450 degrees). Prepare roast according to package directions.

Meanwhile combine apricots, orange juice, lemon juice, mustard and butter in a small pan. Cook and stir over medium heat until hot and smooth.

★ ★ ★

Ten minutes before roast has finished cooking brush top with apricot mixture. Continue cooking. Brush 1 or 2 more times with sauce before end of cooking.

Heat remaining apricot sauce. Add fresh or mandarin orange segments. Heat 1-2 minutes longer. Serve over roast. Yield: 1¾ cups sauce.

TUTTI FRUITTI TURKEY ROAST — Celebrate the final day of Christmas—Twelfth Night—with an easy-to-fix turkey roast. Serve it with a fruit sauce for a festive touch.

Meatless Spaghetti Sauce Made With Broccoli

Combine spaghetti with fresh broccoli and dress this way.

Spaghetti Broccoli

- 1 bunch broccoli
- ½ pound thin spaghetti, broken into about 3-inch pieces
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 clove garlic, peeled and halved
- ¼ cup grated Romano cheese
- ½ cup commercial sour cream

Cut flowerets from broccoli stalks. Separate flowerets, where necessary, into small evensize clusters; wash and drain. (Use stalks in some other dish.)

Add spaghetti to boiling water, salt and garlic; partly cover and boil until tender — about 10 minutes; drain, reserving ½ cup of the cooking water. Keep spaghetti warm.

Boil broccoli flowerets in the ½ cup spaghetti water, covered, until tender-crisp — about 5 minutes; drain. Over low heat toss together the spaghetti, broccoli flowerets, cheese and sour cream.

Add salt to taste and pass coarse-cracked pepper. Makes 4 servings.

Bake Scallops, Crab in Zesty Cream Sauce

If you've been spending a good part of your time lately trying to think of different dinner menus, why not consider seafood? There's nothing like fish and shellfish to help you change the pace of everyday meals.

A truly delicious sea fare dish is Deviled Scallops and Crab. It's hearty and filling, a very satisfying treat to come home to after a sledding or skating session or a hard work day for Dad.

This is a meal-in-one that you can have ready for the table in fairly short order thanks to the convenience of quick-to-fix seafoods. Plump scallops and rosy-tipped crab form the base of this casserole that's sauced with a creamy mustard-spiced mixture.

A sprinkling of buttered bread crumbs tops the dish as it goes into the oven for final heating.

A zesty cheese sauce seasoned with sauteed onions and bits of green pepper served over cooked shrimp makes another perfect supper dish to treat the family to during the cold months ahead.

Spoon the cheesy shrimp over hot buttered rice, add a mixed green salad and toasted rye rounds, and your dinner is ready for the "come and get it" call.

Deviled Scallops and Crab

- 4 tablespoons butter
- 1 package (12-ounce) frozen scallops, defrosted—or 1 pound fresh scallops
- One-third cup flour
- 2 cups milk
- ¼ cup finely chopped pimiento
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon Dijon-style mustard
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- ½ teaspoon Tabasco
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 package (6 or 8-ounce) frozen cooked crab meat—or 1 can (7½-ounce) King crab
- 4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- ½ cup soft bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons melted butter

Melt butter in a heavy pan; cook defrosted scallops in butter until done. Remove scallops and set aside. Stir flour into butter; add milk; heat, stirring constantly with wire whip until mixture boils and thickens. Remove from heat and add pimiento and seasonings. Stir in scallops, crab and chopped eggs.

Pour into a well-buttered 1½-quart casserole; sprinkle with bread crumbs mixed with melted butter. Bake at 450 degrees for 20 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Jelly Candy Is Colorful and Sweet

Here's a great candy for kids and for any adult whose sweet tooth likes things really sweet.

"Almond Yummies" are a surprisingly effective combination of melted jelly and gelatin with finely chopped or ground almonds. After a thorough chilling, you cut the candy into squares and coat with powdered sugar or ground almonds.

The recipe calls for mint jelly and lemon gelatin, but for variety you can use currant jelly with orange gelatin or apple jelly with raspberry gelatin. All are good, colorful and fun to make.

Almond Yummies

- 1 cup (10 oz. jar) mint jelly
- 1 package (3 oz.) lemon gelatin
- ⅔ cup finely chopped or ground almonds
- Powdered sugar or ground almonds

Melt jelly in saucepan over low heat. Stir in gelatin, raise heat and cook, stirring until mixture reaches a full, foamy boil.

Pour into small bowl of electric mixer and beat at high speed 5 to 10 minutes until very light colored and marshmallowy thick.

Sprinkle ⅓ cup almonds into 8-inch square pan. Fold remaining ⅓ cup almonds into candy then turn it into pan. Spread it with a wet metal spatula or back of a spoon for it is sticky.

Chill 1 or 2 hours then cut into 1-inch squares. Shake a few pieces at a time in a paper bag with sugar or ground almonds until coated. Makes 4 dozen pieces.

Quick Rolls Are Seedy

Here is an unusual relish to make and serve with cold weather meals. Its main ingredient is raisins.

California Raisin Relish

- 1½ cups seedless raisins (approx. ½ pound)
- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 3 cups water
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- ¼ cup fresh lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons finely chopped candied ginger
- ½ cup chopped pecans or walnuts

Combine raisins, brown sugar and 3 coups water in saucepan. Bring to boil and simmer, uncovered, for 30 minutes or until raisins are tender and liquid is cooked down.

Blend cornstarch and 2 tablespoons water to make a smooth paste. Stir into raisin mixture; bring to a boil and cook, stirring frequently until cornstarch is thoroughly cooked, about 10 10 minutes.

Add grated lemon peel and juice, candied ginger and chopped nuts. Reheat for a few minutes. Makes 2 cups relish.

Serve warm with turkey, ham or pork. May be made ahead of time and reheated just before serving.

Thrifty Chuck Is Budget Stretcher in Meat Line

Just as Chuck is a friendly way of saying, "Charles," chuck roast and steaks are friends to the thrifty shopper.

Chuck pot roasts and steaks are among the less tender beef cuts and must be cooked by slow, moist cookery in order to be juicy and tender. Remember this and you can prepare meals that won't even hint that you're saving pennies.

Chuck steaks make wonderful Swiss steaks, and chuck roasts make the best tasting pot roasts.

The secret is to brown the meat well and then add a small amount of liquid. Add seasonings and perhaps chopped onions, cook over low heat in a covered utensil until the meat is tender.

The drippings and liquid left in the pan make delicious gravy.

SAUCEY CHOPS — In skillet, brown 4 pork chops and about 1¼ cups mushroom halves in 2 tablespoons shortening. Pour off fat as it accumulates. Stir in one can chicken gravy and ⅛ teaspoon ground cloves. Cover; cook over low heat 35 minutes. Add one medium pear, cut in 8 wedges. Cook uncovered for 10 minutes more; stir now and then. Makes 4 servings.

Opening lead—♦ Q

BY OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

For the luckiest hand of 1967 we have to fall back on our old friend, the "unlucky" expert. We will let him tell the story in his own words.

JACOBY

"I had cut the worst player in the game, as usual, but we had managed to get vulnerable. Our opponents also were vulnerable when I picked up my usual collection of trash. My partner Joe opened one club and sat back like a man with a really big hand.

"East bid two hearts and I decided to bid two no-trump. A terrible bid, but I did not want to pass or to raise Joe in a minor suit. Joe jumped right to six no-trump and there I was with no place to go but seven clubs, and I wasn't going to go there."

"To add to my dismay, West opened the queen of diamonds. Then dummy hit the table and all of a sudden the sun was shining and the birds singing."

"East showed out on the first diamond, so I could finesse twice with perfect safety. I wound up with one spade, two hearts, four diamonds, five clubs and 1,440 undeserved points. Maybe my luck has changed."

Our friend really was lucky. Even with a bad partner, the two no-trump bid was headed for trouble while a three club bid should be all right. Then, we note that North had a lot of better bids than six no-trump at his disposal.

Somehow or other when we hold two five card suits, we like to bid them both. And of course, North should have started by bidding diamonds. If he wanted to bid only one diamond we wouldn't say he had made a real underbid, although we do favor an opening two.

The real luck came when South was able to make the no-trump slam. If North had played at a normal six clubs, East would have opened a spade. He could have made his slam by an immediate double finesse in diamonds, but we think he would have taken the more normal play of leading out a high diamond first and blown the hand out the window.

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♠	Pass	Pass
Dble	Pass	2 ♥	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 2 ♥ J 4 ♦ K 10 9 5 4 3 ♣ 7 5 4 3
What do you do now?

A—Pass. It is too dangerous to compete at the three level with this hand.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You pass, as does West. North bids two spades and East passes. What do you do now?

TV Blackout Is Just a Goof

DETROIT (UPI) —There will be one very shamefaced employe showing up for work at the Michigan Bell Building here today.

He flipped a switch and turned off television for the city.

A minor ruckus was created last night when all three networks—NBC, CBS and ABC — suddenly lost their power in the Detroit area.

The reason a company spokesman explained, must have been a maintenance man who carelessly turned off the switch controlling the network feed into the transmission room.

Time lost for viewers was about three and a half minutes —and for the fast-fingered worker, some lost face.

State Crime Group Asks Stiffer Riot Laws, Limited Wiretapping

LANSING (AP)—The Governor's Crime Commission today recommended stiffening the state's riot laws and permitting police wiretapping in cases which involve organized crime or corrupt public officials.

The 57-member commission also called for initial appointment of all judges by the governor, a ban on military-type weapons such as machine guns, immunity from prosecution for witnesses, and a "vigorous attempt" to recruit Negro policemen.

★ ★ ★

The body, composed of lawyers, judges, professors, policemen and civic leaders appointed by Gov. George Romney, gave acting Gov. William Milliken its final report, containing 25 recommendations.

John B. Martin, GOP national committeeman from Michigan, is chairman of the group, officially known as the Michigan Commission on Crime, Delinquency and Criminal Administration.

HEAD LIST

Boosts of local police salaries by 25 per cent or more, part of it financed by the state, coupled wtih higher education and training requirements for policemen.

● Outlawing interference with an on-duty fireman and making it a felony to do so with a dangerous weapon.

● Giving mayors, sheriffs and the state police director authority to proclaim states of emergency and "temporarily impose reasonable ... controls on traffic, public assembly, the sale of alcoholic beverages, weapons and inflammable materials."

● Outlawing possession of Molotov cocktails and other incindiaries.

● Creating and expanding "adequately staffed, well-financed intelligence units" in metropolitan police forces "as an assist toward detecting and preventing the activities of organized elements" who try to take advantage of civil disorder.

For a community faced with a budding riot, the commission recommends "the prompt mobilization of police manpower and immediate display of adequate force" as an approach which can prevent localized outbreaks from spreading beyond control.

The commission also called for "sound police-community relations emphasis in all phases of police work ... we urge that this be the assigned responsibility of all officers ...

RECRUITING

"We seek support," it added, "for recruitment of the highest caliber candidates from all racial and national origins, with particular emphasis on police administrative effort to assure a vigorous program to recruit from minority groups."

The group also said all judicial vacancies should be filled by the governor, and every Michigan judge should begin as a gubernatorial appointee. The system would require amending the State Constitution.

Police eavesdropping was recommended only for investigations of organized criminal activity or corruption of public officials because those cases present "an overriding public consideration."

It should only be allowed, the commission said, "by certain judicial officers" when the prosecutor can show "that no other means are reasonably available whereby the necessary evidence may be obtained." Such a permit would be limited to 30 days.

'CRITICAL AREA'

Handguns, the commission said, should be vigorously regulated at the point of commercial sale. It added availability of firearms is "the area we find to be the most critical in terms of reducing crime."

★ ★ ★

It called for stronger laws covering pistol permits, automatic revocation of a license upon a felony conviction, central records of pistol owners and "an absolute ban on the sale of military-type firearms."

★ ★ ★

Other commission recommendations included:

● Police salaries competitive with those of industry.

● Immunity from civil damage liability for policemen and firemen acting in the line of duty and not guilty of gross negligence or willful and repeated misconduct.

★ ★ ★

● Uniform reporting of crime statistics to the State Police.

● The right of a prosecutor to appeal pretrial rulings of a judge regarding admissibility of evidence, with the defendant freed without bond during the appeal and his related legal costs paid by the state.

● Allowing circuit judges, at a prosecutor's request, to grant a witness in a criminal trial immunity from prosecution for crimes revealed by self-incriminating testimony.

● Licensing and regulation of lie-detector operators and private policemen.

● A professional staff of career probation officers attached to each juvenile court, with up to 75 per cent of their salaries paid by the state.

★ ★ ★

"Placing a juvenile under probationary supervision where, in fact, there is inadequate supervision and little counseling is meaningless and even destructive," the commission said.

● A pilot program of "Youth Service Bureaus" in some cities; the bureaus would "coordinate all local youth development services."

● A provision that persons apprehended for certain minor offenses could be merely ticketed, as in traffic cases, rather than arrested and detained.

Use of the 'citation system' would be limited to persons charged "with misdemeanors not involving physical harm to persons or property" and is designed to free policemen to spend more time in "crime prevention work in the street."

● Establishment of small sober-up centers, administered by nonpolice agencies, for intoxicated persons who had not endangered others.

● "Halfway centers" to help some released prisoners and probationers "in their efforts to adjust without further offending."

Light Agenda Faces Waterford Schools

A light agenda is in store for the Waterford Township Board of Education when it holds its monthly special meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Scheduled to lead off the meeting is Donald Youmans, assistant superintendent of community school, who will present a report on the program.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board will consider recommendations of Supt. Dr. Don O. Tatroe concerning staff appointments and a resignation and certain purchases.

KENNEDY VISITS BLACKFEET — Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., talks with Irene Edmo (left) and Mrs. Reginald Gould during a visit to the Ft. Hall Indian Reservation yesterday. Kennedy, chairman of the Senate Indian Affairs subcommittee, inspected educational facilities and toured the reservation and Blackfoot schools in Pocatello, Idaho.

Cold Stings U.S. From Rockies to New England

By The Associated Press

Subzero cold stung a vast stretch of the country from the Rockies to New England today while snow, sleet or freezing rain hobbled motorists from Texas to New York.

The mercury tumbled to 29 below zero at Hibbing, Minn., as the latest in a series of Arctic invasions that began before Christmas settled deep in the midcontinent. Denver registered 4 below before dawn, and it was 7 above zero at Kansas City.

★ ★ ★

The Weather Bureau had indicated Tuesday night that readings of zero or below could be expected in parts of 23 states.

Sleet or freezing rain brought travelers warnings for portions of eight states from Oklahoma and northern Texas across Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky to Maryland and the Virginias.

The storm of ice which hit much of the region Tuesday and continued today closed numerous schools in Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee. Scores of traffic accidents were reported, and there were many reports of motorists being stranded on Tennessee's hilly roads.

Light to moderate snow blanketed the region north of the icy-pavement belt and extended northeastward into Pennsylvania and New York.

★ ★ ★

In contrast to the bitter cold numbing the plains and Midwest, unseasonably mild, clear weather warmed Florida. Temperatures climbed into the 70s and 80s Tuesday, and Fort Lauderdale registered an early morning low of 72 degrees.

The population of the Soviet Union reached 235.5 million on July 1, 1967.

Reagan Wants Role in GOP Nomination

By the Associated Press

California Gov. Ronald Reagan has made it clear he wants a leading role in choosing the Republican nominee.

Reagan — who insists he is not a candidate for the nomination — announced he has formed a statewide committee to pick members of the favorite-son delegation he will lead to the Republican convention at Miami Beach in August. He said the group will cover "the broad spectrum of the party."

★ ★ ★

In the past, Reagan told a news conference, "California has thrown away opportunities to have some influence on the national scene" by not forming a unified delegation.

He indicated he might hold the delegates to his favorite-son candidacy beyond the first ballot. But he said he would not require the delegates to pledge themselves to vote as a single unit.

INTRAPARTY FIGHT

In previous statements Reagan has said he hopes to avoid an intraparty fight in the California primary between GOP conservatives and moderates.

In Washington, the Republican Coordinating Committee attacked administration policies on water pollution, indicating the GOP may try to make the handling of the problem a national campaign issue.

The Republican leadership unit charged the federal government is polluting many of the nation's rivers and lakes—the Potomac River in Washington, for example—while preaching water purity.

"If the federal government is going to legislate in the field of water pollution," the committee said, "it must in its own activities adhere to exemplary practices in controlling inadequately treated discharges from federal institutions."

TAFT'S PLANS

Ohio's Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche said he was "profoundly happy" over the announcement that Republican Rep. Robert Taft Jr. will seek reelection to his congressional seat instead of trying for Lausche's Senate seat.

Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace planned to hold a news conference today in Santa Monica, Calif. He gave no prior indication what it would be about, but it could relate to his apparent success in getting his American Independent Party on California's 1968 ballot.

Romney Points to 'Bad Press'

PARIS (AP) — Gov. George Romney said today that his declining standing in public opinion polls at home is the result of a "negative" press.

Romney arrived from India on the last stop of a tour to Vietnam and back. He said he thought he could change peoples' minds when he starts campaigning at home for the Republican presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Republican was asked to comment on opinion polls showing him farther behind former Vice President Richard Nixon now than last June.

"Oh, I think that's a reflection of the press more than the people." I think the press has been very negative for a long time (toward me).

★ ★ ★

"There isn't any question about that. Just be realistic about it. And I think when I indicate what I believe in and what I stand for that I can change that picture."

Romney was scheduled to leave for New York later today.

Titans Saddle Hoosiers With Third Setback

DETROIT (AP) — Coach Lou Watson has to think up a gimmick to get his Indiana Hoosiers back on the beam before opening the Big Ten schedule at Minnesota Saturday.

"We've lost our fire, we're stale," said Watson after his Hoosiers were outgunned 99-93 by Detroit Tuesday night.

The loss was Indiana's third straight after six consecutive victories. The Hoosiers plummeted from The Associated Press rankings this week after dropping back-to-back decisions to Western Kentucky and Southern Methodist in the Dallas Christmas tournament.

"We outshot SMU by nine field goals and Detroit by three and lost both games," noted Watson.

Detroit hit 29 of 42 foul shots to 15 of 23 for Indiana, but had the lead halfway through the first half and never trailed thereafter.

BEST GAME

"It was our best game this year," said Detroit Coach Bob Calihan, whose team has won five straight and eight of 10 this year, all at home. "It was our best passing game. We kept hitting the open man."

The Titans ripped off a string of nine straight points halfway through the first half to take a commanding 29-21 lead. The Hoosiers cut this to 46-42 at the half, but never got closer than six points after that.

Detroit, with Bruce Rodwan hitting a season high of 36 points, led by as many as 16 points.

Indiana switched from a zone to a full-court press in the final 10 minutes, cutting the lead to six points several times. But the press took its toll in fouls, and the Hoosiers never caught up.

LATE SURGE

Sophomore Joe Cooke, who sparked the late Indiana rally with several steals, topped the Hoosiers with 20 points. Bill DeHeer added 15, but had only one field goal in the second half.

Butch Joyner, who averaged 18 points a game last year when Indiana shared the Big Ten crown with Michigan State, played his first game in almost a month, scoring 14 points.

He started and played in spurts, taking frequent breathers on the bench. But he did not seem to be bothered by the leg injury he suffered earlier in the season.

Detroit outrebounded Indiana 56 to 49, with Rodwan and Tom Richardson each hauling in 19.

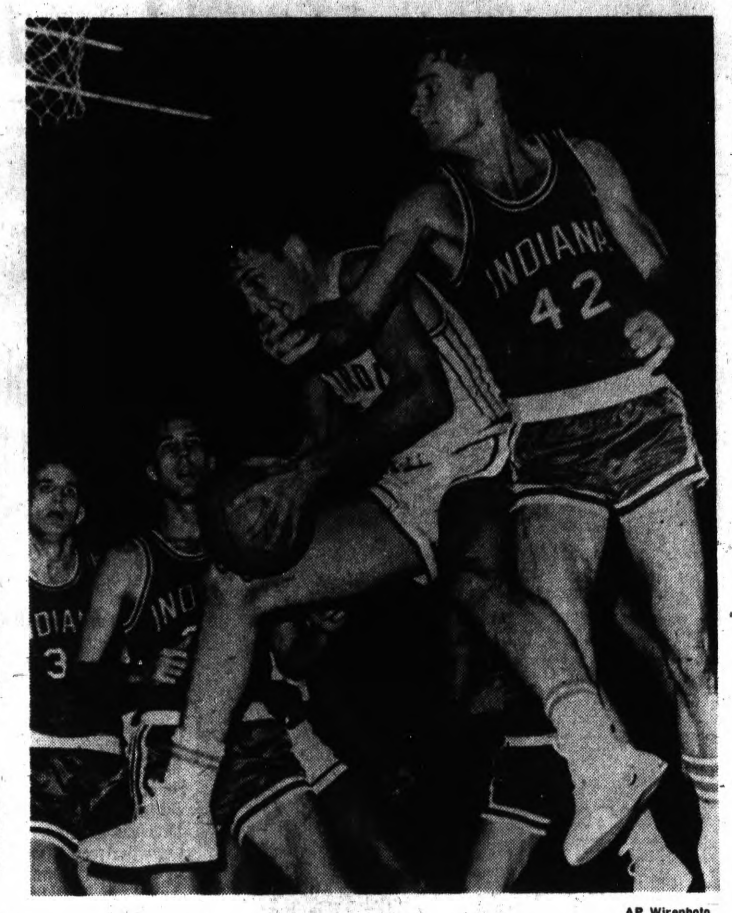
Hikes Winning Streak

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern California won its 90th straight swimming meet Tuesday, defeating Simon Fraser 68-45.



AP Wirephoto

OUTNUMBERED — University of Detroit's Bruce Rodwan (54) was outnumbered in this scramble against Indiana under the backboard, but he came up with the rebound during first half action of their game in Detroit last night. Rodwan bumps Hoosiers' Rick Atkinson (42) in taking the ball, with a couple other Indiana players moving in too late. U. of D. upset the Hoosiers, 99-93.

Pistons Eke Out Win Over Bullets

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Pistons, surviving another rocky road trip, managed to hang on for a 114-113 victory over the Baltimore Bullets Tuesday night.

The victory snapped a two-game losing streak and moved Detroit to within 5½ games of the second place Boston Celtics, who dropped a 95-84 decision to the Chicago Bulls in the Eastern Division race.

OTHER ACTION

In other National Basketball Association action, Cincinnati whipped New York 125-119 and Los Angeles lost to San Francisco 119-118.

Detroit blew a nine-point lead going into the third quarter and managed to win only when Eddie Miles sank a foul shot with nine seconds to play.

The Pistons led by 17 points at the end of the first quarter and carried the nine-point lead into the final quarter when Baltimore's Gus Johnson sparked a rally which tied the score at 103 late in the game.

Jack Marin of the Bullets scored two clutch baskets, tying the score at 111 and 113, but then missed a pair of free throws with 32 seconds to play.

The Pistons brought the ball downcourt and Miles was fouled. In a three-to-make-two situation, Miles missed the first two before sinking the game-winning shot.

LOOSE BALL

The Bullets still had a chance to pull it out, but Tom VanArsdale picked off a loose ball and stalled out the clock.

Johnson led all scorers with 33 points and Dave Bing scored 31 for Detroit, 22 in the first half. Miles added 20 points.

The Pistons next meet the Cincinnati Royals in Detroit Friday.

Bob Boozer and Flynn Robinson sparked the Bulls to their first victory over Boston this year. The victory was the third straight for Chicago. Boozer led Chicago with 21 points and Robinson added 20. Sam Jones was high for the Celtics with 19.

SIX STRAIGHT

Oscar Robertson broke open a tie game with six straight fourth quarter points and Jerry Lucas followed with another six in leading the Royals to victory over New York.

Michigan Easy Prey for Sharp Cougar Quintet

HOUSTON (AP) — Elvin Hayes tossed in 31 points Tuesday night as his second-ranked Houston Cougars whipped Michigan 91-65 for their 14th straight basketball victory of the season.

The victory was Houston's 15th straight including last year's final game and its 47th home court triumph in succession.

★ ★ ★

Rudy Tomjanovich, a quick shooting 6-foot-7 sophomore, paced the Wolverine offense with 20 points.

Ken Spain contributed 15 points for Houston.

Michigan could hit only 25 of 75 attempts for a 33.3 average. Houston connected on 40 of 76 for 52.6 per cent.

Tomjanovich was the game's top rebounder with 18 while Hayes paced Houston with 13. Over-all, Houston managed a 53-51 rebound margin.

TIGHT SLATE

It was the fourth game in six nights for Houston and the Cougars appeared ragged at times.

However, only Tomjanovich's deadly outside shooting late in the second half kept the Wolverines (4-5) within 30 points of taller Houston.

Eagle Owner's Woes Continue to Mount

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Owner Jerry Wolman of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League has been hit with some more financial difficulties.

The city of Philadelphia Tuesday filed suit for $57,553 in amusement taxes allegedly due from the Eagles for October and November.

The suit said the club filed its returns for the two months without remitting the amount due.

Mathis, Frazier in Ring Date

NEW YORK (AP) — Undefeated Joe Frazier and Buster Mathis will fight for New York recognition as world heavyweight champion and Emile Griffith will defend his world middleweight crown against Italy's Nino Benvenuti in a March doubleheader in the new Madison Square Garden Center, it was learned Tuesday night.

The date would be in the first week of March.

The news leaked after the Garden sent telegrams to newsmen to attend a 2:30 p.m. press conference today for "an announcement of extreme inportance."

The package reportedly will cost the Garden $500,000 with Frazier of Philadelphia and Griffith of New York getting $150,000 each and the other two $100,000 each.

TOP PRICE

Ringside seats in the 20,000-seat arena would be scaled for a top of at least $100.

The two 15-round fights also will be telecast nationally, most likely by closed circuit tv arenas and theaters.

Frazier, 23, ranked first by Ring Magazine, has a 19-0 record, including 17 knockouts. Mathis 23, unranked, has a 23-0 record including 17 knockouts.

Frazier is ranked seventh by the World Boxing Association.

The WBA dropped Frazier from a No. 2 rating after he declined to participate in an elimination tournament to determine a successor to Cassius Clay-Mohammad Ali. Clay was stripped of titular recognition by both the WBA and New York Athletic Commission when he refused to enter military service.

RECOGNITION SET

The New York Commission, headed by Edwin B. Dooley, has agreed to recognize the Mathis-Frazier winner as champion, the AP learned.

★ ★ ★

Griffith and Benvenuti will meet for the third time. The strong New Yorker was dethroned by the slick Italian on a 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden last April 17.

Griffith regained the crown by outpointing Benvenuti at New York's Shea Stadium last Sept. 29.

Mathis, of Grand Rapids, defeated Frazier in the Olympic Trials in 1964. But the giant-sized Mathis, then a 300-pounder, broke a hand in training and Frazier replaced him for the Olympics in Tokyo. Frazier won the gold medal although he fought in the final bout with a broken hand.

Frazier, a 5-foot-11, 210-pounder, moved up swiftly by taking on name fighters. He became the first to stop George Chuvalo, the rugged Canadian champion.

Mathis, a 6-3, trimmed down 240-pounder, has been fed a series of soft touches.

Despite the low quality of his opposition, Mathis has expressed confidence that he could defeat Frazier in the pro ranks.

Warm Area for Title Tilt Backed by NFL Brass

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Times Herald quoted Commissioner Pete Rozelle Wednesday as saying he was for playing the National Football League title game on a warm-climate, neutral field.

Pro football writer Steve Perkins said Rozelle told him "I'm for it. I'll work to get it moved. Under the conditions it was played last Sunday, the game is unfair to both teams."

Rozelle referred to the sub-zero conditions and the frozen field faced by the Green Bay Packers and the Dallas Cowboys in the Packers' tingling 21-17 victory last Sunday.

Art Modell, NFL president and owner of the Cleveland Browns said the field site "will be discussed in no uncertain terms at our February meeting. I personally believe it should be moved to a neutral warm weather spot. It was zero today in Cleveland. I wouldn't like to have the game at Cleveland at five degrees or five below."

Modell told Perkins he would propose a "two-year test" for the 1968 and 1969 title games at one of the four NFL warm-weather sites.

Rozelle said he had been "in favor of" the warm-weather concept "for several years" but that too many of the owners in the league were against it.

Under present league rules, it would take 13 affirmative votes to change the home-and-home arrangement which alternates yearly between the Eastern and Western Conference winners.

BOWL GAMES

Dallas Cowboys president Tex Schramm said, "When I saw the four bowl games yesterday, which were truly beautiful and great tests of the relative strengths of the teams involved, it was sickening to me that the greatest game of all could have been played under the same circumstances. The resulting comparison was not in keeping with the NFL."

Three Dallas players suffered slight cases of frostbite in the Packer game, club officials said.

Cowboys' QB Not Sure He'll Quit

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Meredith, Dallas' gifted quarterback, says he hasn't decided to quit pro football but will spend the next two months pondering whether or not to return to the Cowboys next season.

Meredith, still "emotionally spent" after last Sunday's 21-17 loss to Green Bay in the National Football League title game, denied Tuesday a report that he had made up his mind to retire.

"Maybe I'll play and maybe I won't," the 29-year-old Texan said. "I just don't know. But I definitely haven't decided."

Meredith reportedly told teammates and friends of his decision to quit during the plane trip home from Green Bay Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

The Southern Methodist University grad has just completed the final year of a three-year contract estimated at $40,000 per season.

"If I decide to quit, I won't do it this way," Meredith said in New York, where he appeared on television Monday night. "I'll call everyone in and announce it."

Grid Selection Near

DURHAM, N.H. (AP) — The University of New Hampshire's new football coach will be named at a news conference Thursday. The announcement by Athletic Director Andrew Mooradian said more than 125 men had applied for the job vacated when Joe Yukica left to accept the head coaching post at Boston College.

OFFENSIVE MANEUVERS — Forward Tim Loviska of Pontiac Catholic leaves the floor while gunning up an unsuccessful shot at the Titans' basket during the first half of their meeting last night with St. Francis de Sales. Loviska broke loose from the defensive effort of de Sales' Gene LaFave. Maneuvering in position for the rebound are Greg Gedda (35) and Jim Moss (21) of the Monarchs, and Pontiac's Mike Keller (54) and Steve Hoffman (44). The visitors' John Fenbert (5) watches the play. Rec Quintets Overcome Slow Starts

Two city recreation basketball men's team overcame slow starts to post six-point victories Tuesday night.

Defending city Class C champion Coulacos Insurance countered a 20-7 first-period edge by Town & Country Lounge with a 27-10 third quarter in a 64-58 triumph.

Local 596 trailed 11-10 after one session, but outscored the Pontiac Police in each of the final three quarters for a 52-46 decision.

Coulacos fell behind as Dave Burhams hit 12 of his 24 points in a big first quarter by Town & Country. Then Bill Hayward notched 18 of his 23 in the second and third periods and the insurancemen took charge, 50-41.

Charlie Honchell added 12 for the winners. Skip Hall had 14 for T&C.

Willie Peck's 27 points paced Local 596. He had 19 and teammate Odell Smith all 10 of his points in the last three periods. Willie Craft's 19 led the policemen.

Titans Lose to de Sales

WOLL Quintet Hot

A hot night in the shooting department carried Waterford Our Lady to victory last night, but Pontiac Catholic stumbled after a fast start in suffering its third setback in Northwest Parochial League play.

★ ★ ★

The Lakers of Waterford Our Lady hit on 49 per cent of their shots in the first half in building a 49-18 lead, and they held off Ferndale St. James in the closing half for an 83-63 victory.

Pontiac Catholic's Titans, after taking a 40-33 lead at intermission, faded in the third period when they were outscored 30-12 and wound up losing 84-79 to St. Francis de Sales.

In another Northwest game, Detroit St. Rita (2-4) downed Royal Oak St. Mary (2-4), 50-39.

★ ★ ★

Guard Butch Finnegan, who paced the Titans (3-3) with 23 points, teamed with Gary Roediger (11) and Steve Hoffman (16) in opening that halftime margin of seven points, but the fast-breaking de Sales (5-1) quintet took charge in the third stanza to wipe out the lead.

VISITORS IN CONTROL

"They really controlled play in the third period," said Titan coach Walt Wynienkox. "They have a quick, fast-breaking team," he added.

The Titans did outscore the visitors in the fourth, 27-21, but it wasn't enough to offset that disastrous third stanza.

★ ★ ★

John Fenbert sparked the winners with 21 markers and teammate Gene LaFave added 16.

Senior Dennis McCulloch had his finest night and junior Jerry Yezbick made the most of his first opportunity as a starter for WOLL's Lakers.

McCulloch tossed in nine field goals and made 14-for-14 at the free throw line to finish with a career high 32 points. Coach Mike Boyd pushed Yezbick into the lineup as a starter for the first time and the youngster responded with 20 points.

Yezbick collected 18 of his points in the first half to pace the Lakers' attack, with most of his shots coming on drive-ins.

★ ★ ★

The Lakers (2-4) went stale in the third, enabling St. James (1-5) to slice 12 points from the deficit, but they regained the upper hand in the fourth.

Highlander 5 Handed Loss by Kellogg

Oakland Community College's Highlanders never could put their offense in gear Tuesday night and dropped a 115-75 decision to once-beaten Kellogg CC at Battle Creek.

The Highland Lakes campus quintet tied the score at 9-9, but Kellogg moved in front 13-11 and pulled away to a 58-33 lead at halftime.

The winners' well-balanced attack saw seven players score in twin figures led by John Gibby's 18 and Larry Pratt's 17.

John Olander and Gordon Hamilton each notched 16 to pace the losers. Hamilton pulled down 15 rebounds for the Highlanders (2-5). Kellogg is 9-1. The game didn't count in the state Community Junior College AA standings.

★ ★ ★

Kellogg is 7-0 and leads the Southwest Division. Highland Lakes is 0-3 in the Northwest and will return to divisional play Friday night against Flint CC (2-3) at 8 p.m. on the Clifford Smart JHS court.

Banned Bowler Asks $300,000

Detroit Pro Kegler Suing ABC, GDBA

CINCINNATI (AP) — Lawrence Garr, a Detriot professional bowler filed a $300,000 damage suit in U.S. District Court here Tuesday against the American Bowling Congress and others, claiming he has been blacklisted from participating in bowling leagues and tournaments.

★ ★ ★

The suit also named the Bowling Proprietors Association of Greater Cincinnati, the Greater Detroit Bowling Association of the ABC and Erwin C. Hoinke Sr., and Erwin C. Hoinke Jr., of Cincinnati, members of the ABC and the Cincinnati BPA.

The suit claimed the ABC and others have conspired to violate the Sherman Anti-Trust Act by the alleged monopolization of bowling activities in the United States.

Bernard C. Fox, attorney for Garr, said Garr participated in a handicap tournament at the Hoinke Bowling Lanes here in 1965 and finished third. Subsequently, Fox said, Garr's purse was held up on the grounds he had given false league average in order to build up his handicap.

★ ★ ★

The suit claimed that since that time, Garr has been forbidden to compete in ABC-sanctioned league and tournament bowling and that it has prevented him from participating in his profession as a professional bowler.

Scoring 'Rut' for Wings' Ace

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gordie Howe is where he's been for the past 18 years in the National Hockey League — right among the top ten in scoring, the commissioner's office said Tuesday.

Howe, now skating NHL ice for the 22nd season, is ranked ninth with 16 goals, 16 assists and 32 points. He's tied with Jean Ratelle of New York.

★ ★ ★

Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks are tied at the top with 43 points each.

TWO POINTS FOR TITANS — Pontiac Catholic's "Butch" Finnegan (white uniform) puts up a layup Tuesday night against St. Francis de Sales as the Titans took an early lead in their Northwest Catholic League game at Madison Junior High School. The visitors' John Fenbert wasn't able to prevent the fast-break basket.

Defenseman Spurs Wings' Attack

DETROIT (UPI)—Gary Bergman is fast earning a reputation as an over-all defenseman in the National Hockey League. Mostly because he seems to be all over the place.

He will be roaming for the Wings tomorrow night at Olympia against Oakland.

The main plug of the Detroit defense put his finger on the slumping Red Wings' problems recently when the club had dropped three in a row and five of six to fall into a tie for last place in the NHL's Eastern Division.

★ ★ ★

"What we need is a party," said the relatively high-scoring Bergman, whose shot-stopping antics draw cheers from Detroit fans.

So Bergman crystalized the party himself a couple of nights later, leading the Red Wings to the romp they were looking for.

He rammed home the final two goals, one of them unassisted, as the Red Wings snapped their losing streak with a 5-3 triumph over the Philadelphia Flyers.

NEARLY MADE IT

Yet all he could talk about after that game was how he just missed a hat trick, a rare occurrence for a forward, let alone a defenseman.

"It was that close," the balding 28-year-old said excitedly, spreading his fingers about two inches apart. "He (Philadelphia goalie Doug Favell) just tipped it with his glove or it would have gone in."

Detroit's next game, a 5-2 smashing of the Pittsburgh Penguins, the glib Bergman picked up an assist and Sunday night, when the Red Wings outlasted the Boston Bruins 6-4, he was credited with an assist when Norm Ullman scored into an empty net with 16 seconds to play.

"That was a big win," he said. "I think that could put us over the hump." Detroit moved closer to the leaders in the tightly-grouped Eastern Division as the season neared its half-way mark.

★ ★ ★

The instantly likeable Bergman, who handles the puck nearly as well as a polished forward, finished last season fourth in scoring among NHL defensemen with five goals and 30 assists for 35 points, his best season.

REALLY HELPS

The fourth-year lefty seems almost certain to surpass those figures this season since he already has six goals and 16 assists with 39 games left to play.

Having a guy like Bergman in front of you really helps," said Detroit goalie Roy Edwards.

"He takes some of the pressure off by stopping shots."

"More time on the ice" is what the modest Bergman credits with his speedy improvement as a backliner.

It wasn't that way as recently as two years ago. The quick defenseman committed costly errors and dissatisfied fans were asking why he was being kept around.

Red Wings' fans don't wonder why any more, they just wonder where Detroit can find more like him.

North-South Gridmen Drill Twice Daily

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A full complement of players were to report for double sessions today —morning and afternoon—in more foggy and rainy weather as the North and South squads began work for the 19th annual Senior Bowl tilt.

★ ★ ★

An announcement was expected by South Coach Hank Stram of the Kansas City Chiefs on whether fullback Ronnie Jenkins would remain in the lineup after suffering a knee injury in Tuesday's practice.

★ ★ ★

Jenkins, a 225-pounder from Georgia, was a likely starter for the South squad in Saturday's contest.

VOLS REPORT

Quarterback Dewey Warren, center Bob Johnson and lineman John Boynton, all of Tennessee, were to report for practice today after missing the first day because of their team's Orange Bowl clash.

★ ★ ★

Also missing from practice were Indiana linemen Gary Cassels and Doug Crusan because of the Rose Bowl Game. Both were to report to Mike Holovak, director of the North squad and coach of the Boston Patriots.

'Frisco Continuing Search for Coach

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lou Spadia, president of the San Francisco 49ers, turned toward the college coaching ranks Tuesday in quest of a new head coach for the National Football League club.

Jack Christiansen was fired as head coach last month after the 49ers finished the season with a 7-7 won-lost record.

★ ★ ★

The San Francisco Chronicle said Spadia will talk to three college coaches—Tennessee's Doug Dickey, Florida State's Bill Peterson and Wyoming's Lloyd Eaton.

No binding offer has been made to anybody at this stage, according to Chronicle pro football writer Darrell Wilson. And none of the three definitely has said he would take the job if offered.

Pittsburgh Five Nears 1st Place

Pipers Run Winning Streak to 14

By the Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pipers, who have been chasing the Minnesota Muskies for a long time, finally caught them. Almost.

Pittsburgh's 14th straight victory Tuesday night, a 105-97 beating of Kentucky carried the determined Pipers to a virtual tie for first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association, 10 percentage points behind Minnesota, which lost to Dallas 112-109.

In other ABA action, New Orleans edged New Jersey 97-96, Denver beat Indiana 98-80 and Anaheim turned back Oakland 141-121.

★ ★ ★

Charlie Williams scored 28 points and Connie Hawkins added 22 for Pittsburgh, which won on a second-half surge. Lou Dampier had 26 and Darel Carrier threw in 22 for the Colonels.

Dallas also won on a second-half rally, fighting back from an 11-point deficit. John Beasley of the Chaparrals and Les Hunter of the Muskies each had 22 points.

SHORT SPAN

Jesse Branson's two field goals with four seconds left provided New Orleans' margin over New Jersey. Barry Leibowitz had put the Americans ahead with a jumper nine seconds earlier. Doug Moe had 30 for the Bucs while Bruce Spraggins had 29 for New Jersey.

Sharp-Shooting Backcourt Ace Different Guard

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A National Guard commitment has knocked Bob Verga out of the American Basketball Association scoring derby. Oakland's Levern Tart won't miss him, but the Dallas Chaparrals will.

Verga, the Chaparrals' slick backcourt man, is runner-up to Tart in the individual scoring race with a 24.5 points-per-game mark, according to the latest ABA figures released today. The Duke alumnus will begin a six-month tour of National Guard duty this week.

★ ★ ★

Tart has poured in 928 points in 34 games — an average of 27.3 per contest. Pittsburgh's Connie Hawkins and New Orleans' Doug Moe are next with 23.3 and 23.2 averages, respectively.

The leading scorers:

Lamonica Leads Oakland

Lamonica, who rode the bench for the fourth straight season at Buffalo last year, finally got his chance to start after being traded to Oakland this season and he quarterbacked the Raiders to the best record in the history of the league.

ONE SETBACK

The Raiders posted a 13-1 record while winning the Western Division crown of the AFL and followed with a 40-7 trouncing of the Houston Oilers in the championship game. The Raiders will now meet the Green Bay Packers in the second Super Bowl Jan. 14 in Miami.

Lamonica was the runaway choice for the honor in the balloting of 27 writers across the nation — three in each of the nine league cities.

Lamonica received 22 of the votes and only Hewritt Dixon of the Raiders received more than one vote. He got just two.

Buck Buchanan, the Kansas City's defensive tackle, and quarterbacks John Hadl of the San Diego Chargers and Joe Namath of the New York Jets received one vote each.

RESERVE BACK

Until this season, Lamonica was just another reserve quarterback who claimed all he needed was a chance to start.

He played behind Jackie Kemp at Buffalo and while he did come off the bench to help pace the club to five victories in 1964, he could never beat out Kemp for the starting job.

Lamonica, though, finally got his chance when the Raiders sent Tom Flores and Art Powell to Buffalo to obtain Lamonica and Glenn Bass.

Lamonica developed faster than even the Raiders had ever hoped.

This season he completed 51.8 per cent of his passes, hitting on 220 of 425 for 3,228 yards and 30 touchdowns. His longest completion covered 72 yards and he had just 20 interceptions.

His best previous season had been in 1964 when he completed 55 of 128 for 1,137 yards. His career total for four seasons had been 150 of 353 yards for 2,499.

Besides compiling this list of impressive statistics, Lamonica developed into a real team leader for the Raiders and won the respect of his teammates and coach Johnny Rauch for his astute play-calling.

Lamonica is just 26 and has a bright future with the Raiders if he continues the form he showed this season.

Australia Net Ace Inks Fat Pro Pact

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — John Newcombe of Australia, who became the world's top ranked tennis player as an amateur, has signed a professional contract which the promoter estimates might bring him $200,000 this year.

David F. Dixon of New Orleans, president of World Championship Tennis Inc., said Newcombe, 23, and his Davis Cup teammate Tony Roche, 22, fourth ranked in the world, will compete with six others for more than $1 million in prize money.

The pro tour, opening in Kansas City Feb. 1, will last about 40 weeks, with 80 three-day tournaments.

Injured List for N.Y. Ace

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Bradley, the New York Knicks' $500,000 rookie was placed on the injured list by the National Basketball Association club Tuesday night.

The action means that Bradley must miss five games starting Tuesday night against Cincinnati through next Monday night's game against Seattle.

The former Princeton All-American suffered wrist and leg injuries last week when he was hit by an automobile.

Anglers Hit Jackpot on First Ice

Fishermen who get out on new ice usually reap a harvest of fish.

The New Year's weekend was no exception in Oakland County. It was the first time anglers could get on most of the lakes. Pike, bluegills and crappies were taken in good numbers.

★ ★ ★

Good-sized bluegills were caught at Holly Millpond, Tipsico, Big, Union and White lakes. Pike action was good both on tipups and with spears at Bald Eagle, Orion, Walled, Pontiac and Oxbow.

Crappies have been biting at Kent and Cass.

Conservation officers report rabbit hunters had a good weekend in the Holly and Ortonville recreation areas and the fox hunters also found good action.

Saginaw Bay off the mouth of Mud Creek near Bay Port continues good for perch. Some perch were taken at Anchor Bay.

★ ★ ★

In Genesee County, good catches of bluegills were reported from Fenton, Squaw and Lobdell lakes. Some pike were caught on tipups at Lake Fenton.

Southern Michigan's grouse and archery deer seasons ended Sunday. Few hunters were out and no deer reported.

Ice Races Slated on Lower Straits

Motorcycle ice racing will get under way at Lower Straits Lake Sunday and continue each week through March 10.

The three-eights mile track is located near the Lower Straits Resort Club on Richardson. Races in light and heavyweight solo and sidecar will follow practices starting at noon.

The 10,000 cc state jug championship will be Feb. 18.

OPERATION TRANQUILIZE — The above deer are among 17 shot with tranquilizing dart guns last weekend in an attempt to relocate the herd of about 400 from the Twin Cities Ammunition Plant grounds near St. Paul, Minn. Volunteer workers move the whitetails to truck. The deer were transported to a wildlife area 100 miles away. Army officials said the deer have become a hazard to munitions trucks and several starved in the overbrowsed area last winter.

Deer Threaten Munitions . . .

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) A team of hunters armed with tranquilizer guns headed into the fenced-in 2,500 acres of an army munitions plant. The prey: 400 deer.

The action last week capped months of controversy over U.S. Army efforts to clear the wooded area of deer facing starvation while trapped where there is only enough forage for about 30.

"About 96 starved last winter, but reproduction raised the total number on the grounds," said Maj. Frederick C. Von Gortier III, commanding officer of the Twin Cities army munition plant in suburban New Brighton.

"We feared 120 to 130 might starve this winter."

The compromise method of moving the deer from the plant's grounds consisted of a hunting team, including one driver, one rifleman, one veterinarian, a representative of the Minnesota game and fish division, and a man who doubled as both a vet and a hunter.

The team toured the grounds in a car and when a deer was sighted, a rifleman had to get within 30 to 50 yards and fire the tranquilizer drug. Two types of guns were used, one gas-operated, the other utilized black powder.

As the deer were tranquilized with etorphine, they were placed in a truck and given a second drug, cyprenorphine, to revive them. They were taken to the Mille Lacs Lake wildlife area, 70 miles north of here, and to other refuges.

After last winter's starvation and 16 accidents involving munition trucks and deer on the ground, the arsenal officials figured the simplest and most humane thing would be to turn a team of expert marksmen loose to kill the deer and give the meat to the needy.

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of persons raised howls of protest, however, and it appeared the winter would pass without a solution to the problem.

The St. Paul Humane Society and other animal lovers criticized the plan to shoot the deer.

Archers then suggested bow and arrow hunters kill the deer. This, too, was protested.

It was then suggested tranquilizer drugs be used to stun the deer so they could be moved, but conservation officials said past experience showed this method killed most of the animals.

COURT ORDER

The controversy reached a point that a U.S. District Court judge here issued a restraining order against killing any deer until Jan. 12, to permit a study to be made.

But Mrs. Ruth Deschane, executive director of the local Humane Society, suggested the new drugs.

The big hunt, however, may take much of the winter to complete.

"It probably will take several weekends to get the bulk of the deer, and we know we never can get all of them," Von Gordler said. "And if it doesn't work, we still may have to shoot and kill some of them."

. . . Take Close Look at Research

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — For more than a decade, scientists at nearby Plum Brook have been working to develop a center for research into space propulsion systems of the future.

★ ★ ★

Now science is tackling another problem at the center: Can a birth control pill be developed to keep down the rapidly growing herd of deer roaming the Plum Brook acres?

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials say the deer herd has more than doubled during the past seven years and now numbers more than 700.

The deer are so tame they poke their heads through laboratory windows and "even graze around the nuclear reactor," a NASA spokesman said Friday.

To try to solve the problem, a fertility research program will be launched next month by the Ohio Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit under the direction of Dr. Tony J. Peterle of Ohio State University.

NASA personnel will help in the first phase of the operation, which will seek to determine how many members of the herd are pregnant.

They will do this on a "sampling" basis, with some personnel assigned to shoot a certain number of deer for study.

Venison from the samples will be given to state institutions.

★ ★ ★

The deer "will be studied to determine certain endocrine, reproductive and physical characteristics," said John D. Harder of Ohio State.

SEEK PILL

"What we are trying to discover is some kind of birth pill which could be fed to the deer at regular intervals," said Harder.

NASA says its major concern at the moment is that "if the herd continues to increase at its present rate there will not be enough food at the center for them."

Four-Sided Shanty Law

Winter fishermen are alerted by the Conservation Department that the law covering ice shanty identification has been changed.

Under legislation passed in 1967, shanty owners must display their names and addresses in waterproof letters at least two inches high on all sides of their fish houses and shelters.

Previously, this "ID" marking only had to appear on one side of ice shanties.

The new "all sides" requirement is expected to make it easier for conservation officers to locate shanty owners who violate the law by not getting their shelters off the ice before spring breakup.

Hunting Ban Hearing Set

A public hearing on closing part of Orion Township to hunting will be Tuesday, Jan. 16, at 10 a.m. in the township hall.

This will be the first hearing held in Oakland County by the Hunting Area Control Committee formed under a new state law. After weighing the evidence, the committee can close or leave open a part of a township.

★ ★ ★

Should the committee refuse a request for closure, residents may petition the legislature as in the past.

★ ★ ★

The area in Orion Township involves Lake Orion and adjacent lakes.

Bids Being Sought

The Conservation Department's parks division in Lansing is accepting sealed bids until 2 p.m., Jan. 15, for concession leases at Hartwick Pines, Lakeport and Sleeper state parks which will begin in 1968.

Johnson Back on Commission

Carl T. Johnson of Grand Rapids, chairman of the Michigan Conservation Commission, has been reappointed by Governor Romney to the five-member board for a four-year term which expires Dec. 31, 1971.

His reappointment is subject to confirmation by the State Senate.

The 56-year-old insurance executive has been a member of the commission, which sets policy for the Conservation Department, since 1963.

Common Sense Rules on Snow

"Safe snowmobiling, whether on land or ice, begins with good common sense, and it bears repeating that followers of this sport should safety-check each lake before they go onto it."

These words of advice come from James Hadley, head of the Conservation Department's boat and water safety section.

A good place to start checking, he says, is right around the shore. Chances are a lake is not even safe for fishermen afoot if its shoreline ice is still squashy or broken up.

In "reconning" each lake for safety's sake, snowmobiler should pinpoint such potential trouble spots as spring-flow areas where patches of ice may remain thin all winter long. Ice conditions can stay especially hazardous around inlets and outlets of spring-fed lakes, reports Hadlay.

Dark spots in the ice or places where the snow is discolored are reliable warning signs, but Hadley cautions snowmobilers that danger may lurk even where the ice "looks" safe.

"The looks of a lake can be downright deceiving," he explains, "and it's the heads-up sportsman who checks out the thickness of the ice and weighs all other factors, such as whether there has been a recent thaw."

DEATH TRAPS

He particularly urges snowmobilers to stay off lakes at night unless their machines are equipped with proper headlighting to point out potential death traps in and on the ice.

Ernest Hall and Roger Rasmussen, the department's regional forest supervisors at Marquette and Roscommon, pass along some other tips for safe and sane snowmobiling, on land and on lakes:

1) KNOW YOURSELF. This means knowing your physical limitations. A mechanical breakdown may mean some tough trudging through deep snow for you. It can be an exhausting experience and zero weather saps strength quickly.

2) KNOW YOUR MACHINE. Keep it in top-notch condition with regular maintenance; there is considerable vibration in snow mobiles, so it is well to check periodically for loose bolts and nuts, particularly around the motor mounts.

Proper track tension is also important. Carry tools and such spare parts as an extra drive belt to make minor repairs that may be necessary along the way. Always start a day's trip with a full tank of fuel; a backup supply of "petrol" might also come in handy.

3) KNOW YOUR SUPPLIES. Carry extra warm and windproof clothing, a first aid kit, compass, map, matches, snowshoes or skis, and a spare food pack — all the necessities of a good survival kit. A crash helmet is a good thing to wear to save the old noggin from some big lumps from low tree limbs.

4) KNOW YOUR ROUTE. Don't travel alone; a party of at least three is preferable. Have someone back home know your plans — just in case you get marooned in the boondocks.

5) STAY ON MARKED TRAILS IN STATE FORESTS. Helter-skelter driving through the woods can ruin many young trees that are hidden beneath the snow. It can also be rough on your machine. Inviting as they may look, open fields can be filled with pitfalls.

6) KNOW YOUR WEATHER. Hold off if you know a storm is threatening. Don't underestimate frigid weather; your speed will make it worse and can cause frostbite.

7) DON'T LITTER. Lunch papers, cigarette packages, and other such debris can easily be burned. Carry non-deposit bottles and cans back home.

Splake Legal on Two Lakes

Lake Trout Opened on Cass, Also

Splake are legal catches on Maceday and Cass lakes for the first time this winter.

Lake trout and rainbows also are open on these and other designated lakes in Oakland County during January and February. Any browns lurking in these waters also are legal.

In addition, the following principally good lake trout and splake waters were opened Jan. 1 by the Conservation Department under the special winter season covering all four species:

Grand Sable Lake, Alger County; Big Blue Lake, Kalkaska County; Tildon Lake, Marquette County; and Bill's Lake, Newaygo County.

Kokanee salmon are also open to winter action and they may start showing up this season in angler catches at Torch and Higgins lakes.

On the Great Lakes front, lake trout may be taken thoughout the year.

Lists of inland lakes open to hook and line fishing this winter for rainbow and brown trout, splake, lake trout and kokanee are available from department district and area field offices.

Bluegill Project Doesn't Cause Radioactive Fish

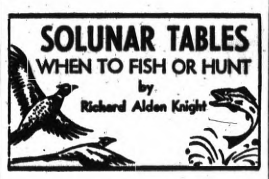
Gamma rays used to sterlize bluegills now being stocked in some Michigan lakes on an experimental basis do not cause radioactivity in the fish.

The substance comes from cobalt and is similar to that used in giving people x-ray treatments.

★ ★ ★

The bluegill project is designed to combat a major problem in Michigan lakes — over abundance of stunted fish. By stocking sterile fish, no reproduction would result and a balance between fish and food supply would be maintained.

The result is expected to be fatter-growing and larger bluegills.



The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

I Bet You Didn't Know
By John Carter

Here's an example of how times have changed . . . Did you know that in college and pro football 40 years ago there was a grand total of only TWO post-season games, the Rose Bowl and the East-West Shrine game. . . . In those days, there was no Orange Bowl, no Sugar Bowl, no Cotton Bowl, no Gator Bowl or any other college bowl game . . . And there weren't even any post-season games in pro football either because there was just one league and one division with no championship playoff.

★ ★ ★

Did you know that a team from a foreign country once played in one of our post-season football bowl games? . . . It was in the 1945 Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Texas . . . In that game, Southwestern University of Texas met the University of Mexico . . . Mexico lost 35-0.

★ ★ ★

Here's one that's hard to believe — but it's true . . . Did you know a major college team was once selected to play in a football bowl game even though they lost more games than they had won! . . . The team was SMU . . . They were picked for the 1964 Sun Bowl game after winning only four games all season and losing six . . . That's the only time that's ever happened in the history of major bowl games.

★ ★ ★

I bet you didn't know that 1968 makes the 46th year that Carter Tire has been serving the Pontiac area. We're selling second and third generations of old customers. We take pride in that!

LIVE STEAMERS, TO SCALE — On the elevated track, John Curtis of Belmont, Calif., passes the water tank with his Central Pacific miniature. On the front track, Louis Romani of Campbell, Calif., and his son, Louis, ride on a 10-foot Pacific 4-6-2 built to the scale of 1½ inches to the foot. It's an outing of the Golden Gate Live Steamers, Inc., a club devoted to operating miniature locomotives.

Miniature-Railroad Club Outgrows California Site

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
Associated Press Writer

OAKLAND, Calif. — Engineers are planning to relocate an entire railroad—station house, tracks and trestles—in the hills east of Oakland.

The engineers are operators of foot-high miniature locomotives. The Redwood Railroad is a scaled-down version with a half-mile of track in parallel loops.

One set of tracks is elevated so the engineer can dangle his legs comfortably from aboard a tender or flatcar as he stokes the engine and works the throttle.

Another loop of wider, heavier tracks at ground level accommodates larger models.

★ ★ ★

The engineers are serious hobbyists who build meticulously accurate models of famous old steam engines.

200 POUNDS

A typical locomotive may be about one foot high, five feet long and weigh some 200 pounds. It can cost up to $20,000 or more.

The railroad and the engineers belong to the Golden Gate Live Steamers Inc. Buffs formed the club in 1939.

Driving of solid gold spikes marked completion of one track in 1950 and the other in 1963. The club has some 190 members today.

★ ★ ★

The Redwood has outgrown its present regional park location. Club members have accepted an invitation to move to Tilden Park, 10 miles to the north, but they've worked out no timetable yet.

ACCIDENTS RARE

Accidents are rare and usually minor on the Redwood line.

"If a man uses judgment, takes care of his equipment and pays attention to what he's doing, he won't have any problems," says Harry Dixon of Castro Valley, charter member of the club.

Dixon once had his own 175-foot-long Dixie Short Line Railroad in his garden. Now he loads his Dixie Belle locomotive into the family station wagon and takes it to the Redwood tracks for Sunday runs.

"If I'm having someone else drive my engine, I go along behind on a flatcar, and I've got a hand brake so I can control the operation of the train," Dixon says.

'MY RESPONSIBILITY'

"If I see he's going to get into trouble, I can always brake him down. That's my responsibility; it's my train and I have to watch out for it."

Most of the engines use clean-burning Welsh steam coal or Colorado anthracite, but a few burn oil.

Once a woman visitor, unfamiliar with the habits of coal-burning locomotives, stood too close to the track—but not for long.

★ ★ ★

Hot cinders, she said in a claim against the club, burned holes in her blouse. The club bought her another.

POTBELLIED STOVE

The Redwood's station house features a potbellied stove and an operating telegraph.

Engineers and firemen usually wear striped overalls and trainman caps. Some carry big railroad watches.

Dixon, a retired toolmaker, is secretary of the worldwide Brotherhood of Live Steamers.

★ ★ ★

Joining the brotherhood "involves no money," Dixon says.

HE LOVES IT

His job is unpaid but he loves it, corresponding with railroad fans all over the world.

He estimates that the brotherhood has well over 1,000 members in the United States alone.

Railroad lanterns of gleaming brass, railroad calendars and scores of railroad books almost fill a study room he shares with his wife, whose own hobby is knitting.

★ ★ ★

Locomotive builders' name plates, big brass, bronze or steel plates from real engines all over the world, adorn one wall. They represent a Dixon side hobby.

Dixon yearns to operate a full-size engine just once.

★ ★ ★

"I've been in the cab," he says, "but I've never been invited to handle the controls. I'd like to."

In West Germany

Satirical Recording 'Sells' Foreign Aid

BONN, Germany, (AP) — "Hello? Is this the ministry of what'sit called, where they take care of Negroes and Chinese and everything?

"Yes, yes, the ministry of development whatchamacallit.

★ ★ ★

"I would like to speak to your chief Mr. Wischnewski, miss. Could you call him to the telephone, please?."

The caller to West Germany's Ministry of Development Aid is supposed to be Adolf Tegtmeier, a worker from the Ruhr. He is the creation of the country's best-known satirist, Juergen von Manger, 44. Monologues by the fictitious character Tegtmeier, making fun of anything from courts to mothers-in-law, have become best-seller records.

The new recording was commissioned by Minister Hans-Juergen Wischnewski's department to promote the idea of development aid, Bonn's version of what Americans call foreign aid.

Tegtmeier presents popular arguments against it until the minister convinces him that it's good for the economy and the worker.

★ ★ ★

The record—an unusual touch in the earnest world of West German politics — is available free to Germans who write the ministry.

A spokesman says most of the first batch of 30,000 have been given away during the past two weeks. Requests are coming in at the rate of 200 a day.

"This is Tegtmeier," he tells the minister, a former union official. "I don't know whether you still remember me. The union delegates' conference in Bochum in 1955. You had that nice speech. I sat at the front . . . You don't remember any more? I had on a brown suit with needle stripes. Well, it doesn't matter.

"But look Mr. Minister, when you were with the Metal Workers' Union, you were for it that the worker gets his share of the national product. That is, that we get the pennies, you know, pay increases and job security. You stood up for all those things.

"What are you doing now? You hand out our tax money so that some Negro thinks you're wonderful because you stuff him with development aid.

"Look at our firm. The old man wanted to shoot himself last Christmas because we couldn't get any new orders and then this thing came from Pakistan. We're still working on it and when we finish, we'll have a contract from Uganda.

INSULT INDUSTRY

"Therefore, I say stop this development aid and insure instead that German industry gets more orders and that the export keeps rolling.

"What, that is develpment aid? Development aid is when other countries are put into a position that they can buy here? Then it's also good for our firm? The Paksitanis and Ugandans got the money from you?

"Listen, why couldn't you have said this right away? You let me waste all this money phoning you. Boy, then we can be glad that we have development aid. I hereby demand more development aid."

Current Books

A SHOAL OF STARS By Hugh Downs. Doubleday. $5.95.

It is interesting that Downs appends to his story of a real life adventure in ocean sailing some notes on planning and scheduling a similar trip, with check lists of equipment, supplies, etc.

Maybe not many readers will be able to undertake such an expensive and challenging sail, but a good many sailors in bays, sounds and coastal areas should be able to find some vicarious thrills in his story.

This is a report on a three-month voyage which the author, his son and several friends made in 1965 aboard a chartered 65-foot ketch, called "Thane," from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to Tahiti. Downs, due back in New York for his television appearances, made the return trip by plane.

As a yachtsman, Downs had been building up to this adventure for several years.

His narrative isn't likely to set any records as a classic of the sea. But on the other hand, his evident zest and earnest dedication to an exotic sport—complete with impromptu libations on occasion — lend a bit of glamor to his sea safari.

THE INSTRUMENT. By John O'Hara. Random House. $5.95.

Yank Lucas is a vampire of a sort.

Yank's the dropout hero of this novel—John O'Hara's latest Thanksgiving offering.

He's a playwright who draws the stuff of his dramas from living people. When he's finished with them he discards them, casually and ruthlessly, uncaring of the hurt he leaves behind.

Yank should be classified as a bad guy. But he's not. Neither is he a good guy. He's too unreal for classification. And this is unfortunate because although O'Hara tries hard to bring Yank to life he never succeeds.

It is with the minor characters that O'Hara scores his success. Here is a wide range of completely real people brought vividly to life in just a sentence or two.

★ ★ ★

"The Instrument" is a novel in which the parts are better than the whole, but even flawed it is far superior to much current fiction.

ART AND CIVILIZATION. By Bernard Myers. McGraw-Hill. Bernard Myers. McGraw-Hill. $16.85.

This formidable and sumptuous book surveys five millenia and more of global art, does it readably and authoritatively and leaves the reader with a good working concept of the creative side of man.

The scope is too large to allow Dr. Myers much chance for a close examination of individual works, artists, or even movements, and invariably what is gained in breadth is sacrificed in depth. Some chapters seem downright thin—for example, those on Chinese and Japanese art.

This is a new, enlarged edition of a work published a decade ago. Numerous black and white illustrations and excellent color plates supplement the text.

Bandit Picks Wrong Bank

BOSTON (AP) — The man walked into the south even end branch of the Charlestown Savings Bank Tuesday and handed teller Lawrence Goldman a note demanding all his money.

Goldman, after conferring briefly with another teller, wrote a note in reply and handed it to the man.

"You're in the wrong bank," the note said, "You'll have to go to somewhere else."

To make their dens cozy for winter, grizzly bears dig them into slopes and line the burrows with evergreen boughs for warmth.

Weaknesses Develop

Stock Market Rally Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's 1968 rally continued early this afternoon despite more weakness among airline and gold mining issues. Trading was active.

Airlines took further losses in reaction to President Johnson's proposals to curb U.S. tourism in Europe while the gold mining stocks reacted again to Johnson's tough program aimed at defending the dollar in foreign exchange.

★ ★ ★

Gains still outnumbered losses by a ratio of about 6 to 5—not much, but the gainers included some of the heavier weight blue chips.

The result was that the Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.85 at 908.69.

The pace of trading was somewhat heavier than it was on Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 at 325.1 with industrials up 1.4, rails up .5 and utilities up .4.

In view of the threatened curbs on American travel

Prices moved generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Pancoastal Petroleum was the volume pacemaker as it gained a fraction. Up about a point were Sterling Precision and Victoreen Instrument.

He's Willing, Not Anxious

Rudy Vallee for Mayor of LA?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Rudy Vallee for mayor of Los Angeles? Why not? Remember what happened with George Murphy and Ronald Reagan.

But the veteran crooner isn't going after a campaign to unseat Sam Yorty, Los Angeles' ubiquitous mayor. "It would have to be a real draft," says Vallee. "If enough people want me to run, I will. But I'm not going around kissing babies and all that sort of rot."

THOMAS

Politics would be a brand new pursuit for the 66-year-old Vallee, whose career has covered all the show-biz bases. He was the first of the great pop singers, a screen idol, radio star, record personality, film character actor, television performer and Broadway star ("How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying").

He also ranks with Casey Stengel as one of the great nonstop talkers, which should stand him in good stead if he decides on a political career. Sometimes it's best to just stand back and let him continue speaking. Like this:

"I first started thinking about running for mayor back in '59 and '60. I was appalled at what (the then mayor) Norrie Poulson did to Khrushchev. Even though the man was a Communist, there was no excuse for being rude to a visiting dignitary. Norrie is a fraternity brother of mine, and I met him at a few affairs. One day I ran into him in the Houston airport and I told him I was thinking of running.

THINKING SERIOUSLY

"You know what he said? He just grinned and said, 'Rudy, you'd make a helluva mayor,' and he went running off. That annoyed me, and I started thinking more seriously about entering the race. Then one day I had breakfast with one of the kingmakers of this town. He told me, 'Rudy, you wouldn't be able to take it, all the in-fighting and the dirty work that goes on in politics.' That discouraged me. . .

★ ★ ★

"I'd enjoy being mayor, and I think I could do a good job. There are several things I would like to accomplish, and I agree with Yorty that something should be done about the property tax. I don't think a man like myself, with no children, should be required to pay the same school tax as a man who is the father of nine. It simply isn't fair. . .

QUALIFIED SHOULD RUN

"What's wrong with actors going into politics? If a man has any intelligence, common sense and honesty, he should be qualified for public office, even though he is an actor. Oh, I'll admit there are a lot of actors who don't have enough sense to come in out of the rain. Many of them are unfit for any office outside of dogcatcher.

★ ★ ★

"But being an actor shouldn't disqualify you. Ronnie Reagan had every qualification for being governor of California. He has good common sense and did a fine job as president of the Screen Actors Guild. George Murphy hasn't exactly set off any fireworks in the Senate, but he's a nice person and hard worker. Well, it's hard for me to judge him because he was a classmate of mine at Yale.

"Shirley Temple? I don't know about her. Compared to our woman from Maine (Sen. Margaret Chase Smith) she might not come off too well. But then, Shirley is more feminine, and I'm not so sure the feminine women are suited for politics. They have peculiar minds, women do, and I don't think they have the savvy for politics."

Big Voter Okay

FORT Gibson, Okla. (AP) — Voters living in a 13-foot strip which starts at the western edge of the Fort Gibson School District voted overwhelmingly Tuesday to annex the strip to the Braggs School District. The vote was 3-0. Five persons were eligible to vote in the election.

Zoologists Try to Save Species

Breeding Plan Eyed for Scarce Animals

LONDON (UPI) — For a species which has been around for tens of millions of years, the giant Galapagos tortoise has never really been comfortable doing what comes naturally to the birds and bees and practically every other living thing, including man.

The old adage that nature knows best doesn't seem to apply here. For one thing, mating is a pretty awkward business what with those huge six-foot walnut-shaped shells and the necessity of finding exactly the right texture of soil. For another the tortoise does not appear to have had the sex drive of other amphibians.

The reason why has been suggested in a study by zoologists the world over of the mating habits of animals. It is hoped the study will lead to saving them from extinction. The idea is to keep breeding stock in zoos so other zoos can obtain specimens if the beasts are exterminated in the wild.

In the case of the Galapagos tortoise, it seems nature hasn't really bothered to arrange easier or more frequent reproduction because the great longevity (possibly 150 or more more years) has meant that the species could maintain itself if couples had offspring every decade instead of every year.

★ ★ ★

This might also explain the highly wasteful egg-laying procedure. One female observed by the San Diego zoo cracked most of her eggs by dropping them on the hard shells of other eggs. Then she spread sand over the clutch and stamped it down with such heavy blows of her hind feet that she cracked some more.

EGGS SLOW TO HATCH

The eggs take their time hatching — anything from six to eight months.

Nature could afford to be profligate with a species which once had few natural enemies. Then man appeared. In the days of sail, sailors are estimated to have eaten 10 million of the tortoises for fresh meat to stave off scurvy. They generally took the smaller females, thus upsetting the breeding pattern.

Richard Fitter, secretary of the Fauna Preservation Society of London, says zoologists are worried about all the animals, birds and reptiles man is hunting or eating out of existence. But they are equally concerned about species threatened by the loss of their habitat as game preserves shrink and man civilizes wild country.

★ ★ ★

Some species already exist only in captivity — Pere David's deer in England, the European bison in England and Poland, the Chillingham white cattle which descend from prehistoric stock in England, the Przewalski wild horse in Russia.

LA Police Chief Asks DA Probe of Singer's Injury

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Police Chief Thomas Reddin says he doesn't think policemen were criminally liable in dealing with the injured singer Jimmie Rodgers, but he has asked the district attorney to investigate.

A hospital spokesman said Rodgers is in good condition after two brain operations to treat a skull fracture.

★ ★ ★

Redding said Tuesday his department's internal affairs division found no wrongdoing on the part of three officers who were with the singer when he was injured. But Reddin said he wants an investigation by officials outside the police department.

★ ★ ★

Rodgers, 32, suffered the fracture Dec. 1 after an off-duty policeman directed his car off a freeway in suburban Granada Hills. He and two other officers said Rodgers fell after climbing out of his car. Rodgers says he doesn't remember how he was hurt.

Overdue Books Back Home After Library Amnesty

CHICAGO (AP) — Thousands of delinquent books were back home today, including one missing for 33 years.

Tuesday was the Chicago Public Library system's first amnesty day, when conscience-stricken book borrowers could turn over a new leaf and return an overdue volume without having to pay the usual 2-cent-a-day fine.

★ ★ ★

And the books were returned —in shoe boxes, attache cases, shopping bags and packing crates—to the 62 branch libraries.

A copy of William Makepeace Thackeray's "Vanity Fair," checked out in 1934, was brought home by a relative of its deceased borrower. The volume was brown with age but still in lending condition.

A Look at TV

13 Specials in Top 30

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —The remarkable strength of special television programming against regular series is evident in the latest national ratings.

The rankings for the two weeks ending Dec. 17 indicate that no less than 13 special broadcasts placed among the top 30 shows.

Even old specials did very well in the competition with the usual weekly fare. A rerun of the Christmas cartoon using the characters of the "Peanuts" comic strip was far and away the No. 1 show.

Right behind it, in the second position, was a rerun of another children's cartoon, "How the Grinch Stole Christmas." And yet another animated program for youngsters, an hour on NBC-TV, placed ninth even though it was a repeat.

★ ★ ★

The third-rated show was also a special, an Andy Williams hour. And Bob Hope, in the same program category, finished eighth.

BIRD SPECIAL

CBS-TV's most recent National Geographic special, "Winged World," about birds, had come in a powerful 10th in the weekly ratings. And it held up well in the two-week rankings too, placing 15th, in a tie with a situation comedy.

Only one new regular series finished in the top 30—CBS-TV's children's show about a boy and his bear, "Gentle Ben." It came in 26th, also in a tie.

In addition, ABC-TV's troubled position in the ratings race was pointed up by the fact that the network placed only two shows in the top 30: Lawrence Welk and "Bewitched." Welk came in 23rd and "Bewitched" 26th.

★ ★ ★

The top 10 regular series were "Bonanza," the Red Skelton Hour, the Ed Sullivan Show, Dean Martin's variety program, "Lassie," "Lucy," the Andy Griffith situation comedy, "Gunsmoke," "Gomer Pyle" and "Family Affair."

Man First in Line to File Tax Form

PITTSBURGH (AP) — For the ninth time in 10 years, Frank Finley was first in line Tuesday to file his 1967 income tax form. He showed up 45 minutes before the Internal Revenue Service office opened.

Finley, a retired secretary and business manager for a suburban school district, was beaten in 1966 by a former IRS district director.

'King of Jazz' Is Eulogized

NEW YORK (AP) — "Jazz was music that was played in the shadows. It was more at home in the honky-tonks. Its rhythm beat against the walls of dimly lit cellars until it was rescued by Paul Whiteman. He was the pioneer who pointed the way. He was the giant of the jazz era."

So was Whiteman eulogized Tuesday by Stanley Adams, president of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, at a funeral service that evoked strong memories of the big band era.

★ ★ ★

Whiteman, 77, the "King of Jazz" but known affectionately to his sidemen simply as Pops, died Dec. 29 at Doylestown, Pa., of a heart attack.

Among the 250 mourners in an upper East Side funeral chapel were band leaders George Olsen, Guy Lombardo and Xavier Cugat. Fred Waring Jr. represented his father.

COMPOSERS PRESENT

Rudolf Friml, composer of "Rose Marie" and "The Vagabond King," were present as were Bud Green "Sentimental Journey," Noble Sissle and Eubie Blake "I'm Just Wild About Harry") and Lou Alter ("Manhattan Serenade").

In his eulogy Adams read the roll of noted singers and musicians who had been sponsored by Whiteman and concluded with "our acknowledgment of deepest gratitude to Paul, who, in effect, raised popular music from the basement to the penthouse."

★ ★ ★

Pianist Leonid Hambro set the mood for many of the mourners when he played the theme from George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" before the start of the service. Whiteman commissioned the jazz work for a concert in 1924.

Burial is today in Trenton, N.J.

More than a thousand physicians have enrolled in bank credit card systems in the West and Midwest.

Hughes Likely to Gamble on Another Las Vegas Hotel

By EARL WILSON

Howard Hughes is reportedly interested in yet another Las Vegas hotel—the Stardust—but his aides deny it . . . Is Ken Greengrass, who managed Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme until recently, talking to att'y Louis Nizer about it? . . . Michele Lee, who opened at the Persian Rm., is bright and bouncy, and a belter. She introduced her husband James Farentino as "my favorite actor," and added, with a bow to ringsider David ("The Fugitive") Janssen: "Sorry about that, David."

WILSON

Art Carney's son Brian is debutive here as a cafe singer . . . Secret Stuff: The star of a current show tells friends, "Don't bother coming—it's the worst thing on Broadway" . . . Singer Marilyn Michaels, ailing, missed her Latin ¼ opening . . . The late Nat Cole's dtr. Caroline got the divorce, after three months of marriage . . . Elaine Stritch's minidress (at Daly's Dandelion twinkled with tiny lights; she had the battery hidden in her bra . . . Sam Levinson's book, "Everything But Money," will be a Broadway show; it sold 300,000 copies.

Secret Stuff: The producer of a major attraction told his famous (but often tardy) star: Be prompt—or be gone! . . . Rocky Roberts, the Negro from Newport News who is about the best-known rhythm & blues singer in Europe, has a new record, "Too Much," picked as a Best Bet by Cashbox, which is increasing his fame in his homeland.

★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: We hear that Mayor Lindsay's already made a resolution for '68 to—forget '67.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Bobby Darin suspects his home town bank is in trouble. They ordered only one calendar and gave each depositor one month.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The truly happy marriage is one in which a woman gives the best years of her life to the man who made them the best."

EARL'S PEARLS: Tony Delia has one complaint about educational TV: "If you fail a subject, the teacher makes you stay after the Late Show."

If the postage rates get much higher, pretty soon it's gonna be cheaper to go yourself. That's earl, brother.

LBJ Signs Keystone Bills

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP)—President Johnson has signed into law bills greatly expanding Social Security benefits and federal aid to education—keystones to his Great Society legislative program.

He hailed the passage of the measures as triumphs for the nation's poor. But he had nothing at all to say as he signed a third measure—the $2.29-billion foreign aid bill—which imposes the sharpest dollar limit on total U.S. aid to other nations since the program began 20 years ago.

Johnson said the expansion of Social Security benefits is the "greatest step forward" since the system was initiated during the Roosevelt administration in 1935.

The next phase, he said, calls for close scrutiny of America's welfare system which he branded "outmoded and in need of major change."

He appointed a 19-member commission to "examine any and every plan, however unconventional, which could promise a constructive advance in meeting the income needs of the American people."

The President named Ben W. Heineman, 53, chairman and chief executive officer of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Co., to head the commission.

The education bill provides a record $9.3 billion for elementary and secondary schools. The Social Security bill increases benefits by at least 13 per cent for 24 million persons.

Social Security checks going out in March will reflect the new increased benefits. Minimum monthly payments rise from $44 to $55. The maximum will be $160.50, compared to the present $142. The average monthly check for husband and wife over 65 increases from $145 to $165.

"One million more people will be lifted above the poverty line," Johnson said; and 65,000 disabled widows and 175,000 children will receive benefits for the first time.

MEDICARE

Medicare benefits are expanded to include additional days of hospitalization. Outside earnings of $140 instead of $125 a month are permitted with no reduction in benefits.

There will be additional taxes, though, for worker and employer, amounting to as much as $52.80 in 1968 on earnings of $7,800 or more.

The new law keeps the tax rate at 4.4 per cent in 1968, but the amount of salary on which the tax is levied goes up from $6,600 to $7,800. Eventually, the tax rate will rise to 5.9 per cent by 1987.

★ ★ ★

The education bill continues until the middle of 1970 a program of aid to elementary and secondary schools, giving states more say in how the money is used.

BENEFITS OF LAW

This new law, he said, brings special educational and health services to nine million of our poorest children, sparks a new effort to prevent dropouts, includes programs for handicapped children, help for rural schools and sets up bilingual education programs for children whose first language is not English.

"Thousands of children of Latin descent, young Indians and others will get a better start—a better chance—in school," said Johnson, a former teacher of Mexican-American youngsters. He said the new law begins a campaign to unlock the full potential of every boy and girl.

While getting much of what he wanted in these two major measures, Johnson got a setback on foreign aid monies.

He had asked $3.25 billion for the 12-month period ending next June 30.

Besides the cut in amount, the bill also included restriction on use of U. S. aid funds by under-developed countries for the acquisition of modern weapons.

★ ★ ★

Johnson commented on the record of the 90th Congress, saying it was not as productive as he urged it to be and left an agenda of unfinished business.

Cuts in City Services Are Due by Monday

By BOB WISLER

Cuts in city services ordered by the Pontiac City Commission two weeks ago will take place no later than Monday unless the Oakland County Circuit Court rules out an income tax election, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said last night.

This includes a $35,000 subsidy for bus service in the city.

A hearing is scheduled tomorrow morning before Judge William J. Beer to argue the merits of petitions requesting a referendum election on the income tax ordered in October by the City Commission.

However, the hearing requested by the city's director of law, Sherwin M. Birnkrant, could be delayed.

★ ★ ★

Robert D. Coon, a Pontiac attorney, said this morning that he would file today with Circuit Court a petition requesting that he intervene in a suit brought against the city.

RESTRAINING ORDER

The suit, started by a Pontiac fireman and a policeman, asks for a permanent restraining order preventing the City Commission from setting a referendum election on the income tax question.

Related Stories, Page B-7

Judge Beer last week issued a temporary restraining order until a hearing could be held.

The suit names the City Commission as defendants because the election machinery of the city is controlled by the commission.

★ ★ ★

Petitions requesting the election were circulated by a group organized by Cecil C. Mullinix of 571 Lowell. Coon said he was acting on behalf of Mullinix and the petition circulators.

CITY'S POSITION

The city finds itself in the position of being charged with defending the validity of the petitions. But, the city officials would like nothing better than for the petitions to be declared invalid.

Intervention by Coon as an interested party would allow him to defend the validity of the petitions instead of the city.

Once Coon's request is filed it would be up to Judge Beer to determine whether he would allow Coon to intervene as an interested party.

★ ★ ★

A hearing would probably have to be held on this matter and thus delay the hearing on whether the petitions are indeed valid.

PETITION VALIDITY

Some 1,900 signatures were turned in three weeks ago to the city clerk's office, but, the suit brought against the city charges that the petitions containing the signatures were not properly drawn up.

Winston L. Livingstone, a Detroit attorney, representing the plaintiffs, charged that:

- — The petitions don't contain endorsements of the names and addresses of three persons filing them, in violation of the city charter, and,
- — The petitions do not contain certification by the circulator that "he is qualified to circulate this petition . . . and that each signature on the petition was signed in his presence, "in violation of the Michigan Election Law.

Waterford Fire Fighters Call for Mediator in Wage Talks

The Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters Association, Local 1335, has requested a mediator from the Michigan Labor Mediation Board to assist in the unit's current negotiations with the Township Board toward a 1968 contract for firemen.

★ ★ ★

"We have reached an impasse with the board," said Lt. Donald D. Sommerville, president of the association which represents all 21 township firemen with the exception of the chief and assistant chief.

The crux of the issue is that township policemen were offered $200 more in wage increases this year than firemen, who were to receive a $600 across-the-board boost.

"The board has created disparity between the police and fire departments," said Sommerville. "That's what we're fighting.

★ ★ ★

"Up to this time," said Somerville, "we have always had parity between the two departments.

HARMONIOUS RELATIONSHIP

"We have, in my opinion, maintained a harmonious relationship with the police department and would hope to continue this relationship," he said.

★ ★ ★

Because of the impasse in negotiations which began in September, professional firemen presently will no longer double as volunteer fire fighters.

★ ★ ★

"We (full-time paid firemen) will refrain from making fire runs on our off-duty time," said Somerville. "So we are no longer providing this free service and will be shorthanded," he emphasized.

Won't Oppose 'Hot Pursuit' by U.S.--Sihanouk

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk today issued a statement giving American tropps freedom to chase Communists fleeing Vietnam into Camboidia's border jungles.

The chief of state, in the statement containing remarks made in a provincial speech Sunday, said he would not send his 35,000-man army against U. S. troops engaged in such "hot pursuit."

Sihanouk lashed "some Cambodian and foreign" critics of his decision to allow the Americans freedom of border action.

Sihanouk said his refusal to oppose any such American "hot pursuit" was in no way an invitation for border crossing by U. S. forces in neighboring South Vietnam.

The Cambodian leader said he would use his troops against the Americans if U. S. forces seize Cambodian territory and refuse to surrender it.

In Bangkok, diplomats reported Sihanouk, in Cambodian broadscasts monitored there, said:

- President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk stopped an alleged CIA-Pentagon plot to kill him and triggerer a coup in this neutral Southeast Asian nation.
- He thus is now willing to meet an envoy from Washington. Sihanouk broke diplomatic relations with the United States in May 1965.
- The United States accepted a Sihanouk proposal to beef up the Internation Control Commission (ICC), set up the 1954 Geneva conference on Indo china to monitor Southeast Asian border.
- The Soviet Union and Poland are opposed to strengthening the ICC. The Soviet Union is cochairman of the Geneva agreement and Poland is the Communist member of the ICC.
- He will oppose the sending of students from Cambodia to the Soviet Union and Communist East Germany. He also charged Cambodian students in the United States are being used to teach "CIA spy classes."

The girl was born after a routine delivery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Brooks drove his wife to the hospital the day before.

Brooks, 24, is a technician in the noise and vibration laboratory at General Motors Proving Grounds in Milford. His wife, also 24, worked at Community National Bank.

★ ★ ★

Traditionally, the first baby born in the new year in this area receives numerous gifts from area merchants.

★ ★ ★

For the parents are such gifts as dinners for two, gift certificates, a tire, a car wash and polish, slippers for mother, a ham, dry cleaning certificates and flowers.

DR. ROBERT E. WALDEN

Mental Health Leader Resigns

By ED BLUNDEN

One of the leading figures in Oakland County's mental health program has resigned.

Dr. Robert E. Walden, 47, director of the program for the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board, was one of the highest paid county employes at $30,000 annually. He was the center of a controversy for the last few months.

Criticism was leveled at Dr. Walden by employes of Oakland Training Institute in Berkley where some 40 mentally retarded children are cared for. The dissident group claimed lack of leadership for their program, among other things.

Twelve of a staff of 14 had turned in resignations which would have been effective today.

However, on Dec. 23 it was announced a compromise had been reached and 10 of the staff decided to stay. The other two reportedly are leaving for different reasons.

★ ★ ★

The OTI group was given a pay boost and a consultant, Mrs. Rita Charron, was hired to see to their problems.

The OTI operation has had difficulties since it began about two years ago and four directors quit in 16 months.

Dr. Walden was hired to head all the county's mental health programs in June 1965. Oakland was the first county in the state to set up a separate organization of this type under new laws. This fiscal year its budget is $2.2 million.

Dr. Walden came to the county after a nationwide search for a director. He had been superintendent of Lakin State Hospital, Lakin, W. Va.

He received his medical degree from Maharry Medical College, Nashville, Tenn., and took residency in psychiatry from 1957 to 1960 at Brockton and Boston veterans' hospitals in Massachusetts.

UNTANGLE WRECKAGE—Pennsylvania Railroad crews move in to clear the wreckage of 26 freight cars—many of them loaded with chemicals—after long-smoldering fires finally were quenched late yesterday at Dunreith, Ind. The accident occurred New Year's night when two trains sideswiped, setting off a series of explosions in ammonia, gasoline and oil tankers, forcing evacuation of the residents. Officials say the 236 residents of Dunreith will be allowed to return to their homes today when a deadly chemical compound is removed from a tank car left battered but unbroken in the wreckage. Fair Housing Vow Renewed in State

LANSING (AP)—A handful of citizens representing Michigan's most prestigious politcal, church, civic and labor groups renewed a pledge Tuesday to fight for a statewide open housing law.

Republican acting Gov. William G. Milliken, who led an unsuccessful bid for passage of such a law last month, predicted that this time "we will be successful."

★ ★ ★

The leaders met with Milliken for nearly two hours to map open housing strategy to be followed in the regular legislative session, which begins Jan. 10.

The meeting fell on the eve of the return of Gov. George Romney, who had added the controversial issue to the agenda of a special fall session.

Romney, a contender for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, left the lieutenant governor in charge of running the state and coordinating open housing efforts before leaving Dec. 7 on a month-long tour of Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

MAJOR ROLE

With Romney tied up in presidential primary campaigns, Milliken likely will play a major role in spearheading any future open housing move.

The special session bill, which would have outlawed discrimination based on race, color, religion or national origin in most real estate transactions, monopolized headlines last moth, but failed in a 47-55 house vote.

★ ★ ★

"The bill, in my judgment and that of everyone present here today, is not dead," Milliken said. "It's merely waiting to be reactivated."

Attending the meeting were the state Republican and Democratic chairmen and representatives of the Michigan AFL-CIO, United Auto Workers, Michigan and Detroit councils of churches, Michigan Catholic Conference, Jewish Community Council, State Chamber of Commerce and Michigan Association of Police Chiefs.

RIOT COMMITTEE

Also present were members of the New Detroit Committee, named by Romney and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh to seek answers to last July's disastrous Detroit riots.

★ ★ ★

Democratic State Chairman Sander Levin said he and GOP chairman Elly Peterson planned talks within the next two weeks concerning what can be done by both parties to pass the bill.

PRICE-BOOSTING HARNESS—Shoulder harnesses, such as the one demonstrated by model Lynn Ross, became mandatory on all new cars under federal safety regulations. All new automobiles rolling off assembly lines in the U. S. yesterday were equipped with the safety straps. With the harness came a boost in car prices, generally in a range from $23 to $32. City Alters Boat-Trailer Code

BIRMINGHAM — After extensive discussion, the City Commission last night passed an amendment to the city code covering proper storage of house trailers, boats and boat trailers.

Unaffected by the new ordinance will be owners of boats at the time of the amendment's passage, and owners unable to comply with the code because of physical factors such as size of lot or building location.

Under the amendment, trailers and boats may not be stored at the front of a residential zone district, and may not be stored beside a house between the front and back of a district for more than 30 days.

House trailer camps may be established in zoning areas labeled B-2, but consent of 60 per cent of all property owners within 500 feet of the proposed site must be secured first.

Such a camp is the only condition under which fixed utility connections may be made to a house trailer, or under which it may be used for living purposes.

48 HOURS

Trailers, however, may be parked anywhere on a residential zone district for 48 hours for loading or unloading.

The commission also approved the first phase of a program for interim parking provisions during the construction of the Lot 1 structure at Merrill and Pierce.

Flyers placed on windshields will notify parkers for one week prior to the lot's closing, and the 12-hour limit on 25 meters in Lot 7 at Merrill and Henrietta will be lowered to two hours.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the commission set a date of Jan. 22 for confirmation of the assessment roll on delinquent debts from 1967.

Commissioners also expressed concern in the proposed sign ordinance, currently undergoing revision by the administration. Residents and business owners planning to invest in signs were cautioned of the impending change in the city code.

Indiana Town Sees End of Gas Threat

DUNREITH, Ind. (AP) — Officials say the 236 residents of Dunreith will be allowed to return to their homes when a deadly chemical compound is removed from a tank car left battered but unbroken in the wreckage of two freight trains.

Two Pennsylvania trains sideswiped New Year's night, setting off a series of explosions in amonia, gasoline and oil tankers, and forcing evacuation of the residents.

★ ★ ★

Blast-driven flames destroyed a cannery, service station and three homes. Windows were broken in a dozen other homes and businesses.

George Winburn, safety director of Rohan & Haas Chemical Co. of Louisville, Ky., said it would take 8 to 10 hours for the team of experts to transfer the lethal acetone cyanhydrin to a tanker truck. The compound, used in making plexiglass, produces cyanide gas when exposed to air.

MAY FINISH TONIGHT

Officials said the transfer may be complete by tonight. Many townspeople stayed with friends and relatives in other cities, while some were lodged in motels.

★ ★ ★

Winburn said he had hopes the compound had been consumed by flames, removing the danger of lethal fumes. "The worst thing that could have happened did happen," he said after finding the filled tank car unbroken.

★ ★ ★

State police said the same chemical had leaked from another car and seeped into nearby Buck Creek. They said nine head of cattle on the Everett Thompson farm a mile south of Dunreith died after drinking poisoned water.

★ ★ ★

Robert W. Heider of the State Board of Health said samples were being taken from the creek and Big Blue River, which it empties into, to determine how far the poison had spread. He emphasized that neither waterway is used for human consumption.

FLAMES EXTINGUISHED

Firemen extinguished the last of the flaming wreckage Tuesday night, more than 20 hours after the accident. Railroad crews working under flood lights began to clear the wreckage.

A railroad spokesman said an 18-inch piece of track snapped in the sub-freezing cold, causing cars on the 98-car westbound freight to derail into a passing freight about the same length.

Kelley Recommends Anticrime Measures

LANSING (AP)—Higher pay for policemen, two-year grand juries, school courses in law and order and state money for victims of violent crimes were recommended to the Legislature today by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

In a letter to lawmakers, Kelley warned: "It is an indisputable fact that we are faced with a crime crisis."

"We cannot fight crime with rhetoric," Kelley said. "We can fight it with firm and even-handed law enforcement."

Among the attorney general's recommendations were these:

RECOMMENDATIONS

- Boosts of local police salaries by 25 per cent, part of it financed by the state, coupled with higher education and training requirements for policemen.
- Making the job of county prosecutor a full-time job and joining together into single districts small counties where a full-time prosecutor is not needed.
- State-sponsored training programs for new prosecutors and annual seminars for incumbent prosecutors.
- Permitting prosecutors and the attorney general to petition a court for subpoenas or immunity-granting powers in criminal investigations.
- Increasing the maximum life of a one-man grand jury from one to two years while "making some provision for the protection of the anonymity of those called as witnesses before the grand jury."
- Making it a felony for an unauthorized person to lend money at an interest rate higher than 25 per cent per year.
- Money payments to victims of violent crimes, "based upon the principle of giving to the victim of crime or his family at least as much care and attention as we provide to the individual who has been convicted of committing the crime."

Heart Patient 'Doing Well'

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's third heart transplant patient, was "doing very well" today, a hospital spokesman said.

The 58-year-old retired dentist regained consciousness last night and in his first words since the operation said: "I am thirsty. Please give my regards to my wife."

The heart beating inside the white dentist's chest belonged to Clive Haupt, 24, a mulatto, but there was no objection from the chief defender of apartheid-South Africa's policy of racial segregation.

Said Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster: "I am very glad to hear that the operation was successful."

Ground War Flares in Viet

Da Nang One Target of Attacks by Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy Communist forces launched a series of coordinated attacks in the precarious northern provinces of South Vietnam today, including a rocket assault on the Da Nang air base that destroyed three planes and ground attacks in which at least 19 Americans were reported killed.

★ ★ ★

As the ground war flamed up after a New Year's truce which U.S. officers termed "the worst yet," Air Force pilots reported shooting two MIGs from the skies above Hanoi. North Vietnam claimed three U.S. jets were downed.

★ ★ ★

Heavy fighting dotted South Vietnam, but it was in the five northern provinces of the 1st Corps Area that the action was hottest.

These actions were reported:

1. Red gunners fired a number of 122mm rockets into a unit of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division bivouacked in the Que Nhon Valley 25 miles south of Da Nang, then followed with a ground attack. Initial reports said 11 cavalrymen were killed, 70 were wounded and the fight was continuing. There was no report of enemy casualties.

2. Earlier, before dawn, the enemy raked the flight lines at the big Da Nang base with 45 of the big 122mm rockets, destroyed a $2-million Phantom jet and two light spotter planes, badly damaged two other spotter planes and a twin-engine C47 and did minor damage to 20 other aircraft. Four Americans were wounded in the 10-minute barrage and 19 others were injured as the sleepy airmen tumbled into the darkness and dashed for bunkers.

★ ★ ★

Six coordinated hit-and-run assaults raked South Vietnamese outposts within a 15-mile radius of Da Nang. Casualties among the defenders were reported light.

Voter Suspension Cards Sent to 695 in Waterford

Notice of suspension of registration cards were mailed to 695 voters yesterday by employes of the Waterford Township clerk's office.

The 695 electors who were notified have not voted in the past two years as required by state statute to remain on the active registration file.

★ ★ ★

According to township clerk officials, the voters have 30 days to sign the cards and return them to the clerk's office in order to officially be reinstated as registered electors.

If they fail to comply, their names will be withdrawn from the active registration file and they will have to reregister in order to vote in this year's elections in the township.

★ ★ ★

Last January when the law was new, notice of suspension of registration cards were sent to 5,713 township voters.

FOUR-YEAR PERIOD

Prior to the state statute, township electors could keep their registration active by voting once every four years.

Currently, there are 21,936 registered voters living in the township.

★ ★ ★

Anyone with questions pertaining to his voter status is urged to contact the clerk's office.

Social Security Key Provisions Are Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following are the major provisions of the new Social Security bill signed Tuesday by President Johnson:

★ ★ ★

Cash benefits—Present Social Security recipients will receive increases of at least 13 per cent in their February checks due on March 3. Minimum monthly payments will go up 25 per cent, from $44 to $55. The top of the range for individuals will be $160.50, compared to $142 now. The average monthly benefit for a man and wife now on the rolls will be increased from $145 to $165.

★ ★ ★

The maximum future payment for a surviving family will be raised to $434.40, compared with $368 under the old law.

Taxes—A worker now pays Social Security taxes on wages up to $6,600 a year. This will be increased to $7,800 in 1968.

Waterford JCs Set Tree Pickup

The Waterford Township Jaycees announced today that they will hold their annual Christmas tree pickup Saturday and Sunday.

Keith Cadman, project chairman, said public schools in the township will be used as collection stations.

Residents should bring their trees to the parking lot of the nearest school Friday night or Saturday morning.

This year, instead of the customary burning of trees, the Jaycees will transport them by truck to the Holly Recreation Area where they will be used as brush shelter for rabbits.

★ ★ ★

Howard Green, a game biologist for the Michigan Department of Conservation, will direct the construction of the brush shelters, according to Cadman.

U.S.-N. Viet Peace Talk Gap Narrows

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam and the United States apparently have narrowed somewhat their differences over starting peace talks. But U.S. officials see little prospect the talks would be "productive" as required by President Johnson.

This is one of three questions on which the United States is reported seeking clarification from North Vietnam before deciding on its next move in response to a statement made last weekend by North Vietnam's foreign minister, Nguyen Duy Trinh.

★ ★ ★

So far, Trinh's statement is regarded here as being primarily an effort to build up new, worldwide pressures on President Johnson to stop bombing the North without a reciprocal scaling down of military action by North Vietnam.

Officials said, however, that the Trinh statement is being fully explored through diplomatic channels to determine whether it was seriously intended to advance the prospects for talks.

Exam Is Set for City Man in Hit-and-Run

A Pontiac man arrested in connection with the hit-and-run death early Monday of a 17-year-old Highland Township girl faces preliminary examination in Waterford Township Justice Court Feb. 13 on charges of manslaughter and leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

In Oakland County Jail in lieu of $10,000 and $2,500 bonds on the respective charges set at arraignment yesterday is Gary Gillespie, 22, of 350 Third.

He was arrested about 4 p.m. Monday at North Telegraph and Walton by an Oakland County sheriff's deputy while riding in a car answering a description of the hit-run vehicle.

This was about 13 hours after Sherry Ann Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lane E. Knight of 203 S. Center, was killed and her escort, Alan Lengeman, 17, son of Mrs. Janet H. Lengement of 3727 Gulfwood, Milford, was seriously injured by a car which struck them from behind as they walked on the shoulder of Milford Road in Highland Township.

★ ★ ★

Lengeman is reported in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

AUTO STALLED

Deputies said the couple was apparently walking to the Knight home from Lengeman's stalled car when the mishap occurred.

Finance Firm Safe Is Looted

Some $770 in cash was stolen from the safe of a firm in the Pontiac State Bank Building by a burglar who apparently knew the combination, it was reported to city police yesterday.

The manager of the Baxter-Livingstone Finance Co., located on the building's fourth floor, told investigators he found the safe open when he opened the office or the safe.

He said there were no signs of a break-in, either into the office or the safe.

Officers said they later found a fourth-floor fire escape door open and tracked footprints in the snow to a third floor window which was also unlocked.

★ ★ ★

Mental Health Figure Quits County Post

No criticism was leveled in the announced resignation — either by Dr. Walden nor by the mental health services board. Making the announcement was Paul N. Averill of Birmingham, board chairman.

He announced, "Dr. Walden leaves behind a record of important pioneering effort in this county, which in itself has given leadership statewide in establishing Public Act 54 as a valid and forward-moving piece of legislation."

(Act 54 enables separate organizations for mental health purposes in the state. Previously this work had been handled through hospitals and clinics.)

★ ★ ★

Dr. Walden's resignation cited the accomplishments of the programs for the mentally ill and mentally retarded.

He did not announce, however, his reasons for resigning or what his future plans were.

TEMPORARY LEADERS

Two men are to assume temporary leadership of the programs, the board announced. They are Dr. Donal L. White, assistant psychiatric director, and John Madole, administration officer of the board.

Dr. White, 44, was hired in April 1967 at an annual salary of $26,000. He is a University of Michigan graduate and was on the staff of Ford Hospital, Detroit.

Madole was hired in February 1965 at a salary of $13,500 a year after serving as the county envoy in Cali, Colombia, in an Alliance for Progress program.

★ ★ ★

The Mental Health Services Board offers both inpatient and outpatient care in conjunction with several county hospitals. It aids in operation of the three county Child Guidance clinics and operates or aids in operating various training programs for the mentally retarded.

The 12 board members are named by the County Board of Supervisors.

Body of Man Is Found in Wrecked Car

A 37-year-old Highland Township man was found dead in his car yesterday, some 65 feet into a swampy area off M59 in Highland Township.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the body of Theodore R. Stewart of 2919 Summit was found in the car about 2 p.m., shortly after a passing motorist who had noticed tire tracks leading off the road called the sheriff's department.

City Cuts Due by Monday

City commissioners were prepared last week to order a referendum election after City Clerk Olga Barkeley certified that enough valid signatures were turned in to order a referendum election.

The setting of the election would immediately delay collection of an income tax revenue ordered by the income tax ordinance.

In effect, the city wouldn't be able to collect income tax money until voters would approve the ordinance. And then, collection would be delayed until July.

★ ★ ★

With this in mind the commission ordered a number of cuts in services and the layoff of some 42 city employes.

SWIFT DECISION

While the income tax question is still up in the air the commission indicated last night that only a swift decision on the petitions would delay the cuts.

If the petitions are declared by the court to be invalid, the cuts won't go into effect and the city will take immediate steps to collect income tax revenue.

If, however, the court delays past Friday in reaching a decision or finds the petitions valid, the cuts will take effect no later than Monday.

Mayor Taylor said some $542,000 worth of services must be cut immediately to balance the 1968 general operating budget. This budget figures on no new income tax money.

NEW BUDGET

If the income tax goes through the city will draw up a new budget.

In addition to the bus subsidy, service cuts include shutting down the city's department of health and youth assistance, closing two library branches and the Hayes Jones Community Center and stopping a rent subsidy for the Office of Economic Opportunity's Action Center at 7 W. Lawrence.

Also planned are elimination of two fire companies (12 men) and closing of two fire stations, a reduction of overtime for employes of the Department of Public Works and in recreation programs and shutting off some street lights.

Spring Parking Ban Due on Part of Huron Street

As part of a long-range improvement of M59, parking will be banned this spring on Huron from West Wide Track to Perry.

Joseph Koren, traffic engineer for the city, said today the elimination of parking will allow for five traffic lanes.

He said the city will remove the meters now on the streets and the State Highway Department will paint new traffic lanes and install traffic control signs "as soon as the weather breaks."

He estimated the work would be done about the middle of March.

Koren said the street is wide enough for five traffic lanes — two in each direction with one lane for left turns — without widening of the street.

The state highway department and city agreed to changes in the street usage after meetings late last year.

★ ★ ★

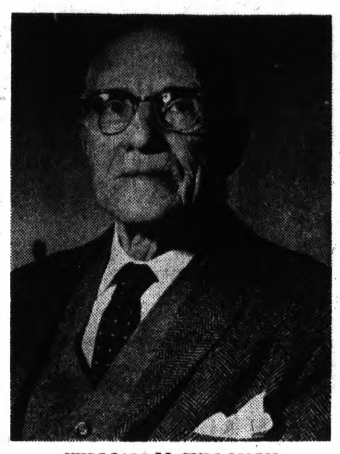
Officials are hopeful that the changes will tend to eliminate the congestion which occurs on Huron during the rush hours, especially between Saginaw and West Wide Track.

Avon Cityhood Issue Stirs Heated Battles

ROY REWOLD
Rochester Mayor



WILLIAM McCULLOUGH
Avon Trustee

AVON TOWNSHIP — The verbal battle over the election Jan. 15 to incorporate all of Avon Township outside the City of Rochester is heating up here.

Both city and township government officials have released statements citing opposing views.

Mayor Roy Rewold of Rochester today related findings of the Rochester Jaycees seminar series and the Rochester Area League of Women Voters which have urged a single unit of government for the combined area.

"I would urge a 'no' vote," said the mayor. "My reasoning for this is that some of the proponents of a favorable vote say that we could consolidate the two cities at a later date.

Mayor Rewold said that checking the possibility of two cities consolidating showed that it has never happened in state history.

"I will do all I can as a lifetime resident of the Rochester area and as mayor of the City of Rochester to encourage the annexation of the Avon area to the City of Rochester."

Rewold's statement followed an earlier one put out by Township Trustee William McCullough wherein the recently proposed development of the $25-million Fried-Jacobson property at Walton and Livernois and the projected R. P. Scherer Corp. pharmaceutical plant on former Parke-Davis property were cited.

Said McCullough:

● "Avon Township has an area of 34.4 square miles compared to Rochester's 1.6 square miles.

● "Avon Township has a population of approximately 20,000 as compared to the City of Rochester's approximately 6,000.

● "The growth potential of the township exceeds that of Rochester.

● "Unless Avon Township incorporates and adopts a charter of its own choosing, it could, because of annexation, be forced to a charter and form of government about which it has no choice.

"How sentimental can the taxpayers of our township afford to be?" McCullough asked.

PROTECT INTEREST

"They can best protect their interest in their property by voting 'yes' on the incorporation proposal.

"Once we have protected our bargaining position by incorporation, we then can consider the advisability of eventual merger with the City of Rochester, because we then can go to the bargaining table as equals and not as country cousins."

JCs Feel Avon Annexation to Rochester Is Best Answer

ROCHESTER — The Jaycees, an active group of community-minded young men in the Rochester-Avon area, has come out in favor of annexation as the route toward unification of governments here.

An incorporation vote for Avon Township excluding Rochester is due Jan. 15.

Following "an extensive study of the existing atmosphere of local governments," the group has adopted a four-point statement of conclusions which includes:

● They agree with the objectives of simplification by avoiding duplication of governmental efforts and the prevention of fragmentation of the total Rochester-Avon area.

● They believe that if the Jan. 15 election passes, in all likelihood the result would be the formation of two separate city, excluding the City of Rochester, to be fragmentation of the community.

● They believe that annexation of the entire Avon Township to the City of Rochester, as requested in the annexation petitions now on file in Oakland County is the most logical route toward unification.

● Whichever course the voters of the community choose, the Jaycees are pledged to study and work toward unification as long as it remains a possibility.

★ ★ ★

The statement of the Jaycees followed a similar one by the Rochester League of Women Voters and another by Mayor Roy Rewold of Rochester.

Statements favoring the incorporation vote Jan. 15 have so far been issued by Harold Pepper, chairman of the Avon Township Study Committee, and by Township Trustees William McCullough and Philip Trimble.

Troy Delays Setting Tax Vote

TROY — The City Commission last night tabled for the second time determination of the date for a half-mill tax election.

The proposed increase, to be used for construction of a city library, is still tentatively scheduled for Feb. 19, provided a city primary election is held the same day.

If no primary takes place, the millage election may be rescheduled to coincide with the regular city election in April.

The motion to table came because the Troy Board of Education, also meeting last night, was considering a new school millage election Feb. 19.

★ ★ ★

Friends of the Troy Library, a citizens' group backing the half-mill hike, have urged that the two millage votes be set on different dates.

BUILDING CODE AMENDMENT

In other business, the commission approved a proposed amendment to the city's recently adopted building code, dealing with swimming pool safety regulations.

Instead of an "adequate enclosure" as is specified in the present code, any pool containing over 12 inches in depth of water at any point must now have a chain link, frame or masonry enclosure at least four feet high.

Gates in the enclosure must have self-locking latches four feet high or otherwise inaccessible to small children from the outside.

★ ★ ★

The commission also voted 4-2 to deny a request from the Boron Oil Co. to rezone Lots 1-7 in John R. Gardens Subdivision from B-1 to B-3 to permit the installation of a service station.

CONSIDERABLE DEBATE

Since the intersection involved, John R. and Maple, has three service stations, which were constructed before the area was rezoned from B-3 to B-1 (forbidding service stations), the request brought considerable debate.

Commissioner John Kokalis, who cast a dissenting vote along with Commissioner Wallace B. Hudson expressed his feeling that the corner is "bound to go commercial" and said he hoped the planning commission would study possible uses for such areas, adding, "I question whether there is any other use for that corner."

In other buiness, the commission approved the special-assessed construction of a 12-inch water main on Square Lake Road from Coolidge to Glen-Moor Subdivision to provide an emergency supply for the well servicing that area.

★ ★ ★

Also approved was the appointment of Joe Howey as a part-time city librarian on City Manager Paul York's recommendation.

Howey studying for a master's degree in library science at the University of Michigan, will work part-time for the city until his graduation in April.

Man Is Charged With Try to Kill 2 Brothers

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Police here have charged a 28-year-old man with attempted murder of two brothers at a New Year's Eve party at 6551 Drake.

The two warrants were issued yesterday by Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

Charged is Fred Parkkila, 28, of the Walled Lake area who is being sought by police.

The two brothers injured are Randall and Thomas Ryan, both of 21355 Farmington, Farmington.

Randall, 19, who suffered stab wounds in the back and a collapsed lung, is in satisfactory condition at Botsford Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Thomas, 21, who earlier had been treated and released for stab wounds in the back and back of his head, is now in Selfridge Hospital in satisfactory condition.

'ATTACKED BY 7 MEN'

The Ryan brothers, home on leave from the Army, were attacked by seven men in the parking lot after they arrived at the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Barr, police said.

A third stabbing victim has been identified by witnesses as Jack Watson, age and address unknown, according to police.

Also injured during the melee at about 3:30 a.m. New Year's Day was Charles Parkkila, 25, of 6782 Drake, a cousin of Fred Parkkila.

★ ★ ★

Another man, still unidentified, was reportedly beaten, said police.

When two township policemen arrived at the party scene near 3:30 a.m. Monday, there was evidence of a large fight both inside and outside the home, said patrolman Richard Lamphier.

Fire Local Head Asks Vote

Union Certification Sought

WEST BLOOMIFELD TOWNSHIP — The president of the newly formed firemen's union here has applied for an election which may certify Local 1721 of the West Bloomfield Township Firefighters Association of the International Association of Firefighters.

The request for approval to hold the election was made after the Township Board refused to recognize Local 1721.

The board wants to assure that the local does represent the majority of the nine full-time firemen and about 30 or 40 volunteers, explained Township Supervisor John Doherty.

The supervisor added that the board has always bargained with a lawyer who said he was representing the firemen.

★ ★ ★

Local 1721 president Donald Nelson made the election request to the Michigan Labor Mediation Board in Detroit.

STATION 'CLOSED' AGAIN

Nelson reported that the Green Lake station was "closed" again Friday from 6:30 to 7 a.m. Saturday. He said earlier that the same station was also "closed" the Saturday before Christmas.

The station was closed both times because of a lack of manpower, Nelson explained.

According to Assistant Fire Chief Mel Jorits the Station was not officially closed although no man was in attendance in the building.

★ ★ ★

The station was in operation because a volunteer next door was taking fire calls on his monitor and telephone said Jorits.

NOT ALL DOORS LOCKED

Not all the doors of the station were locked, added Jorits who made the decision not to have a man on duty at the station.

Supervisor Doherty reported that for a 10-year period several years ago, the station didn't have a man on duty in the building all the time but a man answered calls from his home.

Jorits explained that men weren't at the Green Lake station because of a wage dispute and not because of a manpower shortage.

★ ★ ★

He said the firemen believed they should be paid more than regular wages when they work on their off days.

The fire department is under the ultimate authority of the township Fire Committee composed of trustees Walter J .Whitmer and John F. Warren.

Independence Rejects COG

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — A vote against seeking membership in the Southeast Council of Governments was unanimous here last night.

The Township Board qualified its motion, however, with a phrase, "at this time." Clerk Howard Altman said, "I know they would never vote to join without considerable study of the issue.'

In other business, the board amended its zoning map in four instances to conform with surrounding property classifications.

Areas returned to a residential classification were a small grocery store on Sashabaw Road near Whipple Lake — to be kept as a nonconforming usage; an old synagogue in Woodhall Lake subdivision; and a home adjacent to some industrial zoning at the Clement and White Lake intersection.

★ ★ ★

By action of the board, most of Section 18 in the Reese-Holcomb Roads area was left in an agricultural category. Suburban farms and residential had been proposed for part of the land.

East Lansing Saga: Tale of 'Goldilocks and the 4 Students'

EAST LANSING (AP) — East Lansing's very own "Goldilocks" has red hair and green eyes and goes for bourbon instead of porridge.

Four Michigan State University students returned to their East Lansing apartment after a long holiday break and discovered someone apparently had been living there while they were gone.

Douglas Bailey, 21, of Walled Lake told police someone had been eating their food and sleeping in their beds.

And, he said, the someone had taken 500 pennies, three pints of bourbon, sweaters, towels, a clock, a pen, about 40 record albums, a check for $6 and a key to the apartment.

Police said neighbors reported hearing music during the students' absence and seeing a girl with green eyes and red hair.

School Board Puts Tax Hike on the Feb. 19 Ballot in Troy

TROY — The board of education last night approved the placing of a 7-mill tax increase on the ballot Feb. 19.

The proposed boost, to remain in effect for two years, would bring in approximately $750,000 each year to brighten the district's dim financial picture.

The new millage attempt comes on the heels of two others, on June 12 and Sept. 11, both of which failed. As a result, the district will incur a deficit of $600,000 by the end of the fiscal year, despite cutbacks in many areas, according to Supt. Rex B. Smith.

The board also approved an effort to seek a $410,000 loan to handle current expenses. "We need more money to see us through till March," Smith said. "As things are now, we're going to run out of funds around Jan. 30."

The district cannot use present income to apply to expenses, Smith added, because of two loans received last year. One loan, he said, was against incoming taxes and the other against state aid.

"By March 2," he continued, "enough taxes will have come in to pay off the first loan, and we will have money to handle current expenses."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasure Department said today it has transferred another $450 million in gold from the nation's money stocks to help cover the recent rash of speculative gold buying in Europe.

Avon Planners Eye $25-Million Project

AVON TOWNSHIP — A $25-million commercial - office - residential development for the southeast corner of Walton and Livernois is currently under consideration by the township planning commission.

The commission, due to meet in study session tonight, expects no formal action as yet, though it has received a letter from Vilican-Leman planning consultants of Southfield, which reports on the proposed project as follows:

"We look for the new developments (in the Walton-Livernois area) to emerge as the major commercial center serving the region and for the (Rochester) downtown area to assume the role of a marginal or fringe shopping area."

Proposed by Martin and Paul Fried of Claridge Properties, Detroit, the development would feature a pedestrian shopping bridge between the projected Jacobson Stores development on the northeast corner of the intersection across Walton to the proposed new development.

The developers told the Avon Planning Commission they would like to start work immedately once zoning problems were solved for the multiuse development.

HIGH-RISE APARTMENTS

No major zoning ordinance change, with the possible exception of high-rise apartment usage in the future, is foreseen by the planning consultants.

Individual parcels of the 19-acre area would, however, have to be zoned to usage, according to township officials to permit the stores, the medical office building and the apartments now planned.

Vilican-Leman Visualizes the new development changing the character along Walton from the multiple housing, now planned, to commercial and office related to the new center.

★ ★ ★

The proposed development area lies now between the Rochester Senior High School and Crittenton Hospital.

New Device Offers Hope in Air Turbulence Detection

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Clear air turbulence (CAT) is a mystery that meteorologists would love to solve. The sudden, violent phenomenon can tear a jetliner apart without warning.

One of the most promising ways of detecting CAT pockets assumes that they are accompanied by a sharp change in temperature, which can be detected either by infrared or microwave detectors.

A CAT detector patented last week senses temperature far ahead and to the side of the aircraft by measuring microwave radiation put out by oxygen molecules, the intensity of which depends on temperature.

The remote temperature is compared with the temperature at the aircraft itself, and when a sharp change is noted, an electronic circuit tells the pilot which way to turn to avoid the disturbance.

The patent was assigned to Sperry Gyroscope Co. by the inventors, Benjamin R. Fow, Richard F. Hazel and Wayne D. Mount. A Sperry spokesman says the remote temperature radiometer is being engineered by the company for use also in air pollution studies, but the whole CAT assembly hasn't been flown yet.

One difficulty with the temperature sensors is that the instrument has to be kept level. Temperature changes due to different altitudes, which would be picked up if the plane tips, give false alarms.

Regionally infant mortality rates are highest in the South.

Murder Exam Set for Man, 53

A Pontiac man accused of the fatal shooting of his wife Friday faces preliminary examination Jan. 10 on an open charge of murder.

Robert Humphreys, 53, of 229 E. Walton was arrested at his home shortly before midnight.

His wife, Earline, 50, died in Pontiac General Hospital a few hours later. She had been shot once in the chest, according to police.

The incident followed an alleged argument during which Mrs. Humphreys fired a revolver, later confiscated by officers, three times, a witness said.

★ ★ ★

Police said they found six spent cartridges on the premises.

Humphreys is free after posting $2,500 bond set at his arraignment Saturday by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Pontiac Man Is Bound Over in Road Death

A 33-year-old Pontiac man was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday on a charge of negligent homicide in the traffic death of a Commerce Township man last Nov. 3.

Roy L. Scott of 170 Florence is scheduled to appear before Circuit Judge Philip Pratt for arraignment at 9 a.m. Jan. 17.

The charge against Scott was reduced from manslaughter to negligent homicide by Waterford Township Justice Patrick K. Daly who conducted the preliminary examination.

The victim, George P. Seedorff, 52, of 2105 Union Lake, allegedly was struck by Scott's car on the shoulder of I-75 near Sashabaw Road in Independence Township as he was getting tools from the rear of his vehicle to repair a flat tire.

Seedorff was pinned between the cars and was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital, according to Pontiac State Police.

The driver who struck Seedorff then left the accident scene. The suspect later was arrested in his home by Pontiac police.

A fire in Independence Township early this morning caused an estimated $3,000 damage to a basement, its contents and outside wall.

The blaze, believed to be electrical, broke out at 3:20 a.m. today at the 4936 Neosho home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Slusher. No one was injured in the fire, said Deputy Fire Chief Tink Ronk.

Records Stolen, TVs Recovered

Burglars made off with some 50 long-play record albums from a Pontiac firm late yesterday, but police recovered two stolen television sets near the scene.

Officers were dispatched to the D and D Radio and Television Shop, 319 Prospect, shortly before midnight and found that the intruders had smashed through the front door glass.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the firm said at least 50 albums valued at more than $300 plus the television sets, were missing.

★ ★ ★

Police said the sets, both portables, were found hiddent under vehicles parked across the street, apparently left there by the burglars in a hasty escape.

LBJ Signs Keystone Bills

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP)—President Johnson has signed into law bills greatly expanding Social Security benefits and federal aid to education—keystones to his Great Society legislative program.

He hailed the passage of the measures as triumphs for the nation's poor. But he had nothing at all to say as he signed a third measure—the $2.29-billion foreign aid bill—which imposes the sharpest dollar limit on total U.S. aid to other nations since the program began 20 years ago.

Johnson said the expansion of Social Security benefits is the "greatest step forward" since the system was initiated during the Roosevelt administration in 1935.

The next phase, he said, calls for close scrutiny of America's welfare system which he branded "outmoded and in need of major change."

He appointed a 19-member commission to "examine any and every plan, however unconventional, which could promise a constructive advance in meeting the income needs of the American people."

The President named Ben W. Heineman, 53, chairman and chief executive officer of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Co., to head the commission.

The education bill provides a record $9.3 billion for elementary and secondary schools. The Social Security bill increases benefits by at least 13 per cent for 24 million persons.

Social Security checks going out in March will reflect the new increased benefits. Minimum monthly payments rise from $44 to $55. The maximum will be $160.50, compared to the present $142. The average monthly check for husband and wife over 65 increases from $145 to $165.

"One million more people will be lifted above the poverty line," Johnson said, and 65,000 disabled widows and 175,000 children will receive benefits for the first time.

MEDICARE

Medicare benefits are expanded to include additional days of hospitalization. Outside earnings of $140 instead of $125 a month are permitted with no reduction in benefits.

There will be additional taxes, though, for worker and employer, amounting to as much as $52.80 in 1968 on earnings of $7,800 or more.

The new law keeps the tax rate at 4.4 per cent in 1968, but the amount of salary on which the tax is levied goes up from $6,600 to $7,800. Eventually, the tax rate will rise to 5.9 per cent by 1987.

★ ★ ★

The education bill continues until the middle of 1970 a program of aid to elementary and secondary schools, giving states more say in how the money is used.

BENEFITS OF LAW

This new law, he said, brings special educational and health services to nine million of our poorest children, sparks a new effort to prevent dropouts, includes programs for handicapped children, help for rural schools and sets up bilingual education programs for children whose first language is not English.

"Thousands of children of Latin descent, young Indians and others will get a better start—a better chance—in school," said Johnson, a former teacher of Mexican-American youngsters. He said the new law begins a campaign to unlock the full potential of every boy and girl.

While getting much of what he wanted in these two major measures, Johnson got a setback on foreign aid monies.

★ ★ ★

He had asked $3.25 billion for the 12-month period ending next June 30.

Besides the cut in amount, the bill also included restriction on use of U. S. aid funds by under-developed countries for the acquisition of modern weapons.

★ ★ ★

Johnson commented on the record of the 90th Congress, saying it was not as productive as he urged it to be and left an agenda of unfinished business.

Cuts in City Services Are Due by Monday

By BOB WISLER

Cuts in city services ordered by the Pontiac City Commission two weeks ago will take place no later than Monday unless the Oakland County Circuit Court rules out an income tax election, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said last night.

This includes a $35,000 subsidy for bus service in the city.

A hearing is scheduled tomorrow morning before Judge William J. Beer to argue the merits of petitions requesting a referendum election on the income tax ordered in October by the City Commission.

However, the hearing requested by the city's director of law, Sherwin M. Birnkrant, could be delayed.

★ ★ ★

Robert D. Coon, a Pontiac attorney, said this morning that he would file today with Circuit Court a petition requesting that he intervene in a suit brought against the city.

RESTRAINING ORDER

The suit, started by a Pontiac fireman and a policeman, asks for a permanent

Related Stories, Page B-7

restraining order preventing the City Commission from setting a referendum election on the income tax question.

Judge Beer last week issued a temporary restraining order until a hearing could be held.

The suit names the City Commission as defendants because the election machinery of the city is controlled by the commission.

★ ★ ★

Petitions requesting the election were circulated by a group organized by Cecil C. Mullinix of 571 Lowell. Coon said he was acting on behalf of Mullinix and the petition circulators.

CITY'S POSITION

The city finds itself in the position of being charged with defending the validity of the petitions. But, the city officials would like nothing better than for the petitions to be declared invalid.

Intervention by Coon as an interested party would allow him to defend the validity of the petitions instead of the city.

Once Coon's request is filed it would be up to Judge Beer to determine whether he would allow Coon to intervene as an interested party.

★ ★ ★

A hearing would probably have to be held on this matter and thus delay the hearing on whether the petitions are indeed valid.

PETITION VALIDITY

Some 1,900 signatures were turned in three weeks ago to the city clerk's office, but, the suit brought against the city charges that the petitions containing the signatures were not properly drawn up.

Winston L. Livingstone, a Detroit attorney, representing the plaintiffs, charged that:

● — The petitions don't contain endorsements of the names and addresses of three persons filing them, in violation of the city charter, and,

● — The petitions do not contain certification by the circulator that "he is qualified to circulate this petition . . . and that each signature on the petition was signed in his presence, "in violation of the Michigan Election Law.

Waterford Fire Fighters Call for Mediator in Wage Talks

The Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters Association, Local 1335, has requested a mediator from the Michigan Labor Mediation Board to assist in the unit's current negotiations with the Township Board toward a 1968 contract for firemen.

★ ★ ★

"We have reached an impasse with the board," said Lt. Donald D. Sommerville, president of the association which represents all 21 township firemen with the exception of the chief and assistant chief.

The crux of the issue is that township policemen were offered $200 more in wage increases this year than firemen, who were to receive a $600 across-the-board boost.

"The board has created disparity between the police and fire departments," said Sommerville. "That's what we're fighting.

★ ★ ★

"Up to this time," said Somerville, "we have always had parity between the two departments.

HARMONIOUS RELATIONSHIP

"We have, in my opinion, maintained a harmonious relationship with the police department and would hope to continue this relationship," he said.

★ ★ ★

Because of the impasse in negotiations which began in September, professional firemen presently will no longer double as volunteer fire fighters.

★ ★ ★

"We (full-time paid firemen) will refrain from making fire runs on our off-duty time," said Somerville. "So we are no longer providing this free service and will be shorthanded," he emphasized.

Won't Oppose 'Hot Pursuit' by U.S.--Sihanouk

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk today issued a statement giving American tropps freedom to chase Communists fleeing Vietnam into Camboidia's border jungles.

The chief of state, in the statement containing remarks made in a provincial speech Sunday, said he would not send his 35,000-man army against U. S. troops engaged in such "hot pursuit."

Sihanouk lashed "some Cambodian and foreign" critics of his decision to allow the Americans freedom of border action.

Sihanouk said his refusal to oppose any such American "hot pursuit" was in no way an invitation for border crossing by U. S. forces in neighboring South Vietnam.

The Cambodian leader said he would use his troops against the Americans if U. S. forces seize Cambodian territory and refuse to surrender it.

In Bangkok, diplomats reported Sihanouk, in Cambodian broadscasts monitored there, said:

● President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk stopped an alleged CIA-Pentagon plot to kill him and triggerer a coup in this neutral Southeast Asian nation.

● He thus is now willing to meet an envoy from Washington. Sihanouk broke diplomatic relations with the United States in May 1965.

● The United States accepted a Sihanouk proposal to beef up the Internation Control Commission (ICC), set up the 1954 Geneva conference on Indo china to monitor Southeast Asian border.

● The Soviet Union and Poland are opposed to strengthening the ICC. The Soviet Union is cochairman of the Geneva agreement and Poland is the Communist member of the ICC.

● He will oppose the sending of students from Cambodia to the Soviet Union and Communist East Germany. He also charged Cambodian students in the United States are being used to teach "CIA spy classes."

Baby Bonanza Won by Milford Parents

"Pretty hectic," said Mrs. Richard Brooks about the activity around her generated by her new title, mother of the first baby of 1968.

The Brooks, who live at 747 Birdsong, Milford, have named their daughter Ay Leigh. She was born Monday at 12:08 a.m.

The girl was born after a routine delivery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Brooks drove his wife to the hospital the day before.

Brooks, 24, is a technician in the noise and vibration laboratory at General Motors Proving Grounds in Milford. His wife, also 24, worked at Community National Bank.

★ ★ ★

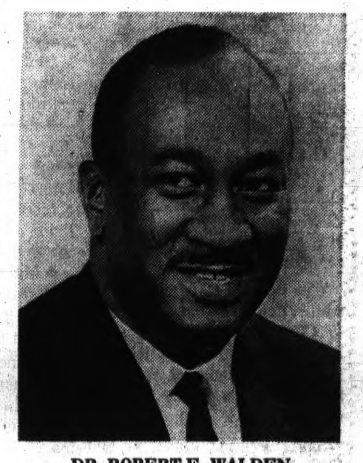
Traditionally, the first baby born in the new year in this area receives numerous gifts from area merchants.

Gifts include a case of disposable diapers, a savings bond, a savings account, cases of milk, baby shoes, a diamond baby ring, baby clothes, a silver cup, a baby blanket and a high chair.

★ ★ ★

For the parents are such gifts as dinners for two, gift certificates, a tire, a car wash and polish, slippers for mother, a ham, dry cleaning certificates and flowers.

The contest was open to any baby born of married parents living north of 14 Mile Road in Oakland County after Dec. 31.



DR. ROBERT E. WALDEN

Mental Health Leader Resigns

By ED BLUNDEN

One of the leading figures in Oakland County's mental health program has resigned.

Dr. Robert E. Walden, 47, director of the program for the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board, was one of the highest paid county employes at $30,000 annually. He was the center of a controversy for the last few months.

Criticism was leveled at Dr. Walden by employes of Oakland Training Institute in Berkley where some 40 mentally retarded children are cared for. The dissident group claimed lack of leadership for their program, among other things.

Twelve of a staff of 14 had turned in resignations which would have been effective today.

However, on Dec. 23 it was announced a compromise had been reached and 10 of the staff decided to stay. The other two reportedly are leaving for different reasons.

★ ★ ★

The OTI group was given a pay boost and a consultant, Mrs. Rita Charron, was hired to see to their problems.

The OTI operation has had difficulties since it began about two years ago and four directors quit in 16 months.

Dr. Walden was hired to head all the county's mental health programs in June 1965. Oakland was the first county in the state to set up a separate organization of this type under new laws. This fiscal year its budget is $2.2 million.

Dr. Walden came to the county after a nationwide search for a director. He had been superintendent of Lakin State Hospital, Lakin, W. Va.

He received his medical degree from Maharry Medical College, Nashville, Tenn., and took residency in psychiatry from 1957 to 1960 at Brockton and Boston veterans' hospitals in Massachusetts.

UNTANGLE WRECKAGE—Pennsylvania Railroad crews move in to clear the wreckage of 26 freight cars—many of them loaded with chemicals—after long-smoldering fires finally were quenched late yesterday at Dunreith, Ind. The accident occurred New Year's night when two trains sideswiped, setting off a series of explosions in ammonia, gasoline and oil tankers, forcing evacuation of the residents. Officials say the 236 residents of Dunreith will be allowed to return to their homes today when a deadly chemical compound is removed from a tank car left battered but unbroken in the wreckage. Fair Housing Vow Renewed in State

LANSING (AP)—A handful of citizens representing Michigan's most prestigious politcal, church, civic and labor groups renewed a pledge Tuesday to fight for a statewide open housing law.

Republican acting Gov. William G. Milliken, who led an unsuccessful bid for passage of such a law last month, predicted that this time "we will be successful."

★ ★ ★

The leaders met with Milliken for nearly two hours to map open housing strategy to be followed in the regular legislative session, which begins Jan. 10.

The meeting fell on the eve of the return of Gov. George Romney, who had added the controversial issue to the agenda of a special fall session.

Romney, a contender for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, left the lieutenant governor in charge of running the state and coordinating open housing efforts before leaving Dec. 7 on a month-long tour of Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

MAJOR ROLE

With Romney tied up in presidential primary campaigns, Milliken likely will play a major role in spearheading any future open housing move.

The special session bill, which would have outlawed discrimination based on race, color, religion or national origin in most real estate transactions, monopolized headlines last moth, but failed in a 47-55 house vote.

★ ★ ★

"The bill, in my judgment and that of everyone present here today, is not dead," Milliken said. "It's merely waiting to be reactivated."

Attending the meeting were the state Republican and Democratic chairmen and representatives of the Michigan AFL-CIO, United Auto Workers, Michigan and Detroit councils of churches, Michigan Catholic Conference, Jewish Community Council, State Chamber of Commerce and Michigan Association of Police Chiefs.

RIOT COMMITTEE

Also present were members of the New Detroit Committee, named by Romney and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh to seek answers to last July's disastrous Detroit riots.

★ ★ ★

Democratic State Chairman Sander Levin said he and GOP chairman Elly Peterson planned talks within the next two weeks concerning what can be done by both parties to pass the bill.

All new automobiles rolling off assembly lines in the U.S. yesterday were equipped with the safety straps. With the harness came a boost in car prices, generally in a range from $23 to $32. City Alters Boat-Trailer Code

BIRMINGHAM — After extensive discussion, the City Commission last night passed an amendment to the city code covering proper storage of house trailers, boats and boat trailers.

Unaffected by the new ordinance will be owners of boats at the time of the amendment's passage, and owners unable to comply with the code because of physical factors such as size of lot or building location.

Under the amendment, trailers and boats may not be stored at the front of a residential zone district, and may not be stored beside a house between the front and back of a district for more than 30 days.

House trailer camps may be established in zoning areas labeled B-2, but consent of 60 per cent of all property owners within 500 feet of the proposed site must be secured first.

Such a camp is the only condition under which fixed utility connections may be made to a house trailer, or under which it may be used for living purposes.

48 HOURS

Trailers, however, may be parked anywhere on a residential zone district for 48 hours for loading or unloading.

The commission also approved the first phase of a program for interim parking provisions during the construction of the Lot 1 structure at Merrill and Pierce.

Flyers placed on windshields will notify parkers for one week prior to the lot's closing, and the 12-hour limit on 25 meters in Lot 7 at Merrill and Henrietta will be lowered to two hours.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the commission set a date of Jan. 22 for confirmation of the assessment roll on delinquent debts from 1967.

Commissioners also expressed concern in the proposed sign ordinance, currently undergoing revision by the administration. Residents and business owners planning to invest in signs were cautioned of the impending change in the city code.

Indiana Town Sees End of Gas Threat

DUNREITH, Ind. (AP) — Officials say the 236 residents of Dunreith will be allowed to return to their homes when a deadly chemical compound is removed from a tank car left battered but unbroken in the wreckage of two freight trains.

Two Pennsylvania trains sideswiped New Year's night, setting off a series of explosions in amonia, gasoline and oil tankers, and forcing evacuation of the residents.

★ ★ ★

Blast-driven flames destroyed a cannery, service station and three homes. Windows were broken in a dozen other homes and businesses.

George Winburn, safety director of Rohan & Haas Chemical Co. of Louisville, Ky., said it would take 8 to 10 hours for the team of experts to transfer the lethal acetone cyanhydrin to a tanker truck. The compound, used in making plexiglass, produces cyanide gas when exposed to air.

MAY FINISH TONIGHT

Officials said the transfer may be complete by tonight. Many townspeople stayed with friends and relatives in other cities, while some were lodged in motels.

★ ★ ★

Winburn said he had hopes the compound had been consumed by flames, removing the danger of lethal fumes. "The worst thing that could have happened did happen," he said after finding the filled tank car unbroken.

★ ★ ★

State police said the same chemical had leaked from another car and seeped into nearby Buck Creek. They said nine head of cattle on the Everett Thompson farm a mile south of Dunreith died after drinking poisoned water.

★ ★ ★

Robert W. Heider of the State Board of Health said samples were being taken from the creek and Big Blue River, which it empties into, to determine how far the poison had spread. He emphasized that neither waterway is used for human consumption.

FLAMES EXTINGUISHED

Firemen extinguished the last of the flaming wreckage Tuesday night, more than 20 hours after the accident. Railroad crews working under flood lights began to clear the wreckage.

A railroad spokesman said an 18-inch piece of track snapped in the sub-freezing cold, causing cars on the 98-car westbound freight to derail into a passing freight about the same length.

Kelley Recommends Anticrime Measures

LANSING (AP)—Higher pay for policemen, two-year grand juries, school courses in law and order and state money for victims of violent crimes were recommended to the Legislature today by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

In a letter to lawmakers, Kelley warned: "It is an indisputable fact that we are faced with a crime crisis."

"We cannot fight crime with rhetoric," Kelley said. "We can fight it with firm and even-handed law enforcement."

Among the attorney general's recommendations were these:

RECOMMENDATIONS

- Boosts of local police salaries by 25 per cent, part of it financed by the state, coupled with higher education and training requirements for policemen.
- Making the job of county prosecutor a full-time job and joining together into single districts small counties where a full-time prosecutor is not needed.
- State-sponsored training programs for new prosecutors and annual seminars for incumbent prosecutors.
- Permitting prosecutors and the attorney general to petition a court for subpoenas or immunity-granting powers in criminal investigations.
- Increasing the maximum life of a one-man grand jury from one to two years while "making some provision for the protection of the anonymity of those called as witnesses before the grand jury."
- Making it a felony for an unauthorized person to lend money at an interest rate higher than 25 per cent per year.
- Money payments to victims of violent crimes, "based upon the principle of giving to the victim of crime or his family at least as much care and attention as we provide to the individual who has been convicted of committing the crime."

Heart Patient 'Doing Well'

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's third heart transplant patient, was "doing very well" today, a hospital spokesman said.

The 58-year-old retired dentist regained consciousness last night and in his first words since the operation said: "I am thirsty. Please give my regards to my wife."

The heart beating inside the white dentist's chest belonged to Clive Haupt, 24, a mulatto, but there was no objection from the chief defender of apartheid-South Africa's policy of racial segregation.

Said Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster: "I am very glad to hear that the operation was successful."

Ground War Flares in Viet

Da Nang One Target of Attacks by Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy Communist forces launched a series of coordinated attacks in the precarious northern provinces of South Vietnam today, including a rocket assault on the Da Nang air base that destroyed three planes and ground attacks in which at least 19 Americans were reported killed.

★ ★ ★

As the ground war flamed up after a New Year's truce which U.S. officers termed "the worst yet," Air Force pilots reported shooting two MIGs from the skies above Hanoi. North Vietnam claimed three U.S. jets were downed.

★ ★ ★

Heavy fighting dotted South Vietnam, but it was in the five northern provinces of the 1st Corps Area that the action was hottest.

These actions were reported:

1. Red gunners fired a number of 122mm rockets into a unit of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division bivouacked in the Que Nhon Valley 25 miles south of Da Nang, then followed with a ground attack. Initial reports said 11 cavalrymen were killed, 70 were wounded and the fight was continuing. There was no report of enemy casualties.

2. Earlier, before dawn, the enemy raked the flight lines at the big Da Nang base with 45 of the big 122mm rockets, destroyed a $2-million Phantom jet and two light spotter planes, badly damaged two other spotter planes and a twin-engine C47 and did minor damage to 20 other aircraft. Four Americans were wounded in the 10-minute barrage and 19 others were injured as the sleepy airmen tumbled into the darkness and dashed for bunkers.

★ ★ ★

Six coordinated hit-and-run assaults raked South Vietnamese outposts within a 15-mile radius of Da Nang. Casualties among the defenders were reported light.

Voter Suspension Cards Sent to 695 in Waterford

Notice of suspension of registration cards were mailed to 695 voters yesterday by employes of the Waterford Township clerk's office.

The 695 electors who were notified have not voted in the past two years as required by state statute to remain on the active registration file.

★ ★ ★

According to township clerk officials, the voters have 30 days to sign the cards and return them to the clerk's office in order to officially be reinstated as registered electors.

If they fail to comply, their names will be withdrawn from the active registration file and they will have to reregister in order to vote in this year's elections in the township.

★ ★ ★

Last January when the law was new, notice of suspension of registration cards were sent to 5,713 township voters.

FOUR-YEAR PERIOD

Prior to the state statute, township electors could keep their registration active by voting once every four years.

Currently, there are 21,936 registered voters living in the township.

★ ★ ★

Anyone with questions pertaining to his voter status is urged to contact the clerk's office.

Social Security Key Provisions Are Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following are the major provisions of the new Social Security bill signed Tuesday by President Johnson:

★ ★ ★

Cash benefits—Present Social Security recipients will receive increases of at least 13 per cent in their February checks due on March 3. Minimum monthly payments will go up 25 per cent, from $44 to $55. The top of the range for individuals will be $160.50, compared to $142 now. The average monthly benefit for a man and wife now on the rolls will be increased from $145 to $165.

★ ★ ★

The maximum future payment for a surviving family will be raised to $434.40, compared with $368 under the old law.

Taxes—A worker now pays Social Security taxes on wages up to $6,600 a year. This will be increased to $7,800 in 1968.

Waterford JCs Set Tree Pickup

The Waterford Township Jaycees announced today that they will hold their annual Christmas tree pickup Saturday and Sunday.

Keith Cadman, project chairman, said public schools in the township will be used as collection stations.

Residents should bring their trees to the parking lot of the nearest school Friday night or Saturday morning.

This year, instead of the customary burning of trees, the Jaycees will transport them by truck to the Holly Recreation Area where they will be used as brush shelter for rabbits.

★ ★ ★

Howard Green, a game biologist for the Michigan Department of Conservation, will direct the construction of the brush shelters, according to Cadman.

U.S.-N. Viet Peace Talk Gap Narrows

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam and the United States apparently have narrowed somewhat their differences over starting peace talks. But U.S. officials see little prospect the talks would be "productive" as required by President Johnson.

This is one of three questions on which the United States is reported seeking clarification from North Vietnam before deciding on its next move in response to a statement made last weekend by North Vietnam's foreign minister, Nguyen Duy Trinh.

★ ★ ★

So far, Trinh's statement is regarded here as being primarily an effort to build up new, worldwide pressures on President Johnson to stop bombing the North without a reciprocal scaling down of military action by North Vietnam.

Officials said, however, that the Trinh statement is being fully explored through diplomatic channels to determine whether it was seriously intended to advance the prospects for talks.

Exam Is Set for City Man in Hit-and-Run

A Pontiac man arrested in connection with the hit-and-run death early Monday of a 17-year-old Highland Township girl faces preliminary examination in Waterford Township Justice Court Feb. 13 on charges of manslaughter and leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

In Oakland County Jail in lieu of $10,000 and $2,500 bonds on the respective charges set at arraignment yesterday is Gary Gillespie, 22, of 350 Third.

He was arrested about 4 p.m. Monday at North Telegraph and Walton by an Oakland County sheriff's deputy while riding in a car answering a description of the hit-run vehicle.

This was about 13 hours after Sherry Ann Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lane E. Knight of 203 S. Center, was killed and her escort, Alan Lengeman, 17, son of Mrs. Janet H. Lengement of 3727 Gulfwood, Milford, was seriously injured by a car which struck them from behind as they walked on the shoulder of Milford Road in Highland Township.

★ ★ ★

Lengeman is reported in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

AUTO STALLED

Deputies said the couple was apparently walking to the Knight home from Lengeman's stalled car when the mishap occurred.

Finance Firm Safe Is Looted

Some $770 in cash was stolen from the safe of a firm in the Pontiac State Bank Building by a burglar who apparently knew the combination, it was reported to city police yesterday.

The manager of the Baxter-Livingstone Finance Co., located on the building's fourth floor, told investigators he found the safe open when he opened the office or the safe.

He said there were no signs of a break-in, either into the office or the safe.

Officers said they later found a fourth-floor fire escape door open and tracked footprints in the snow to a third floor window which was also unlocked.

★ ★ ★

Mental Health Figure Quits County Post

No criticism was leveled in the announced resignation — either by Dr. Walden nor by the mental health services board. Making the announcement was Paul N. Averill of Birmingham, board chairman.

He announced, "Dr. Walden leaves behind a record of important pioneering effort in this county, which in itself has given leadership statewide in establishing Public Act 54 as a valid and forward-moving piece of legislation."

(Act 54 enables separate organizations for mental health purposes in the state. Previously this work had been handled through hospitals and clinics.)

★ ★ ★

Dr. Walden's resignation cited the accomplishments of the programs for the mentally ill and mentally retarded.

He did not announce, however, his reasons for resigning or what his future plans were.

TEMPORARY LEADERS

Two men are to assume temporary leadership of the programs, the board announced. They are Dr. Donal L. White, assistant psychiatric director, and John Madole, administration officer of the board.

Dr. White, 44, was hired in April 1967 at an annual salary of $26,000. He is a University of Michigan graduate and was on the staff of Ford Hospital, Detroit.

Madole was hired in February 1965 at a salary of $13,500 a year after serving as the county envoy in Cali, Colombia, in an Alliance for Progress program.

★ ★ ★

The Mental Health Services Board offers both inpatient and outpatient care in conjunction with several county hospitals. It aids in operation of the three county Child Guidance clinics and operates or aids in operating various training programs for the mentally retarded.

The 12 board members are named by the County Board of Supervisors.

Body of Man Is Found in Wrecked Car

A 37-year-old Highland Township man was found dead in his car yesterday, some 65 feet into a swampy area off M59 in Highland Township.

Oakland Highway Toll in '68

Last Year to Date 0

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the body of Theodore R. Stewart of 2919 Summit was found in the car about 2 p.m., shortly after a passing motorist who had noticed tire tracks leading off the road called the sheriff's department.

★ ★ ★

Deputies said the vehicle had apparently gone out of control east of Harvey Lake Road and left the road after knocking down eight highway guard poles.

★ ★ ★

The time of the accident will be determined at a post-mortem held today, according to deputies.

City Cuts Due by Monday

City commissioners were prepared last week to order a referendum election after City Clerk Olga Barkeley certified that enough valid signatures were turned in to order a referendum election.

The setting of the election would immediately delay collection of an income tax revenue ordered by the income tax ordinance.

In effect, the city wouldn't be able to collect income tax money until voters would approve the ordinance. And then, collection would be delayed until July.

★ ★ ★

With this in mind the commission ordered a number of cuts in services and the layoff of some 42 city employes.

SWIFT DECISION

While the income tax question is still up in the air the commission indicated last night that only a swift decision on the petitions would delay the cuts.

If the petitions are declared by the court to be invalid, the cuts won't go into effect and the city will take immediate steps to collect income tax revenue.

If, however, the court delays past Friday in reaching a decision or finds the petitions valid, the cuts will take effect no later than Monday.

Mayor Taylor said some $542,000 worth of services must be cut immediately to balance the 1968 general operating budget. This budget figures on no new income tax money.

NEW BUDGET

If the income tax goes through the city will draw up a new budget.

In addition to the bus subsidy, service cuts include shutting down the city's department of health and youth assistance, closing two library branches and the Hayes Jones Community Center and stopping a rent subsidy for the Office of Economic Opportunity's Action Center at 7 W. Lawrence.

Also planned are elimination of two fire companies (12 men) and closing of two fire stations, a reduction of overtime for employes of the Department of Public Works and in recreation programs and shutting off some street lights.

Spring Parking Ban Due on Part of Huron Street

As part of a long-range improvement of M59, parking will be banned this spring on Huron from West Wide Track to Perry.

Joseph Koren, traffic engineer for the city, said today the elimination of parking will allow for five traffic lanes.

He said the city will remove the meters now on the streets and the State Highway Department will paint new traffic lanes and install traffic control signs "as soon as the weather breaks."

He estimated the work would be done about the middle of March.

Koren said the street is wide enough for five traffic lanes — two in each direction with one lane for left turns — without widening of the street.

The state highway department and city agreed to changes in the street usage after meetings late last year.

★ ★ ★

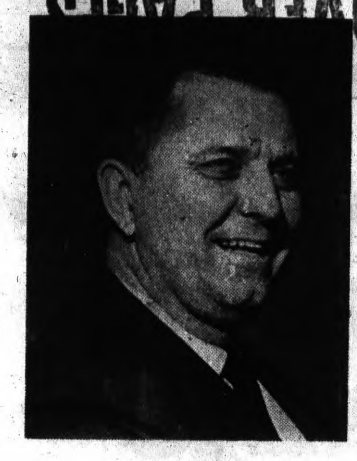
Officials are hopeful that the changes will tend to eliminate the congestion which occurs on Huron during the rush hours, especially between Saginaw and West Wide Track.

Rochester, Township Officials Air Views

Avon Cityhood Issue Stirs Heated Battles



ROY REWOLD
Rochester Mayor

AVON TOWNSHIP — The verbal battle over the election Jan. 15 to incorporate all of Avon Township outside the City of Rochester is heating up here.

Both city and township government officials have released statements citing opposing views.

Mayor Roy Rewold of Rochester today related findings of the Rochester Jaycees seminar series and the Rochester Area League of Women Voters which have urged a single unit of government for the combined area.

"I would urge a 'no' vote," said the mayor. "My reasoning for this is that some of the proponents of a favorable vote say that we could consolidate the two cities at a later date.

Mayor Rewold said that checking the possibility of two cities consolidating showed that it has never happened in state history.

"I will do all I can as a lifetime resident of the Rochester area and as mayor of the City of Rochester to encourage the annexation of the Avon area to the City of Rochester."

Rewold's statement followed an earlier one put out by Township Trustee William McCullough wherein the recently proposed development of the $25-million Fried-Jacobson property at Walton and Livernois and the projected R. P. Scherer Corp. pharmaceutical plant on former Parke-Davis property were cited.

Said McCullough:

● "Avon Township has an area of 34.4 square miles compared to Rochester's 1.6 square miles.

● "Avon Township has a population of approximately 20,000 as compared to the City of Rochester's approximately 6,000.

● "The growth potential of the township exceeds that of Rochester.

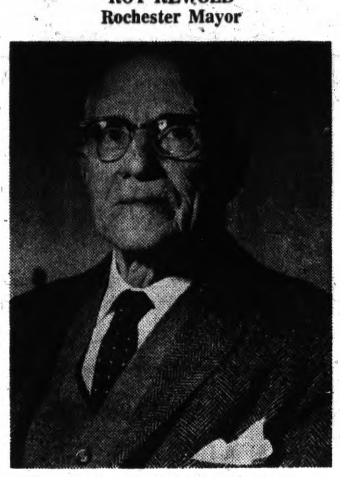
● "Unless Avon Township incorporates and adopts a charter of its own choosing, it could, because of annexation, be forced to a charter and form of government about which it has no choice.

"How sentimental can the taxpayers of our township afford to be?" McCullough asked.

PROTECT INTEREST

"They can best protect their interest in their property by voting 'yes' on the incorporation proposal.

"Once we have protected our bargaining position by incorporation, we then can consider the advisability of eventual merger with the City of Rochester, because we then can go to the bargaining table as equals and not as country cousins."



WILLIAM McCULLOUGH
Avon Trustee

JCs Feel Avon Annexation to Rochester Is Best Answer

ROCHESTER — The Jaycees, an active group of community-minded young men in the Rochester-Avon area, has come out in favor of annexation as the route toward unification of governments here.

An incorporation vote for Avon Township excluding Rochester is due Jan. 15.

Following "an extensive study of the existing atmosphere of local governments," the group has adopted a four-point statement of conclusions which includes:

● They agree with the objectives of simplification by avoiding duplication of governmental efforts and the prevention of fragmentation of the total Rochester-Avon area.

● They believe that if the Jan. 15 election passes, in all likelihood the result would be the formation of two separate city, excluding the City of Rochester, to be fragmentation of the community.

● They believe that annexation of the entire Avon Township to the City of Rochester, as requested in the annexation petitions now on file in Oakland County is the most logical route toward unification.

● Whichever course the voters of the community choose, the Jaycees are pledged to study and work toward unification as long as it remains a possibility.

★ ★ ★

The statement of the Jaycees followed a similar one by the Rochester League of Women Voters and another by Mayor Roy Rewold of Rochester.

Statements favoring the incorporation vote Jan. 15 have so far been issued by Harold Pepper, chairman of the Avon Township Study Committee, and by Township Trustees William McCullough and Philip Trimble.

Troy Delays Setting Tax Vote

TROY — The City Commission last night tabled for the second time determination of the date for a half-mill tax election.

The proposed increase, to be used for construction of a city library, is still tentatively scheduled for Feb. 19, provided a city primary election is held the same day.

If no primary takes place, the millage election may be rescheduled to coincide with the regular city election in April.

The motion to table came because the Troy Board of Education, also meeting last night, was considering a new school millage election Feb. 19.

★ ★ ★

Friends of the Troy Library, a citizens' group backing the half-mill hike, have urged that the two millage votes be set on different dates.

BUILDING CODE AMENDMENT

In other business, the commission approved a proposed amendment to the city's recently adopted building code, dealing with swimming pool safety regulations.

Instead of an "adequate enclosure" as is specified in the present code, any pool containing over 12 inches in depth of water at any point must now have a chain link, frame or masonry enclosure at least four feet high.

Gates in the enclosure must have self-locking latches four feet high or otherwise inaccessible to small children from the outside.

★ ★ ★

The commission also voted 4-2 to deny a request from the Boron Oil Co. to rezone Lots 1-7 in John R. Gardens Subdivision from B-1 to B-3 to permit the installation of a service station.

CONSIDERABLE DEBATE

Since the intersection involved, John R. and Maple, has three service stations, which were constructed before the area was rezoned from B-3 to B-1 (forbidding service stations), the request brought considerable debate.

Commissioner John Kokalis, who cast a dissenting vote along with Commissioner Wallace B. Hudson expressed his feeling that the corner is "bound to go commercial" and said he hoped the planning commission would study possible uses for such areas, adding, "I question whether there is any other use for that corner."

In other buiness, the commission approved the special-assessed construction of a 12-inch water main on Square Lake Road from Coolidge to Glen-Moor Subdivision to provide an emergency supply for the well servicing that area.

★ ★ ★

Also approved was the appointment of Joe Howey as a part-time city librarian on City Manager Paul York's recommendation.

Howey studying for a master's degree in library science at the University of Michigan, will work part-time for the city until his graduation in April.

Man Is Charged With Try to Kill 2 Brothers

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Police here have charged a 28-year-old man with attempted murder of two brothers at a New Year's Eve party at 6551 Drake.

The two warrants were issued yesterday by Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

Charged is Fred Parkkila, 28, of the Walled Lake area who is being sought by police.

The two brothers injured are Randall and Thomas Ryan, both of 21355 Farmington, Farmington.

Randall, 19, who suffered stab wounds in the back and a collapsed lung, is in satisfactory condition at Botsford Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Thomas, 21, who earlier had been treated and released for stab wounds in the back and back of his head, is now in Selfridge Hospital in satisfactory condition.

'ATTACKED BY 7 MEN'

The Ryan brothers, home on leave from the Army, were attacked by seven men in the parking lot after they arrived at the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Barr, police said.

A third stabbing victim has been identified by witnesses as Jack Watson, age and address unknown, according to police.

Also injured during the melee at about 3:30 a.m. New Year's Day was Charles Parkkila, 25, of 6782 Drake, a cousin of Fred Parkkila.

★ ★ ★

Another man, still unidentified, was reportedly beaten, said police.

When two township policemen arrived at the party scene near 3:30 a.m. Monday, there was evidence of a large fight both inside and outside the home, said patrolman Richard Lamphier.

Fire Local Head Asks Vote

Union Certification Sought

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The president of the newly formed firemen's union here has applied for an election which may certify Local 1721 of the West Bloomfield Township Firefighters Association of the International Association of Firefighters.

The request for approval to hold the election was made after the Township Board refused to recognize Local 1721.

The board wants to assure that the local does represent the majority of the nine full-time firemen and about 30 or 40 volunteers, explained Township Supervisor John Doherty.

The supervisor added that the board has always bargained with a lawyer who said he was representing the firemen.

★ ★ ★

Local 1721 president Donald Nelson made the election request to the Michigan Labor Mediation Board in Detroit.

STATION 'CLOSED' AGAIN

Nelson reported that the Green Lake station was "closed" again Friday from 6:30 to 7 a.m. Saturday. He said earlier that the same station was also "closed" the Saturday before Christmas.

The station was closed both times because of a lack of manpower, Nelson explained.

According to Assistant Fire Chief Mel Jorits the Station was not officially closed although no man was in attendance in the building.

★ ★ ★

The station was in operation because a volunteer next door was taking fire calls on his monitor and telephone said Jorits.

NOT ALL DOORS LOCKED

Not all the doors of the station were locked, added Jorits who made the decision not to have a man on duty at the station.

Supervisor Doherty reported that for a 10-year period several years ago, the station didn't have a man on duty in the building all the time but a man answered calls from his home.

Jorits explained that men weren't at the Green Lake station because of a wage dispute and not because of a manpower shortage.

★ ★ ★

He said the firemen believed they should be paid more than regular wages when they work on their off days.

The fire department is under the ultimate authority of the township Fire Committee composed of trustees Walter J .Whitmer and John F. Warren.

Independence Rejects COG

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — A vote against seeking membership in the Southeast Council of Governments was unanimous here last night.

The Township Board qualified its motion, however, with a phrase, "at this time." Clerk Howard Altman said, "I know they would never vote to join without considerable study of the issue.'

In other business, the board amended its zoning map in four instances to conform with surrounding property classifications.

Areas returned to a residential classification were a small grocery store on Sashabaw Road near Whipple Lake — to be kept as a nonconforming usage; an old synagogue in Woodhall Lake subdivision; and a home adjacent to some industrial zoning at the Clement and White Lake intersection.

★ ★ ★

By action of the board, most of Section 18 in the Reese-Holcomb Roads area was left in an agricultural category. Suburban farms and residential had been proposed for part of the land.

East Lansing Saga: Tale of 'Goldilocks and the 4 Students'

EAST LANSING (AP) — East Lansing's very own "Goldilocks" has red hair and green eyes and goes for bourbon instead of porridge.

Four Michigan State University students returned to their East Lansing apartment after a long holiday break and discovered someone apparently had been living there while they were gone.

Douglas Bailey, 21, of Walled Lake told police someone had been eating their food and sleeping in their beds.

And, he said, the someone had taken 500 pennies, three pints of bourbon, sweaters, towels, a clock, a pen, about 40 record albums, a check for $6 and a key to the apartment.

Police said neighbors reported hearing music during the students' absence and seeing a girl with green eyes and red hair.

School Board Puts Tax Hike on the Feb. 19 Ballot in Troy

TROY — The board of education last night approved the placing of a 7-mill tax increase on the ballot Feb. 19.

The proposed boost, to remain in effect for two years, would bring in approximately $750,000 each year to brighten the district's dim financial picture.

The new millage attempt comes on the heels of two others, on June 12 and Sept. 11, both of which failed. As a result, the district will incur a deficit of $600,000 by the end of the fiscal year, despite cutbacks in many areas, according to Supt. Rex B. Smith.

The board also approved an effort to seek a $410,000 loan to handle current expenses. "We need more money to see us through till March," Smith said. "As things are now, we're going to run out of funds around Jan. 30."

The district cannot use present income to apply to expenses, Smith added, because of two loans received last year. One loan, he said, was against incoming taxes and the other against state aid.

"By March 2," he continued, "enough taxes will have come in to pay off the first loan, and we will have money to handle current expenses."

Avon Planners Eye $25-Million Project

AVON TOWNSHIP — A $25-million commercial - office - residential development for the southeast corner of Walton and Livernois is currently under consideration by the township planning commission.

The commission, due to meet in study session tonight, expects no formal action as yet, though it has received a letter from Vilican-Leman planning consultants of Southfield, which reports on the proposed project as follows:

"We look for the new developments (in the Walton-Livernois area) to emerge as the major commercial center serving the region and for the (Rochester) downtown area to assume the role of a marginal or fringe shopping area."

Proposed by Martin and Paul Fried of Claridge Properties, Detroit, the development would feature a pedestrian shopping bridge between the projected Jacobson Stores development on the northeast corner of the intersection across Walton to the proposed new development.

The developers told the Avon Planning Commission they would like to start work immedately once zoning problems were solved for the multiuse development.

HIGH-RISE APARTMENTS

No major zoning ordinance change, with the possible exception of high-rise apartment usage in the future, is foreseen by the planning consultants.

Individual parcels of the 19-acre area would, however, have to be zoned to usage, according to township officials to permit the stores, the medical office building and the apartments now planned.

Vilican-Leman Visualizes the new development changing the character along Walton from the multiple housing, now planned, to commercial and office related to the new center.

★ ★ ★

The proposed development area lies now between the Rochester Senior High School and Crittenton Hospital.

New Device Offers Hope in Air Turbulence Detection

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Clear air turbulence (CAT) is a mystery that meteorologists would love to solve. The sudden, violent phenomenon can tear a jetliner apart without warning.

One of the most promising ways of detecting CAT pockets assumes that they are accompanied by a sharp change in temperature, which can be detected either by infrared or microwave detectors.

A CAT detector patented last week senses temperature far ahead and to the side of the aircraft by measuring microwave radiation put out by oxygen molecules, the intensity of which depends on temperature.

The remote temperature is compared with the temperature at the aircraft itself, and when a sharp change is noted, an electronic circuit tells the pilot which way to turn to avoid the disturbance.

The patent was assigned to Sperry Gyroscope Co. by the inventors, Benjamin R. Fow, Richard F. Hazel and Wayne D. Mount. A Sperry spokesman says the remote temperature radiometer is being engineered by the company for use also in air pollution studies, but the whole CAT assembly hasn't been flown yet.

One difficulty with the temperature sensors is that the instrument has to be kept level. Temperature changes due to different altitudes, which would be picked up if the plane tips, give false alarms.

Regionally infant mortality rates are highest in the South.

A Pontiac man accused of the fatal shooting of his wife Friday faces preliminary examination Jan. 10 on an open charge of murder.

Robert Humphreys, 53, of 229 E. Walton was arrested at his home shortly before midnight.

His wife, Earline, 50, died in Pontiac General Hospital a few hours later. She had been shot once in the chest, according to police.

The incident followed an alleged argument during which Mrs. Humphreys fired a revolver, later confiscated by officers, three times, a witness said.

Police said they found six spent cartridges on the premises.

Humphreys is free after posting $2,500 bond set at his arraignment Saturday by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Pontiac Man Is Bound Over in Road Death

A 33-year-old Pontiac man was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday on a charge of negligent homicide in the traffic death of a Commerce Township man last Nov. 3.

Roy L. Scott of 170 Florence is scheduled to appear before Circuit Judge Philip Pratt for arraignment at 9 a.m. Jan. 17.

The charge against Scott was reduced from manslaughter to negligent homicide by Waterford Township Justice Patrick K. Daly who conducted the preliminary examination.

The victim, George P. Seedorff, 52, of 2105 Union Lake, allegedly was struck by Scott's car on the shoulder of I-75 near Sashabaw Road in Independence Township as he was getting tools from the rear of his vehicle to repair a flat tire.

Seedorff was pinned between the cars and was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital, according to Pontiac State Police.

The driver who struck Seedorff then left the accident scene. The suspect later was arrested in his home by Pontiac police.
