4 Disappear in Gem Case

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Allan Dale Kuhn, two New York detectives and an assistant district attorney disappeared today after a reported attempt to recover the fabulous Star of India sapphire.

They vanished into the predawn darkness after a long cat-and-mouse game with newsmen, climaxed by a taxicab flight and rendezvous with a mysterious white limousine.

Whether they have the 563-carat sapphire was not known, but a newsman said one of the detectives had an attache case handcuffed to his wrist when last seen.

There was speculation they had returned to New York.

VALUED AT $410,000

The Star of India, the world's largest cut sapphire, the Delong Ruby and 20 other gems, all valued at $410,000, were taken Oct. 29 from the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

★ ★ ★

Charged in the theft besides Kuhn, 26, are two other Miami beach boys, Jack Roland (Murf the Surf) Murphy, 27, and Roger Frederick Clark, 29.

Kuhn, accompanied by the three officers, flew to Miami Tuesday after reportedly telling authorities he might be able to get his hands on the missing sapphire.

Sukarno Ends United Nations Membership

Pulls Indonesia From Global Unit Despite Pleas of World

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno tonight announced Indonesia's withdrawal from the United Nations.

In taking this decision, Sukarno thus ignored appeals made by practically the whole world, including his allies and friends in the African-Asian camp, to keep his country in the world organization.

Addressing a rally held to condemn foreign military bases, Sukarno—to the cheers of the crowd—declared:

"On Jan. 7, 1965 at 2230 hours (10:30 p.m.), I declare as follows: In my announcement a few days ago I said that if Malaysia becomes a Security Council member, I will order Indonesia to walk out of the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

"Now since Malaysia has become a Security Council member, I declare that Indonesia has walked out of the United Nations."

APPROVE RESOLUTION

Before Sukarno made his announcement, the rally approved resolution supporting his decision to pull out of the United Nations.

"It was resolved that the Indonesian people has approved my order that Indonesia quit the United Nations," Sukarno said.

In New York, Malaysia told the U.N. Security Council today it will immediately seek U.N. aid in defense of its territorial integrity if Indonesia launches an offensive.

Ambassador Radhakrishna Ramani, head of the Malaysian delegation, gave that notice in a letter to the council president president for January, Ambassador Liu Chieh of Nationalist China.

LBJ Presents Health Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson handed Congress today a vast program for advancing the nation's health, coupling hospital insurance for the aged under Social Security with an all-out attack on "the three great killers, heart disease, cancer and stroke."

The attack also would be launched against other major diseases with the aim, as Johnson stated it, "to turn otherwise hollow laboratory triumphs into health victories."

It would be centered in a new $1.2-billion system of 32 regional medical complexes to be built over the next five years.

Moving to redeem a campaign pledge, Johnson, in his first special legislative message to the new Congress, listed as his first recommendation that the Social Security system be broadened "to finance the cost of basic health services" for the aged.

★ ★ ★

This is the long-sought program for hospital insurance for the elderly.

The President called, too, at the other end of the age scale, for the federal government to pay part of costs of medical and dental care for children in needy families.

That program would cost more than the health center plan.

He also proposed that the government pick up part of the check for operating medical and dental schools, and set up a system of scholarships for medical and dental students "who would not otherwise be able to enter or complete such training."

In the latter connection, Johnson said half of last year's medical school graduates came from families with more than $10,000 yearly incomes, and urged that access to the profession must not be denied to able youths from lower income groups.

NEED AID

The aid to schools themselves, Johnson said, is needed to keep some of them from going out of business.

The bulk of the message was devoted to proposals in such areas as those, related to direct health care of patients, but Johnson also told Congress that growth of health research is necessary and the 1966 budget includes:

- A 10 per cent increase in federal expenditures for such research and related training.
- Funds to begin an automated system for processing the exploding volume of information on drugs and other chemicals related to health.

★ ★ ★

He called also for a five-year extension, with an increased authorization, of the program for helping provide research facilities for universities and other nonprofit organizatons.

FEDERAL FUNDS

That program, in effect for eight years, has poured $320 million of federal funds into such projects. It is due to expire June 30, 1966.

Johnson told Congress his purpose was "to outline the obtainable horizons of a greater society which a confident and prudent people can begin to build for the future."

First-year costs of the many-sided package would be relatively modest.

MOVES WINGS — The F111 tactical fighter, earlier called the TFX, successfully demonstrated its variable-sweep wings in a one-hour test flight yesterday by the Fort Worth, Tex., Division of General Dynamics Corp. The F111 took off with its wings extended outward at the maximum forward angle of 16 degrees. During flight, the plane's wings were fully swept back (72 degrees) against the slim fuselage. This was the F111's second test flight.

Fluoridated Water Probable for Pontiac

Water drinkers in Pontiac may some day be drinking fluoridated water, including those who voted against fluoridation in a 1955 referendum.

While still an estimated two years away, fluoridated water for Pontiac appears likely because Detroit's right to fluoridate its water has been upheld by the State Supreme Court.

Pontiac gets its water supply from Detroit through a contract signed before Detroit officials decided to fluoridate.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said there is nothing in the contract to prevent Detroit from passing the fluoridated water along to its customers.

Although Pontiac's voter-approved 1955 ordinance does pose a legal question, Ewart said he is doubtful if local officials could be held in violation of the ordinance.

★ ★ ★

The ordinance, approved by a vote of 5,770 to 4,297, stipulates that "no person . . . shall add fluoride or any compounds of fluorine or cause fluoride or any compounds of fluorine to be added to the water supply of the city."

DETROIT ADDING IT

Ewart said that no city official would be adding the fluoride to the city's water, Detroit would be doing it.

Just what to do with the ordinance is another question, according to Ewart.

"I think a court case will be needed to decide what to do with the ordinance," he said.

★ ★ ★

Whether to amend it or strike it from the books or even just let it lie is an "iffy" question, said the city attorney.

TO RESCIND ORDINANCE

Ewart did say that voters would have to rescind it since they approved it.

Meantime, Detroit may have a referendum of its own on the

City Hospital Ousts Doctor

Pleaded Guilty to Income Tax Evasion

A doctor who has admitted income tax evasion has been removed as director of laboratories at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Acting "in the best interests of the hospital," Administrator Harold B. Euler notified Dr. John J. Marra today that his contract as pathologist and director of laboratories had been canceled.

Euler acted after the hospital board of trustees directed him to consider the best interests of the hospital.

"Because your involvement with the U.S. government over income tax deficiencies has resulted in a guilty plea in Federal Court to a felony charge, I have no alternative other than to give notice of immediate cancellation of your contract with the city," wrote Euler.

★ ★ ★

"There was also written misrepresentation by you regarding hospital records, facts known to persons in the hospital organization," added the administrator in his letter to Dr. Marra.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Marra, 50, who has held his post as director of laboratories since 1958, has been on the staff of Pontiac General since 1953.

PLEADED GUILTY

The physician pleaded guilty Nov. 19 to one of three counts in an indictment charging him with evading income taxes over the three-year period 1959-61.

According to William H. Merrill, assistant U.S. attorney, Dr. Marra paid an income tax of $19,413 on reported earnings of $48,534 in 1961.

Merrill said the government claimed Dr. Marra's tax for the year should have been $26,142.

★ ★ ★

No definite date for sentencing Dr. Marra has been set, pending a probation report.

Dr. Marra, of 1430 Nakomis, Orion Township, who still has staff privileges at Pontiac General, said he would continue in his private practice. He has offices at 35 S. Johnson.

★ ★ ★

Warm Weather to Stay in Area Through Friday

Springlike weather is due. The weatherman predicts a gradual warming trend through tomorrow with rain beginning tonight and continuing tomorrow.

The low expected tonight is 38 to 45, to be followed by a high of 45 to 53 tomorrow.

Winter will return Saturday, however. The weather then will be windy and much colder with snow flurries.

Thirty-two was the low mercury reading preceding 8 a.m. today in downtown Pontiac. By 2 p.m. the mercury had risen to 40.

Debated Plane Makes History

F111 Changes Sweep Wing Position in Flight

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The controversial F111 biservice fighter plane, earlier known as the TFX, made aviation history when it successfully changed the position of its variable sweep wings during an hour flight yesterday.

The plane's design enables it to have its wings outstretched almost straight for added lift and short takeoffs, then sweep them back to reduce drag for supersonic speeds.

Never before had a plane utilizing the retractable wings performed so well in the effort to solve the problem of incorporating short takeoffs and landings with high speed into a single aircraft.

Pilot R. L. Johnson and copilot Val Prahl flew the F111 on its second flight yesterday to an altitude of 10,000 feet, then moved the wings from their forward position of 16 degrees back to the full swept angle of 72.5 degrees.

This test was at a speed of about 400 knots — approximately 450 miles per hour. Johnson said on the third flight, not yet set, the F111 will attain supersonic speed.

Air Force Plans to Disband 155 Reserve Units by April

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force announced plans today to disband 155 Air Force Reserve units by April.

The action involves about 8,000 reservists in 44 states and the District of Columbia.

Although the announcement did not say so, the action was believed to be a forerunner to the merger of the Air Force Reserve into the Air National Guard.

Such a move would parallel action already taken with respect to the Army Reserve and National Guard.

The units involved are 112 recovery squadrons and 43 recovery groups.

GROUND UNITS

These are ground units whose mission is to provide for support of regular Air Force military planes at civilian airports following an attack on the United States that might have knocked out military fields.

This support included such things as ground maintenance and food and lodging for air crews.

The Air Force said reviews have indicated that these recovery units could be deactivated "without undulv impairing Air Force combat effectiveness, and with accompanying cost savings." It did not say how much money might be saved.

★ ★ ★

Air reservists involved in the disbanding of the recovery units, the Air Force said, "will be given an opportunity to train as individuals, or to transfer to other units to the extent their jobs and grades are available."

FINAL CUT

This was the second and final cut in the recovery unit program.

Last July and August, 91 squadrons and 40 recovery groups were deactivated.

At the time, it was said the Air Force had determined "there is no foreseeable future military need for these units."

★ ★ ★

The recovery program was started in 1960, and was expanded later to include dispersal of military aircraft to civilian airports in a national crisis that held a danger of attack on the United States.

GMTC Sales Set New Mark

Highest Year Ever in Peace Production

A year-end sales spurt sent domestic retail deliveries of new trucks and buses built by GMC Truck & Coach Division climbing to a record high in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Deliveries of 105,198 units were the highest for any peacetime year in the division's 63-year history.

Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, pointed out that the 1964 total surpassed the 1963 figure of 92,089 by 14.2 per cent.

The year ended on a strong sales note, with 9,319 commercial vehicles being delivered by the division in December. This compared with 7,947 deliveries in the last month of 1963.

★ ★ ★

Werner attributed the sales mark to wide acceptance of the division's full line of trucks and buses and pointed out that GMC truck sales gains last year were about 5 per cent higher than the industrywide increase.

Hold N.Y. Man as Soviet Spy

Russian Also Accused as Conspirator

BABYLON, N. Y. (AP) — FBI agents seized a 29-year-old Long Island fuel oil distributor here today on charges of spying for the Soviet Union.

He allegedly was recruited into the Soviet intelligence network in Berlin in 1957 while serving with the U. S. Air Force.

The announcement of the arrest of Robert N. Thompson was made in Washington by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. Thompson was accused of conspiring to transmit U.S. military secrets to the Soviet Union.

Thompson was to be arraigned this afternoon in Brooklyn Federal Court.

★ ★ ★

Hoover said a Russian national, Fedor Kudashkian is named as a coconspirator with Thompson.

ESPIONAGE PLOT

The FBI chief said Thompson, a resident of Bay Shore, N. Y., conspired with Kudashkian and other unnamed individuals in the espionage plot.

Oh! Oh! Seven's in Trouble With Salvation Army

LONDON (AP) — The War Cry has gone out — save our youth from James Bond's amorality.

The Salvation Army newspaper denounces the late Ian Fleming's fictional hero as a menace to young people, to charity drives and to highway safety campaigns.

Secret agent 007, this week's issue of the War Cry said, is an intolerable mixture of violence, illicit sex, gambling and gluttony.

"He kills people all over the place," said Lt. Col. Bernard Watson in a front-page article.

Romney, Democrats Discuss Legislation

LANSING (AP) — Republican Gov. Romney and Democratic leaders talked legislation generalities again yesterday, reaching no agreements but maintaining their air of bipartisanship.

GOV. ROMNEY

As with their mid-December discussion, it appeared there were no major disagreements but the talks did not delve into specifics.

The two sides discussed state needs from the program rather than the financial standpoint as they'd done last time.

"Helpful," "fruitful," and similar words punctuated a postsession news conference, but neither side would specify just what had been discussed.

★ ★ ★

It was learned, however, that most of the discussion centered around six or seven major program areas including workmen's compensation, traffic safety, property tax relief for the elderly and construction safety.

The Democrats said they want Republican legislative leaders to attend the next meeting with Romney. No date was set.

Romney called the 2½-hour meeting a "helpful exploratory talk about major items that should be considered at the forthcoming legislative session."

He said both sides mentioned some of the same problem areas but that "there were no agreements and no commitments."

★ ★ ★

Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D - Detroit, called it "very fruitful as far as general discussions in areas of major importance."

NO CONCLUSIONS

He, too, said no conclusions were reached.

Romney said he plans to meet with Republican legislative leaders before he delivers his State of the State message next Thursday.

"I haven't got the text started yet," he remarked.

Romney and Dzendzel said they didn't want to list topics discussed because they didn't want the public to think unmentioned areas are going to sidetracked.

★ ★ ★

Also at the meeting in the governor's office were House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit; House floor leader J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City; Senate Appropriations Committee chairman Garland Lane, D-Flint; Republican Lt. Gov. William Milliken, and Republican Auditor General Allison Green.

Gravlin's Suicide Attempt Prompts Sanity Hearing

A recent suicide attempt by William G. Gravlin has prompted Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn to order another sanity hearing for the accused mass slayer.

Thorburn called for a hearing Jan. 14 after learning of the attempted suicide from Gravlin's court-appointed attorney Robert Rann yesterday.

In requesting the hearing, the Royal Oak attorney said his client was "seriously mentally ill."

The suicide attempt occurred three weeks ago in the Oakland County Jail where Gravlin has been held on a first degree murder charge since the bodies of his wife, daughter and five stepchildren were found in their Troy home Sept. 28.

★ ★ ★

PANEL NAMED

Those named by Thorburn to conduct Gravlin's examination and then appear as witnesses are Drs. George S. Evseeff of Royal Oak, Harry E. August of Huntington Woods and Edward M. Wisniewski of Birmingham, and Pontiac attorney Edward Barrett.

Their testimony will determine if Gravlin is capable of assisting in his own defense.

On Oct. 29, Judge Thorburn declared Gravlin sane following the first sanity hearing, and ruled that the former Royal Oak fireman was mentally capable to stand trial.

RELEASED IN JULY

In July Gravlin was released from Pontiac State Hospital where he had been receiving treatment following a 1961 arrest on a felonious assault charge stemming from a knife attack on his cousin's wife.

Yesterday's hearing before Judge Thorburn came about on a request from Gravlin himself.

He was seeking an adjournment of his trial, which is scheduled to begin Jan. 19, until the Michigan Court of Appeals gives a ruling on his denial to have Rann dismissed as his legal counsel.

MOTION DENIED

Judge Thorburn denied the motion for the postponement.

Gravlin wants Rann dismissed as his attorney, saying that Rann is "prejudiced."

Gravlin is seeking to conduct his own defense though Thorburn has advised him against it.

★ ★ ★

Thorburn rejected Gravlin's petition to have Rann dismissed Monday but yesterday said he was going to take the request under advisement.

OWN DEFENSE

However, Thorburn said he would not appoint another attorney.

Gravlin, if found to be mentally competent, could conduct his own defense.

In his petition for Rann's dismissal, Gravlin asked Judge Thorburn to contact three nationally prominent attorneys, one of them a Pennsylvania Supreme Court judge, in hopes of getting one of them to defend him.

★ ★ ★

The court appointed Rann because Gravlin was indigent. Thorburn told Gravlin if he wanted another attorney he would have to pay him.

Law Skill Is Shown by Suspect

William G. Gravlin has become a jailhouse lawyer.

The legal ability of the accused slayer came to light this week when professionally phrased and worded documents were received by Oakland County Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn.

The first was a request from Gravlin for a hearing to have his court-appointed attorney, Robert Rann of Royal Oak, dismissed as defense counsel.

The second was an appeal to the Michigan Court of Appeals to reverse Thorburn's decision not to name a new attorney.

★ ★ ★

Thorburn said he was "amazed" at the accuracy of Gravlin in following the procedures of attorneys in preparing the motions and the use of several Latin terms.

PRINTS WITH PENCIL

For his appeal, Gravlin printed his petition with pencil on ordinary white stationery.

Sheriff Frank Irons said when the appeal was delivered to him to be forwarded to Thorburn, "It was so neat that I thought at first glance that he had used a typewriter."

Irons said Gravlin insists he is preparing his own documents and that he is receiving no help from anyone either inside or outside the county jail.

'Arrogance Pitfall for Educators'

Educators may have had their "Achilles' heel" pinched by Dr. Peter F. Drucker of New York University last night.

Launching Oakland University's first Continuing Education Symposium for faculty, undergraduates and alumni, Drucker admonished educators present to "withstand the temptation of intellectual arrogance."

He urged them to commit themselves to the communication of their knowledge to the uninformed laymen who surround them.

Stating that society is rapidly progressing from the welfare state to the education state, Drucker said that almost as much money is spent on schools as on defense.

★ ★ ★

By 1970, he predicts one out of every three Americans will been in school.

MOST DIFFICULT

"Learning," advised Drucker, "begins with the end of school. And the most difficult skills to acquire are new ways of looking at things, the flexibility of understanding."

He challenged educators to instill the excitement of knowledge and the desire to keep on learning in their students with more emphasis on what is still to be discovered.

In addition to being an educator and an author, Drucker has served as a management consultant in both industry and nonindustry for 25 years.

★ ★ ★

OU is sponsoring the symposia to investigate the effectiveness of traditional attempts to "liberally educate" college youth.

SUBSTITUTE SPEAKER

Drucker, scheduled for February, flew in to substitute for Dr. Max Lerner who became ill.

Lerner will now appear in February with Dr. Margaret Mead slated for the May meeting.

Arrangements are not complete for the March or April symposium.

Lake Levels Still Declining

Water levels in the Great Lakes continued to fall despite an increase in precipitation in December, the Army Corps of Engineers Lake Survey team reported today.

The December lake survey bulletin shows Lakes Michigan and Huron are 1.35 feet below navigation chart data, lowest in the 165-year history of survey records.

The two lakes (regarded as one by survey engineers) are three feet below the average for the month of December. Lake St. Clair is 1.6 feet below average.

Lake Superior continues to hold its own with a reading of .4 foot above chart data.

The engineers predict the lakes will begin to return to their normal levels during the next six months.

mated that $262 million of spending authority would be needed to get the programs started in the 1966 fiscal year that begins July 1. That figure would mount, they said, to $800 million in the following year.

The President's plan to wage war on heart disease, cancer and stroke reflected recommendations made to him last month by a commission headed by Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, Houston specialist, who recently performed abdominal surgery on the Duke of Windsor.

Johnson said the proposed medical complexes—their locations have not yet been decided—would give patients in every section of the country access to the latest medical techniques, facilities, and skills, such as open heart surgery and very high voltage radiation therapy.

WHERE'S THE HIGHWAY? — The Eagle Creek Bridge, part of Highway 58 over the Cascade Mountains, stands undamaged but without an approach as the aftermath of heavy snow, rain and flooding. Motorists Stranded by California Snow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Swollen rivers receded and rains tapered off today to give flood-ravaged Northern California a welcome breather. Relentless nature turned her winter wrath on the High Sierra, stranding hundreds of travelers in blinding snow storms and freezing gales.

Several hundred residents of the Eel and Mad rivers districts straggled back to the homes they fled the past two days when torrential rains sent waters raging up to flood stages. Forecasts of only scattered showers and rising pressure promised improving conditions.

The California Highway Patrol said each of the buses carried about 40 passengers. It was impossible to tell how many cars and trucks were stalled on the major route across the mountain Interstate 80.

3-Astronaut Orbit Plan Hits Delay

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The U.S. plan to orbit three astronauts in an Apollo moon spacecraft in 1966 suffered its first setback today with announcement of major schedule changes.

Also caught in the revisions was the third Saturn manned mission, which was replaced by an unnamed earth orbital test of the lunar excursion module — LEM — which will carry astronauts to the moon's surface.

Dr. William A. Lee, head of the Operations Planning Division at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said the delay in the first three-man orbital flight should be small.

"Instead of making the launch earlier in 1966," he said, "it will be later in 1966."

Because of the closeness of the schedule, however, problems could send the mission into 1967, observers pointed out.

SUBORBITAL FLIGHTS

Original planning called for two unmanned suborbital flights of the powerful Saturn 1B rocket.

The third, assuming no major setbacks occurred on the previous two, was to be flown by three astronauts.

Lee said the third flight now was scheduled to be a test of the second-stage booster, called the Saturn 4B, and its propellant tanks, which hold liquid hydrogen and oxygen.

To save weight, the Apollo spacecraft will not be used — only a nose cone, Lee said.

WILL BE FILLED

The tanks carry 223,500 pounds of fuel and will be filled.

In earth orbital trips using the three-stage Apollo spacecraft, the tanks will be only partly filled, Lee said, to reduce weight.

Voter Turnout Johnson Target

Negro Barriers Not Sole Point of Concern

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's eye was on the nation — not just the Deep South — when he called for elimination of obstacles to voting, a highly authoritative source said today.

The source said Johnson wants Congress to take steps aimed at reversing the nation's historically low voter turnout as well as ensure the rights of Negroes to vote in the South.

The Justice Department, it was understood, will advise the President whether to seek his goal through legislation, a constitutional amendment, or both.

The administration is known to be considering an amendment that would end literacy tests as a qualification for voting and that would fix residence requirements for voting in federal elections.

★ ★ ★

More than oratory was involved when Johnson made two separate references to voting rights in his State of the Union address Monday; the differences in wording were deliberate.

1ST REFERENCE

At one point, he said, "I propose we eliminate every remaining obstacle to the right and opportunity to vote."

Later, he said the nation should open a "city of promise . . . to Negro Americans, through enforcement of the civil rights law and elimination of barriers to the right to vote."

Johnson, it was learned, shares the concern of Justice Department officials over the slow, county-by-county struggle to win full voting rights for Southern Negroes.

★ ★ ★

Seeks to Save U.S. Property

Rusk Asks Study on Foreign Mob Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk is reported to have ordered a study on what should be done about mob attacks on American embassies and libraries overseas.

President Johnson said in his State of the Union message Monday night, "We cannot be indifferent to acts designed to injure our interests, our citizens, or our establishments abroad.

"The community of nations requires mutual respect. We shall extend it — and we shall expect it."

As the new Senate opened for legislative business Tuesday, influential support quickly mounted for an aid law amendment, introduced by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., to cut off U.S. assistance to any country which fails to take necessary precautions to protect U.S. property.

★ ★ ★

HOUSE MOVES

In the House, where similar moves are under way, Rusk repeated after briefing the Foreign Affairs Committee on the international situation that "we expect respect" overseas.

There have been 31 recorded cases of damage to U.S. buildings abroad since Johnson took office.

Pontiac Gets OK to Borrow $1.75 Million

Pontiac has received approval from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to borrow $1.75 million in tax anticipation notes.

The commission's okay was announced yesterday by Frank J. Kelley, state attorney general and chairman of the Municipal Finance Commission.

The $1.75 million will be used to finance operating expenses for the first half of the 1965 fiscal year.

The borrowing is necessary because property tax receipts are not received until after midyear.

The tax notes, which will be put up for competitive bids, will fall due Sept. 1, 1965.

NO PITY

"There is no pity for the maimed, tortured people who go screaming through a typical Bond plot. Cruelty seems to be for the love of cruelty."

Bond's taste for fast cars "is likely to threaten the success of road safety campaigns," Col. Watson said.

"It is certainly easier to interest people in Bond's quite incredible exploits than to interest them in the plight of those matter-of-fact hungry and homeless who need the Salvation Army's care.

"During 1965, the year of the army's $8.4-million centenary appeal, the turnover of the James Bond industry is expected to exceed $14 million in Britain alone."

Peking Claims Ships Shelled N. Viets

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. headquarters here declined comment today on Communist claims that American and South Vietnamese warships shelled North Viet Nam.

The claim was made in a Peking broadcast early this morning.

The Communists said the ships fired on Mui Doc, between Ha Thinh and Quang Binh provinces, about 1 a.m. yesterday.

The U.S. military assistance command had no comment.

★ ★ ★

The Communist broadcast offered no details as to targets or damage, but it said Viet Cong army units returned fire and the "warships fled away."

SIMILAR CHARGE

Red China said the ships entered North Vietnamese territorial waters Tuesday night. The Communists made a similar charge on Jan. 3.

The Communist charges followed reports from a U.S. military spokesman that the Red guerrillas fighting the government in South Viet Nam may be intensifying the ground war.

The American spokesman based his estimate on the Binh Gia battle fought last week 40 miles southeast of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

The week-long fighting was described by U.S. officials as the biggest, longest, toughest and best-coordinated Communist campaign so far in the war for South Viet Nam.

CASUALTIES

Government losses were 200 killed, 190 wounded and 65 missing. The Reds lost 140 dead. Five Americans were killed, 11 wounded and 3 captured.

In action yesterday, two American military advisers were wounded in separate battlefield incidents.

A U.S. spokesman said an Army helicopter gunner was wounded in the right shoulder by Red ground fire in Quang Nhai Province 315 miles northeast of Saigon. His condition was described as not serious.

An American officer was wounded in the foot by a land mine while accompanying a small Vietnamese army unit on a search operation near Bac Lieu, 120 miles southwest of Saigon. His condition was considered not serious.

CLAIM CAPTURE

In another development, Buddhist monks claimed last night that they captured a secret police officer armed with a pistol on the grounds of the national Buddhist center, often the starting point of antigovernment demonstrations.

★ ★ ★

A Buddhist spokesman said the alleged police officer was being questioned inside the center.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said the officer was one of three suspicious men seen by the Boy Scouts armed with four-foot clubs who patrol the center.

EMPTYING SHELVES — Preparation to relocating in brand new quarters, officials of the Orion Township Library sort books to be ready for moving day Saturday. They are (from left) Librarian Mary L. Basigkow; Mrs. Harry Slater, library board chairman; and Mrs. H. W. Robinson, board trustee and publicity chairman. Area Populations Estimated

Bloomfield Twp. Leads Growth

Bloomfield Township led all other Oakland County municipalities in population growth during the past four years, according to figures released yesterday by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

The township population jumped from 22,530 in April 1960 to an estimated 30,000 in July 1964, an increase of 33.2 per cent.

Southfield ran a close second with an increase of 32.6 per cent, jumping from 31,531 to an estimated 41,800.

Pontiac showed one of the smallest percentage increases in the Detroit metropolitan area, a gain of 1.1 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The commission estimates the city's population at 83,100, an increase of only 867 over the 1960 census total of 82,233.

POPULATION LOSSES

Royal Oak Township, with a minus 6.7 per cent, and Keego Harbor, with a minus 2.9 per cent, were the only Oakland County municipalities showing a loss in population.

The report showed a 9.7 per cent gain for the entire county, estimating a total of 757,000 compared to the census figure of 690,259.

Custodians Vote 19-11 for Union

ROCHESTER—The next time the custodians and maintenance men in the Rochester School District have problems, chances are they'll approach the school board for solutions as an organized union local.

★ ★ ★

Thirty of them cast ballots yesterday in an hour-long election to determine whether they should be represented by Metropolitan Council No. 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

Representation by the union was favored by a 19-11 vote, as expected by the administration.

The results of the election tosses the ball back into the hands of the board, which now must decide whether to recognize the union as sole bargaining agent for the custodians and maintenance men.

★ ★ ★

Schools Supt. Dr. William Early said he expected the board would take early action in this respect, possibly at its Jan. 18 meeting.

A majority of the district's 30 custodial employes joined the union prior to the election, and requested talks with the board on a new statement of policy governing the group of workers.

The election was arranged through a meeting of the administration with the State Labor Mediation Board and union representatives.

Avondale Study Group Organized

With the aid of educational consultants and local organizations and individuals, a new five-year study of Avondale School District's future needs will soon get under way.

At an organizational meeting last night at Avondale Senior High School, eight committees were set up to work with consultants from Wayne State University on the study.

The committees will comprise a new Avondale Citizens School Study Committee, which will examine the district's needs and recommend ways to meet them for a period ending in 1971.

A general meeting has been set for 8 p.m. Jan. 14 at the senior high school to select committee chairmen and members. It is also planned to inform interested parties of each committee's specific function.

OPEN FOR MEMBERSHIP

Open for membership are the following committees:

Steering, elementary education program, junior high school education program, senior high education program, population, buildings public relations and finance.

The steering committee will cooperate with the Wayne State consultants in directing the efforts of the committees.

A number of area organizations, civic and fraternal, were represented at last night's meeting, and Schools Supt. George Shackelford said letters of invitation to the Jan. 14 meeting would go out to all individuals and groups who might be interested in helping with the project.

"All citizens and-or organizations are invited and encouraged to participate in this important study," said Shackelford.

★ ★ ★

The Wayne State consultants, headed by Prof. Gerald Boicourt of the education department, will provide a number of services at a cost "not to exceed $5,000," according to the university's agreement with the board of education.

Teachers to Present Ideas for New Unit

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Educational specifications now are being developed for West Bloomfield School District's newest elementary unit.

The $500,000 school was included in a $1-million construction package approved by property owners last month.

A group of teachers has set about the task of formulating ideas on the kinds of facilities they would like to see in the building.

Some 15 staff members volunteered to work in the group organized this week under Raymond A. Young, Scotch Elementary School principal.

★ ★ ★

Young said the educators later will call on district parents for ideas.

FIVE SPECIFIC AREAS

Next step in the group's work is to prepare a description of the activities to be carried on in five specific types of spaces, he said.

Young listed these as teachers' work and planning space, a materials center, group learning rooms, independent learning areas and space for physical education, music, art, dance, school-wide functions, community education and administrative purposes.

Schools Supt. Dr. Leif Hougen said the board of education expects to receive recommendations from the group by the first of February.

Architects at Tarapata MacMahon Associates, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills then will proceed with the design of the building, he said.

The school, to be constructed on the south side of Maple midway between Middle Belt and Orchard Lake roads, should be completed by this time next year, according to Hougen.

Romney Address Set

LANSING (AP)—The executive office said Wednesday Gov. George Romney will deliver a commencement address and receive an honorary degree at Western Michigan University Jan. 23.

Farmington Elks Temple Traded for Old City Hall

FARMINGTON—The old city hall has been exchanged for the Elks Temple, which stands in the path of a proposed access route to a new city parking lot.

Elks soon will be moving from 33300 to 33312 Grand River.

City officials moved into the new municipal building at 23600 Liberty in September 1963.

Completion of the exchange culminated months of negotiation.

★ ★ ★

The city paid $1,800 to make up the difference between the appraised values of the two properties.

APPRAISED

The city hall was apraised at $18,000 and the Elks Temple at $19,800.

City Manager John Dinan noted that the Elks parcel has 36 feet of frontage while the other building has only 30 feet.

The temple is to be razed to provide egress and ingress for a parking lot to be built at the rear of the commercial properties on the north side of Grand River, east of Farmington Road.

★ ★ ★

Expected to provide 75 free parking spaces, the lot carries a total estimated cost of $23,450.

TO GET CREDIT

"That includes land acquisition," Dinan said. "Those businessmen involved will get credit for the property they're dedicating so the actual cost will be about $11,000."

★ ★ ★

A special assessment district is to be established to allow construction to begin in the summer.

★ ★ ★

"The temple will be razed in the latter part of spring," Dinan said.

Orion Twp. Library Set to Move

LAKE ORION — The Orion Township Library located in a building at the corner of West Flint and Lapeer streets for the past 25 years will close at 9 p. m. tomorrow.

On the following day all the books and office equipment will be moved to the new, modern building recently completed on M24, opposite Buckhorn Lake.

Members of the Lake Orion Junior Chamber of Commerce and other volunteers using book baskets borrowed from the Detroit Public Library plan to complete the work in one day.

The old building on Flint Street was originally built in 1843 and recently sold to the Community National Bank.

Although the library will be open to patrons in the new building on Jan. 18 at 10 a. m. not all of the new equipment will be installed at that time.

When finally completed an open house for the public will be held.

The date will be announced later.

A period of forgiveness on fines is planned for those who have books out which are past due, also for those whose books become due while the library is closed. All books may be brought into the new library until Feb. 1 without penalty.

New hours for the library will be as follows: Monday and Saturday—10 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Tuesday and Thursday—7 p. m. to 9 p.m.; and Wednesday and Friday—10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Decorating Class Set in Milford

MILFORD — Pick a room — any room — you want to redecorate, and head toward the YWCA's newest class for area women.

The workshop in interior decorating is among six courses to be offered for the winter term in Milford.

"It's a do-it-yourself project for any room," said Mrs. Peg Bishop, YWCA professional staff member in charge of the program.

After selecting the room she wants to refurbish, a homemaker can consult interior decorator Mrs. Donald Gheen on a regular basis, receiving guidance on color schemes, materials and furniture styles.

Registration for the 10-week winter term classes will be held from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday in the civic room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland.

The sessions which start Jan. 19 will be held there.

Scheduled for Tuesdays are the interior decoration workshop and sewing for beginners and intermediates at 9:30 a.m. and bridge and intermediate sewing at 1 p.m.

Wednesday classes are knitting for beginners and intermediates at 9:30 a.m. and yoga at 1 p.m.

Membership in the YWCA is required of participants but is open to everyone for a nominal fee.

Nursery care for preschoolers is available for a slight additional charge.

The program is conducted by the Northwest Branch of the YWCA of Metropolitan Detroit.

Install New Officers of Church Society

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Joseph Slanga, 561 Hilltop, recently was installed as president of St. Patrick's Rosary Altar Society.

Foreign Aid Foe's Wait-and-See Attitude on '65 Bill Seen as Sign He's Mellowing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Otto E. Passman, archfoe of the foreign aid program, shows signs of mellowing.

The Louisiana Democrat said in an interview he would not propose any cuts in the program this year until he sees how much money President Johnson wants for it.

"I am convinced that the President is sincere in his announced determination to cut out the waste in foreign aid," Passman said. "I am going to give him the benefit of the doubt because there is every indication that he means what he says. I am going to help him find all the waste there is in the foreign aid program."

For the last 11 years, Passman has headed a House Appropriations subcommittee that handles foreign aid financing. He heads the same group this year.

"How much do you claim to have cut the program during those 11 years?" he was asked.

"It is not a claim; it is a fact," he replied. "Congress has cut the program at least $8 billion, and it should have done better."

Until last year, Passman had a remarkable batting average in his campaign to trim appropriations. Annually he came to the House floor armed with reams of statistics to back up his demands for reductions.

Last year was different.

The appropriation committee overrode Passman and recommended a cut of only $219 million from the $3.9 billion requested by the President.

The committee's attitude so incensed Passman that he declined to manage the bill on the floor. The House went along with the committee and ultimately Congress went a little further. The final cut was $296 million, lowest since Passman took over.

As for this year, Passman said, "I shall reserve judgment this year until I see how much he wants. I hope his request is so low that we can go along with him most of the way. Advance information indicates that he will again make a low request. I will certainly work with him when there is an indication that he intends to clean up foreign aid and operate the program on the minimum needed to meet commitments previously made."

GOP Shift in 'Leader' Is in Right Direction

Republican House leadership for the 89th Congress changed hands when Rep. GERALD R. FORD of Grand Rapids unseated Rep. CHARLES A. HALLECK of Indiana by a vote of 73-67.

FORD

The 64-year-old HALLECK had led GOP congressional forces since he unseated Massachusetts' JOSEPH W. MARTIN JR. in a surprise maneuver, five years ago.

Unlike the coup that upset Martin, Ford's challenge was public knowledge, since his candidacy for the House leadership was formally announced two weeks ago.

Although few ideological differences separate the two, it was felt by party elements intent on revitalizing the GOP, after its decisive defeat last November, that a new personification of congressional leadership was essential.

Rep. FORD, 51, now serving his ninth term, is admirably qualified for such a role.

Highly regarded by both his constituency and party chieftains, he is an outstanding figure in the Republican Party, now outnumbered in Congress two to one, and should contribute importantly to the new face the party means to show the Nation. Moreover, FORD'S new prominence will reflect added luster on the national position Michigan has gained in the GOP.

At the San Francisco nominating convention, Ford had growing support for second place on the national ticket until he withdrew when it became apparent that Goldwater's choice of William Miller was incontestable.

With legislation of utmost importance slated to come before this session of Congress, together with threatened advancement of hasty and ill-considered measures by the large Democratic majority, it is imperative that the minority party have top-flight leadership if it is to play its proper role of constructive opposition.

GERALD FORD will give it that leadership.

Government Tops Lack Unity of Scientists

At the same time as Egyptian jets were shooting down an American oil company plane, Egyptian and American scientists were co-operating in measuring the moon's temperature during a lunar eclipse.

While their government takes economic assistance with one hand and encourages the senseless destruction of a valuable American library with the other, the scientists of Egypt have given another demonstration of the truth that the quest for knowledge lifts some men far above the petty barbarisms and ambitions of other men who call themselves leaders.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps human government will become a science someday, too.

Grid Game Given Elan by Supporting Cast

Let us not begin the new year without a salute to a group of unsung heroes and heroines who made 1964 more pleasant and exciting for millions of Americans.

We refer to the marching bands and related performers who provided the half-time entertainment at football games.

★ ★ ★

These bands and their lovely baton twirlers and dancers are terrific. Their skills are amazing. Despite their youth, they play, dance and twirl superbly —and they do it while executing maneuvers a precision drill team would be proud to equal.

Furthermore, they often do it in weather that would make a seasoned polar bear turn on the electric blanket.

★ ★ ★

Our sincere thanks to these talented youngsters and their instructors who give so many of us much pleasure. Football wouldn't be the same without them.

Let's hear it for them, fans!

A PHYSICIAN says men would live longer if they wore abdominal supports. They would live even longer if they would avoid the necessity for wearing girdles by not growing bay windows.

House Speaker Regains Power

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — You might think that when 435 members of Congress get together in the House to do business they could, after all these years, do it in a tidy, easy, amicable way.

MARLOW

But they've had trouble since they started in 1789. They've made rules and then shuffled, sweated, protested, revolted and changed the rules.

They did it again this week, and it was a very important change, by undercutting the almost unbelievable authority of their powerful conservative rules committee.

And, in the process, they gave back to the House speaker a handful of power they stripped him of 55 years ago.

POWERFUL MAN

In 1910 the real czar of the House — actually, about the most powerful man in government, next to the president — was the speaker.

He could appoint committees and name chairmen, which meant he could shape or block a House member's career.

And—he was chairman of the rules committee, which meant he decided what bill the House would be permitted to vote on and what it couldn't.

★ ★ ★

In 1910 he was stripped of the various powers just mentioned and was no longer permitted to be rules committee chairman.

SET OWN RULES

This let the rules committee set its own rules and in time it was doing its own bottling up of legislation. This power lasted until 1949.

That year there was another revolt. Any committee chairman could call up for a full House vote any piece of legislation which his group had approved but which the rules committee had sat on for 21 days.

This change lasted only two years, then once more the rules committee was allowed to run things pretty much as it pleased.

★ ★ ★

Since 1955, conservative Democrats and Republicans on that committee have been bottlenecked time and again.

LATEST REVOLT

On Monday came the latest revolt. The House voted that if the rules committee held a piece of legislation 21 days, without letting it out for a vote, the speaker, using his own judgment, could order it out for a vote.

Thus, the House has restored to the speaker some of the power it took away from him in 1910.

As a result of all this, some of President Johnson's major legislation has a better chance of getting through the House since Speaker John McCormack is on his side.

All Systems 'Go!'

David Lawrence Asks:

LBJ Backing Form of Slavery?

WASHINGTON—Each individual is supposed to have the right under the Constitution to freedom of expression and freedom of though.

Countless "demonstrations" have been witnessed in recent months as citizens have engaged in sit-ins and various other dramatic maneuvers in order to emphasize their civil rights.

LAWRENCE

But when it comes to the right of a citizen to work without being coerced into surrendering his beliefs, all the pious rhetoric about "human freedom" goes by the board.

The tragic truth is that, if a person wants to get a job to support his family, he is about to be told he must give up his "freedom of association" and "freedom of belief."

★ ★ ★

How many of the millions of persons who listened and watched President Johnson deliver his address to Congress last Monday night really understood the paragraph in which he recommended what amounts to a form of human bondage?

TAKING AWAY RIGHTS

For Mr. Johnson informed both houses of Congress they will be asked to pass a law taking away from the 50 states their right to prohibit compulsory unionization.

The President didn't explain the point to his audience, and it may well be wondered how many people could possibly learn what a fundamental change in American life was being recommended when all they heard was the following brief reference in Mr. Johnson's message:

"And as pledged in our 1960 and 1964 Democratic platforms, I will propose to Congress changes in the Taft-Hartley Act, including Section 14-B. I will do so hoping to reduce conflicts that for several years have divided Americans in various states of our union."

★ ★ ★

How many listeners recognized what was meant by the reference to Section 14-B? It is the provision of the National Labor Management Relations Act of 1947 which permits each state to prohibit by law "agreements requiring membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment" within that state.

TWENTY STATES

Twenty states now have "right to work" laws. Labor union leaders are not as much concerned about the "right to work" laws in the 20 states as they are anxious to see compulsory unionization retained and extended in all the 30 other states where it is legally permissible.

If Congress passes legislation repealing Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act, it will be tantamount to endorsement of the idea of compulsory unionization everywhere and in all businesses.

The idea that a human being can be compelled to work against his will has long been denounced as slavery.

It is easy enough to say that a worker doesn't have to become a member of a union—that he can just not apply for a job requiring union membership. But survival for himself and family may be at stake, and he has no alternative to accepting this form of coercion.

Yet President Johnson said in his message last Monday. "We have achieved a unity of interest among our people that is unmatched in the history of freedom."

Bob Considine Says:

Can't Tolerate Drunks? Better Get Off the Wagon

NEW YORK — One of the worst things about going on the wagon, or even the cart, is that you see your drinking friends acting exactly as you yourself did in the good old days before you made your crazy resolution.

CONSIDINE

You make the depressing discovery that some of your most cherished drinking companions of yestermonth are not quite as brilliant as you thought they were.

They talk louder than you recall, sing less and less like Robert Merrill, and it isn't as hilarious as it used to be when they accidentally knock a drink in your wife's lap. It is much less hilarious than that if they knock a drink in yours.

The world looks different to those who have temporarily picked up Carrie Nation's dropped ax. You suddenly see lots of things that were filtered out by morning hazes and late-night fogs.

★ ★ ★

Snow can be quite pretty, once you acquit it of conspiring to cause a law-abiding man to slip and fall while carrying home a full load.

The cozy little bar you found on Third Avenue, and where you spent many happy hours missing trains to Scarsdale, has cockroaches.

You find yourself making a study of your old pals, and you discover that you can tell exactly when they have had one sip beyond the line that separates them from sober to glowy. They give off a signal.

It's not a look, a gesture or even a reflective burp. It's a word. Something compels them to say it, whether it is in context or not.

One friend is stuck on, or with, "Fahnspahn." No kidding. He'll say, "Well, I see where our friend Fahnspahn is still going with Miss Fahnspahn, nineteen hundred and Fahnspahn."

Other friends have less bewildering words and terms to express, without their knowing, the coming of the witching hour. One greets almost any assertion with "That's show business!" Another says "Jimminy crickets." Another simply bangs the table with his fist, rattling the fahnspahn.

Wives don't say nearly as many irritating things, if you're not drinking. They get prettier. Children don't make nearly as much noise in the mornings as they once did. It isn't nearly as far from the office to home as it used to be.

One day you discover that your collar isn't as tight as it was and you can pull your trousers waistband out a half an inch or so. You proudly do so in front of friends until you become as much of a pest as you were when you used to get bagged.

Your friends will be the first to agree that there's been a big change in you. They'll concede, without a dissenting vote, that you're a lot duller than you used to be.

In Washington:

Viet Cong Strategy Well-Planned

BY RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—In the bloody battles at Binh Gia, the Viet Cong were out to break the back of the new U.S.-South Viet Nam pacification program centered on the Greater Saigon area.

CROMLEY

If the theories that Red Ho Chi Minh's top General Giap has been advocating are carried through, Binh Gia will be only one of a series of sharp punches in the next few months.

The U.S.-South Viet Nam program gambles that a strong local militia can be trained in each area to defeat small Viet Cong raiders and hold off large Red attacks until government regulars arrive.

★ ★ ★

Theoretically, the regulars are to get there quickly enough with sufficient men and weapons to knock out any number of Red troops.

This program (according to U.S. plans) is to be perfected in the Greater Saigon area, then be spread through South Viet Nam.

If the Viet Cong follow Giap's theories, then they must prove this U.S. plan unworkable before it really gets going so that we'll abandon it and try another plan. Then when we're started on the next plan, they'll try to get us to abandon that new plan before it gets operating.

The Giap aim is to get us to try and then abandon one strategy after another, never giving one a chance to succeed before we drop it and jump to something else.

So far Giap's plan has succeeded. We've already started and abandoned several major strategic programs in infancy.

At Binh Gia, the Reds won several victories:

The local militia did not hold. The Communists won with the shopworn tactics they have used for 20 years, the same they used against the French.

They captured Binh Gia, set up ambushes and waited. Government troops fell into the ambushes and Americans were killed. The Viet Cong used the American helicopter dead as bait for further ambushes. Government troops fell into these ambushes, too.

The Reds held Binh Gia just long enough to be able to kill off some of the democratic anti-Communist leadership of the Community, set up and trip ambushes, inflict heavy casualties on government troops and capture sizable numbers of U.S.-made weapons.

But the Red Viet Cong didn't win all the victories. The South Viet Nam government troops showed high bravery under sustained fire. They kept moving in regardless of casualties. That should erase American concern that the Vietnamese aren't willing to die for what they believe when properly trained and led.

★ ★ ★

This was all the more impressive since the government troops in this battle were obviously up against highly able Red soldiers, not ragged guerrillas. The Viet Cong were well-led, well-trained and well-armed. They had clearly mapped their strategy thoroughly and practiced their Binh Gia tactics for weeks. They obviously had a hefty core of professionals.

Voice of the People:

Attempt to Control Guns Would Not Solve Problem

David Lawrence writes about a Washington Marine Colonel killed with a shotgun when he opened the front door to answer a nighttime knock. He opines that it would "be unwise to abolish altogether the possession of guns" and suggests "periodic examinations to determine whether the individual can be expected to refrain from using such weapons improperly." He fails to indicate where such examinations may be secured or how they may be created, and fails to recognize that the person using the gun may have secured it by theft.

Far more significant in causing untimely deaths are liquor, gasoline, knives, rope, gas and electricity.

Mr. Lawrence's suggestion deserves to be filed alongside that of another genius who would end all deaths caused by automobiles hitting trees along our highways by removing all trees so located.

'State Institutions Provide Everything'

As a Capitalist who has had socialism, I think all budding Socialists should experience the atmosphere of one of our competent State institutions where proper food, clothing and medicines are readily available.

★ ★ ★

The State provides but simple tasks for its fortunate denizens. Entertainment is provided by various socio-charitable organizations; chewing tobacco, candy, corncob pipes, post-funeral bouquets and gay little ribbons are lavished upon the institutional Socialist. The church and sundry spiritualists come continuously with the Lord, healing, etc.

Everything is provided in the State institution, with a minimum of responsibility on the part of the lucky socialistic recipient. Things are dreadfully dull and the more sane, "better off" recipients speak hopefully of "getting out."

'Should Preserve National Independence'

Is the American government a general agency for the promotion of the welfare of the world, or is it a constitutional institution with limited powers and specific obligations, one of which is to preserve at all hazards the national independence of the United States?

Computer in New Field---Beating Gambling Odds

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP) —A tiny, manually operated computer, small enough to be held in the palm of a hand, is being offered as the latest method of beating the gambling odds.

But even its promoters admit the computer's advantages at the blackjack card tables, while solid, are not likely to bankrupt Nevada where blackjack is a $70-million-a-year business with more than three million players.

★ ★ ★

"The great majority will continue to play blackjack without using the strategy and the casinos will continue to make money in spite of consistent winnings by users of the computer," says a sales pamphlet.

The computer is being manufactured as the brainchild of a college mathematician and a government physicist.

GAMBLING SYSTEM

It is based on a gambling system developed by Edward O. Thorp, 32, associate professor of mathematics at New Mexico State University, and described in his book, "Beat the Dealer."

Thorp's system was proved so successful by its practicioners that Las Vegas casinos changed some of their rules for playing blackjack so the house could regain its mathematical advantage.

★ ★ ★

Gabriel Vogliotti, executive secertary of the Resort Hotel Association in Nevada, said Thorp was first with a system to upset the "traditional percentages" in the game, which normally favors the house, 47.5 to 52.5 per cent.

H. T. Bean, physicist at nearby Holloman Air Force Base, had been toying with the idea of a computer to help card players figure betting odds when Thorp's system attracted national attention last spring.

TINY DEVICE

Bean and Thorp collaborated on a hand-held device two inches square and ⅜-inch thick to help the card player inconspicuously put Thorp's card-counting system into operation at the table.

The strategy involves keeping track of the cards as they are exposed in the course of play—dividing them into 10s or higher and non-10s. As the ratio of high cards to non-10s decreases, the player's advantage rises under his system.

★ ★ ★

The player makes larger bets when the advantage is in his favor and comparatively small bets when the casino has the advantage.

Major problem in using the system is remembering the number of cards played and computing the changing ratios. This is where the computer comes in.

CALCULATES RATIO

It subtracts 10s and non-10s as cards are revealed and calculates the ratio of cards remaining in the deck. It can be operated by feel if necessary so the player does not have to look at it.

In fact, Bean advises, "always keep the computer concealed, and always play in a manner which will not arouse suspicion. Keep your winnings moderate at any one time in a casino, and move frequently."

Bean and Thorp both advise players to limit the winnings so the casino doesn't "take action to minimize your advantage." Casinos can do this by changing rules of the game, closing down the game or other methods.

The future of the computer is essentially limited because it gives an advantage of just a few percentage points — say 5 per cent per hour of play—so that "if you get over $500 and win consistently the casino will take action against you," Bean said.

"The big problem is in trying to make large amounts," he added.

Thorp said a challenge match at a Las Vegas casino using his system never came off because "We could never agree on the terms." The match had been proposed with the blackjack game continuing until either the house or Thorp lost $25,000.

Thorp said his face is becoming so familiar to casino operators that it is becoming hopeless for him to try to play although he was "reasonably successful" in gambling in Puerto Rico recently.

May End Up in Supreme Court

Pack 600 Pounds of Ruby Evidence

DALLAS (UPI) — The legal baggage of the Jack Ruby case —600 pounds of it — was ceremoniously trucked out of the Dallas courthouse yesterday, starting a journey that may take it eventually to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The legal documents that formed the basis of appeals by Ruby's lawyers headed for Austin, the state capital.

Ruby sat in his cell five floors above, apparently unaware of the "moving day" that may decide whether he lives or dies. His defense attorneys say he is insane—perhaps hopelessly.

The move was part of the lawyers' plans to appeal the death sentence given Ruby for shooting Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of President Kennedy.

The 21 volumes of court records, newspapers, statements and other legal material will wind up in the hands of the State Court of Criminal Appeals.

ORAL ARGUMENTS

Next step in the lengthy process will be oral arguments before the three judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Phil Burleson was the only defense representative at the formal transfer of records in the court of Criminal District Judge Joe Brown.

Only he and Joe Tonahill still remain on the Ruby defense team that has seen eight lawyers come and go, including trial chieftain Melvin Belli of San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Alexander represented the prosecution and County Clerk Bill Shaw supervised the record session.

Oral arguments are expected to be set for sometime in April. Burleson, a former appeals specialist for Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, will be one of those speaking on Ruby's behalf.

A key defense point is that Judge Brown refused to move the trial from Dallas, where the assassination and slaying of Oswald were highly publicized.

The newspapers including a full-page photo of Ruby shooting Oswald, were introduced to show news coverage when defense attorneys sought a change of venue.

Two of three prosecutors, led by Wade, are expected to argue in favor of affirming the conviction. In addition, each side will file written briefs a few days before the hearing at Austin.

Marina's Testimony Big Factor in Probe

CHICAGO (UPI) — A staff member for the Warren Commission said today that much of Marina Oswald's testimony would not have been admissible should Lee Harvey Oswald have gone on trial for murder.

The staff member cited Mrs. Oswald's testimony about the rifle and her husband's character.

Alfredda Scobey, writing in the Journal of the American Bar Association, said defense attorneys for Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of President John F. Kennedy, could have challenged several portions of the Warren Commission testimony.

Miss Scobey, law assistant with the Georgia Court of Appeals, served on the staff of J. Lee Rankin, general counsel to the commission.

★ ★ ★

She said the report, though filled with facts inadmissible in court, "sets out the whole picture in a perspective a criminal trial could never achieve."

CAN'T TESTIFY

Miss Scobey said that under Texas law, a husband and wife may not testify against each other in a criminal prosecution except for an offense committed by one against the other.

Miss Scobey said many facts in the Warren testimony appeared only in the uncorroborated testimony of Marina Oswald — the attempt on the life of former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker on April 10, 1963; the reputed threat on former Vice President Richard M. Nixon; and, "more important, she (Marina Oswald) alone identified the rifle as the one he (Lee Harvey Oswald) owned."

Miss Scobey said Marina Oswald's testimony that Lee Harvey Oswald had practiced with the rifle, had moved it from New Orleans to Dallas, and had stored it in a blanket in a garage "is the only eyewitness testimony concerning Oswald with the assassination weapon or definitely identifying his clothing."

★ ★ ★

Miss Scobey also said Marina Oswald was "the only source of a wealth of background information, including facts forming the basis of interpretation of his character on which the 'motiveless motive' of his crime depends."

IDENTIFIED JACKET

According to Miss Scobey, it was Mrs. Oswald who identified the blue jacket found in the depository building as belonging to her husband, and threads found caught in the rifle as being from the shirt which she thought he wore to work the morning of Nov. 22.

She identified the white jacket found in the parking lot along Oswald's reconstructed escape route as belonging to him, the photographs of Oswald with the rifle as being snapshots she took at his request, and the camera in his effects as being the instrument with which they were taken.

Miss Scobey said defense counsel would next be interested in the exclusion of physical evidence.

She said Dallas police searched Oswald's belongings without a warrant and without his consent. She said the most important discovery at this time was the blanket in which the rifle had been wrapped.

Fights Infections

New Antibiotic Shown

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The Upjohn Co. today introduced a new antibiotic that it says can be "given with equal ease by mouth or by injection to control a spectrum of infections ranging from pneumonia to acne."

Called Lincocin (Lincomycin hydrochloride monohydrate), the new agent has a chemical structure unlike that of any other drug now available, said Dr. Harold L. Upjohn, the firm's medical director.

"In a sense it is the first totally new antibiotic introduced in many years," he said.

Dr. Upjohn said Lincocin's unique chemical structure makes it effective against many bacteria which resist other antibiotics.

The new drug's introduction comes after more than three years of clinical trials in the United States and abroad and exhaustive laboratory studies covering nearly 10 years, Dr. Upjohn said the drug has been commercially available in England and several Latin American countries for some months.

★ ★ ★

Tests of Lincocin at hospitals and medical centers here and abroad have shown "good to excellent" results, he said.

The tests involved some 2,500 human beings, including many who were seriously ill as well as healthy subjects who served as "controls" in the clinical trials, Dr. Upjohn said.

Results were favorable in more than 90 per cent of these cases, he said. Infections treated tonsillitis, pharyngitis, scarlet fever, abscesses, wound infections, cellulitis, osteomyelitis, pneumonia, sinusitis, infection of the middle ear, acne and bronchitis.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Upjohn said one of Lincocin's major advantages is that it can be administered by injection for a speedy effect and can be followed by oral doses for subsequent treatments.

Union Weighs Own Insurance

Cites Discrimination in Auto Coverage

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan AFL-CIO, concerned by what it terms "discriminatory tactics" by auto insurance firms against many policy holders, is considering establishing its own vehicle coverage plan for members.

State AFL-CIO President August (Gus) Scholle said in an interview yesterday the union may be forced into the auto insurance business and that a group of members is now studying the situation.

"We don't want to be in the business," Scholle said, "but if it is ultimately essential for the protection of our members —who may be subjected to unfair treatment — we'd take the action."

Scholle said members are "trying to accumulate evidence of a nature that would justify some charter regulations to allow writing and selling insurance and paying of claims.

★ ★ ★

"Sentiment among the 600,000-plus members affiliated with the Michigan AFL-CIO locals is being sounded out," Scholle said.

'HAD COMPLAINTS'

"We've had complaints from members that arbitary cancellations are being made by companies, not only for accidents but because of their age alone and companies going back years to find trivial reasons for cancellation," he said.

Scholle said any union-established insurance firm "is at least a year away" and that more desirable would be legislation to prohibit some insuring practices.

"If we can't have a thorough study made by the legislature and we find there is no way to alleviate it, then we plan our own insurance organization that would not engage in these practices," he said.

★ ★ ★

Already one state lawmaker, State Sen. John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, has indicated he'll propose legislation to prohibit auto insurance firms from canceling policy holders for reason of age alone.

SUPPORTS BILL

Scholle said he hasn't been in contact with Bowman on the matter but he'd be "very definitely for" such a bill.

Further justification for AFL-CIO-handled insurance, Scholle said, might be the increased rates which will be paid by most Michigan car owners in 1965.

"We have to find out whether our people are prone to change to a new insurance company," Scholle said. "And we have to study the kind of regulations that prevail."

Major Legislative Goals

Task Force Urges Broader Powers for Prosecutors

LANSING (AP) — Local prosecuting attorneys and the State Attorney General's Office should have powers to subpoena and to grant immunity, a conference of law enforcement officials has declared.

This was described as the major legislative goal of an attorney general's task force of federal, state and local law enforcement agencies.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley announced Tuesday a six-point legislative goal for the group, adding that federal agencies, of course could not endorse state legislation although they might approve it.

The group, organized by Kelley, has been meeting for more than a year to discuss mutual problems of law enforcement.

EFFECTIVE

The attorney general's office and local prosecutors should have the same powers one-man grand juries have now, Kelley said. These powers, he noted, would be particularly effective against organized crime.

"One-man grand juries," he added, "have proven in the past to be pretty costly and expensive."

Under the proposed law change, local prosecutors and the attorney general's office would be able to file a petition with a court to subpoena a witness. They also would be able to grant immunity to witnesses —such as those testifying for the prosecution—with court approval.

Other points in the program included:

—Stiffer penalties for persons convicted a second or third time on gambling charges.

—A clarification of the embezzlement and larceny statutes to allow one charge of grand larceny to cover such offenses as embezzlement, larceny by trick and larceny by false pretenses. This would prevent a case from being thrown out of court if the original charge were found to be inaccurate.

—A clarification of the abortion statute to provide that a woman need not be pregnant to use her word as evidence in a charge of procuring an abortion. This would permit police-women or informers, who were not pregnant, to gather evidence against abortionists.

—Broadening of the Michigan code covering search warrants to permit search and seizure of any property designed, intended for or which had been used as a means of committing a criminal offense.

—A clarification of court decisions covering pornography. It was suggested that law enforcement officials, judges and attorneys get together to attempt to clarify the status of the present law because of the rash of recent decisions in this area.

Calcutta Mobs Weep for Food

Distribution of New Ration Cards Lagging

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Huge crowds of worried men and weeping women besiege government offices in Calcutta every day to demand food ration cards.

Rationing of food grains, the staple of every table in eastern India, started Tuesday in Calcutta but the government was not able to issue ration cards fast enough to supply everyone.

★ ★ ★

That means misery for thousands among Calcutta's 6.5 million persons. No one without a ration card will be sold food grain from government stores. Private trade in rice and wheat has been banned.

★ ★ ★

Calcutta has known hunger many times. Food was so short after World War II that a wartime rationing system was extended until 1952. In recent years, private traders have done a thriving business in food grains.

RATIONING RESUMES

Acute shortages that struck all of India, plus hoarding among Calcutta merchants, prompted the government to step in with another rationing plan.

The government blames "unscrupulous traders" for Calcutta shortages even though the government's own figures show that nationwide food - grain production has been static for three years while the population has increased 30 million to a total of 480 million.

★ ★ ★

Huge amounts of American wheat have been shipped to Calcutta but not even this was enough.

By conservative estimates, 180,000 men will be thrown out of work by the rationing program — 100,000 food grain traders and 80,000 employes of shops and hotels that sell boiled rice.

EXPLOSIVE SPOT

Calcutta is notorious in India as a potentially explosive center of political, economic and social discontent. Riots break out frequently and political agitation occurs daily.

Cardboard Tepee Test

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — A young Stuttgart father of three has invented a popular item for the younger set — out of plain cardboard.

From watching the kids play with an old box at home, Jay McEntire conceived the idea of a cardboard tepee that folds up.

★ ★ ★

He made one and his wife painted it. Then he took it to a Little Rock box manufacturing company . . . which liked the idea so much it turned out 500 tepees for sales trials.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE NORTH POLE

QUESTION: Who really discovered the North Pole, Peary or Henson?

ANSWER: Peary and Henson reached the North Pole together. These two men were not rivals in any way, as the question seems to suggest; they were on the same expedition.

Peary was the leader—he had been fighting toward the conquest of the North Pole with a perseverance and stubborness unique in the history of Arctic exploration. In 1898, Peary set out on his first trip with the North Pole as the major objective.

After four years, he returned. He had made important discoveries, but the North Pole eluded him. Again, in 1905, he set out in the ship Roosevelt. He made a record of farthest north, but was forced to turn back when only 200 miles from the Pole.

In 1908, he made a final try, and this time was successful, reaching the Pole April 6, 1909, in company with Matthew Henson and four Eskimos.

Matthew Henson, a negro, was Peary's trusted assistant, a man who had been with him through 20 years of Arctic exploration.

Because Peary planned and personally led the expedition, he is spoken of as the discoverer of the North Pole.

Peary himself always gave great credit to Henson, who said was he best dog team driver in the world, as well as to the Eskimos and other members of the expedition who made final success possible.

FOR YOU TO DO: In these days, when other explorers are about to set out for still more distant objectives than the North Pole, Peary's story makes inspiring reading. You'll find books on it in your library.

Australians Recognize Danger in Indonesia's U. N. Pullout

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Australians recognize that 1965 has begun badly for their country with the decision by Indonesia, their nearest neighbor, to quit the United Nations.

Until the past few days there had been only nominal interest in Indonesia's quarrel with Malaysia. Most Australians live in the southeast corner of the continent and the area of conflict seemed distant — few have taken the 4,000-mile airline hop from Sydney to Singapore.

★ ★ ★

This week everything came closer. People are talking about President Sukarno's attitude. Newspapers tell readers not to take the Indonesian threat lightly, nor to feel Indonesia is not confident of finishing "the revolution" designed to push British interests out of Malaysia.

Editorial writers have become more critical of Sukarno and used phrases such as "a petulant confrontation of Malaysia" and "Dr. Sukarno's hectic theatricalism."

MAY BE INTENSIFIED

Editorials warn that the Indonesian guerrilla campaign against Malaysia is likely to be intensified, with the risk of open war. That would involve Australia deeply.

Australia has an infantry battalion in Malaysia and ancillary troops, four minesweepers, one squadron of bombers and two squadrons of jet fighters. Two Australian destroyers are serving with the British fleet in Malaysian waters. Additional soldiers, planes and ships could be sent to Malaysia at short notice.

Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies is on vacation — a cruise to New Zealand, Fiji, Hawaii, Vancouver and Los Angeles. He is to leave the ship at Honolulu Jan. 28 to fly back to Australia.

No Tiger for Driver

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — C. Arthur Hurst, an electrical contractor, figures his Volkswagen is too small to have a tiger in its tank. So he has a mouse's tail hanging from the car's gas tank and a sign on the bumper reading "There's a mouse in this gas tank."

Skin Divers Discover Old Canoe in Florida

WEBSTER, Fla. (AP) — Searching for Indian ornaments, skin divers discovered a dugout canoe in the bottom of the Withlacoochee River.

The canoe is believed to be 125 years old, but probably belonged to soldiers rather than Indians. The divers say that the hewn Cypress canoe is unlike those made by the Seminoles during that period.

Arizona contains eight national forests covering some 11.5 million acres.

Import From the South Decorates Dormitory

CAMPAIGN-Urbana, Ill. (AP) —A freshman in the Institute of Aviation at the University of Illinois has imported some hometown foliage to decorate the second floor of his dormitory —a cultivated palm tree.

When Larry Bouchard was asked why he wanted a palm tree, he said: "Because nobody else has one."

Lake Erie is the shallowest of the Great Lakes, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Teachers Get Lesson in How Not to Drive

IOLA, Kan. (AP)—Two men who live across the street from each other, both teachers in Iola schools, got in their cars in their driveways at exactly the same time one morning recently.

★ ★ ★

Each looked up and down the street, seeing no one. But both failed to look behind them. Each backed his car out of his driveway. The vehicles bumped in the middle of the street. Little damage was reported.

India Accepts U.S. 'N-Umbrella'

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — In a startling about-face, India has quietly accepted the stationing of a U.S. submarine armed with Polaris nuclear missiles in Asian waters.

There have been a few worried comments about "escalation" of the U.S. confrontation with Communist China, but the general Indian reaction has been one of relief that the United States is bringing up the big guns.

★ ★ ★

Just eight months ago, India applauded loudly when the late Prime Minister Nehru rose in Parliament to "express regret" in biting sarcasm that American surface warships armed with nuclear weapons were "wandering about" the Indian Ocean.

News Analysis

★ ★ ★

The change in outlook is a direct result of Communist China's explosion of an atomic bomb six months later.

STUNNING DEFEAT

Many Indians consider Communist China's nuclear debut a stunning propaganda defeat for their government in the battle for prestige among African and Asian nations. There is fear that Peking will attempt nuclear blackmail of India.

★ ★ ★

Unlike Nehru, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri has been looking for a nuclear umbrella for his 480 million countrymen. He has declared that India, for moral and economic reasons, could not build its own. He suggested that the Soviet Union and the United States supply the umbrella for all nonnuclear countries jointly.

★ ★ ★

Moscow silently spurned the offer. The United States, in effect, accepted by announcing that the submarine Daniel Boone with 16 Polaris missiles aboard was moving into waters off the Asian mainland.

★ ★ ★

Even rabidly anti-American newspapers in India found little fault with Washington's move. The leftist newspaper Patriot, though dissatisfied with this extension of American influence, said: "The western Pacific will now be an American pond into which the power-crazy mandarins of Peking can no more look."

SUPERIOR POWER

Some Indians see the move as an effort by President Johnson to lift the U.S.-China confrontation out of South Viet Nam.

There is speculation in New Delhi that Johnson would like to move away from man-to-man battles and rely instead on America's superior naval and air power to contain Chinese expansionism.

★ ★ ★

Top Indian officials see no chance of the United States winning against the superior manpower of China and its satellites in ground battles.

These officials say President Johnson also realizes this and that by moving the Daniel Boone into Asian waters, he is trying to reassure the non-Communist nations of Asia that they will be protected.

In India, at least, the Daniel Boone and its 16 missiles are having this effect.

STATUE DEDICATED — Mrs. Lyndon Johnson dedicated a bronze statue of Speaker Sam Rayburn yesterday in the newest House office building bearing the name of the late speaker. The first lady paid tribute to her husband's fellow Texan and political mentor on the birthday anniversary of Rayburn.

East Berlin Guards Foil Fleeing Pair

BERLIN (AP) — East German border guards fired submachine guns at two persons last night and foiled their attempt to escape to West Berlin, West Berlin police said today.

The shooting occurred near the small town of Klein Machnow, on the southern outskirts of Berlin.

★ ★ ★

The police said the two men had reached the border barbed wire fences when the guards opened fire. It could not be observed if any of the refugees were hit.

Diplomats Plead With Indonesia

Sukarno Still Insists He'll Quit U.N.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Foreign diplomats in Jakarta said today that President Sukarno still insists he will withdraw Indonesia from the United Nations.

The diplomats, who saw Sukarno in the past few days, refused to be identified.

★ ★ ★

Sukarno was to address a mass rally tonight, one week after threatening in another speech to pull Indonesia out of the world organization. State Minister Soepeno said the president would make good his threat.

A parade of foreign ambassadors continued to call on Foreign Minister Subandrio to discuss Indonesian withdrawal from the United Nations. Only the Red Chinese were reported approving the move.

WAS INFORMED

Indonesian delegates at U.N. headquarters in New York informed officials of the organization orally last Friday that their government was withdrawing because Malaysia —which Sukarno has sworn to crush — was admitted to the Security Council. However, written notice of the withdrawal has not been delivered. There has been speculation that the Indonesians are having second thoughts.

The Indonesian Information Ministry minimized the British military buildup in Malaysia and urged Indonesians not to be scared. The ministry in a statement accused Malaysia of "deliberately exaggerating" the buildup and said it was "an excuse for eventual reciprocal attack on Indonesia."

★ ★ ★

Informed sources in Kuala Lumpur, capital of Malaysia, said Indonesia had moved units of its crack Siliwangi Division to bases facing Malaysian Borneo, the big island which Indonesia and Malaysia share.

Action between the two enemy neighbors has been confined so far to sporadic Indonesian raids across the Borneo border and the periodic landing of small parties of guerrillas on the Malaysian Peninsula opposite Indonesian Sumatra. All of the latter have been killed or captured.

WAR SET-UP

The Malaysian government fears that Sukarno now plans to step up the war in Borneo and make major landings on the peninsula. Military sources in Kuala Lumpur said an infantry battalion has been sent to bolster British troops in the Borneo state of Sarawak. More British artillery also is reported headed for the area.

★ ★ ★

British Army Minister Fred Mulley arrived in Kuala Lumpur for a week's visit to talk with Malaysian leaders. He told newsmen that British Prime Minister Harold Wilson had made a firm decision to back Malaysia in any emergency.

Nab Diesel Engines Meant for Indonesia

HONG KONG (UPI) — Customs agents in Hong Kong have seized 34 marine diesel engines earmarked for landing craft being built for Indonesia, a government spokesman confirmed today.

He said the landing craft were being constructed at Macao, a Portuguese enclave on the Chinese mainland across the Pearl River estuary from Hong Kong.

The engines were seized Sunday when the Portuguese freighter Timor unloaded them here for transhipment to Macao.

It was reported that the landing craft under construction were intended for use by Indonesia against Malaysia, which is a member of the British Commonwealth.

★ ¾ ★

The spokesman said the engines were seized under a ban on the export of arms and military equipment to Indonesia, which has vowed it will "crush Malaysia."

NO COMMENT

There was no immediate comment from spokesmen for the Timor.

The ban on arms for Indonesia was imposed at the beginning of last year on instructions from London as a move to support Malaysia.

Ship builders in Macao have been supplying Indonesia with landing craft for more than three years. Recently there have been reports of increased activity against Malaysia by Indonesian guerrillas.

★ ★ ★

Seven landing craft built in Macao and equipped with English motors were shipped to Indonesia aboard a Japanese freighter last May. It also was reported that five 28-ton steel motor barges were shipped to Jakarta for use by Indonesian Marines last August.

★ ★ ★

Both shipments bypassed Hong Kong. Reports said the steel barges were flat-bottomed boats suitable for use in landings.

No Forecast for Inaugural

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON — Dr. Charles Greeley Abbot, 88, the long-range weather forecaster who scored a bull's-eye on two presidential inaugurals, isn't about to venture a prediction for President Johnson's big day.

The elderly scientist with the drooping moustache still is inclined to blame all that nuclear bomb testing "the Russians and the Americans did" for a not-so-good call in 1953. He scored in 1945 and 1949 but gave no long range prediction in 1957 and 1961 and is offering none for Jan. 20.

Abbot, a former secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, used to make his forecasts up to a year in advance.

"Atmospheric conditions associated with solar radiation upon which my system depended must have changed with all that bombing," he said.

NOT SHARED

This is a view not shared by most scientists, who contend there is no evidence that nuclear testing has had any appreciable effect on the weather.

Abbot was happily nostalgic about the good old days when things were going right with his system.

"Take 1948," he mused. "I had a real good year then. I forecast well in advance some 175 days when it was more likely to rain than not — and it did.

"And that same year I had 14 prospective brides calling me out of the 14. And the 14th bride up and asking what the weather was going to be on their wedding days—and I hit it 13 times out of the 14. And the 14th bride was happy, too, because while I had forecast it might rain, it turned out cloudy — so she was pleased anyway."

The U.S. Weather Bureau is playing it cozy on Johnson's inaugural.

Bureau scientists will say only that the "odds are against snowfall or rainfall."

Waives Court Exam; Just Wanted Gun Fight

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—John W. Dalan, 33, waived police court examination Wednesday on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder in a gunfire exchange with police.

★ ★ ★

He told Judge Roman Snow he fired a rifle at police responding to a family trouble call at his home Tuesday hoping they would "shoot back in earnest." Officers said he had been drinking.

Hearing Today on Blues Plan

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's insurance commissioner planned to hear more testimony today on a proposal by Blue Cross-Blue Shield to base rates partially on how often groups make use of their hospital-medical coverage.

At a previous hearing Dec. 14, the use of merit rating was opposed by union leaders and supported by the Michigan Farm Bureau Federation.

The proposal by the prepaid health insurance plans also sparked a call by Democratic legislators for an investigation of the laws under which the Blues operate.

Commissioner Allen Mayerson said everyone who wanted to be heard was given the opportunity at the first hearing, but "it is important that all informed public opinion be available to the commissioner to aid in reaching his decision."

EARLY FEBRUARY

Mayerson said he hoped to have a decision "by early February."

The Blue plans contend they are losing low-cost, low-risk groups to private insurance firms which have been able to offer lower rates.

Bugging U.S. Embassies Part of Hushed-Up Russian Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — A few years ago, in a capital behind the Iron Curtain, State Department security experts found a microphone in the home of an American Foreign Service officer.

The diplomat, a young man recently married, was outraged: the mike was neatly embedded in the electric fixture right above the couple's bed.

The unpleasant discovery made him cautious. He became a believer in peripatetic conversation, taking his visitors into his garden whenever he had something to discuss not intended for Communist ears.

Winters are severe in Eastern Europe and not all his guests liked this exercise.

Then, one day, the security people told the diplomat he might as well forget about this habit as the Communists had mounted a "big ear," a transistor eavesdropping device, on a hill opposite his house. This device, if properly tuned in, can pick up conversations blocks away.

UNPUBLICIZED

This, and dozens of similar incidents, remained unpublicized. The policy in Washington is that there is no use in talking about such incidents unless circumstances force the administration to talk.

"It is part of the game," a security officer said recently. "Big Brother wants to listen when we talk — and we try to prevent him, if we can."

The question is, can they?

The State Department, officials claim, is doing its best. There are now "secure rooms" in every embassy behind the Iron Curtain, to be used for confidential discussions and conferences.

ESPIONAGE PROOF

These rooms, actually rooms within rooms, are described as espionage-proof. They are built exclusively by Americans, using elements prefabricated in the United States, and the rooms are constantly guarded.

The State Department keeps about 100 security officers permanently overseas, including an undisclosed number of technical experts trained specifically in the art of detecting hidden microphones and other unwelcome listening devices.

The security officers are stationed at three regional offices: In Frankfurt, Tokyo and Panama, and from there they make regular rounds visiting every diplomatic post in their area, searching with their complicated equipment for "big brother's ears."

The rule not to speak about such findings cannot be always observed. In some cases Washington must speak about these cloak-and-dagger operations, usually when the administration knows that the story has been leaked and would be made public anyway.

NOTABLE EXCEPTION

There was one notable, and most dramatic exception, in May 1960, when Henry Cabot Lodge, then U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, showed the Security Council a hand-carved wooden eagle, the replica of the great seal of the United States, with what he called a listening device inside.

The eagle was a Russian present to W. Averell Harriman, the American ambassador to Moscow in 1945. It was mounted in Harriman's study in Spasso House, the ambassadorial residence.

The device was discovered in 1951, when George Kennan was the envoy, and the eagle was quietly removed. Public disclosure came when Lodge used the eagle to rebut Soviet attacks in the United Nations after the celebrated U2 case.

★ ★ ★

To display the eagle at last was, of course, a policy decision.

HAD STORY

In two cases last year, however, the administration thought it necessary to reveal less dramatic but far more extensive findings when it became apparent that newsmen had the story anyway.

The first was last May when the State Department reported the biggest haul: more than 40 mikes found in the embassy in Moscow.

The second occurred in October, when a wired microphone system was discovered within the walls of the new U.S. Embassy in Warsaw.

★ ★ ★

The wired system, though the oldest, is still the best, specialists say. Both the Moscow and the Warsaw mikes were in this category.

EMBEDDED IN WALL

The microphones were embedded eight to 10 inches deep in the walls, indicating that they were carefully built in during the construction of the two embassies.

The bugging devices, which take no current and need no maintenance, were connected to small wooden tubes which led close to the surface of the walls allowing the sounds from the room to reach the mikes.

The wires from the microphones led into one system hidden by the brick and mortar outside wall, and left the embassy building underground.

The total number of microphones found in various Communist countries also is secret, but estimates range between 180 and 200 by now. The largest figure given was "over 40" in Moscow, the number in Warsaw was reported as slightly smaller, and Lodge himself said in 1960 that by then "well over 100" listening devices were found in the Soviet Union and in the Eastern European Communist countries.

LITTLE TO DO

There is little the United States can do to prevent the installation of such devices, experts say. In both the Moscow and Warsaw cases the mikes must have been placed during the early stages of construction. The Communists would never permit Americans to supervise the construction.

"Short of building the embassies ourselves, which, of course, is impossible, we can never be sure," officials concede.

Despite the rich hauls this year, despite new techniques, and despite the "thaw" in the Cold War, the intelligence community knows that this struggle against eavesdropping will never end.

In addition to regular checkups by experts, every foreign service officer sent abroad, whether ambassador or junior officer, is regularly reminded that he must always act on the assumption that somebody is listening. This, it is conceded, makes intelligent conversation difficult.

Had A-Gnawing Problem

TUNBRIDGE WELLS, England (AP) — The fourth time that banker Harry Rees' radiator boiled over, he boiled over.

"I was furious," he said. "The trouble was with the rubber tubing leading from the radiator to the engine. The garage kept replacing it."

A friend examined the hole in the rubber tubing and said.

"You've got a mouse in your car."

"He was right," said Rees. "I sprinkled poison around the tubing, and now I think I've killed him off. Anyhow, the radiator doesn't boil over."

★ ★ ★

A garageman said mice like certain types of antifreeze and gnaw through the tubing to get it.

Dope Charges Are Dismissed

Illegal Search Ruled in Kent County Case

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Narcotics violation charges against Mary A. Hilton, 25, were dismissed Wednesday in a ruling by Police Court Judge Roman Snow. Snow upheld defense claims of illegal search and seizure.

Miss Hilton, 25, a Kent County social welfare case worker since January, 1963, had been charged with illegal possession and use of marijuana after, police said, they found a quantity of the material in her apartment.

ENTER APARTMENT

Snow held that permission she gave officers to search her apartment Dec. 9 came, after indication through testimony in hearing earlier, that she was coerced by threat of jail.

The judge suppressed all evidence seized by police.

Officers had entered the apartment seeking a sum of money which the woman allegedly had received from Walter Molenkamp Jr., 25, of Hudsonville. Molenkamp is jailed on federal and state charges involving interstate transportation of bad checks totaling approximately $25,000.

Assistant prosecutor A. Ray Kalliel said his office plans to proceed against James Monroe, 35, who is free on bond after demanding examination on a charge of possession of marijuana. Officers said Monroe was found in the woman's apartment when they arrived Dec. 9.

MSU Grad to Lead Cass County College

DOWAGIAC (AP)—A Colorado educator with a doctorate from Michigan State University, Nathan A. Ivey, 37, was named Wednesday as first president of still-to-be built Cass County Community College.

His appointment was announced by the college board of trustees.

Amish School May Be Closed by State

CAMDEN (AP) — The gentle Amish people, attempting to cling to their centuries-old traditions, are faced once again with a threat by the state to close their one-room schoolhouse in this quiet farming community.

At a hearing Wednesday, the Amish defended their right to use a 20-year-old girl, Ruth Graber, to teach more than 20 children ranging in age from six to 16, even though Miss Graber's formal education ended at the eighth grade.

The hearing was called on the complaint of Walter Holliday, Hillsdale intermediate school district superintendent, that the Amish were being instructed by an uncertified teacher.

"We do not feel guilty of the complaint as filed," said Levi Graber, spokesman for the eight fathers whose children attend the school. Three of the fathers were named in Holliday's affidavit as operators of the school.

NO STATE AID

"This is a church-operated school without any aid from the state," Graber said. "In our opinion, Miss Graber is qualified to teach. It is difficult for us to find a teacher that would meet the standards which we have set."

One qualification which the Amish have listed in a teacher is fluency in German, since their Bible and some other studies are in that language. The original Amish imigrants to this country were fleeing religious persecution in Germany Holland.

Yesterday's hearing was conducted by Lynn Bartlett, Michigan superintendent of public instruction, and Eugene Krasicky, assistant attorney general. Bartlett said he would decide by next week whether to order the school closed if the Amish cannot find a certified teacher.

Speaking to newsmen after the hearing, Graber said:

"We feel our children get a good education. We believe they need no more than an eighth grade education.

"We teach them to cope with our way of life. They learn to cook, to sew, the carpenter trade, to be welders and to be self-sufficient.

"If they want to test our schools, they will find our education is superior to the public schools."

Several Amish parents were involved in a similar case last year in a criminal complaint. But the suit was thrown out of court by Hillsdale Circuit Court Judge Robert McIntyre. He said there was no criminal intent on the part of the Amish. The current complaint is a civil action.

Two schools were involved in last year's case. But one of them has been closed because many of the Amish families have wearied of what they consider religious persecution by the state and have moved back to Indiana.

Krasicky suggested that the Amish might solve the problem by hiring a "limited-certified" teacher for basics such as reading, writing and arithmetic, with religion and German to be taught by their own instructor.

One of the Amish parents explained that the families cannot afford the expense of two teachers.

"We pay our state taxes now and the extra for our children to go to Amish school," he said.

Pet Survey Shows Cats Leading Dogs

CHICAGO (AP) — The cat is crowding the dog for the affections of humans.

A recent pet industry survey shows cats now outnumber dogs by almost a million, according to the Pet Food Institute.

★ ★ ★

Pet owners now are demanding exotic-type cats as companions. They range from Siamese, Burmese, Himalayan, Manx, Abyssinian and Persian to striped tabby kittens. Many have blue-ribbon pedigrees.

★ ★ ★

The new interest in cats is due to the fact that cats make ideal pets for people who live in apartments or small homes.

Says Auto Rate Hike Will Mean More Uninsured

LANSING (AP)—The proposed sharp increase in casualty insurance rates brought a warning from Secretary of State James Hare Wednesday that the hike will result in "a commensurate sharp increase in uninsured drivers."

Hare renewed a plea for "some sort of unsatisfied judgment fund which would provide protection for innocent victims of careless and insuranceless drivers by forcing uninsured drivers to make a contribution to a state-insured fund."

Hare admitted that such funds, in several other states, had their pitfalls, mainly financial instability. But he said he thought Michigan could profit by the mistakes made in other states.

Don't Like 'Long Hair'

EXETER, England (UPI) — The 400 boys at Exeter public school will have to line up for a "head dress" inspection when the new term starts. The school master said they'll be sent home if their hair is too long.

Former Top Dem Dies

DETROIT (AP) — E. Cyril Bevan, 69, a Democratic national committeeman from Michigan from 1944 to 1948, died Tuesday in a Detroit hospital following a heart attack. An attorney, Bevan practiced law in Detroit in recent years and was a resident of suburban Grosse Pointe.

Washington Seeress Makes 1965 Predictions

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — The removal of an official in the highest echelons of government will shock the nation "like a bolt of lightning" near the close of the year. This is the forecast of Jeane Dixon, Washington's world renowned seeress, who "sees" the event occurring "within a few weeks either way" of January 1966.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Mrs. Dixon's crystal ball has yet to reveal the identity of the man or the cause of the removal, but she foresees that it will have a stunning effect on the administration.

The famed prophetess who correctly foretold the assassination of President Kennedy and the plane crash of Senator Ted Kennedy has again lifted her curtain-on-tomorrow, to make her annual New Year's predictions. Among her forecasts for the year ahead are these:

Within the next few weeks the administration will quietly open negotiations leading to the neutralization of Viet Nam.

This neutralization will be achieved before the end of the year, and will appear for a time to be successful, while actually the Red Chinese are busily infiltrating the country. Through subversion, Viet Nam will then fall into Communist hands.

★ ★ ★

Russia will become more powerful in the United Nations this year, with many African nations lining up on her side against Western interests, but she will eventually be our ally in a war against Red China and much of the African continent.

Red Chinese agents will infiltrate some U. S. organizations in an attempt to turn American Negroes against whites.

WITH HOOVER

President Johnson, to a greater extent than his predecessors, will work closely with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to insure our internal security. He will show a steady hand, refusing to rock the boat or take any action which might force us into a major conflict with Red China during 1965.

This will have the solid backing of "thinking" Americans who will want to pull out of Viet Nam and drastically curtail foreign aid.

The U. S. economy will remain stable throughout 1965, and most Americans will enjoy continued prosperity.

No particularly new or brilliant programs will be launched during the coming year. President Johnson, rather than adamantly pushing for revolutionary legislation, will prove flexible and will improvise when necessary. "There will be a great deal of political noise, but no great new programs," Jeane says.

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara will make excellent progress in trimming costs and reorganizing the department, but will mistakenly shelve two missiles which will be vitally needed for our defense a few years hence. "He should be overruled when he seeks to cut back these two missiles programs," Mrs. Dixon insists, "but this will not be done."

SEES FRICTION

Friction will develop between President Johnson and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy over patronage in New York state, causing "sparks to fly" during the year ahead.

French President Charles de Gaulle will "stand tall" and gain great respect throughout the world. Western Europe will look more toward France than America for leadership, and will eventually develop a united European nuclear force.

Great Britain will resent this French leadership and will "become a thorn in our side as well as de Gaulle's."

Mrs. Dixon says that de Gaulle's health is not strong, but that he has "abandoned earlier plans for turning over his powers to a handpicked successor."

Mikhail Suslov is actually pulling the strings behind the scenes in Russia, and the two-man team which deposed Nikita Khrushchev will soon be replaced by a single executive.

NEW SATELLITE

By mid-1967 Russia will orbit a sensational new satellite for scientific purposes, which will be seven years more advanced than our own prototype. This satellite will bring the Soviets answers to many of their space problems, and will command worldwide acclaim.

President Johnson will open avenues of contact with Russia which have heretofore been closed. He faces trouble, however, in dealing with Western Europe, and a serious money problem will arise in connection with overdue payments.

LBJ will be confronted with a crisis in the steel industry, much like that which alienated business from John F. Kennedy during his first presidential year. Johnson would be "well advised" to permit steel companies to raise prices; otherwise the stock market will slump as a result of the showdown.

★ ★ ★

In June or July of this year or next, screaming headlines will report a major catastrophe on the West Coast. Since Jeane "saw" the earth trembling and quantities of water in her crystal ball, sht interprets this to mean a disastrous earthquake with inundation.

★ ★ ★

That, as Mrs. Dixon foresees it, is the shape of things to come for the immediate future.

People in the News

Nudist John Dawson of Delray Beach, Fla., who last spring staged a nudist wedding with his 16-year-old daughter Sissy as the bride, says he is promoting a "Miss Lady Godiva" beauty contest.

Dawson said the contest, which he hopes to stage in about two months, is to "dramatically demonstrate that nudity is nice."

★ ★ ★

Dawson said more than a score of applications already have been received, including one from an Atlanta girl who "told me she has everything but the horse."

Dawson said the American Nudist Association, of which he is secretary-treasurer, is sponsoring the contest which will be held at his nudist camp.

TRIP TO ENGLAND

He said first prize in the contest will be a trip to Coventry, England, where the original Lady Godiva rode naked through the streets astride a white charger to protest taxes.

A second prize will be the main role in a film called "Miss Godiva."

Plane Trouble for Norway King

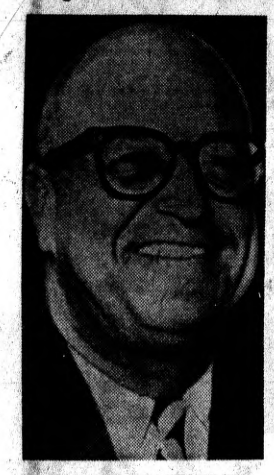
King Olav of Norway circled Tehran's airport in his royal plane for 65 minutes today, unable to land because of a heavy snowfall and poor visibility.

★ ★ ★

The Shah of Iran ordered the plane diverted to Beirut, Lebanon. King Olav, who was coming to Iran for a week's state visit, will stay in Beirut until the weather clears.

James Roosevelt Seeks Office

Two Democratic veterans of California's political wars—Congressman James Roosevelt and Mayor Samuel W. Yorty—will clash in next April's Los Angeles municipal election with Yorty's job at stake.



JAMES ROOSEVELT

Roosevelt, 57, eldest son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, filed yesterday as a candidate for mayor, a nonpartisan post.

Yorty, 55, promptly announced at a news conference that he will seek another term.

Roosevelt predicted he would win because "I believe in attacking problems instead of people."

DIRTY CAMPAIGN

Yorty predicted Roosevelt would make the campaign a dirty one. "He's been saying that's what he'll do in private meetings, so I am sure he will do it in public," said the mayor.

Australia Bans Miller Book

Another of American novelist Henry Miller's books has been banned in Australia as obscene.

The Customs Department announced that it had barred "Nexus" from entry into Australia, just as it did "Tropic of Capricorn" and "Tropic of Cancer."

Duke of Windsor to Shun Society

The Duke of Windsor, back in his New York apartment less than a month after undergoing major surgery, says he feels fine, but he's not ready to resume his social life.

★ ★ ★

"Social activity? Oh, not for a while," said the former British king in reply to a newman's question at the airport yesterday.

The 70-year-old duke and the duchess flew home from Houston, Tex., where he underwent abdominal surgery Dec. 16. A section of the duke's aorta, which had ballooned to the size of a grapefruit, was replaced with a synthetic tube.

'What I Always Wanted!'

BOSTON (AP) — English teacher Arthur J. Hull opened a gift box on his desk at Walpole High School and there was a four-foot boa constrictor.

Hull says he can't be angry at his prankster pupils because, thinking back, he asked for it.

Several weeks ago, a pupil asked Hull what he wanted for Christmas.

"Nothing much," Hull replied. "A paper clip, or a boa constrictor maybe."

★ ★ ★

Hull, a bachelor, has the serpent in his apartment—inside a five-foot-high box.

"It could do a job on a small cat but that's about all, although if you let it wrap itself around your arm, it takes two people to get it off," he said.

Hull also got three paper clips for Christmas.

NO MYSTERY BOX — Felton Johnston, secretary of the Senate, hefts a box yesterday containing presidential electoral votes before taking the container to a joint session of Congress for the official count. The ceremony was without suspense. President Johnson garnered 486 to Barry Goldwater's 52 in the electoral college balloting.

Washington News Briefs

It's Official---Johnson Elected President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress counted the electoral votes Wednesday and found that President Johnson and Hubert H. Humphrey were the winners of last November's election.

The joint session was climaxed with the announcement by Senate President Pro Tem Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., that Johnson had been elected president and Humphrey vice president with 486 electoral votes to 52 for Republicans Barry Goldwater and William E. Miller.

The session was the last stage in the electoral process, formally clearing the way for inauguration of Johnson and Humphrey Jan. 20.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO recommends vast new industry and government spending to correct "a dangerous imbalance" in the U.S. economy caused by "a sea of undistributed profits" that might eventually strangle industry.

As a result, the labor organization says in its monthly magazine, President Johnson's aim of creating enough jobs for all Americans is doomed and unemployment, already "excessively high," will increase further this year.

★ ★ ★

The trouble, the AFL-CIO says, is that U.S. industry is piling up too much cash in corporate treasuries and is boosting dividends to high-income stockholders who don't spend it on consumer goods.

It said that "a great new increase in spending" by both industry and government was needed to put more money into the hands of low-income consumers.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John Bell Williams of Mississippi, disciplined by House Democrats for supporting Republican Barry Goldwater in last fall's presidential race, has decided to remain a Democrat.

Williams, an 18-year veteran of the House, and Rep. Albert W. Watson of South Carolina were stripped of their seniority by the House Democratic caucus last Saturday.

"I am a Mississippi Democrat," Williams said in a statement Wednesday. "I cannot foresee my leaving my party unless I am expelled or unless it changes its present philosophy, and I certainly don't anticipate that."

Watson, starting his second term, has been conferring with South Carolina Republican leaders but has not decided whether to remain a Democrat, switch to the GOP or become an independent.

'Miners Waste Time'

LONDON (UPI) — A national coal board booklet says the nation's miners spend 2½ hours actually working in every seven-hour shift and waste 52 minutes "for no good reason at all."

Dearden Airs Council Delay

DETROIT (UPI) — The Most Rev. John F. Dearden, archbishop of Detroit, last night told a mixed group of Protestants and Catholics not to "be disturbed about the furor that ended the third session" of the Second Vatican Council.

Dearden referred to a delay in the voting at the council on the religious liberty document and a signed protest about the delay by 1,400 of the 2,000 council fathers.

Some 300 persons were in the audience at the Armenian Cultural Center in suburban Southfield to hear the archbishop.

It was the first joint gathering of Protestant and Catholic laymen under the auspices of the United Church Men (Protestant) of Detroit which invited Catholic laymen.

★ ★ ★

Dearden said the religious liberty document "will be approved and it will be a better document, spelling out religious liberty for all men everywhere."

Dearden, a member of the Council's theological commission, said he expected the document to be voted on early in the next and final session that starts Sept. 14.

At about four years of age, feathers of the bald eagle's head become shining white, giving it a bald appearance.

Americans Expected to Play Major Role

International Tourism May Be Heading for Banner Year in '65

ROME (AP) — By most indicators 1965 should be a happy year for international tourism. Americans are expected to play a bigger part than ever in the picture — and with a better impact or "image" than they once delivered. A lot of the people who deal with tourists have decided that Americans are pretty good scouts in comparison with some visitors from other countries.

Americans are certainly less conspicuous in their travels than they used to be.

Plenty of Americans who traveled in the early postwar years complained bitterly of questionable food, daily swindles, exasperating tangles with shopkeepers, indifference and even hostility.

Often the complaints were justified. Many countries rocked by the war were in no position to be gracious hosts, even for sorely needed hard currency.

GREAT SURGE

Not many other people could travel. This made Americans stand out.

The great surge of prosperity in many parts of the world has changed this. Now the U.S. tourist is just one among many. People who used to jibe at him are now drinking his drinks, wearing his kind of clothes, copying his music and dances, and generally going wild over automobiles and household appliances.

★ ★ ★

There is less talk about the loud, brash American who once was a favorite of foreign critics and caricaturists.

The growing number of tourists from other lands has provided perspective.

YANKS CRITICIZED

Tourists other than Americans come in for a share of knocks now — Germans accused of being overbearing, Britons called stuffy and supercilious, Frenchmen criticized as demanding and difficult to please, and Swiss censured as grasping and unfriendly.

Tourist specialists call it one of the natural, human side effects of large-scale commercial travel.

A West German tourism official, Franz F. Schwarzenstein, says Americans are "much liked because they always try to adjust themselves to the local conditions and are keen to get along with the local people."

"If I were a hotelier," comments Akel Carrol, receptionist at New Delhi's largest hotel, "I would wish all my clients could be Americans. They treat you as equals."

SPANISH REACTION

In Spain, the operator of a government guest house remarked:

"We don't seem to get the old-fashioned noisy, troublesome Americans so much in Spain. Instead we have two types, the upper-level American traveler with a good knowledge of what they want to see and do, and the money to carry out their plans, and the teachers and students intent on learning all they can about what Spain has to offer and grateful for all the help they receive."

★ ★ ★

Britons too speak of seeing a different kind of average American tourist today — younger, less brash, less obviously rich, fewer of the types smoking big cigars.

The general tourist outlook is not uniformly bright everywhere. High prices in Western Europe worry tourism officials, who see them driving many customers to lands where the bill cuts less deeply into the wallet.

CAMPAIGN OPENS

Campaigns are on for 1965 to expand and improve hotel and recreation facilities, to put a curb on tipping demands, to sweeten the air with silence for visitors offended by local noise.

Tourist money has become crucial income for a lot of lands. Revenues from foreign visitors, for example, help offset Italy's traditional trade deficit.

★ ★ ★

Tourism has become one of Greece's biggest single money earners. Even the Soviet Union wants tourist income and is working to attract foreign travelers.

The Russians charge tourists from prosperous countries more and tourists from poorer countries less, even though they all may have the same accommodations.

On the other hand, the Russians have been bitten by the tourism bug themselves. It's no longer a novelty to see Russians around Vatican City.

The tourist outlook in France is grim because of soaring prices, officials say. Hotel, restaurant and resort associatios are feeling the pinch.

★ ★ ★

More tourists are skipping France and more French vacationers themselves are taking holidays elsewhere, especially in low-cost Spain. A campaign has been launched to keep prices down.

Italian tourism has also felt the price pinch. Italy expects another good year but is worried about loss of visitors to Yugoslavia and where prices are lower.

OUTLOOK IN GERMANY

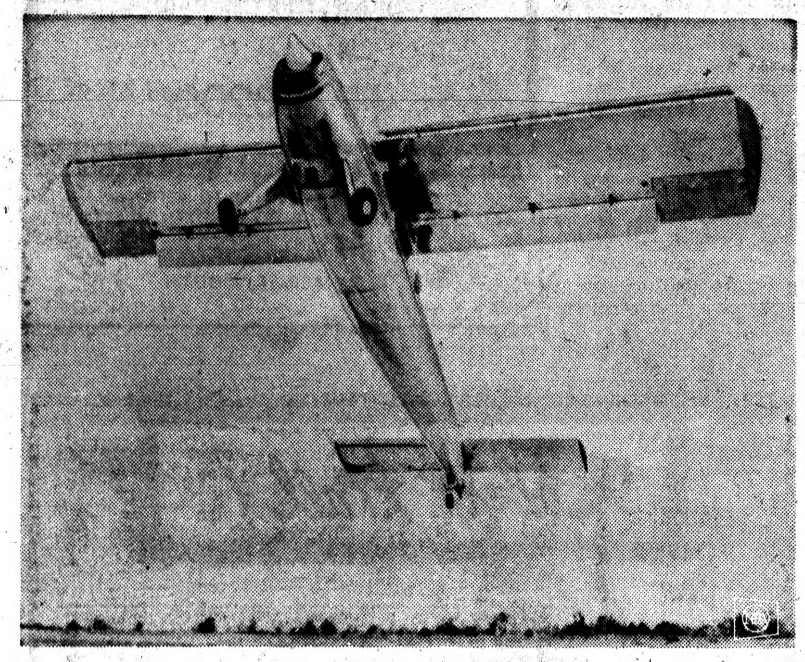
For Germany, 1964 was one of the best tourism years in history, and the government expects at least a five per cent gain in 1965.

Americans account for more than half Japan's foreign visitors, followed by Chinese, Britons and Filipinos.

★ ★ ★

Japan has been gaining steadily as a tourist area but government officials foresee a slowdown if other countries offer attractions at better prices.

First U.S. naval vessel to circumnavigate the earth was the USS Vincennes, which completed the 46-month voyage in June of 1830.



UP AND AWAY—This newly certificated airplane is seen in a spectacularly short take-off at Bedford, Mass. The new six-passenger Helio Courier Mark II, called the "Caballero," demonstrated ability to operate safely with full 1,530-pound pay load from air strips less than 150 yards long. The plane cruises at 150 m.p.h.

New Air Traffic Control Cuts Dangers of Overcrowded Skies

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The chances of the plane in which you are flying actually hitting another in midair have been cut drastically in recent years.

Still, however, there will be about 15 collisions in the skies this year — mostly involving private planes not protected by new traffic control systems.

Public attention was focused on the potentially deadly nature of air traffic by the collision four years ago of two airliners over Brooklyn, N.Y. It remains the world's worst plane disaster, with 134 deaths, including six persons killed on the ground.

Since the Brooklyn crash, the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has made more than a dozen changes in its Air Traffic Control (ATC) regulations designed to reduce the danger of overcrowded air lanes.

★ ★ ★

The latest change, completion of the Area Positive Control (APC) separation center network, is the most spectacular and far-reaching of these.

APC CONTROLLED

With the addition of the Boston and Great Falls, Mont., ATC centers late in 1964, virtually all airspace in the continental United States between 24,000 (minimum jet cruising altitude) and 60,000 feet is now controlled by APC.

Only properly equipped aircraft operating in accordance with an approved instrument flight rule (IFR) flight plan are permitted in APC airspace. These planes are under constant radar surveillance.

Most other commercial flight at lesser altitude is governed by IFR, but is not under constant radar surveillance except in the heavily traveled air routes.

★ ★ ★

In good weather, collision avoidance is on a "see and be seen" basis. In bad weather, planes not on IFR are grounded.

SMALL PLANES

More than 95 per cent of the small private planes in this category fly under 15,000 feet, and 90 per cent of them fly under 10,000 feet.

The 22 APC centers use a total of 76 long-range radar sets. This near-solid coverage permits two aircraft to be safely separated by as little as three miles, thus speeding up traffic.

Yet, despite precautions, officials still expect that midair collisions will continue to average about 15 a year in the near future.

★ ★ ★

In 1964, there were 17 midair collisions resulting in seven fatalities. In 15 of these both planes were private craft. Each of the remaining two involved a military plane and a private plane.

AIRLINE TRAFFIC

There has been no midair collision involving airline traffic since the Brooklyn crash.

Main reason for the belief that these accidents will continue to average roughly 15 a year is that the number of "near misses" — those midair collisions avoided only by pure chance or evasive action by a pilot — reported to FAA has remained constant over the last four years.

They average between 50 and 60 a month, roughly two a day. Their actual number could be considerably higher. FAA officials note that many pilots, fearing punishment which could ground them permanently, will not file a near-miss report under any circumstances.

★ ★ ★

How many of these potential collisions go unreported in a year is anybody's guess. In a 1956 study conducted anonymously among its own members, the Air Transport Association reported an average of over four per day in the United States.

ANONYMOUS STUDY

In another anonymous study, the Flight Safety Foundation reported that over 2,500 near-misses occurred between July 1961, and June 1962. This averages out to seven per day.

In both cases, these statistics were gleaned from confidential pilots' reports which were not submitted to FAA for investigation, evaluation and corrective action.

Of the 2,650 or so near-misses reported to FAA in the last four years, about 12 per cent have been classified as "Critical; avoided by chance only." Another 40 per cent are classed as "Potential; averted by prompt evasive action." The remainder are judged "No collision hazard."

★ ★ ★

The best means of averting near-misses under normal conditions are a pilot's eyes, says one FAA official. "But at sonic and supersonic speeds," he adds grimly, "you run out of eyeball."

PILOT ERRORS

Only 10 per cent of the collisions at these high speeds are due to pilot errors. The rest are caused by controller and altitude errors, mainly the latter.

Present radar scopes have no way of estimating a plane's altitude. But a new system, called radar beacon, now being installed in an advanced test facility at Atlanta, may be able to.

The radar beacon screen, a simple instrument which looks like a horizontal bar, sends beams from the ground to the aircraft.

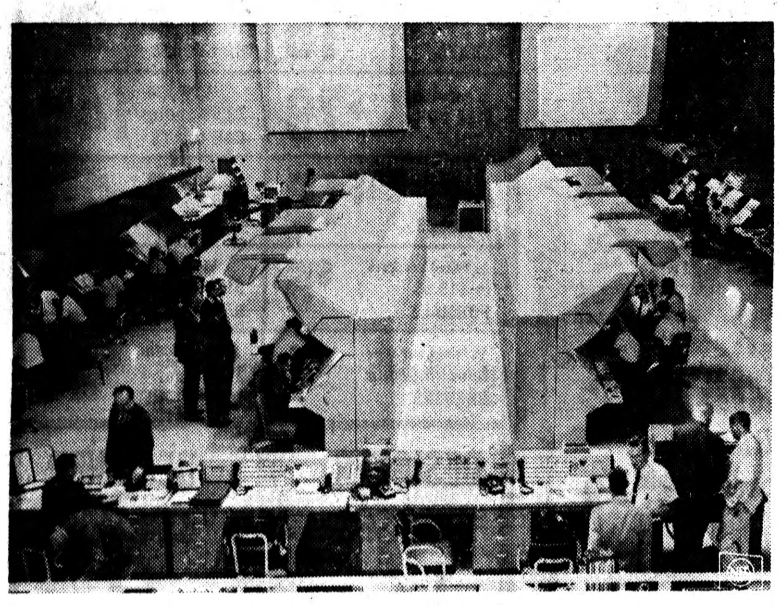
Instead of bouncing off the plane as normal radar beams, they are received by a device called a transponder which turns them into coded symbols, passes them through the plane's altimeter, and returns them to the ground with height information.

WORST AIR DISASTER — A midair collision over Brooklyn, N.Y., in December 1960 was the worst air disaster in history. The tragedy killed 134, including six on the ground. Wreckage was widely scattered.



SKY COPS' BEAT — The Air Traffic Control center in Leesburg, Va., is where order is made from the confusion of hundreds of planes in the air at once.

Is Logging Remnant to Vanish?

SHINGLETON (AP)—Another of the last lingering remnants of the Upper Peninsula's once-booming logging industry may soon vanish into history.

★ ★ ★

The Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to abandon one of the last lines in the Midwest used strictly for logging purposes.

★ ★ ★

The 26-mile stretch of track, running from Cusino to Sunrise Landing near Grand Marais, is only seven years old. But part of it follows the bed of a rail line built while the first cries of "Tim-ber-r-r" echoed along the rocky Lake Superior shore.

The White Rat grade, abandoned in 1910, had been used to haul pine logs from parts of Schoolcraft and Alger Counties, and it linked the Munising area with the main passenger line from Seney to Grand Marais.

NEW LINE

The new line thus helped oldtimers in the region recall the sights and sounds of their earliest years.

It carried log-laden trains, an oddity these days, through forests of hardwood and pine, over muskeg bogs and along the shores of several rarely visited lakes.

★ ★ ★

They'll be visited even less frequently if the ICC approves abandonment of the Sunrise Landing line.

And if that happens, an engineer's whistle will be the signal that the line, like its predecessor, has faded into a rich and romantic past.

Auto Plates Are Familiar

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Motorist Johnny Jackson beat one-in-a-million odds twice.

★ ★ ★

His wife reported Wednesday he brought home the license plates for their two cars without even looking at them. The numbers were the same as those of their 1964 tags — XB 5263 and XB 5264.

★ ★ ★

Oklahoma will sell more than a million tags this year.

Increase in Tuition Announced by U. of D.

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Detroit has announced that, beginning with the summer session, tuition will be increased from $27 to $30 a credit hour for most undergraduate programs. Engineering, architectural, professional and graduate courses will be hiked from $32 to $35 per credit hour.

That 'Blasted' Shaggy Dog

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Robert Hall was on a stepladder painting his kitchen when a shaggy dog wandered in through an open door.

"Scram," said Hall. The dog wagged his tail.

"Get outta here," Hall commanded.

The dog stepped toward the ladder.

★ ★ ★

Hall waived a bucket of paint thinner at the dog.

EXPLOSION

There was an explosion.

The dog scrammed. The service porch caught fire. The kitchen caught fire.

Hall scrambled down the ladder and called the fire department.

★ ★ ★

The water heater pilot had ignited the paint thinner, firemen said in reporting the incident.

Hall said the damage will cost him $2,800.

Gramp Needs His Own Jug

—DEAR ABBY: My husband's father lives with us and he has a habit that is causing my nerves to fray. The old man drinks right from the refrigerator jug.

I've caught him doing this time and again and I have told him it was very unsanitary, I didn't like it, and I wish he'd quit it! It's like talking to the wall.

I've asked my husband please to tell Grampa to cut it out, but he says he doesn't want to hurt the old man's feelings and I should skip it.

Grampa is 78 and ought to know better. Is there a solution?

Spring Suits Have Fuller Skirts

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—The long and short of the suit story for spring is told in the lengthening of jackets and the abbreviation of hemlines.

★ ★ ★

To go with the trend is the return of pleated or flared, swirling skirts.

Some suit jackets were dropped low enough to look like tunics, but most of the longer ones ended at either wrist or fingertip length.

★ ★ ★

As for skirts, such firms as Monte Sano & Pruzan shorten them to expose the entire knee.

Other firms are less drastic, although all hemlines seem to have inched up a smidgin from last spring's collections.

FULLER SKIRTS

The skinny suit skirt is in competition with the fuller one.

★ ★ ★

Most skirts have apron-like front panels, gores, front pleating, all-round knife or inverted pleating, kick pleats, or gathers falling from hip yokes.

★ ★ ★

Don't give up, however, if you are set on a short jacketed suit, for jackets which end at the waistline or a couple of inches below still are plentiful.

And the Chanel cardigan jacket seems destined to be, like Chanel, around for quite a spell.

Sleeves join hemlines in the shortening trend. You'll find most suit sleeves chopped off just below the elbow.

Several designers, however, show the above elbow length.

Typical of the new look to suits is one from Nat Kaplan, New York, with a white jacket, wrist length and with above-the-elbow sleeves.

The jacket has a hint of a fit and comes with double-row of brass buttons for closing. It tops a navy skirt, slender of line.

Kaplan showed soft, slim silhouettes for day with most of them cut closer to the body than in previous seasons.

The narrow dress with self-detailing and a rolled neckline worn under jacket or coat was the predominant theme of the Kaplan collection.

At Monte Sano's, designer Jacques Tiffeau used the yoke theme throughout day and late day clothes.

Suit jackets had yoke tops with tiny gathers where shoulder and back joined.

★ ★ ★

Typical of the yoke look for evening was in a white, wool crepe coat dress with jet buttons and back fullness from the yoke on down.

★ ★ ★

Several of the Monte Sano suit jackets came tied with wide leather sashes, ending in bows at the front.

★ ★ ★

Necklines on both suits and suit dresses were airily open with lapels tailored wide and low.

A new young fashion paradox—a costume softly tailored in black silk and worsted. The dress, an easy shaped sleeveless V neck style, is capped by an almost classic jacket collared surprisingly in organza ruffles. Junior Sophisticate's young late day costume from the Spring '65 collection worn with a Miss Carnegie hat.

Grey wool flannel is contrasted with gold textured silk in this three-piece suit designed by Roxanne for Samuel Winston's Spring 1965 collection. Its focal point is a moving skirt of pleats beneath a hip-length jacket with shawl lapels faced with gold silk that curve to a two-button closing. Underneath a matching sleeveless overblouse self-tied at the waistline.

Karen Stark designs in white textured French wool for Harvey Berin's Spring '65 collection. The neat, double-breasted jacket, with skinny sleeves, curves to the body in front, skims the figure easily. The dress has low side pleats in the paneled skirt.

New longer jacket suit with a narrow, double-breasted closing—from the Arthur Jablow Spring 1965 collection, designed by David Kidd in a crispy white, diagonally-woven wool. A miniature high yoke evens off a collared, square neckline that is filled with a bright yellow silk cravat.

Anglo worsted sharkskin in a swingy pleated skirt suit by Vera Maxwell. Pearl buttons smartly set off the crisp cropped jacket.

Cotton or Rayon, Too

Time to Restock Linens

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Who the first merchant was who thought up "White Sales" as a way to get women into his store after Christmas, we don't know.

But "White Sales" have become an established part of the merchandising picture in January and again in August.

Wise homemakers check their supply of linens and bedding and restock during these sales.

But the term "white" is a misnomer. Our grandmothers may have had nothing but white sheets, pillow cases and tablecloths. Today's linen closet looks like a rainbow.

When we were married, my mother insisted that I had to have two three-yard Damask linen tablecloths. It was simply the thing every bride had.

We've never had a table long enough to use those cloths and I dislike the job of ironing the big heavy napkins. The first and only time in years both were used was at our daughter's wedding a year ago.

MANY FABRICS

Modern linens may be made of flax or they may be cotton, rayon or some manmade fabric. Tablecloths are treated to repel stains and to prevent wrinkles. Best of all, they're cheerful.

Buying table linen isn't too difficult. If you have been married any length of time, you know what size and kind of cloth you want.

You know what colors do the most for your room and the dishes you use. You know whether you want matching napkins or want to use paper ones.

One word of advice we would give is to buy a cloth large enough for a good overhang all around the table. Some of our older cloths are skimpy, but this could be because our table is an odd size.

ADVANTAGES

If you are choosing between linen and some other fiber, remember that linen has the advantage of being easy to wash. It is also simple to remove stains from linen.

It takes color beautifully and can be redyed, even at home, if faded.

But linen is heavy to iron and does crease.

If you have the space, an ideal way to keep your table cloths is to roll them on long tubes or hang them over rounded bars. This way, they do not get unsightly creases.

If you like the sight of a shining table top, consider buying a wardrobe of place mats. Not only are they attractive, but they are easy to launder. Some, like terry cloth mats (ever buy finger tip towels to use this way?), need no ironing.

MAKE YOUR OWN

If none of the tablecloths you see made up appeals to you, do what one distinguished decorator is doing. He is buying cotton dress material and making his own tablecloths.

The yard goods or drapery department of any large store will offer you many ideas. Choose the best background for your dishes? These departments are probably having sales too.

In a future article we'll talk about buying bedding and towels.

Tablecloth a little small for the table? Make a handsome underskirt in a complementary color and add a trim of the same material as the draperies. All fabrics by Fruit of the Loom in a blend of Avril and cotton. Rug by Cabin Crafts. Idea presented for adaptation by Paul Krauss AID.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

After the beating our feet took during the Christmas shopping season it behooves us to give them a little extra attention.

Did you develop new heel bumps while trotting about in the wintry weather? If not you are lucky! If so, do the following.

While soaking in your bath and after washing your feet with a soapy washcloth, rub the bumps gently with a wet pumice stone. Use bath oil in your tub.

If you prefer showers, as a general rule, desert them for the time being in favor of the warm tub.

USE OIL

After your bath, and before going to sleep at night, massage your heels and toes with baby oil or a good body cream or lotion. Do this regularly and you will soon be delighted with the results.

Abraham Lincoln once said, "I cannot think clearly when my feet hurt." No one can think or enjoy life when suffering with an aching foot, yet the American Podiatry Association reports that more than 70 per cent of all people in this country have painful foot troubles at some time in their lives.

Some folks are born with foot deformities, but many people acquire deformities because of wearing incorrectly fitted shoes or shoes which cramp the toes and throw the whole body off balance. Our feet have to "take the traffic" for this.

★ ★ ★

Great strides have been made to correct foot troubles. Some which can be successfully operated on by a competent foot surgeon are, malformed or ingrowing toenails, corns and similar lesions, overlapping, underlapping or hammer toes, bursitis, bunions and heel spurs.

CAN BE DISABLING

These conditions, as well as fallen arches, can be actually disabling and take the joy out of life. Women are wise to take preventative exercises as they grow older, even if they have no discomfort at the present time. This is especially true if a woman is very much overweight because this places an extra burden on the arches.

★ ★ ★

Lubricate Young Noses and Chins

NEW YORK (UPI) — To protect children against wintry blasts and subsequent chapping, coat noses and chins with a thin film of petroleum jelly.

Newlyweds Go Back to University

Resuming their studies at University of Michigan are the newlywed Robert Eugene Rileys (Carolyn Ann Hopkins) who were wed recently in the First Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Hopkins Jr. of Cement City and the Earl W. Rileys of Green Street joined the bridal party at a supper in "The Rubaiyat," Ann Arbor.

EMPIRE GOWN

With her Empire gown and chapel train of white chiffon velvet, the bride wore a floor-length veil of silk illusion held by a seed pearl circlet. She carried a cascade of white roses and ivy.

Nancy Hopkins, her sister's honor maid, and bridesmaids Janice Meloche of Jerome, Mich. and Catherine Quick of San Paolo, Brazil, wore floor-length peacock blue velvet. They carried yellow rosebuds.

Assisting his brother as best man was Hospitalman Roger Riley, USN., of Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Dennis Dildey of Ann Arbor and Andrew Enders of Johannesburg, South Africa seated the guests at the ceremony, performed by Rev. Malcolm G. Brown.

Long Look Is In

Several spring fashion collections feature the look of the elongated waistline, most frequently accomplished through belts of self-fabric or narrow string of leather riding down around the hipline.

Engagement news is made by Mary Ann Pearson and Ross Cameron. Their parents are the Benjamin F. Pearsons of Birmingham and the Nelson Camerons of Detroit. He attends Central Michigan University.

Light Touch Prevents Lines

Milady well knows how easily little lines form around the eyes.

A good way to help prevent these is to do any rubbing in that area (using a wash cloth, lotion pads or cream) with the ring finger. Reason for this: there is less power to this finger.

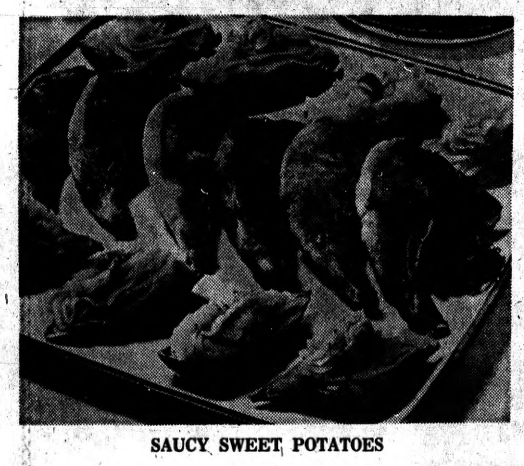
Golden Sweet Potatoes a Colorful Part of Meal

YAMS WITH BRAZIL NUTS



SAUCY SWEET POTATOES

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Down south where they grow yams, cooks make it a point to try new recipes with these golden sweet potatoes.

Yams offer a nearly balanced supply of carbohydrates, proteins, minerals and vitamins, the experts tell us.

Cooking them without peeling helps conserve these nutrients. Anyway, they're easier to peel after they're cooked.

Yams no doubt appeared on your holiday menus, for candied sweets are an excellent foil for turkey or ham. But did you use stick cinnamon and sliced Brazil nuts in your recipe?

This one does.

Yams With Brazil Nuts

- 6 cinnamon sticks, broken in half
- 6 yams, cooked, peeled and cut in half lengthwise
- ½ cup Brazil nuts, sliced
- ¾ cup firmly-packed brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- ¼ cup orange juice

Arrange cinnamon sticks and yams in lightly greased 1-½ quart casserole. Combine Brazil nuts, brown sugar, melted butter or margarine and orange juice; mix well. Spread brown sugar mixture over yams.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Yams can be used in a vegetable skillet. This is a colorful dish with a surprise in it—golden raisins.

Yam Vegetable Skillet

- 6 medium yams, cooked and peeled
- 3 medium tomatoes, cut in wedges
- 1 medium green pepper, cut in thin strips
- 1 can (1 pound) onions
- 1 cup bouillon
- 3 tablespoons light brown sugar
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup golden seedless raisins

Cut yams in half lengthwise; layer on bottom of 10-inch skillet. Starting from center of skillet, arrange rings of tomato, green pepper and onion over yams.

Pour bouillon over vegetables. Sprinkle yams with sugar, salt and raisins.

Bring to a boil, cover and simmer 7 to 10 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Make 6 servings.

Mashed sweet potatoes give baking powder biscuits a rich color and unusual flavor. This recipe is from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Sweet Potato Biscuit

- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1-3 cup fat
- 1 cup mashed sweet potatoes
- About 3 tablespoons milk

Sift together dry ingredients. Cut in fat with two knives or a pastry blender. Add sweet potatoes and enough milk to make a soft dough. Knead lightly, if desired.

Roll to ½-inch thickness, cut in rounds, and place on a baking sheet.

Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 12 medium or 15 small biscuits.

Another way of preparing yams to serve with meat is to mix the mashed potatoes with applesauce.

Saucy Sweet Potatoes

- 6 medium sweet potatoes
- 1 jar (15 ounces) applesauce
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon light brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon melted butter or margarine

Heat oven to 350 degrees (moderate). Scrub and dry potatoes; rub with shortening. Bake 45 minutes or until tender; remove from oven.

Slit skins to within 1 inch from either end, making 1 inch crosswise slits at these points; peel skins back. Scoop out potatoes; mash; add 1 cup applesauce and salt; blend until smooth.

Refill skins with mixture; place in baking dish (11-½" x 7-3-8" x 1-½"). Combine remaining applesauce, brown sugar and melted butter; pour over potatoes.

Bake 20-25 minutes or until hot. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Makes 6 servings.

Note: 3 large baked sweet potatoes may be used. Slit in half lengthwise. Refill halves with mixture.

Vegetables and Fruit Blend in Salad

Here's a salad to spark winter appetites.

★ ★ ★

Fill crisp western iceberg lettuce cups with a mixture of drained canned Blue Lake green beans, tiny whole pickled beets and mandarin orange segments tossed with tart French dressing. Garnish with onion rings if you like.

Sprinkle buttered cooked turnip sticks (white or yellow) with minced fresh parsley before serving; this combination tastes good and looks attractive.

Sour Cream Blends in Salad

Bananas and California dried figs are a delightful combination.

Middle East Banana Salad

- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 2 tablespoons honey
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 4 medium bananas, all-yellow
- 1 can (8½ ounces) sliced pineapple, drained and syrup reserved
- ¾ cup sliced California dried figs
- 1 bunch red or purple grapes
- 1 pear, cut in 8 slices
- 4 Iceberg lettuce cups

To prepare salad dressing: (Makes 1 cup). Blend sour cream with salt, lemon peel, honey and lemon juices; chill.

★ ★ ★

To prepare salad: Brush bananas with pineapple syrup. Encircle each banana with pineapple slices; arrange with figs, clusters of grapes and pear in lettuce cups. Serve with salad dressing.

Yellow Garnish

Ever press a warm hard-cooked egg through a fine-meshed strainer to use as a garnish. Let the egg fall directly onto the dish you are garnishing.

Peas, used as a food since the days of the lake dwellers, have a high protein content and are notably nutritious.

Don't Overcook

When you are making oyster stew, cook the oysters just until the edges curl and heat the milk separately, then combine hot oysters and hot milk plus butter and seasonings. This way the oysters won't be overcooked and tough.

Minimum Cutting

Is your pie crust crumbly rather than flaky? Chances are that you are cutting in your shortening so that it is too fine; leave it in pea-size pieces and handle the dough as little as possible.

Color Unimportant

Reminding, the color of egg has nothing to do with nutritive value or quality. The U.S. Department of Agriculture says eggs of the same grade, whether white or brown, have the same food value.

LAMB HORS D'OEUVRES — What a surprise to find these little appetizers made of flavorful lamb. On the top tier you'll find lamb stuffed mushrooms and lamb-cottage cheese rolls. Below are lamb pastry wreaths.

Hors d'oeuvres Surprise Guests

Ground lamb or lamb leftover from the holiday leg or shoulder roast makes a perfect basis for festive hors d'oeuvres.

You can cut "wreaths" from pastry with a doughnut cutter.

A tasty ground lamb and cream cheese mixture on the pastry is topped with stuffed olive slices for the "bow."

Stuffed mushrooms are always a favorite . . . these are delicious, stuffed with a combination of ground lamb, mayonnaise and seasonings.

Thin slices of cooked shoulder or leg of lamb can be spread with a cheese mixture and rolled up for a tempting finger food.

Lamb Pastry Wreath
Hors d'oeuvres

2 cups ground cooked lamb
1 4-ounce package cream cheese, softened
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Salt and pepper to taste
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1 recipe plain pastry
Pimiento-stuffed green olive slices

Combine lamb, cream cheese, horse-radish, dry mustard, salt and pepper and parsley; mix well. Roll pastry on lightly floured surface to ⅛-inch thickness.

Cut 30 wreaths with lightly floured 2¾-inch doughnut cutter. Arrange lamb mixture on pastry wreaths. Garnish with olive slices. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 15 to 20 minutes, or until pastry is lightly browned. Makes about 30.

Lamb Stuffed Mushrooms

2 cups ground cooked lamb
1 tablespoon finely chopped chives
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
⅓ cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste
3 dozen medium-sized mushroom caps (about 1½ pounds)

Combine lamb, chives, horseradish, mayonnaise and salt and pepper; mix well. Fill mushroom caps with lamb mixture. Arrange in buttered shallow baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes. Makes 3 dozen.

Lamb and Cottage Cheese Hors d'oeuvres

1 cup cottage cheese
¼ cup finely chopped parsley
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon capers
24 2-inch squares thinly sliced cooked lamb (leg or shoulder)

Combine cottage cheese, parsley, salt and pepper and capers; mix well. Arrange 2 teaspoons cottage cheese mixture on lamb slices. Roll up jelly-roll fashion. Fasten with toothpicks. Makes about 2 dozen.

Sharp Sauce Good on Cooked Celery

Here's a new version of cooked celery.

Cooked Celery with Vinaigrette Sauce

15 ribs celery
1 inch boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
Vinaigrette Sauce
Pimiento strips

Wash celery and cut each rib into three lengths. Place in a saucepan with boiling water and salt; cover. Bring to boiling and boil gently for 12 to 15 minutes or until tender. Drain if necessary. Serve with Vinaigrette Sauce. Garnish with strips of pimiento. Makes six servings.

Vinaigrette Sauce

Mix together ½ cup French dressing (made with oil and vinegar) 1 tablespoon chopped pickle, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon green pepper.

Peppermint Will Please

Here's pleasant refreshment when the youngsters get together.

Chocolate Mint Shakes

1 quart milk
½ cup chocolate syrup
Peppermint extract

Beat together the milk, chocolate syrup and 8 to 12 drops of peppermint extract. If made ahead, cover and chill; beat just before serving. Makes 4 large servings; increase recipe as needed.

Chili Casseroles Made Rich With Cheese

Hail to the conquering heroes! When the home team is victorious, they and the fans who cheered them on deserve a celebration dinner. If you're hostess for this occasion, you'll need to plan a filling and generously portioned menu because the team and fans will have worked up mighty big appetites.

Most favored by guests and hostess alike is a casserole-type dish like this Chili-Cheese Bake. To keep preparation time to a minimum, take advantage of easy-to-use canned chili as the base for this casserole.

The meat-rich chili is layered with sharp Cheddar cheese, onion flakes and crisp crackers — then baked. The resulting flavor — delicious!

In addition to its grand flavor and hearty nature, this casserole is a star any team would cheer for because it can be made for six or twenty-six. It goes to a church social or PTA dinner with equal ease. All you need is an ample supply of canned chili.

Such a dish is excellent to serve when kitchen facilities are limited, too, for the master ingredients can go direct from can or package to baking dish.

Chili-Cheese Bake

2 15½-ounce cans chili
30 or 32 crisp round cheese crackers
½ pound sharp Cheddar cheese, grated (1½ cups)
1½ teaspoons onion flakes
3 or 4 slices bacon

Spoon of the chili over the bottom of a 10x6x1½-inch baking dish. Arrange a layer of crackers over chili; sprinkle with cheese and onion. Repeat layers. Cook bacon until lightly browned. Arrange over casserole.

Bake in a 400 degree oven for 15 or 20 minutes or until hot. Serves 6.

Note: Quick and easy for a crowd. Make as many casseroles as needed.

CHILI-CHEESE BAKE—Canned chili is the base of a casserole dish that can be made to serve six people or four times that number. It's the kind of dish you prepare for an after-the-game party or to take to the PTA potluck supper.

Hold Butter

When you are coring apples or pears before baking, don't cut through the blossom end if the core cavity is to be stuffed with sugar and butter or similar ingredients.

Its forest industries provide 58 per cent of all Oregon's manufacturing employment.

Brunch Bananas

Fried bananas, rolled in brown sugar before cooking, make a delicious accompaniment, to a brunch whose main course is scrambled eggs with ham or bacon.

George Washington built a fort called Necessity at the start of the French and Indian War.

Herbed Biscuits

Ever add crushed rosemary (fresh or dry) to biscuit dough? These hot biscuits are delicious to serve with lamb stew.

Elegant Coffee Cake Boasts Baked Coconut Topping and Creamy Vanilla Filling

A coffee cake that is an extra-special treat boasts a layer of vanilla cream filling and a coconut topping drenched with maple-honey flavored syrup. It's called Bee Cake; perhaps you've admired it in bakeries and have tasted it.

If you enjoy baking with yeast, you may wish to try the following recipe for this interesting confection.

Bee Cake

¾ cup milk
¾ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 package active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
3 cups sifted flour
Coconut Topping
⅓ cup maple-honey flavored syrup
Vanilla Cream Filling

Grease a 13 by 9 by 2 inch baking pan; line bottom with waxed paper; grease paper.

In a small saucepan, scald the milk; remove from heat; add butter, sugar and salt; stir until butter is melted; cool to lukewarm.

In a large mixing bowl, sprinkle the yeast over the warm water; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, egg yolks and lemon rind. Add flour, 1 cup at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition.

Cover and let rise in a warm (80 degrees) draft-free place until doubled — about 1 hour. Stir down dough; beat 1 minute. Spread evenly in prepared pan; cover. Let rise as previously until doubled — about 45 minutes.

Spread Coconut Topping over top of dough. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until golden brown — about 25 minutes.

At once spoon the maple-honey flavored syrup over the top; let stand until syrup is absorbed — about 5 minutes. Turn out on wire rack; remove paper; turn right side up; cool.

Split cake in half horizontally. Spread Vanilla Cream Filling over bottom half; replace top half. Serve at once or refrigerate until serving time.

Coconut Topping

½ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons milk
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 can (3½ ounces) flaked coconut (about 1⅓ cups)
2 tablespoons blanched toasted slivered almonds

In a small skillet stir together all the ingredients. Heat gently, stirring, until butter and sugar are melted. Cool.

Vanilla Cream Filling

1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon sugar
1 package (3¾ ounces) vanilla-flavored instant pudding
1 cup heavy cream

Into a mixng bowl pour the milk, vanilla, sugar and instant pudding. With a rotary beater, beat slowly just until blended—about 1 minute. Let stand 5 minutes to set. Whip cream just until it holds soft peaks; fold into pudding.

Be Imaginative in Use of Spices

To add zesty new flavor to familiar dishes, try experimenting with herbs and spices.

For example, fix a quick breakfast treat by mixing 1 tablespoon cocoa and 3 tablespoons cinnamon sugar and sprinkle over hot, buttered toast.

Or, blend ½ to 1 teaspoon nutmeg into the dough for fruit, mincemeat or pumpkin pies.

Two teaspoons of mixed pickling spice add zip to a marinade for steak or kabobs.

Put Creamed Chicken on Rice for a Change

Creamed chicken or ham take on new interest when they are served with rice embellished with white raisins and pine nuts. The rice is a pleasant change from the usual patty shell or toast accompaniment.

Green peas may be added to the creamed dish or the embellished rice.

Pudding Sauce Tops Fruit Gelatin

One way to dress up squares of fruited gelatin is to top each serving with a creamy instant pudding frosting. For instance, prepare strawberry-banana flavor gelatin and mold in a square pan with sliced peaches, or combine raspberry or cherry flavor gelatin with canned apricots.

★ ★ ★

For the topping, vanilla instant pudding is prepared with milk, heavy cream and almond extract for a flavor accent. Easy to make but what a difference this creative touch gives to an everyday dessert!

Frosted Peach Squares

2 packages (3-oz each) strawberry-banana flavor gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) sliced cling peaches
1 package (3¾ oz.) vanilla instant pudding
1 cup milk
1 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Drain peaches, reserving 1 cup syrup. Add syrup to gelatin. Chill until very thick.

Pour small amount of thickened gelatin in bottom of 8-inch square pan. Reserving 9 peach slices for garnish, arrange remaining slices in 3 rows on gelatin in pan.

Spoon rest of gelatin over peach slices. Chill until firm. Unmold.

★ ★ ★

Combine instant pudding, milk, cream, sugar, and almond extract in small bowl of mixer. Beat until mixture is thick, fluffy and holds soft peaks — about 3 to 3½ minutes. Use to frost top of gelatin. Mark individual servings with reserved peach slices.

★ ★ ★

To serve, cut into 9 squares and remove from serving plate with a wet spatula. Makes about 4½ cups gelatin and 3 cups topping or 9 servings.

NOTE: 1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) sliced cling peaches contains 3¼ to 3½ cups fruit and syrup.

Have You Tried Bags of Frozen Vegetables?

Three new frozen prepared vegetable combinations are coming to market—cut green beans and baby lima beans with cream sauce, and corn, carrots and pearl onions with cream sauce.

★ ★ ★

New boil-in-bag products from the same manufacturer are sliced carrots in butter sauce and french green beans in butter sauce.

Veal in Italy Done This Way

This is an interesting, attractive way to treat veal cutlet.

Red and White Veal Cutlet

1¼ pounds (about) veal cutlet, about ¾-inch thick
2 tablespoons flour mixed with ⅛ teaspoon salt
1 egg beaten with 1 tablespoon milk or buttermilk
¼ cup (about) fine dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons oil
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
Cheese sauce
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Have cutlet in one piece; wipe with a damp cloth. Dip cutlet in seasoned flour, then in egg mixture and last in bread crumbs.

Heat oil in a skillet and fry cutlet until golden brown on both sides. Pour tomato sauce into a baking dish — about 10 by 6 by 1¾ inches; place cutlet in sauce.

Pour Cheese Sauce over center of cutlet; sprinkle Parmesan cheese over cheese sauce. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until top is brown and meat is tender — about 45 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Cheese Sauce

In a small saucepan over low heat melt 1½ tablespoons butter; stir in 1½ tablespoons flour and ¼ teaspoon salt; add ¾ cup milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened; remove from heat and stir in ¼ cup grated cheddar cheese until melted.

AIRLINE COPILOT — Yvonne Pope, 34, first British woman to fly for a major airline, is pictured at the controls of a Dakota aircraft at Gatwick Airport, Sussex, England. The Dakota is the type plane she'll soon fly regularly as copilot of Morton Air Service from England to Germany. A former air hostess, she married a pilot who taught her to fly.

Franco Turned Liberal?

MADRID, Spain (AP) — "Either Gen. Franco has become a liberal at 72 years of age or he has a new speech writer."

That was the view of one foreign expert on international affairs after hearing the Spanish chief deliver his end-of-the-year address to the nation.

Another said Franco's words, if uttered 20 years ago in Spain, might have been called counter-revolutionary.

★ ★ ★

Associates of Franco insist he has long held the thoughts he expressed — but perhaps never got around to expressing them so clearly or so publicly before.

EXPRESSED HOPE

He expressed hope that religious liberty "may be exercised freely and within the spheres of common good" in all parts of the world.

"In our country history has made it possible that men of different races and creeds could live together for centuries, and in our monuments and our literature and our history appear contributions from them all, accepted with respect and incorporated into national personalities," he said.

Observers who heard these words predicted Spain's new law freeing Protestant worship from certain restrictions would be speedily approved this year. It has been stalled in the legislature.

Political opponents of the Franco regime frequently criticize the monied people — the banks and the wealthy families — for skimming off the bulk of the national income.

WORKER BENEFITS

Franco sounded almost like one of that opposition when he called for giving benefits to workers precedence over profits for invested capital. He also demanded an extension of social justice for Spain.

In one passage, Franco praised foreign industries for employing Spanish immigrant workers. He said these industries "return our men as skilled workers who have received a continuous lesson of better labor discipline and a demonstration of how wages must be won minute by minute."

A Revolutionary Suggestion

Lawmakers Told to Know Their Subject

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John F. Baldwin Jr. is not ordinarily given to rash comment. As congressmen go, he is generally regarded as comparatively restrained.

WEST

But just this week I overheard the California Republican make a statement that I regard as exceedingly unrealistic, if not downright extreme. It happened like this:

While passing by a door to the House gallery, I chanced to note that some sort of meeting was going on inside the chamber. Since the House was not then in session, I stopped to see what was up.

It turned out to be a seminar for new members of Congress.

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., admonished the newcomers to study hard so they could learn the rules and precedents, and to attend their committee meetings faithfully.

GETTING REELECTED

Another instructor stressed the importance of getting reelected, and another spoke on the importance of lining up a good office staff.

It was all so commonplace I half expected someone to remind the novitiates to keep their noses clean and brush their teeth after every meal.

Much of Baldwin's talk also dealt with the prosaic side of being a congressman. Among other things, he pointed out that it was considered bad form to wear hats, smoke and hiss, boo or jeer on the floor of the House.

Then Baldwin discussed some of the rules and customs of congressional speechmaking, and it was here that the seminar suddenly took a rather unlikely turn.

Baldwin, usually a man of moderation, put forth one of the most radical suggestions I have heard in all the years I have been observing the activities of Congress.

He advised the matriculating lawgivers that if they should ever feel they had to speak out on a certain issue, they should make sure they knew what they were talking about.

Fancy that: In effect he was proposing that congressmen, at least during their first terms, refrain from discoursing on subjects about which they are uninformed.

Since Baldwin is no impractical visionary, there must be some merit in this approach. But, frankly, if I were a new congressman I would cling to the traditional system. Which is:

Never form an opinion on any matter until you have had time to evaluate your own comment about it.

Marine squad moves through Camp Pendleton's Asian village, flushes out hidden enemy. Village is complete with costumed natives, livestock, drying fish.

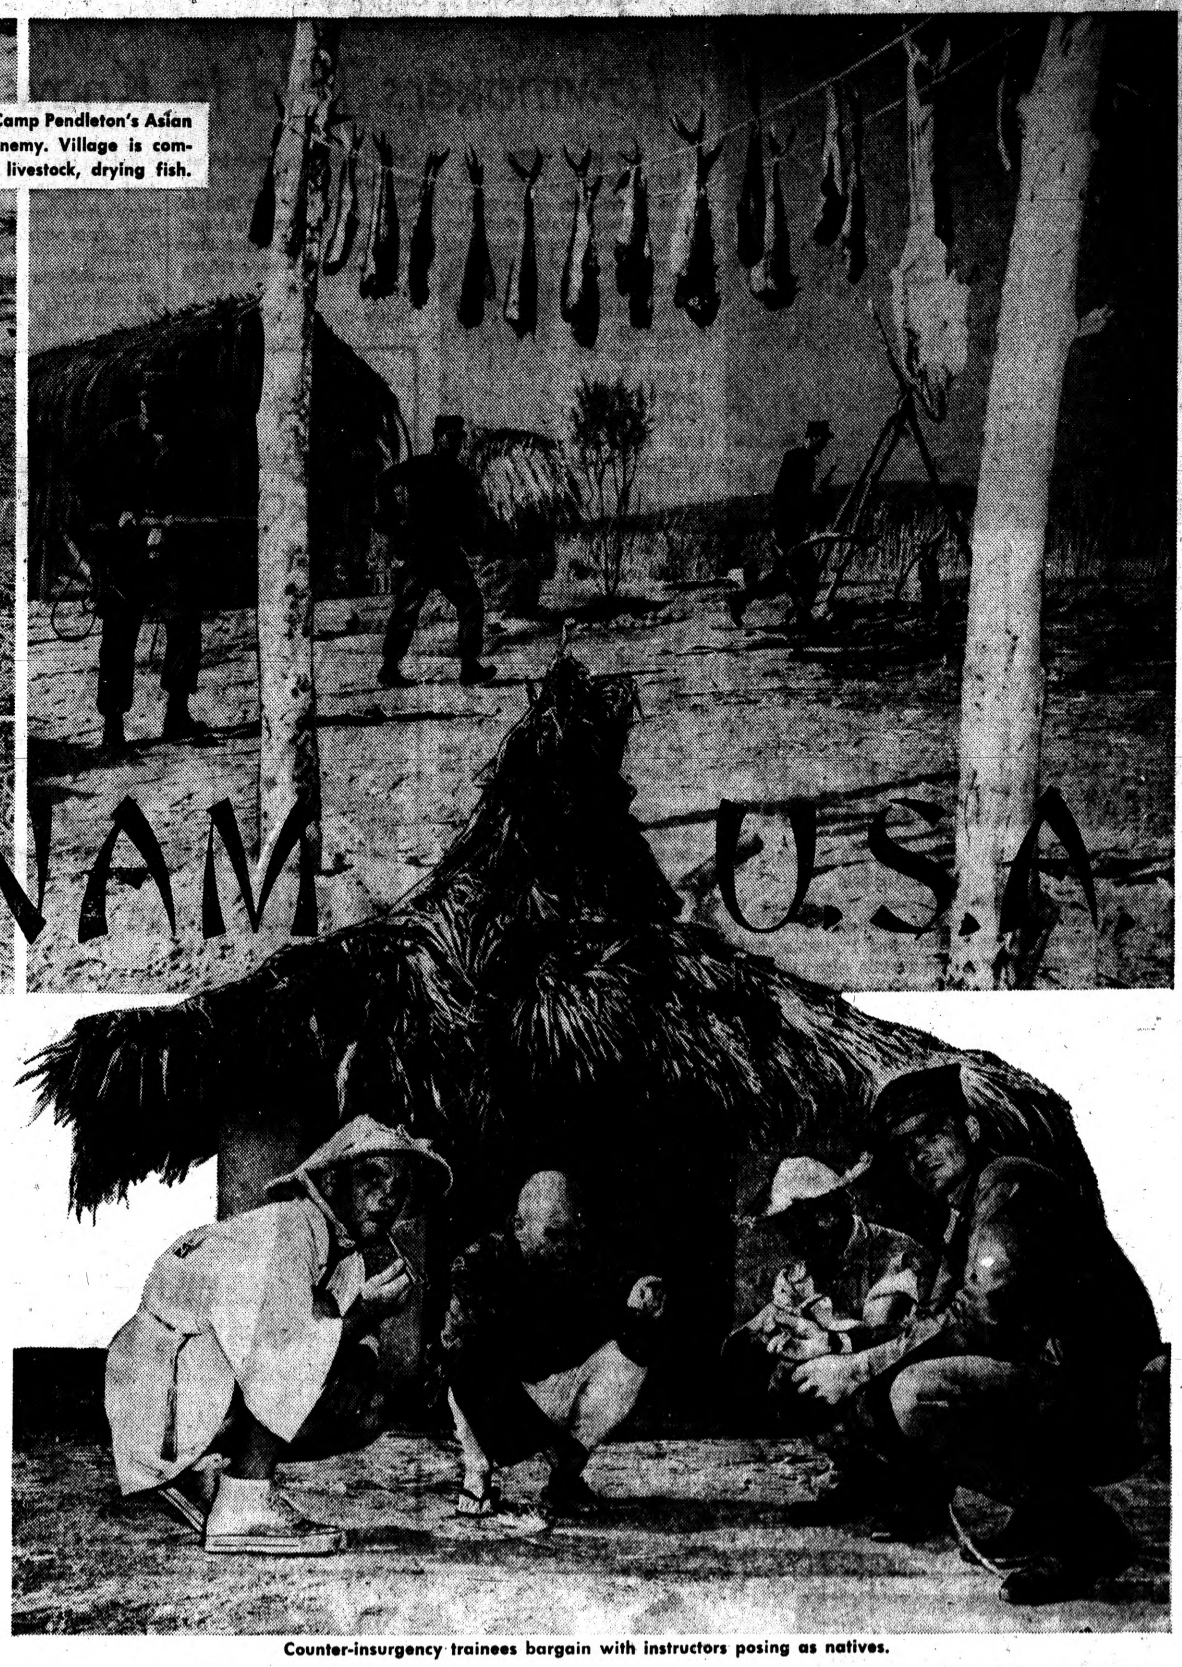
VIET NAM U.S.A.

A mock Vietnamese village serves Camp Pendleton, Calif., Marines as a classroom where they learn the essence of anti-guerrilla warfare—how to tell the bad guys from the good guys and how to deal with either.

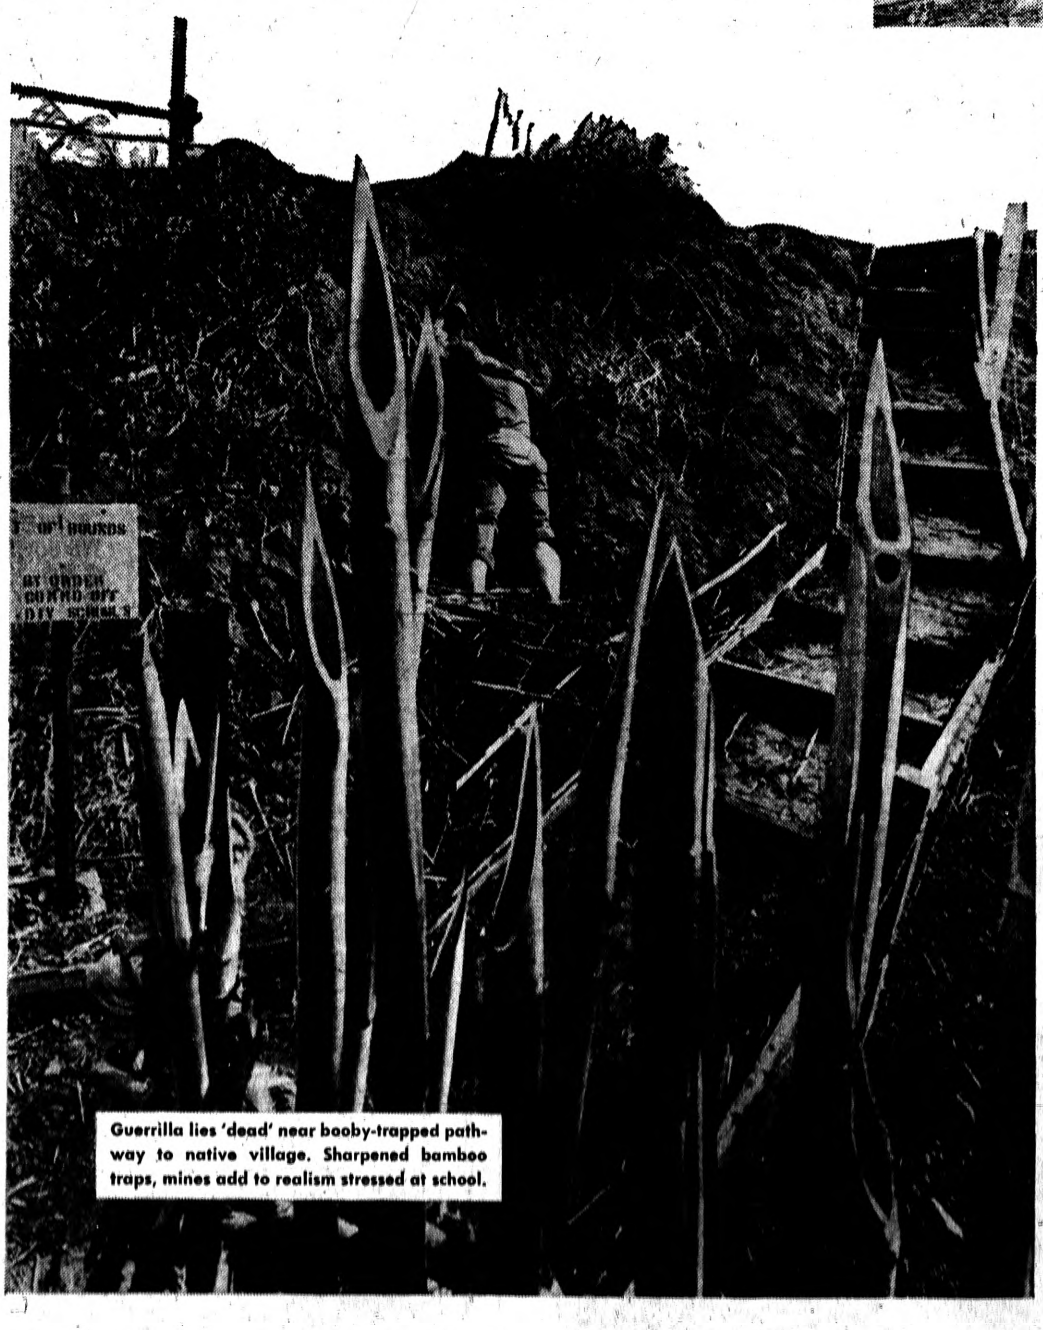
The two-acre classroom is complete with roaming animals, small thatched huts and "Viet Cong." Instructors have added a touch of realism with exploding booby traps, spike-lined manholes and nail-filled boards as foot traps. Each hut has hidden spaces between the walls where men, weapons and supplies can be hidden. A network of tunnels runs under the village to provide escape routes for the enemy.

The village is the brainchild of Marine Captain Nick Carter, a Korean War veteran who studied anti-guerrilla warfare in Viet Nam. Twenty anti-guerrilla experts play the role of the insurgent forces or act as frightened natives forced to help the enemy.

Instruction includes lectures on how to make friends with the villagers and ends with demonstrations on how to flush guerrillas from the village. The "graduation" exercise begins with a platoon of trainees approaching the village and announcing plans to search it. The villagers, with much babbling and running about, create confusion to permit the guerrilla forces to hide. A hut-by-hut search follows, punctuated at times by exploding booby traps and small arms fire. The instructors score the platoon on how well they are able to "conquer" the village. To shoot a friendly villager is to fail the course.



Counter-insurgency trainees bargain with instructors posing as natives.



Guerrilla lies 'dead' near booby-trapped pathway to native village. Sharpened bamboo traps, mines add to realism stressed at school.

Marines await signal to begin graduation exercises in anti-guerrilla school.

Friendly native shoos ducks while Marines search for arms cache in rice paddy.

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communists claimed today they have discovered the skull of what may be the oldest ape-man.

Scientists put together parts of the skull of an ape-man that lived 500,000 to 600,000 years ago, Peking's New China News Agency said. It said the skull parts were found last October at Kungwangling, Shensi Province, in northwest central China.

★ ★ ★

"It is possibly the most ancient specimen of an ape-man so far discovered in the world," said Wu Ju-kang, an anthropologist.

The Peking man, discovered in the 1930's, and the Java man, an earlier find, are generally accepted by scientists as the oldest proof of man's existence. The Peking man is thought to have lived 400,000 years ago and the Java man may have lived up to 700,000 years ago.

Two Detroiters Named to Panel on Ethics, Morals

LANSING (AP) — Bishop Dwight E. Loder and Dr. Joseph L. Roberts, both of Detroit, were named by Gov. George Romney Wednesday to his panel on ethics and morals.

The 22-member group of Michigan churchmen and lay leaders will meet with Romney Friday for its fifth informal discussion on ethical and moral aspects of state affairs.

★ ★ ★

Bishop Loder is new leader of the Michigan Methodist Diocese. He will serve as an additional member of the panel. Bishop Marshall Reed of Onsted, who retired as leader of the Methodist Diocese last year, will continue on the panel.

Dr. Roberts, pastor of the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church, is president of the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches.

The United States and the Philippine Republic signed a 99-year military base agreement in 1947. The pact gives this nation permission to use numerous facilities on the island.

Mexicans Sent Home; Now Californians Can't Cope With Farm Work

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I just can't take it," said a puffing, heavy-set man after three days picking strawberries.

"My back is killing me," the man told a field representative for the California Farm Placement Service. "I want to, but I can't."

★ ★ ★

He was one of thousands of unemployed domestic laborers trying to fill in for Mexican nationals who had to go home after the Dec. 31 termination of the so-called bracero program.

★ ★ ★

The field representative's boss, Jack Ward, head of the Southern California office, said: "I may think I could run a railroad, but I can't. Many of these men thought they could harvest crops, but they can't.

DARN HARD WORK

"It's darn hard work. Some can do it. Some can't."

Growers have complained about the caliber of the new workers.

Ward's assistants are doing a better job of screening applicants now than they were able to do at the beginning of a crash recruitment program three weeks ago. In at least one area, however, they are not doing well at all.

★ ★ ★

Four hundred date pickers are needed now for the 4,000-acre crop in Coachella Valley, near Indio. They have been needed for a week. Total recruited to date: zero.

SPECIAL BREED

"Date pickers are a special breed," said Ward. "They have to be able to work 40 or 50 feet above ground on ladders or in bosun's chairs without being so scared they hang on with the hands they have to pick the dates with."

★ ★ ★

The braceros harvested 75 per cent of the dates before they left. There has been virtually no date harvesting since then.

★ ★ ★

"The situation is critical," Ward said. "Dates aren't as perishable, say, as peaches, but we're going to be in real trouble if we can't find some people in the next couple of weeks."

★ ★ ★

Lettuce growers in Imperial Valley loudly canceled an order for 1,800 domestic workers in protest of the "poor caliber" of workers referred to them in the first days of the crash program.

LETTUCE CROP

Only 18 per cent of the 30,000-acre lettuce crop in Imperial Valley has been harvested.

Hundreds of workers are needed now for preharvest, short-handle hoe work in the 2,500-acre melon crop. For the 30,000-acre Southern California navel orange crop, 4,000 workers will be needed in the next three months.

Another 4,000 will be needed for the 42,000-acre lemon crop.

Ward said his fingers were crossed.

Meanwhile, growers want the Mexicans back.

LBJ to Ask Cut in Gold Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson tentatively plans to ask Congress to eliminate the gold backing on part of the nation's money supply, it was learned today.

The plan would leave unchanged the 25 per cent gold backing on U.S. currency.

It would make an additional $5 billion in gold available for future increases in the money supply or to meet international obligations.

The plan calls for elimination of the legal requirement for a 25 per cent gold backing on reserves which form the basis of the U.S. banking system. The move would be only the second major change in relationship between money and gold since the United States abandoned the strict gold standard in 1934.

YEAR OF EXPANSION

Highly placed sources said Johnson feels further increases in the money supply will be needed since the economic signs point to a fifth straight year of business expansion.

Although laymen tend to think of money only as the currency they hold in their pockets and safes, economists regard bank accounts as an even more important medium of exchange.

Banks must keep a certain percentage of their deposits in Federal Reserve banks. In turn, the Federal Reserve must maintain a supply of gold equivalent to 25 per cent of these bank reserves. It is this legal percentage that Johnson favors repealing.

The Federal Reserve Board, which enjoys a large measure of independence, now has the power to reduce or eliminate the 25 per cent gold requirement on both currency and reserves for a two-week period. It can keep renewing this action indefinitely.

MORE ORDERLY

However, most of Johnson's monetary advisers advocate a request to Congress as a more orderly method.

The ratio of gold to currency and reserves has gone down in recent years for two reasons: a steady, moderate expansion of the money supply to keep pace with a growing economy, and a decline in the gold stock due to a deficit in the international balance of payments.

The ratio was 27.9 per cent on Nov. 30 compared to 30.3 per cent a year earlier and much higher ratios several years ago.

"It is obvious that something will have to be done," one authority said. "Even if our gold stock remains stable, we will need more money to take care of our domestic needs."

Woman Heads Arizona Court

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A woman who considers herself "a working judge" has been elected chief justice of the Arizona Supreme Court.

Lorna Lockwood was chosen chief justice Wednesday by unanimous vote of her four colleagues. It is believed to be the first time that a woman has headed a state's highest court.

★ ★ ★

Miss Lockwood, follows her father's footsteps. The late Alfred C. Lockwood, first appointed judge in fabled Tombstone in 1913, was chief justice three times during his 18-years on the Supreme Court.

Retiring Chief Justice Jesse Udall, in announcing Miss Lockwood's election, said:

"It is to the credit of Arizona that we are the first to elevate an outstanding woman jurist to the highest position in our state judicial system.

FIRST TIME

"This is the first time in the 189 years of our nation's history that the contributions of women in the judicial, as well in other areas of public endeavor, have been so recognized."

Miss Lockwood has been on the high court four years, following 10 years as a Superior Court judge, three terms as a state representative and tenure as assistant state attorney general.

About 94 per cent of the population comprise the nation's family units, according to the Health, Education and Welfare Department. The remaining 6 per cent consists of young unmarried persons and the elderly.

Johnson Adds U.S. Weight to Population Boom Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — In careful but clear language, President Johnson is giving new impetus to the U.S. government's role in the struggle to contain the explosive growth of the world's population.

★ ★ ★

The President did it with one sentence in his State of the Union message Monday night.

★ ★ ★

He said: "I will seek new ways to use our knowledge to help deal with the explosion in world population and the growing scarcity in world resources."

★ ★ ★

As far as could be determined it was the first time a president had used a major address to comment on the scope of the problem and the need to solve it.

ENDORSED STUDIES

The late President John F. Kennedy, at a news conference on April 24, 1963, said the United States should support making information about the reproductive cycle available to the rest of the world. He also endorsed studies in the fields of reproduction and fertility.

★ ★ ★

Johnson didn't mention birth control, but this inevitably is entangled in any significant effort to limit population growth.

★ ★ ★

In developing areas of the world, it is frequently a battle just to expand food production fast enough to keep up with the population growth.

The State Department is already offering training and research assistance to underdeveloped countries trying to meet problems of population growth by aiding governments and responsible private agencies in training specialists.

Special attention is being given to Latin America. State Department officials say one member of each U.S. mission there has been designated to deal with governments and other agencies dealing with the population problem.

On the domestic front, federal funds have been used for a number of years to subsidize birth control clinics and family planning through state and local health programs.

A federal grant of $1,462,718 is being used by New York City health officials to provide birth control advice and materials in connection with a complete maternal health program at five clinics operated for the city by cooperating hospitals.

★ ★ ★

Now through the Office of Economic Opportunity — the so-called "war on poverty" — even wider dissemination of birth control information is being federally financed.

★ ★ ★

A birth control program is already operating in Corpus Christi, Tex., under grants from the program and Milwaukee and the District of Columbia have submitted community action plans which include birth control.

According to legend, the siege of Troy lasted ten years.

Packers Deny Talk of Trade

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi is high on Paul Hornung's "potential" and plans to keep the high-scoring halfback with the Packers.

Lombardi emphatically denied Wednesday a report that he and Hornung had clashed and the former Notre Dame star was on the trading block, possibly in a deal with the New York Giants.

"I don't know a player in the National Football League who has the potential of Hornung," Lombardi said. "You don't give up something for nothing.

"Now, I'm not saying that we're going to sit pat up here. If we have an opportunity to better ourselves, we will trade. But I have no plans to trade Hornung, period."

According to a New York report, Lombardi and Hornung clashed when the halfback reported late for a team meeting before the Packers met the St. Louis Cardinals in the Pro Playoff Bowl in Miami.

The report quoted the coach as telling Hornung: "Get in your car and keep going."

"That's a bold face lie," Lomvardi said. "I had no disagreement whatsoever with Hornung. There's absolutely no truth to that story."

ON BENCH

Hornung was on the bench when the Packers opened against the Cardinals. He carried the ball only five times and his lone pass on the option play was intercepted, killing Green Bay's last chance in a 24-17 loss.

However, Hornung booted a 40-yard field goal and added two conversions.

★ ★ ★

Hornung was Green Bay's bonus choice in the NFL draft in 1957. He became a star after Lombardi took over the Packers in 1959, leading the league in scoring three straight years and setting an NFL scoring record of 176 points in 1960.

He sat out the 1963 season under suspension for betting on games and returned to the Packers last season at the age of 28.

Although troubled by a pinched shoulder nerve much of the campaign, he finished fourth in scoring with 107 points. However, he kicked only 12 of 38 field goal attempts.

He gained 415 yards rushing and caught nine passes for another 98 yards.

Bullets Tops Pistons; Howell's Bid Fails

By The Associated Press

Boston and San Francisco maintained their streaks, but Baltimore's Bailey Howell couldn't keep his going.

The Celtics trounced St. Louis 138-106 for their ninth straight National Basketball Association victory Wednesday night while San Francisco suffered its 10th consecutive defeat 121-102 at the hands of Philadelphia.

Howell, though, failed to gain an NBA record for consecutive field goals made as the Bullets downed Detroit 129-121. In the other game Cincinnati stopped New York 116-102.

Howell had connected on 16 straight field goals going into the game. Wilt Chamberlain holds the record of 19. The first shot the Bullets' ace tried, however, was blocked. Still, he went on to put in 10 of 17 tries and led all scorers with 28 points.

Reports Have Sonny in Line for No. 1 Post

Owner William Ford Says No Decision Has Been Reached

The Detroit Lions denied reports that Sonny Grandelius, recently fired as an assistant coach, would be named head coach of the team next Sunday.

Edwin Anderson, general manager of the Lions, said Grandelius is being considered for the post.

"But he's not the No. 1 candidate," Anderson said.

"He will be given every consideration — but the chances are someone else will get it."

Owner William Clay Ford also refused to give credence today to the report.

"I haven't reached a decision," Ford said, "It's as simple as that . . ."

★ ★ ★

"I haven't hired him . . . I haven't even talked to him" since he was fired last week."

In Hollywood, Fla., where he is vacationing, Grandelius also expressed surprise over the published report.

HEARS NOTHING

He said no one had talked to him about the head coaching job with the National Football League team.

★ ★ ★

"This is the first I've heard about it," he commented, adding that he would take the job if it were offered.

Anderson said no Sunday announcement was planned "at the moment."

★ ★ ★

But he said a successor to former coach George Wilson probably would be named within a week.

Wilson resigned last month shortly after all five assistant Lion coaches were fired.

Grandelius was an assistant coach with the NFL Philadelphia Eagles before joining the Lions.

He was fired as a coach by the University of Colorado in 1962 in a dispute over illegal recruiting practices.

Dayton Hires Spartan Aide

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—Young John McVay began the mansized job today of trying to lift the University of Dayton out of the football doldrums.

The 34-year-old McVay, assistant backfield coach under Duffy Daugherty at Michigan State the past three seasons, was named head coach at Dayton. He was given a three-year contract and the privilege of selecting four assistants.

He became the second coach in two years to tackle the assignment of bringing a winning team to Dayton. William (Pete) Ankney gave up Dec. 11 after winning only four games while losing 14 and tying two in two seasons.

Oregon Convinced

Michigan 11 'Greatest'

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Coach Tommy Prothro of Oregan State said Wednesday a study of the Rose Bowl game films convinces him that Michigan is the greatest football team he has ever seen.

★ ★ ★

Michigan defeated Oregon State 34-7 in the game.

"We had some bad luck and we had some bad lapses, but we had some of those all year and managed to recover," said Prothro.

"This time our opponent was just plainly superior. I don't know if we played better all year, but I don't think so.

★ ★ ★

If we played that well in every game, no one else would have beaten us.

★ ★ ★

"The pictures are really interesting. There were times when our players blasted Michigan players at full speed and only wound up flat on their backs with the other people on top of them. I've never seen such hitting."

Football Writers Name Arkansas Nation's Top 11

HONOLULU (AP) — "I'm prouder than I've ever been in my life," said Coach Frank Broyles Wednesday on learning that his unbeaten, untied Arkansas Razorbacks will receive the Grantland Rice Award.

The memorial to the late sports writing great goes to the team rated No. 1 in the United States by a five-man committee representing the Football Writers Association of America.

"This is something I know the people of Arkansas have dreamed about for a long time," he said. "I know that this has to be the proudest moment in the athletic history of Arkansas—for the players, the university and our fans.

★ ★ ★

"They all rank No. 1," Broyles said.

Arkansas, the Southwest Conference champion, defeated Nebraska 10-7 in the Cotton Bowl game for an 11-0 record—the only major college football team without a loss.

The Razorbacks finished second in the final Associated Press football poll, which was released before the bowl games.

Meets Flint Northern

PCH in Prestige Tilt

A lot of prestige plus the lead in the Saginaw Valley Conference will be riding on the outcome of the Pontiac Central-Flint Northern clash on the PCH floor tomorrow night.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs are ranked second in the state Class A high school basketball poll and they own the lead in the SVC with a 4-0 record.

They have the home court advantage plus an edge in experience over the Flint quintet.

The invading Vikings have posted a 3-2 record and stand 2-1 in the league race.

The big gun in the Vikings' attack is 6-2 forward Monroe Dent who is averaging 18.8 points a game.

AFTER NO. 7

Pontiac Central (6-0) will be looking for its seventh win of the season and 10th in a row in SVC competition.

The last league team to stop the Chiefs was Flint Southwestern by a 70-68 count in January last year.

The Chiefs have been less then spectacular in piling up their unbeaten record this season.

In their last outing, they spanked Pontiac Northern's Huskies, 66-56.

So far, opponents have been unable to stop the Chiefs' combination of forward Jesse Evans and guard Carl Arnold.

SHARES LEAD

Arnold, a 5-8 playmaker who hits from outside, shares the lead in the SVC scoring race with an average of 20 points a game.

Evans, a 6-2 jumping jack, has been one of the Chiefs' big men on the backboards, along with John Hooper and Willie Adams. Evans also sports a 17-point-a-game scoring mark.

★ ★ ★

If the Chiefs lose tomorrow night, Saginaw (3-1) could gain a share of the lead with a victory over Bay City Handy (0-4).

Other SVC games have Saginaw Arthur Hill (2-2) at Flint Central (2-3), Flint Northwestern at Flint Southwestern (3-1), and Saginaw MacArthur at Bay City Central (1-4).

Ex-Lion David Under Arrest

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jim David, defensive backfield coach for the San Francisco Forty-Niners and former Detroit Lion star, surrendered to police Wednesday on a charge of felony hit-run driving.

David's attorney, John O'Dea, described the incident as a "technical violation" and "an unfortunate thing."

The charge was filed in connection with an accident Dec. 23 in which a woman and a child were hurt. Their injuries are painful, but not serious, according to police.

The victims, Mrs. John Gordon, 33, and John Ehrlich Jr., 10, were struck by David's car as they crossed a street to enter Mrs. Gordon's automobile.

Ullman's Goal Brings Victory

Late Shot Pins 5-4 Loss on Canadiens

By United Press International

Charlie Hodge, whose Montreal team lost the game, is a richer man today and Ted Lindsay, whose Detroit team won, is a poorer one.

★ ★ ★

Those ironical twists are the result of Wednesday night's National Hockey League game between the Montreal Canadiens and the Detroit Red Wings and some front office maneuvering before it even got underway.

Lindsay, whose Red Wings edged the Canadiens 5-4, was suspended by league President Clarence Campbell two hours before the game when he failed to issue an acceptable apology for challenging the NHL's and Campbell's authority.

But shortly before the game, Campbell lifted the suspension after Lindsay signed a five-item statement drafted by Campbell himself.

★ ★ ★

One of the items stated that Lindsay send a $75 check to the league office covering fines levied on him during the Detroit-Toronto game Saturday night.

EARNS BONUS

Hodge earned $250 by leading the close Vezina Trophy race at the halfway mark of the season 35 games. His nearest challenger was Detroit goalie Roger Crozier, who had given up four more goals than Hodge prior to the game and wound up trailing by three.

★ ★ ★

The Red Wings scored their victory on a dramatic 20-foot shot by Norm Ullman with 18 seconds remaining in the game after trailing 3-1 at the end of the first period and 4-3 after the second session.

Ron Murphy triggered the Red Wing comeback with two goals, including the tying tally.

The Canadiens, however, maintained their three - point lead over Chicago as the Black Hawks dropped a 3-1 decision to the Toronto Maple Leafs and the New York Rangers defeated the crippled Boston Bruins 5-2 in other NHL action.

Pro Wrestlers Move Into Oxford for Bouts

Professional wrestling moves from Pontiac to Oxford Saturday night.

A four-bout card will get under way at 8 p.m. at Oxford High School. The Dad's Club is sponsoring the bouts.

★ ★ ★

Heading the card is a bout between Mary Jane Moll and and Lucille Dupree. Other matches have George Ringo meeting Johnny Gates, Ricky 'Crusher' Cortez battling Gino Britto and a midget bout—Farmer Pete versus Sonny Boy Cassidy.

North Gridders Work Pass Patterns in Pads

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The North squad came through its first real head-knocking session with two Big Ten quarterbacks expected to alternate at the helm for Saturday's 16th annual Senior Bowl All-Star game.

North Coach George Wilson, formerly of the Detroit Lions, put his charges through an unusually rugged scrimmage Wednesday. Rich Badar of Indiana and Tom Myers of Northwestern did most of the passing during the offensive drills.

Outside end Jim Whalen of Boston College and deep flanker Jerry Smith of Arizona State were favorite targets on long pass plays by Badar and Myers. Big Bill Cronin of Boston College was worked on short passes, operating from tight end.

BALL CARRYING

Most of the ball carrying was done by Dick Gordon of Michigan State, Bill Symons of Colorado and Tom Nowatzke of Indiana, along with Missouri's Gus Otto.

Lance Rentzel, Oklahoma back, alternated both with Smith and Whalen, and Len Frketich of Oregon State moved in at tight end on several plays.

The North squad was a day behind the South in putting on pads, but caught up in a hurry. Both squads will be out again today for two workouts, but that will be the end of the tough duty.

★ ★ ★

South Coach Tom Landry appeared to have settled on quarterback Steve Tensi, the hero of the Gator Bowl victory over Oklahoma, for down the middle work. However, Alabama's Joe Namath, who recently signed with the New York Jets for $400 000, is likely to see action.

Alabama trainer Jim Goostree, who also is trainer for the South, says Namath is doing just fine and he is "capable of putting on the same performance or better than he put on last week."

Rochester Swimmer Has Winning Debut

GRANVILLE, Ohio (UPI)—Hugh Wilder, a freshman from Rochester put on a Denison University swimming uniform for the first time Wednesday and broke two school records to lead the Big Red to a 52-43 victory over Baldwin-Wallace College.

Wilder was sidelined during Denison's two pre - Christmas meets with an appendectomy, but he made it apparent that he is fully recovered. He lowered the all-time Denison 200-yard freestyle record to 1:55.5 and the 200-yard backstroke mark to 2:13.6.

Thriller in Rec Action

It didn't take long for the Waterford Township recreation basketball American League players to produce a battle waged with playoff fervor.

★ ★ ★

Although the circuit only started its regular season play Monday, Spencer Floor Covering and Zilka Heating staged a two-overtime thriller last night won by the former, 75-70.

The game was 58-all after regulation, and 66-66 following the first three - minute overtime. John Herrington led the victors with 29 points; while the losers had four men in twin figures paced by Gary Moran with 22.

Other township results had Hi & Dry whip Beauty Rite, 66-42, after rolling to a 35-18 halftime lead; and Lyons Service coasted past Howe's Lanes, 71-54, both being National League games.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department had two practice games last night and Roy White's Unbeatables trimmed Messiah Baptist, 73-59, in one tilt, while McDonald's Drive-In nipped the All-Stars in the other, 56-50.

CHUCK DAVEY

Chuck Davey Is Named Boxing Commissioner

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Boxing has a friend sitting in the commissioner's seat on the State Athletic Board of Control.

The friend is Charles (Chuck) Davey, former welterweight contender, who will try to breathe a little life into amateur and professional boxing in Michigan.

Boxing has been on a downhill slide during the past 10 years and it's Davey's hope, as commissioner, that he can stir a little interest in the sport.

"We will probably start by encouraging boxers at the amateur level . . . try to promote Golden Gloves," he said.

"Let's face it. The boxers need recognition . . . the picture and name in the paper.

"We have some terrific talent in the state," Davey continued, but there are no connections in the state for young fighters. They have to go outside of Michigan."

"There will be no momentus changes in boxing . . . nothing earth shattering, but we will try to develope a climate that will be favorable to fighters, promoters and managers."

PICKED BY GOVERNOR

The 39-year-old Davey was appointed to the Athletic Board by Governor George Romney Dec. 27, 1963. He was moved into the $7,500 commissioner's post by Romney Tuesday following the resignation of Frank A. Cavanaugh.

★ ★ ★

The 67-year-old Cavanaugh quit because of a hassle with George Burnett, secretary of the Athletic Board.

Cavanaugh dismissed Burnett late last year claiming Burnett was not qualified to handle the secretary's duties.

Burnett charged that he was fired, among other reasons, for refusing to drive a car for Cavanaugh sporting a Barry Goldwater sticker.

Davey, who lives at 1077 Willow Lane, Birmingtam, rode to fame as a pro boxer in the late 1940's and early 1950's with fast fists and feet plus a generous exposure on television.

Since 1959, Davey has been manager of an insurance agency in Southfield. He and his wife, Patricia, have four sons and five daughters.

Davey was a standout during his career at Michigan State University, winning NCAA titles in 1946, 1947, 1948 and 1949.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., (AP) — Two years on golf's tournament trail have paid off to the tune of a new car for San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie.

Brodie carded a 75 Wednesday for a 54-hole total of 231 to win the National Football League Golf Tournament and the first prize of a 1965 Ford Mustang.

Brodie came home one stroke ahead of Jesse Whittenton, Green Bay Packers defensive back, though at one time he trailed Whittenton by four strokes.

Whittenton finished with a 232, followed by King Hill, Philadelphia Eagle quarterback who had 236. Jim Bakken, St. Louis Cardinal place kicker, had 238 and Bob Taylor, New York Giants defensive end, finished with 242.

Some 50 professional football players competed in the tournament held on the 6,479-yard, par 35-35 — 70 Hollywood Beach Hotel course.

PNH Fans Await Walled Lake, Huskies Spurt

Pontiac Northern basketball coach Dick Hall has suffered through only one losing season with the Huskies, the inaugural campaign of 1958-59.

★ ★ ★

No one is forecasting an unfavorable balance of competition this season although PNH has a 2-3 mark entering Friday's home game with Inter-Lakes League rival Walled Lake.

But loyal fans of the Huskies' cage fortunes must be thinking it is about time the talented PNH quintet hit its stride and that there is no better time than in the league opener.

The time is ripe, obviously, since Walled Lake is considered the chief I-L contender to end Northern's title streak at two straight. Another loss would prove embarrassing as well as devastating to the PNH morale.

★ ★ ★

It would be embarrassing since the Huskies have topped Walled Lake six straight times after losing their only game to it. That was in 1960-61 when the Vikings snapped PNH's 17-game league winning streak, 58-57.

★ ★ ★

That was one of the very few close final scores in the five-year series. PNH has one six-point triumph and the rest have been by 10 points or better.

It would be harmful since the Vikings then could have that important psychological boost needed to break their win one-lose one pattern and go onto a possible league crown.

LACK POWER

Neither Waterford (2-2) nor Farmington (3-4) which open on the latter's floor Friday appear strong enough to sidetrack either the Northern or Vikings title bid.

Coach Bob Taylor of Waterford, though, has the Skippers playing improving basketball and they could be dark horses for the two preseason contenders to cope with later on.

Waterford has picked off two tight wins after dropping its opening two games.

Walled Lake coach Bob Bolton will have to do without Pat Godfrey, cocaptain guard (who is sidelined with a knee ailment) against the well-rested, able-bodied Huskies.

The Vikings have eight other players, though, with extensive varsity playing experience who will likely see a lot of action.

★ ★ ★

Randy Alderson, Rick Hughes and Russ Streeter appear definite starters and Bolton has Roger Ruminski, Matt Planck, Jim Grant, Terry Lehman and John Huebler to choose among for the other two berths.

The gridiron disaster triggered by the Raiders wasn't fatal for Dryden. But it kept the Cardinals from a perfect season and the outright Southern Thumb crown.

The Cardinals will unpack a 5-0 record when they arrive in Almont.

Almont is 2-3, but this record can be deceptive. The Raiders lost twice to a strong Imlay City team by five and four points and to New Haven by three. The Raiders won by two at Brown City and crushed Armada, 85-64.

Dryden dumped New Haven by 11, but had needed two overtimes to dispose of Armada. Although the Cardinals will be favored, the capacity crowd is expected to see a close tussle.

Ken Schulte has been Almont's most consistent scorer and will carry a 15.4 average into the game. Dave Yennior has a 16-point mark, but this was helped by a 37-point explosion against Armada.

Larry Millikin has been in double figures the last two games for the Raiders.

BALANCED SCORING

Dryden's attack is well-balanced with all five starters averaging double figures. Ken Kitchenmaster (13), Dennis Hilliker (12.4) and Tom Sterner (12.6) are the mainstays.

Ron Faulds and George Couzens take over the scoring if the top three are stopped.

Dryden was ranked fifth in the Associated Press' Class D football ratings the week they played Almont. They are fifth this week in the AP's first basketball poll.

In other league action Friday, New Haven goes to Brown City, Armada goes to Anchor Bay and Memphis is at Capac.

Four games are slated in the South Central.

★ ★ ★

Imlay City will be seeking its first league win at Deckerville. So will North Branch when the Broncos entertain Millington. Victories for the Spartans and North Branch would leave the four teams tied for second behind idle Harbor Beach, 2-0 in league play.

BLACK HAWKS HOME

Ortonville and South Lyon will attempt to get back on the winning path.

The Black Hawks entertain Genesee after losing their first start in three games the last time out. South Lyon won three straight before being stopped.

The Lions travel to Ypsilanti Lincoln.

St. Mike's Victory Led by Lavoie's 29

St. Michael took a pounding from visiting St. Agatha Wednesday night on the Kennedy Junior High School court, but the Mikemen also took a victory, 66-56.

★ ★ ★

The host team converted 24 of 38 free throw attempts and prevailed although outgunned from the floor, 23-21. The Northwest Catholic League triumph moved St. Mike within a half game of second place.

The Shamrocks broke open a close ball game in the final half. They led 33-29 at intermission and moved ahead by 12 markers in the third quarter as the visitors tallied only six points.

Lanky Rick Lavoie accounted for 29 of the winners' points with his accuracy in close to the basket offsetting that outside gunning of St. Agatha's Mike Roemer. In all, the losers were called for 23 of the 31 personal fouls in the tilt.

Rick and brother Ray also were very effective on the backboards in helping St. Mike to its sixth win in eight starts this season.

READY BID

The Shamrocks will bid to take over second place and move closer to unbeaten but idle Orchard Lake St. Mary when they visit Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows (5-1) tomorrow.

St. Agatha (1-7) has to return to the area from Detroit for a meeting with Our Lady of Lakes in Waterford. The other league contest will have Royal Oak St. Mary visiting St. Frederick.

Waterford OLL also will see action Saturday night by being host to new school Warren Woods in a non-league encounter.

Albion Swimmers Win

YPSILANTI (AP) — Albion swamped Eastern Michigan 78-16 in a dual swimming meet which dampened the dedication of the host's new Warner Natatorium here. It was the second loss of the season for Eastern.

Albion's record is now 4-1.

Since it was the first intercollegiate meet to be held in the new facility, all events established pool records.

Pros Start at LA

Winter Golf Tour Set

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Professional golfers kick off the richest winter tournament circuit in history Friday, with Arnold Palmer and virtually all the other big name players teeing off in the first round of the $75,000 Los Angeles Open.

A small army of pros and amateur partners were set for today's pro-am prelude for the $5,000 pocket-money included in the largest purse in the tournament's history.

The setting, as it has been since 1956, is the Rancho municipal course, 7,131 yards in length, par 36-35 — 71.

★ ★ ★

The pros, few of whom ever offer public antipathy of a testing ground, generally refer to it as "not a bad course."

Two star players will not compete in this 39th annual tournament, Jack Nicklaus, the leading money winner in 1964, and South Africa's Gary Player.

Nicklaus usually joins the tour in the Bing Crosby pro-am later in the month and Player is limiting his United States appearances this year to many fewer than usual.

On hand, however, is U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi. The young Californian won the Los Angeles Open in 1959 and went into something of an eclipse until he scored his great comeback in 1963.

Also present, and of course highly regarded, are British Open champion Tony Lema and the American PGA king, Bob Nichols.

The defending champion, Paul Harney, is also back. Harney plays little tournament golf these days, concentrating on his club duties at Sacramento.

Harney had rounds of 71-72-66-71—280 to win out last year, with Nichols second at 281. Palmer, Bob Goalby, Dow Finsterwald and Al Geiberger tied at 282.

The 72-hole tournament is scheduled to end Monday.

Broncos Meet Bloomfield 5

Clarkston Plays Host to Clarenceville

Holly passed one hurdle Tuesday and with a little luck could really be sitting pretty after Saturday night in the Wayne-Oakland Basketball League.

The Broncos pushed their mark to 4-0 in the circuit and dumped one challenger with an eight-point victory two days ago over West Bloomfield.

Now the Broncos will entertain another first-place aspirant tomorrow night when Bloomfield Hills travels to Holly. The other quintet currently tied for the runner-up berth is Clarkston.

The Wolves will be host to Clarenceville's winless Trojans Friday; but then visit Hills' lair Saturday. A victory for Holly Friday and the Barons Saturday will put the former two games up in the loss column on all its challengers.

★ ★ ★

Other games tomorrow will have Milford's disappointing Redskins at West Bloomfield, and Northville will visit Brighton.

All four of them have two defeats and cannot afford another this early in the race. Injuries have hurt Milford and it will meet a well-trained foe in the Lakers.

Bloomfield Hills apparently has the best chance to make headway in the race after Holly. A victory over Holly and the Clarkston five on back-to-back nights would give the Barons a big lift plus a share of first place.

Ohio Quintet Adds 3rd Foe to Streak

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Ohio University won its third straight basketball contest in the Mid-American Conference, defeating Western Michigan 91-70 Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The Ohioans, unbeaten in conference play, quelled repeated Western Michigan threats in the first half and took a 37-30 halftime lead, remaining ahead in the contest.

WMU guard Dave Anderson, who led all scorers with 23 points, set a school record when he counted his 36th straight free throw in four games.

Cage Shakeup Expected in Race for O-A Honors

There's going to be a shakeup in the Oakland A basketball standings Friday night.

Four teams are tied for second place, a half game behind pace-setting Rochester, and two are paired Friday.

★ ★ ★

Breaking the jam will be Avondale's game at Madison. Clawson can really make a shambles of the upper echelon by winning at Rochester.

Lake Orion can jumble the picture more with a victory at Warren Cousino, also tied for second, Troy, the fourth runner-up, is expected to get past Fitzgerald in a home tilt.

Birmingham Groves lays its precarious hold in first place in the Northwest Suburban on the line at Oak Park, tied for second with Livonia Franklin, Detroit Thurston and North Farmington.

Franklin and North Farmington tangle on the Livonia school's court whlie Wayne John Glenn goes to Thurston.

★ ★ ★

Drew Pisha, the talented Cousino pivotman, must be stopped if Lake Orion hopes to move near the top. He is averaging close to 15 points a game.

TITLE THREAT

Jim Wilfong has finally hit his stride for Madison and teamed with steady Jim Combs makes the Wildcats a definite title threat. Gary Knoche is another high scorer for Madison.

★ ★ ★

Avondale handled Oxford in its last outing, but the team's top scorer, Lynn Thorpe, was out of action. A prolonged absence will hurt the Yellow Jackets.

Rochester, led by Bruce McDonald, is favored to down Clawson.

McDonald, the county's leading scorer with a 29.4 average, has been over the 30-mark in three of Rochester's five games.

Christian 5 Plays Two Loop Games

Midwestern Baptist Seminary will be idle this week but Michigan Christian Junior College will have games Friday and Saturday nights plus be host to a league meeting Saturday morning.

Statistics released during the break period reveal the one bright local spot is the individual scoring of Ralph Wingate for Midwestern's Falcons.

The 6-1 freshman forward is clipping the nets at a 33.6 rate after five games, and has hit on 54 per cent of his field goal tries.

No one else in the circuit is averaging 30 points or better. Larry Thompson of Midwestern commands fifth place in the standings with a 20.7 tempo.

Lansing's Great Lakes Bible College (1-3) will play the Warriors (9-3) Friday in the Avondale High School gym. They also will be hosts there to winless Detroit Bible College Saturday night. Both games will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Two Baseball Clinics Slated

Southfield's Parks and Recreation Department in conjunction with District 4 of the Little League Baseball program is sponsoring two clinics featuring Michigan State University coach Danny Litwhiler.

★ ★ ★

Litwhiler, a former major league outfielder, will appear at Clinics Mondays Jan. 18 and Feb. 1 in the Southfield Civic Center Building.

Both will be open to all Little League managers and coaches at no charge. Litwhiler is famous for innovating teaching devices and will stress fundamentals in his talks at the clinics.

Birmingham to Open Rec Cage Schedule

Birmingham's recreation basketball program for school boys will begin Saturday morning at nine sites.

★ ★ ★

Adams, Midvale, Pierce, Pembroke, Quarton, Torry and Baldwin schools will have 4th-6th grade boys; the junior and senior high boys will play at Derby and Seaholm.

The eight-week program runs 9:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m. each Saturday. Additional information is available at the Birmingham Recreation Department office, 644-1807.

BACK ON ICE — The country's ice boaters welcomed their first official day of racing last Sunday and are expected to converge on Cass Lake Saturday and Sunday for extensive dashes in the DN class boats.

At Cass Lake

Iceboat Races Return

Iceboat races have returned to the Pontiac area with a reported six inches of ice blessing the Cass Lake course.

The first Sport Center Trophy found Ro Redner of Cass Lake just nipping Chuck Cartwright, also Cass Lake, for first place in the best-of-five heats.

★ ★ ★

Livonia's Ralph Johnson took third place. Cartwright and Redner split the first four heats and then the latter, commodore of the Cass Lake Yaeht Ice Club, edged Cartwright in the final 100-yard run.

There were 20 entries and this weekend's races are expected to attract numerous more. All competition last Sunday was in DN Class iceboats.

There is a miscellaneous class, also, and action is likely in it beginning Saturday or Sunday afternoon depending on the turnout. All area iceboaters are eligible to compete.

The races are along the southeastern shore of the lake in front of the Pontiac Yacht Club by Keego Harbor. The official races begin 1:30 p.m. each Saturday and Sunday, weather permitting.

★ ★ ★

Redner is a chief contender for over-all iceboat racing honors this season after posting the North American catamaran sailboat championship last summer.

Clarkston Skater Scores Four Goals

A four-goal outburst Saturday by Tom Petrie of Clarkston enabled the Arrow Auto Wash winger to raise his league-leading totals to 26 goals and 42 points in 14 games.

Royal Oak's Dave Durkin also had a four-goal performance last week and is second in the individual race with 35 points.

The Arrow sextet represents Oakland County in the Metropolitan Detroit Junior Hockey League and currently is third in the six-team circuit. Gerry Darling from Waterford is eighth in points with 25.

Only U. S. Lacks Wins in Curling Tournament

TORONTO (AP)— The United States had the only winless team Wednesday night after three more rounds in the tournament of champions curling championships.

The U.S. foursome from Duluth, Minn., skipped by Bob Magie, lost in the second round to Ontario 7-6, then dropped a 17-5 decision to Manitoba in the third round and fell 9-6 to Northern Ontario in the fourth round.

Prince Edward Island led the tournament with a 4-0 record.

Hills' Skiers Start Strong

Bloomfield Hills established itself again as a strong entry in the boys division and a possible girls contender in the High School Ski League meet yesterday at Mt. Holly.

★ ★ ★

The Barons swept the first four places in the boys' competition led by Geoff Smith (36.1), the defending individual champion.

Sister Cheryl Smith (46.0) unofficially paced the girls' racing, although none of the five teams competing managed to qualify four skiers the required in that class.

Rochester, although failing to qualify a team, placed Ken Biladeau fifth among the boys to break the Hills monopoly which also included sixth place.

OTHER BOYS

Kettering's John Peterson took seventh, Ferndale's Pat Hiller was eighth and Utica's first finisher was Paul Campagne who was 20th.

Among the leading girls who completed the dual slalom course were Stephanie McKenna of Kettering (55.8), Nancy Goodwin of Ferndale (63.6) and Rochester's Jane Mitzelfeld.

★ ★ ★

The prep ski league has 14 schools participating this winter. Meets are scheduled three times a week—Monday and Wednesday afternoons and Saturday mornings.

Boys compete against boys and girls against girls with results figured separately.

Each skier makes two runs on the downhill slalom course.

Mt. Holly does provide free racing instruction through staff members Herb Thayer and Chad Williams, who are also in charge of laying out the courses.

Usually five or six schools will compete each day. The races are on the slalom hill behind Grant's Pass (the intermediate slope).

There will be a league meet Feb. 27, weather permitting. Bloomfield Hills is the defending champion in both the boys and girls' classes.

Of the 14 schools involved, five have skiing as a varsity sport. They are Hills, Walled Lake, Rochester, Ferndale and Detroit Benedictine.

Others in the program include Berkley, Southfield, Pontiac Central, Utica, West Bloomfield, Detroit Thurston, Waterford Kettering, Lakeview St. Clair Shores and Waterford.

Jerry Thomas of Kettering serves as league president.

★ ★ ★

More than 60 racers from the leading European ski countries took part in the two-day event opening the Swiss racing season. It turned into a competition between Switzerland and France, the only countries entering their elite teams.

★ ★ ★

Lacroix was clocked in the fastest time of 1:54.42 for the 1,375-yard long track with a drop of 440 yards and 64 gates.

Red Wing Bows to NHL President

MONTREAL (AP) — Volatile Ted Lindsay was suspended from the National Hockey League Wednesday and reinstated in record time after he paid $75 in fines and apologized in writing for his public criticism of the league, its president and its referees.

The veteran left-winger, making a comeback this season with the Detroit Red Wings, said Wednesday night he signed "under protest" a letter an NHL spokesman said was drafted by Clarence Campbell, president of the league.

Suspended shortly before 6 p.m., Lindsay was reinstated in time to join a pre-game practice session at the Forum at 7:30 p.m. The NHL said this was its shortest suspension ever.

PLAYS IN GAME

Lindsay later took part in Detroit's 5-4 victory over Montreal.

Lindsay was called on the carpet for remarks he made following Detroit's 3-1 loss to the Maple Leafs in Toronto last Saturday night.

He drew a misconduct and a game misconduct penalty in that contest and threatened later to withhold the $75 in automatic fines that go with the penalties. He said he would not "sit for Campbell's kangaroo court" and described NHL referees as "nothing."

The letter of apology, which accompanied Lindsay's personal check for $75, covered five points Campbell said were essential conditions for reinstatement.

Payment of the fines was one of the conditions. Lindsay also withdrew his "challenge to the league's disciplinary powers," acknowledged Campbell's disciplinary authority and integrity and apologized for any embarrassment caused.

This satisfied the NHL. A league spokesman said later that "the case against Lindsay now is closed."

The fiery left-winger spent 20 minutes in Campbell's office Wednesday and Detroit Coach Sid Abel conferred with the league president for 1½ hours.

Pine Knob manager Merle Trepp said anyone may attend the lessons at no charge.

West's Pro Unit Slight Favorite in Bowl Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The West remained a slight favorite to defeat the East in the National Football League Pro Bowl game Sunday-despite recent losses to the Eastern Division.

★ ★ ★

The West holds a 9-5 edge in the series and apparently the smart ones think Baltimore's Johnny Unitas and company can do it again.

The Colts — and Unitas — went down to defeat before the Cleveland Browns in the NFL championship game and the Browns' quarterback, Frank Ryan, is here to lead the East with several of his teammates.

★ ★ ★

Drills continued Thursday, with Cleveland's coach, Blanton Collier, and Baltimore's Don Shula directing maneuvers.

Upward of 50,000 are expected for the nationally televised all-star struggle in Memorial Coliseum.

N-Fleet Plans Appear Shelved for '65

By JOSEPH W. BRIGG

PARIS (UPI) — The long-feared showdown between President Johnson and French President Charles de Gaulle over an allied nuclear force appears to have been put on ice — perhaps for good.

French officials are confident there no longer is danger of a confrontation over this in 1965.

In fact, there is growing belief here that the entire project is dead.

Washington's recent announcement that the U.S. State Department's special office in charge of negotiations on an allied nuclear fleet is being closed down was taken by French officials as final evidence that the nuclear force row that rocked the Atlantic alliance last summer and fall is past.

★ ★ ★

The dispute exploded after de Gaulle's return from his South American grand tour in October. It was touched off by a series of Washington and Bonn statements indicating the United States was determined, regardless of French objections, to ram through its project for a mixed-manned allied force of surface ships (MLF) by the end of 1964.

PERSONAL CHALLENGE

De Gaulle interpreted these statements as a personal challenge. He feared if the project went through it would perpetuate what he described as "American domination" of Europe's defense.

It was at this point that de Gaulle unleashed vague threats through aides and members of his government that if MLF went into effect, France would quit the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and denounce the 1963 French-German alliance.

Curiously, de Gaulle's biggest assist came from the new British Labor government.

★ ★ ★

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson went to Washington in November with a project for a so-called "allied nuclear force" (ANF) as an alternative to MLF.

WATERED DOWN

This would have watered down to almost unrecognizable proportions the original U. S. plan for a fleet of 25 surface ships with crews of mixed nationalities and equipped with Polaris missiles.

In its place the ANF project would have put part of the British V-bomber force, some nuclear submarines, some land-based missiles and only a very few mixed-manned surface ships.

By tacit general consent, the MLF-ANF controversy was kept from becoming a showdown issue at the Paris NATO council of ministers just before Christmas.

★ ★ ★

When the ministers left for home it was with a vague general agreement that representatives of the United States, Great Britain, West Germany, Italy and the Netherlands should meet somewhere some time this month to see if there is any possibility of marrying up MLF and ANF into a workable project.

But no time or place has yet been set.

French officials now estimate that even if the new talks get under way soon, it would take three to four months before they could hope to achieve results. But by that time West Germany's parliamentary general elections will be close at hand. And it is hardly conceivable here that any major decision on so red-hot an issue as an allied nuclear force could be rammed through with elections impending.

All this studying of the calendar explains the suddenly relaxed attitude of French officials about MLF and ANF.

★ ★ ★

Any decision in 1965 now is considered out of the question.

Poisonous Gas Flow Is Halted

MADILL, Okla. (AP) — A wildcat well that gushed poisonous sulphuric gas apparently was brought under control late Wednesday.

Valves kept the gas under check but they had to be turned frequently to release the roaring pressurized gas to prevent a major blowout.

★ ★ ★

Sinclair Oil Co.'s No. 5 Griffin blew out Wednesday morning and a company spokesman estimated the daily flow at five million cubic feet. There was no fire. Workmen had to use gas masks and spectators were kept a mile away from the well, 2 ½ miles northwest of this southern Oklahoma town.

Drilling mud was pumped into the well to stop the gas flow.

Town Shocked by 4 Monoxide Gas Jail Deaths

AP Photofax

WHERE TEEN-AGERS DIED — Investigators yesterday check the main jail cell in Payson, Ariz., where four teen-agers died of carbon monoxide poisoning. The teens were jailed on suspicion of theft of beer. A faulty heating unit is the probable cause of death.

This photo was taken 10 months ago

PAYSON, Ariz. (AP) — The 800 residents of Payson, a resort community in the mountains of central Arizona, were trying to go about their normal business today after learning that carbon monoxide poisoning had been responsible for the deaths of four teen-agers in the city's jail.

Townspeople gathered around the county complex Wednesday waiting for word of an autopsy in Globe, about 75 miles away.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Alfred D. Musgrave, Gila County pathologist, ruled that carbon monoxide poisoning was the cause of the deaths, which occurred Tuesday morning.

Authorities today were to continue their inspection of the butane gas heating system in the jail.

TWO OVERCOME

The probe was interrupted Wednesday when two investigators were overcome while checking out the heating system.

Sheriff's Deputy Lyman Peace and rescue squadron Director Tom Drake became ill in the jail. They were rushed to Payson Hospital and given oxygen before being released in good condition.

★ ★ ★

The four youths were arrested Monday for investigation in the theft of some beer. They were placed in the jail on orders of juvenile authorities.

Deputy T. L. Meredith, who found the victims in a cell Tuesday morning, said, "I was never so shocked in my life."

Sheriff Elton R. Jones said he didn't know when an inquest would be held. Justice of the Peace Florence Greer indicated it might be several days.

The dead, all Payson High School students and all described as popular with their classmates, were:

★ ★ ★

Clifford Greenland, 18, son of a widow who lives in nearby Pine. The mother was hospitalized with shock.

Kenny Haught, 15, whose father runs a television repair shop.

John Watkins, 16, who moved with his parents to Payson two weeks ago.

Blaine Schroeder, 16, son of a greenskeeper at Payson Country Club.

Jones said the four were among seven teen-agers arrested in Payson in the past week in connection with an outbreak of petty crimes. The other three had been released to their parents.

The dead youths, Jones said, had been arrested in connection with the theft of four cases of beer from Strawberry Lodge, a resort near Pine.

ONLY INMATES

The victims were the only jail inmates, Jones said, and were in a cell built to hold 15.

"They accepted the fact that they would have to remain overnight," said Deputy Meredith. "But we told them they would probably be released in the custody of their parents the following morning.

"They were all worried about not being able to go to school."

Concorde Plan to Go On

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Wilson's Labor government intends to go ahead with the British-French project to build the Concorde supersonic airliner, informed sources said today.

But Britain intends to insist that a close eye be kept on the cost of the project, estimated at about $840 million.

The sources said at least two Concorde prototypes, and possibly as many as six, will be built. The work will be shared by the British Aircraft Corp. and France's Sud Aviation.

The reprieve for the plane was decided upon at a Cabinet meeting Wednesday. The government had felt misgivings about continuing the expensive program in the face of Britain's economic difficulties.

The Daily Express said the decision to proceed constitutes "a big success for Gen. de Gaulle and the French aviation industry."

The sources said the British government decided to go ahead after it became apparent that there was no hope of bringing the United States into the project.

The British government also reportedly feared that should it back out of the project, the French would go to the International Court of Justice in The Hague with a claim that Britain had broken a binding contract and owed France a penalty. This could have amounted to as much as $560 million, it was said.

Wooing Women With Checkbooks

NEW YORK (AP) — The checkbook, once black and solidly male, has exploded into more colors than a woman's hat.

Banks, wooing the ladies, are selling checkbooks cloaked in an increasingly wider array of colors and in plastic finishes made to look like everything from lace to leopard skin.

The checks themselves appear in more compatible colors than the rainbow.

The layer of glamour on the once-plain checkbook has followed the gradual emergence of the woman as the check-writer in a vast number of the nation's more than 46 million personal checking accounts. So fashion-conscious has the movement become that some checkbooks look as much like fashion accessories as handbags, gloves and shoes.

CHIC CHECKS

New York's Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. recently took part in a Manhattan fashion show that the bank said was inspired by its "chic and color-coordinated checkbooks."

Hit of the show, said a spokesman for the bank, was a rain suit patterned after the bank's imitation cobra check set.

★ ★ ★

"Since we started our fashion checkbooks in May 1963 we have shown our biggest gain in checking accounts," said Hugh Brennan, an advertising executive of the bank.

Cleveland's National City Bank offers its customers checkbooks in styles that range from leopard to lizard. Colors include "ledger red" and "currency green."

PERFUMED

Bank of America, the nation's largest, will sell you checks perfumed with Chanel No. 5.

Chase Manhattan Bank offers checkbooks in colors with fancy names such as "ascot gray," "harlequin white," "patent green," and "cadet blue."

★ ★ ★

While banks have sold colored checks and checkbooks for years, the trend to wide variety and high fashion as represented by plaid, leopard and lizard is relatively new and growing.

The fancy checkbook usually costs extra.

Freeway Rest Area Named for Mackie

LANSING (AP) — Former State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, who named roadside parks in honor of all eight previous highway commissioners, finally has come into his own.

A safety rest area on U. S. 27 north of Clare will be named in honor of Mackie, the state's last elective highway commissioner, who soon is to be sworn in as a U. S. congressman.

★ ★ ★

The roadside park naming committee said Mackie Park will have one distinction. It is the only safety rest area designed to serve freeway traffic from both directions.

By OSWALD JACOBY

There is a certain type bridge player who likes to wait until he thinks his opponents have shown weakness and then back into the action. Such tactics are all right on occasion, but in general they lead to disaster.

JACOBY

With five high-card points and no singleton, North did not have quite enough to bid directly over West's heart overcall. Then after East had bid two clubs and South and West had passed, North felt that it was up to him to reopen and he bid two diamonds.

He was right in noting that East and West had shown weakness, but he overlooked the fact that South had also shown weakness and that, while nothing bad could happen to him if he passed, a two diamond bid might lead him into real trouble.

West had considered going to two no-trump over his partner's two clubs. Had he done so, East might have raised him to game. If he had played the hand for everything available, he would have actually made three no-trump. Now the two diamond call was a real gift. He doubled and led the nine of clubs.

East won with the queen and returned a heart. South played the nine. West won with the ten and led a second club to his partner's king. East played a second heart and eventually the defense collected two clubs, two hearts, two diamonds, a spade and 500 points which was a trifle better than the nonvulnerable game they might have made and a lot better than the two or three clubs they would have made had North remained silent.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	Dble.	Pass	1 ♠
2 ♣	3 ♣	Pass	3 ♦
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 7 5 4 3 ♥ A 5 4 ♦ Q J 10 8 ♣ 3 2

What do you do now?

A—Bid five hearts. Your partner could have jumped to four spades once you responded to his double. He went out of his way to show slam interest and your ace of hearts is a mighty important card.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid five hearts and your partner jumps to six spades. What do you do now?

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Not good for unnecessary travel. You could end up on fruitless journey. One you respect reveals weak point. Best to heed your own counsel. If possible, delay major decision.

Trading Is Brisk

Rally Pushes Market Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — A January rally carried the stock market higher again early this afternoon, pointing it toward a third daily advance in a row.

The price uptrend wasn't as strong as in the two preceding sessions. However, trading was brisker.

★ ★ ★

The spark still seemed to come chiefly from President Johnson's blueprint for increased, more widely shared prosperity. Brokers talked of probable economic stimulus in several specific areas, and gains from possible excise tax cutbacks.

A handful of blue chip stocks posted gains of 2 points or more. International Business Machines was up better than 3. But most gains were limited to fractions. Losses were sprinkled through the list.

STRONG GROUPS

Strong groups included the aircrafts, airlines, electronics, rails, tobaccos and oils. General Motors and Ford were higher in the auto group but American Motors was down fractionally.

Steels were weak. U.S. Steel, Republic and Jones & Laughlin declined.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon had risen .7 to 326.6 with industrials up 1.1, rails up .5 and utilities up .1.

★ ★ ★

Trading on the American Stock Exchange was moderately active, with prices higher. Data Control, Savoy Industries and Rollins Broadcasting were about a point higher. Syntex Corporate bond prices advanced. U.S. Treasury bonds edged lower.

Unions Picket 2nd Detroit Hotel; Talks Uncertain

DETROIT (AP) — Picketing spread to a second Detroit hotel early today, making it unclear whether scheduled negotiations between the Detroit Hotel Association and a hotel workers union would be held.

Members of the Hotel, Motel and Restaurant Employes and Bartender International Union, who set up picket lines at the Whittier Hotel Wednesday, today extended the picketing to the Statler Hilton.

★ ★ ★

The meeting set for today was arranged by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and federal and state mediators, but a hotel spokesman earlier said management would attend the meeting only if the strike did not spread beyond the Whittier.

There were an estimated 4,081,000 births in the nation a year ago, the lowest number since 1955, according to Public Health Service statistics.

Tennessee Negroes

Protest Visit by Wallace

By United Press International

Negroes threatened to demonstrate in Nashville, Tenn., today in protest against an appearance by Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

Wallace was scheduled to address the annual convention of the Tennessee School Board Associations this morning despite the threat by officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

Mrs. C. E. McGruder, president of the Nashville NAACP, had appealed to association authorities to cancel Wallace's speech. The association refused and Mrs. McGruder said "we have no alternative but to demonstrate . . ."

Another Negro leader, the Rev. Kelly Miller Smith, said Negroes felt that Wallace was "not of the caliber that should speak before a school boards association."

★ ★ ★

Ernest W. Cotten, executive secretary of the association, said Wallace was invited because he had a "brilliant" record as governor and had done much to further education in Alabama. He said police protection had been provided for the governor.

In Jackson, Miss., Gov. Paul Johnson said yesterday he might call the legislature into emergency session to consider federal desegregation mandates on public schools receiving federal funds.

But Johnson said there was no immediate prospect of such a session.

The 1964 civil rights law requires that each school district, in addition to the state school board, sign desegregation pledges as a prerequisite to federal aid.

The Georgia Board of Education will hold the first of a series of three meetings tomorrow to acquaint school superintendents with the civil rights law.

Elsewhere:

Atlanta: New Criminal Court Solicitor William Spence yesterday signed an accusation charging restaurant owner Lester Maddox with threatening Negroes with a pistol.

Detroiter Given Term in Prison for 3-Death Crash

A Detroit man was sentenced yesterday to 1½-2 years in the state prison at Jackson for negligent homicide in a Troy traffic accident that took three lives last summer.

The prison term for Ronald V. Ryskewicz, 24, was ordered by Circuit Judge Philip Pratt.

★ ★ ★

Ryskewicz pleaded guilty Dec. 11 to speeding through a stop sign at Dequindre and Wattles on May 30 and colliding with another car driven by Emory D. Atkins, 22, of 1725 E. South Boulevard, Avon Township.

Atkins, his wife, Doris, 17, and Ryskewicz' passenger, Nancy Vinci, 20, of Warren, were killed.

Accidents in the home last year caused 29,000 deaths compared with 28,500 a year previous, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

Damone Pays Child Support

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Vic Damone's attorney says the singer is now paid up on child support payments owed his ex-wife, actress Pier Angeli, for care of their son, Perry, 9.

Damone wrote a $1,000 check which he turned over Wednesday to Miss Angeli's attorney in Santa Monica Superior Court, where the singer and actress are staging a custody battle over the boy.

It was testified that at times Damone was as much as $15,500 behind in $500 monthly support payments ordered after their 1959 divorce. He claimed earlier he withheld the payments because he was denied visitation rights.

Myrna Loy Rejects Roles in Shock Films

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Here's one star who won't follow the trend of longtime leading ladies in playing shock films.

"You should see some of the scripts producers send me," says Myrna Loy. "They're absolutely unbelievable. I just send them back with no, thanks. I've gone through that stage in my career. In '13 Women' (RKO, 1932) I killed 13 women. So you can see I've done my bit."

THOMAS

She doesn't at all mind veering from the "perfect wife" which she played so brilliantly in films from "The Thin Man" to "Best Years of Our Lives." In fact, she did so in her last release, "From the Terrace."

★ ★ ★

"I played Paul Newman's alcoholic mother," she recalled. "It was certainly offbeat from what I have played before. But it wasn't macabre."

LOY CHARM

The fact that the Loy charm hasn't been seen on the screen for five years is Hollywood's loss, but not Myrna's. She has occupied the time with a new love: the theater.

She's back in town with the hit comedy, "Barefoot in the Park," which is appearing at the Huntington Hartford Theater. The stand is part of a cross-country tour that has permitted her to see America for the first time.

★ ★ ★

"It's true," she remarked at her Chateau Marmont suite. "I never really got a chance to see the United States before. During all those years at MGM I was working so hard I never got a chance to travel. We didn't make personal appearance tours the way they do today."

The theater is a late development in the Loy career, although she trained for it early.

USUAL STAGE WORK

"I went through the usual stage work in school — understudying Ophelia in 'Hamlet,' that sort of thing," she said. "I had elocution and singing lessons, all of which stood me in good stead when talkies came in."

★ ★ ★

She remained in films, and later television, until five years ago when she toured summer theaters in "Marriage-Go Round" with Claude Dauphin. She followed with other plays, including theater-in-the-round, and may have a long career with "Barefoot in the Park."

★ ★ ★

The comparison of stage to screen work?

★ ★ ★

"The stage is much easier," she commented. "At least you know what you're doing; you have a finished script to perform. In films you don't know what you're doing from one day to the next."

Goals Viewed in USW Race

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Total job security, organization of the nonorganized and industrywide bargaining for members in steel fabricating plants are among the long-range aims of David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers Union president.

McDonald, in announcing his reelection campaign platform Wednesday night, called it one "geared to the 1960s, not the 1930s."

★ ★ ★

McDonald is opposed for his fourth, four-year term by USW Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel. The million-member union elects officers Feb. 9 and the current campaign is being carried on during negotiations for a new labor contract with the basic steel industry.

"We shall develop a program of total job security," McDonald said. "We shall remove the fear of instantaneous layoff from all members of the Steelworkers Union."

NEW MEMBERS

As for gaining new members, he said:

"The unorganized must be organized. New techniques, ideas and plans have already been developed. Millions of clerical and technical workers as well as industrial workers must be brought into unions or associations for their mutual benefit and protection."

★ ★ ★

McDonald called for industrywide bargaining for USW members and the various types of fabricating plants.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — I. W. Abel is trying to win control of a big union in a way that has rarely, if ever, succeeded in the history of American unionism.

★ ★ ★

The secretary-treasurer of the United Steelworkers Union is attempting to move up from the union's No. 2 spot by unseating President David McDonald in the union's election Feb. 9.

★ ★ ★

Traditionally, the leadership of major unions has changed mainly through death or retirement. High-level internal rebellions have been few.

Abel is confident of victory.

NO QUESTION

"We never had any question about it," he said Wednesday.

Abel, 56, hopes to ride to the top on the strength of rank and file discontent which he says runs deep and wide in the million-member union. He claims the mill hand has lost his voice in union affairs and too much authority is now concentrated in the hands of "technicians, experts and lawyers."

In an interview in his Pittsburgh office, Abel said:

★ ★ ★

"The discontent has been evident throughout the country the past several years. It was evident in the last negotiations when some locals at first refused to sign because they felt there had not been proper consideration of the membership."

'63 CONTRACT

That 1963 contract was negotiated by the Joint Union-Management Human Relations Committee in a concept of bargaining that has been described as "mutual trusteeship." The contract was rewritten without a formal reopening, a first in the industry.

Alumni Fund at Record

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Gifts from 27,000 alumni has boosted the University of Michigan Alumni Fund to a record $1.2 million during 1964, said fund manager Jamts K. Miller. He said this was a 46 per cent increase over 1963 fund contributions.

$400,000 in Grants Go to U. of M. Personnel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service has awarded about $400,000 to University of Michigan personnel for research work, Rep. Weston E. Vivian, D-Mich., said Wednesday. The grants include $117,492 to Dr. Myron E. Wegman, $38,792 to Dr. William R. Mann, and $243,698 to Dr. W. N. Hubbard Jr. A Vivian aide said the money would be used for general research work but did not know just what it would entail.

GIANT SYSTEM OF DAMS — The Geography of southeastern Australia is rapidly being changed in this giant system of dams as the Snowy Mountain project speeds toward completion. This is one of the world's great engineering projects made possible by the cooperation of experts and workers from 26 nations.

Geography Being Transformed

Huge Australian Project Similar to TVA

CANBERRA, Australia (NEA) — That tired old expression "Down Under" has taken on new meaning in the Snowy Mountains in the southeastern corner of Australia.

Immense tunnels are being drilled at record speed through the rock hundreds of feet below the surface as one of the world's great engineering projects speeds to completion.

The scope of the Snowy Mountains project staggers the senses of those who watch it take shape.

Rivers are being diverted and lakes are being formed, the geography is being transformed in a billion-dollar project made possible by the cooperation of experts and workers from 26 nations.

★ ★ ★

When completed in 10 years, the project's system of hydroelectric generators will produce about 2.5 million kilowatts of electricity — enough to supply America's fifth largest city, Detroit.

COMPARABLE TO TVA

The Snowy project is comparable to the U.S. Tennessee Valley Authority complex. Its purposes, too, are much the same.

Australia's great national problem is shortage of water in the places where it is needed most.

The Snowy project solves the problem in one dry area of the southeastern part of the country by storing the waters of the Snowy River in a series of man-made lakes and diverting them westward to help irrigate the dry but fertile inland plains.

★ ★ ★

Previously, they rushed eastwards to the sea—and waste.

POWER STATIONS

The hydroelectric power stations, six of them underground, take advantage of the 3,000-foot difference in the levels of the western and eastern sides of the Great Dividing Range.

The ultimate Snowy project —worked out under the leadership of Sir William Hudson, an expatriate New Zealander —calls for the construction of nine major dams and many smaller ones, about 100 miles of tunnels, 10 power stations and more than 80 miles of feeder aqueducts.

The plans provide for nearly 2 million acre-feet of water to be turned inland annually, sufficient to increase agricultural production in the area it serves by approximately 67 million dollars each year.

★ ★ ★

The over-all plan has an estimated capital cost of well over a billion dollars.

MEET ALL COSTS

Unlike many other similar government development works, however, the Snowy project is meeting all costs, including repayment of capital and all operation and maintenance costs, from electricity sales.

These will eventually reach over 5,000 million kilowatt hours annually, valued at about $60 million.

Today, the Snowy project is more than half completed, the final works scheduled to be finished during the early 1970s. When work began on it, however, the problems involved were seemingly insurmountable.

★ ★ ★

The most serious was an acute postwar shortage of materials and men — skilled and unskilled.

TURNED TO WORLD

Australia turned to the world for help, and got it in the shape of willing migrant workers from pick and shovel men to the most highly trained engineers, and the practical experience of overseas manufacturing and construction companies, especially American, Norwegian, French, Swedish and British.

★ ★ ★

Along the main street of nearby Cooma, taking on importance as a resort area, there is an avenue of 26 flags as a tribute to those nations who helped get this huge project under way.

★ ★ ★

And not since the colorful days of Australia's gold rush has there been so much excitement in the air.

Long Island Bombshell Shakes Up Film Center

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Little Joey Heatherton, the girl with tne boy's name, has started 1965 with a great dash toward being a star.

Joey, just 20, the bouncy, blonde firecracker daughter of the Ray Heathertons of Rockville Center, Long Island, invaded Hollywood, the City of Beautiful Dames.

WILSON

She waltzed—no, NO!—she Twisted off, she "Swam" off—with a 5-year, two-picture-a-year contract arranged personally by Jack Warner. He was convinced from two previous films, and some tests for "My Blood Runs Cold," with Troy Donahue, that she can be great.

Over at "Hullabaloo," the new NBC-TV show, they're convinced she already is. She introduces a new dance ("The Hullabaloo") on the opening show Jan. 12 — sort of combination of the Jerk, the Swim, the Twist, the Frug.

What does Joey think about it all?

"It's very groovey."

Fat girl comedienne Totie Fields told me at the Ed Sullivan show she invented the Totie Fields Doll: "You wind it up and it eats."

Sammy Davis' "Golden Boy" set an all-time B'way record last week—$92,000 — with standees every performance. Sammy thus established himself as one of B'way's biggest box office draws as well as ranking beside Frank Sinatra as the greatest cafe attraction.

"What if," asks comedian Jack Waldron in the Lambs Script magazine. "William Tell had been nearsighted? . . . Abraham Lincoln had waited to see it on television . . . Lady Godiva had gotten a crew cut? . . ." That's earl, brother.

LBJ Presents Health Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson proposed today a broad health insurance-health care package that includes a suggestion that the federal government pay part of the basic operating costs of medical and dental schools.

Johnson, submitting a message entitled "Advancing the Nation's Health," plugged first for enactment this year of medical insurance for persons 65 and over under the Social Security program.

He made the message his first one on a specific subject in the new session, thereby giving it high priority.

"I believe this year is the year when, with the sure knowledge of public support, the Congress should enact a hospital insurance program for the aged," the President said.

★ ★ ★

Johnson called, too, for a five-year program of grants "to develop multipurpose regional medical complexes for an all-out attack on heart disease, cancer, stroke and other major diseases."

32 CENTERS

Aides said 32 medical centers would be built in various parts of the country at a cost of $1.2 billion.

Another major new proposal would set up a system of grants "to help cover basic operating costs of our health profession schools in order that they may significantly expand both their capacity and the quality of their educational programs.

Johnson said tuition and fees paid by medical and dental students actually defray less than half the cost of their education.

★ ★ ★

"We must face the fact," he said, "that high operating costs and shortages of operating funds are jeopardizing our health profession's educational system."

ALSO IN PACKAGE

Also included in Johnson's proposed health package were better health services for children and youth, improved community mental health services, more ambitious federally aided effort to rehabilitate the disabled, improved services for the mentally retarded, and legislation to tighten up federal control over barbituates and other psychotoxic drugs.

The President, in his message, put no dollar figure on the total cost of his proposals.

But he described the package as representing "attainable horizons of a greater society which a confident and prudent people can begin to build for the future."

★ ★ ★

First priority in the lengthy document went to health insurance for the aged.

EXTENSION

"I ask," he said, "that our Social Security system—proved and tested by three decades of successful operation—be extended to finance the cost of basic health services.

"In this way, the spectre of catastrophic hospital bills can be lifted from the lives of our older citizens."

Johnson said that, in addition to such an insurance plan, "we should encourage private insurance to provide supplementary protection."

★ ★ ★

The President said his plan would "provide protection against the costs of hospital and posthospital extended care, home nursing services, and outpatient diagnostic services."

He said it would in no way interfere "with the patient's

4 Disappear in Gem Case

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Allan Dale Kuhn, two New York detectives and an assistant district attorney disappeared today after a reported attempt to recover the fabulous Star of India sapphire.

They vanished into the predawn darkness after a long cat-and-mouse game with newsmen, climaxed by a taxicab flight and rendezvous with a mysterious white limousine.

Whether they have the 563-carat sapphire was not known, but a newsman said one of the detectives had an attache case handcuffed to his wrist when last seen.

There was speculation they had returned to New York.

VALUED AT $410,000

The Star of India, the world's largest cut sapphire, the Delong Ruby and 20 other gems, all valued at $410,000, were taken Oct. 29 from the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

★ ★ ★

Charged in the theft besides Kuhn, 26, are two other Miami beach boys, Jack Roland (Murf the Surf) Murphy, 27, and Roger Frederick Clark, 29.

Kuhn, accompanied by the three officers, flew to Miami Tuesday after reportedly telling authorities he might be able to get his hands on the missing sapphire.

Rusk to Seek Protection for U. S. Property

Asks Study on Ways to Discourage Mobs at Overseas Sites

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk is reported to have ordered a study on what should be done about mob attacks on American embassies and libraries overseas.

President Johnson said in his State of the Union message Monday night, "We cannot be indifferent to acts designed to injure our interests, our citizens, or our establishments abroad.

"The community of nations requires mutual respect. We shall extend it — and we shall expect it."

As the new Senate opened for legislative business Tuesday, influential support quickly mounted for an aid law amendment, introduced by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., to cut off U.S. assistance to any country which fails to take necessary precautions to protect U.S. property.

★ ★ ★

HOUSE MOVES

In the House, where similar moves are under way, Rusk repeated after briefing the Foreign Affairs Committee on the international situation that "we expect respect" overseas.

There have been 31 recorded cases of damage to U.S. buildings abroad since Johnson took office.

MOVES WINGS — The F111 tactical fighter, earlier called the TFX, successfully demonstrated its variable-sweep wings in a one-hour test flight yesterday by the Fort Worth, Tex., Division of General Dynamics Corp. The F111 took off with its wings extended outward at the maximum forward angle of 16 degrees. During flight, the plane's wings were fully swept back (72 degrees) against the slim fuselage. This was the F111's second test flight.

Voter Turnout Johnson Target

Negro Barriers Not Sole Point of Concern

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's eye was on the nation — not just the Deep South — when he called for elimination of obstacles to voting, a highly authoritative source said today.

The source said Johnson wants Congress to take steps aimed at reversing the nation's historically low voter turnout as well as ensure the rights of Negroes to vote in the South.

The Justice Department, it was understood, will advise the President whether to seek his goal through legislation, a constitutional amendment, or both.

The administration is known to be considering an amendment that would end literacy tests as a qualification for voting and that would fix residence requirements for voting in federal elections.

★ ★ ★

More than oratory was involved when Johnson made two separate references to voting rights in his State of the Union address Monday; the differences in wording were deliberate.

1ST REFERENCE

At one point, he said, "I propose we eliminate every remaining obstacle to the right and opportunity to vote."

Later, he said the nation should open a "city of promise . . . to Negro Americans, through enforcement of the civil rights law and elimination of barriers to the right to vote."

Johnson, it was learned, shares the concern of Justice Department officials over the slow, county-by-county struggle to win full voting rights for Southern Negroes.

★ ★ ★

Thus department lawyers are studying the possibility of legislation that would permit federal officers to take over the job of registering voters in areas where discrimination is found.

Fluoridated Water Probable for Pontiac

Water drinkers in Pontiac may some day be drinking fluoridated water, including those who voted against fluoridation in a 1955 referendum.

While still an estimated two years away, fluoridated water for Pontiac appears likely because Detroit's right to fluoridate its water has been upheld by the State Supreme Court.

Pontiac gets its water supply from Detroit through a contract signed before Detroit officials decided to fluoridate.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said there is nothing in the contract to prevent Detroit from passing the fluoridated water along to its customers.

Although Pontiac's voter-approved 1955 ordinance does pose a legal question, Ewart said he is doubtful if local officials could be held in violation of the ordinance.

★ ★ ★

The ordinance, approved by a vote of 5,770 to 4,297, stipulates that "no person . . . shall add fluoride or any compounds of fluorine or cause fluoride or any compounds of fluorine to be added to the water supply of the city."

DETROIT ADDING IT

Ewart said that no city official would be adding the fluoride to the city's water, Detroit would be doing it.

Just what to do with the ordinance is another question, according to Ewart.

"I think a court case will be needed to decide what to do with the ordinance," he said.

★ ★ ★

Whether to amend it or strike it from the books or even just let it lie is an "ify" question, said the city attorney.

TO RESCIND ORDINANCE

Ewart did say that voters would have to rescind it since they approved it.

Meantime, Detroit may have a referendum of its own on the

City Hospital Ousts Doctor

Pleaded Guilty to Income Tax Evasion

A doctor who has admitted income tax evasion has been removed as director of laboratories at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Acting "in the best interests of the hospital," Administrator Harold B. Euler notified Dr. John J. Marra today that his contract as pathologist and director of loboratories had been canceled.

Euler acted after the hospital board of trustees directed him to consider the best interests of the hospital.

"Because your involvement with the U.S. government over income tax deficiencies has resulted in a guilty plea in Federal Court to a felony charge, I have no alternative other than to give notice of immediate cancellation of your contract with the city," wrote Euler.

★ ★ ★

"There was also written misrepresentation by you regarding hospital records, facts known to persons in the hospital organization," added the administrator in his letter to Dr. Marra.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Marra, 50, who has held his post as director of laboratories since 1958, has been on the staff of Pontiac General since 1953.

PLEADED GUILTY

The physician pleaded guilty Nov. 19 to one of three counts in an indictment charging him with evading income taxes over the three-year period 1959-61.

According to William H. Merrill, assistant U.S. attorney, Dr. Marra paid an income tax of $19,413 on reported earnings of $48,534 in 1961.

Merrill said the government claimed Dr. Marra's tax for the year should have been $26,142.

★ ★ ★

No definite date for sentencing Dr. Marra has been set, pending a probation report.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Marra, who still has staff privileges at Pontiac General, said he would continue in his private practice. He has offices at 35 S. Johnson.

★ ★ ★

Recently, Dr. Marra resigned as medical director at the hospital, stating that funds from the job should be spent for a director of medical education.

Warm Weather to Stay in Area Through Friday

Springlike weather is due. The weatherman predicts a gradual warming trend through tomorrow with rain beginning tonight and continuing tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The low expected tonight is 38 to 45, to be followed by a high of 45 to 53 tomorrow.

Winter will return Saturday, however. The weather then will be windy and much colder with snow flurries.

Thirty-two was the low mercury reading preceding 8 a.m. today in downtown Pontiac. By 1 p.m. the mercury had risen to 40.

Debated Plane Makes History

F111 Changes Sweep Wing Position in Flight

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The controversial F111 biservice fighter plane, earlier known as the TFX, made aviation history when it successfully changed the position of its variable sweep wings during an hour flight yesterday.

The plane's design enables it to have its wings outstretched almost straight for added life and short takeoffs, then sweep them back to reduce drag for supersonic speeds.

Never before had a plane utilizing the retractable wings performed so well in the effort to solve the problem of incorporating short takeoffs and landings with high speed into a single aircraft.

Pilot R. L. Johnson and copilot Val Prahl flew the F111 on its second flight yesterday to an altitude of 10,000 feet, then moved the wings from their forward position of 16 degrees back to the full swept angle of 72.5 degrees.

This test was at a speed of about 400 knots — approximately 450 miles per hour. Johnson said on the third flight, not yet set, the F111 will attain supersonic speed.

Schedule Revision Delays Plan to Orbit 3 Astronauts

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The U.S. plan to orbit three astronauts in an Apollo moon spacecraft in 1966 suffered its first setback today with announcement of major schedule changes.

Also caught in the revisions was the third Saturn manned mission, which was replaced by an unnamed earth orbital test of the lunar excursion module — LEM — which will carry astronauts to the moon's surface.

Dr. William A. Lee, head of the Operations Planning Division at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said the delay in the first three-man orbital flight should be small.

"Instead of making the launch earlier in 1966," he said, "it will be later in 1966."

Because of the closeness of the schedule, however, problems could send the mission into 1967, observers pointed out.

SUBORBITAL FLIGHTS

Original planning called for two unmanned suborbital flights of the powerful Saturn 1B rocket.

The third, assuming no major setbacks occured on the previous two, was to be flown by three astronauts.

Lee said the third flight now was scheduled to be a test of the second-stage booster, called the Saturn 4B, and its propellant tanks, which hold liquid hydrogen and oxygen.

To save weight, the Apollo spacecraft will not be used — only a nose cone, Lee said.

WILL BE FILLED

The tanks carry 223,500 pounds of fuel and will be filled.

In earth orbital trips using the three-stage Apollo spacecraft, the tanks will be only partly filled, Lee said, to reduce weight.

The Saturn 4B will be the third stage on the mighty Saturn 5 rocket and will hurl itself and the Apollo spacecraft into earth orbit.

After four and one-half hours circling the earth, the Saturn 4B's engine will be started and its 200,000 pounds of thrust will fling the spacecraft toward the moon.

The Saturn 1 family of rockets has been one of the brighter spots in the U.S. space picture. The 1.5 million-pound thrust rocket has been fired seven times without mishap.

CALVIN J. WERNER

GMTC Sales Set New Mark

Highest Year Ever in Peace Production

A year-end sales spurt sent domestic retail deliveries of new trucks and buses built by GMC Truck & Coach Division climbing to a record high in 1964.

Deliveries of 105,198 units were the highest for any peacetime year in the division's 63-year history.

Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, pointed out that the 1964 total surpassed the 1963 figure of 92,089 by 14.2 per cent.

The year ended on a strong sales note, with 9,319 commercial vehicles being delivered by the division in December. This compared with 7,947 deliveries in the last month of 1963.

★ ★ ★

Werner attributed the sales mark to wide acceptance of the division's full line of trucks and buses and pointed out that GMC truck sales gains last year were about 5 per cent higher than the industrywide increase.

Romney, Democrats Discuss Legislation

LANSING (AP) — Republican Gov. Romney and Democratic leaders talked legislation generalities again yesterday, reaching no agreements but maintaining their air of bipartisanship.

GOV. ROMNEY

As with their mid-December discussion, it appeared there were no major disagreements but the talks did not delve into specifics.

The two sides discussed state needs from the program rather than the financial standpoint as they'd done last time.

"Helpful," "fruitful," and similar words punctuated a postsession news conference, but neither side would specify just what had been discussed.

★ ★ ★

It was learned, however, that most of the discussion centered around six or seven major program areas including workmen's compensation, traffic safetyl, property tax relief for the elderly and construction safety.

The Democrats said they want Republican legislative leaders to attend the next meeting with Romney. No date was set.

Romney called the 2½-hour meeting a "helpful exploratory talk about major items that should be considered at the forthcoming legislative session."

He said both sides mentioned some of the same problem areas but that "there were no agreements and no commitments."

★ ★ ★

Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D - Detroit, called it "very fruitful as far as general discussions in areas of major importance."

NO CONCLUSIONS

He, too, said no conclusions were reached.

Romney said he plans to meet with Republican legislative leaders before he delivers his State of the State message next Thursday.

"I haven't got the text started yet," he remarked.

★ ★ ★

Romney and Dzendzel said they didn't want to list topics discussed because they didn't want the public to think unmentioned areas are going to sidetracked.

★ ★ ★

Also at the meeting in the governor's office were House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit; House floor leader J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City; Senate Appropriations Committee chairman Garland Lane, D-Flint; Republican Lt. Gov. William Milliken, and Republican Auditor General Allison Green.

Oh! Oh! Seven's in Trouble With Salvation Army

LONDON (AP) — The War Cry has gone out — save our youth from James Bond's amorality.

The Salvation Army newspaper denounces the late Ian Fleming's fictional hero as a menace to young people, to charity drives and to highway safety campaigns.

Secret agent 007, this week's issue of the War Cry said, is an intolerable mixture of violence, illicit sex, gambling and gluttony.

"He kills people all over the place," said Lt. Col. Bernard Watson in a front-page article.

"This is never murder. Bond does it by license. Violence reaches a psychopathic degree.

Gravlin's Suicide Attempt Prompts Sanity Hearing

A recent suicide attempt by William G. Gravlin has prompted Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn to order another sanity hearing for the accused mass slayer.

Thorburn called for a hearing Jan. 14 after hearing of the attempted suicide from Gravlin's court-appointed attorney Robert Rann yesterday.

In requesting the hearing, the Royal Oak attorney said his client was "seriously mentally ill."

The suicide attempt occurred three weeks ago in the Oakland County Jail where Gravlin has been held on a first degree murder charge since the bodies of his wife, daughter and five stepchildren were found in their Troy home Sept. 28.

★ ★ ★

PANEL NAMED

Those named by Thorburn to conduct Gravlin's examination and then appear as witnesses are Drs. George S. Evseeff of Royal Oak, Harry E. August of Huntington Woods and Edward M. Wisniewski of Birmingham, and Pontiac attorney Edward Barrett.

Their testimony will determine if Gravlin is capable of assisting in his own defense.

★ ★ ★

On Oct. 29, Judge Thorburn declared Gravlin sane following the first sanity hearing, and ruled that the former Royal Oak fireman was mentally capable to stand trial.

RELEASED IN JULY

In July Gravlin was released from Pontiac State Hospital where he had been receiving treatment following a 1961 arrest on a felonious assault charge stemming from a knife attack on his cousin's wife.

Yesterday's hearing before Judge Thorburn came about on a request from Gravlin himself.

He was seeking an adjournment of his trial, which is scheduled to begin Jan. 19, until the Michigan Court of Appeals gives a ruling on his denial to have Rann dismissed as his legal counsel.

MOTION DENIED

Judge Thorburn denied the motion for the postponement.

Gravlin wants Rann dismissed as his attorney, saying that Rann is "prejudiced."

Gravlin is seeking to conduct his own defense though Thorburn has advised him against it.

★ ★ ★

Thorburn rejected Gravlin's petition to have Rann dismissed Monday but yesterday said he was going to take the request under advisement.

OWN DEFENSE

However, Thorburn said he would not appoint another attorney.

Gravlin, if found to be mentally competent, could conduct his own defense.

In his petition for Rann's dismissal, Gravlin asked Judge Thorburn to contact three nationally prominent attorneys, one of them a Pennsylvania Supreme Court judge, in hopes of getting one of them to defend him.

★ ★ ★

The court appointed Rann because Gravlin was indigent. Thorburn told Gravlin if he wanted another attorney he would have to pay him.

Law Skill Is Shown by Suspect

William G. Gravlin has become a jailhouse lawyer.

The legal ability of the accused slayer came to light this week when professionally phrased and worded documents were received by Oakland County Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn.

The first was a request for a hearing to have his court-appointed attorney, Robert Rann of Royal Oak, dismissed as defense counsel.

The second was an appeal to the Michigan Court of Appeals to reverse Thorburn's decision not to name a new attorney.

★ ★ ★

Thorburn said he was "amazed" at the accuracy of Gravlin in following the procedures of attorneys in preparing the motions and the use of several Latin terms.

PRINTS WITH PENCIL

For his appeal, Gravlin printed his petition with pencil on ordinary white stationery.

Sheriff Frank Irons said when the appeal was delivered to him to be forwarded to Thorburn, "It was so neat that I thought at first glance that he had used a typewriter."

Irons said Gravlin insists he is preparing his own documents and that he is receiving no help from anyone either inside or outside the county jail.

'Arrogance Pitfall for Educators'

Educators may have had their "Achilles' heel" pinched by Dr. Peter F. Drucker of New York University last night.

Launching Oakland University's first Continuing Education Symposium for faculty, undergraduates and alumni, Drucker admonished educators present to "withstand the temptation of intellectual arrogance."

He urged them to commit themselves to the communication of their knowledge to the uninformed laymen who surround them.

Stating that society is rapidly progressing from the welfare state to the education state, Drucker said that almost as much money is spent on schools as on defense.

★ ★ ★

By 1970, he predicts one out of every three Americans will been in school.

MOST DIFFICULT

"Learning," advised Drucker, "begins with the end of school. And the most difficult skills to acquire are new ways of looking at things, the flexibility of understanding."

He challenged educators to instill the excitement of knowledge and the desire to keep on learning in their students with more emphasis on what is still to be discovered.

In addition to being an educator and an author, Drucker has served as a management consultant in both industry and nonindustry for 25 years.

★ ★ ★

OU is sponsoring the symposia to investigate the effectiveness of traditional attempts to "liberally educate" college youth.

SUBSTITUTE SPEAKER

Drucker, scheduled for February, flew in to substitute for Dr. Max Lerner who became ill.

Lerner will now appear in February with Dr. Margaret Mead slated for the May meeting.

Arrangements are not complete for the March or April symposium.

WHERE'S THE HIGHWAY? — The Eagle Creek Bridge, part of Highway 58 over the Cascade Mountains, stands undamaged but without an approach as the aftermath of heavy snow, rain and flooding. The only sign of the highway is a piece of asphalt pavement in the foreground. The first bulldozer got through the pass yesterday. Workers found two miles of highway had disappeared.

Motorists Stranded by California Snow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Swollen rivers receded and rains tapered off today to give flood-ravaged Northern California a welcome breather. Relentless nature turned her winter wrath on the High Sierra, stranding hundreds of travelers in blinding snow storms and freezing gales.

★ ★ ★

Several hundred residents of the Eel and Mad rivers districts straggled back to the homes they fled the past two days when torrential rains sent waters raging up to flood stages. Forecasts of only scattered showers and rising pressure promised improving conditions.

★ ★ ★

The three-week storm that had deluged large areas of Northern California and four other Western states — Oregon, Washington, Nevada and Idaho — raged unabated in the High Sierra on the Nevada-California border.

★ ★ ★

At least two transmountain buses and dozens of cars were marooned on 7,200-foot-high Donner Summit Wednesday night as a howling blizzard reduced visibility to zero.

ROAD CLOSED

Authorities said the road would remain closed for the night and possibly through today.

★ ★ ★

The California Highway Patrol said each of the buses carried about 40 passengers. It was impossible to tell how many cars and trucks were stalled on the major route across the mountain Interstate 80.

★ ★ ★

Lt. O. P. Ledford said vehicles bogged down in the storm included three highway patrol cars.

5 FEET OF SNOW

Snow depths were estimated at five feet at Truckee and eight feet at Tahoe City. Both communities lie just on the California side of the mountains.

Ski resorts were suffering from too much snow. At Heavenly Valley ski area, on the south shore of Lake Tahoe, Annette R. Saltus, 43, of San Francisco, fell beneath a snow removal tractor Wednesday and was killed.

★ ★ ★

As Northern California relaxed from its latest flood threat, the four other Western states that shared the ordeal of 40 Christmas week flood deaths and a billion dollars property damage, continued their dig-out. The weather appeared to be cooperating.

Lake Levels Still Declining

Water levels in the Great Lakes continued to fall despite an increase in precipitation in December, the Army Corps of Engineers Lake Survey team reported today.

The December lake survey bulletin shows Lakes Michigan and Huron are 1.35 feet below navigation chart data, lowest in the 165-year history of survey records.

The two lakes (regarded as one by survey engineers) are three feet below the average for the month of December. Lake St. Clair is 1.6 feet below average.

Lake Superior continues to hold its own with a reading of .4 foot above chart data.

The engineers predict the lakes will begin to return to their normal levels during the next six months.

complete freedom to select his doctor or hospital," and insurance protection would be offered those not covered by Social Security, with the cost being paid out of the federal budget.

In calling for greater efforts to combat heart disease, cancer and stroke, Johnson said, "We are challenged to meet and master the three killers which alone account for seven out of 10 deaths in the United States each year."

The chief executive proposed that the regional medical centers be equipped for the latest and best diagnostic methods, and have the most effective treatment facilities and skilled staffs.

★ ★ ★

At present, he said, hospitals in some sections are not equipped for open heart surgery, very high-voltage radiation therapy, or advanced methods for disease detection.

NOT NECESSARY

"It is not necessary," he said, "for each hospital or clinic to have such facilities, equipment or services, but it is essential that every patient requiring such specialized and expensive procedures and servvices have access to them. Multipurpose medical complexes can meet these needs."

He said the centers could save thousands of lives and help "turn otherwise hollow laboratory triumphs into health victories."

Johnson proposed that the complexes be affiliated with medical schools, teaching hospitals, and existing medical centers.

★ ★ ★

Johnson also asked for legislation that would allow the federal government to pay part of the costs of medical and dental care for children "in medically needy families."

He said this would be similar to the Kerr-Mills program for the aged.

College Seeks Federal Grants

$1.2 Million Request Among 28 From State

Oakland County Community College is among 28 Michigan schools which have requested a total of $20.9 million in federal grants to help finance new facilities.

The college has asked the federal government for $1,235,527 to assist in financing two new facility projects totaling $3,088,818.

However, the Michigan Higher Education Facilities Commission reports it has only $10.21 million pledged from the government to help build libraries and instructional buildings at the state schools.

Robert Cahow, staff director, said he hoped, however, that Micihgan may receive some supplemental funds from monies not used by other states.

★ ★ ★

Cahow said the 11-member commission appointed by Gov. Romney to administer the federal act should take formal action on the recommended split of the funds by the end of the month.

20 APPLICATIONS

Sixteen private and public colleges and universities submitted 20 project applications with a total cost estimate of $47.8 million.

Maximum grants available under the state plan would be $10.41 million but the commission has available only $7.95 million.

Twelve community colleges submitted applications for 13 projects with a total cost of $26.28 million.

They seek $10.5 million in federal funds under a 40 per cent flat grant formula but only $2.26 million is available.

"Federal funds available will not begin to meet the requirements of Michigan's rapidly growing community colleges," Cahow observed.

Pontiac Gets OK to Borrow $1.75 Million

Pontiac has received approval from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to borrow $1.75 million in tax anticipation notes.

The commission's okay was announced yesterday by Frank J. Kelley, state attorney general and chairman of the Municipal Finance Commission.

The $1.75 million will be used to finance operating expenses for the first half of the 1965 fiscal year.

The borrowing is necessary because property tax receipts are not received until after mid-year.

The tax notes, which will be put up for competitive bids, will fall due Sept. 1, 1965.

unchaste. Marriage rarely figures in his plans. He does not seduce married women simply because in the Bond circle they do not need seducing.

NO PITY

"There is no pity for the maimed, tortured people who go screaming through a typical Bond plot. Cruelty seems to be for the love of cruelty."

Bond's taste for fast cars "is likely to threaten the success of road safety campaigns," Col. Watson said.

"It is certainly easier to interest people in Bond's quite incredible exploits than to interest them in the plight of those matter-of-fact hungry and homeless who need the Salvation Army's care.

"During 1965, the year of the army's $8.4-million centenary appeal, the turnover of the James Bond industry is expected to exceed $14 million in Britain alone."

Gramp Needs His Own Jug

DEAR ABBY: My husband's father lives with us and he has a habit that is causing my nerves to fray. The old man drinks right from the refrigerator jug.

I've caught him doing this time and again and I have told him it was very unsanitary. I didn't like it, and I wish he'd quit it! It's like talking to the wall.

I've asked my husband please to tell Grampa to cut it out, but he says he doesn't want to hurt the old man's feelings and I should skip it.

Grampa is 78 and ought to know better. Is there a solution?

Spring Suits Have Fuller Skirts

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—The long and short of the suit story for spring is told in the lengthening of jackets and the abbreviation of hemlines.

★ ★ ★

To go with the trend is the return of pleated or flared, swirling skirts.

Some suit jackets were dropped low enough to look like tunics, but most of the longer ones ended at either wrist or fingertip length.

★ ★ ★

As for skirts, such firms as Monte Sano & Pruzan shorten them to expose the entire knee.

Other firms are less drastic, although all hemlines seem to have inched up a smidgin from last spring's collections.

FULLER SKIRTS

The skinny suit skirt is in competition with the fuller one.

★ ★ ★

Most skirts have apron-like front panels, gores, front pleating, all-round knife or inverted pleating, kick pleats, or gathers falling from hip yokes.

★ ★ ★

Don't give up, however, if you are set on a short jacketed suit, for jackets which end at the waistline or a couple of inches below still are plentiful.

And the Chanel cardigan jacket seems destined to be, like Chanel, around for quite a spell.

Sleeves join hemlines in the shortening trend. You'll find most suit sleeves chopped off just below the elbow.

Several designers, however, show the above elbow length.

Typical of the new look to suits is one from Nat Kaplan, New York, with a white jacket, wrist length and with above-the-elbow sleeves.

The jacket has a hint of a fit and comes with double-row of brass buttons for closing. It tops a navy skirt, slender of line.

Kaplan showed soft, slim silhouettes for day with most of them cut closer to the body than in previous seasons.

The narrow dress with self-detailing and a rolled neckline worn under jacket or coat was the predominant theme of the Kaplan collection.

At Monte Sano's, designer Jacques Tiffeau used the yoke theme throughout day and late day clothes.

Suit jackets had yoke tops with tiny gathers where shoulder and back joined.

★ ★ ★

Typical of the yoke look for evening was in a white, wool crepe coat dress with jet buttons and back fullness from the yoke on down.

★ ★ ★

Several of the Monte Sano suit jackets came tied with wide leather sashes, ending in bows at the front.

Necklines on both suits and suit dresses were airily open with lapels tailored wide and low.

A new young fashion paradox — a costume softly tailored in black silk and worsted. The dress, an easy shaped sleeveless V neck style, is capped by an almost classic jacket collared surprisingly in organza ruffles. Junior Sophisticate's young late day costume from the Spring '65 collection worn with a Miss Carnegie hat.

Grey wool flannel is contrasted with gold textured silk in this three-piece suit designed by Roxanne for Samuel Winston's Spring 1965 collection. Its focal point is a moving skirt of pleats beneath a hip-length jacket with shawl lapels faced with gold silk that curve to a two-button closing. Underneath a matching sleeveless overblouse self-tied at the waistline.

Karen Stark designs in white textured French wool for Harvey Berin's Spring '65 collection. The neat, double-breasted jacket, with skinny sleeves, curves to the body in front, skims the figure easily. The dress has low side pleats in the paneled skirt.

New longer jacket suit with a narrow, double-breasted closing —from the Arthur Jablow Spring 1965 collection, designed by David Kidd in a crispy white, diagonally-woven wool. A miniature high yoke evens off a collared, square neckline that is filled with a bright yellow silk cravat.

Anglo worsted sharkskin in a swingy pleated skirt suit by Vera Maxwell. Pearl buttons smartly set off the crisp cropped jacket.
