Camille Rips Gulf Coast

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — Hurricane Camille's death toll spiraled quickly to 15 today as daylight brought the full impact of the murderous Gulf storm's sweep across the Mississippi coast.

Mississippi Civil Defense director Bill Harvey in Jackson said there were 10 known dead in Biloxi, two in Gulfport, two at Moss Point and one at Ocean Springs. All of the towns dot the coast along a stretch of white sand beach.

A Coast Guard helicopter flew over the hurricane impact area this morning and reported the stretch from Long Beach, Miss., to Pass Christian, Miss., "is flattened."

None of the dead was identified and civil defense officials in Gulfport feared they would find "many more bodies" as the search deepens into the bay area back of Biloxi.

★ ★ ★

The Coast Guard also toured southeastern Louisiana, where Camille's 150-mile-an-hour winds first moved inland, and reported ships aground, levees broken and buildings destroyed.

Damage by the storm's high winds to telephone lines prevented contact with the affected areas.

The Red Cross reported housing 70,000 evacuees in shelters in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

★ ★ ★

There were reports of high water in the area south of New Orleans.

The storm also hit the Alabama coast line near Mobile and touched the Florida Panhandle but damage was not nearly what it was expected to be in those areas.

Gulfport and Biloxi, also difficult to reach by phone were without electricity, gas or drinking water. A Gulfport hospital reported treating about 50 persons, none apparently injured seriously.

The hurricane continued its trek across central Mississippi today. Winds of 100 miles an hour lashed Hattiesburg while Columbia reported utility poles down and trees uprooted.

★ ★ ★

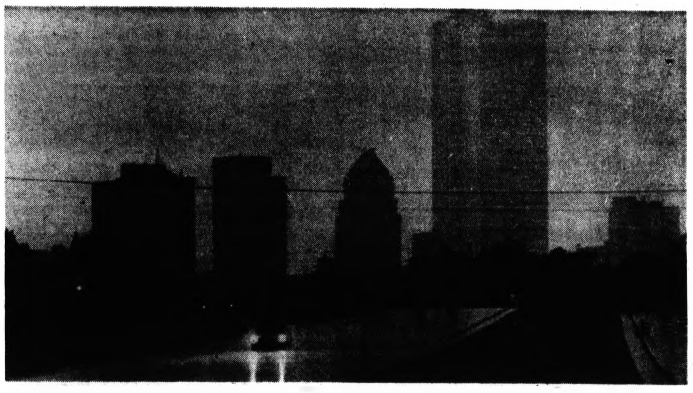

The storm spent most of its fury on the long strip of white beach along the Gulf Coast from Gulfport to Biloxi. Its eye moved inland before midnight and sent waves soaring over the highway and destroyed 40 of the 250 buildings on the big Naval Seabee Base north of Gulfport.

★ ★ ★

Civil Defense officials in Biloxi feared that "many more bodies" would be found as rescue workers wade through the wreckage littering the town and its fringes.

Because of a communications failure due to the crushing winds and tide waters, civil defense officials were unable to confirm reports of heavy damage to other points along the coast.

There were also reports that could not be confirmed of flooding in Pascagoula, near the Alabama line, and fires in Bay St. Louis, on the other end of the coast near the Louisiana line. But the Jackson weather bureau said the two towns were hard hit and the town of Waveland, between New Orleans and Gulfport, was completely destroyed.

CAMILLE'S FIRST TOUCH — A lone motorist drives from downtown Mobile, Ala., yesterday as torrential rains sweep the area ahead of Hurricane Camille. The storm ripped Gulf Coast areas with winds over 150 m.p.h. resulting in millions of dollars in damage and killing at least six.

FHA, VA Loans at Stake if Interest Ceiling Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials predict government-backed home mortgages will disappear if Congress allows the interest limit to revert to 6 per cent this fall.

But they are confident lawmakers will act in time to continue suspension of the ceiling and thus save the popular Federal Housing Administration—FHA—and Veterans Administration—VA—loan programs.

"There just won't be any more VA or FHA loans at a 6 per cent interest rate," said John Darvan, director of the VA loan-guarantee program. "No one will write them at that rate."

Statutory limit for the guaranteed loans is 6 per cent. Congress suspended the ceiling until Oct. 1. And it gave the secretary of housing and urban development discretionary authority to set the rate, now at 7 per cent.

MONEY SHORT

The maximum rate will return to 6 per cent Oct. 1 if Congress doesn't act.

Mortgage money is short even at 7 per cent because of the record 8½ per cent charged to prime bank borrowers. Funds are flowing out of mortgages and into higher yield loans.

★ ★ ★

About one-third of the FHA's district offices report money is no longer available in their areas for the government-backed mortgages.

The FHA and VA programs account for about 20 per cent of the mortgages written each year for new and used homes.

SENATE UNIT OK

The Senate Banking and Currency Committee approved legislation last week that would extend the ceiling suspension for another six months. The Senate is not expected to begin considering the bill until late September.

The House Banking and Currency Committee has yet to act on the suspension.

★ ★ ★

But Capitol Hill sources say stop-gap legislation of some sort will certainly be approved before Oct. 1 because the loan programs are so popular.

False Calls, Violence Plague City Firemen

By THOMAS TERP

False alarms and harassment of fire fighters have become major problems in Pontiac, according to Fire Chief Charles D. Marion.

In at least one area of the city, fire fighters will not respond to fire alarms without police escorts.

★ ★ ★

Chief Marion said today he requested the escorts because firemen have been the victims of dangerous harassment all summer.

He cited the Lakeside Homes area near Crystal Lake as the city's worst spot for harassment and said fire calls there will not be answered without police protection. The policy went into effect in late July.

'ROCKS, BRICKS THROWN'

"The people there have thrown rocks, bricks and pop bottles at the men. It became so bad that I no longer felt I could ask fire fighters to go in there without police protection," the chief said.

In that area alone, Marion said 16 false alarms have been made since mid-June.

★ ★ ★

"On several occasions, we rushed to the Crystal Lake area on false alarms and people were waiting there with rocks and bricks as if they had planned the assault," Marion said.

He also complained of persons in the area gathering in the roadway and not letting fire trucks escape the brick barrage once they answered the false alarm.

'HARD TO BELIEVE'

"It's hard to believe this is happening," Marion exclaimed.

"The people hurt nobody but themselves when things like this happen."

When responding to calls in the Lakeside area, fire trucks have been ordered to stop two blocks short of the area to wait for the police escorts.

"Fortunately, the police have been very cooperative. The fire trucks never have had to wait long for the police escorts.

'PERSON COULD DIE'

"But even during a four- or five-minute wait, a person could burn to death or a baby could suffocate," he suggested.

CHIEF CHARLES D. MARION

'FAA Misleads on Air Safety'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A study sponsored by a group of Republican congressmen charges that the Federal Aviation Administration uses misleading and irrelevant statistics to paint a rosy picture of air travel safety.

The report concludes that civilian aviation too often sacrifices safety to convenience, and says that the FAA has failed to take advantage of the broad legal powers delegated to it.

★ ★ ★

And the report questions the effectiveness of the National Transportation Safety Board—NTSB—in investigating air crashes and recommends abolishing the Civil Aeronautics board—CAB.

"The accident rate statistics produced by the FAA are misleading and imply that a growth of safety has occurred, which is a dubious conclusion," states the 81-page report by Reps. James Harvey of Michigan, Frank Horton of New York, Robert T. Stafford of Vermont and J. William Stanton of Ohio. Twenty-five other Republicans are co-sponsored.

FATALITY INCREASE SEEN

Although air travel is a relatively safe mode of transportation, the report said, "because of the increased volume of air traffic, the increased number of passengers which an aircraft can carry, and the increasing complexity of mechanisms for general aviation, the air accident fatalities will probably increase in the future."

The report calls for massive federal aid in money, research and leadership to overcome what it calls serious shortcomings in the air traffic control system and grossly inadequate airport facilities and safety practices.

★ ★ ★

The report, involving a year of research by staffs of the congressmen, was inserted in the Congressional Record Aug. 1. The sponsors say they will introduce legislation to implement the recommendations.

Among its findings, the report charges the FAA with laxity in its responsibility to regulate airline schedules, airport certification standards, airport development plans and the growth and direction of civilian aviation.

Longest Survivor of New Heart Dies

From Our News Wires

CAPE TOWN, South Africa — Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard confirmed today that Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest-surviving heart graft patient, died because his heart failed under the onslaught of rejection.

Barnard told a news conference at Cape Town University School of Medicine the day after his famous patient died that results of an autopsy performed within hours of the 60-year-old retired dentists's death were not yet known, but final analysis would show that the cause of his death was rejection.

★ ★ ★

In Blaiberg's case, his cardiac team allowed the rejection process for 563 days.

The death certificate said Blaiberg died of heart failure brought on by failure of his kidneys and pneumonia.

Dr. Barnard, the pioneer transplant surgeon gave Blaiberg his new heart 19½ months ago on Jan. 2, 1968.

Massive doses of drugs and anti-lymphocite globulin which had always staved off the body's natural rejection of foreign tissue had faltered at last. With the heart starting to work abnormally, Blaiberg's kidneys and liver also failed, medical sources said.

Blaiberg is survived by his wife, Eileen, and a 21-year-old daughter, Jill. Mrs. Blaiberg said her husband was not in pain at the time of his death.

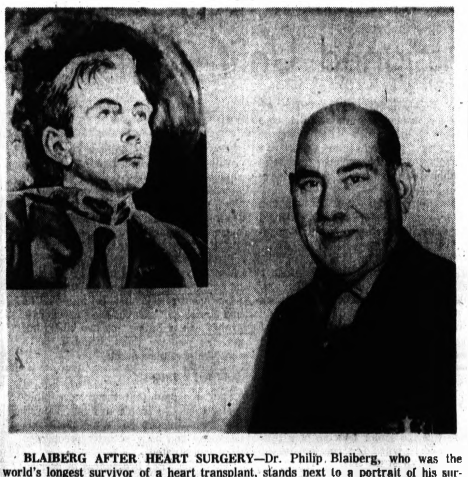

★ ★ ★

"But he was suffering," she told newsmen. "He was feeling very uncomfortable. Yesterday he hardly ate anything and I left the hospital about 7 o'clock to go and make him some cold chicken consomme. I was just home when the hospital phoned me and told me that he had died. I could not believe it."

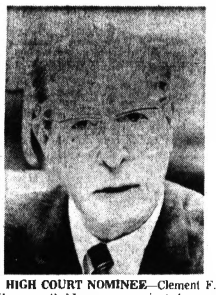

"He went suddenly. He just asked for a glass of water and died as he took it."

Blaiberg's funeral was to take place at a Cape Town crematorium late today with a rabbi of the Jewish Reform congregation conducting the service.

Mrs. Blaiberg wept as she told newsmen her husband's last words to her, less than an hour before he died, were: "Eileen, I am dying, I know I am going."

BLAIBERG AFTER HEART SURGERY—Dr. Philip Blaiberg, who was the world's longest survivor of a heart transplant, stands next to a portrait of his surgeon, Dr. Christiaan Barnard, in May 1968. Blaiberg died yesterday after living 19½ months with the heart of a millhand. Dr. Barnard was suffering from influenza and couldn't be with Blaiberg at his death.

HIGH COURT NOMINEE—Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. was nominated as a new associate justice for the Supreme Court today by President Nixon. Haynsworth, 56, chief judge of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeal in Richmond, Va., will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Abe Fortas last May if the Senate confirms his appointment.

Thundershowers Possible Tonight

Clouds gathering over the Pontiac area today may bring thundershowers this afternoon or tonight.

Temperatures reaching near 90 this afternoon will dip to 65 to 68 tonight.

Tomorrow and Wednesday will be mostly cloudy with a chance of showers, with high temperatures ranging from 79 to 83.

Low temperature before 8 a.m. today was 68. By 12:30 it was 87.

Crashes Kill 3 From the Area

Three traffic accidents — two in Oakland County and one in Manistee County — claimed the lives of three area residents over the weekend.

Waterford Township police are continuing their investigation into a one-car accident which killed a township teen-ager and injured another boy Saturday.

David Strong, 19, of 3117 Fernbarry, died in Pontiac General Hospital about 4½ hours after the crash on Scott Lake Road near Chevrolet at 12:15 p.m., according to township police.

They said Strong was a passenger in a car which ran off the road at a high rate of speed, rolled over and crashed into a tree.

DIDN'T REMEMBER

Driver of the car, Charles P. Lundgren, 19, of 270 S. Tilden, Pontiac, told police he didn't remember how the mishap happened. He's in fair condition with head injuries at Pontiac General Hospital.

In a Saturday night head-on collision in Avon Township, a Troy man died and two Livonia residents were hospitalized.

Dead is William B. Compton, 24, of 1199 Wattles, Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Compton's auto collided with an auto driven by Ronald A. Waling of Livonia.

N. Korea Downs Helicopter; Fate of 3 Yanks Unknown

SEOUL (AP) — The pilot of a U.S. Army helicopter shot down by the North Koreans yesterday probably lost his way and strayed over the border, a U.N. Command spokesman reported. North Korea gave no indication of the fate of the three men aboard the craft.

The spokesman said the pilot radioed about an hour after he took off on a training flight that "he had become disoriented, he was being fired upon, was hit and was going down over unknown territory."

"There was strong evidence," the spokesman added, that the unarmed OH23 helicopter was hit by North Korean ground fire.

Radio Pyongyang said North Korean forces downed the aircraft at Kumchon, about 15 miles north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea and about 50 miles northwest of Seoul.

'ANOTHER PROVOCATION'

The broadcast called the incident another "provocation by U.S. imperialists in violation of the Korean armistice agreement."

The Army said those aboard the plane were Capt. David H. Crawford of Pooler, Ga.; WO Malcolm W. Loepke, the pilot, of Richmond, Ind., and Spec. 4 Herman H. Hofstatter of Lowpoint, Ill.

★ ★ ★

The U.N. Command said U.S. Marine Maj. Gen. Arthur H. Adams, senior member of the command on the Armistice Commission, had asked the North Koreans for assistance "in returning the helicopter and personnel."

Apollo 11 Last for Me—Collins

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 11 astronaut Michael Collins, the man who orbited the moon while his crewmates made history, says he is hanging up his spacesuit and will take a nonflying job in the space program if it's offered to him.

Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., another of the Apollo 11 crew and the second man to walk the moon, also casts doubt on his specific future plans.

★ ★ ★

The third crewman, Apollo 11 commander Neil A. Armstrong, says he would serve the space program "in any capacity," including space flight.

"Apollo 11 is my last flight," Collins said Sunday during a televised interview on the CBS program "Face The Nation."

"I think it's difficult to keep up year after year, to really approach the training, the living in simulators, with the zeal that you have to have in order to do a good job," Collins said. "Of course there are a lot of encroachments on my family life which I have not enjoyed."

ANOTHER JOB

Collins said he intends to contribute whatever he can to the space program in another job, but the 38-year-old Air Force colonel said he didn't know what that would be.

Aldrin said he expects to continue in the program, but has not decided about going back into space.

"Whether I'll remain on flight status or not, I haven't had the opportunity to make that decision yet and we have not been in a rush in making up our mind as to what we'd like to do," he said.

"I'm available in any capacity in which I could serve best," Armstrong said. He also indicated he would like to make a long space journey, such as to Mars.

Armstrong said he and Aldrin were determined to land on the moon despite alarms given out by their on-board computer during the final seconds of flight to the lunar surface, but they were ready to give it up if necessary.

CONCERNED FOR SUCCESS

"We were concerned primarily for the success of the flight," he said. "We did not want to come back without landing, but we were certainly willing to do that and that would certainly be much better than not to come back at all."

The Apollo 11 commander said he could not clear up a grammatical question about what his first words were as he set foot on the moon.

Listeners on the ground hear him say, "That's one small step for man." Armstrong said later he thought he said "a man."

Public Showings of Moon Rocks Still a While Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans who paid the freight will have to wait a while longer to get a personal glimpse of the moon rocks brought back by the Apollo 11 astronauts.

While the three U.S. space heroes are being mobbed from coast to coast, the 60-plus pounds of rocks and dust they brought back are being pampered by the delicate gloved hands and sterile instruments of National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists in Houston's Lunar Receiving Laboratory.

★ ★ ★

Officials still aren't saying when the rocks might be offered for public display.

But after NASA scientists finish their studies, there are 142 other scientists from around the world who also will run tests on the samples.

SOMETIME NEXT MONTH

Present plans call for releasing about 15 per cent of the material to the scientists sometime next month.

Public displays will come after the scientists are through.

★ ★ ★

Exhibits may be offered in large U.S. museums and there could be traveling displays. One problem still to be worked out is whether the samples will need to be kept hermetically sealed to prevent atmospheric damage.

Among those waiting for the scientists to finish are foreign leaders who have been promised moon souvenirs by President Nixon.

Some congressmen have indicated they may try to block such gifts on grounds the rocks belong to U.S. taxpayers.

Traffic Mishaps Claim Lives of 3 From Area

Witnesses told deputies Compton lost control of his car at a high rate of speed while driving north on South Rochester Road near Nawakwa Street about 10 p.m.

IN FAIR CONDITION

Waling and his wife, Mary, were listed this morning in fair condition at Crittenton Hospital.

Manistee County sheriff's deputies said a Troy teen-ager was killed when his motorcycle collided with a car in Onekama Township at 3 p.m. yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Ralp Clark, 16, of 636 Vanderpool allegedly drove the cycle through a stop sign on County Road at M22 and was struck by a car driven by an Illinois man, deputies said. There was no other serious injuries.

UAW to Decide Specific AMC Demands Today

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — The American Motors Council of the United Auto Workers Union decides today what the union specifically will demand from the smallest of the top four U. S. auto makers in a new round of contract bargaining beginning tomorrow.

Contracts with the Big Three —General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — do not run out until Sept. 14, 1970, and UAW President Walter P. Reuther has said talks here will have "nothing to do" with demands he'll lay before the giants next summer.

★ ★ ★

Reuther was absent today as representatives from AMC plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., and Brampton, Ont., gathered to finalize their demands and map strategy for gaining them.

UAW Vice President Pat Greathouse was delegated to head the union's bargaining team that includes representatives from the three AMC locals with approximately 10,000 members.

SITE 'MAKES SENSE'

Racine is midway between AMC's Kenosha assembly plant and Milwaukee body plant, and bargaining was brought here on Greathouse's insistence that "it makes sense" to bargain where the workers are.

All previous bargaining sessions have been in Detroit, where AMC has headquarters but no plants.

★ ★ ★

Both national and at-the-plant working agreements are worked out simultaneously in UAW-AMC negotiations. These are separated in Big Three negotiations, with at-the-plant pacts worked out in plant-site bargaining.

American Motors, then in a financial bind, gained a two-year contract in 1967, while Reuther won a customary three-year pact from the Big Three. AMC also won concessions in wages and fringe benefits gained from the others. One was a five-cent hourly wage differential; another lower pensions.

TO 'RESIST' CATCH-UP

This time, the UAW has announced it will press AMC "to catch up." AMC Chairman Roy D. Chapin Jr., says his company will "resist" catch-up.

"We are not going to pioneer anything. We are just going to try to catch up," said Ralph Daum, president of Kenosha Local 72, with respect to wages and fringes.

Neither Daum nor Greathouse has said whether a strike would be called to get pacts equalling those going into effect for the third year at the Big Three.

Hunt for LA Killers Centers in Canada

LOS ANGELES AP) — The search for a solution to the bizarre killings of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons centered today in Canada.

Police in Vancouver said they had been asked to watch for four young persons wanted by Los Angeles police for questioning. They said the Royal Canadian Mounted Police reported the men might be headed toward Edmonton, Alta.

Los Angeles police would not comment on the report and Canadian authorities did not elaborate on it.

Meanwhile, two University of Southern California faculty experts on criminal mentality suggested that whoever committed the five slayings Aug. 9 might have created a ritualistic scene to mislead police.

FLAG DRAPED

An American flag was draped over the back of a sofa in the $200,000 house in Bel Air rented by Miss Tate and her movie director husband, Roman Polanski.

White nylon cord hung over a ceiling beam joined Miss Tate and another victim Jay Sebring. His head was hidden by a black hood. "Pig" was written in blood on the door.

★ ★ ★

The victims had been stabbed and shot.

"I think it should be pointed out that this could be the work of a very cunning person," said one of the university experts.

"The killer was a little too methodical."

NAMES KEPT SECRET

The faculty members, interviewed separately, asked that their names not be disclosed. One is a phychologist, one a psychiatrist.

The killer, said one of the experts, "might have used the hood and ropes and inflicted the multiple wounds to throw police off."

★ ★ ★

Killed with honey-blonde Miss Tate, 26, were Sebring, 26, a hairdresser, who was her former boyfriend; Voityck Frokowsky, 37, a Polish writer; Abigail Folger, 26, a San Francisco socialite; and Steven Parent, 18, a friend of the estate caretaker.

"The fact that Miss Tate and Sebring were tied together with rope indicates the killer was at least aware of their former relationship," the psychiatrist said.

The experts agreed that whoever killed the five was probably a young man with a strong need to express power over others, perhaps acting from motives of jealousy and revenge.

Israeli Deaths Toll Success of Arab Terrorists

TEL AVIVI (AP) — Arab saboteurs and guerrillas have accounted for almost a third of Israeli's army fatalities since the 1967 war, army sources said here today.

In the period up to Aug. 9, 349 Israeli soldiers have been killed, including 110 by "the actions of terrorists" the informant said. Of 1,248 Israeli soldiers injured in action, one-third were wounded by Arab irregulars, they added.

★ ★ ★

The figures indicate the Arab irregulars who infiltrate Israeli-held territory from Jordan, Lebanon or Syria and others who strike in the refugee-packed Gaza Strip are having greater success than generally believed.

On the civilian side, 38 to 56 were killed by sabotage acts since the six-day war. And four-fifths of the 501 civilians wounded were victims of saboteurs.

DAILY INCIDENTS

The army sources said there has been no significant recent increase in the number of Arab sabotage attacks, but each day brings fresh reports of Israeli trucks being blown up by mines, hand grenades thrown at troops or irregulars firing rockets or mortars at Israeli settlements.

Israel is currently being taken to task at the United Nations for an air attack on Lebanon last week in which the Lebanese claim four villagers were killed. The Israelis say they were hitting back at Arab guerrilla camps which are responsible for dozens of recent sabotage acts on Israel's northern frontier.

★ ★ ★

The Israelis have recently stepped up their actions against the Arab saboteurs.

Apart from the raid on Lebanon, Israeli jets struck and damaged Jordan's important Ghor irrigation canal as a warning to the Jordanians to clamp down on guerrilla activities from their territory.

METHODS OF OPERATION

Guerrilla fighters move across the Jordan Valley under cover of darkness and ambush early morning Israeli army patrols with fire from their Russian-made rifles, Czech-made rockets or bazookas.

AF Major Is Suspended; 'Assigned Unfit Guards'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Air Force has suspended a major on charges he allowed three men with dangerous psychiatric problems to guard a supersecret nuclear weapons stockpile at Hamilton Air Force Base, 25 miles north of San Francisco.

Base Commander Col. Michael Stublarec said yesterday Maj. Donald Tidwell has been relieved of duties pending investigation.

The case came to light during the weekend in the record of a preliminary hearing for Sgt. Robert V. Ballou, 22, Corvallis, Ore., accused of going berserk with a loaded carbine at the base.

Civilian attorney Robert D. Carrow of Novato said Ballou, his client, had pleaded not to be assigned to a job involving explosives and weapons for fear he might hurt somebody.

SENIOR MAN

But on several occasions, Carrow said, Ballou was the senior noncom of a two-man guard unit for nuclear-tipped missiles stored at the base.

"That means he could have sent the other fellow for a cup of coffee and been alone with the missiles," Carrow said. "It scares the hell out of me. It's like "Dr. Strangelove."

★ ★ ★

However, M. Sgt. William M. Leopold testified at the hearing that he was supervisor of the nuclear weapons arsenal and that accidental detonation of the weapons is impossible. The testimony was the first public disclosure nuclear weapons are stocked at the base.

Tidwell, 37, had testified that accidental explosion was possible, although he conceded he is a security officer and not a nuclear specialist. He also said he had received unfavorable psychiatric evaluations of Ballou and two others but did not relieve them because of a shortage of replacements.

SECURITY PROBE

Stublarec said that there were other replacements available and that Tidwell had been suspended while both his testimony and base security procedures were investigated.

One of the other two guards mentioned at the Friday hearings is now in a psychiatric ward and the other has been discharged.

City Firemen Are Harassed

Another danger also exists — a real fire alarm could be made while two or three trucks are responding to a false alarm, and the problem could easily endanger all areas of the city.

★ ★ ★

"If an actual fire broke out in a case like that, valuable time would be lost relocating the trucks," Marion observed.

He said the police escort has cut back harassment significantly, but false alarms still pour into the station. In the past four days, two false alarms were made, according to the fire log at the city's main station.

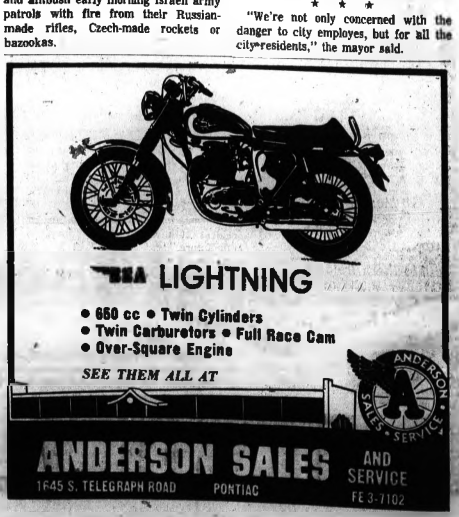

★ ★ ★

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. pointed out that a recent step by the City Commission may halt the problem. He referred to the approval two weeks ago of a resolution establishing an award system to combat this sort of harassment.

Mayor Taylor will soon name three persons to an award committee which will have the power to give up to $1,000 for information leading to arrests and conviction for this type of crime (assault on city workers).

"We're not only concerned with the danger to city employes, but for all the city residents," the mayor said.

Dem-Reform Plan May Hit All States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern says an analysis by his Democratic party reform commission shows every state may have to revise delegate selection procedures before the 1972 nominating convention.

"It now appears there may not be a single state that won't have to make changes," McGovern said in an interview.

The degree of change to be required will depend on guidelines to be adopted by the commission, probably later this year.

The resolution of the 1968 convention which established the commission set two broad criteria for delegate selection: that the unit rule be abolished at all levels of the process and that delegates be selected within the calendar year of the convention through processes open to all.

MIXED SYSTEM

The commission is expected to recommend that the present mixed system of primaries, state conventions and precinct caucuses be maintained, and that states retain maximum freedom within general guidelines.

In some states where one man or a small group of men have had the power to pick all of the state's delegates changes are certain if the directive are followed.

* * *

But the commission has yet to come to grips with situations such as California and Massachusetts, whose winner-take-all primaries are viewed by some as a violation of the prohibition on the unit rule.

In between these are many other states where some or all of the delegates are selected in ways likely to require changes.

CHANGES IN LAW

Commission sources said it appears that less than a dozen states will require changes in laws to comply. In such states there will be a further complication since it would mean in many cases that Republican support would be needed to push changes through legislatures.

In other states, they said, the changes could probably be accomplished through revision of party by-laws.

The most pressing problems are in states where delegate selection procedures are scheduled to start in the 1970 elections. A number of these are in the states where laws would have to be changed to meet expected commission standards.

* * *

The commission's staff, aided by a group of summer interns, hopes to complete its detailed analysis of the processes in each state by an Aug. 28 meeting of the executive committee here.

* * *

At that time a decision is likely on when to call the full commission into session to set procedures for drafting its recommendations. A likely meeting time is in conjunction with the Sept. 17 meeting of the Democratic National Committee here.

* * *

McGovern said he is confident that earlier strains between the commission, dominated by party reformers, and regular party segments have eased. "This is simply not true today," said the South Dakota senator when asked about this problem.

China is thought to be the native home of the apricot.

CENTENNIAL FAMILY — The Jim Fifield family, 1150 S. Livernois, Avon Township, exemplifies what the well-dressed Rochester Centennial celebrants will wear to official festivities Sept. 9-14. The children are Jimmie 6 and Jayne 8.

'Cast of Hundreds'

Centennial March in Rochester

ROCHESTER—The centennial promenade Friday night was led by a beardless Mayor Roy Rewold and his wife, followed by a "cast of hundreds."

The turn-of-the-century costumed "cast" paraded through Rochester in prelude to the Sept. 9-14 centennial celebration.

* * *

Jailed were the men who failed to appear bearded, moustached or sideburned. The centennial "Keystone Kops" provided the "law and order."

Mayor Rewold, who arrived initially with a week's growth of beard, complained of facial itch. Barber Wiley Poindexter shaved off the mayor's hairy discontent.

* * *

Main attraction — at least the most attractive attraction — of the promenade activities was the kissing booth. For a nominal fee, men could choose between a redhead, blonde or brunette. All for a good cause, of course.

The official centennial week of Sept. 9-14 will feature a daily theme, fireworks, a pageant produced by local thespians, special centennial displays and activities. Centennial headquarters is located on Main Street north of University.

KISS COSTS — Phil Aemisegger of 214 Second, Rochester, donates to the centennial's good cause. Here he takes part in the kissing booth activity, with brunette Renee Ransome of 810 E. Avon, Avond Township.

That's Utica Administrator's Feeling —

Teacher Strikes Don't Pay?

UTICA — A Utica Community Schools administrator believes that a study he has made proves that teacher strikes do not pay off in higher salaries and economic benefits — at least in the Detroit metropolitan area.

The data compiled by Frank Pichel, assistant superintendent of schools for business affairs in the Utica district, reveals that striking teachers have actually lost economic advantages as compared to nonstriking teachers.

* * *

Pichel's findings were gathered in conjunction with his research on a doctoral dissertation concerning the "Financial Effects of Teachers Strikes in Selected Michigan Districts."

Pichel said his study clearly indicated there are no significant differences today in teacher salaries, increments or other benefits between 86 struck and nonstruck schools in the metropolitan Detroit area.

'LOSS OF SUPPORT'

He added that struck school districts have subsequently suffered a loss of public support of bond and millage issues and have encountered a higher level of borrowing than nonstruck districts.

The administrator admitted, however, that the substantial salary increases accorded teachers in Michigan since 1965 can be directly attributed to the advent of collective bargaining for teachers, reinforced by the possibility of strikes.

'NO SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCES'

The data revealed no significant differences between struck and nonstruck school districts in teacher benefits on the basis of frequency and length of teachers' strikes.

* * *

Pichel added that his data agreed with opinions of school business officials that teachers do not have to engage in a teachers' strike to derive economic benefit from strikes.

* * *

Administrators also noted that teachers' strikes in surrounding school districts had an unfavorable economic effect upon their schools. They viewed threatened teachers' strikes as economically detrimental in struck districts, but of little influence in nonstruck school districts.

Data from the questionnaire Pichel sent out to the 86 districts indicated that school business officials equated the effectiveness of the collective bargaining process with the utilization of teachers' strikes.

The administrators viewed any elimination of teachers' strikes as being detrimental to teachers, but economically beneficial to their districts.

Pichel received his doctoral degree in school business management Sunday from the School of Education at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

He is chairman of the Labor Relations Committee of the Michigan Association of School Business Officials and a member of the Shelby Township Building Authority.

Pichel has been affiliated with the Utica School District for the past four years. He was previously business manager of the Crestwood District in Dearborn Heights.

Bloomfield Township Firm Formed by Five Architects

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Five former principals and associates of the Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., who left that firm following a change of ownership in July, have formed a new firm.

* * *

The Sherman firm recently was awarded a contract for planning all future additions to Pontiac Northern High School and to design and implement a current addition, costing more than $2 million.

Sherman Associates also has been chosen by the Birmingham Board of Education to design and develop the educational specifications and to supervise construction of an addition to Seaholm High School, at $1.9 million.

COMBINED EXPERIENCE

The five architects in the Sherman firm have a combined total of 88 years in the profession. All are members of the American Institute of Architects.

Sherman of 6125 Idlewyle, Bloomfield Township, was affiliated with O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach for 17 years beginning as field supervisor. He was named executive vice president in 1968.

* *

Markiewicz, a registered architect in both Poland and the United States was graduated with a masters degree in architecture from the Warsaw School of Architecture in 1949. He has designed hotels, office buildings, housing and schools in the Detroit area.

Osgood holds a master's in architecture from Cranbrook Academy of Art. Among his projects are the Performing Arts Building and Engineering Building at Oakland University.

Semancik holds a BA in architecture from Lawrence Tech in Southfield. At O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach he served as a project coordinator project estimator and field supervisor.

* * *

Tucker graduated from Ohio State University and was director of coordination for O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach.

Sherman said his firm has the capability for handling a wide range of architectural projects, with the exception of single-family houses.

Farmers in Lapeer County Feeling Effects of Weather

Heavy rains may have dampened the spirits of farmers in Oakland County, but the unusual severity of early summer storms dampened more than that among Lapeer County farmers.

According to the Oakland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office (ASCS), damage to corn and wheat has been minimal, considering the intensity of rainfall this summer.

* * *

But according to Robert Link, director of the ASCS office in Lapeer County, crop damage has hurt many farmers there financially.

* * *

"Some farmers have gotten along pretty well, but others not so well," said Link. "The corn crops have been fairly successful, although the heavy rainfalls postponed planting in some fields, resulting in damage."

'POSSIBLE HAZARD'

Link stressed the possible hazard of an early frost, but pointed out that "those farmers who use corn for silage are in real good shape, because that gives them an alternative.

"It's a different story with small grain and wheat crops," he continued. "The combination of rain, humidity and warm weather has caused extensive damage to fields and raised such problems as sprouting and an excess of moisture in the crops."

400,000 End Rock Festival Peacefully

WHITE LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — The great rock festival ended today in the same spirit of peace and sharing that enabled 400,000 young people to gather for three days of music, marijuana and mod living without a major incident.

"There has been no violence whatsoever, which is remarkable for a crowd of this size," said Dr. William Abruziz, the festival's chief medical officer. "These people are really beautiful."

* * *

As the great exodus of tired, thirsty, hungry youths began Sunday, security officials reported three deaths and close to 5,000 persons treated for injuries, illness or adverse drug reactions during the three-day span.

A late afternoon thunderstorm speeded departures. But thousands of determined fans remained and huddled around flickering campfires through the chill night to hear the final concert.

SPIRITS HIGH

Despite the rain that turned the farm fields of the festival site into seas of mud again, despite the shortages of water and food and the lack of sanitary facilities, the spirits of the audience remained high at the end.

Everything from drugs, to rides to sandwiches donated by local residents and merchants was being shared. Volunteer doctors and nurses were treating the sick in hurriedly set-up clinics to keep the hospitals free for emergencies.

* * *

"Today," said Michael Lang, 24, one of the festival organizers, "is a time to think about what happened here—the youth culture came out of the alleys and streets. This generation was brought together and showed it was beautiful. "The peace they were screaming about is what they really want—they're living it. They value each other more than material things," said Lang, who had anticipated an attendance of only about 50,000 each day.

The extraordinary response created traffic jams, health problems and material shortages beyond anyone's expectation.

GIVES AWAY FOOD

One man who worked to alleviate the problems was Max Yasgur, the dairy farmer who rented his 600-acre spread to the festival for a reported $50,000. He sold or gave away quantities of milk, butter and cheese.

He also put up a big sign saying "Free Water" on his barn after he heard that some residents were selling water to the youths. "How can anyone ask money for water?" he asked angrily of his friends.

* * *

"I never expected this festival to be this big," he told an acquaintance "But if the generation gap is to be closed, we older people have to do more than we have done."

And there was some evidence of understanding and appreciation between the old and young.

"Notwithstanding their personality, their dress and their ideas, they were and they are the most courteous, considerate and well-behaved group of kids I have ever been in contact with in my 24 years of police work," said Lou Yank, head of the constabulary in nearby Monticello.

* * *

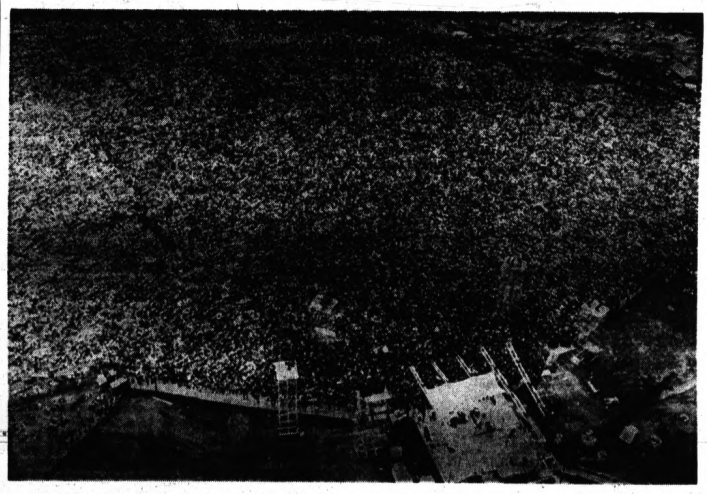

One of the dead youths was the apparent victim of an overdose of heroin. The other fatalities were a youth run over by a tractor and another with a burst appendix.

None of the dead was identified.

ROCK, BUT NO ROLL — Traffic does anything but roll freely at this country intersection near White Lake, N.Y., as an estimated 400,000 rock music fans clogged the lower Catskills resort region with autos and humanity. Many, determined to reach the site of the Woodstock Music and Art Fair, jammed roads which many others were trying to use to escape the crush.

THRONG AT FESTIVAL — Thousands of rock-music fans are packed around the stage in a field at White Lake, N.Y., Saturday. A throng estimated at 400,000 persons converged on the area creating a gigantic jam of traffic and humanity over many miles. Land transportation was impossible and an airlift of food and supplies was rushed to the festival.

Derailed Car Threatens Town's Water

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Pa. (AP) — A tank car containing a form of cyanide leaked out 5,000 gallons of the liquid after a train derailment 500 feet from a creek which provides this community of 2,500 with its water supply.

N. J. Rodgers, safety and plant production supervisor for American Cyanimid Corp., which owned the chemical, described it as acrylonitrile, a substance used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber, paper, sweaters and blankets. He said it was "toxic and highly flammable."

* * *

Civil defense workers and other volunteers dug a pit below the railroad embankment after the accident Sunday and the tank car, one of 26 derailed, was lowered down the hill.

It Seems to Me . . .

Nixon, Apollo Triumph Brighten Our World Image

Over the past several years, this country has received a variety of black eyes, most of which we didn't rate or deserve. The jealous and calculating Russians have been behind a number and they side in automatically with any concomitant ideas elsewhere.

Currently, the world is witnessing a very definite swing in the opposite direction. The flaunted phrase: "Yank — Go Home" has been discarded and we've actually been applauded in a wide variety of ways.

It's truly refreshing.

It's something we deserve.

★ ★ ★

There have been two main factors in this about-face. President Nixon's trip around the world was well received in practically every spot he visited. Top officials and people acclaimed him generously and with spontaneous applause.

He earned his keep.

This trip was actually fraught with some danger and there was guarded trepidation expressed privately in several circles. Had the Presidential foot slipped anywhere, the results could have been negative. But Mr. Nixon handled himself and his journey deftly and his skill placed us on the upgrade.

Then, primarily, our Apollo landing on the moon brought vociferous cheers that encircled the globe. A faint word of praise was even wrenched from the dissident Russians who also sought to queer the act—if possible—by sending out a silly moon ship just prior to our epoch-making event. Their sole purpose was to detract from Apollo but dismal failure resulted.

The total effect of our moon soiree was simply breathtaking. All manner of peoples cheered everywhere. This triumph literally did our image a "world of good." It was an outstanding intercontinental episode.

Always the champion begets enemies and critics, simply by occupying the top rung. This is true in baseball, football, politics and all manner of human events. The U.S. has held the enviable spot so long we have unfairly accumulated a host of critics.

Happily this great moon event bolstered by President Nixon's modest but triumphal trip around the world has strengthened our position enormously.

We're looked upon with approval.

We're "accepted" nearly everywhere.

Good Neighbors . . .

Vigorous and spontaneous applause still resounds all over the area for General Motors and Harambee.

In every forward looking concept of any magnitude, this area has always found General Motors conspicuous with quick support and outstanding leadership.

It's an ancient phrase for General Motors originated it many years ago when they declared flatly in every city in which they were located:

"We want to be good neighbors."

Surely they have been.

This Harambee movement is an outstanding civic program which is universally heralded. Currently the need for good homes is paramount and here Harambee and GM offer a united front of consequence. Pontiac has been a fortunate community in many, many ways over an extended period of time because of General Motors.

And we still are.

Questionable Future . . .

As time passes, the Kennedy episode looks even more unfavorable for the young man.

Additional truths are creeping into the open and factual deductions pile up. The whole sordid affair looks worse for his political future. Certainly, the Presidency is out forever.

Who would accept him?

Who wants such a leader?

His future in his own state is problematical in spite of the contrived support that followed his TV appearance. This was obviously a "packed house."

★ ★ ★

Too many damaging declarations have been laid on the line. And there are too many horrid circumstances to overlook. Certainly you can have sympathy for anyone who stumbles as badly as that. But in the end, he must be judged accordingly.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

S. I. Hayakawa continues to get the top round of applause whenever he appears with other prominent officials before a crowd. . . . . Debbie Reynolds and Harry Karl are placing their Beverly Hills home on the market for a mere $750,000. They're going to build one that's big enough for them and their four children. 'Allah Calls!'

David Lawrence Says:

Working in White House Is Hard

WASHINGTON—The "western White House" in San Clemente, Calif., is in the news these days.

It is novel only in a geographical sense, as the "summer White House" idea has been adopted by presidents for more than a half-century.

LAWRENCE

The real reason for a separate abode is that the White House is not a comfortable dwelling for family life.

Also, since the executive offices are right next door, the flow of visitors is continuous, and some of them have letters from persons of influence in their states who find it difficult to refuse to write a letter of introduction for friends.

Then there are the pressures from officialdom. A president's absence at a vacation spot, however, is usually respected.

Only on the most urgent business of a member of Congress or a high official are engagements made.

VAST IMPROVEMENT

Mr. Nixon may find the need for important conferences not much less in California than in Washington. But any vacation home is a vast improvement over life in the White House where the rooms are large and more adapted to ceremonials than to restful seclusion.

A president doesn't cease to be a human being when he takes up residence in the White House, and he wants informality and a lawn outside where he and his wife can walk without intrusion by crowds.

★ ★ ★

Presidents nowadays can stay away more from the White House. Communication facilities are better, and a president can get back by air from California, for instance, in half a day.

The staffs in Washington and at a summer White House are in constant communication either by teletype or telephone. They have machines which can transmit and receive facsimiles of original documents or letters in a matter of minutes.

AN INNOVATION

The tasks of a chief executive have increased considerably, so President Nixon persuaded some of his Cabinet officers to rent homes near the "western White House" in California.

This is an innovation, but, considering the world situation and the need for intimate talks on domestic matters, the idea is a good one.

Although the Congress is in recess for three weeks and the President doesn't have to hold conferences with leaders of either house, he keeps in communication with them by telephone.

Why so much time for "rest"? The truth is a president is busy every day no matter where he is. But at a vacation home he does get a chance to think alone—and he has less opportunity in the White House than at a coast resort where he can stroll along the seashore and meditate.

U.S. Plans to Cut 300,000 From Viet Force by '72

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — This reporter is informed by men in contact with the highest political and military sources in Washington and Saigon that thinking in both administrations is that within three years it should be practical to reduce U.S. forces in Vietnam to between 100,000 and 150,000 men.

CROMLEY

That would mean a reduction of 300,000 to 350,000 from the high point of U.S. involvement.

These estimates take future Communist surprise Tet attempts into account.

Curiously enough, U.S. military men are more cautious than the Vietnamese in these troop withdrawal discussions.

S. VIETS CONFIDENT

The Vietnamese, whose lives are on the line if they're in error, are confident that within three years they can handle the North Vietnamese and Vietcong with no more than 100,000 U.S. air, ground and naval support forces (for communications, transport, artillery, bombing — with strong emphasis on helicopter-units).

According to this thinking, 100,000 U.S. troops might have to remain in Vietnam for years if no agreement is reached with Hanoi.

The Saigon optimism interestingly enough is based on a series of nonmilitary programs which President Thieu's aides feel will break the will of the Vietcong:

- A reorganization and broadening of the Thieu government, giving posts to a wide range of groups not now well-represented. Though details are not yet clear, it is expected that positions of influence will be given to the Cao Dai, Hoa Hao, to some prominent Buddhist sects, to labor union representatives, to some prominent exiled opposition leaders and to leading figures in a number of smaller political parties.
- A food-commodity program at low prices for government officials, including the police, to make it possible for officials and the police to live on their salaries.
- A strong upgrading of the police and the local militia.
- A land-reform program aimed at giving every tenant farmer the right to own the land that he farms.

Voice of the People:

'Another Legal Abuse in Need of Correction'

I read that the national bar association has completed a several-year study on legal ethics aimed at discouraging contingent fees by attorneys and simplifying court procedure in the disposition of the flood of auto accident claims that threaten to engulf our courts.

All well and good. But another legal abuse that cries for correction is the ease with which anyone can sue another on most any grounds—real or fancied. In many cases the plaintiff is put to no expense, since a lawyer can usually be found who will represent him for a percentage of the settlement, if any.

★ ★ ★

But the responsible, often blameless, defendant has no recourse to a comparable "free ride," and must perforce retain and pay for legal counsel to protect him, even though the case is eventually decided in his favor.

★ ★ ★

While everyone is entitled to "his day in court," there should be some form of court screening of the admissibility for trial of the growing number of outlandish and clearly unfounded claims that clutter up our court dockets.

Writer Expresses Opinion on Religion

The irreligious war going on in Ireland demonstrates clearly the failure of men and the Churches to understand the so-called religion of Christianity which they claim to embrace. "Love Thy Neighbor" is an empty slogan. The world would be better off if religion had never been invented.

'Schools Have No Time for Sex Education'

The recent article "School Schedules Changed, Waterford Parents Must Adjust," stated "Elementary pupils will just get a basic education, according to school officials. That includes reading, writing, and arithmetic and little science, social studies or language arts." In view of this, there should be no need to even mention sex education. Since "children will only be going to school for half a day," teachers should concentrate on the first three subjects mentioned and leave sex education to the adults who supervise the children the rest of the day.

Calls Nixon's Welfare Plan 'Ray of Hope'

I believe that President Nixon's effort to do away with the self-perpetuating welfare system should be supported by all citizens. It is the first ray of hope for those whose dependency has become a way of life, just as it is for the taxpayers who should willingly support programs which will assist their less fortunate brothers and sisters to work their way out of the personality-destroying roles of "reliefers."

Question and Answer

How much does it cost to have a name printed in black type in the telephone book?

JUST CURIOUS

REPLY

Only customers with business service can have their names printed in bold face type. The charge for such service in the Pontiac directory is 75 cents a month.

Question and Answer

Once your paper had a little story at the end of another column that told the volts of electricity in lightning. I have a bet with my buddy it was over a million, but I don't know when it was in the paper, so I can't prove my bet. Can you?

AMATEUR ELECTRICIAN

REPLY

It took some doing, but we found the "little story." It was a filler item, and it said lightning generates a force of up to one billion volts and a current up to 200,000 times greater than the amount consumed by a 100-watt bulb. Hope you won big—there were a lot of columns with "little stories" at the end.

The defensive driving course sponsored by the National Safety Council is earning praise from all over.

Military base commanders report that after the course the number of accidents involving off-duty servicemen has dropped by as much as 50 per cent. Employers report dramatic reductions in their average annual cost to repair company vehicles after their drivers take the course. Numerous testimonials indicate that graduates of the eight-hour course are better drivers because of it.

★ ★ ★

If the course is as good as before - and - after statistics make it appear, all drivers could profit from it. Particularly when almost a fourth of American motorists can expect to be involved in an accident each year. The question is, could the goal of universal defensive driver training be attained?

It could, eventually, by incorporating the course into high school driver's education programs, then make driver's education a requirement for graduation just like Eglish or mathematics.

★ ★ ★

Driver's education also should be required of all youths before a state issues a license. Thus high school dropouts would have to take adult education courses to qualify for a license.

On July 1, Ohio became the 22nd state to require youths between the ages of 16 and 18 to have had driver's education if they want to drive. Almost all teen-agers want a license as soon as possible and thus are encouraged to take a high school or commercial driving course.

The basics of road safety can be as important to physical survival as reading, writing, and arithmetic are to economic survival.

★ ★ ★

Because school administrators traditionally are wary of compulsory courses in any field, not all educators agree that driver training should be compulsory. But surely all can agree that the benefits of driver training are obvious, and laws that can encourage the trend toward its acceptance are in the public interest.

N. Irish Crisis Enters Talk Stage as British Troops Keep Peace

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The crisis in Northern Ireland moved into the talking stage today as British troops enforced an uneasy peace.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson flew back to London from an island vacation to formulate proposals he hoped would ease the likelihood of further religious warfare.

The Irish Republic asked the U.N. Security Council to meet and send a peace-keeping force to Northern Ireland. British opposition appeared certain to prevent any such action.

Pope Paul VI appealed for "reciprocal pardon and mutual agreement" between the Catholics and Protestants.

BEHIND BARRICADES

In Belfast and Londonderry, thin lines of British soldiers had kept the peace since Saturday night. But Protestants and Roman Catholics remained behind their barricades, wondering who would make the next move and contemplating the results of five days of destruction and bloodshed.

In one isolated incident Sunday night, armed raiders opened fire on a police station in Crossmaglen, a small market town in County Armagh two miles from the Irish Republic border. Police said they returned the fire, and the raiders fled. No one was hurt.

In London, 100 police fought 1,000 demonstrators outside the Ulster Office in the fashionable Mayfair district. Sixty-five persons were injured in the battle, which followed marches by three Irish organizations. At least two gasoline bombs were thrown during a barrage of stones and milk bottles.

Wilson was formulating his Irish proposals at meetings with Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart, who cut short a holiday in Switzerland, and Home Secretary James Callaghan. Wilson will present his proposals to Prime Minister James Chichester-Clark of Northern Ireland probably Tuesday or Wednesday.

FASTER REFORMS?

Government sources in London predicted that Wilson would insist that the Ulster government speed up reforms to give the Catholics more political representation, better jobs and more housing.

Wilson may also suggest that Ulster's 8,000 special police reserves, a Protestant force whose members keep their weapons at home and are mistrusted by the Catholics, not be used in troubled areas.

Meanwhile, Chichester-Clark lashed out at the Irish Republic's government, asserting that it had "behaved much like those hooligans who have used the present troubles as an excuse to burn their neighbors out." He said Dublin's call-up of army reserves and sending of troops to the border was "tailor-made to inflame opinion on both sides."

Northern Ireland's latest and bloodiest religious rioting began Aug. 12 with a Protestant march through predominantly Catholic Londonderry, Ulster's second largest city.

8 PERSONS KILLED

Since then, eight persons have been killed, according to official figures, and 514 civilians, 226 police and one soldier have been injured. More than 160 persons have been arrested on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to carrying gasoline bombs.

In Belfast, 1,000 British soldiers were on patrol. Damage in the state capital is estimated as high as $5 million.

Streets are littered with paving stones, felled trees and telegraph posts, smashed glass from thousands of gasoline bombs and rubble from collapsed buildings.

Hundreds of families are without homes. Many are being sheltered in five large schools and a teachers' college. Others are staying with friends or relatives or have fled to refugee centers in the republic.

Hundreds are faced with the prospect of lengthy unemployment because their places of work have been destroyed.

In one area alone, seven factories were destroyed or severely damaged by rioters.

* * *

In Londonderry, 300 British troops are patrolling the Catholic Bogside district where it all began last week. The area has been peaceful since Saturday, but the Londonderry Citizens Defense Committee circulated a leaflet which said: "We have made certain demands, and until these demands are met we are still at war."

The demands include abolition of the Protestant government, which is not likely to happen since Protestants outnumber Catholics 8 to 5 in Northern Ireland, and disbandment of the special police reserves.

GI Slaying Suspects Moved Out of Stockade

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Army took the eight Green Berets charged with murder out of close confinement at the Long Binh stockade today and confined them to regular billets at the big headquarters post north of Saigon.

The Army's chief spokesman in Vietnam announced that the seven officers and one enlisted man who are accused of murdering a Vietnamese believed to have been a double agent are no longer under armed guard.

The seven officers are confined to an officers' billet at Long Binh, 15 miles north of Saigon, while the enlisted man, Sgt. Alvin L. Smith Jr. of Naples, Fla., is in an enlisted men's billet "in another area" of Long Binh, the spokesman said.

The eight men, headed by Col. Robert B. Rheault of Vineyard Haven, Mass., former commander of all Green Beret forces in Vietnam, have been at Long Binh since their arrest July 20.

'HELD IN SOLITARY'

The civilian attorney for one of the officers, Maj. Thomas C. Middleton Jr. of Jefferson, S.C., charged last week that Middleton was being held in solitary confinement in a cell only 5 feet by 7 feet and without proper ventilation.

The attorney, George Gregory of Cheraw, S.C., filed a petition last week for Middleton's release, but this was denied. On Sunday he petitioned the Army for a speedy trial or dismissal of the charges against his client and renewed his charge that Middleton was confined under "inhumane conditions."

* * *

The Army began an investigation July 30 similar to a grand jury hearing to determine whether the Green Beret men would be brought to trial. The investigation was recessed Aug. 2 and is to resume Wednesday.

"Isolation of the prisoners, which was necessary during one phase of the investigation, no longer is required," the Army said in a statement today.

The statement added that the Army could not predict how much longer the investigation would last.

NEW SLAYING VERSION

Meanwhile, another version of the killing was aired today by a source with contacts among intelligence officers in Saigon. He said the slaying of the Vietnamese double agent was done without any authorization from the Central Intelligence Agency.

Gregory had charged last week that the CIA ordered the killing, and other sources said the CIA withdrew the order about a week after issuing it. But these sources were not clear as to whether the man had already been killed then.

* * *

This was the version of the killing told today:

The Green Beret command began to suspect one of its Vietnamese agents used on clandestine liaison missions in Cambodia and asked the CIA for advice.

LOW-RANKING MAN

The agent was a relatively low-ranking man, and the CIA advised the Green Beret command in Nha Trang that it should "dispense" with him if he was under suspicion. The CIA itself was unable to determine whether the man was a double agent.

There was never any consideration among the CIA directors in Saigon that the man should be killed. There may, however, have been some misunderstanding in the relay of information between Saigon and Nha Trang. But at some unspecified date, some officials in Saigon contacted Nha Trang with specific orders that the man should not be killed.

* * *

The Green Beret command replied that it was too late, that the mission was already in progress. The command had set up an operation during which the suspected double agent was to be shot.

The Army has announced that the killing took place on or about June 20. A month later, Col. Robert B. Rheault of Vineyard Haven, Mass., the commander of all Special Forces in Vietnam, was relieved of his command and placed under arrest along with seven of his subordinates. Two weeks later, the Army announced their arrest and said they had been charged with murder and conspiracy. It added that an investigation was under way to determine whether they would be brought to trial. Since then the Army has refused to give any details of the case, and the U.S. Embassy in Saigon has maintained a hands-off policy.

CBS VERSION

The Columbia Broadcasting System had still another version of the murder story Sunday night. In a telecast from Saigon, CBS said it learned from a top source that the murdered man was a "triple agent"—a captain in the South Vietnamese army, a spy for the CIA and an agent for the North Vietnamese Communists.

According to the CBS report: The agent gave the North Vietnamese only incidental information while supplying top-secret matter to the CIA. A lower echelon man in the CIA heard that the captain was spying for the North Vietnamese and, not knowing that he was also a spy for the CIA, ordered the Green Berets to kill him. By the time higher ranking CIA men found out about the execution order, the man was dead. The "infuriated" CIA men went to Gen. Creighton Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, and Abrams ordered the Green Berets arrested in an attempt to improve "already shaky relations" between the CIA and the Army.

But Most Under Strength

Enemy Regiments Up

SAIGON (AP) — A top-ranking American commander said today that more enemy regiments are in position between Saigon and the Cambodian border to the north than at any time since May 1968.

Lt. Gen. Julian J. Ewell, commander of the U.S. 2nd Field Force, added that many of the units are "first-line regiments traditionally kept up to strength" but are now operating under strength.

"I can't figure out the meaning," Ewell said in an interview. "It's the first sign we've seen of elite troops being put into battle in less than a real good solid strength figure."

The general, whose command stretches from Saigon to the Cambodian border, said parts of at least five enemy regiments have been committed north of Saigon, and at least seven fresh regiments are hidden in the jungles and available for future attacks. Total enemy strength in the 11 provinces around Saigon where the 2nd Field Force operates is estimated at 65,000 troops.

MAJOR EFFORT?

Asked if the large number of under-strength units had some political significance, Ewell said: "I think you could read into it whatever you wanted. From my point of view, it's quite clear that they're making a major effort to achieve military success. That's what they say they're trying to do."

Ewell said the enemy's current campaign, launched last Tuesday with attacks on 150 bases and towns, "has not really given us any trouble."

* * *

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces claim they have killed more than 3,000 Vietcong and North Vietnamese troops in the 2nd Field Force area in the past three weeks, and enemy action has dropped off more than 60 per cent since the start of the new campaign.

Ewell said, however, that the enemy apparently is trying to draw the campaign out over a longer period than others this year.

ACTION DROPPED

There were 91 enemy-initiated incidents reported in the 11 provinces around Saigon at the start of the campaign. The figure has since dropped sharply but remains higher than during the two-month battlefield lull broken by the wave of attacks last week.

The U.S. Command reported today that American helicopter gunships and river patrol boats killed 35 enemy troops in two clashes 18 miles northwest of Saigon during the night.

Armed reconnaissance helicopters with special night-sighting devices detected one group of enemy soldiers on the move and illuminated the area with searchlights. U.S. headquarters said gunship helicopters attacked about 50 to 70 enemy soldiers with machine guns and rockets, and 27 were reported killed.

1,500 Attend Grads' Reunion at Closed School

BISON, Kan. (AP) — This Rush County town of 303 population was host Sunday to an estimated 1,500 persons from 40 states for a high school reunion.

Bison High School, which opened in 1909, closed last May as a result of a district unification plan, so a local group decided to invite all the old grads for a reunion.

In its 57 years, the school graduated 766 persons, and 380 of them came back for the meeting. Their number was swelled by wives, husbands and children, and former teachers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hardy, a member of the first graduating class, has a grandson, Don Reinhardt, 18, who graduated this year with the last class. Both live in Bison.

Mao Adhering to 1949 Policy

U.S.-China Ties Still Remote

HONG KONG (UPI) — Twenty years ago Mao Tse Tung wrote the first of a series of five commentaries on Sino-American relations.

In the series, which was begun before the Communist People's Republic of China was established formally, Mao slammed the door on friendly relations between Peking and Washington.

Today, 20 years later, the door seems shut as tightly as ever.

There are no clear signs that recent moves by the United States to ease restrictions and improve relations will have any effect.

All indications are that Mao, the Communist party chairman, still stands by the policy laid down in those commentaries of years ago.

The commentaries were written in response to a lengthy U.S. white paper on China, issued in August 1949, just before the whole of the China mainland fell to the Communists.

The first, published by the New China News Agency Aug. 14, 1949, was entitled "Cast Away Illusions, Prepare for Struggle."

Mao wrote that the State Department's white paper clearly admitted American failure in China and reflected basic American hostility. He took intellectuals and liberals in China to task for thinking otherwise and said the United States must be ranked along with the Kuomintang (nationalists) as a major enemy.

"The slogan "prepare for struggle" is addressed to those who still cherish certain illusions about the relations between China and the imperialists, especially between China and the United States," Mao wrote in the first commentary.

The Chinese leader, then only 55, said it was impossible to persuade the "Chinese reactionaries," meaning the nationalists, and the "imperialists," meaning the United States, to "turn from their evil ways."

"The only course is to organize forces and struggle against them, as in our people's war of liberation and the agrarian revolution, to expose the imperialists, "irritate" them, overthrow them, punish them for offenses against the law and allow them only to behave themselves and not to be unruly in word or deed. Only then will there be any hope of dealing with imperialist foreign countries on the basis of equality and mutual benefit," he added.

This still remains the cornerstone of Mao's policy towards the United States.

In one of his latest published statements on the United States, Mao called for a "general struggle of all people of the world against U.S. imperialism." He described this as "a component part of the contemporary world revolution."

"People of the whole world, unite still more closely and launch a sustained and vigorous offensive against our common enemy, U.S. imperialism and its accomplices!" Mao said in that statement, issued last year.

After Mao's first commentary on the U.S. white paper, he wrote another on Aug. 18, 1949, entitled, "Farewell, Leighton Stuart!" This was a reference to the last American ambassador to China, who was en route home when the white paper was issued.

The third commentary, published Aug. 28, was entitled, "Why It Is Necessary to Discuss the White Paper."

The fourth, entitled "Friendship or Aggression?," was published Aug. 30.

The last was published Sept. 16. It was entitled, "The Bankruptcy of the Idealist Conception of History."

In these articles Mao merely reinforced what he wrote in the first of the series — that friendly relations between a Communist China and the United States were out of the question.

* * *

And so it seems today, as long as Mao is alive and in command.

Industry Output Up 175 Pct. in 10-Year Period

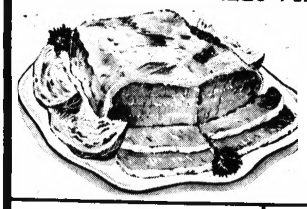

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board says U.S. industrial production rose seven-tenths of one per cent in July to a record high of 175.2 per cent of the 1957-1959 average—5.5 per cent over last year.

The largest upswing was noted in auto assemblies which rose 6 per cent after allowance for model changeover.

Production of iron and steel and other materials increased, the output of construction materials declined, farm equipment remained steady and little change was seen in the production of most household goods.

A one per cent expansion in the production of business equipment was noted, the board said.

Woman Becomes Mat When She Lies Down

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband tells me not to call his office as it annoys his secretary, whom he calls his "office wife." How about that?

My husband never turns a hand to do a thing for himself. His shoes are shined, His clothes are cared for, and he rides in a golf cart to save his feet. He exercises on an electric "exercycle," which cost 500 bucks.

Contrast this with my lot: I may go anywhere I can take my four small children, because my husband doesn't want me to have a babysitter. If I entertain, I can't have my own sister and her husband, because my husband doesn't care for HER husband.

* * *

I mow the lawn in the summer and shovel the driveway in the winter. I wash the walls and paint them myself, clean the garage, haul the trash and do all the work most men do around the house.

Then he tells me, "Think cheerful thoughts! Be happy when I get home!"

What do you think of this set up Abby? I haven't told you even half the story.

The "problems" most people write to you about make me envious. I am so dominated I hardly know my own name. What do you suggest! Sign me,

"DOORMAT"

DEAR "DOORMAT": I suggest you address your complaints to your husband. No woman can be a doormat unless she lies down first.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have always heard that "gentlemen prefer blondes," and "blondes have more fun," and I am beginning to believe that they are more than just sayings. I notice that whenever a blonde walks into a room, all the heads turn. Blondes do seem to get more attention, even though they aren't as good looking or well-built as some brunettes or red heads. Why?

MOUSY BROWN

DEAR MOUSY: Studies reveal that YELLOW is the most "arresting color," which is fine, if you want to get "arrested." But while I know of no consensus of what "gentlemen" prefer, it's a pretty good bet that they prefer "ladies."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 17, and have a few words for OFF MY CHEST who accused the younger generation of calling his the "do nothing" generation.

Sir, I grant that all you say is true. Your generation has accomplished much. You made it possible for the common person to obtain a college education. Now college is for anyone who can make the grade. So don't tell us to get started early to "beat the record" you set in accomplishments. You gave us the earliest start possible. You made our education possible.

* * *

Now that you have put us on the right path, who is to say what we will accomplish in the next 30 years, before our time is up and the next generation takes over? As you have done much, WE will do much. In fact, we will do more, just as you did more than your parents. And do you know why? Because whatever we do, we will have done standing upon your shoulders, as you have stood upon the shoulders of those who came before you.

We have your accumulated wisdom to draw upon, and your accumulated experience to guide our future actions. The accomplishments of men are not competitive among the generations. They are cumulative.

* * *

To say that your generation did nothing is the worst possible error. Your generation gave life to OUR generation, and that accomplishment alone merits my thanks and respect. My congratulations. I think you have done a great job of it. Sincerely,

JEFF DUNTEMANN, CHICAGO

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NEEDS INFORMATION": Unfortunately, what you would have to say about your wife in order to gain custody of your children, few men would be willing to say about the mother of their children. Sorry, but that's the way the cookie crumbles, Dad.

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bunts Welcomed to Kingsbury Post

A reception hosted by the board of trustees of Kingsbury School, Oxford, presented the new headmaster, Floyd W. Bunt, and his family to parents, students and friends of the school Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bunt were accompanied by their children, Theodore and Terrence and Mrs. James G. Harlan. Another son, Floyd Jr. and his wife, were unable to leave their duties at Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash. for the event.

College Bounds Should Heed Today's Advice

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of the Emily Post Institute

In a few weeks now, thousands of young people will be leaving the familiar security of home for the heady and sometimes frightening freedom of college life.

The news is so full of stories of student revolts and campus rebellions that many people of my generation have given up hope that anything good can come from a college education. I do not agree with them. Fortunately, I am convinced that the great majority of young people care more than ever about their education and about their relationships with other people.

* * *

Knowing how to get along with those around you is just as important in the revitalized atmosphere of today's campus as it ever was years ago. Here are some suggestions that may help insure a happier and smoother life for your college years.

* * *

The facilities of the dormitory are yours, but they're also your roommate's. This means sharing the mirror, the shower, the desk, the lounge; it means preserving the life of all dormitory property; it means keeping "your side" in order.

It also means being considerate of your roommate's sleeping and studying habits and observing the quiet hours that the dormitory imposes. Obeying the regulations is merely showing throughtfulness to people among whom you must live.

Area Residents Resting Up, Preparing for Autumn Whirl

By SHIRLEY GRAY

John and Tecla Ylvisaker of Bloomfield Hills are home at the moment, resting up for the autumn whirl, not that their summer has been dull exactly.

After 15 years in private practice, John is the new medical director of St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, will take up his duties in October.

An equally important family event, to hear the children tell it, is that the triplets, Nancy, Susan and Jeffrey, 13, are finally getting the horse they've been wishing for since age six. They got the good news last week for their birthday, which fell while the family, including Jon, 15, was vacationing at Reed Ranch, near Fairview.

This week John's mother, Mrs. S. C. Ylvisaker, is visiting from Bryan, Tex. Other than all that, things are fairly quiet.

Wedding plans for one of those frighteningly bright young couples who make us all feel like cretins are under way.

Lindsay Larkin Noonan, daughter of the F. Robert Noonans of Orchard Lake, will be married Sept. 6 to Paul Stephen McAuliffe, son of Mrs. Ethel McAuliffe of South Yarmouth, Mass. and the late Dr. Daniel McAuliffe.

Lindsay graduated in June from Wheaton College in Norton, Mass., cum laude, after snagging the Art History Department's annual prize for her paper. Paul, a June grad from Yale, graduated magna cum laude and is a Phi Beta Kappa. He will enter Yale Law School next month.

FESTIVITIES

The four o'clock wedding at Kirk in the Hills will be followed by a reception at BOH. The rehearsal dinner on Friday night will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Haberkorn, III, of Bloomfield Hills, at their home.

On the Thursday before the ceremonies, a dinner dance in honor of the pair will be given at BOH by the brother and two sisters of the bride's mother, A. E. Larkin Jr. of North Salem, N. Y., and Mrs. J. S. Cullen and Mrs. William H. Smith, both of Minneapolis.

* * *

Also here from out of town will be the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. E. Larkin Sr. of Minneapolis, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Alice Dierks of New York City.

Woman Never Learns

LUPSET, England (AP) — After spending $480 in the past eight years on driving lessons, Miriam Hargrave has done it again. She just flunked the test for a driver's license for the 34th time.

"I drive quite well," Mrs. Hargrave protested, "but none of the examiners wants the label on the man who passed Miriam."

She said she plans to complain to the Transport Ministry.

Wedding Bells for Daughter of Sen. Hart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jane Cameron Hart, daughter of Michigan's Democratic senator, Saturday became the bride of Peter Sabastian Conserva, a schoolteacher.

The bride chose The Renaissance as the theme for the ceremony, which she wrote herself. It ended with the "kiss of peace" and featured readings from the Scripture by the couple's fathers and contemporary hymns played on guitars.

Sen. and Mrs. Philip A. Hart of Washington and Mackinac Island, and Dr. and Mrs. Peter V. Conserva of Upper Montclair, N.J., are parents of the newlyweds.

GRANDPARENTS

The 20-year-old bride is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Hart of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Briggs of Detroit. Hart was president of the Bryn Mawr Trust Co., a position now held by the senator's brother, J. Clyde. Briggs founded Briggs Manufacturing Co. of Detroit, which was later sold to Chrysler Corp., and owned the Detroit Tiger Baseball Company.

About 300 attended the 1:30 p.m. ceremony performed by the Rev. Lawrence Gallen of Philadelphia in Holy Trinity Church in nearby Georgetown.

The bride's Juliet gown of sheer marquisette was designed by Frank Rezzin for Pandora of New York. The high medieval bodice, lightly dusted with seed pearls, was enveloped in a misty flowing Fra Angelica surcoat. Yards of delicate illusion veiling fell from the traditional Juliet cap of pearls.

She carried a tiny bouquet of baby's breath, Stephanotis and Woburn Abbey roses.

The bride's sister, Ann, was maid of honor and Mrs. John Southmayd of Washington was matron of honor. Bridesmaids included another of the bride's sisters, May, and the bridegroom's sister, Mary Frances.

Ellen Sandweiss of Birmingham has won a $50 Genoe scholarship for her cello work at the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

Ellen's award was one of 49 scholarships, 11 medals and other plaques and honors awarded at the annual honors convocation, a closing day event.

Total value of the scholarships was estimated at $40,000. Winners were named from more than 1,450 students representing 43 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 13 other nations.

The top winner appeared to be Susan Pierson, a high school girl from Phoenix, Ariz., majoring in voice, who was awarded the Depauw University Joseph E. Maddy scholarship valued at $8,000. Herman C. Berg, professor of violin at DePauw and a summer faculty member at Interlochen, made the presentation. Susan will enter DePauw in the fall of 1970.

The University of Michigan full tuition scholarship, valued at $6,400 for four years, was awarded to harpist Carrol McLaughlin of Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Three candidates for the Peabody Conservatory scholarship, valued at $7,200, were also named. The winner will enter Peabody in 1970.

Vows Unite Three Couples

A bridal party of nine preceded Mary Jane Hunt down the aisle as she was escorted to the altar of All Saints Episcopal Church for her marriage to Kenneth Robert Green.

The bride's traditionally styled gown of organza and Chantilly lace had seed pearl accents. Her bouquet was comprised of gladiolas, daisies, carnations, roses and Stephanotis.

Mrs. David Emery, matron of honor, and Daniel C. Akerley, best man, stood as honor attendants in the candlelight ceremony Saturday.

The newlyweds received guests in the Bemis-Olsen Amvets Hall. Joining them were their parents, the Arthur H. R. Hunts of West Highland Drive, Bloomfield Township and the Kenneth S. Greens of Birmingham.

Following a northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Birmingham.

Mitchell-Jharmark

At a civil ceremony in Royal Oak, Florence Rose Jharmark became the bride of Michael Casimer Mitchell of Farnsworth Street, White Lake Township.

An evening reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Mitchell of Sherbrook Road, Commerce Township honored the newlyweds.

World Population Grows at Rate of 2.2 a Second

WASHINGTON (AP) — World population is growing at the rate of 2.2 persons a second or over 1.3 million a week, the Population Reference Bureau reports.

On the average, 3.9 babies are being born every second in 1969 while just under 1.7 people die, a gain of 190,000 per day, the World Population Data Sheet for 1969 issued by the bureau says.

* * *

A "world population clock," such as the one the Census Bureau uses here to keep track of U.S. population growth, would show a world population of 3.551 billion by July 1, 1969, up 72 million over a year earlier.

Forty years ago, the world population was increasing by only about 20 million annually. It is expected to pass the 4 billion mark by 1975.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today let me bring you a few facts about the most usual misconceptions women have.

● In order to lose or gain weight a person must eat special foods. Some foods are fattening and some are slimming.

★ ★ ★

There are no "fattening" or "slimming" foods. You can gain weight by eating anything if you eat enough of it. It is the number of calories you consume which counts. This idea has become widespread because some foods are curtailed on the reducing diet. This is done because the food in question has many calories and little health value. When the total caloric intake is reduced we must spend the allowable calories wisely.

● Modern processes and canning remove most of the vitamins and minerals from food. This is absolutely not so. Commercially canned goods have approximately the same food value as the fresh vegetables and fruits. In some cases they may even be superior.

● Aluminum cooking utensils are damaging to health. According to the United States Food and Drug Administration this is not true. Preparing food in aluminum vessels is harmless.

● Cooking in the non-stick utensils may be dangerous.

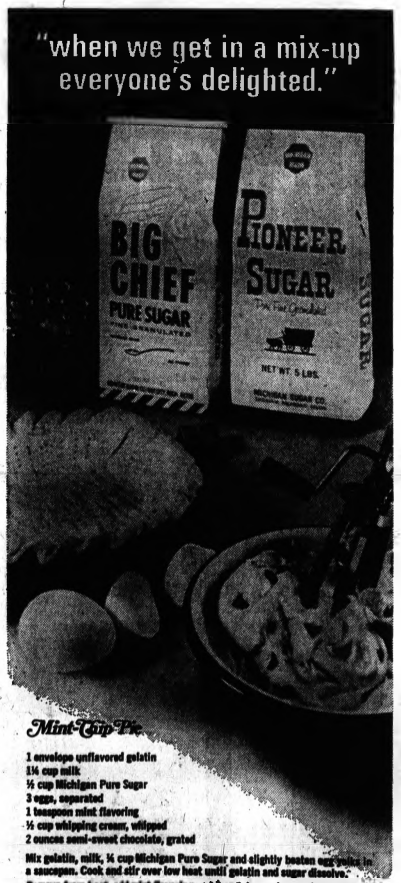

It is not.

● One never needs synthetic vitamins.

★ ★ ★

The consensus of opinion is that this is true if one eats a well-planned and varied diet. Certainly no deficiency diseases would develop in this case. However, there is some difference of opinion concerning the value of vitamin supplements. There are many instances in which physicians may prescribe vitamins or mineral supplements for their patients.

Animal Acts

Baby Proves a Mystery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mystery at the zoo:

Why wouldn't the baby kudu, more or less an antelope mainly found in South Africa, nurse when she was born? But, then, who says a baby kudu has to be thirsty at birth?

* * *

Keepers kept an eye on the mother kudu, named Kitty, and on her first-born for 25 hours after the birth at the National Zoological Park. Then, the baby began to nurse—apparently the first time she was in the mood for milk.

* * *

The keepers couldn't understand what took her so long. What did they name the baby? They called her Mystery.

It Makes a Big Splash

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The baby weighed 60 pounds and the parents were speechless.

The new arrival was the latest addition to the nine-member family of Jimmie and Submarie, hippopotami at the zoo.

* * *

Fred Ulmer, curator of mamals, said Friday the baby will not be named until its sex can be determined. No one can get close enough at present to find out whether it is a girl or a boy.

The baby's brothers and sisters are named Bubbles, Augusta, Linpopi, Anthony, Cleo, Ramsis, Rhamadus and Aeda.

Beavers to the Rescue

SUNDANCE, Wyo. (AP) — Beavers on a creek near here are helping man fight stream pollution.

* * *

Earlier this week, a tanker overturned and spilled 5,000 gallons of gasoline into the creek. But beaver dams trapped the gasoline until it could be removed, and kept it from running downstream into the Belle Fourche River.

Detroiter Drowns

AMHERSTBURG, Ont. (AP) Sam Smith, 26, of Detroit, was drowned in the Detroit River near Amherstburg, Ont., about 15 miles south of Windsor Saturday.

Low-Cost Permanent Relief in Sight

Breakthrough in Hay Fever Treatment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It's that time of year again for an estimated 20 million Americans who are plagued every August with sneezing, a runny nose, tear-filled eyes and assorted other miseries common to sufferers of hay fever.

But low-cost permanent relief may be in sight for many of them.

Scientists reported Friday they have had success with an experimental treatment for persons affected by Timothy weed, which is widespread in western states, and they said the same type of treatment could be used against ragweed, house dust and other irritants, both seasonal and nonseasonal.

The treatment, which is administered in weekly shots over a period of a few months, contrasts sharply with the present ordeal for sufferers who take weekly shots throughout much of every year in preparation for the bad days of summer.

News of the potential breakthrough was announced by Dr. Arthur Malley, chairman of the Department of Immunology at the Oregon Regional Primate Research Center, and Dr. Frank Perlman, chief of allergy research at the University of Oregon Medical School.

The doctors said the key to their treatment lies in the small amount of pollen used to produce a reaction by antibodies, the body's defense network. Current methods require a much larger amount of pollen and could prove fatal if used during the most troublesome months, they explained.

Iraq's Ancient Treasures Are Lure to Foreigners

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — The Russians have come to Iraq — a gold mine of archaeological treasures — and their presence has added the spice of competition to the exploration of Iraq's ancient past.

Two experts from the Soviet Academy of Sciences recently came to the northern part of the country, seeking information about the races that once lived in the Mosul area.

A dozen western teams, digging to discover the secrets of this ancient land.

Germany, Britain and Italy have established archaeological institutes here, the Germans having firsts arrived in the early years of this century.

And although Iraq severed diplomatic relations with the United States, two American teams were given permission to work here.

Candy Is Quicker Now

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — The frantic pace of modern life has caught up with gumdrops and jelly beans.

The jelly beans used to take nearly three days to make. Now a Cornell University scientist has patented a process that turns them out in a half-hour.

Prof. Thomas J. Schoch developed a process for removing fatty acids from the corn starch in the candy, thus allowing them to jell much faster.

GI in Viet Aids Classmate's Biafra Family

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — An American soldier in Vietnam, who says that "All wars are senseless," has raised money from his GI buddies to help the family of a fellow college alumnus in war-ravaged Biafra.

Pfc. John Badgerow of Sparta, a 1968 graduate of Aquinas College here, and members of his 527th Records Company in Vietnam responded with $67 when the college's alumni association sought aid for a Biafran alumni.

The drive began when Akosa Ezenobi, a 1951 Aquinas graduate with a law degree from Oxford, wrote his old classmates for help in his family's struggle to survive the war which has shattered his homeland.

Badgerow said in a letter to the college's alumni office that, "all wars are senseless, the fighting between Biafra and Nigeria seems especially so. We hope our contribution will join the others in relieving the suffering among Mr. Ezenobi's people."

Flying Doctor Only M.D. for 25,000 on 10 Islands

CAT ISLAND, Bahamas (AP) — Dr. Peter Joules is a friendly young Englishman who plys his profession in the backward but beautiful Bahama out islands where his patients live in houses with thatched roofs and no electricity and discard his prescribed tablets in favor of "bush medicine."

He's the only doctor for the 25,000 Bahamians who live on 10 of the far-flung islands.

* * *

Employed by the Bahamian government, the 29-year-old doctor spends four days a week visiting his islands, scattered across 1,000 square miles of emerald waters. To reach them, he must use the airplane the way most doctors use their automobiles.

And in the course of his travels he frequently relies on seaplanes, boats, Jeeps, and "on rare occasions, my own foot power."

HEAVY BAG

To be able to function in places where piped water and glass window panes are virtually nonexistent, Joules carries a medical bag that more resembles a television repairman's kit. Crammed among the stethoscope, tongue depressors and tablets are soldering irons, screw drivers and pliers.

"If you have a flat or breakdown in the out islands you can sit there for two hours or two days before anybody comes along," he explained.

* * *

A strapping six-footer, Joules has a whimsical sense of humor that often stands him in good stead in places like Cat Island, Mayaguana, Ragged Island and Sandy Point.

For instance, his patients won't come to see him at the local clinics if it's raining the day he visits their island.

"The Bahamians, on the out islands think rainwater soaks through their heads and affects their brains," he said. "Nobody gets sick in the Bahamas when it rains."

Just getting to the clinics often is half the problem.

* * *

Cat Island is typical of the out islands. Located 130 miles due east of New Providence Island, where Joules makes his home at Nassau, it is 70 miles long and anywhere from a one-half to two miles wide. It takes nearly a full day to drive from one end to the other over a narrow, unpaved road that may be flooded, choked with a herd of goats or washed out by the latest downpour.

If he's on schedule, Joules visits each of the 20 settlements on the 10 islands in his domain once a month. The settlements have clinics with full-time nurses. The clinics, for the most part, are one- or two-room buildings with no contemporary conveniences.

ONLY FLYING DOCTOR

Joules is the only flying doctor in the out islands. Most of the larger, inhabited islands have permanent physicians.

At the clinics, Joules does everything from pulling teeth to checking goats for worms. Most of his time is spent tending to the chronically ill or treating minor ailments. Patients needing hospital or emergency treatment are sent to Nassau on a charter flight or one of the three weekly commercial flights.

* * *

On a typical clinic stop, he will pull a few teeth, treat a half dozen elderly heart patients and perhaps set a fractured arm, if the break occurred within the past 24 hours.

"I haven't delivered a baby since I left England three years ago," he said. "Most babies born on the out islands are delivered by trained midwives. And a few are still delivered by untrained bush grannies who don't know what they're about."

BUSH MEDICINE

"Also," he said, "bush medicine is very popular out here. They just boil a few leaves and in two weeks their cold goes away. Who knows? Maybe they're right."

Joules normally travels alone, but since mid-spring, he has been accompanied by two nurses, Ivy Wilson, a Bahamian, and Anne O'Sullivan from County Kerry, Ireland. They are helping him immunize the school-age children on the islands. "It's quite an event when we arrive," Joules says. "They let out school for us. The job can be bloody frustrating, but I'll admit I'm treated like God Almighty."

* * *

After two years as the flying doctor and three years in the Bahamas, Joules is preparing to return to "the U.K." and specialize in anesthesiology.

"I expect I'm one of the last of the flying doctors," he said. "The government is putting permanent doctors on the islands. These people really ought to have a full-time doctor."

Singer Survives on Standards

NEW YORK (AP) — In this age of turbulent change and raucous revolution, it is somewhat comforting to know there is still Tony Bennett.

An island of calm durability in a churning sea of song, Bennett continues to sing the standards, with the same romantic style he's used in recording and nightclubs for the past 20 years. The more music changes, so to speak, the more Tony Bennett stays the same. He's survived rock 'n' roll, electric guitars and protest songs to remain a solid-selling recording artist and a consistent nightclub and concert attraction.

* * *

Whether it be London or Cherry Hill, N.J., Seattle or the Copacabana—or Apollo 10 on its way to the moon—Tony Bennett is there. When the astronauts were awakened one day during their recent Apollo 10 mission, it was with a Bennett recording of "The Best Is Yet To Come"—because its lyrics include—"You think you've flown before—But you ain't left the ground."

IN SPOTLIGHT AT 6

Bennett, a quiet, introverted, businesslike singer who has managed to stay pretty much out of the public eye when he's not working, was 6 when he first got the singing spotlight. He sang at the ceremonies opening New York's Triborough Bridge, with Mayor LaGuardia, singing "Marching Along Together."

"That was it. I decided show business was it for me," he recalls. And show business it has been.

Bennett says he was the first pop singer to make an album—"Cloud 7" back in the "pioneer days," in 1951. "Now any group comes along and right away they cut an album."

He isn't overly impressed by the quick success of young rock groups, nor does he feel he has to change his style to keep in the running. "A good song will last no matter what the changes in style," he says. "It isn't old time if it's good music."

BIGGEST SELLER

"I Left My Heart in San Francisco," which he recorded seven years ago, still is his biggest seller. "It's just one of those standards. It's a good music song." And "It Had To Be You," "I Can't Give You Anything But Love," "Once Upon a Time," "Love Look Away," "The Shadow of Your Smile"—all still favorites, at least of an over-30 generation.

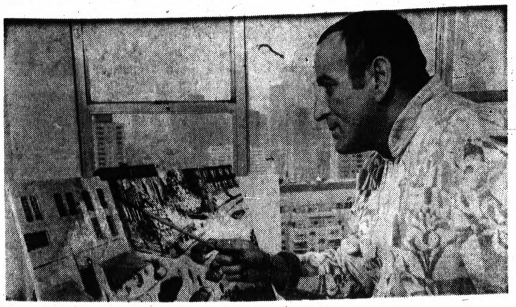

"I sing love songs, not protest songs," says Bennett, born 42 years ago in Astoria, Long Island, as Antonio Benedetto.

His conversation is peppered with references to singers he admires—Frank Sinatra, Peggy Lee, Dionne Warwick among them.

CHANGE IN CAREER

There has been a change in Bennett's career, but it's one of expansion, rather than difference. "I'm still learning, still developing," he says of his singing, but "I'm putting irons in all the fires"—clubs, recordings, television, movies. He has even taken up painting.

He began the painting hobby with sketches and he's now doing oils, mostly of scenes from the spectacular view he has from his 32nd-floor East Side apartment. "I'm just learning; I've got a long way to go. I've started with this Japanese-style painting. It's like jazz: you just sit there, wait for the moment, then when it comes to you, quickly indicate and go into the details later."

Military Cutbacks May Pose Problems

By JERRY T. BAULCH

WASHINGTON—If the pullout of U.S. troops from Vietnam and elsewhere overseas triggers a rapid slash in the size of the military services it could force out early thousands of Reserve officers planning to stay in for the 20 years of active duty needed to qualify for pensions.

BAULCH

On the other hand, it could mean an early out for enlisted men and many younger officers not planning to stay in any longer than necessary. And it would mean shrinking draft calls.

President Nixon started the ball rolling with the first 25,000-man pullout from Vietnam and the announcement that forces elsewhere around the world would be reduced gradually by 14,900.

* * *

If peace talks are satisfactory, the President seems to have in mind a 200,000-man pullout from Vietnam by the end of next year. And there are calls in Congress for even bigger pullbacks elsewhere overseas.

Pentagon planners, who have contingency plans for all imaginable situations, are thinking in terms of a 1-million-man reduction in the services to about 2½ million.

The Army, with 1½ million in uniform now, and the Marine Corps, which also expanded greatly for Vietnam, would face the biggest problems. The Air Force and Navy have a relatively light job.

It wouldn't be too difficult to fulfill the law's requirement that a ceiling be placed on over-all officer strength in relation to enlisted strength.

Officer Candidate School classes could be cut back. Reservists could be released early. The Army could knock out the requirement that retirement applications are normally not accepted until an officer has had a tour in Vietnam. Newly commissioned ROTC officers could be assigned to reserve units rather than be called to active duty.

COULD BE RELEASED

The Air Force could release regular captains kept on after failing twice for promotion and those allowed to remain on active duty after completing 20 years active duty.

The Marine Corps could release to fleet reserve or send back to enlisted ranks some 3,500 temporary officers, mostly captains, who were promised only three or four years commissioned status.

* * *

The real sticky point is the law that prorates the field grades—colonels, lieutenant colonels and majors—in relation to lieutenants and captains.

It would put the brakes on promotions. Some regulars in higher temporary grades than their permanent ranks might have to step back a notch. And in the Army especially, it would mean release of hundreds, possibly thousands, of Reserve officers in the three field grades, many without the 20 years they want.

The final answer will be how fast the pullbacks go and how much time or leeway, if any, Congress will allow so retirements can help soften the impact.

The military services would like to avoid the involuntary release of higher grade Reserve officers "riffing," it's called.

Such a program after World War II and Korea left a sour picture of the military for many who were let go.

And, as the Army Times noted recently, it would hurt the aim of an all-volunteer military by discouraging young officers from staying on.

The trend toward reduced forces already has had an effect on the Army. About 1,490 regulars who were kept on against their wishes because of the needs for Vietnam have been told they will be let go over a four month period starting in December.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases—to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so.

And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H®—an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress—Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection.

Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Cubans to Release 2 Guerrilla Films

HAVANA (AP) — Two new films about guerrillas are being prepared for release by the Cuban Institute of Cinemagraphic Art and Industry.

Officials of the government institute say the timing is coincidental. They note that one movie is historical and the other is fiction. Guerrilla warfare plays a key part in both films although the stories differ widely.

The historical film is a 35-minute documentary with the provisional title of "The Call of the Hour." Its principals are Che Guevara and Gen. Antonio Maceo, who led an unsuccessful Cuban fight for independence from Spain nearly 100 years ago.

The two fallen heroes are linked because both were born June 14 and, according to the government, had the same ideas of revolution.

'GENERATIONAL CALL'

Director Manolo Herrera, 26, says the idea is to show that there is "a generational call" that brings forth fighters for independence.

Maceo's role is portrayed by Luis Iznaga, 26, a fencer who had a small part in "Lucia" as one of the naked black horsemen who fought the Spanish. That 2½-hour film, a prize winner in Moscow and praised by Western visitors, tells of three Cuban women and how they made revolution in their different eras.

In Herrera's documentary, the Argentine-born Guevara, a stalwart in the Castro rebellion and the government that followed, plays himself through use of film clips.

* * *

Guevara's death in Bolivia two years ago while waging guerrilla war is considered still too fresh for anyone to handle the role. It is expected to be years, if ever, before a Cuban actor will be allowed to portray the Cuban hero.

The institute has produced another Guevara documentary using his slogan "Ever onward to victory" as a title. It was pieced together from newsreel and television files of Guevara.

Herrera also drew on files for his Guevara scenes. The rest of the film was shot in 18 days at locations near Havana.

* * *

Pastor Vega, 29, says it took him a year to direct his first full-length movie, "Of American War."

Written by Enrique Sosa, a Havana University professor, it tells of two Latin American peasants and how a revolution affects them.

UNNAMED COUNTRY

Vega says the action takes place in an unnamed country that could be Venezuela, Guatemala, Bolivia or Peru.

The story concerns two good friends, who find a revolution boiling up in their land and turning them apart. One becomes a soldier "of the repressive forces," the other a guerrilla, Vega says.

* * *

As he tells it, the hour-long film, through its two protagonists, is intended to show the decision all Latin America faces.

Both Miss Performing Before Audiences

Garfunkle's Film Work 'Hard on Simon'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Garfunkle without Simon? It seems as unlikely as Scotch without soda or Abercrombie without Fitch. But it's happening on "Catch 22."

* * *

For seven months, Art Garfunkle has been portraying Capt. Nately, the blue-blooded bomber pilot of Joseph Heller's antiwar novel now being filmed by director Mike Nichols. During that time Garfunkle has been unable to function with partner Paul Simon in one of the most successful singing collaborations of popular music.

* * *

What has that done to their relationship?

"It has been hard on Paul," Garfunkle said. "At first we thought it would be good for us to quit for a while, for me to do the acting job while Paul worked on some material for us. We had gotten to the point last fall when the concerts had lost their appeal for us, we weren't getting any creative kicks..We found we were merely rubber-stamping our popular material, so we decided to cool it.

THOMAS

STRETCHED ON

"Originally I was supposed to finish 'Catch 22' in mid-May, but the schedule stretched on and on into August. By this time Paul had developed quite a few songs, but I still wasn't available. It was hard for him to adjust, but now we have started recording sessions here for the next album.

"And both of us kind of miss performing before audiences. I think we'll be doing some more of it this fall."

* * *

Simon and Garfunkle met in their native Queens, N. Y., when both were 10, began playing and singing rock as teenagers, enjoyed fair success before breaking up in their college years. In 1963 they reunited, this time with a folk beat. Their instant hit: "The Sound of Silence."

Mike Nichols was taken with the song, and he decided to integrate it in to his film, "The Graduate." He hired Simon and Garfunkle to work on the score, and they added two more indelible compositions, "Hey, Mrs. Robinson" and "Scarboro Fair."

RIDING WITH MIKE

Garfunkle recalled how his acting career was initiated:

"One day when we were scoring 'The Graduate,' I was riding to the studio with Mike in the rent-a-car and he said, 'How would you like to be in my next picture?' I said, 'I'd like to—but I've never acted before.' He said, 'That's all right; we'll do it.'

* * *

"I didn't hear from him for months, and I figured he had forgotten about it. But when we met once more, he said, 'I've got the part for you: Capt. Nately.' I reread the book and I saw the same thing in the character that he did."

Originally Paul Simon was to appear in the film, too. But the first script proved long enough for an eight-hour movie, and many of the characters had to be jettisoned, including Simon's.

BUSHY HAIRED

Art Garfunkle—he's the bushy-haired member of the team — said he had enjoyed the acting experience.

"I went into it as an adventure, a change of pace. But as the weeks went on, I became more and more involved. Now, if someone sent me a script, I'd read it; I wouldn't have done so before.

* * *

"But if I did any more acting, I would have to go into it more deeply and study it. I don't think acting would ever take precedence over music. Music is where I am."

Mao Facing a Possible Youth Revolt

HONG KONG (AP) — How do you keep them down on the farm after they've seen Shanghai?

Analysts here suspect the beginnings of a youth revolt against Mao Tse-tung's leadership in China unless he can answer the question.

* * *

Mao's government has sent some 25 million persons, 20 to 30 years old, from China's cities to its villages in the last year, in an attempt to finish disbanding the Red Guards and relieve food and work shortages in the cities.

Indications are that the young people don't want to go.

TELLS STORY

One young man who escaped to Hong Kong tells this story:

He and 120 other youths were required to go to 10 hours of Mao-study classes a day for a week in February. At the end of the week, his resident's permit was taken from him and his name was crossed off his family's ration book.

He was then given a letter saying he had volunteered to work in a rural commune.

* * *

This kind of summary treatment has created problems, according to provincial radio broadcasts monitored here.

Wuhan Radio recently broadcast a "letter to educated youth in rural areas," ordering them to "stay fast at their production and work posts and obey orders and directions. They must struggle resolutely against unhealthy trends such as violation of labor discipline and going one's own way . . ."

COMEDOWN

Such orders are quite a comedown for students used to debating the future of the nation in city parks.

Because those sent down are usually urbanized students, they have little patience for rustic folk. Recent broadcasts have urged the youths to "work hard, unite and battle together with the poor and lower-middle peasants."

* * *

And the farmers have little patience for them. Students have complained to provincial newspapers that the farmers look on them as unwanted mouths who don't know how to work for their keep.

Many of the youths can easily escape from their assignments and lose themselves in a nearby city. These pose serious problems for authorities. Because they have rights to neither food ration coupons nor work permits, the only ways of life open to them are illegal—looting, robbery or black-marketeering.

APPEALING JOBS

Recent reports from the mainland suggest Mao's government is trying to find work in the countryside that will have more appeal than simple field labor.

Rural social services particularly primary schools and health clinics, are being expanded in an attempt to soak up the new labor force

* * *

If that attempt fails, analysts here conclude, the policy will continue to be not only resented by the country's 60 million farmers, but will encourage widespread dislike and distrust of the government among China's leaders and intellectuals of tomorrow.

Doctors, Nurses in Psychiatric Ward Bid Goodby to Uniforms

PARK RIDGE, Ill. (AP) — The nurses in street clothes mingle with patients in the comfortable lounge areas.

* * *

The hospital, in a northwestern suburb of Chicago, allowed nurses to wear street attire last fall after they voted to dispense with uniforms. The experiment proved so successful it was continued beyond a three-month trial period.

Psychiatrists in the open and closed wards, with a total capacity of 46 beds, do not wear the white labor coats used by other physicians in the hospital.

NOT NECESSARY

While, traditionally associated with cleanliness and medical treatment, is not a necessary visual cue in psychiatric treatment, Mrs. Gail Karrels, supervisor of psychiatric nursing, said in an interview.

* * *

The starched uniforms of medical personnel do not provide added comfort to mental patients, she said, because "you don't deal with germs in psychiatry, you deal with problems. What's important is that you deal with patients person-to-person rather than as nurse to patient."

* * *

Uniforms are worn only in the 20-bed "holding unit" for emergency cases, where new patients are kept for five days of observation. Admissions in the unit typically are victims of drug overdoeses or suicide attempts.

Standard white dress provides security in this situation, said Mrs. Karrels, because it helps to orient the patients — "They're confused, frightened and afraid."

WELCOME SWITCH

Most nurses at Lutheran General welcomed the switch from uniforms, although they sometimes had difficulty in making the initial adjustment.

"I'd been in uniform ever since I started nursing 15 years ago," said one, "but now that I've been in street clothes for a while I think it's a change for the better. I'm not so much a figure of authority — and the patients feel they can relate better to me."

BIG STEAL—The Pontiac Firebirds were on their way to pay dirt when Gordy Hettrick intercepted this pass away from Pontiac receiver Jim Little (34) in the second half of the game Saturday night. Lansing and Pontiac tied 13-13 in the MFL contest.

F-Birds 13-13 Tie Tightens Loop Race

Here's how the MFL Standings look after three weekends of play:

Central Division	W	L	T	Lakes Division	W	L
Pontiac	1	1	1	Lackawanna	3	0
Lansing	1	1	1	Dayton	3	0
Flint	1	2	0	Southwest Mich.	1	2
Detroit	0	3	0	Grand Rapids	1	2

Last Weekend's Scores

Pontiac 13, Lansing 13
Dayton 41, Grand Rapids 14
Flint 32, Detroit 22
Lackawanna 20, Southwest Michigan 12

Next Saturday's Games

Detroit at Pontiac
Lackawanna at Grand Rapids
Flint at Dayton
Southwest Michigan at Lansing

Nothing was settled in the battle for the Central Division lead of the Midwest Football League . . . in fact, things have tightened up after Saturday night's games.

The underdog Lansing All-Stars, playing a determined brand of defensive football, held the favored Pontiac Firebirds to a 13-13 tie before 3,000 fans at Wisner Stadium.

In the other Central Division game, the Flint Wildcats moved to within a half game of the tied leaders by defeating a spiritled Detroit Cowboys' team, 32-22 on the Flint astroturf.

In the Lakes Division, Grand Rapids held powerful Dayton to a 14-14 tie at halftime and then took a 41-14 drubbing at the hands of the Colts. Southwest Michigan, the team from the Benton Harbor-St. Joe area, gave the unbeaten Lackawanna Lancers a tough time before falling, 20-12.

The Firebirds' offense, hampered by greasy fingers of the pass receivers and penalty happy officials, had to score in the final minutes of the game to earn a tie, with quarterback Doug Holcomb being chased all over the field and virtually into the end zone for the tying touchdown.

RANGE TOO SHORT

Ed McQueen, who during a halftime kicking demonstration with Dick Kenney, former MSU barefoot kicker, booted one from the 50 yard line, which is 60 yards on a high school field, missed the important conversion after Holcomb's touchdown.

The Firebirds held the statistical edge in most every department but couldn't hit the key play while in the shadows of the Lansing goal line several times.

* * *

Holcomb threw 40 passes and completed only 13, but at least six or seven "bombs" were dropped by receivers.

The absence of Ron Bemis and flanker Mickey Blazitz obviously has hurt the F-Birds. Bemis is on two weeks of military reserve training and Blazitz, who was hurt in a tryout session with a Continental League team, may be out for the season pending surgery on his knee.

Lansing, with strong running by ex-Pontiac player Tom Elfert and ex-Michigan Staters, scored first when quarterback Tom Tybinka passed to ex-Spartan Charlie Wedemeyer for an easy touchdown of 2½ yards. Kenney added the point to make it 7-0 with 6:29 left in the first period.

The Firebirds, using ground control, after Gene Luppino's 33 yard return of the ensuing kickoff, went 68 yards for the TD with Holcomb passing 16 yards to Craig Hanson. McQueen tied it, 7-7, as the quarter ended.

Just two minutes into the second period and Joe Gavel took a rolling punt on the Lansing 49 and raced down the sidelines 51 yards without a hand touching him. Kenney's placement was wide and the 13-7 score held until the final minutes of the game.

Most of the second half was played in Lansing territory. Pontiac started its drive with 10 minutes left in the game on the 50 yard line.

Saddest Faces Among Giants of New York

By the Associated Press

The saddest faces in pro football today belong to the New York Giants.

The reddest faces belong to that army of National Football League die-hards, who argued in January after Joe Namath pitched the American League New York Jets to a Super Bowl victory over the NFL kingpin Baltimore Colts that Namath wasn't really for real and that the Jets played far over their heads.

The Giants, who occupied the New York football throne for nearly 4½ decades and saw it crumble beneath them in less than three hours Sunday, will vouch for the fact that Namath is very much for real and that the Jets deserve their status as pro football's world champions.

Some 70,874 spectators jammed Yale Bowl in New Haven, Conn., and watched the Jets clobber the proud Giants 37-14.

In Sunday's other exhibition games, the Atlanta Falcons bombed the Boston Patriots 34-16 and the Dallas Cowboys nipped the San Francisco 49ers 20-17.

Talkative Floyd PGA Champion

By FLETCHER SPEARS

DAYTON, Ohio — The new PGA champion is a big guy in a number of ways.

He's physically, a barrell-chested 6-footer and he's also a classy guy with golf clubs, words and deeds.

* * *

It's been an eventful week for 26-year-old Raymond Floyd, the curyl-haired North Carolinian who mastered the difficult south course of the NCR Country Club this week. Posing an eight under par 276 for a one-shot triumph in the 51st renewal of the PGA championship.

* * *

Along with whipping par, the wordy Floyd talked himself into and out of dutch with the PGA's old guard and made a bagful of money by claiming his third tournament victory of the '69 season.

STRONG BID

South African Gary Player, 33, made a strong bid for his second PGA title as he came from five strokes off the pace to pick up runner-up honors at 277.

After rounds of 69, 66 and 67, Floyd struggled through a three-over par 74 yesterday in what he described as a most unpleasing tour of the 6,910-yard wooded layout.

* * *

"I'm very fortunate to win after the way I played today," he said. "I really feel that I won because the other fellows just didn't have a hot round. I'm not saying they didn't play well. They just didn't have a real hot round.

"I can remember only five or six shots during the round I was pleased with — except for a couple of putts. And on those two putts I made, I could probably stand there with practice balls all day and never make them again.

"No, the crowd didn't bother me. Yes, I've had a police escort before but never on the golf course," he quipped.

SECURITY ESCORTS

Most of the twosomes played with security guards close at hand to ward off any attempt by local civil rights leaders to disrupt the tournament. The tournament was marred by several incidents Saturday but none was reported in yesterday's wrapup.

* * *

The two putts Floyd spoke of came at Nos. 10 and 16 yesterday and that one on 16 was really the clincher. "That was one of the finest pressure putts I've ever seen," said Player of Floyd's 30-footer that rolled downhill into the cup for a birdie 3. Player then missed his birdie attempt so Floyd held a three-shot lead as they teed off on No. 17.

* * *

Player then sliced the deficit to two strokes with a birdie at 17 and picked up another on 18 when Floyd took a bogey — a bogey that didn't matter. Over the 18th green in two, Floyd chipped back and two-putted to complete his one-shot triumph.

* * *

He certainly held himself together pretty well at the end," said Player of Floyd's finish. "As for me, I didn't hole those key putts at 15 and 16. But there has to be a winner and a loser. I've no excuse. I'm just happy to finish second."

From a dollar standpoint the $35,000 victory hiked Floyd's earnings $109,469, while Player's boosted his bankroll to $123,683.

NO DISGRACE

Defending champion Julius Boros, 49, was well back in the pack at 287, but it was no disgrace that Julie failed to defend successfully. Floyd is the 17th different champion in the past 17 years.

Grabbing off the third spot with a 278 was 25-year-old Bert Greene of Pennsylvania, while Jimmy Wright, a New York club professional, bagged fourth with a 279.

* * *

Miller Barber, who posted one of the two course-record yrs — Don Bies had the other — shared fifth with Larry Ziegler at 280.

In the seventh slot with 281 were Terry Wilcox, Charles Coody and U.S. open champion Orville Moody.

Floyd was one of nine sharpshooters atop the pack after 69s in the opening round Thursday. A supporter of fast play Floyd then made some comments concerning slow play, made a few more on Friday, even drawing his playing partner's name, Jim Ferrier, 54 into the conversation.

PUBLIC APOLGY

Floyd's remarks concerning Ferrier — that he played too slow and shouldn't be out there — didn't sit well with Ferrier or golf commissioner Joe Dey. Floyd was called in. He didn't duck it. He admitted he made the comments, also admitting that perhaps he had said too much. Floyd then made public apolgy to Ferrier and the PGA.

McLain Answers A's Organist, 9-4

OAKLAND (AP) — Pitcher Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers celebrated his 19th victory of the season by launching a verbal blast at owner Charles O. Finley of the Oakland Athletics.

An hour after the Sundays 9-4 win, McLain was still angry over what he termed "bush" tactics by Finley, who ordered Oakland Coliseum organist Lloyd Fox to play loud music while McLain was pitching in the first inning.

* * *

"I expected elephants to come marching in from center field with Charlie O. — the man not the mule — leading the way," McLain said, "I don't know if Finley wants to own a baseball team or a three-ring circus."

* * *

Finley had promised he would use organ music to upset McLain and he lives up to the boast. It bothered McLain to the extent that he gave up the two-run homer to Oakland's Reggie Jackson in the first inning, his 43rd of the year.

McLain, incidentally, is a nightclub organist during the off season.

He complained to plate umpire Bill Stewart about the organ music and Stewart called Oakland Manager Hank Bauer out of the dugout for a talk. Aftr that the music stopped.

Gains Second AAU Title

Micki Shines in Platform Diving Event

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Lt. Micki King of the U.S. Air Force showed the younger competitors a thing or two Sunday as she dived her second victory in the 1969 National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships.

The 25-year-old Miss King, competing against a teen-age field, easily won the women's 10-meter platform event with a total of 411.57 points.

* * *

Miss King also won the women's three-meter springboard title Thursday.

She finished more than 50 points ahead of her Phillips 66 teammate, Debbie Lipman, who scored 361.83.

The Pontiac diver iced her victory with a superb 1½ somersault, 2½ twist from the 32-foot platform.

* * *

Barb Schaefer, diving unattached from Bloomington, Ind., finished third with 356.70 points.

WORLD MARKS

Seven world swimming records were shattered by Americans in the five-day meet, which ended Sunday night.

Gary Hall, 18, a Californian who is headed for Indiana University this fall, led the way by setting three new world marks in the men's 200-meter intdividual medley, 200-meter backstroke and 400-meter individual medley.

* *

Hall's performance and a world record in the men's 400-meter freestyle by Hans Fassnacht gave the men's AAU team title to Phillips 66 of Long Beach, Calif. Fassnacht, from Mannheim, West Germany, attends California State College at Long Beach.

The Arden Hills Swim Club, Carmichael, Calif., won the women's AAU team title. The Santa Clara Swim Club, champions in both the men's and women's competition for the past five years, finished second in both divisions at this year's meet.

* * *

UCLA's Mike Burton, at 22 one of the oldest competitors, set two world records. Burton, who won a gold medal in the 1968 Olympic Games at Mexico City in the men's 1500-meter freestyle, bettered his own world record in the event Sunday.

His times of 16:04.5 and 8:28.8 for 800-meters snapped the marks he set last year.

'I SAY THERE'—Even though it appears like Ch. Morrow's Duke of Fuzzbuzz can't see The Pontiac Press Best-in-Show trophy, the Old English Sheepdog probably has plenty to say. He won top honors yesterday in the Pontiac Kennel Club show under the guidance of handler George Burmeister of Livonia.

County Dog Best-in-Show

The challengers came from near and far yesterday, but when the final judgment was made in The Pontiac Kennel Club Show the honors stayed in Oakland County.

Ch. Morrow's Duke of Fuzzbuzz, an Old English Sheepdog owned by Ivan M. Forbes, 7120 Pebblecreek, Birmingham, won the Pontiac Press Best-in Show trophy over 1,371 other canines in the conformation part of the show.

Duke, handled by George Burmeister of Livonia, was placed at the top over a stiff field of five other competitors in the final. William Burrow of England made the decision.

One of the finalists was Ch. Rannoch-Dune Down Beat, a West Highland White terrier owned by Mrs. B. G. Frnme of Indianapolis, who went best-in-show at Flint Saturday.

RETIREMENT DUE

Down Beat, winner of 28 BIS and over 100 groups, appeared in his last show, according to handler George Ward of Constantine. The retired Westy is a former winner of the PKC show.

The victory was Duke's third best-in-show. His most recent victory was three weeks ago at Battle Creek. The sheepdog, also a Canadian champion, has won nine groups. Burmeister has been the three-year-old's only handler.

Duke captured the working group and Down Beat was best of the terriers.

* * *

Other group winners judged in the final by Burrow were Ch. Sule's Robin of England, a Maltese owned by Barbara J. Berguist of Wyandotte, toy; Ch. Orlane's Good as Gold, a Lhasa Apso owned by Mrs. Warren Kendall of Burlington, Iowa, non-sporting; Ch. Westphall's Shillahah, a wire dachshund owned by Peggy Westphal of Bedford, N.Y., hound; and Hiddenlane's Merry Max, an English setter owned by Marge O'Connell of Livonia, sporting.

TOP BRIARD

Ch. Nanie De La Haute Tour, owned by Mary Lou Tingley of Medham, N.J., won the Briard national specialty competition.

Top scoring obedience dog was a Doberman pinscher owned by Norma J. Currier of Oxford. Our Own Dark Secret won the Open A with a 197½ score. There were 59 entries in the various obedience classes.

U.S. Championships Begin

Upsets in Tennis

BROOKLINE, Mass (AP) — The fireworks started early in this year's U.S. tennis championships, with local favorite Chauncey Steele III upsetting No. 1 foreign seed Tom Koch of Brazil in the first round and young Patti Hogan livening things up with a racquet-tossing display before pulling out a dramatic comeback victory in her opening test.

Steele, a 25-year-old Harvard graduate whose tennis prominence has heretofore been confined pretty much to New England, called his 6-4, 6-3 victory over Koch "my biggest ever." He said he wasn't nervous at all playing before a partisan crowd on his home courts at Longwood Sunday.

* * *

"I've improved a lot this year, and I figured if I served well I had a chance," he said. "My serving turned out to be exceptionally good (he had 13 aces) and I became more confident."

Steele, of Cambridge, had met Koch once before, at Wimbledon, and the long-haired, 24-year-old southpaw had beaten him in straight sets.

"That was the first time I'd played against a left-hander in seven years, and I couldn't get his service back," Steele said. "This time I practiced two days ago with a left-handed player here at the club, and it really made a difference."

FINAL OUTBURST

Miss Hogan's temper outburst came in the third and final set of her match with Pam Teeguarden of Los Angeles, which she eventually won 6-1, 5-7, 8-6.

The 19-year-old La Jolla, Calif., resident had just been tied 5-5 when she flung her racquet to the edge of the court, where it either grazed or just missed a 14-year-old girl who was serving as a linesman.

When play was resumed Miss Teeguarden held service, then had Miss Hogan down 0-40. The latter rallied, however, to win the game, then broke through in the 13th and held service in the 14th.

Patti apologized to officials for the racquet-tossing episode.

"I was fed up and I just flung it," she said. "Then as I let go of it and saw where it was heading I could have died."

Defending men's champion Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., was idle in the singles Sunday after winning his initial test the previous day, but he teamed up with his new partner Clark Graebner to win a first round doubles match 6-3, 6-4 over Bill Colson and Charles Owens of Coral Gables, Fla.

Meanwhile second-seeded Stan Smith of Pasadenia, Calif., won his opening singles match 6-4, 6-4 over Fred McNair III of Baltimore, and third-seeded Bob Lutz of Los Angeles got started with a 6-2, 6-3 conquest of Steve Cornell of Oakland, Calif.

In some of the top women's matches, Kristy Pigeon of Danville, Calif., won a second round test over Peggy Michel of Los Angeles, 6-2, 7-5; Karen Krantzcke of Australia rallied for a 4-6, 6-0, 6-0 victory over Ann Ledebeff of San Marcos, Calif. in her first round match; and Winnie Shaw of England turned back Wendy Tomlinson of South Africa 7-5, 6-2, also in the first round.

Yanks Whip Chisox, 5-2, on Hall's Bat

CHICAGO (AP) — Jimmie Hall cracked a tying two-run homer in the fourth inning and then doubled to launch a three-run rally in the seventh Sunday to lead the New York Yankees to a 5-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The White Sox banged out 10 hits off starter Stan Bahnsen in the first five innings but could only manage two runs. Walt Williams doubled in the first and scored on a single by Gail Hopkins and Williams singled in the third and eventually scored on Hopkins' sacrifice fly.

* * *

Hall's second-inning single was the only Yankee hit off Paul Edmondson until Joe Pepitone singled with one out in the fourth and, after Pepitone was forced, Hall unloaded his third homer of the season.

Misses Bunt, Then Homers

Angels' Pinch-Hitter Helps 7-6 Victory

ANAHEIM (AP) — Pinch-hitter Billy Cowan missed a squeeze bunt, then slammed a two-run homer in the eighth inning that lifted the California Angels past Cleveland 7-6 Sunday.

It was Cowan's second homer of the season, his first as an Angel and California's fifth of the game, tying a club record, and capped a three-run uprising in the eighth that wiped out a 6-4 Cleveland lead.

* * *

Rick Riechardt opened the eighth with his second homer of the game. With one out, Jay Johnstone walked and Joe Azcue singled him to third. Bill Voss batted for Hoyt Wilhelm and left-hander Juan Pizarro relieved Stan Williams.

Cowan, who was purchased from the New York yankees several weeks ago, hit for Voss and tried to squeeze the tying run home, but he missed the ball and catcher Duke Sims' throw to third baseman Lou Camilli nailed Johnstone for the second out. Cowan then swung at the next pitch and won the game.

Orioles' Light Hitter Displays Big Bat

SEATTLE (AP) — There's just no time for relaxation when a pitcher faces the Baltimore Orioles, as Fred Talbot learned Sunday when Dave May, hitting eighth in the order and carrying a light .176 batting average, slammed a two-run homer that was all the Orioles really needed to whip Seattle's Pilots 4-1.

Don Mincher's leadoff home run in the bottom of the ninth was all that saved Seattle from a shutout—but the expansion Pilots have been blanked only twice this season in their home park.

* * *

Saturday night, Baltimore's Chico Salmon, batting eighth and without a homer in 45 times at bat, hit two, got a total of four hits and batted in six runs.

That helped Baltimore hang a 15-3 defeat on the Pilots and when Manager Earl Waver was reminded that the lower end of his batting order was giving him lots of runs he retorted "They're all good hitters down there."

CONTROL TROUBLE

Tom Phoebus, 12-4, who pitched to all but the last batter in Sunday's victory, scattered five hits and survived occasional control trouble. Weaver said Phoebus appeared to be tiring at the finish and replaced him with Ed Watt, who whiffed Gus Gil for the final out.

Don Buford and Brooks Robinson also had solo homers for the Orioles.

'Other' Player Wins for Tribe

Romo Is 1-0 Winner Over Royals

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Vincente Romo, the "other" player in the big Ken Harrelson trade between the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians last April, made his biggest splash in an eight-year major league career Sunday.

Romo, something of a "throwin" when the Indians sent him, Sonny Siebert and Joe Azcue to the Red Sox in exchange for Harrelson, Dick Ellsworth and Juan Pizarro, pitched the Sox to a 1-0 victory over the Kansas City Royals with relief help from Sparky Lyle and Siebert.

* * *

Romo now 4-8, was making only his third major league start.

He had a 1-0 lead and was working on a one-hitter going into the eighth inning.

* * *

The Royals then threatened when Jack Hernandez collected his second hit, was sacrificed to second and Lou Piniella beat out a single to put runners on second and third with two out. Lyle came on to end the threat by retiring Bob "Hawk" Taylor.

Tigers Power Past Oakland

McLain Notches 19th Win of Season

"I don't think Bauer liked it either," McLain said 'He has some good ball players. If Finley wants to do that bush stuff, he should buy one of those Global League teams."

* * *

Jackson was the only other player who commented on the music. "It bothered me the first time I was up," he said, "I couldn't concentrate."

BAT WAVER

Jackson tried to get the organist to stop playing by waving his bat at him.

Sunday's defeat dropped the A's two games behind the Minnesota Twins in the American League West race.

* * *

Oakland pitcher Jim Hunter was the victim of three of the six homers Detroit hit in the game. Hunter, 9-11, has given up 29 homers this season. Don Wert and Jim Northrup each hit two-run homers and Tom Tresh hit a solo shot. Later in the game Al Kaline hit a pair of homers and Mickey Stanley hit one.

Twins Defeat Nats, 4-3, in 13 Innings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consecutive singles by Cesar Tovar, Ted Uhlaender and Tony Oliva in the 13th inning snapped a tie and gave the Minnesota Twins a 4-3 victory over Washington Sunday.

* * *

Both teams had scored twice in the 11th, the Twins on Harmon Killebrew's two-run homer and the Senators on a walk and three singles.

* * *

After Tovar opened the 13th by singling off Dennis Higgins, 9-8, Uhlaender slashed a single past third baseman Ken McMullen, who was looking for a bunt and Tovar raced to third, Oliva then bounced a single past first baseman Mike Epstein. The Twins then loaded the bases but Jim Shellenback and Bob Humphreys shut them off with no further scoring.

* * *

After Killebrew's 32nd homer gave the Twins a 3-1 lead in the 11th, Frank Howard opened the bottom of the inning with a single, only the second hit off reliever Tom Hall, had worked eight innings.

UPSETTING TIGER — Catcher Bill Freehan of the Detroit Tigers is upended by Tom Reynolds of the Oakland Athletics in the ninth inning of the game yesterday in Oakland where the Tigers won a 9-3 decision. Reynolds was forced at the plate by Bert Campaneris when the bases were loaded.

Walled Lake Stars Trim Detroit Nine

Walled Lake All-Stars notched the last game in a three game series against U.A.W. Local 157 (Detroit) by a score of 9-4 last night at Walled Lake.

Ben Lillie led the team in the final game by starting the first inning with a home run.

The Walled Lakes B league playoff series will start tonight with Liberty Toni vs Penny Electric at 6 p.m. at Walled Lake Field.

FACING THE FOE—Doug Holcomb, Pontiac Firebirds' quarterback found himself being chased often Saturday night. Here he faces a host of Lansing green shirts as he tries to pick up yardage. Holcomb later scored on a six yard run.

Lansing Ties Firebirds

Eating up the clock with Holcomb being pursued around the backfield, Marty Malatin finally went over from the one, but Pontiac was penalized for motion and back to the six.

Holcomb then went wide and scored with 4:00 left in the game.

Both teams went to the air to pull out the win and the home crowd was on its feet shouting as Pontiac took possession with two minutes left, following a fake punt by Kenney who tried to pass for a first down.

One of Holcomb's passes was dropped at the Lansing 30, and a pass to Malatin went to the 35.

TRADE INTERCEPTIONS

Former Ferndale player Bob Super intercepted for Lansing to end this treat, but the action wasn't over, as Simms intercepted for the Firebirds with 35 seconds left at the Lansing 2.

A penalty moved the ball to the 30 after a pass to Jim Little and with one second left, McQueen's try for the field goal fell short.

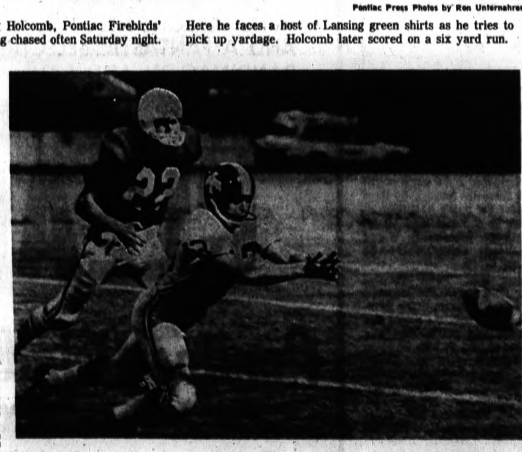

The tie, coupled with Flint's win over Detroit in a high scoring battle, tightened the Central Division race and indicated the better balance of the entire league this year.

Indiana Golf Player Wins Canada 'Am'

KITCHNER, Ontario (AP) — Wayne McDonald of Hornby, Ont., a 21-year-old Indiana University golfer, fired a final round 74 Sunday, fought off a challenge by two Americans, and won the Canadian Amateur Championship.

McDonald's 72-hole total of 284, four under par, was one shot better than Dick Siderowf, a Walker Cupper from Westport, Conn., who posted 75, and Leonard Thompson of Lauriburg, N.C., who shot 98.

McDonald carded his first bogey in the final round at the 16th when he hooked his tee shot into the rough.

He tied for second in the Ontario Amateur earlier this year. The freckle-faced youth won the Canadian Junior title in 1968.

12 Selected to Ryder Cup

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The United States' 12-man ryder cup team will include 10 first-time members when it plays Great Britain in England in September.

The only members of the squad who have played in Ryder Cup competition before are Billy Casper and Gene Littler.

The rest of the U.S. team will be composed of Frank Bears, Lee Trevino, Jack Nicklaus, Dave Hill, Tommy Aaron, Dan Sikes, Ray Floyd, Ken Still, Miller Barber and Dale Douglas.

* * *

The team was announced Sunday after the PGA national Championship, the last tournament in which points are awarded for the Ryder Cup standings.

Two long-time former members are missing. Arnold Palmer failed to make the team for the first time since 1961. Julius Boros, another four-time member, also missed it.

GUARDED JET — Joe Namath (12) gets plenty of protection as he looks for a receiver in the game against the New York Giants in Yale Bowl yesterday. Giving him protection is Winston Hill (75) and Randy Rasmussen (66). The Jets whipped the Giants, 37-14.

Cowboys Also Triumph

Seven games were played Saturday night. The Cleveland Browns downed the Los Angeles Rams 10-3, the San Diego Chargers edged the Oakland Raiders 10-7, the Chicago Bears ripped the Green Bay Packers 19-9, the Kansas City Chiefs routed the Cincinnati Bengals 23-7, the St. Louis Cardinals tripped the Pittsburgh Steelers 27-13 and the Philadelphia Eagles defeated the Miami Dolphins 14-10.

CHARGED AWAY

Namath and the Jets wasted no time taking charge against the Giants. They zoomed to a 24-0 lead almost before the Giants realized what was taking place.

* * *

Namath's payoff pitches were a 29-yarder to George Sauer, 20 yards to Bill Mathis and two yards to Pete Lammons. Rookie Mike Battle of Southern California got another Jet touchdown when he rambled 86 yards on a punt return. Fran Tarkenton passed for both Giants touchdowns, 13 yards to Aaron Thomas and 48 yards to Bobby Duhon.

Jim Butler scored twice in the Falcons' conquest of Boston, once on a 76-yard gallop. After spotting the Patriots a 6-0 lead on Gino Cappelletti's 23-yard and 50-yard field goals, the Falcons assumed command and led 17-6 at halftime.

Dallas got its triumph over the 49ers on field goals of 22 and 21 yards by Mike Clark. The Cowboys picked up two touchdowns after interceptions of John Brodie's passes.

LINEBACKERS STAR

The Browns conquered the Rams when linebacker Dale Andrews waltzed 50 yards with a pass interception. San Diego's Dick Redman another linebacker, romped 24 yards with an interception for the touchdown that beat the Raiders.

A 39-yard pass from Jack Concannon to Dick Gordon and three field goals by Mac Percival for Chicago's Bears wiped out Green Bay's 9-0 advantage. Kansas City's victory over Cincinnati was highlighted by Emmitt Thomas' 51-yard interception return for a touchdown and Jan Stenerud's three field goals.

* * *

Three field goals by Tom Dempsey and Bill Kilmer's aerials gave New Orleans the decision over Denver despite the brilliant passing of the Broncos' Steve Tensi, who hit for two touchdowns and set up a third. Kilmer tossed for one touchdown and set up another. Chuck Latourette's 91-yard touchdown burst with a blocked Pittsburgh punt and Jim Hart's 33-yard scoring pass to John Gilliam were the big plays in the Cardinals' triumph over the Steelers. Philadelphia's victory margin over the Dolphins proved to be a 67-yard pass from John Huarte to Harold Jackson.

Athletic Chief Resigns Post

Edgar Barrett Quits at Troubled Marshall

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) —Edgar O. Barrett, director of Marshall University's trouble-plagued athletic department, resigned Sunday afternoon.

Barrett, 38, who came to Marshall two years ago from a post as sports information director at West Virginia University at Morgantown, has been under intense public criticism since Marshall was indefinitely suspended by the Mid - American Conference Council of Presidents last month.

* * *

"Don't say I resigned under pressure," Barrett said. "I've been under pressure for two years."

With his wife, three sons and daughter looking on, Barrett told newsmen at his home here he had arrived at his decision Saturday "but its been coming on day by day."

The resignation is the latest development in the continuing athletic department controversy at Marshall.

COACHES OUSTED

Marshall's suspension from the conference came on the heels of a 142-page report submitted to the MAC by the school admitting recruiting irregularities. Shortly after the suspension, Marshall president Dr. Roland H. Nelson Jr. recommended the dismissal of football coach Perry Moss, his assistant Peter Kondos, and basketball coach Ellis Johnson.

The three coaches have appealed to a seven-member faculty review committee which is scheduled to resume its hearings in the cases Monday afternoon. In addition, Wayne attorney Samuel J. Smith, who represents Johnson and Kondos, has threatened to file $1 million libel suits against Nelson on behalf of each of his clients.

Ex-Northville High Golfer Wins Tourney

Former Northville High golfer Jim St. Germain and his partner Dick Drager of Black River, won the Meadowbrook Invitational golf title Saturday with a best ball total of 192 for 54 holes.

St. Germain, an Eastern Michigan University student who was once the medalist in the Press Prep tournament, fired a 66 with his partner in the final round.

Runnerup team was Ted Chapman of Meadowbrook and Jim Smith of Burning Tree with a total of 200.

2 Vesper Crews Win in Regatta

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two crews from Philadelphia's Vesper Boat Club won championship events Sunday at the National Regatta on the Schuylkill River's Henley courses.

Vesper came from behind to win the four-oared shells without coxswain over Stanford, Calif., Crew Association'sentry and gain a trip to the World Championships Sept. 11-14 at Klagenfurt, Australia.

* * *

The other Vesper victory was in the quadruple sculls, a five-boat final in which the New York Athletic Club held the lead much of the way, only to be disqualified for rowing out of the proper lane. Vesper won by about four lengths, in 6 minutes, 32.6 seconds. The Potomac Boat Club of Washington placed second and Fairmont third.

BERMUDA (AP) — United States Junior Championship sailing representatives Argyle Campbell and Thomas H. Purcell won a 7½-mile practice race Sunday in the Bermuda's Great Sound with a 3:59 time.

The two members of the University of Southern California sailing team had little difficulty in tacking in the three-knot-per-hour wind and gradually increased their lead as the race progressed.

All year long, Chevy-Vans have been priced as much as $110 less than other vans. But now it's Chevrolet Savings Time.

So you'll find it harder than ever to match Chevy-Van savings. Just as other dealers will find it harder than ever to match Chevy-Van.

The moment you slide behind the wheel you'll notice Chevy-Vans are easier to get into. No need for limbering-up exercises—there's no engine hump to straddle.

Turn the wheel and feel the way Chevy-Vans glide through circles. Because of shorter wheelbases, turning diameters are up to 7 ft. shorter.

You can back smack up to loading docks, too. Because the rear doors open all the way. (Other van rear doors don't, you know.)

And no other popular van has side doors like Chevy's. Big, wide-opening side doors with no seat back sticking out saying "How you going to get around me this time?"

If you use your head and see your Chevy dealer right now, he'll use his headstart to save you a bundle.

On what just happens to be the best '69 van in town.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Chicago, Giants Split Twinbill

Lippy Gets 'Pain Relief' From Cubs Bullpen

AP Wirephoto

TWO AWAY — Giants' centerfielder Willie Mays is greeted at the plate by Bobby Bonds (25) after hitting his 598th homer, two away from the magic number. Ron Hunt is No. 33. He hit the ball in the 4th inning at Candlestick Park where the Giants defeated the Cubs, 5-3.

By the Associated Press

When Leo Durocher had his famous bellyache several weeks ago he turned to a boys camp in Wisconsin. When he has a headache he turns to his bullpen.

The manager of the Chicago Cubs wig-wagged for relief twice Sunday and, quicker than you could say "the other pain-reliever," first Rich Nye and then Phil Regan came on to cure what ailed Durocher.

★ ★ ★

The outcome was a 3-1 victory over San Francisco in the night-cap of a doubleheader after the Giants took the opener 5-3 on bobby Bonds' tie-breaking two-run single in the seventh inning. Still, the Cubs saw a full game sliced from their lead in the National League East. They lead the New York Mets by 7½ games and St. Louis by eight.

Elsewhere, the Mets swept San Diego by identical 3-2 scores, St. Louis trimmed Atlanta 5-3, Pittsburgh topped Cincinnati 8-5, Los Angeles trounced Montreal 9-3 and Houston edged Philadelphia 3-2.

UNUSUAL CONFUSION

That left the NL West in its daily state of confusion, with the Reds one game in front of the Dodgers and 2½ ahead of the Astros, Giants and Braves.

The Cubs-Giants opener was a cut-and-dried affair. Jim Hickman's 11th homer gave Chicago a 1-0 lead, Mays' 11th homer and 598th of his career put the Giants in front 3-1, and after the Cubs tied it in the sixth, Bonds' two-run single won it in the seventh.

★ ★ ★

Dick Selma walked five—including Willie McCovey intentionally with two out and the bases empty in the third with the score 0-0—but didn't allow a hit until Bonds' slammed his 22nd homer in the fifth after the Cubs had gone ahead 3-0.

With two out in the seventh, Bonds and Ron Hunt singled and Durocher started to feel the first symptoms. He called for Nye and the left-hander retired pinch hitter Jim Ray Hart on a tap back to the mound.

UNINTENTIONAL

An inning later, McCovey walked — unintentionally — and with one out Ken Henderson singled. With Mays striding to the plate as a pinch hitter, a real migraine was just around the corner, so Durocher needed a big dose of his strongest relief —Regan.

The 32-year-old veteran slipped a called third strike past Mays, retired Don Mason on a grounder and set the Giants down 1-2-3 in the ninth, getting Bonds and Hunt on called third strikes.

★ ★ ★

Regan was obtained by the Dodgers from the American League after the 1966 season—the Cubs got him last year—and credits former teammates Ron Perranoski and Bob Miller, both now with Minnesota in the AL, with helping him become a successful reliever.

"Being sent to the Dodgers was a big break for me, as it turned out," Regan said. "Walt Alston started me on long relief first and, when I did all right, he tried me as a short reliever.

"That's when Perranoski and Miller helped me. Perranoski and I usually warmed up side by side and he showed me how to get ready for a relief call without pressing.

"As for Miller, he instructed me on just how to pitch to the various guys in the National League. After all, I had never seen a lot of them, including Mays."

SECOND SWEEP

The Mets swept San Diego for the second day in a row on Duffy Dyer's three-run homer in the opener and a two-run triple by Bud Harrelson in the nightcap, followed by J.C. Martin's pinch sacrifice fly.

Jerry Koosman hurled a five-hitter in the first game and Ron Taylor put down a San Diego threat in the second, extending the Padres' latest losing streak to 10 games.

★ ★ ★

Home runs by Bob Tillman, Hank Aaron—No. 32— and Rico Carty pulled the Braves into a 3-3 tie with St. Louis but the Cards won it by scoring twice in the seventh on Mike Shannon's sacrifice fly and Julian Javier's single.

★ ★ ★

Gene Alley's three-run homer capped a five-run uprising in the first inning and Pittsburgh overcame four Cincinnati homers to beat the Reds. Al Oliver and Willie Stargell also connected for the Pirates while Pete Rose, Bobby Tolan, Johnny Bench and Tony Perez were the Cincy belters.

★ ★ ★

The Dodgers trailed Montreal 3-2 entering the ninth but exploded for seven runs on Bill Sudakis' two-run homer, a two-run single by Willie Davis and Wes Parker's two-run double, with Parker scoring on an error. Ty Cline and Ron Fairly hit solo homers for the Expos.

Carol Mann Winner in Eyelash Finish

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Carol Mann stood off a fiery closing round rush by a little-known Jan Ferraris and won the $3,000 first-place money by one stroke Sunday in the $20,000 Southgate Open women's golf tournament.

Miss Mann, who closed to within an eyelash of Kathy Whitworth as the top money winner on the women's tour this year with the victory, shot a three-over-par 75 in Sunday's final round for a 54-hole total of 217.

★ ★ ★

Miss Ferraris, a three-year pro who has never won a tour tournament, recorded her highest finish and won second-place money of $2,300. She has a closing round two-under-par 70 for 218.

Tying for third and each getting $1,650 were Sharon Miller and Sandra Haynie with 219. Miss Miller was Miss Mann's top challenger entering the final round but also slipped to a 75 Sunday. Miss Haynie had a 71.

Miss Whitworth, who has won five tournaments this year to Miss Mann's four, finished in a tie for eighth with a 222 and won $712.50. That gave Miss Whitworth $32,704 in winnings this year compared with Miss Mann's $32,547.

BOGEY TROUBLE

Miss Mann appeared to be sailing to fairly easy victory until she bogeyed the first three holes on the back nine to give Miss Ferraris chance.

Miss Ferraris, 22, from San Francisco, took advantage of the lapse to climb to within two strokes and got within one when she birdied the 15th.

However, Miss Ferraris took a bogey on the 18th to finish her round ahead of Miss Mann. And that meant Miss Mann also could take a bogey on the final hole to win, which she did.

Miss LaCoste U.S. Winner

French Golfer Plans to Quit 'Tour'

IRVING, Tex., (AP) — It appears the 70th U. S. Women's Amateur championship will be without a defending champion.

Catherine LaCoste of France, the first foreigner to win the tournament in 33 years with a 3-and-2 victory Saturday over Shelley Hamlin of Fresno, California said she plans to quit international competition.

★ ★ ★

The 24-year-old Miss LaCoste said she will retire from international golf "very soon."

She cited "other interests" as her reason that and the fact she has won just about all there is for a woman golfer.

Miss LaCoste now holds the U.S. Women's Open, U.S. Amateur, British Amateur, French Amateur and Spanish Amateur titles. She is the only woman ever to win the British and American titles in the same year.

★ ★ ★

She said, "I want to stop at the maximum of my career. I've had enough of the tension. This is the last big one I wanted to win. Winning this championship has closed out a girlhood dream."

Ray Floyd Wins PGA by 1 Shot

The third win put Floyd in a class with Michigan's Davey Hill, 32, who staged a stirring finish to close at even par 284 and share 15th place.

Leading money winner Frank Beard was at 282, while Jack Nicklaus was at 283.

"I just didn't know the course," said Hill in explaining his sudden turnabout. After a 74-75 that put him in just under the wire for the 36-hole cut (149 made it), he came back with 67-68.

Hill headed for home this morning. He's slated to play in the pro-am preceding the Michigan Open later this week at Bedford Valley near Battle Creek. Not being a member of the Michigan section PGA, Hill is therefor ineligible to play in the Michigan Open — he won the title in 1959.

NO ANSWER

"I asked them if they'd let me play and not participate in the prize Monday," said Hill. "But no answer."

The win by Floyd may have added the final chapter in the story of the so-called big three — Arnold Palmer, Nicklaus and Player.

Since 1957, at least one member of that trip has won one of the four major championship — U.S. Open, Masters, British Open, PGA. That ended here with Floyd taking the title. George Archer, who was at 297 here, earlier won the Masters, Tony Jacklin took the British title and Moody is the Open king.

The end of the big three really came Thursday when Palmer carded an unheard of 82 and promptly withdrew from the tournament with a painful hip. Another part of the trio — Nicklaus — took himself out of contention here with a triple-bogey seven on the final hole in Saturday's round.

PGA Course Officials Lauded for Reactions

By FLETCHER SPEARS

DAYTON, Ohio — Laughter is a good tonic for tension and there were numerous attempts at levity here yesterday as golf's top pros decided one question — who's best — at the same time raising the lid on what heretofore had not been a serious problem — security.

Ray Floyd, a talkative North Carolinian, is the new PGA champion, the 26-year-old fending off his peers here yesterday in the 51st renewal of the event while security guards, PGA officials and local police were prepared to silence any demonstrators bent on disrupting the tournament.

* * *

So Floyd has done his part. But for the PGA, the presence of demonstrators on the golf course has opened the door to a question that's virtually impossible to answer adequately.

"I thought the officials did a tremendous job yesterday (Saturday)," Warren Orlick of Tam O'Shanter Country Club near Orchard Lake was saying midway in yesterday's wrapup.

"But it's an almost impossible job. Considering that the officials didn't know where they (demonstrators) would hit, they reacted well. It's like war. You don't really know where they enemy will hit," said the national PGA secretary.

COURT CHARGES

Several demonstrators part of a biracial civil rights group from the Dayton area did disrupt play, primarily for Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player, during Saturday's round, and nine were hauled into court for their activities on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to contempt of court.

"When I saw the big guy coming at us on the 10th green," Player was recalling yesterday while talking with reporters before this final round, I was just wishing then that I was the fastest man in America."

'What'd they give you for that hole in one?" asked Mike Souchak of Jim Turnesa.

"Nothing," said the 55-year-old Turnesa, who aced the 178-yard No. 8 hole yesterday with a 5-iron.

"They should give you a car at least," said Souchak, busily collecting his belongings after a final round 72 (294).

* * *

"I think the association (PGA) should buy you one."

Joining the conversation, Jack Burke, — 297-shooter, said, "Yeh, you have a car Jim. You can have mine."

"Maybe I'll protest then," quipped Turnesa. "That's what I'll do, I'll go out there and get some of those long-haired demonstrators and protest."

RIGHT MOVE

National PGA President Leo Fraser walked by. "You're handling it well," said an official. "Bright Move."

"Well, bright I'm not," countered Leo, a former golf professional in Michigan. "I have this job so I couldn't be too bright."

"It's a shame though, "He continued, "that we have to conduct the tournament under such tension."

One of the toughest holes on the challenging NCR course is the 233-yard, par-3, 15th but it turned out to be the easiest of all for Souchak, head pro at Oakland Hills.

"If they'd have played the tournament on that hold I'd have to be a winner," cracked big Mike who collected three birdies and a par in four tries.

* * *

He bagged his third deuce yesterday by holing a 50-foot sand shot after knocking his tee shot into a bunker.

Record attendance for PGA championship had local chamber of Commerce officials smiling. Fans totaling 106,043 — practice and regular tournament — tromped over the wooded, rolling course to watch the pros. The four-day total of 80,847 broke the record of 76,150 set in 1967 at Columbine Country Club in Colorado.

Timberlane Ousts Holly in Playoffs

Timberlane Lounge ousted Holly Hotel, 5-0, in the losers bracket of the class "D" Fastpitch tournament at Beaudette Park last night and will play Moon Supper Club tonight for the Championship.

Al and Bill Hayward teamed with Bruce Beers for a total of seven hits for Timberlane.

Conn's was rained out in the Michigan District Rec Slowpitch tourney and may play tonight at Palmer Field at 8 p.m.

Track Club Entries Brighten Prospects

The Pontiac Track Club results in the AAU Olympic Development meet held on Sunday were very good and gives the Track future in Pontiac a bright outlook.

John Smith and Jeff Gallero were one and two in the 100 yard dash both will attend Pontiac Northern this fall. Dan Matthews placed 2nd in the 440 (P.N. soph.) and in the one mile run Frank Vega 8th grade was second with Rudy Tovar (8th grade) 3rd. The 440 relay team notched a 2nd and Mitchell Hensel PCH and John Little 9th grader placed in the hurdles.

Flint Bowler Oldest to Roll Perfect Game

FARMINGTON, N.M. (UPI) — Flint, Mich., eliminated Dallas, Tex., 3-1 while Windsor, Ontario, Canada ousted host Farmington, 6-5, Sunday in the third round of the Connie Mack Baseball World Series.

* * *

Flint scored all its runs in the first inning on two walks, two singles, and a fielders choice. Jim Murdock delivered the key blow with a two-run bases-loaded single. Dallas pitchers did not give up a hit the rest of the way but were unable to overcome the three run deficit.

Dallas got its lone run in the third inning on four straight walks.

Kaser Winner of Satellite PGA Tourney

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP) — Monty Kaser, 27, of Wichita, Kan., had few worries about meal money today after pocketing a check for $7,400 in winning the $40,000 Hospital Open Golf Tournament.

* * *

Kaser enjoyed his second biggest payday in three years on the pro golf tour as he birdied two of the last four holes Sunday and finished with a 69 for a 72-hole total of -274, 10 under par, in the PGA satellite tournament.

Steve Opperman equalled Kaser's closing 69, but had to settle for second place with 275, worth $4,400. Mike Hill had a 70 and wound up in a third-place tie with Bert Weaver, each collecting $2,200. Weaver had a closing round 68.

Mud Hens Homer 4 Times in Loss

Toledo's Mud Hens hit four home runs against the Louisville Colonels Sunday, but still fell under the .500 mark for the first time this year with a 10-4 loss.

* * *

The defeat also dropped the defending International League champs 4½ games out of the league lead in the red-hot race. The Hens now sit in seventh place in the eight-team league.

In other action, Syracuse beat Columbus 4-2, Rochester whipped Richmond 7-6 and Tidewater's doubleheader at Buffalo was rained out.

THINK TWICE BEFORE CHANGING

FOLLOWING A SUDDEN BAD SHOT IN THE MIDDLE OF A ROUND, SOME PLAYERS FOUL THEMSELVES UP BY MAKING A SLIGHT CHANGE, FOLLOWED BY YET ANOTHER, UNTIL THEY'VE APPLIED SEVERAL WRONGS TO MAKE A RIGHT.

THIS IS THE TIME TO STOP AND ANALYZE YOUR MISTAKE. TRY TO SUPPLANT A WRONG WITH A RIGHT BY CORRECTING THE MISTAKE, NOT YOUR BASIC SWING.

ALL GOOD PLAYERS OCCASIONALLY MISCUE A SHOT, BUT THEY DON'T MASTEN TO CHANGE BECAUSE OF A SINGLE ERROR.

Pearson Wins Yankee 600

Racing Drivers Pad Healthy Bankrolls

By the Associated Press

Denis Hulme, Al Unser and David Pearson padded their already healthy bankrolls in auto racing during the weekend, while old pro Ernie Derr purred merrily along toward his 10th short track driving title.

Hulme, former world Grand Prix champion, sped to his third victory in the $1 million Canadian - American Challenge Cup series for sports-racing cars at Mansfield, Ohio, and picked up a check for $12,700.

* * *

Unser, hard-luck guy of this year's Indianapolis 500, won the 200-mile Tony Bettenhausen Memorial race for USAC championship cars at Milwaukee and was paid $15,543.

* * *

Pearson, aiming for a third NASCAR Grand National title, won the rain-shortened Yankee 600 for stock cars at Cambridge Junction, Mich. His $21,950 check boosted his purse money for the season to $135,095.

Derr, showing no signs of faltering at 47 years of age, won two 100-mile short track events in the Midwest. He was paid $1,850 for both victories, but more importantly padded his lead in the International Motor Contest Association championship point battle. He has won nine IMCA titles in a career that started shortly after World War II.

Other winners of major weekend races included Butch Hartman of Zanesville, Ohio, in a 100-mile, $20,000 race for USAC stock cars at Springfield, Ill., and Ken Rush of High Point, N. C., in a 250-mile event for NASCAR Grand Touring cars at Cambridge Junction.

* * *

Hulme and his owner-driving partner Bruce McLaren now have combined to win the first five races in this year's 11-race series for the powerful Group 7 Can-Am cars. McLaren, who finished second Sunday, trails Hulme in the championship battle by five points—70 to 75.

Chris Amon, driving an Italian Ferrari, finished third for the second time in three races. Fourth place went to Jo Siffert of Switzerland, making his first start in a new 12-cylinder factory Porsche.

RECUPERATED

Unser, who broke a leg in a garage area accident just prior to the Memorial Day 500 at Indy, posted an average speed of 106.600 miles per hour in bringing his Lola turbocharged-Ford across the finish line at Milwaukee only 22 seconds ahead of his brother, Bobby Unser.

Lloyd Ruby, the veteran from Wichita Falls, Tex., was third while Mike Mosley of La Puente, Calif., was fourth and Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., the USAC championship point leader, was fifth.

* * *

Pearson completed only 165 of the scheduled 300 laps in the rich NASCAR Grand National race at Michigan International Speedway as rain stalled the proceedings for more than four hours.

* * *

The Ford team driver from Spartanburg, S. C., who now has won 10 times this season, was in front of the field when darkness ended what otherwise would have been a high speed chase before a crowd estimated by track officials at 52,000.

* * *

Buddy Baker was second in a Dodge, adding $10,880 to his previous winnings of $28,855; while third place went to Ford's Richard Petty, who brought his season's total to $95,460.

WHEN DRY

Pearson's average speed was only 115.508 miles per hour, but he and the other leaders turned the two-mile speedway at 160 m.p.h. when the surface was dry enough to race at speed.

Rush, driving a Camaro, had averaged 115.889 m.p.h. in winning the 250-mile warmup race at Michigan Saturday. That race, delayed at the start for almost two hours because of rain, was largely a duel between Rush and young Pete Hamilton, who had qualified his Camaro at 151.946 m.p.h. Hamilton blew the engine in the ear 19 laps from the finish.

Winning Host

Our Lady of Sorrows parish of Farmington held its 7th annual golf tournament named after its pastor Rev. Thomas Behna.

* * *

The winner? Monsignor Thomas Behan who carded a new low of 62 at Idyl Wyld.

SEARCH

A search party, made up of park maintenance men and volunteers, patiently scours the mountain area for traces of a lost child.

A child is lost. Only a few minutes after he wanders away from his parents, he has disappeared into the wild and mysterious depths of the luxuriantly beautiful Great Smoky Mountain country, Tennessee. The photographs on this page were taken during the course of an actual search. On this occasion, the labor of the searchers was unrewarded. Tragically, the child was not found.

A call for help goes out. And it is answered promptly, with manifold compassion, generosity and efficiency. The Great Smoky Mountains National Park personnel immediately respond to begin a search with resources organized and kept ready for such contingencies as this, rangers working along with maintenance servicemen, and even representatives from other national parks.

But that is only the beginning. Within a few days the total of searchers in the area has multiplied many times, with as many as 3,500 at weekends and with hundreds still out during the week. Some of them come from as far as 500 miles away to give their help.

The Smoky Mountains raise their curving ranges in a sequence of waves which rise and fall under a sky whose clouds lie low and lovingly over them—hence the name "Smoky," for the mists which drift and cling everywhere. Their soft weeping nourishes a thick growth of every form of plant life, from towering forest to ground mosses, as well as a wealth of waterways, rivers and waterfalls. Over such country, the task of finding one small, lost child is powered by hope but haunted by heartbreak. It is a matter of patience and persistence; and with the best will in the world, rain and fog frequently hamper or halt the search.

The patient and the persistent include, besides park service personnel, various military units—National Guardsmen, Air National Guardsmen, jungle-trained Green Berets and the invaluable Army and Air Force helicopters which skim and dip over terrain too rugged for the jeeps and trucks (which in turn give way to basic, hard and weary foot-slogging until that, too, can go no further).

Agents of the U.S. Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division have come, too, practiced in nosing out illicit stills hidden away in the wilderness, and a U.S. Coast Guard unit out of Knoxville to check lake and river.

Volunteers offer a range of skills between them; all offer goodwill and energy. Rescue squadmen are joined by bear hunters, experienced outdoorsmen and expert woodsmen. Then there are the West Side dads of Knoxville YMCA Indian Guide program, and a bunch of students from a conservation group program. And more individuals, hikers, neighbors, tourists, the anonymous, uncounted and unknown.

Catering for the hungry are the Red Cross Women's Auxiliary, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of a firemen's local of the AFL-CIO. They come out each day to set up their field kitchens and to organize the distribution of food given by the Red Cross, church and civic groups, local restaurants, stores and individual donors.

A child is lost. But the anguished concern of the parents is shared, and a great army of mercy and faith doggedly works on over the dense, secretive beauty of the mountains and valleys.

Searchers come into sight in a clearing, working across the wide slope of a mighty ridge.

At the search headquarters, park personnel confer over the day's work and plan the next.

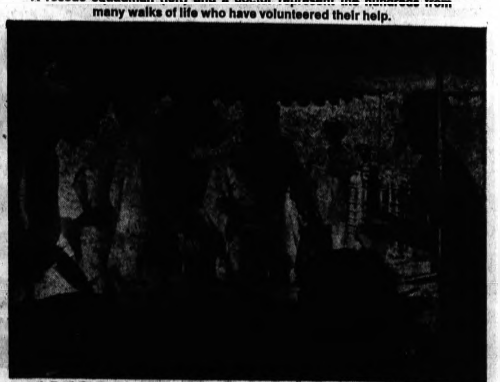

A rescue squadman (left) and a doctor represent the hundreds from many walks of life who have volunteered their help.

A group of Green Berets pauses wearily at the park ranger headquarters.

Last Week's Rally Continues

Mart Stays on Higher Ground

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market remained on higher ground in moderate trading early this afternoon, with analysts generally regarding the advance as an extention of last week's late rally.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.92 at 822.80.

Advances led declines by about 400 issues.

Analysts said the early advance contained "some cautious, selective buying" that apparently stemmed from "hopes that the rally may have further to go."

'INVESTORS WAITING'

The advance got under way late last Wednesday and buoyed the market in its closing sessions of week.

"The trading pace," one analyst said, "indicates investors still are out of the action and apparently waiting to see what the market does."

The Associated Press average of 60-stocks at noon was up .6 at 290.0, with industrials up .7, rails up .3, and utilities up .3.

A 136,800 share block of Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates traded at 25, off 1½.

Brunswick, in which a 100,000 share block was traded, was up ⅝ at 18¼.

Natomas gained 4 to 100. The company said it expected to start exploratory drilling operations before the end of the year at its contract area off the coast of southeast Sumatra.

On the American Stock Exchange, National General warrants (new) led the most active list, up ½ at 8⅝.

Hero of Czech Strife Far From Forgotten

PRAGUE (AP) — The grave is unmistakable.

The stone lies buried under beaps of flowers. More than 100 votive candles burn before it. The knots of people stand silently.

* * *

Young and old they come, add flowers or a candle, and stare at the portrait wrapped in plastic film. Small letters under the picture of the young, serious face read:

* * *

"Jan Palach. August 11, 1948- January 19, 1969."

BRAVE DAYS

This grave, more than any other place, is a memorial to the brave days of the "Prague Spring" and a monument to the martyrs — both living and dead — of the cold days following the Warsaw Pact invasion of Aug. 21, 1968.

* * *

Jan Palach, a philosophy student at Prague's Charles University, turned himself into a human torch on the afternoon of Jan. 16 at the head of Wenceslas Square, in protest against the erosion of Czechoslovakia's reforms under the steady pressure of occupying Soviet forces.

* * *

A hero's burial in the national cemetery was denied by Czech authorities. But each day Czechs have made the modest grave into a national shrine.

* * *

Tacked to the tree growing directly before the grave are tributes. "No, brother, we will not betray the faith . . ." reads one.

KEEP THE FAITH

"We shall remain faithful to you and your nationalism," says another.

They are unsigned.

* * *

One year after the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia, the people appear to be thinking independently, paying little attention to the calls from the Communist party leadership.

* * *

The party press proclaims that under the Soviet-style policy adopted after the ouster of reformer Alexander Dubcek, his post-January reform can finally be realized.

* * *

Replying to a youth poll conducted for the Brno Party Committee in southern Moravia, 68.8 per cent of young party members said they thought the current line cut too deeply into the Dubcek reforms.

DIGNIFIED CELEBRATION

The Presidium of the Central Committee, the highest party body, has released a statement calling for a dignified celebration in August of the 25th anniversary of the Slovak uprising in 1944 the eastern part of the country rebelled under Communist leadership against its occupation by Nazi Germany.

* * *

The people circulate underground leaflets calling on the nation to boycott stores and walk to work on Aug. 21 as a protest on the first anniversary of the 1968 invasion.

On Aug. 11 the Interior Ministry announced that five employes of state industries were under investigation for distributing such literature on the job.

One of them had used company equipment to duplicate leaflets, the ministry said.

Great Lakes Shorelines Facing More Havoc in 1970

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — With damages mounting and levels near or surpassing high-water records for this century, the Great Lakes are expected to wreak more havoc along their 10,000 miles of shoreline in 1970.

Waves eating away embankments, particularly the high bluffs along eastern shores of lower Lake Michigan, are threatening to topple scores of homes and vacation cottages, whose front or back yards already have vanished.

★ ★ ★

Once high and dry private docks now are awash, susceptible to being carried away in storms. Where sandy beaches once stretched outward there now is water. Nearby low-lying areas once above water level now are marshes.

Some cruiser owners have found themselves unable to get their pleasure craft out of boathouses—rising water having shortened door-top clearance too much. Still others have found themselves cut off from the lakes, unable to get under canal bridges because higher water gave them no clearance.

DUMP FOR OLD AUTOS

Among those disturbed as waves eat their way inland is Carl Kuyat of St. Joseph Mich., who says he's stopped the encroachment at least temporarily by dumping old automobiles over the cliff.

Charging him with pollution, the State Department of Natural Resources ordered Kuyat to halt his do-it-yourself project last February.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kuyat says "we've got it stopped," but estimated that before they did the lake had claimed between 30 and 50 feet of their backyard.

No figures are available for 1969 damages, but the Lakes Survey District of the Army's Corps of Engineers estimated somewhat similar high waters did $61.2 million damages in the springs of 1951 and 1952.

CONSIDERABLY HIGHER

And the three lakes over which man has virtually no control — Michigan, Huron and Erie — are expected to start their annual spring rises next year at levels considerably higher than they did this year.

Experts attribute the high waters to above normal precipitation in all of the five lake basins this year and last.

★ ★ ★

John Hanna, public information officer for the Lakes Survey District, explains what's happening thus: "Suppose you turned on the bathtub spigots full blast and pulled the plug — the water would keep rising. The outlet just can't handle all of it."

Speaking before the Great Lakes Commission, made up of representatives from the eight states bordering the lakes, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley of Michigan said last month that "today's damages could be much higher (than those of 1951-52) because of increased development along the shorelines."

'MUST FIND SOLUTIONS'

Pointing to serious problems occasioned by low water in the early 1960s, Kelley said that "methods must be found to keep our lake levels within reasonable bounds."

Lake Eries' average July level was the highest for any July since the Lakes Survey District began keeping tabs on the inland seas back in 1860. It was only two and three-quarters inches below the all-time one-month record set in May, 1952.

★ ★ ★

Michigan, Huron and Superior were less than an inch and a half below their highest levels for this century last Friday. Both Michigan and Huron, joined by the Straits of Mackinac, are expected to start next spring's rise at least a foot above the level prevailing at their upturn last March.

While the lakes rise every spring and fall every winter, the Corps of Engineers says eras of high water and low water follow no fixed cycle. Records confirm this.

PRECIPITATION IS KEY

Precipitation — in snow or rain — and how much of it gets into the lakes are the controlling factors.

In the first six months of this year, the Lake Superior basin received 16.67 inches, against an average of 16.00 inches. In Michigan's basin it measured 21.33 this year, against an average of 17.72.

★ ★ ★

The 1969 precipitation against the average for Huron was 19.51-17.66; Erie 23.17-19.87; Ontario, 19.71-19.63.

High water is not unwelcome by all who use the lakes. It means money to ship operators. For each inch of water above the so-called low-water datum line (or guaranteed channel depth) a freighter can take on an additional 100 tons of cargo.

As of last Friday, the lakes ranged up to 47 inches above the low-water datum line, and all were above both their average levels for the last 10 years and for the 1860-1968 period.

And the Lakes Survey forecasts all except Ontario will exceed their 10-year and long-term average levels for the next six months. Ontario is expected to dip below in December but turn upward in January.

The Michigan Highway Department has announced plans to build a 3,900-foot seawall at a cost of $1 million to protect a section of the Interstate 94 business route through St. Joseph.

Cliff Johnson, a Michigan conservation officer, reports that a man who was interested in buying lakefront property on the Canadian side of Lake St. Clair was told a temporary shutdown of the flow across the American side at Niagara Falls was responsible for the high water.

But Johnson and Lake Survey experts agree this has had absolutely nothing to do with lake levels.

Some have complained that Canada is diverting too much water into Lake Superior. But Canada has been diverting 5,000 cubic feet per second since 1956, at the request of the United States.

★ ★ ★

That diversion was agreed upon by treaty and was to compensate the lakes for 5,000 cubic feet per second being drained off at Niagara by Canada for hydroelectric power generation.

Chicago also drains 5,000 cubic feet per second to use in increasing the flow of the Chicago River toward the Mississippi.

DROP IN BUCKET'

Hanna points out that 5,000 cubic feet per second is "only a drop in the bucket, so to speak, when you consider the St. Marys River is running 115,000 cubic feet per second" from Lake Superior.

★ ★ ★

The Corps of Engineers can partially control the outflow of Superior and Ontario by dams with gates which can be opened to speed the flow or closed to slow it. But there's no control anywhere else.

Some have suggested widening of the Detroit and St. Clair rivers and possibly some control works on Lake St. Clair would provide the answer. It might, engineers agree, but it would be too costly to undertake, with the river having to be pushed several blocks into downtown Detroit and into Windsor, Ont., on the other side.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Rep. Charles A. Mosher, R-Ohio, has proposed legislation to authorize federal construction of barriers to protect private property from shoreline erosion along the Great Lakes. Such authorization exists now only for protection of public property.

The gas turbine was invented by C. G. Curtis in 1899.

Help for Traffic Control

Computers Eyed for Air Duty

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — Computer navigation, which helped land men on the moon, might provide the answer to the mounting problems of congestion and delay in earthly air traffic.

One engineer even goes so far as to suggest that if technology can put men on the moon it can put airline passengers into major airports without lengthy delays.

Maybe.

★ ★ ★

Some commercial aircraft manufacturers are taking a first step toward the completely computerized revision of the nation's air traffic control system proposed recently by John H. Shaffer, administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration.

Shaffer, speaking to the Air Line Pilots Association in Atlanta, called for use of computers in aircraft and on the ground as the key to air traffic problems. He said the system now is "strained to the utmost."

NEW SYSTEMS

At least three manufacturers are working on area-navigation systems involving computers in the airliners.

Lockheed Aircraft Corp. is developing an "add-on" computer system for its new L-1011 jetliner, scheduled for delivery in 1971. The equipment will be optional, but significantly, Lockheed's customer—airlines have agreed to have their new aircraft wired for the systems—at their expense.

★ ★ ★

"It's a first step toward complete revision of the system," said Lockheed engineer John A. Gorham, who is in charge of flight guidance and controls for the L-1011.

The digital computer system, Gorham said, would enable pilots to follow a prescribed flight path from takeoff to landing and relieve ground controllers of having to watch every single airplane.

CONVERSATION

Airline pilots, Shaffer and others at the recent Atlanta conference agreed that the volume of conversation between ground controllers and pilots contribute heavily to congestion problems.

★ ★ ★

"Our system," Gorham said, "is designed so it could be completedly automated. The pilot could insert the flight plan at the beginning of his flight and it would take him across the country to the terminal area—all the way down to the runway ready to land."

Lockheed's new air-buses will be wired for installation of the navigation system or piece-by-piece addition as necessary, he said, thus eliminating expensive reworking of the system to incorporate future advances.

A spokesman for Delta Air lines, which is buying 24 of the Lockheed air-buses, said the add-on features "are desirable." The computer area navigation system, he said, "is one approach to navigation."

Gorham said he thought it would be 10 years or more before there is general computerization of the nation's air traffic system.

★ ★ ★

McDonnell Douglas reportedly is working on area navigation systems for its transports, but has released no details. Boeing also is looking into area navigation systems, according to Aviation Week and Space Technology magazine.

Opening lead—♥ 2

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Oswald: "When your grandfather taught me the game of bridge I was seven years old. One of the rules laid down was to play low when second hand. I must have been nearly nine before I realized there are plenty of times when you should play second hand high."

Jim: "There certainly are. Let's illustrate some this week."

* * *

Oswald: "Here is a classic example: North and South reach a slightly optimistic no-trump game. West makes his normal lead of the deuce of hearts and South plays the three from dummy."

Jim: "Had West led from queen-10 instead of queen-eight, South's nine would be worth a full trick to him but East produces the 10. South lets it hold. East plays the king, again South ducks but he has to win the third lead of the suit."

* * *

Oswald: "His next play is the five of diamonds and it is up to West to play second hand high. If he doesn't make that play the eight will be played from dummy. If East lets it hold, South will go after clubs and wind up with two spades, one heart, two diamonds and five clubs. If East plays the queen, South will make four diamond tricks later on."

* * *

Jim: "The king of diamonds play should be automatic here. If South holds the queen that king is dead, anyway. If South holds three diamonds and East just two, there is no way to stop four diamond tricks. With the actual holding South is held to a maximum of one diamond trick."

Oswald: "Glad you mentioned maximum. South might just let that king hold and try a finesse for the queen later on. That way he wouldn't even make one diamond trick."

Nixon Prodded on Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury and Interior Department are urging President Nixon to propose new oil tax policy to help the administration regain the tax reform spotlight from congressional Democrats.

The plan would require oil companies to justify their tax breaks by investing money equal to the tax breaks into new programs to improve or develop the nation's natural resources.

* * *

The proposal which would either add millions of dollars to the oil industry tax bill or generate a spate of research and development projects. It has been publicly endorsed by Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel.

Sources said Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy also is advocating the program, although somewhat more quietly.

CHOICE IS NIXON'S

But the ultimate choice is Nixon's. The President must decide during his working vacation on the oil-rich California coast if he will include the plan in the tax package he will present the Senate Finance Committee Sept. 4.

The tax reform bill passed by the House cuts the controversial depletion allowance from 27½ to 20 per cent but permits oil companies to continue single-year write-offs of intangible drilling costs, considered a major loophole by some Treasury tax experts.

* * *

The Treasury-Interior proposal would permit oil companies to claim no more benefits from depletion, intangible drilling costs or other measures than they spend on research.

Research would be defined as exploratory oil drilling, projects to extract oil from oil shale, new programs to use coal, innovactions in forestry management or other development of natural resource .

SAVING SUBSTANTIAL

The plan could be either substituted for the House-passed cut in the depletion allowance or layered on top of it. Even with a 20 per cent allowance, the tax saving to be earmarked for research is substantial.

The Senate Finance Committee is scheduled to begin hearings on the tax reform bill Sept. 4. The administration plans to offer a comprehensive set of amendments to the House bill at that time.

Czechoslovaks Defy Reds, Note Invasion

PRAGUE (UPI) — A rain-drenched card attached to a bunch of roses was thrown today at the foot of St. Wenceslas Monument. It bore only the date "21 August 68."

The flowers were tossed at the monument to mark the beginning of a week filled with memories of the Soviet-led invasion of the nation a year ago — and with government warnings to ignore calls for public protests on the anniversary.

* * *

President Ludvik Svoboda Sunday added his voice to those of other national leaders who have warned that authorities will not tolerate demonstrations this week.

But protesters did more than throw flowers around the Wenceslas Monument — traditional rallying point in the days after the invasion.

BOO SOVIETS

At the world amateur cycling championships in Brno, some 10,000 Czechoslovaks defied announcers' demands for sportmanship and roundly booed Soviet riders whenever they came onto the track.

When one Russian was beaten in an important race, the crowd broke into laughter and then chants of "Schauba . . . Schauba . . .", a reference to two Czechoslovak victories over the Soviet team at the world ice hockey championships in March.

* * *

Svoboda, Communist party leader Gustav Husak and a number of other leaders last week returned from a visit with Kremlin officials at which it was believed they discussed the possibility of protest demonstrations.

Svoboda said Sunday the Soviets "expressed interest in our solving the problems of political and economic consolidation as soon as possible." He also said the talks would continue.

Welfare Contab

DETROIT (AP) — The National Welfare Rights Organization says it expects 1,500 persons from 47 states to attend a five - day convention of "welfare recipients, leaders and poor people," starting Thursday at Wayne State University. The organization said it would decide policy for dealing with the Family Assistance Program. The NWRO claims 75,000 members.

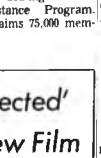

Elaine May Has 'Directed' Four Execs Out of New Film

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Fat Jack Weston (238 pounds in his jockey shorts) is about to do a nude scene since everybody else is . . . and the instantaneous response of a close friend of his was, "He may bring back clothes."

He's in the most-gossiped-about film of the year, "A New Leaf," with "a lady," Elaine May, once of Nichols and May, functioning so independently as a director that she's driven out two producers and a couple of assistant directors . . .

"We're 23 days and a million three over the budget and the lady just bats her big brown eyes and puffs her miniature cigars and says 'Yes, I know,'" says Weston. "The lady's a genius."

WILSON

* * *

Weston shuddered at her power. "One day I saw a cameraman, a grown man, talking to himself."

* * *

Those who departed before the cigar smoke of the lady director included Howard Koch, once head of Paramount, and Hilly Elkins, producer of "Oh! Calcutta!". Walter Matthau has not been upset by the leisurely preparation schedule of the lady genius and director.

"She dares to buck the establishment, to do it her way," declares Weston admiringly.

* * *

Weston, a country boy from Cleveland, manages to get along with dames—he male-supported Audrey Hepburn, Faye Dunaway, Ingrid Bergman, Catherine Deneuve, Tallulah Bankhead and Peggy Cass—"and also some normal people."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Cosa Nostra dignifiedly insists now that it's no longer narcotic-trafficking and only in banking and bond-stealing . . . Barbra Streisand'll vacation in Southhampton for five weeks after "On A Clear Day" . . . Detroit Officer Is Exonerated

1 of 4 Suspended in Youth Beatings

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has ordered full back pay and restored the rank of sergeant to a policeman who was suspended and demoted as a result of charges by Negro youths that they were beaten by off-duty policemen.

Cavanagh in effect cleared Sgt. Gerald Biscup, 39, of the Communications Bureau, of charged upheld by a Detroit police trial board.

* * *

"His record has been wiped clean," said a spokesman for the mayor.

Biscup was disciplined as a result of an incident outside the Veterans Memorial Building last November in which youths said they were beaten by police as they left a church dance at the building.

FOUND GUILTY

Two of the youths said Biscup was the man who drew a gun on them. Another youth said Biscup threatened him with a gun.

The policeman was one of four found guilty by the police board investigating the event.

At the time, Biscup was among 110 policemen attending a party sponsored by the Detroit Police Officer Wives Association.

A Cavanagh aide said the Mayor acted "on recommendations that the charges against Biscup were not substantiated."

RULING APPEALED

Biscup had been reduced to patrolman and given a four-month suspension without pay by the trial board. He had appealed the ruling.

Thomas Gallagher, Detroit's chief assistant corporation counsel, conducted an investigation this summer and recommended the charge be dropped. Cavanagh's legal counsel then made the same recommendation.

He was the second officer exonerated in the incident. Wayne County Circuit Judge James L. Ryan on July 18 told the police department to suspend punishment against Patrolman James J. Johnston, 39. He had been found guilty of neglect of duty by the trial board.

The judge based his decision on "lack of evidence" against Johnston.

Viet, Apollo Films Banned in Macao

MACAO (AP) — A Macao movie theater has suspended the showing of two documentary films, "Vietnam, Battle Without Any Front" and "Apollo Flight" after left-wing papers strongly criticized them.

The films opened Saturday and were scheduled to run for at least four days.

The "Macao Daily" charged the Vietnam War film was helping American "invaders" to hide the facts of what really is going on in South Vietnam and said, "This film should not be allowed to be shown here because it is poisonous."

The theater took down giant posters for the film Sunday and put up posters advertising the movie "Charly."

Baldies Take Shine to Isle off N. Carolina

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A drive is under way among balding citizenry for funds to help the state buy Baldhead Island off the southeastern North Carolina coast so it can be preserved as unspoiled wilderness.

Robert W. Conner, a 54-year-old High Point architect and nature lover whose hair is thinning on top, initiated the drive with a $5 contribution to Gov. Bob Scott.

* * *

Conner also said he sent postcards to bald-headed friends asking them to contribute and to encourage others with thinning tops to do likewise.

The governor's office reported, however, that all the contributions received would have to be returned because no special fund has been set up to handle them.

In Memoriam 2

IN EVERLASTING LOVE for our dearest mother, Frederick N. Bachmann, who left us so suddenly 3 years ago, August 18, 1966:
If all the world was our to give,
We'd give him life and more;
To see the face we love,
Come walking thru the door,
To hear his voice,
To see his smile,
To sit and chat with him a while,
A wonderful son,
So loyal and true
A one in a million
That son was you!
Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Bill and Dick.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Mary Kathryn McClure, who passed away August 18, 1959
So many things have happened,
Since you were called away
So many things we've shared with you,
If only you could have stayed;
We cannot bring the old days back,
Your hand we cannot touch;
But we still have precious memories,
Of the One we loved so much.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

President Ludvik Svoboda of Czechoslovakia denies that his country is going to be absorbed by the Soviet Union.

SVOBODA

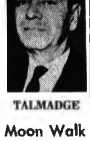

Speaking at a harvest ceremony yesterday in Moravia reported by the news agency CTK, Svoboda said:

"Various alarming rumors are spread about Czechoslovakia being joined to the Soviet Union, that I was interned in the Soviet Union and that they forced me to sign some kind of statement, etc. These are naturally complete lies and fabrications."

Georgia Senator Undergoes Surgery Today

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., undergoes prostate surgery at Atlanta Hospital today.

Talmadge entered the hospital, a two-year-old limited specialty facility, yesterday. Aides said he will be hospitalized for about a week, but that he is expected to return to Washington for the reconvening of the Senate Sept. 3.

Aldrin Received Communion Before Moon Walk

Astronaut Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. has revealed that he celebrated communion in the Apollo 11 lunar module before stepping out onto the surface of the moon.

ALDRIN

In a Life magazine article, Aldrin wrote, "When we knew we were going to be on the moon for a while, I unstowed these communion elements and put them on a little table I had in front of the abort guidance system computer."

He said he requested air-to-ground radio silence and "read some passages from the Bible and celebrated communion."

Aldrin used a chalice given him by his pastor, the Rev. Dean Woodruff of Webster Presbyterian Church in Houston, after a special communion two weeks before the flight.

He said he stowed the chalice in the lunar module with a small amount of bread and wine to prepare for the lunar communion.

Buddhists Entertain for Temple Funds

CHICAGO (AP) — Red banners overhead proclaimed "Ginza Holiday," although most of the visitors at the 14th annual Chicago Festival couldn't read the bold white slashes of Japanese writing.

But the spectators, most of whom were not Japanese, were more interested in the entertainment-demonstrations of judo and aikido fighting, Japanese dances and music.

The festival, held over the weekend, was sponsored by the Midwest Buddhist Church, which is seeking to raise $600,000 for a new temple.

Broadcasters Cite Head of Record Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Gordy Jr., president of the Motown Record Corp., has been given the Martin Luther King Jr., leadership award of the National Association of Television and Radio Announcers.

Gordy is the first recipient of the award, which was presented at NATRA's annual awards dinner Saturday night before some 2,000 Negro broadcasters, record industry officials, entertainers and Washington dignitaries.

The award, a silver cup, says Gordy established "a successful company which brought new and exciting opportunities for black artists, producers, writers and executives."

It was also announced at the banquet that the Motown Record Corp. has given $25,000 to the association, which Del Shields, executive secretary, said will be used for special programs to improve the professionalism and expand the skills of members of NATRA.

A Look at TV

Year of the Widower

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD — There will soon be twice as many widowers as widows in televisionland, a study of marital status on the three major networks shows. New widowers will join the ranks to replace last season's dropouts.

MISS LOWRY

The widows are holdovers from last season: Lucille Ball, Doris Day, Julia and Mrs. Muir.

* * *

Carol Brady of "The Brady Bunch," a new show, might be included because she is a widow with three children when the series premieres. She will, however, marry Mike Brady, widower with three children, in the first episode.

Barbara Harper, a widowed school teacher with a little girl, will finally catch the elusive head of the "My Three Sons" family, but not until about two months after the series resumes in September.

WIDOWER NEWCOMERS

There will be four widower newcomers: "Marcus Welby, M.D."; the father of three in "To Rome, with Love"; the chief executive of "The Governor and J.J."; and the man in the title role of "The Courtship of Eddie's Father."

Television characters are never casually assigned marital status. Often it is a device on which the series is hung. Half the fun of "Family Affair" springs from the way that two dedicated bachelors—master and servant—try to bring up three children.

Sometimes it is a way of bringing children into shows—and appealing children often work magic with ratings.

Sometimes, too, a widower is created to give a series more flexibility: E. G. Marshall, playing Lawrence Preston in the pilot film of the late "Defenders," had a wife. She was quietly dispatched, in the interests of simplifying scripts, before the series began.

2ND TIME AROUND

Happiest bride of the new season has to be Beverly Garland who, as Fred MacMurray's new spouse, will join the "My Three Sons" family, as Mrs. Harper, widow.

Miss Garland, in private life the wife of a nonprofessional and mother of two, has been married on television before. She was Bing Crosby's wife in a short-lived situation comedy.

"I'm happy," said the actress, "because most of the time I'm cast as an alcoholic or a psychopath or the victim of poisoning."

* * *

She was able to break her disturbed acting image before—when she was chosen to play Crosby's wife—because for more than a year she had appeared as a jolly games-playing regular on what was once TV's annual summer replacement, "Stump The Stars."

BID FOR ROLE

"I was able to be myself and people saw that I could even be funny," she said.

Beverly kept busy with film roles after the Crosby show. When she heard that "My Three Sons" was casting a wife for Stephen Douglas—MacMurray's role—she asked her agent to suggest her.

* * *

"Personally I had some reservations about whether anything would come of it," she confessed, "but after Fred had talked with me about it, he chose me."

Miss Garland said keeping busy is important to her and her family. "Acting is an extension of my life, and because of it I find myself able to function better in my most important roles: wife-mother," she said. "Fortunately my husband understands that too."

Wayne Stater Builds Own Car

Project for Master's Is Worth $56,000

DETROIT (AP) — A graduate student in the Motor City's Wayne State University figures his master's degree project is worth $56,000. He designed and built a car for himself.

Using 1,200 pounds of special clay, lumber, fiberglass and other materials, 35 - year - old Richard A. Petit of Allen Park, Mich., and a cousin who works in a Ford Motor Co. design center built a prototype car with $8,000 in cash.

* * *

The two men value their time at $10 an hour. "We each spent an average of 30 hours a week for 20 months in actual construction of the car," Petit said. They figure their time to be worth $48,000.

The automobile — named Ginette G-12—has five forward gears which will take it from 0 to 60 miles per hour in 6.5 seconds. Propelled by a four cylinder in-line double overhead cam Lotus Ford engine, the car is capable of speeds up to 150 miles an hour.

COULD RACE

The sleek red hand - crafted vehicle is suitable for circuit racing.

Petit's creation recently won a blue ribbon in the industrial design section of a Wayne State University art exhibit. It also earned him his master's degree.

He has worked as a designer in Ford's fairlane-Torin Studio in Dearborn, Mich., where he was recently assigned to a section handling advanced design concepts and special performance innovations.

* * *

Starting with a Ginette chassis and a quarter - scale clay model in 1967, Petit arranged a loan of expensive design clay from his employer.

Working from a drawing on each wall of the garage behind his home, Petit and his cousin made 50 molds from polyester resins and fiberglass. Finally the molded sections were fitted over a frame constructed entirely of tubular steel and then given a coat of red acrylic lacquer.

DIMENSIONS

The car has an 89¾ inch wheelbase and independent suspension on each wheel. Total weight of the auto is 1,160 pounds. It is 40 inches high, 156 inches long and has five inches ground clearance.

"If it hadn't been for more than a year of planning, we'd really have been lost," Petit said, stroking his dream-car.

State at Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan will be among the states represented at this week's conference of federal and state officials on the problems of the American Indians. The conference will be held at Lake Tahoe, Nev., Tuesday through Thursday. It is sponsored by the National Council of Indian opportunity, headed by Vice President Spiro Agnew.

Work Just Begun—AWOL Serviceman

HONOLULU (UPI) — The first of 21 servicemen to seek sanctuary at the Church of the Crossroads told the congregation yesterday that "our work has just begun."

Some 400 member of the congregation attended services at the church which has been offering refuge to military men opposed to the Vietnam war.

Airman Louis D. Parry, 21, San Jose, Calif., called for "unity and togetherness' in an address to the worshipers.

Parry, dressed in a blue shirt and blue jeans, said "our work has just begun."

'THEY'RE SYMPATHETIC'

"I think the congregation felt kind of alienated from us before Sunday," Parry said, "but now I know they're in sympathy with our cause."

Most of the service was devoted to statements by the servicemen of why they went AWOL and how they planned to stay until the military "come and get us."

* * *

When all the servicemen were standing the congregation rose and burst into applause.

Parry went to the church a week ago and since then the other servicemen have joined him.

* * *

sailors Mike Waters, 19, Anaheim, and Harry White, 20, Niantic, Conn.

Both were on weekend passes when they decided to join the group. Waters, an apprentice seaman aboard the submarine Sargo at Pearl Harbor, was on liberty until Monday.

Servicemen convicted of desertion face up to five years in prison. So far, the military has maintained a wait-and-see attitude which the servicemen feel will end when they have been AWOL for 30 days.

3 From State in Church

HONOLULU (UPI) — Three Michigan servicemen have reached a decision to oppose the Army and the Vietnam War and are seeking refuge in the Church of the Crossroads here.

They are among 21 U.S. servicemen who have taken sanctuary in the church.

* * *

Army Pvt. Matthew Biggerstaff of Westland, and Navy Seaman Apprentice Arthur Parker, 17, of Holland, have joined Army Spec. 4 Daniel Overstreet, Garden City, in the church.

* * *

"It's about time something was done about the injustices in the military," said Biggerstaff.

"There is no logical reason for us to be in Vietnam.

"We have so many nuclear weapons that we don't need a standing army any more."

Biggerstaff's parents said they "want him to have courage of his own conviction" — whether it proves out in the future he's right or wrong."

* * *

Biggerstaff said he enlisted in the Army and was ordered to San Francisco, where he heard about the church.

Parker had completed basic training at Great Lakes, Ill., three weeks ago and was to report for duty aboard a Navy tanker in Honolulu Friday night.

Drag-Racing Youth Injured as Car Flips

ALLEGAN (UPI) — The drag-strip suddenly became a lonely place for Jim Johnson when he lost control of his car, grazed two pine trees and rolled over.

Two cars and 11 motorcycles were being raced on Monroe Road eight miles west of here yesterday when the car driven by Johnson, 17, of South Haven veered off the road and ended upside down in the pine forest.

His fellow racers fled.

Johnson was reported in serious condition with internal injuries at Bronson Hospital in Kalamazoo.

Police said they were seeking his friends.

Fumigation Rules Altered on Hay Exports

BIRCH RUN (AP) — The the chamber and is sealed in. semitrailer, loaded with 14 tons Someone turns on the gas. of hay, rumbles backwards into Four hours later the truck emerges and the fumigated, free-from-beetle cargo may be on its way to an out-of-state market where authorities fear invasion of the destructive cereal leaf beetle.

* * *

The Birch Run fumigating station, as well as two others now operated in Michigan by the State Agriculture Department in cooperation with federal authorities, may have less business in the future, officials report.

The change would be made possible by a change in federal rules regulating shipments of quarantined commodities to certain states east of the Mississippi River.

CUT IN REQUIREMENT

B. Dale Ball, Michigan agriculture director, says the new regulations will "significantly reduce" the amount of Michigan hay requiring fumigation before shipment.

Michigan hay, which previously must have been treated or inspected for beetle hitchhikers, now may be shipped untreated —with a permit—to several states east of the Mississippi.

* * *

Exceptions are Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Florida, Wisconsin, Louisiana and Mississippi; some counties in Illinois; Michigan's Upper Peninsula; and small areas in the western parts of Kentucky and Tennessee.

Treatment still will be required for shipment to those areas.

MOVING SOUTH

The regulation change, allowing freer shipment to the several states, came with the knowledge that the cereal leaf beetle —which feeds on oats, barley, wheat, rye and some grasses— was moving south and east at a rate of about 60 miles a year.

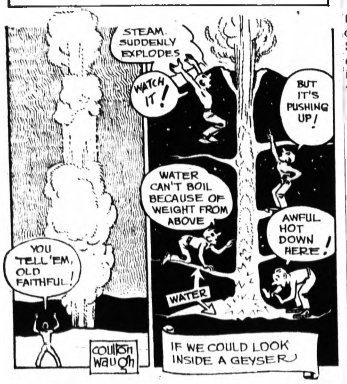

Westward spread reportedly has been extremely slow.

"What the USDA is concerned with is that it not get into the (Midwest) grain belt," explains John Dreves, assistant chief of Michigan's Plant Industry Division.

"If there were unlimited transportation it could," he says.

But those states which now are allowing shipments from quarantined areas appear less worried—partly because the cereal leaf beetle seems to be moving in despite transportation restraints.

Junior Editors Quiz on GEYSERS

QUESTION: What makes a geyser erupt?

* * *

ANSWER: There are many springs on the earth where the water is heated because of underground conditions. When such a hot spring throws up columns of hot water and steam every now and then, it is called a geyser.

The name came originally from one special such spouting spring in Iceland whose name was Geysir. Geysers are rare; there are more in Yellowstone National Park than anywhere else.

Almost all visitors to Yellowstone go to see the famous Old Faithful geyser, which shoots up a spectacular column of water 175 feet high about every 65 minutes.

We illustrate the usual explanation of how geysers work. They have deep openings into the earth, filled with water, with side branches through which more water seeps. Water at the bottom gets extremely hot, but can't boil because of the weight of the water above it.

However, it expands, pushing the column of water up. Conditions come where the water can boil, producing steam. This builds up and suddenly explodes from the top shooting up water which has collected in the upper depression or pit. Water seeps back into the column and, after a while, the geyser will erupt again.

Camille Rips Gulf Coast

From Our News Wires

GULFPORT, Miss. — Hurricane Camille clawed inland across Mississippi's piney hills today, leaving the resort coastal area stunned by a night of wind, rain and raging tides. First reports from the blacked out area showed six persons dead. Civil defense officials in nearby Biloxi reported to the Jackson headquarters that four unidentified persons had been killed. Two others were reported killed in Gulfport.

Damage was estimated in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Julia Guice, Biloxi civil defense director, also reported some 40 persons hospitalized and fires burning out of control because of debris blocking the streets to fire trucks.

Fires raged out of control in nearby Bay St. Louis and Waveland, and officials said the blazes threatened to destroy both downtown areas.

ISSUES APPEALS

Bay St. Louis, with much of its downtown area ablaze, already was issuing appeals for state and federal aid. Ham radio operators reported monitoring conversations from city officials saying the seafront area of the town was destroyed and the city was under martial law.

Because of a communications blackout which left most telephone and power lines down, there was little information filtering out of the hard-hit area.

State Sen. Nat Cassibry, coordinator of Civil Defense at Gulfport, said 40 to 50 persons were injured — some critically — when a warehouse used as an emergency shelter at the Naval Seabee Center caved in during the storm. Seabee officials later confirmed 13 persons were injured.

Gulfport, a port city of 30,000, was a tangle of wreckage this morning. So was Biloxi, with some 44,000 residents, 15 miles to the east.

"Downtown Gulfport is demolished," Police Supt. Ray Decell reported at daybreak.

"We had winds of 150 miles on hour or better for two hours," Decelle said.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in New Orleans, tracking Camille as she moved inland, said she was dying but still dangerous — with winds of 125 mp.h. around her eye as she headed north toward Jackson.

She was moving north-northwest at a speed of 15 to 20 m.p.h. Tornado warnings were up for most of the southern half of Mississippi this morning.

AP Wirephoto

CAMILLE'S FIRST TOUCH — A lone motorist drives from downtown Mobile, Ala., yesterday as torrential rains sweep the area ahead of Hurricane Camille. The storm ripped Gulf Coast areas with winds over 150 m.p.h. resulting in millions of dollars in damage and killing at least six.

In Jackson, Gov. John Bell Williams said he would make an inspection tour of the disaster area today.

Gov. Williams said there were "hundreds of injuries" along the Mississippi coast. He also reported a "dire need" for water in hospitals. Water tanks were transported to the Gulfport-Biloxi area from Camp Shelby, a National Guard training center at Hattiesburg, 70 miles north of Gulfport.

False Calls, Violence Plague City Firemen

By THOMAS TERP

False alarms and harassment of fire fighters have become major problems in Pontiac, according to Fire Chief Charles D. Marion.

In at least one area of the city, fire fighters will not respond to fire alarms without police escorts.

★ ★ ★

Chief Marion said today he requested the escorts because firemen have been the victims of dangerous harassment all summer.

He cited the Lakeside Homes area near Crystal Lake as the city's worst spot for harassment and said fire calls there will not be answered without police protection. The policy went into effect in late July.

'ROCKS, BRICKS THROWN'

"The people there have thrown rocks, bricks and pop bottles at the men. It became so bad that I no longer felt I could ask fire fighters to go in there without police protection," the chief said.

In that area alone, Marion said 16 false alarms have been made since mid-June.

★ ★ ★

"On several occasions, we rushed to the Crystal Lake area on false alarms and people were waiting there with rocks and bricks as if they had planned the assault," Marion said.

He also complained of persons in the area gathering in the roadway and not letting fire trucks escape the brick barrage once they answered the false alarm.

'HARD TO BELIEVE'

"It's hard to believe this is happening," Marion exclaimed.

"The people hurt nobody but themselves when things like this happen."

When responding to calls in the Lakeside area, fire trucks have been ordered to stop two blocks short of the area to wait for the police escorts.

"Fortunately, the police have been very cooperative. The fire trucks never have had to wait long for the police escorts.

'PERSON COULD DIE'

"But even during a four or five-minute wait, a person could burn to death or a baby could suffocate," he suggested.

CHIEF CHARLES D. MARION

'FAA Misleads on Air Safety'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A study sponsored by a group of Republican congressmen charges that the Federal Aviation Administration uses misleading and irrelevant statistics to paint a rosy picture of air travel safety.

The report concludes that civilian aviation too often sacrifices safety to convenience, and says that the FAA has failed to take advantage of the broad legal powers delegated to it.

★ ★ ★

And the report questions the effectiveness of the National Transportation Safety Board—NTSB—in investigating air crashes and recommends abolishing the Civil Aeronautics board—CAB.

"The accident rate statistics produced by the FAA are misleading and imply that a growth of safety has occurred, which is a dubious conclusion," states the 81-page report by Reps. James Harvey of Michigan, Frank Horton of New York, Robert T. Stafford of Vermont and J. William Stanton of Ohio. Twenty-five other Republicans are co-sponsored.

FATALITY INCREASE SEEN

Although air travel is a relatively safe mode of transportation, the report said, "because of the increased volume of air traffic, the increased number of passengers which an aircraft can carry, and the increasing complexity of mechanisms for general aviation, the air accident fatalities will probably increase in the future."

The report calls for massive federal aid in money, research and leadership to overcome what it calls serious shortcomings in the air traffic control system and grossly inadequate airport facilities and safety practices.

★ ★

The report, involving a year of research by staffs of the congressmen, was inserted in the Congressional Record Aug. 1. The sponsors say they will introduce legislation to implement the recommendations.

Among its findings, the report charges the FAA with laxity in its responsibility to regulate airline schedules, airport certification standards, airport development plans and the growth and direction of civilian aviation.

FHA, VA Loans at Stake if Interest Ceiling Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials predict government-backed home mortgages will disappear if Congress allows the interest limit to revert to 6 per cent this fall.

But they are confident lawmakers will act in time to continue suspension of the ceiling and thus save the popular Federal Housing Administration—FHA—and Veterans Administration—VA—loan programs.

★ ★ ★

"There just won't be any more VA or FHA loans at a 6 per cent interest rate," said John Darvan, director of the VA loan guarantee program. "No one will write them at that rate."

Statutory limit for the guaranteed loans is 6 per cent. Congress suspended the ceiling until Oct. 1. And it gave the secretary of housing and urban development discretionary authority to set the rate, now at 7 per cent.

MONEY SHORT

The maximum rate will return to 6 per cent Oct. 1 if Congress doesn't act.

Mortgage money is short even at 7 per cent because of the record 8½ per cent charged to prime bank borrowers. Funds are flowing out of mortgages and into higher yield loans.

★ ★ ★

About one-third of the FHA's district offices report money is no longer available in their areas for the government-backed mortgages.

The FHA and VA programs account for about 20 per cent of the mortgages written each year for new and used homes.

SENATE UNIT OK

The Senate Banking and Currency Committee approved legislation last week that would extend the ceiling suspension for another six months. The Senate is not expected to begin considering the bill until late September.

The House Banking and Currency Committee has yet to act on the suspension.

★ ★ ★

But Capitol Hill sources say stop-gap legislation of some sort will certainly be approved before Oct. 1 because the loan programs are so popular.

Longest Survivor of Heart Swap Dies

From Our News Wires

CAPE TOWN, South Africa — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the retired South African dentist who survived longer than any other person with a transplanted heart, died from heart failure brought on by failure of his kidneys and pneumonia, the death certificate said today.

The certificate was signed by Dr. Marius Barnard, younger brother of Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the pioneer transplant surgeon who gave Blaiberg his new heart 19½ months ago on Jan. 2, 1968. The younger Barnard is also a member of the Groote Schuur Hospital heart transplant team.

★ ★ ★

An autopsy was performed on the 60-year-old retired dentist after he died Sunday at 7:40 p.m., but the hospital said the results would not be announced until they had been studied by Dr. Barnard.

The autopsy was expected to reveal the ravages of the rejection process which threatens all organ transplants.

Massive doses of drugs and anti-lymphocite globulin which had always staved off the body's natural rejection of foreign tissue had faltered at last. With the heart starting to work abnormally, Blaiberg's kidneys and liver also failed, medical sources said.

Blaiberg is survived by his wife, Eileen, and a 21-year-old daughter, Jill.

Mrs. Blaiberg said her husband was not in pain at the time of his death.

★ ★ ★

"But he was suffering," she told newsmen. "He was feeling very uncomfortable. Yesterday he hardly ate anything and I left the hospital about 7 o'clock to go and make him some cold chicken consomme. I was just home when the hospital phoned me and told me that he had died. I could not believe it."

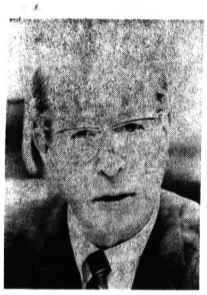

"He went suddenly. He just asked for a glass of water and died as he took it."

Blaiberg's funeral was to take place at a Cape Town crematorium late today with a rabbi of the Jewish Reform congregation conducting the service.

Mrs. Blaiberg wept as she told newsmen her husband's last words to her, less than an hour before he died, were: "Eileen, I am dying, I know I am going."

BLAIBERG AFTER HEART SURGERY—Dr. Philip Blaiberg, who was the world's longest survivor of a heart transplant, stands next to a portrait of his surgeon, Dr. Christiaan Barnard in May 1968. Blaiberg died yesterday after living 19½ months with the heart of a colored millhand. Dr. Barnard was suffering from influenza and couldn't be with Blaiberg at his death.

FORTAS' SUCCESSOR — Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. was nominated as a new associate justice for the Supreme Court today by President Nixon. Haynsworth, 56, chief judge of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeal in Richmond, Va., will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Abe Fortas last May.

N. Korea Downs Helicopter; Fate of 3 Yanks Unknown

SEOUL (AP) — The pilot of a U.S. Army helicopter shot down by the North Koreans yesterday probably lost his way and strayed over the border, a U.N. Command spokesman reported. North Korea gave no indication of the fate of the three men aboard the craft.

The spokesman said the pilot radioed about an hour after he took off on a training flight that "he had become disoriented, he was being fired upon, was hit and was going down over unknown territory."

"There was strong evidence," the spokesman added, that the unarmed OH23 helicopter was hit by North Korean ground fire.

Radio Pyongyang said North Korean forces downed the aircraft at Kumchon, about 15 miles north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea and about 50 miles northwest of Seoul.

'ANOTHER PROVOCATION'

The broadcast called the incident another "provocation by U.S. imperialists in violation of the Korean armistice agreement."

The Army said those aboard the plane were Capt. David H. Crawford of Pooler, Ga.; WO Malcolm W. Loepke, the pilot, of Richmond, Ind., and Spec. 4 Herman H. Hofstatter of Lowpoint, Ill.

★ ★ ★

The U.N. Command said U.S. Marine Maj. Gen. Arthur H. Adams, senior member of the command on the Armistice Commission, had asked the North Koreans for assistance "in returning the helicopter and personnel."

Apollo 11 Last for Me—Collins

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 11 astronaut Michael Collins, the man who orbited the moon while his crewmates made history, says he is hanging up his spacesuit and will take a nonflying job in the space program if it's offered to him.

Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., another of the Apollo 11 crew and the second man to walk the moon, also casts doubt on his specific future plans.

* * *

The third crewman, Apollo 11 commander Neil A. Armstrong, says he would serve the space program "in any capacity," including space flight.

"Apollo 11 is my last flight," Collins said Sunday during a televised interview on the CBS program "Face The Nation."

"I think it's difficult to keep up year after year, to really approach the training, the living in simulators, with the zeal that you have to have in order to do a good job," Collins said. "Of course there are a lot of encroachments on my family life which I have not enjoyed."

ANOTHER JOB

Collins said he intends to contribute whatever he can to the space program in another job, but the 38-year-old Air Force colonel said he didn't know what that would be.

Aldrin said he expects to continue in the program, but has not decided about going back into space.

"Whether I'll remain on flight status or not, I haven't had the opportunity to make that decision yet and we have not been in a rush in making up our mind as to what we'd like to do," he said.

"I'm available in any capacity in which I could serve best," Armstrong said. He also indicated he would like to make a long space journey, such as to Mars.

Armstrong said he and Aldrin were determined to land on the moon despite alarms given out by their on-board computer during the final seconds of flight to the lunar surface, but they were ready to give it up if necessary.

CONCERNED FOR SUCCESS

"We were concerned primarily for the success of the flight," he said. "We did not want to come back without landing, but we were certainly willing to do that and that would certainly be much better than not to come back at all."

The Apollo 11 commander said he could not clear up a grammatical question about what his first words were as he set foot on the moon.

Listeners on the ground hear him say, "That's one small step for man." Armstrong said later he thought he said "a man."

Public Showings of Moon Rocks Still a While Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans who paid the freight will have to wait a while longer to get a personal glimpse of the moon rocks brought back by the Apollo 11 astronauts.

While the three U.S. space heroes are being mobbed from coast to coast, the 60-plus pounds of rocks and dust they brought back are being pampered by the delicate gloved hands and sterile instruments of National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists in Houston's Lunar Receiving Laboratory.

* * *

Officials still aren't saying when the rocks might be offered for public display.

But after NASA scientists finish their studies, there are 142 other scientists from around the world who also will run tests on the samples.

SOMETIME NEXT MONTH

Present plans call for releasing about 15 per cent of the material to the scientists sometime next month.

Public displays will come after the scientists are through.

* *

Exhibits may be offered in large U.S. museums and there could be traveling displays. One problem still to be worked out is whether the samples will need to be kept hermetically sealed to prevent atmospheric damage.

Among those waiting for the scientists to finish are foreign leaders who have been promised moon souvenirs by President Nixon.

Some congressmen have indicated they may try to block such gifts on grounds the rocks belong to U.S. taxpayers.

Traffic Mishaps Claims Lives of 3 From Area

Witnesses told deputies Compton lost control of his car at a high rate of speed while driving north on South Rochester Road near Nawakwa Street about 10 p.m.

Waling and his wife, Mary, were listed this morning in fair condition at Crittenton Hospital.

Manistee County sheriff's deputies said a Troy teen-ager was killed when his motorcycle collided with a car in Onekama Township at 3 p.m. yesterday.

Ralp Clark, 16, of 636 Vanderpool allegedly drove the cycle through a stop sign on County Road at M22 and was struck by a car driven by an Illinois man, deputies said. There was no other serious injuries.

UAW to Decide Specific AMC Demands Today

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — The American Motors Council of the United Auto Workers Union decides today what the union specifically will demand from the smallest of the top four U. S. auto makers in a new round of contract bargaining beginning tomorrow.

Contracts with the Big Three —General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — do not run out until Sept. 14, 1970, and UAW President Walter P. Reuther has said talks here will have "nothing to do" with demands he'll lay before the giants next summer.

* * *

Reuther was absent today as representatives from AMC plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., and Brampton, Ont., gathered to finalize their demands and map strategy for gaining them.

UAW Vice President Pat Greathouse was delegated to head the union's bargaining team that includes representatives from the three AMC locals with approximately 10,200 members.

SITE 'MAKES SENSE'

Racine is midway between AMC's Kenosha assembly plant and Milwaukee body plant, and bargaining was brought here on Greathouse's insistence that "it makes sense" to bargain where the workers are.

All previous bargaining sessions have been in Detroit, where AMC has headquarters but no plants.

* * *

Both national and at-the-plant working agreements are worked out simultaneously in UAW-AMC negotiations. These are separated in Big Three negotiations, with at-the-plant pacts worked out in plant-site bargaining.

American Motors, then in a financial bind, gained a two-year contract in 1967, while Reuther won a customary three-year pact from the Big Three. AMC also won concessions in wages and fringe benefits gained from the others. One was a five-cent hourly wage differential; another lower pensions.

TO 'RESIST' CATCH-UP

This time, the UAW has announced it will press AMC "to catch up." AMC Chairman Roy D. Chapin Jr., says his company will "resist" catch-up.

"We are not going to pioneer anything. We are just going to try to catch up," said Ralph Daum, president of Kenosha Local 72, with respect to wages and fringes.

Neither Daum nor Greathouse has said whether a strike would be called to get pacts equalling those going into effect for the third year at the Big Three.

Hunt for LA Killers Centers in Canada

LOS ANGELES AP) — The search for a solution to the bizarre killings of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons centered today in Canada.

Police in Vancouver said they had been asked to watch for four young persons wanted by Los Angeles police for questioning. They said the Royal Canadian Mounted Police reported the men might be headed toward Edmonton, Alta.

Los Angeles police would not comment on the report and Canadian authorities did not elaborate on it.

Meanwhile, two University of Southern California faculty experts on criminal mentality suggested that whoever committed the five slayings Aug. 9 might have created a ritualistic scene to mislead police.

FLAG DRAPED

An American flag was draped over the back of a sofa in the $200,000 house in Bel Air rented by Miss Tate and her movie director husband, Roman Polanski.

White nylon cord hung over a ceiling beam joined Miss Tate and another victim Jay Sebring. His head was hidden by a black hood. "Pig" was written in blood on the door.

* * *

The victims had been stabbed and shot.

"I think it should be pointed out that this could be the work of a very cunning person," said one of the university experts.

"The killer was a little too methodical."

NAMES KEPT SECRET

The faculty members, interviewed separately, asked that their names not be disclosed. One is a phychologist, one a psychiatrist.

The killer, said one of the experts, "might have used the hood and ropes and inflicted the multiple wounds to throw police off."

* * *

Killed with honey-blonde Miss Tate, 26, were Sebring, 26, a hairdresser, who was her former boyfriend; Voltyck Frokowsky, 37, a Polish writer; Abigail Folger, 26, a San Francisco socialite; and Steven Parent, 18, a friend of the estate caretaker.

"The fact that Miss Tate and Sebring were tied together with rope indicates the killer was at least aware of their former relationship," the psychiatrist said.

The experts agreed that whoever killed the five was probably a young man with a strong need to express power over others, perhaps acting from motives of jealousy and revenge.

Israeli Deaths Toll Success of Arab Terrorists

TEL AVIVI (AP) — Arab saboteurs and guerrillas have accounted for almost a third of Israeli's army fatalities since the 1967 war, army sources said here today.

In the period up to Aug. 9, 349 Israeli soldiers have been killed, including 110 by "the actions of terrorists" the informant said. Of 1,248 Israeli soldiers injured in action, one-third were wounded by Arab irregulars, they added.

* * *

The figures indicate the Arab irregulars who infiltrate Israeli-held territory from Jordan, Lebanon or Syria and others who strike in the refugee-packed Gaza Strip are having greater success than generally believed.

On the civilian side, 38 of 56 were killed by sabotage acts since the six-day war. And four-fifths of the 501 civilians wounded were victims of saboteurs.

DAILY INCIDENTS

The army sources said there has been no significant recent increase in the number of Arab sabotage attacks, but each day brings fresh reports of Israeli trucks being blown up by mines, hand grenades thrown at troops or irregulars firing rockets or mortars at Israeli settlements.

Israel is currently being taken to task at the United Nations for an air attack on Lebanon last week in which the Lebanese claim four villagers were killed. The Israelis say they were hitting back at Arab guerrilla camps which are responsible for dozens of recent sabotage acts on Israel's northern frontier.

* * *

The Israelis have recently stepped up their actions against the Arab saboteurs.

Apart from the raid on Lebanon, Israeli jets struck and damaged Jordan's important Ghor irrigation canal as a warning to the Jordanians to clamp down on guerrilla activities from their territory.

METHODS OF OPERATION

Guerrilla fighters move across the Jordan Valley under cover of darkness and ambush early morning Israeli army patrols with fire from their Russian-made rifles, Czech-made rockets or bazookas.

AF Major Is Suspended; 'Assigned Unfit Guards'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Air Force has suspended a major on charges he allowed three men with dangerous psychiatric problems to guard a supersecret nuclear weapons stockpile at Hamilton Air Force Base, 25 miles north of San Francisco.

Base Commander Col. Michael Stublarec said yesterday Maj. Donald Tidwell has been relieved of duties pending investigation.

The case came to light during the weekend in the record of a preliminary hearing for Sgt. Robert V. Ballou, 22, Corvallis, Ore., accused of going berserk with a loaded carbine at the base.

Civilian attorney Robert D. Carrow of Novato said Ballou, his client, had pleaded not to be assigned to a job involving explosives and weapons for fear he might hurt somebody.

SENIOR MAN

But on several occasions, Carrow said, Ballou was the senior noncom of a two-man guard unit for nuclear-tipped missiles stored at the base.

"That means he could have sent the other fellow for a cup of coffee and been alone with the missiles," Carrow said. "It scares the hell out of me. It's like "Dr. Strangelove.' "

* * *

However, M. Sgt. William M. Leopold testified at the hearing that he was supervisor of the nuclear weapons arsenal and that accidental detonation of the weapons is impossible. The testimony was the first public disclosure nuclear weapons are stocked at the base.

Tidwell, 37, had testified that accidental explosion was possible, although he conceded he is a security officer and not a nuclear specialist. He also said he had received unfavorable psychiatric evaluations of Ballou and two others but did not relieve them because of a shortage of replacements.

SECURITY PROBE

Stublarec said that there were other replacements available and that Tidwell had been suspended while both his testimony and base security procedures were investigated.

One of the other two guards mentioned at the Friday hearings is now in a psychiatric ward and the other has been discharged.

City Firemen Are Harassed

Another danger also exists — a real fire alarm could be made while two or three trucks are responding to a false alarm, and the problem could easily endanger all areas of the city.

Marion said it is conceivable that if two false alarms were ever made at the same time, equipment at all three of the city's fire stations could be depleted.

"If an actual fire broke out in a case like that, valuable time would be lost relocating the trucks," Marion observed.

He said the police escort has cut back harassment significantly, but false alarms still pour into the station. In the past four days, two false alarms were made, according to the fire log at the city's main station.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. pointed out a recent step by the City Commission may halt the problem. He referred the approval two weeks ago of a resolution establishing an award system to combat this sort of harassment.

Mayor Taylor will soon name three persons to an award committee which will have the power to give up to $1,000 for information leading to arrests and conviction for this type of crime (assault on city workers).

"We're not only concerned with the danger to city employes, but for all the city residents," the mayor said.

It Seems to Me . . .

Nixon, Apollo Triumph Brighten Our World Image

Over the past several years, this country has received a variety of black eyes, most of which we didn't rate or deserve. The jealous and calculating Russians have been behind a number and they side in automatically with any concomitant ideas elsewhere.

Currently, the world is witnessing a very definite swing in the opposite direction. The flaunted phrase: "Yank — Go Home" has been discarded and we've actually been applauded in a wide variety of ways.

It's truly refreshing.

It's something we deserve.

★ ★ ★

There have been two main factors in this about-face. President Nixon's trip around the world was well received in practically every spot he visited. Top officials and people acclaimed him generously and with spontaneous applause.

He earned his keep.

This trip was actually fraught with some danger and there was guarded trepidation expressed privately in several circles. Had the Presidential foot slipped anywhere, the results could have been negative. But Mr. NIXON handled himself and his journey deftly and his skill placed us on the upgrade.

Then, primarily, our Apollo landing on the moon brought vociferous cheers that encircled the globe. A faint word of praise was even wrenched from the dissident Russians who also sought to queer the act—if possible—by sending out a silly moon ship just prior to our epoch-making event. Their sole purpose was to detract from Apollo but dismal failure resulted.

The total effect of our moon soiree was simply breathtaking. All man ner of peoples cheered everywhere. This triumph literally did our image a "world of good." It was an outstanding intercontinental episode.

Always the champion begets enemies and critics, simply by occupying the top rung. This is true in baseball, football, politics and all manner of human events. The U.S. has held the enviable spot so long we have unfairly accumulated a host of critics.

Happily this great moon event bolstered by President Nixon's modest but triumphal trip around the world has strengthened our position enormously.

We're looked upon with approval.

We're "accepted" nearly everywhere.

Good Neighbors . . .

Vigorous and spontaneous applause still resounds all over the area for General Motors and Harambee.

In every forward looking conceit of any magnitude, this area has always found General Motors conspicuous with quick support and outstanding leadership.

It's an ancient phrase for General Motors originated it many years ago when they declared flatly in every city in which they were located:

"We want to be good neighbors."

Surely they have been.

This Harambee movement is an outstanding civic program which is universally heralded. Currently the need for good homes is paramount and here Harambee and GM offer a united front of consequence. Pontiac has been a fortunate community in many, many ways over an extended period of time because of General Motors.

And we still are.

Questionable Future . . .

As time passes, the KENNEDY episode looks even more unfavorable for the young man.

Additional truths are creeping into the open and factual deductions pile up. The whole sordid affair looks worse for his political future. Certainly, the Presidency is out forever.

Who would accept him?

Who wants such a leader?

His future in his own state is problematical in spite of the contrived support that followed his TV appearance. This was obviously a "packed house."

★ ★ ★

Too many damaging declarations have been laid on the line. And there are too many horrid circumstances to overlook. Certainly you can have sympathy for anyone who stumbles as badly as that. But in the end, he must be judged accordingly.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

S. I. HAYAKAWA continues to get the top round of applause whenever he appears with other prominent officials before a crowd. . . . . DEBBIE REYNOLDS and HARRY KARL are placing their Beverly Hills home on the market for a mere $750,000. They're going to build one that's big enough for them and their four children.. I think this DEBBIE's a swell gal. . . . . Overheard: "Considering the books that are published today, you might feel inclined to disown your own daughter if she worked in a public library."

RAMONA

"Black Goddess," attractive Ramona Saunders, is in increasing demand as a model around the Country. . . . Overheard: "No matter how much time you devote to a project, if it doesn't get results it hasn't been enough." . . . . . Milton Berle will appear on six of Jackie Gleason's shows next fall and three times on Hollywood Palace. . . . . 'Allah Calls!'

David Lawrence Says:

Working in White House Is Hard

WASHINGTON—The "western White House" in San Clemente, Calif., is in the news these days.

It is novel only in a geographical sense, as the "summer White House" idea has been adopted by presidents for more than a half-century.

LAWRENCE

The real reason for a separate abode is that the White House is not a comfortable dwelling for family life.

Also, since the executive offices are right next door, the flow of visitors is continuous, and some of them have letters from persons of influence in their states who find it difficult to refuse to write a letter of introduction for friends.

Then there are the pressures from officialdom. A president's absence at a vacation spot, however, is usually respected.

Only on the most urgent business of a member of Congress or a high official are engagements made.

VAST IMPROVEMENT

Mr. Nixon may find the need for important conferences not much less in California than in Washington. But any vacation home is a vast improvement over life in the White House where the rooms are large and more adapted to ceremonials than to restful seclusion.

A president doesn't cease to be a human being when he takes up residence in the White House, and he wants informality and a lawn outside where he and his wife can walk without intrusion by crowds.

★ ★ ★

Presidents nowadays can stay away more from the White House. Communication facilities are better, and a president can get back by air from California, for instance, in half a day.

The staffs in Washington and at a summer White House are in constant communication either by teletype or telephone. They have machines which can transmit and receive facsimiles of original documents or letters in a matter of minutes.

AN INNOVATION

The tasks of a chief executive have increased considerably, so President Nixon persuaded some of his Cabinet officers to rent homes near the "western White House" in California.

This is an innovation, but, considering the world situation and the need for intimate talks on domestic matters, the idea is a good one.

Although the Congress is in recess for three weeks and the President doesn't have to hold conferences with leaders of either house, he keeps in communication with them by telephone.

Why so much time for "rest"? The truth is a president is busy every day no matter where he is. But at a vacation home he does get a chance to think alone—and he has less opportunity in the White House than at a coast resort where he can stroll along the seashore and meditate.

U.S. Plans to Cut 300,000 From Viet Force by '72

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — This reporter is informed by men in contact with the highest political and military sources in Washington and Saigon that thinking in both administrations is that within three years it should be practical to reduce U.S. forces in Vietnam to between 100,000 and 150,000 men.

CROMLEY

That would mean a reduction of 300,000 to 350,000 from the high point of U.S. involvement.

These estimates take future Communist surprise Tet attempts into account.

Curiously enough, U.S. military men are more cautious than the Vietnamese in these troop withdrawal discussions.

S. VIETS CONFIDENT

The Vietnamese, whose lives are on the line if they're in error, are confident that within three years they can handle the North Vietnamese and Vietcong with no more than 100,000 U.S. air, ground and naval support forces (for communications, transport, artillery, bombing — with strong emphasis on helicopter-units).

According to this thinking, 100,000 U.S. troops might have to remain in Vietnam for years if no agreement is reached with Hanoi.

The Saigon optimism interestingly enough is based on a series of nonmilitary programs which President Thieu's aides feel will break the will of the Vietcong:

- A reorganization and broadening of the Thieu government, giving posts to a wide range of groups not now well-represented. Though details are not yet clear, it is expected that positions of influence will be given to the Cao Dai, Hoa Hao, to some prominent Buddhist sects, to labor union representatives, to some prominent exiled opposition leaders and to leading figures in a number of smaller political parties.
- A food-commodity program at low prices for government officials, including the police, to make it possible for officials and the police to live on their salaries.
- A strong upgrading of the police and the local militia.
- A land-reform program aimed at giving every tenant farmer the right to own the land that he farms.

On this day in history:

In 1856 the Patent Office approved condensed milk but doubted it would ever be of much commercial value.

In 1916 Abraham Lincoln's birthplace in Hodgenville, Ky., was donated as a national shrine.

In 1940 the United States and Canada established a plan of joint defense.

Voice of the People:

'Another Legal Abuse in Need of Correction'

I read that the national bar association has completed a several-year study on legal ethics aimed at discouraging contingent fees by attorneys and simplifying court procedure in the disposition of the flood of auto accident claims that threaten to engulf our courts.

All well and good. But another legal abuse that cries for correction is the ease with which anyone can sue another on most any grounds—real or fancied. In many cases the plaintiff is put to no expense, since a lawyer can usually be found who will represent him for a percentage of the settlement, if any.

★ ★ ★

But the responsible, often blameless, defendant has no recourse to a comparable "free ride," and must perforce retain and pay for legal counsel to protect him, even though the case is eventually decided in his favor.

★ ★ ★

While everyone is entitled to "his day in court," there should be some form of court screening of the admissibility for trial of the growing number of outlandish and clearly unfounded claims that clutter up our court dockets.

Writer Expresses Opinion on Religion

The irreligious war going on in Ireland demonstrates clearly the failure of men and the Churches to understand the so-called religion of Christianity which they claim to embrace. "Love Thy Neighbor" is an empty slogan. The world would be better off if religion had never been invented.

MINNIE EDWARDS

'Schools Have No Time for Sex Education'

The recent article "School Schedules Changed, Waterford Parents Must Adjust," stated "Elementary pupils will just get a basic education, according to school officials. That includes reading, writing, and arithmetic and little science, social studies or language arts." In view of this, there should be no need to even mention sex education. Since "children will only be going to school for half a day," teachers should concentrate on the first three subjects mentioned and leave sex education to the adults who supervise the children the rest of the day.

Calls Nixon's Welfare Plan 'Ray of Hope'

I believe that President Nixon's effort to do away with the self-perpetuating welfare system should be supported by all citizens. It is the first ray of hope for those whose dependency has become a way of life, just as it is for the taxpayers who should willingly support programs which will assist their less fortunate brothers and sisters to work their way out of the personality-destroying roles of "reliefers."

'Salary Should Be Made Known to Public'

Why should the salary of the new assistant director of university relations at Oakland University be a secret? Salaries of all persons who work in tax-supported enterprises should be a matter of public information.

Question and Answer

JUST CURIOUS

REPLY

Only customers with business service can have their names printed in bold face type. The charge for such service in the Pontiac directory is 75 cents a month

Question and Answer

Once your paper had a little story at the end of another column that told the volts of electricity in lightning. I have a bet with my buddy it was over a million, but I don't know when it was in the paper, so I can't prove my bet. Can you?

AMATEUR ELECTRICIAN

REPLY

It took some doing, but we found the "little story." It was a filler item, and it said lightning generates a force of up to one billion volts and a current up to 200,000 times greater than the amount consumed by a 100-watt bulb. Hope you won big—there were a lot of columns with "little stories" at the end.

The defensive driving course sponsored by the National Safety Council is earning praise from all over.

Military base commanders report that after the course the number of accidents involving off-duty servicemen has dropped by as much as 50 per cent. Employers report dramatic reductions in their average annual cost to repair company vehicles after their drivers take the course. Numerous testimonials indicate that graduates of the eight-hour course are better drivers because of it.

★ ★ ★

If the course is as good as before - and - after statistics make it appear, all drivers could profit from it. Particularly when almost a fourth of American motorists can expect to be involved in an accident each year. The question is, could the goal of universal defensive driver training be attained?

It could, eventually, by incorporating the course into high school driver's education programs, then make driver's education a requirement for graduation just like Eglish or mathematics.

★ ★ ★

Driver's education also should be required of all youths before a state issues a license. Thus high school dropouts would have to take adult education courses to qualify for a license.

On July 1, Ohio became the 22nd state to require youths between the ages of 18 and 18 to have had driver's education if they want to drive. Almost all teen-agers want a license as soon as possible and thus are encouraged to take a high school or commercial driving course.

The basics of road safety can be as important to physical survival as reading, writing, and arithmetic are to economic survival.

★ ★ ★

Because school administrators traditionally are wary of compulsory courses in any field, not all educators agree that driver training should be compulsory. But surely all can agree that the benefits of driver training are obvious, and laws that can encourage the trend toward its acceptance are in the public interest.

World Population Grows at Rate of 2.2 a Second

WASHINGTON (UPI) — World population is growing at the rate of 2.2 persons a second or over 1.3 million a week, the Population Reference Bureau reports.

On the average, 3.9 babies are being born every second in 1969 while just under 1.7 people die, a gain of 190,000 per day, the World Population Data Sheet for 1969 issued by the bureau says.

* * *

A "world population clock," such as the one the Census Bureau uses here to keep track of U.S. population growth, would show a world population of 3.551 billion by July 1, 1969, up 72 million over a year earlier.

Forty years ago, the world population was increasing by only about 20 million annually. It is expected to pass the 4 billion mark by 1975.

Speed Record Set for Piston Aircraft

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A speed record for piston-driven aircraft set by a German Luftwaffe pilot in 1939 has been broken by a jet pilot accustomed to speeds of 2,000 miles an hour.

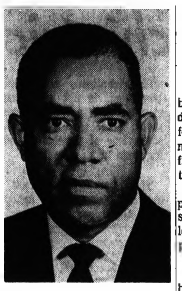

Darryl Greenamyer, a test pilot of high-speed reconnaissance planes, zoomed low over a three-kilometer course four times Saturday in his vintage, remodeled Grumman F8F2 Bearcat for an average speed of 478 m.p.h., eclipsing the old record of 469.2 m.p.h. set by Fritz Wendel of the German Air Force.

* * *

Greenamyer, 33, said he wanted to bring the speed record back to the United States, where it was once owned by such pilots as Howard Hughes, Jimmy Doolittle and Billy Mitchell.

Stock Mart Rally Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The rally which carried the stock market to a solid gain Friday continued to push forward in fairly active trading early today.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 10:30 a.m was up 1.30 at 822.27.

Advances led declines by nearly 400 issues.

Early blocks included:

Texas Oil & Gas, 21,300 shares at 38, unchanged; Boise Cascade, 7,400 shares at 68¼, up ⅛, and Occidental Petroleum, 7,300 shares at 36¼, up ¼.

Opening prices included:

Great Western Financial, up ¼ at 28¾ on 15,200 shares; General Instrument, up ⅝ at 40% on 10,200 shares; Ampex Corp., off ¼ at 39½ on 9,700 shares; Parke, Davis, up ⅝ at 33¼ on 8,600 shares, and Chrysler, off ⅛ at 37¼ on 6,400 shares.

CLOSES ON UPBEAT

The market extended its latest rally through Friday's session to close the week on an upbeat. The advance, which got under way late Wednesday, was regarded as largely technical, although it reportedly drew encouragement from such items as a statement by the Federal Reserve Board chairman that there is "less inflation momentum in the economy than there was three months ago."

The Dow Jones industrial average Friday gained 7.65 to close at 820.88. The Associated Press 60-stock average rose 1.7 to 289.4.

Prices had a higher tone on the American Stock Exchange.

Among issues showing small gains were Asamera, Brazilian Light & Power, Cinerama, Four Seasons Nursing, and GTI Corp. British Petroleum was off ⅛ at 16⅞.
