Williams Says Michigan Must Boost Spending

Tells Legislature Hike Needed Despite State's 'Serious Crisis'

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams said today the state "inescapably" must step up spending in 1958-59 despite the present "serious crisis" in state finances, but for the first time in 10 years skipped any demand for a tax on corporation profits.

To tide the state treasury over the shoals immediately ahead and to support higher expenditures next fiscal year he urged a two-year duration for his recommended increase in the state tax on securities and other intangibles.

The stiffened levy would beef up state revenues by 21 million dollars for both this year and next.

In a 45-minute message outlining his program for the 69th Michigan legislature, the governor told a joint Senate-House meeting he passed up a request for his favorite corporation levy to await findings of a legislative study of the entire state tax structure now in progress.

Generally, he said, fiscal problems of the moment must not impede the state's forward march.

"It is easy to go forward in good times," Williams said. "But the test of democratic leadership is to continue making progress even when the obstacles pile up ahead of us."

About half the message was devoted to a review of the financial pickle now confronting the state, and with this as a background, to his broad budgetary recommendations for the year starting July 1.

Elsewhere, he made major proposals for:

1. Bonding in an unspecified amount to finance new state building especially at state colleges and universities, and an "improvement" in the school aid formula.

2. A four-point program for strengthening civil rights, including a bar against racial discrimination in sale or rental of housing—except for one, two and three-family dwell-

President Addressing Congress

Unified Control of Our Defense in 8-Point Plan

Warns Reds' Economic Threat Greater Than Military Danger

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today gave Congress an eight-point "safety through strength" program for dealing with the Russian space age threat. It included defense reorganization to unify control and end inter-service rivalries.

In an eagerly awaited State of the Union message, Eisenhower said America's military strength at present is great and is a powerful deterrent to war.

But he said the dangers the United States faces are real. He said that unless we act wisely and promptly "we could lose that capacity to defend ourselves" and deter any Soivet attack.

The President, in an address carried nationwide on television and radio, said too that the country could make no more tragic mistake "than to concentrate merely on military strength."

That, he said, could lead us to an age of terror.

Of even greater danger than the military threat posed by Russia's space era advances, Eisenhower said, is a massive economic offensive already launched by the Soviet Union against the United States and the rest of the free world.

Eisenhower, rosy-cheeked and looking fit, donned glasses to read his message. He wore a gray business suit, with blue tie.

There was almost a wartime solemnity in the general mood of Congress — shaken by the national concern over Russia's space and rocket feats.

APPEALS TO PEOPLE

And, in the same note of the critical world situation, Eisenhower made his eighth point a direct

Hope to Speed Probe of Doctor

Authorities Confer on Sullenberger Case in Ziem's Office Friday

An attempt to speed investigation into charges against Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, ousted Pontiac General Hospital surgeon, will be made at a meeting in the Oakland County prosecutor's office tomorrow.

Officials were concerned about the Pontiac General Hospital administration's reluctance to open up secret files and produce information that could back up the charges.

The investigation in the meantime could switch to Dr. Sullenberger himself today.

"We certainly do want to talk with Dr. Sullenberger and get his side of the controversy," said LeRoy McEntee, an assistant to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem who has been assigned to the case.

★ ★ ★

Ray M. Sweet, investigator for the State Board of Registration in Medicine, returned to Pontiac from Lansing today to confer first with McEntee about which direction the investigation should take in view of the hospital's stand.

TO MEET TOMORROW

Another state official, Maurice M. Moule, who is the assistant attorney general representing the state board, will meet tomorrow with Ziem and City Attorney William A. Ewart, who filed the hospital's charges against Dr. Sullenberger.

The charges, made in answer to Dr. Sullenberger's $250,000 damage suit against the hospital, listed 25 violations of professional standards including six instances in which the patient died.

Dr. Sullenberger's suit for damages and reinstatement was brought after his suspension from the hospital Nov. 13.

Carl I. Flath, the hospital's director, told investigators Monday that he was reluctant to open up the files for fear of spoiling the hospital's court case.

Dr. Sullenberger's attorney, Harry N. Dell, said that the doctor's reply to the charges should be ready early next week, perhaps as soon as tomorrow afternoon.

REQUEST WITHDRAWN

In another Circuit Court case, a request for a temporary injunction against the hospital was withdrawn yesterday by four doctors who claim a public institution has no right to make regulations limiting their right to practice medicine freely.

The move was taken because the suit has been readied for trial in about a month, at which time the doctors will ask for an injunction that is permanent.

Rosebush Quads at 7 Plan Their Careers

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

It was just 24 years ago today that an Oakwood couple were married in Lake Orion. It will be seven years tomorrow that this couple, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Rosebush, of 3043 Baldwin Rd., became famed following the birth of their quadruplets.

Tomorrow, the two sets of identical twins, Kristine and Krystal and Kenneth and Keith, will spend a quiet birthday.

It's the first time they haven't had a party but this year, it's Dorothy's turn to have a party, according to Mrs. Rosebush. Dorothy, one of the four older Rosebush daughters, will be 14 years old Jan. 23. Of course, the quads will have a cake and lots of birthday presents.

This is the first year of their school career that the quads have been separated. Krystal and Keith are in one room and Kristine and Kenny are in another room of first graders at the Daniel Axford Elementary School. Last year in kindergarten they were all together.

TRY SEPARATION

The four K's all agree they would rather be together but they are all individuals and are not dependent on each other.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rosebush said, "We thought we would experiment for a year to see how they get along separated. So far, it works out fine. One thing is for sure, they don't tattle on each other as much this way," she explained.

Saying that each of the quads is an individual and has a mind of his own is evident.

Gavin to Retire Despite Protests

Brucker OKs Request Reluctantly; Final Effort Fails to Move General

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin's request for retirement has been approved by Secretary of the Army Brucker after a final effort to keep the critic of defense policies in uniform.

"I have done my best to persuade him to stay," Brucker said in announcing that he had "reluctantly" approved Gavin's application to retire March 31 after completing 30 years of Army service.

Gavin, chief of Army research and development, earlier in the day had told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee his decision to retire was final.

Brucker said he made one more try at getting Gavin to change his mind, even after the general had taken this position.

Spurning Pentagon offers of promotion to full general within 14 months and a choice of two assignments until then, Gavin told senators, "I can do better for the Army outside than in."

He spoke of the Army's position as deteriorating rapidly.

He complained that Army strength and budget allocations have been whittled down over the past four years while Russian strength has been growing.

He contends the Army needs thousands of planes, missiles and much more freedom in planning.

Talking with newsmen after his appearance before the Senate subcommittee, Gavin said "there is not one red penny" for the Army in President Eisenhower's emergency request for $1,260,000,000 in additional defense funds for this fiscal year ending June 30.

Depositors Might Get Tab If Tax Increase Passes

By HAROLD S. COHEN

The impact on depositors in Pontiac's banks of the proposed increase in the state's intangibles tax is highly clouded at this time.

A survey of two local banks by The Pontiac Press shows they are undecided on their course of action if a tax boost is adopted by the legislature to meet the state's anticipated budget deficit.

PASS ON TAX

At issue is the central question of whether, for the first time, the banks would pass the tax on to its depositors.

At present Pontiac banks, like all others in the state, pay the tax for depositors.

A. C. Girard, president of Community National Bank, said that when Michigan first adopted an intangibles tax, his bank found it would cost $11,000 a year in clerical work to bill depositors and pay the tax.

SUM SOARS

Now, however, the bank pays out $40,000 a year for its depositors' tax.

If, as has been reported, the legislature boosts the tax from the present four cents a hundred on deposits to 20 cents a hundred, Community National would be faced with a $200,000 bill for its 80,000 depositors' share of the tax, Girard said.

Clerical help today, to bill depositors, he added, would be about

Damsels Frolic When Snow Falls on Florida

AP Facsimile

THEIR FIRST SNOW — Coffee break in Dade City, Fla., took on a new twist yesterday. These three office workers frolicked in the snow which fell on central Florida, and over much of the remainder of the state. It was the first time these three had seen snow.

Snow Sweeps on Florida; Freeze Strikes at Crops

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dangerous, subfreezing temperatures plunged deep into Florida today and threatened a valuable crop already shaken by a damaging freeze a month ago.

The greatest threat involved citrus trees in the northern edge of the sprawling citrus area and groves in lower locations of Central Florida.

Snow fell generally over much of Florida yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Freezing temperatures are forecast again for tomorrow, but there is a slight, outside chance a high air mass could move east of Florida and modify temperatures.

Grove owners with heating equipment fired their groves during the night. Truck farmers irrigated or protected their crops.

In the December freeze oranges were so badly damaged that the Department of Agriculture estimated 47 per cent of them were beyond use for sale as fresh oranges. The damaged fruit is being salvaged for canned juice and frozen concentrate.

Dye Wins Time to Make Appeal

Top State Court Allows March 1 Date, Chides Attorney for Delay

Ruling that there has already been "too much delay," State Supreme Court Justice Eugene I. Black today gave Fenton attorney Clifford B. Dye until March 1 to complete an appeal of his 1956 conviction of assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

The ruling was on Dye's petition for an additional six-month delay. His appeal had been postponed for 90 days last fall.

Because Dye was not ordered to present his appeal immediately, Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor gave up his plan to have the attorney jailed with his bond revoked until the high court hearing.

Taylor had threatened this in retaliation to what he called Dye's "deliberate procrastination in bringing this case to a conclusion."

A one-time attorney for the village of Fenton, Dye was convicted in March, 1956 of the non - fatal shooting of William C. Clark, 28, following disputes between the two over management of a Fenton farm leased by Clark from Dye's sister.

* * *

Dye has been free under $10,000 bond since then, awaiting the outcome of the appeal. If he loses before the Supreme Court, Dye will have to serve a 2-10 year prison sentence imposed by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

THREE INJURED — Two Oakland County Sheriff's deputies and a passenger in their car were injured at 9 a. m. today in a two-car accident at Oakland and Johnson streets. In fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital are Deputy Carl Raymond, 40, of Lake Orion, with head injuries and Ferris Holcomb, 52, of Clarkston, with a fractured right hip. Passenger Ronald Wininger, 24, of Detroit, was treated and released. The other driver, Gilbert C. Smith, 57, of Grant City, Ill., and his wife, Violet, 52, were not injured and were released after making a statement. Cause of the crash has not been determined.

Tax Hike's Impact Viewed by Banks

$15,000 a year so it would cost the bank some $185,000 to absorb the rumored increase.

Gov. Williams has denied that he definitely has set 20 cents a hundred as the figure he will present to the legislature.

But, he noted, Ohio gets that amount now and even if depositors are billed at that rate, it would amount to only 48 cents a year on a $300 checking account.

The governor is reported seeking $21 million more from the intangibles tax which now yields $3 million a year. Of the $21 million more, $15 million, it is estimated, would come from bank depositors.

* * *

Girard said that until the banks know just how much the increase will be, they cannot decide what to do.

One problem, he added, is that major depositors may withdraw money to other states or invest in tax exempt government bonds.

"We probably will be guided in our decision on this by the action the Detroit banks take," Girard said. "They usually set the pattern for all outstate banks."

Milo Cross, president of Pontiac State Bank, said the decision would be up to his bank's board of directors.

His bank presently pays some $9,000 a year for its 23,000 depositors, but would have to figure how much it would cost to bill each depositor as against the increase that may be voted.

R. C. Cummings, president of Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan, said, "If the rate goes up five times as has been intimated, it would be impossible for us to absorb the cost.

"At present it is good business for us to pay some $5,000 for our more than 8,000 depositors, but such a large boost would mean we would have to pass the tax on to them."

There are many facets to this problem, bankers generally say. For example, if a bank pays the tax, it can deduct this as an expense on its federal income tax. Also, it has to weigh the possible loss of deposits if it passes on the tax.

What will happen finally will depend on how big the tax increase is and how the Detroit banks react.

Two Persons Injured in 2-Car Avon Collision

Two persons were injured in Avon Township yesterday in a two-car collision.

Dwyer was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for bruises of the chest and jaw, while Miss Ferrens was treated for bruises of the head and left leg. Both were released.

End to Service Rivalry Demanded by President

appeal to the people of the Soviet Union — over the heads of their Kremlin leaders — to join in a drive for enduring world peace and take part in a first step toward disarmament.

The seven other points of his program will require legislative action by Congress:

The points:

1. Defense Reorganization — Eisenhower, obviously with mounting interservice rivalries in mind, said the nation's first need is to assure that military organization speeds, rather than hinders, the functioning of the military establishment.

* * *

Eisenhower said he will have specific proposals later in a special defense message.

"Let us proudly remember," he said, "that the members of the armed forces give their basic allegiance solely to the United States. Of that fact all of us are certain. But pride of service and mistaken zeal in promoting particular doctrine has more than once occasioned the kind of difficulty of which I have just spoken."

Eisenhower did not point a finger at any individual or service.

* * *

RIVALRIES MUST STOP

"I am not attempting today to pass judgment on the charge of harmful service rivalries. But one thing is sure. Whatever they are, America wants them stopped," he said.

* * *

2. Accelerated Defense Effort — Eisenhower called for a speedup all along the line, including protection and further dispersal of U.S. striking forces and more adequate warning facilities in case of attack.

He said freedom of the seas must be maintained, and said that means nuclear submarines and cruisers, as well as antisubmarine weapons, missile ships, and similar facilities.

* * *

"We must maintain all necessary types of mobile forces to deal with local conflicts, should there be need," he said. "This means further improvements in equipment, mobility, tactics and fire power.

"Through increases in pay and incentive, we must maintain in the armed forces the skilled manpower modern military forces require.

"We must be forward-looking in our research and development to anticipate and achieve the unimagined weapons of the future.

"With these and other improvements, we intend to assure that our vigilance, power, and technical excellence keep abreast of any realistic threat we face."

3. Continuation and Strengthening of the Mutual Security Program of Foreign Aid — Eisenhower said that if the foundations of the free world structure were progressively allowed to crumble under the pressure of Communist imperialism the entire house of freedom would be in danger of collapse.

* * *

"The real fact is that no investment we make in our own security and peace can pay us greater dividends than necessary amounts of economic aid to friendly nations," he said.

"This is no give-away."

Let's stick to facts!

"We cannot afford to have one of our most essential security programs shot down with a slogan!"

4. Foreign Trade — Eisenhower urged Congress to extend the Reciprocal Trade Act for five years. He said world trade "strengthens our friends and increases their desire to be friends."

* * *

"As President McKinley said, as long ago as 1901, 'isolation is no longer possible or desirable. The period of exclusiveness is past.'"

5. Scientific Cooperation with Allies — Eisenhower called for approval of legislation to permit the sharing of atomic secrets with friendly nations.

"We cannot afford to cut ourselves off from the brilliant talents and minds of scientists in friendly countries," he said.

"The tasks ahead will be hard enough without handcuffs of our own making."

* * *

6. Education and Research — He noted he had outlined previously a broad program calling for spending about a billion dollars annually for four years to strengthen educational and research facilities.

* * *

"With this kind of all-inclusive campaign, I have no doubt that we can create the intellectual capital we need for the years ahead, invest it in the right places — and do all this, not as regimented pawns, but as free men and women!" he said.

* * *

7. Spending and Saving — The federal budget for the year starting July 1 will include about four billion dollars more than the budget for the year which began July 1, 1957, for defense purposes. Eisenhower said the extra money will go for such things as missiles, nuclear ships, atomic energy, and research and development.

* * *

Eisenhower said as to budget prospects: "While we now believe that expected revenues and expenditures will roughly balance, our real purpose will be to achieve adequate security, but always with the utmost regard for efficiency and careful management."

Such related matters as the national debt ceiling and tax revenues will be dealt with in later messages."

* * *

8. Works of Peace — "My last call for action is not primarily addressed to the Congress and people of the United States. Rather, it is a message from the people of the United States to all other peoples, especially those of the Soviet Union," he said.

* * *

"This is the spirit of what we would like to say. In the last analysis, there is only one solution to the grim problems that lie ahead. The world must stop the present plunge toward more and more destructive weapons of war, and turn the corner that will start our steps firmly on the path toward lasting peace.

* * *

"Our greatest hope for success lies in a universal fact: The people of the world, as people, have always wanted peace and want peace now.

* * *

"The problem, then, is to find a way of translating this universal desire into action.

"This will require more than words of peace. It requires works of peace."

Winding up his address, the President said the actions he had outlined would call on the American people for both sacrifice and a high degree of understanding.

"I want to be a housewife when I grow up and I want to have seven children, all girls . . . I like to clean house and especially sweep the floors cause then you don't have to get down on your knees and scrub," she added.

The life of a policeman is the goal of Keith, who, according to his mother, gets the best grades in school.

"I want to put all those drunk people who drink beer while they are driving in jail," he explained. He too has an admirer by the name of Gay and "she even wants to marry me already," he exclaimed.

His brother Kenny, the youngest of the quartet, likes "throwing snowballs at recess" the best about school especially when "I duck my head and nobody hits me back." Kenny just recovered from a broken arm he received several months ago while playing at recess.

He intends to team up with his policeman brother and become a fireman "who holds the hose and squirts out the fire."

Kristine, more shy than her brothers and sisters, is looking forward to the day when she will become a nurse and "take care of all the sick peoples by giving them shots." She also would like to get married and have just one baby because "one would be a lot easier to handle."

Tomorrow won't be an extra special birthday for the Rosebush quads . . . but, with the four of them, you can be sure it will be a party in itself.

The boys want BB guns, Krystal hopes for a kitten and Kristine just wants new clothes for birthday presents.

Sleet Snaps Power Lines, Closes Schools

Entire East Coast Shivers; Storm Causes 33 Deaths

CHICAGO (INS) — The entire East coast, from Maine to Florida, shivered in bitter cold weather today.

* * *

The cold wave moved in behind the worst east coast snowstorm in years yesterday.

The fierce winter storm was blamed for at least 33 deaths when it lashed the east coast with avalanches of snow, wind gusts of gale force at up to 75 miles an hour, sleet, rain and lightning.

Traffic was snarled, business houses were forced to close, power lines were snapped and schools were closed.

* * *

Cold wave warnings were issued for New England as temperatures dipped to sub-zero levels in northern New England and a low of 15 below was forecast for northern Maine.

ZERO IN WEST VIRGINIA

Zero levels were observed as far south as West Virginia and through parts of New York state.

Near zero temperatures were reported at midnight in New England — a drop of 20 degrees from 24 hours ago.

* * *

Milder weather spread across the Plains States into the Mississippi Valley while Southern California retained the honor of having the warmest weather in the nation. The temperature early today at Los Angeles was 55.

The storm deaths included traffic fatalities and a number of heart attacks following snow-shoveling efforts.

Florida's billion-dollar citrus industry was threatened by the cold. For the first time in history, the Weather Bureau included snow in its Florida forecast.

SNOWBALLS IN FLORIDA

The northeast Florida community of Blountstown reported children were making — and throwing — snowballs. But flakes melted in most places as soon as they fell, even though entire schools were dismissed so that children who had never seen snow before could marvel at the sight. Snow fell as far south as Lakeland in the heart of the citrus growing area.

* * *

A general warming trend took place from the Great Lakes through the Mississippi Valley and most of the Plains States. Temperatures were surprisingly uniform, being in the 30s, except for the teens in the Great Lakes region.

Dr. Robert M. Hutchins Outlines Future Education

BIRMINGHAM — Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the Ford Foundation and former president of the University of Chicago, gave the first of two lectures on "Where Is Education Going," before a Birmingham Town Hall audience this morning. His second appearance at the Birmingham theater will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

* * *

Mrs. George Carey, executive vice president of Town Hall, introduced the noted educator and speaker. Special guests at the luncheon table this noon at the Birmingham Country Club were Dr. James P. McCormick and Dr. Harold Soderquist, both of Wayne State University, and Mrs. Allen Stone of Oak Park, Ill.

At Friday's luncheon gathering at the country club, Mrs. James S. Moon, Town Hall president, will present Dr. Hutchins.

Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, Birmingham schools superintendent, Mrs. Ireland, Dr. Richard Featherstone and Mrs. Donald Parry, Board of Education member, will be special guests at the speakers' table.

A Pontiac man, Donald C. Polasek, 21, of 245 Nelson St., was "arrested twice" by Bloomfield Hills Police yesterday.

Officers Joseph Kerr and William Moore said they arrested Polasek driving a car stolen in Pontiac. En route to police headquarters, the man leaped from the back seat of the police car and tried to escape, they said.

Kerr proved faster and recaptured the fleeing suspect before he could leap a fence and get into a wooded area.

Christmas in Birmingham was one of the busiest in years, according to Chamber of Commerce Manager Charles Mortensen and Postmaster Roland Reese.

Mortensen said business in the city was excellent. A few firms reported less spent than in the past, but the overall picture was an improvement over previous years, he said.

At the post office, 350 extra persons were employed to handle the 15 per cent increase in mail. Reese said double deliveries were maintained throughout the city and that when the final delivery was made Christmas Day, there was no backlog at the office.

By using night forces, a mail pileup was avoided, he said.

"With the system of night sorting, we were able to keep the mail flowing out of the office as rapidly as we received it," Reese said.

Williams Says State Must Hike Spending

ing units—financed with an FHA loan guarantee.

3. A continued drive to cut highway deaths and injuries.

ANTIQUATED STATUTE

4. A flexible, modern industrial safety act to replace the antiquated 1909 statute, with enforcement in the labor department largely by administrative regulation.

5. Creation of a state housing commission provided with $180,000 to construct and operate a pilot housing project for aged persons.

6. A retaining plan to assist unemployed workers over 45 in finding jobs.

7. A permanent state agency on problems of the aged, $100,000 for planning a 200-bed chronic illness unit at University of Michigan Hospital and state aid in quicker erection of a similar 32-bed unit at the U. of M.

8. Expanding the state's economic life. The detail of this was reserved for a later special message.

Although his proposed 1958-59 state budget will be larger than the amount actually appropriated in general funds for 1957-58, Williams said the increase will be small and "far below what I consider to be the level of public services warranted."

* * *

He listed as "inescapable" spending additions an improvement in the school aid formula and more money to support expanding grade and high school enrollments, expected to jump about 70,000 next fall.

* * *

New hospital facilities must be staffed, the new medrum security prison at Ionia operated and the state's commitments on support of Wayne State University met, he said.

He said with the Conlin Tax Study going it was no use to ask for a corporation profits tax, since legislators clearly indicated nothing in a major way will be done about tax reform until the study is completed.

Williams gave no clue as to how large a bonding program for state buildings he has in mind, but guesses have put it around 40 million dollars.

* * *

On civil rights, he said the existing Fair Employment Practices Commission should be converted into a civil rights commission with broader jurisdiction.

'CONCILIATION TECHNIQUE'

Its powers would be extended to police the recommended bar against discrimination in housing sales and rentals and to supervise a newly proposed prohibition against acceptance by licensed real estate brokers or agents of discriminatory listings.

"Friction in these areas will yield to the conciliation technique as it has in the shops, factories, department stores and other places of employment," the governor said.

Of the state's steadily increasing population in the over-65 bracket, now estimated at over 500,000, he said:

"One of the bitterest problems of old age is the lack of housing suited to the financial ability and needs of older people who want to live in independence.

"Other states are experimenting successfully with special housing projects for senior citizens."

Kiwanis to Present Canary Islands Film

Robert Davis and his film, "The Canary Islands," comes to Pontiac Tuesday as the fourth travelogue in the Downtown Pontiac Kiwanis Club's current travel and adventure series.

* * *

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Davis has 20 years of experience behind the lens, and his camera has recorded adventure-packed travelogues, short subjects for television and educational use, and production of commercial films.

* * *

With the aid of a vast background of experience, he designs and creates his own special photographic and high fidelity sound equipment.

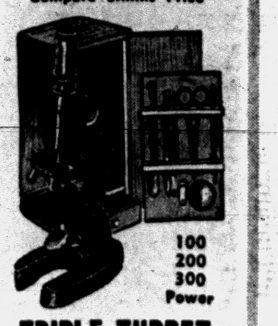

* * *

Rejected Suitor Admits 2 Killings

FONDE EU LAC, Wis. (INS)—Police are holding a rejected suitor today who confessed that he shot and killed his former sweetheart and her male escort in front of the girl's Fond Du Lac rooming house.

The bullet-ridden bodies of the couple, Miss Marie Riel, 26, and Wallace F. Madison, 38, were found yesterday in the front seat of Madison's car.

District Attorney Eugene F. McEssey said Clayton Lambert, 29, admitted the double murder last night during a lie detector test at the state crime laboraory in Madison.

Police began to search for Lambert after the bodies were found and a complaint by Miss Riel was remembered in which she charged her former suitor had slashed the tires of her automobile.

Miss Riel, who lived in Brondon, Wis., but worked in Fond Du Lac, was wounded four times in the head and face. Her companion was shot three times.

After Asthmatic Attack

Red Skelton Felt for Sure He Had Gone to Heaven

SANTA MONICA (INS)—When Red Skelton woke up in a hospital room, surrounded by doctors and nurses, after that asthmatic attack that almost killed him, his first impression was that he had died and gone to Heaven.

The famed comedian told about it at a mass interview at which he received about two dozen news reporters and photographers in his room at St. John's Hospital yesterday.

He said that his first thought upon regaining consciousness was of that quotation from the Bible which begins: "I am the Resurrection and the Life."

He added:

"Boy, did I pray."

Skelton was in a jovial mood as he quipped about his illness. However, he was pale and wan and he disclosed that he had lost 21 pounds — down to 194 from 215 since his arrival at the hospital on Dec. 30.

He observed:

"That's really the hard way to lose weight."

He probably will be out of the hospital in a week and back to work in three.

He said:

"I want to leave now. They had to nail the windows down to keep me here."

His room was banked with flowers sent to him by well-wishers.

Red said:

"Sorry about all these flowers, kids. I don't want you to think this is a gangster's funeral we're holding here."

Also in the room were some 5000 letters and telegrams. Skelton said he and his wife, Georgia, planned to answer them all because "We always wanted a project for our old age."

Churchill Sees Doctor for Routine Eye Checkup

LONDON (INS) — Sir Winston Churchill called on a London eye specialist yesterday for a routine checkup.

The 83-year-old statesman's son-in-law, Christopher Soames, newly appointed minister of war, said there was no cause for concern over Churchill's sight.

Soames said he had dined with the former Prime Minister Tuesday and that he was "in fine form."

He noted that Churchill had visited the eye specialist at various times in the past.

Hal Boyle Asks:

Whatever Happened to the Real Cowboy?

NEW YORK (AP) — What are they doing to the wild, Wild West and that saddle-sore hero of yore — the American cowboy?

In both the movies and television this emblem of American masculinity has fallen upon sad times. One who knew him in his prime has a hankering, now and then, to see him climb aboard old Pinto for the last time, turn and wave farewell, and canter off into oblivion.

★ ★ ★

That way, at least, the cowboy could retain some of his former dignity—and the fiction writers could drum up a new hero, such as the missile jockey or the space ranger.

The horse opera in its original form was one of the simplest and most satisfying art mediums ever devised. The villain reeked of evil, the heroic cowboy reeked of dust and sweat. He gunned down the bad man, virtue triumphed, and everybody left the theater feeling he had got his dime's worth — which is what it cost to go to a movie in those days.

But today you can pay $1.50, and instead of Zane Grey or Max Brand, you get two hours of Sigmund Freud — in color. You are left to mull over whether the sheriff shot the bad man because of an Oedipus complex, and whether the bad man really was bad or just a crazy kid with a mixed up ID.

On television, with a few exceptions, such as "Gunsmoke," the horse operas are even more sickeningly sterile. Instead of going "bang!" the guns go "ping?" Yes, the sound even has a question mark behind it, like this—"ping? ping? ping?"

Of course, on TV the model modern law feller tries to avoid a showdown. Any night now I expect to see the hero tell the bad man: "Drop that gun, son. Why not go along with me and see my psychiatrist? He'll show you how to get rid of those aggressive impulses. Look what he did for me."

Tax Hike Opposed Despite Road Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two members of the Senate Public Roads sub-committee said today they oppose any increased gas or auto taxes now despite a big potential deficit in highway financing.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of Commerce Weeks disclosed yesterday that the nation's 41,000-mile superhighway network now is estimated to cost at least $37,622,000,000 instead of the $27,643,000,000 set two years ago. Weeks recommended against changing the tax rates at this time.

Weeks and Bertram D. Tallamy, federal highway administrator, appear before the subcommittee again today for further testimony on the big roads program.

★ ★ ★

Based on present financing plans, the deficit indicated yesterday would require about four additional years of apportionments at the maximum rate to complete the 41,000-mile interstate system.

The original bill to admit Nebraska as a state in the Union was vetoed twice by President Johnson before it was accorded final approval.

Welsh Hearing Delayed

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The removal hearing for Mayor Thomas S. Welsh of St. Clair Shores was adjourned Wednesday to Jan. 29. The delay was asked by Asst. Atty. Gen. Eugene Krasicky to permit a study of legal points raised by Welsh's attorney, James C. Danner.

'She Didn't Cry So I Whipped Her More'—45 Minutes

Father Beats Tot to Death

CHOWCHILLA, Calif. (INS) — A 29-year-old farm laborer was held for murder today for whipping his four-year-old daughter to death because she was too stubborn to cry.

★ ★ ★

"She wouldn't mind so I beat her," admitted Claude William Schindler with no apparent remorse. "She wouldn't cry when I whipped so I whipped her some more. She was disobedient and stubborn."

The child, Sandra Marie, died yesterday after the whipping which her father said lasted 45 minutes.

The mother, 27-year-old Opal Pauline, stood by without protesting when her husband lashed the child with harness leather and then the branch of a willow tree.

MOTHER BOOKED

"I didn't think whipping a kid would kill it," said the mother of three other children, a girl, 1, and three- and six-year-old boys. She was booked on suspicion of murder but Madera County sheriff's deputies believed her only crime was failure to intervene.

Coroner R. S. Jay said there was not a single spot on Sandra's body "above the ankles that wasn't a big welt, a tearing wound or ripped skin."

A surgeon said scars beneath the fresh wounds indicated that Sandra had been beaten before.

The physician added: "It was the most vicious thing I've ever seen—not since the days of the Hitler regime have I seen anything comparable."

Sandra's parents said the afternoon beating at the family home resulted because the child disobeyed her father's order.

★ ★ ★

"Sure I beat her—first with the strap and then with the willow branch," Schindler boasted. "She wouldn't cry and she wouldn't obey. I whipped her for 45 minutes."

At the end of that time Sandra lay limp on the kitchen floor of the rented old house some 15 miles north of Chowchilla. She asked for a drink of water but still did not cry or whimper.

"She didn't even whimper," Mrs. Schindler said with vague pride. "Not once. It made him mad when she wouldn't cry. But I sure didn't know you could kill a kid by whipping her."

Then, said the mother, Sandra stopped even asking for the water she never got. She was dead.

Federal Aid Planned for Higher Education

Following a visit of Secretary FOLSOM to Gettysburg, President EISENHOWER has announced a billion dollar four year Federal plan of aid to education.

"This is a program to help meet the urgent demands of education as it affects our national security," the President said. "It recognizes the rapid increase in importance of science and technology in modern life and the importance of these fields to national security."

Perhaps the highlight of the program is the 10,000 college scholarships open to all students who otherwise wouldn't go to college, but with preference for those who have taken science or mathematics courses.

There also are plans for 1,500 graduate fellowships a year and other steps to expand teaching facilities in colleges and universities. Allocation of scholarships to the states would be controlled by population, and ability and need would govern the awards.

The bulk of the money would go into high school programs calling for 50-50 matching of Federal and state funds. Matched funds would be used for aptitude tests through the seventh to ninth grades, for improving counseling and guidance of students preparing for advanced education and for obtaining better qualified teachers in science and mathematics.

This admittedly is a crash program spurred by recognition of Russia's more rigorous methods of education. It is designed to correct U.S. deficiencies in stimulating basic research and learning in order to survive.

★ ★ ★

Naturally, there will be criticism of various aspects when the proposal comes before Congress. Insistence on state matching funds should win for it the support of those who fear any expansion of Federal education activities.

If Congress acts quickly the program can be put into effect at the beginning of the 1958-59 school year.

New Nation Born in Caribbean Area

The first of this year saw a new nation come into being, the British island territories of the Caribbean, now known as the West Indies Federation.

Suggested by Britain in 1945, the idea was received with disinterest at first. But with Jamaica, the largest and most populous of the islands leading the way, a constitution was drafted in 1950. The Federation is made up of 10 island groups spread over a 2,000 mile crescent from Jamaica in the northwest to Trinidad off the coast of South America. In this 8,000 square mile area live 3 million people, more than half of them in Jamaica.

★ ★ ★

The union became official at the capital in Port of Spain, Trinidad, with the swearing in of Britain's Lord HAILES as first governor general. Each of the federated units will have its own legislature and will be represented in the two houses of the Federal legislature. Elections will be held in March and the first meeting of the legislature will take place April 22.

Executive power will rest in a council of state and judicial power in a supreme court. Britain will conduct foreign relations and defense and will continue its heavy financial subsidies.

Jamaica's future is bright with a growing bauxite industry, banana exports and oil and copper explorations. Trinidad is rich in oil and its workers probably have the best economic life of any islanders.

The new federation hopes its members will co-operate in marketing products of the various islands. Expansion of inter-island trade is anticipated from formation of a customs union. In this way they also hope to increase their outside trade.

This emergence of a new nation at our doorstep is a desirable development and should lead to independent commonwealth status within a few years.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

The Big Money Act

David Lawrence Says:

Economic Worries Top 'Sputniks'

WASHINGTON — Many members of Congress who have just returned here say the big news story back home isn't "Sputniks" but economic worries. This doesn't mean that the international outlook is less important, but it does mean that things nearer home are causing greater concern.

LAWRENCE

Most of the forecasts and surveys about the business situation in the year 1958 now have been published. They show a remarkable unanimity—things are not too good now but they may be much better in the second half of 1958.

One wonders at the ease with which the future is appraised—as if it always runs on a specific timetable. The recovery could conceivably set in during the first half of 1958. Actually, all that is known is in the form of statistics about what has happened in business in the last year. The rest represents estimates and guesses as to what may happen in the future.

But there is one factor—and it may prove the most important of all—which nobody can appraise. It's the psychological effect on businessmen today of the facts that have already been published. Pessimism breeds hesitation and doubt and a tendency to hold back expenditures that might normally be made.

It is no solution to suppress the facts, as this could scare people into acts that would cause a deeper recession. For when there is any cover-up of truth, rumor and apprehension spread quickly, and sometimes panic results. It's always better to tell the unpleasant facts so that the exact nature of the bad news can be evaluated.

Conversely, there ought to be more emphasis on the positive factors in the whole economic situation lest some be overlooked in a mood of growing pessimism.

Thus, for instance, the total national output of the United States has been in the neighborhood of $440 billion a year. The economists say it will decline somewhat. But even a five-billion-dollar drop—and this writer has not seen any larger figure suggested—would hardly be regarded as a disastrous blow to the American economy.

The human mind can scarcely grasp the tremendous size of the national output of this country. It is equally difficult to measure the impact of certain declines in particular industries. But one thing is clear—the United States is constantly growing. Its population is increasing and more demand for goods of all kinds is being created every year.

If, therefore, there's a slowdown in buying in 1958, there will be a bigger demand for these same things next year, and it is even possible that in some lines there may be shortages or higher prices.

Nobody regulates the American economy—not even the Federal Reserve Board, with its control of credit. It is, on the whole, a self-operating mechanism. Many factors tend to arrest a boom and cause a readjustment.

Until the corrective measures have actually been taken and a readjustment runs its course, there is no way of knowing the demand accumulated during the halt or downward trend of the business curves. Nor is it easy to tell how much time a given industry will take to "readjust."

Lately there has been a tendency in some quarters to argue that more spending by the government would help stem the business decline. Others, particularly labor leaders, have contended that wages should be increased so that purchasing power would be augmented.

Wage increases, of course, are never equal and the larger businesses which have been able to afford them have passed on such increases in the form of higher prices that have to be paid for by the vast majority of persons employed in smaller businesses.

Here, with the squeeze in profits and the higher costs that are normally encountered, there is little opportunity to increase wages correspondingly. Hence, unemployment results as the public resists buying at high prices.

The Country Parson

"Anger is like water in your gasoline tank—you can't perform right until you get rid of it."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Lab Test Can Determine RH Factors in Blood

Medical technicians can determine by laboratory tests whether an individual's blood is Rh positive or Rh negative. By such a test, any man and woman can learn, before marriage, whether their blood is compatible.

DR. BRADY

Such individual tests of 1,000 persons chosen at random showed that 86 in each 100 persons are Rh positive and 14 in each 100, Rh negative.

Children of an Rh negative mother and Rh positive father are likely to be stillborn (born dead) or, if born alive, likely to have a severe type of anemia with jaundice. This is called erythroblastosis.

In some instances the first child is normal, maybe even the second, but the third is born dead or has erythroblastosis.

Injection or transfusion of even a small quantity of Rh positive blood into the vein of a girl may produce a reaction in her blood such that, if she bears a child, the child will be born dead or have erythroblastosis.

Of mothers who give birth to infants with erythroblastosis, 90 per cent were Rh negative, whereas in random blood typing only, 15 per cent of women were found to be Rh negative.

★ ★ ★

If a man whose blood contains the Rh factor (Rh positive) mates with a woman whose blood does not contain the Rh factor (Rh negative) the child will inherit the Rh factor from the father, and the mother's Rh negative blood is destructive to the blood of the fetus.

IT'S A PUZZLER

If this is at all confusing I'm sorry. It is by no means as simple as it may seem. For instance, no less than six different Rh factors have been recognized. Moreover, incompatability of a man's blood with the blood of his mate may be due to the fact that husband and wife are of different blood types or groups—AB, A, B or O.

I do hope readers will not ask my advices about Rh factor, erythroblastosis, congenital icterus (jaundice), anemia of the newborn or hydrops fetalis. I have told here all I know about it. The only advice I have for any one interested in the Rh factor is consult a physician.

Rh factor is so named because it was first found in the blood of the Rhesus monkey, but remember, it is normally present in most persons.

The reaction of this piece, if any, will determine the future policy of this column. Should we talk about borderline subjects here? I hope readers will express their views. Remember, this is a health column, not a medical column.

Voice of the People

Reader Relates Solution for Misbehaving Children

It's true children should be taught to behave in movies, but here's how I saw it handled in Britain. The manager had a big voice and a long cane. Children attended afternoon matinees Wednesdays and Saturdays at half price, no adults allowed. (This helps with the sex-pervert problem.)

★ ★ ★

If disturbing elements got in they were warned once. If they persisted, the long cane reached in and yanked them out by the collar, their money was returned at the box office and the door firmly shut. An aggravated offense could mean boycott for good.

★ ★ ★

Whoever is in charge of a child when he commits an offense is responsible for the child's actions, be he teacher, parent or manager. The trouble with children is adults. The human element is always the deciding factor in human relations.

Call for Rigid Economy Sprung on Legislators

LANSING (AP) — An early plea for "rigid economy" and a Republican legislative program were sprung on surprised Michigan lawmakers as they settled in their seats for the regular 1958 session.

House Speaker George M. Van Peursem (R-Zeeland), a possibility for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, came up yesterday with a letter to fellow lawmakers tying the call for economy to a 10-point legislative program.

POLICY OBVIOUS

With Michigan facing a deficit of upwards of 30 million dollars by the end of the current fiscal year, he said, "rigid economy" is the obvious policy for the legislature to adopt this year.

At the same time, however, it was disclosed that Van Peursem and other Republican leaders have agreed on early introduction of a bill for a full pay-out of the 1957-59 school aid formula, set at $190 per pupil.

Currently, it appears school aid funds will fall between eight and 10 million dollars short of the total needed to make the full pay-out.

★ ★ ★

Van Peursem, in his letter, said he senses a "growing rebellion" among Michigan taxpayers, and urged lawmakers to work for improvement of job opportunities and industrial expansion.

He also urged:

Strengthening of civil rights laws and agricultural research and marketing programs.

A small admission fee for parks, with proceeds spent for improvement and expansion of the state park system.

Legislation authorizing multi-county port districts to take advantage of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Creation of a permanent commission to delve into problems of the aging, and improvement of facilities to furnish medical care to the aged.

Improved safety laws controlling mining and construction work.

Providing labor "the tools necessary to clean out its own house and to establish responsibility to every union member and to the public as a whole."

'Bugs' Baer Says:

We observed yesterday that a democracy gets things done by letting 'em happen.

That was a reprint from September 1942 when things were blacker than a mule's bedroom.

We didn't even learn much from Daniel Boone. He wasn't so fearless that he didn't always have a tree between himself and the Indians.

In the same article was the line, "After we win this war, we'll warm another snake in our bosom because we like pets."

Remember what happened to England under Baldwin or another of those bull-pen premiers? They clipped their defense moola and a guy named Shickelgrubber grabbed a better start than the chicken that hatched in the egg-beater.

We fought our first war because we didn't like taxation without representation. Now we got 'em both and some people don't like it any better.

Horse Sense Could Lower Tuition

"Horse sense" would let us actually lower college tuition, yet raise faculty salaries and still get universities out of the red ink! Study this expose of college inefficiency and mail it to your congressmen. Private business colleges stay in the black without panhandling from alumni or legislatures, so the second "shift" and the 24:1 ratio will be the salvation of Liberal Arts education.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W - 394: Recently a magazine article deplored the crisis in education that confronts us.

★ ★ ★

"By 1970," it said, "our college enrollments will be doubled. Yet how are we to recruit enough teachers for this great increase in student enrollments?

DR. CRANE

"And where will we obtain the money to build new classrooms for such a vast collegiate system?"

It is high time DR. CRANE to use some good old-fashioned American "horse sense" on college campuses!

Instead of begging Uncle Sam for federal aid, and instead of coaxing business corporations to furnish more contributions, let's ask the colleges to use some a-b-c business gumption.

To be specific, we don't need to build new buildings to accomodate a doubling of student enrollments! Our present classrooms are adequate.

★ ★ ★

Just run a second educational "shift" through our present buildings and laboratories!

Schedule this second shift to start about 3 or 4 p.m. Then we would get better returns from the billions already invested in classrooms, desks, chairs, microscopes, etc.

Indeed, if it ever became necessary, we could even run a third shift through our present campus buildings and thus take care of THREE TIMES our present college enrollments without spending a cent for new buildings!

TEACHER SHORTAGE

"But what about the terrific teacher shortage for colleges?" you may ask.

Well, there'd be no teacher shortage at all if colleges would imitate the high schools.

Our city high schools nowadays are fully accredited and the teachers do a better job than the average college professor.

Yet high schools handle 24 pupils per teacher, while the average college has only 12 students per faculty member!

★ ★ ★

If the colleges would thus double the student - teacher ratio and match the high school standard, our present college faculties could handle DOUBLE the present college enrollments.

Meanwhile, teachers' salaries could be jumped greatly. At the present student - teacher ratio of 12.1, and at $500 tuition per college student, only $6,000 is attracted to the school per teacher.

The latter's salary takes $5,000 thus leaving only $1,000 for all the many overhead expenses.

By imitating the high school ratio of 24.1, the tuitional income would jump to $12,000, thus permitting higher salaries and much more for overhead.

★ ★ ★

Indeed, tuition could even be lowered yet colleges would still be money ahead!

HORSE SENSE

Braintruster economists may resent this simple solution, but tuition can be lowered and salaries raised, without begging a cent from Uncle Sam or asking for increased money from state legislatures or big business!

This practical plan of a second educational "shift," plus an increase in student - teacher ratio to 24.1, would put most colleges in the black at once.

The only problem in even a sudden doubling of enrollments, would be student housing, and most communities could still rent thousands of additional unused rooms to students.

Remember, it doesn't take million-dollar dormitories to house students! The townspeople can still accomodate almost a million new college students without costing the colleges a penny for new dormitories!

So mail this column to your legislators. They need a respite from foolish educational lobbying.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs, when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

American GI Contributes Most to British Economy

LONDON (INS) — Britain's biggest dollar earner is not whisky or automobiles or even tourism—but the American GI.

The British ring up more dollars in the national till by virtue of importing American troops than by export of whisky and automobiles together. Even the dollar income from tourists comes nowhere near the expenditures of American forces stationed in Britain.

In the year ended June 30, 1957, combined American military and naval spending in Britain made the British richer by $440,000,000. Whisky exports in the same period were only $65,000,000, automobile and commercial vehicle exports some $75,000,000 while tourist income amounted to $138,000,000.

Even those Britons worried about hydrogen-bomb carrying American bombers flying over their country do not want to see the 40,000 Yanks and their 40,000 dependents leave these shores.

In one year these 80,000 Americans managed to spend well over $80,000,000 privately.

MOSTLY AIR FORCE

The American Army and American Navy between them spend very little because there is not much in the way of Army and Navy installations in Britain. The Air Force accounts for about three-quarters of the total of U. S. forces expenditure in Britain, in round figures, some $341,000,000.

The biggest single item is the payment for contractual services —more than $135,000,000. These services are for the most part for work undertaken to expand and strengthen runways on airfields for the new types of bombers. Private contractors get some of their most lucrative business from the American Air Force.

SPEND FOR HOUSING

The Americans also spend big money on housing for their personnel. In addition to construction work, the 23 air bases and dozen administrative bases all provide contracts for maintenance work and for such services as laundry, telephones and health.

Air Force supplies, ranging from paper clips to fresh food and electrical equipment, bought from Britain came to over $85 million in the past year, including offshore procurement.

EMPLOY BRITONS

The American Air Force also employs some 4,000 British civilians on its bases and the wages bill amounts to over $12,000,000 a year. That it is cheaper for the Americans to employ British personnel than to bring American civilians over to do the same work is to the advantage of the British. Salaries of British civilians are fixed by the air ministry and not by the Americans themselves.

Small Business Unit Head Optimistic

NEW YORK (AP)—Wendell B. Barnes, administrator of the U.S. Small Business Administration, says the nation's economy is passing through a "temporary lull," and 1958 may develop into a comparatively good business year.

★ ★ ★

Barnes addressed the 47th annual convention of the National Retail Merchants Assn. — the new name of the National Retail Dry Goods Assn.

"We are all well aware that there is now some leveling off in economic activity," Barnes said last night, "but as I see it, this is only a temporary lull of the type we must expect from time to time.

★ ★ ★

"If 1958 comes anywhere near up to expectations, it will be a year that, for most businessmen, will compare favorably with the present very high level of business activity."

Urges Finishing of Sewer Study

Levinson Blames Halt in Metropolitan Survey on Political Obstacles

A politically snagged sewage and drainage study by the National Sanitation Foundation must be completed for the good of the Detroit metropolitan area development, David Levinson, chairman of the Oakland delegation to the Supervisors' Inter - County Committee, said today.

★ ★ ★

"It's a must," he said. "Something must be found to overcome these political or other obstacles."

The completion of the three-fold survey appeared dead today as Dr. Henry F. Vaughan, foundation president, charged that there was an active campaign against it "by certain individuals who held important governmental positions in the area."

Dr. Vaughan did not name these individuals. Levinson said there was "no lack of cooperation with the foundation on the part of any Oakland County official."

The Birmingham supervisor said he saw no immediate damage to the county's sewage and drainage development as the survey is not just designed for this area, but for a larger six-county metropolitan area.

Dr. Vaughan said the completion of the study was jeopardized because the foundation found it impossible to get financial support from industry.

The first section of the study, on water, was released last year. The foundation president said this stirred a bitter controversy resulting in the present block.

Detroit Councilman Edward Connor, chairman of the Inter-County Committee, expressed disappointment that the study had been halted, but at the same time denied its work had been sabotaged by politicians.

He too looked for counties to insist, because of the importance of the study, that it be continued.

Police Officers Intervene in Suit

3 Sergeants Admitted in Pontiac Case to Try Promotion Rights

Three Pontiac police sergeants were admitted this morning as interested parties in the suit of Acting Lieutenant John DePauw against the Pontiac Civil Service Commission.

Sgts. Raymond Meggitt, William Hanger and Floyd Goines were admitted into the case by Circuit Court Judge George B. Hartrick when DePauw's attorney, Howard I. Bond, offered no objection.

Judge Hartrick said the three could not offer new evidence in the case, but could advise the court on the issues.

DePauw is seeking confirmation in the rank of lieutenant under the State Civil Service Act. He was ordered returned to sergeant's rank by the Civil Service Commission when he placed fourth in a competitive examination, with a score lower than that of the three sergeants.

The court has issued a restraining order which halts the demotion, pending outcome of his suit.

AF Testimony Alarms Solons

Gen. White Discloses B52 Production Halt, Lag in Missiles

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senate missile probers voiced alarm today over disclosures that production of B52s is being halted and that the Air Force considers funds for transatlantic rockets "inadequate."

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, made the disclosures late yesterday in testimony before the Senate Preparedness subcommittee.

He said the Air Force at this time is "not getting enough manned bombers fast enough for this transition period." Despite this, he said production of the intercontinental B52 planes is "not only being cut down, it is scheduled to be phased out."

White said he has made "every plea before every proper authority" for more money for the bombers and for intercontinental ballistic missiles. He said the administration has not and is not asking enough funds to step up the ICBM programs "as they can and should be."

Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss), vice chairman of the subcommittee, said: "I was surprised and disturbed" by White's disclosures. He said he was amazed to know that "we are not having full production of B52s and declared: "I think the (original production) scheduled should be reinstated."

Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) said that White's testimony "opens up an important field of inquiry." Johnson added: "In his view we are not planning to do everything we can to step up the development of the ICBM."

Four Highland Park Teens

Confess to Crime Spree

HIGHLAND PARK (INS) — Authorities said today four Highland Park teenagers have confessed a Christmas holiday spree and a trip to Mississippi involving stolen cars and several burglaries.

★ ★ ★

Two of the youths, a 13-year-old girl and a boy, 18, were arrested last night after a two-mile chase at high speeds through Oak Park and Ferndale.

A 15-year-old girl is being held by juvenile authorities in Mississippi and a boy, 15, was arrested yesterday and linked with the others, police said, by confessions.

Officers said the youngsters told of breaking into stores and homes between Christmas and New Year's and then driving to Tupelo, Miss., in a stolen car.

★ ★ ★

In Mississippi, police said, the teenagers abandoned the Detroit car and took another auto, placing stolen license plates on it.

Detectives said the joy ride was financed by thefts of radios, television sets, jewelry, cameras and other articles, which were pawned en route.

The 15-year-old girl left the party at Jasper, Ala., to stay with grandparents, who later turned her over to police.

★ ★ ★

The others returned to Detroit last Sunday and stayed at an unoccupied house for a couple of days.

The 13-year-old girl and 18-year-old boy were seized after police spotted them driving a car with stolen license plates.

County Studies Airport Plans

Board of Supervisors Tables Question; Seeks Further Information

Oakland County is still studying the pros and cons of a proposed Northeastern Airport in Sterling Township of Macomb County.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit Aviation Commission said yesterday it planned to enlist the cooperation of Macomb and Oakland Counties in the development of the airport.

At an Oct. 15 meeting, the Miscellaneous Committee of the Oakland Board of Supervisors tabled the matter until further information was available.

Protest resolutions against the airport from Madison Heights and Troy were presented to the committee then.

★ ★ ★

Winson S. Moberly, committee chairman from Pleasant Ridge, said today further study might be made at a meeting next week. "We have decided nothing so far," he said.

★ ★ ★

The Aviation Commission said it has received acceptance of its plans from Macomb County. Plans are for the commission to acquire a four-square-mile area bounded by Seventeen, Nineteen, Dequindre and Mound roads for the field.

Volunteers Hunt Missing Boy, 5, in Minnesota

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP) — Hundreds of volunteers today searched for a 5-year-old boy missing since he went out to play near his home in this Canadian border city yesterday.

The boy, Dannie Lamon, dressed in boots and a snow suit, left the house at 9 a.m. The house is on a county road.

Search parties were augmented last night by more than a hundred volunteers from Fort Frances, Ont., a neighboring Canadian community.

Sheriff Ed Anderson said the boy may have been picked up in a car by someone.

"I don't see how a 50-pound child could get very far in this country; the going is too tough," the sheriff said. He reported snow is knee deep in the brushland along the road where the boy's family lives.

Miss Breadsley has made her home with her brother, Frederick, and his wife. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Iva Miller of Pine Knob road.

Red Paper Suspends Publication

'Daily Worker' Has Had It

NEW YORK (AP)—The Daily Worker, the Communist newspaper, says it will suspend publication next Monday, 34 years after it began.

★ ★ ★

Suspension of the daily was announced in an editorial in today's issue. The paper's demise was blamed on "lower party membership, diminished resources and unresolved political differences."

The weekly Worker — hitherto the daily's weekend edition—will continue.

Circulation of the Daily Worker dropped from its peak of 30,000 to 35,000 about 10 years ago down to 7,200. The weekly edition's circulation, once about 84,000, now is about 13,000.

The editorial said: "With the help of our readers and friends, the Daily Worker will be reborn." It also noted:

"We have been informed by the Communist party that it is not in a position to help raise the large amounts needed immediately to meet our deficit, which ran to $250,000 in 1957."

The "unresolved differences" mentioned by the Daily Worker apparently involved the newspaper's editor, John Gates, and other leaders of the party in this country.

★ ★ ★

Gates is considered in the right wing of the party and has opposed having the newspaper follow a strict Moscow line.

U.S. Position Weighed; Must Find Only Solution

(This is the last article in which a famed reporter is presenting an assessment of America's military position today—How and where the U.S. position compares unfavorably with Russia's, why we lag behind and what the experts say must be done.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

WHAT IS THE WAY OUT?

The air rings with clashing opinions on how the U.S. can overcome Russia's space age lead. Proposals for reorganizing the joint chiefs of staff, including one from the high level Rockefeller brothers fund report, collide head on with statements like the one from Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, that putting our future "in the hands of a single military protector" would "lay the foundations for national disaster."

How will the U.S. extricate itself from problems such as this?

The problems of extrication are gone into deftly by Charles J. V. Murphy in the current Fortune. A close friend of the President, Murphy writes:

"Certainly no President was ever confronted with a situation comparable to the one that has enveloped Eisenhower since the Sputniks—a situation made agonizingly complicated by the illness that so soon afterward overtook him.

"The most difficult kinds of choices press for decision; they involve options that will demand outlays of vast sums; and they will involve changes not only in the military structure but in the economic and social structures of the U.S." He adds:

"A White House adviser says, 'The President's burning concern now is to keep the country from going hog wild—from embarking on foolish, costly schemes.'"

In the end, it will be the President who will be called upon to make the hard decisions. Sen. John E. Stennis, Mississippi Democrat on the Johnson subcommittee, put this in words in one of the hearings, while questioning Vannevar Bush, one of the nation's most distinguished men of science:

"This authority to have a unified control power to make decisions, and then the authority to make it move, I think has got to be even above the secretary of defense, or the director of the budget, or anyone else. Has it not got to be the President's authority that he is exercising, the President himself?"

"Certainly," Bush said, ". . . I hope and trust that the President of the United States, confronted with this national emergency, is going to give us all of the action that we would ask for, where action by the President alone will resolve the difficulty."

Dr. Bush was asked if he thought the actual management of America's fight to overcome the Soviet rocket leads should be vested in the President.

"No," he said. "I think the job of carrying this thing out is the job of the secretary of defense and he can delegate it in such way as he may see fit to carry it out." He saw the President as sitting atop all the power he delegated, however.

Dr. T. Stirling Livingston, Harvard professor, had other views.

"We cannot solve this problem by doing any one thing or by replacing any one group," he told the senators. "No one organization nor one group of individuals is solely at fault.

"Many people have singled out a particular villain. Some blame the Congress of the United States, some Democrats blame some Republicans. Some people blame former Secretary of Defense Wilson, Deputy Secretary of Defense Quarles. Some blame the military services and I have heard military officers who blamed scientists who gave them bad advice. And many blame the public for not supporting a larger weapons development budget.

"But all these people have done what they thought was right, and they have done what was expected of them under the circumstances . . ."

The gargantuan task of changing the system is just getting under way. The future historian may observe that at this point in the 20th Century, the United States rose or declined.

House Committee to Question Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles reports today to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, which is primed with questions about prospects for a top-level meeting with Russia.

It is his first appearance of the new session before a congressional group.

He will appear before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee tomorrow. The secretary usually talks to both groups at the start of each session.

Rep. Morgan (D-Pa) said the congressmen would be interested in knowing "what is our direct attitude toward a future summit meeting."

Morgan said, "I'm not for any immediate summit conference, but I think we ought to be looking ahead." He said this country should be willing to talk with the Russians if the Reds show sincerity about such talks.

Plan Religious Center

DETROIT (AP) — The Newman Foundation, a Catholic organization, has bought the Gleaner Life Insurance building on Detroit's Woodward Avenue and will convert it into a religious center for Wayne State University's Catholic students.

Order 100,000 of Rockefeller Defense Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller, president of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund which sponsored the controversial report on the United States defense crisis, says interest in the report is so great that 100,000 copies have been ordered printed for wide distribution.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller, who also is chairman of the special project which produced the report, said in an interview yesterday "the main thing is to stimulate the public interest."

He said attention should be focused "strongly on the fact that our country faces a problem that might affect our survival."

"If we Americans want to achieve all the other objectives in life which interest us, we must keep our security first. This report represents the thinking of a group of Americans with experience in many fields, and we hope it will be a contribution in the debates that lie ahead," he said.

The Rockefeller Brothers Fund is not connected with the Ford Foundation.

Officer Never Knows What's Coming

Most Feared Police Call—'Family Trouble'

By HAROLD S. COHEN

Perhaps the most dreaded radio call a police officer can receive is one bearing the innocuous title "Family Trouble."

★ ★ ★

Most veteran officers confess they would much rather be ordered to investigate a murder, an armed robbery or almost any serious crime.

What makes family trouble so feared a call, the police will tell you, is: You never know what you will run into; and an officer has a dubious legal standing in fights between husband and wife.

Inspector Clark Wheaton, for example, said an officer has no clear legal right to arrest a man for abusing his wife unless he sees the offense committed in his presence.

OFTEN HYSTERICAL

"What too often happens is you find an hysterical woman who shouts, 'Arrest my husband, he's trying to kill me.'

★ ★ ★

"So you take him in and the next morning you find the wife won't sign a complaint. That could mean a false arrest suit against the officer."

"Of course," the inspector continued, "if they are making a lot of noise we can always charge them with disturbing the peace.

"Or if the husband comes out of the house onto the sidewalk, you can pick him up because he is on public property."

RECALLS CASE

Lon Peters Jr., a patrolman with five years experience, recalls one harrowing time he and his partner had on a family trouble call.

★ ★ ★

A woman had called the police station and said her estranged husband was breaking into the house, although she had a court injunction prohibiting him from coming near her.

The officers checked the house but found no one there and left. A few minutes later the same call barked over their car radio. A second check of the home failed to turn up an intruder.

Again the policemen drove off only to receive a third urgent call. This time, too, no prowler could be found. The woman was in hysterics.

★ ★ ★

Finally, Peters told his partner to leave and announced in a loud voice that they were going but instead he stayed.

In a few moments he heard a noise in the attic. Calling for his partner, he opened the trap door of the attic and looked in. Then the woman suddenly shouted, "He's got a gun, look out."

"You can bet I pulled my head down quickly," Peters said. "I drew my gun and started up there again, when suddenly there was a crash and the man fell through the kitchen ceiling.

★ ★ ★

"We got him, although he tried to hit my partner. Later we found a gun in his car."

STORK CALL

Peters recalled other such happenings. One family trouble call turned out to be a woman having a baby. Peters helped deliver the infant and placed both in an ambulance. "I did everything but sign the birth certificate," he smiled.

★ ★ ★

Another family trouble call turned out to be an hysterical woman who met the officers with a rifle in her hand. She had heard a prowler in the yard and thought the police were the intruder.

"You want excitement," Peters said, "you try identifying yourself to a hysterical woman with a loaded gun."

Officer Neil King, a 30-year veteran, recalls a family trouble run he made. A woman reported her son, suffering from war-inflicted shock, was threatening her with a pistol.

King drove up to find the woman between two houses while her son stood on the porch.

"Come over here, we want to talk to you," he shouted to the man. "You come up here," was the answer.

"We had to do something, so we went up to him, but he ran back into the house," King recalled. "My partner and I went after him, but we kept our guns holstered.

"I talked quietly to him for a moment and then grabbed him. He turned out to be all right, just a little upset. He had several guns, all registered. We finally left him there, calmed down, and he promised to call us if he felt disturbed again."

REAL BRAWL

Officer Wayne Long, on the force five years, recalls when he and his partner, Robert Gaines, answered a family trouble call.

The man wouldn't let us in, but his wife who was in the kitchen crying, said she wanted us in," he said.

"The first thing we saw was a hank of her hair on the living room rug that her husband had torn from her head.

"We tried to arrest him, but he had been drinking and a real brawl began. We battled him for 20 minutes during which almost all the furniture was smashed, pictures flew from the walls and the television set tipped over."

"The fight finally ended," Long said, "when I got a grip on his throat and choked him unconscious."

If, as Gilbert and Sullivan once wrote, a policeman's lot is not a happy one, most officers agree that family trouble calls are the major reason.

Weather Brings Pontiac Lake Dam Setback

Due to adverse weather conditions, the deadline date for completion of the Pontiac Lake dam in Waterford Township has been advanced from Friday to Feb. 10, according to Oakland County Drain Commissioner Dan Barry.

Work was started on the dam two months ago by the Tuzillo Construction Company of Cleveland, who was awarded the $48,044 contract for reconstruction of the dike as well as work on the dam.

★ ★ ★

Slated as the next major project in Waterford Township is the rebuilding of the Oakland-Woodhull Lake level control dam on the property of the Catholic Ukrainian summer camp on Walton Blvd.

A modification of two existing structures will be made, and the present dike will also have additional reconstruction work.

Students 'Teach' Faculty in School

PRIZE PUPILS — First graders at North Hollywood's Oakwood School go through phonetic alphabet with Miss Mary Davidson for benefit of visiting teachers.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — A school where the students "teach" the teachers?

It happens every summer at North Hollywood's Oakwood School.

Picture this scene:

TELL, TEACHER

Seven third graders are sitting at small tables, workbooks and pencils in front of them. an Oakwood teacher asks one to spell the word "safely," then give the rule for the spelling.

The pupil, a towheaded boy of 8, spells it correctly, then explains in precise tones:

"I retained the final 'e' because the suffix begins with a consonant."

This evokes a low hum from a group of 10 adults sitting in a semicircle behind the students. They are Los Angeles area teachers taking a summer course in the teaching of reading, writing and spelling at nearby Occidental College.

STUDENTS VOLUNTEER

The students at Oakwood volunteer to attend the summer session to act as guinea pigs in demonstrating the school's remarkably successful reading method.

"I believe we could teach a goat to read," laughed Oakwood's director, Miss Marie Spottswood.

Oakwood's 65 students, far from being goats, range from average students to those of near genius ability.

Oakwood does not use the so-called "sight" method of reading, under which a student learns to recognize the words through a mental image. With this system, Miss Spottswood says, the student never learns the principles of spelling or pronunciation.

Students at Oakwood learn the sound of letters so they can pronounce the word even if they don't understand its meaning. Intense spelling and dictionary training are combined with the phonetics.

The school was started in 1950 by a group of parents led by actor Robert Ryan and his wife, Jessica. Their three children—Timothy, 11, Cheyney, 9 and Lisa, 5—are Oakwood students.

* * *

The founders reasoned that a school specializing in small classes could give better training than overcrowded public schools. Oakwood limits its classes to 10.

While none of the families sending children to Oakwood is considered rich, many are comfortably "well off." The fathers are doctors, lawyers, architects, actors and studio executives.

The school has had some hard times since it first started in an abandoned synagogue. Funds come from tuitions ($675 a year per student) and money raising drives. It receives no state funds, and is nonsectarian and non-racial.

* * *

It is Miss Spottswood's belief that the gifted child can be identified at the first grade level "and here at Oakwood first graders receive attention and studies they need to keep their busy minds occupied. "A gifted child must be kept busy," she said. "A child who enters school and remains unrecognized as gifted can well become the delinquent of tomorrow."

Calls Women's Club Pillar of Culture

CINCINNATI (AP) — Women's clubs are the main pillar of contemporary culture, a Brandeis (Mass.) University psychologist said here recently.

Speaking at a dinner meeting of the university's local Women's Committee, Dr. Abraham H. Maslow said:

"If women's clubs were wiped out, our whole culture would collapse. They perform useful tasks in supporting music, art, education and other forms of culture."

The throat of the giant blue whale is only six to eight inches in diameter.

Heads Medical Group

PETOSKEY (AP) — Dr. Nicholas Lenti of Cheboygan has been elected president of the Northern Michigan Medical Society for 1958. Dr. Robert Martin of Charlevoix is president-elect.

The United States weather bureau measures snowfall in a standard rain gauge 8 inches in diameter and 2½ feet in height. The snow is levelled to a uniform depth to establish the fall.

Plan Hall of Fame for Noted Cowboys

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Ground was broken yesterday for the initial section of a five-million-dollar national Cowboy Hall of Fame, in which the colorful lore of the Old West will be preserved.

Representatives of 17 Western states mixed a little of their soil with that at the site of the shrine northwest of Oklahoma City.

* * *

Four governors—Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, Edward L. Mecham of New Mexico, Charles H. Russell of Nevada and Millward Simpson of Wyoming—took part.

About 2,000 persons braved near-freezing weather to hear C. A. Reynolds, Kansas City industrialist and chairman of the board for the shrine, say: "We are here today with a high resolution to see to it that the memory, deeds and rich traditions of all who will later be honored in this shrine shall not be forgotten."

* * *

Reynolds is credited with originating the idea.

Construction will begin this year.

Public Confidence Lost

Britain, 1958 — Crisis of Leadership

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON (NEA) — America is not the only western power with a crisis of leadership on its hands.

Britain, in a continuing struggle for survival, finds itself without effective leadership — that is, without leaders in whom the public has confidence. This is the first fact that strikes the foreign observer, in surveying the political and economic scene.

The old trusted leaders are gone, swept from the stage by death, illness or retirement. The new ones have yet to establish themselves, as far as the average Briton is concerned. Never has the gap between politicians and people seemed wider.

Asked to name the politicians they trust the most, 51 per cent of those recently polled by the London Daily Mail named Sir Winston Churchill, followed by Lord Atlee, 17 per cent; and Sir Anthony Eden, 9 per cent.

The two British Labor Party leaders, Aneurin Bevan and Hugh Gaitskell, came next, with 4 per cent and 3 per cent respectively; and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan trailed last, with only 2 per cent vote of confidence.

★ ★ ★

The three men who top the poll are all in retirement. Sir Winston Churchill, who recently celebrated his 83rd birthday, is happy writing his great History of the English-Speaking Peoples. Lord Attlee, the Labor Prime Minister from 1945 to 1951, has been kicked upstairs to the House of Lords. Sir Anthony Eden is slowly nursing himself back to health after a complete physical breakdown.

The passing of these men has left a political vacuum not unlike that created by Presiden Eisenhower's illness.

The lack of enthusiasm for Macmillan is confirmed by the latest Gallup poll, which indicates that only 39 per cent of the electorate is satisfied with his leadership, as opposed to 51 per cent who expressed themselves as satisfied in May, 1957.

This would make him the most unpopular premier since Neville Chamberlain, whose name is linked with appeasement.

Macmillan's anti-inflation program, the credit squeeze, wage restraint and the decontrol of rents —all of these are blamed at Conservative headquarters for the loss of public favor. As Michael Fraser, director of the Conservative research office, explained to me:

"From 1951 to 1956 the Conservatives rode the wave of popularity which followed full employment and the end of food rationing. But now we are forced to take measures that are good for Britain's soul — to strengthen the pound, among other things — and the reaction has set in."

To a foreign observer, an even simpler explanation suggests itself. Macmillan is suffering from bad public relations. More than he needs dollar reserves he needs a good press agent. He is the victim of a myth that has been cleverly propagated by assorted Socialists, Laborites and Communists.

According to the myth, Macmillan is an Edwardian dandy, who spends his time grouse-shooting with dukes (his father-in-law is one) when he is not drinking port with his cronies at the Carlton Club.

★ ★ ★

In politics, he is said to be a dilettante who regards the House of Commons as a sort of gentlemen's club and, worse, who mistakes the witty rejoinder and the flippant reply for the statesmanlike utterance.

So deeply has this myth taken root in the public mind that Macmillan, himself, was recently forced to reply to it.

"When you are Prime Minister everything becomes a bit larger than life," he complained.

A week's holiday with one's in-laws," he went on, "becomes a life addicted to shooting on ducal grouse moors . . . A modest cheerfulness becomes a reckless flippancy."

The British like their politicians to be intelligent without being intellectual, serious without being sober; and, above all, they like the sturdy bull-dog strain to show through.

How Britons Trust Their Politicians

Urban Renewal Today's Topic

Conference in Chicago Considers Federal Aid for Pontiac Project

A conference got under way in Chicago today about Pontiac's bid for federal aid for an urban renewal project.

Robert A. Stierer, city administrative assistant, and a representative of Geer Associates, the city's plan consultants, were conferring with regional officials of the Urban Renewal Administration.

"This is the first conference we've had with the federal agency since Pontiac applied for federal aid two months ago," said Stierer before leaving Pontiac.

"We plan to discuss Pontiac's application and the data we've furnished the government about the project."

★ ★ ★

Pontiac has asked for $1,705,346, including a $98,000 advance, for renewal of a 40-block area in the south-central section of the city.

The whole project would cost about $4 million, but the net expense is figured at about $2.5 million of which the federal government would pay about two-thirds.

The advance funds would be to pay for detailed planning by the Geer firm. The company representative with Stierer today was John Drieker.

Lesinski Introduces Bill to Hike Tax Exemption

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich) has introduced a bill to increase personal income tax exemption from $600 to $700.

He also proposes repeal of depreciation allowances granted companies, reducing income tax rate for small corporations and increasing it for large corporations, and reducing the oil and gas depletion allowance.

Replace Joint Chiefs?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) today introduced a bill to replace the Joint Chiefs of Staff with one chief.

Musician in School Sets Joint Jumping

RANDOLPH, Mass. (AP) — A high school musician really had the joint jumping — but it wasn't his music that did it.

It seems that members of the school band were gathering in the music room before going outside to drill for their weekly football game performance.

One of the musicians bent down to pick up some music. The bell of the French horn under his arm struck a fire alarm box on the wall, breaking the glass and summoning firemen — in musical lingo — "allegro vivace."

The watermelon may grow to many sizes, from as little as a few pounds to larger ones up to 80 pounds.

Food Consumers, Grocers Both Suffer

Cartnaping Costs U.S. Millions Yearly

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The grocery cartnaper is costing American food consumers and store owners millions of dollars annually.

A cartnaper?

He's the person or persons who make off with those four-wheeled carts used by the customer to haul groceries. He causes consumers to pay more for food, grocers say.

Southern California, which has some of the nation's largest grocery chains and supermarkets, is the hardest hit, an industry spokesman said.

Market owners in four counties last year had $1,671,750 worth of carts stolen. The carts disappear at the rate of 1,000 a week. More than 55,000 carts were taken in the area last year.

One chain of 36 grocery stores said it lost an average of $6,000 worth a month. The carts cost about $30 each.

"Most of the carts are pushed away by our customers," one store detective said. "However, we've caught gangs of thieves who make a living peddling the carts — with the store names scratched off—to unethical merchants, junkyards and others."

★ ★ ★

Chuck Titus, past president of the California Food and Drug Special Agents Assn., said cartnaping is a serious national problem.

"If we find some lady using a cart to carry her laundry to the clothesline, she tells us she found it parked in front of her house," he said. "Many times she's telling the truth."

Southern California grocers are backing a public relations campaign to tell their customers that cart thefts, in the long run, cost the consumer more money.

"I would cut prices tomorrow on dozens of items," one independent merchant said, "if I could be sure no more of my carts would be taken."

BENSON AND BROGAN — New tricks for an old shoe.

Old Dog Learns Tricks

CHICAGO (AP) —Trainer Orin Benson is proving you can teach an old dog new tricks.

His pride and joy is an outlaw, 200-pound St. Bernard he has taught to do small dog parlor stunts.

★ ★ ★

The dog's American Kennel Club registration papers call him Prince Valiant but the trainer has named him Brogan.

"You know," says Benson, "that's an old shoe that's been kicked around."

Brogan's early dog life in a small Minnesota town left much to be desired. He had a kindly, aged owner, but he was unmanageable. He was a bum and a fighter.

★ ★ ★

"It's hard to say how many dogs he's killed. He challenged anything to a fight. He even challenged me, but I won," Benson said.

Benson, who rehabilitated K-9 dogs after World War II, met Brogan through a hunting companion four years ago. He took him home for training.

Penalty Handed Down for Extortion; 2 Federal Indictments Pending

NEW YORK (INS)—Labor racketeer Johnny Dio, hit yesterday with a maximum 15-30 years penalty for extortion, was still in the meshes of the law today, with two federal indictments lodged against him.

★ ★ ★

New York General Sessions Judge John A. Mullen scored the impassive underworld figure, whose real name is Dioguardi, as a labor "pirate" in giving out the maximum for a second extortion conviction.

Dio will be eligible for parole in ten years. But still hanging over his head are true bills charging him with conspiracy to obstruct justice in the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Reisel and income tax evasion.

The 44-year-old labor thug, pallid from confinement in city prison under a current two-year term for labor bribery, listened apathetically as Judge Mullen reviewed his career.

Judge Mullen snorted, "I cannot find that you earned an honest dollar up until today."

The eight months Dio spent in city prison were ordered credited to him at State's Prison, where he was to be transferred immediately to begin the extortion stretch.

Presidential Illness Problem Viewed

WASHINGTON (AP) —Chairman Celler (D-NY) said today the House Judiciary Committee will offer a proposal for temporary succession by the vice president if a president becomes incapacitated.

★ ★ ★

Celler said the committee will discuss the issue next week and "should not require more than one or two meetings to agree."

Meanwhile, Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said, "I think we should act to clear up this cloudy area of our Constitution in this session of Congress."

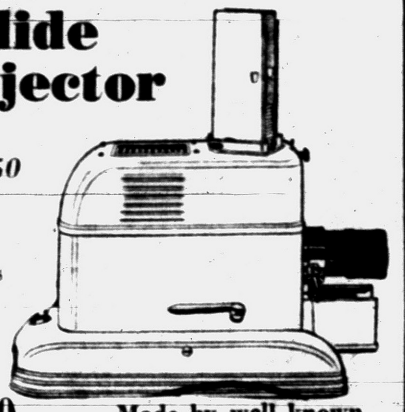

Kefauver, chairman of the Senate Constitutional Amendments subcommittee, announced that group will start hearings after this month on pending proposals to deal with presidential inability.

MODEL OF MSU BRANCH CLASSROOM BUILDING — This is what the first classroom building to be built on the campus of Michigan State University's Oakland County branch near Rochester will look like. It will be ready for use by the fall of 1959 when the first students are enrolled at the branch college, located on the estate Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson donated to MSU a year ago. The photograph of the Sawnson Associates, Inc., architect's model, reveals the modernistic design of the new buildings planned for the 1,400-acre Meadow Brook Farms estate.

Big Merchants' Group Opposes the Opening of Major Stores

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's largest association of retail merchants has come out against the opening of major stores on Sundays, a movement which has spread in several parts of the U. S.

★ ★ ★

The National Retail Merchants Assn. (NRMA), in a resolution adopted at its annual convention late yesterday, declared:

"We urge that all stores be closed on Sunday except those primarily engaged in selling articles absolutely necessary to the health and welfare of the community."

George W. Dowdy, new president of the NRMA, announced that the organization, representing 8,200 department, specialty and chain stores, also adopted resolutions to:

1. Oppose taxes on advertising.
2. Oppose "at this time" actual or standby wage, price inventory or consumer credit controls.

3. Urge that "economies in less essential government activities be implemented without delay, because of the necessity of increasing certain defense expenditures immediately."

Study Why Natives Seem to Go Berserk

PORT MORESBY — Why some New Guinea Highlands natives go berserk is a question currently being studied by experts in Port Moresby.

Ever since Europeans entered the great Wahgi Valley in the Highlands they have reported that small numbers of the natives in certain areas appear to go berserk at times.

They become systerical and some times attack their fellows furiously. Observing these phenomena at Minj, the officials noted that they usually occur in July or August and that there seemed to be some connection between their behavior and their apparent practice of eating fungi which grow at the base of some trees.

Samples of the fungi now are being studied by Dr. Dorothy Saw to find if they could cause temporary insanity.

Hannah to Outline Facilities of MSU Branch

Plans for Visit Spur Interest in Rochester

$12,000 Damage at Oak Park

Home Burns as Pair Prepare to Move In

OAK PARK—A $22,000 Oak Park home was gutted by fire yesterday morning a few hours before Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simon and their two children were to move into it. The full night and day shifts of 21 firemen battled the stubborn blaze from 7:30 until noon before it was extinguished.

Damage was estimated at $12,000 by Fire Marshal Edmud Nawok. He said the cause of the blaze is unknown at this time.

Lt. William Lennox of Oak Park's combined fire and police department was injured fighting the fire when he fell off a ladder. He was treated at Beaumont Hospital and released.

The family was notified of the fire as they were moving from their Detroit home. Their furniture already was on the moving van.

They arrived at the scene to find the one-story brick veneer house gushing flames and smoke.

"I'm just thankful we weren't in the house," Simon said. "Now we'll have to see if we can stay in our old home."

Callas Leaves Amid Near Riot

Opera Singer Departs for Milan After Stirring Roman Rage

ROME (INS) — Soprano Maria Callas departed from Rome today amid the kind of scene—a near riot — her every appearance has caused since she refused to continue singing a week ago at the opening of the Rome opera season.

★ ★ ★

Photographers and reporters tangled with policemen as the singer and her wealthy husband, Giovanni Battista Meneghini, boarded a train for Milan. The police used their clubs on photographers trying to get closeups of the heavily made-up Miss Callas.

She seemed tired from her Rome ordeal. She complained: "The opera house didn't even say goodby. I haven't heard anything from them regarding my letters."

The prima donna, claiming illness, quit last Thursday night halfway through Bellini's "Norma." Her action caused angry demonstrations during the next few days.

The opera management then decide not to allow her to sing this week. Miss Callas first threatened suit, then changed her mind.

★ ★ ★

Doctor Reports on Heart Attack

Fatty Foods Are Strain on Natural Mechanism for Blood Stream

NEW YORK (INS)—One "fatty" meal can touch off a heart attack in older persons who never even knew they had heart trouble or faulty blood pipelines.

This new theory is advanced by Dr. George J. Schoepfer, of the University of Minnesota hospitals, in the New England Journal of Medicine.

Schoepfer believes fatty foods strain a mechanism provided by nature to clear fat from the blood stream.

Such fat not only clogs the heart's arteries with fatty deposits, but also makes blood clots more likely to develop.

The doctor said a change in the fat intake of Americans "appears to be indicated if reduction in the frequency and severity of atherosclerosis (clogging of the arteries) in this population is to be realized."

In elaborating on the theory of deadly fat, Dr. Schoepfer noted that an important part of the blood's system for transporting fats to places where they are burned or stored are so-called mast cells.

They are found in connective tissue — bone, muscle, cartilage. These cells free the anti-clotting agent, heparin, stimulating production of an enzyme.

This enzyme, in turn, helps to carry fat though the blood.

Dr. Schoepfer stated that reduced numbers of mast cells have been found in the hearts of older people suffering from atherosclerosis.

The mast cells, according to the report, are not reduced in young people or in older persons who have no atherosclerosis.

Linking all these factors, Dr Schoepfer concludes:

"A person with undetected atherosclerosis eats a meal rich in fat. The fat, entering his bloodstream, increases the likelihood of the blood's clotting.

"The lack of mast cells reduces his clot-dissolving ability by reducing the heparin supply, and that same reduction in heparin slows up the process by which fats are cleared out of the bloodstream.

"All of these factors then tend to produce a clot which lodges in a heart or brain artery already narrowed by fatty deposits."

Junior Editors Quiz on THE PLANETS

QUESTION: Is there life on Mars?

ANSWER: Mars looks reddish to us through a small telescope. When we use a larger telescope we can see greenish or grayish markings against the red. We can see Mars remarkably well because it has a very clear atmosphere. There are only slight clouds—perhaps dust clouds or even water clouds—blowing over the planet from time to time. Mars is just half as big through its center as Earth.

Probably the first time people really got to thinking about life on Mars was when an Italian astronomer named Schiaparelli saw strange markings on the surface and called them canali. In Italian this means channels, but many people thought it meant canals. This gave the idea the canals had been built by man-like creature and many imaginative drawings have been made, like our drawing today.

Today, science just isn't sure whether life exists there. A lot of astronomers believe that there is plant life at least. Others say, if plant life exists, why not animal? One day, perhaps space ships will get close enough to find out.

March Opening Slated for Ludington Plant

LUDINGTON (AP)—Dow Chemical Co. has announced its $1,600,000 catalyst plant at Ludington is scheduled to open soon after March 1.

John W. Corey, research development laboratory chief who will direct the new plant, said an eight-man team will be moved from Dow headquarters at Midland to lead operations of the new plant which will employ about 60 persons.

★ ★ ★

The plant is located adjacent to present Dow facilities on the north shore of Pere Marquette lake. It will manufacture a catalyst for use in the production of synthetic rubber.

Electronic Matchmaker Leaves Love Out

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Something awful has happened to love: It's gone electronic.

"It's much more rational really, to let an electronic brain pick a good possible mate," explains Lee Morgan, B.A. and double M.A. (master of arts and matrimonial agent).

Miss Morgan fondly patted the $10,000 dark-gray machine she claims does better than Cupid and offered a demonstration of push-button matchmaking.

"Every client's vital statistics—age, height, weight, income—and so on, are coded on these small perforated cards. The cards are blue for boys and pink for girls.

★ ★ ★

"Now, say you're a girl looking for a man over 35, six feet tall and with $15,000 a year—here's how the machine finds the right men."

IN THE WORKS

Miss Morgan shoved a bunch of blue cards into one end of her three-foot machine, punched a series of buttons on top to tell the machine what age, height and income categories were wanted, and turned the switch.

Ruff-ruff-ruff, went the machine spitting cards into slots at a 766-a-minute rate.

Most of the cards went into the "R" for "reject" slot. About a dozen popped into the "A" for "accepted" slot — all representing men over 35, six feet tall and with $15,000 a year.

"You see?" beamed Miss Morgan. "The brain selects just the people who match the qualities you want."

"It works fine," added the pretty proprietor of New York's "scientific introduction service."

"The machine selects matching people, I introduce them, and then . . ."

★ ★ ★

BIG PROBLEM

"Then sometimes they hate each other."

Such small disasters didn't undermine Miss Morgan's faith in love by electronics, however. She maintains that few people find their right mate accidentally, though she blushingly admits electronics had nothing to do with her own marriage.

"My husband and I met in school," she said. "But I'm sure the brain would have matched us anyhow."

★ ★ ★

Electronically, emotionally and professionally, Miss Morgan and hubby Eric Riss seem pretty well matched. She tries to marry off people, and he's a marriage counselor, which makes possible occasional client-swapping.

★ ★ ★

"Some clients do need advice," Miss Morgan admitted. "The machine can pick out exactly the person you'd want, but some people have the oddest notions of what they want!"

Whatever the clients' desires, love is the one thing they're not promised. That four-letter word never crops up in Miss Morgan's customer interviews or in her brochures.

"This is a rational method of friendship formation," she noted. "We only guarantee to arrange five suitable introductions with the right people, as selected by the brain."

But the purpose of the introductions is non-electronic. Just plain boy-meets-girl.

Score so far: 1,600 clients, 11 marriages, 18 engagements, and "many friendships."

"There are a lot of people who don't want to go to dances, bars and resorts to meet friends," noted the brown-haired, brown-eyed Miss Morgan. "They want something more high class, and there's no doubt that finding a mate electronically is very up-to-date."

Up-to-date, yes. But can the electronic ruff-ruff-ruff ever replace the dropped hankie?

Europe Disease May Strike Humans

Horses Down in Dumps

NEW YORK (INS)—A virus that is making horses hoarse in Europe could be the precursor of the next type of influenza to attack humans.

★ ★ ★

This threat is reported today by Dr. James Steele, who returned recently from an investigation of a horse influenza outbreak in central Europe.

★ ★ ★

The disease is a new strain of the same virus family that swept the world in 1918-19. So far, the disease has been reported only in central Europe and has been confined to horses.

★ ★ ★

But, as Steele sees it, no one knows when the tough new bug might be transmitted to humans. If that happens, disease carriers such as insects might hitchhike on planes and ships to other countries, including the U. S.

Specimens of the new infectious bug are being investigated in several U. S. laboratories.

The disease can be fatal, but in most cases it makes the horses listless and miserable for 10 to 15 days.

Bob Considine Says:

Baseball Moves Bring Nostalgia--and Cash

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — It gives a New Yorker a bit of a pang, even in this wonderful city, to call Market 1-2471 and hear the girl on the switchboard cheerfully answer, "San Francisco Giants!"

★ ★ ★

If there is any consolation attendant to the loss of a city's treasured ball club it must come in the knowledge that it fell into good hands. If the Giants can't be in New York then San Francisco is the place for them.

★ ★ ★

Old Boston Braves fans still take a measure of pride in what the Milwaukee Braves have done. And I suppose it is the fans and, to a degree, that vanishing breed which once followed the Philadelphia Athletics—now that those two clubs are entrenched in Baltimore and Kansas City.

The great exception to this rule is Brooklyn. Its people, I feel, will never forgive Walter O'Malley for moving the club out of Ebbets Field. A National League pennant or a World Series triumph for the Pasadena Dodgers, or whatever they will be named, can only compound that rancor—though all the fellow did by moving was illuminate the fact that baseball is a business.

If he had run, let us say, an abattoir, and had failed to move it to a more profitable location, his stockholders would have had ample reason to beef. So why not baseball?

SEASON SEATS

The S. F. Giants have sold 6,500 season seats. They will have a million dollars in the bank by opening day, April 15, when they entertain—if that's the word—the Dodgers.

★ ★ ★

Stoneham expects to average between 16,000 and 17,000 at home games this season, and a season's attendance of perhaps a million and a quarter—about twice as many as the Giants drew in New York in '57.

Stoneham has signed Willie Mays for $70,000 for the season and seems all set.

To the south, the Dodgers, who seemed to have the better of the two coast deals, are still haggling and will not really know their fate until the civic referendum of next June.

★ ★ ★

Stoneham's Giants will travel by chartered United Air Lines planes this season. The Dodgers have their own plane—an $800,000 Convair. How can they afford to let it rust in a hanger between seasons? Trust old Walter. He leased it to Eastern Air Lines this winter.

Testimony in Senate Committee Attacks Plans, Budget

2 Generals Revolt Against Judgment of Chief Before Ike Reveals Program

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's like a revolt of the generals—peaceful but a revolt—against the judgment of their commander in chief, President Eisenhower. The very timing of it may have shocked or angered him.

The nation has waited weeks—since Russia showed it was ahead in missiles by launching the Sputniks—to see what Eisenhower intended to do about matching the Soviets or trying to get ahead of them.

★ ★ ★

Today—in his State of the Union message to Congress—was his first chance to lay out his plans formally and publicly. Before he could deliver the message, two top generals blasted his administration's planning.

The two cut loose yesterday. They were Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, the Army's chief of research and development, and Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff.

It's usual in Washington to see the heads of the three branches of the armed forces complain to Congress they need more money. But the Gavin-White complaints went beyond the usual.

In the first place, this is not the typical postwar year when this country had clear-cut military superiority. It's a critical year when the American future may depend on the plans made this year.

Second, both generals know Eisenhower has been under heavy criticism for the lag in American missile development and that he is expected to do the utmost in his plans to make up for lost time.

Third, they put his 1958 programs under suspicion before he had a chance to announce them. For instance, both attacked his budget—the money he wants to spend—although he won't reveal his budget to Congress until Monday.

So far as is known neither general volunteered his opinion. Both were called to testify before the Senate's Preparedness subcommittee which has been investigating American defenses since the Sputniks went up.

Gavin went so far beyond the usual military man's complaint about needing more money that he is retiring from the Army. One of the reasons he gives is that he could not defend the amount of money Eisenhower will ask for Army research.

★ ★ ★

The Army's position, Gavin told the senators, is deteriorating rapidly and "I can't do anything about it." He added that "I can do better outside the Army than in."

And he said that the Soviet Army is far superior now to the American. He said the Army needs missile, thousands of airplanes, and equipment.

★ ★ ★

White, like Gavin, testified behind closed doors. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas Democrat and chairman of the subcommittee, made public a summary of some of the two men's testimony. He told newsmen White said these things among others:

Eisenhower has not asked enough money—either in the upcoming budget or in special funds he has requested in addition to the budget—to step up the development of the intercontinental ballistic missile.

★ ★ ★

This country is still working on two ICBM's—the Atlas and the Titan—designed to cross an ocean and a continent in a 5,000-mile flight.

4th Wife Divorces Donald M. Nelson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Industrialist Donald M. Nelson, 69, World War II Production Board chief, has been divorced by his fourth wife, Mrs. Valerie Nelson, 41.

She will receive $125,000 cash immediately, inherit stocks worth $125,000 and get $1,000 a month alimony until her death or remarriage, under a property agreement approved by the judge who issued the decree yesterday.

★ ★ ★

She testified Nelson often left her at public gatheringsy and:

"He has gone o long trips without explanation. He would be gone days and nights without keeping in touch with me."

Burma Negotiates Loans From Reds

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Neutralist Burma has negotiated two low-interest loans from Russia for more than seven million dollars and a four-million-dollar loan from Red China.

Returning from a three-month economic mission to Communist China, Kyaw Nyein told newsmen yesterday the Russians had agreed to lend Burma the money, for two irrigation dams and a farm implement factory.

The irrigation loan is repayable in 12 years at 2½ per cent interest; the loan for the factory in five years. The length of the loan from Red China, which will go for a textile factory, has not been worked out.

Soo Library Benefits

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The will of Mrs. Estelle L. Bayliss, Sault Ste. Marie author who died Nov. 29, provides for an addition of up to $250,000 to the Carnegie Library in the Soo. Specific individual bequests consisted of some 3,350 shares of Dow Chemical Co. common stock, valued at about $188,000. The library fund is contingent upon a trust fund and will not be available during the lifetime of Mrs. Bayliss' husband, Joseph, or of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton M. Bayliss of Grosse Pointe.

Phone Hookup Carries Vows for 7,800 Miles

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—"I, William Scout Harrison, take thee, Helen, to be my wedded wife," said the voice on the telephone.

"I will," said Mrs. Helen Hudelson.

★ ★ ★

Linked by a 7,800-mile telephone hookup, the two were married last night. Harrison is in Taipeo, Formosa. The new Mrs. Harrison is in Olathe.

★ ★ ★

Harrison is an official with the United States Information Agency in Formosa.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harrison is register of deeds for Johnson County, Kan. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Theodore Sperduto of the First Presbyterian Church in Olathe.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harrison plans to join her husband soon in the Far East.

Expert Pinpoints Driving Flaws With 12-Point Safety Formula

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK (NEA) — Harold Smith says that unless I improve my driving habits I will have an accident within the next four years.

Smith should know. He is the discoverer of a 12-point formula for rating drivers—regardless of local traffic laws, type of vehicle, age of driver.

He has proved his formula as a consultant to hauling and trucking firms in the past 10 years. His three-month advisory stint usually results in cutting accident costs by about 50 per cent in the firms who have hired him.

Today, on the payroll of the Ford Motor Co., Smith is carrying his formula to the safety directors of companies that use fleets of trucks. A group of these directors will take turns at the wheel of Smith's station wagon as it goes forth into New York's wild traffic each morning. The remaining men will grade the driver on each of the 12 points.

★ ★ ★

It is disconcerting to sit behind the wheel while pencils behind you scratch on the tally sheets and Smith keeps saying:

'TAKE IT EASY'

"Relax and drive naturally. Your habits are bound to come out. You can't cover them up."

Nothing revolutionary in these areas. Nothing surprising—if you stop to think about it. But how many drivers are aware of safe paths, potential hazards, room for stopping and swerving, possible blind spots, other drivers and pedestrians?

★ ★ ★

Not I, if you look as my score. And nat most of the other people who have driven with Smith.

"I don't grade each man," Smith said. "It would be putting people on the spot before they have a chance to learn. But in the week we spend together, most of the safety directors pick up about 20 points in their ratings.

With the course learned, these safety directors will take their criteria back to their companies and grade their truck drivers.

"The idea," Smith says, "is to make the driver aware of what he is doing every minute and why. Then the automatic things he has been doing become conscious. Once aware, the driver has far more control than he ever had. And more defenses."

While there are ways to measure automotive behavior and driver depth of perception and reflex speed, Smith's formula is the first to measure seeing habits and response to accident producing situations.

He got the idea during World War II when he was a sailor in the South Pacific. Here, on island after island, he found young men who had come through hazardous action only to be injured, crippled or killed in military vehicle accidents.

Back from the war, he began a study of driving. He found that the human eye takes 30 to 40 pictures per second, but that most drivers use only about 10 per cent of their vision—and most of that directly in front of them.

Slowly as a professional driving teacher, he began to evolve his formula. It has been revised and supplemented constantly through the years. And he expects to keep revising it.

He checked the rear-view mirror, the side mirror, a bus at a stop, a truck pulling out two blocks away.

He was getting the big picture, aiming high, keeping his eyes moving, leaving himself a way out, making sure others saw him. Now he was stopped at a red light.

"Have you ever had an accident?" somebody asked.

Scientist Smith coughed lightly. "No," he said. "But I'm a little superstitious about talking about that."

Ziem to Push Trial for Goff

Flint Divorcee's Slayer Released After 2 Years in Mental Institution

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem will oppose a motion that a first degree murder charge be dropped against 35-year-old Ray Goff, who was judged insane following the 1955 shooting of a Flint divorcee.

★ ★ ★

"It's too serious a charge to release after two years," said Ziem explaining the stand his Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor will take at a Jan. 13 hearing.

★ ★ ★

Goff, formerly a Flint factory worker, was released recently from Ionia State Hospital where he was ordered sent Dec. 16, 1955 by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick. Four psychiatrists ruled he was insane.

While Goff is being held in the county jail, his attorneys, Edward A. Potere and L. R. Bebout, made a motion to dismiss the charge against their client.

★ ★ ★

Goff was sent to Ionia after the Aug. 21 rifle shooting of Mrs. Rita M. Cummings, 27, near Holly. After he allegedly shot Mrs. Cummings, Goff attempted to take his own life.

Kalamazoo Man Killed

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP) — Peter E. Hubels, 71, of Kalamazoo, was killed last night when his car was struck by a train in suburban Pinellas Park. Hubels was vacationing here.

Crews Fight Against Near-Freezing Weather

Atlas Test Launching Set Tomorrow

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP) — Weather permitting, the Air Force probably will attempt a test launching of its 5,000-mile-range Atlas ballistic missile tomorrow.

Forecasts were for warmer temperatures — welcome news to launching crews struggling against near-freezing weather—and for diminishing winds.

Gales whistling across the cape's sand flats at up to 30 m.p.h. forced cancellation of a launching attempt yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force conducted its first wholly successful launching of an Atlas Dec. 17.

★ ★ ★

The weapon climbed about 80 miles, then streaked 600 miles across the missile test range in the Atlantic and hit what the Defense Department called a preselected target area.

★ ★ ★

The Atlas is designed to deliver a nuclear warhead from one continent to another at more than 10,000 miles an hour. First tests probably will be programed for considerably less than intercontinental range, however.

School Aid Payments Delayed About 10 Days

LANSING (UP) — A delay in the distribution of January's $28,500,000 in state school aid payments was announced today by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

Bartlett said the aid payments may be delayed about 10 days and checks probably won't go into the mail until the latter part of January. He blamed unexpectedly light state sales tax collections.

Airman to Try Out Space Dog's Life

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—In a few weeks, A. 1.C. Donald G. Farrell will be living a dog's life—in a test chamber simulating conditions space travelers would experience on a round-trip flight to the moon.

★ ★ ★

The experiment by the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base will duplicate some conditions met by the Russian dog Laika aboard Sputnik II.

★ ★ ★

Air Force spokesmen said Farrell would stay in the space flight chamber for a week sometime next month. Like Laika, he will be wired so scientists can record his reactions. Farrell, a 28-year old accounting clerk from the Bronx, N.Y., will sit in a canvas-like chair in a chamber the size of a home furnace.

The longest previous test was 24 hours.

The Los Angeles home of Donna Atwood, famous ice skating star, has nine bathrooms and eight bedrooms.

Indians Threaten to Take Back Town's City Hall

BRANTFORD, Ont. (UP)—The Six Nations Indians are threatening to take back City Hall.

Aroused by reports that the Brantford City Council intends to put the hall and surrounding Market Square on the block, the hereditary chiefs of the nearby Six Nations reservation yesterday told their lawyer to begin a study of land titles and the treaty under which they granted the square to Brantford in 1851.

★ ★ ★

The chiefs say their ancestors gave the land on the understanding that it would be used only as a market square. If it stops being used for that, they contend, it must revert to them.

One source said, however, that though the Indians have always believed a written treaty granting the land exists, it has never been found.

★ ★ ★

City officials claim no bar to the sale exists as long as the city's taxpayers vote for it.

A new city hall is planned.

Tax Aides to Open Office

The Internal Revenue Service will open a special office Monday to help taxpayers with their income tax forms.

The office will be at 167 W. Huron St. Its hours will be from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays and Fridays until April 15, the deadline for income tax returns.

Telephone queries, however, will still be taken at the service's regular Pontiac office in the Huron Building, 53½ W. Huron St. The phone number is FE 2-0208.

"Additional quarters have been rented for tax assistance service because there's just not enough space in our year-'round office to handle all the people who come to us for help," a government spokesman said.

The spokesman said that the Bureau of Internal revenue has begun its annual job of mailing out income tax forms to taxpayers.

He urged that persons planning to seek help visit the tax assistance office as soon as possible, to avoid last-minute crowds. The assistance is free.

Sen. McClellan Steps Into Quiz

Takes Over Direction of UAW-Kohler Probe to End Political Row

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) today took over active direction of his Senate Rackets Committee's field investigation of the United Auto Workers and the Kohler Co. of Wisconsin.

The committee postponed until next month its public hearings into violence and other aspects of a continuing UAW strike against the Kohler firm, which makes plumbing fixtures.

Arrangements for McClellan to direct the staff inquiries were worked out at a stormy closed door committee meeting yesterday in the wake of a simmering, undercover row between some of the group's Democratic and Republican members.

McClellan said the committee would make a fair and full-scale inquiry into allegations that both the union and the company have dealt in violence in the four-year old strike. He said it also would cover boycott practices employed by the union, and any improper political activities by either side.

His action came on the heels of protests by UAW President Walter Reuther and Sen. McNamara (D-Mich), a committee member, against the field investigation as handled by John McGovern, counsel to the committee's Republican members and head of the committee's Detroit field office.

★ ★ ★

Reuther had accused McGovern of making improper, irresponsible and prejudicial statements against the union. McNamara had demanded that the committee fire McGovern, but said he did not press that demand at the closed door meeting and no such action was taken.

In Detroit, Reuther said the union will welcome a hearing before the committee and its representatives "will answer all questions completely without taking refuge in the Fifth Amendment."

Reuther contended, however, that the committee staff has "concentrated primarily on investigating the union," and expressed the hope that "a comparable effort will be made to investigate the company" before public hearings are held.

McClellan said the UAW-Kohler public hearings would be replaced this month by an investigation of alleged corruption in the Operating Engineers Union. He declined to give any details.

Walt Disney's True Life Adventures

Eye Scribbled Note on Log From Soviet

ROME (AP)—An Italian government expert was on his way today to Comeglians, in the Alps, to examine a log from Russia carrying a penciled note in Italian.

The note read: "For 15 years I have been in Siberia. I am an Alpine soldier from the Carnia region."

★ ★ ★

It was scrawled in blue pencil on a polished portion of a fir tree trunk included in a Russian shipment of timber to a sawmill at Comeglians.

Italians long have claimed that Russia still holds some Italian prisoners of war. The Soviet Union says it is holding only those who committed crimes while under detention.

Sawmill workers said the signature on the log message appeared to be Giuseppe Pustetto but that sap had obscured the last name.

Officials in Rome said Rino Puschiasis was the only missing Carnia soldier with a similar name. Members of Puschiasis' family in Carnia said they would go to Comeglians to see if the writing is familiar.

2nd Try Not as 'Tough'

DENVER (AP)—"Too tough" were the words found scratched on the safe at a pump and supply company office. But at a similar establishment next door, burglars—perhaps the same ones who admitted defeat at the safe's door—broke through a rear window and stole $28 from a filing cabinet.

Herter Jr. to Run for Governorship

BOSTON (AP)—Christian A. Herter Jr., son of the undersecretary of state, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor of Massachusetts.

★ ★ ★

His father served as Republican governor of Massachusetts for two terms from 1953 through 1956. Gov. Foster Furcolo, a Democat is serving his first term.

★ ★ ★

Herter said last night he will try to win his party's endorsement at the GOP state convention next June. He is 39 and a member of the Massachusetts Executive Council.

Would Funnel Road Proposals

Area Highway Group Asks Counties Screen Requests to State

The Inter-County Highway Commission has recommended that questions or proposals on highways should be funneled through county road commissions prior to submission to the State Highway Dept.

At a meeting Tuesday in Berkley, the commission passed a resolution recommending that supervisors from Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair and Washtenaw Counties establish such a "chain of command" practice in their areas.

"It will help the highway department," said John C. McKie, executive secretary of the commission, "besides giving the individual citizen or group with the question or proposal the support of the county board of supervisors."

Oakland County supervisors at their Dec. 23 meeting approved a similar measure instituting such a practice.

"State Highway Commissioner Mackie was besieged by so many groups and citizens that he couldn't handle them all," explained Sol Lomerson, chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission.

"But this is in no way closing the door in Lansing to questions," he added.

Gibberellin Found in '26

TAIPEI, Formosa — Gibberellin, a modern-day antibiotic that has been found to stimulate the growth of plants to a startling degree, was discovered in 1926 when a Formosan, H. Kurosawa, saw that a fungus called Gibberella Fukyikurio infected rice, causing "bakanae" disease, which made the rice grow abnormally high, then die.

Guide for Puzzled U.S. Missile Watchers

By DAVID L. BOWEN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army Chief of Staff, commented a few days ago that within 10 years, Americans will think no more of missiles flying overhead than they do now of airplanes.

At the rate rocketeers are flinging the big birds into the sky from nesting pads on the sands of Cape Canaveral, Fla., the general's estimate is beginning to look conservative.

For those who find themselves muddled by the missiles suddenly sprouting headlines, here is a brief scorecard covering some of the most important missiles already in the American military arsenal or in advanced states of development.

SNARK

The first U.S. intercontinental missile to reach production, the Air Force's Snark has a range of 5,000 miles plus, and will be assigned to the Strategic Air Command during 1958.

★ ★ ★

In effect, it is a very fast, high flying, unmanned bomber. It must stay within the earth's atmosphere because of its air-breathing jet power plant, which makes interception possible.

FALCON

In production since 1955, the Falcon is an air-to-air missile guided to its target in one model by radar, in another by a heat-seeking device. It's in use by the Air Defense Command.

SIDEWINDER

As deadly as the desert rattlesnake it's named after, the Navy's air-to-air Sidewinder is literally guided up the tailpipe of its target by an infrared or heat-seeking device. It's inexpensive, reliable and in use.

REDSTONE

The first successful large ballistic missile, the Redstone is an Army bombardment weapon with a range of 200 miles. It is operational and was an important step toward longer range ballistic weapons.

RASCAL

The cigar-shaped rocket Rascal is designed for use by B47 Stratojet bombers seeking to avoid local anti-aircraft defenses. Carried to within striking distance by the mother plane, the Rascal speeds into the target on its own. It has been delivered to the Strategic Air Command.

DART

Easily the most peculiar looking missile now made, the Army's stubby Dart is only four feet long. It's for frontline use against tanks, and can deliver a powerful warhead with pinpoint accuracy.

THOR

One of the nation's two intermediate range (1,500 miles) ballistic missiles, the Thor has performed successfully in about half its tests. Developed by the Air Force, it will be used overseas within range of Russian targets when it becomes operational.

ATLAS

The Atlas is the "ultimate" weapon, a ballistic missile capable of spanning the oceans from one continent to another at speeds and heights making interception impossible with known equipment. The Russians reportedly have a missile of this class.

Secretary of the Air Force Douglas has predicted the Atlas will be ready for combat use within two years.

NIKE

One of the earliest of the guided missiles, Nike battalions are common near many large American cities. The missile is anti-aircraft and has undergone several model changes.

JUPITER

The Army's candidate in the intermediate range ballistic field, the Jupiter is the big brother to the Redstone. It has been ordered into production with the Air Force's Thor, even though — like the Thor — its development program is not yet complete.

TALOS

A versatile Navy weapon, the Talos can be used against enemy aircraft or for surface bombardment. It is in use by the Navy and may be employed in Continental Air Defense by the Army.

BOMARC

An anti-aircraft guided missile of extensive range, the Bomarc has successfully scored a "kill" on a target 100 miles from its launcher. It takes off vertically with rockets, then levels off and cruises to the target on twin ramjet engines.

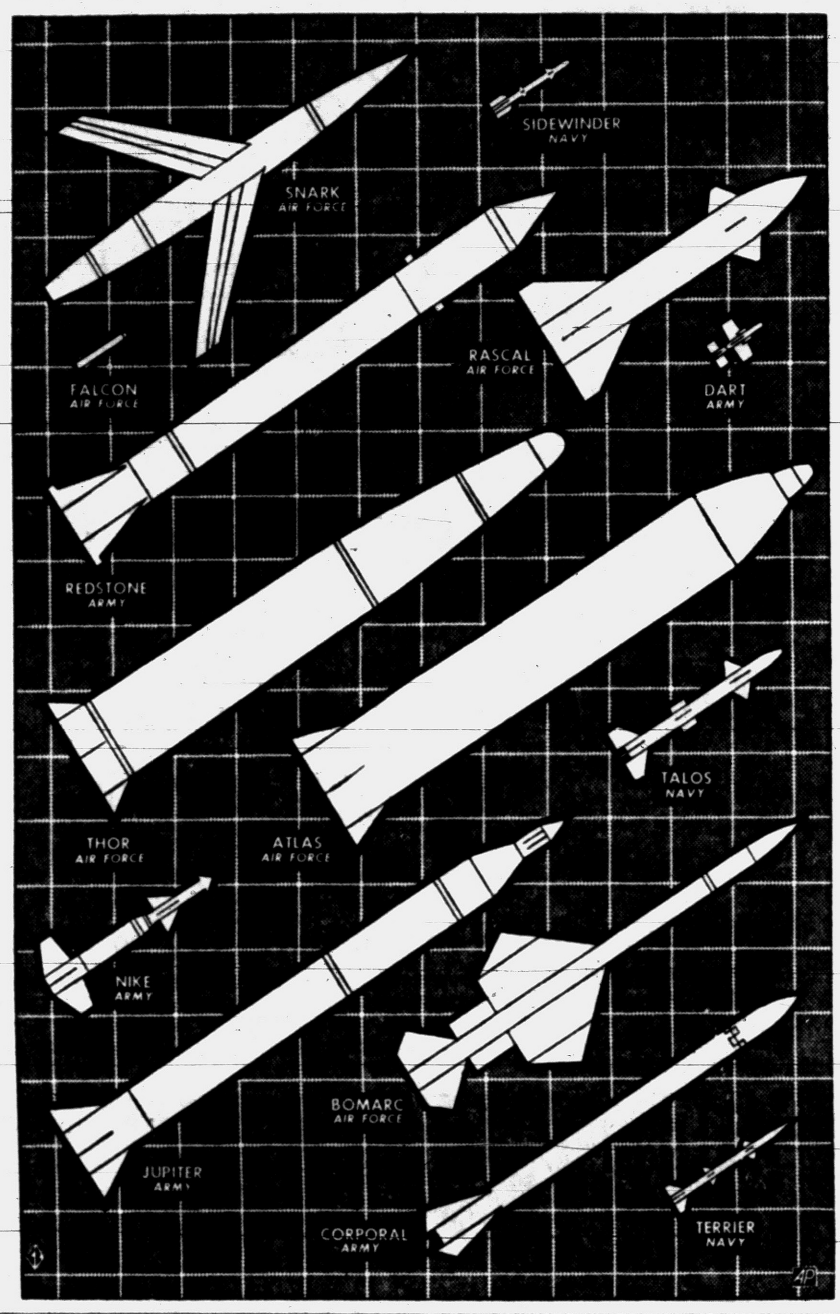

CORPORAL

Already deployed in Europe, the Corporal gives Army field commanders ability to strike at tactical targets 75 miles behind enemy lines. It can be armed with either atomic or conventional warheads.

TERRIER

A Navy anti-aircraft weapon, the Terrier is now operational aboard three warships and will be employed on 13 more vessels under construction or being converted.

Range is about 10 miles. Loaded, trained and fired automatically, it is guided to its target by radar.

Claims Inflation Due to Increased Wages

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—A Ford Motor Co. economist declared in Philadelphia yesterday that wages outstripping productivity has been the cause of a new type of inflation that has occurred in recent years.

George P. Hitchings, manager of Ford's economic analysis department, told the 11th annual forecasting conference of the Chamber of Commerce, that the new inflation comes from the cost side rather than from excess demand.

"There has been no shortage in supplies of consumer goods and services," Hitchings said. "Cost inflation has resulted primarily from expansion of employes compensation at a more rapid rate than production."

The Ford economist said wage and fringe benefit packages of five to seven per cent a year have been granted while the average increase in output per man-hour was less than one per cent a year during 1956-57.

Select Top Students for Special Lab Jobs

FREMONT (AP)—High school principal Arthur Bultman has announced a cooperative program between Fremont public schools and Gerber Products Co. for enrichment of science and mathematics studies.

Part of a six-point plan, it will select the high school's top science and mathematics students for work on special assignments during school hours. The students will use Gerber laboratory equipment and make written reports to be evaluated by teachers in science, mathematics and English departments.

Midland Man Works Out Process

Eat Garlic – Keep Friends

MIDLAND (AP) — A Midland man says he has worked out a way you can eat garlic and still keep your friends.

★ ★ ★

Walter A. Klein, an executive with the Dow Chemical Co., used about 100 pounds of the strong-smelling herb and some 50 experiments before he developed the process.

His friends say the feat is at least a step ahead of smear-proof lipstick.

Klein became interested in garlic after a doctor had prescribed two garlic tablets daily for a relative living in the Klein home. Garlic is used sometimes for heart and respiratory ailments.

★ ★ ★

"That really smelled up the place," Kelin said, "and it got me thinking."

He began experimenting in the kitchen, later was forced to move to the basement. And he found he had to handle the garlic with rubber gloves.

"Why," he said, "if you got a trace of garlic into a cut or scratch, it would stay with you for three days."

NOT CHEMICAL PROCESS

His garlic process, Klein says, is not chemical. He doesn't go into details but does say he uses only fresh garlic—no concentrates or powders.

Klein said he treated his experiments as strictly a hobby until an insurance salesman got enthusiastic and tried to buy distribution rights for Florida.

Klein has organized a corporation called "Klein's Supreme Foods, Inc.," and is trying his products on a sample basis in the Detroit, Grand Rapids and Chicago markets.

★ ★ ★

He has worked out a bleu cheese salad dressing using garlic, a garlic toast spread and hopes to concoct a garlic-flavored French dressing.

So far he has avoided distribution in Midland because his figures strangers will be more outspoken about his product.

★ ★ ★

If public acceptance of the products develops, Klein says he'll move the corporation out of his basement and into quarters of its own.

Wiggling Taunts Fish

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A. P. Richards, who operates a worm ranch as a sideline, has this advice for fishermen after several underwater trips observing both worm and fish: "Hook the worm in the middle, and let it wiggle around. It's the wiggle that taunts the fish to bite."

Lost Pelican Finds Way Back to Denver Zoo

DENVER (AP) — Commodore, the City Park Zoo's lost pelican, flap-winged back home late this fall after being gone almost a year. And he came back alone.

Supt. Clyde Hill thought Commodore might bring a mate back with him. His spouse, Blondy, was killed by an automobile in 1956 and Commodore disappeared soon afterward.

Many Firms Using Airways for Shipping Cargo

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Several years ago Keith Merrill, a retired State Department official, decided to pull stakes and move lock, stock and furniture to the Virgin Islands.

A canny world roamer, Keith clicked his abacus on the various costs of moving and chartered a Pan American plane to lift his possessions in one fell swoop to the islands.

GONE DAFT

Friends thought he'd gone daft. But today the Merrill airlift has become the pattern for moving key government employes around the world. Thousands of private citizens making cross-country or intercontinental moves have also discovered that in many cases it's cheaper to fly your possessions than send them by conventional means.

Seaboard & Western Airlines, which hauls cargo to and from Europe, showed the State Department that the cost of hauling 40,000 pounds of furniture from New York to Frankfurt, Germany, by air would be $2,169. Comparable cost by boat would be $2,899, which includes expenses resulting from the long time boat deliveries take.

But far more important to the air cargo business than family furniture moving is the fact that U.S. industry is applying Merrill's airborne arithmetic to its freight problems with startling results.

Machine tool makers have become the biggest users of air for moving cargo. Customers are usually in a hurry for the machines. Less crating is required when the machines go by air, and the biggest savings is on reduced refurbishing after delivery.

Perishables such as fruits and flowers are big air cargo items. After that the list is endless and includes clothing, plastics, baby chicks, phonograph records, dental supplies, perfume, magazines, fertilizers, race horses, candy and film.

Two mail order houses, Sears and Florida Fashions, have begun to use air freight extensively, with good results.

This will add up to making 1957 the record year for freight in the sky. During 1956, over 700 million ton miles of air cargo were flown by U.S. airlines. That was a 20 per cent jump over the previous year. And the first six months of this year are running 20 per cent ahead of the 1956 record.

MANY SECRETS

The secret of flying freight goes beyond rate differences, obviously. It costs between 17.5 cents and 23 cents per ton mile to fly freight. The comparable cost by train is 1.48 cents and by truck 5.7 cents.

Discovery of the machine tool makers that air transportation is gentle with cargo applies to scores of products, especially electronic equipment. No need for elaborate crating is another saving. The big factor in moving furniture competitively is the savings on crating.

Studies show that air freight is handled an average of five times less than surface freight between the same points. This means less breakage and cheaper insurance. There is less pilferage of air freight because it does not sit around in warehouses for extended periods.

ALSO ECONOMICAL

A final major advantage of air freight is the smaller inventories which it allows to stores. This is a saving.

American Airlines, Flying Tiger Line, Slick Airways and United Airlines, in that order, are the biggest carriers of domestic cargo. Pan American and Seaboard & Western are the biggest U.S. lines in the foreign freight business.

The all-cargo lines fly C-46s, DC-4s, DC-6s and Super Constellations.

STRANGE CARGO — A sports car is unloaded in New York after being flown from Germany. Even race horses fly now.

The passenger lines also fly all-cargo planes, but more than 50 per cent of all air freight goes in the bellies of passenger planes.

★ ★ ★

Jet passenger transports which will be delivered starting in 1959 will bring a great boost to the air cargo business. The Douglas DC-8 and Boeing 707 will both carry more freight — plus a full load of passengers — than an all-cargo DC-4.

There is talk of jet airliners flying 2,000 mph by 1970, which will be a still greater incentive to use this speedy delivery service.

There are three basic ways to ship by air. The U.S. postal service offers air parcel post. Railway Express Agency has an air express service. And the air lines themselves offer straight air freight service.

★ ★ ★

The air lines have discovered that air freight is one of the best means of keeping up income and have begun to exploit this market even more energetically. It can only mean still further expansion of this fast means of cargo delivery.

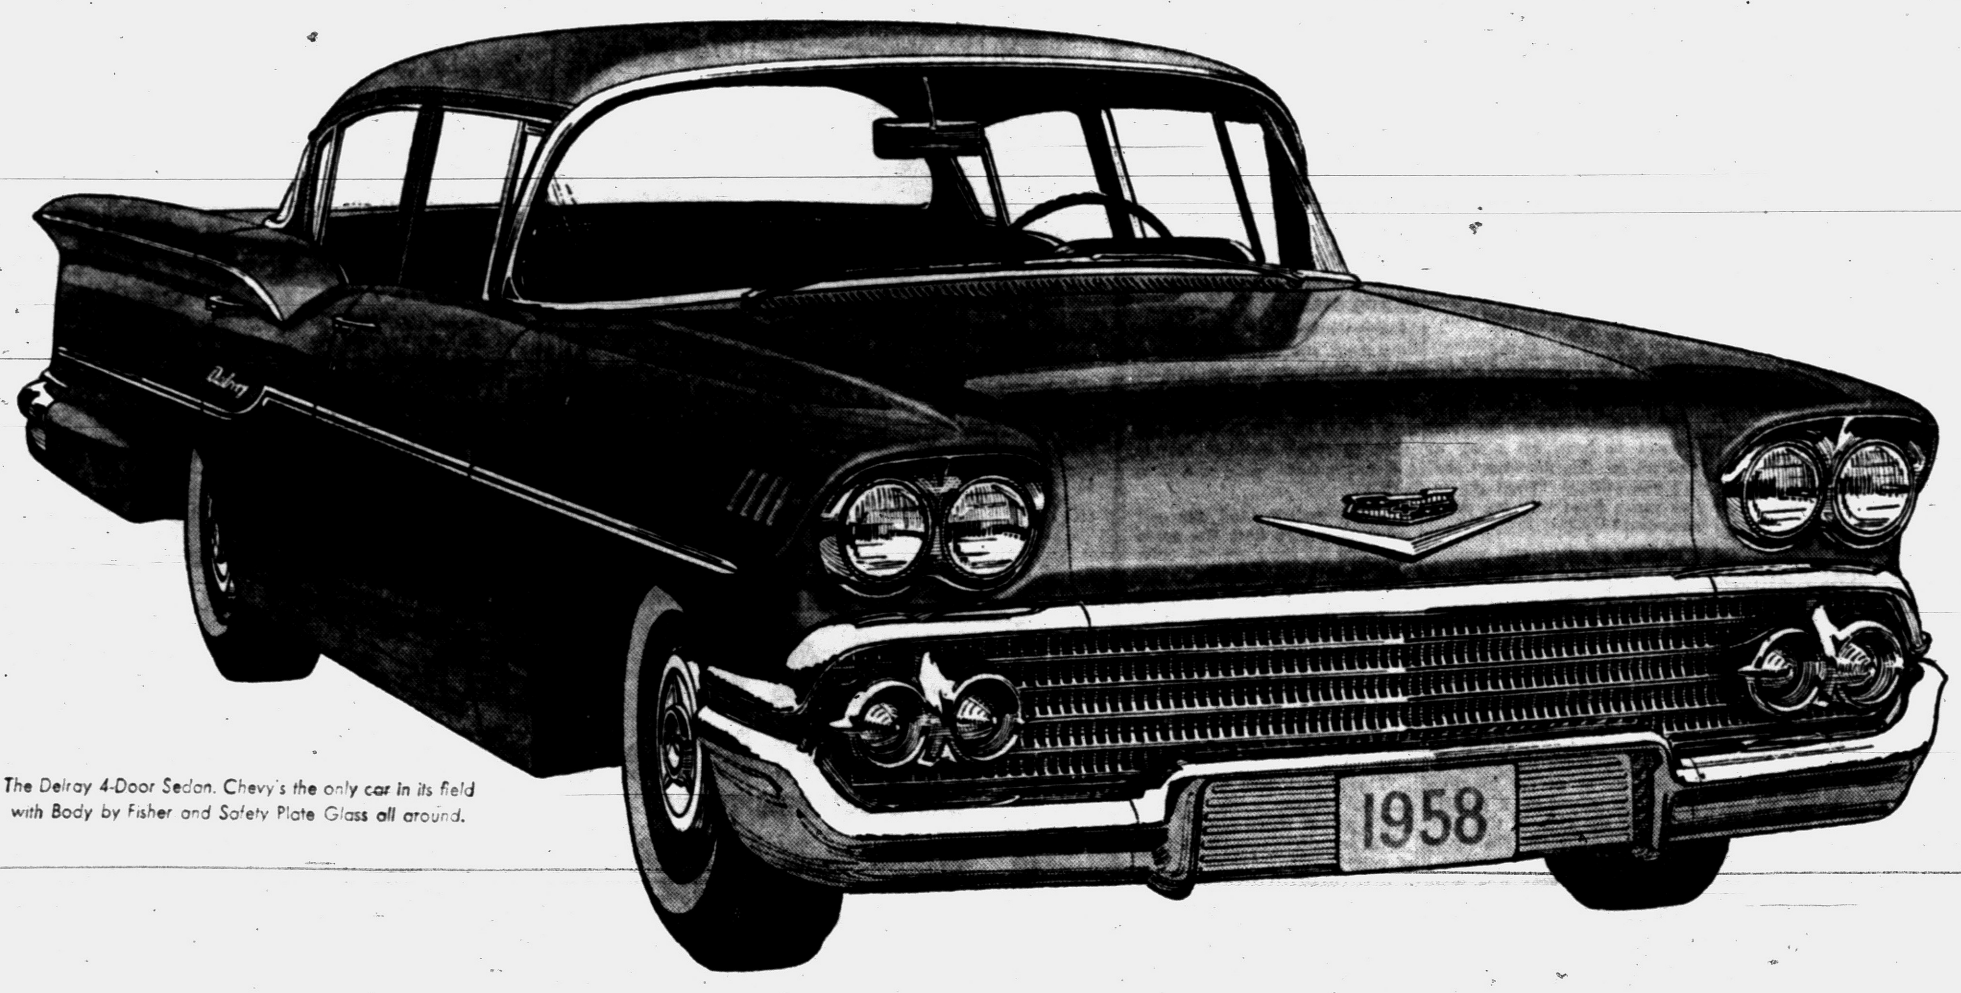

MOVING VAN WITH WINGS — Keith Merrill and wife watch their furniture being loaded aboard a plane for the Caribbean.

'Eyewitness to Death' . . . by Agatha Christie

THE STORY SO FAR: A blind in a train passing hers snaps up and respectable Mrs. McGillicuddy on a private trip to visit her friend Miss Marple, fluttery old lady with a shrewd brain and a gift for solving crimes, sees a man strangling a woman. When she tells the conductor he puts it down to her imagination. Only Miss Marple believes her and together they go to the police who advise next day that no body has been found. Miss Marple obtains a large scale map of the particular area and makes several trips over Mrs. McGillicuddy's route. Too old for physical effort, she writes to Lucy Eyelesbarrow, a brilliant young woman who has made for herself a unique profession—taking temporary charge of households and running them like magic. Miss Marple figures the murderer must have thrown the body out as the train passed the neglected park of Rutherford Hall, built by Mr. Crackenthorpe, a rich manufacturer. She wants Lucy to get herself employed at Rutherford Hall and search the place for a body. Miss Marple will be installed in the neighborhood posing as her aunt. Mr. Crackenthorpe's daughter Emma engages Lucy but the father impresses on her that they aren't rich and live simply.

CHAPTER 7

Mr. Crackenthorpe glared at Lucy.

"Your house is your castle," said Lucy.

"Laughing at me?"

* * *

"Of course not. I think it's very exciting to have a real country place all surrounded by town."

"Quite so. Can't see another house from here, can you? Fields with cows in them — right in the middle of Brackhampton. You hear the traffic a bit when the wind's that way — but otherwise it's still country."

He added, without pause or change of tone, to his daughter:

"Ring up that damnfool of a doctor. Tell him that last medicine's no good at all."

Lucy and Emma retired. He shouted after them:

"And don't let that damned woman who sniffs, dust in here. She's disarranged all my books."

Lucy asked:

"Has Mr. Crackenthorpe been an invalid long?"

Emma said, rather evasively: "Oh, for years now . . . This is the kitchen."

KITCHEN ENORMOUS

The kitchen was enormous. A vast kitchen range stood cold and neglected. An Aga stood demurely beside it.

Lucy asked times of meals and inspected the larder. Then she said cheerfully to Emma Crackenthorpe:

"I know everything now. Don't bother. Leave it all to me."

Emma Crackenthorpe heaved a sigh of relief as she went up to bed that night.

"The Kennedys were quite right," she said. "She's wonderful."

RISES EARLY

Lucy rose at six the next morning. She did the house, prepared vegetables, assembled, cooked and served breakfast. With Mrs. Kidder she made the beds and at eleven o'clock they sat down to strong tea and biscuits in the kitchen. Mollified by the fact that Lucy "had no airs about her" and also by the strength and sweetness of the tea, Mrs. Kidder relaxed into gossip. She was a small spare woman with a sharp eye and tight lips.

"I'm not going to die to oblige anybody!"

"Regular old skinflint he is. What she has to put up with! All the same, she's not what I call down-trodden. Can hold her own all right when she has to. When the gentlemen come down she sees to it there's something decent to eat."

"The gentlemen?"

"Yes. Big family it was. The eldest, Mr. Edmund, he was killed in the war. Then there's Mr. Cedric, he lives abroad somewhere. He's not married. Paints pictures in foreign parts. Mr. Harold's in the City, lives in London—married an earl's daughter. Then there's Mr. Alfred, he's got a nice way with him, but he's a bit of a black sheep, been in trouble once or twice — and there's Miss Edith's husband, Mr. Bryan, ever so nice he is — she died some years ago, but he's always stayed one of the family, and there's Master Alexander, Miss Edith's little boy. He's at school, comes here for part of the holidays always; Miss Emma's terribly set on him."

* * *

Lucy digested all this information, continuing to press tea on her informant. Finally, reluctantly, Mrs. Kidder rose to her feet.

"Seem to have got along a treat we do, this morning," she said wonderingly. "Want me to give you a hand with the potatoes, dear?"

"They're all done and ready."

"Well, you are a one for getting on with things! I might as well be getting along myself as there doesn't seem anything else to do."

SCRUBS TABLE

Mrs. Kidder departed and Lucy, with time on her hands, scrubbed the kitchen table which she had been longing to do, but which she had put off so as not to offend Mrs. Kidder whose job it properly was. Then she cleaned the silver till it shown radiantly. She cooked lunch, cleared it away, washed it up, and at two thirty was ready to start exploration. She had set out the tea things ready on a tray, with sandwiches and bread and butter covered over with a damp napkin to keep them moist.

* * *

She strolled first round the gardens which would be the normal thing to do. The kitchen garden was sketchily cultivated with a few vegetables. The hot houses were in ruins. The paths everywhere were overgrown with weeds. A herbaceous border near the house was the only thing that showed free of weeds and in good condition and Lucy suspected that that had been Emma's hand. The gardener was a very old man, somewhat deaf, who was only making a show of working. Lucy spoke to him pleasantly. He lived in a cottage adjacent to the big stable yard.

Leading out of the stable yard a back drive led through the park which was fenced on either side of it, and under a railway arch into a small back lane.

Every few minutes a train thundered along the main line over the railway arch. Lucy watched the trains as they slackened speed going round the sharp curve that encircled the Crackenthorpe property. She passed under the railway arch and out into the lane. It seemed a little used track. On the one side was the railway embankment, on the other was a high wall which enclosed some tall factory buildings. Lucy followed the lane until it came out into a street of small houses. She could hear a short distance away the busy hum of main road traffic. She glanced at her watch. A woman came out of a house nearby and Lucy stopped her.

"Excuse me, can you tell me if there is a public telephone near here?"

MAKES CALL

Lucy thanked her and walked along until she came to the post office which was a combination shop and post office. There was a telephone box at one side. Lucy went into it and made a call. She asked to speak to Miss Marple. A woman's voice spoke in a sharp bark.

"She's resting. And I'm not going to disturb her! She needs her rest — she's an old lady. Who shall I say called?"

"Miss Eyelesbarrow. There's no need to disturb her. Just tell her that I've arrived and everything is going on well and that I'll let her know when I've any news."

* * *

She replaced the receiver and made her way back to Rutherford Hall.

"I suppose it will be all right if I just practise a few iron shots in the park?" asked Lucy.

"Oh yes, certainly. Are you fond of golf?"

"I'm not much good, but I like to keep in practice. It's a more agreeable form of exercise than just going for a walk."

"Nowhere to walk outside this place," growled Mr. Crackenthorpe. "Nothing but pavements and miserable little bandboxes of houses. Like to get hold of my land and build more of them. But they won't until I'm dead. And I'm not going to die to oblige anybody. I can tell you that! Not to oblige anybody!"

Emma Crackenthorpe said mildly:

"Now, Father."

"I know what they think and what they're waiting for. All of 'em. Cedric, and that sly fox Harold with his smug face. As for Alfred I wonder he hasn't had a shot at bumping me off himself. Not sure he didn't, at Christmas time. That was a very odd turn I had. Puzzled old Quimper. He asked me a lot of discreet questions."

"Everyone gets these digestive upsets now and again, Father."

"All right, all right, say straight out that I ate too much! That's what you mean. And why did I eat too much? Because there was too much food on the table, far too much. Wasteful and extravagant. And that reminds me — you, young woman. Five potatoes you sent in for lunch — good sized ones too. Two potatoes are enough for anybody. So don't send in more than four in future. The extra one was wasted today."

* * *

"It wasn't wasted, Mr. Crackenthorpe. I've planned to use it in a Spanish omlette tonight."

Disease Fatalities Drop in Michigan

LANSING (AP)—Tuberculosis lost ground in Michigan last year, the State Health Department reports.

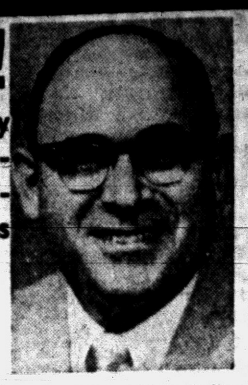

Preliminary figures for 1957 showed 4,849 new TB cases as compared with 5,515 in 1956. TB deaths last year totaled 420, a reduction of 46 from the 1956 figure.

In another report, the Department said venereal disease still ranks as the third most frequently reported communicable disease, ranking behind measles and chicken pox.

The number of new gonorrhea cases rose from 5,598 in 1956 to 8,457 last year, but the number of cases under treatment held at the 1956 level. New syphilis cases last year numbered 4,571, compared with 4,875 in 1956.

The United States, Britain and Canada are the world's three most active trading nations.

UNLOADING TORONTO COMMUTERS — A subway train pauses at a main downtown station on its four and a half mile route. City planners feel Toronto has set a pattern for the future.

SPEEDING THE TRAVELER — Transit Commission guides are posted at busy corners to sell tickets, advise commuters.

Toronto Points Way to Miracle

Main Traffic Authority Takes Over Population in Transit Problems

TORONTO (NEA) — With droves of transportation and city planning engineers flocking to Canada's second largest city to see for themselves how metropolitan traffic problems are being solved at the lowest cost on the continent, citizens here can't help wondering:

"If this is the best transportation in North America, what are the other big cities like?"

Of the 1,500,000 British and European immigrants who have come to Canada in the past 10 years, one third have settled in 240 square miles of Metropolitan Toronto — almost four times the size of Washington, D.C. The result has been:

1. A quadruple jump of automobile registrations making for fuming, crowded streets.

2. Absolute prohibition against parking downtown at any hour of any day or night.

3. And 250,000 public transit riders jammed into subways, streetcars and buses.

Nevertheless, city planners feel that Toronto has set a pattern in transportation for the future under the name of Municipality of Metropolitan Toronto.

The city and its suburbs each has its own governing body. But on matters affecting the entire area — traffic especially — the metropolitan government takes over for the area's 1,500,000 citizens.

★ ★ ★

It is this kind of central authority plan that visitors are taking back with them. In the U.S., for example, this kind of project might be put into effect in a Metropolitan New York municipal government, covering the boroughs and surrounding counties, suburban New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

For Americans, the ritual of commuting annually costs the nation $1.75 billion in transit fares and unproductive man-hours.

Specifically, the municipally-owned Toronto Transit Commission and the metropolitan planning board have:

1. Rezoned the area for cash fares and transfers without raising rates in contrast with other cities on the continent.

2. Planned a 20-year expressway and subway expansion program.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the Parking Authority has:

1. Built parking lots near the subway lines. Commuters get a special rate for all-day parking and use the subways to reduce traffic jams.

2. Built multi-story parking garages in the financial and shopping districts downtown.

3. Started on a three-tier underground garage for about 2,000 cars.

How does it all work out financially?

Toronto's rapid transit system the first in Canada — was built in 1954 at the cost of $50,000,000. Expansion plans call for an outlay of 10 times that amount within the next 20 years.

With the exception of a few early years, the transit authority has operated at a profit. Most of the deficit was incurred because private bus line franchises had to be bought up and new equipment and property were necessary to the plan.

Probing Governments of Garden City, Livonia

DETROIT (AP)—Prosecutor Samuel Olsen says he is conducting "a full scale investigation" into governments of suburban Garden City and Livonia.

He said he ordered the investigation after taking statements from residents of both communities. He did not go into details.

Find State Senator Still in Mexico City

LANSING (AP) — To the surprise of his colleagues, Sen. Donald E. Smith, who lists his address as Owosso but live in California, turned up in Mexico City for the start of the 1958 legislative session.

The Republican solon closed his law office in Owosso last summer and moved to the West Coast. He asked that his senatorial paychecks be mailed to a friend in Durand for forwarding, and this has been done.

Yesterday, Sen. Frank D. Beadle, Republican majority leader, received a telegram saying that Smith unavoidably was detained with his family in Mexico City, and asking that he be excused from Senate attendance until Jan. 17.

The reuest was granted.

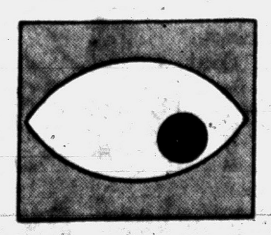

Sentenced for Using Employer's Phone

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Frances Bruce, 18, of Battle Creek, has been sentenced to 9 months to 10 years in prison after admitting she ran up a $101.40 bill for long-distance calls on her employer's telephone.

The sentence was handed down by Circuit Judge Raymond N. Fox after the girl pleaded guilty to obtaining services under false pretenses while employed as a maid in the Kalamazoo home of Mrs. Marian Brenner.

Miss Bruce admitted using Mrs. Brenner's phone to call friends "all over" last fall.

Usually 'Reliable Sources' Quote Rumor

AP Reports Error in Russian Rocketman Story

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Investigation now clearly indicates that The Associated Press erred Monday in using the phrase "reliable sources" in its report that the Soviet Union had launched a manned rocket into space.

★ ★ ★

The investigation shows that while the nonofficial sources quoted had proved reliable in the past, they were reporting rumors in this case. There has been no formal denial of the rumors from the Soviet government.

★ ★ ★

The facts thus far developed are these:

★ ★ ★

The Moscow staff says it heard the manned rocket reports from East European correspondents and at least one Western embassy but did not file the story for another 48 hours, while it continued checking.

★ ★ ★

Advised that other agencies were carrying the story abroad, Moscow then gave the story by telephone to London. It was in this process that misunderstanding arose. Two London staffers who took the call say they understood the Moscow staffer to say the story could be attributed to reliable sources.

Immediately after this, stringent Moscow censorship was imposed on the rocketman story.

★ ★ ★

Late Wednesday the Moscow bureau said that while the adjective "reliable" could apply to the sources from which the reports came, the rumor they were relaying was completely unconfirmed.

★ ★ ★

Until late Wednesday, Soviet censorship curtained off further news and inquiry and while the Soviet Union made no formal denial of the rocketman story, officials of the Committee for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries and a spokesman for the Soviet Academy of Sciences said they had no information about it. A Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman in Moscow said he could say nothing about the accounts.

The deputy director of the Soviet news agency Tass was quoted as saying in a Moscow broadcast heard in London Tuesday that it was "completely incomprehensible" to him how Western news agencies obtained the report.

College Association Split on Federal Education Aid

MIAMI (AP)—Today's closing session of the Assn. of American Colleges (AAC) was supposed to be a routine sweetness and light meeting for the adoption of reports and election of officers. Instead, it showed signs of developing into the academic version of a brawl.

The issue is federal aid to education and what to do about it.

★ ★ ★

The representatives of about 750 liberal arts colleges and universities, ranging from the small non-accredited schools to sprawling state universities, are in agreement that higher education needs a financial shot in the arm.

These same educators, however, are divided on where the money should come from and how it should be distributed.

Before they adjourn today, the educators hope to find some basis of agreement on proposals regarding federal aid programs.

★ ★ ★

Many of the delegates feel federal aid will lead to federal control. Others pooh-pooh that idea and say the nation's schools can't get along without it.

That difference in opinion showed up sharply yesterday when a special committee proposed that federal aid take the form of tax credits to individuals and corporations supporting higher education.

The tax credits would be a direct slash off the income tax bill, in an amount to be worked out by Congress.

Opponents immediately denounced the plan as unrealistic, short sighted and just poor policy in general. They threw a roadblock into the special committee's hopes of getting quick convention approval and demanded further time for study and debate.

Supporters of the tax credit plan said it was better than for Congress "merely to appropriate large sums of money to be distributed through political agencies."

They offered it as an alternative to President Eisenhower's proposed program of a billion dollars in federal money handed out over a four year period.

They view the tax credit plan as an incentive which would lead corporations and foundations to raise their annual educational donations from about 100 million dollars to one billion dollars a year.

Theodore Distiler, executive director of the AAC from Washington, told the convention that opposition to federal aid at this time could be disastrous folly which would "alienate public opinion by giving an impression of irresponsible indifference to the nation's needs in a time of crisis."

BOW— 4—SWIFT PLANS

Swift Plans to Halt Chicago Butchering

CHICAGO (AP) — Swift & Co. meat packers has decided to halt its Chicago operations for slaughtering and processing calves, lambs and sheep.

The company discontinued its pork operations in Chicago last April.

★ ★ ★

As a result, cattle will be the company's only remaining slaughtering operation in Chicago.

Walter F. Schuette, Chicago plant manager, said:

★ ★ ★

"This change has been necessitated by the drastic reduction in the supply of calves and lambs (including sheep) available for processing in our Chicago small stock facilities which were built to handle a much larger volume."

★ ★ ★

He said Swift will continue to purchase calves and lambs on the Chicago market for processing at Swift plants elsewhere.

About 100 employes will be affected by the shutdown effective Jan. 25, Schuette said.

The price was not disclosed.

The chapter curfently occupies four upper floors of the five-story Judd Building in downtown Grand Rapids.

Arnold J. Osgood, chapter chairman, yesterday said funds for the purchase consisted entirel6 of gifts from the foundation of more than $1,000,000 left by the Grand Rapids industrialist and his wife.

Independent Forrestal a Noisy, Floating City

By ELTON C. FAY

The captain and executive officer of the 60,000-ton USS Forrestal are administrators of the biggest, busiest and noisiest city afloat.

Almost 4,000 men live and work in this seagoing city.

★ ★ ★

Everything for living, entirely cut off from land, is at hand on the supercarrier . . . stores which sell everything from cashmere sweaters and jewelry to soap and cigarettes . . . laundries . . . a tailor shop . . . a library . . . a hobby shop . . . places for church services of all faiths . . . a dozen different movies every night.

MEET THE MAYOR

On this ship, the men responsible — the "mayor" and his principal aide — are Capt. Richard L. Kibbe, native of Sullivan, Ill., and his executive, Cmdr. George C. Duncan of Arlington, Va.

The captain almost never leaves the area of the bridge while the Forrestal is at sea. The "exec" divides his time between the bridge and the multitude of big and little problems of "Forrestal City."

All hands — the officers and the men — live at sea in a constant world of clamor, of noise and hurrying that would mean sleeplessness for any but those hardened to the life.

★ ★ ★

Except for the Forrestal's experienced crew and airmen, a night operation is a nightmare.

Elevators rumble up to the flight deck, carrying aircraft. The night is pitch black until the eye adjusts and can detect black shapes moving about against a blacker background.

Here and there the glowing red eye of an electric torch flashes briefly. Air crews come topside, swathed in immersion suits, helmeted, life jackets buckled on, carrying notebook knee pad boards. They climb up into cockpits.

★ ★ ★

From high aloft, the "bullhorn" bellows commands into the dark. Jet engines start. They whine first, then scream as the planes taxi to position over the steam-powered launching catapults.

NO MISTAKES

Flight deck men with the eyes and nimbleness of cats scurry in the black night, dodging jet blasts, crawling under fuselages hooking up the plane to the catapult.

Up near the top of the "island" structure, the men in the control room watch, give the signal.

The minute for launching is at hand. Down on the right hand side of the waiting jet an officer waves an electrically illuminated wand in a tight circle, telling the pilot to run up his engine to full power.

The jet's scream grows deafening. The aircraft, still held in leash, shakes even the stout steel flight deck. Hot, blue flame streaks from the tailpipe.

Suddenly, the officer crouches, points his wand to the end of the flight deck. The catapult snaps the multi-ton plane into flying speed in three hundred feet of run, hurling it out beyond the end of the deck.

Almost instantly, the aircraft flashes from sight into the night. And another follows hard on its heels. The mission is off.

Gamblers Seek to Lease Casino

Man Sought in Probe of Anastasia Murder Is Havana Bidder

NEW YORK (AP) — Hilton Hotels International says a number of gambling figures — including a man sought for questioning here in the Albert Anastasia murder case — have attempted to lease the gambling casino of the 24-million dollar Habana Hilton now under construction in Havana.

John W. Houser, executive vice president of the hotel group, said at a news conference yesterday: "We have made every effort to insure the casino would be leased to persons of integrity, high character and good standing."

Houser called the news conference as more reports came from Havana that American gamblers and racketeers have obtained control of a large segment of the multimillion-dollar legal gambling industry in the Cuban capital.

★ ★ ★

Houser said 13 groups have sought to lease the casino, scheduled to open in the spring, and all but one have been turned down because they either had underworld connections or had refused to subject themselves to "rigid investigation."

One of the applicants rejected Houser said, was Joseph Silesi, 61, of Manhattan.

DeHoCo Trespassers

DETROIT (AP) — Superintendent Albert Shapiro of the Detroit House of Correction thinks maybe some prisoners catch rabbit fever while there. Trespassers seeking rabbits have been giving him considerable trouble. Two recently caught were found to have been former inmates. Shapiro said "they apparently saw all the wild rabbits we have around" while they were in the prison.

President's Message on State of the Union

★ ★

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following is the prepared text of President Eisenhower's State of the Union Message to Congress today:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the 85th Congress:

It is again my high privilege to extend personal greetings to the members of the 85th Congress.

All of us realize that, as this new session begins, many Americans are troubled about recent world developments which they believe may threaten our nation's safety. Honest men differ in their appraisal of America's material and intellectual strength, and the dangers that confront us. But all know these dangers are real.

The purpose of this message is to outline the measures that can give the American people a confidence — just as real — in their own security.

I am not here to justify the past, to gloss over the problems of the present, or propose easy solutions for the future.

I am here to state what I believe to be right and what I believe to be wrong; and to propose action for correcting what I think wrong.

Must Ensure Safety Through Our Strength

There are two tasks confronting us that so far outweigh all others that I shall devote this year's message entirely to them.

The first is to ensure our safety through strength.

As to our strength, I have repeatedly voiced this conviction: We now have a broadly based and efficient defensive strength, including a great deterrent power, which is, for the present, our main guarantee against war; but unless we act wisely and promptly, we could lose that capacity to deter attack or defend ourselves.

My profoundest conviction is that the American people will say, as one man: No matter what the exertions or sacrifices, we shall maintain that necessary strength.

But we could make no more tragic mistake than merely to concentrate on military strength!

For if we did only this, the future would hold nothing for the world but an Age of Terror.

And so our second task is to do the constructive work of building a genuine peace. We must never become so preoccupied with our desire for military strength that we neglect those areas of economic development, trade, diplomacy, education, ideas and principles where the foundations of real peace must be laid.

Communistic Threat Is Increasingly Real

The threat to our safety, and to the hope of a peaceful world, can be simply stated. It is Communist imperialism.

This threat is not something imagined by critics of the Soviets. Soviet spokesmen, from the beginning, have publicly and frequently declared their aim to expand their power, one way or another, throughout the world.

The threat has become increasingly serious as this expansionist aim has been reinforced by an advancing industrial, military and scientific establishment.

But what makes the Soviet threat unique in history is its all-inclusiveness. Every human activity is pressed into service as a weapon of expansion. military power, arts, science, education, the whole world of ideas—all are harnessed to this same chariot of expansion.

The Soviets are, in short, waging total cold war.

The only answer to a regime that wages total cold war is to wage total peace.

This means bringing to bear every asset of our personal and national lives upon the task of building the conditions in which security and peace can grow.

Our Military Strength Must Look to Future

Among our assets, let us first briefly glance at our military power.

Military power serves the cause of security by making prohibitive the cost of any aggressive attack.

It serves the cause of peace by holding up a shield behind which the patient constructive work of peace can go on.

But it can serve neither cause if we make either of two mistakes. The one would be to overestimate our strength, and thus neglect crucially important action in the period just ahead. The other would be to underestimate our strength. Thereby we might be tempted to become irresolute in our foreign relations, to disheaten our friends, and to lose our national poise and perspective in approaching the complex problems ahead.

Any orderly balance-sheet of military strength must be in two parts. The first is the position as of today. The second is the position in the period ahead.

As of today: Our defensive shield comprehends a vast complex of ground, sea, and air units, superbly equipped and strategically deployed around the world. The most powerful deterrent to war in the world today lies in the retaliatory power of our Strategic Air Command and the aircraft of our Navy. They present to any potential attacker who would unleash war upon the world the prospect of virtual annihilation of his own country.

Even if we assume a surprise attack on our bases, with a marked reduction in our striking power, our bombers would immediately be on their way in sufficient strength to accomplish this mission of retaliation. Every informed government knows this. It is no secret.

Since the Korean armistice, the American people have spent $225 billion in maintaining and strengthening this over-all defensive shield.

This is the position as of today.

Now as to the period ahead: Every part of our military establishment must and will be equipped to do its defensive job with the most modern weapons and methods. But it is particularly important to our planning that we make a candid estimate of the effect of long-range ballistic missiles on the present deterrent power I have described.

Will Have Missiles but It'll Take Effort

At this moment, the consensus of opinion is that we are probably somewhat behind the Soviets in some areas of long-range ballistic missile development. But it is my conviction, based on close study of all relevant intelligence, that if we make the necessary effort, we will have the missiles, in the needed quantity and in time, to sustain and strengthen the deterrent power of our increasingly efficient bombers. One encouraging fact evidencing this ability is the rate of progress we have achieved since we began to concentrate on these missiles.

The intermediate ballistic missiles, Thor and Jupiter, have already been ordered into production. The parallel progress in the intercontinental ballistic missile effort will be advanced by our plans for acceleration. The development of the submarine-based Polaris missile system has progressed so well that its futuure procurement schedules are being moved forward markedly.

When it is remembered that our country has concentrated on the development of ballistic missiles for only about a third as long as the Soviets, these achievements show a rate of progress that speaks for itself. Only a brief time back, we were spending at the rate of only about one million dollars a year on long range ballistic missiles. In 1957 we spent more than one billion dollars on the Atlas, Titan, Thor, Jupiter, and Polaris programs alone.

But I repeat, gratifying though this rate of progress is, we must still do more!

Our real problem, then, is not our strength today; it is rather the vital necessity of action today to ensure our strength tomorrow.

Our Country Not Alone —We Do Have NATO

What I have just said applies to our strength as a single country. But we are not alone. I have returned from the recent NATO meeting with renewed conviction that, because we are a part of a world-wide community of free and peaceful nations, our own security is immeasurably increased.

By contrast, the Soviet Union has surrounded itself with captive and sullen nations. Like a crack in the crust of an uneasily sleeping volcano, the Hungarian uprising revealed the depth and intensity of the patriotic longing for liberty that still burns within these countries.

The world thinks of us as a country which is strong, but which will never start a war. The world also thinks of us as a land which has never enslaved anyone and which is animated by humane ideals. This friendship, based on common ideals, is one of our greatest sources of strength.

It cements into a cohesive security arrangement the aggregate of the spiritual, military and economic strength of all those nations which, with us, are allied by treaties and agreements.

Reds Going All Out on Economic War

Up to this point, I have talked solely about our military strength to deter a possible future war.

I now want to talk about the strength we need to win a different kind of war—one that has already been launched against us.

It is the massive economic offensive that has been mounted by the Communist imperialists against free nations.

The Conimunist imperialist regimes have for some time been largely frustrated in their attempts at expansion based directly on force. As a result, they have begun to concentrate heavily on economic penetration, particularly of newly-developing countries, as a preliminary to political domination.

This non-military drive, if underestimated, could defeat the free world regardless of our military strength. This danger is all the greater precisely because many of us fail or refuse to recognize it. Thus, some people may be tempted to finance our extra military effort by cutting economic assistance. But at the very time when the economic threat is assuming menacing proportions, to fail to strengthen our own effort would be nothing less than reckless folly.

Admittedly, most of us did not anticipate the psychological impact upon the world of the launching of the first earth satellite. Let us not make the same kind of mistake in another field, by failing to anticipate the much more serious impact of the Soviet economic offensive.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER

In a Free Economy Growth Is Irregular

As with our military potential, our economic assets are more than equal to the task. Our independent farmers produce an abundance of food and fibre. Our free workers are versatile, intelligent, and hard-working. Our businessmen are imaginative and resourceful. The productivity, the adaptability of the American economy is the solid foundation-stone of our security structure.

We have just concluded another prosperous year. Our output was once more the greatest in the nation's history. In the latter part of the year, some decline in employment and output occurred, following the exceptionally rapid expansion of recent years. In a free economy, reflecting as it does the independent judgments of millions of people, growth typically moves forward unevenly.

But the basic forces of growth remain unimpaired. There are solid grounds for confidence that economic growth will be resumed without an extended interruption. Moreover, the federal government, constantly alert to signs of weakening in any part of our economy, always stands ready, with its full power, to take any appropriate further action to promote renewed business expansion.

If our history teaches us anything, it is this lesson: So far as the economic potential of our nation is concerned, the believers in the future of America have always been the realists.

I count myself as one of this company.

Our loung-range problem, then, is not the stamina of our enormous engine of production. Our problem is to make sure that we use these vast economic forces confidently and creatively, not only in direct military defense efforts, but likewise in our foreign policy, through such activities as mutual economic aid and foreign trade.

In much the same way, we have tremendous potential resources on other non-military fronts to help in countering the Soviet threat: Education, science, research, and, not least, the ideas and principles by which we live. And in all these cases the task ahead is to bring these resources more sharply to bear upon the new tasks of security and peace in a swiftly changing world.

Lists Outline of Action for Security and Peace

There are many items in the administration's program, of a kind frequently included in a State of the Union message, with which I am not dealing today. They are important to us and to our prosperity. But I am reserving them for treatment in separate communications because of my purpose today of speaking only about matters bearing directly upon our security and peace.

I now place before you an outline of action designed to focus our resources upon the two tasks of security and peace.

In this special category I list eight items requiring action. They are not merely desirable. They are imperative.

DEFENSE REORGANIZATION

The first need is to assure ourselves that military organization facilitates rather than hinders the functioning of the military establishment in maintaining the security of the nation.

Since World War II, the purpose of achieving maximum organizational efficiency in a modern defense establishment has several times occasioned action by the Congress and by the Executive.

The advent of revolutionary new devices, bringing with them the problem of over-all continental defense, creates new difficulties, reminiscent of those attending the advent of the airplane half a century ago.

Some of the important new weapons which technology has produced do not fit into any existing service pattern. They cut across all services, involve all services, and transcend all services, at every stage from development to operation. In some instances they defy classification according to branch of service.

Unfortunately, the uncertainties resulting from such a situation, and the jurisdictional disputes attending upon it, tend to bewilder and confuse the public and create the impression that service differences are damaging the national interest.

Let us proudly remember that the members of the armed forces give their basic allegiance solely to the United States. Of that fact all of us are certain. But pride of service and mistaken zeal in promoting particular doctrine has more than once occasioned the kind of difficulty of which I have just spoken.

I am not attempting today to pass judgment on the charge of harmful service rivalries. But one thing is sure. Whatever they are, America wants them stopped.

Weapons Complicate Defense Organization

Recently I have had under special study the never-ending problem of efficent organization, complicated as it is by new weapons. Soon my own conclusions will be finalized. I shall promptly take such executive action as is necessary and, in a separate message, I shall present appropriate recommendations to the Congress.

Meanwhile, without anticipating the detailed form that a reorganization should take, I can state its main lines in terms of objectives:

A major purpose of military organization is to achieve real unity in the defense establishment in all the principal features of military activity. Of all these one of the most important to our nation's security is strategic planning and control. This work must be done under unified direction.

The defense structure must be one which, as a whole, can assume, with top efficiency and without friction, the defense of America. The defense establishment must therefore plan for a better integration of its defense resources, particularly with respect to the newer weapons now building and under development. These obviously require full coordination in their development, production and use. Good organization can help assure this coordination.

In recognition of the need for single control in some of our most advanced development projects, the secretary of defense has already decided to concentrate into one organization all the anti-missile and satellite technology undertaken within the department of defense.

Another requirement of military organization is a clear subordination of the military services to duly constituted civilian authority. This control must be real; Not merely on the surface.

Next there must be assurance that an excessive number of compartments in organization will not create costly and confusing compartments in our scientific and industrial effort.

Finally, to end inter-service disputes requires clear organization and decisive central direction, supported by the unstinted cooperation of every individual in the defense establishment, civilian and military.

ACCELERATED DEFENSE EFFORT

The second major action item is the acceleration of the defense effort in particular areas affected by the fast pace of scientific and technological advance.

Some of the points at which improved and increased effort are most essential are these:

We must have sure warning in case of attack. The improvement of warning equipment is becoming increasingly important as we approach the period when long-range missiles will come into use.

We must protect and disperse our striking forces and increase their readiness for instant reaction. This means more base facilities and stand-by crews.

We must maintain deterrent retaliatory power. This means, among other things, stepped-up long range missile porgrams; accelerated programs for other effective missile systems; and, for some years, more advanced aircraft.

We must maintain freedom of the seas. This means nuclear submarines and cruisers; improved anti-submarine weapons; missile ships; and the like.

We must maintain all necessary types of mobile forces to deal with local conflicts, should there be need. This means further improvements in equipment, mobility, tactics and fire power.

Through increases in pay and incentive, we must maintain in the armed forces the skilled manpower modern military forces require.

We must be forward-looking in our research and development to anticipate and achieve the unimagined weapons of the future.

With these and other improvements, we intend to assure that our vigilance, power, and technical excellence keep abreast of any realistic threat we face.

MUTUAL AID

Third: We must continue to strengthen our mutual security efforts.

Most people now realize that our programs of military aid and defense support are an integral part of our own defense effort. If the foundations of the free world structure were progressively allowed to crumble under the pressure of Communist imperialism, the entire house of freedom would be in danger of collapse.

As for the mutual economic assistance program, the benefit to us is threefold. First, the countries receiving this aid become bulwarks against Communist encroachment as their military defenses and economies are strengthened. Nations that are conscious of a steady improvement in their industry, education, health and standard of living are not apt to fall prey to the blandishments of Communist imperialists.

Second, these countries are helped to reach the point where mutually profitable trade can expand between them and us.

Third, the mutual confidence that comes from working together on constructive projects creates an atmosphere in which real understanding and peace can flourish.

To help bring these multiple benefits, our economic aid effort should be made more effective.

Stresses Foreign Aid by Repayable Loans

In proposals for future economic aid, I am stressing a greater use of repayable loans, through the development loan fund, through funds generated by sale of surplus farm products, and through the export-import bank.

While some increase in government funds will be required, it remains our objective to encourage shifting to the use of private capital sources as rapidly as possible.

One great obstacle to the economic aid program in the past has been not a rational argument against it on the merits, but a catchword: "Give away program."

The real fact is that no investment we make in our own security and peace can pay us greater dividends than necessary amounts of economic aid to friendly nations.

This is no "give-away."

Let's stick to facts!

We cannot afford to have one of our most essential security programs shot down with a slogan!

MUTUAL TRADE

Fourth: Both in our national interest, and in the interest of world peace, we must have a five-year extension of the Trade Agreements Act with broadened authority to negotiate.

World trade supports a significant segment of American industry and agriculture. It provides employment for four and one-half million American workers. It helps supply our ever increasing demand for raw materials. It is wasteful in the extreme for friendly allies to consume talent and money in solving problems that their friends have already solved—all because of artificial barriers to sharing. We cannot afford to cut ourselves off from the brilliant talents and minds of scientists in friendly countries. The task ahead will be hard enough without handcuffs of our own making.

The groundwork for this kind of cooperation has already been laid in discussions among NATO countries. Promptness in following through with legislation will be the best possible evidence of American unity of purpose in cooperating with our friends.

EDUCATION AND RESEARCH

Sixth: In the area of education and research, I recommend a balanced program to improve our resources, involving an investment of about a billion dollars over a four-year period. This involves new activities by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare designed principally to encourage improved teaching quality and student opportunities in the interests of national security. It also provides a five-fold increase in sums available to the National Science Foundation for its special activities in stimulating and improving science education.

★ ★ ★

Scrupulous attention has been paid to maintaining local control of educational policy, spurring the maximum amount of local efforts, and to avoiding undue stress on the physical sciences at the expense of other branches of learning.

In the field of research, I am asking for substantial increases in basic research funds, including a doubling of the funds available to the National Science Foundation for this purpose.

But federal action can do only a part of the job. In both education and research, redoubled exertions will be necessary on the part of all Americans if we are to rise to the demands of our times. This means hard work on the part of state and local governments, private industry, schools and colleges, private organizations and foundations, teachers, parents, and —perhaps most important of all— the student himself, with his bag of books and his homework.

With this kind of all-inclusive campaign, I have no doubt that we can create the intellectual capital we need for the years ahead, invest it in the right places—and do all this, not as regimented pawns, but as free men and women!

SPENDING AND SAVING

Seventh: To provide for this extra effort for security, we must apply stern tests of priority to other expenditures, both military and civilian.

This extra effort involves, most immediately, the need for a supplemental defense appropriation of $1.3 billion for fiscal year 1958.

In the 1959 budget, increased expenditures for missiles, nuclear ships, atomic energy, research and development, science and education, a special contingency fund to deal with possible new technological discoveries, and increases in pay and incentives to obtain and retain competent manpower add up to a total increase over the comparable figures in the 1957 budget of about $4 billion.

I believe that, in spite of these necessary increases, we should strive to finance the 1959 security effort out of expected revenues. While we now believe that expected revenues and expenditures will roughly balance, our real purpose will be to achieve adequate security, but always with the utmost regard for efficiency and careful management.

This purpose will require the cooperation of Congress in making careful analysis of estimates presented, reducing expenditures on less essential military programs and installations, postponing some new civilian programs, transferring some to the states, and curtailing or eliminating others.

Such related matters as the national debt ceiling and tax revenues will be dealt with in later messages.

WORK AND PEACE

My last call for action is not primarily addressed to the Congress and people of the United States. Rather, it is a message from the people of the United States to all other peoples, especially those of the Soviet Union.

This is the spirit of what we would like to say:

"In the last analysis, there is only one solution to the grim problems that lie ahead. The world must stop the present plunge toward more and more destructive weapons of war, and turn the corner that will start our steps firmly on the path toward lasting peace.

"Our greatest hope for success lies in a universal fact: The people of the world, as people, have always wanted peace and want peace now.

"The problem, then, is to find a way of translating this universal desire into action.

"This will require more than words of peace. It requires works of peace."

Russia and the U.S. Must Work Together

Now, may I try to give you some concrete examples of the kind of works of peace that might make a beginning in the new direction.

For a start our people should learn to know each other better. Recent negotiations in Washington have provided a basis in principle for greater freedom of communication and exchange of people. I urge the Soviet government to cooperate in turning principle into practice by prompt and tangible actions that will break down the unnatural barriers that have blocked the flow of thought and understanding between our people.

Another kind of work of peace is cooperation on projects of human welfare. For example, we now have it within our power to eradicate from the face of the earth that age-old scourge of mankind: malaria. We are embarking with other nations in an all-out five-year campaign to blot out this curse forever. We invite the Soviets to join with us in this great work of humanity.

Indeed, we would be willing to pool our efforts with the Soviets in other campaigns against the diseases that are the common enemy of all mortals—such as cancer and heart disease.

If people can get together on such projects, is it not possible that we could then go on to a full-scale cooperative program of science for peace?

Atoms-for-Peace Plan Guides and Inspires

We have as a guide and inspiration the success of our atoms-for-peace proposal, which in only a few years, under United Nations auspices, became a realty in the International Atomic Energy Agency.

A program of science for peace might provide a means of funneling into one place the results of research from scientists everywhere and from there making it available to all parts of the world.

There is almost no limit to the human betterment that could result from such cooperation. Hunger and disease could increasingly be driven from the earth. The age-old dream of a good life for all could, at long last, be translated into reality.

But of all the works of peace, none is more needed now than a real first step toward disarmament.

Last August the United Nations General Assembly, by an overwhelming vote, approved a disarmament plan that we and our allies sincerely believed to be fair and practical. The Soviets have rejected both the plan and the negotiating procedure set up by the United Nations. As a result, negotiation on this supremely important issue is now at a standstill.

Would Go Extra Mile Toward Real Peace

But the world cannot afford to stand still on disarmament! We must never give up the search for a basis of agreement.

Our Allies from time to time develop differing ideas on how to proceed. We must concert these convictions among ourselves. Thereafter, any reasonable proposal that holds promise for disarmament and reduction of tension must be heard, discussed, and, if possible, negotiated.

But a disarmament proposal, to hold real promise, must at the minimum have one feature: Reliable means to ensure compliance by all. It takes actions and demonstrated integrity on both sides to create and sustain confidence.

And confidence in a genuine disarmament agreement is vital, not only to the signers of the agreement, but also to the millions of people all over the world who are weary of tensions and armaments.

I say once more, to all people, that we will always go the extra mile with anyone on earth if it will bring us nearer a genuine peace.

Intelligent Sacrifice Needed for Security

These, then, are the ways in which we must funnel our energies more efficiently into the task of advancing security and peace.

These actions demand and expect two things of the American people: Sacrifice, and a high degree of understanding. For sacrifice to be effective it must be intelligent. Sacrifice must be made for the right purpose and in the right place—even if that place happens to come close to home!

After all, it is no good demanding sacrifice in general terms one day, and the next day, for local reasons, opposing the elimination of some unneeded federal facility.

It is pointless to condemn federal spending in general, and the next moment condemn just as strongly an effort to reduce the particular federal grant that touches one's own interest.

And it makes no sense whatever to spend additional billions on military strength to deter a potential danger, and then, by cutting aid and trade programs, let the world succumb to a present danger in economic guise.

My friends of the Congress: The world is waiting to see how wisely and decisively a free representative government will now act.

I believe that this Congress possesses and will display the wisdom promptly to do its part in translating into law the actions demanded by our nation's interests.

But, to make law effective, our kind of government needs the full voluntary support of millions of Americans for these actions.

I am fully confident that the response of the Congress and of the American people will make this time of test a time of honor. Mankind then will see more clearly than ever that the future belongs, not to the concept of the regimented atheistic state, but to the people —the God-fearing, peace-loving people of all the world.

Investigate Suspect in Bad Check Case

Bernard C. Golland, 27, of 4862 Rossiter St., Drayton Plains, is being held by Clawson Police for investigation of passing bogus checks and forgery.

★ ★ ★

Police said Golland, who has also used the name, Ed Bailey, was nabbed yesterday while attempting to deposit $2,600 in allegedly bogus checks in the account of a Harold Drews, which he had opened.

A teller at the Wayne Oakland Bank at Main street and 14-Mile road, told police he recognized Golland from a poster in the bank.

★ ★ ★

While he was scuffling with Golland, someone else at the bank called the police, officers reported.

6 Injured as 2 Cars Collide on U.S. 10

Six persons were injured last night in a two-car accident on U.S.10 south of M15, Independence Township.

Treated at Pontiac General Hospital for bruises and cuts were: Harold T. Shaw Jr., 34, of 9160 Davisburg Rd., Clarkston, Iva Shaw, 36, and Brenda Shaw, 9.

Others injured were: Bedelia D. Gates, 35, 8335 Perry Lake Rd., Clarkston; Eula Beck, 28, of Flint; and Marsha Benjamin, 6, of 8337 Perry Lake Rd., Clarkston.

Shaw, the driver of one car, told sheriff's deputies that the other car cut in front of him. Deputies believe Miss Gates was the other driver but were unable to get a statement from her.

Seeks Dem Nomination

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph Kadans, 45, Detroit attorney and one-time law professor, says he plans to seek the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate seat now occupied by Sen. Potter (R-Mich.). Kadans, former dean of law at Great Lakes College, has served in the U.S. Corps of Engineers and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Crime Does Not Pay

ANN ARBOR (INS) — A thief who tried to run out of an Ann Arbor supermarket yesterday without paying for a bag of groceries found that crime does not pay. The thief was hit by a car as he darted into the street. He lost his left shoe and a pair of gloves. His hat blew off. He dropped the bag of groceries and another small bag which he had paid for.

Pretty Legs Not Vital

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (INS) —Robert R. Guthrie, chairman of a beauty contest, listed these requirements for the winner: "We want a girl who combines dignity and beauty and who looks glamorous in an evening gown. It is not important that she have pretty legs."

Many Fabulous Treasures Buried at Bottom of Sea

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

On a brisk November morn, the Spanish Plate Fleet of 1643 left Puerta Plata, Hispaniola, bound for Spain. Aboard was 21 million dollars in bullion, a year's loot from Central and South America.

A few days later, its flagship the Santissima Trinidad, hobbled back to port to report the loss of the fleet, 14 great galleons and their cargo of treasure.

HURRICANE STRUCK

They had been halfway through the narrow passage of deep water between the shoals of the lower Bahamas when a hurricane struck. The flagship sneaked through. The others went down on the reefs.

The 14 galleons and the bulk of their great treasure are still there, between eight and 20 fathoms down on Silver Bank. A couple of million has been recovered but the rest awaits a finder.

The sunken treasure of Silver Bank is but one of thousands of lost fortunes that dot the seas and lands of the world. Most went down on treasure ships or were buried by owners who never returned.

HIGH VALUE

F. L. Coffman, who put 18 years of research into his new book, Atlas of Treasure Maps (Thomas Nelson & Sons), estimated the value of "those treasures whose origin and existence have been authenticated" at 275 billion dollars.

Coffman's atlas lists 3,047 treasure locations in the Western Hemisphere and the British Islands, many of them in the Caribbean Sea, the famed Spanish Main of the lumbering treasure galleon and the buccaneer.

Forty-one of those Caribbean locations, containing an estimated half billion dollars in treasure, are shown on the accompanying map.

BOTTOM OF SEA

The bulk of the treasure lies on the bottom of the sea in galleons of the Spanish Plate Fleet or is buried on the myriad islands by the pirates who looted the treasure ships.

The plate fleet was an annual flotilla of galleons that made collections at conquistador ports of Spanish America and gathered at Puerta Plata in a formidable flotilla to transport the treasure across the Atlantic to Mother Spain.

Many of the big ships didn't make it.

Three plate galleons, collecting in South America, appeared before Maricaibo, Venezuela, while the pirate Henry Morgan was sacking the city.

PIRATES ESCAPED

The galleon captains tried to bottle up the pirate ships but Morgan rammed them and escaped. The galleons, with six millions, went to the bottom of Lake Maricaibo.

The Santa Paula, with three millions aboard, was off Cuba's Isle of Pines when a Negro slave, who didn't want to go to Spain, chopped a hole in the bottom. The Santa Paula went down.

The pirates who preyed on the Spanish galleons buried much of the loot they couldn't spend. Many who were caught or lost at sea never returned to claim their fortunes.

A good deal of the buried treasure is located on or near the islands that were the pirate strongholds.

* * *

Best known is the island of Tortuga, off the north coast of Haiti, the strategic spot from which the swift pirate craft sailed out to ambush the Plate Fleet.

It has been estimated that many millions of dollars lie buried on Tortuga.

Millions more has been searched for near other buccaneer headquarters on Vache Island, off Haiti's southern coast, and on Half Moon Cay and Roatan Island off Central America.

What are the chances of finding a buried or sunken treasure?

Coffman says that in one year (1950) more than 11 million dollars were reported by finders, mostly in the Florida-Caribbean area. Most finds, he says, were made by non-professional searchers.

* * *

Veteran treasure hunter Coffman recommends these steps to finding a treasure trove:

Select a location near home. Compile all the data you can on that location. Arm yourself with a good metal detector, a boat of some sort and some skin-diving equipment. Go to it.

Most of the countries of the Caribbean area require that a prospective treasure hunter take out a license or permit to dig or dive. And, if the seeker finds anything, the government skims off a percentage, usually about 50 per cent.

That's why no one is quite sure exactly how much treasure remains at the bottom of the Caribbean. Most recoveries, says Coffman, go unreported to avoid payment of he government cut.

Of Course Men Can Cook

Pontiac Press Photo

HE LIKES TO COOK — William B. Mitchell of Middlebelt road is the cook of the family. Mrs. Mitchell, an interior decorator, spends at least one week a month in her Chicago office; so Mr. Mitchell has taken over the marketing and the cooking. He is shown here in their turquoise and yellow kitchen in connection with the recreation room. He has equipment that would make most women turn simply green with envy.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

It's always a pleasure to meet a man who likes to cook. William B. Mitchell of Middlebelt road enjoys planning, marketing and cooking. He's not the kind who makes a big production out of one dish, then lets his wife do the clean-up job afterwards.

★ ★ ★

"Plain, well seasoned food" is his creed. He has no fancy recipes — in fact he has NO recipes — but he can be depended on to turn out good food.

Mr. Mitchell likes to use A-1 sauce, soy bean sauce and a few herbs when he prepares meat. He puts marjoram in his hamburgers. He likes sweet basil occasionally.

Although both th Mitchells like things with an Oriental touch they are not overly fond of curry and it never appears on their menus.

Once upon a time Mr. Mitchell says he liked to make biscuits and serve them with comb honey. But in recent years he's had to count calories more carefully. It's with reluctance that he's given up biscuits.

★ ★ ★

As we said, Mr. Mitchell had no definite recipe to give us. However, we think this one sounds a bit like his method of cooking.

Herb Meat Balls in Spaghetti Sauce

1 egg, beaten
1 cup rolled oats, uncooked
1½ pounds ground beef
¼ cup chopped onions
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
½ teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon basil leaves
2 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
⅝ cup water or milk (¼ cup plus 2 tablespoons)
2 cups spaghetti sauce

Mix all ingredients except spaghetti sauce together thoroughly. Shape mixture into small meat balls, using 1 tablespoon mixture per ball. Brown in hot fat. Add spaghetti sauce and cook covered for 10 minutes. Serve over cooked spaghetti. Makes 45 meat balls.

Spaghetti Sauce

1 clove garlic, sliced
4 cups tomatoes
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
4 whole cloves
½ bay leaf
1 onion, chopped
3 tablespoons fat
2½ tablespoons flour

Cook first 6 ingredients, covered, for ½ hour. Strain. Brown onion in fat, stir in the flour, add to tomato mixture, and simmer uncovered, 15 minutes. Serve over one 8-ounce package spaghetti which has been cooked in boiling, salted water.

Pineapple Torte Takes Just 4 Ingredients

A delicious dessert with excellent flavor is made with only four ingredients. Combine 2 cups of graham cracker crumbs (26 crackers) with ¼ cup of melted butter or margarine and ½ cup of sugar. Sprinkle one-third of the crumbs in the bottom of a well-greased 10-inch round baking pan.

Spread ¾ cup of undrained crushed pineapple over crumbs in an even layer. Sprinkle another third of the crumb mixture over pineapple. Spread another ¾ cup of undrained crushed pineapple over this and top with the last of the crumbs.

Pat surface to make it firm. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for 35 minutes. Cut in pie-shaped wedges and serve with lemon sauce. Serves 8.

Slow Bake Applesauce in Your Bean Pot

For an over dinner, plan making Bean Pot applesauce. It can be cooked along with the rest of your dinner and is easy to prepare.

Just peel, core, and quarter enough apples to fill your bean pot. Arrange in layers, sprinkled with brown sugar and cinnamon, dot with butter, and add about ½ cup water or cider. Cover tightly and cook two hours at 375 degrees.

Ripen the Avocado Before Refrigerating

Can you remember when avocados were a luxury? Now you can serve them for very few pennies. Although you can find avocados all year, November through April are months of largest supply, relates the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

★ ★ ★

Avocados are firm when you buy them, but after two to five days at room temperature they become soft and ready to eat. Once an avocado is soft, it can be stored in the warmest part of the refrigerator.

★ ★ ★

The cut surface of an avocado sometimes darkens as it is exposed to air. To preserve the bright, fresh-cut color, sprinkle avocado with lime or lemon juice.

★ ★ ★

The buttery avocado combines well with meats, vegetables or fauits, or it can be mashed for sandwich spreads or dips.

Clever cooks include ½ teaspoon whole allspice (tied in a cheese cloth bag) in the stewing kettle when preparing chicken stock, fricassee or good old-fashioned chicken and dumplings.

Freeze Cuts Supply of Florida Citrus Fruit

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

"Pure liquid gold"—that's what they're calling orange juice in Florida these days. The Better Half, the Teenager, the Nine-Year-Old and I spent Christmas down south. On our way home we drove up the center of the state, through the orange grove region.

★ ★ ★

You all read of the disastrous Florida freeze in the middle of December. We saw tragic evidences if it in the form of entire orchards blackened and dead. Tree after tree of ripened fruit had been blasted. And even if the entire tree wasn't killed, the frosted fruit can't be used.

★ ★ ★

Wisely, the Florida Citrus Commission put a temporary embargo on all shipments of fruit after this freeze. In this way they protected both their reputation and the public interest. By now shipments have been resumed, but prices will be higher for the rest of the season. We paid as much for a dozen oranges in Ft. Lauderdale as we do in Pontiac.

Grapefruit doesn't seem to have suffered as much damage. That we could buy at bargain prices. And when we stopped at an "all - you - can - drink-for-ten cents" stand, we were allowed only one glass of orange juice but all we wanted of grapefruit juice.

That fresh grapefruit juice is wonderful stuff. Down south they sell it in cartons like milk. We took it on two different picnics.

Grapefruit wedges make a delicious dinner salad. Arrange them on shredded lettuce, endive or watercress. For a different dressing mash an avocado and mix with enough French dressing to make it the right consistency. This combination is delicious.

★ ★ ★

The following molded salad uses fresh, canned or frozen orange juice. It will contribute to your family's daily quota of citrus fruit.

Frosted Cranberry Salad

1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin
1½ cups orange juice
1 can (1 lb.) whole cranberry sauce
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup cottage cheese
2 tablespoons mayonnaise

Dissolve gelatin in heated orange juice. Add cranberry sauce and stir until blended. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Add celery and nuts and put in mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens, and frost top with cottage cheese and mayonnaise mixed together. Six servings.

★ ★ ★

Limes—a third citrus fruit—are available all year. For an unusual ice cream sauce try the one below. The tangy-sweet taste is really different.

Lime Sundae Sauce

1 cup sugar
¼ cup lime juice
¼ pound marshmallows (about 16 marshmallows)
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 teaspoon grated lime rind

In a saucepan combine sugar and lime juice; bring to a boil over medium heat and boil 5 minutes. Cut marshmallows into eighths and add to hot sirup; stir until marshmallows are melted.

★ ★ ★

Gradually pour hot marshmallow mixture over beaten egg whites, beating until smooth and well blended. Serve sauce hot or cold over ice cream. Makes 2½ cups sauce.

Pudding Mix Becomes Fudge

Mothers no longer have to spend whole evening cooking up candies after the youngsters have gone to bed. Today they can whip up a batch or two of fudge or penuche in no time at all, using many of the handy canned and packaged foods on the market.

Dark and Crunchy Fudge

1 package chocolate pudding
¼ cup milk
¼ cup margarine or butter, melted
1¾ cups confectioners' sugar, sifted
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup (½ can) black walnuts, chopped

Combine pudding, milk and margarine or butter. Stirring constantly, cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil; boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Add confectioners' sugar and stir until smooth and well blended. Stir in vanilla and nuts. Turn quickly into greased pan (8x6 inches). Let stand in cool place until firm. Cut in squares. Makes 1 pound.

If you use a cloth filter in a coffee-maker, it should be rinsed in cold water immediately after the coffee is brewed.

LOBSTER OR CRAB MOUSSE — This "party-special" looking lobster or crab meat mousse is more easily made than its elegant looks imply. One of the recipe's short cuts is the new instant minced onion. This seasoning brings fresh onion flavor but can be used "as is" — just sprinkled in like salt.

Instant Onion Adds Tang to Seafood Mousse

Short cuts to zesty flavoring are a major answer to the problem of how to spend fewer hours in the kitchen. Instant minced onion is a new time saver to add to your spice shelf. The instant these minute onion flakes meet the juices of meats or vegetables their fresh onion taste is released.

A cool flavorful salad is made with lobster or crabmeat and jellied cream of tomato soup. Instant onion is the perfect seasoning.

Lobster or Crab Meat Mousse

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
10½-ounce can condensed cream of tomato soup
¼ pound (4 oz. pkg.) cream cheese
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
2 teaspoons instant minced onion
1 cup mayonnaise
3 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped green olives
1 cup diced cooked lobster meat or one 6½-ounce can crab meat, diced
1 cup chopped celery
Fresh parsley for garnish
Radish roses for garnish
Mayonnaise, if desired

Soften gelatine in ½ cup cold water. Heat tomato soup. Add gelatine and cream cheese and stir until smooth. (If any lumps remain, pass mixture through a sieve.) Add remaining cold water, lemon juice and instant minced onion. Chill until mixture begins to thicken.

Fold in mayonnaise, green pepper, olives, lobster or crab meat and celery. Turn into a 5-cup mold. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Unmold onto a serving plate and garnish with parsley and radishes. Serve with mayonnaise, if desired. Yield: 8 servings.

Yogurt Dessert Calls for Spanish Sherry

Spanish sherry can make low-calorie desserts into offerings good enough for party fare. Here's one suggestion: To a half-pint of yogurt (which has been drained of excess liquid), add 1 teaspoon of sugar or its equivalent low-calorie sweetener, and 1 teaspoon of an oloroso-type sherry. Stir just to blend; pour 1 tablespoon sherry over the top and serve at once.

This makes one generous or two light servings. Caution: This must be prepared at the last minute or the yogurt will "weep."

Stuff Thick Pork Chops

Try purchasing 1 to 1½-inch thick pork rib chops. Have your meat retailer cut a pocket on the rib side of the chops. To prepare, stuff the pocket with your favorite bread stuffing seasoned with chopped mushrooms.

Near East Parfait Served in Layers

Near Eastern desserts are delightful but time consuming to prepare. However, Near East Parfait made with whole wheat cereal, the kind with wheat germ added, adapts the delicious flavor but reduces preparation time to 5 minutes.

Near East Parfait

1½ cups water
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Dash cloves
½ cup brown sugar
¼ cup raisins
½ cup uncooked instant whole wheat cereal
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 package instant vanilla pudding
1 pint milk

Heat water, salt, spices, sugar, and raisins to boiling. Add instant whole wheat cereal slowly. Boil gently for 3 minutes. Stir. Remove from heat. Add vanilla. Mix.

Prepare pudding. Spoon slightly thickened pudding and cereal alternately into parfait glasses or custard cups. Yield: 6 servings.

Retail food prices (at least until mid-58) may be slightly higher than they were in 1957. These are some of the reasons why: Our population is still growing and people are accustomed to eating well. Food supplies will be slightly smaller in '58.

Vary Potato Dish to Liven Menu

Even though most of your New Year's resolutions may have been shattered or seriously chipped, there's one resolution you should be able to keep, easily and with pleasure for the entire family: To try new dishes and new foods more often. You don't need to specify how often, weekly, monthly, set your own schedule.

To learn how easy it is, you might start with the old reliable, potatoes. The U. S. Department of Agriculture classes them as "plentiful." Home economists say there are hundreds of different ways of preparing them.

Like a new flavor in mashed potatoes? Then use cultured sour cream as the liquid; or meat stock. If you'd like a change in French Fries, go over to Dixie Fried potatoes: Roll long strips of potatoes in bread crumbs, and then fry in deep fat.

If you have some left-over boiled potatoes, dice them, heat them, add bacon and vinegar to make German hot potato salad.

If you have some left-over American fried potatoes, convert them to a Potato Omelet. Beat eggs, pour over the potato slices, and broil until done.

Spice Oranges for Future Meat Garnish

If a basket of citrus fruit was among your gifts, you might like to put up some spiced oranges to serve after the holidays. We like these with poultry and pork and find they improve after standing in their jars for several weeks.

Spiced Oranges

6 oranges
1½ quarts water
3 cups sugar
2 cups water
¾ cup cider vinegar
½ teaspoon whole cloves
3 3-inch sticks cinnamon
3 pieces whole ginger

Put whole oranges in large saucepan; add 1½ quarts water. Bring to a boil; boil 20 minutes. Drain and cut into eighths; remove any seeds.

Mix sugar, 2 cups water, vinegar, cloves, cinnamon and ginger; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Bring to a boil; add oranges and simmer about 20 minutes.

Spoon into hot sterilized jars and seal, or cover and store in refrigerator. Serve as a relish. Makes 7 cups — 48 slices plus syrup.

Try adding frozen orange juice (thawed) to a butter frosting.

TABASCO TURN-OVERS — Tabasco flavored pastry dough makes incomparable meat-filled hors d'oeuvres that please guests and satisfy creative instincts of maker.

Tabasco Pastry Goes to Parties

Half the fun of giving a cocktail party is preparing hors d'oeuvres that will "wow" the guests.

To a very basic blend of flour, cheese and butter, the spark of tabasco, the liquid red pepper seasoning is added. Part of the mixture can be rolled out and cut into sticks, crescents, or whatever your imagination dictates, sprinkled with sesame seeds and baked.

In true international tradition, you'll want to serve some hors d'oeuvres hot and with a meat filling. While the basic pastry mixture is chilling, you can be preparing a meat filling to be tucked into squares, rounds or triangles before the brief baking time.

Tabasco-Cheese Hors D'Oeuvres

½ teaspoon tabasco
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 3-ounce package sharp processed cheese

Add tabasco to butter; cream well. Blend in flour and cheese. Chill mixture in refrigerator 1 hour. While mixture is chilling, prepare Meat Filling.

Roll out about two thirds of the pastry ⅛-inch thick on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Cut into 2½-inch squares, 3-inch triangles and 2-inch rounds. Place ½ to 1 teaspoon of the meat filling on each pastry cut-out. Gather corners of squares together and pinch to seal for tiny turnovers; roll up triangles starting with long side and ending with opposite tip; bake rounds open.

Place on an ungreased baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 12 minutes. For plain hors d'oeuvres, roll out remaining pastry and cut into sticks and crescents. Sprinkle with sesame seeds and bake. Approximately 4 dozen.

Meat Filling

½ pound ground beef
½ cup dry bread crumbs
1 small egg
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1-16 teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly.

When you have an egg white leftover, you can make a frosting from it this way. Put the egg white with a dash of salt and a half cup of currant jelly in the top part of a small double boiler; beat constantly over simmering water until the frosting stands in straight peaks.

Sweetened Milk Makes Uncooked Spanish Cream

A light and lovely Spanish cream is a welcome addition to the dessert file. The cream is specially easy, for it is made with sweetened condensed milk and needs no cooking. The sweetened condensed milk itself is a rich, custard-like base, stiffened with gelatin, lightened with egg whites.

The Spanish cream may be poured into individual moulds or a one and a half pint mould. The recipe makes enough for four and can easily be doubled for a ring mould. This is delicious with fresh fruits in the center, served with whipped cream.

Uncooked Spanish Cream

1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
2 eggs, separated
½ cup (½ of 15 oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ cup boiling water

Soften gelatine in cold water. Let stand 5 minutes. Beat egg yolks until lemon-colored. Stir in sweetened condensed milk, salt and vanilla. Pour boiling water over gelatine, stir until gelatine is dissolved. Stir gelatine into condensed milk mixture. Beat egg whites until they form soft peaks.

Chill condensed milk mixture over ice water, stirring constantly, until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites; fold in beaten egg whites. Rinse a 1½ pint mold with cold water. Turn mixture into mold. Chill in refrigerator until firm, 2 to 3 hours. Unmold. Serve with sauce or whipped cream.

Soup Good Chill Chaser

The "complete" hostess may serve departing guests cups of hot celery-consomme for extra warmth during the cold walk or drive home. Heat together a 10½-ounce can condensed cream of celery soup, a 10½-ounce can condensed consomme, and a soup-can milk for 4 to 5 servings.

Unpeeled Fruit Flavor Pie

If you don't peel apples used for pie, you can eliminate at least one-fourth of the sugar generally used. Unlike most large fruits, apple skins can be eaten, being part of the edible whole. Use very thin slices, and add to the flavor of your next pie.

Egg Color Unimportant

Which is better—a white egg or brown egg? The nutritional value has nothing to do with the color of the shell. Shell color depends on the breed of hen—eggs inside are the same.

Good ways to serve gingerbread: with a sauce flavored with chocolate or lemon; with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream; with a custard.

FABULOUS FOOD — Sharp cheese and onion and highly-flavored meat highlight these appetite-teasers. Piroshki, a modern version of the old-country pocketbook-shaped pastry, features a corned beef filling and an egg glaze. The tiny spirals are Chip 'n' Cheese Whirls — filled with chipped beef and cheese.

Biscuit Dough Contains Highly Flavored Meat

Twirls and whirls, twists and pinches, put the finishing touches on a fabulous tray of hors d'oeuvres which includes Chip 'n Cheese Whirls and Piroshki.

The qualities of an appropriate appetizer? Delicious, unusual, petite, temptingly attractive!

Here are two recipes which fulfill these qualifications. They're from a new recipe booklet—especially for party givers—which contains many new ideas based on biscuit mix. This helpful booklet is being offered through grocery stores throughout the nation on the biscuit mix package.

Chip 'N Cheese Whirls

½ cup milk
1 cup biscuit mix
¼ cup chopped dried beef
1 tablespoon butter
¼ cup grated sharp cheese

Mix milk, biscuit mix, dried beef. Knead dough 10 times on board lightly dusted with flour. Roll into 15 x 6" oblong. Spread with butter. Sprinkle with cheese.

★ ★ ★

Roll, beginning at wide side. Seal. Cut in ¼" slices by placing string under roll, crossing over at top and pulling through. Bake about 8 minutes at 450 degrees. Makes 2½ doz.

Piroshki

1 cup chopped canned corned beef
1 small onion, chopped
¼ cup grated cheese
1 tablespoon butter
3 to 6 drops Tabasco sauce
1 egg, beaten

Mix all ingredients except egg. Make biscuit dough (recipe below).

Roll into 12x6" oblong. Cut in 3" squares. Place filling in center of each square. Bring four corners up and pinch edges together.

★ ★ ★

Brush with egg. Bake about 10 minutes at 450 degrees. Serve with catsup. Makes 8.

Biscuit Dough

1 cup biscuit mix
⅓ cup milk

Add milk to biscuit mix; stir with fork. Beat 15 strokes. It will be stiff, but sticky. Roll dough around on cloth-covered board lightly dusted with flour. Knead gently 10 times to smooth up.

Red, White, Green Blend in Casserole

Here's a suggestion for using leftover ham in a tasty dish with colorful green peas.

Mix fluffy white cooked rice with sliced mushrooms and onions and add to equal portions of diced cooked ham and green peas. Make a medium thick white sauce gently flavored with cheddar cheese.

★ ★ ★

Place a layer of the rice, ham, pea mixture into a greased casserole and add a layer of white sauce. Repeat this, allowing enough sauce for a generous top covering. Sprinkle with grated cheese and buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven until all ingredients are thoroughly heated.

Broiled chicken breasts are especially delectable when they are served on thin slices of buttered toast that have been oven-heated to make them crisp.

Masked Yams Base for Dinner

A savory, easy-to-prepare family dish for suppertime is Hamballs arranged on mashed yams. The orange-gold color of the yams signifies the abundance of vitamin A so essential to the well-balanced meal. Now, during the fresh yam season, homemakers can rely on this vegetable to supply vitamins, color, moist texture, plus delicious flavor to the suppertime meal.

★ ★ ★

Good accompaniments for this mashed yam-ham ball dish are green string beans, sliced french bread, mugs of milk, with a spice cake for dessert . . . a simple meal, yet hearty and well-balanced.

Yams and Spicy Ham Balls

2 cans (1 pound) yams, drained and mashed (or 2½ cups mashed cooked yams)
½ teaspoon salt
1 pound ground ham
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon cloves

Combine yams and salt. Turn into greased shallow baking dish. Combine ham, sugar, flour and cloves; blend. Shape into balls and place on yams. Bake in moderate oven (350) 1 hour, or until done. Makes 4 servings.

Spiced Squash Scallops Cooked in Skillet

Cut two acorn squash into horizontal ¼-inch slices. Remove seeds. In a large skillet melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine with ½ teaspoon ground allspice and ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon. Add squash rings, ½ cup fresh orange juice and sprinkle with 1 to 2 tablespoons brown sugar. Cook slowly, covered, until rings are tender and lightly glazed. Makes enough for 4.

Cheese 'n' Ham Tangy Duet

Your family and friends will be complimenting you long after you serve them this delightfully different ham treat. Ham steaks stuffed and topped with tangy blue cheese provide a dish that's truly a gourmet's meat.

This flavorful ham-cheese combination really is easy to prepare. It's sure to become a favorite on your menu hit parade.

Cheese-Stuffed Ham Steaks

2 medium-size ham steaks about ½ inch thick
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
¾ cup crumbled blue cheese
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ cup chopped celery
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons brown sugar

Drain pineapple and save syrup. Combine ½ cup crushed pineapple, ½ cup crumbled blue cheese, bread crumbs, celery, and mayonnaise; mix well. Spread mixture on one ham steak. Top with second ham steak. Fasten with toothpicks. Place in baking pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 1¼ hours.

While ham is baking, heat remaining pineapple and syrup to boiling point. Combine vinegar, cornstarch, and brown sugar. Add to pineapple mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Add remaining ¼ cup blue cheese and cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve sauce on top of ham steaks. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Cake Mixes Will Keep Up to a Year on Shelf

How long will cake mixes keep? This is a question being asked by many homemakers, relates the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Now we have a reliable answer supplied by General Mills, Inc., and Chelsea Milling Co. These companies report that shelf life of mixes does not differ from one flavor to another. This shelf life should withstand 6 months to a year's storage.

A reasonable conclusion is that cake mixes will keep on your shelf as long as a year. But since there is always a fresh supply on your grocer's shelf, why not keep a fresh supply?

Hors d'Oeuvre Apples

Next time you serve hors d'oeuvres, accompany your cocktail dips or cheese platter with thin, decorative crescents of fresh apple. The apple slices have a very few calories and are a perfect partner with cheese.

Compare Meat Costs to Get Best Bargains

Supplies of some foods are smaller, but there is no shortage of good food for your market basket, states the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Slightly higher prices on meats and fresh produce may mean that you will make more careful comparisons between costs of similar foods. You may make comparisons between fresh, frozen and canned foods before deciding which to use in the week's menus.

* * *

MEATS

Pork is the exception in the meat department. While beef, lamb and veal are generally higher, some pork cuts are slightly lower. This is due to a fairly heavy pork supply and less customer demand for certain cuts.

Checks in several markets show that picnics, loin roasts, Boston butt, spareribs or whole smoked ham can be served at similar prices when cost per serving is considered. To make cost comparisons remember that picnics and spareribs will yield two servings per pound; loin roasts two and one-half; ham and Boston butt three.

Strong customer demand for beef chuck and round are keeping prices on these cuts at a continued high price level. Some retailers explain that lighter beef supplies came to market during the holidays and attribute current prices to this fact.

For beef stew or Swiss steak that need long slow cooking with plenty of moisture, lower grades will make tasty dishes for less cost.

Although fryer prices have risen two to three cents a pound within the past two weeks, they still range from 39 to 47 cents a pound. Stewers are about the same price as fryers.

PRODUCE

The brightest spots in the fresh produce department are counters with lettuce and apples.

Lettuce is being shipped from both California and Arizona, making supplies larger. The large 24-size heads are priced so that winter salads should not go lacking for crisp greens.

Apples lead winter fruit selections with the thriftiest price tags. Apples serve a double purpose when sent to school in a child's lunch. Besides the value gained from eating them, they naturally clean the teeth.

Some retailers report that grapefruit and oranges were not damaged as much as was first predicted following the December Florida freeze. Prices have dropped slightly, but for the balance of the season are not expected to be as low as they were before the freeze.

Grapefruit are from 10 to 20 cents each and oranges range from about 50 to 90 cents a dozen, depending upon size and variety.

The tomatoes, cucumbers and peppers you use this week may be shipped from as far away as Cuba or Mexico. Supplies are short; prices are high.

Cabbage, a favorite when teamed with corned beef, is ten to fifteen cents per pound.

EGGS

Looking for an easy way to stretch meat dollars? Then alternate a serving of meat with two large size eggs that cost only 9 to 10½ cents.

To keep freshness and flavor, keep the eggs you buy in the refrigerator. Keep them covered.

Bottled Lime Juice Adds Tang to Filling

If pie is the family's favorite, give them a new version for dinner tonight. Here's one that's tasty and pretty to look at, too.

Florida Lime Pie

1 can sweetened condensed milk
½ cup bottled lime juice
3 eggs
Prebaked pie shell
1 cup whipping cream
1 tablespoon rum or rum flavoring

Mix together the unsweetened condensed milk, lime juice, and the beaten yolks of eggs. Then fold in the well-beaten whites. Place the mixture in a pre-baked flaky pie shell, and bake for 10 minutes at 250 degrees. When cool, place in the refrigerator until ready to serve.

When serving top each pie wedge with slightly sweetened whipped cream to which a little rum or flavoring has been added. This recipe will serve six.

Bite Sized Nibbles

For some truly elegant nibbling, add nuts to Dried Beef Pinwheels. Arrange slices of dried beef to form a six-inch square. Spread with cream cheese and top with chopped nuts and a little horseradish. Roll the meat and chill and then cut into half-inch bites.

Burke Slated to Die Tonight

Professional Gunman to Pay in Electric Chair for Slaying Pal

OSSINING, N.Y. (AP)—The execution of Elmer (Trigger) Burke, is set for tonight in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison.

Convicted of the murder of a pal in a Manhattan barroom brawl, the tough and notorious killer-for-hire has been in the death house for two years.

Scheduled executions were canceled three times before as his case was carried to the U.S. Supreme Court, largely on the ground that adverse publicity robbed him of a fair trial. No prospect of a further stay was in sight.

★ ★ ★

Burke is under sentence to die for shooting his crony Edward (Poochie) Walsh in 1952. The prosecution charged Walsh was shot when he tried to stop Burke from kicking another man in the face. Burke claimed at his trial that he must have been drunk.

Burke has been a suspect in half a dozen New York City murders and has figured in a series of spectacular crimes, including the aftermath of the million-dollar Brink's robbery in Boston.

In 1954 Burke was seized in Boston as the gunman hired to assassinate Joseph (Specs) O'Keefe, key figure in the Brink's armored car office robbery. Burke had machine-gunned O'Keefe, but failed to kill him.

Burke, aided by armed raiders, broke out of the Charles Street jail in Boston in a sensational escape. The FBI caught him a year later in Folly Beach, S.C. He was taken to New York City for trial in the Walsh murder.

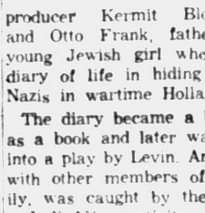

Florida Birds Periled

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP)—Thousands of birds face starvation because of Florida's cold weather. The Florida Audubon Society is asking householders to put out food near shrubs and trees where the birds can take refuge. Florida's bird population is swelled by winter visitors from the North.

Author Awarded $50,000 in Suit Over Hit Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Author Meyer Levin today won a court award of $50,000 in a suit over the hit play "The Diary of Anne Frank."

A State Supreme Court jury brought in the verdict after 10 hours of deliberation.

★ ★ ★

The verdict, handed to Justice Samuel Coleman, was against producer Kermit Bloomgarden and Otto Frank, father of the young Jewish girl who wrote a diary of life in hiding from the Nazis in wartime Holland.

The diary became a best seller as a book and later was adapted into a play by Levin. Anne Frank, with other members of her family, was caught by the Germans and died in captivity.

Levin alleged in his suit that after he adapted the diary into a play, a change of producer and writers resulted in his being defrauded of his rights.

Among Levin's contentions was one that some lines which he wrote and which did not appear in the diary were used by the writers whose version opened on Broadway in 1955 and ran for 86 weeks.

Reduce Cash Outlay for FHA Homes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration has taken steps that will reduce the cash outlay for FHA-financed homes and in some instances permit lower discounts on some home mortgages.

★ ★ ★

Announcing these moves yesterday, FHA Commissioner Norman P. Mason said they should "give added impetus to the increase in home building activity."

★ ★ ★

FHA also said it does not plan to increase its current 5¼ per cent maximum interest rate on FHA-insured mortgages. A boost in this ceiling had been urged by some builders and lenders.

★ ★ ★

The agency said that buyers of FHA-financed homes no longer will be required to pay closing costs in cash. Mason said this was "good news to home buyers." This action will cut the cash outlay that must be made at the time of purchase for such things as real estate transfer taxes, title search fees and other items sometimes totaling several hundred dollars.

Bank President Foils Robbery

Executive Wields Gun With Ancient Ammo to Rout 5 Youths

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Five Indiana youths, stopped from a bank robbery attempt by a 70-year-old bank president wielding a gun with 30-year-old bullets, were being held here under $25,000 bond each today.

The five were arrested at Munfordville by two state troopers several hours after three bandits discarded a pistol, hat and canvas bag in a headlong flight from the Bank of Clarkson yesterday. Clarkson is about 20 miles from Munfordville.

Bank President Clyde Bratcher routed them by firing two shots. Officers later said they found two slugs lodged in the barrel of Bratcher's gun. The president said the bullets were about 30 years old.

State Troopers Cecil Overstreet and D. L. Powell arrested the five after spotting their car. They were identified as Joseph S. Higdon, 21, Shelbyville, Ind.; Pvt. William H. Hurley, 18, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and formerly of Shelbyville; Orvil Gene Edwards, 17, Indianapolis; and Charles Raymond Karnes, 18, and Allen Gene Karnes, 17, brothers, also of Shelbyville.

They were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Claudia Compton on charges of violating the federal bank robbery statute.

They waived preliminary hearing and were held to the federal grand jury at Paducah April 21.

State Police Capt. E. B. Jones said Higdon fired one shot at Bratcher. It lodged in the frame of a teller's cage directly in front of the banker.

Jones said all five admitted taking part in the holdup attempt.

Members of the U.S. armed forces consume about 288 pounds of meat a year as compared with the average of about 148 pounds consumed by civilians in normal economic situations.

George Priggen of Bloomfield Hills appears to be simply amazed at the new Southern vacation and winter cruise fashions that Lisa Knudsen (left) of Birmingham and Karen VanderKloot of Bloomfield Hills are modeling for our photographer. They will wear the dresses Saturday in a Bloomfield Country Day School and Detroit Country Day School fashion show.

Norman Lee of Detroit presents Patti Ball of Birmingham with a pretty straw handbag to go with her new spring suit. Lindy Lamberson of Birmingham, in a crisp spring cotton dress, looks over the scene with apparent approval.

Designers Modify Chemises

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Even the shapeless chemise fails to floor that diminutive but daring designer Adele Simpson, who remarks demurely:

"I'm neither for nor against any new fashion. Instead, I accept it as a challenge to figure how each woman can make it her own."

★ ★ ★

Showing her spring collection to the nation's fashion press today, Mrs. Simpson illustrates graphically how every woman can wear some version of the current sack silhouette, after it has been refined and revised under the eye of a skilled designer.

USES HALF-BELTS

She employs half-belts, back or front, to take the curse off the unfitted look. She shows many bloused tops over slim skirts. She shows a varied line-up of suit silhouettes, with jackets brief and straight, bloused or belted. The jacket-length overblouse is part of almost every Simpson suit costume, often matched to the jacket lining.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Simpson uses many of the handsome silk blends used in men's wear.

She takes a short-cut in both suit jackets and overblouses, ending both at the hipbone or above.

For daytime street wear she likes soft neutral tones or navy, but for festive occasions she shows a brilliant rainbow of colors in flower prints or solid tones.

Mollie Parnis, known as Mrs. Eisenhower's favorite dressmaker, also modifies the sack with outstanding success, using various devices to indent it at the waistline and shape it over the bustline. She calls this the "soft focus" silhouette — slender but far from shapeless.

★ ★ ★

Most of the Parnis chemises have a half-belt in front, hang straight in back. She shows a number of wearable dress-and-jacket costumes, with hipbone jacket over a subtly shaped chemise.

Adele Simpson believes in the feminine look. Here she has created a hound's-tooth check costume in sand dune beige silk. The slim dress under its round-collared bolero jacket is slightly bloused with back buttons and leather belt.

Mollie Parnis V'd this sweetheart neckline for a molded bodice above a very full skirt.

Dear Abby....

It Sounds Like Slim Pickings

By ABIGAIL VanBUREN

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: Cal's wife has no right complaining about a husband who examines his vegetables with a magnifying glass and refuses to eat leftovers. Don't you know that 98 per cent of ptomaine poisoning comes from eating leftovers? And that all canned foods contain a harmful preservative that can cause cancer? And that all fresh fruits and vegetables are sprayed with a chemical that is pure poison? And also that all frozen foods have lost their nutritional value? And YOU told that woman to send her husband to a psychiatrist? Madame, YOU should see a psychiatrist. Thank you.

INFORMED HOUSEWIFE

ABBY

DEAR INFORMED: I suggest you check your statements and get better informed. If fresh fruits and vegetables are poisonous, and canned foods are dangerous, and frozen foods have no food value, will you please write me another letter and tell me what a person is supposed to eat? Thank you.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I am too fussy, but I am a man who is very particular about the ladies I go out with. If I find something about them I don't like, I never care to see them again. Everyone says I am too particular. Do you think it is wrong for a man to want a woman he can look up to?

FUSSY

DEAR FUSSY: It is all right to set your standards high—but too much "looking up" can give you a pain in the neck.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 14 years to a wonderful man and we have two fine children. I thought I was happy until I met this other man. He is also married and has family — and to make matters more complicated, he is my husband's boss. We both know if we are found out we have everything to lose. We have tried to break off, but we can't stay away from each other. I know we are doing wrong, but we aren't hurting anybody. Please tell me what to do, Abby. Don't use my right name if you print this. If our friends knew, they would die.

MRS. X

DEAR MRS. X: If the laws of decency mean nothing to you — consider the law of averages. Every time you see this man your chances for getting caught are greater. Give up this man before you ruin two families.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 30 years old and am not married yet. I recently renewed an acquaintance with a widower. His wife has been dead for five months and he wants to marry me. Naturally I said "yes" but his daughter is very narrow-minded. She thinks we should wait seven more months until her mother is dead a full year. I can't see any reason for this as he is 60 years old and I am no spring chicken myself — and we could be dead ourselves in seven months! Please advise me.

READY TO MARRY

DEAR READY: It is proper to wait one full year after the death of a spouse before remarrying. I suggest you wait.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO BER-THA: Of course he won't call. Why should a man chase a train after he's caught it?

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Silk Glove Care Almost Costless

1958 is a good year to treat yourself to at least one pair of "real" silk gloves for extra special dress-up occasions. Once the initial cost has been paid, the upkeep cost is practically nil.

Silk gloves should be handwashed in lukewarm soap or detergent suds and rinses, taking a little extra care to avoid snags.

'Homework' Boosts Typewriter Sales

More and more women are doing "homework." That's what typewriter industry executives think explains the gain in the number of portables sold in '57 as compared to previous years.

A total of 409,326 units were sold during the first six months of '57, according to James B. McCormick, vice president in charge of sales of an office machine firm.

Teenagers Don't Have Matrimony in Mind

Going Steady Means for Now, Not Forever

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

They've got rings on their fingers and bells on their saddle shoes to proclaim to the world that they're going steady, but the teenagers of America don't really mean steady from now on.

★ ★ ★

This idea of going steady intrigued us since our last survey on this problem last May showed that one out of every five youngsters interviewed had a steady friend—and of those who didn't, one out of three wishes he did.

Does this mean that America is about to witness mass marriages of child brides and child bridegrooms?

Not at all. After making a new nationwide survey on how the going-steady trend affects a teenager's view of marriage, we learned that the word "steady" has two different meanings, depending on whether you're an adult or a teenager.

★ ★ ★

In the wonderfully confused world of adolescence, a steady is something to drag to a dance or a party, but not to be dragged up the aisle.

FAR, FAR AWAY

Thoughts of getting married and facing the responsibilities of raising a family are far, far from the thoughts of today's teenaged set.

★ ★ ★

"I'm crazy about my steady," confided 19-year-old Martha Henderson of Alexandria City, Ala., "but I want to look around before I settle down."

If this sounds mixed up, it's because adults just don't dig the expression "going steady."

What Martha really means is that her steady is fine as a steady boy friend, but he is not to be confused with her future husband.

★ ★ ★

Boys and girls show they are going steady by exchanging class rings and pins, swapping bits of jewelry, wearing matching sweaters or ski jackets or swimsuits (depending on the weather), even sporting identical umbrellas.

CAUSES ALARM

This tendency to go it alone on dates and at dances has caused some alarm and much concern in many quarters. Some schools and churches have flatly forbidden the practice.

In addition to the danger of encouraging over familiarity and too close affection under synthetic conditions, the main objection seems to be that young people are shutting themselves off from the mainstream of their society at a time when they should be making many new friends so as to be in a better position, both morally and emotionally, to select the right mate.

But, our researchers found that despite the widespread going-steady custom, 73 per cent of the boys and 66 per cent of the girls liked being single and intended to stay that way for some time to come.

"I think a person should stay single as long as he is not positively sure of his life's partner," commented 17-year-old Judith Duszka of Center Line, Mich. "I do not think I am old enough to take on the responsibility of a family."

6 MAIN REASONS

Teenagers opposed to early marriages cited six main reasons:

1. Most of their friends are single.

★ ★ ★

2. Education should be completed before embarking on marriage.

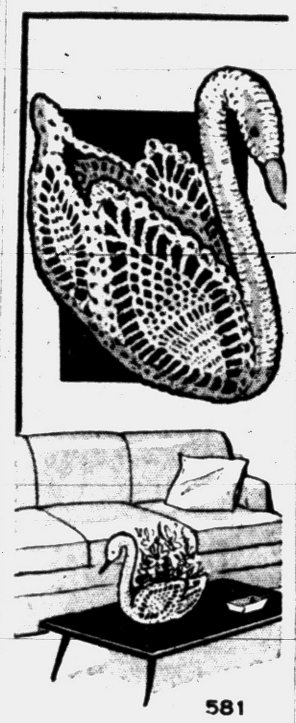

3. Most teenagers can't afford to get married.

4. Military service must be considered.

5. Marriage calls for maturity, facing responsibilities of raising a family.

6. Young people, particularly young husbands, should be well on the way toward their careers in life before marrying.

"I believe marriage is a wonderful institution," commented 16-year-old Elizabeth Massley of Buffalo, N. Y., "but before either party is 20, it is foolish."

Paper Buckets From Picnic Useful in House

CHICAGO (INS) — The paper "oaken" buckets you used for potato salad at last summer's picnics come in handy around the house.

The pint-size is ideal for electric fuses, nails, nuts and bolts, screws and washers. The quart-size buckets hold paint brushes or sockets, doorknobs, hinges, sandpaper and files.

Samples of paint can be kept in four-ounce paper cups which come with tight-fitting lids — this prevents the man of the house from borrowing glasses from your kitchen.

Paper buckets in attractive red and white striped designs can serve a functional purpose on the shelf above your kitchen sink or work surface.

The pint-size carton will hold a small philodendron plant, either in soil or water. The quart-size bucket is just right for can openers, clothespins, ice cream soda spoons, sponges and other kitchen tools.

As men dig into the earth they discover that temperatures rise about one degree for every 60 to 70 feet of the depth of the excavation.

Boys, Girls Monopolize Sidewalks

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it bad manners for people to walk three or more abreast on a city street? Many of the young boys and girls in this city do it; in fact, a group of us at women's club meeting agreed that it is a real hazard to be anywhere near a school letting out.

"The young people—but old enough to know better—swarm into the streets and then continue to walk together in large groups in every direction, instead of breaking up into pairs of friends. We'd appreciate your comments."

Answer: Although sidewalk monopolizing is very bad manners, it is much more than that when it becomes a hazard to life and limb. It seems to me to be a serious enough situation for a committee of your women's club to present to the school or city authorities.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our daughter is to be married in the spring. She was born and educated here but for the past four years has worked in a city several hundred miles away, where she met her fiance. She has made many friends in her present location and she feels that she would like to be married there.

"Many of her friends who lived here have moved away. Her father feels that etiquette dictates that she be married here in her own home town. Will you kindly give us your advice on this matter?"

Answer: Ordinarily the bride is married in her home town. But this is not a hard and fast rule and since most of her friends are in the city in which she now lives, it would be only sensible—and entirely proper—to be married where her friends are.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it would be in good taste to accept (and wear) an engagement ring from my future husband when my divorce is not yet final? I have been separated for a long time but just recently filed for divorce."

Answer: No, you should wait until your divorce is final.

New Look to Feature Pale Face

They'll Do It With Lighter Shade of Powder

PARIS (INS) — To be fashionable in 1958 women will have to be "pale-faced."

Rosy cheeks and sun-tanned complexions are out. The aim of elegant beauties in Paris is to look as delicately pale as Garbo in "Camille."

French beauty experts show how to achieve this interesting look without being anemic. The trick is done with powder.

★ ★ ★

To give the fashionable transparent quality to the face, Paris beauty experts advise a lighter shade of powder than usual. Into this powder they mix just a spot of green powder for blondes and a touch of mauve for brunettes. Those two shades don't, of course, appear as such on the face. They are only meant to neutralize the natural pink or tan of the normal skin.

REFLECTED IN HAIRDO

Hair-dresser Guillaume also proposes a very pale complexion with his new 1958 hairdo for the "Flower Lady." The hair imitates in cut and style the tousled petals of a large chrysanthemum. And the mannequins were looking as pale as camelias except for the creamy pastel colored make-up on eyes and the flowered red lips.

★ ★ ★

But this new "pale look" is by no means meant to make a girl look melancholy or sad. Helena Rubinstein teamed her newest makeup to the youngest and gayest Winter clothes in Paris by Guy Laroche.

She calls it the "happy look," using such optimistic colors as orange and pink for the lips and green for the eyes. The complexion is delicately pale to make the heavily mascara-touched eyes stand out by contrast.

Gold Star Mothers Conduct Installation

Mrs. Edna Matheny was installed as secretary and Mrs. John Bray as historian when American Gold Star Mothers Chapter Nine met Tuesday evening in the American Legion Home.

Mrs. Joe Doyle reported two Christmas baskets were presented to needy families. The next meeting will be held Jan. 22 in the Home street home of Mrs. Ruth Olsen.

Member Welcomed by Mothers Club

Mrs. Norman Troy was received as a new member of Mothers Club of Pontiac Boys Club when that group met Tuesday evening in the Boys Club. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Clarence Chamberlain, Mrs. Charles Eglen and Mrs. Leonard Noran.

Mrs. Ralph Weir and Mrs. Walter Peters have been named chairman of a Feb. 12 card party. A board meeting preceded the business meeting.

Plain Silhouette Profits From Bright Jewelry

Color is the fashion news for spring '58. Color in sunripened fruit tones such as melons, oranges, yellow peaches and mangos.

The unadorned silhouette, be it fitted or relaxed, demands jewelry to offset the severity of the unbroken line and save it from monotony.

Necklaces are more important than ever, with the longer look featured in many different types of necklaces and bibs.

★ ★ ★

Particularly new and exciting are the "cross-over" ascots in lively colors and textures. The double, or front and back, ascot will add piquant interest to your low-backed gowns.

At 40 miles above the earth the temperature ranges to 170 degrees above zero.

MAVIS B. FORS

Mrs. Arvid N. Fors of Birmingham announces the engagement of her daughter, Mavis Beverly, to Paul Douglas Furlong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis N. Furlong of Farmington. The bride-elect was graduated from the University of Michigan where her fiance is a junior. She is affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi sorority and he with Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Makes Rich Canadian Ores Available to Industry

Arctic Sea Route Valuable

By JERRY BENNETT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Northwest Passage promises to play an important part in Canada's mining industry

The recently conquered trans-Arctic waterway is destined to become a profitable sea route for transporting rich mineral desposits from the northern reaches of Canadian territory.

Its new high potential as a valuable commercial asset is revealed by Commodore O. C. S. Robertson, Arctic expert and Canadian naval attache to Washington.

He explains that as present mineral payloads are exhausted, new mines must be opened up in far northern regions. The nearby passage would provide a convenient means for getting the deposits out.

★ ★ ★

This is only one of a series of future Arctic events which promise to focus interest on the Northwest Passage for some time to come.

Next year Canadian ships will replace the U. S. Military Sea Transport Service in the task of supplying a large part of the Distant Early Warning radar stations. At the same time they will take over another job that could uncover further secrets of the famed polar waterway.

Vice Admiral John M. Will, MSTS commander, reports, "Canada will carry on the hydrographic survey work in the central Arctic which has been accomplished by MSTS during the last three years."

★ ★ ★

It was Admiral Will's painstaking probings of the frigid waters that uncovered a passage deep enough to provide DEW line cargo ships with an escape route to the East. Such a route was necessary in case ice should block their Western exit.

SURVEYS NEEDED

Robertson believes more surveys of the passage are needed to increase its safety. "We know where ships can go," he says, "but we don't know where they can't go."

Although the recent work to open the passage has been a man-sized job, Robertson credits a woman with making the project possible in the first place.

Several years ago Miss Moira Dunbar, a geographer for the Canadian Defense Research Board, was studying some aerial photographs of the Arctic waters. She noticed several ice islands floating in waters which make up part of the passage. Islands of this size could only enter areas where the water was deep.

★ ★ ★

Her findings were largely responsible for Admiral Will's decision to survey the area.

The joint U.S.-Canadian effort reached its climax in September when three Coast Guard ships and a Canadian icebreaker crossed Bellot Strait, the key link in the passage.

Since 1859 at least five smaller boats had passed through the strait. But the success of the U.S. and Canadian vessels proved for the first time that Bellot was deep enough for large ships.

It also closed another chapter on the search for a Northwest Passage which has lured explorers into the Arctic for about 400 years. In that time two others have been found, it is reported. But both were too far north to be of any use to the DEW line supply operations.

The first was found by Ronald Amundsen, a Norwegian explorer, in 1906. The second was discovered by Commodore Robertson in 1954.

Ex-Actress Gives UCLA $1½ Million

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A check for 1½ million dollars was given the UCLA medical center yesterday by former actress Marion Davies.

UCLA officials described the gift as the biggest cash contribution ever received by the university. It will be used to add to the medical center a children's wing to be named after Miss Davies.

Modern public libraries, supported by taxes of the public, were hardly known in the U.S. before 1850.

Bell Telephone Ends Plea for Rate Hike

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. wound up its plea for a $12,500,000 rate increase before the State Public Service Commission yesterday with the appearance of two key witnesses.

★ ★ ★

The rehearing of the company petition was adjourned without date while the commission, which previously had granted a $2,835,000 annual rate hike, studied the new evidence.

The phone company has said the proposed increase would mean about a five per cent boost in revenue and would amount to arcund 50 cents a month for the average customer.

★ ★ ★

Ferry B. Allen, assistant vice president, said the commission should take into consideration the effects of the company's expansion program on the investment per phone.

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

We heard a story recently about how the University of Michigan missed the boat on Jim Brown, the Cleveland Browns' fullback who played his college football at Syracuse University.

It seems that Brown, while in high school in the Long Island area of New York, was getting all kind of attention as one of the state's outstanding prep stars. He made it known to Al Wistert, one of Michigan's all-time greats of the 1948 Rose Bowl team, that he had always wanted to go to Ann Arbor.

Wistert was amazed when Brown, one of the most sought-after prep gridders in New York, conveyed this to him without ever being approached with a recruiting yarn.

★ ★ ★

Wistert hastened to set up arrangements for Brown to visit Ann Arbor and he laid this fine prospect into the hands of another official at the University.

Pleased with his part in getting Brown to his Alma Mater, Wistert was amazed when suddenly he learned that the big fullback was enrolled at Syracuse.

As the story goes, much to the dismay of Wistert, the official in whose hands Brown was placed, turned thumbs down on him as a football prospect.

★ ★ ★

This is the same Brown who was just named as the "Player-of-the-Year" and the "Rookie-of-the-Year" in the National Football League.

LOOKS TO '58 — Frank Lary, who topped the American League in victories with a 21-13 record two seasons ago, is looking for a big year in 1958 after a poor year the past season. Lary has been keeping in shape at his home in Alabama. His record last year was 11-16.

Wilson Picked AP 'Pro-Coach-of-Year'

Coach of NFL Champs Given Top Grid Honor

Cleveland's Paul Brown Runs Second in Voting With Albert Next

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

George Wilson, the Detroit Lion's 11th-hour fill-in when Buddy Parker quit last August, was voted today professional coach of the year by a panel of football writers in the annual associated press poll.

The 43-year-old Wilson earned the award when he directed the Lions to the National Football League championship with a 59-14 rout of the Cleveland Browns after a poor start which saw the Detroit team win only three of its first six games.

Wilson, a former Chicago Bears end, received 15 of the 36 votes cast to edge out Cleveland's Paul Brown by five votes. Frank Albert of the San Francisco 49ers, who lost the western division title to Detroit in a playoff, finished third with six votes. Webb Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts had four votes and Parker, who switched to the Pittsburgh Steelers after bolting Detroit, got one.

No coach ever took over a Football team under more difficult circumstances than Wilson. He was given the Lions' head post less than 24 hours after Parker dramatically walked out on the club just three days before the team's first exhibition game last August.

"This is the worst squad I've ever been associated with," Parker claimed, "I can't handle it any longer. This is a team that's dead. I'm getting out."

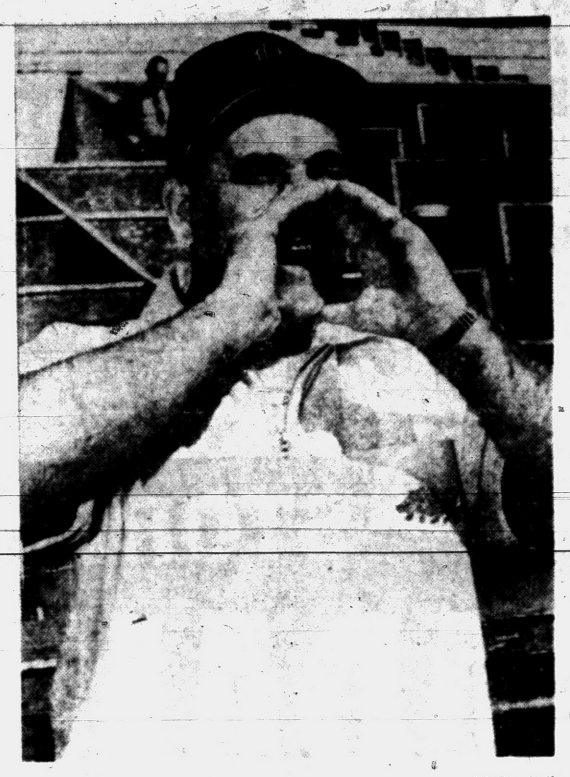

Wilson stepped into the job after eight seasons as an assistant coach in Detroit. He wasn't off to a blazing start, either. The Lions split their six exhibition games. Then the Lions lost the opener to Baltimore 34-14. The Lions won their next three, but appeared to drop out of the race when they were beaten by Los Angeles and the 49ers to make their record a modest 3-3 at the halfway mark.

In the stretch run, Detroit, with a series of amazing finishes, won five of six. That gave the Lions a tie with the 49ers for the Western Division title. In the playoff, the Lions put on a dramatic second-half spurt to win 31-27. The mauling of the Browns followed the next week and Wilson and the Lions were sitting on top of the professional football world.

Wilson brushed off all those who sought to label him a coaching genius. A sound fundamentalist, a hard worker, a diplomat and a firm believer that coaching is a stiff proposition, Wilson credited his assistants and players with bringing about the team's success.

"I can't give my staff and my players enough credit," he said. "They are the ones who are responsible."

The Detroit players think that one George Wilson had a little something to do with their success, too. So did the experts who voted for him as the coach of the year.

COACH-OF-YEAR — George Wilson, currently the coach of the Western Division All-Stars for the Pro Bowl game against the Eastern Division All-Stars Sunday, was named today as the Pro "Coach-of-the-Year," by a panel of Associated Press football writers. This was Wilson's first season as head coach in the NFL and he led the Detroit Lions to the title.

Looking at Tiger Stars During the Off-Season

(Another in a series of articles about Detroit Tiger baseball players, their winter activities and their outlook for 1958. Today we feature Frank Lary.)

★ ★ ★

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Lary has become what he calls "a timber-cutter deluxe" during the winter months that aren't so very cold down Alabama way.

"I bought myself 360 acres of land up yonder (which he explained meant right above Northport, which is right across the river from Tuscaloosa) and I've been working that land real hard."

Frank, a 20-game winner in 1956 who slipped last season, expects the winter's hard work to pay off. In previous winters he worked in a clothing store.

★ ★ ★

"I've been using that big axe about four days a week," Lary explained. "I'm getting the hard wood off the land, sawing it into logs and selling it. You don't get very much for the hard wood, though.

"By clearing away the hard stuff, I'm giving those pine seedlings a chance to grow real good. That's where the money is."

★ ★ ★

Lary also has been clearing away some of the many rabbits that feed on his land. He also has had time for some throwing with his brothers. "Just keeping loose," he said. "We have some pretty nice days down here in the winter so I don't let myself get very far out of shape."

★ ★ ★

On the day Lary was interviewed by telephone, the temperature was about 15 degrees in Detroit. He insisted it was a "chilly 50" in Northport.

Red Wings Open Crucial Weekend Series Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings, showing new life and spirit under new coach Sid Abel, clash with the Boston Bruins tonight at Olympia Stadium.

Abel said yesterday the three games coming up — tonight against Boston, Saturday afternoon against Chicago and Sunday night in New York — are "the three most important games in a row of the season."

"These are the teams we have to beat," Abel told the weekly session of the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Assn. "We've had some rough going up to now and we're going to have to battle like the devil to get into a good spot for the playoffs."

Leo Labine, injured in a fight against Montreal on New Year's Day in Boston, arrived yesterday and worked out with his team. The Bruin winger will be ready for action tonight against the Wings.

Detroit's Gordie Howe, who has a multitude of various injuries, worked out briefly and Abel said he'll be ready to play, too. There was some doubt earlier if Howe, who is in a scramble for the league scoring lead, would be able to play.

The Bruins will have a new goalie in the nets. He is Al Millar, a 28-year-old Rookie who once had a tryout with the Red Wings. Millar is replacing Don Simmons, out for a couple of weeks with a shoulder separation suffered during the Bruins' last encounter at Olympia Stadium.

Dayton Tumbles Titans, 72-59

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Dayton Flyers had an easy time in marking up their 10th basketball victory of the season last night, a 72-59 triumph over Detroit.

The Flyers, who have lost only two games, took a 7-6 lead after 4½ minutes of play and stayed in front the rest of the game.

Jack McCarthy led Dayton with 24 points. Ray Albee was high for Detroit with 17.

For the Titans it was one of their poorest shooting nights of the season, hitting on only 22 of 67 field goal attempts. From the free throw line, U. of D. hit only 15 of 30 attempts.

Dayton is now 10-2 for the season while the Titans are 6-4. Saturday night U. of D. returns home to meet St. Bonaventure.

Lakeside Cagers Tighten Grip on 1st in 'C' Loop

Lakeside boosted its lead to two full games in the Class C City League basketball race with a 64-40 victory over Town & Country Lounge last night at Pontiac Central. Henry DeWalt scored 21 points to pace Lakeside to its 4th straight win.

Griff's Grill won its 4th Class B game in a row, a 63-58 decision over Booth Homes, despite a 26-point scoring spree by the loser's Bill Dunstan.

In Class D action at Lincoln, Auburn Heights Boys Club walloped Jack's Bar & Grill, 74-10, and Pontiac Boys Club scored a 48-21 triumph over Auburn 5 & 10.

Detroit Pro Quint Gains 109-107 Win

Pistons Beat Nats

By DICK BUCK

DETROIT — When a basketball player makes a mistake which costs his team the chance to win a ball game, he usually hears about it from his coach. But what happens when this player and the coach are the same person?

★ ★ ★

Syracuse coach Paul Seymour must be wondering that to himself today after his Nats went down to defeat at the hands of the Detroit Pistons in the nightcap of an NBA doubleheader at Olympia last night, 109-107.

The coach's fatal move came with half a minute remaining in the contest and the Detroiters ahead 109-107. Seymour tossed the ball in after a timeout, then took a quick return pass and, to everyone's amazement, fired a hook-like shot from nearly thirty feet out.

The shot was off the mark and his team lost its last chance to score as the Pistons grabbed the ball and stalled the remaining time on the clock.

★ ★ ★

Harry (The Horse) Gallatin took the hero's role for Detroit, as he scored the winning basket on a 20-foot set shot with 35 seconds remaining. Gallatin finished the evening with 26 points, as did teammate George Yardley. The Nats' Dolph Schayes took game honors with 31 points.

★ ★ ★

For the Pistons this game marked a reversal of their usual scoring pattern. Coach Red Rocha's men were hot in the first half (a strange feat for them), scoring 36 points in the first quarter and adding 26 in the second for a 62-51 intermission margin.

★ ★ ★

They sagged in the third quarter, however, and saw their lead melt to eight points by the end of that stanza. Syracuse knotted the count at 92 early in the final period and from there the action was see-saw to the final buzzer.

★ ★ ★

The Nats, down 17 points at one time, fought back aided by Schayes' amazing long - distance shooting and deadly accuracy at the foul line. The visitors missed only two free throws all night. They tried 29.

★ ★ ★

Piston coach Red Rocha wasn't too surprised at this feat. "I've seen them win games where they didn't miss any," he said. As it was, the two they failed on were the margin of victory for the Pistons who moved a game closer to second place in the NBA's Western Division as the New York Knickerbockers dumped the Cincinnati Royals in the opener, 123-105.

★ ★ ★

The Knicks never let up as they swept past Cincinnati in convincing fashion with eight men hitting in double figures. Ray Felix paced the New Yorkers with 26 points. The Royals' Maurice (Big Mo) Stokes matched that total.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's Guy Sparrow, who usually sees only limited action when the New Yorkers come to Detroit, played only 19 minutes, but managed to chalk up ten points on five field goals. Sparrow played a forward position and was guarded by one of the game's better defensive players, Stokes.

West Virginia Nips Villanova, 76-75

Top Ranked Team Has Scare

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More and more, it looks as if those hustling Mountaineers of West Virginia University have that extra something that could make them THE TEAM of the 1957-58 college basketball season.

The Mounties, who assumed the No. 1 rating in The Associated Press poll after snapping North Carolina's 37-game winning streak three weeks ago, showed scoring power, skill and poise in rolling to their first 10 victories.

Now they are on record as a team that can turn up some of its greatest basketball with its back to the wall.

Exhibit "A" in gritty performances came last night when unbeaten West Virginia made it 11 straight, 76-75 over a fired-up Villanova outfit that held a 16-point lead with about 10 minutes to play.

The Mounties, fumbling and inept until then, went on a spectacular drive behind their spectacular 6-3 soph, Jerry West, a 37-point scorer for the night. With about 10 seconds left, West's field goal pulled West Virginia to within one point at 75-74 and with two seconds left Lloyd Sharrar's driving layup bagged it.

Sharrar's game-winner came after an official had taken the ball from Villanova and awarded it out of bounds to West Virginia, ruling Villanova had failed to put the ball in play within the required five seconds after West's field goal.

★ ★ ★

West Virginia's victory came in the opener of a doubleheader at the Philadelphia Palestra. Twice-beaten Temple, Holiday Festival tournament champ and 12th-ranked nationally, won its eighth in a row 64-45 over Penn State in the second game.

★ ★ ★

Eleventh ranked Maryland, a coasting 74-59 winner over Duke in an Atlantic Coast Conference game, was the only other rated team in action in the night's slim program.

Guy Rodgers, scoring 19 points, led Temple to its ninth victory in 11 starts while Maryland used a 14-point streak midway of the first half to bury Duke, which hit 27 per cent of its shots.

★ ★ ★

It was in the nature of a warm-up for the Terps, who meet North Carolina Saturday night in a key ACC game.

Dayton, 10-2 after a slow start, whipped Detroit 72-59, Louisville broke a three-game losing streak by cuffing erratic St. Louis 67-55, Wichita, missing five of 31 free throws, took an 80-54 Missouri Valley Conference test from North Texas State, and Dom Flora set a school career record of 2,006 points with 25 during Washington and Lee's 73-54 victory over Randolph-Macon, ending W&L's string of 10 defeats since Dec. 5.

★ ★ ★

Duquesne stopped Carnegie Tech 68-51 and Pitt defeated Westminster of Pennsylvania, 72-57 in a doubleheader at Pittsburgh. The Panthers' scoring ace, Don Hennon, was limited to 16.

Western Kentucky, hitting 52 percent from the field, defeated Oklahoma City 70-56 despite 26 points by the losers' Hub Reed. Four players scored in double figures, led by Wilbur Trosch with 22, in a 72-50 victory for St. Francis of Pennsylvania over St. Bonaventure. George Washington edged Georgetown, DC 80-78 with Gene Guarilia scoring 25 points. Soph Jimmy Darrow had 35 points, 20 during a seven-minute splurge in the second half, for Bowling Green, a 104-74 winner over Western Michigan.

Area Quints in Ratings

First prep basketball ratings of the year put Saginaw Valley Conference leader Flint Central atop the list with a 5-0 mark in class "A" ranks.

The Indians received recognition for their stunning 52-43 victory over defending champion Pontiac before the Christmas intermission. They have not played since.

Another SVC school, Saginaw is rated in 4th place in the early rankings and Pontiac is in 7th spot.

The Valley has a pair of hometown battles this week with Saginaw meeting Arthur Hill and Flint Northern tangling with Flint Central.

★ ★ ★

Another Oakland County school, Ferndale has grabbed a position in the elite top 10 despite the fact that the Dales have played only two games.

Another perennial power in the top ratings is Highland Park, one of Pontiac's traditional rivals.

In Class B ranks, East Lansing again gets top billing, but the area is well represented with Holly holding down 6th place and Troy, Rochester and Clarkston getting into the top 12.

Nixon Addresses Coaches at NCAA

PHILADILPHIA (AP) — The 52nd annual NCAA convention, as calm as this City of Brotherly Love, was all over today. There wasn't even any shouting.

The biggest noise of the four-day session came yesterday when the college football coaches applauded the humor and football knowledge of Vice President Nixon. The former third-string end at Whittier College, Calif. addressed the College Football Coaches Assn. at its annual luncheon. The affair honored Woody Hayes of Ohio State as coach of the year.

On the convention floor there was only a slight stir of activity and it practically all concerned one topic—a controversial proposal from the NCAA council to exempt the Army, Navy and Air Force academies from some recruiting restrictions.

The convention voted temporary acceptance of the proposal, but not before several delegates objected strongly to the waiver plan. Eastern colleges indicated they may pass a stronger restrictive rule.

The proposed rule, which the delegates will be asked to vote into effect at the 1959 convention, recognizes unique problems confronting the service academies in regard to tutoring prospective athletes so that they can meet stiff entrance requirements.

★ ★ ★

Unlike many past years, the report of the television committee was accepted and indorsed with nary a dissent. It labeled the 1957 program a success and called the attention of the 1958 committee to the possible danger of pay-TV.

Although there were no specific recommendations for a change from 1957, this year's committee was given a free hand in drawing up a 1958 football-TV program.

The '58 committee was to be named today along with other committees in the last order of business remaining to be completed.

The convention gave NCAA certification to the Aluminum Bowl game in Little Rock, Ark.; the Citricado Bowl, Escondido, Calif., and the Blue Grass Bowl at Louisville, Ky.

Nixon strongly indorsed America's sports program with entertaining remarks to the coaches in their own language of football.

After hearing the announcement of a long list of officers selectedto head the coaches association for 1958, the vice president made a reference to "my fellow vice presidents." He also joked with Hayes and several other coaches at the speakers' table.

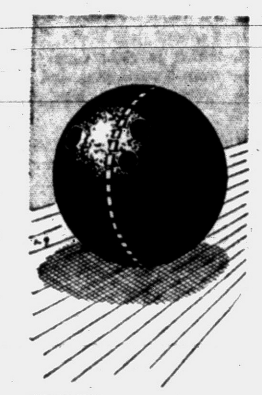

New legislation passed by the convention made it a requirement for NCAA members to sponsor teams in at least four sports, including one each in the fall, winter and spring seasons. It also established a college division small colleges cross-country championship meet.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the biggest news of the entire convention was Monday's action in which the council meted out penalties to Memphis State University and the University of Wichita for violations of the collegiate governing body's athletic code.

★ ★ ★

Although Memphis State was placed on two years probation and barred from all NCAA tournaments and co-operating events, the NCAA disclosed yesterday that the school may be permitted to defend its Sugar Bowl basketball tournament title in 1958. The Sugar Bowl is one of the events which co-operates with the NCAA, but Sugar Bowl officials informed the NCAA that they have a contract with Memphis State which predates the disciplinary action effective Jan. 6, 1958. The NCAA said if proof of contract could be shown, Memphis State would almost certainly be able to appear in the tournament.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

Are you familiar with your ball track? I mean that area on the utside of your ball over which the ball rolls time after time. If you have a consistent delivery and your ball rolls over the same area each time, your ball track will be fairly narrow. If your delivery is inconsistent and the ball rolls differently each time, your ball track will be a wide one.

Your ball track is that dull ring around the ball. The dullness comes from the dirt and alley dressing which adhere to the ball as it rolls down the alley.

Most big time bowlers' ball track is located from just below the finger holes to about two inches below the thumb hole. The track should never be over the thumb or finger holes because your ball will lose some of its stuff as it rolls over these holes and loses its grip on the alley surface.

Check your ball to see what type of ball track you have and where it is. It will conform to the type of delivery you have — consistent or inconsistent.

Gandee, Brown Will Receive Extra Pay

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions Board of Directors is going to give Sonny Gandee and Marvin Brown an extra game's pay.

When the Lions divided up their National Football League championship checks—about $4,000 per player for a full share—they left out Gandee and Brown.

Gandee, a linebacker, was hurt early in the season. Brown, a back, played four games with the Lions and was released.

3 1st Place Battles Friday

By CHUCK ABAIR

The chips are down Friday night for the basketball teams of St. Frederick, Avondale and Holly as they engage in 1st place battles in their respective leagues to highlight Oakland County's biggest schedule of the 1957-58 season.

A total of 32 games are on the docket with the majority involving the eight area loops.

It could be make or break night for St. Fred as the Rams travel to Highland Park to face undefeated Suburban Catholic leader St. Benedict.

Avondale and Holly also face their crucial contests away from home. The Yellowjackets play at Troy, while Holly goes against the big, high - scoring Northville quintet.

St. Fred, considered by many the top threat to unseat St. Ben, has already lost once in the SCL so now the Rams must keep winning to stay in contention. The Ravens have won three straight in the loop.

Avondale and Troy are co-leaders of the Oakland B. Troy has yet to lose this season while the Jackets bowed Tuesday at Waterford in an unimpressive performance and earlier to Rochester.

Holly gets a chance to prove its strength in its 2nd big test of the week. The Broncos got by Brighton Tuesday despite a "cold" night and are anxious to keep pace with Clarkston by staying unbeaten.

★ ★ ★

There are several other games of interest on the heavy slate. Inter-Lakes co-leaders Berkley and Van Dyke meet Walled Lake and Waterford, respectively, the latter tussle at Waterford. Another good one should be Farmington at Southfield.

St. Michael (0-1) and Orchard Lake St. Mary (2-1) also have SCL games. The Shamrocks play at St. Rita and the Eaglets at Mary hosts St. James in the other loop tilt.

A meeting between Ferndale and Port Huron tops the Eastern Michigan card. Birmingham goes to Mt. Clemens and Hazel Park is at home against East Detroit in other action.

Madison at Lake Orion in the Oakland B, West Bloomfield at Clarkston and Milford at Bloomfield Hills in the Wayne-Oakland, North Branch at Ortonville in the South Central and independent duels matching Royal Oak Kimball-Cranbrook and Rochester-Lapeer are some of the other features.

PLOTTING HIS MOVE — Pontiac Central's Harrison Munson bounces the ball and plans his next move as Gary Joachim (24) and Bob Young (34), both of Edsel Ford, extend guardian arms. Pontiac's John Bandy (10) waves his hand in the background. The Chiefs massacred the Dearborn cagers at the Pontiac gym Tuesday night, 77-37. Munson, who replaced Hudson Ray at center for the Chiefs, will be in the starting lineup here Friday night when Pontiac squares off against Valley rival Bay City.

Bay City Five Spells Trouble in Friday Game

Chiefs Show Better Speed Against Edsel but Wolves Are Fast

Things went pretty easy for Pontiac Central Tuesday night against Edsel Ford, but now the Chiefs get back into the big league of prep basketball with a Saginaw Valley game against Bay City Friday on the home court.

The Chiefs at this point cannot afford to lose anywhere along the line as long as Flint Central and Saginaw keep their unbeaten streaks intact, and the Wolves from Bay City could be troublesome.

Coach Bill Ullenbruch, who is no stranger to this area after guiding Walled Lake to state semi-finals a year ago, believes his ball club is about due to jell.

Bay City has always been a scrappy crew and in both games last year, including a 57-54 last second squeeker, the Wolves made it tough for the Chiefs.

★ ★ ★

Ullenbruch, a sound cage teacher, has been noted for his fast moving teams, while at St. Clair and then at Walled Lake.

"One thing we will always have is hustle," said Ullenbruch, "and combine this with a good shooting night and we could make it rough for someone."

A veteran and much taller Saginaw quintet had its troubles at Bay City before taking a 71-60 decision just before the holidays.

★ ★ ★

The Wolves have been idle since and will go into tomorrow night's game with a 1-2 record.

Pontiac Central coach Art Van Ryzin was pleased with the team's showing against Edsel Ford, although the Thunderbirds could hardly be considered competition of Saginaw Valley calibre.

John Bandy had the best night of his prep career with 23 points and Harrison Munson and Roosevelt Alexander performed well off the boards.

Titan-Navy Tilt in 'Talk Stage'

DETROIT (AP) — University of Detroit spokesmen have labeled as "premature" reports that the Titans will meet the U.S. Naval Academy in football in 1960.

★ ★ ★

John Mulroy, vice president in charge of athletics, said talk about such a game currently is "exploratory."

★ ★ ★

"Of course, we'd like to play Navy," he said, "but such a game is just in the talk stage like so many other possible games."

NORTH BACKS — The four backs who are expected to carry the offensive load for the North team in the Senior Bowl game Saturday are Walt Kowalczyk (45) of Michigan State; Ray Nitschke (31) of Illinois; Mike Sommer (with ball) of George Washington and quarterback Jim Ninowski (right) of Michigan State. These four have been working as the number one unit.

Senior Bowl Lineups Set

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Potent scoring machines were announced today for Saturday's Senior Bowl game, but the football philosophy of the opposing pro coaches was evidenced more by the defensive lineups.

* * *

South Coach Paul Brown, a strong adherent of tight defenses, and Joe Kuharich, whose North team lost 21-7 last year because it couldn't stop fullback Don Bosseler's drives, placed some of their more publicized players on the defensive units.

The offensive platoons leave little to be desired however, for the ninth annual game in which college seniors turn pro. The game will be played under pro rules.

Kuharich's offensive backfield includes Michigan State teammates Jim Ninowski, quarterback, and Walt Kowalczyk, fullback. The halfbacks are Mike Sommer, George Washington, and Ray Nitschke, Illinois. Bobby Cox, Minnesota, will alternate with Ninowski.

Brown, coach of the Cleveland Browns, will counter with quarterback George Walker, Arkansas halfbacks Phil King, Vanderbilt, and Dick Christy, All America from North Carolina State; and fullback Jimmy Taylor, Louisiana State.

The South's defensive unit will include Billy Atkins, record scorer for Auburn's national titlists Ray Brown, star of Mississippi's Sugar Bowl rout of Texas and All America linemen Bill Krisher, Oklahoma, and Charles Krueger, Texas A&M.

Atkins will team with Oklahoma ace Clendon Thomas at sideback while Brown and Bill Anderson, Tennessee, will play double safety.

* * *

Kuharich, Washington Redskin coach, will also use a double safety, consisting of Jim Van Pelt, Michigan, and Jim Shanley, of Oregon's inspired Rose Bowl team. Sidebacks will be Les Walters, Penn State end; and Bob Stransky, Colorado.

Defenders up front for the North will incude All America Alex Karras, Iowa, and Jim MCusker, Pittsburgh.

Coach Brown's "messengers"—the players who will alternate in carrying in plays from the bench—will probaby be guards Clyde Letbetter, Baylor, and Charlie Mitchell, Florida.

The South has a 5-3 edge in the series. The game will be televised nationally by NBC with a blackout within a 100-mile radius of Mobile.

Waterford in 1st Start

County Wrestlers Tangle

Waterford's 1st appearance in the sport and Pontiac's invasion of Port Huron head an action-packed wrestling schedule involving Oakland County schools tonight.

The Skippers will debut away from home against Walled Lake, also in its 1st year in the mat game. County honors will likely be decided early as Berkley invades Hazel Park in another feature match.

* * *

Another match on tap will have Farmington and Southfield battling again.

Waterford has come along well under coach Don Beedle after a delay in starting and the late arrival of some of its equipment and should make it an interesting evening at Walled Lake.

The Vikings will have the advantage of having competed in the Southeastern Michigan tournament last month as far as experience goes.

Football linemen Dennis VanSickden and Jim Teddy are two of coach Dave Smith's stalwarts. VanSickden gained a 4th place in the 175-pound class at the Southeastern meet. Teddy weighs 167.

* * *

Bobby Brown, 122, Gary Eskelinen, 133, heavyweight Bill Berger and 156-pound Marty Richardson are other Vikings who have been showing promise.

Mary Farrar, a 145-pounder, captains Waterford. Some of the other skippers who have shown up well in drills are Bill Loveland, 154, Mike Hubbell, 127, Mike Ewer, 138 and little 96-pounder Dave Sherman.

Southfield defeated Farmington 29-19 after trailing 19-3 a month ago so the Falcons will be going all out to get even.

Honor Haney at Banquet

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — e National League manager of year of the team of the year— ed Haney of the world cham- n Milwaukee Braves — today uld treasure the memory of a testimonial banquet given him by 1,000-admirers.

★ ★ ★

Warren Giles, president of the National League, headed a distinguished group of honored guests at the Beverly Hilton Hotel last night. Included were the immortal Ty Cobb, who received a standing ovation; President Joe Cairnes of the Braves, Walter O'Malley of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Manager Casey Stengel, the New York Yankee pilot who lost the World Series to Haney.

★ ★ ★

Stengel gave a typical extraneous survey of baseball dating from Cobb, Haney and through the World Series and wound up giving Haney due credit for a great job of handling the Braves.

Cobb recalled the days when Haney broke in on the Detroit club as a third baseman and related that he was an aggressive player and good hitter.

★ ★ ★

O'Malley, whose Dodgers are still looking for a home in Los Angeles, told Fred to give his wife Florence his best regards and added with a philosophical hope, "You've got a home to go to."

Cards Naming Coach Friday

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cardinals plan to announce their new head football coach tomorrow—No. 19 in the club's history.

Ray Richards resigned Saturday after the Cards finished last in the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

Managing director Walter Wolfnew said the new coach already has been chosen.

Among the rumored candidates have been Girard (Buster) Ramsey and Red Cochran, former Cardinal players, now Detroit Lions coaching assistants.

Sauer Top Comeback

CHICAGO (AP)—Outfielder Hank Sauer, 38, who hit 26 homers last season for the Giants will be honored as baseball's "Comeback Player of the Year" at the 18th Diamond Dinner of the Chicago Baseball Writers Jan. 19.

'I'm Very Happy at OSU'--Hayes

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Woody Hayes, coach of Ohio State's Rose Bowl champions, said today he had not been approached about coaching vacancies at Texas A&M and Stanford because "I imagine they don't want anybody as outspoken as me."

Hayes, who was honored as "coach of the year" by his fellow grid mentors today at the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention, told International News Service:

"I'm very happy at Ohio State and I don't have the slightest intention of leaving, at least in the forseeable future. I've been contacted about other jobs from time to time but I haven't had any serious offer this year. I guess nobody wants me."

Hayes, who has taken the Bucks to the Rose Bowl twice since going to Ohio State in 1951 and whose frank comments in the past have left his opponents — particularly Pacific Coast schools — slightly abashed, said they undoubtedly know he is set at OSU.

★ ★ ★

Hayes said he has no written contract with Ohio State and that "as far as I can recall, I'm on my second five-year gentleman's agreement."

Hayes said he hasn't been contacted by the pro's either "lately," adding facetiously: "I could see why they would want me — because of my great passing attack."

The Buckeye coach said he was "very happy to settle" for a three-point win over inspired Oregon in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

"Everybody was too nice to us out there and I suppose that's why we weren't mean enough."

Hayes cited the PCC-Big Ten pact and Rose Bowl as "great traditions" and said, "I hope to take another team back there some day."

Ohio State will be ineligible to repeat at Pasadena next year but the Big Ten champions, said Hayes, will be virtually as strong as the '57 squad which ripped through nine straight opponents after an opening day defeat.

★ ★ ★

The returnees include the entire backfield of quarterback Frank Kremblas, halfbacks Don Clark and Dick LeBeau and fullback Bob White.

Hayes, who likes to stick to the ground and grind it out, hopes to see one rule adopted liberalizing substitution.

"I think any player should be able to twice enter a quarter regardless of whether he started in the period once before."

35 Orioles to Training

BALTIMORE (AP)—A spring training roster of 35 baseball payers was announced today by the Baltimore Orioles. They will start reporting Feb. 12 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

One of the 35 is outfielder Joe Durham who will not count toward the roster limit of 40 until May 15 because he served in the Army.

Spartans Win Wild Fracas, 4-2

'M'-MSU Icers Battle

EAST LANSING (AP) — A 30-year jinx was broken by Michigan State last night with a 4-2 hockey victory over the University of Michigan in a game that for a while was a brawling near-riot.

Michigan had won 27 games and tied one since hockey was revived as a varsity sport in East Lansing in 1950.

There was only one previous Spartan victory in the series and that was back in 1928.

★ ★ ★

Wild fighting broke out in the second period with all six men on both sides exchanging punches and some swinging sticks. It was 10 minutes before play could be resumed.

Only the fact that coaches kept the reserves on the bench prevented the game from turning into a riot.

An unidentified spectator was hit by one of the swinging sticks and had three stitches taken for a scalp cut.

★ ★ ★

Major penalties were assessed against Barry Hayton and Ross Hudson of Michigan and Bruno Pollesel and Dick Hamilton of State, all thrown out of the game.

Michigan State jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Bill MacKenzie and Terry Moroney. Ross Parke scored for State in the second period and Fred Devuono in the third.

Michigan goals were by Bobbie Watts in the second period and Neal McDonald in the third.

★ ★ ★

The Spartans peppered Michigan goalie Ross Childs who was credited with 34 saves. Joe Selinger had 25 saves for Michigan State.

Both teams now have 2-3 records in the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League.

The WIHL, faced with an uncertain future after the withdrawal of three Big Ten schools, appears ready to continue operation, perhaps with some rules changes.

★ ★ ★

Michigan, Michigan State and Minnesota have given notice they will pull out, effective next season. The decision climaxed a series of disputes over conflicting eligibility rules.

Dick Contino Bankruptcy Raises Question — Why?

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How does a well-known star, capable of earning $1,500 a week and not given to high living, manage to go bankrupt?

This is what I asked Dick Contino, the handsome accordionist who last week filed a bankruptcy petition listing $51,983 in debts.

★ ★ ★

The answer would be simple if the 28-year-old Fresno boy threw his money around. But he doesn't. He lives comfortably, but not lavishly by Hollywood standards. He drives a medium-priced 1957 car. He lives in a $140-a-month Glendale apartment with his wife, beauteous Leigh Snowden, and their 3-week-old daughter.

So how did it happen?

"I can't tell exactly," Dick said. "It's all very complicated, and it goes back a few years."

★ ★ ★

He served a term at McNeil Island Federal Prison in 1951 as a draft dodger, later went into the Army and saw duty in Korea. He returned to resume his career. Despite his fears, he did very well.

The start of his financial downfall, he said, was an engagement in Reno. The income tax people discounted some expenses for his father, who always traveled with him. The government picked up the entire Reno check.

★ ★ ★

"I suppose I could have fought it," Dick said, "but I was like the kid who touched a hot stove. I had come out of McNeil Island and out of the Army, and I didn't want any more trouble with the government. I said to let them take the money."

Night club bookings became scarce. Maybe it was bad nitery business generally. Maybe it was fear of the draft-dodger name-calling. Dick took whatever jobs he could find, jumping all over the country and running up traveling expenses.

★ ★ ★

"Then I was talked into starting my own band," he said. "They told me Lawrence Welk had made a success, maybe I could. But they didn't tell me I would have to foot all the bills."

The band did good business, but Dick was snowed under by the bills. Owing money to a former agent and to Unce Sam, he had no other choice but bankruptcy. But he's hopeful about the future and wants to organize a new act that will make the most of his talents and get him out of his financial hole.

Leonard Wins Post on Welfare Board

Thomas J. Leonard, newly appointed manager of the Oakland County Infirmary, has been elected to the Oakland County Social Welfare Board as secretary.

★ ★ ★

The combined positions put Leonard's salary at $12,000, under a new arrangement approved by the Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

John A. MacDonald has been re-elected as chairman, a post he has held since the board was formed in 1939. George Burt was re-elected treasurer.

★ ★ ★

The former secretary, Charles Hamilton, resigned in October.

The welfare board governs the activities of the county's large Social Welfare Department.

Bandit Holds Up Priests at St. Mary's in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — A lone bandit armed with a 12-inch knife and a rolling pin broke into the rectory of St. Mary's Catholic Church near Detroit Police Headquarters early today and forced two priests to give him, nearly $1,000.

★ ★ ★

One of the priests, Father Henry Thiefels, 65, pastor of the church, told police the intruder struck him on the head with a flashlight while they were inside a walk-in vault.

The other priest is Father Paul Murray, 41.

★ ★ ★

The bandit locked the priests in the basement of the rectory before fleeing.

Jackson Prison Inmate Dies After Exposure

JACKSON (AP)—Elijah Wilson, 40, an inmate of Southern Michigan Prison, died yesterday after suffering exposure in an unheated building at the Dalton Prison Farm.

★ ★ ★

Wilson was found Dec. 26 after being missing since Dec. 13. His feet, frozen when he was found, were later amputated at University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

★ ★ ★

A trusty, he was serving a 6 to 20-year term for assault and attempted robbery in Detroit.

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — Fred L. Doelker, 68, a retired vice president of Grace Steamship Line, died in a duck blind yesterday.

GOP Leaders Study Tax Hike

Dislike Increase in Levy on Intangibles, but Can't Risk Bankruptcy

LANSING (AP) — Republican legislative leaders agreed reluctantly today to consider raising the state tax on intangibles after hearing that the state faces bankruptcy in May.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Williams has called for a 21-billion-dollar-a-year increase in the levy on stocks, bonds and other paper assets but doesn't expect to have a bill ready for 10 days or so.

At a conference in his office yesterday, Williams told legislative taxation experts that by the first or second week of May the state probably will have a stack of 30 million dollars in unpaid bills unless something is done.

The governor said that until then the state can likely "get by through shifting monies from one pocket to the other." As he talked, the legislators listened soberly.

★ ★ ★

Afterwards, while questioning the outlook was as dark as painted by Williams, several Republicans said the governor's plan would have to receive serious consideration.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), former Senate taxation committee chairman, told newsmen:

"We're not going to try to kill it right now. We are going to look into it, much as some of us dislike the intangibles tax."

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), House taxation chairman, said he, too, wanted to find out more about the facts behind the governor's picture of things.

★ ★ ★

"If conditions are as shown on his graphs, we will just be out of cash. We will have to do something," he said.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, Republican majority leader, blamed the governor's 1957-58 revenue estimates for getting the state in the hole.

"I am glad he recognized that our budget was based on his revenue estimates," Beadle said.

Williams has said he would recommend an intangibles tax increase to put the levy on about the same basis as the corresponding tax in Ohio.

Sammy Davis to Wed Dancer in Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS) — Sammy Davis Jr., the talented singer and dancer, will be married tomorrow in Las Vegas to Loray White, also a dancer.

Davis confirmed last night that he had been engaged secretly for almost two months. He said he has known Miss White for the past three years.

★ ★ ★

He said the reason they made no previous announcement was because Miss White was having a previous Mexican marriage annulled.

The couple will be married by a justice of the peace and actor Jeff Chandler will be best man. Chandler has been one of young Davis' best friends and when Sammy lost the sight of one eye in an automobile accident in November, 1954, Chandler filled in for him at a night club engagement.

Both Davis and Miss White are currently appearing professionally in Las Vegas. They will not go on a honeymoon until after they finish their engagements.

It will be the first marriage for Davis.

Signs to Direct Drivers to Gas, Food, Lodging

LANSING (AP)— Plans are being formulated for a uniform system of signs to direct motorists on new expressways to food, lodging and gasoline, the State Highway Department said today.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said federal regulations forbid the establishment of service facilities within the roadways of the new expressways.

This provision, Mackie said, protects business concerns on old routes replaced by the expressways.

The signs will direct motorists to service facilities off the new expressways. Mackie said the program will be announced following conferences later this month with tourist and resort association officials.

20th Century-Fox Plans Development on Its Lot

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Twentieth Century-Fox has announced plans for 400 million dollars' worth of apartments and other structures on 176 of its cinematically historic acres.

★ ★ ★

Universal-International is reported to have been offered 35 million for its 448 acres — $78,125 an acre—with a similar residential and business development planned.

A U-I official would neither confirm nor deny the report yesterday, but 20th Century-Fox announced:

★ ★ ★

On land where Tom Mix once stabled his horses, a 176-acre center of apartments, offices and stores will rise. It will cost 300 million dollars and will include a 4,000-seat theater for movie premieres, a film museum and a 1,000-room hotel.

There will be 20-story apartments, a 30-story office building and parking for 30,000 cars.

"Twentieth Century City," as it's to be called, is expected to be completed within seven years.

★ ★ ★

The project will mean razing some famous sets including Bernadette's village, Shirley Temple's Southern mansion, Bangkok's harbor of "The King and I" and the market place of "The Robe."

But the studio is staying in the movie business.

"We think motion pictures are going to be greater than ever," said Lew Schreiber, studio executive. "We are going to make more and better pictures and will invest 12 million dollars to enlarge our studio facilities and make a more compact operation."

★ ★ ★

"Our back lot will be moved to our 2,300-acre ranch at Malibu."

In the published report concerning Universal-International, the prospective buyer was not named.

★ ★ ★

Rumors in local trade circles have had it that U-I might merge with Warner Brothers or rent space on that firm's Burbank lot.

Sea 'Mining' Failure

Caution Prevails on Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed in quiet trading early today.

★ ★ ★

Leading stocks showed narrow changes and several were unchanged.

★ ★ ★

Wall Street was awaiting President Eisenhower's State of the Union message to cut it as to the immediate outlook.

The opening was fairly active, but showed nothing in the way of outstanding group action. A mood of caution prevailed. Production cuts and slow retail sales in the auto industry, the drop in the price of copper and a continuation of the cut in crude oil prices in the southwest were factors.

Steels, aircrafts, oils, rails and nonferrous metals were narrowly mixed. Motors and chemicals drifted off. Airlines showed slight gains.

★ ★ ★

Cement stocks were irregular after their gains of yesterday on the report from Commerce Secretary Weeks that the federal highway program would cost 10 billion dollars more than previously estimated.

★ ★ ★

Among slight gainers were United Aircraft, Lockheed, International Nickel, Consolidated Edison, Lehigh Portland Cement and American Tobacco.

Sinclair and United Air Lines also were ahead.

And while he lies in peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HARry W. Haynes, who passed away January 9, 1953.

Exercise Curbs Heart Disease

Project Shows Many Do Mild Calisthenic for Short Periods

EAST LANSING (INS — Businessmen and others who take time out for regular exercise may be saving themselves from the nation's number one killer—heart disease.

This fact is clearly indicated by the evidence gained from a recent research project at Michigan State University.

* * *

Thirty-one university staff members, mostly 40 to 55 years old, participated in the experiment. Fifteen followed their usual routines of teaching classes and, aside from walking, getting little exercise. The 16 others took part in a three-month, noon-hour calisthenics and swimming class.

The researchers pointed out the program was about what is possible in a busy man's routine —two or three one-hour exercise periods a week.

Investigators were mainly interested in finding out the effects exercise has on the blood cholesterol level. It is known that individuals with high levels of cholesterol are more prone to heart attacks.

* * *

Dr. Henry J. Montoye, director of the study, said cholesterol, a fat substance, tends to build up in the blood of some people, particularly middle-aged men. These fat deposits may thicken artery walls, he said, making the individual more liable to heart disease.

Five of the 31 uersons in the research project were classified as "High Cholesterols." Two were put in the group that followed its normal routine, while three went into the exercise group.

The three "high cholesterals" who exercised dropped to normal by the end of the three months. The two in the control group who took no regular exercises remained "high."

* * *

Those with "normal" cholesterol levels at the beginning remained unchanged by the exercises.

Dr. Montoye, while admitting the finds were based on a limited number of cases, believes "the trend is there, particularly in view of similar findings by other researchers."

Unmarked Driver Keeps Record Clean

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — After driving 3¼ million miles in over 40 years, Lewis E. Wright Jr. of Columbia got his first ticket — a summons for a parking meter violation.

* * *

Mildly ruffled, Wright went to the police station and protested. The name and address were his all right, Wright said, but the license number of the overparked car certainly wasn't.

* * *

Police quickly admitted a mistake had been made. The summons was cancelled, leaving Wright's traffic record unmarred.

Circuit Court Hearing on Assault Charge Set

James Calvin, 30, of 600 Bloomfield Ave., was bound over to Circuit Court at his examination yesterday in Municipal Court.

Calvin is accused of felonious assault. He is charged with shooting up the car of John Brown, 335 Central St.

His arraignment in Circuit Court is set for Jan. 13.

20 Patients Escape Fire at Old Folks' Home

PAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Twenty elderly patients, including eight invalids, were carried from an old folks' home yesterday as it went up in flames.

There were no injuries. The patients were transferred to two hospitals.

Firemen said the fire apparently was caused by faulty wiring. There was no estimate of damage.

Family Growing Fast

PETOSKEY (AP) — The Richard Smith family at this northern Michigan town is growing fast. Mrs. Smith, 22, gave birth yesterday to her second set of twin girls in 18 months. The comment of the father, a gasoline station attendant: He plans to build an addition to their home.

Japan Tea Exports Dip

TOKYO — Japan produced 156,000,000 pounds of tea in 1956, a 3 per cent drop from 1955. Tea exports, at 22,600,000 pounds, were 29 per cent under the 1955 figure.

Jackie Gleason to Go on Diet for a Change

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Jackie Gleason had himself surveyed on his return from Europe and then told me, "I hope to escape TV this year and do a movie—and I'm going to lose 70 pounds in the next few months and become a livin' doll!" His trip was a culinary triumph — he's now promising to lose twice as much as he was promising to lose before he left.

WILSON

Rita Hayworth and Jim Hill, at the Los Angeles Open, were asked when they're getting married. ('Twas to have been more than a week ago.) "Pretty soon," Jim said mysteriously . . . Prince Philip's pal Michael Parker is flittin' in Florida with Nancy Oakes . . . Jack Paar has the only Maxwell that's older than Jack Benny's claims Tex O'Rourke.

Hordes of people—at least two or three—have asked me, "Why not pick the Wilson Girl?" One even suggested a Beauty Battle to choose several for a cafe or TV chorus line. Since my B.W. approved — the first nominee (by me) is Claire Fitzpatrick, now in the "all-Texas" chorus in Las Vegas. (She's actually from Baldwin, L.I.) If you send in pictures, be sure to list height, weight, age, hip, waist, bust and dress size, color of hair and eyes, and experience. Phone number NOT required.

CLAIRE

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Ex-Miss Sweden Zahra Norbo, one of Lee Strasberg's best students, loses her accent by reading Stanislavsky aloud, just to herself. NBC hunting the varmit spreading stories that Steve Allen wants to quit, blames a "disgruntled ex-employe" . . . Walter Slezak shaved off his goatee for TV. Feels lighter already . . . Then there were these three Hollywood children playing house. "I'll be the mommy," said the little girl to the two little boys, "and you be the poppy—and you, Johnny," (hesitating momentarily) "be the divorce lawyer."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There's a new Texas quiz show —the prize is a boat, fully equipped with crew, motor and river.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: You can always pick out the hypochondriac in a nudist camp—he's the one carrying a thermometer behind his ear.

Eartha Kitt acted as her own stand-in for some scenes in "St. Louis Blues," and Nat Cole said, "Ah, a do-it-yourself Kitt." . . . That's earl, brother.

Sees Bright Prospects for Government Lottery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' No. 1 advocate of a government-run lottery said today prospects never were brighter.

"Not that I am so naive I think my lottery bill will pass right away," added Rep. Paul H. Fino. "But things are moving our way."

* * *

Fino, a well-groomed Republican from a prosperous middle-class New York City district, said the government can have a yearly income boost of at least 10 billion dollars without new taxes any time Congress authorizes a lottery. He said two things encourage him to think the time may be coming:

* * *

1. The drive to pour more funds into military and scientific efforts to counter Soviet gains. "Maybe you can balance a 74-billion-dollar budget on paper," he remarked, "but when they really start spending. . . ."

2. A swing in pubic sentiment he said is evidenced by such things as New Yorkers' referendum vote last November to legalize bingo.

* * *

As he has at regular intervals since he came to Congress in 1953, Fino took the floor to advise his colleagues they can't afford to neglect such a bonanza as a "well regulated, all-government-run lottery."

* * *

Fino's bill would set up a federal commission to make the rules and administer the lottery. "Tickets would be printed by the Bureau of Engraving—the bureau that prints the money," he said. "They wouldn't be sold by street vendors, but at post offices, just like stamps."

Living Standard in Canada Higher

OTTAWA (AP)—A university professor's study says average living standards in Canada are higher than in Britain or the rest of Western Europe but 20 to 30 per cent below the United States.

* * *

Prof. David W. Slater of Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., prepared the report for the Gordon Royal Commission surveying Canada's economic prospects. It was made public today.

* * *

Slater said living standard differences are greatest in ownership of such durable consumer goods as refrigerators, cars and televisions sets. Canadian consumer prices are substantially higher than U.S. prices because of higher taxes and tarrifs plus greater distribution costs in the smaller market, the study added.

Benjamin Franklin proposed the first subscription library to the public, an idea which became firmly rooted.

WALTER BRENNAN

She Says Work Prevents Aging

3-Time Oscar Winner Now Starring in TV's 'The Real McCoys'

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — At 63, with three Academy Awards on his mantelpiece, Walter Brennan is forced to keep working out of sheer necessity.

* * *

His wife doesn't want him sitting around the house gathering dust with his Oscars.

That's just about the only reason the professional oldster, of scores of motion pictures and now ABC-TV's "The Real McCoys" (Thursday, 8:30 p.m.) keeps plugging away—that and a measure of personal satisfaction.

Financially, Brennan has no problems. Unlike many of his contemporaries, he has managed to salvage from his healthy paychecks over the years several socksful of that stuff that buys everything but health and happiness—and will make at least the down-payments on those.

* * *

His holdings include, among other things, a 12,000-acre cattle ranch, complete with cattle, in Oregon, a theater, a motel and a 10-acre chunk of the San Fernando Valley, on which he lives in an "old shack" he calls Shangri-La. "They had to chase me for two years to do this television show," he admits with a grin. "I thought TV was the carnival business, and anyway, I didn't want to work that hard.

* * *

"But my wife said, 'You go on out and keep working—that's the only thing that will keep you young.' So here I am."

Which is something of a paradox because Brennan has been "keeping young" all these years by portraying ancients.

In the past three decades, he has rarely acted his age until recently, when he finally caught up with his professional characterization.

* * *

The slightly nasal speech—with his Boston origin stamped on every line—the lanky, sinewy frame and the weather-beaten look that enabled him to look effectively elderly made him probably the highest-salaried character actor of his time in motion pictures.

OLD IN HIS 30S

"I guess I was in my early 30s when I started doing old man roles," he recalls. "I used to try to analyze them—how does an old man act; what does he do? I found out it's all up here."

* * *

Brennan tapped the side of his head, with its thinning gray hair.

"You have to think old. That's what being old is, really. I suppose I started playing old men because, as younger people do, I could see the humor in an old man that an old man can't see in himself.

"Now all I have to do is take off my hat to play them, and let me tell you that I don't see anything funny about it any more either."

Denver Pedestrians Pay to Wallop Car

DENVER (INS) — Pedestrians who are angry at automobiles can go to a Denver filling station and give physical vent to their ire.

An old auto has been drained of oil and gas, stripped of glass. For 25 cents a pedestrian can take one good revengeful wallop at the old wreck with a sledge hammer.

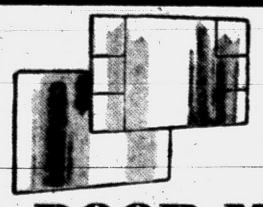

The money goes to a local auto club to further development of a timing strip — for hot rod automobiles.

Salmon lay about 1,000 egs for every pound of their own total "They had to chase me for two weight.

Mothers Visit Prisoner Sons

American Moms Report Two Held in Red China Looking Fit

HONG KONG (AP) — An American mother was reunited today in Shanghai with her son imprisoned for life by the Chinese Communists on espionage charges. She had not seen him in 11 years.

"I feel wonderful," said Mrs. Ruth Redmond of Yonkers, N.Y., in a telephone conversation with Hong Kong. "Hugh is looking very good."

★ ★ ★

Hugh, a 38-year-old former businessman in Shanghai, has been held by the Reds since 1951.

Another mother, Mrs. Mary Downey of New Britain, Conn., also saw her son, John, in a prison at Peiping, it was reported from the Red Chinese capital. She found him "very fit and in good spirits," the report said.

Mrs. Downey and a younger son, William, visited the prisoner for two hours. He has been imprisoned since 1952 on a life sentence on espionage charges.

Mrs. Downey and William arrived in Peiping with Mrs. Jessie Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., who is to see her son Richard. He is serving a 20-year sentence, also on espionage charges.

Authorities at the gray-walled prison told Mrs. Downey she and Mrs. Fecteau would be allowed to see their sons three times a week until their Chinese visas expire Jan. 19.

Quarrel Over Tax Ends in Death for 2

CLOVERDALE, Ill. (INS) — An elderly farmer shot and killed his daughter-in-law, critically wounded his son and then took his own life in a argument over income tax yesterday.

Du Page County Sheriff Stanley Lynch reported that Edward Stark, 65, and his daughter-in-law, Jeanette, 39, quarrelled over their 1957 income tax returns in a farmhouse near Cloverdale, eight miles north of Wheaton.

★ ★ ★

The sheriff said Stark suddenly seized a 12-gauge shotgun and fired a blast at the woman, killing her.

When the farmer's wife and son, Edward Jr., rushed into the house, he fired another blast which struck the younger man in the chest.

Stark then shot himself in the head.

Civic Leader Admits $964 Bank Robbery

CHICAGO (INS) — A respected civic leader of Morris, Ill., has admitted he turned to bank robbery to get out of financial difficulties.

★ ★ ★

Maynard Davis, 50, boy scout leader, a member of the Morris School Board and father of three sons, surrendered to Sheriff John Olson yesterday.

He confessed that he robbed the bank at nearby Seneca Tuesday and turned over $757 of the $964 loot.

Sheriff Olson quoted Davis as saying: "I was afraid I'd get caught and I couldn't sleep with my conscience."

An unmasked man entered the Seneca bank, talked to the teller, Elmer Moier, about buying a saloon, then drew a pistol, scooped up $964 and fled.

★ ★ ★

Olson said Davis told him that in his flight from the bank he approached a road block set by police for the bank robber and was waved through by officers who recognized him.

New Racket Hits Long Island Stores

MINEOLA, N.Y. (INS) — A slim young blonde who posed as an actress and a man believed to be her husband were sought by police today in a racket that netted thousands of dollars from Long Island stores.

Police described the swindle as follows:

★ ★ ★

The pair would enter an appliance store and ask to see a 21-inch TV set. Then, the blonde would request that the salesman demonstrate a late-model washer. They would have both items delivered to a room they had rented in the neighborhood and pay by check.

Immediately after arrival of the appliances they would load the loot in their car and move to another location. Of course, the check would bounce.

As part of her pose as an actress, the blonde in one store sang a chorus with a group of singers appearing on the set she ordered.

Police say that nearly a dozen stores have fallen for the racket.

About 42 per cent of U.S. farms were operated by tenants in 1935, as compared with about 27 per cent in 1950, according to the official tabulations of the U.S. census report.

Long Lines Bargainers Resume Efforts Today

NEW YORK (INS)—Long lines telephone negotiators were set to return to the bargaining table today, with renewed hopes of breaking the work contract deadlock that has threatened a nationwide strike.

A spokesman for the American Telephone and Telgraph Co. said after the talks broke up last night that the AT&T was encouraged by the day's negotiations.

Killed on Expressway

DETROIT (AP) — A man who parked his car on the shoulder of Edsel Ford Expressway and walked into traffic was struck and killed by a truck last night. Dead is William Freeman, 53, of Detroit. Police said they did not know why he had stopped his car on the expressway and tried to walk across it.
