

Georgia 'Death House' May Hold Leukemia Answers

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Is leukemia contagious?
A small concrete block home, located near Douglas, Ga., may help find the answer.
Since 1957, the structure has been occupied at different times by three families.

Three persons — one from each family — have developed leukemia.
The strange case, termed "the exception rather than the rule" by doctors, is one of three now being studied at the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta.

The others occurred at Prairie Village, Kan., and North Kansas City, Mo.
"We're looking at it from a virus research point of view," said Dr. Clark Heath, chief of the center's leukemia section.
"However, we are not saying it (leukemia) is a virus. There are no laboratory tests to back it up. There are no lab tests to apply."

Heath was asked if the three "death house" cases now under study represent a new discovery in leukemia research.
"So far, we're still chalking up these cases to chance," Heath reported. "However, we are not ruling out anything—including a virus."

In the Georgia case, a 7-year-old boy was the first stricken. In 1958, about 13 months after the family had left the small home near Douglas, he was found to have acute lymphocytic leukemia.

In 1963, after living in the home for six years, a 36-year-old woman developed the disease. It, too, was diagnosed as acute lymphocytic leukemia.
Now a 5-year-old boy, whose family has occupied the house since 1964, has developed the disease.

Wall Street Probe Expanding Rapidly

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal investigators are rapidly expanding their potentially explosive Wall Street probe. At least two New York Stock Exchange issues are now under scrutiny along with a group traded on the American Stock Exchange.

Shady nationwide rigging schemes are said by investigators to be costing brokerage firms and investors millions of dollars.
One probe estimated that the reputed manipulators had to have a bankroll of between $1 million and $2 million to mount their activities. Authorities are trying to learn the source of the big money.

Involved on the investigative side are a federal grand jury here, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the major stock exchanges and the Chicago Police Department.

As broadening of the inquiry came to light, it was learned today that:

• Some 20 brokerage house salesmen employed in New York and Chicago by more than a dozen firms, including several with national reputations, are being asked about possible approaches from market riggers offering them cash bribes, or threatening blackmail, to generate customer interest in target stocks. Some have been fired.

• A prominent Chicago broker, partner in a member firm of the New York Stock Exchange, received a telephone death threat after suspending a salesman in his office who has been questioned about possible involvement. The salesman later was reinstated.

These were the latest developments in a year-long chain of events that has included the bankruptcy of one established brokerage firm and a Chicago-style gangland slaying.

The inquiry, in progress for months behind closed doors, will pop into the open soon. The first of a series of indictments is expected from the grand jury here within the next few weeks.

Defendants in a Chicago civil court action have been accused of rigging common stock of Rowland Products Inc., Leece-Neville Co., Diversified Metals Corp., Hercules Gulton Products Inc., Pentron Electronics Corp., Duraloy Co., Mercury Chemical Corp. and Savoy Industries.

All but Mercury are traded on the American exchange — called the Amex. Mercury is an over the counter stock.

DENY INVOLVEMENT
Management of the firms disclaim any involvement and officials of the Amex said they can find no evidence of connivance with exchange members operating on the trading floor.

The Chicago suit, claiming $2.15-million damages, was brought by trustees for the bankrupt brokerage firm, Edward N. Siegler & Co., against the First National Bank of Lincolnwood, Ill., and 25 individuals.

They allege — and the defendants deny — that a Chicago-based group acted in concert to rig stocks.

BACK HOME — Still bearing the scars of a recent operation, Thunder frolics with his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shorter of 280 Bondale. Lost and thought dead by the Shorters, Thunder was discovered in an Ann Arbor hospital research laboratory by an investigator for the Animal Welfare Institute.

Pontiac Family's Dog Found at Ann Arbor Research Lab

By DAVE COOK
Thunder nearly split his stitches, but after a three-month absence from home and a bout of major surgery, no one could blame him.
His return was so unexpected, in fact, that his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shorter of 280 Bondale — were unable to restrain from indulging in a few antics themselves.
"Can you blame us? We thought he was dead," exclaimed Mrs. Shorter, a nurse's aid at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.
"Even when the Humane Society called and said they had our dog, I didn't believe them," her husband admitted.

Thursday night Mrs. Shorter received a call from Mrs. Dyce and agreed to go to Ann Arbor in order to identify Thunder.

SQUEALING, WHINING
"It was him all right," she said. "He started squealing and whining as soon as he saw me."

Hospital authorities explained the dog had undergone an operation in which one lung was removed and then restored to its original position.

"They told me it was for research purposes," Mrs. Shorter said.

WHY THE OPERATION

"What I can't understand is how Thunder got there and why he was operated on when he still had identification tags."

"He's strictly a stay-at-home dog — can't imagine him even trying to get out of the back yard."

Mrs. Dyce, whose work brings her into contact with both laboratory personnel and humane societies, said she had determined that Veterans Hospital had purchased Thunder from a "reputable" Ann Arbor dog dealer.

"They assured me the dealer would have nothing to do with a stolen dog or a dog that was cared for and a family pet," she said.

"We are definitely going to press an investigation into this, however."

Thant Fearful of Mideast War

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary General U Thant reported to the Security Council today that he feared a clash between Israel and Egypt over Israeli shipping through the Strait of Tiran would "inevitably set off a general conflict" in the Middle East.

He gave that estimate in a six-page report to the 15-nation council. The report followed his talk with President Gamal Abdel Nasser in Cairo early this week.

Thant called for "a breathing spell which will allow tension to subside from its present explosive level." He urged all parties to exercise restraint to let the Security Council deal with the underlying causes of the situation.

The secretary general said that in his talk with Nasser Wednesday night, Nasser repeated the Egyptian position "substantially as set forth" in his Monday night speech, in which Nasser announced a blockade of Israeli shipping through the Strait of Tiran connecting the Red Sea with the Gulf of Aqaba and the Israeli port of Elath.

Thant told the council Israel had declared that it would regard the closing of the strait to Israeli ships as a casus belli, or cause for war.

Ex-Area Woman Now State Trooper

It took 50 years for the fair sex to infiltrate the ranks of the Michigan State Police.

It finally happened yesterday when two young women, one a former Sylvan Lake resident, graduated from the State Police's recruit training school in East Lansing along with 40 men.

Breaking the barrier were Kay Whitfield, 25-year-old daughter of Mrs. Thomas Whitfield, 1466 Oakwood, Sylvan Lake, and the late Mr. Whitfield and Noreen Hillary, 24, of Grand Rapids.

Like their fellow graduates, Kay and Noreen are now troopers and will serve six-month probationary periods. Their starting salary also will be the same — $6,723.

Misses Whitfield and Hillary will report for their first assignment June 6. They'll both be stationed at State Police headquarters in East Lansing, serving in community relations and juvenile work with the detective division.

PCH GRADUATE
Kay is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School and Michigan State University where she majored in police administration.

Prior to enrolling in the 12 - week training school, Kay was an officer with the Kalamazoo Police Department. She served there 2½ years and attained the rank of detective.

For blonde Kay, it was the challenge, opportunity and first-ever element that attracted her to the State Police organization.

Nonetheless, it was a big decision because she enjoyed her work in Kalamazoo.

Kay, a trim 110 pounds at 5-6½, was able to keep up with the boys in almost all aspects of training. The only exception was that she didn't take boxing classes.

Burial Monday for Ex-Official

Service for former Pontiac City Commissioner Maurice E. Fitzgerald, 76, of 10 Liberty will be 10 a.m. Monday at St. Vincent de Paul Church with burial in Mount Hope Cemetery.

The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Melvin A. Schutt Funeral Home.

Mr. Fitzgerald died Thursday.

He also was a former member of the City Planning Commission and until his death was a member of the planning commission's board of appeals.

Mr. Fitzgerald also was past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus and was a member of the Knights of Equity and the American Association of Retired People, serving as the first president of the local chapter.

Surviving are his wife, Grace P.; three sons, Thomas G. of Decatur, Ill., and Maurice E. Jr., and John M., both of Pontiac; five daughters, Mrs. Marie Strum of Tucson, Ariz., Mrs. Grace Miller of Portland, Ore., Mrs. Jane Dennis of Uvavon, Colo., and Mrs. Patricia Baker and Mrs. Barbara Hallenbeck, both of Pontiac; two brothers; two sisters; 27 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Meeting Early

The Pontiac City Commission will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at its city hall chambers, instead of 8 p.m. Tuesday because of the Memorial Day holiday.

Northeast Storm Loss High

BOSTON (AP) — New Englanders looked hopefully for clearing skies today in the wake of a wild northeast storm which pelted the area for two days and wrecked more than 100 pleasure boats before moving out to sea.

Five deaths were attributed to the storm, all from highway accidents. Estimates of property damage ranged in the millions of dollars.

Hurricane winds, wild seas and heavy rain slashed the Massachusetts coast, making it one of the worst May storms in memory in that area. Farther north there was heavy unseasonable snow, with rangers at the White Mountain National Forest in New Hampshire reporting a new accumulation of more than 18 inches. Other parts of New Hampshire and Vermont got up to 18 inches.

Marblehead harbor suffered the worst damage, with about 100 expensive pleasure boats smashed ashore and onto rocks. Harbormaster Philip Clark said damage there was worse than in the 1938 hurricane.

TOSSED ASHORE
Dozens of other boats were tossed ashore at Scituate and Hingham.

Massive erosion of beach fronts and flooding of homes and industries added to the storm damage. Many families had to be evacuated from their homes in Quincy and Scituate as the pounding seas tore at the foundations, and a 2½-mile stretch of beach at historic Plymouth, where the pilgrims landed, was washed away.

In Boston, the seas rolled up to doorways of offices on Commercial Wharf and submerged another wharf for a time.

The rain, described by the U.S. weather bureau as "of deluge proportions," amounted to more than 7 inches in Nantucket and about 4 inches in Boston and Providence, R.I. Winds were reported gusting up to 100 miles an hour by the Coast Guard station at Block Island, R.I.

FREE SKIING
The unexpected snowfall in mountain areas enabled at least one ski area—Killington, Vt.—to announce it was offering free skiing. On mile-high Mt. Washington, where die hard skiers often continue the sport into the summer, most of the ski area had to be closed because of the danger of avalanches from new snow.

Snow on the first day of the storm caused the collapse of netting used to shade tobacco from the sun and further delayed planting of the crop in the Connecticut River valley.

The Weather Bureau said the threat remaining was flash flooding of small streams and brooks in Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island between now and Tuesday. The forecaster warned that the heavy rains would cause the Charles River to rise to a crest of four feet by Tuesday in Dover, causing minor flooding of low lying areas.

Improving weather was expected to move into the area, with warmer temperatures today, general clearing tonight, and fair and warmer weather throughout Sunday.

Workshops Set on Senior Citizen Frauds

A series of workshops to inform senior citizens of financial frauds will be given by Oakland Community College starting June 8.

Called "Don't Let Your Money Retire," the workshops will be offered free as part of OCC's Project SERVE (Stimulate, Educate, Reassess, Volunteer, Employ).

"The following programs will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Royal Oak Library, 222 E. 11 Mile.

State Beckons Vacationing Hordes

Michigan is looking forward to a record-breaking year of tourism, now the State's second largest industry. More than 26 million motorists are expected to roam its highways and byways, spending in excess of $1 billion in the process. To add to the pleasure and convenience of vacation travelers, the State has methodically expanded its facilities. Seven strategically-located Travel Information Centers serve tourists in a variety of ways. Last year, 601,000 motorists, double the 1963 count, took advantage of the services offered. Highway officials predict the number will hit one million by 1970. Tourists in Michigan never want for informative and descriptive literature. More than 2.5 million pieces of such matter are distributed annually by the Travel Information Centers. Additionally, 300,000 state maps and 178,000 highway department-produced pamphlets are put into circulation along with safe-driving pamphlets issued by two state tourist associations. Included among a multitude of other attractions, tourists will find 44 roadside rest areas and 1,800 picnic tables in roadside parks. And to tidy up the unrolling landscape, 48 junk yards in rural areas are being eliminated and another 56 screened from view. Millions of the vacation-minded are readying themselves to taste the delights of Michigan's Water-Winter Wonderland. A cordial welcome and an exhilarating experience awaits them.

Nasser Dealt an Ace by Withdrawal of U.N. Force

If this were any other century, the Arabs and Israelis could go ahead and have their mutual bloodletting. The Arabs could launch the "holy war" they have been promising for two decades; Israel could have the satisfaction of mauling its adversaries once again; each side could taste a little glory and after it was over be in the market for fresh weapons from the United States, Russia, Britain and France. Egyptian President Nasser's technical authority to demand it. THANT expressed "misgivings" about the withdrawal and the "grave implications" it may have for the preservation of peace in that region. Evidently, however, he feels it is better to risk a possible war, the consequences we know not of, than face the immediate wrath of President NASSER. For 10 years, the United Nations had an armed "presence" in this touchy area, with an authority far outweighing its actual numerical strength. Now that it is leaving, the chances for mischief are doubled. The U. N. force could not prevent fighting between Israel and Syria, but it did limit Nasser's troublemaking potential to making threats on the other side of the line. Thanks to THANT, NASSER may now feel forced to live up to his boasts.

Campaign Expense Reform Is Unlikely

By JAMES MARLOW AP News Analyst WASHINGTON — A couple of years ago a Texas Democrat, Rep. James C. Wright, told Congress probably every member of it has knowingly evaded the purpose of a federal law limiting election campaign expenses. The law, passed in 1925, MARLOW says no candidate for the House can spend more than $5,000 in his bid for election and no candidate for the Senate can spend more than $25,000. But this limit applies only to spending by the candidates themselves. The law does not apply to committees set up to help them, and there is no limit on the number of such committees. Although Wright made his statement two years ago, Congress was not sufficiently disturbed to do anything about it. The same rumormongering has been going on for years. Nothing was done. Last year President Johnson sent a special message to Congress, urging a number of reforms not only because of the loopholes in present laws on financing political campaigns but because these laws are ludicrously out of date. For example, the cost of the presidential campaign has more than doubled in the past decade. The cost of the 1964 campaign was more than 25 per cent higher than the one in 1960 and over 60 per cent higher than in 1956. But Congress practically ignored what Johnson suggested in 1966 except for a law it passed allowing a taxpayer to allow the government to take $1 from his income tax return as a campaign contribution. Now this year Congress is about to kill it. Then Thursday Johnson sent a brand new message to Congress, proposing a number of reforms. But it's pretty late in the 1967 session and Congress will probably do nothing this time, either. VOTER BENEFITS Campaigning has changed—and the costs, too — thanks to radio, television and the airplane. In one way the voters have benefited by the technological advances, since they are better able to see and hear the candidates. But Johnson warned yesterday that in another way the changes "have worked to the opposite effect by increasing the costs of campaigning to spectacular proportions. The present law limits to $5,000 the contribution anyone can make to a single candidate for federal office — including the presidency — or contributions to any national committee supporting a candidate. NO LIMIT But the law does not forbid an individual to make $5,000 contributions to any number of committees supporting a single candidate or party. And, again, there is no limit on the number of such committees. In such a case Johnson suggests a $5,000 limit on the total amount that could come from any individual, his wife or minor children to a single candidate's campaign. He also proposed — but this was only one of a number of proposals — to abolish the present arbitrary, and phony, limits on the total spending of a candidate for federal office. Congress, however, will probably sit on its hands, feel disturbed, and do nothing.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODIE ISHMAEL

Once blind, Arthur Wakolee of the Cattaraugus Indian tribe in New York state found light through faith and understanding and finally actually regained his eyesight. He was in the fourth grade when his sight failed. Raised by his grandfather and grandmother he learned from them about brotherly love and The Golden Rule, even though they were not Christians. His grandmother firmly believed that he would see again and fasted and prayed three days at a time for this to happen. In time, Wakolee, now 73 years old, did regain his sight and he heeded grandmother's words: "I want you to go to the white man's church where the sun comes up . . . they are our brothers and sisters." Later, Wakolee met with Mormon missionaries and learned there was considerable similarity between their teachings and those of his grandparents. He accepted the gospel, was baptized and spent the rest of his life teaching love. He held the presidency of the Mormon Church at Cattaraugus.

Confident Living: Be Strong Through Adversities

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE Dr. Robert Schuller relates a thrilling, awe-inspiring story about an Iowa tornado. It happened one summer after his first year at college, on the family farm which his father had worked for 26 years. One day there came a curious roaring to the west, like a thousand freight trains rumbling beyond the clouds. Thinking it was a hail storm they placed buckets and wooden boxes over their prize rose bushes. The sky grew very dark. Gusts of hot wind blew up from the surface of the road. A horse in the pasture stopped grazing and stood, head high and tail lifted, sensing disaster. A cow called plaintively to her calf. Then there bulged from the dark clouds a black lump rapidly extending itself into a long funnel with end reaching further and further down to the ground. Mrs. Schuller showed, "Jennie, it's a tornado! Bob, tell your mother to grab anything and run to the car! We've got to get out of here fast!" Minutes later they were racing down the road and they kept going until a good two miles from the path of the twister. There they stopped and watched as the tornado hit the earth with elemental force. In 10 minutes it had lifted and was gone. Returning homeward in the strangely hushed atmosphere, the Schullers passed first a neighbor's place — it was utterly destroyed. In speechless anxiety they came to a little hill — from here they could always see the tip of their barn just beyond. But now, nothing. Perhaps only those who were farmers back before governmental aid and present-day mechanization can understand the depth of an anguish in such an outcry. Lord is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and He knoweth them that trust Him. He was a man of strong will, who would not let anything get him down. He was philosophical. He was a hard worker. Life is queer with its twists and turns, and many a failure comes about. When he might have won had he stuck it out . . . And this poem by an unknown author, concludes: So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit. It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit. (The Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

By DAVE BURGIN WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Census Bureau has come up with statistics that seem to support the theory that women are unpredictable. Six months ago, the bureau's computers and top analysts digested all pertinent information and predicted the United States was going to snap out of a five-year slump and begin a long upward trend toward another baby-boom. But at the current rate of births this year, American women will give birth to about 3.4 million babies this year, or about half a million fewer than the bureau predicted. "But it isn't all women's fault," a bureau spokesman said, "quite seriously. You can't take 400,000 virile young men and send them 8,000 miles across the Pacific without expecting some impact on the birth statistics. 'Definition of Operation Needs Clarifying'

It is time the operation "sterilization" is defined as to its meaning and effect on the person "sterilized." Get an M.D.'s form of answer. After my third miscarriage I was sterilized years ago at Pontiac General Hospital by a gynecologist. It was not as a cure for sex offense. Blue Cross paid my hospital bill and part of the medical bill. The doctor had us sign the papers necessary for him to present my case to a board of doctors to decide to allow the cutting of the tubes, lapping them and sewing them together.

Sterilization has no effect on sex — per the doctors I've been to. How then is sterilization the "last resort" to be used to "hold in check" this growing problem of sex crimes? It's about time the correct word for such an operation is used. MOTHER OF FOUR CHILDREN AND STERILIZED

How many feel they were taken at the show at the Waterford C&I Sunday? I was contacted by phone and told several stars would be there and the proceeds were for public safety. 'Students Are Overloaded With Homework'

Are teachers in Orion schools trying to see how many students they can force to leave school? One teacher will assign enough homework to keep the average student busy three-fourths to one and one-half hours. When several teachers do this every night during the week and double it on weekends, I think they are going too far. Let's hear from more Orion parents on this subject and maybe it will do some good. Question and Answer

I saw the article about learning to help aged rehabilitate themselves. I'm a nurse's aide and interested in anything that would help me help these people. I'm interested in getting a book called, "How to Be a Nurse's Aide in a Nursing Home." Would you know where I could obtain one? ANNEBELLE MAROTZ 18 UNION CT.

REPLY

The book is written by Dorothy Reese and Marguerite Burrows and is available for $2.50 from the American Nursing Home Association, 1346 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. Mrs. Beske of the Health Department stressed this book won't qualify a reader to be a nurse's aide, but rather helps aides to understand and meet the challenge of work in a nursing home.

Ruby Attorney Asks Garrison's Disbarment

DETROIT (AP)—An attorney for the late Jack Ruby has asked the American and Louisiana bar associations to consider disbarring New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison for "unwarranted and reckless attacks on the Warren Commission Report and its members."

Sol Dann of Detroit sent letters to the bar groups Friday urging them to intervene in all proceedings concerning the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, especially those Garrison is conducting.

As a result of Garrison's probe, New Orleans businessman Clay Shaw has been indicted with conspiracy to commit the murder of Kennedy. Shaw is free on $10,000 bond.

In New Orleans, Garrison told newsmen that Dann is "well aware of the total involvement of Jack Ruby with regard to the assassination."

"He is doing his best to block any successful inquiry," Garrison. "This is very understandable because my objective inquiry into the murder of President Kennedy will necessarily reveal the involvement, not only of individuals associated with the Central Intelligence Agency, but of Jack Ruby himself."

Ruby's brother, Earl Ruby of Detroit, has vigorously challenged Garrison's claims that Jack Ruby was linked to any plot to kill Kennedy.

Dann became Ruby's lawyer after Ruby was convicted of killing accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas, Tex. The conviction later was overturned in Texas courts, a change of venue was granted, but then Ruby died of cancer before the new trial was held.

"This request is made to put an end to any further exploitation of this horrible tragedy and prevent a repetition of the carnival proceedings that prevailed before Judge (Joe B.) Brown in Dallas," Dann said.

ANY ATTORNEY

His three-paragraph letter asked the bar groups not to limit their probe to Garrison, but to include investigation of any attorney involved in any proceeding related to the assassination.

Dann told newsmen this would include judges ruling on court matters stemming from the assassination and any attorneys who have authored books about it.

"This fraud has gone on long enough," Dann told newsmen. "It would very much appear Mr. Garrison has improperly discharged his responsibilities."

"His actions appear irresponsible and not in keeping with his role as prosecutor, which is to protect the innocent as well as convict the guilty," Dann said.

NO NEW EVIDENCE

He said he based his claim on the fact that Garrison has challenged Warren Commission findings without "coming forward with any new evidence or new information."

Asked about Garrison's claim that Ruby's unlisted Dallas telephone number had been found, in code, in books owned by Shaw and Oswald, Dann dismissed the claim as mathematical trickery.

Garrison says the code involved interchanging several numbers.

"I never questioned Ruby with reference to Clay Shaw because I never knew about Shaw," Dann said. "But I did question him about Oswald, very extensively, and there was no indication he had ever had any knowledge of Oswald prior to the assassination."

"If he had, I assure you, I would have withdrawn from the case," he said.

State Man, 75, Sets Jet Record

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Arthur Knapp, a 75-year-old retired Michigan industrialist, set an official flight record for business jets yesterday on a 2,380-mile nonstop hop between St. John's Newfoundland, and Lisbon, Portugal.

North American Aviation said Knapp of Jackson, Mich., flew the distance in a North American Twin Jet Sabreliner in 4 hours, 14 minutes, 4 seconds for an average speed of 565 miles per hour.

This was 24 minutes less than the previous record set by George Erema of Morilton, Ark., in 1966 in a French-made business jet.

Sunday Liquor, Monday Holiday Bills Killed

LANSING (AP) — Liquor on Sundays and holidays on Mondays apparently will not be approved by the Legislature this year.

But still alive are controversial Senate-passed bills eliminating the one-week wait for unemployment compensation and forbidding policemen to belong to unions which represent other types of employees.

That was part of the score line following the Friday deadline for action by committees in one house on bills passed by the other chamber.

Taxation, appropriation and court reorganization measures were exempt from the deadline. OTHER DEVELOPMENTS In other Capitol developments Friday:

• The Senate defeated bills to increase state park entrance fees and extend the per-year life of special resort liquor licenses from 10 months to 12.

• Republicans officially gained a majority in the House with the swearing in of Anthony Licata, R-Detroit, but Democrats petitioned for a recount of the vote in last Tuesday's special election.

• The first two Michigan State policemen were sworn in.

• Gov. George Romney announced the appointment of Dr. William Anderson of Columbia, Mo., as state mental health director.

• Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley announced plans to appeal a court ruling which apparently struck down the current Oakland County one-man grand jury probe.

• The House approved a bill aimed at encouraging construction of more housing for low and moderate income groups.

A Senate bill allowing counties to legalize Sunday liquor sales with voter approval was defeated in the House Liquor Committee Friday, while a House-passed measure to ensure that seven nonreligious holidays would always fall on Mondays was killed by a Senate committee.

EXPECT CONTROVERSY

But the House Labor Committee, at the last minute, reported to the floor two Senate bills which are expected to inspire some heated partisan controversy. These measures would:

• Slightly increase unemployment compensation benefits and provide payment for the first week of joblessness, mainly for auto plant workers who are laid off annually for model change-over.

• Provide that sheriff's and police employees may not belong to labor organizations representing other types of employees, and that supervisory and nonsupervisory public employees cannot belong to the same union unless agreement is negotiated with the employer.

Policemen belong to nonpolice unions in two Michigan cities—Escanaba, where the Teamsters Union is bargaining, and in Alpena, where police are affiliated with the Stoneworkers Union.

Alpena is the home of Republican Rep. Joseph Swallow, chairman of the House Labor Committee.

BILL REVIVED

The waiting-week bill, vetoed by Gov. George Romney last year, was defeated earlier this week by the labor committee, but revived and reported out Friday.

Democrats said they would try on the floor to amend the measure to provide that employers which pay supplemental unemployment benefits (mostly the auto companies) would have to pay them during the first week, too.

Other bills which came out of committee at the last minute Friday would:

• Provide for state mediation of disputes over expressway rights of way, like the one that hindered progress on I-666 in several Detroit suburbs;

• Abolish workmen's compensation payments to self-supporting children 16 or older;

• Permit establishment of a community college district before voters approve establishment of the maximum tax rate;

• Forbid local special elections within 60 days of another election;

• Abolish special working conditions restrictions for women over 18.

A feud between the House and Senate killed two bills—one permitting police to make an arrest for a misdemeanor not committed in their presence if the maximum penalty is more than 90 days, the other providing temporary drivers licenses for persons scheduled to appear in court on moving violation charges.

The House Judiciary Committee held onto the Senate misdemeanor bill because the Senate Judiciary Committee had announced it would not report the House-passed license bill.

Your Husband's Comment May Be Valid in View of the Facts

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother whom I haven't seen for 21 years. I was nine and my brother was four when she gave us away to a neighbor to bring up. I am now happily married and have two small children.

MRS. ROBERT G. RICE

Bride Wears Gown of Silk in Ceremony

Noon vows were spoken today by Patricia Kathleen Kaiser and Robert Guy Rice.

For her vows in St. Benedict's Catholic Church, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk-linen, featuring a removable coat train.

Re-embroidered Alencon lace covered the gown's bodice and coat sleeves. Her three tier veil of illusion fell from a rosebud crown of pearls and lace.

She carried a bouquet of white roses, ivy and a white orchid.

Gloria Northey was maid of honor for the daughter of the Frank L. Kaisers of Rosedale Drive.

Mary Carlton, Patricia Rice and Mrs. Barry Heiple were bridesmaids.

George Gieschel of Utica was best man.

Barry Heiple, Mark Young and Maurice Crooks were ushers.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Rice of Waldon Road.

Following a reception in the Holiday Inn, the couple left for an eastern wedding trip.

us. He says the day she arrives he will tell her she can stay for one month and that is the limit. Abby, I feel sorry for her as she has had a rough life. Although she hasn't been much of a mother, she has paid for her mistakes, and if I can make the rest of her life a little happier, I want to do all I can. She is only 47 years old.

I can't blame my husband, but it's my house, too. What should I do?

TORN DEAR TORN: Don't make any judgments or decisions until your mother arrives. I do believe, however, if her presence creates any problems between your husband and you, you owe your husband more than the "mother" you describe. (P. S. I don't know who raised you, dear lady, but somewhere along the way you acquired an admirable character, showing understanding and compassion.)

DEAR ABBY: First let me explain that mine is not a "have to" wedding. Clyde (fake name) and I have been engaged since last Christmas. The problem is, I think I am pregnant, and my wedding is four months off. I know I shouldn't wear a white gown and veil, but I already bought mine and if I can get into it I plan to wear it. I haven't told anybody except Clyde, but I may have to tell my mother because I feel rotten in the morning and she may guess the reason. If I am pregnant, would it be O. K. to go ahead and have a big church wedding like I planned? We would tell people later that the baby was premature. Please rush your answer to me as I am nervous and confused.

CLYDE'S BRIDE DEAR BRIDE: Under the circumstances, I would suggest you have a simple wedding — and soon! Don't count on fooling anyone who can count to nine. Least of all the clergyman who will officiate at your wedding and be called upon shortly thereafter to baptize the baby.

Troubled? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Permit Adoption

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The county department of adoptions said Tuesday it has granted the adoption of a child by a bachelor for the first time in California.

The names of both the adoptive father and his new son were not disclosed.

The adoption was the agency's 27th involving a single parent, but all others were to single women. A two-year-old state regulation permits such adoptions.

Sixten Ehrling Plans Guest Engagements

Child's Name on a Bridge Leads to Altar

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — One day, when Bill Hughes was 14, he walked across the Golden Gate Bridge and noticed a name and address scribbled on a girder.

They were written two months earlier by a 12-year-old girl named Pat Lucas. She and her grandmother and mother came to San Francisco for the span's grand opening, that was 30 years ago today.

Bill and Pat Hughes, who were married in 1943, told the story Friday of how their romance developed from a high school chum's dare, six years of letter-writing and wartime assignment in Santa Ana, Calif.

ON A DARE

It began when a friend bet Hughes he wouldn't get a reply if he wrote to a name picked from the thousands scribbled on the new pillars.

Hughes closed his eyes, picked Pat's name and sent off a letter.

"I didn't even know how old she was — if she was a girl or a woman. I also asked for her age and a picture," he said.

Mrs. Hughes recalled she didn't want to answer the letter but her grandmother "Thought it was enchanting." They wrote each other for six years.

In April 1943, Bill, then 20, was assigned to Air Corps pre-flight training in Santa Ana. The only person he knew in the Los Angeles area was his pen pal. He telephoned her.

"We were married in October," Hughes said.

About two years later the couple saw the bridge together for the first time.

"We walked across it but by then the names had been sandblasted away," he recalled.

Now Hughes, a partner in a San Francisco brokerage firm, drives across the bridge twice a day.

New York Philharmonic in July, with the Chicago Symphony in December, and with the Boston Symphony in March 1968.

IN NEW YORK

He will be making his first appearance with the New York Philharmonic.

It is thought that Ehrling is the first conductor ever to appear with all five of those orchestras within a single year.

He will lead the Royal Opera at Expo 67 in Verdi's "A Masked Ball" on May 30 and June 2 and in Karl-Binger Blomdahl's "Aniara" on May 31. He also will conduct a concert by the Montreal Symphony Orchestra at Expo 67 on June 8.

WILL RETURN

Ehrling will return to the Detroit Symphony podium on June 29 for the fourth annual Meadow Brook Music Festival at Oakland University.

Ehrling made his American conducting debut with the Detroit Symphony in 1961 and has lived in Detroit since becoming music director and conductor of the Detroit Symphony in 1963.

June Bride is Honored

A number of pre-bridal parties have been held recently in honor of Jill Dearing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dearing of Fox Hills Drive.

Mrs. Clara Scriven of Oriole Road entertained at a kitchen shower. Mr. Armand Freda of Blackthorn Court opened her home for a linen shower.

Mrs. Emory King of Flushing, sister-in-law of the bridegroom-to-be, hosted a miscellaneous shower at Ciro's in Detroit.

Mrs. Michael Pierce and Sandra Smalley, who will attend the bride at the nuptials, entertained at a miscellaneous shower at Mrs. Pierce's home on Newberry Road recently.

A rehearsal party will be held June 16 at the Village House at Fox Hills.

MRS. ANTHONY J. DeLORENZO

Kathleen Norma Khouri and Anthony J. DeLorenzo spoke vows today in Flint's St. Matthew's Catholic Church. Their parents are Mrs. John Fayad of Flint, the late Anton Khouri and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony G. DeLorenzo of Bloomfield Village.

Noon Ceremony in Flint Weds A. J. De Lorenzos

Wed today at a High Mass ceremony in Flint's St. Matthew's Catholic Church were the Anthony Joseph DeLorenzos (nee Kathleen Norma Khouri).

Parents of the couple united by Rev. Joseph W. Coyle O.S.F.S. of Detroit, are Mrs. John Fayad of Flint, the late Anton Khouri and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony G. DeLorenzo of Bloomfield Village.

BRIDAL ENSEMBLE

Escorted by her brother, Edward J. Khouri, the bride selected an A-line gown of white net with re-embroidered Alencon lace. It featured a portrait neckline and short sleeves.

Her matching floor-length Alencon lace mantilla swept into a chapel train. She carried white Sweetheart roses with pink geranium blossoms and streamers of ivy.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. George Caras.

Bridesmaids were Josephine and Annette DeLorenzo, Barbara Caras, Mary Catherine Howrani, Elaine Shaheen and Candace Caras.

The bridegroom's brother, Peter M. DeLorenzo stood as best man.

Ushers were Gregory Obloy,

John Dirnbauer, Robert LaMarre, William Shaheen, Phillip Shalal, Ronald Kirtley and Thomas Florida.

Following a reception in the Flint Country Club, the newlyweds left for a Canadian honeymoon, after which they will reside in Bloomfield Hills.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University and her husband holds degrees from University of Notre Dame and Boston University.

Gamma Psi Installation

Gamma Psi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority conducted an installation of officers Thursday at their evening meeting.

They are: Mrs. Joseph Koren, president; Mrs. William Affolder, vice president; Mrs. Mary Shell, treasurer; Mrs. Catherine Akery, recording secretary and Lula McCully, city council representative.

Committees for the coming year and projects were planned. Hostess for the group was Mrs. Gladys Hocking of Elizabeth Lake Road assisted by Evelyn Angell.

"Smile, girls; don't make it look like such hard work." Chorines for "The Pajama Game" include (from left) Mrs. David Lawrence, Birmingham; Mrs. Robert Swanson, Bloomfield Hills; and Mrs. Tom Kelly, Birmingham. Tickets are available at Grinnell's in Birmingham for June 1, 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10. John Coppin directs the production.

Airlines Look to the Future

There's No Place to Go but Up

(Last in a Series)
By ROBERT COCHINAR
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — Last week some 100 people clustered at a departure gate in Kennedy Airport for a 3:30 p.m. flight to Barbados in the West Indies.

At 3:15 they were told the plane had been delayed because of hydraulic difficulties and that an announcement would be made at 4:15. At 4:45 — too late to catch a competing airline flight — it was announced that the flight had been delayed to 6:30 p.m.

The group was informed at 5 to take a bus to the nearby Stater Hilton Hotel, where rooms and dinner were ready. The plane wouldn't leave until 10:30 p.m.

When they reached the motel they were told the flight wouldn't leave until 7 the next morning. The frustrated passengers were roused from their comfy Hilton beds at 4:20 a.m.; the plane, hallelujah, was ready for boarding.

Only it wasn't. The aircraft finally left at 3:30 p.m., exactly 24 hours late.

TALE OF HORRORS

The above may not be a typical tale of horrors, but neither is it apocryphal; it happened and it will happen again.

There may have been a perfectly logical explanation for the 24-hour delay, but try to tell that to the 100 vacation-bound travelers.

One of the infuriating practices of air carriers may finally be solved. Until now, airlines had to pay $5 to $50 in penalties to anyone who held a reservation and was denied space at the airport.

A new government ruling, it's reported, will penalize carriers up to $200. In many other areas, however, the airlines are way ahead of the government.

They have, for example, just about figured out the internal configuration of the new Boeing 747 jumbo jets they'll be getting in late 1969.

Although Boeing says the plane can hold up to 490 passengers, most lines are figuring on about 350. This means plenty of room.

TWO AISLES

Passengers will occupy a single-deck cabin, section 20 feet wide (seven feet wider than the 707). A variety of seating arrangements is possible, with two aisles running the length of the cabin.

This, Boeing says, will afford "a level of comfort and spaciousness unmatched in present interior accommodations" — as well as room for innovations such as lounges, theaters and private passenger areas.

There's an upper level, too, joined to the main passenger area by a circular stairway. And just over the horizon is the supersonic transport, the SST, which will take passengers from New York to Paris in 3½ hours, flying at 1,850 miles per hour.

The industry isn't completely starry-eyed over this great technological advance. They are also concentrating on the relatively mundane procedures like ticketing.

TICKET OPERATION
TWA's Jack Brough, vice president for properties and facilities, sketched in the future ticket-buying operation:

"There'll be satellite ticket and reservations centers spotted throughout the country. The passenger will check out of his hotel, say, and walk across the lobby to the automated passenger service station.

"There'll be a keyboard console and the passenger will simply punch up his destination and time and class of service. The information will be fed into the master computer and, within seconds, his space will be reserved if it's available.

"Let's say he'll want a hotel room and a car at his destination. He'll feed that into the station. He'll then punch the master switch and out will come the ticket and the price.

"At the airport, the automated baggage system will be ready for him at the parking lot. He'll walk several hundred feet to the plane gate, insert his ticket in a slot. The gate will swing open and he'll be off. When he reaches his destination his luggage, through automation, will be waiting for him at his rent-a-car."

Teens' Arrest
Might Solve
20 Break-Ins

Waterford Township police feel they have solved at least 20 break-ins in the township this year with the recent apprehensions of four juveniles.

Detectives said the suspects admitted breaking into schools, restaurants, a gasoline service station and a barber shop.

The suspects, however didn't always work together in committing the crimes, according to police.

Two of the juveniles are 16 years old. The other two are 15. All four live in Waterford Township.

Included among the solved break-ins are five at Cray Junior High School and one at Burt Elementary School in which vandalism was so destructive pupils had to be excused from classes one day.

PONTIAC POLICE ASSIST

Pontiac police assisted in the investigation.

Three city break-ins at Washington Junior High School also were cleared following the apprehensions.

Township police were led onto the trail of the teen-age suspects last week after a break-in at Cray Junior High School.

A policeman spotted two youths inside an office at the building. The youths fled on foot, leaving behind a stolen automobile containing stolen merchandise and a social security card belonging to one of them.

Stock Exchange
Suit to High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York Stock Exchange's authority to regulate commissions stockbrokers are paid faces a major challenge before the Supreme Court.

The court was asked Friday to reverse a lower court finding that federal antitrust laws should not be applied to the stock exchange.

Attorneys for shareholders in five mutual funds asked the high court to overturn dismissal of their suit on Feb. 25, 1966, by U.S. Dist. Judge Julius J. Hoffman in Chicago.

Senate Votes Down 2 Resort Area Measures

LANSING (AP) — Two bills of prime interest to Michigan's resort areas were shot down in the Senate Friday.

One, to increase the fees for a state parks entrance sticker, has a good chance of being revived and passed.

The other, to extend resort liquor licenses from 10 months to a year, needs a major blood transfusion of favorable votes.

Only 31 of the senate's 38 members were on hand to vote Friday. Many of those missing were getting a fast jump on the long weekend.

REPORTING OUT

The Senate, after a brief formal session, worked on reporting out or killing all but appropriations or tax bills still in committee.

The Senate adjourned at 5 p.m. Friday until 8 p.m. Wednesday night.

The measure to hike parks fees failed to pass on a 17-14 vote. Twenty votes are required for passage.

Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, quickly moved for reconsideration of the vote and scheduled it for next week.

VOTES EXPECTED

Supporters were sure they would have enough votes for 5 passage when the missing senators reported for duty.

Present park sticker fees are 50 cents a day and $2 a year. Residents would pay $1 daily and $3 a year under the new bill. Nonresidents would be charged $2 daily and $5 a year.

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford, stormed his disapproval after the vote.

"I'm not too proud of us sitting in the Senate," he declared. "These votes were not for the people of Michigan. These votes were not for the tourist industry of Michigan. These votes were not for providing recreation for those on our city streets during the long, hot summer."

Earlier, Sens. John Toeppe, R-Cadillac, and Thomas Schweibert, R-Petoskey, tried to insert an amendment to make fees for residents and tourists alike. Their amendment didn't even get as far as a vote.

Michigan's northern senators have complained the high park fees would discriminate against and drive out tourists.

The proposal to allow year-round resort liquor licenses drew only 13 favorable votes against.

Resort area senators still hoped to be able to recruit enough votes next week to pass the bill on another try.

A switch on this issue would require a change of heart in some of those opposed or a favorable vote from all seven missing senators.

Egypt, Syria Label U.S. as Archvillain

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Middle East crisis has made the United States the archvillain in Syria and Egypt.

Cairo Radio says the United States completely sides with Israel — accused by Egypt of planning to attack its ally Syria — and cannot be trusted. It declares the fight is really with the United States and Israel is "an insignificant and worthless state."

Damascus radio, besides assailing the United States, takes out after the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. A current broadcast boasts, "We shall triumph and let the Zionists and the 6th Fleet go to hell."

The American position in the crisis also has embarrassed the monarchies of Saudi Arabia and Jordan, which have been under attack by Cairo radio for their pro-Western stance.

SOME MISGIVINGS

In the current crisis, Saudi Arabia and Jordan have lined up with other Arab countries against Israel, apparently with some misgivings. While the United States is reviled, the Soviet Union and even France—which with Britain attacked Egypt in 1956—bask in a glow of Arab friendship.

The Soviet Union received warm praise for its careful statement of support for the Arabs and the inflicting on Western nations what Cairo called "their greatest defeat in the U.N. Security Council."

This was a reference to Soviet opposition to any action by the council and its noncommittal position on Big Four talks on the crisis.

Reports from Cairo describe Egyptian authorities as being "not unfavorable" to a French suggestion that the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France get together to defuse the Middle Eastern powder keg.

Reelected Chief

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — J.L. Littlefield of Lansing was re-elected president of the Michigan Weights and Measures Officials Association Friday at the association's conference.

Vote-Count Bill to Reagan

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A bill requiring all California election ballots to be counted at the same time—no matter when the polls close—passed the Senate 22-0 Friday and was sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Sen. George E. Danielson, D-Los Angeles, said news media thus would be prevented from announcing computer predictions of election results before some of the polls close.

California polls close at 8 p.m. in large cities but an hour earlier in most other areas.

'Speck Epileptic Rage Unlikely'

DETROIT (UPI) — A medical authority on epilepsy said yesterday it was "highly unlikely" that Richard Speck could have killed eight nurses while in an epileptic rage.

Dr. Benjamin Jeffries, a psychiatrist and president of the Michigan Epilepsy Center and Association, said there is one type of epilepsy, called "psychomotor," in which a person performs human functions while medically unconscious.

But he said psychomotor seizures "are momentary things" and the person's acts during one are "quite usual." Seizures rarely last more than a minute or two, he said in an interview.

Jeffries said a person cannot plot an act during a psychomotor seizure. Speck was convicted of systematically killing eight nurses, one by one, in their apartment last July 14.

He said when a person "comes out" of such a seizure he cannot remember his actions during the seizure.

Detroiters Overcome 3 Deficits

DETROIT (AP) — The gauge of a champion is ability to come from behind when the chips are down.

The Detroit Tigers met the test Friday night in a 10-6 victory over the Washington Senators, overcoming deficits of 3-1, 4-3 and 5-4.

"It was great to see the guys battle back like that," said catcher Bill Freehan who drove in two runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly.

KEY PLAY

Dick McAuliffe, who scored four runs and had three hits, produced the key play in the sixth with some clutch base running.

The little second baseman hit a looping drive to short left field and when Senator outfielder Frank Howard couldn't hold the ball after a long run, McAuliffe took off for second and beat the throw for a double.

He went to third on Don Wert's fly and scored the go-ahead run when Al Kaline singled through a drawn-in infield.

BIG RALLY

The Tigers broke the game open in the eighth with a four-run rally sparked by Willie Horton's bases-loaded single.

But it was touch and go early in the game. Washington jumped on Detroit starter Joe Spanel for three runs in the first inning. Manager Mayo Smith stuck with Spanel until the fourth when the Senators took a 5-4 lead.

"His fast ball had a good pop but Joe had trouble getting his breaking stuff right," said Freehan.

Smith said he left Spanel in the game to see if he could get untracked, but finally pulled him for Dave Wickersham, who got credit for his second win with five innings of one-hit pitching.

Wickersham walked the first two men to open the Washington ninth and was lifted for Fred Gladding, who finished up.

STIFF SHOULDER

"My shoulder stiffened up on me," said Wickersham, "and I could get anything on the ball."

Gladding fanned Howard and got Cap Peterson to hit into a doubleplay to end the game.

Kalene drove in Detroit's first run with a single in the first inning, and the Tigers knotted the score at 3-3 on RBI singles from Don Wert and McAuliffe.

Peterson's double and Ken Karrelson's single made it 4-3 in the Washington third and the Tigers tied it up in their half of the inning on a double by Norm Cash and Freehan's triple, which eluded Howard at the first base fence.

The Senators got another run off Spanel in the fourth and Wickersham came on to end the threat.

Jim Northrup's single and a two-out double by Ray Oyler tied the score at 5-5 in the fifth.

Indy Drivers in '300' Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — day with an unprecedented secret briefing of drivers and crew chiefs on the starting and race rules, and a final three-hour session of shakedown runs. Temperatures which had been uncommonly chilly for May suddenly zoomed to 82 and other drivers complained bitterly about shimmering waves of heat rolling back of Parnelli Jones' controversial STP-Pratt & Whitney turbine car.

Drivers qualified for the rich 500-mile Tuesday race for the first time in 24 hours of the big show. They figured they'll have plenty of time to rest from the IRP race, the Yankee 300.

The Yankee 300 was postponed from May 7 after a torrential rain left the parking lots impassable.

HOLD BRIEFING

Last meaningful preliminaries to the 500 were concluded Friday.

MARIO MUSES — While his pit crew makes minor adjustments on his car, Mario Andretti scratches his head in deep thought during Friday's final tune-up for Tuesday's 500-Mile Memorial Day race at the Indianapolis Speedway.

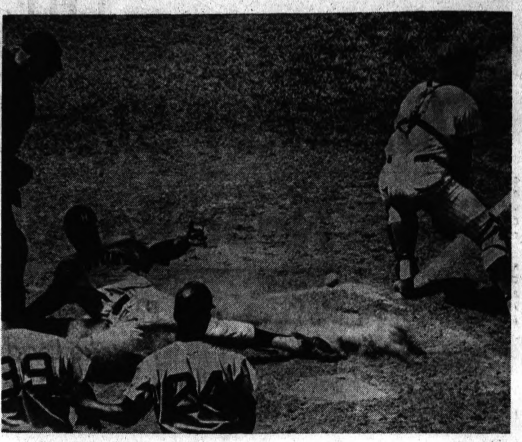

Juan Marchal Stops Dodgers Again for SF

Giants Top LA, 4-1; Pirates' Clemente Rips Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

When Juan Marchal enters the Los Angeles Dodgers, it's a Candlestick Park breeze. But whenever — and wherever — Roberto Clemente and the Cincinnati Reds run into each other, it's a fight for survival.

Marchal became the major leagues' first eight-game winner Friday night by scattering six hits as the San Francisco Giants trimmed the visiting Dodgers 4-1.

VERY LITTLE TARGET — Sliding Joe Morgan of the Houston Astros executes a perfect fade-away slide, offering just the toe of his foot as a target while scoring during the fourth inning of yesterday afternoon's easy victory at Chicago. Catcher Randy Hundley of the Cubs lets the ball slip away from him as Astros Dave Giusti (39) and Jim Wynn (24) watch the action.

3 Teams Post Early Wins in JC Series

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Bacone, Miami-Dade and Nassau of Garden City, N.Y., moved into the second round of the double elimination National Junior College Baseball Tournament today after notching wins Friday.

Bacone College of Muskogee, Okla., topped Phoenix, Ariz., 5-3, Miami took Flint, 6-1, and Nassau blanked Gardner-Webb, 3-0.

RAINED OUT

Mesa College of Grand Junction and Odessa, Tex., were rained out. They will play this morning.

Leading the Bacone attack was leftfielder Ron Ward who had three singles and a double while rightfielder Van Flicco banged out two hits. Pete Hernandez led Phoenix with two hits.

Ed Bravo helped Miami to its win with a two-run home run in the second inning and a two-run double in the ninth. Pitcher Joe Arnold struck out eight and issued no walks in going the distance for Miami. His season record is 10-0.

TOSSES 5-HITTER

Nassau blanked Gardner-Webb behind the five-hit pitching of Larry Koch. He struck out 10 batters and drove in two of the runs with a single in the second inning and a home run in the eighth.

U.S., Soviet 5s Could Dominate World Tourney

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI) — The fifth annual World Basketball Championships get underway today with the United States and the Soviet Union tabbed as the pre-tourney favorites.

Fisher helped Michigan capture the team batting crown with a .294 average to .277 for Minnesota. Ohio State, the conference champion, was third with .258.

Ohio State, however, was the leader in fielding with a .952 percentage to .954 for Iowa. Wisconsin was third with .952.

BEST PITCHING

Minnesota pitchers led the league with an earned run average of 2.03 compared to 2.71 for Iowa. Ohio State had a 2.91 and finished behind Michigan State with 2.83 and Wisconsin with 2.90.

Minnesota also was the slugging leader with a .424 percentage to .400 for Michigan. Ohio State was fifth with .329 behind Purdue with .380 and Michigan State with .354.

HOT STREAK

Clemente, meanwhile, continued his one-man crusade against Cincinnati by strking a bases-loaded single in the 12th inning that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-5 nod over the National League leaders.

In other NL action, Philadelphia topped St. Louis 7-4 on Don Lock's three-run homer, New York nipped Atlanta 1-0 on Don Cardwell's three-hitter and Houston flattened Chicago 17-4 in a club-record scoring spree.

In taming the Dodgers for the 14th time in 14 Candlestick Park decisions, Marchal ran his winning string to eight after three setbacks at the start of the season. The Dominican dandy has beaten the Dodgers twice this year.

SETTLES SCORE

Clemente, the league's leading hitter, settled an 11-day-old score with the Cincinnati by breaking up the extra-inning struggle at Pittsburgh. When the clubs opened a three-game series at Cincinnati on May 15, Clemente drove in seven runs with three home runs and a double, only to come out on the short end of an 8-7, 10-inning decision.

The Reds, however, gave Clemente a dizzy run for his money. He singled in the first inning, was robbed of an extra-base hit by right fielder Tommy Harper in the third, and chopped a hard grounder in the fifth that got through shortstop Leo Cardenas for a two-run error.

Finally, after Cincy reliever Darrell Aiken loaded the bases on a walk and two hit batters in the 12th, Clemente delivered the hit to left field that broke a 5-3 tangle.

CAPS RALLY

Lock capped a four-run Philadelphia rally in the third, with his three-run blast after getting a life when Cards second baseman Phil Gagliano misjudged his foul pop outside first base.

Johnny Callison smashed a pair of homers for the Phillies and Rich Allen singled across the tying run in the eighth before Lock connected.

The Mets' Cardinal manager Jerry Buchek's second inning home run stand up against the Braves, who have scored in only one inning of their last three starts and have had just eight hits during that stretch.

The Astros wallowed four homers, good for 10 runs, in topping their previous high of four runs, scored against the Mets in 1962. Rusty Staub and Joe Morris hit three-run homers while Jim Wynn and Ron Davis belted two-run shots.

U.S., Mexico Set for Net Cup Play

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Latin game far faster reflexes than Anglo Saxons, and this could give Mexico a slight edge in the American zone semifinal Davis Cup matches with the United States opening today, says a widely traveled scientist.

William "Little Bill" Miller, author of six books and a trainer of athletes, said Anglo Saxons have a tendency to burn themselves out faster by trying too hard.

U.S. Davis Cup Captain George MacCall said he agreed with Miller, but he still thinks the Americans will win against Mexico in the three-day Davis Cup matches.

Chess Master Dies

MOSCOW (AP) — Gideon Stahlberg, 58, Swedish chess grandmaster, died Friday, the Swedish embassy reported. He was in this country to compete in an international chess tournament.

NFL Owners Vote Increase

NEW YORK (UPI) — There should be no doubt remaining that pro football is big business and getting bigger all the time.

So big, in fact, that National Football League club owners spread some of their wealth among the players without even a threat of a strike.

To wind up three days of meetings Friday, the owners threw an additional $200,000 into the players' pension fund for a total of $900,000 a year. They also increased life insurance and medical benefits by $75,000 to $300,000 annually.

However, the NFL players were thrown for a loss in their bid for a "Super Bowl All-Star Game" with the American Football League in 1968.

NO GAME

The owners told Mike Pyle of the Chicago Bears, president of the NFL players representatives, and their attorney Creighton Miller, that existing TV commitments rule out an inter-league All-Star game until 1969.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle also announced that the Super Bowl winner will continue to play the College All-Stars in Chicago, at least through 1969.

The NFL renewed its contract for the All-Star game with its sponsor of the last 34 years, the Chicago Tribune.

If Pyle was elated with the pension and insurance gains, he was not with the turndown of the proposed Super Bowl All-Star game.

"The players are very interested in having the All-Star game played before 1971," said the Bear center.

FUND DECREASE

The players are especially anxious for such a game as a source of revenue for their benefit fund. They have indicated that the income from the Playoff runnerup Bowl, a major contributor to their benefit fund, might suffer this year because that game and the Super Bowl are scheduled for Miami on successive weekends.

Before adjourning, the owners also elected Art Modell of the Cleveland Browns, president of the NFL, and reaffirmed their stand that club owners cannot hold a controlling interest in a team connected with any other sport. Several football owners who are involved with teams in the new United Soccer Association will be investigated.

The selection of Modell to the non-salaried position will enable Rozelle to devote his full time to his new post of pro football commissioner, overseeing both the NFL and AFL, whose merger is scheduled for completion in 1970.

Romney Has Last Word on Bill

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney got in the last word by letter — Friday in an exchange with Secretary of State James Hare over a traffic safety measure killed in committee. The bill, passed by the House but allowed to die by the Senate, would have allowed police to pick up the licenses of drivers arrested for traffic violations. Motorists would be given a temporary license until they appeared in court.

The measure was aimed at cutting down the number of drivers who never report to face charges on traffic offenses.

Hare had pleaded in letters to Romney that he work to get the bill out of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

LAST RECOMMENDATION

Romney said he had included the measure in his special message on traffic safety. But he noted, the bill was last on the list of Hare's recommendations. "Failure to answer summons for traffic violations is a problem," Romney admitted.

He said, however, the police instant information network will provide a spot check on drivers with traffic warrants outstanding.

Hare's office, in a letter to the judiciary committee, said the information network is part of the answer but won't be completely operative until January 1968.

"What do you propose as a means to solve the other half of the problem," said the letter from an aide to Hare to Sen. Robert Richardson Jr., R-Saginaw, committee chairman.

Many mosquitos pass the winter as larvae, or wrigglers, content to be frozen in ponds. When spring comes they thaw out and buzz off.

Mental Health Director Named

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney yesterday named Dr. William H. Anderson 50, superintendent of the Mid-Missouri Mental Health Center, to the $30,000-a-year job of Michigan Mental Health Director.

Anderson, also an associate professor of psychiatry at the University of Missouri, will begin his new job July 1.

'Sorry, Officers, It's Just a Test'

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Two sheriff's deputies walk opened fire — with cap pistols.

"Sorry, officers, we didn't know you were in there," said one of the trio.

"We're sociology majors conducting an experiment on how the public would act in a given situation."

The youths, Lawrence Goddard, 18, Dennis Miller, 19, and David Sale, 18, all are students at the University of California at Santa Barbara. They were reprimanded and released.

RICHARD KONZEN

Madison Boy Honored as Week's Teen

Richard Konzen of Pontiac's Madison Junior High School sounds a fitting closing note as the last Teen of the Week for this school year.

Only a ninth grader, Dick plays the bassoon, piano, organ and clarinet and sings in his church choir.

He recently won a first division rating on a bass clarinet and second division rating in clarinet trio at the Solo and Ensemble Festival in Roseville.

Closer to home, Dick received a music award at the Salute to Youth Contest this spring.

At school he plays the bassoon in the band and orchestra and accompanies the girls' chorus and Madison Melodies on the piano.

AT CHURCH

At his church, Dick plays the organ and sings in the choir.

Maintaining a high scholastic average, he plans to major in music at the University of Michigan. Dick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Kozen, 731 First.

His philosophy is simple: "I feel that if a person sets out to do something, he should try his utmost to do the best job possible."

Romney Hit on Labor talks

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan AFL-CIO has criticized Gov. George Romney for inconsistency in statements about labor.

In a newsletter, the labor group said that Romney has forgotten his Labor Day messages and is "clobbering workers' goals."

"The man who claims to love workers on Labor Day and wants their votes on election day is spending a considerable amount of time in between criticizing their efforts to win a measure of equity," the AFL-CIO news service said.

Romney has been seeking funds for his presidential campaign in meetings with business executives in Cleveland, New York and Chicago, the newsletter said.

"He told each of these groups that he favored breaking up unions which represented workers in the same industry. In recent weeks Romney has been wailing conservatives with anti-labor pitch — opposition to repeal of section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Law which now permits various states to adopt 'right-to-work' laws," it said.

To Run for the Presidency

NY Artist Planning a Labor of Love

NEW YORK (AP) — When and comely woman as the vice-presidential running mate. Abolafia becomes president, the Cabinet may consist of: Beat poet Allen Ginsberg as secretary of love; Timothy Leary, secretary of food and drugs, and television entertainer Johnny Carson—if he will accept—as secretary of joy.

There will be no secretary of war. Indeed, the Pentagon might possibly become a mammoth art gallery.

Louis Abolafia, 25, is a New York artist, who says he is going to try to win the presidential election in 1968 on the Love-Art-Beauty ticket.

JUST A WARMUP

His followers claim he received 2,500 write-in votes in the 1966 New York gubernatorial race—just a warm-up, they say, for the huge "youth awareness" vote for president which will be the result of a national chain of "cosmic love-ins."

Now as to his future plans: Under Abolafia's love administration, mothers—instead of screeching at their kids—will channel energies into national beautification projects. And youth—instead of mugging old men in the park—will experience the joy of creating beauty by smearing at easels, practicing music lessons, or scribbling uninhibited literature on their writing pads.

Abolafia, who posed for posters wearing nothing but a strategically placed derby, says he definitely plans to toss his hat into the 1968 ring. And his ardent supporters are absolutely certain young voters will boost him into the White House. His party is looking for a keen Warning Issued Against Paint Gypsters . . .

Now is the time to watch out for the fly-by-night paint gypsters who roam the countryside offering to paint houses and barns at fantastically low prices.

Each year thousands of homeowners are victimized by these itinerant operators whose extravagant promises about the quality of their paints fail to materialize.

Talk first with a reputable paint dealer and tell him of your needs. He will be able to offer concrete suggestions—helpful when planning with contractor.

Deal with a locally known contractor. A reputable painter will specify in writing exactly what he will do and what paint he will use.

Be at home when your painting is done, and check to see that it concurs with your contract.

Remember that you get what you pay for — cheap paint or a cheap job will most certainly cost you more in the long run.

Oakland Youth for Christ Sponsors Annual Banquet

HONOR GRADUATES — In honor of graduating seniors of Oakland County, Youth for Christ is sponsoring the annual Christian Youth Banquet in the Gold Room at Oakland University June 3 from 6:30 to 10 p.m. With the theme "Around the World" Shirley Winne of 6151 Elizabeth Lake (left) and

Peggy Underwood of 6936 Hatchery will use dolls in native costume representing different nations in the decorating of tables. The outstanding Christian senior boy and girl of the year will be chosen.

According to Norman Clothier, executive director of Oakland Youth for Christ, the United States has begun to export a product that it alone among the nations seems able to produce in any quantity, a religious faith by, for and to young people.

So popular is the product that Youth for Christ, International, a youth movement that has given to the world an evangelist named Billy Graham, has started a large scale export of something it calls "Teen Teams."

The teams each including six or seven talented and Christian young people are being sent into countries around the globe.

In February, Youth for Christ teams left for Asia and South America. In the fall a team will leave for Mediterranean countries, another will visit South Pacific's Fiji Islands and New Zealand.

One team just back from South America where for 110 days it held 330 meetings, was attended by 76,000 young people. They listed 1,150 converts or decisions for Christ.

Youth for Christ has access to top talent among the nation's Christian teen-agers through its program of high school Bible clubs, regular meetings and talent contests.

The six-member team that last year toured Ireland, the Netherlands, France, Germany, Spain and England, is typical.

Stan Reilly, winner of YFC's sermon contest in 1961, did most of the sermonizing. The group spoke of school life in the United States, gave information on fads among teen-agers and gave the Christian message.

STARTS WITH MUSIC
The program usually started out with secular music, singing, trumpet trio, accordion soloist. Several played the piano. Later hymns and sacred music were presented.

The team was selected from thousands of applicants on the basis of their own talents and faith.

Members of the team were to dress conservatively. There was to be no dating during the nearly six months they were to be overseas—neither between members of the team nor with other young people.

Members were to live in the homes of Europeans, eat everything on their plates no matter how strange or odd tasting. The team went into churches and high schools to offer programs and stayed to discuss religion.

LOCAL CLUBS
Campus Life Clubs are a division of Youth for Christ in Oakland County. There are 16 clubs which meet in junior and senior high schools in and near Pontiac.

More than 340 young people are currently involved. Clubs meet before and after school, some in the evening. The purpose is the development of leadership and talent, to promote high moral standards, respect for school authorities and property, Christian growth and wholesome activities.

Club sessions include a study of balanced living. The concept takes in the various aspects of the physical, social, mental and spiritual sides of life. Other areas of study are "What Is Life," "How Does God Work in My Life." Sessions include study of the Scriptures, Bible study methods, group discussions.

How do the teen-agers feel about the club?

Jim Lacey said "The club is a good place where we can go, and invite friends. There we can discuss and explain what we believe."

"Christian fellowship is as important to growth as lunch. The club helps me understand the Bible, what life is all about, and how God works in my life," Bob Dickie said.

And Bonnie Brown chimed in with "The club helps me to grow spiritually," and Chris Brewer says "The club gives us an opportunity to express our views on problems facing everyone today."

Oakland Youth for Christ is directed by staff members, Bill Ballard, Kenneth Hodges and Clothier.

EXPLAINS CLUB PURPOSE — Bill Tip-ton, a track star and member of Youth for Christ Club at Pontiac Central High School, discusses the purpose and program of Central's club with the more than 30 members. Sessions are held each Wednesday at 8 a.m. in the school.

Show Film on Education in the Home

"Parent to Child About Sex," the new movie on education in the home, will be shown to parents in the Birmingham-Bloomfield Township area in June 5.

The presentation at 8 p.m. in the parish of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 5500 N. Adams, will be made by a panel of local professionals who will discuss the film and answer questions.

The film is not a sex instruction film on the physiology of reproduction. It is concerned with when and how facts are taught and the way they are taught.

Dr. Frederick J. Margolis, Kalamazoo pediatrician, has produced the 31-minute movie in cooperation with Dr. Stuart Finch, chief of Children's Psychiatric Hospital, University of Michigan; and Dr. Tommy N. Evans, chairman of obstetrics and gynecology at Wayne State University, College of Medicine.

Dr. Mary S. Calderone, executive director of Sex Information and Education Council of the United States, has prepared an epilogue.

All four doctors appear in the film with actual mothers, fathers and children, since no professional actors are used.

"Having spent many years making medical films," Dr. Margolis explains, "I concluded that this very personal subject could be explored comfortably by groups of parents if it were on film, using the same pattern one would use in speaking directly to a parent—professional guidance plus example."

Enthusiastic expressions have come from consultants and participants who are involved with the project.

Dr. Kenneth B. Rogers, University of Pittsburgh, says "for years we in public health have been waiting for a film like this."

Rabbi Mordecai L. Brill, Synagogue Council of America, writes "It puts the right words into parents' mouths and, above all, it gives parents the feeling that their job is not difficult."

The Rev. Charles Steady endorses the film from the University of Notre Dame.

The film was released through the Wayne State University Audio-Visual Utilization Center. No charges and no donations will be collected and all parents of the community are invited.

New Temple Adults, Youth Hear Chafets

William Chafets of Bloomfield Hills, a student at the University of Michigan and president of the National Federation of Temple Youth, will address the congregation of The New Temple Friday evening.

Worship services are currently being held in the Unitarian Church, Woodward at Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills.

His subject is "The State of European Jewish Youth."

A native of Pontiac, Bill is preparing himself for entrance into the Hebrew Union College. A past president of Temple Beth Jacob youth group, he also served as president of Michigan State Temple Youth.

He will speak of his impressions when he represented young people at Amsterdam last summer at the International Conference of the World Federation of Progressive Jewish Youth.

Members of the New Temple youth group will participate in the service.

The congregation will celebrate its first anniversary with a dinner at Pine Knob Resort on June 3.

Friends of the temple may join in the celebration by calling the temple office. Gerald Marks, composer and raconteur, will entertain.

EUB Church Votes to Join Methodists

The Michigan Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, meeting for its 106th annual session in Lansing, voted to approve the union with the Methodist Church.

The vote was on a resolution to approve the Constitution and enable legislation approved by both denominations' General Conferences last November in Chicago.

The Michigan Conference is the ninth annual conference of the EUB Church to vote on the issue.

Methodist annual conferences will also be voting throughout the United States on the same proposal.

If the proposal passes the two denominations will become the United Methodist Church at a special conference to be held in Dallas, Tex. in April 1968.

The Rev. Paul F. Bailey and the Rev. Marvin E. Rickert were reassigned to North East Community and Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren churches, Pontiac.

The Rev. Garfield Kellerman Jr. of Calvary Church, Detroit was elected conference superintendent.

TEARS AFTER BATTLE — Weeping uncontrollably, an American infantryman is comforted after he survived a battle with the North Vietnamese in the central Vietnamese highlands near the Cambodian border early this week. He was with a six-man patrol that watched the enemy set up an attack that killed 16 Americans and wounded 79 others. But the patrol could not warn the company because the radio jammed. Three men of the patrol were killed by artillery and air strikes against the attackers.

FATAL FREEWAY CRASH—Five trucks collided on fog-shrouded I-4 outside Auburndale, Fla., yesterday killing three drivers and flooding the highway with gasoline and liquid tar. Police said the accident was triggered when a gasoline tanker slowed as it entered the fog and was rammed from the rear by a truck loaded with bags of cement.

TOURISTS, SKIERS TOGETHER—Patty Ashland of Rutland, Vt., and Bryan Preece of Orange, Mass., inspect a snow-covered chairlift at a Killington, Vt., ski area yesterday following a 12-inch snowfall from a Northeast storm that swept up through New England. Killington was to start its summer chairlift operation today, but has announced it will let skiers ride the lift along with tourists.

CONSOLES WIFE—Marine Sgt. James B. Thomas comforts his wife, Antonio, in Santa Ana, Calif., after a juror caused a mistrial in the murder trial of Mrs. Thomas. The juror told the judge he was "just going along with the majority" when he voted her guilty of killing her baby. Mrs. Thomas was charged with slaying her 9-day-old baby.

EDITOR AND HER BOOK — Carmen Gonzales, 20, of Tampa, Fla., holds a copy of the Moroccan, the Tampa University yearbook she edited. Angered because Carmen's picture appeared in the book 24 times, students burned (below) most of the 1,700 books printed. In explaining why her picture appeared so often, Miss Gonzales said she was yearbook queen, belonged to at least 10 clubs, was named a member of Who's Who, and had the highest scholastic record — 2.9 out of a possible 3.0 — at the university. She is in bed recovering from nervous shock.

BEATLE'S CHARIOT — Fanciful designs adorn the Rolls Royce which has been delivered to John Lennon of the Beatles in London. The dominating color is yellow but a rainbow of other hues is in the paint job. Bouquets of flowers are on the sides and the signs of the zodiac are painted on the roof.

STUDENT 'BURN-IN' — Approximately 500 students at Florida's University of Tampa are shown burning their yearbooks in protest over the policies used in selecting pictures. The students were angered because the picture of the yearbook editor, Carmen Gonzales (pictured above right) appeared in the book 24 times while the undergraduates' pictures didn't appear at all. Most of the 1,700 books were burned. The chairman of student publications, Dr. Charles West, called the remaining copies of the book collector's items.

Mustache Cup Changes Decor

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press
"It all began with a mustache cup," commented Mrs. Morton Jacobs as she led the way through her charming home on St. Jude Drive, Waterford Township.

"When we were first married our furnishings followed a modern theme. And then... my mother gave me a mustache cup."
"That cup started me collecting. I advanced from mustache cups to pewter to antiques." Setting the neutral background in the living room are off-white walls, gum wood paneling, beige carpeting and beige boucle draperies.

A green feathered arrangement in a ceramic goblet and a green glass-covered container introduce color interest. The objects highlight the round maple table between the brown tweed Mr. and Mrs. chairs before the picture window.

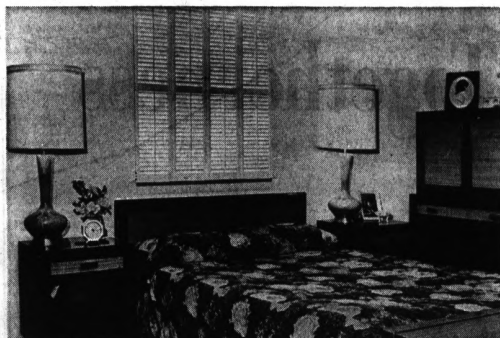

FATHER'S HANDWORK

"The chest by the entrance divider was refinished by my father," said Mrs. Jacobs. The rich patina of antiquity dances over the commode's buried inlay in the room's soft light. An oil lantern and a pitcher and bowl dress its marble top.

On the entry wall is a portion of Mrs. Jacobs' mustache cup collection.

In the adjoining dining room, a New Orleans street scene stresses shades of green, beige, brown and aqua to complement the dado and paneling of gum wood.

Handcarved walnut chairs serve the cherry drop-leaf table. Beige boucle draperies draw to reveal a glass window wall which opens onto the screened porch.

Reports Police Officer

Dog Scares Intruders

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Here's a comforting thought for home owners pondering how the presidential crime commission report affects their own bailiwick:

BUY A DOG!

Fido may be the best burglar alarm for the home, says Connecticut State Police Lt. Walter W. Foley, who is concerned with the rise of housebreakings in Westport and surrounding Fairfield County towns — some of the wealthiest communities in the United States.

Burglars have made housebreaking a cinch by taking to such electronic devices as walkie-talkies, but man's best friend can't be intimidated by such contraptions.

"Ninety-nine per cent of the time a burglar will not cope with a barking dog," says Foley.

"Nobody wants to be bitten. The tiniest pekingese, cocker spaniel or wire-haired terrier can make ferocious sounds that make criminals apprehensive."

BUILT-IN ALARM

Fido's built-in alarm system—growl, bark, bite—may be more than worth its weight in dog biscuits as a burglar foil. He can't be "shorted" for some alarm can.

Housebreakings have been greater than ever in the Fairfield County area in the last six months, Foley explains, and the upswing may be due to gadgets as the walkie-talkies, "of the type youngsters can buy at $18 that will carry a voice one-quarter to one-third of a mile."

"Better burglars" buy a terrific one that carries a voice about .five miles and sells for hundreds of dollars.

The modus operandi (m.o. in police circles) includes establishing household habits over a period of time, ringing telephone numbers long enough to establish that to one is at home, observing that garage doors are open and two cars are out, and reading newspaper announcements of weddings, funerals, impending vacation trips.

"Announcements are like advertisements to burglars," says Foley. "For example, while you are at the church getting married, he can make a clean sweep of the bridal gifts."

Foley has been lecturing in his area to educate women to inform neighbors when they leave the house for any length of time to lock their doors. (Some people go away for extended vacations without doing so.)

The prime robbery time is 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., he says, when women are shopping and gadding about.

NIGHT ROBBERIES

Night robberies must be planned more carefully, he says, since a light will almost always discourage a burglar. He'd need a different bag of tricks to enter a lighted house.

Housebreakers seek money, fur, jewels. They'll pass up initiated silver, signet rings or anything that carries a number, but they are not averse to carrying the rest of a house in broad daylight. Thousands have been stolen in sight of neighbors.

"The way it goes, neighbors observe a truck being loaded with everything from the Persian rug to the television set but they don't even get suspicious enough to get a license number," says Foley.

"In one instance a burglar pulled up to a garage and spent some time unhooking and removing the emergency light system."

Apathy on the part of neighbors is often due to the fact that people have gotten accustomed to tradespeople coming to repair and remove articles from a home when the tenants are absent.

Foley, a state policeman for 25 years, is chairman of the Metropolitan Regional Council's subcommittee on organized crime.

It embraces all government agencies in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut concerned with fighting crime.

RACKETS

In addition to housebreakings in the New England area, a number of rackets are in full swing in Vermont, Massachusetts, New York and northern Connecticut, he says. These are perpetrated in itinerant tradesmen, he says.

There is the roof gag: They will "strengthen" wooden shingles for maybe $150. (They coat them dark with a 60-cent can of oil bought at a gasoline station.)

The septic tank gag: An offer to pump your tank out at a reduced price. (They bring tank and hose, work for awhile, but never touch the tank.)

A home improvement racket (involves brittle floor tiles, cheap shingles, paneling and other products).

"Home owners should deal with local tradesmen who have a reputation to uphold in the community, if they would avoid being 'taken' by some of these door-to-door peddlers," Foley cautions.

Drivers' Miles

Total 922 Billion

Some 103 million drivers covered an estimated 922 billion miles in the United States during 1966, according to the National Automobile Club.

That's the equivalent of nearly two million trips to the moon.

Hard Water Increases Budget Cost

Ask any homemaker who has to cope with hard water, and she'll tell you it means hard work. But it also costs you money. Here's why:

• You have to use more soap to do your dishes, laundry or general cleaning. You need more hot water to get rid of loosened dirt. Even then, your dishes are likely to have a film, and your clothes and floors an off-color look. Soap, water and the cost of heating the water all drain dollars from the household budget.

• The life of clothing and linens that are constantly subjected to hard laundering is shortened.

• Hard water leaves a scaly deposit in pipe and water-using equipment, appreciably shortening their useful life.

About 85 per cent of the country has water hard enough to need treatment, and the only way to eliminate hardness once and for all is to remove it with an automatic softener before the water enters the piping system.

In the modern unit, the water flows through a tank where a chemical removes the hardening minerals. As the chemical becomes saturated, it's automatically regenerated.

The equipment is easy to install and is virtually maintenance-free. For details on the type of water problem you may have in your area and the kind of equipment needed to correct it, consult a qualified plumbing contractor.

If medicine cabinet or shower sliding doors stick, rub a little soap on the slides.

Policy makers in the administration and the Federal Reserve Board are counting on a revival in home building later in 1967 to block a possible recession, according to Otto L. Freisler, president of the United States Savings and Loan League.

"The theory is to make credit more plentiful, reduce interest rates, pump a lot of money into the mortgage market, home building will soar in the second half of 1967, and the present slack in the economy will be taken up," Freisler told a Management Conference of the United States Savings and Loan League.

"Probably this strategy will work we won't know for a few months. What we do know is that a calculated program of first turning the housing industry 'off' and then trying to turn it back 'on' is an economic waste and hardly in the interest of efficiency in home building operations."

Freisler, president of Home Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago, said that at the height of the tight money spiral in 1966, many home building organizations were dismantled and there were some personnel reductions in the mortgage department staffs at many savings and loan associations.

CREDIT EASES
He said the recent sudden improvement in the supply of mortgage credit has caused a scramble among homebuilders to reassemble their depleted staffs. As far as savings and loan associations are concerned, he said, a steady rise in loan volume is expected as the year goes along and "we are going to find ourselves trying to fill vacancies in the mortgage departments to take care of this business."

The cutback in advance commitments to builders during 1966 was so severe, according to Freisler, that it has produced a slowdown in the number of new houses coming on the market and also a reduction in the volume of lending by savings and loan associations despite the recent surge upward in saving gains.

"The combination of heavy savings flows and limited loan volume has produced some softening in mortgage rates in certain areas and this softening would have been even more pronounced were it not for the fact that a significant part of the savings gains have been used to repay Federal Home Loan Bank advances," said Freisler.

Advances to savings and loan associations from the various regional Home Loan Banks have dropped more than $2 billion from the $7.3 billion peak reached last July and Freisler said that some further reductions in the advances outstanding were probable during the next few months.

"If savings flows and loan closings follow current projections and as Federal Home Loan Bank advances are reduced still further, some institutions may find themselves confronted with an excess of mortgage money available for investment by mid-1967," he said.

"Under these circumstances, it would not be surprising to see a reduction in rates paid on savings certificates by some associations. In some cases, there may be cutbacks in savings passbook rates although savings and loan people feel it is more difficult to reduce passbook rates than to reduce certificate rates or to phase out certificates."

Little Things Can Build Up

As everyone knows, it's the "little things" that turn out to be major conveniences or annoyances.

Take the size of the lavatory bowl in your bathroom, for example. According to a survey of middle-income families who were asked to evaluate their bathrooms, 25 per cent of homeowners said their bowls were too small. In the case of renters, the percentage was over 50 per cent.

A too-small bowl can be a daily irritation to the entire family, whether it comes to washing, shampooing or doing laundry. And it's something that can easily be corrected.

The trend in bathroom design today is to install two generous-size bowls in a counter-top vanity with storage space beneath for soaps, grooming aids, tissue and, where desired, a pull-out hamper. The vanity cabinets and countertops come in endless varieties and can help set the decor theme for the entire room.

So if you're thinking of remodeling or adding a bathroom this summer, don't succumb to the temptation of skipping on your lavatory bowl. The same goes for the tub, watercloset, the faucets and other "bass" your medicine cabinet and so on. The best water closet, for example, is the siphon jet. It's got the best flushing action, is quietest and is easy to keep clean. If you get an off-the-floor type, cleaning the floor becomes easier too.

Bathroom fixtures take such hard use that it pays to take a good look at what's available and to buy top-of-the-line products. Before you make your final choice, it's wise to visit the showroom of a plumbing contractor who specializes in bathrooms to see what's available and to get his explanation of the differences in equipment performance.

Wildlife Seeks Shelter in Storm

UNUSUAL AND COMPACT: This vacation house, with its interesting exterior design, has very modest over-all dimensions of 39' by 25' 8" yet packs enough habitable area on three levels to make it suitable as a year-round home for a three-bedroom family.

A Vacation House Simple to Construct

Here is an exciting vacation take place simultaneously with living, each room has large house—small in over-all dimensions, large in livable space. out conflict. Geared especially to outdoor, its own outdoor deck.

Simple to construct because of its basic rectangular shape, it would be "at home" in the mountains or at the seashore, adaptable for any kind of sports enthusiast from skier to swimmer, and would accommodate those who simply wish to retreat to a haven where they can relax and enjoy nature.

The materials—cedar plank, stone and glass—massed in a daring manner with balconies and sloping roofs, would complement any landscape and require minimum maintenance.

The house was designed by architect Samuel Paul for use at any time of the year, for it contains all the conveniences necessary for comfortable informal living.

Though the dimensions of 25' 8" by 39' show it to be very compact, the interior of the house contains much livable area on two levels, with a service level below, separate enough to allow numerous activities to

The largest single space, for group entertainment and relaxation, is the two-story-high living room, with its sloping, beamed ceiling and clerestory windows which, in addition to providing light, are an aid to natural ventilation.

A stone wall at one end of the room contains a fireplace. One of the long walls, oriented toward the recreation area and major view from the site, is almost entirely of glass, with two sets of sliding glass doors opening onto a deck which runs the entire length of the structure.

Depending upon the terrain, steps may be built from this deck directly to the ground. For pleasant-weather cookouts, a barbecue is situated on this deck, one end of which, being accessible from the kitchen, can be used for outdoor dining.

If desired, this area can be completely screened in, with the master bedroom deck above serving as a roof.

The kitchen contains all the modern equipment desired by a carefree vacationing family, including a wall oven recessed into the same chimney as the fireplaces and barbecue.

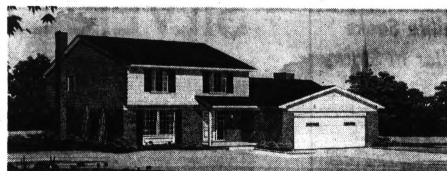

Adjacent to the kitchen is a general-purpose dining and family room, useful for any informal activity. The major entry to the house leads to this space, from which all other areas are easily reached.

BEDROOMS

Each of the three bedrooms has its own private outdoor deck and cross-ventilation. In addition, the master bedroom has its own fireplace, clerestory windows for light and added ventilation. (Continued on Page C-5, Col. 4)

Pool Heater Proves Boon to Sport

Swimming — one of the all-time favorite American pastimes — is no longer limited to the hot summer months when lake and ocean waters reach a comfortable temperature.

Now, year 'round swimming is readily available to a great number of persons, including those who live in apartment houses and those who own their own homes.

More and more new apartment houses include enclosed rooftop swimming pools. When these apartment houses are heated hydrothermally (modern hot water heating), the swimming pool and the decks around it are often heated by tubing connected to the same boiler that provides heat for the apartment units.

Hydronic heating also provides advantages for the private home owner who has an outdoor pool and who wishes to begin the swimming season earlier in the spring and extend it later into autumn.

As with apartment houses, the same boiler that provides heat for the living area can provide the heat for the pool and decks.

To make a small room appear larger, paint the baseboards the same color as the wall-to-wall carpet.

Honors Given Area Realtors

Recently named Realtor and Salesman of the Year by the Birmingham Board of Realtors were Owen E. Hall and D. MacNeill Miller, respectively.

Hall is chairman and Miller is senior associate of Hall and Young, 4114 W. Maple, Bloomfield Township.

Each year the Birmingham board chooses the outstanding realtor and salesman to honor. They are selected on the basis of their participation in board activities, community affairs and by personal evaluation by the selection committee.

Over 250 persons at the Oakland Hills Country Club joined in a tribute to the men when their selection was revealed in a joint meeting of the Birmingham and North Woodward boards of realtors.

Fred E. Sheldon, president of the North Woodward Board of Realtors, introduced the attending mayors and city managers.

Bidet Is Useful

Painting Question Is Answered

Why the advice not to paint the outside of a house while the sun is shining?

The correct advice is not to paint a section of a house while the sun is shining on that particular area.

The reason is that the heat tends to dry the paint too rapidly.

A good practice is to paint an area where the sun already has been.

FLOOR PLANS: Tremendous interior living area on main and upper levels of Design G-90 is further expanded by large outdoor deck space and the extra facilities on the lower level.

Parking Woe Has Solution

Some people have a parking problem right in their own garage.

These are the homeowners who store tires, tools, paints, garden equipment, lawn furniture, bicycles, wagons and sleds in the garage — and find there's no room left for the car.

One answer is to switch to taxis. Another is to convert the garage into a legitimate double-deck carport and storage room.

The trouble with most garage storage is that cartons, bags, by carriages, lawn chairs and kiddie cars are just set on the floor or piled in a corner, creating an obstacle course for the automobile.

Meanwhile, garage walls are bare, unattractive and wasted. The trick is to turn this wasted wall space into a working storage space that will clear the floor, keep the garage uncluttered, and add needed storage space.

NOT EXPENSIVE

An easy and economic way to do this is by installing hard-board garage liner on the walls. These are 1/4 inch thick panels of perforated hardboard that accept hooks, brackets and heavy-duty fittings to hold everything from ladders and rolled-up garden hoses to lawn mowers and wheel barrows.

Although rugged enough for hard use, the panels are light enough to be handled by one man, and can be cut and worked with ordinary wood-working tools.

They come in 4-by-8-foot sheets and larger panels, and can be installed on studs or furring strips with nails, screws or adhesive.

In addition to ready-to-paint natural color boards, the panels are also available prefinished and in planking and wainscot styles that can greatly improve the curb-appeal of your garage.

Once the panels are up, you can organize this sizable new storage area into neat furniture, tool, paint and toy storage centers.

Set heavy-duty brackets in perforations where you plan to hang heavy equipment, smaller hooks in the panels that will hold lightweight tools.

The perforations will also accept brackets for shelves that will handle store paint cans, cartons and odds and ends.

Use of such a storage wall lifts everything off the floor and out of the way, yet keeps all items conveniently visible and right at hand.

For ideas on garage improvement and other home remodeling projects, send ten cents to SR&A, Dept. HP, Box 3498, New York, New York 10017.

A Vacation House Simple to Construct

The two bedrooms on the upper level, both having sloping beamed ceilings, are entered from a balcony which overlooks the living room below.

On this balcony is a linen closet containing a convenient laundry chute. The chute, also accessible from the main level, may, if desired, open directly from the master bedroom.

Another bath, this one with a full tub, is entered from a vestibule off the balcony. A lavatory on main level is accessible from the third bedroom, the living room and the kitchen.

On the lower level is an entry which can be used by family and guests coming directly from the recreation area — beach, lake, ski slope, etc.

The "locker" room, with its dressing areas, toilet and shower, enables them to freshen up and change clothes before entering the main living areas of the house.

There is much storage space for recreation equipment on this level, in addition to an oversized garage which has room for two cars, or a car and a boat, plus a workshop or additional storage area.

For especially narrow lots, the entry to the garage can be located on the long side of the house. A laundry area with washing machine and dryer is near the outlet of the laundry chute.

The architect's careful planning has resulted in a compact home with an unusual design that not only caters to the vacationing family in a variety of locations, it actually invites all-year-round living.

Finely detailed woodwork often makes the difference between a distinguished house and one that's commonplace.

For tips on how to use millwork and moldings decoratively, write for "Woodwork," Dept. 517-P, Western Wood Products Assn., Yeon Bldg., Portland, Ore. 97204.

Cost is 10¢ for the full-color booklet.

Iridescent Look in Carpet Fabric

What glitters underfoot needn't be gold. More likely, it's one of the latest carpet fabrics woven of iridescent fibers to give floor coverings a metallic glow.

New carpet lines also feature bright colors and sculptured patterns.

G-90 STATISTICS

Design G-90 has a living room, dining-family room, kitchen, three bedrooms, 3 1/2 baths, laundry room, "locker" room, two-car garage and outdoor decks. There are 1000 square feet of habitable area on the main level and 700 square feet on the upper level.

There are 490 square feet on the lower level, not including the garage. And there are 530 square feet of outdoor deck space. Over-all dimensions are 39' by 25' 8".

quality & economy with Stran-Steel buildings

You get economy with Stran-Steel buildings because economy is literally designed and built into every steel component. It is the natural result of quality planned, mass production techniques that are not only better, but also economical. The savings are passed along to you.

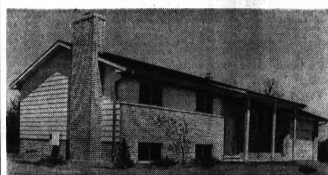

Before you build any building, discover why a Stran-Steel building is a better investment. Find out why Stran-Steel is able to offer written guarantees to back-up the performance of the steel components. Lower heating and cooling bills are the direct result of exclusive insulated wall systems. Faster construction, often 60 to 90 days, will get you in business sooner.

Georgia 'Death House' May Hold Leukemia Answers

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Is leukemia contagious?

A small concrete block home, located near Douglas, Ga., may help find the answer.

Since 1957, the structure has been occupied at different times by three families. Three persons — one from each family — have developed leukemia.

The strange case, termed "the exception rather than the rule" by doctors, is one of three now being studied at the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta.

The others occurred at Prairie Village, Kan., and North Kansas City, Mo.

"We're looking at it from a virus research point of view," said Dr. Clark Heath, chief of the center's leukemia section.

"However, we are not saying it (leukemia) is a virus. There are no laboratory tests to back it up. There are no lab tests to apply."

Heath was asked if the three "death house" cases now under study represent a new discovery in leukemia research.

"So far, we're still chalking up these cases to chance," Heath reported. "However, we are not ruling out anything — including a virus."

In the Georgia case, a 7-year-old boy was the first stricken. In 1958, about 13 months after the family had left the small home near Douglas, he was found to have acute lymphocytic leukemia.

Now a 5-year-old boy, whose family has occupied the house since 1964, has developed the disease.

In 1963, after living in the home for six years, a 36-year-old woman developed the disease. It, too, was diagnosed as acute lymphocytic leukemia.

Now a 5-year-old boy, whose family has occupied the house since 1964, has developed the disease.

Law Units Ready for Holiday Traffic

With a cool spring finally showing signs of warming up, local law enforcement agencies are expecting area residents to turn to the highways in droves over the long Memorial Day weekend.

The National Safety Council has estimated traffic deaths could number as many as 750 during the four-day memorial weekend.

Last year, 542 deaths were reported nationwide over a three-day Memorial Day weekend.

Lt. Clayton A. Randolph, head of the Pontiac police traffic bureau, said the department will maintain routine patrols throughout the period, except during the city's holiday parade Tuesday.

Some 30 men, including regular officers plus reserves and auxiliary officers, will be on duty from the beginning of the parade, 9 a.m. until about 1 p.m.

PRESS OF TRAFFIC

Randolph pointed out that since Telegraph Road and the expressways have relieved much of the press of traffic through Pontiac, holiday drivers have tended to circumvent the city.

Oakland County Sheriff's Department patrols will work at the maximum, with all available cars on the road, according to Undersheriff Don Francis.

He said the number of men on duty will depend on the number of cars in service to accommodate them. The department's patrols will concentrate on highways in general, he said.

Pontiac State Police will conduct normal patrols Saturday, Sunday and Monday. About 25 uniformed men will be on duty each day.

ALL WILL WORK

However, on Memorial Day all uniformed personnel will work except those on vacation, said Staff Sgt. Raymond J. Hoopengartner, post commander.

Thirty-three men will work during the 24-hour period, concentrating primarily on high accident areas, said Hoopengartner.

Roads in 13 northern Oakland County townships are patrolled by troopers of the Pontiac post. Major highways patrolled include I-75, U.S. 10, U.S. 24, M59 and M15.

Hoopengartner anticipates the heaviest traffic will occur from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. each of the four days.

WATERFORD POLICE

Waterford Township police also will step up their traffic enforcement during the four-day holiday period, according to Capt. Frank Randolph.

Township police also will direct traffic for a Memorial Day parade on Dixie Highway.

Sponsored by David Belisle Post 1008 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the parade will proceed along Dixie from Fremont to Williams Lake Road.

The parade will get under way at 10 a.m.

BREAKING TRADITION — The first two women Michigan State Troopers were sworn in yesterday in Lansing. Former State Police Commissioner Don Leonard (left) pins a badge on Kay E. Whitfield, formerly of Sylvan Lake. Current Commissioner Joseph A. Childs puts one on Noreen E. Hillary at right.

Thant Fearful of Mideast War Ex-Area Woman Now State Trooper

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary General U Thant reported to the Security Council today that he feared a clash between Israel and Egypt over Israeli shipping through the Strait of Tiran would "inevitably set off a general conflict" in the Middle East.

He gave that estimate in a six-page report to the 15-nation council. The report followed his talk with President Gamal Abdel Nasser in Cairo early this week.

Thant called for "a breathing spell which will allow tension to subside from its present explosive level." He urged all parties to exercise restraint to let the Security Council deal with the underlying causes of the situation.

The secretary general said that in his talk with Nasser Wednesday night, Nasser repeated the Egyptian position "substantially as set forth" in his Monday night speech, in which Nasser announced a blockade of Israeli shipping through the Strait of Tiran connecting the Red Sea with the Gulf of Aqaba and the Israeli port of Elath.

Thant told the council Israel had declared that it would regard the closing of the strait to Israeli ships as a casus belli, or cause for war.

It took 50 years for the fair sex to infiltrate the ranks of the Michigan State Police.

It finally happened yesterday when two young women, one a former Sylvan Lake resident, graduated from the State Police's recruit training school in East Lansing along with 40 men.

Breaking the barrier were Kay Whitfield, 25-year-old daughter of Mrs. Thomas Whitfield, 1466 Oakwood, Sylvan Lake, and the late Mr. Whitfield and Noreen Hillary, 24, of Grand Rapids.

Like their fellow graduates, Kay and Noreen are now troopers and will serve six-month probationary periods. Their starting salary also will be the same — $6,725.

Misses Whitfield and Hillary will report for their first assignment June 6. They'll both be stationed at State Police headquarters in East Lansing, serving in community relations and juvenile work with the detective division.

PCH GRADUATE

Kay is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School and Michigan State University where she majored in police administration.

Prior to enrolling in the 12 - week

training school, Kay was an officer with the Kalamazoo Police Department. She served there 2½ years and attained the rank of detective.

For Blonde Kay, it was the challenge, opportunity and first-ever element that attracted her to the State Police organization.

Nonetheless, it was a big decision because she enjoyed her work in Kalamazoo.

Kay, a trim 110 pounds at 5-5½, was able to keep up with the boys in almost all aspects of training. The only exception was that she didn't take boxing classes.

Nice Weekend Seen for State

Looks like Michigan residents will have a pleasant weekend.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts partly cloudy, partly sunny, fair and a little cooler for the entire state over the weekend.

TODAY — Partly sunny and warmer in most sections. High 75 to 80, turning cooler this evening. Partly cloudy and cooler tonight. Low 46 to 52.

TOMORROW — Partly cloudy and cool. MONDAY — Partly cloudy and a little warmer.

BACK HOME — Still bearing the scars of a recent operation, Thunder frolics with his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shorter of 280 Bondale. Lost and thought dead by the Shorters, Thunder was discovered in an Ann Arbor hospital research laboratory by an investigator for the Animal Welfare Institute.

City Family Finds Pet Dog at Ann Arbor Research Lab

By DAVID COOK

Thunder nearly split his stitches, but after a three-month absence from home and a bout of major surgery, no one could blame him.

His return was so unexpected, in fact, that his owners — Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shorter of 280 Bondale — were unable to restrain from indulging in a few antics themselves.

"Can you blame us? We thought he was dead," exclaimed Mrs. Shorter, a nurse's aid at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

"Even when the Humane Society called and said they had our dog, I didn't believe them," her husband admitted.

Thunder, 55 pounds of German shepherd-collie, was driven to the Shorter home late yesterday by Mrs. Dorothy Dye, a field investigator for the Animal Welfare Institute.

It was through the efforts of Mrs. Dye that the 3-year-old dog — missing since February — was located in a research laboratory at Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor.

On a routine visit to the lab, one of her activities as an investigator, Mrs. Dye noticed one of the four-legged patients still bearing a license chain — nearly buried under heavy hair, but still there.

She jotted down the number, put in a call to the Oakland County Animal Shelter, and with the assistance of Pontiac's dog-license records, finally succeeded in tracing Thunder to the Shorters.

Thursday night Ms. Shorter received a call from Mrs. Dye and agreed to go to Ann Arbor in order to identify Thunder.

SQUEALING, WHINING

"It was him all right," she said. "He started squealing and whining as soon as he saw me."

Hospital authorities explained the dog had undergone an operation in which one lung was removed and then restored to its original position.

"They told me it was for research purposes," Mrs. Shorter said.

WHY THE OPERATION

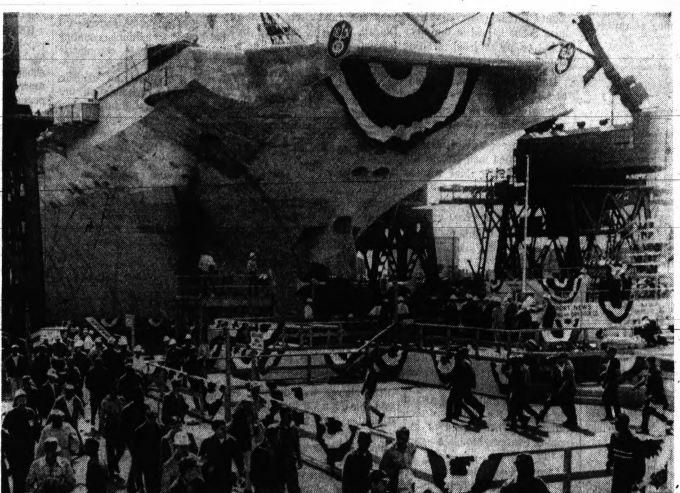

"What I can't understand is how Thunder got there and why he was operated on when he still had identification tags."

"He's strictly a stay-at-home dog — can't imagine him even trying to get out of the back yard."

Mrs. Dye, whose work brings her into contact with both laboratory personnel and humane societies, said she had determined that Veterans Hospital had purchased Thunder from a "reputable" Ann Arbor dog-dealer.

"They assured me the dealer would have nothing to do with a stolen dog or a dog that was cared for and a family pet," she said.

"We are definitely going to press an investigation into this, however."

SHIP AWAITS CHISTENING — Workmen who have been building the USS John F. Kennedy streamer homeward last night after another day's work on the carrier that 3-year-old Caroline Kennedy, daughter of the assassinated president, was to christen today at Newport News, Va., shipbuilding yards. The 61,450-ton ship stretches five city blocks and will be 23 stories high. Due for completion about September 1968, the huge ship will have a crew of 5,222 men, including a naval air wing. Thirty-three members of the Kennedy family were expected to view the christening of the $188.5-million carrier that will honor the memory of the nation's 35th president. Kennedy would have observed his 50th birthday this Monday.

CAT COLLARED — This 5-week-old leopard wears a special plastic collar which keeps him from picking up stray bits of food from the floor, biting his brothers, or getting his head caught in a crevice. The curious-looking leopard is one of the main attractions in the Lincoln Park Zoo in Chicago.

Burial Monday for Ex-Official

Service for former Pontiac City Commissioner Maurice E. Fitzgerald, 78, of 10 Liberty will be 10 a.m. Monday at St. Vincent de Paul Church with burial in Mount Hope Cemetery.

The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Melvin A. Schutt Funeral Home.

Mr. Fitzgerald, an attorney, died Thursday.

He also was a former member of the City Planning Commission and until his death was a member of the planning commission's board of appeals.

Mr. Fitzgerald also was past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus and was a member of the Knights of Equity and the American Association of Retired People, serving as the first president of the local chapter.

Surviving are his wife, Grace P.; three sons, Thomas G. of Decatur, Ill.; and Maurice E. Jr. and John M., both of Pontiac; five daughters: Mrs. Marie Strum of Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. Grace Miller of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Jane Dennis of Uvare, Colo.; and Mrs. Patricia Baker and Mrs. Barbara Hallenbeck, both of Pontiac; two brothers; two sisters; 27 grandchildren; and nine great-grandchildren.

Meeting Early

The Pontiac City Commission will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at its city hall chambers, instead of 8 p.m. Tuesday because of the Memorial Day Holiday.

Top Marine Backs General, M16 Rifle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's top Marine rejects the reports that the corps top brass is unhappy with both a lieutenant general and a rifle.

Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., Marine Corps commandant, described Lt. Gen. Lewis Walt as "my right hand" and "superior in design to any we have ever had."

Both Walt and the M16 have been reported recently as out of favor with the Marine hierarchy.

But Greene told a Pentagon news conference: "Any implication that Gen. Walt has done more than an outstanding job in Vietnam is an injustice to a fine officer." He said reports reflecting on Walt "bothered me considerably."

Cuba Hits U.S. 'Violation'

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The Cuban government charged today that a helicopter from the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo violated Cuban air space and landed on Cuban soil for six minutes Friday.

The Armed Forces Ministry called it an "offensive provocation" that could lead to a "serious incident."

The ministry said the helicopter was of the H34 Seahorse type and went about 200 yards inside Cuban territory. The Seahorse is a general purpose helicopter manufactured by Sikorsky Aircraft, a division of United Aircraft Corp.

A similar incident occurred Nov. 29, 1964, the ministry said. It accused the United States of continuing misdeeds against Cuba.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro put Cuba on military alert in May last year after charging that American sentries at Guantanamo killed a Cuban soldier standing guard outside the base in Cuban territory.

Ex-White Lake Resident Is 1 of 4 Ionia Escapees

A 22-year-old former White Lake Township resident was one of four convicts who escaped yesterday from the Michigan State Reformatory at Ionia.

Dennis G. Hyde, who lived on Hurondale in White Lake Township, was identified as one of the fugitives who disappeared from the institution. All four had trustee status.

Hyde and a Pontiac youth, John Thurman, had received 6½-year prison terms in January 1964 after being convicted of assault with intent to rape a Detroit woman in Springfield Township the preceding July.

Hyde previously had been sentenced to a year in jail for aggravated assault in a fight at a Pontiac drive-in restaurant.

4 State Servicemen Killed in Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of four Michigan men killed in action in Vietnam were released by the Defense Department Friday.

They were: Army Pfc. Randall R. Aylworth, husband of Mrs. Lorna Aylworth of Alto; Army Pfc. Clifford E. Kelsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kelsey, Newaygo; Marine Pfc. Thomas E. Hensertoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold G. Hensertoff, Lapeer; and Marine Pfc. Mark R. Lander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lander, Battle Creek.

Spec. 4 Peter Valencich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Valencich, Manchester, was listed as dead, not as a result of hostile action.

Woman Flees From Attempted Holdup

Hortense Riddick, owner of Rough and Ready, 185 W. South Blvd., told police that two men attempted to rob the store about noon yesterday but that they fled when she ran out the door, the two men fled east.

The pair asked for a bottle of cough syrup and then displayed what looked like a sawed-off shotgun, according to Mrs. Riddick who ran out the door and headed west.

Running right behind her out the door, the two men fled east.

Livonia Man Guilty in Area Market Holdup

A 25-year-old Livonia man was convicted yesterday of armed robbery in the holdup of Farmington market last Nov. 21.

Found guilty in an Oakland County Circuit Court jury trial, Jules Soria is held in the county jail on $50,000 bond awaiting sentencing July 11.

Award to Dingell

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Council of Senior Citizens presented Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., with its 1967 legislative merit award. The citation Friday said the Detroit Democrat has labored zealously for his 12 years in Congress to win a better life for the nation's elderly.

Airport Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $132,250 grant to help finance expansion of the Belleaire, Mich., airport was announced Friday by the Economic Development Administration.

Ex-Area Woman Free in Kidnap Case

FLINT (UPI) — Mrs. Ethel LaFortune, who spirited her two granddaughters to Mexico in defiance of a court ruling awarding them to the custody of their father, has been freed of kidnapping charges through a "gap" in the law.

Circuit Court Judge Stewart A. Newblatt said Thursday he was forced to dismiss the charges against Mrs. LaFortune, a former Lapeer County Democratic chairman, although he said her actions were "despicable" and "repulsive."

"She has shown complete disregard and disrespect for the law and has placed herself above it," Newblatt said.

The charge was dropped, he said, because a Michigan law stipulates that a person given temporary custody of a child cannot be prosecuted for kidnapping if he takes the child away. Newblatt said the stipulation is an unfortunate "gap" in the law.

Mrs. LaFortune, formerly of the Lapeer area but now of Florence, Ariz., told custody of her granddaughters, Dana Crawford, 10, and her sister Shannon, 9, in July 1965 when the girl's mother, Corinne, daughter of Mrs. LaFortune, died.

Corinne had divorced the children's father, Douglas Crawford, who then remarried and now lives in Florence, Ariz.

When Corinne died, a court gave Crawford custody of the children.

But Mrs. LaFortune vanished with the girls. After a long search, Crawford found the woman and her granddaughters in a village near Guadalajara, Mexico.

He took them home with him and Mrs. LaFortune was charged with kidnapping them.

Peace Prayers Urged

DETROIT (AP) — The Metropolitan Council of Churches has urged all churches to make tomorrow a day of prayer for peace in the Middle East. A statement was signed yesterday by Dr. J. Russell Bright, president, and Dr. Merrill Lennox, executive director.

Defector Quizzed on Radar Evasion

DILLINGEN, Germany (UPI) — American officials today questioned a Soviet air force pilot on how he managed to fly his MIG-17 jet fighter more than 100 miles without being detected by radar.

The pilot, Lt. Vasily Ilyich Epakto, 25, landed his plane in a Bavarian meadow Thursday and asked for political asylum. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said yesterday he "has been turned over to American authorities at his own request."

Informed military sources said U.S. "Army Intelligence is in turmoil over the incident."

Epakto landed his plane deep inside NATO's defense system without being picked up by defensive radar screens by flying at low altitudes. The sources also said Epakto's plane was turned over to American authorities.

Birmingham Area News Teachers, Librarian Get Summer Study Awards

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Four teachers and a librarian have been granted awards for summer study by the Parent-Teachers Organization.

The grants are made from funds provided by parents and individuals to provide financial aid for teachers seeking to improve skills.

The five selected and their projects are:

- Pearl S. Jacobsstein, librarian, who will attend a conference in San Francisco.
- Sharon Owen will attend the choral conductors' workshop at Oakland University.
- Sue Comstock will attend Bowling Green University for further study of elementary education.
- Donald Dennis will edit his films on his world tour for use of the district of community.
- Charles Lemke will attend classes on modern math at Rutgers University.

Victor Over Young Hoffa Faces Recount

LANSING (AP) — Soft-voiced Anthony Licata took his seat as Michigan's newest state representative Friday and immediately faced Democratic petitions for a recount of his 188-vote victory.

James P. Hoffa, son of the Teamsters Union President and loser in Tuesday's special 19th House District election, petitioned the House asking for an election in all 49 of the district's precincts.

Watson Has Been Active in the Care of Welfare of Cerebral Palsy Victims. The Association is a United Fund Agency.

Howard Baker of 1545 Derby, Birmingham, was elected executive external vice president of the Michigan Jaycees at their recent annual state convention.

Baker, who is employed by the Automotive Finishes Division of Mobil Chemical Co., Madison Heights, was president of the Royal Oak Jaycees in 1964-65. He was most recently national director for the Oakland County chapters.

Licata, 48, a Republican and an advertising man, said he was confident he would keep his day-old House seat despite the recount.

"I'm not worried about it," he said. "I have confidence the Wayne County Board of Canvassers has done its job correctly. I have been a member of the board of canvassers and I know how these things usually go."

NOT CONCERNED

"They've got to turn up 158 votes," he noted, "and unless there was a major foul-up, I don't think there's much of a chance."

The election results certified by the board showed 5,879 votes for Licata and 5,711 for Hoffa.

Hoffa's petition noted the victory margin was "less than .014 per cent of the total votes cast," but some Lansing observers said it was unlikely a 188-vote error would be found in an election where all voting, except by absentee, was by machine.

Recounts in all 49 precincts would cost the Democrats $245. The money would be returned if the new tally showed Hoffa the winner.

Theaters to Open

AUGUSTA (AP) — The West Michigan Straw Hat summer theater circuit begins June 13 with the Broadway comedy "Barefoot in the Park" at the Barn Theater near Augusta. The West Michigan Tourist Association said about 10 theaters will be in production during the summer and early fall weeks.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

For 46 years Maj. Gen. Thomas F. Foley has spoken at Memorial Day exercises at the Columbus Park Grammar School at Worcester, Mass.

This year Foley, 87, was too ill to make it. So some 600 schoolchildren marched to his home yesterday and held the ceremonies there.

Taps were sounded and Foley's grandson, Mark E. Foley, a 7th grade pupil, presented him with an American flag.

Foley, who led Company B of the 181st Infantry, Yankee Division, overseas in 1917, was attired in an old olive drab Army uniform for the ceremonies.

Actor, Wife Granted Double Divorce

Actor Les Tremayne and his wife, Ruth Ann, were granted double divorce decrees yesterday in Los Angeles Superior Court. Each had charged the other with cruelty.

Mrs. Tremayne was awarded $5,223 and an automobile, but was denied alimony and a share of the actor's $100,000 personal assets.

The couple married in North Hollywood Oct. 18, 1963.

Former Postmaster Says LBJ Will Win

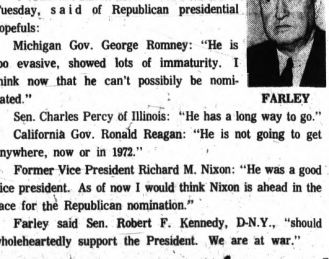

Former Postmaster General James A. Farley held his annual pre-birthday news conference yesterday in New York and predicted that President Johnson will win reelection next year with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Farley, a Democrat who will be 79 next Tuesday, said of Republican presidential hopefuls:

Michigan Gov. George Romney: "He is too evasive, showed lots of immaturity. I think now that he can't possibly be nominated."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon: "He was a good vice president. As of now I would think Nixon is ahead in the race for the Republican nomination."

Farley said Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., "should wholeheartedly support the President. We are at war."

Waterford Boy Struck by Car

A 6-year-old Waterford Township boy was critically injured when struck by a car at about 3:45 p.m. yesterday on Hatchery Road near Marlington in the township.

The victim is Nicholas M. Stuniak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stuniak of 2401 Crane. He is a patient in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Pontiac State Police said Joseph O. Smith, 54, of 2305 W. 13 Mile, Bingham Farms, was the driver of the car.

Smith said he was traveling west on Hatchery when the boy ran out into the street.

The motorist was not held.

Romney Warns Drivers Many Will Make Errors

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney urges all Michigan motorists to drive over the weekend as if they were surrounded by others who will make mistakes.

"There will be some drivers who drink, some who are overly fatigued, some who will have blouts, improper lights or steering problems and there will be some who just make mistakes," Romney said Friday.

"There is no way to tell what driver is going to make a mistake until he makes it."

Romney said Michigan's highway death toll to date still is running 18 per cent behind last year.

But he reminded motorists there were 43 highway fatalities over the 72-hour Memorial Day weekend last year. This will be a 102-hour holiday period.

All State Police patrols will cover the highways over the holiday period. They will concentrate in high accident areas.

Spotter planes also will fly over the busiest highways watching for accidents, stranded motorists and traffic bottlenecks.

The governor again asked all motorists to turn on the headlights of their cars during daylight hours as a reminder to others to drive carefully.

Oakland Youth for Christ Sponsors Annual Banquet

HONOR GRADUATES — In honor of graduating seniors of Oakland County, Youth for Christ is sponsoring the annual Christian Youth Banquet in the Gold Room at Oakland University June 3 from 6:30 to 10 p.m. With the theme "Around the World" Shirley Winne of 6151 Elizabeth Lake (left) and

Peggy Underwood of 6936 Hatchery will use dolls in native costume representing different nations in the decorating of tables. The outstanding Christian senior boy and girl of the year will be chosen.

According to Norman Clothier, executive director of Oakland Youth for Christ, the United States has begun to export a product that it alone among nations seems able to produce in any quantity, a religious faith by, for and to young people.

So popular is the product that Youth for Christ, International, a youth movement that has given to the world an evangelist named Billy Graham, has started a large scale export of something it calls "Teen Teams."

The teams each including six or seven talented and Christian young people are being sent into countries around the globe.

In February, Youth for Christ teams left for Asia and South America. In the fall a team will leave for Mediterranean countries, another will visit South Pacific's Fiji Islands and New Zealand.

One team just back from South America where for 110 days it held 320 meetings, was attended by 76,000 young people. They listed 1,150 converts or decisions for Christ.

Youth for Christ has access to top talent among the nation's Christian teen-agers through its program of high school Bible clubs, regular meetings and talent contests.

The six-member team that last year toured Ireland, the Netherlands, France, Germany, Spain and England, is typical.

Stan Reilly, winner of YFC's sermon contest in 1961, did most of the sermonizing. The group spoke of school life in the United States, gave information on faith among teen-agers and gave the Christian message.

STARTS WITH MUSIC — The program usually started out with secular music, singing, trumpet trio, accordion soloist. Several played the piano. Later hymns and sacred music were presented.

The team was selected from thousands of applicants on the basis of their own talents and faith.

Members of the team were to dress conservatively. There was to be no dating during the nearly six months they were to be overseas—neither between members of the team nor with other young people.

Members were to live in the homes of Europeans, eat everything on their plates no matter how strange or odd tasting.

The team went into churches and high schools to offer programs and stayed to discuss religion.

LOCAL CLUBS — Campus Life Clubs are a division of Youth for Christ in Oakland County. There are 16 clubs which meet in junior and senior high schools in and near Pontiac.

More than 340 young people are currently involved.

Clubs meet before and after school, some in the evening. The purpose is the development of leadership and talent, to promote high moral standards, respect for school authorities and property, Christian growth and wholesome activities.

Club sessions include a study of balanced living. The concept takes in the various aspects of the physical, social, mental and spiritual sides of life.

Other areas of study are "What Is Life," "How Does God Work in My Life." Sessions include study of the Scriptures, Bible study methods, group discussions.

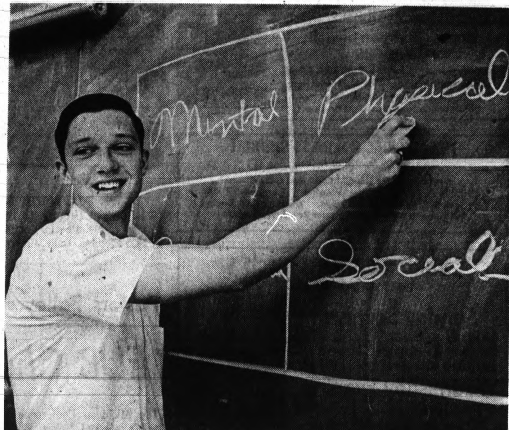

How do the teen-agers feel about the club?

Jim Lacey said "The club is a good place where we can go, and invite friends. There we can discuss and explain what we believe."

And Bonnie Brown chimed in with "The club helps me to grow spiritually," and Chris Brewer says "The club gives us an opportunity to express our views on problems facing everyone today."

Oakland Youth for Christ is directed by staff members, Bill Ballard, Kenneth Hodges and Clothier.

EXPLAINS CLUB PURPOSE — Bill Tip-ton, a track star and member of Youth for Christ Club at Pontiac Central High School, discusses the purpose and program of Central's club with the more than 30 members. Sessions are held each Wednesday at 8 a.m. in the school.

Show Film on Education in the Home

"Parent to Child About Sex," the new movie on education in the home, will be shown to parents in the Birmingham-Bloomfield Township area in June 5.

The presentation at 8 p.m. in the parish of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 5500 N. Adams, will be made by a panel of local professionals who will discuss the film and answer questions.

The film is not a sex instruction film on the physiology of reproduction. It is concerned with when and how facts are taught and the way they are taught.

Dr. Frederick J. Margolis, Kalamazoo pediatrician, has produced the 31-minute movie in cooperation with Dr. Stuart Finch, chief of Children's Psychiatric Hospital, University of Michigan; and Dr. Tommy N. Evans, chairman of obstetrics and gynecology at Wayne State University, College of Medicine.

Dr. Mary S. Calderone, executive director of Sex Information and Education Council of the United States, has prepared an epilogue.

All four doctors appear in the film with actual mothers, fathers and children, since no professional actors are used.

"Having spent many years making medical films," Dr. Margolis explains, "I concluded that this very personal subject could be explored comfortably by groups of parents if it were on film, using the same pattern one would use in speaking directly to a parent — professional guidance plus example."

Enthusiastic expressions have come from consultants and participants who are involved with the project.

Dr. Kenneth B. Rogers, University of Pittsburgh, says "for years we in public health have been waiting for a film like this."

Rabbi Mordecai L. Brill, Synagogue Council of America, writes "It puts the right words into parents' mouths and, above all, it gives parents the feeling that their job is not difficult."

The Rev. Charles Sheedy endorses the film from the University of Notre Dame.

The film was released through the Wayne State University Audio-Visual Utilization Center. No charges and no donations will be collected and all parents of the community are invited.

New Temple Adults, Youth Hear Chafets

William Chafets of Bloomfield Hills, a student at the University of Michigan and president of the National Federation of Temple Youth, will address the congregation of The New Temple Friday evening.

Worship services are currently being held in the Unitarian Church, Woodward at Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills.

His subject is "The State of European Jewish Youth."

A native of Pontiac, Bill is preparing himself for entrance into the Hebrew Union College. A past president of Temple Beth Jacob youth group, he also served as president of Michigan State Temple Youth.

He will speak of his impressions when he represented young people at Amsterdam last summer at the International Conference of the World Federation of Progressive Jewish Youth.

Members of the New Temple youth group will participate in the service.

The congregation will celebrate its first anniversary with a dinner at Pine Knob Resort on June 3.

Friends of the temple may join in the celebration by calling the temple office. Gerald Marks, composer and raconteur, will entertain.
