

Ballot Bill Okay Spurs Districting Action

LANSING (AP) — House Republicans, spurred to action by Senate approval of the "Massachusetts ballot" bill, agreed today to take steps toward final adoption of a congressional redistricting plan.

They decided in caucus to refuse to concur in Senate changes to a congressional scheme already approved—the intent being to send the bill to a House-Senate conference for final shaping.

House Speaker, Allison Green, R-Kingston, predicted that with the legislative logjam finally broken, chances were good that lawmakers may be able to wind up virtually all their work by tomorrow.

The stalemate of many weeks was ended last night when Republicans rammed the controversial ballot bill, already passed by the House, through the Senate on a party-line, 19-11 vote.

Passage of the ballot bill was in compliance with demands by Green and other House GOP leaders, who have made its adoption a condition for House action on redistricting.

COULD WIPE OUT

Senate approval of the bill, which would wipe out the straight party ticket system of voting in Michigan, cleared the measure to be sent to Gov. George W. Romney, who has termed it "desirable but not essential."

Democrats immediately declared they would petition for a referendum, however, that would prevent the new ballot from being used in the fall election.

Whatever congressional plan is produced by a conference, it is likely to be one which will at least maintain the present 11-8 Republican edge in congress.

House GOP leaders have favored "Plan C," a House-adopted scheme which probably would give Republicans at least one more seat, based on past voting trends.

It also is the plan which reportedly is favored by the 11 Michigan Republicans in Congress.

The modified Plan C also was designed to meet objections to cutting county lines. It would cut only one outstate county line.

Gov. Wallace Loses by Close Margin to Johnson Supporter

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, bearing the shield of President Johnson, repelled the invasion of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace in a Maryland presidential primary clouded today by a close vote and a murky legal question.

In a torrid Democratic race pinned on his opposition to the civil rights bill pending in the Senate, Wallace drew 214,028 votes yesterday, 42.7 per cent of the party total.

Threats Mar Cuban Fete

Sabotage Reported; Army Put on Alert

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuba observed the 62nd anniversary of its independence from Spain today amid reports of sabotage and threats of armed action against the Communist dictatorship of Fidel Castro.

This was the day on which Manuel Ray, Castro's first minister of public works, promised to be fighting in Cuba against his former chief.

From Havana, the Associated Press reported that Cuban armed forces were placed on a state of alert and all military leave was canceled.

Then the telephone line went dead, not unusual for circuits between Cuba and the United States.

PLAN ACTIONS

Headquarters of the three groups said only that they still plan to carry guerrilla warfare, sabotage and subversion to their homeland soon.

A shortwave broadcast purporting to originate inside Cuba said this morning commands of the anti-Castro student directorate, still an outer exile group, had burned hundreds of acres of sugar cane in eastern Cuba.

GM Union Delegates Say Program 'Must Be Part of Contract'

DETROIT (AP) — A group of United Auto Workers Union delegates from General Motors plants last night began a push for an early retirement plan that could give some workers in their early 50s as much as $400 a month.

About 100 of the 400 delegates to the national GM Council meeting which began today adopted the policy in a pre-council caucus.

The delegates said in a resolution they won't ratify any labor contract negotiated this year unless their plan is included.

Auto industry labor negotiations are scheduled this summer.

Delegates said they would back a $400-a-month early retirement plan reportedly supported by UAW President Walter P. Reuther if Reuther accepts "in writing a clause making retirement possible at full benefits before age 60."

The plan attributed to Reuther proposes full benefits at age 60 after 25 years service.

CAUCUS RESOLUTION

The caucus resolution pledged delegates to a "factor 85" clause. This calls for any UAW worker to retire after he has accrued any combination of service and age totaling 85.

National UAW councils from GM, Ford and Chrysler began debate today to formulate specific demands for contract negotiations in July. Current three-year contracts with the Big Three automakers expire Aug. 31.

U.S. Finds 40 Mikes in Moscow Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. security agents have dug more than 40 secret microphones out of the walls of the American Embassy building in Moscow during the past month and are searching for others which may still be hidden in the building.

Officials are investigating to determine if any important secret information was obtained by the Soviets through the microphone network.

The story of the hidden microphones was disclosed by the State Department yesterday.

A statement by the department's security chief, G. Marvin Gentile, said indications are the devices were "placed in the building prior to its occupancy by the United States" 11 years ago.

Officials said that not counting the newly found network, since 1949 more than 130 listening devices of various types were discovered and removed from U.S. Embassy buildings in Moscow and other eastern European capitals.

They said any information losses which may have occurred through the microphone network were probably limited by "the measures taken for protection against such a possibility."

This apparently referred to the fact that all employees of embassies in Communist countries are warned frequently that their offices and residences may be bugged and are cautioned against discussing secret information where it might be picked up.

Dedicate Lab at OU Meeting

Moved to Campus Under Terms of Grant

An all-day symposium, featuring five physicists, served yesterday to dedicate Oakland University's new Kettering Magnetics Laboratory.

The laboratory has been moved from Dayton, Ohio, to the Oakland campus under terms of a $120,000 grant from the Kettering Foundation.

Participating in the physics symposium were Gifford G. Scott, senior research physicist in the physics department at General Motors Corp.; John H. Van Vleck, professor of mathematics and natural philosophy at Harvard University; and Sherwood K. Haynes, chairman of the physics department at Michigan State University.

Also participating were William M. Fairbank of Stanford University and Alexander J. Dessler of Rice University.

Chancellor D. B. Varner welcomed the 81 scientists from universities, industry and government.

Scott, a coworker of the late Charles F. Kettering, presented the laboratory's history.

Prof. Van Vleck reviewed the history and theory of gyromagnetism.

Prof. Haynes described experiments involving slow electrons and the iron-free spectrometer, needed to study these electrons.

Prof. Fairbank talked of fundamental experiments which might be performed in very low electric and magnetic fields.

Prof. Dessler who has pursued a career in space physics, discussed the interaction of the interplanetary medium with the geomagnetic field.

Equipment Best —McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee quickly and unanimously approved today an added $125 million in military and economic aid for South Viet Nam's struggle against communism.

Even as it acted, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara went before the armed services committee, and said American soldiers in Viet Nam "are receiving the best equipment available for the unique task at hand."

There have been charges that use of obsolete planes had caused the deaths of two American fliers.

McNamara and other top officials presented the case for stepped-up aid to Viet Nam to the foreign affairs group yesterday.

The committee voted today to add $55 million to military assistance, and $70 million to economic aid, a total of $125 million, as President Johnson had asked.

The vote on the first increase was 25-0, and on the second 24-0. Committee Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., said.

Two Republican amendments, which Morgan said would have removed flexibility from these programs in Viet Nam, were defeated.

RELEASED COPY

The armed services committee released a copy of the statement McNamara presented to it in closed session.

The phrasing "the best equipment available" was the only reference by McNamara to the charges about the obsolete planes.

But members of the committee were expected to question him closely about the matter during the closed session.

The chairman, Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., said in an opening statement, also released by the committee, that "I want every (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Reds Capture Key Posts in Laos Fighting

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The last positions held by neutralist forces in the Plain des Jarres region have fallen to the Communists, Premier Souvanna Phouma announced today.

Neutralist Gen. Kong Le abandoned his emergency command post and withdrew further southwest in the face of continuing Communist pressure, a spokesman for Souvanna said.

Control of the strategic Plain des Jarres opens the way for invasion of the whole of Indochina (Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia).

The Communist victory also makes possible the capture of the Mekong River town of Pakse, thus posing a new threat to Thailand.

WESTERN EDGE

Muon Phan, perched on the western edge of the Plain des Jarres, was Kong Le's original headquarters site which the Communists took Monday after an offensive over the weekend.

Spring Weather Will Linger for Next Few Days

Wonderful spring weather will be with us for the next few days. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts fair and cool tonight with temperatures in the mid 40s, and fair and warmer tomorrow and Friday with the high rising to near 76.

A little rainfall forecast for the weekend will measure less than one quarter inch in scattered showers or thunderstorms.

Morning northerly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will become variable at 8 to 12 m.p.h. tonight.

Forty-three was the low reading in downtown Pontiac registered at 2 p.m.

City Approves R20 Contract

City Commissioners unanimously approved a new loan and grant contract for the city's R20 urban renewal project last night.

The move amounted to formal adoption of a new revised R20 budget which will free some $900,000 in federal capital funds to keep the project operating.

City officials had been waiting several months for federal approval of the proposed budget revisions. Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates announced yesterday that federal officials had okayed the new budget.

Commission action on the new loan and grant contract will now enable Bates to file a formal request for the federal funds.

"We expect to have the money in about three weeks, maybe less," Bates said. The loan and grant contract is an integral part of the budget.

SETS IN MOTION
It sets in motion a series of grants as specified in the budget itself to finance urban renewal operations.

The original R20 budget estimated the net project cost at $3,429,976. The new budget puts it at $6,047,279.

In revising cost estimates, the city's share of the net cost has increased from $1,146,659 to $2,015,700.

However, the $689,101 hike in Pontiac's share can be covered by a 100 per cent credit against local costs, which federal officials have approved for a proposed $1.2-million parking structure in the R20 project.

BY BOND SALE
The city tentatively plans to build the structure through the sale of revenue bonds.

The bonds would be paid by revenue from fees for parking in the same manner the city's municipal parking lots are financed by revenues from parking meters.

Thus, if the structure is built through a revenue bond issue and actual revenues from parking fees meet the annual requirements for retiring bonds, the city could pay its share of R20 costs without dipping into local tax revenues.

Trades Mink Mattress for Bore Prison Bunk

ROME (UPI) — Mrs. Lillian Vulpianti, 30, was in a bare prison cell today after sleeping for a week on a mattress worth $32.00. Police arrested Mrs. Vulpianti yesterday on charges of receiving stolen goods. When police raided her home, they found her mattress was stuffed with 500 mink furs, eight mink coats and 20 astrakhan hats — all stolen from a Rome shop last week.

Days of Old Revived; Lancers to Joust Again

LONDON (AP) — The National Trust announced today that it is going to revive the ancient sport of jousting, the medieval game of knocking his opponent off his horse with a lance.

"Every effort will be made to avoid bloodshed," explained Col. Anthony Bullivant, "but a first aid team will stand by just in case."

The National Trust is a government organization that looks after state-owned and other historical property that has been willed to the nation.

The jousting will be part of a 2,500-pound ($7,000) sports tournament to be held June 27 on the grounds of the Elizabethan Montacute House near Yeovil in County Somerset.

The aim of the sports tournament is to popularize jousting, archery, fencing and falconry.

COSTUMED PAGEANT
Colorful pageantry is planned for the day, with Elizabethan tents and men and women in Elizabethan costume taking part. Ancient armor will, of course, be used by the jousters.

2 Members Named to Trial Board

The City Commission last night appointed E. Clayton Lee of 832 Mount Clemens and Samuel Morgan of 93 Lull to the seven-member Pontiac Police Trial Board.

The new members replace Cecil C. Mullinix, whose term expires May 5, and T. Warren Fowler, who resigned when he was elected to the City Commission last month.

Trial board terms are five years and expire on the first Tuesday of May. No more than three of the seven terms expire in one given year.

Both appointments were unanimous. There were no other nominees.

Morgan, 39, has been a Pontiac Motor Division employee for more than 17 years. He is married and has three children.

OTHER POSTS
He is currently president of the Neopolitan Club and chairman of both the election committee and fair employment practices committee of Pontiac Motor United Auto Workers Local 653.

Lee, 33, operates Lee Sales and Service, a Marathon Gas Station at Mount Clemens and Melrose.

A native of Pontiac, he is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School. Lee is married and has three children.

County Envoy Tells of Cali Vigor

Great enthusiasm in the Cali region of Colombia for the newly-launched local Alliance for Progress with Oakland County is reported by the county's representative there, John E. Madole.

Madole of 2970 Locata, Waterford Township, former civil defense director of the county, arrived in Colombia three weeks ago. He said he was given a red carpet welcome by local officials.

Madole was sent by a special committee of county officials, educators and businessmen as its liaison officer for further economic development of the Cali region.

Local community participation in the federal government's Alliance for Progress with Latin America has the approval of the U.S. State Department.

In his first dispatch sent to Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors and of the local Alliance for Progress committee, Madole reported that a counterpart committee has been formed in Cali.

NEXT MONTH
The Cali committee, he said, is preparing now to select their representative to come to Oakland County sometime next month.

He will work directly with the committee here as its adviser on Cali conditions and to promote wider participation in the community.

To Close Road at Walnut Lake

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Board of Education is going to do a little restraining of its own at Walnut Lake.

The board was ordered to halt work on a swimming site there by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem May 13.

The temporary restraining order was issued pending a Circuit Court hearing Monday on a suit filed by eight Walnut Lake residents.

Last night board members decided to close a blacktopped road running across school property on the northeast side of the lake.

LEGAL ADVICE
Trustees acted on the advice of board counsel Lawrence King, who noted that property may become public if used by the public for a certain period of time.

King cited this as a "greater threat" than that posed by David Jassy, who lives west of the school property and is one of the plaintiffs in the Circuit Court case.

The attorney said he had written to Jassy May 1 asking that the latter apply for permission to use a garage on school property.

King reported he had received no reply and was authorized to proceed with either obtaining the application or prohibiting the use.

USAGE ALLOWED
Jassy, King said, could be allowed to use the garage until a school is built on the 46-acre site.

The school district bought the property about four years ago for a third junior high school site.

This summer, the board planned, the lake front would be used for elementary swimming classes and junior and senior life saving. There is no school swimming pool in the district.

However, the West Bloomfield Township Planning Commission has recommended that the Township Board adopt a zoning ordinance amendment which would prohibit school use of the lake for recreational purposes.

And the eight neighboring residents have taken their opposition to the plan to Circuit Court.

Board Hopes for U. S. Aid in Remodeling of Hospital

Hopes of obtaining as much as $225,000 from the federal government toward remodeling of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium were expressed today by the County Board of Auditors.

Board Chairman Daniel T. Murphy Jr. said federal administrators of Hill-Burton hospital grants have shown a sudden interest in the project.

He admitted that the board previously had given up hope of ever receiving any of the federal aid after studying hospital requirements of the federal administrators.

"The requirements in their entirety could only be met by building a new hospital," said Murphy, "and we didn't feel that was necessary here."

"Apparently they have come to the conclusion that we are attempting to prepare the best hospital possible to meet the needs of subacute county patients."

CONSIDERING GRANT
"At any rate they are now considering us for a grant that could go as high as 50 per cent of remodeling costs."

The County Board of Supervisors has approved a $450,000 budget for the remodeling, which also would include a vacant nurses' residence next to the sanatorium at Union Lake.

Remodeling is intended to make two floors of the sanatorium available for non-TB patients.

The county has been faced with a declining TB case load that has made the per-patient costs of operating the sanatorium climb rapidly, while the county's medical care facility for welfare patients has become greatly overcrowded.

ARE REQUIRED
Most of the renovations proposed are required by the State Health Department and fire marshal if the county is to continue getting state matching funds toward patient care, according to Murphy.

Also, he said, more efficient operation of the sanatorium should save the county $250,000 annually.

The work was supposed to start within the next couple weeks, said Murphy.

He said the project could be held up as much as two months in order to get the federal grant. Federal officials are expected to tour the sanatorium within the next couple weeks before committing any Hill-Burton funds.

"I was only doing my duty as I saw it," Scott said in defense. Commenting on Scott's activities, Judge Thornburn said the constable is officially a process server for the courts, and "He only has the right of arrest like any other citizen."

Man Charged in Car Death

A Ferndale man was to be arraigned today on a charge of negligent homicide in the two-car crash which killed a 16-year-old Avon Township member early today.

Arthur H. Smith, 47, was driver of the car which collided with one driven by Mrs. Charles Aldrich, 919 Tienkiss.

The mishap occurred on Rochester road, Troy.

Mrs. Aldrich was brought in to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac at 7 a.m., suffering multiple injuries. She died five minutes later.

Mother of two sons, Mrs. Aldrich was southbound between 19 and 20-Mile when the accident happened, at the Lovell intersection.

Troy police said Smith's northbound car was across the center line at Lovell. They said he was preparing to turn left and pulled in front of Mrs. Aldrich's car. Smith claims he did not intend to turn. He was not injured.

He was scheduled to pick up a passenger a few houses off Lovell, according to Troy police.

Smith was to be arraigned today before Municipal Justice Charles Losey.

R. Kennedy: No Plans for Senate Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says he has had conversations about the possibility of running for the U.S. Senate from New York next fall but, "All things being equal, it would be better for a citizen of New York to run for the position."

Kennedy told a news conference Tuesday that friends had raised the possibility of his seeking Democratic nomination to the Senate.

"I have no plans other than staying on as attorney general" until after the November election, he said.

New York Democrats are looking for a candidate to oppose Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating in November.

How Far Will Red China Push U.S. in Laos?

By WILLIAM RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

If Red China is trying to prove that the United States is a paper tiger in Laos, a confused and dangerous world uproar is in the making.

Chances are the Red Chinese will not venture quite that far. It could make the prospects extremely uncomfortable for the United States and the Soviet Union, but Red China's strategy is a step-by-step affair.

Peking probably holds the key to what is going to happen in the mixed-up, tortured little Indochinese kingdom. The Communist North Vietnamese now are in the Laotian act with a bang, and, in the matter of pushing forward the violent world revolution, Peking is calling the shots for North Viet Nam's Ho Chi Minh.

The critical question is how far the Communist-led Pathet Lao plans to advance.

It has been headed toward the Laotian administrative capital at Vientiane controlled by the right-wing forces, and the Mekong River border with Thailand. Should the Communist march get too close, the United States could hardly let the threat to Thailand go unchallenged, any more than it did two years ago when 6,000 American Marines and airmen were hustled to Thailand to counter a Communist threat to the Mekong frontier.

NOT LIKELY

The Communists are not likely to cross the Mekong. Their approach to it is enough to instill fear in the Thai government, a member of the South-east Asia Treaty Organization.

Viet Ambush Kills U.S. GI

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—An American soldier was killed and an American officer wounded in an ambush Tuesday night while on operational patrol 45 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

The officer, a member of the U.S. Army Special Forces, was flown to a hospital in Saigon and was reported in good condition.

The death of the Special Forces enlisted man brought to 132 the number of Americans killed in combat in Viet Nam since late 1961. The total of American deaths since then number 230.

Small Farms Dropping Faster Than Others

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Farms with gross sales of less than $2,500 — including, part-time and part-retirement farms — account for the largest drop in farming units, according to the U.S. Census Bureau.

Such farms disappeared by 39 per cent between 1954 and 1959.

Warren Commission Clearance Follows 'Front' Accusation

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: "WARREN COMMISSION: The Warren Commission, which is investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, announced Tuesday that it has unanimously cleared all of the members of its staff to handle classified information." Although no names were mentioned, this presumably was a consultant accused by two Republican members of Congress of having been a member of a Communist-front group. Staff director J. Lee Rankin refused to answer questions about the statement and would not say if Redlich still holds his $100-a-day job.

NAMED MEMBER
A statement inserted into the Congressional Record by Rep. Ralph F. Beerman, R-Neb., and a speech to the Senate by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., identified Redlich as a member of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. Mundt called it "one of the most notorious Communist fronts in the country."

NATIONAL DEBT: Informed sources say the Treasury is expected to ask Congress to raise the national debt ceiling to $220 billion or more for the fiscal year that starts July 1. The present temporary debt limit is $115 billion but this is scheduled to stop automatically at $309 billion on June 30. Unless Congress acts, the limit will revert the next day to the permanent ceiling of $285 billion. The national debt now is $309.2 billion.

WAGE-PRICE: The AFL-CIO again has challenged President Johnson's appeal for labor and business to hold the wage-price line. "Neither wage nor price restraints are tolerable in a free society except in the gravest national emergency, and then only when coupled with stringent restraints upon excess profits," the labor group's Executive Council said in a statement Tuesday.

PAPERWORK: Unnecessary reports to the government can cost a small businessman $3,000 to $5,000 a year, a spokesman told a House subcommittee on Government Statistics today. George J. Burger, vice president of the National Federation of Independent Business, set this price in testimony prepared for the subcommittee's hearings on reduction of paper work.

CLARK-CONGRESS: A leading critic of congressional machinery, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, says "a great deal of public prodding" is needed to restore the government's legislative branch to "vigorous, working democratic health." But the Pennsylvania Democrat says he doubts what he calls "the congressional establishment" will be of any help. His views, generally a restatement and elaboration of previous stands, are contained in a book called "Congress: The Sapsless Branch," published today by Harper & Row.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

New Substance Works Wonders in Blood

The astronomers say that the universe is expanding. Your doctor, with his sights closer to earth, is content to find a useful plasma expander. This is a substance that is cheap and can be used instead of a transfusion of human whole blood or plasma in treating shock or hemorrhage.

One of the most useful of BRANDSTADT's plasma expanders that has been found to date is known as dextran, which is a high molecular weight glucose.

Now a new type of dextran with a low molecular weight, LMD, first made in England but now available in this country, has been discovered.

It has been found to have uses far beyond the treatment of shock and hemorrhage due to its ability to prevent the clumping together or "sludging" of red blood cells in the smaller blood vessels.

It was used, for example, to treat a 16-year-old girl who had extensive burns and severe fractures of both legs.

After her wounds had been treated and shock had been controlled, the circulation in both her feet was found to be failing and her toes showed early signs of gangrene.

It was believed that the toes would have to be amputated when the local counterpart of Dr. Casey suggested a transfusion using LMD.

Within an hour after this was started the circulation began to return to both feet. Soon thereafter the young woman was able to move her toes and to feel pin pricks—neither of which she could do before.

An older woman who had

Raynaud's disease had begun gangrene of the tip of one finger.

She was given LMD on three successive days. Again within one hour after starting the first transfusion the pain in her finger disappeared and the finger, formerly cold and blue, became pink and warm.

Another woman with a clot in the large femoral artery in her left thigh complained of severe pain.

Her leg below the clot was cold and blue and no pulse could be felt in the leg. Within an hour after starting a transfusion of LMD her pain was subsiding and the circulation had returned to her leg.

This is the kind of scientific breakthrough man has waited thousands of years for. More can be expected in the future.

Veteran of 548 Jumps Hangs Up Parachutes

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—CWO Edward J. (Spook) Murray retired from Air Force after 548 parachute jumps for purposes ranging from World War II combat to research on escape from disabled aircraft.

Now that he's through jumping professionally, Murray says there'll be no parachuting for sport, explaining: "I never did believe much in sky diving."

George H. Burt

Our area loses an estimable citizen and a long-time devoted public servant in the death of GEORGE H. BURT.

The 74-year-old Waterford Township resident served as director of the Oakland County Welfare Department since its inception in 1939 until his retirement the first of last year. He was also the State-appointed member of the County's Social Welfare Board from 1939 to 1958.

Prior to his assumption of welfare administration, he was identified with the Economic Recovery Administration (ERA) during the Depression.

Mr. Burt had wide fraternal and recreational interests and had won a multitude of friends. His passing will be deeply mourned by all who were privileged to know him.

Honor Salvation Army for Service to Society

This week the Nation honors the Salvation Army, whose activities within the social structure of America take on added significance with each passing year.

The scope of the Army is broad. Its 15 Evangeline residences provide shelter and protection for inexperienced young women who brave the unknown of our metropolitan centers.

Rehabilitation Centers numbering 125 have brought new life and hope to a multitude of alcoholics and derelicts who have found a welcome and comradeship within the institutions' walls.

Thirty-six maternity homes have served as temporary refuge for unmarried mothers, relieving the anxiety and desperation attending the plight of those unfortunate.

The Army has opened its doors to youngsters active in crafts, scouting or woodworking pursuits, with regular program periods stimulating the interest and proficiency of the enthusiasts.

Lastly, the aging find new purpose and enjoyment in the friendly atmosphere of the weekly social gatherings.

In sum, the Salvation Army aims at helping and integrating the total man, his spiritual, physical, mental and social being.

There could be no nobler mission to which an agency could dedicate itself. We direct a bow of deep respect to this great international organization, with our commendation for the eminent role it plays in the humanitarian climate of America.

Dems of Mississippi Make Grab for GOP

With the Mississippi GOP lopsidedly outnumbered by its Democratic adversary, the commonwealth was about to become a one-party state, actually as well as nominally.

A passel of 22 bills toward that end, backed by Gov. Paul Johnson, had cleared the State Senate and seemed assured of House approval.

The proposals, incorporating new election laws, would have forced the Republican party to comply with minimum party standards of organization and operation.

Although showing signs of awakening as it recently made its first serious bid for the governorship, the GOP has currently neither the statewide establishment nor financial resources to meet the demands of the proposed laws. It would literally have ceased to exist as a recognized party had the legislation been adopted.

But, apparently, the House got collective cold feet at the last minute at being an accessory to political homicide and dealt the lethal Senate-passed bill two decisive setbacks.

The Democratic House floor leader now sees little hope of victory and is prepared to swallow bitter bills of defeat.

Regrettably, in the political arena charges have been heard on occasion that one party or the other stole an election. But, so far as we know, the Mississippi venture is the first instance of one party attempting to steal the other.

1964 Primaries Among Dizziest

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The 1964 presidential primaries are as dizzy as any in memory. Take Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace. He's been running in Democratic primaries without a chance for his party's nomination which at this point belongs entirely to President Johnson.

Wallace said last March: "I have no illusions about becoming president." He said he was just running to express opposition to Johnson's civil rights program. But after he got 33 per cent of the Democratic vote in the Wisconsin primary and 29 per cent in Indiana, he switched to: "I am a serious candidate."

Then there's former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who lost the 1960 presidential contest and the race for the governorship of California in 1962. He said: "That was my last campaign for public office." "WOULDN'T ACCEPT DRAFT"

As if to show he meant it, he moved to New York and said "under no circumstances" would he accept a draft. Then came 1964 and the presidential primaries. Without setting foot in New Hampshire, he got 17 per cent of the vote there, finishing behind Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Now he was saying, "I will play whatever role the party decides" although still insisting he was not seeking the nomination.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. William W. Scranton, who has won some modest votes in state primaries and did well in his own state, reports he's not a candidate while refraining from saying he won't accept the nomination.

More ways than one. Lodge was the stunner in more ways than one. He ran unsuccessfully for the vice presidency in 1960 but has been out of politics since. Now, 3½ years later, probably few voters know what he stands for.

Yet, while in Viet Nam, never saying anything, he beat Goldwater, Rockefeller and Nixon in New Hampshire with a write-in vote, although the first two had actively campaigned there.

Before Oregonians cast their ballots last week, polls indicated Lodge would wind up the No. 1 man there, too, even though Rockefeller and Goldwater were actively running there and he wasn't.

Rockefeller campaigned the state, Goldwater, smelling defeat, stayed away. Rockefeller came in first, Lodge second, Goldwater third, Nixon fourth. This was fresh life for Rockefeller. He hadn't been doing well.

GAVE SECOND THOUGHT But the Oregon results gave everyone second thoughts, for the very important California primary was coming up June 2. Rockefeller and Goldwater are on the ballot there, but not Lodge, and write-ins are not permitted.

Monday, the Lodge people, hoping to stop Goldwater, threw their California support to Rockefeller, not because they want him to get the nomination but because they think that if Goldwater loses in California maybe Lodge can get the nomination at the Republican convention in July.

Mails Are Slow

The Chicago Tribune

Last week our third grader came home with a hundred on a spelling test but she has been a little bit disappointed in not receiving a congratulatory note from President Johnson.

Vital Issue

The San Diego Union

The Democrats must nominate a vice presidential candidate, and in the uncertainties of today's world, that is tantamount to selecting a president.

A vice president must at all times be ready to assume the presidency. Thus the Democratic convention will be no mere formality. The obligation will be a heavy one, and a difficult one to confront.

The deep prevailing ideological division with the Democratic Party will surge to the surface again. To this has been added a new struggle between the political faction represented normally by President Johnson and that represented now by the Kennedy family. The choice ultimately will be up to the President, though he cannot act entirely on his own. He will be influenced by the political necessity of keeping his party from flying apart.

Mr. Kennedy's acceptance of Robert Kennedy, the attorney general, and a younger brother of the late President John F. Kennedy, as his vice president.

dent would be a surrender to political expediency.

This would place in immediate succession to the presidency an individual who has demonstrated immaturity and political ruthlessness.

His qualifications do not suggest aptitude for the public office he now holds and to which he was appointed by his late brother.

Liberal Democrats insist that the name of Kennedy will be important to the party's success presumably to reassure the electorate on the continuation of the policies of the late president. For this purpose any member of the Kennedy family might do. This does not reflect any high regard for American voters.

The radical liberals tried to close out Mr. Johnson at the last Democratic convention, and now with the nomination for the presidency out of their reach, they will seek to impose one of their own as vice president. We will see if Mr. Johnson makes his selection on the basis of personal qualifications or on strictly political ones.

Running Lights

The Holland Evening Sentinel

The idea of daytime running lights on automobiles is beginning to take hold. It is a sensible and a small but significant amount of experience suggest that such lights might be an important safety factor.

For the past two years, a nationwide bus line has required that headlights be on during daylight operation.

This has reportedly brought a 15 per cent decrease in accidents. Although this is far from conclusive evidence, it strongly indicates that daytime lights do tend to curtail accidents. Higher visibility is the key. A great number of accidents involve impact between a car on a high-speed highway and one emerging from an intersecting road.

Many of these crashes occur because a fast-moving automobile — especially one of light color — is hard to see at a sharp angle and may suddenly appear "out of nowhere."

The flash of a running light may make the difference. Lights which turn on automatically when the car starts can be easily installed. They are no guarantee of safety, but they may be a significant protection. With the high rate of automobile accidents anything that would help we think is a good thing. We have noticed that Indiana people have a small light in the center of the radiator that they have lighted for daytime driving.

There are perhaps other states that use this system. Safety first is a fine thing to remember.

Protection

The Farm Journal

Every woman needs the protection of a strong man who will steady the stepladder while she paints the kitchen ceiling.

Bob Considine Says:

Pieta Is Used to Rough Voyages

NEW YORK — Pieta, so tenderly and ably handled on its 4,500-mile trip from St. Peter's to the Vatican pavilion at the New York World's Fair, survived a much rougher voyage 464 years ago.

Irvine Stone tells the story in his thin, new distillation of his earlier contemplations of the world's foremost work of art, "The Story of Michelangelo's Pieta" (Doubleday).

When the work was finished in 1499 an astonishing dilemma faced the 25 year old sculptor as he surveyed his masterpiece in his studio near the Tiber.

His patron, Cardinal Groszlay had died without making arrangements for Pieta to be placed in St. Peter's.

The artist took his incredible problem to his friend and agent Jacopo Galli, a Roman banker, NO QUESTIONS

"We must ask any questions," the man said audaciously. "We'll install it without a sound. What one knows, no one can object to."

"Once the Pieta is sitting in its niche, no one will bother to have it removed."

"Suppose you hire those stone yard friends of yours to help you. Tomorrow, after dinner, while the city is resting."

Guffati, the stone mason, was summoned to size up the figure of Mary holding the dead Jesus on her lap.

BRINGS FAMILY

"I bring the family," he declared.

The next evening he came with "the family," strong men.

Eight of them lifted the tremendous weight of precious Carrara marble, wrapped in many blankets, and staggered with their burden to an ancient wagon whose springless boards were covered with straw.

The wagon rumbled along the cobble Via Posterna across the Santo Angelo Bridge and down the then new Via Alessandrina to the steps of St. Peter's.

The men, groaning and sweating, lacked the steps. Every seventh step they set Pieta down to rest, then on —

Michelangelo, too, was covered with sweat. He was seared with the fear that something would go wrong; that even St. Peter's would collapse, for it was then in tottering condition.

But at last they were inside and into the chapel of the kings of France, where an empty niche beckoned.

They brought candles from an old woman in black, to light their way as they somehow hoisted the priceless object to its place.

NO PAY

The men would not take any pay for their work. Guffati said, "We take our pay in heaven." But the pious man was curious.

"Is this all?" he asked. "No services? No blessing by the priest?"

Galli shook his head. "It was blessed in the carving," he said.

For a different kind of book completely, and one that will probably make you mad, try Haynes Johnson's "The Bay of Pigs."

'Water System in Keego Should Be No. 1 Project'

An adequate water system should be No. 1 on the list of projects for the proper growth and development of Keego Harbor. It is rumored that a new city hall building is taking precedence.

A water system might not please everyone, but it certainly would benefit everyone. Citizens of Keego are urged to attend the city council meetings and voice their opinions.

'New Industry Answer to Unemployment'

More employers, not more welfare, is the solution to the unemployment problem. This summation is based on the first results from 16,179 respondents of a year-long survey conducted in 50 states. Nationally 64.7 per cent of the businessmen report new industry is needed in their areas. In Michigan this viewpoint is held by 63 per cent.

Hawaii is the only state where new industry is minimized. The greatest need is expressed in Idaho, where 83.8 per cent say new industry is needed. If government is really interested in solving the economic problem, it would appear logical that more time and thought be spent on means of encouraging new industry, rather than dreaming up new taxes to expand welfare programs.

Elmwood PTA Meeting Brings Comments

Those attending Elmwood PTA were given an apology for the remark made about discussing our children at the meeting. The remark meant only that some of the teachers having over 60 students could not be prepared to answer an interested parent about "How Johnny was doing" when she didn't even remember who Johnny was.

Parents who can't attend conferences during the day should tell the teacher that they would like to meet after the meeting and I'm sure the teacher would oblige.

An Officer and Parent at Elmwood

The Elmwood mother who missed the PTA meeting should not feel bad. They should all stay home and give the schools back to the teachers and superintendents, and let them run them. That is what they are paid for.

Before PTA we were taught the three R's to the tune of a hickory stick. Under that system I never heard of gangs in schools for shake downs, nor did we have any kids that stab little girls and shoot their mothers.

Worker Says UAW Doesn't Benefit Him

What good are seniority rights and the UAW? When you have an individual problem, you do your own fighting. After working for 18 years, I asked to go on days. I fought for three weeks. They finally put me on days, and the foreman and his assistant sure did railroad me.

They knew I had a bad back. I was told to do the job or go back on nights. I went to the union hall and they couldn't take the time to talk to me. I'm back on nights and pretty disgusted.

Face Reality of Mysterious Spacecraft

It was a pleasant surprise that our Press editor might even hint in his belief of interplanetary ships and beings visiting old Mother Earth. There probably would be many more reports of Unidentified Flying Objects in this country if the U.S. Air Force didn't try to make fools out of the American citizens, and then place the reports in secret files.

From history all over the world, there are accounts of strange sky ships coming down to earth, with beings like ourselves, mingling with and helping the people here. Let's take our heads out of the sand and look up. It is time we became aware of them, without fear.

Year May Lapse Before Next Major Space Flight Is Tried

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — It may be a year before either the United States or the Soviet Union undertakes major new manned space ventures.

Both countries must solve crucial problems before they can try space experiments more spectacular than the manned orbital flights of 1963.

During the annual meeting of the International Committee on Space Research — COSPAR — which closed today, United States and Soviet scientists said manned space flights had raised the question of whether a man could tolerate more than five days in space with present equipment.

The scientists said astronauts were showing such aftereffects of space flights as low blood pressure. Delegates from both day flights by Soviet astronauts last year were about the longest that could be safely attempted now.

MAY BE YEAR

Prof. Anatoli Blagonravov, chief Soviet delegate, said it might be a year before his country is ready to try a major new venture.

The United States reported it planned to start flights by two-man Gemini ships by the end of 1964 or early in 1965. Privately, American scientists said the first Gemini ship probably would not be launched for a year.

The Soviet Union and the United States plan to continue sending satellites and rockets aloft. Italy and France also have important space plans. The Italians hope to launch their first satellite, using a floating launching platform off Kenya and an American rocket. France is preparing to orbit a 100 per cent French satellite with a 100 per cent French rocket.

Other space experiments being planned:

—By the end of 1964, a Mars probe by a U.S. Mariner rocket that will fly past the planet and transmit television pictures back to earth.

—By 1970, U.S. and Soviet attempts to put artificial satellites in orbit around Mars.

—Sometime in the next few years, an American effort to orbit a two-man space ship, equipped as a flying laboratory, and to keep it and its crew in space for 30 days.

Several years from now, a joint West European experiment in satellite launching.

The COSPAR meeting brought together 500 scientists from 35 countries.

The 107th test flight of the rocket ship went so smoothly that at one point the control center here radioed Engle to ask, "How's everything going?" after long silence between the ground control station and the aircraft.

Engle glided back to earth less than 10 minutes after being dropped from beneath the wing of its mother ship over the desert.

Junior Editors Quiz on SNAKES

QUESTION: How can snakes move along?

ANSWER: For animals without legs or feet, snakes move along the ground amazingly well. They have a very long backbone, composed of about 300 small bones or vertebrae (compared with the 33 or 34 of a man.)

These act like links in a chain, making the snake's body extremely flexible. He moves his body by throwing out a series of sideways loops or waves.

As his body slides past the waves, it pushes back against the rough surface of the ground (shown by arrows in picture). This backward push shows the snake's body forward.

If you don't understand how this works, study the drawing of walking children. Notice that each one is pushing back with one foot, while the other reaches ahead — the same basic principle.

Snakes can move in still another way. Each vertebra of a snake's skeleton has a pair of ribs attached to it, and these are movable.

Each rib pair operates one of a set of overlapping scales under the snake's body. These ribs can reach forward in waves, grip with the scales and pull back.

This method may be used on smooth ground, or combined with the first system, so that a snake can get about almost anywhere there is enough roughness to give him some grip.

FOR YOU TO DO: You may still feel that one walks by reaching a foot out, rather than pressing one back. Stand up and try it. Only be fair; reach one foot ahead, but don't press back the other one. You won't walk — you'll just stand there waving one foot. Now press the other foot back and you'll walk.

Senate Pressed for Time to Consider Money Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — "This is one year you really should have time to give everything a good hard look," Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., said today. "But it's going to be hard to do."

He was talking about money. The money Congress is asked to appropriate each year to finance government operation and programs.

"It just doesn't look like we're going to have the time we need," Monroney is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee and chairman of a subcommittee of this group.

JAM BUILDING

The Senate has been tied up for 11 weeks in debate on the civil rights bill, and there's a logjam of legislation swiftly building.

Appropriations bills, in particular. The House has passed seven. The Senate committees haven't even got through a quick look at most.

"We need two weeks," Monroney said. "If the Senate would give us two weeks, or let the appropriations committees meet during the time the Senate is in session."

Unanimous consent has been given to do this in years past, but not this time.

NO MEETINGS

While the Senate considers the civil rights bill daily, no committee can meet. Some of them have been trying to get in sessions of an hour or two before the gong rings in the chamber. The government's money year closes June 30. A number of authorized programs also run out.

If the Senate legislative machinery is still silent by the time this happens, no government worker is going to miss paycheck. It's happened before, and Congress usually authorizes by resolution continued spending at the same rate as the previous year.

But there are a good many branches of government which say they need more money this year to provide the same or expanded services.

LEAST A WEEK

"Don't forget, we'll need at least a week, maybe a week and a half of floor debate even after these appropriations bills get out of committee," Monroney said.

"I don't know when we'll get a chance on the money bills," Monroney said, "but I'll bet we'll be back here after the Republican convention—in mid-July—and probably after the Democratic convention—in late August."

WHY MORE TRAINING?

The Job Guide, published by the U.S. Dept. of Labor, gives this answer: "You should weigh carefully the long run advantages offered by jobs you are considering against immediate gains. You should be aware of the great importance of education as a general and specific asset. Technical or professional training received after leaving high school will give you definite advantage in seeking and finding a job. When advancement opportunities occur, preference is generally given to persons with superior educational qualifications — other things being equal."

Hold Suspects in Indiana

Grand Rapids Pair
Charged in Murder

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Two Grand Rapids men were held in Indiana today on murder charges in the drowning in the Grand River Saturday of 15-year-old Willie Kilgore.

The boy drowned after a plunge from the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway trestle from which he had been fishing.

Held at Crown Point, Ind., on information from police here were Bernard Lightfoot and Eugene Johnson, both 24, brothers-in-law.

The two were picked up by Indiana police as they were driving on a highway in the Crown Point area.

MEN TO RETURN

Police Inspector Walter A. Gilbert left for Crown Point late Tuesday to return the men.

Police said a witness told of seeing two men run from the bridge after Willie had fallen to the river. The boy may have been pushed off the bridge, police said. The body was recovered three hours later.

Gilbert said acquaintances of Lightfoot and Johnson declared the two had told of having a dispute on the bridge with a youth.

Kent County Prosecutor James K. Miller said in addition to the murder charges he would seek a warrant charging the two men with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Willie was one of six children of a widow.

Mute to Charge in Auto Fatalities

A Detroit man stood mute to a charge of negligent homicide Monday on charges stemming from a double fatality accident in Waterford Township last November.

Appearing before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore was John W. Veeder, 29, of 20511 Lexington, Detroit.

Veeder is accused of negligence in the death of Mrs. Mary Wisner, 41, of Flint, last Nov. 18.

Police charge she was killed when Veeder's car, traveling south on Dixie Highway near Sashabaw, crossed the center line and struck three north-bound cars. Mrs. Wisner was a passenger in a car driven by another Flint woman.

Also killed in the crash was Irene Helen Snow, 34, of Detroit, who was a passenger in Veeder's auto.

Date of Veeder's trial has not been set. He was released on personal bond.

Avondale Teachers Plan Election Role

The Avondale Education Association (AEA) is going to take a side in the forthcoming school board election.

After abandoning their short-lived contract holdout, the association has agreed to form a committee to evaluate candidates vying for the two vacant four-year board posts June 8.

Seeking the offices are board incumbents Floyd L. Cobb Jr. and Mrs. Genevieve Porter. The pair is challenged by Edward Turner, 3159 Donley, Avon Township, and Herbert Miller, 6809 Norton, Troy.

A four-point plan is being followed by the teachers:

- Evaluate candidates on the basis of their ability to improve the quality of education.
- Reveal these evaluations to district teachers.
- Poll the teachers to determine their preference.
- Assist in any ethical way to achieve the election of the chosen candidates.

The tactic was suggested by the Michigan Education Association, which was called in because of the friction between teachers, on one side, and Schools Supt. George E. Shackelford and the school board on the other.

The AEA members claim Shackelford indicated a new salary scale, with a $5,000 base, would be recommended by him for next year.

Shackelford says he didn't promise the teachers any such figure.

He also maintains the system can not afford a pay system starting that high. The board agrees.

It adopted a new index rate scale beginning at $4,850.

Norman E. Barnard; Joseph Bechard, honorary chairman of the Troy Arts Festival; and Roy Barrett, president of the festival. Yamasaki's designs will be on display along with other art work at this year's festival June 20-21.

Troy Arts Festival Invites Young Talent

TROY — School-age Troy artists are being invited to join world-renowned architect Minoru Yamasaki and put their works on display at this year's Troy Arts Festival.

Yamasaki, whose latest architectural endeavor is the proposed $350-million World Trade Center in the New York City harbor, is a sponsor of the 1964 festival.

Photographs of a scale model of the structure will be exhibited during the festival, June 20-21 in the Troy High School.

All students who reside in Troy may enter up to three works in the competition, in the field of painting, ceramics, wood carving, drawing, sculpture or any other art form.

Prerequisites are that the applicants be in grades 1-12, and if under 12 years of age have written parental consent.

Applications bearing the entrant's name, address, telephone number, age, grade, school and title and description of the artistic creation should be turned in before the June 1 deadline.

They should be sent to Mrs. Deloss Russell, 555 Trhway. Art pieces must be brought to the Troy High School 1-3 p.m. June 18 or 7-9 p.m. June 19.

Entries will be judged and

Stiles PTA to Install '65 Officers

AVON TOWNSHIP—The 1964-65 Stiles School PTA officers, for the most part incumbents elected to a second term, will be installed tomorrow.

In a special 2 p.m. ceremony at the school, Herbert J. Miller, 6809 Norton, Troy, will be formally inducted into his second term as president.

Others who will be installed for the second time are Mrs. Bristol Lucas, teacher vice-president; Thomas Galloway, father vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth May, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles William, treasurer; Mrs. Julius Fisher, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Robert Rogers, council delegate.

Appearing for the first time on the PTA officers' roster are Mrs. Herbert J. Miller, mother vice-president; Mrs. James Stark and Charles Dykeman, council delegates.

In addition to installation of officers, Michigan Week also will be observed at the session.

Offer Training for Firemen

Walled Lake to Pay Fee for Registration

WALLED LAKE—The City Council agreed last night to send all those firemen who can go to the Michigan Fire College next month.

The city will pay the $5 registration fee for those attending the June 24 training session in Ann Arbor.

The college is sponsored by the University of Michigan Extension Service in cooperation with the Michigan Office of Civil Defense and various fire-fighters associations.

Now undergoing reorganization, the department has two full-time men and 20 volunteers. Some of them new and most of them newly returned to the unit.

Revamping of membership followed the loss of seven men through the resignation of the Walled Lake Volunteer Fire-fighters Association May 5.

Chorus Tour to End on Home Grounds

AVON TOWNSHIP — The A Cappella Chorus of Michigan Christian College will close out its spring tour with a concert in the school's cafeteria Saturday.

Final performance of the year, it will include sacred music, folk hymns, Bach chorales and a Brahms motet. Fred Alexander, director of the chorus, will be conducting.

The songsters have just completed an eight-day tour through Ohio and Indiana. Tickets for the event can be purchased at the door of the cafeteria, on the campus at 800 W. Avon.

Clawson Firm Gets Contract

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — Eswin Building Co. of Clawson has been awarded the $6,798 contract to build the 20-foot addition on the Township Hall.

The contract did not include heating or electrical bids. The township board will sub-contract that work itself.

Building of the wing on the south side of the hall is slated to begin immediately. It will contain two offices and a room in back for Precinct 3.

Fewer Corn Crib

Are Used on Farms

Corn cribs are losing out on farms that have a 6,000 bushel or up yearly corn crop.

Michigan State University researchers have found that corn cribs are more costly storage spaces in terms of loss of corn than concrete steel or glass-lined silos.

CHARLES L. JOHNSON

To Get Assistant Post for Avondale Schools

Charles L. Johnson, presently in Avondale School District's administrative apprenticeship program, will become assistant superintendent and director of instruction next year.

Johnson, 30, of 1116 Truwood, Avon Township, has been employed in the Avondale system for two of his eight teaching years. For the past 1½ years he has been principal of Elmwood School.

A graduate of Murray State College, Kentucky, Johnson received his master's degree from Michigan State University. He completed postgraduate work at both MSU and Wayne State University.

Also receiving new appointments are Herbert Pinner and William Saville.

Both have been in the district's apprenticeship program and will fill elementary school principal slots still to be determined.

Pinner has been assistant principal at the junior high school. Saville will move from his position as assistant high school principal.

Area Pupils Top Contest on Posters

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Local contestants in the American Legion Poppy Poster contest, sponsored by Hill-Gazette Unit No. 143, also placed prominently in the 18th District contest.

Roseann Amiat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Amiat, 3114 Bessie, was first place winner in the unit contest for third class contestants and also placed second in the district.

Second and third place winners in the unit contest were Reyes Coronado, 2105 Auburn and Michael King, 3231 Avon-lon.

All three are students of Avondale High School.

Second class winner of the unit contest was Julie Spiegel who was also district second place winner. Her brother, Ted, received second prize in the unit contest.

Both are students at Emanuel Baptist School. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Spiegel, 3053 Adams.

Mrs. Paul Elwell of 275 Cherryland, won the district Poppy Corgate contest as an entry for the local auxiliary with her daughter Bonnie winning first place for the junior auxiliary.

The annual American Legion Poppy sale will be conducted May 21-23 with auxiliary participation under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Collins, poppy chairman.

Mrs. Romney to Give Talk

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. George Romney will address the Friends of West Bloomfield Township Library at their annual meeting Friday.

Topic to be discussed by Michigan's First Lady is "The Future Role Libraries Will Play in Adult Education."

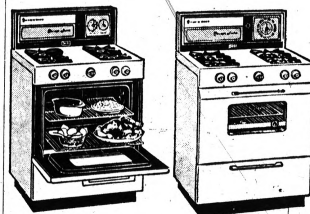

Election of officers also is included on the agenda of the 3 p.m. meeting at the library, 5030 Orchard Lake.

Pontiac City Affairs

Commission OKs R20 Study

City Commissioners last night okayed a $5,000 "community organization study" in an effort to complete the rehabilitation phase of Pontiac's R20 urban renewal program.

Dr. Christopher Sower, professor in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at Michigan State University, will head the study, to be completed in one year or less.

Local urban renewal officials recommended Sower as "an expert in the field of community analysis and organization."

Some $300,000 has already been spent by property owners in the R20 area on rehabilitating their homes, according to urban renewal officials.

"Initial response was very good," said George Wilhelm, assistant urban renewal director. "but the rehabilitation program has bogged down somewhat in recent months."

MINIMUM STANDARDS
"Most property owners have done some rehabilitating, but many have yet to bring their structures up to minimum standards specified in the city's building, plumbing, electrical and heating codes," Wilhelm noted.

"There are many reasons why such a program slows down. Some people have financial problems; others lose interest. A few just don't care."

Sower will analyze the social structure of identifying individual problems, sentiments and other human aspects of R20 neighborhoods.

Using his findings, he will then advise local renewal officials on the best approach in gaining the active interest and support of this specific neighborhood for a rehabilitation program.

FUTURE HELP
"We hope this will aid us in future neighborhood rehabilitation projects both in and outside urban renewal," Wilhelm noted.

One of the federal requirements in an urban renewal project area is that structures, which are left standing, must be brought up to standard code requirements.

Also last night:
In answer to several complaints about litter in streets, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. appealed to all citizens to aid the Department of Public Works in keeping city streets clean.

"This is a job for everyone," Taylor said. "Citizens can help a lot by refraining from throwing litter or sweeping refuse into streets."

CITY PRIDE
"I'd like to see every citizen take a little pride in his neighborhood and the city as a whole in this matter."

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson asked the city manager to "look into the possibility of opening the city dump on Kennett Road from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sundays."

Hudson said the "seasonal bug of spring cleaning and fixing up one's residence creates more use of the dump at this time."

"There was quite a line-up of cars at the dump last Saturday," Hudson explained. City Manager John F. Reineck said he would consult with department head to see if the dump could be opened Sundays temporarily to ease the situation.

Newly elected vice president of the Michigan Press Photographers Association is Pontiac Press staff photographer Edward R. Noble.

President of the statewide organization is Lohar Kozietzko of the Associated Newspapers, Wayne.

Serving as secretary-treasurer during 1964-65 is Ron Untermyer, free lance photographer from Royal Oak. Richard Hunt, of the Royal Oak Tribune, is trustee.

Officers will take over their new duties June 1. MPPA, which is embarking on its second year of operation, is composed of photographers from news media in the state.

Nude Blonde a Real Babe

LIBERAL, Kan. — "Had call of a nude blonde at North Ideal Supermarket," ran the opening gambit of a police officer's report.

It continued: "Made run and found young lady with a bit of towel draped around her. Put in patrol car. She indicated it didn't make any difference where we went."

"After stopping at third house I turned Wendy Rae Goff, 2 years old, over to her mother at 28 East Seventh."

35 Civic Groups to Meet Here

Representatives of some 35 civic and neighborhood improvement organizations will gather in Pontiac Saturday to find out why they're important to their respective communities.

The day-long event is being cosponsored by the Pontiac Community Services Committee and the Southeast Community Improvement Association (SCIA).

It will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at GMC Truck & Coach Division United Auto Workers Local 594, at 525 S. East Boulevard.

George N. Higgins, a candidate for the GOP nomination for governor, will be featured speaker at a noon luncheon, according to plans announced today by Arthur Dunlap, SCIA president.

Higgins, 63, is a Ferndale automobile dealer and former state senator.

HELPING PROGRAM
Pontiac urban renewal officials are helping to coordinate the program.

George H. Wilhelm, assistant director of urban renewal, will speak at 9:35 and follow his remarks with a slide presentation showing projects undertaken by the SCIA and their importance to Pontiac's R20 urban renewal project.

"The purpose of this event is to point out why conservation and rehabilitation programs are needed, to indicate the scope of such projects," Wilhelm explained.

"Most community or neighborhood groups are formed with the intention of pushing a local cleanup, paint-up, fix-up campaign."

WHAT AFTER
"But what happens when everything's all fixed up?" he said. "Many such groups then dissolve."

"Maybe this type of program will encourage them to turn their interests to other needs in their own neighborhoods."

Dunlap agreed that "most of us want to eliminate any and all substandard living conditions and our conference is aimed at gaining the knowledge necessary to expedite this."

"But, housing conditions are not the only factor we must concern ourselves with. What about the problem child?" Dunlap noted.

SPEAKER LIST

Included in the list of speakers will be State Rep. Arthur Barnes, D-Pontiac; Clarence Barnes, executive director of the Pontiac Urban League; and E. Eugene Russell, Pontiac district commercial manager for Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and general chairman of the city's civic improvement advisory committee.

Also on the agenda are Charles Cohen, city health department inspector; Leonard T. Buzz, recreation supervisor for the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department; and Charles Tucker, a Pontiac real estate salesman.

Big Brothers of Oakland County will be represented on the afternoon program and the morning session will feature a child guidance panel.

McCarthy Era Figure Leads Quiet Life

By ANTHONY WHITE

LEEDS, England (AP)—It's just over 10 years since Prof. Owen Lattimore—then lecturer in Chinese history at Johns Hopkins University—was caught in the turmoil of the McCarthy era rows, accused of being a Soviet agent.

Today he lives a quiet life in England, remote from political controversy, the troubles of the 50s almost a memory. In one way he's started life again.

Last summer, Lattimore left Johns Hopkins University, where he had worked for 25 years, to head a new department of Chinese studies at Leeds University.

"I like it here," he says, and leans far back in his heavy office chair and the smoke from his pipe curls around his sandy hair. "It's not given to many men at 64 to be starting something new like I am. Most academics at my age are running down like unwound clocks."

VILLAGE HOME

He dresses in hairy Scottish tweed jackets and comes to his office each day from his nearby village home, which has the picturesque name of the Old Rose Cottage. He lives there with his wife, Eleanor. They

'Algerian Base for Soviet Subs'

PARIS (AP)—The paper Figaro said today that the Soviet Union and Algeria reportedly have signed an agreement providing for a Soviet nuclear submarine base in Algeria.

The conservative paper said: "According to certain observers informed of North African affairs, the agreements recently concluded between Khrushchev and Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella in Moscow included a series of secret protocols. One, at least reportedly provides for the installation of a Russian nuclear submarine base in Algeria."

The Figaro dispatch was written by its correspondent in Madrid. It gave no further details.

Ben Bella recently visited Moscow. It was announced then that the Soviet Union had granted Algeria financial and technical aid.

have a son, David, now at Yale. To Lattimore now, his trials of the McCarthy days are memories he'd rather forget. He says he bears no grudges, still regards the United States as his home, and plans to go back there when he retires in 1967.

At one time during the 1950s Lattimore was branded by Wisconsin Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy as "the top Russian espionage agent in the United States." Later McCarthy modified this to read "one of the top" agents. At one point Lattimore was indicted on seven counts of perjury. In 1955 a federal court dismissed two of the counts and then the Justice Department dropped the rest.

"I was angry at the time,"

Lattimore said in an interview, "as anyone would be had they been so falsely accused. But is no use sitting around nursing rancor. That doesn't get you anywhere."

CHIEF INTEREST

The dominating interest in Lattimore's life now is his department of Chinese studies. He is its first professor. It is a four-year degree course where the "language lab" system of tapes is used. Lattimore claims great success so far.

"At the end of 12 weeks," he said, "we had students taking simple dictation."

Lattimore sees an increasing need for a knowledge of China and Chinese as the nation grows in power and world importance.

And it is a power and importance which cannot be ignored, he says.

"There are three great powers in the world today," he said, "and China is the third. But our system of international life at the moment has no way of providing for this fact."

NOWHERE ELSE

"Whatever happens in China, whether good or bad, we've got to remember this: That nowhere else in the world is happening what is happening in China, to one-quarter of the human race. To meet this by isolation and boycott is wrong."

Recognition of China in the councils of the world "will not necessarily make the Chinese all sweet and reasonable. But at least then we would have some way of dealing with them. In recognizing the Communist government in China, Gen. Charles de Gaulle has made a breakthrough."

Lattimore says he doesn't take sides in the Moscow-Peking power struggle, though he believes that the Chinese will overtake the Russians in industrial production before the Russians catch the Americans.

"It's not a matter of who are the goodies and who are the baddies in the Soviet-Chinese struggle," he said. "But if the split goes too far it would be a danger to the rest of the world. It would be a benefit to all of us if the Russians and Chinese can negotiate their differences."

Spring, Summer Brings New Looks for Sandbox Set

For the sandbox set, brother and sister outfits. The white no-iron cotton tops are worn with woven red and white check shorts. The motif on the pockets of the tops are, naturally, sand buckets. About $3.

Two little "first mates" are seen here in matching A-line sailor dresses. On the left, white no-iron cotton poplin accented with blue braid and red ship's wheel motif. The ocean blue rayon dress on the right is trimmed with red braid and has tiny white anchors on the slash pockets. Both come with matching modified Sou'wester hats. About $6 each.

Crisp, cool checks, a summer favorite, are used in this charming outfit. The pink and white woven check no-iron cotton top has a white crocheted lace and rickrack hem. Crochet also outlines the high yoke which buttons on each shoulder. Matching pink and white check bows trim each leg of the white bloomer pants. About $4.

Nannette's A-line nautical dress goes everywhere this summer. The white no-iron cotton poplin dress has a high red yoke with navy blue border and white anchors on each side. A matching red, white and blue drawstring dufflebag comes with the dress. About $5.

Warmer weather means less bulky clothes, not only for mommy but for the toddlers as well.

All outfits shown here are by Nannette or Nannekins and are available locally. They have one thing in common, they are "babified."

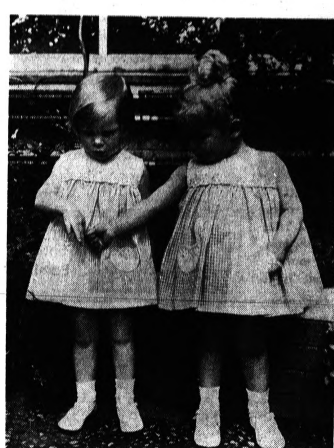

Toddlers are still babies, not "little men" or "little women."

Delicate appliques and embroideries are in order, as is smocking, A-line shapes and simple high-yoked dresses.

Outfits come in no-iron or easy-care fabrics and are reasonably priced. Toddlers "outgrow" fast.

Babies DO have tummies, a fact that Nannekins recognizes. The raglan sleeve is used over and over again as it gives plenty of room for action.

Spring and summer will be fashionable seasons for little ones and easy ones for their mothers who have to do the washing and ironing!

"Best friends" love these look alike dresses, the left one pink and white woven stripes and the right one a blue and white woven check. Both have a large, square eyelet embroidered white yoke overlay. The real pockets are fanciful eyelet embroidered swans with head and neck appliqued to the dress. About $5.

Spring Concert This Weekend by Civic Chorus

Waterford Civic Chorus members will present their annual spring concert this weekend in two separate performances.

The 27-member chorus under the direction of Arden Sears will perform Friday at 8:15 p.m. at Pierce Junior High School and at 3 p.m. Sunday at Clarkston High School.

Featured at the concert will be selections from "Brigadoon" and a group of religious and folk numbers.

A quartet from the chorus, consisting of Rev. Roy Lambert, Dave Cliffe, Charlene Stricklin and Marion Walker, will present their rendition of "nonsense songs" from "Alice in Wonderland."

Blending their voices in duet will be Mr. and Mrs. Andre DeWilde. Pat Vines and John Walker will be featured in solos.

Tickets will be available at the door at each performance.

Stuffed Rabbit Not Funny

He'd Prefer Live 'Bunny'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Could you please tell me if I did wrong?

My son had a serious back operation last March.

When he started to feel a little better, I brought a large stuffed rabbit (about 22 inches tall) to the hospital thinking it would cheer him up as it was during the Easter season.

The rabbit did not look childish in my opinion. My son is 44 years old. He was embarrassed and insisted I take the rabbit home.

Do you think this was a childish gift or not?

L E MARS

DEAR LE MARS: Stuffed animals are usually for young children. (Most 44-year-old men prefer live bunnies.) A postoperative patient is in no mood to split his stitches over an Easter rabbit, so don't hold your son's lack of enthusiasm against him.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who would put a diaper on a nine-year-old boy and make him parade around the school yard for punishment for wetting his bed? This lady must be cracked.

LIVES ACROSS THE STREET

DEAR LIVES: This woman is more than "cracked." She is cruel and ignorant.

Bed-wetting is a symptom of an emotional problem, and to humiliate a child for wetting the bed will cure nothing and only compound the problem.

I urge you to call on this neighbor (even if you know her slightly) and try to convince her to take her boy to a doctor and to heed his advice.

Director Will Review Churchwomen's Year

The Reverend Frederick B. Jansen, associate director of program for the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, will speak at the final meeting this year for the Episcopal Churchwomen (ECW) of Christ Church Cranbrook next Tuesday.

Rev. Jansen plans to lead a free conversation beginning at 10:45 a.m. in the form of a reflective review of this year's ECW program at the church.

What has been learned from the series of guest speakers, panel discussions and Bible study will be examined to see how it can be translated into action.

NOON LUNCHEON

Following a noon luncheon, the Rev. Mrs. Jansen will speak on "Metropolis and the Individual," suggesting that people examine their roles in the world today.

Rev. Jansen has served in "inner city" parishes and was resident chaplain at Wallkill State Prison in New York before coming to Michigan.

PROJECT CHAIRMAN

He was chaplain for urban ministry under Bishop DeWitt

for two years. He is presently chairman of the East Side Coffee House project in Detroit. Rev. Jansen is a graduate of Carroll College and Nashotah House Seminary.

Anyone wishing to attend should make reservations for lunch by calling the church office before 10:30 a.m. next Tuesday.

Strapless Bad Taste for Bride

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My wedding dress is white satin and lace. That is, the underneath dress is a white lace strapless evening dress with a white satin jacket over it.

It was made this way purposefully so that the under dress could be worn separately as an evening dress.

Would it be proper to remove the jacket at the reception which is taking place at an evening hour?

A: The jacket should definitely not be removed. A bride in a strapless dress would be in very bad taste.

Q: When I was graduated from high school, many people to whom I sent announcements gave me gifts.

Now that I am graduating from college I would like to notify friends and relatives but I do not want them to feel that they have to send a gift.

Would it be proper to include a request for no presents?

A: To include, "No gifts, please" on graduation announcements would be unusual and unnecessary since they carry no obligation to send presents.

If, however, from past experience, you think your friends will do so, you may include this phrase on your announcements.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Annual Breakfast Set by St. Joseph Alumnae

St. Joseph's Mercy Alumnae Association will hold its annual breakfast in the nurses home auditorium Sunday at 11 a.m. beginning with a mass in the hospital chapel for all deceased members.

Honored will be the class of '39, celebrating its silver anniversary.

Results of the election of officers will be announced at the breakfast. Balloting is being done by mail; the deadline is Thursday. Ballots are to be mailed to Mrs. Bernard Reardon of Berkeley or Mrs. Edward Omans of Pinegrove

Avenue, chairman and co-chairman, respectively.

Announcing the results will be Mrs. Erwin P. Nichols.

The St. Joseph's Mercy Alumnae Association returns each year to attend Mass with the Sisters of Mercy. Sister Mary Xavier, administrator of the hospital, will welcome the group and Rev. Joseph B. Brady will give the address.

Rev. Edwin Schroeder will officiate at Mass and give the invocation.

Balloting for the officers of the St. Joseph Mercy Alumnae Association is being done by mail. Here Mrs. Bernard Reardon (left) of Berkeley and Mrs. Edward Omans of Pinegrove Avenue check the mailbox for ballots. Results will be announced at the annual breakfast Sunday at 11 a.m.

Resuscitation Demonstrated to Jaycee Women

Lt. Donald Kratt, of the Oakland County Sheriff's department spoke on mouth to mouth resuscitation at Monday meeting of the Waterford Township Jaycee Auxiliary.

New officers and directors were chosen at the gathering. Mrs. Richard Schwab is the new president.

Helping her are Mrs. Whitney Carnahan, vice president; Mrs. John Radenbaugh, treasurer; Mrs. Raymond Freebury, recording secretary and Mrs. Jeffery Cornish, corresponding secretary.

The new directors are Mrs. Frank Larkey and Mrs. Ralph Radford.

The meeting was held in the Nancywood Court home of Mrs. David Packard.

'Suffragette '64' Features Mrs. Romney

Mrs. George Romney will keynote a symposium on the role of women in politics Tuesday at the Birmingham Community House.

The League of Women Voters of Birmingham is presenting "Suffragette '64" for all women in the area interested in political activity.

Mrs. Romney's morning address will be on "Woman and Her Civic Obligation."

Other morning speakers include Mrs. Paul Goebel, Grand Rapids, chairman of the Governor's commission on the status of women; Mrs. Mildred Jeffrey, Detroit, Democratic national commitwoman; and Mrs. Thomas Snelham, Birmingham, state president of the League of Women Voters.

Following luncheon, the symposium will continue in three open sessions. These include discussions on women in elective and appointive office; women in political campaigns; and the study of issues and political effectiveness.

Concerning the last, Mrs. William T. Gossett, general chairman of "Suffragette '64," says,

"We call this panel 'Woman Puzzled.' We will attempt to show women how easy it is to study and understand the issues which are the subject of controversy and proposed or possible legislation."

"We will describe the methods employed by the political parties on this subject as well as the League of Women Voters' approach, so that women may see how they interrelate and complement each other—or not—as the case might be."

Reservations for the day may be made with Mrs. Jacques Passino of Birmingham.

The first Ferris wheel, which at the Columbian Exposition in 1893, stood 266 feet high, was installed in Chicago in 1893.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice:

I could just cry! I just cut a beautiful linen shift without checking the length since the pattern envelope pictured a floor length as well as a shorter length dress. I imagine my frustration when I found it is three inches too short. Can anything be done to help me, or will this be my costly lesson?

Mrs. M. T.

Dear Mrs. M. T.:

You and all the other gals who will be making these shifts this summer should measure and check the patterns carefully. The pattern you used should have been marked "Beach Shift."

If you have any extra fabric, cut another lower skirt section about 8 inches deep and attach this to a separate lining.

This should extend about 3 inches below the finished hem of your dress and will have a popular tunic effect. (You may even like it better!)

Here's another one for nylon net! For those of us who still have children who play with tub toys, make net bags the needed size for your toys by using bias seam tape. Draw string the top with tape and also make a loop to hang the bag on the faucet. This keeps the toys off the tub edge and easy to find next bath time.

Dear Eunice:

When the bodice and skirt have been joined, I never know which direction the seams should be pressed and the pattern never explains it.

I don't know what we'd do without you to come to the rescue. You give us that confidence and encouragement we all seem to need."

Mrs. C. C.

Dear Mrs. C. C.:

Thanks for your sweet words and I'd love to personally meet and teach each one of you.

The direction of the waistline seams are often determined by the construction. If the bodice is gathered, the seams must go down, if the skirt is gathered, the seams must go up. In other words, you don't change the direction of the gathered edge.

If there are no gathers at the waist, the seams are usually pressed down. Be sure to clip the bodice seam since it must fit down over a larger area. This will avoid a pulled look.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

"I have discovered a way to make a size 14 1/2 inch white dress shirt grow into a size 15 1/2 inch to meet my growing son's need.

"First, I purchased a size 15 1/2 inch collar replacement (available at most notion counters).

"After carefully removing the original collar, I pin the inside edge of the new collar to the inside edge of the shirt neckline, matching the center back and front edges, 1/4 inch below the original stitching.

Next, I stitch the outside edge of collar band to the outside of the shirt, sew on the button and the new shirt collar has grown an inch!"

Mrs. W. F. Carleton, Mountain Home, Idaho is this week's winner of a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for this suggestion.

One of the most outstanding dresses I have seen this year had a row of buttons off center, from shoulder to hem. Each buttonhole was made in a different color and the button was covered to correspond with the buttonhole.

This would be so easy to do and so very effective, but you must make a perfect buttonhole. For a detailed instruction leaflet, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Sew Simple in care of The Pontiac Press. Include your request for "Bound Buttonholes."

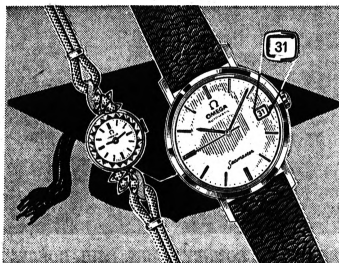

YOUR SEWING GLOSSARY

Lapped seam: This is an attractive detail that can be done quickly. Turn under the seam allowance of the top piece of fabric, baste and press.

Pin this folded edge over the seamline of the under piece of fabric, just barely overlapping. Either machine stitch or hand pick on the folded edge any distance from the edge to five-eighths inch, depending on the effect you wish.

BETHUNE

The final meeting will be held Thursday at 1:45 p.m. in the multipurpose room.

"Say it with Music," the scheduled program, will be presented by the school children under the direction of James Davis and Bethune teachers.

Mrs. Neal Smith, 1963-64 president, will conduct the installation of new officers.

COTTAGE STREET

Types of playground equipment to be purchased will be discussed at the Thursday, 7:30 p.m. meeting in the multipurpose room. The Land-O-Lakes Majorettes and Drum corps will provide the entertainment. Refreshments and a nursery will be provided.

LeBARRON

The fourth grades will present a program entitled "I Sing of Michigan" at the 7 p.m. Thursday meeting in the multipurpose room.

Refreshments will be served and a nursery provided.

MARK TWAIN

"Pulse of Life" will be discussed and shown in film by Albert Rayner, captain of the Pontiac fire department, at the 7:30 p.m. Thursday meeting.

Science fair exhibits and installation of officers will also be featured at this last meeting of the year.

The PTA will hold an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday in the multipurpose room.

The event is in honor of Mrs. Florence Pappert, Mark Twain teacher retiring after 29 years of service in Pontiac.

Glove-in-Hand Turns Beautiful

All types of gloves—from shorties to eight button lengths—are blossoming with new designs, materials, and finishes.

Look for embroidered polka dots, contrast stitching, beadings, and eyelid trim—all safely suitable for the count.

With all of this new fashion emphasis on hands, your gloves need and deserve to be laundered after each wearing.

Reunion plans for the St. Frederick High School class of '54 are being made by (from left) Mrs. Edmund Guzman of Canterbury Drive, Mrs. Jack Bramlett of Midland Street and Mrs. Albert Ezell of Lawrence Street, Waterford Township. Reminiscing over the old class composite, they dream of the June 13 dinner dance at the Elks Temple. Reservations must be made by Monday with Mrs. Guzman.

Create Oriental Mood at Nurses' Annual Affair

An oriental mood will dominate this evening's annual banquet for the Oakland County District Nurses Association at the Fox and Hounds Restaurant.

Major Clifford P. Shaffer, Army Mobile Command, will show slides taken on duty in Viet Nam at the meeting for which oriental flowers will be flown in to decorate the room. The new president, Mrs. Sadie McIntyre, will be installed by the retiring head, Mrs. Ethel Kohler.

Other incoming officers are Mary Owens, first vice president; Mrs. Sally Ball, second vice president; Elizabeth Tukey, recording secretary; Mrs. Daphne Gigli, corresponding secretary; Irene Barnes, treasurer and Mrs. Madelyn Skaggs, member at large.

Women's Club Holds Meeting, Makes Plans

A recent arrival in America observed the general business meeting conducted by St. Maria Women's Club of the St. George Romanian Church in the church hall Monday evening.

Mrs. Marie Popp, mother-in-law of Mr. Joseph Botan Jr., club member, arrived in from Romania a short time ago and will make her permanent home on Sheryl Drive.

The club will hold a benefit sale from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. Proceeds will be used to purchase additional kitchen equipment for the church.

Mrs. Charles Parker, Mrs. Nick Stancu, Mrs. Eli Hentes and Mrs. Thomas Poponea were hostesses for the gathering.

Club Sends Invites

Guest night, starting at 8 p.m. Friday, will close the season for the Waterford Great Books group in the CAI lounge.

Mark Twain's "Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" will be discussed by Kay Rector and Wilber Ott.

Methodist Rite Unites Local Pair

White gladioli banked the altar and marked family pews in Central Methodist Church for the recent marriage of Sally Jean Larson to Jack Allen Larson.

Parents of the newlyweds are the Frank J. Doranges of Latimer Street, Mrs. Roy Warren of Candlewick Street and William Larson of South Paddock Street.

The bride's gown of white Chantilly lace over tulle was designed with tiered skirt cascading into a chapel train. A double crystal tiara held her bouffant veil of illusion.

BRIDAL BOUQUET

A white orchid centered her heart-shaped bouquet of deep red miniature roses.

With honor attendant, Judy Eva of Clarkston, were bridesmaids, Nancy Johnson of Southfield and Mrs. George Garner.

Karen Hale of Clarkston and Michael Poppy were flower-girl and ring-bearer at their uncle's wedding.

Gary Hart performed the duties of best man at the evening ceremony performed by Dr. Milton H. Bank, Max Evans and George Garner, both of Union Lake, were ushers.

The couple left for a two-week honeymoon in Washington, D.C. after a reception at Maurice's. They will live in the bridegroom's home in Clarkston on their return.

PEO Members Take Husbands to Restaurant

Members of Chapter AW, PEO Sisterhood, took their husbands out to dinner recently as they closed their club year with two events.

The dinner was held in the Crossroads, Detroit, with Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Gibson as guests.

The last event was a cooperative dinner Monday evening in the Edgewood Drive home of Mrs. James Boaz. Mrs. Eva Welthington, owner of the Merle Norman studio, was speaker at the meeting for which Mrs. Walter Teutissen was cohostess.

Tot's Tiny Toes

"My Baby" magazine reports that doctors say mothers often forget tiny places like the areas between baby's fingers and toes.

These should be sudsed conscientiously each bathtime, then rinsed and dried thoroughly.

The Golden Age Club of Waterford has scheduled a business meeting at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the CAI Building.

Think Before Trying Mail Order Business

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

The age-old myth that anybody can make a fortune by mail continues to rope in the unwary. "Opportunities" for investing a little money and making a big profit look so tempting in print. But read and heed.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I invested $120 in the mail order business last year, for a franchise and mailing list plus catalogues. I had checked out the company through the Better Business Bureau and got a vague answer that they were an old concern, as if that automatically made it okay.

I got one order back out of 500 catalogues and my net profit was $1.65 on the sale! So you see that the concern that sold me the catalogues made all the money.

If I had stopped to think I would have seen that if there was any money to be made by mailing out these catalogues, the mail order company would do it themselves. I think these outfits are downright frauds.

H. L. Z., Pueblo, Colo.

Dear H. L. Z.:

You nailed down the real trouble when you said "If I had stopped to think." Thinking is a mighty good habit—especially if you do it before you let go of your money.

The National Better Business Bureau gets inquiries daily about firms who set people up in the mail order business.

WHAT TO DO?

But unless they get actual complaints, too, what can they do about it? Since you are given what the advertiser offered, what can you rightfully complain of anyway?

The BBB makes an open statement on the mail order business in general, and I think it's worth passing along:

The mail order business, like other new business ventures, is fraught with possibilities of failure. No one can assure even an experienced business man a return of his investment, let alone exceptional profits.

Professional mail order men are constantly in search of new and interesting products which are not ordinarily available through regular retail or mail order channels.

LIST BROKERS

They depend upon list brokers who are specialists in providing them lists of customers most likely to purchase products, and are expert in devising mailing material which will sell these items to the carefully selected prospects.

Even so, professional mail order men know that despite their best efforts, they may lose on their investment; that for every successful sales campaign they may sustain one or more losses.

$120 is a high price to pay for experience, H.L.Z. But even at that, maybe you got out easier this time than you might have. Just think how much smarter you are now.

While we're on this subject of thinking before you act, here is another hazard some of our readers may encounter. The attorney general's office in New York City issues this springtime bulletin.

"Don't let spring fever make you oblivious to the fast-talking door-to-door salesmen and their shady sales practices."

MANY RELIABLE

Let's make it clear right here that there are many reliable door-to-door salesmen who are, and should be, welcome. It's the other kind the attorney general warns you of.

He points out that some "hard sell" salesmen get a foot in the door by presenting themselves as television rating checkers, plumbing and electrical inspectors, firemen and representatives of reputable companies.

One vicious fraud perpetrated by some operators, he cautions, is the "referral sales" racket.

"In this scheme," the bulletin says, "low income families and those with language difficulties are hit the hardest. The housewife is told that she will receive a vacuum cleaner or other appliance much below cost if she 'refers' the salesman to a number of new customers who purchase the merchandise.

The housewife who makes the 'referrals' then signs a 'friendly agreement' which, in fact, is an installment plan contract for the full price of the appliance, sometimes hundreds of dollars.

"The victim is then dunned by a collection agency for the full amount of the contract."

Be sure you're not that victim.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. She will answer questions of widest interest in her column.)

Tugs Move U.S. Carrier 18 Days After Viet Sinking

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The U.S. aircraft carrier Card was nudged down the Saigon River by American tugs today, 18 days after she was sunk by the Communist Viet Cong. Departure of the 90,000-ton World War II baby flattop was a carefully guarded secret.

"We didn't want the Viet Cong to have another crack at her," an American spokesman said.

The Card presumably is going to the United States for repairs. The Card was raised from Saigon harbor several days after an explosive ripped a hole in her side below the waterline. The hole was temporarily patched and the water was pumped out to refloat the vessel, which was being used to ferry aircraft.

A Vietnamese confessed from his hospital bed that he threw the grenade which wounded himself and eight Americans the day the Card was sunk, security sources said. His confession led to the arrest of four other Vietnamese.

Informants said the Vietnamese rode past on a bicycle and tossed the grenade into a group of Americans strolling in downtown Saigon. It went off before he could get out of reach and shrapnel wounded him in the legs.

Variety Makes Life Spicy for Vacationers in Michigan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of five articles appearing in The Pontiac Press during Michigan Week.)

By WILLIAM T. McGRAW Director

Michigan Tourist Council
Wherever you go and when ever you go, in Michigan you will find a year-round wonderland.

Variety is the key but water, four times as much fresh water as any other state, makes much of it possible.

During 1963, Michigan's water—and the recreational activities it makes possible—attracted nearly 11 million vacation travelers.

They spent an estimated $77 million dollars, enough to make tourism one of the big three in Michigan's economy along with manufacturing and agriculture.

Everything points to an even bigger year for the Water-Wind-Wonderland in 1964 and in the years ahead.

IN 10 YEARS
Economists predict that in 10 years the nation's population will be 230 million with an average family income of more than $7,500 a year.

In addition to the increased income these families will have greatly increased leisure time available.

Rapidly increasing interest in the outdoors, in water sports all point to a bright future for Michigan.

For the summer visitor, Michigan has more than 3,200 miles of Great Lakes shoreline, more than 11,000 inland lakes and more than 36,000 miles of rivers and streams.

ARMY OF CAMPERS

For the growing army of campers there are more than 14,000 campsites in state parks, state and national forests and local parks in Michigan.

For winter visitors, the state offers 86 winter sports areas scattered throughout both peninsulas, more than any other state.

The facilities range from municipal ski hills to resorts rivaling any in the nation.

Michigan is a fisherman's delight the year around but in the spring, when the smelt runs and abundant perch offering a challenge, the trout is king.

Many of the world's most famous trout streams entice anglers to the state from other parts of the nation.

In autumn Michigan puts on a coat of burnished gold and flaming red and color tours vie with hunting as top attractions.

A bit later some half a million deer hunters begin stalking Michigan's famed whitetails. Even with that crowd there is plenty of room for everyone in the more than 7 million acres of public hunting lands.

GETTING AROUND
Michigan's freeway top-rated for beauty, and excellent overall highway system make getting around a pleasure.

With all of this to offer, vigorous promotion of Michigan's tourist potential can develop a billion-dollar annual business and account for 100,000 new jobs in the next decade.

That has been, and continues to be the goal of the Michigan Tourist Council.

Southerners, Dirksen Pushing for Amendments

One Thing Sure on Rights Bill: Changes Due

EDITOR'S NOTE: For 11 weeks the Senate has been locked in a debate on the civil rights bill. Beginning today is the first of a three-part series spelling out the bill's provisions and the changes being considered.)

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 11 weeks of Senate debate on the civil rights bill have produced agreement so far on only one thing—that the measure must be amended.

At first, the bill's sponsors and administration officials argued that the Senate should pass the measure in the same form as it came from the House.

As the weeks have gone by, this position has been eroded. Now Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the bill's floor managers are supporting a package of amendments.

BIGGEST PUSH

The biggest push for changes has come from two sources—the 19 Southerners fighting the bill and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

In recent weeks, however, they have centered their fight on the jury trial issue. They demand the bill specify the right of a jury trial for every defendant in criminal contempt actions that arise out of civil rights enforcement suits under the bill. Normally, contempt actions in federal courts are decided solely by the judges.

Dirksen has proposed 70 amendments to meet features of the legislation he considers muddy or objectionable.

After a series of conferences, Dirksen, Kennedy and a bipartisan group of senators reached agreement on the package of amendments. They contended the changes would not injure the bill but would win over some of those who were lukewarm or downright cool to the measure.

COMPROMISE PACKAGE

Dirksen has proposed numerous technical changes but concentrated his efforts in two areas. In both, his ideas have been incorporated in the compromise amendment package, at least in part.

One of his efforts is to cut back on the government's power to file suits to enforce the bill.

The other is to write into the bill specific language reserving to the states the right to act exclusively for definite time periods where states have laws covering the same subject as some titles in the bill.

So far, despite all the talk of amendments, no change has been made in the bill which cleared the House 290 to 130 on Feb. 10.

ACCOMMODATIONS

As it stands now one of the most controversial provisions is the one dealing with public accommodations.

The House version states that all persons must be given access to specified establishments without regard to race, color, religion or national origin.

Named are hotels and motels—except for small owner-operated establishments with five rooms or less for rent—restaurants, amusement places, gasoline stations and establishments located within one of the preceding types or serving their patrons.

Bona fide private clubs would not be covered unless their facilities were open to the public for dining or overnight accommodation.

OPEN TO ALL

Any establishment would be opened to all persons even if it were required by state or local law to discriminate.

The bill now provides for enforcement through filing of an enforcement suit by the aggrieved person or the attorney general.

Under the Dirksen amendment package, this would be changed so that the attorney general could file only if a pattern of discrimination existed. Otherwise, the individual would have to sue.

Under the House bill, the attorney general, before bringing a suit, would have to refer a complaint to a state or local agency for corrective action if one existed.

TIME PERIOD

Dirksen proposes to write in a definite time period for the state to act before any federal action could be taken. He points out that 34 states now have public accommodation laws, many containing criminal penalties. There are no such penalties in the proposed federal statute.

The House bill provides that if a person violated an injunction obtained under this title and were tried for criminal contempt, he would have to be given a jury trial if the penalty were more than 45 days in jail or a $300 fine.

The southerners argue that this is insufficient; they demand the right to a jury trial whatever the penalty.

Dirksen and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana are sponsoring an amendment which would guarantee jury trials if the penalty exceeded 30 days or a $300 fine. This would apply to all titles of the bill.

The University of Berne, with professors and lecturers, is one of the biggest in Switzerland.

Your Heart Has Nine Lives—III

Use Yardsticks to Measure Risk of Attack

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of 12 articles condensed from the new book, "Your Heart Has Nine Lives.")

By ALTON BLAKESLEE and JEREMIAH STAMLER, M.D.

Your own risks of getting a heart attack prematurely—before age 65—can easily be measured.

The yardsticks exist, and they apply to you whether you are a butcher, clerk, executive, teacher, lawyer, farmer, government worker, banker—whatever your occupation.

For these figures have come from the laboratory of day-by-day living.

They were collected in research on many thousands of careers in all types of jobs and careers in careful studies to learn exactly what habits and health conditions are making us such easy targets for heart attacks.

Here are some main yardsticks:

Blood cholesterol: Men with a high reading (250 milligrams or higher) run three to six times the risk of low-normal cholesterol men.

EIGHT TIMES

Blood Pressure: High blood pressure means eight times greater risk.

Weight: Extra pounds make more for extra risk.

Smoking: Cigarette smokers develop coronary disease at a rate three to six times greater than nonsmokers.

Diabetes: In middle age, it boosts risk two to four times.

PHYSICAL INACTIVITY: The sedentary man runs twice the risk of the active man.

ENTERTAINING: In one study, men "entertaining" three members of the syndicate of heart killers were 30 times more likely to get heart attacks than the men with low-normal findings in these same respects.

IMMUNITY: And there is no immunity by virtue of your income, the place where you live, your type of job, or race. The shattering fact is that the syndicate spans the whole country, reaches out everywhere into all kinds of homes.

NO. 1 KILLER

Heart disease ranks FIRST among the 10 leading causes of death in 12 of the most industrialized countries, the World Health Organization reports.

These are Canada, the United States, West Germany, Denmark, Finland, France, Norway, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom, Sweden, Switzerland, and Australia.

But research recently has brought heartening signs that the artery-rusting disease can be stopped or even reversed, for example through alterations in diet that reduce the intake of cholesterol and saturated or hard fats, and lower the blood cholesterol.

It has long been known that cholesterol, a natural and very essential chemical of life, is one of the ingredients in the mushy deposits or plaques that block arteries.

MOST SPECIES

Atherosclerotic plaques now have been produced in almost every species of laboratory test animal—in the dog, the rat, pig, chicken, duck, pigeon, guinea pig, hamster and monkey—by feeding them high-fat, high-cholesterol diets.

Monkeys get heart attacks similar to those in men if fed a diet moderately high in fats and cholesterol. Some died sudden deaths from heart attacks.

The common denominator in these animal experiments was a change to a diet high in fat and cholesterol.

It is quite clear that what an animal or a person eats is not the sole cause of the artery disease.

MADE WORSE

The underlying process can be made worse by other things, including obesity, a sedentary life, high blood pressure, cigarette smoking and other factors.

Looking for the key or primary causes, epidemiologists have roamed the world, comparing the mode of life of many different people.

Most Americans eat so "well" that the suspicion has been growing ever stronger that many of us are gorging and hazing our way into heart attacks.

Our diet is rich, varied, tasty, a delight and a comfort. Creeping obesity is one price we pay. Rather than an army of starving children, we have an army now of fat children.

MAIN PROBLEM

Our main problem now is OVERNUTRITION, particularly in certain types of foods.

Before we alter food habits, we must ask for convincing evidence that our diet really is part of the deadly coronary syndrome.

Such evidence does come mainly from scientists who have wondered why heart attacks should be so common in some lands, and rare in others.

They have found one clear pattern:

A higher rate of atherosclerotic heart disease and higher blood cholesterol levels occur in the countries and cultures which are more advanced economically.

DIET HIGHS

In these countries, the diets tend to be high in total calories, high in animal and saturated fats, high in cholesterol, and in "empty" calories from refined, processed foods.

Atherosclerotic heart disease is rare and blood cholesterol level is low in the under-developed countries.

There, the diets usually are low in total calories, low in calories from animal fats, low in cholesterol and low in empty calories.

The epidemiologists found atherosclerosis in many countries among people consuming a high cholesterol, high-fat diet in the form of eggs, butter, milk, meats and animal products generally.

They noticed class differences too. The artery trouble appeared to be low among poor people whose mainstay was largely cereals.

ANIMAL FATS

But it was relatively high among those in the same country who could afford animal foods richer in saturated fats and cholesterol.

Economic status and what they could afford to eat made a difference among persons of the same ethnic group and race living in the same geographical and climatic conditions.

Race, ethnic origin, climate and geography are not significant factors as such. The mode of life is.

The good we consume over the years plays a part.

And our average diet has changed considerably within a half-century or less. We are, in a large sense, also lading from the same stewpot now in the types of nutrients.

Unhappily, our type of diet is the one associated with high blood cholesterol levels, which in turn are linked with higher risk of atherosclerosis and heart attacks.

FOOT ODOR?

New aerosol spray checks perspiration. Keeps feet odor-free 24 hours!

Medical scientists have developed a new aerosol spray that checks perspiration... stops foot odor 24 hours and cools and dries hot, sweaty feet. It's Mennen's Foot Deodorant with triple-action effectiveness to:

1. Kill odor-causing germs on contact with a continuous-acting antiseptic that keeps working all day, all night.

2. Instantly check the flow of perspiration that breeds odor-causing germs—helping block the return of foot odor.

3. Cool, soothe and refresh your hot, tired feet making them dry and comfortable.

Faster, more effective relief because Mennen Foot Deodorant is an aerosol spray. It stops the smell of hot, sweaty feet fast. It eliminates odor so effectively because its fine spray penetrates even the tiniest foot crevices.

Colorless, non-staining

Mennen Foot Deodorant is colorless and will not stain or harm your skin, wool, cotton or leather. In fact, you can spray it on your shoes or down into your shoes to help rid them of lingering odors. Get new MENNEN FOOT DEODORANT with amazing triple-action effectiveness that checks perspiration so it keeps feet odor-free 24 hours! That's Mennen Foot Deodorant, by the makers of Famous Quinona Foot Powder. At drug counters everywhere.

Designs to Reach Canada Parliament

Confidence in Liberal Party May Ride on Flag Vote

AP Photos

SUBMITTED — A design for a new Canadian flag is expected to be submitted to the Canadian Parliament this week — possibly by Thursday — by Prime Minister Lester Pearson. One leading design (top) has three maple leaves in a red-on-white background. The flag now being used is British Red Ensign with Canadian coat of arms in the fly.

OTTAWA, Canada (AP)—Canada's battle-honored Red Ensign be retained. The present flag, with the British Union Jack occupying the upper left quadrant of a red field, is unpopular in French-oriented Quebec. Under consideration are three designs for a flag featuring a maple leaf, traditional symbol of Canada. The flag and the anthem proposals were part of the Liberal party's platform when Pearson ousted Diefenbaker's Conservatives in the April 1963 elections. The separatist movement in

"I would make it quite clear," said Pearson, "that when the government submits to Parliament a matter of policy—and this is certainly a matter of policy—the government must stand or fall on the result of the decision of the House."

If former Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservatives or other opposition parties oppose the new flag, he said, they could make the issue one of confidence. If the government loses a confidence vote, it must resign and new national elections must be held.

LACKS MAJORITY

Pearson's 13-month-old government lacks a majority in Commons but has not lost a confidence vote yet. Pearson also said he hoped "O Canada" could be declared the official national anthem at this session of Parliament. A member of the British Commonwealth, Canada has used "God Save the Queen" since it became a dominion in 1867.

Opposition to a new flag is spearheaded by the Royal Canadian Legion of war veterans, whose national convention booed Pearson in Winnipeg last weekend when he announced he was going ahead with his proposal. The legion planned a barrage of telegrams to every member of Commons demanding that

Prince Wins From Vendor

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles has won 10 shillings ($1.40) in damages from an ice cream man.

Lawyers for the 15-year-old heir to the British throne complained in court yesterday that Reg Butchers, 53, had for four years been selling ice cream on Dartmoor, which is part of the prince's estates without permission.

They asked for 400 pounds ($1,120) damages and 8 pounds ($22.40) costs. All they got was the 10 shillings—plus an injunction preventing Butchers from ever selling on the prince's property again.

"It's put me out of business," said Butchers, a former army sergeant with nine children.

Hearst Lawyer Dies

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—Warren P. McGoldrick, 53, an associate attorney for the Hearst Corp.'s legal department for 30 years, died Tuesday.

Quebec and other French-speaking raised the threat that Canada complain that French Canadian sections of Canada has will split apart. The separatists are discriminated against.

Continue Fight for Education Funds

Utah Teachers End Two-Day Walkout

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Utah's 10,000 public school teachers have voted to end a two-day walkout, after preparing for the next round in their fight for more money for education.

About 90 per cent of the teachers voted Tuesday to resume teaching today, but they also decided not to sign next year's contracts until a special legislative session is called to consider an emergency $6 million school appropriation, and other demands are met.

The normal time for signing teachers' contracts has gone by. Chances of recruiting new teachers from out of state appear slim. The National Education Association asked its 902,000 members not to accept jobs in Utah until the crisis is over.

Besides the legislative session, the teachers asked at a mass meeting for approval of Utah Education Association solutions to "the financial problems of the educational situation."

Shortening the 1964-65 school year has been discussed as one such solution.

The proposal for calling the state legislature was first mentioned by a school study committee appointed by Gov. George D. Clyde last year as a compromise when teachers threatened not to return to classrooms in the fall.

Clyde's refusal to call the special session last week was the spark that caused the two-day walkout and the decision for the mass meeting. The walkout was 90 per cent effective, but schools stayed open.

UEA leaders were served with a restraining order just before the meeting. It called on them not to encourage the teachers to prolong the walkout or ignore their present contracts.

The association wants more money for salaries, school facilities and study aids.

Modernization Starts on 4 Miles of US 27

LANSING (AP) — Work has started on a $200,746 project to modernize nearly four miles of northbound US 27 near St. Johns, Clinton County, the State Highway Department has announced. The present 18-foot roadway will be widened to 24 feet.

Thirty states put slogans on approximately 30 million of the 65 million vehicle license plates used in this country.

Mariner II transmitted 65 million bits of information from distances as far as 34 million miles from earth.

Experiments are being made to develop the leaf of the papaya, a popular fruit in Hawaii, as a substitute for tobacco.

Theater Owners, Broadcasters, Citizens Battle Over Pay TV

WEAVER

By PHILIP J. KEUPER
NEW YORK (AP) — A big battle is rumbling over pay television.

At stake is perhaps the future of commercial television, the kind that beams programs free into the nation's stars.

Already in the fight are citizens' groups, movie theater owners and the National Association of Broadcasters. On the sidelines are the federal government, the major television networks and television executives. What is involved?

Subscription Television, Inc., headed by Sylvester L. Weaver Jr., former president of the National Broadcasting Co. Weaver says he aims to turn pay television from a novelty into a paying business.

The job will take considerable salesmanship. Many Americans today shrug off pay television with the question: Why should I pay to see television when I can see it now for free?

"Quality," answer pay television spokesmen. "We'll offer special sports events, first-run films, ballet, opera, Broadway plays, all uninterrupted by commercials."

If pay television is sold to the public, say its critics, it could change much of the entertainment industry.

THEATER WOE

Movie theater owners see the dollars going into pay television coin boxes or for monthly bills for programs.

The major television networks and the National Association of Broadcasters claim successful pay television eventually would buy away the best of the talent from free television, making the public pay for what it used to see for nothing.

The National Broadcasting Co. and Columbia Broadcasting System say one thing is certain: If pay television proves to be an overwhelming competitive force, they will join it.

"Eventually," says Leroy Collins, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, "pay television could actually destroy free television as we know it today."

FIRST REPERCUSSIONS

The first repercussions are due this summer in California. Starting in July, Subscription Television, Inc., plans to bring three channels of closed-circuit pay television to at least 7,000 homes in Los Angeles and San Francisco. By the end of this year the company hopes to have 70,000 sets in the two cities wired for pay television; in five years, 1.5 million sets in California and 10 million in the nation.

"In 10 years," said Weaver in an interview here, "half of the sets in the nation could be receiving pay television."

So far, pay television hasn't proved itself. Other pay television operations in Chicago in 1967 didn't last.

Two pay television stations operate today. One, near Toronto, Canada, began in 1961 with 5,000 subscribers and now has 3,500. The other, in Hartford, Conn., began in 1962 with 300 customers and today has 5,000.

PREVIOUS ATTEMPTS

Weaver describes previous pay television operations as experiments. The California operation, formed with $25 million, SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — About 300 Union College students marched into downtown Schenectady early today and sat in a main street, blocking traffic.

The students scattered when firemen arrived and aimed hoses at them, police said.

Nine students were arrested on charges of creating a disturbance.

The march apparently was spontaneous, authorities said, and without purpose.

is a business, he says. Among the scheduled first programs: home baseball games of the Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants which are not televised now. Sir Laurence Olivier's production of "Uncle Vanya," filmed at London's National Theater; two off-Broadway dramas; a filmed opera; and ballet.

"We are interested in giving the viewer what he could not get before," says Weaver. "Our opponents say we will destroy free television—not because they believe this—but because they don't want the boat rocked."

Pay television and free television can coexist on the same set, Weaver claims.

California's pay television programs will be transmitted by wire, as in Toronto. Unlike Toronto, where coin boxes are used, a monitor device will set atop the customer's set, relaying information on the pay programs seen to a computer center which tallies the monthly bill. The company hopes subscribers will watch an average of $15 worth of programs a month.

SECONDARY WORRY

This may prove to be a secondary worry. A citizen's group, the Citizens Committee for Free Television, as well as the state's movie theater owners, are campaigning for a California law to ban pay television. They think the courts would uphold such a law.

The National Association of Broadcasters says it may seek broader federal regulation of pay television. The government does not regulate pay television transmitted by wire; only that transmitted through the air.

The broadcasters also are concerned about another form of pay television—Community Antenna Television Systems, CATV. These systems charge customers to relay commercial television programs, mostly by wire, to homes in poor reception areas.

The systems reach more than 1.2 million homes by wire. Someday, says the National Association of Broadcasters, they could be used to carry pay television programs, just as they carry free, commercial programs today.

PUBLIC INTEREST

Chairman E. William Henry of the Federal Communications Commission told the broadcasters recently that "pay television in any form must have a public interest justification."

"It must be a supplemental service, not a substitute service," he said.

International Telemeter Corp., which operates Toronto's pay television station, says the public will pay—but only if the attraction is outstanding.

Toronto's most successful pay television program was a live Broadway show two years ago. About 40 per cent of the subscribers watched at $1.50 a set. In Hartford, it was the recent heavyweight championship fight, watched by 86 per cent of the subscribers at $3 a set.

Parochial School Aid Dispute Plaguing Canada Province

By FRED COLEMAN
WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—A bitter dispute over integrated or separate but equal schools plagues this Canadian prairie province. The issue has nothing to do with color.

The fight centers on how French-speaking Roman Catholics and English-speaking Protestants should share public funds for school services.

The quarrel has been going on since 1870 when Manitoba, with nearly equal French and English populations, joined the Canadian confederation.

Attempts to channel public funds to Manitoba parochial schools helped topple Canadian Prime Minister Sir Charles Tupper in 1890 and almost ousted Manitoba Premier Sir Rodmond Roblin in 1914.

NEW ATTEMPT

A novel attempt to solve the impasse this year now clouds the political future of Roblin's grandson, Premier Duff Roblin, a top contender for leadership of Canada's Conservative party once former Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker steps down.

Roblin's "shared services" plan would allow Catholic pupils to attend public schools for such nonsectarian subjects as mathematics. It touched off a public furor and was sidetracked for more study.

Roblin's problem stems from an 1890 Manitoba law which abolished provincial aid to parochial schools.

Since then Catholics have charged they must pay an unfair double tax—to the government for schools their children never attend and to parish organizations to support parochial schools. Protestants argue that support for parochial schools is a matter of free choice.

Roblin's troubles started in 1890, when a Manitoba Royal Commission recommended provincial aid to parochial schools. Only Manitoba and British Columbia, among Canada's 10 provinces, do not provide some method of feeding tax dollars to church schools.

The commission report triggered angry public debate and led to formation of emergency groups by Catholics and Protestants. Roblin tried to shelve the commission's recommendations.

But since 1959, financial troubles have mounted steadily for Catholic schools. Catholics still form about a third of Manito-ba's population of 920,000 and more than 8,000 Catholic children attend church schools.

Catholic leaders say they can not build new schools, hire new teachers and maintain an adequate separate school system without government help.

After winning re-election by a commanding margin last fall, Roblin came up with the shared services plan. He immediately ran into a barrage of criticism from all sides.

A committee was set up to study the shared services plan and report back next year. Roblin now says it cannot take effect before 1965 and then only in Winnipeg and Brandon.

Rights Demonstration in New York Fails to Get Support

NEW YORK (AP) — Three times in two months, civil rights groups have called Negroes into the streets here for major demonstrations and three times they have failed to come in the numbers wanted.

Monday, the chief planner of the March for Democratic Schools, marking the 10th anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court desegregation decision, asked for 15,000 demonstrators.

The most generous predicted estimate of the crowd in City Hall Plaza was 5,500. Some estimates were as low as 3,000.

"I consider that we did not have the kind of crowd that is needed," said Bayard Rustin, organizer of the demonstration, jointly sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Congress of Racial Equality.

Others, not directly connected with the march, called it a failure.

Last Feb. 3, the Negro and Puerto Rican communities jolted New York with a public school boycott. It, too, was planned by Rustin and 464,362 children missed classes—almost half of the million-pupil enrollment.

The protest dramatized dissatisfaction with school segregation resulting from housing patterns.

The Rev. Milton A. Galamison of Brooklyn, a leader in the first school boycott, called another on March 16 and 268,064 pupils missed school. The NAACP, CORE and the Urban League—which had supported the first—did not endorse the second boycott.

"STALL-IN"

On April 22, a rebel faction of CORE planned an automotive "stall-in" on highways leading to the World's Fair, opening that day.

Leaders spoke of almost 2,000 cars pledged to participate, but only 12 cars showed up at the assembly point.

"It was sparked by a bunch of dissidents and had no organized backing," said Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary.

Then came Monday's setback—the City Hall turnout climaxing other disappointments for leaders of the demonstration.

SYMBOLIC BOYCOTT
Rustin and his aides chose one Harlem school, almost all Negro or Puerto Rican in enrollment, for a symbolic boycott. But nearly half of the pupils went to class.

Consequently, the planners were left without the Negro children they had intended to send to five predominantly white schools for "study-ins" and had to recruit others from two Harlem junior highs.

Rustin had chosen 15,000 as the measure of success of the ally because that many white demonstrators marched at City Hall on March 12. Called out by the newly formed Parents and Taxpayers organization, they objected to a school board plan to racially balance enrollments by pairing the predominantly white and the predominantly Negro schools and transporting pupils by bus.

Wilkins said, "It's easy to get a crowd of 15,000 in New York City out against something with racial overtones."

The Monday march, he said, "was in support of something, not against something. It did not have the racial emotions and racial overtones that drove people there as the other one did."

The Massachusetts Health Insurance Company of Boston in 1847 was the first U.S. company organized to issue insurance against the costs of medical care.

Turkey Listed as Plentiful Food

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Women's Editor

The U. S. Department of Agriculture lists turkey as a plentiful food for May. That's good news for meal planners.

A couple of weeks ago we entertained for dinner. We bought a rolled turkey roast combining thigh and breast meat. It served 11 for dinner, made sandwiches for lunch and ended up in a salad in Julienne slices.

The rolled roast is more expensive, but it's boneless and for our particular needs was a good buy. But a large roasting bird will give you lots of meat at lower cost.

Here are a few recipes using cooked turkey. Remember, you remove any stuffing left in after a meal and refrigerate the bird immediately. It will store easier if you take out the meat off the bones. Some can be frozen for future use.

The first is a USDA recipe.

Hot Turkey With Poppy Seeds

Peel 2 medium onions, cut in thin slices and place in fry pan along with 1 minced garlic clove and 1/4 cup butter or margarine. Cook over low heat until onion is tender, but not brown.

Add 2 cups diced cooked turkey, 2 teaspoons poppy seeds, 1 teaspoon marjoram, 1/2 teaspoon each salt and paprika, a dash of pepper, and 1/2 cup sherry. Heat to boiling point, then reduce heat and cook gently for 10 minutes. Serve on bed of fluffy rice. Makes 4-6 servings.

How about individual turkey pies? You could make a large batch of these and freeze them unbaked for future use. The pastry is unusual with cheese sauce mix in the recipe.

Cheese Crust Turkey Pies

2 cups turkey gravy
2 to 3 cups diced cooked turkey
1 cup sliced celery, cooked
1 can (3 to 4-oz.) sliced mushrooms
1 tablespoon minced onion flakes
1/4 teaspoon rosemary
4 baked cheese pastry crust tops

Combine in a saucepan the gravy, turkey, celery, mushrooms, drained (if gravy needs thinning use some of drained mushroom liquid), onion, and rosemary leaves. Heat bubbly hot. Portion out into 6 individual serving skillets or casseroles.

Top with pre-baked cheese crust rounds. (See recipe above.) Place in a 350 degree oven about 10 minutes to heat through. 6 servings.

Cheese Pastry

1 1/2 cups flour
1 envelope cheese sauce mix
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 cup vegetable shortening
5 to 6 tablespoons cold water

Combine in a mixing bowl the flour, cheese sauce mix, salt and paprika. Use a pastry blender to cut shortening into dry ingredients until mixture resembles corn meal. Add just enough water to moisten flour particles so dough holds together.

Press dough together. Divide into 6 portions. Roll each portion about 1/8-inch thick. Cut around the size of top of individual serving dish to be used. Flute edges. Place on ungreased baking sheet.

With a cookie cutter, cut a star in center of round. Remove. With tines of fork - prick pasty rounds. Bake in a 425 degree oven 10 to 15 minutes or until baked through. Cool on rack. Makes 6 rounds (5 to 6 inches in diameter before baking).

When making less than 6 - make cheese sticks from remaining dough, to be served at a later date with soup or a salad.

And finally a molded salad with leftover diced turkey. Here's a good recipe to save for hot weather entertaining.

Beef and Turkey Mold

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed consommé
1/4 cup tomato juice
2 teaspoons lemon juice
4 drops Tabasco sauce
Dash cayenne pepper
6 thin green pepper rings
1 cup diced cooked turkey
1/4 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons drained sweet pickle relish
Mayonnaise

In saucepan, sprinkle gelatine on water to soften. Place over low heat, stirring until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat; add consommé, tomato juice, lemon juice, Tabasco sauce, and cayenne. Chill until slightly thickened. Line sides of 3-cup ring mold with green pepper. Fold remaining ingredients except mayon-

Stuff Flank Steak for Good Eating

A compact roll of good eating at an easy-on-the-budget price—that's stuffed flank steak.

Fill the long, tapering piece of beef with a savory bread crumb mixture. Roll it and brown it in hot fat, cover it, then cook it in a small amount of liquid at a lazy pace until the meat is fork tender, advises the American Meat Institute. Serve the rolled beef with baked onions and a Waldorf salad for a hearty appetite-pleasing meal some night soon.

Spread fresh vegetables, such as paper thin slices of cucumbers, radish and carrot, with luscious canned liver spread to make the most refreshing party hors d'oeuvres!

Liver Spread Paste

For a shower party or wedding reception, serve a wedding "ring" spread of smooth, rich liver spread (in the 4-oz. can), softened with a little butter and mixed with chopped chives and bacon. A "smidgeon" of sherry pleasantly sparks this party spread.

Snip chewy, fresh California dates into fruit ambrosia.

Tart Pickle Relish Used in Muffins

Pickle relish in muffins? That's right, and for extra tang mayonnaise or salad dressing is used as shortening. You or family literally will enjoy "with relish" these unusually tasty little quick breads.

For lunch serve the muffins with your youngster's favorite soup, apples and milk. The muffins go nicely with a family supper menu of a baked bean and hot dog casserole, gelatin salad mold and for dessert baked custard and cookies.

Pickle Relish Muffins

2 cups sifted enriched flour*
1 tablespoon sugar

1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/3 cup sweet pickle relish, drained
1 egg, beaten
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1/4 cup sweet pickle relish, drained

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Stir in 1-3 cup pickle relish. Blend egg, milk and mayonnaise or salad dressing. Add liquid all at once to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened.

Fill greased medium muffin cups 2/3 full. Sprinkle 1/4 cup pickle relish over tops of muffins. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 12 medium muffins.

*If you don't sift and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a one cup dry measure, level off, then remove two level tablespoons, according to USDA recommendations. Note: If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

Fill Sponge Cakes With Pudding

There is nothing "ticky tacky" about Ambrosia Cakes, a "Food for the Gods" creation when Good's number 10.

Prepare a package of lemon pudding mix according to directions. Center sponge cake shells on individual dessert plates. Generously fill each shell with 3 tablespoons pudding, letting it overflow onto plate. Sprinkle with toasted coconut, using 1/2 cupful in all. Garnish with slices of banana and strawberries. Decoration: Sprig of mint.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Pork tenderloin.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. This is a small, very tender boneless cut from the loin. The larger end is round and it gradually tapers to the thin flat end. The fibers run lengthwise. There is a small amount of fat within the cut and on the outer surface.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. Tenderloin may be roasted or braised. Slices cut from the tenderloin may be flattened (Frenched) then braised or fried.

OFFICIAL RULES

1. Contest is open to any boy between the ages of 10 and 17 years inclusive. Boys who receive the highest number of votes in each store will win.
2. Vote for your favorite boy by writing his name on the back of any IGA, Royal Guest or Table King label from your IGA Food Store.
3. Each label constitutes one vote for the boy of your choice. For example, if you purchase six cans of IGA macaroni, three cans of Royal Guest and one Table King product, you would be given 10 votes for your favorite boy, by putting his name and address on the back of each label.
4. Votes must be placed in the official ballot box provided in each store. Each store will have the number of boys they are sponsoring posted in the store.
5. IGA Food Stores "Favorite Boy Contest" will start April 13th, 1964 and close June 4th, 1964. All entries must be in by that time. Contest is not open to any store owner, their employees, their families, employees of Super Food Services or their immediate families.
6. WINNERS WILL LEAVE FOR CALIFORNIA MONDAY, JUNE 16th AND RETURN FRIDAY, JUNE 19th, 1964.

Milkers Due to Decrease

ITHACA, N.Y. — A Cornell University professor has predicted that with "tomorrow's techniques" one man should be able to tend, feed, and milk a hundred cows producing 1,000,000 pounds (or pints) of milk annually.

Even with today's techniques, the professor says that one man should be able to handle 60 cows producing 780,000 pounds annually — that is, if he has the capital and handles the techniques properly.

An Interesting Conversation

MEMPHIS (AP) — This exchange between two friends who attended a party together at a Memphis home recently helps affirm the opinion that nobody really hears what's said at a reception: "My," said one of the guest of honor, "Isn't she a brilliant conversationalist?"

"No doubt," replied her friend dryly. "In her own language. Didn't you know she can't speak a word of English?"

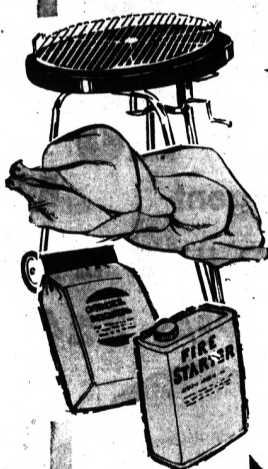

Wine for Passersby Is Holiday Bonus

RUEKA, Yugoslavia (AP) — The ancient custom of offering free wine to any passerby on holidays is still observed in many villages of the Istrian peninsula. The owners of wayside homes set up a table in the front yard with bottles of wine and glasses. Anyone who passes by can stop and drink.

Would Bar Congress Candidates Over 70

WASHINGTON (AP)—A constitutional amendment that would prevent anyone over 70 from running for Congress is being proposed by a 67-year-old

Rep. Everett G. Burkhalter, D-Calif., whose blast several weeks ago at the old-timers in control startled his colleagues, followed up today by introducing legislation to retire them.

His bill would limit senators to three 6-year terms, representatives to five 4-year terms—present terms are two years—and declare that no one could be elected after reaching 70.

Burkhalter, the oldest freshman in the House, has already announced he is quitting after one term. He says he is disgusted at being shackled by a system he says requires members to put in 20 or 25 years before they can hope to have much impact on the affairs of Congress.

He had spent 10 years in the California State Assembly and 10 more on the Los Angeles City Council, and had expected this experience would be useful, particularly in dealing with urban problems.

But he wound up on the low end of the Armed Services Committee, 21 seats removed from the chairman, Carl Vinson, 80, of Georgia, and rarely got to ask a question.

His bill is likely to get a chilly reception.

It must go first to the Judiciary Committee, whose chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, 76, D-N.Y., has been in Congress 41 years and thinks the seniority system is great.

Recreation Season Arrives in City

Activities in Waterford Ready to Start June 22

By JOE MULLEN

The Waterford Township Recreation Department's summer programs and swimming program will get under way June 22.

A total of 13 playground sites will be utilized this summer, according to Robert Lawry, recreation department director.

These include the following schools: Donelson, Drayton Plains, Leggett, Schoolcraft, Grayson, Stringham, Lutes, Month, Waterford Village, Conley, Burt, Waterford Center and Williams Lake.

Youngsters from 6 to 14 are eligible for the playground program. Among the activities are athletics, arts and crafts, Jr. Olympics, softball, trips and picnics.

This summer's swimming program will be conducted at a minimum of six lakes for youngsters from 7 to 18.

Lakes already designated are Lotus, Maceady, Williams, Oakland, Watkins and Elizabeth. Negotiations are in progress for use of swim instruction sites at three additional lakes.

Several other activities are scheduled by the recreation department as part of the total summer program. Most of these will begin early in June.

WEEKLY MEETINGS

The Golden Age Club and

Youth Golf at Municipal

One of the most popular outdoor facilities provided by the City of Pontiac is the Municipal Golf Course.

The 18-hole, 5-677-yard par 69 course is located on W. South Boulevard.

A summer feature at the course is the Youth Golf Program for boys and girls, 12-18 years of age.

The program permits free golf on Mondays, 9 a. m. until 3 p. m., which will start the first Monday after schools close for summer vacation. The program ends September 1.

School of Aquatics Planned for Orion

The first of three, two-week sessions of the School of Aquatics will get under way July 6 in Lake Orion.

The swimming school is sponsored by the Child Guidance Organization and sanctioned by the American Red Cross.

Heading the school is Mrs. Donald Campbell, who said the classes will be open to anyone age five and up.

The second two-week session is scheduled for July 20, and the third starts August 3.

Mrs. Campbell said the classes would be divided into four areas — beginning swimming (age 5 group); beginning swimming for older group, intermediate and junior and senior lifesaving.

The classes will be held Monday through Friday from a.m. until 1 p.m. at the Village Park.

Mrs. Campbell said that qualified assistants are needed to assist in the program. She may be contacted at 692-1211.

The outdoor recreation season has arrived, and the City of Pontiac is prepared.

The numerous facilities provided by Pontiac bring outdoor recreational opportunities almost to the doorstep of every family in the city.

Area residents will have an opportunity to get a preview of part of the outdoor recreational program at the "Family Camping Show," to be held next Saturday and Sunday at Hawthorne Park. The park is located at Walton Boulevard and North Telegraph.

BASEBALL TIME — Spring and summer is baseball time for America's youth. Organized leagues or pickup games occupy a youngster's day. Dennis, 12 (left) and Mike Redding, 11, 2242 Ostrum, head for the playground on bikes carrying the necessary equipment.

Junior Baseball Popular

One of the biggest participation sports in the state summer recreation outlook is junior baseball.

Due to the large number of youngsters from 7-18 years of age who participate on teams of various calibre, the program also is one of the best attended by spectators.

Junior baseball has one of the closest administered recreation programs with careful attention paid to the equipment, supervision, care and protection afforded the boys.

Boys' baseball throughout the state will receive a giant financial boost June 1, from the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals.

The two major league teams that night will play a benefit baseball game at Tiger Stadium with all the proceeds being distributed to the recreation departments around the state.

The Tigers pay for the park expenses and the Cardinals donate their services for the night.

Tickets are being sold by various agencies as determined by the individual recreation groups. Each department must pay the tax on the ticket and then keeps the remainder for its program.

One of baseball's all-time greats, Stan Musial, will do his familiar No. 6 for the Cardinals and hit that night.

Those desiring to purchase tickets should contact their local recreation offices to determine the method of sale.

Some cities are using local business concerns, others have enlisted the aid of service clubs (such as in Pontiac), the individual players are ticket sellers some towns, and Flint has a food chain store underwriting its ticket campaign.

Successful Grouse Campaign Closes

By DON VOGEL

Riding almost unnoticed on the coattails of the elk bill that recently cleared the state legislature was an amendment that is sure to gladden the hearts of Southern Michigan grouse hunters. The amendment calls for an experimental December grouse season in Zone 3 (Southern Michigan). This leads into a letter from Jack Patterson, 61 Illinois, who is secretary of the Ruffed Grouse Society of Michigan.

Following are excerpts from his letter:

"I thought you might be interested in the story behind this grouse bill. . . . The Conservation Department has wanted for several years to extend the grouse season, with negative results from the legislature. . . .

"Lansing attorney Harold Glacies, long-time champion of enlightened conservation practices, felt that the department needed help if such a bill were to be passed. . . . and called a meeting of Michigan grouse enthusiasts. . . . This Society re-

"Following the general policy of the parent organization, the Ruffed Grouse Society of America, the Michigan group dedicated itself to the perpetuation of the ruffed grouse as a game species in Michigan, a determination to exert what influence we might have to back up grouse management along sound biological lines; and as a first order of business to seek an extension of the season in Zone 3.

"It should be noted that the department's interest includes the entire state. We chose Zone 3 because of the lack of organized resistance here.

"There is opposition to extensions in Zones 1 and 2. We feel that it is largely unwarranted and hope that a successful longer season in Zone 3 will answer objections of upstate critics. . . . A major fear is that deer hunters would raise howl by the birds. . . . (the bill provides that the season in Zone 3 will be closed from Nov. 15 to 30. . . .

"We would prefer that any thanks be channeled in a quiet little prayer for a good nesting season or sent to Hans Rasmussen, chairman of the House conservation committee, who did a great job of steering this bill through a rough session. . . . The bill still needs Governor Romney's signature, but this is expected at any time.

WHERE ARE THE MUSHROOMS?
A woman phoned yesterday inquiring, "Where can we get some wild mushrooms without driving 500 miles?" She was informed that the location of the succulent, and much sought after morels, is a closer guarded secret than some of the information marked "Classified" in Washington.

"I know," replied the woman, "Friends of ours came in yesterday with a bushel basket full, but wouldn't tell us where they got them."

A friend in need, is a friend indeed; but not when that friend needs the location of wild mushrooms.

The multi-frequency transistorized fish finder marketed by Benoit Enterprises, Rockford, Mich., is supposed to attract fish to the fisherman. Then it's up to him to make the fish bite. There are five sound waves and the instrument retails at $12.95.

The revised fourth edition of the Michigan Campground Guide ($1.25) can be obtained by writing the publishers at 128 E. Michigan, Battle Creek. The new edition lists over 900 campgrounds in the state.

Some Bright Spots Seen in Spring Duck Habitat

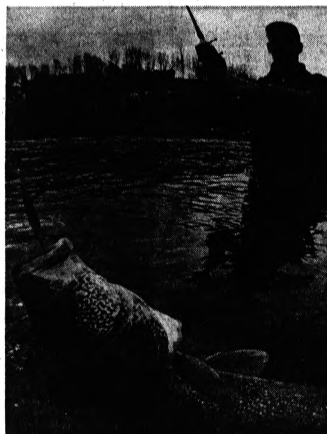

"Bright spots of the 1964 waterfowl breeding season are southwest Manitoba and southern Saskatchewan, but remainder of the prairies and parklands will need heavy rainfall."

These are the observations in the May issue of the Ducks Unlimited "Duckological" prepared by General Manager Angus Gavin.

Gavin indicates that "we have a start" on necessary rainfall. He tells of "good rains across the southern prairies May 3-4" and credits good conditions in parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan to heavy, wet snows along March 23 and again April 14.

Both were followed by a quick thaw.

The report goes back to point out that last year there

END OF THE LINE — Looking brighter than life, a large walleye reaches the end of the line in this battle with a fisherman. Walleyes are considered prime eating fish. The run is under way in the St. Clair and Detroit Rivers. But the fish are the small side. Loon and Cass Lakes in Oakland County are good spots.

Watch for 'Oak,' Too

Poison Ivy, Sumac Can Spoil Fun

Heading for the country for a summer's day of fun? Be sure you learn to recognize the pesky plants, poison ivy, poison oak, and poison sumac, or you're apt to be in for "more fun" than you bargained for.

Poison ivy, both in the bush and the vine, has shiny green leaves which turn red and orange in the autumn.

Each leaf is made up of three leaflets notched at the edges. Two of the leaflets are opposite each other on the stalk, forming a pair while the third leaflet stands alone at the tip of the leaf.

Small greenish white flowers grow in clusters attached to the main stem close to the spot where each leaf joins it. The fruit develops into waxey berries looking much like mistletoe.

The term "poison oak" is misleading. The plant is not a member of the oak family at all. It is actually another name for poison ivy, but is used especially to denote the bushy forms of that plant.

LEAFLETS THREE — Its leaves are also composed of three waxey green leaflets. The plant often looks like a bundle or clump of plants rising from a single root system.

The small blossoms are white with a greenish tint. When they develop fruit, which they often do not, each berry is slightly larger than a pea.

Its surface has segmental

State Horse Show Group Sets 30 Stops on Circuit

What appears to be another long but successful season of summer shows has started for the Michigan Horse Show Association.

There are 30 shows on the circuit this year and some 500 championships are at stake. The association has more than 400 exhibiting members and more than 1,000 horses.

Some of the better known groups competing on the circuit are the Bloomfield Open Hunt of Bloomfield Hills, Max Bonham Stables of Battle Creek, Niles' Bob-O-Lea Farms, Orchard's Redbush Farms, Niles' Laund' Place Stable, and the Charles Grant Stables.

The Loon Dan Farms Spring Schooling Show this weekend at Galesburg marks the third event on the summer schedule.

Already, successful shows have been staged at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club and the Bloomfield Open Hunt. Two of the season's biggest are a month away. The Grosse Pointe Horse Show is set for June 18-21 and following that is the Detroit Horse Show at BOH June 22-28.

There are two shows set for the Metamora Hunt — June 11-14 and Sept. 6 — and a Davison Show Horse July 26th.

The Michigan State Fair Show runs Aug. 28-Sept. 7 at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

There are 7-13 leaflets to a leaf, each from three to four inches long and one to two inches wide, without serrated edges.

Should you meet up with one of these villainous face to face, or rather left to leaflet, scrub the exposed area with laundry soap and water.

Care should be taken to not touch any other part of the body for even tiny amounts of the plant's oil can prove irritable. Follow with light sponging of rubbing alcohol.

If poisoning develops, anywhere from a few hours to several days or more, the skin becomes reddened and small water-like blisters appear.

The involved area may increase in size. The patient's temperature may rise and the itching discomfort become unbearable. Should any of these complications occur, it is wise to consult your physician at once.

LOOKING FORWARD—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kindy, retiring Pontiac school teachers, will be consulting a lot of road maps once school is out. The Kindys, who both retire this year, plan to travel extensively.

2 Retiring Teachers Don't Fit 'Pattern'

The image of the American teacher as a petite, gray-haired bookish type is a fraud, or at least a partial fraud.

Lester and Helen Kindy, among several retiring Pontiac teachers, don't conform to the mode.

As ex-truck drivers, the Kindys shatter the illusion of the classroom instructor. However, the husband and wife teaching team represents 62 years in public education.

Lester Kindy, math teacher at Washington Junior High School, will end 32 years (21 in Pontiac) of teaching next month, while Mrs. Kindy finishes up 30 years. She is school librarian at Madison Junior High.

Once noted as the "Chicago twins," the Kindys plan to take to the road again, beginning with eight weeks in Europe.

SPARE TIME
During World War II and until 1954, the Kindys spent their spare time delivering trucks for the army. The "twins" moniker resulted from 20 trips into Chicago one winter.

"I imagine that's where we get our wanderlust," says Lester of the truck driving experience.

"It was the only way you could travel during the war years," adds Mrs. Kindy.

Both the Kindys are natives of Indiana, meeting while attending Manchester College there. Collectively, they have 50 years in Pontiac.

HOUSE TRAILER
Formerly of 111 Oneida, the Kindys have transferred to a house trailer for traveling purposes. Hopefully, they plan to winter in Arizona and spend summers in their Canadian cottage.

The Kindys are among 23 teachers retiring this school year from the Pontiac system. Two teachers, Jane Danton of Alcott School and Helen Lapsch of Pontiac Central High, retired at midyear.

Included in the group of retirees are three elementary school principals.

These are Mrs. Irene Albright, Baldwin School; Warren W. Abbott, Owen School; and Glenn Husted, Wilson School. JOINED IN 1941

Mrs. Albright, principal since 1949, retires with 37½ years of service in education. She joined the Pontiac system in 1941.

Retirement plans for the Baldwin School principal include a trip this summer to the Holy Land.

Mrs. Albright will be honored at a reception tomorrow, 7-9 p.m. at the school.

Warren W. Abbott, retiring Owen School principal, joined the Pontiac system in 1952 after spending 23 years in Keego Harbor as principal and superintendent.

ASSIGNMENTS
He has been assigned to Wever, Crofoot, and Washington Junior High School. In 1961, he took over the reins at Owen School.

Retirement plans for Abbott include hunting and fishing and traveling. He concludes 43 years in education.

"More time outdoors" is the aim of retiring Glenn Husted

Tie-In Queries in Waterford

Kenneth Squiers, superintendent of Waterford Township's water department, said today that his office has taken up to 70 inquiries a day regarding water system tie-in regulations.

"Those anxious to tie-in and those who prefer not to are about equally divided," Squiers said.

The group not wanting to tie in mainly comprises persons with an adequate private well. Several vacant property owners share these sentiments, he added.

Many interested in immediate tie-in are dissatisfied with their present private water source or feel that it soon will be inadequate, Squiers said.

Squiers explained that tie-in to the township's central system is optional to existing residential buildings but mandatory for houses to be built in the future.

Present residents, who choose to tie in to the system, can either pay a $450 cash connection fee or 10 annual payments of $60 per year. They may tie in any time after completion of the system.

Future residents must tie in and pay a $450 cash fee.

No connection fee will be levied against present users served by the township's 10 existing water systems.

The central water system now under construction will interconnect these systems and make township water available to over 80 per cent of township residents.

It is being financed by revenue bonds.

Water will be provided from a ground water source and pumped from 25 wells. Squiers said this source should be adequate for the foreseeable future.

Detroit water may be available to the township in the future if Waterford ever chooses to use this source.

Doubts GOP Majority Shares Views

Rocky Steps Up Barry Attack

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he doesn't believe a majority of his party's voters will regard Sen. Barry Goldwater's political philosophy as "responsible Republicanism."

The New York governor, with the campaign field all to himself, stepped up his attacks on his lone opponent in California's presidential primary—a test he said could make or break their battle for the nomination.

"This is it, in my opinion," he said of the June 2 election in a radio program Tuesday.

Earlier he said that if Goldwater wins the race for California's 86 delegate votes it might put him over the 655 needed for the nomination at the Republican National Convention in July.

NOT AT ALL

But, he added, if Goldwater doesn't clinch it on the first ballot "then he won't get it at all." The Arizona senator expects to go into the San Francisco convention with more than 500 delegates. Rockefeller has 28, but is counting on all of New York's 92.

Goldwater headed back to Washington Monday and doesn't plan to return until next Monday. Rockefeller has scheduled four days of campaigning this week and five more next week.

Opening his final swing in Southern California, Rockefeller repeatedly singled out instances where he said Goldwater diverged with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and other "responsible" party leaders.

He said his upset victory in Oregon, where he ran ahead of Henry Cabot Lodge and Goldwater in a six-way contest, indicated the direction the voters want the GOP to take.

DIRECTION AT STAKE

"At stake is whether the Republican party shall remain a party of progress, moderation and responsibility, or whether it shall leave the mainstream of American political thought and action and represent the narrow doctrine views of a small minority," he said in a statewide television appearance from Los Angeles Tuesday night.

In a speech prepared for California Baptist College in Riverside today, Rockefeller said that Goldwater is out of step with his party and the times.

Rockefeller also cited Goldwater's statements that he favors quitting the United Nations if Red China gets in.

"Would these steps help to preserve peace and extend human freedom in the world?" he asked.

ROCKY ANSWER

"I certainly do not think so, and I do not believe the overwhelming majority of the people of California or the nation will think so."

After a swing through Riverside, San Bernardino and Anaheim today, the governor moves on to Fresno, Stockton, Oakland and San Francisco. He plans to fly home for the weekend.

Deaths in Pontiac Area

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today in the Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home, Clarkston, after which his body will be taken to the Koskey Funeral Home, Negaunee.

Surviving are his wife, Dorothy; a son, Richard, at home; his mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Larsh of Waterford Township; five sisters, Mrs. Agnes Richardson of Clarkston and Mrs. Dora Connors, Mrs. Jeanette Larson, Mrs. Ann Linn and Mrs. Loraine Hutchins, all of Gwin; and five brothers.

Behind Closed Doors

GOP Senators in Confab on Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republicans met behind closed doors today to consider amendments to the provision of the civil rights bill that has evoked the most GOP criticism—equal employment opportunity.

After a session Tuesday on the 10 other titles of the bill, Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said he is confident some senators have been swayed to the side of closure.

"I believe we have satisfied a good many people on a good many things," he said.

SAME CLAIM

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader, made the same claim on his side after a party conference on the package of amendments worked out by Senate leaders with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Dirksen told newsmen, however, he does not think the Southern filibuster can be shut off before early June.

The title against job discrimination takes up about half of the bill's 55-page text and has aroused much opposition among Republicans.

Dirksen, chief author of the package of amendments, devoted many of his proposed changes to this section.

Road Mishaps Hospitalize 3

5-Year-Old Girl Is Among Those Injured

Three persons, including a 5-year-old girl, were admitted to hospitals following traffic accidents in the area last night and early today.

Dawn DeLong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George DeLong, 2269 Lakeville, Addison Township, suffered a fractured leg and contusions when sheriff's deputies said she walked into the side of a car near her home at 7:20 p.m. She is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The driver, Floyd R. Keith, 42, of 2585 Lakeville, told sheriff's deputies he did not see the youngster in time to avoid the accident.

At Pontiac General Hospital are Tommie Sines, 37, of 202 Wessen, and Jack G. Pilkinton, 23, of 50 N. Hopkins.

Sines was a passenger in a car driven by Sylvester Williams, 37, of 173 Raeburn, when it collided head-on with another car on Orchard Lake near Sylvan at 8:20 p.m.

NOT SERIOUS

Neither Williams nor the driver of the other car, Ferris E. Jones, 29, of Dearborn, was seriously injured. Sines is in fair condition with lacerations of the forehead.

Pilkinton is in satisfactory condition with a fractured leg after his motorcycle sideswiped a parked car on Highwood near Tennyson at 3:05 a.m. today.

Give Man Prison Term for Robbery

A one-year to life prison sentence was ordered yesterday for a 21-year-old Detroit who admitted his part in robbing and terrorizing a Southfield family.

The sentence was imposed on James Jackson, 2616 Pennsylvania, one of four men who pleaded guilty to the March 2 robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Swerdlow, 28724 W. Kalong, Southfield.

He and the others admitted entering the home on the pretext of delivering a telegram and holding gas station owner Swerdlow, his wife and three children at bay with a shotgun and pistol while taking $4,500 in cash and checks.

Jackson, sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore, pleaded guilty May 6 to a charge of armed robbery.

Still awaiting sentence are Detroiters William Carey, 25, of 59 Monroe charged with armed robbery, and his brother James, 29, of 2383 Florence accused of assault with intent to rob while armed.

A fourth Detroit, Richard Robbins, 18, of 7300 Agnes was earlier given a 3-15 year prison term.

Munich has introduced minicabs about half the size and half the price of regular taxis, to help ease the traffic problem on its crowded streets.

U. S. Agents Seize Weapon Stockpile

CLINTON, Ill. (AP)—U.S. Treasury agents have seized a stockpile of machine guns, flame throwers, mortars and explosives and arrested a one-time Illinois leader of the "Minutemen," a nationwide anti-Communist group.

The agents, who posed for weeks as middlemen for an unnamed foreign weapons buyers, said they paid $17,000 to Richard Louch, 37, for the arms in an abandoned barn. The agents also arrested Donald Sturgis, 36.

An inventory showed at least 100 submachine guns, five 50-caliber tripod-mounted machine guns, a flame thrower, several tools and rifles, and ammunition 25-pound aerial bombs, several mortars, many automatic pistols for all the weapons.

Old Car Rally Marks

R. E. Olds Centennial

LANSING (AP) — An old car rally June 7 will mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of auto-motive pioneer Ransom Eli Olds, the capital city Old Car Club has announced.

Some 100 cars from across the state are expected to attend. The first week in June will be proclaimed R. E. Olds Centennial Week by Gov. George W. Romney and Lansing Mayor Willard Boardman.

STARTS REIGN — Jeanine Zavrel, 16, of Falls Church, Va., who became Miss Teen-Age America yesterday with the resignation of Judy Dell, starts her reign with a hearty lunch in Dallas, Tex. Jeanine was first runner-up in the pageant last November as Miss Teen-Age Washington. The former titleholder resigned to marry at the end of the school year.

New Type of Union Contract in Indiana

BERNE, Ind. (AP) — An agreement that could cost union members up to six weeks' pay and management a comparable amount if they let future negotiations collapse was ready to go for final signatures. The contract, called the first of its kind in the history of collective bargaining, is to be signed in New York Thursday by Harold D. Sprunger, president of the Dunbar Furniture Corp. of Berne, and Sal B. Hoffman, president of the Hoffsters' International Union.

Local union and management officials signed the agreement in Berne Tuesday. Present wage scales were not disclosed.

Dunbar employs about 300 workers, 70 per cent of them union members. The only strike at the plant, in 1959, was settled one day short of six weeks.

WAY IT WORKS

This is the way the contract works: For a period up to 12 weeks beginning with the start of negotiations, 50 per cent of employees' wages and a matching amount from company funds will be paid to the First Bank of Berne, which will donate its services.

If agreement is reached within six weeks, all the money held by the bank is returned. If a settlement is arrived at within nine weeks the payoff is 75 per cent. Up to 11 weeks it drops to 50 per cent, the 12th week to 25 per cent.

If the 12-week period expires without an agreement all the money goes to a community or charitable project, with the Berne Ministerial Association to determine the recipient if union and management cannot agree.

AFTER 12 WEEKS

After 12 weeks the union may strike or the company may impose a lockout, but only after giving advance notice. Otherwise the previous agreement is renewed automatically for one year.

Sprunger said the agreement would take the consumer out of the middle in industrial disputes by requiring workers to stay on the job while bargaining continues.

University of Michigan Prepares for LBJ Visit

DETROIT (AP) — City and state officials, consulting with White House aides, were completing preparations today for President Johnson's Michigan visit Friday.

The President is to deliver the commencement address at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor at 11 a.m. Friday.

The President's stay in Michigan will be short, no more than three hours. He is to fly back to Washington shortly after his speech.

He will come only with aides and possibly some congressmen. His wife and daughters will remain in Washington.

SECRET SERVICE

The Secret Service will be in charge of Johnson's security. The President will be flying to and from here in the presidential plane.

Michigan Stadium, site of the commencement, has a capacity of 100,000. Safeguards for the President are being set up.

The University has issued tickets for all but 6,000 seats, the latter reportedly in the immediate vicinity of the platform from which he will speak.

In a switch in plans, the President will arrive at Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 9 a.m. instead of Willow Run Airport.

Metropolitan will accommodate a larger crowd of greeters from more communities, Democrats said.

BY HELICOPTER

A helicopter will take Johnson from the airport to the stadium. After his speech he will return to the airport in the helicopter and fly to Washington at noon.

The University said if the weather is inclement the commencement exercises will be held in Yost Fieldhouse. It has a capacity of 8,000.

Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency said at Lansing the security for the President would be the tightest ever for any presidential visit to Michigan.

Ferency said that since the President's visit will be non-political there will be no formal representation for Michigan Democrats. Ferency expressed the hope that "many Democrats" would be on hand, however. Ferency said he plans to keep an engagement in Marquette.

The university, acting in the interest of security, eliminated the cap and gown procession of graduates into the stadium. Instead, graduating class members have been instructed to proceed directly to their seats on the stadium field at 9:30 a.m.

Also, Gate 1 on the east side of the stadium will be closed. All other gates will be open at 8 a.m. and the commencement audience is directed to be seated by 9:30 a.m.

Ballot Bill May Stir Redistricting Action

LANSING (AP) — With a legislative logjam broken at last by Senate approval of the "Massachusetts Ballot" bill, chances appeared strong today for agreement on a Republican congressional redistricting plan. Republicans rammed the ballot measure through yesterday in a 19-11, party-line vote.

Democrats immediately declared they'll petition for a referendum that would prevent use of the ballot in the fall election.

Johnson's Stand-In in Maryland Primary Wins Over Wallace

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, running as a stand-in for President Johnson, defeated Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace in a Maryland presidential primary clouded by a close vote and a murky legal question. In a Democratic race pinned on his opposition to the civil rights bill pending in the Senate, Wallace drew 212,068 votes yesterday, 42.66 per cent of the party total.

Baker Report at Storm Point

GOP May Protest
Findings of Majority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Storm clouds appeared to be closing in today on the proposed report on the Senate's Bobby Baker investigation.

Republican members sent word they probably wouldn't make it because they have to attend a Republican senatorial conference on proposed amendments to the civil rights bill.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., one of the committee's three GOP members, said he was sure the Republicans will draft a minority report protesting any conclusion that an exhaustive investigation has been carried out.

Balked in their efforts to have White House aide Walter Jenkins and others called as witnesses at the hearings, Republicans have cried "whitewash."

Democrats have accused the Republicans of trying to keep the investigation going in hopes of making political hay before the November elections.

Despite the likely absence of the Republicans, Committee Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., decided to go ahead with a discussion among the Democratic members of the findings and recommendations as drawn up by special counsel L. F. McLeod.

It was better than his showing in Indiana—29.8 per cent— and Wisconsin—33.7—and he claimed vindication in the Maryland vote of his stand against the rights bill originated by John F. Kennedy and pushed by Johnson.

Brewster, 41, a former Marine elected to the Senate only two years ago, was elated by his effort to preserve Maryland's 48 national nominating convention votes for Johnson.

He had been tapped by the party organization—with Johnson's blessing—to take on Wallace in a border state with a recent history of racial strife marked by repeated outbreaks of violence in Cambridge.

Brewster wound up with 264,613 votes, $3.23 per cent of the total.

OTHER 4 PER CENT

The remaining 4 per cent were cast by voters preferring Andrew J. Easter, a Baltimore draftsman, and an unopposed delegation to the national convention.

"We made the fight and we won and I'm glad," said Brewster.

He aimed this parting shot at Wallace: "In baseball, anyway, it's three strikes and you're out."

Wallace didn't see it that way. "This Maryland vote," he said, "should let them know in Washington and in both national parties that they can't get rid of us by calling us bad names."

VOTE SYSTEM

The governor hinted of a possible technical challenge of the results because of Maryland's old vote system.

Similar to the Electoral College vote in presidential elections, it makes it possible for a candidate to win a primary even though he trails in the popular vote.

A U.S. District Court in Baltimore has nullified the unit vote system in Maryland primaries for statewide office. It has set a hearing for Monday on a suit to apply the ban to the presidential primary also.

Spring Weather Will Linger for Next Few Days

Wonderful spring weather will be with us for the next few days. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts fair and cool tonight with temperatures in the mid 40s, and fair and warmer tomorrow and Friday with the high rising to near 76.

A little rainfall forecast for the weekend will measure less than one quarter inch in scattered showers or thunderstorms.

Morning northerly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will become variable at 8 to 12 m.p.h. tonight.

Forty-three was the low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury registered 60 at 1 p.m.

40 Microphones Found in U.S. Moscow Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. security agents have dug more than 40 secret microphones out of the walls of the American Embassy building in Moscow during the past month and are searching for others which may still be hidden in the building.

Officials are investigating to determine if any important secret information was obtained by the Soviets through the microphone network.

The story of the hidden microphones was disclosed by the State Department yesterday.

A statement by the department's security chief, G. Marvin Gentile, said indications are the devices were "placed in the building prior to its occupancy by the United States" 11 years ago.

Officials said that not counting the newly found network, since 1949 more than 130 listening devices of various types were discovered and removed from U.S. Embassy buildings in Moscow and other eastern European capitals.

They said any information losses which may have occurred through the microphone network were probably limited by "the measures taken for protection against such a possibility."

UAW Group Pushes 'Neutrals' Chief for Early Retirement Tells of Losses, Abandons HQ

DETROIT (AP)—A group of United Auto Workers Union delegates from General Motors plants last night began a push for an early retirement plan that could give some workers in their early 50s as much as $400 a month.

About 100 of the 400 delegates to the national GM Council meeting which began today adopted the policy in a pre-council caucus.

The delegates said in a resolution they won't ratify any labor contract negotiated this year unless their plan is included.

Auto industry labor negotiations are scheduled this summer.

Delegates said they would back a $400-a-month early retirement plan reportedly supported by UAW President Walter P. Reuther if Reuther accepts "in writing a clause making retirement possible at full benefits before age 60."

The plan attributed to Reuther proposes full benefits at age 60 after 25 years service.

CAUCUS RESOLUTION

The caucus resolution pledged delegates to a "factor 85" clause. This calls for any UAW worker to retire after he has accrued any combination of service and age totaling 85.

The move was spearheaded by Jack Wagner, president of the 15,000-member Buick Local 599 at Flint, Mich.

National UAW councils from GM, Ford and Chrysler began debate today to formulate specific demands for contract negotiations in July. Current three-year contracts with the Big Three automakers expire Aug. 31.

The caucus resolution was to be put before the council sessions today by UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock, said John DeVito, a member of the 11-man GM negotiating committee.

DeVito is president of Cleveland, Ohio, Local 45.

A spokesman for Reuther said the UAW president had no "official statement" about the early retirement proposals.

It was McNamara's findings on his inspection mission to South Viet Nam that prompted President Johnson to ask for the stepped-up aid.

After the closed hearing, Rep. William S. Mallard, R-Calif., said the administration witnesses pictured a "very serious and difficult situation that has deteriorated since last fall."

"It is a strange thing," said Rep. Clemente J. Zablocki, D-Wis. "We are told the Viet Cong are losing battles and men but they seem to be winning the war."

Rusk told newsmen, "The Viet Cong have stepped up their efforts to try to take advantage of events in the last few months," a reference to the two coups in South Viet Nam.

Asked if the request for more men and money to help Viet Nam was related to the Communist advances in neighboring Laos, Rusk said, "They are not immediately connected but one has influence on the other."

McNamara said the Viet Cong's terror tactics are being held in check but he again cautioned that the war will be "long, hard and very difficult" but would end successfully.

Massive Attacks by Communist Troops Force Withdrawal

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The last positions held by neutralist forces in the Plaine des Jarres region have fallen to the Communists, Premier Souvanna Phouma announced today.

Neutralist Gen. Kong Le abandoned his emergency command post and withdrew further southwest in the face of continuing Communist pressure, a spokesman for Souvanna said.

A government statement said "following massive attacks, prepared well in advance launched by the Lao-Viet-Pathet Lao and North Vietnamese — troops against our neutralist positions in the Plaine des Jarres and Muong Phanh, the last neutralist position existing on the plateau of Xieng Khouang have fallen."

Control of the strategic Plaine des Jarres opens the way for invasion of the whole of Indochina (Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia).

The Communist victory also makes possible the capture of the Mekong River town of Pakxane, thus posing a new threat to Thailand.

WESTERN EDGE

Muong Phanh, perched on the western edge of the Plaine des Jarres, was Kong Le's original headquarters site which the Communists took Monday after an offensive over the weekend.

The statement did not pinpoint additional neutralist positions that have fallen.

Earlier it was reported that the neutralists were clinging to several positions on the fringes of the plain, Muong Kheung, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Reds Capture Laos Positions

The headquarters for Kong Le's armored regiment some 20 miles northwest of Muong Phanh.

Kong Le's withdrawal — his second in two days — was not reported caused by a fresh Red attack although two Communist battalions, roughly 800 men, were said to be close behind.

AVOID SHOWDOWN

It appeared to be that the neutralist group was seeking to avoid a showdown battle.

After the withdrawal from Muong Phanh on Monday, Kong Le set up a new command post in a hilltop position at Ban Khong, four miles southwest of Muong Phanh.

Western military observers had believed the neutralist position at Ban Khong would be defended.

A government spokesman said Kong Le might try to establish a headquarters at Ban Na, another high ground position about four miles southwest of Ban Khong.

There was no estimate of the number of men Kong Le still had with him. He had the Communist offensive he was said to command 5,000 to 7,000 troops in the area.

FRESH WARNING

Loss of the plain — completing a campaign the Pathet Lao started more than a year ago to squeeze Kong Le out of the region the neutralists and Reds once shared — brought a fresh warning from Souvanna that the Pathet Lao leaders "alone must bear the responsibility for this aggression and the resulting consequences."

He called it "a shameful lie to pretend" that the Pathet Lao has not taken part in the attacks.

He was referring to Pathet Lao denials of any offensive. The Reds claim dissident neutralists are the source of Kong Le's present troubles.

The Communists have been accusing Souvanna of working under right-wing pressure since the April 19 right-wing coup in Vientiane. The coup leaders still control this administrative capital, and Souvanna agreed to a neutralist right-wing merger which the Pathet Lao rejected.

CENTENNIAL SIPPING — Right there in the middle of modern Birmingham yesterday afternoon, 4-year-old Pamela Styles and her mother, Mrs. Roy Styles of 523 Roanoke, Bloomfield Township, stopped for some old-fashioned hospitality. They were observing Hospitality Day of Michigan Week and the city's 100th anniversary.

Reports of Sabotage Mar Cuba Anniversary Fete

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuba observed the 62nd anniversary of its independence from Spain today amid reports of sabotage and threats of armed action against the Communist dictatorship of Fidel Castro.

This was the day on which Manuel Ray, Castro's first minister of public works, promised to be fighting in Cuba against his former chief.

From Havana, the Associated Press reported that Cuban armed forces were placed on a state of alert and all military leaves were canceled.

"Then the telephone line went dead, but not usual for circuits between Cuba and the United States."

PLAN ACTIONS

Headquarters of the three groups said only that they still plan to carry guerrilla warfare, sabotage and subversion in their homeland soon.

A shortwave broadcast purporting to originate inside Cuba said this morning commands of the anti-Castro student directorate, still an exile group, had burned hundreds of acres of sugar cane in eastern Cuba.

The broadcast, monitored in Miami, also reported that saboteurs had burned three taxicabs in Havana and that anti-Castro slogans had been painted on walls in Cuba's capital city.

In Miami, officials of the student directorate (DRE) declined to discuss the broadcast, but a spokesman said the organization would issue a communique later in the day.

The station went off the air suddenly, saying it was "being persecuted by the militia" and promising emotionally to return to the air soon.

The broadcaster, a woman who shouted her message, said the cane fields were burned in Camaguey province but did not pinpoint their location.

Havana Radio made no mention of the reported sabotage, but blared defiance to aggressors and announced new preparedness measures, including worker mobilization in Oriente province, Cuba's largest and easternmost.

"The Cuban people will flatten those who try to take over Cuba," said a broadcast called "Our America," and aimed at North, Central and South American listeners.

MORILIZE WORKERS

The broadcast said all workers in Oriente province were being mobilized "for the defense

2 Members Named to Trial Board

The City Commission last night appointed E. Clayton Lee of 832 Mount Clemens and Samuel Morgan of 93 Lull to the seven-member Pontiac Police Trial Board.

The new members replace Cecil C. Mullinix, whose term expired May 5, and T. Warren Fowler, who resigned when he was elected to the City Commission last month.

Trial board terms are five years and expire on the first Tuesday of May. No more than three of the seven terms expire in one given year.

Both appointments were unanimous. There were no other nominees.

Morgan, 39, has been a Pontiac Motor Division employee for more than 17 years. He is married and has three children.

OTHER POSTS

He is currently president of the Neopolitan Club and chairman of both the election committee and committee of Pontiac Motor United Auto Workers Local 653.

He was nominated by Fowler.

Lee, 33, operates Lee Sales and Service, a Marathon Gas Station at Mount Clemens and Melrose.

A native of Pontiac, he is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School. Lee is married and has three children.

To Close Road at Walnut Lake

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Board of Education is going to do a little restraining of its own at Walnut Lake.

The board was ordered to halt work on a swimming site there by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem May 13.

The temporary restraining order was issued pending a Circuit Court hearing Monday on a suit filed by eight Walnut Lake residents.

Last night board members decided to close a blacktopped road running across school property on the northeast side of the lake.

LEGAL ADVICE

Trustees acted on the advice of board attorney, Lawrence King, who noted that property may become public if used by the public for a certain period of time.

King cited this as a "greater threat" than that posed by David Jassy, who lives west of the school property, and is one of the plaintiffs in the Circuit Court case.

The attorney said he had written to Jassy May 1 asking that the latter apply for permission to use a garage on school property.

King reported he had received no reply and was authorized to proceed with either obtaining the application or prohibiting the use.

USAGE ALLOWED

Jassy, King said, could be allowed to use the garage until a school is built on the 46-acre site.

The school district bought the property about four years ago for a third junior high school site.

The board planned this summer the lake front would be used for elementary swimming classes and junior and senior life saving. There is no school swimming pool in the district.

However, the West Bloomfield Township Planning Commission has recommended that the Township Board adopt a zoning ordinance amendment which would prohibit school use of the lake for recreational purposes.

Eight of the neighboring residents have taken their opposition to the plan to Circuit Court.

Mrs. Harrison, president and owner of Harrison Sales, Inc., Detroit, a manufacturers' representative company, died yesterday after an illness of two months.

He attended First Methodist Church, Birmingham.

Surviving are his wife, Gertrude H.; three sons, Charles R. of Birmingham, William N. of Orinda, Calif. and Robert H. of Dearborn; a daughter, Mrs. Russell E. Kaufman of Birmingham; a brother; and 15 grand-children.

Board Hopes for U.S. Aid in Remodeling of Hospital

Hopes of obtaining as much as $25,000 from the federal government toward remodeling of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium was expressed today by the County Board of Auditors.

Board Chairman Daniel T. Murphy Jr. said federal administrators of Hill-Burton hospital grants have shown a sudden interest in the project.

He admitted that the board previously had given up hope of ever receiving any of the federal aid after studying hospital requirements of the federal administrators.

"The requirements in their entirety could only be met by building a new hospital," said Murphy, "and we didn't feel that was necessary here."

"Apparently they have come to the conclusion that we are attempting to prepare the best hospital possible to meet the needs of subacute county patients."

CONSIDERING GRANT

"At any rate they are now considering us for a grant that could go as high as 50 per cent of remodeling costs."

The County Board of Supervisors has approved a $450,000 budget for the remodeling, which also would include a vacant nurses' residence next to the sanatorium at Union Lake.

Remodeling is intended to make two floors of the sanatorium available for non-TB patients.

The county has been faced with a declining TB case load that has made the per-patient costs of operating the sanatorium climb rapidly, while the county's medical care facility for welfare patients has become greatly overcrowded.

ARE REQUIRED

Most of the renovations proposed as required by the State Health Department and fire marshal if the county is to continue getting state matching funds toward patient care, according to Murphy.

Also, he said, more efficient operation of the sanatorium should save the county $250,000 annually.

The work was supposed to start within the next couple weeks, said Murphy.

He said the project could be held up as much as two months in order to get the federal grant. Federal officials are expected to tour the sanatorium within the next couple weeks before committing any Hill-Burton funds.

Judge Puts Constable's Light Out

The Farmington Township constable who donned uniform, badge and gun and set off to do battle with traffic violators has been caught by the glare of his flashing red light.

Constable William L. Scott Jr., 2821 Wellington, has been put on notice not to go around flashing his light anymore.

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn ruled that Scott violated the township ordinance which restricts flashing lights to emergency vehicles.

The case was brought up on appeal of a conviction in March before Township Justice Allen C. Ingie.

The 28-year-old constable was elected in April 1963, and promptly went to work as a one-man police force patrolling Northwestern Highway.

DRAG STRIP

Arguing the street had become a "drag strip," Scott said he decided to put a stop to it as he pulled motorists over to the side on the basis of his police-like uniform and flashing light in his private car.

The Farmington Township force was among police agencies regarding Scott's efforts as an intrusion. A patrolman pulled Scott over last summer and ticked him for violating the flashing light law.

"I was only doing my duty as I saw it," Scott said in defense.

Commenting on Scott's activities, Judge Thorburn said the constable is officially a process server for the courts, and "He only has the right of arrest like any other citizen."

Man Charged in Car Death

A Feridale man was to be arraigned today on a charge of negligent homicide in the two-car crash which killed a 49-year-old Avon Township mother early today.

Arthur H. Smith, 47, was driver of the car which collided with one driven by Mrs. Charles Aldrich, 919 Tienken. The mishap occurred on Rochester road, Troy.

Mrs. Aldrich was brought in to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac at 7 a.m., suffering multiple injuries. She died five minutes later.

Mother of two sons, Mrs. Aldrich was southbound between 19- and 20-Mile when the accident happened, at the Lovell intersection.

Troy police said Smith's north bound car was across the center line at Lovell. They said he was preparing to turn left and pulled in front of Mrs. Aldrich's car. Smith claims he did not intend to turn. He was not injured.

He was scheduled to pick up a passenger a few houses off Lovell, according to Troy police.

Smith was to be arraigned today before Municipal Justice Charles Losey.

County Envoy Tells of Cali Vigor

Great enthusiasm in the Cali region of Colombia for the newly-launched local Alliance for Progress with Oakland County is reported by the county's representative there, John E. Madole.

Madole of 2970 Lacota, Waterford Township, former civil defense director of the county, arrived in Colombia three weeks ago. He said he was given a red carpet welcome by local officials.

Madole was sent by a special committee of county officials, educators and businessmen as its liaison officer for further economic development of the Cali region.

Local community participation in the federal government's Alliance for Progress with Latin America has the approval of the U.S. State Department.

In his first dispatch sent to Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors and of the local Alliance for Progress committee, Madole reported that a counterpart committee has been formed in Cali.

NEXT MONTH

The Cali committee, he said, is preparing now to select their representative to come to Oakland County sometime next month.

He will work directly with the committee here as its adviser, on Cali conditions and to promote wider participation here in the community-to-community approach in foreign affairs.

The program originally was fostered by U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, a major critic of the federal government's foreign aid program.

Commission OKs R20 Study

City Commissioners last night okayed a $5,000 "community organization study" in an effort to complete the rehabilitation phase of Pontiac's R20 urban renewal program.

must be brought up to standard code requirements.

Also last night:

In answer to several complaints about litter in streets, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. appealed to all citizens to aid the Department of Public Works in keeping city streets clean.

"This is a job for everyone," Taylor said. "Citizens can help a lot by refraining from throwing litter or sweeping refuse into streets."

CITY PRIDE

"I'd like to see every citizen take a little pride in his neighborhood and the city as a whole in this matter."

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson asked the city manager to "look into the possibility of opening the city dump on Kennett Road from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sundays."

Hudson said the "seasonal bug of spring cleaning and fixing up one's residence creates more use of the dump at this time."

"There was quite a line-up of cars at the dump last Saturday," Hudson explained. City Manager John F. Reineck said he would consult with department head to see if the dump could be opened Sundays temporarily to ease the situation.

"Initial response was very good," said George Wilhelm, assistant urban renewal director, "but the rehabilitation program has bogged down somewhat in recent months."

MINIMUM STANDARDS

"Most property owners have done some rehabilitating, but many have yet to bring their structures up to minimum standards specified in the city's building, plumbing, electrical and heating codes," Wilhelm noted.

"There are many reasons why such a program slows down. Some people have financial problems; others lose interest. A few just don't care."

Sower will analyze the social structure of identifying individual problems, sentiments and other human aspects of R20 neighborhoods.

Using his findings, he will then advise local renewal officials on the best approach in gaining the active interest and support of this specific neighborhood for a rehabilitation program.

FUTURE HELP

"We hope this will aid us in future neighborhood rehabilitation projects both in and outside urban renewal," Wilhelm noted.

One of the federal requirements in an urban renewal project area is that structures which are left standing,

Nude Blonde a Real Babe

LIBERAL KAN. (AP) — "Had call of a nude blonde at North Ideal Supermarket," ran the opening gambit of a police officer's report.

It continued: "Made run and found young lady with a bit of towel draped around her. Put in patrol car. She indicated it didn't make any difference where we went."

"After stopping at third house I turned Wendy Rae Goff, 2 years old, over to her mother at 28 East Seventh."

35 Civic Groups to Meet Here

Representatives of some 35 civic and neighborhood improvement organizations will gather in Pontiac Saturday to find out why they're important to their respective communities.

The day-long event is being cosponsored by the Pontiac Community Services Committee and the Southeast Community Improvement Association (SCIA).

It will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at GMC Truck & Coach Division United Auto Workers Local 594, at 325 S. East Boulevard.

George N. Higgins, a candidate for the GOP nomination for governor, will be featured speaker at a noon luncheon, according to plans announced today by Arthur Dunlap, SCIA president.

Higgins, 63, is a Ferndale automobile dealer and former state senator.

HELPING PROGRAM

Pontiac urban renewal officials are helping to coordinate the program.

George H. Wilhelm, assistant director of urban renewal, will speak at 9:35 and follow his remarks with a slide presentation showing projects undertaken by the SCIA and their importance to Pontiac's R20 urban renewal project.

"The purpose of this event is to point out why conservation and rehabilitation programs are needed, to indicate the scope of such projects," Wilhelm explained.

"Most community or neighborhood groups are formed with the intention of pushing a local cleanup, paint-up, fix-up campaign."

WHAT AFTER

"But what happens when everything's all fixed up?" he said. "Many such groups then dissolve."

"Maybe this type of program will encourage them to turn their interests to other needs in their own neighborhoods."

Dunlap agreed that "most of us want to eliminate any and all substandard living conditions and our conference is aimed at gaining the knowledge necessary to expedite this."

"But, housing conditions are not the only factor we must concern ourselves with. What about the problem child?" Dunlap noted.

SPEAKER LIST

Included in the list of speakers will be State Rep. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac; Clarence Barnes, executive director of the Pontiac Urban League; and E. Eugene Russell, Pontiac district commercial manager for Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and general chairman of the city's civic improvement advisory committee.

Also on the agenda are Charles Cohen, city beautification inspector; Leonard T. Buzz, recreation supervisor for the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department; and Charles T. Tucker, a Pontiac real estate salesman.

Big Brothers of Oakland County will be represented on the afternoon program and the morning session will feature a child guidance panel.

Group to File 2nd Water Suit

Waterford Twp. and County to Be Named

Attorney for a dissident Waterford Township home owner said yesterday a second court suit will be brought over the township's water system plans.

Paul G. Valentino, representing Lake Oakland Heights Improvement Association members, said the new suit will name both Waterford Township and Oakland County as defendants.

He said it will complain that township officials' alleged restrictions in transferring control over the existing water system in the subdivision to the county for inclusion in a master system.

Valentino stated the subdivision water lines were deemed "in trust" of the township in 1957 by land developers, with provision that funds would be kept in escrow for maintenance.

He said the new court action, to be filed sometime next week, is in addition to a pending suit protesting construction of a 750,000-gallon elevated water tank in the Main and Walton area.

NO STOPPAGE

The association last month was refused an injunction to halt construction by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

Dondero turned down a similar request last fall. This was followed by an unsuccessful appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Spring, Summer Brings New Looks for Sandbox Set

For the sandbox set, brother and sister outfits. The white no-iron cotton tops are worn with woven red and white check shorts. The motif on the pockets of the tops are, naturally, sand buckets. About $3.

Crisp, cool checks, a summer favorite, are used in this charming outfit. The pink and white woven check no-iron cotton top has a white crocheted lace and rickrack hem. Crochet also outlines the high yoke which buttons on each shoulder. Matching pink and white check bows trim each leg of the white bloomer pants. About $4.

Nannette's A-line nautical dress goes everywhere this summer. The white no-iron cotton poplin dress has a high red yoke with navy blue border and white anchors on each side. A matching red, white and blue drawstring dufflebag comes with the dress. About $5.

Warmer weather means less bulky clothes, not only for mommy but for the toddlers as well.

All outfits shown here are by Nannette or Nanekins and are available locally. They have one thing in common, they are 'babified.'

Toddlers are still babies, not "little men" or "little women."

Delicate appliques and embroideries are in order, as is smocking, A-line shapes and simple high-yoked dresses.

Outfits come in no-iron or easy-care fabrics and are reasonably priced. Toddlers 'outgrow' fast.

Babies DO have tummies, a fact that Nanekins recognizes. The raglan sleeve is used over and over again as it gives plenty of room for action.

Spring and summer will be fashionable seasons for little ones and easy ones for their mothers who have to do the washing and ironing!

"Best friends" love these look alike dresses, the left one pink and white woven stripes and the right one a blue and white woven check. Both have a large, square eyelet embroidered white yoke overlay. The real pockets are fanciful eyelet embroidered swans with head and neck applied to the dress. About $5.

Two little "first mates" are seen here in matching A-line sailor dresses. On the left, white no-iron cotton poplin accented with blue braid and red ship's wheel motif. The ocean blue rayon dress on the right is trimmed with red braid and has tiny white anchors on the slash pockets. Both come with matching modified Sou'wester hats. About $6 each.

Annual Breakfast Set by St. Joseph Alumnae

St. Joseph's Mercy Alumnae Association will hold its annual breakfast in the nurses home auditorium Sunday at 11 a.m. beginning with a mass in the hospital chapel for all deceased members.

Honored will be the class of '39, celebrating its silver anniversary.

Results of the election of officers will be announced at the breakfast. Balloting is being done by mail; the deadline is Thursday. Ballots are to be mailed to Mrs. Bernard Reardon of Berkley or Mrs. Edward Omans of Pinegrove.

Resuscitation Demonstrated to Jaycee Women

LT. Donald Kratt, of the Oakland County Sheriff's department spoke on mouth to mouth resuscitation at Monday meeting of the Waterford Township Jaycee Auxiliary.

New officers and directors were chosen at the gathering. Mrs. Richard Schwab is the new president.

Helping her are Mrs. Whitney Carnahan, vice president; Mrs. John Radenbaugh, treasurer; Mrs. Raymond Freebury, recording secretary and Mrs. Jeffery Cornish, corresponding secretary.

Avenue, chairman and co-chairman, respectively.

Announcing the results will be Mrs. Erwin P. Nichols. The St. Joseph's Mercy Alumnae Association returns each year to attend Mass with the Sisters of Mercy. Sister Mary Xavier, administrator of the hospital, will welcome the group and Rev. Joseph B. Brady will give the address.

Rev. Edwin Schroeder will officiate at Mass and give the invocation.

Balloting for the officers of the St. Joseph's Mercy Alumnae Association is being done by mail. Here Mrs. Bernard Reardon (left) of Berkley and Mrs. Edward Omans of Pinegrove check the mailbox for ballots. Results will be announced at the annual breakfast Sunday at 11 a.m.

Director Will Review Churchwomen's Year

The Reverend Frederick B. Jansen, associate director of program for the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, will speak at the final meeting this year for the Episcopal Churchwomen (E.C.W.) of Christ Church Cranbrook next Tuesday.

Rev. Jansen plans to lead a free conversation beginning at 10:45 a.m. in the form of a reflective review of this year's ECW program at the church.

What has been learned from the series of guest speakers, panel discussions and Bible study will be examined to see how it can be translated into action.

NOON LUNCHEON

Following a noon luncheon, the Rev. Mrs. Jansen will speak on "Metropolis and the Individual," suggesting that a people examine their roles in the world today.

Rev. Jansen has served in "inner city" pastorates and was resident chaplain at Wallkill State Prison in New York before coming to Michigan.

PROJECT CHAIRMAN

He was chaplain for urban ministry under Bishop DeWitt

for two years. He is presently chairman of the East Side Coffee House project in Detroit. Rev. Jansen is a graduate of Carroll College and Nashotah House Seminary. Anyone wishing to attend should make reservations for lunch by calling the church office before 10:30 a.m. next Tuesday.

Strapless Bad Taste for Bride

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My wedding dress is white satin and lace. That is, the underneath dress is a white lace strapless evening dress with a white satin jacket over it.

It was made this way purposely so that the under dress could be worn separately as an evening dress.

Would it be proper to remove the jacket at the reception which is taking place at an evening hour?

A: The jacket should definitely not be removed. A bride in a strapless dress would be in very bad taste.

Q: When I was graduated from high school, many people to whom I sent announcements gave me gifts.

Now that I am graduating from college I would like to notify friends and relatives but I do not want them to feel that they have to send a gift.

Would it be proper to include a request for no presents?

A: To include, "No gifts, please," on graduation announcements would be unusual and unnecessary since they carry no obligation to send presents.

If, however, from past experience, you think your friends will do so, you may include this phrase on your announcements.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Spring Concert This Weekend by Civic Chorus

Waterford Civic Chorus members will present their annual spring concert this weekend in two separate performances.

The 27-member chorus under the direction of Arden Sears will perform Friday at 8:15 p.m. at Pierce Junior High School and at 3 p.m. Sunday at Clarkston High School.

Featured at the concert will be selections from "Brigadoon" and a group of religious and folk numbers.

A quartet from the chorus, consisting of Rev. Roy Lambert, Dave Gilfe, Charlene Stricklin and Marion Walker, will present their rendition of "nonsense songs" from "Alice in Wonderland."

Blending their voices in duet will be Mr. and Mrs. Andre DeWilde. Pat Vines and John Walker will be featured in solos.

Tickets will be available at the door at each performance.

'Suffragette '64' Features Mrs. Romney

Mrs. George Romney will keynote a symposium on the role of women in politics Tuesday at the Birmingham Community House.

The League of Women Voters of Birmingham is presenting "Suffragette '64" for all women in the area interested in political activity.

Mrs. Paul Goebel, Grand Rapids, chairman of the Governor's commission on the status of women; Mrs. Mildred Jeffery, Detroit, Democratic national committeewoman; and Mrs. Thomas Snelham, Birmingham, state president of the League of Women Voters.

Following luncheon, the symposium will continue in three open sessions. These include discussions on women in elective and appointive of-ice; women in political campaigns; and the study of issues and political effectiveness.

Concerning the last, Mrs. William T. Gossett, general chairman of "Suffragette '64," says,

"We call this panel 'Woman Puzzled.' We will attempt to show women how easy it is to study and understand the issues which are the subject of controversy and proposed or possible legislation.

"We will describe the methods employed by the political parties on this subject as well as the League of Women Voters' approach, so that women may see how they interrelate and complement each other—or not—as the case might be."

Reservations for the day may be made with Mrs. Jacques Passino of Birmingham.

Stuffed Rabbit Not Funny

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Could you please tell me if I did wrong?

My son had a serious back operation last March.

When he started to feel a little better, I brought a large stuffed rabbit (about 22 inches tall) to the hospital thinking it would cheer him up as it was during the Easter season.

The rabbit did not look childish in my opinion. My son is 44 years old. He was embarrassed and insisted I take the rabbit home.

Do you think this was a babyish gift or not?

LE MARS

DEAR LE MARS: Stuffed animals are usually for young children. (Most 44-year-old men prefer live bunnies.)

A postoperative patient is in no mood to split his stitches over an Easter rabbit, so don't hold your son's lack of enthusiasm against him.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who would put a diaper on a nine-year-

LIVES ACROSS THE STREET

DEAR LIVES: This woman is more than "cracked." She is cruel and ignorant.

Bed-wetting is a symptom of an emotional problem, and to humiliate a child for wetting the bed will cure nothing and only compound the problem.

I urge you to call on this neighbor (even if you know her slightly) and try to convince her to take her boy to a doctor and to heed his advice.

Would Bar Congress Candidates Over 70

WASHINGTON (AP)—A constitutional amendment that would prevent anyone over 70 from running for Congress is being proposed by a 67-year-old foe of the seniority system. Rep. Everett G. Burkhalter, D-Calif., whose blast several weeks ago at the old-timers in control started his colleagues following up today by introducing legislation to retire them.

His bill would limit senators to three 6-year terms, representatives to five 4-year terms—present terms are two years—and declare that no one could be elected after reaching 70.

Burkhalter, the oldest freshman in the House, has already announced he is quitting after one term. He says he is disgusted at being shackled by a system he says requires members to put in 20 or 25 years before they can hope to have much impact on the affairs of Congress.

He had spent 10 years in the California State Assembly and 10 more on the Los Angeles City Council, and had expected this experience would be useful, particularly in dealing with urban problems.

But he wound up on the lowest rung of the Armed Services Committee, 21 seats removed from the chairman, Carl Vinson, 80, of Georgia, and rarely got to ask a question.

His bill is likely to get a chilly reception.

It must go first to the Judiciary Committee, whose chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, 76, D-N.Y., has been in Congress 41 years and thinks the seniority system is great.

More than 110 million Americans have insurance which provides some measure of hospital care.

New Peaks Eyed for June

Economy Still Rising

tail figures haven't jumped as quickly as some advocates of the federal income tax cut had predicted.

The increase in consumer credit totals shows the public still in a buying and borrowing mood. And the stepped-up clearing of old debts is considered putting more families in position to start buying soon in greater volume.

LOWERS ESTIMATE

The Commerce Department has just revised downward its earlier estimate of the gross national product in the first quarter of the year. But the optimists even here can point to the causes of the revision as having good points.

The reason for the revision, the department says, is that business inventories didn't climb as fast as first thought, and government spending did not reach the pace earlier indicated. But keeping stocks trim quiet fears of excesses leading to a slump. And government spending is expected to climb later.

The new GNP figure for the first quarter is $608 billion, an annual rate, down $500 million from first estimates, but still a record. It's $7.9 billion higher than in the fourth quarter of 1963, when the advance from the previous three months was $11.4 billion.

If May continues its present course and June lives up to early bookings, the GNP for the current quarter should set an impressive record. If it slows down a bit in the summer, there's every chance it should pick up smartly in the final weeks of the year.

Eight Central students and their economics teacher, Ronald Hallquist, visited the annual meeting of the S. S. Kresge Co., in Detroit.

The students were not disinterested onlookers, however. They were part of a group of 81 students who bought six shares of Kresge stock as part of their economics course.

Among the company officials and stockholders greeting the students was the 96-year-old founder of chain-store firm, Sebastian S. Kresge.

RARE VISIT
It was a rare visit for Kresge, who has not been active in company management for several years.

Hallquist said his students were enthused over the chance meeting with Kresge. His philanthropy in the field of education was one of the reasons the Kresge company was selected as an investment.

If the stock prices hold true until June, Kresge stockholders stand to return a profit, the largest in eight years of buying stock, according to Hallquist.

The students purchased their shares in February for about $180, including brokerage fees. The stock is now worth about $216, rising from roughly $20 to yesterday's $36 a share.

Appeals
Operators of the two hotels had appealed to lawmakers for passage and to Romney for acceptance of the dispensation for their establishments.

The bill was opposed by the Michigan Temperance Foundation and by church groups which asked Romney to veto it.

The governor said he does not believe the special permission for the two hotels will weaken the 500-foot law by opening the door to similar action elsewhere.

Several years ago, similar special permission for a liquor license was given a Lansing's Roosevelt Hotel. The Roosevelt is located across the street from a church a half block from the State Capitol.

The Hotel and Huron hotels still have had applications for licenses approved by the liquor Control Commission.

Huron Hotel operators planned to seek transfer of an existing nearby bar license. Hart Hotel operators will ask to have a beer and wine license upgraded.

Business Notes

The appointment of James Gilmer of Waterford Township as sales manager for a liquor relations manager of Lloyds Motors, Inc., 232 S. Saginaw, was announced today.

Gilmer, 33, of 2462 Omira, recently joined the Comer-Conerly Continental dealer after three years with Dick Laurie Ford, Oak Park.

Gilmer is married and has a daughter.

Arrangement for S. Agent

Secret Serviceman Charged in File Plot

CHICAGO (UPI)—A U.S. Secret Service agent was charged in a file plot to be arranged today on charges he attempted to sell for $50,000 a secret government file on the operations of a counterfeiting ring which he helped to smash.

Abraham Bolden, 35, a Secret Service man for four years, was arrested yesterday and released on his own recognizance along with a man and wife team that allegedly acted as intermediaries between Bolden and one of the gang members.

U.S. attorney Edward V. Hanrahan said "This is the first time in my memory of the record of an agency which has had a long and honorable history."

One of the primary functions of the Secret Service is the guarding of the President and his family.

Hanrahan said Bolden was relieved of all duties. He was charged with soliciting payment to influence him in performance of duties, a charge that could bring him up to 15 years imprisonment if convicted.

DENIES CHARGE

He denied the allegations.

Also arrested were Frank W. Jones, 43, and his wife, Jean, 41, Hanrahan said they admitted their part in the scheme and could face up to 10 years in prison each if convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government and obstructing justice.

Authorities said the plot came to light when Joseph Spangoli Jr., 31, Chicago, one of eight men arrested as counterfeiters after the ring was smashed, "talked" to police.

Spangoli, according to police, thought an offer by Jones to sell him the government file was a hoax.

SUSPECTED TRAP

Spangoli thought Jones was a secret service agent attempting to entrap him into another charge, authorities quoted the alleged counterfeiter as saying.

Spangoli was released on $10,000 bail.

Mart Shows Selective Gains

Prices were irregular, with many unchanged, on the American Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market recovered selectively in moderately active trading today.

A number of Tuesday's losers recovered. Gains and losses ran from fractions to a point among most key stocks.

After two days of sharp decline the list most notably Chrysler, an active loser Tuesday, ran up more than a point. General Motors, which fell 2 1/2 Tuesday, regained a fraction.

Rails posted a string of fractional gains as they moved further into record high territory. Tuesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 1 1/2 to 304.5.

Official Says Ruby Being Treated in Cell

DALLAS (AP)—Convicted slayer Jack Ruby is receiving "treatment for his mental condition" in his county jail cell.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade revealed today.

Wade said Sheriff Bill Decker said they did not know what doctors had prescribed for the condemned slayer, but Judge Joe B. Brown told reporters later, "I believe they are giving him 'happy pills' (tranquilizers) or something."

Wade said psychiatrists hope to "snub Ruby out of his depression."

Wade said he would not object to hospital treatment for Ruby. But, the district attorney said, he would oppose a defense plea for a sanity hearing before a jury at this time.
