Briggs' Baseball Future Shaky as Talks Fail

4 Sisters Refuse Sale Offer in Spike's Bid for Control of Team

DETROIT (AP)—Walter O. (Spike) Briggs' position as president of the Detroit Tigers was in distinct jeopardy today following his failure to buy control of the team.

In fact, the family name of Briggs may soon be severed from any connection with Detroit baseball.

These were the significant developments after yesterday's two-hour meeting in which Briggs, representing a five-man syndicate, offered to buy out his four sisters for 2½ million dollars.

They flatly refused the bid, making it fairly obvious they felt 2½ million was not a suitable price for a franchise and ball park considered one of the finest in baseball.

Briggs admitted:

"The girls' decision may have been influenced by the low price."

Briggs was taut and obviously shaken by the decision. He had hoped to use his 44 per cent of the bid plus another 8 by Harry Sisson, a director of the Tigers, to gain control of the team.

Briggs said that if the syndicate sought to pursue the matter by increasing its bid, he would have to drop out. He said he was in no position to increase his share.

"This boy has gone for all he can—and then some," he muttered.

So now the situation is this:

EACH OWNS FIFTH

Briggs and his four sisters each own one-fifth of the franchise. They are all members of the Briggs Commercial and Development Co., a holding company which is being dissolved under the will of Walter O. Briggs, Sr., who died in 1952.

The final dissolution is set for Oct. 27. At that time all the Briggs holdings will go into trust funds for the five heirs and their children.

This is where the crux of the situation comes in. Tax officials say a baseball franchise is not a "reasonable investment" for a trust fund because of such intangibles as dependency on the weather and player injuries.

When he becomes one of the trustees, Briggs said it is his understanding that he no longer can bid for the team.

Briggs said several outside sources have shown interest in buying the team. He said there were numerous offers but didn't mention any names.

Briggs' sisters are Mrs. W. Dean Robinson, Mrs. Philip A. Hart, Mrs. Everell E. Fisher and Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr.

WALTER A. RICKETT

REV. HAROLD W. RIGNEY

Reds Free First 2 Civilians of Group Slated for Release

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China today released two American civilians—the first of 22 the Communists have promised to free. One of the two asserted he was guilty of spying for the United States.

Released were Walter A. Rickett of Seattle, a Fulbright scholar imprisoned July 25, 1951, on espionage charges, and the Rev. Harold W. Rigney, 54, Chicago, dean of the Roman Catholic Fu Jen University in Peiping.

He was arrested on spying and sabotage charges in July 1951.

Rickett said, after crossing the border into this British crown colony: "I was engaged in espionage work and there was a (Korean) war. I was an agent for the U.S. government. I collected military information."

Rickett's wife Adele, when released by the Reds last February, said she was guilty of spying. She praised the Communists highly. She reiterated that today after her husband was freed.

"We have waited four years and three months for this day," said Father Rigney.

Both talked briefly at the border with Richard Tomlin, American Red Cross representative, and a reporter permitted into the area as a representative for all news agencies. Rickett praised both the Chinese and American Red Cross.

ADMITS SPYING

"I haven't been speaking English for a long time," he said.

He said he confessed to espionage 15 days after he was arrested July 25, 1951—13 months after the start of the Korean War.

Military Revolts Against Peron

Army Leaders Demand Argentine Chief Quit, News Agency Reports

BUENOS AIRES (INS)—Argentine naval and army troops revolted against President Juan D. Peron at dawn today in what was termed the biggest military rebellion since he assumed power a decade ago.

* * *

Hours later fighting still was reported, particularly outside the city of Cordoba far in the interior. Planes also were in action.

(Agence France Presse in a Buenos Aires dispatch quoted unconfirmed reports that army leaders had asked the 59-year old Peron to resign).

Casualties were undetermined in the revolt which occurred three months to the day after the abortive June 16 naval revolt in which an estimated 1,000 persons were killed and 2,000 to 3,000 wounded.

SIEGE PROCLAIMED

A state of siege was proclaimed throughout the nation. The Chamber of Deputies approved the government measure in a five-minute session, and the Senate promptly passed it into law.

The government radio station at 9:55 a.m. said the revolt was "totally and completely dominated," but changed the text in a 12:15 p.m. broadcast, saying:

"The situation is in the course of being controlled."

Pollution Hits Water Supply in Utica Again

Pontiac Motor Found Accidental Source of Toxic Wastes

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

Pontiac Motor Division today was revealed as the accidental source of deadly chromium wastes which are once more contaminating the city of Utica's water supply which is drawn from the Clinton River.

For the second time in two months, Utica and adjacent Shelby Township residents last night were ordered by State Health Dept. officials not to use tap water for drinking or cooking.

As residents of the Macomb County communities once more turned to tank trucks for their water, a Pontiac Motor spokesman revealed that workmen installing conveyers at the plant during model change-over accidentally tripped a circuit breaker which resulted in the loss of some chrome.

"As a safeguard," the spokesman said, "all connections with the sewers have been blanked off so there cannot be a possibility of a recurrence."

Health officials clamped the ban on last night in anticipation of a quantity of the solution used in chrome plating which Pontiac city authorities reported passed through the sewage treatment plant Wednesday.

The chrome actually showed up at Utica around midnight and continued to grow in volume until around 5 a.m., according to John

Hyndman Leads in Am Tourney, Ward in Front

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Bill Hyndman, long-legged, 39-year-old upset artist from Philadelphia, scrambled to a 1-up lead over wiry Hillman Robbins of Memphis, Tenn., on the first nine holes of their 36-hole semifinal match in the national amateur golf championship today.

Hyndman, leading two up at the third, messed up the next three holes to fall behind, then won the seventh and eighth. Robbins missed putts of eight and seven feet on those two greens after he started to push his tee shots into trouble.

Hyndman had a score of 38 and Robbins a 39 on the front side of the par 35-35—70 James River course of the Country Club of Virginia.

In the other semifinal, gallery-pulling Harvie Ward of San Francisco led little Bill Booe of Bridgeport, Conn., by a surprisingly slim 1-up margin as Booe steadied after a rocky start.

Ward, former British amateur champion, began missing the fairways with his tee shots and only some good recoveries and putts kept him on top. After losing the first two holes, Booe settled down and played the next seven in even par. He won the sixth when Harvie missed a four-foot putt for a half.

Sylvan Votes Down Rezoning Proposal

Before an overflow crowd of property-owners, the Sylvan Lake City Council by a 4 to 1 vote Wednesday rejected a proposal which would have permitted construction of a lumber yard on Orchard Lake road.

Only Mayor Anthony Kreps voted in favor of amending the city's zoning ordinance to allow lumber company operations.

The vote, which followed a short discussion, ended two months of bitter wrangling between supporters and opponents of the move.

Kreps remained steadfast in his support of the action which he has said would help pay the city's expenses for capital improvements and other services.

"I think the people of Sylvan Lake will be sorry, "Kreps said. "I feel in my heart it is the right thing to do. Later on, people will be awfully sorry to see that land vacant."

Judges Dismiss Teamsters' Suit

Grant Motion Stating Circuit Court Has No Jurisdiction in Case

The three Oakland County Circuit Judges yesterday dismissed a suit filed against International Teamsters Union Vice President James R. Hoffa by insurgent members of Teamsters Local 614 Feb. 8, 1954.

The suit asked an end to Hoffa's trusteeship over the local after indictment of former local officers Daniel J. Keating and Louis C. Linteau for extortion by a Wayne County Grand Jury in September, 1953.

Keating was automatically unseated as president and Linteau as secretary following their indictment and General International President David Beck named Hoffa trustee.

Hoffa named Keating and Linteau as business agents for the local. Some 1,500 local members then petitioned Beck for Hoffa's removal as trustee and asked for an election of officers. The petition was denied.

They then brought the Circuit Court suit. It alleged misuse of union funds by Keating and Hoffa. It asked the court to dissolve the trusteeship and order an election of officers.

The suit followed claims by local members they had been threatened with violence unless they followed Hoffa's leadership.

After several court hearings Hoffa's attorneys filed a motion to dismiss the suit which was granted yesterday by Judges Frank L. Doty, George B. Hartrick and H. Russel Holland.

Hoffa's attorney claimed the bill of complaint was vague, failed to state a cause of action and that the insurgents failed to exhaust remedies provided under the union constitution and therefore the court had no jurisdiction.

The judges ruled yesterday that "this court is without jurisdiction to hear the case . . ."

Keating was sentenced to six months in prison and fined $1,000 on Oct. 12, last year. Linteau received five months in prison and a $500 fine.

Families Charge Builder Failed to Repair Homes

Some 120 families living in the Buena Vista Heights subdivision on Pontiac's north side yesterday charged a Detroit builder with failing to repair unsatisfactory construction details in some of the 300 homes in the project.

U. S. Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Royal Oak) said yesterday that he had received written complaints and had talked to Pontiac Police Patrolman Robert Rowland, who lives in the project.

Dondero said he had written Guy Palmer, regional director of the Veterans Administration in Detroit, stating the facts in the case.

Dondero believes the administration has a moral obligation to investigate the charges, since mortgages for the homes were approved by its office.

Occupants of the homes, most of whom are veterans and their families, also claim the Michigan Mortgage Corp. has increased payments on the homes from $62 to $67 a month.

Irving Franzel, vice president of the firm, said the increase was necessary because of an increase in city taxes from the original estimate of $144 per year for each home to approximately $180.

The families charge Green and Klein Builders of Detroit failed to maintain the homes despite many complaints.

A spokesman for the builders said the firm is committed to repair anything that is the result of faulty construction. He said the firm has two workmen to service the 300 homes in the project and that he believed they have handled the bulk of the complaints.

Guy Palmer of the VA could not be reached for comment.

Pontiac City Commissioner Floyd P. Miles said, the matter had come before the commission twice and the builders once had their permit withdrawn because the city was dissatisfied with progress they had made on the roads.

The permit was restored when the builder guaranteed to do the necessary work on the streets.

Cloudy and Warmer Saturday's Outlook

Partly cloudy skies and warmer weather is predicted for the Pontiac area tonight and Saturday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau's 5-day forecast calls for temperatures averaging 4-7 degrees above the normal high of 73 and low of 64.

The mercury should dip into the mid-60s tonight, following an expected high of 88 today. Saturday's peak temperature is expected to reach near 90.

The low before 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 62 degrees. At 2 p.m. the themometer reading was 89, surpassing the predicted high for today.

Purchase Price Reported Over Million Dollars

Former Willys Motors Unit May Be Reopened by New Owners

Sale of the Wilson Foundry property was revealed today. Purchaser is the Indian Head Company, a recently formed partnership of Flint and Chicago men.

Purchase price for the property, building and machinery is reported to be more than $1,000,000, by Sanders A. Goodstein, one of the purchasers.

The new owners announced today they hope to arrange for reopening of the foundry, but have not revealed operating plans.

Wilson Foundry & Machine Company was once one of the nation's leading foundries, dating back to World War I days. In more recent years it was owned by Willys Motors, Inc., of Toledo and made cylinder blocks and other engine parts for that firm.

Willys closed the foundry and moved these operations to Toledo about 8 months ago.

Registration papers for the Indian Head Co., a limited partnership established for 5 years with $50,000 capital, were filed in the Oakland County Clerk's office here Sept. 13.

General partners are listed as Sanders A. Goodstein of Flint and Lawrence Kaplan, of Chicago. Limited partners are listed as Lewis M. Mantynband, Benjamin Kaplan, Bertram I. Kaplan, Harvey Kaplan, Stanley M. Kaplan, Robert K. Kaplan and the M. S. Kaplan Co., all of Chicago.

The registration papers indicate the partnership was formed to "own and operate property."

The property lies on both sides of W. Wilson avenue, west of South Saginaw street, and includes about 500,000 square feet of floor space.

While Willys Motors removed machinery used to complete engine blocks, the foundry equipment is intact, according to Goodstein. "It is a complete foundry, ready to go," he said today.

Asked if the new owners had an immediate prospect for operating of the foundry Goodstein declined to be explicit, but remarked: "That's a lot of money which we will not want to see idle very long."

County '56 Tax Structure Upset Looms; Officials Hazy on Equalization Changes

Officials in Oakland County's 42 governmental units were still hazy today over the exact results of changes in each unit's tax equalization totals announced here yesterday by the State Tax Commission.

They were sure, however, that if the state's figures are made final as expected, the county's entire 1956 tax structure will be changed.

The total townships' equalization was reduced by $22,973,447 from the county's original state equalized amount and the cities' total raised by the same figure.

The tax commission will take five days to consider numerous protests lodged by county officials at the meeting in the County Office Building yesterday before making the action final. County officials don't expect their protests will result in any changes, however.

At least one unit was satisfied. The state revision stemmed from an appeal by Waterford Township which claimed it had been scheduled to pay an unduly high percentage of 1956 taxes.

Because the state lowered Waterford's valuation by $3,497,417, the township will pay less of the county's total tax bill, as it had hoped.

TOTAL UNCHANGED

The revision does not change the total money to be collected for taxes, but does change the amounts of the whole individual units will pay.

Four townships had their valuations increased and 21 were lowered.

Those who were allowed a special township tax rate to bring in money to support local services may feel the pinch if their valuation was lowered. They will have a decreased total base to tax on and therefore will get less money than planned on when county taxes are spread this December.

For example, Bloomfield Township's total was cut by $6,901,241. This will mean the township will lose about $1,400 from its original budget, said County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks.

The valuation of eight cities was raised and nine lowered.

Pontiac was increased $4,135,503, but will be affected only slightly, said City Assessor W. Raymond Ransom.

The city will have to pay $21,659 more in county taxes than now budgeted. When distributed over the entire city, the increase on individual tax bills will be slight, he explained.

Pontiac has already sent out school tax bills and collected about 80 per cent of the total. The city will have to pay $7,840 more of the Pontiac School Districts budget, because the other units lying partly in the district had their valuation reduced.

The extra payment can be made without an added levy, said Ransom.

Some school districts over the county may benefit and others be hurt by the change depending on

Last-Minute Rift Snags Settlement in Morocco

PARIS (AP)—A last-minute hitch developed today to plague Premier Edgar Faure's program for settling the crisis in Morocco.

French officials and Moroccan leaders who have all agreed to replace the present Sultan, Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa, with a three-man regency council, were at odds again over the composition of this "Council of the Throne." Only 24 hours previously, this problem had been considered settled.

Seek Metropolitan Area Highway, Water Boards

First steps were taken yesterday to establish an inter-county water authority and an inter-county road commission for the Detroit metropolitan area, which includes Pontiac and Oakland County.

Meeting in Redford, the Supervisors Inter-County Committee voted unanimously to seek sanction from the county boards of supervisors involved for establishment of the two new units.

The committee, composed of representatives of five counties, voted first to ask the boards of Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, Monroe and St. Clair counties to approve "the legal foundation of an inter-county water authority."

The second resolution called upon all but St. Clair County, which is not a member of the inter-county committee, to "endorse in principle the formation" of an inter-county highway commission.

Detailed plans for both would be submitted to the boards for final action after they are formulated, the resolutions stated.

In seeking approval for the water commission proposal, Howard K. Kelley, Royal Oak mayor and chairman of the committee's water sub-committee, said:

"We find ourselves looking at plans and listening to financiers and then find no place to go. We need something concrete to act on. There is no use planning for a six-county area and then find out one doesn't want to be included."

The highway commission's job would be to coordinate the planning of highways in the counties comprising the metropolitan area. The water authority would seek means to furnish an unlimited supply of water to the area.

A proposal by an independent engineering firm to build a water line from Lake Huron to the water-needy counties was not presented for consideration, as had been expected, nor was Port Huron's proposal to supply water at its city limits.

Fatal Shooting Exam Is Held

Flint Man Will Face Arraignment on Murder Charge Sept. 26

Ray Goff, accused of the Aug. 22 fatal shooting of a pretty Flint mother of three, will be arraigned in Circuit Court here Sept. 26 on a first-degree murder charge.

Goff, 32, of Flint, was bound over yesterday after examination before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib, who ordered the suspect returned to the county jail without bond.

A former Flint factory worker, Goff is accused of pumping four bullets into Mrs. Rita M. Cummings, 27, after ordering the woman's escort, Dean Worges, 25, also of Flint, from a car near Holly.

At the examination in the Probate Court chambers here, Dr. John Marra, Pontiac General Hospital pathologist, testified that Mrs. Cummings died as a direct result of the shots fired from the gun, a .22 caliber target pistol.

Worges, who also testified yesterday, identified Goff as the man who had followed them from Flint to the death scene on M87.

He told the court that Goff blocked the road as they attempted to turn around, entered their car and announced that he intended to kill Mrs. Cummings.

Worges, who is separated from his wife, stated that Goff ordered him from the car and then shot Mrs. Cummings.

Townsend Plans to Spend Leave in Great Britain

BIGGIN HILL, England (AP) — Group Capt. Peter Townsend, whose reported romance with Princess Margaret has kept Britons agog for months, says he will soon spend a leave in this country.

Townsend, British air attache in Brussels, came here to attend a reunion of 98 fighter pilot veterans of the Battle of Britain.

So far as is known, the handsome 40-year-old flier did not see the princess on this visit or a previous one several weeks ago.

* * *

Asked about his plans, Townsend told reporters: "I shall be returning to London in October for some weeks. I shall be on leave." He didn't say just where he would spend the holiday.

There have been conflicting rumors of late whether the princess, now 25, would renounce her royal rights and marry Townsend.

Jackson Police Find Mother, 2 Children

State Trooper Neil Bement spotted the missing trio and brought them to the State Police Post for questioning.

Mrs. Tower told officers that she and the girls, Joann, 7, and Jeanette, 6, had slept "in the woods" last night. They apparently suffered no ill effects.

The two children had been missing since Wednesday afternoon when their mother picked them up after school.

The search had turned to Jackson after it was learned Mrs. Tower obtained money and food from a Catholic priest here Wednesday night.

It had been feared that Mrs. Tower, discharged last March from the Traverse City State Hospital, might harm the children, who had been boarding at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Home at Eaton Rapids.

The next meeting was set for Oct. 20.

Trace Toxic Waste to Pontiac Division

Vogt, of the State Health Dept., who is at Utica. The quantity suddenly dropped almost to the safe level — .05 parts per million of water — but then rose again to 2.0. At 11 a.m., it was 3.0, Vogt said.

Meanwhile, Dr. Oscar Stryker, Macomb County health director, said he will confer with county Prosecutor Cecil A. Byer today to see what legal action can be taken against Pontiac.

"We're tired of this," he said. "There is no reason for it in our minds and we were assured it wouldn't happen again."

Byer, in the meantime, was doubtful there were any grounds for a suit. "I don't see how you can get a crime out of what's happened so far," Byer said. "I think the way to settle this is to sit down like gentlemen with Oakland County and Pontiac officials and try to work out a solution."

Warren Dubay, assistant superintendent of the Pontiac sewage treatment plant, said the amount of chrome going through the plant and into the Clinton was down below the safe level this morning.

But officials are wondering what to do with 2,000,000 gallons of sewage containing the solution which firemen pumped out of the plant Wednesday night. It is sitting in a pond near the plant. Neutralizing chemicals are being added in an attempt to reduce its toxic degree.

The city first determined the chrome solution came from the Pontiac plant when the chemical showed up in one of the hourly samples taken from sewers around plants using plating processes.

City Manager Walter K. Willman and City Attorney William A. Ewart were studying what legal action the city may take against the division. The City Commission passed an emergency ordinance making such dumping of poisonous substances into sewers a misdemeanor.

The law was passed late in July after a large amount of the same chromium solution was traced to city sewers. The poison caused a similar ban on use of water by 700-Utica homeowners, as well as residents of Shelby Township who get their water from Utica.

In August, the city sent "orders of determination" to plants using chrome plating processes detailing steps to be taken to eliminate possibility of emptying the poison into the sewers.

The plants, including Pontiac Motor, were given until Oct. 1 to made the changes, which include providing separate sewer outlets from processing areas leading to separate storage tanks.

Willman commented:

"The city has done everything requested and suggested by the State Health Dept. and Water Resources Commission in providing a proper ordinance and issuing proper orders of determination to plants using chromium processes.

"That, of course, doesn't excuse it at all. But we've done everything we could."

He said he believes Pontiac Motor "is making every step to comply with the order."

Pontiac's September Sales Showing Rise

New car sales for the same period last year were exceeded by 61 per cent, Critchfield said.

Used car sales rate also remained high this month. Pontiac dealers sold 21,309 used cars for the period.

He attended Flint schools and worked for some time here at the Fisher Body Division.

Besides his wife, Caroline and his mother, Mr. Millstead is survived by two children Stephen and Dana, both at home.

Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Betty Wood of Pontiac, and a brother, Wendel of the USMC. His brother, Lawrence of Pontiac was killed in the same accident.

Service will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Huntoon Funeral Home for the two brothers with the Rev. Milton Truex of the Church of Christ officiating. Burial will be in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery.

New City Forester Appointed to Post

David R. Ewalt, City Parks and Recreation Dept. director, today announced the appointment of Donald E. Nagel, of Milwaukee, as city forester.

NAGEL

Nagel, 33, comes from a post as forester for the village of Fox Point, Wis. Previously, he worked for the Milwaukee County Regional Planning Dept. and the Milwaukee County Park Commission.

He attended the University of Wisconsin and received his forestry degree at Utah State Agricultural College. Nagel is married and will make his home here at 76½ Henderson St.

Ewalt said Nagel would assume his duties immediately. He fills the post previously held by William Aho, present parks supervisor. Aho was shifted when Raymond E. Keller left the department recently.

County's 1956 Tax Setup May Change

revisions in amounts of units included in them, said County Superintendent of Schools Dr. William J. Emerson.

For example, if the state's figures stand, Bloomfield School District would find itself with $24,000 less to operate with than planned on, Emerson stated.

Once the state figures are final, County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt will be asked to rule whether the County Tax Allocation Board can meet again to consider revising rates to prevent serious injustices, said Sparks.

State Tax Commission Chairman Louis M. Nims said yesterday, however, that the county board could not meet again under the law.

MEETING HELD

County assessing officials held a lengthy meeting with the tax commission members yesterday afternoon in an attempt to determine why the differences arose and prevent a similar situation from arising next year.

He said the appeal stated 20 supervisors had voted against the county's own equalization figures while actually only 11 opposed them.

The Day in Birmingham

City Seventh in Nation in Traffic Safety Move

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham placed seventh in the nation for its 1954 traffic safety activities, based on 467 cities in the same population group which participated in the National Safety Council's annual traffic safety inventory.

These and other satisfying statistics were given in an analysis yesterday by Sgt. Michael Sibel of the Michigan State Police, at a meeting to which Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley invited members of his department, city and school officials, and other interested persons.

Sibel also commended the police department for its accident record procedure which placed Birmingham second among the cities represented. It was fifth in the category of police traffic supervision and fourth in the traffic engineering field.

In order to maintain such a showing as the city made, the safety council offered suggestions for continued improvement. Among them was:

A run down on operating a uniform traffic court which calls for juvenile traffic offenders to be tried in the same way as other violators. Moxley said he was under the impression that current legislation did not provide for this.

It was also noted that while Birmingham has a Citizen's Traffic Safety Committee, it is not very active.

Revived interest in a driver education program at Birmingham High School was sparked by City Commissioner Florence Willett and Donald McGaffey, secretary of the traffic safety group, who plan further investigation.

Another field to be explored is possible formation of a school age committee which would present to the citizen's traffic committee, youth's recommendations for city traffic safety improvements.

Mullas, who was thrown from his car, suffered a possible concussion and numerous lacerations and abrasions. Rogers has a fractured right knee.

Police said Mullas was driving north on Southfield in the southbound lane when he struck the southbound vehicle of Rogers. Mullas, whose car rolled over on its side, was ticketed for not having the auto under control. Damage to both cars was estimated at $1,000 each.

Through the YMCA Y's Men's Club, boy Y members are again being offered the opportunity of Saturday swimming lessons. Beginning tomorrow and ending Nov. 5, 35 lads will be transported to the Pontiac Y for instruction from 1:30 to 2:30.

Registrations are now being taken here. Boys must be eight years old and at least 47 inches tall. Supervising the program will be George Ewing, youth director, and Edwin Kirbert, executive secretary.

Also starting tomorrow, from 10 a.m. until noon, are classes in touch football and archery. The Y hopes to form a six-team football league.

Member of Trial Board Faces Drunk Charges

Harsen, 54, of 22 Dwight St., was arrested Wednesday night on the Dixie Highway by Waterford Township Police after Miss Barbara Riley, policewoman for the Sheriff's Dept. complained about his erratic driving.

Family's Union Dispute at End

Two Sons Voluntarily Resign Jobs at Parents Establishment

An intra-family labor dispute at a Clarkston dry cleaning plant ended yesterday after Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Berg's two sons told Oakland County Circuit Court judges they have decided to resign their jobs.

The two sons, Robert, 31, and Orville, 29, had led four other employes in picketing their parents' business in an attempt to gain wage increases.

Judges Frank L. Doty and George B. Hartrick held hearings on the parents' suit claiming the strikers had violated a court order not to interfere with the plant's operation while negotiations were in progress.

Judge Hartrick termed "commendable" the sons' action in "submerging personal feelings" and removing themselves from the controversy.

The four other employes were reinstated in their jobs, but told to follow regular state-labor-law procedure in presenting their demands.

The sons had claimed their mother, Opal, fired them and the four drivers after the parents were notified of higher pay demands and that the six had joined the AFL Teamsters Union.

Boy, 11, Kills Sister, 8, Moving Gun to Safety

OAK GROVE, La. (AP)—The Dupree family—father, mother and six of the children—went out into the fields to pick cotton yesterday, leaving 8-year-old Nona Dettie at home.

Donald, 11, suddenly remembered that a .22-caliber rifle had been left within easy reach of his sister. He ran back to put the weapon away. Donald stumbled over a chair, the gun discharged and his sister fell with a bullet in her head. She was dead on arrival at a clinic here.

Offers to Settle Claim

MARSHALL (AP) — The Calhoun County Fair Board has offered to settle a government claim of $17,209 in unpaid amusement taxes for $2,500. Supervisor Don C. Sweeney said the government had cashed the check for $2,500, but had not advised the board if it is accepting the compromise offer, covering taxes for the years 1948 through 1952.

Hal Boyle Says:

Gals Look at Manless World With Horror

NEW YORK (AP)—Guess what is the single thing that makes the world most livable to women.

It's you, mister, whether you're single or not. Most girls agree they wouldn't want to live—even doubt that they could live—in a world that held no men.

They simply couldn't get along without our shy manly dimples, our little pointed heads, our bumbling 5-thumb hands.

Yes, sir, but do you know what the girls would miss most about men if the male sex suddenly vanished from the earth? Well, no matter what you're thinking, you're wrong.

* * *

The possibility of a manless world exists. Two scientists at the University of Iowa have created a womanless world of frogs by treating some male frogs with female hormones. The confused he frogs began laying eggs, but all the offspring hatched out male. Not a girl tadpole in a carload.

* * *

Theoretically, a one-sex race of human beings is also possible, but it would work the other way. Fathers couldn't become mothers, but hormone-treated mothers could act as fathers. Unfortunately, all their children would be girls. There would be no more little boys.

I polled a dozen ladies—young, middle-aged and elderly—on how they would like life in a world made up forever only of members of their own sex. Most of them agreed they'd rather be dead.

Here are a few of their reactions:

"You mean I'd have to pay my own way when I went out? That'd kill me!"

* * *

"It would be too lonely without men. Nobody to fight with. Sure women fight each other, but it's not fun. It's only fun when you're fighting a man."

* * *

"Whose shoulder would I cry on? I hate other women."

"It would be a more sensible world if there were no men. Women have much more common sense. But it would be an awfully dull world."

* * *

"Oh, we'd never forget men—even if we could no longer see them. Men are in our blood. We'd remember them even in our veins."

"My heart closes even at the thought of it. It would be hell on earth without men. They are the romanticists. They provide the poetry, the music, the dreams in life. Women are too practical. Besides, men smell so good—with their woolly clothes, their sweat, and their stinky old pipe smoke."

"It wouldn't be enough for a woman to mother a little girl baby. It wouldn't satisfy her. She wants to mother a real big baby—a man."

* * *

What would women miss most about men if they were gone?

Surprisingly—at least it amazed me—they spoke out quite frankly. None, it seemed, would miss man's handsome face, his strong muscles or his admittedly noble character.

* * *

Two of the girls conceded they'd most miss man as the family breadwinner—"You mean I'd have to work in an office myself all my life?"—and a third said:

"Men are nice to cuddle up to. Can a hormone cuddle you?"

Another, a dashing blonde, replied, blushing:

"What would I miss most? Good heavens, what a silly question! Please consider me censored."

The other lassies stubbornly insisted that in an all-feminine world the thing they'd pine for most would be the opportunity simply to talk to a man.

* * *

Asked what made the conversation of men so attractive, one girl said:

"It's so funny. All men try to sell you the same stupid line."

But the rest of the girls agreed with an older woman who remarked:

"Woman talk is really nothing but selfish yappety-yappety-yap. A man is more interesting to talk to than a woman because he is more tolerant and broad-minded."

* * *

All I can say is, boys, if we're that important to the ladies—then why don't they whisper a little of that honey praise in our big flapping ears while we're still alive and doing our best to keep 'em from widowhood?

Draftees' Teeth in Awful Shape

Army Surgeon Reports Dental Condition of GI Is 'Shocking'

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Army says the dental condition of young men of draft age is "shocking."

Hays wrote: "The dental condition of men entering the service can only be described as shocking."

The Ohio Republican declared in a statement that he decided to make an investigation after receiving a larger number of complaints from former servicemen who felt they had not received proper dental care while in uniform.

The congressman said Gen. Hays wrote him: "I regret to say that with the number of dental officers currently available it is not possible to complete all dental work for every man who comes on active duty for two years.

". . . The amount of treatment needed by the average inductee to repair old defects accumulated during years of neglect as a civilian would provide four years of ordinary maintenance care for an individual already in reasonably good dental health."

Former Convict Goes Hog-Wild, Lands in Jail

ATLANTA (AP)—Edward Scott Holler, 47, was more than casually interested in operations at the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary honor farm's pigpen.

Holler was released five days ago after serving two years for passing fraudulent checks. He's back in jail today. The FBI said Holler, since his release, had:

1. Stolen 10 hogs from the penitentiary's honor farm.
2. Hired seven Negro boys, four trucks and a Cadillac to haul away the porkers.
3. Paid off his help with fraudulent checks.
4. Rented a luxurious suit in one of the city's largest hotels.
5. Engaged in several questionable large banking transactions in Atlanta after announcing his intentions of opening up an advertising office.

Dewey Sells Owosso Home for $11,000

OWOSSO (AP) — Former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York has sold his boyhood home, a two-story farmhouse on Owosso's Oliver street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Heath of Owosso bought the house for about $11,000 records at the register of deeds office disclosed.

Dewey, three times governor of New York and twice a presidential candidate, was born in 1902 in a second floor apartment in downtown Owosso. His parents moved to the Oliver street residence when he was a small child.

Dewey lived in the house until he entered the University of Michigan at the age of 18.

His father died a number of years ago and his mother, Mrs. Annie Dewey, died here of a heart attack last November. She was 72.

The former governor was the couple's only child.

Nationally-known business consultant Ralph W. Carney of Wichita, Kans., will be the featured speaker at the 34th annual meeting of Oakland and Livingston County hardware merchants next Tuesday at the Hotel Waldron.

Eastland Asks Label on 'Subversive' Unit

WASHINGTON—The Subversive Activities Control Board today is studying the Southern Conference Educational Fund for probable citing as a "Communist-connected" organization.

Sen. J. O. Eastland (D-Miss), chairman of the Senate internal security subcommittee, last week asked Attorney General Brownell for a determination on the group's activities.

"For 16 years Southerners have been subjected to Communist intrigue disguised as a humanitarian movement," Eastland stated when presenting his probe request.

He said his committee discovered the educational fund to be a direct offshoot of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, labeled subversive in 1949 and disbanded. Eastland claimed key personnel of the educational group today are the same who worked with the Welfare Conference. All employes, he added would not deny Communist connections under oath.

"These same people still participate in direction of the programs of the educational fund," Eastman concluded.

Jailed as a Jaywalker, Woman Changes Plea

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs Gussie Edelman, 60, who went to jail ticket police officers gave her last Tuesday, has changed her mind.

She pleaded guilty yesterday to the traffic citation. She had been accused not only of the traffic violation but of resisting officers. Municipal Judge F. Ray Bennett fined her $25 with the alternative of five days in jail, then suspended all but $2 of the fine, which she paid.

counteracts hunger

Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one but ALL THE RECOGNIZED proven aids to reducing. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories, yet expands when it absorbs water, thereby helping give the feeling of a full contented stomach. In fact, these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.

You'll be surprised at the fat you lose the first week, the inches that disappear the first month. No hunger, no strict dieting, no drugs, no exercise. And the cost is absolutely nothing unless you grow slim, more youthful looking, more active and enjoy better health.

We Certify That ALL-IN-ONE CAPSULES are entirely safe for human consumption

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Instead of popping off today, I'm going to let my readers do it—and some of them can!

"Dear Url: How can you print guff about a second-rate comedian, Dick Shawn, getting $12,500 for each of eight appearances on 'Toast of the Town?' He'll be lucky if he gets that for all eight. Cordially, Kenneth Snyder, the Bronx."

"Dear Sid: The item about Jayne Mansfield's poodle dying after she dyed it pink to match her Jaguar is an insult to animal lovers. Legislator Offers Assessment Plan for Car-Owners

LANSING (AP)—While Gov. Williams prepares the highway safety program he will present to the legislature this fall, a Republican legislator offered an alternative plan which he said will cut highway fatalities.

Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville) proposed an assessment of 50 cents for every car owner in the state.

This money would go into a special fund, used to finance a Safety Patrol division in the State Police of 100 to 150 men.

Clements also suggested compulsory driver education in high schools, financed with part of the

In addition, Clements said, persons taking driving license examinations should be required to pay a fee whether or not they pass. At present, only successful applicants pay a fee.

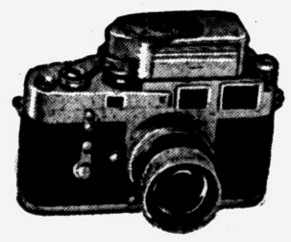

Slements asked for a system of severe penalties for persons who drive without licenses or with revoked licenses. Such a "severe penalty," would be revokation of auto license plates, he said.

U.S. Rejects China's Bid for Higher Level Parley

Latest news from Washington is that our Government has rejected Red China's bid for resumption of Geneva talks at a higher than ambassadorial level.

If such request had been granted it would have meant that Secretary Dulles and Chinese Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai would have to continue the negotiations.

Earlier there were indications that the Geneva talks between U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and China's Ambassador Wang Ping-nan were halted temporarily. The reason given was that China's announcement that all 41 Americans are free to go home as yet is just an announcement.

To date only two of the 41 Americans have been released to go home. Until this promise has been made good our State Department isn't anxious to begin negotiations of other matters at issue between the two countries. For us the release of civilian prisoners was the main item on the Geneva agenda.

★ ★ ★

Other issues under Item 2 of the agenda include relaxation of the trade embargo against Red China. It would not be realistic, however, to expect early agreement on China's desire for entry into the United Nations and U. S. diplomatic recognition. Public and official opinion here remains strongly opposed to both.

Our Trouble With France

News that the American flag now is flying at seven U. S. installations in Morocco is a reminder of the trouble our Government has in getting along with France.

When the Korean war started the NATO allies decided that there should be U. S. air bases in Morocco. Construction of those bases was a hurry up job. Because of that a temporary agreement was reached by the U. S. and France. Under it U. S. forces in Morocco were to be limited to a still secret maximum, believed to be 20,000 men.

It also was provided that the bases were to be considered French and that their defense was to be a French responsibility. Therefore no American flags were to be flown beside French flags as is the custom at U. S. bases in France.

One result of this personnel limitation is that there isn't sufficient manpower to service and maintain the $250,000,000 base completed at Boulhaut six months ago.

★ ★ ★

Our flags went up at these installations only after the rebellion broke out in Morocco. The French now consider the Stars and Stripes afford more protection for these small isolated communications posts than the French flag. Old Glory, however, still is banned at our 17th air force headquarters at Rabat and at bomber bases at Ben Guerir, Sidi Slimane and Boulhaut.

★ ★ ★

Another reason why we are trying to revise our agreement with the French is their niggardly policy. They not only charged us exorbitant prices for land and sent us outrageous bills for damages, but taxed us for every bit of military equipment landed at our bases.

These facts should explain to the French why their policies and aims so often arouse antagonism in other countries.

Church Membership in U. S. at New Peak

For those who see in religious faith the only hope of a better world, there should be great satisfaction in the latest church attendance figures.

As of now, says the National Council of Churches, more Americans than ever before belong to churches and Sunday schools. Today no less than 60 per cent or about 97,500,000 of our people are church members.

A century ago only 16 per cent of the population had church affiliation. In 1940 the percentage had risen to 49. More important, the 2.8 per cent gain since 1954 exceeds the population gain of 1.7 per cent in that period. All the major faiths reflect the increase.

Most observers agree that this rise in church attendance reflects the people's hunger for assurance and hope in an age of uncertainty and confusion. No doubt there are those also who are concerned by humanity's shortcomings and are searching for ways of strengthening and uplifting our moral standards.

Most heartening aspect of the churches' new strength is the proof it offers that people have the humility and willingness to look beyond themselves for answers to their biggest problems.

Have You Entered?

Last Call on the Entries in Annual Football Contest

Procrastination: What any more of may lose $300 for you.

The 1955 Football Contest closes at noon Saturday—

and that's TOMORROW.

All entries must be received in the Pontiac Press office by that hour or they will be disqualified. Last year 73 entries were thrown out because they did not arrive on time.

Do not be caught that way. It's an easy way to lose $300.

It now is so late that you'd better make personal delivery. If you cannot come during business hours, drop your entry through the slot in the cement post on the side of the outside front doors. Just lift up the handle and deposit what may mean $300 to you. That slot is available 24 hours in the day. A full list of the contest games and easy method for you to make your entry is given in yesterday's column.

The Real Trial by Fire

David Lawrence Says:

Ford Co. Objects to Use of Contribution in Fighting National Security Program

WASHINGTON—The Ford Motor Co. is displeased with the use being made of the $15,000,000 donation bestowed by it on the so-called "The Fund for the Republic," which now is engaged in an active propaganda seeking to discredit the security system of the United States government. This is the project which national commander Seaborn P. Collins of the American Legion recently denounced.

Likewise, not only does the Ford Foundation, which obtained the funds from the motor car company and which gave them to the independent corporation known as "The Fund for the Republic," assume no responsibility for what has been done thus far with the money but the trustees of the foundation are very much disturbed by the kind of campaign that has been undertaken.

The foregoing factual statements have been obtained from sources most familiar with what has happened. It seems likely that a congressional investigating committee will at the next session seek to put on public record all the strange aspects of this $15,000,000 project.

It is learned that Paul Hoffman, now chairman of Studebaker-Packard Corp. and who at one time was the head of the Ford Foundation, incurred the displeasure of some of the trustees of the foundation, and his resignation was consequently submitted. But at about the same time a broad declaration was approved by the Ford Foundation concerning a project to be instituted by "The Fund for the Republic" and Hoffman became its chairman.

The statement issued at the time said the object was "to support activities directed toward the elimination of restriction on freedom of thought, inquiry, and expression in the United States, and the development of policies and procedures best adapted to protect these rights in the face of persistent international tension."

The words of the charter were broad enough to permit a fair and dispassionate study, giving all sides of these controversial questions. But "The Fund for the Republic" consists of a board of directors predominately from the "left wing." It is headed up by Robert M. Hutchins, as president, whose relationship with the Ford Foundation was severed after friction developed as to his viewpoints.

Also, since "The Fund for the Republic" has announced its projects, it is apparent that most of these are concerned with an attempt to discredit and ridicule, if not abolish, the present security system. The net result, if the effort is successful, could only be to bring about a relaxation of the vigilance which the United States has been exercising toward Communist infiltration during the "cold war."

Actually, if the British Intelligence Service had paid the slightest attention to the rule of "guilt by kinship" which now is being denounced by the "left wingers," it would have discovered that one of Klaus Fuchs' parents was an active Communist. This information, if it had been transmitted to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and to the military intelligence of this country, would have been invaluable.

It was because the American government accepted a foreign government's clearance — which is not the case today — that Fuchs got through to perform his acts of treachery and, of course, as soon as Fuchs was caught, the Rosenbergs were entrapped.

It is the main thesis of the projects sponsored by "The Fund for the Republic" that "ideas" and "freedom of thought" are being suppressed. This is an old cry. Dwight Eisenhower, in a speech on Oct. 3, 1952, called that contention a "sophisticated lie" as he outlined the specious claims of those who consider communism just a political faith instead of a criminal conspiracy. He said that this lie "partly poisoned two whole decades of our national life" and that it meant "contamination in some degree of virtually every department, every agency, every bureau, every section of our government."

Banker, 85, Stuns Crowd by Rolling a Somersault

By WILLIAM BRADY M.D.

Even if I could take time out from my bowling to chase around North America to interview people past sixty who take somersaults before breakfast (forward rolls to you), I'd do so only on condition that they would report to me in the interval between games. If there were no bowling green available, well, never mind, I'd be on my way.

Please, I beg you old stiffs to realize I'm as serious about these morning rolls as I can be about anything pertaining to health, vite and longevity. When my own health, comfort, equanimity, vite and longevity is concerned you can bank on it I don't indulge in monkeyshines. I've been rolling my own ever since Tony was a pup and—

Speaking of banking, at greenside a group of bowlers were chatting about somersaults. One of them, of what age no matter, an affable fellow who has more than the ordinary dignity, I have always thought, said he has been rolling 'em every morning for many years.

Standing by, a pioneer of lawn bowling in this community and dean of bankers, aged 85, heard what we were talking about and rolled one—the first, he remarked, since he was a boy—and went on with his game, evidently less upset than the rest of us were.

HAS OWN TEETH

When I had recovered from the shock I remembered (1) that the man is a total abstainer, (2) that he is abstemious in eating habit, (3) and especially that he has most of his own teeth.

★ ★ ★

So, if it had not happened so suddenly I might have expected that if any octogenarian could do it, the man with the teeth could.

You remember what I have said many times: For every tooth lost and not immediately replaced by a functionally efficient denture, deduct from one to two years from your life expectation.

Remember also what I have said many times: Digestion begins in the mouth (conversion of cooked starch into sugar, by the action of the enzyme ptyalin in the saliva) and continues for half an hour or more after the food has entered the stomach—provided the process of mastication has brought the enzyme in contact with every particle of starch. So if this important part of digestion is faulty, because of unrepaired breakdowns in the masticating machinery, digestion, nutrition, health, function, efficiency, good looks, vite and longevity are bound to suffer.

SQUANDER MONEY

It is sad but true that a lot of poor geeks in Yankeeland squander on trick dentifrices and toothbrushes much more than it would cost to repair their teeth or replace teeth lost by decay, but they just haven't the intelligence to avail themselves of good dental treatment. Some of these defectives convince themselves they can't afford proper dental treatment, and yet they manage to keep supplied with dentifrices, brushes and, often enough, booze.

Send 25 cents (clean) and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson No. 3, So You Have Indigestion, and the pamphlet Yankee Stomach.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene (not to disease, diagnosis or treatment), will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Nora Q., 31, Yearning to Have Family After 8 Years of Childless Marriage

Nora was disconsolate for she had never had a baby though she and her husband had been married for eight years and were both healthy persons. By following the advice below, she became pregnant in two months, for such sterility is often of the accidental sort.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-341: Nora Q., aged 31, has been married for eight years.

"Dr. Crane, I want a baby," she began quite frankly, "and I don't know why I have never had one thus far in my marriage.

"My husband and I have been examined by several doctors who have told us there isn't anything wrong with either of us organically.

"So why don't we have a baby? All the women in my church club have children or are expecting new babies, so why can't I?"

★ ★ ★

Obviously, if a husband is organically sterile (non-motile sperm cells), or if a wife's Fallopian tubes are permanently sealed shut, then this advice cannot be expected to relieve their childless conditions.

FOLLOW ADVICE

But if both husband and wife are physically normal, then they should carefully apply the following recommendations.

★ ★ ★

First, the mostly likely time for a wife to become pregnant is the 15th day before her next menstrual period starts.

"But I don't know that precise date," Nora protests, "for my monthly cycles fluctuate between 24 and 29 days."

Such fluctuation is common, among healthy wives. But Nora does know when her last period started.

So she can assume that this may be a 24-day cycle, in which case 24 minus 15 would make the 9th day from the last onset as her likely time to conceive.

But if this should be a 29-day cycle, then 29 minus 15 would

Thus anywhere between the 9th and the 14 days after the last onset would be her time to conceive.

Another hazard that often prevents conception in otherwise normal young married couples is excessive vaginal acidity. This can be offset by a baking soda douche (1 teaspoon of ordinary soda per quart of warm water) immediately before marital relations.

Thousands of couples are thus without children just because they accidentally miss this brief fertile period in the month.

★ ★ ★

By that, we mean they missed the 12-hour to 24-hour period in the month when conception can occur.

WRONG TIMING

Various researchers have shown that the female egg (ovum) may lose its capacity to be fertilized within 12 to 48 hours after it ruptures free from the ovary.

And the male sperm cells likewise are too deteriorated to impregnate the ovum after they are 6 to 12 hours old.

So current medical opinion holds that pregnancy can occur only within possible a six-hour or maybe 24-hour period in the entire month.

Nora and her husband thus were childless for eight years just because they accidentally missed this narrow time interval. Following the advice above, she became pregnant in two months.

If, however, you are organically incapable of having babies of your own, then try to adopt some, preferably two so they will socialize each other.

And if that isn't possible immediately, then become foster parents to an entire Sunday School class or Scout troop or Camp Fire Girls unit.

For many of the best parents on earth never had flesh-and-blood offspring of their own, but taught and inspired the children of other people.

This is expecially true of school teachers, Catholic sisters, and many YMCA or Scout leaders, so don't get upset over lack of pregnancy.

Meanwhile, send for my booklet "Facts About Pregnancy." It will relieve your minds of many wrong notions and outline the above data in more detail.

Voice of the People

'Need Girls' Recreation as Much as Boys' Club'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Recently we have heard a lot about another Boys' Club in Pontiac, but what about the girls of our community? I feel they are entitled to some form of recreation, also.

What Pontiac needs is a Civic Center with activities that can be enjoyed by girls as well as boys. An artificial ice rink that could be used for ice skating in the winter and roller skating in the summer and located where it could be reached easily by bus, could be just part of the recreation offered.

How many children are given skates for Christmas and then are able to use them for only a few weeks and next year when they try them, they are too small?

If our industrial centers, business places and individuals would get behind this worthwhile project, it wouldn't be a hardship on any one person. Pontiac has enjoyed prosperity as well as the rest of the country. Let's spend a little of it for the benefit of our children's recreation. It will help make them all better citizens of tomorrow.

Advocates Flexible Policy in Fixing Retirement Age

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Samuel Goldwyn, at 73, was reported as indicating that he plans to continue making motion pictures as long as he lives because the activity keeps him young.

★ ★ ★

This recalls a remark by Sen. Theodore Francis Green, Rhode Island Democrat, who at 88 is vital and active. He said many give up activities as they get older, and that it is the relinquishing of activities which ages men.

Be this as it may, unless the rigidity of retirement of corporate executives and other employes at 65 is rendered more flexible in light of the increasing average life span, the scales may be unwittingly tilted from the hired-man role to that of self employment which gives greater freedom of choice, such as Goldwyn enjoys, as to the precise time for retirement.

Already the federal income tax laws are pushing in this direction of making going into business on your own relatively more attractive.

The hired man, dependent on earned income, is subject to federal income tax rates running up to 91 per cent at the top bracket, whereas the proprietor, who achieves a capital gain by selling out his business, faces a tax ceiling on long-term gains of 25 per cent.

FORMER TREND

Prior to the development of confiscatory income tax rates under the New Deal and especially during and since World War II, there had been an earlier trend in the direction of seeking a career in the employment of others.

★ ★ ★

This was in contrast to conditions during the pioneer days of the Republic when men tended to set up farms and commercial enterprises on their own. But the emergence of big business increased opportunities in the hired-man role.

But of late, taxes have created countervailing forces. The present tax civilization treats capital gains much more tenderly than earned income.

And the rigidities of fixed and mandatory retirement from corporate jobs may work in the same direction. In the competition between going into business on your own and working for a corporation owned by others, the relative attraction of self-employment is further heightened by greater flexibility as to the time of quitting an active career.

The self-employed does not have to be guided by national averages or other rigidities. Goldwyn's remark dramatizes this difference.

It is fallacy to assume that the effectiveness of all individuals ebbs at precisely the same chronological age. Simple observation indicates that some may be overaged at 45, whereas others are highly productive after four score and ten.

Concepts concerning retirement should be dynamic, rather than rigidly fixed. Flexibility is desirable in order to allow for individual differences.

Certainly in companies where 65 is the retirement age it would not be feasible to have self-determination as to when an individual has outlived his usefulness. A sensible formula is to have retirement take place automatically unless three conditions are fulfilled.

★ ★ ★

First, the initiative for longer gainful employment should come from the individual, who should express a desire to continue employment. He should accompany his request with evidence from the company doctor that he is mentally and physically fit to continue.

Secondly, his application not to be retired should be approved by his immediate superior and by the chief of his division.

Thirdly, such exceptions from automatic retirement should not be made except by affirmative specific action by the board of directors.

MSU Praises Man for Long 'Bull Pull'

EAST LANSING (AP)—That was quite a bull pull.

Michigan State University officials doffed their hats to Floyd Esch of Mio who hauled a 1,900-pound bull in his trailer for 4,300 miles over the Alcan Highway. He was aided by two neighbors, Virgil Handrick and Willis Ross of Fairview. The trip took seven days.

* * *

The animal was a red Danish bull from the Alaska experiment station at Palmer. The bull, owned by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, was needed by the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative at MSC. Esch volunteered to deliver him.

As a pay load on the way to Alaska, Esch hauled a four-year-old bull and a six-months-old calf to the Alaska station.

Reverse Twist

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—William A. Spare, an executive with the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Co., has just been promoted, and he shouldn't have any trouble remembering his new title. The company said Spare moved up from Actuary Assistant to Assistant Actuary.

Priest's Mother, 77, Joyful Son Is Free

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Addie Rigney, 77-year-old widowed mother of the Rev. Harold W. Rigney, expressed joy today when told that her son crossed the Hong Kong border from Red China today.

He was among the first of the 22 U.S. civilians Red China had promised to release.

"That is just wonderful," Mrs. Rigney said. "It has been such a long time. Such a long time."

Father Rigney, who is 54, had been dean of the Roman Catholic Fu Jen University in Peiping, China, where he had been since 1946. He was arrested on spy and sabotage charges in July 1951.

Oct. 1 Deadline for Bids on Fairgrounds Parking

LANSING (AP)—The State Agriculture Department said today it will receive bids on the parking concession at the Michigan State Fairgrounds in Detroit until Oct. 1.

Bids are based on a percentage of the 25-cent parking fee maximum. The concession will be granted for the period when the State Fair is not in progress.

Dems and GOP Match Expenses, Dollar for Dollar

WASHINGTON (AP)—The two big national political committees matched each other almost dollar for dollar in spending during the three months ended Aug. 31.

* * *

Reports filed with the clerk of the House showed that the Democratic National Committee spent $209,750 and the Republican National Committee $209,077 during the three months.

Most of the money was spent on operating overhead such as salaries, printing, travel and general expenses. The big spending in support of political candidacies comes next year.

* * *

Republicans fared considerably better on the income end.

The GOP committee reported total receipts of $240,465 during the three-month period, while the Democratic committee said it took in only $173,983. On that basis, Republicans ended the period with an operating surplus of some $31,000, while the Democrats went $35,000 in the red.

Bob Considine Says:

Public Can See the Fruits of $64,000 Quiz

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show —

Newest tourist attraction in New York is a cluster of five cancelled checks in the window (is there anything else but window) of my friend Hap Flanigan's glass Ft. Knox, the Manufacturers Trust branch at 43rd and Fifth Ave.

* * *

The endorsers are Gino Prato, Detective Redmond O'Hanlon and other winners, big and little, on the $64,000 question. The total is $76,000. Marine Capt. Richard S. McCutchen apparently is still biting his, testing it.

I don't quite know what I expected, but Capt. McCutchen's great night was something of a letdown. It was stagy whereas his previous performances were fresh. It was overproduced.

Perhaps it was because we sensed he'd go the distance, being a Marine. Perhaps it was his air of confidence and that of his family.

Probably it was master of ceremonies Hal March's almost grim determination to wring the last drop of drama out of a situation which needed no accoutrements: The sight of a man gambling $21,500 of sure money against a possible $13,000 more and taking a chance of blowing the entire works and dropping all the way back to a measly old 1955 Cadillac convertible with sequin-walled tires.

TOO WELL DONE

March raced through the final questions as though he was thoroughly familiar with them and with the tricky French pronunciations of the courses served at what now must be the most famous dinner ever given at Buckingham Palace.

Yet we were asked to believe that he had never seen them until the split second before, when the bank's man opened the super-secret envelope. Maybe he's just a real fast study.

He pleaded with McCutchen to augment the tension, after asking him the simplest question of the lot, by imploring, "Don't you want to take a minute to talk this over with your father?"

But it's quite a show, this one. And full of possibilities. If Jimmy Stewardish Capt. McCutchen had been bamboozled out of his great inheritance with a tricky question at the last moment, the women of America certainly would have ransacked every Revlon counter in the nation.

We think, too, of the new estate of 71-year-old Mrs. Myrtle Power, whom some believe to be Casey Stengel in disguise. Will Myrtle hurtle through?

TO COVER SERIES

Myrtle has been signed up to do a daily feature on the World Series. Even if she loses out next Tuesday, she'll be the only reporter at Ebbets Field who'll pull up to work in a Cadillac with outsized fishtails. And I guess she'll be the only one there who won't have to bring along a record book.

Two unquenchable swains are in the news. Tommy Manville became a nine-time loser when one Anita Frances Roddy-Eden jettisoned him over Reno and scooped up a $260,000 settlement.

Poor thing rated it, she said. She was married 12 whole days! But Tommy is not downhearted.

Neither is Tutor Scherer, the good gray poet laureate of Nevada, who doesn't marry as often as Tommy by a long shot (which he was, in the leg, during one stormy marriage) but is better than a country hand at the business.

By courtesy of the Las Vegas Magazine we give you Tutor's latest salute to wedded bliss:

"Lived we many years . . . without fears or tears . . . only love we bore . . . no less, no more . . . so our love did twine . . . together yours and mine . . . to build a lover's tower . . . which stands, this very hour."

Scalpers are so gloomy about supplying their customers with World Series tickets, at any price, that the suckers may be reduced to buying them at the box office at face value.

Fighting Irish Claim They're Law Abiding Folk

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—The Irish, with a history filled with fighting and strife, are laying claim to being among the most law-abiding people in the world today.

* * *

Only 1,804 persons were sent to prison or reformatories in the republic last year — and only 14 of these under sentences of hard labor. The average daily population in the country's six penal institutions dropped to 457.

A Department of Justice spokesman attributes the good record to political peace and growth of civic spirit since the Irish won their independence—along with development of the republic's 7,000-strong civic guard with modern methods of crime detection.

Cork jail, built in 1835 to hold 200 prisoners, is about to be closed. It has seven short-term prisoners looked after by an acting warden and six guards.

The prison for long-termers in Mary Borough lacks enough convicts to till the prison farm. Limerick and Sligo jails, now used only for accused persons waiting trial, may be shut down too.

Herb 'Doctor' Guilty

PAW PAW (AP) — A 63-year-old Gobles man is awaiting sentence after he admitted he "helped some people" by giving them herbs and applying poultices. Nicholas Theodore pleaded guilty in Van Buren Circuit Court to practicing medicine without a license. Police said two of Theodore's "patients" were hospitalized with severe burns after his treatments.

Marine League Wants Higher Pension for Vets

ST.LOUIS (AP)—A proposal for $100-a-month pensions, without restrictions, for World War I veterans 60 years old or older, has been approved by the Marine Corps League.

A resolution, passed by the organization at its 32nd annual convention yesterday, directed the group's national leaders to seek legislation for such pensions.

The resolution said that it is traditional that veterans' pensions be established and liberalized on the basis of disabilities and need which increase with age.

Monroe Grants Raises

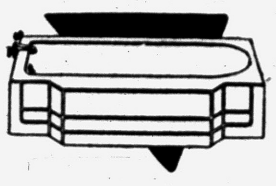

MONROE (AP)—Pay increases averaging 4 per cent for 160 city employes are provided in a new city ordinance effective Oct. 1. Police and firemen will get a $168 yearly boost, bringing their maximum pay to $4,363 a year after 24 months' service.

Kinfolk Rejoice at PW Release

Wife, Mother of Captive Welcome News of Red Repatriation

SEATTLE (AP)—"It's wonderful, news," Mrs. A. J. Rickett said late last night when informed her son Walter A. Rickett had been released by Chinese Reds after four years imprisonment on spy charges.

The reaction was in marked contrast to the restraint exhibited Saturday night when told her son would be released. At that time the parents had refused to express any joy because they had "been disappointed so many times."

* * *

In Yonkers, N.Y., Mrs. Adele Austin Rickett said today she is "very happy" to hear that her husband Walter has been released from Red China and has arrived in British Hong Kong.

Mrs. Rickett, who was released by the Chinese Reds last February, said she will not try to contact her husband by cable or radio and will wait for him to contact her.

The 35-year-old Mrs. Rickett, who praised the Communists highly after she was freed, said in answer to a newsman's question that she has not changed her ideas along that line at all in view of her husband's release.

Mrs. Rickett was held in Red China for three years.

Pennsylvania Governor Says Effective Tactics Needed by Party

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania says that if President Eisenhower is the Republican candidate in 1956 the Democrats "are going to need sharp weapons, well laid on."

* * *

"I want to make it clear that I am not calling for a smear campaign, for presonal abuse," he said, but "I am calling for a normal exercise of the two-party system."

Speaking last night at the second of two $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising banquets, Gov. Leader said that "if Mr. Eisenhower is a candidate, he will be running on a record he himself will point to with all of a candidate's pride.

* * *

"Our duty will be to review that record as we see it — to point to its failures as well as its successes — to illuminate those places where Dwight D. Eisenhower has been a less than perfect president of the United States."

"Dwight Eisenhower is no constitutional monarch," said Gov. Leader, arguing that the President is responsible for an administration "incapable of sympathy for the farmer, the workingman, and the small businessman."

* * *

"There is no Benson farm policy that is creating an agricultural depression. It is an Eisenhower policy.

Romance of 'Odette,' Officer Fizzles Out

LONDON (AP)—The storybook romance of World War II spy "Odette" and the British officer she saved from the Nazis is on the rocks.

Capt. Peter Churchill has filed suit for divorce from the former Mrs. Odette Sansom, naming a co-respondent identified only as Hallowes.

Churchill and the French-born Mrs. Sansom met while both were serving as British spies in occupied France and she helped him escape from the gestapo.

German Drug Brings Relief to Gland Cancer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A German-developed drug is bringing remarkable relief from pain and general improvement in men with cancer of the prostate gland, the American Chemical Society was told today.

* * *

It is practically specific for tumors of the prostate, a common type in men, said Walter J. Frajola, Ph.D., Jaber Muhsin, M. D., and J. N. Taylor, M. D., of Ohio State University.

German investigators have reported successful control of prostatic cancer with the drug, diethylstilbesterol diphosphate.

* * *

The Ohio team tested it on 13 men and found it "produced remarkable relief of pain and other symptoms in a few days." But there have been no signs yet, visible through X-rays, of improvement in areas of bones affected by the spread of the cancer, they said.

The men were treated in a hospital for three weeks then maintained on one to two injections a week. None has suffered from nausea or from feminization, which had been drawbacks with an earlier treatment using diethylstilbesterol alone.

Honolulu Police Hunt Semi-Clothed Robber

HONOLULU (AP) — Kazuo Asato looked in a window on his return home yesterday and spotted a man rifling a money jar. The thief dashed out the door shouting that children were ransacking the house.

Halfway down the block, the culprit dashed into another house and began changing clothes. But owner Charles J. Koto awoke from a nap and the thief dashed outside in his underwear—right into the arms of a cop.

"The burglar is in the house," the man panted. The cop went inside and the thief just went.

Passerby Finds Brother Dead in Auto Accident

BOSTON (AP)—James Shaughnessy was driving along a highway last night when he spotted an accident a few cars ahead of his.

He went to the scene and learned that the motorist who had suffered a heart attack and crashed head-on into another car, was dead.

Police Finally Catch Up With Car Minus Plates

WEST WARWICK, R. I. (AP) — Medford B. Johnson, 22, of Bogota, Ill., bought a car in his home town and started to drive to Quonset, R. I., where he is stationed with the U. S. Navy.

When he was only 12 miles from his base, police noticed the car had no registration plates. He was arrested on a charge of driving an unregistered car.

Flaming Jacket Prompts Probe

Federal Trade Group Plans Check After Vet's Apparel Ignites

WASHINGTON (INS)—The story of a pipe-smoking hospitalized war veteran whose bed jacket burst into flames has prompted the Federal Trade Commission to call for tighter fabric checks.

* * *

FTC Chairman John W. Gwynne said the near-tragedy occurred in the Walla Walla, Wash., Veterans Hospital. He declared that it illustrates what he called "the dangerously limited protection" afforded under the Flammable Fabrics Law of 1954.

The "anti-torch" provisions of the present act apply only to wearing apparel and to fabrics intended for use in making clothing.

The veteran's bed jacket was made from a highly flammable blanket by members of the American Legion Auxiliary Post.

Harvey H. Hannah, chief of the FTC's wool, fur and flammable fabrics division, emphasized that members of the Auxiliary, attempting to aid hospitalized veterans, had no way of knowing that the fabric was dangerous.

He reported that an ambulatory patient accidentally knocked some ashes from his pipe onto his jacket. Fortunately, Hannah said, the patient—not identified by name.—had free use of his arms and was able to pull off the garment.

All similar jackets were then taken away from patients. A flammability test made by Walla Walla Fire Chief Leonard Adams showed that such a garment would be consumed by flames in one minute.

* * *

Hannah added: "Samples were sent to the FTC and we found them to be even more flammable than the so-called 'torch' sweaters that caught the nation's attention in early 1953."

Falls From Scaffold, Catwalk, Still Unhurt

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rubin Boyance, 33, a painter from Levittown, Pa., slipped from a 100-foot-high scaffold yesterday and plunged toward ground workers on construction of a Delaware River bridge at nearby Edgely.

* * *

He fell about 30 feet—reached out—and managed to grasp a dangling rope. Workers above began to haul him back up.

Just as he neared a catwalk, he slipped again. This time there was no dangling rope. He fell—screaming—toward earth.

He landed in a taut piece of tarpaulin ground workers had improvised as a safety net—just in case—as he started up the rope. A hospital said his injuries were minor.

U.S. trappers marketed more than one million mink skins in 1954. Farm-raised skins amounted to 2.7 million.

INTO WILD BLUE YONDER — This partially-inflated plastic balloon, used to carry weather instruments into the stratosphere, is shown taking off from Lowry Air Force Base at Denver. The balloons have inspired numerous reports of flying saucers as they soar eastward across the country. The instruments to record weather conditions are parachuted to earth after the balloon reaches a predetermined height.

Ever Have a Groundhog for a Pet Around Home?

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Want a nice pet?

Try a groundhog, says Mrs. A. W. Bennett, who lives in nearby Henrico County. And she ought to know because Billy, her current groundhog pet, is the third she has had.

"They are clean, intelligent animals, and you can train them just as you would a dog or cat," Mrs. Bennett said. Billy, now four months old and weighing 16 pounds, has made friends with Mrs. Bennett's cats. He drinks milk heartily and eats a lot of bread. He is fully housebroken and knows his name.

Delay Opening After Banning Godfrey's Plane

NEW YORK (AP) — Ceremonies marking the opening of a new West Side Manhattan airlines terminal were called off yesterday after the city refused permission for TV star Arthur Godfrey to land by helicopter on the terminal's roof.

* * *

A terminal spokesman said nobody was questioning Godfrey's flying ability, but officials dislike helicopter operations near the heavily traveled West Side Highway.

Godfrey is involved in a complaint about his flying last week in Illinois. An airine pilot told the Civil Aeronautics Administration that Godfrey flew dangerously close during a takeoff near Aurora. Godfrey has denied the allegation.

* * *

Asked to comment on that case, Marine and Aviation Commissioner Vincent A. G. O'Connor said: "The decision not to allow the helicopter to land was made prior to the incident."

A terminal spokesman said new opening ceremonies will be held Tuesday on a pier adjoining the building.

Says Worry of Old Age Always Unfounded

LOS ANGELES (INS)—A physical education professor believes that the fear of growing old is actually worse than doing it.

See a Cop Every Day, Keep Doctor Away

ALAMAGORADO, N. M. (AP) — City policemen got squarely in the middle of an argument between a patient and a doctor.

The patient, a woman, called police to say she was sick but her doctor wouldn't see her. She asked about filing a complaint against him. The doctor retorted he had seen the woman the day before, found nothing wrong, and declined to see her again in the same day.

Things Start to Hum at Pontiac High

By VICKY MICU

Club and activities have lost no time in getting under way, as more than 2,400 Pontiac High School students completed their first full week of classes today. The week also gave pupils a chance to meet and get acquainted with their new principal, Francis Staley.

New students and old will see their football team in action tonight as the gridders take on Wyandotte High on the home grounds.

Student union tickets went on sale this week, with the goal set at 2,000. The tickets entitle students to attend football and basketbal games and assemblies and to receive the school newspaper and annual.

Getting its share of attention has been the school's "Pep Center," a new feature this year under the direction of Mrs. Georgiann Mason and the PHS cheerleaders.

TO PURCHASE UNIFORMS

At the center PHS sweatshirts, pins and decals will be sold before and after school, with profits going toward the purchase of uniforms for the cheerleaders.

In preparation for tonight's game, the cheerleaders introduced new cheers at this afternoon's pep assembly. Captain of the squad is Marie Meyer, and other varsity cheerleaders include Barbara Berg, Linda Burt, Judy Cooper, Fran Glisky and Margaret Selvala.

Junior cheerleaders include Barbara Fair, Marcia Petrie, Helene Prizant and Muriel Upton.

Wednesday and Thursday of this week, would-be thespians, polished up on their dramatics to try out for the first play production of the semester, "Land of Oz" to be presented in October.

DEBATE PLANNED

Debaters are meeting once more preparing for the Oct. 1 Saginaw Valley discussion on "How should educational opportunities be increased for the youth of the United States."

Coming debates on the question "That the Federal Government should Guarantee High-School Graduates through Grants to Colleges and Universities", wil be held through January.

Returning debaters include Garth Johnston, Bob Everson, Richard Clark, Willie Edwards, Ilene Williams, Joyce Owens, Violet Hewitt, Roger Anderson, and Bob McDonald.

Laboratory assistants for the semester have been announced by Forrest Brown, chemistry instructor. Bob Everson will be head lab assistant and work with Marcia Thomas and Helen Rendziperis for the first period.

Second hour, Barbara Calhoun and Karen Campbell will assist, with Shirey Arnhart and Terry Tollefson helping during the third hour. Fourth hour Janet Deem, Carol Hoyt and Barbara Miller will work, and fifth hour Dixie Davis and Fred Roeser assume duties. Sixth hour Mary Sarros and Chares Waltman assist.

St. Fred Pupils Begin Classes

Divide Senior Assembly to Accommodate Large Enrollment

By ANN SCHACHERN

Every student was either selling books, looking for some to buy—or both. It seemed that everyone had some schedule problem to be ironed out.

Freshman and other newcomers could be easily spotted by the lost looks on their faces. They wandered in the halls looking for classrooms all week, but they're becoming orientated by now.

Sentiment was overruled by necessity this year as the beloved senior assembly was divided to make room for expanding enrollment.

Welcomed to St. Fred's by the students were Revs. Fabian Weber and Robert Fehriback, new religion instructors; Gene Wright, new head coach and algebra-physics instructor; Dominic Kline, choral instructor, and Chester Lichodziejewski, history teacher.

Brisk Autumn Sets Tone at St. Michael's

By JANET ENGLISH

After the warm vacation days, the brisk feeling of autumn set the tone for the opening of classes at St. Michael High School.

All scholastic activities were up to normal and classes were running smoothly on the new schedule when full-day sessions started Monday. viousVwlightstbtobo cmfwycmfwyp Half-day classes were held the previous Thursday and Friday.

Seniors made special attempts to get to Room 2 this past week. The reason was to inspect the new desks there, a gift to the school from the class of '56.

Wednesday was a day of outstanding importance to the seniors. The cause: class rings. After a morning given to pondering, choices were made and these long-waited for items were ordered.

PEP RALLY HELD

This afternoon varsity cheerleaders conducted a pep rally for the high school student body in order to get everyone into the spirit for Saturday night's game against Avondale, and then push our team to victory.

Cheerleaders Yvonne Koprince, Marge Bateman, Phyllis Raymond, Sharon Walsh, and Mary Raymond were reported doing a "great job" under their new captain, Pat Sears.

With the ending of their first week in high school, the freshies were still green as far as their new situation is concerned. They are grad-u-al-ly falling in line, always under the watchful eyes of at least a few seniors who can be seen to smile knowingly at the nervousness of the underclassmen.

Town Holds 'Fire Sale' of Music Concert Ducats

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific Coast Music Festival is having a "fire sale" of tickets for the last two Leopold Stokowski concerts tomorrow and Sunday.

Festival officials said the huge, 10-day Los Padres National Forest fire, now under control but which once threatened the outskirts of Santa Barbara, had caused a substantial number of ticket cancellations from Los Angeles area subscribers.

Therefore, the $5 and $3 seats for the last two concerts are being cut to $2.

Activities moved into high gear at many Pontiac area high schools as students finished their first full week of studies.

Waterford's 1,148 students noted many changes when they returned to classes, according to correspondent Jean Liimatta. For one thing, there are no freshmen in the WTHS halls for the first time. Ninth graders now attend Isaac E. Crary Junior High.

Catherine Floore, speech; Doris Haynes, library assistant; John Karabetsos, football assistant coach; David Klinke, chemistry; Nicholas Menghini, algebra; Arthur Mooney, mathematics; William Morreau, orchestra; Ethel Polo, home economics; Bruce Welch, auto mechanics.

The school's opening dance will be held at 8 p.m. tonight in the gymnasium.

* * *

Another annual kickoff dance is scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Avondale High School. The "sock hop," sponsored by the Future Homemakers Assn., is open for all students.

* * *

Bloomfield Hills High boasts a 50 per cent increase in enrollment this year. Six hundred students are now attending classes.

Student council members, elected last spring, are Edmund Danziger, president; Barbara Woolson, vice president; Betsy Arnoldi, secretary, and Carol Brodie, treasurer.

Bruce Warnock, instrumental music director from Highland Park, Ill., is rehearsing BHHS's first band.

Walled Lake High's student council held its first meeting Wednesday, with Bob Hess presiding. Twenty-seven representatives of home rooms attended. Other officers to serve with Bob and vice president Robin Perry will be elected soon.

Navy Compelled to Draft Sailors

10,000 Monthly Quota Begins in November; Will Enlist 56,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy, which has prided itself on being a strictly volunteer outfit, finally has been compelled to start drafting some of its sailors.

* * *

For the first time since World War II, when all the armed forces were ordered to get all men by draft alone, the Navy will begin in November to get some of its manpower by levy.

The draft became necessary, the Navysaid , to replace men whose four-year Korean War enlistments are now expiring.

A monthly quota, starting out at 10,000 men, will be added to the present Army quota to bring the total draft call up to 20,000.

* * *

By next summer the Navy expects to have drafted a total of 56,000 men. Except for January, when none will be taken, the Navy is asking 10,000 men a month through next April, 6,000 for May and perhaps some in June. It said it hopes to drop draft calls after June.

The Navy draftees will serve for the same two-year period as their Army opposites. Enlistments will continue on a four-year basis.

* * *

If called up by selective service, a man may ask for duty in the Navy. But whether he gets it will depend on several conditions, including whether the monthly quotas as allocated between the Army and Navy have been filled. The selections will be made at the armed forces examination stations.

Blindfolded Man Asks Governor on Auto Trip

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche yesterday declined an offer to make an opening-day tour of the Ohio Turnpike with a blindfolded motorist.

* * *

The unidentified driver said he would start his trip from near Cleveland on Oct. 1 and cover the entire 241-mile toll road in both directions without being able to see.

* * *

"We will leave at 8 a.m. and will return (I hope) some seven hours later," wrote the man, who termed himself "the scourge of the magic world."

Lausche sent his regrets and notified the state highway patrol "just in case" the writer was not joking.

A Moor in Spain Teaches Arithmetic

Do you like arithmetic? Of course you do. But you might like it even more if you knew how it came about in the first place.

No one knows just when people learned to count. Fingers and toes were natural things to begin counting with. Aztecs and American Indians were among the people who used them to count up to 20.

The people of India are believed to be the first to write figures to stand for numbers.

The Moors, Arabs who settled in Spain, were very clever at arithmetic and used the signs we call Arabic numerals. The first Arabic numerals were drawn so that each sign had as many strokes as the number it represented. Later these were changed into the figures we use today: 1, 2, 3, 4, and so forth.

The Arabic system spread to the rest of Europe in the 12th century. It replaced the clumsy Roman system in which letters were used: I for 1, V for 5, X for 10, L for 50, C for 100, D 500, M 1,000. In America we used Roman numerals for dates on buildings.

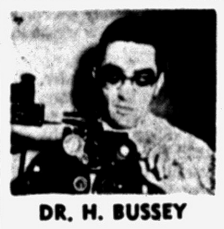

Here is a Moorish teacher in old Spain showing a problem to his pupils. In the border are the original Arabic numerals, Roman numerals and some of the signs we all need to know in order to use with figures.

Tomorrow: A Game With Figures.

No More Police, Please

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Asst. Chief of Police W. A. Miller put out an order today forbidding any more Jacksonville policemen from joining the reserves or National Guard. Nixon Starting GOP Campaign

Vice President to Open Fire at Plowing Contest in Indiana Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—A speaking tour which will take Vice President Nixon into contested political territory indicated today Republicans are beginning their 1956 election campaign now.

* * *

Nixon announced yesterday he will open fire at the National Plowing Contest in Wabash, Ind., tomorrow on Democratic critics of the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support farm program.

The vice president will follow this up with a speech at a GOP $100-a-plate dinner in Indianapolis tomorrow night.

Republican state chairmen agreed at a meeting here last week that declining farm prices offer the greatest political threat to the election of a GOP Congress next year. Some of them are known to have suggested to National Chairman Leonard W. Hall that Nixon was the man to answer sharpened Democratic criticism in this field.

* * *

Nixon will have another opportunity to talk about the farm problem at the National Corn Picking Contest in St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 15. Missouri, which Eisenhower carried by slightly less than 30,000 votes in 1952, is classed as a doubtful state next year.

There was every indication Nixon will discuss international affairs in dedicating a statue to Columbus in Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 12 and at the American Legion National Convention in Miami Oct. 13.

* * *

Eisenhower carried Florida in 1952 and the Republicans want to repeat that performance. Nixon also has scheduled a talk the following day in Tampa.

Vegetation on Mars?

Many astronomers feel sure the large dark areas on Mars represent vegetation. A canal-like network could reflect 50-mile-wide bands of plant life growing in old river valleys. However, the lines do not meander; some shoot out like arrows for 1,500 miles. Unlike true rivers, they sometimes intersect.

Waterford Mulls $3 Million School Building Program

Tentative Plans Include 5 Units

Construction Would Not Hike Present Tax Rate, Superintendent Says

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A possible $3,000,000 building program was discussed when the School Board met last night in the Board of Education offices on Walton Boulevard.

This would involve the construction of a new junior high and four additional elementary buildings and the purchase of the sites for the latter, plus the purchase of a site for a second senior high school.

The program, as discussed, would not increase the present tax rate, according to Supt. William Shunck.

The present senior high school bond issue is just about cleared, he said, and a State constitutional amendment passed last spring allows for greater flexibility in borrowing by schools.

Four elementary buildings are now under construction in the township, and will be completed in mid-term, but are expected to be filled to capacity.

The total enrollment at the end of last year was 8,088, and 8,850 students are now in attendance in the township schools.

There are 42 more pupils in kindergarten through sixth grade, two less in seventh and eighth grades, and 31 more in the ninth through twelfth grades.

Enrollment in the kindergarten is 55 compared with 46 last year, the freshman class has 113 compared with 73 last year, the junior class has 98 as compared with 64 last year, and the senior class has 58 as compared with 70 last year.

Imlay City Christian School opened last week with an enrollment of 100, an increase of two over last year. Grades are kindergarten through ninth. There are 12 in the kindergarten. John P. VanAmstel is the principal.

HELPERS PROCESS RIPE FRUIT

ROSS FRUIT FARM AT ROCHESTER

It's Apple Packing Time at Rochester Area Fruit Farm

By MYRENE TAYLOR
Press Rochester Correspondent

ROCHESTER—These are busy days at Stoney Creek Orchards, 240-acre fruit farm of Henry Ross and Son, located on 32 Mile Road. A 45,000 bushel crop of apples is being packed, graded and crated for keeping in the two storage buildings.

• • •

Just completed, is a 60 by 60 building, concrete throughout with a buff exterior of glazed tile. Storage capacity is 25,000 bushels. The very newest automatic refrigeration has been installed, keeping the temperature at 15 degrees.

Twenty pickers working this week are harvesting the seven apple varieties, Wagners, Mackintosh, Spies, Jonathan, Delicious, Steele Red and Double Reds which the Ross' wholesale entirely. Racks are taken to the orchard and brought back on trailers to the deck of the storage building, where they are transferred to a Clark lift truck, lifted and stacked 16 bushels high.

Fruit raising is not new to Ross, in fact he has worked in fruit all of his life, being brought up on an Oakland County farm, known as The Ross Orchards in Rochester.

Thirteen years ago the new farm was purchased of Dr. Harry Berry of Mt. Clemens. The major part of the new building was constructed by Ross and his son Lorne.

Lorne, the junior member of the firm, when not spraying and harvesting fruit has had time to build an attractive ranch type home west of the present Ross farm residence.

The senior Ross said in an interview that the Gerber Products Co., manufacturers of baby foods, contract for all of the Wagner apples that can be raised in the orchards.

Men Beat and Rob Elderly Howell Lady

HOWELL — An elderly woman was beaten and robbed in her Howell home last night by two men who slapped her until she revealed where she hid her money.

Rose Miller, believed to be in hr 90's, told police the men came to her home and said she was wanted on the phone in a booth a short distance away.

When she told them she had a phone of her own, they broke through the screen door and tied her up.

They slapped her repeatedly about the head and face until she told them her money was in a bedroom door.

Want a Fortune?--Evolve Silent Jet

One expert said: "Anybody who turns up with a noiseless jet engine has got his fortune made."

* * *

There was speculation on the possibility that the application of atomic power to airplanes in the future may solve the problem of the thundering noise of modern sonic-speed jet aircraft.

Aircraft engine designers admitted, however, that the problem of making a silent engine for modern jet fighters and bombers is almost as difficult as solving perpetual motion.

"When you build up as much thrust as a jet engine must produce you are bound to produce ear-splitting noises," the expert said. "It's almost like expecting a dog not to bark."

Nevertheless, the Air Force, Navy, other government agencies, the aircraft industry and universities are now engaged in 34 research studies on reduction of noise. The Air Force has even set up a board of 14 general officers to work on the problem.

"RUN-UPS"

For the time being, the major effort is being aimed at noise suppression of aircraft on the ground in their "run-ups" for take-offs and during overhaul.

The Air Force disclosed that it now has an improved noise-suppresser for turbojet engines which it expects to put into use early next year to cut down the noise of jet engines at fighter, bomber and overhaul air bases.

The drive for noise suppression has been intensified because of wholesale complaints from citizens in residential areas near jet air fields. The Air Force has been conducting a long-term educational program to explain to citizens that the Air Force installations have been established in order to protect the citizens from a possible nuuclear attack from abroad.

MINKS QUIT

The Air Force has even received complaints in some areas from owners of mink ranches that the thunder of jet engines has so upset the fur-bearing animals that they have stopped reproducing. Mother minks have allegedly turned on their offspring, devoured them and thereafter refused to mate again.

One of the joint studies of the Air Force and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology is looking into the problem of minimizing and controlling aircraft noises by muffling and other devices, the effect of these noises on human beings, and the whole problem as it relates to communities.

One of the greatest sources of complaints received by the Air Force has been the thunder of "sonic booms" when jet airplanes crack the sound barrier.

In one New England community houses were shaken, window panes burst, ceilings cracked and a tremendous traffic jam resulted when a jet plane smashed through the sound barrier. The local police reported that it handled 2,000 telephone calls about the incident. People reported that a plane had crashed or blown up in the air, and thousands of persons joined in a search for the wreckage.

* * *

As a result of this and other similar incidents, the Air Force has directed that all jet aircraft thrusts through the sonic barrier be confined to uninhabited areas, either desert country or over the ocean.

Cop's Day Never Ends Works at All Hours

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Patrolman R. L. Crouse isn't a cop who takes his work home with him, he just can't seem to reach home without working.

Fears End of Romance That Hasn't Begun

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I recently met a boy I like very much. It's too soon to tell, but I think he's my one and only. But my girl friend worries me—she keeps pestering him about me. She asks him if he likes me and asks him to call me up.

"He did phone, but I'm wondering if it wasn't just so my girl friend would leave him alone. He told her he'd break up with the girl he is going with so he could go steady with me. But he's only seen me three times, so how can he tell so soon that he wants to go steady with me?

"Now, how can I find out if he likes me without seeming to bother him more? And if he broke up with his present girl because he saw someone he liked better (mostly me) how can I be sure he won't do the same to me?"

Answer: You can't be sure. But you're worrying about the end of a friendship that hasn't even started yet. You've never even had a date with the boy. Let alone settle down to going steady with him.

* * *

So far, it's all been talk. You've been buzzing away to your girl friend. And she's been pouring the good news into this boy's ear. He's been telling her a lot of things.

But he, except for that one phone call, hasn't come anywhere near you. He's still going with his girl friend. No break up there as yet. No hounding your house, no deluge of phone calls, no asking for dates.

It's a lovely breeze—and you're letting it blow your hair into your eyes.

* * *

Go on liking the boy, if you find it fun. But tell your girl friend firmly to keep out of things from now on. It's not her affair—she's not supposed to know anything, nor tell anything.

Wait quietly to see what the boy does about things. Until he takes some positive action don't get your hopes up too high.

And remember that any boy you go steady with can break off with you for any reason that seems good to him. When you start such a relationship you don't start worrying about its end right away.

There's nothing permanent about most such young dating arrangements. You can feel secure in it only so long as it lasts.

* * *

But it can end abruptly. And you can be hurt. And the experience won't do you any real harm. Oh, you'll feel deflated for a while. But your emotions need exercise.

It's good for you to feel things deeply. It helps you to understand yourself better.

Yes, it could happen to you. But why worry about it until it does?

Daughter Rebels With Impudence

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

V. is a young acquaintance of ours.

She telephoned me recently in some excitement. "I've got my driver's license!" she announced. "It's just come. I'm driving mummy to the dentist in an hour. Haven't you got somewhere to go that I could drive you? I'm very careful so you don't have to be afraid. Oh, please think of some place you have to go after I leave mummy at the dentist's!"

* * *

Almost at once, they became engaged in a dispute over the best route downtown. V's mother insisted on a side street that would avoid highway traffic; V. declared the highway safer and faster. The argument had become uncomfortably tense when V., flushing, suddenly erupted into frankly abusive impudence to her mother.

We drove in silence for about 10 seconds. Then V's mother said, "What do you think of a girl who talks like that to her mother, Mrs. Lawrence? What would you do about a fresh kid like this?"

* * *

I offered no suggestions. By the end of another five minutes, I realized that asking me what I'd do about V.'s impudence was all that her mother intended to do about it.

RIGHT TO RESIST

Since then, I've wondered what might have happened if this parent had said quietly, "V., please stop the car. I want to get out." And getting out, added, "You were right to resist my interference with your driving. I am right to resist the rudeness with which you did it. So I'm taking the bus to the dentist's."

* * *

I'm pretty sure that instead of leaving resentment behind her, V.'s mother would have left thoughtfulness and repentance behind her.

A child's impudence is always a direct challenge to parents' honesty. It calls for two straightforward declarations: The admission that he has offended us; the proposal that we have offended him.

Nobody enjoys assault by children's impudence. This is a reasonable position we don't have to defend by anger, because anger shuts our ears to the vital message the impudence is delivering. Always this message is, "I don't trust your justice and goodwill."

* * *

Anger at impudence is futile as slapping a little boy to stop him slapping his sister. He'll just pinch her when we aren't looking—and the impudent child will find a new way, too, to express the feeling we've denied him. Instead of telling us how and why he distrusts us, he will just tell other people how and why.

* * *

That's what V. did. After we left her mother at the dentist's, she complained so bitterly about her to me that I had to say, "V., if you can't change the subject, I shall take a bus home."

Tell In-Laws About Plans to Remarry

Widow, Widower Should Break the News Personally

By EMILY POST

"I am a widow with a young child and expect to remarry a widower with two children. My problem is this: Since we are both very friendly with our in-laws and do not want to hurt them, we are wondering if it would be proper to send them announcements of our marriage.

"I also would appreciate your advising me on the proper wording of these announcements—both my parents are living."

Answer: If you and they live in the same town, you should go to see them and announce your intentions to marry. If they don't live in the same town, you should write them personal letters ahead of time before it is publicly announced.

But do not permit them to hear about it from somebody outside or by the sending of engraved announcements. That would certainly hurt their feelings. You and your husband would announce your own marriage, not your parents.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Several of us gave a bridal shower for a friend recently. She believes, as do we, that she should write individual thank-you notes to each donor, despite the fact that she thanked each one verbally. Are we correct about this, or is a verbal thank-you sufficient?"

Answer: It is not necessary that she again thank people who gave presents, if she thanked them appreciatively when she opened the presents, but it is certainly not improper if she would like to.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Does an invitation to a cocktail party written on an 'informal' require an answer even though no reply is requested? I would like to know also if such an invitation can be answered by telephone when an answer is requested?"

Answer: (1) Unless R.S.V.P. is on the invitation it need not be answered. (2) Yes.

Girl's Mother Is Her Worst Enemy

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There is an old Hungarian saying: "With him for a friend, you don't need an enemy." I think of that when I see the misguided and tragic mistakes parents sometimes make.

* * *

Mrs. K. is a good example. Mrs. K. has a daughter, Carole, and with Mrs. K. for a mother, Carole doesn't need an enemy. Here is the story, in Mrs. K.'s words:

IN LOVE WITH BOSS

"My daughter Carole is secretary in a one-man office. I have just learned that she is hopelessly in love with her boss and has been for four years. Carole is 24; the man is in his mid-30's and is married.

"I cannot bear the disgrace and I cannot understand it. I have always done my best for her and I fail to see how she could have gotten herself into such a mess.

"We battle about it constantly, but she is stubborn and disobedient. Now she threatens to leave me and get an apartment of her own and I seem powerless to prevent it. That man has her under his thumb.

"It isn't as if Carole doesn't know better. I brought her up very carefully, as I am an old-fashioned, decent woman.

"I never let her have dates and carry on like the other girls did who got into trouble. I warned her about men and told her how horribly her father had behaved and why I had to divorce him.

* * *

"When she wanted to get a job in television, I refused to let her and told her about the fast people in the entertainment world.

"Instead, I put her through secretarial school. And look what has happened! Look at the thanks I get! What can I do now?"

CHANGE TACTICS

I doubt if Carole would listen to her mother now, but the only possible chance is for Mrs. K. to change her tactics—and fast.

* * *

She might try to understand the girl's point of view and realize that this man is important to her only because she is lonely and in a field she hates.

Also, she is no judge of men and cannot tell a cad when she meets one, because Mrs. K. never did let her meet any men. That is why she cannot see what a bad break this man is giving her.

The only hope would be for Mrs. K. to blow Carole to a course in radio and television. This would take up several of her evenings and get her interested in something besides her boss.

* * *

Then Mrs. K. can say she knows now she was wrong and urge Carole to get a secretarial job in radio or television or an advertising agency which works with radio and television.

This, plus general sympathy and encouragement to entertain her friends at home and to meet other people, is the only hope.

Most of all, Mrs. K.—and all parents—should let children work in the fields they want.

Gls Marrying More Britons

Report 250 Weddings a Month Between U.S. Troops, English Girls

LONDON (INS)—Maj.-Gen. Roscoe C. Wilson, commander of the Third U. S. Air Force, states American servicemen are marrying British girls "at an ever increasing rate."

He said there now are about 250 such marriages a month, a positive indication that "the bonds between our peoples are becoming stronger."

Wilson told the annual conference on American Women's Activities:

"Conduct and personal appearance make a profound impression in our host nation.

Wilson stressed there are 85,000 American servicemen, and their dependents living in Britian "in an area about the size of Alabama."

He added:

"We are a large number of bachelors with plenty of pocket money, who have never been away from home before, who are learning to behave by trial and error.

"In short, there is every reason for friction to develop into bitterness, even hatred. Yet the bonds between our people are becoming stronger."

He said the crime rate among the troops is "the lowest in Europe—lower than among the troops in the United States."

* * *

Paulette Goddard Refuses Dollar Inheritance Gift

DENVER (INS)—Screen Star Paulette Goddard has refused to accept a one dollar inheritance bequeathed her by her father who died in Denver a year ago.

Miss Goddard's action came to light when Denver County Judge David Brofman signed an order requested by Mrs. Hildred F. Levee, widow of Joseph Russell Levee, to send the dollar to the state's escheat fund.

Mrs. Levee said she had offered the dollar to Miss Goddard, but that it was refused.

Miss Goddard may claim the inheritance at any time during the next 20 years. After 20 years it will go to Colorado's school fund.

Group of Turtle Trappers Claims Supply Diminishes

NASHVILLE, Mich. (AP)—Men of the Hummel family, who have trapped fresh water snapping turtles for 30 years, believe the supply of their quarry is running short.

* * *

"The big snappers just aren't as plentiful as they once were."

"Delicious."

Joel has hunted turtles in Ellis Lake and the Thornapple River and other lesser known bodies of water. In former years, he says, he set up to 30 traps at a time. This year he and his son, Jim, 15, are tending only 14 traps in the Thornapple, which flows through Nashville.

"I used to sell hundreds of pounds a season at 2 to 4 cents a pound," Hummel says. "Now it's just a sideline for me and a way for the boy to earn a little pocket money."

He says the best turtle-trapping time is from July through September, before they hibernate. The traps resemble a fishnet stretched over a wire frame with a net "funnel" at one end through which a turtle may enter but cannot leave.

Trappers use minnows or fish heads for bait.

Hummel doesn't keep any turtles under 10 pounds. He figures it takes a turtle about 10 years to reach that weight. Last year he and the boy took a couple of the "big fellows," weighing more than 25 pounds each.

Their largest prey this year weighed about 20 pounds.

Hummel says he can clean about one turtle every 10 minutes. He nails the turtle, tail first, to a tree with the hard shell next to the bark. A sharp razor blade cuts away the smaller triangular shell from the turtle's under side.

Hummel cuts the meat into convenient pieces and soaks in salt water for several hours.

* * *

Joel's wife, Clara, takes over packaging the turtle meat for the deep freeze or for an immediate feast.

Her own recipe for turtle meat includes rolling it in flour and browning it in an inch of frying fat. She then places the meat in a roaster, salts, adds 2 or 3 cups of water and roasts it at 375 degrees until done.

Driver to Get Hearing

His bond was set at $1,000 and a hearing set Sept. 29. Police said Vangessel hit John Bartley, 70, also of Grand Rapids, with a car as Bartley crossed a street Aug. 27.

Faces Murder Trial

PAW PAW (AP)—Samuel Jones, 34, of South Haven will go on trial Sept. 19 on a charge of first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of his wife Pauline, 22, on July 24. Jones was held without bond in the Van Buren County Jail.

Cars, Coffee Among Items Moving Higher Pricewise

The higher automobile price tag reflected higher wage rates and increased cost of metals. In coffee the blame was laid on a temporary U.S. shortage of green coffee beans due to earlier confusion over Brazil's currency policy plus a dock strike on the U.S. East Coast.

Price hikes spread through many sections of industry. Another maker of stoves is raising the price of gas ranges by five per cent, following similar hikes by other manufacturers.

A furniture manufacturer is upping prices of his entire line by three per cent. This also follows a widespread trend in the industry.

Heating the home may be more costly this winter for many folk. Fuel oil prices as well as those of coal have gone up.

Many manufacturers are facing increased material costs. This week a leading maker of copper tubing is raising prices. This reflects an earlier hike in the price of refined copper by producers to 43 cents a pound. And still another copper price hike is shaping up. The metal is in such short supply that some users caught empty handed have been paying as high as 51 cents. Ferro alloys used by the steel industry to make stainless and other special steel also are going up.

The price hike on 1956 model cars is a typical example of what is happening—and why. The first of the new models to be priced are the 1956 Lincolns. One is going up by $10.90, but another is going up by $244. In the industry there is talk of an average five per cent hike generally in prices on next year's cars.

But the prices the auto makers are setting on their new models are merely "suggested" retail prices. Many a buyer of 1955 cars knows that the suggested list price isn't the one he paid. Bitter competition has given consumers a big break this year, and it may next year, too.

Police Chief Returns

COLOMA (AP)—Ted Harding has agreed to return as Coloma police chief after the city raised his salary from $300 to $375 a month and granted him two weeks of paid vacation. Harding had resigned in August complaining that other city employes got pay raises but none was offered him.

Police Post Opened

IONIA (AP)—Ionia's new State Police post began functioning on regular 24-hour schedule Wednesday with five troopers assigned. It opened preliminary operations last weekend.

He Wants More Kids to Get on Moonbeam

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Everybody has big ideas of commuting to the moon someday on the 8:16 rocket express, but America is short about 30,000 brains needed to put such a space ship into operation.

* * *

"Seems like people just want to free-load on this first flight to the moon," broods Dr. Hal Ritchey outer-space authority. "But unless more young people start working on it, preparing themselves for engineering and scientific work, we may be eons getting this project off the ground."

Fifty thousand scientists and engineers are urgently needed in the field today, to make space travel a reality and meet other scientific needs, and only 20,000 students are coming out of schools this year to fill the positions.

"For some reason, young people have lost their senses of imagination and curiosity, and unless something arouses them to action, our interplanetary progress will slow to a diesel drag.

"We may not gt to the moon before Christmas 2155!"

Ritchey, young and supercharged winner of the Hickman Award (the Pulitzer Prize of rocketry offered by the American Rocket Society), is in favor of a "job of publicity" to get young fry back on the moonbeam, so to speak.

To stimulate their interest and imagination into building careers in this vital fields, he even thinks it might be an idea to shoot a lightweight missive — "like a beer can, say" — to the moon right now.

* * *

With the existing rockets, this is about the only flight to the moon that could be accomplished Ritchey says. By rather modest expense, he means about $100,000. Which may seem large to you and me, but is actually peanuts considering the high cost of living in outer space.

"A beer can may be undignified as a missle, but I mention it only as a way of clarifying just about the size and weight of object we could now send to the moon for $100,000.

"To get a little thing like that across the 237,000 miles between here and there, it would have to be launched in a rocket weighing nearly a thousand pounds, carrying four booster shots — or four separate explosions."

* * *

Such an interplanetary flight at this time, sponsored perhaps by a corporation as a public service, might accomplish little value, scientifically. "But as a stimulus to lure students into this great field of study?" Ritchey widened his far-seeing eyes. "It could do immense good."

U.S. STAKE-OUT

The scientist visualizes a number of small, significant articles which could be rocketed to the moon in "Operation Beer Can." Such as a miniature American Flag ("a first U. S. stake-out of the moon"), a copy of the 10 Commandments ("to keep off evil doers"), a lipstick imprint from Miss America ("that would be colorful, eh?"), and so on.

The possibilities are endless.

* * *

Dr. Ritchey, in town this week to drum up enthusiasm in the royal road to space, returns now to his job as chief scientist for the Thiokol Corp., a rocket fuel manufacturer for the government, in the Rocket and Guided Missle Center, Huntsville, Ala.

There he will continue to encourage youth to look onward and upward — 237,000 miles upward. If they do follow his advice and get behind the move to the moon, we may be setting off in deluxe solar ships within this century.

Will Ritchey himself go on the first earth-to-moon junket?

"It depends," he says pleasantly, "on what shape I and the rockets are in."

Our Bossies Produce

DETROIT (AP)—Despite a 15 per cent drop in the milk cow population Michigan's milk production climbed 5 per cent during the past 10 years. R. G. Warmbold, Michigan representative of the American Can Co., attributed to increased productivity to improved feeding and dairying methods. He said Michigan cows produced 5.6 billion pounds of milk in 1954.

With its diversity of fruit crops, southwestern Michigan is often known as the "Fruit Basket of the Middle West."

Make Compost Now to Insure Future Garden Success

Look for Results After One Year

Old Leaves, Clippings Can Provide Fertilizer for Flowers, Vegetables

There's nothing exotic about a compost pile—but it is an important part of the garden and one of the best investments in time and energy.

Many times, in garden instructions, you are urged to use compost to enrich a section of soil for certain plantings.

All the garden provides grist for your mill. Grass clippings, dead flower cuttings, fallen leaves, weeds (which have not gone to seed)—just about anything which is green and ready for discard will do, except diseased plants.

OFTEN OVERLOOKED

Creation of a compost pile is about the simplest thing in the garden book, yet it is overlooked or ignored by many an otherwise Green Thumb.

Here's how it goes:

Figure on using an area about four by six feet, although the size is not standardized. Just be sure you can work to the middle with no trouble.

As a base, use a layer of soil or some upside down sod from a new garden bed you have prepared. If manure is available, use a layer as you build up the pile to about a six-foot height.

ADD LAYERS

Then, using any quickly decaying material from the garden or the kitchen vegetable debris, build up layer after layer, using a layer of soil between layers of other compost material. Spread commercial fertilizer, such as 5-10-5 atop layers to speed the decay.

If the soil you are using is heavy, add some sand.

Keep the top center of the pile in a saucer shape to catch and hold rainfall. Keep the pile moist.

* * *

Every few months, take a fork and turn over the pile working from the outside to the center. Add some ground limestone, but do not put this atop the manure layers, for it will release the ammonia in the manure and cut down on its fertilizing elements.

SLOW BUT SURE

This process won't get you compost tomorrow. Figure on using the composted soil in a year or so.

But once you get a start, after the first year, you'll have a steady supply of the compost you're always urged to use for potting plants, enriching perennial beds, or for use in cold frames and many other purposes.

Plenty of Work in September

Use Lime and Fertilizer on Lilacs; Dry Sprays of Baby's Breath

There is a lot of garden work that can be done this month, in addition to selecting and planting spring bulbs.

Lilacs which have failed to bloom to your satisfaction should be given a dose of lime and a fertilizer strong in phosphorous worked well into the soil about the plants now and again next spring. Be reminded, too, that lilacs will not bloom in the shade and are unhappy in an acid soil—hence the lime.

To insure continuous bloom on your chrysanthemums until frost time, apply a 4-12-4 fertilizer to the soil about the plants. This extra feeding, plus ample water during dry periods, will be appreciated.

To get dried sprays of baby's breath for winter arrangements, cut them when in full bloom on a hot day and dry them in the shade. Baby's breath is best when dried in a loose upright position.

By this time, all the daffodils and narcissus will have ripened off and gone through their resting period. If it is your desire to divide and replant the bulbs, get busy at once, for most of them start root development as soon as the foliage dies away.

Divide Perennials

It's getting late, but there's still time to transplant and divide perennials which bloom in the late spring. Summer and fall blooming perennials are best moved in the spring.

Plant Spring-Flowering Bulbs This Fall With Eye to Creating 'Garden Pictures'

When you plant your spring-flowering bulbs this fall, try to visualize in advance the way they will look when in bloom next spring. A dozen bulbs well placed often give you a much more striking and attractive garden picture than half a hundred that are just put in anywhere, without regard for the background or the flower companions they will have when in bloom.

The easiest way to do this is to create pictures in your mind's eye, starting with shrubs, early-flowering perennials, a clump of trees or perhaps a big rock, which you already have.

Often a hedge or a wall will make an excellent background for some of the earlier flowering bulbs, and at the same time afford effective protection from cold winds.

A walk about your garden, making a search for such spots before you begin planting, will reveal many opportunities for such effective use of bulbs.

* * *

In creating garden pictures with bulbs it is important to keep in mind scale. In front of a low stone wall, for instance, single early tulips (or some of the species and species hybrids) go very nicely; but robust growing darwins and breeders, with their flowers above the wall, would be wholly out of place.

The low-growing species tulips, such as the kaufmannianas, are ideal for the rock garden or a rockery.

Daffodils, so often seen in overcrowded, long, straight rows, are ideal for naturalizing in open woodlands. For grouping around a stand of white birches, or an individual tree, medium-height varieties such as most of the shortcups, are in better taste than the giant trumpets.

Hyacinths, of all the spring-flowering bulbs, are—with the possible exception of white daffodils—most charming for pool-side plantings. Combined with primulas and forget-me-nots (myosotis), which will send long sprays trailing down to the water's edge, they make a picture to stop any camera bug. Where there's no pool, a small group of hyacinths along the walk or against a rock will supply pleasing color and fragrance.

Commonest of all mistakes in planting spring bulbs is to set them in long, straight rows, like a single or double file of marching soldiers. Whatever bulb planting you do, or however hurriedly you have to do it, place the bulbs in groups instead of in rows.

The only exception is those you may want for cutting. These may well be set, three to four inches apart, in rows in the vegetable or cutting garden, or in any other convenient place where they can readily be cared for.

Perennials which flower early are good to use in combination with spring bulbs. These include creeping phlox (phlox subulata)—try blue and white varieties as well as the usual pinks and reds—and blue phlox divaricata; myosotis; myrtle (vinca minor); alyssum saxatile citrinum, a pale primrose yellow basket-of-gold, much better for this purpose than the usual hard yellow; arabis and iberis (perennial candytuf); pansies and violas; and, to give height, doronicum and bleeding heart (dicentra spectabilitis).

PLEASING PICTURE — Half a dozen tulips planted in a clump, like these pink Darwins, provide a bright touch of color against a hedge or in an obscure corner of a lawn. Planted in blocks of single colors or in patterned designs they can transform a backyard garden into a color spectacle. Plant tulip bulbs 6 inches deep and 6 inches apart, before the first frost sets in.

Tall Dahlias Reported

A 5 foot 5 dahlia is pretty tall, says David Baumgartner of 4142 Lanco Ct., Drayton Plains, but he can do better. The 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Baumgartner has a dahlia growing in the corner of his house that now measures 8 feet 4. The plant has a single bloom. David said when he called in to report it to the Press garden editor after reading the story of a tall dahlia another young gardener had produced.

Other reports of tall dahlia plants growing in the vicinity included one from Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman, 1139 Myrtle, Huron Gardens. Theirs measured 7 feet 5. Mrs. Clarence A. Bulla of 2244 Montroyal, Waterford Township, says she and the Bullas' three young sons have produced a 6 foot 8 dahlia.

Rake Leaves Often; Use Them in Compost

Leaf raking is a chore. Whether you have a leafsweeper or use a bamboo lawn rake, the job is better done if you do it several times rather than waiting until all the leaves have fallen and make one big production of it.

If possible, compost the material. Burning leaves, while they make a pleasant autumn smell, is a frightful waste of plant food.

Crayfish make up 90 per cent of the food of smallmouth and rock bass.

TWO FOR ONE — Half elm, half maple is the little tree that Murdick McGinnis discovered growing alongside his house at 81 S. Roselawn. Above, he holds out a branch on which grow both elm and maple leaves. McGinnis, who is 71 and a retired engineer of Pontiac High School, discovered the unusual sapling this summer when he was trimming some forsythia bushes beside his house. The tree has only one trunk, and the two different leaves can be seen on several branches. McGinnis retired in 1952 after 24 years at Pontiac high. Now he makes his home and grounds his main hobby.

Dahlia Exhibition Opens Tomorrow

Tomorrow noon is the deadline to submit entries in the state Dahlia Show, which opens to the public at 4 p.m. tomorrow at Carpenters Hall, 22521 Grand River Ave., Redford.

* * *

The show will remain open until 10 p.m. tomorrow and from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday.

* * *

Growers from all over Michigan are expected to exhibit. Prizes in both amateur and commercial categories will be awarded.

* * *

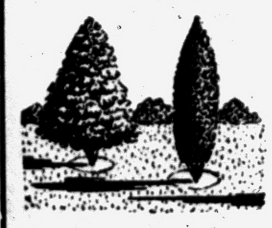

Admission is free. A 10-cent fee for entering exhibits is charged, with no fee on anything over 20 entries.

House Plants Go Inside

Vacation time is over for the house plants. Housebreak them slowly, moving them first from the garden to a porch for a while and finally indoors to the locations of sun, shade or mixture each requires.

Crews Working to Save 2 Men

Experts Join Rescuers Searching for Uranium Prospectors in Mine

GEORGETOWN, Colo. (AP)—U. S. Bureau of Mines experts joined more than 100 volunteer rescue workers today in desperate efforts to rescue two Kansas uranium prospectors trapped in an ancient mine shaft.

* * *

Believed dead from lack of oxygen more than 3,000 feet inside the unused shaft near here were Glenn Dew, 33, and Melvin LeBlow, 45, Ulysses, Kan., farmers.

The two were last seen about 2:30 p.m. yesterday when they followed their Geiger counters under the rotted timbers supporting the old mine tunnel, about 35 miles west of Denver.

* * *

Two companions who stayed back as a precaution escaped entrapment. They are Kenneth E. Hickok, 50, a mining engineer, and Ernest P. Stubblefield, 32, an airport manager. Both also live at Ulysses.

Clear Creek County Sheriff James Sacra said two miners with oxygen masks got no answer after they went part way into the shaft and shouted for Dew and LeBlow.

* * *

Officials said the prospectors had oxygen tanks to support them for about four hours. The officials believed the two could not possibly have survived the hours after their oxygen was exhausted.

Cattle Expert Outbid by Close Competitor

He lost out on his first bid and told the Mrs. he would go no higher on the next item than $25. The bidding shot quickly to $20. It kept rising.

Jenson finally got the furniture for $24. He discovered later he had been bidding against his wife who figured he had stopped at $20 and decided on her own to go higher.

Guards Long Watched Empty Capitol's Crypt

WASHINGTON —Congress planned to bury George and Martha Washington in a crypt under the Capitol. The crypt was prepared and a keeper of the tomb was appointed.

Marth's family objected, however, and the idea was dropped. But no one remembered to discharge the keeper of the tomb.

Chef Who Made $64,000 Dinner Now Jobless

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON (AP)—The chef who prepared the royal banquet an American Marine described to the tune of $64,000 is himself looking for a job.

* * *

He's keeping as a trade secret the meat dish — mignonette d'agneau royale — that baffled even those who thought up the questions for the rich American TV quiz.

* * *

Producers of the show did not ask Marine Capt. Richard McCutchen to describe this item on the menu when he won the jackpot this week because they weren't sure of the ingredients.

Roussin isn't telling — even now. The chef says that the menu he prepared for the banquet King George VI gave for President LeBrun of France at Buckingham Palace in 1939 is still fresh in his mind.

* * *

Roussin suffered a stoke several years ago and was forced to give up his job as royal chef. He has done little work since then.

Chrysler Crippled by Wildcat Strike

DETROIT (INS)—Chrysler Automotive Body Division was hit by wildcat strikes today after the suspension of three men by the UAW-CIO for allegedly fostering the cause of dual unionism.

The corporation's Mack Plant was struck by a walkout of 130 tool and die workers, causing officials to send home approximately 500 workers in the press room and allied departments.

At the Outer Drive Plant all but two of the tool and die men reported but at the Eight Mile Road Plant only half the toolmakers checked in.

The wildcat walkouts began late yesterday, idling about 700 employes on the afternoon shift only a few hours after Local 212 fired three men because they allegedly belonged to another union.

However, spokesmen for the organization, the Society of Skilled Trades of Wayne County, say it is not a rival union but a fraternal organization "like the Elks or Moose."

HE SHOES THE POPE — Shoes for Pope Pius XII are made by Cobbler Domenico Cangiullo in his little shop near the Vatican in Rome. Cangiullo, shown using a discarded Papal slipper as a model, inherited the privilege of shoeing the Pope from his former teacher, Giuseppe Cattefoglia. Cattefoglia was cobbler for three Pontiffs in 50 years. A picture of the Pope hangs on the wall.

360 See Danger of Anti-Red Law

Sen. McNamara Signs Plea Asking Court to Kill Security Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—A brief carrying the names of 360 Americans tells from a "non-Communist viewpoint" why the signers think the Supreme Court should strike down the McCarran internal security law.

The Communist party has asked the court to declare the law unconstitutional, contending it violates fundamental liberties guaranteed by the Constitution.

* * *

The party is appealing from a government order that it register with the attorney general as an agent of the Kremlin. The case, to be argued this fall, brings the controversial law to its first major legal test.

The law, whose leading sponsor was the late Sen. McCarran (D-Nev), was passed over former President Truman's veto. It provides for registration of organizations found by the Subversive Activities Control Board to be Communist-controlled. The Communist party is challenging an SACB ruling that it register.

* * *

The brief said the law "represses the organizational activities of non-Communist Americans wherever they are found to have associated with the Communists for any purpose, however innocent, to have collaborated with the Communists for the attainment of any objective, however lawful and proper, or to have agreed with the Communists concerning ideas and policies, even though the points of agreement may have been very remote."

* * *

Listed as signers were some 60 clergymen, 76 educators, 25 physicians, 13 lawyers and others.

One of the group, Sen. McNamara (D-Mich), said "The McCarran Act attempts to take away the basic right of free association guaranteed to the American people by the Bill of Rights."

Portables for Defense

NEW YORK (INS)—The portable radio, once regarded only as a means of entertainment on vacations or picnics, today is taking on a new importance as a means of communication in case of an emergency. Civil Defense officials describe the portable radio as a "key defense weapon" in this atomic age.

Horned Blenny Fish Is Weird Specimen

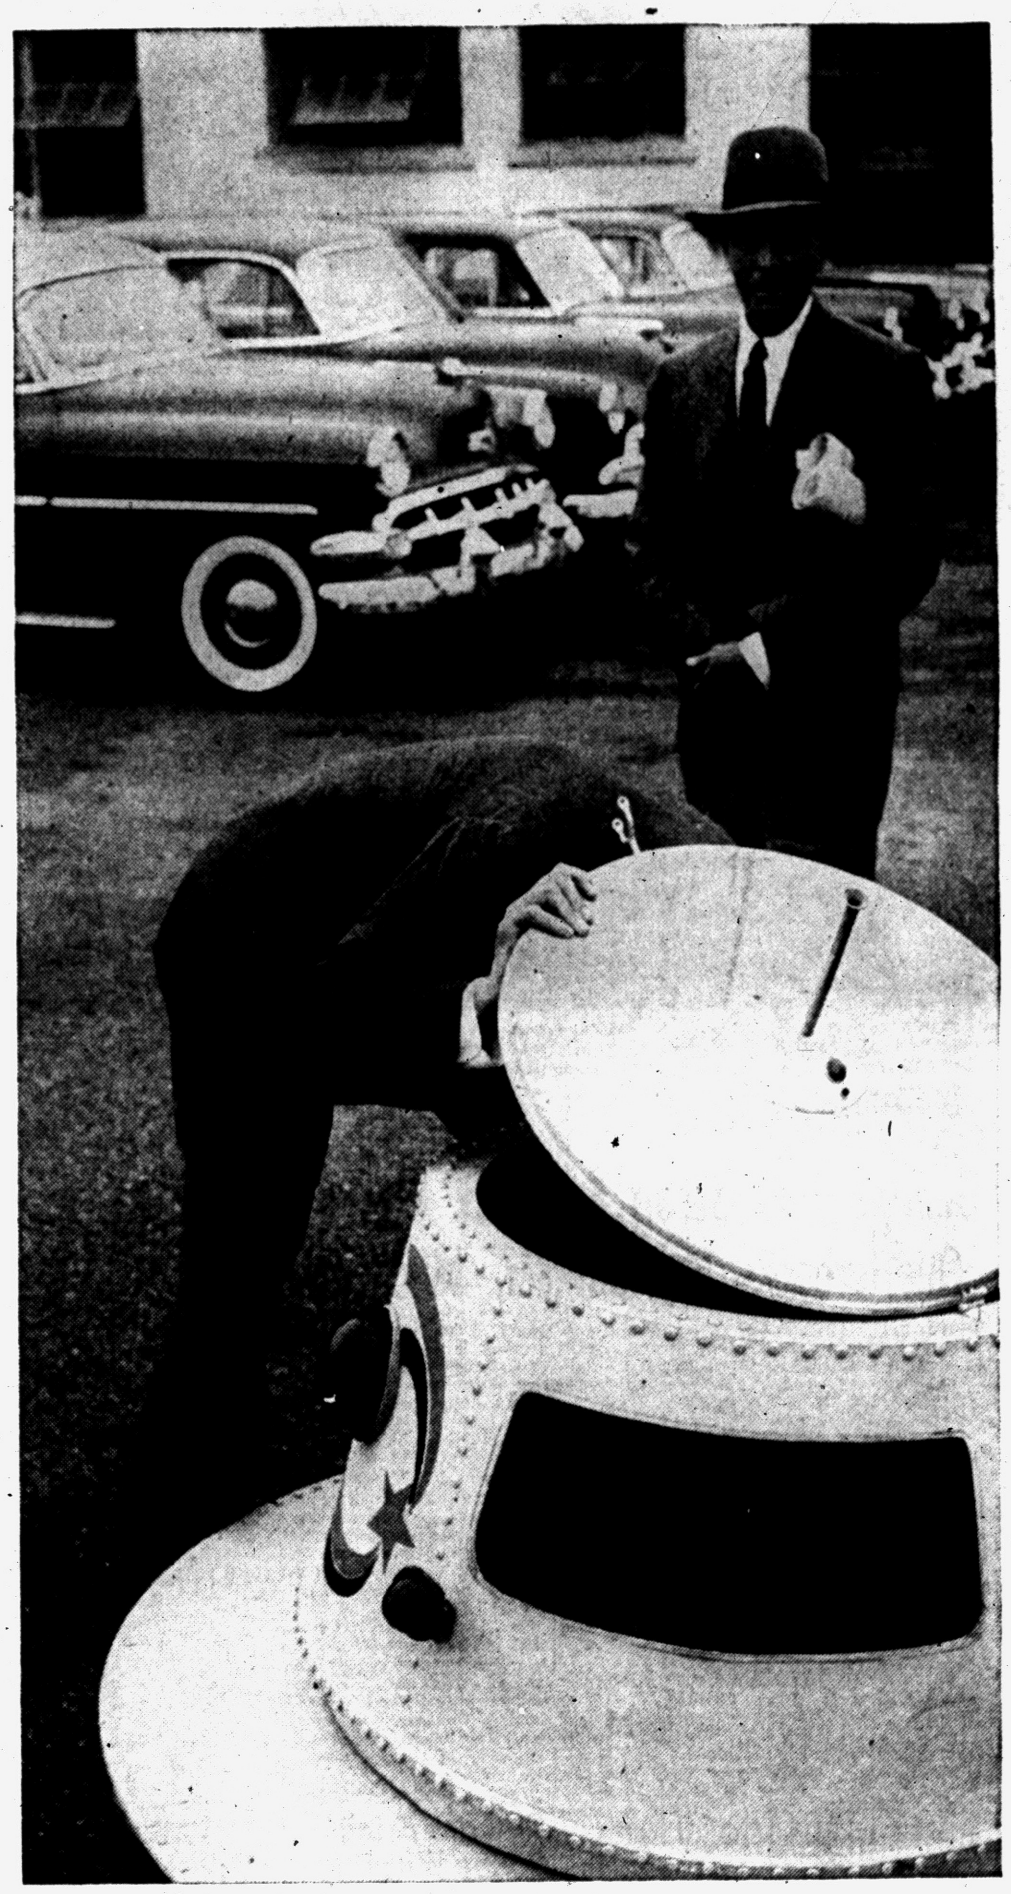

Horned blennies are among the most remarkable of all the Chesapeake Bay's fishes, says the National Geographic Society. The grotesque-looking, three-inch long blenny inhabits the bay's rocky villages.

Its face resembles an old man's, gnarled and wrinkled, with prominent brow. Its eyes are peculiarly human, staring fixedly. Protruding from the upper margin of each eye is a sharp-pronged "antler," or branched tentacle.

The flexible "horns" function as sensory organs. The blenny can swim but it also hops about the bottom, grasshopper fashion. It takes refuge in empty, upended oyster shells.

$400 trade-in allowance on a flying saucer

It's a fact. We read about a publicity-minded used car dealer who took a homemade flying saucer in trade.

An alert dealer must do a good job of attracting attention. But what he does for you is even more important. For instance, the used cars we show you bearing the red OK tag are better six ways. They're thoroughly inspected; reconditioned for safety, performance and value — and they're honestly described. You get a warranty in writing, signed by us, your Chevrolet dealer. That beats verbal promises every time.

Our great variety of used cars have to move to make room for more trade-ins on the fast-selling new Chevrolets. So, to maintain volume turn-over, we're passing volume savings on to you.

Postscript: This doesn't apply to flying saucers, but right now "sky-high" is the word that describes trade-in allowances at the sign of the OK trade-mark.

Condition Good, Spirit High Says MSU's Mentor

Young, Eager Players, Above Average Sophs Slated for Grid Duty

EAST LANSING (AP)—Coach Duffy Daugherty watched his Michigan State squad run up and down the full flight of seats in Macklin Field three times.

This was after a full-scale practice and was a discouraging sight to a reporter who drags a typewriter to the press box heights at an exhausting snail's pace.

"Well, we got good condition and good spirit, anyway," said Daugherty, who takes to the Big Ten football wars this season with one of the greenest Spartan squads in recent history.

Daugherty, who took over last season as Biggie Munn's successor, has 15 lettermen returning from the disappointing 1954 Spartans who plummeted from Rose Bowl champion heights to 8th place in the conference.

Only four holdover Spartans played as much as half the time last season and only eight as much as one-third of the time.

"So this is a hard squad to rate," said Daugherty, who served as Spartan line coach for seven years before Munn became athletic director. "It's young and eager and our sophomores rate above average.

Regardless of their finish, the Spartans may unveil some of the Big Ten's fastest backs, headed by sophomore Walt Kowalczyk, a 198 pounder, who is the squad's swiftest.

Baldacci Explains

'I Just Like Football' Versatile Back Says

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 20-year-old Akron, Ohio, senior is probably Michigan's most versatile back. Lou Baldacci explains it simply, "I just like football — that's all."

As a quarterback in his sophomore year Baldacci showed he could run and pass. Last year he became Michigan's sometimes quarterback sometimes fullback.

This year necessity called him for the 1st-string fullback job.

"I like fullback," Baldacci said, "it gives you a chance to do more running and carry the ball more often — I guess it's just a lot more sweating."

Baldacci liked his old job too. He said:

"It took me at least a year — my sophomore year — to learn Michigan's system — the signal calling. Last year I really felt I knew it. That's when I started to switch back and forth."

The switching hasn't hurt Baldacci's talents at all. If anything, it has made better use of them.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, who has been forced to put Baldacci at both spots says, "he's a real good, hard single wing football player. He's equally good on the new single wing or the old single wing."

"Of course the difference between the two is like night and day," Baldacci said. "You have to pace yourself different at quarterback than you do for fullback. This is probably the biggest difference between them."

Tigers in Spot to Hit Tribe's Pennant Hopes

Open 3-Game Series in Cleveland Tonight, Aim to Dump Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — With time running out in the American League pennant race, the Detroit Tigers were in a position today to whittle away the chances of the 1st-place Cleveland Indians.

The Indians, with a one-game over the contending New York Yankees, play six of their final eight games against Detroit. They start with a three-game series here tonight.

The six games could be disastrous for the Indians. But the odds are in Cleveland's favor.

In the 1st place the Tribe has won 10 of 16 games with Detroit this year. Then too seven of the Yankees' last 10 games are against the tough 4th-place Boston Red Sox.

Cleveland had the pennant sewed up when Detroit made its final visit here in 1954. But Detroit was fighting the Red Sox for 4th place — last money position in the top standings.

Early Wynn, who'll pitch tonight's opener, stepped in for the Tribe and hurled a two-hit victory. Tigers were nosed out of the top standings by one game.

The defeat was hard to take and the Tigers aren't likely to forget Cleveland — or Wynn.

Hoeft is at his peak with a 16-7 record that includes seven shutouts and 132 strikeouts. He has an even 2-2 record against the Indians.

Wynn, with a 16-10 mark for the season, has beaten the Tigers two times out of three so far this year.

Texas Lineup Filled With Sophs, Juniors; Bruins Experienced

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Texas A&M marches into Memorial Coliseum tonight to the strains of its own 240-piece band, hoping its sophomore-studded football forces can upset a veteran UCLA outfit that many think will be the top college team in the nation this fall.

The spirited invader from the Southwest Conference listed six sophomores and five juniors in the starting lineup, guided in its split-T attack by sophomore Bobby Joe Conrad.

* * *

UCLA, defending Pacific Coast Conference champions, named a bigger and far more experienced eleven to lead off—eight seniors and three juniors, including a ramming fullback veteran, Bob Davenport.

Upwards of 50,000 are expected to witness the 8:30 p.m. (Pacific Daylight Time) kickoff.

Ready for early substitution as the tailback in UCLA's single wing offense is Ronnie Knox. Yards and yards of copy have been written about 19-year-old Ronnie—stardom at three different high schools, enrollment and subsequent departure from California at Berkeley—but he will be playing his first minute of varsity football tonight.

* * *

The Aggies, figured as a threatening running team, have pointed for UCLA since last year, when the Texas crop of newcomers were freshmen at College Station and were drilled specifically for this opening game.

UCLA appreciates this, and the Bruins also realize a similar situation awaits them next week. Revenge-minded Maryland comes next.

Pitt Rated Superior to California Eleven

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh and California clash for the first time on the gridiron Saturday at Pitt Stadium before an estimated 30,000.

The game marks the coaching debut of Johnny Michelosen at Pitt and it also will be the first time veteran California Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf has sent an eleven against Pitt.

Knoxville, Chicago Set to Clash for ABC Title

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Knoxville, Tenn., and Chicago will clash here tomorrow night for the eastern title of the American Baseball Congress.

Fair to good catches of rainbow trout were reported in the Black and Pigeon rivers, Otsego county; the Au Sable and Manistee below Tippy Dam; Silver Lake, Cheboygan county; Lake Avalon, Montmorency county; Harper and Reed Lakes, Lake county.

By H. GUY MOATS

After three weeks of strenuous workouts, Pontiac High School's football Chiefs tonight may learn what their chances may be for the coming 9-game season.

Chiefs and Wyandotte High collide in the season opener at 8 o'clock in Wisner Memorial Stadium.

Where earlier Chiefs were rated the favorites, today the picture is a little different. Observers figure maybe it could be a toss-up, with the club getting the breaks, turning out to be the eventual winner.

However, this writer will take the West Huron club, on the basis of last year's results, in which Pontiac was winner. With a large number of the 1954 crew back on the job this year, Chiefs probably hold an edge in experienced manpower.

Reduction of the number of "cripples" of earlier in the week has improved the possibilities of victory for Pontiac. For instance, Freeman Watkins will go in the left half slot where Kennie Fusilier was originally named. Watkins has thrown off an annoying injury and last night appeared ready to go. Dick Neaves' at guard says he's ready too. He had been limping with a bad ankle.

Same thing applies to Karl Walker, husky tackle. Karl reported to Coach Ed Graybiel that he was ready for action, as did Jim Shorter, safety man, who has his bad knee in a cast. The cast didn't seem to bother the speedy back too much.

One important cog, however, is still on the uncertain list. Art Poe, quarterback, passer and blocker, still isn't completely ready, Grayviel says.

Starters will include about the same list as mentioned earlier in the week.

Center—Don Hardy.

Defensive players will include Whitlock and Cable at ends; Kennedy and Marv Conwell at tackles; Walker and Bob Holloway at guards; linebackers, Watkins, White, Larson; backs Taylor, Charles Thompson, and Shorter at safety.

A pep rally was held this morning at the high school, first of the season.

The 96-piece Pontiac High School marching band, directed by Dale C. Harris, will furnish it contribution to tonight's 1955 opener.

Led by drum major James Erwin, the band will provide both pre-game and halftime entertainment. Halftime show will revolve around Latin American tunes, greetings to the visiting team, and the school song.

WOLVERINE LEADER — One of the University of Michigan's steadiest linemen, and its inspirational leader this year, is Oxford's Edgar Meads (above). Meads is the first Pontiac area gridder in recent times to lead the Wolverines, as far as records at Ann Arbor disclosed today. Six feet tall, 199 pounds of brawn, Meads is regarded by Coach Benny Oosterbaan "as very reminiscent of last year's captain, Ted Cachey . . . not flashy, but hits hard, and is always steady and dependable." Football officials at Ann Arbor rate Meads as having good leadership qualities, one who "lifts up" his teammates. Meads is a senior. He saw 306 minutes of action in 1954, exceeded only by Art Walker and Ron Kramer.

PHS Jayvees Wallop Foes in Opening Scrap

Brooks' Long Dashes Highlights 20-7 Win Over Detroiters

Getting the jump on the varsity eleven, Pontiac High School's Jayvees yesterday afternoon walloped the Defroit Catholic Central junior squad 20-7. The game was the opener for the Chiefs' juniors who have a club composed entirely of sophomores.

After a scoreless first period, PHS juniors chalked up a tally early in the 2nd session. Archie Brooks, one of the speedy members of last spring's state championship track squad, broke loose for 45 yards and a touchdown.

Only minutes later, in the same period, a successful pass play set up another touchdown for the Jayvees. The pass covered 45 yards, starting from Dick Whitmer to John Phlegm. Whitmer then carried the leather over for the counter.

Brooks again lugged the ball for the final tally. In the 3rd period a Catholic Central punt was taken by the flashy runner on the CC 45-yard marker and Archie went all the way.

Jayvees' extra points were made by a lineplay and a pass.

Rugged Start Facing LSU's Paul Dietzel

* * *

Kentucky, rated a top contender for the Southeastern Conference crown, has a veteran team to work with Hardy, a top ranking passer and clever ballhandler.

Plenty Birds Promised for Fall Hunting

Prospects for Ducks, Pheasants Bright, but Grouse Not So Good

LANSING (AP) — If birds in the bush are any indication, Michigan hunters should have plenty of birds in hand as they tramp through the crisp fields this fall.

Early prospects for pheasants and ducks are excellent. But the news about ruffed and sharptailed grouse is not so heartening.

Here's what Dr. S. C. Whitlock, conservation department research specialist, has to say about the Oct. 20-Nov. 10 pheasant season:

"We should have a good year—maybe better than last year, and certainly one of our better seasons. Reports from a survey by rural mail carriers point to a good season and these reports are borne out by information by some 300 farmers cooperating with the department.

"Our field men have observed that the birds are relatively mature this year. That means hunters won't have so many complaints about young birds when the season opens.

"We hate to say anything about the best place to hunt. But all our information shows the Thumb will again be the best pheasant locality."

The department can't get much pre-season dope on waterfowl from the state, since only a small part of the duck population is native, but the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service says there will be plenty of birds.

Miami, Georgia Tech Scrap Saturday Pits Two Brilliant Quarterbacks in Bonfiglio, Mitchell

ATLANTA (AP)—Eleven will be the magic number to watch when Miami and Georgia Tech, two of the nation's top-ranked teams, meet Saturday in one of the first big football games of the 1955 season.

* * *

The number will be worn by both quarterback Mario Bonofiglio of Miami and quarterback Wade Mitchell of Tech.

What they do with the ball may well decide the outcome of this first college football game ever to be televised nationally in color (NBC, 2:30 p.m. EST).

Miami's "drive series" offense is built around Bonofiglio's brilliant ball handling. Tech will be depending a lot on Mitchell's generalship in directing belly plays.

* * *

The 11 will be easy to see at Grand Field and on television. Bonofiglio will wear it on the front and back of his jersey. Mitchel will have the number on the front and back of his jersey and on the top of both shoulders.

* * *

Shoulder numbers are something new at Tech; an dare designed to assist identification in pileups and on muddy days when numerals may not be clearly visible. All Tech players will wear them tomorrow.

The game itself is a toss-up. In a pre-season Associated Press poll, the nation's sportswriters and broadcasters picked Miami No. 9 and Tech No. 10.

* * *

Neither coach will predict a victory.

Miami's Andy Gustafson thunks it will be a close game and is worried about Tech's speed.

Tech's Bobby Dodd says he's proud of the backfield "but the question is can we break 'em through that Miami line. We feel that Miami has an edge on us up front and your backs can't go without a good line of scrimmage to make the holes."

* * *

Tech's backfield in addition to Mitchell, who is a dangerous runner and good passer, boasts a pair of smart, speedy runners in halfbacks Jimmy Thompson and Paul Rotenberry. Ken Owen and Dick Mattison head a strong group of capable fullbacks.

Hot Title Fights Looming for Border Cities, EML

DETROIT (AP)—A two-team race in the Border Cities League with four strong contenders for honors in the Eastern Michigan League!

In the Border race, another dogfight looms between defending champion Grosse Pointe and Royal Oak. Only this time the edge appears to ride with the Oaks, who have 19 lettermen back. In contrast, Grosse Pointe suffered severe graduation losses.

A repeat of last year's dogfight in the Eastern Michigan loop appears likely. In '54 only two victories separated champion Hazel Park from cellar-dwelling Mount Clemens.

Birmingham may threaten along with Ferndale.

Bilko Most Valuable

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Big Steve Bilko, who socked 37 homers for Los Angeles this year, has been named the most valuable player in the Pacific Coast League by the Baseball Writers' Assn.

Bilko was presented with a $2,500 check from a soft drink manufacturer after being selected yesterday. He was also presented with the Tony Lazzeri Memorial Trophy for capturing the home run championship. His .328 average was second high in the league.

Milt Schmidt Rules Bruins Must Play 18

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The preseason practice of the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League includes workouts both on ice and the golf course.

Coach Milt Schmidt, a firm believer in golf as a means to get in shape, has ordered every member of the Bruins to travel 18 holes at a nearby course after morning workouts on the ice.

Detours Bring Police Warning for UM Games

Capt. Rolland J. Gainsley of the Ann Arbor police has some words of advice for those attending Michigan games this fall: "come early if you want to see the 1st quarter."

Capt. Gainsley said there is a two-mile detour on Whitmore Lake Rd. (U.S. 23 from Flint, Saginaw, Lansing and Points West.)

He also called attention to construction zones on M17, U.S. 112 and M112 from Detroit.

Some 190 police will patrol these areas in some 50 cars. City police will be supplemented with Washtenaw county sheriffs men and 100 state troopers.

A good reminder: all Michigan home games start at 1:30, half hour earlier than last fall.

Soph Talent Loads Spartan Gridiron Squad

Generally, those are most experienced seniors and juniors.

For MSU this year, it looks as if nearly half of the travelling squad will be 1st year men.

Pretty soon the coaches will start tearing their fingernails as they try to figure out the best 38 men to take to Bloomington. There will be a record number of sophomores on that roster.

'Unknown' Leading Philly Tournament

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Doug Higgins, a virtually unknown pro from Midland, Tex., held a two-stroke lead over the field and a new course record today as second round of the $20,000 Daily News Open Golf Tournament began.

* * *

The 28-year-old Texan shot a 30-34—64 over the newly revised 6,243 yard Cobbs Creek public links course yesterday to head Californians Jerry Barber, of Los Angeles, and Bud Holscher who shot identical 31-35—66s over the par 68 layout.

* * *

The Philadelphia course proved easy for the touring pros as one other player, Leo Biagetti, Willoughby, Ohio, carded a 67 and nine others matched par.

Higgins' round included five birdies and one bogie. His putting was accurate throughout.

Ward Leads Amateurs in Semifinal Test

* * *

Booe is the little guy who used to trot out on the Yale Bowl turf almost a decade ago and kick those vital points when the Elis scored a touchdown. Now a quiet, bespectacled Bridgeport, Conn., businessman, he's in the semifinals of the National Amateur along with one other almost unknown golfer.

* * *

* * *

The other semi-final brings together Hillman Robbins Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., last year's intercollegiate champion, and William Hyndman III, of Phiadelphia, who has been recognized for years as a fine golfer who played only around home.

* * *

Ward, from Tarboro, N.C., ranks as odds-on favorite now that all the other players of international stature have been removed. If he and Robbins should lose, they might as well shut up shop at the Country Cub of Virginia because the fans are strictly for the southern boys.

Harvie is pretty confident about the whole thing. He's been playing exceptionally well over the rugged, 6,713-yard, par 70 James River Course. He had a 19-hole squeaker in his opening match against Ray Palmer but has won every one since by a comfortable margin.

After knocking out Robert Jordan of Greensboro, N.C., and young Jimmy McCoy of West Palm Beach, Fla., yesterday, Ward repeated an earlier statement that if he keeps on playing the same kind of golf, he stands a chance to win.

Booe, on the other hand, had the roughest of all roads to the semifinals, although three of the four quarter-final matches went to the 18th green. For the first seven holes against tall Charles Kunkle, upset conqueror of Joe Conrad, Bill couldn't make a par.

"I felt so bad I didn't want to go on. I didn't want that match to finish," he said afterward.

* * *

But he did go on and, as Bobby Jones advised, had his bad round when his opponent also was having a bad one. Coming to the 18th, they were all even and both short of the green in two. Booe chipped within five feet of the cup, then blew the putt. But Kunkle missed an even shorter one to lose.

The 39-year-old Hyndman, who beat his Philadelphia friend Jimmy McHale in the morning, turned back intercollegiate champion Joe Campbell, 2 up, after the Indiana youngster shook off an attack of nerves and halved seven straight holes and won the 17th to stay in the running.

* * *

Robbins had another match that could give anyone the shakes. He shot a 67 and won only 1 up from Ed Hopkins of Abilene, Texas. He had to sink a 55-foot chip shot on the 17th to win after Hopkins had squared the match with a 20-foot putt on the 17th green.

"I thought I was dead when he made that putt," Hillman said, "and it was the biggest surprise of my life when that chip went in."

THURSDAY'S STARS

HITTING — Stan Musial, Cardinals, rapped a double and home run in 3-2, 12-inning victory over Dodgers, stretching his National League record of seasons with 300 or more total bases to 11.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

If you're built like Tarzan, heavy on muscles, don't use your power on the pins. Speed doesn't knock them down. More often it's a handicap than an asset. Concentrate on developing a smooth swing by use of the push-away. With it you can regulate ball speed to fit any alley surface, slick or slow, merely by length of the push-away as sketch shows. On a slick alley you reduce the push-away to decrease the arc length for a delivery of medium speed. On an alley that is slow (one that runs quickly or breaks sharply from right to left toward the head pin), you push the ball away farther, for a larger, speed producing arc. Swing is the controlling factor. Any attempt to create speed by physical force must lead to failure because holding the ball in a consistent swinging groove then isn't possible. Work on push-away action and you'll be on your way to top scoring.

Frankie Ryff Hopes to Continue Climbing

DETROIT (AP)—Frankie Ryff, acclaimed boxing's "Rookie of the Year" in 1954, hopes to bounce back from his only professional loss tonight and resume his meteoric rise in the lightweight rankings.

The bouncy, 23-year-old New Yorker meets Joey Lopes of Sacramento, Calif., in a nationally televised 10-rounder from Olympia Stadium starting at 9 p.m. (EST).

Ryff, currently No. 4 among the lightweights, dropped his first decision last May after running up 17 consecutive victories as a pro. He was beaten in 10 rounds by Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, who is ranked No. 2.

State Officials Study Mysterious Deer Deaths

MANISTEE (AP) — The state conservation office has reported mysterious deer deaths in Manistee County, apparently from either disease or poisoning.

Conservation officer Bill Copeland said eight dead deer have been found in the last few days, none of which were victims of starvation or gunshot.

He said conservation department workers are expected this week to check conditions in an attempt to determine the cause of death.

Jockeys of Distinction

Eddie Arcaro, Johnny Longden, Ted Atkinson and Johnny Adams are the only American jockeys who have won 3,000 or more races up to the current year.

The pro Lakers have signed 6-6 Bob Williams for the 1955-56 season.

College Grid Play Set to Erupt

The 1955 college football season explodes with a bang this weekend in the midst of a sports scene already packed with the drama of a tight American League pennant race and the finals of the National Amateur Golf championship.

The pros have been at it for more than a month in exhibition games. A scattering of small colleges arrived on the scene a week ago.

* * *

But tonight and tomorrow it'll be the big boys—those who seek national rating, major conference titles and a possible bid to one of the post-season bowl games. No warm-up games for the majority of them. It'll be all-out from the opening whistle.

It's been many a year since the colleges opened a new season with such a stellar attraction as UCLA-Texas A&M, which is on tap at Los Angeles tonight. The Uclans rated No. 2 in the final Associated Press poll last year and were voted No. 1 in this year's pre-season poll. The Aggies won only one of their 10 games last year but Bear Bryant is building and might worry the Pacific Coast Conference favorites.

* * *

The UCLA-Texas Aggies game is the top one on the meager menu tonight but tomorrow there are enough major games to satisfy even the most hungry of football fans.

On a pre-season rating basis the Maryland-Missouri game at Columbia, Mo., and the University of Miami-Georgia Tech contest at Atlanta rate the top interest. Maryland, big favorite to win the Atlantic Coast Conference title, was rated No. 5 in the pre-season poll. Miami was tagged No. 9 and Georgia Tech No. 10. The Miami-Georgia Tech game is the TV game of the week.

California and Pittsburgh add additional flavor to the intersectional program, meeting at Pittsburgh in the only major eastern game. Lynn O. (Pappy) Waldorf is bringing east a line that is giving him concern to inaugurate Johnny Michelosen's career as Panther coach.

* * *

Conference races, which usually don't get underway until after the first week or so of the season, present three games in the Southeastern Conference and two in the Pacific Coast circuit.

Kentucky's Wildcats, a dark horse for the Southeastern crown, sends a new lineup against Louisiana State at Baton Rouge Saturday night. The same night Mississippi, beaten by Navy in last New Year's Day Sugar Bowl game, takes on Georgia at Atlanta. In the afternoon Mississippi State is at Florida.

Needling Roils Rocky

The 38-year-old veteran's taunts helped get him his Sept. 20 title fight with the heavyweight king but it also could lead to quick destruction for Moore in Yankee Stadium.

* * *

Archie's barbs have nettled him, Rocky admits. It also has served as a stimulant for the undefeated Brockton Blaster.

* * *

Rocky said he is in the greatest shape of his career, and that he expected to put on "one of my best fights."

Asked if Moore's oft-repeated cracks about him had something to do with this, Rocky replied:

"I guess so. Everything has been leading up to this. It kind of spurs you on. I think I want to win this more than any fight since the first one with Jersey Joe Walcott when I won the title."

At the same time Rocky said he respects the light-heavyweight champion's skill and was looking for a tough fight.

"From all reports and talks I've had about him, I guess he must be called the most dangerous fighter I've ever faced. I've watched him on television and we go over the mosies of his fight with Harold Johnson."

* * *

He was very much at ease as he answered questions fired at him by some 30 newspapermen in one of the bedrooms of his training quarters.

* * *

After the press conference, Rocky boxed four rounds with two sparmates, Sgt. J. B. Reed and Keene Simmons. It was a typical Marciano workout, a real "war" every second with Rocky hitting and missing like he does in a regular fight.

* * *

He concentrated on body punching. When his sparmates folded their arms across their body like Moore does, Rocky smashed at the arms. When the body was exposed, Rocky whaled away at the stomach and ribs. It was the same whether the sparring partners jabbed and counter-punched while moving back or when they tried to hold ground and trade blows at close quarters.

Maples Start New Grid Year in Night Game

Open Tonight at Home Against Southfield's 'Vengeful' Club

Tonight's impending scrap is the 1st of two non-league encounters before the Maples start on their Eastern Michigan League campaign Sept. 30 at Mt. Clemens.

Southfield, boasting a veteran forward wall, will be seeking revenge for a 6-0 loss to the Maples a year ago on its own gridiron. The Bluejays, coached by Monte Charles, will rely heavily on their front-line forces to halt a fleet of veteran Birmingham backs.

Bears' Victory Puts End to Jinx

Dump Browns 24-21 in Last-Half Surge During Benefit Game

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears broke a long-time jinx last night by beating the Cleveland Browns in a last-half surge, 24-21, in the 10th annual Armed Forces Benefit Game at Soldier Field.

The Browns had beaten the Bears seven times in a row and were headed for another victory with a 21-7 halftime lead. But the Bears came back with two touchdowns in the third period and won on George Blanda's 9-yard field goal in the last quarter after the Bears had recovered a Cleveland fumble on the Cleveland 23-yard line.

The two teams do not meet during the regular National Football League season this year.

Ted Has Part in Boston Plans

Several More Years to Play Expected, Says Manager Joe Cronin

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox are planning on Ted Williams being back in 1956 and "for several years" to come.

"As far as we're concerned, we want him back and we expect him back for several years as a player," General Manager Joe Cronin said yesterday.

Cronin made the statement after the 37-year-old Williams was quoted as saying "it depends on the front office" whether he will play next year.

* * *

"He's a perfectionist," Cronin said. "He keeps himself in excellent physical condition which adds to his playing years."

Williams announced his retirement last season, but changed his mind and returned in mid-May this season. Cronin said it will be up to Ted when he decides to call it quits.

Kansas Seeking Win After String of Defeats

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A Kansas team seeking its first victory in 17 games tests Texas Christian's ebullient Horned Frogs tomorrow night in the opening of the football season.

The Christians, boasting their best prospects since Word War II, will be dominating favorites to start the campaign with a solid decision and some 20,000 will turn out to see them do it.

Tribe Holds Edge as AL Thriller Nears End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

So now the American League thriller comes to this: Cleveland has eight games to play, New York 10. Both have to win 'em all.

* * *

The Indians and Yankees start the final run for the money tonight all even on the "lost" side. Each has dropped 56, and Cleveland's one-game edge over New York comes from the fact the Tribe has played two more and has won two more.

* * *

Cleveland is at home to Detroit tonight. The Tribe plays six of its final games with the Tigers, two with the still-hopeful Chicago White Sox.

New York plays Boston at Yankee Stadium. The Yanks have seven left with the Red Sox, three with Washington, the club "that's kept us up there," says Manager Casey Stengel, by taking 13 of 22 from Cleveland.

* * *

* * *

On the face of it, Cleveland has the edge. No matter who you play, it's easier to win eight straight than 10. By sweeping the eight, Cleveland can be assured of nothing worse than a deadlock. Any New York loss means Cleveland need win one less.

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, in a pensive mood, thinks the difference in games remaining will decide it. "We have eight and they have 10. We have two days off next week and they have only one.

"We can rotate three pitchers and they're going to have to use four of five starters, especially in that last weekend in Boston. They have four games in the last three days.

* * *

"We've won two more than the Yankees and they've got to catch up. Maybe it won't be easy."

Boston Manager Pinky Higgins promised it won't "be easy." Knowing his Red Sox are out of it, Pinky said, "We'll be up for the Yankees. We like nothing better than to beat them."

* * *

Stengel was more whimsical going into the showdown. "I've been reading for two weeks how them two fellas (Lopez and White Sox boss Marty Marion) have been claiming the pennant. I'm surprised neither has won it yet. Maybe they don't want it and maybe we'll win it ourselves."

Lopez and Stengel both have their big guys ready—Lopez with Early Wynn (16-10), Mike Garcia (11-12) and Bob Lemon (18-8) and Case with Whitey Ford (17-7), Tommy Byrne (15-4) and Bob Turley (16-13).

* * *

They'll probably go in that order, starting tonight, through Sunday. In return, Detroit has named Billy Hoeft (16-7), Frank Lary (13-11) and Bob Miller (0-1). Boston has listed Frank Sullivan (18-12), Tom Brewer (11-10) or George Susce (8-1) and Willard Nixon (12-8).

* * *

Stengel, with four straight complete games from his staff for the first time this season, has added another National League sleeper for the payoff run. He picked up Gerry Staley, a 35-year-old right-hander, from Cincinnati just as he acquired Johnny Sain's help in the '51 pennant victory.

Only one game was scheduled in the majors yesterday and Brooklyn, the National League champ, lost its fifth straight, the Dodgers' longest slump of the year. It was a 3-2 decision in 12 innings at St. Louis as Brooklyn ended its last western trip of the year.

* * *

Stan Musial and Rip Repulski, with back-to-back homers off rookie Sandy Koufax in the third, pulled the NL even with its own major league home run record of 1,197 set in 1953.

Favorite Is Winner

DETROIT (AP)—Scotch Valley, a 3-5 favorite, came from behind to win the $3,000 open trot at Wolverine raceway last night. Betty Astra was 2nd and Judy Tass 3rd.

In days gone by, most top-flight college football teams started the season with a breather. Such is not the case any more. Many of the nation's ranking elevens will live dangerously this weekend, getting down to cases in mid-season manner.

UCLA 21, Texas A. & M. 6 . . . A worthy opening test for the Bruins, selected by many—including International News Service's panel of experts—as the team most likley to succeed Ohio State as national champion.

Pittsburgh 13, California 7 . . . the Golden Bears, after a cross-country junket, must rate as underdogs to up-and-coming Pitt for this particular Saturday afternoon. Johnny Michelosen makes his debut as Panther coach.

Maryland 33, Missouri 14 . . . Don Faurot of old Missou taught Maryland's Jim Tatum the split-5, but the Terps have the horses.

Texas Christian 19, Kansas 0 . . . Jayhawks had really rough sledding last fall, failing to win a game for new coach Chuck Mather. They're up against too tough a foe again when they match strength with TCU.

Florida 20, Mississippi State 14 . . . The fighting 'Gators won't have it easy, but they should slide by.

Miami 13, George Tech 10 . . . A game that has everyone guessing. The Hurricanes have been labeled one of the great teams of the country before the opening kickoff and must rate a slim choice over the Rambling Wreck, which lost too many lettermen.

Kentucky 14, LSU 7 . . . Blanton Collier, former assistant to pro wizard Paul Brown, brought Kentucky along to a strong finish in 1954, his first season.

Mississippi 21, Georgia 18 . . . Although Old Miss was badly shaken by its Sugar Bowl loss to Navy, it deserves a three-point edge in another wonderful Southern classic.

Baylor 27, Hardin-Simmons 7 . . . George Sauer has done a remarkable job at Baylor. The Bears' experience adds up to a sad beginning for slingin' Sammy Baugh as head coach at Hardin-Simmons.

Texas 20, Texas Tech 14 . . . Longhorns may need luck to escape upstart Tech team that wants to win badly.

Race Attracts Top 10 Drivers

3rd Hoosier Hundred at Indiana State Fair Set for Saturday

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The top 10 drivers in AAA big car racing standings are entered in Saturday's third "Hoosier Hundred" on the Indiana State Fairgrounds mile track.

* * *

Bob Sweikert of Indianapolis already has become the first Indianapolis 500-mile winner to capture the AAA championship since World War II, but the battle for second place may be undecided until the final 100-miler at Las Vegas, Nov. 20.

* * *

Behind Sweikert's 2,150 points are Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., and Johnny Thomson, Springfield, Mass., 900 each; Jimmy aDvies, Pacioma, Calif., 890 and Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, Ariz., the defending champion, 880.

Bad Feelings Absent as Rochester Wins

TORONTO (AP)—Judging from the fireworks last night when Rochester slammed out a 14-10 victory in the opener of International League Governors' Cup play, the only players in need of "extra police protection" are the Red Wing and Maple Leaf pitchers.

There was no eruption of the "hard feelings" between the two clubs which prompted Rochester general manager George Sisler Jr. to request Toronto to put on additional park police for this final playoff series.

But certainly there was an eruption of heavy hitting as 24 runs—a record high in 22 years of playoff competition—crossed the plate on 28 hits, with 14 walks and four errors thrown in for good measure.

Solunar Tables

Fishing periods scheduled below have been taken from John Alden Knight's solunar tables. For fishing in good territory during these times, the tables indicate when the best sport that each day has to offer will be found.

Hefty Maryland Rated to Defeat Missouri Tigers

Coach Jim Tatum's Terps, who routed Missouri 74-13 at Baltimore in the last game of the 1954 season, have won all five of the previous meetings between the two teams. The closest Missouri bid was in 1952 when the Tigers led 10-7 before losing 13-10 in the last minute.

Alan Ladds Will Produce Movie on Wartime Navy

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The Alan Ladds paused long enough from opening Alan's new hardware store in Palm Springs to tell me about a screen purchase they've made, "The Deep Six."

Said Sue, over the long distance telephone, "This is the biggest venture of Alan's career. We've bought an honest—almost brutal—story of Navy life in World War II."

The Ladds return tomorrow, and Alan is leaving Robert Higgins, his partner, in charge of the store, which is called Higgins-Ladd, while he does some picture making.

He and Bob Higgins went to North Hollywood High together, and Sue was in Palm Springs in time to take Mrs. Higgins and the new baby home.

BOYER IN ROME

Charles Boyer telephoned his attractive Pat (Mrs. Boyer) from Paris to say he was on his way to Rome to play opposite the European beauty Sophia Loren in "It's Lucky to Be a Woman."

"I'm so excited about Charles being in Rome," said Pat. "I've never been there, and he's asked me to come over. So, as soon as I can get my clothes together and he telephones again, I'm going to join him.

"It will be for six weeks only, because he has to be back here Nov. 20 for the Four Star Playhouse.

That should be a combination—Boyer and Loren. She's about the hottest thing in Rome today.

TEACHER LIBERACE

There appears to be no end of the money Liberace can make from a piano keyboard. Lee and brother George have worked out a mail order piano course similar to Arthur Murray's dance instuctions, which should have your child, and yours, and yours, pounding the ivories.

Anyone can play, in other words. They first tried it out on an 18-year-old non-musical niece with success.

Make fun of Liberace all you please, but he's a smart cookie. He knows just where he's going and why.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Eileen Barton writes that she has been sentenced to a month of silence following a throat operation. We can't have Eileen losing that voice of hers.

Look out! Jimmy Dean has ordered an English sports racing car which does 150 miles per hour. He comments that he likes to be out in front.

Susan Hayward hits her stride in "I'll Cry Tomorrow," whispered as her best performance. The pocket editions of this novel hit the newsstands Oct. 4. The first printing—over 750,000 copies.

About Our History . . .

In the twilight of the 19th century Michigan was growing rapidly as the settlers from the East flocked to the rich farmland. Old Indian trails were becoming roads. One such road was the Pontiac-Farmington Junction road (today called Orchard Lake Road). The local farmers built and maintained a toll-gate house until 1920 to keep this road in good repair.

MONROVIA, Calif. (AP) — "Daddy, give me a penny," implored Richard Meza, 2. Michael Meza did, but wishes he hadn't.

Daddy didn't know what the boy was talking about — until he smelled smoke and investigated. He found that Richard had put the coin in the cigar lighter of the family car, causing a short that touched off a fire.

Carolina School Reverses Policy

3 Negroes Enrolled as First Undergraduates in University's History

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—Three Negro students were ready for classes today at the University of North Carolina, the first of their race to be enrolled in the undergraduate school at the 166-year-old institution.

* * *

Leroy Frasier, 17, his brother Ralph, 16, and John L. Brandon, 18, were admitted yesterday after federal judges refused to stay an order issued Saturday directing the school to accept the youths.

University officials said all three were "academically qualified." All are graduates of Durham's Hillside High School and will commute daily from Durham, 12 miles away.

Meanwhile, Louisiana State University turned down one Negro undergraduate application but said another, A.P. Tureaud Jr., was eligible for undergraduate arts and law.

The 19-year-old Tureaud, son of the chief counsel in Louisiana for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, did not enroll, however. Later the father said he plans to send his son back to Xavier University at New Orleans.

The father explained that as long as LSU apparently intends to ask a rehearing in the court case, his son might lose a semester of study in any new legal dispute. The youth sought to transfer from Xavier to LSU.

LSU has been admitting Negroes to its graduate and professional schools for several years under federal court order. The university of North Carolina also opened its doors to Negro graduate students several years ago as a result of a similar ruling.

Huge Warehouse Burns in Virginia Flash Fire

After a battle of nearly two hours, firemen managed to control the flames that for a time had threatened the local general offices of the U.S. Plywood Co.

There was no immediate estimate of damage.

Two Texas Women See Same Patterns

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. J. W. Branch and Mrs. Zack Murray are fast friends.

They both gave birth to boys at about the same time Wednesday.

Denver Judge Denies Youth His True Love

"Do you have any statement to make before sentence is imposed?"

"Yes, could I get married first?" replied Shields.

"Absolutely not," declared the judge as he sentenced the 19-year old youth to an indeterminate term for assault to commit robbery.

Charge 'Scholarly' Type

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A scholarly looking transient is in jail on charges of stealing microscopes from UCLA and California Institute of Technology.

Special police at UCLA booked Henry R. Harer, 33, in West Los Angeles jail on four counts of grand theft. They allege he stole four microscopes, a slide rule and camera from Caltech and 10 microscopes from UCLA.

The loot is valued at $9,000 and has been recovered at pawnshops, police said. Officers said Harer told them he sold the microscopes for about $50 each.

Child Dies in Car

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—While Mr. and Mrs. Billy Graham watched a drive-in movie last night their 14-month-old daughter Karen hanged herself in the back seat. Police said she apparently climbed on a pillow and put her head out a partially opened side window. The pillow slipped, leaving her head trapped between the window glass and frame.

Town's Tax Officials Talk in Morse Code

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — How does the tax assessor communicate with the tax collector in Pinellas County's modern courthouse? By Morse code.

Assessor H. H. Sterling used to be a railroad telegrapher about 40 years ago on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. And collector Lester Lambert once was a telegrapher for the Atlantic Coast Line.

Now there's no need to worry about a busy signal on the phone or to walk from end of the big building to the other to talk business.

Urge Hot Air Blast for California Smog

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Solution of the smog problem is quite simple, said the Associated Plumbing Contractors of Los Angeles in a resolution yesterday.

"We hereby petition smog control officials and all others who have talked much on how to solve this problem to gather all of these groups together, travel to the highest mountain, face the wall of smog and start talking all at once," said the resolution.

"The resultant wind is sure to dissipate in short order the smog hovering in the air."

Grains Lower in Active Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—A little expansion in selling pressure prior to the weekend forced grain prices down on the Board of Trade today.

Losses were not large and the selling met a good number of registering orders, creating a quite active market. Brokers felt part of the selling represented a profit-taking in view of the fairly substantial advances scored since the Labor Day holiday.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ down to ¾ lower, September $1.97¼; corn ½ to ⅞ lower, September $1.30; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, September 58; rye unchanged to ¼ higher September $1.25; soybeans ¾ to 1¾ lower, September $2.24½; lard unchanged to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $10.95.

Negro Pair Plans to Occupy Home in White Section

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C. (AP) — A Negro couple planned to move into their house in an all-white section of this resort community today after no one accepted their option to sell at an $8,000 profit.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin White, formerly of Jamaica, N.Y., said yesterday they will move into the house sometime today. Their furniture was moved in several days ago.

The couple bought the five-room air-conditioned frame house from a white woman who said she had notified Henry L. Graves, developer of the Kenwood section, beforehand.

After protests from families in the neighborhood, the Whites agreed to an option calling for them to sell the $12,000 house for $20,000 by Sept. 15.

There were no takers. Two days ago Graves offered to buy them another at a different site, giving them $1,000 besides. The Whites refused, saying they were not interested in building now.

Car Output Is Seen on Upward Swing

DETROIT (AP) — Passenger car production this week will swing back upward with 122,158 assemblies indicated, compared with last week's 79,940.

Reporting this today, Automotive News said the increase follows an upturn in Ford's production of 1956 models and continued high output by General Motors, still building 1955 cars.

The trade paper noted that Pontiac will end its 1955 model output this week and will not return to production until Oct. 3. Cadillac also is down for model changeover and is not expected to resume operations until at least Sept. 26.

Automotive News said GM scheduled 74,741 car assemblies, while Ford has scheduled 37,150 units. Chrysler, with Plymouth Division still down, scheduled 6,700 assemblies and Studebaker 2,199.

The industry's truck assemblies this week are placed at 19,230 compared with last week's 15,137.

Lake Man Found Dead; Possible Suicide Victim

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — Robert Wright, 28, of Lake, Mich., was found dead in the back seat of his car on a road in Isabella County last night. He had been shot in the head.

The car had left the road and turned over in a ditch.

Dr. Leo Wickert, county coroner, said paraffin tests of the hands will be made to determine if the wound was self-inflicted.

State Police said Wright was found with a rifle in his hands pointed at his head. A warrant had been issued against Wright charging him with negligent homicide in a July 5 traffic fatality near Cadillac.

Home Loan Bank Acts to Prevent Inflation

WASHINGTON — The Federal Home Loan Bank Board has called upon its district banks to tighten the lid on credit advances to the more than 4,200 member savings and loan institutions, according to Board Chairman Walter W. McAllister.

In messages to the presidents of the 11 Federal Home Loan Banks, the board requested that each bank advise its member institutions to follow a loan program which will meet loan demands out of savings and loan repayments in order to curb inflationary tendencies observable at this time.

Little Gainers Push Mart Up

NEW YORK (AP)—A lot of little gainers in the stock market today added up to a moderately higher position in the early afternoon.

* * *

There were no outstanding price movements in either direction. Most price changes could easily be covered by 2 points either way.

Among higher stocks were Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, Du Pont, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Mack Trucks, and Boeing.

* * *

Cuneo Press, which has been quite strong and active in recent sessions, fell back around 2 points early in the day after a company officials said earnings weren't running as high as one Wall Street source had estimated.

Jews Celebrate Rosh Hashanah, New Year 5,716

Throughout the world, Jews will celebrate the holiday with prayers, greetings and messages of hope—which will culminate on Yom Kippur, the fast day of atonement Sept. 26.

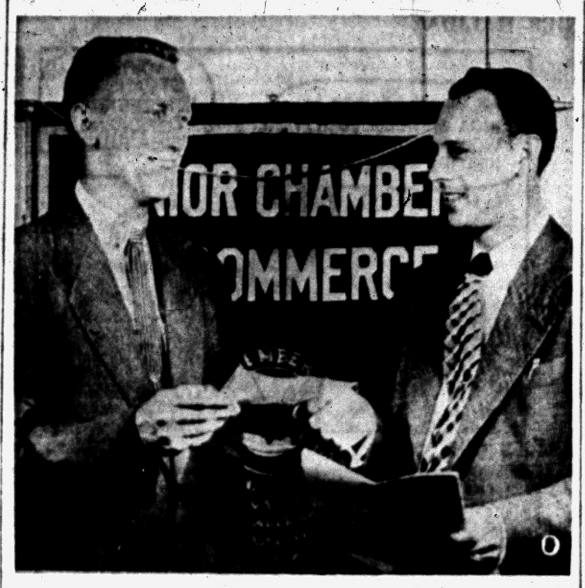

From his Denver headquarters last night, President Eisenhower extended greetings to all Americans of Jewish faith, urging a renewal of "devotion to the cause of peace."

The National Jewish Welfare Board has made preparations so that American Jewish servicemen at home and abroad can celebrate the high holiday.

The Air Force will take four Jewish chaplains on a 10,000-mile tour of faraway bases, including remote arctic stations.

African Tauregs Cling to Strange Old-World Ways

LOS ANGELES — A proud and little known people whose men wear veils and cling to customs reminiscent of knights of old were visited recently by a geographer of the University of California.

Dr. Benjamin Thomas visited the land of the Tauregs while studying trade routes and modes of transportation in Africa.

Taureg men consider the veil a symbol of masculinity. Taureg women, unlike their Moslem sisters elsewhere in the Arab world, never wear the veil and have the same social freedom as women in the Western world.

The interior of the rear of the building was gutted by the fire and considerable damage was caused by water. The front of the store suffered only smoke damage.

Adenauer Still Opposes Reds

Says Diplomatic Change Won't Alter Opposition to East Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared firmly today that establishment of diplomatic relations with Moscow will not change his government's opposition to the Communist East German regime.

* * *

But he told a crowded news conference the Soviet rejection of his own government's claim to represent all of Germany did not surprise him.

* * *

Moscow, he explained, could not leave one satellite in the lurch without arousing fear in the others that the same thing could happen to them. Soviet statements yesterday said East Germany is a sovereign state and the West eventually would have to recognize it.

* * *

Adenauer said his government was not prepared to recognize what he scornfully termed the "Pankow holders of power" as equal spokesmen for Germany in connection with the forthcoming Big Four district where the Communist government has its headquarters.

* * *

"The Pankow regime speaks for at most 10 per cent of the people (of East Germany)," Adenauer said, adding that the rest of the people in East Germany share the views of the Bonn government.

The Chancellor said the Russians had agreed that "the (Big) Four powers are obligated to restore German unity," but warned that "long negotiations will be needed."

Says Scanty Clothes Rough on Weather

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Women in scanty attire and clowns armed with trick gadgets giving weather reports on TV are degrading, say members of the American Meteorological Society which meets at Oklahoma A&M College Oct. 3-5.

* * *

Meteorologists "are a little disturbed at the way some stations present weather information," William E. Hardy, professor and head of the college's meteorology department, said yesterday.

* * *

Hardy agrees that weather programs must be made interesting to attract an audience, but he feels that sex and clowning should be barred.

U. of M. Professor Gives Advice for Politicians

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Prof. Arthur W. Bromage, University of Michigan political scientist and former Ann Arbor alderman, says "councilmen and administrators need to observe good techniques if they are to serve the people as a wining team."

Then he listed these techniques in which he said civil servants must excel: giving the best in service; allowing all citizens and administration to study major decisions; keeping a tolerant attitude and a sense of humor; being wise in press, radio and television relations; handling voter contacts with assurance and constantly working for good government.

Swimming Pool Honors a Year-Old Rain Check

* * *

State Bar Divided on Judge Elections

DETROIT (INS) — The three-day convention of the Michigan State Bar Association ends today at Detroit's Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel with delegates split on a plan to take the election of judges in the state from the hands of the people.

Approximately 1,000 of the association's 8,300 members were registered as the issue reached the floor of the convention. However, only about 700 are expected to cast ballots.

Opponents of the measure, who call it an "insidious scheme" to deprive voters of their traditional rights on election day, say they will "expose" the plan by bringing out in debate the source of its financial support.

Harold H. Burton, associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, and Samuel E. Leibowitz, New York judge, addressed the convention's annual banquet last night.

Hurricane Alert Sounded Along Atlantic Coastline

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A weekend hurricane alert was sounded by the Weather Bureau today for the Atlantic Coast between North Carolina and Florida as Hurricane Ione, her winds built up to 90 miles an hour, pushed west-northwestward at a forward pace of about 12 miles an hour.

* * *

The Atlantic storm was expected to move west-northwestward at about the same forward speed for another 12 hours and swing around to a more northwesterly course after that.

Small craft were advised not to take extended trips out into the Atlantic.

* * *

Forecasters warned that Hilda will carry a great deal of energy across Yucatan and will again become a dangerous storm when she emerges into the Gulf of Campeche. This is a part of the Gulf of Mexico.

Ike Gets Report on Disarmament

President Due to Hear Stassen's Summary of U.N. Talks, Red Views

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower gets a first-hand report from Harold E. Stassen today on United Nations disarmament talks—especially Russia's attitude toward the President's inspection proposals.

* * *

The talks, which grew out of the Geneva Big Four conference, have been going on for more than two weeks. There have been reports American officials feel that Soviet Union representatives are giving serious consideration to Eisenhower's Geneva proposals.

He called at the summit meeting in July for the United States and Russia to exchange military blueprints and agree to mutual aerial inspection. The U.N. talks have been expanded to include ground inspection of military establishments.

* * *

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said the session with Stassen "does not spring from any particular development" in New York, "but rather from an accumulation of developments."

Car Dealers Hit 'Blitz Selling,' Unethical Ads

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Automobile Dealers Assn., today launched a campaign against what it described as misleading "blitz selling and crazy give-aways" by auto dealers.

Frank H. Yarnall, president of the association, appointed a special committee to take immediate steps to combat the practice. He asked directors and state branches of the organization to provide the association with copies of all newspaper, radio and TV advertising which seems "unethical, misleading or false."

"We are not concerned in this program with aggressive selling and merchandising," Yarnall said in a statement.

"The automobile business has been built on keen competition at the manufacturing and dealer levels and we have no desire in any way to curb or restrain this competition. We are prohibited by law from price fixing between dealers at the nation, state and local levels," and have no desire to fix prices.

"Wild claims for huge discounts, high trade allowances, blitz selling and crazy give-aways are, in many instances, 'come-ons' and have no place in automobile retailing," he said.

Freed Priest Found No Beer in Bundles

HONG KONG (INS)—The Rev. Harold W. Rigney was asked today on his release from Red China whether he had received mercy packages through the Red Cross while he was imprisoned.

Asked what he thought of the contents, Father Rigney replied, "they were fine," then turned with a twinkle in his eyes and said: "But it sure would have been nice if you fellows could have slipped a couple of cans of cold beer in now and then."

And a 73-year-old neighbor from nearby Saline, Edward Foster, told the conference: "I was smoking about 50 cigars a week, and then I just decided I'd quit — doesn't seem to help any, though. I don't feel any better or any worse."

Hawaii Boasts Scenic Volcano

Tourists View Kilauea From Autos as Visiting Drive-In Theater

HONOLULU — Hawaii boasts the world's only "drive-in" volcano. It's in the Puna district of the big island of Hawaii, just over an hour by air from Honolulu.

You can park your car next to the Halemaumau fire pit of Kilauea volcano and stare down 600 feet where lava lakes boil fiery orange and cinder cones hiss and spout. And yet all this with no risk.

Volcanologists say all of Hawaii's volcanoes are safe because the lava is soupy enough to let gases escape without building up explosive pressures.

The last eruptions of Mauna Loa occurred in March, April and May. The rush to the area was so great and the changes made by the lava streams in the countryside so interesting that travel companies established regular tours through the district.

The "drive-in" fire pit of Halemaumau is right next door to the bulk of Mauna Loa. Although this area acts up very nicely for sightseeing purposes there hasn't been an eruption in many scores of years. Deep groaning and rumbling noises are heard as the gases and underground masses of lava heave and bubble upward.

It's cool in tropical Hawaii at this mountain altitude. A hotel burns wood fires in open hearths and the visitor is wise to come supplied with sweaters or coats for night visits to the crater.

Besides the steam vents, sulphur banks, fumaroles, lava flows old and new, there are other volcanic sights. There's the Thurston lava tube — a tunnel in the center of a lava flow running from the top of a mountain down to the sea.

And there is an orchid pool nearby, the kind of pool you always imagined finding in a tropical isle and which are actually rather scarce. It's a body of extra clear warm water at the base of a small cliff. Orchids, which grow by the acre nearby, are tossed into the water so that swimmers are surrounded by the exotic blossoms.

Chicago Search Planes Hunt Missing Yachtman

CHICAGO (AP) — Coast Guard boats, Navy and Civil Air Patrol planes today resumed criss-crossing Lake Michigan in a search for Philip Atwood, manufacturer and sportsman, and his 46-foot yacht.

Atwood, 47, of suburban Winnetka, has been missing since Monday when he left the Burnham Park harbor to take his yacht, the Tyree, to dry dock at St. Joseph, Mich. Atwood owns the Atwood Vocational Machine Co. in Rockford, Ill.

Succumbs in England

LONDON (AP) — Leopold Stennet Amery, 81, Conservative party elder statesman and former colonial secretary, died today.

Amery stood 5 feet 4, and won the title of "Pocket Hercules" from his friends. He loved mountain climbing. Three mountains were named after him.

Claims Arthur Has No Verve

TV Columnist Resents Sneering Comments on Commercials

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—A recent issue of a television fan magazine says that this man once was idolized by the American press. Now he is not. The man is Arthur Godfrey.

* * *

Godfrey returned to CBS-TV with his Talent Scouts program Monday evening after a long summer vacation. It would be interesting, one viewer decided, to try to look at Godfrey with a fresh eye. View him, if possible, as if he were just beginning in television.

* * *

The program began and the man came on. He had, he said, gained 10 pounds. It was, he said, the result of drinking too much tea in cans. (One of his sponsors is a tea company.) He named various makes of beer (which do not sponsor him) as being labeled on the cans from which he drank this "tea with foam on it." He drank this tea, he said, while hunting antelope in the West during vacation.

* * *

One began to fidget uneasily. The man displayed no wit as he kept talking. Here was a man back from a long vacation who had the opportunity to start anew with verve. But he had no verve. He seemed bored with his show but not with Arthur Godfrey. Eventually he began to seem contemptuous. The contempt boiled over when he read a commercial for a make of television tube with adolescent cuteness, throwing away the script with a sneer.

"Well, I won't have to read that again till next June," he said.

* * *

Henry Morgan, an entertaining gentleman who's had more downs than ups on television and radio, is an adept and delightful kidder of commercials. But he laughs. He does not snear. I was about to say the sneer has no place in entertainment. Then I remember that Godfrey is a household word and Morgan is less widely known, I don't get it.

New Chief at Selfridge

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Selfridge Air Force Base planned an hour-long parade Friday to greet its new commander, Maj. Gen. Robert E. Eaton, who arrived yesterday and took command of the Tenth Air Force.

Alma Enrollment Up

ALMA (AP)—Alma College classes started Thursday with a 24 per cent increase in enrollment for a new record. The first day enrollment was 651, including a freshman class of 246. One-third of the student body is from metropolitan Detroit.

Children's Home Volunteer Ends Library Duties

After nine years' voluntary service, Mrs. Ione W. Bartholomew yesterday spent her last day as librarian at the Oakland County Children's Home.

Faithfully each Thursday for the past 9 years Mrs. Bartholomew had gone to direct the library program. But now the 83-year-old woman feels her health will no longer permit her to carry on the work.

Yesterday she turned the reins over to Mrs. Vernon E. Freedle of 338 Hulbert Pl., Bloomfield Township.

Mrs. Bartholomew was feted with a farewell party by the 42 teachers and staff members of the children's home, and presented with a leather pocketbook and a rhinestone pin in appreciation of her long service.

"She worked without pay, and set up our whole library system," William Moulton Jr., superintendent of the home, said.

'Telecourse' Ready on MSU Television

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan residents can continue their college education this fall by dialing the Michigan State University television station.

* * *

The university said it will again offer its "Telecourse" over WKAR-TV starting Sept. 26.

Regular college credits can be earned for the course, "Contemporary History of Europe and Asia" from 7 to 7:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Fire Hydrant Fire?

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—Firemen answered an alarm here and found a fire hydrant on fire. The blaze, they said, apparently began when gas fumes from a leak in an underground line somehow ignited.

The Case for Juvenile Decency

Church, Farm, Police--Foes of Delinquency

The fifth of six articles shows how Salt Lake City, New Orleans, New York and other areas have successfully met the challenge of juvenile delinquency.

By JACK LOTTO
INS Staff Writer

Salt Lake City boasts it has the "world's biggest basketball league" in the United States.

Police and court authorities are gratified juvenile delinquency is "practically non-existent" in a community where religion plays an important role with teenagers.

* * *

The two claims are closely tied together where a good percentage of the 20,000 population is engaged in recreational, social and community activities of the Latter Day Saints (Mormon) church.

From the toddler stage upward, the church provides year-round activities and programs. Each age group has a specific program worked out. Boys enter the Boy Scout movement. Dances, music and drama activities complement the sports program of 2,550 organized basketball teams in the city.

During summer months, special outings are planned and there is enough church activity for youngsters to fill four days of every week. Church officials lay the success of the Salt Lake City program to the close integration of their church activities and the every-day life of its members. Juvenile authorities say the delinquency problem is "so far below that elsewhere that it can be considered non-existent."

NEW ORLEANS

In New Orleans, an effective "preventive program" is in effect. Police Captain W. A. Walker says he believes the city recreation department is the "greatest weapon" combating teenage troubles. Here a total of 130 facilities operate under a $650,000 annual budget.

* * *

Sports, arts and crafts of every description are available for youngsters. The department policy is: "We are not a cure-all for delinquents—our program is aimed at normal children." Walker attributes the rise in delinquency to population growth and partly to the fact that "things now considered delinquent were once considered normal."

RURAL AMERICA

In rural America the largest organized youth group is the 4-H, a federally supported program exclusively for farm areas. Youngsters from 10 to 21 enroll in various courses and complete agricultural or home projects. In Illinois the 4-H runs 3,728 clubs with a membership of 59,811. Throughout the nation there are 88,093 4-H clubs and 2,104,787 members, both boys and girls.

NEW YORK CITY

While the spotlight has been focused on murderous young gangs in some sections of New York, the New York City Youth Board has quietly gone about the business of reducing delinquency—or keeping it in check—in other areas.

From 1953 to 1954, teen-aged crime in the city increased 41 per cent; it rose only 19.9 per cent in the 11 districts where the Youth Board operated.

This year, the city has voted nearly $3,500,000 to the board to expend its services to three more "critical" areas for referral, treatment, group work and recreation work taking in 724,714 youths.

The board, tied in with 400 other social agencies in the city, plans to step up its "on-the-street work" with gangs and expand activities with "hard to reach" families and children.

* * *

FREE TRIPS

Last year over 750,000 free round trips were given to settlement houses, summer day camps, community centers, recreational playgrounds, and other accredited public and private organizations. Twelve thousand "delinquency prone" children have been helped since the referral method was set up in 1949.

Another program which has received the praise of juvenile authorities is the Police Athletic League—one of the largest recreational programs in the country. PAL is mostly concerned with "unaffiliated" youths—those who do not belong to any organized program.

The program serves 200,000 kids in the city in 15 large centers in congested areas and 80 full and part-time precinct centers house the indoor activities of the league.

Special activities, such as attendance at major league baseball games, rodeo, professional hockey and football games are provided.

* * *

Thousands of children are taken on boat rides to Bear Mountain each summer and hundreds more are given three-week vacations at Fox Lair, in the Adirondacks.

$5 A YEAR

PAL estimates that for $5 a year it can keep a child busy in wholesome activities and compares this with a figure of $1,200 to keep a boy or girl in a correctional institution.

Deputy police commissioner James B. Nolan, one of the directors of the privately-run PAL, said the group uniformed and equipped 1,500 baseball and softball teams, 750 basketball teams and sent 600 boys to the free summer camp last year.

The main objectives of PAL are to provide wholesome, constructive recreation for youngsters who do not belong to any other program and to develop a friendly relationship between youngsters and police officers.

* * *

"PAL," said Nolan, "supplements the influence of the big three—the home, school and the church."

Tomorrow — A look at youth work now being conducted by the various groups, churches and police in Pontiac.

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Census Bureau estimated today that the population of the United States, including armed forces overseas, was about 165,495,000 on Aug. 1. This represents an increase of 14,362,000, or nine and one-half percent, since the 1950 census and an increase of 2,828,000, or one and seven-tenths per cent in the past year.

Michigan Fruit Trees Show Growth Increase

LANSING (AP) — The number of fruit trees of all types in Michigan is increasing, a federal-state crop reporting service survey shows.

The service said the downward trend in numbers of bearing apple trees that started in the mid-thirties has been reversed.

A sharp decrease in the number of peach trees which started in 1950 has also leveled off, the survey showed.

When Kent Lake was formed a few years ago by impounding the waters of the Huron River, it displaced Orchard Lake as our county's second largest body of water, Cass still being the largest.
