C. of C. Plans Tribute to General Motors on 50th Anniversary

A tribute to General Motors Corp. on its 50th anniversary and to its vital role in Pontiac's economy is planned by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber, according to Secretary John Hirlinger, will honor GM at its annual meeting, March 26 at the Elks Temple.

Plans call for a reception at 6 p. m., followed by a dinner at 7, he said.

Guests will include Louis C. Goad, of Bloomfield Hills, executive vice president of GM, who will speak for the corporation, Hirlinger disclosed.

Invitations are also being sent to 10 corporation vice presidents, including Philip J. Monaghan, general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division, and Semon E. Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

LOUIS C. GOAD

Also invited is Thomas J. Wiethorn, manager of Fisher Body Division plants in Pontiac, he added.

Featured speakers will include John A. Riley, chamber president; Rep. William S. Broomfield, and City Manager Walter K. Willman, Hirlinger said.

Tickets for the affair are $7.50 for both the reception and the steak dinner and will be sold at the Chamber of Commerce office, he noted.

"General Motors' role in Pontiac's economy is so vital," Hirlinger stated, "the Chamber of Commerce felt that we should express our gratitude to and interest in the corporation."

"Fifty years is an important milestone in the life of a corporation as it is for an individual," he added, "and we certainly want General Motors to know that they are welcome citizens of Pontiac."

Scholle Blasts State Republicans

Accuses GOP of Eying Labor With Contempt

Takes Over Presidency of Michigan AFL-CIO at Special Convention

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Fiery, silvery-haired Gus Scholle today took over the presidency of the Michigan AFL-CIO with a bitter denunciation of State Republicans.

The former State CIO head told a special convention that merged the State CIO and AFL into a united labor movement "why I have such a vicious dislike for the Republican Party in Michigan."

Scholle, a veteran labor leader of 25 years, said his experience in lobbying for labor at Lansing made him that way. He charged that Republicans in the legislature "hold labor in contempt."

"They resent the fact we get together in labor unions," he said. "They say we ought to be obedient slaves." He charged Republicans roll out the carpet for lobbyists of big business but give labor a bad time.

Scholle said one of the major objectives of the State AFL-CIO will be to work for labor in the legislative field.

WHERE TO GO

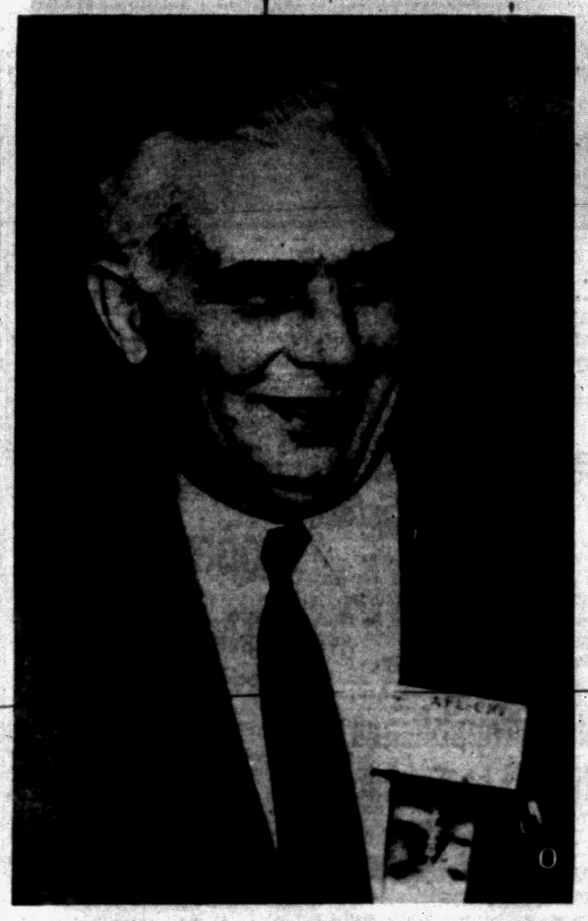

"They are constantly talking about us getting out of politics," he said. "But where do you go? The only way is to find some South Sea island where there is no government."

Scholle was sworn in as AFL-CIO president along with two other salaried officers, the AFL's George Murphy of Muskegon as executive vice president and the CIO's Barney Hopkins of Detroit as secretary-treasurer.

Murphy told the convention "organized labor no longer can afford to bat their own heads

Rebels Hit Again

Raid Cuba Bank, Burn Up Checks

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Cuban rebels made a daring raid on the National Bank of Cuba in the heart of Havana today, tied up the bank's employes and set fire to thousands of checks. They made no effort to scoop up the bank's cash.

Half a dozen men mingled with about a score of employes and businessmen entering the bank at its 8 a.m. opening.

Once inside, they brandished pistols and entered the bank's check clearing room where they herded the employes into a room, tied them up and proceeded to set fire to pouches containing the checks.

The rebels then fled. Police noticed smoke pouring out and called firemen. The blaze was quickly extinguished.

One report said most of the checks were destroyed. The bank said there was no damage to the premises.

The raid followed the bold kidnaping of the world champion auto racer, Argentina's Juan Fangio, last Sunday on the eve of the running of Cuba's Gran Premio race in Havana. Fangio was turned loose after the race had ended in tragedy on an oil-slicked course.

Nine men were reported killed today in mysterious shootings, bombings and sabotage incidents in Oriente province where the rebel leader, Fidel Castro, has been conducting guerrilla war against the regime of President Fulgencio Batista for more than a year.

Rebel bombings wrecked a bridge and aqueduct in the Santiago de Cuba area, and two buses, a small yacht and restaurant were burned.

A sugar cane field was burned in the western province of Pinar d Rio. Two buses were burned in Havana.

Claims Increase Vital to Offset Losses in City

Hike Begins Monday; Tokens Will Be Issued at Reduced Cost

To offset continued revenue losses, largely due to a 20 per cent drop in busriders since last summer, Pontiac City Lines will boost its adult cash fares from 15 to 20 cents beginning Monday.

However, the company said it would begin issuing tokens again to adults at a price of four for 70 cents.

This means that adults who purchase tokens will only be paying 2½ cents more per ride, according to Earle W. Dreasher, the company's transportation superintendent.

There is no contemplation of raising fares for children or curtailing bus service "at this time," Dreasher said. There will still be free transfers.

The number of customers riding City Lines buses from July 1, 1957 through Jan. 31 this year dropped by 323,230, Dreasher said.

LOAD DROPS

The number of passengers carried in January was about 180,000 compared with average monthly loads of 450,000 to 500,000 in 1950, he said.

In 1956, the total number of passengers carried was 3,080,000, while last year that total fell to 1,565,000, Dreasher said.

Dreasher believed that the increase in adult fares would bolster operating profits sufficiently to continue normal bus operation at present.

Under its operating permit with the city, the bus company is allowed to boost fares or cut service whenever its operating expenses exceed 90 per cent of its gross intake.

The operating expenses now stand at 97½ per cent of gross intake, Dreasher said.

The company's vice - president, R. E. James, informed the City Commission of the fare hike by letter last night.

The company eliminated bus tokens for adults last year when it set a flat 15 cent per ride rate. Tokens had been available before then at 4 for 55 cents, or 13¾ cents apiece.

President Praises Benson in Face of Dissension

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, defying Midwestern Republican demands that he fire Secretary of Agriculture Benson, praised Benson today as a man of courage and honesty.

The President told a news conference that people advocating that Benson be ousted are badly mistaken in taking that position.

Eisenhower left no doubt he intends to ignore demands for Benson's resignation.

Some Midwestern Republicans in Congress, sharply critical of Benson farm policies, have contended that continuing him in office would cost the party 25 to 30 congressional seats in the November elections.

This was Eisenhower's first news conference in three weeks—and his third since last Oct. 30. He dealt also with these other matters:

RECESSION — Eisenhower repeated that a tax cut is of course a possibility if there is any deepening of the depression.

But Eisenhower again expressed confidence that unemployment will begin to diminish.

Two to Testify on Sanity of Goff at Time of Slaying

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Whether experts believe accused murderer Ray Goff was insane when he shot and killed his estranged 27-year-old girl friend in 1955 was expected to come out today in testimony of two psychiatrists.

The prosecution, after having called 17 witnesses to the stand, rested its case this morning in the first-degree murder trial of Goff, 35-year-old Flint factory machinist and motorcycle racer.

Expected to take the stand this afternoon were Pontiac psychiatrists Drs. Clinton J. Mumby and L. Jerome Fink.

They, along with two other psychiatrists, ruled Goff insane in December of 1955, and unable to stand trial for the Aug. 21 shooting of Mrs. Rita M. Cummings of Flint.

Defense attorney L. Rex Bebout in his opening statement to the jury said he would show Goff was not only insane at the sanity hearing, but also when the shooting took place.

"He had a complete breakdown, an emotional blow-up," declared Bebout to the jury.

ESCORT TESTIFIES

One of the last witnesses for the prosecution to take the stand was Dean G. Worges, 28, a Flint factory worker, who was with Rita when she was killed.

"He said he was going to kill Rita and then shoot himself," testified Worges.

He said he and Mrs. Cummings, divorced two months earlier, had been pursued by Goff when they were out taking a drive at 3 a.m.

When they tried to avoid him by pulling into a Holly farm, "he ran up to the car, stuck a gun in the window and jumped in himself," Worges said.

House Approves Bill for 5th Judge

Bid to Relieve County's Circuit Court Case Load Faces 2 More Hurdles

A bill to add a fifth judge to the Oakland County circuit cleared one of three big hurdles yesterday when the House of Representatives gave it a green light by a 89-6 vote.

The bill, sponsored by all six Oakland County representatives, moved over to the Senate, where it faces its second barrier.

The third hurdle will be gaining Gov. Williams' approval. Sponsors say he favors provisions of the proposal. He vetoed a fifth judge bill last year.

The four Republican and two Democratic lawmakers from Oakland County joined forces in January to sponsor the measure, thus hoping to avoid the 1957 partisan defeat of the bill.

One representative, Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron), apparently changed his mind overnight and voted for the new bill yesterday. Monday night he led a floor fight delaying the vote, claiming the bill would violate a GOP "hold the line" policy on state spending.

About half of circuit judges' pay comes from the state treasury, and this expenditure drew Phillips' ire.

The six who cast "no" votes yesterday included five Wayne County representatives, four Democrats and one Republican. The sixth was an outstate Republican.

The Oakland representatives are pressing for the additional judge as the county is faced with the largest case load per judge of any circuit in Michigan.

The bill would call for an election next April when two judicial terms of the new judge would be voted on — a short, six months term beginning July 1, 1959, and another of normal six years duration commencing Jan. 1, 1960.

The short term provision was added as Gov. Williams reportedly insists that the new judge be placed on the bench immediately if the bill is to receive his okay.

Citizens Back Foreign Aid

Dems and Republicans, Leaders of Many Fields on New Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Citizens for Foreign Aid movement took root today, launched with an impassioned plea by President Eisenhower to combat opponents who say "billions for armament, but not one cent for peace!"

Movie czar Eric Johnston undertook the task of setting up a permanent nongovernmental committee. The group with headquarters in Washington, will seek to build public support for military and economic aid programs aboard.

Its immediate objective is to win congressional passage of the administration's $3,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

The movement is a direct outgrowth of a conference yesterday, arranged by Johnston at Eisenhower's behest, of leading citizens.

Eisenhower addressed a dinner attended by 2,000 persons last night, climaxing a daylong parade of leaders from politics, industry, labor, entertainment, education and just about every other walk of life.

An unusual spirit of bipartisanship marked the gathering, at which Eisenhower and former President Truman both spoke eight hours apart.

The unprecedented political truce was emphasized when Eisenhower posed chummily for pictures with such Democratic lumier Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas, as well as Adlai E. Stevenson, Eisenhower's Democratic opponent in 1952 and 1956.

Eisenhower, obviously moved, asked indulgence to say a few words "from my heart" in advance of his formal half-hour speech.

"I hope that from this meeting will flow a great wave of knowledge and education so that the American people will understand how necessary foreign aid is to the cause of peace," he said.

Dethroned U.S. Beauty Queen Wins Divorce

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Dethroned as Miss United States in last year's Miss Universe contest because she was a Mrs., Leona Gage is single again.

She divorced Air Force Sgt. Gene Ennis yesterday. Alleging mental cruelty, she testified he was "mean, made me so upset and nervous I couldn't work."

Dist. Judge Ryland G. Taylor gave her custody of two minor children. He said her request for $25 monthly support for them seemed insufficient. He approved it when she said she is earning $200 a week as a chorus girl in hotels cabarets while her husband makes only $350 a month.

As Miss Maryland, Leona won the Miss United States contest at Long Beach, then finally admitted that reports from Baltimore that she was married were true. She was disqualified.

Truman Won't Criticize Ike on Mamie's Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Truman said he would not criticize President Eisenhower for taking Mrs. Eisenhower on a government-paid trip to Arizona.

Truman told newsmen Tuesday "some people think Eisenhower went too far out of his way," but added:

"Whatever the President sees fit to do for the welfare of his family he should be allowed to do without a lot of people jumping on him. I don't believe in attacking a man through his family."

To Serve Area MSU Site

Branch Engineer Selected

Michigan State University's plans for a branch college at Meadow Brook Farm, east of Pontiac, moved forward with the appointment of a resident supervisory engineer.

George Karas, 33, formerly MSU buildings and utilities engineer at East Lansing, has moved to the Meadow Brook Farm with his family.

Karas is familiarizing himself with the water and sewer facilities on the estate in preparation for construction of the first college building, a $2 million classroom, laboratory and office structure.

Karas, a civil engineer, graduated from MSU in 1950. His experience has included work for a private building concern and for a metropolitan sewer and water authority upstate.

Born in Pittsburgh, Karas is married and has three children ages 2, 4 and 6.

WORKS WITH ARCHITECTS

His duties include working with representatives of the architectural firm of Swanson, Associates which is designing the new building.

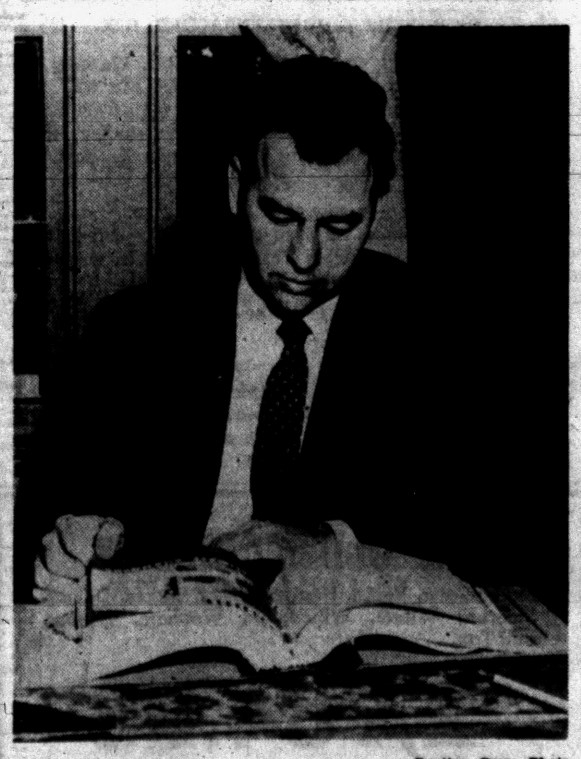

Present plans call for the location of the building off Squirrel road in Pontiac Township. Construction may get under way next month with opening date set for September of 1959.

The site chosen offers 258 acres, which will allow plenty of expansion room, Karas said.

He added that the existing water facilities, including an 80,000 gallon elevated tank at the western end of the estate, will be ample to supply the structure.

For sewage disposal, MSU presently plans to install a small but complete sewage treatment plant on a branch of the Clinton River which goes through the property.

Education Your Challenge, AF Colonel Tells PCH Boys

The American way of life is being threatened today because of the lack of scientists, engineers and technicians and it is the young American's responsibility to become educated in these fields if possible.

This was the message of Lt. Col. Paul E. Cool, a 1934 graduate of Pontiac Central High School who returned to his school this morning to talk to junior and senior boys.

Cool, a native of Pontiac, is now assigned as chief of Guided Missiles Branch Investigation and Field Operations Division at Norton Air Force Base, California.

He told the students the United States is falling behind in technical training, and graduating one-third as many students in the technical fields as Russia.

Recently, Russia has advanced to a degree where there are enough trained people to send to other countries while the United States doesn't have enough men trained in some fields to meet the demand at home, he explained.

ECONOMIC POTENTIAL

He said because of the tremendous economic potential and American know-how, the United States has always been able to rise rapidly and massively to any challenger.

There are but two areas, the inadequate number of scientists, engineers and technicians and the lack of knowledge and brain power, that can't be offset. They

Mack's Activity Target of Quiz

Probe Chairman Says FCC Member Seems to Have Violated Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—House probers, amid increasing talk of law violations, take another look today at the complex financial transactions involving Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark) of the special House subcommittee conducting the probe said Mack and others involved in the bitter fight over Miami's Channel 10 TV license appear to have violated the law and opened themselves to prosecution.

Miami Atty. Thurman A. Whiteside, against whom some of Harris' statements were directed, denied that he had violated any law.

Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Rogers, at a news conference, described as "not correct" a report that the Justice Department has taken steps looking toward Mack's possible removal.

"That is not our function," he said. "Prosecutions are a matter for the department to decide. Removals are matters for the President to decide."

Rogers said an FBI investigation of the case is not yet completed, and he declined to speculate on any possible moves toward prosecution.

Rogers ordered the FBI probe last week after the subcommittee's ousted counsel Bernard Schwartz testified Mack had accepted money from Whiteside and pledged his vote to Public Service Television, Inc., a National Airlines subsidiary which got the contested Miami TV license. Schwartz said Whiteside represented Public Service.

Whiteside, who has heatedly denied the Schwartz charges, elaborated yesterday on the one-sixth interest he said he gave Mack in Miami's Stembler-Sheldon insurance agency, a firm doing business with the Channel 10 winner.

Why does a cold front reach us on the surface of the earth before the edge of it passes overhead, at a great height?

Though many readers do not know it, cold air is heavier than warm air. The result is that a cold front, moving eastward — as all of them do eventually — tends to produce a leading edge on the surface of the earth, where the cold, heavier air displaces warmer air. The warmer air rises and is pushed up by the "snout," so to speak, of the eastward-moving cold front.

As we have noted before, the leading edge of a cold front slants in an opposite direction from that of a warm front. The leading edge of a warm front leans forward, while the leading edge of a cold front leans backward.

Leopold Parole Board Made Up of 5 Lawyers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—All five members of the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board, which granted a parole to Nathan Leopold, are lawyers. Four of them have political backgrounds.

Franklin U. Stransky of Savanna, 53, is the chairman. An Illinois Republican legislator for 20 years, he was appointed by Gov. William G. Stratton after being defeated for renomination to the Legislature in April 1956.

Robert J. Branson, 76, of Centralia, also is a former legislator with 30 years in the Illinois House. He was defeated in the 1954 Republican primary for state treasurer, and was named to the board in 1955.

John M. Bookwalter, 47, of Danville, is a former Republican chairman in Vermilion County.

Joseph F. Novotny, 64, of Chicago, is Republican committeeman in the 50th ward. He was appointed to the board after running unsuccessfully for the Chicago Superior Court in 1953.

Joseph G. Carpentier, 41, of East Moline, is a brother of Illinois Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier.

Bookwalter and Carpentier are the only two members who were on the board when Leopold's first petition for parole was turned down in 1953.

All the board members are Stratton appointees.

Stransky said the board's decision to free Leopold was not unimous but he declined to give the numerical division of the vote. It is board policy not to announce the vote on paroles.

Ike Praises Benson in News Conference

he and Vice President Nixon have a very clear understanding as to what Nixon's role should be if Eisenhower should become disabled.

Eisenhower spoke of the relationship between him and Nixon as one of trust and perhaps unique.

HEALTH — Told a weekly news magazine — Time — says in its latest issue that Eisenhower has been forced to reduce his work load by up to 25 per cent as a consequence of his three major illnesses, Eisenhower smiled and said he wishes he could cut it by that much.

MACK—Eisenhower was asked whether he thinks Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack should resign or be fired. He said he had no judgment on the matter at this time.

Eisenhower said the evidence in the House inquiry on the FCC is in the process of being concentrated. He noted that Atty. Gen. Rogers, who has ordered an FBI investigation, is watching the matter to determine whether anything more should be done.

With respect to former President Harry S. Truman's challenge to Republicans to do as well by the foreign aid program as Democrats have, Eisenhower said that last year for the first time most Republicans in Congress voted for it while most Democrats opposed it.

Eisenhower showed little if any trace of the hoarseness which a sore throat had given him when he held his last new conference. His cheeks seemed back to their usual ruddy color after a 10-day vacation in Georgia and a Sunday afternoon of golf at Phoenix, Ariz.

Gunman Takes $10,000; 2 Arrested in 10 Minutes

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — A gun-wielding young man shook off a punch in the mouth and robbed the secretary of state's branch office in suburban St. Clair Shores of about $10,000 last night.

Barely 10 minutes later police arrested two young men, one of them the son of a Detroit police inspector.

Police said the money was recovered.

Held by police were Daniel E. Jedlenski, 19, son of Inspector Stanley Jedlenski; and Ignatius J. Schiros, 25.

The Macomb County prosecutor, Cecil A. Byers, said both admitted their part in the theft.

Police said employes of the branch office had just finished counting receipts from license tag sales when a young man with a gun in his hand walked into the dry cleaning establishment where the office is located.

Ignazio Pampinella, whose daughter, Miss Concetta Pampinella, is manager of the office, socked the youth in the mouth.

"Are you crazy?" the gunman asked the 57-year-old Pampinella. "Do you want a bullet in the head?"

Four persons in the office were herded into a back room while the gunman belatedly pulled a stocking mask over his face.

A man appeared at the door to buy car tags even though the office was closed and the gunman ordered Miss Pampinella to get rid of him.

She went to the door and silently formed the words with her lips: "Call the cops."

The man, Robert M. Bartman, telephoned police from a nearby drugstore.

The holdup man left with two canvas bank bags full of money. The Pampinellas ran to the front of the store and saw the car, then phoned a description to police.

Schiros was driving the car when police stopped it. Police said they found two bags of money and a revolver in the car.

The branch house is the same one that was headed by Mrs. Anna Thorpe who fled to Mexico in March 1956 with about $74,000 in state funds. She and her husband, Floyd, were arrested in Texas last fall, returned to Michigan and convicted of the theft. They are in prison now.

together instead of batting on the employer."

Referring to the Allied Building Trades Union which balked at joining the new merged group, Murphy said, "I don't want you to write off the building trades. These people are friends of mine. There is a reluctant group in the trade union and a lot of suspicion has been created by certain people.

"But there are many statesmen in the building trades. When the thinking people of the building trades find out what is happening here today, we won't have much to worry about. Let them know they are welcome."

Murphy said the State AFL-CIO "is a lot of satisfaction to me."

He said he recalled the days of labor warfare and raids they conducted on one another.

With installation of officers, the AFL-CIO got going under its own power. Closing their three-day convention, the delegates completed formalities of merging the AFL Michigan Federation of Labor (MFL) and the State CIO Council.

Scholle, Murphy and Hopkins were elected by ovehwhelming votes along with an executive board recommended by merger leaders.

In Lansing today, the newly merged AFL-CIO was scheduled to take the first step to attempt to seize some $171,000 in assets of the Michigan Federation of Labor.

State heads of the MFL have defied orders of Meany to turn over their assets and charter.

MAKES DEMAND

Peter H. McGavin, special aide to Meany, said he would appear at the MFL headquarters in Lansing today to make formal demand for the charter and property.

Assets of the MFL, which claims some 300,000 members, includes $64,029 in cash, $67,000 in cash and bonds in a reserve fund and the $40,000 headquarters.

George W. Dean, MFL president, and John Thorpe, secretary-treasurer, have said they will not turn over the property. The formal demand today is expected to be a preliminary to a court fight.

Opposes Auto Property Taxes

State Automobile Club Official Fears Further Production-Sales Peril

DETROIT (INS) — The Automobile Club of Michigan today strongly opposed the idea of a property tax on cars in the state.

University research experts suggested such a tax to the State House of Representatives Tax Structure Study Committee.

Such a tax, according to the Auto Club, might cost Michigan motorists $18.6 million a year.

E. S. Matheson, Auto Club general manager, declared:

"We are sure Michigan's lawmakers and local governments would not want to impose another tax on our leading industry, particularly when auto production and sales are already lagging seriously.

"Our national lawmakers are right now studying the possibility of cuts in auto excise taxes to help stimulate auto sales.

Snow-Trapped Motorists Feel Judicial Freeze

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—A group of motorists tagged for overtime parking when they couldn't move their snowbound cars had their day in court—and a hectic day it was.

The session started with lawyers for the defense claiming the 13.4 inch snowfall last Feb. 15 was "an act of God" and that their clients had been entrapped by nature.

Four hours, thousands of words and $830 later, the score:

156 motorists convicted,

14 dismissed,

500 absent and subject to contempt of court charges, and

1 lawyer evicted from the courtroom.

The motorists who jammed the 75-seat courtroom here were among 1,500 ticketed in the wake of the near-blizzard.

Seven of the 14 dismissals were on tickets issued by patrolman Paul Hart, who admitted writing them at a time when he knew the cars were snowed in and couldn't be moved.

Attorney Thomas E. Kenny told Magistrate Frederick Hock that East Orange was the only city from Maine to Florida to enforce parking regulations in the snowstorm.

GE Strikes Out 'Fair Trade' Rule

No Longer to Set Price for Retailers on Small Home Appliances

NEW YORK (AP) — Storekeepers across the country are free today to sell General Electric Co. small home appliances at any price they please.

GE, the nation's largest electrical manufacturer, has abandoned its "fair trade" policy. It so advised thousands of retailers by letter yesterday.

Under fair trade, which the company long championed at considerable cost, manufacturers fix minimum legal store prices on their branded products in states that have laws enforcing the practice.

GE's large home appliances have never been "fair traded" and the company gave up "suggesting" retail prices for them several years ago.

Thirty-two states have effective fair trade laws. Vermont, Texas, Missouri and the District of Columbia never passed these laws.

In 1951 the U.S. Supreme Court declared the Millar-Tydings Act unconstitutional. This federal law exempted manufacturers from the antitrust laws with regard to retail price fixing where state law permitted retail price fixing.

Since 1951, courts in 11 states have made fair trade unenforceable and Nebraska and Virginia, by action of their high courts, threw fair trade legislation out the winlow.

can only be produced through education, according to Col. Cool.

"Today we are surrounded by, and are dependent upon scientists and engineers. In a complex society such as ours, education plays a vital role in maintaining our very existence. We are not keeping pace with our needs and with the one nation which poses a threat to our freedom," Col. Cool said.

World War III is now being fought in laboratories, he said, and advised students to make great efforts to take advantage of any education they might obtain.

He explained that there are many ways for financially handicapped persons to get educated in the U. S. Some are through scholarships, grants and industries programs where people in organizations can work part time and attend classes at local colleges.

Col. Cool flew from California to speak to the students this morning as a part of the Air Force's "Operation Hometown" assembly program.

This is one in which senior officers in the Air Force are selected to return to their high school to address members of the student body to tell them of the requirements and obligations students have in trying to meet America's needs in science, engineering and technology.

Col. Cool, a much - decorated combat veteran, has not been in Pontiac since 1942 when he returned from operations in the South Pacific.

Saturday Deadline Set for Veterans

All disabled veterans and unremarried widows of all veterans must make application before Saturday if they wish to be exempted from paying taxes on their homes.

Floyd E. Cremer, deputy director of veterans affairs for Oakland County, said all such veterans and widows may be exempted from paying these annual taxes if the assessed valuation on their homes is not over $7,500.

The veterans and unremarried widows of veterans can make application for this exemption at their local governing office. The deadline is March 1.

Commission Still Arguing About Civic Center Work

Having earmarked $5,000 for "permanent improvements" several months ago, commissioners said they could not justify allocating more money at this time.

Commissioner Florence Willett, named to represent the city in working with women's clubs, presented plans and costs for the park development. In addition previously allocated funds, plus some $2,000 in the park improvement fund, she recommended spending $1,200 to begin the work.

This would include the cost of sidewalks, top soil and the removal of decaying trees and shrubs in the center of the park.

Mrs. Willett told commissioners this evidence of city interest would make it easier to get a chairman and committee from among the women's groups.

Luxury items, such as the proposed decorative pool and statuary in the center mall, would be financed by public subscription under the direction of the various organizations promoting improvement of the center.

At Monday's meeting, Commissioner William Hutchinson asked an appropriation of the additional $1,200, suggesting that the work be started this spring.

A motion by Commissioner Carl Ingraham, tabling Hutchinson's proposal, was adopted, 4 to 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert VanderKloot of 1200 Lone Pine Rd. were honored last night at a testimonial dinner at the Bloomfield Country Day School.

The couple was cited by parents and guests for having been instrumental in establishing the school a year ago.

"A group of seven parents felt the need in the community for a small school where their daughters could get the benefit of individual attention," Gertrude Babcock, headmistress of the school, said.

"The original school was in a rented house and had a staff of two teachers. The response at the end of the year showed the need for a permanent arrangement," she said.

Now located on the campus of the Detroit Country Day School, 13-Mile and Lahser Rds., the school has a present enrollment of 33 girls from the 7th through the 11th grades. The first class will be graduated in 1959.

A plaque bearing the name of the VanderKloots as founders will be mounted on the school wall.

Funds for a stained glass window for St. James Episcopal Church will be raised at a 1 p.m. fashion show tomorrow in the Birmingham Community House.

Mrs. R. R. Jacobs of Birmingham is general chairman of the show and tea, which is being sponsored by St. Martha Guild.

George H. Lee

Service for George H. Lee, 99, of 26023 German Mill Rd., Franklin, will be conducted at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Franklin Cemetery.

Mr. Lee, who would have been 100 years old next Fourth of July, died yesterday after a long illness.

A native of Franklin and a lifelong resident of that community, he spent his early years as a farmer. He later was employed by General Motors Truck and Coach Division, Pontiac, retiring in 1952.

Surviving are his wife, Ella; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Charles Nash of Pontiac and Mrs. Doug Schultz of San Diego, Calif., and five stepsons, David and Paul Long of Millington, Ernest of Franklin, Dale of Rochester and Frank of Jackson.

Birmingham U. of M. Alumnae to Meet

BIRMINGHAM — Dr. James Davis, director of the University of Michigan International Center, will address the University of Michigan Alumnae of Birmingham, this evening at the home of Mrs. Sylvester Leahy, of 500 Hupp Cross Rd., Birmingham.

DR. DAVIS

His talk, entitled "The World in Your Living Room," will be illustrated by dances given by four foreign students who will accompany Dr. Davis from Ann Arbor. They will wear their native costumes.

On the social committee for the evening, headed by Mrs. Sylvester Trythall, are Mrs. N. D. Alix, Mrs. G. T. Christianson and Mrs. William Shultz.

Preceding the program, a dinner will be given by Mrs. Irene Murphy for the guests from Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Norris Host, who contacts foreign students for visits in Birmingham, also will attend.

Experts to Testify on Sanity of Goff

to move. I went to the back of the car and suddenly heard shots and heard Rita scream."

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor was to place Dr. John G. Haarer, medical superintendent of Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, on the stand today.

It was Dr. Haarer who said Goff had regained his sanity and ordered his release from the hospital for the criminally insane last December.

Testimony yesterday by Goff's mother, Mrs. Lottie M. Carpenter, also of Flint, indicated her son planned to take his own life after he apparently had been spurned by Mrs. Cummings.

Testimony given last Friday by the stepfather and former husband of the deceased showed several attempts had been made by them to have Goff "leave her alone."

Contradictory testimony came yesterday from Mrs. Carpenter who said Mrs. Cummings on several occasions had told her that she "still loved" her son.

Because her son "was acting so funny, crying a lot and walking the floor," Mrs. Carpenter sent him to see a Flint psychiatrist in 1955. Unable to get an appointment, Goff went to see his family doctor.

It was on the Sunday morning of the shooting, soon after Mrs. Cummings, Worges and another companion were returning from a wedding reception in Lapeer, that an apparent suicide note of Goff's, saying he loved Rita "too much," was found by his mother.

Blizzards, gales and piled snow drifts put much of Western Europe into the deep freeze today and brought chaos to road and rail transportation.

Conditions in most of Britain were the worst in 10 years.

A blizzard described by experts as the worst since World War II raged through Holland.

An estimated 35,000 miles of British roads were unpassable. Hundreds of automobiles were abandoned in snowdrifts and many villages were cut off. Trains from London arrived at Glasgow up to 11½ hours late.

Hundreds of travelers tossed aboard ferries which had crossed the English Channel. They could not land in the rough sea.

Other ships waited outside Le Havre for a lull in the gale. Along the French coast the storm uprooted trees and toppled chimneys.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet airline Aeroflot and British European Airways today signed an agreement for direct air service by the two government airlines between London and Moscow. Regular flights are expected to begin within a few months, officials said.

Hits Hoffa's Record as Wayne Official

DETROIT (AP) — City Councilman William G. Rogell, a former Detroit Tiger shortstop, today criticized Teamster President James R. Hoffa's poor attendance record at meetings of the Wayne (Detroit) County Board of Supervisors, of which both are members.

Hoffa failed to answer the roll call yesterday for a meeting of an 11-member Roads and Bridges Committee of the supervisors. Rogell called for his attendance record. It showed Hoffa had attended none of six committee meetings.

"I think a man should be removed if he doesn't show enough interest to attend a meeting, "Rogell said. He cited records that showed that Hoffa, since he was reappointed to the board last April 9, attended only one of 17 meetings and that one was when he was sworn in.

Only Voluntary Births

Czechs Make Abortions Legal

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia has made it much easier for any woman expecting an unwanted child to have a legal abortion.

By law, abortion now can be authorized within the first three months of pregnancy:

If the family feels it has too many children.

If the expectant mother has been widowed or her husband is an invalid.

If the mother is unmarried or for other reasons faces difficulties should the child be born.

If the child will be born into a broken family.

If the mother is too old safely to have a child.

If pregnancy was the result of rape or other illegal act.

"If people are to have children, it is right that they have them voluntarily, even if in fewer numbers, but that they devote the greatest care to their training," explained Prof. Karel Kacl, chairman of the Health Committee of the Czech National Assembly, writing in Czechoslovak Life.

Women wanting abortions must go to a government commission for permission. Abortion is authorized only if her health permits and if she qualifies within the law, passed in December.

Kacl said Czechoslovakia acted because laws against abortion did not keep women from having them. Unprofessional legal abortions cost many their health or lives.

Also, he wrote, the old laws failed to recognize that today "woman enjoys complete equality with the man and so cannot be a mere passive object."

Lenten Meditations

By ROBERT L. DIEFFENBACHER, D.D.

Yesterday is past and there is no return. We may retravel the roads along which we sped. We can walk the paths which we trod as children. Some may even relive the thrills which they experienced under similar circumstances. Yet there is no going back to undo the past.

Forward is the only way that man may go.

Many experiences of days gone by may determine the ways we turn today. Yet we may again stumble and fall.

Our own limited pictures of the past are not enough to help us chart the future.

The light of Heaven, the helping hand of Christ, the redeeming power of the Cross, and the love of the Father must be coupled with our minds and souls as we make our decisions to go forward.

Internal Revenue Service Will Provide All the Help You Need---At No Charge

(This is the final story in a series on your federal income tax. It describes some common mistakes and tells how to avoid them. If you have saved all eight of the articles, you are now ready to begin work on your own return).

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Feature Writer

Assuming you are an average taxpayer with no particular income or tax problems, you should now be able to sit down, fill out the proper form, and square your account with Uncle Sam.

One point can hardly be overemphasized: If you have any doubts or questions, don't leave it to hunches or guesswork.

Contact your nearest Internal Revenue Service office, by telephone, preferably, or in person or by mail, and tell them your troubles. It won't cost you a thing, and it might save you considerable time, trouble and money.

Your Income Tax-No. 8

If you underpay your income tax for any reason, you must pay 6 per cent interest on any additional tax due. More than that, you might get slapped with a penalty that could make things really rough.

The revenue service has figures to show that about one out of every four tax returns filed by individuals contains a major error.

About nine out of 10 of these errors are in the taxpayers' favor, and only one out of 10 in the favor of Uncle.

Last year the government found errors in arithmetic alone on over 1,300,000 returns. These called for refunds of 33 million dollars, and bills for additional taxes of over 76 million dollars.

Give yourself plenty of time to make out your return. Don't put it off until the last minute, when you are more apt to make a mistake. And, once you've finished it, put it aside for a few days. Then pick it up again and make a line-by-line check. Here are some things you'll want to watch:

Be sure your name and address on the top lines are printed carefully so they can be read easily.

The revenue service is holding thousands of refund checks for people whose names and addresses they haven't been able to decipher.

Be sure you sign your return in the proper place. And, if it's a joint return, be sure your wife (or husband) signs it too. The return isn't complete until it has been properly signed.

Be sure you have attached a copy of your form W2 to your return (and that you keep one copy for your own records). If you worked for more than one employer during the year, you have to attach a W2 form from each one.

Don't send along your receipts, vouchers and bills, etc., but be sure you keep them handy where you can get at them easily if the tax collector asks questions.

Check and double-check your arithmetic, then check it again. If you have any school-age children, you might have them check it for you, too.

Check your figures again to make certain you are claiming the right deductions — either the 10 per cent standard deduction or the itemized deductions.

If you and your wife (or husband) are filing separate returns, take another look at the figures to be sure you wouldn't be better off filing a joint return. Most taxpayers are.

Following are some of the mistakes taxpayers make that bring them bills for more taxes from Uncle Sam:

Claiming exemptions for persons who don't fit all the requirements of a dependent. Remember the big test: you must furnish more than half the support.

Failure to report all income. This is particularly true for people whose work brings them tips and gratuities. If you got a bonus from the boss, that's taxable.

Also be sure you report income from dividends, interest on your savings account, profits from the sale of property, etc.

Claiming personal deductions for such things as federal excise taxes, gifts to relatives and friends, property you misplace or lose, cost of travel to and from work, school expenses, etc.

Claiming excessive amounts for contributions to churches and charitable organizations, medical and dental expenses and the like. If these contributions and expenses are high, be sure you have the facts and figures to back up your claim.

And once more: If you have any questions, check with the Internal Revenue Service. Remember, the tax collectors are real, live human beings who have to pay taxes themselves. They'll give you every break in the book — for free.

The Internal Revenue Service has opened a special office in Pontiac to assist taxpayers. It is located at 167 W. Huron St., and taxpayers may go there for assistance on Mondays and Fridays, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The office personnel will not make out your complete return, but will check your report and answer any questions you have.

A church in Vasteras, Sweden, is building an atom-bombproof shelter 50 feet below ground, the shelter to be used for church services in normal times. Only a church belfry will show above ground.

European Doctor Discovers Food That Makes Skin Young Again!

39-year-old Woman's Face Looks 14 Years Younger After Clinical Test!

Swedish scientist demonstrates how new chemical skin foods, based on Scandinavian beauty secret, helps end lines, wrinkles and flabby dry skin!

Sweden (IMS)—At a dramatic news conference today, Dr. Max Laserow, Swedish skin scientist, revealed that he had finally discovered how to restore youthful beauty to aging skin! The secret is a new scientific development based on age-old Scandinavian beauty methods, a chemical food formula that renourishes and replenishes skin glands and tissues in a completely new and different way!

Then right before the eyes of the assembled scientific reporters and beauty editors, Dr. Laserow demonstrated how simple 5-minute treatments actually made a 39-year-old woman look 14 years younger! After introducing 39-year-old Mrs. H. Suedlund to the reporters, Dr. Laserow told of the varied skin problems this 39-year-old woman had suffered from . . . skin problems typical of women from age 30 to 65. Mrs. Suedlund had the usual stubborn wrinkles on the forehead . . . the typical unattractive crow's feet about the eyes . . . deep, ugly lines around the nose and mouth . . . sagging, flabby skin under the chin . . . loose, wrinkled flesh at the neck . . . and overall, a tired, dull, lifeless complexion and dry, aging skin!

Then Dr. Laserow demonstrated his treatment. He took a soft whitish mixture from a jar and began to lightly spread it over Mrs. Suedlund's face. Softly patting it on . . . never rubbing it in . . . never massaging. And as we watched, the white mixture began to disappear as it penetrated deep down into the woman's skin. Then Dr. Laserow showed a series of photos made during the test.

First, we saw how those stubborn wrinkles started to fade away . . . until that 39-year-old forehead was almost as clear and unlined as a baby's! Next, the scores of unattractive crow's feet seemed to melt away . . . so that the skin around the eyes became softer, less wrinkled. Then the deep, ugly lines around the nose and mouth seemed to actually vanish before our eyes . . . and that whole facial area was smoother, more even. And then as we watched, the sagging, flabby skin under the chin and the loose, wrinkled flesh at the neck began to grow tighter, firmer . . . until the chin and neck looked like those of a woman of 25. And finally, Mrs. Suedlund's whole skin and complexion began to glow with such fresh, vibrant youthfulness that you could hardly believe it had ever been tired, dull and dry.

And so, this new doctor's discovery had transformed the 39-year-old Mrs. Suedlund into a lovely 25. Yes, before our very eyes . . . she had grown 14 years younger!

What This Discovery Means to You!

Now, can you imagine what this discovery means to you if you are a woman over 25? It means that for the first time science has found how to help insure and protect the youthful beauty of your skin. It means that at last there is a proven scientific way to aid in recapturing the clear, smooth skin, age may have stolen from you. And it means that now with this Doctor's discovery your face can actually start growing younger . . . instead of older. But read what Dr. Laserow himself says about your beauty problems.

When the almost magical transformation of Mrs. Suedlund had been accomplished, Dr. Laserow began to talk:

"This may seem like a miracle to unscientific eyes, but it is really a simple, natural process based on facts scientists have known for years! What I have done is to provide certain necessary chemical foods to an aging skin that was starving for them. And this feeding was responsible for the transformation you have just seen. The work and testing of this new chemical skin food took over 20 years and hundreds of experiments! But now that it is developed it is so simple to use that almost any woman could apply it herself in only a few minutes!"

The Beauty Secret Of Swedish Women!

The world has always known that the most beautiful women . . . the clearest, smoothest complexions are to be found in the Scandinavian countries and Sweden in particular. And so when Dr. Laserow began his research into the problems of aging skin, he first tried to discover the reasons for the unusual skin beauty of Swedish women.

He discovered that this unusual skin beauty was only true of women from the farm and country areas of Sweden . . . and that women in Swedish cities suffered from the same skin problems that women all over the world have. But in these farm and country areas he did find astonishingly youthful skins and on women far past middle age. He saw women of 45 who had the fresh, unlined faces of women half their age. He saw women of 55 with clear, smooth skins and complexions! He even discovered women over 60 who actually looked only 30 years old! But when he asked them what their beauty secret was, woman after woman told him they did not know.

They regarded their unusual beauty as a gift of God and nature. They used no beauty preparations, no creams, nothing. And so Dr. Laserow began years of experiments and clinical tests to discover the reason why . . . the secret of these women's astonishing youthful skin beauty.

Now You Can 'Feed' Youthful Beauty Back Into Aging Skin!

After many years and literally thousands of experiments, Dr.

These Are The 7 Skin Problems Dr. Laserow Has Solved

1. Lines on forehead
2. Lines at corner of eyes
3. Lines under eyes
4. Lines around nose
5. Nose-to-mouth lines
6. Lines around mouth
7. Lines on neck, under chin

Laserow discovered that the secret was in the diet of these Swedish farm women. That all their lives they had eaten certain foods containing special ingredients that gave extra, added nourishment to their skins. And that this extra nourishment kept their skins fresh and youthful long after most women's faces began to age and become lined!

But when Dr. Laserow began to put women on a special diet containing these skin beauty foods he found no success. Woman after woman ate these foods for months and their faces were as wrinkled, as lined, as old as when they started.

And so Dr. Laserow began another series of tests and experiments and at last he was rewarded with success. He found that when he made a chemical concentration of these beauty foods, and put that concentrate into a base that could be absorbed directly into the skin . . . youthful skin beauty began to bloom again.

You see, the Swedish farm women had eaten these foods all their lives and so they had built up their skin over the years. But a woman who had not eaten these foods all her life could just not eat enough of them in a short time to help her skin. But when a super-powerful chemical concentrate of these beauty foods was applied directly to the skin, it went to work in an amazingly short time to replenish and renourish skin glands and tissues . . . restore fresh youthful beauty and help end lines, wrinkles, crow's feet and so on!

How This Skin Food Works to Restore Beauty & End Lines, Wrinkles, Crow's Feet & Sagging Dry Skin

Dr. Laserow has named this chemical skin food concentrate "Livigen." And Livigen is as much a food as bread is . . . except that it is a special food for the skin. Livigen works in a natural way to give new nourishment to aging skin tissues and make them young again . . . and end wrinkles, lines, etc.

The process is a simple, and natural one. You see, as we age so does our skin and as the skin grows older wrinkles, flabby and dry skin become a problem. This is because the glands and muscles under the surface skin no longer function as they did in youth to hold the skin taut and tight . . . to give natural oils and secrete normal fluids.

The muscles grow weak and limp and so your surface skin becomes loose and flabby and wrinkles and lines appear. The glands do not provide oils and fluids so that your surface skin becomes dry and flaky! Livigen is a super-powerful skin food concentrate that renourishes these aging glands and muscles. As they absorb Livigen they become functional and strong again. They begin to act as they did in your youth.

The muscles under the surface of your skin begin to expand to their normal youthful size and so they start to draw your surface skin tight, hold it taut, and fight wrinkles and lines. The glands begin to provide natural oils and fluids to your surface skin and so it becomes smoother, softer and clearer . . . dry flakiness begins to fade away.

Now Look up to 15 Years Younger With Doctor's 5-minute Treatment

Only a fool could expect that years of aging skin problems could be reversed and ended in a few minutes. However, you have just witnessed the miraculous transformation of Mrs. Suedlund; here is what it means to you! This doctor's 5-minute treatment can accomplish wonders . . . but you must use it faithfully, in a scientific way for 30 days. Follow closely Dr. Laserow's four-step method!

ONE: Every night, wash your face carefully with warm water. Then dab and pat dry . . . do not rub!

TWO: Next, take some LIVIGEN with your fingertips and softly work your fingers together to reactivate it.

THREE: Softly, lightly apply LIVIGEN to your face and skin. To the wrinkles, lines, to the sagging flesh at the chin and neck! Then watch as it starts to be absorbed into the skin . . . as it begins to work for you!

FOUR: Then relax, sleep, dream of beauty . . . because a miracle is taking place, you are being made young again!

Yes, if you follow this scientific treatment for only 30 days you will begin to see astonishing results. If you're 25 you'll know you are protecting and insuring the youthful freshness of your skin and complexion. If you're 35 you will see lines, wrinkles and crow's feet start to disappear . . . you'll begin to look a lovely 25. If you're 45, sagging flabby skin under the chin, wrinkled loose flesh at the neck will become firm, taut . . . you'll start to look like a young 35.

And if you're 55, 60 or even 65, harsh, deep ugly lines at the nose and mouth will begin to melt away . . . you'll be astonished to have people think you're only 45! And you will look and feel only 45! As you spread this doctor's formula on dry, flaky skin it starts to become smooth and soft . . . age begins to fade away!

Yes, a miracle is happening—you are being made young again. You gain new attractiveness, new desirableness. You look in the mirror and you can hardly recognize yourself. And it's so simple . . . so easy . . . so pleasant with this doctor's proven scientific treatment!

No More Face Creams, Hormones, Face Masques or Cover-Ups!

LIVIGEN works in a completely new and different way from beauty preparations of the past. It is completely different from creams, hormones and masques. If like most women you have spent fortunes on these preparations and without real success . . . now at last there is a new proven road to beauty! Face creams, masques, etc., all fail because they cannot really reverse the aging process. They are merely stop-gaps . . . they work at the surface . . . they cover skin problems instead of treating them.

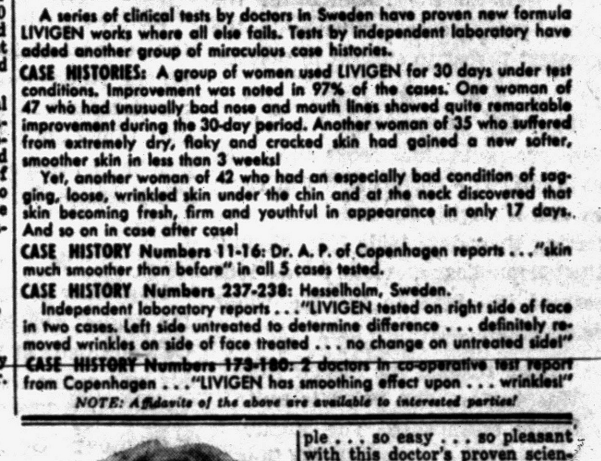

LIVIGEN is not a cover-up . . . it works below the surface of your skin . . . it works to replenish skin muscles and glands with new extra nourishment!

DOCTOR'S TESTS AND LABORATORY TESTS PROVE NEW FORMULA SUCCESSFUL IN CASE AFTER CASE

A series of clinical tests by doctors in Sweden have proven new formula LIVIGEN works where all else fails. Tests by independent laboratory have added another group of miraculous case histories.

CASE HISTORIES: A group of women used LIVIGEN for 30 days under test conditions. Improvement was noted in 97% of the cases. One woman of 47 who had unusually bad nose and mouth lines showed quite remarkable improvement during the 30-day period. Another woman of 35 who suffered from extremely dry, flaky and cracked skin had gained a new softer, smoother skin in less than 3 weeks!

Yet, another woman of 42 who had an especially bad condition of sagging, loose, wrinkled skin under the chin and at the neck discovered that skin becoming fresh, firm and youthful in appearance in only 17 days. And so on in case after case!

CASE HISTORY Numbers 11-16: Dr. A. P. of Copenhagen reports . . . "skin much smoother than before" in all 5 cases tested.

CASE HISTORY Numbers 237-238: Hesselholm, Sweden.

Independent laboratory reports . . . "LIVIGEN tested on right side of face in two cases. Left side untreated to determine difference . . . definitely removed wrinkles on side of face treated . . . no change on untreated side!"

CASE HISTORY Numbers 179-180: 2 doctors in co-operative test report from Copenhagen . . . "LIVIGEN has smoothing effect upon . . . wrinkles!"

NOTE: Affidavits of the above are available to interested parties!

Democratic Outlook for 1960

From all reports the weekend Democratic powwow in Washington brought forth the most optimistic group of politicians since 1936. That was the year they assembled in Philadelphia to renominate President ROOSEVELT and Vice President GARNER.

Former President Harry S. Truman was the center of the stage. Generally speaking, his speech was full of fire and he heaped brimstone on the Eisenhower Administration. The only note of restraint was when Harry mentioned 1948. That was the year everyone, even many Democrats, conceded he would be defeated.

In his speech Mr. TRUMAN told his fellow Democrats to bear in mind that next to the resources of the other party, overconfidence is the greatest threat to success in politics.

The rest of the talk hinged on the prospects for 1958 and 1960 elections. The enthusiasm ran high, as well it might, the Democrats were having their day. Aside from chiding the Republicans, victory in 1960 seemed the keynote for the whole celebration.

After reading the reports from Washington, one point is quite firmly established. The Republicans have one man at this time at the head of the list for the 1960 Presidential election. Vice President NIXON is the odds on favorite without a contender.

But hold your hats and look at the following list of Democratic hopefuls: Senator GORE of Tennessee, Governor HARRIMAN, Senator JOHNSON of Texas, Senator KEFAUVER of Tennessee, Senator KENNEDY of Massachusetts, Governor MEYNER of New Jersey, STEVENSON of Illinois, Senator SYMINGTON of Missouri and Michigan's own Governor WILLIAMS.

If the number of candidates is a political advantage, then the Democrats should be off and running. But quick analysis points out these factors: each participant has at least one or more strikes against him which would have to be overcome.

Reviewing the nominees we find that GORE and KEFAUVER are Southerners; NIXON would be in a stronger position against a Southerner; they also would split Tennessee. JOHNSON has had a heart attack and is a Westerner and projects the "oil and gas" income.

HARRIMAN is too old. KENNEDY is too young; also he might revive the Catholic issue of the 1928 campaign. MEYNER seems well qualified but not well enough known at this time.

Our own GOV. WILLIAMS is too closely allied with special interests of organized labor. STEVENSON is already a two-time loser. SYMINGTON embodies a military defense issue which might disappear by 1960.

Even with the above mentioned obstacles after a spirited weekend conclave, the Democrats seem well fortified to take on any and all comers in the 1960 elections.

Reds' Plans for Korea Present Nothing New

Another plan for reunification advanced by the Communist regime of North Korea proposes "free" all Korea elections without any prior international political conference.

This election would be contingent on withdrawal simultaneously of both United Nations and Chinese Communist troops, election conferences between North and South Korea on an "equality" basis and reduction of both armies.

If accepted, this procedure would leave South Korea unprotected while Red troops merely withdrew north of the Yalu River. It would recognize the Communist regime of North Korea condemned by the United Nations as an aggressor and ruling over 3.5 million people. The South Korean government, on the other hand, was voted into power in free elections under U.N. auspices and rules 22 million people.

Recent reorganization of Communist China's government may mean pressure for a larger role in world affairs. Premier CHOU, while criticizing the United States, calls for a peaceful settlement of the Korean problem.

On its face the reunification proposal seems to be a repetition of Communist plans rejected by the U.N. at the Geneva conference in 1954. Nothing is likely to come of it but we can't afford to ignore it without finding out just how far the Communists are prepared to go toward unification. In the meantime the proposal is making good Communist propaganda.

The Man About Town

Was Big Industry

But It Passed Out in Face of Modern Times

Neck: What if you don't stick out, you won't get in trouble up to.

What was the biggest winter industry in the Pontiac area 50 years ago? If you were not here at that time, you'd never guess it. 'Twas

The Harvesting of Ice.

Thousands of carloads were cut from our lakes each winter, part of which was immediately shipped to the cities. Other thousands of carloads were stored in sawdust in large buildings near the lakes for later shipment during a large part of each year.

For many years ice was the greatest commodity handled by the railroads leaving our county, even larger than manufactured or agricultural products. January and February were the big harvesting months.

The coming of artificial refrigeration gradually pushed natural ice off the market, until in recent years it is practically non-existent as a matter of trade.

One of the few surviving men who were in the natural ice business in a big way is of Waterford. He supervised large projects on a number of Oakland County lakes when they were the source of a major supply of Detroit's refrigeration.

A mechanized caddy that brings up the desired golf club just by dialing its number is appearing on the links down Florida way.

This acknowledges receipt of a letter from

of Detroit, enclosing a clipping from the Pontiac Weekly Gazette of 60 years ago. In it is published a letter from

"Overburdened Taxpayer,"

in which he writes: "Real estate and taxes in Pontiac are too high. A good building lot costs $150, and it cost $1,500 to build an 8-room house, on which the taxes are $16."

A Lack-of-Progress Report

David Lawrence Says:

Dulles Dedicated Despite Criticism

WASHINGTON — John Foster Dulles has just reached his 70th birthday, and naturally it is an occasion for appraisal of his accomplishments as secretary of state.

LAWRENCE

His dedication to the highest ideals of the American Republic has not faltered in the slightest because of the barrages of criticism often fired at him.

The controversy over what Mr. Dulles does and says is not really concerned with him as an individual. It is basically a conflict over rival ideologies in America.

The criticism is inspired for the most part by a little clique here of so-called "liberals" whose heroes are Messrs. Truman and Stevenson and whose "left-wing" sensibilities have been aroused because Mr. Dulles will not take the Red Chinese to his bosom or draw into the high councils of the state department those diplomats whose policies and advice would mean appeasement of the Communist regime throughout the world.

This clique has been so persistent that it has actually persuaded many uninformed onlookers in the Republican ranks that there must be something wrong with the secretary of state.

The constant repetition of the charge that Mr. Dulles allegedly has "lost the confidence of our allies" makes an impression, especially upon Americans who visit Europe from time to time and come in contact with persons of wide influence in the press.

Many Europeans indeed dislike Mr. Dulles because he has not been either pro-British or pro-French but, to their dismay, has insisted upon being pro-American.

The critics frequently make fun of phrases used by Mr. Dulles in his speeches. They single out and ridicule, for example, the phrase "massive retaliation." It would have been tragic, however, if the Communist rulers in Moscow had become convinced that America was not back of the policy of "massive retaliation."

There might have been a serious miscalculation and a third world war except for the realistic pronouncements by the Department of Defense here, and especially by the Strategic Air Command, which has proclaimed unequivocally its readiness to back up the doctrine of "massive retaliation."

There has been a lot of satire about the so-called "promised liberation" of the states of eastern Europe. The critics argue that the talk of "liberation" did not help the Hungarians when they revolted and that, in effect, Mr. Dulles had promised to use military force to help "liberate" the peoples of eastern Europe.

Mr. Dulles himself, however, in the 1952 campaign, when he first used the word "liberation," declared that what he had in mind was a "peaceful liberation" through the channels of peace and moral force.

He never said that America would go to war for such a purpose. There never has been any question, of course, but that the moral force of the United States has been and will continue to be exhibited on the side of the oppressed nations. This has been revealed again and again in the United Nations forum.

Then there is criticism because Mr. Dulles a few years ago at a time when the western alliance faced a crisis in Europe, said there would have to be an "agonizing reappraisal" by the United States of its policies if France failed to join with America and Britain in an accord in western Europe.

The French government actually did reappraise its own situation and did finally permit Germany to enter the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The words of warning used by Mr. Dulles were persuasive—they had their effect.

The United States today isn't fighting a war, large or small, anywhere in the world. John Foster Dulles, with the unflinching support continuously given him by President Eisenhower, has fulfilled the basic mission of a secretary of state—to keep his own country out of war. He has stood up for America.

That's why the Democratic chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, calls Secretary Dulles "a sincere, courageous and dedicated American" and describes much of the criticism of him as "un-American." This is true bipartisanship.

The Country Parson

"The church is a good place for girls to find husbands—and I hope the wives find theirs here, too."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Advice to Angina Patients: Study Breathing Method

Webster's New International Dictionary devotes 300 words to eight definitions of the word belly.

The first definition applies to the human body — "the front part of the human body between the breast and the thighs."

DR. BRADY

That might have served well enough, but the dictionary people had to embellish it further: "Enclosing the organs of digestion; the abdomen." Can't we settle for "the front wall of the abdomen"? And regard the abdomen as the lower and larger of the two body cavities?

When I earnestly advocated immediate inflations of the bellows (belly breathing) as an emergency or preventive remedy for impending angina pectoris or coronary occlusion, a reader wanted to know how in some imaginary place a person with angina could breathe at all . . . and I could think of no appropriate answer.

I have never had angina, so I can't understand how it feels . . . and by the same token I can't understand — oh, well, just say I have never had a baby.

A person who is subject to angina pectoris should never be without a half dozen nitroglycerin tablets in pocket or purse, tablets of recently proved potency (method described in the CVD booklet about heart and artery troubles, 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope), so that he or she may pop a tablet in mouth upon the merest hint of an impending attack.

In fact some of the best physicians advise angina patients to take such a nitroglycerine tablets three or four times a day as regular routine.

The recommendation of immediate inflations of the bellows to prevent or alleviate a "heart attack," is not only rational but has proved effective in a great many instances. So, if you and your doctor dismiss the suggestion as another of Brady's pipe dreams, probably you both have too much fat where gray matter should be.

Even if it fails to give relief, surely it can do no harm to try it — that is, if you aren't so cramped in the vise that you can't breathe at all. Even so, the vise is on chest, not on the bellows.

Whether you are subject to heart trouble or not, you should know how to use the bellows for healthy everyday living. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet BELLY BREATHING.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Outlines Sex Differences

Mrs. Crane scolds me for watering her flowers too much. Do you find that your menfolks are more likely to be guilty of this fault? And what do you think of the other sex differences in social behavior listed below? It makes an interesting hobby to chart the ways in which men and women vary in their reactions to the same situations in life.

By DR. GEORG EW. CRANE

Case X-339: Mrs. Crane recently stopped at the florist's to pay for some flowers which she had ordered sent to the funeral of one of our friends.

She is a great admirer of flowers, anyway, so she began to compliment the florist on his many beautiful plants.

Their conversation veered around to African violets, which she tries to cultivate at home.

"I guess I don't DR. CRANE have a 'green thumb'," she laughingly informed him, "for my plants never do very well.

"Do you suppose it is because Dr. Crane waters them too much?"

And the florist assented.

"Yes, that is a common trouble," he said. "Women differ from men in their treatment of plants.

"The husbands usually give them too much water. And the wives may forget to water them enough."

SEX DIFFERENCES

Many of you husbands may recognize that this difference exists in your own household.

I will admit that I flood all our house plants with water, especially if we are to be away from home for a week or two.

Perhaps I have more "empathy" for plants, for I imagine how thirsty they must get, so I then give them an extra supply of water.

Men in general tend to be mechanically minded. They have been trained to watch the gauges on the dashboard. They realize that a car must be greased and oiled regularly.

Many women drivers seem to have a blind faith that everything they want is so.

Even in love affairs, this same principal often is evident. Girls ordained in heaven. They like to dream that love descends in poetical fashion.

Men are more materialistic and realize that things don't just happen but are made to happen by our own behavior.

But we need both mechanical gumption and faith to keep this world going, so husbands and wives supplement each other's personality.

Men thus dig the coal, make the machines and produce the engineering feats that move civilization onward.

Women meanwhile form the music clubs and band together in the PTA.

Even though men usually occupy the pulpits, it is women who generally form the majority in the audiences. They outnumber men in church by at least a 2:1 ratio.

And it is the women who tutor youngsters in kindness, plus the Golden Rule code of conduct.

Men tend to be gruff and tactless. Women have a better social understanding and thus are more diplomatic.

Men bark loudly, even to the point of terrifying their own children till the latter seldom confide in their dads.

Women soothe and adapt their teaching to the mood of the child, the confidences of their youngsters and often act as a shield or intermediator between teenagers and daddy.

When Junior leaves for college, mother sheds tears and may cling to the departing youngster.

Dad boisterously slaps him on the back or squeezes his arm and bluntly asks:

"Are you sure you got enough money to tide you along?"

It is mother who usually writes to the departed kids, but it is dad who brusquely inquires, "Didn't we get a letter from Junior today?"

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Republican Is Too Late to Call It Williams' Army'

I see Republican State Chairman, Lawrence Lendemer, is calling the 330,000 unemployed Michigan residents members of Williams' army of the unemployed. Mr. Lendemer is about two months late. For at least that long Michigan Democrats have been pointing out a national Eisenhower army of the unemployed with involuntary enlistments now exceeding five million.

Michigan's economy is suffering largely because cars and other products we make aren't selling on the national market. This can be traced to stubborn Republican persistence with the tight money policy that precipitated and is deepening the recession. There's scant comfort to know others are suffering worse than you. But it must be noted that 11 other states have a higher percentage of unemployment, with six or more per cent of the labor force drawing compensation. We contend Michigan's unemployed are just one of the 48 divisions of Eisenhower's army.

Eisenhower and Republican leaders in Congress apparently have adopted a "wait and see" attitude, refusing to take any effective action until it is determined whether the President's "chin up" statements that things will be better in March are borne out. By contrast, Williams and Michigan Democrats in Congress have urged prompt, effective national action by the Federal Government to counteract a national recession. "Wait until March" sounds strangely like the Hoover platitude of a quarter of a century ago that "prosperity is just around the corner."

Anecdote Tells Story of Slump

This is the story of a man who lived by the side of the road. He was hard of hearing and so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes, so he had no newspaper. But he sold good hot dogs. He put up a sign on the highway, telling how good they were. He stood by the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog, mister." And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders and he bought a bigger stove. He got his son home from college to help him. But then something terrible happened.

His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? There's a big depression on. The international situation is terrible and the domestic situation is worse." Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son has been to college. He listens to the radio, reads papers, so he ought to know."

So the father cut down on the bun order, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand on the highway to sell hot dogs. His hot dog sales fell almost over night. "You were right, son," he said, "we are certainly in the middle of a great depression."

PROPERTY LOSS

If you itemize deductions, you can deduct a net loss resulting from destruction of your property by fire, storm, automobile accident, or other losses resulting from natural forces.

The amount of the loss is the difference between the fair market value of the item just before the casualty—less its fair market value immediately after the casualty—but not to exceed the adjusted cost of your property —less any insurance recovery.

Any destruction must not have been caused by an act of willful negligence on your part. Property which is stolen, not mislaid or lost, is deductible loss. You cannot claim a casualty loss for personal injuries—either to yourself or anyone else.

Rebels Pick a Winner

Fangio Top Auto Racer

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Cuba's rebels gave away a few clues the other day when they kidnaped 46-year-old Juan Manuel Fangio.

First, they showed they knew something about sports car racing. For no one but a gas and grease aficionado would pick a balding, short man who speaks in a high voice as the greatest driver of them all.

Second, they showed they knew Fangio's popularity and that he would be the best man to bduct to publicize their campaign against big sports events. He is a great hero in Cuba, and the 400,000 persons who lined the course last year cheered whenever they saw his car.

The rebels oppose big sports shows on the ground the government should concentrate on providing jobs for some 500,000 unemployed.

Fangio, five-time winner of the world's auto racing championship, was kidnaped in professional style from the Lincoln Hotel in Havana shortly after he made the fastest trial run Sunday on the Malecon racing course.

Fangio himself has been more or less non-political, although he had been criticized for taking favors from ousted Argentine dictator Juan Peron.

He is the son of a plasterer who went to Argentina from Italy when he was 11, he began working in a garage, drove his first race at 23 and won his first race when he was 29.

For many years he was known as something of a daredevil, but time and several major accidents changed him into a leading member of the safe-and-sure school.

TOP RACER

He wins more races than any other man for two reasons: A superb knowledge of the machines and the tracks and a superb sense of timing. One of his rivals explained:

"For one, he just sits and rides. But more than that, he knows just how much a car can give and never drives it beyond its capacity."

KEEPS IN SHAPE

Fangio keeps in top shape. "I watch my diet," he has explained, "I got to bed no later than 10 in the evening during the week preceding a contest."

That way, for more than 20 years, he has survived one of the world's most dangerous sports. He also sells automobiles and set up a motor scooter business in Buenos Aires.

Japanese Leader Calls Nuclear Tests Vital

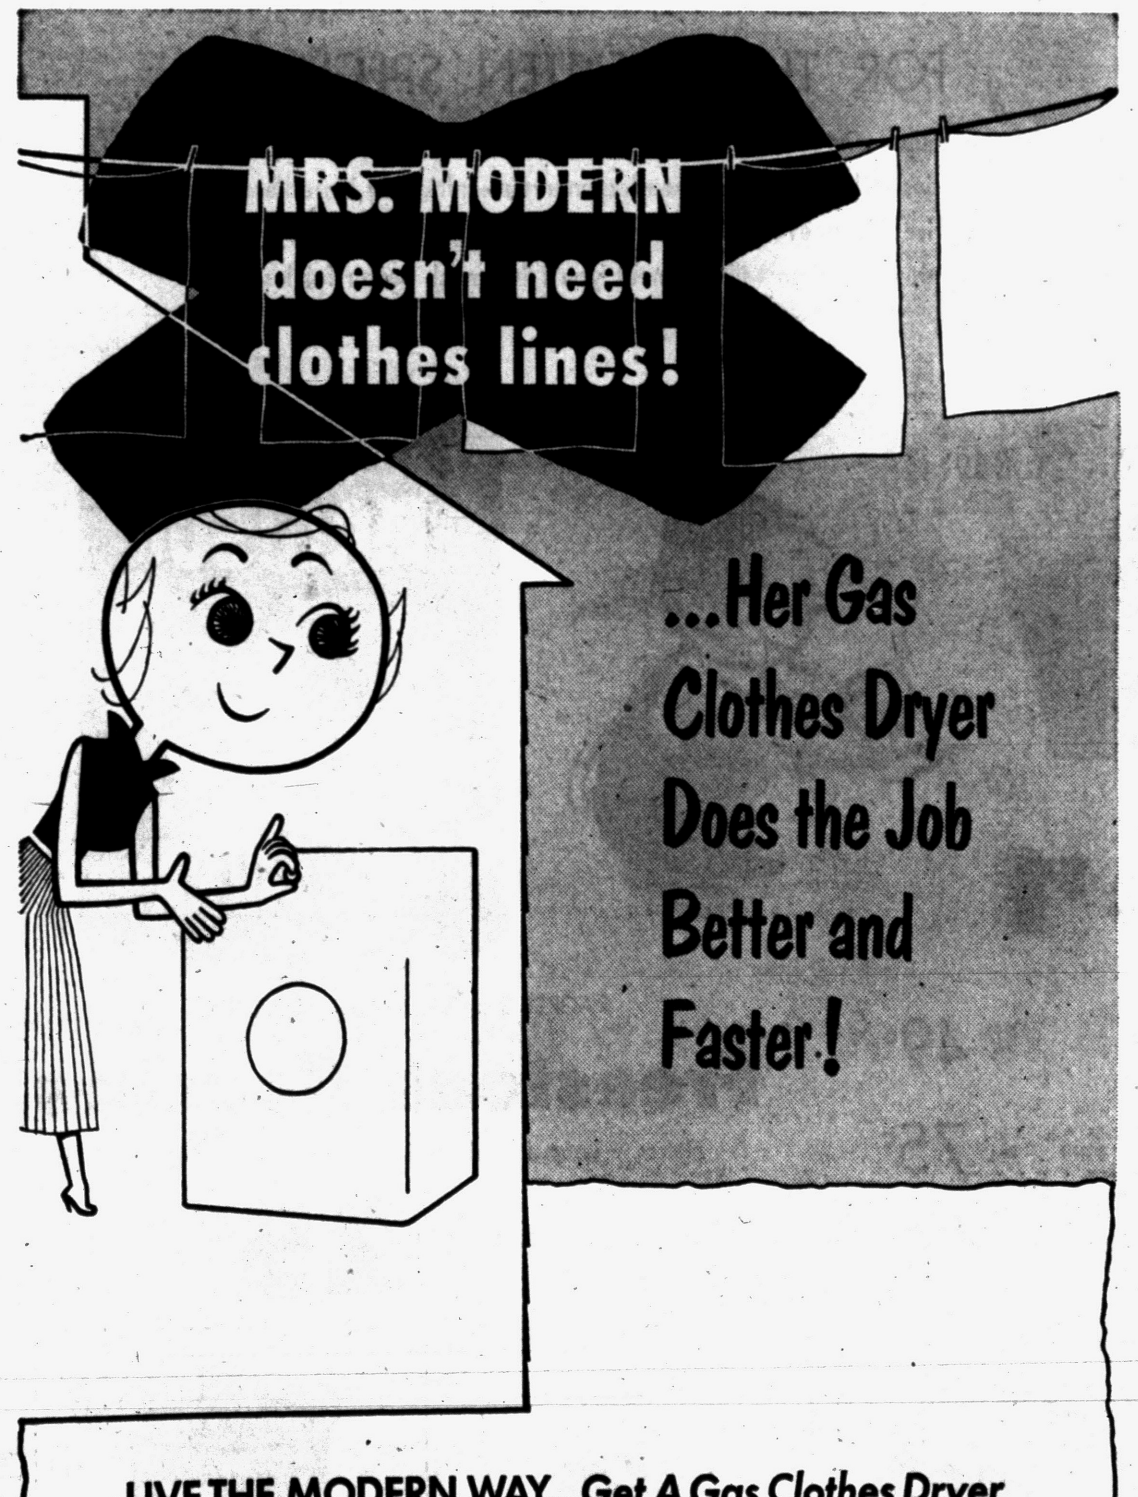

TOKYO (AP)— Prime Minister Kishi today acknowledged the importance and necessity of U.S. nuclear weapon tests but said Japanese opposition to such tests is "something so deeply rooted" it cannot be ignored.

The Prime Minister told a group of visiting American newsmen that if the use of gas and germ warfare can be banned by international agreement, "it is hard for the Japanese people to understand why nuclear warfare, which is more deadly, should not be opposed even more strongly."

Showgirl Asked About Anastasia

DA Quizzes Redhead Who Says She Goes Steady With Cohen

NEW YORK (AP) — A red-haired showgirl from Hollywood who claims she goes steady with Mickey Cohen, former California gambling kingpin, was questioned here yesterday about the unsolved slaying of Albert Anastasia, the old Murder Inc. mobster.

Liz Renay, a hazel-eyed woman in her early 30s, told reporters after her session with Manhattan Asst. Dist. Atty. Alexander Herman that she did not know Anastasia nor who killed him last Oct. 25.

Herman did not make public details of the questioning.

Miss Renay said most of the examination was about her relationship with Cohen.

She said she turned down a marriage proposal two years ago from Anthony Coppola, self-described bodyguard of Anastasia.

"I don't see Capy any more. I go out only with Mickey Cohen," she added.

The district attorney's office reportedly is interested in a sum of money Miss Renay gave to Cohen. It was presumed to have come from Anastasia through Coppola.

The 49-year-old Coppola, free in $25,000 bail as a material witness in the Anastasia slaying, also was questioned by Herman. Neither man told reporters what they discussed.

Miss Renay was subpoenaed to return next Tuesday for further questioning. Coppola is to return March 11.

He was strangely missing when two masked gunmen slew Anastasia in the barber shop of a midtown hotel.

The cost of building the Panama canal was recorded as $525,812,661.

Hal Boyle Says:

Cosmetic Surgery Lifts Lid on Beauty Boom

NEW YORK (AP)—Cosmetic surgery today has become a booming branch of medicine — and three out of four patients are women.

"That is because women in our culture are expected to be beautiful," said Dr. Robert A. Franklyn, a specialist in the field, "whereas men are expected only to be talented and good providers."

Dr. Franklyn estimated there are 250,000 plastic (or cosmetic) surgery operations a year in the United States. He breaks them down as follows:

Nose operations—70 per cent.
Face lifting—15 per cent.
Breast operations—10 per cent.
Others—5 per cent.

But the amazing development to Dr. Franklyn is the "bust boom" created by women who now look to surgeons to provide them with the fuller bosom nature denied them.

"In another few years, if our present bosom culture continues," he remarked, "breast operations will make up 50 per cent of all cosmetic surgery.

"Formerly, the objective in this type of operation was a reduction in the size of the bosom. Now 99 per cent of the women want a larger bosom.

"This comes about because of a change in beauty goals. The old skinny, flat silhouette of the high-fashion model is out. The goal of womanly beauty today is a round, curvy, healthy look."

Cosmetic surgery has been immensely speeded in the last decade.

"A woman can now get a new breast in 15 minutes," said Dr. Franklyn, "a new nose in 10 minutes, or a face lift in 30 minutes. These no longer are hospital operations. They are beauty parlor surgery."

The doctor, husband of actress Vanessa Brown, has operated on many film stars, but this type of surgery today is gone in for by the masses.

"The typical female now is a 24-year-old housewife who is flat chested and has some marital difficulties," he said. "She feels that if she had a fuller bosom she could win back her husband—and it often does. She feels more adequate. Often these things are mainly psychological.

"We have found, for example, that salesmen averaged $1,300 a year more the year after facial surgery to correct some physical defect—bags under the eyes, protruding ears, receding chins—that impaired their self-confidence."

Dr. Franklyn, who has performed more than 25,000 cosmetic operations, uses an inert plastic substance called surgifoam to round out or shape new bosoms and chins or to fill depressions in the bridge of the nose. Unlike earlier plastics, he said, the body does not react to the new material.

Cosmetic surgery is one field, he added, in which the Soviet Union lags—although the Soviet doctors are intensely interested, particularly in the rehabilitation of their thousands of war mutilated.

"The Russians still try to build up breasts by taking fat from the hips," he said. "But this is robbing Peter to pay Paul.

"Fat has little circulation and when it is moved from one part of the body to another, it breaks down into oil, which the body absorbs."

Although Dr. Franklyn advocates cosmetic surgery for the correction of major physical defects, he is annoyed by those who seek it out of minor vanity.

"Some girls want an operation merely to give them dimples," he complained, "and now and then a man shows up asking if, please, can he have a cleft in his chin like Cary Grant.

"But I don't believe in gold-plating a lily!"

A new human finger nail will usually grow in about 160 days.

Youth Is Charged in Death of Girl, 7

NEW YORK (AP)—A Bronx County grand jury yesterday indicted Francis Michael Medaille, 15, on a first-degree murder charge for throwing a 7-year-old girl 12 floors to her death.

The girl, Kathleen Begmann, plunged Feb. 11 from the roof of a Bronx apartment building where she and Medaille lived.

The Bronx boy, now in Bellevue Hospital undergoing mental examination, turned himself in to police that day and admitted pushing Kathleen off the roof. He said he lured her there with a promise of 10 cents and a lollipop. He said he didn't know why he pushed her to death.

The magistrate who sent the boy to the hospital the day after the slaying said: "If it is determined that the boy . . . knew the nature of the crime, he will burn in the electric chair."

Bob Considine Says:

American Red Cross Needs Money Badly

NEW YORK (INS) — The American Red Cross needs money as never before. Its goal for the March campaign is $95 million. Last year it went all out by disbursing $101,274,124.

This land of ours has been lashed with an unprecedented number of floods, tornadoes and hurricanes in the past two and a half years. The strain these catastrophies have placed on the Red Cross—the first hand that reaches out in such cases—could hardly be detailed.

CAMERON SMASHED

I saw a dramatic part of it last year when Hurricane Audrey smashed Cameron, La., as effectively as might an H-bomb. I flew into that ruined place by helicopter, before the roads could be cleared or the dead removed from the debris, as a guest of Gen. Al Gruenther and Val Peterson. Gruenther heads the Red Cross. Peterson then, was civil defense chief.

I'll never forget the look in the eyes of the sheriff of Cameron as he gave with simple dignity an understated description of the hell his people had suffered, and their need now for shelter, drinking water, medicine . . . a hand.

Even then Gruenther's organization was scraping the bottom of the barrel. But, once again, the Red Cross came through.

GIVEN CARE

Which is what it has been doing for 77 years. It is now an army of 2,000,000 volunteers and 14,296 professional workers, a 139-to-1 ratio. During the two-and-a-half-year period, 650 disaster operations were met, 127,000 families were given long-term rehabilitation assistance and 660,000 individuals received emergency care.

Now she needs money, but still hardly more than 50 cents a head. One thing is certain, calamity isn't going to wait very long to strike again.

One of the touchiest facets of Red Cross work, and a rap against the organization each year as it starts out to fill up the tank, is the accusation that it profited during World War II. It has put out a booklet that answers that and other questions. As for that one, it goes:

Q.: Did the Red Cross charge servicemen for food and lodging in clubs and hotels during World War II?

A.: Yes. During World War II, allied soldiers, whose pay scale was far below that of the Americans, were required to pay in their clubs and canteens. For this reason the military authorities decided it would be more equitable to charge American servicemen for similar services.

At the request of the War Department, the Red Cross established a below-cost charge in off-post clubs and hotels. Refreshments served from most clubmobiles and in many on-post clubs and canteens were free. All told, $105 million was spent by Red Cross on World War II club services over and above receipts from the nominal charges that were made.

A Syracuse University survey, measuring the savviness of U.S. students making their first trip abroad, questions whether they make very able good-will ambassadors.

Their deportment had nothing to do with the findings, but their preparation for the "ambassadorial" role did.

Only one out of four students questioned could name an Italian novelist, poet or painter of the past 150 years. Half were unable to recall a single 19th or 20th Century German writer. Thirty per cent couldn't think of one 20th Century American novelist to recommend to a foreign friend, and 50 per cent could think of no playwright who reflected in his works the contemporary American life.

Only four out of 10 knew approximately how many Negroes live in America. One in five had some notion of how many immigrants are admitted annually to the U.S. Though some of the students had taken a foreign language in school for six years, only 30 per cent could translate a single paragraph properly, and one in five wouldn't even attempt it.

A good diamond will cut a hole in almost anything — including a man's bank account. It's said we spend more annually in the U.S. on wild animals than we do on children. Some parents will find it hard to see the difference. —Earl Wilson

Dedicate School on Kennett Road

Honor American Writer Louisa May Alcott in Naming Building

The official name for the elementary school which opened on Kennett Road last fall is the Louisa May Alcott Elementary School.

This school, named and dedicated by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent, last night, is the only one of 25 elementary schools in Pontiac to be named after an American woman primarily known for writing.

Miss Alcott, who wrote fiction stories in Massachusetts in the mid 1800's, is best known for her books, "Little Women" and "Little Men".

More than 200 parents, school and city officials attended the dedication ceremony and toured the 10 class room $439,000 school located at 460 W. Kennett Rd.

Monroe M. Osmun, board of education vice president, was guest speaker and accepted the building on behalf of Pontiac residents.

The program featured the fifth and sixth grade chorus of the school singing under the direction of Elida Reinke and several numbers by the Pontiac Central High School brass ensemble.

C. H. Haberkorn III, general manager of H. E. Beyster and Associates, Detroit architects who designed the modern school, presented the American flag to John Van Tuyl, a student.

Charles S. Dugas, president of the school's Parent Teacher Association opened the program and the Rev. Thodore R. Allebach, Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, delivered the invocation.

Tonight at 7 p.m., the $442,986 Herrington Hills Elementary School, 541 Bay St., will be dedicated and named by Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business.

Milford Man Suffers Broken Nose in Accident

John Henry Heidemann, 32, of 3488 Highland Blvd., Milford, was reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after receiving a fractured nose in an accident early this morning, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Heidemann was driving west on M59 at about 1 a.m. when he apparently lost control of his car and struck a tree, said deputies. He was unable to make a statement at the time. The smashup occurred just west of Duck Lake Rd., in Highland Township.

Death Payments Rise

NEW YORK (INS)—The Institute of Life Insurance said today Michigan families received $116,871,000 in death benefits last year as compared with $108,473,000 in 1956. The institute said the 1957 payments were made under 65,520 policies. The '56 payments were made under 61,166 policies.

Run Out on Street, 2 Girls Hit by Car

Two Isaac Crary Junior High School students were struck by a westbound auto as they ran out into Pontiac Lake Rd. at Cass Lake Rd., yesterday, according to State Police at the Pontiac Post.

Admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured leg and knee was Sandra Edwards, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Edwards, 1411 Genella St., Waterford Township. She was reported in fair condition today.

Her companion, Joan LaBair, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence LaBair, 3517 Watkins Lake Rd., Waterford Township, was taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

The driver of the car, Eileen Colbert, 29, of 1372 Bielby St., Waterford Township, told police the girls ran out in front of her and she hit the brakes but couldn't stop in time to avoid hitting them. She was not held.

Students Debate Serving Beer in U. of M. Union

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Students at the University of Michigan today were discussing a suggestion to set up a tap room to serve beer at the Michigan Union.

The student newspaper, The Michigan Daily, said Dean of Men Walter B. Rea felt a tap room might reduce violations of drinking rules among students.

Rea explained he was not urging a beer parlor in the union specifically but said any responsible group could initiate such action.

Herbert Gardner, 22, of Detroit, a Dental School junior, said he favored relaxed drinking rules.

"It's about time we started treating students as adults instead of little children."

Philip Smith, 20, of Mount Clemens said he didn't "see what difference a tap room would make" for students under 21.

"If you're 21 you can drink at the Pretzel Bell, If you aren't, you're not supposed to drink anyway."

Rea declared he didn't think beer was conducive to good studies, but added:

"If students are to drink like ladies and gentlemen, there might be a better way than having to go off campus."

Arizona Cash Registers Ring Out Merry Tune

PHOENIX, Ariz. (INS)—They're almost too busy to tell you why, but Arizona's motel, hotel and resort operators are ringing up their cash registers at a record-breaking pace.

The experts credit the tourist boom to the recent Florida freeze, heavy snowfalls and bone-chilling temperatures in the eastern third of the nation and a stepped-up advertising campaign geared to Arizona's balmy winter climate.

The sun-seeker who breezes into Phoenix or Tucson and expects to thaw out at the first hostelry that strikes his fancy is in for a rude shock. Desk clerks are turning down reservation applicants as fast as they can answer inquiries and most accommodations are booked solid through Easter.

This, in spite of the fact that several new motels and apartment buildings catering to six-month winter leases have sprung up in both Phoenix and Tucson since last year's heavy tourist influx.

One hotel in Tucson borrowed cots from the YMCA and set them up in its banquet room to handle the registration overflow. Another hotel in the southern Arizona city is using its sample rooms and has guests sleeping in the health club on the roof.

COMPLETELY SWAMPED

"We've been completely swamped with reservation requests," says a spokesman for the Arizona Motor Hotel Association who adds that persons turned down in Phoenix have been "farmed out" to motels in communities as far away as 40 miles.

The spokesman said one motel east of Phoenix and another to the west have been designated as "clearing houses" for visitors hoping against hope that last minute cancellations may come up.

While Florida and much of the East and Midwest have been shivering through the worst winter in many years, Arizona's climate so far this season is even more inviting than usual.

Louis R. Jurwitz, chief U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist at Phoenix, reports that February temperatures are well on the way to setting an all-time high average for the month around 61 degrees.

Rainy days have been few and far between with this winter's precipitation even less than normal—a fact which has farmers and ranchers worried but adds to Arizona's vacation drawing power.

The Arizona Development Board, an agency set up by the legislature four years ago to promote the state's industrial and vacation opportunities, estimates tourists will spend $250 million this year.

Board Director Bernard Megen said the estimate compares with $225 million shelled out by visitors last year and $200 million in 1956.

House to Vote on Soil Bank

Final Action Scheduled Today on Move to Add Extra $250 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House takes final action today on a last-minute decision to add 250 million dollars to the farm soil bank program "to keep faith with the farmers."

The extra money was added yesterday to a general appropriations bill which comes up for passage. The change would increase from 500 to 750 million dollars the amount farmers may be paid this year for retiring surplus cropland.

Approval of the soil bank funds came on a standing 120-57 vote afer the program was denounced as unsound, outlandish and a joke.

Rep. Whitten (D-Miss) said in the long run the program "is going to do more damage than good." But he urged approval of the funds to keep faith with farmers who signed up to participate in the soil bank but who were excluded when the 500 million dollars originally earmarked for 1958 was exhausted.

The House also added an amendment to limit payments under the extra allotment to $3,000 for any individual or corporate farm participant, regardless of the number of farms affected.

The original law also has a $3,000 limitation but it has been interpreted to apply to each farm.

Kohler Probe Faces Delay

Committee Still Must Settle Own Partisan Differences

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets probers, hoping to settle their own partisan row, alerted witnesses for a possible delayed start today of public hearings on violence in the Kohler strike.

Chief adversary witnesses have been billed as President Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers, whose union has spent some 12 million dollars on the strike up to now, and top management of the Kohler Co., Wisconsin manufacturers of bathroom fixtures. Each side blames the other for violence in the four-year-old strike.

A dispute over whether accusing witnesses would tell their stories before Reuther and Kohler executives get their chance to be heard has split the bipartisan eight-man committee down party lines.

Its four Democrats have insisted that a company executive and Reuther should testify first. The four Republican members have insisted on hearing first from others with the principals available for late cross-examination.

Committee spokesmen indicated cautious hope that a break was near.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, charged that the Republican committee members were tryng to keep Reuther off the witness stand until "the union can be duly smeared by biased and prejudiced witnesses."

Judy Garland's Lawyer Cool to Divorce Intent

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— Judy Garland and Sid Luft have parted again, but the actress' lawyer days, sometimes maybe a little days, sometime smaybe a little bit longer, but they always make up."

Luft moved out of the couple's Holmby Hills house Tuesday. Judy telephoned attorney Jerry Giesler at a hospital where the noted movietown lawyer is recuperating from surgery.

"Judy gave me the impression she wanted to sue for divorce," Giesler told a newsman. "I can't get very excited about it."

More than one-seventh of the Indian population in the United States lives in New Mexico. There are about 50,000 in New Mexico.

Building $600,000 Park for Blind Only in Vienna

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A $600,000 park for use only by the blind will be opened in Vienna this spring.

City gardeners are at work on an area of about 65,000 square feet which includes a playground for blind children as well as a restaurant. There will be no steps and visitors may find their way either by guide ropes or by the smell of particular flowers. Varying sorts of gravel used on the foot paths are also to guide the blind, in addition to signs bearing inscriptions in Braille.

Fred MacMurray Signs for 'Hanging in Nebraska'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — There is no doubt that Fred MacMurray's stock has gone up since he started specializing in westerns—How the fans go for these outdoor thrillers.

Fred just signed a partnership deal with producer Charles Schneer to star in as well as co-produce "Hanging in Nebraska," a psychological western about a sheriff who hates capital punishment.

MacMurray had a nervous few days when the big rains came last week. His ranch between Los Angeles and San Francisco took a lot of flood damage and for a while it was feared provisions and feed for the cattle might have to be flown in. But the sunshine arrived in the nick of time—like the posse in one of Fred's westerns.

One of the most talked about plays coming up on Broadway is "The Pleasure of His Company" by Samuel Taylor ("Sabrina Fair and Cornelia Otis Skinner. Paramount has bought it with an advance payment of $350,000 and it has been handed to William Perlberg and George Seaton. George will direct, Bill will produce, and Taylor will write the adaptation.

When I asked Bill Perlberg who he was putting into the top role he said, "We can't make it until 1960, so we'll have to see who's who then."

Today, Trevor Howard, well known British actor, flew out of London to play opposite Juliette Greco in "Roots of Heaven." Howard's last American picture was "Bridge on the River Kwai." I don't believe any of us who saw him in "Brief Encounter," a gem of a movie, will ever forget it.

Darryl Zanuck is already at work on "Roots of Heaven" in French Equatorial Africa, with John Huston busier thou the proverbial one-arm paper hanger, rehearsing with Errol Flynn, who flew out of his play for the Zanuck epic, and Eddie Albert among those present. This is the Romain Gray novel.

Chatted long distance to Rock Hudson in his hotel suite a few hours after he flew into New York from the carnival in Rio. "I enjoyed myself very much," the good looking Rock told me, "I'm glad I went."

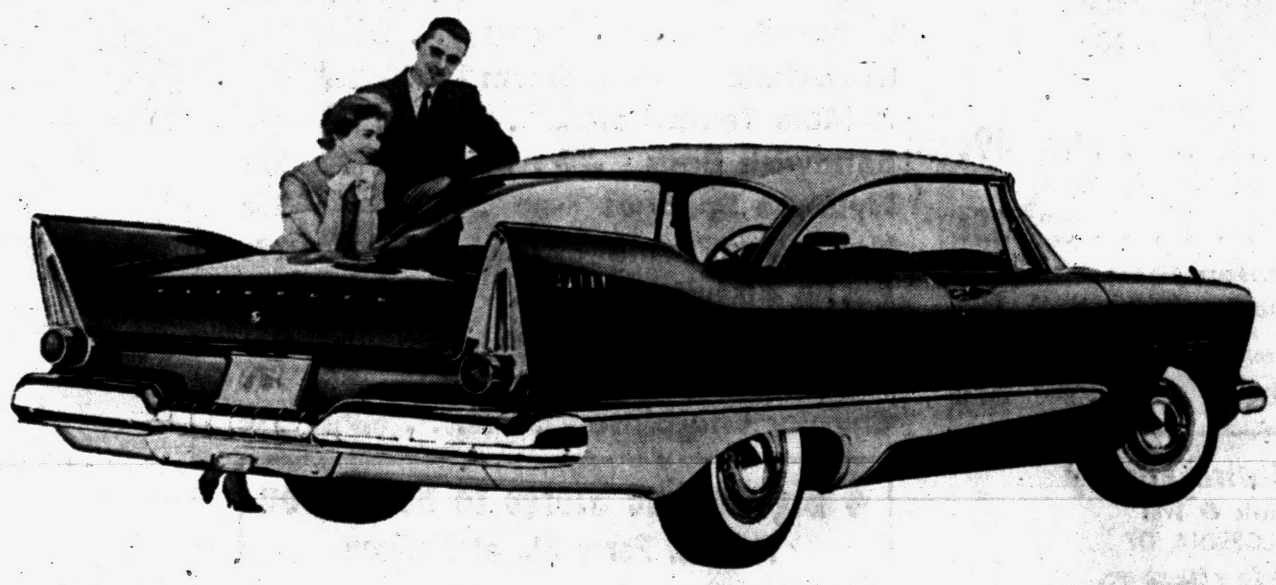

He was, however, surprised on his return to be told that he is up for "Cimarron" at MGM as a sort of solace for his disappointment over losing "Ben Hur."

"I've never threatened to blow my brains out over 'Ben Hur,'" Rock told me, "and I haven't heard a single word about 'Cimarron.' Who dreams up these things?"

Nurses of Month Illustrate Variety of Work, Service

By MARGARET BROWN

Mention a nurse and almost immediately the mind's eye will envision a flash of white darting from one hospital bed to another, efficiently checking our TPR (temperature, pulse, and respiration) and administering hypodermic injections. The nurse, however, is trained to meet many more needs than this rather sterotyped impression depicts.

In this area the Oakland County District Nurses Association has decided to accord special honor to those women in white who have proven particularly outstanding in ministering to the manifold needs of their patients.

The association has designated 1958 as Professional Nurse Recognition Year and has been accepting nominations from lay people, doctors and other nurses for nurses they feel are worthy of special recognition. Near the end of each month the association asks a committee to select the Professional Nurse of the Month.

Since the committee began functioning the first of this year, perhaps you might like to know a little about the two women who have been named professional nurses of the month thus far.

ON PRIVATE DUTY

The first nurse chosen was Mrs. Anna Wurm of LaSalle avenue who currently is working at private duty nursing. Born in Petoskey where she attended the Petoskey Hospital School of Nursing, Mrs. Wurm was one of 12 children, 10 of whom are living. "We're all on speaking terms, too," quips Mrs. Wurm.

A true pioneer in the nursing field, Mrs. Wurm was graduated in 1911 and was one of the first 1,000 nurses to be registered in Michigan. We wish it had been possible to print a charming picture of that early nursing graduation class from a 1911 newspaper shown us by Mrs. Wurm, but we were unable to obtain the original 47-year-old photograph needed for news photo reproduction.

The picture showed the nurses posed in a merry Oldsmobile convertible, clothed in stiffly starched pinafores, their hair pulled back severely to form the chignon so vital to ladies of that era for cruising in high-flying open-topped vehicles.

Following graduation Mrs. Wurm remained for 14 years at the Petoskey Hospital where she eventually assumed a position in charge of the entire hospital. One of the more exciting incidents recalled by Mrs. Wurm was an emergency call to a private home where she and another nurse assisted a doctor in performing an appendectomy on a middle-aged woman.

HAD TO IMPROVISE

Mrs. Wurm commented that nurses had to improvise a lot more during those earlier years of medicine. Most care was given in private homes, and one did not go to a surgical supply cabinet and find at hand the necessary instruments and medications. Kitchen utensils and the proverbial hot tea kettle combined with what items the nurse carried in her small bag were about the only tools of the trade available.

In 1940 Mrs. Wurm came to Pontiac where she began private duty nursing and also assisted in organizing the Pontiac Community Nursing Bureau.

The association's next selection was Rose Boyd of Oneida road. Miss Boyd also hails from northern Michigan, Traverse City being her birthplace. There she attended the nursing school of Traverse City General Hospital.

Following her graduation, Miss Boyd went to New York City's Mount Sinai Hospital where she did post-graduate work before returning to Traverse City for a brief period of private duty nursing.

It was in Detroit, however, when she began nursing at the West Branch of Harper Hospital, that Miss Boyd really tasted the excitement and many demands of her chosen profession.

HOME DELIVERIES

Working with the "Home Delivery Service," Miss Boyd and several other nurses who were associated with the Detroit Home Nuring Service began assisting with baby deliveries in the home. Working 48 hours followed by a 24-hour break, these busy stork interceptors covered the entire city of Detroit.

In the late 1930s Miss Boyd returned to her studies, obtaining a public health nursing certificate from Wayne State University. She came to Oakland County in 1939 on special service for six months with the TB Association, followed by field work through the Oakland County Health Department.

For the past two years Miss Boyd has acted as one of six supervisors of the central office of the Oakland County Health Department.

When asked which phase of nursing was most interesting to them, both nurses replied without hesitation, "Surgery!" And with the current run of medical stories, pictures, anatomical charts and diagrams being presented in leading magazines and newspapers, it seems that this fascinating realm of medicine is fast becoming the No. 1 interest of scores of laymen as well as medical personnel in probing for the why behind maladies.

SATISFYING FACET

Miss Boyd added that another satisfying facet of nursing, for those who prefer personal contact with a patient in meeting his emotional and spiritual as well as physical needs, is public health work.

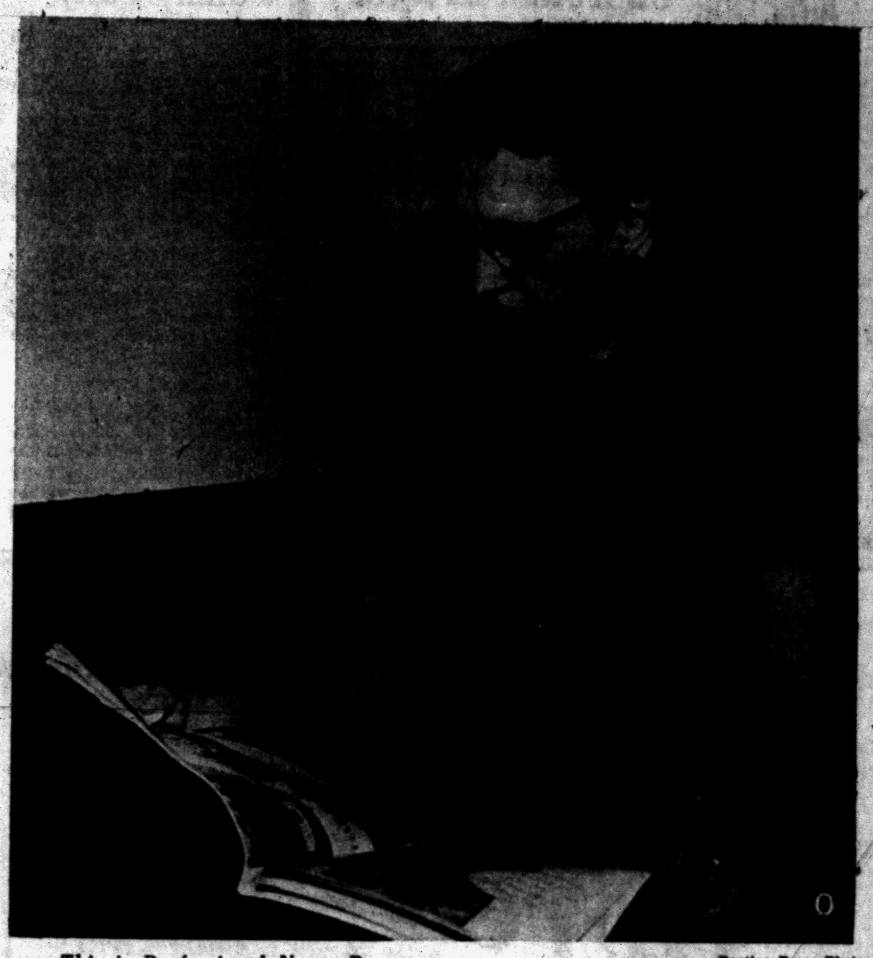

There's a wealth of these nurses' experiences yet untold, but both were so very modest it was difficult to make them tell us much about themselves.

This lack of self was, perhaps, just another of the many factors contributing to the decisions rendered in naming them Professional Nurses of the Month.

Professional Nurse of the Month recognition also has been accorded to Rose Boyd of Oneida road. A supervisor in the central office of the Oakland County Health Department, Miss Boyd finds public health nursing one of the more gratifying fields in her profession.

Pontiac Press Photos

This is Professional Nurse Recognition Year, and the Oakland County District Nurses Association is sponsoring a program to honor outstanding nurses by selecting professional nurses of the month. The first honoree, Mrs. Anna Wurm of LaSalle avenue, is a private duty nurse. Here, she is looking over her yearbook and recalling training days at the Petoskey Hospital School of Nursing.

Stationed at Elmdorf Air Force Base in Anchorage, Alaska, Lt. DeNio has been at Kinross AFB in Upper Michigan where he aided in the production of a training film concerning Arctic helicopter operations.

The movie company had been shooting in Anchorage, but, strange as it seems, the lack of snow forced a change of location to chilly northern Michigan which at the time was mantled in white.

Dear Abby....

When She's Paying, She's Boss

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have two daughters, 15 and 17, and all we hear from them is that when they reach the age of 18 they will be their own boss.

ABBY

I think a girl is not her own boss until she reaches the age of 21. I would be grateful to you, Abby, if you would settle this matter of when a girl is "her own boss."

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: In order to be one's own boss (in my opinion) a girl has to be able to leave her parents' home, pay for her own entertainment, insurance and medical care, and pay for the continuance of her education.

THEN, she has the privilege of choosing her own company, making all her own decisions and being her own "boss."

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a model railroad fiend. He sneaks my good drip-grind coffee to use as "dirt" for the landscaping.

Every time company comes I am caught short on coffee and sure enough I see it has become part of another "hillside." I know this isn't grounds for divorce, but it is getting me unnerved. Any suggestions?

COFFEE NERVES

DEAR NERVES: Not only is it no "grounds" for divorce . . . it isn't even grounds for "coffee"—and until coffee is "dirt cheap." he oughtta use dirt.

DEAR ABBY: I am 11 years old and I want my mother to have a baby. My mother said she would be happy to, but she isn't planning on it. I am willing to give up all my babysitting jobs to help her.

I offered to pay the hospital bills and buy all the baby needs. I have some money in my bank at school. I want you to understand that my mother is in perfect health. My father says he is willing. Please see what you can do, Miss Abby? Thank you.

LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: If your mother agrees and your father is willing—half the battle is won. But—the good Lord has something to say about it, too. Good luck, Honey.

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office with many women of all ages. I am a single man (almost 50) and am always elected when a doll needs an "escort" to go somewhere.

One of these "girls" (she's been here for years) could talk an arm-and-a-leg off you and everybody runs the other way when they see her coming. She asked me to "escort" her to a fancy party. I hate to refuse her, but I don't want to go. What should I do?

NO HERO

DEAR NO: Recommend a friend—or better yet—an enemy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO KATHY: Girls who hang around pool halls usually find themselves behind the eight ball. Invite him to your home like a lady and if he's a gentleman he'll accept.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Child of Divorce Feels Alone in His Grief

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Bert has found it especially hard to accept his parents' divorce.

One evening he was trying to assemble a model plane someone had sent him. In the paper diagram, part D fitted perfectly into part E, but Bert's part D was too wide to fit E's slot.

Noticing his worried look, his mother offered help and on his suggestion tried to insert part D into part E herself. Failing, she said, "I guess you'll have to whittle it down to fit."

Bert snatched the parts from her, shouting, "There's something I'm not doing right! Gosh, I wish Daddy were here! He'd find out what I was doing wrong."

His mother laid her hand on his head. He jerked away. After a moment, she left him. As she picked up her dishmop, she thought, "Oh, Lord, I miss Jim. I miss him so terribly."

BITTER FEELINGS

But almost at once this awareness of pain disappeared, and she began to smolder with her customary feelings of bitterness.

This is always happening to divorced parents.

Something occurs to make us aware of our grief at the loss of love. Then we begin to remember the penalties the loss involves and are overwhelmed by secondary feelings of resentment.

It is this process that makes divorce so hard on children.

It leaves them alone with their grief. They can't tell us about it because they think we don't feel it. Like Bert, they can accept no comfort from the person who's a stranger to their pain.

So they protect it with a fierce and lonely sense of privacy and jerk away when we try to come close to them.

So at these times it is good to retain hold of our own original sadness and be able to say to Bert, "I miss Daddy, too. I am even sadder than you are that we can't live together."

SHARING IN DEATH

The child who loses his father to death doesn't experience the conflict of the child who loses him to divorce. That is because he knows we share his pain. We help him retain his loving image of his absent parent.

But in divorce he has to struggle against our bitter image to retain his loving one. This is the real source of his confusion.

Whether we lose love to life or to death, we are very foolish to deny our grief at its going.

TEEN AGE MAKE-UP

Heavy make-up on a young girl looks ridiculous. She not only will appear cheap, but she will be covering the bloom of youth that is so much admired and envied.

At fourteen or when she enters the ninth grade is generally considered the accepted age for the use of lipstick. A wise girl will make it a pretty and clear shade of pink or rose. She will start to brush her eyebrows into shape (but never, never pluck) and on very special occasions use a light dusting of powder on her nose.

Don't Choose Family Doctor Casually

Use Care in Selecting Physician

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

In a recent public affairs pamphlet, "Your Family's Health," Stella B. Applebaum, health educator and writer, says, "Much loss of life and health can be avoided if we devote at least as much attention to the upkeep of health as we do to our cars and homes."

In this publication Miss Applebaum makes many practical suggestions concerning the welfare and safety of the family.

There is nothing more important than the selection of your family physician. Yet many women give more thought to the selection if a piece of furniture. I think many folks just do not know how to go about selecting a physician.

The following are some of the warnings in this particular public affairs pamphlet:

One of the best ways to select a physician is to telephone the office of the medical director or superintendent of a good hospital and ask him to give you the names of several doctors on the hospital staff.

1. Don't wait until illness strikes to find your doctor.

2. Don't pick a doctor just because he is nearby, or the one your neighbor or friend swears by.

3. Don't ask the postman or your neighborhood druggist to recommend one and don't select one yourself at random from a telephone directory.

4. Don't choose Doctor X because you have heard that his fee is high and therefore he must be good, or Doctor Y because his fee is low and you will save money

5. Finally, DON'T pick the doctor with the winning personality whom you met at a party.

The author continued, "Any one of these may happen to be qualified, but there is a risk that the doctor chosen so casually may not be reputable professionally."

One of the best ways to select a physician is to locate a good hospital in your town. Ask it to give you the names of several doctors on its staff. For this you telephone the office of the medical director or the superintendent. An accredited hospital chooses its staff most carefully.

Another way to choose a doctor is to write or telephone your county medical society and ask for the names of physicians.

A competent family physician will know when you need to see a specialist, or may suggest one for your peace of mind. He also will help you locate one.

Milk glass is important in any collection stressing early American, and cloudy tones of blue, aqua, pink and white all are available.

Taller stems are returning. Glassware has bell and tapered bowls and is simply adorned with wreaths or unfussy cuttings.

Favorite cuttings included hobnail, diamond, rose and teardrop. Colors were most contemporary—deep blue, pine green, amber and amethyst.

Mom Wants to Restrict Baby Visits

Would Like to Ask Everybody to Call on One Afternoon

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am expecting my second baby soon and from previous experience I know that I will have many visitors come in to see the new baby after I return home from the hospital. I remember how tiring and disrupting these visits were then, and I would like to avoid a repetition of this if possible.

"I was wondering if it would be proper to set aside one afternoon and ask all my friends and neighbors to come in at that time to see the baby. What do you think of this idea? If you approve, will you please tell me how I can tell people about this?"

Answer: I think your idea of having them all come in at one time is a good one. Write notes saying, "John Jr. (or Mary Ellen) will be eager to be seen on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock. Hope you won't disappoint him (or her). Mary."

"Dear Mrs. Post: May I invite some of my office associates to my wedding and not others without causing hurt feelings? All have contributed to a wedding present for me and I don't want to slight them but there are too many to ask all."

Answer: If there are certain ones whom you know better than any of the others, it would be quite all right to invite them without risk of hurting the feelings of those you do not know really well. But if there are not some who are known to be your special friends, you should invite all or none.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When I am out on a date with a girl, am I supposed to help her with her coat before I put on my own, or do I put mine on first and then help her with hers?"

Answer: You help her put on her coat before putting on yours.

Age-Labeled Garb Would Help Many

By RUTH MILLETT

Certain styles ought to carry an age limit—"for girls under 25," or "for women under 40," or "not under any condition to be worn by anyone over 18."

A slim little teenager may look cute as a bug in long, tight TV pants or crazy pants or whatever they happen to be called. But when you see her mama in the same getup at a neighborhood shopping center, you just wonder why somebody doesn't tell her she's beyond the age for crazy pants.

SAD, REALLY SAD

A pretty young thing may be able to get away with a haircut that makes her look as though it had been done by a power mower. If she is young enough and pretty enough she can get by with almost any kind of haircut.

But when you see a woman three times her age with a hairdo that makes you think she has lost both her comb and her mind—it's sad, really sad.

Blue jeans don't do anything for feminine grace and beauty. But even they are far more unbecoming to a woman of 40 than to a girl of 14.

A sack dress on a high school girl may remind oldsters of the roaring 20s and seem kind of cute. But on the same girl's mama, the sack dress reminds you of nothing so much as a sack.

And so it goes. When an extreme style makes an appearance, it ought to be clearly labeled as to the age of the woman who can wear it without looking ridiculous.

NOT SMART ENOUGH

Maybe the designers and style-setters think women ought to be smart enough to figure it out for themselves.

But a good look at American women would show them that the hardest thing for most women to figure out for themselves is when they have reached an age when they can't afford to risk looking ridiculous.

An age label on fashions would certainly help.

New Atmosphere Pervades Tiger Camp

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — What a difference a year makes. Last year at this time, the Detroit Tigers opened spring training with a new manager, new owners, three prospective 20-game winners on a 40-player roster and a farreaching optimism of pushing the Yankees off their American League throne.

Thursday, the 1958 contingent of Tigers officially opens training camp, but the picture will be different in many respects.

Only 13 of the 1957 spring faces are back, only one 20-game winner and not a single .300 hitter. The manager is the same, but the atmosphere and the attitude are different.

The current spring camp roster lists 17 pitchers, five catchers, nine infielders and eight outfielders.

Last of the contracts to reach general manager John McHale was that of Charley Maxwell who decided to bring it with him from Paw Paw, Michigan.

One player missing from the 41-player squad is outfielder Jim Greengrass who was given permission to report late because of his wife who is expecting their fourth child.

There is a different kind of optimism from Tighe now. In 1957, Tighe and many of the players and the upper echelon of the organization were so full of exuberance they thought their only problem was how they were going to move the Yankees out of the top spot.

With five .300 hitters in the regular lineup (Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn, Charley Maxwell, Ray Boone and Jim Small), and three pitchers (Frank Lary, Billy Hoeft and Paul Foytack) with 56 victories among them in 1956, the picture was just rosey for 1957.

Big difficulty was that only one of the eight American Lague teams believed Detroit had the pennant all wrapped up and that was Detroit itself.

The Tigers forgot about six other teams in the league. They did well against the Yankees with a 10-12 record, the best of any team in the league, but in concentrating on the Bombers they thought all they had to do was throw out their gloves and they could pad their victory column on lower division teams.

When the 1957 campaign ended the record against Kansas City, Baltimore and Washington was 34-32. The Yanks, meanwhile, used a little baseball sense, and actually used the same three teams as their big three steps to the pennant by winning 45 and losing 21.

The Tigers just didn't figure they would take it on the chin from the lower division teams. Actually, Detroit did not move from 5th in 1956 to 4th in 1957 because they were able to win more.

The Tigers admit they backed into 4th place last year. In 1956 they had a better record (82-72) for 5th place than the 78-76 mark in 1957.

The big collapse of the Cleveland Indians was really the big factor for the rise in the standings as the Indians fell to 6th place.

There is a different outook on the American League picture by the Tigers for the 1958 campaign. They have not become complete pessimists nor have they thrown confidence to the wind.

"We learned a lot since last year," said Tighe today. "We overlooked the fact that if one of our first liners was to go badly, there was no one on the bench we could point to as an adequate replacement."

This year I think we have better reserve strength at some positions, but we know we have problems also," he added.

McHale supported what has been said about the different atmosphere. "We talked too much last spring. I guess we were so enthused about the new organization, we had a collapse of realism," he said, "and we all learned a few lessons."

The Tigers will start twice daily sessions on Friday.

Many of the veterans have been working out at Tigertown rookie camp. When the drills get into full swing many of the rookies will be mixed with the "varsity" roster during intra-squad games.

Tigers' Roster

LAKELAND, Fla. — This is the 1958 roster of the Detroit Tigers which officially opened training camp today.

Yardley Hits 44 to Near Record

Pistons Win Thriller

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beating any of George Mikan's pro basketball records is no mean task. But the way Detroit's George Yardley is closing in on perhaps the big guy's greatest, it seems like a cinch.

After firing in 44 points in his latest effort, the baldheaded hotshot of the Pistons is within 124 points of Mikan's season National Basketball Assn. scoring record of 1,932 points set in 1950-51. And Yardley has six games in which to pick up those 125 points, needing an average of about 21 a game to do it.

For the normal basketball player in the pro league, it could be a job. For Yardley, averaging 27.4 it probably will be a breeze, prviding he keeps hitting.

The 6-5 master was in the pink last night at New York's Madison Square Garden with a scoring display that not only moved him a giant step toward the record but produced an exciting 114-113 comeback overtime victory over the St. Louis Hawks.

With 38 points already in his private bag, Yardley hit a 30-foot desperation hook shot at the buzzer that sent the game into the extra period. Then, his jump shot and driving, twisting layup were the key field goals in the overtime.

He got a standing ovation from the Garden crowd of 13,120, left so limp by the spectacular finish, that they hardly let out a peep as Philadelphia swamped New York 132-110 in the second game.

The Knicks, with seven games remaining, trail Philadelphia by five games on the losing side. The Warriors have nine remaining, two with the Knicks.

Texas Group Wants to Buy Cards

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS) — A Houston, Tex., syndicate reportedly will make a second offer today to purchase the Chicago Cardinals but Walter Wolfner, managing director of the National Football League club, indicates his reply will be a flat "no."

Wolfner, who is vacationing in Miami Beach, Fla., yesterday rejected a $1,500,000 bid for the club from a syndicate headed by Ron Waller, Los Angeles Rams halfback. Waller said he would have moved the franchise to Miami.

The Houston business group reportedly offered the same amount to Wolfner and his wife, who is chairman of the board of the club, over the weekend. But that deal also was rejected.

It also was learned that the original Houston offer bogged down over disagreement on how the stock would be split and the management of the club.

Sources close to the negotiations indicated Wolfner wanted to part with only 49 per cent of the stock, keeping control of 51 per cent. He also wanted to keep his title as general manager.

One last attempt may be made to bring major league football to the Texas city. Houston sources indicate the Cardinals would be offered $1,250,000 in cash for the franchise, players and coaching staff.

Since an offer of a quarter of a million dollars more already has been spurned, the new offfer also may be rejected.

Wolfner said the issue of keeping the Cardinals in Chicago is not one of money but a matter of civic pride. He repeated:

"The Cardinals are not for sale."

Grill 5, Lakers Take Victories

Booth, Boys Club Drop Class B City League's Playoff Openers

Griff's Grill and Walled Lake came through with victories in the opening round of the Class B City League basketball playoffs last night at Pontiac Central.

Ken Titherage scored 24 points and teammate Bill York added 19 as the Grill team trimmed Booth Homes, 70-59. Jerry Shone scored 17 in defeat.

Walled Lake whipped the Boys Club, 73-62, behind the 18-point effort of Dean Hess. Steve Kebler made 14 in a losing cause.

Class B playoffs resume Thursday at PCH with Griff's meeting Walled Lake at 8:30 and Booth tackling the Boys Club in the 7 o'clock opener. The "A" playoffs take over the spotlight this evening on the PCH court.

In Class D action at Lincoln, the Auburn Heights Boys Club swamped Perry Park, 68-29, for its 10th straight win as Bob Davis netted 18 points. Central Christian downed Jack's Bar & Grill, 34-25, in an exhibition game.

Final Match Pin Wins for Chiefs

An upset pin victory for PCH's heavyweight matman, Duane Thomas, over heretofore unbeaten Brice Thompson of RO Kimball, last night gave the Chiefs their 9th win against five losses, 29-19 at Kimball. It was the final dual match of the year for PCH wrestlers who now start SVC finals Saturday at Bay City.

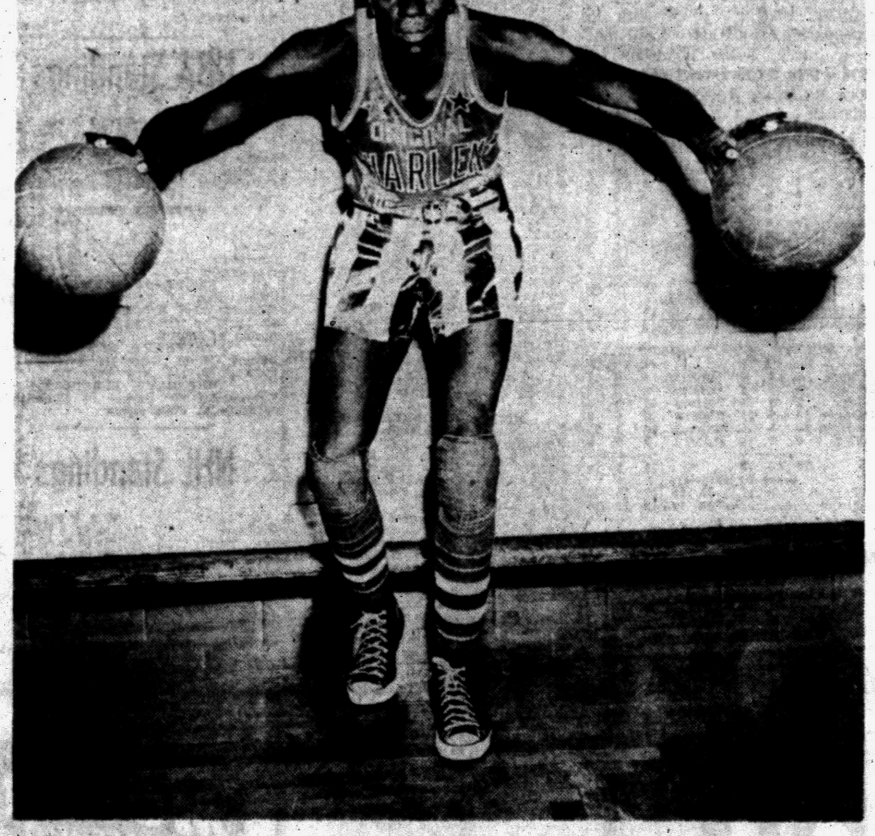

Chiefs took four pins. Others besides the key win for Thomas, included: 112-pounds, Bernie Slade pinned Lloyd Edwards; 133-pounds, Mel Nosenchuk pinned Butch Harris; 165-pounds, John Herron pinned Lanny Southwell. Other Chief winners, on decisions, included 113-pounds, Jack Keller over Paul Shortt; 120-pounds, Ray Ronquillo over John Kreag; 127-pounds, Dave Payne over Bob Riddle; Lark Nelson (P) and Don Pirkola tied in a 145-pound exhibition.

PERFORMS HERE SUNDAY—Meadow Lemon (above), the "clown prince" of the Harlem Globetrotters, will lead the famous basketball wizards into the Pontiac Central High School gymnasium Sunday night for an exhibition game against the House of David from Benton Harbor. The Trotters' 3rd straight appearance here is once again sponsored by the Pontiac Lions, with proceeds going to the club's sight-conservation program. A preliminary contest between press and radio men and the Pontiac Police team of the City League will open the show at 7:30 p. m. Vaudeville acts furnished by the Trotters are also on the Sunday menu.

Top Cash Won by Finsterwald

Wins $4,000 in Pro-Am Tourney at Port Arthur, Texas

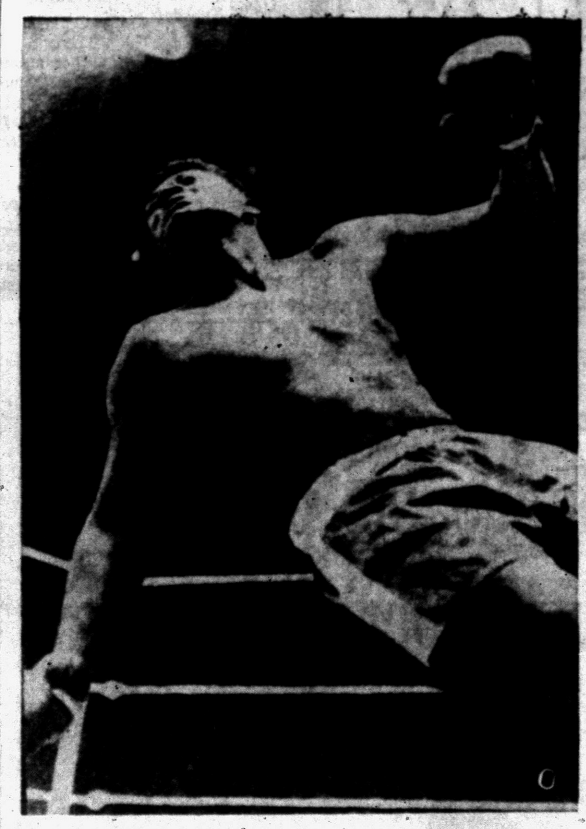

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., was top money winner in the 3rd annual $4,000 Port Arthur Pro-Am tournament yesterday.

Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., fired 4 under par 67's and shared the best ball money, winning $360 each.

John McMullin of Fair Oaks, Calif., Milon Marusic of Webster Grove, Mo., Finsterwald and Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., tied for third with 68's. Each won $165. Ford added $90 in the best ball foursome competition.

Finsterwald picked up an additional $210 for leading his team of three amateurs to third place in the best ball competition.

OH, THAT HARD CANVAS — James Stepp, of Roswell, N. M., has just been tagged by I. C. Coleman, of Kansas City, and starts the long trip to the canvas during their heavyweight class Golden Gloves bout at the Chicago Stadium Tuesday. After this action Coleman was awarded a technical knockout.

Notes on the Camps

Lakeland had its warmest day since December 20th, when the temperature reached 76 yesterday. But, as the frost moved out, another woe was confronting the Tigers. Rain started in the afternoon and continued most of the evening.

Jerry and George Thomas, a couple of rookies in Tigertown, played for the University of Minnesota last year. Jerry, 21, the older of the two, stands 5-feet-11 while George is 6-feet-3. "George always got the extra pork chop," Jerry explained about his taller kid brother who is 19.

Rain postponed today's official opening of Tigertown until tomorrow. There was a steady downpour this morning.

The atmosphere around Henley Field hasn't been strictly baseball. Next to the field is Lakeland High School's Bryant Stadium and last night the school's football team held its annual spring intrasquad game which closed three weeks of spring grid drills.

Sports fans in Lakeland are also concerned about another sport. The high school will begin defense of Class AA basketball championship of the state of Florida starting this weekend.

Jack Tighe walked around training camp yesterday in the 76-degree temperature with his cap in his back pocket. "Got to defrost this bald head with some of that sun," he jested.

Tech Abandons WIHL

HOUGHTON (AP) — Michigan Tech announced today that it will follow three Big Ten schools in withdrawing from the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League (WIHL).

The University of Michigan, Michigan State and Minnesota previously said they would drop out of the WIHL at the end of this season. Tech's withdrawal becomes effective in six months.

Prof. W. A. Longacre, chairman of Tech's athletic board, expressed a hope that the league's seven schools can form a new conference at the WIHL's annual meeting in Minneapolis March 15.

Other league members include North Dakota, Colorado and Denver.

The Big Ten schools cited conflicting eligibility rules as their main reason for leaving the league.

Prep Problems in 3 Parts to Begin Thursday

A three-part series on Michigan high school basketball tournament, state classification of schools and realignment of prep leagues will begin Thursday in THE PONTIAC PRESS.

The articles, written by Press sports staff writer Bill Cornwell, will discuss the aforementioned prep subjects, which have been long time problems in MHSAA ranks.

YPSILANTI (AP) — Powerful Hope handed Eastern Michigan its 18th loss of the season, 94-84, in a non-conference basketball game last night.

Acquire Milt Bolling

2nd Base Haunting Tribe

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Spring training under way and still the burning question for the Cleveland Indians is: "Who's on second?"

General Manager Frank Lane so far has been frustrated in his efforts to get a second baseman from the New York Yankees or the Detroit Tigers. His success in this direction is expected to have an important bearing on the Tribe's hopes of getting back into the first division this year.

Lane who tried to get Frank Bolling from Detroit, announced yesterday he had acquired Bolling's brother, Milt, also a second baseman from the Washington Senators. Lane remarked that rookie pitcher Pete Mesa, who went to Washington in the trade, "Didn't figure in our plans, and Bolling may be useful as a utility infielder."

Bobby Avila has slowed down since joining the Indians in 1949. He was the regular second baseman last year except for a brief tryout at third. Two other contenders for the job are Fred Hatfield and Larry Raines.

Raines, who played in the Cuban Winter League where Indians field Manager Bobby Bragan was managing, failed to convince Bragan he can play second. Hatfield, obtained from the Chicago White Sox in the trade that brought Minnie Minoso to Cleveland, is a good infielder but lacks batting power. His highest major league RBI total was 35 in 1956.

Eaglets Shoot for 12th Win

St. Mary (OL) goes after its season's 12th victory against five losses tonight on their home court. The Eaglets seek their 2nd win after snapping a 3-game loss string with a victory over St. Michael. Rev. John Rakoczy's club meets a strong club in Sweetest Heart of Mary, carrying a 9-6 mark. Game will end the regular schedule.

St. Frederick and St. Michael also close their seasons, except for district tourneys, with games Thursday and Friday. Freds play St. Francis Xavier Thursday, here, and Shamrocks go to Lamphere for their Friday windup.

Eaglets will start Stan Moniuszko, Art Goisdzinski, Mike Witkor, Ed Maciejewski and Chet Wlodkowski, against the Hearts. A reserve team game precedes the varsity encounter.

Avon 76, Romeo 57; Vikings, Ferndale Win

Orion Nips Rochester

A preview of what to expect in next week's Class B district tournament at Pontiac Central was given the large crowd attending the Lake Orion-Rochester game last night as the local rivals staged a red hot duel before the host Dragons won out 49-46.

They will be two of the four "B" teams in the district here with improving Avondale and winless Oxford the others. Avondale had another warmup for the event last night whipping Romeo 76-57.

Once-beaten Ferndale upset highly-rated Grosse Pointe 69-56, East Detroit had to work hard to defeat Birmingham 61-55 to take over the Eastern Michigan League lead, Walled Lake dumped Wayne 62-49, Ortonville trounced Hartland 57-44 and Imlay City stayed unbeaten by downing Kingston 69-56 in other area prep actions last night.

Rochester got off to a 17-9 lead at Orion and stayed in front until the final minute when Dragon scoring ace Jim Drake hit a field goal and foul to tie it at 46-46. Drake's pass to his point-getting twin Nick Neira on a fast break produced the clincher seconds later.

Orion was down by eight going into the last stanza before the Drake-Neira duo highlighted a 11-point spree that pulled out the Dragons 11th triumph in 15 games.

Drake finished with 15 and Neira 12, low totals for these boys. Carl Montross tallied 17 and Gene Lothery 15 for Rochester which is 12-5 now.

Avondale led its contest all the way but never could relax until the last quarter as Romeo kept battling. Jerry Hill's 25 and 21 for Mike Walker told the story for the Yellow Jackets. Bob Black rung up 22 for Romeo. Avon is now over the .500 mark at 8-7.

Walled Lake's win evened its record. Dennis McClelland was the big noise for the Vikings with 27 points. Bob Smith added 12.

Despite a 24-9 1st period lead, Ferndale had to overcome a one-point deficit to win its big one. The Railsplitters did nt with plenty to spare with a 23-9 final quarter. Gordon Rodwan scored 23 and Earl McNeal 20 in starring roles. Tom Woodruff's 20 topped the Pointe.

Birmingham led 9-8 after one period and gave East Detroit a scare in the last session before bowing as Jeff Boucher tallied 10 of his 12 points in the last eight minutes. Bob Stephenson paced the Maples with 16, while Gary Ballman hit 22 and Ron Emerick 21 for East Detroit.

Ortonville had little trouble after a slow start. Chuck Graves featured a balanced attack with 15. The Blackhawks have a 9-6 record. Imlay trailed early but then went ahead to stay in winning its 29th straight, 13 this year. John Lengeman and Jim Ward had 18 and 17, respectively.

Noles and Parks Pace 69-47 Win at Clarenceville

Holly Defeats Brighton in Final Seconds, Keego Edges Clawson

A 28-point performance by rugged rebound specialist Bill Noles and the outstanding all around play of Leroy Parks enabled Clarkston to clinch its 2nd successive Wayne-Oakland League championship at Clarenceville last night.

The Wolves came out on top after surviving some rough sledding in the 2nd period to win their 12th game in 13 loop starts.

By winning, Clarkston eliminated idle Northville from contention. The Mustangs, who shared the crown last year, will be at Clarkston Friday.

It was also a happy night for Holly. Bill Taylor's jump shot from 15 feet out produced a 78-76 triumph over Brighton to assure the Broncos at least a tie for 3rd place in the loop. West Bloomfield, the team with a chance to deadlock Holly, nipped Clawson outside the league, 47-46.

A 15-6 third quarter advantage actually broke up the Clarkston-Clarenceville tussle although the Wolves had led all the way.

Coach Dom Mauti's quintet romped to a 21-10 early lead but had to hold on throughout the 2nd quarter as Clarenceville recovered and sliced the difference to only one just before the half which ended 35-30.

Mauti called Noles' play "his best of the year." He had an excellent shooting record of 13 field goals in 24 attempts for 54.1 per cent hitting from outside and in close.

Clarenceville skipper Lee Kempf singled out Parks as the big factor in Clarkston's clincher. "He was terrific. Everytime we would concentrate on him he would set up Noles," commented Lee.

Parks wound up with 16 points and Dick Lippert contributed 11 to the cause. Larry Andrews rung up 16 to top the losers.

Holly had led all the way before Brighton tied the count with 56 seconds left. But Taylor fixed that in a hurry. Amos Bradsher hit 25 and George McDaniel 24 to pace Holly as Brian Watson had 30 for Brighton.

SPARK CHAMPS — Big Bill Noles, left, and little playmaker Leroy Parks were the sparkplugs as Clarkston clinched its 2nd straight Wayne-Oakland League title last night by beating Clarenceville. Noles tallied 28 points for his best night of the season. Parks added 16 while setting up many others.

Neira Gains County Lead

By CHUCK ABAIR

It was a long time coming but someone has finally overtaken Lake Orion's Jim Drake in the race for individual scoring honors in Oakland County. The new leader happens to be another fellow from Orion named Nick Neira.

Drake had held fast to the lead with Neira shifting between 2nd and 3rd since December but Nick had been gaining rapidly in recent weeks.

Neira outscored his sharpshooting buddy in four straight games to finally take over the top position with 353 points and a 25.2 average. Drake has 338 for 24.1.

John Herrington of Waterford held on to 3rd boosting his average to 20.3 as Rick Moos of Madison eased past Leroy Parks again by one-tenth of a point for 4th place.

Basketball Brothers to Be Rivals Saturday

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Joe and Ozzie Carlson, basketball-playing brothers from North Dakota who went separate routes to seek their athletic fortunes, will be reunited this week—as rivals.

Sooner or later in Saturday night's Big Ten meeting here between Minnesota and Ohio State the flow of action will pace them in face to face competition.

It will be a proud and perplexing moment for Mr. and Mrs. O. Hugo Carlson of Valley City, N.D., who will be watching their sons in a Big Ten game for the first time.

Who do they root for when Ohio State's Joe is shooting and Minnesota's Ozzie is trying to stop him?

"They've told us they are going to try to be quiet," smiled Ozzie. "Although I don't know how they're going to manage it."

Direct competition between the two, he feels, would saddle each with an emotional burden. "Besides," he said, "Joe is faster and more experienced than I am. Maybe I couldn't handle him."

Ozzie at 6-1 is a couple of inches taller than Joe, a 25-year-old junior. The older Carlson spent nearly four years in the Air Force after playing at North Dakota. Service friends interested him in Ohio State and he transferred. Joe has hit 196 points in 21 games as a regular.

Another 'Double' for OCSC Riflemen

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club riflemen are making a habit of collecting "doubles" in their small bore gallery matches with other squads from the section.

In a match Tuesday night at the OCSC range, the host squad took both ends of the competition against Lincoln Park's team, 949-1010 to 933-1008. It was close in both instances, with unusually high marks particularly in the handicap division. Margaret Meston was pacesetter for OCSC with 207 (hcp).

The scores: OCSC—Cash Bond 188, Bob Waggoner 189, Kjell Danielson 192-200, M. Laporte 200 (hcp), Meston 207 (hcp), Margaret Kempel 193-204, G. McCutcheon 199 (hcp) and D. Postma 187 (act). Chiefs Want Northern's Scalp

Pontiac Cagers Tackle Vikings Here on Friday

Saginaw Valley Clash Finds Chiefs Barring Northern Title Hopes

By BILL CORNWELL

If the Pontiac Central basketball team wants to beat Flint Northern this Friday as badly as coach Art Van Ryzin does, the Vikings are due for a busy evening.

Northern, still clinging to hopes for a share of the Saginaw Valley Conference crown, invades the Chiefs' wigwam Friday night for a league encounter important to both schools.

"I hope we can give them a real good licking," Van Ryzin said as the bus carted his cagers home from last Friday's 65-54 triumph at Bay City.

"We've got an old score to settle with those fellows," he remarked.

The old score, of course, is the narrow 49-47 loss the Chiefs absorbed from Northern in their first engagement on the Flint court. That setback, as it turned out, marked the Chiefs' downfall in their efforts to retain the SVC title.

Pontiac has long since lost all hopes of defending its conference honors, but the Chiefs can still gain a share of 3rd place with Saginaw.

Saginaw has a rough assignment Friday against the league-leading Indians of Flint Central on the Flint floor. A Saginaw loss coupled with a Pontiac victory would force a tie for 3rd place.

Northern, which took a bad 75-58 beating from city rival Central in their SVC showdown last week, must beat the Chiefs while hoping for Saginaw to upset Central in order to divide the title "spoils."

If the Chiefs can come up with the type of performance Van Ryzin knows they are capable of giving, the 1957-58 regular season schedule may finish on a happy note.

One thing is for sure, the pressure is all on Northern when the two teams collide in the PCH gym. The Chiefs should be as relaxed as a carefree vagabond for this one.

My favorite is the jump shot from the top of the key.

I try to run my defender into a screen so I can get free and take the shot without forcing it.

In other situations I try to feint my defender out of position by dribbling or changing direction.

If my opponent plays me loose, I take a one-hand which I have tried constantly to improve.

Kansas State and San Francisco were sitting pretty in NCAA major college tournament seats today while Southern Methodist has upset the dope by gaining the inside track in a bid for a fourth consecutive Southwest Conference basketball crown.

Virginia made the already confusing Atlantic Coast Conference battle even tougher to figure by upsetting Duke, which had won 11 straight, 70-68, in triple overtime last night.

Kansas State gained its fourth Big Eight conference title and NCAA berth by whipping Oklahoma 68-51. The Wildcats, ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, now have won 10 in a row for a 19-1 record.

San Francisco, ranked No. 4, didn't have it so easy while building a 22-1 record with a 49-47 decision over St. Mary's (Calif.) that clinched the West Coast Athletic Conference championship and handed the Dons a ticket to their fourth consecutive NCAA shindig.

Holy Cross, passed over thus far by selection committees, upset NCAA-bound Connecticut 92-89 in double overtime. New Orleans Loyola, named to the NCAA field yesterday, whipped Memphis State 68-55.

SMU, crossed off as a Southwest power with the graduation of Big Jim Krebs, took the undisputed lead with an expected 89-73 victory over Texas while Texas A&M was upsetting Texas Tech 79-63.

Kansas State, the NCAA runnerup in 1951, managed only a 30-28 lead against Oklahoma's man-to-man defense at the half. But the Wildcats hustled 16-points ahead early in the second half. Bob Boozer supplied K-State's scoring punch with 23.

A disputed field goal helped San Francisco, which finished third in the NCAA championships last year after taking the title in 1955-56.

Duke's winning streak got the gate on a basket by Herb Busch with 29 seconds left in the third extra session.

Makes Good Canine Citizens

By H. GUY MOATS

A "labor of love".

Which is really the way it goes for one group of dog lovers who has dedicated itself to the difficult task of training dogs (and owners) to be good "citizens."

The pioneer organization in this unselfish, but highly rewarding activity in southeastern Michigan this winter is observing its tenth anniversary.

Southern Michigan Obedience Training club, motivating body back of the program, was formed in Oakland county, has now spread its activities over the entire southeastern section, including some 10 or 12 communities where regular training classes are held, usually in schools.

Like trainer Reg Armstrong explains it, "we don't train the dogs. Their owners do that, but we do train the owners in the method of handling their pets to make them obedient, happy animals, and good canine citizens".

All class work measures up to obedience standards set up by the American Kennel Club. "Subjects" taught are how to get the dog to "heel", both on and off leash, stand quietly for inspection, downstay and return from sit and down positions.

Trainers say a dog can be taught in such a manner that he will love both his work and his trainer, who is usually his master. This is the principal upon which the SMOTC operates its 10 dog training classes, all now in session.

About 30 business and professional people comprise the SMOTC, who give their spare time without compensation. They represent Pontiac, Birmingham, Livonia, Roseville, Grosse Pte., Detroit, Royal Oak, Farmington, Drayton Plains, Clarkston and Lake Orion, also with one member from Canada.

More than 600 owner - dog teams are trained each year by SMOTC. A charge of $10 for the 10 lessons is made to cover cost of buildings, trophies, ribbons and diplomas. A sizeable cash balance is left over, and from this fund the SMOTC has contributed to MSU veterinary college student assistance funds. Recently the club gave four scholarships to leader dogs for the blind, to help finance purchase of leader dogs for needy people.

Head Pontiac area trainers include Armstrong, Jim Richmond, Henry Thornton and Robert Clark.

Both spring and fall training classes are held at schools in Berkley, Bloomfield Hills HS, East Detroit, Ferndale, Grosse Pte., Daniel Whitfield (Pontiac), Royal Oak, Mt. Clemens HS, and CAI building, Waterford.

All the youngsters have pets in training.

Pontiac Sports and Boat Show Set April 10-13

Extensive Plans Are Under Way for Event at Miracle Mile

Preparations are now under way for the 1958 Pontiac Sports and Boat Show, and promise is held out for the "biggest and most interesting show in Pontiac's history." The event is set for April 10 through April 13.

"This year's show will be held on the Miracle Mile," Pontiac's newest big shopping center, chairman Marshall Johnson announced today, following a session with committeemen Bernie Salvatore and Charles Kelly. Frank Slaybaugh, also working with the group, will hold his annual "family sport show" on March 7-8-9, at Slaybaugh's Marine store on Oakland avenue.

Details of the Miracle Mile show are now being completed. They are expected to include many features, in addition to an extensive exhibition of boats, marine equipment, and many other outdoor and sports materiel. There will be free pony rides for children, orchestra music each evening, a queen contest and some top entertainment.

It is also hoped to have several famous speedboats on display, probably "What a Pickle" and "Such Crust."

Brief Facts About Outdoors

What game in the American hunter's list draws the heaviest gunfire?

It one is a confirmed duck hunter, he would probably say without reservation that waterfowl holds that distinction. But he would be wrong, according to an official of a big arms company. The firm made a survey from which it developed that the ubiquitous rabbit is the most popular target, with 29.6 per cent of shotgun shells manufactured fired at him. Other game and percentages of shells fired at it includes squirrel 14; quail 13.9; ducks, geese 10.5; pheasant 9.5; doves 7, and others 3.5. Trap and skeet use 12 per cent.

It's surprising how many hunters and anglers do not carry a first aid kit in field and on water. John Amber, outdoorsman and publicist, has figured only about one in 20 carries the equipment to provide first aid in the field. It's just as important to know how to use it, as to have such equipment.

The state's pioneering group camp program is in its 10th winter of operation. Each year this program attracts 8,000-9,000 students to state parks to spend a week on outdoor studies.

Walter Cherry, 2756 Pontiac Lake road, is proud of the 40-inch long, 12-pound-3-ounce northern pike he speared from a shanty on Oxbow Lake, a few days ago. He was fishing with John Scott of 715 DeSoto, Pontiac. It was the pair's 3rd pike of the winter.

Hold Ceremony Tonight

Honor Area Water-Skiers

Attesting to the high rating given devotees of the fast-growing sport of water-skiing in Michigan's Water Wonderland, and particularly to those capable performers of Pontiac and its surrounding lake section, is the planned award of honors at the Detroit Boat Show, tonight.

Eight outstanding Michigan water skiers will be honored at a special ceremony, at which Miss Michigan Water Sports of 1958 will confer the awards. This highlighted feature is set for 8 o'clock.

Skiers to be honored were selected by the awards committee of the Michigan Water Ski State Championships, which are sponsored by the Milford Jaycees and the Lake Sherwood Ski Club.

Athletes to be honored include: Alice Shotwell of Pontiac, 1957 state women's champion and member of the Sylvan Lake Ski Club; 14-year-old John Pierce of Birmingham, Tri - County overall champion, 1957 junior state champion; Joe and Jackie Chircop, mixed - doubles (members of Cass Lake Ski Club).

From outstate are 1957 state champion Dave Thompson of Kalamazoo, men's division; Paul Boel, Detroit (Cass Lake club prexy) senior men's state jumping champion; Bill Bilbie of Whitmore Lake, 1957, slalom champion; Dick Sligh Jr., Mt. Clemens, 1957 state jumping king, an instructor at MSU.

Boat show, at Detroit Artillery Armory, Eight Mile road, at Greenfield, opened last weekend, continues through March 2.

1,000 Entries for DKC's 40th Exhibit

Detroit Kennel club's two-day 40th annual all-breed show takes place at the State Fair Coliseum this weekend, with a record entry of more than 1,000.

More than 80 breeds are represented, with 77 German shepherds heading the list. An obedience trial is an additional, popular feature. Doors open at 10 a. m. each day and show goes on to 8:30 p. m. Saturday, closes Sunday evening with selection of best-in-show.

Deer Feel Effects of Winter Weather

LANSING — Michigan deer were feeling the effects of winter in many areas as deep snow restricted whitetails to yarding areas during the last week.

Conditions generally were not serious, however, as moderate weather prevailed in most of the state.

Maximum snow depths in western and northern portions of the Upper Peninsula ranged from 18 to 42 inches and deer were confined to yards — low or swampy areas or other areas which provide protection against weather.

In the northern Lower Peninsula, deer were more restricted than at any time so far this winter. About one foot of snow was reported over most of the region.

That Perfect Dry Lure?

Here's Tip for Flytiers

By JACK PATTERSON

Joe Clark, local trucking magnate and honorary mayor of Curran who is currently dawdling away the winter in Lauderdale-by-the-Sea sends us a clipping from Miami, Fla. showing a genuine fish-eating deer. "At last," adds Joe, "Michigan's long debated deer feeding problem is solved. Please arrange for unlimited planting of Michigan streams with suckers, red horse, carp, etc. Ask the Conservation Department to equip the deer with skin diving outfits and all will be well."

PATTERSON

With tongue in cheek, Joe appends the following P. S.: "Please ask your editor to cease publishing critical articles about our Florida weather. We enjoy 80 degrees almost daily—35 in the morning and 45 in the afternoon."

According to Frank Wood things on the west side aren't much better. He says they recently had two nice days in a row and he and his good wife didn't know what to do with themselves. Ike Isgrigg reports that west side bottom fishing is productive if the fisherman can find a handy mangrove island for a windbreak.

Some time ago we borrowed a fly-tying book from Pontiac's Hank Moran, who is a trout fisherman first and foremost, and in his spare time works for the GM complex. It's an excellent book and the only trouble is Hank wants it back and we haven't finished perusing it. We picked up some ideas, however, that may help in the search for the perfect fly.

Making a dry fly that is attractive to the fish is only part of the problem. It also has to be visible to the fisherman. Take a standby like the Adams. It is a reliable fish-getter but can be miserably hard to see.

The conventionally tied fly doesn't perform well in broken water. Here's how we'd go about correcting these faults. First, for visibility we'd add a turn or two of yellow at the front of the fly, making it a bi-visible.

We'd pick yellow rather than the customary white because yellow shows up better under normal floatability we'd palmer the fly, that is, carry the hackle wind back the whole length of the shank. Wings could be added, though personally we'd ignore them. We'd confine our efforts to hook sizes no larger than 12 or 14 but tie the hackle somewhat longer than normal..

What we'd come up with wouldn't strictly speaking, be an Adams, or a bi-visible, or a variant, or a spider but would have many of the virtues of each. For exploration and "blind" fishing such a fly should give a pleasant sense of confidence and a feeling of covering all the angles. Whether or not it will take a fish we couldn't say until April, when we'll give the thing a workout.

Soft Ice Endangers Fishing Shanties

Because of soft weather that has honeycombed the ice covering Oakland County lakes, spear fishermen today were warned to check their shanties closely to prevent them from falling through.

A number of these fishing shelters already have sunk into the water, this department has been informed. A state law makes it mandatory to remove such shanties before ice becomes unsafe.

Wayne Francisco called to say that Walled Lake ice has softened and several shanties have gone through.

130-Pound Sturgeon State's Biggest Fish

Biggest fish taken from Michigan waters this year is the 130-pound sturgeon hauled through the ice of Mullet lake, near Cheboygan. Louis Kipfmiller, a Saginaw auto worker, took the 6-foot-2-inch fish by spearing. Cheboygan fish statisticians say the previous record this year was a 110-pounder, five feet long.

GOOD HUNTING — Here's one successful fox hunting group. It gets together frequently, and during the last two months has taken more than 25 foxes. Pelts are shown above the hunters and dogs; from left, Edward H. Weber, Harold Garian, Gwendall Brown, Walt Weber, Roy Brown and Ed Weber Jr. Second dog from right, a Walker hound named Big Boy, is pack leader.

Hunters Bag 27 in 2 Months

Plenty Foxes -- Where You Find 'Em

Despite reports that foxes are growing scarcer in Oakland County, as evidenced by lack of success on the part of a number of big hunting swingouts this winter, there's at least one group of fox hunters that has been very successful.

In a four-square mile area west of Pontiac, about the intersection of West Maple and Haggerty roads, a group of five veteran hunters have taken 27 animals in the last two months on property of Ed. Weber and Roy Brown and son Gwen (Roy's Ranch).

Pontiac's Joe McCarthy, 300 Draper St., Weber's father, Edward H. Weber and uncle, Walter Weber, hunt frequently. "We get out together whenever conditions are right," Ed Weber says. He called the pack of four hounds that works with the party, "the finest fox hounds I ever saw."

Leader of the pack is a 4-year-old veteran called Big Boy, a Walker hound.

Foxes taken by the party (all members of which are against any move designed to remove the bounty on the animals) average between 10 and 20 pounds. Of the total, says Weber, at least half are females.

"There's no market for the pelts," Weber added, "so the bounty comes in handy.

"We don't have many rabbits or pheasants around here anymore, but we do see lots of evidence that Reynard isn't living on field mice alone."

A tricky quarry, but not the super-clever animal fiction labels them, foxes offer an increasing number of hunters one of the most exciting outdoor activities. Mr. Reynard is smart enough, however, to usually require a skilled hunter and a good dog to lay him low.

Rabbit Season Closes March 1

Last day for rabbit and hare hunting in Michigan is March 1, while bobcat hunting in the northern Lower Peninusla ends March 15.

With these seasons closed, many hunters will turn to species which are legal targets throughout the year, including foxes, coyotes, wolves, opposum, porcupines, weasles, red squirrels, starlings, crows and English sparrows.

The Joneses' property insurance didn't "keep up with the Joneses"

The Joneses' property grew in value every year as they made improvements and additions to their fine home. Then, one sad day, fire destroyed the house. And they found their insurance wasn't nearly enough to replace everything they'd lost—especially at today's higher costs. Be sure you're protected with enough insurance. Trade Pact Signed by Red China, Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Adivces from Peiping said 12 Japanese industrialists and Red China signed a five-year trade agreement today under which 280 million dollars worth of Japanese steel materials will be bartered for Chinese iron ore and coal.

Radio NHK and the Kyodo news service said the pact was signed in Peiping by Yoshihiro Inayama, head of the private Japanese delegation, and a representative of Red China's mining industry corporation.

NHK said each group is to ship 28 million dollars worth of materials to the other in the first year, 1958. Japanese-Chinese trade is based on such nongovernment agreements in the absence of diplomatic relations between the Tokyo and Peiping governments.

Flood News Travels an Extra 3,400 Miles

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Station KBET-TV got its news about a California flood by way of Enid, Okla.

Cameraman Paul Meeks, in a car equipped with short-wave radio, was covering a flood at Hamilton City, about 80 miles north of Sacramento.

He lost contact with the station, but finally re-established it by relay through a short-wave station operated by KOCO-TV in Enid, about 1,700 miles away.

Atmospheric conditions were the explanation.

Recovery Ends Five-Day Sag

NEW YORK (AP) —Stock market prices recovered in early trading today after five days on the downside.

Key issues gained fractions to around a point. The higher tone was established in a moderately active opening, then turnover slowed.

Steels, motors, aircrafts, oils and chemicals went ahead. Mail orders, rubbers and radio-televisions were mixed.

The action was a follow-through from late yesterday's selective recovery which led brokers to theorize that the list had reached a temporarily oversold condition. In the absence of any radical change in the business and economic climate it looked like a technical recovery.

Smaller gains were made by Bethleham, Chrysler, General Dynamics, American Cyanamid, Union Carbide, General Electric, Westinghouse, Southern Railway, Texas Co. and American Airlines.

Du Pont and Youngstown Sheet added more than a point each. Gains of about a point were made by U.S. Steel, Homestake, Douglas Aircraft, Zenith, Phelps Dodge, Lorillard and Johns-Manville.

New York Central reported a loss in January and was down a fraction. Sears Roebuck and U.S. Rubber were other losers. Ford and Radio Corp. eased.

They'll Ask Williams to Aid Sullenberger

Petitioners for the reinstatement of Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger at Pontiac General Hospital will go to Lansing Tuesday afternoon to meet with administrative aides of Gov. Williams.

A leader of the group, Mrs. Kenneth W. Pawley of Drayton Plains, said she would present petitions bearing 2,100 signatures in behalf of the ousted staff surgeon, who is suing for reinstatement and $250,000 damages.

"If the governor is available at the time of our appointment, he will meet with us briefly," said Mrs. Pawley. "Otherwise, we will present our case to his assistants."

Mrs. Pawley said the petitions are in behalf of Dr. Sullenberger's patients, who want him readmitted to the hospital so he can treat them there. The surgeon was suspended Nov. 13.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: What color does a dog like best?

ANSWER: A dog's sense of sight is not as good as his senses of smell and hearing, and it is doubtful that he can distinguish colors as we can. Much larger parts of a dog's brain than a man's brain are devoted to receiving sensations of smell and hearing, thus making these senses extremely delicate.

Some dogs can pick out the trail of a person after it has been crossed by the trails of several hundred others. And their sense of hearing enables them to tell apart sounds which are so close in pitch that the average human being is not able to tell there is a difference.

This girl is showing her dog Muggins two blankets, one green plaid and one red. Muggins doesn't really care which one is chosen, because color means nothing to him. But he is attentive because he has come to associate a blanket with a fine run outdoors, and he is anxious to get out.

FOR YOU TO DO: Dogs seem to understand words. Try telling your dog "Let's go for a walk" several times and each time take him outside. Soon he probably will run to the door as you start to speak these words.

GM Competition Draws 284,575

Now Judging Entries in 'Golden Milestone' $500,000 Contest

Nearly 285,000 General Motors employes are competing for the $500,000 in prizes the company is offering in its "Golden Milestone" letter-writing contest, a final tabulation of entries disclosed today.

General Motors Truck & Coach Division was among the GM units with high participation listed by the company. The division had a 60.8 per cent participation.

A staff of specially trained personnel with an independent agency is now reading and judging the bags-full of letters that have been received at contest headquarters at Chicago.

Judging is being supervised by a panel of five nationally known persons not associated with General Motors. The top 45 winners will be announced at an awards banquet in Detroit about March 27.

Entries in the letter-writing contest, part of GM's 50th anniversary observance, numbered 284,575, nearly two-thirds of those eligible to participate when the contest was opened Jan. 2.

Subject of the letters was "The Golden Milestone—What It Means to Me, My Family and My Community."

In all, 5,000 prizes will be awarded, topped by a $35,000 house, including a specially designed kitchen. With the house goes a $42,750 allowance to help defray government taxes, raising the overall award to $77,750.

Other top prizes include $15,000 in GM common stock, $10,000 in GM common stock and 42 GM automobiles. All winners will receive cash allowances to assist in payment of government taxes.

As an added local incentive, some divisional general managers have announced to their employes that if the first place winner is in their division he will receive up to $5,000 from the division toward the cost of the lot on which the house is to be built.

Pontiac City Affairs

New Sewer Station Given Green Light

Construction of a new northeast side sanitary sewer pumping station at city expense plus installation of pipelines at regular special assessment rates were approved last night at a public hearing before the Pontiac City Commission.

The whole project will cost an estimated $76,900, with property owners paying only $25,000 at the standard $3 per frontage foot basis, City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn said. The city's share, including $4,158 for benefited school property, will be about $51,900.

The area served will be in the vicinity of Arlene and Fuller streets from Second avenue to Columbia avenue. Assessment rolls for the project will be submitted to the commission March 4.

Other assessment rolls were ordered for seven paving projects accepted last night following public hearings. They are:

Pike street, Astor to East boulevard; Pingree street, Cadillac to LeGrande; Putnam street, Cadillac to LeGrande; Rundell street, Baldwin to Pingree; Tennyson avenue, Joslyn to Highwood; Tregent street, Baldwin to Saginaw; and Yale avenue, Carlisle to Stanley.

Action on an eighth project, on Roselawn drive from Fiddis to Maines, was delayed one week due to property owner objections.

Special assessment rolls for eight other paving projects were accepted. They are:

Bagley street, South boulevard to Arthur; Cadillac avenue, Oakland to Rundell; Homestead drive, Astor to East boulevard; Hudson avenue, Putnam to Pingree; Ivy street, Perry to Montcalm; Jefferson avenue, Cadillac to Summit; New York avenue, Baldwin to University; and Northway drive, Astor to East boulevard.

Assessment rolls for nine other paving projects were approved at public hearings, but Commissioners postponed finally confirmation of the assessments. These projects are included:

Burt street, LeGrande to Hillside; E. Chicago avenue, Baldwin to the Pontiac, Oxford and Northern Railroad; E. Colgate avenue, Baldwin to University; Carlisle avenue, Cornell to Columbia; Colorado avenue, Bagley to Franklin road; Fairmount avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle; Hudson avenue, Pingree to Summit; Jefferson avenue, Cadillac to Kimball; and Kimball street, Jefferson to its southern end.

Public hearings were scheduled for March 4 on the city's intention to improve 14 gravel streets. Work includes curbing, gutters and drains. Twelve of the jobs include blacktopping. They are:

Adelaide avenue, Oakland to Baldwin; LeGrande avenue, Baldwin to Euclid; Wyoming avenue, Bagley to Franklin road; Lennox avenue, Barkell to its eastern end; S. Jessie street, Wilson to Raeburn; W. New York avenue, Baldwin to Walton; Harriett street, Adelaide to Cadillac; Euclid avenue, from High street east about two blocks; Carlisle avenue, Columbia to Sheffield; W. Ann Arbor avenue, Carlisle to Stanley; Gladstone place, Edison to Cooper; and Tasmania avenue, Maines to Riverside.

The other two gravel road improvements call for concrete paving. They are on Brush street, Bagley to Linfere and on Linfere street, Brush to Franklin road.

Commissioners also accepted a property owners' petition for an eight-inch sanitary sewer on the southeast side of Montcalm from Corwin street northeast about 800 feet. Sixty-one per cent of the property owners affected had signed the petition.

Senate Confirms Gregory as Marshal

LAPEER — The appointment of Clark W. Gregory as U. S. Marshal for the Eastern District of Michigan yesterday was confirmed by the U. S. Senate.

Calls on Dulles to Justify Stories of Aid 'Rackets'

WASHINGTON (INS)—A House committee, armed with reports of widespread graft and "rackets" in foreign aid handling, called Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today to justify the administration's request for another $3,942,000,000.

The Foreign Affairs Committee had held a week of closed-door hearings at which officials of the General Accounting Office have detailed their charges of waste and inefficiency in the military aid program.

Members said they wanted the facts about how the money has been handled in the past before hearing Dulles and other administration spokesmen on what they want for the future.

The House committee made public last night secret testimony which made these disclosures about the foreign aid program:

—Surplus military equipment is being sold abroad by the government and is then shipped to the U. S. and resold at bargain prices, sometimes to the government in violation of existing laws.

Details of the practice were scarce in the testimony, but Rep. James Fulton (R-Pa) called it a "racket" and said it involved mostly automobile parts.

—Spain is getting more F86 fighter planes than it has pilots to fly them.

—France has diverted "substantial" quantities of military equipment to North Africa to use in its battle against Algerian nationalists.

—Excess military equipment was being sold as surplus in Japan at the same time aid officials there were preparing requests for shipment of the same items from the U. S.

—Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) quoted an Iranian college professor as saying pilferage of economic aid by government officials in his country was on an "organized" basis with some becoming millionaires.

—Rep. J. L. Pilcher (D-Ga) said an Air Force sergeant told him he was transferred back to the U. S. for insisting that he be allowed to dig spare tractor parts out of the snow in Iceland after officers told him it wasn't necessary because more were on their way.

6-County Group to Hear Blucher

Planning Adviser Will Talk at Berkley Meeting of Supervisors Unit

Watler H. Blucher, consultant for the American Society of Planning Officials, will speak to members of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee tomorrow at their monthly meeting at the Northwood Inn in Berkley.

Blucher is expected to touch on the recent creation of the Southeastern Michigan Metropolitan Community Research Corp., for which the Ford Foundation this week granted $25,000 to start.

The committee, consisting of representatives from Oakland and five other southeastern Michigan counties, asked for the pre-project grant last December in order that such a study group be established.

Its primary goals will be to study the social, economic and governmental growth in this part of the state.

"Research as a Tool in the Solution of Metropolitan Problems" will be the topic of Bloucher's talk, according to Gerard A. Poehlman, executive secretary of the committee.

Must List Sources of Ionizing Radiation

LANSING (AP) — All sources of ionizing radiation, such as X-ray machines, must henceforth be registered with the State Health Department.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said the new regulation applies to all industrial, dental and medical users of radiation materials.

One of the regulations of the new radiation code, he said, would forbid the use of fluoroscopic shoe fitting machines on children under 18 years of age.

Exempt from provisions of the regulations are materials of extremely low radioactivity.

"Nothing in the regulations," Dr. Heustis said, "should be interpreted as limiting exposure of patients to radiation for medical diagnosis, medical therapy or medical research."

Annexation Issue Postponed by City

The Pontiac City Commission has again postponed a showdown on annexation of supermarket property at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads in Waterford Township.

The property is served by Pontiac sewers but is in Waterford Township. Since September 1956, the city has been asking the township to allow the parcel to be annexed or disconnect the sewer hookup.

Commissioners last night agreed to put off a decision until May 1.

Driver Injured as Car Rams Parked Vehicle

Rudolph D. Burlison, 22, of 263 Prospect St. rammed his car into a parked vehicle last night and suffered scalp injuries.

He was admitted at Pontiac General Hospital where his condition today is fair.

The accident occurred on Roselawn drive near Michigan avenue.

Proposes Drive to Aid Economy

Publisher Outlines Plan to Combat Recession With Faith

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — A proposal by newspaper publisher Harry B. Haines to help combat the recession with a "Believe in America" campaign has drawn favorable comment from the governors of four states and both of New Jersey's senators.

Haines, publisher of the Paterson Evening News, outlined his plan to halt the business slump in a front-page article in yesterday's edition. The article appeared under an eight-column headline that declared: "America is now in the throes of a psychosomatic slump."

Hanes dispatched telegrams to the governors of all 48 states and letters to congressional leaders urging them to proclaim a "Believe in America Week."

Suggesting the week of March 23-29, Haines said such an observance would translate 'into tangible action the inherent, abiding faith of our founding fathers and our people since the United States came into being—that this is the greatest country on earth."

Maryland's Gov. Theodore McKeldin, a Republican, said he 'heartily endorsed" Haines' proposal. He added that he had refused last week to join with 11 other governors in "what I consider a scare campaign that could create panic."

The people of Maryland, he said, "will join no fear-laden stampedes to catastrophe."

The 11 governors referred to by McKeldin sent a telegram to President Eisenhower outlining a six-point program for halting the recession.

'Peyton Place' Author Granted Alabama Divorce

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP) — The author of the novel "Peyton Place," which hit the best seller lists and was made into a motion picture, has divorced her husband on grounds of voluntary abandonment.

Judge J. B. Hicks granted the divorce yesterday to Grace Metalious, 33, in Russell County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Metalious testified that her husband, George, 33, voluntarily abandoned her on Oct. 14, 1956. They were married in 1943. Metalious was listed as a resident of Massachusetts.

The judge barred remarriage except to each other for 60 days. No mention was made of property settlement, money or the three Christopher Michael, 10, and Metalius children, Marshal, 14, Cynthia, 7.

Bob Hope Russia-Bound for Film-Showing

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope is off for the Soviet Union, where he says he wants to film one or two television shows.

The comedian left by plane yesterday for London en route to Moscow.

He did not have a Soviet visa but said he expected to obtain the necessary clearance after reaching England.

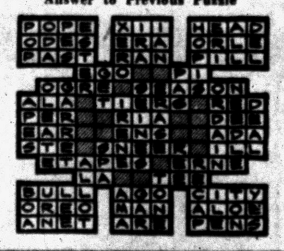

Hope said he wanted to attend a screening of one of his films in Moscow March 4, arranged as a cultural exhange program.

Linda Darnell's Spouse in Los Angeles Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Actress Linda Darnell's husband is in a hospital here following a gall bladder attack in Honolulu.

Merle Roy (Robbie) Robertson, 40, and Miss Darnell arrived by plane last night. They were vacationing in Honolulu when he became ill last Friday, an air line spokesman said.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

How Is It 'Fasching' Is Overlooked Here?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Maria Schell, the Swiss-German actress, is enjoying enormous praise here just now for "The Brothers Karamazov"—but if you don't mind, she's missing very much the "fasching" this week in Munich.

WILSON

That's a feast period when husbands and wives often forget they're married, have extended flirtations—and are always forgiven by their mates.

"You flirt and during this perid it is not considered wrong," says Maria ("The Golden Smile"). "They consider that in the three days, you can get rid of all the evil that is in you so you can be good for 40 days."

I had often heard of that "fasching," but it took Maria to explain that it is kind of a Hallowe'en costume-affair with women permitted to wear masks so they can mislead the men they flirt with.

"The husband and wife do not go out together during 'fasching'" Miss Schell explained further.

"But I do not consider it is a Babylon of sin," she said. "You are the woman with a mask on and you recognize a man and go up to him and tease him about a girl you know he is seeing. He says, 'WHO ARE YOU?' Or you say to him, 'What were you doing last Thursday night?' The more you know about him, the more fun you have."

MARIA

Maria—born in Switzerland, now living in Munich—said that her grandmother once told her grandpa she didn't feel well and wouldn't go to the "fasching" ball.

"But after he went, she put on her mask and went, too. She followed him around everywhere asking him embarrassing questions, but he never found out who was 'that girl' he was flirting with.

"Sometimes a man flirts all evening with somebody intriguing and finds out when the masks come off that it's an old woman. One man got so flirty with a young girl in a mask that the girl finally said, 'Now, Daddy, that's enough!'"

Maria was pretty surprised that a big progressive country like ours doesn't have "fasching," and asked why. I told her the truth—our wives won't let us.

Tropical Kusaie Island Records Vivid History

WASHINGTON — If size determined history, little Kusaie in the southwest Pacific would have a short and simple biography.

Actually, this easternmost isle of the scattered Caroline group offers a cross section of Pacific melodrama. It has lived under the flags of four foreign powers (Spain, Germany, Japan, United States) and has seen a series of devastating events ranging from buccaneer revels to war bombing.

Through Kusaie's story runs also a persistent religious refrain, the result of a century of American missionary work in the area.

Latest news of the island tells of a young woman who had spent her girlhood there as the daughter of a Congregational missionary. Before she left she promised the native king that she would some day return to carry on the work. This she is now doing, with her husband, who is also a missionary.

While away, she helped the American Bible Society translate the New Testament into the Kusaie language.

Kusaie stretches 10 miles at most, and covers an area of about 42 square miles. Seen from an approaching ship, the rugged volcanic island rises from the blue Pacific in tropical loveliness. With its green forested hills and white beaches framed by coconut palms and dark mangroves, it is a typical scene of South Sea romantic fiction.

The Carolines and Kusaie were used by Japan in World War II for air and naval bases in Pacific operations. Kusaie was bombed—and bypassed—during the Americans' island-hopping campaign on the way to Tokyo.

Finally, in 1947, the United States became the fourth power to control Kusaie, as part of a huge United Nations Trust Territory that includes the Mariana, Marshall and Caroline Islands.

Kusaie's people today number about 2,000. They receive American aid in education, health and economic development.

One Experience in '53 Convinced Him He Isn't Visual Comedian

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

Remember? From 1939 until 1952, "Duffy's Tavern" and Ed Gardner as Archie were a national radio habit.

But after 39 telefilms of "Duffy's Tavern" in 1953, Ed Gardner quit and went to watching the stock market between rounds of golf.

But old favorites never die, so they say, and today Duffy's Tavern, with Ed back on the phone as Archie, is open for business again on NBC radio in a tab version.

The voice of Archie, minus the phone as Archie, is open wor buswatches and gasoline in TV and radio commercials.

NEEDS THE ACTIVITY

It's not that Ed Gardner needs the loot. It's just that he needs the activity "to avoid becoming such a good golfer that no one except Ben Hogan will play with me," he says.

He's even "kicking around" a TV idea. "Inside McManus," which he'd like to produce and direct, and he's also looking for some kind of an offbeat dramatic role in a movie.

But no more TV clowning for Ed, who told me:

"I'm just not a visual comedian. I agreed to 39 telefilms of 'Duffy's Tavern' because I was assured I wouldn't have to worry about the producing or the writing.

"The way it turned out I had to worry about everything except processing the film, and the director had me running around like Abbott and Costello.

"The only thing happy about it was that the films made money and convinced me that holding a script in front of a radio mike for all those years is no help in TV."

ADVISES AD AGENCY

"I'm a vice president in charge of hating the clients," he laughed.

The best advice he have the agency, he says, "was that 10 minutes a month is enough exposure for any TV comedian." Even Charlie Chaplin at the peak of his career, claims Ed, couldn't survive TV. As he tells it:

"The first week someone would say, 'Charlie, we don't like your funny walk. Change it.' The second week someone would say, 'Charlie, people are getting tired of your cane. Leave it home.'

"The third week someone would say, 'Charlie, we had a couple of letters. People are bored with your hat.' The fourth week, the sponsor would send Chaplin a memo objecting to his mustache and order him to shave it off.

"And that," says Ed, "would be the end of Chaplin on TV."

About 50 tubercular Hungarian refugees, whom Denmark promised shelter and treatment, have arrived along with about 100 relatives and are being sent to hospitals and refugee homes.

College Student Kills on 'Urge'

Sophomore at Stanford Surrenders With Body of 17-Year-Old Girl

PALO ALTO, Calif. (INS) — A 19-year-old Stanford University student walked into the Palo Alto Police Station last night and confessed to the killing of a 17-year-old high school girl on an "urge."

Thomas Wallace Cordry III, the son of a San Francisco insurance consultant firm executive, calmly told the desk sergeant:

"I killed a girl — she's out in the car."

The stunned sergeant and other police officers found the body of Deena Bonn in Cordry's blood-spattered 1957 convertible, a .22 caliber bullet wound in her right temple.

Cordry related that he bought the rifle with the intention of picking up a girl — any girl — and raping her before killing and leaving her body in the hills.

The fraternity (Alpha Sigma Phi) member and player on last year's Stanford freshman tennis squad said he drove around the campus and Palo Alto looking for a victim all afternoon, but did not find one and returned to his home in Palo Alto.

Then, the youth said, he thought of Deena who lived across the street and whom he had dated in the past.

Cordry said he lured the Palo Alto high school girl by telling her he was going on a train trip and asked that she accompany him to the station.

She agreed but after they left in Cordry's car he headed for the campus instead.

He shot her and drove toward the hills where he intended to violate his dead victim before dumping her body there.

But after the killing, the youth said, he changed his mind and drove directly to the police station.

He told officers: "I just had an urge. I've had it many times."

Thief, Fussy Dresser, Places His Order First

PRESTON, England (AP)—An unidentified man telephoned Arthur Boyle's clothing store and said he was interested in buying a raincoat. He specified the style, color and chest size (42 inches), and asked that it be put in the window so he could take a look.

The store complied. The only thing stolen in a window-smashing raid two days later was the raincoat, chest size 42.

Call Jury in Parking Issue

CLARKSTON — A jury was selected yesterday which, beginning next Tuesday, will delve into the matter of whether the Village of Clarkston needs more off-street parking.

If the 12-person panel, based on arguments to be presented by Attorneys Milton F. Cooney and Milton F. Henry, says there is a need for more parking space, its next move will be to determine a fair and reasonable price for land presently occupied by the Caribou Inn.

Cooney, village attorney, was authorized by the council in December to initiate condemnation proceedings to acquire the property owned by Ernie Felice. Henry is representing Felice in the court proceedings.

As required by statute, both sides struck six potential jurors yesterday from a list of 24 selected by the county sheriff. Next Tuesday the hearing will resume before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge George B. Hartrick.

3 Union Heads Plan Meeting

Bradley, Hoffa, Lewis Confab Could Presage 2nd Labor Bloc

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Heads of three of the nation's largest independent labor unions will hold a strategic "friendship meeting" here this week, it was reported Tuesday.

William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn., said that James R. Hoffa, head of the Teamsters Union, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, are expected here Thursday as "guests of the ILA."

The Teamsters Union was tossed out of the AFL-CIO earlier this year. The Mine Workers have been in and out of both the AFL and CIO but have remained independent of the combined labor federation.

One official hinted that the Miami meeting may be the beginning of a movement that could lead to formation of a second big labor bloc.

Also expected at the meeting is Joe Curran, leader of the National Maritime Workers, who has acted as go-between for the ILA within the AFL-CIO since the Longshoremen's ouster from the Federation in 1953.

Shipping Slump Causes 100 Vessels to Lay Up

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — About 75 German ships, totaling 250,000 tons, are laid up in German ports because of a worldwide shipping slump Hamburg shipping circles reported today.

Some 25 foreign freighters and tankers also are tied up in German ports.

City National Guard Unit Wins Rifle Competition

Pontiac's National Guard unit, Company M, was officially notified today that its rifle team has won first place in the 125th Infantry Regiment competition.

The six-man sharpshooting team, won the honor narrowly edging the Company B team from Alpena by 12 points, in a recent match.

GRUDGE MATCH

It was a big victory for the team, since the match was what could be termed a friendly "grudge" match. In the same event last year, Company B edged the Pontiac outfit for top spot.

The local marksment scored 1,293 points out of a possible 1,500. Although the match was held on Feb. 13, the official results were not compiled and released until this morning.

Members of the championship team are: Pfc. Donald Greer, of 629 De Sota Place; Sgt. 1. C. Glenn A. Simpson, of 113 Osceola Dr.; Specialist 3. C. Elmer E. Claycomb, of Lake Orion; Sgt. Roger L. Frentheway, of Oxford; and Lt. Robert G. Garland and Pfc. Patrick A. LaBelle, both of Mount Clemens.

To win the regimental title the team had to outshoot other battalion champions from Company G, in Lapeer, and a heavy mortar Company from Howell, besides the team from Alpena..

They won the right to participate in this event by outscoring all other teams in the 3rd Battalion at a meet early this year in Port Huron. There they scored 1,250 out of a possible 1,500 points.

Now they are looking forward to the 46th Division championship match. The team will fire against 10 other teams from various regiments, anti-aircraft, tank, field artillery, engineer, and headquarters battalions throughout the state.

No date has been announced yet for the event. The winners of this match will eventually be entered in the Fifth Army area championships composed of crack teams from 13 Midwestern states.

DETROIT (AP) — A joint protest against proposed cuts in federal price supports on dairy products has been issued by delegates representing 55,000 dairy farmers in five Midwestern states.

Dairy farmers from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin said yesterday a proposal by Agriculture Secretary Benson to cut price supports to 75 per cent of parity April 1 would reduce farm income by 300 million dollars.

The meeting was called by the Michigan Milk Producers Assn.

ARTHRITIS PAINS UNBEARABLE SAYS DETROIT WOMAN

The real test of a medicine is not in printed words, but in its use. Thousands of people right here in Michigan like Mrs. Vera Robbins, 48 W. Ferry, Detroit, have tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS and have been so pleased with the results, that they are continually telling others about this time proven, successful medicine.

"Arthritis pains in my arm, right side and leg were absolutely unbearable. For over a year I couldn't comb my hair, put on my coat or even sleep at night because the pains were so bad. It finally got so I could hardly walk or even turn my head. I didn't have much luck with treatments or shots, as when they wore off, I suffered as bad as ever. Now, I want to tell every sufferer of arthritis and rheumatism how wonderful O-JIB-WA BITTERS really is, for if I hadn't learned about it from a story in my newspaper, I would probably still be suffering. With other medicines, I always ended up disappointed, as none of them measured up to their claims. Right from the first, O-JIB-WA BITTERS was different, as in just two weeks the aches and pains began to leave. Soon I could move about good again, and now, just three months later, I am all better. My husband also tried it for his arthritis, and it helped him in just one week. I am very glad to have this opportunity to tell others about your swell medicine." Available in three economical sizes.
