The remains will lie in state at the Sparks-Griffin Chapel after 7 p.m. Wednesday. There will be a rosary service at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

Conscience Hurts Him —So He Makes Amends

McCOOK, Neb. (AP)—Cafe operator Lyle Modrell got a dollar in his mail this week.

A note said, "We ate dinner July 3. The woman I am married to saw right away the waitress made a mistake and charged $1.95 instead of $2.95. The woman I am married to insisted I didn't say anything. She thinks she knows all the answers. I hope this squares everything and I am in the clear."

Illinois Scandal Leads to First Official Arrest

Hodge's Aide Now Held in Embezzlement Case; Restitution Offered

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The first arrest was ordered last night in the investigation of the tangled financial affairs of Orville E. Hodge, who resigned under fire Monday as Illinois state auditor.

State's Atty. George P. Coutrakon obtained a warrant charging Hodge's top aide, Edward A. Epping, with embezzlement.

At the same time investigators for Illinois Atty. Gen. Latham Castle and sheriff's deputies raided Epping's Springfield apartment, seizing a number of papers.

Epping is considered a key figure in the case involving the alleged mishandling of more than half a million dollars in state funds.

Authorities are investigating reports that Epping cashed some improperly endorsed state warrants checks at the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co. in Chicago.

OFFERS RESTITUTION

Meanwhile, Hodge offered to "make restitution and attempt to hold the state of Illinois from any loss because of my actions." He made the statement after a conference with Coutrakon.

One source reported Hodge had told Gov. William G. Stratton and Atty. Gen. Latham Castle he believed he could raise a maximum of $400,000 to repay the state.

So far, investigators have determined that at least 42 state warrants were unexplainably issued by Hodge's office and cashed for $554,000. Some sources say the total in mishandled state funds eventually may be figured at more than $800,000.

Hodge's successor on the GOP ticket has not been named but Stratton yesterday named Dr. Lloyd Morey, 70-year-old president emeritus of the University of Illinois, as Hodge's interim replacement as state auditor.

Unemployment Pay Boost Dims

Lawmakers to Recess for Further Study of Jobless in State

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's stop-and-go special legislative session was expected to recess late today until Aug. 9 without acting on proposed boosts in state jobless pay.

* * *

House Democrats foiled Republican plans to recess yesterday with a motion to discharge the Republican-dominated labor committee from consideration of a bill to boost benefits for the state's 220,000 unemployed.

The motion was set for a vote today, but Democrats admitted they saw little chance of swinging the move.

Meanwhile, there was every indication that Republicans have no intention of yielding in the unemployment compensation fight.

SEES NO CHANGE

Consensus of party leaders was that no boosts are justified at this time and that the unemployment situation will improve in the fall when auto plants switch to new models.

Record Low Is Hit; Coolness to Remain

The Pontiac temperature dropped to 53 degrees between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning, breaking an all-time low record of 54 degrees on July 18, 70 years ago.

Partly cloudy and continued cool tonight and tomorrow is the Pontiac area prediction with a low tonight near 55, and a high of 74-78 degrees tomorrow. Friday and Saturday will be slightly warmer.

The outlook by the U. S. Weather Bureau for the next 30 days indicates that normal or cooler than average temperatures will continue, though over-90 degree weather has prevailed in August for many years.

The thermometer registered 78 at 2 p.m.

City Receives Protest Petition Over Rail Yard

Commission Promises Public Hearing Before Reaching Decision

A protest petition bearing some 1,462 names was presented the City Commission last night over the proposed $700,000 Grand Trunk Railway industrial support yard for the north side.

The document was submitted by a committee of the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club which has openly protested the project at several club meetings.

The commissioners heard another protest from GMC Truck and Coach Local 594 which read in part: "This project would reduce the valuation of our property . . . it is of utmost importance that another site be chosen."

The railroad seeks permission to construct the yard in the area south of Walton Boulevard, north of the present belt line, and between Stanley and Baldwin avenues—an area approximately 3,000 feet long and 300 feet wide.

WANTS PUBLIC AIRING

The City Commission had recommended an alternate location to the southwest paralleling Telegraph Road to forestall interference with a two-year plan to extend Carlisle and Stanley streets north to Montcalm. This would relieve congestion on Baldwin avenue, city officials explained.

The community club requested a "full public hearing be held before any decision is reached." The communication accompanying the petition was signed by Pontiac's State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson.

Commissioners assured several members in the audience last evening that a hearing will be announced to the public.

SAFETY INSPECTION FRIDAY

City Manager W. K. Willman said representatives of the Michigan Public Service Commission will inspect the Stanley and Carlisle crossings for safety on Friday.

"This is necessary before we can get permission to make these crossings of the railroad by street extensions," he said.

Members of the railroad and Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body plants appeared before the commission June 25 seeking city approval. The yard, if approved, would provide for increased handling of freight for both plants.

Pending decision on the location of the yard, plans of the Pontiac Board of Education for an elementary school north of Kennett road and east of the railroad's right-of-way, remain unsettled.

Sinatra to Sing for Democrats at Convention

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The manager of the Democratic National Convention has announced that Frank Sinatra has accepted an invitation to sing at the opening session.

J. Leonard Reinsch said Sinatra will sing "The Star Spangled Banner," the party's 1956 campaign song—to be announced later—and other songs Aug. 13, opening day of the convention in Chicago.

Reinsch said Sinatra cabled acceptance from Spain, where he is starring in a movie.

A spokesman for Sinatra in Hollywood said Sinatra plans to return to the United States before convention time.

The spokesman said Sinatra has entertained at a number of Democratic Party rallies in the past.

No Verdict as Yet From Hermiz Jury

DETROIT (AP) — A jury of nine women and three men today continued deliberations in the Victoria Hermiz - Maurice Hamilton murder trial today after being out five hours yesterday with no verdict.

Mrs. Hermiz, 30, and 19-year-old Hamilton, her reported lover, appeared tense and strained as they waited for the verdict in the butcher knifing of Mrs. Hermiz' husband, Aziz, while he slept Feb. 10.

The jury was told it could bring in any one of four verdicts for Hamilton and five for Mrs. Hermiz.

Either or both could be found guilty of first degree murder, guilty of second-degree murder, guilty of manslaughter or innocent.

A fifth possible verdict for Mrs. Hermiz was innocent by reason of insanity, which was the basis of her defense.

The jurors were sent under guard to a downtown hotel last night when they failed to reach a verdict by 10 p.m. and resumed deliberations today at 9 a.m.

'He Is a Dedicated Marine'

McKeon Defense Labels March a Tragic Accident

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (INS) — Counsel for Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon today characterized the death of six Marine recruits in the tidal waters of Ribbon Creek last April 8 as a "tragic accident."

In his opening statement to the seven-man military tribunal, defense attorney Emile Zola Berman described McKeon as "a dedicated Marine" who on the ill-fated night took his 74-man platoon on a march solely for the purpose of instilling discipline.

McKeon, a 31-year-old former drill instructor, is on trial charged with drinking on duty, oppression and involuntary manslaughter.

Meanwhile, the switchboard at Parris Island was lit up constantly with calls from Marine Corps veterans across the country who flocked to the support of Sgt. McKeon.

After describing McKeon's record as a combat veteran in the Pacific and his pride in the Marine Corps, Berman sought to explain the events that happened on the night of the "death march."

Berman said McKeon's platoon was composed of young men of all walks of life, whom the defendent was trying to make into a well-disciplined, inter-dependent body of men.

"But this platoon was not sharp," Berman declared. "It was undisciplined. They were not bad boys. But they were not taking their training seriously."

The defense lawyer explained there had been "minor incidents" on April 8. He said another drill instructor informed McKeon that members of the platoon were "lolling around and sleeping in the back of the barracks."

"To straighten them out, Sgt. McKeon ordered 'a field day'."

Curfew Clamped on GIs in Bonn to Reduce Crime

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — The U. S. Army imposed a curfew today on its 250,000 troops in Germany in an effort to curb GI crime.

An order issued by Gen. Henry I. Hodes requires soldiers to be in their quarters by midnight on evenings prior to duty days and by 1 a.m. on evenings prior to nonduty days.

"This command has been increasingly disturbed in recent weeks by unfortunate incidents involving American soldiers and German civilians," Hodes said.

"These incidents, with the attendant widespread publicity, constitute a threat to the splendid relationship between the U. S. Army in Europe and the people of the Federal Republic of Germany."

He said the curfew was ordered to help cut the incident rate to a bare minimum.

Senate OKs Bill to Allow Women Benefits at 62

Dems Hail 90-0 Vote; Disability Pay to Start at Age 50 for Eligible

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jubilant Democrats today hailed their Senate victory on the Social Security bill as marking an historic expansion of protection and retirement benefits for American families.

The Senate last night, after a 12-hour session, passed 90-0 the bill permitting all women to start drawing retirement payments at age 62 instead of 65 and totally disabled persons to receive benefits starting at age 50.

The six absent senators also were recorded as favoring passage.

But the Democrats squeaked through 47-43 on the most exciting battle of the debate—the proposal by veteran Sen. George (D-Ga) to put the disability program into the bill.

Voting for it were 41 Democrats and 6 Republicans, while 38 Republicans and 7 Democrats opposed it.

Senators Long (D-La) and Douglas (D-Ill) both told a reporter they considered that the Senate's decisions on the bill established a landmark in the 21-year history of the Social Security system.

COMPLETES TRINITY

Long said the originators and backers of the system have been striving since the 1930s to get disability payments written into the law. They say this now completes a trinity of protection which heretofore has included retirement and survivor benefits.

The House bill, passed last year 372-31, also contained the disability benefits and lowered retirement age for women in a somewhat different form. Thus these are certain to be in the final compromise product.

Democrats discounted any threat of a veto by President Eisenhower, even though the administration opposed both the key benefits in the bill as too costly. But they said the measure would provide prime campaign material this fall whether it is signed or vetoed.

GEORGE GETS CREDIT

Long gave full credit to Sen. George for getting the disability provision into the bill.

"I do not believe anyone else could have done it," he said.

1,200 Ringling Workers Scatter to Seek New Jobs

PITTSBURGH (INS)—The "Big top," packed away for the last time, left Pittsburgh for Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey Circus headquarters in Sarasota, Fla., last night, and the 1,200 workers who made it the "Greatest Show on Earth" scattered like the midway sawdust.

* * *

Most of the bewildered performers boarded circus buses for Florida, hoping that Circus President John Ringling North would give them work there. There was hope in that he promised there would be a 1957 circus, but only in "air conditioned arenas."

Other members of the troupe collected their pay and struck out on their own.

A standing-room-only crowd of nearly 10,000 saw the final performance in Pittsburgh.

Then, stung by North's announcement that "the tented circus is a thing of the past," the roustabouts "brought her down" for the last time.

Freda Pushnik, born without arms or legs, returned with her mother to their home in Conemaugh, Pa. The tall man, 8 foot 4 inch Gilbert Reichert, said he would return to Cleveland to sell shoes.

There were many reasons advanced as to why the show folded in mid-season: weather, labor troubles, television and just plain bad luck.

* * *

Mrs. Mary Barnum Hauck, whose mother was a Barnum, said the show should have remained "circusy."

She said: "Last year when they changed the big top into a frilly, girlie show, with no brassy and boom-boom bands, I knew they were making a mistake."

Today all that remained at the site of the last big top was a field of sawdust made soggy by rain. A band of boys had scoured the area thoroughly for mementoes of something they will never see again—the raising of the big top.

DIDN'T SHOW UP

And in Moundsville, W.Va., today was the day the circus didn't come to town!

The terribly disappointing news that the big top wouldn't go up in Moundsville was like the crack of doom.

Gaudy posters of the circus had proclaimed for weeks that the "Greatest Show on Earth" would appear in this city of 15,000.

* * *

The big top finally was coming to Moundsville, after years of persuasive effort on the part of the town fathers.

To the kids it seemed like an awfully long wait from the time advance men first put up those posters all along state Route 2, leading into town.

But the wait was almost over. The big day was at hand.

They clustered in little groups, boys and girls, and their fathers and mothers, too, planning on how they would get up at 2 o'clock in the morning and watch the elephants plod by.

Not many had ever seen any kind of circus before. And this was the biggest . . . about to come to Moundsville. There was many a tingling spine just thinking about it.

Then came the awful shocker!

Some people first heard the news when 6-year-old Bobby Goodrich came running down the street shouting: "The policemen are pulling up all the circus signs!"

To some people in and around Moundsville it was just beyond belief. Calls poured in to the chamber of commerce.

This was the day the circus didn't come to town.

Opera Season Canceled

Labor Tiff Closes 'Met'

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera, famed old queen of American musical companies, canceled the 1956-57 season last night in a labor squabble.

Opera lovers hoped for a change of heart on both management and union sides.

The opening of the new season, a gala social event each year, was scheduled for Oct. 29. Performances were to run until April 29 when the company was to start its annual spring tour.

The cancellation ordered last night came in an argument over dual jobs held by Robert Herman, 31-year-old son of former Brooklyn Dodger baseball player Babe Herman.

Young Herman is an assistant stage director and also an assistant to the artistic director. He is a union member in the first job but not in the second.

He served as secretary to the management in long negotiations with the American Guild of Musical Artists (AGMA) earlier this year. The union threatened then to prefer charges against Herman for acting on behalf of management.

The Met replied that it would cancel the 1956-57 season if the union had not signed by last night both a contract and an agreement to drop charges against Herman.

Last night the union, representing 220 singers and dancers among the Met's 500 employes, said it made a last-minute proposal to sign the contract and continue talks on the Herman issue later. But the company said no.

The Met's statement said:

"The association has taken the position that AGMA cannot insist that everyone who does an AGMA job must be an AGMA member and at the same time challenge the right of management personnel to be members of AGMA."

McKeon Defense Begins Argument

Berman continued. That meant the recruits had to clean up the barracks.

* * *

Berman said that later McKeon, deciding to teach the recruits discipline, told them he would lead them on a night march to Ribbon Creek.

* * *

The lawyer said the platoon "panicked" just before the six victims lost their lives.

INSTRUCTED MEN

He emphasized McKeon "led" his men through the marshland adjacent to the creek. McKeon was carrying a stick because he had been suffering from a slipped disc in his back.

A pale moon was out that night and, according to Berman, there was "considerable laughter" as McKeon led the men into the water.

The platoon was in groups at the time, Berman said one of the groups, in making a turn, got into the channel of the creek.

There was a sharp cry of "help," Berman declared. "Then there was panic."

Panic "does not lend itself to discipline," the attorney told the military court. He said the men started jumping on each other's back and yelling.

"McKeon realized the men were in real trouble," Berman went on. "He shouted for them to form a chain. Even though McKeon was not a good swimmer, he pulled one of the men out of the water."

Berman told the court that McKeon, member of a good family in Worcester, Mass., enlisted in the Navy when he was not quite 17 years old and was honorably discharged after serving three and one-half years in combat in the Pacific aboard the aircraft carrier Essex.

DEDICATED MARINE

He recalled that McKeon enlisted in the Marines in 1948, and served four years, and that part of this time he was in charge of a machine gun section in Korea. He re-enlisted in the Marines in 1955 for a six-year period.

"This man charged with oppression and manslaughter is a dedicated marine," Berman declared.

The defense counsel pointed out that nowhere in the indictment is there "one word or one suggestion" that McKeon was intoxicated on the night of April 8.

"We shall prove that the mission and methods employed by Sgt. McKeon were part and parcel, apology either by the court or warp and woof by which this Corps has built its wonderful tradition," said Berman.

"These methods require no by Sgt. McKeon."

Before Berman made his 35-minute opening, Maj. Charles B. Sevier delivered the prosecution's brief statement to the court.

Sevier told the tribunal it would hear the government's case through witnesses who will take the stand. He said presentation of the evidence will be lengthy.

Flue Linings Outside

ST. LOUIS — Clay flue linings used for many years in chimneys of hours and other buildings, are finding a new use as building exteriors. One motel has 15,000 six-inch sections of such material, separated by a half inch of mortar, making a wall that is held by steel angles at the top and bottom of each floor.

$$$ Attract 20 JP Candidates in Nevada Voting

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Twenty candidates are running for justice of the peace here and at Las Vegas—and the reason is not hard to find.

Justice of the Peace William Beemer of Reno netted $53,000 from marriage fees last year. Justice of the Peace John Mendoza did almost as well at Las Vegas.

Beemer had three opponents in his bid for reelection. Mendoza isn't running again. There's a local tradition at Las Vegas that you give the job up after serving a two-year term.

Van Fleet OK After Surgery

64-Year-Old General Healing After Removal of Bad Appendix

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet was reported today in satisfactory condition after emergency surgery for a gangrenous appendix.

* * *

The U. S. 8th Army commander in the Korean War was operated on at Alachua General Hospital yesterday after complaining of stomach distress.

* * *

The surgeon, Dr. F. H. Andrews, said in a bulletin at 11 p.m. last night that the 64-year-old general's "condition is satisfactory. Blood pressure and pulse are within normal range but there is a slight variation which you would expect with this sort of thing. I would consider it satisfactory."

The general, who has a home at Hobe Sound in south Florida, stopped off here yesterday after dedicating a shipload of 4-H Club cattle and hogs at Mobile, Ala., for Korean relief.

* * *

Taken to a room at the hospital, he demanded—and got—an air conditioner "set up in 10 minutes." A phone also was installed for the exclusive use of Mrs. Van Fleet.

Van Fleet retired in 1953 after a 38-year military career that included front-line duty in two world wars. Before taking command in Korea in 1951, he directed the ousting of the Communists from Greece as head of the U. S. military mission to that country.

New Greenhouses Made Out of Plastic

ATLANTA — Simple but cheap and efficient greenhouses are being built out of plastic. By using polyethylene, a translucent, non-shattering film that is a popular packaging material for fruits and vegetables, a do-it-yourself gardener can put up a hothouse at a low cost.

A structure 18 by 84 feet using a double layer of polyethylene costs about $100—$50 for the plastic and $150 for framework, doors, and laths. Materials for a conventional glass greenhouse the same size would cost about $4,000.

More than 60 per cent of Greece's annual production of milk comes from sheep and goats.

Steel Wage Talks Resume; Lakes Fleet Feeling Pinch

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Federal mediators were on hand again today as negotiators for the basic steel industry and the striking United Steel Workers headed back to the bargaining table to resume contract talks.

The talks were in recess yesterday to permit the industry's negotiating team to hold a secret meeting with top officials of the steel industry in New York.

No one would comment on the meeting. The identity of those who attended was not revealed.

From all indications, the industry has been standing pat on its original offer. That included a 52-month contract which the industry says would provide an hourly package boost amounting to 17 2-3 cents an hour the first year of the contract. The union wants a shorter contract and more money.

While the strike rolled into its 18th day, a few more scattered layoffs were reported, swelling the total of those idled in allied industries to around the 75,000 mark.

The strike has idled about 202 of the 258 ore ships on the Great Lakes, a survey by the Cleveland Plain Dealer showed today. The newspaper said if the strike continues the remaining 56 ships will be docked soon.

* * *

The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad announced it is laying off 409 workers because of the strike.

Iron Age, weekly magazine of the steel industry, said today long-range effects of the nationwide strike will be "far worse than most people realize."

Station Loses $160 to Gunmen

Police Link Holdup Trio to Two Earlier Stickups in County

Two armed robberies here Monday night are believed linked to another in Southfield Township early today

* * *

Descriptions of three gunmen and their weapons match "fairly well," Pontiac Police said.

About $160 was taken today when three men held up the gas station at Twelve Mile road and Northwestern highway, according to State Police of the Redford Post.

The men walked into the station at 1:45 a.m., looted the cash register and escaped by an undetermined means, troopers said.

PISTOLS THE SAME

Two men carried nickle-plated pistols and one a black pistol.

"It sounds like the same team which held up two gas stations here," Det. Sgt. John DePauw said.

Monday night about $167 was taken in similar holdups from gas stations at 494 Orchard Lake Ave. and 477 S. Saginaw St. Police do not know if an auto was used in either crime.

Meanwhile, DePauw said, two men tentatively identified by the Pontiac victims will go to State Police Headquarters in Lansing today for lie detector tests.

The pair denied any involvement in the robberies, DePauw added.

Social Security Law to Pay Women at 62

the Senate's most powerful orators, told his colleagues in an emotion-choked voice "this is the most important question I have ever presented to the Senate" in a career now drawing to a close after 34 years.

He staged a dramatic verbal duel over the amendment with his close friend, Sen. Byrd (D-Va), chairman of the Finance Committee. Byrd had joined with Republicans in that group to strike disability and age 62 retirement for women from the bill as the administration asked.

Under the disability plan, an estimated 250,000 persons would draw the payments averaging about $75 a month in the first year. They would have to meet strict rquirements of coverage under Social Security, and their disability must last six months before they are eligible for benefits.

A FIRST TIME

The lowered retirement age for women also is a trail-breaking provision. It marks the first time that the age 65 retirement deadline has been broken since Social Security started in 1935.

An amendment by Sen. Kerr (D-Okla), adopted 86-7, put the provision back into the bill yesterday.

* * *

The Finance Committee had left the 62 age for widows only. Kerr's proposal restored it also for working women and wives of retired husbands, but specified that they would get a lower rate of payment if they go on the rolls at 62 than if they wait until 65.

SPLIT TAX PAYS

A wife retiring at 62 would get 75 per cent of her age 65 benefit; a working woman doing the same would get 80 per cent. For each month beyond 62 that they delay retirement, they would get an increased benefit on a graduated scale.

The Senate bill provides for a half per cent tax boost, split between the employer and employe. This is to finance the disability program.

The House bill has a 1 per cent tax hike, also split equally, to pay for disability and the full retirement benefits at age 62 for all women under that measure.

Another provision of the bill, substantially the same in both versions, would extend Social Security coverage to an additional 200,000 persons, mostly professionals.

Included would be 110,000 lawyers, 65,000 dentists and smaller numbers of chiropractors, veterinarians, naturopaths and optometrists.

Polio Immunization Plan Ok'd by State Legislature

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature has gone half way with Gov. Williams on his request for additional funds to carry to completion an expanded polio immunization program.

* * *

After majority Republican leaders gave the signal, the House and then the Senate Tuesday quickly approved an appropriation for $831,600—a little more than 50 per cent of what the governor asked.

The bill made no provision for enlarging the program so that free vaccine could be distributed for administering three doses apiece to an estimated 400,000 boys and girls in the 14-19 age group.

Two other Democratic administration bills taken up by the lawmakers on their return after a month-long recess didn't fare as well as the polio measure.

* * *

The Senate Highways Committee corked up a bill to strike out the section of the motor vehicle code providing for licensing of children 14 and older to operate motor scooters.

DRIVER BILL DOOMED

And a flurry of opposition on the floor appeared to spell doom for a bill to allow the secretary of state to deny new drivers licenses to persons loosely classed as "bad" drivers.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, appeared last week before the Senate Appropriations Committee urging an extra $1,643,600 for the polio program.

* * *

Heustis said this amount would finance completion of a three-dose course of shots for all children aged 1 to 14 and pregnant women, plus vaccine for immunization of 14 to 19 year olds.

The sum would also have provided $245,000 for distribution to county health clinics on the basis of 35 cents for each shot administered.

The lawmakers voted only to complete immunization of the original priority group, or the so called "high risk" portion of the state population.

* * *

Without some sort of action, state health officials had cautioned, the polio program would have petered out in early August.

Marilyn Needs Cordon of Police to Control Fans

LONDON (INS) — Marilyn Monroe in a flesh-colored lace dress that featured a down-to-there decolletage caused such a sensation in London last night that four truck loads of police were needed to control her cheering fans.

* * *

Marilyn and her playwriting husband Arthur Miller went to see "South Sea Bubble," the play that stars Vivien Leigh, wife of Sir Laurence Olivier, who shares top billing with Marilyn in a soon-to-be filmed movie.

The newlyweds somehow got into the theater unnoticed and sat in a stall holding hands.

But at intermission Marilyn and Miller went back stage to talk to Vivien.

* * *

When they finally left the theater hand-in-hand, there were four truck loads of police on duty to hold back the cheering crowd that had gathered to see the full-bodied blonde.

North Pole (Alaska) Santa Buzzing

Christmas — Year-Round Chore Here

NORTH POLE, Alaska (AP)—It's summer up here too (86 degrees last week), but the folks just can't keep their minds off Christmas.

Especially Con Miller, the mayor, postmaster and storekeeper.

Christmas, you see, is the little village's year-around industry. It got its name because of the value it would have at Christmastime.

Mayor Miller, although a little young for the job at 42, is the official Santa Claus of North Pole. When he isn't caught in the Christmas rush, he's planning for it.

Postmaster Miller placed his special North Pole stamp on 200,000 Christmas letters last year. The postmark was solicited from as far away as Australia.

* * *

Santa Miller also answers thousands of Christmas letters from children, with a Christmas stocking enclosure.

During the Christmas season, Miller dons a St. Nick garb to bring cheer to the kiddies in hospitals and orphanages of Alaska's interior.

"You know, it's kind of funny," he observed with a grin, "but after doing this so long I get to feel as if I am Santa Claus. My wife is threatening to take me to a psychiatrist."

* * *

North Pole is an incorporated town of some 330 persons about 14 miles from Fairbanks. It has a school, a cafe, trailer court, two service stations, two taverns and a trading post.

Miller's store, with Christmas paintings outside and candy-striped rafters inside, is the village landmark. It is Santa Claus House, 511 Santa Claus Lane.

Wife Told First Husband Is Alive

Flier From Ann Arbor, Reynolds, Reportedly in Russian POW Camp

From Our Wire Services

ANN ARBOR —Notified that her former husband may be a prisoner of the Russians, a woman who has since remarried said today, "We'll have to wait and see what happens."

Mrs. Edward J. Howard of Ann Arbor remarried in December, 1955, and is expecting a child. Her former husband, Lt. (JG) Robert D. Reynolds, was declared legally dead by the Defense Department a year after being reported missing aboard a Navy privateer lost over the Baltic April 8, 1950.

In Washington today Deputy Under Secretary of State Robert Murphy reports to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on a U. S. charge that Russia is holding at least 10 crewmen from two missing American planes.

Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee were invited to attend the closed hearing. The U. S. made its charge in a note delivered to the Soviet Foreign office in Moscow on Monday.

Hunt Plant Folklore for Cures of Cancer

EAST LANSING (AP) — Plant folklore is not being overlooked in the search for a cancer cure.

Dr. Eugene H. Lucas, professor of horticulture at Michigan State University, says "Medicine men, witch doctors and just plain people have handed down medical recipes from generation to generation by word of mouth. In all that time a process of elimination must have taken place, so what is left merits scrutiny."

South American Indians treated malaria with quinine for centuries, and ancient India knew of drugs only recently used to treat insanity, he pointed out.

Third of U.S. Women Prefer Brunet Hair

DENVER—According to a survey conducted for a Denver beauty institute, today's woman yearns for brown hair, with red hair a close second. The studies involved a group ranging from teenagers to women in their 60's.

An even one third wanted either light or dark brown hair, with red hair the next most popular choice, followed by black hair. Only 17 per cent of the women wished they had been born blondes.

Powered Aquaplane Has Motor in Bow

Power is automatically shut off if the rider topples into the water. The planes weigh about 135 pounds each, including motors, and are made of plastic and glass fiber.

Active in Church Work; Funeral Service Set Tomorrow at 2 P.M.

Mrs. Ora (Dorothy) Boice, 69, of 3328 Royal Rd., Commerce Township, died Monday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after a short illness.

* * *

Born in Wales on Aug. 31, 1886, she was the daughter of Thomas B. and Elizabeth Roberts. She was married here in 1911 and had lived in Pontiac until recently.

Her husband established the Pontiac Brick Co. in 1927 which consolidated with Boice Brothers. The two companies became Boice Brothers and were operated by Ora and E. C. Boice.

A member of Four Towns Community Church, Mrs. Boice leaves her husband; one son, Thomas J. Boice of Pontiac; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Reive of Walled Lake, Mrs. Merlin Johnson of Moses Lake, Wash., and eight grandchildren.

Also surviving are one sister, Mrs. Mary Davies of Detroit and a brother, Ellis B. Roberts of Australia, who arrived in the U.S. recently.

Service will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow from the DeWitt C. Davis Funeral Home with Dr. John H. Hall, an associate pastor of Central Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Burglars Loot Truck, Get Driver's Property

A suitcase and $150 worth of personal property were reported stolen last night from the cab of a truck parked on Hibbard Court off Bagley street, Pontiac Police said.

The driver, Joseph Rankin of Muncie, Ind., said a vent window was smashed. Missing, he said, are a watch, an electric razor and clothing.

Bloomfield Hills Students Have Music Study Plan

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—About 30 teenagers are studying music in a new type of summer study at Bloomfield Hills High School.

Under direction of Clarence Luchman, high school choir director, Don Large, Detroit choir master, and Hayden Morgan, college conservator administrator, the song-study is conducted daily at the school.

The ten-day session will end Friday, and is aimed for youth unable to attend Interlochen or Michigan State University music schools in the summer.

Large, choral master at University of Detroit and conductor for "Make Way for Youth!", a radio program, and Morgan, music head at Eastern Michigan College at Ypsilanti, are aiding in the morning and afternoon studies.

Choral techniques, sight reading, theory and solo work in small ensembles, are among activities. Between classes, students swim in Forest Lake Country Club pool and use the school recreational facilities.

Enrolled are high schoolers from Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Detroit, Pontiac, and Walled Lake.

The Day in Birmingham

Consider 1-Way Streets, Less Parking, Turning

BIRMINGHAM — Study by the Chamber of Commerce and the Planning Board has been asked on 12 suggestions to eliminate traffic congestion in the Birmingham area.

Suggestions by Traffic Engineer T. M. Vanderstempel and comments by Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley were referred to the planning commission when a Chamber of Commerce representative asked that action be deferred pending study.

The plan is aimed at improving traffic flow in most of the business area.

One-way street rulings would be enforced for parts of Pierce, Merrill and Brown, parking would be prohibited on some of Maple's south side in rush hours, left turns from downtown Maple blocks would be prohibited, and some parking spots would be removed, according to the plan.

* * *

About 40 reservations have already been made for the Don Egbert supper on July 29 at Devon Gables, according to Assistant City Manager Dana Whitman. About 100 are expected to attend.

City Finance Director, James Purkiss is studying possible costs for proposed Municipal Parking Lot No. 4 before the city council considered deleting it from plans at next Monday's meeting.

Donald Cummings of the off-street parking committee of the Chamber of Commerce has requested that it not be deleted from city planning if possible. City Manager D. C. Egbert says that Lot 3-A land is costing 43 per cent above its appraised value and 26.9 per cent over the price the city anticipated. Also, he says, costs for "contingencies," allowed for in the parking program budget, have been above allowances.

If Parking Lot 4 were eliminated from the program, complete construction costs of lots 3-A and 3-HH could be met, he says.

Mrs. Godfrey Strelinger

Service for Mrs. Godfrey (Mabel Holmes) Strelinger, 294 Linden, who died yesterday after a prolonged illness, at Harper Hospital, Detroit, will be at 11 a.m. Friday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Entombment will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Born in 1893 in Detroit, Mrs. Strelinger had lived in Birmingham since 1923. She had attended the LaSell Seminary, Auburndale, Mass., and belonged to Christ Church Cranbrook.

Surviving are her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Clemson N. Page of Gladwin, Pa.; a son, Philip of Bellevue, Wash.; five grandsons; two sisters, Mrs. C. F. Steinhoff of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Frank C. Newell of Birmingham, and a brother, Frank Holmes Jr. of Detroit.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David P. Miller, of Birmingham; a brother, Closson in Hesperia; and a sister, Mrs. William Swehla of Sterling, Ill.

Judge Adjourns Dope Ring Case

City Detective Testifies on Drug Traffic as 15 Suspects Free on Bond

The pre-trial examination of 15 suspects in an alleged dope conspiracy was adjourned yesterday to Aug. 3, after a Pontiac detective testified to drug traffic in the city's southwest area.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said Det. Herbert Cooley will continue to testify concerning an eight-months Vice Squad investigation.

Cooley yesterday claimed one of the suspects had admitted all 15 purchased dope.

* * *

She is Eddie May Yates, 28, whom Cooley testified had named Paul Baity, 27, as the seller of the dope brought here from Detroit.

At the time of the arrests in May, the pair lived in an upper flat at 426½ S. Saginaw St., Cooley said, where detectives claim to have recovered a cache of heroin worth $300.

The testimony was made before Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum, who released the suspects under bonds of $1,000 to $3,000 each.

Zoning Ordinance on August 14

Library - Park Site Hearing Set

A public hearing Aug. 14 will discuss the proposed rezoning to Residential 1 of 21 lots in the suggested future park-library site opposite Pontiac High School.

The City Commission last night introduced an ordinance to provide for this rezoning.

Plans for the civic site were brought to light last week after O. L. Beaudette offered to deed eight acres in the block bounded by West Huron, West Pike, Williams, and Franklin Boulevard, if it be used for a city park and library site.

Also scheduled on Aug. 14 will be the public hearing for rezoning to Commercial 2 lots 1-9 assessor's plat 139 on the northeast side of Norton Avenue from Florence to Johnson.

OTHER BUSINESS

Other business in a long 3½-hour commission session last night included acceptance of a deed for four lots in the Joslyn Gardens Subdivision and instructions that the city attorney draft an ordinance to rezone the lots for Commercial 1 usage.

The City Plan Commission had received a petition requesting a change of the property on the southeast side of Joslyn and Columbia Avenues.

A deed was received from the Detroit Edison Co. for a section of land asked by the city to strengthen boundaries of Murphy Park.

Two reports from the planning commission approving plats in the Sellee Woods and Featherstone Subdivisions were accepted but no approval was voiced. Decision is pending on up-to-date reviews by the city attorney on certain property titles in the plats.

ASSECCMENT REVIEW

Hearings were held on the following special assessment rolls with confirmations deferred:

Rose curb, gutter, grade, graveling, and related work on Riverside Drive from Maines to Tasmania and on Maines Avenue from Roselawn to Tasmania.

Grade, graveling and related work on Bond Drive from East Boulevard north to the west line of the Green and Sarko Subdivision No. 1.

Sanitary sewer on Riverside Drive from the trunk sewer to 70 feet west.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4) offered confirmation in two payments on the following three two-inch blacktop pavement projects in the city: Ypsilanti Avenue from Baldwin to University and from Carlisle to Stanley, and on Sheffield Avenue from Baldwin to University.

CONTRACT AWARDED

The sole bid of $5,200 from Fred H. Teetzel of the Economy Welding and Fabricating Co. of Pontiac was accepted for city-owned lot 64 at Eastway Drive and Auburn Avenue.

A contract for $23,013.20 with Lewis Kevorkian for construction of various water mains was approved.

After hearing brief discussions from Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and the attorney for the applicant, the commission approved a six-month probationary food license for Charles Hooks for the Quality Bar BQ at 178 S. Saginaw.

The original license had been revoked by the commission in 1952. The new license had been approved by the City Health Dept.

* * *

Chief Straley said he was not in favor of the new license and later said the probationary period would be a "fair trial."

Lobbies Too Strong, Neuberger Warns

NEW YORK—Washington lobbyists are so prowerful they function as a third "House of Congress" warns Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore).

* * *

Neuberger, leveling a blast at the political pressure groups calls the activities and campaign-spending of lobbyists as "the dark continent of American politics."

At the present time, he points out a professional lobbiist cannot legally bribe a vote, but he can achieve the same end merely by contributing heavily to an opponent's campaign fund in the next election.

"When lobbyists 'turns on the heat' my 'mailbags overfloweth'—my telephone rings like a 'trolley gong' and a continuous file of eager visitors swamps my once peaceful office," he says.

To prevent pressure groups from wielding the triple-edge threat of money, adveritsment and influence, Neuberger has introduced a bill which wold make political campaigns government financed.

Under Neuberger's proposal each major party would receive 15 or 20 cents voter depending on the election.

Parties would be permitted to raise privately a sum equal to the federal fund, providing no individual donor contributed more than $100.

Soldier Gals Win Bloomer Battle, Get to Buy Own

LONDON (AP)—The British army has surrendered—the girls in its ranks can wear any kind and any color panties they choose. And the same applies to bras.

Antony Head, the secretary of war, backed down in the face of incipient mutiny. Also confronting him was one of the most determined members of parliament, Dame Irene Ward.

The girls of WRAC—Women's Royal Army Corps—have been fuming for years over government-issue panties.

They are of sturdy material, khaki in color, elastic at the waist and in the region of the knees. And each of a size to accommodate about two girls.

* * *

The bras? They fit pretty well if worn over a trenchcoat.

Both bras and panties, said the girls, were apparently designed by a male quartermaster before World War I who had only the foggiest idea about the female figure.

Most of the girls used the panties for laundry bags, and wore undies they bought themselves.

Today Head made this statement in the House of Commons:

"We are going to change over to an initial allowance for underclothes in the women's services."

Lawmakers Eye Aid to Seaway

Legislators to Discuss Ports' Needs for Funds to Meet Coming Boon

MUSKEGON (AP)—A special interim committee of the State Senate, led by Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), has scheduled a meeting Thursday to discuss possible state aid in development of Michigan port cities to be served by the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland), vice chairman of the group, said representatives of Manistee, Grand Haven, Ludington, Holland, Grand Rapids and other communities are invited to the Muskegon meeting.

The interim group also includes Sens. Lewis G. Christman (R-Ann Arbor), Clarence F. Graebner (R-Saginaw) and Harold H. Ryan (D-Detroit).

Morris said it is studying "what the Legislature can do to assist local communities to prepare for the seaway impact and see what legislation is possible to assist Michigan's role in taking advantage of the improved waterway."

The committee already has conducted similar meetings in the Detroit area and eastern Michigan.

A poll of West Virginia's annual wildlife harvest showed that the tiny squirrel was most valuable, representing $3 million of the total of $64 million.

Baby Stops Bleeding, Radio Saves Life

NEW YORK (AP)—"The bleeding has stopped. The baby is in good condition. Everybody here is very, very grateful to all of you."

That was the message a ham radio operator in Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, flashed to a ham radio operator on Staten Island here yesterday. It signaled the successful completion of a 6,966-mile mission of mercy.

The baby is Jean Luc-Poll, 2, a victim of hemophilia who had been slowly bleeding to death in a Leopoldville clinic.

Julian Boca, the Leopoldville ham operator, sent out a message about the boy's plight last Saturday. A Staten Island ham, Harry Fendt, picked up the radio plea.

Butterball Dean Just as Content in 'Pajama Game'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Their former dean is dancing and singing in a top musical comedy, and American University students here are loving it.

They stopped the show on opening night as rotund Marguerite Shaw, who says she could lose 150 pounds "and still look large," did a dainty soft shoe dance and sang a hitnumber "I'll Never Be Jealous Again."

Miss Shaw last was in Washington as associate dean of students at the university. She returned this week with the road company of "Pajama Game." And how, after 18 months of touring, does the "dancing dean" compare the jobs?

She found "keen satisfaction in both," she says, and could be happy in either.

WITHOUT SUFFERING HUNGER PANGS OR LOSS OF ENERGY!

There are really only two basic reasons for reducing . . . we need to reduce because overweight is dangerous or there is a desire to reduce so that we may look better, feel better, be more fit.

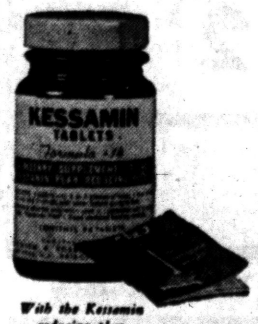

However, to reduce we must eat less (fewer calories) and when we do eat less we may feel the uncomfortable, almost painful pangs of hunger. We may also become nervous and irritable because of the lack of sufficient vitamins and minerals in a restricted diet. Now, with Kessamin Tablets, Formula #14, and the Kessamin Reducing Plan this can never happen!

SEE WHAT THE KESSAMIN REDUCING PLAN OFFERS!

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

THE STORY: Mike Shayne has just finished telling Police Chief Gentry of a disappearing body at the Hibiscus Hotel. The woman who found the body came to the private detective for protection form a scar-faced man she believed murdered her brother. This man arrived later at Shayne's place and said he was the woman's brother. Shayne had given the girl a note to Lucy Hamilton, who will care for her until Mike arrives later.

XVII

"The Hibiscus should have notified us," Gentry growled, reaching for a button on his desk. "I'll get Patton in and—"

* * *

"Wait a minute, Will. You know Ollie. He's okay. But he's got a job. If your pensions were big enough to support a man, he wouldn't have, but they aren't and so he gets paid a salary to keep things as quiet as he can for the hotel. You know that," remonstrated Shayne. "What was there for him to report? He found no evidence of murder."

"All right," said Gentry. "Sure, Ollie's okay, but these hotel dicks are always covering up. Was the girl drunk or nuts?"

"Not drunk," said Shayne. "Nuts, maybe. How do you tell? Her story sounded straight enough when she was telling it."

"Yeh? Then how did her scarred face friend follow her to your place? According to her, she left him standing in the street while she went off in a taxi without knowing where she was headed."

WHAT STORY?

"He explained to me that he caught the number of her taxi, went to the company's office and got her destination from the driver over their radio system."

"Could be," said Gentry shortly. "What sort of story did he tell?"

Shayne grinned cheerily and said, "He claims he's her brother. And that she's half nuts and screamed and ran away from him the moment she saw him in the hotel corridor."

"Was this scar a fresh one, by any chance?" asked Tim Rourke with interest. "One that just healed up this evening?"

"It looks more like one from Korea," Shayne said briefly. He went on to relate everything Bert Paulson had told him about the inexplicable affair, ending at the point where he had pulled an ex-Army gun on Shayne and gone storming out into the Miami night to search for his sister.

DID YOU SAY . . .

"And you let him walk out just like that?" demanded Rourke incredulously.

Without revealing that he felt she would be perfectly safe with Lucy Hamilton, Shayne scowled at the reporter and asked, "How many ex-G.I.'s have you gone up against while they had .45s in their fists?"

Rourke shrugged his thin shoulders. "That's why I'm a reporter instead of pretending to be a detective. Look, Mike." His voice became reflective. "Did you say Paulson? Bert Paulson? From Jacksonville, huh?"

"That's what he said. Offered identification cards to prove it."

GOT IT!

Both Shayne and Gentry remained silent while Tim Rourke rocked back in his chair again, carefully placed the tips of 10 fingers against each other in front of his nose and studied them with a frown. They both respected his encyclopedic knowledge of current affairs as reported in the newspapers and his prodigious memory, and they waited to see if he could dredge anything up for them.

"Paulson? Yeh, it's been quite recent. Last two or three weeks. Jacksonville?" He closed his eyes a moment in fierce concentration, then snapped his fingers excitedly.

"Got it! Badger game. Girl named Nellie Paulson and her brother. Only they tried it on the wrong sucker two weeks ago and he called cops. It wasn't much of a splash. Just a couple of lines, but there was a description of both of them. They both got clean away," he went on. "Beat it fast when the guy refused to pay off. Jax should have a pick-up out on them," he added to Gentry.

* * *

"Doubt if they'd bother," he grunted, leaning forward to open the inter-com on his desk and into it. "Those badger games are hard to pin down."

NO PICK-UP

A voice came over the intercom and they all listened intently to a report from the records room that no Paulson was currently listed as wanted.

"There you are," said Shayne. "For once, Tim, your vaunted memory—"

"My vaunted memory is exactly what it's vaunted to be," snapped Rourke. "Will is right. The Jax police probably didn't bother to put out a pick-up, knowing there wouldn't be a conviction. But you call them, Chief, if you want to verify it."

Gentry looked inquiringly at Shayne.

He nodded angrily. "Check on it. This thing has got me going around in circles. If the girl and her brother are mixed up in something like that it changes everything."

Chief Gentry spoke into the intercom again. Then he leaned back in his swivel chair and took another thick, black cigar from his breast pocket, sniffed it hopefully and bit off the end.

"How does it change everything, Mike?" he asked absently. "You've still got the two of them telling diametrically opposed stories. You've still got a corpse that isn't there—a hysterical girl who doesn't recognize her own brother—"

He struck a match and put flame to the end of his cigar.

Log Industry Museum Set

Complete Camp Slated Near Whitmore Lake; to Open in 1957

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A museum that actually does things is being set up to recreate Michigan's famed logging industry.

* * *

Logs will be felled, brought to a sawmill on a chugging narrow gauge train and sawed up in an old fashioned steam-powered mill.

Nearby will be a complete logging camp—a bunk house, mess hall that serves pancakes and syrup, blacksmith shop and stable where horses will be quartered for visitors wanting to ride through the 651 acre site.

The project results from hobbies of Dr. Harold F. Allen and Cassimere Samborski, members of the aeronautical engineering staff at University of Michigan, and Louis David, Northville machine shop owner.

RAILROAD HOBBYISTS

Allen and Samborski are avid railroad hobbyists. David is a spare time expert on oldtime steam traction engines.

They decided to pool resources and set up a museum to be called "Northwoods." It will be built on a wooded tract in Northfield Township east of Whitmore Lake.

A highlight will be a two-mile narrow gauge railroad. It is a replica of rolling stock used in the 1880-1910 lumbering days to move logs from the northwoods.

'57 DEADLINE EYED

It's hoped to have the railroad in operation before the end of summer. The logging camp will be ready for visitors next year. Overall the project is expected to take some four to five years to complete.

The logging operation can be "overseen" by visitors from seats set up near the mill. A picnic ground and outdoor meeting place will also be part of the layout.

The museum founders are restoring a seven-passenger, 1920 Stanley Steamer as part of a display on the history of steam power.

They also have a loggers' Shay engine, called a side winder, which was invented by Michigan lumberman Ephraim Shay to keep his log trains from hopping off uneven tracks.

Other replica railroad engines and cars on hand include four Shay and Climax locomotives, 10 log cars, a steam log loader, baggage car and a passenger-baggage coach.

Want to Retire Earlier

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Delegates to the 54th annual Michigan Rural Letter Carriers Assn. Convention, which opened Monday, are expected to approve a bill favoring retirement benefits at an earlier age. Howard E. Emmons of Harrietta, president, says the more than 300 delegates favor a bill sponsored by Sen. Olin D. Johnson (D-SC), proposing retirement benefits for postal employes after 30 years service, regardless of age.

The United Kingdom is planning to apply a 10 per cent ad valorem tariff on imports of Danish bacon for four years, beginning October 1, when State trading in bacon is to end.

Pick Osteopath of Year

GREENVILLE (AP) — Dr. Claude B. Root, practicing osteopath more than 54 years, is to be honored Thursday in New York as general practitioner of the year by the Michigan College of Osteopathic Practitioners in osteopathic medicine and surgery. It is the nation's highest award in the field of osteopathy.

More Women Than Men May Vote on November 6

This year's Presidential election may make political history.

Present indications are that come next November 6, says Congressional Quarterly, more women than men will cast ballots. This is likely to be so for the first time since the 19th amendment to the Constitution gave women the franchise in 1920.

★ ★ ★

Exact figures on how many women have voted in each election since then aren't available. But after studying the 1952 results, the American Heritage Foundation estimates that 30,500,000 of the 61,600,000 persons who voted, were women.

Republicans contend it was the women's vote that elected President Eisenhower in 1952. They cite studies by various groups and foundations to support this contention.

★ ★ ★

Democrats, however, disagree and can find substantial evidence to support their argument, and the question remains unsettled. But both parties do agree on one point — the increased participation of women in politics. Moreover, each party is mapping special plans to woo women voters for 1956.

Women have been slow to seek political office. They often complain they hold few policy making posts in political organizations and that posts held by women are just window dressing.

★ ★ ★

The fact remains, however, that women's increased participation in political campaigns is welcomed by both major parties. Republican and Democratic national committees maintain women's divisions and women undoubtedly exert a healthy political influence.

Cooper a Candidate

Once again the name of John Sherman Cooper has become very important to Republicans, especially those who live in the Blue Grass State.

There are two reasons for this. One is that because of the death of Sen. Alben W. Barkley, Kentucky will elect two United States Senators this Fall. The other is President Eisenhower's success in persuading his ambassador to New Delhi, former Senator Cooper, to enter the race for one of those two seats.

★ ★ ★

Two years ago the leading resident of Somerset, Ky., lost his seat in the upper chamber to Barkley. Later chosen to represent the Nation in India, Cooper has been highly successful in the diplomatic field.

Only a few weeks ago, in fact, when urged to become a candidate, Cooper declined. At that time he was reported as considering his assignment to India "a task which is of more importance to our country."

★ ★ ★

It was at this stage that President Eisenhower went to work on the ambassador. Anxious to have a Republican Congress for the next four years, Ike told him "he would be pleased" if he would reconsider. The result — Cooper's decision to seek election for the remainder of Barkley's term greatly cheered Republicans.

★ ★ ★

They naturally feel that Cooper, who is famed as a vote getter, and Thruston B. Morton, the other GOP candidate can win in November. If they do, their victories would do much to swing the balance of power in the Senate to Republicans in the next session of Congres.

Their Long Service Helped All of Us

Too often the work of some men who had much to do with the development of an area goes quite unsung.

★ ★ ★

They were too busy in their labors and too modest in telling of their accomplishments to seek any laudation.

Such is the case with the men just retired by the Oakland County Road Commission, having reached the age of 70 years.

In view of this fact, it is quite commendable and proper that they were tendered a dinner by their association, and given some substantial gifts.

★ ★ ★

These 23 men leave their work with a total of 470 years of employment on the highways of our county.

Their work was at the foundation of our road system. They furnished the sweat and manual labor. They had the soiled hands, the fight with mud, slush, dirt, dust, snow, sleet, ice and other disagreeable things that must be met and conquered in order that the rest of us can have our roads, and use them for our pleasure and profit.

Were it not for men like these, the capital and labor that built our industry would not be able to function. Our very home life would be pushed back to the horse and buggy days. Progress would be stagnant.

★ ★ ★

They really laid the foundation and kept it in order.

It is comforting to know that their efforts are appreciated.

David Lawrence Says:

Which Party Curbing Commies?

WASHINGTON—Will the Democratic party leadership in Congress go into the coming campaign with a record of having sidetracked legislation designed to keep Communists, disloyal persons and security risks out of any government position?

* * *

In 1952 the charge was made that the Democratic party was "soft" on communism." It was one of the major issues which caused a large number of Democrats to leave their party and vote Republican.

Today two able and persistent foes of communism, Rep. Walter of Pennsylvania and Sen. Eastland of Mississippi—both Democrats—have introduced bills to permit the President to cover all agencies in the government under the security-risk and loyalty program. These two Democrats have done their part. But what will the Democratic leadership, which has the say in whether legislation shall be passed or postponed, do about it? This has not been clarified as yet.

The anti-Communist issue is a very live topic in many districts. There is an awareness that the "left wingers" would like to stall or kill the proposed legislation altogether. Attorney General Brownell has come out flatly for the passage of the bill introduced by Rep. Walter. Contrary to an editorial twist in a recent news dispatch from Washington to a large eastern newspaper, the attorney general is anxious to have the new bill passed. His brief letter of endorsement was misrepresented as a coolness toward the measure, when the truth is he felt that the longer letter presented at the same time by Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, gave all the important arguments in detail. The mere fact that the two letters were sent to Congress together should have been notice of the administration's position.

LEGISLATION SOUGHT

So far as the committees in Congress are concerned, they understand that the Department of Justice and the Civil Service Commission want the new legislation passed so as to correct the peculiar piece of legislation written into a decision made by a majority of the Supreme Court a few weeks ago. In that decision six Justices said that the President doesn't have the discretionary authority under the Internal Security Act of 1950 to cover both "sensitive" and "nonsensitive" positions. The members of Congress who originally sponsored the law pointed in vain to the record but their statements were ignored. The "American for Democratic Action" and other "left wing" outfits are opposing the remedial measures.

The case histories of 17 government employes in so-called "non-sensitive" positions were described by the Civil Service Commission in a letter to Congress recently as part of the list of 280 persons previously discharged who now are eligible to return. One was a notorious member of the Communist party in 1945 and is a close associate of many Communists. Another was a member of a Communist cell in the New York post office.

Now it has been argued that the post office isn't a "sensitive" place, but the Communist party might like to know what's going on with the mails to certain addresses. Likewise, the Pure Food and Drug Bureau isn't usually regarded as "sensitive," but germ warfare could be initiated through food distribution. Only the executive, with full knowledge of the many hazards in allowing Communists to enter governmental agencies, can decide.

FALSE ARGUMENT

The argument is made that the government can fire anybody on broad grounds under existing law. But this is a strange point for the "left wingers" to make, because they insist that anybody dismissed from the government service has a right to be given full information on the charges against him. To dismiss a man on one ground while really discharging him on another that is kept secret would be a subterfuge to which the government of the United States should not be urged to resort in order to get rid of disloyal persons or be urged to resort in order to get rid of disloyal persons or security risks.

The Democratic party promised in the 1954 campaign that it would cooperate with the Republican President. Certainly the fight against Communist infiltration is not a partisan issue. But if Congress, controlled in both Houses by the Democratic party, adjourns without giving the President the power—which the Supreme Court says it is constitutional for Congress to bestow, if it desires—plenty will be heard about the Communist issue on the stump this autumn.

The American people will have a right to ask which political party recommended legislation to Congress to enable the government to get rid of disloyal persons and which party refused to enact such a law.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Doctor Defends Teaching of Having Babies at Home

The trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers are not going to like this — but I promise I'll listen with great concern and respect to anything a real doctor may say about it, either in the public prints or in a confidential communication to me. One Dr. John H. Burkhart tells the Knoxville Journal readers that "this man Brady's articles are obviously inaccurate and nonsensical. But the height of offensiveness was reached when an article entitled 'Home Still the Best Place to Have a Baby,' followed by another entitled 'This Mother Prefers Home Delivery' . . . completely inaccurate and without foundation whatsoever . . ."

My stars, it sounds as though it is illegal and maybe indecent for a Knoxville baby to be born at home.

If the amiable Dr. Burkhart can cite any statistics to show that home is not the best, the safest place to have a baby, or that a hospital is safer than home, I'll publish in my column an apology for my error and a summary of the statistics that show home is not as safe as a hospital.

If such statistics were available, I should think it would be easier for the A M A and the trick specialists to settle my hash by publishing them. If they just sit back and wait for me to turn up my toes, they're going to have a much tougher time keeping the customers in line. For as long as one newspaper continues to use my service I shall continue to recommend these modern departures:

(1) Childbirth at home rather than in an institution.

(2) Natural childbirth — if you know what I mean.

(3) Rooming-in if you can't afford to have your baby at home.

The spirit of Dr. Burkhart's diatribe, whether the good doctor speaks for himself or as a catspaw for the A M A, is remarkably like that of the two great professors of obstetrics, Hodge of University of Pennsylvania, Meigs of Jefferson Medical School, autocrats of their day (before the A M A was founded).

These two typical medical authorities used satire, ridicule, invective and abuse in their attempt to nullify the teachings of Oliver Wendell Holmes, M. D., about "The Contagiousness of Puerperal Fever" (1843). Puerperal fever was the name then used for acute septicemia (blood poisoning) of the young mother following childbirth. Holmes's paper is one of the classics of medical literature. Oliver Wendell Holmes was right. His traducers were tragically wrong.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

General Hospital Report Incomplete, Says Reader

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Since you have the only newspaper in Pontiac, I think you should tell the readers and the taxpayers (who are supposed to own the General Hospital) that the recent investigation carried on at Pontiac General Hospital has left a lot of truths yet untold. The only hospital employes who were interviewed by the investigators were the heads of the various departments.

One could not get a true picture of the great or small inefficiencies by talking with these chosen few, as they are placed in their high salaried jobs by the director, Miss Paul.

Not one of the department heads or supervisors would jeopardize their places to pass on any information to an investigator.

Make no mistake, each one could have opened up and told some very interesting stories. The "little" people (and some of these have worked at Pontiac General 8 to 12 years—I mean the workers who keep the wheels turning at the Hospital) each of these were given to understand that workers from every department were to be interviewed, and I don't mean just supervisors.

I am positive also that members of the Board of Trustees understood it that way, too, so that the Board might get a true picture.

Today it is all past history and neither the Board of Trustees nor the taxpayers have the true picture of that tight little corporation—our General Hospital.

Only from a cross-section of its average workers could such information be obtained.

Anti-Stalin Policy Draws Foreign Reds to Moscow

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Communist leaders who went to Moscow in 1953 for Stalin's funeral now are going back to the Soviet capital to ask why the dictator is being buried so deeply.

Soviet bloc puppet Reds have met in Moscow. And three Communists from France, Etienne, Waldeck Rochet and Marcel Servin, all of the Paris Politburo, also were there.

The aim was to get answers to the questions that have caused turmoil in the Red world ever since the U.S. State Department published Nikita Krushchev's secret speech telling of Stalin's terror reign.

Missing from the trek to Moscow was Palmiro Togliatti, the Italian Communist big wheel who was the first Western Red to attack Khrushchev and demand "a Marxist explanation" and direct, full version of why Stalin's old pals allowed a madman to stay in office all those years.

* * *

Also missing was Pietro Nenni, the Italian left Socialist and Red ally who followed Togliatti with a flat charge that the responsibility for Stalin's reign "is not Stalin's alone but that of the whole directorate of the party."

NO JUSTIFICATION

"Stalin's terror," he said, "cannot justify the fact that all the others sacrificed every vestige of democracy within the party."

* * *

Both Togliatti and Nenni obviously are squirming in what Secretary of State John Foster Dulles says is an "almost impossible dilemma" caused by the smashing of the Stalin idol they worshipped.

Togliatti naturally wonders if he can keep the allegiance of Nenni. And Nenni seeks to save himself from the wrath of his own followers since he was an old friend of Stalin and a Stalin Prize winner.

Italian center party leaders are waiting for the next practical moves of the extreme left before declaring how far they are ready to believe that the leopard really has changed its spots.

* * *

Their first reactions show that Togliatti has a long way to go to prove that he will be guided in the future by Italian interests and not by Moscow. Nenni also has a long route to prove to them his loudly professed democratic principles.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND

Giuseppe Saragat, Socialist right wing leader, says of Nenni: "It is difficult to understand how a man like Nenni needed Khrushchev's report to learn what we Social Democrats understood long ago—that Stalin was a savage dictator."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dean Dislikes Teacher Rivalry

Dean Horace doesn't believe in rivalry between college departments. But such honest competition is what has made America lead the world in business and has thus made possible most of the huge endowments to colleges. Maybe some of this same rivalry between teachers would zoom enrollments and give students a better break for the $500 to $800 tuition they now pay. How do you vote on this crucial issue?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-315: Horace G., aged about 45, is dean of a Florida college.

* * *

"Dr. Crane, I wish you'd look at this letter from Dean Horace," said O. B. Mitman, textbook manager, of the publishing firm which handles my college textbook on Applied Psychology.

"But let me give you a little background data first. Recently we made a direct mail campaign to all psychology teachers urging them to use your text as the logical book to follow the first course in Introductory Psychology.

"We pointed out that it appeals to students so much they rarely sell their used copies. And it causes double and even treble enrollments in psychology courses, as attested to by many letters from leading colleges.

"But the thing which rankled with Dean Horace was our suggesting that professors are really salesmen of ideas and thus should have missionary zeal to win the enthusiastic following of their pupils.

"We urged that psychology professors try to build up larger classes, not only for the prestige of psychology itself, but because the extra student tuitions thus obtained would help colleges remain solvent.

* * *

"Many departments in the modern curriculum are now so dry and uninteresting that students shun those courses unless they are forced into taking them.

"That's poor pedagogy, for we pointed out that good teachers should try to build up larger and larger voluntary registrations in their courses by being better educational 'salesmen'.

"But Dean Horace grew irate at my suggestions, as his letter will show."

BOOMERANG ADVERTISING

"Dear Mr. Mitman," began the dean's letter. "We resent your suggesting any rivalry between departments in our curriculum.

"So you can rest assured that D. Crane's textbook will not be used at this university while I am the Dean."

Well, that is a good instance to show that even stellar advertising strategy sometimes boomerangs.

But is this Dean's position sound? Why shouldn't the psychology department try to stimulate greater student interest?

* * *

If psychology professors can offer students more vital help in solving their problems of later life, why shouldn't more students enroll in the psychology department than in some other department whose faculty members are not as successful "salesmen of education"?

The late Dr. Glenn Frank, President of the University of Wisconsin, said teachers and clergymen are just salesmen of ideas.

And the larger registrations in psychology departments all over America should be an indirect tribute to the good salesmanship of the teachers of psychology.

COMPETITION OR STAGNATION

Competition is a basic law of life. Even the trees in the forest compete for sunlight, which is why they grow such long trunks.

Weeds compete with farm vegetables in the garden. And the farmers then compete with both the weeds and erosion.

Athletic teams likewise would never thrive without competition. American business leadership is based on honest competition.

We are Santa Claus to the world because we never previously let anybody stop our typical American rivalry.

* * *

Unfair competition obviously is unwise which is why we enacted anti-trust laws. No intelligent person would advocate it, any more than he would support it on the athletic fields.

But fair competition under the rules of the game, is the yeast that makes civilization rise.

We'd have far better teaching in classrooms if students rated all their teachers so English and language profs, as well as history and math instructors, would all realize they were in daily competition with psychology professors.

The best teachers would be those who made the students feel they were getting their money's worth on that $500 to $800 now being paid annually for tuition.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 30c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

GM Hires Michigan Science Teachers to Whet Interest in Technical Courses

Two Pontiac GM divisions are participating in a project to show high school science teachers how the subjects they teach are applied in industry.

• • •

A group of the teachers has been assigned summer jobs at Pontiac Motor and Truck & Coach, as well as 11 other divisions of GM. Participants will attend an institute at GM's Technical Center August 19-25.

In addition to supplementing their income, GM vice president Paul Garrett said, the teachers are getting firsthand knowledge of the sciences in industry to carry back to their students this fall.

"We hope in this way the teachers will be able to stimulate more interest in the study of chemistry, physics and mathematics," Garrett said. "There is an exciting story to be told of science in industry. The high school teacher is in the best position to tell it effectively."

The 21 teachers in the "pilot" group were selected by participating General Motors divisions in consultation with local school administrators. All have been assigned summer jobs related to the subjects they teach during the school year.

SEE THEORY AT WORK

During their conference at the Technical Center, the teachers will discuss with GM executives, engineers and scientists the need for basic science and mathematics training at the high school level for young people seeking careers as engineers, technicians and skilled craftsmen.

They will observe application of basic mathematics, chemistry and physics in automotive engineering and research, including use of the digital computer in solving technical problems. Visits will be made to the General Motors Proving Ground at Milford and to the GM Institute in Flint.

At the final session on Saturday, August 25th the teachers will discuss their experiences and suggestions with GM executives and witness a demonstration of techniques and methods to stimulate high school student interest in physics and chemistry.

• • •

Other General Motors divisions participating in the program are AC Spark Plug, Allison, Buick, Central Foundry, Delco Products, Delco Radio, Frigidaire, Inland Manufacturing, Moraine Products, Saginaw Steering Gear and Ternstedt.

Kenneth A. Meade, Director of the Educational Relations Section of GM's Public Relations Staff, is coordinating the program.

Senator Urges Safer Cars

Douglas Says Congress May Set Safety Rules for Designers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said Monday Congress may have to set safety standards for automobile design and require manufacturers to comply.

* * *

Douglas told a House Commerce subcommittee he "most emphatically" feels the tendency is toward too much emphasis on spped, power and beauty in automobiles rather than safety.

A big difficulty, Douglas said, is that no automobile manufacturer can afford to alter characteristics of his product drastically in the interest of safety all at once, because it might lose sales to its rivals. And he said piecemeal improvements will not do the job.

Douglas suggested three possibilities:

1. Some individual manufacturer might take the plunge, or the whole industry might do so by joint agreement, if exemption from the antitrust laws were provided to cover such an agreement.

2. Some fact-finding body, such as the National Institute of Health of Cornell University, which has conducted extensive accident research, might with government encouragement propose safety standards which manufacturers then would adopt.

3. Congress might set the standards and enforce them.

* * *

Douglas recommended studies by Dr. Charles Hunter Shelden, a Pasadena, Calif., neurosurgeon. The senator quoted the surgeon as saying head and neck injuries account for 70 per cent of auto deaths. He said Shelden suggests better anchored car seats, seat belts, overhead protection, steering wheels designed to cushion rather than pierce and other improvements.

State Approves Site for Vocational School

DANSING (AP)—The State Administrative Board today approved purchase of a 277-acre tract of land near Whittmore Lake as the site for a new boys vocational school.

* * *

The board's building committee recommended the school be built on a tract of farm land at the intersection of the Grand Trunk Railroad and the new U. S. 23.

The site is about one-half mile west of Whittmore Lake and 11 miles from Ann Arbor.

The committee said it has an option to buy the land at $325 an acre, or a total price of $90,268. The Legislature appropriated $200,000 to purchase a site and start preliminary plans for the new school.

The site selection ended a two-year search involving a special legislative committee, the State Social Welfare Commission and the building division of the Department of Administration.

Pressure has been building up for years to move the school out of its crowded quarters in Lansing to a new site out of the city and closer to the metropolitan Detroit area, which sends most of the boys to the institution.

The United States imported 72,657 tons of coconut oil during 1955, an increase of 4 per cent over 1954.

Bob Considine Says:

Correspondent's Work Will Live Forever

NEW YORK (INS)—People . . . places . . . and a book.

Wythe Williams, one of the better men who labored with the written and spoken word, was put in the ground yesterday, but his work will live as long as books and scripts hold together and correspondents talk shop around press club bars.

* * *

The movies and TV and some of the most romantic members of the craft itself have combined to make of the "foreign correspondent" a pretty raffish and rugged soul who spends half of his time tracking spies through a fog and the rest of the time in the boudoir.

Williams began explaining Europe to America daily in 1910 for the old World.

He was a responsible reporter for the Times and for Collier's in World war I, the Philadelphia Public Ledger after that war, was with Hearst's Universal Service in London in the early '30s, came home to publish the Greenwich (Conn.) Time and to track World War II for radio audiences over WOR-Mutual.

Wythe Williams wrote half a dozen and more books the journalism scholars should study properly to learn their trade.

* * *

His scoop of mutiny in the French army during the endless bloodletting of the Marne, and the threat of decimaton (the execution of every tenth man in the ranks) remains a high that few correspondents can ever attain.

He has joined his old friend Clemenceau. Behind him, in addition to his works, he leaves a mounument to his enduring (and endearing) faith in his craft—the Overseas Press Club of America, of which he was a co-founder and first president.

Moved by a recent piece here about the melancholy plight of the parent who sees his child perform wonders the parent no longer has the strength or waistline to achieve, famed New York attorney Barney Sandler sends me a quotation from the 13th Century:

"Your son at 5 is your master, at 10 your slave, at 15 your double, and after that your friend or foe, depending on his bringing up."

Yul Brynner, star of the utterly breathtaking 20th Century Fox version of "The King and I," would rather direct than act. He has been a success at both, but rates better marquee treatment (and bigger tax returns) at the latter calling.

* * *

Brynner, born on Sakhalin, a northern island off Japan, is the son of a Mongolian father and a Romany Gypsy mother, and there are four or five other bloods in him.

He was educated in France, was nearly killed at 17 in an acrobatic accident, came to this country in 1941 to play the role of Fabian in "Twelfth Night."

He speaks six languages fluently, German, Italian and Spanish pretty good. He has a 9-year-old son name Rocky.

* * *

But back to directing: "It's far more satisfactory than acting," Yul says. "It's like leading a symphony orchestra as compared to playing a fiddle."

A TREASURE BOOK

Every boy from two to 80 who dreamed a dream of faraway place will find 'Famous American Ships' by Frank O. Braynard (Hastings House, publishers) a treasure.

Braynard brings love and excitement to ships that have nuzzled at our shores from the time of the Vikings to the splendid United States and beyond to the atomic-powered ocean liners now on the boards.

There are exciting stories of the Mayflower, Clermont, the immortal Savannah, Mississippi and Fall River boats, the Clippers, the Leviathan, the Presidents, the graceful Lurline, Grace Kelly's barge—the Constitution . . . and enough more to fill the eyes and hearts of young and old salts.

Motor-vehicle registration has passed the 500,000 mark in Switzerland, consisting of 280,000 passenger automobiles, 58,000 trucks and buses, and 217,000 motorcycles.

BACK-YARD CIRCUS—That's what some lucky boys and girls in Cleveland are treated to each evening. Ed Healy, an elephant trainer and advance man for Ringling Bros., trucks "Little Mo", to points in northern Ohio where the big show is scheduled. The 1300-pound, 2½-year-old pachyderm is returned to Healy's home each afternoon and tethered on the lawn. There's no lack of volunteer help to feed and water the baby elephant.

Red Pine Passing Native State Tree in Growth, Size

EAST LANSING (INS) — Michigan's state tree may be the white pine—but it is being outclassed by another native species, the red pine.

Dr. Victor J. Rudolph, a forest management specialist at Michigan State University who made a study of plantings on both species, said that in all of the separate plantings he studied, the red pine far outgrew the white pine.

In the plantings of mixed stands, too, the red pines were larger in height, diameter and volume than their cousins.

Dr. Rudolph says that overtopping and crowding by the red pine will continue to reduce the number of white pine in such mixed stands. And the white pine weevil is a menace to that species, without bothering the red pine.

Dr. Rudolph concluded by saying that the reason the M.S.U. forestry department recommends red pine for reforestation plantings in lower Michigan instead of white pine.

Couldn't Stay Away

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Alvino Castro-Moreno, 32, was sentenced to six months in federal prison for illegal entry into the United States after he told the court he had crossed the border as a "wetback" 19 times in seven years.

Hal Boyle Says:

Circus May Change, but It Will Never Die

NEW YORK (AP)—The circus die? Never.

* * *

"The tented circus," said John Ringling North, on folding the 'Greatest Show on Earth," is "a thing of the past."

He may well be right in saying time and change have rung the death knell for the great flamboyant three-ring circuses that operated under canvas and traveled the length and breadth of America in 100-car railroad trains.

But sentimentalists who think this may be the end of the circus as a form of entertainment underrate the hardihood of an institution that has endured more than 2,500 years.

Like vaudeville, the principle of the circus never really dies. It merely incubates and rises, Phoenix-like, in a new form.

* * *

It goes back in known history to the 6th Century before Christ when Lucius Tarquinius Priscus, the fifth legendary King of Rome, laid out the Circus Maximus. It featured chariot and equestrian races, and horses have been a part of circuses ever since.

Later, in modern Europe, small touring family circuses became common, but they were usually one-ring affairs. They popularized the talking clown.

* * *

It remained for the United States to restore the circus to the colossal spectacle it had once been in ancient Rome.

The vast size and mobility of the modern traveling circus is strictly an American invention, undisputed even by the Russians.

* * *

Featuring hundreds of animals, scores of freaks, Wild West shows, and dozens of acts, its great size made the wisecracking clown out-of-date. It led to the rise of the pantomine clowns, exemplified today by Emmett Kelly, whose sad hobo face made millions laugh without quite knowing why.

The extreme efficiency with which the huge American circuses could set up and bring down their tents, then travel hundreds of miles overnight and be ready for a new show in another town the next afternoon is said to have inspired Prussian leaders in speeding up the mobility of German armies.

* * *

But this same gigantism is probably the real cause of the death of the big tent shows. Some circus fans say John Ringling North is to blame—that he strayed too far from the old-fashioned idea of the circus and made it too much like a musical extravaganza.

Others say the spread of television is the real reason, and there may be some truth in this, although there is a tendency now to blame television for everything from heat waves to a fall in the stock market.

* * *

But it is more likely that the real reason for the decline of "the big show" is that—it simply got too big in a crowded time, and became too costly to operate at a profit.

North promises for next year an "almost completely mechanically controlled exhibition." This pronouncement has an air of mystery. Nobody knows for sure just what a push-button circus will be like.

* * *

But it's safe to say that nobody can really kill the circus unless they kill its smell. More than anything else, more than the death-defying high wire acts, the snarling tigers, the pink lemonade, and the spun cotton candy, it is its strange intoxicating smell that makes a circus.

There is no smell on earth quite like it, and so far they haven't found a way to put the circus smell on a television screen.

New Metal Prime Coat Spray Insures Flawless Paint Jobs

Pontiac's two new "flow coat" systems for applying prime coat to sheet metal parts represent another important step in insuring the customer a flawless, long lasting finish on his 1956 Pontiac, according to S. E. Knudsen, General Manager and GM Vice President.

The modern priming systems, completed this week in a new 25,200 square foot addition to the car assembly plant, incorporate the latest developments for preparing automobile sheet metal parts to receive and hold a glittering coat of color lacquer.

When high gloss lacquer is applied directly to bare sheet metal, it has a tendency to crack or peel under adverse weather conditions, Knudsen said.

Pontiac's new system first "bonds" the sheet metal parts with a chemical cleaning solution and then applies a prime coat of special charcoal grey paint that gives the metal a flat, rust-proof surface to which lacquer readily adheres for a colorful, permanent finish, he added.

The new "flow coat" systems, replacing the old method of dipping sheet metal sections in a giant tank of prime paint, subject each part to a smooth flow of prime paint from 80 nozzles. The sheet metal parts, carried by overhead conveyors then pass through a drip area and into 1000 foot long ovens where they are baked at 375 degrees for 75 minutes.

After prime coated parts leave the oven, they are inspected for flaws and conveyed into the paint area for application of lacquer coat.

The new "flow coat" systems incorporate latest fire protection methods. If fire breaks out, the entire flow coat area will be automatically smothered in carbon dioxide gas from two banks of compressed gas cylinders. The carbon dioxide, entering the flow coat system at 110 degrees below zero, can reduce the oxygen content of the air too low to support combustion in a few seconds.

The new system is inherently more fire proof as it eliminates the open tanks of prime paint used when the parts were dipped.

Camp Provides Ideal Day

The bright new blue boats which make boating at Camp Fire Girls' day camp even more exciting have been donated by Kiwanis Club. According to the camp policy, there must be an adult instructor for every three girls taking boats out. Members of "Poplar Ten" unit who were all set for a trip when the photographer arrived were (left to right) Eleanor Carney of South East boulevard; Mrs. Fred Morris of Third avenue, leader of the unit; Lesta Stanley of Rosewood drive and Cathy Helvey of West Iroquois road. Pontiac Press Photos by Jim Mahar

Camp Fire Dates Back to 1910

When Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick started the original girls' youth movement in 1910 and named it Camp Fire Girls, he could little foresee the many resident and day camps that would dot the nation today.

Camp Fire program supplies many needs of the young girl: The need to belong; the need to progress; the need to be healthy, the need to succeed.

After operating for years as an organization for girls over 10, Camp Fire formed a junior group to serve girls from seven to 10, called Blue Birds.

The local Camp Fire Girls began selling candy from door to door nearly a decade ago, for the purpose of creating a camp fund.

With the help of the Civitan Club, sponsors of Camp Fire Girls in Pontiac, a spot just 18 miles from the city was found which included a private lake.

A year ago the Civitan Club set up a trust fund for a resident camp to be built across the lake from the present site. Kiwanis Club also has helped by building camp units and they gave three row boats.

Preparing food for the big meal is really a pleasure for Camp Fire Girls of Pontiac. They have become excellent outdoor cooks, what with the use of tinfoil and many exciting Camp Fire recipes. The day the photographer and reporter came for a visit, "Shady Lane" unit was in the process of cooking with tinfoil. Two of the unit members photographed were Cheri Monroe (left) of Third avenue and Karen Peterson of Going street.

Chores are a part of every camping project. But Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds don't seem to mind. When members of The Press came upon Mary Huemiller (left) of Walnut road and Marcia Sprague of Blaine street, they were singing merrily as they scrubbed the frying pans.

Two members of the Civitan Club were lucky enough to be guests of the Camp Fire Girls at their camp recently. Served were John Wilson (left), who is president of Civitan, and Lloyd Smith of Drayton Plains. Ila Morris of Third avenue served the food.

Camp Fire Projects Listed

Camp Fire Girls of Pontiac list many activities at their day camp near Clarkston.

Included are boating, fishing, rowing instruction, nature activities, woodwork and athletics.

Other activities are hiking, charcoal drawing, outdoor cooking, reflector oven cooking, tin foil cookery and stick cookery.

Overnights are always fun for Camp Fire Girls.

Girls Proudly Show Off Lakeside Site

Press Visitors Given Warm Welcome

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Womens Editor, The Pontiac Press

It was one of those lazy summer days when Press Photographer Jim Mahar and I rode out to the Camp Fire Girls' day camp near Clarkston.

* * *

We took the little winding road in to the camp where huge trees form an arch overhead. We were met by a welcoming committee of campers who showed us all around their 120-acre site which includes beautiful Lake Gulick.

We put on our walking shoes and went the rounds of the camp —saw the cabins and shelters which had been built by the Kiwanis Club of Pontiac, and thrilled at the boats which this organization has given to the camp.

We were served luncheon at camp, too. Ever have breadsticks or S'mores? We can tell you they're wonderful!

And we noted the sanitary measures employed by the girls preparing the food—how they made sure every campfire was out before leaving the unit. "Oh, these things are basic," they told us.

SERVED LUNCH

Mrs. Prince, leader of Deadtree Hollow;" her assistant, Jackie Kosky, and the unit served the luncheon. We were joined by Buddy and John Prince who come to the camp to help their mother with some of the "chores."

* * *

All things have to end, but on this day we didn't want to see 3 o'clock come. It meant closing of the camp for the day and we had to wander back to our typewriters and other pressing matters.

When the campers "close up" for the day, they bring their equipment to "headquarters" and show Camp Director Mrs. Phyllis Zamorski what they have accomplished during the day.

She has a smile and a word of praise for each and every one, as does Mary Ellen Wyngarden, director of the Camp Fire Girls.

* * *

When it was time for taps—all 70 girls gathered around the flagpole and sang their closing songs. It's really very impressive—for a moment you're a Camp Fire girl again.

BUS LOADS UP

Then you are rudely awakened by the call to begin loading the bus. On the bus, with Miss Wyngarden as chief operator, the girls sing more of the songs they have learned at camp.

* * *

When they let you out, they call, "Please come back and visit us soon again." And you go away feeling very important.

There's nature craft going on at Camp Fire Girls' day camp during every session. One of the most popular crafts is that of making buttons from branches. The tables which Lorraine King of Perkins street, Linda Branner of Harvey avenue and Linda Mathews of North Shirley avenue (left to right) are working on were donated by the Civitan Club.

Don't Quit Job Because of Whim

By ANNE HEYWOOD

If a woman asked you, "Do you think I should divorce my husband?" you would know immediately that if she had to ask, the answer was "No!"

* * *

The same thing holds for job-changing. If you have to ask, "Do you think I should change my job?" The answer is "No!"

There are times to change jobs, of course, but there are other times when it's the worst thing you could do—when it's a temporary idea which will go away if you let it.

How can you tell if your discontent with the job is real, if you honestly ought to change?

Let's examine some of the danger signals, some of the false alarms, the temporary and invalid reasons for thinking of change:

DIFFICULT PEOPLE

1. "The place is so full of difficult people, I've just got to go elsewhere."

* * *

Sometimes it's just one horrible creature, but "he is so impossible that I just have to change jobs."

If this is the way you feel, don't change! You'll meet difficult people wherever you go, so better learn enough compassion and understanding and skill to be able to handle them on your present premises.

2. "A friend of mine recently found a very glamorous job. I am bored to death and would like something more glamorous myself. After all, I'm as bright as she is."

* * *

There is glamor about any job and dullness about any job. If you've been doing all right until you heard about Susie, remember that Susie's new job has plenty of routine, too. Stay put.

LIFE SO BORING

3. "My life is so boring, now that Jim and I have broken up. A new job would bring some kind of lift to my life."

* * *

Don't change jobs in the wake of an unhappy love affair. Everything looks pale gray and horrible right now, but give life a chance to get back to normal before you engage in job-changing.

4. "I'm too overworked."

Occasionally, this is true. But more often it is either laziness, bad organization on your part or undue timidity or cowardice about asking for help or relief.

Try to work it out where you are, because a change will most likely be to another spot where you're overworked.

* * *

Review this list carefully before you engage in vocational surgery—which can be just as much a shock to the system as medical surgery can be!

If it's none of these reasons; if it's a realistic, chronic dislike of the work, which has been growing for some time, and if you are honestly doing the job the best you can, then maybe a change is indicated.

Appetizer Recipe Uses Fish Fillets

When Mrs. Chet Nauman of Oxbow Lake entertains, she likes to include her specialty, a cocktail fish ball. It never fails to delight her guests, she says.

Mrs. Nauman, a talented artist, enjoys her new home, especially her ground floor studio. In addition to turning out pieces of sculpture and pictures, Mrs. Nauman likes to sew and to braid rugs. She has just about completed a round rug, 12 feet in diameter.

Bowling, the Pontiac Society of Artists and the Eastern Star are outside activities that claim Mrs. Nauman's interest.

COCKTAIL FISHBALLS
By Mrs. Chet Nauman

1 pound frozen fish fillets
½ cup water
½ teaspoon salt

Bring to a boil, simmer 5 minutes. Drain and chop fine.

1 cup mashed potatoes
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon grated onion
2 teaspoons horseradish
1½ teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
Yolks of 2 eggs

Add above ingredients to fish. Using a ½ teaspoon to measure, make small balls of the fish mixture. Roll in dry bread crumbs, then in slightly beaten egg white, and again in crumbs. Chill and fry in deep fat at 360 degrees. Serve on toothpicks with the following sauce. Makes 100 balls.

Swet Sour Sauce

1 cup sugar
½ cup vinegar
½ cup water
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
½ teaspoon salt

Boil together 5 minutes. Add 2 teaspoons cornstarch and 1 tablespoon cold water. Cook until thick. Cool to serve.

MR. and MRS. W. J. KNISELY JR.

To reside in Tacoma, Wash., are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Knisely Jr. The bride is the former Carolyn Rae Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Smith of Richwood road. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Knisely of Mount Clemens street.

Carolyn Smith Becomes Bride in Methodist Rite

Candelabra and vases of white pompons and stock decorated the altar of Central Methodist Church for the Saturday wedding of Carolyn Rae Smith and William J. Knisely Jr. Dr. Milton Bank performed the 7 o'clock ceremony.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Smith of Richwood road are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Knisely of Mount Clemens street.

A gown of nylon over satin and tulle was worn by the bride. Nylon embroidered applique formed the portrait neckline and cap sleeves.

Matching applique medallions trimmed the full skirt which fell from a basque waistline and extended into a chapel train.

* * *

A cloche cap of grosgrain ribbon secured Carolyn's fingertip veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

ATTEND BRIDE

Carolyn Healey of Lincoln Park served as maid of honor, with Sue Knisely, sister of the bridegroom, and Jean Lucas of Clawson as the bridesmaids.

They wore waltz-length gowns fashioned of white nylon sheer trimmed with aqua crystalette. Their picture hats were of white nylon with tiny aqua bows and they carried cascade arrangements of aqua carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Smith wore a shell pink dress of pima cotton and orlon with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A blue shantung dress accented with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses was the choice of Mrs. Knisely.

Following the reception held in the church parlors, the newlyweds left for Tacoma, Wash., where they will make their home. For traveling the bride changed to a beige print ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Black crepe or cotton, accented with white, looks striking with a suntan; black is important for travel, too.

Black leads the color line-up for travel anywhere in the world. You live contentedly in the city and country, you turn black into an all-day wardrobe through accessories, and you are perfectly groomed and spotless in black coat and dress.

Meet His Royal Highness, Merry Duke of Kent

The cliche "Chip Off the Old Block" was never more aptly applied than to 20-year-old Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, and seventh in line for the English crown. For not since his father—the youngest of George the Fifth's four sons—danced and laughed away the years between the two world wars has Britain's press and public had such a royal playboy to put in its headlines and cluck about over its teacups. Here, in the first of four articles, a veteran palace correspondent begins an intimate, full-scale portrait of Britain's most talked-about young man.

By FRED DOERFLINGER

LONDON (INS) — A gangling young man with big ears, a receding chin, a toothy grin and a roving eye for a pretty girl is British royalty's latest offering to the world's headlines.

* * *

His Royal Highness Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, Earl of St. Andrews and Baron Kirkpatrick, and seventh in the line of succession to the British throne, will not be 21 until October 9 but he is already the most talked about young man in Britain.

Because of a spectacular series of car crashes and a dashing round of high jinks and tomfoolery, "Prince Eddie" has become the gossip columnists' dream and the frequent worry of his royal relatives.

The old hands around the court cluck and fume and the family tries the heavy hand of discipline, but Edward of Kent is as difficult to handle as a young colt when he gets off the leash, which is as often as he can manage.

At an age when most young British royalty already have been pitchforked into the full public round of opening bazaars, launching ships, laying foundation stones, and performing myriad other humdrum jobs, Eddie is being kept at his job of learning to be a soldier.

Officially he will follow his career in the British Army and one of these days will get a field marshal's baton. But a press which in these days is outspoken about royalty has questioned the propriety of keeping Eddie in the army just because it is "the thing" for younger male royalty. One discerning scribe recently suggested for example that the youngster should be allowed to go into industry and carve out a useful career.

For Prince Edward is as unconventional as his cousin Princess Margaret, as modern as the kid next door, and privately not too happy at following the well-trodden road of the princeling living on the goodwill of the royal bounty.

Like Margaret, young Eddie is restless and unorthodox. He finds the royal round somewhat distasteful, and on occasion can be slightly eccentric.

PROBLEM PRINCE

And above all he has the rich live-for-the-day type of blood of his fabled father George, youngest of King George Vth's four boys and bosom chum of the Duke of Windsor—then the Prince of Wales—in the days between the wars, when they roistered gaily together through the night life of London.

Eddie in fact is as much a problem prince as was his gay father, and causes his mother as much fret as his father did the grand old Queen Mary in the early 30's.

This is not hard to understand after a look at Eddie's family tree. The mingled blood of the fabulous — even scandalous — Romanoff Czars, merry British kings, bellicose German princes, dashing Danish dukes and precariously-poised Greek monarchs courses rapidly through his veins.

* * *

His mother, the Duchess of Kent and former Princess Marina of Greece, is the daughter of the Grand Duchess Helen of Russia and Prince Nicholas of Greece.

His father chalked up quite a record as a playboy before his tragic death in an air crash while on active service in 1942.

LIKES A GOOD TIME

And Eddie is the spitting image of his gregarious dad. He walks with the same slight stoop as his father, sits like him, stands like him, eats like him and even thinks like him.

He certainly has the same fondness for speedy automobiles, fast-stepping on the dance floor and in the social whirl, travel and making "whoopee."

Eddie was not brought up under the traditional heavy, restricting warps of royal pomp and protocol. The Duchess of Kent has always leaned over backwards to give him his head and his freedom. It is at her wish that he is pursuing, completely unhampered, the army cawhy Eddie is the only member of the royal family who is never drafted to perform public duties of any kind.

HAS LITTLE MONEY

Money, or rather the lack of it, has loomed large in Eddie's life. He was only a terribly upset six when his father was killed and he succeeded to the title. The Kent's royal income of $98,000 a year ceased and his mother was left with the modest pension due the widow of an air commodore. The Kent's town house and art collections had to be sold.

Eddie's father left considerably less than $500,000 and this was subject to heavy death duties. Even with Queen Mary's help life at Coppins, the Kent's simple country home at Iver, in Buckinghamshire, could hardly be compared with the luxury of a royal palace.

Eddie's education was also unconventional by royal standards. First he was sent by bicycle and not limousine to a preparatory school, Ludgrove, near Wokingham, Berkshire, where, his headmaster reports, he was "kicked around as much as any other boy."

PASSION FOR FRENCH

Then came Eton, where the adolescent duke was good at games but not outstanding. His greatest achievement was to be described as "useful" at soccer football. But he was always fairly popular with his schoolmates, principally because of a quick sense of humor and readiness for pranks.

Three years at Eton and he was suddenly uprooted and dispatched to "Les Rosey," the so-called "School of Kings" in Switzerland, for health reasons. a sufferer from hay fever since early childhood, the Duke's acute sinus trouble forced the move to a more amenable climate. He enjoyed the liberal atmosphere of Le Rosey, and it was here that he acquired his passion for skiing and a mastery of French.

Eddie, apart from his more recent celebrated holidays abroad, has seen quite a bit of the world. His mother took him just before his 17th birthday on a trip to Malaya, Singapore and Borneo.

He spent several weeks in close association with the men fighting the Red bandits in Malaya. In Singapore and Borneo he sailed in all manner of royal navy ships and explored every type of aircraft.

It was that first look at the real world that influenced Eddie to set a new royal precedent and enlist in the British army as a private soldier for a five-year engagement.

After passing his entrance examination to Britain's West Point, Sandhurst, he entered the military academy in March, 1954, as an officer-cadet at a pay of $7.84 a week.

There was no mollycoddling at Sandhurst. Eddie, perhaps because of his royal status, got the works. There was no exemption from drill, no rapid promotion, no extra leave and certainly no dodging of fatigues.

Eddie even spent part of his 19th birthday marching up and down the parade ground on punishment drill. Explained the orderly officer: "A very minor matter of military discipline."

NOT AN INTELLECTUAL

No one has ever termed the duke a brilliant scholar or an intellectual but suggestions that he is "not too bright" are quickly scotched by his Sandhurst record.

Eddie was 46th in order of merit and character in his class of 222 candidates. As a result of his grounding in French, he also captured a coveted prize for foreign languages.

On being commissioned a second lieutenant in July 1955 Eddie plumped not for one of the swank exclusive regiments of guards but for the Royal Scots Greys, a far less elite armored regiment. Today he commands a 50-ton Centurion tank.

Of course money may have had something to do with his choice too. Serving in the guards, who are as social as they are military, costs plenty, and Eddie has to make ends meet on his army pay of $893.20 a year plus a small allowance his mother gives him.

* * *

The duke will be much better off when he comes of age in October for then he will begin to benefit from the multi-million dollar trust funds set up by his late grandmother, Queen Mary.

Tips Given for Happier Motoring

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Considering the fact that women spend so much time in their cars I am giving you a few suggestions for the feminine motorist. I already have talked about posture while driving and described the unattractive aftermath of poor posture during the hours you are in your car.

* * *

1. If you drive a great deal in the summertime you may soon find yourself with one arm which is several shades darker than the other. Long sleeves in hot weather are not feasible.

You could have a separate sleeve (just from wrist to elbow) to slip on when you drive. If you do not want to bother with this you can use suntan makeup on your inside arm when you dress for special occasions.

2. Even in a car your face may become wind-burned or may be dried out by hot dusty gusts and the heat from the road. Why not use a base? You can get one for dry skins.

* * *

3. Your lips also may become dry or chapped. Be sure that your lipstick is not too dry. Apply one of the colorless pomades on long trips.

4. Remember that loose hair blowing in your face is dangerous. Let me also call your attention to the fact that flowing sleeves are not practical for efficient driving.

* * *

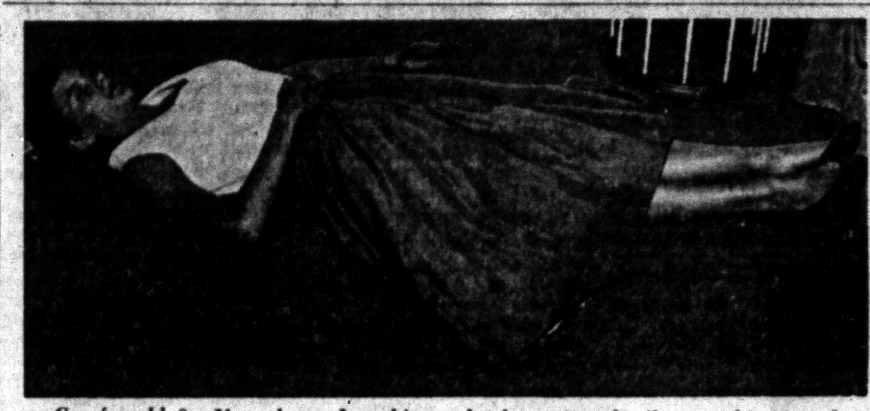

5. Usually we feel the most fatigue through the neck and shoulders after a long motor trip. When you reach your destination lie flat on your back on the floor. This is more restful than on a bed.

Stretch your neck slowly against the floor, making it as long as possible. Rest in this position for a while.. Turn onto your abdomen and place a hot water bottle or a heating pad on your shoulders and the back of your neck.

6. Hurry and fatigue lead to accidents. Surveys have shown that emotional factors are a major cause of traffic accidents. Do not drive when emotionally upset or when extremely tired.

* * *

Tomorrow: "Follow Lines of Least Resistance to Beat Heat."

Comfortable? You bet. Josephine Lowman advises resting in this postion after a long motor trip. Stretch your neck slowly against the floor, making it as long as possible.

Newlyweds Travel West Following Rite in Detroit

MRS. JOHN N. RALLIS

Palms and white gladioli banked the altar of Assumption Greek Orthodox Church, Detroit, for the Sunday wedding of Magda Popoudos and John Nicholas Rallis.

Magda is the niece of Mrs. Malama Phillips of Detroit. John is the son of Mrs. Cleo Rallis of Judson street and the late Mr. Rallis.

The 4 o'clock service was performed by the Rev. George N. Economov of Harrisburg, Pa. Two hundred and fifty guests witnessed the ceremony.

A gown of silk taffeta was chosen by the bride. The floor-length dress was fashioned with a lace and sequin-trimmed neckline, long sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her veil was fingertip length and the bridal bouquet was composed of stephanotis, baby orchids and ivy.

* * *

Madeline Rallis, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore embroidered white organdy over Nile green taffeta with a small matching hat, and carried pale pink dahlias surrounded by American Beauty roses.

Bridesmaids were Mary Sarros and Helen Renziperis, Ann Strijulis of Detroit, JoAnn Phillips of Grosse Pointe and Ann Brown of Birmingham.

They wore lemon yellow gowns styled like the maid of honor's and carried bouquets of small yellow chrysanthemums.

Elaine Nickolopoulos wore white net over satin for her duties as flower girl. Philip Phillips of Detroit carried the pearl crowns for the ceremony and Aery Nickolopoulos was ringbearer.

Alex Sarros served as best man, and ushers were Gus Rallis and Socrates Rallis, brothers of the bridegroom; John Rendziperis, John Phillips of Grosse Pointe and Mike Veronis of Miami, Fla.

At the reception held at the Embassy Ballroom in Detroit, Mrs. Phillips wore a dress of gray lace over rose taffeta with a corsage of white and rose carnations.

Following a motor trip to the West Coast the newlyweds will make their home on East Pike street. For traveling, the bride changed to a beige linen suit with dark brown accessories.

MODERN MIRACLE

Has your hair lost its sparkle? Is it dull, lifeless, frizzy? Have you tried home remedies without success? We have good news for you. We do have a treatment that will help. First of all, what happens to your hair when it has been sun broiled, over bleached, wind dried or just abused from too strong chemicals such as detergent shampoos. Take a piece of rope (which is made up of hundreds of strands) untwist the end, see what happens. The strands separate and the rope or string has lost its strength or shape. Your hair is made up of strands just like the rope, except that in the hair they are called Keratin chains. When your hair has been damaged and neglected these Keratin chains separate and your hair becomes dry and frizzy. A new type of treatment will knit the Keratin chain or strand together and give the hair new luster and strength. Can we help you with your problem? Call us for an appointment.

Solution to Stray Dogs: Tax Expectant Females

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Sally Moody, president of Animal Allies, suggested that the number of stray dogs could be reduced "if such an ordinance were passed making female dogs subject to a $25 license fee before they have puppies.

Richard L. Bonner, manager of the Animal Regulation Department, said the proposed love licensing was "probably legal, but unenforceable."

Soviet Families Won't Have Car

NEW YORK (INS)—Four American builders just returned from a 30-day tour of the Soviet Union report that few Russian families of the future will have a family car, according to Soviet planners.

* * *

"The motor age will catch up with them," said Earl W. Smith, chairman of the 18-man delegation of the National Association of Home Builders, "but they seem to think they can get along without mass use of automobiles."

According to Smith, who spoke at a news conference, the Soviet is engaged in an impressive experiment in community planning.

The Russian community of the future, he said, is designed as a self-contained unit clustered around a working establishment.

Factory or office, shopping center, amusement or cultural facilities are all within a five or ten minute walk of mass housing blocks.

"Everything is close at hand; cross city travel is at a minimum. They have no need for a family car," Smith said.

While Smith praised the scope of the Russian construction program, he said complete lack of maintenance made it almost impossible to guess at the age of Russian buildings.

He said Russian builders told the delegation that they were aware that much of their material was of low quality.

But Russians are introducing techniques that Soviet builders delegation observed on their visit to the United States last year.

Russian kitchens, for the first time, are being equipped with cabinets. Closets are now a standard apartment feature and bathroom design is utilizing American trends.

Harmony Seen for Arabs If Syrians, Egyptians Unite

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—The projected federal union of Syria and Egypt may lay the foundation for a new agency of cooperation within the Arab world in foreign, economic and military affairs.

* * *

A high Syrian source reports President Shukri Kuwatly has suggested that the union — negotiations for which were officially approved by the Egyptians and the Syrians July 5 — be opened "to any other Arab country that agrees to its principles and charter."

Most of the Arab nations are loosely aligned in the Arab League, with headquarters in Cairo. They are united in distrust of Israel. They see eye to eye on many other issues. But there are distinct exceptions. No great success has attended past efforts to weld them into a cohesive federation.

The Syrian informant said Kuwatly's government is working on details of a 40-article draft to be presented to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's regime for negotiations early in August. He said Kuwatly twice before approached Egypt on this subject, once in 1954 and again at the Syrian-Egyptian-Saudi Arabian summit conference in Cairo last March.

By this account, these are the main points:

"1. Both contracting countries should abandon part of their sovereignty to cooperate under a federal union covering foreign, military and economic affairs.

* * *

"2. Formation of a federal council composed of executive and legislative authorities, plus a federal supreme court of justice.

"3. An executive federal authority should be composed of both countries' foreign, defense and economy ministers to conduct common policies of the union.

"4. A federal legislative assembly should be composed of equal members from both states elected by the Syrian and Egyptian parliaments to make necessary laws for the union.

"5. A federal supreme council of justice should have sole authority to rule and decide over differences which might arise between parties of the union.

"6. The federation should have a president elected every two years by a legislative federal assembly and the presidency should rotate between Syria and Egypt.

"7. Both states should maintain their internal autonomy, their present political status and regimes under federation.

* * *

"8. Both countries' citizens should be given unified federal citizenship enabling them to travel freely within the federation, but they should maintain their original citizenships to carry out their internal local political rights in both states."

I FIRST LEARNED ABOUT O-JIB-WA BITTERS THROUGH A TRUE TESTIMONIAL SUCH AS YOU ARE NOW READING

"My sister in Grand Rapids knew so many people that O-JIB-WA helped, that she sent me a newspaper clipping about it, and urged me to give it a trial. For two years I suffered from rheumatism and arthritis in my arms and legs, with lots of pain, so I was anxious to try it. Well, I purchased the large bottle and followed the directions carefully. By the time the bottle was half gone, I had received grand results. Just a short time later, I was better, and could walk and get around good again. Another way O-JIB-WA BITTERS helped me was as a tonic. I was awfully rundown, and it helped my stomach, liver and kidneys so much, that I wouldn't be without it now. My nerves too are much better, so I personally feel that this is the best medicine made. Among the many people I know who your medicine has helped, is a relative who can walk again thanks to O-JIB-WA. My druggist also told me about a lady he knew, who was flat on her back with arthritis, and then successfully overcome it with your medicine. Is it any wonder that I praise and recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS every opportunity I get?"

East Jordan Pitches In to Obtain New Factory

EAST JORDAN (AP)—Businessmen in this little northwest Michigan town (pop. 2,2000) wasted no time when they learned the Mount Clemens Metal Products Co. was considering construction of a branch plant.

In four days last week they pledged $25,000 toward construction of the $50,000 plant if the company would build it in East Jordan. The firm already operates a branch plant here.

The deal was closed yesterday. The company, which manufactures metal castings, will employ an additional 50 workers when the new plant is completed.

Miami's Fashion Council now numbers 82 members, whose gross annual business amounts to $45,000,000 and whose yearly payrolls total $15,000,000.

Land Optioned for New Waterford Post Office

Seeking Bids for Building

Summerfield's Name Holds Site on Dixie; Would Double Space

WATERFORD—Another attempt to secure a new post office building is underway and this time, according to Postmistress Mrs. Robert Amos, is more likely to be successful.

Tries to have someone build a post office building for lease to the government have failed repeatedly during the past two years.

An option is now held on a desirable piece of property in the central part of the village and on Dixie Highway, Mrs. Amos reports. This, she says, should ease details, for possible builders.

The new building will provide 1,600 square feet of space, much more than in the present post office at 5836 Andersonville Rd., which Mrs. Amos says is inadequate. Present floor area is only 550 square feet, she says.

The new building's lease would be for from five to ten years from the date of occupancy, Mrs. Amos says. It should state the price per annum, including heat, light, power, water, toilet facilities, plumbing, heating and lighting fixtures.

The building would be on property now optioned by Postmaster General Arthur A. Summerfield and which would be sold to the successful bidder.

General building requirements and equipment specifications and information concerning lease provisions may be obtained from Inspector John Jehowski, 213 Federal Building, Detroit, Mrs. Amos says.

Lake Orion Plant Aiding Third of Area Teachers

LAKE ORION—A plan enabling male school teachers to have regular summer jobs is carried out by Artco, Inc., a small manufacturing firm on Indianwood Rd.

* * *

Teachers in the Lake Orion Community School system, according to the plan worked out two years ago by Walter Schreiber, founder and president of the firm, are given the security of year-around working security.

Schreiber, who lives in Orion Township, is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotarians and is mindful of his community's problems.

About one-third of the eligible teachers are currently taking advantage of the plan, and are working throughout the shop, wherever they fit in best.

* * *

A foreman comments that they are cooperative and will to do hard work, although their jobs are a far cry from office work. All vacancies have been filled and no applications are being taken at the plant.

Although many teachers from this area are taking courses this summer in nearby colleges rather than working, because of the expansion of the school system offering a greater chance for advancement, they too have indicated appreciation of the program and intend to share in it other years.

City Orders New Sewer Proposal

Plan for Durant Street Altered to Exclude Area in Northwest Section

The City Commission scrapped an old plan for a sanitary sewer on Durant Street last night and instructed a new one be drawn to exclude property of protesting owners in the northwest area.

* * *

J. A. Tillson, owner of 11 lots involved, and officials of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad protested the public improvement project. Tillson, who appeared before the commission for the second week, and the railroad's communication both declared the proposed "sewer would not benefit their property."

The original sewer was proposed for Durant from Pershing to Inglewood streets. The new plan will exclude the Tillson and railroad property and run further northwest to the end of Durant.

City Engineer Lewis Wrenn assured the commission the change could be made "without destroying the value of the sewer to the north."

* * *

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles told some 12 residents appearing for the public hearing that another hearing would be conducted on the new project.

Oak Park Asks New Bond Issue

Seeks $2½ Million Fund in Sixth Tax Vote in Six Years

OAK PARK—Voters here are being asked to approve in an August 27 election a new bond issue for two and a half million dollars for new school buildings.

It will be the sixth time in six years that residents have been asked for school building money.

Oak Park has borrowed $7,250,000 for school building since 1951.

Estimated additional cost to each taxpayer will be from $3.50 to $3.75 for every $1,000 assessed valuation. Last year voters paid $29.43 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Voters approved more money for operating the schools at the annual June election. A new bond issue and the extra three mills approved already this year could raise the tax bill about nine dollars over last year on each $1,000 assessed valuation.

Supt. James N. Pepper says the actual cost to each taxpayer has not been finally set.

The new bond issue would pay for a new 18-room elementary school at Ten-Mile and Greenfield and an 18-room addition to the Key school.

Lathrup Creates Police Chief Job

Attorney Tells Council Force Was Not Official, Questions Fines

LATHRUP VILLAGE —Establishment of a police force was officially enacted in a new ordinance by Lathrup Village city council commissioners Monday night.

* * *

In the new police organization, a single chief would be over all volunteers and regular policemen whom the city might hire.

City Attorney Everett Hayes had told the council that there could be a question of legality of the city's police force as it has been set up.

He said the $10,000 collected in fines during the past two and a half years could also be questioned, in as much as there has been no specific police protection provided for in the city's charter beyond the volunteer police force.

* * *

City adminisrator Leonard Watchowski said yesterday that Justice of the Peace Leonard V. Pylkas had urged the council to adopt a police force ordinance before he resigned.

Pylkas and Police Lt. Dave Bourgeois recently resigned but City Clerk Beth Cole was instructed Monday by the council to write Pylkas asking him to withdraw his resignation.

Councilwoman Katheryn Z. Feyereisen twice moved during this week's meeting to accept Pylkas's resignation, but got no support.

Wayne Airport Row Continues

Airlines Say Facilities at Willow Run Better, Location Is Adequate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Airlines serving Detroit have declared it "doesn't make sense" to spend money on Wayne County airport, described by a member of the city's aviation commission as an "aeronautical absurdity."

* * *

Robert J. Wilson, vice president of Capital Airlines, speaking also for other lines serving Detroit, estimated it would cost 30 million dollars to make the Wayne County airport suitable for commercial use.

The "aeronautical absurdity" description was given by William Joy, member of the Detroit aviation commission. He said ground traffic interferes with takeoffs and landings, and that the Wayne County airport is wholly inadequate.

"Nobody except the Wayne County Road Commission appears to want" the Wayne County field, added Cass Hough, former Michigan State director of Aeronautics.

TESTIFIES BEFORE HOUSE

They testified before a house government operations subcommittee at the opening of an inquiry into a years-long fight over whether the Wayne County airport or the Willow Run airport should be the major terminal for air traffic in Detroit.

The airlines now operate out of Willow Run, and don't want to move to Wayne which they said is only eight miles closer to downtown Detroit.

They operate under lease of the Willow Run terminal from the University of Michigan which took over the field at the end of World War II to obtain use of some buildings there for a research center.

Next: Masculine Engagement Rings

More and More Men Don Wedding Bands

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—The two men were standing at the bar discussing wedding rings.

This is a topic that does not come up often in such relaxed circles. In fact, it might be called a touchy subject.

Even the bartender listened in.

"To me, ya outa ya mind, wearing that ring," said the one who was not equipped with a gold band. "You give women ideas."

"What do you mean?" said the other, examining his token of marital bliss in the white light of a martini. "I wear it to keep women from getting ideas, so they won't paw all over me in joints like this."

* * *

"That is an unrealistic attitude. You wear a ring 'cause your wife said you wear a ring."

"It's masculine-lookin'—where's the crime?"

OWNED BY WOMAN

The ringless wonder shook his head. "That's okay. No crime. You want to be owned by a woman, you are owned by a woman. Persinly I would just as soon wear a ring in my nose."

* * *

"Look," continued the ringed one defensively, "I am not owned. My wife bought it for me and what do you want me to do—tell her to throw it away?"

The bartender nodded, as all bartenders must at some stage of a conversation that is aimed for nowhere.

"You see?" he said philosophically. "It is not the principle. It's the money of the thing."

* * *

This spicy repartee led us to wondering just how many men these days are going in for double-ring ceremonies — a tradition started in Europe but shunned for centuries in the brave new world of America.

We telephoned the association that represents retail jewelers throughout the U. S., and received some astounding news:

There is a higher percentage of men's wedding rings being sold this year than women's wedding rings.

LOGICAL SITUATION

Crazy it sounds; but logical it is. "Since the Korean War," wedding rings for men have been important," said a spokesman, "and men who didn't warm up to the idea before this are now being gifted with rings from their wives.

* * *

"They don't seem to object. In fact, the trend is so fashionable now that 90 per cent of all marriages are double-ring ceremonies."

The acceptance of men's wedding rings has been so overwhelming, in fact, that jewelers are ready to come out with an engagement ring for the boys!

There are only two hitches: 1) The average man doesn't feel quite at home yet with diamonds on his pinkie, and 2) a man's ring has to be so massive that the average girl can't afford to buy him a diamond that is properly virile.

* * *

But they may get over that, with the use of clusters of diamond chips that will make economical setting look like a husky three-karat solitaire.

THING OF THE FUTURE

"The engagement ring for men is the thing of the future," said the expert, "but it may go over big. The reason is that, since the wars, a woman wants to have tangible proof that this man is her man . . . and a man is willing to go along the whole way.

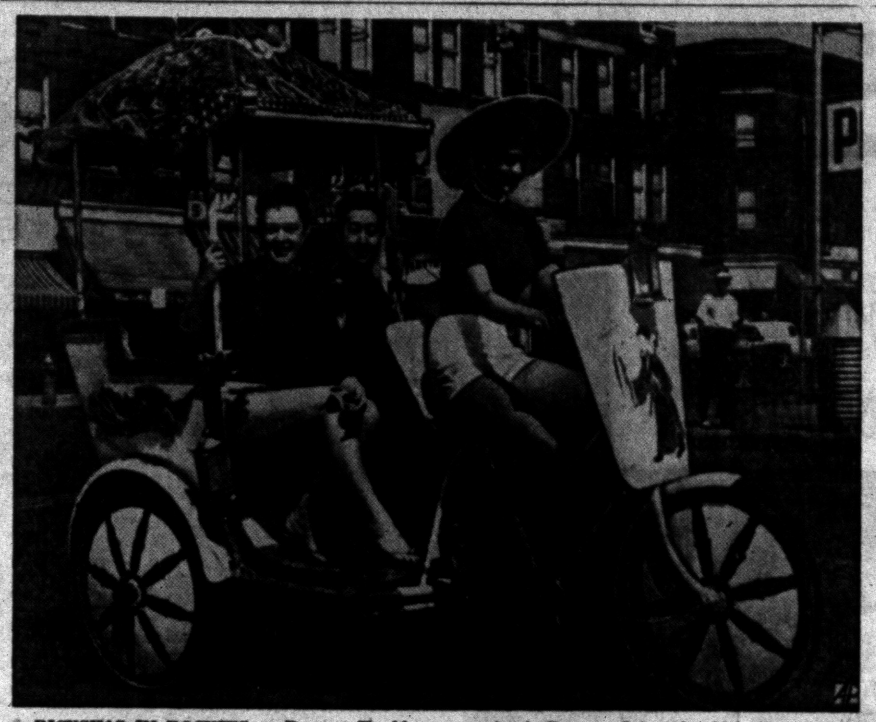

* * *

"And don't think it's too sentimental.

"This is a security-starved world."

Italians Amazed at Arsenic Poisoning; Dutch Doctor Tells of Similar Cases

ROME (AP)—Italians read with amazement of "poisoned roses" that sifted deadly arsenic dust on U.S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce.

* * *

American Embassy personnel were equally surprised by the published report of the bizarre cause of her illness—arsenic poisoning from her bedroom ceiling.

There must have been some on the embassy staff who were aware of it. But they weren't talking.

John D. Jernegan, embassy counsellor in charge while Mrs. Luce is undergoing medical treatment in the United States, said he could add nothing to the Time magazine report.

Reporters were not permitted to enter her villa to look over the ambassador's bedroom.

* * *

A spokesman for Salvatore Mundi, International Hospital used by many foreigners resident in Rome—said he had never heard of such a case of arsenic poisoning.

One of Rome's biggest paint stores said it sold a lot of paint containing arsenic but had never heard of anyone being poisoned by it.

A Dutch doctor practicing in Rome said he had seen a number of cases of similar paint poisoning in the city.

* * *

"It seems to be most frequent in cases of green paint," he said.

Mrs. Luce's bedroom, in her 17th Century villa, reportedly has heavy green beams. But the arsenic powder and fumes were understood to come from white roses painted on the ceiling.

A doctor who had been called in on the Luce case said he had never heard of a similar instance. "But it would be very possible in these old buildings," he said. "Dust easily falls from the ceilings."

Italian newspapers front-paged the story. One called it the case of "The Poisoned Roses." Another termed it "A Romantic Adventure" for Ambassador Luce. The pro-Communist Paese Sera referred to "A Dark Mystery" and recalled for its readers the Borgia family, which reputedly took care of some enemies by use of poisons.

Paese Sera said there was nothing like this in the Luce case.

Mrs. Luce's bedroom is on the second floor of the Villa Taverna, the ambassador's official residence in Rome. The brown stucco building, with about a dozen rooms, is in a seven-acre park of green lawns, cypress and pine trees and marble statues. It is surrounded by an ancient brick wall.

* * *

The ambassador's bedroom, one of two master bedrooms, is described as large and ornately decorated. Mrs. Luce, an embassy spokesman said, did a great deal of work at her desk there, in addition to using it as a sleeping chamber.

Clement of Tennessee Emerges as Democratic Buffer to Kefauver Nomination

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (INS) — Frank Goad Clement, his friends insist, could talk his way into anything—and anything might include the vice presidency.

The Tennessee governor would like the Democratic nomination for vice president, and was pushed in behind-the-scenes conversations for the role of Chicago keynoter, which came his way last week.

Young, handsome, persuasive Frank Clement is viewed in some quarters as a likely candidate to unify Southern and Northern wings of the party in its effort to recapture the White House.

Clement has had marked success in his homestate in keeping the touchy controversy over segregation under control. He is committed neither to immediate, forceful integration, or to volatile plans of pro-segregation groups. This course would seem to make him acceptable to democrats of radically opposite viewpoints.

KEFAUVER IS RIVAL

Clement has fought some notable toe-to-toe battles, but he more often has won through a combination of personable persuasion and conciliation

His election in 1952 at the age of 32, climaxed a rugged campaign against veteran former Gov. Gordon Browning. His current political rival is presidential aspirant Sen. Estes Kefauver, an old friend of Browning.

In the gubernatorial race, Clement aligned himself with veteran Memphis political boss E. H. "Boss" Crump, whose power seemed to be waning with the rise of Kefauver. But when Clement became the nation's youngest governor, the Crump-Clement alliance faded.

• • •

Clement won his latest political skirmish without so much as a word of public dispute, when he kept Tennessee's convention delegation from being committed to Kefauver. Tennessee's support can be shifted to the senator if Clement's vice-presidential drive falters, but the delegation goes to Chicago uninstructed.

RELIGIOUS OUTLOOK

Clement's popularity in his home state stems from a deft combination of forceful oratory, his knack for soothing ruffled political feathers, plus a skillful and apparently sincere effort to apply deep religious fundamentalism to the affairs of government.

In almost everything Clement attempts, there is a basic religious appeal to Christian ideals.

This spring, standing before an emotional mass of citizens who were demanding a special legislative session to circumvent the U. S. Supreme Court segregation rulings, Clement said calmly but forcefully:

• • •

"I will not be stampeded. Segregation is not a political issue. It is a significant and far-reaching issue which demands statesmanlike considerations, prayerful thought and careful legal analysis."

Voters in Tennessee have found it difficult at times to differentiate between Clement's political remarks and good, old-fashioned evangelistic preaching, so skillfully did he combine elements of both.

At the capitol, talking to a group of school children, he once said: "Do not speak or do anything you would be ashamed of; have faith in God, in your country, in the leaders, in your family and in yourself."

Clement is a close personal friend and admirer of evangelist Billy Graham, and at one time reportedly gave consideration to tossing aside the gubernatorial assignment to aid Graham in his work.

He is a popular speaker, both within and without Tennessee. He has filled many speaking engagements of an inspirational nature. Much of his popularity stems, perhaps, not so much from what he says, but the way he says it.

A woman reporter in a small Alabama town confessed to her editor: "Oh, Gosh! I was so enthralled listening to him that I forgot to take notes. Thinking back, I don't believe he really said anything important, but the audience hung onto every word."

At the state convention before his second term as governor, a veteran Tennessee political leader declared: "I knew I shouldn't have come here. I was against him all last summer — now he's re-sold me."

Clement was reared in the little town of Dickens, Tenn., graduated from high school at 16, stayed two years at small Cumberland University, then got a law degree at Vanderbilt.

CALLS IKE 'ALOOF'

He gave up an FBI assignment after a year to enlist in the Army and earned First Lieutenant bars. When he was discharged, he became the youngest man ever named general counsel for the Tennessee Railroad and Public Utilities Commission. His next post was the jump to the governorship, as the youngest man ever to hold the job.

Clement is perhaps the number one champion of the Tennessee Valley Authority. He played a leading role in the fight against the Dixon-Yates contract. He describes President Eisenhower as being aloof from his own party, which, he says, "means aloofness to the people."

Frank Clement is close to the people of Tennessee. He likes to say that "every school child calls me Frank." His supporters, speaking of his homestate popularity, like to paraphrase an old Clement joke:

"Tennessee—the state that gave Cordell Hull to the world, Andrew Jackson to the nation, Sam Houston to Texas and Davy Crockett to Hollywood—now gives Frank Clement anything he wants."

Democratic Senators Still Out to Curb Ike's Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today faced a battle with senators over two congressional attempts to curtail his field of executive operations.

* * *

Democratic senators made it clear they intend to stick by their demand that the President and Secretary of State Dulles get approval of the Senate Appropriations Committee before making any commitment to help finance the Aswan Dam in Egypt.

In another field, Sen. Russell (D-Ga) led a move to revive a congressional mandate requiring advance approval of the Senate and House armed services committees for spending some defense appropriations.

The requirement, affecting development of the Talos missile and construction of housing for servicemen, caused Eisenhower to veto Monday a two-billion-dollar military construction bill which contained it.

* * *

At Eisenhower's urging, the House passed quickly yesterday a new bill without the offending provisions. But both Russell and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said the Senate will act with less haste.

Russell, influential on both the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations committees, said he planned no immediate action but might find a way to renew the restrictions in a final supplemental appropriation measure still being considered in committee.

If Congress approves that action, Eisenhower might have to decide between no funds for certain administration requests and acceptance of an unwanted congressional committee review.

* * *

Egypt's Ambassador Ahmed Hussein said his country has decided to turn to the West — rather than to Russia — for financing of the $1,300,000,000 proposed Aswan Dam on the Nile.

But Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he will stand by a restrictive statement the Appropriations Committee put into its report on the $4,105,000,000 foreign aid bill. The committee directed that no funds of any kind "be used on this dam without prior approval of the Committee on Appropriations."

Unlike the mandate requiring consultation on guided missile and housing developments, the Aswan Dam policy statement is carried only in the Appropriations Committee's report and not in the foreign aid bill on which the Senate will act next week.

* * *

Thus it wuld not be subject to a presidential veto such as that which sent the military construction bill back to Congress. Nor would it be legally binding, though it would carry great weight.

Both Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles voiced their objections to this provision in a meeting with Republican congressional leaders, and Dulles wrote Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz) of the appropriations group:

"I think I should make clear that the executive department of the government would not feel bound by the language in the Senate Appropriations Committee report."

* * *

Dulles sent along, however, a copy of a June 26 letter in which he told Hayden: "I assure you that none of the funds which may be appropriated for fiscal year 1957 will be committed to finance the Aswan Dam without specific prior consultation with the committee."

The secretary seemed to be making the point that while he would be willing to "consult" with the group, he would not be bound to get its approval before committing the United States to some financial assistance for the project.

Arsenic Never Used to Make U.S. Paints

NEW YORK (AP)—The paints in our home can't cause arsenic poisoning like that credited with sickening Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, U.S. experts said today.

Arsenic is simply not used in American paints. Years ago some might have been contained in the pigment paris green. But paint chemists long ago developed better, cheaper green pigments.

About the only serious hazard in paints now can be lead — if children chew lead - containing paints from cribs, toys, furniture or other objects.

Paints, as other products, now are usually given strict tests for safety and toxicity before being marketed, said Dr. A. Haldane Gee, director of toxicology of Foster D. Snell, Inc., consulting chemists, New York.

ADVISER TO IKE — President Eisenhower has appointed presidential consultant Clarence B. Randall to be his special adviser in charge of foreign economic policies. Randell succeeds Joseph M. Dodge, a Detroit banker, who recently resigned.

Magsaysay May Accept Ike's Bid to Visit U.S.

MANILA (AP) — President Ramon Magsaysay may visit the United States next year.

A government spokesman said today U.S. Vice President Richard Nixon "reterated a standing invitation" from President Eisenhower for such a visit when Nixon visited the Philippines July 4.

Infanticide Case Hearing to Open

MSU Student in Court Tomorrow to Answer Charges in Son's Death

EAST LANSING (AP) — Preliminary examination of a Japanese-Hawaiian student at Michigan State University on an open charge of murder will be held tomorrow in East Lansing Justice Court.

* * *

Kinney Tamaribuchi, 27, a first year agriculture student from Waimea, Kavai, Hawaii, is charged with the fatal beating of his seven-year-old son, Kent, on the night of June 17.

East Lansing police said the father admitted beating the child with his fists, a tennis racket and a small wooden mallet.

The father, barefooted and wearing only bathing trunks, then took the child to the emergency ward at Edward W. Sparrow Hospital. Physicians said the child died shortly before his arrival. The boy's Hawaiian-born mother was out of the city at the time.

Dr. Byron Casey, a psychiatrist at the MSU Hospital Service, said the father had sought help for "an uncontrollable temper" and was under treatment at the time.

Tamaribuchi stood mute on arraignment and was ordered held without bail for examination.

IN THE WOODS — 2

Don't Get Lost

People who get lost in woods often walk in wide circles. That is because they cannot see just where they are going, and because their left leg usually takes a little longer step than their right.

If you go into a real forest, the best way to avoid losing your way is to learn how to use a compass and to have one with you. If you feel lost for a moment, keep your head and study the situation.

Billy is on his way home because the sun is sinking and it will soon be dark. He has stopped to watch a woodpecker drilling a tree at the edge of the woods.

There are old sayings that woodpeckers make their nest holes on the east side of trees, that the bark on the north side of a tree is thicker than on other sides, and that moss grows thickest on the north side of a tree. But don't depend on such signs should you get lost. Instead, build a small fire in an open clearing, make it smoke by adding wet leaves, then sit down and wait for help.

Russia, East Germany Ink Trade, Aid Agreement

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has promised Communist East Germany more trade and aid. The Russians also agreed to give the Red zone of Germany an atomic power station and halve the yearly bill for support of Soviet occupation troops.

The new economic agreement, signed after only two days of final negotiation, in effect ties the East German economy still closer to Moscow.

* * *

(The new aid also appeared designed to meet widespread East German grumbling which has aroused Red fears of a workers' uprising similar to that in Poznan, Poland, June 28. The official East German news agency ADN said Russia would ship several billion marks worth of additional goods, making possible a boost in living standards.)

The Soviet and East German delegations toasted their work at a Kremlin banquet at which Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev ridiculed Western democracy as a sham. The picked audience laughed heartily.

* * *

"The imperialists could not strangle us in 1917 and 1918, when we stood alone. How can they do it now?" the Soviet Communist chief demanded.

A joint declaration of the two Communist regimes said both would welcome a united Germany but that the only way to bring together the split country "is by means of talks and agreement between the governments of both German states."

BONN REJECTS OFFER

West Germany has insisted on free elections and refused to bargain directly with the neighboring Communist regime. In Bonn, government let it be known it would also reject the new unification proposal.

The joint statement called on Britain, France and the United States to reduce their garrisons in West Germany "with a view of ultimately recalling all the foreign troops" from the divided nation.

* * *

It said West German plans to conscript troops for the NATO defense forces are a bar to unification.

The new Soviet-East German agreement provides:

1. East Germany "will receive during 1957-60 big additional resources for the development of her national economy."

2. Both countries will increase exchanges of machinery, equipment and "other products and materials." No figures were given.

3. The Soviets will grant the East Germans more hard currency for purchase of "essential goods" from the West.

* * *

4. Beginning Jan. 1, the bill to East Germany for maintenance of Soviet troops is to be cut from one billion 600 million east marks to 800 million annually. (The East Germans say the new figure amounts to 47½ million dollars on the open market exchange.)

5. The Soviet Union will provide blueprints, equipment and material for a 100,000-kilowatt atomic power station in East Germany.

6. The two regimes will expand exchange of scientific and technical information and students and will "take other measures leading to the fruitful development of scientific and technological progress in both states."

400,000 REMAIN

The statement said the reduction in the Red army maintenance bill was made possible by the recent withdrawal of Soviet occupation troops from Germany. (The Russians previously announced they were pulling 32,000 men out of Germany; the East German news agency said the present Soviet garrison numbers 400,000.)

* * *

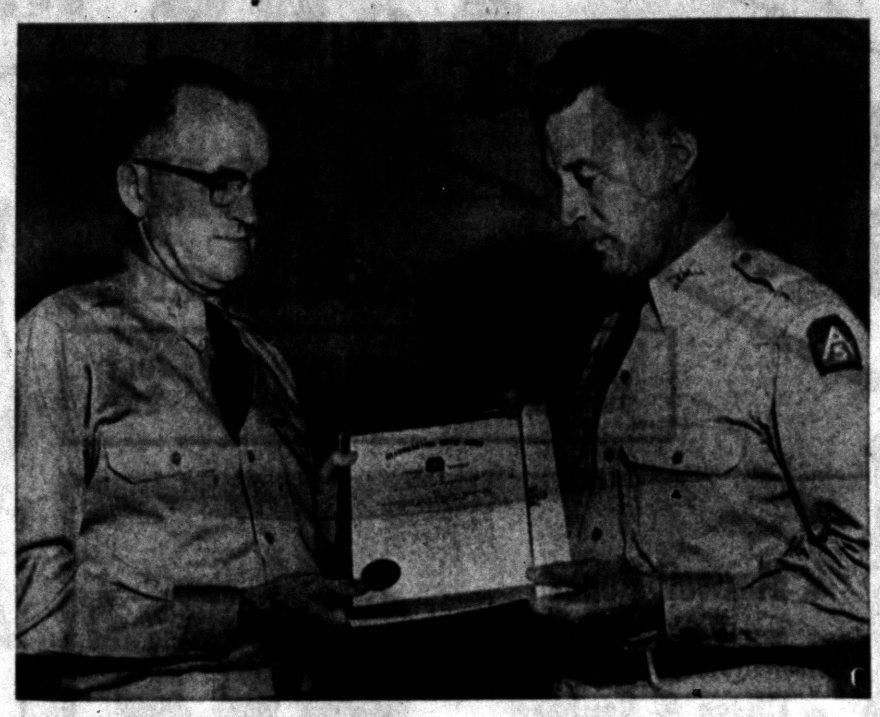

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and East German Premier Otto Grotewohl signed the document in the Marble Room of the Grand Kremlin Palace. Grotewohl and his delegation left for home today.

* * *

The reception after the signing ceremony was attended by Soviet officials and representatives of satellite and neutral embassies.

Khrushchev in his 45-minute tirade asserted that Western democracy's freedom was only for monopoly capitalists to plunder workers "and shear them like sheep." He asserted the Western press and radio served monopolists.

"The Western Powers, that is the capitalist powers, like to call themselves free countries, the free world (laughter), but this is the free world we liberated ourselves from 39 years ago (more laughter) and we wouldn't be tempted back if they offered it to us on a platter," he said.

RECEIVES AWARD — Major William J. Lacy (left), commanding officer of Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment of the 307th Ordnance Battalion, received a Fifth Army Certificate of Achievement last night on behalf of his local reserve unit. Presenting the award at the weekly meeting of the unit, was Major E. W. Grotelueschen, army reserve adviser in Pontiac. The award was "in recognition of outstanding efforts in support of the Army Reserve Program, and for outstanding cooperation and initiative in the recruitment to authorized strength of new members into the U. S. Army Reserve." Pontiac Press Photo

Cyprus Debate Looms for Eden

Battle Royal Expected to Show Public Feeling on Island Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden's government faces a parliamentary storm tomorrow over handling of the Cyprus problem—currently the dominant issue in British politics.

* * *

Eden's Conservatives have enough strength to avoid a parliamentary defeat over Cyprus, but tomorrow's debate may reveal the full measure of public misgiving over the policies being pursued there.

Hardly a day goes by without a clash between British military underground fighters on Cyprus. The island 40 miles from the Turkish coast and almost 600 miles from the Greek mainland is smaller than Connecticut. Of its permanent population of 500,000, 80 per cent speak Greek and the rest Turkish.

Enosis, the movement for union of Cyprus with Greece, claims the allegiance of a wide section of the Greek-speaking community. The Turkish-speaking minority says the island should revert to Turkish control if any change is made. The Turkish-speaking islanders have the support of the Turkish government, just as Athens backs the Greek Cypriots.

Britain's own interests form the third side of the triangle. From Cyprus, British military forces can cover the entire Middle East.

Last week Eden commissioned Lord Radcliffe, a legal expert, to draft a constitution giving Cyprus internal self-government. But the Greek Cypriots want a firm promise of self-determination — the right at some future date to conduct a binding vote on the question of union with Greece.

Greek Cypriot leaders say they won't negotiate or even discuss a constitution in the absence of Archbishop Makarios.

On this point British Laborites believe the Eden government has backed itself into a corner. British authorities deported Makarios last spring on the ground he "had refused to condemn terrorism."

Now, Laborites ask, how can the Eden government ever negotiate a Cyprus settlement if there is no person of stature on the other side to negotiate with?

Lad Takes Last Look at World Today

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Mike Sibole opens his left eye this morning and takes a last hazy look at this world.

An operation will remove the eye and within an hour leave the 4-year-old boy in darkness for the rest of his life.

Cancer has been working at Mike's eyes for some time. The right eye was removed two years ago.

At that time doctors hoped the disease, known technically as retino blastoma, was not present in the left eye. But it appeared there later.

Doctors found that in similar cases removal of the eye saved the patient's life. The disease is believed to be hereditary.

Mike's doctor, who asked to remain anonymous, said the boy is an adopted son of the Rev. and Mrs. James M. Sibole and that Sibole told him he had learned the boy's natural mother had both eyes removed because of the disease.

Mike's vision had been fading for six weeks. At times there were hemorrhages in the eye and he could see nothing. In between he could distinguish objects.

He could count fingers but he couldn't distinguish a big E on an eye chart.

Without the operation death would be certain.

* * *

In the face of this, Sibole resisted many pressures to try faith healers or evangelists or just to do anything and trust to God to heal the child.

Told by doctors that the boy must have the operation or die, Sibole decided on the operation.

He let Mike see all he could with what was left of his eyesight. A trip to Miami with his grandparents was followed by many visits to the rolling lake and citrus lands of central Florida.

Monday the family visited the seashore. Yesterday they went to a nearby springs, where Mike frolicked happily in the water.

Letters, telegrams and telephone calls continued to pour into the once quiet concrete block parsonage of Forrest Park Baptist Church, where Sibole has served as pastor for three years.

* * *

Any money that is sent will be used for the special education Mike will require.

Sibole isn't faced with big doctor bills. All doctors in the case have given their services free.

Needs Broom Room

WESTERLY, R.I. (AP) — Frank Pingalore, local street cleaner, is shopping around for a safe place to keep his broom and shovel. He had been locking them in a police booth after several pieces of equipment had been stolen from him. But the police booth was moved to the town beach at Misquamicut four miles away.

They Liked It So Well It Made Them All Sick

SEOUL (AP)—A punch served at a reception for U.S. Ambassador Walter Dowling really packed a wallop, so powerful it made some of the American and Korean guests violently ill.

* * *

No one had to be hospitalized, and most of the ailing had recovered by today.

The reception for the newly arrived ambassador was given by U.S. Charge d'Affaires Carl Strom and U.S. economic coordinator C. Tylor Wood at the Army-operated Chosun Hotel. Nearly 500 attended.

* * *

Two punches were served; but the ill effects appeared to stem from a concoction of rum and lemon. An Army medical officer who investigated said the hotel's water supply and ice were not contaminated and all Korean employes were free of disease or infection.

He couldn't analyze the punch. None of it was left.

U.S. Promises to Curb Rowdy GIs in Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German officials say the top American authorities in Germany have promised firm steps to eliminate anti-German violence by U. S. troops.

The Foreign Office said U. S. Ambassador James B. Conant is keeping a daily check on the situation. Feeling has been running high in West Germany after a series of attacks on Germans blamed on U.S. servicemen.

The Foreign office said Conant told Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano military authorities are pushing an energetic drive to curb the violence.

Floods Spread Death, Destruction in Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Floods fed by torrential summer rains spread death and destruction over western Japan today. Police said 32 persons were known dead, 19 missing and presumed dead, and 23 seriously injured.

* * *

More than 100 homes were washed away, more than 18,000 flooded, and 22,000 acres of crops were destroyed.

No American military posts were affected and no Americans were reported injured.

* * *

The heavy rains also hit South Korea, bringing flash floods in the Seoul area and pushing rivers in other sections to danger levels. Five persons were killed, another was missing and seven were injured.

U.S.S.R., Israel Sign 2-Year Oil Contract

MOSCOW (AP) — A two-year contract has been signed here boosting the sale of oil by the Soviet Union to Israel to 18 to 20 million dollars. Russia sold Israel seven million dollars worth of oil in the past year.

The agreement was the first Soviet concession to Israel in recent months.

Paper Reports Ingrid Bergman Returning to U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Ingrid Bergman will return to the United States this fall for a television appearance after seven and a half years of self-imposed exile, the New York World Telegram & Sun said today.

* * *

The Swedish-born movie star has been signed, the paper said to appear on the Ed Sullivan program over the CBS network "in late October or early November."

The network said it has not been informed of the booking and there was no immediate comment from the Sullivan office.

* * *

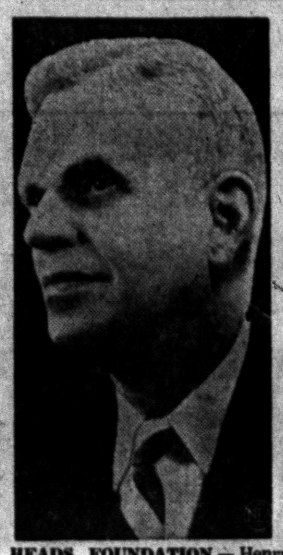

Miss Bergman has been in Europe since 1949. During the making of a film she fell in love with Director Rosselini and subsequently divorced her first husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom of Los Angeles.

* * *

Soon after, in May, 1950 she and Rossellini were married by proxy in Mexico. They have three children, a six-year-old son and four-year-old twin daughters.

Polish Assassin Arrives in U.S.

Slayer of Soviet Envoy in '27 Was Slave Camp Internee of Germans

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A Polish immigrant who assassinated the Soviet ambassador to his native land in 1927 fled into seclusion with his family yesterday a few hours after he arrived in this country to live.

Boris Kowerda — tall, gray and 48-years-old — refused to talk to newsmen when he arrived at Idlewild Airport. He was met by his wife, Nina, and their 14-year-old daughter, Natalia.

Later, the three members of the family rushed from their second floor apartment here. Carrying no luggage, they got on a bus and disappeared.

Kowerda served a 10-year prison sentence for shooting Soviet Ambassador Peter Waykow at the Warsaw railway station in 1927. Waykow was said to be a leader in the slaying of the Czar's family and other Russian nobles.

Kowerda was freed from prison shortly before the Germans invaded Poland in 1939. The Germans seized him and his wife and sent them to Germany as slave laborers.

He escaped to France and his family ended up in a displaced persons camp in Germany after the war.

Crosby's Pick of Teams Would Be With Bucs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bing Crosby wasn't around for comment, but his brother Larry says the famed crooner's first baseball love is the Pittsburgh Pirates and, if forced to make a choice, he'll give up his newly acquired interest in the Detroit Tigers.

Bing's interest in the Pirates is "something like 16 per cent," his brother and business associate said yesterday. The Crosby interest in the Tigers, he added, is "considerably less than that."

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said he will give Crosby a reasonable time, probably until the start of the 1957 season, to dispose of one block of stock or the other.

Larry Crosby said Bing had been told it was legal for him to buy "a small piece" of the Tigers, since they are not in the same league as the Pirates.

Presley May Be Offered Stage Role of 'Lil Abner'

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(While Louella Parsons is traveling in Europe her column will be written by Dorothy Manners).

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Hold on for this one—it looks as if ole rock-n-roll Elvis Presley himself, in person, will be offered 'Lil Abner" on Broadway.

He's first choice for the stage musical based on the cartoon, but before torso-tossin' Elvis can say yes or no, he first has to mesh contracts with film producer Hal Wallis who has first call on his services.

Hal, however, is quick to admit he hasn't a story for "Pelvis." There's been some talk that he might steam up one of the old Will Rogers pictures and change it to fit the measurements on his hip-swinging hot potato.

But the more Elvis gets around professionally—including the three TV appearances he'll make for 50,000—just builds him up for Hal and the movies.

---

Bing Crosby and Kathy Grant head in opposite directions for their vacations — but don't think this romance isn't still on. While Bing is fishing off the coast of Oregon with cronies Bill Morrow, Pete Pettito, Son Linnie and Jimmy Jan Heusen, an all-stag outing, his favorite girl friend goes south to Mexico.

Kathy, along with Mary Morrow (Mrs. Bill) and Mary Gargan, is off Friday on a "hen" party aboard a chartered boat off Acapulco where the gals will do some fishing themselves.

Both expeditions will be gone about three weeks—then we'll see what we will see with Kathy and Bing.

FAVORITE DAUGHTER

Whether she ever comes back to make a picture, MGM is still treating Grace Kelly like a favored daughter. At the premiere of "High Society" in Hollywood Aug. 1, all her friends will be invited to "tape" a special message of greeting direct to the princess.

The newsreel cameras will make special shots (not shown to the public) of Bing Crosby, Cole Porter and other celebrities speaking directly to Grace and telling her about the big night. These will be clipped into a special film.

Papa Kelly gave Rainier and Grace a projection room in the palace for a wedding gift. If they haven't dusted it off yet, this is a good occasion.

Ran into Betty Furness, flashing around town in a new haircut and looking as chic as she does opening refrigerator doors on TV, and she tells me her commercial sponsors have given her permission, for the first time, to make movies.

"If the studios can sell out their inventories to TV, I guess TV can spare me to movies," Betty laughs.

Last year, when the ban was on, she was offered three good screen roles which she had to turn down. Betty's a gay and charming girl and it's nice to have her back where she started from.

Begin Spinning Mackinac Straits Bridge Cable

ST. IGNACE (AP)—A group of 78 young "punks" — bridgemen's term for their apprentices—starts work this week laying cables for the Mackinac Straits Bridge.

* * *

The apprentices will be stationed along the 3,800-foot catwalk span to see that the cable wire goes down smoothly while the cables are strung.

Many are college students starting their first summer of high bridge work. Overall employment on the span between Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas now is around a peak 1,000.

The job of cable stringing will continue 24 hours a day. Portable power plants provide power for the operation. The cable will be spun from eight giant steel reels held in frames on each anchorage.

* * *

Stringing the 23½-inch thick cables is the big summer project on the five-mile long bridge.

* * *

Its completion by fall will leave things ready next spring for the hanging of suspenders for the bridge floor. The span is scheduled to open for traffic late in 1957.

Views Changing on Troop Cuts?

800,000-Man Cutback by 1960 Gaining Favor of Civilian Planners

WASHINGTON (INS)—The view that development of powerful new weapons will enable the United States to cut overseas troop strength is gaining support from several authoritative government policy makers.

* * *

They stated privately that the Defense Department may be justified in its contemplated reduction of American military manpower by 800,000 men by 1960.

Non-military officials also feel the belief that future wars will not require great numbers of foot soldiers is gaining ground in Soviet Russia as well as the West. They pointed to two Soviet troop reductions announced in the past seven months as illustrations of the new outlook.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, have labeled the reports on manpower cuts as "premature" but would neither confirm nor deny that reductions are in the planning stage.

A HANDFUL ABROAD

But if carried out, the cuts would reduce American overseas strength to a relative handful, including five divisions assigned to NATO.

Another result could be a change in plans to build West German military strength to 12 divisions by 1959.

Western strategy would then be based solidly on the policy of massive retaliation in the event of war, using selective atomic retaliatory power.

Conventions Booming

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Edward J. Brunette, convention bureau manager, says the city's booming convention business will bring nearly 5,000 visitors and an estimated $298,750 in delegate spending during August. Two political conventions — the Democratic Convention Aug. 24-25 and the Republican Convention Aug. 31-Sept. 1—will draw an estimated 3,500 visitors.

Back Seat Keeps Snakes, Turtles Real Comfortable

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—A dog and a puppy on the front seat of an auto attracted the attention of harbor guard H. E. McMahon.

In the back seat were 13 live rattlesnakes and a chuckawalla desert lizard, in cages. Fifteen desert turtles were crawling on the floor.

* * *

The car was traced to Jasper N. Maris, herpetologist and cannery worker. He said his hotel wouldn't let the creatures in.

Humane officers turned the pup over to Maris' wife, put the dog in the pound, and posted a guard over the car until Maris could find a place for the reptiles.

Tigers Fail to Stop Surging Yankees, Lose, 4-0

NEW YORK (AP) — With the American League title race past the halfway mark, the big question now is, "who, if anybody, can stop the Yankees steamroller?"

The Detroit Tigers had another try at it last night and failed as the New Yorkers' Johnny Kucks chalked up a neat shutout, 4-0, and won his 14th game, the first major leaguer to hit that mark this year.

It was the 11th straight conquest for the Yankees and their 18th in the last 20 games, stretching their American League lead to 10½ games.

The Tigers, who meet the Yankees in a doubleheader today and a single game tomorrow, dropped their 3rd in a row and 4th in the last five appearances.

New York won the contest in the first inning, tagging lefthander Billy Hoeft for four singles that produced three runs. They added another run in the 6th on Jerry Coleman's single, a sacrifice, stolen base and Gil McDouglad's single to hand Hoeft his 7th defeat against 11 victories.

Kucks, a fast-rising righthander who will celebrate his 23rd birthday in nine days, didn't give up a hit until Ray Boone socked a double to lead off the 5th inning. He wound up with a six-hitter and encountered little trouble.

The Yankees sent nine men to the plate in the first inning, with McDougald setting the pace with a leadoff single. He scored on Yogi Berra's single after a sacrifice and a walk to Mickey Mantle. Bill Skowron then singled, scoring Mantle, and Berra crossed too when centerfielder Bill Tuttle bobbled the ball.

* * *

Hoeft finally retired the side by getting Kucks on a fly with the bases loaded.

Detroit threatened in each of the last three innings but didn't quite have the punch to ruin Kucks' shutout. Boone and Tuttle hit singles in the seventh but Kucks got Jim Brideweser to hit into a force out to end the inning.

Again in the 8th, the Bengals had two on with two out, but Al Kaline tapped back to the mound to end the threat. In the ninth, a walk and scratch single with none out failed to produce a run. A double play and a tap to Kucks by Bob Kennedy squelched the threat.

Mantle disappointed the 26,266 fans by fanning twice and walking twice.

Hoeft gave up all nine of the Yankee hits in his seven-inning stint. He was relieved in the 8th by Duke Maas, who hit Coleman with a pitched ball, then retired the next three batters in order.

The Tigers' Paul Foytack (6-6) and Frank Lary (7-10) are slated to face Tom Sturdivant (8-2) and Tommy Byrne (4-1) in today's twin bill.

GETTING CHOCKED OFF — Chicago Cubs catcher Hobie Landrith (right) makes a diving tag on Philadelphia outfielder Elmer Valo who tried to score on a single in the 16th inning of their game yesterday. Eddie Miksis threw a perfect strike from centerfield to Landrith. The Cubs won, 3-2.

At Least for '56

Harris' Job Is Safe

NEW YORK (AP)—Bucky Harris' job as manager of the Detroit Tigers is safe, at least for the 1956 season.

Last night Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, the Tigers' outgoing president, sent Harris the following telegram from Detroit: "To scotch any and all unconfirmed rumors, I am happy to inform you that the Detroit baseball club has no intention of making any change in managership for 1956. This is with the full approval of the new ownership."

The Tigers Monday were sold to a Detroit syndicate.

"I don't mind admitting that this takes a big load off my mind," sighed Harris. "I didn't feel so good when I read in the papers this morning that I was on my way out."

As soon as the sale was completed, it was rumored that Harris would not last out the season.

Royal Beats Benson, 6-4

Royal Bar and Sam Benson waged a 10-inning struggle Tuesday night at Beaudette Park and when the smoke of battle cleared the Royal team owned a 6-4 decision in the American division of the City Softball League.

Variety was the keynote of the overtime marathon. Benson outhit Royal, 11 to 6, but the losers were guilty of four errors compared to none for the opposition. There were five doubles, one triple and a solo home run by Royal's Pete Landino.

Cal Atwood, the starting pitcher for Royal, and teammate Roger Reynolds each made four separate mound appearances during the last four innings, with Reynolds eventually receiving credit for the win. Benson frowned on the alternating pitcher routine as Dick Cork hurled the distance.

Landino's circuit clout in the 7th gave Royal a 4-3 advantage, but Benson also scored in the 7th to force the game into extra innings. Two errors, Walt Allison's single and Landino's clean steal of home finally ended it all in the 10th.

Percy McConner mowed down Elks No. 810 on only two hits as Shaw's Jewelers chalked up a 3-1 victory in last night's American League opener at Beaudette.

The North Side Merchants defeated Drive-In Cleaners, 6-4, and Lunsford Market disposed of Louie's Tavern, 6-2, in National loop games at North Side.

Quast Barely Escapes Ouster

Amateur Medalist Still in National Test After First Round Scare

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP)—Anne Quast, supposedly a worrier, should have gotten it all out of her system yesterday and become a strengthened favorite in the Women's Amateur golf championship.

* * *

She came as close as you can to being eliminated in the first round and still be in the second round today against Mrs. Paul Dye Jr. of Indianapolis.

* * *

The sensational young shooter from Everett, Wash., was two holes down to Meriam Bailey of Palatine, Ill., with only three holes to play. They drove off the 16th and then waited about 15 minutes until a downpour of rain ended. When they resumed, the fire in Miss Bailey was out and it was alive in the 19-year-old Quast who set a record qualifying score of 70 on the par-72 Guyan Country Club course Monday.

* * *

While Miss Quast averted an upset, there were several other victims in a day of bothersome rain and wind. Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., went out unexpectedly to Nan Berry of Quincy, Ill. Judy Bell of Wichita, Kan., bowed to Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., and Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore was defeated by Mrs. Berton Craig of Morrow, Ohio.

Senators, Yankees Take One-Hit Wins

Senators and Yankees both notched victories in opening games of the second round of the Pontiac Federal Baseball League yesterday at Boys' Club.

Senators' Bill Crawford tossed a one-hitter at the Red Sox while his team mates pushed three runs across in the 4th inning to win 3-0. Jimmy Pointer's double with the bases loaded was the big blow for the Senators.

Yankees took advantage of Tiger pitcher Doug Johnson's wildness, plus some timely hitting by Eric Harroun, to beat the Tigers 7-1.

Middleweight Wins 16th

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Detroit middleweight Joe Gray forced the action all the way to win his 16th straight professional victory without a defeat last night, taking a unanimous eight-round decision from Rocky Volpe of Chicago in a locally televised fight. Both men weighed 159½.

Baltimore Grid Camp to Start With 40 Rookies

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Two 1952 All-Americas will head the list of 40 rookies opening the 1956 football training camp of the Baltimore Colts here tomorrow at Western Maryland College.

Thirty-two veterans of the Colts' National Football League squad will report for practice under Coach Weeb Ewbank on July 25.

The two All-Americas are Billy Vessels, former Oklahoma halfback, and Bernie Flowers, former Purdue end. Both are reporting to the Colts fresh from military service. Vessels and Flowers played in the Canadian Football League before entering service, and both were All-Dominion selections as rookies.

Marathon Swimmers Vie

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — A group of 22 marathon swimmers from six nations were to take to the ocean today in the 3rd annual 25-mile world championship race around Absecon Island.

Thirteen men, including two-time runner-up Cliff Lumsden of Toronto, Canada, were to plunge off the steel pier to challenge Tom Park of Lakewood, Calif., winner of the two previous meets, in a quest for the $5,000 first prize.

Grid Coach Predicts

New Plays Seen for Pros

NEW YORK (AP)—There's nothing much new in professional football, except the names. But Jim Lee Howell, the New York Football Giants coach, looks for a few changes in the playing style of pro teams now that one-platoon college players are coming into the National League.

* * *

It was pro football that set the pattern of specialization and mass substitution, which the colleges followed for a while. The teams, with few exceptions, developed a set style of T-formation attacks, with passes on nearly half the plays from scrimmage.

Howell has no objection to the pitching and open play as long as it produces plenty of touchdowns, but he figures a change is due.

* * *

"We're getting more rugged players now in the boys who had to do everything in college," Jim says. "I expect you'll see more two-on-one blocks and power plays like they've been using in college. But we'll still pass, of course.

"We have our own ideas for a few switches, but we aren't saying just what they are. You can see where I've been trying to figure out a few things." He pointed to a blackboard covered with complicated diagrams. It was noticeable there were more solid lines indicating players running with the ball than dotted ones indicating passes.

* * *

"There's been a change to more open line play and split lines in the last couple of seasons," Howell continued. "We don't use the split T like the colleges because that's primarily a running formation. We spread our backs, too, instead of playing them close.

* * *

"Then some clubs have two big fullbacks playing halfback. The Bears and Cleveland started that last year. That gives them a lot of power, but the big fellows usually can't run wide and they can't receive passes, so you have to put a fast lighter man out wide and that deprives you of fullback power down the middle.

* * *

"But you can't have everything, and you have to have rugged backs because they use such big linemen."

Howell finds it especially hard to find good defensive backs, offensive ends and, of course, star passers in the recent crop of rookies from college.

Wiffi Shows Her Winning Form in DDW Tournament

DETROIT (AP) — Wiffie Smith showed the hometown folks the form that won her the British and French women's amateur golf titles in taking an easy victory in the Detroit District Women's Tournament yesterday.

* * *

Wiffie, 19-year-old St. Clair shotmaker, fired a 75, four under women's par and four over men's par, at the Detroit Golf Club. She outshot her nearest competitor, Mrs. Rylma Marquardt, by eight strokes.

It was Wiffi's third round of golf since she returned from Europe.

Hitters' Field Day in Church Circuit

Hitters enjoyed a regular day, Tuesday, in Church Softball League action. Blasts against generally ineffective hurling were paced by the two-run himer by pitcher Haselhum of the Five Points club.

Five Points beat Liberty Baptists 18-4. Haselhun gave up three hits.

Galloway Lake trampled Oakland U. P. 30-2 and First Presbyterians trounced Church of Brethren 17-7.

Only close game was the 7-4 win for Central Christian over Marimont Baptists.

Thursday's games: Marimont vs First Baptist; (at Jaycee Park No. 2); Galloway vs Memorial Baptist (No. 1 Jaycee); First Presbyterian vs Oakland Up (Longfellow); Columbia Baptist vs Central Christian (Oakland Park). All games at 6:15 p.m.

May Alter Penalties

Move Hinges on Disciplining Coaches

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Presidents of the Pacific Coast Conference have moved a door slightly ajar for altering penalties which ruled ineligible many senior football players at four member universities.

* * *

The possibility hinged, apparently, on disciplinary action the schools might take against coaches or staff members involved. The wedge was driven at a meeting yesterday of the powerful Presidents Council of the PCC.

Chancellor Raymond B. Allen of UCLA was quoted:

"They want me to fire Sanders and Johns."

* * *

The reference was to Coach Henry (Red) Sanders and Director of Athletics Wilbur Johns. Sanders has a 10-year contract with nine to go. Under him, UCLA has won three straight PCC football championships.

* * *

Allen did not elaborate and other presidents did not comment.

Final PCC action won't come until meetings Aug. 6-8 at Berkeley in the tempestuous cases involving under-the-table pay to athletes by alumni and booster groups.

Hit by penalties in varying degrees have been UCLA, Southern California, California and Washington.

* * *

The presidents voted yesterday against any general cancelling of penalties for those breaking conference rules.

They also suggested punishment for staff members and coaches involved as a condition for reinstatement of the ineligible seniors.

President Robert Gordon Sproul of the University of California, council chairman, told newsmen such discipline might range from reprimand to dismissal.

* * *

One-year ineligibilities against sophomores and juniors involved were not mentioned in motions approved by the presidents. Neither were financial penalties totaling $232,000 against the four schools nor conditions or probation banning play in the Rose Bowl game. California is not barred from the Rose Bowl or sharing in its receipts which amount to approximately $26,000 each year for each school.

* * *

A statement by Dr. Fred Fagg Jr., president of USC, related that the presidents voted 6-2 against a proposal of USC and UCLA to suspend all penalties affecting player eligibility.

Names of players involved have not been released. At USC, the one-year ineligibilities, not necessarily to be taken this season by sophomores and juniors, involve 42 football players and two track men.

* * *

At UCLA, they affect all who played football, varsity or freshman, last season. At Washington they will affect those who accepted illegal aid and the conference has demanded the school turn in the names.

Last May UCLA was placed on three years probation and Washington for two years. On July 8, the conference placed USC in the same situation for two years and California for one.

Kucks' Bonus Well Spent

NEW YORK (AP)—It was money well spent, that $13,000 the New York Yankees paid Johnny Kucks as a bonus for signing back in 1952.

At the time, Kucks was wondering where to try his luck in baseball. He was a fine prospect, but not so outstanding that big league teams were willing to part with much money for his services.

Today, the towering righthander is the No. 1 pitcher in the majors. He already has won 14 games, including his 4-0 shutout of the Detroit Tigers last night, boasts an earned-run average of 3.24, and, to top it all off, has pulled Yank Manager Casey Stengel out of what could have been an embarrassing hole.

* * *

"I'd sure like to win 20 games, but I'm afraid even to think of it," said Kucks. "After all, this is only my second year with the Yanks and I wasn't even one of the regular starters at the beginning of the season."

How true.

At the end of spring training, Stengel had no fewer than five other pitchers tabbed as starters ahead of Kucks.

* * *

"I've been feeling so good that I seem to be getting stronger as the weeks go on," said the 22-year-old Kucks. "If I keep going at this pace, I guess I'll have to start thinking of winning 20."

The Yanks didn't have a 20-game winner last season despite the fact they won the pennant. Bob Grim was the last 20-game winner the Bombers produced. That was in 1954.

7 Errors Cost CIO Loop Loss

The CIO committed seven errors and three of the miscues led to unearned runs as Oliver Buick defeated the Local 594 squad, 4-1, in a Class A City League baseball game Tuesday night at Wisner Field.

Oliver's club scored single runs in the 1st, 2nd, 5th and 6th innings and only the final tally was legitimate. Jim Berg singled, stole 2nd, took 3rd on a fielder's choice and raced home on Jerry Hesse's single for the lone earned counter.

An infield error and Ernie Zubalik's single in the 1st stanza, a three-base error and a catching misplay in the 2nd, and another infield bobble in the 5th resulted in three tainted runs for the Buick team.

Don Ernst hurled steady seven-hit ball for Oliver, with Dave Sebring's home run blast in the 6th inning spoiling his bid for a shutout. Jim Wagner, the CIO's unlucky pitcher, also allowed seven safeties.

Webb Tackles Mims in Televised Bout

CHICAGO (AP)—Ellsworth (Spider) Webb, hoping to regain his pre-service form, takes on Holly Mims tonight in a 10-round, nationallly televised fight at Chicago Stadium.

The fight, which will be carried by ABC, is a fill-in for the Willie Pastrano - John Holman heavyweight match.

Pastrano, New Orleans, was scheduled to meet Chicago's Holman before Holman was put down by the Illinois Athletic Commission medical examiner because of a cyst over his left eye.

Pastrano was then scheduled to meet Archie McBride, Trenton, N.J. but Willie came up with a lame back. The Webb-Mims fight then was substituted.

Art J. Orloske, head basketball coach at Clarenceville High School of the Wayne-Oakland League, was named head football coach at Ithaca College in New York. He succeeds Joseph L. Hamilton, head coach for the past five seasons.

* * *

Jack Simmons, veteran football ace of the Chicago Cardinals, has been keeping in trim during the summer doing construction work around Pontiac. Simmons, former U. of D. gridder, will be in 10th season with the Cardinals. He lives in Birmingham.

* * *

The second sellout of the season for the University of Michigan is the game at Ann Arbor against Michigan State. These are individual game tickets, leaving some season tickets still available which include that game. MSU got a 22,000 allotment which has been long gone.

* * *

Dick Stuart, member of the Lincoln Chiefs (Nebraska) minor league baseball team in the Western League, is tearing up the circuit with his homers. He set a league record by blasting his 49th and 50th homers of the season, the second with the bases loaded.

* * *

Yesterday's Major League games had plenty of highlights besides the fisticuffs at Milwaukee and Cincinnati. Ted Williams hit his 400th homer, Stan Musial made his 2,700th hit, Red Schoendienst of the Giants scored the 1,000th run of his career and Brooks Lawrence of the Redlegs remained unscathed in Major League pitching by boosting his record to 13-0 against Brooklyn.

Aussie Netter Gets Pro Bid

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Tennis promoter Jack Kramer is prepared to offer Wimbledon Champion Lewis Hoad, of Australia, $75,000 to join Kramer's professional tennis tour next year.

Hoad refused Kramer's $60,000 package offer with Davis Cup Mate Ken Rosewall last fall. At that time, the blond Aussie bomber had won neither Wimbledon nor a Forest Hills singles title.

Kramer, who is in Memphis where he plays in a $5,000 pro meet today, informed his World Tennis, Inc. office in Los Angeles last night:

"I'll offer Hoad a one-year contract at $75,000 to play Pancho Gonzales next year. But I want him to sweep the United States Men's singles title in New York and maintain his Davis Cup record to make the proposal a sound one."

Amateur, 'Pro' Pairs Tied for DDGA Dad-Son Honors

By H. GUY MOATS

A two-way tie for top honors and a four-way knot for runnerup position emerged from yesterday's record competition in the 1956 Detroit District Golf Association's father-son tournament.

The event, described by many participants as the most enjoyable of many similar tourneys under DDGA auspices, was held over Pine Lake's tree-bordered course. The biggest field (124 teams) in the tourney history toured the 18-hole route, with last finishers coming in after 7:30 p.m.

Tied for the championship were amateurs Charles and Jim Piltz (Jim is the son) of Grosse Ile, and pro Faust Bianco and son Larry of Dearborn, with 73s. The Biancos also shared last year's title.

In the runnerup spot were pro Frank Syron and son Lloyd, the young Notre Dame player; Chester Reynolds and Jack, playing their 1st dad-son team competition (Indianwood); Rollie Weyand and Dick (Birmingham CC); and Randy Ahern and Tom (Meadowbrook CC), all with 74s.

Players ranged in age, for the sons, from adults to one eight-year-old, who insisted he was "going on 9."

The event was an alternate shot, selective drive affair, at medal play, with handicap.

Fine Hurling Job

One of the best pitching jobs of the season, in Junior American Legion baseball in the area was the three-hit 5-0 shutout Sunday by Dick Cloonan. Pitching for Birmingham, Cloonan fanned 14 Waterford batsmen. In several innings he retired the side on successive strikeouts.

Today, while Rochester played Flint in a zone game at Birmingham, there were also games scheduled for tonight—Waterford in Pontiac, Berkley at Birmingham and Milford at Clawson.

Syndicate Gets Blessing From American Loop

New Owners of Detroit Tigers Given Approval by 7 League Teams

DETROIT (AP) — The 11-man syndicate that bought the Detroit Tigers for a record price of 5½ million dollars had the blessing of the American League today.

The league advised the club's current president, Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., in a telegram yesterday that owners of all the other seven AL clubs approved the group headed by Fred A. Knorr and John Fetzer, Michigan radio executives.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick had already given his okay to the group.

Directors of the Detroit club Monday accepted the Knorr-Fetzer bid of 5½ million, a record price in baseball.

The sale still must get the approval of trustees of the estate of the late Walter O. Briggs Sr., but their approval is a foregone conclusion.

The younger Briggs and Harry M. Sisson, Tiger secretary-business manager are two of the four trustees. Knorr and Fetzer said they would retain both men as executives, Briggs as executive vice president and Sisson as treasurer.

AFTER FRACAS — Duke Snider, Brooklyn Dodger outfielder, looked dismayed in his hotel last night in Cincinnati where he engaged in a brief fracas with a Redleg fan as Crosley field. Botn exchanged words and blows.

Ringling-Style Action Takes Place in Majors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ringling Brothers may have folded its tent, but major league baseball opened a three-ring circus of its own last night.

In the main ring was a two-man fuss between New York's Ruben Gomez and Joe Adcock of the Braves that ballooned into a free-for-all at Milwaukee. The tail-end Giants, who had lost seven in a row, won the game 8-6 in 11 innings, halting Milwaukee's winning streak at seven.

The defeat trimmed the Braves' National League lead to one game over Cincinnati after the Redlegs had knocked off third-place Brooklyn 4-3, with unbeaten Brooks Lawrence winning his 13th, Frank Robinson tying the Redlegs' rookie record with his 20th home run and Duke Snider hauled into a Cincinnati police station.

* * *

Stan (The Man) Musial, got his 2,700th hit, tops among active major leaguers, but the St. Louis Cardinals lost to Pittsburgh 4-2 in 10 innings. Bob Friend, the All-Star game winner, snapped his five-game losing streak and halted the Pirates' six-game slump. But Musial's big hit ended Friend's string of 32 scoreless innings against the Cardinals that stretched back to last year.

In the only day game, the Chicago Cubs finally beat Philadelphia, 3-2 in 16 innings, with a total of 22 strikeouts in the game.

In the American League, Ted Williams walloped his 400th home run, something only four other players ever have accomplished. It came in the nightcap of a 10-0 and 1-0 twi-night doubleheader sweep by Boston's Red Sox over the Kansas City A's, who now have been shut out 10 times this season.

Tom Brewer won his 12th in the opener, extending his shutout streak against the A's to 38 innings, starting last season.

The sweep lifted the Red Sox into third place, but still 12½ games behind the New York Yankees who lead by 10½ again after winning their 11th straight, tying the major league high this year. Young Johnny Kucks beat Detroit 4-0 to become the season's first 14-game winner.

Chicago's White Sox fell from third to fourth, losing twice to Baltimore by 5-3 scores that stretched their losing streak to 10 games.

The only peace and quiet was at Washington, where rain idled the Senators and runner-up Cleveland.

Easy for 'Seeds'

Larsen, Fry Still in Front

CHICAGO (AP)—Top-seeded players in the National Clay Courts Tennis Tournament at River Forest survived the first two days of play with ease and figured to move on to the finals over the weekend.

* * *

Art Larsen, No. 1 seed from San Leandro, Calif., defeated Peter Zwack of Chicago, 6-0, 6-1, in the second round of men's singles play and Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of Dallas, seeded second, swept past Bob Macy, Coral Gables, Fla., 6-1, 6-2.

Wimbledon champion Shirley Fry of St. Petersburg, Fla., also got into the act and knocked off Susan Sterrett, Peoria, Ill., while second-seeded Althea Gibson of New York City drew a bye.

* * *

Miss Fry, formerly of Akron, Ohio, won easily, 6-1, 6-0.

Only one upset of major stature was recorded yesterday. Ninth-seeded Johann Kupferburger of the University of Miami was defeated by Robert Marks, Australian Junior champion, 6-4, 6-5. Kupferburger hails from the Union of South Africa.

Here is how Michigan entries fared in the national clay courts tennis tournament yesterday:

Men's singles, first round:
Richard Potter, Detroit, defeated Robert Ryland, Nashville, Tenn., 6-3, 6-2; John Erickson, Kalamazoo, defeated Elliott Bell, Decatur, Ill., 6-2, 8-6.

Second round:
Richard Leslien, Battle Creek, defeated Jose Ochoa, Mexico City, 6-2, 6-4; Richard Potter, Detroit, defeated Barry Walraven, Indianapolis, 6-3, 6-2; Chris Crawford, Piedmont, Calif., defeated A. L. Wienner, Detroit, 6-2, 6-3; Francisco Contrearas, Los Angeles, defeated Rudy Hernando, Detroit, 6-2, 6-2; Jack Frost, Monterey, Calif., defeated John Erickson, Kalamazoo, 6-0, 6-4.

Barry McKay of Dayton, Ohio, No. 1 man on the University of Michigan tennis team, eliminated a young Australian star, Rod Laver, of Melbourne, 6-4, 6-4. McKay is seeded No. 12 in the tourney.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Shoulder rides high

DIAGNOSIS: Stance too upright

TREATMENT: One of the things most obviously incorrect with average players, with no chance of improvement unless they change, is stiffness in the knees. The knees at address are straight up and down, like boards.

So they have restricted body turn, and with little pivot you get no power. The lef shoulder rides high, the club swings away from the body, outside the arc and—there's that slice!

All that's needed is a wee drop of the shoulders and flexing of the knees, as I illustrate in the sketch. Try it. Notice that my arms hang straight down, yet they're comfortably away from the body, so that there's no cramping in the backswing. The hands are approximately between the belt line and the knees.

Can you picture what will happen to the left shoulder on the backswing? As the backswing moves along in one-piece action—low and sweeping, a straight line from the clubhead to the left shoulder—the left shoulder, in the pivot or windup, moves in under the chin.

The turn of the shoulders is mighty important — the one and only way to develop a grooved swing, with ease but with a lot of power. The important thing is to keep the head still, anchored; so that the swing moves aroung it. The head is the axis, like the hub of a wheel.

Lucky 5th Inning for VFW, Baptists

The 5th inning proved to be the lucky one for the VFW and Emmanuel Baptist in Tuesday night's Waterford Township League softball games at Drayton Plains.

Three runs in the 5th stanza handed the VFW a 7-4 triumph over White Brothers in the opener. Two errors, a hit batsman, Wayne O'Shaughnessy's triple and a sacrifice fly gave the VFW the insurance runs it needed to down the luckless White club.

Emmanuel tallied four runs in the 5th to defeat Gidley Electric, 4-1. Five walks, two errors and a single by pinch-batter Glenn (Wimpy) Johnson brought victory to Harlan (Fat) Keith, who pitched a four-hitter. Bob Feree did a sterling job on the hill in relief of Jim Cuthrell for Gidley.

ADCOCK CHARGES — Joe Adcock, first baseman of the Milwaukee Braves goes after Giant pitcher Rugen Gomez who hit Adcock on the wrist with a pitched ball and then threw deliberately at him as he was taking first base following an argument. A scuffle took place between both teams last night.

Wild Scene at Milwaukee

Adcock Chases, Gomez Runs

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A howling crowd of 33,239 saw one of baseball's wildest scenes last night as the Giants' Ruben Gomez hit Joe Adcock twice with a ball, once as Adcock charged the mound and then bolted for his dugout, the enraged Braves' slugger in hot pursuit.

In a split second the Braves' dugout emptied as a swirl of players raced behind Adcock toward the Giants' dutout. There a stream of Giants piled off the bench and met the onrushing Braves at the top step.

Five Giants' surrounded Adcock and held him as he tried to chase the 29-year-old Puerto Rican right-hander up the ramp and into the visitors' clubhouse.

* * *

Del Rice, Braves' catcher, and outfielder Jackie Brandt met head on at the top of the dugout steps and both tumbled down onto the concrete floor. Giants players ran in from the field and joined the milling mob which threatened to explode into a full scale player riot.

After it was over the players said they hadn't heard the National Anthem being played by the County Stadium organist. The four umpires, led by senior Arbiter Lee Ballanfant, and six or eight uniformed policemen restored order in about three minutes.

Later, Ballanfant indicated he would not recommend suspension for either Gomez or Adcock in a report he must file with National League President Warren Giles.

"They blew up, that's all," Ballanfant said. "We don't think for a minute that Gomez's pitch was meant to be a beanball."

* * *

The pitch that set in motion the melee in the second inning was an inside serve that nicked the 28-year-old Adcock on the right wrist, in the same area where a pitch by Brooklyn's Don Newcombe hit Joe on Sept. 11, 1954, and just below the spot where a pitch thrown by the Giants' Jim Hearn last year on July 31 broke his arm. Both pitches put him out of action.

Adcock, holding his wrist, walked toward first. They exchanged a few words and then Adcock, turned abruptly and ran toward the mound.

Gomez, who by this time had a new ball, flung it at the onrushing Adcock about 25-feet away, and hit Joe on the left thigh. The 175-pound pitcher then turned tail and raced for all he was worth, his back hunched over as if he expected the worst, for the Giant dugout.The 210-pound Adcock was right behind.

* * *

As the umpires and policemen quieted tempers, Giants' Manager Bill Rigney scuffled with several of the officers, whom he said later, overstepped their authority.

Both Adcock and Gomez were ejected from the game.

Six detectives escorted Gomez back to the Giants' hotel. Four uniformed officers stood guard out side the club's dressing room after the game.

"He never should have run," said one regular. "What could have happened to him if he had stood his ground? Maybe one poke and then we would have stopped it."

"He'll never hear the end of this," said another. "The league will really get on him now."

Rigney, when asked what he thought of the incident, said:

"What would you have done with that big guy coming at you? Probably run, too."

* * *

Rigney said he planned no disciplinary action against Gomez and said it was possible the right-hander would start in a day game here tomorrow because he was forced to use five pitchers in last night's 8-6, 11-inning Giants' victory.

Adcock, nursing an inflamed wrist and a bruised thigh, said, "He called me a name and I chased him. I was never so mad in my life. It's a good thing I didn't catch him."

Racing Miniatures

Tiny Cars in Action Here

Entries from four states were expected for Sunday's 1st 1956 "national race" for devotees of the miniature racing car sport, at the North Side Recreation rink. Event is under direction of the Pontiac Miniature Racing Car association, and there is no charge for spectators.

These beautifully designed and constructed little machines are capable of high speeds, running around a track on a steel wire tether.

Pontiac cars finished high in last year's race, taking the top six places in the .19 class and first in .29.Last year 26 awards were made. Michigan took 19 of them.

Three classes to show here Sunday at 12 noon, are the .29, the .19 and .15.

PMRCA is associated with National Mite Race Car Assn. of Muncie, Ind. from where strongest years competition has come in recent.

Family Fishing Party Is Successful Affair

William Carter, Mrs. Carter and their 6-year-old son made a frontal assault on the finny population of Schoolhouse lake Saturday, and did all right too.

Mr. Carter, 347 South Jessie Street, Pontiac, took a prize bluegill that weighed 12 ounces. Mrs. Carter landed four fat calicoes, and some good sized yellow perch were taken by the family.

But the biggest fish, and his first of the year, was the three-pound bass that Billy Jr. took on his cane pole and nightcrawler baited outfit.

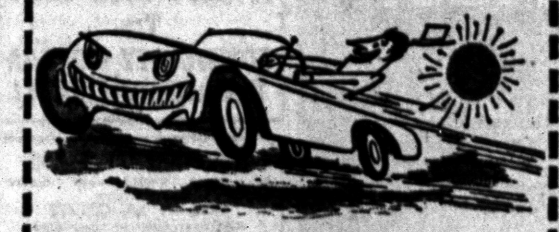

"The fish are all in deep water" Mrs. Carter reported. "But we got all of them in only an hour's fishing."

My Midway by a Neck

DETROIT (AP) — My Midway, 8-year-old mare owned and driven by Bill Butler of Richmond, Ind., took the feature trot at Northville Downs harness raceway last night, beating Linehan Volo by a neck. Bluemound finished third. My Midway paid $5 straight.

About 65 million rounds of golf were played in the U. S. during 1955.

'Prof' Offers Tips for Cooking Fish

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A man who usually concerns himself with fish in the water has some tips for the fisherman who is lucky enough to get the finned creatures out of the water.

Prof. Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the University of Michigan's fisheries department, says it's helpful if fishermen carry a pair of pliers with them.

In the 1st place, the tool comes in handy for stripping the skin off fish doing away with the messy scaling process. In the 2nd place it's handy too if a human happens to get hooked by mistake. Pliers are handy for removing hooks.

First, says Prof. Lagler, slit the underside of the fish from gills to vent to remove the entrails. Flip the dark red kidneys out of the top inside of the fish with your fingernails.

Then rub the inside with salt to clean it. Leave the fins on, says Prof. Lagler, they're easier to remove after cooking.

Getting down to frying pans, the professor suggests frying in smoking fat. Use either a kettle or a frying pan over an open fire.

Overnight campers with a mess of trout might want a different process.

Roll the cleaned and seasoned fish in wax paper and fold the ends.

Cover this with several thicknesses of wet newspaper and put each separately wrapped fish in a small hole. Cover them over and build the camp fire on top of them.

By breakfast time, those carefully wrapped fish are hot and ready to eat.

If you want to pan broil your fish, use very little fat in the pan. For some fatty kinds of fish, other than whitefish and trout, a good basting sauce can be made by mixing a tablespoon of lemon juice with half a cup of cream.

Prof. Lagler says that a little milk helps bring out the flavor of smelt. First soak the smelt in milk for half an hour before frying. Then dip in a batter of two eggs, three tablespoons of creak and sifted breadcrumbs. Fry in deep fat.

Another tasty way is to wrap your fish in bacon and broil over hickory charcoal. There's no telling what that might do to the price of beef.

Lapeer Saddle Club Slates Western Show on Sunday

The Lapeer Saddle Club will hold a Western-style horse show this Sunday at the Lapeer airport, one mile eas and a half mile north of Lapeer. Competition gets under way at 1 p.m.

A grand entry will open the program. The club which has the most members registered in the show prior to the entry will be awarded a trophy.

Western pleasure horses for men, women and children will see action and working stock mounts are also among the entries. Calf-roping will be one of the highlights of the western-type show.

Other scheduled events are musical chairs, women's egg race, children's pop race, and the hilarious boat race. Riding a hide pulled by a horse, which usually results in the unexpected is another featured event.

Cash prizes, trophies and ribbons will be awarded in all paid events. The Lapeer Saddle Club, comprised of an almost equal number of adults and teenagers, is the sponsoring organization.

Lloyd Running is the general chairman for the program. Glen Heckman is handling ticket sales, Lee Fox is in charge of the lunch stand on the show grounds, and Mrs. Lee Fox is publicity chairman.

Keego Harbor Wins Junior League Game

The Keego Harbor Boys Club made the most of seven hits to wallop Waterford, 11-1, in a Class D City Junior League baseball game Tuesday at Washington Junior High.

Keego scored three runs in the 2nd inning, one in the 3rd, five in the 5th and two in the 7th. An unearned tally in the 7th stanza ruined a shutout attempt by Wolfe, the Boys Club pitcher.

Dubois and Barnett each made two safeties to lead Keego's assault against two Waterford hurlers, Hoke and Kirken. Hoke was charged with the loss. Keego's Wolfe gave up only two hits.

Other Junior League results yesterday were:

CLASS E
Pontiac Boys Club 16, A.H. Boys Club 1.

Meat-Hungry Squirrel Dines on Young Birds

Ever hear of a squirrel killing and eating other animals, or birds?

Well, that was a question A. C. Kirby, packing house operator, asked himself the other day after watching a big, fat female red squirrel devouring a young blue martin.

"I wouldn't have believed it, if I hadn't seen it myself," Mr. Kirby reported. "But I put a pair of binoculars on that squirrel, on top of a neighbor's martin house and saw her tear several young birds apart, then eat them."

Kirby couldn't figure how the squirrel got up to the 50-apartment martin house, atop a tall pole, or how it got the young martins which were just about ready to fly.

But he took care of the "cannibal" in short order, with a well-placed ball-shot from a .210 shotgun.

The Kirbys live at 3863 Dorothy Lane, Maceday Lake.

Meadowbrook Ace

An eight-iron shot that hit close and then bounced into the cup gave Arthur Raske, Jr., of Detroit an ace on Meadowbrook's 6th hole yesterday afternoon. The hole is a par-3 145 yarder. Raske was playing in an automotive tool and die outing. He had 83 for the round.

SHORT SNORT — Smacking his lips in anticipation, Irish "Wonder Horse" Tulyar watches as groom William Dunne pours a bottle of booze in the feed bucket at Tully, Ireland. The horse likes a bottle of Guinness mixed into his meal, and when he leaves the Irish National stud for the U. S. a case of the brew will go along. Tulyar was bought by an American syndicate last year for over $670,000. He leaves behind a large family of profit-making offspring.

July Fishing Still Good, by Using Proper Methods

By JACK PATTERSON

Back in the days when we used to have summers it was a rather common complaint that by the time principal vacation months —July and August — came along, the season's really good fishing was over. While this was not entirely true it had enough validity to become accepted as gospel by a good proportion of the fishing public. Hot weather fish have always been and presumably always will be a bit hard to come by.

PATTERSON

Well, here we are, better than half way through July, and no hot weather to ruin the fishing. Therefore it should follow that fishing is good but most fishermen are finding it something less than that. Why?

We stuck our neck out earlier in the season by predicting that cold weather would extend the period of good fishing well into the summer slack season. Since it would not be in character to admit the possibility of error we'll stick the same neck out a mite further and pronounce the current fishing excellent.

Any difficulty fishermen experience during this splendid fishing weather we're enjoying is attributable to but one cause: fisherman error. The errors of fishermen are many and some of them don't have any particular connection with fishing.

The big one though, that concerns us now, is "fishing by the calendar." This is how it goes: Joe Smith (no relation to Dr. Carleton Smith who recently took a 19½ inch brown out of the North Branch) always goes up to Black Lake the last two weeks in July. He's got a pet weed bed a mile offshore and still fishing in 20 feet of water always gets him plenty of pike and large mouths even on the hottest days.

So this year, after divining the precise location of the weedbed he drowns countless minnows, and gets nary a nibble. He eventually concludes that fishing stinks.

Until he recognizes the enormity of his error, Joe might better sit around the cabin and play a Bach fugue on his piccolo and leave the fishing up to otters, water snakes, kingfishers and other experts.

Joe is meeting a June situation by employing August tactics and it just ain't gonna work. He could try fishing the shallow water and do some business but chances are he'll pound the weedbd and next summer he'll find another lake and another patch of greenery and if he hits hot weather he'll have it made and can pass the word around that Black Lake is fished out.

Just change the names, places and dates, if necessary and you'll have a thumbnail sketch of just about any fisherman you know. Including this one.

So, whether it's smallmouths on Grand Traverse Bay, herring around the Straits, perch on down the east coast, trout in northern streams, muskies on Lake St. Clair, or bass and panfish locally, fishing is excellent. It's just possible that you might have to amend your thinking and practice a bit to catch up with it.

Sutton Just Misses No-Hit, No-Run Tilt

Bob Sutton's 4-0 one-hitter highlighted yesterday's play in the Federal Savings Baseball League at Boy's Club. A lone single in the 1st inning by Oriole 3rd baseman Dick Anderson spoiled Bob's bid for a no-hitter.

White Sox backed up Sutton's pitching with five hits, one a home run by Dick Whiteman.

In another game Indians fell victim to a 5-run outburst by Senators in the final frame to lose 7-4. Indians went into the final inning holding a 4-2 lead. Seven successive Senator hits proved Indians' downfall. Tommy Wilson's single drove in three runs in the big frame.

Members of the Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 810 golf team that played in last weekend's tournament at Kalamazoo Elks CC, did all right, from reports made by state BPOE tourney officals.

Team count was still in abeyance, but John Steinhelper's 76-12—64 was low net for the event. Bob Isgrigg's 75-10—65 tied for the runnerup low net spot with Bill Theibaut of Grand Rapids, and his 75 actual, with Ron Rothbart's 75, along with Art Brown of Kazoo, tied for 9th in gross. Low actual was fired by Tiel Olsee of Grand Rapids at 68.

Other Pontiac players included Jack Ross, Howard Burton, Burt McLaughyin, Harley Hyatt and Marshall.

Security for You

Social Security Workers Happy to Lend You a Hand

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

Congress thought so little of the Social Security system it set up 21 years ago that it neglected to provide money for office space in Washington.

* * *

Today, it's so big that there are 538 district offices in cities around the country to help you solve your Social Security problems. And, most of these offices regularly send roving representatives to the larger communities nearby where there are no permanent offices.

Cities like New York, Chicago, Los Angeles have as many as 15 or 20 district offices each in their metropolitan areas.

Since there are so many, it's impossible to list here the addresses of each. But, you can get the address of the office nearest you by looking in your phone book under United States Government, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Social Security Administration or by asking at your nearest post office.

The people in these district offices will:

—Help you make out an application for Social Security payments.

—Issue you an original or duplicate Social Security card.

—Assist you in correcting any errors in your Social Security account.

—Help you get a statement of wages credited to your account.

—Help you with your application to have your Social Security earnings record "frozen" if you're disabled.

—Give you general information or booklets about your rights and obligations under Social Security.

—Assist you in reporting events that might affect your benefit payments if you're already receiving them.

Don't hesitate to take your problem to your Social Security office even though it isn't listed above. These offices have some nine million general questions thrown at them every year.

And, some of them have a humorous side. For example: Here's an interview one Social Security employe said he'd never forget.

A very-expectant mother was completing an application for survivor's benefits. About midway through the application, she was asked:

"And when do you expect your baby?"

"Oh," she answered casually, "I'm on my way to the hospital now."

A receptionist at another district office thought she'd never forget this one:

A young woman approached the receptionist's desk recently and explained that she was a widow receiving benefits because she was caring for a minor child.

"After a pause she said, "I know I'm not supposed to make $1,200 a year, and I'm not, I know I'm not supposed to get married without telling you, and I won't."

Then, after a moment of nervous hesitation, she finally came to the point.

"There's just one thing I want to know—does Social Security let you have a boy friend?"

Seventh Chance! Sixteen Words Can Mean $700

Once again the Press offers another chapter in its challenging summer word game, Pot-O-Gold, the eighth puzzle of which appears below. Aside from the cash prize it offers to whoever can reach a solution, Pot-O-Gold is fun and a worthy exercise of the mental processes. First read the directions on how to play — and then be sure to read the rules (or no matter how good you are at picking words you can't win if you "break one). Good luck!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Red Nations Warned 'to Keep Guard Up'

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Communist party says the only hope of other Communist countries lies in their unity under the guardianship of the Soviet Union.

Pravda, the party newspaper, warned other Red nations in a two-page editorial to keep up their guard against "blandishments, infiltration and provocation" of the West.

The party organ stressed repeatedly that the decisions of the Soviet party chiefs were the guiding rules for the satellites to follow.

To Western diplomats, the editorial seemed to point a stern admonition to Communist parties abroad that the relative "liberality" of the post-Stalin era does not extend to basic disagreement or revolt.

Soybeans Show Firm Support

CHICAGO (AP) — In an erratic market soybeans had a firm tone while wheat eased slightly on the Board of Trade today.

* * *

New crop corn sold off at the start, losses running to nearly a cent, but quickly recovered all of this loss. Oats also rebounded after early easiness. Old crop corn remained firm with short covering noted in the July future.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was lower to ¼ higher, July $2.13⅞; corn unchanged to ½ higher, July $1.53¼; oats unchanged to ⅝ higher, July 73⅞; rye ½ to 1 cent lower, July $1.36¼; soybeans ½ lower to ¾ higher, July $2.65; lard 2 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $11.07.

Civil Rights Spat Set Tomorrow

Rebel Senators Certain to Kill Legislation While House Passage Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A lull, produced by a Southern temporizing move, descended on the House civil rights debate today.

* * *

However, the storm signals are up for tomorrow, when the bill is to be opened up for amendment after two days of general debate. This gives the Southerners free rein for new delaying tactics, by proposing and arguing for numerous changes in the measure.

Advance indications point to House passage of the bill, perhaps Friday. Republican Leader Martin (Mass) predicted a final vote then will provide a 2-1 margin for passage.

Possibility of Senate action, however, appeared more remote than ever after Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) was blocked yesterday in an attempt to get action on four civil rights bills locked up in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

One of the final speakers yesterday, Rep. Ashmore (D-SC), charged that the bill is "nothing but a bid for the Negro vote, by both parties." He said the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People "has put the Negro vote on the auction block."

Rep. Boyle (D-Ill), supporting the bill, said it is "hard to understand" why in Mississippi, where he said nearly half the population is Negro, only 8,000 Negroes vote.

Rep. Diggs (D-Mich), a Negro, said he himself was evidence that Negroes have made progress in civil rights, since his district is predominantly white. But he said Negroes still are unable to vote in large areas in the South.

Starr, 103, Still Shining, Too Stubborn to Die

OVID (AP) — Charles Starr, who predicted 13 years ago that he'd die in 1946, is still celebrating birthdays.

Now 103, Starr says "just bullheaded luck" has kept him going.

When Starr's wife died in 1943, he forecast his own death in 1946. He even had the date inscribed on a tombstone, which was placed in an Ovid cemetery.

When 1946 came and went, Starr decided to leave the tombstone untouched. He's still in pretty fair health.

Upturn Follows Profit-Taking

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market survived a round of profit-taking today and moved higher early this afternoon.

Steels, motors, rails and some oils paced the advance.

Pivotal stocks were generally up from fractions to around a point but a few went beyond this. Volume was estimated at around 2,700,000 shares compared with 2,520,000 yesterday.

There was a scattering of losers among various groups but aluminums were down uniformly as traders took profits following their strong advance of the last two sessions.

The market was slightly higher from the start but had no group leadership then. The profit-taking held sway in mid-morning. Next came a fair recovery. Activity increased as prices rose.

The steels rose from fractions for U.S. Steel and Youngstown to around a point for Bethlehem as the strike went into its 18th day. Rails, after a mixed opening, joined in with a fair array of plus signs including 2 for Union Pacific and a point for Southern Railway.

As motors steadied, Chrysler, Ford, Studebaker-Packard and General Motors were ahead fractionally.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents to $188.80, with the industrials up 30 cents, the rails up 60 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

NOT MINERS, NOT SAILORS—Boatload of life-jacketed men above are not sailors. Nor are they miners, wearing their safety lamps as they set forth on a seagoing holiday. They are steel construction workers employed on the Mackinac Bridge, which will link upper and lower peninsulas of Michigan sometime in 1957. Life vests are required for overwater trip to the job and for safety when working over or near the water. Lamps are used when working in interior of the four 552-foot-tall bridge towers.

Feels Way for 14 Gallons

Blind Son Paints His Home

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — Claude VanDorsten's vacation is ended.

* * *

Claude, 36, spent the two weeks time off from work as a furniture finisher at Holland, painting his mother's Battle Creek home.

That's not an unusual way to spend a vacation? Well, it is if you're blind.

But you'd never know VanDorsten was blind if you saw the finished product. The two-story house sparkles under a new coat of white paint and red trim work.

* * *

His only help came from two sisters. One of them, Mrs. Audrae Osborne, painted near the roof peak. Claude's mother Mrs. Clara VanDorsten put her foot down when she saw him standing on tip-toe on a ladder scraping old paint from the eaves.

"For about a year now," Claude said, "some friends have been promising mother they would take the job of painting the house. I decided she shouldn't have to wait any longer."

Claude, who lost his sight in 1944, first scraped the house, climbing up and down ladders while his leader dog Baron stood guard below. Then came a coat of primer and the final coat of white and red paint.

To avoid dipping his brush in the wrong paint bucket, Claude kept the two colors in different sized cans. Starting at a corner, he virtually felt his way while applying 14 gallons of paint.

Measure to Ban Unfair Practices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Commerce Committee has approved a bill to eliminate "unfair trade practices" in the marketing of automobiles.

* * *

Chairman Magnuson (D-Wash) told newsmen after a closed meeting yesterday that the vote was 11-2, with one member abstaining and another absent.

The measure is the outgrowth of a lengthy study made by a subcommittee, headed by Sen. Monroney (D-Okla), into the relationships between automobile manufacturers and their 42,000 dealers.

* * *

It would declare certain actions by manufacturers and dealers to be "unfair trade practices" and provides for enforcement by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

Among such "unfair practices" would be coercion on dealers by manufacturers and the "bootlegging" of excess cars by dealers, unless the dealers first offered them back to the manufacturers.

* * *

The measure also is designed to protect dealers against sudden cancellation of their franchises and to require that contracts contain a "reasonable system" for the liquidation of a dealer's assets.

Quits Job on Education Survey After a Week

LANSING (AP)—The assistant director of a long-range study of higher education in Michigan has resigned only a week after he began.

Dr. Albert F. Scribner's resignation was accepted "with regret" by the legislative study committee on higher education.

Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), vice chairman, said Scribner was forced to give up the Michigan job to devote full time to his duties as vice president of Valparaiso University in Indiana.

He said the director of the study, Dr. John Dale Russell, was considering several applicants for Scribner's job.

Harriman's Racial Stand Costs Him Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS)—The governor of Arkansas, who will lead his state's 26-man delegation to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago next month, says New York Gov. Averell Harriman is not acceptable to him as a presidential candidate.

In issuing his first positive statement concerning his views for the Democratic standard bearer, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday he is against Harriman because of Harriman's strong opposition to racial segregation.

Faubus is expected to support Adlai Stevenson.

Williams Order Ends Prison Labor Spat

LANSING (AP)— The impasse over use of inmate labor on a new seven million dollar prison at Ionia has been broken. Construction was expected to resume today.

The snarl that held up work on the new 600-man, medium security institution was unraveled Tuesday with issuance of an executive order by Gov. Williams.

Williams said that under the Prison Industries Act of 1935 he would issue a formal order to the Corrections Department and other state agencies involved prohibiting use of inmate labor.

He acted after the Senate Appropriations Committee met with building trades union leaders from Grand Rapids and stood pat on its refusal to okay another $125,000 for first phase construction.

That was the amount fixed by the governor as needed to foot the bill for 100 per cent use of free contract labor on the project.

Toolin to Retire as Head of A&P's Midwestern Unit

John M. Toolin, president of A&P Food Stores' central-western division, will retire Aug. 1, the company announced yesterday. Head of the unit since its formation in 1925, Toolin is regarded as the "dean of midwestern food chain executives."

He joined the company in 1908 and in 1917 became superintendent of stores on the Chicago area. Two years later he was named head of all stores in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio, and was promoted to division vice president in 1924.

Landmark Falls Victim of Fire

Upper Peninsula Copper Mine Shaft Collapses as Flames Eat Base

HANCOCK (AP)—The towering No. 6 Quincy mine shaft, long a copper country landmark in the Upper Peninsula, was no more today.

* * *

Fire yesterday destroyed the 100-foot structure, which had stood atop a 500-foot hill overlooking Portage Lake since the turn of the century. The under-dry frame shaft, built with a succession of gables to house machinery and take the weight of winter snow, burned to the ground in an hour.

More than 100 separate grass fires were set by windblown embers. Sparks also set fire to two houses and a barn nearby.

Firemen from nine communities worked more than three hours to put out the fires.

A housewive, Mrs. Jay Nehr, suffered the only injury when she broke a leg as she was stamping out sparks in the front yard of her home.

* * *

Cause of the blaze was not determined, although firemen said it might have been started by children looking for copper specimens in the old shaft, which the Quincy Mining Co. abandoned in 1945.

The fire blocked traffic on U.S. 41 for two miles.

Tough Job Facing Petition Peddlers

SOUTHFIELD — Circulating petitions by the Westwood Village Committee to incorporate East and West Beverly Hills and Berkshire Hills Subdivisions into a home rule city, is a "tedious process," said chairman Ted Shurtleff this morning.

A new law makes it necessary to get signatures from one per cent of the population in each of the 42 subdivisions, the smallest of which is one block long and the largest a one-fourth square mile, Shurtleff said.

Neighbors Argue Against New Walk

Work will proceed on reconstruction of a sidewalk on East Pike street although two residents of the street disputed the necessity of the project before the City Commission last night.

* * *

Appearing at the public hearing, Mrs. Grace E. Immell, 320 E. Pike St., said she "felt that I can't afford it myself." She was referring to the assessment of $100 for her share in the project.

She was assured by the commission that Commissioner John Carry, in whose district the project is being carried out, would request payment for the job be spread over four years.

Mrs. Spiros Govenis, 330 E. Pike St., claimed the project was not needed and that there "was only one party involved who would benefit."

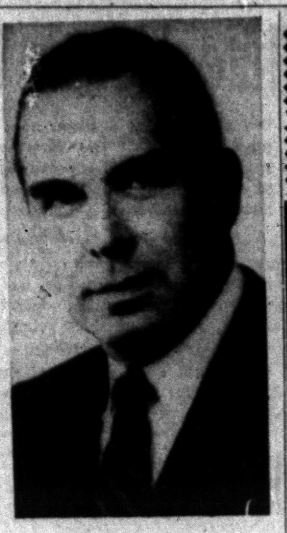

* * *

Carry informed the two women the hearing was on the special assessment roll to finance the job and that the hearing of intent had been held earlier. "I never heard any objections to this project before last Saturday," the commissioner said.

Last Prop Plane Built, Boeing Switches to Jets

RENTON, Wash. (AP) — An era of the air age ended here today—and another began for Boeing Airplane Co. It produced its last propeller-driven plane and converted to an all-jet basis.

The last Boeing piston-engine plane was scheduled to roll off the production line at an afternoon ceremony in front of the company's transport division plant in this Seattle suburb.

On its tail will be its successor, the first of a fleet of KC135 jet tankers. Both planes are for the Air Force.

The last of the "prop jobs" was the 888th of Boeing's B97 series which made its first appearance in 1944.

GIs Await White House Okay on Bills

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate has passed and sent to the White House a series of bills dealing with the problems of men in uniform.

* * *

The legislation would:

1. Authorize the Defense Department to pay counsel fees, court costs and bail bond fees for personnel being tried in foreign civilian courts overseas.

2. Waive collection of some $700,000 from 2,500 naval reserve officers, all reservists, called into service during the Korean War. The comptroller general held the reservists were overpaid by having their pay increased as of the date of their promotions rather than the date the President signed the new appointments.

3. Provide penalties of up to a year in prison and a fine up to $2,000 for fradulently accepting dependent's assistance.

4. Authorize a uniform system of official registers for the Navy, Air Force and Army.

5. Make the director of the Marine Band a captain, with two assistants of a lesser commissioned rank. The director may subsequently be promoted to a rank not higher than lieutenant colonel.

6. Authorize payment of unused accrued leave to former members of the armed services or their survivors. The military departments said about 1,000 claims totaling $143,000 are pending.

7. Require enlisted men of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps or Coast Guard to make up time lost through absence without leave, imprisonment awaiting a trial, or as result of drunkenness or use of narcotics.

8. Require the Navy secretary instead of a board of naval surgeons to prescribe the physical examination standards for promotion of officers.

9. Extend for a year, until July 1, 1957, authority to the armed services to continue to credit pay accounts of missing persons and those interned or in similar status.

Politics Enters Dam Site Bill

Public vs. Private Power Issue on Senate Floor Over Hells Canyon

WASHINGTON (INS)—The highly-charged political issue of public vs. private power crackled on the Senate floor today as Democratic leaders called up the controversial Hells Canyon bill.

A close vote and probably rejection was predicted for the measure, which would authorize the federal government to construct a multi-million-dollar high dam on the Snake River of Idaho and Oregon.

Similar legislation — also frowned on by the Eisenhower Administration — has been approved by the House Interior Committee, but so far the Rules Committee has kept it from reaching the House floor.

House Interior Committee Chairman Clair Engle (D-Calif) said he is fearful the Hells Canyon measure—and two other water project bills still pending in the House—are dead as far as the 84th Congress because of the Rules Committee holdup.

Both bills are designed to wipe out a decision by the Federal Power Commission granting the Idaho Power Co., permission to build three small dams on the Snake River, one at Hells Canyon, one at Ox Bow and one at Brownlee.

Conservation Men Pull 4 From Lake

Prompt action by State Conservation Department workers prevented a boating disaster Tuesday afternoon when four men were pulled out of Cuthbert Lake shortly after their boat sank in 60 feet of water.

* * *

C. M. White, 39, of Holly, William Lamb, 46, Henry Lee, 26, and Stradford Newton, 35, all of Detroit, were rescued by Conservation men.

The incident took place in Groveland Township while the four were anchored about 150 feet offshore in a wooden boat, according to county deputies.

* * *

The men told rescuers they pulled up the anchor when the boat sprung a leak. That only caused the boat to flood and sink. Aid was summoned when campers nearby heard the men yell for help.

Commissioners Adopt Plan to Rezone Lots

An ordinance to rezone 11 lots on the north side of Golf drive on the city's south side to Commercial 2 usage was adopted by the City Commission last night.

Two residents of the area appeared before the commission seeking information on the new motel which will be constructed on the site.

Ray Caughill, 1061 Dover Rd., and Floyd P. Post, 1057 Dover Rd., both requested details of the project from a representative of the developers of the motel in the audience. They will confer and study plans of the motel along with Commissioner Philip E. Rowston, in whose district the construction is planned.

"Our primary consideration is that there is something between our property and the motel," Caughill said. Both men claimed in a petition circulated among residents of the area, a retaining wall was planned.

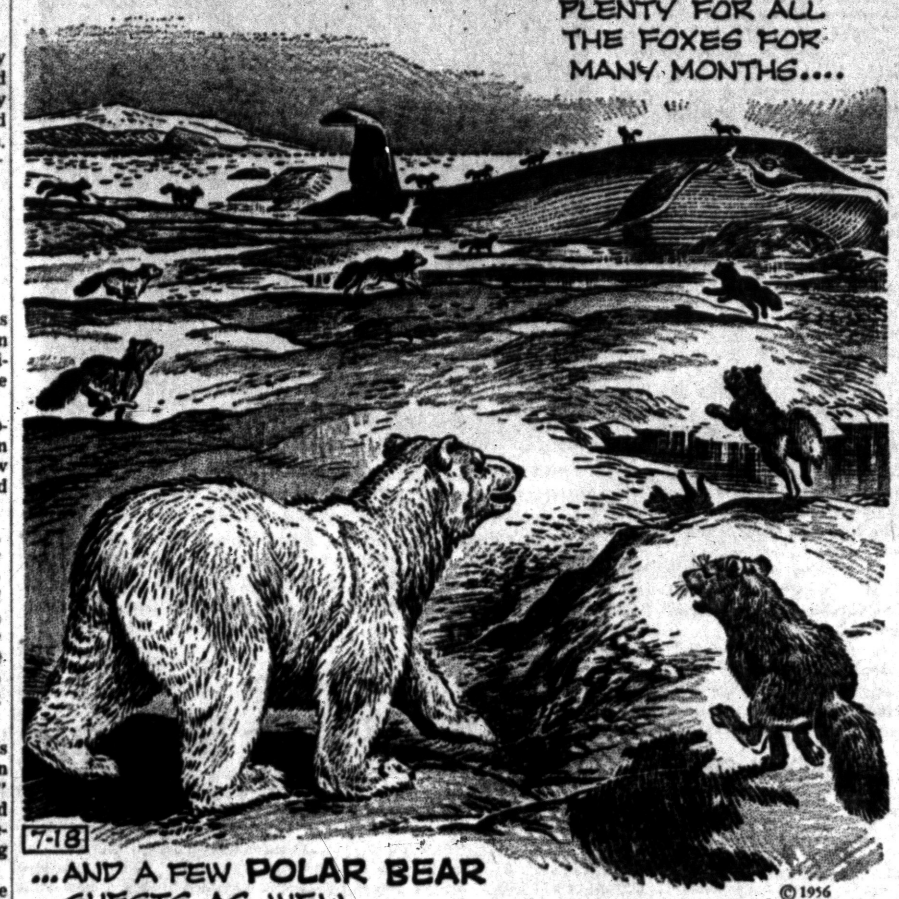

The representative assured the men and the commission "everything would be done to make the $150,000 motel compatible to the adjacent property owners."

Changes Urged for Jobless Pay

Experience Rating, Not Merit System, Used to Determine Benefits

LANSING (AP) The present merit rating system—a way of figuring payments by employers into the unemployment compensation fund—is sure to become a controversial subject for legislative debate next year.

In a message to the Legislature yesterday, Gov. Williams served notice that he will ask the lawmakers to rewrite the present system in 1957.

Williams mentioned it in passing, saying, in effect, that he was too busy trying for higher jobless pay for workers to become involved right now in the complicated business.

The present unemployment compensation law refers to the controversial item as an experience rating rather than a merit rating.

Very simplified, it is the principle that lowers the contribution that the employer must pay to support unemployment compensation when he has stable employment.

However, when the jobless pay fund sinks below a certain level, all employers are liable for a special tax assessment.

Williams has termed the present system "a slick deal which works to the advantage of the larger employers and to the disadvantage of the small ones."

Rowlands Earn Biggest Jackpot

Get $100 Weekly for 14 Years From 'Do You Trust Your Wife?'

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — A joy-shocked husband and wife who hit the largest jackpot yet on a television quiz show were glad when they finally lost.

* * *

Not that they were displeased over winning $74,000, handsome, husky Steve Rowland hastened to add, but the strain of their weekly competition on the "Do You Trust Your Wife?" CBS-TV show (Thursday 10:30 p.m.) almost overpowered them before they were beaten.

Actually, the Rowlands came to the end of their golden trail last May, when Rowland's attractive wife, Dorothy, lost to another contestant on a geography question.

But since the Edgar Bergen-Charlie McCarthy show is filmed in advance, the 15th week of their tenure on TV finally was shown last week, when millions of anxious viewers groaned with Mrs. Rowland over the question.

* * *

Fortunately, the Rowlands were more than satisfied with their $74,000 winnings, the tops so far in TV because it is paid to them at the rate of $100 a week for the next 14 years, thus avoiding the situation of other quiz shows in which Uncle Sam, with no effort at all, wins almost as much as the contestants.

EXPECTED FAR LESS

In fact, the still unbelieving couple went on the show planning to pick up $300 or $400 if possible and leave.

* * *

"I think we were happier losing than we would have been winning," the 40-year-old Rowland said with a broad grin. "The tension was terrific. I really don't think I could have gone on."

Despite their new riches, the Rowlands have no intention of playing the roles of nouveau riche.

"People expected us to blossom out with new Cadillacs and swimming pools the next day," Rowland shrugged. "They didn't know we planned to live just as always.

* * *

"We have some bills we want to catch up on, of course, but the rest of the money is being turned back into a trust fund with the stipulation that we can get some of it when the kids (Steve Jr., 13, and Nancy, 11) reach college age.

"It will be mostly for them. We're not going to touch it to augment our regular income."

NO NEW HOME

The college - educated Rowlands don't even plan on moving out of their modest Los Angeles home into a residence more befitting their financial stature.

* * *

The Rowlands are in the pleasant position of being able to handle their quiz show income conservatively because Steve is, in his own right, a budding business tycoon.

He operates an insurance firm, which he says is now breaking even after only three years, and a liquor store which has enjoyed a 30 per cent business boom since the Rowlands became TV stars.

In addition, the Rowlands are active in civic affairs, particularly in the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. It was this enterprise, in fact, which led to their fortune.

* * *

The sponsors of "Do You Trust Your Wife?" went to the NAACP in search of a Negro couple to appear on the show. The head of the local branch recommended the Rowlands.

Nasser and Tito Await Nehru for Neutral Talks

PULA, Yugoslavia (AP)—Presidents Tito of Yugoslavia and Nasser of Egypt awaited the arrival today of a third leader of world neutralism, India's Prime Minister Nehru, for a widely awaited exchange of views.

* * *

Nehru was en route by plane from Paris.

Nasser joined Marshal Tito last night at the site of the talks, the Yugoslav leader's vacation villa on the island of Brioni, seven miles northwest of this Adriatic seaport.

* * *

The Egyptians attempted to attribute large significance to the 24-hour meeting. But Yugoslav sources predicted there would be nothing more dramatic than a restatement of known positions. Nehru said just before his departure this morning from France:

"We will meet as old friends, not as a kind of conference to solve every problem."

* * *

There is little time for formation of any neutralist bloc or important new policy during the brief meeting.

FDR Keeps Honor, Stalin Gets the Ax

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Stalin Square passed out of the picture in Vienna today. It got back its old name—Schwarzenberg Square—after a 19th Century Austrian army leader.

A City Council committee ordered the renaming. Russian names were stricken from other streets and bridges.

Vienna retains its Roosevelt Square named after U. S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Brothers Have Reunion

OWOSSO (AP)—Peter Hart, 75, and his brother, Fordyce, 66, are having their first reunion in 50 years. The two met at the home of their sister, Mrs. Olive Scrivener. Peter, a retired automotive mechanic who worked on the early Fords has been living in Florida. His brother, also a mechanic, makes his home in California.

Assumes New Post

CADILLAC (AP)—Meryl A. Bird, 46, resigned yesterday as superintendent of schools in Cadillac to take over a similar position at Benton Harbor. Bird, who will move into his new post next month, came here in 1952 from Pinconning, where he also was school superintendent.

U.S. Movie Pay Hurts Italians

Sophia Loren's Wages Are Bigger Than Budget of Complete Film

ROME (AP)—The postwar Italian motion picture boom has gone bust.

* * *

Minerva Films, an important production firm, is bankrupt. Other big film companies are close to it. More money is crossing the ticket windows of Italian movie houses than ever before — but a steadily smaller percentage is drawn by Italian films. American pictures are the big money makers.

* * *

Only the most famous Italian stars are working today — and most of them are appearing in foreign films. Sophia Loren is working for Stanley Kramer in Spain. Gina Lollobrigida's last two starring roles were in France for American release.

* * *

What happened? Only yesterday "Bicycle Thief," "Umberto D.," "Open City" and "Shoeshine Boy" were exciting filmgoers and critics around the world.

The answers are simple. Production costs skyrocketed.

"I used to pay Sophia Loren $3,000 or $4,000 a picture when she started," commented Goffredo Lombardo, head of the Titanus Studios. "Now she is getting $200,000 a picture for American companies — and you cannot spend more than $350,000 on an Italian picture and hope for a profit, so you cannot afford Loren. There's one answer."

* * *

With Hollywood companies flocking to Italy to make such films as "Quo Vadis," "Helen of Troy" and "Roman Holiday," the wages of technicians rose along with the stars. Now production costs in Italy are not much lower than in Hollywood.

Can Italy emerge from the slump?

Lombardo, who has become the leading spokesman, believes it can. But the medicine is bitter. He is convinced the only solution is a crackdown on fly-by-night producers, a willingness by actors and technicians to take wages the industry can afford, and fewer pictures.

Very Little Difference in Yankee, Red Jokes

By EARL WILSON

YALTA — They tell a story here about a Russian customer in a restaurant ordering a bowl of soup—and promptly pouring it on his head.

* * *

"Don't do that!" shouted the waiter. "That's soup!"

"Oh," apologized the customer, "I thought it was dessert."

Russia has its shaggy dog stories, too; more than it has dogs. A young Russian who spoke English with a Bronx accent—due to having had a teacher from there—told me he thought the Russian and American senses of humor are similar. A Russian was purportedly seen fishing in a tub.

"What are you doing—fishing in a tub?" asked a passerby.

"Are you crazy!" exclaimed the man fishing in a tub. "Who fishes in a tub?"

* * *

Of course there's no joking about Stalin, or "B & K"—at least not out loud. The Americans joke about them plenty.

One visitor referred to Lenin and Stalin lying over there in the mausoleum as "the Bopsey Twins." Another designation given them is "The Cold Cuts," or "The Gruesome Twosome."

Maybe that's why the Russians are still a little afraid of getting too well acquainted with any Americans.

I offered to send some American magazines noted for humor and sophistication to one young Russian.

"But I can get the Saturday Evening Post and Life in our libraries," he said.

"They are not noted mostly for humor. I could send you 'The New Yorker,'" I suggested. He seemed to be against getting that or any other American publication from me through the mail.

"Maybe I'd better not?" I said.

"Better not . . ." he answered.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

James Petrillo will donate a piano and trumpet to the Harry Truman Library, commemorating their famous duet . . . A pocketbook publisher wanted to put a sexy cover shot of Monroe on a volume of Arthur Miller's plays—and got a loud NO! . . . Elvis Presley was offered a $10,000 advance on his biography, and said, "That's just peanuts".

Air Force brass will recommend an end to accepting draftees in their service — they're happier with volunteers . . . Jose Ferrer joined the musicians' union.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Jimmy Komack tells of the Texan who needed a psychiatrist — so he bought one.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Charley Krouse heard of a guy who won a pile of dough in a poker game, then lost it in a quiz game when he got home.

Renzo "The Continental" Cesana says his romantic TV show appeals to all women: "It shows the single girls what they have in store, and the married ones what they've missed." That's earl, brother.

MSU to Film Classes for GIs Overseas

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State University educational television station—WKAR - TV — is taking part in a nationwide program to contribute to schooling servicemen abroad.

WKAR-TV has started production on two 20-program series in history for the U.S. Armed Forces Institute.

The series of film lectures will cover two semesters of high school level American history.

Dr. Charles J. McIntyre, educational TV chief for the Office of Armed Forces Information and Education, is supervising early programming at the M.S.U. station.

When completed, the films will be presented on some 20 armed forces television stations serving servicemen in isolated areas.

Ill Wind Blows Out City's Lights for Hour

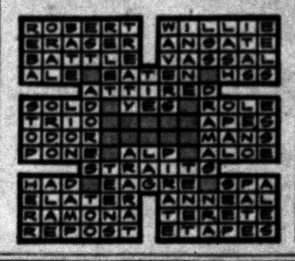

CAROLINA BEACH, N.C. (INS) — Never underestimate the power of a woman—or her dress.

Mike Bain, a filling station operator, said a woman in an apartment over his station hung a dress out to dry.

Ocean breezes blew the wet dress against a transformer, blowing out all the power in the resort community.

Jersey Governor to Duck Nomination

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey said today he does not want to be named a "favorite son" at the Democratic National Convention next month but ducked other questions about the political strategy his delegation may follow.

The state's 144 delegates and alternates met behind closed doors here last night.

"The question of making the governor a favorite son at the convention was not discussed," a source who was present said. "It just didn't come up."

Meyner told reporters, "I'm very glad about that. I don't want to be a favorite son. I'm happy to be just a chairman of the delegation."
