LONG AWAITED REUNION—The Jack C. Gunthers of 750 Lounsbury Dr. were getting acquainted again Sunday with their 11-year-old son after a five year separation.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunther were married in Canton, China in 1947. The Lieutenant was called back to America and could not bring the boy, his wife's son by a previous marriage, until he had cut five years of red tape. Here Richard examines his first TV set.

Choice Is Left to Communists by Australia

Participation of India in Korean Conference Less Likely

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Russia appeared assured today of a seat at the forthcoming Korean political conference—if her satellites North Korea and Communist China want her there. India's chances of being asked to the parley dimmed, however.

Diplomats, gathering for the U. N. General Assembly beginning this afternoon, freely predicted approval of a carefully worded Western resolution tossing the issue of Soviet participation to the Communist side.

Two British Commonwealth countries—Australia and New Zealand—came up with this formula yesterday to patch up part of the split between the United States and Britain. Both agreed to support it.

The Anglo-American differences over the proposed inclusion of India at the conference table, however, remained as great as ever, and it was doubtful whether India could win a two-thirds majority in the 60-nation Assembly.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said frankly yesterday that the United States would not vote for a British-sponsored resolution to include India in the conference.

Lodge insisted Indian membership would not be in accordance with the terms of the armistice agreement, which, in the U. S. view, calls for representation only of fighting participants in the conflict. India had only an ambulance unit in Korea and has frequently claimed neutrality.

Some diplomatic quarters predicted that India might withdraw her name in view of the strong U. S. opposition. Indian delegate V. K. Krishna Menon already has declared his country is not a "candidate" for a place at the conference.

Cut Weeds in Search for Death Clues

Search Spurred by 2nd Attack in Neighborhood

Warn Women and Girls Against Being Alone on Streets at Night

Police warned women and children in the Baldwin-Beverly Ave., area today to stay indoors at night for fear that a demented sex slayer who killed a Pontiac woman and attacked a teen-age girl will strike again in that neighborhood.

Meanwhile, the hunt for the slayer of Mrs. Hallie Perkins, 57, gained momentum when Detroit Police indicated they would enter the investigation to determine whether the slayer may also have killed JoAnn Gillespie in Detroit last Jan. 2.

Armed with the description of a 200-pound man who raped a 16-year-old girl nine hours after Mrs. Perkins' body was found Saturday afternoon, police launched another house-to-house hunt for clues in the residential section.

The teen-age girl was attacked at the same time police were searching a field only two blocks away for clues in the brutal sex-murder.

The hands and legs of the murder victim were bound by pieces of her clothing, and the hands of the rape victim also were tied securely with one of her stockings.

This led police to believe the same man is responsible for both crimes.

Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detectives, cautioned women and children to stay off the streets in that area at night unless accompanied by a male escort.

Pontiac Detective John DePauw said the girl's description of her attacker is the first real lead to the murder of Mrs. Perkins who had been missing 11 days from the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Perkins Jr., 76 W. Longfellow Ave.

Mrs. Perkins' body was found about 1:15 p.m. Saturday about 150 feet behind a gasoline station by Jesse O. Young, 32, Thomas Scott, 29, all of 53 E. Fairmount Ave., who were hunting crickets for fish bait.

The men found Mrs. Perkins' body under rotting lumber in a field at Baldwin and Beverly Aves., only four blocks from her home.

The victim's legs were bound by a piece of her slip and her arms tied behind her body with a blouse. She was gagged with heavy cloth.

Pontiac Policewoman M. P. Sweeney and Detective John Wilson said the girl told them she was walking home from the bus stop at Baldwin and Strathmore Aves. about 10:30 p.m. when a

Police Seek Tips

Pontiac Police urged anyone who saw Mrs. Hallie Perkins, the victim of a sex-slayer, after Aug. 2 to contact them at once. They said even what appears to be insignificant information at this time might later help solve the wanton slaying.

Faith Pays Off for Kalamazoo Business Places

KALAMAZOO (UP) — Trust the customer and he will repay you with more trade, four business concerns here report.

A bank, restaurant, flower shop and parking lot let customers make their own change or pay their own bills without a supervising cashier.

Miss Marian Smith, manager of the restaurant, said that except in the busiest periods of the day she does not bother with a cashier.

"My customers pay their own bills and make change out of a bowl on the counter. The books balance every night," she said.

The bank put out six dollars in a bowl for quick change two years ago for motorists wanting nickels and pennies for parking meters. There still is two dollars left.

Mossadegh Plans Regency to Replace Deposed Shah

(From AP & UP Dispatches)

TEHRAN, Iran — Foreign Minister Hussein Fatemi said today that Premier Mohammed Mossadegh intends to set up a regency council—with members of the royal family excluded—to take over the duties of fleeing Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi.

At the same time Fatemi said that the Shah's court minister has written a letter blaming the monarch directly for an abortive attempt to overthrow the aged, ailing Mossadegh.

At Bagdad, Iraq, the Iranian Embassy asked Iraq's government today about the presence in Baghdad of the Shah.

It was not known in what terms the embassy put its request, made verbally, and whether it had protested Iraq's reception of the monarch.

The Shah and his wife arrived unheralded at the Baghdad airport and surprised an official party waiting to welcome King Faisal on his return from a visit to Jordan.

When they recognized the Iranian couple, officials offered them the use of a government guest house. Reliable sources said the Shah had no plans to leave Bahgdad immediately.

In announcing the plan to form a regency council, Fatemi said that Mossadegh does not intend to set up a republic. Mossadegh charted his course of action at a secret cabinet meeting.

Police fired over the heads of Iranian mobs who demonstrated against the Shah today and tried to demolish statues of him.

As usual, the demonstrations took a strong anti-American turn. The demonstrators blamed the United States for playing a behind-the-scenes role in the young monarch's attempt to grab control from Mossadegh. They posted "Yankee Go Home" placards throughout the city.

It was reported that Mossadegh,

Soviet Suggests United Germany

Proposes Big 4 Parley on Peace Treaty Within Six Months

MOSCOW (UP) — Soviet Russia advocated today formation of a provisional united German government and a Big Four conference on German peace treaty within six months.

The Soviet Union also called for Free German elections without foreign supervision and reduction of Germany's World War II debts.

These Russian desires were made known Sunday when the Soviet government handed notes to ambassadors of western nations.

The note argued that four-power preliminary talks should begin immediately with the Germans sitting in on the conversations.

It also proposed that the East and West German Parliaments should get together and organize a unified provisional government which would participate in preparation of the peace treaty and draft an election law.

The Big Four conference on the treaty should be held within six months, the note said.

It proposed that Germany cease making reparations payments on Jan. 1, 1954, and that all of Germany's postwar debts except those made in trade agreements be canceled.

Occupation costs should not exceed 5 per cent of the combined East and West German budgets, the note said.

Monday morning newspapers said the Soviet Union has invited an East German government delegation to visit Moscow.

The note to the Big Three ambassadors said the provisional government should discuss "barring the inclusion of Germany in coalitions and military alliances directed against any state which took part in the war against Hitler's Germany."

Federal Printer Identified as Red

Fellow Worker Names Rothschild as One-Time Party Member

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Government Printing Office employe identified a fellow worker, Edward Rothschild, face-to-face today as a onetime member of the Communist Party.

James Phillips, a bookbinding machine operator, told Senate investigators that Rothschild has no direct access to secret material in the government printing plant but could easily get such material from other workers.

Phillips confronted the slightly built, pipe-smoking Rothschild at a hearing by the Senate investigations subcommittee, which is looking for evidence that secret material in the government printing office has been leaked to the Communists.

Phillips testified he first met Rothschild in 1938. He identified Rothschild as one of 25 or 30 persons who attended a meeting in a private home to organize a Communist cell in the Government Printing Office.

Later, Phillips said, Rothschild and a Fred Sillers approached him on the street and asked him in a "threatening and belligerent" attitude whether he was for or against their efforts to organize such a cell.

Phillips said he thought it over and gave them their answer by going before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, then headed by Rep. Dies (D-Tex) and testifying about the whole affair.

Phillips also testified he once saw another fellow worker, Bertha Lomax, try to leave the Government Printing Office with secret material in her pocket.

That employe continued to work at the printing office for three months after she was caught, Phillips said.

New Zealander Killed in Sleep

Hunt Escaped Prisoners for Night Assassination of Isle Commissioner

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — C. H. W. Larsen, New Zealand resident commissioner of Niue, in the Cook islands, was slain in his sleep last night by three escaped prisoners. His wife was badly injured.

The Larsens and their two young sons were asleep in separate rooms at the residency when the slayers entered. The children were unharmed.

Practically the entire island population of 4,500 participated today in a hunt for the criminals. All three were natives of Niue. The island, 2,400 miles due south of Hawaii, is a dependency of New Zealand.

Nearly all the islanders are Polynesians, closely related to the New Zealand Maoris.

5 Years of Waiting Ends as Lad Reaches New Home

When 11-year-old Richard Hwang rushed into his parents arms at Willow Run Airport Saturday night, he had overcome five years of "red tape" and completed a lone 7,000 mile plane ride to happily end a drama which began in war-ravaged China in 1947.

Meanwhile, his parents, Lt. and Mrs. Jack C. Gunther of 750 Lounsbury Ave., had suffered through countless political maneuvers aimed at obtaining permission for Richard to come from Taipeh, Formosa, and join them here.

After the war Lt. Gunther was employed by the United Nations Rehabilitation and Relief Administration in China as a Diesel engineer on a relief ship.

Another UNRRA worker, who Gunther knew, had married a Chinese woman. Through them the lieutenant met Irene Chow, a Siamese national who had come to China after being driven from her homeland by World War II fighting.

They were married at the American Consulate at Canton,

Syria's Chief Reported Slain

But Government Says Rumor Is by Enemies of President

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Unconfirmed reports circulated in Lebanon today that Syria's President Adib Shishekly had been assassinated in Damascus, his capital, but authoritative Syrian sources here denied the reports.

The Syrian sources said the reports were part of an organized campaign by enemies of the Syrian president.

(The Syrian embassy in Cairo and other sources there, said they lacked any news of the reported assassination.

The Syrian embassy in Cairo said it had heard a round-about report, broadcast by the Near East radio at Nicosia, Cyprus, that President Shishekly had received the Iraqi foreign minister in Damascus at noon. Afternoon broadcasts from Damascus and Jerusalem made no mention of the reported assassination.

(This dispatch did not disclose the source of the report of the assassination. News usually seeps quickly over the Syrian-Lebanese border, though an official announcement on an event of this kind might be bottled up in Damascus for several hours.)

Reds' Death List Brings Grief to 2 County Families

The Korean prisoner-of-war accounting which has sent joy into hundreds of American homes brought grief this weekend to a Pontiac family and Hazel Park wife.

Prisoners listed by the Reds as dead are:

Cpl. Charles L. Riley, husband of Mrs. Charles L. Riley, 81 Shasta, Hazel Park.

"We hadn't heard anything from Fred after the U.N. forces withdrew from a forward position in November of 1950," Mrs. Stephens said.

"We knew there was something wrong. We waited and waited and didn't hear any news of him, so we called Washington in April, 1951. They checked and reported him missing. All the records had been lost at the front."

Pvt. Hapgood, she said, came here from Newfoundland in April, 1948, to make his home with Mrs. Stephens. He was first inducted

AP Photographer POW Tells Experiences

Red Prison Is Cruelest Form of Torture Ever Devised by Man, Says Frank Noel

(Editor's Note: Frank Noel, Associated Press photographer, is a free man again after more than 32 months as a prisoner of the Chinese Reds in North Korea. Now in Tokyo for medical and dental treatment necessitated by his long captivity, Noel has collaborated with AP correspondent Olen Clements to tell of some of the things he and his fellow Americans saw and endured as prisoners of war. This is the first of three articles.)

By FRANK NOEL

TOKYO (AP)—Life as a prisoner of the Chinese Communists was a thing of doubt and fear—doubt of what our captors would do to us next, and fear that an incautious word might be overheard by some fellow prisoner who had become an informer.

There is a strange thing about all the Communists I have met. They trust no one—especially their fellow Communists.

Somehow, they managed to instill this same feeling of distrust into their prisoners, even though those prisoners had fought bravely side by side before being captured.

Some few men turned informers. Others, in the constant questioning by the Communists, said things the Communists did not like.

As a result, lots of us went into the "hole,"—a cell in which a man could neither stand nor stretch.

One particularly bad hole was reserved for prisoners the Reds hated most. When you went into that hole, you stayed for weeks without ever leaving it, even to go to the latrine.

You sat and slept in your own filth.

In winter you froze, day and night; in summer you sweltered. A little food was thrown in once in a while, and a Chinese guard was on duty at all times.

Many of us spent days, weeks, months, in the hole, simply as punishment for not thinking the way the Communists wanted us to think.

A Red prison is one of the cruelest forms of torture every devised by man.

There are still Americans up there—some of them driven insane in prison.

I am sure there will be some of them there when the Chinese say repatriation has been finished. These men will be a club which the Reds will hold over our heads in the post-armistice political conference.

I was captured Nov. 30, 1950. In the early days of my imprisonment, the Chinese took some American officers into Antung, Manchuria. I know of one who said the people on the streets there were very friendly.

So far as I know, all of these Americans were soon returned to North Korea, but there are other Americans today in Chinese territory.

They are the ones who swal-

Birmingham Commission to Consider Through Cut for Fourteen Mile Road

(From Our Birmingham Bureau)

BIRMINGHAM — Tonight's City Commission meeting will again bring to life the project of extending Fourteen Mile Road, permitting it to serve as a main east-west artery for the area.

The program has been under discussion since 1946, and City Manager Donald C. Egbert will ask that the city request the county road commission to take action to obtain a right of way for Fourteen Mile, between Southfield and Cranbrook Roads.

He will further recommend that the city secure cooperation in the project from the Oakland County Road Commission and Oakland County Planning Commission.

A hearing will be scheduled on the presently tabled amendment to the zoning ordinance, which would limit residential density in business zones.

A letter from the Troy Township supervisor will be heard, stating that consideration will be given to Birmingham's School Board and the owners of property in an area north of Derby Road, in Troy Township, requesting sanitary and storm sewer relief.

The possibility of other areas being included in a sanitary drain down Coolidge to the sewage disposal district will be reviewed occasionally, the letter states.

A communication from the Oakland County Road Commission, indicating that they will participate in the cost of the 1955 project of improving W. Maple, will be heard, and a delegate and alternate will be appointed to the South Oakland Planing Council.

Birmingham National Bank will request that one lot at Woodward between Fourteen Mile and Bird be rezoned from residential to parking district, and another from residential to business. The bank and Standard Oil Company plan the erection of new buildings there.

Other items on the agenda include purchase of election equipment, stop signs at Melton and Sheffield, revision of the parking meter zone on the west side of Brownell and a zoning map change at 595 S. Bates.

Members of the American Association of University Women now are being contacted by Mrs. Richard L. Brown and her committee for contributions to the annual AAUW fall book sale.

"Because the book sale benefits the entire community," said Mrs. J. H. Van Doren, publicity chairman, "we have tried to appeal to everyone to contribute. We need all kinds of books—old, new, poetry, fiction, picture, juvenile, scientific, factual and frivolous—if the sale in October is to be as colorful and exciting as the past 25 have been."

Also needed, she said, are monthly magazines, toys, records, sheet music, games, patterns and pictures.

Proceeds go toward scholarships and educational grants and anyone wishing to have materials picked up may contact Mrs. Robert L. Garrison, Mrs. Charles D. Moore or Mrs. M. C. Dietrich.

Circle II of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church will meet at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Joel Riley, in Royal Oak. The group will work on cancer pads.

New officers of the Moms Club take office with the first fall meeting Sept. 14. Mrs. Ralf A. Cookston was re-elected president, Mrs. Bruce D. Strieb is first vice-president, Mrs. Frank Smith, second vice-president and Mrs. L. J. Vici, treasurer.

Mrs. P G. Burnett will serve as recording secretary, Mrs. Charles W. Minting as corresponding secretary, Mrs. Manson Hillman as chaplain, Mrs. Charles Thomas as historian and Mrs. John Martz and Mrs. Earl H. Cunningham as directors.

Chairmen are Mrs. Wilbur Johnstone, program and United Nations; Mrs. Norman Porter, hospital and social service, with Mrs. Howard Estes as co-chairman; Mrs. William Morrision, membership; Mrs. Clay Johnson, tea; and Mrs. Harold Corson, legislative.

The Lions Club has no program scheduled for Wednsday's noon luncheon at Devon Gables. Plans are underway for a Ladies' Day celebration Aug. 26, however.

William C. Knight

Service for William C. Knight, 1420 W. Lincoln, will be at 11 a.m. Thursday from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with burial at White Chapel Memorial Cemetry.

Knight died Saturday at Point Pleasant, N. J. He suffered a heart attack while on a fishing trip with Detroit friends.

Knight retired five years ago as president of Knight Screw Machine Products Co. of Detroit. Born in Kerwin, Kans., he had lived in the Detroit area 45 years.

A 1906 graduate of the Engineering College of the University of Michigan, he was a member of the football team and later officiated at Big Ten football games.

A member of the U of M Alumni Association, Knight was also a life member of the Detroit Boat Club and a member of the Highland Park Rotary. He was a Mason and a member of the Detroit Athletic Club where he was active with the DAC Beavers.

hicles which resemble big buses. They have dual front wheels and are equipped with automatic transmissions, power steering, power brakes, automatic light dimmers and are air-conditioned. Animated exhibits are built into their large cargo compartment.

The Futurliners were built at the GMC Truck & Coach Division here.

The Parade's Aerodome tent has no poles or stakes — no obstruction of any kind inside. It consists of a framework of aluminum beams from which its plastic-impregnated canvas "skin" is suspended. The tent seats 1,250 persons.

A stage show is presented six times daily in the tent. Shown are such scientific oddities as the making of synthetic rubber in a pop bottle, cooking on a stove that never gets hot and the transmission of sound by micro waves.

The parade shows how scientific research and engineering have improved the American standard of living.

General Motors put its first Parade of Progress on the road in 1936. It visited 251 cities throughout the country and was seen by 12½ million people. It appeared here in 1937.

The new parade has toured Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana. It is now showing in Flint. From Pontiac it will move to Detroit, then swing east.

Victory Day Service

Seek Moral Rededication for Strength of Country

An estimated 500 Gold Star mothers and wives yesterday heard Congressman Orland K. Armstrong of Missouri call for a rededication to moral principles at the fifth annual Victory Day service in White Chapel Cemetery.

The service is held each year at the Four Freedoms Memorial where 350 American dead of World War II and Korea are buried.

"Moral and spiritual strength is essential to the fundamental strength of the country," Armstrong said. "We need a rededication to moral principles. The world cannot endure half slave and half free."

Brig. Gen. William E. Carraway, Ass't. Commdr. 31st Infantry Division recently returned from Korea, told the Gold Star mothers and wives they deserve the respect of all Americans.

"You hold this celebration as a victory, not as mourning," Carraay pointed out. "Your patriotism is deeply unselfish."

Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, director of Michigan Civil Defense, brought greetings from Michigan Governor G. Mennen Williams and placed the first wreath of the day at the foot of the Four Freedoms memorial.

Rep. George A. Dondero, (R-Royal Oak) acting as director of ceremonies, called for a constant awareness of the objectives of World War I, World War II and the Korean war.

"Freedom is not free," Dondero said. "To such Americans as these men, the flowers and flags we place here will be nothing unless we remain true to their spirit.

"May the historian of the future write of us, 'They also kept the faith.' "

Other speakers included Mrs. Elsie Neilsen, national president of the Gold Star Mothers; the Hon. John Fisher, representing the British consulate; the Hon. C. W. Hooper, representing the Canadian consulate; Troy Tonship supervisor Norman Barnard; Detroit Common-Council president Louis C. Miriani; and the Rev. Charles W. Hughes.

The Tenth Air Force Band from Selfridge Air Force base played during the ceremony.

Three Detroiters Hurt in Pontiac Trail Crash

Three members of a Detroit family were treated at Pontiac General Hospital after a two-car crash Sunday on Pontiac Trail west of Haggerty Road, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

A car driven by Wayland W. Binder, 34, of 7717 Detroit Blvd., Detroit, collided with one operated by Woodie McClendon, 27, of 1111 Seminole Ave., Detroit, Deputies said.

All the injured were riding in Binder's car. His wife, Juliette, 34; son, Daniel, 6; and daughter Diane, 3; were treated for cuts and bruises.

In 1820, when a salt well, located where Pittsburgh now stands, was deepened, natural gas was tapped, but no use could be found for the gas and the well was capped to prevent its becoming a nuisance.

2nd Assault Spurs Search for Killer

The girl said she gave him the information and hurried away along Fairmount avenue. Suddenly the man placed his hands around her throat lifted her into the air and dragged her to the lot.

"I couldn't scream or even talk because his hands were tight around my neck," she told Miss Sweeney. After tying her hands behind her back with one of her stockings, he attacked her.

The attacker was described as being about five feet, eight inches tall and weighing about 200 pounds. He had brown hair, a heavy beard and was wearing a dirty T-shirt and grease-stained, rumpled dark trousers.

Henry Manz, of 17 Fairmount St. who found the dazed girl on his porch untied her and called police. The girl was treated for shock at Pontiac General hospital.

The body of Mrs. Perkins was identified, about an hour after it was discovered, by David's wife, Ruth, 34, who was attracted to the field by the crowd.

Hearing of the woman's body she told detectives that her mother-in-law was reported missing on Aug. 10. Showing her a wristwatch and a wedding band lying near the body, she sobbed, "That's it . . . Why? Why? She was an old woman. It doesn't make sense; I don't understand."

Detectives DePauw and Lt. Walter Krause confirmed Mrs. Perkin's identity by checking the serial number of her watch against records in a Pontiac jewelry store where she had the watch repaired recently.

Police had the field mowed and found one of Mrs. Perkin's shoes about 30 feet from where the body was found and the other 90 feet away. Her red wallet containing $12 and her social security card also were discovered nearby.

After finding the wallet, police discounted robbery as a motive and said the position of the shoes indicated the victim had been dragged from the Baldwin Avenue sidewalk, just south of Beverly.

Dr. Richard E. Olsen, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital pathologist, said his Saturday night autopsy indicated that two of Mrs. Perkin's ribs had been broken after death.

He said she apparently had been strangled after she was raped.

Police at first thought the body had been burned, but an autopsy of the badly-decomposed body failed to show any burns.

A potato bag covered the upper part of the body and a man's size 40, brown coat was draped over the women's legs and hips. Police said the coat had been purchased in a Pontiac store.

Mrs. Perkins' husband, who operates a cigar store in Muncie, Ind., has come to Pontiac to claim the body and take it back to Muncie for burial. Mrs. Perkins had been living apart for about a year.

Mrs. Perkins, who did housework, last worked for Mrs. Wallace R. Williams, 291 Tilden St., according to police. Mrs. Williams told police that Mrs. Perkins quit her job at her home July 29 when she complained of a sprained back.

She said Mrs. Perkins was supposed to return to work Aug. 3, "but I haven't heard from her since."

Police said Mrs. Perkins also worked for Mrs. Harold P. Chapman of 390 Tilden St. from July 20-25 and July 27, 28. They reported that Mrs. Perkins went to Mrs. Chapman's home about noon Aug. 3 to collect $14 for two days work.

According to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederic C. Ziem, Mrs. Perkins lived with her son and daughter-in-law, Ruth, about seven years and occupied a small room upstairs.

Ruth told Ziem that Mrs. Perkins and her husband lived with them until about a year ago, when he went to Muncie after quarrels with his son, David Jr., 37.

The elder Perkins returned here once asking his wife to return with him to Muncie, but she refused because she said she had become too attached to the children, said Ruth. Mrs. Perkins was the grandmother of four children.

Ziem quoted Ruth as saying that Mrs. Perkins lived a secluded life and would stay away from home as much as two or three days at a time.

According to Ziem, Ruth said Mrs. Perkins left home early in the morning on Tuesday, Aug. 4, and never returned.

She said her mother-in-law told her the night before that she planned to go to the Michigan Employment Security Commission's branch office in Pontiac the next day in search of a new job. Police said, however, that Mrs. Perkins never showed up at the MESC office.

Both Ruth and her husband, David Jr., told Ziem they didn't report Mrs.. Perkins missing until Monday, Aug. 10, as they thought she would return from one of her frequent trips.

Ziem said Ruth told him that Mrs. Perkins had received a letter from her husband the Saturday before she left, but didn't disclose its contents.

Police also learned that Mrs. Perkins had a private mail box at Pontiac Post Office.

Following Saturday night's attack police made a house-to-house search for a suspect.

Capt. Clark W. Wheaton, chief of detectives, said his department would appreciate any tips which would lead police to the slayer.

DePauw said he would recommend that all lots and fields in the residential-industrial area be mowed for further evidence. Grass in some of the fields is growing as high as 4½ feet.

Police said they have received numerous tips from residents in the area.

Tips which may aid the investigation should be telephoned to FEderal 2-0171, said police.

Besides her son and husband, Mrs. Perkins is survived by a sister, Mrs. Eunice Livingston of Aurora, Ill.; and four granddaughters, Gwendolyn, 17; Elaine, 16; Nancy, 14; and Sharon Ann, 10; all of the Longfellow address.

Flies From Formosa to New Pontiac Home

China, in December, 1947. Irene had a son by a previous marriage, Richard Hwang, then six-years-old.

Lt. Gunther was called to the United States. He could bring Irene as his wife, but not the boy because of his Chinese ancestry.

The couple decided Irene would follow her husband to America and acquire her citizenship. They thought when she became a citizen their son's admittance would be made easier.

It wasn't. Working constantly Irene had gained citizenship in two years. But three more years were consumed in cutting through the "red tape," and only now with assistance of Michigan Sen. Homer Ferguson has the long prayed for reunion come about.

The lieutenant expects Richard to make a rapid adjustment to Pontiac life. He has been attending an American school in Formosa and speaks and writes both English and Chinese. They plan to enroll him in Lincoln Junior High School this fall.

The happy three will be separated again in a few days when the recently commissioned officer departs for Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. "There's a lot of difference between a few hundred miles and 7,000 though," Gunther observed.

"We've had many worries these five years," he said. "We were never certain the law would allow us to bring him at all.

"Again, there was always the threat of an attack on Formosa by the Chinese.

"Without the war though," he pointed out, "I never would have met my wife or Richard."

Gunther has been employed at Fisher Body up to the time of his Army commission. Irene is employed by the Social Security Administration in Pontiac.

The Gunthers aren't exactly sure what Richard's status is, but they think he automatically becomes a citizen. "We've got him now though," Mrs. Gunther said, "and after the obstacles we've already overcome any future ones should seem small."

French Papers Join in Strike

No Evidence of Break Seen as Work Tie-up Enters 12th Day

PARIS (AP)—The French had only a few provincial newspapers and the English-language European edition of the New York Herald Tribue in which to read today about the nation's continuing crippling strikes.

Most newspaper workers joined for one day in the walkout in state-run communications and transport fields. Some out-of-town papers published under an agreement with the unions which called for them to layoff tomorrow instead of today. The Herald Tribune was exempted from the stoppage.

There was no evidence of a break in the strikes by government workers. Railroads were still practically paralyzed. The postal, telegraph and telephone closure went into its 12th day. Coal mines remained shut.

Premier Joseph Laniel and his top ministers met yesterday to discuss suggestions by Leon Jouhaux, head of the Socialist Trade Unions, for breaking the impasse.

Later they handed the labor leader a reply but its nature was not disclosed.

The British Liner Queen Mary arrived in Cherbourg from Ne York, and only 255 of 500 passengers scheduled to get off in France disembarked. The others went on to England.

Roman Catholic Church officials announced that because of the disruption of travel, the national annual pilgrimage to the Shrine at Lourdes in Southwestern France has been called off this year.

Indians Don Costumes for Trinket-Selling Blast

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP)—It's going to be a wow of a pow-wow!

An estimated 25,000 Indians have set up tepee-keeping on the outskirts of this self-styled "Indian Capital of the World" hoping to garner a trunkload of the white man's tourist wampum during the 22nd annual American Indian Exposition.

And the peace-pipe smoking redmen apparently are willing to forget that their white brothers shylocked their ancestors out of Manhattan Island for a piddling $24 in trinkets.

The braves, squaws and papooses have neatly folded their overalls, business suits and two-tone shoes and de-mothballed the Hollywood-type costumes and multi-colored feathers for the tourist trade.

Medicine men are hoping the war-whooping will attract some 60,000 visitors from all 48 states during the six-day celebration which began this morning.

Backdrop for the annual pageant, which will run nightly during the exposition, will be flags from each of the United Nations, sent from U.N. headquarters in New York.

Allie Reynolds, New York Yankees pitcher, was chosen Indian of the Year by the exposition and was scheduled to be honored in a ceremony at noon today.

With all the visiting Indians streaming into town, the outskirts are a solid mass of tents and tepees. Robert Goombi, exposition president, said all the Indians bring their own tents and cooking utensils for the week out in the open.

There are Pueblos from Jemez, N. M., Hootahs from northern California (their first visit to Indian territory), Navajos from Arizona, Cherokees from North Carolina, Northern Cheyennes from Montana, Winnebagos from Wisconsin, and the Five Civilized Tribes of Oklahoma.

Typhoon Lashes China Mainland, Grazes Okinawa

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—A wild typhoon ripped across the China mainland today after sideswiping the big American base at Okinawa and the Chinese Nationalist island of Formosa.

The Japanese weather bureau in Tokyo said the big storm, which changed course and did not hit Okinawa or Formosa with its full force, struck the China coast about 150 miles south of Shanghai.

The bureau said the typhoon, one of the mightiest ever recorded in the Pacific, was churning northwestward.

Okinawa escaped with minor damage, mostly to power lines, but Northern Formosa was lashed with heavy rains and winds up to 69 miles an hour.

A record 12 inches of rain fell on Formosa's capital, Taipeh, in 12 hours, flooding the 75-acre compound that houses the American Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG). All the Americans were evacuated without injury.

Demands 'Full Statement' on Churchill's Condition

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Mirror demanded today an official "full statement" on the condition of ailing Prime Minister Churchill.

The tabloid said in a front-page editorial that Britons have been "driven to pick up their information at secondhand from tittle-tattle abroad."

It cited a report by American columnist Stewart Alsop that Churchill had suffered a slight stroke in June and said, "Even more alarming reports have appeared in the French press."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Trade Mark.

Free Booklet Reveals Why Loss Of Hearing Should Be Checked Immediately

CHICAGO (Special)—Does a hearing impairment become progressively worse? Are persistent or recurring ear noises a sign of deafness? Does lost hearing cause other complications?

These and other important questions of vital interest to the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing are answered in an authoritative new illustrated booklet, "How You Can Help Yourself to Hear Better." It is now available to the hard of hearing readers of this newspaper without cost or obligation.

To obtain your free copy, which will be sent in a plain wrapper, simply send your request to: Electronic Research Director, Beltone Hearing Aid Company, 2900 West 36th Street, Department 526-A Chicago 32, Illinois. A postcard will do.

Three Persons Hurt in 2-Car Collision

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A two-car collision at Adams Rd. and Big Beaver Rd. last night sent three persons to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Walter E. Leader, 59, of 14190 St. Mary's, Detroit, driver of one car, was treated and released for head, shoulder and arm injuries. His wife Alice, 53, is reported in fair condition today with fractured ribs and other possible injuries.

Under observation for shock, Miss Nancy Petrak, 17, of 1595 Melton, Birmingham, is in good condition. She was a passenger in a car driven by Rolland E. Garn, 18, of 3798 South Blvd., Birmingham.

Police ticketed Garn for failure to stop at a stop sign.

PHS Driving Instructor to Teach at UM School

Arthur Tyrrell, Pontiac High School driver training instructor, will teach road work in a University of Michigan driver training institute this week.

The special school, sponsored by the university, Michigan Department of Public Instruction and the Automobile Club of Michigan, will train driver training teachers for school systems throughout the state.

List Property Sales at Waterford Office

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — To insure that tax notices be sent to the proper persons, all who bought or sold township property during the past year are asked to contact Mrs. Helen Reese, township treasurer, at her office, 4995 W. Huron St., Pontiac, immediately.

Mrs. Reese said tax files are being prepared so notices can be mailed on Dec. 10. She said anyone not sure how their property is listed should contact her for verification.

3 Michigan GIs Listed by Reds With Escapees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department released today the names of 33 American soldiers "purported by Communist forces to have escaped while in their custody in Korean prison camps."

The department emphasized that in no case have the Communist reports been verified.

"Not one of the men listed has ever returned to United Nations' lines," the Defense Department said. "No determination of official status will be made by the military services pending a thorough analysis of all available evidence, including statements of returned prisoners."

An earlier list contained 36 names, leaving 78 more to be identified from a list of 147 the Reds claim escaped.

Syracuse Drivers on Wildcat Strike

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—AFL bus drivers struck without warning today but despite huge traffic jams and taxi shortages, early reports indicated most stranded workers reached their jobs.

Spokesmen for the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railroad and Motor Coach employes said the strike had not been authorized, and urged drivers to return to work in this industrial city of 220,000 persons in central New York.

The huge General Electric Co. electronics installations said only a few workers were absent, although some were tardy. The Carrier Corp., mnufacturers of air-conditioning equipment, reported only about 50 late.

Most workers got to their jobs by car pools, taxis or hitchhiking.

Condition Called 'Fair' After Auto Overturns

Mrs. Marjorie S. Vance, 19, of 5655 Oster St. was reported in "fair" condition in Pontiac General Hospital after her car rolled over this morning on Airport Road at Elizabeth Lake Road, Oakland County sheriff's deputies said.

She suffered a concussion, and her son, Gerald, 4 months, was treated for bruises, according to hospital officials.

New Trial Denied in Southfield Suit

A motion for a new trial was denied former Southfield Township Supervisor Dudley P. Frame today in his $200,000 libel suit against Township Clerk Fannie Adams and the owner and publisher of the Four Corners Press.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland denied the request, filed Oct. 15, 1952, because "the issues were well and thoroughly tried."

Judge Holland was referring to the original 12-day suit heard in Circuit Court September, 1952, in which a jury returned a "no cause for action" verdict after deliberating only an hour.

The suit was filed by Frame against Fannie Adams, Betty Lewis and Marion White because of an "open letter" to township voters published in the Franklin weekly in 1951. Frame charged the letter injured his reputation.

William J. Beer, attorney for Frame, said Frame had authorized him to appeal the case to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Inquest Into Shooting Opens in Royal Oak

An inquest into the death of a Detroit man killed by a Royal Oak Township policeman while running from a crap game Aug. 8 opened today in Royal Oak City Hall.

Dr. John D. Monroe is conducting the inquest which was ordered by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem shortly after the shooting.

Patrolman James Gatewood said in a statemant he was chasing Arthur B. Hodges of 20000 Ohio, after surprising him at a crap game near 8914 West 8-Mile Rd., when he stumbled and fired his gun accidently.

About 15 witnesses will be called today, according to Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor, including Gatewood, Detroit ballistics experts who analyzed the fatal slug, and a number of witnesses who were watching the crap game when the shooting occurred.

One Precinct Votes Against

Challenge Ten Ballots, Which Will Be Opened on Tuesday

Only one of Oakland County's eight wheat-poll precincts, Oakland and Orion Townships, turned down wheat marketing quotas in Friday's national referendum.

In all other precincts farmers were heavily in favor of the referendum proposals.

Challenged ballots will be opened and returns for Oakland County in the wheat quota referendum will be reviewed tomorrow morning, according to Walter Cook, County Production Marketing Administration chairman.

The ten challenged ballots for the county will be opened at 10 a. m. in room 320 of the Hubbard Building in Pontiac. The public is invited to attend.

Most of the challenged ballots, Cook said, were questioned because some farmers were believed unable to plant over 15 acres of wheat as required for eligibility to vote on the referendum.

Voting in the eight county precincts was as follows:

Holly and Rose Townships — 24 yes, 2 no and 3 challenged.

Highland, Milford, Commerce and White Lake — 24 yes and 4 no.

Lyon and Novi Townships — 17 yes, 5 no and 1 challenged.

Groveland and Brandon Township — 13 yes.

Springfield and Independence Township — 6 yes.

Oxford and Addison Township—9 yes, 6 no and 4 challenged.

Oakland and Orion Township — 4 yes, 8 no and 2 challenged.

Avon, Pontiac, Waterford, West Bloomfield, Bloomfield, Troy, Royal Oak, Southfield and Farmington — 20 yes and 10 no.

TB Sanatorium Head Takes Jackson Post

Dr. George H. Phillips, who has been on the staff of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium since April, 1950, and medical superintendent the past year, has tendered his resignation, effective Sept. 1. He has accepted the position of Superintendent and Medical Director of the Jackson County Tuberculosis Sanatorium. His successor here will be announced in a few days.

Brother, Sister Hurt in 2-Car Collision

Patricia A. North, 18, and her brother Wilford North, 21, both of Brown City, were treated for cuts and bruises at Pontiac General Hospital after a two-car collision on Perry Street Saturday, Oakland County sheriff's deputies said.

Donna R. Howard, 24, of Marlette was treated for head and neck injuries. She was riding with Warren B. Howard, 22, of Marlette when he collided with a car driven by Kenneth B. Morehouse, 27, of Los Angeles, Calif., with whom the Norths were passengers, said deputies.

Howard told deputies he halted for a stop sign and Morehouse hit the rear of his car.

New Holly Schools Not Ready to Open

HOLLY — Some of the Holly area new school buildings which were to have been completed in June will not be ready for use next month. Scarcity of carpenters, plumbers and other workmen is given as the reason.

Only the new classrooms at Davisburg will be ready for the opening of school on Sept. 8. A temporary schedule for the old buildings in the area is being arranged until the new ones are ready for occupancy.

Hospital to Open Drive

PETOSKEY (UP)—Little Traverse Hospital will launch a fund drive to obtain $175,000 for a two-story addition, John B. Ford, president of the board of trustees, disclosed today.

Commies Free 400 U. N. POWs

75 Returned GIs Bring American Total to 1,105 Out of 3,313 Held

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists freed 400 Allied war prisoners today—73 of them Americans—and promised their biggest shipment of the Korean POW exchange for tomorrow—450 Allied captives including 75 Americans.

Today's group brought the total of Americans returned to 1,105, just over one third of the 3,313 the Reds have said they held.

The Reds also freed 75 British, 250 South Koreans, 1 Japanese who had served with U. S. forces as a houseboy, and a Japan-born Korean who said he served with South Korean Army although he was released as a civilian.

The Americans and British jumped briskly from the Red trucks that rolled them down from the Red grouping center at Kaesong. They laughed as they moved into the Allied tents. They appeared in good health.

The sun shone brightly as they stepped into trucks for the ride south to nearby Freedom Village for processing.

A total of 5,177 Allied troops have been freed in 13 days of the exchange. The Reds have said they held 12,763.

As the Allied prisoners were handed over, truckloads of Communist POWs rolled north, singing loudly.

Meanwhile, the POW Command said four ships carrying 2,400 Red prisoners to the port of Inchon from Koje Island were forced back by typhoon winds.

The POW Command said the delay would not affect Tuesday's delivery but may reduce Wednesday's shipment to 600. The UNC has been sending back about 2,400 Reds at Panmunjom daily.

The Communists said their big shipment Tuesday would include 75 British and 300 South Koreans. They usually have been sending back about 400 Allied POWs a day.

There was no reason given immediately for the stepup.

'HELD'—Wilbert Coffin, 37, Gaspe prospector, is being held at Quebec City, Canada, in the grisly bushland slaying of three Pennsylvania hunters in the Gaspe wilderness, Quebec provincial police said. Slain men were Eugene Lindsey, his son, Richard, and Fred Claar. Coffin was arrested in Gaspe this week after police reported a break in the two-month-old slaying.

Navy Yard Blast Knocks Out Wall, Killing Two

NEW YORK (AP) — An explosion blew down the wall of an officer's home at the Brooklyn Navy Yard last night, killing two men and injuring nine others.

The blast victims included civilian Navy yard firemen and the duty officer who had been summoned to check a short circuit in the frame and mortar house. While looking around they were caught by the explosion.

Dead were two firemen, Francis Conklin, 50, and Frank Licotta, 55.

Cmdor. George Greer had called them to investigate faulty wiring in his house. He and his wife and son, George Jr., 19, were standing outside when one side of the building blew up. The Greers escaped serious injury.

Tito's Guarded Optimism

In an exclusive interview with AP Correspondent ALEX SINGLETON, Yugoslav dictator TITO voiced some opinions of vital interest to everyone who hopes and prays for peace.

Though he disavowed any claim to being a prophet, the Marshal views the prospect for peace with cautious optimism. In answer to a question, he called the purge of LAVRENTI BERIA "an internal matter" and hence not a factor in what Russia is likely to do.

Similarly, he believes that it isn't a question of whether MALENKOV or the Red army presently controls Russia. "The Russian leaders," he said, ". . . are going back to something that once was, and the Communist party is getting the leading role again."

After saying he believes STALIN'S death has decreased the danger of war, TITO warned against attempts to spur revolt in Russian satellite countries. "There should be no interference in the internal affairs of these countries," he said, "because I think the desire of the people in them for more and more independence will be growing.

"By a correct attitude toward other small countries, the Western powers will stimulate aspirations for independence among the satellite states."

While Tito believes the Korean political conference won't solve all problems in Asia, he does think it will be a means of avoiding further conflict there. Like many observers, he also looks for Red China ultimately to become wholly independent of Moscow influence.

Finally, in speaking of his own country, the Marshal had some reassuring words for the West. While Yugoslavia has no intention of joining NATO, TITO made it clear that his country never again would submit to Russian domination. He added this significant statement on Yugoslavian determination to remain independent in all its affairs: "I think we have enough men and material to stop any single attacker."

Yugoslavia is far from a full fledged ally and it still is a Communist state. Nonetheless it is comforting to know that TITO has aligned it toward the West and that he should be in a position to evaluate changing conditions in that part of the world.

Money Can't Buy Friends

Thanks to the courtesy of a reader, the impressions of an American business man gained on a seven weeks tour of Europe have been brought to our attention.

The tourist is LOUIS E. LEVERONE, 1904 Dartmouth graduate and a delegate to the convention of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale at The Hague, in May. Other cities he visited included Paris, Rome, Lucerne, Brussels, Amsterdam and London.

What struck him most forcibly was that our foreign aid, instead of making friends for us, is creating resentment against us. "We are not giving money away," he wrote, "but in Paris and in Rome, even to a greater extent than in London, we are just throwing it away. The extravagance and absolute waste on the part of our own representatives was appalling and we are not being thanked for it."

Mr. LEVERONE is not the first to discover that handouts won't buy friendship. The waste noted is but one of the reasons why our Administration and Congress have agreed on a multi-million dollar cut in foreign aid. It is also behind the determination of both that this program should be reduced gradually until it no longer is necessary.

Senator HOMER FERGUSON, newly elected chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, has received well deserved praise from President EISENHOWER.

It took the form of a letter thanking our senior Senator for his excellent work in piloting the $34.5 billion defense budget through the upper House without amendment. The letter reads:

"Dear HOMER: I am much aware of the tremendous effort you expended on the national defense budget, and I also was much impressed by your parliamentary handling of the measure as it proceeded through the Senate. I think you did a thoroughly outstanding job and want you to know of my personal appreciation."

Senator FERGUSON was floor manager for the bill and chairman of the subcommittee which devoted weeks of intensive work and study before it could be brought to a final vote.

'Careful Driver' Says 'Cannon-Ball' Has No Respect for Rights of Pedestrians

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack on space Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

The fellow who signed himself "Cannon-Ball" should have signed himself "Screw-Ball."

"Speed is not to blame for accidents. Speed in itself cannot be dangerous," he said.

Speed was meant for speedways and even then some get hurt now and then. I am a driver and at times a pedestrian and when I'm a driver I try to respect the pedestrains.

From his letter it seems that Mr. Cannon-Ball respects no others' rights and when he comes up the street everyone else is on his own.

As for drivers that have been drinking moderately and know enough to take it easy, I would rather take a chance with them than with some speed-happy, irresponsible hot-rodder with 150 horsepower that doesn't know how to use it.

Urges Mothers to Help End Slaughter in Korea

Recently I noticed in the Press an article regarding an agreement between John Foster Dulles and Syngman Rhee regarding our boys returning to Korea . . . but that it would be subject to the Senate.

So, mothers who value their sons and grandsons, let us pepper every congressman with the fact that we want no more of our boys to be used for cannon fodder and brutal abuse. Don't let one mother be guilty of this neglect, write . . . don't put it off!

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise mischief, and give wicked counsel in this city.—Ezekiel 11:2.

* * *

—Aaron Hill.

David Lawrence Says:

Military Should Present Honest Advice, Not Be Hamstrung by Fear of Ouster

WASHINGTON —Something more than a mere change in personnel is dramatized as Admiral Radford, chairman, and an entirely new Joint Chiefs of Staff take over from Gen. Bradley, chairman, and the three service chiefs who held their posts under the Truman administration.

For the change is one of military philosophy toward civilian control. It can be of profound importance to the security of the United States.

Under the Truman administration the military chiefs were tools of politics. They couldn't say publicly what they thought without fear of reprisal — as happened to Admiral Denfeld, chief of naval operations.

What they said in the open was usually dictated, therefore, by political considerations. Speeches delivered by some of them were often made to fit in as replies to political attacks on the administration.

Though such motivation was always officially denied, the record shows an oft-repeated coincidence of military pronouncements that suited the political whims of President Truman or the pro-British point of view of Secretary of State Acheson.

When Gen. Bradley, just a few weeks after the dismissal of Gen. MacArthur, couldn't remember who in the White House telephoned him to summon the joint chiefs to consider the future status of MacArthur, almost everyone was surprised at his poor memory.

But when it was discovered later that the joint chiefs — our supreme military authority — had not initiated or recommended the MacArthur ouster to the President and only had concurred when the word was relayed to them by Gen. Bradley as to what the President wanted, people on Capitol Hill, including the late Sen. Taft, were chagrined.

From that time on — as the speeches by Gen. Bradley seemed to be political expressions ordered by the administration — the late Republican leader declared publicly he had no confidence in the then-existing Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Gen. Bradley was an excellent soldier in the last war in Europe. He has a likeable personality and has many admirers as a military man.

But his judgment on global strategy has been subject to public criticism by many other prominent military men.

Thus, when he told a House committee in the autumn of 1949 that America could dispense with large aircraft carriers and he openly disparaged the concept of amphibious warfare on a large scale, he didn't realize that within eight months one of the largest amphibious operations in American history would be carried out on the peninsula of Korea or that, without aircraft carriers, the fighter planes of the U. S. Air Force could never have been transported to Korea in time to meet the crisis of the early days of the war.

Every military commander knows that the kind of war waged in Korea under the Joint Chiefs of Staff of the Truman-Acheson administration was not the kind of war that should have been fought.

But the military chiefs never said so for fear of being summarily dismissed, as was Gen. MacArthur.

The basic principle involved here is the forthrightness and independence of the military.

It must always be obedient to a civilian decision, but in furnishing military advice it must not adulterate its thinking on military questions to suit the political purposes of the administration or to appease allies who transmit their views to our state department.

Refusal of the joint chiefs, for example, to support on paper confidentially or before Congress subsequently their December 1950 view that bases in Manchuria should be bombarded and a naval embargo placed on strategic materials destined directly or indirectly for Red China is a sad example of how the military forfeited its independence of judgment under the last administration.

The philosophy of the new personnel on the Joint Chiefs of Staff is different. It was expressed by Gen. Ridgway, chief of staff of the Army, when he took his oath of office last week.

He pledged himself to preserve the democratic institutions of America and to "maintain the integrity of the military profession."

Gen. Ridgway said this means presenting "honest, objective, professional views up to the point of decision by civilian authority, and then completely loyal execution of that decision."

No better creed could be proclaimed for the entire group of new service chiefs. The function of Admiral Radford, as chairman of the joint chiefs, should not be to make public speeches, however great the temptation to uphold his boss in the political arena.

It should be to furnish the best military advice possible and — when called upon — to tell Congress frankly what that advice was so that the legislative branch of the government may in due time pass judgment on the efficiency and effectiveness of the military service rendered by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Comic Books Encourage Young Children to Read

What's your verdict regarding comic books for children? And do you think the strip comics in this newspaper encourage your child to read? Use this Case Record for discussion at your P-T-A meetings. I wish every school had an entire shelf full of comic books, easily accessible to all pupils!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, what do you psychologists think about comic books?" he asked me at our luncheon.

"Some of my teachers make a great fuss when they catch a student reading a comic book.

"Then they send the boy or girl to my office, expecting me to handle the matter. So what should I do?"

Comic books are really misnamed, for most of them are not "comic" or funny. They are simply picture books of dramatic stories.

Some parents object to them when they deal with crime and war topics. Indeed, many people think they will actually incite more delinquency in America.

Thus, an editor of my acquaintance once dropped a comic strip from his daily newspaper because a crime had been committed in that city which closely paralleled a recent murder depicted in the comic strip.

But we need to use "horse sense" in such matters. Almost every child in America of reading age, avidly reads comic books nowadays.

So if the books had a very strong effect in promoting crimes, don't you think more than one editor would need to cancel his comic strips or veto comic books in his area?

Remember, there are over 25,000,000 public school children, most of whom devour comics. If the latter promoted crime, wouldn't we have thousands of such evidences, instead of a few isolated cases?

As the father of five children, I have seen our home deluged with comic books—good, bad and indifferent.

And I can't see where even the so-called "bad" comics have harmed our youngsters. Besides, Mrs. Crane and I read them ourselves whenever we have a spare minute for such enjoyment.

So I have come to the conclusion, both from our own family experience and that of thousands of you who have given me your opinions of comics, that they don't harm children if the yougsters live in an average type of home.

By "average," I refer to a home where the parents try to teach their children respect for law and where the youngsters are sent to Sunday school.

And for every instance that might be cited where comic books might have done some harm, I can give you hundreds of cases where they have definitely helped children.

For example, comic books encourage children to read. And in this age of spoken language, as on TV, radio and the talkie movies, our youngsters don't get enough emphasis on reading.

So a half a loaf is certainly beter than none. I'd rather see my children read comics than not read at all.

And thousands of comic books are so good they should be in every school library, freely accessible to all the children.

For instance Classics, Illustrated, is the name of a set of over 100 comic book portrayals of the great pieces of literature, such as "Ivanhoe," "Tale of Two Cities," "Uncle Tom's Cabin," etc.

American children would never be familiar with even a dozen of those famous books if it weren't for comic books. And many other comic books depict teen-age moral and dating questions excellently.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3-cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover printing and typing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.)

It was a United Nation victory believe it or Ripley's marching Chinese. Proof is the 38th parallel is still in the same palce.

We have heard from American towns on the same parallel. Sacramento, Carson City, Denver, Topeka, Cincinnati and Baltimore say they will defend their share of it.

Doc Rhee says he will hobble his yaks for 90 days. He wants the meandering mandarins off his private peninsula by Oct. 27. Why doesn't he start a game we used to play when we were kids? Last one off the peninsula is a Chinaman.

Doc Rhee is going about it hind part foremost. The Persians under Xerxes or somebody had invaded Greece. For some reason Xerxes got the wind up and started back across the hellespont.

The Greek emperor was Von Aristoddle or something. His protico cabinet hepped him that Xerxes was lamming and urged an attack.

Von Aristoddle refused. He said, "When thine enemy is leaving your country build him a golden bridge."

We think that's the policy of American diplomacy all along. We'll make Doc Rhee bridge, tender.

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

In the pamphlet on Varicose Veins and Varicose Ulcer, available on written request (clipping will not suffice) if you enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, I say:

In many cases (of ulcer) it has seemed that a suitable iodin ration has improved general metabolism so that old chronic indolent ulcer has finally healed.

A medical colleague told me about this away back, and said that his father, a doctor, had prescribed minute doses of iodin with success in the treatment of leg ulcer for many years.

Anyway, it can do no harm, no matter whether the ulcer is of six weeks or six years' standing, provided you follow the instructions I give in the pamphlet The Iodin Ration, which is also available on written request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For both pamphlets enclose 10 cents additional.

Most open sores, raw places, ulcers on the leg are due to varicos (swollen, enlarged, prominent, weakened) viens.

My colleague's father was an avowed homeopath, so it is likely that the good doctor administered only minute quantities of iodine or iodide, perhaps as much as nutrition authorities today consider necessary to maintain optimal health.

Here let me say that one of my Seven Keys to Vite, (25 cents) is total abstinence up to the age of 25 years. After that, temperance commends itself without difficulty.

So, if you indulge in alcohol before you have cut your wisdom teeth, don't waste your time or mine on the cultivation of vite. It isn't for wishy-washy characters.

Without mentioning causes of leg ulcer other than varicose veins, suffice to say that eating an adequate ration of iodin daily the year around as every man, woman and child in the country should—tends to prevent development of external ulcer of whatever cause and, if ulcer is already present, to promote healing.

Now, my dear reader, may I ask a favor? If you find some ninnyhammer taking medicinal iodine or iodide in one form or another, as the poor duffer thinks Ol' Doc Brady advises, call him any unprintable names you have handy.

Or, if you can't stoop that low, urge him to send for the pamphlets mentioned above and learn what I do advise for varicose ulcer.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self addressed envelope is enclosed.

India Will Attend Only if Wanted

Within a few days, he said, 4,000 Indian soldiers will be en route to Korea. Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimaya, India's representative to chairman the Neutral Repatriation Commission, will leave the first week in September, the Premier added.

Stewardess Hurt by Boat Mishap in California

LAKE ARROWHEAD, Calif. (AP)—A young airline stewardess was in a critical condition today after being mangled by the propeller in a fall from a speedboat owned by hotel owner Conrad Hilton.

The stewardess, Miss Boni Buehler, 25, of Hollywood, was pulled from the waters of Lake Arrowhead yesterday by Geary Steffen, ex-husband of actress Jane Powell. Steffen was water skiing behind the boat when the accident occurred.

Sheriff's deputies said the speedboat was being driven by Quay Sargeant, 35, owner of a Los Angeles music concern. Sargeant said he did not see Miss Buehler fall out of the boat but felt something hit the propeller so he stopped the motor.

Also in the boat at the time was Florence Beck, 20, of Tarzana, Calif. Sargeant said the four of them had borrowed Hilton's boat.

Italian Cabinet Assumes Office

Political Crises Eased as Giuseppe Pella Sets Up Interim Governemnt

ROME (AP)— A new cabinet of Christian Democrats led by Guiseppe Pella was sworn in today, giving Italy a breather from political crisis.

President Luigi Einaudi administered the oath of office to the 51-year-old premier, a financial expert, in the presidential office.

Other cabinet members were sworn in in the neighboring Hall of the Madonna.

Milling from the lineup was the dominant figure of postwar Italian politics, eight-time Premier Alcide de Gasperi. Anxious for a rest and also to avoid controversy, he turned down the foreign minister's portfolio in a government which is committed to make only an administrative housecleaning and push no major policy measures.

The new cabinet will go before the Chamber of Deputies Wednesday. It seems certain to win a vote of confidence. The only parties pledged to vote against it are the Communists and Pietro Nenni's party-line Socialists, who between them control only 218 of 590 seats.

Pella himself is known as a firm friend of the U. S. and a believer in the Atlantic Alliance.

Casting a shadow over today's ceremony was the fact Pella is taking the helm of government only temporarily and can push no major policy measures. Italy's bickering center parties agreed to accept him on condition he remain prime minister only long enough to pass a budget and straighten out the government.

lowed the Communist line and chose not to come back with the rest of us.

Not all of them, however, are there of their own volition, I am sure.

I know of one man among seven who left us at prison camp No. 5 when the armistice was signed. Just two months ago this man and I planned a new escape attempt.

I have saved and scrounged some food, about 10 pounds of hard candy, 5 fountains pens and a wrist watch. The pens and watch would have served us better than money if we had gotten out.

They were given to me by some of the sick and wounded Americans who were exchanged last April.

Our escape plan did not jell because the armistice came before we were ready. Yet this man who planned it with me did not come back with the rest of us.

I will never understand why.

He must be under some form of pressure from the Communists or from the "progressives,"—as the turncoat prisoners were called.

I personally spent many dreary months as a prisoner in Pyoktong, North Korea.

It was there that I saw two Russian pilots who had been shot down in fights with American jet planes.

Russians were flying MIG jets against the Allies all through the Korean War.

Besides the two that I saw, I heard from reliable sources—Koreans who hate communism—of at least three other Russians who were shot down in combat early this year.

There were many other Russians engaged in the Korean War.

I saw Russian truck drivers, Russian engineers, Russian intelligence agents, and a headquarters that the Russians maintained in Chonchong.

The Russian language is taught as the second language in North Korean schools.

I know seven American airmen —six officers and a sergeant — who were questioned by Russians after their capture. One of them, a captain, lost two teeth when a brutal Russian intelligence officer knocked him down.

It was about a year ago that I first saw a Russian flier. After I was permitted to take a few pictures in prison, the Communists kept me away from the other prisoners.

On this occasion, I was sitting beside a road, enjoying the warm sun and pretending to read one of the Communist propaganda books.

A jeep came along. In it was a Russian flier in uniform. The side of his face was bleeding. He apparently had been injured when he was shot down. I was about 10 feet from him and could not have been mistaken.

The second Russian pilot that I saw was about two months later. He too had been shot down by an American Sabre.

When I was in Chonchong on a picture-making trip, I saw the Russian headquarters.

These are some of the things I saw and experienced in the long months of captivity.

One of the things I have learned at my present age, 48, is that a man can endure almost anything.

The facts of my capture are pretty well known. It was on the road between Koto and Hagaru, on the coldest night of my memory.

The Reds trapped us Nov. 29, 1950, and we were taken prisoner next day, Nov. 30. The date is not important. It was a long time before any of us remembered it.

I was with some American Marines, British Marines and infantry of the U. S. Army's 2nd Division. They were going up to help the U. S. 7th Marine Regiment, which I had left a short time before to replenish my film.

I was riding in a jeep with Maj. John J. McLaughlin of Savannah, Ga., and Lt. Frank Cold of Tampa, Fla., when the Reds ambushed us on a narrow road.

We were pinned down all night behind a railroad embankment which offered scanty cover. Fifty or 60 men were killed and about the same number wounded. The guns froze and the ammunition ran low.

Finally Maj. McLaughlin gave the order, "Fix bayonets!"

I thought to myself, "Well, this is it."

Three young fellows were crying, whether from fright or fatigue I do not know. I do know that when that dread order came—meaning hand-to-hand fighting — they immediately quit crying. It seemed to steel them, and they quietly fixed bayonets.

A Chinese called out in English, asking us to surrender.

Maj. McLaughlin asked the men what they wanted to do.

"I am willing to stand here and die if you want," he said. "You are not going to live forever. There is no ammunition and no help coming."

The men took about five minutes to talk it over. They voted to surrender if the Chinese would promise to leave the wounded to be picked up by Americans later. The Chinese agreed.

They were combatwise veterans and so far as I could determine, they kept their promise.

We wrapped the wounded as best we could in sleeping bags and blankets and then surrendered.

Most of the next day we were kept standing on a frozen creek beneath a cliff to avoid detection by American planes. We had started on a living hell.

We hiked for months after that. Finally, after about 700 miles of seemingly aimless wandering, our captors took us to prison camp No. 5, outside of Pyoktong, on the Yalu River.

There began for all of us a life of starvation, torture, illness and, of course, death for many.

Now I have survived and am free again. My wife met me here in Tokyo. We have an air-conditioned room in the Imperial Hotel.

I am an out-patient of the Tokyo Army Hospital. I have just had eight teeth extracted, and am to go on until all are removed.

For lunch I had scrambled eggs, soup, two pieces of meat loaf, two glasses of chocolate milk and a piece of apple pie.

If anyone had told me I could eat a meal like that two hours after having eight teeth extracted, I'd have said he was crazy.

I not only did eat, I have stuffed myself every day since I got out —and I'm still hungry.

Snake Cultist Bitten, in Critical Condition

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—Earl Eugene Canada, 27, was in critical condition after being bitten during a snake-handling cult's religious service here last night.

Police took him from his home near the site of the services, an hour and a half after he was bitten over the protests of a prayerful crowd of cult followers.

Suspect Foul Play in Icebox Deaths

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — A deputy sheriff says a man recently twice threatened the lives of five children found dead in an old ice box.

Deputy Gladstone Williams said, "We plan to do a lot more checking on this point." He declined to identify the man.

Earlier yesterday the father, 34-year-old J. A. Hallman, told newsmen he was sure the children were "murdered" because there were too many "funny things" involved. His wife agreed.

Said Hallman: "I may die before I find out. But I'll never believe those kids crawled in there by themselves. I think they were murdered."

And his wife: "I think they were put in there."

Crittenden County Coroner T. H. McGough said the children were apparently playing in the box last Wednesday when the lid, which had been tilted back against the wall, flipped shut. Death was attributed to suffocation.

Seagoing Animals Feel Fine in Storm

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a rough crossing from Liverpool but that didn't seem to bother a party of four zebras, five mongooses, three vultures and a hyrax.

The 13 African animals were passengers on the storm-tossed liner Media, which docked yesterday after skirting the edge of a hurricane.

Many of the 219 human passenge were laid low with seasickness.

Finds Twin Brother in Curio Shop

WINSLOW, Ariz. (AP)—"That man looks exactly like my twin brother," Mrs. Dick Jansen remarked as she entered a local curio shop.

"But it can't be Bill, because he has never been in Arizona," she added.

The man twirled around from where he was standing at a showcase, asking "Who says I haven't?"

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—My hobby, if anybody cares, is avoiding hobbies.

To be more precise, my hobby is avoiding people who insist I should try their hobby. It will change my whole life, they say, give me new perspective, added freshness, escape, relief from frustration and the commonplace.

Baloney. If I want to be dull and unhappy, that's my privilege. Leave me be. Anyway, I have my doubts about the enthusiasm of new hobbyists out on the stump. I mean those hobbyists who live and breathe the stuff all the time.

You know the kind. The hobbyist and his wife will drop over for a drink. He will reamin glum and silent during the small talk about operations and jobs and the way polio is going around. Then he finds an opening and wham! There goes your evening.

Why is it that the first time a man is seduced by an eight-inch ball-bearing power saw, with a miter gauge and splitter, or by a one-rupee uncancelled stamp from the Maldive Islands, he becomes an evangelical bore about the whole thing?

He pounces on his friends, neighbors and relatives as though he just found a cure for the five per cent mortgage. They, too, he argues, must try this hobby and ascend, with him, to the bright and glorious plateau of a new life.

I wonder. Why is he so anxious to convince us?

It is because down deep he is still a little uncertain about the wisdom of a grown man spending so much time and energy on a new weapon for etching in leather?

Does he need the moral support of imitation to fortify his expenditure of money and passion on a new soil tickler?

I have heard it said that you can achieve new peace of mind by observing the yellow-bellied sapsucker in its natural habitat. That may be true. But I'd rather try to work out a negotiated peace with my own natural habitat and let the yellow-bellied sapsucker envy me.

But, of course, birds have more sense than to take up a hobby of people-watching.

I'm sure it will alarm nobody if I happen to feel that this whole business of making a hobby the be-all and end-all is a dangerous mistake.

It tends to lead people in the wrong direction—away from themselves and the reality of their own existence. If they are bored or oppressed by their home life or job, is there nothing they can do about it but creep into an esoteric basement?

Instead of trying to fertilize their barren acres, this overemphasis on hobbies persuades them to take up something else three nights a week and all day on week-ends. Is this really enough to satisfy? Seems to me it's like trying to irrigate a desert by wetting your head.

What does it profit a man, married to a terrible shrew, if he conquer the whole world of butterflies? He's still married to the same wife. Why doesn't he try to find out what she's mad about? Seems to me he might do better to stand up to her and sound off than to stick pins in poor butterflies.

California uses about 16 per cent of the hired farm labor in the United States — more than any other state, reports the Twentieth Century Fund.

LEONARD
SUPER X-tane
offers you aviation octane in an automotive gasoline

Comparison PROVES Leonard superiority

Gasoline	OCTANE NUMBER	PERFORMANCE RATING
Brand A	92
Brand B	91.5
Brand C	91
SUPER X-tane	96
Brand D	93
Brand E	90.5

This chart proves SUPER X-tane's 96 octane gives you an actual performance rating far exceeding that of any premium gasoline in Michigan. Octane number and performance rating prepared from samples collected 4/28/53.

Aviators have long known the difference high octane fuels make in the performance of high compression engines. The thundering power of an airplane engine demanded an octane number superior to that of automotive engines. Now – recognizing that modern cars with higher compression ratios demand a higher octane number – Leonard brings aviation octane down to earth with Super X-tane – a motor fuel with the highest octane rating in Michigan.

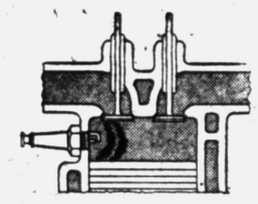

What more can LEONARD offer than SUPER X-tane?

LEONARD X-tane is FRESH
Leonard X-tane is a FRESH gasoline. Evaporation never gets a chance to rob it of the power molecules blended in at the refinery. Located right in the center of Michigan at Alma, Leonard Refineries delivers its gasoline to service stations after a short trip. Leonard X-tane is not pumped, piped, and poured so many times that evaporation steals its power.

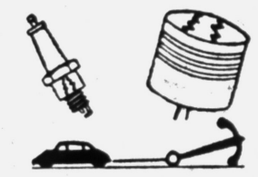

LEONARD X-tane is made for MICHIGAN weather
Weather plays an important role in the refining of gasoline. Each weather-change calls for a slightly different blending formula so the gasoline will burn quickly and easily when the spark ignites it. The formula for all Leonard X-tane gasoline is changed to conform not only to the seasons, but at least eight times a year to match actual Michigan weather conditions.

What causes "FUEL KNOCK"? What harm does it do?
Fuel knock occurs when gasoline cannot withstand the increased temperature caused by high compression in the combustion chamber of your automobile engine.

The spark ignites vaporized gasoline in the combustion chamber of your engine.

As the fuel burns, the pressure and temperature on the unburned portion of the fuel grows higher and higher.

Suddenly the last portion of the unburned fuel explodes. It halts the slow, steady, pressure built up by the burned fuel, creating abnormally high pressures and temperatures.

The high pressures and temperatures caused when a part of the fuel explodes can Crack Spark Plug insulation, Crack Piston Heads, Cause Power Loss, Make Your Car Sluggish, and Cheat You On Better Gasoline Mileage.

How does SUPER X-tane beat "FUEL KNOCK"?
Octane measures the ability of gasoline to withstand pressure and heat; and to burn evenly. With the Superior Octane rating of Super X-tane the chance of fuel knock and power loss is reduced to a minimum.

Red Press Raps Germans Caught With Food Parcels

BERLIN (AP) — The Soviet zone is mustering its provincial Communist press in a drive to shame East Germans who come to West Berlin for American food parcels.

Throughout the zone, newspapers printed names of persons caught with the packages containing lard, sugar and milk they were unable to get at home.

Those singled out for the public attack were assailed as "weaklings" willing to beggar themselves for "Ami food."

One paper printed the picture of a woman with nine food parcels and said she owned a farm, four cows, two calves, 25 pigs, two horses, three sheep and nine chickens.

At the same time, the Communist police turned a few more screws in an effort to discourage the trek of East Germans who have picked up 2,575,126 parcels in West Berlin since the campaign instigated by President Eisenhower started July 27.

The first phase of the give-away ended Saturday. During the next two weeks, West Berlin food stations will reorganize but will continue to distribute parcels to Soviet zone residents from outside Berlin.

The distribution will be extended to East Berliners again Aug. 27. American officials said last night it would continue through September at least, despite British and French coolness toward the plan.

New measures taken by the frustrated East German regime against the campaign include 150-mark fines for persons who give up their identity cards to friends daring enough to come to West Berlin and get food for them.

The fine amounts to two weeks pay for most workers. To get around this new danger, Easterners are substituting notes and letters from pastors, charity organizations and other groups declaring their urgent need for food. West Berlin authorities are recognizing these notes as valid enough to warrant issuing extra packages.

East Germans arriving in West Berlin today reported that confiscations of the food packages by Communist zone police are increasing.

The more doughty who lost their parcels demanded receipts from the police, brought the receipts back to the West and were granted new issues of food.

Contents of confiscated packages are showing up on the Communist state store shelves, especially in East Berlin. Red officials have admitted harvest difficulties in their zone.

Public Warned Used 3D Glasses Spread Infection

WASHINGTON (UP) — Officials of the U.S. Public Health Service said today widespread eye infections may result from careless re-use of polarized glasses for 3D movies.

They said local health authorities in several cities already have received complaints and some are taking vigorous steps to meet the danger. In Chicago, for example, the board of health has invoked an outright ban on re-issuance of used 3D glasses.

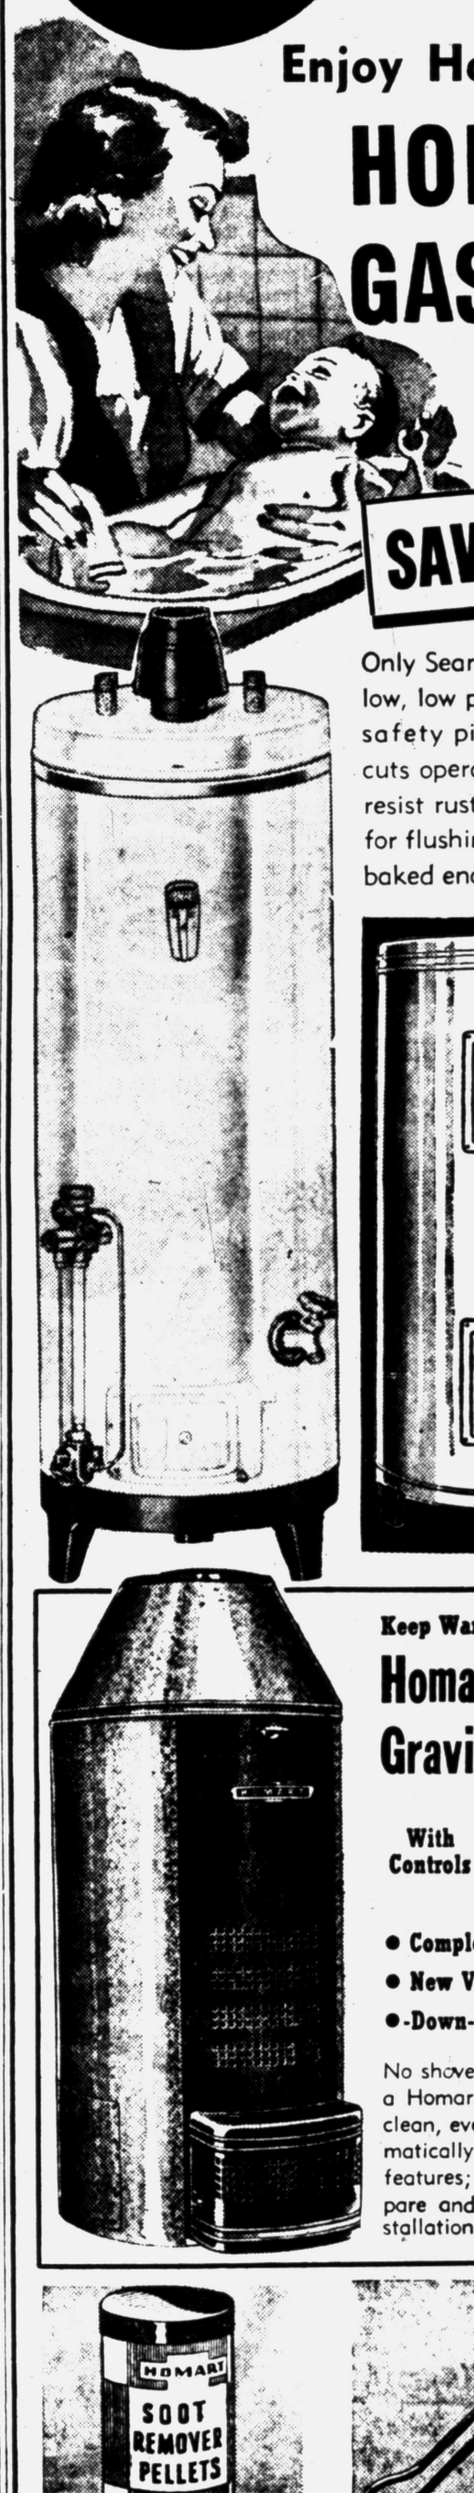

In other cities, many theaters have acted on their own to avoid the risk of infection. They sell or give their customers plastic or paper glasses which can be thrown away or carried home by the patrons after the show.

New Tremors Shake Greece

Do Little More Damage to Already Flat Islands Where 600 Died

By ALLAN JACKS

ARGOSTOLION, Greece (AP)—New earth tremors including one rated as a strong earthquake wrecked the stricken Ionian Sea islands today as officials estimated the toll from the week's devastation at some 600 dead and 700 seriously injured.

Fifteen new tremors were recorded during a 12-hour period last night and today. They heightened the islanders' near-panicky desire to flee their homelands but otherwise could make little difference on the three islands, practically leveled by the past week of upheavals.

The new casualty estimates came from the Argostolion headquarters of Gen. Dimitrios Istrides, who is directing the Greek rescue work. Previously it was feared more than 1,000 persons had been killed.

The new figures were based on complete reports from the island of Ithaca and nearly complete reports from the other two stricken isles, Zakinthos and Kefallinia.

Three hundred of the badly injured have been moved by boat and plane to Athens. The others have been hospitalized in Patrai.

Fears of a typhoid outbreak still hung over the devastated area today, and one case of smallpox had been found.

Naval ships of five nations continued to pour in thousands of tons of emergency supplies in an effort to feed nearly 120,000 hungry and mostly homeless islanders.

The California Institute of Technology and the Natinal Georgraphic Society are making a sky survey with a 48-inch telescope on Mt. Palomar, Calif.

Van Fleet in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former commander of the U. S. 8th Army in Korea, stopped here briefly last night en route to Korea for the American-Korean Foundation for emergency aid to Korea.

HOOSIER HUMORIST — Herb Shriner, the epitome of the shy country boy taking a first look at the city, is a far cry from that disarming description. The homespun comedian, who has been frequently compared with the late Will Rogers, has a TV show, radio affiliations and is currently starring in his first motion picture.

Still Will Play Old Harmonica

Folksy Kidding Around Gets Him Discovered Time and Again

No matter how often you've heard Herb Shriner tell about the folks back in his home town, you never grow tired of hearing about them.

The star of television's "Two for the Money" will say in his easy-going, matter-of-fact style: "You couldn't help but tell I was a Hoosier. There's something about a guy from Indiana. I don't know what it is. . . Well, I know what it is, but I'd rather not think about it!"

With this sort of kidding around, Herb Shriner has managed to get himself "discovered" about once every year or so for the past several years.

Herb started in show business playing a harmonica and every now and then he'll trot it out and go through a few fast cadenzas just for a change of pace. Shriner devotees will tell you he's not a comedian, pointing out that he doesn't tell jokes or string gags together. They say he's a humorist and just rambles on, making comments about American ways.

He'll look down at his shoes, run his hand through his long, blond hair which always seems to be getting in his eyes: "Gotta get a haircut—than I'll be able to hear again."

In this rambling but pungent style, Shriner manages to encompass a great deal of territory and to kid a number of people without being snide or hurting anyone. And he never gets too far from his home town, which must, to hear his description of it have the strangest collection of people.

"The fellows back home," according to Herb, "used to have a lot of fun. They'd collect around the barber shop on a Saturday night and watch haircuts. And they'd do a lot of other things—they'd smoke. Nobody even cared if you inhaled. That's the kind of crowd it was.

Shriner's description of the local medico's system for operating deserves re-describing: "The doctor would lay out a pattern on a patient that looked like a dress pattern, with 'kidney,' 'liver' and 'appendix' on it. Then he would take out his scissors and cut along the dotted line. Everything usually worked out, unless you were a different size than the pattern—and then there was maybe a little trouble."

With this sort of nonsense, Herb has been weaving his way into the living rooms of the nation via television. Although he once declared that a performer should not appear on television more than twice a month, he has managed every week to keep his audiences happy with "Two for the Money," from which he is currently vacationing.

When faced with this apparent contradiction, Herb blandly replied "Well, I never had so much fun making a liar out of myself. That's the truth."

It's Still Embarrassing

TAMPA, Fla. (UP) — Robert B. Lane, district supervisor of the State Beverage Department, reported that an illegal whisky still had been uncovered. It was found on his own property 20 miles south-

Colorado, with an average altitude of 6,800 feet, above sea level, has the highest altitude of the 48 states.

DP Leaps to Death; Wife, Police Look On

DETROIT (UP)—A 36-year-old displaced person from Germany, leaped into the Detroit River from the Belle Isle Bridge Sunday while his wife and police were rushing toward him to hold him back.

Joseph Skiba had left his home during the morning, seeming depressed his wife, Elizabeth, told officers. She said he had been brooding because fellow workers at a Detroit auto plant teased him about his German background.

Mrs. Skiba said she remembered his threats to jump into the river and hurried to the bridge not long after he left his home. At the same time, police were summoned to the spot by a passerby ho said he saw a man on the bridge preparing to jump.

Skiba saw his wife and the officers and shouted, "Stay away from me."

As they edged toward him, he plunged into the water.

Gratitude Brings End to Thriving Business

WOLCOTT, N. Y. (UP) — Willie Redding asked for money and got it by showing a deaf-mute's card, police report, until he spoiled his pose by saying "Thanks."

Peace Justice Carl L. Katz sentenced the migrant farm worker to 90 days in a penitentiary on a disorderly conduct charge and 30 days on a public intoxication charge.

'Bigger Than Hoppy'

Ike Visits Dying Boy, 6, After Reporter's Appeal

DENVER (UP)—To 6-year-old Paul Henry Haley, who is dying of cancer, President Eisenhower is "a bigger and better man" than Hopalong Cassidy.

Now, to those who aren't parents of small boys, that may sound incredible.

It started when Eisenhower picked up the Rocky Mountain News before church. There was a picture of cowboy-outfitted Paul, his arm around his mother Jean. The story was in the form of a letter by reporter David Stolberg.

"I'm writing this story to you, Mr. President, for a young fellow who hasn't learned to write," it said in part.

"He wants to see you, Ike, and although he doesn't know it, that's his dying wish. . . .He may live as long as two months, at most 18, doctors say."

The reporter said Paul is ill of cancer.

Eisenhower decided to see Paul. And he did, unannounced.

Maybe there has been a more astonished man than Paul's stepfather, Donald Haley, when he answered the door wearing dungarees, but it's doubtful.

As Paul, wide-eyed and unbelieving walked into the living room, the President flashed his smile and said, "Paul, I understand you wanted to see me." Paul was flabbergasted.

They visited, Paul and the President, about five minutes. Then Paul got to inspect the presidential limousine.

The President told him he had a grandson about Paul's age — 5-year-old Dwight David Eisenhower, II.

Afterward, Paul talked about the car.

"It was nice and cool," he reported. "There was something to put your feet on, and there was a chair, I think it was for a baby."

Mrs. Haley wasn't home when Eisenhower called. Later, she said there just aren't "enough adjectives to describe how grateful we were."

"The President came in and shook my hand," Paul said, a smile on his wan face.

"I'm going out and buy a picture of the President and put it on the wall.

"I've got pictures of Roy Rogers and Hopalong Cassidy, too."

Later Paul went on the radio and paid Eisenhower his supreme tribute: "He's a bigger and better man than Hopalong Cassidy."

The President, if he were listening, must have liked that a great deal.

500 Entrants Expected in Model Plane Contest

DETROIT (UP)—More than 500 enthusiasts from the United States and Canada are expected to participate in the seventh annual International Model Plane Contest which opens Thursday.

Selfridge Field will be the contest site the first two days and competition will be switched to Belle Isle Saturday and Sunday. The contest, sponsored by the Plymouth Division of Chrysler Corp., will include competition for radio-controlled planes for the first time.

To Film 'Oklahoma!'

NEW YORK (UP)—The authors of "Oklahoma!" have announced their world famous musical, now running for its 11th straight year on the stage, will be filmed with a new wide-screen movie process.

Pilot Bails Out, Dies En Route to Hospital

TOKYO (UP)— A U. S. Air Force pilot today bailed out of his Thunderjet off the coast of Hokkaido and was rescued from the water, but was dead on arrival at a hospital, the Air Force said.

His name was withheld.

Far East Air Forces said the jet crashed into the sea south of Chitose Air Base on Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island.

FEAF said the F-84 Thunderjet was on a routine training flight.

Rhee Declares U. S. Will Fight

Robertson Earlier Had Said America Has No Concrete Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea said today he believes that if the Korean peace talks fail "the United States will resume the fight to accomplish the common objective" of unifying his embattled country.

His statement, made in a copyrighted interviewed with the magazine U. S. News and World Report, came in the wake of one by Walter S. Robertson that the United States has not mapped out a specific course of action if it is necessary for the Americans to walk out of the peace talks.

Robertson is the assistant secretary of state who, as personal representative of President Eisenhower, persuaded Rhee not to obstruct the truce. He agreed that this government will quit the peace talks in 90 days if it appears that the Reds are not negotiating in good faith.

* * *

Robertson, in an NBC television interview yesterday, said the United States has not agreed with Rhee to help him in resuming battle unless the Communists break the peace first.

Music Official Bombarded With All Types of Songs

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Every Wednesday is publishers' day at Capitol Records.

That's the day when song writers and publishers play their latest creations for Sid Feller, Capitol's A & R man. That means "Artists and Repertoire." He tells which singers to sing what songs.

I sat with Feller, a big, good natured man, during part of one publishers' day. With him, I heard the songs—the good songs, the bad songs, and, by far the greatest number, the in-between songs.

Most of the men adopted a jittery air of bravodo.

"Here's the first piece of junk, Sid," one said as he pulled out a demonstration record. "I'm afraid to say it's a hit."

Feller played the record, following the sheet music as he listened. The man was right; it was junk. Most brought records, but a few played the piano and sang.

There were some awful lyric (horrible example: "The whole world smells like one big rose") and some poor, trite melodies.

But Feller, who admits it took him a while to learn how to say no, can turn down a song with great kindness. "I don't think it's smart enough," he told one writer, "but that's personal opinion, of course."

Most of them took the turn downs as strictly business. "This is real bad," Feller said to one man. "Yeah, it stinks," said the man, unemotionally. And he reached in his brief case for the next song.

On an average Wednesday, Feller will have 30 or 35 appointments, and listen to perhaps 100 songs. Out of this, maybe he'll get a half-dozen worth hearing a second time.

Some publishers come every week, others wait until they have something "sure-fire" to show.

In an effort to sell their song, some publishers will snap their fingers and clap their hands while listening to the song, pretending the melody and rhythm are so infectious they can't help themselves.

"That is a great song," one man said, after playing his number.

Feller gave him a long look. "When are you going to record it?" he retorted.

But always he is helpful and kind. He often made constructive technical musical suggestions.

And with one man, he sat down and outlined a complete new lyric treatment for a particularly inept effort.

After he was gone, Feller said, sadly, "No talent. Nice guy, but no talent."

That's the way it goes every week, on publishers' day.

THE POPULAR SIDE: Everybody's "covering," as they say in the trade, the sudden zoom of "God Bless Us All." Newest entrants: Capitol's Molly Bee, Mercury's Baby Pam.

Now you can play games on your record player: Mood Records has disked "TV Rhumba" with Bob Bachelder and orchestra rhumbling around with the theme songs from 12 TV shows ranging from Dragnet to Mr. Peepers.

ONTHE CLASSICS: First time on records is "The Faithful Shepherd," Handel's rare three-act opera, an August Columbia release.

POP SINGLES: "San Antonio Rose" (Joe "Fingers" Carr and his ragtime band, Capitol); "The Story of Three Loves" (Jerry Murad, harmonica, with Richard Hayman and orchestra, Mercury); "Till They've All Gone Home" (Gisele Maskenzie, Capitol); "It Can't Be Wrong" (Billy Ekstine, MGM); "Just You Just Me" (Barbara Ruick, also MGM); "I Love You" (Broc Peters, Columbia); "Jazz Me Blues" (Perez Prado, RCA).

POP ALBUMS: Wally Rose, playing ragtime piano pieces in a nearly forgotten style is as authentic and realistic as the professor in oldtime honky-tonks and as precise as the down-front ivory beaters of silent movie days . . . It's a Columbia LP.

On the same label, a Strauss treasury, with Eugene Ormandy conducting the Philadelphia Pops Orchestra.

Although auto traffic deaths remain at peak levels, the killing of pedestrians by cars in the United States has been cut from a peak of 15,500 in 1937 to 8,600 in 1952.

Scans Weather Far Into Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — A veteran weatherman took the plunge today.

He predicted the weather not just for tomorrow or the next five days, but for 1976.

The forecast: A dry spring and summer in the Southwest, with perhaps a worse and longer drought than the one this year.

Dr. Charles G. Abbott, 81-year-old former secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and one of the world's foremost authorities on solar radiation, made the long-range forecast in summing up his weather studies over more than half a century.

In a publication issued by the institution, Dr. Abbott said he believes "a definite relation between sun and weather must exist, even if it cannot as yet be adequately explained."

Dr. Abbott said his observations have shown that, roughly speaking, the weather repeats itself in cycles of 22¾ years, in rhythm with changes in heat energy coming from the sun.

The veteran scientist emphasized that "even after 50 years of observations—some of them among the most delicate ever made by astronomers—the threshold of this (solar radiation) system of meteorology has just been crossed."

But he said there is evidence that "a trend in the heat radiation of the sun is attended almost invariably by a trend in terrestrial weather."

"In some unknown and perhaps unknowable way," he said, "the changes in solar radiation act as triggers to set off forces that bring about, for instance, a dry July and a wet October or a cool June and a warm December."

On the basis of his cycle theory, Dr. Abbott predicted that by and large, this year's weather will repeat itself, so far as general trends are concerned, in 1976.

Foreseeing important economic results from his studies, Dr. Abbott envisioned a time when a map of predicted weather 10 years in advance might be available to the whole country.

"Then farmers, oil men, resort keepers, everybody, could prepare for wet and dry, hot and cold seasons long in advance," he said.

Geese were considered sacred at some times and places in ancient Egypt.

Traffic Kills 17 Over Weekend

State Toll Includes Two Teenagers and Seven Children Under 10

(By the Associated Press)

Seventeen persons were killed in Michigan motor traffic over the weekend.

Seven of them were children under 10 years of age. Two were teenagers.

A man and woman from Bay City suffered fatal injuries early Sunday when a car in which they were riding went out of control on a curve at the northern limits of Bay City.

The victims were Mrs. Dorothy Turner, 26, and Phineas Farrand Jr., 29. Farrand's wife, Lorraine, suffered critical injuries and Mrs. Turner's husband, James, was slightly hurt. Turner was driving.

Earl Olney of Dewitt and his 4-month-old son Terry died early Saturday after a two-car collision north of Lansing.

Two young Vandercook Lake boys, 9-year-old Keith Rowan and Hadden Roney, 10, were killed Saturday when a car struck them while they were walking home from a fishing expedition.

A car that ran out of control and struck a tree in Melvindale killed the driver early Sunday. The victim was Jesus Castillo, 28, of Lincoln Park.

Three-year-old Margaret Kathryn Jorae died Saturday afternoon of injuries suffered when she ran into the street in front of her St. Johns home and a car hit her.

Charles E. Woodruff, 16 months, of Averill, was killed Friday night when an auto driven by his father, Kenneth, was hit by a truck on U. S. 10, in Midland County.

Martin Hayes, year-old son of Raymond W. Hayes of Rochester, died Friday night an hour after his father's car backed over him in the backyard of their home.

A 9-year-old Fenton girl, Karen Rising, suffered fatal injuries Friday night when she fell from the open door of a car driven by her mother as it turned a corner in Fenton.

Richard Jones, 16, and George Butcher, 15, both of Gillett's Lake near Jackson, were killed Sunday on U. S. 12 east of Jackson when a car went out of control and hit the motor scooter they were riding.

Harold Wakeman, 24, and Donald Miller, 23, both of Jackson, suffered fatal injuries early Sunday when Wakeman's car rammed a tree.

Mrs. Rosemary Hill, 35 of Caro was killed Saturday. She and a friend were struck by a car on U. S. 10 north of the Saginaw-Genesee County line. Her friend, Mrs. Dorothea Aikin of Clio was seriously injured.

Glen U. Crawford, 57, a Kalamazoo construction worker, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision that left his 55-year-old wife in serious condition. Police are holding Helen E. Kreling, 26, of Kalamazoo for investigation.

Lady Phara, alias "Sadie" and her young mistress, Frances Spencer, 555 Hickory Grove Road, Bloomfield Hills, rode to top place in the all-day 4-H Fair horse show Saturday climaxing this year's five-day event.

A junior at Bloomfield Hills High School, Frances took the grand championship for the second year in succession. She is the daughter of the Floyd Spencers.

Under the direction of Mrs. Robert Dudley of Birmingham, the full-day horse show saw winners in all classes of both English and Western horsemanship.

Prior to the formal opening of the events, the Oakland County Anical Welfare presented a crop and a grooming kit for tops in the condition class.

Robert Dudley, 13, of the Avondale Horse Club, was winner in this division. Presentation and judging was done by Mrs. William Ferguson, humane director of the society and Mrs. Loceal Lambert of the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

In the western pleasure class Margaret Davis won with "Trigger," and she also won on the same horse in the stock horse division.

Tops for western beginner's horsemanship went to Don Burns with "Dream Girl," and foal, in model class, was won by Marilyn Engell with "Whirley and her colt."

"Mars," ridden by Virginia Dudley, won the two year old class and for model pony under 56 inches and David Brendel scored with "Daisy."

Judges for the horse show were Johnny Wallace of Northville and Thomas Tait of Allen Park.

Emceeing the entire show was Mrs. Charles E. Haynes of Farmington and Mrs. M. W. James of Pontiac served as clerk. Assisting in the ring were Floyd Spencer and Charles E. Haynes.

Hunter hack was taken by Frances Spencer again on "Lady Phara," and in the saddlebred and walking class, Sue Braid won with "Topper."

"Gypsy" with her young master, Jim Perry, took the walking horse division and Barbara Groom was victorious on "Golden Sunset" for western parade.

Bloodmobile Visit Asks 250 Donors

Call for volunteers went out today as Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, prepared for this month's "Bloodmobile" visit to Pontiac next Monday, Aug. 24.

The mobile unit will take blood donations at Pontiac Elks' Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave., from 2 until 8 p.m. next Monday.

"We hope anyone who can give blood will call the Red Cross office, FEderal 4-3565, any day this week between 8:30 and 5 p.m.," said Mrs. N. E Durocher, Red Cros blood donor recruitment chairman for North Oakland County.

"We need 250 donors to fill our quota Monday. We'd be glad to make appointments for even more."

600 Lyrics, Songs:

Summer Theater Coach Busiest Man at Cranbrook

Summer at Cranbrook brings out blooming gardens, shady nooks, drama students and a man who hustles from place to place revising scripts and musical scores as he goes.

The man is Carl G. Wonnberger, head of Cranbrook School's English department and director of the Cranbrook Summer School of the Theater which closed last week.

And he's apt to be found rewriting a musical score or drama lines wherever he can find a battered piano or pack along his portable typewriter.

A prolific author and composer, Wonnberger has turned out lyrics and music for some 600 songs, composed several instrumental quartets and symphonies, written dozens of original plays and adapted countless others and written books and articles on drama teaching.

Known also for his ability in the instructional field, Wonnberger has been president of Michigan Council of Teachers of English seven times in his 25 years at Cranbrook.

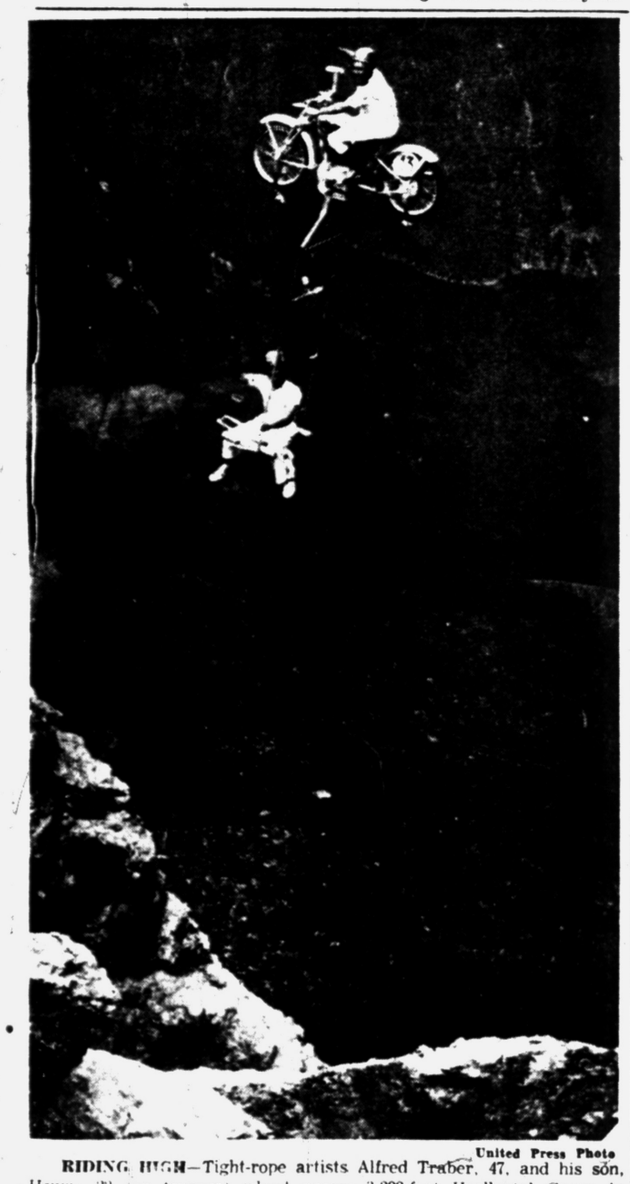

Drama and music study, early acting experience with professional theater groups and singing with Harvard Glee Club and the choruses of the Philadelphia Orchestra and Boston Symphony stayed with Wonnberger.

In Cranbrook summer drama school, founded 12 years ago, he has supervised more than a thousand students in plays and musicals for stage and radio.

Under Wonnberger's direction, some two dozen assistants—including his wife—help students from nine years old to college age rehearse and produce plays and musicals.

This summer, more than 125 plays were given at the school, including four major productions open to the public.

Two of these, "I Remember Mama" and "Dear Brutus," were wel-known Broadway dramas. The other two were "The Princes Who Has Forgotten," adapted by Wonnberger from a fairy tale, and "Stardust," a musical for which he wrote script and music.

New Outbreaks Are Threatened in Casablanca

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP) — French soldiers and police kept an uneasy watch over the main cities of Morocco today, seeking to avoid new outbreaks of violence over religious leadership of the North African protectorate. Thirty-five persons died in bloody riots over the weekend.

The fighting followed a proclamation Saturday by some 300 Berber chieftains and the Pasha of Marrakech, Thami el Glaoui, that the Sultan of Morocco, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, no longer was the religious leader of the Moslem country.

They named as imam—"leader of the faithful"—the Sultan's uncle, Moulay Mohammed Ben Arafa. They back down, however, from a previous decision to install him as the new sultan.

The sultans previously have been considered both the temporal and spiritual rulers of the country.

First State POW Lands in America

"Operation Big Switch" ended Sunday for one Michigan serviceman and his joyful wife at an Air Force base near New Y9rk.

S. Sgt. Robert M. Wilkins, a 27-year-old former auto salesman from Detroit, and his wife, Ottille, held a tearful reunion when Wilkins' plane landed at Mitchell Air Force Base.

The Detroit serviceman was the first of 46 Michigan prisoners of war released by the Communists, to be returned to the United States.

Ike Cuts Down Press Meetings

Usual Two Conferences Per Week Drop to Less Than 1 in 2 Weeks

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower has made it plain during his first seven months in office that he does not feel bound to follow the news conference traditions established by his Democratic predecesors.

The late Franklin D. Roosevelt, who made the White House news conference a Washington institution, met with reporters twice a week—on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Former President Harry S. Truman cut that schedule down to one meeting a week, usually on Thursday. He alternated between morning (10:30 a.m.) and afternoon (4 p.m.) sessions.

Mr. Eisenhower, since his inauguration Jan. 20, has held 14 news conferences—an average of less than one every two weeks. The last one was July 22.

Reporters for morning newspapers have complained about his obvious preference for morning sessions.

They would like at least half of his conferences to come in late afternoon, so that the headlines, would still be fresh for their papers.

Mr. Eisenhower had his first press conference on Feb. 17, exactly four weeks after his inauguration. That was aTues. He experimented with having them on Thursday mornings for a while. But in recent weeks, before starting on the Colorado vacation, he called them for Wednesday mornings.

Gas Station Robbers Sought by Adrian Police

ADRIAN (AP) — Three men who held up gasoline station attendant Arlow Renner of Onsted for $60 at a station northwest of here Saturday night were sought by police today. Renner said the three approached the station on foot, pulled guns and then ran off into the darkness with the money. Police thought that they might have left a getaway car nearby.

Life in a Red Prison

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—Some American captives were marched aimlessly about North Korea for almost a month in the cold winter of 1950-51 "to show us off for the civilians," a New Jersey soldier said today.

"The people went wild when they saw us," said Cpl. Bernard Berman, of Lakewood, N. J., after he was freed at Panmunjom today.

"They looked like they wanted to strangle us.

"About half way up they crammed us all into a train and we rode the rest of the way.

"It was a good thing because the guys were in bad shape and a lot of them never would have made it walking."

The welcome sign definitely was not out for Communist newsmen who showed up at North Korean prison camps to lecture American and other Allied POWs.

Cpl. Milton F. Gifford, 22, of Aurora, Ind., said today after being freed that when Red newsman Alan Winnington of the London Daily Worker appeared, he was greeted by a sign which read:

"Go home trouble."

POWs Report New Red Jet Plane Types

FREEDOM VILLAGE (AP)—Three returned American prisoners told today of seeing a new Communist twin-engine jet fighter-bomber at an airbase near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang, only two days ago.

The prisoners also told of seeing new swept wing fighter jets over North Korea.

"They were smaller, than MIGs" said Cpl. Frank Borrelli, 26, of San Francisco.

Cpl. Charles W. Jewell, 23, of Wilmington, Del., said he saw nine Red jet bombers flying in formation as he passed through Pyongyang on his way to exchange. Jewell said he thought the Reds were "showing the people what they had."

Cpl. Michael A. Giannini, 22, of Huntington Station, N. Y., said he saw three twin-engine jet bombers over Pyongyang escorted by a dozen MIGs.

The MIG was the standard Red Jet fighter. There have been occasional reports that newer-type jet fighters were sighted.

About the only bombers the Reds used were the light, single-engine propeller craft that attacked Seoul in South Korea in the last nights before the ceasefire.

GIs Worship in Prison Camps Despite Commie Threats

By FRED SPARKS

(NEA Staff Correspondent)

INCHON, Korea (NEA) — They tried to deny God to our young men in Communist prison camps, but they didn't succeed.

In secret meetings recalling early Christians in Roman caves, American soldiers in Red custody displayed their faith with none of the comforts offered the occasional Sunday church-goer back home.

A Communist guard approached, fingering his pistol, and as Warrant Officer Dwight Coxe of Fresno, Calif., remembers it now: "I never saw a man so furious in my life. I thought sure he would shoot us. He screamed at us like a hysterical animal."

Later, in a strange form of defiance, the men gathered again in a lonesome part of the camp and held a service without audible words, looking at each other with moving lips as they read from tattered Army Bibles hidden during their capture.

As Americans released from Communist cells pour into this port city after hasty greetings at Panmunjom and Munsan, they tell endless tales of religious conviction made stronger by denial.

Coxe told of two chaplains, one Catholic, one Protestant, who suffered countless privations to try again and again to hold proper services. The Reds accused them of being agitators and propagandists.

Both chaplains, under 35 and strapping physical specimens, died under strange circumstances.

After the chaplains died, GIs with no formal training presided over clandestine gatherings while friends kept watch for English-speaking guards.

Men would stand around on Sunday mornings as if they were having a bull session and sing in a sort of whispered mumble:

"Holy, Holy, Holy,
"Lord, God Almighty,
"Early in the morning
"Our soul shall rise to thee."

It wasn't until after the truce talks began that the Communists stopped trying to block religious demonstrations. They gave the prisoners no material aid, but allowed them to gather on holidays for prayer.

Among the lay preachers who arose in this strange situation was Sgt. James Davis of Mullins, S. C., who will be known for all time as "Brother Jim."

He came back to the American lines on a stretcher, a sick youth, but until his collapse he not only presided at services but also would be called from bed at all hours to visit the ill and depressed.

Brother Jim had a magnificent way of praying with stricken men, giving them something to hold on to. After weeks of pleading, he was allowed to go outside the barbed wire to say a few words at the shallow graves of the too many young men who succumbed to diseases they could not battle on the meager prison diet.

It was not a polished text Brother Jim spoke, but he always plugged the line of hope.

He talked one day in an open field in sub-zero weather about the resurrection of the Lord and how the hungry, shabby Americans could come back to a new and greater world.

Lad Skilled at Making Good Fudge

Richard Thibodeau Blends Cocoa and Peanut Butter

By JANET ODELL

Time was when a young woman was considered accomplished if she could make fudge. Nowadays, even the boys can make fudge.

Today's contributor, 13-year-old Richard Thibodeau of Sugden Lake, is a master of the art of fudge making.

Richard is by no means a sissy. He's a normal teenage boy who just wants to be sure he gets the candy he likes and isn't sure his sisters will make it for him.

COCOA PEANUT BUTTER FUDGE

By Richard Thibodeau

⅔ cup cocoa
3 cups sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
4½ tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons peanut butter

Mix cocoa, sugar and salt. Add milk and bring to a boil, stirring frequently. Cook until the mixture forms a soft ball in cold water, or 232 degrees on the candy thermometer.

Remove from heat, add butter and peanut butter. Cool to lukewarm (110 F.), add vanilla and beat until mixture thickens. Pour into buttered pan and cut into squares.

Soap Grass Stains

Models above give lesson in art of wearing jewelry which most flatters types of necks, jawlines and arms. At left, model with rounded jawline and short, broad neck flatters herself with waterfall earrings and a necklace with small beads that gently flows below her throat. Her fairly broad arms are made prettier with matching bracelet with a delicate look. In center picture, same model surveys herself in a different type of earring. It's large but not heavy. The airy, delicate filigree work counterbalances her too-heavy jaw and neck lines. Notice that her pin is worn well below base of her throat. An opposite type, the tall, slender, bony model at right, can wear a choker on her long, thin neck. Her earrings are large with circular petals. She wears two wide, closely fitting bracelets. To sum up lesson in a few words—rounded, closely fitting, big pieces are for the slender, while angular or vertical pieces in a smaller size with a looser fit are for girls with more rounded proportions.

Costume Jewelry Can Minimize Face, Figure Faults

By ALICIA HART

Costume jewelry can light up your beauty as well as your costume. But you've got to know the rules of this little game to play it well. Here are some of the ins and outs:

If the imaginary triangle that lies with its base stretching from ear tip to ear tip, with its third corner nestling in the hollow of your throat, is a slender tapering triange, here are your tricks: wear chokers mixed or matched and bold, chunky earrings, allow at least an inch between the tips of your earrings and your choker.

The girl with a short, squatty imaginery triangle tends to have a short neck and roundish or squarish face. She can wear slender waterfall earrings, but never a ball or a hoop.

The tiny delicate button or seed earrings are beautifiers for her. Her necklace might be a long dangling strand of pearls, knotted just above the waist. A choker doesn't belong in her jewel box.

If yours is an ideal triangle, with all sides even, you can wear what you please.

But that's not all about jewelry and faces. Magnificent earrings and necklaces can call attention away from facial irregularities.

For instance, jawlines are softened, noses seem more elegant when bold, curved lines of jewelry are placed nearby.

Not so with a large, roundish pin, especially when plunked in the middle. Thinner girls, however, can wear huge sparklers as they wish.

A tiny, subtle pin "gets lost" on a tall, skinny girl or on the girl that's plump. Each of these girls wants to wear an important pin or a grouping of small ones.

If the large girl is overweight, not merely big-boned, she must avoid the round pin and let it be angled. An overweight girl does well to keep her pin away down from chin and shoulders.

Your arms and hands may be slender and tapered or plump and squared-off. There's a bracelet flatterer for you in either case.

Slender arms wear many bracelets nicely, wide and closely fitting, sometimes on two arms at once. If your arms are very long, don't wear above-elbow bracelets, no matter how much the rage they are.

For broad arms, wear no more than two at the same time, on one arm only. Wear them low, loose and slender.

One well-known jewelry firm has a wide range of styles available to which new ones are added each season.

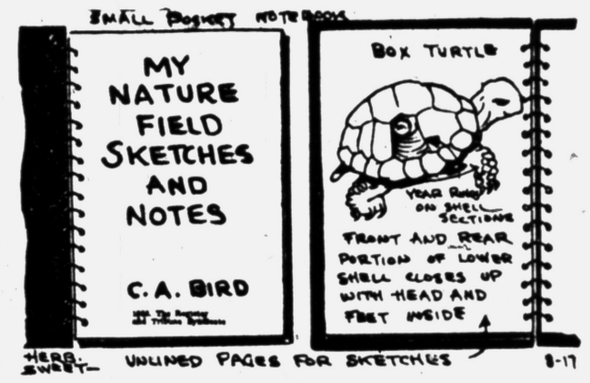

This firm suggests that you choose jewelry to suit your clothes, your life and your beauty needs, and never mind what "everyone" is wearing.

Try It

Keep a Nature Notebook

Many of you will be thinking about starting notebooks for school for your nature classes, so here is an idea which you can have fun with and one which will please your teacher. This idea is one which will help you remember all of the interesting things you see in nature.

It is best to use a small notebook, for then you can carry it right in your pocket. The one which I have shown here is unlined so that you can make sketches of the things that you will see.

Now don't say that you can't draw! These sketches are not supposed to be for an art show, they are just to help you remember what you see. They will also be a great help to you in identifying birds and plants which you do not know and want to look up.

To get the best knowledge of nature you will have to take some hikes out in the open spaces around your city. Walk slowly and quietly so that animals will not run away. Jot down what you see.

Manners

MAKE FRIENDS

Mrs. Jones worked hard to have a nice party. But she took the edge off her hospitality by apologizing for everything all evening long. The meat wasn't as tender as usual. She was afraid her guests weren't comfortable. The living room was the warmest room in the house.

If you want to put your guests at ease don't make so many apologies they spend their time trying to convince you that you're wrong.

Prevents Burns

Hot fat hazard in the kitchen can be lessened if you avoid letting drops of water fall into the fat or using too cold a batter. Coldness added to the heat causes sputtering.

Girl Carries Friendliness Bit Too Far by Going Out With Beau's Best Buddy

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'd been going with jack for several months when at a party he introduced his friend, Mark, to me. After that, every time I spoke to Mark, Jack got jealous.

"I can speak to other boys without being afraid of starting something — but with Mark it's different. Once when Jack turned down my invitation to go to a party, I asked Mark and he went with me.

"Since then everybody thinks I'm going steady with Mark, which isn't true. And Jack told me we were all washed up and that he didn't care about me any more.

"I think he's just jealous. When I see him he just ignores me, and it hurts. So what should I do?"

It sounds as though you laid that "any friend of yours is a friend of mine" stuff on a bit thick. Too thick for Jack's comfort, anyhow. He blames himself for introducing a disturbing element into his relationship with you. And you have yourself to blame for letting Mark disturb you.

When you saw what even talking to him did to Jack, you should have adopted the very light touch with him. Taking Mark to the party was too big a play for safety. Maybe if you admitted your mistake to Jack you'd get things squared away with him again.

Tell him you mistakenly thought that such a good friend of his would be a safe playmate for you when he was unavailable. Admit honestly that he's the only playmate you want, and see what he says to that!

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've been going with Tom for a week now and he has already asked me to go steady with him. I know it's too soon, but I want to very much.

"He has just broken up with the girl he used to go with and that's what worries me. He said he likes me very much, but I'm not sure.

"Could he be trying to make that other girl jealous so he can go back to her?"

That's a bit hard to tell. And maybe even Tom doesn't know. One thing is obvious — you're the new love on the rebound. And it's much too soon to take it seriously.

Answer that steady offer with a light and casual, "Let's get acquainted, first — then we'll both know whether it's a good idea or not."

"Dear Miss Woodward: For three months now Jim has been picking me up after I get off work on Saturday nights — that's all I ever see of him. He never asks me for a date.

"He told me to go out with other fellows, but when I do I don't have any fun, so I've stopped going with anyone else. I know if I keep on going with Jim I'm going to get hurt very badly. What would you do if you were me?"

Take a chance on getting hurt. Take a chance on asking him over to the house some other night besides Saturday late. Take a chance on teasing him gently into taking you somewhere you want to go—a real date.

Try to convince yourself that Jim doesn't matter too much one way or the other. That light touch may be your insurance policy.

Stenciled Designs Mean More Interesting Floors

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

From historic old houses comes a new-old idea for interesting wood floors. Now that so much wood floor is seen again, waxed and gleaming, the art of floor stenciling is being revived.

One wood stain is contrasted against another in geometric patterns, the natural wood shades and colors with perhaps black for an ebony effect and white for limed effect.

The old wagon wheel pattern comes back, plaids and borders, to turn the most ordinary floor into a conversation piece.

Because interesting wood floors are especially liked for contemporary rooms, the stencil idea is bound to catch on for them as well as for Early American rooms.

Actual stencils can be used, or masking tape to lay out squared, striped or border designs, and the other materials needed are aniline water dye, a stencil brush which can be an old shaving brush, cut down, and paste wax into which color is mixed.

The stenciling can be done so the stain does not penetrate too deep to be removed by sanding.

Mrs. G. P. — "My living room is now in two colors, medium soft green and gray, and there are a few touches of white. I would like to add another color in a pair of extra chairs, pillows for the sofa and perhaps a few decorative objects. What color should it be?"

Yellow, green-yellow, melon shades or either a violet-blue or a sky blue can be added to these colors successfully.

Touches of brightness are needed in metal, brass or silver, and it will be well to provide the emphasis of black, although this should be limited to small areas such as a lamp base, picture frames, a little black in a fabric pattern, small tables.

Mrs. R. McK. M. — "A blond table we have had about 12 years has gradually darkened and is now rather an unattractive color.

"Will it be necessary to refinish it completely to change it to a better, somewhat darker color? How can this be done?"

Mid-August Means Wedding Time for Three Couples

Sunday Rite Solemnized for Couple

The dress was re-embroidered with silver and was styled with scalloped neckline and cathedral train. A satin bow at the waist highlighted the dress and fell into streamers down the train.

A small cap of rhinestones and seed pearls held her floor-length veil and she carried a white Bible centered with an orchid and stephanotis, with ribbon and ivy streamers.

Mrs. Chris Garyet of Denver, Colo., was her sister-in-law's matron of honor and the bride's sister, Theodora Garyet, was her maid of honor.

Betsy and Ann Coulacos of Quincy, Mass., the bridegroom's sisters, and Martha Savas were bridesmaids in similar gowns of aqua.

Gail Gouvellis and Gail Gaffney performed the duties of flower girls dressed in sleeveless organdy dresses with matching velvet sashes in yellow and aqua. Each carried a small basket of flowers.

Spero Coulacos of Holyoke, Mass., was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Coulacos of North Quincy, Mass.

Groomsmen included Chris Garyet of Denver, Colo., brother of the bride; Sam Cosmas of Pontiac, Spero Tasseris of Detroit, and James Iakovides.

Nile green chiffon and lace was chosen by the bride's mother for the occasion, and she wore matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Coulacos wore aqua lace with pink accessories and a white orchid corsage.

After a reception at the Park Shelton Hotel in Detroit, the new Mrs. Coulacos changed to a coral linen suit trimmed with touches of white for the wedding trip. With it she wore navy accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

The couple will reside at Silver Lake when they return from a honeymoon trip to Canada, Maine, Massachusetts and Niagara Falls.

Married Sunday evening in St. George Church were Mary Garyet and William V. Coulacos. Mr. and Mrs. Konstantine Garyet of Baldwin avenue are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Coulacos of North Quincy, Mass.

Wanda Ogg Is Married at All Saints

John Maturos Jr. Are Honeymooning in East, Canada

Enjoying a four-week wedding trip through the Eastern states and Quebec, Canada, are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Maturo Jr. who were married Saturday evening.

A tiny cap of satin and matching lace trimmed with seed pearls held her fingertip veil and she carried a cluster of glamellias. At her throat she wore a string of knotted pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Wanda is the daughter of the Harry Oggs of Stanley avenue.

Anthony Maturo of Hamden, Conn., was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Maturo Sr., also of Hamden. The bride's brother, Donald Ogg, Edward Riefel of Ann Arbor and Donald Weston of Albion seated the guests.

Receiving guests in the Rose Kneale Room of Stevens Hall following the ceremony, the bride's mother was dressed in a navy blue dress with navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Lucian Addario, the bridegroom's sister of Hamden, Conn., wore a navy and white dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

After the wedding trip the newlyweds will reside in Hamden, Conn.

She attended Wayne University and he received his master's degree at the University of Michigan.

MRS. JOHN E. MATURO JR.

After a four-week honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Maturo Jr. will reside in Connecticut. They were married Saturday evening in All Saints Church. The bride, the former Wanda June Ogg, is the daughter of the Harry Oggs of Stanley avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Maturo Sr. of Hamden, Conn., are his parents.

Feted at German Shower

Honored Friday evening at an old-fashioned German-type bridal shower were Joan Frederiksen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Frederiksen of Baldwin avenue, and Raymond Bell, who will speak their vows Sept. 5.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilford Bell of Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lobb were hosts at their home at Williams Lake. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frederiksen, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lobb and Myrna Lobb of Fenton; the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Lobb of Grand Blanc, Mrs. Mary Parkinson of Lake Orion, Mrs. Oren Shelly of Flint, and Cathy, Fred and Leslie Lobb.

Miss Frederiksen was also honored at a miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening when friends and co-workers gathered at the home of Mrs. Patrick Daly on West Rundell avenue. Mrs. William Graff was cohostess.

Couple Wed in Ceremony at Rochester

Honeymooning in Northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Powell Elliott who were married Saturday evening in St. John Lutheran Church of Rochester. She is the former Joyce Elaine Rathka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Rathka of Rochester, and the Allen R. Elliotts of Chippewa road are his parents.

MRS. RAYMOND POWELL ELLIOTT

At a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in St. John Lutheran Church of Rochester, Joyce Elaine Rathka, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rathka of Rochester, became the bride of Raymond Powell Elliott.

After a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church, the bride changed to a navy rayon suit with white accessories and a corsage of white roses for a trip to Northern Michigan.

The newlyweds will reside in Ann Arbor where Ray will continue his studies at the University of Michigan.

Use Plastic to Tighten Screw Hole

By HUBBARD COBB

Several hundred wood screws go into the average house but the ones we are most concerned with are those that are loose.

Now a screw that is properly installed seldom comes loose all by itself. It gets loose either because it has been removed and replaced so many times that the hole in the wood has become enlarged or it gets loose because it has been subject to too much strain. In any event it must be tightened up.

If things are not too bad and the wood around the screw has not been split, take out the screw and pack plastic wood into the hole.

When the plastic wood is dry, drill a pilot hole into it with a wood drill and then reset the screw. If the screw has been set in masonry rather than in wood, pack the hole with steel wool and then run the screw back in.

Sometimes packing the hole with plastic wood won't do the trick and something more drastic must be done.

Using a longer screw often works and so will using one with a wider diameter than the old.

In some cases, especially with doors, the wood around the hinge screws is so badly cracked that it can't possibly hold a screw regardless of the size and length.

The best thing to do here is to carefully cut out the damaged wood and glue into place a wood patch large and thick enough to hold the screws.

Use a skin lotion after tissuing off your cleansing cream. It will help you have a truly fresh looking, clean complexion. Pat it across your throat and face to stimulate the skin. There are two kinds of this lotion: One for normal, dry or sensitive skin and one for an oily complexion or for the person who likes more zip.

Divorcee Tells Woes With In-Law

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

It goes on endlessly, it seems.

It was at a large dinner party. Highball in hand, a beautiful young woman sank down on the settee "You drinking Coke? How come? When I drink, I drink. Especially tonight. This is the second anniversary of my divorce."

As I didn't know what to say, I said nothing. My neighbor took a long swallow. Then she announced, "I've got a 4-year-old daughter, you know."

"How nice," I said. "How's she taking the second anniversary of the divorce?"

"Oh, marvelously, simply marvelously," my beautiful neighbor told me. "She lives with my parents. I work. You can't work and take care of your baby at the same time, can you? So Amy stays with my parents.

"But she's happy. I'm the one who isn't adjusted. Amy never mentions her father. That means she's adjusted, doesn't it?"

"I don't know," I said. "I don't know your little girl."

The lovely, slightly unfocused blue eyes moved away from my face to the glass in hand. For a moment or so my neighbor just stared into the clear golden liquid it held as though she were searching it for some clarifying, precious meaning or message. Then, as though she hadn't found it, she took another long swallow.

"My child's a lamb," she said. "Really a sweetie. I like her. She looks like her father. He's awfully good-looking. I like Amy, but I'm not ga-ga about her, you understand. Definitely not ga-ga. I do not ooze devotion.

"I don't go all mushy when I show people her baby pictures. I don't look at my child the way you look at your husband on your honeymoon. That I really don't do."

"My ex-husband's mother looks at him like that," the beautiful young woman said. "She adores him out of this world. She went right on buying all his shirts for him after we were married. She took all his socks home to darn.

"Why couldn't she adore her own husband instead of mine? Why did she have to do everything for him so that he couldn't even hold a job long enough to pay our obstetrician for Amy? Tell me that, will you? You can't, can you? Not at a party, anyway. . . . .

"It might spoil the fun, mightn't it?" she said, getting up. "We don't want to do that, do we? No, of course we don't. I think I need a refill.

Mothers of boys, hers was the second such confidence I listened to this week. Are you listening, too?

LISTEN, LADIES! .How about those gals who love to wear jewelry so much that they can't even leave it off when they're at the beach! (Funny part is—you babes need no such adornments!

Friend Very Disparaging in Referring to Neighbor as 'That Smith Woman'

By EMILY POST

A letter explains: "At our bridge club the other afternoon, one of the members referred to a neighbor as "that Smith woman. She said it in a tone that carried neither contempt nor dislike, but nevertheless it suggested a very uncivil attitude toward Mrs. Smith, and several of us questioned the propriety of such a phrase.

"In my opinion, it was an extremely rude way to speak of Mrs. Smith. I would appreciate your commenting on this."

Answer: To speak of anyone as "that Smith woman" is very disparaging.

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother has just recently married and is living in another city. My mother thinks that it is no longer correct for any of us to write to him alone and that all future letters should include his wife.

I do not agree with her on this and think it utterly ridiculous not to be able to write to a member of one's family alone.

Not that we have anything to conceal from his wife, but one does write a little differently when writing to one person. What is your opinion?

Answer: Very definitely it is not necessary to always include the wife's name if you write very often; on the other hand, if your write very seldom, then I think she should be included.

Dear Mrs. Post: The company for which I work is going to give a large cocktail party this fall to celebrate its 25th anniversary. Invitations are to be sent to a long list of clients.

Some of these are men, some women, in some cases married, others not. It would be impossible to find out about each one.

How can the ivitations be addressed to include all three posibiliities. Is there a word we can use to denote husband, wife or friend?

Answer: The usual word is "Guest." Write Mr. John Smith and Guest' or Mrs. Samuel Brown and Guest or Miss Mary Jones and Guest.

Grandma's Type of Thrift Doesn't Suit Modern Life

BY ANNE HEYWOOD

Recently I received a letter from a gentleman who could only be described as irate.

"My daughter," he began, in part, "reads your column, so occasionally her husband and I take a look at it, too.

"I notice that you are continually talking about ways women can make money at home, or about the many young mothers who need to make extra pin money.

"If you want to know what I think, I think this is a lot of nonsense. What is wrong with the good old American virtue of thrift?

"Why can't these young flibbertygibbets knuckle down and save some money at home, instead of dreaming up ways to make more and spend more?"

He went on to describe the habits of his beloved wife, long-since deceased. "She walked blocks out of her way to get potatoes a penny a pound cheaper. She made over all the children's clothes, cutting them down to fit the youngest child.

"She made her own bread which was cheaper and better than what you could buy. She worked the clock round, stretching each penny, and we raised a good healthy family on less than it takes some of these molly-coddles to raise one child."

I couldn't help thinking that perhaps one reason his beloved wife died so early was that she had worked such incredible hours.

However, I simply pointed out to the gentleman that nowadays bakery bread, frozen fruits and vegetables, cake and muffin mixes, and all the many aids for the young homemaker are actually cheaper in most cases than going through all of the time and energy-consuming process of making everything from scratch.

Needless to say, we have a different kind of economy today than we used to have. American know-how has worked miracles.

Young women who make their own soap today are not saving money; they are doing things the hard way. And further, if all women took such a job on themselves, a lot of the workers who now make soap for the big companies would be unemployed.

Modern standards of what constitutes thrift are not what they were in grandmother's time.

I repeat this because so many women have written me that their husbands have the same complaint, and they have asked me for a concrete answer to that old one:

"What do you want to make spending money for? If you'd economize the way my grandmother used to . . ." etc. etc.

MAXINE LEZIUS APPEL

At a family dinner in their home Saturday evening, the Walter D. Appels of Orchard Lake announced the engagement of their daughter, Maxine Lezius, to Charles Fisher Delbridge Jr. He is the son of the Charles F. Delbridges of Grosse Pointe. Maxine is a graduate of Finch Junior College. She attended Vassar College and is a member of the Junior League. Walter is a graduate of Dartmouth College and the University of Michigan Law School.

Kirk Festival to Include Famous Artists

Among the many famous artists entering the Kirk in the Hills Outdoor Art Festival to be held from 1 to 5 p. m. Aug. 27, 28 and 29 will be Joan Junyer. Mr. Junyer, a widely known innovator, has created quite a stir among art circles.

A well-known magazine says, "Joan Junyer is a painter who paints no pictures, a sculptor who carves no stone. He molds abstract shapes of wood and plaster, paints them with wavering, rainbow strokes of cool color, ornaments them with bold patterns, simplifed human figures and shadow-casting bumps and cutouts.

"Results: A new kind of fluid wall decoration which revives, in a modern idiom, the painted sculpture of the ancient Egyptians, Syrians and Greeks."

"Spanish-born Joan Junyer used to paint conventional pictures, showed them for 10 years running at Pittsburgh's Carnegie International Exhibitions.

"After Franco took over Spain, Junyer came to the U. S. and earned a new reputation as an innovator. Pictures, he decided, are too limited because they have to be evenly lighted and looked at head on.

So he turned to sculpture-paintings, which are made to fit odd corners as well as flat walls, can be seen from different angles, in changing lights, with an almost unlimited variety of effects. Each angle and light shows a different facet of Junyer's work."

Artists from the 48 states, Holland, France and Japan, many of a more conventional school, have entered their works in the Kirk's 1953 Outdoor Art Festival. Prizes will be awarded in four classes: Water color, sculpture, graphic arts and oil painting.

All works exhibited on the Kirk's grounds, located on West Long Lake Road, will be offered for sale. The show is open to the public.

Italian Noblewoman Finds Success Through Knitting

Since the beginning of time, women of the world have used many vehicles to move along the road to fame — but the knitting machine probably has been a fairly unusual mode of transportation.

In the village of Galliate, near Milan, a handsome Italian noblewoman, the Marchesa Olga di Gresy, has been knitting her way to fame with beautiful couture sweaters, coats and ensembles that are fashion news on two continents.

Early in September, she will leave her Italian village bound for the United States, for Dallas, Texas, where she will receive an award "for distinguished service in the field of fashion" at annual Fashion Exposition Sept. 7 and 8.

Marchesa Olga Cisa Asinari di Gresy e Casasco belongs to that very scanty category of women, a group particularly small in Italy, who have built up step by step first a small firm, and then an industry, finally reaching internationally confirmed success.

Born Countess Rey di Villarey, she appeared destined to lead the tranquil, unadventurous life of an Italian gentlewoman. Destiny decided otherwise in her case, obliging her, to rely only on the resources of her good taste to solve the problem of existence for herself and for her children.

Opposed by her family and by those forming part of the society in which she lived, Olga di Gresy started a small business — a shop.

In 1932 destiny placed Olga di Gresy on the road which led her to her present-day success. In Rome she met an important jersey manufacturer who offered her a job as artistic director and designer in his Milan factory.

There followed many years of hard work, severe discipline, business problems and relatively few rewards.

When her contract with the textile manufacturer had terminated, Olga di Gresy decided to design and manufacture fine knits on her own. She bought her first knitting machine which she had installed in a small plant in Milan and began work on her initial collection. This collection met with immediate and almost overwhelming success.

Her first "commercial child" was caled "Mirsa," a combination of the names of her own two children, her daughter, Mirella, and son, Sandro. This is the name that fashionable women of Europe and America wear with justifiable pride on the labels in their fine sweaters and couture knits.

The war forced "Mirsa" to evacuate its Milan premises. With the help of women workers, she dismantled each knitting machine piece by piece and took them to the little town of Galliate nearby, where she and the women painstakingly reassembled them.

In 1949 Olga took samples of her work to Paris, where it was immediately bought by Hermes and by the boutiques of Christian Dior, Jacques Fath and Anny Blatt.

An American buyer saw and admired the Mirsa designs at Hermes and set out to find the designer of these wondrous knits. He found her and Mirsa now exports in volume to American stores.

Regularly, Marchesa di Gresy starts her day with her workers, lives the life of the factory, considers and solves the thousand problems that arise when creativeness is being pu into practical form.

Because the world of fashion is often a frantic one, now and again she retires to her little house hidden among the Portofino olive trees. There, in the middle of a dream-like landscape, she gardens and regathers her resources amid her flowers, her friends, her family.

Finish Pipeline Across Straits

Deepest Underwater Oil Line Completed in Week After Starting Date

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — A giant pipeline, 20,000 feet long and 20 inches across, now lies under the deep and turbulent Straits of Mackinac to carry oil from Canada's Albert Fields to Southern Michigan and eastern Canada.

The deepest underwater oil pipeline ever attempted was completed Saturday evening, just a week after workmen launched it at St. Ignace across the Straits.

The pipe, in eight 2,500-foot sections, was pulled across the water that divides Michigan's two peninsulas. It was the longest water crossing by the pull method ever completed.

Next workmen will shove a four-inch line through the pipe from the St. Ignace side to suck out all the air. Then they will fill the pipe with water for testing purposes.

As the weight of the water pulls the line into its channel at the bottom of the Straits, pontoons which have held it six feet above the bottom will be released.

In a month, the whole operation will be duplicated when a parallel pipeline will be pulled across the Straits just east of the present one.

The underwater lines will form part of project to link Superior, Wis., and Sarnia, Ont., with oil pipeline. Another line already has been laid from Edmonton, Alta, to Superior.

Bingo Problem Local, Not State, Says Williams

Williams was interviewed on the program "Sounding Board" by college students working in this area during the tourist season.

"There is a state law which forbids bingo," said Williams in answer to a question by James Hildebrand, a University of Michigan law student.

"However, when I became governor," he said, "my police commissioner (Donald S. Leonard) and I decided that each locality should handle its own problem. That is the way the problem should be handled."

Williams did not mention Leonard, now Detroit police commissioner, by name. However, he referred to him as "the police commissioner who would like to be governor."

Williams ducked a question about whether he plans to run against Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) for the U. S. Senate.

"That's a good state and federal question," Williams told the student. "I don't know which I'll run for. But thanks for the plug anyway."

Brooklyn Fireman Plays Stork for Third Time

NEW YORK (UP) — Bernard Morris, an expectant father, rushed into a Brooklyn fire station Sunday and asked for help. His wife's baby was due to arrive at their home a few doors down the street.

Fire Lt. Edward T. Dunne went to the Morris home and delivered a baby girl to Mrs. Morris—the third baby he has delivered on duty as a fireman in the past two years.

Starch Blaze Injures Three

Huron Milling Factory in Harbor Beach Is Hit by Flash Fire

HARBOR BEACH (AP)—A 35-year-old Huron Milling Co. employe lay critically burned today, victim of a series of explosions and flash fires that ripped through the big plant early Sunday.

Bernard Franzel of Harbor Beach and two other workers were taken to Harbor Beach hospital. He suffered burns over most of his body in the blasts.

Clarence Friedland, 45, of Port Hope, and August Uflig, 40, of Harbor Beach, had less serious injuries.

Company president Robert M. Farr said the damage might run to $500,000.

Machinery in the grinding room of the plant, largest industrial concern in the Thumb area north of Port Huron, was blasted by the first explosion. A few minutes later another blast roared through the roll room.

Both rooms are used to process starch adhesives, such as all paper paste.

Several flash fires broke out, but were kept under control by the sprinkler system at the plant until the Harbor Beach fire department could extinguish them.

Firemen said an electric spark or starch dust may have touched off the blasts. The plant, which has 500 employes, operates around the clock.

Rescuers See No Sign of 2 Detroiters' Plane

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (UP) — American and Canadian pilots reported no progress today in their search for two Detroit brothers whose light plane is believed own in the rugged bush country north of here.

The brothers, Walter and Harry Butler, took off against the advice of airport officials last Wednesday for Jamestown, Ont., about 120 miles north of here.

Pilots said the rough terrain made an air search difficult but they planned to recheck the thousands of square miles along the plane's flight route in an effort to spot wreckage.

John Huston Finds Money Easy to Get

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — John Huston breezed into town for some ready money for future pictures and breezed out again.

John, the brilliant and unpredictable son of the late Walter Huston, reported that money is amazingly easy to find. There's no reason he should be amazed. His last two releases, "African Queen" and "Moulin Rouge" made a mint for everyone concerned.

I cornered the director-writer in his hotel room during a rare moment of relaxation during his whirlwind visit here. He was having a highball with John Dierkes, the craggy-faced soldier of Huston's "Red Badge of Courage."

Huston was his usual humorous, expansive self. In his shirt sleeves and wearing a bow tie and fancy suspenders, he stretched his gangling legs and puffed on a tiny cigar. Occasionally he said something he thought was funny and his wild, graying hair would flop as he shook with laughter.

"Why do I stay in Europe?" he said. "If you could see my place at St. Jean de Luz in the south of France, you would know. There is hunting in the hills of Spain nearby. There is deep sea tuna fishing in the Atlantic. I can keep my jumping horse not far away. At night I can go to the casino and lose my money, if I so desire.

"Yes, I made some money on the 18-month tax deal, but not as much as you might think. I would have stayed in Europe anyway, and I wasn't at all disturbed when the law was changed. I can't say the same for some actors I know. Alan Ladd is signed up for a number of pictures out of the country and he hates being away from Hollywood.

"I like making pictures out of the country. Most of my Hollywood pictures have been made largely on location; I like to operate out of the studio. I don't like interference.

"My staying overseas happened accidentally. I went over to make 'African Queen' and one picture led to another. It wasn't because I was disenchanted over the failure of 'Red Badge of Courage.'

"What happened to 'Red Badge'? I'm not sure. Perhaps it was not right for the time. People didn't want to see war. I know when I see pictures of Korea in the paper, I skip over the page. I've had enough war.

"I don't blame it on the studio. I saw the cut version and I think they did a good job. I also was at the first preview of my version and I saw the people get up and march out of the theater. It was like the retreat in Italy. I had the feeling that if you tried to stop them, they would have put up a fight. It was a very disturbing experience."

Huston recently finished "Beat the Devil" with Humphrey Bogart and Jennifer Jones. He said the picture presents a problem.

"It has the slimmest, sparest, most wasp-waisted, pusill-gutted story in the world," he remarked. "It is not intended to be anything pretentious at all. The trouble is not with the public, but the critics. After 'African Queen' and 'Moulin Rouge,' they will say that it's too trivial.

"The picture isn't intended for Academy Awards; I never make pictures with that in mind, anyway. Perhaps it would be better if my name weren't on it. But then people would say I'm ashamed of the picture. I'm not. It's just designed for pure enjoyment."

Huston said he would be leaving shortly for his seaside paradise in France. There he will work on some stories, perhaps a film of "The Real Ireland" or an adventure in India for Bogart, who affectionately calls Huston "the monster."

His secretary then told him it was 4:21, and Huston grabbed his coat, slapped a cap on his head and was off to pick up some more money with which to make movies.

U of M Publishes Pamphlet Series on Family Life

ANN ARBOR—Two new booklets designed to help parents with various family problems were published recently by the University of Michigan Extension Service. The issues are first in a series of pamphlets which will be published from time to time.

"Parents' Exchange" and "Life in the Family" are composed of ideas and experiences contributed by Michigan parents, and are being distributed to provide a means of exchanging solutions to problems encountered by parents of all ages and families of all sizes.

Some of the ideas are expressed in classes and institutes sponsored by the U-M Extension Service.

Names of books written by qualified advisors on how to understand and treat children are listed in "Parents' Exchange."

The "Life in the Family" series consists so far of two leaflets, "When There's Work to Do" and "When Your Good Child Seems Bad." Others will be published later.

Single or multiple copies of the pamphlets may be obtained for a small fee by writing the U-M Extension Service, 4524 Administration Building, Ann Arbor.

Frosted Feline Survives Night in Refrigerator

SALISBURG, Md. (AP) — When Phillip C. Widdowson of nearby Princess Anne opened his refrigerator door, his cat fixed him with an icy stare and leaped stiffly from the box.

Widdowson said the cat apparently had remained in the refrigerator all night. He thawed out after a few hours in the sun.

Guard Troops Begin Two Weeks Training

GRAYLING (AP) — Michigan National Guard troops began a two-week field training period today at Camp Grayling.

Top ranking state guard officers and Fifth Army officials welcomed the more than 9,000 guardsmen to Camp Grayling yesterday.

Maj. Gen. Ralph A. Loveland, of Ann Arbor, warned the civilian soldiers," The peaceful settlement of many problems and difficulties that stand between our way of life and that of the Communists seems to be a long way off.

"We still have no guarantee of world peace. Because of this we must be ready ourselves as fighting men in a fighting unit to defend democracy if called upon to do so."

Artillery and infantry units of the State Guard forces will train at nearby Camp Grayling during the two week exercises. The Michigan Nation Guard air arm will train at Grayling Air Force Base and anti-aircraft artillery units will train at Camp Claybanks near Muskegon.

Storm-Cut Wires Take Second Victim

Joe Lane, 55, stepped out of his garbage truck to pick up a wire which had been knocked across the road by the hurricane winds. The wire turned out to be an electric power line and Lane was electrocuted. It was his first day on his new job with the Princess Anne County sanitation department.

Norfolk's first hurricane victim died on the day of the big blow, Friday, in similar fashion. Talbot Duffy Barrow, 42, a Norfolk county policeman, was killed when he came in contact with a high-tension wire while answering an emergency call.

Cooper's 67 Paces Medal Qualifying Test

Pontiac Match Play Champion Is 2 Under Par

Total of 22 Linksters Qualify in Weekend Test at Municipal

Butler Cooper won the City Match Play title last year and he served notice Saturday at Municipal Golf course that he intends to make a strong bid to add the Medal Play crown this week end.

Cooper paced a field of 54 in the Medal Play qualification rounds by firing a two-under par 67. Twenty-two players qualified with scores of 78 or better. Cooper was exempt since he finished among the top five last year.

Defending champion Mike Apdonian leads the list of players who didn't have to qualify. Glen Harding, Joe Burgdorf, and Ed Wasik are other exempt players entered this weekend. Along with (Clifford) Inman.

Glenn Vallance and Harley Hyatt are other automatic qualifiers. They played Saturday, scoring 71 and 74, respectively.

Cooper's 67 matched the total posted in the qualifying round by Ed Wasik last year. Cooper was the only player to break par over the city course. Joe Gaines was one-over with a 70 and Pat Halverson and Ron Rothbarth matched Vallance at 71.

Qualifiers play 18 holes Saturday and Sunday for the crown.

Timely Blows Help

CHICAGO (AP)—Even when he doesn't hit home runs, Eddie Mathews delivers timely blows.

The slugging Milwaukee third basemen, who leads the National League in homers with 37, drove out a two-run triple in the eighth inning of yesterday's opener againt the Chicago Cubs. The blast sent in two mates, and gave the Braves an uphill 4-2 victory.

Re-signing of Durocher as Giants' Pilot Arouses Controversy; Writer Backs Leo

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It is difficult to recall that the re-signing of any baseball manager ever before stirred up such a ruckus as has shaken this city and its outlying precincts since President Horace Stoneham of the Giants cornered Leo Durocher and made him agree to another two-year contract.

Many were stricken where they sat. Others just as stoutly defended both Stoneham and his manager and argued far into the night that Durocher was blameless for the plight of his team.

When it came down to either expressing an opinion or getting out, we were forced to side with the latter forces.

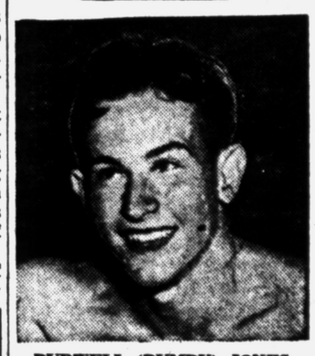

We know his faults, but believe he is as good a baseball manager as there is in the game, not excepting Casey Stengel and Charlie Dressen.

It is true that Leo made a grave mistake in the spring, when he believed he had a pennant winner, but that is not necessarily a rap at his managerial ability. The quality of a baseball club, which is made up of a carload of young men of varying temperaments, is a very elusive thing to calculate, and Durocher will not be the last manager to be misled.

All it takes is for one or two stars in whom a pilot has great faith to fall down on him, or for a small spark of dissention to ignite a defeatist complex.

Our own feeling has been that the question of Durocher's continued tenure at the Polo Grounds never would have arisen if a young Negro named Willie Mays had been playing center field for the Giants the past two seasons instead of being in the service.

Leo continued to drive himself harder than any other manager in the game and to shout it up, but the problem of realigning his forces began at once and have continued up to now. The club's lineup has been the most unsettled in either league as it stumbled around for the first half of the race and then suddenly went into a complete collapse.

Jones Cracks Medley Record in AAU Meet

Pontiac Swimming Star Breaks Own Mark With 3:46.2 Effort

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Men's National AAU swimming and diving championships produced one new American record and tied two AAU marks at big Broad Ripple pool over the weekend.

Diving, both 3-meter springboard and 10-meter platform, set a new quality standard for the meet but there are no records in these events.

Burwell Jones of Pontiac, a University of Michigan product, set a new American record of 3:46.2 in the 300-meter individual medley Saturday. It was his own 2-year-old mark of 3:52.2 that he rubbed out. He has won the AAU medley title three times outdoors and three times indoors.

Both Richard G. (Dick) Cleveland of Honolulu and Olympic champion Lt. Clark Scholes of Camp Atterbury, Ind., tied the AAU record of 57.5 seconds in the 100-meter freestyle Sunday. Judges unanimously named Cleveland the winner in the foaming finish that was a dead heat by the timers' watches.

Cleveland set the record in 1951. He also holds the American record of 56.4. Scholes' Olympic record is 57.1.

John Dudeck, 19-year-old Michigan State sophomore from Detroit, Saturday tied the AAU record of 1:08.4 in the 100-meter breaststroke, set two years ago by John Davies of the University of Michigan.

Ohio State's Hawaiians won three of the last six events Sunday. In addition to Cleveland's 100-meter freestyle triumph, Yoshi Oyakawa took the 200-meter backstroke in 2:29.9 and Ford Konno won the 400-meter freestyle in 4:39.8. Oyakawa had won the 101-meter backstroke Saturday in 1:06.8 and Konno won the 1,500-meter freestyle Friday in 19.20.

Playoff Needed to Settle Title at Fort Wayne

Middlecoff, Wall Tied at 265 Over Regular Distance, Sunday

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Veteran Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., played an extra 18 holes today to decide the championship of the championship of the Fort Wayne Open Golf Tournament.

First place was worth $2,400 and second $1,800.

The two matched 65s yesterday to finish the 72-hole distance in 265 each, breaking by four strokes the tournament record set by Jim Ferfier of San Francisco in 1951.

Birdie putts on the 450-yard 18th hole that dropped for Wall and didn't for Middlecoff threw the tournament in a playoff. Wall had chipped in for eagle deuces on the 3rd and 17th, each 275 yards long.

Wall, 25 years old and in his second year on the tournament circuit, never has won a major event.

Jack Burke Jr. of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., who had taken the 54-hole lead at 198 with a 64 Saturday, turned the front nine in 33 and was well on his way to victory until the 13th. His ball moved and he stopped his swing, incurring a two-stroke penalty.

Burke finished with 72 for 270 to tie for sixth place with Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., who had shared the lead the first two rounds but finished with 71 and 68.

Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., took 68 for 267 and third money of $1,400. Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., shot 67 for 268 and fourth place, worth $1,200.

The swimming speed champion of ocean fish is generally regarded as the wahoo. However, mackerals, dolphins and marlin are also regarded in the top hit-run class.

The San Francisco 49ers will make their only New York appearance this year when they meet the football Giants in the Polo Grounds on Sept. 17.

State's Skeet Title Captured by Detroit Man

Confer's 340 x 350 Is Best in Overall Total; Hamp Curry Runnerup

Top honors in the Michigan skeet championship held at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club over the weekend went to Detroiter Howard Confer.

Confer broke 340 out of a possible 350 targets to finish 1st in the overall figures. He tied with John Jenkins, also of Detroit, for 2nd place in the all-gauge class with 99 and won the .28 class with a 98.

Florence Schmidt, Detroit, won the women's crown with 94x100. Ken Sedlecky, 12, of Baldwin, scored 96 to take the junior title. Other champions include W. G. Tomlinson, Detroit, who scored 47 x 50 in the .410-gauge class and Jenkins, who has 99 in the .20-gauge event.

Novice—Clair Furdy, Ithaca, 89x100.
Two-man team — (.20 gauge)—Jenkins and Confer.
Two-man team — (.12 gauge)—Curry and C. Crites.

Several From Oakland County in GR Tourney

A strong contingent of Oakland County golfers will be playing in the Western Amateur Golf championship. Qualifying rounds for the tourney start today at Blythefield Country Club in Grand Rapids.

Heading the County delegation is Chuck Kocsis of Red Run. Included on the list are Phil deBeaubien of Orchard Lake, Tom Draper, Ed Flowers, Lloyd Martz and Dick Whiting of Red Run, Ed Ervasti of Royal Oak, and Art Olfs of Oakland Hills.

Top names in the field are Jim McHale of Philadelphia, Harvie Ward of Atlanta and Frank Strafaci of Long Island, N. Y.

Waterford Nine Wins 'B' Test

D & W Team Defeats Ferndale at Drayton for MSA Crown

Waterford's Dick & Wes Sporting Goods won the Michigan Softball Association's Class B District tournament at Drayton Plains Sunday.

D & W and Ferndale advanced to Sunday's finals after winning 2nd and 3rd round games Saturday. Ferndale won the 1st game Sunday, 2-0, to force a 2nd contest.

Final game went eight innings before the Waterford team pushed across a single run to win, 1-0. Dave Ruelle singled in the 8th, advanced to third on two straight walks and came home on Gordon Nelson's single.

Birmingham Spaniel Takes Top Spot in Big PKC Show

Mrs. Gasow's entry also finished 1st in the sporting group.

Judges for the show were Dr. Stanley E. Ochsner, Hales Corners, Wisc.; Mrs. Marie B. Meyer, Milford, O.; Mrs. Stella Quick, Brighton; Frank J. Ward, North Webster, Ind.; Perry Killian, Flint; Richard H. Bones, Toledo; Fred Schwalk, Detroit; and Frank J. Mayville, Olmsted, O. J. P. Hackett judged best-in-show.

Non-sporting — Ch. Williamsdale Don Juan, dalmation owned by Mrs. Jean Zimmerman, Chicago.

GMC Splits 4-Game Card

Beats Muskegon Squad in Two of Four Tilts Over Weekend

Pontiac-General Motors split four games with Muskegon's Continental Motors in National Industrial Fastball League play over the weekend.

GMC won the 1st game of Saturday night's doubleheader, 3-2, but was blanked in the nightcap, 2-0. Pontiac nine bowed, 4-1, Sunday and then shut out Muskegon, 2-0, in the final contest.

Feature game of the weekend card was Sunday's 2nd tilt, in which the teams managed to collect but a single hit apiece. GMC scored its two runs in the 2nd on a walk, two errors and a hit by Mullins.

Coachers resume NIFL competition Tuesday, when they take on Detroit Briggs in a doubleheader starting at 7 p.m. at Northside Park.

Katlin and Fair Feature Winners at M-59 Speedway

Mickey Katlin of Howell and Joy Fair of Pontiac took the weekend's feature races at Pontiac M-59 Speedway.

Katlin finished ahead of Fair and Wayne Bennett of Troy Saturday night, while Fair was first ahead of Bennett and Bill Smith of Brighton Sunday.

In addition to a third place in the feature Saturday, Bennett won a special "wrong way" race and the Australian pursuit. Harmon Willcutt of Troy won the semi-final and the fifth heat. Other heat winners were Rusty Kelly, Bill Schultz, Dick Price, and Joe Doyle.

Heat winners Sunday were Carm Ragatz, Chuck Paterllo, Butch Marshall, Bill Dillard and Willcutt. Partello won the pursuit and Dillard the semi-final. George Rogers of Pontiac and Katlin joined the Upside Down Club.

Net Fans Want Showdown With Aussies' Star Pair

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The 72nd National Doubles Tennis Championships open at Longwood today with the spotlight on the U. S. Davis Cup pair of Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert and the nine-times-winning team of Mrs. Margaret Osborne du Pont and Louise Brough.

Tennis fans are rooting for a showdown in the men's final between the American Davis Cuppers and Australia's 18-year-old stars Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall.

Philadelphian Seixas, holder of the Wimbledon crown and doubles winner here last year with Australia's Mervyn Rose, is seeded with Trabert — ex-Navy man from Cincinnati—in the opposite half of the draw from Hoad and Rosewall.

All the tennis world's top stars, including 18-year-old National and Wimbledon Champion Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly of San Diego, Calif., move to historic Longwood's grass courts after competing in the men's tourney at Newport, R. I., or the women's matches in Manchester, Mass.

Seixas suffered a twisted right knee in the third set against Trabert in yesterday's Newport Invitation final after winning the first two sets and then limped to defeat, Trabert winning 5-7, 0-6, 6-4, 8-6.

But Seixas came back with Trabert to win the doubles crown from Hamilton Richardson, Baton Rouge La., and Bill Talbert, New York, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3. Seixas said he'd be in shape for the National.

In yesterday's concluding play at Manchester, Miss Connolly won the singles for the third straight year,

Puertas Is Victor in Mid-season Event

Pontiac's Joe Puertas won the 40-lap feature event Sunday night in the mid-season championship races at Chief Pontiac Speedway. Puertas also won the trophy dash.

Tiger Relief Work Improves

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers haven't improved much since the start of the season — from eighth to seventh place — but manager Fred Hutchinson thinks his team is stronger in at least one respect.

"Our bullpen is stronger now than it has been all year," said Hutch, whose job has been made almost impossible by inept relief pitching.

"In the first few months," Hutch explained, "our bullpen was simply awful. We kept experimenting with different relief pitchers, looking for one who could help out in the late innings.

"We had hoped Ray Herbert would be the one . . . but that hasn't worked out."

In the last few weeks, Hutchinson has been using some of his starters, especially Billy Hoeft and Ned Garver, in relief. This, plus the fact the newcomers Al Aber and Bob Miller have shown steady improvement, has made the Tiger bullpen a help instead of a hindrance.

Ralph Branca didn't need any assistance in taming the Chicago White Sox 3-2 Sunday. But if he had faltered, Hutchinson had Hoeft, a starter, and Herbert, a reliever, ready to go in.

Branca pitched out of a jam in the ninth to hang up his third victory for Detroit against two losses. He pitched a four-hitter.

With one away in the ninth, White Sox put the tying runs on second and third. But Branca got Tom Wright on a bouncer, one run scoring, and then induced the dangerous Bob Elliott to hit a game-ending fly to deep right.

Tigers gave Branca a 3-0 lead after four innings. They scored once in the first on singles by Harvey Kuenn and Johnny Pesky plus a double-play ball by Ray Boone. They added two more in the fourth on a double by Boone, Steve Souchock's single, a stolen base, error and ground ball.

Roberts, 'Campy', Trucks, Rosen MVP Candidates

By OSCAR FRALEY
(United Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK (UP) — Race for most valuable player honors was wide open today with Robin Roberts and Roy Campanella apparently holding a slight National League edge and the chief American League candidates Al Rosen and Virgil Trucks.

The fact remained, however, that a half dozen players still were "alive" in each league's chase for the award and any one of them could move front and center in the final month of play.

Roberts and Campanella will receive their chief opposition from Gil Hodges of the Dodgers, Warren Spahn and Eddie Mathews of the Braves, Ted Kluszewski of the Reds and Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals.

Trucks could get opposition from two teammates Pilly Pierce and Minnie Minoso, while Rosen also is pressured by teammate Bob Lemon as well as mickey Vernon of the Senators.

Strangely enough, the American League leading Yankees apparently have no one in the race, although Whitey Ford and Ed Lopat have won a staggering percentage of their games. Still, the Yanks have no great standout.

Dancer Wins 17th Victory in 18 Starts

NEW YORK (AP)— Alfred Vanderbilt has proved it's more profitable to own a horse than bet on one — especially when the horse is Native Dancer.

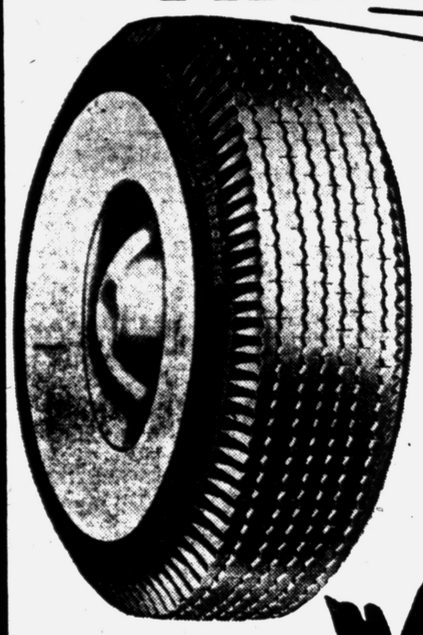

The Dancer's easy victory in last Saturday's Travers at Saratoga Springs was his 17th in 18 starts. But Vanderbilt, trainer Bill Winfrey and jockey Eric Guerin probably are the only ones who have fattened their bank accounts to any great degree.

And its likely to be the same story Saturday, when the grey son of Polynesian goes after the $75,000 added American Derby at Chicago's Washington Park.

Youthful Texan Is Favored in Jaycee Tourney

Rex Baxter Choice of 220 Players in Ann Arbor Test

Some 220 youngsters, all 17 or under, play 18 holes today and Tuesday with the 100 survivors proceeding to the 72 hole championship play starting Wednesday.

Rex Baxter, 17 year old Amarillo, Tex., youth, reigns as the favorite in the meet. Baxter has already won two national Jaycee crowns and a Hearst title.

Michigan's five-man team in the tournament was changed over the weekend by the decision of Steve Uzelac of Detroit to play in the National Caddie meet at Columbus, Ohio. Another Detroiter, Bill Teifke, will replace Uzelac.

John Garrett of Houston, Texas, won the long driving contest held Sunday as a preliminary to the Jaycee meet. Garrett topped the teenage drivers with a shot of 287⅔ yards.

LUNKER LAKER — Twenty-one-year-old Bill Van Wagoner of 312 S. Broadway, Lake Orion, proudly holds the 33-pound lake trout he landed during a trip to Grand Marais last week. The big lunker measured 42 inches in length and 26 inches in girth. Bill was fishing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Van Wagoner, and his 17-year-old brother, Bob.

Top 153 Field in Western Test at Grand Rapids

With Stranahan Out, Veteran Pair Rated Big Chance to Win

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) - The 51st Western Amateur Golf Championship, a rugged seven-day grind gets underway today at Blythefield Country Club with Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia and Harvie Ward of Atlanta, Ga., sharing favorites' role.

With defending champion Frank Stranahan sitting this one out, McHale and Ward, a pair of tested veterans, get top billing in the field of 153 golders.

Both have been finalists but have yet to taste victory in this tournament which dates back to 1899 and generally is ranked second only to the National Amateur in stature.

Ward, winner of the British Amateur, went to the finals last year but was trimmed by Stranahan, who won his fourth Western crown with a 4 and 2 victory.

McHale, former Walker Cupper, also waded through a large field and reached the final round in 1948. He was defeated by Skee Riegal, 3 and 1.

All players will shoot two 18 hole rounds of qualifying today and Tuesday, with 64 low scorers advancing to match play elimination, which runs from Wednesday through Sunday.

Semifinals and finals will be at 36 holes. So it's possible that the winner may have to play 180 holes.

The somewhat hilly Blythefield course measures 6,530 yards and plays to a par 6-36—72.

While Ward and McHale shoot for their first title, 63 year old Chick Evans Jr., of Chicago will seek his ninth championship. It's unlikely he'll get in but the fact that he is till playing tournament golf is a story in itself.

Evans, grandpappy of the amateurs, won his first Western title in 1909. He repeated in 1912-14-15 20-21-22-23, making him western kingpin.

Kiner and Musial Face Tough Battles in Bids for National League Home Run, Batting Titles

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK — "The time has come," as the walrus almost said, "to talk of many things in connection with a waning baseball season."

Stan Musial has at least eight members of his own league barring the road to his 7th National League batting championship. He must beat out Irvin, Schoendienst, Furillo, Kluszewski, Frank Baumholtz, Hank Thompson, Jackie Robinson and Richie Ashburn. They have been in front of him all season.

Ralph Kiner also has a tough fight lead his league in home runs for the seventh successive time. He has Mathews Kluszewski, Campanella and Gus Bell to handle. This is a hardy group when it comes to hitting the long ball.

Vernon of the Senators has led his league before. He is again on top over such men as Al Rosen, Minnie Minoso and George Kell.

Leg injuries have affected two New York stars, Irvin of the Giants and Mickey Mantle of the Yankees. Mantle, especially, has bumped into atrocious luck with trouble in both legs. He has been on the field a lot when he should have been in a hospital.

Campanella, Mathews and Gil Hodges are in a hot scramble in the runs batted in department in the National. Rosen of Cleveland has a big jump on the field in the junior circuit and isn't likely to be caught.

In the games-won-and-lost section and the earned-run department there is still a wild scramble. Robin Roberts should give the 30-games-won mark a brave battle, and he has a good chance.

Star pitchers of the year include Roberts, Spahn, Harvey Haddix and Carl Erskine in the National, with Billy Pierce, Bob Porterfield, Virgil Trucks, Eddie Lopat, and Mike Garcia in the American.

There have been more thn a few fine pitchers this season. There can be a wild finish among three or four in either league.

Chicago Girl Winner of U. S. Junior Crown

KALAMAZOO (UP) — Top-seeded Lorraine Williams of Chicago won the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association championship for girls 15 years and under Saturday by defeating 12-year-old Patsy Palmer of Phoenix, Ari., 6-4, 6-4.

The unseeded Miss Palmer, a surprise package who advanced to the finale via the upset route, made few errors against the 14-year-old Chicagoan but had a hard time handling her opponents sizzling returns.

State Shooter Trap Titlist

Highland Parker Wins Class A Championship in Grand American

VANDALIA, O. (UP)—One Michigan sharpshooter won a title in the Grand American Invitational Handicap Trapshoot Sunday but another dropped out after finishing in a four-way tie for first place.

Ned Lilly, Stanton, Mich., withdrew after his first miss in a shoot-off for the Class AA crown. The other three men who had tied for first place in regular competition all had perfect scores in the first block of 25 birds in the shoot-off and decided to wait until today to determine a champion.

Lake Orion Yields Husky Bronze-Back

One of the "big ones" of the season for Oakland County anglers fell to Jay Leipprandt, Lake Orion last week end.

Fishing near his cottage on the banks of Lake Orion, Leipprandt hooked and landed 6 pound 2½ ounce large-mouth bass He used a little river runt lure to take the fish, his 18th bass of the season. An uncle, William Irvin was fishing with him.

Golf Clinic: Here's How

By SAM SNEED

In today's drawing I want you to notice particularly the position of the club face at this point of the backswing. It's square to the ball, as it should be. That is, it's perpendicular to the ground.

If the face of the club is at all open (pointing skyward) at this stage, it's wrong. This results

If it's closed (facing the ground) it's equally wrong and probably results from "dragging" the clubhead (that is, letting the hands get too far ahead of the clubhead on the backswing.)

To achieve the correct position shown here, swing the club away low, and slightly inside the line of flight, with an "altogether movement" of shoulders, hips and arms.

Game Crops Too Heavy, Wildlife Director Says

DORSET, Ont. (AP)—Dr. Clarence Cottam of Washington, D. C., assistant director of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, said too few deer and other upland game are being killed in the United States.

He told wildlife officials from 13 of the United States, Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba that underharvesting is creating a grave problem in the U.S. A large-scale stepping up of the legal take allowed hunters was needed.

Yankees, Dodgers Hold Comfortable Leads

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Both New York and Brooklyn could blow the pennants. Remember 1951. But with 40 to play and 8-game leads, the smart guys are getting buddy buddy with the Yank and Dodger ticket sellers. Both league leaders have identical 77-37 records.

The Yanks enjoyed a profitable Sunday, picking up a game and a half on Chicago and two full games on Cleveland by knocking off the Philadelphia A's 8-0 and 7-3. Chicago bowed to Detroit's Ralph Branc 3-2, and Cleveland droped a pair to the last-place St. Louis Browns 7-6 and 7-5.

Washington and Boston divided a double in the other American League games. Mel Parnell winning his 17th for the Red Sox 4-1 and Spec Shea winning the second for Washington 7-4 despite Ted Williams' home run.

Brooklyn ran its winning streak to nine by knocking off its old Pittsburgh sparmates twice 3-1 and 9-5, but Milwaukee kept step by sweeping two from Chicago 4-2 and 6-2.

The New York Giants ruined Robin Roberts' bid for his 21st victory by knocking him out in the eighth inning of an 8-1 game and also whiped the Phillies in the second game 4-3. Cincinnati edged St. Louis 3-2 but the Cards grabbed the second 6-2 behind Stu Miller. The split left St. Louis tied with the Phils for third place, 15 games back.

Allie Reynolds, surprise starter, lasted only one inning of the second game when the Yanks needed a five-hit relief chore by Johnny Sain to whip Charley Bishop.

Harry Brecheen and Dick Littlefield, both working in relief, dealt damaging blows to what was left of Cleveland's pennant hopes by copping a pair for the Brownies. The third-place Indians now are 13 games behind New York.

Williams made his first start for the Red Sox in the second game after a few pinch-hitting jobs but his homer and double weren't enough to save Boston. Ted didn't play the entire game, leaving after five innings in accordance with previously announced plans for his gradual conditioning program.

Duke Snider hit three home runs, making it 27 for the year, as the Dodgers bowled over Pittsburgh twice.

Ted Kluszewski smashed home runs in each game for a season total of 36, breaking the Cincinnati all-time club record of 35 set by Hank Sauer in 1948.

WILDLIFE YOUNGSTER — A bit apprehensive is this coyote pup, chased and finally cornered by the conservation departments photographer near Higgins Lake recently. The wily coyote, a gray to reddish-gray, medium-sized dog, is found throughout western North America. Wary and wily, the coyote has been able to keep his hold in Michigan's wilds despite the fact that the price on his scalp has encouraged large-scale hunting and trapping for many years.

Kentucky Cage Squad Set for Return to Action

Bradley Given OK for Tourney Play; Attention Turns to MSC, Irish

By WILL GRIMSLEY

CHICAGO (AP) — Two of college basketball's perennial powers, Kentucky and Bradley, were back in business today — cleared of athletic irregularities which brought a year's punishment.

Kentucky now can wheel out the big, talented team which was forced to sit out the 1952-53 season and Bradley is eligible to play in the national tournament, from which it was barred last winter.

National Collegiate Athletic Association's council put these institutions back in good standing yesterday and also closed the case on Midwestern of Wichita Falls, Tex., which had drawn a slight reprimand for its recruiting tactics.

With this old business out of the way, the council was able to turn to the new — cases of three other members who have been accused of violating the athletic code.

These are reported to be Notre Dame and Michigan State, two of the country's best known universities which produce champion and championship-contending football teams, and Arizona State at Tempe.

Michigan State had the No. 1 football team in the country last year and is heavily favored to repeat. Notre Dame, a past champion is regularly in the first 10. Arizona State has been moving toward big time, a fact which probably has bought its athletic policies under scrutiny.

The NCAA council said an announcement on the status of the so-called "unholy three," never identified officially, may be expected around 5 p. m. (EST) today.

Roberts Is Already Rated With Baseball's Greatest

By JOE REICHLER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The name Robin Roberts sounds like a celluloid creation. And there are times when National League batsmen vow that Robin Roberts, baseball's best pitcher, is not real.

The phenomenal Phillies' right-hander won't be 27 until Sept. 16 but already the elder statesmen are ranking him with such mound immortals as Christy Mathewson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Walter Johnson and Lefty Bob Grove.

Hans Lobert, a teammate of the great Alexander and Mathewson, says: "Roberts is every bit as good as Alex and Matty were at the same stage of their careers."

Philadelphia manager Steve O'Neill sums it up by saying: "Before he is through, Robbie may be as good as any pitcher who ever lived."

This marks Roberts' fifth full year in the big leagues and already he has rolled up four 20-victory seasons. All have come in succession. The former baseball and basketball star at Michigan State won 20 games in 1950, 21 in 1951, soared to 28 triumphs last year and has an outside chance to capture 30 games this year.

Roberts winning record is all the more remarkable because of the fact that only 18 pitchers since 1900 were able to win 20 games four straight seasons.

Roberts has everything it takes to become one of baseball's greatest pitchers—size, weight, endurance, stuff, disposition, brains, heart, determination and good habits.

Roberts has an excellent fast ball, a good curve, a fair change-up and magnificent control.

"I've seen pitchers who were much tougher to hit than Robbie," said O'Neill. "Our own Curt Simmons has more stuff. Roberts is often hit freely — until another hit could send runs across the plate. Then he turns on the fire and it is all over."

NA Bantam Crown Is at Stake Tonight

Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway will be the scene of the 12-round match between Henry (Pappy) Gault of Spartanburg, S. C., North American champ, and Billy Peacock, former Philadelphia amateur titleholder now fighting out of Los Angeles.

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Stubborn Steve O'Neill, who has been in baseball, man and boy, for 44 years, still thinks the runaway Brooklyn Dodgers can blow the National League pennant.

The 63-year-old manager of the third place Phillies believes either the Milwaukee Braves or his own club has an outside chance of catching the Dodgers during the final six weeks of the season.

"I realize our chances look mighty slim," O'Neill said before yesterday's doubleheader with the New York Giants. "Thirteen games (it was 15 after the Phils dropped two) is a lot to make up in so short a time. But I've been around a long time. I've seen a lot of things happen that everybody said couldn't happen.

World Title at Stake

LAKE LEELANAU (AP) — Thirty-three skippers will jockey their 14-footers into the wind in the final two races of the world championships for the National-One-Design Sailing regatta today.

But there was no hope that anyone could catch the fleet John Christianson of Milwaukee who already had three firsts in the five race series.

Legs Tired, but Nothing Ails Williams' Bat

Ted Cracks Homer and Double in First Start for Bosox

BOSTON (AP)— Ted Williams — with a home run and a double in his last two times at bat — says "I feel awful good up there at the plate but my legs are telling me 'I'm not ready to play a full game yet."

The 34-year-old ex-Marine jet pilot started his first game Sunday since doffing his Marine aviation greens for the Red Sox flannels July 28.

Batting against Frank (Spec) Shea in the nightcap of a Fenway Park doubleheader, Williams lined a terrific shot in the first inning that first basemean Mickey Vernon took for a double play.

Then in the third, Williams banged a hard one to right field that went for a ground rule double when a fan reached over the low railing of the boxes to grab it.

Big blow came in the fifth frame when Williams caught Shea's 3-1 pitch and lined it just inside the right field foul pole into the stands for his second post-Korean War home run.

Whitfield Now Aims for Sullivan Award

ESKILSTUNA, Sweden (AP) — Mal Whitfield, the ex-air force sergeant from Ohio State who has been making a hobby of collecting world track records in wholesale lots, today set his sights on the 400-meter mark.

"I plan to shoot for it later this week at Copenhagen," said Whitfield, "and maybe I'll be able to break it."

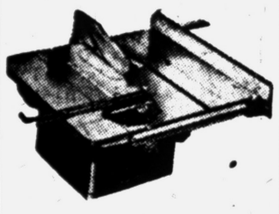

He already has smashed five marks this year — including the 1,000-meter standard yesterday — and nothing would please him more than to win the coveted Sullivan award at the end of the year.

'I Can't Cry Now' . . . by Addie McElfresh

Katy Is Warned by Major; She Dashes Off in Terror

CHAPTER VII

Agnes Jerome wouldn't have known the path through the woods was there! "Did she know about the path, Katy?" Deputy Sheriff Dave Argus asked.

Katy Elmo shook her head. "I don't know. She might have known, I suppose."

"Of course she could have known about the path," Ted Jordan spoke angrily.

"Agnes had lived around here all her life. She could have heard of it — she might even have walked it sometime. And what was to keep her from finding it the night she was killed?"

Dave shrugged. "But she probably didn't know about it and even if she did, I doubt if she was familiar enough with this woods to want to walk it in pitch darkness. No," he shook his head. "I think Miss Jerome was waylaid between the road and the house—on the lane probably — and her body was dropped off the foot bridge. Maybe the murderer hoped it would be called an accidental death from a fall on those rocks." It was a straw and Katy grasped it. "It could have been! Oh, it must have been!"

"Katy, Katy!" Ted cried. "Don't you see what Dave's doing to you? He's trying to make it seem like you did it!" Then, "I won't have it, Dave. You let Katy alone!"

Dave Argus didn't even bother to laugh, but there was a twinkle deep in his voice. "Come out of it, Ted. Nobody's accusing Katy of anything."

"Of course not, Ted," Katy tried to sound as if she believed it.

Ted growled, "Just see that you don't." He felt for his pipe, found it on the mantel, leaned over to tap it on an andiron, and then tamped fresh tobacco into its fragrant bowl, all very deliberately.

When he finished he could say quietly, "Sorry, Argus. But I won't see Katy pushed around."

It was 10:30 when the two men left together, Dave to ride with Ted as far as the highway where he had parked his own car when he stumbled in the dark along the path which he said Agnes Jerome had not taken.

And, later, as she stared wide-eyed into the darkness of her bedroom, she had the uncomfortable feeling that Dave was right, so right.

Even if Agnes Jerome had known about the short-cut to the mailbox, which Katy doubted, she would not have been familiar enough with the rough path to have risked it in the darkness.

Dave Argus was right, Katy reasoned with herself. If Agnes had been followed, she would have had a chance. . . but the killer had been waiting for her.

He had come . . . waited. . . . and killed. Here.

Katy sat up in bed, suddenly weak. The palms of her hands felt clammy-cold when she pressed them to her face.

"Where does that leave me?" she thought frantically, almost wishing that she had taught criminology or something ipstead of English Lit ond Composition II and IV.

Maybe then she would know if she were more suspect than ever despite Dave Argus's assurances . . .Sometime, somehow, lulled by the comforting rhythm of Major's breathing on his rug beside her bed, she slept.

Dawn was becoming mauve and pink and crimson out her east window when she awoke, as tired as if she had not slept at all.

"Monday," she thought, "and what a ghastly hour. Especially when you have nothing to do. . . no school to go to." That was what hurt so, of course. What she missed, next to Chris.

She flung back the covers, swung her legs over the side of the bed. She frowned, Major wasn't there, his thick coat tickling her bare feet. She pulled on her robe, found her slippers. It wasn't like Major to leave her.

She found the dog in the kitchen, sitting on his lean haunches at a window overlooking the stairway and the barn. He thumped the floor with a wary tail when she spoke his name.

"What is it, Major?" She went out to look out, too.

The barn looked as it always did, only perhaps a little more forlorn in the gray light of early morning. Through an open door —should that door be open? Perhaps, she thought.

Ted might have forgotten to close it when he got the wood last night —she could see the ricks of apple wood and oak. The garden tools were stored there, too, and the lawn mower, and Chris had ripped out some dilapidated stalls and made a garage.

Beside her, Major stirred, and a growl began deep in his barrel chest. . . Was there a movement, out there?

There was, Katy knew, although she didn't see it. Major's backbone seemed to rise, sharp-ridged, through his coat. She thought, "He's come back—the killer has come back!"

She ran through the house, to the front hall. Ted's number. . . her mind groped for it as she snatched up the telephone.

Ted had said the killer might come back. After an eternity, she realized what was happening. She was hearing absolutely nothing but her own frightened breathing. No "live" sound of an open telephone line, no operator, nothing!

"Major!" she cried then. "Major, come with me!"

Halfway to town, with Major erect in the seat beside her and the road unrolling behind the car like a dirty gray ribbon from a runaway spool, she realied she could not go to Ted. Not looking like this!

She was wearing her chille robe and scuffed bedroom slippers and no make-up but her terror. Going to Ted like this was impossible.

Heavens! she thought, Mrs. Porter—dear correct Abigail Porter—would be horrified, but not so horrified that her chattering tongue would be stilled.

Freed GI Heads for Girl in Tokyo

TOKYO (AP) — An American sergeant, only a week out of Red captivity, gave up his quick trip home to come to Tokyo to look for a pert Japanese girl who waved goodby when his outfit was shipped to Korea three years ago.

"I came here to get married," said Sgt. Robert E. Moats of Morgantown, W. Va.

Her name is Noriko Hamatsu, Moats said, "and I'm going to find her as soon as I get out of this hospital."

Moats was exchanged at Panmunjom a week ago. He was slated to be sent home from Inchon by ship but appealed to a chaplain who arranged the trip to Japan instead.

Moats has sent letters and telegrams to the girl but hasn't located her.

He said they exchanged many letters before he was captured, but he got only one letter from her while a prisoner.

He said he last saw her July 4, 1950.

Wheat Showing Gains Today

CHICAGO (AP) — A strong burst of buying at the start propelled wheat up for gains which could not entirely be maintained on the board of trade today.

Initial prices were ahead as much as 6 cents when compared with Fridays close, which was before farmers gave their emphatic endorsement to marketing quotas for the 1954 crop. In subsequent dealings, wheat fell back, but still held fair-sized gains over Fridays finish.

Other cereals, with the exception of soybeans, duplicated wheat's action. Corn and oats had gains running to around a cent at the start. Once the weekend accumulation of buying orders was out of the way, however, these cereals fell back.

Mart Is Mixed, Mostly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)— The Stock Market was mixed today with a tendency to slide a little lower.

Most changes in prices were in the smaller fractions. Trading was only moderately active.

The market started narrowly mixed. As trading picked up, however, more and more minus signs dotted the tape.

Most railroads, steels, motors, and chemicals were lower. Plenty of plus signs were in evidence, but they weren't concentrated enough to pull the list ahead in any significant section.

Chrysler was on the tape with a block of 4,000 shares for cash up 1½ at 70¾ followed by another block of 4,000 shares regular way up ⅛ at 69⅜.

Mossadegh Plans to Set Up Regency

Mossadegh seemed firmly in control of the situation.

All opposition deputies were arrested during the weekend, including Dr. Mozaffar Baghai, a prominent opposition leader and a main witness of the murder of Tehran Police Chief Brig. Gen. Mahmud Afshartous last April.

American Point Four establishments were closed in fear of possible attacks on them by demonstrators.

Mossadegh was reported considering an order to put an end to all U. S. activities in Iran short of severing diplomatic relations. The general belief was at least all Point Four aid activities would be closed down permanently.

Pictures of the young ruler and his queen were torn down all over the country. Shops displaying royal portraits were smashed by crowds demanding "Death to this traitor."

News in Brief

Lyle Lynn, 19, of 3080 Cass Ave. and Frank Baker, 18, same address, pleaded not guilty before Municipal Court Judge Maurice E. Finnegan Saturday on charges of unlawfully driving away an automobile. They failed to furnish $1,000 bond and are in Oakland County Jail waiting hearing in Circuit Court Aug. 19.

The theft of $120 from his apartment was reported to Pontiac Police Saturday by Thamus Roberts of 90 Oakland Ave.

AFL-ITU Hears Talk by CIO President Reuther

DETROIT (AP) — The AFL International Typographical Union's 95th convention returned to business today after taking Sunday off to enjoy the town.

AFL president George Meany, who was to have shared the platform with Reuther, cancelled his talk. He wired from Chicago that "press of union business" forced him to stay in that city. The AFL's top executives have been in important session in Chicago.

Executives Are Really Human

Says Press Agents Are Wrong to Show Bosses as Infallible

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER

Business would enhance its popularity as an American institution if public relations manipulators would cease and desist from the effort to portray management as perfect.

To err is human, and top executives would seem less like ogres to the man on the street if they admitted an occasional slip.

In its application to contemporary big business, two true life incidents may help to clarify what I have in mind.

While the late Edward R. Stettinius Jr., was still chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, he told me that Bethlehem Steel had snatched an order from one of the former's regular customers in Rockefeller Center.

He asked me to keep the information confidential. I did so, though I pointed out my dissent from his thinking.

It was my view then and now that it would improve the climate of public opinion toward bigness in business if the public heard of the leaders' occasional misses as well as of their hits and successes.

Episode Two: Meat packing, ever since the time of Upton Sinclair's critical novel entitled "The Jungle" early in the century, has been regarded by the uninformed as a monopolistic and profiteering industry. The record, however, shows that meat packing is low on the list of industries in respect to percentage of profit on sales. The showing is meager as compared with the automobile industry, for example.

The portrait of management infallibility which corporate press agents strive after tends to make the executive artificially austere and machine-like. Executives would rise in prestige if the public knew them as they are — for the most part, men who were tested on the way up in competition with many others.

It seems to me that men rise in stature as well as likeability when they reveal a human touch.

Theodore Roosevelt was widely heralded as the hero of San Juan Hill in Puerto Rico during the Spanish American War. In an intimate talk at the Harvard Club in New York City during World War I, T. R. said: "Certainly I led my men up San Juan Hill, but I don't mind telling you I was plenty scared."

There was sound and patriotic psychology behind T.R.'s confession. It helped young men fighting in the new war not to despise themselves if they too felt a touch of fear at some critical time.

Believeing that economics is something for our everyday humdrum existence, Alfred R. Oxenfeldt, City College economist, has written a non-technical book entitled "Economics for the Citizen."

Professor Oxenfeldt, in connecting forced wage increases with price inflation, says that this does not occur if productivity rises as rapidly as wages. The author, it seems to me, here concedes too much to fallacious intellectual opponents.

Forecast Michigan's '53 Fruit Production

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's crop of apples, pears, grapes and red cherries is expected to be above last year, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

The service said that the apple crop is expected to total 8,094,000 bushels, 47 per cent more than last year's short crop, but 10 per cent less than the bumper 1951 crop.

The service forecast the pear crop at 1,092,000 bushels, this would be five per cent more than last year and 58 per cent more than the 1942-51 average.

A grape crop of 43,000 tons, nine per cent more than last year and 36 per cent more than the 1942-51 average, is in prospect, the service said.

Implement Companies Reveal Merger Plans

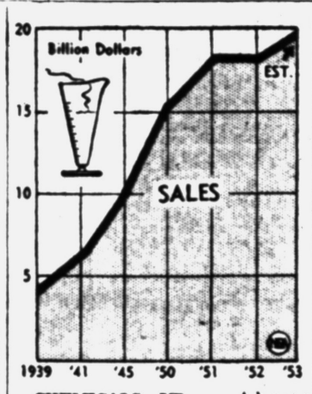

NEW YORK (AP) — Massey-Harris Co. Ltd and Harry Ferguson Inc., makers of farm implements and tractors, have announced plans to merge.

A joint statement, yesterday, said directors of the firms have agreed to the amalgamation, creating the new company of Massey-Harris-Ferguson Ltd. The agreement is subject to stockholders' approval.

The merger would pool five farm equipment plants in this country, four in Canada, and others in Great Britain, South Africa, France and Germany.

James S. Duncan, now president of Massey-Harris, would be president of the new company. Harry Ferguson, chairman of the Ferguson organization, would be chairman of the board.

Boys of 13 in Glasgow, Scotland, were 6.2 inches taller and 2.65 pounds heavier than their elder brothers were at 13 in 1945 says a recent health report.

CHEMICALS UP — Above Newschart shows how sales of chemicals have risen in the U.S. from 1939 to the present. Starting with a low of about $4 billion in 1939, sales rose steadily only leveling off in 1952. It is estimated that the 1953 figure will approach the $19 billion mark, high point for the period.

Dies of Heart Attack

Hunger Forces AWOL Monkeys to Return Home

DETROIT (UP) — Six monkeys who went AOL for the second time from the Detroit Zoo Sunday were back in "maximum security" cells today.

After discovering that bananas don't grow on trees in this part of the world, the frisky fugitives returned to "Monkey Island" where meals are a bit more regular.

Until they got hungry the monkeys had an enjoyable day in tree tops and on building roofs to the amusement of thousands of zoo visitors.

Zoo director Frank McInnis said the AWOL monkeys had escaped for the last time.

MOMS Meet Aug. 25

ORTONVILLE — MOMS Unit 14 has announced the postponement of its meeting today to Aug. 25. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Stanley Solley of Oak Hill Road.

Ontario Crash Kills Royal Oak Woman

ROYAL OAK — A Royal Oak woman was killed yesterday in a car-truck accident north of Alvinston, Ont. She was Mrs. Grant White, 20, of 3610 Linwood St.

Provincial police said a car driven by Mrs. White's husband collided with a truck parked at the side of a highway. White suffered leg fractures and other injuries.

Service for Mrs. Wanda Ruth White will be 11 a.m. Wednesday from Kinsey Funeral Home in Royal Oak with burial in Oakview Cemetery, Detroit.

Surviving besides her husband are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Harris of Royal Oak Township; two sisters, Linda and Jessica at home; and a grandfather, John Harris in Tennessee.

Mrs. Harris was formerly employed at the Birmingham National Bank and at the Wayne-Oakland Bank in Clawson.

About 70 per cent of the milk produced in the U. S. is used for the manufacture of various dairy products.

In Memoriam 1

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR Dear Son and brother Russell Metro who passed away August 16, 1936

Gone is the face we loved so Dear,
Silent is the Voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, sisters and brothers.

LOST 23 POUNDS Slenderwise Thinking Will Lead To Rennel

If slimming down is your problem and if you need help many products will offer many promises. Playing the field leads to regrets, wastes your time and money. Rennel is a quality product which has brought results to thousands of Michigan users. Rennel is the product you must try and can afford to buy. Mrs. Edw. Myers, Gobles, Mich. writes, "I have used 8 bottles of Rennel Concentrate and with it have lost 23 lbs. With the very first 3 bottles I lost 12 lbs. and it was just as easy as that. I bypass fatty foods and sweets but of other foods I eat all I want and I am holding my weight. Before losing weight I felt bloated and tired and out of breath at the least bit of exercise. Now the opposite is true and I feel like a new person for which I give the credit to Rennel."

If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Price $1.40.

Kim Il Sung and Nam Il Only Aliases

2 Top Men in North Korean Red Regime 'Stole' Names of Well-Known Patriots

Editor's note: Bill Shinn, the Korean-born AP correspondent who has reported some notable beats including the Inchon landing, here gives an exclusive account on the hitherto shadowy background of North Korea's leader, Kim Il Sung and a swiftly rising newcomer, Nam Il.

By BILL SHINN

SEOUL (AP)—Marshal Kim Il Sung and Gen. Nam Il, the two men who emerged as kingpins in the newly-purged North Korean Communist regime, today were labeled "fantastic imposters" who borrowed their names from well known North Koreans of years ago.

Only today, Red China's Peiping radio disclosed that Kim—one-time Russian army major—has been awarded the title of "Hero of the People's Republic of Korea" by the standing committee of the North Korean Supreme People's Assembly in recognition of his wartime leadership.

The title apparently is an imitation of Russia's "Hero of the Soviet Union," which makes the recipient in Russia a virtual demigod.

Information that Kim and Nam Il are imposters with bororwed names came from a highly placed South Korean intelligence officer with excellent connections in North Korea and access to top secret reports on the muddled situation behind the Reds' Bamboo Curtain.

His name cannot be revealed because of possible retaliation against relatives still living in North Korea.

Kim's role as an imposter who borrowed the name of a North Korean hero who fought the Japanese during the occupation of Korea has been known for some time.

But for the first time it was revealed that Nam Il, chief Red negotiator in the truce talks at Panmunjom, also borrowed the name of a prominent North Korean.

Kim's real name was Kim Sung Joo. He was born 42 years ago in a small village near the Red capital of Pyongyang, the son of an anti-Japanese Nationalist.

When Kim was eight his father was forced to flee to Manchuria to escape the Japanese police. Kim stayed with an uncle in Korea until he was 13, then joined his father.

He became a member of the Chinese Youth Association of the Communist party when he was 17.

At the age of 30, Kim became commander of the guerrilla corps in Manchuria. At about the same time Japan sent its powerful Kwantung army into Manchuria. Kim fared badly against the Japanese and gave up his command to visit Russia.

During World War II Kim commanded a Korean army corp that fought alongside the Russians.

In the battle of Leningrad, he won special recognition from Premier Stalin. He was ordered to Manchuria to fight the Japanese in the final days of the war.

However, by the time he reached Manchuria Japan had surrendered.

He adopted the name of Kim Il Sung, a widely known Korean patriot who had been fighting the Japanese as a guerrilla in Manchuria.

The real Kim Il Sung was then about 53 years old, while the imposter was about 34.

In October, 1945, the bogus Kim appeared in public for the first time under his new name.

On Oct. 14, he was introduced as a "victorious general" to more than 200,000 North Koreans assembled at a parade ground in Pyongyang.

The story of Nam Il's life as reported by the intelligence source, revealed that his real name was Kim Chang Man.

Reportedly now about 47, he was born in a small village near Pyongyang.

Nam Il was propaganda chief of the North Korean Labor (Communist) Party until he was appointed chief truce delegate for the Reds in July, 1951.

That appointment was made partly because of Nam Il's ability in negotiations and debate.

He was not a military general. He appeared at the Kaesong and Panmunjom truce negotiations first under a title of lieutenant general and later as a full general, presumably given him to influence the Allied truce team.

The real Nam Il is a man about 50, trained in Russia. He was president of a Communist college in Pyongyang and also an instructor at the Kim Il Sung University there.

Kim Chang Man, the imposter now known as Nam Il, presumably took his new name because the authentic Nam Il was more highly regarded by the people.

Like Kim Il Sung, Nam Il is considered a pro-Russian as against the pro-Chinese and the Nationalist Korean factions in North Korea.
