

Dust Storm and Tornadoes Spread Destruction

Winds Blacken Texas; Twister Slashes Illinois

Snow Hits Area in Fog's Wake

Traffic Deaths in Darkness, 6 in Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Southwest's worst dust storm of the season—a howling "black blizzard" which fanned prairie fires, ripped off roofs and killed six persons—blew itself into the Gulf of Mexico today.

Warnings for small craft to stay in port went up along the coast as the storm whipped up Gulf waters and spread its sky-darkening pall into Louisiana and Mississippi.

Behind the storm front, skies were clearing, winds fell, and two prairie fires—one northwest of Lubbock and a larger one near Matador, Tex.—were put out.

At the height of the Matador fire "the dust was so heavy you couldn't see the fire until you were right on it," said editor Douglas Meador of the Matador Tribune, who turned out with almost every one else to fight it.

"You could smell it, and you just followed your nose."

The Matador fire charred 1,200 of 1,800 acres of the area's best grazing land, leaping ahead on blazing dead mesquite trees sent bowling along by winds up to 70 miles an hour.

Five of the six deaths blamed on the storm occurred in traffic accidents. During the worst of the storm visibility was down to zero, traffic was almost completely stalled. Reed Killian, blown from an oil rig near Ada, Okla., was the storm's sixth victim.

Winds with gusts up to 95 miles an hour lashed eastern New Mexico, Oklahoma, West Texas and parts of Kansas at the storm's height.

The blinding dust forced motorists to pull off the highways and stop. One truck driver reported he counted 100 vehicles stalled along a 30-mile stretch of highway in the Texas Panhandle. At Amarillo, motorists, unable to see, rammed each other. One accident there involved eight vehicles but there were no major injuries.

The Weather Bureau said the duststorm was the result of a cool front that swept across Arizona, Texas and Oklahoma and was moving eastward into Arkansas and Louisiana.

Summerfield Slapped Down; Six Killed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A tornado slashed across St. Clair County in nearby southern Illinois early today, leaving at least six dead on its path and wrecked houses from there up to the East St. Louis suburb of Centerville Station where a 4-year-old boy perished.

Three of the dead were in Summerfield, a town of 500 persons 35 miles east of here where the storm hit the hardest.

First hit was Millstadt, Ill., 15 miles south of here along the Mississippi River.

The storm wrecked houses from there up to the East St. Louis suburb of Centerville Station where a 4-year-old boy perished.

The bodies of a man and woman were found near Millstadt. Illinois State Police identified them as Mr. and Mrs. Walter Freese.

Several persons were reported missing in Summerfield where rescue workers were delayed because the two Fire Department searchlights available were not powerful enough to search the wreckage.

The body of Dick Butler, 14-year-old Summerfield High School freshman, was found in his bed. Gus Ganz, about 60, was found dead in a field 50 feet from his demolished house. The other victim at Summerfield was identified as Lizzy Krummery, who was in her 80s. Ten persons were reported injured seriously.

15 HOMES DESTROYED

Fifteen houses and the town's fire station with its emergency equipment, were destroyed. Damage to other houses varied. Summerfield was cut off from outside communication by the tornado and the power was off.

After leaving Summerfield, the storm swung to the east and scattered tangled wires and debris along five miles of U.S. Highway 50.

The storm next hit Trenton, a town of 1,500, five miles east of Summerfield. There damage was (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

20 Fishermen Reach Safety; Others Stranded

MONROE (AP)—Two groups of ice fishermen were trapped on ice floes in Lake Erie today when a strong wind broke the ice loose from shore.

At Bolles Harbor, five miles south of Monroe, 20 fishermen got safely to shore.

Another group of between 30 and 40 fishermen was reported stranded on ice off shore from Sterling State Park, north of Monroe. The Frenchtown fire department sent equipment to help get them to shore.

At Bolles Harbor, S. Landet, 56, of Toledo, Ohio, was brought to shore in a boat after he lost his ice creepers and couldn't stand up against the heavy wind.

One fisherman waded through water chest deep to reach shore. Another fisherman said he had to jump three wide cracks to reach shore.

Dye Jury Hears Defendant

Says Withheld Account Because of Fear Story Would Be 'Garbled'

Clifford B. Dye explained yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court why he withheld his version of how William C. Clark was shot last Aug. 26.

Dye, 54, former Fenton village attorney, is charged with attempted murder in the non-fatal shooting of Clark, 27, a tenant farmer who leased a farm from Dye's sister.

Bad weather prevented the jury from assembling yesterday morning, but the afternoon saw Dye undergo three hours of questioning by Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Taylor asked why Dye had not alleged immediately following the shooting that Clark was the actual assailant as Dye has claimed during the trial.

The accused attorney said he feared his story would be "garbled" and "wanted a jury to hear it straight from my own lips."

Dye previously said he owns no real estate in his own name. Two witnesses stated they heard Clark say he wanted Dye "be-hind bars" so he (Clark) could sue for $150,000.

Speaking of a civil suit started by Dye against the Clarks before the shooting, Taylor asked "weren't you trying to get the Clarks off so you could have all the farm profits?"

Dye denied the statement, saying, "I could only have gotten money they owed my sister if they stayed there."

The trial will continue Tuesday before Judge Clark J. Adams.

Where Explosion Threatened Bottled Gas Plant

FIGHT GAS WAREHOUSE BLAZE—Firemen atop the burning warehouse of Phillips Petroleum Company's Keego Harbor Philgas department this morning pour water through the roof to quench 200 new stoves, smoldering in excelsior packing. Gas storage tanks stand within 300 yards of the building.

Employee Severely Burned

Blasts Rock Warehouse

A fire and minor explosions which rocked a petroleum company's Keego Harbor warehouse, perilously near gas lines leading to gas storage tanks, was under control late this morning.

West Bloomfield Township firemen had just returned from subduing an earlier blaze in the Phillips Petroleum Co. warehouse when an explosion of undetermined origin seriously injured a company employee and started the second more extensive fire.

Fire chief Ben J. Moshier said the first blaze apparently had started by spontaneous combustion in a paint locker.

Witnesses said company employee Donald Vandecar, 53, of Royal Oak, had just reported for work in the morning and walked into the warehouse when the fire began.

Vandecar is in Pontiac General Hospital, where authorities said he is in fair condition with first and second degree burns of face and hands.

Chief Moshier said none of the gas had exploded or burned, but witnesses said Vandecar was injured in an explosion. A section of the warehouse wall buckled, and several canisters which had contained propane gas, their ends blackened and torn, had been removed from the building.

Company foreman Al Burnham is reported to have commented that gas lines leading to the warehouse were not shut off until after the second blaze began.

Chief Moshier said firemen and employees still were working to remove some 200 new stoves, smoldering in excelsior packing, from the warehouse. Otherwise, he said, the fire was under control.

Assistant Manager Samuel Kennedy declined to comment on possible origin of the fire or blast this morning.

Utica Man Dies in Hill Accident

Truck Driver Is Victim as Vehicle Turns Over Near Romeo

Thomas Herbert McKim, 28, driver of a Howard Frase Oil Co. truck was killed at 6:15 p.m. yesterday when his truck overturned on an icy hill at 28 Mile road just west of Campground Road. Romeo Police said McKim, who lived at 5275 Shelby Rd., Utica, was driving west and could not get enough traction to go up a hill.

He put chains on his tires but his truck went out of control.

He apparently was thrown from the cab, police said, and his truck rolled over on him, police said.

His body was taken to the Schwarzkoff Funeral Home in Utica.

Low Prices Herald Living Cost Decline

LONDON (AP)—Frozen Europe began to thaw out around the edges today as sunny spells melted snows in Italy and southern France.

But great areas of the Continent remained congealed under dying blizzard blasts from Siberia. Giant snowdrifts reared across the Iberian Peninsula stalling trains and knocking out power lines.

Known deaths in the 26-day deep freeze mounted to 842 amid warning signs the thaw might prove almost as disastrous as the freeze.

The Area's Outlook

This morning's snow will continue today with much colder temperatures forecast for tonight. Lows of 12-22 degrees can be expected with a high Sunday of 22-28 degrees.

Strong northwest winds will diminish tonight.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 28 degrees. The mercury stood at 28 degrees at 1 p.m.

Leonard Announces Bid for State GOP Nomination

DETROIT (AP)—Donald S. Leonard, former Detroit and state police commissioner, announced today he will run again for the Republican nomination for governor.

Leonard won the GOP nomination in 1954 but lost to Gov. Williams. He ran second in a field of three in the race for the 1952 nomination.

Rested President Leaves Georgia for Home Today

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (INS)—A ruddy and rested President Eisenhower files home to Washington today with—by all indications—the answer to the "big" question.

There was still no word from the White House as to when Eisenhower will announce whether he will seek re-election.

It appears likely, however, that it will come at his next news conference, tentatively set for next Wednesday.

The 65-year-old President apparently proved to himself during his 10 days in Georgia that he still has the physical stamina of a man many years his junior, despite his heart attack.

He topped off a rigorous schedule of physical activity yesterday by putting in his longest day of quail hunting. He shot his limit of 12 birds in nine hours in the fields, staying out until 6:45 p.m.

32 Die in Train Wreck

BERLIN (INS)—Thirty-two passengers were reported killed today in an East German train wreck.

Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit was considered the leading potential candidate until he withdrew from the race last week.

Gov. Williams has not yet indicated whether he will seek a fifth term.

Kefauver Happier

HICKORY, N. C. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) says former President Truman, isn't "throwing as many hurdles in my way as he did in 1952." Kefauver was referring to his current campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Avalanche Doesn't Stop Business of the Lord

OURAY, Colo. (AP)—An avalanche near this town high in the southwestern Colorado Rockies failed to stop the business of the Lord.

The Rev. J. H. Halloran, Catholic priest at Ouray, set out over 11,000-foot Red Mountain Pass for his parish at Silverton and found the highway blocked. But there, on the other side of the mass of snow, was the Rev. Marvin Hudson, a protestant minister, headed the other way.

They swapped cars.

Later, missions accomplished, they met and returned cars.

Chicago Fluoridation Starts This Spring

CHICAGO (AP)—Fluoridation of Chicago's water supply will begin this spring.

The fluoridation program, aimed at reducing tooth decay, also will affect 51 suburbs buying water from Chicago.

The city council authorized fluoridation in June, 1954 after much opposition. The council appropriated $741,298 for the purpose in 1955.

Some 4,300,000 persons use the water supplied by the Chicago pumping system.

Dulles Marks 68th Birthday Amidst Controversy

WASHINGTON (INS)—John Foster Dulles is marking his 68th birthday today as one of the most controversial figures in American public life.

To some he is a master statesman, to others a bumbler, but to almost all he is a secretary of state who raises strong feelings.

There are few neutrals in discussions about John Foster Dulles.

Even as the secretary prepared to observe his birthday quietly in his Georgetown home he was the center of a blazing debate over the shipment of tanks to Saudi Arabia.

It was the kind of struggle that Arabs. In the midst of each Dulles appeared to some as the master diplomatic tactician, to others as a mistaken or even inflexible man.

But to one American Dulles always has seemed tops. That is President Eisenhower. Once, when Dulles used under particular attack in the country, the President told the nation by TV and radio that Dulles was the best secretary of state he had known.

EXPERIENCED BACKGROUND

Certainly Dulles trained for the job. He must have known always that he wanted to be secretary of state. His grandfather, John W. Foster, was secretary for President Harrison. His uncle, Robert Lansing, was secretary for President Wilson.

Dulles was born in Washington.

Dulles never forgot the island and in later years, when he was a successful lawyer, he went through a complicated international real estate deal to buy Duck Island for himself. As secretary, Dulles flies to Duck Island with his wife every chance he gets to rest in the rustic cabin where they stay alone. At the cabin Dulles likes to chop wood, cook flapjacks, hike and even make maple syrup.

The secretary likes to tell how within his memory buffalo lived on the island and that later, during prohibition days, it was a Canadian outpost for a gang of rum-runners.

2 U. S. Airmen, 19 Syrians Die

Lost Air Force Planes Located in California, Spain and Iceland

MADRID (INS)—American helicopters spotted today a U. S. Air Force plane missing since last night on a flight from France to Madrid.

The twin-engine C-47 was seen in the Talamanca Du Jarama region of the Guadarrama mountains north of Madrid.

Agence France Presse said it was not yet known if there were any survivors.

The Air Force said the plane has been missing since it radioed last night that it was approaching the airport over the Guadarrama mountains. It was believed to be carrying six members of a U. S. Air Force mission to Spain.

ST. HELENA, Calif. (INS)—The wreckage of a T-33 jet trainer missing since it left Hamilton Air Force Base last Sunday on a flight to Arizona was found today high on the slopes of northern California's Mount St. Helena.

In the twisted debris, a Civil Air Patrol ground party found the bodies of the two Air Force flyers killed in the crash of the plane at the 3,000-foot level of the 4,500-foot mountain.

DAMASCUS (INS)—All 19 occupants of a Syrian Airliner were killed yesterday when it crashed soon after taking off from Aleppo airport. All those aboard were Syrians. Airport officials said the plane which exploded in flight was struck by lightning.

LONDON (INS)—A crippled U. S. Air Force Globemaster carrying 16 persons was escorted to safety at Keflavik, Iceland, yesterday by planes which met it over the Atlantic.

The plane, on a flight from Labrador to Scotland, reported two of its four engines conked out about 100 miles from Iceland.

Dulles Has Birthday Amidst Controversy

Dulles along to The Hague for the peace conference of 1947. Dulles, then a 19-year-old Princeton student, was employed by the secretariat.

Next year Dulles was graduated as valedictorian of his class at Princeton and member of Phi Beta Kappa. He spent another year studying at the Sorbonne in Paris and then returned for law studies at George Washington University.

From law school Dulles moved to the New York law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell, with which he was still associated 42 years later when he became secretary of state.

President Wilson sent Dulles to Panama in 1917 to help arrange a regional defense of the canal during World War I. Later he became an officer and at the end of the war was an adviser on the staff of President Wilson at the Versailles peace conference.

In 1927 Dulles was legal adviser on the Polish plan of financial stabilization and in 1933 was a representative at the Berlin debt conference. In 1938, on his own, Dulles made a detailed study of the political and economic situation in the Far East.

Dulles turned to politics in 1944 as foreign policy adviser to Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate for president. During the campaign Dulles became a close friend of the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg who later recommended Dulles for a place at the United Nations conference at San Francisco in 1945. Dulles served as a delegate to U.N. in four later years.

In 1950 Dulles was named ambassador with the special mission of working on the Japanese peace treaty.

Accidental Warning Hurts Many on Train

BOSTON (UP)—A score of persons were injured last night aboard a 13-car Boston & Maine excursion train outside North Station.

Police said an emergency signal, accidentally pulled when a passenger in the ninth car reached for his coat, brought the train to a jarring halt.

The 980 persons aboard the excursion train, mostly from Worcester, were en route to the Ice Follies in Boston Garden.

Held at Massachusetts General Hospital were Mrs. Evelyn Rhode, 43, head injuries; and Alexander Mitrokoostas, 20, head, face and arm injuries.

Many of the passengers were standing in aisles or reaching for coats preparatory to getting off.

Engineer Richard Buss said the train was traveling only about five miles an hour.

Hoover Unable to Clear Up Action on Tank Embargo

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (UP)—Testimony by Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. left unexplained today details of last week's midnight decision to embargo arms shipments to the Middle East.

The order suspended temporarily the delivery of 18 tanks to Saudi Arabia, but the shipment was allowed to proceed when the ban was lifted 43 hours later. Hoover was questioned about it yesterday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The key question which had been kicking around Washington since the embargo was imposed was, who initiated the action.

There had been reports in the State Department that the initial step was taken by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty at President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters at Thomasville, Ga. It was understood on good authority that following disclosure of the tank shipment Hagerty had telephoned Hoover and suggested stopping it while the whole issue was re-examined.

PRO-ISRAEL PRESSURE?
These reports were coupled with speculation inside the department that much of the pressure arose from American backers of Israel.

Hoover was asked point blank by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) during the committee hearing whether it was true that Hagerty had played an influential part in making the decision and that Hoover had resisted the embargo idea but finally "gave in."

Hoover declared that account was "not accurate" and added, "the suspension (of arms shipments) was entirely my decision."

He had been in ill health for nearly four years.

Pontiac Man Reminisces Recalls Columnist Wilson as Fledgling Journalist

Columnist Earl Wilson, sophisticated chronicler of famous stars and Broadway night life, is remembered as a high school sports writer always on the lookout for a "scoop."

Wilson was not interested in gossip columns during his stint 33 years ago on the Rockford, O., school news, according to Homer Shingledecker, a Pontiac contractor.

"But I find his column in the Pontiac Press better reading," said Shingledecker yesterday.

"Wilson gives you all the dope on the stars and theatrical people. It makes good reading. Once in a while he still gets a scoop in really important news."

Shingledecker added that he thought the New York syndicated writer sometimes goes "overboard" on pinup pictures. "They get pretty risqué," he explained.

Now 50 and living at 34 Dakota Ave., Shingledecker said he and Wilson have been friends since childhood in Rockford. They were born and raised five miles apart and were "buddies" through school before each went his own way.

The Pontiac man's unusual last name, plus other names reflecting Dutch ancestry, were mentioned by Wilson Thursday in a hometown reminiscence.

"I last saw Earl in a reunion five years ago," said Shingledecker. He was still a swell fellow.

Top GM Officials to Be Quizzed

Senate Investigators to Ask Firm's Heads of Stock Ownership

WASHINGTON (UP)—Top General Motors Corp. officials will be asked by Senate investigators next month whether they own stock in companies from which Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) said GM dealers are required to buy accessories, supplies or services.

Monroney, chairman of a Senate Commerce subcommittee investigating automobile marketing practices, said Harlow H. Curtis, president of GM, and other high GM officials will be quizzed closely on that question when they testify March 8 before the subcommittee.

He is concerned, Monroney said, with testimony given by John V. Booth, a former Chevrolet dealer in McKeesport, Pa., questioning whether GM officials control or are connected with three firms doing a profitable business with the corporation or its dealers.

He emphasized, however, that the heads of other automobile manufacturing plants also will be questioned as to whether they or their associates have financial interests in any "satellite" companies.

The three firms Booth mentioned are the Campbell-Ewald advertising agency, the Kent-Moore organization, a tool-making firm, and Reynolds and Reynolds, Dayton, Ohio, printer of accounting forms.

Booth said Campbell-Ewald has handled Chevrolet advertising for many years. Referring to Chevrolet's magazine, Friends, partly financed by dealer contributions, he said it is published by the Ceco Publishing Co.

"Many believed," Booth said, "that the 'C' stands for Campbell, the 'E' for Ewald, and 'Co' for Company."

Missing Men Found in Cuba

16 U. S. Missionaries on Goodwill Journey Reported Safe

MIAMI (INS) — Sixteen American missionaries, missing in six small planes on a "Wings of Prophecy" goodwill tour of the Caribbean, were located yesterday noon on a tiny airfield on the southernmost tip of Cuba.

The missionaries, members of the Church of God of Prophecy of Cleveland, Tenn., had been the object of an extensive search by Naval and Coast Guard ships and planes.

Reports said all the persons are safe and in good condition. Niquero is located near Cabo Cruz, the last point of land on Cuba's southern tip.

A total of 24 missionaries in nine planes left Camaguey, Cuba, Thursday afternoon for a 250-mile flight to Kingston, Jamaica. Only three planes carrying eight persons arrived at the British island.

Fears that the missionaries, who flew in a cross formation in white, single-engine planes trimmed in black, were down in the Caribbean touched off a search by two Navy destroyers, a Coast Guard cutter and aircraft.

heavy, but no deaths were reported.

The boy killed just south of East St. Louis, Ill., was Willard Holloway Jr. His parents and sister Sharon, 2, were injured when their house fell apart.

Most of the residents of Summerfield were asleep when the tornado hit shortly after 2 a.m. EST.

"Nook" Beugler of Summerfield said the roar of the wind awakened him and he quickly pushed his wife into their basement. He jumped in after her just before the house was leveled.

"We lost each other for a time," Beugler said. "The darkness was worse than just night. I kept tapping on a furnace pipe until she found me."

RESCUES ARRIVE
Rescue workers poured into the storm area from nearby towns. A crew of 30 airmen with supplies went to Summerfield from nearby Scott Air Force Base at Belleville, Ill.

Police set up road blocks to try to keep spectators from hampering rescue work.

The tornado swept across about four city blocks on the west end of Belleville, a town of 32,000. Police there said several homes were damaged, but no injuries were reported.

St. Louis itself was hit by a violent wind, rain and hailstorm which blew down wires and trees, but the heavy blow fell on nearby Illinois.

The Day in Birmingham Chamber to Promote City as Shopping Center

BIRMINGHAM — Promotion of Birmingham as the shopping center for this area will be the goal when retail merchants meet next month, according to Foster Toothacker, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Retail Merchants Committee.

The general meeting, for which date has not been set, will be a dinner and will feature, besides discussion of possible further steps in the drive for boosting Birmingham, a movie on retailing problems and solutions.

Parking lots are receiving time stress in the Chamber's efforts toward helping local business, with Donald Cummings' office trying to get a parking lot on the south side of Hamilton included in the city's program for the northeast quadrant.

Many of the property owners to the south of Hamilton especially those on East Maple are backing the move.

The committee and property owners feel as Cummings said, "It is a necessity to permit the long delayed development of East Maple."

The C. of C. officials are stressing their approval card, given to all solicitors as a protection for residents.

The chamber warns residents to ask for the C. of C. card when anyone seeks a donation and they will know that the chamber feels the enterprise is reasonable and legitimate and will serve some worthy local purpose. Approval is never given for telephone solicitations.

Annual Chamber of Commerce meeting is set for April 18 at Devon Gables with W. Calvin Patterson, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. vice-president as speaker and Warren Michael Kelley, TV personality and local record shop operator as emcee.

Mrs. H. A. Reve, a psychologist who lives in Birmingham and works with the Birmingham Psychiatric Clinic, talked to Soroptimists on her work on Tuesday night.

Her talk took the place of Gen. S. L. A. Marshall, Detroit News writer on military topics and author of several war books, whose illness caused postponement of his talk and the joint meeting set by Soroptimists with other service and professional clubs in the area.

Marshall, also a Birmingham resident, will talk at a later date on Formosa, where he interviewed Nationalist leaders.

Mrs. Reve's talk consisted mainly of answers to members' questions on how she deals with family problems.

A new member will be initiated into the Pythian Sisters Past Chiefs Club at the potluck dinner meeting Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at Mrs. Edwin Weavers' home, 771 Bird.

The Community House's drive for annual funds, which began on Monday, has occasioned Norman Weston, treasurer of the House's board, to summarize expenses.

The House will spend about $98,000, including $54,000 for staff, in this year, Weston says. The rest goes for goods and services which are bought, in every possible case, from local merchants, he said.

MONEY AND BANKING In Everyday Living

COUNTERFEITERS flood the country with millions of dollars in bogus bills and coins every year. So that you won't be among those cheated, note these telltale signs of "phony money." Counterfeit coins feel greasy, have a dull sound when dropped, can be cut with a knife, and usually have an uneven corrugated edge. On counterfeit bills the portrait is usually dull and "scratchy"; the saw-tooth points around the rim of the seal are likely to be uneven or broken off; and the serial numbers are usually poorly printed and badly spaced. If in doubt about a bill, compare it with another bill of the same type and denomination.

"HELP WANTED" in servicing my home appliance" is a call that many householders have occasion to make from time to time. The advice of shopping research people is to make sure before you buy an appliance that reliable service will be readily available. Before you buy, too, get all the facts on our economical Appliance Loans, if you expect to finance.

"F.D.I.C." means Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation—a permanent agency of the United States Government created by Congress to protect depositors in the nation's banks against loss. Note that only banks of deposit may be members of the F.D.I.C.; that each bank approved for membership must meet rigid standards; that adherence to these standards is checked regularly through bank examinations. Our bank is a Member, F.D.I.C., which means deposits here are protected by sound bank management, plus deposit insurance up to $10,000 for each depositor.

Police Seeking Child's Identity

Probe Various Angles in Search for Parents of Child, 3

TUCUMCARI, N.M. (AP)—Authorities in five states today are working on various angles in attempts to learn something of the personal history of a child, about 3½ years old, who appeared cold and whimpering at a filling station near here Monday.

The boy, who has been given the name "Richard Roe" has been placed in a foster home here after being released from the Tucumcari General Hospital.

A report from a medical student in Philadelphia has brought the hurried shipment of medical records from there to see if he is the boy the student treated last summer. If so, that would make him the son of Carl and Sarah Strudt of Marshallton, Del.

Amarillo, Tex., police, on a warrant of felonious abandonment signed here, are looking for the couple after a tip they might be in the area.

Another possibility is that his parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Inman, formerly of St. Paul, Minn., and more recently listed as from Southgate, Calif. So far, attempts to locate the family there have failed.

Dr. A. T. Gordon says he thinks the tip from Pennsylvania is the best. Joseph Moll, now a senior at Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, told of treating the Stroud boy last summer at the Pottsville, Pa., Hospital where he served as an intern.

He said the boy had deformities that made him fall easily and that the bruises were apparently inflicted accidentally that way. He told of extracting teeth because the youngster would bite himself.

Dr. Gordon said that there are traces of deformities but that the boy here seems to be outgrowing them. He added that the thick nose, that appears to have been broken and reset badly, could be aggravated by a bone deficiency that accrued from improper diet.

Navy Reports Weather Balloon Lost in Pacific

TOKYO (AP)—The U.S. Navy said today another of its weather balloons had gone astray in the wild, unpredictable winds of the northern Pacific and "was last reported over the eastern coast of Siberia."

The Navy said it was the fourth of 19 balloons, launched for eastward flights across the Pacific, to veer into Russian territory.

Soviet Russia has protested that the balloons are being used for military reconnaissance.

The latest balloon was launched Thursday. The Navy said there had been no signal from its automatic radio transmitter since early today.

When last heard the balloon was over the Chukotski Peninsula of Siberia, the Navy said.

Communist bloc nations have complained that U.S. balloons launched from Europe have caused plane crashes.

The Navy disclosed Feb. 16 in Tokyo that balloon No. 12 had gone down in southern Siberia or Communist Outer Mongolia. It said Monday in Washington that balloons No. 16 and 17 had veered up the east coast of Russia's Kamchatka Peninsula.

The balloons carry instruments to record weather conditions and automatic radio transmitters which send periodic reports.

Chapels Are Mushrooming Inside Nation's Factories

By RAYMOND THORNBURG

Irwin W. Tucker runs a filling station on Highway 77 at Wynne-wood, Oklahoma.

One night Tucker and his wife, Thelma, watched Ruth Hussey playing the Virgin Mary on a television program. They were impressed by one scene showing a family group around an altar. The next day Tucker and his wife built a family altar of their own.

Two days later he told his employees at the filling station about the family altar.

"We could use a little meditation spot right here in the filling station," Mr. Tucker, "one employee replied.

THORNBURG Tucker and his six employees cleaned and repainted a small room in the filling station.

Today when a driver stops by Tucker's station, he finds the sanctuary with a Star of David, a statue of Christ, and a crucifix side by side. No one disturbs him. If business is brisk, an attendant will move his car.

Travelers can find other such oases scattered about the country.

CHAPEL OF HIGHWAY

Logan International Airport in Boston has a chapel where passengers can stop for a moment of prayer and meditation. Sunday morning services are now held in a chapel at Idlewild Airport in New York. A "Chapel of the Highways" is under construction outside of Rocky Mount, North Carolina. The Biltmore Hotel in New York City has a chapel for transients, while the people of Shreveport, Louisiana, financed a prayer sanctuary in the new Texas Eastern skyscraper.

Several years ago, Edmund T. Price, president of Solar Aircraft of San Diego, called his employees together. "I would like to see a chapel, representing the great religious faiths, here on company property. If you employees would like such a chapel, Solar will donate the space, the architect and the building materials but you'll have to build it with your own hands and hearts."

On Christmas Eve, 1932, the land was dedicated. Since then scores of employees, on their own time, have wielded picks, shovels and hammers. The first service in the new chapel was held on Christmas, 1933.

START WITH PRAYER
And so the great spiritual awakening, rumbling from coast to coast, is giving new vitality to American democracy.

In Baltimore at Pier 6 of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, there management and labor throughout the country realize now more than ever that the group, or the crew, or the machines aren't all-important. Instead, our whole way of life is centered on the idea that personally, each one of us must be ministered to; every person has a native hunger for God that must be satisfied.

MONDAY—Mrs. Ralph Dark, mother of the New York Giant's Alvin Dark, tells how her famous son's faith and prayers helped his baseball career.

Jazz Star Becomes Catholic Lay Brother

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Boyce Brown, rated the country's No. 1 Dixieland jazz alto saxophone player 16 years ago, will become a lay brother for the Servite Roman Catholic Order next Tuesday.

Brown, who will take the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience, said he will take his saxophone with him into the order. A convert to the church, Brown will be known as Brother Mathew. He entered the monastery in 1933.

"I'm not trying to impress anyone with my music any more," Brown told interviewers yesterday. Brown, 46, was described at his peak as the world's "best white saxophone player," by a French jazz authority.

Sounds Silly Doesn't It?

But No More Silly Than the Deception That the City Provides Nickel Parking!

When you put a nickel in the Parking Meter it DOES NOT PAY THE COST of parking your car. You the Taxpayer PAY THE DIFFERENCE ---

YOU THE TAXPAYER ARE PAYING FOR IT IN YOUR CITY TAX BILL!

You taxpayers have the right to provide nickel parking, if you choose ... but you should not be deceived that a nickel pays the cost of parking a car on a Municipal parking lot or even on the street. YOU ARE NOW PAYING thousands in taxes for it and if the proposed $600,000 AUTO-MOBILE PARKING BOND ISSUE proposition passes at the election Monday, March 5th you'll PAY THOUSANDS MORE FOR YEARS TO COME. For what? ... to provide four more parking lots for DOWNTOWN STORES ... who should provide YOU and the OUT OF TOWN SHOPPERS with

FREE PARKING

You get FREE PARKING EVERYWHERE but Downtown ... WHY? Neighborhood and Suburban shopping centers in Pontiac are forced to provide parking facilities for you by the City Zoning Ordinance. Downtown merchants want you to vote for Municipal Downtown Parking Lots so they won't have to provide their own lots. Is that fair? They know that parking downtown can't be provided at a nickel. It is pure deception or ignorance of the facts to claim otherwise. If it could be done ... WHY have downtown stores waited all these years without providing parking? Why do they promote it at the City's and motorists' expense? —The taxpayers' expense? If 5¢ parking lots were self-supporting ... if they are easily paid for with your parking nickels, then certainly it's good business for the merchants downtown to provide it for their customers, for you who spend your money with them. Doesn't that make sense? Something is wrong. Someone is being less than truthful. You be the judge. Think it through!

TAXPAYERS!—Don't Be Deceived by the Something for Practically Nothing Song!

Consider for a moment ... Politicians just love to jump on popular band wagons ... Cheaper parking for instance ... Everybody's for it ... Everybody hates to pay for parking ... and we don't blame them ... We hate to pay two and three times what we used to pay for the items mentioned above. We'd love to get the 2¢ newspaper and the other items at prices of years ago. So would you. Are you going to swallow the hog-wash of the politicians and downtown stores? They know what costs and prices are today. That's why they want you taxpayers to provide downtown parking lots for them. Don't be deceived ... don't fall for the "something for nothing" ballyhoo. It's a beautiful lull-a-bye, but it's the same old story, promise "Something for Nothing and THEN HIDE AND DENY THE TAX" ... Parking property costs money; it costs money to buy valuable downtown land, to improve it and to operate it as a parking lot ... and the city itself has no magic to do it for less than private operators. The solution is to demand that downtown stores provide parking for you FREE without getting the city into a gigantic parking program that can cost you taxpayers thousands, as it has done in other cities. Tell your downtown merchant you want FREE PARKING just as his suburban competitor provides. Go to the polls Monday, March 5th and...
