

UAW-GM Council OKs All Terms

DETROIT (U. I.)—The United Auto Workers General Motors Council today bowed to the Union's international executive board and voted unanimously to accept all terms of the UAW-GM contract agreement.

The council, which had voted rejection of local-issue term settlements Wednesday night, voted complete approval of the new three-year contract after a 45-minute meeting.

AVOID CHAOS
UAW President Walter Reuther, addressing this morning's meeting told the 280-member council, "We want you to act like you are a member of a democratic union, otherwise you have chaos."

Today's quick council acceptance of the GM-UAW agreement ended an internal battle over approval of the new contract covering 350,000 GM workers and paved the way for resumption of full production at 129 GM plants.

Reuther said all UAW locals who have already settled have been ordered to report to work and "most of them are working."

At a news conference, Reuther explained what he called a new approach on the part of both General Motors and the Union toward settlement of 21 local plant strikes.

He said that shop committees "from these locals will meet in Detroit starting Friday with officials of the company and international representatives of the Union."

Reuther called this a sensible and realistic approach and said, "We hope we can work quickly toward complete settlement of all these problems."

NOT DAMAGING
He said he thought Wednesday night's request for strike authorization represented "resentment at the failure of some of the plants to work out local problems" and he said he did not regard it as damaging to the Union.

Reuther said this will not be the first time that local negotiations have been brought to Detroit headquarters. However, he agreed that more locals were involved this year than in 1955 or 1958.

Reuther lashed out at local officers of GM's Key West Milling, Fla. plant.

The Pittsburgh area plant had voiced strong objection to acceptance of local-level settlements. A strike there has tied up other GM plants.

Survives Shock
LUCKY TO BE ALIVE—From a life at Pontiac General Hospital today, 12-year-old Charles Felts, White Lake Township, tells his mother, Mrs. Leonard Felts, about his harrowing brush with death. Doctors said the boy was lucky to be alive after grasping a 110-volt power line as he started to fall from a tree near his home yesterday. He received severe burns on his right hand.

UF Drive to Run Oct. 17 to Nov. 10

Thomas F. Wiethorn, chairman of the 1961 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign, today announced that this year's drive would run from Oct. 17-Nov. 10.

Wiethorn announced the dates of the annual UF campaign this morning during one of a series of informal training sessions held for workers in preparation for the drive.

Goal of the annual campaign is $672,500, same as for the 1960 drive.

This morning's training session was one of five being held this week for some 50 local business owners and managers who will participate in Commercial Division efforts.

Rusk Confering With Gromyko on Berlin, U.N.

Adlai, Zorin Attend Parley; Outlook Dim for Success

NEW YORK (U. I.)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk started a series of cold war conferences with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko here today to find out whether a peaceful solution to the Berlin crisis may be possible.

The two men met on the 20th floor of a midtown Manhattan hotel where Rusk had invited Gromyko for lunch.

Each was accompanied by a

MSUO Given Research Gifts

$100,051 in 3 Grants to Aid Business Courses, Careers, Cancer

Three grants totaling $100,051 have been received by Michigan State University Oakland.

Two are federal research grants, the third is for curriculum planning from the Ford Motor Co. Fund.

The Ford grant of $15,830 was made to finance the planning of a new "look" business administration program at MSUO.

Dr. Kenneth Bloor, associate dean and head of the program, will seek advice of leading scientists and business administrators across the country.

Largest of the three grants is $67,350 from the U. S. Office of Education to Dr. Donald O'Donnell and David C. Reardon to expand work on a five-year project seeking to determine the impact that college students have of various occupations.

MSUO Given Research Gifts

$100,051 in 3 Grants to Aid Business Courses, Careers, Cancer

The National Cancer Institute is the donor of a $37,064 grant to Dr. Herman Lewis, associate professor of biology, for a research project which seeks to discover how genes control the production and makeup of enzymes, the catalysts which make possible the reaction to living cells.

The discoveries from this inquiry may be useful in the search for the cause of cancer, although its primary aim is to learn whether enzyme production is governed in higher organisms the same way it is in bacterial cells.

Hundreds Flee Inland

ESTHER HITS NEW ENGLAND
BOSTON (AP)—Hurricane Esther was reported by meteorologists to be moving on a course which might take it directly over the ridge at Old Air Force Base, Cape Cod, to which the children of President Kennedy were taken today.

Boston (UPI) — Tricky Hurricane Esther pummeled Southern New England today and scattered dwellers fled in the face of flood tides.

President Kennedy's two children, Caroline, 3, and John F. Jr., 9 months, were among the hundreds who moved inland to higher ground.

1962 Prices Unchanged for Pontiacs, Tempests

Despite styling and engineering changes, factory list prices for 1962 Pontiac and Tempest cars will not be increased over 1961 models.

Prices were announced yesterday by S. E. Knudsen, general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division and General Motors vice president.

They exclude federal, state and local taxes, destination and dealer handling charges, but include heaters and defrosters.

Here is a comparison of prices for individual models:

Tempest Series—The 1962 coupes are priced at $1,993 as against $1,991 in 1961; sedans at $2,043 against $2,041; sports coupe $2,093 against $2,091. Safari station wagon, $2,293 against $2,291. The new convertible coupe is pegged at $2,342.

Catalina Series—The sports sedan is $2,472 in 1962, the same price as in 1961. Other models in the series also are priced the same as 1961 models: sedan $2,511, safari station wagon (six-passenger) $2,812, sports coupe $2,892, Vista sedan $2,473, convertible coupe $2,982, Safari (nine-passenger) station wagon, $3,015.

Executive Series—Also unchanged from 1961 Custom Safari station wagon $3,312, sports coupe, $3,607, Vista sedan, $3,127, and the convertible coupe, $3,262.

Star Chief Series—No changes. The sedan is $2,823 and the Vista sedan $2,946.

The two-door sports coupe, the Grand Prix, is new in 1962 and is listed at $3,188.

Knudsen announced that all 1962 models in the Catalina, Star Chief, Bonneville and Grand Prix series would have a deluxe Chevrolet-style heater and defroster as standard equipment. In the 1961 models, this was an $87.50 option.

Boy Burned in Grab of Wire During Fall

A 12-year-old White Lake Township youth, who grabbed a 440-volt live wire while climbing a tree at his home yesterday afternoon was "lucky to be alive," doctors at Pontiac General Hospital said today.

Twelve-year-old Charles Felts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Felts, 9471 Cedar Island Rd., received severe burns on the right hand.

He was reported in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Two men from across the road, managed to free the boy before White Lake firemen reached the scene and rushed him to the hospital.

Men Back on Jobs at Pontiac Motor

Some 1,300 hourly rated employees at Pontiac Motor Division returned to work today and another 1,400 are slated to be back on the job tomorrow.

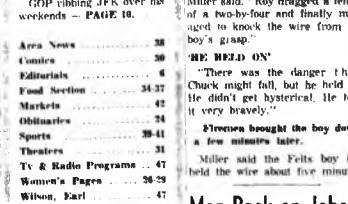

By Monday, the division's 9,000 hourly rated employees will be back at work on their regular shifts.

Today, employees in stamping plants 14 and 15 and department 730 returned to work on the day shift at 7 a.m. and afternoon shift at 3:30 p.m.

Friday, employees in the foundry, plant differential plant, transmission parts department 3076, are to report for work on their regular shifts unless others were notified.

All hourly rated employees at Fisher Body Division are to return to work on their regular shifts Monday.

Flipping Festival Flapjacks

PANCAKES OPEN 'PARTY'—Pontiac's annual downtown sales festival, "The 1962 Pontiac Commemorative Party," got under way today with a free breakfast in the old county courthouse parking lot. Free pancakes and coffee will be served 8:10-9 a.m. daily by the Downtown Merchants Association during the three-day event.

Friday: Rain! With High of 74; Saturday: Cool

The weatherman predicts partly cloudy tonight and a low of 62 but rain is on the way. Friday's forecast calls for scattered showers and a high of 74.

Morning light variable winds will become south to southeast at 10 to 15 miles per hour this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow.

Sixths there was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 79 at 2 p.m.

Wife Disagrees With Roger

Maris Faces Scolding for Failing

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Roger Maris' attractive 26-year-old wife, Patricia, may scold the slugger New York Yankee the next time she sees him for swinging at a bad pitch and failing to hit Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers in a 156-game season.

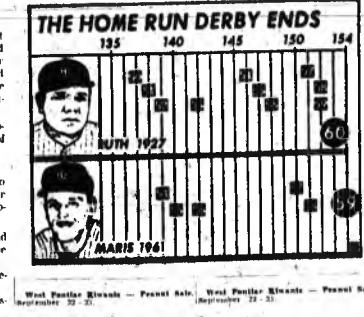

"Why did you swing at that one?" Mrs. Maris complained last night as she watched Roger on television when he grounded out to the ninth inning of the Yankees' game with the Baltimore Orioles.

Her eyes were wet and she appeared to be on the verge of breaking down.

But she quickly snapped into a broad smile when Roger trotted out to his centerfield position to finish the game.

"There's always next year to be going to New York to be with Roger for the World Series," she said.

Mrs. Maris apparently dis-

Health Service Expands Fall-out Detection Network

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service is expanding its fallout detection network and is speeding efforts to determine whether any significant health hazard may be expected from the Soviet Union's nuclear tests in the atmosphere, it was learned today.

At the same time, top fallout experts of the agency told a reporter that even the comparatively high levels of atmospheric radiation reported at least temporarily in some parts of the country could be exceeded many times without necessarily posing a significant health threat.

DESIGNING NEW TESTS

They said it all boils down to this: Regardless of what the atmospheric readings show, any threat to health depends on how much and what kinds of radioactive material ultimately are ingested by people in milk, water and food—or are inhaled.

So far, they said, they have not made sufficient tests to enable estimates on these latter points—but some new steps are designed to help speed such assessments. They disclosed these new activities.

1. Two additional fallout detection stations were added during the past few days to add to the 45 stations in 39 states. The new ones are at Bismark, N.D., and Nashville, Tenn.

2. Six of the approximately 60 stations maintained by the service's radiological health division to take samples of milk to allow analysis of radioactive content have been alerted to take samples every day, instead of monthly as all stations did previously.

The stations so alerted are at Atlanta, Jackson, Miss., Charlotte, S.C., Tampa, Fla., New Orleans and St. Louis. And analysts will be done for these stations by the health service's laboratory at Montgomery, Ala.

The move was made, said Ave Dahl, chief of the agency's radiological surveillance unit, because of sharp rises in atmospheric radiation noted in some Southern areas in the past few days.

TO GET NEW APPARATUS

3. Ten of the stations in the nationwide network of fallout detection stations are being equipped with special apparatus designed to get better estimates than heretofore of the actual amount of radioactive iodine-131 released in a nuclear de-radioactive iodine-131, strontium-90, cesium-137 and barium-140, are the materials considered to be of potential greatest concern from the standpoint of health hazard among more than 200 different kinds of radioactive ma-

Atty. Gen. Kennedy Protests, Quits Club

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has quit a Washington social club in protest against its policy of not admitting Negroes as members and guests.

A Shedler Department spokesman confirmed today a story in the Boston Globe saying Kennedy had resigned from the Metropolitan Club.

Before the resignation, Kennedy had sought without success to get the club to abandon its policy against having Negroes as members and guests.

So far as is known, only one Negro has ever been a guest at the club.

Timing of Recent Strike Seemed Unfavorable

The strike's over.

All tugging and hauling cease and General Motors' entire labor force in Pontiac resumes the activities we all need so sorely. This is no time for layoffs. Probably there is no ideal time for idleness, but the current moment seemed particularly inauspicious.

Work has been slack in comparison with activities a year ago and when the local plants close, everything else in the community follows a scant step behind. This year was no exception. All commerce backed away appreciably, but the entire community can pluck in now and pick up some of the slack. We'll never regain it all—or the lost wages.

Come the millennium, there will probably be a way to settle wage and other issues on a more equitable basis. It's difficult for a bystander to see any appreciable gain in a vast majority of the strikes. Differences of opinion don't necessarily have to precipitate in complete cessation of needed work.

But that's the way it is now. And we act accordingly.

In the current instance, the "shootin' dies down" and we all go peacefully and happily about the tasks at hand.

Adenauer's Party Lacks Complete Authority

Things aren't as bright in West Germany as most people wish they were.

The election has serious overtones that can be global in effect and influence. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has lost control. While his party won, it doesn't have complete authority and the chances are the long-time German executive will step aside. If he does, it will be done reluctantly and his heart won't be in the act. Stark reality will be taking the reins and ruling.

The Christian Democratic Union polled the biggest vote but it didn't have a majority and when the German Bundestag (the lower House of Parliament) elects the titular head, Adenauer can easily lose out.

Ludwig Erhard is the heir apparent. The Economics Minister has been one of the leading causes in West Germany's battle back to financial stability and he stands well accordingly. In fact, he has been known as "Mr. Prosperity." Erhard is more than 20 years younger than the Chancellor and this is having a definite bearing on the internal discussions.

Along with Adenauer he deserves the greatest applause for West Germany's eminence today. Hence, the people in the country won't be as unhappy and regretful as they might. This probably holds true for the world at large.

West Germany's international associates can welcome Erhard as a sound thinker and an individual with whom they can work easily and pleasantly.

Russia will disagree. Erhard doesn't love the Kremlin. Hence, this mutual disaffection is returned with compound interest. Here's one bright spot in the international firmament.

One of Best Seasons of Year in This Area

The autumn night nip is starting early in the Pontiac vicinity. But it only serves to increase our zest during our working hours. The mercury still climbs to summer heights during the day. It all is nature's way of preparing us for the outdoor glories of autumn.

These cannot be fully appreciated unless you are close to nature yourself.

Reflect on the big city people who never even see green grass without a "keep off" sign on it. Cogitate on what it means to live in a big city tenement.

Out here where nature does so much for us, and we cooperated in nature's efforts, is where life is worth the living.

Autumn's paintbrush is ready to soon be dipped into a variation of colors that beat the rainbow.

These columns will apprise you of the time when they're at their peak. Current cold nights and warm days are the preliminary that always goes before the big show.

Breathe deep, count your blessings, and get ready for the stellar performance.

The Man About Town

Tomatoes Climb And Other Vegetables Do Out of Ordinary Stunts

Football: A piece of pigskin to kick and throw around. Are you kicking or throwing around your chance for that $300 prize?

Tomato plants that extend upward are reported by Mrs. Edith M. Downing of 100 Mt. Clemens St. She has them 14 feet tall.

In their first gardening experience in Pontiac the Wesley Welch family, at 114 S. Merrimac St., raised a carrot with one top and 17 roots, looking like an octopus.

With four tobacco plants nearly as tall as he is, Newton Barefoot of 216 Nelson St., grew them from slips brought from the South last spring.

They also grow tall salvia plants in Pontiac, as Mrs. Ernest Robinson of 116 W. Strathmore St., has one 64 inches tall.

Getting ready to roll his own, and give the lie to cigarette advertising is Pete O'Halligan of Waterford, who raises the tobacco himself.

If you mislaid that list of games before sending in your football contest entry, we're repeating it (for your benefit), tomorrow.

In a year when most gladioli plants are below par,

Mrs. Amanda Sullivan of Birmingham comes through with some stalks 40 inches long, and with over 30 blossoms.

Accompanying the football contest entry of Mrs. Grant Pinefield of Rochester is a note that says: "That $300 will be a good nest egg for the college education of our son."

This column will tell you when the autumn foliage color display is at its best, and also schedule a few Oakland County tours where nature does its choicest glamorizing.

When he planted his green corn last spring,

Joseph J. Allemen of Rochester found a queer looking seed mixed with it. He planted it, and it grew into an odd looking corn stalk with wrinkled leaves, and its ears have black kernels with no semblance of the traditional rows.

'Sorry, It's Designed to Hold Just Me'

David Lawrence Exclaims:

It's Kennedy's Chance Before U.N.

WASHINGTON—What an opportunity President Kennedy now has to go before the United Nations and state the case against the Soviet Union!

What a chance to enlighten people all over the world—including those behind the Iron Curtain—so that beneath it will be manifested hypocrisy for the United Nations to ignore the aggressive and sinister plotting in which the Moscow government is continuously engaged!

A simple recitation of the facts of what happened from June 1950 on in Korea could dispose of the effort of the Soviets to gain admission for Communism to the United Nations.

It could clarify the same issues in Laos, in the Congo, in Cuba, and in other areas where the Soviet Union is undermining the people's freedom.

For the main issue has been obscured too long. The fundamentals are being ignored today by those nations which, strangely enough, seem willing to reward an aggressor state with a seat in the United Nations.

INVADING SOUTH
The story begins as an army of 60,000 North Koreans, with 100 Russian-built tanks, invaded South Korea on June 25, 1950.

They violated the 38th parallel, which had been established at the end of World War II as the dividing line between Communist-controlled North Korea and the newly created Republic of South Korea.

The Communist plot to seize all of Korea failed because of the courageous and timely action of President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson in immediately ordering American forces in the Far East to help the South Koreans.

This step was promptly ratified by the United Nations at a Security Council meeting. The force became the United Nations Army.

Sixteen million United Nations military contingents to Korea to become an integral part of the U.N. force, along with the American and South Korean.

Sixteen million United Nations military contingents to Korea to become an integral part of the U.N. force, along with the American and South Korean.

The part played thereafter by the Soviet Union in actually making war on the United Nations Army has never been discussed as fully as it should be.

It is a matter of record, however, that the United Nations on Feb. 1, 1951, by formal resolution declared Communist China an "aggressor." Shall that aggressor now be rewarded?

It was in February 1953 that

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said to the political and security committee of the U.N. General Assembly that Russia could stop war any time if he wanted to do so, but that it was being carried on by arms and equipment supplied to the Communist forces in Korea by the Soviet Union.

In his reply to that speech on March 2, 1953, Andrei Vishinskiy, foreign minister of the Soviet government, told the same committee of the United Nations: "The Soviet Union has never concealed the fact that it sold and continues to sell armaments to its ally, China."

NO RESOLUTIONS

The United Nations, unfortunately, took no steps against the treasonable acts of the Soviet Union. No resolutions were adopted formally denouncing the Soviet disregard of the charter.

How can any international organization profess to be the friend of small nations, or to be interested in preventing wars, when it closes its eyes to the perfidious behavior of one of its principal members?

President Kennedy need not remain silent on this question. Many people may perhaps have forgotten what happened in the Korean War. But the parents and relatives of the more than 54,000 Americans who died and of the 103,000 who were wounded in that conflict can never forget.

(Copyright 1961)

Dr. William Brady Says:

Low Blood Sugar Level Could Cause Blackouts

One day, recently, I headed for the bowling green at 12:30 p.m. without any lunch (having breakfasted late) feeling in fine fettle. I was slightly miffed when the man who sets up the games inquired whether I wanted to play a full game or only half. I said, "A full game, please."

I snapped, "And what's more, I'm sorry for the guy who is my opponent today."

When it came time to start the game, I was suddenly seized with an anxious foreboding much like that I had experienced on occasions 15 years ago. Each time I had a blackout and I crumpled, once as I began to eat dinner in a restaurant, once as I sat down to breakfast at home, and once as I found away at my writing about 4 p.m., having had no lunch.

It never dawned on me then, but my experienced the other day makes me think these lapses must have been due to hypoglycemia, low blood sugar.

On arriving home six days from the bowling green that blackout, I felt, "I was a frazzle." As I lay down to sleep, I ate three spoonfuls of ice cream, and in two or three minutes I was again in fine fettle.

This experience made me think that the blackouts of 15 years ago may have been due to hypoglycemia—the level of sugar in my blood falling below normal.

Normally the blood constantly contains from 0.14 to 0.16 milligrams of sugar (glucose) per hundred grams (about one-tenth of an ounce) of blood. This instantly available source of power (fuel for the heart and other muscles, both voluntary and involuntary) is maintained by mobilization of, let us say, processing of glycogen (animal starch), the form in which all carbohydrates (sugar, starches) is stored in the liver and in muscle.

Dr. for reasons, the level of sugar in the blood falls below 0.14 per cent, the condition is called hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) and it explains many blood sugar or lapses of consciousness, judgment or reason that are so often wrongly attributed to intoxication by alcohol or narcotic drug.

FOR DIABETICS

Patients with diabetes, on insulin treatment, should always have with them a bit of candy, sugar, sweet fruit or fruit juice, milk or hot chocolate, to eat at once if, after a dose of insulin, they feel suddently faint, dizzy, panicky, queer or confused. A diabetic who gets along well on a certain daily dose of insulin may, in some circumstances, suffer insulin shock (hypoglycemia, low blood sugar) from the same dose, as for instance on a day when he or she gets more exercise, plays or works harder than usual.

Signed letters to more than one page of the words long pertaining to hypoglycemia, low blood sugar, and its diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Compliments DO Work Wonders

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE K-404. Henry H., aged 42, is an unpopular boss.

"Dr. Crane," one of his assistants told me, "Henry is a heart at the office."

"He berates his employees and accuses his secretaries until they develop a stork of neurotic ailments."

"Seldom does a secretary remain as his 'secretary' longer than 6 months, for none of them can take his belittling and rages."

"What's wrong with a fellow like Henry, anyway, for he graduated from engineering school with top honors?"

REARCAT vs. HOUSECAT
"The 'beastcat' at the office is often a 'housecat' at home," runs an old adage of applied psychology.

"Thus some of the most domineering people at work are meek 'yes men' when they meet the little wife at dinner."

"For people who feel belittled, humiliated and inferior in their home adjustments, often try to throw their weight around at the office."

Sometimes, however, any folks have conclusively cultivated the "beastcat" attitude, thinking that is the only way to run an office.

"Put the fear of God into 'em," was the standard formula for management in the old days.

Voice of the People:

Witness to Accident Urges Drivers to Use Extra Care

Tuesday I saw a motorist strike down a little girl crossing Orchard Lake Avenue at Franklin Boulevard. She was on her way home from school.

I wonder why people with cars can't wait for the little ones to finish crossing the street when the children have the right of way. The motorist wasn't even going to stop until another car drew his attention to what he had done.

Please, folks, give the little ones a chance to live.

'Men Have Lost Pride in Work'

If most men would watch their wives, they would see that she is constantly learning something new, along with keeping up the same old necessary jobs that must be done every day. But the men aren't interested in learning.

Some of the ridiculous demands the unions are making show that the workmen have lost his pride in his work by sitting back and letting the unions make such demands.

Have the men ever stopped to figure out how long it takes to make up what they have lost while out on strike? The unions are supposed to be for the workmen, but now the unions are big business. If the men were smart, they wouldn't put up with demands for more increases and pampering, but a solid no-pay-off clause. If the unions were smart, they would make the unions work for you and take some pride in your work.

Says Photographer Did a Fine Job

I don't know who the photographer was that shot the picture of our Michigan Dairy Princess milking a cow, but he certainly has imagination and did a fine job. Our Princess, Marjorie Mueller, being the true beauty that she is, and coupled with the angle at which the shot was taken, made an "odorous" terrific publicity photo.

In 1887, an editor of the New York firm wrote an editorial in response to the letter of an eight-year-old New York girl who wanted to know if there was a Santa Claus.

The famed reply, which has earned a place in history because "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy."

A thought for today: British writer H. G. Wells said: "Human history becomes more and more a race between education and catastrophe."

are very tender hearted and sentimental inside.

They often adopt this rough, austere outer shell as protective armor to cover up their soft, sympathetic inside personality.

So I helped cook up a little plot for use on Henry.

COMPLIMENT CLASP STRATEGY
We coached his secretary to use the compliment clasp strategy on him.

"Which type of stencil do you think we should order?" he asked next day.

"That's what I pay you for—to make your own decisions," he snapped back.

But we had anticipated his retort, so she did not quake inside and grow tense, but smilingly said:

"Oh, I know, but you have had so much more experience than I. So I figured you'd be an authority."

This hit the Achilles tendon of his social armor, for Henry had always felt nobody would respect him unless he barked. He was secretly afraid of his own ability to lead men and direct an office.

He dreaded lost somebody say, "Henry is incompetent. He isn't capable of handling his job."

So Henry had decided to "beat 'em to the draw" by barking and snarling for dust on a desk top and other trivial flaws, he figured he'd put everybody on the defense.

Then they wouldn't be so likely to have the standard formula for management in the old days.

Tells About Team in Blue Uniforms

In reply to "Reader's" question which appeared in this column Aug. 21, the drill team in blue uniforms in our Central Michigan State University is the direction of Miss "Jackie Rae" Voorhees who is a part-time volunteer worker at the Pontiac State Hospital.

The team is part of the physical therapy conducted by the hospital. We have been advised that this is the first time in the history of the hospital that such a group has been organized. In addition to performing in the parade, the boys have several appearances at hospital functions.

The drill team was awarded first place trophy for Junior boys drill team in the parade. The trophy is on display at the Pontiac State Hospital.

The Almanac

Today is Thursday, Sept. 21, the 264th day of the year with 101 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:
In 1784, the Pennsylvania Packet and Daily Advertiser, the first daily newspaper published in the United States, appeared in Philadelphia.

In 1793, France was proclaimed a republic.

In 1887, an editor of the New York firm wrote an editorial in response to the letter of an eight-year-old New York girl who wanted to know if there was a Santa Claus.

The famed reply, which has earned a place in history because "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy."

A thought for today: British writer H. G. Wells said: "Human history becomes more and more a race between education and catastrophe."

So he stopped and made his choice of stencils.

Next day she complimented his neck tie.

It fits in beautifully with the color of your suit," she smiled. He grinned as his sole accolade.

Within three months he was as docile as a lamb, had raised his salary and thought she was the best secretary he had ever hired. Meanwhile, she was free from tension, anxiety and fear, for she now knew how to handle him.

MSUO Plans 2nd Section of Business Class

Michigan State University Oakland's Division of Continuing Education has scheduled a second section of a new course—"Seminar in Small-Business Management"—because of an overflow of applications.

The second section will be held 7:00-8:30 p.m., Tuesdays, beginning Oct. 24.

The seminar will be led by small-business experts from area universities and firms. The course, directed to owners and managers of small businesses, will cover such subjects as financial management, marketing, law and planning.

Tuition is $50. Further information is available from the MSUO Office of Continuing Education.

Flesh Film Fad Collecting Cold Cash

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Some Hollywood operators have re-discovered an age-old truth: there's money in nudes.

More than a score of shoe-string promoters have been putting together films featuring girls bare enough to make Brigitte Bardot seem like a clothes horse. Some promoters are getting rich.

"The Immoral Mr. Teas" is billed with some justice as "the big daddy of them all." A platonic procession of nudes, it started the first big splash of the nude wave.

It was filmed around Hollywood for about $25,000. It has run in Los Angeles and San Francisco for three years and holds the long-run record in Seattle, beating "Ben-Hur" and Cinerama. Its makers estimate a return of a million dollars.

20-WEEK RUN

"Not Tonight, Henry" was put together for $75,000. A 20-week run in Hollywood brought a record $112,122, aided by a police raid and court acquittal. Its eventual profit in this country alone is estimated as high as $800,000.

"Teas" was directed by Russ Meyers, a magazine photographer, and produced by Peter DeConies, who has operated burlesque and road shows. "Henry" was the work of Ted Paramount, who ran a film mail order business. Nearly all the nude-film makers are first-time producers.

They film their bare epics in apartments and offices, at secluded lakes and beaches, seldom in a studio. Nudes are recruited from the ranks of professional models, strippers and prostitutes.

Only one of the nudes was filmed under a contract with the Screen Actors Guild. It was called "Wide Open Spaces," and guild officials presumed it was a routine Western. They were embarrassed to learn the film contained not only cowpokes and redskins but bare skins as well.

The guild has since refused a contract with a nude producer, arguing that such films reflect ill on the movie industry.

What is the market for the nudes? "That might surprise you," said Frank Selzer, co-owner of the Monica Theater and himself a film producer. "In the first week or two, the films draw the fringe crowd—peevish, etc. After that we get the carriage trade, the same kind of people who go to Las Vegas."

Selzer indicated that the nude trend is already on the wane. "It's just a temporary fad," he said. "The men who make them don't know scripts or picture making. They just get a bunch of dames and shoot them nude from the waist up. Experienced producers won't make these films because they don't want the taint of the peep show."

Paramore, 33-year-old creator of "Not Tonight, Henry," agreed that the nude is on the way out.

MARKET FLOODED
"I feel sorry for anyone making one now. It's a long process getting your money back and now the market is flooded."

Despite their predictions, a host of would-be producers are grinding out product with the formula of substituting strip for action.

Wednesday: Pros and cons of the nudes.

Honor Award Given Patrolman by Chief Koren

A certificate of meritorious service has been awarded to Patrolman Robert W. Verhine by the Pontiac Police Dept.

Acting Police Chief Joseph Koren said the certificate was awarded Verhine for "initiative and thorough followup" in investigating a burglary in which a safecracking attempt was made.

After receiving a tip, Verhine drove by the home of a suspect in the burglary of the Pontiac Packing Ltd. Co. office, 10 Wayne St., last month.

He spotted burglary tools in the suspect's car.

As a result, two men were arrested in the case. They admitted the burglary as well as 14 others during questioning, according to authorities.

Out of Washington One-Third of Time

In Retaliation, GOP Now Ribs JFK Over Weekends

By ALVIN SPIVAK
WASHINGTON (UPI) — It was bound to happen, and it has. The Republicans are criticizing President Kennedy for his absences from the White House.

"JFK still is on the way to an out-of-town record for an American president," announced the "Fact Memo" which GOP national Chairman William E. Miller sends to party leaders.

Miller said that despite Kennedy's "deliberate remarks" about challenges facing the American people, the President in his first 161 days in office "was out of Washington for 32 days, about a third of the time."

"And this was before the summer vacation at Hyannis Port," the memo said. "This record from the candidate who told the nation on Nov. 5, 1960, that he would not stress travel if elected but would place his emphasis on 'going to Washington, D.C., and get this country to work.'"

HIS TRAVEL LOG

Miller's memo said Kennedy "did come to Washington but much of his time since has been taken up with a series of busy departures and arrivals from Palm Beach, Fla.; Canada; Middleburg, Va.; London; Hyannis Port, Paris and Vienna."

There was similar but briefer comment in a Republican brochure titled "Candidate vs. President" which recalls the Nov. 4 "to work" statement and says Kennedy was out of Washington "on various tours and vacations for 54 of his first 161 days."

A GOP spokesman said the figure of 54 was a typographical error and that future printings would correct it to 52, Miller's total.

Actually, there is some doubt whether Kennedy will set any travel records this year.

FOUND THE FIGURES

The Democratic National Committee, surprisingly enough, said it had only a few figures of its own available on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's absences from Washington which were criticized by some Democrats during his administration. But the Democratic committee did refer to a news magazine's (U.S. News and World Report) tally which showed that Eisenhower was away from Washington 153 days in 1959.

And the committee said a newspaper (St. Louis Post Dispatch) reported that in the first six months of 1960, Eisenhower was away from Washington 112 out of 182 days.

All of the figures add up to the fact that Kennedy and Eisenhower — like Presidents Truman, Roosevelt and the others before them — found frequent occasion to get away from the physical confinement in order to relax from the awesome burdens of the presidency.

With Kennedy, as with Eisenhower, some of the travel has been on official business. Most has been for pleasure, including 11 consecutive weekends at his Hyannis Port, Mass., home on Cape Cod where his family has been spending the summer.

Even when traveling, no president is completely isolated from his official cares. Kennedy can be in almost instant touch with the White House by telephone even if flying at 30,000 feet above the opposite end of the world.

Wherever Kennedy goes, just as was the case when Eisenhower and their predecessors traveled, the Army Signal Corps has its latest equipment and highly competent staff personnel available to keep the President in contact with any demanding matters.

For Kennedy, this means special ship to share telephones on his family's yacht, Marlin, when he cruises on Nantucket Sound. For Eisenhower, it meant walkie-talkies on the golf course.

Because of the huge amount of Democratic criticism of Eisenhower for spending as much time as he did golfing, Kennedy tried somewhat to hide his own interest in the sport before and after he took office.

DELAYS GOLF

His back injury last spring has delayed his resumption of the game — but Republicans, in retaliation for the political barbs tossed at Eisenhower, fired some potshots at Kennedy's golfing earlier this year.

In justice to Miller and his "Fact Memo," Kennedy did implicitly assail Eisenhower's absence from Washington — as well as the overseas mission of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon — not only in the Nov. 5, 1960, speech but in several other campaign talks.

But apart from the line about "going to Washington, D.C., and get this country to work," the Republicans will be hard put to find any direct promise by Kennedy to be a homebody while in residence at the White House.

Board Suggests
School Review

Unit Requests Con-Con
Weigh References to Education and Religion

LANSING (AP) — A citizens advisory committee on education has suggested the Constitutional Convention review present references to religion and education.

A number of questions on the issue have arisen, the committee said. It listed these as including proposals for tax exemptions for parents of children attending private schools and support of transportation, school lunch programs and construction aid to such schools.

Some of these questions are on the Federal level, the group said, but present day controversy and discussion suggests the need for review of the sections dealing with schools and religion in the state constitution.

The committee, appointed by Gov. Swainson and headed by Dr. Victor Spathoff, president of Ferris Institute, proposed questions it thought merited exploration.

"It was considered that the role of this committee was primarily to suggest rather than conclude," the group said.

Provisions relating to voter franchise regarding education, should be reviewed, the group said. The problem of obtaining additional financing for the schools was given a top priority.

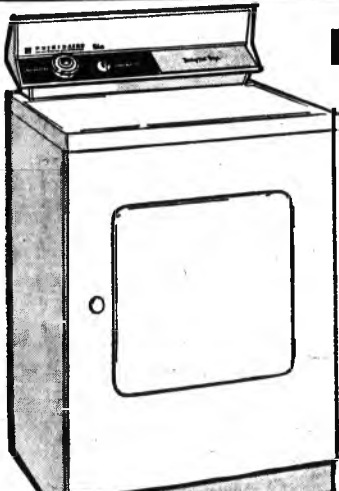

The committee recommended consideration be given to a proposal for creating special schools for persons handicapped by physical, mental or emotional problems.

Hurricanes Gather Energy From Sun, Earth

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Hurricanes like Carla and Esther gather up and spend fantastic amounts of energy.

Thought their mature life they metabolize energy at a rate comparable to the explosion of several atomic bombs every second.

In one instant, the vortex of a hurricane may generate more energy than all the electric power stations in the United States can produce in a decade. In a single day a big hurricane will pick up two billion tons of water from the ocean and drop it back as rain.

In 30 seconds, it may lift several billion tons of air into the upper atmosphere.

Dr. Harry Wexler of the Weather Bureau estimates that Hurricane Carla dumped 40 billion tons of water upon the Mississippi Valley. While performing such feats, these giant storms rev up the winds whirling about their center to speed hitting gust peaks up to 200 miles an hour.

ENERGY COMES FROM SUN To spend energy at such rates, hurricanes must acquire it prodigiously.

Whence comes this energy upon which hurricanes feed? The ultimate sources are the sun and the rotating earth. The sun in season warms tropical waters of the Atlantic, the Caribbean Sea, or the Gulf of Mexico. It pulls up enormous amounts of water in the form of invisible vapor.

Gentle westward-flowing trade winds gather this vapor, in the case of North Atlantic hurricanes, over areas of millions of square miles.

Under the right conditions, not yet well understood, this vapor then is crowded into a region some hundreds of thousands of square miles.

The vapor condenses into gigantic water clouds. This releases energy—the so-called latent heat of condensation.

Most liberated by condensation is the primary fuel of the hurricane pump that is called a hurricane.

As long as a hurricane is over water warmed to about 80 degrees Fahrenheit, and as long as the prevailing winds keep feeding it raw material in the form of rising moist air, the hurricane can sustain its consumption and output of energy and even increase it.

Meanwhile, embedded in the trade winds, the whole hurricane moves westward at speeds usually under 12 miles an hour.

GENERALLY DIES DOWN As it approaches the North American continent, the average hurricane in an average season runs afoul of a different set of winds.

These are the prevailing westerlies. They flow west to east at altitudes up to 40,000 feet and at a faster clip than the east-to-west trade winds.

Once caught up in the high westerlies, a hurricane veers toward the north and east and picks up forward speed. More often than not, this prevents an Atlantic hurricane from hitting the U.S. coast.

In some seasons, however, the main streams of the westerlies get displaced far to the north. In that event the hurricane may slam into the mainland before getting heavily enough involved with the westerlies to swing out to sea.

The 1955 hurricane season was a bad one for the American mainland because the westerlies were streaming across the continent north of their normal path.

Over land, a hurricane encounters more friction—from trees, buildings, hills—than over water. This would cut its forward speed were it not for the westerlies. These winds may quadruple a hurricane's forward speed. The big hurricane of 1938 advanced at 10 miles an hour as it moved through New England.

In most cases, a hurricane quickly spends all its stored energy and dies over land. It runs out of the stuff it normally feeds on. But some late season hurricanes have found other supplies of energy and have managed to maintain their vitality over land.

This happens when a hurricane and its accompanying mass of moist warm air run into a region of heavier cold air. The cold air, interacting with the warm, stable

This converts its potential energy into kinetic, the energy of motion. Kinetic energy as manifested by the whirling winds is the hurricane's most fearsome product.

Under these special circumstances, a hurricane does not die and may even grow in power as it churns over the land. This happened in October 1954.

Hurricane Hazel hit inland along the South Carolina and North Carolina coasts. Instead of dying, it thrived. It was still going strong when it crossed into Canada. Around Toronto people will long remember the floods it caused.

Honors Janitor to Governors on Retirement

LANSING — Gov. Swainson has proclaimed today as Jim Allen Day to honor a retiring janitor in the executive office. Allen, 64, retiring after 32 years of state employment, has been assigned to the executive office under the terms of 11 governors. He took the post under former Governor Fred W. Green. "Allen has epitomized the spirit of public service," Swainson said. "For three decades he has been a friend of and a friend to 11 governors. He has consistently done his work well and efficiently."

Old-Style Marksman Hits It the Hard Way

MANGUM, Okla. (AP)—Slingshots are not as common as they were a generation ago. But Guy Parke, hurst is good at it.

Recently a friend tossed three quarters into the air and Guy hit two of them before they reached the ground. He prefers junked ball bearings rather than stones. He also hunts squirrels with a sling-shot.

The sulla drug was found by an Austrian chemist in 1898.

Cleopatra Uses Galley as Barge Loses Favor

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cleopatra entertained Caesar on a royal barge but Elizabeth Taylor will portray the Queen of the Nile on a galley. Producer Walter Wanger says a he's taking some liberty in the filming of "Cleopatra" because barges have fallen into disrepute in the last 2,000 years. They're being used to carry coal and other prosaic things.

Rio de Janeiro is growing at rate of 70,000 a year.

Toledo Couple Keeps Shark in Their Cellar

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Toledo couple keeps a shark in their basement. It isn't a man-eater of course. It's a tropical variety known as the black shark, which rarely grows longer than 12 inches. The shark is one of 1,500 tropical fish kept in 11 tanks in the basement of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roebuck.

The state flower of Arizona is the Saguaro cactus.

These Copper Deposits Help Student Win Bet

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—John C. Seidler, a William and Mary sophomore, wheeled his deposit into a bank in a trash can carrier 26,000 pennies weighing 135 pounds. He thereby won a bet from a friend at Massachusetts Institute of Technology who wagered he couldn't fill a 5-gallon bottle with pennies from spare change and a part-time job before the summer vacation.

Like in New York City to Help Win GOP Votes

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has come to town to help out in the Republican campaign to capture City Hall.

Eisenhower and his wife arrived here Wednesday. Today, Eisenhower inspects the site of the 1964 World's Fair on Long Island.

Friday he will meet at a breakfast with State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, GOP candidate for mayor, and his running mates.

Like a Fish Out of Water

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — It would have been a beautiful landing — on water — municipal airport officials admitted Wednesday in reporting the wrecking of an amphibious plane which attempted to land on a concrete runway with its wheels up. The aircraft's three occupants were not hurt.

Announces Reconciliation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Attorney has announced a reconciliation between Fletcher Markle and actress Mercedes McCambridge. Markle, 38, had charged cruelty in a suit filed Aug. 24 against Miss McCambridge, who is 41. They were married in 1960.

Discrimination Suit Won by 5 Negroes

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Damages totaling $6,100 have been awarded by an all-white jury to five Negroes who claimed they were discriminated against in a Sacramento tavern.

The five, all Sacramento residents, had asked $7,250 damages each under a California civil rights statute which prohibits discrimination "in all business establishments of every kind whatsoever."

The bartender, Anthony Cabrelli, testified he had served the Negroes two drinks apiece but had refused to serve a third. He added he used discretion allowed by another liquor law which permits a bartender to refuse service to anyone whom he considers intoxicated or a possible trouble-maker.

40 Planes With Crews Safe at Battle Creek

News anchor Recognized, Then Asked for Proof

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Television news anchor George Moore was recognized immediately by the teller at a bank window.

"I've seen you many times," the woman told Moore. She went on with some chatter; comments before asking what she could do for him.

Cash a check, Moore said. At once the teller asked, "Do you have any identification?"

Senate Unit OKs Bill Giving IRS Numbers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee Wednesday night approved a bill permitting the Internal Revenue Service to assign a number to every taxpayer for use on Federal income tax returns.

Government tax collectors plan to use the numbers in electronic machines by 1963 to crack down on tax cheats. Social Security numbers would be used in most cases. Numbers would be assigned to citizens who don't hold a Social Security card.

Castro Charges U.S. Plotting Invasion

MIAMI (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro charged Wednesday night that the United States is plotting new "aggression" against Cuba.

In a 2 1/2-hour speech broadcast by Radio Havana, Castro said the tough talk of some American and the "campaign of the Pravda" clergy "indicated a new attack is in the making. It was the second time Castro had 'cried wolf' in as many days. Wednesday night's speech was made at commencement exercises for 150 army political commissars educated at Havana's Davido Sanchez Cabrera School.

The bearded revolutionary said Cuba openly this time, or it might provide air and troop support for a new attack by refugees like April's ill-fated invasion.

Loosen Controls on U.S. Secrets

New System Will Aid Newspaper Scrutiny of Classified Documents

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has set up a system for automatically taking the secrecy wraps off a considerable amount of classified government material.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., who along with newspaper editor groups has frequently criticized excessive governmental secrecy, said the action Wednesday was "a major improvement in the information protection system."

Moss, chairman of the House Information subcommittee, and classified labels sometimes are used by government officials to conceal mistakes or policies that should be made public.

Moss said the system was recommended by his group three years ago and supported by the American Society of Newspaper Editors and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society.

The executive order provides for downgrading the secrecy classification of documents at regular intervals, or sooner if officials decide they no longer need special protection.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the details of the system were worked out by an interdepartmental committee on internal security after a long study of government classification methods.

Continuous Filament Nylon Pile

We jumped at this one. 12 rolls in three different beiges and a good gold. 12 ft. wide. We bought it and you should be glad because we're offering it for $3.98, which happens to be less than the price WE usually pay for this fine item. It's wear guaranteed. It can't fuzz or pile—and will wear like iron.

Thick Nylon Pile Homespun Effect

The wear surface is 100% nylon, both long staple, heat set and continuous filament yarns being combined for a delightful effect. The colors are soft and subtle. The carpet is wear guaranteed. We bought 10 rolls of this $7 quality beauty. It's yours for only $3.98.

Commercial Loop Plain and Tweed Pile

We bought a package of commercial quality thick loop all wool pile in green tweed and plain green. This quality is worth about $9 at today's level of prices. We have 6 rolls left and they're yours for only $3.98.

U. of M. Law Students to Watch

Trials Will Be Telecast

ANN ARBOR (U)—Educational television is coming to the courtroom, with law students at the University of Michigan on the receiving end.

The County Board of Supervisors has approved a plan under which closed-circuit television cameras will be installed in the Washtenaw County Circuit Court to beam proceedings to law classes at U. of M., a mile away.

The project, believed to be the first of its kind in the U.S., will be paid for by the university. Only law students will have access to the telecasts.

Circuit Judge James E. Breakey Jr., in whose courtroom the cameras are to be installed, terms the project "a great educational supplement to the academic training of future lawyers."

Breakey's bench will be equipped with a switch to cut off the cameras in the event a situation arises which he does not deem proper for telecasting. This, the judge explained, would probably be a case in which he felt the courtroom should be cleared of spectators. He said that because the telecasts are on a closed-circuit which does not intrude on the proceedings of the court, they do not come under the heading of "photographs," which most judges bar, but are rather an extension of the open courtroom.

KALAMAZOO (U)—Joan Gott of Detroit and Rodney L. Wright of Grand Rapids, both students in Western Michigan University's School of Education, have been awarded $250 Elizabeth R. Stewart scholarships by the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

You Still Can Register for Dance and Ballet

Registration for the Community Center Ballet and Dance Studio are still being taken at the Waterford Township Community Center on Williams Lake Road, according to the instructor, Mrs. Carol Wolfe. Ballroom dance classes got under way at 8:30 Tuesday night for sixth grade pupils; at 7:30 p.m. for junior and senior high students and at 8:30 p.m. for adults.

Twelve Monday weekly classes in all age levels will be in operation. Registrations are also being accepted for ballet (twirling) classes which meet at 8:30 p.m.

Tuesdays under the direction of Jackie Rae Voorhees.

Children 8 years and older will be accepted for the hour-long sessions throughout the winter and spring months. Miss Voorhees also will have charge of a new tap dancing course starting at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday for youngsters through 18 years old.

Piano lessons got started Saturday. Waterford Township High School band director Donald Perin is the instructor.

A Glimpse at New Plymouths, Cadillacs, Ford Trucks

FOUR-DOOR HARD-TO-P—This Fury model exemplifies the new shape and proportion Plymouth has given its 1962 models in its "Forward Flair." New center of balance makes possible rear-ward location of passenger compartment, helps in styling changes: long tapering hood, swept-back windshield and slim, flat roof. Riding qualities are said to be smoother and surer.

MASSIVE—The 1962 Cadillac Convertible typifies the broad-shouldered look of Cadillac styling for 1962. To create a more massive appearance, the auto sports a new grille. Its familiar cross-hatch design combines with low and sleek tall fins to again provide that "something extra" look that has made Cadillac a styling leader.

Plymouth Introduces New Concept

A crisp new look in design, concept and construction is aimed at setting the 1962 Plymouth apart from its predecessors among the low-price, standard-size automobiles.

First public showing of new models will be Sept. 28 at R and R Motors, Inc., 724 Oakland Ave.

"The 1962 Plymouth is so totally new and different in so many ways, and so far ahead of any other car we ever introduced, that it's impossible to compare it with anything we've ever known before," said C. E. Briggs, vice president of Chrysler Corp. and general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division.

Briggs called the new styling the "Forward Flair" and reported that the new design and proportion "produces a new center of balance that has opened the way for spectacular built-in advantages that go far deeper than Plymouth's new beauty."

Distinct styling is immediately apparent from any side. In front, a broad new concave grille of bright anodized aluminum with tiny square perforations is integrated with the inner pair of headlights, and the outer pair is cradled by overhangs at the ends of the straight bumper.

Bright metal spear molding starting at the tip of the front fender tapers off in the front door panel. Raised windshields extend down the middle of the hood and the middle of the rear deck. The entire effect is to produce a classic look.

Standard engines are the 225-cubic-inch, 300, Economy Six with an 8.2-to-1 compression ratio, and the 318-cubic-inch Fury V800 with single two-barrel carburetor at a 9-to-1 ratio.

HIGH PERFORMANCE

Also available as options are two high-performance V8s: the Super Fury V800 at 318 cubic inches, and the 361-cubic-inch Golden Commando. Both come with a single four-barrel carburetor and dual exhausts, at 9-to-1 compression ratio.

Cadillac Arrives Friday

Cadillac presents the most complete and competitive line of new models for 1962 in the division's history, according to Harold G. Warner, Cadillac general manager and vice president of General Motors.

The 1962 Cadillac will appear in dealer showrooms across the country Friday. Local dealer is Jerome Motor Sales Co., 290 S. Saginaw.

"A dramatically new silhouette, outstanding engineering achievements and important safety features new to any American motorcar, are combined in our anniversary automobile," Warner says.

There is more emphasis on safety with a new dual braking system, and significant lighting developments, both in the front and rear of the automobile, according to Warner.

NEW ROOF DESIGN

Five of the 12 Cadillac models will feature a different roof design giving an entirely new classic silhouette in the car and changing the overall styling personality.

Wheelbase is unchanged: 119 inches on the above Sixty Special and convertible models. Width also is unchanged.

To create a more massive appearance, all 12 models wear a new grille. Reflecting the 1962 design character, the rear quarter fins are low and sleek. New bumpers, and significant lighting developments, both in the front and rear of the automobile, according to Warner.

NEW DECK LID

The rear appearance of the car is enhanced by a new deck lid with a beveled edge in keeping with the crisp and angular styling motif. The tailgate in the rear bumper also is completely new and houses a taillamp, stop lamp, turn signal and back-up light.

The dignified Sixty Special retains its distinctive upper structure not shared by any other motorcar.

The Eldorado Biarritz convertible has a new body side molding which is painted to match the interior and bordered in chrome. There are 16 standard exterior colors available—one more than in 1961—plus five special Eldorado colors.

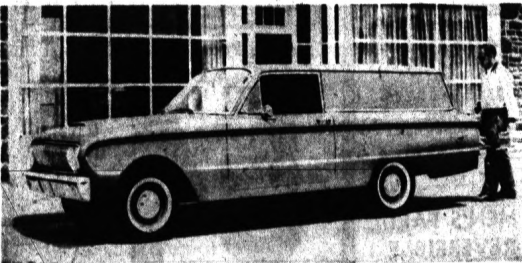

Unquestionably, Cadillac's major contribution to safer driving is the new three-way brake system, the first of its kind in the automobile industry.

Heart of this system is a dual-type power brake master cylinder with a separate piston and brake fluid reservoir for front and rear brakes.

STAR BILLING—That's the rank held by the sporty Fury convertible shown here. Four engine offerings range from the standard 300 Economy Six to the optional high-performance Golden Commando V8. In all there are 23 new-looking models in three complete lines: Savoy, Belvedere and Fury.

LIGHT DUTY—Standard power plant in the Falcon Sedan Delivery light duty truck is the economical 85-horsepower six, more powerful 101-horsepower engine is optional. Low loading height and an easy-to-operate tailgate are customer-convenience features.

HEAVY DUTY—Ford F100 (top) is one of Ford's 1962 fleet of light duty trucks. The one-half ton pickup is powered by the Ford "223" six or optional "292" V8, both proven economy leaders. The three-man cab features wide-opening doors with no dogging and handle-operated latches that make the tailgate easy to open and close.

OK Pact by Big Margin

2 Union Votes Vary

DETROIT (AP) — The two votes of the United Auto Workers' GM Council on General Motors contract issues Wednesday night reportedly differed markedly.

The vote to approve the national contract was a reported overwhelming 238 to 381, that to ask strike authority on local issues a close 1,305 to 1,122.

The council meeting was not open to the press.

John McCarrell, president of West Mifflin, Pa., Local 544, boycotted the meeting.

Workers at the suburban Pittsburgh body stamping plant are among those who have been on strike over local issues. McCarrell told reporters he would not be bound by any council decisions.

"We're tied up tight," he said. "We're nowhere near an agreement." He referred to the impasse at the West Mifflin plant.

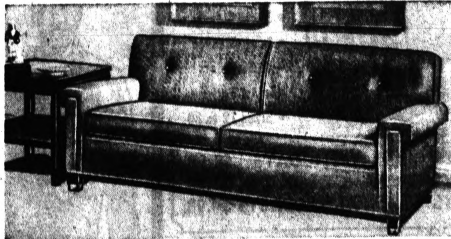

DISTINCTIVE—Cadillac's Fleetwood Sixty Special for 1962 retains its distinctive upper structure not shared by any other motorcar. Accenting the rear of the car is a new deck lid with a beveled edge and a new cover molding that features a pattern similar to the front grille.

Ford's 'Business Fleet' Bows

With its new "Business Fleet," Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. concentrates its entire 1962 light truck engineering effort on reducing truck operating costs.

"In a deliberate effort to help businessmen combat inflationary-type operating costs, Ford has focused its prime attention on engineering improvements rather than body changes," said John F. McLean, truck marketing manager for the Ford Division.

Local dealers are John McAllister Ford, Inc., 630 Oakland Ave., and Beattie Motor Sales, Inc., 5408 Dixie Highway, Waterford.

"We have developed what might be termed a light- and medium-duty truck 'Business Fleet,' which includes a complete selection of commercial vehicles designed to give maximum fuel economy and reduce required maintenance, while offering increased durability and reliability," McLean said.

A selection of six economy-type engines ranges in size and horsepower from a 141-cubic inch 48-horsepower 6-cylinder in a 98-cubic inch 170-horsepower V8. Many truck engineering advances incorporated into the Ford Business Fleet are built into the '62 Falcon Ranchero and Sedan Delivery trucks.

EXONOLINE VAN

Besides the Falcon Ranchero and Sedan Delivery, trucks comprising the Business Fleet include the Exonoline van and pickup, the light-duty one-half, three-quarter and one-ton pickups, and the one-half, three-quarter-ton four-wheel drive.

Medium-duty trucks include the conventional and tilt-cab series with gross vehicle weights ranging from 15,000 to 21,000 pounds.

Loss in Revenue Threatens State

Drop in Sales, Use Tax Could Put Treasury in Red at End of Year

LANSING (U.P.) — A drop in sales and use tax revenues has sparked concern about the state deficit.

Clarence W. Lock, state revenue commissioner, said a House committee Wednesday that the state was about $71 million in the red at the end of the fiscal year. The committee is headed by Rep. Ned G. Ozala, R-Tipton.

Lock also said that sales and use tax collections — the state's most important source of revenue — were below expectations for the first two months of the current fiscal year.

"If this trend continues," Ozala said, "we could be in the red up to an additional $15 million at the end of the fiscal year. If that happens, we might be back in the red through of payless pay days."

"The state can live with the present deficit," he said. "We're doing it. But we can't go much further. A sharp increase in business could wipe out this deficit, however," he added.

Lock reported sales tax collections were about $5 million behind expectations and use tax collections around $2 million behind in the first two months of the new fiscal year.

The loss could be attributed to unemployment and "a poor model year" in the automotive industry, he said.

Lock said he is still hopeful of picking up the losses. The automobile manufacturers, he said, are optimistic about the sales possibilities of their new car models.

Business Journal Editors Have Meeting With JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Editors of business magazines had a 20-minute meeting with President Kennedy Wednesday.

They said Kennedy gave them a little talk and answered some questions in an off-the-record discussion which covered such things as economic conditions, the budget and the gold supply. The president of the Society of Business Magazine Editors, Norman Jacobson, of Electric Light and Power Magazine, Chicago, gave Kennedy a gold member-ship pin.

Does Economy Really Need a Helping Hand?

(Editors' Note: Is the economy sagging and really in need of a helping hand? That's the question that's been asked in this issue. Here's a look at the latest business news analysis, discussion and the kind of triggering action that's being taken.)

BY SAM LAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK — More jobs for more people—more spending money for a higher standard of living—more government spending to spur the economy's growth but without higher tax rates—more industrial output at moderately higher wage scales but at about the same price levels.

And all this without triggering a boom and bust or an unrelenting hold the price line or how high wages can go without setting off wage-price hiking patterns for other industries.

More basic is whether the economy is growing fast enough, whether unemployment can be held, whether the government can intervene without its pump-priming setting off another round of inflation.

"MUST GROW FASTER"
President Kennedy and his Council of Economic Advisors say the economy must grow faster if jobs are to be found for an increasing labor force.

Walter Heller, chairman of the Council, says that at the start of the year industry had the capacity to produce 3 per cent more than it actually did. He holds that the gap actually did. He holds that the gap actually did. He holds that the gap actually did.

playables and those in transit from job to job or place to place.

More recently have been added the unskilled for whom there is less demand in a mechanized age, and also those displaced workers whose particular skills have been taken over by machines.

FOREIGNER HIGHER AVERAGE
The jobs total is now around 7 per cent of the labor force. President Kennedy has said he hopes his policies will bring this down fairly soon to 4 per cent. But a few economists have been saying, mostly in hushed tones, up or down?

'Need for Scientists Draws New Industry'

LANSING (U.P.) — The need for creative scientists and skilled technicians has begun to draw new industry to Michigan, the State Council of State College Presidents said today.

The state's universities and institutes of science and technology are acting as "powerful magnets" to industry, said M. M. Chambers, council executive director.

The University of Michigan already has attracted several new industries which have built research facilities near the Ann Arbor campus, he said. The city of Ann Arbor, he added, has acquired a research park in anticipation of future growth.

The pattern already has been set, Chambers said, in Massachusetts, where Harvard University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology have drawn a heavy concentration of new electronics plants.

Similar clusters of new and growing industries have developed around the University of California at Los Angeles, Cal Tech and the "research triangle"—made up of the University of North Carolina, Duke and the North Carolina State College of Engineering.

"Much better drawing cards as cheap and abundant labor, tax concessions, and raw material supplies are being replaced with the need for creative scientists and skilled technicians."

"New industries benefit by being close to a great university center where professors, researchers, and thousands of graduate and post-graduate students may be interested in becoming full or part-time employees or consultants."

Los Angeles (AP) — Jay Gould II has denied fathering a girl born to his ex-wife seven months after they were divorced. Gould is grandson of the late railroad magnate.

Gould filed an answer Wednesday in Superior Court to Blair Gould's support suit. She is asking $550 a month for support of the child.

Gould told the court the child, Flavia Brooke, was born June 15, 1953. He said his ex-wife did not tell him about the birth until last February.

U.S. Steps Up Aid To South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is stepping up the flow of communications equipment and other aid to help South Viet Nam counter mounting hit-and-run Communist raids.

U.S. officials, disclosing this, said the United States is doing everything it can to help the Vietnamese army detect preparations for raids. "The program will be accelerated," officials stressed.

The action followed a surprise Communist Viet Cong rebel attack early Monday on the provincial capital of Phuoc Thanh, 60 miles north of Saigon. The rebel attack resulted in burning and ransacking provincial buildings, and execution of the provincial chief and a number of his aides and defending civil guards. It was considered the boldest Communist raid of the war and the first on a provincial capital.

Original Wedding Party at Golden Anniversary
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The entire group of six original wedding attendants, plus the clergyman, reappeared Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Farber to help them celebrate their golden anniversary.

The Ramblers were married Sept. 20, 1911. He's now 77, and she's 69.

The bridesmaid, the best man, two flower girls and two ushers were on hand along with Rev. William Trebert, now 87.

The gas-saving "4" with Pontiac Punch!

TEMPEST CONVERTIBLE

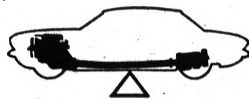

PONTIAC TRIGGERS ANOTHER TEAM OF WINNERS. Every one is a fancy mover. Choice of 110, 115, 120 or 140 h.p., gas-saving 4-cylinder engine. A couple of extra cost options: 4-barrel carb, 166 h.p. Plenty of punch without big maintenance and running costs. The citizen who wants more can go for an aluminum V-8 option that pulls an honest 185 horses with a 10.25 to 1 compression ratio.

TEMPEST HAS A FRONT ENGINE/REAR TRANSMISSION! (The only American car with this feature.) It gives Tempest equal weight at every wheel. It has biting traction on the bricks or in the mud. Tires last longer. Brakes take hold like they mean it. The front floor is practically flat (no big hump in the middle). Tempest seats six—easily!

TEMPEST HAS INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION—FRONT AND REAR! Each wheel (and it's a big 15" one) moves up and down independently of the opposite wheel. There's no solid axle in the rear. Result: Firm ride on pavement, soft ride in the boondocks! Swing axles in the rear help the Tempest to carve out clean, firm curves.

PLUSH NEW SERIES—THE LE MANS (LUH-MAHNZ). The Tempest Convertible and Coupe are out this year in special custom trim. Call them the Le Mans! They both have sports-type bucket seats, full carpeting, floor mounted stick shift, acceleration rear axle option—no extra cost. Extra cost option: 4-speed gearbox. Take one out—it's a going machine!

Drive America's only front engine/rear transmission car . . . it's balanced like none of the others!

Industry Predicts Buying Surge

Dealers to Show 29 Lines of Cars

By BEN FOLEGAN
AP Automotive Writer
DETROIT—The first 1962 model cars go on sale today. Within two weeks 29 separate lines of cars from six domestic manufacturers will be in the showrooms with four more to follow later.

Industry executives confidently predict a buying surge which will shake the market out of its recent doldrums and lead to a minimum increase of 10 per cent in the calendar year starting Jan. 1.

Such enthusiasm is habitual in Detroit at new model time. Any executive who failed to boast his car would take a greater share of the market in the next year, auto executives would be teased out of the club. As a result the percentage usually add to well over 100.

Ed Rollett, general manager of Buick, took note of this at his press preview Monday. He commented that since his was the last division to show its new cars the other general managers probably hadn't left him any room in the market. Rollett didn't let this face him, however. He promptly predicted Buick sales would exceed 35 per cent in 1962.

TO RUN A MILLION
New car sales in the United States this year are expected to run about $1 billion, including 400,000 imports.

General Motors predicts 1.33 million for 1962 including the same number of imports. Ford, Chrysler, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard all estimate from 6.6 to seven million, including imports.

Volkswagen, biggest of the foreign sellers in this country, also subscribes to the 6.6-7 range.

Noticeably absent from the predicting contest this fall were the divisional managers of Ford and Chrysler. Lynn Townsend, new Chrysler president, said he didn't want to estimate a percentage total for his corporation "because I might be too low. We want every percentage point we can get."

If all the predictions so far recorded came true and Ford and Chrysler just held what they got this year the total domestic sale would be upwards of 6.84 million.

How close any of the crystal gazers come depends heavily on what happens in the first few weeks after the new models go on sale. Buying in the latest 10-day period was at its slowest pace of the entire 1961 model year, averaging only 11,261 sales daily.

In contrast, sales during the first 10 days of the model year last October averaged 21,730 daily. High point of the year was the first 10 days of June when the average daily sales rate was 25,745.

Ford and the small Pontiac Tempest are the first new models to go on sale officially. They will be followed Friday by Oldsmobile, the Olds F85, Cadillac and the Studebaker Hawk.

The four cars with delayed introductions are the in-between sizes from Ford—the Ford Fairlane and Mercury Meteor; the Studebaker Hawk and the limited production Chrysler 300L.

The Fairlane will bow in late October or November, the Meteor about Nov. 29 and the Hawk at the end of October. The Chrysler sports car will be out after Jan. 1.

MADE NO CHANGE
One car has no introduction problems because it made no change. This is the Checker Super, civilian version of the Checker taxi. The Kalamazoo factory has continued building without retooling.

Here is the complete list of 1962 makes in alphabetical order:

Buick, Buick Special, Cadillac, Checker Super, Chevrolet, Chevy II, Chrysler, Chrysler 300L, Corvair, Corvette, Dodge Dart, Dodge Lancer, Dodge Polara, Falcon, Ford Fairlane, Ford Galaxie, Imperial, Lincoln Continental, Mercury Comet, Mercury Meteor, Mercury Monterey, Oldsmobile, Oldsmobile F85, Plymouth, Plymouth Valiant, Pontiac, Pontiac Tempest, Rambler Ambassador, Rambler American, Rambler Classic, Studebaker Lark, Studebaker Hawk, Thunderbird.

A Thousand Heartaches Line Berlin's Barbed Wall

By LYNN HEINERLING
BERLIN (AP)—No matter how many times you see it, Berlin's wall is unbelievable.
This ugly line of concrete and barbed wire, cutting a jagged line through the heart of a great city, is something the mind scarcely accommodate.
Many monstrous crimes have been plotted and committed in this old city. Hitler, Himmler and Goebbels once ruled here. Perhaps the wall does not rival their line through the heart of a great city, but it is something the mind scarcely accommodate.

TRAGIC BERLIN WALL—West Berliners (at right) gaze through the barbed wire fence at uniformed East Berlin policemen as they bring new posts to reinforce the barrier in Berlin's Wildenbruchstrasse. Cement block wall and additional barbed wire fence mark the border in the background, cutting a tragic dividing line through the heart of the city.

Episcopal Delegates Tour Detroit's Big Industries

DETROIT (AP)—After putting new steam into a move for Christian reunion, the legislative machinery of the Episcopal Church today ground to a halt—for a look at some other kinds of machinery.
Nearly 1,000 representatives of the church from across the country—bishops, pastors, theologians and lay delegates—headed into the whirling labyrinth of Detroit's industrial empire.
Their purpose: To hunt clues on how the church can break out of its parochial walls into the mass—organized, mechanized world that has engulfed much of modern American life.
The tour came after the House of Bishops Wednesday swept through a dramatic measure aimed at uniting a wide range of American churches, including at least four other denominations.
Keen controversy had been expected, but the 135 bishops approved the step unanimously, and without debate, on a motion by Rt. Rev. Robert F. Gibson, bishop of Virginia, head of a unity commission.
It left the conclave stunned. "I'm quite speechless," said The Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger of New York, presiding bishop. The action still is subject to approval by the convention's lay-clerical branch, the House of Deputies.
It calls for talks with United Presbyterians, Methodists, the United Church of Christ, the Polish National Catholic Church and possibly others to "explore the possibilities of an eventual united church, truly catholic, truly reformed and truly evangelical."
Altogether, the denominations have about 20 million members.
A total of 200 new city buses have gone into operation in Mexico, the first of 500 due by the end of the month.

14 Bank Robbery Alarms False but One Was Real

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco police hope never again to see another day like Wednesday.
Fourteen consecutive false bank robbery alarms sounded—and there was one that wasn't so false.
Joseph Cohen, 25, San Francisco, didn't get more than 100 feet from a Bank of America branch when operations manager Dan Curran, 33, pushed a pipe stem in his back. Curran had grabbed the pipe moments after Cohen shoved a note to a teller that read: "I have a gun. Put all your money in a sack."
Cohen—carrying $750—was marched back to the bank where police were waiting.

'Soviet Won't Fight Unless Win Assured'

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia won't start a nuclear war unless it feels it can knock out the United States with a single blow, in the opinion of the Army's former missile chief.
Major Gen. John B. Montague (Ret.) told reporters at a news conference held in connection with a luncheon of the American Rocket Society.
"The Russians are profound realists. They will not launch a surprise nuclear attack against us unless they feel they could put an end to the business in one single attack."
As the bus approaches Brandenburg Gate, the guide points to a statue in the distance.
"That's the spire of our old city hall and to the left is our main cathedral. They're now in the DDR (German Democratic Republic)."
"DDR," he adds, "stands for 'die dicke regieren' (the thick rule) because they stole freedom from people."
The bus passes a building of Hitler's Third Reich. The guide refers to the "thousand year reich" promised by Hitler.
"A thousand years have passed already," the guide says.

Gidney Quits; Saxon Named

Lawyer Chosen for U.S. Comptroller Spot

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an on-again, off-again bit of White House toying, President Kennedy has named Chicago lawyer James J. Saxon to replace Ray M. Gidney as comptroller of currency.

The appointment, announced Wednesday, will become effective Nov. 15.

Gidney, a Republican, has disagreed strongly with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the president's brother, over antitrust policy on bank mergers.

The White House announced nomination of Saxon, a Democrat, Wednesday afternoon. A spokesman said he understood Gidney was stepping out under a verbal agreement with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

Less than two hours later, the White House withdrew the nomination. The Treasury Department said it was all a mistake, that the nomination had been sent to the White House "as a result of a clerical error in the rush at the close of the session in Congress."

Still later, the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, summoned reporters back to the White House and said Gidney is resigning effective Nov. 15 and Saxon would succeed him in the $20,500 job.

Gidney's term is not scheduled to expire until 1963. Saxon will be given a recess appointment to finish out Gidney's term. The nomination requires Senate approval.

HAS BROAD POWERS

Some administration officials had speculated that Gidney might be persuaded to resign because of his differences with the attorney general. Until Wednesday there had been no indication that he would quit.

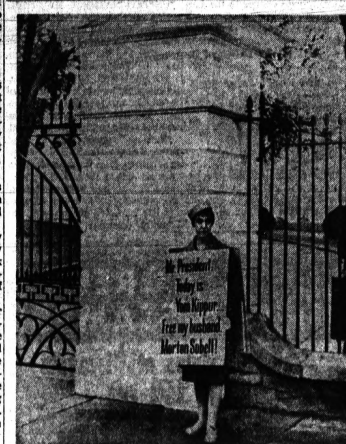

The Justice Department has filed court actions to overturn several bank mergers approved by Gidney.

The comptroller of the currency must approve organization of new national banks and all bank mergers. He exercises general supervision over the operation of national banks.

Saxon, 47, has been attorney for the First National Bank of Chicago since 1956. Previously, he had served as assistant general counsel in the Washington office of the American Bankers Association and worked 15 years in the Treasury Department, stepping out as assistant to the secretary.

A native of Toledo, Ohio, Saxon was graduated from St. John's College in his home town. He took post-graduate work in economics and finance at Catholic University in Washington and was PICKETS WHITE HOUSE—Mrs. Morton Sobell, wife of the convicted atom spy, pickets in front of the White House carrying a sign seeking her husband's freedom on the Jewish "day of atonement." Police said it was a violation of rules to picket at the gate at such a time.

Cold War Talks Vital—DeGaulle

Questions of Germany, Disarmament, Other Problems Still Unsolved

DECAZEVILLE, France (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle said today that cold war talks with the Soviet Union will still be necessary to settle the questions of Germany, disarmament and other major East-West problems.

But he added a warning that the free world must face up to the dangers confronting it or "lose its soul."

He told a crowd of 600 to 700 persons at Villiers-le-Moutier de Bourgogne before coming here on a meet-the-people swing around Southern France that "there are matters to be settled in this world—the question of Germany, that of unfortunate countries, that of contacts to be re-established between peoples, that of disarmament."

"All these problems must be negotiated and must be discussed," he said.

However, there was nothing to indicate that he has backed down on his recent opposition to Berlin peace talks.

The president headed south in an apparent effort to pacify the restive farmers of poverty-stricken Southern France.

DeGaulle's four-day "grass roots" tour will take him through Aveyron, Lozere and Ardeche provinces, three of the poorest in France. He will make 13 speeches.

Before leaving Paris last night, the president announced that he would give up his dictatorial powers at the end of the month. At the same time, the government announced a 10 percent increase in milk prices.

Likes Kidnap, Won't Prosecute 11-Year-Old

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Alton Compton, 40, liked the bright, polite youngster that kidnaped him with a shotgun so much he refused to prosecute Wednesday and the boy was freed.

Ronnie Stanford, 11, was released by juvenile authorities to the custody of his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. John Stanford of Arlington.

He rode his bicycle to Fort Worth on Tuesday, went to the hardware store Compton and his father operate, and took a shotgun from the rack. He loaded it and ordered Compton to get into his truck and drive him to New Mexico because he was running away from home.

Near Weatherford, Tex., Compton managed to wrest the gun away from the boy.

PSC May Prosecute Railroad Inspector

LANSING UP—The State Public Service Commission was deciding today what charges—if any—will be leveled against a state railroad safety inspector charged with taking money for testimony in a railroad damage suit.

The state employee, Donald Hughes, 51, was suspended Sept. 14, after he was convicted of contempt of court by Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph Sullivan. He was charged with accepting $100 for his testimony in a $45,000 damage suit against the New York Central Railroad.

Any charges against Hughes would be presented before the State Civil Service Commission, PSC spokesmen said.

Kiwanians to Sell Peanuts in Drive to Aid Children

Kiwanians members in Pontiac and the surrounding area will be selling peanuts on the streets tomorrow and Saturday in an effort to help underprivileged children.

Donations will go toward providing a more normal life for these youngsters.

Funds raised by the peanut sale last year were used to improve recreational facilities at Camp Oakland and to provide a scholarship at Michigan State University and special education classes for underprivileged children with an added physical handicap. Saturday is National Kiwanis Kids Day.

Rules Out Acquittal as Possible Verdict

ALLEGAN (AP) — Judge Raymond L. Smith today ruled out first-degree murder and acquittal as possible verdicts in the Allegan Circuit Court trial of James Scott Stephens, 34.

His 45-minute charge to the jury of seven men and five women offered but three courses of action: second degree murder, manslaughter, or innocent by reason of insanity.

"In this case," Judge Smith said, "the court charges the jury that insanity will not legally justify first degree. There is an absence of any evidence of premeditation."

Stephen claims insanity as a defense against a charge in the April 29 death of Carol Gee, 11. She and her 12-year-old playmate, Margaret Chambers, were shot and killed in a wooded dunes near their home. Twelve slugs from a .32 caliber semi-automatic rifle struck the girls, Stephen claims it was an accident.

Adlai Suggests Dag Be Buried at U.N. Site

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson has proposed that Dag Hammarskjöld be buried at U.N. headquarters and that a "living memorial" be authorized in his honor. The late secretary general's family plan to bury him a week from Friday in the family plot in Uppsala, Sweden. The Swedish government is giving him a royal funeral.

Stevenson said that the most fitting tribute the United Nations can pay to Dag Hammarskjöld is that he should be buried here by the river at this headquarters of the organization to which he gave his life. Stevenson told the General Assembly Wednesday.

To Sift Testimony About MSU Center

LANSING (AP)—A Senate investigating committee will sift through more than 20 hours of testimony from a score of witnesses in an effort to determine whether there is a pro-labor slant in the operation of a Michigan State University center.

The committee, headed by Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Mich., wound up three days of hearings Wednesday probing into charges against MSU's Labor and Industrial Relations Center.

Francis said after the committee has studied the transcript and examined the 21 exhibits entered into the record, another hearing may be scheduled, possibly with university trustees subpoenaed to testify.

The parade of witnesses wound up Wednesday with the man who started the inquiry in the first place, Charles A. Rogers, former associate director in charge of management personnel programs for the center.

Rogers was relieved of his duties last June shortly after he charged that there was an imbalance at the center favoring labor unions.

HANNAH TESTIFIES
University officials, including President John A. Hannah—while conceding that more time was devoted to labor than business at the center itself—pointed out that the university as a whole provides services to management that far outnumber and outweigh services to labor.

Rogers testified that he had a constant feeling that there was an attempt to hobble his efforts on the management side while he was at the center, while at the same time labor programs were given freedom to operate in a wide area.

"There seemed to be a constant harassment," Rogers declared. Rogers said he has been told that he will get a new assignment in the business law department teaching two courses "one of which is so elementary it is not even in the university catalog." He said the other course does not even carry business school credit. In addition, he said, they would tie him up on two days from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., and on two other days from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Asked whether he considered this vindictive action, Rogers replied: "You can draw your own conclusions."

Episcopal Street of Shops Attracting Hundreds

By MARY ANGLEMIER.
Women by the hundreds are flocking to the "Street of Shops" in Hall D of Cobo Hall, Detroit, where missionary districts of the Episcopal Church such as Taiwan, Okinawa, Liberia, Haiti and Panama have native handicrafts for sale.

INDIAN JEWELRY.
Students from St. Mary's Episcopal School for Girls in South Dakota have a booth of Indian jewelry. Other items for sale are baskets, mosaics, pictures, paintings, hand woven skirts, shawls, towels and skirt materials.

Aprons, knitting bags, houses and children's clothes, all with hand embroidery or applique work, also may be purchased. Proceeds go to missions.

The book booth offers Bible stories, church magazines and material for church schools and Bible study.

The Church of Japan has a separate exhibit, a Japanese tea garden.

At the tea house shipped from Tokyo, Mrs. Takeo Ozawa, wife of the Japanese consul general in Chicago, served the first tea. Powdered green tea mixed with boiling water is whisked with a long bamboo utensil which has a brush on the end.

Guests remove their shoes before entering the tea house at the front entrance. The hostess comes in from the back. The honored or principal guest makes the flower arrangement on a tray with the hostess pouring water.

Everyone speaks of flowers which the Japanese love, paintings, china, architecture and family, all pleasant and inspiring topics. No mention is made of politics or controversial subjects.

Seated on the floor of a tea house imported from Japan are (from left) Tatsuko Nakamishi and Toshiko Shimoura of Osaka, Japan, and Mrs. Harry C. Dumville, Bloomfield Hills. The women are anticipating Chano-yu, the tea ceremony founded during the 15th century in Japan. Water is boiled in the sunken fire pit in front of the kneeling women, who are without shoes. Tatsuko is wearing an azure blue kimono. Toshiko's gown is green. Cummerbunds are gold. Mrs. Dumville in grey wool is vice chairman of arrangements for the Triennial Meeting of women at the 60th General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Cobo Hall, Detroit.

At the tea house shipped from Tokyo, Mrs. Takeo Ozawa, wife of the Japanese consul general in Chicago, served the first tea. Powdered green tea mixed with boiling water is whisked with a long bamboo utensil which has a brush on the end.

It is all a part of the 60th General Convention and Triennial Meeting of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America which will continue through Sept. 29.

Some 70,000 cookies baked by 2,000 women of the diocese are on hand throughout Cobo Hall for munching by delegates and visitors.

More than 300 women of Oakland County are serving in some capacity at the triennial meeting. They are acting as hostesses, greeters, pages, ushers, registrars and a host of other positions so necessary for a well-run meeting.

Mrs. Frederick Sparrow of Ann Arbor, chairman of the diocesan committee on arrangements, is assisted by Mrs. Harry C. Dumville, Bloomfield Hills.

MRS. HUBBARD CHAIRMAN
Mrs. Bruce F. Hubbard of Cherokee Road was chairman of volunteer recruitment.

The sessions for Episcopal churchwomen will close with Holy Communion and United Thank Offering at 7:30 a.m. Friday in Cobo Hall arena. Mrs. Sparrow said the offering is expected to exceed $1 million.

The United Thank Offering is received from thousands of Episcopal women who keep the "little blue book" in a handy spot around the house. With the threefold offering of "Prayer, Gifts and Joyful Service" in mind, they drop in pennies, nickels and dimes as they thank God for everyday blessings.

The offering builds new mission houses, supports old, provides practical gifts in the mission field, from a plane for the bishop in Alaska to a plane at a mission school. It provides scholarships for graduate students and support for training schools for women. It even makes pensions possible for retired women missionaries and professional church workers.

Admiring the shrine in the garden imported from Japan for the General Convention of the Episcopal Church in Detroit are (from left) Mrs. George Kimber, Lake Orion; Mrs. Arthur R. Dodge, North Lake Angelus Road and Mrs. H. W. Robinson, Lake Orion. Caladium and vines are planted at the base. The women attend St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church. Pictures of colleges, schools and churches in Japan supported by Episcopalians are in the background.

Abby Says:

You're Wrong, You Did Right

By ANIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was warned, through a second party, that my friend's 1-year-old daughter was a little thief, and that I should keep an eye on her since she was a little thief with her parents in my home frequently. I watched the child like a hawk and, sure enough, I saw, in her pocket, several items that belonged to me. I felt like a heel telling her parents about it, but I really told them for the good of their child. I realize now that it wasn't my place to tell them. I have lost two friends, and gained a nickname. It's—

BIG MOUTH

DEAR BIG: I disagree. Perhaps you lost two friends, but you were big-hearted, not big-mouthed. Your motives in telling the parents were pure. They should have thanked you for the information, and then set about to find out what their child was missing that made her steal.

DEAR ABBY: What does it mean when a man wears his wedding ring on his little finger?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: It probably means that he has gained so much weight he can't get it on any other finger.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell the wives of traveling salesmen not to worry about the traveling salesman jokes they hear. I have driven a taxi for 16 years, and I have hauled thousands of traveling salesmen from airports to hotels. The number who are looking for a good time are very few. Most of them are so beat up from traveling all they want is to get to their hotel and go to sleep. I have found that salesmen and representatives are interested in their families first, and their jobs second. When they start a conversation they don't ask me where they can meet a cute chick, they ask where to buy gifts for their wives and children. And they talk about their homes, families and hobbies. They travel because that's the way they can make the best living. And don't let anybody tell you different.

Designer Leaving Cranbrook

Marianne Strenzel, internationally famous weaver and textile designer, is leaving her position as head of the weaving department of Cranbrook Academy of Arts.

Associated with the academy for over 24 years, 18 of them as department head, Marianne will move this fall to the East where her architect husband, Olav Hammarstrom, has accepted an architectural commission. Mrs. Hammarstrom will continue to construct her textile designs.

While at Cranbrook Mrs. Hammarstrom has worked with and acted as consultant to architects, interior and industrial designers and textile manufacturers throughout the country.

As a farewell gesture to the academy, Marianne's Little Gallery will feature an exhibit of her "New Designs for Rugs and Other Textiles." On display will be rugs hand-woven in Japan and the United States from Strenzel designs, as well as upholstery fabrics and modernized silhouettes. Supplementing the Strenzel group are rugs, tables and accessories from Giza, Greece and India, designed for and imported by the Studio of Irene Murphy. The exhibition opens Sunday at the gallery and will continue through Oct. 7.

Pine Lake Artists Sponsor Classes

The Pine Lake Art Club is sponsoring art classes the second and fourth Fridays of each month in the basement of West Bloomfield Township Hall, Orchard Lake Road.

Beginning this week, the group will meet 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Classes will not meet during December, June, July and August.

Mrs. Elmer Jones will continue as instructor. For further information, call Mrs. Malcolm Sweeney, Pine Lake Road.

Altrusa Women to Meet Oct. 13

EAST LANSING — More than 200 members of Altrusa International, a service organization for executive and professional women, are expected to meet in East Lansing Oct. 13-15 for their seventh annual District Five conference. District Five is comprised of Michigan, Ohio, Southwestern Ontario and West Virginia.

On her way to the Triennial Meeting of Episcopal Churchwomen in Cobo Hall, Detroit is Mrs. Bruce F. Hubbard of Cherokee Road, general chairman of recruitment of volunteers for the general convention. Mrs. Hubbard will meet Monday with Bishop Richard S. Emrich and several clergymen as a member of the committee on the church in Alaska.

Standing in front of a teepee brought to the convention from the Indian reservation at Wounded Knee, S.D., is Mrs. George B. Eaton of Orchard Lake Road. She is examining a beaded bag made by students who attend the St. Mary's Episcopal School for Indian Girls, Springfield, S.D. Mrs. Eaton is a member of The Episcopal Church of the Advent.

PTAs in Action

A short business meeting and open house is planned at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday by Daniel Whitfield Parent-Teacher Association. Members will meet in the gymnasium.

Teachers in their respective rooms will explain the children's work for the year. Class room materials will be displayed. Executive board members will serve refreshments.

MALIKIM

Committees have been appointed by Malikim School's PTA. Chairmen include Mrs. Robert Bragan, finance; Virginia Fowler, publicity; Mrs. Daniel Pintano and Mrs. Clarence Ball, membership; Charles Hall, legislation; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woody, scholarship; Mrs. Charles Lauinger, program; and Arthur Durham, youth protection.

LINCOLN JR. HIGH

The Parent-Teacher Association at Lincoln Junior High School is planning two cooperative dinners for seventh grade parents and students.

Home rooms 103, 204, 208 and 212 will be represented Tuesday, and rooms 110, 113, 210 and 211, on Oct. 2. The dinners will be served following 5:30 p.m. get-acquainted gatherings in the gymnasium. Norman Kujala, principal, will introduce home room teachers and counselors who will explain the school's guidance program.

Mrs. John O'Berry and Mrs. Albert Love are dinner chairmen.

Dior's Protege, Saint Laurent, to Open House

PARIS (AP) — Fashion designer Yves Saint-Laurent, once considered the boy wonder of the House of Dior, said Wednesday he plans to open his own fashion house and present a collection at next spring's showing.

Saint-Laurent, 23, succeeded the late Christian Dior in 1957 as chief designer at Dior, and his first collection was acclaimed by the critics and the public.

However, he was drafted in 1960 and the Dior house, having hired Marc Bohon, did not take him back upon discharge from the army.

Open Social Season at Sylvan Shores

The Sylvan Shores Women's Club annual season was opened Wednesday with a breakfast at Sylvan Shores Park.

Some 40 members and their children were served by officers and committee workers.

Others are Mrs. Paul Kozmiz, health; Lamont Wert and Mrs. Howard Dow, parent and family life education; Mrs. John Matura, nagazine; Charles Woodworth, safety; and Mrs. Anthony Studier, telephone.

Completing the list of chairmen are Pauline Watson, exceptional child; Mrs. Melvin Dorrice, flowers and cards; Mrs. Elmer Trammel, room mothers; Mrs. Glenn Beardon and Mrs. Lester Pitts, preschool; and Mrs. Leslie Hotchkiss, savings stamps.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Lerchen welcomed exchange students from foreign countries at supper Sunday evening in their home in Lowell Drive.

Also invited were students from local schools, senior high graduates mostly, who had lived with families abroad for all or part of the school year.

Living with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moon will be Jean Louise Coston who is enrolled at Cranbrook School. Roberta Relais will go to South America. John Bowers will be assigned to Western Germany with other young people who have been chosen by the American Field Service. Students from the area are also sponsored by the Council of Churches. Ted Lerchen, son of party hosts Mr. and Mrs. Lerchen will go to Holland. Also invited to the supper are several students who spent last summer studying abroad including Kathie Wilson, Jim Wright, Susan Mayo and Charles Livingston.

Sonia Salazar, whose home is in Ecuador, S. A., will be a student at Kingswood School Cranbrook this year and will live with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Dutton in Franklin.

Headmaster of Cranbrook

School and Mrs. Harry D. they plan to entertain Saturday for a large group of international students who are enrolling at the University of Michigan this week. Ten on the lawn will follow a tour of the Cranbrook institutions for 120 visitors who will be hosted overnight in the area as part of the University of Michigan Alumnae program "Operation Friendship."

A tea and kitchen shower was given last Tuesday by Joanne Hargreaves and Mandy Matthews in honor of Mrs. Ernst F. Kern Jr., a recent bride. With Mr. Kern she will live in Ann Arbor this year where Ernst has enrolled at the University of Michigan School of Business Administration.

Living in New York this winter will be Kay Ferring, Barbara Underhill, Judy Frost and Julie Otter.

"Just for fun," a group of Drayton Woods women who meet regularly for cards are now gathering each September to celebrate a Christmas party. The idea originated as a joke, but has proved successful and beneficial for members who work and are too busy for December yule get-togethers. "Santa" Mrs. Stephen Kruckko is shown dispensing gifts to (from left) Mrs. Archie Slade, Mrs. Bernard Neussendorfer and Mrs. Gerald Schraw at their party with all the trimmings.

Pillar Club Holds Meeting

Mrs. Theodore Wiersma of West Iroquois Road was hostess to 30 members of the Pillar Club Tuesday evening.

Assisting the hostess with the candlelight cooperative dinner were Mrs. Dexter Craig, Mrs. Aron Hibel, Mrs. John Kille and Mrs. Guy Benabough.

Devotions on the parable of the sower and seed from the fourth chapter of St. Mark's Gospel were presented by Mrs. Craig.

Special guest was Lucinda Wyckoff, noted consultant and lecturer on interior decorating and furniture refinishing, who gave an illustrated talk, working with contemporary pigmented finishes.

Entertainment was by the Pontiac Northern High School Crystalaires under direction of Melvin Lantieri.

Welcomed back to membership were Mary Howell, charter member who had been absent for several years, and Mrs. Howard Leone who spent the past year in Florida.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Wales Goodwin who will leave soon with Mr. Goodwin to reside in Florida.

Mrs. Fred Voelker, president, announced that a gift to the First Congregational Church and a memorial to the late Mrs. Ray Falk has been approved.

Iced Tea a Favorite With Dieting Teens

NEW YORK (UPI) — For back to school entertaining, iced tea is a favorite with teenagers.

Authorities say that tea is particularly suitable for teenagers with complexion problems, since it's a low-sweet beverage. A six-ounce glass of iced tea with a teaspoon of sugar and lemon wedge has 20 calories.

Mehlberg and Bailey Vows Made in Evening Ceremony

In an evening ceremony Saturday in the First Methodist Church, Joyce Elaine Bailey of Lake Orion exchanged wedding vows with Dale W. Mehlberg before Rev. Paul Hart.

Receiving in the church parlors with the newlyweds were their parents the Leo W. Baileys of Clarkston and the Lester Mehlbergs of Meadowlark Lane, Waterford Township.

Alencon lace accented the sweet heart neckline of the bride's gown of white pulled tulle, styled with chapel train. Triple tiers of English silk illusion for the bubble veil were fitted to a seed pearl headpiece.

A white orchid centered a cascade of white rosebuds and stephanotis atop a white Bible, gift of the bridegroom.

Sally E. Bailey, her sister's maid of honor, wore pale blue net over tulle and carried white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

Garrett Mehlberg stood as best man for his brother. Larry Mehlberg and Richard Rice acted as the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bailey chose iridescent green silk tulle and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Pink rosebuds accented a green silk sash for the mother of the bridegroom.

The couple will live in Pontiac on their return from a honeymoon in northern Michigan.

Nuptial Rites Are Held in Birmingham

The First Methodist Church, Birmingham, was the setting for the Saturday evening vows of Patricia DeLoe Watts, Bloomfield Hills, to Allan H. Fawcett, Birmingham. Rev. Robert Folk performed the small family ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd DeLoe, Bloomfield Hills, and the bridegroom's parents are the John Fawcetts, Birmingham.

Fashioned of turquoise silk brocade, the bride's street-length sheath dress was styled with high neckline and the three-quarter length sleeves. She wore crystal jewelry and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Barry Baldwin, Royal Oak, attended her sister as matron of honor, wearing a charcoal shantung sheath dress, green accessories and white gardenias.

Sydney B. Fawcett, Berkley, was best man for his brother.

The bridegroom attended Highland Park Junior College and Wayne State University. After a honeymoon at Logansport, Ind., the couple will live in Pontiac.

Mrs. DeLoe chose brown accessories for her light olive green shantung dress and Mrs. Fawcett wore wool sheer jersey. Their corsages were white carnations.

Teach Them to Conform to Laws

Teens Urge Juvenile Delinquents Be Punished

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Children Youth Research Inc.

When a teen-ager gets into trouble and moves from respectability to delinquency, who is to blame? Does the boy who suddenly puts on a show as a tough guy start doing it to impress girls? Who should crack the whip when it comes to punishment?

These were the questions we had in mind when we went to the nation's young people to find out what they thought about the big national headache, juvenile delinquency. The teen-ager's answers — your answers — made several things clear.

While most of you feel that indifference by parents and a lack of understanding at home are the major causes of delinquency, you do not think that parents should be punished for the wrong-doing of children.

There were no lies, and no butts about who should get the punishment. Eighty per cent of the 840 teen-agers we questioned said children should be punished. This point of view was reflected in the comments of Stephen R. Shop, 17, of Philadelphia, who said:

"They should be made aware that they have done wrong and an effort should be made to teach them to conform within the laws of society."

MAJOR CAUSES

Getting to the question of causes, of the long list of possible ones, the two mentioned most often were (1) lack of understanding at home, and (2) indifferent parents. These two were each chosen by 138 teen-agers as the main causes. One out of 10 listed environment as the third determining factor.

Typical comments: "Parents, churches and schools all share the blame because they apparently haven't given all children enough to think about," said Marianne Hereman, 18, Kansas City, Mo.

"I think JD starts when the child is a baby and the solution must start there too; by the love, care and discipline from the parents. More stress on the 'family honor' and 'father is head of the household' might help," said Blanche Lee Hooper, 19, Pasco, Wash.

"Lack of communication in the home," said John Howland, 17, of Canandaigua, N.Y.

What about holding parents responsible for the acts of their children by punishing them, rather than the kids? One proposal has been that if a kid is a vandal his parents should pay for the damage he does. On this specific point nearly 50 per cent said no, but almost 40 per cent said yes. This still didn't change the fact that nearly 90 per cent of you say that in any event the wayward child should also be punished.

Jim Skinner, 18, of Kansas City.

Reveal Plans for Sorority

Mrs. Robert Bego, new program chairman for Xi Beta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, announced plans for the new season at a meeting Monday in the Bieble Street home of Mrs. Dallas Nelson.

Additional committee chairmen announced by Mrs. Harold Wedow, president, were Mrs. Richard A. Ryan, social; and Mrs. Daryl Donaldson, telephone.

Rushes have been invited to Hawaiian luau in October. A model meeting is slated for November.

Mo., expressed the views of those against punishing parents. "Although it is partly the fault of the parents," he said, "the child is the one who committed the wrong."

Mary Forst, 17, of Philadelphia, took the opposite view, saying, "Maybe if there is punishment imposed on parents they'll start cracking down on their children."

The solution to the problem, to most of you, lies in what happens in the home. More than 30 per cent — 263 teen-agers in all — said that what is needed is a better understanding with parents.

"Put mothers back in the homes instead of at a job away from home," said Carolyn Saunders, 18, of Kansas City, Mo. "Somehow educate the parents in how to teach their children to behave."

Steven Birken, 15, of Oceanside, N.Y., thinks the job can be done by "concentration on greater parental guidance. Educate parents further. Also better recreation centers."

We also asked for impressions and views about delinquents and ties expressed the view that girls' behavior. While conditions play a bigger role in creating community, most of you thought seemed off-base to the majority of that in your own hometown, at our survey group, 52.1 per cent said, there's no evidence that teen-age gangs have become more of a problem.

Brian Scanlon, 14, of Tenally, N.J., commented that "they have become less of a problem due to the recreation facilities in my town."

But a Brooklyne, Patricia square Club, Order of the Amish, Johnson, 16, said they have been more of a problem "because of business and social meetings there are no facilities to occupy Tuesday evening."

The next meeting will be Oct. 17 at the Hawaiian Gardens restaurant.

How Much N-Waste Can Oceans Take?

By The Associated Press
Just how much radioactive waste can the great antarctic ice cap absorb? That's the question who the "Hottentots" are. These are questions for science at work.

HOW DEEP THE ICE?
There are some 1 1/2 billion billion - 1.4 and 1.7 zeros tons of water in the world's oceans. But even this vast water world can't take all the trash man would dump into it.

Thousands of tons of slot machines, guns, tin cans - everything man wants to get rid of are dumped into the ocean. And now radioactive wastes are there too.

For most of the next decade or so, it appears that the ocean can accept in its deep waters radioactive wastes without danger, suggests oceanographer John Isaac of the Crispe Institution. But later on there may have to be limits on the waste material to be dumped. And even now, locally, drums of radioactive wastes, attracting fish as any debris attracts fish, may pose problems. Certainly, it poses severe restrictions on the dumping of such wastes in the area where human food fish live, Isaac writes in the magazine, International Science and Technology.

If you melted the ice of the antarctic, the world's seas would swell some 300 feet higher and drown some of man's biggest cities.

But now some scientists are measuring the antarctic ice cap, not for fear of this, but as a possible barometer of world climate. If the antarctic ice is growing, this may signal a warming trend on the earth.

If this is so, then the earth faces the possibility that many years from now the arctic ice will melt, and huge snows from America, Asia and Europe, says University of Michigan geologists James Zumberge and Charles Swinbank.

These snows may then be enough to trigger another stage in the growth of glaciers again.

TAKE THAT, AND THAT
Now, out of the wild country of the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory in New Mexico, come the latest two guns in the West.

They can shoot a short streak of ionized or electrified gas at a target 60 miles a second. Striking the trajectory of the stream of them to shoot at each other, scientists hope to speed the building of the forces needed to create and sustain a thermonuclear or hydrogen bomb reaction.

The guns would feed a device delivered to firefighters for a built to fuse together hydrogen ion trials.

Work to Avert Strike by Maritime Crews

By ADA R. EVANS
Sept. 21, 1961

STAFF OF MICHIGAN - In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Judge J. H. Vanderpool, in Cause No. 10,000, has granted a preliminary injunction to the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local 1000, to prevent the strike of maritime crews from the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Seaway.

The 80-day injunction halted a nationwide shipping strike last July. Since then most major disputes have been settled. But the Maritime Union of America, the International Association of Masters, Mates and Pilots are still in disagreement.

A strike could affect 13 West Coast shipping companies with 136 ships.

Report Death Near for Marian Davies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Former actress Marian Davies may die at any hour, her physicians report.

They said Wednesday she had been administered last rites of the Roman Catholic Church last week when her death seemed near.

Miss Davies, 61, entered Cedars of Lebanon Hospital May 16. She was operated on June 7 for osteomyelitis of the jaw. Osteomyelitis is an inflammation of bone marrow.

Twelve days after surgery, Miss Davies fell in the hospital room and broke her left leg.

Gen. Clay Flies Over Red Land

Copter Takes Envoy to Harassed Sector of Western Zone

BERLIN (UPI) — Gen. Lucius Clay flew over Communist East German territory today to the beleaguered American zone enclave of Steintucken in a demonstration of Western Allied rights to go anywhere in Berlin.

West Berlin police said Clay, who arrived Tuesday as President Kennedy's personal representative in Berlin, made a dramatic one-ride flight to Steintucken in a U.S. Army helicopter and spent 30 minutes with the area's 200 residents.

We made the flight, the police said, in answer to new Communist harassment of ground traffic to the small enclave. Clay was the first American to visit the area in 10 years.

Steintucken is a farm enclave deep in the Soviet zone, but which is a part of Berlin administered from the Zehlendorf District in the American sector.

West Berlin officials said the Communists in recent days have been harassing all West Berliners, including relatives, friends, hill collectors, plumbers, electricians and similar people from Steintucken.

However, the Reds have left such persons as midwives, doctors and postmen to go back and forth.

During his visit, Clay assured the Steintucken mayor and people that the United States is supporting them against any Communist pressure.

Some Pastors Boycott East Germany Election

BERLIN (UPI) — Some Protestant pastors boycotted the single-ticket election held Sunday in Communist East Germany, said a newspaper published under Red control.

The Union, which appears in Communist-run Dresden, said the pastors must have had "a clear view of our intentions and acts." It called for "fundamental discussions" with them.

It was not stated how many pastors failed to vote. Neues Deutschland, the official Communist daily, said 98.88 per cent of the eligible voters cast ballots.

Scientist, Testing Strontium 85, Takes It Himself

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese atomic scientist is using himself as a guinea pig to test the rate of elimination and effects of dangerous strontium 85 when taken by humans.

Dr. Toshio Aoki, 52, of the Atomic Energy Research Institute swallowed a dose of the radioactive element on Aug. 16 by mixing it with his coffee. The amount was one-tenth of the level considered dangerous to human bodies.

He estimated today about 1 per cent of the strontium still remains in his body. He figured it will remain with him until late next year. The radiation readings revealed the strontium lodged in the bones of his shoulder, hip and spine.

Scientists Expect Record Fallout From Russian N-Tests

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Scientists expect most of the long-lasting radioactive poison hurled into the high atmosphere by this month's Soviet atomic tests to settle on the earth in a four-month period starting in February.

They will not be surprised if measuring sets a new record for the amount of fallout from the Russians in 1959.

What Dr. Lester Machta of the Weather Bureau said "the great fallout ever recorded" occurred in March, April, May and June of 1959. It came from the Soviet tests of October 1958.

This year's Russian tests started a month earlier and continued at a pace which threatened to surpass the 1959 rate.

What humanity will suffer from this radioactive contamination imposed upon it by Russia is not known. Science so far has been unable to detect and measure whatever damage is done to man by low radiation doses such as those normally associated with worldwide test fallout.

This radiation is small to the disappearing point compared with the instantaneous radiation from an exploding bomb or that from quickly descending "local fallout."

THIRTIEN TIMES MORE
Local fallout in wartime could produce, a few miles down wind from the explosion, radiation exposures amounting in an hour to thousands of times the dosage received from test fallout over a period of years.

The Soviet test fallout in the spring of 1959 increased by about 50 per cent the amount of strontium-90 deposited on the United States by all previous American, Russian and British tests.

The 1961 Russian tests, if they prove comparable to those of October 1958, could build up the strontium-90 contamination of the United States by 30 per cent above present levels.

Strontium-90 is one of the most menacing products of atomic fission. It is long-lived. It gets into plants and thence into milk and human bones. Very young children, whose diet is mainly milk and whose bones are growing rapidly, absorb more strontium-90 than adults.

It is known that in large amounts—large by comparison with those resulting from test fallout—strontium-90 can cause bone cancer in animals. It may also cause leukemia.

Another long-lasting product of bomb tests, cesium-137, is more widely distributed in the body than strontium and so can subject the reproductive organs to radiation.

There may or may not be a dose level below which strontium-90 can do no bodily harm. Scientists are not agreed whether such a threshold exists.

But most biologists believe no amount of radiation is too small to have some genetic damage if it hits the cells of hereditarily. From the standpoint of man as a species, this is the worst menace of radiation, because it is hereditary and is passed on to future generations.

"DIRTY" BOMBS
When nuclear weapons are tested, some of their radioactive products are deposited into the troposphere, the so-called "near the earth" zone. Above the troposphere, altitudes ranging from 20,000 to 50,000 feet, depending on the latitude, is a vast region of relative calm known as the stratosphere.

Small bombs tested above ground throw all of their fission products into the troposphere. It stays there a matter of weeks. Tropospheric contamination from the Soviet tests has been detected all around the Northern Hemisphere.

But it has been so slight, according to government experts, as not to pose any public health threat.

The great contaminants are the "dirty" bombs, with their fissionable triggers and jackets, which spread the bulk of their poison into the stratosphere.

Stratospheric "residence time" for radioactive material from big bomb tests ranges from under a year to perhaps 10 years, depending on the latitude and altitude of the explosion.

Fallout of major proportions from past explosions had all but disappeared from the atmosphere until the Russians resumed testing on Sept. 1.

The United States and the British had staged all their big bomb tests in low latitudes fairly close to the equator. Dr. Machta, the Weather Bureau's fall-out expert, estimates that about twice as much debris from such tests falls in the Northern Hemisphere as in the Southern.

But practically all of the Soviet stratospheric fall-out comes down in the temperate zone of the Northern Hemisphere, with only 1 or 2 or 3 per cent descending south of the equator.

Moreover, it comes down faster than the tropical fall-out and therefore is more intensely radioactive.

Once radioactive debris gets down from the stratosphere into the troposphere, fall-out tends to be localized in regions where rainfall is heaviest.

For this reason next spring's fall-out from the current Soviet tests is expected to be about twice as heavy in a large part of the United States as it is in Russia except for comparatively rainy Southeastern Siberia.

This was the case in 1959. The heaviest fall-out was in two large regions of heavy rainfall which included the Aleutian Islands in the Pacific and Iceland in the Atlantic. Other heavy fall-out zones included the dry parts of the Southwest and Northwest.

Before the Russians started the new atmospheric tests this year, the nuclear powers had thrown more than 10,000 pounds of radioactive particles into the air above the dawn of the atomic age in 1945.

LIKELY TO PUT UP MORE
The Soviet tests of October 1958 accounted for 1,375 to 1,650 pounds of this total. Unless they have made their big bomb cleaner, the Russians appear likely to throw up at least an equal amount this year.

According to Atomic Energy Commission figures published before the new Soviet series, Americans annually receive 25 times more radiation exposure to the reproductive organs from natural sources (radiation from the earth and sky) than they get from bomb tests. The medical radiation dose active particles into the air above the dawn of the atomic age in 1945, more than 40 times fall-out exposure.

The fallout dose to these organs has been about 125 times smaller than the maximum exposure from all sources recommended by the Federal Radiation Council as the permissible limit for the general public.

Because nothing really is known about the biological effects on man of low radiation doses, Dr. Charles L. Dunham of the AEC's Biology and Medicine Division was able to play a grim sort of "numbers game" in estimating test fallout damage.

Dunham came up in 1959 with some damage figures based on what he said was "the quite unsubstantiated hypothesis that radiation effects are directly proportional to total dose irrespective of the dose rate."

Tests up to then, calculated on this basis, might produce over the next 10 years in the United States "some 50 greater or lesser tragedies per year including gross genetic defects—miscarriages, etc.—as well as leukemia and bone cancer cases," he said.

But according to the same hypothesis, Dunham said, "unusually heavy medical X-ray exposures would be causing annually for the next 30 years some 3,000 greater or lesser tragedies of genetic origin."

Such calculations, however comforting or frightening, do not take into account the "hot spots." Ever since nuclear testing started in a big way, it has become apparent that some communities from time to time get far more than average exposure.

After a Nevada test series in 1953, for example, Troy, N.Y., briefly was exposed to radiation levels about 1,000 times normal.

The cumulative annual dosage to hot spots, however, generally runs considerably below the annual natural exposure. The Soviet fall-out next spring may create some hot spots in the United States. Authorities do not like this prospect.

But, as one of them told United Press International, "We do not look upon it as a catastrophe. A single big bomb exploded on a single U.S. target would be infinitely worse."

Fall Menus Call for Heartier Meat

Pontiac Press Home Editor
Now that the children are back in school and autumn starts painting the landscape with flaming colors, it's time to think of something other than meat cooked on the outdoor grill.

Since September is Lamb Month U.S.A., let's begin with a lamb recipe. You don't always have to have chops or a roast. When you braise meat, like neck skillets, chops cut as preferred.

The Lamb and Potato Skillet is cooked on top of the stove. If you have the oven heated anyway, do this dish in the oven.

Lamb and Potato Skillet
1/2 cup salad oil
4 lamb neck slices, about 1 1/2-inch thick
4 medium-sized potatoes, pared and thinly sliced
1/2 teaspoon basil
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
8 ounces Mozzarella cheese.
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce

Heat oil; add lamb and cook until browned on both sides. Remove lamb; reserve drippings. Add potatoes to drippings and cook until lightly browned, stirring occasionally. Sprinkle potatoes with basil, oregano, salt and pepper. Turn with cheese, lamb and tomato sauce. Cover and cook over low heat about 40 minutes, or until lamb and potatoes are tender. Makes 4 servings.

Fruit and Ham are just natural partners. A ham loaf topped with spiced fruit makes a wonderful company dinner. This recipe calls for ground cooked ham — just right for the week after you've had a Sunday ham dinner.

Golden Glaze Ham Loaf

2 eggs
1 can (29 ounces) cling peach halves
1 can (20 ounces) pineapple slices
3 cups soft bread crumbs
5 cups ground cooked ham
2 tablespoons unspiced molasses
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
Beat eggs in mixing bowl. Drain syrup from fruits into measuring cup; add 1 1/4 cup of the syrup to eggs. Reserve remaining syrup for Spiced Fruit. Add bread crumbs to egg mixture; stir in ham, mix well. Turn into a greased 6 cup loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour.
Remove ham loaf from oven. Invert on foil-lined baking sheet. Combine unspiced molasses and mustard; brush half the glaze on loaf. Return loaf to oven and bake 15 minutes longer, brushing occasionally with remaining glaze. Serve with Spiced Fruit. Yield: 6-8 servings.

Apples Provide Colorful Touch

Call it a salad, if you like. This delicious, fresh combination of fruits is perfect for Fall entertaining, and to serve later too, as first course, salad, or dessert.

When served as dessert, substitute fruit-juice French Dressing for the mayonnaise. When served as first course, do the same. One of the best ways to serve the fine crop of apples now coming into your markets.

Apple-Melon Coupe
4 small honey-ball melons
1 Persian melon
4 red apples
1/2 cup French dressing
1 bunch water cress
2 packages (3 oz. each) cream cheese
1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts
8 sprigs fresh mint
Cut honey-ball melons in halves, cross-wise; remove seeds; scoop out pulp with small melon-ball cutter. Save shells. Cut balls from Persian melon (or cantaloupe) with larger cutter; combine the two kinds of melon balls.

Cure apples; do not pare; slice thin; drop into French dressing to prevent darkening. Just before serving drain apple slices. Arrange mixed fruits in honey-ball shells; surround with sprays of water cress; top each with a cream cheese ball rolled in walnut nuts and a sprig of fresh mint. Serve with cream mayonnaise. Makes 8 servings.

APPLE-MELON COUPE—Here's a dish that can be first course, salad or dessert. For the first and last uses, serve the fruit with a fruit-juice French dressing. Salad calls for mayonnaise. Unpeeled apple wedges garnish the rim of a melon filled with melon balls and topped with a nut-crusted cheese ball.

Spiced Fruit
1 teaspoon whole cloves
1/2 cup unspiced molasses
1/2 cup vinegar
1 3-inch piece stick cinnamon
6 cherries, cut in quarters
Four reserved syrup from fruit
In saucepan, add cloves; boil rapidly until reduced to 1-3 cup. Add molasses, vinegar and cinnamon; simmer 5 minutes. Pour over combined fruits. Serve warm or cold.

There are so many ways a home-maker keeps busy that most of us welcome quick meat recipes. The following one makes use of two convenience foods—Russian salad dressing and onion soup mix. You can enter the kitchen at 5:30 and have this Texas Barbecue Beef ready in 15 minutes.

Texas Barbecue Beef
1 1/2 pounds hamburger
1 8-ounce bottle Russian dressing
1 package onion soup mix

Brown the hamburger in a skillet. In a bowl, mix together the Russian dressing and the onion soup mix and set aside. When the meat is thoroughly browned, pour the mixture from the bowl over the hamburger and mix together. Simmer for one minute or until both meat and sauce are piping hot.

Serve on heated hamburger buns, hot Italian bread, toast, potato chips, noodles, rice, macaroni, or corn bread squares. The latter suggestion, incidentally, was once popularly known as "yaller bread" in early Texas history when white flour was either a great luxury or non-existent.

Another ground meat recipe is for tangy beef patties that have grated cheddar cheese mixed in with the meat.

Lemon Tanged Meat Patties
1 lb. beef, chuck or round, ground
1 cup soft bread crumbs
3/4 tablespoon catsup
1 egg slightly beaten
2 1/2 cups coarsely grated cheddar cheese
2 1/2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1/2 cup bottled lemon juice
8 strips lean bacon

Adjust broiler 3/4 inches below source of heat; start heating 10 minutes before broiling.

Measure ingredients in order listed into mixing bowl, except bottled lemon juice and bacon. Mix thoroughly but lightly with a fork. Let stand 5 to 10 minutes to stiffen. Add bottled lemon juice and divide into 8 oval portions and shape into patties.

Wrap a strip of bacon around each and fasten with a tooth pick. Rub hot broiler quickly with a piece of paper towel dipped in shortening.

Place patties on broiler. Broil 5 minutes on each side or until bacon is done and meat is cooked through. 4 servings.

Give Eggplant Italian Cheese Treatment

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Knowing American cooks pay ready tribute to the sleek royal-purple eggplant.

Italian cuisine has worked out such savvy ways to use this vegetable that, when it is available, most of us follow suit.

Eggplant Parmesan (Melanzane alla Parmigiana) is a top favorite in Italian-American restaurants. A meatless dish, it's fine for a family lunch or supper, and so rich tasting that it's also quite at home with company.

Although this dish has Parmesan as part of its name, more Mozzarella than Parmesan cheese goes into it. Fortunately nowadays Mozzarella cheese is widely available in supermarkets. However, Garibaldi M. Lapolla in his "Italian Cooking for the American Kitchen" suggested that "Swiss, muenster, Monterey Jack, or other mild soft cheese could be substituted for it." In testing the following recipe we used Mozzarella.

Eggplant Parmesan needs nothing more than crusty bread and a green salad as accompaniment.

Eggplant Parmesan
2 cups (each 1 pound, 3 ounces) whole tomatoes (Italian-type)
1/2 cup tomato paste
1/2 cup (about) corn oil
1 small clove garlic (minced or crushed)
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1/2 teaspoon crushed dry oregano
1 teaspoon salt and pepper to taste

First cook the celery and peas just to the crisp, tender stage. Add the bouillon cube and the boiling water. Thicken with cornstarch, add the water chestnuts and when piping hot, turn into a serving dish and sprinkle almonds over the top.

Pras Internationale package (10 ounces) frozen peas
1/2 cup small onion, or equivalent
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 teaspoon salt, or as desired
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 chicken bouillon cube
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup thinly sliced canned water chestnuts
1/2 cup toasted sliced almonds
Combine peas, celery, 1/2 cup hot water, salt and butter in tightly covered saucepan. Cook, covered, over low heat just until peas are tender and celery is tender but retains some of its crispness. Add bouillon cube and allow to dissolve.

Combine cornstarch and cold water, and stir until smooth. Add cornstarch mixture, remaining 1/2 cup boiling water and water chestnuts to peas. Cook just until thickened, stirring carefully while heating. Pour into serving dish and sprinkle almonds over top. Yield: 4 servings.

Give Eggplant Italian Cheese Treatment

1 medium-size eggplant (1 1/2 to 2 pounds)
2 eggs (slightly beaten)
1/4 to 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 pound Mozzarella cheese (thinly sliced)
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Turn tomatoes (including liquid in cans) into a large saucepan; break up tomatoes. Add tomato paste, 1/2 cup corn oil, garlic, onion, parsley, oregano, salt and pepper. Bring to a boil, simmer, covered, stirring occasionally, for about 40 minutes or until sauce is reduced to 1 quart.

Meanwhile pare eggplant; cut into 1/2-inch thick slices; dip into eggs; then dip in bread crumbs. Fry in single layer in remaining heated oil, adding it a small amount at a time as needed, until tender and lightly browned on both sides. Drain well on absorbent paper.

In a shallow baking dish (about 2 quarts and about 12 by 8 by 2 inches) place alternate layers of eggplant, Mozzarella (saving 2 slices), tomato sauce, sprinkle with Parmesan and top with reserved Mozzarella.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 minutes or until sauce bubbles. Makes 6 servings.

Plump Raisins in Juice

Cover raisins with fruit juice and soak about an hour. Drain off juice and use as part liquid added to instant orange, vanilla or chocolate pudding mixes. Stir in plumped raisins. Garnish with a dab of whipped cream topped with pearls to satisfy their between-meal appetites.

When children come home from school asking for a snack, give them a dish of chilled canned pears to satisfy their between-meal appetites.

The abundance of summer can be yours on winter's bleakest day if you turn your back to home heating. It's fun to put up your own relish or jam or specially seasoned fruits and vegetables. It's even more fun when the moment arrives to take a jar from the shelf and serve your company the preserves to their guests. Everyone who takes pleasure in preparing and serving a specialty dessert or a favorite sauce will enjoy an annual round of canning followed by a year of good eating.

You don't need a garden in order to do home canning. Your food store has preserved goods raised by and gathered from all over America. A look around the produce department will tell you which fruits or vegetables have reached their peak season — the season of greatest plenty, best flavor and lowest price. Choose fruits or vegetables that lead to appealing combinations so that you can make relishes or preserves unlike those you can be bought.

A corn relish suggests an interesting possibility. It is a wise person who captures a season to bring it forth from a jar during the winter. Combine the corn with green and red peppers, also in season, and with a generous quantity of vinegar.

The natural sweetness of the corn, the crispness of the peppers,

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped green pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped red pepper
2 tablespoons celery seed
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup firmly packed brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup light or dark corn syrup
2 tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon turmeric
1 tablespoon mustard seed
3 cups cider vinegar

Combine all ingredients in a deep kettle over low heat. Simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Ladle into hot quart or pint jars. Seal. Set jars on wire rack. Add depth to boiling water. Boil 10 minutes, counting time when active boiling resumes. Remove. Yield: 2 quarts or 4 pints.

The volume of fresh fruits and vegetables decreased again this last week according to records of the major receiving markets throughout the country. Food shoppers will notice little difference at the local grocer's says the "Marketing Information Agency." Generally there are large quantities of potatoes, celery, onions, carrots and apples.

Some retailers report a decline in wholesale prices of pork and turkey, and several pork cuts and turkey will appear as featured items in some stores. Although beef, lamb and veal prices remain about as they have been, there is some special emphasis given to pork, chuck, roasts and ground beef.

Other stores are offering from quarters of beef. From a live U.S. Choice grade beef animal weighing 1,000 pounds, the forequarter will yield the whole carcass when changed into the retail cuts with which you are more familiar, the approximate breakdown is: chuck, 10 pounds; brisket (6 pounds), 8 pounds; rib roast (7-inch cut), 18 pounds; brisket (8 pounds), 8 pounds; brisket (5 pounds), 8 pounds; short ribs (5-6 pound), 13 pounds; English cut, 9-10 pounds; trimming, 12 pounds; rib roast (6-7 rib), 5 pounds; bones, 13-14 pounds; waste, 2 pounds; fat, 2 pounds.

Potatoes are arriving from all producing areas, supplies are heavy and prices are down. Michigan potatoes are the economical choice whether you buy the 10 or 50 pound bag.

Heavy celery and carrot supplies are arriving from California and Michigan. Truck early sticks of these vegetables—loose bunches—are eaten and used in salads. Keep in mind the low-calorie snack use, then in steaming soups.

Meat supplies are plentiful. Sliced-lime filling. Prepare spreads a day ahead, seasoning with instant minced onion. This moisture-free onion never becomes stringy or watery. A little onion oil wonders for the flavor of egg meat and fish mixtures.

Hearty Sandwich Filling

Chopped raisins and peanut butter mixed with a little honey make a hearty sandwich filling. Children love it so keep it in mind.

The Michigan apple harvest is particularly good and very nutritious on whole wheat bread.

You'll feel old-time virtue when you bake your own beans. Follow any standard recipe. These usually call for salt pork, but there's a ham bone in the house.

The bones in canned salmon do not have to be removed; they are edible and nutritious.

Genuine Vanilla Flavor
Ever add a vanilla bean to a pound of confectioners' sugar? To do so, quarter the bean lengthwise and poke down into the sugar at regular intervals.

Lots of Plums for Jam Making

In the good old days of early England, gallants always carried a little box of sugar plums — a special treat for a lovely lady, or quite possibly, a well-liked lure for getting the small fry out of the gallant's and his lady's way. Today, the word "plum" is often used to indicate something very special for instance, "he really, picked himself a plum in his new job."

"Sugar plums" still sound intriguing, and there's no doubt but that we all would like to have the "plums" in jobs. But there's one thing sure, this year everybody can enjoy California's wonderful crop of plums, 80,000 tons of them.

Take advantage of plums, using them in all ways you and your family prefer... and for a real treat, make a batch of Plum Jam. If you think you're not capable of making good jams and jellies, there's a fine surprise in store for you: It's the easiest thing in the world! And quick, too! Simply follow EXACTLY the directions that come with the powdered or liquid fruit pectin — whichever your recipe calls for. You can't have anything but success.

Plum Jam
6 cups prepared fruit (about 4 lbs. ripe plums)
8 cups (3½ lbs.) granulated sugar
1 box (1½ ounces) powdered fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Pit (do not peel) about 4 pounds fully ripe plums. Cut in small pieces and chop. Add ¼ cup water; bring to a boil and simmer, covered 5 minutes. Measure 6 cups into a very large saucepan.

Then make the jam. Measure sugar and set aside. Add fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar.

Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover just at once with ½ inch hot paraffin. About 14 medium glasses.

PLUM JAM—Plum Jam is a top favorite for that "special" breakfast accompaniment... for the perfect little gift... and for a delicious sandwich filling with cream cheese. Now's the time to make a big batch of this excellent jam.

Blue Cheese, Diced Eggs Better a Bean Salad

NEW YORK (UPI)—Beans "n' greens salad is hearty. Drain 1 (1 pound) can of cut blue lake green beans well. Combine 3 tablespoons of oil, 2 tablespoons of wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon of salt, ½ teaspoon of pepper and 1 teaspoon of instant minced onion and toss lightly with beans in large salad bowl. Chill well.

Just before serving, add 2 quarts of crisp romaine, broken into bite-size pieces, 3 tablespoons of crumbled blue cheese and 2 diced, hard-boiled eggs, and toss lightly. Makes about 6 servings.

You'll need two or three bananas to get enough to make 1 cup of mashed bananas for a quick-bread loaf or a cake.

Clip Out Timetable for Barbecued Meat

In order to be sure your barbecued meat is prepared just as you like it, here's a timetable for cooking over charcoal:

BEFSTEAK 1 inch thick (placed 4 inches from charcoal). 4 to 6 min. on each side. WOLF 16 min. on each side. 8 to 10 min. on each side. 12 to 15 min. on each side. UP to 20 min. on each side.

LAMB CHOPS 1 inch thick... 6 to 9 min. on each side.

CHICKEN halved... 15 to 25 min. on each side.

HAMBURGERS... 5 to 6 min. on each side.

HOT DOGS... 3 to 4 min. on each side.

SHRIMP KEBABS... 5 to 8 min. on each side.

Orange Muffins

Start the school or work day right with a breakfast treat. Prepare orange muffin mix and pour into a 9-inch square pan. Mix together a topping of ¼ cup each butter and chopped almonds, and a teaspoon grated orange rind. Sprinkle over batter and bake in hot oven about 20 minutes.

For weight-watchers: a noon-time salad of cottage cheese and crisp greens with a garnish of spiced beets.

Bartlett Pears Are in Season Until October

From the end of July well into October every year, the sunny California Bartlett Pears are on their air-conditioned move in refrigerated cars to markets everywhere.

Unlike many other kinds of fruit, the Bartlett are picked when they're hard and green... but at just the right stage of maturity to produce the ultimate in texture, flavor, and amount of juice.

Buy the pears that are firm-ripe and golden for use right away. For use later, select those that are still green and firm. If you want to use them in two or three days, leave them in their brown paper grocery bag and let stand in a not-too-warm place (68 to 70 degrees) until they turn golden.

If you want to hold them for a week or more before serving, put the green pears into the refrigerator right away. Take them out two or three days before using. Then put them back to chill before serving.

Pear Arithmetic: When a recipe calls for 1 pound fresh pears, you'll need 3 to 4 medium-sized ones, 1 pound sliced or diced pears equals about 2 cups. For canning, 2 to 2½ pounds fresh pears will yield about 1 quart canned. A small bag of pears will yield 10 to 12 quarts canned; a standard box or large bag, 20 to 25 quarts canned.

For most purposes, don't bother to peel the Bartlett. Their skins are so thin and tender they all but dissolve in cooking.

Cut down on time and money by investing in an inexpensive pear or apple slicer — available in hardware and ten-cent stores.

Gigantic Hot Dog Had Larger Old-Time Rival

NEW YORK (UPI)—The largest hot dog ever made in America is believed to have been produced by a Michigan packer, says the National Hot Dog and Sausage Council. It was 17 feet long, 5 inches in diameter and weighed 80 pounds. But it was dwarfed by comparison with a late 17th century sausage described in records of the German Butchers Guild. This monster was said to be more than half a mile long and 885 pounds in weight.

The slicer, carter and slicer in a single swift operation. To keep pears from discoloring after they're cut, drop them into almost any kind of juice — pineapple, orange or grapefruit — and weight them down with crumbled foil or waxed paper. Or, simply squeeze a lemon over the cut surfaces and they'll hold up well for a short time.

Reducers will be glad to know that the Bartlett have very few calories — a good-sized one averages only about 85. The pears are high in natural fruit sugar which is absorbed into the blood stream within minutes, giving immediate lift in energy.

Agriculture Dept. 'Alive,' Says 'Happier' Freeman

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman is a much happier man than he was eight months ago when the Kennedy Administration took office.

Freeman told a news conference Wednesday that he was enjoying being secretary "much more than I did when I first came here" in January.

He said the Agriculture Department "has come alive and is moving, I believe, in the right direction."

He said farm income for 1961 would be up about $1 billion — of which about $600 million will come from higher price supports and government payments to farmers under the emergency feed grain program.

He said he was "pleased with the response of farmers around the country to farm programs" of the Administration. And he added that farmers had told him they "no longer feel like wards of the government."

BENSON'S QUESTION

The former Minnesota governor's assessment of his job and agriculture in general came when a reporter told him former Secretary Ezra T. Benson recently had asked, "how is the Agriculture Department doing?"

Freeman recently completed an extensive speaking tour in North Carolina, Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin. He said he had seen concrete evidence of a "bumper crop par excellence."

Did the bumper production of feed grains upset the emergency feed grain program which was supposed to reduce the huge surplus of corn and sorghum grains at a cost of about $750 million to the taxpayer?

"If we hadn't had the feed grain program, we would have had more corn than we would know what to do with," Freeman replied. "There was an exceptional growing season. Without the program, we would have been in a very critical position and a very costly one."

He rejected a farm leader's statement that the feed grain program was a "billion dollar fiasco." Freeman said it would be hard to call this year's bumper crop production a fiasco when there were hungry people in the world.

But even with a crop crop larger than anticipated, he said that corn acreage was down and the surplus in government bins is going down. This, he said, would reduce storage cost to the government and help save money for the taxpayer.

MORE LEGISLATION NEEDED?

He was asked if, in view of the fact that agriculture was doing so well, any additional legislation for farm programs was needed. He said there was, because present farm law provides a pair of pipes when what is needed is a pipe wrench.

He said it was increasingly difficult to manage production on a per acre basis, indicating that a perhaps budget control would be necessary to halt big crop build-up. This is where the pipe wrench would be more effective than a pair of pliers.

He is formulating a cotton program the department would be guided by a White House directive that it economize on farm programs to help balance the budget. The Cotton Advisory Committee met Wednesday and prepared recommendations for next year's program. These were not divulged.

Peace Corps to Hold Examinations Oct. 7

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Peace Corps has announced it will conduct another series of examinations Oct. 7 for persons wishing to join the new government program.

Tests in Michigan will be conducted by the Civil Service Commission at Alpena, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Escanaba, Flint, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Saginaw, Sault Ste. Marie and Traverse City.

Plan to Occupy New Village Hall

$15,000 Building Set for Wolverine Clerk, Police Offices, Garage

WOLVERINE LAKE — The new $15,000 village hall here is expected to be ready for occupancy Oct. 1, according to Village Clerk Jessie K. Johnson.

For the past five years the village has been renting office space in a renovated store a quarter mile east of the new building, 416 Gleggery Road.

In addition to offices for the clerk and police department, the new hall will provide garage facilities for the storage of village-owned vehicles.

Tentative plans for the 16-foot high building call for construction in the near future of a second floor for use by the village building department.

Other plans, at least five years away, Mrs. Johnson said, would provide for an addition to the building designed by D. L. Freed, Walled Lake.

Construction of the 32-by-40-foot building is being financed with funds allocated in the budget for several years for that specific purpose. There will be no additional taxes needed to finance construction, which for the first part is being done by village employees.

The electrical and plumbing contracts, however, were awarded to private firms.

Boy, 5, Darts Out in Street, Gets Hit

A 5-year-old Pontiac boy was injured yesterday morning when struck by a car on West Howard Street, east of Stockwell.

Ronnie Farmer, son of Mr. Ethel Farmer, 31 W. Howard St., was reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital where he is being held for observation of possible head injuries.

Driver of the car, Patty B. Fry, 21, of 118 Victory Drive, said the boy suddenly darted into the path of her car. She was not held.

In Church at Walled Lake

Sandra Muirhead Weds

WALLED LAKE — St. Williams Catholic Church was the setting for the noon wedding Saturday of Sandra L. Muirhead and Robert K. Andrews who exchanged their vows before Rev. Raymond E. Jones.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William D. Muirhead, 375 W. Maple Road. The bridegroom is the son of Anthony Andrejewski of Detroit and Mrs. Ralph Timmons of 181 East Lake Drive.

A floor length lace gown with long, pointed sleeves and a scalloped neckline was chosen by the bride for her wedding. It featured five ruffled tiers down the back of the full skirt.

Her pearl and sequin crown held an elbow length veil, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white Fuji chrysanthemums.

Maid of honor was Kathleen Moran of Detroit. Muriel Van Gordon, Mrs. Bud Roberts, Mrs. Paul Widenhoefer of Munising and Jeanne Muirhead, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Serving as best man was Lawrence Olson. The guests were seated by James Armstrong, Donald Fitzgerald of Union Lake, Thomas Minard of Redford and Kenneth Andrews, brother of the bridegroom.

Investigates Plant Fire — Looking through the rubble and charred remains of the Fabritec, Inc. plastics plant in Lapeer is Police Chief Matthew Dougherty. Police and fire officials have been unable to discover the cause of the $500,000 blaze which destroyed the plant. Only portions of brick and concrete walls were left standing after the fire swept through the building and touched off several explosions inside the plant early yesterday morning.

White Lake Twp. Rules on Hearings

To Levy Fee for Rezoning

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Residents here applying for a zoning change or requesting an appeal on zoning will have to pay in order to present their cases in the future, township officials said.

Each applicant seeking the rezoning of property will be charged a $75 fee and those appealing a decision will have to pay $25.

Ex-RO Twp. Treasurer Demands Examination

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Examination of former Township Treasurer George L. Glenn, charged with embezzling $200 in taxes and water bills from an elderly invalid widow, will be at 10 a.m. Oct. 26 in Justice Court.

Glenn, 45, of 2673 Bethel St., demanded the examination yesterday in his appearance before Justice of the Peace Leonie C. Cash.

Mrs. Ella B. Moorehead, 81, of 1166 Mitchell St., told township officials that she was "in the habit" of paying tax and water bills from an elderly invalid widow, will be at 10 a.m. Oct. 26 in Justice Court.

Ex-Pastor to Speak at Three Services

BROOKLANDS — Rev. Naaman Spemen, retired pastor of Auburn Road Mission, will speak at three services this weekend at the Dequindre Community Church, 47488 Dequindre Road.

Special music also will be presented by the Rev. Mr. Spemen and his wife. The services are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Saturday and at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

An open house will be held immediately following the Saturday evening service at the Avon Township Hall in Auburn Heights to honor the Rev. Mr. Spemen on his 75th birthday.

Goodrich Drive Nears Its Goal: $29,000 Needed

GOODRICH — More than $22,000 has been pledged of the $29,000 goal needed to create an inter-community hospital to replace the closed Goodrich General Hospital, it was announced today.

"This means that at least $29,000 must be obtained before we complete the campaign next Tuesday," said Homer M. Hill and E. J. Pierson, co-chairmen of the Community Hospital Foundation building fund.

Steps have been taken by the Community Health Foundation, which will own and operate the proposed new hospital, to begin consideration for Blue Cross participation, they said.

Campaign workers will attend a final report meeting 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Goodrich Community Building. All pledge cards will be turned in at that time.

Quartet Will Entertain at Morse PTA Meeting

TROY — A barbershop quartet from Clawson will provide the entertainment at the first fall meeting of the Morse Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The Trio-Tones will be featured at the art-aquainted meeting. The school is at 351 Cherry St. Refreshments will be served.

INA LOUISE BEAUDRIE

College Fair to Be at Avon

'Associates' Plan Event Saturday to Get Cash for New Building

AVON TOWNSHIP — Enrollment at Michigan Christian Junior College have completed plans for their second annual Associates Fair to be held Saturday on the college campus, 800 W. Avon Road.

Proceeds from the event will go toward financing of the new project of the Associates, construction of a new "cafeteria." Its estimated value will be $36,000.

Doors of the fair will be open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. A featured attraction will be an oriental tea room where guests will be served by the administration, faculty and staff of the college.

In addition, Mexican tacos, Italian pizzas and traditional American Pronto pups will be available to those who take guided tours of the MCJC campus.

Presbyterians Plan 'Toy Fair' at Troy

TROY — Christmas gifts, wrappings and ornaments will be available at the annual Toy Fair to be held next Wednesday by the deacons of the First Presbyterian Church of Troy.

The fair will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the church, 420 Livernois Road. Proceeds will be used to furnish the church nursery.

A nursery service and refreshments will be provided free of charge. The event is open to the public.

Jaqueline Moore Wed

Married in Oxford

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Jacqueline Rae Moore and Kenneth Lee Hermann were united in marriage Saturday evening at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Oxford. Rev. Delayne H. Pauling read the double ring service.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Moore, 57 Brush Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hermann, Detroit.

The bride gown was of Chantilly lace and silk organza, featuring a lace bodice with Sabrina neckline and long sleeves, and a bouffant skirt ending in a chapel train.

To complement the ensemble the bride carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Sue Ann Moore. Sandra Hermann, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid.

BRIDE'S BROTHER — Best man was Herbert Longway, Detroit. The guests were seated by the bride's brother LeRoy Moore, Detroiters Edward Thomas and Howard Koller and Ronald Hermann, brother of the bridegroom.

The Veteran's Hall, Oxford, was the setting for the reception following the wedding. Upon their return from a week in Florida, the couple will live in Detroit.

MCJC Expects Enrollment to Double in '61

AVON TOWNSHIP — Enrollment at Michigan Christian Junior College here was expected to be nearly double that of last year when classes resumed today.

Approximately 300 students are anticipated to attend classes at the school, formerly North Central Christian College, compared to 115 last semester, according to school officials.

The college, at 800 W. Avon Road, is beginning its third year of operation.

The majority of freshmen and sophomores attending the college will live on campus in the three dormitories, one for girls and two for boys.

The largest boys' dormitory, a 2-story structure, was built this summer. Some 70 boys will occupy the new quarters.

The college is planning to construct a new addition on this building next summer, officials said today.

Champs Pour Champagne and Beer

Shampoos in Order

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager, more Orioles he was sidelined, Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees wastes no time looking back.

"We're not interested in home runs in his first season as a manager of the schedule," he said only a minute after clinching the American League pennant Wednesday night in his first season as a manager.

"Cincinnati, or whoever it is in the World Series, is our next worry."

"In the meantime, we're going to have fun tonight."

This was in a Yankee dressing room where champagne had been level in advance and poured freely by one player after another. When the champagne ran out, beer shampoos were in order.

Newsmen virtually ignored Houk to converse with Maris who missed by one home run. Houk's 34-year-old record of 100 wins was broken by Maris.

More Orioles he was sidelined, Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees wastes no time looking back.

"We're not interested in home runs in his first season as a manager of the schedule," he said only a minute after clinching the American League pennant Wednesday night in his first season as a manager.

"Cincinnati, or whoever it is in the World Series, is our next worry."

EAST LANSING UP—Michigan State football coaches can count their blessings today as far as injuries are concerned.

Only two players remain on the team of cripples watched over by football physician Dr. James S. Feurig.

These are Carl Charon, senior left half from Boyne City plagued by ankle injury since the start of practice, and junior tackle Jim Bobbitt of Buchanan, still bothered by a knee.

Both are expected to be back for a major scrimmage session Saturday.

Ten captain Ed (Rocky) Ryan has started working out with the team again as a defensive specialist after being laid low by a leg injury.

Only crippling loss so far this season was of Charles Minkus, a sophomore defensive specialist, who sat out for about four weeks, with an injury to the lower back.

The squad worked as a team yesterday going over offensive and defensive assignments. The season ended with a spurt of running to build up endurance for the opener against Wisconsin.

Titans Counting on Gross

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Detroit, more ambitious than ever, is banking on one player to keep it headed upward in football's big time.

Whatever progress the Titans make will revolve around Jerry Gross. The little quarterback from Bay City came so strongly last fall he was named as an honorable mention All-America as a sophomore.

Now experienced, Detroit is counting on Gross to lead it through its toughest schedule in years.

The Titans play their usual intercollegiate schedule. But new rivals this year are Army and Navy. It may be over-ambitious schedule-making, but Detroit hopes to make good showings against the service academies and win the rest of its games.

The Titans, mostly because of Gross, should fare well in their first two games.

They play Western Michigan, a heavy underdog, in tomorrow night's opener at Titan Stadium, Xavier (Ohio) is the second rival, Sept. 29.

But after an off-week, Detroit runs into Boston College Oct. 13 and Navy Oct. 20, both in Detroit. Boston College is being heralded as one of the powers of the East.

Chief Harriers Open in Triangular Meet

Pontiac Central's cross-country team opened its season today with a triangular meet against Flint Southern and Bay City Central at Flint.

Wilbert Preston has been the top runner for the Chiefs in practice sessions. He is followed, in order, by Art Fowler, Gerald Warren, Earl Thompson, Steve Jones, Willie Ratliff and Charles Anderson.

Jones and Ratliff are the returning intercollegiate on coach Don Wilson's squad.

Grain Futures Fail to Show Any Trend

CHICAGO — The grain futures market showed a little general trend either way today during the first several minutes of transactions on the board of trade.

Some soybean contracts were firm, but prices otherwise changed only small fractions from previous closes with few showing the broadest losses.

Stock Market Still Rebounding

NEW YORK — The stock market continued to rebound in moderate trading early this afternoon. Autos were pacemakers.

Gains of fractions to a point or more prevailed among most key stocks.

News of the labor settlement at General Motors continued to inspire buying of auto stocks and other industries now that a major stumbling block toward further economic gains had been removed.

Steels followed along more moderately. Building material prices posted some sharp gains, possibly in response to news that the Federal Housing Administration does not intend to raise the 5 1/2 per cent maximum interest rate on home mortgages it insures.

Afterwards, oils, utilities and nonferrous metals were mixed. Tobacco, airlines, drugs, rubbers and mail order-retailers were a little higher.

Food, up more than a point, touched another new high as it continued to outperform the big three rivals. GM was up close to a point and Chrysler a fraction. American Motors and Studebaker-Packard continued heavily traded, each adding a fraction.

Prices on the American stock exchange moved generally higher in light trading.

Canal-Randolph was active and up more than 2. Gains of a point or so were made by Syntex, Electronic Communications and Securus. Mond Johnson added a couple of points. Losers were shown by All-State Properties, Standard Brands Plastics, Rapid American and Gulf American.

News in Brief

The theft of a cash box containing $25 from Wilson's Marathon Service, 904 Orchard Lake Ave., was reported to Pontiac police early today.

Jimmy Waddell, 59 (Clark St.), reported to Pontiac police early today a transistor radio valued at $50 was stolen from his home.

APPHINTEE — D. Brainerd Holmes, above, an industrial executive from Moorestown, N.J., was named Wednesday to head America's manned space flight programs. James Webb, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, announced the appointment in Washington.

State Warned on Bridge Toll

U.S. Agency Says Aid Could Be Discontinued if Fee Is Not Lifted

LANSING (AP) — State officials have been warned that the continued charge of a 25 cent toll at the Bluewater Bridge between Port Huron and Sarnia, Ont., could mean the loss of millions in Federal aid.

Charles S. Black, attorney for the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, said the bureau had advanced $25,000 in 1958 to aid in construction of the bridge with the agreement it would be toll free when the bridge bonds were paid off.

The bonds were retired on June 1, he said, and the toll still is being charged.

Unless the toll is lifted, Black said, some $5,130,000 in federal aid for projects near the Bluewater Bridge and related to the International Bridge at Sault Ste. Marie could be withheld. There is a possibility that up to $156 million in Federal road aid to Michigan might be withheld, he said.

Marshall E. Campbell of Port Huron, commission chairman, said the minimum crossing fee is being charged to pay for maintenance. Canadian authorities have said they will charge the 25 cents at their end of the bridge even if the fee is lifted in Michigan, he said.

Black was asked what would happen if the toll was collected on the Canadian side instead of in Michigan.

"It would throw serious doubts on our support of the international bridge," he said. "What guarantee would we have that this bridge would be free from toll — as in the agreement — if the bonds were paid off, say in the year 2000?"

R. J. Inman of Port Huron, attorney for the Bridge Authority, said the federal agency was "asking us to do the impossible."

Canada has been definite that it still will charge the toll, he said.

Awards College Grant

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — The W. K. Kellogg Foundation has granted the Ohio State University College of Medicine at Columbus $25,425 over a six-year period. The university said the grant would be used to set up an experimental education program for dietitians.

Truce Is Signed in Tense Congo

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—An uneasy cease-fire was proclaimed today in embattled

Robert Moore Wants to Resign

Move Dependent on His Getting Budget Director Post

After 3½ years with Oakland County, Robert Y. Moore will submit his resignation tomorrow as chairman of the board of auditors. Moore, 47, is expected to be succeeded by Norman R. Barnard, 47-year-old corporation counsel and assistant clerk of the board of supervisors from Troy, is expected to be succeeded by Moore's old chairman post, which has been his since 1935.

Moore joined the county as a member of the three-member board of auditors July 2, 1930, giving up his job as Bloomfield Township supervisor.

Katanga but the danger of civil war still hung over the Congo.

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga and the U.N. command signed a provisional cease-fire that froze the positions of their warring forces. Still unsettled is the issue that led to the shooting of Katanga's succession.

NEW THREAT IS MADE. While a lull in the fighting was already evident before the peace pact was reached there were no immediate reports, whatever the timetable set for one minute past midnight.

A new threat came from the Congo central government, which has been a bystander during the eight days of fighting between the Katangan forces and U.N. troops helping at the government request.

WILL REPLY BY FORCE. With Tshombe as paramount as ever in keeping his mineral-rich province independent, Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula altered the Congolese army with the declaration the central government would "spare no effort to end Katanga's secession."

Speaking in Leopoldville before the cease-fire was announced, Adoula warned his government "will reply by force with force."

The shadow of the late Patrice Lumumba hung over the Congo capital. Supporters of the slain leftist former premier demonstrated in the streets shouting anti-Western slogans, and Soviet diplomats, sacked on after Lumumba's overthrow, moved back to set up shop again.

Oldest Resident of Pontiac Dies

Miss Ella M. Green Had Celebrated 103rd Birthday May 23

Miss Ella M. Green, who celebrated her 103rd birthday on May 23, died early this morning at her home, 217 N. Saginaw St., where she has lived for the past 10 years. She was the city's oldest resident.

Miss Green was born in Farmington where her father, Jarvis J. Green, was also born. Her mother was the former Elizabeth Harger, whose parents were prominent Watertown Township pioneers. She was one of four children. Three died as infants.

A Farmington merchant at the time of her birth, her father moved the family to Pontiac in 1867 and was then in business here for 17 years with a store in the old Mills Block.

A charter member of the Pontiac Ladies' Library Association, Miss Green was still an active member of the organization at the time of her death. She took an active interest in the Centennial observance.

She took a keen interest in public affairs and always made a point to vote, sometimes casting an absentee ballot.

It was Miss Green who was responsible for the organizing of Needlework Guild of America, Pontiac Chapter on May 21, 1912. She was its first president and an honorary president at the time of her death. She was also a member of First Presbyterian Church.

Funeral service for Miss Green will be 2 p.m. Saturday at the Sparks-Griffin Chapel. Burial will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery.

UAW Leaders Push for GM Settlement

Continued for a nationwide strike in support of local demands. This the UAW International executive board promptly denied. Reuther said a strike could not be permitted "in good conscience" in view of settlement at a majority of the locals. He said the figure was "better than 83 per cent."

Settlements had been reached at 103 of GM's 129 plants across the country. The UAW previously authorized strikes at any plants where local issues were unsettled. Workers at other plants were instructed to stay on the job.

Reuther admitted surprise at the council's action demanding a nationwide strike. Prior to the meeting he had expressed confidence the council would recommend a return of all strikers pending further local negotiations.

He described the council's action as a demonstration of "the bitterness of some toward local GM practices."

"I didn't think they felt so strongly as this voted showed," he said.

The council meeting was closed. However, the delegates were reported to have voted 2,236 to 381 in favor of the nation non-economic package and 1,305 to 1,122 in favor of a strike.

GM officials declined comment on the union's actions.

Wednesday night's flurry followed a day in which GM and the UAW apparently reached agreement on national contract demands and made substantial progress on the various local programs.

The Day in Birmingham

School Village Increase Before Voters Nov. 20

BIRMINGHAM — A proposed 2.6 millage increase for school operation and authorization to sell nearly $5 million in bonds for new buildings will be decided by Birmingham School District voters in a special election Nov. 20.

The decision of the school board to place the proposals on the ballot results from a series of events which began last October. The events included a building survey, completion of a curriculum study and the preparation of a five-year financial plan by the board and administrators.

According to Malcolm R. Lovell, board vice president, the decision to submit the proposals came after they had been unanimously endorsed in principle by the Citizens' Advisory Committee.

Marked for immediate construction if the plan is approved are the Westchester and Meadow Lake schools; and additions in Bloomfield Village, Franklin, Harlan and Pembroke schools.

Remaining funds would be used for the construction of a junior high school, an addition to Baran Junior High and miscellaneous improvements to various existing sites and buildings.

To finance these projects, the board is requesting bonding authority from voters for $4,915,000. This, in addition to $1.7 million remaining in bonds from a 1957 issue, is believed by the board to cover the building needs of the district for the next five years.

Moscow Issues Mild Cuba-Soviet Friendship Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—A joint communique that some Western observers viewed as soft-pedaling Moscow's commitment to Cuba was issued today at the end of the Friday visit of Cuba's President Osvaldo Dorticos.

A Kremlin Cuban-Soviet friendship rally Wednesday resounded with the references to the United States which was accused of threatening the Cuban revolution. But the joint communique published in Pravda, the Communist Party paper, as Dorticos took off for Peking was considerably milder than past Cuban-Soviet statements that have carried charges of "American imperialism" in Latin America.

The bonding proposition does not require a tax increase.

The operating proposal incorporates the projected needs of the district also for the next five years, according to school officials. It will request approval of 11 mills, five mills more than the current 6-mill levy, which is being asked to be continued.

School officials explain, however, that by the time the taxes are levied in December 1962, the board of education will be able to reduce its debt service by 2.4 mills.

Charles F. Adams, executive vice president of McManus, John & Adams, Inc., Bloomfield Hills, has been named the 1962 Michigan Week regional chairman for southeastern Michigan.

His appointment was announced today by Edwin O. George, general chairman for the ninth state observance to be held May 20-26.

At regional chairman, Adams will direct the Michigan Week program in Oakland, Macomb, and Wayne counties.

Adams, who is active in community service programs was the chairman of county chairman of Michigan Week during the 1961 observance.

He also is active in the affairs of the American Association of Advertising Agencies as a member of the Board on Improvement of Advertising Content and was recently elected chairman of the organization's Michigan Council.

Adams was named executive vice president of the advertising firm in 1958. He joined the staff of the company in 1949.

Hurricanes Gather Energy From Sun, Earth

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hurricanes like Carla and Esther gather back as rain.

In 60 seconds, it may lift several billion tons of air into the upper atmosphere.

Throughout their mature life they metabolize energy at a rate comparable to the explosion of several atomic bombs every second.

In one minute, the vortex of a hurricane may generate more energy than all the electric power stations in the United States can produce in a decade.

In a single day a big hurricane will pick up two billion tons of water from the ocean and drop it. Hurricanes must acquire it prodigiously.

Whence comes this energy upon which hurricanes feed? The ultimate sources are the sun and the rotating earth.

The sun in season warms tropical waters of the Atlantic, the Caribbean Sea, or the Gulf of Mexico. It pulls up enormous amounts of water in the form of invisible vapor.

ENERGY COMES FROM SUN

hurricanes must acquire it prodigiously.

Whence comes this energy upon which hurricanes feed? The ultimate sources are the sun and the rotating earth.

The sun in season warms tropical waters of the Atlantic, the Caribbean Sea, or the Gulf of Mexico. It pulls up enormous amounts of water in the form of invisible vapor.

Gentle westward-flowing trade winds gather this vapor. In the case of North Atlantic hurricanes, over areas of millions of square miles.

ENERGY COMES FROM SUN

To spend energy at such rates,

Under the right conditions, not yet well understood, this vapor then crowded into a region some hundreds of thousands of square miles.

The vapor condenses into gigantic water clouds. This releases energy—the so-called latent heat of condensation.

Heat liberated by condensation is the primary fuel of the monster pump that is called a hurricane.

As long as a hurricane is over water warmed to about 80 degrees Fahrenheit, and as long as the prevailing winds keep feeding it raw material in the form of rising moist air, the hurricane can maintain its consumption and output of energy and even increase it.

Meanwhile, embedded in the trade winds, the whole hurricane moves westward at speeds usually under 12 miles an hour.

GENERALLY DIES DOWN

As it approaches the North American continent, the average hurricane in an average season runs afoul of a different set of winds.

These are the prevailing westerlies. They flow west to east at altitudes up to 40,000 feet and at a faster clip than the east-to-west trade winds.

Once caught up in the high westerlies, a hurricane veers toward the north and east and picks up forward speed. More often than not, this prevents an Atlantic hurricane from hitting the U.S. coast.

In some seasons, however, the main streams of the westerlies get displaced far to the north. In that event the hurricane may slam into the mainland before getting heavily engaged involved with the westerlies to swing out to sea.

The 1958 hurricane season was a bad one for the American mainland because the westerlies were streaming across the continent north of their normal path.

Over land, a hurricane encounters more friction—from trees, buildings, hills—than over water. This would cut its forward speed were it not for the westerlies.

These winds may quadruple a hurricane's forward speed. The big hurricane of 1933 advanced at 56 miles an hour as it moved through New England.

In most cases, a hurricane quickly spends all its stored energy and dies over land. It runs out of the stuff it normally feeds on. But some late season hurricanes have found other supplies of energy and have managed to maintain their vitality over land.

This happens when a hurricane and its accompanying mass of moist warm air run into a region of heavier cold air. The cold air, interacting with the warm, sinks.

This converts its potential energy into kinetic, the energy of motion. Kinetic energy as manifested by its whirling winds is the hurricane's most fearsome product.

Under these special circumstances, a hurricane does not die and may even grow in power as it churns over the land. This happened in October 1954.

Hurricane Hazel hit inland along the South Carolina and North Carolina coasts. Instead of dying, it thrived. It was still going strong when it crashed into Canada.

Around Toronto people will long remember the floods it caused.

Honors Janitor to Governors on Retirement

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson has proclaimed today as Jim Allen Day to honor a retiring janitor in the executive office.

Allen, 64, retiring after 32 years of state employment, has been assigned to the executive office under the terms of 11 governors. He took the post under former Governor Fred W. Green.

"Allen has epitomized the spirit of public service," Swainson said. "For three decades he has been a friend of and a friend to 11 governors. He has consistently done his work well and efficiently."

The gas-saving "4" with Pontiac Punch!

TEMPEST CONVERTIBLE

TEMPEST SPORTS COUPE

TEMPEST FOUR-DOOR SEDAN

TEMPEST SAFARI WAGON

PONTIAC TRIGGERS ANOTHER TEAM OF WINNERS. Every one is a fancy mover. Choice of 110, 115, 120 or 140 h.p., gas-saving 4-cylinder engine. A couple of extra cost options: 4-barrel carb, 166 h.p. Plenty of punch without big maintenance and running costs. The citizen who wants more can go for an aluminum V-8 option that pulls an honest 185 horses with a 10.25 to 1 compression ratio.

TEMPEST HAS A FRONT ENGINE/REAR TRANSMISSION! (The only American car with this feature.) It gives Tempest equal weight at every wheel. It has biting traction on the bricks or in the mud. Tires last longer. Brakes take hold like they mean it. The front floor is practically flat (no big hump in the middle). Tempest seats six⁺ easily!

TEMPEST HAS INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION—FRONT AND REAR! Each wheel (and it's a big 15" one) moves up and down independently of the opposite wheel. There's no solid axle in the rear. Result: Firm ride on pavement, soft ride in the boondocks! Swing axles in the rear help the Tempest to carve out clean, firm curves.

PLUSH NEW SERIES—THE LE MANS (LUH-MAHNZ). The Tempest Convertible and Coupe are out this year in special custom trim. Call them the Le Mans! They both have sports-type bucket seats, full carpeting, floor mounted stick shift, acceleration rear axle option—no extra cost. Extra cost option: 4-speed gearbox. Take one out—it's a going machine!

Drive America's only front engine/rear transmission car . . . it's balanced like none of the others!

Con-Con Decision
Asked on Holding
2 Public Offices

LANSING (UPI)—Is government a bigamy legal?
 Attorney General Paul L. Adams posed this question today to Constitutional Convention delegates.

By governmental bigamy, Adams explained, he means the practice of one person holding two or more public offices at the same time.
 Since the 1960 constitution was adopted, Adams said, there have been 870 attorney general's opinions on the subject, but the basic question is still unresolved.

Some phase of this question is presented to the attorney general on the average of once every two months, Adams said.
 "The law in this area," said Adams, "is a patchwork of statutes, court decisions, attorney general's opinions and traditions. No universal standard has been achieved."

The constitutional convention, he said, would seem an ideal place to set up definite rules.

Bride's 'Inheritance'

Newton Grove, N.C. (UPI)—Carl Thomas Dixon, 29, who was killed when his bride was less than two months brought home $600 in cash.

The money, all in $100 bills, was an inheritance. Dixon said he was told by his sister, at the time of his death.

FBI agents who visited the site, said at the Clayton, N.C. home Tuesday night were discovering the same amount of money. In $100 bills, had been robbed from the First Citizens Bank and Trust Co. in a few hours earlier by a woman bandit.

Agents took the "inheritance" as evidence and arrested Peggy Day Dixon, 29, on a bank robbery charge. She waived a preliminary hearing Wednesday and was ordered held under $15,000 bond.

Witness Tells of Cash Offer
Made by Keyes for Petitions

LANSING — A Detroit man says he was offered "50 or 75 cents" for registered voters. Facht said he was offered "50 or 75 cents" for registered voters. Facht said he was offered "50 or 75 cents" for registered voters.

The examination was bogged down in technicalities shortly after it began Wednesday when Thompson objected to the admission of evidence of the petitions and documents connected with an earlier hearing. He had not a chance to see them, the attorney said.

Charles Joshua Thomson, residing in an Ingham County Circuit Court investigation of an alleged conspiracy to violate state elections laws, said he received him to circulate the petitions.

The examination is now in its second day.
 The court examination follows a grand jury investigation in which Keyes, 61-year-old Dearborn physician, dentist and attorney, was indicted on 13 counts of conspiracy.

James Thomson, of Dearborn, Keyes' attorney, demanded that the examination prove a conspiracy actually involving Keyes. He also asked that some of the counts be dropped because they "were not matters and do not involve criminal acts."

Leo A. Facht, Ingham County prosecutor, said state elections statutes prohibit payment for help in campaigning or electioneering. Circulating petitions falls under this heading, he said.

Johnson testified that some 30 to 40 petitions shown him in court—apparently bearing his signature—were not signed by him. Some were improperly notarized, Facht said.

EXPER 21 YEARS
 The witness said some of the counts he enlisted were under permanent term.

June Frets Over Illness;
Dick Wonders About TV

NEW YORK — June Allyson's worried about having to undergo another operation while visiting NY. Now it's not sure and very painful.
 A kidney stone. Her husband Dick Powell says: "Pay TV is as certain as Superman's plumes. Yet wonderful as TV is, and I'm in it, it doesn't have the glamour for me that the movies have. And why don't TV stars become as glamorous as movie stars? Because actors look different on different TV sets. I've got five or six sets at home and Jackie Gleason looks different on every set." (Aside to Dick Facht on every one.)

The Friars Club gave Nat Hiken a razz night as he launched his new TV show, "Car 54." Nat, in his acknowledgment, said, "I'm glad I have such warm, wonderful friends, none of whom are here tonight." Opera star Robert Merrill sang (in a loud checked jacket), Joe E. Lewis yelled: "Somewhere tonight, a Chevrolet is missing its seat covers."

Debbie Reynolds and Harry Karl went to Bjeland with Jerry Lewis who wanted to prove to them that he could lead Carl Basile's band. He proved it for an hour. Roger Maris has some legal friends here. Frank Cerantini of the Shiner Barber Shop who won't cut his hair left, he split his books. Max Aspas of the Stage Restaurant who won't feed him but pastured let he ruin his sheep.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL
 Peggy Case and Carl Fisher, back from the Paar trip to Berlin, were at El Morocco. Joan Crawford saw "Carnival," perhaps Anna Maria Albergotti from her husband to congratulate her.

Donkeydile I publish a true-even travel quiz book by Broad way star Alfred Drake, of "Kew." One reason Darryl Zanuck's "Longest Day" film will be so long: the credits will run ten minutes. 20th Century-Fox submitted its "Rusler" to the Johnson of the for the fourth time. The censors had slashed it before. Current joke: The picture will be released before the ads.

EARL'S PLANS: Americans eat 36 billion sandwiches a year as figures show.
WISH I'D SAID THAT: No woman suffered in silence unless her phone was out of order. Arnold H. Glasgow.

Too Bad Joey Bishop
Wasn't Pre-Empted

BY FRED DANZIG
 United Press International
 NEW YORK (UPI)—Comes now 'Joey Bishop to doop for gold in that rich vein known as situation comedy.
 "The Joey Bishop Show," inserted into the Wednesday night slot vacated by "The Price Is Right" on NBC-TV, succeeded only in demonstrating that Bishop can't keep time as well as anyone else in a funny, witless and uninspired TV series. I trust that the price is right, at least.

The series, first sampled last March in a dummy pilot film titled "The Danny Thomas Show," offered, finds Bishop portraying a trouble-prone internuncio for a big-time public relations outfit. The opening episode introduced us to Joey and some of his associates.

In the time-honored situation comedy tradition, the associates include Joey's jolly, widowed mom, his girl friend, his good-natured brother-in-law, and the hard-driving boss. Future episodes, were advised, will find out Bishop's life with his married sister, teenage sister and teenage brother. Oh, what goodies await us!

His stilted, slow-paced and uncertain performance characterized the entire production. From the start, as his brother-in-law, such as they were, and small bits of business, were soggy and that laugh-track went a long time without a laugh.

With Bishop badly engaged in disappearing into the background, Joe Flynn, as his brother-in-law, and Joey Forman, as the candid camera man, dominated the comedy — by default.

Executive Producer Lou Edelman is using Joey Bishop's name in the title, but he ought to find a way to get Bishop into the format. Bishop seemed determined to make like a shakeo actor as he struggled to shake off mannerisms and inflections that help make him famous enough to warrant his own TV show.

FLU BAG, Young Bride
Put Bite on Dancer's Son

LUS ANGELES (AP)—His wife flew while he had the flu, son of movie-dance director Lillian Hines complained Wednesday in asking for divorce or annulment. Lillian Hines, 29, former cocktail waitress, suddenly left for her old home in Grand Island. Not after two months of marriage-taking with her all their wedding party.

At the time, he said, he was uninfected with influenza.
 The couple made his plans under duress.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL
 Peggy Case and Carl Fisher, back from the Paar trip to Berlin, were at El Morocco. Joan Crawford saw "Carnival," perhaps Anna Maria Albergotti from her husband to congratulate her.

Donkeydile I publish a true-even travel quiz book by Broad way star Alfred Drake, of "Kew." One reason Darryl Zanuck's "Longest Day" film will be so long: the credits will run ten minutes. 20th Century-Fox submitted its "Rusler" to the Johnson of the for the fourth time. The censors had slashed it before. Current joke: The picture will be released before the ads.

EARL'S PLANS: Americans eat 36 billion sandwiches a year as figures show.
WISH I'D SAID THAT: No woman suffered in silence unless her phone was out of order. Arnold H. Glasgow.
 A Broadway character never realized how friendships he wanted to break and had nobody to dedicate it to. That's cool, brother.
