

SAM SHEPPARD

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard, cleared after 12 years in the badger murder of his first wife, savored his complete freedom today and quietly vowed to build a new life with his second wife.

The balding, graying man of 42, who served nine years in prison for the crime of which he was acquitted by a jury last night, said: "How can I have anything in my heart left of bitterness. I have no bitterness. I have love in my heart."

His lawyers said they expected his osteopathic license, suspended while he was in prison, to be restored. But when asked if he will return to his career as a neurosurgeon, Sheppard replied: "I don't know if I will. If people need help, I will. If people are sick and need a neurosurgeon's help, I will."

As he spoke to newsmen in a downtown hotel, he kept his right arm tightly around his second wife, Ariane Tebbenjohannis Sheppard, who has a 13-year-old daughter, by a first marriage, in her native Germany.

Sheppard's parents died 11 days apart shortly after his 1964 conviction, his mother by suicide.

12 HOURS

A jury of seven men and five women, acting just under 12 hours after receiving the case, found Sheppard innocent in the July 4, 1964, slaying of Marilyn Sheppard.

She was 31, and five months away from bearing his second child when she was beaten to death in the bedroom of their suburban Bay Village home. Sheppard said she was slain by an intruder.

As he heard Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Tally read the verdict, Sheppard, on his feet, slumped the counsel table a resounding blow of jubilation. Then, as his lawyers pushed him down into his chair, he began to sob, his shoulders shaking.

Later, in a corridor separating the courtroom where he was convicted in 1964 from the one where he was acquitted 12 years later, Sheppard exulted: "Christmas never has arrived this way!"

LIFE SENTENCE A jury in Sheppard's first trial convicted him of second-degree murder, and he was sentenced to life imprisonment. He was released on $10,000 bond from Ohio State Penitentiary in 1964 and two days later married Ariane.

Military Opposes Christmas Lull in N. Viet Bombing

WASHINGTON (U)—Like other Johnson administration officials, top Pentagon leaders are steadfastly against another Christmas pause in the U.S. bombing of targets in North Viet Nam.

The Pentagon officials are known to believe there is no evidence now that Hanoi would respond affirmatively — either by taking steps to reduce the fighting or to begin peace talks — if the bombs stopped falling over the North.

As of today, officials believe the North Vietnamese would use any lull to do what they did during last year's pause — "take maximum advantage," as one official put it.

In a series of interviews, officials voiced concern that a bombing pause would give the enemy a chance to repair bridges, railroads and improve the distribution of badly shattered petroleum and oil stocks. "They went full blast last year," said one well-informed source. "They'll do the same thing again."

VATICAN REPORTS

"Anytime you have one day or 27 days in which you aren't hampered, you do what you can."

There have been reports that Pope Paul VI again will call for a Christmas ceasefire and bombing pause in Viet Nam.

President Johnson ordered a pause in the bombings last Dec. 24 and called for their resumption Jan. 31 after reporting the United States had received no indication that Hanoi was willing to begin peace talks.

Opposition to another pause at this time has strongly united the Pentagon's top military and civilian leaders — men who don't always see eye to eye. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS) are reliably reported to be against any lull.

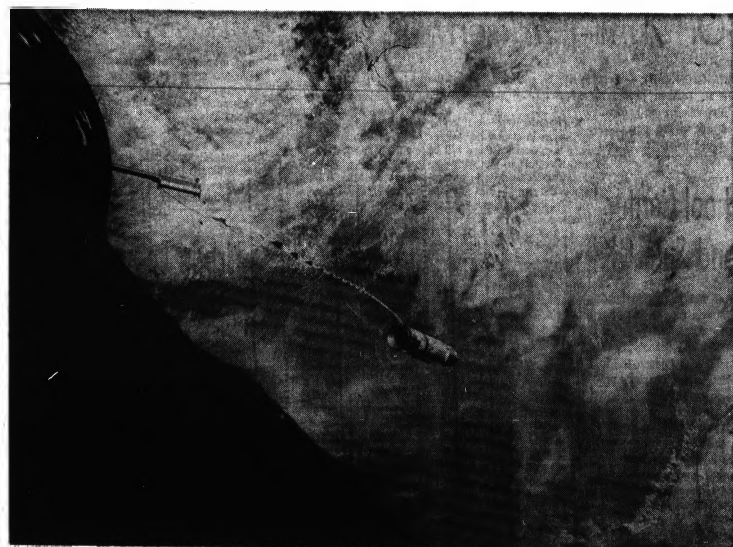

One sign of JCS opposition came yesterday from Adm. David L. McDonald, chief of naval operations, who told a news conference he opposed another bombing pause this year.

McDonald acknowledged that the U.S. raids are not completely stemming the flow of men and materials into the South, but said they are "saving the lives of Marines in South Viet Nam."

Some Pentagon officials disagree widely on the effects of the almost daily U. S. bombings in the North.

For some officials, the most significant effect of the air raids has been on enemy morale. "When we bomb," one source said, "the North Vietnamese are forced to confine their movements to nighttime and use all kinds of subterfuges."

"When they're on the move, they can't even settle down for the night or light a fire to cook rice."

ministration yesterday released the first 140 feet of more than 1,500 feet of movies taken by astronauts James A. Lovell Jr. and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr.

Welfare Panel Fills Vacancy

9-Year Unit Member Is Elected Chairman

Maurice J. Croteau, a nine-year member of the Oakland County Department of Social Welfare Board, yesterday was elected board chairman.

Croteau of 112 Marquette was elected to fill the chairmanship vacancy created by the death of John A. MacDonald last August. He was selected by the other two board members, Mrs. John Runney and Walter M. Coon.

He will assume the chairmanship immediately due to the vacancy and serve as chairman through 1967. Salary for the part-time position is $600 per year.

Owner of Maurice's Catering Service, Croteau, 59, has been active in numerous civic affairs.

He served on the County Board of Supervisors as a Pontiac representative for 10 years prior to his appointment by the supervisors to the welfare board.

Croteau served on the Pontiac Board of Education from 1961 to 1965 and was vice president in 1964. He was an organizer and first president of the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council and is a past president of the Oakland County Grocers Association.

MacDonald served nearly 30 years as board chairman.

LBJ Gets Up Before Dawn; Ike a Visitor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, his throat still sore but less hoarse than yesterday, talked nonstop today with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and newsmen.

Eisenhower was Johnson's first caller, arriving before 8 a.m.

Seated close together on adjoining sofas, the President and the former chief executive talked for 45 minutes, Johnson speaking in a somewhat lower voice than usual but in no apparent distress.

Then Johnson kept going for another 20 minutes with reporters.

"I was so excited that he was able to talk," Eisenhower said as he left the hospital where Johnson underwent dual operations for removal of a throat polyp and repair of an incisional hernia.

Reelect Mayor 'M' Report Indicates County Is Great Place

Member of Council Since 1962 Is Winner

The Sylvan Lake City Council last night reelected John M. Hanson as mayor.

Hanson, a councilman since 1962, was elected mayor last June to succeed Donald A. Tews, who resigned in April.

Hanson, 46, of 2440 Garland is president of the Michigan Credit Counselors. He is also president of the American Association of Credit Counselors.

Fred Crossman of 2465 Renfer was named mayor pro tem. He is chief estimator and sales engineer for Construction Pipe Co., Inc., Detroit.

The council also appointed Willis Brewer of 1655 Lakewood representative to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Oakland County is a great place in which to live and work, according to a report prepared by the Center for Urban Studies of the University of Michigan Dearborn Branch for the Oakland County Planning Commission.

The report included the finding that most newcomers to Oakland County like it better than any other area in the metropolitan community and that when Oakland County residents go shopping they tend to patronize stores within the county.

About half the wage-earners in Oakland County earn $10,000 a year or more, according to the report, and only 19 per cent earn less than $8,000. Only 1 per cent of the labor force is unemployed.

Most people work within 10 miles of where they live.

Among the reasons cited by residents for liking Oakland County better than their previous home location were good schools, good roads and pleasant, well-kept neighborhoods.

Preferred shopping locations listed were Pontiac, Birmingham, Royal Oak or the Northland Shopping areas.

DETROIT IGNORED

One-third of the residents interviewed said they never shop in Detroit.

The report also pointed out that Oakland is lower Michigan's largest county in area with 900 square miles and that its present estimated population is 850,000 compared to 254,000 in 1940.

Financed by federal funds, the study was begun last March.

Soggy Clouds Hang Around

Dark gray clouds hovering over the Pontiac area this morning are apt to dump a few more showers tonight and perhaps a few flurries tomorrow.

The weatherman predicts temperatures registering a low of 38 to 42 tonight will turn colder tomorrow.

Cloudy and cold is Saturday's forecast.

Southwesterly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will shift to northerly at 8 to 16 miles by morning.

Lowest thermometer reading prior to 8 a.m. was 45.

The temperature had warmed up to 50 by 2 p.m.

Committee Launches Study of Area Housing

By L. GARY TBORNE

An in-depth study and analysis of housing needs in the Pontiac area has been launched by a blue ribbon committee of top-level community leaders, it was announced today.

Howard H. Fitzgerald II, publisher of The Pontiac Press, announced the organization of the 27-member group, which embraces a cross-section of city, county, industrial, business, labor and civic leaders.

The study is to be undertaken with the knowledge that the entire Pontiac area needs additional and more adequate housing now. The group has met four times in the past six weeks.

"We recognize the need for more and better housing of all types throughout the area," Fitzgerald said of the committee.

STUDY NEEDS

The community leaders have designated a six-man subcommittee to study housing needs. Specifically, this group is to research the housing problem and determine just what is needed.

After a thorough view of the Pontiac area housing situation, the "needs" study subcommittee is to determine:

- What type of housing is needed — one-bedroom, two-bedroom, three-bedroom or more.
• What form of housing is necessary to combat the recognized shortage, meaning single homes, duplexes or apartment projects.
• How much housing (numbers) is needed and the cost range.
• Also, how such forms and types of housing can best be provided and by whom.
• An answer to the latter question could mean the establishment of a private housing authority, requests to city, county, state, or federal governments, or even financial arrangements for existing private housing developers.

The 27-member housing committee also plans immediate action to aid the construction of various forms of housing already planned but held up for lack of financing.

With Ken Morris, UAW region 1-B director, as chairman, a nine-man executive subcommittee has been formulated to study the various methods of financing.

In addition to Morris, the executive group includes Fitzgerald, Charles Brown, division manager for Consumers Power Co., A. C. Girard, president and chairman of the board of Community National Bank; Earl Maxwell, personnel director, GMC Truck & Coach Division; Bruce J. Annett of Annett, Inc., Realtors; Harold Goldberg, of Thomas Jewelry Co.; Lou Randall, research director for J. L. Hudson Co.; and Charles Tucker, president of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The "needs" study subcommittee is to be headed by Edward Barker, president of Pontiac State Bank.

Cancer Victims Get LSD

NEW YORK (UPI) — To lessen the mental anguish of dying, Dr. Eric Kast injected the hallucination drug Lysergic Acid Diethylamide (LSD) into 80 cancer patients who had only weeks or months to live and knew it.

Because it was frankly a scientific experiment, this physician-scientist first asked himself if he was justified in interfering with the natural process of dying in such a way.

He decided he was justified because LSD in previous experiments has been shown to enable people "to see and feel with greater intensity." That is good for the dying, Kast decided, again on scientific grounds.

A slow dying "seems to take an extraordinary toll in a person's ability to relate to his environment and communicate with his family," Kast said.

"He becomes isolated and is deprived to a large extent of his ability to experience realistically and deeply these last months or weeks of greatest importance in his life."

THE JOURNEY

And so, by injection, with their full knowledge and consent, the 80 were given the LSD "experience" which is called a "journey" by bohemians, thrill-seekers and other non-scientific experimentalists. The results were in general beneficial, Kast reported.

Funds for Children Asked

Construction of a children's vocational work done with children at Pontiac State Hospital has prompted the Foundation for Mentally Ill Children, Inc., to turn to the public for funds for the first time in its 10-year history.

The countywide organization is soliciting funds primarily to aid the hospital in furnishing Fairlawn Center, due to be completed next year.

Brochures explaining the work of the organization are to be sent this week to some 5,000 Oakland County residents. As membership chairman, Mrs. Hugh Martin Jr. of 4801 Echo, Bloomfield Township, is in charge of the drive.

The volunteer organization segments the treatment and educational work done with children at the hospital.

Women serve as tutors to patients, sponsoring individual children in need. They arrange birthday parties, holiday celebrations and field trips and provide tuition for children to attend public schools.

TRAINING UNIT

The foundation supports an industrial training unit to assist patients in adapting to today's world.

Besides buying equipment and furnishings to be used by the children, the foundation supports a scholarship program to encourage members of the hospital staff to continue their professional training.

Election Puts New Life in GOP

Republican optimism over the recent election should be tempered by the realization that spectacular reforms are not foreseen on Capitol Hill. Democratic majority control of Congress was, and is, too firmly entrenched to permit a complete reversal in only one election.

Nevertheless, the GOP comeback, on both state and national levels, was more impressive than most observers had looked for, leading to inevitable speculations about what it means for 1968.

That is still a long way off, but the three R's—Romney, Rockefeller and Reagan—whether any or all of them will be presidential contenders two years hence, will be forces to be reckoned with by virtue of their gubernatorial victories in Michigan, New York and California respectively.

There is a fourth R—Rhodes of Ohio—who won a second term as governor by a record plurality. Add to this SHAFER of Pennsylvania and VOLPE of Massachusetts and the GOP has a solid and commanding base in six of the most populous states in the Union and certainly no shortage of attractive presidential timber.

What the election means in the short run is a little more difficult to predict. Though the Democratic majority in Congress remains, the liberal strength swept in by President Johnson's landslide in 1964 and which inspired so much Great Society legislation has been badly undercut.

If the northern Republican-southern Democratic conservative coalition can be re-established, the go-go 89th Congress may well become the 90th or 90th. The Great Society will not be repealed, but if the new Congress withholds the funding necessary to implement the measures passed by the old Congress, much of it may exist only on paper.

Forget backlash and frontlash. Talk about Republican slash.

'Would You Believe—Miss America, '68?'

David Lawrence Says:

Global Alliance for Viet Needed

WASHINGTON — The time has come for the United States to make a move that can bring about the end of the fighting in Viet Nam.

This call for the formation of a new alliance comprising as many allies as the United States can line up on its side to guarantee that a peace agreement will be honored, and to be ready, if a violation occurs, to take military action to halt any aggression.

Up to now, the American government has been begging for peace and has been expecting neutral nations to act as intermediaries to bring about negotiations. But the North Viet Nam regime, sponsored as it is by the governments in Peking and Moscow, evidently believes that it can prolong the war and eventually get the equivalent of a victory.

It is apparent that peace is not going to be obtained by President Johnson's merely through the pleas of neutral powers.

Obviously America is making considerable headway in its military strategy and is imposing heavy punishment on the North Vietnamese. But, while the United States has a large force in Viet Nam, an alliance representing an even greater military potential could unquestionably play a decisive part in requiring the Hanoi government to begin negotiations for an armistice and a settlement.

ENTIRE PROBLEM It is obvious that an alliance of states has to be created to take over the entire Viet Nam problem and force a solution.

An effective alliance can be formed, for example, by the United States with Great Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Japan, South Korea, Thailand, Italy, Austria, Greece, Turkey, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Belgium, the Netherlands, the West German Republic and several countries in Latin America.

Each member of the alliance would pledge itself to send troops, if necessary, to join with the United States in bringing peace in Viet Nam.

At first glance, many of these countries would wish to refrain from becoming involved. But sooner or later, their peoples would come to understand that, unless some means is provided to stop aggression in the world, no country will be safe in the future.

Plainly the task of preserving peace in the world is not an obligation of the United States alone but of other nations as well.

The recent meeting in Manila indicated clearly that Southeast Asia is a danger area and that the troubles there could precipitate an intercontinental war.

Hence, the formation of a new alliance to take collective action to insure peace is a logical step in the establishment of a common defense not only for Asia but for Europe.

Bob Considine Says:

Reporters Get the Word: They Blew One at NYU

NEW YORK — Dr. James M. Hester, president of New York University, has a word for young (and old) reporters: "Dear Bob:

"As we were discussing last night, the press in reporting the unusual sometimes relegates to a lesser position of prominence or overlooks completely developments of profound or dramatic import.

"Coverage of our commencement last June understandably highlighted the walkout of some 130 students and faculty at the point when we conferred an honorary degree upon Secretary McNamara.

"Overlooked entirely in many stories was the fact that thousands and thousands of others who were present rose spontaneously and gave an overwhelming ovation to the secretary. The spirited and heart-felt applause continued until after the 130 had left the field — and it was sustained for at least three minutes.

"Here was an incident made newsworthy by the walkout of 130 but made memorable and significant by the prolonged standing applause of more than 10,000. Yet the latter development escaped attention."

In a recent salute to the cancer fund which has been collected in the name of Damon Runyon for the past 20 years, I neglected to mention that for a majority of those years the entire check for administrative expenses was picked up personally by Walter Winchell. Far as I know, the man never mentioned it.

"It's a little premature to worry that the computer is replacing the human brain," said the wife of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, who is often thought of as refusing just that.

"The brain," she continued, "is the most magnificent cent bit of miniaturization in the universe.

"Though it weighs only 3 pounds, it contains some 10 billion nerve cells, each of which has some 25,000 possible interconnections with other nerve cells.

"To build an electric computer large enough to have that range of choice would require an area equal to the entire surface of the earth."

Additional thought about the human brain, as noted somewhere recently: It's not only the greatest computer ever devised but also the only one that can be made by unskilled labor.

In Washington:

Train Girls to Replace VC Men

By RAY CROMLEY

CAO LANH, Viet Nam (NEA)—She had been the top Communist party official in a village not many miles from here. She was getting short of officials. They were being sent to the front. She'd been ordered to recruit sizable numbers of young women to take over much of the party's political, economic and propaganda work in the area.

But she had found that the girls in her village were reluctant to take over these jobs. They didn't want to be sent away to serve. They rebelled. Their parents' indoctrination courses didn't seem to help much.

Nevertheless, she said, by present almost two-thirds of the young men working in the Communist front's various administrative sections have been replaced by women.

The growing scarcity of young men also forced her to call on more women as ammunition porters for the Communist armies.

"At night," she said, "on the canals there were long caravans of sampans loaded with ammunition cases and weapons.

"The region cadres and the regrouped cadres told me that this ammunition came from Ca Mau Province. According to these cadres, submarines carried it from the north and emerged near the seashore to deliver it to the front.

"Whenever an ammunition transport team passed by my village, I had to motivate at least 50 villagers to participate on this team. Most of them were girls and women between 18 and 35 years of age."

Is it Christmas? The stores and shopping centers think it is. What's happened to the real meaning of Christmas? The stores start putting up the Christmas merchandise earlier each year.

I think the retail merchants should get together and put up their displays after Thanksgiving as this is another great holiday that's forgotten by having Christmas the first week of November.

Ever since the Waterford School Board took over the Recreation Department, the Community School program has been gradually absorbing the recreation department, which has been established for 15 years. The current set-up is for one year.

In the Community School program slipping so badly that programs must be taken away from another department? Waterford Trustees should reclaim control of the Recreation Department.

'We Have Different Laws for Rich and Poor'

We have two sets of laws, one for the rich and one for the poor. Our courts are a good example.

A person without funds gets a court-appointed attorney and does not get one of his choice. With no money allowed for investigations one's chances of conviction are excellent. With money you can hire your own attorney, make bail and help your attorney in your defense. Maybe the Ball Reform Act of '66 will change this.

Question and Answer

A family we know in Royal Oak has a six-year-old girl going in for open heart surgery at Ford Hospital in January and needs $4,000 cash when they register her. They're an average family. He has a job and a life insurance, but it won't begin to cover hospital costs. United Fund won't help because of the job and insurance. Isn't there someone who can help?

REPLY

Dr. C. J. Bogucki of Michigan Crippled Children's Commission says the family should notify their surgeon that they can't handle the costs. He can give them a physician's certificate for referral to the Commission, which will investigate the family's circumstances and help them, if possible.

Wages and Profits Are Inseparable in Business

Statistics can be made to prove almost anything. The earnings of 3,862 leading American corporations were 15 per cent higher in 1965 than in 1964, according to a Government agency.

From reports like this, many assume that wage increases for labor should be permitted to rise six, eight or even 10 per cent, though employee compensation for all American corporations averaged six times as much as corporate earnings—nearly $250 billion compared to a little over $41 billion.

If the entire amount of the 15 per cent increase in corporate earnings in 1965 were paid out in employee compensation, it would mean a wage increase of only 2.5 per cent. A 10 per cent wage increase would have wiped out approximately 60 per cent of all corporate earnings for the year.

Had this happened, investors who, after all, are entitled to a share of the earnings of corporations if they are to put their savings into job-creating ventures, would have been better off to bank their money and go fishing.

In many industries, it takes thousands of dollars of hard-earned investors' savings to make one job. The owners of those savings deserve a fair wage, too. That is why earnings and profits are necessary.

'Communications' Gives Freely of Resources

We've all seen them—a card above the window of a bus asking us to "Give to the College of Your Choice"; a newspaper ad urging us to "Put Your Faith to Work Every Day"; a magazine page promoting safe driving or equal employment opportunities or the hiring of the handicapped.

They are only a few of some 102 similar messages—from Aid to Higher Education right through the alphabet to the Zip Code—sponsored by the Advertising Council last year through the media of newspapers, magazines, radio, television, transit cards, outdoor posters and direct mail.

In the fiscal year ended June 30, the advertising and communications industries contributed no less than $236 million worth of such public service advertising. All of it was donated through Advertising Council, a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization which for nearly a quarter of a century has been demonstrating how the private sector of the economy can work voluntarily for the public good.

Paradoxically, an industry whose criterion is publicity is rendering virtually anonymous service to mankind.

Red China-in-U.N. Issue Up Again

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Ever since 1950, the year the Korean war began and the Red Chinese got involved, the United States has been opposing U.N. membership for the Chinese Communists.

That was 16 years ago and ever since, by various parliamentary devices, the United States has succeeded in keeping Red China out. Now, once again this year, the try will be made.

The 121-member U.N. General Assembly is supposed to start debating tomorrow.

Lesotho, the latest U.N. member, was admitted last October. It's only a patch on the map compared with Red China. Lesotho, Africa's 40th independent nation, completely surrounded by South Africa, has a population under a million. Red China's population is over 700 million.

But in this contest size makes no difference. In the early 1950s the main American argument was Red China's intrusion into the Korean War. Now it focuses on Peking's involvement, in various ways, in the war in Viet Nam.

In the late 1950s and early 1960s, it would have been politically unpopular chance of change in the American government's attitude.

In the early 1960s, when the U.N. membership was much smaller, this country had no great problem in getting a good-sized majority.

Later, as U.N. membership increased, the American majority decreased and reached its low point in 1960.

But by 1961 it tried a new device which it has been using in one way or another since. This was to ask the assembly to consider admission of Red China as an "important matter."

Only a simple majority was needed to name the problem of Red China membership an "important matter."

MAJORITY VOTE But once there was such a majority vote, there would have to be debate on this "important matter" of admitting Red China. Then, when debate ended and the assembly voted on letting in Red China, a two-thirds vote would be needed on this "important matter."

The Red Chinese haven't had enough sympathizers yet to provide that two-thirds vote. Last year the vote was 47 to 47, with 20 abstentions. This week the United States made its "important matter" proposal again.

The Soviet Union, despite its split with the Red Chinese, has supported U.N. membership for them. It will be fascinating to see what Moscow does this year.

College Groups Will Press for Across-Board Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two groups representing over 300 public colleges and universities will press Congress for $150 million in across-the-board aid next year.

And one of them, the Association of State Colleges and Universities, is joining a move for judicial review of the explosive issue of federal aid to church-related schools.

The resolutions came Wednesday at the conclusion of a joint meeting of the state college group and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. Member institutions enroll over 50 per cent of the nation's six million students in higher education. The two associations said that "institutional support is the No. 1 unmet need in the pattern of federal relations with the academic community."

Support to date has been for specific academic projects or for buildings. The colleges and universities want general operational support, starting with the sciences.

Walled Lake to Okay Water Rate Schedule

WALLED LAKE — The City Council is scheduled to adopt a water rate schedule for the city's proposed water system expansion at its Dec. 6 meeting.

At its meeting this week, the council discussed a $3 per month per family basic minimum rate.

Anything above this, according to City Manager Royce Downey, would be charged at a rate of 25 cents per 1,000 gallons.

The only persons exempt from the charge would be those who now have a community water system such as Carroll Lake and the Tri-A subdivisions.

They would not be charged in addition to their present rate to amortize the system because they paid for a water system when they purchased their homes, according to Downey.

BEGIN DRILLING

Drilling began yesterday on a deep well at Ladd and Maple. It is the first of three new deep wells to be into a 975,000 gallon elevated water storage system.

The $1,334,000 water system expansion will tie the two existing systems together, provide a new well for the industrial center and a new well for the area near South Commerce and Pontiac Trail and South Commerce and Decker.

Downey also reported at Tuesday's meeting that the Housing and Urban Development Administration has approved engineering, legal and administrative work on the application for a federal grant for a proposed joint sewer project with the village of Novi.

He said the application has been sent to Washington for approval.

Election Suit Lawyer

ALMONT — The Board of Education has appointed attorney James Morrice of Inlay City as its representative in the suit pending in Lapeer County Court to set aside results of the recent Lapeer County Intermediate School District election which united Retherford Primary District to the Almont District.

PLAY REHEARSAL — Members of the Farmington Players rehearse for their play, "Never Too Late," to be presented tomorrow and Saturday, Nov. 25-27 and Dec. 2 and 3, at the Players Barn, 12 Mile at Powers, Farmington Township. The cast includes (from left) Dick Manning, Max Miller (standing) and Mrs. Al Stinson. Tickets may be purchased at the Welsby House of Music.

Shelby Considering Civil Service Plan

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A committee has been named to look into the possibility of civil service for township employees other than police and firemen.

Other municipalities will be investigated and a report made back at the Dec. 6 township board meeting.

In other business Tuesday night, the board upheld a planning commission recommendation and issued a permit to Underwood Sand and Gravel Co. to use surplus dirt from Detroit water line excavations to fill gravel pits on the company property at Hamlin and Dequindre Roads.

Edward Brane, owner of property at Hamlin and Ryan Road, was requested to be present at the next township board meeting to discuss the problem of people dumping refuse on his land.

Police were asked to investigate two bars in the township where there have been recent stabbings, and make a report to the board.

PRICE RANGE

An additional price range for construction activity usage at new buildings was asked by George Crombe, water superintendent.

The board is studying a fence ordinance, and will meet with the planning commission in regard to screening belts. Trustees will tour the township dumps at 2 p.m. Sunday on inspection.

Car Kills Girl, 4

DETROIT (AP) — Four-year-old Cheryl Bertschinger darted into the path of a car and was killed Wednesday in Detroit. She was the daughter of Mrs. Geraldine Bertschinger of Detroit.

Fears Fatalities on Bad Stretch

Cheyz Demands M59 Action

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Supervisor Edward Cheyz wants something done about M59 and he wants it done now, not in 1972.

"It's a hazardous stretch of road between Airport Road and the western edge of the county," he said. "I'd hate to see how many fatalities there are going to be before something is done to improve it."

He tried to get something done last year when he presented the State Highway Department with facts and figures on the high traffic count on M59.

Although department officials agreed with him, he said, they told him that because of a lack of available construction funds, there would be no major improvement program through 1972.

This is too long to wait as far as Cheyz is concerned so he sought and got authorization from the township board to start gathering ammunition to take to a hoped-for meeting with the highway department.

FACTS, FIGURES

He's going to get figures on the number of accidents on that stretch of road; the number of cars going to Highland Recreation and Pontiac Lake Recreation areas, all of which must use M59; the number of school buses traveling M59; and the number of trucks traveling the road.

He hopes that the results will be conclusive enough to qualify the township for work under the Highway Department's emergency program.

In a 24-hour period in 1964, 12,800 vehicles traveled that stretch of road, according to Cheyz. A year later, in 1965, the count was 16,000.

News of the Area

Supervisor Quits Plan Commission

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz has already started to pave the way for his departure on April 1.

The 39-year-old supervisor, who has served in his capacity for seven years, was defeated in the general election last week by Republican James L. Reid of 5400 Cedar Island.

Tuesday night, he handed in his resignation from the Planning Commission.

He said that a member of the township board must serve on the planning commission and he felt a new member should be selected now.

Treasurer Ronald Voorhees was appointed to fill out the remaining two years of the three-year term.

Romeo Delegate to Board Named

ROMEO — The board of education has appointed Ray Wilson, president, as delegate to the Macomb County Board of Education insofar as vocational training centers are concerned.

A meeting has been called Nov. 29, at which time plans and methods of financing will be presented to delegates from all districts of the Macomb County school districts.

Independence Twp. OKs Dump Accord

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has tentatively approved an agreement with Brandon Township regarding operation of a dump, closed by health authorities last August, but now in the process of reopening.

Located in Brandon Township off M15, the land-fill operation was shut down because it did not comply with a new state statute — Act 87 — regulating the operation and maintenance of dumps.

Reopening hinges on whether the county and state health departments grant a license for operation of the facility.

As previously, the dump would be used by residents of Brandon, Independence and Groveland townships.

Expenses would be split with Independence assessed 50 per cent of the costs and the other two communities 25 per cent each.

PRIVATE FIRM

The dump would be operated by a private concern on a contractual basis. Five per cent of the operator's gross receipts would be returned to the townships at the same ratio as expense outlays.

Under Act 87, the dump would have to be covered every day and no burning would be allowed, eliminating smoke and smoldering.

The Township Board's approval of the agreement is subject to an opinion by attorney Paul M. Mandel.

In other recent business, Nicholas Manzella again appealed to the board in an effort to have his Class C liquor license reinstated so he can sell his business at 7504 Dixie.

MAKES REQUEST

Manzella wants the board to indicate to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission (MLCC) it has no objections to having the license reinstated.

the MLCC last spring following a fight at the bar, involving Manzella; his brother Angelo, 2355 Middle Belt, west Bloomfield Township, and John Adams, 6501 Maybee.

"He has a right to an answer whether it be in his favor or not," said Township Clerk Howard Altman. "He can't be left hanging."

The board will confer with Mandel before making a decision.

CANAL WIDENING

A request by the LRB Corp. (Lyttell, Rogers and Booker) for widening of a canal in Waterford Hill Golf Estates No. 1 Subdivision from Parkview Drive to Greens Lake has won board approval.

In a general improvement measure, the canal will be widened from 12 to 30 feet for a length of about 350 feet.

The swampy area will be dredged and cleaned out along with being widened.

A special board meeting will be held next Tuesday when interviews will begin to select an engineering firm to design the township's proposed internal sewer system. Planning will be unanched through a federal "702" loan.

AREA SYSTEM

The system hopefully will be constructed simultaneously with the $33.3-million Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System.

"We have to get going on this thing," said Altman. "It behooves us to move rapidly in the right direction."

Altman hinted the engineering firm selected to draw plans for the sewer system would do the same for a projected water system.

The township presently has three neighborhood water systems, serving more than 600 residents. The rest of the population depends on individual wells for their water supply.

'Pied Pipers' of Pontiac Twp.

Pair Casts Delightful Spell on Children

By JEAN SAILE

The "Pied Pipers" of Pontiac Township — an aging couple with the fairytale-like name of Potbury — are at it again this year.

They've cast their spell on close to 200 young students at the Auburn Heights Elementary School — same as they've been doing for the past 18 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Potbury, in actuality the Rev. and Mrs. Albert Potbury, live at 212 S. Squirrel, Pontiac Township, adjacent to the school.

A well-worn path runs from the school playground around the fence and to the side door of the Potburys.

There the 86-year-old Rev. Mr. Potbury sits every Tuesday and Wednesday noon just inside the door to welcome the youngsters who stream in for the weekly program.

MISTRESS OF CEREMONIES

Mrs. Potbury, a former Sunday school teacher, is the mistress of ceremonies.

The Rev. Mr. Potbury reminds the children to wipe their feet and directs them into the dining room where a long metal pipe — with room to hold 65 small coats — has been erected along one wall.

The kids hang up their coats — well, some of them dump them on a chair — and hurry into the large living room where chairs have been placed all along the walls. The latecomers get to sit on the rug.

About 10 children had showed up yesterday noon when Mrs. Potbury, 77, clapped her hands and started to sing "I Am Running To Jesus."

SMALL VOICES

Small voices — Wednesday is the first and second graders' day — were raised in accompaniment and little feet moved in rhythm at the "running" part.

Mrs. Albert Potbury Is Hostess To 60 Children.

Then Mrs. Potbury sat down at the organ while the children sang.

One at a time they took turns sticking felt pictures to a felt board set near her in illustration of the song.

When the children had all gathered — better than 60 on Wednesday — Mrs. Potbury turned from the organ to the felt board and wove a story for the children with accompanied illustrations. The story had a moral to it for the 6- and 7-year-old visitors.

There had been some early visitors to the house—third and fourth graders who with their older competitors attend the Tuesday session.

They knew better than to attempt to hear two stories during the week. "There isn't room for everyone that way," said Mrs. Potbury.

What they wanted was to buy some of Mrs. Potbury's 500 small plants she keeps and sells to the children at 10 and 25 cents a piece as birthday and Mother's Day presents for grateful parents.

There are African violets, gloxinia (which she raises from seed), begonias and a variety of others.

The children call the front porch where she keeps most of them "Mrs. Potbury's jungle."

There was a time when she made up to 40 loaves of bread a week which the children, and adults, too, bought for its delicious taste and fragrance.

Mrs. Potbury admits she's not able to do that anymore, though. The baking bothered her knees.

The Potburys — parents of two sons, grandparents to four and great-grandparents to five — got into the "Pied Piper" business by accident shortly after the Rev. Mr. Potbury's retirement from the Auburn Heights Free Methodist Church.

As a former Sunday school teacher, Mrs. Potbury had a great deal of material which she was no longer able to use, and yet she wanted to do something to help youngsters find a faith and propriety in life.

She'd already gathered several small visitors and asked them if they could get a group to come regularly. They did, and Mrs. Potbury has been keeping an attendance record ever since.

Almont Council
Airs Finances

ALMONT — Because the Village Council will have to borrow $10,000 to see it through the current fiscal year, much of this week's meeting time was devoted to a discussion of finances.

The village finds itself in debt because of the unbudgeted $7,000 allocated for construction of a sanitary sewer to the new Almont Community School building, according to village spokesmen.

The board of education is constructing the storm sewer to the same area.

Village Clerk Verne Messer says the village, though not up to its millage limitation, now gets 8 mills for operation and 2 for debt retirement.

He said councilmen were hesitant to consider a millage increase in view of the steep school taxes.

Almont has had a modest growth in homes over the last few years and Messer says that, although the last official count lists a population of 1,279 the actual figure is probably now over 1,400.

Teachers to Meet

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—Some 200 business teachers from throughout the area are expected at Ferris State College Saturday and Mrs. Potbury has been for the 14th annual Northwest Michigan Business Education Conference.

Waterford JCs Seeking Junior Miss Contestants

Entrants are being sought for next month's Waterford Township Junior Miss Pageant to be held Dec. 10 at Mason Junior High School.

Open to senior girls from Waterford Township, Waterford Kettering and Our Lady of the Lakes high schools, the pageant again this year is being sponsored by the Waterford Township Jaycees.

Contestants must be at least 16 years old and not more than 18 next March 16.

Entry forms can be obtained from Mrs. Ted McCullough Jr. of 3565 Brookdale. Applications must be returned to Mrs. McCullough by midnight Nov. 28.

The winner of the local competition will be awarded a $250 college scholarship plus a trophy and will automatically qualify for the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant in Pontiac.

LAST YEAR'S TITLIST

Last year's local titlist was Gayanne Mansfield of Waterford Township High School, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mansfield of 5108 Durham.

She is expected to take part in this year's pageant.

The Jaycees stress it is not a beauty contest and that there will be no bathing suit competition.

Contestants will be rated by a panel of three judges on scholarship, achievement, poise and appearance, youth fitness, creative and performing arts and confidences with the judges.

WILL BE QUESTIONED

Each entrant will be questioned by the judges for a 10-minute period starting at 10 a.m. Dec. 10. They will be asked the same questions, according to Jaycees.

The girls will be judged on personality, sense of values, clarity of expression, knowledge, and perception, mental alertness, personal appearance and human relations.

Then the girls will attend a luncheon. They will return at 7:30 for the evening program.

Big Majority of Students Oppose U. of M. Draft Policy

Vacancy Ruling

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A successor to Municipal Judge John T. Letta, elected to the Circuit Court bench Nov. 8, must be appointed by Mayor Christian Sommevel to fill Letta's unexpired term until May 1, City Attorney Steven Dykema ruled Wednesday.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The large number of University of Michigan students ever to vote in a school election told U. of M. Wednesday to stop furnishing scholastic rankings to draft boards.

U. of M. students voted 8,338-5,518 against the university's policy of compiling class rankings.

The school furnishes rankings to draft boards if requested by a student.

The students also cast ballots at 21 campus polling booths, on how they think the nation's Selective Service system should operate—or whether it should exist at all. Votes were being counted today by the student government council on this section of the referendum.

Meanwhile, U. of M. President Harlan H. Hatcher and Richard L. Cutler, vice president for student affairs, were to meet today with student government leaders to try to head off a threatened wave of sit-ins.

EMERGENCY SESSION

Cutler called the emergency session with the student government council, which sponsored the election. The council has vowed it would break off relations with the university in protest if Cutler does not lift a ban on sit-in demonstrations by today.

Cutler declined to comment on the election.

The sit-in ban, announced Sunday, was reportedly an administration move to head off trouble if the election went against the administration.

Student governors, incensed by the action, termed it another in a long list of grievances against Cutler when they announced their ultimatum Monday.

SUGGESTIONS IGNORED

The council said Cutler's office has ignored student suggestions in making university policy.

Cutler has held firm, noting that any sit-in would be considered trespass, punishable by expulsion, fines, or both.

An administration election statement indicated the university would continue to provide class standings to local boards, at the same time pointing out that such information was released only on request by individual students as a service to seeking draft deferments.

Cutler said the student election was purely an advisory student government vote and would not be considered binding by the board of regents, which sets all U. of M. policy and sanctions all campus organizations, including the student government.

But at least one group of students—a political party called Voice—has threatened to stage a sit-in if the administration ignores the referendum.

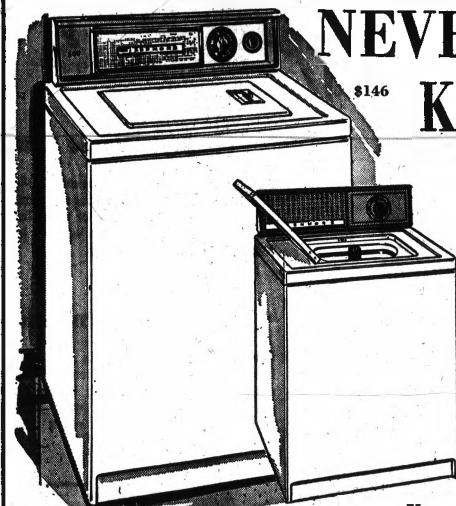

One university official said: "You never know about these kids. They're liable to walk out en masse and we can't expel them all."

Court Halts Debated Rule

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court, by a 5-3 decision, suspended Wednesday a controversial rule that would require trial courts to provide attorneys for poor defendants in some misdemeanor cases.

The high court said the ruling, which was to have taken effect the first of next year, is suspended until further notice. Justices John Dehmers and Theodore Souris and Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh dissented from the suspension.

The court announced last month it was reconsidering the measure "in light of the objections made since its publication."

The proposed rule requires attorneys appointed at public expense for persons charged with misdemeanors for which the maximum penalty is 90 days in jail or more. Critics noted this would include some traffic charges.

Experts Slate a Series of City Medicare Talks

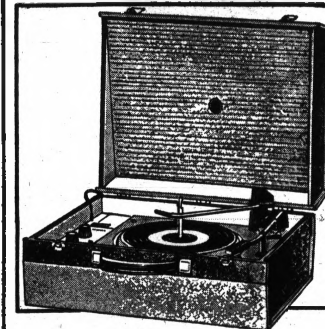

Medicare specialists from the Social Security Administration and Blue Cross-Blue Shield will be featured at a series of three public meetings beginning Monday, William E. LaRock, Pontiac district manager, said today.

The sessions will be held at the UAW Local 658 Hall, 900 Joslyn, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Speakers at the first session Monday will explain how people age 65 enroll for Medicare benefits through the local Social Security office, and how the payment of hospital and doctor bills are handled by Blue Cross-Blue Shield as agent for Medicare.

The second meeting on Nov. 23 will feature a panel discussion of current developments in the Medicare program. Questions submitted from the audience will be answered at this meeting.

The final session, Dec. 1, will concentrate on information about the Medicare Care Protection that will be available to people enrolled under Medicare beginning Jan. 1, 1967.

Mrs. Donald Redmond, Fortress Road, (left) and Mrs. John A. Benson, North Berkshire Road, are busy working on plans for the third annual Hi Fever Frolic on Dec. 2 at the Elks Temple. Sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital, the event which is open to the public helps raise money for equipment in the emergency room and the physical therapy department.

Fever Frolic Is Planned in December

Hi Fever Frolic III will take place Dec. 2 at the Elks Temple. Originated in 1964 after the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital decided to drop the Hi Fever Frolics, the dance has been a successful event.

Proceeds are used to buy needed equipment at the hospital, beyond that supplied through the regular budget.

The Carl Edison Big Band Sound will again furnish music for dancing, says Mrs. Edward F. Dalton who is general chairman with her husband.

Dancing begins at 9:30 p. m. and breakfast will be served after midnight.

Others are Peter Campbell, Warren Newton and Richard Petruscha; also Mesdames James Mills; C. J. Odell; John Benson; Roger O'Neill; Cecil Strickland; Gene Connell; Forrest Wood and Miss Anita Lendell.

Tickets for the dance are available at First Federal Savings of Oakland, Pontiac General Hospital and the Elks Temple.

Winkley, Seminole Avenue; Mrs. Art Neubauer, South Johnson Avenue; Mrs. Frank Burrell, Orchard Lake; and Clark C. McDowell, Lyford Drive. The annual awards luncheon took place Wednesday at the Elks Temple.

Group Plans Special Tea for Friday

The International Club will host a 1 p. m. open house and tea Friday in the Pontiac YWCA. The occasion marks the observance of World Fellowship Week.

Members of the International Club were foreign born and now reside in the Pontiac area.

Mrs. Leo Petruscha and Mrs. Dennis Holloway will be in charge of music.

Handmade items from the Holy Land will be on sale, the proceeds of which will be donated to the YWCA for fellowship work around the world.

Anyone interested may attend.

Student Chosen for Production

Alma College student Ted McConnell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McConnell of Brooks Street has been chosen for the cast of "Dream Girl." The Alma College group will be presenting the play Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

It is a comedy fantasy, originally produced in New York in 1945. Ted will play two different characters in his role.

Music Guild to Present Two Grinnell Winners

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

It has been a yearly tradition that Cranbrook music Guild presents in its November program winners of the Detroit Grand Opera Association's Grinnell Opera Scholarship and the Grinnell Piano Contest.

They are Robert Taylor, baritone and Rita Sloan, pianist. The concert takes place in Cranbrook House on Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.

The artists will be introduced by Mrs. Sam Williams of Hammond Lake who is the former well known artist, Barbara Gibson. Mrs. Williams is chairman of the Detroit Grand Opera Association scholarship committee.

She will give a brief resume of the award winners who through the years have become recognized artists in this country as well as abroad.

Mrs. Richard A. Jones is in charge of the afterglow following the concert. She will be assisted by Mesdames William R. Brashear and Edmund W. Pratt.

AREA FINALISTS

Mrs. Sixten Ehring, chairman of the jury selecting a 1966 Michigan Lucia has announced that two girls from this area are among the six finalists. They are Robyn L. Andersen, daughter of Mrs. Stanley R. Andersen of Kellen Lane and the late Mr. Andersen. Sherry Lundgren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Lundgren, South Hill Drive.

The girls will appear at the Lucia banquet at the Whittier hotel on Nov. 26 when each candidate will give a two-minute speech "the meaning of light to me."

Lucia will be crowned with a crown made of green leaves and seven candles.

The Detroit-Swedish Council sponsors the contest. On this occasion His Excellency, Hubert

Woman's Literary Club Aids University Fund

Oakland University's newest student loan fund has been set up by a Pontiac women's club whose members have been dedicated to a personal form of continuing education for 75 years.

Officers of the Woman's Literary Club of Pontiac presented a check for $936 to Robert Swanson, Oakland's director of business affairs, as part of the club's observance of its "Diamond Jubilee" year.

In accepting the gift, Swanson commented that it would represent, because of the continual turnover of short-term loans to students faced with unexpected money problems, about $5,000 in loans annually.

Mrs. John Wilson, president of the club, said the money came from bake sales and similar fund-raising projects over the past several years.

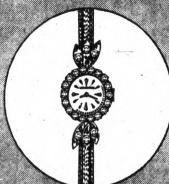

The primary purpose of the organization since it was founded in 1891 as Pontiac's first women's club, she said, has been to pursue a rigid program of reading study.

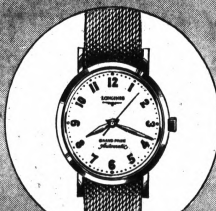

Mrs. John Wilson, Dwight Avenue, president of the Woman's Literary Club of Pontiac, presents a check for $936 to Robert Swanson, director of business affairs for Oakland University. The donation will be used for short term student loans. Two other members of the club looking on from left are Mrs. Fred Manes of Tasmania Avenue and Mrs. Harry Vernon of West Rundell Street.

If John Really Does Love You He Wouldn't Insist on Consent

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 years old and am very much in love with a young man I'll call John.

He is 24. My problem is his parents. They are violently op-

cause of a religious and nationality difference.

I can do nothing

nationality, but I'd be willing to change my religion to his. John says it wouldn't help, they would still be opposed.

Abby, what hurts is I have never even met them. They refuse to see me. John says he knows if they ever got to know me they would love me, and I'm sure they would.

Should I take matters into my own hands and go over there and introduce myself? John says he can't marry me while his parents are living. What shall I do? We love each other.

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN:

Face it. If John loved you as much as you love John he would either persuade his parents to meet you, or he would marry you without their consent. You are both over 21. I see no marriage in your future with this young man.

DEAR ABBY: Will you take a chance and ask your readers to answer this through your column, or are you afraid of what might follow? Are men and boys cleaner than women and girls? Sign me—

"CLEANER THAN THOU"

DEAR "CLEANER": If

"thou" are a man or boy, (and I assume thou art) come forth and speak thy piece. And show thy evidence.

DEAR ABBY: Orville and I have been married for 30 years.

We usually retire about 11 o'clock. But there are times when Orval would like to retire at 8:30 or 9 because he's

"tired." Well, that's all right; with me, but I am not ready to go to sleep that early.

Orville refuses to go to bed without me! I think he is being very unfair. I wouldn't insist that he adjust his schedule to suit mine if he didn't feel like it.

What is your opinion of this?

BETTER HALF

DEAR BETTER: I'll bet when Orville was a baby he wouldn't go to sleep unless his mother lay down beside him. Well, tell him you aren't his mother, and he's no baby, and it's time he went "beddy-by" alone.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for six years, and we both are from "good" families. Recently my suspicions were confirmed about something that is so revolting I can hardly get it down on paper.

My own mother is carrying on with my father-in-law! I'm sure my mother-in-law has no idea of what is going on right under her nose, because she continues to include my parents in all her parties and get-togethers.

I don't think my father knows, either. He is used to mother's vivacious, flirty ways, and sees it only as kidding around. Abby, is there any way to break it up?

I am NOT guessing. I know!

If I should do something, where do I start? My husband is wise to them and is also bewildered.

NO NAME NOR CITY

DEAR NO NAME: Ask your husband to tell his father that his "secret love" isn't a secret anymore. And you do the same with your vivacious, flirty mother. That's all you can do besides prey.

DEAR ABBY: Anyone who thinks a girl is lucky to have an older brother because he can introduce her to some of his friends had better think again.

I am 23 and my brother is 27 and I sit home every night like 75 per cent of the girls.

Whenever I ask him to introduce me to some of his men friends, he says, "All my friends

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

My daughter (13) is just learning to sew at school, and she is overly enthusiastic and just can't keep from buying material. I don't want to discourage her, but she doesn't seem to care about finishing anything, just starting. I guess what frightens me the most is that she has acquired my habit, and I am hoping it won't stick with her. Can you give me any ideas about how to encourage our kiddies to the very end?

Mrs. R. B. T.

Dear Mrs. R. B. T.:

This is rather common practice among teen-agers as well as most of the women I have talked to. Let's face it, a fabric department is just like tempting a child in a candy shop. Once addicted, we're all in the same boat. I will tell you how I worked this out with my daughters, and it was extremely successful.

When they made the initial purchase of the fabric, they had to use their own clothing allowance for it and pay on the spot. Then, when the garment was completed and they wore it the first time, I refunded the entire amount. I have never to this day made them pay for anything they were willing to take the time to make.

This was encouraging to them, but the fact that I held out to the very end, most of their projects were completed (by the mere virtue of needing the money). I would be interested to hear from you mothers to see if this has worked for you too!

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Bess Bibb of Winter Park, Fla., is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following suggestion.

Hope this little tip will help your other readers; it's about pin cushions. With the holidays coming upon us so fast, we're always looking for those little favors. Many of us will be making those cute little pin cushions out of felt. Try using coffee as a filler and you'll find that the oil from the coffee keeps the pins and needles from rusting indefinitely. Works great!

Mrs. E. D. C.

Dear Eunice Farmer:

Can you help me solve a problem? I find dresses and blouses which have the bodice and sleeves cut from one piece, often pull or tear under the arms for lack of give. I have seen dresses with a diamond shape insert under the arm which gives room for stretching, but I can't seem to make one myself and have it turn out neatly. I would appreciate any comments.

Dear Mrs. E. D. C.:

The diamond shaped insert you are referring to is called a gusset. Most women avoid a gusset or gusset type detail like the plague. Yet, when you know how to achieve this detail, it seems very simple. The frustrating part about this type of detail is this: If you take one stitch too many, you have a pucker; if you stop one stitch too soon, you have a hole.

If you are inserting a gusset where the pattern doesn't call for one, slash your garment diagonally about 3 inches long at the underarm (be sure to reinforce with a small machine stitch before cutting). Next, cut and insert a 4 inch square of fabric. I would try this on a sample first; it's a tricky detail.

"Christmas Quickies" are ideas for easily made items you can make for Christmas gifts. Mrs. Farmer has a 25 cent booklet which contains complete instructions for making dozens of different gift items. Many of them can be made from materials you already have in your home.

Send for "Christmas Quickies" right away. Send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for the booklet right now. Send to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Style With a String Attached

Pull a string on the newest in knits for outerwear, to convert it from an evening dress, to a mini-skirt, to a sweater and skirt.

This multiple purpose garment is the design of John Carr Doughty, of England.

When draw threads in the original, which is floor length, are pulled out, the entire section below the thread falls away leaving a well.

Capt. Stier Talks About Viet Nam

Capt. Richard Stier of the U.S. Marine Corps was the guest speaker of the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening. He spoke at their Devon Cables meeting and dinner. Stationed in Viet Nam until June of this year, Capt. Stier told them of what is being done there.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. E. Cleo Wiley, Mrs. Virginia Frink, Julia M. Diamond, Josephine Seeley, Violet McCoy and Mrs. Lucinda Wyckoff.

Mrs. L. M. Loveless, president of the Fernald BPOW, was greeted in observance of presidents' exchange week.

Other guests were Elizabeth Schadt, Mrs. Doris Wagner, Mrs. Richard Stier, Ethel Bassett and Mrs. Delisle Wilson.

Home Again

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Highbaugh of Lexington Drive and the Harry W. Wackers Jr. of Leona Drive, White Lake Township have just returned from a two-week visit to Jamaica. On their return they visited for several days in Miami, Fla., with the senior Wackers.

Case No. A-587

How Can Mother Help?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE A-587: Larry T., aged 10, was in an auto accident.

"Dr. Crane," his grieving mother began,
"Larry lost a leg as a result."

"Oh, we are very grateful that he is still alive, but we are worried about his morale."

"For he used to be such an active youngster and said he planned to be a baseball pitcher when he grew up."
"What can we do to reduce the shock and help buoy up his spirits?"

MORALE BOOSTERS

There are two quick ways by which to attack this widespread problem.

First, let him see other handicapped youngsters who are far worse off than he is.

A college coed once was betraying her father for not buying her an expensive pair of new shoes for a dance.

"I thought Daddy was very mean and cruel to me and felt very 'sorry for myself,'" she began, "until I happened to see another girl who didn't even have feet!"

The Easter Seal campaign to help the schools for handicapped youngsters thus deserves great credit for boosting their morale.

So Larry can soon realize that he isn't in bad shape as he contrasts his condition with the polio cases, some of whom can't even move a hand or foot, being totally paralyzed

Yet they may sketch and paint beautifully, using their teeth to hold the brush or drawing pencil.

AN ASSET

The second method for restoring a proper outlook, is to show Larry that an apparent handicap can become either a stumbling block or a stepping stone to greater attainment.

Remind him that hunchbacked Steinmetz compensated for his lack of athletic ability by becoming the greatest electrical wizard of the 20th century, next to Thomas A. Edison.

Remind him of deaf Beethoven, who is world famous in music.

Or tubercular Robert Louis Stevenson, who wrote the swashbuckling "Treasure Island" pirate story.
Billie Milton, epileptic Caesar, stuttering Demosthenes and Moses, these are a few who used their handicap as a spur to greater success.

Towel Rack Saves Space

Apartment dwellers often lack storage space in their bathrooms. A convenient way to store towels is with a towel rack. This is an inexpensive wall unit either of chrome or plastic-coated wire with open shelves. It stores six folded bath towels or more, depending upon size. This proves a decorative asset to the bath when towels are in pretty colors or patterns and folded neatly.

Timeless elegance in a perote double knit wool dress with lap seam detail and metal buttons. Also comes in flag red, soldier blue and black. By Ben Bar-rack.

Interpreting the nostalgic elegance of this "Anna Karenina" mood, Fredrica designs smooth, shimmery Russian Broadtail into a wrapped, top-stimmed coat that moves into a flowing, swinging skirt bordered with the luscious Natural Blonde Crown Russian sable of the collar and cuffs.

Snip and Turn or Was It Turn and Snip?

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

For months I've had a beautiful piece of silk that I wanted to make into a smoke ring.

No woman needs to be told that a smoke ring is a soft circular scarf that has become a popular dress accessory. They are fairly expensive to buy, but easy to make — I thought.

Our sewing column in The Press has often carried directions for cutting and sewing these rings. I've cut out these directions several times, then forgotten where I've filed them. But I could remember how to cut the material.

From here on, no sewing readers can skip the details. Only someone who sews will appreciate what happened.

Smoke rings must be cut on the true bias.

If any male reader is still with me, I hasten to explain that this kind of bias has nothing to do with race relations. It merely means to cut the material on a true diagonal.

GOOD START

I had plenty of cloth for two smoke rings. I finally figured out in what direction each end should be cut to join them correctly in a circle instead of their coming to a point.

Then I turned the ring wrong side out and joined the long edges. I carefully left an opening so that I could turn it right side out after stitching.

That's when I started becoming frustrated.

I pulled the material right side out, but all I got was a long tube. Putting fingers in both ends, I pulled. That reminded me of those Chinese straw puzzles that hold your finger tighter if you pull.

Then I pulled it all back inside out again, stitched the entire long seam and opened a part of the bias seam.

That didn't work either; I still got a caterpillar-like article.

Finally, in desperation, I ripped out the long seam, sewed up the bias seam, turned the scarf right side out and sewed the long seam by hand.

There must be another way to do it that I didn't discover. Now if I stitched the long seam first...

Polly's Pointers

Tacks Do the Trick

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell the lady who asked how to make a small rug loom that, while I was in school, I made one by using an inexpensive picture frame. They can be bought very cheaply, in any size, and are easy to move around. If you wish to take it on a trip, it is easy to untack the rug and take the frame apart. — VAL

GIRLS — Often just thumbtacks are strong enough to hold the rug on the frame. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — I always seem to have more problems than Pointers concerning homemaking. My biggest problem right now seems to be cleaning my glass fiber TV trays. They have a collection of multi-colored food stains that neither detergents, scouring powders nor household bleach will erase. Can anyone help me? — MAX-INE

DEAR POLLY — I found that the small spatula in a child's baking set is ideal for scraping batter from the beaters of my electric mixer. — MRS. J. V.

DEAR POLLY — I cut the bottoms out of two large paper cups and use them to slip over my wrists and cuffs. These keep the cuffs and sleeves from becoming soiled while I am cooking and washing dishes when I have on a good dress.

Tobacco stains can be removed from copper and brass ashtrays by giving them a thin coat of denatured alcohol. Apply with a small paintbrush and rub to a polish with a clean soft cloth. (Polly's note: Even rubbing alcohol worked on my ashtrays. I poured a little in the bottom of each one and then rubbed with a paper towel.)

of plastic material inside. This is handy when cleaning with a wet or damp cloth — BLANCHE

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Mrs. R. F. V. to use paint remover on the masking tape that will not come off her windows. I had the same problem last week and this worked like a charm. — MRS. J. E. M.

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

Cleanliness Is Training in Israel

One of the lasting impressions brought back by a recent visitor to Israel is the uniformly immaculate appearance of its young people. Older Israelis explain that both young men and women are required to give two years of military service during which the highest standards of personal cleanliness are enforced.

The State of Israel also makes sure that all children have the opportunity to practice bathing and grooming by providing a well-equipped bathroom in every apartment built for newly-arrived refugees.

Newcomers unacquainted with the luxury of running hot water and plumbing are instructed in their use and care — and are expected to include soap in the purchases made from the cash allowance they receive for living expenses until they become employable.

Put Return Address on Kids

When you get right down to it — take the kids out for an afternoon of shopping or sight-seeing "fun" — and you constantly worry about their straying off and getting lost.

Well, don't just stand there worrying. Do something. Get yourself a flock of Iron-on Patches (or Patchettes) in colors to match the lining of your jackets and coats. And get yourself a good laundry marking pen—in red or bright blue.

Then, hand-print junior's name, address and telephone number (and perhaps a relative's phone number, too) on each patch. You can even enhance the identification for His Nibs by adding the designation: Special Agent 006%.

Place the patch over or below the manufacturer's label, press into place, following instructions on the patch packaging.

Easy, isn't it? And, incidentally, that patch will outlast the garment, if applied properly.

Oh yes! Be sure to brief your child that this is a special kind of identification and that it's only used to identify him for other special agents such as policemen, firemen, department store managers, teachers, etc., when it's necessary to get back to Mother or Dad in a hurry.

This suggestion works just as well for little girl explorers, too.

Pre-Heat Thermos

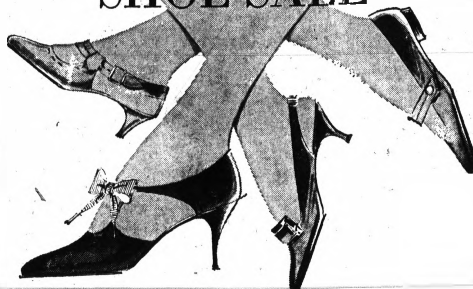

Pre-heat a vacuum container before filling with hot foods or liquids. This will help to keep the foods hot for a longer period.

Fitting Patches

Cover those holes in the knees of baby's overalls with bright animal shapes, a little girl's dress with a flower patch.

troupe, constituting Michigan's first professional resident theater company, was introduced to community leaders and the press yesterday before beginning rehearsal for the opening play.

Fernald Theater Troupe Enthusiastic

By PAT McCARTY

"Vive la company!" was the spirit of actors and actresses yesterday as they matched the enthusiasm of John Fernald and Oakland University in development of the Meadow Brook Theatre.

The 22 members of the John Fernald Company, most of whom arrived on campus Tuesday, were introduced to community leaders and the press at a Detroit Athletic Club luncheon yesterday.

Attracted here by the opportunity to work with Fernald, the actors and actresses expressed an eagerness to be involved in this major theatrical undertaking.

They also were quick to refer to the role a receptive community will play in the success of the venture.

"This is terrific," said one. "And it's as important to us as it is to you." "I can't get over the welcome we've received," commented another. "I'm used to dingy hotel rooms and the like."

Following the luncheon, the troupe returned to campus to begin rehearsal for Bertolt Brecht's "The Caucasian Chalk Circle."

The play will open the company's 21-week premiere season Jan. 4.

The experienced cast members, most of whom have appeared on Broadway, indicated they consider working with Fernald a learning experience.

FAMED ACADEMY

Fernald came here after serving as principal of the famed Royal Academy of Dramatic Art for 10 years.

Among those who have performed under his direction are Dame Judith Anderson, Peter Ustinov, Siobhan McKenna, Susannah York and Albert Finney.

Ustinov called Fernald's departure from the London academy "saddening for Britain and another stroke of gratuitous fortune for her powerful ally."

The majority of the company

members for the premiere season are former students of Fernald at the RADA.

BROADWAY ROLES

Coming to OU from London via Broadway is Eric Berry, whose recent roles in New York include parts in "Tiny Alice," "Gideon" and "The White House."

Three Detroit natives are in the cast — Roger Middleton, Robert McKee and Howard Green, whose wife, Pauline Reynolds, also is with Meadow Brook Theatre.

FIRST TIME

Working under the direction of Fernald for the first time are Americans George Guidall, William Gleason, Robert Donley and Roni Dengel.

Fernald, 61, was born in California but emigrated to England as a child.

"I learned that there were 43 resident theaters in America and not one of them in Michigan," he says of his decision to come here. "Well, I thought to myself, they should jolly well have one."

Girl DJ to Answer Viet 'Hanoi Hannah'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Re-member GI Jill, Tokyo Rose and Axis Sally of World War II days?

Well, the Viet Nam war has a sweet-voiced broadcaster too, Hanoi Hannah.

And to combat her, U.S. Armed Forces Radio is about to launch a blonde, green-eyed, weapon of its own. She's starlet Chris Noel, a mini-skirted 5-foot-6 and 115 pounds, with a slightly husky voice and a wide-eyed look that makes her girl next door one moment, woman of the world the next.

PICKS RECORDS

"It's going to be a gas," Chris Noel told an interviewer. "I'm picking the records myself and saying just whatever comes into my head."

"I've been talking to a lot of servicemen and they give me ideas about what they like to hear — but mostly, I think, it's just a feminine voice from my head."

Chris is nothing like the World War II radio sirens, says Navy Lt. Richard B. Howard of Armed Forces Radio.

"Even Hanoi Hannah isn't the same. During World War II, you'd get Axis Sally and Tokyo Rose broadcasting to individual GIs. They'd say, for instance, a single soldier or a battalion, your wife is cheating on you, or you're going to go into such an action at 6:00 tomorrow. It pounds, with a slightly husky voice and a wide-eyed look that makes her girl next door one moment, woman of the world the next.

LITTLE TALK

"But Hanoi Hannah just plays music the guys like to hear and throws in a little talk to make them homesick. We don't even know who she is — and she's not nearly as effective."

GI Jill, the U.S. girl disc jockey, was different, too, says Howard. "She was picked for her sexy servicemen and they give me ideas about what they like to hear — but mostly, I think, it's just a feminine voice from my head."

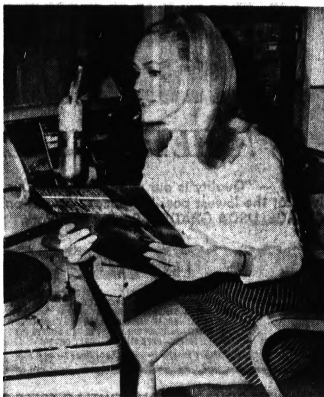

GI Jill, whose real name was Marti Wilkerson, is now married to Mort Werner, vice president in charge of programming at NBC television, and is writing her life story for the movies.

BATON TWIRLER

Chris, a one-time baton twirling champion from Palm Beach, Fla., high school, is not going to confine her shows to one type of music.

"I'm going to play all kinds — except classical," she said. "Especially country music. You'd be surprised how many people say they hate it, but really love it. And not all those fellows come from the big city."

Chris has spent a lot of time lately touring hospitals, visiting wounded GIs from Viet Nam. "But what I really want to do is go over there," she said.

TALKING TO TROOPS — Starlet Chris Noel makes a tape at the Armed Forces Radio studio in Hollywood for broadcast in the Viet Nam area. She plays records, talks and in general lends a touch of home for troops in the war zone.

With Skies Overcast

Meteor Shower Proves Only a Drizzle

NEW YORK (AP) — The greatest show of stars in more than a century didn't come off as expected early today, and perhaps Jupiter and Saturn were to blame.

Overcast skies obscured skies for ground observers across the United States, but astronomical observers flying over the cloud levels indicated the Leonid meteor shower apparently fizzled out.

Dr. Franklin Branley, deputy chairman of New York's Hayden Planetarium, who cruised 33,000 feet over the Atlantic in a jet in the predawn hours, reported he spotted only 20 meteorites in an hour.

Branley figured there should have been 70 seen, including the 20 he counted, from all vantage points of the world during the same hour. This, he said, was far below the 250 that was expected for that hour — 2 a.m. to 3 a.m. EST.

DISSIPATION

Branley said he believed this showed a "gradual dissipation" of the meteorites in outer space. He said he also believed that the cloud of meteorites had been perturbed by unusual activity on the planets Jupiter and Saturn.

Dr. John Wood, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Virginia's Leander McCormick Observatory, reported intermittent cloud cover over Charlottesville and said the shower was "not as spectacular as a lot of people predicted."

Wood and his colleagues reported meteors falling at the rate of "about 60 an hour" at midnight. The cloud cover over Richmond, Va., gradually cleared during the night, and Henry W. Stockmar III, president of the Richmond Astronomical Society, said 80 to 100 meteors were spotted between 5 and 6 a.m. He said his estimates were conservative since he was viewing from within the city which lit up much of the horizon.

4 Are Killed on Freeway

DEARBORN (AP) — Four young men killed in age from 17 to 22 were killed Wednesday night when their car struck the rear of another vehicle, went out of control and slammed into an overpass abutment on the Edsel Ford Freeway in Dearborn.

The victims — two girls and two boys — have not yet been identified, according to Dearborn police.

"This is the worst accident we've had here," said Sgt. Lawrence Young of the Dearborn Police Department's Accident Prevention Bureau.

Latest Books Reviewed

A MATTER OF TIME. By Jessamyn West. Harcourt, Brace. $5.75.

This is a five-handkerchief drama, as they sometimes say in the movie columns.

It is the story of two sisters of near middle age. The younger one, called Bliz, is dying. The elder, Tassie, is doing her best to ease Bliz's mortal pain, and to help her cheat the final agony with an overdose of sleeping pills.

Together they look back over their earlier life. It becomes apparent that Bliz was the pampered and favored daughter, and Tassie the prim and righteous one, ever eager for praise from their domineering mother.

Part of the plot is that the two sisters conspire to draw a physician into a tacit conspiracy toward Bliz's assisted suicide.

All in all, this is a skilled and expertly written example of high class soap opera, wringing the last bit of morbid anguish out of a middle class medical tragedy. Ladies, the handkerchiefs.

IN GOD WE TRUST — All Others Pay Cash. By Jean Shepherd. Doubleday. $4.50.

The humor here is double-barreled. On the one hand it is the universal story of a real boy-kid meeting all the crazy hazards of getting bigger. On the other hand it is a story of a very special time of nostalgic memory, the Great Depression of the Thirties.

The kid stuff has to do with an old fashioned Christmas, a bully at school, a luridly exciting all-night fishing expedition with the Old Man and his cronies, a scared boy's disastrous blind date, the family excitement when the Old Man won a puzzle contest, and a World's Fair.

Then there is the strange magic of the Thirties, when kids hoarded their resources for a dazzling variety of penny candies, when they had a real interest in early radio programs and catchy advertisements, and the Old Man acquired a second-hand Graham-Paige.

THE VOYAGE OF THE HERMAN, by Theon Wright with Jane Ulrich Sutton (Hawthorn $6.95). A true adventure tale involving all the ingredients of exciting fiction—an old sea captain and pirate who told of buried treasure on a Pacific island and whose story launched a treasure hunt by one of the strongest crews ever to sail the southern sea.

In 1902 the schooner Herman set out from San Francisco for Cocos Island. Its Captain George Sutton of New Rochelle, N. Y., and a few others were the only sailors aboard; the crew was mostly businessmen landlubbers in search of treasure.

Captain Sutton was an industrious record keeper and this account of the voyage is based on his writings, letters, photographs and maps.

There was plenty to write about as the voyage proceeded to uncover the smoldering jealousies and other unattractive traits spurred by desire for sudden riches, and the story is unfolded skillfully here.

Funds Clear HUD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big Rapids, Mich., will receive a $75,000 loan to help finance construction of a hospital addition. The Department of Housing and Urban Development said Wednesday. The estimated total cost of the addition is $1.075 million. The department also granted Detroit $123,493 to pay half the cost of enlarging a playground.

To Get Award

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University and brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, has been selected to receive a Brotherhood Award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews at the organization's 38th anniversary dinner here next week.

State House Republicans Claim Solid United Front

LANSING (P) — House Republicans emerged from their first postelection caucus Wednesday and described themselves as solidly united, happy with their leader and anxious to take over their equally divided chamber. But whether they'll be able to elect Rep. Robert Waldron, their leader in the 1965-66 session, as speaker of the House remained uncertain. That Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, will be the GOP candidate for speaker was apparently assured during the caucus when Rep. Roy Spencer of Attica, Waldron's only important challenger, announced he was withdrawing in the interest of party unity.

Spencer said he acted "to keep the Republican party solid and straight and to eliminate the differences between us, the things that unite us are far more important than the issues that divide us." He added he would take any post, high or low, the leadership offered him.

VOTE TOTALS
Unofficial vote totals indicate the House next year will have 55 Republicans and 56 Democrats. The speaker, speaker pro tempore and associate speaker pro tem are elected at the start of each session by a majority of the lawmakers voting.

Which party elects the House leadership may depend on planned negotiations between Republican and Democratic leaders. The GOP caucus named Waldron head of a subcommittee charged with seeking such discussions with the Democrats. Other members of the subcommittee are Reps. Arnell Engstrom of Traverse City and Charles Davis of Onondaga.

Waldron said he has until now avoided contact with Democratic leaders "because such contact would look like a private deal, and you don't boost party unity by making private deals. I wanted to wait until they

(the Republican caucus) told me to make contact," Waldron said, "and now they have."

Budget Is Record
GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A record budget of $157,000 for promotion of vacation travel in West Michigan was approved Wednesday by the executive board of the West Michigan Tourist Association. Robert W. Webster, association president, said the 1966-67 budget was up more than $22,000 from last year.

Skin Blooms Again with 2nd Debut

With this non-surgical face lift, lined, prematurely aged faces appear to have suddenly been reborn. Hard to find are even the most fearsome signs of on-coming crow's feet and wrinkles that incoherently abouted your face just a short time ago. Another now is your skin to a finger-tip touch with a fresh young feeling of moisture beneath, and roses tinting your cheeks. For 2nd Debut gives a stimulated lift without the surgery's scalp—A lift that lasts a long time, as ageless look that's much more intriguing than common youthfulness. The lift comes from underneath as you apply 2nd Debut on the surface. 2nd Debut (with CEF 601) for the woman of no more than 40. 2nd Debut (with CEF 1260) for the impatient lady a few years older—at good department and drug stores.

Bets Are Made on Miss World

LONDON (UPI) — Be they two-legged or four-legged, fillies are fair game for the bookies in this gambling-conscious nation. And so Miss U.S.A., Denise Blair of Layton, Utah, is a 12-1 choice to become the 1966 Miss World tonight.

The favorites, according to Glasgow bookmaker John Banks are Miss South Africa, Miss Sweden and Miss Yugoslavia.

They all measure in at odds of 10-1. Banks rates Miss U.S.A. and Miss France right behind at 12-1.

Unlike many American beauty contests, the 63 entrants from around the world do not meet informally with the judges.

'Profit' for Ford

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford Jr., reelected to Congress in the Nov. 8 election, Wednesday filed a campaign expense report with the Kent County clerk showing expenses of $7,476 and receipts of $8,640.

when it comes to sizing you up, we've got your number

52-portly long? 38-extra-short? 40-perfect? However you shape up, you'll have no trouble finding your counterpart in cloth at HHS — and not by special order or a zillion alterations, but rather, right in stock. That's what's so wonderful about shopping a HHS. You don't have to guess how something will look; you can just try it on and see. (And if it needs a little something here, a little something there, we have one of the best equipped, best staffed alterations facilities in the world)

But our colossal range of sizes is simply frosting on the cake. Its ingredients include more famous brands, a wider range of items, and selections in greater depth, than you'll find under one roof anywhere. So whenever you're looking for something to wear, remember that HHS is the fitting choice for most men around town.

LOOK!

These amazing SANSABELT SLACKS are actually patented to slim his waist and fit better than any slacks he's ever worn.

You are looking at a small miracle for his waist. It's called the SANSABELT. Slacks and Jaymar imported it from France. The secret is in the patented made construction. (See it up there!) It banishes bulges, buckles, and bridges, like magic. No matter how he stoops, squirms, bends, sits or walks - the wide all-way stretch band adjusts perfectly to every movement.

Come in today. See the huge Osmun's collection of SANSABELT slacks (one of the biggest in the state). A great gift for any man, even if he has outgrown his.

Dog Food Is Keen for Teens

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: Teen-age kids would have brighter eyes

BOYLE — Men for lunch than their bosses — but that's still too many. Ever notice that people who have parrots get like their pets — and repeat everything you say?

Men who wear plaid hats have plaid personalities.

You can usually tell how the children are doing in school by the amount of dust on the family encyclopedia.

Half the American people are now under the age of 20, and half of the remaining half act as though they were.

ANKLE SUPPORT — The older the cop on the beat is the more likely he is to buy old-fashioned, high-top shoes that give him ankle support. Check your neighborhood cop and see.

For some reason, high steel workers drink beer at midday more often than the guys who wash skyscraper windows.

Scientists say people in their 80s and 70s can still enjoy sex, and a majority of them do — by recalling it.

An underling never impresses an executive by trying to strike up a cheerful conversation with him as they ride up the elevator together in the morning. A sober, slightly deferential nod is more appropriate at that time of day.

SOMETHING TO DO — You'd be surprised how many

7 Viet Dead Are Identified

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has identified seven men killed in action in the Viet Nam war. Three other men were listed as killed in nonhostile action.

Killed in action: CALIFORNIA — Sgt. I.C. David F. Devore, Salinas. KENTUCKY — Pfc. John A. Means, Hopkinsville. NEW YORK — Spec. 4 William S. Morgan II, Farmingdale. NEW JERSEY — Lance Cpl. Gliman W. Moore, Kew-Forest. NEW YORK — Pfc. Robert F. Packard, Ridgewood.

CHID — AIR FORCE — Capt. Donald L. Jacobson, Reynoldsburg. Missing to dead — hostile: ARMY — Pfc. Edward J. Morris, Philadelphia.

Missing as a result of hostile action: ARMY — Sgt. I.C. James A. Finn, Died not as a result of hostile action: ARMY — Pfc. William S. Cochran, Georgia. Pfc. Matthew D. Haines, Detroit. NORTH CAROLINA — Pfc. Carl D. Pruitt, Raleigh. Missing to dead — nonhostile: ARMY — Pfc. Kermit C. Parrell, Fayetteville.

lonely people in a big city read the telephone book just to have something to do. Nothing makes a woman feel more important than doing small unimportant favors for a man. The quickest way for a guy to break the ice on a blind date is to pretend his lighter is broken, so the girl can light his cigarette — and thereby feel essential to his welfare.

The average cabdriver would get bigger tips if he tossed away his battered cap and wore a shiny top hat. People are usually willing to pay a little extra for anything that gives them a smile.

A girl should beware of marrying a fellow who works crossword puzzles with his fountain pen. Anybody that sure of himself can be awfully hard to live with.

LIKE BEADED BAGS — Most men don't like women to wear sequin-covering evening gowns. They look too much like beaded bags.

Many middle-aged men wouldn't look quite so pot-shaped if they exchanged their belts for suspenders. They get the pot shape from unconsciously pushing out their stomachs against a belt to keep their pants up.

America is undergoing a cultural explosion, but it is still all but impossible for a politician to get reelected if the public finds out he secretly writes poetry.

Life gives most of us a bitter-sweet philosophy. This probably explains why children like milk chocolate, but elderly people prefer the tartness of sourball candy.

This would be a far more courteous world if it were fashionable for men to wear dress swords on buses and subways.

WHY GAMBLE?

Don't pay $100 to $400 too much for any car.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPONGES

QUESTION: If a sponge is the skeleton of an animal, what is the animal?

ANSWER: Sponges are very low on the scale of animal development. They do not have hearts or brains. Their nervous system works in a primitive way.

The sponge swims freely only just after hatching from the egg. Soon it settles to the bottom and attaches itself for life.

The shape of one sponge animal is shown in (1). It is a tube, open at the top; water can come inside through pores, or little openings. Flexible hairs on the inside move the sea water up through the top and are able to screen out tiny animals which the sponge digests.

Many sponges group together in colonies of different shapes. In one kind, the young animals attach themselves to the parent, and a large colony forms.

The tubes of the animals become connected and are held together by a skeleton of a flexible substance, spongin.

After the animals have been taken out and the skeleton dried (2), it becomes the well known bathroom sponge which can absorb water so well.

Off the Florida coast (3), Greek sponge divers hook up the live sponges. The animals are removed; the soft skeletons are dried, brought into port and sold.

FOR YOU TO DO: To understand more about animals, find out to what large animal group, or phylum, the sponge belongs.

New Enzyme Is Synthesized

By Science Service
EVANSTON, ILL. — A new enzyme, not found in nature, has been created from a natural enzyme by researchers at Northwestern University.

This success and the method used by the scientists may open the way to the development of a wide variety of industrial catalysts and also be of use eventually in the treatment of diseases caused by defective enzymes.

Drs. Myron L. Bender, professor of chemistry, and Laszlo Polgar, research biochemist, synthesized the enzyme by chemically changing the bacterial enzyme called subtilisin.

3 Persons, Dog Only Life Left on Alcatraz

ALCATRAZ ISLAND, Calif. (AP) — This sullen little island in San Francisco Bay was once a bustling fortress of tower guards and shrieking sirens. If you came closer than 200 yards — first a warning, then shots.

Now its only alarm system is Duke, a dog of many breeds, mostly collie and shepherd. A dockside microphone picks up the sound of intruders, alerting Duke, whose barking is then transmitted to the custodian's apartment.

Where 1,576 tough convicts once lived in its 29-year history as a prison, now only three people, two men and a woman care for its 20 rocky acres, its cracking cement and its corroding steel.

Here Scarface Al Capone, kidnap George (Machine Gun) Kelly, escape artist Basil (The Owl) Banghart and mass-killer William Edward Cook paced away their years. Now the sea spray and the erosion of time tread the island and its cell blocks together.

ENJOYS SERENITY

Custodian of this multimillion-dollar anachronism is John Hart, 53, a sturdy, soft-voiced man who uses to train prison personnel, and now enjoys the island's new serenity. His grandchildren played in what is now Duke's doghouse. Both of Hart's daughters were married in the prison chapel, one to an Alcatraz guard.

Hart watches the island for the U.S. General Services Administration.

Living here with him is his wife, Marie. The soothing notes of the electric organ she loves to play are an odd contrast to sounds the island once echoed — the shots of the two-day 1946 riot in which three convicts and three officers died; the hubbub of search parties pursuing the 40 desperate convicts who, at different times, tried to escape, only to be shot down, recaptured or drowned in the Golden Gate's treacherous currents.

The island's third resident is Hart's assistant, 60-year-old William Doherty, a pipe-smoking, retired seagor. He's a bachelor who can whip up a tasty hamburger and provide refreshment on the portable barbecue and bar he has improvised from island salvage.

"THIS IS THE LIFE"

"This is the life," the gray-haired, stocky Doherty boasts.

"We look over at all those rich folks looking back at us from those hills in San Francisco; we have a better view than they do; we get the fresh air first; and I catch 18 to 20-pound striped bass with this big lure at the shoreline. I don't even have to jiggle the lure. The tide does it."

On Aug. 3, 1964, a presidential commission recommended building a United Nations monument on "The Rock." It would direct world attention to San Francisco as birthplace of the United Nations in 1945.

Today, Rep. Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif., who has joined with Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., as cosponsor in drafting the legislation, says:

"Now we are waiting on committee reports. The word we get from the Interior Department is generally favorable. We are getting a little static from the State Department."

NEXT SPRING

"I fully expect we will be able to blast off on this when we get back in Congress next spring. We've heard some fabulous proposals by private groups who want to be given concessions such as a wax museum," Cohelan said. "These are bad ideas and dangerous."

James Bennett, the retired director of prisons, has made it very clear he thinks the memory of Alcatraz should be erased from the face of the earth. Alcatraz should be torn down at once. It was more psychological than anything else. As a prison, it was a costly mistake. "Meanwhile, life goes on at 'The Rock.'"

Every morning, a passing helicopter dips down to within 50 feet of the island. It's Lou Hurley, a newscaster on Bay area traffic conditions for radio station KGO. He drops off the morning Chronicle. That newspaper and a radio-telephone are the islanders' contacts with the outside.

RAISIN MINI MUFFINS

Lots of Raisins to Use

 Pontiac Press Food Editor
 Whenever there is a great surplus of some food, the SOGS goes out to consumers. This year the USDA is asking for help in moving an enormous raisin crop. 1966 was a good year and there was already a large stock from the previous year. Raisins and holidays go together, so use them plentifully.

Cookie Mix You Make Is Timesaver

So it's back-to-school time, and that's cookie-and-apple time for lunches and after school snacks. Cookies are a breeze with a handy, homemade, Basic Cookie Mix. It's easy.

Mix together into large mixing bowl 4 cups sifted enriched flour, 2 tablespoons baking powder and 1½ teaspoons salt. Cut in 2 cups soft butter or margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Prepare mix at your leisure and store, tightly covered, in your refrigerator — all ready for instant use the next time your cookie jar is empty and you're in a hurry.

To make 4 dozen cookies, stir together 3½ cups Basic Cookie Mix and ¾ cup sugar. Blend together 1 large, beaten egg and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Add all at once to the dry ingredients.

Mix until dough forms a ball. Press dough through cookie press or gun onto ungreased baking sheet. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven 8 to 10 minutes, or until lightly browned.

To vary some of the cookies, drop a little food coloring into the mixing bowl and swirl it through the dough. This makes an interesting, quick-and-easy marble effect — and no extra bowl to wash later! These are soft cookies. So store them tightly covered.

Remember, cookies pick up flavors from each other and must be stored separately. Soft cookies need some circulation of air; soft ones should be kept air tight. To help retain the moisture and freshness of soft cookies, place a slice of fresh bread or apple in the cookie jar.

Tender sour cream muffins better is baked in tiny muffin tins for a delicious hot bread. Everything is "mini" these days — why not "mini muffins"?

RAISIN MINI MUFFINS

1½ cups bleached mix
 ¼ cup sugar
 1½ teaspoons poppy seeds
 1 egg
 ¼ cup dairy sour cream
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 ¼ cup seedless raisins

Combine bleached mix, sugar and poppy seeds. Add egg, sour cream and vanilla. Beat for 1½ minutes. Stir in finely chopped raisins. Spoon into greased 3½-inch muffin cups. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot.

If desired dip hot muffins in melted butter and then dip in granulated sugar. Makes 12 (2½-inch) muffins.

Have you ever considered using raisins bread for poultry stuffing? It makes a sweeter stuffing that goes well with any kind of fowl.

RAISIN BREAD STUFFING

1 cup thinly sliced celery
 ½ cup chopped onion
 ¼ cup butter
 1½ teaspoons poultry seasoning
 ½ teaspoon salt
 ¼ cup broth or water
 4 to 5 cups raisin bread cubes
 ¼ cup chopped seedless raisins
 ¼ cup chopped walnuts

Cook celery and onion slowly in butter until transparent but not browned. Add poultry seasoning, salt, pepper and broth. Pour over raisin bread, tossing to moisten evenly. Lightly mix in raisins and walnuts.

Turn into buttered casserole. Cover. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 1 quart stuffing.

NOTE: This may be used to stuff a 4 or 5 pound chicken or capon. Double recipe for 10 pound turkey.

Remember, cookies pick up flavors from each other and must be stored separately. Soft cookies need some circulation of air; soft ones should be kept air tight. To help retain the moisture and freshness of soft cookies, place a slice of fresh bread or apple in the cookie jar.

Stop scrubbing with old-fashioned cleansers!

SNO BOL

CLEANS BETTER BECAUSE IT'S LIQUID!

Lightly scrub ham on both sides in skillet with butter. Stir in dried figs, brown sugar, cloves, mustard and wine. Cover and simmer 15 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Ham and Eggs Together

It's Like a Souffle

New and delicious egg recipes were judged in the recent National Egg Cooking Contest sponsored by the Poultry and Egg National Board in Chicago. The contest is open to contestants from 10 to 16 years of age.

One of the recipes receiving good comments from the distinguished panel of judges was this one for Ham 'N' Egg Pudding.

Alice Jean Stout, Berlin, Md., prepared this recipe during the finals held in Chicago. Miss Stout combined the familiar breakfast mates, ham and eggs, in this unfamiliar luncheon dish, Ham 'N' Egg Pudding.

Easy to prepare, nutritious and economical, this recipe combines eggs, ham, milk and bread — all "good-for-you" foods.

The secret of preparing this dish is in separating and beating the egg. This makes it delicately light and fluffy, with a completely different consistency than the usual pudding.

Eggs add appeal to any meal, from breakfast to late evening snacks. Keep extra hard-cooked eggs in the refrigerator at all times and especially now, with the kids back in school. They'll enjoy having them to eat out-of-hand when they get home.

Ham 'N' Egg Pudding
 1 cup diced cooked ham
 2 cups milk, scalded
 2 tablespoons melted butter
 2 cups soft bread crumbs
 1 teaspoon salt
 ¼ teaspoon pepper
 6 eggs, separated

Combine ham, milk, butter, bread crumbs, salt and pepper. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Stir egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Stir egg yolks into bread mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold egg whites into egg yolk-bread mixture.

Pour into 12x8-inch greased baking dish. Bake in a 325 degree (slow) oven for 20 to 25 minutes or until firm to touch. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

HAM 'N' EGG PUDDING — Invented by a youthful contestant in an egg cooking contest, Ham 'N' Egg Pudding is a fine dish for brunch or luncheon. It's a good way to use up just a bit of ham too.

Curried Soup Has Distinctive Flavor

It's an interesting way to vary a canned soup.

Special Tomato Soup
 1 can (11 ounces) condensed tomato bisque soup
 ¼ teaspoon curry powder
 ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 Milk

1 medium or large tomato

(skinned, seeded and diced)
 Salt and pepper to taste

Turn the soup, curry powder and Worcestershire sauce into a saucepan; fill the soup can with milk and add. Heat according to directions on can. Add tomato, salt and pepper; reheat but do not boil. Makes 4 servings.

Blue Cheese for Meat Pies

Casseroles are such a boon to the homemaker that one never seems to have enough recipes for these delightful "concoctions." Here's a simple and economical recipe for Quick Shepherd's Pie.

Quick Shepherd's Pie is made with lean ground beef, frozen peas, cream of mushroom soup, fluffy whipped potatoes and a dash of American blue cheese.

Quick Shepherd's Pie

1 pound lean ground beef
 1 large onion, chopped
 1 package frozen peas, defrosted
 ¼ cup American blue cheese (about 1½ ounces, crumbled)
 1 can cream of mushroom soup

¼ cup can milk
 4 cups whipped potatoes
 Lightly brown beef and onions and drain. Place in 1 quart buttered casserole. Add drained peas on top of meat mixture. Add milk and American blue cheese to soup. Pour mixture over top of peas.

Top with whipped potatoes and bake at 350 degrees for 30-40 minutes or until mixture is bubbly and potatoes are lightly browned.

SHERRY AUTUMN SOUP — If you like way-out things, consider serving pumpkin soup laced with sherry on a chill fall day.

This smooth creamy golden soup will be a conversation piece. Serve it with almond buttered toasts.

Pumpkin for Soup at Autumn Parties

Pumpkin soup and Sherry can make a complete entertaining formula for a late afternoon supper party around the fireplace; or it can be an entrancing opening for an autumn dinner.

For either post, this golden pumpkin soup is smooth, subtle, easy to make, and a complement to a nutty, dry Sherry served with it.

With soup and slightly chilled Sherry, you might offer almond buttered toasts: Toast one side of white bread triangles, squares, or rounds (crusts removed). Spread second side with mixture of soft butter and chopped almonds; broil-toast.

Sherry Autumn Soup

- 1 quart half-and-half (half milk, half cream)
- 2 medium-sized onions, thinly sliced
- 6 whole cloves
- 1 cinnamon stick
- 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 clove garlic, minced or mashed
- 2 tablespoons chicken stock concentrate (or 2 chicken bouillon cubes)
- 1 can (1 pound) pumpkin
- About 1 teaspoon salt
- Freshly ground black pepper
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon crumbled dried thyme
- 6 tablespoons Sherry
- Butter
- Additional parsley

Combine half-and-half, onions, cloves, cinnamon, parsley, bay, garlic, and chicken stock concentrate in top of double boiler; place over direct heat to scald milk. Stir in pumpkin, salt, pepper, nutmeg, and thyme; place over hot water, and cook for 30 minutes. Strain. Add Sherry. Add salt if necessary. Ladle into serving bowls; top each with a generous pat of butter and sprinkling of parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Dried Fruit Fine for Conserve

Apricot Pineapple Conserve
1 pound dried apricots, chopped

1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) crushed pineapple, undrained

$\frac{3}{4}$ cups sugar

1 cup orange juice

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup broken walnuts

Coar apricots with water; boil for 15 minutes; drain. Mix drained apricots with remaining ingredients except the walnuts.

Boil, stirring often, until there is almost no free liquid when a spoonful of the mixture is placed on a saucer. Stir in walnuts about 5 minutes before conserve is ready.

Four boiling hot conserve to within $\frac{1}{4}$ inch of the top of half-pint jars. Seal at once with home canning cap.

Broil Cheese Topping of Fresh Pear Dessert

There are only one or two months of the year when fresh pears are not readily available, namely May and June. A succession of numerous varieties of pears accounts for their exceptionally long season.

Right now, you'll probably still find a few Bartlett's around, but they're being succeeded by the russet-colored, buttery Bosc, and the creamy-yellow, chunky Anjou with its spicy, wine-like flavor.

Later on we'll get the small, top-shaped Winter Nells, a fine-grained, juicy pear that stays in season until May.

Corn in Relish

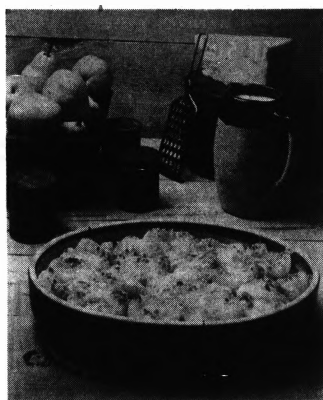

Toss together this frankfurter accompaniment: Chopped western iceberg lettuce, ripe olive wedges, drained canned whole kernel corn with pimiento and drained cocktail onions in bottled French dressing.

Use Wax Paper

Sift flour onto a sheet of waxed paper and lightly spoon into measuring cup. This insures accurate measurement and gives an added bonus—no extra bowl to wash.

U.S. Is Peppy

Few things in life are more certain than change. Even that old standby, black pepper, has undergone a change. Black pepper is being ground more coarsely than it was 20 to 30 years ago. The reason is simple. Americans particularly enjoy the distinctive flavor of black pepper — so much that one-third of all the black pepper ground is used in America.

PEAR-CHEESE CRUMBLE — It's a scrumptious hot dessert that's surreptitiously trimmed of more than one-third the usual calories. Sucaryl is the answer in a marvelous blending of fruit and cheese.

All of these are excellent for cooking as well as for eating out-of-hand. Unlike most fruits, pears improve in flavor and texture when ripened off the tree.

For cooking, pears may be somewhat underripe. Once they are "eating-ripe," they should be kept in the refrigerator.

PEAR-CHEESE CRUMBLE (Low-Calorie)

8 pears, pared, cored and halved

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup flour

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cinnamon

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ginger

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon mace

3 tablespoons butter

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup water

3 tablespoons lemon juice

2 tablespoons liquid sucaryl

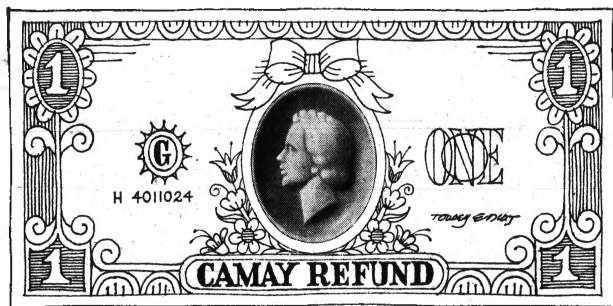

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup grated cheese

Place pears in shallow 2-quart casserole. Combine flour, lemon rind and spices; cut in butter until of consistency of coarse corn meal; sprinkle over pears.

Combine water, lemon juice and sucaryl; pour over pears.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes, or until tender. Top with grated cheese and broil until cheese is bubbly and brown.

All Viet GIs to Get Thanksgiving Dinner

SAIGON (UPI)—War takes no holiday, but even the fighting cannot stay the American tradition of Thanksgiving dinner—turkey with all the trimmings.

For many of the more than 350,000 U.S. servicemen in Viet Nam, the settings will be simple—a tin plate and a seat in a damp foxhole.

For others, even this special dinner will have to be eaten on the run—as they dash for jet fighter-bombers to take care of the job that not even a holiday can delay, the bombing of North Viet Nam.

But whether they are in a foxhole along the demilitarized zone or prowling through dense, damp jungles along the Cambodian border or flying dive-bomb attacks against Haiphong harbor, every U.S. serviceman is going to get Thanksgiving dinner this year.

And for those unable to go to the dinner, the dinner will go to them.

THE WORKS

The menu is the works: roast turkey, cranberry sauce, stuffing, mashed potatoes, peas, carrots or pumpkin pie, fresh salads and endive, gravy, nuts and coffee, milk or iced tea.

Officials say there will be hundreds of cooks who go to work as much as 24 hours ahead of time to get the feast ready—whether for the massive mess halls such as Tan Son Nhut Airbase at Saigon, or the foxholes around Tay Ninh or Dong Ha.

Around the country, the emphasis is on one phrase—serve it fast, and serve it hot. At the major bases, that is simple enough to accomplish. But managing that for troops in the boonocks is something else again.

TRICKY TASK

To get it done, the U.S. military lined up one of the most elaborate helicopter lifts of the war—a tricky task that had to be done without taking one ready-when-called-for war effort itself.

Even Marines at the most remote of outposts or on the most far-reaching of patrols that day will get their chance at the turkey.

"Each of these men will be replaced at least temporarily by someone who already has eaten—long enough to get dinner," said a Marine Corps spokesman.

"No one will miss out—and we mean that."

Saturn Rocket Test Success

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—An uprated version of a Saturn 1 booster rocket fired its powerful engines successfully for 35 seconds Thursday.

The test conducted by the Chrysler Corp. at the Marshall Space Flight Center with the rocket on a stand was the eighth in a series of 12 uprated tests of the same design.

The Saturn 1 engines generated 1.6-million pounds of thrust during the test.

A second test firing of 145 seconds is planned in about two weeks. The vehicle then will be shipped to the Marshall Center's Michoud assembly facility at New Orleans for post static firing checkout.

TEXAN IN THE WHITE HOUSE (1)

by Don Oakley and John Lane

Johnson attended public school and after graduating in 1924, took a $1-a-day job on a road-building gang. Wanderlust led him to California, where he worked in the Imperial Valley. He returned to Texas and road labor, but eventually determined to go to college, entering Southwest Texas State Teachers College in San Marcos in 1927.

Big-State Dems Are in Disarray

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — In sharp contrast to the years leading up to John F. Kennedy's election as president, the Democratic party lies split and weakened in the 10 big states which traditionally have been the cornerstones of Democratic presidential victories. In most of the states, last week's election results left the Democrats without a strong, recognized leader and, in some, without fresh, younger leadership ready to plug the gap.

An Associated Press survey of the 10 states showed that Democrats face a major task in overhauling decaying state party organizations by 1968. It was in these states that Democrats, in the years leading up to 1960, laid the organizational basis for Kennedy's 1960 victory.

Furthermore, the problem extends to such national groups as the Democratic National Committee. The party's political leadership has become centralized in the White House.

Hunters' Zeal Is Boon to Kids

BAY CITY (AP)—Pupils at three elementary schools near Bay City will get a holiday Friday on the eve of the opening of the deer hunting season for Michigan's Lower Peninsula.

School administrators have decided to close the schools—all located near U. S. 23 north of Bay City—because of the expected heavy traffic of deer hunters heading for the woods.

Mexico's national emblem is the golden eagle.

OVER-ALL OUTLOOK

Over-all, the 10 states have 13 Democrats and 17 Republicans as governors and senators, compared with 21 Democrats and 9 Republicans after 1958 and 18 Democrats and 12 Republicans after 1962.

The 10 states, and their electoral vote totals, are: California (40), Illinois (26), Massachusetts (14), Michigan (21), Minnesota (11), New Jersey (17), New York (43), Ohio (26), Pennsylvania (29) and Texas (26). They have 352 electoral votes — just 18 short of the 270 needed to New Jersey and Stephen M. Young of Ohio.

Republicans will have governors in states with more than enough electoral votes to elect a president, but what concerns Democratic leaders is the situation in the big states.

Democrats had scored breakthroughs in several key races in 1964, including the replacement of Republican senators by such Republicans as Philip A. Hart of Michigan, Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, Clair Engle of California, Harrison A. Williams Jr. of Minnesota and Pennsylvania.

And at that time, they had as governors such figures as David L. Lawrence in Pennsylvania, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Edmund G. Brown in California, Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota and Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio.

Not only did the GOP win key races last week, but Republicans captured a number of other state positions, especially in California, Michigan, Minnesota and Pennsylvania.

Space Training Rapped

By Science Service

WASHINGTON—The 16 Gemini astronauts would have made better candidates for moon landings if they had been fewer in number and longer on space experience, according to a former Project Mercury consultant.

"Astronauts can relay their experiences to each other, but that cannot substitute for the actual experience," Dr. Lawrence Lamb, a pioneering space cardiologist now at Baylor University College of Medicine, Houston, Tex., said in an interview.

Dr. Lamb's analysis is in direct contrast to the official National Aeronautics and Space Administration line.

Astronaut Edwin (Buzz) Aldrin's first space stand on Saturday was all the practice he needed for his subsequent space walk, says a NASA official who declined to be quoted.

"The next time he stood up," said the official, "he was an experienced astronaut." Dr. Lamb, whom the NASA manned space flight official calls a first rate cardiologist, disagrees.

BRIGHTLY AND FRIENDS — In a scene from the movie, "Brightly and the Grand Canyon," Joseph Cotten and Dandy Curran talk, with their friend Brightly portrayed by the author's pet burro. The movie opens next week at the Birmingham Theater and others in the Detroit area.

Film's World Premiere Set for Birmingham on Tuesday

By JANCIE KLOUSER

The theatrical spotlight will be on Birmingham next week as the movie, "Brightly and the Grand Canyon," makes its world premiere at the Birmingham Theater.

The movie represents the first full-length theatrical venture of area producer Stephen F. Booth.

It is the story of the freedom-loving little burro who actually lived at the canyon during the early part of the century and blazed the tortuous trail to the North Rim.

Booth of 1295 Lake Park, Birmingham, first got the idea for a movie in 1963 when he read the award-winning book of the same name by Marguerite Henry.

"It was so exciting I thought it should be made into a movie," he said. "When I found out no one owned the movie or television rights, the wheels started to turn and by the end of 1963 I owned the rights."

Several months later, Booth and his friend Frederick G. Barr, a Birmingham attorney, formed the Stephen F. Booth Productions with the backing of 130 Detroit area investors.

Norman Foster, a former Disney director, was hired to direct the movie, and production was in April 1965.

"Weather was our main problem in shooting the picture," said Booth. "We had to show winter and summer in the same location, and of course there was the worry about showing the animals with their winter and summer coats."

In spite of losing 18 days because of the weather, production finished right on schedule on July 26.

The Brightly of the movie is the author's own burro, which she bought when she started to write the book in 1953.

The real Brightly lived at the Grand Canyon from 1892 to 1922. He wandered as a free spirit and only associated with humans when he suited him.

He made friends with Jim

Owen, a mountain lion hunter who is portrayed by Joseph Cotten in the movie; with President Theodore Roosevelt, who came to the canyon to hunt; and with an old prospector.

The movie takes place in 1905, when the tourists began to invade the canyon.

SMART BURRO The movie Brightly, although not a trained burro, according to Booth, was smart and easy to work with.

"Some of the action called for him to fall into the Colorado River, let a mountain lion leap on his back and fight a mountain lion and it didn't bother him at all," he said. "He was like a professional actor."

The entire picture was filmed at the canyon or close by. Much of it takes place in locations which are generally inaccessible to the outside world.

"We shot in several places where chances are that no one had ever been there before," said Booth.

MULE TRAINS Helicopters and mule trains were used to reach the location scenes. Some of the longest mule trains in the history of the Grand Canyon were used to transport the actors and crew.

The helicopter made 1,200 flights to the bottom of the canyon during the shooting, averaging 20 to 25 flights a day.

The movie will have an exclusive limited run in the area. Booth said it will eventually be released generally, but no date has been set.

He said it is important to release a family movie such as this at the right time, during vacation or the summer when the children can see it.

Tuesday's premiere has been sold out as a benefit performance.

Now that Brightly is on his way, Booth is looking for other stories to make into family films.

No stranger to producing, he had a television show, "Hobbies in Action" in 1956-57 which he produced, wrote and acted.

He later produced educational and public relations films for various industries. He was also a Pontiac Press reporter from 1950 to 1955.

Dutch Will Bid for Slice of Jet Market

AMSTERDAM (UPI)—Testing power plants back on the tail. In economy class this can be time is fast approaching for a will take 40 passengers, sitting increased to between 60 and 65 passengers sitting five abreast.

The first two Fokker F27 turboprop commercial transport jets are nearing completion at the company's factory at Schiphol.

The first test flight is scheduled for early 1967 and delivery to customers will begin a year later.

Initial flight testing will probably take place in Spain because winter flying conditions in Holland are not suitable and delays could ensue.

Fokker have no intention of competing with the giant British and American plane makers. The company has, therefore, deliberately kept its plane, called the "Fellowship," small.

Kickers Playing Key Grid Roles

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The rustiest weapon of either football juggernaut, kicking, may resolve the titanic battle between top-ranked Notre Dame and No. 2 Michigan State at East Lansing, Mich., Saturday.

When two powerful defenses meet, the kicking game takes on significance for good field position and ultimately scoring.

Irish Coach Ara Parseghian stressed today as tense expectancy vibrated over the Notre Dame campus.

But Notre Dame, in its relentless drive to eight straight victories, has punted only an average of 3.3 times per game and tried only two field goals both made good by place kicker Joe Azza.

Michigan State's bare-footed kicking star, Dick Kenney, has punted an average of 4.6 times per game. Hawaiian Kenney was something less than automatic Richard with only four hits on 10 field goal tries.

BOOT FOES

For the most part, neither Notre Dame nor Michigan State—seeking a second successive perfect 10-0 regular season—had to worry about putting the boot to outclassed opponents.

"Last year Kenney punted exceptionally well, and so did our Dan McGin, when we went to Michigan State 123," Parseghian recalled.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Australian golfers Kel Nagle and Len Thomas defied an Australian Professional Golfers Association ban and teed off today in the New Zealand Open Golf Tournament.

The Australian body has decided to suspend members who played in the New Zealand Open which clashes with its Cooft Harbour Open in northern New South Wales.

Nagle, four times winner of the New Zealand Open, said before starting today's round that his lawyers in Sydney has assured him the association's ban is unconstitutional.

Matt Snell Sidelined

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Jets announced Wednesday fullback Matt Snell has been placed on the injured list and will be lost for a minimum of two games to the American Football League club.

Tut, tut, cherrio and hmmmrrr! It's a good thing the Grapevine Association of Swamis isn't just getting started, because Swami Kearns might zoom into the lead.

Oh, yes it was a great week for our cellar dweller who won the Grapevine selections in a landslide last week, but it is doubtful that he will be able to catch the pacesetters with just a couple weeks left.

Swami Kearns missed only seven last week and Swami Spears has moved into the lead with the see-saw battle with Swami Craig.

There are some beauties on the Grapevine this week and here's how the Swamis pick them:

Denver - OAY LAND

"This year, our punting is adequate with Bob Bleier and Bob Gladioux averaging 38.5 yards between them on 27 kicks.

"Azzaro has made his only two field goal tries, but two years ago his pressure field goal gave us a 17-15 win over Pittsburgh just before we beat Michigan State 34-7."

Azzaro has converted on 28 of 30 extra point tries, compared with Kenney's 29-for-34 record.

Parseghian has little need for old Fighting Yost's punt-pass-and-prayer motto as far as the Irish student body is concerned.

The campus continued to jump last night with "trumpet rallies."

Frenzied cheering, chanting and bullhorn blowing is headed for a climax in a formal pep assembly in the field house tonight.

A big sendoff is scheduled when the Irish board a train headed for East Lansing, Mich., shortly after noon Friday.

Emotions Build for No. 1 Tilt

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — There's no question that feelings are running high on both sides and the thick-necked, muscle-bound linemen are caught in the middle of it.

Both Coach Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame and Coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State have predicted that the issue might be settled up front where giants collide with a sickening thud.

GOLIATH

Smith is the goliath of the Michigan State line — a towering end who stands 6-foot-7 and weighs 283. He has the shoulders of an ox, hands like ham hocks and thighs as thick as a woman's waist.

In the defensive unit with him are Jeff Richardson, 253; Nick Jordan, 228; Charles Bailey, 208; Pat Gallinagh, 214; Phil Hong, 208, and Charles Thornhill, 201.

Actually Smith will not be Regner's assignment. The guy who will have to take care of the Spartan giant is George Goedecke, who is 6-3 and 228 pounds.

"Smith has strength, size and speed," says Goedecke, who made last year's game because of an injury. "If you're not careful, he'll swarm all over you."

With Michigan State's tremendous size, Notre Dame is even bigger, in both offensive and defensive lines.

Kevin Hardy, 6-5 and 270 pounds, is at one tackle and Pete Duranko, 235, is at the other for the Irish defense.

The ends, Tom Rhoads and Alan Page, are 220 and 210, respectively. Linebacker Jim Lynch weighs 225 and John Pergine 210.

The Irish defense has held the opposition to an average of 176.5 yards a game — third best in the country. It has allowed the fewest points — 3.5 a game. The No. 1 Notre Dame defensive unit has yielded only one touchdown and has shut out five of the last six opponents.

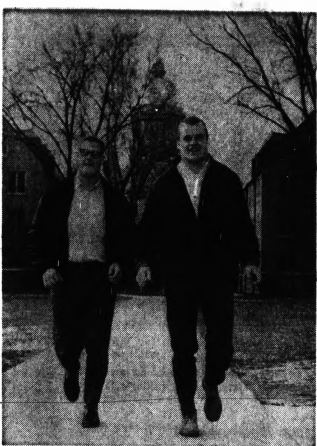

The Michigan Spartans have given up only 208.2 yards a game and are ranked ninth nationally in this department. But most of the ground has been gained on reserve units after the victory was sealed away.

Since then, he and Studstill have become the biggest aerial combination in the NFL.

In his first appearance after Milt Plum was injured five weeks ago in the game against the Colts in Baltimore, Sweetan jumped into the record books on his first pass, a 59-yard touchdown pass to Pat Studstill.

Ex-Pontiac Arrow QB Sweetan Will Match Wits With Units

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Two former products from semi-pro football, veteran John Units and rookie Karl Sweetan, will face each other Sunday afternoon at Tiger Stadium.

Units, an established all-time great with the Baltimore Colts, was lured from a semi-pro gridiron in Pittsburgh after he was cut by the Steelers in 1955. He was a quarterback at the University of Louisville.

Sweetan was cut by the Lions 10 years later in 1965 after a camp trial and he stayed with the Pontiac Arrows of the Midwest Football League for the season.

The Units and Sweetan stories follow the one another closely, except that Units has a record book of statistics in the NFL in his favor since 1956 when he took over the No. 1 spot from injured George Shaw.

In his first appearance after Milt Plum was injured five weeks ago in the game against the Colts in Baltimore, Sweetan jumped into the record books on his first pass, a 59-yard touchdown pass to Pat Studstill.

Season Records Even for Intra-City Clash

Fumbles and penalties are a touchdown in 1965 but coaches get ulcers.

The ulcers haven't bothered Pontiac Central coach Paul Delterba or Pontiac Northern mentor Dave Schmidt, but the fumbles and penalties still cause a little pain.

Fumbles and penalties are a couple of the primary reasons why the Huskies of Northern will take a 4-4 record into their showdown against Central tomorrow at Waiser Stadium. Kickoff is 4 p.m.

"We've had seven touchdowns called back this season," Schmidt was saying yesterday, adding "and that's almost as many as we scored all last season."

The Huskies scored nine touchdowns in 1965 but lost the game, 15-4.

Against an easy opponent, the mistakes would have seemed small, but against a good club like Kettering, they were fatal.

Schmidt is just hoping Lady Luck smiles a little tomorrow evening when the Huskies move onto the field against the Chiefs.

PNH will be looking for its second victory in the series. Central leads, 5-1, losing only by a 21-0 count in 1963.

FEW MISTAKES

In facing the Chiefs, Northern will be going against another good club that makes few mistakes and has the ability to take advantage of any misuses the opponent might commit.

Delterba and the Chiefs also go into the game with a 4-4 record, this fashioned in the tough Saginaw Valley Conference, and in those four setbacks, PCH was outscored by only 21 points. In their latest outing, the Chiefs dropped a 20-14 decision to Bay City Central.

The game brings together a pair of offenses geared to a running game.

The game will also bring together two of the city's most promising sophomores.

The Chiefs are expected to have Hardiman Jones, a 5-10, 160-pounder, in the lineup, while Northern will use Larry Gilyard, a 6-0, 160-pounder at a running back spot.

Unrehearsed Members Eye MSU Band Seats

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Suddenly, everybody wants to join the Michigan State University band. A seat amid the music men has never before looked so good to thousands of Michiganders struck by the temporary delirium of football fever. Becoming a band member may be the cheapest way to enter 76,000-seat Spartan Stadium for the game of the year Saturday — when No. 2 ranked Michigan State collides with No. 1 ranked Notre Dame.

"People have asked if they can do something with the band," said William Moffit, assistant director. "We tell them they should have thought of that last August and worked with us the whole season."

OFFERS HIGH

The Rev. J. T. Frommeyer, MSU team chaplain, says he has heard offers of $500 for tickets.

"People seem to think we have some special pipeline to Duffy (Spartan Coach Duffy Daugherty)," he said. His office received more than 60 requests for tickets Tuesday.

Bill Beardsley, MSU ticket manager, said his office received two blank checks from fans beseeching him for tickets at any cost.

"People are beginning now to believe we really are out of tickets," he said. Beardsley announced July 15 that the game was a sellout.

One winner in the ticket scramble was an audacious Cleveland, Richard Paisley, who asked Michigan State for President Johnson's ticket. Since the chief executive won't be attending, Paisley got it. Beardsley's office then survived a deluge of requests for the tickets that had been earmarked for the President's wife and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

At this point, in stepped Ingham County Prosecutor Donald Reising with a warning: "Anyone apprehended scalping tickets or using subterfuges will be prosecuted to protect the public against outrageous demands."

HANDS FULL — Lloyd Berry of Pontiac arrived home yesterday after an obvious successful hunting trip up north. Berry bagged the 250-pound black bear on Saturday and downed the deer Sunday morning. He got both near Marquette.

Chiefs' Dawson Conditions Self for AFL Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Len Dawson is putting the Kansas City Chiefs in orbit and he gives a good part of the credit to his pocket-sized exergenia—a muscle building and toning machine being used by America's astronauts.

The air-minded Dawson again proved the merits of the conditioning program he started early in February by completing 10 of 14 passes for 256 yards and three touchdowns in just one half of play as the Chiefs ripped Miami 36-14 last Sunday.

Dawson's performance—his touchdown passes of 26, 39 and 39 yards lifted his total for the season to 22—earned him the Offensive Player of the Week award in the American Football League by The Associated Press.

Berkeley—California has two names in the national football Hall of Fame—those of Brick Miller and Stanley Barnes.

Bags Bear, Deer Local Hunter on Target

Lloyd Berry of Pontiac doesn't waste time on his hunting trips into the northland.

The 38-year-old Berry, owner of Pontiac Transmission Service, arrived home yesterday from his latest trip north and he came home with the usual success.

He brought back a black bear and a 154-pound deer.

Berry was hunting deer, so getting the bear was just a stroke of luck.

He bagged the bear and deer just west of Marquette.

TRACKING DEER — "I was tracking a deer Saturday morning when I came across the bear," Berry explained.

"I didn't see it until I was about 15 feet from it. I think a deer scared it and it moved."

When the bear moved, so did Berry. He felled the 250-pounder with one shot.

He shot the deer Sunday morning.

The trip was the second successful one this fall for Berry. Back in October, he bagged a moose during a hunt in Ontario, Canada.

Olympic Countries Paired for Soccer

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Seventy-eight nations were drawn into 14 groups Wednesday for the preliminary rounds of the 1968 Olympic soccer tournament in Mexico City.

The competition in Europe, Africa and North and Central America will be on a home-and-home basis. The elimination in other sections will be staged in the form of three tournaments in Asia and two in South America.

The United States was drawn against Bermuda in its first round match with the winner to meet Guatemala. Other members of this group are Dominican Republic, Haiti and Costa Rica.

Piston 5 Regresses Into Former Habits

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons, breathing the rarified air of first place in the National Basketball Association for a short span early this season, once again are performing as of old.

The St. Louis Hawks, rallying behind strong offensive rebounding, won a close duel at Cobo Arena 104-101 Wednesday night. The defeat was Detroit's fourth in a row and its seventh in eight games, the kind of record which left the Pistons in last place in the Western Division last year.

OTHER GAMES

In other National Basketball Association action, Los Angeles whipped Cincinnati 124-112 and Philadelphia downed New York 117-106.

After trailing 56-47 at the half, Detroit rallied to take an 81-60 lead in the third quarter on the shooting of Joe Strawder, Dave Bing and Ray Scott.

But ex-Piston Joe Caldwell dribbled the length of the floor to score and give St. Louis an 87-85 margin early in the final stanza. Bill Bridges, Gene Torrence and Len Wilkens notched baskets as the Hawks drove in front to stay.

Detriot managed to cut the gap to one point before Bridges dumped in five points to turn the tide for St. Louis.

Bridges led six Hawks in double figures with 22 points. Strawder netted 19 points to top Detroit with Bing and Scott canning 18 each.

PAIR EFFORTS

A pair of 36-point efforts by Jerry West and Rudy LaRusso gave Los Angeles its victory over Cincinnati. Oscar Robertson and Happy Hairston topped the Royals with 24 points apiece.

Philadelphia was held on even terms by New York for three quarters before the superior 76er power showed. Wilt Chamberlain and Hal Greer sparked a fourth-quarter rally to give Philadelphia victory.

Greer topped the 76ers with 35 points while Walt Bellamy notched 20 for the Knicks.

Casper After Dollar Record in Texas Golf

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Billy Casper neared the end of his assault on golf's golden domination by Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer when he teed off today in the first round of the $10,000 Houston Champions International Tournament.

The 35-year-old Californian, lean and fit as a gymnast, carried a $10,526 bulge over Nicklaus in the official money winners list and could smash big Jack's record with a victory in this rich 72-hole competition.

Casper, winner of the U. S. Open and already chosen as player of the year by the Professional Golfers' Association, has hauled in $120,747 this year compared with $120,221 for Nicklaus, the Masters and British Open king, and $89,467 for Palmer.

The sponsors have upped prize from $20,000 to $32,000 and Casper's first money winners title but also would enable him to eclipse the all-time record of $140,752 set by Nicklaus last year.

Albion Players Honor Ex-Laker

ALBION (AP) — The Albion College Britons, football champions in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association, named defensive end Barry Siler as "most valuable player" for 1966. Bob Moran and Vaughn McGraw were elected co-captains for the 1967 season.

McGraw was a standout performer at West Bloomfield High School during his prep football career.

Lafayette holds a 59-37 edge in its football series with Lehigh. Five games ended in ties. The series began in 1884.

Elmer and Ed Nelson, owners of Nelson Brothers Sewer & Plumbing Service, Royal Oak.

Elmer and Ed Nelson, owners of Nelson Brothers Sewer & Plumbing Service, write: "We started in business 40 years ago with one truck. Now, thanks to our advertising in the Yellow Pages, we have an entire fleet that is constantly on the go. When people need sewer or plumbing service they look in their Yellow Pages and see our ad. It really pays off."

Solid yellow, pure gold, or whatever symbol you want to choose, it well describes the results of Yellow Pages advertising. The Nelson Brothers' story is typical. The fact is that 43% of all the people who looked for Home and Building Repairs (builders, painters, plumbers, electricians) in Michigan during a 12-month period consulted the Yellow Pages before making a selection. 98% of these took action."

Be sure your Yellow Pages advertising tells these ready-to-buy prospects enough about you to make them your customers. Call 883 9900 today—Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

Major Hoople Picks Irish Over Spartans

Fearless Forecaster

Egad, friends, now we come to the piece de resistance of the 1966 football season — the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, led by Ara Parseghian, versus the Spartans of Michigan State, commanded by that fighting Irishman Duffy Daugherty.

Where will Dame Fortune cast her smile? On Hanratty and Eddy or Raye and Jones? On Seymour or Washington?

On the rocklike defense of the Irish, with Kevin (27) Hardy in the vanguard, or the rugged Spartan defenders spearheaded by Bubba (27) Smith?

Jove, those lads must eat steak four times a day!

Needless to say, I have canceled all appointments for Saturday so that I can be in Spartan Stadium to witness this classic.

You needn't bother to look for me in the stands because long ago I adopted — back-kick — the practice of traveling incognito and in disguise lest my status as a celebrity detract from the main attraction — be it a major political convention or headline sports event!

The winner? The Hoople System in a series of calculations too complicated to be explained here (Ed. Note: You can say that again, Major) has fingered the Irish to triumph by four points. Make it N.D. 28, Michigan St., 24.

And no sooner will the dust be settled at East Lansing, than 2,000 miles away a new cloud will rise over the Coliseum at Los Angeles, as UCLA and Southern California collide to pick the western representative in the Rose Bowl.

The Trojans have waited 12 long months to avenge the startling 20-14 set-back suffered at the hands of UCLA in 1965.

This week it will be a different story as the men of Troy smash the UCLA's, 30-19.

And while all of this is going on THE GAME will be contested at Cambridge, where Harvard will entertain Yale. It was as a member of the Old Blue, you'll remember, that I first won all America status by my spunk exploits against John Harvard's lads — har-rumph!

Ailing Wolverines Return for Finale

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan will have most of the injured troops back in action Saturday when the Wolverines try Ohio State at Columbus in the season finale.

Rocky Rosema suffered a bruised knee in the victory over Northwestern, but Coach Bump Elliott said the defensive end will be ready and he may start. Defensive tackle Ken Wright expected an injured knee ligament against Northwestern and is expected to be able to play, but probably won't start.

BROKEN BONES

Senior defensive tackle Bob Mielke, who has broken bones in his hand, probably will be able to play.

But sophomore Jerry Miklos was expected to start at the position.

Assistant coach Dennis Fitzgerald, who has scouted the Buckeyes, said they can be "really strong" when emotionally aroused. And little arouses Ohio State more than a game with Michigan.

Another factor in the game is that Ohio State is 4-4 for the season, and Coach Woody Hayes has had just one losing season in 15 years.

The last year Hayes fielded a loser was 1959, when the Buckeyes were 3-5-1.

According to Elliott, the Wolverines were "feeling good after the Northwestern victory, and all lightening their belts for Ohio graduate State."

The game will mark the end of the college trail for three of the starting backfield and a total of 23 seniors. Halfbacks Elliott, mo, would like a win-ning season.

Only quarterback Dick Vidmer will be back next year.

Cowboys Remain Atop Loop Statistical Ladder

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys hold the lead in four of the six major team categories including total offense and total defense in the National Football League, the latest figures revealed Wednesday.

The Cowboys, with five games remaining, are setting the pace in total offense with an average gain of 418.4 yards and in total defense with a yield of 233.9 yards a game.

Dallas also is No. 1 in passing offense with a 265.8 yard average and rushing defense, 73.4 yards.

The Cleveland Browns are the runners-up in total offense with a 361.7 yard average followed by the Baltimore Colts, 345.7.

The Green Bay Packers are No. 2 in total defense with a 240.7 yards-a-game mark.

The Browns remained tops in rushing with a 180.7 yard average and Green Bay leads in pass defense with 124.2 yards.

Veteran Hall Helps Chicago

Goalgetter Provides Big Save vs. NY

By The Associated Press

Glenn Hall is back in the Chicago Black Hawks' nets and it's no coincidence that the Hawks have allowed the fewest goals and are leading the National Hockey League.

Hall made what New York General Manager Coach Emile Francis called "the save of the year," Wednesday night, protecting Chicago's 2-2 tie against the Rangers in the only NHL game played.

The big save came on Orland Kurtenbach in the second period. Billy Hicke had shot the puck and Hall steered it away. But Kurtenbach, a rangy center, picked up the rebound on Hall's front step with the Hawk goalie bending the wrong way.

"There was nothing but net when I shot. I thought it was a sure goal," Kurtenbach said.

Somewhat Hall reached up and gloved the puck, saving the goal.

"I just reached across for it," Hall said later. "It was a tough chance."

After that the game settled into a tight defensive struggle and the teams played scoreless hockey after Bobby Hull's power play goal tied the game at 12:00 of the second period.

Hull's seventh goal of the season came with Kurtenbach in the penalty box. He turned Chicago's goalmouth pass; he paid $31.20 for $2.00, the largest Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin exacted payoff of the season at Jackson Harness Raceway.

Skipper Opens Defense of Title With Two Wins

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Frank Wosser, the defending champion from San Francisco, won the first two races Wednesday in the international one-day yacht championships.

The Royal Bermuda Yacht Club race committee abandoned the last leg of the second race because of darkness. Warren Brown of Bermuda was recalled at the start and Herman Whilton of Long Island Sound fouled out rounding the first weather mark.

At the end of the two races, Wosser had 24½ points. He finished ahead of Larry Grinnell, also of San Francisco, in the first race, and ahead of Ingar Dobloug of Norway in the second.

Pick 'M' Coach

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Canham, University of Michigan track coach, was named Wednesday to a 10-man committee charged with solving the problems of the long-simmering feud between the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

The committee was named by Vice President Humphrey's special arbitration board.

TYPICAL THAILAND — Wearing a silken Thai costume used for formal occasions, Mrs. Veera Piriyapan displays a cotton table square decorated in typical Thai design. A social studies teacher at Waterford Township's Pierce Junior High School, Mrs. Piriyapan taught English at Kasetsart University in Bangkok, Thailand, for nearly one year.

Waterford Teacher Tells of Her Stay in Thailand

By HUDSON WILLSE

For most Americans, Thailand is a land of mystery. Other than its beautiful Buddhist temples, canal waterways and typical Oriental rice fields, not much is known about this Southeast Asian nation of 32 million inhabitants.

Pierce Junior High School social studies teacher Mrs. Veera Piriyapan spent nearly a full year in Thailand, unshrouding the mystery.

Employed by the Thai government as an English instructor at Kasetsart University in Bangkok, Mrs. Piriyapan (nee Pauline Mary Harding) met her husband during her stay there.

Mrs. Piriyapan, who speaks Thai fluently and understands Mandarin Chinese and Indonesian, easily adapted to Thailand right from the beginning.

But she was well-prepared.

LANGUAGE STUDY

Prior to her journey there last year, Mrs. Piriyapan received a B.A. degree in Far Eastern studies from the University of Michigan and took an intensive Thai language course at Cornell University.

Later she received what her U. of M. professor said was the first degree of its kind ever awarded in this country, an M.A. in Southeast Asia Program.

Mrs. Piriyapan became intrigued with Thailand, partly because it is the only Southeast Asian nation never conquered by a European country.

Besides the teaching offer, she was one of two Americans awarded a Fulbright grant to study in Thailand in 1965.

COULD UNDERSTAND

"I feel I was able to understand the culture enough to commit myself to the nation as if it were my own," said Mrs. Piriyapan.

A 1961 graduate of Waterford Township High School, Mrs. Piriyapan said when she got off the plane at Bangkok, "Everything was as I expected."

"However, I met a lot of people (Peace Corpsmen and American militarymen) with cultural shock," she observed. "But I never experienced this."

Mrs. Piriyapan feels foreigners "shouldn't judge a culture on their own culture, but on its own merit. You need to completely blank your mind," she said.

PEACEFUL PLACE

Describing the nation, she asserted, "I have never been anywhere that was so peaceful and tranquil."

Mrs. Piriyapan was most impressed with the canals (Klongs) which serve as secondary roads in Thailand and on which much trade is conducted.

She said one can buy almost anything at the numerous floating markets and shoreline stores traveling only a short distance on the major Klongs.

Mrs. Piriyapan likewise was taken by the seemingly infinite number of temples in Thailand.

AT LEAST ONE

"There are thousands of them in the country," she noted, adding that every village has at least one.

Comprised of several different buildings, the temples are embellished on the inside by large trees and green lawns.

Many temples have jewels embedded in the walls for decoration, noted Mrs. Piriyapan.

Every Thai male is expected to serve as a Buddhist monk for at least three months of his lifetime, she added.

BIG FESTIVAL

"When monks are ordained, the celebration is enormous."

During her Far Eastern sojourn, Mrs. Piriyapan even got a dose of aggression and war.

She recalls that airplanes, believed to be Chinese, dropped literature in northern Thailand, warning Americans in the country that they were next on the "kill list" in the world.

"We didn't like that too much," she said. "It was rather shocking." However, she said, nothing came of it.

SAW WARFARE

While flying back to Thailand from the United States last April, Mrs. Piriyapan was a witness to Viet Nam warfare.

Flying over the North Viet Nam border en route to Saigon, Mrs. Piriyapan said she could see bombs from U.S. fighter planes dropping beneath her.

When the plane finally landed, the passengers weren't allowed to get off.

"It was a mess," Mrs. Piriyapan said.

Port Group Named by Wayne County

DETROIT (AP)—A new committee was named Wednesday to propose regulations for Detroit's waterfront.

The group, named by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, will include three members of the board's port committee, three from the Wayne County Port Commission, two from labor and two representing private port operators.

The new committee replaces the county port commission. Efforts by the commission to draft rules became bogged down in controversy.

Red China Charges U.S. With Air, Sea Violations

TOKYO (UPI)—Communist air space in the area of Yung-Kwangtung Province on three and 15. China charged today that a U.S. ship and two American military aircraft violated territorial waters and air space nearly a dozen times in the last four days.

A New China News Agency (NCNA) broadcast from Peking intruded into the estuary of the Yangtze River eight times between Nov. 13 and Nov. 15. The same broadcast said three U.S. aircraft penetrated Chinese Social recreation for girls 8 to 12 is scheduled for Mondays at the Lakeside Community Center. Boys in this age group will have the same program on Fridays at Lakeside.

Chess and checkers for adults is scheduled from 7 to 10 p.m. Mondays and 1 to 4 p.m. Tuesdays at the Adah Shelly Library.

New City Program of Activities Begun

The winter season of varied activities sponsored jointly by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department and Pontiac Schools is under way.

Activities range from ballet for girls, scheduled at 3:30 p.m. Fridays at Herrington School and on Thursdays at the same time at Mark Twain School, to a Fashion Your Figure program for women, from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursdays at the Adah Shelly Library.

Among other activities are Monday night art classes at Washington Junior High School, evening basketball for both boys and adults, harem twirling and fun nights at five junior high schools.

Pun nights for junior high school pupils are scheduled for Monday at Eastern and Jefferson, Wednesday at Madison, Jefferson and Kennedy and Thursday at Lincoln.

Dances for the junior high school group are slated each Thursday evening at Jefferson, the fourth Wednesday of each fourth Thursday at Lincoln.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Other winter activities include table tennis at Pontiac Central High School on Thursday evenings, activities for the physically handicapped at Mark Twain School on the second and fourth Tuesdays and Community School recreation programs at six schools.

These sites are Eastern and Jefferson junior high schools and McConnell, Wilson, Bagley and Bethune elementary schools.

Topless Girls Dressed Down

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ann Corio, long-time queen of the strippers, says the topless movement in San Francisco "is a big bore."

"Those topless girls would die if they got them into a theater. There's no thought, no artistry, no grace, no mystery," she said.

Lock Contract

DETROIT (AP)—Sea-Way Construction Co. and Tri-Cities Construction Co., both of Springlake, were awarded a $350,000 contract Wednesday by the Army Corps of Engineers for construction of a new lock on the Crooked River east of Petoskey. The project, designed to raise the water level on Crooked and Pickler Lakes, should be completed next fall, a spokesman said.

A Hollywood Pioneer—2

Warner's Full Power Unique

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Jack Leonard Warner is unique in an era when other major studios are operated by committees. A thorough autocrat, he wields virtually unlimited power over the destiny of Warner Bros.

"Jack is a very definite man," says Jack Lemmon. "You can get an answer from him on a policy matter in five minutes. He may change his mind later, but it will be his doing; no one changes his mind for him."

THOMAS

"When he commits himself to a project, that's it, brother. There are no delays, no tampering with the original concept; he lets the creators create. And if you can convince him that more money is needed to enhance a project, he'll plunge on it. He permitted 'The Great Race' to double its cost, to almost $12 million. But he drew the line when we wanted to spend more, and it turned out he was right."

Rex Harrison also has praise for Warner. "I found him very approachable when matters of artistic policy arose. He listened and then gave his decision from his years of experience; obviously he knows his business."

ACROSS COUNTRY

"I traveled across the country for premieres of 'My Fair Lady' with Warner and I found him to be a very engaging fellow. He was bouncy and cheerful early in the morning and kept going until late at night, always full of jokes."

Praise from actors comes as a rarity for Jack Warner, who has known a stormy history with the breed.

Another view was expressed recently by Olivia de Havilland as she recalled her years of warfare with Warner. "Jack mistreated actors, and that made it difficult for me to deal with him. I suppose he had been victimized by actors in previous times, but that realization didn't make my relations with him any more pleasant. I couldn't convince him that all I wanted was more interesting parts. I didn't want more money. Perhaps if I had, he would have been able to understand."

BESTED WARNER

Miss de Havilland is one of the few stars who bested Warner. She made a legal challenge of the studio's policy of tacking suspension time onto the end of actor's contracts, and she won an important victory for her profession.

Warner commented in his autobiography, "My First Hundred Years in Hollywood": "Many times over the years, I have been depressed by what I thought was ingratitude on the part of certain actors and actresses who, turned into stars by our time and money and imagination, were knitting me in public."

In the book, Warner struck back at what he considered were the perfidies of stars from John Barrymore ("He could slow away a fifth or more a day") to "Bette Davis ('An explosive little broad with a sharp left')".

Warner told of how he had to reprimand Humphrey Bogart when the actor "had enough alcohol in him to dissolve all the points on the set" and was caressing about the studio on a bicycle while dressed in pajamas. Warner saved his greatest scorn for Tab Hunter, who got down on his knees in a studio street to plead for release from his contract.

The studio boss granted the release after berating Hunter for failing to observe his contract. He added: "I wonder what ever happened to Tab Hunter?"

Next: Warner at work.

RECEIVE 32ND DEGREE — These six Pontiac area men were among the more than 400 Blue Lodge Masons in southeastern Michigan to receive the 32nd Degree in Scottish Rite of Freemasonry in recent ceremonies at the Masonic Temple in Detroit. They are (from left) Carl F. Church, 204 W. Price-ton; F. Murray Nice, 3448 Shelby, Waterford Township; William H. Forester, 180 W. Strathmore; Richard H. Norman, 1805 La Due, Waterford Township; Lawrence R. Halsted, 3567 Hi-Lure, Orion Township; and Harry L. Wallace Jr., 146 Baldwin.

Financial experts predict that board and other expenses will by 1976 the annual bill for college to $22.7 billion, nearly double the present level.

Low Morale Is Worrying Ho

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Ho Chi Minh's government is increasingly worried by the low morale of the people as a result of U.S. air strikes against North Vietnam.

Recent broadcasts by the Hanoi radio — monitored by American intelligence — and articles in the North Vietnamese press make it clear that the "rear" is by no means united around the leadership of the Communist party.

The most authoritative expression of Hanoi's worries was, in fact, given in an unusual radio broadcast by Ho Chi Minh himself. It was entitled "For the fatherland's security and the determination to defeat the American aggressors."

The aging and ailing Ho disclosed, among other things, that

"many spies and terrorists were already apprehended by the security forces"; reactionary and pro-American elements in North Vietnam "were exposed and executed."

He urged the secret police and loyal North Vietnamese to increase their vigilance in order "to defeat all enemy espionage and especially psychological war activities among the people."

By "psychological war activities" Ho Chi Minh presumably meant American and South Vietnamese propaganda leaflets, toys and other material dropped from airplanes.

Grosse Pointe Panel Brings Reaction

DETROIT (AP)—"It's an insult to both our young people and their parents," said Vincent Peterson, a Grosse Pointe junior high school principal.

"I was stunned by what I heard, but pleased it was so constructive," said Mrs. William V. Gard, a Grosse Pointe and president of the Junior League of Detroit.

These were some of the varied reactions Wednesday to a four-member panel's description of the fashionable, suburban Grosse Pointes as communities where "divorce and alcoholism are rampant" and where families "present their children with clothing, shelter and a rat race."

The panel of religious and educational leaders, appearing before Mrs. Gard's Junior League, also said pampered teen-agers drink excessively, screw dirty words in public places and sometimes end up in illegitimate pregnancies.

AFFLUENT FAMILIES

Many of Detroit's most affluent families live in the five communities along Lake St. Clair on the city's eastern border. The communities are Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe Park, Grosse Pointe Shores, Grosse Pointe Farms and Grosse Pointe Woods.

The panel was made up of the Rev. Franklin Bennett of Grosse Pointe's Christ Episcopal Church; Hugh Riddleberger, headmaster of private, prestigious Grosse Pointe University School; Dr. Armin Grams of Detroit's Merrill-Palmer Institute, which specializes in child guidance; and Dr. Charles Jennings, a Grosse Pointe pediatrician.

6 Juveniles Held in Rash of City Crime

Pontiac police have solved 11 recent break-ins and thefts with the arrest of six juveniles, investigators said today.

Two of the youths, aged 12 and 14 respectively, told juvenile division Patrolman Richard L. Hayes they had committed eight burglaries in the last two months.

The pair was apprehended by patrolmen Joseph W. Gallardo and Robert Bates following a break-in at the Thomas Economy Furniture Co. warehouse at 56 Osburn.

Upon being questioned by Hayes, the youths admitted two previous burglaries at the Thomas Co. warehouse; two others at Simms Brothers, Inc. warehouse at 34 Osburn; a break-in at Pontiac Truck & Trailer Service, 424 Ferry, and three other offenses.

The other four juveniles implicated each other in three burglaries under investigation by Detective Branton E. Dennis Jr. and Patrolman William P. Moore.

THREE JOBS

Aged 12 to 15, they admitted break-ins at Central Elementary School, 101 E. Pike; The Big Dipper, 304 E. Pike; and a residence at 46 Bellevue.

Dennis said investigators believe that as many as half a dozen additional complaints may be traced to the four.

Two in Troy Mute on Assault Charge

TROY — Raymond J. Zoellner, 28, of Detroit and Arthur M. Cohen, 31, of 27833 Independence, Farmington Township, stood mute yesterday in Municipal Court to a charge of felonious assault.

Judge Charles Losey set bond at $1,500 each and scheduled a hearing at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 28.

Troy police report the two were engaged as bodyguards for Lucien Beaudet, 2843 Somerset, and that the three were in Thunderbird lanes Tuesday night when Ernest A. Dacey, 2675 Somerset, entered.

The two bodyguards reportedly threatened Dacey with a gun, said police.

Military Doubts Hanoi Would Reciprocate

Officials Recall That N. Viets Used 1965 Pause for Rebuilding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like other Johnson administration officials, top Pentagon leaders are steadfastly against another Christmastide pause in the U.S. bombing of targets in North Viet Nam.

The Pentagon officials are known to believe there is no evidence now that Hanoi would respond affirmatively — either by taking steps to reduce the fighting or to begin peace talks — if the bombs stopped falling over the North.

As of today, officials believe the North Vietnamese would use any lull to do what they did during last year's pause — "take maximum advantage," as one official put it.

In a series of interviews, officials voiced concern that a bombing pause would give the enemy a chance to repair bridges, railroads and improve the distribution of badly shattered petroleum and oil stocks.

"They went full blast last year," said one well-informed source. "They'll do the same thing again."

VATICAN REPORTS

"Anytime you have one day or 37 days in which you aren't hampered, you do what you can."

There have been reports that Pope Paul VI again will call for a Christmas ceasefire and bombing pause in Viet Nam.

President Johnson ordered a pause in the bombings last Dec. 24 and called for their resumption Jan. 31 after reporting the United States had received no indication that Hanoi was willing to begin peace talks.

Opposition to another pause at this time has strongly united Pentagon's top military and civilian leaders — men who don't always see eye to eye.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS) are reportedly reported to be against any lull.

Dr. Sam Found Innocent by Jury

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard, cleared after 12 years in the bludgeon murder of his first wife, savored his complete freedom today and quietly vowed to build a new life with his second wife.

The balding, graying man of 42, who served nine years in prison for the crime of which he was acquitted by a jury last night, said: "How can I have anything in my heart left of bitterness. I have no bitterness. I have love in my heart."

His lawyers said they expected his psychiatric license, suspended while he was in prison, to be restored. But when asked if he will return to his career as a neurosurgeon, Sheppard replied: "I don't know if I will. If people need help, I will. If people are sick and need a neurosurgeon's help, I will."

As he spoke to newsmen in a downtown hotel, he kept his right arm tightly around his second wife, Ariane Tebbjenhams Sheppard, who has a 13-year-old daughter, by a first marriage, in her native Germany.

Sheppard's parents died 11 days apart shortly after his 1954 conviction, his mother by suicide.

12 HOURS

A jury of seven men and five women, acting just under 12 hours after receiving the case, found Sheppard innocent in the July 4, 1954, slaying of Marilyn Sheppard.

She was 31 and five months away from bearing his second child when she was beaten to death in the bedroom of their suburban Bay Village home. Sheppard said she was slain by an intruder.

As he heard Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty read the verdict, Sheppard, on his feet, slapped the counsel table a resounding blow of jubilation. Then, as his lawyers pushed him down into his chair, he began to sob, his shoulders shaking.

Later, in a corridor separating the courtroom where he was convicted in 1954 from the one where he was acquitted 12 years later, Sheppard exulted: "Christmas never has arrived this way!"

LIFE SENTENCE

A jury in Sheppard's first trial convicted him of second-degree murder, and he was sentenced to life imprisonment. He was released on $10,000 bond from Ohio State Penitentiary in 1964 and two days later married Ariane.

GM: No Basis for Nader Suit

Legal Liability Denied by Lawyer for Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — An attorney for General Motors says the corporation has no legal liability to Ralph Nader, the auto safety advocate who filed a $26-million invasion of privacy suit against the firm.

"In due course, the courts will vindicate our position," said the attorney, Simon H. Rifkind.

Vincent Gillen, a licensed private investigator who also was named as a defendant in the suit, described the charges as "a lot of nonsense."

Gillen said, "I'm not concerned about the lawsuit at all." Nader, 32, an attorney who led a successful fight for a new federal auto safety law, filed the suit yesterday in Manhattan Supreme Court.

The suit alleges that General Motors subjected Nader to "harassment and intimidation, and intruded into and invaded his seclusion, solitude and private affairs."

Nader charged in his suit that detectives hired by General Motors questioned his acquaintances and cast "aspersions upon plaintiff's political, social, economic, racial and religious views, tendencies and possible prejudices; his integrity, his sexual proclivities and inclinations; and his personal habits, such as use of intoxicants, narcotics and the like."

"This must not be the way to do it. We've already busted four tomatoes."

Welfare Panel Fills Vacancy in Top Post

Maurice J. Croteau, a nine-year member of the Oakland County Department of Social Welfare Board, yesterday was elected board chairman.

Croteau of 112 Marquette was elected to fill the chairmanship vacancy created by the death of John A. MacDonald last August. He was selected by the other two board members, Mrs. John Runney and Walter M. Coon.

He will assume the chairmanship immediately due to the vacancy and serve as chairman through 1967. Salary for the part-time position is $500 per year.

Owner of Maurice's Catering Service, Croteau, 59, has been active in numerous civic affairs.

He served on the County Board of Supervisors as a Pontiac representative for 10 years prior to his appointment by the supervisors to the welfare board.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Croteau served on the Pontiac Board of Education from 1951 to 1955 and was vice president in 1954. He was an organizer and first president of the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council and is a past president of the Oakland County Grocers Association.

MacDonald served nearly 30 years as board chairman.

Ike Pays LBJ Morning Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, described as doing very well after surgery, was up before dawn today, moved without help to a chair for breakfast, and entertained an early visitor, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The White House said Johnson awoke at 5:45 a.m.

Eisenhower arrived at the hospital two hours later to convey his good wishes to Johnson.

It was the 32nd wedding anniversary of the President, and Eisenhower was asked by newsmen as he came in if he had dropped by to offer congratulations on that event.

"Is it today?" the former chief executive responded.

'M' Report Indicates County Is Great Place

Oakland County is a great place in which to live and work, according to a report prepared by the Center for Urban Studies of the University of Michigan Dearborn Branch for the Oakland County Planning Commission. The report included the finding that most newcomers to Oakland County like it better than any other area in the metropolitan community and that when Oakland County residents go shopping they tend to patronize stores within the county.

About half the wage-earners in Oakland County earn $10,000 a year or more, according to the report, and only 19 per cent earn less than $6,000. Only 1 per cent of the labor force is unemployed.

Most people work within 10 miles of where they live. Among the reasons cited by residents for liking Oakland County better than their previous home location were good schools, good roads and pleasant, well-kept neighborhoods.

Preferred shopping locations listed were Pontiac, Birmingham, Royal Oak or the Northland shopping area.

DETROIT IGNORED

One-third of the residents interviewed said they never shop in Detroit.

The report also pointed out that Oakland is lower Michigan's largest county in area with 900 square miles and that its present estimated population is 650,000 compared to 254,000 in 1940.

Financed by federal funds, the study was begun last March.

Reelect Mayor in Sylvan Lake

The Sylvan Lake City Council last night reelected John M. Hanson as mayor. Hanson, a councilman since 1962, was elected mayor last June to succeed Donald A. Tows, who resigned in April.

Hanson, 45, of 2440 Garland is president of the Michigan Credit Councilors. He is also president of the American Association of Credit Councilors.

Fred Crossman of 2461 Renfrew was named mayor pro tem. He is chief estimator and sales engineer for Construction Pipe Co., Inc., Detroit.

The council also appointed Willis Brewer of 1655 Lakeview representative to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

By L. GARY THORNE

An in-depth study and analysis of housing needs in the Pontiac area has been launched by a blue ribbon committee of top-ranked community leaders, it was announced today.

Howard H. Fitzgerald II, publisher of The Pontiac Press, announced the organization of the 27-member group, which embraces a cross-section of city, county, industrial, business, labor and civic leaders.

Fitzgerald, chairman of the overall group, said two committees have been formulated to carry out the extensive probe of the Pontiac area housing situation.

The study is to be undertaken with the knowledge that the entire Pontiac area needs additional and more adequate housing now. The group has met four times in the past six weeks.

We recognize the need for more and better housing of all types throughout the area," Fitzgerald said of the committee.

STUDY NEEDS

The community leaders have designated a six-man subcommittee to study housing needs. Specifically, this group is to research the housing problem and determine just what is needed.

After a thorough view of the Pontiac area housing situation, the "needs" study subcommittee is to determine:

- What type of housing is needed — one-bedroom, two-bedroom, three-bedroom or more.

- What form of housing is necessary to combat the recognized shortage, meaning single homes, duplexes or apartment projects.

- How much housing (numbers) is needed and the cost range.

- Also, how such forms and types of housing can best be provided and by whom.

The 27-member housing committee also plans immediate action to aid the construction of various forms already planned but held up for lack of financing.

With Ken Morris, UAW region I-B director, as chairman, a nine-man executive subcommittee has been formulated to study the various methods of financing.

In addition to Morris, the executive group includes Fitzgerald, Charles Brown, division manager for Consumers Power Co.; A. C. Girard, president and chairman of the board of Community National Bank; Earl Maxwell, personnel director, GMC Truck & Coach Division; Bruce J. Annett of Annett, Inc., Realtors; Harold Goldberg, of Thomas Jewellery Co.; Lou Randall, research director for J. L. Hudson Co.; and Charles Tucker, president of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The "needs" study subcommittee is to be headed by Edward Barker, president of Pontiac State Bank.

U.N. Weighs Blast at Israel for Attack

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Security Council members conferred privately today on a resolution to censure Israel after the Big Four powers, in a rare display of agreement, joined in condemning the Israeli raid on Jordan last weekend.

Speaking at the start Wednesday of an urgent council debate called at Jordan's request, U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said the "inexcusable" attack violated Israel's armistice agreements. British Ambassador Lord Caradon said the attack increased the risk of "continued and wider conflict" in the Middle East.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko said the American and British statements should be followed by measures to prevent such raids from recurring. French Delegate Roger Seydoux also denounced the Israeli raid but said France took note of the School Center Bond Sale OK

Sale of $2.5 million in bonds at an interest rate of 4.525 per cent was authorized yesterday by the Oakland Schools Board of Education to finance the intermediate school district's proposed educational center.

Bonds were sold to First of Michigan Corp., whose proposal was the lower of two received.

Bank of the Commonwealth offered to purchase the bonds at an interest rate of 4.525 per cent.

The bond issue will span a five-year period with a total interest of $273,420 to be paid to First of Michigan Corp.

Construction of the five-story building and auditorium on a 26-acre site in the Oakland County service center is scheduled to begin in February with completion slated for September 1968.

NORTHWEST CORNER

The intermediate school system has leased the 26-acre site on the northwest corner of Pontiac Lake and Telegraph road from the county for 99 years at $1 per year.

Also specified in the lease agreement is that the county will take over the present 32,000-square-foot school system headquarters building in the service center when the new facility is completed.

A 25-mile property tax will finance the new building.

Miracle Mile Businesses Broken Into

Checks and an undetermined amount of cash were taken from two businesses at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center, Bloomfield Township, last night.

Three other break-ins were attempted, according to township police, but were unsuccessful.

Travelers express money orders and agency checks and cash were taken from the Brummett Agency, Inc., 2267 S. Telegraph. The Commercial Credit Plan, Inc., 2243 S. Telegraph, was also entered but the loss has not been determined.

The break-ins were discovered about 1:25 a.m. by Lt. Harold Pankner and Patrolman Marvin McVie who were making their rounds.

Pankner has asked merchants to be on the lookout for the travelers checks and the next few days.

Own Party Hits Diefenbaker

OTTAWA (AP) — The Conservative party has dealt a blow to its 71-year-old leader, John G. Diefenbaker, by voting to hold a national convention by the end of 1967 to review the party's leadership.

The 548-209 vote at the end of the party's annual meeting Wednesday amounted to a victory for Dalton Camp, president of the party. He has urged that the leadership be reviewed because of a judge's opinion that Diefenbaker, while prime minister, neglected his duty by not dismissing a Cabinet member involved in the Munsinger sex and security case.

Diefenbaker, party leader for 10 years, declined after the vote to indicate his next move.

"I am wounded but I am not slain; I will lay me down and rest a while and then arise again," he said, quoting an old ballad.

Medals of Honor to 4 GIs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson has approved the awarding of the nation's highest military medal — the Medal of Honor — to four Army heroes of Viet Nam, two of whom died in action.

The President signed the Medal of Honor certificates yesterday in his room at Bethesda Naval Hospital where he underwent surgery.

Posthumous awards will be made to Spec. 4 Daniel Fernandez of Los Lunas, N.M., who threw himself on a hand grenade to protect his companions, and 2nd Lt. Robert J. Hibbs of Cedar Falls, Iowa, who was killed while covering the withdrawal of his men when they came under heavy enemy attack.

The other two Medal of Honor winners were Spec. 5 Lawrence Galt, Fayetteville, N.C., a medic who continued to aid the wounded for 24 hours even though he was wounded in the leg and hip, and 2nd Lt. Walter J. Marm, Washington, Pa., who wiped out an enemy machine gun nest even though he was wounded.

Known as the "Mark Twain of the Camera," Midgley refers to his movies as chucklelogues.

His film will show Denver, Pikes Peak, the Garden of the Gods, the Royal Gorge, Estes Park, Rocky Mountain National Park, the Ascent of Long's Peak, the Trail Ridge Road, the Mountain of the Holy Cross, the Black Canyon of the Gunnison, Mesa Verde and

Smog Rule Hits at '67 Car Sales

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — The state Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board yesterday adopted a resolution which could ban the sale of all or most new model cars next year.

The board adopted a resolution saying exhaust emission control systems for use on cars in the state for 1966 and later models would not be approved unless there was clear evidence that exhaust emissions would be controlled within state standards.

The resolution was based on results of tests made by both the board staff and manufacturers. The results indicated the effectiveness of smog control devices deteriorated with the age of the cars.

Representatives of the automotive industry testified speakers who were taken to work out the problems but admitted problems existed.

Waterford JCs Seeking Junior Miss Contestants

Entrants are being sought for next month's Waterford Township Junior Miss Pageant to be held Dec. 10 at Mason Junior High School.

Open to senior girls from Waterford Township, Waterford Kettering and Our Lady of the Lakes high schools, the pageant again this year is being sponsored by the Waterford Township Jaycees.

Contestants must be at least 16 years old and not more than 18 next March 16.

Entry forms can be obtained from Mrs. Ted McCullough Jr., of 3569 Brookdale. Applications must be returned to Mrs. McCullough by midnight Nov. 28.

The winner of the local competition will be awarded a $250 college scholarship plus a trophy and will automatically qualify for the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant in Pontiac.

LAST YEAR'S TITLIST

Last year's local titlist was Gayanne Mansfield of Waterford Township High School, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mansfield of 5186 Durham.

She is expected to take part in this year's pageant.

The Jaycees stress it is not a beauty contest and that there will be no bathing suit competition.

Contestants will be rated by a panel of three judges on scholastic achievement, poise and appearance, youth fitness, creative and performing arts and conferences with the judges.

WILL BE QUESTIONED

Each entrant will be questioned by the judges for a 10-minute period starting at 10 a.m. Dec. 10. They will be asked the same questions, according to Jaycees.

The girls will be judged on personality, sense of values, clarity of expression, knowledge and perception, mental alertness, personal appearance and human relations.

Then the girls will attend a luncheon. They will return at 7:30 for the evening program.

The fun will actually begin at 8 tonight at the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake, when the Jaycees will hold a coffee and cake hour for parents of prospective contestants. A film on the 1966 Junior Miss Pageant will be shown.

Detroit Lawyer Named to Staff of Prosecutor

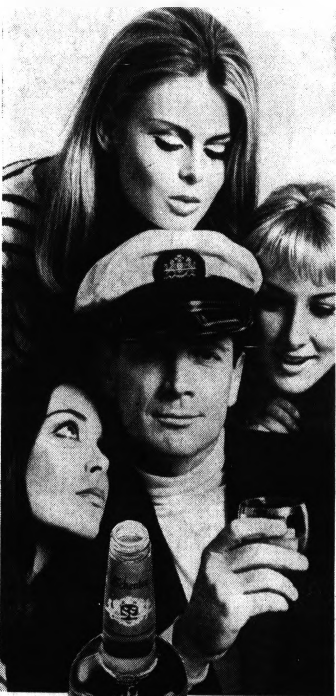

Charles Y. Cooper, a Detroit attorney, has joined the staff of Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson, it was announced today.

Cooper, 39, was associated in private practice with Ellis R. Van Hoesen for two years before his appointment. Before then he was with the firm of Sullivan, Eames, Moody and Petrillo, Detroit.

A 1963 graduate of the University of Detroit Law School, Cooper served on the Most Court Board of Governors. He and his wife, Elizabeth Ann, have one daughter.

Mrs. Donald Redmond, Fortress Road, (left) and Mrs. John A. Benson, North Berkshire Road, are busy working on plans for the third annual Hi Fever Frolic on Dec. 2 at the Elks Temple. Sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital, the event which is open to the public helps raise money for equipment in the emergency room and the physical therapy department.

Fever Frolic Is Planned in December

Hi Fever Frolic III will take place Dec. 2 at the Elks Temple. Originated in 1964 after the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital decided to drop the Hi Fever Follies, the dance has been a successful event.

Proceeds are used to buy needed equipment at the hospital, beyond that supplied through the regular budget.

The Carl Edson Big Band Sound will again furnish music for dancing, says Mrs. Edward F. Dalton who is general chairman with her husband.

Dancing begins at 9:30 p. m. and breakfast will be served after midnight.

Working on arrangements are the James Clarksons; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barker, Jr.; the William Deans, the Donald Redmonds; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Allen and Mrs. Clark J. Adams.

Others are Peter Campbell, Warren Newton and Richard Petruscha; also Mesdames James Millis; C. J. Odell; John Benson; Roger O'Neil; Cecil Strickland; Gene Connell; Forest Wood and Miss Amina Lennon.

Tickets for the dance are available at First Federal Savings of Oakland, Pontiac General Hospital and the Elks Temple.

Group Plans Special Tea for Friday

The International Club will host a 1 p. m. open house and tea Friday in the Pontiac YWCA. The occasion marks the observance of World Fellowship Week.

Members of the International Club were foreign born and now reside in the Pontiac area. Mrs. Leo Petruscha and Mrs. Dennis Holloway will be in charge of music.

Handmade items from the Holy Land will be on sale, the proceeds of which will be donated to the YWCA for fellowship work around the world.

Anyone interested may attend.

Student Chosen for Production

Alma College student Ted McConnell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McConnell of Brooks Street has been chosen for the cast of "Dream Girl." The Alma College group will be presenting the play Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

It is a comedy fantasy, originally produced in New York in 1945. Ted will play two different characters in his role.

Music Guild to Present Two Grinnell Winners

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

It has been a yearly tradition that Cranbrook music Guild presents in its November program winners of the Detroit Grand Opera Association's Grinnell Opera Scholarship and the Grinnell Piano Contest.

They are Robert Taylor, baritone and Rita Sloan, pianist. The concert takes place in Cranbrook House on Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.

The artists will be introduced by Mrs. Sam Williams of Hammond Lake who is the former well known artist. Barbara Gibson, Mrs. Williams is chairman of the Detroit Grand Opera Association scholarship committee.

She will give a brief resume of the award winners who through the years have become recognized artists in this country as well as abroad.

Mrs. Richard A. Jones is in charge of the afterglow following the concert. She will be assisted by Mesdames: William R. Brashear and Edmund W. Pratt.

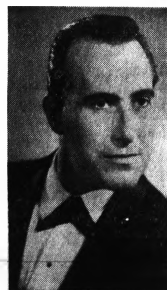

AREA FINALISTS

Mrs. Sixten Ehrling, chairman of the jury selecting a 1966 Michigan Lucia has announced that two girls from this area are among the six finalists. They are Robyn L. Andersen, daughter of Mrs. Stanley R. Andersen of Kellen Lane and the late Mr. Andersen. Sherry Lundgren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Lundgren, South Hill Drive.

The girls will appear at the Lucia banquet at the Whittier hotel on Nov. 26 when each candidate will give a two-minute speech "the meaning of light to me."

Lucia will be crowned with a crown made of green leaves and seven candles.

The Detroit-Swedish Council sponsors the contest. On this occasion His Excellency, Hubert

Woman's Literary Club Aids University Fund

Oakland University's newest student loan fund has been set up by a Pontiac women's club whose members have been dedicated to a personal form of continuing education for 75 years.

Officers of the Woman's Literary Club of Pontiac presented a check for $936 to Robert Swanson, Oakland's director of business affairs, as part of the club's observance of its "Diamond Jubilee" year.

In accepting the gift, Swanson commented that it would represent, because of the continual turnover of short-term loans to students faced with unexpected money problems, about $5,000 in loans annually.

Mrs. John Wilson, president of the club, said the money came from bake sales and similar fund-raising projects over the past several years.

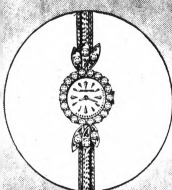

The primary purpose of the organization since it was founded in 1891 as Pontiac's first women's club, she said, has been to pursue a rigid program of reading study.

Mrs. John Wilson, Dwight Avenue, president of the Woman's Literary Club of Pontiac, presents a check for $936 to Robert Swanson, director of business affairs for Oakland University. The donation will be used for short term student loans. Two other members of the club looking on from left are Mrs. Fred Manes of Tasmania Avenue and Mrs. Harry Vernon of West Rundell Street.

Polly's Pointers

Tacks Do the Trick

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell the lady who asked how to make a small rug loom that while I was in school, I made one by using an inexpensive picture frame. They can be bought very cheaply, in any size and are easy to move around. If you wish to take it on a trip, it is easy to untack the rug and take the frame apart. — VAL.

GIRLS — Often just thumbtacks are strong enough to hold the rug on the frame. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — I always seem to have more problems than Pointers concerning homemaking. My biggest problem right now seems to be cleaning my glass fiber TV trays. They have a collection of multi-colored food stains that neither detergents, scouring powders nor household bleach will erase. Can anyone help me? — MAX.

DEAR POLLY — I found that the small spatula in a child's baking set is ideal for scraping batter from the beaters of my electric mixer. — MRS. J. V.

DEAR POLLY — I cut the bottoms out of two large paper cups and use them to slip over my wrists and cuffs. These keep the cuffs and sleeves from becoming soiled while I am cooking and washing dishes when I have on a good dress.

Tobacco stains can be removed from copper and brass ashtrays by giving them a thin coat of denatured alcohol. Apply with a small paintbrush and rub to a polish with a clean soft cloth. (Polly's note: Even rubbing alcohol worked on my ashtrays. I poured a little in the bottom of each one and then rubbed with a paper towel.)

Waterproof the pocket on your utility apron by sewing a lining of plastic material inside. This is handy when cleaning with a wet or damp cloth. — BLANCHE R. F. P. to use paint remover on the masking tape that will not come off her windows. I had the same problem last week and this worked like a charm. — MRS. J. E. M.

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

Cleanliness is Training in Israel

One of the lasting impressions brought back by a recent visitor to Israel is the uniformly immaculate appearance of its young people. Older Israelis explain that both young men and women are required to give two years of military service during which the highest standards of personal cleanliness are enforced.

The State of Israel also makes sure that all children have the opportunity to practice bathing and grooming by providing a well-equipped bathroom in every apartment built for newly-arrived refugees.

Newcomers unacquainted with the luxury of running hot water and plumbing are instructed in their use and care—and are expected to include soap in the purchases made from the cash allowance they receive for living expenses until they become employable.

Put Return Address on Kids

When you get right down to it — take the kids out for an afternoon of shopping or sight-seeing "fun" — and you constantly worry about their straying off and getting lost.

Well, don't just stand there worrying. Do something. Get yourself a flock of Iron-on Patches (or Patchettes) in colors to match the lining of junior's jackets and coats. And mark yourself a good laundry marking pen—in red or bright blue.

Then, hand-print junior's name, address and telephone number (and perhaps a relative's phone number, too) on each patch. You can even have the identification for His Nibs by adding the designation: Special Agent 0067.

Place the patch over or below the manufacturer's label, press into place, following instructions on the patch package.

Easy, isn't it? And, incidentally, that patch will outlast the garment, if applied properly.

Oh yes! Be sure to brief your child that this is a special kind of identification and that it's only used to identify him for other special agents such as policemen, firemen, department store managers, teachers, etc., when it's necessary to get back to Mother or Dad in a hurry.

This suggestion works just as well for little girl explorers, too.

Pre-Heat Thermos

Fitting Patches

Cover those holes in the knees of baby's overalls with bright animal shapes, a little girl's dress with a flower patch.

Fernald Theater Troupe Enthusiastic

By PAT McCARTY

"Vive la company!" was the spirit of actors and actresses yesterday as they matched the enthusiasm of John Fernald and Oakland University in development of the Meadow Brook Theatre.

The 22 members of the John Fernald Company, most of whom arrived on campus Tuesday, were introduced to community leaders and the press at a Detroit Athletic Club luncheon yesterday.

Attracted here by the opportunity to work with Fernald, the actors and actresses expressed an eagerness to be involved in this major theatrical undertaking.

They also were quick to refer to the role a receptive community will play in the success of the venture.

"This is terrific," said one. "And it's so important to us as it is to you."

"I can't get over the welcome we've received," commented another. "I'm used to dingy hotel rooms and the like."

Following the luncheon, the troupe returned to campus to begin rehearsal for Brecht's "The Caucasian Chalk Circle."

The play will open the company's 21-week premiere season Jan. 4.

The experienced cast members, most of whom have appeared on Broadway, indicated they consider working with Fernald a learning experience.

FAMED ACADEMY

Fernald came here after serving as principal of the famed Royal Academy of Dramatic Art for 10 years.

Among those who have performed under his direction are Dame Judith Anderson, Peter Ustinov, Sibeham McKenna, Susannah York and Albert Finney.

Ustinov called Fernald's departure from the London academy "saddening for Britain and another stroke of gratuitous fortune for her powerful ally."

The majority of the company

members for the premiere season are former students of Fernald at the RADA.

BROADWAY ROLES

Coming to OU from London via Broadway is Eric Berry, whose recent roles in New York include parts in "Tiny Alice," "Gideon" and "The White House."

Three Detroit natives are in the cast — Roger Middleton, Robert McKee and Howard Green, whose wife, Pauline Reynolds, also is with Meadow Brook Theatre.

FIRST TIME

Working under the direction of Fernald for the first time are Americans George Guidall, William Gleason, Robert Donley and Roni Dengel.

Fernald, 61, was born in California but emigrated to England as a child.

"I learned that there were 43 resident theaters in America and not one of them in Michigan," he says of his decision to come here. "Well, I thought to myself, they should jolly well have one."

Beier Earns Grid Award

Miami Ace Makes Writers Take Notice

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The hot-back breaks loose for 60 yards and the winning touchdown in another. Maybe the passer would have been a bum except for fine receiving and rock-bound protection in the pocket. Maybe the running back would have been stopped cold without that downfield blocking.

But they're the glamour guys, and the experts go for them when they vote on the star players of the day.

DEFENSIVE BACK

This week, sportswriters in the football stronghold of the Southeast broke the pattern. They dug into the unsung defense to pick Miami's Tom Beier as their "Back of the Week."

Beier, 6-11, 200-pound strong-boy, didn't score any touchdowns, but he didn't let Pittsburgh score any, either.

Beier was a sophomore and brother Fred a senior fullback at the University of Detroit when the school dropped football in 1964. Tom subsequently transferred to Miami with several other ex-Tans.

A standout in one of the nation's most rugged defenses, he put fierce pressure on the Panthers, who trailed 38-9 when Beier and his mates turned the job over to the clean-shirted third stringers.

Beier, a headhunter who can strike into an enemy backfield to clobber a play or go deep to pick off a pass, set up two Miami touchdowns, one on an interception and another when he forced a fumble and recovered on the Pitt 11.

But you might call it about an average day for Beier, son of a Fremont, Ohio, farmer who produces grain, cows, fullbacks and halfbacks.

Migrating to Miami when Detroit dropped football after the 1964 season, Beier established himself in Miami's second game of 1965. He bottled up Floyd Little as the Hurricanes blasted Syracuse out of the top ten, 24-0.

He made 16 tackles in that game, and he made 17 when Miami fought Notre Dame to a scoreless tie in the year's finale.

With two games to go this season, Beier has tied the school record for a defensive halfback with 90 tackles.

When the Hurricanes beat fifth-ranked Southern California, Beier again tackled 17 ball carriers. He led the defense as Miami dumped unbeaten Georgia 7-6.

Against Tulane, he preserved a 10-10 tie with an end zone interception, tearing the ball out of the hands of Lennis O'Steen.

Tom is the fifth back raised by his father, Robert. All six played at St. Joseph High School in Fremont.

Fred made the Catholic All-America team as a fullback at Detroit. Mike is a sophomore halfback at Michigan. Halfback Jim passed up college. Still at St. Joseph are Steve, a fullback, and Bill, a halfback.

And Chuck, 11, appears to be growing into a fullback.

Miami's Coach Charlie Tate says Beier is the best defensive back he has coached at Florida, Georgia Tech and Miami — "a deadly tackler, pass defender and leader." And Tate is keeping an eye on Fremont.

"If the three younger boys are going to be like Tom," he said, "we'd better get friendly with them."

DETROIT TO MIAMI — Tom Beier, who played college football at University of Detroit before the school dropped the sport in 1964, moved onto Miami to finish his college career and he's turned out to be the workhorse in the Miami defense. Coach Charlie Tate says Beier is the best defensive back he's ever coached.

Report Claims Coliseum Site of Super Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The first professional football championship matching the National and American leagues — the Super Bowl — will be played Jan. 15 in Memorial Coliseum, the Los Angeles Times reports.

The Times said it learned Wednesday that NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle was in town to make arrangements for the game. But Rozelle was unavailable for comment, the Times said.

The leagues must approve the site, the story said, but are expected to do so at a meeting Nov. 28 in New York.

The Pro Bowl game, matching all-star teams from the NFL, would be played Jan. 22 in the $5,000-seat Coliseum.

'67 Gold Cup Race Awarded to Seattle

DETROIT (AP) — Seattle, with a bid of $55,000, Wednesday was awarded the 1967 Gold Cup hydroplane race by the American Power Boat Association.

The race will be run Aug. 6 on Lake Washington.

Detroit was the scene of the 1966 Gold Cup, won on a bid of $75,888. The Motor City bid $32,500 for the 1967 event.

Trailing in the bidding for next year's premier powerboat race were: Tampa, Fla. $50,000; Pasco, Wash., $35,000; and Sacramento, Calif., $15,000.

Arfons Delays Bid for Speed Record

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Art Arfons changed his mind Wednesday about trying to set a world land speed record in his jet-powered "Green Monster."

Brisk winds and lack of charges to blast loose his parachute braking assembly forced the Akron, Ohio, auto racer to postpone until Thursday any further runs through a measured mile and kilometer on these western Utah salt flats.

Arfons has been on the flats since Monday testing his car. He has made three attempts at the 600.601 mile per hour record set last year by Craig Breedlove of Los Angeles, but so far has reached only 355 m.p.h.

Cowboys Remain Atop Loop Statistical Ladder

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys hold the lead in four of the six major team categories including total offense and total defense in the National Football League, the latest figures revealed Wednesday.

The Cowboys, with five games remaining, are setting the pace in total offense with an average gain of 418.4 yards and in total defense with a yield of 235.3 yards a game.

Dallas also is No. 1 in passing offense with a 265.8 yard average and rushing defense, 73.4 yards.

The Cleveland Browns are the runners-up in total offense with a 361.7 yard average followed by the Baltimore Colts, 345.7. The Green Bay Packers are No. 2 in total defense with a 240.7 yards-a-game mark.

The Browns remained tops in rushing with a 168.7 yard average and Green Bay leads in pass defense with 124.2 yards.

HEMMED IN—Chicago Black Hawks' forward Eric Nesterenko (15) is caught between New York Rangers goalie Ed Giacomin (1) and Harry Howell (3) as he tries to score in

Goalender Provides Big Save vs. NY

By The Associated Press

Glenn Hall is back in the Chicago Black Hawks' nets and it's no coincidence that the Hawks have allowed the fewest goals and are leading the National Hockey League.

Hall made what New York General Manager Coach Emile Francis called "the save of the year." Wednesday night, protecting Chicago's 2-2 tie against the Rangers in the only NHL game played.

The big save came on Orland Kurtenbach in the second period. Billy Hicke had shot the puck and Hall steered it away.

Both Kurtenbach and a range center, picked up the rebound on Hall's front slap with the Hawk goalie bending the wrong way.

"There was nothing but net when I shot. I thought it was a sure goal," Kurtenbach said.

Somehow Hall reached up and gloved the puck, saving the goal.

"I just reached across for it," Hall said later. "It was a tough chance."

After the game settled into a tight defensive struggle and the teams played scoreless hockey after Bobby Hull's power play goal tied the game at 12:48 of the second period.

Hull's seventh goal of the season came with Kurtenbach in the penalty box. He turned Chicago's Maki's goalmouth pass behind Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin.

Skipper Opens Defense of Title With Two Wins

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Frank Wooser, the defending champion from San Francisco, won the first two races Wednesday in the international one-day yachting championships.

The Royal Bermuda Yacht Club race committee abandoned the last leg of the second race because of darkness. Warren Brown of Bermuda was recalled at the start and Herman Whitton of Long Island Sound fouled out by Rudy R. Deering of West Vancouver, British Columbia.

At the end of the two races, Wooser had 24½ points. He finished ahead of Larry Grinnell, also of San Francisco, in the first race, and ahead of Ingar Dobloug of Norway in the second.
