Hagerty Denies Paper's Report of Ike's Assent

Press Secretary Says President Hasn't Told Anyone About Decision

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) President Eisenhower's press secretary says that as far as he himself knows, the chief executive has passed word to no one on whether he will seek re-election.

James C. Hagerty made that statement to newsmen late yesterday in breaking silence for the first time to discuss some aspects of the big question: Will Eisenhower run again?

Hagerty did not come anywhere close to answering the question. For that matter, a literal interpretation of his own statement—that Eisenhower has passed word to no one—would mean Hagerty doesn't know the answer for sure anyway.

But he did deny a published report that the President's chief aide Sherman Adams had told Republican leaders Eisenhower had decided to bid for re-election and would say so publicly next week.

"I asked Sherman about that and he said he never made any such statement," Hagerty said in reply to newsmen's inquiries.

The Detroit News, in a dispatch from its Washington bureau, said yesterday that Adams and Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, had informed party leaders the President would announce for re-election next week.

Hagerty said he had not asked Hall about the matter. But Hall said in Washington when asked about the report:

"It's news to me."

To a question whether he still believes Eisenhower will run, Hall did reply, "I certainly do." He has been predicting for weeks the President will bid for another term if he decides he is physically able.

Until yesterday Hagerty had refused to discuss any aspect of the second term question. He had said "no comment" scores of times. Hagerty said he had checked by telephone with Adams, who was in Washington, and that Adams denied passing any word.

Eisenhower has been vacationing here since Feb. 15 at the plantation home of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

After a week of seclusion with the President, Humphrey said Tuesday night that he had "no idea" whether Eisenhower would run again.

Double Wedding to Be Really Doubled Up

Detroit Worker Shot to Death

Murder Is Similar to Two Others in City, Police Report

DETROIT (AP)—Gurgen Marik, 40, a factory worker, was found shot to death today and police said the circumstances were similar to two other mysterious killings in Detroit within the past month.

Marik's body was slumped face-down on a sidewalk near his home in the Springwells area of southwestern Detroit. He had been shot in the back.

Like the victims of two previous killings in other parts of Detroit, Marik had just left home to go to work. None of the victims was robbed.

On Jan. 24, Gervous Baker, 28, an employee of Detroit's transit system, was found dead in an alley near his home in the Grand River-Tireman vicinity. He had been shot in the head.

A week ago, Clement Campeau, 48, a railroad warehouse foreman, was found dead beside his garage on Van Dyke St. He had been shot in the chest.

Richard Goodnuff, 16, riding his bicycle to the All Saints Church, where he was to serve as altar boy at 6:15 a. m. Mass, came across the body of Marik. Police said Marik had been shot only a short time before.

Detective Sgt. John Ware of the homicide bureau said the assailant apparently had pushed a large caliber pistol directly against the body.

Marik's lunch box lay under him. His pockets had not been disturbed. Police found $10.47 in his billfold and pocket. He was employed at the Fleetwood Body Plant of the Cadillac Division of General Motors.

A job application form found in the clothing showed Marik had spent four years at a trade school in Armenia. Another paper bore the name of "Dr. G. Marik, Stuttgart, Germany."

PLAN TWIN RITES — Rochester twins Rheata and Karen Kinzie will continue years of similar activities and dress in March, when they speak their wedding vows to Brothers Dennis and Darrol Juhl (extreme right and left). Twins Melvin and Marvin Juhl will act as ushers. This is one time when wedding guests may be seeing double before the ceremony.

Brothers to Marry Twins With Help of More Twins

When a bride trips down the aisle to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, that's cause for celebration anywhere.

But when Cupid aims a double arrow, and twin sisters marry brothers, well...

This is what is happening at Rochester, where the John Kinzie of 601 Quarter St. have announced the engagement of their twin daughters, Karen Kay and Rheata Ray to Darrol Lee and Dennis Don Juhl, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Juhl of 840 John R Road.

And that's not all: While the two couples are getting ready to say their "I do's" in a double ceremony at St. John Lutheran Church, March 3, the Juhl boys' twin brothers, Marvin and Melvin, 14, will be on hand to seat the guests.

The twin brides-to-be are young—only 16, but they have the blessing of their parents and the approval of their pastor, the Rev. Walter C. Gerken.

Rheata and Dennis, 19, have been going together longer, though both twins have known Dennis for more than three years.

Darrol, 20, and Karen have been going together since last May. And both families had been friends for about six years, Mrs. Kinzie recalls.

The bridegrooms-elect are presently in the service, Darrol in the United States Air Force and Dennis in the United States Air Force Reserve.

Their mother, Mrs. Juhl, 33, in the hospital at the present time, says she wouldn't miss this wedding for anything, and promises to "be there with bells on."

LANSING (AP)—A bill to require photographs of motorists on drivers licenses landed in the Senate Appropriations Committee today amid indications it won't get much if any farther.

The bill ran into a buzz saw on the Senate floor Wednesday. One opponent facetiously suggested writing a provision into the measure requiring motorists to pose for pictures with auto license plates exhibited over their chests.

The bill finally was referred to the Appropriations Committee after Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), committee chairman, said no funds were provided to finance purchase of cameras and other equipment and supplies necessary to carry out the bill's terms.

Mystery Plane Sought in State

Reports Craft Crashed on Saginaw Bay Ice; Fail to Find Wreckage

BAY CITY (AP)—Ground and air parties searched today for a plane reported crashed on Saginaw Bay ice but found no trace of wreckage.

There were no reports of missing planes from area military bases of the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

The search centered off sand point near Caseville after Donald Rowe of Caseville reported he saw a plane go down between 9:30 and 10 p. m. Wednesday.

Rowe said he saw a plane circling, then go down and "bounce on" the ice about three miles off Sand Point. Other residents of the area said they also heard a plane overhead at that time.

'COPTERS USED

Helicopters from Selfridge Air Force Base and the Traverse City Coast Guard Base joined ground searchers that set out last night. Blinking lights reported seen on the bay turned out to be from a buoy.

Ice on the bay is frozen 20 inches thick for some 8 to 10 miles offshore. There is open water about three miles beyond where search parties were concentrating.

State Police from the Bad Axe Post and Harbor Beach Coast Guardsmen took part in the search.

Warmer Weather Tonight, Tomorrow

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts increasingly cloudy skies for tonight and tomorrow. It will also be slightly warmer.

Tonight's low will be near 20. The high tomorrow will range from 30 to 34 degrees.

The lowest temperature recorded 8 a. m. was 8 degrees. The thermometer registered 26 at 1 p. m.

Urges 'Yes' Vote on Parking

George Bean Favors Plan

George E. Bean, former city manager here and now manager of Peoria, Ill., has expressed hope that Pontiac citizens will approve the proposed new parking lots at the March 5th election.

In a telegram to The Pontiac Press, Bean says: "I am informed Pontiac is voting on four additional parking lots. I hope the people approve this much needed project and sustain the recent gains in civic advancement."

President Lifts Ban on Uranium to Free Nations

U.S. Firms Also to Share in Peaceful Use Project; Challenge to U.S.S.R.

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) President Eisenhower's new program for releasing a billion dollars worth of uranium at home and abroad for peaceful atomic projects presented a challenge to Russia today to follow suit.

The President announced late yesterday that the United States will make available 88,000 pounds of atomic material, uranium 235, to pioneer American firms and to friendly nations in a demonstration of "our faith that the atom can be a powerful instrument for the promotion of world peace."

His announcement came just one day after Soviet Premier Nikoia Bulganin had stated that, "We Communists must fully place the greatest discovery of the 20th century — atomic energy — at the service of . . . the cause of building communism."

Bulganin pictured Russia as "ahead of other countries" in the peaceful uses of atomic energy, but did not talk of sharing atomic materials.

REDS, SATELLITES OMITTED

Actually, Eisenhower barred distribution of any of the 88,000 pounds of U.S. U-235 to the Soviet Union and its satellites, as well as to any other nations presently producing the material.

Half of the supply, 44,000 pounds, will be leased in the United States for civilian purposes, "principally for power reactors," Eisenhower said in a statement at his vacation headquarters here.

The other half will be sold or leased abroad for peaceful purposes, mainly research and power reactors. That 44,000 pounds is in addition to 440,000 pounds already made available for research reactors abroad.

Aldred Brothers Plunge Through Thin Ice Layer

Recover Bodies of Pair Between Two Lakes in Waterford Township

Two young brothers, described as "inseparable companions," drowned near their home yesterday after plunging through thin, channel ice between Lotus and Lister Lakes.

Dead are Larry 7, and Barry Aldred, 6, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aldred, of 4282 Lotus Dr., Waterford Township.

Their father, 31, employed by a Detroit plumbing and heating firm, said the youths came home at 4 p. m. from classes at Waterford Village School, where they both attended the first grade.

"They changed their clothes and went out to play as they always did," the shocked parent stated. "They always did everything together," he added.

At 4:15 p. m. a neighbor woman called State Police saying the boys had been walking on the ice, then suddenly disappeared.

FIND TRACKS

Police and Waterford Township firemen arrived finding tracks leading to broken ice in about 4 feet of water.

They began dragging the channel, which froze over only two days ago, and found the youths' bodies at 7 p. m.

As friends tried to comfort his grief-stricken wife, Lela, 31, last night, Aldred said the boys had been warned to stay away from thin ice, "but that won't bring them back now."

The Aldreds have two other children, Phyllis, 11, and Robert, 1. The bodies were taken to Coats Funeral Home in Drayton Plains where arrangements are pending.

Death of the youngsters was the first ice tragedy on Oakland County's 400 lakes this winter.

With the recent cold weather, most lakes have safe thicknesses, except around springs, near shore, and in channels such as the one in which the Aldred boys were playing.

Famed Fashion Designer Hattie Carnegie, 70, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Hattie Carnegie, who left school at 11 to work as a messenger girl and became one of the greats in the fashion world, died yesterday at the age of 70.

Miss Carnegie came to this country from Vienna with her family early in the century. Her father died shortly afterward and she went to work in Macy's department store.

Later she and a seamstress friend, Rose Roth, opened a dress shop on East 10th Street in 1909. When death came at her fashionable Fifth Avenue home she was operating a 6 1/2-million-dollar-a-year business employing more than 1,000 persons.

Her family name was Kanegiser. She changed it to Carnegie in admiration of the late steel magnate and philanthropist Andrew Carnegie.

She was not only a top designer of women's hats and dresses but controlled wholesale garment businesses and a cosmetics firm.

A small lady with boundless energy, she pioneered in adapting Parisian custom styles to American ready-to-wear clothing and hats.

HATTIE CARNEGIE

Expect Dulles to Clear Tank Query

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is expected to tell senators tomorrow that vital security interests in the Middle East dictated the U.S. decision to send 18 light tanks to Saudi Arabia.

Officials indicated this line of argument today as Dulles, just back from a 10-day vacation, settled down to a quick review of the situation in preparation for critical questioning by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Informants said one issue at which Dulles will take a new look is Israel's request, pending since last November, for 50 million dollars worth of weapons to counter Egypt's arms purchases from Communist Czechoslovakia. There is considerable speculation in the State Department that Dulles may soon decide, subject to approval by President Eisenhower, to sell Israel some defensive weapons such as anti-aircraft guns or jet fighter planes.

However, informed officials said this question is still open. They said there has been no change in the policy of delaying a decision on the request while seeking by diplomacy to ease Arab-Israel tension.

On his return from the Bahamas Islands yesterday, Dulles said he first learned of the uproar over the shipment of tanks to Saudi Arabia when he reached Miami and began to "read the papers."

Officials said the basic line of argument prepared for Dulles covers these main points:

1. The United States must negotiate by next June a renewal of air base rights at Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. That base is one of a chain which the U. S. government considers vital to its retaliatory striking power.

2. The Soviet Union has been making overtures to Saudi Arabia and is prepared to sell that nation arms.

3. The United States has in Saudi Arabia important oil rights which might be jeopardized by a worsening of relations with that country.

4. The government decided when the tank sale was approved last fall that the increase in Saudi Arabian military strength would not materially affect the over-all military balance between Israel and the Arab bloc.

Water, Sewage Woes Peril State Growth

LANSING (AP)—Water supply and sewage disposal deficiencies threaten to stunt Michigan's growth, a Senate group was told Wednesday night.

This was the burden of testimony at a State Affairs Committee hearing by a dozen witnesses backing two legislative proposals:

1. A bill to enlarge state water resources commission powers to aid local governments in the water and sewage field.

The measure in addition would provide for creation of water supply and sewage disposal districts to enable neighboring communities to band together in an attack on their problems.

2. A proposed constitutional amendment for a 200 million dollar state bond issue to finance needed water and sewage improvements through loans out of a revolving fund.

There were no opposition witnesses.

The leadoff witness was councilman Edward Connor, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, who said he spoke as well for the boards of Washtenaw and St. Clair Counties.

Connor said a shortage of water and inadequate sanitary sewage facilities already has retarded industrial and residential growth in the six county area, comprising over half the state's population and 60 per cent of its property value. The southeastern section was not the only one affected, Connor said. Referring to the legislative proposals, he said:

"This is a matter of value and concern to every metropolitan section of the state, including Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, Benton Harbor, Kalamazoo, Saginaw and Bay City—all areas that are growing rapidly."

Because of the water and sewage problem, Connor said, new factories are locating elsewhere, fire protection is impaired and a crimp has been put in suburban residential development.

Connor said the expansion potential of the southeastern section and the entire state was "almost unlimited" if water and sewage deficiencies could be remedied without undue delay.

He said the St. Lawrence Sea-way project points to tremendous industrial growth and a doubling of population with 10, or 15 years.

CEILING ON EXPANSION
But if necessary additional facilities are not provided, requirements local communities are unable to meet without state help, he said, "It means we are placing a ceiling" on expansion.

Spokesmen for the Builders Assn. of Metropolitan Detroit and the Michigan Assn. of Home Builders and of the Detroit and Eastern Michigan divisions of the Federal Housing and Veterans Administrations elaborated Connor's statements on housing.

Wendell L. Edwards, FHA director at Detroit, said his agency has no alternative but to refuse loan guarantees on new housing where inadequate provision has been made for water and sewage disposal.

Viewing the same problem from another angle, Milton P. Adams, executive secretary of the state water resources commission, said that in the past two years court anti-pollution injunctions have been obtained against nearly 30 cities and villages—all because of inadequate sewage disposal or treatment systems.

Gore May Head Lobby Inquiry

Tennessee Lawmaker Reported to Be Named Chairman of Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) appeared today to be in line to head a special committee created by the Senate and given broad powers to search for any improper or illegal lobbying or campaign financing.

Four Democratic and four Republican senators are to be named to the investigating committee, probably later in the day. Advance word from Senate sources was that, in addition to Gore, the Democrats likely to be appointed are Senators Kennedy of Massachusetts, McClellan of Arkansas and either Mansfield of Montana or Anderson of New Mexico.

GOP UNDECIDED
Republicans evidently were running into some snags in making up their slate. Efforts reportedly were being made to persuade Senators Bridges of New Hampshire, Bricker of Ohio and Thye of Minnesota to accept assignment.

The appointments are to be made by Vice President Nixon, on the recommendations of Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Knowland of California. Michigan Sens. Potter and McNamara voted yesterday to create a special eight-member committee to investigate any improper or illegal attempts to influence senators or government officials. Only Sen. Langer (R-Mich.) opposed the move.

The Day in Birmingham To Accept Applications for New City Manager

BIRMINGHAM — Mayor Charles Renfrew and city commissioners are proceeding with plans to fill the city manager's position, which will be vacated when D. C. Egbert resigns April 1, 1957.

"We want a man with a substantial period of service ahead of him," Mayor Renfrew told the Pontiac Press today. "The commission has agreed that applications will be accepted from present city staff as well as others."

"Dana Whitman Jr.," the mayor said of the present assistant city manager, "would definitely be a consideration. He naturally has a more intimate grasp of city problems than an outsider would."

"We don't want to be a training ground for somebody," Renfrew said. Egbert came to the city as building inspector over 25 years ago, and held assessing and engineering posts before becoming manager 20 years ago. He was on leave of absence for U.S. Navy duty from February 1943 to January 1946.

Ads are being placed in several municipal magazines to draw applications from a wide field, according to decision of the commission Monday night. The post is filled by a commission appointment.

No deadline has been set for applications, which should be addressed to the mayor, whom Renfrew points out may be someone else following the election of commissioners on April 2, and thereafter the mayor's election by fellow commissioners. Renfrew is among the candidates for a commission post.

Of tonight's recognition banquet for city employees, when Egbert and eight other 25-year men will be among 75 honored, Renfrew said, "We are looking to it as a major step in employee relations."

"National surveys show," he said, "that the recognition of service is an important factor in maintaining and building of employee relations. It parallels compensation in satisfying workers."

Dr. Dwight D. Ireland, superintendent, and Richard Featherstone, assistant superintendent of schools are among school administrators at the national convention at Atlantic City this week. They will return Monday.

Nearly 140 Rebekah members from 19 lodges in the district attended the "yearly visitation" meeting of Pledge of Oakland Chapter No. 445 last night. Noble Grand Mrs. Agatha Rathka conducted the meeting.

The Cowboy Missionary from Albuquerque, N. M., will talk tomorrow night at First Presbyterian Church's dinner. He is Dr. Ralph J. Hall, who works with folk of the ranges, those in isolated communities, and homes, and who often gathers large groups around Camp fires for his talks.

The four lots north of 14 Mile on Southfield were placed under "C Professional" zoning at Monday's commission meeting, as the Planning Board recommended, but the lots' owner, Frederick Graef, objected. Graef, who wants a "business A" zoning, had filed a bill of complaint against the city shortly before the meeting on Monday.

Clare Booth Luce's life was topic of a book review today at a tea of St. Agnes Guild of St. James Episcopal Church, with Mrs. Wilbur Sears as reviewer.

The Board of Education has held off approval of a low bid for removal of trees on the Quorton School site, where a baseball diamond is to be laid out, pending assurance that workmen will be covered by insurance.

Exchange club members have set April 14 for their annual toothbrush sale to benefit Camp Oakland and other youth activities.

85 Million TV Sets Expected This Year

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal. (INS) — There will be 85 million television sets in use in 50 million homes in the United States by 1955, according to the annual report of the Television Electronics Fund, Inc. released this week. From 50 to 60 per cent of these sets will be color sets.

"Television receiver production in 1955," the report states, "is estimated at 8,200,000 and retail sales of 8,000,000. This compares with record production of about 7,464,000 and retail sales of 3,000,000 in 1954."

"Only eight years ago, there were less than 500,000 television sets in American homes. Today there are about 42,000,000 sets in over 32,000,000 homes."

"It is estimated that sales of color sets are running at the rate of 1,250 to 1,500 per week."

Bad Drivers Bill Before House

Senate OKs Measure, but Lower Chamber's Vote to Be Close

LANSING (AP) — The so-called "bad drivers" bill moved to the House today after clearing the Senate handily.

Despite passage 22 to 9 in the Senate Wednesday, the Republican sponsored measure apparently faced tough sledding in the lower chamber where the Republican-Democratic division is closer.

Called a highway safety measure by backers, the bill provides for establishment of drivers training schools on the county level.

The schools, with a 1½ hours sessions weekly for six weeks, would be set up jointly by the State Police commissioner and local law enforcers.

Under the bill, judges could require traffic law offenders and motorists convicted of serious offenses to take the course. They would have discretionary power to suspend sentences for persons sent to the schools.

Opponents said the bill was unworkable and that it would undo the accomplishment of the 1953 Legislature in unifying supervision of driver and vehicle licensing in the secretary of state's office.

Probe Fails to Trace Missing Flint Man

A two-day investigation here failed to turn up a clue in the mysterious disappearance of a Flint man from his home Sunday, according to Pontiac police.

Inspector Clark M. Wheaton said a report was made yesterday to Flint detectives, who arrived to question several men apparently implicated in a story told by the missing man's wife.

Mrs. Frank Pihara had claimed that her husband, 30, was in a fight here "four or five" months ago and that his disappearance may involve revenge.

Whatson said the men questioned denied knowing the missing man. Mrs. Pihara had furnished the last name of one of the men involved in the alleged fight, he said.

Indian Snake Fakirs Are Really Fakers

WASHINGTON (INS) — When snake charmers pipe their tremulous music to performing reptiles the only thing charmed may be the audience.

However entertaining as showmanship, the tunes are lost on the snakes. Snakes are deaf, though they can receive vibrations from the ground just as a person may hear an approaching train by placing an ear to the track.

The reptile's rhythmic swaying thus is not in appreciation of the charmer's music but in imitation of his bodily movements.

An ordinary American black snake will behave similarly if trained.

FLAMES ROAR THROUGH FUEL OIL TANKS — Firemen work to keep flaming oil from spreading as five 100,000-gallon fuel oil tanks burn at the Petroleum Specialties, Inc., plant in Flat Rock late Wednesday. The plant is a northern terminus of a crude oil pipeline from Texas.

Icy Europe Reels—804 Die

LONDON (AP) — Frozen Europe counted at least 804 dead today in the worst winter in living memory. Even colder weather was forecast for the weekend.

Central Europe — one vast expanse of crusted snow — anxiously watched its food and fuel supplies dwindling as the disastrous freeze-up went into its 24th day.

Huge ice packs floated down the North Sea. Temperatures along Germany's Baltic coast dropped to 4 above zero.

Ice floes paralyzed shipping on Dutch canals and threatened the Netherlands with a serious coal shortage.

A local thaw brought landslides to southern Italy. At Vasto, near Pescara, 50 families fled as their homes collapsed on a crumbling hillside. In northern Italy, more snow was forecast.

50 INCHES OF SNOW
In southern France, snow 50 inches deep cut off villages and tore down power lines. Prices of vegetables and eggs rocketed as farmers and truck gardeners reported crippling losses.

Germany's weather bureau reported a new cold wave from Siberia would strike by the weekend. Already the mercury hovered around zero over most of the country.

2 CRANES NEEDED
At the Marineland dock it took 10 men and two cranes to transfer Martha to a tank.

Curator Kenneth Norris of Marineland identified the mammal as a rare Curvier's beaked whale, a native of North Atlantic polar waters. They occasionally are found in the Northern Pacific, but this is the first ever caught south of Canada. The "beak," incidentally, actually is an extended lower jaw.

Martha is a youngster — 4 or 5 years old, 1,200 pounds, 14 feet long. Beaked whales grow to 28 feet, and that could be a problem for a whale in a tank.

The curator says his new star attraction is the only whale in captivity in this country, if not the world.

"We haven't fed it yet, but it should eat squid and mackerel," he said. "Since it beached itself we thought it may have been sick so we gave it a massive dose of penicillin, plus some vitamins to try to induce it to feed."

Brazilian Rebel Chief Seen Fleeing Battle

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — His air power reduced to one C47, the leader of Brazil's sputtering jungle revolt was reported fleeing today. Word spread that the beleaguered Amazon River town of Santarem was back in loyal hands.

Air force officials said the sudden break came after government planes, in their first blow of the 12-day revolt, strafed the rebel-held airport at Santarem.

The rebel force announcement said the rebel leader, Maj. Haroldo Veloso, fled to unknown parts and that loyal air and ground troops he had held prisoner retook the city of 15,000 persons.

The government said its planes destroyed on the ground a Beechcraft trainer reportedly loaded with bombs for an attack on a troop ship heading up the Amazon.

FLED IN PLANE
Veloso had fled in this plane from Rio de Janeiro Feb. 11 to launch his revolt. Authorities said the strafing left Veloso with only a C47 transport in his "air force."

Many of Santarem's residents were reported pouring out of the city as government forces advanced. It was not yet known whether Veloso's small rebel band, said to include three dissident air force officers and about 30 men, had fled with him.

The steamer President Vargas meanwhile moved toward Santarem with troops, anti-aircraft weapons and small cannon. The troops had orders to take the city without bloodshed if possible, otherwise "at any cost."

Against Hospital Insurance Bill

Michigan Blue Cross Opposes Move to Ban Over-All Coverage

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross says it is not opposed to deductible hospital insurance but does oppose a bill in the Legislature which would ban comprehensive coverage.

The Michigan Hospital Service set forth its position in a statement by William S. McNary, executive vice president and general manager.

McNary also said recent criticisms of Blue Cross by State Insurance Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre "are not only unjustified but are a reflection on the character and integrity of the Blue Cross trustees."

A bill introduced in the House by Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston) would force all Blue Cross subscribers to pay the entire cost of the first day of hospitalization and 15 per cent of the cost of hospitalization after the seventh day. Navarre has expressed support of the bill.

Finns Predict End of Newsprint Pinch by 1959

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) — Two Finnish newsprint producers predicted here the worldwide newsprint shortage would be licked in three years.

The forecast came from Nulo Nesterstrom, resident manager of Myllykoski Paper Mills, Ltd., and Pelka Vuriala, mill manager.

The optimism of the Finnish manufacturers was based on the present rate of expansion mills in Europe, Canada and the United States.

Capital and installation of more paper making machinery are keys to whipping the shortage, said Nesterstrom.

The problem is not a lack of pulp wood—from which paper is made. There is enough of that, they said.

The two Finns are visiting U.S. newspapers which they supply with newsprint.

Tourists brought the Dominican Republic $2,765,000 in 1955's first eight months.

BEFORE — Jasper, a pet raccoon at Algonquin Park in Canada, lived uneventfully until he crossed the main track of the Canadian National Railway ...

AFTER — He didn't quite make it. The train cut off his tail. Jasper is all right now, but he is unhappy about the loss of his tail, and so is his owner, guide Jack Wilkinson. Wilkinson has asked the railway "What are you going to do about it?"

Diplomat Fish Make Envoy Very Happy

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS) — It looks as though even the fish try to be hospitable in Oregon.

When Major General M. Hayaud-Din, head of the Pakistan military mission in the United States, went fishing in the Nestucca river of Oregon, he caught a fighting 10-pound steelhead on his second cast. An hour or so later he had another steelhead, a 12-pounder.

His three hosts from the Portland chamber of commerce got none.

It was Din's second try at fishing, and in the two days the four spent fishing, he got three steelheads, all bigger than the single fish caught by his three hosts.

Pontiac Deaths

Ricky Wayne Ambler

Prayer service for Ricky Wayne Ambler, two day old son of Henry and Phyllis Churchill Ambler, of 168 E. Pike St., will be held at 10:30 Friday morning in the Huntington Funeral Home. The Rev. Easton Hazard of Wilson Avenue Methodist Church will officiate with burial in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery.

River Project Victory Seen

Colorado Irrigation Bill Going to House; Count Shows Majority Favors

WASHINGTON (INS) — Proponents of the $60 million Upper Colorado River storage project state they believe enough support has been lined up to squeeze the controversial measure through to victory.

The bill comes before the House next week.

A nose count of house Democrats showed, according to majority whip Carl Albert (D-Okla.) that those favoring the bill within his party make up "a good clear majority."

Albert conceded, however, that many Democratic votes still are doubtful.

A less official survey by Republicans showed more GOP congressmen favoring the measure than opposing it. But, Rep. William Dawson (R-Utah), said the balance could be shifted by votes now listed in the "probable" category.

Both Albert and Dawson said they believe the bill, which will provide an extensive irrigation and power network in the Rocky Mountain area, probably will be approved. Neither was willing to make a flat prediction on the final outcome.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas said the measure will move to the floor of the House sometime next week.

The Senate already has approved an Upper Colorado bill, which includes two storage units knocked out in the house measure. One was the highly controversial Echo Park Dam, which would have flooded a section of the Dinosaur National Monument.

Many Would Be Flunky Pupils in High Schools

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — A Texas professor said today the nation's high schools now have thousands of pupils "who would have flunked out of grade school a few years ago."

This situation is a result of the great increase in the percentage of youngsters attending high schools, said Dr. J. G. Umstadt, and because society "asks us to serve all children and youth from the moron to the genius."

What's more, said Umstadt, professor of secondary education at the University of Texas:

"Mamma and Papa American want Johnnie passed each year and sometimes Papa, or even Mamma, is on the school board or a friend of the board president; so Johnnie is passed."

In a prepared talk on the final day of the annual convention of the American Assn. of School Administrators, Umstadt said educators believe the youngster will get more by passing than if he "became retarded and hopeless."

"The only American solution is to adjust the (secondary school) program to Johnnie's ability," he added.

Too Close to Home

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Police huddled in closed session yesterday, hatching plans to stop a wave of burglaries. While they were conferring, someone took $40 in change and several packs of cigarettes from a vending machine in another part of police headquarters.

Sees Dad Crack Up

LUDLOW, Ky. (AP) — Anthony Eades stopped his car when he saw another automobile fail to make a turn and hit a utility pole. He found his 62-year-old father, Thomas W. Eades, dead inside the wrecked car, his body pinned against the steering wheel.

New York Dad Claims Beaten Boy Is Not His

TUCUMCARI, N.M. (AP) — The identity of a savagely beaten little boy found abandoned here remained a mystery today after apparent collapse of a theory that he might be a 3-year-old boy kidnapped from a New York City suburb.

The father of Steve Damman, kidnapped four months ago, said last night the boy found here is not his missing son.

Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell, head of Nassau County, N. Y., detectives, said today he is "in a great deal of doubt" that the boy found whimpering outside a service station here before dawn Monday is the Damman child.

Pinnell told a newsman that on the basis of present information from here and from the Damman child's father he has no intention of sending any detective here for a further check.

of the boy, A.I.C. Jerry Damman at his home in East Meadow, N.Y., said, "It is not our child." He said the unknown child had certain similarities to Steven, who vanished from in front of a supermarket in East Meadow Oct. 31, 1955, but that the child did not appear to be his. He said the boy found had only three teeth, while his son had 22. There were other discrepancies, he said.

The child found here was taken to Tucumcari General Hospital. There, officers said, they found his nose recently had been broken and badly set, he was covered with bruises from a severe beating around the head and bore a still-unhealed burn on his right palm.

Asked where he got a scar on his arm, he told nurses, "Daddy hit me." But he was still incoherent and didn't know his name. He is to be placed in a foster home in Tucumcari sometime today. Hospital authorities said he is from 3 to 5 years old.

Grace Kelly Has Stock in Eastern Racetrack

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I checked a fascinating rumor that Grace Kelly owns $1,000,000 worth of Atlantic City racetrack stock which she'll sell before the wedding. Actually, her father, president of the track, originally bought $125,000 worth of stock, now worth may be $800,000; Grace and brothers and sisters each have a small slice which they're not selling. Lucky Prince—to land Grace, a beauty and a star. All that and rich, too!

Porfirio Rubirosa left a couple of Palm Beach Big Name married women desolated when he, his polo ponies, and an air-cooled auto were flown to Santo Domingo in a Dominican Republic Air Force plane supplied by young Gen. Rafael Trujillo, who wanted Rubi to play polo with him. Rubi even invited Mama Gabor (visiting in Florida) to come see him.

He wanted to eclipse one brother's gift of a Cadillac, another brother's gift of a mink. This bird spoke 11 languages and sang opera. "What did you think of my present, Mama?" he asked her afterward. "Delicious!" she said.

1956 Mortgage Factors Easing

Official Predicts Good Building Year; Dims Credit Inflation Danger

CHICAGO (AP)—The president of the Mortgage Bankers Assn. of America said today mortgage money conditions are easing and predicted a good building year. Lindell Pearson of Chicago, in a prepared address, told the association's midwestern mortgage conference:

"What we may have in the making is a year in which housebuilding activity is patterned a good deal along the lines of 1954—a slow start and a strong finish."

He said some decline is to be expected from 1955, during which more than 1,300,000 private building units were started, but he added: "It will relieve the pressure on the materials supply and materials prices. It will relieve any remaining danger of credit inflation."

Pearson said "a change in taking place" in the mortgage market. "The worst of the congestion that characterized the market last fall appears to be over. There is plainly less tendency to drop loans in the hands of the discount seekers . . . there is a gratifying increase in the flow of savings in savings associations, mutual savings banks and life insurance companies."

Shows U. S. Output Lead New Soviet 5-Year Plan

WASHINGTON (INS)—Production goals just announced in Moscow for Russia's next five-year plan showed just how far the Soviets are behind the United States in output of luxury consumer goods.

Of the items for which production figures were given, the Soviet Union plans a bigger output than American industry in only one—sewing machines.

However, home use of sewing machines in the U. S. has been declining for years as more and more persons have become able to buy ready-made clothes.

The Soviet production goals for the next five years were outlined by Premier Nikolai Bulganin before the Soviet Communist Party Congress. The sixth Russian five-year plan begins this spring.

Bulganin set the annual production of sewing machines at four million. But in luxury items, which reflect the standard of living, the U. S. exceeds Russia in production by four fold. Food consumption also is considerably higher per capita in the U. S.

Although the Soviet Union has a population of about 215 million compared to 165 million persons in the U. S., its luxury goods production generally doesn't even come close to this country's output.

Here are the annual production figures given by Bulganin for various items compared with the 1955 output in the United States:

Shoes: U. S. — 576,973,000 pairs; Russia — 91,000,000 pairs.

Radio and television: U. S. — 7,905,000 TV sets and 7,800,000 radios; Russia — 2,040,000 radio and TV sets.

Bicycles: U. S. — 1,725,000; Russia — 846,000.

Girls Win Homemakers Contest

Three Pontiac area girls have earned the honor of representing their high schools in statewide judging for $1500 and $500 scholarships.

General Mills, sponsor of the Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow contest, announced recently that Carolyn Hawn of Pontiac High School, Marcia Kramer of St. Michaels High School and Sylvia Clarke of Waterford High School are local winners.

Each demonstrated her home-making knowledge and attitude by receiving the highest score for her school in a written examination given graduating senior girls in over 18,000 of the nation's high schools. Her test paper will be entered in competition with 361 other Michigan winners to determine the state winner.

In April the state winners will take a trip to Washington, Williamsburg and Philadelphia where the national winner will be selected. She will receive a $5000 college scholarship.

Each of this area's winners has her own special field of interest. Carolyn is interested in the mechanics of keeping house. Since her graduation from high school in January she has been working full time. Next fall will see her in college. She likes sports and reading, but dancing is her favorite leisure time activity.

Marcia, who is 17 and a senior at St. Michaels also hopes to go to college. She loves to sew and makes some of her own clothes. When she has time beyond that needed for school and a part-time job, she likes to skate or swim.

Sylvia, the Waterford winner, is also 17 and a graduating senior, come June. She has already made her choice of a college. In September she will enroll in Valparaiso College in Indiana. Her main home-making interest lies in cooking.

The written test these girls took covered 10 major areas of home-making—family relationship, spiritual and moral values, child development and care, health and safety, utilization and conservation of human physical resources, money management, recreation, home care, community participation and continuing education.

To Store Sandwiches

Making sandwiches ahead? Wrap them tightly in waxed paper and then cover them with a damp towel; store in the refrigerator. The sandwiches have a good chance of tasting fresh this way.

CAROLYN HAWN — Carolyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hawn of Chippewa road, wrote her winning paper for the Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow contest before her recent graduation from Pontiac High School. Carolyn likes the mechanics of home-making, wields a purposeful dustcloth here.

MARCIA KRAMER — Marcia, daughter of the Frederick Kramers of Long Lake, represents St. Michaels High School in the state contest for Homemakers of Tomorrow. Marcia is a June graduate. She makes a number of her own clothes, as sewing is one of her hobbies.

SYLVIA CLARKE — Sylvia, daughter of the Thurnman Clarkes of Gateway drive, loves to cook. She's Waterford High School's winner for the Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow contest.

Follow 6 Tips to Carve Roast

The man of almost every house stands in the spotlight when it comes time to carve a roast. Whether it's guests or just the family, all eyes are on the host. Reba Staggs, home economist, suggests the hostess give a helping hand while the man in your house is executing the art of carving.

Now — quite simple. Just follow these six easy tips.

1. If a large roast is to be served, allow it to stand 20 to 30 minutes before carving. The host will find that it carves more easily.
2. Give the carver plenty of platter room and plenty of elbow room. The platter should be large enough to accommodate slices; if not, an additional warm platter should be furnished.
3. When garnishing the carving platter, don't be over-generous; leave space for the work to be done.
4. Servings cool quickly so platters and platter must be heated.
5. An inexperienced carver will appreciate a hostess who keeps the guests' attention diverted from his carving.
6. The most important preparation for carving is proper cooking of the meat. The roast should be neither over nor underdone.

Crappies Are Best in the Wintertime

Crappies coming from cold winter waters are at a flavor peak in contrast to the muggy taste which they often have in the summer. Broiling with wine is a very fine way of preparing these tasty beauties. Small ones can be broiled whole, larger ones are best split.

Brush the fish with lemon juice (inside and out in the case of whole fish), season with salt and pepper, and place under the broiler. Baste frequently with sauterie sauce, which is also served with the fish at the table.

To make sauterie sauce, mix one-half cup melted butter, one-fourth cup sauterie wine, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and one-eighth teaspoon pepper.

A little currant jelly leftover? Mix it with salad oil, lemon juice and a dash of salt; use it as a dressing over a salad of romaine and fresh pear.

Upside-Down Cake Made With Pears

A Pear Upside-Down Cake will win praises for you and it's easy to make. One thing about canned pears—they go with all flavors of cake mixes.

For a glaze that is ever so good, spread a 9-inch square pan with 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, then sprinkle one-half cup packed brown sugar over bottom of pan. Drain pear halves and place, cut side down, over sugar. Prepare cake batter and pour over pears.

Bake according to directions on ers.

package, about 35 to 40 minutes or until it tests done. Cool for five minutes, then turn out of pan. A garnish of maraschino cherries or a bit of red jelly in the pear centers adds to the attractiveness of Pear Upside-Down Cake.

Use Herbed Butter

Add a little grated onion and a mixture of your favorite herbs to a half cup (one stick) of butter or margarine. Spread the herbed butter over 16 slices of white bread. Toast in the oven, cut in strips and serve at a buffet supper party. Good with sliced turkey and ham.

America's increasing desire for silk is helping Japanese export.

Ole Cagey isn't too popular around Lahser road these days. Last week this ole buckaroo picked Berkley to upset Southfield and guess what? That's right, it happened, even though a lot of folks thought it wouldn't.

Don't know, but it must have a clear day for the crystal ball. Last week's record showed 18 out of 24 to bring the season total to 108 right and 38 wrong. How about that?

And note, the two point difference of the Ferndale-Mt. Clemens score. That's just what ole Clem figured.

This should be a tough week with all the big league games. Don't tell any one but the Chiefs of Pontiac might just bump off that Flint Central team tomorrow, and Walled Lake might even do it again to Southfield. (P.S. Avondale over Fitzgerald.)

Setters to TryFour Pointers Flub Trials

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn. (AP)—A couple of setters hustled out today to try to outthrust the short-hairs in the National Bird Dog Championship.

The shaggy entries were Turno, owned by George R. Feltman of Union City, Ind., and Wapnaposag, Inspector, owned by Anthony Ambesi of Philadelphia.

The afternoon brace switches back to pointers: Time Supply, owned by Ralph V. Easley of San Antonio, and Hall's Stopecroft Babe, owned by Mrs. A. Acton Hall of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Four highly trained pointers were sent looking for quail yesterday but performed like puppies, getting out of hand, flubbing points and misbehaving in general.

Bill's Gypsy Bird struck out for unknown parts at the very start of her three-hour trial, ignoring the whoops and whistles of Owner-Handler Homer Pittman of Tyler, Tex.

Fast Delivery Boy, paired with Gypsy, also got out of hand after showing some lukewarm bird-work. He returned 40 minutes later, but owner H. A. Crane of Washington, D.C., who flew in to watch the hunt, glumly ordered him picked up.

The day's hex also extended to Homestake, owned by W. A. Howell of Carbondale, Ill., and Billy Hope, owned by Betha McCall of Birmingham, Ala.

Homestake went to point four times and managed one bird. Billy pointed six times, had two bevs. And on those two he handled his handler a stiff shock by flushing the birds himself.

The trial, the "World Series" of the formal quail hunt circuit, drew 37 entries—all champions of lesser stakes. The winner will be named March 1.

State Seeking Report Cards From Hunters

LANSING—Small game hunters are urged to mail their season report cards to the Conservation Department's Lansing offices. The green report cards were issued to hunters when they purchased licenses.

This year, report cards were not issued with deer hunting licenses. Instead, special post cards have been mailed out to more than 10,000 deer hunters who are asked to take part in a hunting information survey.

Special survey cards also are being mailed this month to obtain other information, including 4,500 on the small game season, 2,300 on archery deer, 200 on camp deer and 1,200 in a special opinion poll.

Flint JC Cagers Win

FLINT — Flint solidified its lead in the Michigan Junior College basketball race with a 104-69 victory last night over Alpena.

Anglers Warned Against Causing Summer Mishaps

LANSING—Ice fishermen were cautioned this week against causing summertime accidents.

The warning may be confusing at first glance, but winter carelessness often leads to injuries on bathing beaches later in the year.

Bottles, cans and other refuse left on ice-covered lakes now can create hazards during the summer months. Ice movements and water action deposit debris at or near lake shorelines.

Bottles which sink into deep water are moved along the lake bottom by water action and find their way to beach areas after the ice has melted.

"Litterbug" activities can be costly for the guilty person. One such offender recently was assessed $14.80 in fines and costs in a Kalamazoo justice court for leaving broken bottles on an ice-covered lake.

Ferndale Gridder Signs

With Canadian Pro Team

HAMILTON — Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football League have announced the signing of American end Jack Crittenden, a native of Ferndale, Mich. Crittenden was an offensive end and defensive halfback with Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League for 1½ seasons. He is 25, stands six feet, one inch and weighs 189 pounds.

A carp may live to an age of 50 years, a pike as much as 70 years.

Pointmakers in Final Splurge

Unless he tumbles in complete collapse in the remaining two games, Milford's Jim Davidson has virtually clinched the scoring title in Oakland area cage circles.

The 6-3 Redskin with a 28.7 average is 35 points ahead of Madison's Jim Simer. Each has played in 14 games with two to go.

Simer has Troy and Thurston ahead. It was against Thurston that Simer bucketed his record breaking 53 points earlier in season.

Rapidly moving up and now among the big three is Avondale's Larry Hughes.

Jerry Paul who also has a couple more games, both on the home court.

Paul's recent splurge of 40-point outputs gives him a 25.7 average with 361 points in 14 games.

There was little change in the list of leading scorers except for a few rises among the 17 point per game players.

Bruce Gentile, Berkeley's rugged center, took over the scoring lead in the Inter-Lakes just two-tenths of a point ahead of Walled Lake's Larry Hughes.

Tomorrow night's cage action is the last big Friday of games for most teams. The schedule slows down for Tuesday and Friday nights next week as teams prepare for district and regional playoffs.

(These are the leading point-makers in Oakland County and in leagues involving Oakland area schools.)

Power and Speed at Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Increased power of U. S. built sports and passenger cars is apparent in speed records they set on the beach yesterday.

Tim Flock of Atlanta, Ga., drove a 1956 Chrysler 300B faster than any American stock car had ever been clocked in a two-way run over the measured mile on the ocean sand—139.91 miles an hour.

The National Assn. for stock car automobile racing which conducts the annual speed trials, set up a new classification of unlimited piston displacement for the new powerful cars. Flock's mark automatically became a record in that division.

The fastest previous time for an American strictly stock car in these trials was 127.58 m.p.h.

set last year by Warren Kuechling of Miami in a 1955 Chrysler 300.

This became a record in the middle bracket class, based on piston displacement, and immediately was erased yesterday by Danny Eames of Detroit. He drove a Dodge 500D at an average of 130.57 m.p.h.

Last year Don MacDonald of Franklin, Mich., set the old record of 112.29 in a 1955 DeSoto.

Zora Arkus-Duntov, Detroit test driver, set a new high for modified American sports cars, driving a modified 1956 Chevrolet Corvette 147.29 m.p.h. The old record of 127.33 was set a year ago by Bob Osiecki of Daytona Beach in an Osiecki Special.

Bill Holland of Indianapolis, former winner of the Indianapolis 500, drove a similar type car 148.087 m.p.h. for the best foreign car time yesterday.

Carolina Setter Sets Trials Pace

Greenville, S. C. Dog Best Worker in U.S. Event, Wednesday

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Sixteen dogs will be tested over some of the finest quail country in the nation today during the second day of qualifying runs at the National Shooting Dog Championship.

The pups running in the first eight braces yesterday turned up 40 coveys in the good hunting weather that greeted the opening of the field trials.

An eager setter, Hillsbright Spot looked to be the best performer yesterday with three covey finds and two stops to flush. He is owned by M.C. Dudley of Greenville, S.C., and was handled by John O'Neill of Knoxville, Tenn. Mountain Creek Sam, owned by E. B. Chancey of Union Springs and handled by Wayne Attaway of Chattanooga, also proved to be a pacesetter with four covey finds, although a little erratic in handling them.

Hope Upset by Adrian

HOLLAND, Mich. — Hope College, hoping for a title in the MIAA basketball conference, was dropped into a tie for second last night by an 89-82 defeat at the hands of Adrian.

Odd Revolt Under Way in Brazil

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—One of the world's strangest rebellions is under way in Brazil. Four air force officers and 30 men have seized the city of Santarem, cutting all air and river traffic through the Amazon Valley.

Not a shot has been fired. No one is sure why the men are in revolt. The government angrily denies the revolt leader is short in his accounts.

NOTHING ELSE
No other disorders have been reported over the country. Telephone service between Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo was cut last night but the telephone company said the difficulty was due to an accident on its lines. There was no report of troop movements or other unusual occurrences at Sao Paulo.

Santarem, the revolt site, is a commercial center of some 15,000 persons 1,500 miles northwest of Rio de Janeiro and about 350 miles up the Amazon. The uprising has political overtones.

Maj. Haroldo Veloso fled from Rio de Janeiro in a training plane Feb. 11 and enlisted the river town's small garrison behind him. They blocked the airfield with gasoline drums and have been holding out ever since.

His action cut air traffic between Belem, near the mouth of the Amazon, and Manaus, the chief river port. Commercial planes need the Santarem field as a refueling stop.

NO RAILROADS
River boats have not tried to run past Santarem. There are no railroads along the Amazon.

The government has concentrated troops in Belem and has occupied emergency landing fields around the Santarem redoubt. But any plans of further action are "a military secret."

One reason for the government inactivity may be widespread disaffection reported in the air force. An attack resulting in the death of Veloso could make him a martyr. But if the government can wait for him to surrender, it might by "kid-glove" handling appease the reported air force feeling.

Chile's first paper mill will open soon.

LOST 30 lbs
I FEEL WONDERFUL
LANSING, MICH. "After my operation my doctor said I would have to lose some weight. Renel Concentrate was the reducing aid I chose and it has surely helped me. In 6 months I lost 30 lbs. and want to lose more. I'm feeling fine now and recommend Renel highly," writes Mrs. Lucia Schipber, 720 Chicago Ave. Ask your druggist for 4 ounces of liquid RENEL Concentrate. You'll never know a hungry moment while reducing with BENNEL.
