OAKLAND UNIVERSITY

In 1957, the late Alfred G. and Matilda Wilson donated $2 million and their 1,500-acre Meadow Brook estate to Michigan State University to establish a college in Oakland County.

Oakland University was founded in 1957 as a branch campus of MSU, with 570 first-year students. By the mid-1960s, it had evolved into a medium-sized university and in 1970 became an independent, state-assisted university. It now offers more than 70 undergraduate programs and more than 30 graduate programs, and enrolls about 12,000 students.

OU's distinct instructional programs — the college of Arts and Sciences, School of Economics and Management, School of Engineering and Computer Science, School of Health Sciences, School of Human and Education Services and School of Nursing — offer a diverse curricula of general education and career preparation courses. Virtually all of these courses are taught by faculty members, not teaching assistants.

The Honors College, a division of the College of Arts and Sciences, meets the educational needs of highly motivated students. The Division of Continuing Education meets the needs of nontraditional adult learners through evening and extension programs.

Academic support facilities include such notable entities as the Eye Research Institute, the only major eye research center in the United States not affiliated with a medical school; the Meadowbrook Health Enhancement Center, which provides health maintenance/health improvement and cardiac rehabilitation community outreach programs; and the Center for Robotics and Advanced Automation, a unit of the school of Engineering and Computer Science that utilizes high technology manufacturing methods.

And OU's professional arts programs annually attract thousands to the campus. OU has received national recognition and local kudos for its Meadow Brook Theatre, Meadow Brook Art Gallery, Meadow Brook Hall and Meadow Brook Music Festival, the summer home of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

OU is located 25 miles north of Detroit, in the small town of Rochester. OU's modern campus, which houses the university's many academic and public service programs, is located on a beautifully wooded site — much of it still undeveloped.

OU ATHLETIC STAFF

DR. PAUL HARTMAN

Athletic Director

Oakland University Director of Athletics Dr. Paul Hartman has never been one to turn down a challenge. The seven-year chief of Pioneer athletics has taken four different athletic programs to new heights in an administrative career that has spanned four decades. But Hartman may have faced his biggest challenge this past summer, recovering from a heart attack suffered in late April to return to work at OU in time for the 1989-90 school year.

The OU athletic program has flourished under Hartman. In 1988-89 Oakland equalled its best finish ever in the President's Cup, the all-sports trophy in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The Pioneers finished third in the Cup standings with just 10 league sports, trailing winner Ferris State, which has 16 sports, and runner-up Hillsdale, with 14. OU had the highest average of points per sport of any GLIAC school. OU won four GLIAC Championships last year, and eight of the 10 league teams finished no lower than third. Men's and women's swimming won league titles and finished in the top three nationally. Women's basketball and women's volleyball also won league crowns, with the hoopsters advancing to the NCAA tournament. Soccer, Oakland's only non-GLIAC sport, was defeated in the national semi-finals.

Hartman has made a number of changes since arriving at OU. The department has brought back a Varsity "O" club for former athletes, brought back baseball as a varsity sport, and made a number of improvements in the Lepley Sports Center, ranging from the refurbishing of the locker rooms and equipment area to renovation of offices. The department has also added the Pioneer Lounge, which is used for conferences and athletic receptions.

Previously Hartman had developed additional summer camp programs, created a new season ticket plan, instituted a Hall of Honor for exceptional Pioneer athletes, and introduced the first athletic team banquet. Additionally since Hartman's arrival, there has been a large changeover in the coaching staff, as well as the department's support staff.

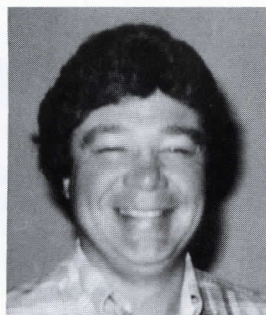

The OU athletic director also made a large impact in his previous posts. At Plymouth State College in New Hampshire, his first post, Hartman started a football program with enthusiastic student support. Fifteen years later, a running back named Joe Dudek put that program on the map with a bid for the Heisman Trophy. In his second post, at Florida International University, Hartman began a women's golf program. One of the first women's scholarship award winners was Pat Bradley, who later became the first $2 million winner on the Ladies Pro Golf Association tour. Hartman did not begin the basketball program at his next stop, the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, but one of his athletes there, Terry Porter, drew national attention as an NBA draftee from a non-scholarship school, and is now a successful pro basketball player.

A graduate of Ohio State University and a native of Columbus, Ohio, Hartman lives in Rochester with his wife, Jane. He is the third OU director, succeeding Corey Van Fleet in June of 1983. The only other AD was OU's founding father of athletics, Hollie Lepley.

The program has seen improved records, improved attendance, and improved camp numbers since Harman's arrival in 1983. After winning the battle with his heart, the optimistic Pioneer athletic director is sure the best is yet to come.

BOB TAYLOR

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL COACH

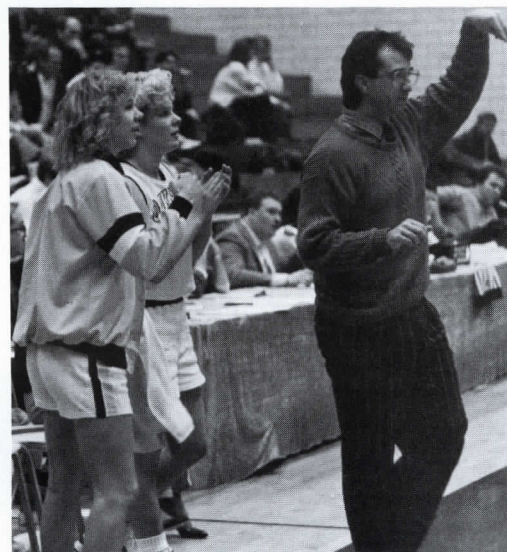

When Bob Taylor came to Oakland University, he had the reputation as a program builder. In three years Taylor turned the Lake Superior State College women's program into a Midwest power, and it was hoped he could do the same at OU. No one dreamed it would happen overnight.

The OU coach led his squad to a 21-7 record in his first season, an improvement of eight games over the previous year. The Pioneers also showed a seven game improvement in the GLIAC standings, rising from seventh to third with a record of 11-5. Two years ago OU ran up a 24-4 record for an .857 winning percentage, and tied for second place in the GLIAC at 13-3. Last year all of Taylor's dreams came true. OU sprinted to the GLIAC championship with a 16-0 league mark. Its 26-4 record is the best finish in school history and earned it the NCAA Tournament bid that was so elusive the previous year. OU is 71-15 in three years under Taylor, running his six-year coaching mark to 123-47.

The 32-year-old Taylor has guided teams to the best record in the school's history every place he has been. He was the head coach at Lake Superior State for three years prior to coming to OU, guiding the Soo Lakers to a 52-32 mark. In 1985-86, LSSC was 24-5 overall, 14-2 and second behind Saginaw Valley in the GLIAC. Taylor's squad was the number one seeded team in the Great Lakes Region in the NCAA Division II Women's Basketball Tournament and finished the season as the seventh ranked team in the country. At LSSC Taylor took a program that had never finished higher than seventh in the GLIAC and guided it to 13-15 and 15-12 seasons in his first two years.

Taylor is a native of Sparta, Michigan and attended Sparta High School where he starred in both basketball and tennis. He earned two letters apiece in both sports at Grand Rapids Junior College and Arkansas Tech, where he also earned a bachelor of science degree in social science in 1980 and began his coaching career as an assistant coach. He then became the head coach at Boyne City High School, where he helped the Ramblers to a two-year mark of 37-10 and a spot in the Michigan Class C top ten.

Taylor, who has been involved in camps for both men and women, is co-director of the Michigan All-State Basketball Camp for girls held in Traverse City. The college division representative of the Basketball Coaches Association of Michigan is single and lives in Auburn Hills.

QUOTING COACH TAYLOR

LOOKING BACK, WHAT ARE YOUR FEELINGS ABOUT LAST SEASON?

The trip to Arizona helped us a great deal. We made mistakes early and then made some changes in our style and the way we played as a team, and we became much better after Christmas, much hungrier after Christmas, and we became a pretty solid basketball team. We are pretty happy with what we accomplished.

HOW ABOUT THE WIN IN THE NCAA TOURNAMENT?

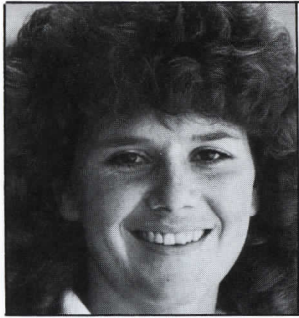

We deserved to win a game in the NCAA Tournament. To not get in the year before, and then to win 17 straight last year, it would have been a shame to lose that first game. And to win a game like that in front of all of our fans certainly made it more satisfying.

IN THE PAST YOU HAVE ONLY HAD ONE OR TWO SENIORS, BUT THIS YEAR YOU HAVE FIVE. HOW DOES THAT CHANGE YOUR COACHING PHILOSOPHY?

I am going to let them play more, loosen it up. They have played three years together, and they know their teammates strengths and weaknesses. I'll let them run the game more, let them read and make their own decisions. I have confidence in them, and I hope that confidence will help them become better basketball players.

HOW DOES THE LARGE NUMBER OF SENIORS AFFECT YOUR RECRUITING?

This is the first time I have been able to go out and tell people that we have a lot of playing time opening up. Although the players behind our seniors are good players, we can tell people we have five seniors. People want to go where they think they can play, especially on the Division II level. It puts pressure on us to have a good recruiting year, because we don't want to rebuild, we just want to reload.

SHAWN CLEMONS

Assistant Coach

Shawn Clemons starts her fourth year as Bob Taylor's top assistant coach. In three years Clemons has become a fixture on the OU women's basketball scene.

Clemons was a two-year starter and captain at Howard Junior College in Big Springs, Texas before moving on to Arizona State. At ASU Shawn was part of the 1980-81 and 1981-82 Sun Devil squads that went a combined 46-18, including 25-7 in her senior year when she captained the squad. That year the Sun Devils earned an invitation to the first NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Championships, where they beat Georgia in their opening game before falling to eventual champ Louisiana Tech in the regional semi-finals. Clemons' best year was her junior campaign when she posted averages of 7.9 points and 4.7 boards per contest.

After earning her bachelor's degree in physical education from ASU, Clemons became an assistant coach at Thunderbird High School in Phoenix. She has worked basketball camps at Arizona State and Eastern New Mexico Universities as well as OU, and served as the Director of Summer Recreation for the City of Clayton, New Mexico.

Clemons, who also serves as intramural director and summer camp coordinator at OU, is married and lives in Rochester with her husband, Don, who is in his fifth year on the coaching staff of the NFL Detroit Lions.

DEB ANDERSON

Graduate Assistant Coach

OU coaches Bob Taylor and Shawn Clemons will have the luxury of having a graduate assistant coach on the staff this year as Deb Anderson joins the Oakland University women's basketball program.

Anderson was a valuable four-year letterwinner at Aquinas College. In her four years in the Saints backcourt, the squads won over 80 games and advanced to four straight NAIA District 23 Championship games. Anderson was a third-team Class A All-Stater at Traverse City High School where she played for her father, Jim Anderson.

Anderson, who is single, is studying for her Master's of Science degree in Exercise Science. She is also serving as a graduate assistant in the School of Health Sciences.

MEET

PIONEERS RELYING ON DELIE AND THE THREE FOR RETURN NCAA TRIP

Senior center Debbie Delie will be looking for a repeat of her All-American junior campaign.

The Bomb Squad is back.

Those five words will strike fear in the hearts of Oakland University women's basketball opponents.

So is Debbie Delie.

Now the fear becomes terror.

There may not be a more potent offense in women's basketball this year than the combination of OU's three-point bombers from the outside and Delie's domination inside. Coach Bob Taylor is hoping this point-producing blend will take him and the Pioneers to another GLIAC title and back to the NCAA Tournament.

"We have so many players back," Taylor said. "They had a good experience last year and will want to go even further this year. Most of our players have been together for three years, and we're going to let them go."

Taylor, Delie, Amy Atkinson and Dawn Lichty arrived on the Rochester campus three seasons ago and have amassed a 71-15 record with a trio of 20-win campaigns. Ann Serra joined the party two years ago as the starting point-guard, and has guided OU to a 50-8 mark over that stretch. Shawne Brow became the missing piece of the puzzle last year, helping Oakland to a best-ever 26-4 record, a GLIAC sweep at 16-0, and a trip to post-season play. Those five players, now all seniors, want to make one more run at an NCAA title before their college careers come to a close.

Delie joined Helen Shereda and Linda Krawford as OU's women's basketball All-Americans with her outstanding junior year. A second-team All-America choice by the American Women's Sports Foundation, Delie was seventh nationally in scoring, second in field goal percentage, and 18th in free throw percentage, leading the Pioneers in all three categories as well as rebounding, blocked shots, and steals. The All-GLIAC choice was tops in the league in field goal accuracy and second in points. She cracked the 30-point plateau five times, including a high of 38 twice and 36 in the NCAA Tournament win over Northern Kentucky. That performance also netted her Regional All-Tournament honors. She also was named to the All-Great Lakes Region team.

"She did things for us that other people didn't see for the good of the team," Taylor said. "She should have been the GLIAC Player of the Year, and it's a testimony to her that she was the only GLIAC player to receive All-Region and All-American honors."

The Bomb Squad consists of Brow, Serra, Lichty, Atkinson, and junior Janice Kosman. This radar-equipped quintet helped the Pioneers average 5.8 three-pointers per game, third in the nation. Brow was the leader of the three-point crew, placing sixth nationally in three-pointers made (2.8) and seventh in percentage beyond the arc (.450). She nailed 10 triples, seven in a row, in a career-high 33 point effort against Hillsdale, and hit six in the NCAA Tournament win over Northern Kentucky. The honorable mention All-GLIAC selection averaged 11.9 points and 3.2 rebounds per game.

OU's starting guard tandem of Serra and Lichty also hit their share of bombs. Lichty, a second-team All-League selection, averaged 8.9 points and 2.6 boards, and found time to log 135 assists along the way. Serra was the leading vote-getter on the GLIAC's All-Defensive team. She was 12th in the country in assists at 6.8 per game, and posted 4.4 points each contest. Her 204 assists were eight shy of the school record, and she needs just 52 to become OU's career dish leader.

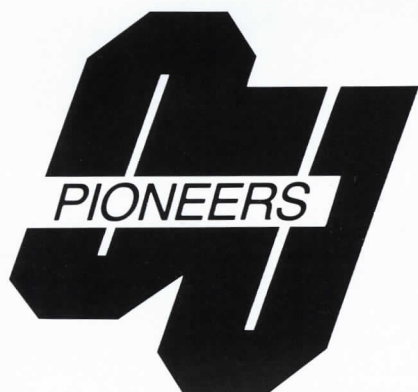

Atkinson had her best year as a Pioneer in 1988-89, averaging 5.7 points and 2.5 boards. She made more than 38% of her triple tries and provided solid play off the bench down the stretch. If she doesn't move into the starting spot open with the departure of senior Leah Fenwick, then Kosman will. The junior hit the biggest three of the year for Oakland, one that put the Pioneers into overtime against Northern Kentucky in the NCAA Tournament. Kosman averaged 8.9 points and 4.3 boards, and showed flashes of brilliance. She may be ready to become a consistent standout as junior. Also back for the Pioneers is junior guard Jessie Powell whose defensive quickness resulted in 54 steals, third on the squad, while averaging just 14 minutes of play. Junior Kim Brow, another shooter with three-point range, will also be back on the squad.

Taylor added to the bomb squad with his recruiting efforts. Jennifer Golen, a guard from Rochester High School, returns home after playing as a freshman at Lake Superior State. After sitting out a year, Golen should fit right into the Pioneers style of defensive quickness and three-point shooting. Three-time All-Stater Leshia Sadler of Manistee is a 5-11 forward who can shoot the triple and go inside. Sadler nailed 42% of her triples as a senior. Waterford Kettering's Nicole Leigh is a solid inside player who can step out and hit the jumper. Leigh was an All-Stater and Oakland County Dream Team member. Another All-Stater, North Branch's Stacy Lamphere, is a 5-11 forward who averaged 18 points and eight boards as a senior. Lamphere is an outstanding athlete who runs the floor well. Backcourt help will come from 5-6 Mary Miles. Miles, from Liberty, Indiana and Union County High School, was a Top 40 Indiana All-Star who averaged 18 points and seven assists per game.

The sixth newcomer is Roni McGregory, an athlete out of the Jessie Powell mold who, like Powell, comes from Ottawa Hills High School.

Non-league preparation was crucial to Oakland's league title last year, and the Pioneers will be challenged again. Two of OU's three regular-season losses came in Arizona against Arizona and Arizona State, and Oakland will once again face the challenge out West. The Pioneers will also host their own Classic again, and return to the Grand Rapids Press Tournament after a year's absence. All this should prepare the Pioneers for the defense of their GLIAC crown, and the league should be more rugged than ever before.

Winning a title is tough. Repeating is even tougher. OU has lofty goals this year. For the five seniors, a repeat may not be enough. A return trip to the NCAA Tournament and advancement to the final eight are Oakland's list of goals for the 1989-90 season. With their talent, the Pioneers could make that a reality.

Seniors Ann Serra (top) and Shawne Brow were both among the national leaders in their respective categories, Serra in assists and Brow in three-pointers.

GUS MACKER

AUGUST 26-27, 1989

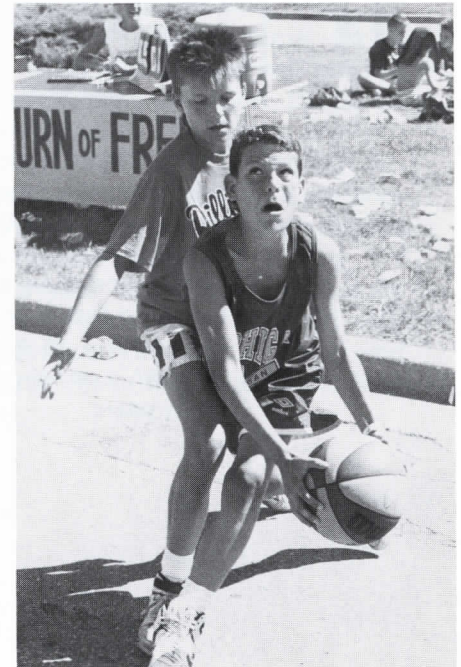

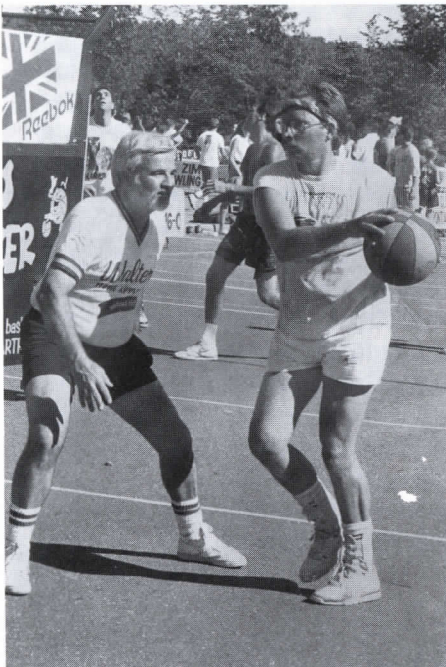

OU Athletic Director Dr. Paul Hartman (r) accepts a check for over $24,000 from Mitch McNeal, Vice-President of Gus Macker Enterprises. McNeal, an Oakland graduate, and OU women's basketball coach Bob Taylor were the masterminds behind bringing the Gus Macker 3-on-3 All-World Basketball Tournament to OU.

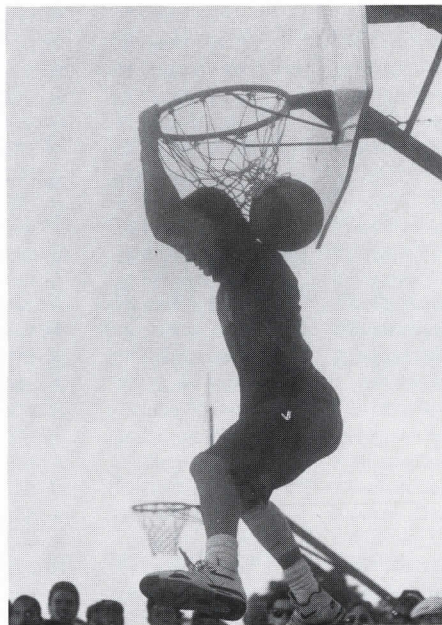

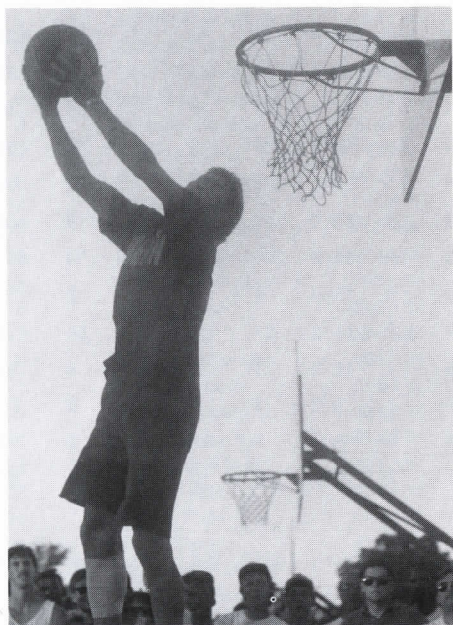

The Oakland University campus became Mackerville on August 26 and 27, 1989. Over 3,000 players made up over 750 teams for the two day event. A total of 51 courts were spread out across the campus parking lots, playing in both Lepley Sports Center lots, the O'Dowd Hall lot, the Prayle Hall lot, the Oakland Center lot, and the Wilson Hall Boulevard. An estimated 23,000 players and spectators were on campus over the two days.

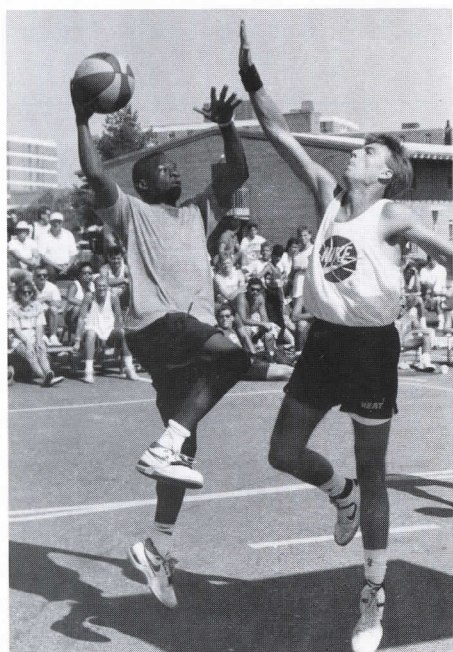

Men, women, and children of all ages, shapes, and sizes took part in OU's Gus Macker Tournament.

VISITS OU

The Slam-dunk competition, held outside in the twilight on Saturday evening, was one of the highlights of the weekend.

OU men's basketball All-American Scott Bittinger took part in the men's open competition, which was won by Servin' the Public, led by former Michigan star Antoine Joubert.

OU women's basketball assistant coach Shawn Clemons (1) hits a lay-up for the Pioneers, the winners in the women's open division. Clemons' teammate, former OU All-American Linda Krawford (far right) looks on.

DEBBIE DELIE ALL-AMERICAN

All-Region, Two-time All-GLIAC, Academic All-GLIAC

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT DEBBIE DELIE:

"It was a testimony to her that she was the only GLIAC player to receive All-Region and All-American honors. She's the best player in the GLIAC, the best player in the region, and the best player I've ever had."

Bob Taylor
OU Women's Basketball Coach

"Debbie is capable of carrying Oakland. OU is the team to beat and she's the strength of her team. She is a definite threat every time she gets the ball. She is certainly the player we try to stop, and we haven't done a very good job of that. She's the best back-to-the-basket post player in the league."

Claudette Charney
Saginaw Valley State University
Women's Basketball Coach.

"We couldn't stop her."

Nancy Winstel
Northern Kentucky University
Women's Basketball Coach
after Delie scored 36 points in OU's 95-93 overtime win in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.
