Russian MIG Shoots Down Belgian Plane

Radio Operator Killed, Pilot, Mechanic Injured by Gunfire

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A Belgian freight plane was shot up today over Yugoslavia near the Hungarian frontier. Its radio officer was hit by cannon fire and killed.

Surviving crewmen said a Russian-made MIG, bearing a red star insigne, dived upon the DC3 transport in an apparent attempt to force it toward Hungary. They said the plane opened fire when the Belgian pilot ignored the MIG's maneuverings.

Sabena Air Lines, operator of the transport, declared it was attacked "by two fighter planes of unknown nationality." Belgian officials at Belgrade and Frankfurt also said they were informed that more than one attacker was involved.

The transport—carrying pedigreed pigs from Britain to Yugoslavia—had a crew of three Belgians and a British co-pilot. The Belgian pilot and a Belgian mechanic were injured. The dead radio man also was a Belgian.

Two of the several score pigs were killed.

The DC3, hit on the left side by cannon fire at perhaps 6,000 feet, made an emergency landing at Graz, Austria.

The British Embassy in Vienna gave this account:

"A Sabena transport plane was fired on at 10 a.m. today by an unidentified aircraft over Maribor, Yugoslavia. (Maribor is about 15 miles inside Yugoslavia from the British zone of Austria.)

"Two cannon shells hit the plane. The radio officer was killed and two other members of the crew were injured. All were Belgian nationals.

"A fourth member of the crew, who was British, was uninjured. Following the attack, the damaged plane altered course for Graz and made a forced landing there."

Arsene Devreese, one of the injured Belgians, had two cannon fragments in his right shoulder. He was hospitalized at Graz.

The dead radio operator and the other injured crewman were being held in the care of British air

Grocer Foils Holdup Men, Kills One, Wounds Other

DETROIT (INS) — A 65-year-old Detroit grocer last night foiled an attempted holdup in his store, killed one of the bandits and critically wounded the other.

The grocer, Frank Pattitoni, was slashed in the side with a knife and is in serious condition in Receiving Hospital.

Police identified the dead man as Eddie Forte, 36, who escaped from a Memphis, Tenn., penitentiary in 1944 and has been living in Detroit for several years as Cleao Wilkins.

The second bandit was identified as Sam Robertson, 47, of Detroit, an ex-convict.

Homicide Detective Sgt. Hiram Phipps said Forte answers the description given of the killer of Harvey Hamburger, who was shot Monday while attempting to apprehend a man and woman breaking into a Detroit coffee shop.

Pattitoni was sitting in his store with a friend, Dominic Soatu, 82, when the thugs entered.

One of the bandits knocked Soatu down and then, Pattitoni said, "I got mad."

The grocer drew a gun from his cash drawer and opened fire on Forte, killing him with bullets to the head, left chest and arm. At the same time, Robertson seized a butcher knife and slashed Pattitoni in the side.

The grocer turned his fire on Robertson and the holdup man fled, but collapsed two blocks away with bullets in the head, chest and shoulder.

In all, Pattitoni fired six shots. Each scored.

Seize Watchtower as French Battle Ammo Explosions in City

HANOI, Indochina (UP)—Communist troops seized a military watchtower only 10 miles from Saigon Wednesday during a series of explosions at an ammunition dump in one of the capital's suburbs, the French high command announced today.

The post fell while Saigon troops were bringing the explosions under control. French authorities said the explosions may have been the work of Communist saboteurs.

At the same time a number of small advance posts outside the Vietnamese capital reported enemy sniping in their areas.

Sniping chiefly has a nuisance value and is used by the Communists to keep the civilian population on edge.

The fighting in Indochina shifted suddenly from the northern area of Viet Nam to the central section of the state.

French troops killed or wounded an estimated 200 rebels on the Annam coast halfway between Hanoi and Saigon.

The obseervation is an extension of the Highway Safety Sunday sponsored last year by the Berrien County Council.

Stevens-Dirksen Calls Disclose Truce Attempts

Secretary Complains of Being 'Crucified' by McCarthy

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senators investigating the Army-McCarthy dispute heard the transcript of a phone call in which Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens said he had to do something "drastic" because he and his officers were being "crucified" by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen read notes of three private phone conversations he had with Stevens last Feb. 20 and Feb. 25, disclosing a high-level attempt to bring about a truce between McCarthy and the Army secretary.

The would-be peacemakers were referred to in the Stevens-Dirksen talks as "Karl," "Dick," "Charlie" and "Jerry." These presumably were:

Acting Chairman Karl E. Mundt of the Senate investigating subcommittee; Vice President Richard M. Nixon; Sen. Charles E. Potter, and either Maj. Gen. Wilton B. (Jerry) Persons or Gerald Morgan, both of the White House staff.

The Dirksen-Stevens phone call transcript pointed for the first time, in any of the hearing proceedings, to the vice president's partjcipation in the battle between McCarthy and Stevens.

Dirksen's action provided the first disclosure of any of the 65 monitored phone calls in the dispute, and came after McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, indicated they would block introduction of calls involving them.

McCarthy and Cohn insisted their calls could not be made public unless transcripts of conversations between Stevens, his department counselor, John G. Adams, and Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton, commander at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., were made public.

Army Special Counsel Joseph N. Welch said the Stevens-Adams - Lawton calls were blacked out by President Eisenhower's secrecy directive forbidding disclosure of conversations between members of the executive branch.

McCarthy and Cohn contend the blacked-out calls would prove their charge that Stevens intended to "break" Lawton because the gen-

Businessman Awaiting Deportation Hearings; Citizenship Canceled

A Birmingham businessman is awaiting deportation proceedings today after his citizenship was canceled Wednesday by Federal Judge Arthur A. Koscinski.

Greek-born Christ Nicholson, 53, of 28875 Franklin, was accused by the government of having been a Communist for 10 years prior to becoming a U.S. citizen in 1942.

Witnesses testified that Nicholson, who admitted membership for 1½ or 2 years, had been ousted from the party in 1935 for "deviating from party lines."

Former owner of the Brown Derby Drive-in, a skating rink and a picnic grounds in Birmingham, Nicholson heatedly denied ever advocating violent overthrow of the government.

Judge Koscinski, in a written opinion filed Wednesday, said:

"During Nicholson's membership in the Communist Party, he performed yeoman services for it and scrupulously carried out all duties assigned to him."

Under federal law, citizenship can be canceled if the applicant conceals membership in any organization devoted to the overthrow of the government by violence during the 10 years prior to his application for citizenship.

Missing Brother Finds Himself for Pontiac Man

A policeman in Omaha, Neb., whose job is finding missing persons, found himself recently for his Pontiac brother and Detroit sister after a 32-year separation.

Harold Bessler, 49, of 8483 Cooley Beach Dr., lost track of his brother in 1922, his wife Vera said today. But Harold and a sister, Mrs. M. C. Houghton, of Detroit, kept in contact with each other, Mrs. Bessler explained.

About two months ago Mrs. Houghton wrote to the Omaha Police Missing Persons Bureau on the scant basis that the 55-year-old missing brother once had been in the Omaha area.

During his routine work, Sgt. Leroy Bessler opened the letter and realized that the person he was supposed to look for was himself.

He solved the case in a hurry by contacting Mrs. Houghton. She, accompanied by the Bessiers, returned Tuesday night from a reunion with the sergeant.

When asked what the trio did, Mrs. Bessler said, "They talked. What else would they do with 32 years to catch up on?"

Air Academy Site Narrowed

Lake Geneva, Wis., Colorado Springs and Alton, Ill. Listed

(From AP & UP Dispatches)

WASHINGTON—The Air Force announced today that its search for an academy site has been definitely narrowed to three locations — Alton, Ill., Colorado Springs, Colo., and Lake Geneva, Wis.

Air Force Secretary Talbott made the announcement, saying the three sites had been recommended by a five-man board and he must make the final choice from among them.

Talbott said he would make his decision only after further personal inspections by himself and his staff and that he will study thoroughly the problems of land acquisition, engineering and all factors at the three locations before making his choice.

The academy selection board started its search at the beginning of April, traveling more than 18,000 miles and reading reports and recommendations involving more than 400 locations proposed by civic groups and local communities.

The task of choosing a permanent site for the academy was assigned to Virgil M. Hancher, president of the University of Iowa; Brig. Gen. Charles A. Lindbergh; Merrill Meigs, vice president of the Hearst Corp; Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, first chief of staff of the Air Force, and Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmond, special assistant to the chief of staff for Air Force Academy matters.

Legislation authorizing the academy was signed by President Eisenhower on April 1, but the idea of setting one up was conceived shortly after the Air Force became a separate service in September 1947.

Fort Custer in the Battle Creek, Mich., area had been one of the proposed sites for the air academy under consideration by the Air Force selection committee.

Talbott had inspected the Fort Custer area along with Michigan congressmen and other officials.

U.N. Council Will Discuss Thai Bid for Peace Team

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Over Soviet objections, the U. N. Security Council voted 10-1 today to discuss a Thailand request for a U. N. peace watchdog commission to study the Indochina war threat on Thailand's borders.

This is the first time the Indochina war crisis has been put before the U. N.

Only the Soviet Union opposed the Thailand request. That act foreshadowed a Soviet veto.

In the Council's opening speech, Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin charged the move would hinder peace in Indochina. He said it would interfere with negotiations at Geneva on an Indochina ceasefire.

France switched from its previous opposition to support putting the question on the Council agenda for debate.

Tsarapkin said the Thai request would only serve the interests of "aggressive circles" and the interests of the United States by interfering with Indochinese armistice talks at Geneva.

Tsarapkin was not able to prevent the Thai ambassador, Pote Sarasin, from speaking on his complaint. But Tsarapkin's opposition indicated the Soviet Union likely would veto any later resolution for a peace observation group in Thailand.

Sarasin's request dealt technically with Thailand, but actually Thailand was hopeful the U.N. could do something to halt the Communists in Indochina.

4 Puerto Ricans on Trial Today

Waitress Says Group Dined at Union Station Before Shooting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's first witness, a coffee shop waitress, today picked out four Puerto Ricans as the "rather untidy" persons she helped serve on March 1 shortly before they shot up the House of Representatives.

Mrs. Catherine Schull, a blue-eyed redhead, testified she saw the four Puerto Rican Nationalists in the Concourse Coffee Shop of Washington's Union Station near the Capitol.

Mrs. Schull was called as the first witness after a jury of seven men and five women was selected in just under an hour.

U.S. Dist. Atty. Leo A. Rover told the jury the four defendants "had not the slightest reason or justification" for "this murderous plan."

Five congressmen were wounded when the four Puerto Ricans, led by Mrs. Lolita Lebron, 34, spattered the House chamber with bullets from the visitors gallery. The court has entered pleas of innocent for them. Mrs. Lebron has said they were inspired by a fervent patriotism for Puerto Rico.

Rover, in his opening statement, said he would prove Mrs. Lebron and her three male colleagues were guilty of charges of five counts each of assault with a dangerous weapon—"namely, a loaded pistol."

Rover told the jury the five carried out a "preconceived plan . . . with the full knowledge of its consequences" when they came to Washington from New York City on March 1 and fired on the House while it was in session.

Mrs. Schull, obviously nervous and speaking in a low voice, testified that she and two other waitresses at the depot coffee shop served about 400 customers March 1.

She said she distinctly remembered the four Puerto Ricans and identified them in this way:

More Property on Board's Role Eases '54 Levy

Most Schools in Better Shape but Pontiac Is on Red-Ink List

Oakland County Tax Allocation Board today set this year's county tax rate at 5.14 mills—the lowest in several years—as a higher amount of taxable property eased the financial squeeze between the county, townships and schools.

The lower county tax rate, a few cents under last December's 5.25 mills, leaves a bit more money for schools under the 15-mill limitation. School systems can spread 9.86 mills ($9.86 on each $1,000 worth of property) if needed, wherever townships aren't levying unvoted taxes.

The county's school financial picture, generally, looked brighter this year. Only about half of Oakland County's schools asked for tax rates high enough to put the total of county, school and township taxes over the 15-mill limit in any one spot.

Pontiac was one of them.

Pontiac Public Schools need 12.96 mills to raise about $2,750,000 to balance the 1954-55 school budget. The most they can get from the tax board is 9.86 mills.

William J. Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County Schools, said that even school districts whose budgets put them over the 15-mill limit seem to be over by smaller-margins than last year.

Emerson said a higher Oakland County equalized valuation, or tax base; pared-down school and county budgets; and voted extra taxes for school operating costs have helped ease the financial pinch this year.

The total county equalized valuation this year is $966,608,754—about $121,000,000 higher than last year.

The tax board disregarded Michigan Attorney General Frank Millard's recent opinion that all local taxes should be levied on state equalized valuation. They accepted county equalized valuation as the tax base.

Teacher Saves Boy From Serious Injury

Quick action by a Pontiac High School shop instructor saved a student from serious injury yesterday when oxygen the boy was working near ignited, setting the youth's clothes on fire.

James Blackwell, 18, son of John Blackwell of 346 S. Marshall St., was working around an oxygen cylinder when his clothes were suddenly set aflame.

The instructor, Everett Myer, rushed to the boy's aid and smothered the fire by rolling him on the floor.

Cause of the fire is not known, school officials said today.

The youth is reported in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with first and second degree burns of the arms and chest.

Fear Loss of Local Control

County Schoolmen Buck Citizens' Plan

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

Oakland County school superintendents today announced that they will not support a constitutional amendment proposed by the Michigan Better Schools Committee because "it would deprive districts of local control."

The proposal would also deprive districts of funds they now receive, the superintendents said.

By unanimous approval, the county superintendents' association Wednesday adopted a six-point resolution pinpointing its reasons for opposing this recently formed group's ideas for school reorganization and financing.

The MBSC has stated it hopes to circulate petitions to get its proposal placed on the November ballot. The proposition is designed to counter the Conlin Plan (an amendment approved for ballot presentation this fall.)

William J. Emerson, Oakland County superintendent of schools and spokesman for the local superintendents, stated their reasons for opposition. He said the MBSC plan would:

1—Remove substantial amounts of school revenue from 15 of 25 large school districts in Oakland County at a time when they are hard-pressed for funds.

2—Put in the hands of a single state school authority the power of school fund distribution. Now it is governed by a state legislative formula.

3—Freeze into the Constitution a provision for distribution of money to school districts which are now provided for by act of legislature.

4—Guarantee permanent advantage to large school districts which operate a four-year college program. Encourage large places to establish colleges and discourage small areas from forming higher education facilities.

5—Entitle certain wealthy districts to grants of monies which they are not now receiving.

6—Take away from the Legislature "Policy power" which requires that districts in order to receive monies must guarantee a certain educational performance.

Dr. A. J. Phillips, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association, spoke before the superintendents Wednesday and stated that the MEA is appropriating a fund to "fight this proposal" if it does get on the fall ballot.

May Shift Market Building for More Public Parking

Pontiac may dismantle the market building at 40 Mill St., reassemble it at another location for city use, and utilize the Mill street space for additional public parking.

The City Commission will meet in special session at 7:30 tonight in the municipal court room to discuss the proposal.

The city-owned building would be dismantled and carted to another lot for reassembly, according to City Manager Walter K. Willman. It could then be used to house Department of Public Works equipment, he explained.

If commissioners decide to move the building, about 90 parking meters could be installed as a supplement to the 250-meter municipal lot now under construction behind the market, said Willman.

Commissioners will also consider the future development of water and sewer facilities to allow construction of more housing units within Pontiac, the city manager stated.

Auxiliary Police Program Explained to 15 Recruits by Chief Ralph W. Moxley

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—An explanation of the various phases of the local civil defense program and how the auxiliary police division fits into the overall picture was given to 15 recruits by Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley last night.

The auxiliary police group is one of the first to reorganize under the city's revitalized program, prompted in part by last year's Flint and Milford tornadoes.

Moxley explained that the two most important tasks in case of an emergency would be handling first-aid cases and traffic direction.

At such time, Moxley said, "there would be a tremendous traffic problem, inasmuch as Woodward

He stressed the importance of keeping the group active until an emergency should arise. "We have planned an extensive training program to keep active right along," he said, "because interest wanes otherwise."

Moxley said the men will be used at sporting events and parades. Regular monthly meetings will be held and each man will spend one evening a month riding with police officers in a patrol car. June 15 is the next scheduled meeting date.

Lewis C. Jarrendt, Oakland County civil defense director, spoke on how civil defense in the county ties into the state program. Local Deputy Director Roland Reese outlined operations for the city, briefly explaining functions of the nine other departments.

eral had cooperated with the senator's probe of alleged Communist espionage in the secret radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

The Dirksen-Stevens calls dealt with these issues:

1. Stevens' charge that McCarthy had "abused and humiliated" Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, a witness in the case of Maj. Irving Peress, Dental Corps officer who was promoted and honorably discharged after refusing to say whether he was a Communist.

2. The now famous secret meeting of Feb. 24 held by Stevens, McCarthy, Mundt, Dirksen and Potter, in which the Army secretary agreed to a "memo of understanding" promising to make Peress case witnesses available to McCarthy, a promise which reversed Stevens' previous stand.

3. Stevens' complaint that the press viewed the memo as his "capitulation" to McCarthy, and that he feared he would be called a "yellow belly."

4. The "roundup" by Dirksen of "Karl," "Dick," "Charlie" and "Jerry" in an attempt to find a truce formula acceptable to both Stevens and McCarthy.

5. Stevens' assertion that "I can't buy" the peace plan — which presumably involved an attempt to rewrite the "memo of understanding" in order to make it clear that there was no "capitulation" by the secretary.

The transcript showed that on Feb. 25, Stevens told Dirksen: "I am going to have to do something. It may get drastic. I don't want to do anything until all you fine fellows that are working on these big problems tell me what you think, but I am not going to leave it where it is. I think I have been absolutely crucified and the services along with me."

McCarthy did not interrupt while Dirksen was reading the notes on the three monitored calls, but later defended his handling of Zwicker, and was backed up by Cohn, who swore that the general had been given "every consideration" and had in no way been "abused or humiliated."

In another development, McCarthy announced that, as recommended by the subcommittee, he had offered to give the Defense Department the names of the 130-odd Communists the senator says have infiltrated defense plants.

But, he said, Assistant Defense Secretary Fred Seaton had stated that the Pentagon "hadn't made up its mind" as to whether it wanted the information.

The committee recessed at 12:38 p.m. (EDT) until 2 p.m., with the final event of the morning session the presentation of a birthday cake to Mundt by his colleagues. The investigation chairman is 54 today.

Earlier, in executive session, the subcommittee agreed to give Assistant Defense Secretary H. Struve Hensel the minutes of a closed meeting May 17.

Hensel has said that he was told McCarthy, at that meeting, admitted his charges against the assistant defense chief were without foundation.

Hensel was dismissed last week as a principal in the controversy but McCarthy said at the time that he was not "withdrawing" his charge that Hensel "masterminded" the Army charges in the case of Pvt. G. David Schine.

McCarthy charged Hensel did this to thwart a probe of alleged improper activities as a Navy procurement officer in World War II.

Acting subcommittee Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) said the transcript of the May 17 meeting would be furnished to Hensel and other interested parties but would not be made public.

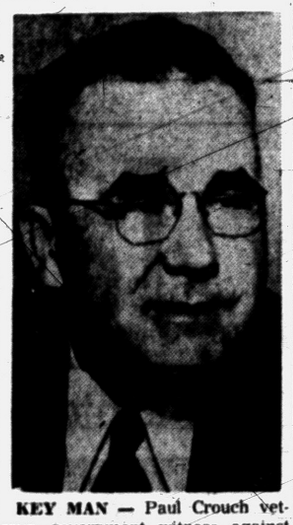

Dirksen then won consent to read the transcripts of his phone talks with Stevens, two last Feb. 20 and one on Feb. 25.

The first, on Feb. 20, involved Stevens telling him that McCarthy had asked him if he "would accept a subpoena" the following Tuesday and Stevens replying "I will take it under advisement."

Stevens said: "It wound up with his subpoenaing me for 10 o'clock Tuesday morning."

Dirksen said the conversation related to a hearing two days beforehand at which McCarthy questioned Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, commandant of Camp Kilmer, N. J., where Peress had been stationed. Stevens had accused McCarthy of "abusing" Zwicker.

The next call, Dirksen said, was Feb. 25, a day after Stevens met with McCarthy, Mundt and Dirksen, and agreed on a "memorandum of understanding" which the press interpreted as a capitulation by Stevens.

KEY MAN — Paul Crouch veteran government witness against Communists, is being investigated by the Justice Department for possibly giving conflicting testimony in two federal cases. The Crouch report on communism has also been introduced in the McCarthy-Army dispute.

MIG Shoots Down Belgian Airplane

authorities on Graz' Thalerof Airfield, where the plane landed.

Although the British Embassy here said the DC3 was attacked over Maribor, Yugoslavia, about 50 miles from the Hungarian frontier, the British co-pilot said the incident took place at Murska Sobota, only 12 miles from the Hungarian border. The Austrian, Yugoslav and Hungarian borders are all in this general area.

A second transport in the piglift operated by the Sabena Air Line flew on to Belgrade without incident.

The Belgian Legation at Belgrade quoted the crew of this second plane as having intercepted a message from the attacked plane saying Soviet fighters were after it. However, the pilot of the second plane had not seen the attack and knew nothing about it except what he had heard on the radio.

The Sabena planes have been carrying pigs from Britain to Belgrade for the use of the Yugoslav government since May 24.

Three Pontiac Women Charged With Burglary of Restaurant

Three Pontiac women charged with nighttime breaking and entering were implicated by witnesses in Circuit Court today who said they saw them force their way into a restaurant at 490 S. Sanford St. April 23.

Buddy Sabourin, 16, of 552 Community Ave., told the jury of six men and six women that he and two companions watched the breakin from the back porch of a nearby home and called police after the women entered the building.

Charlotte M. Gunther, 37, of 77 Douglas St., Martha Holsworth, 21, and Claudine Carter, 18, no known addresses, claim they saw three boys running from the building and entered to investigate.

Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor Homer George Gerue called seven witnesses to the stand before he rested the state's case this morning.

Defense attorney Mitchell L. Bacow said he expects to call three defense witnesses today before Judge Frank L. Doty turns the case over to the jurors for a verdict.

Arresting officers testified today that they arrested Mrs. Guinther and Mrs. Holsworth inside the restaurant and confiscated quantities of candy and chewing gum. Miss Carter was arrested while waiting outside the restaurant in an auto, police said.

The three are free on $500 bond.

Jackson Officials Visit Pontiac to See City Hall

Jackson City Manager Joseph Warren and Mayor James House were in Pontiac Wednesday afternoon for a tour of the new city hall conducted by Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Jackson is in the process of planning a new municipal building and the officials were interested in learning from Pontiac's experience, Willman said. In the morning they inspected the Royal Oak City Hall, Willman added.

Farm Operator Must Rebuild Ancient Wall

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A farm operator was faced today with the Humpty-Dumpty task of putting the wall together again.

Mereworth Farm was ordered to rebuild a historic stone fence, using the original stone. Its explanation that the stone is now buried in a road bed and in the walls of a home wasn't acceptable.

The farm filed suit yesterday for a declaration of rights after the heirs of Joseph P. Dolan, who owns the farm, threatened to cancel Mereworth's 50-year lease unless its terms were met.

The pre-Civil War fence circled the 269-acre farm.

Reporter Declines Story, Mayor Gives It to Paper

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Veteran Lincoln Journal City Hall reporter Phil Wadhams passed up a story yesterday.

So it fell to Mayor Clark Jeary to see that the paper got it.

The story was about a resolution the City Council passed congratulating Wadhams for his "consistently high plane of reporting on city affairs rendered since 1913, and the spirit of honesty, integrity and cooperation which has always characterized his work."

Old Landmark to Go

FREMONT (AP) — Members of the Fremont Grange have decided to sell their 61-year-old, two-story brick Grange Hall which they built in 1893 and build a smaller, modern structure on a new site. The old Grange Hall has been a local landmark.

Gunmen Determine Fate by Shooting Fire Alarm

PAYSON, Ariz. (AP)—When three gun slingers tried to shoot up this cattle town, they forgot about the new fire alarm.

The alarm is three shots in rapid succession. That's exactly what one of the trio fired into the air.

The fire chief, Dick Black, and a citizen, George Coen, came running. Coen, 30, went home for his own guns and, in a scuffle, 36-year-old Ralph Garrells was shot in the hip.

Garrells was hospitalized. And peace came back to Payson.

School Housed in Old Mansion

Barns Hold Industrial Classrooms, Lily Pond Becomes Sand Pile

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A little northern Ohio school district has turned an unused mansion into the answer to its need for a new school.

For $150,000, Willoughby-Eastlake — with a combined population of about 13,000 — bought a 20-room mansion, complete with a $50,000 pipe organ and six fireplaces. It is on a 135-acre site that includes four barns.

Three months from now the mansion will be the elementary school for about 250 youngsters. There will be nine classrooms.

* * *

The biggest barn will be a warehouse and someday may become a gymnasium. High school classes in industrial arts will be held in two other barns, which will become shops, and the four-car garage will house an automotive-arts workshop.

Greenhouses and kennels will be biology and botany laboratories. The vast mansion kitchen, with its three pantries, will be headquarters for the dietitian who serves all district schools. The 50-cabinet linen room will be a storeroom. The lily pond will become a sand pile.

Nobody has yet figured out just exactly how to use the pipe organ, complete with chimes, so it will remain undisturbed in its first-floor room.

The entire remodeling cost will be around $50,000, school officials say, and the result will be a facility worth $300,000 without counting the land that may someday provide sites for three more schools.

The property was the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Tucker. Mrs. Tucker died March 23, 1953; her husband 10 years earlier. She bequeathed the estate to Western Reserve University, which sold it to the school board.

Half Million East German Youths to Rally Saturday

BERLIN (INS)—Some half million East German youth—members of the Communist "Free German Youth" organization — parade through the streets of East Berlin Saturday in a show of strength designed to offset growing Western influence in the Communist sector.

The youngsters, some of whom played a vital role in anti-Communist rioting last June 17, assemble in East Berlin for a weekend of "peace" talk engineered by Soviet officials controlling the area.

As part of the plan to keep the youngsters on the Communist side, Red leaders have prepared a program of sports, folk dances and movies, among other activities.

But Western officials expect that several hundred thousand of the Communist youth will sneak across the heavily guarded sector border to peek at life in free West Berlin.

Western youth organizations are preparing to meet any of the youngsters who brave the danger of slipping by Communist police, ready to answer any questions on the free way of life.

British, French and American military bands will be on hand at the huge Olympic Stadium on the Western side to entertain during a track and field exhibition arranged in competition to the Communist-planned athletic events.

And Western officials, resigned to the fact that they are faced with a gigantic tug-of-war for the minds of young East Germans, also are planning additional events to attract the youth.

But the West faces a tough task. Patroling the rank and file of Communist youth will be the elite corps — the nearly 200,000 truly loyal members of the organization — the steely-eyed kids who have been promised the spoils of Germany for blind obedience.

The youngsters will be the watchdogs of the organization during the rally, taking roll-calls and carefully patrolling the streets as their comrade members parade their strength. Carrying the usual banners calling for peace, announced Communist theme of the rally, the Reds will stride down the broad Unter Den Linden in full regalia.

Expected to be on hand in force are a crop of trained young parachutists, sharpshooter units, the future Red German air force, the motorcycle corps and the combat troop units.

And striding with their comrades in arms will be Soviet-trained girls, who have equal rights to train and fight along side the boys.

Behind the scenes, diehard Communist recruiting agents will put the pressure on the Communist juniors to join the People's Police, or Volkspolizei. This force is Soviet Germany's new army, complete with castoff Russian uniforms.

When a youngster resists, the Reds turn the heat on. He may be fired from his job and when he tries to find a new job, the state-run employment offices and plants all refuse to help him. So, either he joins, or he flees to the West.

And many are choosing the West. Since May, 1950, approximately five full regiments of the vaunted People's Police have fled to freedom, a total of 9,628, including high ranking officers.

The Kremlin isn't fooling itself that more won't follow. Communist officials saw kids with the vaunted blue shirts toss rocks through the windows of the puppet government's main building during the June 17 riots.

With this in mind the Communists are constantly taking precautions to keep the youth in line.

But, despite all these measures, Allied and West Berlin officials confidently expect some 350,000 curious juniors will manage to slip across into West Berlin for a look at the other side of the fence. And the West is extending the hand of welcome.

Pogo Plane Display Held Inside Hangar

MOFFETT FIELD, Calif. (AP) — The Navy unveiled its Flying Pogo Stick yesterday in the first public demonstration of a vertical takeoff by a wing-type plane.

The delta-wing craft made a tethered flight inside the Navy's huge hangar once used for dirigibles.

Test pilot J. F. (Skeets) Coleman took the Convair XFY1 up three times and landed vertically. Safety cables prevented him from turning it into its standard horizontal flight position. The experimental plane rose as high as 100 feet.

When the plane is fully developed, it will allow large vessels to carry their own air cover, and give infantrymen cover from small cleared spaces right behind the front lines.

The Suez canal is about 100 miles in length. It was opened in 1869.

HELP — Prince Wan Waithayakon foreign minister of Thailand, said his country would ask the UN to send a peace-observation committee to determine the extent of Red threat from Indochina.

Vacation Show to Open at Ford Rotunda Sunday

"Holiday Hints," a national travel service display for prospective vacationers, will open at the Ford Rotunda in Dearborn Sunday.

Feature of the display, which is scheduled to remain open until after Labor Day, is an animated map showing best routes to travel from the Detroit area to any spot in the nation. Also scheduled Sunday is the first public showing of "Dearborn Holiday" a Ford-produced vacation color film showing the city as a vacation and holiday spot.

Geneva Parley Is Stalled Again

Delegates Deadlocked Over Red Participation in Armistice Policy

GENEVA (AP)—Western and Communist delegates wrestled with a new deadlock today over the thorny question of Red participation in the policing of an Indochina armistice.

Agreement on this key point appeared remote as the nine-party Far Eastern conference prepared for another secret session today.

The deadlock developed at yesterday's closed-door meeting when Russia insisted that the Communists must be represented on any truce supervision commission. The Western Powers firmly said no.

* * *

Russia's Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov reflected the gravity of the problem when he told the conference it would be difficult to reach agreement on truce supervisory machinery unless Communists were represented on the proposed agency.

Another difficulty arose yesterday when Pham Van Dong, vice premier of the Communist-led Vietminh, declared the proposed neutral nations supervisory commission should be given only one task —controlling the entry of arms and troops from the outside.

He got quick support from Molotov, but France's Foreign Minister Georges Bidault declared that the commission should control all phases of a cease-fire, including regrouping of forces, policing of ports, watching Red China's frontiers and checking on all war materials.

* * *

The new difficulties were regarded as extremely serious in view of the importance attached to the policing problem. Western diplomats have insisted from the beginning that there can be no cease-fire unless there is a truly neutral body to supervise implementation of agreements reached in Geneva.

Western officials argue that Communist nations cannot be neutral in a dispute where one of the parties is Communist.

10 Avoidable Deaths

During the Memorial Day Weekend in Michigan's Water Wonderland, 10 lives were lost by drowning.

We believe these deaths not only were wholly avoidable, but are a tragic reminder that the common sense rules of water safety can't be ignored. The warning is especially applicable to Oakland County with its 400 lakes, attractive parks and innumerable summertime visitors.

Whether swimming, boating or fishing the guiding principle is the same — take no chances, play it safe. No one ever should swim alone, or enter the water until at least an hour and a half after eating. Parents should take particular care to save young children from tragedy at the lake and see that they learn to swim as soon as possible.

Equally important is careful observance of the safety first rules of boating. Never go out in an overloaded boat. Never stand up in a boat or change places while far from shore.

Whether near or far off shore don't make the mistake of ignoring the sudden appearance of a dark cloud or increased wind velocity which may mean a dangerous squall. Make shore as fast as possible. Thousands of lives have been lost because these warnings were ignored.

Under proper conditions and with careful observance of all the safety rules, water sports are healthful and enjoyable. Without such precaution they too often lead to tragedy.

A Matter of Babies

For those who wonder why most hospitals, including Pontiac's, are overcrowded, there's an answer in the vital statistics.

The simple, and we think glorious truth is that that extremely important bird, the Stork, is a major cause of congestion. There are more young couples and babies now than ever before. The 1953 total of births in Michigan reached an all time high of 182,000, or 83 per cent more than the 1940 total.

★ ★ ★

Figures supplied by one hospitalization plan operating in Michigan tell a similar story. From the time its insurance became available, the number of insured women going to hospitals to have their babies has increased enormously. In 1940 only 455 maternity hospital claims were paid by this company. During 1953 it paid 84,841 such claims or about 120 times as many.

While the increase hasn't been as great at Pontiac General, the Stork's visits there nowadays are far more frequent than a decade or more ago. During 1940 a total of 665 babies first saw the light of day at the West Huron street institution. The births there in 1953 totaled 2,613, an increase of almost 400 per cent.

Though the soaring birth rate intensifies the hospital problem, the larger number of hospital births as compared to home deliveries is to be welcomed. It means not only better care for the mothers but a far better start in life for the babies.

★ ★ ★

It also reflects the fact that our population has increased far more than anyone dreamed a few years ago. At the same time it emphasizes predictions that this increase will be greater in future years and that more hospital rooms are among the additional facilities which must be provided.

New Hope for EDC

Action of the French Socialist party in ordering its members to vote for ratification of European Defense Community treaties or suffer party discipline, is an important development.

Not only does it revive hope for the six Nation army plan for the defense of Europe, but it is of vital interest to the United States. That plan for incorporating West German forces into EDC is the cornerstone of U. S. European policy.

Most of the opposition to EDC in the French National Assembly has come from De Gaullists, Communists and some Socialist deputies. In fact the party edict raises a difficult question for 58 Socialists who recently signed an agreement not to support EDC.

The consensus of observers in Paris is that the Laniel government would need at least 74 of the 105 Socialist votes if it is to survive the test. There also is general agreement that 15 to 30 Socialists may ignore the order, leaving ratification possible by only the narrowest of margins.

★ ★ ★

No date has been set for final French Assembly debate on EDC which already has been ratified by The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxumbourg and West Germany. It cannot become operative, however, until France and Italy have ratified.

Thinking: A form of hard work, probably why so many people do not engage in it.

Pontiac people show a continual growth in their aviation mindedness. This is true not only of travel on the regular passenger carrying lines, but also in locally owned planes. According to

of the Pontiac Municipal Airport, there now are 125 locally owned aircraft permanently based there. All of the hangars are occupied, and there are 40 on the waiting list. Mr. Hoskins states that the prospect looks good for some federal aid to be matched by state aid for runway and other improvements at the local airport.

Should Shackle Trusties With Ball and Chain

I've just been reading of two more missing "trusties" at Jackson State Prison. This makes me think that things are handled in a careless manner.

When coming back from Florida a number of years ago, we stopped in Richmond, Va., and took a cab for a sightseeing tour around the city. While going by the state prison, we saw prisoners on the grounds wearing stripes and a ball and chain was on each one.

I believe if Michigan adopted that method prisoners would not escape and cause all the trouble they have during the past few years.

Churchill Still Alert, His Mind Vigorous, Should Not Withdraw From Public Life

By DAVID LAWRENCE

LONDON — There is one man in England who symbolizes in his personality the great tradition that has influenced the course of modern history — the alliance of Great Britain and the United States — and he happens to be the prime minister at a time when decisions affecting the peace of the world are in the making.

So an opportunity to chat with Sir Winston Churchill at luncheon afforded this correspondent an intimate observation of the agility of mind of the man about whose retirement from office there is nowadays so much speculation.

The place was the private dining room at 10 Downing St. — the executive office of the prime minister — and the only other person present was the astute Capt. Christopher Soames, parliamentary secretary and son-in-law of Sir Winston.

The prime minister doesn't give interviews for publication and what was said on such an occasion must remain confidential.

But this writer found Sir Winston alert and vigilant as he talked about the problems of the day. His keen mind is filled with the vision of what lies ahead and is poignant in recollection of mistakes of the past on the part of all our countries.

Sir Winston is eminently capable of serving for a long time, though his impatience with the unsettled problems of the world are not the same at 79 as in bygone days.

This correspondent recently saw an unpublished letter penned by Winston Churchill on his twenty-fifth birthday, when he was a prisoner of war in a Boer camp in South Africa. It was written in longhand to an American relative and said: "There is so much to be done in the world and so little time to do it."

What a lot of things Winston Churchill has crowded into the more than half century that has elapsed since then! Now some of his countrymen are beginning to ask if the day is at hand when he can lay down the cares of office.

Leadership becomes fragile if a change is in prospect. For, when people start thinking in terms of a new prime minister, they unconsciously begin to discount the strength of the incumbent and cloak his policies with an ephemeral quality they do not possess.

For Americans, of course, the importance of the continuity of joint policies in international affairs cannot be overestimated. A British prime minister who is half-American by blood is a rare occurrence, especially when this is coupled with a breadth of view that comes from so many years of intimate association with the top-level men of the United States government, including President Eisenhower.

Thus, it seems fantastic to be reading in the press that the two countries allegedly have been at a breaking point in world affairs. There are often differences of approach and viewpoint, but the objectives are the same and the divergences are always reconciled somehow in the common interest, because they must be.

The personality of Sir Winston is bound to make itself felt in the British cabinet on major policies, though, as always, it must be the energetic and efficient members heading up the big departments of government who bear the burden of daily administration.

Sir Winston has in R. A. Butler, chancellor of the exchequer, a man as valuable to the prime minister as George Humphrey, secretary of the treasury, is to President Eisenhower, and there is equal confidence here in Butler's management of the economic side of governmental policy.

In foreign affairs, the prime minister has the deepest affection for and commands the loyal and indefatigable service of Anthony Eden. With two such stanch aides, it is small wonder that the Conservatives are hopeful that the prime minister will continue to stay on as long as he feels his health will permit.

Some idea of how important this is can be gained by noting an editorial in "The London Daily Express," owned by the influential Lord Beaverbrook, whose keen understanding of the United States stems from his Canadian birth and early career on the North American continent.

After pointing out that speculation about the retirement of Sir Winston had been renewed because of a chance remark in a public speech, the editorial says the hope is that the prime minister "will banish the thought," for "he would be making a grievous mistake in retiring." It adds:

"Churchill can be certain that the people wish for no other leader. And understandable though it is that he should desire a respite — and richly though he deserves one — yet he should not take it.

"Instead he should be prepared to sacrifice himself for his country in the future as he has done in the past. His countrymen will hope that he will firmly resist the inclination to withdraw himself from public life."

There is every reason why Sir Winston should carry on, especially in these times. For if he can reflect to the world his mood of peace with strength, it may restrain the impetuous and the impulsive among us who want everything settled in time for the next edition of the newspapers.

There is need for his sobering and mature approach that comes with the wisdom of years. For these are troublous times that require a never-ending study of the lessons of human experience.

U. S. Clubs Should 'Sell' America to Teenagers

Luncheon Clubbers, take heed Over 7,000,000 youth will be old enough to vote in 1956 who were too young in 1952. So use the strategy below to help combat the all too prevalent Communistic attitude and the "soak-business' fallacies. Let's quit talking to ourselves and sell our teenagers on America.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-322: Fred N., aged 42, is a dynamic high school principal.

"Dr. Crane, I was interested in your Case Record recently where you mentioned that 40% of the sociology texts used in high schools and colleges were 'pinkish' of leftist and unAmerican," he began.

"I find that many of my own teachers are vague in their distinction of how our Republic differs from a Democracy.

"And it seems to be the habit for many teachers to take potshots at business corporations and bankers.

"So how can we counteract these trends."

Teen-agers often resent authority for they have been subjected to parental dictatorship for so many years.

They may even transfer their hostility to bankers and business executives and all other members of Management in modern industry.

Besides, they are still so near the kindergarten stage of belief in Santa Claus and wishful thinking, that they expect Uncle Sam to step in and give them the luxuries that their hard working parents have struggled 25 years to obtain.

So American business and industrial leaders must realize at the start that teen-agers are potentially radicals!

They are also suckers for politicians who glibly promise them something-for-nothing.

And please remember that 7,000,000 youths will be old enough to vote for the first time in 1956, who were too young in 1952.

What is being done to teach these 7,000,000 a mature understanding of American business and political problems?

In the average Rotary or Kiwanis or Lions or Exchange or Optimist and Civitan Clubs, we oldsters usually talk to ourselves too much.

We applaud each other's views, but at the end of the luncheon, nobody has changed his opinion, for most of us were of one accord at the onset. We haven't won a single new voter.

So let's invite 5 or 10 high schoolers as guests at every meeting of our luncheon clubs.

And each semester let each club offer prizes of $25, $15, and two $5 prizes for the best essay on the subject of "Why this is a Republic and not a Democracy."

Present an additional $50 in such prize money for the best speeches made by high schoolers on that same topic, or on "Uncle Sam's Debt to Salesmen and Advertisers."

You'll do far more good for America by such stimulation of teen-age thinking in the right direction, than by donations to milk funds for tenement kids or other current types of social service.

Cooperate with the schools by having all high schoolers made the treasurer of their family for one week, and let them operate that home on a budget. Have them do all the buying and recording of expenses.

Get the school teachers to award school credit for this worthy project in practical home economics.

And stress the "earning" of money instead of the dangerous "allowance" plan, which is just the "dole" applied to youngsters.

Stress the varied business experience that newspaper carriers receive, for they obtain the best and most comprehensive business training of any teen-age group in the land.

By encouraging youth to work for money, they soon realize it means minted human energy, so they are less wasteful. They become better bargainers, for then they want to get their full money's worth.

To help in that home budgeting project, send for my bulletin "How to Operate a Home on a Budget," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
International News Service

Our scientific expedition into South America discovered coffee was the perfect pay crop. Nothing attacks it but human beings.

The bean and our good neighborly relations were thoroughly strained. Governor Dewey advised New Yorkers to drink milk. But not to get the egg before the nog.

The Brazilian ambassador drove up in a four-wheeled huff. He accused Dewey of plotting against the peace and security of Brazil's all-night coffee plantations.

The Governor had no more intentions of doing that than you have of kissing a porcupine. He was making a bid for the Guernsey and Alderney vote of upper New York State.

For fifty-two years the Avon Comedy Four has been treading on hazardous linoleum. Smith drinks his coffee out of the saucer. When Dale asks him why he doesn't drink out of the cup Smith says, "The spoon gets into my eye."

If they can get television time the Governor and the Ambassador may stage a quizzatory panel. We regret to state that some investigator has clipped the photograph of the signing of the Declaration down to just Ben Franklin and Button Gwinnett.

We would like to take the Ambassador aside for a quick rummage through his portfolio. Back in 1934 didn't we see pictures of 'em burning the surplus coffee crop in locomotives? Now we cannot even afford to boil it in lunch wagons.

Graduated Exercise Very Necessary for Heart Patient but by Doctor's Order

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

There are a lot of poor geeks who walk only on eggs for months, years or the rest of their lives after a "heart attack."

This malpractice is sanctioned by many physicians and questioned by few—for two cogent reasons;

1. Because the public has been taught that rest is vitally necessary for a damaged heart, and

2. Because the doctors who prescribe or sanction many weeks and even months of bed rest for such patients just don't know much about the physiology and pathology of the heart and circulation.

What! Have I the gall to claim . . . no, I'm not going to argue with you wiseacres or your specialists.

All I know is what I read in the medical journals, medical books and letters from real doctors.

I'm just telling you that if you stay in bed more than two or three weeks following coronary thrombosis or any similar "heart attack" you're a ni— well, I'm sorry for you.

I mean stay in bed without getting up in arm chair or for a brief stroll about the room for a minute or two twice a day, and remaining up a minute or two longer day by day . . .

This arm chair management, I can assure you ninnyhammers and your doctors, has proved a good deal better and a good deal safer than weeks and months of so-called absolute bed rest.

It was only 42 years ago that Dr. J. B. Herrick described coronary occlusion (thrombosis) — the first knowledge physicians had of the condition.

Medical textbooks before that didn't mention coronary occlusion or thrombosis. Nothing about it in Osler's Practice, 6th ed., published in 1906.

The 19th century notion that any one with a "weak heart" must walk on eggs, if at all, was simply carried over and applied to the treatment of coronary thrombosis.

Exercise is no less important than rest in the treatment of any kind of heart trouble.

Let no reader assume that I approve of whatever physical activity the individual with a damaged heart may undertake.

When I recommend exercise for heart trouble I mean graduated exercise, exercise in prescribed doses, and only your present physician can tell you what form of exercise and how much you should take.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Decision on CIA Before Senate

Is the Agency Exempt From Congress Probe? McCarthy Asks

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today that the Senate will have to decide whether the Central Intelligence Agency is exempt from congressional investigation.

McCarthy reiterated that his Senate investigations subcommittee has "received a lot of evidence indicating Communist infiltration" of the CIA.

He added: "However, until we put witnesses under oath it will be difficult—in fact, impossible—to arrive at any decision."

The Senator made his charge during the McCarthy-Army hearings yesterday and CIA director Allen W. Dulles promptly branded it "false."

Dulles said a McCarthy report last summer stated that an alleged Communist in the government printing office "had access to classified CIA material." McCarthy identified the employe as Edward M. Rothschild.

Labeling this accusation "false," Dulles said he asked McCarthy on Oct. 22, 1953, for "any information he might have on CIA personnel."

Dulles added: "Since that time I have not had a word from him on the subject."

McCarthy, who also reported yesterday that Communists had wormed their way into the nation's hydrogen bomb plants, noted that Dulles has forbidden his employes to testify before the Senate group.

This reportedly was the outgrowth of a parley between the subcommittee and Dulles after McCarthy demanded that William F. Bundy, whom he identified as former Secretary of State Dean Acheson's son-in-law and a top CIA official, be summoned to appear.

Among other charges, McCarthy said Bundy contributed to the Alger Hiss defense fund. Bundy, however, was never called to testify.

Trainmen Questioned About 2 Boys' Deaths

JACKSON (UP) — Coroner Edward Montgomery planned to question trainmen today about the deaths of two boys who were killed when hit by a train near here.

The boys, Robert Dwelle Jr., 11, and Harry Worden Jr., 11, both of Grass Lake, were killed late Wednesday as they walked along the railroad tracks.

Trainmen said their whistle was blown for a half mile before the train hit the boys from behind. One youth's body was thrown 70 yards along the track.

Montgomery scheduled an inquest for June 16.

Clardy Hits ADA as Socialist Front; Williams Included

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich), in an hour-long House speech, Wednesday accused Americans for Democratic Action of being "fake liberals."

Clardy, a member of the House-Un-American Activities Committee, said "This Trojan horse . . . has done as much and probably more than any other group in the nation to foster and promote many of the aims of the Communist party."

"It's selling socialism under the guise of liberalism," he said. "It is practicing the greatest deception of the century."

Founders of ADA, he said, "are in my judgment Socialists whether they are willing to admit it or not, for they are certainly advocating socialism." He named Marquis Childs, Joseph Alsop, Stewart Alsop and Thomas L. Stokes, Commentator Elmer Davis and James Weschler of the New York Post.

Clardy said he didn't have time to name all those connected with ADA, but he mentioned Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, CIO President Walter Reuther and Adlia Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee.

Fights Fires Underground

Denver Man Is Head of Agency That Battles Coal Blazes

DENVER (INS) — Horace W. Russell of Denver has a unique career of fighting underground fires —some of which have been burning 30 to 40 years.

Russell heads the regional mine fires branch of the U. S. bureau of mines, and supervises underground fire-fighting in Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico, Utah and Arizona.

He estimates the mines bureau's fire control which began in 1949 has saved the nation 137 million tons of coal at a cost of less than one half cent per ton.

Russell says the underground coal fire starts from several causes, including lightning, which strikes an outcropping of coal, which burns deep into the vein.

Controlling the blaze is done by smothering it with non-combustible materials or by isolating it from its fuel supply.

Where it is impractible to smother the fire, the fire-fighters dig in, and isolate the burning coal seam from fresh fuel.

Russell says there is no way of knowing how long some of the fires have been burning, but has heard one story of a northwest coal fire which was first recorded by the Lewis and Clark expedition nearly 150 years ago, and is still burning.

Hand-Carved Map

RUTLAND, Vt. (UP) — Guy Thayer, whose hobby is woodworking, has carved what he considers his masterpiece—a map of the United States with each state carved separately and fitted together.

Deficit Operating

CAMBRIDGE CITY, Ind. (UP)— Town Marshal Earl Gentry collected 25 cents from a woman motorist for overtime parking, but it cost him 65 cents to make the "pinch." He damaged the car's windshield wiper in placing the had to pay for its repair.

Man Can't Set Record Straight When Able To

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Frank Dahle surprised Alexian Brothers hospital by offering to pay for a year's treatment given him 48 years ago. He was told to forget about it—the hospital's records for that period had long since been destroyed.

"I've got the money now, and I didn't have any then," Dahle explained.

Three of the most important rye producing states in America are Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

Romanians Imprisoned

PARIS (INS) — Romanian exile circles in Paris estimate 107,000 persons are in prison in Romania. Thousands more are held in forced labor camps. The same advices note that the handful of former royal army officers in the Romanian army are placed in desk jobs away from the troops. There are no former non-commissioned officers in the army.

Argentina's two oldest cities, San Juan and Mendoza, were founded in 1561 and 1562 by colonists who came from Chile.

War Memories Linger

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — Texans are accustomed to changeable weather, but a recent phenomenon had residents of Fort Worth stumped. A Texas flag on a pole was blowing south. The American flag on the same pole was blowing north.

Doctors Suggest Parents Inform Child on Surgery

CHICAGO (UP) — The American Medical Association says parents should prepare their children emotionally before the youngsters undergo surgery.

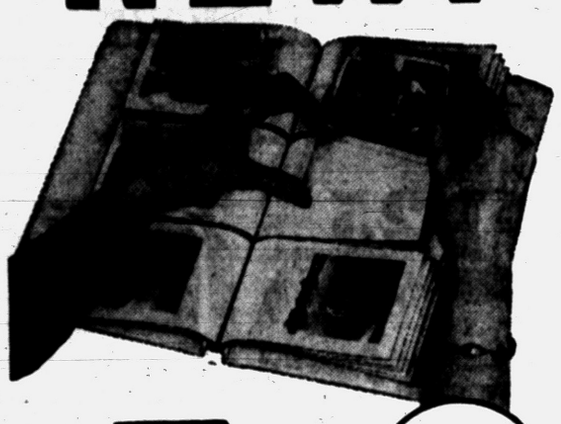

An editorial in the AMA Journal said parents can play "an extremely important role" in the preparation of a child psychologically.

"The parents should possess sufficient information to answer those questions the child is certain to ask," the Journal said.

Parents should give the child a simple, straightforward explanation of the operation, the anesthetic and the role of doctors and nurses, the editorial added.

It suggested that the child be allowed to take to the hospital a familiar toy, pair of slippers or pillow as a "tangible" tie to his home life.

Historic Guns Go to Ft. Niagara Site

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (UP)—Guns captured in 1777 from Burgoyne's army now jut from behind the somber grey stone walls of the French Castle at Old Ft. Niagara here.

Four of the brass-muzzled guns were taken at the Battle of Saratoga, the turning point of the Revolutionary War. They were obtained from the Carnegie Museum of Pittsburgh on permanent loan.

A fifth gun was secured from the Raritan Arsenal through the Army chief of ordinance, and has been mounted with the others.

English cannon of Revolutionary days are rare, and the guns at the fort are a real find, according to S. Grove McClellan, executive vice president of the Old Ft. Niagara Association.

Acquisition of the guns was the culmination of a two and a half years of effort on the part of the association, said McClellan.

"So many antique cannon have been melted down for scrap in our recent wars or otherwise disposed of that very few guns of so early a period remain in existence," he pointed out.

Boys' Chill Costs Fire Department $2,000

ST. LOUIS (AP) — It took more than a week of sleuthing by fire officials to find four boys who were seen entering a sewer manhole, slipped out unnoticed and produced a futile search that cost the city an estimated $2,000.

"We just went in to get warm," one boy said.

Experiments Show Rate of Cooling by a Tree

DAVIS, Calif. (UP) — A tree's shadow can cool bare ground by more than 30 degrees in five minutes, experiments at the University of California school of agriculture have shown.

Robert B. Deering, assistant professor of landscape management, said shade trees naturally turn their leaves to the sun to capture energy for manufacturing food. This phenomenon produces a great amount of shade and a large body of air under the trees which is cooler than surrounding air.

Shrubs and grass also play a big role in cooling homes during the summer, Deering said, as each blade acts as a miniature evaporative cooler.

Association Describes Child Hearing Problem

NEW YORK (INS) — At least two million school-age children in this country have impaired hearing and the hearing of more than 20 million others in the 5 to 17 age bracket is receiving virtually no attention. Fewer than 300 cities and only 21 states require periodical hearing tests in public schools.

In some of the 21 states, compulsory hearing conservation laws are not being enforced. These facts were revealed by the American Hearing Aid Association which added that from 50 to 60 per cent of all hearing impairments among children can be cured, or their progress arrested if discovered early enough.

Hebrew University Dedicated in Israel

JERUSALEM (INS) — Construction of the new, $30,000,000 home for Hebrew University went forward today following formal dedication of the site to the development of world Jewry and the democratic world.

The campus, replacing one of Mt. Scopus which is cut off by Jordan forces, is scheduled to be completed in seven years.

The dedication ceremonies Wednesday were attended by Israeli President Izhak Ben-Zvi; Dr. George S. Wise, American scholar and chairman of the university's board of governors; diplomats, scientists, and Jewish leaders from all over the world.

The Mt. Scopus campus is on the Jordanian side of the 1948 truce line. Despite the fact that Israelis are supposed to have access to the university buildings, they have been able to maintain only a small force of caretakers.

Jenkins Says Monitored Calls Not Too Helpful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel for the McCarthy-Army hearings, says the public is in for a "tremendous disappointment" if monitored telephone calls are made public.

Jenkins said yesterday in an interview that some of the calls "shed no light whatever" on the issues in the dispute, while others "shed only a slight light."

Girl Economics Students Invest $1,000 in Stocks

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—Prof. Frederick G. Reuss at Goucher College wanted to know if the 31 girls in his economics class were getting enough out of their class room theory.

So he launched an investment project backed by almost $1,000 from the college. He asked each girl to take a single stock to analyze and report on as a potential investment.

The would-be female tycoons have done so well, the investment pool is bringing in income at 6 per cent per annum. When profits reach about $1,000, the girls plan to set up a scholarship fund at the college.

Prof. Reuss is more than satisfied at the results. He now takes market tips from the girls and admits his own investments have done "all right."

English Taught by New Method

Foreign Jet Trainees Study Tape Recordings of Drill Sentences

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP) — Latest techniques of language instruction are being used to teach English to foreign pilot-trainees learning to fly jet planes in this country under the mutual defense assistance program.

Thirty - one Turkish pilot trainees recently completed a three-month English course under a program operated by the University of Texas and the Department of Air Force Institute of Technology.

The Turkish trainees, at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, studied tape recordings of specially devised drill sentences containing all sounds of the English language. The listening sessions were in addition to 30 hours a week of regular instruction.

Dr. Winfred P. Lehmann, University of Texas linguistics expert, said the main problem is to overcome habits of the student's native language.

The tape recordings, he said, enable the foreign student to distinguish sentence "melody" or intonation which differs from language to language.

"When we learn our own language," Lehmann explained, "we have learned certain characteristic sounds which the linguist calls phonemes.

"When we study any new language, we continue to use these phonemes. We say them and think we hear them, although the actual sound of the foreign language is different."

He pointed out the language lessons are necessary to enable the foreign students to understand jet instruction given in English.

The University of Texas signed a two-year contract to provide the language instruction.

Changed Family Pattern Confuses Older People

CHICAGO (UP) — Old people today are having a difficult time adjusting to modern society because of the changing pattern of family life.

This is the thesis of a book written by Elizabeth Wickenden and published by the American Public Welfare Association.

The 146-page book, entitled "The Needs of Older People and Public Welfare Services To Meet Them," comprises the ideas and observations of welfare workers throughout the nation.

By 1975, it is estimated that nearly half the total adult population in the U. S. will be more than 65 years old, the book said.

One of the main reasons for society's failures in helping the aged has been the difficulty in transferring to public welfare auspices those functions no longer performed adequately by the family, the book said.

It said most families now live in an industrial setting instead of on the old family farm. They dwell in small city houses or apartments, and move frequently.

This makes it harder for grandparents to serve as members of a productive household team, the way they did in less complicated times, according to the book.

Coincidence Produces Improbable Situation

MONROVIA, Calif. (AP) — F. C. Hanchette, a letter carrier, stepped up to the state motor vehicle office in nearby Pasadena to buy his new automobile license tabs. His new tab number—0061890.

He removed the old tab from his license plate to put on the new one. The old number—0061890. Said the stunned motor vehicle bureau officer, "It was a billion to one coincidence."

South Carolina Paper Goes Along With Judge

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP) — Circuit Judge J. Frank Eatmon told jurors in a civil action they might read any part of Spartanburg newspapers except the story of the court trial they were considering.

The Spartan Herald obliged. It set in blackface type on the front page the story of the trial under this headline: "Jurors, This is the Story You're Not to Read."

Potassium salts are found in most of the fertile soils.

Trap Bad Check Artist

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP)—A bus dispatcher unwittingly helped to trap a bad check artist here.

William Harrison of Bentree, W. Va., telephoned a store, asking for delivery of some goods for which he previously had given a phony check, police said.

"Where are you?" asked the angry store owner.

"At a friend's," said Harrison.

Just then the bus dispatcher's voice could be heard in the background. Police were at the bus station pronto taking Harrison into custody.

Thieves Get Big Haul

DES MOINES (AP) — They may be using tank trucks now in thievery.

A road oil company reported to police that someone took 30,000 gallons of road oil from its storage tank here in an eight-day period.

The company said the oil, for use on country roads, apparently was hauled away in tank trucks.

From less than a million in use in the early 1930's, there are today more than 4,000,000 tractors on American farms.

Senator Karl E. Mundt Is 54 Years Old Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today is Sen. Karl E. Mundt's 54th birthday and the 26th day of the televised Army-McCarthy hearings, over which he is presiding as temporary chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

The South Dakota Republican said he had no plans for a birthday celebration, that he was not expecting anything except "just more hard work — more of the same."

Bullet Completes Sale of Life Insurance Policy

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Howard Martin was giving a life insurance sales talk to Paul B. McCracken last night.

A bullet crashed through a window and damaged McCracken's radio.

Silently Martin extended a pen. McCracken signed.

Later, police said Hollis S. Berg, 25, a neighbor, had fired in a futile suicide attempt. His .45 bullet barely grazed his side and sped on to McCracken's.

Chuck Roasts Down in Price

Food Stores Featuring Round Roasts, Sirloins Also This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A good many Americans will sit down to a Sunday dinner of chuck roast this week.

Chuck roast is going to be the No. 1 feature in the meat line. Prices will be down four to six cents a pound from a week ago.

Another favorite weekend feature will be round roast. A number of markets will lower prices on sirloin steak, round steak, pork loin and pork roast.

Leg of lamb will be lower nearly everywhere, with reductions ranging from 2 to 6 cents a pound.

A large number of stores are making bacon a feature this week.

There's a fine variety of vegetables that fall in the reasonably priced classification — cabbage, cucumbers, peppers, cauliflower, squash, spinach, broccoli, potatoes, lettuce rhubarb, green onions and radishes.

There are plenty of watermelons, but quality and prices cover a wide range. California cantaloupes are being offered by many stores. Peaches are becoming a bit more common. Strawberries are in good supply and prices are moderate.

Some of the big coffee roasters say that they don't see any further price hikes coming. However, there's still a chance that retail prices will be boosted once more; some stores have not yet passed on the last rise of a nickel a pound.

Instant coffee has taken over about 28 per cent of the coffee market. The soluble stuff is said to be cheaper.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT — Convicted of being a beardless, foreign "subversive," Sen. Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, is placed in a stockade by a bearded native of Topeka, Kan. Beards were the order of the day for Topeka's centennial celebration. He spent five minutes in the stockade for his "crime" before he purchased his pardon by buying a $5 centennial sponsor button.

Handicapped Helping Firm

Oldsters Also Found Competent and Efficient in Certain Jobs

CHICAGO (INS) — Seven years ago, a great-grandmother sold John D. MacArthur, president of a casualty company, a new policy for a fast growing company. She convinced him that the aged and handicapped could be an asset if given a chance.

Today almost 800 of 2,764 employes in Chicago headquarters are over 50 years old and handicapped. More than 200 are over 60.

Mrs. Vernie Stuart, a widow of 80, is still going strong in the accounting department.

The company has been singled out by the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped as an outstanding example of private industry helping the disabled to help themselves.

"It was my experience in employing Mrs. Stuart," Mr. MacArthur said, "that widened my concept of the social responsibilities of a large corporation."

Convinced that many older and handicapped people could do certain jobs as well as those who were younger or more active physically, Bankers' president told department heads to give them a chance. "They must be treated the same as other employes," he said.

His findings coincide with a recent survey made by Ohio State University. A research team compared older industrial workers with their younger associates.

Older workers rated just fine, even those aged 70 and above. As a group the seniors had a better record than their juniors in attendance, steadiness and conscientiousness, older women were considered more efficient than younger ones; older men only slightly less efficient than their younger associates, the survey found.

Spain Becoming Paradise for Movie Making

MADRID (INS) — The Spanish movie industry is coming of age.

Flat-waving, sentimental productions, ironically labeled 'Espanoladas" by the Spanish public, are giving way to first-rate comedies, historical dramas, folklore stories and documentaries.

The discovery by foreign producers that Spain is a film-making paradise has boosted the local industry. Because of low labor and production costs a record number of joint Spanish-foreign films were made here in 1953.

The new trend in Spanish films was demonstrated recently at a glittering Madrid version of the "Oscar" ceremony.

First place was shared by "Bienvenido, Mr. Marshall," a satire on what might happen in a Spanish village awaiting the arrival of American aid, and "La Guerra de Dios," the story of how an idealistic priest settled bitter labor disputes in a mining town.

"La Guerra de Dios" was unusual among Spanish films because of its realistic treatment of social and labor problems.

"Jeromin," a historical drama based on the life of the illegitimate son of Emperor Charles V of Spain, won third place. Spanish film-goers praised the production because it got away from the usual cloak-and-dagger adventure with little relation to history.

Collie Dog Brings Home Not Bacon but Butter

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (INS) — Amber the dog keeps bringing home butter.

Amber's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Drinkwater, want to reimburse the victims of the thefts but are stumped.

The problem started last Thanksgiving Day when the collie came home with a slab of butter in his mouth. Since then, every week or ten days, Amber has proudly trotted home with a jawful of butter.

No one has reported butter thefts and police as well as the Drinkwaters are mystified.

Ocean-Flight Passenger Lacks Only Earmuffs

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
International News Service

HONOLULU (INS)—Flying about four miles above the Pacific, I asked if I could try on and inflate the yellow nylon life vest — as if we'd been alerted to "ditch" into the ocean.

The person I asked was only W. A. Patterson, president of United Airlines for 25 of its 27 years, so permission was forthcoming.

"But not aloft," he said. "I'll send one over to the hotel later."

We'd just had the life vest demonstration, mandatory at take-off on all over-water flights, and I'd asked him whether this drill might not scare the daylights out of any nervous passenger.

"Sometimes it does," he said. "Once I saw an old fellow about 70, who'd never been up before, clutching his life vest in both hands for the whole 2,600 miles, holding it out in front like a bouquet of flowers."

That got us going on the psychology of fear about flying, and from memory I told him of an article I'd recently read somewhere that put safety statistics into unforgettable terms.

If a baby were born aloft, it said, and stayed put in a modern plane day and night, landing only to refuel—that baby would be 76 years old before its 'statistical death' occurred.

"I must dig that out and read it," Patterson said delightedly. "The usual charts and tables just don't put it across."

All airlines try to forestall tension of the inexperienced passenger. United's "Flight Information Packet," for instance, shows a colored picture of a DC7 engine head, with blue and red flames shooting out of the exhaust stack. "Don't let it concern you," the text reads. "It's part of the normal operation during take-off and climb."

An "alarming" change of sound in the engines is dismissed as a mere "gear shift aloft," and using the landing gear in flight is an extra "air brake."

But these tension-pacifiers don't always come via print and picture. Not long ago, on another long flight, the captain matter-of-factly told us over the plane's loudspeaker why the "fasten seat belts" sign had just flashed on.

"We'll be running into a storm soon," he said conversationally. "You can see the thunderhead now, and it'll jar us a bit when we pierce it, but we'll be in the clear soon after."

Jar? It was like butting at a black brick wall, but his casual briefing certainly gave the air to many potential jitters behind the seat belts.

On this wonderful flight to Hawaii, however, nothing was jarring at all. I forgot about my life vest until I was handed one next day. I slipped it over my head like a yellow horse-collar, fastened the tapes and then yanked down on the two pull tags.

In a flash I knew why our genial host hadn't let me inflate in the plane. A loud hissing as the vest automatically sucked in air — I had fully expected that.

But I'd had no idea or warning that there'd also be a sound like a pistol shot right at the head.

No wonder even the leaflet marked "Ditching Procedures" says, "Caution: Don't inflate vest while inside plane."

Outdoors, in a life raft, maybe it wouldn't sound like a firing squad or the crack of doom.

All of which leads to the one and only suggestion I could ever dream up for improving the deluxe DC7 and its equipment:

"How's for a nice pair of heavily padded yellow ear-muffs to match those trigger-happy life vests?

Use 2-Eared Hearing Aids

Deaf Youngsters Get Help From Device Like Human Ear

SANTA FE, N. M. (INS) — Teachers at the New Mexico School for the Deaf are using powerful "two-eared" hearing aids these days to teach speed to hard-of-hearing youngsters.

The school has long been using hearing aids to capitalize on whatever residual hearing a youngster may have, but the dual-microphoned, dual-eared "stereophonic" aid is an innovation.

Experts feel the new aid is specially valuable because it reproduces sound somewhat as a "normal" hearer hears it.

The usual hearing help gathers sound from a single source but the stereophonic device, being two-eared, picks up sound much as human ears do.

Principle of the device is two microphones mounted eight to ten inches apart. Each mike picks up sound which is then relayed to the proper ear of the student in correct amplification.

Thus, the stereophonic hearing aid may enable a deafened youngsters to hear sounds "as they are," rather than in the same distorted fashion caused by his ear trouble. This is important to learning speech, because youngsters tend to speak sounds as they hear them.

For this reason, children trained by the new technique often learn to speak more adequately. Experience indicates many will be able to attend regular school classes following a period of remedial instruction at the New Mexico School for the Deaf.

The famous circus gorilla, Gargantua, died in 1949, and his skeleton is now mounted in the Peabody Museum at Yale University.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1954 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN SEVENTEEN

School Tax Plan Explained

(Editor's note: This is the first of two stories explaining Pontiac Board of Education's reasons for asking voters to approve a 10-year tax program to help pay operating costs and build new schoolrooms.

June is bustin' out all over—and so are Pontiac public schools.

That's one reason Pontiac Board of Education will ask voters June 14 to raise total school taxes to about 18.45 mills for the next 10 years. Schoolmen say this will build at least $9,000,000 worth of classrooms.

The extra tax, schoolmen say, will also raise several million dollars to help pay day-to-day operating costs.

School officials say they just can't make ends meet, with present income, unless they let classes grow to twice their size or put students on half-day sessions.

As for school building needs, Glenn H. Griffin, school board president, points to these facts:

1. The number of students in Pontiac public schools (now 15,800) will jump to 17,000 by September and keep going up. Estimates show school enrollment will grow to 23,000 by 1964.

2. Next fall's 17,000 students will jam schools to the limit. Several more permanent classrooms and five portable classrooms are being built this summer. They won't ease the squeeze — just contain it.

School men are renting an extra building for two classes of children crowded out of Bagley School. Libraries, storerooms and basements are being used as classrooms. The new building program won't do away with these makeshift rooms —but it will keep a roof of some sort over the heads of students.

What will the 10-year program cost the taxpayer?

Griffin says the ballot would authorize a tax increase of 6.25 mills over the 15-mill tax limit from 1955 through 1957 and 8.75 mills from 1958 until 1964.

Actually, this will be a net increase of only about 4.25 mills ($4.25 for each $1,000 worth of property) for the whole period, holding the total school tax rate at about 18.45 for the next 10 years.

Here's why:

The present total school tax rate, 14.25 mills, includes two mills for debt, 2.5 voted for new buildings, and 9.75 for operating costs.

The two - mill debt tax ends this year — so if the 6.25-mill levy took over next year, it would put the tax rate at 18.45 mills. The 2.5-mill building tax would expire in 1957 — the year before the new voted increase would rise to 8.75 mills.

"We plan to build at least 100 more grade school rooms, 10 multi-purpose rooms, a new 48-room senior high school and 48 junior high classrooms," Griffin said.

"The school board has kept its promises to the people of Pontiac so far.

"The people gave us a two-mill building tax that raised $1,665,000 from 1948 through 1952. With this money we build 45 elementary classrooms and two multi-purpose rooms.

"They gave us a 2.5-mill building tax to run from 1953 through 1957 —a program that will produce $2,660,000. We've already built 34 elementary classrooms, 14 junior high classrooms, a three-story Pontiac High School addition and five temporary classrooms with that money.

"We have no bonded debt. We don't want any."

Griffin explained that the school district isn't asking for bond issues in this election.

"We're not labeling the extra millage we're asking for either building or operating specific purpose," he said. "We want it flexible — so if building costs run heavy one year, we can divert some operating money — and vice versa."

School officials say they've a good, sound school program now. The tax increase, they say, won't gold-plate any doorknobs. But it will let them keep on with the present program of full-day classes in safe, sound classrooms.

LOOKING AT A BAR OF STEEL—To the human eye and to mind, nothing is more solid than a bar of steel. But George Speake allows the audience to listen to the rush of molecules in a bar which is the principal used in magnetic recordings.

LIGHT AND DARKNESS—One of the marvels of science, the "Snooperscope," was demonstrated Wednesday night in the auditorium at First Baptist Church.

Speaker Uses Scientific Paraphernalia to Demonstrate Passages of Scripture

By LULA OGDEN

Believing that dramatic interpretations help put across the fundamental philosophy of religion, the Moody Institute of Science has assembled a stage full of scientific paraphernalia on the First Baptist Church auditorium platform to demonstrate and explain difficult passages of Scripture.

George Speake is the scientist who manipulates the gadgets and as he does so he explains and finds no inconsistencies in the passages which he quotes.

Throughout his talks and demonstrations which are given each night this week through Friday, his basic theme is the Biblical admonition that men will be held responsible for what they do on earth.

Speake says "Nowadays it is fashionable for people to say that the Bible is out of date."

"I agree, it is out of date. It is so far ahead of science that I doubt if we will ever catch up with it."

Speake uses a magnet to begin his illustration of how everything he says "is leaving its imprint on the molecular structure of the walls of the auditorium."

Over a loudspeaker he allows the audience to listen in on the "rush of molecules" a magnet induces within a metal rod.

"Actually this is the same principle used when your voice is put on a tape recorder," he says. "Invisible fingers of magnetism change the molecular structure of the tape. And these changes produce the sound of your voice when the tape is played back over the loudspeaker.

He quotes Charles F. Kettering, General Motors researcher, to support his belief that one day science will be able to play back voices that have left their indelible mark on walls of stone and mortar.

Speake has been lecturing for six years for the institute, and as a part of audience participation, picks up whispered conversation with a "sound telescope." He causes a bass voice to rise to a high pitch by feeding helium into the speaker's lungs.

With a "Snooperscope" he picks up scenes from the darkened room which he reproduces on his tiny television set within the machine.

He observes that the cynic has scoffed at the Bible verse which reads "Darkness and light are both alike to me," Psalm 130, 12. His answer is that if by a finite mind man can do what he does with the "snooperscope," it is easy to believe what an Infinite Mind can do.

Tonight he will speak on "Was There a Flood?" Among other things he will demonstrate the power of the ultra-violet sunlight.

Friday night the audience will see more than a million volts of electricity sent through his body, blazing from his finger-tips.

Student's Perfect Crime at U-M Not Too Perfect

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A 21-year-old University of Michigan student faced examination today in Municipal Court on a burglary charge stemming from what he hoped would be "a perfect crime" in the theft of final examination papers.

Robert H. Weir, a business administration school student from La Grange, Ill., demanded the examination Wednesday. He is free on a $500 bond.

In a signed confession, Weir told police he conceived the idea of the "perfect crime" after watching a motion picture depicting one last Saturday.

Setting about to steal a set of final examination papers without detection, Weir found that the Business Administration Building was usually empty on Sunday. He broke into the buildings, smashed a glass door to an instructor's office, and took the examination papers.

He told police he copied the examination papers before returning them to the office.

Afraid he would forget the answers, Weir said he wrote them on a piece of paper and took them to the examination. He said an instructor noticed him copying the answers. He said he left the room before the examination was finished and chewed up the written answers.

He said he then went to his room to telephone his father about the theft.

He put down the receiver to answer a knock at the door and then went back to the phone and told his father "the police have just come for me."

Police said they became suspicious of Weir when the instructor who caught him cheating reported his actions during the examination.

Chicken Pox, Measles Zoom

New Cases in County Double in Past Week, Health Report Shows

Oakland County battled twice as many new cases of measles and chicken pox last week as the week before, county health department reports showed today.

The weekly report, released by Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director, listed 160 new measles cases, compared with 87 the week before. Chicken pox struck 62 county people, twice the previous week's 27.

Most other diseases stayed about the same, the report showed. Mumps dropped slightly; but a few more cases of Rubella (German measles) and tuberculosis were found.

The county report, covering the whole county except Pontiac, reads as follows:

	Past Week	Week Ending May 22, '54	Week Ending May 30, '53
Chicken pox	62	27	92
Measles	160	87	175
Pneumonia (all forms)	2	0	7

Pontiac shared the county's increase in mumps and chicken pox, a city health department report showed.

The city report, also released by Dr. Monroe, showed 22 new cases of chicken pox last week — compared with only six the week before. Measles hit 10 Pontiac people, three times the previous week's three cases.

The city report follows in full:

Williams Invites Ike to Come to Mackinac

LANSING (AP) — Left out of a delegation to invite Pres. Eisenhower to make Mackinac Island his 1955 summer capitol, Gov. Williams sent his own invitation to the President today.

The official invitation was tendered in Washington, D. C., Tuesday by a legislative delegation.

Williams telegraphed the President "I would have been most happy to be present and join personally in extending this invitation to you in behalf of all the people of Michigan. But the governor of the state was not invited to participate. Therefore, let me take this means of assuring you of Michigan's sincere welcome."

Truman Cancels Talks to Work on Memoirs

CLEVELAND (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman has canceled a speech he was scheduled to give next Tuesday at a luncheon sponsored by organized labor here.

Expressing regret, Truman said last night he was calling off all his June and July appointments in order to catch up on back work on his memoirs for Life magazine.

Because the speech was cancelled, the Cleveland Labor Committee for Human Rights called off the Human Relations Institute, a joint CIO-AFL enterprise. The speech was to have been the main event.

GIFT FOR GRANDSON—President Eisenhower receives a model truck for his grandson, David, from Gomer Bailey, of Denver, Colo., selected by the trucking industry as the "Driver of the Year." In the last 17 years, Bailey has driven more than 1,150,000 miles without a chargeable accident.

Ex-Member of Irish Senate Explains De Valera's Decline

(Dr. Gogarty was one of the early leaders in the fight for Irish independence, and was for 14 years a member of the Irish Senate. His autobiography was published recently, under the title "It Isn't This Time of the Year at All.")

By OLIVER ST. JOHN GOGARTY

Let me say at the outset that, like all political articles, this article is biased, prejudiced and tendentious.

I am prejudiced against de Valera, and glad that he has now been ousted from power in Ireland by John Costello. I am prejudiced against de Valera because he is humorless, vain and power-loving. I have always been wary of a man who cannot smile.

An Englishman once asked me: "Why, if de Valera is as black as you have painted him, is he so well received by the Irish people?"

I answered: "For the same reason that you hailed King Arthur—they were both washed up."

De Valera was born in New York where the Chrysler Building now stands. Then he was taken to Brooklyn; but as hard-to-fool Brooklyn did not think he was indispensible, it was decided to send him to Cuba. Cuba was so dilatory about appreciating him that he was finally sent to Ireland to live with his mother's people.

In Ireland, it was felt that an unknown alien like de Valera should be given a chance. A humorless, argumentative character without the Irishman's sentiment for land and possessing an incredible vanity, he was unique.

Arthur Griffith, the father of the Free State, the man who took England's hand out of the Irish pocket, was so starved for personnel that he made another alien, Darrell Figgis, who was born in Calcutta, chairman of the Constitutional Committee. Figgis, whose vanity and ambition were unbounded, left a loophole in the constitution which permitted a man not born in Ireland to become President or Prime Minister. Through that loophole de Valera came.

Beaten constitutionally by six votes by Arthur Griffith, de Valera organized a revolution against the Griffith government. Thereby he did more harm to Ireland than Oliver Cromwell did, for Ireland now had more to lose.

In 1932 de Valera abolished the Senate, stating that a unicameral government was the best of all systems. For a dictator, so it is. But in 1933 he put the Senate back again, filled with his rubber stamps. In explanation, he stated that he stood where he had always stood. A wag replied: "So does Nelson's Pillar."

Recently, de Valera declared an election and went to the country with the plank of one party (his party) against a coalition which is more suitable for the country. The country threw him out. Even when he contradicts himself, he is not right!

I am afraid that I cannot say that the Irish do not want to be bossed. And yet John Costello, the new Prime Minister, is far from being a dictator. Irish born, he is a very distinguished lawyer; a graduate of the National University of Ireland, and holder of honorary degrees in law from the universities of Fordham, Ottawa and Montreal.

The recent election was fought chiefly on the issues of inordinate taxation and the high cost of living.

It is my opinion that the recent election has lifted a black cloud from Ireland. I hope it won't loom up again.

Pianists' Cat Prefers Serious Compositions

POCATELLO, Idaho (UP)—Cecil Simmons, a music instructor at Idaho State College, owns what he believes to be a cultured cat.

Catherine, a thoroughbred Persian, perches atop his grand piano for as much as six hours a day while he practices, Simmons says.

Her musical tastes seem to lean toward the works of Bach, Haydn, Mozart and Beethoven. When he works on his own compositions — which Simmons admits are a bit dissonant because of their modern trend—Catherine leaps from the piano, pads to the door and waits to be let out.

It was not until after chests were made of cedar because of the beauty of the grain and pleasant odor of the wood that it was discovered they were also moth-repellent.

Mare Island Naval Yard Plans Centennial in Fall

Aginst the dramatic background of silent vessels of war and the towering cranes and machines that built them, a majestic parade of ships will salute the achievements of a century this fall as Mare Island Naval Shipyard near San Francisco commemorates 100 years of service to the United States fleet.

This parade of ships, to light up the straits between Mare Island and its parent township of Vallejo each of the four nights of the Centennial, Sept. 16, 17, 18 and 19, will be the highlight of the celebration planned the past ten years to tell the nation the proud story of its largest shipyard.

Mare Island, founded Sept. 16, 1854, by Admiral David G. Farragut, has built almost 500 ships, the most famous of which will be represented in the water parade.

Floats fifty feet long each brilliantly illuminated, will move slowly down the straits in front of the shoreline of Vallejo, which is expected to be crowded with thousands of visitors from the entire nation.

A stationary float, placed in the stairs on the Mare Island side, will be occupied by an out-size band. Music will accompany the procession which will be not only of great warship floats, but also of floats carrying replicas of the romantic and colorful water craft of the Pacific lands, such as Japanese sampans, Polynesian canoes, and a Chinese junk.

Two more groups in the water parade will be entries by west coast yacht clubs, and by fraternal and service organizations.

As the stately review of ships comes to an end, the entire shipyard itself, whose ways have thundered to the building of ships through five national emergencies, will be suddenly and brilliantly lighted as bright as day and a dazzling display of fireworks will pattern the September skies.

Each day of the Centennial the sentry-guarded gates of the shipyard will be opened for the public to enter and explore one of the industrial giants of this country.

Ships of the fleet, in holiday trim, will be waiting at the docks with full complements to welcome aboard thousands of the citizens whose naval power they represent.

A young woman whose family has been identified with Vallejo and Mare Island for generations, who was born in Vallejo, and who is a practising attorney there, has been chosen to be official hostess of the Centennial. She is Miss Sally O'Hara, daughter of Centennial Committeeman O'Hara.

Wagon Wheel Lights Up

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — A retired Dallas farmer had made very decorative lamps for his home from the wheel hubs of one of his faithful old wagons. W. D. Gaulden spent several months carving out parts of the old wheel fixings. He used the entire hub for each lamp, polished and waxed the metal and wood parts to a brilliant finish and mounted the statue of a horse on top just below the lamp shade.

Ike Will Press for Legislation

Determined to Speed Program to Establish Campaign Material

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's decision to go to the people with his legislative program reportedly is based on growing administration concern over building a record for the campaign to maintain Republican control of Congress.

With the target date for adjournment of Congress just two months off and with November election campaigns already getting started, Eisenhower is pictured by associates as determined to do what he can to speed up the pace on his program.

* * *

He reflected such determination at his news conference yesterday in:

1. Virtually barring from now on questions which deal with controversy over the activities of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Eisenhower has indicated several times he feels that controversy is diverting attention from the administration's program.

2. Saying that enactment of the program is so important to the welfare of the nation that he intends to give it what he called his exclusive attention.

* * *

The President said he is going to talk about the program with everyone he sees—the public generally, members of Congress, and newsmen every time he meets with them.

He ticked off his proposals dealing with farm legislation, tax revision, foreign trade, health, housing and social security. In none of those fields has Congress completed action.

It has, in fact, approved only two major items in his program: the St. Lawrence seaway and a highway construction program.

At earlier news conferences Eisenhower has indicated impatience over the pace with which his program is moving in Congress. And he has said the Republicans won't deserve to win in November unless they can point to enactment of a dynamic and progressive program.

Eisenhower aides who asked not to be named said he plans to pound at a need for speedy action in just about every speech he makes during the next two months.

'Facts Forum' Still Tax-Free

Internal Revenue Rules Controversial Program Entitled to Exemption

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Internal Revenue Service, after a new check, has ruled that the controversial radio - television program "Facts Forum" still is entitled to its tax-free status as an educational organization, it was learned today.

"Facts Forum" is financed by Texas multimillionaire H. L. Hunt, a supporter of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

A special House committee investigating tax-free foundations is looking into operations of "Facts Forum" which includes a television program of the same name, the "Reporters Roundup" on MBS radio, and two other shows — "State of the Nation" and "Answers for Americans."

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio), a committee member, has charged that "Facts Forum" is a "propaganda machine" being used to help defeat people like Hays for reelection to Congress.

The Internal Revenue Service made a check on the organization recently. Committee Associate Counsel Arnold T. Koch said today the service ruled that "Facts Forum" still is entitled to tax exemption.

The committee, meanwhile, is going over "Facts Forum" scripts for hearings to be held later.

Man Spins Grizzly Yarn About Unwanted Rider

EGAR, Ariz (AP)—Imagine Charley Patterson's surprise when he climbed into the front seat of his stalled car on a lonely mountain road at night, and felt a bear sifting next to him.

Patterson, a mechanic, had just filled the empty gas tank. He whirred the motor and headed for town.

"I thought it was an awfully big dog," he said later. "I chained him to the door on the other side of the front seat."

Wants to Meet Governors

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The White House says President Eisenhower is trying to arrange his schedule so he can attend the annual governors conference at Lake George, N.Y., July 11-14.

GI Families Invade Britain, Try Hard to Be Friendly

LONDON (AP) —A touching drama of American family life trying to find a comfortable and happy place in a land strange and at times even a bit hostile is being enacted today throughout England.

It's a struggle that sometimes is sad, sometimes inspiring, and often comical — involving more than 40,000 military men and some 12,000 wives and children who followed their menfolk to this island.

* * *

In some ways, the problems of the 52,000 are more acute than those of the two million Americans who waited here 10 years ago for the beginning of the great invasion of Europe.

* * *

Today the American and his family are thrown into more intimate association with the British townspeople. Sadly, there is not the same singleness of purpose and spirit of forebearance that helped oil the friction points in 1944.

The situation is depicted fairly accurately (although with exaggeration, of course) in a cartoon showing a frosty, tweedy Englishman and his wife glaring at a startled American airman, and saying:

* * *

"What are YOU doing back here?"

* * *

Officially, the British and Americans are working together in a hard-jawed determination to "get along." There's a sort of "We're going to like you, dammit, even if it kills us" air about the whole thing.

They are trying to bridge the gap with dances, social clubs, teas, garden parties, sports contests, tours, and "Let's open our home to each other" drives.

As a result, many Americans are finding life exciting and satisfactory in Britain — so much so some are asking for an extension of service. They have made warm friends, entered into the British social life and managed to overlook a good many of the irritants.

* * *

Others have found the going more difficult. They are unable to adjust to the British way of life. They are dissatisfied with houses that have outmoded kitchens and no central heating. They can't understand the British aloofness and deep sense of privacy. Some complain of rent gouging and living costs.

* * *

An American sergeant said: "I guess it's no different with the British than it would be with us if the British swarmed in on one of our towns back home. There'd be the same problems."

On the British side, the English frequently resent the efforts of Americans to be "liked" and their generosity oftentimes is mistaken as condescension or interpreted as having an ulterior motive.

In one case, a young American housewife moved into a neighborhood and liked the looks of the British housewife next door. She baked a cake and a batch of cookies and took them over as a gesture of neighborliness. But she was shocked to tears to find her gesture regarded coldly and with suspicion.

* * *

In another, an American airman encouraged his young son to open a front-yard lemonade stand near one of Britain's historic sites. It was good American enterprise — but it irritated the British.

Also, the British see Americans taking over homes badly needed by British families themselves, because the Americans are able and willing to pay rents which the British can't afford.

To the Americans the houses usually are no bargain. They pay rents two or three times what a Briton would pay. By their standards, the plumbing is poor and the kitchen equipment is enough to make a good housewife shudder. In the cold months, a gas and electricity bill of $100 a month isn't uncommon.

Even if it means financial sacrifices, most Americans want their families with them, and they are willing to go to almost any limit to do it.

Underground Water to Cool Hospital

GLEN OAKS, N. Y. (UP) — Underground water that has a cooling capacity equal to the melting of 600 tons of ice per day will be harnessed this summer to cool patients in an ultra-modern hospital soon to be opened here.

The unique air conditioning system, believed to be the first to cool a building without the aid of mechanical refrigeration, is built into the 500-bed Long Island Jewish Hospital, a nine-story structure costing $7,000,000.

The subterranean water, with a natural temperature of 50 degrees, is pumped from the ground at the rate of 1,800 gallons per minute by a modified heat pump arrangement. It is circulated through the hospital in ceiling and wall coils with its temperature precisely regulated through an elaborate 300-thermostat setup conceived by Minneapolis-Honeywell engineers.

This system utilizes an outdoor sensing element further to monitor air temperature and humidity in relation to the weather. In the winter the same coils are used to circulate heated water, warming the rooms through radiation.

Plastic Chip Makes Faulty Logs Usable

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP) — A "plastic chip" may be the answer to the plywood industry's problem of how to make use of logs which now have to be rejected because of pitch seams or radial cracks.

The chip is the idea of Irwin L. Pearce, a Broadbent, Ore. logger whose logs were being reduced in value because of flaws.

The plastic chip is blade-shaped and can be "sitched" across pitch seams or radial cracks in the ends of logs. It is similar to the "iron dog" in use now by many plywood mills to salvage cracked logs. Chief advantage of the plastic device is that the plywood lathe can cut through the plastic without damage to the blade. When the iron dog is used the peeling operation must stop some two inches from the metal and the cracked section is then "slabbed off."

The chip is less than five inches long, two inches deep and about a quarter inch wide. A special air gun is needed to shoot the chip into logs. Pearce said by using the chip mills can peel a log to the core with waste limited to a small area on each side of the pitch seam or crack. The chip can remain part of the veneer section or can be removed like any other plywood veneer flaw.

Use Self-Reminders

SAC CITY, Iowa (AP) — Each member of the First Baptist Church here will get a letter June 30. They wrote those letters themselves telling about three New Year's resolutions for 1954. At a watch service, they gave them to the church clerk in self addressed envelopes. The clerk will mail them as a reminder.

Japan Backs Asia Alliance

Foreign Minister Says Nation Couldn't Afford Cost of Great Support

TOKYO (INS) — Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki pledged Japan's moral support today to an Asiatic alliance against communism, but warned that her contribution would be limited.

Okazaki said that Japan simply could not afford the cost of building up an army large enough to make a major contribution to an Asian alliance and also legally could send troops overseas as such an alliance might require.

But, the foreign minister made it plain his government officially looked with favor on the efforts to create such an alliance in Asia.

He declared:

"As a general statement, I would say that the collective system of defense is the best means available to ensure international peace and security."

Okazaki declared, however, that an Asian alliance could succeed "only if it has the wholehearted participation of the countries concerned." he added:

"Thus, in laying the groundwork for a collective defense organization for Asia, I feel that due attention should be given to creating conditions which would bring about such wholehearted participation.

"The Asian must feel that in halting Communist aggression, he is defending something worthwhile."

Of Japan's direct participation, Okazaki said:

"All I can say at this juncture is that, aside from moral support, if in our judgement the organization is in accord with the U. N. charter and there is a way of making a contribution within the framework of our consititution and economic capabilities,

Okazaki explained that the size of Japan's armed forces and the military contribution it could make depended on the ability to pay for such forces.

"Our present defense expenditures," he declared, "constitute a severe strain on our still weak economy. A substantial increase will not be possible without an improvement in the state of our economy, and this in turn will require an improvement in our foreign trade situation."

Rockford Sportsmen Spear Carp, Dogfish

ROCKFORD (AP) — Local sportsmen will try again Sunday to clear out more of the obnoxious fish $in the municipal pond on the Rouge River. The gates on the dam will be opened to lower the water level and men in rowboats armed with spears will go after the carp and dogfish.

Nearly 40 of the two species of fish were speared in the first attempt 10 days ago.

WAVE SLAIN — Irene Marion Conole, 26, of Rochester, N. Y. a member of the WAVES, was found dead near Point Lookout, Md. (May 29). Police said she had been slain. She planned to be married in July to a Navy radioman.

Coeds Protest at Posing Nude for Professor

TOKYO (AP) — Fifty freshmen coeds at a Tokyo women's university raised a howl today against posing nude from the waist up for a professor's "scientific study" album.

Parents joined in the protest.

The girls said they were ordered to pose for the photos during entrance physical exams at Tokyo Ochanomizue Women's University. They were told the pictures would be used as "research material for studies on development of personalities."

University authorities were not available for comment.

Condon's Status Under Review

Scientist With Private Firm Says He Handles No Classified Data

CORNING, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. Edward U. Condon, the former head of the U.S. Bureau of Standards, said last night that Defense Department officials were reviewing his security status.

Condon, now research director for the Corning Glass Works, said he was working "exclusively on nonmilitary projects involving no access to classified information" while the review was pending.

Condon declined to elaborate when asked whether the Defense Department action constituted a suspension of clearance.

He said the current review was in connection with the glass firm's government contracts. Corning does work for the Navy Department.

* * *

In a statement, Condon said his loyalty to the United States was not an issue in the security review. Nor was there any suggestion, Condon said, that he ever R.GE area who kn3w about the review. One spokesman said the Navy might be handling it.

Condon, who resigned from the Bureau of Standards post in October 1951 to come here, once was described by the House Un-American Activities Commitee as "the weakest link" in the nation's atomic security chain. He has repeatedly denied this.

Condon said he had not been consulted by government agencies on classified material since he left government service. He added that during his tenure as a government official his security clearance never had been suspended.

Condon's name has cropped up in the security investigation of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, the physicist who headed the Los Alamos atomic bomb project during World War II.

* * *

Condon was mentioned in a report made public Tuesday by the special personnel security board of the Atomic Energy Commission that voted 2-1 against reinstating Oppenheimer as a consultant to the government on atomic energy.

Condon said he would have no comment on references to him in the Oppenheimer findings except to say that his "right of constituted access to classified information of the government" was under review.

He declared that before taking his present position he had had fullest clearances by the Department of Defense and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Senators Okay Farm Fund Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—An annual farm funds bill carrying $1,083,351,971 — some $109,108,978 more than President Eisenhower asked —won Senate approval late yesterday.

A voice vote sent it back to the House, which probably will send it to a Senate-House conference committee to adjust differences.

These involve more than a score of Senate increases totaling about 40 million dollars and two cuts of about 1½ millions in funds voted by the House.

Most of the Senate floor maneuvering yesterday centered around a 45-million boost in new loan funds for the Rural Electrification Administration (REA). That agency makes loans to extend and improve electric and telephone service to farms, chiefly through cooperatives.

President Eisenhower asked only 55 millions of new funds for REA loans. The House upped this to an even 100 million dollars.

The Senate Appropriations Committee recommended this figure and Republican Senate leaders battled in vain to block the extra 45 millions, saying it was not needed and could not be used.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) led a nearly solid line of Democrats to approve the extra 45 millions by a 42-40 roll call.

The bill provides funds for the agriculture department for the fiscal year that begins July 1. The Senate version carries more than 725 millions of new cash plus 358 millions of new loan authority. Eisenhower had requested slightly less than 699 million cash and $265½ millions of loan authority.

Speeds Over 50 Seen Saving Little Time

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — A speeding motorist is a person who is getting no place in a hurry, according to Edward P. Curran, safety director of the Keystone Automobile Club.

Curran said it is a fact that "although a fast driver may arrive at his destination more quickly than another motorist driving more slowly, he actually doesn't save very much time."

In explanation, the safety director cited an example. According to statistics compiled by the automobile club, a 10-mile trip at 20 mile per hour would take 30 minutes, at 30 miles per hour 20 minutes and at 60 miles per hour it would require seven and a half minutes.

Proportionately, Curran explained, speeds above 50 miles per hour do not save any significant time.

"However, the frequency and severity of traffic accidents increase greatly with increased speed for the simple reason that fast-travelling motorists have less time to perceive, judge and act in an emergency," he said.

"It is eivdent that the accident potential increases in ratio to the speed. So, is speeding really worth the little time saved?"

Blind Man Enlightened About His Bride-to-Be

ANKARA (AP) — A blind man stood in line for a marriage license. A friend came along who hadn't seen him for some time and, told the name of the intended bride, exclaimed: "But she's ugly!"

The blind man muttered "They told me she was pretty."

Two Bredkins Reported in Commerce Township

Two breakins were reported to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies today from Commerce Township. Both occurred on Glengary road.

The Glengary Inn was entered by thieves who broke a front door glass pane and unlocked the door. Missing from three coin machines was about $60 in change, deputies said.

The other breakin, deputies said, was at the Peirce Service Station at Glengary and Benstein Rds. Burglars broke a side window and took $21 from a cigarette machine, a tire and a battery.

Reds Use Peace Gate

TOKYO (AP)—The famed "Gate of Heavenly Peace," built 537 years ago at Peiping for grand ceremonies of emperors, has been redecorated and now serves as the rostrum for Mao Tze-tung, Red China's boss, when he views parades. The 530-year-old Imperial palace there has been turned by the Communists into a museum. The hilltop summer palace, with its temple of 5,000 Buddhas, where empress dowagers of the Ching dynasty, once held court, now is a tourist center, Peiping broadcasts boast.

Woman Finds Justice Bit Trying at Times

NEW YORK (AP) — An absent-minded bailiff slipped handcuffs on a woman turned over to him outside Coney Island Magistrate Court and led her off to the court cell. Twenty minutes later she was turned loose when word got to the judge, who had ordered her out of his courtroom for interrupting during a hearing.

Back in court she cried hysterically, "Now I'm a convict — and I came here to have somebody arrested who hit me in the eye."

Forgetting Tools Saves Man Needless Work

LANSING (UP)—Lyle McDonald, who manages the Warren Dunes State Park near here, says he's oddly grateful to a thief who stole the park's outdoor pump.

MDonald said he was getting ready to repair the pump when he realized he didn't have his tools. While he went to get them, the thief stole the pump.

"I'm glad he didn't wait until I had the pump fixed," McDonald said.

19,000-Mile Cruise Is Ideal Way of Spending 65 Days

By AL GRAHAM

ABOARD THE S.S. INDEPENDENCE AT SEA (INS) — This is a de luxe assignment: Traveling on a 19,000-mile cruise from New York taking in Mediterranean ports and getting a close-up of exotic countries such as Egypt and India.

Sunning themselves daily aboard this American Export Lines luxury ship are 450 happy passengers, enjoying a respite from their cares and troubles in their beloved America and marveling at the sights as they go along.

Every evening, as the sun goes down, the passengers forsake the open air swimming pool and their deck games and head for the cocktail lounges as this ultra-modern liner ploughs through the blue waters of the Mediterranean.

And after dark, the music starts and the dancing begins . . . in joyful competition with the bingo games and the "horse races." What fun! What a life! They say newspapermen "meet such interesting people" and, believe me, it's a fact.

A prosperous business man sidled up alongside me at the bar a few days after we pulled out of New York and opined he'd like to be a newspaperman himself. He remarked that judging from what he'd seen of me reporters don't get too much sleep.

"How can I sleep?" I countered. "Here I am, going to see King Tut's tomb, Karachi, the Himalayas, and the French Riviera bathing girls and the street called Straight in Damascus and Capri and Alfredo's spaghetti in Rome. And to say nothing of what I'm seeing on this boat."

Next morning when I was having breakfast in my cabin, the cruise director burst in. He looked at me pityingly. What fun I was missing! Seems the 12 boys and girls on his staff were setting up all kinds of fun — bridge games, canasta and scrabble, shuffleboard, tours of the ship for landlubbers, private parties, etcetera. And was I going to attend the Captain's reception that evening?

I learned that Thomas Cook & Son also had a dozen employes on board just to make sure the passengers had fun on shore at all our scheduled stops.

"How would you like to handle their chore?" asked the cruise director. "Such as sending two air-conditioned trains and two air tours into every important part of India and Pakistan, switching people around from Tour 0-16 to 0-45, changing dollars into fifteen kinds of currency and working out every detail of shore trips in twenty countries."

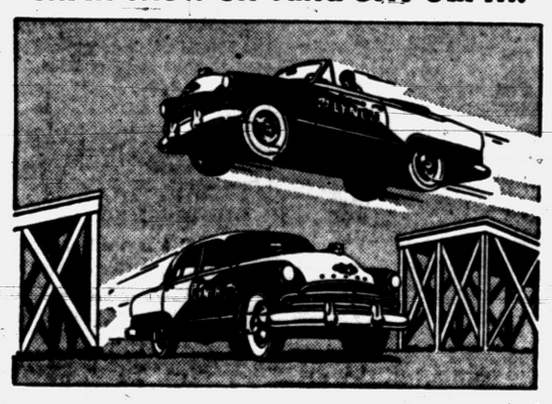

The way I felt, browsing in bed at high noon, I said "No thanks, I'll keep my own job — I don't envy them."

One quick pass through the on-deck buffet in the pool cafe later on knocked all resolutions pertaining to counting calories out of my head. How we eat!

This is the life! Days blend into other days. One never notices the passage of time. You ask yourself: "What date is this?" You don't care, anyway. They say one of the secrets of living a long life is "the art of relaxation." And do we relax! I shall now go and have an "el belto" at the bar and luxuriate in the thought that the cruise is to last 65 days. It's "a dream cruise."

Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman of Jerseyville, Ill., will be elected president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs today at the convention which is being held this week in Denver.

Guatemala, World Trade Among Issues Facing Clubwomen

DENVER (AP) — Resolutions on Guatemala and world trade barriers are up for action today by the 63rd annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Officers will be elected during day-long voting by machine at Convention Hall. Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman, Jerseyville, Ill., is unopposed for president.

The liveliest election contest is between Chloe Gifford, Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. J. W. Walker, Plainview, Tex., for second vice president. Mrs. R. I. C. Prout, Wakefield, Mich., is unopposed for first vice president.

The resolution of Guatemala is a last-minute proposal under "emergency business." Mrs. Zaio Woodford Schroeder, Grosse Pointe, Mich., chairman of the federation's International Affairs Department, has drafted the proposal for submission to the convention.

It says, "Leaders of the government of Guatemala have publicly endorsed and supported manifestations of international communism in that country."

The resolution proposes that the federation "express sympathy and solidarity with the freedom-loving people of Guatemala and assure them that free people everywhere hope that their inalienable rights may be safeguarded and preserved for them and their children."

The trade barriers resolution may produce a floor fight. It says "accelerated flow of goods and of capital across national boundaries would contribute to economic progress everywhere."

It adds that the federation "believes that a program of reduction of trade barriers should be accompanied by a program of government aids in readjustments to those persons and businesses disadvantageously affected."

Events in India and Communist China "may have a profound influence on the future of the free world," Harold Stassen told the convention yesterday.

Stassen, director of the Foreign Operations Administration, said "to millions of people in the vast regions of restless Asia, the respective efforts of India and Communist China symbolize a competition between two opposing political systems."

"How the Asian people react to this competition," Stassen said, "may have a profound influence on the future of the free world."

Nancy Hummel Married

Grace Lutheran Church was the setting May 22 for the wedding of Nancy A. Hummel and Robert J. Bradburn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hummel of Marion avenue, and the Julian Bradburns of Keego Harbor are the bridegroom's parents. The Rev. Otto Schultz performed the 7:30 service.

A white waltz-length gown was worn by the bride with a white fingertip veil held by a seed pearl headpiece. White roses and narcissus on a white Bible formed her bouquet.

The bridegroom's sister, Nancy Bradburn, was maid of honor in a blue ballerina-length gown with a blue headpiece ornamented with pearls.

In similar ensembles of lilac and green were Beverly O'Dell and Carol Crothers, bridesmaids. Carl Chissus was best man, and seating the guests were Daniel Chissus and Richard Hummel.

A reception at Knights of Pythias Hall followed the ceremony.

Caldron Holds Obligation Night

Obligation Night was observed Wednesday when Iraq Caldron 70, Daughters of Mokanna, met in Grotto Hall on West Pike street.

A donation was voted to support the Spastic Child Fund which has been the year's project for the Supreme Caldron.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held Aug. 19 and it was announced that Wednesday's meeting was the last for the season. Initiatory work will be exemplified at the September meeting.

On the social committee for the Wednesday meeting were Thelma Anderson, Mrs. John Thomas and Mrs. Roger Smiley.

New Handbook Lends Helping Hand to Those Planning for Retirement

Put Often-Needed Tools Closest By

If you're planning or reorganizing the closet where your housecleaning equipment is stored, do try to arrange things so the often-needed tools are within normal reach both vertically and horizontally.

Just stop to figure out how often you go to that closet during the course of a week or two. Then you'll realize how much energy you can save by eliminating the tip-toe reach to top shelves — or scrambling about in the back reaches of lower shelves.

Canada produces about 90 per cent of the free world's nickle.

Includes Specific Job Ideas

Offers Complete Data for Later Years

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The other day I visited the home of a wonderful couple in their early 50s. For some time now they have seemed worried — unhappy, somehow — and those of us who are fond of them have been pretty much concerned about them.

But the other day they were so excited and happy that they were like new people.

"It's all due to this book!" Mrs. L. told me excitedly.

"You see, John and I had been rather worried because in seven years he will be retired.

"We knew we ought to be making some plans for it, but we had no idea what to do or how to begin so we just tried to push it into the back of our minds. But it really did worry us.

"Then, one day, we came upon 'The Retirement Handbook' by J. C. Buckley. What a book!"

She beamed at her husband, who beamed right back. And they showed me the book.

"The Retirement Handbook" was written by a man who knew exactly what he was doing.

It came about because he himself had made no particular plans, and one day, on his commuting train, he got to asking the other men what they planned to do when they retired.

Apparently hardly one of them had given it a thought at all. Yet they were all facing it, and they all knew something had to be done.

So he did it. He worked for two years, compiling all the information anyone could possibly need in order to plan a successful and happy retirement program.

His first chapter, called "Getting Ready for Your Harvest Years," tells all about how to begin your plans, what to consider, and how to guarantee a successful retirement program.

Then he goes into "Health and Long Life," with concrete suggestions for keeping well.

There is an excellent section on "Income Planning for Financing Retirement Living," which shows how painless it can be if you start soon enough, and the next chapter deals with "Leisure-time Activities" you can be planning now, to guarantee having fun instead of misery when you retire.

Finally, he goes into job ideas.

Among his specific suggestions are "A Small Business of Your Own" and "If You Would Like to Retire to a Farm."

Best of all is his discussion of climate as a factor, and "Selecting a Location for Retirement Living."

He covers all the major states which have good climates, describing the specific towns, population, way of life, and opportunities for making a living.

If you face retirement—and we all do—take a look at "The Retirement Handbook."

City Houses Different in Many Ways

There are wide differences in housing between one city and another. One example is the prevalence of row houses in some cities and their virtual absence in others.

Allentown, Baltimore, Camden, Philadelphia, Reading and Wilmington are cities where row houses are the rule rather than the exception; in many other cities, even in some cities almost next door to these, row houses are virtually unknown. Home ownership also varies greatly from one city to another and so do the number of homes with modern improvements and higher than average valuations.

Even more striking than the difference in housing between one city and another is that which exists between different areas of thhe same city. If Brooklyn, N. Y. were a separate city it would rank 3rd among the large cities of the United States, yet there are tens of thousands of single family homes in Brooklyn and many miles of tree-lined streets.

The subject of trees is a particularly sore point to many Brooklynites who are proud of pointing out that there are at least half a million trees in that borough, not just the tree made famous in the book and movie.

Sophisticated florals, inspired by a new perfume, are the keynote for this casual, satiny frock of cotton everglaze. Gretta Platt designed a collection around the dry, yet heady perfume.

May Video Fan Delay Phone Talk?

It's OK to Postpone Conversation, but Don't Tell Why

By EMILY POST

A present-day problem is described in the following letter: "My husband and I are having a disagreement over the following and would like you to settle it. When a friend telephones me while I am looking at a television program that is especially interesting to me, must I be interrupted, or may the person calling be told to call back after the program? Could this be considered rude?"

Answer: To say, "Mrs. Jones is looking at television," would to most persons seem discourteous. The safetest thing to say is: "Mrs. Jones is unable to come to the telephone at the moment but asks if she may call you in 10 (or fifteen) minutes.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am to be married soon in a long white satin wedding dress and veil. My finace is not a very tall person—in fact, he is just about my height.

For this reason, I would like to wear satin ballet slippers instead of the usual high-heeled ones. Since several of my friends look upon this as a great infraction of rule, I would appreciate your advice.

Answer: The truthful answer is that you would not only make a far better apperance if you wore the ballet slippers, or flat heels, but it is not a new idea. Countless brides under your circumstances have done the same.

Dear Mrs. Post: My wedding was to have taken place this past winter but had to be postponed at the last minute. The wedding invitations were all made up and ready to be mailed when my finace was taken very ill.

The date has now been set again and everything is the same except the date. Would it be proper to change the date by hand, or do other invitations have to be printed?

Answer: If the cost is a serious question, then I think people would understand. But if you can afford to do so, is would be best, of course, to have them redone.

Post-Prom Party at Home Better Than Staying Out

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

So many of you figure you have to go to some place noisy and crowded after your big prom is over in order to make it a really big night. In fact, to hear some of you talk (after bucking opposition at home) the going somewhere to eat and keep on dancing until 4 a. m. is more important than the prom itself.

There's so much to be said for entertaining after the prom in one's own home. The chairs are more comfortable. It's quieter. The food can be pretty special. And a girl gets credit for having a wonderful party. I'm sure that's what this girl has in mind when she writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm planning on having several couples over to my house to eat after our prom is over. But I'm fresh out of ideas on what to serve and what to do. Can you help me?

What to serve depends on the appetites of your pals after dancing all evening, what kind of cook you are, and whether your mother is a good sport and willing to stay up until all hours to feed you.

Let's count on hearty appetites, a warm evening, and a hostess who doesn't want to do too much last-minute cooking. (That goes for your mother, too.)

Scrambled eggs and little sausages won't muss you up too much. Serve with them tiny sandwiches with a variety of sharp, tangy fillings, and potatoe chips. Top off with a luscious devil's food or angel cake, soft drinks or fruit punch.

You'd only have to light the broiler to serve up terrific grilled cheese sandwiches. Add sliced tomatoes, bacon or thin slices of ham or salami to their insides. Have plenty of mixings on hand for whipping together seconds and thirds.

Serve them with iced coffee, cookies and vanilla ice cream topped with crushed strawberries.

Beg, borrow or steal an extra waffle iron or two and have them set up on the table together with pots of jam, honey, cinnamon sugar, what-have-you. Let your guests "man the guns" so you can keep the supply of waffles coming and all eat at once.

Since your main course is already sweet, maybe you'd better wind up with fresh fruit compote and iced cupcakes.

So you won't have anything to do the last minute, whip out of the refrigerator a splendiferous sandwich loaf. Cut a loaf of bread lengthwise into as many layers as possible and spread each one with a different stuff — shrimp, cheese, ham, chicken salad, egg, et cetera.

Ice the whole loaf with softened cream cheese, and decorate the top with your class numerals. Keep it chilled until ready to be sliced. Afterward serve meringues filled with raspberry ice.

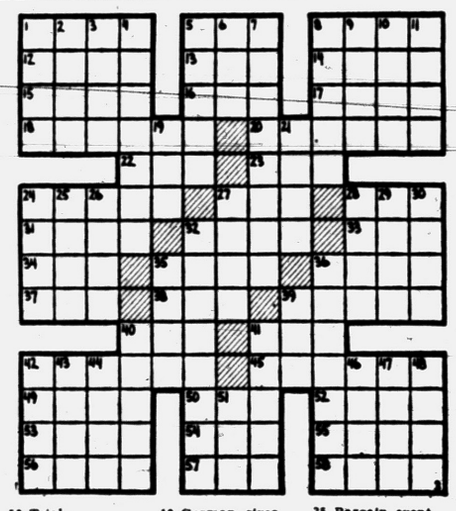

Let your guests help to serve and stack away in the kitchen. And after a polite chatter period, let 'em go home. They're coming to eat aren't they?

Put Baby in Sun for Short Periods

Let the sun at this time of year supplement baby's intake of vitamin D. This is the vitamin that helps to build strong bones, muscles and good teeth. The ultra-violet rays can't penetrate clothing, so sun bathe baby in his diapers. But remember, his delicate skin can take only short periods in direct sunlight.

New Diamonds for Teenagers

NEW YORK — Diamond rings in precious palladium, sister metal of platinum, are being made to sell at $25 and $30 by a jewelry designer here — and there are no one-to-a-customer, once-a-year strings attached.

The diamonds are first caliber gems, but a good deal smaller than the ice worn by movie stars, points out one designer.

Capitalizing on the brilliant whiteness of the metal palladium, and clever craftsmanship, a diamond weighing about five points of a caret seems to swell to one-quarter and one-half a carat. That puts them in the class of respectable stones, he says, noting that the average diamond sold today is one-third of carat or less.

He prefers to call the style a "Missy" ring, suggesting it as an ideal gift for the teen-age girl on her birthday or high school graduation. The ring is not too elaborate for a teen-ager, yet makes her "glow with pride at being able to wear a real diamond," he says.

The round-cut diamonds are mounted in square or heart-shaped, palladium illusion-type settings. Either filigree, swirl or traditional orange blossom designs are used as decorative motifs.

Handsome fabrics make you look pretty and casual. Avoid materials slanted to the stiff denim tailoring. Curvy instead of angular.

Mrs. M. — Frosted lastex with black velvet trim is so lady-like. Shirred all the way down the front, to the waist in back, it is a soft silhouette without being fussy and suggests the new covered-up look.

Pipe smoking is believed to have originated in America.

Suede Material Sheds Water

If you've recent memories of having been caught in a snowstorm or heavy rain on a day when you were wearing your best suede shoes, you'll be particularly happy to hear about another "miracle" of the fashion industry.

It's a suede kid developed to shed raindrops and snowflakes, and thereby preserve the beautiful nap of the leather on and on. Suede shoes need no longer be earmarked delicate, for the material is also dirt resistant even in the palest colors and in white. When surface dirt is present it can be removed with a water-damp sponge or soft cloth. Since these attributes are literally skin deep and not merely surface applied, the dark colors, browns, blues, are particularly alive without a blackness or muddy undertone.

No longer will you mistake your brown or blue suede shoes for black in any light—if they're made of this new suede kid.

The material is being shipped to shoe and bag manufacturers and is already available in some stores.

Steam Ball Fringe

To coax the last full measure of fluffiness from ball fringe trimming, allow it to dry thoroughly; then hold it briefly over a steaming kettle or steam iron.

One yard 39-inch fabric makes either one of these cool tops, solves "what-to-wear" problems! Team them with skirts, shorts, slacks 'round the summer! Easy to sew—weskit-style blouse has tie-top shoulders; halter blouse is cut surplice-style.

Pattern 4867: Misses sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. Each blouse, all given sizes 1 yard 39-inch.

This pattern easy to use, simple to sew, is tested for fit. Has complete illustrated instructions.

25 Pct. of U.S. Lives in Cities Over 100,000

About one person out of four who is a United States resident lives in one or another of the 106 cities of America which have populations of more than 100,000.

Contrary to the opinion of many country and suburban dwellers, not all of these men, women and children live in apartments or in congested areas. Nearly 40 per cent of all the city dwelling units in America are one or two-family houses, complete with front yard, back yard and a place to hang out the family wash on Monday mornings.

When preliminary results were first published from the 1950 U.S. Census a great deal of attention was paid to a population trend which showed American families moving away from cities and away from farms.

It is true that during the ten years between 1940 and 1950 many hundreds of thousands of families did move to the suburbs but it is often overlooked that cities also gained in population during these years. A great deal of residential building took place in these cities, too, during these ten years and this also is often overlooked.

A city-by-city study of recently published census data shows that city dwelling units measure up pretty well to the average dwelling unit for the country as a whole; as a matter of fact, the city dwelling unit is actually a little bigger and a little less crowded. Nearly 16 per cent of all dwelling units in all the United States have an occupancy of more than one person per room; the figure for city dwelling units is only 13½ per cent.

Attache Cases Solve Problem for Many Men

Gaining in popularity with men this year are handsome attache cases patterned after the distinguished diplomatic pouch. They offer the perfect solution for businessmen who carry too much for a portfolio, or too little for a brief case.

The very slimmest average about three inches deep to accommodate a folder of papers; they also come in various dimensions for standard size letter paper or larger legal documents. These prove ideal for the man on his way to a meeting or heading home for a night of report reading.

Trim yet commodious are the cases with expandable lids (a gusset of leather is adjusted by slim straps and buckles) with a completely removable file case inside.

The center of the case holds a rigid board used to write memos or letters, particularly suited to the business executive or salesman who travels a good deal.

Smooth cowhide is the most popular leather used for attache cases, with ginger and suntan shades dominating. Some have contrasting saddle stitches which emphasize the corners and slim shape.

Summer sun protection now comes in an exclusive cologne formula which serves as a foundation as well as sun and wind lotion. It prevents the natural oils from drying out of your skin.

Get Stains Off Marble Easy Way

Marble, for a good many reasons, is enjoying a great revival of popularity as a handsome and practical surfacing on tables and chests, kitchen and bathroom counters and fireplaces.

According to the April issue of a decorating magazine, marble is an easy material to keep clean, thriving on the damp-cloth treatment. But it suffers from a legendary reputation for being extremely tricky stuff to refinish, once it has been stained.

The job of removing a stain from marble is divided into two parts: removal of the stain and restoring the finish. Lots of things affect marble in one way or another.

Some merely stain; some etch the surface but do not stain; some do both. Restoring the finish is a matter of bleaching out the stain and then polishing the surface.

This may sound like a lot of work, but actually it is not. The amount of work depends on where the marble is used. A marble counter in the kitchen is hardly any problem because kitchen marble is usually dull, and so won't show etchings.

All you need to worry about are the stains and oils, but on a working surface these stains will probably not be objectionable.

The intensity of a stain is somewhat proportionate to the length of time it has been on and the hardness of the marble. On white marble, stains will begin to show within a couple of hours and can usually be eliminated if you attend to them within 24 hours.

Shaves and haircuts of the average male consume 3,400 hours—427 working days out of his lifetime.

Use Shellac to Refinish 'Busy' Floor

Dries Quickly So Traffic Needn't Be Tied Up for Long

By HUBBARD COBB

The reason why a lot of floors never get refinished is that people just can't get along without them for more than a few hours.

If you happen to have a floor in need of refinishing and it's an important traffic lane between other rooms in the house, you might consider giving it a few coats of shellac.

The beauty of shellac is that it dries out in a matter of hours and so it's possible to refinish a floor in the morning and have it usable that same night.

The shellac should be applied only after the floor has been made clean and smooth and the old finish removed.

Apply the first coat of shellac (you can get shellac all ready thinned for use on floors) and then allow it to dry. This takes an hour or so.

Now you give it a light sanding with No. 00 sandpaper to cut down some of the rough spots and then sweep and dust it clean.

The second coat goes on now and this will take about four or five hours to dry, after which it is sanded and dusted. You're ready for the last coat at this point and once it's on you just leave it alone — no more sanding.

The third and final coat takes about four hours to dry, but the longer it can sit before being walked on the better. After the last coat is dry and hard, give it a coat of wax.

If you are unable to get a ready-mixed floor shellac, use an ordinary 5-pound cut of shellac and thin it with No. 1 denatured alcohol.

Diamond Styles Are Beautiful But Expensive

NEW YORK — The impression gained from viewing some of the latest diamond and platinum jewelry styles here is that most women are going to have to fight the impluse to charge down to the jewelry store brandishing checkbooks. If the impluse is curbed, it will be due to considerations of budget, not beauty.

The collections are described by leading designers as "beautiful enough to knock a woman's eye out." Most of the designs are naturally expensive, featuring gorgeous designs in the most regal of all jewelry twosomes, diamonds and platinum. The former is still number one on the gem hit parade, and platinum is the designer's choice as the queen of precious metals.

Here are some of the "flashing fire" jewels being shown here that are making precious jewelry the big news in the fashion world.

An open-work platinum brooch, separating into two clips, has ten tapering baguettes forming the knots, and is studded with diamonds of varying sizes, many projecting on the slim platinum strands. All the stones are set in platinum.

In the versatile class also is a rich, simply styled diamond necklace with an attached leaf clip. The latter, representing a maple leaf, is dominated by three large marquise stones, surrounded by smaller round diamonds, and has slender platinum veins curving in and out. For luxury in rings, there is a dazzling style with a center diamond, ten baguettes and ten round stones forming a wheel motif.

Polish Your Hair

You can "polish" your hair with soapsuds to serve as a foil for fashion's favorite this season—the white collar on a dress, suit, or coat. Shampoo each week or oftener until your locks are super clean; rinse well, set, dry — and they'll shine beautifully.

Rinse Bath Brush

A bath brush should be freshly soaped and rinsed well after use so that soil can't settle and cake into the bristle heads.

All things come to him who waits—but it's not always the things he was waiting for.

Year for England Marked by Joys, Some Tragedy

LONDON (UP) — A year ago today the world thrilled to the spectacle of a young woman crowned Elizabeth II and this proud nation joyously proclaimed a new Elizabethan Age.

For Britain this first year has been one of triumph and tragedy.

The blazing pageantry of the Coronation was marked by what seemed an omen of good fate when the news reached London that day that a British expedition had conquered Mt. Everest. Today Sir Edmund Hillary lies stricken in the same Himalayan mountains.

The year saw Elizabeth herself make a 50,000-mile tour of her empire round the world and, if ever a sovereign conquered, this young woman did with beauty, graciousness and a shining integrity.

It was a year that saw the fabulous Winston Churchill afflicted by what is now generally agreed was a mild stroke. There is general acceptance here that this may have been the last year in public office of this giant figure of the first half of the 20th Century.

Modest, mild-mannered Roger Bannister made athletic history as the year drew to a close by achieving one of the great goals of sport — running the mile in less than four minutes.

Britain's hopes of glory in the skies came crashing in bitter tragedy. The heralded Comet, first jet passenger plane in the world, was grounded after a series of mysterious explosions in flight.

It was a year that saw Britain find an economic stability that seemed impossible a few years back. The pound sterling again became a strong world currency. The last traces of rationing disappear July 3 when housewives can buy meat freely for the first time in 13 years.

Britain became an atom power to be reckoned with. She could not match Russia or the United States in development of nuclear weapons but she tested her own devices on the wastlands of Australia and at home she was beating America in converting atomic energy to electricity.

But the great struggle between the Communists and the free world caught this tiny island square in the middle and therein may have lain the greatest tragedy of the first year of the Elizabethan Age.

As it closed there was the ugly spectacle of a widening rift between Britain and her American ally and there were those who felt Anthony Eden at Geneva was coming perilously close to assuming the unhappy role that Neville Chamberlain played at Munich.

But Britain, as always, was prepared to defend herself if need be. On the surface she was prosperous, happy and optimistic as she had not been for years.

And just ahead lay another bit of wondrous pageantry from the past.

On June 14 in St. George's Chapel at Windsor the Queen is to invest Sir Winston Churchill with the full honors of Knight of the Garter in a magnificent ceremony to be attended by the knights of that most honored company of this venerable nation.

Confusing Identity

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—A man sentenced to seven years in federal prison on a narcotics charge just couldn't believe that a former "member" of the gang was actually an FBI agent. "Why, he was such a nice boy," he said.

Traffic Jam Is Such in All Languages

LONDON (INS) — Police chiefs of seven major European cities agree that no matter what you call it the big law enforcement headache is the same the world over.

In Germany, it's "verkehrsvestopfung."

In the Netherlands, it's "verkeersprobleem."

In the U. S., it's a "traffic jam."

The top police officials of The Hague, Amsterdam and Rotterdam in The Netherlands and of Hamburg, Hanover, Frankfurt and Munich in West Germany recently assembled at Scotland Yard to swap strategies on their problems.

"All big city police chiefs in the world have the same trouble," said Hamburg's hulking Bruno Georges. "Everything in a modern city has grown except the size of its streets. They are like full-grown men trying to be comfortable in the same suits they wore as boys."

Four-fifths of Bolivia's people live at 10,000 foot altitudes.

Don't let the worry of washing clothes spoil the fun of being a mother — and a wife!

Let them romp! Dirty clothes are never a problem when you team your automatic up with all. Washer makers prescribe this controlled suds detergent for carefree, cleaner washing!

WHEN YOU USE all your washer turns out cleaner, fresher, brighter clothes than it possibly can if it's all jammed up with heavy suds.

Instead of wasting its power in suds on top of the wash water, all stays on the job down in the water where the dirty clothes get clean.

There all captures the dirt—and hangs on to it—till it rinses down the drain. all does this in its own special way.

"Controlled suds" make all the difference

An automatic washer is designed to swirl and slosh the clothes around freely, so the stubbornest dirt will come out.

But the trouble with heavy suds is that they smother this vital washing action. So the clothes just slither lazily around and come out half clean. all's controlled suds do just the opposite. Instead of working into useless lather, all promotes full washing action so every trace of dirt comes out.

The wonderful difference shows up in the whiteness of your linens, the softness of your towels, and the clear, true colors of your dresses.

Thorough rinsing is all-important

You know how hard it is to get rid of suds when you wash clothes or dishes by hand.

Well, it's hard for your washer, too. Thick suds glue themselves to the clothes and won't rinse out thoroughly even after three or four rinse cycles.

But all's controlled suds rinse out quickly and completely, usually in the first rinse cycle. No dingy suds-film is left to discolor fabrics. No harsh suds-curd remains to cause skin irritation. Even nappy fabrics like baby diapers are soft, fluffy and hygienically clean.

Specially prescribed by washer makers themselves

You may be sure leading automatic washer manufacturers made plenty of tests before they singled out all as the right prescription for perfect home laundering results.

The reason all was selected is because it cures all the headaches the old thick-suds detergents caused.

Now no less than 9 washer makers consider all so superior that they actually pack a box of it in each new machine before it leaves the factory.

That's their way of helping you start right out with perfect washing results.

You save bleach, bluing and water softener

Each box of all contains everything you need for cleanest washing. You don't have to bother adding a bleach, bluing or water softener.

Built right into all is a special whitening agent that is better than a bleach because it's extra gentle—and just the right amount of water softener for most hard water areas.

Measure out the amount of all the package recommends—and you're sure of getting the clean-smelling, soft-feeling wash your dealer promised you when he sold you your automatic.

Read all's special offer

Try all next time you wash. It's wonderful for the dirtiest work and play clothes, for dainty lingerie, for baby's things. It's recommended unconditionally for the new miracle fabrics like Acrilan, Dynel, Orlon and nylon.

If all isn't the finest detergent you have ever used, your dealer has been instructed to refund your money. Monsanto Chemical Company, St. Louis, Missouri.

Barbecue Meals! Wonderful Fun Indoors or Out

ASSEMBLE THE INGREDIENTS — Prepare your "meal-on-a-stick" with half a frankfurter, half an ear of corn (fresh or frozen or even canned), a folded slice of bacon, a tomato wedge, a whole mushroom, one smoked country sausage, a tiny canned onion and the other frankfurter half. Only the length of your skewer limits the amount of food on it.

BRUSH ON THE SAUCE — When all the skewers have been filled, brush the food on each one with a zippy barbecue sauce. This gives added zest to the meat and vegetable combination. Be sure all your foods can be cooked in approximately the same amount of time to insure success.

COME AND GET IT! — The completed kabobs are ready to be eaten with long hot-dog buns which may be toasted. Each guest has cooked his own meal and has it done just the way he likes it. Frequent swabbing with the barbecue sauce gives character to the results.

Gravied Beef Tops Rice for Quick and Easy Meal

Have you discovered the key to quick and easy meals? It lies in that magic shelf in the kitchen where you keep your staple foods. Marvelous meals miraculously come into being when you pluck cans and packages from this shelf.

A good example of a quick main dish is Gravy Smothered Beef on Rice. Twenty minutes from shelf to table, via the kitchen range. Presto, there's a luscious main dish!

Packaged pre-cooked rice, canned beef gravy, and a cup of cooked beef cubes (fresh or canned) make this phenomenon possible.

To round out the meal include a fruit salad. The makings for this may also come from a can if fresh fruit is not available. Hot buttered rolls and sweet jam are good, too. Treat the family to ice cream sundaes for dessert.

Both canned beef gravy and pre-cooked rice provide shortcuts for the housewife and mighty fine feasting for her family.

Beef gravy enhances pork, lamb, veal, beef, and poultry. It's fine in stews and meat pies; or over croquettes, noodles, or baked potatoes. Pre-cooked rice is good in curried dishes, many creamed dishes, and a host of others.

Other foods to keep on hand are canned soups (for soups and sauces), canned or frozen fruits and vegetables, spaghetti, pork and beans, tuna fish, macaroni, packaged noodles, muffin mix, and biscuit and cake mixes.

Gravy-Smothered Beef on Rice

1 8-ounce package pre-cooked rice (or 3 cups cooked rice)
1 small onion, minced
1 can (1¼ cups) beef gravy
1 to 2 cups beef, chopped

Cook rice according to directions on package. Meanwhile, brown onion in small amount of butter in saucepan. Add beef gravy and meat to onion; allow to simmer 10 minutes.

Arrange cooked, drained rice into a ring on large platter. Pour beef gravy mixture into center. Garnish with parsley if desired. 4 servings.

Carrots, Tuna Baked in a Pie

No matter how you purchase your carrots — green topped or without tops—give them good care when you take them home. Remember, fresh vegetables are not like wine. They do not improve with age.

Carrots are a versatile vegetable. We have a favorite Friday carrot recipe we'd like to share with you.

Friday Dinner Pie

1½ cups raw potato cubes
2 cups sliced raw carrots
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup diced celery
¼ cup diced green pepper
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper
1 cup water
1 7 ounce can tuna
1 can condensed cream of chicken soup

Combine vegetables, salt, pepper, water and tuna Cook, covered, in saucepan about 15 minutes, or until vegetables are just crispy—tender. Stir in soup (undiluted). Pour into buttered casserole. Top with triangles of buttered bread. Bake in 400 oven until lightly browned—about 15 minutes. Makes 4-6 servings.

Let's Crown Man as King of Outdoors Barbecuing

A man or men invented barbecues. The great outdoors, the insistence on the most tender meats, the abandon of customs, the freedom of spirit—these are the basic psychology principles that spell success for real outdoor barbecued meats.

So let's crown the "man" as king when it comes to the art of outdoor or indoor barbecuing.

Here's to the meal-on-a-stick, or a kabob. Use the combination suggested above or choose your own. Just be sure that all the food chosen will cook in approximately the same length of time.

Brush all the food with a barbecue sauce before cooking over a no-flame fire or on a grill. Continue to brush with the sauce at intervals during the cooking. When done, slide the food off the skewers onto plates. Serve with rolls, toasted or plain.

Make up a recipe of this Texas Barbecue Sauce, omitting the butter. If you have any left after the barbecue, store it in the refrigerator. When ready to use, heat slowly with the butter.

Texas Barbecue Sauce

2 cups water
½ teaspoon black pepper
4 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon garlic salt or 2 cloves garlic chopped fine
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup cider vinegar
1 bottle Worcestershire sauce
Juice of 4 lemons
4 tablespoons butter

Bring water to boil in 2-quart kettle, add pepper, simmer 5 minutes. Add brown sugar, stir until dissolved, add garlic salt or chopped garlic, salt, vinegar, and stir. Add half the Worcestershire sauce, simmer for a few minutes, add lemon juice and stir. Then add rest of Worcestershire and stir while heating. Makes 1 quart sauce.

Make Hamburgs Ahead and Store in Refrigerator

Next time you buy hamburger, get it ready for cooking in a skillet as soon as you buy it.

Make the meat into patties and layer them between squares of waxed paper, then wrap them all in another piece of the paper. Refrigerate the patties and use within two days.

Refreshing Sherbet

Here's a refreshing first course for a warm spring day. Serve small glasses of frosty lime sherbet with pineapple juice poured over it.

Kabobs Festive Indoors or Out

Kabobs give a festive picnic air to even the simplest of menus and are fast becoming a favorite for both outdoor and indoor meals.

Here's a new recipe to try out on those little skewers: Lamb-Pineapple Kabobs. They consist of little patties of ground lamb alternated with wedges of pineapple.

Lamb-Pineapple Kabobs

2 pounds ground lamb patties
1 teaspoon salt
1 large onion, chopped
½ cup wine vinegar
½ cup water
1 No. 2 can drained pinapple chunks

Mix lamb with salt and form into balls about the size of a walnut and place in a shallow pan. Sprinkle onion over top, mix vinegar and water and pour over. Allow to stand 3 hours.

Remove meat from marinade and thread meat balls onto skewers alternately with pineapple chunks. Broil 5 minutes on each side or until well browned. Serves 6.

This Western Meat Loaf Packed With Rich Carrots

The ancient Greeks had an idea—a good one, and we still make use of it today. The ancients knew carrots had a medicinal value. In fact, they valued carrots as a "stomach tonic."

Then after they were "sold" on carrots for their medicinal importance they realized how wonderful they were as food. Just honest-to-goodness good eating.

It is easy to understand why the Greeks were so impressed with this golden vegetable. Modern nutritionists and scientists are also convinced of the nutritive value.

We now know that the bright gold color of carrots is due to carotine which our bodies convert in part to vitamin A.

This is the vitamin that promotes growth and builds up the body's resistance to infection in the nose, throat and eyes. Carrots are an easy to take, inexpensive health protection.

Carrots are such a tasty food, either raw or cooked. Sweet, delicious, fresh carrots are available anywhere in the nation any time of the year.

California and Arizona growers keep the markets supplied constantly with this vitamin-rich, fresh vegetable. Look for western carrots when you shop. You will find them with fresh green tops.

They come tied in bunches, and 1 bunch will make 3 or 4 servings. Fresh western carrots without tops are also available. They are sold either by the pound or come in about 1-pound units packaged in film bags.

California Meat Loaf

1 pound ground lean beef
1 cup sliced ripe olives
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup grated carrot
¼ cup grated onion
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup milk
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Blend all ingredients together. Lightly pack into loaf pan. Bake in 400 oven about 1 hour. Turn out on platter or chop plate and garnish with fresh peas. Makes 6 generous servings.

WHEAT GERM CORN MUFFINS — Corn muffins made with wheat germ and steaming bowls of canned soup add up to a tempting and nutritious lunch everyone will enjoy. If you use the muffin mix, just add the wheat germ to the dry mix and go ahead as you always do.

Way to Enrich Corn Muffins:

Corn muffins served warm are delicious for lunch and they are especially tasty with the nutlike flavor of wheat germ. Wheat germ adds so much food value to breads that they are a real nutritious bonus to any meal.

Wheat germ contains protein, thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, vitamin E, iron, phosphorus and the natural oil of wheat germ. These nutrients are vital for good health and should be included in meals everyday.

Buy wheat germ at your grocer's in vacuum-packed jars and plan to use it in menus each day. Guard the health of your family with wheat germ.

Wheat Germ Corn Muffins

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon paprika
3 tablespoons sugar
⅔ cup yellow corn meal
⅓ cup wheat germ
1 egg
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift flour, baking powder, salt, paprika and sugar together. Stir in corn meal and wheat germ. In a bowl, combine egg and milk; add melted shortening. Add egg-milk mixture to dry ingredients and stir until dry ingredients are just moistened. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Bake in 425 oven 25 minutes. Makes 10 muffins.

Types of Fat Not So Hard to Understand

Do all the terms used in connection with the various kinds of shortening confuse you? Perhaps the following explanations will help.

Hydrogenation is a process by which an oil or semi-liquid fat is combined with more hydrogen to change the soft fats to harder fats of the desired consistency.

Texturated refers to a process of beating or whipping a fat to give it a creamy consistency.

Vegetable shortening refers to fats made from vegetable oils such as cotton, soy, corn or peanut oils.

Meat fats refers to fats rendered from trimmed fat from pork (lard) and beef (suet). Animal fats are the same as meat fats.

Butter and margarine are about 80 per cent fat. When used to replace a 100 per cent fat or shortening in baking, a correction should be made to increase the fat content of that to shortening.

Honey Pairs Off With Lemons, Puddings, Too

Honey is a good mixer. For example, look at the grace with which honey pairs off with the sour lemon:

Nothing soothes a throat-tickling cough as quickly as equal parts of lemon juice and honey. It is a home-made remedy that can be quickly stirred up.

Lemonade sweetened with honey—have you ever tried it? The beverage is smooth and most delectable. For a little change, try serving it hot.

Lemon and honey - sweetened sauces go well over cottage puddings, apple dumplings, hot gingerbread, and Brown Betty.

Have you ever tried pouring honey over the lemon sherbet you serve for a luncheon dessert? Do! It will cause much comment on your clever idea.

They Won't Forget Crisp Nut Cookies

Brown - sugar flavor and flecks of chocolate make these cookies something to remember.

Crisp Walnut Drop Cookies

1½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
½ cup finely cut semi-sweet chocolate
½ cup chopped walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, brown sugar and vanilla; beat in egg thoroughly.

Stir in sifted dry ingredients until blended; stir in chocolate and walnuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Bake in 375 oven 10 to 12 minutes.

Remove to wire rack with spatula to cool. Makes about 3½ dozen cookies.

Creamed Carrots, Celery Delicious With Roasts

Cut raw carrots and celery in pieces about the same size; cook together in a small amount of boiling salted water just until tender. Drain and add to a well-seasoned cream sauce.

Turn into a casserole, top with buttered crumbs and brown in a hot oven or under the broiler.

Delicious for a company meal featuring roast beef or lamb; good with chicken or duck, too.

Honey comes in different flavors, depending on the floral source used by the honey bee.

Quarter Century Shows Big Change in Cookbooks

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

I have before me the twentieth and the thirty-first editions of the Settlement Cookbook (Simon and Schuster $2.95). One is the cookbook with which I started housekeeping; the other is the 1954 edition of the same book.

Lately I have been looking over several older cookbooks, most of which were published in the twenties. Miss Shelley of the Pontiac Library thought of me when she was weeding out her book shelves at home and gave me some older recipe books.

What a difference there is between the cookbooks of today and those of a quarter of a century ago. A comparison of the two shows what a long way we have come in the food field.

A couple of years ago the Settlement Cookbook celebrated its half century of progress. It was originally published by a group of women working in a Milwaukee Settlement house, teaching new immigrants the ways of American life.

The board of directors (all men!) refused to allocate $18 for the women to publish a series of cooking lessons for the pupils. Undaunted, the ladies went out and sold advertisements, then combined the ads with food lessons for their students and many of their own treasured recipes.

The result was the Settlement Cookbook. The first edition sold out at once, and the demand has never diminished. To date, more than a million copies have been sold all over the world. Any profits are used for philanthropic purposes.

Simon and Schuster now publish the book, although it was for years put out by a Milwaukee publishing house.

I was raised on this cookbook. My mother considers her edition to be the one really good one. I happen to like the one I have. No doubt women who buy this new edition won't want to exchange it for any other.

During Prohibition the editions omitted all recipes calling for wines and liquors. Later editions included them.

In fact, when a reader recently sent in a request for a Dandelion Wine recipe, it was to the Settlement Cookbook that I turned. Sure enough, there was the recipe, no doubt the one my grandmother used many years ago.

The editors have kept the old in the book: Beer soup, Wiener Schnitzel, Schnecken and how to make your own sauerkraut. But the new is also there: Chiffon Cakes, pressure cooker meals, freezing foods, and a whole section of recipes using sugar substitutes just recently available.

It's a fine cookbook—it always has been. It is a short course in nutrition.

It has all sorts of interesting household information from how to start a wood and coal fire in a coal stove (honestly), to how to serve a formal meal without a maid.

I know the recipes are good; I have used hundreds of them over the years. They have all been tested in home kitchens before being printed in the book. They are a mixture of what we would term plain ordinary food and gourmet food.

STEAK WITH WATER-FRIED ONIONS — If you just love fried onions but hesitate to fix them because of the fat they're cooked in, do try onions fried in water. Top broiled hamburger steak with these succulent onions and serve with parsley flecked potatoes. Perfect food for dieters.

Onions Browned in Water Perfect Over Hamburger

Just to be different, and because it tastes as good as it sounds, serve this hamburger steak loaf with water-fried onions . . . let the head of the house do the carving.

If you wish, prepare the steak several days in advance of serving and freeze it. Calorie counters will love you for serving it with water-fried onions (no fat involved). MSG sprinkled on liberally helps to soften sharp onion flavors.

Broil the hamburger steak as you would a choice steak, adding enough MSG to bring out all the succulent beef goodness. Serve the steak loaf crowned with the onions, on a piping hot platter.

Surround with tiny, parsley potatoes . . . canned ones will do nicely. Seconds, anyone?

Hamburger Steak Loaf

2 pounds lean beef, ground
2 cups soft bread crumbs
⅓ cup milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon MSG*
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup catsup

Combine all ingredients; mix well; shape into oval loaf about 1½ inches thick. Broil, with surface of meat 4 inches below source of heat, 15 to 20 minutes. Do not turn. Remove to hot platter. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Water-Fried Onions

Slice 3 pounds large sweet onions very thin; place in deep heavy frying pan. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and MSG. Place over low heat. When onions begin to caramelize on bottom of pan stir with a fork; continue to heat and when caramelized, turn again with fork.

Add ¼ cup water; cover frying pan; cook over low heat until onions are soft and brown and water has evaporated, stirring occasionally. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Bake Tomato-Squash for Vegetable Variety

There's a fine flavor in this combination-vegetable dish.

Tomato Squash

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium-size onion (cut in thin strips)
1 pound yellow crookneck squash (peeled and thinly sliced)
½ cup water
1 No. 303 (1 pound or about 2 cups) canned tomatoes
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1¼ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon mixed herb seasoning powder
⅛ teaspoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

Melt butter in 10-inch skillet; add onion and cook over low heat, stirring several times, for about 5 minutes. Add squash and water; boil gently about 10 minutes.

Drain a little of the juice (about ¼ cup) from tomatoes and mix with cornstarch until smooth; add this and rest of tomatoes and juice with salt, herb seasoning, sugar and nutmeg to skillet.

Cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and clear. Makes 6 servings.

An attractive assortment of cheese arranged with crisp rye wafers is perfect for between-meal or late snacks.

Know the Score on Your Butter

Smart homemakers like to know the score on the food situation—and right now butter is one of the chief topics of conversation.

On April 1, when the federal support level for butter and other dairy products went down, the pr of butter also dropped and homemakers were interested in renewing their acquaintance with butter.

Quality in butter is based on such things as flavor, texture and aroma. It is difficult for people who aren't experts to tell the difference between butter that is good and that which is the very best.

However, the homemaker has the assistance of government experts when she buys butter. If she will look for the government shield on the carton or inside the carton she'll find a letter C, B, A, or AA, indicating the score, or quality, of the butter.

Most of the butter on the market scores 89 or 90. That is Grade C or Grade B. If it is better than ordinary, in flavor, aroma and appearance, it may earn a score of 92, Grade A.

The very best is graded 93 score. That is given the Grade Double A.

Only about one pound in eight qualifies as Double A, but there is usually plenty of Grade A butter on the market. The price, of course, goes up with the score.

Milk Boon to Dieters

Milk is a boon to anyone who counts calories. That's because milk is a food that does double duty. It not only provides fuel value for needed energy, but also essential protein, vitamins, and minerals.

Dieters who want to keep their vigor and stamina while losing weight should stress milk in their diet.

Simple Way to Unmold Gelatin Salad or Dessert

If unmolding plain gelatine or sweetened-flavored gelatin salads gives you the jitters, you'll be interested in this tip. Rinse the serving plates in cold water, loosen mold around the top edge, using the tip of a small knife or spatula. Then immerse mold just to the top in warm water for 30 seconds.

Place the cold - water - rinsed serving plate over the mold, invert, and carefully lift off mold. The salad will slide onto the rinsed plate and can be centered by tilting the plate slightly as needed.

Teenage Party Dessert

Want to serve an extra-special ice cream dessert at a teenage gathering? Have three different flavors of ice cream on hand.

At serving time put a portion of chocolate sauce on each individual plate; add three scoops of ice cream, one of each flavor. Garnish with coconut or cherries.

New Canned Meats Spur Steady Increase in Sales

Last year a new "high" was reached in the consumption of canned meats. Americans ate about ninety million pounds more canned meat in '53 than in '52. And now indications point to a continued increase for this current year.

Why this steady upward trend in the canned meat industry? One of the main reasons is that these products are easy on Mrs. Consumer's budget. Packers can purchase all foods necessary for popular corned beef hash, for example, prepare and can it for less than the homemaker can cook it in her own kitchen.

Buying in mass production makes possible the lower selling prices of canned items.

Grocery stores need not hire a butcher to sell canned meat products — another means of avoiding stiffer markups on these foods.

For the economy-minded shopper canned meats are all meat, all edible — no bone, no waste. That's important in budgeting amounts and costs. And, too, the tedious preparation has all been done for you — saving long kitchen hours.

There is variety galore to be found in canned meats. Beefsteak and gravy, bacon spread, corned beef and cabbage, meat balls in gravy to name just a few, are samples of prepared items. Today there are more than 70 different canned meat products being sold.

Canned hams are gaining steadily in popularity. This item, with the exception of the smallest size, must be refrigerated. These hams range from about under two to about sixteen pounds.

The trend now is to the smaller canned hams for the smaller families. Read the labels for style of ham, for some canned hams are hickory smoked for that special flavor.

Luncheon meat, long a best-seller, is highest in the canned meat line. The popular 12-ounce size is readily available from a number of meat canners.

Bacon, a highly perishable fresh meat item, is now offered as a canned product, and in addition a delicious new bacon spread has been added to the line.

Bacon Pancakes

Using 2 cups of your favorite pancake mix prepare batter according to label directions. Blend in one can (3¼ oz.) instant bacon spread.

Bake pancakes on a lightly greased griddle or frying pan, turning cakes once. Serve hot with butter and heated maple syrup.

Note: Place pancakes on baking pan and keep warm in slow oven until all the cakes are baked.

Ammonia-Chalk Paste Makes Fine Silver Polish

You can make your own silver polish by adding ammonia to whiting or powdered chalk until the consistency of a paste.

To remove stains, rub the silver with the polish, then wash in warm sudsy water. Rinse well in clear hot water and rub dry with a soft cloth.

Want to dress up that vegetable soup: Brown and cook tiny hamburger balls in a little fat, then add to the soup.

Raw Spinach, Cabbage Are Rich in Vitamin C

When spinach and green cabbage are eaten raw they are a good source of vitamin C, but most of this vitamin is lost when the vegetables are cooked.

Young tender leaves of spinach taste delicious in salads. If your family is tired of plain slaw, team the cabbage with pineapple, orange or apple for a change.

Ever dice avocado and mix it with cut-up fruit for a dessert? Dress it with a combination of orange or pineapple juice, honey and lemon juice.

Don't Worry if Potatoes 'Bleed' Red Coloring

Don't be alarmed if the potatoes you are washing in the sink or boiling with their skins on suddenly start "bleeding."

Actually, what is happening is that the thin coat of reddish wax in which they were encased when they came to market is coming off.

The red coloring is perfectly safe, according to food experts, and serves the dual purpose of making the potatoes more attractive to the eye and preventing shriveling. The red wax is used only on those potatoes which have a naturally reddish hue. A colorless wax is used on plain white potatoes.

YOU'RE RIGHT WHEN YOU BUY RIVAL DOG FOOD Made right priced right

Why Slink Into Back Seat for Clever French Chefs?

You hear so much about good French cooking — you admit they are tops in this art — but once in awhile you'd just like to outdo them with a few improvisations of your own.

Take a French strawberry pie, for instance. It's made with sweetened berries, thickened and spread over a layer of softened cream cheese.

Here's how you can make it even better. Just substitute strawberry preserves or strawberry jam for part of the sugar needed.

The result is a wonderful blend of fruit flavors, and you haven't moved outside your kitchen door to collect any exotic ingredients.

It's an easy recipe, it's your own American version, and here it is.

Your-own French Strawberry Pie

1 quart fresh strawberries
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
Dash of salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup strawberry preserves or strawberry jam
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
1 baked and cooled 9" pastry shell
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Wash, drain and hull strawberries. Save half of the choice berries and sprinkle with 2 tablespoons sugar. Crush the remaining berries and measure. Add enough water to measure 1½ cups berry liquid.

Blend ½ cup sugar, cornstarch and salt together in a saucepan. Stir in berry liquid. Cook over low heat until clear and thickened, stirring constantly, about 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in lemon juice and strawberry preserves or jam. Add a little red food coloring if you wish. Cool.

Meanwhile work cream cheese with a fork until soft. Spread carefully over the bottom of pastry shell. Arrange the choice strawberries in the cream cheese, points upward.

Pour the cooled strawberry mixture over the berries in the pastry shell. Chill 3 to 4 hours, or until firm. Spoon whipped cream around inside of pie.

One 16-ounce package of frozen strawberries may be substituted for the fresh berries, then omit the 2 tablespoons of sugar. This pie is best served the day it is made. The cream cheese layer may be omitted if you wish.

Tutti-Frutti Pudding Is Extra Nutritious

Put extra nutrition into fruited vanilla pudding by preparing it with nonfat dry milk powder.

Tutti-Frutti Vanilla Pudding

1 3¼-ounce package vanilla pudding mix
½ cup nonfat dry milk powder
2 cups water
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries
½ cup chopped raisins
½ cup chopped figs

Stir pudding mix and non-fat dry milk powder together until blended. Gradually add water, stirring until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened, about 5 minutes.

Fold in chopped cherries, raisins and figs. Pour into individual serving dishes. Chill. Makes 4 servings.

Wise Cooks Use Green, Red Color in Casseroles

URBANA, Ill. (INS) — Those one-dish meals are such a standby in busy homemakers' lives that a set of "rule of thumb" principles have been devoloped for them.

Patricia Wyatt of the University of Illinois home economics department gives these pointers on making casserols of leftovers or foods available cheaply or in quantity:

1. White sauce, meatstock or condensed soups make a good liquid or base for many dishes.

2. If the greater part of the dish is of some bland food, such as potato or rice, and the smaller part of some strong-flavored foods such as cheese or onion, the casserole will be very tasty.

3. Small amounts of such things as crisp buttered crumbs, chopped parsley, minced green peppers or onion juice give interest to the dish. Tasty sauces, especially tomato, also often give this touch.

4. Color in various foods, such as peas, green peppers, pimentoes, tomatoes or carrots, makes the dish more attractive.

Finely shredded green cabbage is delicious added to chop suey or chow mein.

Bake Potatoes Wisely and Well

One of the finest treatments you can give a fine potato is to bake it wisely and well . . . but not too long. Then serve it with simple elegance, split open with a big gob of golden butter to compliment the mealy whiteness of the potato.

Or add a touch of spring by mixing tiny slices of tender green onions with rich cream and adorn the opened potato with this tasty mixture. Be sure to use the green part of the onions. There's plenty of flavor in these stems and the color adds eye-appeal, so important to eating pleasure.

The cook-in-a-hurry can produce baked potatoes in 45 minutes or an hour (depending upon the size of the spuds) if she wants to push the oven up to 450 and keep it there. Potatoes baked at this temperature are mealy and have nice crisp skins.

But a word of warning . . . they should be pricked with a fork and lightly rubbed with butter or margarine before baking to prevent bursting open from the high heat.

On the other hand, in a slower oven they rarely split, but take longer to cook. With oven meals, it's customary to allow at least one and one-half hours for the potatoes to bake if the other food is being cooked at 350 or less.

Fruit-Rice Dressing Wonderful With Ham

An invitation to real dinnertime pleasure is this colorful casserole of ham and fruit-rice dressing.

Your family will enjoy a feast they won't forget in a hurry, and you'll be delighted to learn how simple it is to make.

Here is a serving suggestion:

Ham and Fruit-Rice Dressing

Buttered Broccoli Hot Biscuits
Perfection Salad
Rhubarb Meringue Pie

2 cups hot cooked rice
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup orange segments (2 medium oranges)
1 small tart apple, diced (1½ cups)
¼ cup seedless raisins
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
2 center slices of ham, ½-inch thick
2 tablespoons honey

Combine rice and butter and toss lightly wth a fork until butter is melted. Add oranges, apples, raisins, brown sugar, and cloves. Spread in 10x6x2-inch baking pan.

Cut ham into six pieces, and place over dressing. Brush with honey. Cover.

Bake in 350 oven about 45 minutes, until apples are tender and ham is glazed. Yield: six servings.

Add Dash of Marjoram

It is a good idea to buy marjoram in powdered form; this way its fine flavor is quickly absorbed and thoroughly distributed through the food on which it is used. Try sprinkling a little powdered marjoram over snap beans or green peas.

Enhances Roast Lamb

Mint Surprise is delicious with roast lamb. Cook 1½ cups (No. 211 can) of crushed pineapple and 1 cup sugar for 5 minutes. Tint this a delicate green with vegetable coloring. Then stir in 4 or 5 drops of peppermint.

Tired of Fish? Serve Fondue

Tired of fish on meatless days? Why not have a Cheese Fondue some day soon? It's elegant eating and so easy to do.

Serve it for a luncheon or as a supper dish with sauce-topped broccoli.

Cheese Fondue

20 saltine crackers
¼ pound (1 cup) grated sharp cheese
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk, scalded
2 eggs, separated

Crumble crackers. Add cracker crumbs, cheese, butter or margarine and salt to scalded milk. Beat egg yolks, gradually stir in cracker mixture. Beat egg whites stiff enough to stand in peaks, but not dry. Fold into cracker mixture. Pour into 1 quart buttered baking dish. Bake in 375 oven 40 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Serves 4.

CHEESE FONDUE—Golden and tender, cheese fondue makes a heart-warming hot supper for meatless days. It is also nutritious and economical because saltine crackers extend expensive cheese and eggs. Serve it with fresh broccoli and tomato cucumber salad.

Asparagus Omelet Is Welcome Change

Try this delicious omelet for a variation on the egg theme.

Puffy Asparagus Omelet

1 cup fresh asparagus (cut into 1-inch pieces)
½ cup boiling water
½ teaspoon salt
3 eggs (separated)
3 tablespoons milk
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion
1½ tablespoons bacon fat

Cook asparagus only until just tender in the ½ cup boiling water and ½ teaspoon salt in a covered saucepan; drain.

Beat together well the egg yolks, milk, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper and onion. With clean beater, beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks and carefully fold in the beaten egg yolks and drained asparagus.

Heat bacon fat in a 9 or 10-inch skillet with a heat-resistant handle, tipping skillet to grease entire bottom and sides. When fat is hot enough to sizzle a drop of water, lower heat and pour in omelet mixture.

Cook over very low heat until well puffed over the top and golden brown underneath — about 10 minutes. (Test by gently raising omelet with spatula.)

Place in preheated 325 oven until top springs back when pressed with fingers — 8 to 10 minutes. With a spatula make a crease across the center of the omelet and fold over and away fom the handle. Slip onto a hot tilted platter. Makes 4 servings.

Coffee Maker Must Be Clean for Tasty Brew

The French love their delicate wines. The English will tell you there's nothing better than a cup of tea. But in America coffee has practically become the national beverage.

In 1953 our nation consumed over two billion pounds of roasted coffee—that's about 800 cups of coffee per person above the age of 10 years. With rising coffee prices you can't afford not to have those 800 cups taste anything but really superb.

Now, really good coffee starts with a clean coffee maker. Instead of that wonderful aroma and flavor of freshly made morning coffee you will have a rancid and stale tasting brew unless you keep your coffee maker spotlessly clean with special care.

A soap and water bath isn't enough to really remove the greasy film which collects inside coffee pots and harbours unpleasant odors. The trick of keeping them sweet and clean is to use baking soda.

For aluminum, just sprinkle some dry baking soda inside the pot and on all of the fittings—basket and stem. Then rub with a damp cloth or sponge, rinse and dry.

For glass or porcelain enamel boil a solution of three tablespoons baking soda to one quart water right inside the pot, then let cool, rinse and dry.

Baking soda, which is pure mild bicarbonate of soda, emulsifies the greasy film which collects in coffee makers and impairs the flavor of that favorite brew—leaves a wonderfully clean and sweet smelling coffee pot.

Scoop Out Potatoes, Stuff With Salmon

This nutritious main course is fine for a family meal.

Salmon Stuffed Potatoes

4 medium-sized baking potatoes
⅔ cup tomato juice
⅓ cup nonfat dry milk powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 cups (tall No. 1 can) salmon (drained and boned and flaked)

Bake potatoes in 400 oven until tender, about 1 hour. Cut each potato in half, lengthwise. Scoop out potato from each shell; reserve the 8 shells.

Put potatoes through ricer or mash. Add tomato juice, nonfat dry milk powder, salt and grated onion; beat until fluffy. Fold in salmon well.

Fill each potato shell with about ¾ cup of the mixture. Return filled potatoes to oven. Bake at 350 until thoroughly heated and lightly browned on top, about 20 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 4 to 8 servings.

One of the Nicest Punches Uses Ginger Ale, Sherbet

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

June is here again, with its weddings and graduations and showers. Each of the occasions mentioned calls for refreshments which often include punch.

Now punch can be a weak, watery drink or it can be a really refreshing beverage. Small children are perfectly contented with fruit ades made from powders; but most adults prefer punch with a little more character.

One of the easiest and nicest punches, in my book, is one made simply with sherbet and ginger ale. Buy the flavor of sherbet that you like best; I'm partial to lemon.

Place a large block of solidly frozen sherbet in the punch bowl. Pour ginger ale over it just before serving. The sherbet will both chill and flavor the punch.

If you allow for dilution by melting ice cubes, all well and good. Otherwise, plan to freeze fruit juice or tea or ginger ale into cubes so that they will not weaken the beverage.

I have seen some attractive decorations for punch bowls. One hostess had frozen ice in a fluted gelatin mold. This gave a scalloped block of ice for the punch. A lemonade ice ring is really festive.

To make it, use equal proportions of lemonade concentrate and water; mix them, and pour into a ring mold. Freeze solid.

Just before serving, unmold the lemonade ring and float it in the punch bowl. As the ice ring melts, the lemonade blends with the punch to add zest.

If your punch is a rosy one, freeze the lemonade ring in its natural color. To serve with a light-colored punch, tint the lemonade pretty pink for contrast. Freeze in maraschino cherries or mint leaves, if you like, for added color and garnish.

The lemonade ice ring is wonderful with all fruit juice punches and with champagne or sparkling wine punches — either sparkling Burgundy or rose wine. Here's the recipe for an especially good combination:

Wine Lemonade Punch

3 cans frozen concentrate for lemonade
3 cans water (fill lemonade-can 3 times)
2 bottles sparkling rose wine, chilled

Combine the lemonade and water and mix well; pour into punch bowl. Just before serving, add sparkling wine; and float a Lemonade Ice Ring on top of the punch. Yields approximately 24 4-oz. servings.

* * *

Although you may rent punch bowls and cups, it is not necessary. Any deep bowl will do. Hide it, if you like, with flowers or greens; or cover the outside with aluminum foil. Small, colorful paper cups are permissible at any but the most formal affairs.

If you are wondering how much punch to make, here is a yardstick for you. Two and one half gallons of punch will serve 50 people one cup each.

Here is another punch recipe that will enjoy using at this time of the year, for it makes use of the seasonal rhubarb.

Rhubarb Punch

3 pounds rhubarb (weighed after leaves are removed)
2½ cups sugar
¾ cup crushed pineapple
1 cup lemon juice

Cut rhubarb into pieces an inch long. Boil with 1 quart of water until just tender. Strain. There should be about 2 quarts of juice. While boiling hot, add the sugar, pineapple and lemon juice.

Dilute with ice water and cubes, decorating with a sprig of mint or orange and lemon slices.

Butterscotch Cookies Easy, Economical

These cookie bars are so delicious they'll disappear quickly, but they are inexpensive and quick to make.

Butterscotch Raisin Bars

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup seedless raisins
⅓ cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
2 eggs
2 teaspoons grated orange rind

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Rinse raisins in hot water, drain thoroughly and chop fine with a knife.

Cream butter and sugar; beat in eggs thoroughly. Stir sifted dry ingredients and orange rind into creamed mixture until blended; stir in raisins. Spread in buttered shallow pan (about 7 by 10 by 1½ inches). Bake in 350 oven 30 to 35 minutes. Cool in pan.

Cut into bars and remove from pan with small spatula. Store in tightly covered container. Makes about 36 bars (1 by 2 inches).

Soggy Cake Is Caused by Inefficient Mixing

There's a solution to almost every cooking problem. Here's one submitted recently to a home economist.

"My quick-mix 2-egg cake has a soggy ½-inch layer on the bottom. The top is light. I use a tested recipe and follow directions. What causes this?"

Insufficient mixing or failure to scrape the bowl and spoon, or beater, during mixing causes your failure, said the home economist. This assumes that you use level standard measures of ingredients.

Blue Cheese Spread to Keep for Snacktime

Here's a good spread to have in the refrigerator for use at snacktime. Father especially will enjoy it.

Cream a half cup of butter or margarine with a half cup of crumbled blue cheese; mix in Worcestershire sauce and celery salt to taste. Use as a spread for crackers, Melba toast or for stuffing celery.

Green Onions, Peas Tasty Combination

At this season of the year, peas and green onions taste just right!

Peas and Green Onions

2 pounds green peas
4 green onions (scallions)
⅓ cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Shell peas and put in saucepan. Clean onions and slice in ½-inch pieces, including green part; add to peas with water, salt and butter.

Bring to a boil quickly; reduce heat and cover, but keep boiling rapidly until peas are tender. Serve with pan liquid in sauce dishes if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Ever combine canned tomatoes with snap beans or green lima beans? Surprisingly enough, they are also delicious combined with buttered carrots.

Jelly Doughnuts Make Hit at Breakfast Time

To make Bismarks — bread doughnuts with jelly in the center — use a raised sweet dough which has been allowed to rise until double in bulk. Punch down, let rest 10 minutes, and roll about ¼-inch thick.

Cut rounds of dough with floured biscuit cutter. Place ½ teaspoon jelly on half of the rounds. Moisten edges of rounds with egg white. Place a top on each jellied round. Pinch edges tightly together. Let rise and fry.

Oatmeal Crust Provides Nutlike Flavor for Tarts

Here's a new way to make that old favorite, apple pie. The oatmeal crust, with its nutlike flavor, is rolled out to fit individual tart pans. Then a rich brown sugar and custard type filling goes over layers of tart apples.

A cinnamon stick is inserted in the center of each pie to help keep juices from bubbling over.

When your pies come from the oven, all beautifully baked, put them on individual pie plates. Garnish each plate with a "love apple" and a few huckleberry or other small green leaves.

To make the "love apples," roll a spoonful of sharp soft cheddar cheese between the palms of your hands to form a small ball; dip two sides in paprika for a pretty apple blush and stick a clove in the top for a stem.

Individual Apple Pies

For crust—
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- ⅔ cup shortening
- ⅔ cup uncooked rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned)
- ⅓ to ½ cup cold water

For filling—
- 6 cooking apples
- 1 cup firmly-packed brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 eggs (lightly beaten)
- ½ cup water
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted)
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- 3 cinnamon sticks

For the crust, sift together flour, salt and sugar into bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs.

Add rolled oats and mix lightly. Add water a little at a time, mixing lightly until pastry can be formed in a ball. Let rest 5 minutes.

Divide pastry in half; divide one half into 6 parts. Roll each of the 6 parts out on lightly floured board until slightly larger than tart pan. Place in tart pans; trim edges. (Remaining pastry is for the top crust.)

For the filling, peel and core apples; slice thin and place slices in pastry-lined pans. Mix together sugar and flour and combine with eggs, water, salt, butter and vanilla. Pour filling over apples.

Divide remaining pastry into 6 parts. Roll each part out on lightly floured board until slightly larger than tart pan; cut a small hole in the center of each. Lay pastry over filling; fold top edge under bottom edge; seal and crimp edges.

Break cinnamon sticks in half and insert one half through center hole in each pastry and push into filling. Bake tarts in a 400 oven about 40 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 6 small tarts.

Spread Pans in Oven

When baking, leave at least one inch of space between pans, and between pans and the oven walls. This allows for even heat distribution to give uniform browning, explains foods specialists at Michigan State College.

Rice is cooked if a kernel feels soft when pressed between thumb and forefinger.

Cool Cooked Meat Fast to Cut Spoilage Danger

Several procedures were tested recently to produce more rapid cooling and therefore safer ways to prepare cooked meat for storage.

Meat and broth or gravy should be cooled separately. Hot broth should be put into a bowl or wide-mouthed jar to hasten cooling. One-quart quantities cool quicker than larger amounts.

A kettle of broth may be set into a pan of running cold water to cool rapidly before refrigeration. Stir the broth to prevent the formation of a top coating of fat which may seal in the heat.

Leave both meat and broth uncovered until cooled. Then cover if desired.

Spread pieces of meat in a flat pan to cool more quickly. Don't stack hot cooked chicken or other meat to retard cooling. Large roasts may be cut in two to cool quicker.

Remove the stuffing from a turkey and cool both separately. An unstuffed turkey cools as quickly as turkey meat removed from the bones.

In summary, meats cooked for future use or meats left over after a meal should be quickly cooled, uncovered, in the refrigerator or in a cool room with good air circulation.

The meat should not be left at kitchen temperatures for over two hours if one is to prevent possible spoilage.

When cooled, cooked meats can be covered or wrapped loosely to prevent excess drying. Keep cooked meat cold in the refrigerator.

Store cooked meats properly and use them within one or two days to enjoy best flavor, juiciness, and satisfaction without danger of spoilage.

Honey-Fruit Marmalade Luscious With Breakfast

The beauty of America is that "kings" have no priority on the good things of life. This grapefruit-honey marmalade is within the scope of everyone's budget, utilizing the two of nature's gifts —sunny grapefruit, and golden honey.

The blend of these foods into marmalade is done so subtly that it is hard to tell where one taste ends and another begins.

Citrus fruits and honey pair off with rare hospitality toward each other; their solitary goodness is more than doubled when you find them in combination.

This simple recipe is scaled down so that you only make a small amount at a time. Just eight medium glasses is the yield; When you can make marmalade as simply as this why should you make a large batch at a time and clutter up your precious shelf space with jelly glasses?

Honey Grapefruit Marmalade
- 3 cups prepared fruit (3 medium grapefruit)
- 3 cups honey
- 3 cups sugar
- 1 2¼ ounce box powdered fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Remove skins in quarters from 2 medium-sized grapefruit. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about half of white part. Add 2 cups water and ⅛ teaspoon soda; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 20 minutes.

Drain rind; then, with a sharp knife, slice very fine. Remove any white skin from pulp and grind pulp or chop fine. Add to rind and measure 3 cups into a large saucepan.

Then make the marmalade. Measure honey and sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in honey and sugar.

Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon.

Stir and skim by turns for 7 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 8 medium glasses.

Good Lemonade Base

Always-ready lemonade can be made in a flash. Just mix 1 cup lemon juice and ½ cup honey. Store in tightly covered jar in refrigerator. To serve add ¼ cup of this mixture to 1 cup of ice water and there you have it.

New Kind of Fun

Want a different vegetable soup to serve for lunch with a sandwich or a salad? Cook carrots and cauliflower together, then puree and add to a thin white sauce.

Try Bacon, Berries With French Toast

A slice of bread broken into a small bowl, sprinkled with sugar and covered with milk was a tasty little snack in mother's day. It may be one of your favorites, too, just that way. Or you may have "bread and milk" in many tasty dishes, breakfast through dinner.

There's French Toast for breakfast — slices of enriched yeast-raised bread, dipped in a milk and egg mixture and fried to a golden brown. Served with crisp bacon slices and ripe fresh strawberries, it's a delicious food to start the day

French Toast
- 4 eggs
- 1⅓ cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- 12 slices enriched yeast-raised bread

Beat eggs slightly; beat in milk, salt and nutmeg. Dip bread slices into egg mixture; brown on each side on a hot, well buttered griddle or in a frying pan. Serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

Dessert Garnish Should Carry Appeal to Eyes

Count part of the glory of a dessert as eye appeal. Here a half-gallon package of ice cream, so easily and neatly unwrapped, comes to the table on a decorative platter.

The strawberry sauce spooned over the pre-packaged ice cream carries the same pink tint as the frosting on the cup cakes. A slice of the ice cream and a rose bud trimmed cup cake are served each guest after the assembled number have admired this dessert which indeed makes a grand entrance.

Ice Cream Rose-Gay Dessert
- Individual cakes
- Butter cream frosting
- Red food coloring
- ½ gallon pre-packaged vanilla ice cream
- Strawberry sauce

For individual cakes use favorite cup cake recipe. Frost cup cakes with half of butter cream frosting; chill. Tint remaining frosting pink. Force frosting through cake decorator to make roses on top of cup cakes, following cake decorator set directions.

Place pre-packaged ice cream on chilled serving platter. Place individual cup cakes around ice cream. Spoon small amount frozen strawberries or fresh strawberry sauce over top; serve with remaining sauce. Yields 12 to 16 servings.

Butter Cream Frosting
- 1 cup (½ pound) butter
- 2 to 2½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- ½ teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter. Gradually add sugar; blend well. Stir in vanilla.

Cooking Equipment Solves Gift Problem

New brides will be popping up on your gift list often in the weeks ahead. If you're in a quandary about what to give, why not choose a useful piece of kitchen equipment to help promote the bride's culinary success?

Since meat is the mainstay of every meal, the logical small equipment gifts are those which help the new bride perfect the art of meat cookery. A meat thermometer and an open, shallow roasting pan equipped with a rack will help her serve excellent roasts every time.

The meat thermometer indicates when the meat is cooked to perfection and the open pan insures correct roasting procedure.

Pork Chops Cooked the Hawaiian Way

A Hawaiian way of preparing pork chops gives unusually delicious flavor.

Hawaiian Pork Chops

4 pork chops (each ¾-inch thick)
¼ cup cider vinegar
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons soy sauce

Have pork chops well-trimmed of fat. Put vinegar, sugar and soy sauce in shallow dish; stir well. Place pork chops in vinegar mixture so they lie flat. Allow to stand at room temperature about 20 minutes, turning once. Put chops and marinade in small shallow broiling pan without rack. Broil slowly 30 to 40 minutes; adjust heat and distance of pan from heat according to your range. Baste several times, turning once so each side of chops browns. Serve at once; spoon any marinade in pan over rice. Makes 4 servings.

Fat remains in the stomach longer than most other foods.

Sherbet Extra Delicious If Served With Honey

Sherbet is a popular dessert. And well it might be. It gives just the right finishing touch to a heavy meal.

Next time you serve a lemon or orange sherbet, dress it up with just a touch of honey placed at the peak of the sherbet scoop. It's delicious!

No sugar is necessary in cooking prunes because this dried fruit is naturally sweet.

Honey of a Sauce

For honey hard sauce, cream 1-3 cup butter and beat in gradually ¾ cup honey. Add one teaspoon lemon juice. Chill.

Let Icebox Cookies Solve Summer Baking Problem

With summer just around the corner we all are looking for cooking shortcuts. The more we can do in the cool of the day the happier we will be when the temperature soars.

If you have a roll of cookie dough in the refrigerator, you can bake a pan of cookies whenever you have the oven on. If you do your oven cooking early in the day, you can bake a batch of cookies at the same time.

You could make a different icebox cookie recipe every week all summer and not run the risk of repeating yourself. Every cookbook prints a basic recipe with variations; from there you can invent some variations of your own.

We think you will like these Oatmeal Refrigerator Cookies once you try them. They have an unusual flavor, thanks to the molasses and the lemon.

Oatmeal Refrigerator Cookies

½ cup soft shortening
½ cup sugar
½ cup brown sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ tablespoon molasses
½ teaspoon vanilla
⅛ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups rolled oats

Mix thoroughly with the hands. Press and mold into long smooth roll about 2½ inches in diameter. Wrap in wax paper and chill until stiff, at least several hours.

Cut with sharp knife into thin slices about ⅛ inch thick. Bake in 400 oven 8-10 minutes. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

Farmer Uses His Plane to Alert Fire Fighters

TOLLAND, Conn. (UP) — A farmer, Ernest Kupferschmid, used his light plane to call attention to a fire.

Kupferschmid spotted a plume of smoke in the distance while flying in his plane. The smoke was pouring from the upper floors of a house. Kupferschmid "buzzed" nearby houses until one woman finally called the fire department.

By the time firemen arrived, Kupferschmid was on his way home.

Tito Is Remarkable Man, Is a Red on Side of West

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia certainly is an active man.

He has just gone to Greece to discuss the proposed Yugoslav-Greek-Turkish military alliance.

He is trying to settle Yugoslavia's bitter dispute with Italy over the Trieste territory. Prospects for a settlement look good.

He is bringing Yugoslavia closer and closer to complete cooperation with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization if not actual membership in it.

At the same time he is patching up, to some extent, Yugoslavia's relations with the Iron Curtain countries.

Finally, he has just squashed, without the least trouble, a threatened revolt in his own Communist party.

Tito also is a remarkable man.

Long an outlawed Communist, he assumed the leadership of the Yugoslav partisan movement in World War II. He fought both the Germans and the Italians.

He threw young King Peter off the throne to become his country's first president.

Finally, he is the only Communist leader who ever told the Kremlin to go fly a kite and got away with it.

The 3,667-ton Yugoslav navy training ship in which Tito cruised to Greece—with an escort of four destroyers—dropped anchor at Piraeus, the port for Athens, yesterday morning.

During a six-day visit Tito will be the guest of King Paul and Premier Field Marshal Alexander Papagos.

Tito signed a friendship treaty with Greece and Turkey last year. It was a development of great importance in the organization of Western defenses against Soviet Russian aggression.

Now the friendship treaty is to be turned into a firm defense alliance.

Italy objects to the defense alliance because of the Trieste dispute. But there seems to be good hope for an early settlement with the help of the United States and Great Britain.

Tito has come a long way since he was born 62 years ago, the son of a blacksmith. He became a steel worker. He was severely wounded as a soldier in the Austro-Hungarian army in World War I.

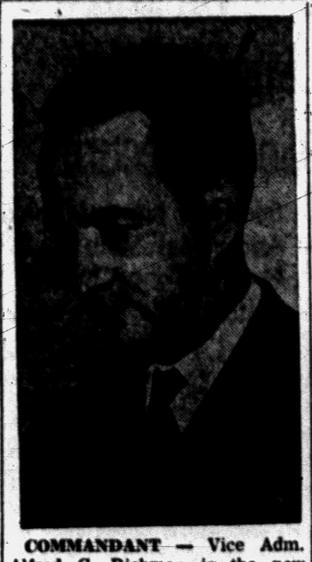

Taken prisoner, he fought on the side of the Bolsheviks in the Russian Civil War. A Communist, he returned to Yugoslavia to become a union organizer. The Communist party was outlawed. He served several years in prison, and went underground on his release.

He emerged in World War II as a leader of a ragged army of patriots which swelled to a total of 300,000 and fought the Germans and the Italians with brilliant success.

He reached a crisis in his life in 1948. Soviet Russia was trying to bleed Yugoslavia economically and, in foreign policy, make it completely subservient.

Tito rebelled. He revealed himself as a Yugoslav first and a Communist second. The Kremlin raged. The Red Cominform denounced him.

It was predicted confidently that he would be crushed. Instead his prestige inside and outside Yugoslavia was strengthened. He is a Communist still, but now he is firmly on the side of the West.

Texas Hen's Giant Egg Has Another Egg Inside

BONHAM, Tex. (UP) — A hen at the Tim Fogle farm near Ivanhoe laid an egg within an egg.

The outer egg, which had a white and a yolk, was accidentally broken by Mrs. Fogle's granddaughter, Rozelle Baker. Inside was another egg of normal size, according to Mrs. Fogle.

The outer egg measured 9¾ by 8¼ inches.

Premature Status Gets AF Man Parking Ticket

DETROIT (AP) — Traffic Referee John M. Wise promptly dismissed an illegal parking charge when Arthur Bensmiller's mother explained:

Arthur, 18, pulled into the parking space at the Federal Building and went in to enlist in the Air Force. The sign said "reserved for military vehicles." Arthur figured his car would qualify by the time he got back. But there was a ticket just the same. Arthur didn't come to court because he was in Texas, taking Air Force basic training.

Building 2 Giant Ferries for Puget Sound Service

SEATTLE (AP)—The State of Washington, which already owns one of the world's biggest ferry fleets, is building a new two million dollar ferry for Puget Sound operations.

Officials describe the 310-foot craft as the biggest ferry ever built on the West Coast. It will be added to a fleet that was expanded recently by the purchase of two automobile and passenger vessels from Maryland.

There are 43 peaks in the Canadian Rockies 11,000 or more feet in height.

Moth Spraying to Start Friday

DDT Mixture Will Be Spread Over 104,960 Acres in Michigan

LANSING (AP) — West Coast airplane pilots plan to start Friday to spray 104,960 acres of Central Michigan land in a concentrated attack on the Midwest's first invasion of the destructive gypsy moth.

Michigan's "Little Legislature" laid down $150,000 yesterday for the campaign in cities and farm lands of the Ingham - Eaton - Clinton county area.

The money also will be used later this summer to operate traps over 1,600,000 acres of Southern Michigan to determine whether the spraying was successful and whether the infestation has spread farther. Two traps will be set to the square mile.

The moth and its larvae (worm) has been a destructive pest in New England for 80 years. It has not been reported west of Pennsylvania before its Michigan discovery two weeks ago.

C. A. Boyer, chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry of the State Department of Agriculture, said the Central Airlines Co., of Yakima, Wash., had four planes in Michigan already and hoped to start Friday to spray with a DDT-kerosene mixture.

The spray attack should take five to seven days if weather conditions are good, Boyer said.

Boyer told the "Little Legislature" (Emergency Appropriations Commission) that if the pest were not attacked at once every product of Michigan which "must stand out doors" will be quarantined by the federal govennment and probably by 40 other states and some foreign countries. This would be serious for the auto industry, he said.

Auxiliary Collects Funds in Wooden Church Crusade

AUBURN HEIGHTS — With funds to build two wooden churches in Western Germany facing the Iron Curtain already collected, the American Legion Auxiliary is now collecting funds for a third church, according to Norma Palmer, chaplain of Hill-Gazette unit of the auxiliary.

The churches will be part of a "spiritual wall" of some 50 churches to be erected by the "Wooden Church Crusade" along freedom's frontier, according to Mrs. Palmer.

Each church will cost $25,000. The churches will replace German ones destroyed during the war.

Building the structures is a special project of the auxiliary's president, Mrs. Harold S. Burdett of New York. Units and individual members throughout the country have made contributions.

Ministers Ask Social Security

Southern Baptists Seek Agreement With U. S. Not Involving Church

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Southern Baptist Convention has recommended a Social Security bill for ministers which would provide a contract between the government and the individual without involving the churches.

An alternate proposal also was approved for a separate Social Security bill for ministers which would give both the minister and his congregation or employing organization the opportunity to choose whether to participate.

Dr. Porter Routh, of Nashville, Tenn., executive secretary of the convention which opened Wednesday, termed the alternative proposal a "realistic approach" to guide convention representatives who will present the Southern Baptists' position to legislators.

The question of racial segregation is expected to come before the convention Friday night in a report of the Christian Life Commission.

The convention Wednesday approved a total budget of $9,100,000 for 1955. This represents an increase of $350,000 over the current year.

LAPEER — Shirley Jean LoRee and John A. Arms, both of Lapeer, were united in marriage Saturday at a ceremony in the Liberty Street Gospel Church here.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. LoRee. John's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Arms.

Shirley chose a strapless gown of lace over nylon net accented by a lace jacket with long sleeves pointed over the wrists. Her fingertip veil was held by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Serving as maid of honor was Daisy Yonan of Flint. Barbara Ballard, cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and Linda Thomas, also a cousin, was the flower girl.

Best man was Joseph H. Arms of Pontiac, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Vernon and Leland Harby, Glenn Dunham and Glenn Shoults.

A reception for 250 guests was held in the church parlors. The new Mr. and Mrs. Arms left for a trip through Northern Michigan, the bride wearing a grey suit with Navy blue accessories. They will live at 280 E. Nepessing St. when returning.

Auxiliary Sees Enlistment High

1 Million Membership Predicted by Chairman of Hill-Gazette Group

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Enrollment of 1,000,000 members in the American Legion Auxiliary this year was predicted today by Mrs. Kenneth Collins, membership chairman of Hill-Gazette Auxiliary, following receipt of June membership figures from national headquarters.

The auxiliary had more than 960,000 members enrolled by June, largest figure for the month in the organization's history.

"For a number of years the auxiliary's strength has approached, but never quite reached a million," said Mrs. Collins. "If this year's rate of gain is maintained," she added, "the 1954 total will be well beyond the million mark."

The local unit is continuing to enroll members, both new and renewal members, at each meeting, according to Mrs. Collins.

Shed, Shop Ruined by Fire Wednesday

AVON TOWNSHIP — A tool shed and shop belonging to Gerald Barger, 2876 Walsh, were destroyed by fire Wednesday morning.

Rochester Fire Chief George Ross said an overheated coal stove apparently caused the fire. The shed contained valuable tools and a quantity of cement. Loss was estimated at $250 for the building and $750 for the contents.

Firemen from the Rochester and Avondale departments fought the blaze along with firemen from National Twist Drill.

DOROTHY ADAMS

Dorothy Marie Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Adams of Auburn Heights, was graduated Saturday from the Mercy School of Nursing of Detroit after three years of training. A graduate of Avondale High School, she trained at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital of Pontiac and of Detroit and at Mt. Carmel Hospital in Detroit.

Negroes comprise about 10 per cent of the U. S. population.

Legion Distributes VA Care Pamphlet

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Expert advice for physicians in handling the care of sick and disabled war veterans is contained in a pamphlet being distributed by the American Legion to all practicing physicians, Mrs. Ralph Bogart, rehabilitation chairman of Hill-Gazette Post Auxiliary, announced today.

"We of the American Legion Auxiliary hope that every physician in Oakland County will study this pamphlet, which is entitled 'Veterans Hospitalization,' said Mrs. Palmer.

The pamphlet contains information which will help doctors decide whether they or the Veterans Administration, are to take care of sick and disabled veterans, especially veterans without funds, she added.

Actress Catches on Fire at Party

Marie McDonald Not Hurt at Lavish $30,000 Nightclub Reception

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The dress that actress Marie (The Body) McDonald wore caught fire last night at a lavish $30,000 party at the swank Mocambo nightclub but she was not injured.

Her husband, Harry Karl, beat out the flames and suffered severe burns on his hands.

Her flimsy party dress was set afire by a carelessly thrown cigarette.

Aside from this accident, the party was one of the most expensive — and successful — given in Hollywood in years.

It actually was a belated wedding reception given by oil millionaires Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilliland who took over the Mocambo for the night and invited more than 500 Hollywood celebrities to the affair.

Jewel-laden film stars and dinner-jacketed guests, including prominent business and political leaders, guzzled champagne by the gallons and ate caviar by the pound.

For those who were unable to make their way to the bar through the packed room, special waiters hauled around Nebuchadnezzars of champagne.

Those who so desired could even gulp champagne from an ice fountain. Non-champagne drinkers could choose from 20 brands of Scotch and 25 brands of bourbon.

The decorations included 300 dozen gardenias costing more than $6,000 and orchid trees as table centerpieces.

The hostess, the former Elsinore Machris, whose husband, George, founder of the Wilshire Oil Company, left her 17 million dollars when he died two years ago, wore a half million dollars worth of jewelry to set off a $5,000 gown.

Game Supervisor Hooks Hawk While Flycasting

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP)—District Game Supervisor Ford Kellum really showed 'em how last night on Bellows Lake.

Kellum caught a night hawk while flycasting for rainbow trout.

On a back-cast by Kellum, the bird swooped down and seized the fly. It dived and circled frantically peeling out lots of the line, and then fell exhausted on the water.

Kellum reeled in the hawk, unhooked it, and set it free.

Rin Tin Tin (IV) to Romp Again in TV Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The fabulous Rin Tin Tin is ready to romp to what may be his greatest fame—as a television star.

Screen Gems is preparing a TV films series called "The Adventures of Rin Tin Tin" and it will probably be hitting the home screens in the fall. When it does, a new generation will be watching the heroics of a star that thrilled their parents a couple of decades ago.

Well, not the same star exactly. The incumbent is Rin Tin Tin IV, whose great-grandfather drew millions of dollars to theaters in the silent days. I learned the story of the famed German shepherd from his owner, Lee Duncan.

* * *

Here is a condensation of his testimony:

"I was living in North Hollywood — they called it Lankershim then—when the first World War broke out and I became a flier. . . .

"When the Germans were driven back in the big push at St. Mihiel, they left a lot of their things behind. In one of the trenches we found five little puppies. I took them over and nursed them to health. . . .

"On Nov. 3, I was shot down over no man's land. A lot of people cuss at motorcycles, but not me. One of those sidecars got me out of there and back to our side. was more hurt than I realized—had to take 18 stitches in my head. I didn't come back right after the armistice; I had to stay nine months in the hospital. But all the time I took care of those dogs. . . .

"When the time came to come home, I had to get a special passport to get two of those dogs home with me. By that time they were cutting down on the bringing home of souvenirs. I named the male dog Rin Tin Tin, after the little good luck dolls the French women made and sold for charity. The other was Nanette.

"I came back to Lankershim. A friend of mine was William Desmond, who was making a movie at Universal. They needed a dog and he suggested mine. We were to stay only a few days on the picture at $25 a day, but ended up staying six weeks. . . .

"That gave me an idea of making a picture with Rin Tin Tin. I went to Warner Brothers and they liked the idea. But by the time we spent $35,000, they ran out of money. I managed to borrow some more. The picture ('Where the North Begins,' 1923) cost $135,000 and grossed $352,000. Rin Tin Tin saved the Warner Brothers from bankruptcy."

The talented dog was a star for 10 years, earning as much as $3,000 a week. The original Rin Tin Tin lived to 14 years, still doing his own vigorous stunts to the end. A son took over. In the early '30s, Duncan decided he had enough of the Hollywood life and retired to a riverside ranch on his earnings.

In 1947 he brought out "The Return of Rin Tin Tin," starring the third in the line. Now No. 4, who is 3 years old, is being groomed as a TV star. And Duncan is bringing along a bright puppy of 3 months as a possible successor.

Robot Will Check on Surgery Patient

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Bureau of Standards has developed a kind of robot doctor to keep a continuous check on the condition of a patient on the operating table.

The electronic device automatically measures and records the patient's blood pressure, heart beat and breathing throughout the operation. These are normally checked periodically by the doctor or technician who administers the anesthesia. He reports them to the surgeon.

But sometimes he gets busy with his other duties and cannot check often enough to catch an irregularity promptly, officials explained.

Russia Defines U. S. Aid in War

Recent Encyclopedia Calls Lend-Lease Big Boon to 'Monopolies'

MOSCOW (AP) — The Great Soviet Encyclopedia describes U.S. lend-lease, which helped Russia beat back Hitler's invasion, as "one of the greatest sources of enrichment of the American monopolies during the second World War."

Lend-lease gets nearly a page in the encyclopedia's Volume 24, just off the presses here. Its figure on what the Russians received under the program — $9,800,000,000 — is more than one billion dollars under what the U.S. government says it gave Moscow.

* * *

The encyclopedia article also claims:

1. Lend-lease arms and materials were sold by American sources at inflated prices.
2. What the Soviet Union took from the United States was "insignificant" compared to Russian industrial output during the war.
3. The United States gave Britain a very generous deal on settlement of the British account but fixed terms for the Soviet Union "deliberately higher."

The United States has listed a total of $48,895,235,000 worth of lend-lease distributed during the war and postwar period to 43 Allied nations. Of this, the British Commonwealth received $31,384,810,000, and Russia, the second largest recipient, got $10,982,089,000.

* * *

Britain settled her debt in 1946, paying 650 million dollars after account was taken of reverse lend-lease charges. Of the nearly eight billion dollars in reverse lend-lease received by the United States, more than six billions came from Britain.

The United States has demanded over 800 million dollars from Russia in settlement. The Russians reportedly have countered with an offer of 300 million. The two countries are still disputing the matter.

Michigan CAP to Attend Battle Creek Maneuvers

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Michigan members of the Civil Air Patrol are expected to assemble in Battle Creek Friday for a weekend wing training maneuver.

Between 4,000 and 6,000 Michigan members of the CAP are expected to attend the annual training exercise. Tactical problems scheduled for the maneuver include a mock atomic attack above St. Mary's Lake near Battle Creek.

Former Inmate Sends City $300 to Pay Jail Bill

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The city jail never had a boarder like this before. He has sent City Treasurer Leon V. McCardle $300 to pay for his year's lodging behind bars.

McCardle said the money came with a rambling, partially illegible letter which appeared to be signed Calsi C. Lenzinger, York Hotel, Dallas.

"I spent a year in Los Angeles jail six or four years ago and was locked up for trying to forge and a second time for trying to look for a job," the letter read. "I never was given a bill to pay expenses for locking up, and knows someone has to pay for jail keep.

"Good luck to the city of Los Angeles and thank you for good care in jail."

Phone Repairman Calls Couple to Let Him In

OMAHA (AP)—A telephone repairman swiftly answered a trouble call from the John Koffend home here. The Koffends hadn't expected him so quickly and, being upstairs, didn't hear the front door bell ring nor the knocks at the back door.

How to get in? The repairman hooked his test phone onto the line and called the Koffends to let him in.

Sign Says 'Safe Open' Burglar Helps Himself

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—A sign above the safe in Leo Hindman's hardware store reads:

"Safe not locked. No money in safe. Just turn handle and open the door."

Someone followed those instructions, Hindman told police, and helped himself to $300 in cash and $400 in checks.

Military Chiefs Meet in Capital

Representatives of Five Powers Will Discuss Asian Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military commanders of five powers assembled today at the Pentagon to consider the problems of Communist-menaced Southeast Asia —questions which Secretary of Defense Wilson terms more political than military.

Ahead of the chiefs of staff or their representatives for the United States, Britain, France, Australia and New Zealand were five or six days of discussion of what might be done in a military way to save Southeast Asia, including direly threatened Indochina, from falling to Red domination.

But any strategy, any further arms aid considered in these exploratory discussions was limited to existing or future decisions by the chiefs of state and diplomatic representatives of the five powers.

* * *

The military meeting obviously was something less than the American State Department had hoped for. And this was reflected in Wilson's comment to newsmen who met him last night upon his return from a three-week trip to the Far East.

The secretary said the people who had been in Washington knew more about the meeting than he.

"I will say that I understand the five-power discussions will be on a military level. I happen to think most of the problems are on a political level," he said.

He was asked what people in the Far East thought about Indochina. "I think they (Asians) feel that Southeast Asia is a different proposition than East Asia," he said, adding. "It's more involved with the remains of colonialism, which also complicates the problem."

Although the United States effort to bring about multilateral agreement among the big powers to stave off Red aggression in Southeast Asia has made no substantial progress, Wilson disclosed that forward steps have been taken in the combined effort of the Philippines and the United States.

He said he and President Ramon Magsaysay "agreed the time has come to implement the treaty" the two powers have made and that "we arrived at an agreement to go right ahead." Wilson did not give any details of the implementation of the mutual defense treaty, which calls for joint consultations if the security of either country is threatened.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, designated Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, to represent him in the Pentagon talks.

Coming to Washington with their aides were Field Marshal Sir John Harding of Britain, Gen. Paul Ely of France, Lt. Gen. Sir Sydney Rowell of Australia and Maj. Gen. W. G. Gentry of New Zealand.

Debt Paid Off

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — In the late 1930s a man walked into a downtown office and asked the receptionist, Mrs. Rose Hayes, how he could get a job. She told him where they were hiring farm help and lent him bus fare. Recently the same man came into her office and handed Mrs. Hayes some change. "I want to return 20 cents I borrowed 15 yeas ago," he said.

Divorce Awarded to Shelley Winters

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Shelley Winters has divorced her Italian actor-husband Victorio Gassman, who, she said, admitted he was temperamentally unsuited for marriage.

The actress, who charged cruelty, testified in Superior Court yesterday that Gassman once told her: "If you want to be married to a European you have to live where your husband lives and you have to give him a great deal of freedom."

"I told him," Miss Winters said, "that was not the kind of marriage I wanted."

With her interlocutory decree she got custody of their 15-month-old daughter Vittoria Gina and a property settlement. The latter provides that 10 per cent of Gassman's earnings shall go toward support of the child, with a minimum of $5,000 if he is working in this country and $3,500 if he is working abroad.

3 New Marks Set in Olympic Finale; Washington, Bagley, Crofoot Win

By H. GUY MOATS

Under severe handicaps of chilly weather and a stiff wind that cut across the field, all during the running of the finale, Pontiac's Junior Olympics Wednesday afternoon rounded out the 1954 trials with three new records and another equalled.

And in the final analysis of points scored by the big field of youthful track and field stars, Washington Junior High school squeezed out a Junior High division championship, to go along with titles in the Class A and Class B departments. Jefferson high was a close, stubborn runnerup, with the Class C title its share of the big awards.

For the elementary school competition, in Group 1, the winner was Bagley in a runaway effort. Whittier was a distant runnerup. For Group 2, a much closer battle was waged. Willis School emerged in second place, behind Crofoot which scored 50.6 points to Willis' 40.6 Bagley had 93, Whittier 42½.

All Wednesday events were running races. All field events were run off in two previous sections and the totals collected in these trials were added to the final event for the overall figures.

Washington collected 122 points overall. But up to the day's final event there was some question whether or not Jefferson's speeders would catch the Braves. The Washington's team won, but a disqualification for cutting out of line in a baton exchange zone eliminated any points Jefferson might have had in this feature.

The day's top new mark was set in the junior high relay. Jefferson's leadoff runner took a lead on the first leg, closely pursued by Washington's David Payne. Then in the exchange of a baton Jefferson's second runner ran out of line.

Washington's time was 49.6, three-fifths of a second under the former mark, set in 1952. Braves' quartet included David Payne No. 1 Frank Whitlock, No. 2, Danny Sowle No. 3, and Willie Shaw anchor.

Other new marks included:

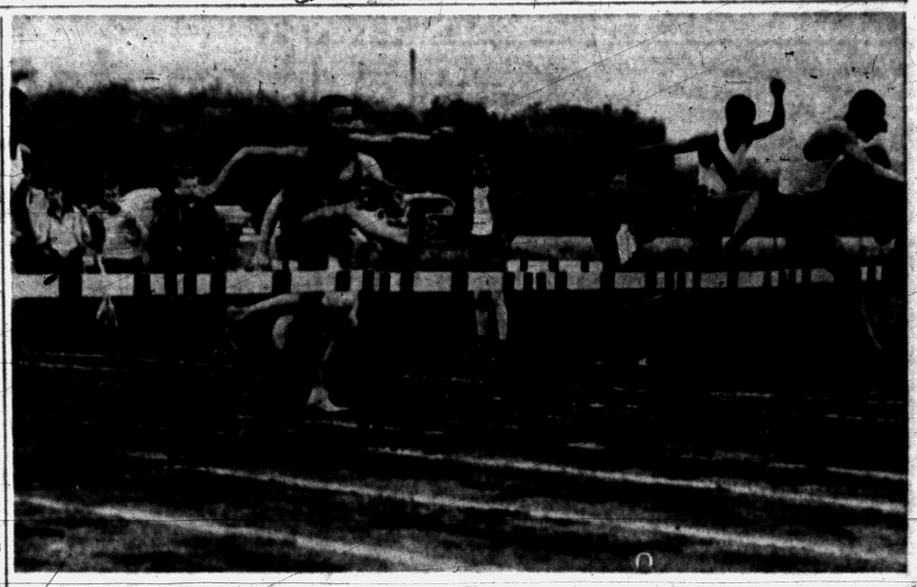

75 yard low hurdles, won by Alex Brooks, the flashy speedster from Jefferson who clipped a fifth of a second off the 1951 mark, with a 9 and 2-5 performance.

Junior High Class C 50 yard dash — Bob Roach of Jefferson eclipsed the old mark of 6.3 set by Ralph Denomme of Lincoln in 1946, when he ran the first heat of the event in 6.25. He didn't figure in the finals, however.

Brooks also equalled the Class A 50 yard junior high 50 yard dash mark of 5.9 set by Jack Cole in 1946 and equalled in 1950 by Alonzo Harris.

Elementary records withstood all the many assaults made on them during the program of some 77 races.

Presentation of field event awards followed the opening parade of contestants and brief remarks by Kiwanis and school officials. Ribbons were awarded place winners at the conclusion of each event of the afternoon, but the main presentations, of the top trophies, will come later.

RECORD EVENT — Alex Brooks (Jeff) at far right was on his way to a new Junior Olympic record when the camera caught the action Wednesday at Wisner Field. Alex cleared the 75-yard low hurdles in 9 2-5 seconds, clipping a fifth of a second off the former 9 3-5 mark set in 1951. Danny Sowell (Wash) middle figure, was second. This was one of three records set in the big schoolboy meet finale.

Feller Amazed by Comeback Against Yanks

Newhouser Winner on Late - Inning Homers by Avila, Smith

NEW YORK (AP)—"Man, oh man, I never thought I'd ever see that day. I still can't believe it."

The speaker was Bob Feller, Cleveland's great pitcher, but it could have been any one of the 43,326 stunned spectators who watched in amazement last night as the Indians spotted the New York Yankees a 7-0 lead in the first inning and went on to defeat the proud world champions 8-7 in 10 innings.

"Boy and man, I've been battling this club (the Yankees) for 16 years," said the 35-year-old Feller, "but I don't ever remember the Yankees blowing such a big lead before. At least not to us. Never in my wildest moments did I ever dream we could spot those Yankees such a big lead and beat 'em."

Nobody else on the Cleveland club could recall any such thing. Manager Al Lopez, left limp and exhausted at the end of the three hour and 20 minute struggle, recalled the Indians overcoming a five-run deficit to beat the Yankees but never seven.

Hal Newhouser, incidentally, was the sixth and winning pitcher for Cleveland. The 34-year-old former Tiger southpaw, who emerged from retirement to attempt a comeback with the Indians, hurled three hitless innings and was returned the victor when Al Smith pounded a tenth inning home run off relief pitcher Johnny Sain to break a 7-7 tie.

When Newhouser took over in the eighth, the Indians were still trailing, 7-6, but Bobby Avila, the league's leading hitter, rapped his third hit in the ninth, a towering home run into the left field stands, to force the game into extra innings. The victory increased the league leading Indians' margin to two games over Chicago and four over the Yankees.

Never Disagreed With Court, Johnson States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) denied today that he had ever disagreed with the supreme court's decision saying baseball is not subject to the anti-trust laws.

The Associated Press erroneously reported on May 27 that Johnson had voiced such disagreement.

"Most emphatically I have never been in disagreement with the supreme court baseball decision," Johnson said. "many times I have hailed it in strong terms as a life-saving decision for baseball."

Two Americans Move Into French Links Semi-Finals

PARIS (AP) — Clark Hardwicke, a young Los Angeles oil man, and Larry Carpenter, an army intelligence man from East Orange, N. J., gained the semi-finals today in the Frnch International Golf tournament.

They were joined by two former French champions, Vichel Carlhian and Henri de la Maze. Hardwicke eliminated 65-year-old Barton Bridgeford of Honolulu and San Francisco, 1. Carpenter ousted the last British player in the tournament, C. G. Thynne, 6, and 5.

Bridgeford, 65 years old, reached the quarter-final round after eliminating L. Bardaba of France 4 and 3 and John Debendern, the 1932 British amateur champion, 3 and 2 with precise but easy going golf yesterday.

Bridgeford has been living in France for the past five years. "If it is not fun it isn't golf," said Bridgeford. "I started the tourney with my left arm just fresh out of a cast from a muscle strain and I am as surprised as anyone to reach the quarter-finals."

Although Bridgeford was the sentimental favorite among "clubhouse" gatherings, the most realistic people went for De Lamaze, Carlhiam or young Andre Tessier of Quebec who has been racking up one-sided victories on the rolling St. Germain course.

Unearned Runs Win for Dairy

Gidley Nine Clipped, 2-0, Despite Pitcher's Two-Hitter

Two unearned runs in the 6th inning gave Richardson Dairy a 2-0 victory over Gidley Electric Wednesday night as Waterford Township Softball League play resumed in Drayton Plains.

Monty Montgomery and Ray Richardson shared mound duties and held Gidley to three hits. Dick Shafto allowed Richardson's only two, both of Harvey Craft.

Runs came in the 6th on an error, Craft's single, a walk, a sacrifice fly and an infield out. Dick and Wes Sports meet Drayton Drug at 8:30 p.m. tonight after a "Little League" game between Del's Service and Drayton Drug at 6:30.

Wednesday's Junior League game was won by Dave's Sanitary Service, 25-4, over Inter-Lakes Steel.

Writer Cites Chief Bender, Walter Hagen, Gipp as Most Relaxed Athletes Under Pressure of Games

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK — There are two types of star athletes. One is the Ty Cobb type — a bundle of nerves, rarely relaxed, always keyed up in action.

* * *

The other is the chief bender-George Gipp type—always relaxed, rarely hurried or worried, even when facing the toughest of tests.

This was Chief Bender. Back in the old World-Series-glory days of the Athletics and Giants, also through the regular seasons then, I used to play a lot of golf with the Chippewa chief, who recently passed on.

* * *

I never saw Bender worry over any type of shot — a bad lie in a bunker or a four-foot putt. I recall a one day we came to the 18th hole all square. Bender hit a fine 2nd shot to the green. The ball hit a rough spot in the fairway and bounded off into a trap.

It also stopped in a heelprint in the sand. The Chief merely grinned as he looked at the ball. He recovered well, and we got a half.

"Doesn't anything ever bother you?" I asked.

"Why should it?" he countered.

"I'll tell you how I figure those things." Bender continued. "When something like this shot into the trap takes place, I look on it as a problem. It is a new problem that has to be worked out. It has to be studied and played correctly. I don't face any ordinary shot. If I play it well, I get a kind of kick out of it. If it doesn't come off — well, what difference does it make?"

* * *

That was Walter Hagen's philosophy, too. Haig was a perfect duplicate of Bender in that respect. Nothing ever bothered or upset Walter.

* * *

"What's a six-foot putt?" he asked. "You either hole it or you don't. The only thing to consider is to play it right — not hurry the stroke, move the body or lift the head."

Hagen, Bender and Gipp were three of the best men I ever saw in action when it came to a matter of relaxation under heavy fire. Stan Musial is another who looks relaxed, whether he is or not.

131 Open Play at Cincinnati in Western Open

Mangrum, Boros and Palmer Are Leaders in Venerable Test

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Western Open golf tournament, an affair that dates back to 1899, opened here today and predictions were that a ten-under-par 274 would be good enough for the title.

A field of 131 players was listed to start the four-day grind over a Kenwood Country Club course in the battle for $15,000 worth of prize money.

With Ben Hogan and Sam Snead absent, the chase for the championship looked like a wide open affair but such stars and Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., a former National Open and Western champion; Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N.C.; Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N.C., winner of last week's Colonial Invitational; Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y.; Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex.; Doug Ford of Yonkers, N.Y.; Jack Burke Jr., of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., were mentioned as the major threats to defending champion E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Ardmore, Okla.

The amateurs in the field were led by Dale Morey of Martinsville, Ind., last year's Western amateur champ and runner-up for the national amateur title.

Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., who bear Morey in the amateur finals and then turned pro, also was an entrant.

Morey and Harrison, incidentally, were to be in the last three-some to leave the starting tee. They were to play with Walter Burkemo of Detroit, the 1953 national PGA champ.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., usually a threat, sent word he would be unable to play because of ill health. Bob Toski, the hot young pro from Leeds, Mass., played an exhibition in Boston yesterday and there was some question as to whether he would arrive in time to play.

Seven Shutouts!

Griffin's 3 No-Hitters Aid NB's Great Record

Primarily responsible for the outstanding baseball record made this spring by North Branch High School was Dick Griffin, a junior southpaw.

Led by Griffin's brilliant mound work, North Branch won all of its 7 games (including the South Central Conference championship), each by a shutout score.

Griffin worked 42 of the 49 innings, holding the opposition to 6 hits, walked 15 and struck out 90, an average of 15 per game. He twirled no-hitters against Imlay City and Kingston, and worked six of seven innings of a no-hitter against Columbiaville.

North Branch, defensively, committed only 5 errors in 7 games. Griffin's record included the three no-hitters, two 1-hitters and two 2-hitters. In the Imlay City game, Griffin's no-hitter bested Imlay ace Steve Parnicky's 1-hitter.

Parnicky also had one other 1-hit performance.

Berkley's Dick Radatz twirled 2 no-hitters and teamed up with Bob Blackwell for a 3rd. The Bears' rangy star also posted one 1-hitter and two 2-hitters.

Birmingham's Dick Sheldon worked 7 innings of hitless relief ball and in starting assignments had a pair of 1-hitters.

Southfield southpaw ace Tom McCormick pitched a no-hitter only to lose to a 1-hitter by Radatz. McCormick also had two 2-hitters. Other no-hit games were worked by Steve Hayes of Cranbrook and Jack Ranstadler of Roseville.

Dick Covera of Southfield had a 1-hitter and Waterford's Barry Fell lost a 1-hitter when the hit he yielded was a home run.

Fell also pitched a 2-hitter. His Skipper teammate Steve Kebler hurled two 2-hitters, while Clarkston moundsmen registered three 2-hitters, two by Al Warman and one by Bill Dunstan.

Amateur Queens of U. S., British Golf in Action

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — The amateur queens of America and Great Britain set out today to show the professionals a thing or two about golf as the second annual Triangle round robin invitation tournament got under way over the par 74 Cascades course.

Mary Lena Faulk, the slender American titlist from Thomasville, Ga., and Marlene Stewart, first Canadian ever to win the British women's amateur crown, agreed on one thing—it's possible that one of them might come in first in this $7,500 "plus and minus" nightmare.

"You can't ever tell," Miss Faulk said. "All of the really fine professionals are here, though. The pros get to play so much more than the amateurs."

Saxton Jailed on Arms Charge

Wife Says Welter Contender Threatened Her With .38

NEW YORK (INS)—Leading welterweight contender Johnny Saxton was held on a charge of illegal possession of firearms today after his bride of three months said he threatened to "blow her brains out with a loaded pistol.

Mrs. Saxton told police she fled to a neighbor's home when the 23-year-old fighter, who is signed to meet Kid Gavilan for the 147-pound title in September, climaxed an evening of quarreling by brandishing a loaded .38-calibre automatic.

Detectives said they found Saxton sitting in the living room of his Queens home with a toy pistol on a nearby table. The loaded automatic was found stuffed into the toe of a riding boot, but Saxton said he had never seen it before.

The fighter was held without bail for Sullivan Law violation.

Chillin' Charley Riley Winds Up in Deep Freeze

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ring-wise Jimmy Carter of New York, displaying a power-packed attack in his second-round knockout of Charley Riley, stands ready today for an earlier return bout with lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco.

* * *

The 30-year old Carter, two pounds over the lightweight limit at 137, rocked Chillin' Charley with four jarring rights to send the St. Louis campaigner down for an eight-count and then finished the fight with a blazing left hook to the jaw last night. Riley weighed 133½.

* * *

Riley was counted out in 2:39 of the second round in the televised bout from the St. Louis Arena.

Willie Ketchum, Carter's manager, said after the fight: "We are going back to New York and I'm going to see if I can't pin down DeMarco's handlers for an earlier shot at the title. If we can't get one without too much time elapsing I want to get Carter some more fights to keep him in condition for the title bid."

The return fight, which had been scheduled for last night in San Francisco, was postponed until September when DeMarco was stricken with a virus infection.

A crowd of 1,576 attended the fight. Gross receipts were $2,279.50.

Neyland Picked in One Spot on 3-Man Board

Will Settle Question of Pro, or Collegiate Substitute Ruling

CHICAGO (AP) — Rules of substitution for the All-Star football game at Soldier Field Aug. 13 are to be decided by a board of arbitration.

Arch Ward, sports editor of the sponsoring Chicago Tribune, and the collegiate coaching staff headed by Jim Tatum of Maryland, want the Detroit Lions to play under the collegiate rules of one-platoon in the game.

Buddy Parker, coach of the Lions National Football League champions, insists the professional free substitution rule be used permitting two-platoon football.

After a stalemate on the subject with Bert Bell, NFL commissioner, Ward requested a three-man arbitration under terms of the game contract between the NFL and the Tribune.

The board will include an appointe of the Chicago Tribune Charities, one appointee of the NFL, and, in event agreement fails on a 3rd arbiter, appointment will be made by the American Arbitration Assn.

Ward's choice was Brig. Gen Robert Neyland, athletic director and former long-time coach at the University of Tennessee. Bell is to name his arbiter within three days.

In Philadelphia last night, Bell gave these two reasons for his opposition to the collegiate limited substitution rule:

1. "It wouldn't be fair to require a player to play defense, for instance, who hasn't played defense for years. An injury might mean the end of his football career."

2. "The All-Star game contract is between the Chicago Tribune Charities and the NFL and I don't believe the college coaches have any say in the matter. The college coach can't set the rules, as far as I am concerned—he can only agree to coach or not to coach the game."

Bell said that "no matter what the result of the arbitration board, whether it's favorable to us or not we'll be on hand for the game on Aug. 13 to play any way they decide."

Rookie pitcher Bob Trice of the Athletics is known as a good hitter too. He hit four homers and five doubles last season for Ottawa in the International League.

Notre Dame's tennis coach, Charlie Samson, was a finalist in the 1944 NCAA tournament. He lost to Pancho Segura.

Press Writer Gets First-Hand View of Baseball Players' Life on Train Trip

By JOE HAAS

After watching their defeat by the Detroit Tigers at Briggs Stadium the other day, it became a once-in-a-lifetime privilege to spend that night with the Baltimore Orioles. They were making the trip home on the same train on which I went to Washington.

* * *

Most had bedrooms in the car I was in — but spent little time there. They lingered long in the diner, ate like the proverbial country threshers, never turning down a 2nd helping, and often asking for a 3rd. None seemed to be on a diet.

But most of their time was spent in the lounge car. Card games abounded. Faces were an interesting study. Just as in most any other group, there were those who talked all of the time — and didn't win, and those who said nothing and looked nothing — and won.

Pitcher Duane Pillette who had just suffered a 7-1 defeat was almost morose, but had no alibi to offer and accepted none from his team mates. He confided in me, knowing I am a Tiger fan, that our youngsters are hard to fool.

"But," he said, "I'll go against them again and it may be possible for us to even up things."

P. S. Orioles defeated the Tigers Monday at Baltimore, 4-2, with Pillette pitching, although he allowed the same number of hits as in Detroit last Thursday.

* * *

One of the greatest plays I ever saw in baseball was the stop of a red hot liner in Thursday's game by Vern Stephens, Oriole 3rd baseman. When he grabbed it his body was almost perfectly flat.

Stephen's play was the talk of the evening among his associates, but he passed it off as "just an incident."

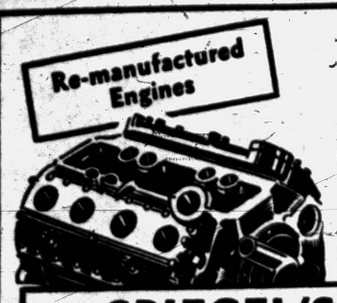

Vic Wertz (now a Cleveland Indian) was very cagey about talking to a Detroit fan. However, he agrees that his leaving the team was a good thing for both the Tigers and himself.

Treating them like the fine grownup boys, which they are, Jimmy Dykes, Oriole manager, is a hard master. He makes up in spunk what he lacks in size. He dictated their bedtime like a baby sitter, and the six-footers took orders from their pint-sized superior in a friendly manner — and obeyed them.

It's Time Out!

"Now, isn't that cute, Fred . . . the way our balls came to rest right side by side!"

Senators' Rookie Hurler, Stone, Beats Tigers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ambitious Detroit Tigers were on severe notice of hard work ahead today in only their 2nd stop of their current eastern swing.

Washington's uncooperative Senators — in 5th place today five and a half games behind the Tigers — served it last night by stopping Detroit 7-2 in the series opener.

Actually, the Senators were even a bit uncouth about it. Not only did their rookie Dean Stone hold the Tigers to six hits but the Senators gave the business to Detroit's starring Steve Gromek.

Gromek, seeking his 8th win, instead got his 4th defeat, a thorough going-over that had him out of there after four innings with six runs in and all of them earned.

In addition, shortstop Pete Runnels hit a home run off Gromek. That wouldn't be too unusual until one is reminded that it was the 1st homer light-hitting Pete has ever hit at Griffith Stadium.

Runnel's homer came with two on base in the 4th inning. It was one of six hits off Gromek. The Tiger righthander also walked three men.

Detroit will try to square accounts in the 2nd game of the series tonight. Ned Garver (4-1) is ticketed to pitch against Maurice McDermott (3-4).

Last night's contest also had some historical import, even this being favorable to Washington.

It was 3rd baseman Eddie Yost's 700th consecutive game. This is the longest run of consecutive games since the late , great 1st baseman Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees played in 2,130. Yost has played without interruption since July 5, 1949.

Rookie Stone's victory was his 3rd straight without a loss. He was very good. Tigers didn't get a hit until Al Kaline's single in the 5th They didn't see the third base until the 7th.

It was in the 7th that Detroit got its two runs. Relief pitcher Bob Miller singled after Kaline and both advanced on a fielder's choice after which Don Lund singled them both over the plate.

After two were out in the first, Senators collected their 1st two runs off Gromek on a walk to Mickey Vernon and singles by Roy Sievers, Jim Busby and Tom Wright.

Vernon's double, a fly, and a sacrifice fly by Busby gave Washington a run in the 3rd.

Wes Santee Sure He Can Beat Bannister in Mile

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—"If you hooked Bannister onto the Twentieth Century limited he couldn't beat Santee."

* * *

It was cocky Wes Santee talking just before the ace University of Kansas miler took off today for California and another crack at the 3:59.4 mile mark set by England's Roger Bannister last month.

Santee, who often refers to himself in the 3rd person and who owns 2nd fastest time ever recorded in the mile, 4:01.3, added: "Bannister ran his super mile without pressure. There'd be pressure if guys like Barthel and Santee were in the race."

Santee referred to Josy Barthel of Luxembourg, the 1,500-meter Olympic champion whom he hopes to meet in the mile at the Los Angeles Coliseum Relays June 11, and the 880 at Stockton Saturday night.

* * *

"I consider Barthel the world's No. 1 miler," Santee said. "Barthel won in the Olympics. Bannister was an 'also ran' and Australia's John Landy failed to qualify for the finals."

Santee says he's confident he can beat "any and all comers in a mile foot race."

Lamotta Says He's Through With Ring

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta, who started a comeback after retiring 18 months ago, says he is through fighting.

"I'm tired and I'm through making excuses to myself," LaMotta said yesterday in announcing his retirement from the ring.

"I haven't any pep. I've been telling myself it's the weather and I've been working too hard. It's time to quit and nobody knows it better than I do."

Mrs. C. F. Cox was 2nd at 91, followed by Mrs. Robert Erdelon at 92 and Mrs. E. R. Boyer and Mrs. J. W. Menefee, with 93s.

A guest of the WMGA was Mrs. Irene Bretzlaff, champion of the Women's District Golf Association. She shot an 86.

My Greatest Shot

By BOB TOSKI

I had to birdie the last hole to win the Havana Open the past winter. The 18th fairway of the Havana Country Club course is tight. Guarding against going out of bounds on the left, in three rounds I pushed my drive to the right of the fairway. The ball landed practically in the same place each time. There wasn't more than 15 yards difference.

So when I was there again in the final round, I kiew the shot by heart, said to myself that by now it should be easy. And I hit the green on each occasion.

I was about 160 yards from the hole. The shot was blocked by a row of royal palm trees. I was too close to hook the ball through and under the palms.

So I elected to fade the ball between the first two trees, where I had the most room. The space grew thinner as the row of trees went along.

I opened the club face of a 4 iron so as to fade and put the ball 18 inches from the hole for an uphill putt.

I sank the putt and had the birdie that beat Walter Burkemo and Pete Cooper.

That particular iron shot was my greatest.

Zeke Morris and Herman Bishop shared the GMC pitching and gave the Elks 7 hits, while striking out 10.

English Derby Winner to Point Now for St. Leger

LONDON (AP)—Trainer Joe Lawson today ran an expert eye over Never Say Die, handsome chestnut winner of the 175th running of the classic Epsom Derby, and said: "Now we go for a mile and a half race at Ascot in July and then the classic St. Leger."

Never Say Die took the first leg yesterday with a two lengths victory in the mile and a half derby. The colt finished strongly and experts said he appeared to have something in reserve as he swept past the winning post.

The horse that takes the St. Leger needs to pack that extra staying power to win the historic Doncaster race which first was run in 1776.

The derby is over a mile and a half course. The Leger course covers one mile six furlongs and 132 yards.

Pine Lake Pro Fires Top Round in Best Ball

Pine Lake Country Club pro Henry Ransom posted the day's best round, but was forced to share top honors with Ron LaParl of Battle Creek in Wednesday's pro-member best ball golf tournament at Washtenaw Country Club at Ypsilanti.

Ransom's 71, one under par, was the lowest round of the tourney, but LaParl teamed with Ed Sampson to take best ball honors with 67. Tied at 68 for 2nd place were Ted Maged and Phil Devine and Gary Carle and Tony Lopucki.

Ransom was 3 strokes off the pace with two partners, Harold Cregar and Julian Sutton.

Big Double Payoff

State Auditor Wants to Know Who Got 'Sugar'

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Who got the "sugar" in the Sugar Bowl?

Sharp-tongued State Auditor Edgar B. Sims raised the "sugar" question yesterday five months after West Virginia's Mountaineers went down to defeat in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl last New Year's Day.

* * *

Sims got off an icily worded letter on the subject to University President Irvin Stewart.

* * *

Dr. Stewart said he was told the check was supposed to be in the mail and due at Morgantown any minute.

Under regulations prescribed by the Southern Conference, West Virginia's share of the $140,000 is to come from the conference rather than the Sugar Bowl sponsors.

"We do not know whether we will get $30,000 back, much less who got the 'sugar' from the Sugar Bowl," Sims wrote Stewart.

Bathers Take League Crown

Mt. Clemens High School won the Eastern Michigan League track championship at Hazel Park Wednesday with Bill Thomas in the starring role for the Bathers.

Birmingham missed the team title by 3 points, scoring 54½ to Mt. Clemens' winning 57½. Port Huron was 3rd with 29½ followed by Ferndale 28, East Detroit 17½ and Hazel Park 14.

Thomas won the low hurdles in 20.4 seconds, the only meet record set, and added the high hurdles and broad jump titles in addition to anchoring the Bathers' winning half-mile relay team.

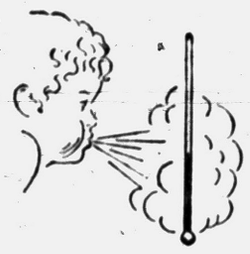

Thomas is the 4th athlete in 10 years to become a triple winner. East Detroit's great Ron Kramer became the 3rd last year.

Four Towns Wins

Four Towns School won the elementary school softball championship of Waterford Township Wednesday at Drayton Plains by defeating defending champion Williams Lake, 8-6. Jim Diamond was the winning pitcher. Big hit for Four Towns was Tim Underwood's 2-run triple in the 1st innig.

Birmingham Softball Club Hands Stadium First Loss

Birmingham Rite-Way handed Stadium Inn its 1st loss of the season in City Softball League play Wednesday night and knocked the Stadium nine out of 1st place in the process.

Idle General Motors now holds the top spot alone. Fine relief pitching by Roger Reynolds brought the Birmingham club a 2-1 victory in 10 innings. Two errors, a single and a walk broke up the game.

Reynolds hurled the last 4 innings, yielding one hit and no runs.

In another close game, Milford Merchants tripped Drive-In Cleaners, 3-2, despite Bill Alderson's three-hit pitching for Drive-In. Winning run in the 3rd was unearned.

Jack Ganzel of Milford and Elmer Swansey of the Cleaners swapped home runs in the 1st and 4th innings.

Moose Lodge collected only three hits off Tom Fairbrother, but handed Forster Tool a 7-4 setback at North Side Park. Jack Martin hit two triples and a single to account for all three Moose hits. Four errors by the Forster nine aided the Moose cause.

Inter-League Schedule Still 2 Years Away

O'Malley Okehs Idea, Calls It Stimulus to Major Loop Ball

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The chances of the major leagues adopting an inter-league schedule for at least two years are slim, but Brooklyn President Walter O'Malley says he is "very much in favor of the plan."

* * *

"I understand it's high on the agenda for the league meetings at all-star time in Cleveland," O'Malley told newsmen last night. "I think it would be a great stimulus to baseball, particularly at the box office."

The proposal was made originally by Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians. Greenberg suggested each National and American League team play two games yearly in inter-league competition.

The Brooklyn president said he thought a 156-game schedule, two more than now played by each league, might be the answer. That would mean trimming the present schedule in each circuit to 140 games—20 games against each team—and adding the 16 necessary to permit the eight teams in the two loops to meet twice.

* * *

"I wouldn't want to cut the number of games played each season," O'Malley said, "and I certainly don't think adding two to the present schedule would be any hardship."

O'Malley said he thought such an innovation would be beneficial especially in such one-league cities as Milwaukee and Detroit.

Fishing Good, but Dangerous, at Westport

WESTPORT, Wash. (AP) — In the last five years, Westport has become a fabulous salmon center. The sports fishermen discovered it after commercial boats had harvested happily for years.

Through the late spring and summer months the huge king the 60-pound class, feed inside and outside the harbor. Some days they fight each other for the lures.

But it's no place for small boats and inexperienced boatmen. Located on the south Washington coast, the wind-whipped bay here is always choppy. Sometimes the wind will kick up suddenly and throw "the whole Pacific Ocean" at you.

Robinson Tossed From Game

By CHRIS EDMUNDS

MILWAUKEE (UP)—A rain-soaked rhubarb and Jackie Robinson's tossing of a bat into the box seats produced one of the weirdest National League baseball games of the season last night at County Stadium.

* * *

The Brooklyn Dodgers, scoring five unearned runs in the top of the fifth inning after Eddie Mathews had belted a grand slam home run in the fourth, beat Milwaukee, 7-6, in a five-inning contest. The game was called because of rain at 12:15 a.m. (CST) after being delayed 91 minutes in the early going by a steady drizzle which actually never stopped completely.

* * *

The triumph, fifth straight for the Dodgers, moved them into first place in the tight pennant race.

* * *

The bat tossing, explained later by Robinson as "strictly an accident," came moments after the entire Brooklyn bench had been cleared by Plate Umpire Lee Ballanfant. The Dodgers, according to Manager Walt Alston, were protesting a base on balls awarded Braves' shortstop Johnny Logan in the hectic fourth inning.

* * *

"We were sure the count was 3 and 2," Alston explained in the club house later, "and the boys got a bit excited."

* * *

The Dodgers stormed onto the field after Ballanfant waved Logan to first, loading the bases.

* * *

They argued, with the customary no results. When the players returned to the dugout several towels were tossed out and Ballanfant promptly cleared the bench.

* * *

Matthews' homer followed Logan's disputed walk, giving the Braves a 6-2 lead. The next two Braves were retired.

* * *

Robinson was the leadoff man for Brooklyn in the top of the fifth. As he came to the plate he spoke to Ballanfant and promptly was thumbed out. Returning to the dugout he flipped his bat and it skipped onto the concrete top, bounced off and hit the usher. He kept the bat. Dozens of fans rushed to the scene, but four policemen prevented any trouble.

* * *

"All I did was tell Ballanfant he was wrong on the count," Robinson said later. "He told me to get in and hit or he'd throw me out—and he did. Then I tossed the bat underhanded towards the dugout, but I held onto it too long. I went over and apologized which was about all I could do. After all I wouldn't throw a bat into the grandstand."

CONTEST LEADER — Biggest northern pike entry for the 1954 Pontiac Press "big fish derby" today was the 10 pound 13 ounce lunker taken by James Sherrod of Oxford (above). Sherrod, fishing with his brother Bob of Keego Harbor and father-in-law, Robert Clements, on Tan lake, near Oxford, Tuesday night hooked the big fellow on a dare-devil lure in deep water. A 15-minute battle ensued before the fish was boated. It measured 36½ inches in length and was scarred about the head, probably by a spear thrust during the last winter.

Lions Sign Up 13th Draft Choice Player

DETROIT (UP) — A superstitious man, coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions has a keen disdain for the number 13.

That, however, was before today. No. 13 may prove to be a lucky number for Parker.

Last week, Parker lost Yale Lary, outstanding defensive back, to military service. But today the Lions signed Jim Swierczak, a crack defensive player from Marshall college.

Last season Swierczak intercepted 27 passes, running them back for 496 yards. Six times he went al the way for touchdowns.

You say where's the similarity? Swierczak was Parker's 13th draft choice last January.

Smart Denied Appeal to Cut Suspension

NEW YORK (UP)—Harness racing driver Wayne Smart of Wellsville, Ohio, has been turned down in his appeal to have his one-year suspension shortened.

Smart and Carl Larsen were suspended from harness racing in New York last November after admitting they had a hypodermic needle in their possession at the Goshen, N. Y., track on or about Aug. 12, 1953, without having obtained proper permission. The suspension ends Sept. 30.

Tribe Spots Yanks 7-0 Lead, Wins 8-7

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

It looks more and more as if this Cleveland team really means business.

* * *

The Indians frankly admit they like it up on top of the American League standings and they're willing to fight to stay there.

* * *

Last night they fought and won their toughest battle so far as they beat the New York Yankees 8-7 in a 10 inning struggle at Yankee Stadium after the Yanks had jumped off to a 7-0 lead in the first inning.

* * *

A home run by Bobby Avila tied the score in the ninth and another homer, this time by Al Smith, broke it up. What made the comeback even more amazing was the sensational relief pitching of five Indian hurlers who held the Yankees hitless for nine full innings after a six-hit splurge in the first.

* * *

This ability to fight back agianst a powerful rival on foreign territory makes Cleveland a solid threat. The Indians have had consistently good teams the past three seasons when they've finished second. But they've lacked the spark to fight off the Yankees over the full season.

* * *

Balance was the payoff last night. Al Rosen, the league's most valuable player who is having a great year, ran into an off night. But Avila and Larry Doby took up the hitting slack with three hits apiece.

* * *

Early Wynn, normally one of the club's top pitchers, couldn't get a man out. So his relief followers mopped up in almost perfect fashion once the first inning was over. The victory went to Hal Newhouser who finished with three hitless frames.

* * *

By winning, the Indians pulled two games in front of the Chicago White Sox who bowed 5-2 to Boston. Baltimore pushed Philadelphia into the league cellar with a 9-1 decision. Washington defeated Detroit 7-2.

* * *

Brooklyn took first place in the National League by one game over the Milwaukee Braves as they sloshed to a 7-6 decision against the Braves in five innings that consumed more than four hours including two lengthy delays because of rain. Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 7-0. It was too cold for Pittsburgh and the Cubs in Chicago and too wet in St. Louis for the Cardinals and New York.

What Became of Courting Customs Like Bundling?

NEW YORK (AP)—If your teen-age daughter is hogging the telephone, in long talks with her boy friends, why not solve the problem by buying her a courting stick?

The time seems ripe for a revival of this communication tool of lovers, popular in old New England.

An antiquarian friend of mine, doing research on old marriage customs for the 50th anniversary of the Fuller Brush Co., which distributes cosmetics and brushes, said:

"Television has made the courting stick eminently practical again in the average American home."

* * *

What is a courting stick? Well, in colonial times it was a hollow wooden tube 6 to 8 feet long. Sternly chaperoned lovers could sit on opposite sides of big fireplaces and whisper romantic nonsense back and forth, unheard by other members of the family.

While the courting stick, the forerunner of Alexander Graham Bell's invention, would seem to fit well in the television age, another old colonial courting custom now has few firm friends left at all, and why, I don't know.

* * *

That is the practice of bundling. This was an old New England boy-meets-girl formula designed to save papa's firewood bill.

The fully clad lovers, covered by quilts and separated by a wooden partition, lay propped up side by side in a bed as they discussed the local corn crop, ethics, and other interesting topics, shivering as the fire sank lower.

Some historical scholars claim that this depressing form of cold weather courtship is directly responsible for the settlement of the West, the discovery of gold in California, and the invention of air conditioning. Others say it only resulted in the spread of marriage and the common cold.

Whatever the merit of these conflicting claims and accusations, the arrival of the motor car and the movies and the growth of skiing as a sport gradually turned New Englanders away from home bundling.

* * *

Courtship and marriage this June month of weddings is far easier in many ways than it was in colonial times.

In Maryland, for example, I understand that bachelors, light wines and billiard tables are no longer bracketed together for tax purposes to pay the cost of the war against the French and Indians, as they were in 1756.

Girls, even those rascally girls who lead a man on with false promises of wealth, have it easier today. Men who had been "shabbed"—their word for jilted—in colonial days didn't hesitate to bring a breach of promise suit.

A male fortune hunter then was known as a "journeyman gentleman." Both men and women took the view that a mate with money wasn't necessarily a lifelong handicap.

* * *

A pioneer matrimonial advertisement by a sensitive journeyman gentleman in the Boston Evening Post of Feb. 23, 1759, listed these endearing demands:

"Any young lady between the age of 18 and 23, middling stature . . . regular features and a lively brisk eye: Of good morals . . . possessed of 3 or 400 pounds. . . ."

In those sternly masculine times, a healthy husband might well outlive two or three succesive hard-working wives. A girl unmarried at 25 was regarded as a spinster.

Yet there somehow were still so many widows around that a singular law prevailed from New England to South Carolina. It provided that a man taking a widow as his wife was responsible for her former husband's debts unless she married him on the king's highway clad in her chemise.

* * *

This was roughly equivalent to saying an eager widow couldn't win a thrifty man unless she was willing to marry him in public view in Times Square wearing only a petticoat.

Naturally it is easy to see why this law flopped. Even in those days they already had enough traffic jams.

Temper Proves More Than Driver Can Handle

DETROIT (AP) — Detroiter Richard Coker's anger grew with each block he circled. He couldn't find a place to park. And, after all, he'd come downtown to pay off a ticket for illegal parking.

Finally he drove smack onto the sidewalk at City Hall, and stormed in to give the mayor a piece of his mind. The mayor was out. So coker stormed back to the sidewalk — only to find police had towed his car away.

That cost him $10 on top of his $3 ticket.

More than 150,000 persons are regularly employed in the extensive coal industries of Pennsylvania.

Southwest Rains Lower Wheat

CHICAGO (AP)—Rains in the southwestern winter wheat belt, with more predicted, caused scattered selling in wheat futures on the board of trade today.

Corn held firm on good cash demand. Oats held about steady, influenced by steadiness in the bread cereal. Soybeans started lower and then firmed, with some buying influenced by export reports.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ to ⅝ lower than the previous finish, July $1.90½, corn was ¼ to ⅜ higher, July $1.55⅛, oats were unchanged to ⅛ up, July 69⅜, rye was ¼ to 1 cent lower, July 99¾, soybeans were 1 cent higher to ⅛ lower, July $3.66¾, and lard was 13 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $17.75.

Ex-Red Changes His Testimony

Paul Crouch Identifies Certain Commie After Seeing Him in Person

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul Crouch, former Communist who often testifies for the government, says he was able to recognize and identify a defendant in a Philadelphia trial of Communist party leaders even though he had denied at an earlier trial that he knew the man.

* * *

Crouch issued an explanation yesterday of alleged discrepancies in his testimony involving a David Davis, first at a 1949 perjury trial of Harry Bridges, West Coast longshore leader, and later at a Philadelphia trial of nine Red leaders.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said last week that he would check on such alleged discrepancies he said were reported to him by columnist Joseph Alsop. In his statement yesterday, Crouch, now an immigration service employe, criticized Alsop and other columnists who have mentioned him unfavorably.

* * *

Crouch said he denied knowing Davis when questioned at the Bridges trial in part because "there was no fdentifying data whatever to indicate that I was being asked about the Davis I had known so well. . . ."

He also said that David Davis is a common name.

But, he said, when he saw Davis at the Philadelphia trial, he recognized him at once.

Industrials Up, Motors Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced in the early afternoon today in a moderate manner on a fairly broad front.

Gains seldom got past a point in key areas. Losses generally were confined to smaller fractions.

Business maintained a pace in the neighborhood of yesterday's 1,930,000 shares when the market wa.. falling a little.

The aircrafts, steels, and rubbers were the most popular divisions, and there were some individually good performers in the electrical equipment, oils, and soft drinks.

The motors and railroads were narrowly mixed as were the coppers, and radio-televisions.

U. S. Rubber was fairly active at higher prices, Dr. Pepper was a standout in its division, and among other gainers were U. S. Steel, Goodrich, United Aircraft, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, American Tobacco, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Texas Pacific Land Trust.

Packard and Studebaker were active and mostly higher after it was reported that New York investment bankers were preparing a merger plan for consideration of the companies.

NYC Indicates Proxie Appeal

Election Inspectors OK Texas Bloc of Stock for Rebel Young

NEW YORK (INS) — The management of the New York Central Railroad indicated today that it might appeal to the courts about a disputed 800,000 shares of stock which were voted for Robert R. Young in the battle for control of the railroad.

The present management of the New York Central protested bitterly after the huge block held by Texas oilmen Clint Murchison and Sid Richardson was voted for Young at the stockholders meeting in Albany last week.

But the election inspectors rejected the challenge yesterday and William White, president of the railroad, issued a statement hinting that the matter might be taken to court.

A spokesman for Young's faction claimed confidently that the bitterly fought proxy battle was "over and done with" for all practical purposes.

The official results probably will be announced at a stockholders meeting in Albany next Tuesday.

The voting of the 800,000 shares in favor of Young seemed to assure his group of victory. But the New York Central's present management is expected to take the dispute to the New York Supreme Court should Young win.

The present management of the railroad claimed that the purchase of the block of 800,000 shares from the Chesapeake & Ohio was "illegal" and "a sham."

Eight Pontiac students will be in the quartet numbers. They are Elinor Schutt, Constance Haaseth, Esther Thompson, Ronald Rife, Lillian Casper, Jack Horner, Shirley Bauer and Rebecca Schutt.

Peppy Program to Be Half Hour

Kathryn Murray to Do Feature Number Each Week This Summer

NEW YORK—A glittering array of guest personalities will be added to the well-known features of The Arthur Murray Party when the show's format is expanded to a half-hour for a 14-week summer series on TV starting June 15.

The weekly "parties" will fill the second half-hour time segment of the Berle Show during its seasonal hiatus (June 8-Sept. 21).

Kathryn Murray will return in her role as hostess of the series which will be produced by her husband, Arthur Murray. In addition to the outstanding list of the top-name guest stars, Mrs. Murray will be featured in a specialty dance on each program.

Another continuing feature each week will be a mystery dance, during which viewers are invited to identify a dance performed by Murray instructors and students.

The Arthur Murray Party, which was first featured on TV in 1950, was last presented as a 15-minute feature. At various other times previously it was a full-hour and a half-hour series.

Its return to a half-hour format is in answer to viewers' requests for the longer program which will permit a greater number of attractions each week.

Couple Too Poor to Get Divorce, Judge Advises

CHICAGO (AP)— Mrs. Alice C. Moore, 30, asked for temporary alimony to support herself and a daughter, Karol, 1, pending a hearing on her divorce suit against Robert Moore, 32.

Moore, questioned by Superior Court Judge Alan E. Ashcraft, said he earns $272 a month as a shipping clerk and has fixed expenses of $159.

"You're too poor to enjoy the luxury of a divorce," Judge Ashcraft told the couple. "You're foolish even to want one. I suggest you become reconciled."

The Moores agreed and left the courtroom hand in hand.

Mayor Fixes Ticket for Visiting Magistrate

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, attempting to promote international good will, fixed a parking fine yesterday for W. H. Stokes, visiting magistrate from Coventry, England.

Stokes called on the mayor and later found his car missing from in front of City Hall.

After learning police had towed it off for illegal parking, the mayor ordered it returned. He waived a $5 parking fine.

Texas Man Handles His Own Fire Fighting

LAKE DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—When his car, garage and house caught on fire Monday, Dub Brown of this lake-edge community pulled the car out of the garage by attaching a tow chain to a truck and backing up. He then extinguished the house and garage fire. Using the truck again, he pushed the burning car into a pond.

He's pretty sure the fire is out because the car is still six feet under water.

Bob Considine Says:

Civil Rights for Negroes Ike's Greatest Success

WASHINGTON (INS)—The most astonishing single achievement of the Eisenhower administration to date has been the strides it has taken to better the lot of the American Negro.

History may well forget the President's other gifts but class him with Lincoln in this respect.

The administration's stand on civil rights when it took office Jan. 20, 1953 was considered its weakest supporting prop. Its forte was due to be better business conditions, restoration of trust in government, close-knit "team play."

On civil rights the President had said he was opposed to compulsory FEPC and preferred to let "good example" take care of the problem. The Democrats sounded better on this score.

"What we've done in that line is the strongest weapon in our arsenal today," a White House spokesman said today.

"The incredible thing is that in an election year we will be attacked for just about everything except on this ground, where some of us thought we'd invite the most vigorous attack."

Presidents Roosevelt and Truman always spoke heartily in favor of anti-discrimination legislation, but either could not or would not defeat the filibustering that crushed such bills.

In their appeals for Negro votes neither got around to appointing nearly as many Negroes as has Eisenhower.

Neither hired Negro secretaries or staff personnel in the White House executive office, as has Eisenhower, and neither engaged in such rudimentary integration as inviting Negroes working in the White House to attend the annual Christmas party at the mansion.

Eisenhower established the President's committee on government contracts, headed by Vice President Nixon, to strike at discrimination on a far-flung front.

One third of the total U. S. income is derived from government contracts, and federal law prohibits discrimination in such activities.

Determined to utilize existing anti-segregation machinery instead of unfurling new bills before Congress, the President engineered a massive attack on it in military installations.

The order to end segregation in schools located on such installations went through last November.

His order to do something about the military reservations was given to Sherman Adams who assigned Max Rabb, the White House's Jack of all professions, to take it up with Robert B. Anderson, secretary of the Navy.

Anderson, a Texan, called in Under Secretary Charles Thomas and Rear Adm. George A. Holderness Jr., dispatched them immediately to the big Navy bases at Norfolk, Va., and Charleston, S. C., to study whether it was possible to integrate white and Negro employes at either place.

They returned shortly and stated independently that they believed it possible, despite the location of the bases and the weight of tradition.

Then began one of the most passive revolutions in history. The "white" and "colored" signs were removed from water fountains and not replaced at those bases.

Rest rooms were ordered repainted on the outside. The painters "forgot" to re-paint the segregation signs. Cafeterias began serving customers, rather than Negroes or whites. A few neck hairs bristled, but the conversion worked like magic.

An even touchier job of integration is now being completed at veterans' hospitals, many of them in the south. Of 47 hospitals where segregation was practiced, 43 have ended racial bars, and the remaining four may do so at any time.

* * *

There's no longer separate solicitation of stewards in the Navy, 23 agencies of the District of Columbia that practiced segregation have given it up, in Washington also there has been such voluntary acts as the ending of segregation in movies and along the phone company's switch-board, and such compulsory acts as integration in the city's public restaurants and on its playgrounds.

* * *

Not one piece of civil rights legislation has passed Congress since 1875, according to Max Rabb. The miraculous strides made during Eisenhower's short period in office, climaxed by his attorney general's successful plea to the Supreme Court for an anti-segregation-in-schools ruling, makes Eisenhower the Negro's greatest friend since the Great Emancipator himself.

William Gives Proper Response, Gets Jackpot

READING, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. William Moyer heard someone moving about on the ground floor of her home.

"Is that you, William?" she inquired, thinking it was her husband.

"It is William," came the reply.

Mrs. Moyer turned to resume her sleep and saw her husband asleep in the bed next to her.

A quick check revealed several dollars in cash and a watch had been taken from a downstairs room.

Handicapped Hunter

ROCHESTER, N. H. — (UP) — Though paralyzed from the waist down, Charles Kondrup, 22, is an enthusiastic nimrod in his wheel chair. He wheels himself through the woods in quest of game, and this year he missed only one day of the deer season. A crack shot, he recently was awarded a life membership in the Cocheco Valley Sportsmen's Club.

George Washington received the unanimous vote of the electoral college both times he was named president.

Seeks New Name

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — (UP) — A St. Louis County community wants a shorter name because it's bigger now. Back in 1951, there were only 1,000 persons living in Bellefontaine Neighbors when it was incorporated under the folksy title. Now the population has jumped to 12,000, and city officials have requested residents to send in their suggestions for a new name by postcard.

Wolves kill about 5 per cent of the caribou herds in Canada each winter.

Requirements Too Low?

WATERBURY, Conn. (UP) — Housing officials are having trouble filling a new 40-apartment low-rent housing project. In a city of 100,000 population, only 65 families were found with incomes low enough to meet the eligibility requirements.
