Butcher Silent About Kierdorf's Hiding Place

What Do YOU Do in Hot Weather?

NOT AN ICEBERG IN SIGHT — If you think the days are hot, consider the poor fellow who wears his furs all summer. This fellow in a Rome Zoo apparently came out looking for a cool breeze, or perhaps recalling the refreshing icebergs which he left behind. But he found only a hot, scorching sun.

EAR-WASHING — Well, the ends of the melon section do not quite reach the ears this time but it's a sure bet that a goodly portion of the lad's face will be well massaged with the sticky juice. A good beauty treatment, perhaps.

5 Die as Trains Collide Head-On in New York

25 Injured as 'Missed Signal' Causes Crash in Rockland County

STERLINGTON, N.Y. (AP) —Five persons were killed and at least 25 injured today when two Erie Railroad passenger trains crashed head-on as the result of a missed signal.

Two of the victims were passengers, a man and woman. Their bodies were cut from the wreckage of the first car on a four-coach commuter train bound from Monroe, N.Y., to Hoboken, N.J.

They were identified as Robert Youchman of Warwick, N.Y.; and Pauline Cronon, of Tuxedo, N.Y.

The other victims were Sam Nardo, engineer; Charles G. Mitchell, a brakeman; and Martin J. Walsh, a fireman.

The two diesel locomotives telescoped but neither the locomotives nor the cars were derailed.

ONLY FEW PASSENGERS

The second train comprised three baggage and three passenger cars in which only a few persons were riding. There were about 30 riders on the commuter train.

(Picture on Page 2)

The wreck occurred on the Erie main line in a rural section of Rockland County, about 35 miles northwest of New York City, shortly before 7 a.m.

One of the first rescue squads to reach the scene was the Hillburn Fire Department.

One of its members, Robert Lillibridde, said: "People were staggering around, moaning and groaning. Lots of them looked dazed. A number were stretcher cases."

A relay of ambulances and emergency vehicles rushed the in-

COSTLY BREAK — W. F. Stanton, a vice president of the famed Tiffany jewelry store on Fifth Avenue in New York, removes two brooches, each worth $9,000 from display behind shattered shatterproof window Sunday. Burglars, in the quiet of Sunday's Fifth Avenue dawn, sledge-hammered two display windows and made off with jems valued at $171,500.

He May Know Whereabouts of Uncle Herman

Ziem Will Ask Detroiter to Take Lie Test as 'Torch' Probe Continues

By PETE LOCHBILER

Myron D. Weiss, a Detroit butcher, may know the hiding place of Herman Kierdorf, 67-year-old uncle of Teamster leader Frank Kierdorf, fatally burned in the bungled arson of a Flint dry cleaning pickup station.

But Weiss, 54, of 4038 Duane St., isn't talking, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said today.

After questioning the Detroit man for several hours this morning, Ziem reported that "we got almost nothing out of him."

Ziem said that he would ask Weiss to take a lie-detector test. Weiss held the spotlight today after the prosecutor returned from Flint, where he has been aiding Atty. Gen. Paul Adams in the investigation there.

Uncle Herman, a former business agent for Teamster Joint Council 42 in Detroit, is the object of a nationwide search. He is sought technically on a charge of possessing a silencer on a pistol, but Adams said he is also suspected of helping his nephew in the arson.

Ziem said today that it is not possible to obtain a federal fugitive warrant against Herman — and thus bring the Federal Bureau of Investigation officially into the case — because the technical charge against him is not serious enough.

NOTHING FOR BASIS

"As of now, there is nothing on which to base the more serious charge of arson against Herman," Ziem said.

★ ★ ★

Herman Kierdorf, an ex-convict like his nephew Frank, dropped out of sight Monday after coaxing Frank to tell authorities what is now believed to be a phony story about how he received his fatal burns.

LAST TO SEE HERMAN

Weiss, a meat dealer and stockholder in the National Meat and food Foundation Inc., of Detroit, is the last known person to have seen Herman.

They Dunk in State's Cold Seas

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

SAULT STE. MARIE — Long before it was recognized that purple people could be eaten, the state of Michigan realized that purple people could be psychoanalyzed.

This was owing to the fact that the waters here are so frigid that almost everybody is purple from time to time — except, of course, immediately after lunch, when to plunge in a lake is as sure death as to plunge in a knife.

The purple people psychologist in these parts is known informally as "Frozen Fanny Jones," because of her unorthodox manner of entering the water: in upside-down jackknife style. She always said that whales didn't mind the cold because of excess fat, and she knew which part of her could best afford the first shock.

"FF" claims to have spent a lifetime studying the habits of visiting tourists who come to the northern lakes for vacations, and has a file of more than 200 procedures for immersing oneself in an uncomfortably cold swimming hole.

"Don't rightly know why they do it at all," Fanny says, chuckling raucously, "all the hollerin' it causes. But I guess it's a question of once you got a foot in, you can't tell the kids you're scared."

(One of her pet theories is that the only reason men swim in cold water after the age of 40 is to defend their honor or save a drowning blonde.)

FIVE TOP TYPES

There is scarcely space here to list some 195 of the "procedures of potential purple people," but Fanny describes the five top types:

1 — "The Toe-Firsters." These include most men of middle age, and all women with unnaturally wavy hair. It begins with a gingerly wading-in process. When the ice waterline is at mid-calf, the Toe-Firster embraces himself with both arms, remarks "Brrrrr," and continues slowly onward, looking back toward shore at frequent intervals to receive the assurance of the

Adams' Pentagon Influence 'Not Proven,' Say Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House military investigators reported last night their investigation failed to turn up evidence that Sherman Adams tried to influence a Pentagon board in any Army textile contract case.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La) of the subcommittee which investigated the case described the group's report as a "Scotch verdict."

This refers to a verdict, possible under Scotch criminal law, of "not proven," instead of "not guilty." It also is defined as "an inconclusive decision or ambiguous pronouncement."

Hebert told reporters there was "no doubt" that Adams, by forwarding inquiries to the Defense Department, succeeded in prodding the board to reach an early decision.

But Hebert and nine other subcommittee members concluded that "there was no evidence presented to the subcommittee which indicated an intent by Mr. Adams or any member of Congress to influence the board."

Republicans hailed the report as vindication of Adams, who has been involved in two congressional investigations of reports that his prestige was used to get favored treatment for others.

Adams has denied bringing any improper pressure to bear, either in this case or another involving textile manufacturer Bernard Goldfine.

This case involves a World War II contract to Raylaine Worsteds,

Thieves Get $171,500 in Tiffany Job

NEW YORK (UPI) — A team of daredevil thieves smashed open two display windows at swank Tiffany's on Fifth Avenue and lifted out jewels valued at $171,500 yesterday in one of the city's most brazen daylight burglaries.

Coupling deftness with precision timing, the thieves capitalized on the patrolman's absence to sledgehammer open holes in the shatterproof windows and then extract four display items.

Stolen were two platinum and diamond necklaces, each valued at $68,750; a sapphire and diamond pin worth $18,000, and a diamond and platinum ring valued at $16,000. Ignored by the thieves were two pins, set with diamonds and sapphires, valued at $8,000 each.

Amazingly, there were no known witnesses to the theft from the jewelry store, situated at the southeast corner of Fifth Avenue and 57th Street in the heart of Manhattan's most fashionable shopping area.

Nor was either of two watchmen inside the 121-year-old shop which caters to some of the world's wealthiest women aware of the fantastic burglary coup.

The thieves—police believe there were at least three, and possibly four — struck between 5:45 a.m., when the policeman who normally patrols the area was removed, and 6:15 a.m., when a second officer discovered the two holes in the windows on the Fifth Avenue side of the store.

Although Tiffany's is equipped with an elaborate alarm system, the windows are not protected, since they were considered impenetrable. A metal paneling around the windows, which is included in the system, was not disturbed.

Heavy oak paneling and draperies back of the windows were believed sufficient to muffle any sound that the pounding of the sledgehammers might have made.

This is believed to account for the fact that the two guards inside the building said they heard no noise.

Alert Special Lake Deputy Saves Life of Woman, 21

One of Oakland County's special lake deputies reached a drowning woman just in time to save her life Sunday afternoon on Lakeville Lake in Addison Township.

Melvin Pierce, of 376 Rochester Rd., Oakland Township, grabbed the arm of Anita Simon, 21, of 13890 Maine St., Detroit as she sank beneath the surface, he reported.

The near drowning took place near the middle of the south channel of the lake. Pierce said she was wearing street clothes and reportedly had taken a dare that she couldn't swim across the channel.

PIERCE

"The woman was wearing slacks and a sweater of some knitted material," he said. "She entered the water at Bill's Park and made it across the channel to a dock."

"On her way back the material in her clothing began to shrink and she had trouble moving her arms or legs," he explained.

Pierce was standing on the shore at the park when he heard her scream and saw her splashing wildly in the water.

He jumped into his patrol boat and reached the floundering woman "just as she went under for the fourth time," he said.

These Fish Got Away!

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A thief who stole six sample cases containing 250 assorted shoes all for the left foot may still make out okay if he follows the tip of the man who lost them. Shoe salesman Leon Cunningham of Woodlan Hills, Calif., told police that somewhere in the United States is another salesman for his shoe company with the 250 right-footed mates.

Ford, GM Try Again on Contract Talks

DETROIT (UPI)—Negotiators at Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. today began "last chance" talks with the United Auto Workers Union in an effort to reach a contract agreement without a strike.

Chrysler Corp. will resume similar talks with the Union tomorrow. Chrysler talks were recessed today to allow the Union negotiating committee to caucus, a usual Monday practice at Chrysler.

The talks were recessed over the weekend to give the union's executive board time to decide whether to authorize strike action against the companies.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the board, top governing body of the Union, voted to defer action on requests by the Union's Chrysler, Ford and General Motors national councils for a strike action because the "time is not ripe."

★ ★ ★

"We decided to give the companies one more chance to bargain in good faith before calling a strike," Reuther said. "The time is not ripe now because the industry is not committed to its 1959 models.

Committee Asks Regulations for Gift Collecting

House Group Hints Misuse of Donations to Veterans

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee wants laws to protect the public from what it termed unscrupulous professional fund raisers who have collected donations in the name of some veterans groups.

In a report charging that the public has been fleeced in some fund drives, the House Veterans Committee said:

"It is doubtful that the American public would be as liberal in support of some fund-raising programs of veterans' organizations if they knew that such a small percentage of the contributions were used for charitable purposes."

1. Require that at least 50 per cent of gross income from unordered merchandise sent through the mails be spent for the veterans in whose names it is solicited.

2. Prohibit those who use the mails for charity drives from selling mailing lists of people who contributed.

3. Require fuller disclosure of organizations chartered by Congress or organizations mailing unordered items such as ball point pens with the aim of collecting money in the name of veterans.

The committee report summed up findings of hearings last spring on eight veterans' organizations—four of them chartered by Congress and four not chartered.

Of these, the committee particularly criticized two—the Disabled American Veterans, a chartered group, and the now defunct National Assn. of Veterans Employment Councils, which was unchartered.

The report said the DAV, which gets most of its money from selling car key identification tags, spent $312,000 of its funds collected for veterans on a speculative television program that flopped.

And the report said the DAV spent more than $50,000 from 1950 to 1957 for gifts, most of which it said were bought by DAV National Adjutant Vivian D. Corbly from a supply company in which he owned stock.

This, the committee said, "appears to be a clear conflict of interest."

There were reports an attempt will be made to unseat Corbly at the DAV national convention opening today in Louisville, Ky.

William N. Morton of Cincinnati, who said he spoke for Cincinnati's convention delegation, said his group will spearhead the ouster move.

Morton said the DAV "is being wrongfully harmed and misjudged by the controlled acts of the national adjutant."

Of NAVEC, the committee report said the group's executive director, Harold A. Keats, rented buildings he owned to the organization; that he got money through expenses and per diem payments; and that other NAVEC board members "also enjoyed extremely liberal expense accounts."

Of the other chartered groups, the committee said:

The American Veterans of World War II has insufficient national control over fund raising by state departments, but that the fund raising was deemed limited.

Of the other nonchartered groups, the committee said the Blinded Veterans Assn. and the Jewish War Veterans were not seeking donations publicly now. The committee told the Military Order of the Purple Heart to supervise its direct mail fund-raising campaign more closely.

Ike Is Blamed by Khrushchev

Writes Macmillan That Summit Meeting Plan Was No Good

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nikita S. Khrushchev today accused President Eisenhower of blocking an immediate summit conference. The Soviet Premier said he still wants a summit meeting and that h hopes the United Nations General Assembly will "clear the path" for one.

★ ★ ★

In a letter to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan delivered last night and made public today, Khrushchev again charged that the United States wanted only to "justify the aggressive action of the U.S and Great Britain in the Middle East" in putting troops in Lebanon and Jordan.

The conditions laid down by Eisenhower on July 25 for a summit meeting were impractical, Khrushchev said.

But he added that Russia remains "profoundly convinced" that a "meeting of the heads of government . . . might lead to the most speedy and effective settlement."

Eisenhower had proposed a summit parley in the U.N. Security Council in which Security Council rules would apply.

President Eisenhower was expected to meet with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles sometime today in Washington to work on proposals to be presented to the United Nations meeting on the Mideast crisis.

Dulles was not on the advance list of presidential appointments. But it was known that the secretary and his chief still had to get the American proposals in final form before Dulles' expected departure for New York City Tuesday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

There was no immediate White House confirmation of reports Eisenhower himself might make the trip to present at least the opening U.S. statement at the General Assembly's emergency session.

The Day in Birmingham

New Streamlined Tickets to Greet Parking Violators

BIRMINGHAM — Parking violators in Birmingham soon will be greeted by a brand new, streamlined ticket, Chief of Police Ralph W. Moxley said today.

The new tickets are designed to save hundreds of hours in the Violations Bureau and to make fine paying convenient for motorists.

They will list the types violations, the fines and penalties for each. Instead of 72 hours, motorists now will have five days in which to pay the fine without penalty, or to request a court date.

The Bureau no longer will have to look up the name and address of the vehicle owner for tickets paid wthin five days, Moxley said. In the past, tte name and owner of each violator had to be on the ticket.

A detachable stub, which will serve as a receipt on payment, further will reduce clerical work.

Approval for the new ticket was given last week by the City Commission. Printers now are making up the new tickets, Moxley said.

They probably will be decorating windshields within the next two weeks.

Birmingham city commissioners have scheduled a public hearing tonight on a special assessment district for paving Graefield road south to the Graefield subdivision line.

A hearing on the necessity of the Brookside alley paving also has been placed on the agenda.

In other business, the commissioners will discuss a petition from 56 residents of the area requesting a sidealk on the east side of Henrietta street between Brown and Townsend streets. This one-block area had not been included in the 1958 sidewalk paving program.

Wednesday is the deadline for making reservations for the Huron River canoe trip Aug. 17, being sponsored by the Birmingham YMCA Young Adults group.

They may be made at the "Y" office, according to Marion Cannon, secretary of the group.

Mrs. William Van Every

Service for Mrs. William (Adelaide) Van Every, 76, of 3803 Dorothy Lane, Waterford, a former Birmingham resident, will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home with burial in Roseland Park Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Van Every died Saturday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Surviving are her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Richard Hart of Waterford and Mrs. William Stapp of Clairmont, Calif., and a son, William R. of St. Petersburg, Fla. Two sisters, Mrs. Edwin Colby of Birmingham and Mrs. S. L. McCall of Milford; two brothers, James B. and Russell H. Fisher, both Birmingham; and six grandchildren also survive.

2 — "The Stoop-Squat-Squinters." Following the Toe-Firsters preliminary technique, the SSS wade forth until waves reach the waist. Then they stoop down and splash water on arms and chests. Then they squint, holler "here goes nothing," and squat suddenly in a remarkable show of bravado. Fanny says such people didn't really come out to swim; they just don't like to take baths.

3 — "The Tippy-Toe Ladder Dunkers." These are women of small courage, and men when no one is watching. They descend, derriere to the horizon, from ladders attached to docks, shivering conspicuously with each new rung that is achieved. Their favorite remark to people: It's not bad at all when you get used to it. Fanny's analysis: They suffer quietly. They're masochists of the first water.

4 — "The Daring-Doers." Always men, they race out of cottage or bath house and splash in head first, swallowing considerable amounts of lake on the final word of their war cry, which is "Last one in's a (glub)." They should get a hit in the head, says Fanny. And sometimes they do, too.

5 — "The Nose-Holding Belly Flopper." This is a breed that usually comes male and in small sizes. It is reckless, daring and brash. It never seems to notice the cold, but the people in the vicinity of its belly-making contact with the water do. Frozen Fanny says this type might well be abolished from the earth, and added that all in all she is glad to hear that such a thing as purple people eaters has been discovered.

Jam Southfield Road Hearing

Hear Plan for Extending Northwestern Highway in Oakland County

Interested citizens packed the Southfield High School gymnasium this afternoon to hear State Highway Department officials outline plans for the improvement of Northwestern Highway in Oakland County.

John C. Mackie, highway commissioner, called the public hearing last month in order to explain how Northwestern would be widened and extended from Eight Mile road up to M59 (Highland road) in Highland Township.

A large part of today's crowd consisted of members of a protest group that insists that Mackie carry out his predecessor's original plans to extend the highway all the way through to the Livingston County line.

The hearing today was on the $37,600,000 project for the 24 miles of improvement from Eight Mile road to M59.

However, Mackie pointed out earlier that conversion of Northwestern from Eight Mile road to an interchange with Telegraph road will get underway next year, while the further extension through to M59 "will be programmed sometime in the future."

The hearing is required by the Bureau of Public Roads on all highway construction bypassing or going through communities when federal aid funds are to be used in construction.

Also attending today's hearing were memberes of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' Roads and Bridges Committee.

Butcher Silent About Herman

Weiss has been held in protective custody along with Donald Keller, 34, of Detroit, who also was with Herman Monday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The meat company is located near another car lot where Herman attempted to sell the car. Herman's son, Jack, of Clawson, is associated with the company.

Both Adams and high State Police officials issued statements today denying that a rift has developed in the investigation of the bungled arson of a Flint dry cleaning shop, where Frank accidentally received his fatal burns.

It has been reported that some State Police officials had asked Adams to step out of the case, which he entered last Wednesday, two days after Kierdorf, 56-year-old business agent for Flint Teamsters Local 332, staggered into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with burns over 85 per cent of his body.

One official (unidentified) was quoted as saying that Adams' direction of the case has "created friction and hampered other investigators." He was further quoted as saying Adams had entered the case because this is an election year.

"Utterly ridiculous," was Adams' reaction as he indicated his intention to stay in the case today.

Adams denied charges of "politics," saying that Gov. Williams ordered him into the case and consequently he has had to cancel political appearances.

"I am in this case solely for the purpose of bringing about a speedy solution of the crime and conviction of the person or persons who committed it. At this stage of the proceedings, I am here for the purpose of coordinating the work of the prosecuting attorneys."

★ ★ ★

Adams issued his statement from his Lansing office where he has gone, he said, to study transcripts of testimony taken during the first week of investigation.

In Flint, a high State Police source said of the reported criticism:

"We don't know a thing about it. We are checking to find out where the statement came from, since it certainly was not authorized by State Police headquarters. State Police don't have the authority to tell the attorney general what to do."

Ziem supported the attorney general. "Paul Adams has given no indication that politics is involved at all," he said.

As far as I'm concerned, we've cooperated 100 per cent with Adams and Adams has cooperated 100 per cent with us."

Ziem said today that Keller was released from protective custody after a lie detector test indicated he knew nothing more about Herman's whereabouts. He said that Keller, a helper at the Detroit meat market, did not ask for police protection after his release.

Weiss's stationwagon was examined in Detroit, according to State Police Lt. Howard Whaley. It revealed no clues, he said, and has not been taken into custody.

Investigators in Flint have turned up what they say is a new clue. It is a notebook belonging to Frank Kierdorf, containing a list of names, most of them Flint residents.

Although police would not disclose the identities of the men listed in the book, a number of them are being questioned today, they said. The questioning is reported aimed at discovering the hiding place of Herman Kierdorf.

Held in Flint is Jack Thompson, 41, also a business agent for local 332, who is suspected to be Herman's and Frank's accomplice in the arson attack on the cleaners.

Up to the time of his death Thursday, Frank Kierdorf maintained that he had been turned into a "human torch" by two gunmen, who took him for a ride from his Flint home, doused him with inflamable liquid, and ignited it.

Officials now believe that Kierdorf, burned when he bungled the arson job, was taken to Pontiac by his two confederates to throw authorities off their trail.

The State Police Crime Laboratory was continuing a series of tests on clues believed to substantiate this theory. Being tested were a flashlight, a five-gallon Army gasoline can and a pair of glasses, all found at the scene of the $14,000 cleaners fire.

Frank Kierdorf wore glasses, but none were in his possesison when he stumbled into the hospital.

BURIED SATURDAY

The torch victim was buried Saturday in Flint, with the arrangements for his funeral being made by Thompson, described as a close friend of the victim.

About 40 to 45 friends and curiosity seekers showed up amid the heavy floral displays.

Looking for a motive in the arson, Adams has said it is not known whether the torch victim was extorting money from Flint cleaners against a promise the Teamsters would not organize their shops, or whether he was working for a cleaners' owner who wanted to reduce competition.

CLEARED IN LIE TEST

Late yesterday, a lie test and "other evidence" cleared Herb Harrison, owner of a cleaning shop across the street from the Flint arson site, of any apparent connection with the fire, Adams said.

Officials are still wondering if there is a connection between the Flint blaze and about a dozen explosions and fires at Detroit-area auto wash and cleaning firms this year.

In efforts to tie the arson assault to Teamsters Union activities, more than a dozen Teamster officials, mostly from Oakland County, have been questioned.

So far, authorities have given no indication that the questioning has produced any suspicion of an Oakland County tie-up in the case.

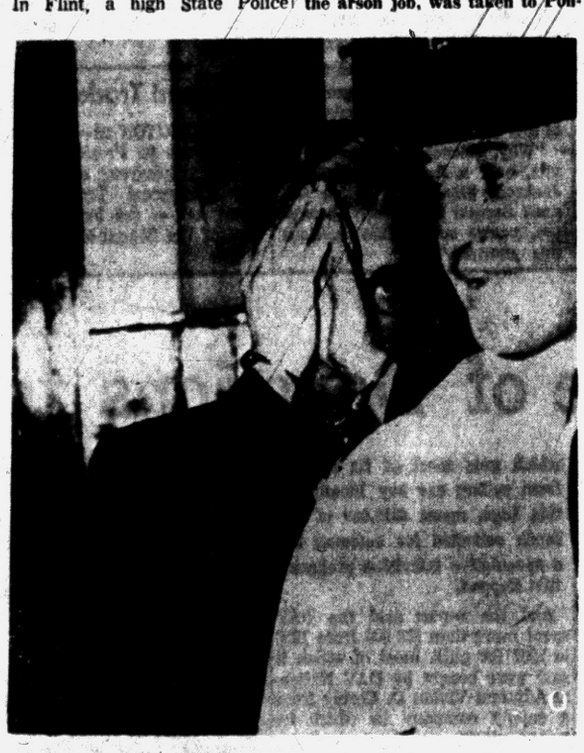

Meantime, authorities as far away as Hollywood, Fla., were checking on a possible connection between Frank Kierdorf and another bombing.

The operator of a Hollywood laundry and dry cleaning plant reported that it had been bombed three times, twice in March and again on July 28.

On the night of the second bombing, it was reported that a light-colored Cadillac circled the plant several times and a man of Kierdorf's general description was seen on foot in front of the building.

Only three weeks before his death, Kierdorf had purchased a home in Hollywood and a light-colored Cadillac with Michigan license plates was reported seen parkd in his driveway. Kierdorf had reportedly been vacationing in Hollywood until July 16, when he returned to Michigan.

The laundry owner Saturday asked the FBI to join in the investigation.

BEING QUESTIONED — Detroit meat dealer Myron D. Weiss attempts to cover his face as he was lead from the Oakland County Jail today to face questioning at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office in the death of burned Teamster Frank Kierdorf of Flint. Weiss drove Frank Kierdorf's uncle, Herman, from the used car lot where Herman sold his Cadillac and then disappeared.

Inc., to supply $653,500 worth of olive drab cloth to the Army.

The Manchester, N. H., firm was fined $49,753 by the army in 1941 for failing to make deliveries on time. The firm unsuccessfully sought a $25,462 refund which was turned down by the Army and the comptroller general.

Last year, however, the comptroller general reversed his decision, paving the way for the armed Forces Board of Contract Appeals to hear the case. Raylaine boosted its claim to $41,384. It was granted $40,382 last Nov. 27.

Hebert told reporters it was "unfortunate" Adams didn't testify because only he could "clear up the matter of whether it (the case) was handled routinely." Adams said it was.

The crux of the dispute was a two-sentence memo written April 2, 1957, by board member Roswell M. Austin when Raylaine was seeking another hearing.

"Because of intervention of Mr. Adams from the White House, and some congressman, I understand that sentiment is growing to grant another oral hearing," Austin wrote.

Wonderland Shop Adds Partner, Store

Fred J. Niedelson, owner of Wonderland Shop, a children's clothing store at 39 S. Telegraph Rd., in the Tel-Huron Shopping Center, has announced a new partner in the Wonderland firm, and expansion plans for an additional store in Birmingham.

Irving J. Gordon, of 37 Bloomfield Terrace, who was manager of children's wear department in a local store for the past five years, is the new vice president.

Gordon will manage the new Birmingham store at 175 W. Maple St., which is scheduled to open Friday. Niedelson, firm president, will continue to manage the Tel-Huron store, which is in its fourth year.

Hot and Humid Sticky Outlook for Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More hot and humid weather was the sticky outlook for broad areas of the country today. No general relief was indicated immediately.

★ ★ ★

A few areas got some relief during the night after yesterday's steamy weather. Showers also brought temporary relief to some sections.

Moist air from the Gulf of Mexico covered nearly all areas east of the Rockies.

Showers which fell across wide areas yesterday afternoon and evening ended in most places during the early morning. However, a belt of showers and thunderstorms extended from southern Lake Michigan eastward across southern Lower Michigan and northern Indiana into northern Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

Leonard Train Crash Kills Ypsilanti Man of a Detroiter, John Armstrong, 29, of 17500 Santa Rosa St., according to Bloomfield Township Police.

★ ★ ★

Armstrong died Sunday morning at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital, Detroit, after being transferred there from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He was one of the drivers.

The other driver, Gerald Ford, 33, of 28930 Somerset St., Inkster, and a companion, Marjorie Ballenger, 21, of 14159 Foch St., Livonia, were admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

She is reported in poor condition and Ford's condition is listed as fair today.

Also treated for minor injuries and released was Nancy Henk, 24, of 16204 Dexter Ave., Detroit.

Police said Armstrong was stopped waiting to make a left turn when the Ford auto smashed into him from the rear. Ford's car skidded some 180 feet before the impact, police reported.

Townsend Tells Romance Story; Margaret Hurt

LONDON (UPI) — A London newspaper said today group Captain Peter Townsend has lost the friendship of Princess Margaret because he helped prepare a forthcoming book about their former romance.

"The People" said Townsend met Princess Margaret at Clarence House 10 weeks ago and showed her extracts from the book in order to reassure her that it was "in the best possible taste."

The Princess was not reassured, the paper said, and demanded that the book be withdrawn from publication. When this was not done, Margaret decided to break off the friendship that replaced their headline romance of several years ago, "The People" reported.

★ ★ ★

The paper said the book, entitled "The Story of Peter Townsend," will give an inside account of that romance, including details of intimate conversations between the Princess and the suitor she renounced.

★ ★ ★

The report said the book was written by journalist Norman Barrymaine, a friend of Townsend's, and that Townsend himself read and corrected the manuscript.

5 Killed, 25 Injured as Trains Collide

Robert Higgins, one of the less seriously injured, was at work sorting mail on one train.

"The only warning I got was when the emergency brake went on," he said.

"I heard the hissing of air. The next thing there was this crash and I was on the floor.

"I managed to walk out. Others with me had to be carried out."

The wreck, according to a spokesman at Erie railroad headquarters in Hoboken, resulted because a freight train was standing on one of the two tracks near the Sterlington freight station.

The combination baggage-passenger train, No. 53, bound from Hoboken to Port Jervis, N. Y., was routed onto the other track, and instructions were sent to hold the commuter train, No. 50, traveling in the opposite direction, at Suffern.

The order apparently did not arrive in time.

Man Displays His Pistol, Shoots Self by Accident

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Philip L. Hartmeyer, 26, Kent Village, Md., was practicing whipping his .22-caliber pistol from a new holster when he shot himself in the right thigh. Here visiting a friend, he was taken to Community Hospital and reported in fair condition.

He told his friend he had a similar accident recently while practicing the fast draw back in Maryland. That time he shot himself in the foot.

Black Plastic Mulch Tested for Berries

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—A small-fruit specialist at the University of Wisconsin reports that "black plastic" used as mulch in strawberry patches will not stand up in severe weather.

George Klingbell said the plastic sheets must be well anchored against the wind. The sheets are cut so that the plants can be pulled through and cover the ground, smothering weeds and helping to hold moisture.

He said that most growers prefer establishing runner plants in a strawberry bed instead of the plastic.

Battle in Sight on Foreign Aid

Humphrey Would Hike Economic Loans, Cut in Half by House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) today urged increased economic development loans to meet the challenge of the Soviet economic offensive.

He said the Soviet aid and trade program "has reached significant proportions in carefully selected strategic areas" and increased the urgency of this country's efforts to help underdeveloped nations.

"Either we pitch in to meet the needs of the uncommitted nations," he said, "or we must reconcile ourselves to the continued growth of Soviet influence in these countries."

In anticipation of Senate action on the foreign aid appropriation bill later this week, Humphrey advocated in a prepared Senate speech the full 625 million dollars authorized for the development loan fund.

The bill, as it passed the House, carried only 300 million for the fund. The Senate Appropriations Committee has recommended that this be boosted to 580 million.

This was only one of a number of increases the Senate committee made in restoring 440 million dollars of the 597½ million cut by the House from new foreign aid funds.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) said that when the $3,518,092,500 money bill is brought up for Senate action, he will renew a fight to cut it. He lost such a fight in the Appropriations Committee.

However, Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt), a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he expects the bill to be approved by the Senate "about the way it came from the Appropriations Committee."

New Syrian Killings May Bring Reprisals

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A spokesman for the pro-government PPS (popular Syrian party) said today the murder of three of the party's top members "opens a new era of assassination" in Lebanon.

The assassination of the three men was expected to bring bloody reprisals from other pro-government groups against the rebel forces who have opposed President Camille Chamoun.

The bodies of the three men, including PPS leader Achmed Hammound, were found in rebel territory near Yanta on the Lebanese-Syrian border. They had been shot and their throats cut.

Seven other PPS men have been reported found killed in the vicinity of Baalbek during the past five days. It was in this area the right-wing party battled the rebels during recent fighting.

Suggests Ike Send Envoy to Mideast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Theodore F. Green (D-RI) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has urged President Eisenhower to send a special peace ambassador to the Middle East to ease war-threatening tensions.

Green suggested Adlai E. Stevenson, twice Democratic nominee for president, or former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as possible choices for the appointment.

Both Green and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), a member of his committee, called on Eisenhower to attend personally the forthcoming meeting of the U.N. General Assembly on the current Mideast crisis.

Texas refineries in 1956 manufactured approximately 36 per cent of the nation's kerosene supply.

St. Joseph Chemist Awarded for Suggestion

Argyll C. Allen, clinical laboratory chemist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, has been awarded an honorable mention award for his entry in the Michigan Hospital Assn. contest to find time and money-saving innovatios i state hospitals.

Allen, of 737 Squirrel Rd., Auburn Heights, suggested the use of paper drinking cups instead of glass containers for certain analyses in hospital laboratories. This use would cut down on sterilization costs, Allen suggested.

Brands Nasser Kremlin Agent

Jordan's King Hussein Tells Countrymen He's 'Unshaken by Times'

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — King Hussein of Jordan has denounced Gamal Abdel Nasser as a Kremlin agent who allegedly ignited the Lebanese rebellion and is conspiring against Hussein's regime.

The young monarch made the charges in a radio address to his countrymen on the sixth anniversary of his accession to the throne.

Hussein sought to assure Jordanians, in what he termed a "heart to heart" talk, that he was "unshaken by the times and tidings."

As he spoke, Jordan's police accused the Syrian Secret Service and Lebanese rebels of having smuggled explosives into Amman aboard a United Nations plane in an attempt to launch a terror campaign against Jordan's independence.

The explosives, it was charged, were to have been used to blow up offices of the Jordanian development board.

The plot was discovered earlier this month fololwing the arrest of a Theodore Stephan, 23, a Lebanese, and his fiance, Nadia Salti, 20, a Jordanian, police said.

Hussein called Nasser "an impostor who made Moscow his Kaaba (Moslem shrine in Mecac) from which he was receiving orders." Egypt's rulers, he charged, had imposed a dictatorship and tied the nation to Communist imperialism.

Khrushchev's Flip-Flops Danger to World

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are frightening overtones in the way Nikita Khrushchev rushed into a summit meeting and then backed off. Stalin was predictable. Not Khrushchev.

He's mercurial and, apparently, impulsive—a dangerous and ominous weakness in a head of state. The evidence indicated he agreed on impulse to a summit meeting from which, on second thought, he flip-flopped his way out.

If he can be impulsive on something like that — which probably wouldn't have amounted to much — it seems fair to assume on something else, like a step leading to war, he might be impulsive again.

Stalin followed a simple line: grab what he could; push where he thought he could get away with it; test the West for soft spots. He was consistent in this—and in his avoidance of innovations—until he died.

Khrushchev—except for imitating Stalin in getting rid of his rivals — has followed a different line. He's an innovator, an experimenter. But in doing so he has established a pattern of flip-flops, something Stalin didn't do.

The result: Khrushchev is not only unpredictable but, from the standpoint of the rest of the world, unreliable. Some examples:

After Stalin's death, he denounced and repudiated the old dictator. Later he took trouble to patch up the old man's image. He switched to a softer Soviet foreign line: saying there were different roads to socialism. What happened?

A series of flip-flops.

He made his humble pilgrimage to Yugoslavia to woo back the alienated Marshal Tito. This failed and he turned on Tito.

Hungary took advantage of the softer Soviet line and revolted. He crushed this in blood and abandoned the line. He warned the other satellites to expect the same if they tried tricks. This was a complete swing-around back to the rule of terror.

None of this is intended to deny his shrewdness, of which he's shown plenty. By abandoning Stalin's horror tactics towards neutrals, and substituting economic help and propaganda, he's made progress where Stalin never did. Example: the Mideast.

But now many people are attributing Khrushchev's final refusal to meet at the summit to Red Chinese pressure. No doubt it was a factor. But there were others. An examination of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev letter exchanges tells a revealing story.

On July 29 Khrushchev proposed the summit meeting outside the United Nations. On July 22 President Eisenhower accepted but wanted it in the U.N. Security Council. Khrushchev fired back an acceptance the next day.

This writer suggests the speed with which he acted shows he did so impulsively, without thinking through what Eisenhower suggested or what the consequences might be. For these reasons:

1. He might have guessed Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, not anxious for the meeting, might follow up with conditions he wouldn't or couldn't accept.

2. Except on some major matter—where he might use a veto—he figured to be overwhelmingly outvoted in the Council, which is loaded with American friends.

3. At a meeting in the Council he might have to sit down with the one man above all others with whom it would be awkward to meet: Chiang Kai-shek.

★ ★ ★

Chiang's Nationalist Chinese have a permanent seat on the Council. Khrushchev has reviled Chiang, whose seat is claimed by Red China.

His sitting down in discussion with Chiang could not help but anger Red China.

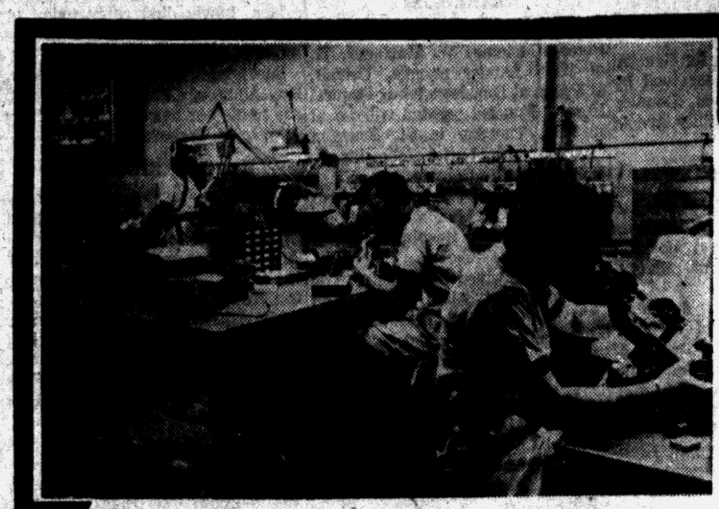

These points apparently began to sink in when Eisenhower sent his next letter, laying down conditions for a meeting in the Council. Then Khrushchev wrote a letter—which many people now seem to forget—almost refusing to meet in the Council.

He indicated he had second thoughts and wanted the meeting outside the U. N. Then he rushed off to Peiping, where the Chinese Reds must have given him a piece of their mind about his sitting down wth Chiang. That settled it.

★ ★ ★

Experts Disagree on Changing Auto's Oil

By ROBERT J. SERLING

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When should you change your car's oil?

Automotive experts are in complete, absolute, unshakable agreement that it should be changed at regular intervals.

They also are in complete, absolute, unshakable disagreement on what the regular interval should be. The experts questioned by UPI have answers ranging from every 500 miles to as high as 4,000.

These are some of their recommeudations—

American Automobile Association: When the bulk of driving is on paved, dust-free roads at temperatures well above freezing, and is mainly city and suburban driving, every 1,000 miles; when most of the driving is under the same conditions on the open highway, every 2,000.

The United States government: Every 4,000 miles except in dusty areas when the oil might have to be changed more frequently.

Automobile manufacturers: Which owner's manual do you read?

Actually, there is a logical reason for the difference of opinion. The experts can give only a generalized figure for oil changes. Specific intervals depend on many factors such as weather, road conditions, the type of driving you do, whether your car has an oil filter, whether you buy top-grade oil with built-in detergents, etc.

The Oldsmobile owner's manual, for example, recommends four different oil- change periods. It suggests a change every 500 miles if the car is driven in cold weather and is used almost exclusively in the city for house-to-house or store-to-store traffic.

But in the summer, the company suggests a change every 2,000 miles, when the owner takes frequent weekend trips. And when the bulk of driving is done on the open road, Olds recommends an oil change every 3,000 miles.

But other General Motors lines differ in their oil change recommendations. Chevrolet suggests a 2,000-mile interval under normal driving conditions; every month or bi-monthly under adverse conditions such as in extremely cold weather or on dusty roads. And Chevrolet's change interval jumps to 4,000 miles if the car is equipped with an oil filter.

Pontiac says its cars can go 3,000 - 4,000 miles between changes under normal driving conditions, with monthly draining recommended in cold weather, stop-and-go driving.

Ford calls for a flat 4,000-mile change for its entire line, including the high-powered Thunderbird. But Mercury and Lincoln recommend the 2,000-mile interval or every three months, whichever comes first. Edsel compromises with a 4,000-mile change or every three months.

The General Services Administration, which operates the federal government's 20,000 automobiles, drains their crankcases and adds fresh oil every 4,000 miles. A GSA official explained that all government cars use detergent, top-grade oil.

Contrary to common belief (or what a greedy service station may have told you), oil does not break down with use. If that were the only factor involved, oil would never have to be changed. But oil does get contaminated.

Sludge, varnish, moisture, corrosive acids, dirt and dust can form or get into a crankcase and harm an engine. Sludge and moisture are the most frequently-encountered enemies. They generally form more rapidly in coldweather under city driving conditions.

★ ★ ★

Experts recommend that when you take your car in for an oil change, first drive around for about 20 minutes and get the car thoroughly warmed up. Cold oil does not drain properly and the draining may leave some of the harmful deposits in the crankcase.

Student Jury Stern With Traffic Offender

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A new method of handling juvenile traffic offenses here was introduced when Judge Bruce P. Henderson accepted recommendations of a jury composed of high school students.

Representatives of 10 Trumbull County schools deliberated 20 minutes, then recommended that a high school freshman from nearby Southington be fined $20 and costs. They further urged that his driver's license be suspended for 60 days.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the youth failed to observe a stop sign, caused a traffic accident and left the accident scene.

Rickover 'Too Busy' to Fret About Snubs

BOSTON (AP)—Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, known as the Father of the Atomic Submarine, says he is "too busy to worry about snubs."

That was Rickover's answer last night when newsmen asked if he felt snubbed because he had not been invited to last week's White House ceremony announcing the submarine Nautilus' under-the-North-Pole voyage.

Several congressmen said Rickover should have been there and at least one commented that Rickover had been slighted repeatedly.

Rickovr showed a flash of irritation when newsmen asked his reaction. He was en route to Washington from Portsmouth, N. H., where he attended builder's trials of the nuclear-powered submarine Swordfish off the coast of Maine and New Hampshire.

Of Nautilus' feat sailing across the roof of the world beneath the arctic ice, Rickover said: "It shows that we now have a ship that can hide under the ice. And when we get missile subs, like the Polaris, anyone who dares attack us will inevitably be destroyed."

Insurance Loans Drop; 1st Decline in 5 Years

State Political Record Stirs Wide U.S. Comment

Michigan's unsavory political reputation is bringing national disgrace to the Wolverine Commonwealth. Following is a lead editorial in The Chicago Tribune:

"Even before Tuesday's primary, it was a well established fact that Gov Soapy Williams of Michigan was a wholly owned subsidiary of the union bosses, especially Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers. Now it turns out that the courts of Wayne county (Detroit) are also in the bag for the unions, even the most disreputable of them.

"The Senate rackets committee has been hearing the story of how a hoodlum controlled outfit, engaged in providing and laundering uniforms of business employes, was pirating business from legitimate firms with the backing of JIMMY HOFFA's Detroit Teamsters joint council. HOFFA installed an ex-convict as business agent of this body, and this henchman, by threat of picketing and boycott, brought pressure on businesses to throw their uniform requirements to the mob outfit.

★ ★ ★

"Two brothers who run separate Detroit automobile agencies told the committee that the courts will not protect honest business men from illegal strikes and coercive picketing because of "the political situation." The brothers, operate service departments whose mechanics are in uniform. When one refused to transfer his uniform business to the gangsters, the teamsters picketed his agency. When he stood fast, they put another picket line around the agency of his brother, who was in no way involved in the dispute. Denied relief by the courts, he was forced to give in.

"Both brothers charged that the courts are subservient to the unions in Wayne county and will not protect operators and their customers from union harrassment and violence.

"The situation in Michigan is scandalous and the only way Michigan citizens can recover their self-respect is to get rid of Gov. Soapy and all his crowd in the November elections and then turn their attention to the job of freeing the courts of his followers. Robed union stooges on the bench are a crying disgrace."

Bearing our humiliation unseen and in silence is plenty. But having it discussed openly about the country is a national disgrace.

What Has Become of Our Drizzles?

Older residents distinctly recollect the extended drizzles of rain, which we don't get any more.

★ ★ ★

The moisture came so slowly that it was soaked up by the ground as it fell, instead of running off and causing floods.

Sometimes these drizzles lasted for a couple of days and nights.

They were so gentle that hardy souls didn't raise an umbrella.

They bolstered crop production and saved us from prolonged drouths.

Sometimes the rains were heavier, but most of our precipitation was in extended drizzles.

In recent years nearly all of our rains come in cloudbursts.

★ ★ ★

They usually last only a few minutes, and the major part of the moisture runs off, causing floods and gulleying the land, drowning out crops on low ground where drainage systems cannot handle it.

They often do more damage than good.

Veteran weather watchers, especially among our farmers who are more dependent on rainfall conditions than the rest of us, agree that the "million dollar drizzle" of a half century ago has gradually petered out, and now is almost unknown.

★ ★ ★

The reason for all this is beyond any explanation so far advanced.

Have you a theory?

The Hard Way

David Lawrence Says:

Nuclear Subs Strong War Deterrent

WASHINGTON — The United States Navy has done it again. It has revolutionized strategic warfare in the world today, as it has done several times in past history.

LAWRENCE

For while the "Sputniks" whirl around in far-off space, their military value in relation to a precise target still much in doubt, it has been demonstrated that the atom-powered submarine, with its capacity to fire missiles, can become a major deterrent to war itself.

Most people who since school days have become accustomed to remember maps that separate the hemispheres do not realize that the borders of Soviet Russia lie across the top of the world and are bounded by a stretch of nearly 3,000 miles of the Arctic Ocean which in turn is accessible from both the Atlantic and Pacific sides of North America.

This geographical circumstance means that Soviet Russia now is vulnerable to attack by missle-carrying submarines which can fire into her heartland and reach almost any city therein with atomic weapons.

The North Pole, pivotal point for the plane-carrying bombs of the U.S. Strategic Air Force that can go across the Arctic directly to Soviet Russia, now becomes also the rendezvous of American submarines hiding under the big ice-cap in the polar seas.

The latest exploit by the "Nautilus"—which cruised submerged from Hawaii by way of the Bering Sea along the coast of Alaska, then traversed the Arctic under the ice to a point beyond Greenland and, still submerged, headed this week for Great Britain—is startling in its military implications.

RICKOVER INTERVIEWED

Perhaps the best way to understand the tremendous significance militarily of what has just happened is to quote from a copyrighted interview published recently in "U. S. News & World Report"—cleared by the Navy Department—in which Rear Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, sometimes called the "father of the atomic submarine" said:

"A large number of these (missile-carrying nuclear submarines) should be kept continuously at sea, submerged anywhere we want—many of them hiding under the polar ice-cap. They would constitute a fleet-in-being ready for immediate use at any time.

"That means that, if anyone declares war on us and actually fires missiles into our country—even if he should manage to destroy the United States—he knows that inevitably he himself will also be destroyed, because we will have these submerged missile-launching bases where he cannot prevent them from firing on him. So this missile-carrying submarine may turn out to be a real deterrent to war."

Admiral Rickover then went on to say:

"Consider the problem from the enemy's point of view. He can do something about missile bases which we or our allies may have on land. He can sabotage them, or overrun them, or he can fire missiles at them.

'OPERATIONAL NOW'

This is a non-air-breathing rocket which has not yet been fully developed. But the Regulus-type rocket—which is air breathing and can be fired from submarines surfacing at night—the admiral said, "are operational right now."

America today, by reason of what the "Nautilus" has accomplished, is in a position once more to talk from strength. This deterrent power, emerging in an era of irresponsible dictatorships — which overnight might have pushed the world to the brink of war—can be hailed as an epochal occurrence.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Strengthen Weak Heart With Graduated Exercise

Here are two statements concerning digitalis I find in a modern textbook of therapeutics, the science of the application of remedies for diseases:

DR. BRADY

1. "In consultation work we constantly find that in serious cases of cardiac decompensation" (heart failure, dilatation) "digitalis is being given in doses that can have no efficacy whatever." (That is to say, doses that are too small.)

2. "Therapeutically it" (digitalis) "enables the damaged heart to do more work with the same expenditure of energy."

Unless the physics I learned in high school was wrong, the very idea that anything can do more work without the expenditure of more energy is absurd; and I challenge any physician, physiologist, physicist, professor of therapeutics or magician to correct me if I'm wrong.

If a doctor told me to take digitalis, I'd take it as ordered — or change doctors. That is, for a reasonable length of time. I don't believe it would do me any good, but on the other hand I don't believe it would do me any harm. I'd probably take it every day if the doctor so ordered, provided the doctor observed the effects of the medicine regularly.

2 THINGS NEEDED

The natural or spontaneous capacity of the heart to regain compensation after heart failure, dilatation or decompensation is not at all dependent on or determined by the use of digitalis, in my judgment. It is really determined by (1) rest, first in bed, later in chair; and (2) graduated exercise.

Doctors who dish out digitalis in such cases are inordinately fond of the first factor and too often negligent or maybe ignorant of the second. Instead of teaching patients the importance of graduated exercise for strenghtening a "weak" or handicapped heart, they teach the poor souls to walk on eggs. The less a doctor knows about graduated exercise for restoring reserve power, the more blindly he or she prescribes digitalis. When all scientific "indications" fail there's always the old reliable one — that digitalis is a heart tonic.

A tonic is anything that restores or improves enfeebled function. Thus, for most sedentary people, white collar, professional or clerical workers, students and housewives with servants, the best tonic is two miles of oxygen on the hoof three times a day or the equivalent in any other general exercise.

It takes up the slack, gives firmness in place of flabbiness. It "tones" the entire musculature—without inducing hypertrophy or excessive development of muscle.

In the CVD booklet, about heart and artery troubles, pages 26-27, I describe a real heart tonic which gives uniform satisfaction in any case of "weak heart" whether the individual takes digitalis or not. It is not exercise. It is not medicine. It is food — elements essential for good nutrition. So if it does you no good it can do you no harm.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Motor Boats Endanger Safety of Residents

To Residents of Union Lake

Boating at Union Lake is extremely hazardous, especially motorboat operation. Fishing, according to Jack Patterson's column, should be good. Prospects are in store for a safe record this season, thanks to the efficiency of our lake deputy and his steering committee.

★ ★ ★

Because of the abuse of the state fishing site, high powered motorboats enter Union Lake and endanger the safety of the residents. As long as a boat owner has a fishing pole, it is questionable whether he can legally be prohibited from the site.

To combat this trouble years ago some people took a Gallup poll of the residents of Union Lake asking for a five and a half horse power limitation on motors. It failed to meet with approval. Then Bob Gregg, proprietor of a boat livery on Union Lake, spark plugged the idea of a self-supported police patrol. Where his efforts for community welfare are concerned, everyone appreciated them.

Deputy Harcourt has been on duty the past two years and we give him credit for improving the safety on the lake. His status as of this year is that of a deputized member of the sheriff's lake patrol which requires some specialized training. We think he could do the most good for all of us patrolling the state fishing site, the seat of our original trouble on Saturdays and Sundays, instead of the picnic grounds, vacant lots, beer gardens, and neighborhood parties.

Motorboat Man

'I Am a Man' Loves Life

To "Nothing but a Woman"

The American women are not evil, unmoral, and unfeminine or a threat to society" as you say. I love them. I think they are wonderful. Having traveled from coast to coast, no where have I heard or read such an opinion as yours. What's eating you anyway?

I know a lot of Christians and none of them believe in evolution. They don't say anything evil about anybody, but you do. You're the one that has the carnal mind and it's pretty confused, too. As far as neighbor being against neighbor — heck, I get along just swell with my neighbors, and everybody else I know does too. Do you?

Concerning women or girls being unsafe in shorts or overalls on streets, I bet my pay check you don't have to worry about that.

God bless America and all the good people in it.

Giving 'Slightly Jealous' Advice

To Slightly Jealous—

Shame on you! Be thankful there are agencies to help those who are in dire need. We, too, are of the "working middle class" and are buying a home. We took our boys to the Oakland County Health Department for their polio shots, free of charge. They also have a dental clinic there.

A stay of a week or two with friends or relatives on a farm would benefit your children as much or more than time spent at camp. Think it over and hide your head.

U. of M. Survey Shows Nation's Optimism High

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Families and individuals hit by the nation's recession generally express optimism for better economic times ahead.

A University of Michigan survey research center report says some 25 per cent of American families felt adverse effects from the recession.

Profs. William Haber and Wilbur J. Cohen conducted a survey of 1,456 adults during May and June when the first signs of an upturn in the nation's economy were noted.

They learned that 12,500,000 families were hit financially by the recession either through unemployment or curtailed work weeks.

Another 8,500,000 families had one member out of work at some time between mid-1957 and mid-1958. Cut-down work weeks affected 4,000,000 households. There was unemployment of two or more members in 700,000 families.

Haber and Cohen credited a more significant role of unemployment insurance for the general feeling of optimism.

"It is, undoubtedly, also due to the fact that most people, including the unemployed, felt there was little likelihood of a severe depression and the belief of many that their chances of obtaining another job were good should they become unemployed," they said.

Other findings:

Sixty per cent of the unemployed felt business conditions will not be worse a year from now. A quarter of those interviewed said there will be good times in the next year.

Ten per cent of the jobless voiced hopes of purchasing a car in the next year. Others talked of buying appliances or making repairs on their homes.

Haber and Cohen found unemployment most widespread among those with family incomes of $5,000 or less. The $3,000-7,000 bracket was hit hardest by short work weeks.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Lists Differences in Men, Women

Remember the rhyme about Jackie Sprat who would eat no fat? Well, that is one of the many fascinating sex differences which separate males from females. Scrapbook this case and compare it with the follow-up tomorrow. Poets call women unpredictable but that's because poets don't understand the sex differences listed below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Y-385: Recently I addressed a University Women's Club.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane," one of the ladies asked during the forum following my talk, "do women like fat meat better than men do?"

DR. CRANE

"The reason I ask is that old nursery rhyme about Jackie Sprat who would eat no fat while his wife would eat no lean.

"Was that said in jest or is there a germ of truth in it?"

SEX DIFFERENCES

There is a great deal of truth in that nursery rhyme. For the female body contains a higher percentage of fat than does the male.

That is one reason why women can float on water more easily than men.

Their specific gravity is less, so they are more buoyant, for fat tissue is lighter than lean meat.

You can realize that truism by remembering that the cream or fat part of milk is what floats on top.

Men thus have a higher percentage of lean, muscular tissue, so they require more protein to keep it replenished.

At the usual dinner table, therefore, you may have noticed that men trim off the fat edges from their steak, though their wives relish this.

And that is only natural for the female bodies require a higher percentage of fat to keep them curvacious and attractive.

WOMEN'S STRENGTH

"But, Dr. Crane," you may logically inquire, "suppose a woman is the same weight as a man. Isn't her strength then the same as that of such a male?"

And the answer is "No," for the male of the same weight has that higher percentage of muscle as mentioned above.

The comparison between the strength of men and women of equal weight has been found to bear a 29:18 ratio, or approximately 3:2, so a woman weighing 125 pounds is only 62 per cent as strong as a man of 125 pounds.

★ ★ ★

And this same difference holds true of savage races as well as civilized man, for Hrdlicka found that the Indian woman is only about two-thirds as strong as the Indian male, despite her heavier muscular labors.

Women also have relatively shorter legs than do men, in contrast to the length of their trunk and head.

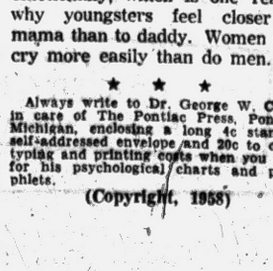

When a woman walks around barefooted, therefore, she looks more like an ape than does a man, for her arms hang lower down than do those of the male.

★ ★ ★

They also give her a more shapely calf and slenderize her ankles. And they give her a loftier outlook, so she feels more self-sufficient and important.

However, the high heels throw her body forward, for she is standing on the side of a hill, as it were. To compensate, she arches her spine and thus puts a strain on the muscles in the small of her back.

PSYCHOLOGICAL DIFFERENCES

Women are also more interested in persons (people) than are men. The male tends to be more preoccupied with things (cars, guns, boats, etc.).

★ ★ ★

Women score higher in language tests than do men, while the males excell in mathematics and logical thinking.

Women are usually better psychologists than are men and have greater intuition (subconscious analysis) than do males.

They also are closer to children, emotionally, which is one reason why youngsters feel closer to mama than to daddy. Women also cry more easily than do men.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Weekend Traffic Jams No Problem for Families Who Visit by Plane

By WES COOK
Associated Press Writer

The Sunday driver who takes his family for a leisurely ride and picnic in the country has a counterpart in the air.

★ ★ ★

From California to New York, private flyers keep a close eye on weather maps for an indication that a sunny, comfortable Sunday is in prospect. Then, weather permitting, these weekend flyers, their families and friends take off shortly after sunrise en route to a fly-in breakfasts, lunches, air fairs or air tours.

WHAT THEY ARE

What are fly-ins?

They are social and informative gatherings often held near resort or recreational areas. Pilots and their families swim, boat, fish, play games and eat picnic lunches.

The informative portion of the fly-in includes flight safety clinics, lectures on weather, communications, demonstrations of new aircraft and equipment, and proficiency examinations.

Who participates in a fly-in?

★ ★ ★

Any licensed private pilot, his family and friends. Many own their own aircraft, others rent planes and some belong to flying clubs that operate a number of aircraft on a cooperative basis.

How many participate in a fly-in?

Anywhere from five to 100 or more persons utilizing from three to 30 or more aircraft.

How far do you fly to attend a fly-in? Most flights involve a round trip distance of 150 to 300 miles. Occasionally longer flights are made for a two-day fly-in.

Most of the fly-ins are arranged to encourage the use of aviation facilities, promote their development, make better airmen of those taking part, and to provide a social climate for the private pilot.

Let's join the Ozark Aero Club of Southeast Missouri in a Sunday fly-in breakfast and lunch from Springfield to Boliver and Mexico, Mo.

You arrive at the airport around 6:30 a. m., joining other sleepy-eyed pilots and their families as they roll aircraft from the hangars.

By the time preflight checks have been completed, everyone is wide awake and anxious to get to Boliver and the breakfast stop.

About 20 minutes after takeoff you spot the small town of Boliver and near its city limits the turf runway that borders the municipal golf course. Cars driven by local residents line the roadside waiting to haul the visiting airmen to town for breakfast.

★ ★ ★

After taxiing to a parking place, you climb out and are greeted by your hosts. A few minutes later you are seated in a crowded, noisy basement restaurant.

Conversations around the tables range from renewal of old acquaintances to friendly arguments over various planes, equipment, routes, navigational methods and airport conditions.

BACK IN THE AIR

About an hour later the aircraft are back in the air en route to your luncheon destination at the Mexico, Mo., Air Park Motel.

★ ★ ★

What do you do to occupy yourself while in the air?

The pilot, of course, will be busy at the controls. He may practice use of in-flight navigational radio aids or demonstrate the use of the controls and other equipment for passengers.

★ ★ ★

Although the round-trip covered more than 300 miles you are back in Springfield by mid-afternoon feeling refreshed and gloating over the fact that in all that distance you weren't trapped in a single traffic jam.

Man Finds 'Stolen Car' Safe in Home Garage

POWELL, Wyo. (AP)—Bob Robertson's car stalled near Powell late one night and he decided to leave it along the highway.

The next morning he took a truck and chain to pull the stalled car into town. It was nowhere in sight. Robertson decided the car had been stolen and reported its theft to police.

Returning home to obtain the vehicle registration number, he noticed the garage door ajar. There was the car. Some thoughtful friends had brought it home during the night.

Man Kills Wife on Second Try

Then Takes Own Life in Shooting at End of All-Night Party

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Four months ago, Ray Saunders of Columbus shot his wife four times after a family quarrel. She lived and refused to file charges.

But police charged the 51-year-old Saunders with discharging fire arms, and he drew a 90-day sentence. While he was in jail, Myrtle Saunders, his wife for 30 years, filed for divorce.

They got together this weekend. With a son-in-law and two other men, they went on a drinking party. It ended about 7:30 a.m. yesterday on a Columbus street. Police gave this account of what happened:

Saunders wanted to continue the party. His 46-year-old estranged wife didn't. Suddenly, witnesses said, Saunders drew a revolver and started firing. His bullets passed through his wife and son-in-law, Robert Poff, 24, in the right arm and side.

Poff, who is in good condition, fled with two other men.

Myrtle Saunders had been hit four times again. This time her wounds were fatal.

When police arrived, Saunders had used his revolver one more time — on himself. He died eight hours later.

The deputy coroner, Dr. Carl E. Tetirick, called it murder and suicide.

Bob Considine Says:

Alaska Statehood Still Has Hurdle

FAIRBANKS, Alaska—One of the first shocks a stateside tenderfoot receives upon being set down in this untamed land is that here is a dedicated "loyal opposition" to statehood.

A certain number of Alaskans just want no part of full union with the United States. They'll vote against any change in the present territorial status in the referendum of Aug. 26.

The concensus seems to say that they will not be able to muster enough support to defeat ratification of the bill which bears President Eisenhower's signature. The junior chambers of commerce took a loose-knit poll of the Alaskans after Washington approved statehood and announced a probable three-to-one majority of ayes against nays in the referendum.

Two years ago, the proposed constitution for Alaska was approved by the voters by two-to-one. A 1946 head count shows three out of every five in favor of adding a star to the American flag. Some of the more enthusiastic proponents of statehood assure me that the impending referendum vote will be by a ten-to-one margin, in favor.

Still, it's interesting to an outsider who assumed the whole area was just wild about the prospects of becoming the 49th state to hear people expressing earnest misgivings. The extremes in this case do not care to listen to each other.

PROS AND CONS

The pros say "only certain vested business interests who have had it good for a long, long time are against statehood. That's why they've been trying to buy U. S. senators and representatives for years."

The cons say "The only people really whooping it up for statehood are the politicians up here, and all they want to do is feather their nests."

The truth, as usual, lies somewhere between? Since coming here we've attempted to find it in the mouths of cab drivers and college deans, industrialists and inn keepers, bankers and bartenders.

"How can we be a state?" a cabbie asked. "Take the military out of Alaska and it would be almost impossible for us to survive. They tell us that statehood will attract a lot of big business here. Can you imagine somebody building a big plant in Fairbanks and paying to keep it warm for eight months each year with the temperatures sometimes down to 60 below? If that fellow was going to build a plant, he'd build it in Mississippi, some place like that."

★ ★ ★

"Under statehood we will get attention we never had," said a university professor. "Just think of having two voices in the United States Senate. There's no way of calculating the importance of that. We fully expect stateside manufacturers to include Alaska in their zone prices so that things here will cost no more than, let us say, in Seattle."

"The people who are yelling for statehood just haven't stopped to realize how good we have it without statehood," a businessman growled. "We will have to start paying for lots of benefits now hidden or forgotten.

"For instance, the government now operates and pays for our only railroad. The Army put in and operates our telecommunications. We'll have to start paying for these services and for our governor and all his people, and the 60 legislators and all their staffs, and state judges and their courts."

"We will do fine," enthused a retired mining tycoon. "We could have sold a mountain of iron to Japan not long ago but were stopped. Wait till we have control over our own resources, including our off-shore oil."

"All I can see that we will get out of statehood is more government and you know what more government means—it means more cost to us," a fellow said. "We already pay federal taxes. That does not take into consideration the terrible cost of things up here."

"We'll make a go of statehood," said mountain-climbing wilderness-wrestling young Woody Wood of Camp Denali. "Not one of the other states was quite ready the day it was admitted either."

Her Rough Childhood Helps Foil Robbery

DETROIT (AP) — Millicent Brenner, 18, rushed in where even the bravest of men might have feared to tread when a thief tried to make off with $1,925 from her bakery counter Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

Millicent, a recent high school graduate, raced after the fleeing robber and downed him with a flying tackle. Minutes later, police arrested her quarry, a man three inches taller and 30 pounds heavier than the trim Millicent.

Millicent said she learned her rough-and-tumble tactics from defending herself against bigger brothers.

Unperturbed after the capture, Millicent commented: "I think the girls in this generation are kind of weak — we ought to be able to protect ourselves."

★ ★ ★

Then came a horrifying after thought.

"After what happened, no boy will probably ever look at me again."

About seven million American homes are heated by fuel oil.

Farmers own about 29 per cent of all the motor trucks in the U.S.

Waterford Has Building Boom

13 Major Permits Issued During Last 2 Months; Only 2 in '57 Period

Commercial building in Waterford Township has been in a booming stage during the last two months, according to reports in the building department.

In June there were eight major permits totaling $159,000 and five more in July for $74,000. Last year during the same period there were only two commercial gas station permits issued.

A $15,000 office building for the Lakeland Glass Co. at 3268 Dixie Highway, owned by Albert Burke, will soon be under construction and a new sporting goods store, costing $8,000 will be built at 298 N. Williams Lake Rd.

Another lobby and office building is now under construction at 3644 Dixie Highway for Edgewater Beach, Inc., and will cost approximately $6,000.

Donald Primo of Birmingham, who is in the process of building an $88,000 motel and swimming pool at 3514 Dixie Highway, was issued a permit to build a $200 building for a new miniature golf course. No permit is required for the pool or golf course.

★ ★ ★

One of the many business firms in Waterford Township making major additions to their present buildings is Division Printing Co., on Highland Rd. the firm is now in the process of constructing $15,000 expansion to its present building.

June and July building in the township have been two of the biggest months in many years, according to Chief Inspector Carl Walton. There were 303 permits issued, totaling $1,917,965 for the two-month period.

Skipper of Nautilus Rejoins Sub Tuesday

LONDON (AP)—Cmdr. W. R. Anderson, skipper of the U. S. submarine Nautilus, arrived by plane today to rejoin the ship and crew which made the historic under-ice crossing of the North Pole.

Anderson flew from New York after a ceremony in Washington honoring him for the feat in the nuclear-powered sub.

The Nautilus is expected to reach Portland, some 100 miles southwest of here, tomorrow. U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney will present the Presidential Unit Citation to the entire crew of the vessel. The submarine is expected to remain in Britain for several days.

15 Nations in Unanimous Accord

U. N. Committee Agrees on Nuclear Test Hazards

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — A 15-nation U.N. committee has agreed unanimously that mankind faces "new and largely unknown hazards" as a result of radioactive fallout from nuclear weapons tests.

The committee, which has been studying the problem for more than two-and-one-half years, found that "even the smallest amounts of radiation are liable to cause deleterious genetic and perhaps also somatic effects."

★ ★ ★

Somatic effects include cancer and leukemia. The report added that "the irradiation of any groups of people, before and during the reproductive age, will contribute genetic effects to whole populations in so far as the gonads (reproduction glands) are exposed."

In Washington, the Atomic Energy Commission lauded the "thorough-going study" made by the U.N. scientific committee on the effects of atomic radiation but said "man must learn to live" with radiation.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) has charged that the U.N. report knocked some holes in the "stiff-necked" position of the AEC on nuclear weapons testing.

BLASTS 'PET THEORIES'

Anderson, vice-chairman of the joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, said yesterday over TV the new report blasts some "pet theories" of the AEC which has advocated unlimited weapons tests.

Anderson claimed that the U.N. report said, in effect, that "testing can produce very bad effects upon human generations." He said this left the AEC with "no place to go . . . no place to hide."

"The refusal of the United States to deal realistically with this question of cessation of the weapons tests is a hole in our program," he said.

He recalled that Japan, which is "extremely important to us worldwide," has protested both the U.S. and Russian tests because they get radiation "from both ways," he said.

"Now, we might pacify the Japanese by saying: 'We will limit the amount of fission bodies that go in the atmosphere.' Instead of that we just say, 'Oh, these tests are beneficial, they're fine for humanity.' The Japanese don't believe that and neither do we — and neither does this (U.N.) pamphlet."

Save 'Villains' Knuckles

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Along with an order for 10 U.S. marshal badgers, a local firm was also asked to make three duplicates out of rubber. The L.A. Stamp and Stationery Co. is making them for Desilu Productions to use in a TV Western series. The rubber ones are to be worn during fight scenes—so the villians won't hurt their knuckles when they swing on the lawmen.

Noisy When Happy

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—It was the small hours of the morning when the old coon dog began to bay. A shotgun roared and a man screamed. Investigating officers found a man who explained: "I got to hearin' Old Sad (the coon dog) baying, and I just got so happy listenin' to him I had to do some shootin' and hollerin'."

Dinosaur in Glass House at Ultramodern Museum

DINOSAUR NATIONAL MONUMENT, Utah (UPI) — That bull in a China shop bit is old stuff. But a dinosaur in a glass house is something else again, and officials at this national monument hope the public takes to the idea.

The dinosaurs, what is left of them, went on display with a flourish and ceremony June 1 with dedication of an ultra-modern visitors' center here.

It is all glass walls and a soaring roof that vaguely resembles the lop-sided spread wings of a prehistoric bird.

★ ★ ★

It is the first museum in the country to show the ancient reptiles in what is now their natural habitat — a clay quarry. Along one wall of the center visitors will be able to view bones of the beasts right where the archeologists found them.

★ ★ ★

Interior Department hosts explain how the nation's largest known dinosaur cemetery happened to be among the sun-parched hills on the Utah-Colorado border.

They point out the critters met their doom some distance to the north in what were then lush jungles. Strangled in the mud of Mesovoic rivers, the reptiles later were swept downstream by such waterways as those now called the Green and Yumpa Rivers, which meet near here.

Completion of the new center culminates a dream that began late in the last century. It was in 1892 that scientific studies proved the bulky bones actually were those of dinosaurs. It started a sort of archeological gold rush.

Luckily, dinosaur bones soon became a drug on the market. But not before the men with picks and shovels had unearthed nearly complete remains of 26 dinosaurs from a dozen species that ranged in length from 6 to 84 feet.

★ ★ ★

The grave-robbing finally was halted for good in 1915 when the area, through a campaign by Dr. Earl Douglas of the Carnegie Museum, was made into a national monument.

Johnny Appleseed — Expert Woodsman

ASHLAND, Ohio (UP)—John Chapman, better known as Johnny Appleseed because he planted many apple trees in the late 1700s and early 1800s, used his knowledge of trees in more ways than one, historians here say.

★ ★ ★

During the War of 1812 against the British, he is reputed to have slipped through Ohio forests on a 54-mile round trip from the block house at Mansfield to Mount Vernon and back, in one day.

The purpose was to warn settlers of Indian massacres incited by the British and to bring soldiers from Mount Vernon to defend the Mansfield block house.

Ads on Book Matches

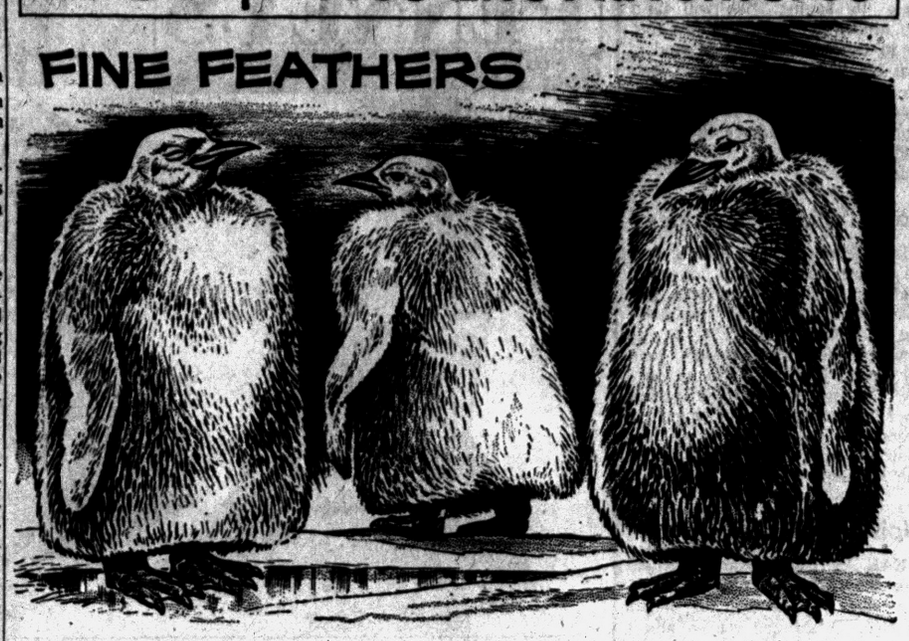

MILWAUKEE — Book matches got their start as an advertising medium in the 1890's when a brewery ordered 10,000,000 to promote its beer. The match company had facilities for making only 2,000 a day and machinery had to be invented to fill the order.

Tire Output Sets Mark

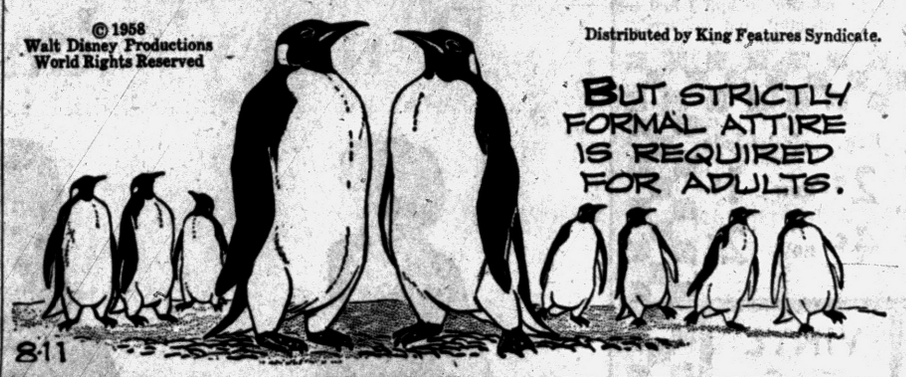

NEW YORK — The nation produced 56,500,000 replacement motor-vehicle tires during 1957, an increase of 300,000 over 1956 and a new record, according to the Rubber Manufacturers Association.

Missile School Trains Teachers

Improve Reading Skill, Speed

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI)—The Army Ordnance Guided Missile School here is answering the challenge of our modern missiles by offering a course in reading improvement designed to increase the efficiency of its staff and faculty of more than 1,500.

★ ★ ★

James L. Hinton, chief of the training section of the school's research and curriculum division, has organized the course in hopes that it will increase the reading efficiency of the staff members to whom it is offered by about 50 per cent, so they can read in one hour what it now takes them two to read.

Hinton guaranteed every student a 30 per cent improvement in reading skill and final tabulations have more than justified his promise.

The lowest percentage of improvement was 31.7 per cent, with a 10 per cent increase in reading comprehension. The highest increase was 531 per cent with only a one per cent loss in comprehension. The student with a five-fold increase in reading rate now reads 1,357 words per minute on difficult material.

FOUR FAULTS

Surveys have found four common reading faults: Regression or rereading, vocalizing or lip movement, duration of fixation or reading syllable by syllable and word by word and small span of recognition or the width of space covered by the eyes in reading.

★ ★ ★

Two simple devices are used to correct these faults; the tachistoscope and the reading accelerator. The tachistoscope is a standard 35mm slide projector fitted with a shutter device like that on an ordinary camera. By adjusting the shutter, the length of projection time can be varied from one-fifth of a second to one-hundredth of a second.

THE ACCELERATER

Every day he checks his work for accuracy and keeps track of his progress on a graph. He has a visual record of his improvement and also knows if he is trying to increase his reading rate too rapidly. The tachistoscope reduces the duration of reader fixation and gradually increases the span of recognition.

★ ★ ★

The second reading improvement device, the acclerator, is a small metal box with a hinged lid under which a book or printed page is placed. The accelerator, moving at a steady rate of speed, covers the page from top to bottom as the student reads, much in the same manner as if he were to use a sheet of paper and cover each line after reading it.

The rate at which the accelerator operates can be increased as the student's reading skill improves.

Comprehension is not sacrificed at the expense of greater reading speed. Comprehension tests follow the accelerated reading priods, and should the student's comprehension fall as his speed increases, he is advised to slow down until he has a better mastery of the reading technique.

Report Thefts, Three Break-Ins

Rochester, City Firms, Church Hit in Weekend Crime Wave

Three break-ins, one a safe job, and several larcenies were reported to police over the weekend.

J. D. Marrison of 301 S. Castell St., Rochester, reported Saturday that someone had broken into his Sunoco Gas Station at 732 Woodward Ave. and broken open a wall safe and cash register.

Morrison said $340 cash had been taken from the safe. A small amount of change was reported missing from the cash register and a vending machine.

Police also reported Saturday that a total of $76 had been stolen from the Oliver Buick Sales, 210 Orchard Lake Ave. Detectives said the thief entered through an unlocked door and pried open a record vault.

The theft of a movie projector valued at $65 from the Holden Red Stamp Store, 600 W. Huron St., also was reported by police.

Edward McNamara of 619 Granada St. told police detectives that someone had stolen two wrist watches, total value estimated at $175, and 25 pencils valued at $6.25 from his home.

Booty Seems Meager for Thief's Best Efforts

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)— There are times when crime doesn't pay.

The thief forced his way into Henry's Diner, attacked the cash register, found it empty. Then, armed with a butcher knife, he made an unsuccessful try at prying open a juke box.

Supersonic Jets Gain Firepower for Atomic Era

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. (UPI)—An "aerial six-shooter" will arm the U. S. Air Force's newest and fastest jet fighter-bomber.

Capable of greater firepower in 60 seconds than a 400-man infantry company in 20 minutes, the gun, a 20-millimeter automatic cannon, is incorporated into the armament F-105 fighter-bomber. This was disclosed here recently by the U. S. Air Force when Gen. O. B. Weyland accepted the first production unit of the new jet for the Tactical Air Command.

An externally powered, six-barrel rotary firing mechanism, the cannon was developed by General Electric to provide supersonic jets with the firepower necessary for split-second combat. It can fire 6,000 rounds a minute, which is four times as fast as any other gun now flying.

Both Claim 'Dixie'

WASHINGTON—The song "Dixie" was composed by Dan Emmett, a Yankee from Ohio, as a "walk-around" for a minstrel troupe. During the Civil War, the lively tune was claimed by both sides, but eventually it became associated almost entirely with the Confederacy.

Plants Are Few on Coral Atolls

Coconut Palms Provide Food, Housing, Clothing on Pacific Islands

WASHINGTON — Coral sand, gleaming between blue ocean and green palms, gives Pacific atolls much of their charm in the eyes of those far away.

To the people who live on it, however, it presents problems. Few plants an grow in it.

The coconut palm takes its well-publicized place as provider of food, housing, and clothing on the islands partly because it has little competition.

Nukunono, a string of islets beaded around a coral lagoon between Samoa and the Equator, is a case in point. The staples are fish and coconuts, the National Geographic Society says, with breadfruit in season.

The Polynesian islets are eight to ten feet above sea level. Rain filters easily through the sand and coral rubble, leaching out any organic matter that might build soil. Natives carry on a little agriculture by digging pits and mixing vegetable refuse with the sand. They use coconut husks to mulch the handmade soil in an effort to stop the erosion of nutrients.

Recently, a nun stationed at the Nukunono school tried importing dirt from more favored islands to grow vegetbales in tin cans. She found it effective, but too limited in scope.

With the assistance of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, she is now embarked on hydroponics — growing plants in fertilized water, with no soil at all.

Life is simple on Nukunono, a New Zealand territory that is part of the Tokelau group. Society is based on strong family ties. Vilcil of elders, who represent their families.

The islanders live in frame houses, with walls and roofs of plaited pandanus fiber. Plaited mats and other handicraft objects are produced for trading.

There are no welfare or relief problems among the less than 500 residents. As long as enough land for coconut trees is available and the ocean teems with fish, the islanders will not starve, though their diet seems limited and unbalanced to outsiders.

NO ROBBERS

Three Tokelau policemen live on Nukunono, but they haven't much crime to attend to, except petty offenses. There is no jail. Culprits are sentenced to labor on public works, but otherwise their freedom is little circumscribed.

Only 600 miles from the Equator, Nukunono is cooled by trade winds more than half the year. The average mean temperature is 82 degrees. When the winds fail, however, the sand becomes blistering hot.

Fresh water is provided by heavy rains collected from the roofs of buildings. Although rainfall of three inches can be expected on almost any day, precipitation is extremely irregular. Total fall in different months may vary as much as 30 inches.

★ ★ ★

Busiest days on Nukunono are the ones just before the trading boat arrives, usually once each four months. Then the islanders rush production of their only export crop — copra, the dried meat of coconuts.

An early auto was designed by Urian Smith of Battle Creek with an artificial horse head protruding from the front to convince horses they had nothing to fear.

Landlords Evade Housing Codes in Major Cities

CHICAGO (UPI) — A housing publication reports that landlords are conducting determined campaigns against laws passed by several major cities to force compliance with municipal housing codes.

★ ★ ★

The Journal of Housing said landlords in Chicago, Baltimore, Md., and St. Louis, Mo., occasionally have been effective in their efforts either to block the laws or render them ineffectual.

The landlords' victories, the Journal indicated, stemmed in part from the general unpopularity of the laws and the difficulty of enforcing them.

Chicago's new code went into effect in May. Shortly following its enactment last December, 13 persons lost their lives in tenement blazes in eight days. Mayor Richard J. Daley implemented the code by getting mortgage bankers to agree to ban loans on buildings broken up into smaller units in an illegal maner.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the Journal said, landlords in Baltimore managed to evade a new law there, and St. Louis landlords tried to substitute laws of their own framing for existing codes.

Chain Letters Urge Salesmen to Work

CHICAGO (AP)—The chain letter, a product of the 1940s, now is being called upon to lift the recession.

W. Clement Stone, president of the Combined Insurance Co. of America, started a chain letter campaign with 1,000 letters to his salesmen. He asked each man to make five copies of the letter and mail them to five fellow salesmen regardless of their types of business.

The letters ask each man to engage in at least 30 minutes of additional selling time each day or spend the time in study, thought and planning.

"By exerting every effort and all sound sales techniques, the nation's salesmen have it within their power literally to sell the country out of the recession," Stone said.

Man Has Close Shave

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UP)—A $50,000 mustache came through an airplane crash undamaged.

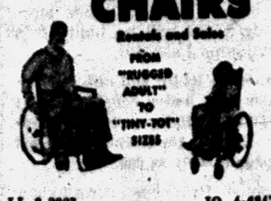

George Pernicano, 40, San Diego restaurant chain owner who has insured the handlebar mustache for that amount, was one of 18 passengers on the plane. He escaped any injury.

Famous Negroes Sing in London

Critics Have Praise for Belafonte, but Pan Paul Robeson

LONDON (AP) — Two of the world's most famous Negro singers—60-year-old Paul Robeson and 31-year-old Harry Belafonte—competed in the show business coincidence of the year in London last night.

Robeson sang folk ballads, spirituals and show hits at the 8,000-seat Royal Albert Hall in his first English concert in nine years.

Three miles away, Belafonte made his London debut by opening a week's engagement at the 4,000-seat Movie House.

Both sang to full houses, but it was Belafonte who got the critics' plaudits. The Albert Hall audience gave Robeson a great welcome back but the critics panned him.

"From the moment he stole on stage with panther grace to the soft strumming or silhoutted guitars, Harry Belafonte's London debut as a singer and comedian was a completely professional triumph," said the Daily Mail.

★ ★ ★

Some other comments: "One-man triumph": "Rare and Splendid" talent; "The finest pop this country has seen since Frank Sinatra came here eight years ago."

The critics objected to Robeson's use of a microphone to bolster his remnant of a voice and his injection of politics into his program.

Said the News Chonricle: "Even in the encore by which he is best known in this country—'Ol' Man River'—he changed the lovable lines 'Git a little drunk and you land in jail' to 'Show a little grit and you lands in jail.'"

"He even used a microphone, usually unknown for concert singers, and kept signalling to the control engineer to turn it up louder.

★ ★ ★

"It made little difference for his singing scarcely ranged outside the same five or six notes. When it did, his tone ran aground at the bottom and disappeared at the top."

Couple Admits Trading Baby for Pickup Truck

Detective Walter Turner said a charge of child abandonment has been drawn up against Richard Readdy, 26, Shamokin, Pa., and his wife, Helene Margaret, Readdy, 20.

★ ★ ★

He said Jesse Lester Burger, 42, El Dorado Springs, Mo., owner of the pickup truck, would probably be charged with conspiring to violate the child abandonment law.

The 5-month-old boy, Paul Andrew, was placed in the Tulsa Juvenile Shelter.

Jail Matron Mildred Buchanen said Mrs. Readdy told her she is now about one month pregnant. But a doctor who examined the woman said it is still too early to tell.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Readdy's father, William Murphy of Shamokin, called Tulsa police and offered to come to Tulsa if authorities would grant him custody of the child. He was told it would depend on a juvenile court hearing.

Tulsa police said the alleged swap came about this way:

The Pennsylvania couple — out of work, almost broke and without a car — were hitchhiking to California, where Readdy hoped to find a job.

★ ★ ★

In Joplin, Mo., they were picked up by Burger, driving with his wife and 7-year-old daughter to Tulsa.

Burger was quoted as saying: "In a kidding way I said, 'I'd like to have that baby.' Readdy said, 'Boy, you sure could have it.' And his wife agreed."

Mrs. Readdy was quoted as saying: "He (Burger) kept saying how the baby would be better off with them than with us. I didn't want to do it. I gave in first."

★ ★ ★

Police exhibited a hastily scribbled bill of sale which Burger said Readdy demanded to make the swap "legal." It showed Burger had transferred his 1957 pickup truck to Readdy for $21.50, although police said no money changed hands.

In Tulsa Burger's sister Mrs. Gladys Prather notified police, who then went to her home and arrested Burger and picked up the baby. The Readdys were stopped in a pickup truck 10 miles from here.

The record speed for a railroad locomotive is still held by a steam engine—127.1 miles per hour—according to a mark which was set in 1905.

New Trials to Open in Georgia Slaying

JEFFERSON, Ga. (AP)—The first of three trials is scheduled to begin today in a murder case for which an apparently innocent man was sentenced to death.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

James Fulton Foster, a 40-year-old Greer, S. C., house painter, was convicted in the case. He was saved from the electric chair by the confession last month of Charles P. (Rocky) Rothschild, 33, a former Cairo, Ill., policeman serving a five-year robbery conspiracy term in South Carolina.

★ ★ ★

In the confession Rothschild alleged that A. D. Allen, a Winder, Ga., used car dealer now serving a five-year federal liquor sentence in Atlanta, drove him to the Drake home and said the merchant carried $5,000 in cash on his person. Drake resisted and was slain and his slayer fled empty handed.

Enthusiastic spectators at the Suburban Inter-Club Swimming Association's championship finals, held at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club Friday and Saturday, were Mrs. Colin H. The finals concluded the summer's swimming competition between Pine Lake, Orchard Lake, Forest Lake, Meadowbrook and Birmingham Country Clubs and the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

Did You Read Her Cards?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: During my visit with a relative recently I went out to the mail box on occasion and brought in the mail. I usually looked through the mail on my way to the house to see if there was anything for me. My cousin happened to see me do this one day and said that she did not like people looking through her mail.

"I was embarrassed and rather hurt over this as I could see nothing wrong in what I did. However, it has been bothering me and just to ease my mind I would like to know if I was wrong to do what I did?"

Answer: Few would object to your running quickly through the mail to catch anything addressed to you, but if you examined each letter to see where it came from and perhaps even read some of the postcards, your cousin had every right to criticize you.

How to Load Dryer

Here's an easy rule of thumb to remember when loading your dryer. An average washer load is generally a good dryer load. Overloading is not only uneconomical, but also produces poor results.

Ice cream cones were the order of the day at the swimming meet. Watching "Daddy" present awards are Mrs. W. Sterling Gordon and daughters Debbie and Patty. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, representing Forest Lake Country Club, were in charge of awards.

Dear Abby . . .

This Marriage Shipshape?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am ashamed to ask anyone else this question because I am afraid they will laugh at me, but here is what I want to know. My daughter taught school for four years and is a respectable girl. She went on a vacation with another girl who also taught school. When they came back, my daughter had a man with her and they said they were married. They said they were married by a CAPTAIN of a ship. Now tell me, Miss Abby, are they married in the eyes of God and man? I doubt it."

ABBY

CONCERNED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A captain of a ship is authorized to perform civil marriage ceremonies. Call your clergyman and ask HIM if YOUR church HONORS this marriage.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: What has happened to the old family closeness? The only time we see our children is when they bring their children to our house (for us to tend) while they go off for an evening somewhere. They have nothing to say to us except what to feed the children and what time to get them in bed.

"We have to be invited to our children's homes because if we come when they are having other company they act all embarrassed and we feel like we butted in. Are parents strangers who don't fit in with their children any more or am I getting childish in my old age? I am 58."

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I think you ought to change your attitude. If you are not treated with affection and respect by your own children, don't allow them to "deposit" THEIR children with you as a convenience. Make your own friends and LIVE your own lives. If they don't wake up and realize how precious parents are, they will have many long years in which to regret it.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old and have a 10-year-old sister. We share one bedroom so half of it is hers. We are supposed to keep it in order. I keep my half in order but you should see HER half! It is very hard for me to clean MY half without cleaning her half and sometimes when I clean MY half you can't even notice it because HER half is so messy. Can you tell me what I can do with her? I am not allowed to hit her. Thank you."

NEAT SISTER

DEAR NEAT: "Draft" your little sister to help you tidy up your half, and you help her tidy up her half. Many hands make light work.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEBATING PARENTS: Let the boy invite his own friends. Your plans sound like more BAR than MITZVAH.

Two-Job Woman Has to Slight One of 'Em

By RUTH MILLETT

"It gives me an inferiority complex," writes a mother of three, "to keep reading about women who do ten times more outside their homes than I do, and yet are good wives and mothers, too.

"It takes all my time, strength and energy just to be a good wife and mother and to take part in the activities I feel are absolute 'musts,' such as church worker, PTA, Cub Scouts and Brownies.

"How in the world can a woman have a string of outside activities or a high-powered career of her own and yet never neglect her family?"

Stop feeling frustrated. The answer is, she can't.

There are only so many hours in the day, and if a woman fills most of them with club meetings, community work and so on, either someone else is looking after her children and running her home or her children are looking after themselves.

Sure, these superbusy women claim their husbands and children always come first, despite all the other things they do.

But if the husband and children were doing the talking, you would probably hear a different side of the story. While Mama is presiding as Madame President, the kids are coming home to an empty house when they get out of school, ad Pop and the kids are scrambling meals together.

And probably some good-natured neighbor is mothering the brood whose own mother is more interested in the world outside her home than in her family.

You can figure it out for yourself. If it takes most of your time and energy to run a house, keep a husband happy and bring up a family, some other woman can't do all that you are doing in the odd moments and spare hours that are left over from a life that is crowded with outside activities or a full-time, demanding career of her own.

Trick for Short Gal

A short, long-waisted girl who finds the shorter skirt look ungraceful on her can "trick the eye" by raising the waistline of her dresses, wearing her skirts a bit longer than the fashion, and never wearing them skin tight.

Chinese Reds Fire on Quemoy

Isle in Formosa Strait Shelled After Gunboat Is Sunk by Nationalists

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Chinese Communist artillery bombarded the offshore Quemoy Islands during the night shortly after Nationalist warships and shore artillery sank a Red Chinese gunboat, the Defense Ministry announced today.

Official sources in Taipei said the Communists were moving troops, tanks and anti-aircraft artillery into positions opposite Quemoy. The Communists already have built up jet bomber and fighter bases

Despite the big Communist buildup, Vice Adm. Wallace Beakley, commander of the U.S. Seventh Fleet, said the Navy is capable of "maintaining peace" in the 100-mile wide Formosa Strait and the Far East despite the crisis in the Middle East.

Beakley, in a cabled interview with UPI correspondent Arnold Dibble in Tokyo, said the threat to Formosa "has always been there and I do not consider there has been a great change today."

But Nationalist officials took notice of the Communist buildup and issued orders to all cities and towns in Formosa for emergency evacuation in case of Communist attacks.

Princess Meg Concludes Stay in Canada Today

HALIFAX, N.S. (UPI) — Princess Margaret returns home tonight to end a busy month-long tour of Canada.

Her final day's program was scheduled to be a heavy one, including taking part in Halifax's birthday celebrations and a network radio and television broadcast which also will be seen in the United States.

The Princess arrived in Halifax yesterday where she drew the biggest crowd of her Canadian tour when she appeared at an open-air choral concert on the slopes of this Atlantic port city's historic Citadel Hill.

Officials estimated the audience at between 30,000 to 50,000.

The royal train overshot the red carpet for the first time of the tour, and the engineer had difficulty backing up on the curve in the track.

Stiff upper lips prevailed, however, and the rest of the welcoming ceremonies proceeded smoothly.

Motel Business Booming Ahead

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nomads of the American highway have turned in an ancient industry into a booming billion-dollar business in the postwar period.

Boom is the only word that can describe the growth of the U. S. motel industry. The number of motels has more than tripled the past 20 years and new ones are being built at the rate of 3,000 a year.

Each night, industry sources Amerians plie out of their cars and into the nearly 60,000 motels, motor hotels and motor inns dotting the highways from Maine to California.

These travelers spend close to $1,500,000,000 a year in motels of all shapes and sizes.

Motels have been around in one form or another ever since man began roaming the countryside for the fun of it. Centuries ago they were called inns. Some of the earliest ones in this country cropped up at stagecoach stops.

Stephen W. Brener, vice president of Helmsley-Spear, Inc., noted that the motel business began to grow when the automobile arrived on the American scene.

"At first—in the 1920s—they were simple, utilitarian and scarce," he said. "But by 1935, they had grown to 10,000 and in 1939 totaled approximately 13,500."

He said World War II, with its crowded factory towns and training camps, fostered further expansion of motels as temporary homes for workers and families of servicemen. By 1946, there were 20,000 motels.

Today, Brener estimated, more than $5 billion is invested in nearly 60,000 motels, some of them ranging in size up to 400 rooms or more.

Motels now offer a host of "extras" for the guest, ranging from air conditioning and television to restaurants, bars and swimming pools.

With more and more people staying at motels, rather than driving into crowded cities looking for a hotel room, the big hotel chains such as Hilton, Sheraton and Knott have gone into the motel field with the construction of luxury motor hotels.

Right now, motel development around airports is booming. Industry spokesmen explain that people arriving at airports late at night do not feel like traveling into cities for a place to sleep.

While motels have built up their trade by catering to travelers, many also are beginning to gear their activities to community life. Dining rooms are open to local residents and rooms are available for private parties, meetings and other local activities.

★ ★ ★

But the picture is not all rosy. The federal highway program has more than one motel operator biting his fingernails. A new highway can divert traffic away from old roads where motels have been built, leaving them stranded high and dry. It's already happened.

Portrait of a Driver Prone to Accidents

BOSTON (UPI)—Recognize him? This man:

Has to be leader of a group or he quits.

Is very conscious of his physique.

Has a roving eye.

This fellow is the typical accident-prone driver, Dr. William T. Tillman, London, Ont., psychiatrist reported to the Massachusetts Medical Society. He based his findings on studies of 20 accident-high and 20 accident-low drivers.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Killer Bear's Remains Checked for Rabies Signs

JASPER, Alta. (AP)—Laboratory workers today checked for rabies the remains of a 400-pound black bear that killed a 7-year-old girl here last week after wrestling the child away from her mother.

However, national park wardens said they doubted rabies would be found. They said the bear appeared in good condition—it was just as healthy as the many bears frequenting the tourist camp grounds where the youngster was mauled.

The bear, about four years old, was no stranger to the Sunwapta Falls cabins grounds 30 miles south of here. Like other bears, it had often foraged the camp, looking for tourists' food handouts. Camp workers called the bear Victor.

When Victor emerged from the bush in his last visit Friday, Barbara Coates, 7, of Calgary and her five-year-old sister Allison were behind their parents' rented cabin picking strawberries. Both screamed and Allison ran inside the cabin but Barbara stumbled and fell.

The bear pounced on Barbara. Her mother, Mrs. Jack Coates, 30, tried to snatch her daughter clear. It sank its teeth into the child's back and dragged both her and Mrs. Coates about 50 yards into the woods before the latter was forced to release her grip.

The six-man jury asked that wide publicity be given to the accident, the first fatal accident with bears in Jasper National Park's history.

★ ★ ★

At Injured Daughter's Bedside as Wife Lies Near Death in Sweden

Back in Stockholm, his dying wife is in a coma. She has been seriously ill for months and broke a hip two days after the Ahlbergs' daughter Brigitta, a medical exchange student, left for the United States June 6.

In Greensboro, Brigitta lies in a hospital bed with her right arm gone and her face and chest deeply cut. She was injured Tuesday when she ran into an airplane propeller—only a few hours before she was to start the return trip to Sweden.

Ahlberg flew from Sweden Friday. He had a little good news last night when doctors said 23-year-old Brigitta has made good progress since he arrived.

Unheralded Pitchers Have Profitable Sunday

By the Associated Press

Bowsfield, Woodeshick, Hyde and Tomanek . . . ever hear of 'em? No, they're not partners in a law firm. Each is an American League pitcher. Among them they have a total of six complete games this year. But yesterday they reminded you of Lefty Grove, Carl Hubbell, Hal Newhouser and some of the other mound greats.

Ted Bowsfield, making only his second major league start, held the New York Yankees hitless until one out in the seventh inning as Boston rebounded from a 7-5 defeat to whip the American League champions 9-3.

Hal Woodeshick, Cleveland rookie, lost a 10-inning 4-2 decision to Kansas City after the Indians had walked off with an 11-2 triumph in the opener. But for six innings he held the Athletics without a hit and it wasn't until the ninth that he gave up his first run.

Washington relief expert Dick Hyde, overshadowed by Rine Duren's spectacular rescue roles with the Yankees, achieved his 16th save in the Senators' first game 6-2 triumph over Baltimore. He made his 40th appearance with two runners on base in the ninth and secured Pedro Ramos' 11th victory by retiring three straight batters. Baltimore took the second game 6-1.

Dick Tomanek, a non-distinguished left-hander, turned in a spectacular two-inning relief chore for Kansas City. He relieved Tom Gorman with the bases full, nobody out and the score tied 2-2 in the bottom of the ninth, and struck out Larry Doby, Rocky Colavito and Dick Brown. The ex-Indian fanned two more Cleveland batters in the tenth after Kansas City had broken the tie in the top of the inning.

Bowsfield, a 22-year-old resident of British Columbia, lost his bid for a no-hitter when Norm Siebern singled with one out in the seventh. The Yankees chased him with four straight hits in the eighth but 14 Red Sox hits against Bob Turley and two relievers insured the young lefthander's first major league triumph.

Cal McLish, backed by a 15-hit attack, including home runs by Doby and Vic Power, won his 12th for Cleveland in the first game. Roger Maris, who snapped Woodeshick's hitless string with a single in the seventh, smashed a two-run homer off the left-hander in the tenth of the nightcap to snap Kansas City's six-game losing streak.

Braves Collect 33 Blows, Dump Phillies Twice

Milwaukee Has Hit Parade

By The Associated Press

It will be a long time before the season's largest crowd at Philadelphia's Connie Mack Stadium will forget the Sunday fireworks display staged by the Milwaukee Braves.

Those 33 Milwaukee hits in the Braves 8-7 and 14-3 doubleheader sweep over the Phillies must still be ringing in the ears of the 32,117 spectators, as well as the six Philadelphia pitchers who tried in vain to halt the National League leaders.

Oddly enough, there were only two Milwaukee home runs—both by catcher Del Crandall—but Fred Haney's crew bombed five triples and ten doubles. Hank Aaron, who had five hits and scored five runs, had a pair of triples and a double. Eddie Mathews, with seven hits and six runs, had a double and triple. Frank Torre, who drove in five runs, had a double and triple.

Another top-season crowd, this one in Chicago's Wrigley Field, saw the Cubs split a doubleheader with the St. Louis Cardinals in a comedy of errors. The Cubs won the opener 9-4 as the Redbirds committed four errors. St. Louis scored five unearned runs on as many Chicago errors to win the second game 6-2.

A Los Angeles crowd of 20,831 watched seven home runs in the chummy Coliseum, five by San Francisco batters, as the Giants outslugged the Dodgers 12-8. The attendance swelled the three-game series total to 112,107 spectators.

Pittsburgh's fast moving Pirates completed a four-game sweep of Cincinnati; winning both ends of a doubleheader 3-2 and 4-3. A Forbes Field crowd of 26,426 saw the Pirates win the opener on Dick Stuart's 10th inning sacrifice fly, and the second game on an eighth inning force play.

★ ★ ★

Relief pitcher Humberto Robinson shared the spotlight with Torre in Milwaukee's first game victory. Robinson hurled two hit ball through the last 6 2-3 innings after relieving reliefer Gene Conley in the third. Torre, who batted in four runs, drove in Aaron with the winning run in the eighth. Aaron had opened with a triple off loser Jack Meyer.

Mathews had four for four in the second game, including his 1,000th major league hit. Crandall's pair of homers accounted for four runs as the Braves pounded loser Robin Roberts and three reliefers for 19 hits, including seven doubles, three triples and two home runs. Rookie Carleton Willey won his seventh against three defeats. Richie Ashburn's 15-game hitting streak was snapped in the nightcap and the Philadelphia outfielder fell behind Stan Musial in the batting title race.

Cincinnati's double loss dropped the Redlegs into a last place tie with Los Angeles. Roman Mejias singled in the tenth, advanced to third on Roberto Clemente's double and scored Pittsburgh's winning run on Stuart's long fly. With the score tied 3-3 in the eighth inning of the second game, Ted Kluszewski walked, Bob Skinner singled his pinch runner, Dick Schofield, to third, and Schofield scored when Frank Thomas forced Skiner at second. Bill Mazeroski homered in each game for the winners.

Bertoia's Bunt Gains 12-Inning Nightcap, 4-3

Attempted Steal Home Sidelines Martin for Possibly 3 Weeks

DETROIT (AP) — Third baseman Billy Martin may be lost to the Detroit Tigers for as long as three weeks.

The injury to the aggressive little infielder dimmed Detroit jubilation over a come-from-behind 4-3 triumph over the Chicago White Sox in the second game of a long doubleheader yesterday. Chicago won the opener 5-2 on a three-hitter by Ray Moore and Early Wynn.

Martin was injured in the fourth inning of the nightcap when he collided with White Sox catcher Earl Battey on an unsuccessful attempt to steal home. Not only did Martin suffer torn ligaments about his ribs—but the out helped kill off a budding Detroit rally.

But by a strange quirk, the injury got Reno Bertoia into the contest. It was Bertoia's squeeze bunt in the bottom of the 12th inning that scored the deciding run after the Tigers loaded the bases on a single and two walks with one out.

Bertoia, once the club's regular third baseman but benched for a couple of months—except for occasional duty—because of light hitting, bunted safely near the mound. The hit scored Frank Bolling, who led off the inning with a single to left.

Martin was taken to a Detroit hospital and X-rays showed there were no ribs broken. But the infielder explained after the contest that the doctor had told him "It would be better if they were broken."

Manager Bill Norman did not order a steal of home. The Tigers had scored once in the inning on Charlie Maxwell's eighth home run that trimmed the Chicago edge to 2-1. With one out, Martin singled to the right and the bases became loaded when Red Wilson singled and Coot Veal walked.

"I wasn't even thinking about stealing," Martin explained. "I was just trying to bluff the pitcher (ex-Tiger Bob Shaw.) But when I noticed he was taking an extra long windup I decided to try it."

The third Detroit pitcher, George Susce, pitched two-hit relief ball over the last four innings and got credit for the victory, his fourth against one loss. Jim Wilson hit a wild streak after a heavy rain delayed play 20 minutes halfway through the 12th inning. Until then he faced the minimum nine batters in three innings of relief work. He was the fifth Chicago hurler.

The Sox wrapped up the first game early for Moore, who owns a 10-2 lifetime mark against the Tigers. Four singles produced a pair of second inning runs and Jim Rivera homered for two more in the fourth. He drove in another with an eighth inning sacrifice fly.

Ex-Yankee Bob Grim was to oppose the Tigers' Jim Bunning today as the Kansas City Athletics came to town to close the home stand. Bunning has failed to win since his no-hit effort against Boston July 20.

NATIONAL HONORS — This is the triumphant Pontiac Roller Skating team which took the high-point trophy in the American meet last weekend at Cleveland for the 4th time. The trophy is awarded to the team with the most points covering all divisions of skating. The Pontiac team took six first places and five seconds. In the picture are (left to right) Louis Parker, Mary Clouse, Sylvia Ritchie, Marcia Muthum, David Marchewka, Sue Welch and Ricky Martins.

Bloomfield Shooter Shotgun Champion

Pace and Hickey both shot 23 in the bird course, 25 in the regulation trap and 23 in the skeet competition for a total of 71 out of 75. But Pace outshot Hickey 22 to 21 in the shootoff on the bird field.

Joe Hagerty of Freemont, Ohio, won the non-resident title with a 23-24-24—71 and the professional champion went to Robert Erickson of Minneapolis, who shot 70 out of 75.

Ready, Aim, Fire!

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, (AP) — The month-long National Pistol and Rifle Championship races start here tomorrow, with the pistol competition lasting through Friday.

The small bore (.22-caliber) rifle title chase will be held Aug. 17-22, followed by the high-power (.30-caliber) rifl competition from Aug. 28 to Sept. 6.

Swim Picture for '60 Olympics Bright

INDIANAPOLIS Ind. (AP)—America's young swimmers didn't challenge Australian and Japanese records in the AAU National championships over the weekend, but they will be contenders at Rome in 1960.

That is how the U.S. swimming situation was sized up by such veteran coaches as Bob Kiphuth, in his 42nd year at Yale, and Mike Peppe, 28 years at Ohio State.

"If the Olympics were today," Peppe said, "Australia and Japan would beat us. By 1960, these strong teen-agers can challenge anybody."

The Indianapolis Athletic Club successfully defended its team championship with a young crop of native Americans. The team champion seldom has repeated in the AAU.

Jon Henricks and Murray Rose, Australians borrowed from the University of Southern California by the Los Angeles Athletic Club, were as terrific as expected—but they couldn't push their team higher than second, 83 points to the IAC's 93.

Frank McKinney Jr. of Indianapolis, 19-year son of the former Democratic National Chairman, successfully defended both his 100 and 200-meter backstroke championships, setting an American and AAU record of 2:20.8 in the 200. He was pushed to the limit in the 100 by Cleveland's Louis Schaefer, the national high school champion, and tied his own AAU record of 1:04.5.

The Indianapolis team uncorked a couple of real surprises in Mike Troy, a June high school graduate who tied the AAU record of 1:02.8 in winning the 100-meter butterfly; and Allen Somers, who still has a year of high school but finished a stout third in the punishing 1500-meter freestyle.

The 17-year old Troy, although he swam for the Indianapolis Athletic Club, is a product of a public parks age group swimming program. Such programs, Coach Peppe told newsmen after the meet, is the way the United States can overcome government-subsidized swimming programs of some other countries.

Rose, the blond vegetarian who won the 400 and 1500-meter freestyle events, also was surprised by the American youngsters in his first AAU outdoor meet. He was especially impressed by Somers.

Rose's 4:25.5 time in the 400-meter freestyle was an American and AAU record and better than his accepted world record, but he has had a slightly better time not yet accepted.

Henricks won the 100 and 200-meter freestyles in meet record times of 55.8 seconds and 2:05.2, the later also an American record; swam on Los Angeles' winning 800-meter freestyle relay team, and beat Indianapolis' young Bill Cass in a sizzling final leg of the 400-meter medley relay.

Pee Wee Grid Clinics Will Start Tomorrow

All boys 55 to 110 pounds attending the clinic at 3:30 p.m. at Whitfield School must bring their own pads, helmets and shoes.

Junior Baseball Champs Settled

Cranbrook, Boys Club, Yanks Take City Titles in Sunday's Finals

Cranbrook in Class D, Pontiac Boys Club in Class F and the Midget division and the Yanks in the Widget group are the 1958 champions of the City Junior Baseball League.

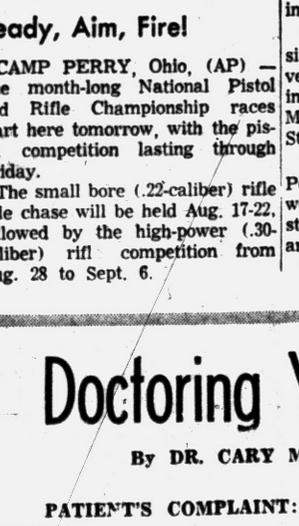

The four teams wrapped up their divisional crowns Sunday in the finals of the annual playoffs at Jaycee Park. Class D, F and Midget winners will now enter the district tournaments. There is no further play for the Widget champion.

Boys Club nailed down the Midget title in sensational fashion when Tom Zink pitched a no-hit, no-run game over B&B Cleaners, 1-0. Rudy Ranson hurled an ill-fated three-hitter for the losers and gave up the game's only run in the 6th inning. Zink's masterpiece featured 11 strikeouts.

In the Class F final, the Boys Club hammered out 13 hits while crushing the Auburn Heights Boys Club, 22-4. Bob Rabaja made four safeties in five tries for the new "F" champs.

The Yanks collected 10 hits and scored the same number of runs for a 10-2 rout of the Little Braves in the Widget title game. John Krause and Dave Burhans both homered for the Yanks.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "I Never Sink a Long Putt!"

DIAGNOSIS: Half-hearted Attempts.

TREATMENT: I've heard many golfers bemoan the fact that they "never" hole a long putt. This complaint is generally accompanied by a further complaint that their opponents sink a lot of "lucky" putts. I figured this out a long time ago.

The ones who don't ever get a long one are the ones who have three-quarters given up before they even hit the putt. They know that long putts seldom drop, so they just don't bother to REALLY TRY. They just make a half-hearted pass at the ball, vaguely hoping to get somewhere close.

The "lucky" ones try for everything. They also know that chances are against sinking a long putt, but they get down and level on 'em anyway. They give it the old college try.

SKI EXPERTS — Handsome in more ways than just water-ski performing, were these feminine experts who took part in the two-day Midwest Regional Water-Ski Championships at Lake Sherwood. Tops among the quintet was tiny, 16-year-old Norine Bardill (center) of Evanston, Ind., who compiled a MRC record 1,250 points for junior trick riding. She also won the slalom and jumping for a junior women's sweep. Others are: (left) Joan Spalding, Joanne Burgie, both of Toledo; right of Norine are Sue Maurer of South Bend, Ind., and Susie Morganthaler of Ft. Wayne. Sue Maurer won the women's slalom.

Hawaii Kai Gold Cup Victor

Regas Triumphs at Record 103 Miles Per Hour

Bill Muncey Injured as Thriftway Sinks to Bottom of Lake

SEATTLE (AP)—A blushing pink giant, fresh from the mothballs, Hawaii Kai III thundered to victory yesterday in the 51st Gold Cup speedboat race at a record pace of 103.481 miles per hour.

Coral Reef of Tacoma, Wash., was second in the 90-mile classic. Gale V of Detroit placed third. Maverick, from Lake Mead, finished fourth in the overall point standings although the Bill Stead-driven hydro did not get out of the pits for the final race.

Driver Bill Muncey and five coast guardsmen were injured in one of the most spectacular accidents in Gold Cup history, none seriously. Five howling unlimited hydroplanes had jammed into the first turn after the start of heat 2A when Miss Thriftway lost her rudder.

Muncey fought the wheel to pull the three-ton juggernaut—she was traveling more than 140 miles per hour—away from the log boom and its tightly packed row of pleasure boats. Thrifty hit the patrol vessel full tilt and the two sank together. A skyfull of red flares stopped the race and it was rerun an hour later.

Although she was the only boat sunk, Thristway was not the only one to miss the final heat of the 1958 Gold Cup. Before a crowd estimated by police at "the usual half-million," a record field of 16 boats was ready to answer the starter's gun. To accommodate them, heat 1 was split into three divisions.

Little Jack Regas set the stage for eventual triumph by driving the Kai to victory in heat 1A at an average 108.734 miles per hour. Miss Pay 'N' Save, another hometown entry, won heat 2A at 93.7 m.p.h. and Muncey brought home Miss Thriftway in heat 3A at 108.259.

Only 11 boats were healthy enough to attempt a second-heat start. Miss Bardahl, Thriftway too and Miss Seattle of the home fleet and Miss Supertest of London, Ont., were beached with mechanical aches. Miss Spokane had a 4-foot-long hole in her stern, memento of a too-close turn ahead of Detroiter Bill Cantrell in Gale V.

The Maverick, a red hot contender from Lake Mead, never got out of the pits for the final 30-mile chase. Gale VI blew a supercharger on the first turn. Hawaii Kai won the heat at 96.273, with Coral Reef in close but futile pursuit.

Hawaii Kai earned 2,000 points, exactly twice the total of Coral Reef. Gale V scored 638, Maverick 600, Gale VI 525 and Miss Burien and Miss Spokane 450 each. The Kai got 400 for each victory, 400 for the fastest heat and 400 more for the best total time. Muncey had set the old race record at 101.978 last year.

Lions Picked by 13 Points

Stars Good on Paper

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

On paper, the College All-Stars appear to have the horses to give the World Champion Detroit Lions a rousing battle, but by the standards of pro and college football, the Lions should make it as easy as eating pie.

The Brown style however has not been too effective against the Lions since the Cleveland pros have won only three times in 17 games against Detroit.

The All-Stars are never given the favorite's role in the game although they have managed to win seven times against two deadlocks and 15 pro victories.

The All-Star game will be played under professional rules, entailing offensive and defensive platooning. This, of course, precludes any demonstration of the new collegiate two-point conversion rule. This fall, the collegiate grid forces will be able to kick for one extra-point, or run or pass for two points after a touchdown.

The All-Star backs need no introduction to college football fans throughout the nation. They include Jim Pace of Michigan, Bobby Mitchell of Illinois, Dick Christy of North Carolina State, Walt Kowalczyk of Michigan State, Len Lyles of Louisville, Clendon Thomas of Oklahoma, Phil King of Vanderbilt, and Jim Jones of Washington.

Graham's All-Star coaching staff includes Don Paul, Don Doll, Pete Pihos, John Sandusky and Ara Parseghian, Northwestern's head coach, all of whom have played pro ball.

"We may be playing by memory come Friday night," said Graham, "but we know what to expect. The question will be whether our boys can offset inexperience with determination and aggressiveness."

CIO Wins Class B Title; District Tourneys Next

CIO Local 594 completed the list of 1958 City League softball champions Saturday night by nosing out Stadium Inn, 2-1, in the finals of the Class B playoffs at Beaudette Park.

The Union Club spotted Stadium a 1-0 lead in the 2nd inning, then scored once in the 3rd and tallied the winning run in the 6th. Gist pitched a three-hitter to get the best of Verle Sheldon who allowed six safeties.

In Women's League softball activity last night at North Side Park, the All-Stars clubbed 17 hits, including four home runs, to hand Costello's Trucking a 13-3 drubbing. Nancy Oldham clouted two homers while Marlene Sternberger and Margaret Liddy each socked one round-tripper.

Tonight's games:

Beaudette—CIO Local 594 vs. Lakeside Royals, 7, and Elks No. 810 vs. Birmingham, 8:30; North Side—Franklin Products vs. Griff's Grill, 7, and Sports Shop vs. Autos of Europe, 8:30.

Coast Athletic Heads to Select 1960 Bowl Team

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The athletic directors of the recently dissolved Pacific Coast Conference will select the west coast entry for the 1960 Rose Bowl, the Oregonian said today.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The proposed arrangement, the Oregonian said, will not receive official recognition until confirmation is given by other parties to the Rose Bowl contract — the Tournament of Roses Assn., the National Broadcasting Co. and the Big Ten Conference, which sends the other team to the New Year's Day classic at Pasadena, Calif.

Dallas Wants Big Ten

DALLAS (AP)—The Cotton Bowl is interested in a tieup with the Big 10 President Jack Lowe said Sunday.

Noting that the Pacific Coast Conference, which has a contract with the Big Ten for appearance in the Rose Bowl, had dissolved, effective June 30, 1959, Lowe declared that "we'd be very interested in discussing such a contract with the Big 10."

Shifty Breezes Keep WLYA Sailors Alert

Frank and Joanne Fleck led the snipe division with Chuck and Carol Morris edging Ray Frankell and nephew Allen Frankell. Harm Gillen and Paul Saghy were firsts in thistles, with Don Zannoth and Phyllis Seabaldt 2nd, ahead of Ed Nelson.

Jack Berlein's new lightning, with Gene Morris and Bob Haggard his crew, led the way home, followed by Bruce Brede, Fred Sr. and Fred Jr. who slid past Glen Fries, Jo Fries and Neil Wheeler for 2nd place.

WLYA held a further dicussion of plans for the annual, colorful "Venetian Night," now set for Saturday, Aug. 23.

Birmingham LL Starts Regional Action Tonight

Birmingham, which took the Michigan Little League title from Hamtramck Saturday, faces its first regional test here tonight against Elyria, Ohio, the Buckeye State champion. The Little League, for 10, 11 and 12 year olds, will hold its world's series in Williamsport, Pa. Aug. 19th.

The 3-2 victory behind the pitching of Tom Angyal, ended Hamtramck's 5-year reign as Michigan Little League champion.

Grays Pace-Setters for PYC's Sailors

The Alton Gray family crew set the winning pace for Pontiac Yacht Club's fleet of lightnings, for the Sunday morning races on Cass Lake.

Texas Sailor in Finals

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Bob Mosbacher of Houston, Tex. eased his International 110 sailboat ahead on the next-to-last lap of the final heat Sunday for a victory in the Mallory Cup semifinals.

The triumph placed Mosbacher and his crew of George Francisco and Pete Masterson in the North American Yacht Racing Assn.'s national championship on Long Island sound Sept. 15.

Qualify 3 for Nationals

State Skiers Do OK in Midwest Test

By H. GUY MOATS

Michigan's water skiers performed very well in the big weekend 11-state Midwest Regional Championships at Lake Sherwood, near Milford, where 21 champions were named in seven divisions. These top performers all qualified for the Nationals (American Water Ski Assn.) in September, at Pine Mt., Ga.

★ ★ ★

Other Michigan skiers in the title-winning list included Bud Warren of Wolf Lake club, Jackson, in the senior slalom, and Bill Willis, also of Wolf Lake, in the junior slalom.

Probably the most outstanding performance was that of tiny shapely 16-year-old Norine Bardill of Evansville Ind., who went "all the way" in the girls (17 and under) division, for a Midwest Regional Assn. record point total of 1250, for tricks. Norine also shared the mixed doubles title with Joe Grimaldi.

The 5-foot tall, 88-pound blonde grabbed all three titles in her division, leading the slalom contenders with 30 and the jumpers with 50. Norine's red suit flashed 51 feet in the jump. She is a Evansville High and Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. high (in the winter) senior this fall.

Norine has been water-skiing only two years and is rated by Midwest veterans as a potent prospect for the national junior trick crown now held by Vicki Van Hook of Florida.

Several thousand water-ski fans jammed the Lake Sherwood shoreline along the course where the two day long competition took place. Midwest officials acclaimed the meet as one of the best the regional has enjoyed in years. Only one casualty was reported. Charlene Moorehouse of Elkhart, 3rd place winner in the girls' division tricks, suffered a slight concussion Sunday when she hit the water, upended, after a jump. Charlene later returned to the meet after treatment at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. She did not, however, continue competition.

Area skiers who placed in the event included Ken Obert (Cass Lake club), who was 2nd in Junior Division tricks; Bill Hart of Lake Sherwood, 3rd in Men's jumping.

CIO Local 594 swept a doubleheader from Griff's Grill, 5-4 and 3-1, and Our Jets defeated champion Shaw's Jewelers in a single game, 4-2, as the Class A City Baseball League's regular season came to an end Sunday afternoon at Wisner Field.

The annual Class A playoffs begin thursday at Wisner with the runnerup CIO meeting the Jets in a best-of-three series with the winner facing Shaw's for the city title and the right to enter the state tournament at Battle Creek.

Pitcher Jim Addis was touched for 11 hits by Griff's, but he was effective in the clutch as the Union Club won the 5-4 opener. Russ Lothery's home run featured Griff's three-run rally in the 7th which fell one short of the mark.

A 7th-inning homer by Jerry Vallad ruined Ted Reaver's shutout attempt in the 3-1 nightcap. Reaver allowed the Grill team five hits, three in the 7th stanza.

Three runs in the 6th inning gave the Jets their victory over the league champs. Joe Soto hulred the distance for the Jets while Don Picman and Dave Gaddis shared mound duties for the Jewelers with Picman the starter and loser.

Miss Faulk rallied to defeat Joyce Ziske of Milwaukee on the 18th hole. She finished with a 216 par over the 54 holes while Miss Ziske had a 217.

★ ★ ★

Tied for second with Miss Ziske was Mrs. Marlene Bauer Hagge. Miss Faulk picked up the first place prize of $1,040. Top amateurs sharing in the $500 merchandise prize were Lois Drafke of La Grange, Ill., with a 232 and Mrs. Paul Dommers, Belvidere, Ill., with 233.

2 Russian Stars 'Purged'

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russian track and field squad continued its workouts for the Eurppean Championships Aug. 18 at Stockholm, but minus two of its stars who were "purged" yesterday.

Nina Ponomareva, the Soviet woman discus champion who provoked an international controversy two years ago when accused of shoplifting, and world record shotputter Miss Galina Zynina were both dropped from the Russian squad.

Tamara Tishkevitch, Soviet and Olympic champion shotputter, lost all the medals she won at a recent Soviet track meet but remained on the squad.

The all-Union Soviet Track and Field Committee said the two women were dropped "for egotism and unsportsmanlike behavior."

The newspaper Soviet Sport said Miss Zynina and Miss Tishkevich were further charged with "behaving in a manner incompatible with ethics of Soviet sport."

Nina is better known as the girl who filched five hats valued at $2.50 from a London hatshop in September, 1956, and then was hidden for 44 days in the Soviet embassy until the matter was settled in court. It cost the Russians $8.82 for the hats and Nina's return to Russia.

Eastern Kentucky Still Ours—Governor

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. A. B. Chandler says as far as he is concerned, eastern Kentucky is in the Commonwealth of Kentucky to stay.

"I am obliged to keep them. This is a case for the Legislature," he said regarding a proposal by a group of eastern Kentucky residents to consider seceding from Kentucky.

★ ★ ★

The secessionists, about 100 persons, including a state representative, met Friday in Whitesburg to protest what they say has been a state policy for 125 years—taxing the mountainous eastern district to the benefit of the lush bluegrass area and the wealthy western counties.

★ ★ ★

Yvonne DeCarlo Raising No Budding Delinquents

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — No budding delinquents are the children of Yvonne De Carlo, who believes in old-style, Canadian-type discipline.

Hers is a refreshing attitude in this town where the overprivileged, under-loved children of the famous grow up to make the scandal columns — and their parents wonder why.

PARENTS TOO BUSY

"I've seen it happen again and again in Hollywood," Yvonne observed. "The kids are given everything they want, as long as they stay out of the way. They're brought up by strangers, because the parents are too busy to devote any time to their own children."

★ ★ ★

A long-time bachelor girl, Yvonne now finds herself with a sizable family — two sons, one 2 years and the other 8 months old, and a stepdaughter, 10, by husband Bob Morgan. And when she's not working, she devotes as much time as she can to them.

"It's difficult if you choose to work," she admitted. "That means you have to have help in rearing your children. I had 10 nurses before I found one that I thought had the right attitude toward them.

★ ★ ★

"When I'm not in a picture, I try to make up for my absence by taking them places with me and spending the day with them. But I don't believe in catering to their every whim. I was brought up in Canada, and I've observed how discipline there and in Europe can help in bringing up children."

The pressures of Hollywood life have already shown on her stepdaughter, she said. Recently, the girl was comparing how many servants they had with those of her friends.

★ ★ ★

"We have no servants," Yvonne snapped. "We have people to help us in the house, but no one was put on this earth to serve us."

Yvonne said she is wary of some of the private schools catering to the children of movie stars.

"I wonder just how much kids learn in those schools. Or is life there made as easy as possible so the children will tell their parents that they love the schools?"

★ ★ ★

Yvonne was poised to leave for Rome, where she will play the title role in "Mary Magdalene" for an Italian company.

Lake Superior Depth Exceeds Chart Info

A new depth of 1,333 feet was discovered by a lake survey hydrographic party, according to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Col. Edmund H. Lang, district engineer of the U.S. Lake Survey, said the new depth in the world's largest body of fresh water will be shown on all future navigation charts.

Location of the three-quarter-mile-wide hole in the lake bottom was placed in American waters off Marquette and Munising, Mich., and was determined by the use of electronic positioning equipment.

★ ★ ★

Stillborn Baby Use Pondered

Bone Marrow From Aborted Infants May Curb Radiation Effects

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Stillborn, aborted babies may help save living children and adults from damaging effects of atomic radiation, a government nuclear scientist says.

Dr. Alexander Hollaender said that some scientists have produced what looks like very promising evidence that bone marrow from aborted mouse embryos is safer to use for treating the effects of radiation than bone marrow derived from fully developed mice.

★ ★ ★

The inference is that the same may be true for man, he indicated.

Injected bone marrow has been used in animals to stimulate formation has been impaired by formation has been impared by radiation exposure.

Dr. Hollaender said the marrow from fully-developed animals can cause undesirable side reactions. This appears to be lessened in marrow from mice taken by abortion, he said.

★ ★ ★

The scientist told about it in outlining some of the reports to be made at the world's first International Congress on Radiation Research, opening today at the University of Vermont.

Hollaender is chairman of the organizing committee for the congress, at which reports on radiation research will be made by scientists from both sides of the Iron Curtain. Seven Soviet scientists are listed to give papers.

Noise Tests Slated for British Jet Airliner

NEW YORK (AP)—A British Comet IV jet airliner, which streaked here on its first trans-Atlantic flight, is at Idlewild Airport for noise tests.

★ ★ ★

The tests, starting today, are aimed at determining whether the plane meets noise limitations set for the field. The Port of New York Authority, which operates Idlewild, gave permission for the Comet IV to visit the field. Four-engine jet planes without silencers have been banned at the field to lessen the noise nuisance to residential areas nearby.

The Comet carried 22 persons, including the crew. It was piloted by group Capt. John Cunningham, 41, chief test pilot for the De Haviland Aircraft Co., manufacturer of the plane.

Cunningham said the silencers were effective on the ocean flight and did not cut the plane's power materially.

What, No Bullets?

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Bartender Dale L. Davenport emptied the cash register while the gunman nervously waved his revolver. The gun fell open. Davenport leaped across the bar and, with the help of a patron, subdued the bandit. Davenport explained that when the gun flipped open, he saw only a cap compartment where the bullets should have been.

Ticket Punch Belongs to Conductor for Life

CHICAGO—Once a railroad issues a ticket punch to a conductor, it is his as long as he remains with the road. Many have used their punches as long as a half century and then passed it on to a son who followd in the father's footsteps. Sometimes a railroad lets a conductor keep his punch when he retires as a memento of his career. One conductor became so attached to his punch he was buried with it in his hand.

Biblical Manna Story Backed Up by Facts

Health System Irks Hungary

Finds Socialized Plan Works About Same as in Capitalist World

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungary's Communist government is complaining about the way its system of socialized medicine is working—partly because over a third of this country's 10 million people are still outside it.

"These people," says Health Minister Frigyes Doleschall, "are forced to buy back their health from the doctors and in case of more serious illness, must pay for hospital treatment. In other words they must obtain medical care in a manner that hardly differs from the one prevailing in capitalist countries."

Virtually all doctors in Hungary get a salary from the government. Patients pay for health service in the form of social insurance fees deducted from their salaries.

There are complaints that doctors neglect their insured patients in favor of private patients who pay directly. Sometimes insured patients also pay their doctors on the side. Some doctors live as well or better than the best-paid people in Hungary.

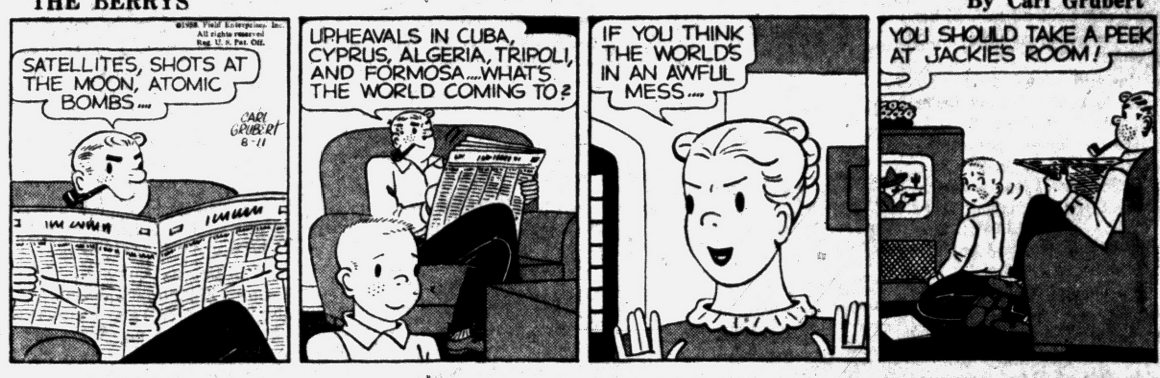

"In practice," Dr. Doleschall wrote in the monthly Belpolitikai Szemle (Review of Domestic Politics), "this means that the old capitalist system exists and that those who pay their doctors get far better treatment and many more advantages than those who go to them merely within the framework of the health insurance system."

Dr. Doleschall suggests that a special code of regulations should be drawn up and a doctors' ethical committee should be formed.

Grain Futures Slow to Start

CHICAGO (AP)—Dealings in grain futures got off to a slow start on the board of trade today and prices eased in nearly all contracts.

Dealers said there appeared to be a tendency among many large traders to await the government's report after the close of trading today on crop conditions and yields.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅜ cent a bushel lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.84¼; corn ⅜ to ⅝ lower, September $1.26½; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, September 63¼; rye ¼ to ½ lower, September $1.24¾; soybeans ¼ to ⅝ lower, September $2.24½; lard 3 to 13 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $12.85.

The only export business over the weekend was through the government export subsidy plan. The Department of Agriculture accepted subsidy bids of 14 to 21 cents a bushel on 742,000 bushels of corn and 13 to 14 cents on 157,500 bushels of oats.

Orders Pontiac Firm to Honor Guarantee

The Federal Trade Commission today ordered Infraglass Heater Co., Inc., of (350 S. Sanford St., to honor its advertised 5-year guarantee on its electric water heaters.

The Commission approved a consent order agreed to by Infraglass and the FTC's bureau of litigation.

An FTC complain of March 4 said Infraglass, despite the guarantee on its product, frequently refused to replace or repair heaters which broke down during normal usage.

The FTC order bars the company and its officers from claiming any merchandise as guaranteed when any provision of the guarantee is not honored. In addition, any conditions or limitations must be clearly stated.

Chile Claims Argentina Landed Marines on Isle

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Chile has charged Argentina with landing Marines on the island of Snipe in the Cape Horn area and destroying a lighthouse there.

Chilean and Argentine claims on territories off the tip of South America sometimes overlap. Chile says it has unquestionable rights over Snipe, but the protest note indicated that Argentina objects to Chile's maintaining a lighthouse on the barren island.

You Can Stretch Cash, Make Bigger Profit—If You're Lucky

Buying Stocks on Margin Has Advantages

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Buying stocks on margin has the pleasant advantage of letting you stretch your cash and make a bigger profit — if you're lucky. It also has the unpleasant factor of increasing your risk and adding interest payments to your loans — if you're unlucky.

In other words, to buy stocks partly on the cuff takes strong nerves and more trading skill than cash buying — if you're to escape ulcers.

Let's look at how margin trading works, what it will cost, and when the broker will tap you on the shoulder to put up more money or sell you out.

First, there are some do's and don'ts you have to follow.

The Federal Reserve has just said that in any new or expanded buying of stocks or bonds on margin the trader must put up 70 per cent in cash or collateral and the broker can lend him only 30 per cent of the stock's market price.

Those who already have accounts under the former rule of 50 per cent borrowed money may switch stocks without putting up more margin so long as they don't increase the amount of credit involved.

SEC rules require that only stocks listed on a United States stock exchange can be traded on margin. This keeps brokers from handling in this way over-the-counter stocks and those listed only on foreign exchanges.

The New York Stock Exchange says that no margin account can be started for less than $1,000 and that the broker members must charge no less than the call money rate — a call loan, usually for carrying or purchasing stocks, is one that either the borrower or lender can terminate at any time.

Brokers now charge around 4 per cent for the money they lend margin traders. But they can charge more than that — and do if the account is so inactive as to be unprofitable, if the trader's credit isn't top-drawer, or if the stocks he insists on trading are too speculative.

The stock exchange's rule on when more margin must be called works like this: If a trader buys a stock for $100 on 70 per cent margin and the price of the stock drops below $40, the broker must call for more margin, or failing to get it, must sell the stock and close out the account.

In practice, most brokers call for more margin before the stock has fallen that far. Mostly they call a short distance above the stock exchange's must level.

But they may call well above it if the customer's credit is becoming shaky, if the stock involved is a widely swinging or questionable risk, or if the whole market is in a fast tailspin.

The exchange polices its rules by annual audits of member's books by outside accountants, and occasional spot checks if market conditions call for them.

Proposes 8 Per Cent Hike in Social Security Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) urged today that old age benefits be increased 8 per cent instead of 7 per cent as provided in a House-passed Social Security bill.

In testimony prepared for the Senate Finance Committee, he also advocated an increase in lump-sum death payments and an amendment to provide aid for dependent children with unemployed fathers.

At the committee's first session on the bill Friday, Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming vigorously opposed a section that would increase grants to the states for public assistance programs by 288 million dollars in the first year.

Flemming said he would recommend a presidential veto if this provision of the House bill were retained. But the secretary endorsed the proposed 7 per cent increase in Social Security insurance benefits, to be financed by a higher payroll tax.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy contended an 8 per cent increase is necessary to cover higher living costs.

"While the difference may seem small on paper," he said, "it is a vital dollars-and-cents difference to our retired workers and their families."

Kennedy also urged removal of the present dollar ceiling on lump-sum death payments and a return to a provision, previously in the law, for payments equal to three times the monthly benefit to which an insured worker is entitled.

He said this would mean a maximum payment of $381 instead of the present ceiling of $255.

"The meager lump-sum payments now provided," Kennedy said, "will not take care of even a very modest funeral, to say nothing of helping to defray last illness expenses."

A third amendment proposed by Kennedy would permit federal grants to the states to aid needy children of a father who is unemployed. He said present law restricts such aid to cases arising from the death, disability or desertion of a parent.

In separate prepared testimony, a spokesman for insurance groups opposed the bill and asked for further congressional study of the need for increased Social Security benefits.

John H. Miller, vice president of Monarch Life Insurance Co., Springfield, Mass., said: "In the final analysis we are forced to conclude that the bill under consideration would liberalize the (Social Security) system when a need for such liberalization has not been adequately demonstrated."

Miller spoke for the American Life Convention, the Life Insurance Assn. of America and the Health Insurance Assn. of America.

DETROIT (UPI)—De Soto Division of Chrysler Corp. will show its 1959 models to its dealers at the auto industry's greatest dealer conclave in history next month.

★ ★ ★

J. B. Wagstaff, De Soto general manager, said about 3,000 De Soto dealers, wives and factory executives will attend the special showing, scheduled to celebrate the 30th anniversary of De Soto, Sept. 22 and 23.

Wagstaff said the meeting will conclude with an all-time record mass factory driveaway of an estimated 1,200 1959 De Sotos.

He said the mass meeting also was designed to give Detroit's sagging economy a shot in the arm.

Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co. today announced they will gradually recall 42,000 and 40,000 workers, respectively, as the auto makers go into production of 1959 models.

General Motors Corp., biggest of the big-three car makers, announced late last week that new model production would lead to the recall of 100,000 of its hourly rated workers.

Ford said its 40,000-man recall would include the addition of 7,500 employes to the permanent payroll.

Chrysler, which announced that it will begin 1959 model production on Aug. 18, said total employment of hourly rate employes should reach 95,000 by mid-November. On that date Ford expects to be employing 102,500 and General Motors, 325,000.

Car Plunges 30 Feet Onto Ford Expressway

DETROIT (AP)—A car ran off a sharp curve, crashed through a guard rail and plunged 30 feet on the Ford Expressway today.

Miss Scott was thrown out when the car landed. The car remained in an upright position and continued over the opposite lane until it hit an embankment.

Police said McBride reached the curve at 50 miles an hour. A 20-mile limit is posted on the overpass.

Dow Co. Earnings at $1.78 Per Share

MIDLAND (UPI) — Dow Chemical Co. today reported sales of $636,201,143 and earnings after taxes of $46,059,181 for the fiscal year ending May 31.

Both figures, however, also represent declines from the preceding year when adjusted for the income of the Dobeckmun Co., which became a part of the Dow organization during the year.

Holders of the 25,877,131 shares of Dow stock outstanding, received a net amount of $1.78 per share, according to the firm.

President Leland I. Doan said earnings were "particularly disappointing due to a combination of reduced levels of operation and the continued pressure on profits inherent in the cost-price squeeze."

The company also bore heavy startup expenses at its new plant in Louisiana and its new synthetic fibers plant in Virginia, he said.

On establishing normal level of waters in Oakland and Woodhull Lakes, in Waterford Township and Independence Township, Oakland County, Michigan.
To whom it may concern, and particularly all owners of property fronting on, abutting on, or having access to or rights in Oakland Lake or Woodhull Lake or who are interested in having fixed and maintained the normal level of said lakes pursuant to the provisions of Act 194 Public Acts of 1939 as amended:
You are hereby notified that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors caused to be filed in this Court a petition praying for the establishment by this Court of the normal level of Oakland Lake and Woodhull Lake, said lakes being located in Sections 34 and 35 of Independence Township, and Sections 2, 3 and 11 of Waterford Township, Oakland County, Michigan;
You are further notified that the hearing on the petition will be held in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland on Friday, the 12th day of September, A.D. 1958, at the opening of Court on that day at 9:30 a.m., or as soon thereafter as Counsel may be heard;
You are further notified that upon said date the petitioner intends to ask this Court to establish the high level of said lakes at 957.50 feet above sea level, and if you desire to oppose this establishment of the level of 957.50 feet above sea level you should then and there appear and show cause, if any you have,
A. Why the normal height and level of said lakes should not be established; and PEA-PICKIN' STAR — Tennessee Ernie Ford doesn't come out with any simple yes or no answers to questions. Instead, the popular TV personality will usually reply with country-style metaphors, which fit the occasion very nicely.

His Metaphors Fit Occasion

Star Is Strong Believer in Relaxed, Comfortable School of TV

By GARBER DAVIDSON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tennessee Ernie Ford was asked if he planned any changes in his television show this fall. He didn't say yes or no or maybe. He said:

★ ★ ★

That's a Fordism. Ernie's no simple yes or no man. When the occasion calls for it he comes out with a country-style metaphor to fit. And usually it fits very nicely.

Asked for a few typical Ford phrases he came up with a hefty list, some of Tennessee origin and others coined by Ernie. Here they are, mostly self-explanatory:

"Thicker than fleas on a wet dog."

"Colder than a beaver's belly."

"I handed you a bucket, you may as well milk."

TV HIS MAINSTAY

Ford is doing very well in television and television is his mainstay. Unlike many other entertainers, he does not make movies or go out on night club dates, although he does appear at state and county fairs. His other entertainmen tactivity is making records.

"Bringing a show into the home is altogether different from the theater or a night club," he commented. "I keep remembering that I am being watched in the living room, where people are relaxed—where Pop is in his shirtsleeves, and where there is no baby sitter and they can change the channel at any moment."

★ ★ ★

Maybe the hillbilly singer has got himself a pretty good formula. At any rate, while his network (NBC) was retrenching and still hadn't re-sold many of its shows for the fall season, Ford was already signed up tight by his old sponsor and already making commercials for fall.

Stonemason, 75, Grieves at Loss of Home He Built

METAMORA, Ill. (UPI) — Many houses fall before the bulldozer when new highways are built, but few homeowners feel worse about leaving their property than does a 75-year-old stonemason here who personally built his stone dwelling.

★ ★ ★

Herman Weber built the house in 1941, using stone from creeks and fields near this Woodford County town. Now the state needs the property foor the construction of Ill. 116. The state set a price of $18,500 for the property, but Weber would rather have his home.

"You just can't replace it," he said. "There's all that sentimental value."

He looked at the stones, grey, green, blue, brown, red, and other colors, and said:

"I'd like to take some of them with me, but I don't know if they would clean well so they could be used again."

★ ★ ★

Weber has been a stonemason since he was 16, and iis still active Stonemasons, he said, are a breed apart; they aren't brickmasons, and there aren't many stonemasons left.

"It's hard to take, them coming in here and smashing that house to bits," he concluded.

Infant Asylum Closes; Foster Homes Better

The asylum, founded in 1904, once cared for as many as 60 children at a time, but populations of orphanages have declined because child welfare experts now prefer placing children in foster homes.

The Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul plan to abandon their present building in the fall. They are considering establishment of a small home for emotionally disturbed teen-age girls.

Increase in Youth Crime Troubling Britain Also

LONDON (INS) — An "appalling" increase in crime, and particularly crimes of violence, is causing the British Government, local authorities, police and public the gravest anxiety.

In 1954 the number of indictable offenses known to the police was 434,000 but by 1957 it had soared to 545,000 and is still rising.

More people are confined in the nation's prisons today that at any time in British history. In the year ending last March the total population of prisons and special youth prisons, known locally as "Borstals," has risen from 20,500 to 24,500. The government has publicly admitted that the prison population threatens to reach "unmanageable proportions."

What worries the nation so much is that the current crime wave is sparked by youth. In 1955 the number between 17 and 21 found guilty of indictable offenses showed an increase of 19 per cent over the previous year. It was recently revealed that the first six months of last year showed a further increase for that age group of no less than 25 per cent in the magistrates courts and 26 per cent in the higher courts.

Already experts like Sir Hartley Shawcross, former Labor Attorney-General, are publicly warning that something must be done to curb juvenile crime.

GRAVE CONCERN

"This problem of crime by young men, the carrying of offensive weapons, the prevalence of gangs, the hooliganism, is a matter of grave concern," Sir Hartley recently declared. "Unless we can reverse this trend, we shall experience the evils now being seen in some of the great cities of the United States. These young men are the fathers of tomorrow's children."

★ ★ ★

Sir Hartley believes the war, with its disruption of family life and discipline, familiarity with violence, and the living from day to day is a powerful factor in this trend. The war was followed by certain social and economic consequences of a more subtle kind and Sir Hartley contends that overfull employment has resulted in young men getting a rather distorted idea of their own value.

Whatever the precise causes of the current crime wave almost everyone in Britain is worried about the resultant violence and disorder.

London recently had its biggest crime week for months. Property and cash valued at over $280,000 was stolen in a single week, and in a number of cases people were brutually beaten. Bank messengers and others who carry money and payrolls are now demanding security guards.

★ ★ ★

Scotland Yard is vitally concerned with the rise in crime over the past two years. A special crime prevention committee has been formed at the Yard to study all aspects of crime prevention and make recommendations.

Nadler Ups Winnings to $232,000 Mark

The St. Louis, Mo., quiz whiz boosted his winnings to $232,000 by defeating Mrs. Lorna Hahn of Philadelphia, a Temple University history instructor, on CBS' The $64,000 Challenge.

Until last night, Elfrida von Nardroff was second to Strom. She won $220,000 on the NBC-TV show Twenty-One."

Shorter Strip for Jets Has Banked Turnoffs

INDIANAPOLIS — Banked runway turnouts being built at the Indianapolis Municipal Airport will allow pilots landing new jet air liners to speed off the main runways at as much as 63 miles an hour, permitting use of shorter runways.

★ ★ ★

The airfield, being remodeled with heavy-duty, wire reinforced concrete runways for the jet age, also is getting the nation's first flush center-line landing lights.

★ ★ ★

In landing, the pilot will run the plane's nose wheel along the countersunk white-light strips until flashing blue warning lights alert him, then peel off and follow a center line of blue lights countersunk into banked curves.

30 Million Persons Overweight in U.S.

NEW YORK — Health-insurance statistics indicate that about 30,000,000 people, or a fifth of the United States population, are overweight.

Studies reported by the Health Insurance Institute show that the average individual can expect his weight to increase from 2 to 4 pounds every five years up to age 60.

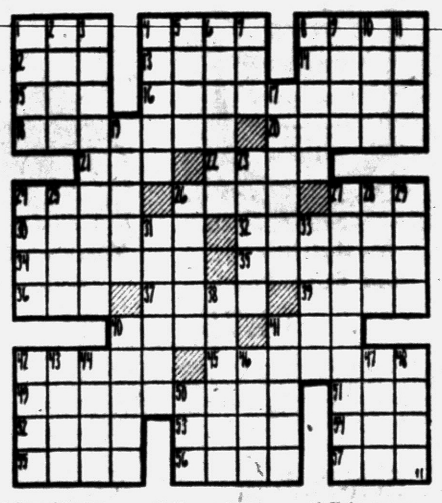

A man of average height who weighs 150 pounds at age 29 can expect a weight increase of four pounds by the time he is 34, and by the time he's 60 her can normally expect to weigh 163. This does not represent overweight, the institute says.

Police Find Evidence

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Tucson police were inclined to believe James J. Jackson, 43, had been involved with the law before. Jackson was arrested on a drunk charge. Items found when officers searched him included a policeman's night stick and a call box key.

New Mechanical Caddy Will Deliver Right Club

NEW YORK — Soon to appear on the market is a mechanized caddy that will deliver the desired golf club when the player dials its number. Club handles are clipped to an axial tube inside a cylindrical container. Their heads rest in two rubber bowls — one for irons, the other for woods. When the dial lever is turned, the tube revolves and the proper club appears in an opening on the side of the container. Made of aluminum the device is lighter than a conventional golf bag.

Fate Claims 2; 2 Others Survive

Iron River Man, Son of Friend Die as Plane Plunges in Storm

IRON RIVER (UP)—Fate played a role in a weekend plane crash fatal to an Iron River man and the teenage son of a friend.

Gary Jackson, 16, of Stambaugh, and Tom Rucinski, 40, of Iron River, were killed Saturday night when their storm-tossed light plane nosed into a Wisconsin swamp.

A second plane, piloted by Gary's father, Everett Jackson, 39, and with Danny May, 16, of Stambaugh, as a passenger, escaped the storm in an emergency landing in a farmer's field.

A sudden, violent storm hit the planes as the men and boys were returning on a 230-mile flight from Milwaukee where they had watched an air show.

FIND WRECKAGE SUNDAY

The wreckage of the Rucinski plane was found Sunday afternoon near Armstrong Creek, Wis., 30 miles south of Iron River. The bodies of the victims were taken to Crandon, Wis.

Leaving Milwaukee, Gary wanted to ride in Rucinski's "faster plane." So he and Danny swapped places.

The elder Jackson said the high wind flipped his plane upside down at one time. He followed a highway, finally making a safe landing in a field 15 miles south of here.

One theory was that Rucinski, in his faster plane, got to Iron River through the storm and then, finding no trace of Jackson's plane, turned back into the storm to aid him.
