Hurricanes Whip North Sea Third Day

24 Feared Dead as Gales Pound Seawalls, Ships

Hope Dims for Safety of 19 on Belgian Vessel; More Storms Forecast

LONDON (U) — Winter hurricanes roared over the North Sea for the third straight day today, battering shipping and hurling mountainous waves against West Europe's sea defenses.

At least 24 persons were believed dead in the continuing storm. Weather experts predicted more gales on the way.

Distress signals were received from ships along the British, Belgian, Dutch and north German coasts. Most shipping in the North Sea and English Channel had fled to safe harbors.

It appeared that help would reach most of the ships in danger, but hope was virtually abandoned for the 1,325-ton Belgian freighter Henri Dewet and all 19 crewmen aboard. No word had been heard since the ship reported yesterday morning she was sinking off Holland and unable to launch lifeboats in the mountainous seas.

Another ship feared lost off The Netherlands yesterday, the 1,317-ton Swedish freighter Petra, was located early last night and her 21-man crew was reported safe. Rescue tugs scurried out to help the vessel, reported helpless and leaking.

Four deaths were reported from mountainous areas of Scotland. And one man was killed in north Germany.

Winds up to 85 miles an hour swept the British Isles. The havoc was worst in Scotland, where sleet and hail added to the damage.

Dikes in The Netherlands broke in six places yesterday but were hastily repaired.

The departure of the 83,000-ton Queen Elizabeth for New York was delayed by high winds at Southampton, England. The ship had aboard 805 passengers, who embarked last night. A spokesman for the Cunard line said that if the weather improved the liner would leave on the high tide tomorrow morning.

On England's west coast, the 19,379-ton Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia battled gales at the mouth of the Mersey River in an effort to reach Liverpool. She was hours late on a voyage from Canada, carrying 250 passengers and loads of Christmas mail and parcels.

In Bavaria, 95-mile-an-hour winds screamed over the Zugspitze Peak, Germany's highest mountain. Twenty inches of snow blocked roads in the Vosges Mountains of France.

Warmer Weather Predicted for Area

Snow flurries predicted for tomorrow and Saturday bring hopes of a white Christmas, but the U.S. Weather Bureau says it will be even warmer tonight and tomorrow.

A low of 28 to 32 is expected tonight with a high of 30 to 34 forecast for Friday. It will be a little colder in the Pontiac area Christmas Eve, with the low expected to be from 14 to 18. Cloudy skies are predicted for the weekend.

Despite a forecast for cloudy skies yesterday, the sun broke through several times and brought the mercury up from 10 degrees at 4 a.m. to 29 early in the afternoon. A few light snow flurries were reported.

In downtown Pontiac at 8 o'clock this morning the mercury stood at 29 degrees, rising to 33 by 1 p.m.

After Mice, Not Cash

MILAN, Italy (U) — The wall of sirens from the new electric warning system in Milan's National Ban of Labor brought police and firemen running last night. They found a black kitten, stealing mice near the vaults.

Guess Who Missed a Pre-Holiday Visit?

SUGAR PLUM DREAMS—Some people sleep the best part of their lives away. While Johnny Violette, 21 months old, of Lincoln, Neb., presumably is dreaming of Santa and sugar plums he should open his eyes and look around. Santa was visiting children's ward in a Lincoln hospital on one of his pre-Christmas rounds.

For Your Christmas Giving

Forgotten Someone? There's Still Time to Make Careful Last Minute Purchases

By JANET ODELL

Even if you have been foresighted enough to buy all your presents early, there is a certain excitement about shopping on the day before Christmas. For all of you who still need just one more thing here's a round-up of last-minute suggestions.

Leather slippers with matching bunny fur cuffs may be had for mothers and daughters; they come in all the pastel colors. Along this same line of thinking, you might consider a long-handled metal shoe horn—wonderful for people with back trouble!

Members of the Eastern Star are sure to like earrings made from emblems.

Any woman, young or old, would like a suede case containing three jeweled lipsticks. The man who cares about fashion will thank you when he opens a box containing a cultured pearl tie tack; a tie tack (and we had to be told, also) goes right through the tie to anchor it, and also is decorative.

Is there a youngster still to be remembered? Anyone in the upper grade school set would delight in a ball point pen. Comb and brush sets might encourage neater hair. For a dollar you can get a tie and pencil box packed together.

Sheppard Defense Asking New Trial

CLEVELAND (INS) — William Corrigan, chief defense counsel for convicted murderer Dr. Sam Sheppard, today prepared to file a motion for a new trial for the osteopath, probably tomorrow.

Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin, who sentenced the suburban Bay Village neurosurgeon to life imprisonment after a jury found him guilty of second degree murder, has set next Thursday as the hearing date for the motion.

Meanwhile, Corrigan stated that the Sheppard family had hired a private investigator to find the "real murderer."

Tinker Way to Freedom and New Life

CZECHS WHO PIERCED IRON CURTAIN IN HOMEMADE TANK SETTLED HAPPILY IN U.S.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (U) — Remember the Czechs who punched through the Iron Curtain in a rattletrap disguised as a tank?

There were eight of them, Mr. and Mrs. Vaclav Uhlik; their children, Vaclav Jr., 6, and Eva, 5; Walter Hora, 26; Vaclav Krejcirik, 26; Joseph Pisarik, 43; and Mrs. Libuse Cloud, wife of an American soldier.

Come Saturday, Uhlik and his associates will have been in this country two Christmases. How are they making out?

In the near 17 months since their nerve dash to freedom Vaclav Uhlik has:

1. Come to America; 2. Got a good-paying job; 3. Settled with his family in a four-room apart-

also cuff links and tie clasps. Stick cologne is entirely appropriate for even young ladies if you pick the flower scents.

Holiday candles are always welcome and are nice for your Christmas hostess. We saw some intriguing star ones that burned in a different color from the outside. We saw others on which you drop pine oil occasionally for a pleasing fragrance. Replicas of old apothecary bottles should prove interesting to the lover of antiques.

As an unusual autograph object, get a stuffed dog with a specially treated "hide" on which his owners friends can write their John and Jane Henrys.

For a gift to an entire family, buy one of the exciting new and modern stereoscopes. They are magnifying, have a focusing mechanism and a built-in light. The accompanying pictures are spectacular.

Crash Is Among Worst in History Near Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (U) — Last night's crash of a chartered airliner in which 10 of 28 persons aboard are reported missing was one of the worst to occur in the Pittsburgh district.

The worst tragedy occurred March 26, 1937, when a TWA airliner crashed into a nearby cornfield. Thirteen persons were killed.

On April 7, 1936, a TWA airliner, the Sun Racer en route from Washington to Pittsburgh, plowed into Chestnut Ridge near Uniontown. Twelve were killed. Only the hostess, Nellie Granger, and a passenger survived.

On Sept. 6, 1936, a sightseeing plane trailed off the end of the runway at Allegheny County Airport and crashed in flames. Nine persons died in the blazing wreckage.

Clare Luce Gives Feed to Drought-Hit Livestock

CAGLIARI, Italy (U) — U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce arrived today by plane from Rome with a Christmas gift of feed for the drought-hit livestock of this Italian island.

She presented the first sacks of 15,000 tons of feed supplies valued at one million dollars the United States is giving to Sardinia.

McCarran Act Upheld by Court

Appellate Bench Rules 2-1 Against Communist Challenge of Law

WASHINGTON (U) — The U.S. Court of Appeals in a 2-1 decision today upheld validity of the 1950 Internal Security Act which requires the Communist party to register as Russian-dominated.

The law is known as the McCarran Act after its author, the late Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.).

The split appellate court decision was the first ruling on constitutionality of the law.

Under it, the Communist party must list its officers and members with the Justice Department and account for its contributions and expenditures. The law also requires registration of "Communist-action" and "Communist-front" groups.

Mendes Moves to Get Big Vote on Paris Pacts

Calls Assembly Chiefs to Meeting in Attempt to Halt Abstentions

PARIS (INS) — A continuing indication that hundreds of French deputies will abstain from the crucial vote on the Paris accords forced Premier Pierre Mendes-France into action today.

The dynamic, youthful premier called for a meeting this afternoon of the leaders of the majority groups in the National Assembly to make a final effort to stop the trend toward massive abstentions.

Thus far, virtually no speakers in the four-day-old debate have come out flatly in favor of the agreements except the socialists.

The deputies have given only conditional support or indicated an intention to abstain from the voting.

Mendes-France, fighting to make good his commitment to achieve unconditional ratification of the accords, therefore asked the assembly to convene this afternoon at 4 p.m. (11 a.m. EST) instead of 3 o'clock.

The premier asked the leaders of the majority groups to meet with him at the usual 3 p.m. hour and discuss the outlook for the passage of the pacts.

Mendes-France, who has staked the life of his government on passage, will make a final appeal against abstentions. It will be aimed chiefly at the moderates in the Assembly, most of whom supported the rejected European Defense Community treaty.

The moderates and the popular Republicans oppose Mendes-France because he did not support EDC unreservedly, but they will not vote against the Paris treaties and be responsible for bringing the government down.

This attitude combined with an inability to resolve a "crisis of conscience" over the deeply divisive issue of German rearmament was proving a worse obstacle to ratification than outright opposition which is limited chiefly to the Communists and their few allies.

As this morning's session began, more than a score of speakers listed for the debate had yet to take the floor.

The Assembly's "elder statesman," 82-year-old Edouard Herriot was expected to intervene in this afternoon's debate and make his position known. Despite his age and ill health, he has attended the debate sessions regularly.

Christmas Greeting Costs Taxi Driver $40

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UP) — William Watts, a cab driver, paid $40 to get a Christmas greeting.

Watts' billfold containing the money was stolen over the weekend, and yesterday the billfold—minus the money—was returned in the mail with a note that read: "Sorry to have inconvenienced you, Bill. Merry Christmas."

The American coffee break helped the men improve their English. Mrs. Uhlik, with less contact with the public, hasn't kept pace. But the children, Eva in kindergarten, young Vaclav in first grade—have no trouble conversing with schoolmates.

Pisarik was the first to land a job. He was hired by Westinghouse Electric, cutting copper tubes for compressors in the company's household refrigerator division.

Uhlik found employment as an automotive mechanic. Hora works in the paint department of an automobile agency. Krejcirik is a farm hand in nearby Monson.

The American Heritage Foundation brought them to Springfield—except for Mrs. Cloud who went on to her husband's home state of Iowa.

FROM MONONGAHELA—Workers attach a cable early today to the tail section of a chartered airliner which crash-landed last night in the Monongahela River near Pittsburgh. Ten of the 28 men aboard—23 Army veterans and 5 crew members, were still missing at dawn. The rest were saved.

Laughead Back in Michigan

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

CHICAGO — Dr. Charles Laughead fought today to stay out of a mental institution so he can continue his prophecies of worldwide disaster.

The ousted Michigan State College doctor drove back to Lansing to "see what I can do" about his sister's petition that he and his wife be committed to mental hospitals.

Meanwhile, he told newsmen last night, he and Mrs. Dorothy Martin, 53, will work in closer harmony to "complete" their predictions of the end of the world.

Laughead's freedom was threatened earlier yesterday when his sister, Margaret Laughead of Des Moines, Iowa, filed a petition in Probate Court at Lansing asking that he be committed as a "religious fanatic" who "believes that he is to create a new age."

The petition also asked for the commitment of Mrs. Laughead on similar grounds and that a guardian be appointed for the couple's three children, Charles, 18, Charles Jr., 17, and Marilyn, 9.

Laughead's career as a prophet of doom suffered a setback Tuesday when the city of Chicago got through the day without being engulfed by a tidal wave as he predicted.

The 44-year-old doctor and Mrs. Martin explained they had received a last minute "message" from space men who watch over the world that Chicago would be relieved.

Military Flight Drops in River Near Pittsburgh

Nine Army Men, Pilot Lost After Chill Swim; 18 Escape Unharmed

PITTSBURGH (U) — An airliner carrying 28 men—23 of them Army veterans homeward bound for Christmas—pancaked into the icy Monongahela River last night.

At dawn today, 10 men still were missing. Eighteen—four of them crewmen—were saved and acts of heroism in the murky midnight waters were many. No Michigan men were listed among the passengers or crew.

The twin-engined DC3 chartered airliner, en route from the Newark, N. J., airport to three West Coast forts, splashed into the river 15 miles south of here shortly before midnight.

A tower operator at Allegheny County Airport—some two miles from the crash scene—said the pilot reported he was out of gas and was "going to ditch."

Pilot Harold Poe, 33, of Seattle, Wash., one of the missing, skillfully guided the big ship to a crash landing near the shore. It floated for some 15 minutes, while the men scrambled to the wings. Some went back into the ship for their gear.

Then the ship slipped back into midstream—some 300 feet from shore. It was an icy swim to some in the 18 degree chill and some of the men apparently couldn't make it.

The liner sank in about 12 feet of oily water.

Help came fast from shore. Rescuers formed human chains to pull the oil-soaked men up the slippery river banks.

Motorists on the river bank turned their lights on the scene, spotlighting the way for the chilled-to-the-bone men.

All 18 were rushed to the McKeesport Hospital. There wasn't a broken bone among them and the hospital said the chief ailment was exposure to the cold.

The public information officer at Camp Kilmer said the plane was bound for Ft. Carson, Colo., Ft. Ord, Calif., and Ft. Lewis, Wash. It was on the first leg of its trip. An operation officer said the flight was a Civil Air Movement, a service employed by the Army to move troops.

In New York, the Civil Aeronautics Board said an investigation is under way but declined to give any details.

The CAB said the plane was scheduled to stop at the Allegheny County Airport.

Other scheduled stops were Colorado Springs, Colo.; Monterey, Calif.; and Tacoma, Wash.

Polio Patient Gives Birth to Five-Pound Baby

A woman polio patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Tuesday took her first look at the healthy, five-pound, eight-ounce baby girl, Marilyn Louise, who was born to her Sunday at the hospital.

The mother, Mrs. Joseph Reske, 29, of 26555 W. Twelve-Mile Rd., Southfield, has three other children awaiting her return home. One of these, a girl, Judith Ann, 3, was stricken just two days after the mother, August 15.

Mrs. Reske was treated briefly at Oakland County Contagious Hospital before being admitted to Sister Kenny Polio Hospital in Farmington. She was a respirator patient there until the first of November, when she was transferred here to await the birth.

Little Judith Ann was admitted to the Sister Kenny Hospital on August 17 and was discharged on Sept. 8, although she is still under treatment there.

The husband and father, Joseph Reske is a landscaper.

Mrs. Reske, a graduate nurse from Providence Hospital, Detroit, is in the recovery stage, according to hospital authorities.

Nurses at the hospital are really thrilled over the new baby, named Marilyn Louise.

Christmas Eve Carol Sing Will Be Held at Shain Park

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — A tradition that dates back so far not even the sponsoring Birmingham Musicale can trace its beginnings, will again be repeated tomorrow night as families gather beneath the lighted tree and manger in Shain Park for the annual Christmas Eve community carol program.

Chairman Mrs. Joseph E. Williams said newcomers are especially invited to attend the 5:30 p.m. sing.

Another custom of long standing will be the musical accompaniment of Birmingham High School's brass ensemble under the direction of Arnold Berndt; and William Spence who will lead the carolers. Song sheets will be distributed at the twilight sing. Mrs. Williams said.

Ike's Art Given to 700 Staffers

White House Workers Receive Washington's Portrait for Yule

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower's Christmas gift to members of the White House staff is a skillfully executed portrait of George Washington bearing the initials of the artist — "D. E."

The chief executive, an enthusiastic amateur painter, distributed the surprise present at a staff reception this morning before taking off to spend the holidays at the Little White House in Augusta, Ga.

His oil painting was done from photographs of a famed Gilbert Stuart portrait of Washington showing the bearded first President in full face.

The portrait is a companion to a painting of Abraham Lincoln which was Eisenhower's gift to his staff last Christmas.

The painting was lithographed and encased in an impressive brochure for presentation to some 700 staff members, Secret Service agents, uniformed White House guards and newsmen.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower took off for Augusta about 10:30 a.m. (EST) today aboard the presidential plane, the Columbine III, to return to Washington about Jan. 3. They were accompanied by the first lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, who flew in from her home in Denver to spend Christmas with her daughter and son-in-law.

The President and First Lady unwrapped most of their presents last night at a quiet family Christmas party in the White House. Their presents for each other, however, were packed aboard the Columbine to be opened later in Augusta.

The White House has announced that the President's three grandchildren and his son, Maj. John Eisenhower, will not be able to make it to Augusta for a family Christmas this year.

The major is attending the Army's Command and General Staff School at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., and Eisenhower is determined not to do anything to interrupt his son's career at this critical stage.

It is still considered possible, however, that some way will be found to get the youngsters and their father to Augusta for at least a day or two without disturbing the routine of the Army.

Education will make its final inspection of the new building Pembroke Elementary School on Dec. 31 and pupils who have temporarily been housed at Adams and Torrey Schools will resume classes Jan. 3 at Pembroke.

City officials yesterday secured an option for the property belonging to one of eight owners of 11 pieces of property comprising the proposed 220-car off-street parking lot on Pierce between Merrill and Brown.

Jack Walker, assistant to the city manager, said this leaves 2 property owners and 4 parcels of property involved in condemnation proceedings, with first hearings scheduled for Jan. 10.

Christmas Eve will be observed with services in several churches here:

First Presbyterian Church will have a candlelight service from 10:30 to midnight.

An hour-long candlelight service will start at 8 p.m. at First Baptist Church.

Christmas carols at 11:45 p.m. will precede midnight Mass at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church. Masses on Christmas day will follow the normal schedule.

Embury Methodist Church will hold its first Christmas Eve candlelight service at 7 p.m.

At the Congregational Church, there will be an 11 p.m. candlelight service with a special music by the choir.

Music by the combined choirs will be included at an 8 p.m. candlelight service at Kirk in the Hills Presbyterian Church.

The Sunday school at Ascension Lutheran Church will present its Christmas program at 7 p.m. A carol service will start at 11 p.m. with communion at 11:30. On Christmas Day a Festival Service will be held at 11:30 p.m.

At St. James Episcopal Church there will be an 8:30 and 11:30 p.m. Holy Communion and sermon, with an organ recital at 10:30 and congregational carols at 11. Holy Communion and a sermon is scheduled for 10 a.m. Christmas day.

Activities at Redeemer Lutheran Church include a 7 p.m. program by the junior, intermediate and senior departments, followed by a midnight service of lights and carols at 11:30. Christmas morning service will be at 10:45.

"The Carols of Christmas," a choral cantata, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. by the choir at Our Shepherd Lutheran Church. There will be an 11 a.m. service on Christmas day, Solemn High Mass will be sung by the choir at Holy Name Church at midnight. Christmas day masses will follow the usual schedule.

of the few areas where a snowy Christmas appeared assured. While temperatures rose in the South, the mercury plunged as much as 22 degrees in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, hitting one above zero at Portland, Me. The forecast for tomorrow was colder with snow.

New York City, one of the nation's chilliest spots earlier this week, warmed up a little today. But the Christmas forecast was fair and colder. In Los Angeles, Calif., on the other hand, a "bathing suit Christmas" was expected with temperatures in the mid-70's.

In Florida, where the first day of winter found temperatures below freezing, the mercury rose five to 10 degrees to bolster the state's reputation for warm temperatures. The mild temperatures raised hopes that good driving conditions will hold down traffic deaths during the holiday weekend.

Cardinal Reaches Korea to Spend Yule With GIs

SEOUL (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman arrived here today to spend his fourth consecutive Christmas with American troops in Korea.

He will say masses for U.S. servicemen in Korea from Pusan to the demilitarized zone during his six-day visit.

The 65-year-old prelate said he is interested greatly in helping the 100,000 war orphans in Korea. He said he witnessed loading of a million pounds of clothing bound for needy Korean children before he left New York.

Ross P. Tenny's Condition Remains Critical Today

Ross P. Tenny, 56, of 208 Cherokee Rd., was still on the critical list today at Pontiac General Hospital, of injuries suffered two days ago when he was pinned between two trucks.

Tenny, general manager of the L. H. Cole Oil Co., was injured in the company's yard at 382 S. Sanford St. Wednesday. Hospital attendants said Tenny has a possible pelvic fracture and internal injuries.

U.N. Chief Sets Confab Limits

Hammarskjold to Stay in Peiping No Longer Than 10 Days

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has disclosed he will limit both the duration and content of his conversations in Peiping with Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai.

The U. N. official will remain in the Chinese capital for no more than a week to 10 days.

He will restrict his discussions to the demand that all U. N. personnel held by Red China, including 11 U. S. fliers imprisoned as spies, be released.

Hammarskjold will leave on his 12,000-mile "Mission to Peiping" on Dec. 28. He hopes to be back at U. N. headquarters in New York by the middle of January.

The secretary general emphasized at a news conference yesterday after his return from Stockholm that he would under no circumstances "beg" the Chinese Reds for release of 11 jailed American airmen or other U. N. personnel held in violation of the Korean armistice.

He listened with amused astonishment to the question of a correspondent who asked if his trip to Peiping was not likely to be taken as "bending your knee or putting you in a humiliating position?"

Hammarskjold replied firmly: "I am not going anywhere to beg anybody for anything. I am going to Peiping strictly on the basis of an Assembly resolution directing me to secure the release of U. N. personnel detained in Communist China. I am going with the mandate of the U. N. Assembly, which is not begging."

The secretary general will be accompanied by a select group of five or six legal and political advisers, none of them of American nationality.

He expects to pause briefly in London for a talk with British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden and in New Delhi with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

3 Waterford Breakins Reported to Police

Two and possibly three breakins that occurred last night in Waterford Township, are believed to have been committed by the same burglars, according to Police Chief Frank J. Van Atta.

Broken into last night were the Bulman Hardware at 3509 Elizabeth Lake road, Panchuk Motor Sales at 2620 Dixie Hwy., and a recently-vacated grocery store at 2616 Dixie Hwy.

Van Atta said entry was gained at the Dixie highway breakins by throwing a piece of ice through the front door glass, and at Bulman's a brick was thrown through the door.

Only valuables missing were $1 in pennies from Bulman's, Van Atta said, although the stores had been ransacked by thieves in their search for loot.

Patrimen William Stokes and Donald Gravin discovered the two Dixie highway breakins while making routine checks early today. Chris Bulman, hardware store owner, reported the third.

Dr. John P. Williams Heads Hospital Staff

Dr. John P. Williams, of 6570 Commerce Lake Rd., has been named chief of staff for 1955 at Pontiac General Hospital.

Named vice-chief of staff for the year was Dr. H. A. Furlong, who is chief of staff-elect for 1956.

Dr. Williams succeeds Dr. N. F. Gehring.

Others named at the annual election were Dr. Kenneth Vandenberg, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Lucius A. Farnham, member-at-large of the executive committee, and Dr. Arthur Young, chief of the general practice section.

Re-elected were Dr. R. W. Bulard Jr., chief of the surgery section; Dr. Donald S. Smith, chief of the medicine section, and Dr. Furlong, chief of the obstetrics-gynecology section.

'Upholstery Comes Unstuck'

Russian Car Buyer Faces Endless Siege of Troubles

MOSCOW (INS) — The Soviet auto buyer has to be a hardy soul.

Take the case of a citizen who buys a four-seater Moskvitch car. First he has to save up 9,000 rubles, the full purchase price. Russia has no time-payment plans.

A Moskvitch represents a year's pay for a workman.

At the official rate of exchange, 9,000 rubles equals $2,250. Moskvitches exported to Sweden, with local taxes, cost $1,150.

Once he has the money, the auto store in the nearest large city and puts his name on a waiting list.

Perhaps nine months or a year later, after periodic check-backs to keep his name on the list, he will receive his Moskvitch.

In too many cases, his troubles are just beginning.

A report just published by Moscow's "Jow" — powered automobile factory, producers of the Moskvitch, admits the new-car owner is likely to find his long-awaited auto has one of 18 common bugs.

Eight per cent of the complaints are charged to sloppy assembly work. Half of these are due to careless tightening of bolts.

In mid-November a new owner brought his car back to the factory complaining the rear assembly hadn't been greased. A few days earlier a certain Comrade Sergeenko started toward Minsk in his new car and had to be towed home when the distributor shaft froze.

Roof upholstery comes unstuck in summer heat. Body welds rust after a few months. Radiators leak. Rear assemblies rattle.

The report, published in the new paper "Evening Moscow," asserts that if foremen and inspectors saw to it that workmen did their jobs properly, most of these bugs would disappear.

But the plant, like many of the Soviet Union's socialized industries, operates spasmodically. The first three weeks of the month, production coasts along normally.

Then, in the last 10 days, the "assault" begins. This is a speed-up to meet — and possibly top — the production quota for the month. (Soviet workers are paid on the basis of piece-work.)

When this speed-up comes, foremen press every available hand into service. Electricians find themselves putting engines together and recently a typist from the front office wound up on the assembly line. Also, says the report:

"If, during the first 10 days of the month, the inspectors examine every detail carefully, they often pass items in the last 10 days without even checking them. There have even been cases where inspectors simply turned their stampers over to the workmen."

Technical problems, like the roof upholstery and the faulty distributor shafts, were solved months ago in the laboratory, but still haven't been applied.

S. Putyayev and M. Kartsman, staffers of the Moskvitch plant newspaper who signed the report, have a one-word explanation — "bureaucracy."

Pope's Condition Continues Better

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican sources said today Pope Pius XII rested well last night and his condition continues to improve.

Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, the 78-year-old pontiff's private physician, reported that treatment to rebuild the Pope's strength is "going well."

The pontiff planned to take his sixth daily automobile ride and walk in the Vatican gardens this afternoon.

At noon tomorrow, he will give a brief Christmas message and blessing to the world by radio. On Christmas Day, he plans to appear at his apartment window for the first time since his dangerous collapse of Dec. 2 to bless pilgrims gathered below in St. Peter's Square.

Robust Great-Grandma Juggles Train Wheels

CHICAGO (INS) — Mrs. Mary Pietraszek, 67, of Chicago probably can claim the title of "the strongest great-grandmother in America."

Mrs. Pietraszek, a woman yard worker for the Illinois Central Railroad, handles 17,000 pounds of steel a day. Part of the time she guides a huge crane moving 700-pound railroad wheels, but sometimes she has to shove the wheels around by hand.

For a change of pace, the great-grandmother cooks a weekly Sunday dinner for 36 members of the Pietraszek clan.

Driving Charge Dismissed

A drunk driving charge was dismissed in Municipal Court yesterday against Albert Smoot, 44, of 297 Hughes St. He had been accused following an auto accident Dec. 1 on W. South boulevard near Franklin road.

Judge Cecil McCallum said that a drunkometer test and testimony indicated Smoot was not intoxicated at the time.

Smoot testified that his foot slipped off the brake pedal, causing his auto to strike the rear of one driven by Clarence J. Scheib of 5165 Latimer.

Clothier Aids Forgery Arrest

Doubts Signature When Paid by Check; Alerts City Police

Alertness on the part of a Pontiac clothing store owner and quick action by police led to the arrest of a suspected check forger and his wife yesterday.

Archie Barnett, co-owner of Barnett's Clothing Store at 19 North Saginaw St., said he became suspicious after the suspect paid for a new suit with a check drawn on a Royal Oak welding firm.

A call to the firm confirmed his suspicions when he was told the check had been stolen in a July 4 break-in. An officer, hidden in the store, arrested the suspect's wife when she came back to the store at 4 p.m. to pick up the altered suit. She implicated her husband under questioning.

Capt. Clark M. Wheaton said John Beard, 24, who was free on $2,000 bond in an earlier armed robbery charge in Oak Park, is being held for investigation of uttering and publishing. His wife, Mary, 20, is being held under the same count, Wheaton said the pair would probably be charged later today.

McCarran Act Ruled Valid in 2-1 Decision

Board directing the party to comply with its provisions "are valid as matters of law."

He said a preponderance of the evidence supports the Board's findings that the Communist party "is substantially directed, dominated and controlled by the Soviet Union, which controls the world Communist movement."

Judge John A. Danaher joined Judge Prettymann in the majority opinion, but Judge David Bazelon dissented, saying he would void the law on the grounds of Fifth Amendment.

This amendment provides that no person shall be required to give incriminating evidence against himself.

Mendes to Get Assist From Dairy Princess

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France is going to get an assist from Minnesota's Dairy Princess in his campaign to discourage wine drinking among his countrymen.

The princess, Eleanor Maley, will fly to Paris Sunday and present the non-wine-drinking Premier with 48 quarts of milk—one from each of the states.

Driver Fined, Jailed

Ray Strickland, 31, of 351 Furze St., pleaded guilty to drunk driving Wednesday when he appeared before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan who ordered him to pay a $50 fine and sentenced him to three days in the Oakland County Jail.

Armless Tot Opens Yule Gifts With 10 Nimble Toes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It doesn't take two arms and two legs for an inquisitive youngster to find out what surprises Santa Claus has in store.

Louise, the Waxahachie, Tex., baby born without arms and abandoned by her real parents, is doing all right with 10 nimble toes.

Hardly had she finished with her big birthday party—she was 2 last Friday—than she began exploring for the gift-wrapped packages hidden in the home of her adopted parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Capps, of Seagoville, near here. She uses her nimble, sensitive toes as another child would fingers.

Before Mrs. Capps knew what was happening, Louise had found her No. 1 Christmas present—a big doll with dark hair and black eyes like Louise. Since then doll and girl can't be separated.

The other night the Capps heard a crash in the living room. Louise had climbed on top of the divan

Canadian Pros Seek 5 Members of Lions' Team

DETROIT (INS) — It was learned in Detroit today that Canadian football has launched a full-scale raid on the National Football League and that five members of the Detroit Lions have been approached by a Toronto scout.

Although none of the players involved would comment today, it is known that Tom Dublinski, Lou Creekmur, Jim Dornas, Gil Mains and Jack Christiansen have been contacted by Harry Sonshine, the Toronto Argonaut scout.

All but Christiansen were approached personally and he was called on the telephone yesterday. The salaries offered range from $12,000 to $15,000 yearly, which is almost twice as much money as their Detroit contract calls for.

The Detroit players refused to state whether they had been contacted or not, saying they were much more interested in winning the championship game with Cleveland next Sunday.

Doomsday Seer Set to Fight Commitment

Park home, she showed how she receives bulletins from outer space. She suddenly appeared to go into a trance and announced "they're coming in on the beam now."

Then she set up a pad of paper and a pencil and began writing. The "message" read "Shall ye be unto yourself true or shall ye sell your birthright?"

She explained to the newsmen "That's for the press." Laughed meanwhile handed out a typed statement which said he and Mrs. Martin would "unite forces to pinpoint coming disasters and alert the people of the world. This will help 'avoid panic.'" Laughed said.

Space men in flying saucers are paying frequent visits to the earth to spot faults in the world's surface and to be ready to evacuate a few earthlings if disaster hits, he said.

Scientists are already speaking of "slips" in the earth's outer skin, Laughed said, and recent earthquakes, such as the temblors which hit California, appear to indicate that worse things are coming.

Parts of the petition against his wife, Lillian, said: "She talks continuously about religion. She mentioned taking her oldest child with her to the 'new world' and forsaking the other two. She glories in the recent publicity the family has received. His wife reportedly was still in Chicago. The hearing was tentatively set for Friday, Dec. 31, at 2 p.m. by Probate Judge John McClellan.

Rush James Vernor Jr. to St. Joseph Hospital

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — James Vernor Jr., 38, vice president of Vernor's Ginger Ale, is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today where he is being treated for anemia, according to hospital officials.

Firemen used an inhalator on Vernor at his home at 707 W. Long Lake Rd. for almost two hours yesterday, before he was taken to the hospital.

Seeking Extradition of Murder Suspects

DUNN, N. C. (UP) — Authorities today sought to extradite Mrs. Dorothy Long and Edsel Heslip, alias Edward Martell, from Detroit to charge them with murdering Mrs. Long's husband.

Sheriff Claude R. Moore of Harnett County signed murder warrants yesterday after Mrs. Long, 22, confessed to Detroit police that she and Heslip killed her husband, Pvt. Samuel L. Long, 21, last Thursday night.

The suspects fled to Detroit after the shooting and were arrested. Moore said he was notified that Heslip denied any part in the slaying and that both are fighting extradition.

Building Permit Hearing Ends

Oil Firm Says Oak Park Bans Construction of Gas Stations

Hearings ended yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court on an attempt by the Highland Oil Co. of Detroit to get an order forcing Oak Park to issue the firm two building permits for filling stations.

Judge George B. Hartwick took the case under advisement and is expected to hand down a decision in the near future.

The company says it paid $30,000 each for the two sites, one at Coolidge Highway and Lincoln Ave., and the other on Nine Mile Rd. at Parklawn Ave.

The zoning of the areas, it asserts, allows for filling station construction. The firm claims it was denied a building permit by the Oak Park building inspector and again turned down by the city's zoning board of appeals on June 29 this year.

It declares the locations are, on highly traveled roads and says it offered to abide by any restrictions necessary to protect the value of nearby homes. The denial, the company asserts, was "not in accordance with the laws of the state . . . or zoning board of the city of Oak Park."

In defense, the city claims that a large part of frontage on both Nine Mile and Coolidge is residential and "gasoline stations would have to be in close proximity to a high type of residential dwellings . . ." thus creating a "nuisance."

The city asserts it has the right to exclude construction which would create a nuisance.

Seek New Post for Ladejinsky

State Department Looks for Way to Keep Expert on Agriculture

WASHINGTON (INS) — A rumormongering to find a post which would keep agriculture expert Wolf Ladejinsky on the job in the Far East was under way in the State Department today.

Ladejinsky, architect of the land reform program in Japan which has been generally accepted as the crowning achievement of the U.S. occupation under Gen. Douglas MacArthur, was ordered fired by the Agriculture Department as a security risk.

The issue has been the subject of top-level State Department talks and was carried yesterday to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The Russian-born farm specialist, now in Washington, has been agriculture attaché for the U.S. embassy in Tokyo. Under recent legislation, all such attaches were transferred from the state to the Agriculture Department.

Last Thursday, Assistant Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz informed Ladejinsky that he was not acceptable to the department, and yesterday a news statement said he failed to meet technical and security requirements for the job.

The Agriculture Department action came as a bombshell to Far Eastern specialists in the State Department. They immediately began expostulatory talks to see if the dismissed attaché can be placed in another position in the Orient.

However, the Agriculture Department declared that despite his accomplishments, they must treat him as they would any new applicant for a similar position. State Department security experts agreed that under present regulations, Ladejinsky could not be hired and this also may block finding a new job for him.

The Agriculture Department said that Ladejinsky's job called for top security clearance which could not be given because he has two sisters in Russia "through whom he may be subject to coercion."

It also said he was once employed by the Soviet Amtorg Trading Corp., and cited testimony of former Communists that any such employment required Communist party clearance.

Walks Into Car's Side; Youth, 14, Is Injured

Robert Seconder, 14, of 9050 Pontiac Lake Rd., White Lake Township, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for leg cuts suffered when he walked into the side of an auto at M59 and Elizabeth Lake road, yesterday, according to Waterford Township Police.

David J. Ballard, 30, of 137 Cottage St., the car's driver, told police that he was turning left from M59 to Elizabeth Lake road when the boy started to cross the road.

Sad Homecoming Awaits Visiting Berkley Family

BERKLEY — Police are trying to locate Julian J. Petruzzini in Cleveland today to tell him a $3,000 fire destroyed his home in Berkley yesterday.

The fire broke out just three hours after Petruzzini and his family left the house for a Christmas visit with friends in Ohio.

Coca Still Lags in Solo Attempt

Liberace Waits Opening of Piano School String; Perry Como Still Tops

NEW YORK (INS) — This may sound like sacrilege: Amos 'n' Andy character "The Kingfish" has stolen so much of the TV laughter that starting Jan. 4 (opposite Milton Berle) a new filmed series called "Adventures of the Kingfish" will reduce once revered Amos and Andy to stooges!

Jo Stafford's cameo musicale last eve was Christmas and cute topped off with our favorite kid-size holiday tune, "Toyland" . . .

It is now plain that Sid Caesar has succeeded better as a TV soloist than Imogene Coca or Max Liebman . . .

And beyond the fact of Imogene's poor TV luck lately there lies the simple fact that she is a marvellously equipped comedienne who needs a strong producer and writers who can capture her broad but tidy burlesques . . .

Martha Raye's opus had enough brash humor to satisfy her wilder fans, but our favorite bigmouth reverted to a decorous Christmas mood with a proper touch of pathos which lurks inside every inspired buffoon, boy or girl . . .

Surprises us no end to see normally ultra-polite elder actors turn up in hokey comedy, such as Reginald Owen as the crumpled-in-mouth Britisher with Martha . . .

We somehow feel the same sense of wonderment when we find that actor veterans Addison Randall, dispensing in slapstick roles with Milton Berle and other low comedians . . .

It's plain Martha Raye looks cheerfully at her past husbands: She gave "The Condo Brothers" prominent billing on the "coming attractions" board during her sketch with Art Carney . . .

Who, though a deft pantaloone, probably is presented best of all as "Ed Norton" in "The Honey-mooners," in which his bubbling insouciance as the gay and glibulous man-about-sewers makes him the star of the sketch in many living rooms . . .

Walt Disney's TV eminence boosts him to next week's Time cover and enlarges his ABC network skein from the original 109 stations to 132 . . .

Perry Como remains champ of the quarter-hour musicals, Pulse says . . .

Liberace is vamping-until-ready to open a string of piano schools. Republic will release 27 more feature films to TV . . .

Some with stars now more prominent in TV than they were in movies when they first shot the celluloid: Anne Jeffreys, Eve Arden, James Dunn . . .

If you've wondered what happened to ex-Garroway singer Shirley Hargrave, she's now starred on Canadian network TV revues . . . very popular there.

Senator Will Ask State to Restore Island Church

LANSING (U) — Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) said today he will sponsor a bill to save Mackinac Island's old Mission Church, a landmark since the days of the fur traders.

Andrews said he will introduce a bill in the next Legislature proposing that the state buy the church and turn it over to the Mackinac Park Commission for restoration.

The church board of trustees has offered to sell the building to the state for $1, Andrews said.

The church building is one of the oldest on the island. It was built in 1827 when Michigan was a territory and when the island was the bustling center of the northwest fur trade.

The church was established by Presbyterians as a religious and educational center for the island's Indian population.

As fur traders pushed northwestward, the church gradually fell into disuse. Regular services are not held any longer, but a memorial service is held annually to raise funds for maintenance of the building.

Sign Posted on Highway Leads Man to Brother

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (INS) — Amos Wimmer, 89, of Muskogee, Okla., was driving across Ozone Mountain in north Arkansas when he saw a sign reading "Wimmer Road."

He investigated and found his 84-year-old brother, W. A. Wimmer, whom he hadn't seen in 65 years.

Surest Way to Happiness --Give Yourself to Cause

By LAURA E. HOBSON
NEW YORK (INS)—Earlier this month, the story goes, a great flood descended on Dublin, and six dry horses locked in a stable were knee deep in water before the stable-keeper arrived to open the doors to freedom.

The horses had to swim to high ground and safety, and when the last one finally was on terra firma again, a little mouse jumped off his back and scampered away.

The watching crowd, which had gathered to cheer the swimming horses onward, also cheered at the sight of the tiny hitchhiker, who, according to the stable-keeper, "had been living in comfort in the stable."

Accurate or a bit dressed up, this story cheered me lots, and during the rush and hustle of these last days before Christmas, I found it scampering back into my thoughts again and again.

It seemed to remind me of something that I couldn't quite place. Something also connected with Dublin and Ireland, also related in some way to the idea of one small creature and something else quite large and powerful.

I thought and thought, but I couldn't quite get it by the tail, and finally, as one usually does just before "victory," I gave up in disgust.

"George Bernard Shaw," I suddenly thought, and knew I really had it. For it was Ireland's own G. B. S., born in Dublin nearly a hundred years ago, who'd written again and again, in his plays and books, that the surest way to be happy was to give yourself over to some cause larger than yourself.

"To climb aboard," is a slangier way of saying the same thing, and maybe that's why the little mouse reminded me of G. B. S.'s wisdom.

What that cause larger than yourself should be, of course, each of us must decide as best we may, but without it, we remain puny little creatures all our days, unable to reach any high ground whatever, finally drowning in our own sense of futility and boredom.

Every schoolboy and girl knows how good it is to lose one's self in a bigger cause when he or she gets on the basketball team or the debating society or runs for student self-government.

Every adult can feel that thrill and fulfillment, too.

For some the larger cause will be religious, for others it will be political or educational. Some of us will find it in the eternal fight against prejudice and bigotry; others in the equally eternal fight for civil liberties and the freedom to think and perhaps be wrong.

It doesn't matter so much exactly what the cause is—just so it's larger than any of the thousand self-serving causes we all must also serve to earn our livings, to feed and clothe ourselves, to have some fun.

And the difference between fun and joy may be what old George Bernard Shaw meant.

Trying to track down his precise quote, I finally came not upon the words I wanted, but some that had been written several hundred years before G. B. S. was born, written not in Ireland, but in France.

I found them in a new 50-cent pocket book—of all places—to be published right after the new year.

GI Gets Yule Wish—Clothes for Koreans

MIDLAND (AP)—Second Lt. David M. Knopie's Christmas bundles—all 13 of them—will be a little late this year, but it doesn't make too much difference. The clothes in them don't fit him anyway.

Here's why: Lt. Knopie, a 21-year-old Midland resident before he left for Korean service, wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Knopie, recently:

"For my Christmas gift I want you to do your best in telling your friends of the need for clothing over here. Believe me, mother, sending clothes over here is like saying prayers—it can't be overdone."

A resulting story in the Midland Daily News prompted the city's residents to toss some 500 pounds of clothing—mostly for children—into the pile for overseas shipment.

The 13 bundles had to be mailed by parcel post and thus will arrive a few days after Christmas—but Lt. Knopie will get his present—one that really counts.

Hardwood types of trees cover more than two-thirds of the commercial forest area in Vermont. The sugar maple, beech, yellow birch are the dominant types.

Paint May Be Poison on Child's Playthings

WASHINGTON (UP)—Never repeat junior's crib or toys with leftover paint. A teething youngster might chew on the toy and swallow poison.

While paint of any type is hardly the proper food for the growing child, a paint manufacturer's association points out that the store-bought toy's original coat of paint or varnish is not harmful when swallowed.

The association warned parents against using left-over paint for economy purposes without first checking with paint dealers to make sure it is the proper kind for the purpose.
